Molotov Steps Aside for Pravda's Shepilov

Old Bolshevik May Be Installed as Red President

Voroshilov Wants Out; 'Elder Statesman' Honor Seen in Future

From Press Wire Services

(Authorities in Washington have no doubt that it was a removal rather than a voluntary resignation.)

Molotov traces his career in party service back to pre-revolution days. He rose rapidly and served as Russian premier for 11 years between 1930 and 1941 under Stalin.

He twice held the post of foreign minister for a total of 13 years. His first hitch was between 1939 and 1949 and again from 1953 until yesterday.

There is strong speculation among western diplomats that Molotov may retain behind the scenes "overlordship" over foreign policy.

Reports in the Soviet capital hint Molotov may succeed aging Kliment E. Voroshilov as president of the Soviet Union and assume the role of "elder statesman." The 75-year-old Voroshilov reportedly wants to retire because of his age and health.

TITO APPEASMENT?

Molotov, along with Stalin, signed the exchange of letters that resulted in Yugoslavia being drummed out of the Communist family of nations.

City Banks Offer New Saving Plan

Will Pay 2½ Per Cent on Money Deposited for 12 Months

A long-term savings plan, which offers depositors 2½ per cent interest on funds deposited for at least 12 months, went into effect yesterday at both local banks and their branches.

Adoption of the plan was announced simultaneously by A. C. Girard, president of the Community National Bank, and Milo J. Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank.

Participants will be issued savings certificates in return for deposits of $500 or more in $100 increments according to the two officials. Interest on the sum will be mailed to the depositor at the end of the first 12 months and each six months thereafter

Requests for withdrawal of funds before maturity dates must be made 30 days in advance in writing and will draw the regular savings interest rate of 1 per cent, spokesmen stated.

The 2½ per cent interest is the highest rate allowed on bank savings accounts under Federal regulations.

State Democrats Ask Party Stand Over Civil Rights

'Michigan Declaration' Proposed by Delegates to Convention

A "Michigan Declaration" urging quick progress to "the day when segregation in practice is as rare as human slavery" was scheduled to go before the Michigan Democratic convention in Grand Rapids today with the blessing of state party leaders.

And State Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh suddenly appeared the odds-on candidate for Democratic National Committeeman for the state, replacing Eugene C. Lacey of Detroit.

Convening Democrats were reported in a mood to risk a repetition of the 1948 Dixiecrat walkout at the national convention in Chicago August 13 with the wording of the "Michigan Declaration," scheduled for wide circulation in northern states before the convention.

County delegates to the state convention last night heard a pre-convention keynote speech by New York Comptroller Arthur Levitt, substituting for Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

The seven-point civil rights resolution, slated for convention approval today, includes:

Implementation of the Supreme Court decision banning segregation.

An effective Federal FEPC.

Abolition of the poll tax.

A civil rights division in the Department of Justice.

Anti-segregation strings on Federal housing and education funds.

Oakland County's delegation to the convention picked four delegates with a half vote each and two full-vote alternates to the national convention. Democratic county chairman Carlos Richardson told the Pontiac Press by phone this morning there is a chance Mrs. Donald Lee, of Farmington, will be chosen one of the 16 alternates at large to the Chicago convention.

Richardson, of Waterford Township; Billie S. Farnum, of Drayton Plains; Dr. Howard McNeil, of Bloomfield Hills; and Mrs. Harriett Phillips, of Huntington Woods.

Medical Checks Eyed in Schools

Officials Face Shortage of Doctors in Efforts to Launch Plan

Pontiac School authorities are casting about for a plan whereby school children will be medically examined periodically.

Where the practical answer lies is still stumping the administration, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools.

Interest was refocused on the possibility of examinations after the recent death of a 16-year-old boy, who suffered a heart attack while playing basketball in the high school gymnasium.

"Examinations remain a persistent problem in the 30 to 40 school systems with which I am familiar," Whitmer said. "Even systems with staff physicians do not require compulsory examintions—there are just too many children.

Examinations are required here only for pupils in athletic programs, in accordance with the state athletic code, Whitmer said.

There are four nurses on the staff, he said, but only to examine

Yugoslavs' Tito Begins Triumph Tour of Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia, beaming with satisfaction, arrived in Moscow today for a triumphant tour of the Soviet Union, which just a few years ago denounced him and tried to liquidate him.

On the platform to greet Tito was V. M. Molotov. He resigned as foreign minister yesterday in a move widely regarded as an effort to placate Tito, who has little love for the veteran Soviet diplomat.

The new foreign minister, Dimitri T. Shepilov, a friend of Tito's, also was there.

The Yugoslav president will drive to the Kremlin this evening to pay an official call on Kliment Voroshilov, who, as chairman of the Praesidium, is titular head of the Soviet Union.

Tito will make formal calls on Premier Bulganin and Communist party secretary, Nikita Khrushchev Monday.

June Still Fails to Bust Out at All - Sun Hides

The weather man is getting pretty unpopular.

He forgot to add sunshine to this first weekend of June weather. He's forgotten sunshine a lot this spring.

His prediction is partly cloudy today and Sunday, with a high Sunday of 70-75. Today's high will be about 65 degrees.

The skies may clear later today, but only after the sun has gone down, he added apologetically.

The weather man must be getting to hate himself, too. He had the lowest temperature here preceding 8 a.m. down to an unseasonable 44 degrees.

DMITRY SHEPILOV

Described as Go-Getter Among Current Kremlin Aides to Khrushchev

MOSCOW (INS) — The mantle of Soviet foreign minister was laid on the shoulders of a relative youngster in the field of Russian power politics, Dmitri T. Shepilov, editor of Provda, described as a hard worker, a protege of party chief Nikita Khrushchev and also as a "ladies man."

The 50-year-old Shepilov is a young man to step into the Kremlin hierarchy, and a big one, tipping the scales at better than 200 pounds and stretching to six feet plus.

Shepilov was too young to get involved in the turbulent revolutionary days when his strong-willed predecessor was laying the foundation for his advance to near the top of the Kremlin heap.

He is polished in the vocal art. He talks easily with foreigners, even amicably at social functions.

WELL TRAVELED

Party business has taken him to Berlin and Communist China, as well as Belgrade. His visit to Cairo last summer—if Western beliefs are true—showed his ability to negotiate the Soviets into areas where they haven't been before. Western officials grudgingly give him credit for setting up the Czech - Egyptian cotton - for - arms deal that put Russia squarely in the Middle East.

In addition to being a hard worker, Shepilov apparently knows how to play with equal vigor. Col. Vladimir Rudolph, who fled Russia in 1947, pictured the new foreign minister as a "ladies man . . . tall, very attractive to women Communists . . . very successful with the women."

MOLOTOV MAY GUIDE

Seek Vote on State Act

Set June Session on Road Problem

Gov. G. Mennen Williams said yesterday he will call a special session of Michigan's Legislature "sometime this month" to repair faulty wording in the 1955 multi-million dollar highway improvement act.

The special session, highly unpopular with legislators in an election year, is necessary because of an uncertainty in the act of whether bond retirement appropriations from the 1½-cent a gallon addition to the state gas tax will be available every year until the bonds are retired.

Scoring Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler for not having plans ready for issuing bonds under the bill by July 1, Williams said the special session remedy is necessary because clarification of the wording by the Supreme Court would not be speedy enough to enable a construction start this year.

He said lawyers representing the highway department and bonding companies have decided they cannot work with the bill as it was originally passed by the Legislature and drafted by Highway Department attorneys.

Deputy Highway Commissioner George M. Foster told the Pontiac Press May 25 the bill, Public Act 87, was "a new type of bonding bill" which involved "new problems."

"The language of the act is a little vague," Foster said.

Legislators at the special session may also consider improvements in Michigan's unemployment laws, a larger appropriation to complete the new 600-man medium-security prison at Ionia by contract rather than convict labor, and possible changes in highway safety laws.

Delay in the bonding act could effect Ziegler's proposed Detroit-to-Kawkawlin freeway, planned last summer on a parallel route to the Michigan Turnpike Authority's proposed Rockwood-to-Saginaw toll road.

Turnpike bond issues were authorized by the Legislature in a separate bill, and are not affected by the delay.

According to Foster, the disputed bill provided that 50 per cent of the state's share of the gas tax hike—about $13,500,000—was to be used after July 1 to pay off interest and retirement on road bond issues.

At present bonding rates, Foster said, this amount would buy about $225 million in highway bonds.

Motor City to Europe Air Speed Mark Set

DETROIT (AP)—A new speed mark for a flight from Detroit to Europe was established today when a new DC7C landed at Shannon, Ireland at 12:30 a.m. (EST).

The plane touched down 9 hours and 56 minutes after taking off from Wayne County Airport, averaging 342 miles per hour for the 3,398-mile flight. The previous mark was 12½ hours.

Jesse H. Jones Dies at 82; Created Financial Empire

HOUSTON (AP)—Jesse H. Jones, 82, a Tennessee farm boy who built one of the nation's largest fortunes despite only a fifth grade education, is dead.

The wartime secretary of Commerce and head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., died last night.

His financial abilities had impressed three presidents under whom he had served, Woodrow Wilson, Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He was instrumental in founding the National Bank of Detroit in 1933.

Jones, as chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., induced General Motors Corp. to advance $12.5 million for common stock in the national bank when he found neither the First National Bank nor the Guardian National Bank of Commerce could reopen after the banking holiday.

As head of the RFC 13 years, Jones loaned over 50 billion dollars. As the No. 1 citizen of Houston, he built the skyline of the South's largest city, owning 35 buildings ranging up to 37 stories in heighth.

He was publisher of the Houston Chronicle and owned three of the city's largest hotels.

EXTENSIVE HOLDINGS

Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said Jones caught the early vision of Texas, and that "he was part of it and of us."

His Houston Endowment Corp., has given millions to educational, medical and charitable institutions.

He brought the 1928 National convention to Houston by signing a blank check after San Francisco had bid $200,000.

Jones underwent an operation March 28 for a kidney blockage. He re-entered the hospital May 9 and had been critically ill about 10 days.

Schoolboy Victorious in British Amateur

TROON, Scotland (AP)—John Beharrell, England's 18-year-old golf prodigy who is playing for his health, won the British Amateur Championship today with a 5 and 4 victory over Leslie Taylor, Glasgow insurance man.

* * *

The teenage sensation succeeds Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., who was eliminated in the quarter-finals.

Beharrell won the first hole with a par four and never was headed. He blew several chances to end the match earlier. Once during the late stages of the afternoon round he saw his lead cut from six to two holes.

He led three-up after nine holes, four-up at 18 and four-up at 27.

Twice during the afternoon round he stretched his margin to six holes but couldn't hold the lead.

* * *

Six-up going to the par five 580-yard 24th hole, the young Englishman hit his second shot into the deep rough and hacked away three times before getting on the green. He got a seven while Taylor won with a five.

Budgetary Pinch Forces Junking of Ships

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy said today that a budgetary pinch rather than a move toward disarmament prompted its drastic action in consigning three battleships and 104 other naval vessels to the scrap heap.

If Congress approves the Navy recommendation, the cruiser San Francisco and the aircraft carrier Enterprise will be among the warships cut up for junk.

The battleships on the "death list" are the Mississippi, the California and the Tennessee.

Although the Navy proposal came only a few weeks after Russia announced the Soviets would mothball 375 warships, Navy spokesmen insisted there was no connection between the two events.

The spokesmen pointed out that, although the pasts of many of the ships have been historic, all have outlived their usefulness by the Navy's table of obsolescence. The useful life of the heaviest ships is considered to be less than 30 years.

Navy Under Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. in asking Congress to pass special legislation authorizing the mass junking, said the ships are not worth the cost of keeping them in mothballs. His list included 10 cruisers, 11 aircraft carriers (out of 82 in reserve), 12 submarines (out of 100 in reserve) and one destroyer.

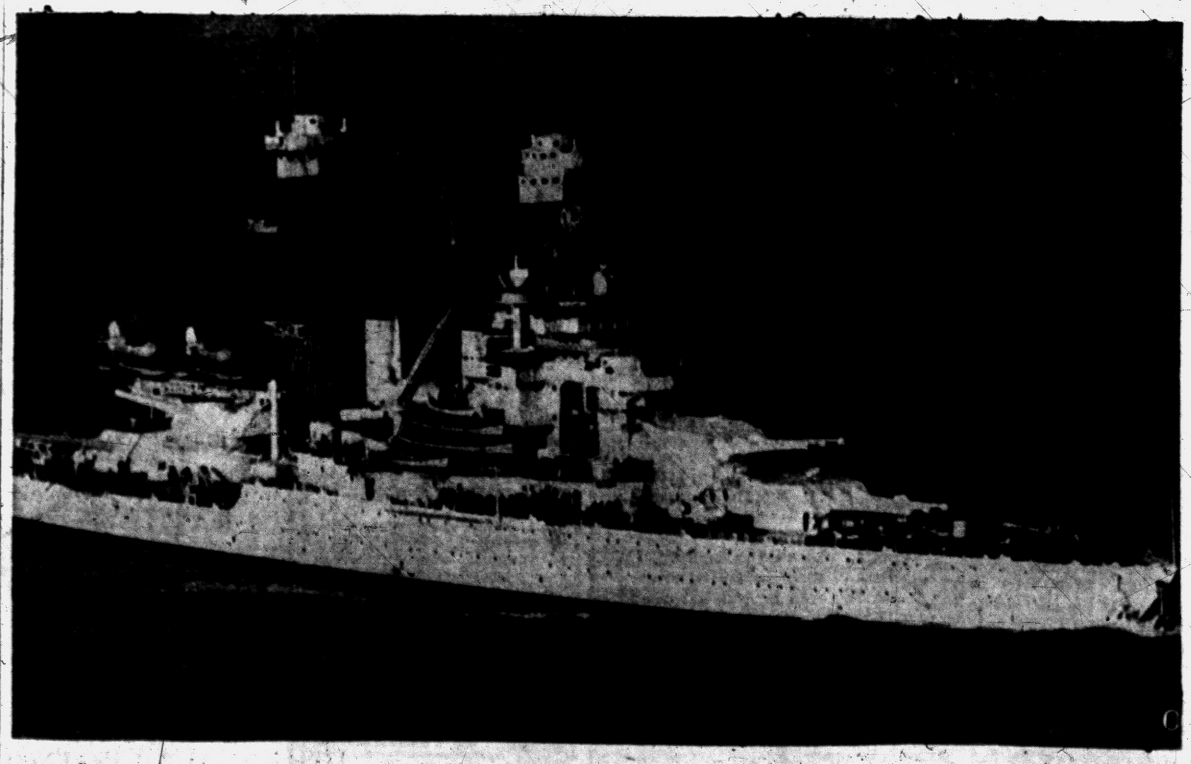

Under terms of the proposed legislation, the Navy could sink the ships if this were "economically justifiable." They could also be sold to "friendly foreign governments" or for non-military purposes, but the expectation is they will be scrapped.

The surprise on the list was the battleship Mississippi, since it has been partly modernized and is in use as a guided missile experiment ship.

Like the other two battleships, however, the Mississippi is more than 35 years old.

The San Francisco and the Enterprise were at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked on Dec. 7, 1941 and were among the warships that survived the ensuing battle.

Little more than a month later, on Jan. 12, 1942, the San Francisco steamed out of Pearl Harbor with a task force that scored the first of many victories over the Japanese fleet. Near Rabaul, New Guinea, the task force shot down 17 of 18 attacking Japanese planes.

ONE OF SHIPS NAVY WANTS TO SCRAP — This is the battleship U.S.S. Tennessee, one of 107 vessels the Navy has asked Congress for permission to trim out of the reserve fleet. The House Armed Services Committee will consider whether to hold public hearings to sink, scrap or sell ships that have outlived their usefulness, and to cull out over-age vessels each year.

FBI Identifies Bones Found in Port Huron

PORT HURON (AP)—The FBI has identified a dismembered skeleton found Tuesday in Smith Creek as that of a white male, 35 to 40 years of age and 5 feet 7 inches tall.

The FBI said its Washington laboratories determined the man had medium to dark brown hair and had had dental work done on his upper jaw. It added that two sections of the body had been separated by sawing.

The skeleton, thought at first by local authorities to be that of a woman, was found by a boy while fishing in Smith Creek, just southeast of Port Huron.

Besides having been sawed in two, the skeleton's hands and feet were missing.

Sheriff Ferris E. Lucas of St. Clair County said flatly that the person had been murdered when he first viewed the skeleton. He also expressed belief that the killing might have been a recent one, with lime or some other chemical used to dissolve the flesh.

The FBI said, however, that death possibly occurred three to four years ago, and added there was no evidence on the skeleton of the cause of death.

French Planes, Artillery Wipe Out Big Arab Force

ALGIERS (AP)— Two French divisions backed by jet dive bombers battled furiously today to wipe out a big Algerian rebel force trapped in the "Gates of Iron" triangle of the desolate Biban Mountains.

The French claimed the rebels already have lost 400 men—290 dead and 110 taken prisoner—in the biggest single encounter of the 18-month-old Algerian uprising.

Military dispatches disclosed that an infantry division had been thrown in to support a crack mechanized division and to contain rebel units desperately striving to break out of encirclement.

Artillery and planes blasted away at the rebels clinging to sunbaked crags within the triangle in eastern Algeria. The area lies southwest of Bougie and along the Soumman Valley where French settlers repeatedly have been hit by strong rebel raids.

French officers said the division was performing "superbly." Originally it was trained on the NATO defense line in Germany to operate in small detachments under conditions of atomic warfare. The officers said this type of training has been found excellent for the fast moving hit-and-run engagements of the Algerian war.

Dispatches said the rebels at one point concentrated their forces west of Lafayette and threatened to break out of the trap. The French commander summoned planes including Mistral jets which dive-bombed the rebel positions, forcing the Moslems to fall back, leaving many dead and wounded strewn on the mountainsides.

Molotov Resignation Surprises the West

Western diplomats viewed the changes as the biggest gesture the Russians could make in their bid to re-establish strong ties between Moscow and Belgrade during the talks with Tito.

Molotov has been a revolutionary 31 years. He plotted and worked in lower echelon chores in the perilous days of the Tsar, living sometimes in exile and almost always in danger.

He paved the way in Moscow for the return of Lenin and the 1917 Bolshevik revolution. Thereafter he climbed quickly up the Communist ladder.

Molotov didn't come by his nickname of "Iron Pants" by giving way in serious debate. Forceful "No's" have frequently punctuated his contacts with the West. He was the foremost apostle of the frosty, give-not-an-inch cold war policy of his old line leader, Stalin.

Molotov's hard words and patient obstinacy in negotiations won him the grudging respect of Western leaders.

Churchill called the mild appearing, but firey Molotov "cold-blooded and ruthless" but nonetheless a man of "outstanding ability."

Molotov cast his lot with Stalin, and aside from a rift in revolutionary days over Pravda policy, rose to the heights of Russian power with the late dictator.

Auto Death Is Ruled Due to Natural Cause

The Thursday death of John E. McKenzie, 54, of Farmington Township, was due to a coronary occlusion, it was announced today Dr. Malcomb Delaney, acting deputy coroner for Oakland County.

Dr. Delaney revealed the findings following the receipt of an autopsy report from Pathologist Dr. John Marra of Pontiac General Hospital.

McKenzie was found dead in the front seat of his car parked off the road in Novi Township early Thursday afternoon. Investigators learned the man had driven his car and home-made trailer to the location that morning to pick up a load of dirt.

Housewife Treated for Aspirin Overdose

Fire Ruins Sweeper, Damages City Home

Fire this morning destroyed a $75 electric sweeper in a home at 45 Lorraine Ct., Pontiac firemen reported.

They said the sweeper was in a cardboard box on top of an oil space heater in the living room of Ronald Gutler. The box caught on fire, also causing $25 damage to the building, firemen said.

News in Brief

A $25 bicycle was reported stolen yesterday at the corner of Baldwin and Columbia avenues, Pontiac police said.

Julius A. Griffin, 54, of 987 Argyl St., suffered slight injuries when his auto rammed a parked car in front of 93 N. Johnson Ave. early this morning.

Shepilov Takes Over as Foreign Minister

Molotov could inconspicuously give advice from his vast knowledge of world affairs which is unrivaled by any other of the top Soviet leaders.

Shepilov, a rapid riser on the Kremlin scene since Stalin's death, has been playing a major role in Russia's diplomatic offensive.

* * *

The new foreign minister also was a participant in the "summit conference" that produced the so-called "Geneva spirit" and new Soviet approach in foreign relations.

He also has been on the issuing end of statements since early last year which have materialized into pillars of Soviet policy. One defended the priority of heavy industry, while another spelled out the policy decrying the "imperialistic arms race" and called for a ban on atomic weapons along with peaceful coexistence.

Shepilov's new function is clear. If previously he was in charge of indoctrination of the Soviet Union in Communism—he now has as Soviet foreign minister a bigger field for his propaganda and indoctrination operations—the whole world.

He Stabbed Her, Ran Her Down, Woman Claims

Stabbed three times in the shoulder and suffering several broken ribs when an auto was driven over her in an alleged argument with her common - law husband last night, a 26-year-old woman is listed in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital today.

Mrs. Doris J. Fields, 503 Franklin Rd. told Det. Thomas Mitchell that the argument followed a three weeks separation from Major Porter, 34, who was arrested this morning near his home at 72 Gillespie St.

The woman said Porter forced her into the car at 204 Wessen St. where she was visiting, then stabbed her when she tried to escape.

She fell to the pavement and Porter backed the auto onto her, according to the woman's story.

A charge of attempted murder may be sought, Mitchell said. Porter was to make a statement today to an assistant prosecutor.

Housewife Asks for Check

Says State Will Observe Election at Walled Lake

The Elections Division of the Secretary of State's Office will send an observer to the June 11 Walled Lake School Election, it was disclosed yesterday.

* * *

Notification from Lansing reportedly reached Mrs. Norma Popek yesterday in the form of a letter sent to her home at 4955 Pontiac Trail, Orchard Lake.

Mrs. Popek, candidate for election to the Walled Lake School Board, had appealed to Gov. G. Mennen Williams for an "impartial observer" at the election.

Head of group opposing a proposed two-mill tax increase for school operations which will come up for a decision on the June 11 ballot, Mrs. Popek also had charged "irregularities" in former elections in her letter to the governor.

Queried by a Pontiac Press reporter, Mrs. Popek said:

"There have been some instances in the past where balloting was done in the open rather than in secret. Also, in some cases election workers have discussed campaign issues right in the polls, and this is contrary to law."

Mrs. Popek said she had "signed affidavits" to prove her charge.

Clifford Smart, superintendent of Walled Lkea Schools, "welcomed" the news of the appointment of an observer as "a good thing."

"I am pleased the Secretary of State will send a representative," said Smart. "We'd like to have them know how we run elections in this community."

Smart said that all the school elections had been run strictly according to the law of the state, and that every voting precinct has private voting facilities.

* * *

"We appoint election board members who are brought in to a meeting prior to the date of elections, given their supplies and instructions that the election is to be conducted in a legal manner. I myself inform them they are not to discuss campaign issues or do any electioneering, and notices are posted outside every poll to that effect."

* * *

Dr. William O. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools, said he believed elections in the Walled Lake School District have always been conducted in a legal manner.

"I have never heard of any irregularities in their election procedures," he said.

Mrs. Popek has opposed the tax hike on the ground that taxes are already too high and the average taxpayer cannot afford the increase.

Brutal Murder Shocks Atlanta

Horror Grips City Over Vicious Killing of Pretty Secretary in Robbery

ATLANTA (AP)—One of the most thorough police investigations in years was under way today into the brutal slaying of a pretty Atlanta secretary during a $2,400 downtown payroll robbery — the fifth unsolved robbery-slaying in Atlanta the past 10 months.

* * *

Police Lt. J. L. Moseley said all members of the detective, robbery and homicide squads have been assigned to investigate the death of Mrs. Inez Johnson, 30, at the Ingram Mantel and Tile Co.

"I've never seen anything like this investigation in my 16 years on the police force," Moseley said.

CRUMPLED AT DESK

Mrs. Johnson, mother of a 10-year-old son, died of multiple skull fractures. She was found crumpled beside her desk where she had been preparing a $2,400 payroll during the lunch hour Friday.

The killer apparently struck within a 10-minute period, police said. Officials of the company left for an appointment at noon. Ten minutes later Herbert Harcourt, 26, an employe of a steel firm, arrived to pick up a load of material and discovered the body.

'Bedroom Burglar' on the Prowl Again

Pontiac's "Bedroom Burglar" was on the prowl again last night.

He entered at least three homes in the southeast area, gaining over $135 representing weekly pay checks.

Only $1.50 was reported looted at 74 Myra St. The owner's trousers were removed from his bedroom while he slept. The money was removed and the pants discarded nearby, police said.

The same procedure took place at 565 S. Paddock St. where $75 was reported stolen, police said, and at 581 S. Paddock, where $60 was taken.

Boy Faces Charges of Beer Possession

A minor and two juvenile boys were arrested last night when police allegedly found beer in their car.

The boys were turned over to parents pending an appearance before juvenile officers this morning.

Parent to Install Minister on New Church's Birthday

BIRMINGHAM — Two special services tomorrow at Northminster Presbyterian Church will mark the end of the first year of the church's organization.

Being formally installed as minister of the new church is the Rev. MacKay Taylor, who has led the congregation in its first year's efforts and in building of its new church on Big Beaver road.

His father, the Rev. Wendell Taylor, pastor of the Bethlehem Presbyterian Church in Minneapolis, Minn., and formerly of Covenant Church in Detroit, will give the sermon at the 10:30 a.m. installation and service.

The Rev. Robert Graham, assistant minister of Birmingham's First Presbyterian Church, will charge the congregation with its duties, and Dr. Harold Fredsell, executive director of the Detroit Presbyterian Board of Church Extension, will give the charge to Mr. Taylor.

The new $65,000 initial unit of the church will be dedicated in a 4 p.m. service at which Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh, executive secretary of the Presbyterian Synod of Michigan, will preach.

The Rev. Glenn Harris of First Presbyterian will give the church keys to Dr. James Watson Jr., president of Northminster's board of trustees, in the ceremony, previous to a reception for members, Detroit area dignitaries and civic leaders.

Camp Oakland will be visited by Exchange Club members and their wives in lieu of next Tuesday's meeting. Fishing, boating and swimming are planned. High Twelve Club members visited the camp last Monday, toured the facilities and had dinner.

That group had donated $2,950 against its pledge of $3,000 and an on-the-spot collection raised the ante to $3,363. The fund, along with that of the Royal Oak Rotary, and the construction work of the Drayton - Plains Presbyterian Church Men's Club, are for the infirmary building. It will provide handicraft facilities, storage space and a kitchenette.

Senior night at First Congregational Church is tomorrow at 6 p.m., when Junior and Senior High Fellowship members and their parents honorgraduating seniors. A variety show and potluck supper are planned.

"Ideally, of course, periodic examinations would be a very good thing. They not only would enable us to protect children, they would allow the schools to be of greater service.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Blonde Mink

By DAMON RUNYON

I was sitting in Mindy's restaurant listening to Julie the Starker tell me the story of the Blonde Mink and how it is responsible that our mutual pal Slats Slavin is without a stone on his grave up in Woodlawn cemetery. Seems Slats was fianceed to this good looker Miss Beatrice Gee who on the night Slats kicks off relieves him of 23 thousand with a promise she would arrange for his stone which as a matter of fact she never does. Instead she pours the 23 thou into the Blonde Mink coat.

Now Julie visits Slats' grave and Slats talks to him asking him to look up Bea and find out what's holding up the engraving and also tell her it's cold in the ground without no stone. So, Julie tells me, he finds the doll wearing the coat and when he asks her about the stone she puts the squeeze on Julie saying he would have a hard time explaining the missing 23 thou to the cops.

Julie asks me what can he do cause the cops have his number and he says its a shame Slats his friend from short pants days, should be cold in the grave. Then Julie says he is off to tell Slats what has transpired.

Just after he shoves off in comes Johnny Brannigan, the dick in the neighborhood, who asks me what I know about a Miss Beatrice Gee. Now with cops I am a deaf mute and dumb in the tongue so Brannigan tells me they just found Miss Gee dead as a mackeral with a lump from a bronze lamp on her noggin. Brannigan says there was no robbery so I tell him Julie the Starker can fill him in on this doll's background and I offer to help him look up Julie.

CONCLUDED

So I call a taxicab and as we get in, I tell the jockey to drive us to Woodlawn Cemetery and if Johnny Brannigan is surprised by our destination he does not crack but whiles away the time on the journey by relating many of his experiences as a copper, some of which are very interesting.

It is coming on dusk when we reach Woodlawn and while I have an idea of the general direction of the late Slats Slavin's last resting place, I have to keep the taxi guy driving around inside the gates for some time before I spot the exact location through recognizing the late Cockeyed Corrigan's black marble marker.

It is a short distance off the auto roadway so I have the hackie stop and Johnny Brannigan and I get out of the cab to walk a few yards to the mound and as we approach same who steps out from the shadow of the late Cockeyed Corrigan's marker but Julie the Starker who speaks to me as follows:

"Hello, hello," he says. "I am glad you see and I know you will be pleased to learn that the late Slats gives me a tip for you on a horse that goes at Hialeah tomorrow but the name escapes me at the moment. He says his figures make it an absolute kick in the pants. Well," Julie says, "stick around a while and maybe I will remember it."

HERE IS A KISS FOR YOU

Then he seems to notice the presence of Johnny Brannigan for the first time and to recognize him, too, because all of a sudden he outs with Captain Barker and says:

And with this he lets go a slug that misses Johnny Brannigan and knocks an arm off a pink stone cherub in the background and he is about to encore when Johnny blasts ahead of him, and Julie the Starker drops his pizzolover and his legs begin bending under him like Leon Errol's when Leon is playing a drunk.

BLOOD PUMPS FROM HOLE

He finally staggers up to the last resting place of the late Slats Slavin and falls there with the blood pumping from the hole that Johnny Brannigan drills in his chest and as I notice his lips moving I hasten to his side figuring that he may be about to utter the name of the horse Slats gives him for me.

Then I observe that there is something soft and fuzzy spread out on the mound under him that Julie the Starker pats weakly with one hand as he whispers to me like this:

"Well," he says, "the late Slats is not only resting in peace now with the same as his stone over him but he is warm as toast and in fact warmer."

* * *

"The horse, Julie," I say. "What is the name of the horse?"

JOINS OUT PERMANENTLY

But Julie only closes his eyes and it is as plain to be seen that he now joins out permanently with the population of Woodlawn, Johnny Brannigan steps forward and rolls him off the mound with his foot and picks up the object that is under Julie and examines it in the dim light.

"I always think Julie is a little stir-crazy," Johnny says, "but I wonder why he takes a pop at me when all I want of him is to ask him some questions and I wonder, too, where this nice red fox fur coat comes from?"

Well, of course I know that Johnny will soon realize that Julie probably thinks Johnny wishes to chat with him about the job he does on Miss Beatrice Gee but at the moment I am too provoked about Julie holding out the tip the late Slats Slavin gives him for me to discuss the matter or even to explain that the red is only Julie's blood and that the coat is really blonde mink.

Contests Lure Twenty Million

Few Participants Give Themselves a Chance for Winning Prizes

NEW YORK—About twenty million Americans a year compete in at least one contest or more, but few contestants give themselves the best possible chance of winning.

A feature entitled, "What You Should Know About Contests," in the current magazine offers a number of suggestions that could increase the entrant's chances of winning.

These pointers which are formulated by sponsors and those who judge contests include some of the following advice:

1. Obey the rules as to words, format, enclosures and mailing date. Avoid elaborate answers. Judges pass these around but rarely give them prizes.

2. Unless ties are to be decided by the earliest postmark, hold your entry until you are sure you have done your best with it.

3. For those who take their contests seriously, there are correspondence schools which publish bulletins listing new contests and coach students in pleasing sponsors.

The feature warns contestants to beware of persons who want to sell answers and ready-made entries. The same answers are usually sold in duplicate and all are thrown out when detected by the contest officials.

The 1952 vice presidential nominee was elected 39-10 over former Rep. Laurie Battle of Birmingham.

Cooper Declines Kentucky Race

Ambassador to India Will Not Run for Senate Seat This Fall

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — John Sherman Cooper definitely will not run for the U. S. Senate from Kentucky this fall, a Republican party official announced in advance of today's GOP State Central Committee meeting.

* * *

Cooper, U. S. ambassador to India and former senator, had said his decision on the nomination, considered his for the asking, would not be announced until today's meeting.

SENT WIRE

But Committee Chairman Dewey Daniel said yesterday that Cooper had wired his decision not to seek the unexpired term—four years—of the late Democratic Sen. Alben W. Barkley.

The nominee will team with former U. S. Rep. Thruston B. Morton of Louisville in the November general election. Morton was nominated in Tuesday's primary to oppose Democratic incumbent Sen. Earle Clements.

Cooper's mam reason for declining to run was figured to be his often stated belief that much remains to be done on relations with India and that he shouldn't quit the post after serving only a year.

California Primary Battle Entering Final Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson plunged today into a last weekend of forced-draft campaigning before Tuesday's Democratic presidential primary in California.

* * *

* * *

Stevenson—saying he is "not interested in dealing in personalities"—gave Kefauver only slight notice. Instead, he reserved his heaviest blows for the Republican Eisenhower administration.

With the California primary regarded as a possible make-or-break test, both rival candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination went all-out in hopes of pulling a big majority. The winner will get California's 68-vote delegation, after New York's the biggest at the party's national convention in August. This also will be their last direct contest before that convention.

* * *

President Eisenhower is unopposed on the Republican primary ballot in California. The state will send 70 delegates to the GOP nominating convention, also in August.

Yesterday, Vice President Nixon—virtually certain to be Eisenhower's running mate again — asked that Republican voters not write in his name on their ballots next Tuesday. He telephoned V. John Krehbiel, Los Angeles County GOP chairman, and cautioned that write-ins might invalidate ballots, under California law.

* * *

Kefauver, soliciting votes in northern California, hit hard on the civil rights issue — a prime one in that state.

* * *

He said in San Francisco that Stevenson was pictured in the Florida primary campaign as a "moder" on the racial integration question. But in California, Kefauver said, Stevenson is being put forward as a "civil rights crusader."

Saginaw Trio Robs Oil Firm

Police Blast Getaway Sedan in Running Gun Battle; One Caught

SAGINAW (AP)—Three young men, their faces hidden behind white handkerchiefs, held up a Saginaw Oil Company attendant early today. One was captured a short time later about 30 miles south of Saginaw after a wild, bullet marked chase.

* * *

The other two were believed hiding in a partially wooded area, which state police and deputies quickly surrounded with road blocks.

Frederick Smith, 65, an attendant at the Seal-O-Co., said three masked men, one of them armed with a pistol, robbed him of $233 shortly before 3 a.m. fore 3 a.m.

Smith told police the trio fled on foot. But a police car, rushing to the scene, passed an automobile speeding from the area in the opposite direction.

EMPTY THEIR GUNS

The squad car turned around and gave chase. Patrolmen Robert Rubert and Charles Mason said they emptied their guns at the fleeding car in a chase down M13.

The fugitives fired back, one bullet shattering the windshield of the police car.

The trio abandoned the vehicle when they ran onto a state police roadblock near the intersection of M13 and M78. The getaway car had been struck several times by police bullets.

Police said they captured Stevens near the car. The other two escaped into the darkness.

* * *

Old Post Office Marks One More Milestone

By JULIE V. HUTCHINS
West Bloomfield Correspondent

ORCHARD LAKE — Dedication ceremonies at the new Orchard Lake Post Office today mark another milestone in West Bloomfield Township's oldest post office.

The Orchard Lake Post Office was first established in 1872, with John Copeland the first postmaster. It was the fourth post office to be established in West Bloomfield Township.

The first was at Pine Lake, with that name, started in 1831. Next was the West Bloomfield Post Office near the Commerce Township line. This office was established in 1833. The third was Straits Lake, on the north shore of Upper Straits Lake, in 1836.

Hence Orchard Lake is the oldest post office in West Bloomfield Township, the only other office now in that township being Keego Harbor, established in comparatively recent years.

General John Copeland was the owner of a hotel at Orchard Lake and it was through his efforts to secure postal privileges for his patrons that the post office was established. He had been postmaster only a short time when the office was moved to the Moody Hotel, with Moody as postmaster.

The Michigan Military Academy had been located at Orchard Lake and for many years was the office's largest patron. Soon after the turn of the century the academy was discontinued.

In later years its buildings were taken over and have since been used by the St. Cyril and Methodius Seminary and St. Mary's High School and College. This unit is still the largest patron.

The new post office building was built to specifications. Located on St. Mary College property at 3735 Commerce Rd., it is rented to the government by the college. Present postmaster is Mrs. Mary Hawkes.

Marines Open Jail for McKeon

Cell Confinement Lifts as Review Board Calls Trial Postponement

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — A Marine Corps drill instructor who took a recruit platoon on a disciplinary night march that resulted in the drowning of six young men has been released from confinement.

* * *

S. Sgt. Matthew B. McKeon, 31, is awaiting a court-martial at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here. He is charged with manslaughter in the death of six recruits and with having been under the influence of liquor at the time.

McKeon had been in confinement since April 8, the night of the march.

* * *

A Marine Corps announcement yesterday said McKeon's status was changed May 23 from "confinement awaiting court martial" to "restriction in lieu of arrest." No explanation was given about the delay in making the announcement.

LIBERAL TERMS

His release was the result, the announcement said, of a request to the secretary of the Navy from his defense counsel, Emile Z. Berman of New York.

Authorities said McKeon's restriction is liberal enough to permit him to go to his home in nearby Port Royal when not on duty. He has a wife and two small children.

Control of River Jordan Still Perils Palestine Truce

By WILTON WYNN
AP Foreign Correspondent

CAIRO (AP) — The number one danger point in the Palestine crisis today—a crisis still touchy despite apparent U. N. sucess in reducing border incidents—is the muddy little Jordan River.

The Jordan River problem is complicated by the fact that four states must consent to any overall program for using the river for irrigation or power development.

Three of the four are Arab states still at war with the fourth, Isreal. The Arab states are Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan.

Three different plans, each illustrated on the accompanying maps, have been proposed for utilizing the river waters. Two of them are dying of inactivity; the third may provoke a war if implemented.

* * *

The United States has offered financing for a regional scheme called the Johnston plan. Worked out by Eric Johnston, a special U. S. envoy to the Middle East, this project would tap the Jordan and its tributaries for about 1⅓ billion cubic yards of water a year Under the Johnston recommendations, the Arab states would get 62 per cent of this total and Israel 38 per cent.

The dam and canals necessary to the project would be controlled by a United Nations water authority.

The Johnston plan has never been rejected outright. Israel accepted it "in principle." But the Arabs gave it the kiss of death last fall when they postponed a decision indefinitely. Arab objection to the Johnston plan are three:

ARAB OBJECTIONS

First, the plan links an Arab project with Israeli projects, and thus implies indirect Arab recognition of the state of Israel.

Second, the plan will benefit Israel economically, thereby weakening the Arab economic boycott of the Jewish state.

Third, a major reservoir under the scheme would be in Lake Tiberias, which is entirely under Israeil control.

* * *

Johnston has told Arab governments he will return for further discussions on his plan whenever they have something new to discuss. Thus far, Arab leaders are unanimous in their judgment that the "political climate" is not right for acceptance of the plan. Popular feeling against Israel runs so strongly that weak governments like those of Syria and Jordan could not survive if they accepted the Johnston plan.

SUBSTITUTE PLAN

As a substitute, a committee of experts from each Arab state involved, plus Egypt, has drawn up an Arab counter-plan. It is based on the principle of each country benefiting from projects inside one country benefiting another. The Arabs say this places one country "at the mercy of the other."

The Arab plan involves a main storage dam on the Yarmuk River between Syria and Jordan, to provide electric power for both Syria and Jordan and irrigation for the east bank of the lower Jordan Valley. Under the Arab plan, no Arab irrigation water would be stored in Israeli-controlled Lake Tiberias.

The headwaters of the Jordan—the Hasbani River in Lebanon and the Dan and Banias Rivers in Syria—would be harnessed for the benefit of the two countries concerned. Under the Johnston plan, Arabs argued, too much of Syrian and Lebanese waters went to Israel.

* * *

The Arab plans calls for use of the Hasbani River for irrigation and electric power for southern Lebanon. Similar projects would be built along the Banias and Dan for the surrounding region in Syria.

Arabs say Israel could irrigate from the remaining flow of these rivers into the upper Jordan near Lake Hulch. Israel also could use Lake Tiberias as a reservoir from which it could irrigate its lands west of the Jordan and in the Israeli triangle between the Yarmuk and Jordan.

Arabs leaders say this scheme would be financed "either by the Arabs or the West." United States experts have cold-shouldered the project, however, because they consider it uneconomic.

There has been no Arab eagerness to get started on independent financing. At the last meeting of the Arab League council in April, the Arab plan was barely touched on in discussions.

The Israelis have threatened to go ahead with their own water development schemes if the Arabs don't accept the Johnston plan.

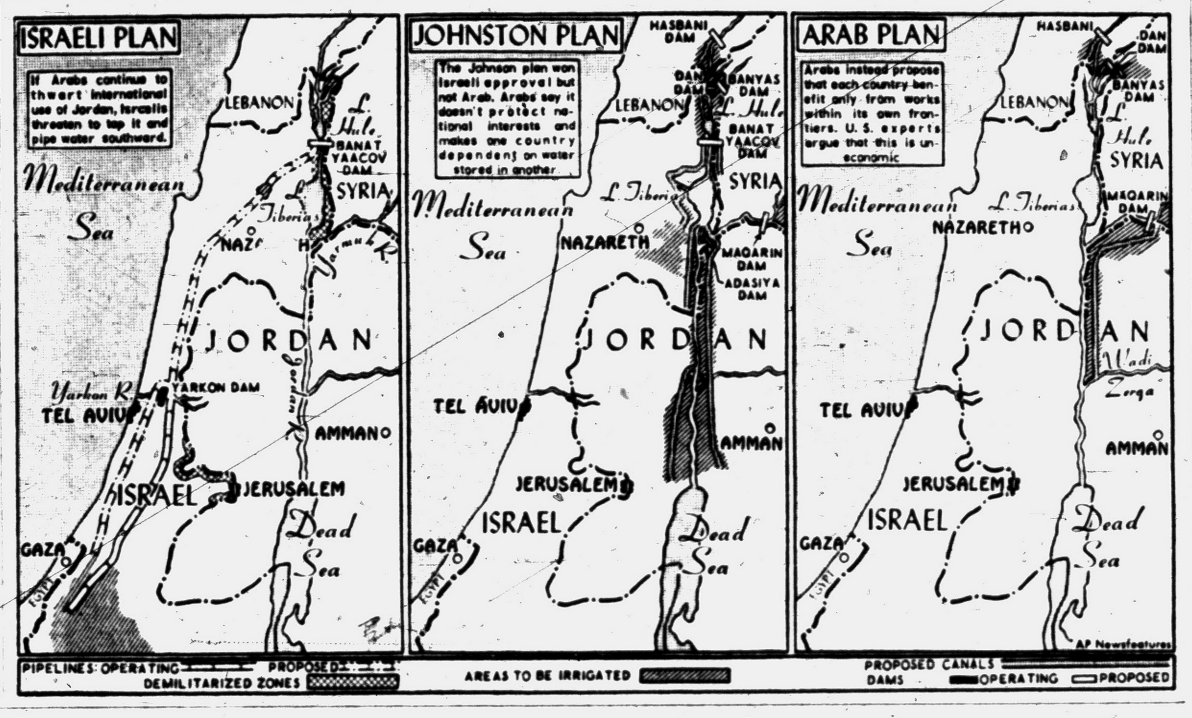

* * *

The Israeli project would simply involve tapping the upper Jordan at Banat Yaacov with a new pipeline which would connect at the Yarkon River with one already carrying water south to the Negev Desert, where millions of new settlers may live in the future.

The Arabs object to this scheme, however, largely because it would involve Israeli work inside a Syrian-Israeli demilitarized zone.

The governments of Syria, Egypt, and Jordan all have said that Israeli work in the demilitarized zone will mean war.

In the midst of all this talk, the ancient Jordan River rolls on to the Dead Sea, where its water ultimately evaporates in the desert air. And on either bank, its valley dries up and blows away for want of the water the river could provide.

'56 Convention Worries GOP

Report States Duration to Be Reduced to Avoid Tiring TV Audiences

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Republican party may cut its national convention here in August from four to three days to avoid tiring television audiences, political commentator Earl C. Behrens wrote in the San Francisco Chronicle today.

Behrens said the decision probably won't be made until GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall meets June 21 in Chicago or Washington with the arrnagements committee.

"With the work of the convention—renomination of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon—a cut and dried affair," wrote Behrens, "the problem of holding TV interest in the convention is worrying GOP leaders.

"Republicans expect the Democratic National Convention which begins in Chicago Aug. 13 will be a rough and tumble affair which TV audiences will enjoy, so they are considering how to compress the renominations of Eisenhower and Nixon, adoption of a party platform and other routine business into three days, which would be a modern record for a major party national convention."

Men Rescue Trapped Dog From Mountain

ATLANTA (AP) — Two men rescued a dog trapped on nearby Stone Mountain yesterday, descending by rope about 750 feet to reach the frightened animal.

* * *

Elias Nour, a store owner who specializes in Stone Mountain rescues, and B. S. Ivey of the DeKalb County Police worked their way down from the top of the mountain, the world's largest block of granite.

* * *

The dog had slipped and fallen until stopped by an iron stake left by workers carving the cliff years ago. The stake was the only obstacle before a sheer fall of 350 feet.

The dog appeared badl yshaken up and was taken to the Atlanta Humane Society for treatment.

Nikita Urges Change in U.S. Law

Reds Detest Visa Fingerprinting

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev declared in a talk yesterday with Isaac Stern, Russian-born American violinist, that no Soviet citizens "will ever go to the United States if they have to be fingerprinted." He said Congress ought to change the law.

* * *

"We will never submit to it," Bulganin said.

And Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov chimed in: "Never! Never!"

The protests against the U. S. immigration requirement for fingerprinting of nonofficial foreign visitors were sounded over champagne glasses at a British Embassy garden party honoring the official birthday of 30-year-old Queen Elizabeth II.

EXCEPTIONS MADE

Washington has skirted the requirement by permitting some small Russian delegations — among them farmers, churchmen and entertainers — to enter the United States with official status. But there may be a problem in the case of such large Soviet cultural groups as the Moisseyev folk dancers, scheduled to leave for New York in the fall. U. S. Embassy sources said the Moisseyev troupe matter is being discussed within the State Department, but that so far as is known here the Russians have not been advised one way or the other.

* * *

Stern, 35-year-old New Yorker who has just completed a highly acclaimed tour of the Soviet Union, touched on that in his talk with Khrushchev.

The Communist party boss said the Russians are always ready to visit the United States under official delegation status.

DIFFICULT FOR 150

Stern replied it would be difficult to give that status to 150 persons at a time, such as the Moisseyev troupe involves.

He buttonholed Khrushchev beside a lilac bush.

Khrushchev raised a toast to Stern and said:

"Your visit has been a tremendous success. There should be more like it."

* * *

"And there would be more," Stern replied, "if your people overlooked such technical requirements as fingerprinting."

"This we can never do," Khrushchev said. "It is a requirement for criminals. It is degrading. It is a shame. None of our people will ever go to the United States if they have to be fingerprinted."

A U. S. Embassy official who was standing between them remarked: "It is the law. You have your laws and we have ours."

"Then you should change the law," Khrushchev replied.

Stern broke in: "We cannot order our laws changed just like that. That's up to the people."

Congratulations, June Brides

J. E. VOORHEES

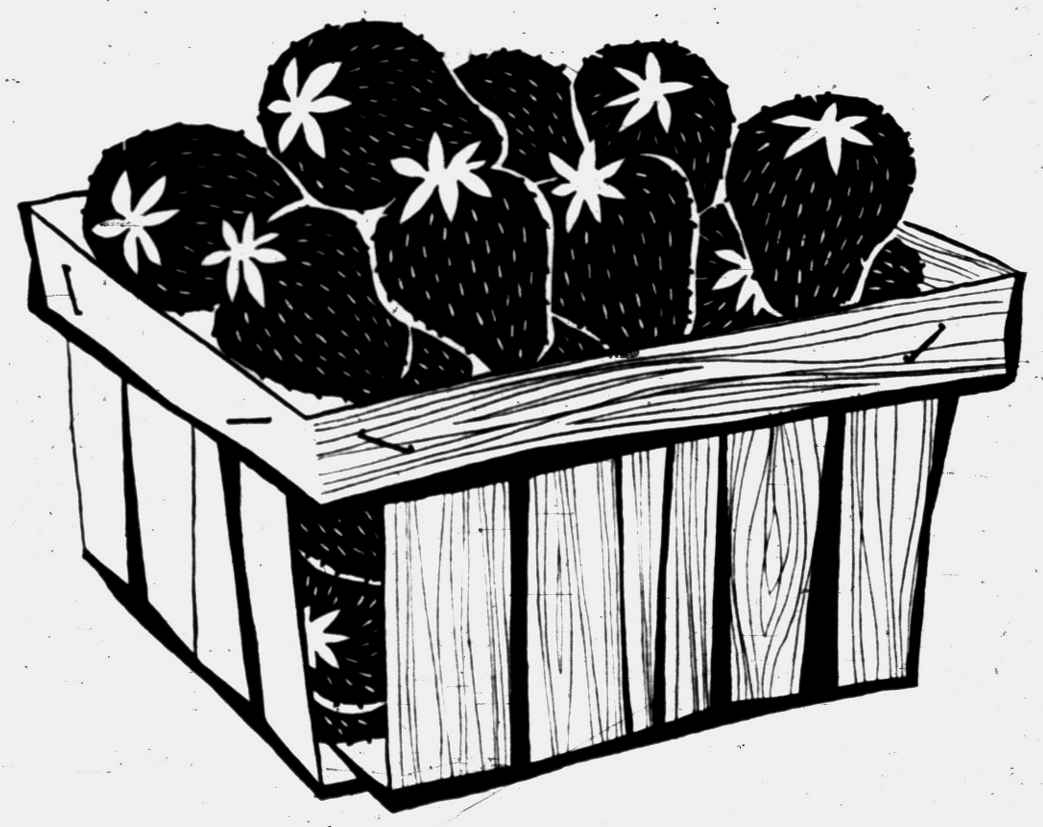

Two young people have joined hearts and hands to make a unit. To them we offer our sincere felicitations.

All of the joys of living is wrapped up in marriage. It can be a heaven on earth and the key word is thoughtfulness. Two people who have been alone suddenly find themselves dependent upon a stranger; happiness to share, sorrow to share, wealth to share, and all the rigors of living to share. This adjustment is a blending of responsibilities and thoughtfulness. When the latter is present this new life becomes one of the glories of human existence.

M. E. SIPLE

May your lives be filled with love and kindness but above all keep thoughtfulness of each other before you always. May we wish you all the happiness to be found in your ideals of heaven.

GOP Isolationists Snub Senator Wiley

If right wing members of Wisconsin's Republican organization think they can scare Senator Wiley out of the race for renomination, they are mistaken.

That such was their idea was indicated by their action at the state convention at Milwaukee. There, despite his long and faithful service to the party, the Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was given a rude brushoff by the delegates.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Wiley was able to poll only 756 out of 2,486 votes. As a result, the party's senatorial endorsement went to Rep. Glenn R. Davis, an isolationist who frequently has voted against the Administration. On the other hand, Sen. Wiley has served his state, his party and the Nation with distinction throughout his 20 years in the upper chamber.

★ ★ ★

As Foreign Relations Committee chairman he has backed President Eisenhower by both word and deed on virtually all major issues. To him belongs credit for teaming with Rep. George A. Dondero in the successful fight for Congressional approval of the St. Lawrence waterway.

Wisconsin Republicans have made a serious mistake. Fortunately, however, Sen. Wiley doesn't fear a fight and will seek renomination without their approval. We sincerely hope the voters will take advantage of the opportunity to give him the endorsement withheld by the convention.

Memorial to Honor Francis Scott Key

Among the interesting holiday news was the announcement that a $1,000,000 memorial will honor Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner.

The structure soon will start rising on the campus of St. John's College, Annapolis, Maryland, Key's alma mater. It will house an auditorium, a choral and discussion room and facilities for music and the fine arts.

It was in 1796, just 160 years ago, that Key was graduated by St. John's. As far as researchers have been able to ascertain, the new structure will be the first educational building to honor the memory of this outstanding patriot.

★ ★ ★

The circumstances under which he wrote our National Anthem make an inspiring chapter in the country's history. During the War of 1812 when the British were off Baltimore, Key, a lawyer, proceeded under a flag of truce, to arrange for the release of a friend. The effort was successful but he was not allowed to return to shore until after the attack on Fort McHenry.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the day of September 14, 1814, Key watched the successful defense of the fort over which floated the Stars and Stripes. During the night "bombs bursting in air" again and again illuminated the flag. It was then Key was inspired to write the stirring lines of our National Anthem, though it was not proclaimed as such until 1931.

★ ★ ★

It is especially fitting that this memorial is to be erected at St. John's. The college is dedicated to educational ideals which he himself formulated at a meeting called to organize the institution's alumni association.

Italy Votes Pro-West

At the same time the parties on both left and right, the Communists, and the Monarchists and Fascists, were weakened. It was good news to the free world that Premier Segni's Christian Democrats polled 39.6 per cent of the vote, and with other middle of the road allies, garnered 53 per cent of the total. In the last election in 1951, the center groups got 50.5 per cent.

Together the Communists and Socialists polled 34.1 per cent and the Monarchists and Fascists, 11 per cent. This contrasts with the previous election when the leftists got 35.6 and the far right 11.3 per cent.

An outstanding feature of the election was the record number of voters who went to the polls. Of Italy's 27,000,000 electors, an impressive 91 per cent of them took time to vote.

Another thing that causes a lot of trouble in this country is that "The Man with the Hoe" listens too much to the man with the hokum — in many cases a candidate.

"United Nations Condemns Sale of Brides."— Headline. This was a commendable action, as there has always been a lot of profiteering in this field.

The People's Business:

Hot Session Seen

Politics Expected to Rule Special Legislature

By ROGER LANE

LANSING — The impending special legislative session may be short and sweet, but if it is, some seasoned politicians will miss their guess.

★ ★ ★

One storm flag was hoisted even before the governor announced his decision Friday to summon the lawmakers back to Lansing within two or three weeks.

Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the House Roads and Bridges Committee, vowed in the presence of the governor and some other lawmakers to break the complex roads issue wide open if a special session were called.

Peltz, a legislative spokesman for the County Road Assn. of Michigan is bitter about the comparatively small cut counties received in allocation of revenues from the 1955 gasoline tax increase. He is determined to boost the county share.

★ ★ ★

All the governor wants is some clarifying language written into the 1955 act to permit sale of highway bonds after July 1 as planned—not any substantive change in present law.

NOT SO SURE

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), his party's caucus chairman and author of the 1955 highway act, wasn't so sure after Peltz had his say that the issue could be kept corked up as contemplated by the governor.

★ ★ ★

Coleman was worried about a long, angry typical election year fracas on roads. The subject already has been thrust into the forefront of his campaign by Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, Republican gubernatorial hopeful.

Revising the unemployment compensation program will also be included in the extra session agenda.

As a chief Republican spokesman in the Senate, Coleman frequently has called the Republican rewrite of the state's unemployment compensation law earlier this year "the best in the nation."

★ ★ ★

It's plain that there is Republican-Democratic disagreement in this area. After all, majority Republican legislators turned down the Democratic governor's recommendations in adopting their own.

ANOTHER ISSUE

The third issue in the special session's scope also might generate some heat, judging from attitudes by some Republican legislative leaders.

★ ★ ★

The question is whether to commit the state against use of inmate labor in construction of the new prison facility at Ionia on any jobs that would raise objections from the construction trades.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter of Blissfiled, Rep. T. Jefferson Hoxie of St. Louis and Rep. Arnell Engstrom of Traverse City all were hesitant to do this at least without thinking it over for a while.

Southern Baptist Convention Facing Decision on Local Church Autonomy

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Southern Baptist Convention, after sidetracking the issue for two days, now faces a vote on its official attitude toward local church autonomy.

The Rev. James W. Bulman, East Spencer, N.C., who thrice was refused a hearing, finally got the question introduced in two forms: a proposed constitutional amendment and a resolution.

* * *

The constitutional amendment automatically is carried over to the 1957 convention. At Bulman's request, the resolution was sent to the Resolutions Committee for study. The committee is scheduled to report today and an SBC spokesman predicted it would return the Bulman proposal for a vote.

LOCAL RULE SOUGHT

Both Bulman proposals seek to put the SBC on record, upholding the right of a local church to govern itself by majority vote of its congregation. Bulman said such a policy was declared by the convention in 1928 but two years ago the North Carolina Supreme Court interpreted it to the contrary in the so-called Rocky Mount case.

Bulman's resolution, if passed by the convention, would "repudiate the definition of the nature of a Baptist church issued by the North Carolina Supreme Court."

* * *

It also states, "All Baptist general bodies are voluntary organizations."

The constitutional amendment would specify affiliation with the convention is not required for a congregation to call itself a Baptist church. It also would specify the convention can take no action to prevent a local congregation from withdrawing.

At Rocky Mount, the majority of the congregation, led by its minister, the Rev. Samuel H. W. Johnston, voted to take the church out of the local, state and Southern Baptist associations. The minority carried the case to court and won back control and management of the church property.

* * *

Bulman emphasized to newsmen he opposed the action of the Johnston faction but was fighting on principle for local majority rule.

The convention cleared its decks for final business session by re-electing without opposition Dr. C. C. Warren, Charlotte, N. C., as president. In the only contests, Dr. Conrad Willard, Kansas City, was elected first vice president and the Rev. D. L. Stennis, Meridian, Miss., second vice president.

Dr. Brady's Mailbag:

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

My daughter is only 11, yet she is beginning to have blackheads as badly as I did when I was sixteen. They cause a girl more misery than anything I can think of, expcet men. (Mrs. S. T. J.)

Answer—Excessively oily skin, enlarged "pores," blackheads and pimples constitute what doctors call acne. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Acne—Blackheads and Pimples.

Followed for years. Column most informative. Two of our children had enlarged tonsils. School authorities said the tonsils must be removed. We did not consent. The children are now grown up and have had no apparent trouble from tonsils . . . (J. L. R.)

Answer—Most doctors and most parents have not learned that the tonsils of growing children normally enlarge during the winter and spring, and I'm afraid they never will. Their large tonsils will normally shrink during summer vacation. Send stamped, self addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Tonsils Are Not All Bad.

This last winter is the first in 6 years that I haven't had a bad spell of rheumatiz, thanks to your Ca & D. "Thank you" seems inadequate for the wonderful help . . . (W. L. McH.)

Answer—I thank you, sir. The pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz available on request—send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

My neighbor, who is a widow, failed three times to pass the test for driver's license. She got so nervous that she just couldn't think . . . Sent for your pamphlet, followed directions and then had a fourth test and got by without any trouble. (A. J. S.)

Answer—Worried about a coming examination, performance, test? Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Stage Fright and Examination Jitters.

Having obtained no relief under treatment by physicians I sent for your pamphlet on asthma without much expectation . . . followed your instructions . . . hardly any symptoms any more . . . (R. E.)

Answer—On request any reader (who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope may have a copy of the pamphlet on Asthma.

Are synthetic vitamins and inorganic minerals as good as natural vitamins and organic minerals? Are raw eggs harmful? Are raw vegetables, especially liquefied vegetables, as nourishing as cooked vegetables? (L. E. W.)

Answer—Makes no difference whether vitamins or minerals are synthetic or organic. Raw eggs are not harmful, although not as completely absorbed as cooked eggs. I don't know what "liquefied" vegetables would be. Anyway there is little difference if you like 'em.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Don't Pray for Freedom From Cancer If You Go Right on Smoking Cigarets

Father Fenton has pointed out a common fault of most of us church laymen. For we are almost as ungrateful as the nine healed lepers who failed to return to say "thank you" to Christ. But we moral physicians and psychologists might also make some searching criticisms of some of the clergymen, too, as noted below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-372: Father Patrick Fenton, aged 32, is attached to the Notre Dame Church here in Chicago.

A great Catholic Youth Rally overflowed this historic church when Father Fenton addressed them recently on being more thankful in their prayers.

"A main sign of ingratitude is always to be grumbling and finding fault," he began.

"I don't like to use slang in the pulpit but a word you'll understand is 'griping.'

* * *

"Thanksgiving is part of prayer, so be more grateful for the gifts of sight, hearing, home, food, clothing, religious family life and the American freedoms."

GIMME PRAYERS

We religious psychologists say "Amen" to this excellent advice.

"Oh, Lord, please gimme an 'A' grade," students may thus frantically implore God just before a final exam.

"Please gimme a better job or a raise in pay," lazy workers often beg.

"Please gimme good health and freedom from cancer," others moan, even as they may light another cigarette to produce cancer in their lungs.

It is thus very unfair to "sponge" on God's mercy and affront the Almighty by asking for good health while we are knowingly trying to produce cancer in the healthy body God originally gave us.

God expects us to use "horse sense" and practical scientific judgment.

* * *

When medical experts have warned that cigarettes are a definitely known causes of cancer, then it is an insult to God to beg Him to perform a miracle by which our cigarettes will not injure our lungs.

BLIND CLERGYMEN

Of all people on earth, clergymen are certainly supposed to lean over backwards to avoid misleading our youngsters.

If the American Medical Association has set its stamp of disapproval so strongly on tobacco that it has refused for the past two years to accept a single cigarette advertisement in its weekly journal, then you clerics should certainly not join the opposition. That's conscious affrontery of God.

I'm obviously making this a strong charge and am not mincing words, for Christ didn't mince words, either, when he saw the money changers desecrating the Temple.

And our body, says the Bible, is the temple of God (John 2:21 and I Corinthians 3:17). It should not be necessary for us medics and psychologists to remind you of your own Biblical precepts.

* * *

"Yes, Dr. Crane, but doesn't it humanize us?" a Protestant cleric once vainly tried to defend his cigarette habit, which he had adopted in imitation of a popular professor at a Chicago Theological Seminary here in Chicago.

SOPHISTRY

Well, you don't need to try to humanize yourselves! All members of Homo Sapiens are plenty human. The clergy need to become more saintly, not more human.

And it is then the main job of you clerics to help make us laymen more saintly.

When our teenagers see you educated clerics stampeding like stupid sheep in front of the high pressure modern cigarette advertising, how can we scientists and parents offset your bad moral example?

You ask us to pay your salaries and support your churches, yet you meanwhile sabotage us parents and scientists. Is that fair play? Certainly it is not Christian!

So let's make a deal. While we laymen omit some of our "gimme" prayers, suppose you smoking clergymen set our teenagers a better example, too. What do you say?

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Reader Questions Amount Spent Furnishing City Hall

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Some time ago we received a report on the City of Pontiac expenditure. We are no experts on this matter, but we can see where we could have saved thousands of dollars for taxpayers, including ourselves.

One thing in particular stands out. That is the $80,000 spent for furnishing the City Hall. That doesn't count the old furniture they took from the old building.

What in the world did they buy gold chairs?

A Taxpayer

'What Is It for Taxpayers if It's Waste for Parent?'

In answer to the letter advocating physical examinations in the schools, I am neither for nor against the idea. If people want it, I'll gladly help pay for it. However, it makes me wonder when the writer says that it is a waste of time and money to obtain a written excuse each semester when a student is unable to take gym.

If it is important enough for schools to institute such an elaborate program, then why isn't it important enough for parents to do it on their own time and money? If it is a waste for parents who know their children have a definite need for it, then it certainly would be a waste for the thousands of taxpayers who have healthy children.

Besides, I'm sure there are very few parents who begrudge the expense of an examination to obtain written excuse from gym when they know their child's well-being is at stake.

Weary But Willing Taxpayer

By KINGSBURY SMITH
General Manager, International News Service

The Kremlin star of Nikita Khrushchev, the bull-necked, blunt and rugged "boss" of the Russian Communist party, is rising.

That, I believe, is the interpretaaion which Western chancelleries will be placing today on the news that Vyacheslav Molotov has finally been compelled to resign as Soviet foreign minister.

* * *

Replacement of Molotov by Dmitri Shepilov, editor of the party newspaper Pravda, represents a victory for Khrushchev. Shepilov is Khrushchev's man.

His selection to succeed Molotov as foreign minister means that while all members of the Soviet hierarchy are supposed to be equal under the principle of collective leadership, Khrushchev is becoming more "equal" than the others.

He has his own man installed now as foreign minister. That means a strengthening of his long-range campaign to achieve Communist domination of the world by measures short of all-out nuclear war.

It means a continuation of Khrushchev's policy of lulling the free world into what could be a false sense of security by "Operation Smile."

It means, I think, that Khrushchev hopes to visit the United States and wants to bring along as foreign minister a man less unfavorably known to Americans than "Old Iron Pants," as the Russians call Molotov.

* * *

It also fits in with Khrushchev's attempt to blame Stalin for all the evils of the Soviet system. Molotv was Stalin's man. His ousting as foreign minister will serve internally in Russia as further degradation of the late dictator.

Molotov was closely associated with Stalin's policy of toughness towards the West. Khrushchev can cite his removal as further evidence of the Soviet government's desire for peaceful co-existence.

The eclipse of Molotov will have come as no great surprise to the diplomatic world. It has been the subject of diplomatic speculation ever since it became apparent after Stalin's death that Molotov lacked the personal power to grab the job of absolute ruler for himself.

The rumors became ever more widespread as Khrushchev assumed the role of spokesman for the Soviet government in foreign as well as domestic affairs. It reached the point where a foreign correspondent even dared to ask Molotov at a Moscow diplomatic conference more than a year ago whether he was going to quit before the Big Four summit conference in Geneva. Molotov replied that the correspondent would get his answer at the conference.

* * *

He went to the conference as foreign minister. But he played a secondary role. Khrushchev and Bulganin were the Soviet stars at the meeting with President Eisenhower and the French and British leaders. And Khrushchev brought along with him his protege, Shepilov. It was at Geneva that I heard from Russian sources that Shepilov was the man to watch as eventual successor to Molotov.

Though recognized by such western statesmen as John Foster Dulles as one of the modern world's most astute diplomatic negotiators, Molotov is hardly suited for the role of Soviet foreign minister at a time when Russia's rulers are trying to convince the West they have no evil designs on it.

Renewed Service Spats Date From Early '40s

By ELTON C. FAY
(2nd in 2-part series)
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON, June 1 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is going to take his quarreling military family to the annual four-day picnic where serenity is supposed to reign.

Perhaps the expected presence of the commander in chief, President Eisenhower, will help induce harmony at this fourth annual "secretaries' conference."

Or maybe it will be like other picnics, and the little ants of dissension will crawl over the table, while the Army and the Air Force and the Navy rehash their disputed claims to roles and missions.

The big Quantico, Va., Marine base 35 miles south of here — where the generals and the admirals and the shirt-sleeved secretaries of the Defense Department and the separate services meet — is a fine place for either fight or frolic.

MEET JUNE 21-24

The dates this year are June 21-24. The agenda follows the pattern of the three previous conferences called by Wilson—to provide a chance for golf and swimming and relaxation, combined with an opportunity for the civilian and military chiefs to talk shop. This year, the latter has interesting possibilities.

What about that good old question, now renewed in another controversial exchange:

If war comes, what service should do what with which weapons?

The 1956 model of the argument now is built around a dispute between the Army and the Air Force over aircraft, missiles and missions in general. The Army is unhappy too over its shrinking share of the defense dollar. The Navy in the past never has been reluctant to join in.

Roles and missions assignments for the armed forces were supposed to have been pretty well pinned down and defined by the "Key West" and "Newport" papers. The first defense secretary, James Forrestal, succeeded in getting the Army, Navy and Air Force to agree, in the documents, on the general function of each. The documents are still in existence, but events have reduced their value.

EXPANSIONS, CUTS, ETC.

Armed forces expansion in the Korean War, followed by shrinkages, new weapons of the jet-atomic-missile age, cutbacks under reduced national budgets—all these have sharpened the rivalry among the services.

Forrestal took the service officials to the Florida and Rhode Island naval bases to get them away from the atmosphere of Washington while they drafted the Key West Agreement. Wilson has the same idea about the Quantico conferences—to get his secretariat and military staff together around a conference table away from the Pentagon.

Wilson has made it plain he believes the Key West agreements aren't inflexible. (There were some comparatively minor amendments made within the framework of a congressional act about three years ago.)

The defense secretary says, "This roles-and-missions business is never a completely static, frozen thing and never will be."

And at his most recent news conference, flanked by an array of his high command, he asserted:

"We talked about roles and missions of the Key West Agreement as if that settled a lot of things permanently, forever. That is not what happens."

While Wilson didn't mention it then, one of the troubles is that the Key West Agreement on roles and missions was drafted before missiles, jet aircraft and nuclear weapons had come into operational use. For example:

1. The longest-reaching Army weapon was a conventional artillery piece which could lob a shell no farther than immediately behind an enemy line. The Army's scope of operation thus was entirely tactical, on the battlefield itself. Today the Army has guided and unguided missiles which, armed with nuclear warheads, can reach from 50 to 300 miles back of an enemy line. Is this tactical warfare or strategic, designed to destroy enemy capability? The Air Force looks upon it as strategic, and claims priority for that mission.

* * *

2. The Air Force has unmanned guided bombers—in the category of missiles—which can strike at targets hundreds or even thousands of miles away. It is working toward intercontinental ballistic missiles. A ballistic missile is basically a form of artillery—it is pre-aimed, it travels through a trajectory. The Army is the traditional user of artillery and bombardment rockets. Is the Air Force encroaching on an Army mission?

AF ADDS SUGGESTION

At least unofficially, the Air Force has indicated that the Navy should join in strategic air warfare only by invitation. Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, says there can be occasions when an individual target is in doubt, as related to who should attack, and that on those occasions the doubt would be resolved by the Joint Chiefs of staff. As if this argument wasn't already intricate, the Air Force presents two seemingly conflicting arguments. It has frowned upon use of carrier-based planes for strategic warfare. At the same time, it contends carriers couldn't get close enough to strategic targets for their planes to reach the targets.

At his news conference last week, Wilson insisted that the present interservice controversy between the Army and Air Force was exaggerated, but conceded that it "blew up a bigger wind than I like." Then he mused:

"I have said—and I know it so well—that the price of progress is trouble. We are making a lot of progress and we are having some trouble."

Senator Blasts Airline Tactics

Smith Charges Outfits With Overselling Ways, Holding Weather Info

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) charged the nation's airlines today with "callousness" in over selling flights and clamping an "iron curtain" over weather information.

She revealed that the Civil Aeronautics Board is investigating both matters.

In a Senate speech tied in with legislation to grant 40 million dollars for "establishment of air navigation facilities" Sen. Smith said she was "shocked at the callousness of the attitude of airlines, particularly the big airlines operating on the East coast."

The senator said this involved "such matters as reservations, overselling, flight connections and withholding of flight information."

Sen. Smith declared: "They maintain an iron curtain on weather information for their own convenience and to prevent passengers from switching to railroad transportation when air travel becomes questionable because of weather and air traffic congestion."

RAPS OVERSELLING

She also assailed what she called "the reprehensible practice of airlines overselling and taking through flight passengers off without advance notice because of passenger stackups results from overselling."

Sen. Smith asserted: "The airlines even go to the extent of threatening to physically eject from a plane passengers who hold through flight reservations —to eject merely to take care of the trouble caused by overselling somewhere along the route by the airlines."

The Senate's only woman member said the answer might lie in "more competition . . . by more airlines instead of the present system quasi-monopoly being granted to a few favorite airlines . . ."

Families Live Apart

WASHINGTON—After the peak of military demobilization in 1947 nearly one in every 10 families—more than 3,000,000 married couples—was living "doubled up" with relatives because of a scarcity of housing. Now less than 5 per cent, or fewer than 2,000,000, of the nation's families are living doubled up.

Hungarians Refute Mindszenty Arrest

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Hungarian legation has denied press reports that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty has been rearrested.

A brief legation communique said yesterday the cardinal is "still subject to measures decreed by Hungarian authorities last summer."

The 64-year-old cardinal, Roman Catholic Primate in Hungary, was convicted by a court in Communist Hungary on a charge of treason in 1949 and sentenced to life imprisonment. The ailing cardinal was released last July 15 and transferred to a home for aging priests in southern Hungary.

Roman Catholic officials here said yesterday they had reliable reports the cardinal had been rearrested because he refused to sign a pledge of loyalty to the Hungarian government.

The fitted bodice of the bridal gown was accented by a V-neckline and long, sleeves ending in points at the wrists. Layers of nylon tulle extended from the bustle back and swept into a train.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harris Nelson of State avenue. Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Rulkowski of Centerline.

St. Vincent de Paul Church was the setting for the 11 o'clock service this morning. The Rev. Fabian Weber performed the ceremony.

Ballerina-length gowns of white crystalette were worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Louis Clement, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Fred Stileski, another sister; Mrs. Edward Torner of Centerline and Mrs. Peter Shakarjian of Rochester N. Y. Their princess-style gowns featured bouffant skirts.

* * *

* * *

Minds Need House Cleaning, Too

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

At some time during each spring season all women are attacked by the urge for self-improvement. It all begins with spring house cleaning when a man hardly recognizes his usual habitat upon returning home in the afternoon and can find nothing he looks for.

• • •

Everything may seem normal when he leaves in the morning but when he returns that night the rugs may have disappeared, the draperies may be down and he may glimpse his wife through an open closet door, in a mad whirl of cleaning up and reorganizing.

Usually this frenzy of improvement goes further and you will find the little woman giving her skin and hair some special attention, and probably exercising and counting calories.

I often think that we should take this idea all the way and give our minds a housecleaning at least once a year. We accumulate an awful lot of useless stuff in our minds as well as in our houses, and habits of thought become more securely fixed than cobwebs in a corner and may be just as unattractive.

What about those little sensitivenesses and prejudices which gnaw at the edges of your consciousness? What about resentments which drug you, and old prejudices which should have been discarded long ago?

What about all of those little fears and worries which buzz in and out of your awareness like flies on a summer day, thus distracting you from the vibrant way of living?

It is essential that we take stock of our mental quirks periodically,

It is essential that we take stock of our mental quirks periodically, that we throw out those thoughts which depress us and keep only those which add happiness to our lives.

that we throw away those thoughts which depress us and keep only those which add happiness to our lives.

• • •

Once we get rid of all those mental habits which were glooming up our days we may find plenty of room in our minds for new interests and activities and happier, fresher, more springlike thoughts.

Newest Coat Is Overgrown Knit Sweater

NEW YORK (INS)—The trickiest new coat of the season is just an overgrown sweater.

• • •

The bulky knit wool full-length coat, which is available in several colors and versions, is causing a stir in sportswear.

It's new, it's stylish. . .and it's a joy when traveling because it doesn't wrinkle, doesn't crush, doesn't need a hanger, and can be rolled into a suitcase without worry.

Wool knit coats from several makers can be had for about $30 in the unlined versions and for up to $60 in the more elegant lined models. They are available generally in red, white, black, blue and beige, usually with a pointed or rounded Puritan collar, turn-back cuff sleeves and patch pockets. You can get a coat that buttons or an unbuttoned clutch coat.

• • •

There's only one drawback to the wool knit coat. It tends to sag at the hemline if left hanging for a long time, so manufacturers advise folding it on a shelf or into a box, just like a sweater.

Amateurs bought 50 per cent of the asphalt tile used in the United States in 1953.

Cool to Idea of Loaning Bridal Gown

Sentimental Owner Wants Dress Kept for Daughter

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "My husband's brother is going to be married soon and his fiancee has asked me to be an attendant in her wedding. I was delighted to accept. But now she wants to borrow my wedding dress.

"I don't want to be selfish, but I am very sentimental about the dress and don't like the idea of anyone else wearing it—except perhaps a daughter of my own some day.

"I am really on the spot and would like to know if I could possibly refuse to lend it to her without causing ill feeling."

Answer: I think you would be perfectly justified in not lending it to her. Tell her that you are very sorry but that if you lend it to her you are afraid others will want to borrow it, and you want to keep the dress perfectly fresh for a daughter of your own to wear some day.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I lost my husband several months ago after a brief illness. I would like to know how long I should wear mourning clothes. I am in my late 50s. I have had so many different opinions about this and I would like to know what is correct."

Answer: In the present day, a widow of mature years wears deep mourning for a year and second mourning for six months. A young widow wears deep mourning for six months and second mourning for another six months.

"Dear Mrs. Post: If a man has asked a girl for a date some time in advance, does she have a right to expect to hear from him again a day or two before the time specified?"

Answer: Yes. In fact, he should realize that this is an essential courtesy, especially if she doesn't know him very well.

Rev. G. Hershey Speaks Before Women's Group

The Rev. Galen Hershey, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church, spoke on "Reaching Children" before members of the Women's Association of the church when they met in the church parlors Friday.

Mr. Hershey stressed that in the past few centuries the Christian home has had a new place in Christian education. He feels, "parents must execute their right and their responsibility to teach their own children."

Mrs. B. B. Kimball sang a spiritual, "He's Got the Whole Wide World in His Hand" and Mrs. J. C. Covert conducted the worship service.

At the final meeting for the season, Mrs. Leslie Ellis dedicated the summer offering project. Members of the February-December group served the luncheon.

Junior Pattern Features Trick Styling of Neckline

Mr. Mort plays tricks with his neckline, cutting it high and wide in front with a gentle scoop in back. This is a trick that is especially right for juniors with their firm smooth skin, a quality necessary for this kind of stylized bareness.

• • •

For further interest, he inserts a bias pleated bosom which starts just under the bust and which has a separation straight-cut bottoned placket. This is a detail that is simple to manage thanks to the hand-cut pattern with its precise open perforations that make sewing so easy.

The skirt is fully gathered and gored, another look adored by juniors. Consider plaid cottons or gingham checks, shantung, plain or printed silks.

In lightweight wools such as plaids or flannels, it becomes a wonderful back-to-school party dress for fall.

Remember This

When picking paints, select color chips from your dealer, looking at them in both artificial and natural light. Most colors look a shade or two darker on the wall.

Coordinated Ensembles Go to the Beaches

• • •

The idea, copied from Paris, calls for choosing six necessary sportswear items in one coordinated color scheme. French designers offer a complete outfit: skirt, blouse, jacket, slacks, shorts and bathing suit. American women could do their own combining through careful shopping and insure a lightweight but multi-purpose sports wardrobe.

If you'd prefer to mix-match colors instead of picking all one color be sure to coordinate at least your shorts, skirts and slacks so that blouses and jackets can be used with any part of the outfit.

• • •

It's smart to include a coordinated sweater, so that you can combine blouse, skirt and sweater for morning sight-seeing, and change quickly to blouse and shorts for warmer beach afternoons.

Plastic Laundry Aid

Coming along in time to cut the weight of summer laundry, carried to the clothesline are plastic laundry baskets. Some have airy, open-worked sides; others are solid, but the smooth surface of the plastic won't snare a jersey or snag a nylon, so no liner is required.

Boredom and Fear Lead to Grave

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When my grandfather was 96, he said something I'll never forget.

"Most of my friends died too soon," he said, "and no matter what the doctor put on the death certificate, the fact is they died either of boredom or of fear—and sometimes of both."

I thought that was a pretty high-handed statement at the time, but the longer I live, the more I believe it's true.

The people I know who enjoy good health and live long lives, are almost always interested, and unafraid. When you're interested in something, chances are you're busy at it.

And when you're busy, you aren't bored. And when you're not bored, you're not worried about the future and are, therefore, not afraid.

NO BIG INTEREST

"Yes, but," women will frequently ask, "what if you haven't some big, overwhelming, totally absorbing interest? What then?"

• • •

Well, it doesn't have to start out as a big flashy thing—in fact, it's better if it doesn't. It's better if it begins in a very small way and then grows.

Marie did it that way and now has the perfect example of a happy life.

Marie must be in her 60s, but you'd never know it.

• • •

"When my oldest got married," she told me, "I sat down and faced the fact that someday they'd all be gone. If I weren't careful, I'd have nothing to take their place and would end up as a meddling mother-in-law and a nuisance wife.

NEEDED HOBBY

"I knew a hobby was indicated, but I couldn't think of a thing. Finally, I decided to learn how to make candles. It sounds silly, but I remembered watching my grandmother make them back in the days when you couldn't buy them so easily.

"It had seemed like fun, so I decided to give it a try. I read up about them and made some small experiments. Candle-making is really fascinating. The lovely colors and shapes of the candles delighted me.

"More than that," Marie continued, "studying about them opened up all kinds of new interests. I read the history of candlemaking and experimented with odd scents and all kinds of things.

"I met other people who were interested in it and, together, we had wonderful times. I branched out into flower arrangements, which of course, go hand in glove with candles.

• • •

"Now," she concluded, "I have my own workshop. I sell candles and centerpieces to a shop in town.

"My husband is sort of interested, too, and the kids think it's pretty funny, but secretly they're delighted I have an interest of my own!"

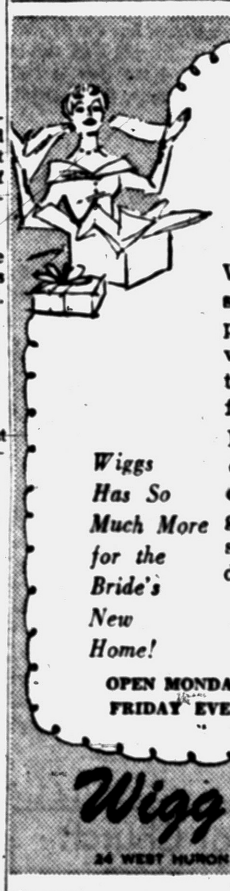

If candle-making is of interest to you, send me an envelope care of The Pontiac Press for my list of books on the subject.

God-Power: A Ready Solution to Overcome Handicaps

Confident Living

Thousands Find Victory Over Ills Through Prayer

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

• • • • • •

Just recently, however, there came in the mail one of the most interesting I ever had.

"My letter will be a bit different from the ones you usually receive," it read. "I have everything to make life wonderful, good, and beautiful. God and I are very personal friends. I can do all the things I love to do for others because of His blessed help. I have a fine, kind husband, a very beautiful daughter, and I also enjoy a host of wonderful friends. I sing, play the piano, and give talks of a devotional nature. I pray that I am a blessing to those who need a blessing. What more could anyone ask of life than this? Incidentally, I am without sight . . ."

DR PEALE

A very different letter indeed! "Incidentally I am without sight"! Here is a woman who certainly knows how to handle a handicap. She hasn't her thoughts fixed on the fact she is blind. She does not concentrate on difficulties or complain. She dwells on positive values. She fixes her thoughts on God and the welfare of others, overcomes her handicap, and so lives joyously.

ANOTHER TYPE OF TESTIMONY

Fortunately, very few of us are born sightless or become blind. But all of us do grow older — and age seems a big handicap to many. Here is another letter showing how one man handles the age and retirement problem, a difficult experience for some.

• • • • • •

"I reached the retirement age of 65, and against my wishes, was compelled to retire by the bank I had been with for 24 years. I won't go into detail as to how I felt. This happened on a dismal and rainy night — I was walking through Rector Street, in New York City, and I never felt more depressed or useless in all my life.

"Suddenly, it happened! I had not prayed, but felt I was not alone. A voice within me said over and over again, 'God is good; God is good.' I immediately felt uplifted. Every drop of rain broke the puddles into tinseled lights. It was beautiful! I went home, greatly comforted, and have had the feeling ever since that I am looked after.

"About two weeks later I had a call from another bank asking me to organize a credit department for them . . . It, too, has the 65 year limit, but they have made an exception of me . . . I am now 69, and in good health. I am young, I know, because I feel the best is still ahead . . . The good Lord is giving me the opportunity, the strength, and the courage to keep on."

THAT DAUNTLESS, POSITIVE SPIRIT

Here is expressed that same dauntless, positive spirit. "I am young . . . because I feel the best is still ahead!" This man is not handicapped by his 69 years. He has fixed his mind on the source of eternal youth.

When a person really develops the ability to put his faith in God into actual practice, he can face any handicap at any time of his life and overcome it.

I get letter after letter giving specific examples like these and I am positive victorious living is possible, not only because I happen to believe in it, but because I can document it with innumerable case histories. I would like to hear from you about your victories over your handicaps.

GOD-POWER OVERCOMES HANDICAPS

The power to overcome handicaps is God-power. It lies dormant within each of us until we call upon it, and each time we use this force it grows in strength.

The Bible explains this inner power by the statement, "The Kingdom of God is within you." What is this "Kingdom of God"? It is the total of His riches, His power, His greatness, His goodness, His invincibility.

• • • • • •

All of these are the invaluable assets available to us in meeting life's difficulties. So why should we ever feel defeated? That spiritual power is in you, and by wise and proper use of it, you can overcome any handicap.

CHECKING THEIR COURSE — The Rev. and Mrs. William Viekman and Janice, their daughter are examining the map to see just which route they will be taking to the west coast and on to Japan. The Viekmans will leave Pontiac Sunday night following the farewell reception given for them at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Mr. Viekman has been in training here for the mission field under the direction of Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of First Baptist.

Missionaries Will Leave for Japan After Reception

The Rev. and Mrs. William Viekman with their three-year-old daughter, Janice will leave Pontiac Sunday night for Japan to work in the mission field.

Coming here six months ago, he served his internship as an Intern-Mission candidate at the First Baptist Church under Dr. H. H. Savage. This course is required to prevent failures in missionary work.

The Rev. Mr. Viekman was graduated from Providence-Barrington Bible College, Providence, R. I. and received his master's degree from Brown University.

At the time he was in college, he was pastor of the Frenchtown Baptist Church. Prior to his college work, he served in the U. S. Navy. When stationed on Okinawa, he became especially interested in the Japanese people and wanted to help them.

The Viekmans will go first to Yokohama for eight to ten months where they will study the Japanese language. They will then be sent to a village to help with a new church or to start one.

The Sunday School workers had a personal shower for Mrs. Viekman this week at the church. Those serving donned Japanese kimonas and decorations were oriental.

Following the worship service Sunday evening at 8:30, a farewell reception for the Viekmans will be held, sponsored by the Board of Missions.

Ministers Veto Track

MOUNT CLEMENS (INS)—The Mount Clemens council of ministers today opposed attempts to bring harness racing to the community.

• • •

The ministers sent a message to Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis urging him to prevent erection of the track on the outskirts of the city.

The action was prompted by a racing syndicate's request for a license to build a $1,783,000 track in both Clinton and Harrison Townships.

Religion Adopts Modern Attitude

Do-It-Yourself Manner to Practical Ethics Aids Individuals, Says Body

NEW YORK (AP)—Religion is adopting a do-it-yourself approach.

The prime convert perhaps is the National Council of Churches, which is engaged in a program aimed at helping Americans to "live right" seven days a week. To get it established on a practical basis the council is using a "living right" kit that puts workaday ethical problems squarely up to the individual for solution.

The kits are used in discussion groups.

• • •

"Experience has shown," says a council director, "that the 'do-it-yourself' approach to practical ethics has considerable appeal."

The Rev. Cameron P. Hall, executive director of the council's Department of the Church and Economic Life, explains further:

"Many of us feel that Christianity is a little too 'impractical' to apply seriously in a highly competitive modern world. We hope this new program will help people to see how Christian ethics can become a living, vital force to help solve the different decisions we all face Monday through Saturday."

What are the kits like?

Each kit is a collection of five film strips, five long-playing records and five discussion manuals. All the material deals with practical ethical problems anyone is likely to run into. After the film is run, the members of the group discuss the problems from their own experience and points of view.

Pilot discussion groups are already operating in more than 20 states, and churches in 16 Protestant denominations report tremendous interest in the kit.

$1½ Million Left for Nuns' Home

New Catholic Convent in 'Frisco to Feature Artistic Spanish Style

SAN FRANCISCO — A serene and beautiful new Roman Catholic convent in the old Spanish style will soon rise in the midst of a busy San Francisco neighborhood, it was learned here.

With the disclosure came the touching and hitherto unpublicized story of the woman whose bequest of almost $1,500,000 will finance the new home for a small group of Carmelite nuns.

It is the story of Rita Scott Shomo, an artistically inclined, retiring woman of wealth whose last act was to arrange that her friends of the Carmelite order here live their penitential lives in surroundings of beauty and tranquillity.

• • •

The new convent, to be finished in about two years, will be one of the city's showplaces—but only for a few days after its completion.

• • •

For after the nuns move in, only a richly artistic chapel seating about 150 persons will be open to the public.

There also will be a private chapel and separate meeting rooms for the 21 Sisters and seven novices, and, of course, individual quarters for each.

The new buildings are to be erected in the same place where the Carmelites lived until recently in a hodge-podge of six houses converted into a makeshift convent.

Religious Film Slated Tonight

Picture Includes Easter Sunrise, Michigan State Band, Dr. R. V. DeLong

The Glass Mountain, the newest full-length religious film will be shown here at 7:30 tonight in the First Church of the Nazarene, 60 State St.

The script depicts the rise of a young actress to the pinnacle of success. Gorgeous scenes are filmed of the famous Tournament of Roses Parade including Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, and the Michigan State Band. The Rose Bowl Football game, and the Easter Rose Bowl sunrise service are colorful.

Leading characters include, Dr. Russell V. DeLong, Bob Davenport, U.C.L.A. football star; Bobbie Hopkins, All-American Basketball player; Paul Mickelson, Billy Graham's organist; Beth Farnum, soloist of Dr. Charles E. Fuller's Old-Fashioned Revival Hour; Virginia Baker, violinist of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra playing her $8,000.00 violin.

Dr. DeLong, who conducted the City Wide Union Crusade here in 1950 will be present in person and also will conclude an evangelistic campaign tomorrow, at the First Nazarene Church, preaching in the morning on the subject, "Life's Most Important Question," and in the evening on the theme, "Why I Hate to Leave Pontiac."

Lutherans Ban Merger as Anti-Doctrinal Move

DETROIT (INS)—Michigan delegates to annual conference of the American Lutheran Church have voted to retain membership in the World Council of Churches in the event of a merger with other Lutheran groups.

Two of four church bodies involved in current merger plans have rejected membership in the council. They claim the council is "unionistic" and therefore opposed to doctrine.

Evangelist Oral Roberts Holding Revival in Detroit

Oral Roberts, Oklahoma evangelist who is engaged in a crusade to win one million converts to Christ in 1956, opened a 10 day revival campaign in Detroit Thursday.

The meetings, which are sponsored by 84 pastors of full gospel churches in the Detroit area, are held in Rev. Roberts' huge tent cathedral, erected at the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Woodward Ave. at Baseline Rd.

The meetings will continue through Sunday, June 10. Evening services will be held every night at 7:30 with the exception of Monday night, June 4, and the two Sunday nights of the campaign.

Sunday afternoon rallies will be scheduled for 2 o'clock so the sponsoring churches may have their own Sunday morning and evening services at the regular times.

Rev. Mr. Robert has recently finished successful campaigns in Milwaukee, Wis., Elkhart, Ind., and Danville, Va. More than 312,000 people attended, with 15,000 people dedicating themselves to Christ.

Supplementing the Roberts' revival campaigns in this country and abroad, he is heard over more than 600 radio stations and is heard and seen over 15 television stations.

Short wave broadcasts are also beamed to Luxembourg, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, India, Ceylon, Pakistan, Dutch West Indies, Philippines, Guam, Hawaii, Okinawa, Formosa, Canada, Bermuda, Cuba, the Virgin Islands and South America.

Many people seek Rev. Roberts' prayer for relief or recovery from ills of the spirit and body, and there have been remarkable instances of recovery in the course of his ministry. He is quick to emphasize that such healing can come only from God in answer to faith and prayer.

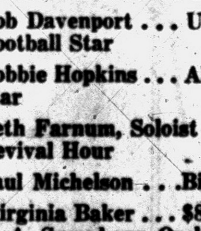

Although Rev. Roberts' revival campaigns are sponsored by local pastoral groups, his ministry is entirely non-denominational. He urges members of his audiences to choose the church in which they feel most at home and become active members of that church.

Charity Greets Jap Emigres

Church World Service Presents Gifts to Brazil Bound Immigrants

LOS ANGELES — Every 40 days a shipload of five to six hundred Japanese immigrants en route to Brazil makes a stop-over here.

Before the vessel leaves on the final thirty-day leg of its journey southward, a gift package for every man, woman and child on the passenger list — together with several hundred bales of clothing is put on board.

The gifts are the newest experiment in international friendship of Church World Service, international refugee relief and rehabilitation agency, working in cooperation with the California Council of Churches. Local councils of churches and ministerial associations are helping to collect the clothing and are contributing money for the gifts.

An estimated 9,000 Japanese are migrating to Brazil each year in their government's latest attempt to find a solution to the problems of poverty and overpopulation on the Japanese Islands. Of the 9,000, 5,000 are selected by the Government. Three thousands go at the invitation of relatives who have preceded them to Brazil and an additional several hundred are returning for a second time.

* * *

Church World Service officials in Japan are cooperating with the government in making the necessary provisions to start the migrants on the first lap of their journey.

* * *

When they arrive in Brazil CWS officials are on hand at the port of Rio de Janeiro to welcome and assist them in making arrangements for their new homes. Church World Service is the relief agency of the National Council of Churches.

Areas in South Named Methodist Mission Centers

Two schools administered by the Bureau of Educational Institutions of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, Methodist Church—one in Kentucky, the other in South Carolina—will benefit this summer from Methodist Senior High Work Camps.

* * *

A similar camp was conducted last summer at Navajo Methodist Mission School, Farmington, New Mexico.

Under the auspices of the Youth Department, Division of the Local Church of the General Board of Education and the Woman's Division of Christian Service, Board of Missions, these camps provide opportunity for high school students to do physical labor and to participate in worship and discussion related to Christian living.

* * *

There will be also sightseeing trips and other recreation. Work projects will include painting buildings, laying new sidewalks, gardening, and so forth. Campers will live in school dormitories and eat in the school dining room.

* * *

Erie school, for elementary and high school pupils, is in the hills of northeast Kentucky at Olive Hill. The camp there will be conducted from June 28 to July 26. At Browning Home and Mather Academy in Camden, S. C., a school for junior and senior high school pupils, the camp will be held from July 3 to July 31.

Propose World Farm Program

International Christian Brotherhood May Bring Sought-For Peace

NEW YORK—The formation of a world-wide brotherhood of Christian farmers and farm families to improve their own conditions and better relations between nations has been proposed.

* * *

Dr. Frank W. Price, New York, former moderator of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern) made the suggestion in an address to the annual meeting of the board of agricultural Missions, Inc., a non-denominational agency representing the rural mission work of 29 Protestant communions.

"Cooperation for world peace is needed not only between governments, but even more between peoples," Dr. Price declared. "For the sake of international good will and peace the great working populations in all countries should come to know one another better."

A rallying cause of the brotherhood, he said, might be the question of land tenure.

* * *

"How can the farmer own his own land, his own family-farm integrated into the national agricultural plan, yet providing security, freedom, welfare and the incentive to creative effort. How can the farmer be freed from degrading poverty, and the burden of excessive taxation and interest rates? How can he make his maximum contribution to society and receive what he should from society?

"Let the church stand on the side of farming people," he asserted, "and not on the side of the absentee landlords and business interests who would make money from the land without giving anything back."

He suggested visits between the farmers of different countries and the exchange of livestock, tools and seeds as a means of promoting the plan.

Dr. Ira W. Moomaw, executive secretary of the agency, reported last year it sponsored 22 rural conferences in ten overseas countries, plus four rural missions training courses here.

He said statistics collected by the agency show there is now a total of 160 agricultural missionaries representing some 45 Protestant denominations as contrasted with 64 reported in 1950.

Rev. Richard R. Lauringer Ordained This Morning

REV. RICHARD R. LAUINGER

Detroit's majestic Cathedral of the Most Blessed Sacrament was the scene this morning of the ordination of Reverend Father Richard R. Lauinger of Pontiac to the holy Priesthood of the Roman Catholic Church.

Officiating in the ancient rites was His Eminence, Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit.

Father Lauinger has been a resident of Pontiac all his life. He was born here on September 11, 1930. He received his grammar school education at St. Michael's School.

In September of 1944, he began his high school course at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit. He received his college and philosophy training at the same school.

He entered St. John's Provincial Seminary at Plymouth in September 1952. Here he received his training in sacred theology.

Twelve years of ecclesiastical training saw their culmination this morning in the age old splendor of the ordination rites of the Church.

Tomorrow morning, Father Lauinger will say his first solemn high Mass in St. Michael's Church at 10 a.m. Assisting him will be Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Michael's and Fathers William Immel and Norman Thomas.

The sermon will be preached by Rev. Roman F. Narkun, former assistant pastor of St. Michael's.

* * *

In the near future, Father Lauinger will take up his assignment as assistant pastor in a Detroit Church.

Southern Leaders Aid Racial Problem

West Virginia communities will have the aid of experts in helping to solve problems of racial integration in the schools, churches and employment.

A corps of twenty white and Negro leaders has been organized to help local communities bring about integration in "a peaceful, Christian way."

Without cost to the communities the twenty leaders will assist, as requested in setting up educational panels, seminars and discussion groups.

Announcement of the program, expected to serve as a guide for similar projects by church groups in other states, was made by the West Virginia Council of Churches and the Department of Racial and Cultural Relations of the National Council of Churches. It is the first of its kind to be sponsored by church groups.

Officials of the two organizations emphasized that the program is not an attempt "to force any ideas upon the community." They said its leaders "will go with an open mind, with convictions and a desire to help if possible." They described the twenty chosen for the program as educators, clergymen, physicians, parents and others who have had community leadership experience and who, as West Virginia residents, are personally familiar with the problems facing the state's communities.

Buddhists Start Drive for World Kindliness

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's Buddhists are asking that people all over the world devote five minutes a day to reflect on the importance of kindliness.

The appeal marks a yearlong observance of the 2,500th anniversary of the death of Buddha.

In obedience to Buddhist precepts, the Ceylon government has ordered all bars closed and sale of alcoholic beverages suspended for a week.

It has appealed to all Buddhists to refrain from eating meat or fish, and all municipal corporations to halt the slaughtering of meat animals for a full month.

The accent of the Ceylonese celebrations is on religious and spiritual contemplation rather than on extravagant demonstrations.

Methodist Summer Units to Work in Foreign Lands

Methodist summer service projects for college students this year cover a wide geographical and interest range, according to the Rev. R. Claude Singleton, secretary of the Student Department of the denomination's Board of Mission.

* * *

Work camps will be held in Alaska, Cuba, Mexico, Texas, and Vienna, Austria. An interconference evangelistic project is scheduled for California and a community service project for Washington, D. C. Caravan teams will tour the United States.

A joint project of the Pacific Northwest Annuel Conference and the Methodist student movement, the Alaska work camp involves building, road and bridge construction, and ground clearing. A study, worship and fellowship program will be incorporated. Twelve to fourteen students who have completed their sophomore year in college will be needed.

The Vienna work camp, sponsored by the Methodist Student Movement in cooperation with other church agencies, will be part of a combination travel seminar and work camp in Europe.

WORK IN VIENNA

It is expected that England, Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland, and Austria will be visited and that both Methodist and ecumenical centers will be included. In the work period in Vienna, ground will be cleared and made ready for building homes for refugees. All who participate must be at least eighteen years of age.

Twelve North American and eight Cuban students will compose the group working at La Gloria Rural Center in Cuba. In addition to building construction, these campers will conduct religious education activities.

* * *

Monterrey and the Mexico City area will be the locations of the Mexico projects which will require twelve to eighteen students from North America and others from Mexico. Participants will gain insight into Mexican culture and share their own Christian faith.

* * *

Applications for the Alaska and Washington, D. C., projects should be sent to the Rev. R. Claude Singleton, 150 Fifth Avenue, New York 11, N. Y. Those for the Cuba and Mexico camps should go to Dr. Harvey C. Brown, Box 871, Nashville 2, Tenn. Further information on the regular and specialized caravans also may be obtained from Dr. Brown.

Religious Apathy

There are fewer persons in the U.S. without affiliation with religion now than at any time in the nation's history. A National Council of Churches survey shows that while U.S. population had increased by 44,367,000 between the years 1926 and 1954, the number of persons not reported on the rolls of any religious body rose by just 1,450,000 in those years.

National Parks Add Ministry

Seminary Students Give Programs in Forests; Work During Day

WASHINGTON — Vacationing Americans will have a unique opportunity to worship God in the natural setting of His creation this summer, thanks to one of the nation's most unusual ministries.

* * *

On the shores of sylvan mile-high mountain lakes, under towering California sequoias, in secluded woodland glades they will gather for services in the scenic wonderlands of 23 U.S. National Parks located in eleven states and Alaska.

The programs will be conducted by 110 young ministerial and college students—both men and women — who represent 23 denominations and come from 25 seminaries and 50 colleges. Each has completed an intensive two-day training course—one of five conducted by the National Council this spring in various parts of the country.

* * *

In an average week they will conduct both morning and evening Sunday services of worship. During the week they'll hold campfire pow-wows and song fests for the younger generation. To serve their far-flung congregations they'll travel by everything from plane, to jeep, to horseback.

WORK BY DAY

By daytime the men students will earn their keep by bell-hopping, driving trucks and doing general maintenance chores for the hotels and other park concessions. The girls will work as waitresses and maids.

The Rev. Warren Ost, director of the program in behalf of the National Council's 30 - member Protestant and Eastern Orthodox communions, described it as ideal preparation for the ministry.

And for the tourist, he said, "it provides the rare and unforgettable experience of worship in some of the nation's most beautiful natural settings."

* * *

Park areas included in this year's program are: Mt. McKinley National Park, Alaska; Grand Canyon National Park (North and South rims), Arizona; Death Valley, Kings Canyon, Lassen Volcanic, Sequoia and Yosemite, Calif.; Mesa Verde, Colo.; Isle Royale, Mich.; Glacier National Park, Mont.; Crater Lake, Mt. Hood National Forest and Oregon Caves National Monument, Ore.; Black Hills Area and Mt. Rushmore National Memorial, S. D.; Big Ben National Park, Texas; Bryce Canyon and Zion National Park, Utah; Mt. Rainier and Olympic National Parks, Wash.; Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks in Wyoming.

Brother Joseph J. Bocain S. J. mastered the nautical theory of celestial navigation to assist him in piloting a 50 ft. schooner on his missionary duties in the Marshall Islands.

Prayer for This Week

Editor's Note: A prayer by a Pontiac pastor will be published on the church page each week in the hope that it may be a help to someone. The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate minister of the First Presbyterian Church offers the following:

O Divine Father of mankind and Lord of the nations, whose will it is that justice flourish and peace prevail: Here Thou our prayers for the establishment of truth, righteousness and brotherhood on the earth.

Save us from that self seeking that is the root of all other evil.

Redeem us from the fear that provides tinder for the fanatics' incendiary words.

Teach us to be patient with the errors of others, but quick to perceive our own and eager to amend them.

Direct and sustain those who are charged with the spiritual leadership and the moral education of mankind that they may reach the heart with Thy Word, which is our one hope of a better world.

Hasten the day when men "shall not hurt nor destroy . . . for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." Amen.

Keen Sight in Fingers

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP) — Blind since birth, Roby C. Leonard, 50, often amazes fellow members of a coin-collecting club. Leonard sees the coins with his fingers. He has no trouble detecting the tiny letters which show where some coins are minted, and that he sometimes notices defects in coins that other collectors overlook.

St. Matthew's Church (for the deaf) Jackson Heights, N. Y. has wooden beams which support the floor and help to conduct vibrations from the organ.

"But Why The Candles, Holy Water And Beads?"

Dave was expressing a quite common view held by many non-Catholics . . . that the Catholic use of such articles as beads, crucifixes, medals and holy water is unnecessary in religion and even smacks of pagan superstition.

"What good does it do," Dave asked, "to light a candle or burn incense? And how can a little medal around my neck protect me from accidents?"

Unfortunately, too many people outside the Catholic Faith have a complete misunderstanding of these religious articles and the use to which they are put. There is nothing pagan or superstitious about them, and they do have a very real religious meaning and value.

"Actually," Father Crane told Dave, "religious articles used by Catholics are meant to be helps to their religious life—nothing more. The value of such articles is not in the metal, wood or wax of which they are made, nor in the form they may have . . . but in the prayer of the Church and of Christ, in whose name the Church prays in blessing them . . . as well as the fervor of the user's own prayer and his good disposition."

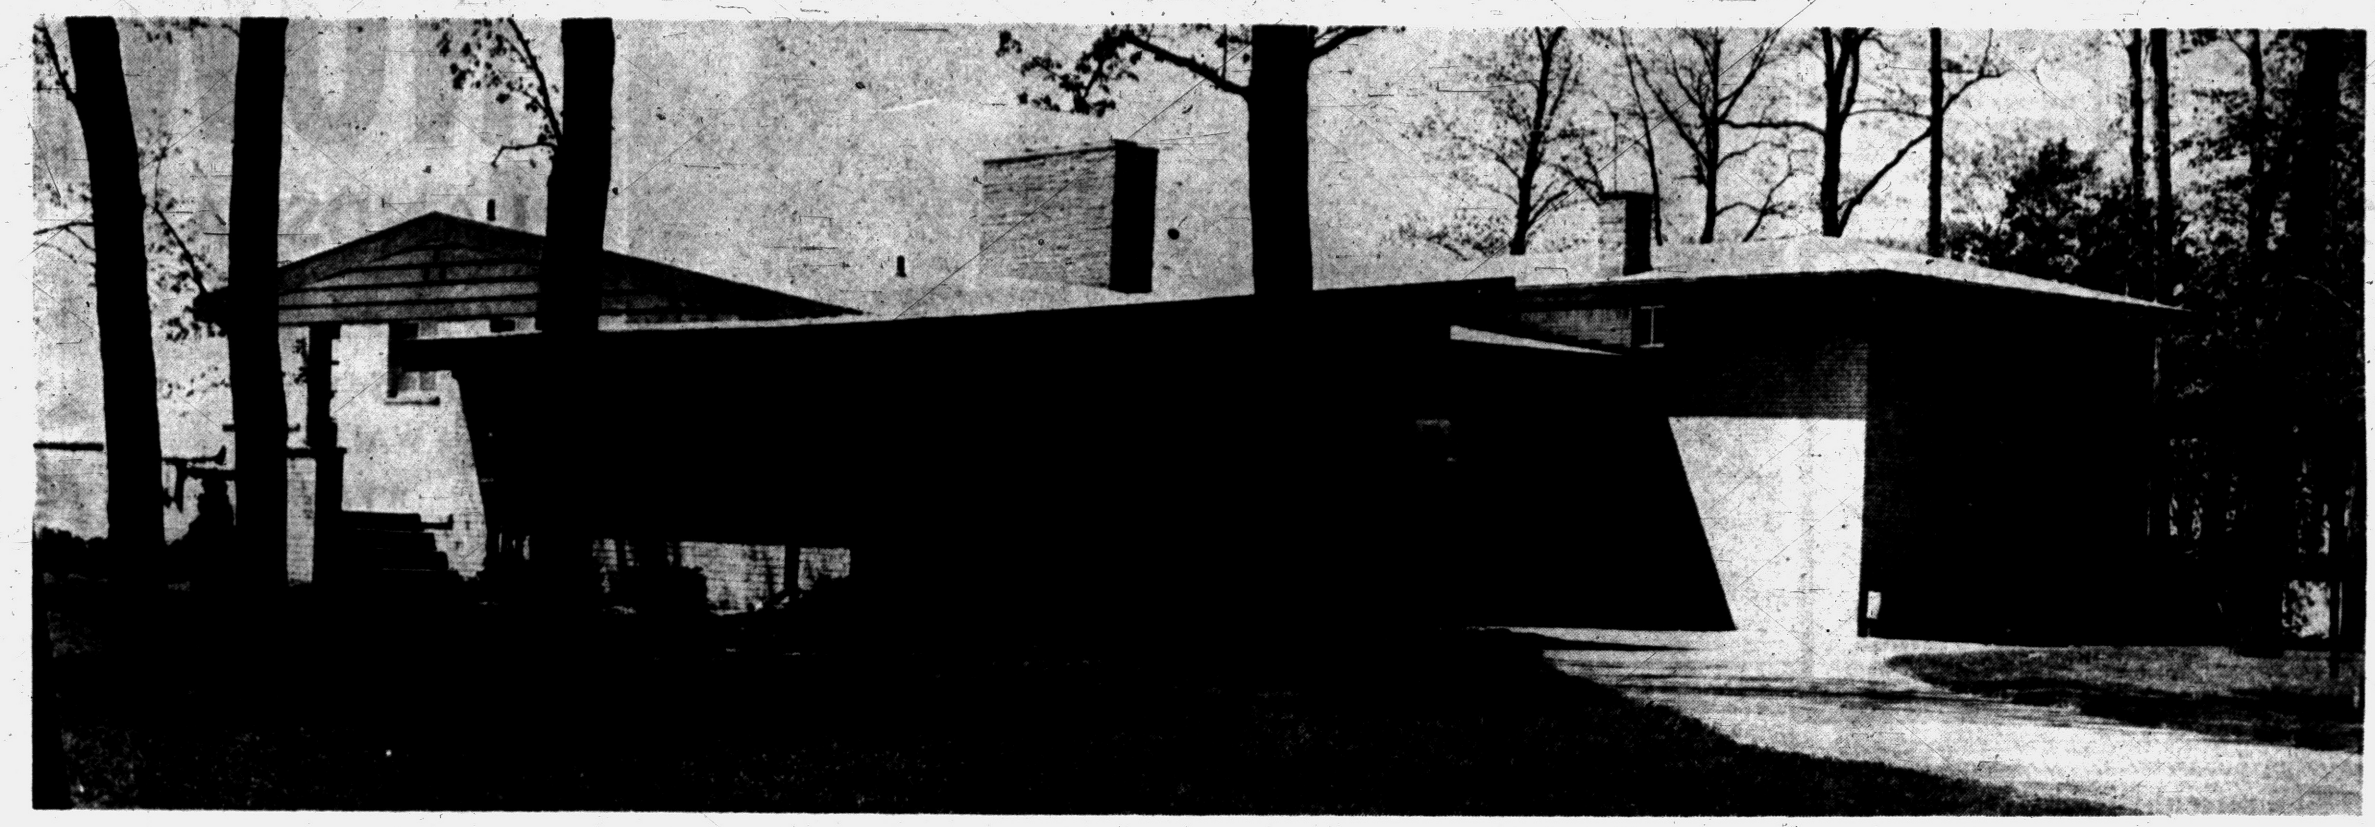

But Dave was still not convinced. He argued that religion is a spiritual thing . . . that it requires no external manifestations. "Yes," the priest agreed, "it is spiritual. But isn't it the natural thing for a human being to give outward expression to the things within his heart? How, for example, could you be sure that your mother loved you if she gave no sign that she did?"

Our Lord, Father Crane added, could have cured the blind man (John 9:6) merely by willing it. Instead, he first made a salve of clay and anointed the man's eyes In blessing little children, He did not have to lay His Hands on them — but he did. Many people, Father Crane added, think the Catholic practice of kneeling to pray is unnecessary . . . yet Jesus, in the Garden of Gethsemane, "kneeling down . . . began to pray" (Luke 22:41).

Many Catholic practices which seem strange to you now, would make a deep and convincing impression upon your mind and heart if you understood them. And this is your invitation to investigate.

We will gladly send you without cost or obligation, in a plain wrapper, a highly interesting pamphlet explaining such things as the Catholic use of crucifixes, medals, incense, holy water, candles, and special Catholic prayers and practices such as the Rosary, Devotion to the Sacred Heart, and Lent. It costs you nothing to learn the truth, and the truth will be most interesting. Nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet KC-38.

A WOODED SETTING — Situated on two lots, about 170x200 feet, this creamy brick, ledge rock and redwood siding house is an interesting five-level home. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Griffen Jr. and their two daughters, Paulette and Raymette have lived here not quite a year. The house at the end of Erie drive has a circular driveway in front. Large trees that the builders were able to leave give welcome shade on the lot. The bedroom wing is at the right of this picture. The garage and service entrance are at the left. On the lake side of the house the ground is terraced sharply down toward the lake. The late Merle Hogan A. I. A. of Birmingham was the architect. Mr. Griffen did his own sub-contracting.

Your Neighbor's House

Home Is Built on Five Levels

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When the weather was hot, Grandma prepared her food in the summer kitchen. When hot weather comes to Michigan, Mrs. Raymond Griffen of Erie drive moves downstairs to her summer kitchen. Grandma's was at the back of the house. Mrs. Griffen's is on the lower ground level.

There's one level lower than this kitchen. In the entire house there are five different levels. The children's recreation room and the furnace room are on the lowest level.

Ground level is still a long way above Cass Lake. The Griffen home is built on the eastern bluff, at the very end of Erie drive. Steps and four walled terraces make the descent to the lake easy.

The summer kitchen is cool looking with its green walls and leafy wallpaper. The cupboards are made of korina wood. In the dinette area there is bamboo furniture and matchstick bamboo shades for the windows.

The second room on this level is the recreation room. The ledge rock chimney, serving both this room and the living room above, divides the room into two parts.

In carrying out the "little grass hut" theme of decorating, the Griffens put a thatched roof over the curved bar. They put artificial palm trees in bamboo containers. Stuffed monkeys cling to the trees and perch on the fireplace shelves.

The floor is tan vinyl tile. Three walls are a deep red, while the fourth one is made of striated plywood squares. Bamboo covers the exposed pipes and shades the windows.

All the furniture is bamboo with bright upholstery. The bar is made of plastic and bamboo. Outside this room is the patio that now is in the final stages of completion.

An amusing feature of this recreation room was demonstrated by four-year-old Raymette. She flicked a switch that set the chandelier revolving. Since the light fixture is made of yellow, green and white mirrors, it sparkles brilliantly as it turns.

Paneled in Philippine mahogany, the den has a closet and built-in storage units. At present there is no furniture. But the draperies are up and the carpeting is laid.

The two little girls have a pale blue room with pink and white accents. Their white draperies have pink morning glories, pink birds and blue butterflies. The same material covers the slipper chair and makes the dust ruffle on the bed. The spread is a white quilted one.

On the main level of the house there is living-dining room, kitchen, utility room, lavatory and entrance hall. The first two rooms, as well as all the bedrooms and the den, are carpeted in tan. Even the closets are carpeted.

In the living rooms the ceiling is beamed. In between the beams is stained paneling. There are high windows on the hall side of the house, full length ones in the living-dining room.

An immense planter box shuts off the living room on one side. All through the house there is a profusion of plants. Mrs. Griffen is exceptionally proud of one in the living room that has leaves nearly two feet long.

Up here the fireplace is opened on one end of the chimney wall. The chimney itself separates the living room from the dining room. This makes the fireplace accessible from both rooms.

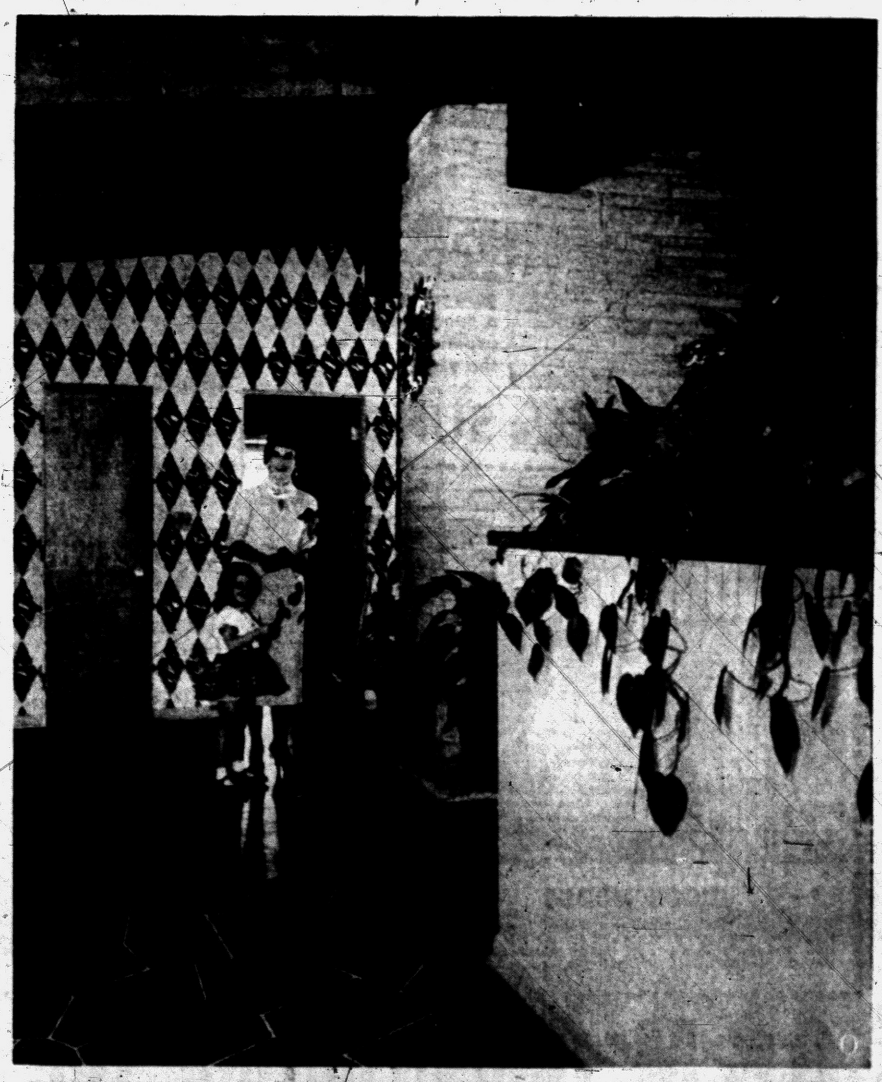

There is forty-five feet of window area in the living-dining room, framing a magnificent expanse of lake view. It is a western exposure and very sunny.

The window glass itself is tinted to cut down the glare. In addition, there are two sets of draperies, one raw silk, one casement boucle. These are electrically controlled and can be used

PATIO ON THE LAKEFRONT — This patio which opens into the ground level recreation room makes an ideal spot for summer lounging. The bank of windows above the redwood siding is in the living-dining room. They are tinted to keep the glare of the sun to a minimum. The porch on the right is outside the upstairs kitchen. To the far left the windows on the lowest level are in the children's recreation room. All five levels of this house can be seen here.

IN THE HALLWAY — Mrs. Griffen and her four-year-old daughter, Raymette, pose in the hallway of their Cass Lake home. On the right can be seen the enormous planter box that separates the hall and the living room. Behind Mrs. Griffen is the door to the utility room and a small lavatory. The bold design of the wallpaper is black, white and gold.

ADDITION TO TED'S — The addition to Ted's restaurant is complete now and open for business. L. M. Little, the owner, says the new dining room is larger than the entire original building. It seats 130 people and has facilities for private parties. The exterior is made of ledge rock. Evergreens and flowering plants make an attractive note of color outside. A. N. Hixson was the builder.

Tile Flooring Eliminates Work

NEW YORK (INS)—It's wonderful to have something like resilient tile flooring down—it requires so little care.

* * *

But that doesn't mean it can be neglected. A certain amount of work is necessary to keep it shining and new-looking.

To clean, first sweep the floor of all surface dirt. Avoid oily mops and sweeping compounds. Remove dried cement or other particles by rubbing lightly with a fine grade of steel wool moistened with water and any good kitchen powder.

Solvents such as gasoline, naphtha, benzine, alcohol or turpentine shouldn't be used on asphalt tile, but won't damage vinyl-asbestos tile flooring. For rubber and vinyl tile, a mastic tile concern (the Mastic Tile Corporation of America) recommends a neutral cleaner and clean, luke-warm water.

Allow floor to dry thoroughly after scrubbing before waxing. All types of resilient tile flooring should be waxed to increase lustre, heighten color and make make everyday cleaning easier.

Apply a thin even wax coat to floor with buffing machine or vacuum cleaner attachment. If floors are new, repeat waxing and buffing treatment. Asphalt, vinyl-asbestos and rubber tile should be waxed regularly, vinyl occasionally.

Equip furniture with suitable casters, glides or cups to prevent indentation. The size of casters depends on the weight of the furniture but be sure all protectors have wide-bearing surfaces.

Millions of Owners Enjoy Garden of Exquisiteness

WASHINGTON — May brings an exploding rainbow of color to Sherwood Gardens — the Baltimore, Maryland, beauty spot owned by a million people.

• • •

The dazzling display — including 100,000 tulips, 10,000 azaleas, 15,000 pansies and many flowering trees —is the property of anyone who sees and loves the flowers, says the owner-of-record, John W. Sherwood.

• • •

"I just never put up a hedge. People wandered in. One fine Sunday in May about 20 years ago I stepped off my back terrace and found myself surrounded by people, hundreds of them.

LET THEM IN

"My head gardener came up looking anxious and asked if he should try to get them out. I watched a minute and didn't see anybody picking flowers or doing anything they shouldn't. So I told him no, everything was just fine . . . that's the way it's been ever since."

Today's thousands of visitors find vast tulip beds, a froth of crab apple and cherry blossoms, banks of many-hued azaleas, carpets of pansies and cascades of wisteria set against a background of evergreen and boxwood.

One section, called the Bride's Garden, consists entirely of white flowers. The name has given ideas to some visitors, who have arranged to be married there.

• • •

Composer Franc Bornschein was inspired by Sherwood Gardens to write "The Earth Sings," a symphonic fantasy that has been played by the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

REPLACE TULIPS

"First dig up everything two feet deep and replace with good leaf mold and sand. Every year add a ton of new leaf mold, a ton of ordinary packing house plant food, some grass seed and one good spraying. Then order new bulbs from the Netherlands every year.

• • •

Although tulips are perennials, they are at their best during their first blooming season. Sherwood digs up its bulbs each summer and replaces them in the fall with new imports. Discarded bulbs go to schools, churches and hospitals.

• • •

With the hordes of visitors of all ages, including school children by the busful, the original unspoken compact between Mr. Sherwood and his fellow owners remains unbroken.

• • •

A man who knows a good deal about paints and their use says that, properly used, the sprayer of the vacuum cleaner produces a smooth, even finish, with no runs or brush marks, and will do the job two or three times faster than by brush.

Gotham French Furniture Here

NEW YORK (INS) — There's French period furniture—and then there's New York French Period decor.

That may sound a little like talking about a brand new antique, but there's sense behind it.

According to Pierre D'Argout of the New York decorating firm of D'Argout-Ferguson, Inc., "New York French" is a style of furnishing which takes the elegant fabrics and forms of French period furniture and uses it in a more spacious, uncluttered manner than do the Paris decorators.

An example of this is a living room in the decorator's new showroom. The centerpiece of the room is a fireplace, beside which sit two huge, round white pots. These house large-leafed potted plants for the "outdoor living inside" look.

Flanking one side of the fireplace is a couch covered in off white brocade which matches the drapes. On the other side are two tight-back chairs covered with tapestry. These team up with the huge tapestry which adorns the wall opposite the fireplace.

On the floor is a small area rug of pale mauve bordered in pale yellow. The rest of the floor is left bare to expose the fine wood. There's a lot of empty floor space, filled in with round back chairs and a desk, all against the wall for a spacious effect.

VALANCES — Valances like this are costly when you buy them, but very inexpensive when you build them yourself. They will add a decorative touch to windows as well as keep dust and grime off your draperies. Send 35 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, California, for a full size pattern. Required materials and step-by-step directions are printed right on the pattern.

Use the Right Paint

Don't use house paint on porch or garden furniture. House paint is formulated to chalk gradually so that it will wash itself clean. When used on furniture, it will chalk off on clothing. Use spar varnish, or tough exterior enamels for your outdoor furniture.

Storage Space Is Not Costly

Recent surveys prove that home buyers often underestimate the amount of storage space they will require, says the Better Basement Institute.

In buying their first homes, the Institute says, most persons forget that they will need storage for seasonal necessities like storm doors, windows and screens, gardening tools, lawn mowers, painting equipment, baby carriages, scooters, bicycles, golf bags and other sports equipment, sleds, skis, beach umbrellas, picnic equipment and lawn furniture.

Rising standards of living, which give more people more things to store, make low-cost storage space more essential than ever, the Institute says. It points out that basement space costs about $1.25 per square foot, compared with $14 to $16 per square foot of floor space built above ground.

A basement which has its own entrance to the outdoors is ideally suited for storage, because it offers both space and an easy means of reaching it. In addition to storage area, a basement usually has additional room for the family television and rumpus room, workshop and laundry.

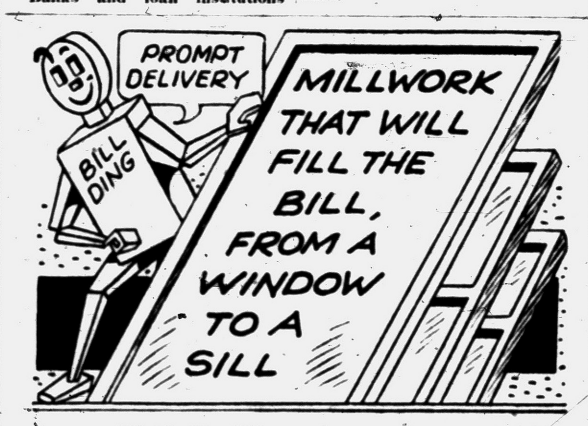

Family Room Solves Problem of Extra Space

If you want to take some of the burden off other more formal living areas, the best bet for your remodeling or building plans this year is to add an all-purpose, versatile family room.

Banks and loan institutions look with favor on such remodeling because of the very practical nature of the new room. It can be used for all sorts of family activity from indoor rain-time children's play to informal adult entertaining.

Experts in the building field, all conscious of the modern family's need for extra work-and-play space, recommend that the new addition be centrally located in the house and with ready access to the out-of-doors. They also suggest a nearby powder room or half-bath.

Do You Have Any Fire Fighting Tools?

No home should be without some form of fire-fighting equipment. Just one pail of water or sand often can put out a small fire before it has a chance to grow into a more destructive blaze. In many cases, a large fire can be controlled with several pails of sand or water until the fire department arrives.

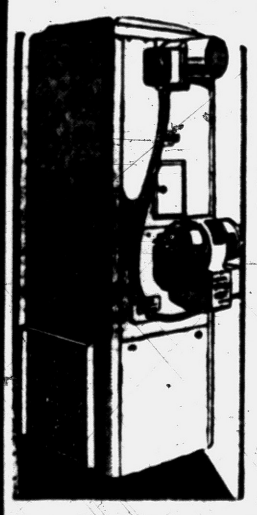

Galvanized steel fire pails, filled with sand or water, can be hung in a handy place for instant use in case of fire. These pails are made with conical or round bottoms to prevent them from being misused.

Individual Lap Tables Increase in Popularity

With individual lap tables carried in the car for everyone, the family is well prepared for games to pass the time agreeably on long trips, for snacks picked up at drivein eating places, and for a variety of other purposes.

Plastic finished paneling, a decorated hardboard, is an excellent choice. Its baked plastic finish is smooth, hard and easy to keep clean. Just saw individual panels to about 16x20". Round the corners and edges. After being smoothed, the edges may be left exposed or painted or waxed.

Press House of the Week Features Cellar Playroom

The benefits of a dry and sun-lighted basement, with picture windows in a big playroom can be enjoyed even in high water table areas with The House of The Week Plan HW-3. The basement floor in this unusual plan is only three feet below grade.

* * *

Still this house has a smart close-to-the-ground appearance in front. This is accomplished by terracing the land up toward the house—excavated soil being used for this grading.

There is a double advantage in this arrangement, it not only insures drainage away from the house and its foundation, but it also permits the use of large glass areas in the rear to light a basement playroom that measures 40 by 38 feet.

* * *

This is a very comfortable house. It has a 21-foot living room with a fireplace, three bedrooms and two bathrooms, a separate dining room and a good sized kitchen, plus a two-car garage. Under the kitchen is a laundry room, conveniently located not only for economical plumbing but also for access to the backyard, only three steps up.

COVERS LOT

A heater room is created adjacent to the base of the fireplace chimney. The rest of the basement is left open for play space where there is ample room for a built-in soda bar and other installations for recreation.

HIP ROOF

Lester Cohen, the architect, has designed the exterior for brick veneer on frame all the way around, with stone veneer around the living room picture window in the front court. However, for those who prefer wood siding or wood shingle walls, he has prepared alternate blueprints.

A hip roof creates broad overhanging eaves all around. The under side of these overhangs is closed with weatherproof exterior plywood, although this would be a good place to use perforated hardboard for continuous attic ventilation. The roof is covered with 210-pound asphalt shingles.

Plumbing is economically arranged in the rear of the house to concentrate disposal in that direction—an advantage especially where septic tanks or cesspools are expedient. This eliminates long exposed drain pipes in the basement.

BUILDING estimates usually are based on complete blueprints and specifications. But you can get a rough idea of costs by comparing the size of a house with others of similar type.

It measures 62 feet, 8 inches by 37 feet, 10 inches.

It has two bathrooms and a fireplace.

An advantageous feature is the arrangement of the service vestibule off the kitchen. This vestibule is entered from the covered porch behind the garage. All deliveries can be made around the garage to the back porch. When you drive into the garage, you have only a few steps to carry packages into the kitchen. The basement stairs also lead down from the service vestibule, involving no passage through the house.

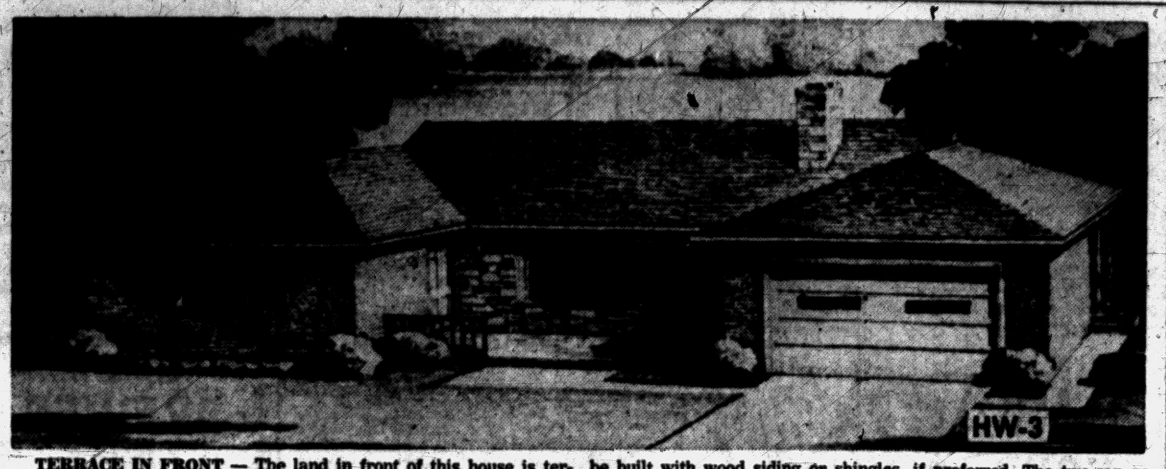

COSTS LESS

The big news in this plan, of course, is in the way it makes a basement attractive both in areas where basements are uncommon and in places where basements are wanted, but expensive to build because of rock formations and other excavating handicaps.

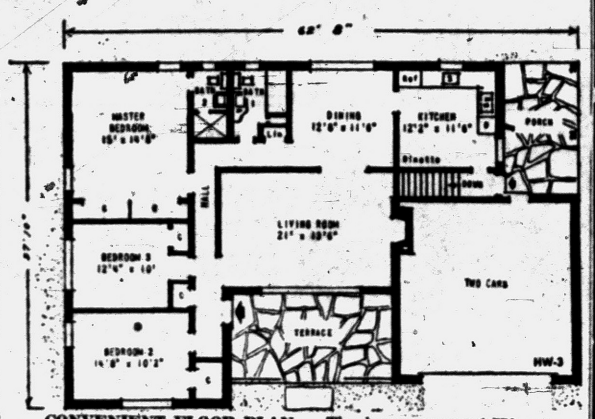

When you figure that it is possible to have all the space afforded by a finished and livable basement for about one-tenth of building costs above ground, such space becomes the biggest bargain available in home building.

A certain amount of excavation is needed for all types of basementless construction. If you build on a concrete slab, excavation for footings may run 3½ feet deep, depending on soil conditions and frost lines. If you build over a crawl space, an equal amount of excavation is called for over the entire area of the house. The bottom of the crawl space must then be adequately sealed and drained to prevent ground moisture from rising to rot framing members.

The difference between excavating for basementless construction and for a daylighted basement as envisioned in Design HW-3 is negligible when the investment value of your house is weighed.

TERRACE IN FRONT — The land in front of this house is terraced up from the street, giving the house a close-to-the-ground appearance. Although pictured in brick and stone veneer, the house can be built with wood siding or shingles, if preferred. The two-car garage is built on the front, thus making the driveway shorter.

CONVENIENT FLOOR PLAN — The house covers 1,550 square feet, exclusive of garage and outside terraces. It is 62 feet, 8 inches long. Note the service vestibule off the kitchen. It is entered from the covered porch behind the garage.

Gas Heat Use Rises in Most New Houses

Gas heat is going into seven out of ten new homes wherever the fuel is available. As a result, builders are increasingly interested in special vents specifically engineered for use with gas burning appliances and equipment. Known as Type B gas vents, the devices eliminate the need for a masonry chimney, reduce construction costs and increase operating efficiency.

Now Is the Time to Check Boundary, Garden Fences

When spring rains have subsided and dry weather prevails—that's the time to look to your garden or boundary fences for signs of winter damage, and to repair them.

Wind, rain and frost punish fences so severely that annual maintenance is a must. Neglect invites deterioration in the form of rust, rot and decay, which can only lead to eventual wholesale replacement of a fence line.

Protective coatings have to be renewed at regular intervals—paint, generally every third year; stain, as often as every other year.

Fence posts need to be aligned and straightened yearly. Frost action, wind pressure and unstable soil work in combination to loosen posts, causing them to lean or topple.

Often an automobile bumper jack can be employed to straighten a fence post which cannot be pulled erect by hand. Brace the jack base against a 2x4 stake driven into the ground near the post and place a piece of scrap wood between the jack's lifting flange and post. Then rack out the jack and use a spirit level to tell when the post is plumb. Tamp crushed stone and soil around its base.

Where unstable soil contributes to fence toppling it's a good idea to pour a concrete collar around the post at ground level. Dig around the post to a depth of about 12 inches, making the hole larger at the bottom than at grade level. Coat the exposed lower portion of the post with roofing asphalt to a height about two inches above ground, then pour the concrete collar.

If wind pressure seems to be the chief offender, it may be necessary to brace the fence with boards or guy wires. One attractive way of bracing a wind-blown fence is to erect smaller fences at right angles, but attached, to the main fence.

Nails holding rails or pickets are likely to work loose when fence posts wander out of position. Result: wood joints open up and water trapped in them brings on rot.

The open joints should be saturated with a wood preservative—pentachlorophenol or zinc naphthenate. Then the nails should be redriven or, if rusted, replaced with nonrusting aluminum or galvanized nails.

Rot is, of course, the greatest threat to a wooden fence. Dig away soil at the ground line around posts and look for decay there. If minor, the decay can be halted—temporarily, at least—by clearing away the bad wood and soaking the affected part with a wood preservative.

On the other hand, if decay is severe you can either attempt to repair the post or get a new one. For a sound repair, cut off the post just above ground level and splice on a new base.

You can butt the parts together, end to end, and join them by bolting steel "splints" to opposite sides of the joint. The splints should be eight to 10-inch plates of ¼-inch steel. Or, you can lap cut the ends of both pieces and fasten them together with bolts through the half-lap joint.

Treat the new end of the post with wood preservative before resetting it. This is accomplished by letting the post stand 24 hours or longer in a bucket filled with preservative solution. The solution should completely cover the spliced joint.

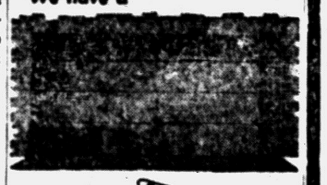

Wet Newspaper Keeps Paint Mess Off Window

When painting partitions between panes of glass in a window, there is a simple way to keep the paint from smearing the glass. Wet some newspaper or paper towels and plaster them evenly over the pane. Trim the paper with a ruler or sharp edge to fir the window pane.

The wet paper will absorb any paint that misses the partition and save you a scraping job. For best results, allow the paper to dry partially.

Radiators and Registers Should Be Summerized

Now that the heating plant is off for the summer, or soon will be, give your radiators or registers a little attention. They definitely are dust-catchers. You easily can remove dust from radiators either by drawing it into your vacuum cleaner or by using the blower tool. If the dust is to be blown, dampen newspapers and put them behind the radiators to catch the dust and dirt.

Limed oak is the furniture wood. It makes the spinet piano and the dining room set. Chair seats are green. Upholstered pieces in the living room are green and red.

The television cabinet and a large round magazine table are black. Mrs. Griffen has used driftwood lamps with woven reed shades. Other accessories are metallic.

There is Hi-Fi throughout the house, also a room-to-room speaker system. This latter permits Mrs. Griffen to inquire about the identity of callers without going to the door.

Here also, the cupboards are korina wood. The dish cabinets have ribbed glass doors and slant inward toward the bottom. Counter tops and splash boards are coral color as are the seats on the stools at the breakfast bar.

In the dinette area wallpaper and curtains match. Both have a coral design on a white background. The window sills here, as well as in the rest of the house, are made of marble.

Beige and brown with flowered draperies make an interesting color scheme. Walls and ceiling are beige. The quilted spread and the border on the cornices are brown. The dust ruffle, headboard and cornice have a flowered print that matches the draperies. Lamps are driftwood.

The master bath has a black tile floor and lower walls, capped with pink tile. Pink fixtures include a square corner tub. The curtains are pink taffeta.

In the bedroom one long wall has a built-in dresser of Philippine mahogany. Here the walls are emerald green, the floor length draperies white. Under the white bedspread the dust ruffle is green and white striped.

Mrs. Griffen keeps perfume on the shelves of her built-in vanity, lined with mirrors. In all the closets there are shelves, drawers and cubby holes for efficient clothes storage.

The exterior of the house is Tennessee ledge rock and redwood siding. Garage and bedroom wing are built of sixteen-inch, creamy bricks. At the front of the house there is a wide planter box.

At the rear the hill down to the patio has been terraced with rocks and plants. A side porch gives an outside entrance to the upper kitchen.

The late Merle Hogan AIA of Birmingham, a friend of the Griffens, designed their home. Mr. Griffen did his own sub-contracting. The house took about nine months of building.

(See page 21 for additional pictures.)

Clean Off Rust First

Wrought iron furniture is easy to paint — make sure to clean off all rust with steel wool or a wire brush, remove all scaling paint, and then freshen up with a new coat of exterior enamel.

FOR SAFETY—The pattern for making this trim little craft carries nearly four hundred square inches of 3-dimensional sketches and 1-2-3 directions for hull and rigging. It is designed more for safety than for speed but it rides so high in the water that a mere zephyr will carry it skimming along with ordinary boats. This style of hull and rig is known in boat language as a pram. It is made of short panels of plywood. Pattern includes directions for making a strong-back or frame on which the hull is built upside down. A list of all materials and fittings is given on pattern 457 copy of which will be mailed for 25 cents. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Takes Little Space

Completely automatic home laundry service can be provided in about 36 inches of wall space. The new two-in-one gas laundry unit requires only one yard along the wall, reports the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, and does all the work of a separate washer and dryer. The double-duty units are hailed as great savers of time and energy.

COLORFUL IRONING BOARD — Attractive as well as useful is this new chrome-and-turquoise ironing table by Arvin Industries, Columbus, Indiana. It can be set as low as 22 inches off the floor, as high as 36 inches and at any intermediate level.

Pick Materials That Will Make Your Work Easy

CORVALLIS, Ore. (INS)—If you are planning to give your home a face-lifting, use materials that will make year-round up-keep easier.

* * *

Housewives faced with problems of sand, dust mud and dampness may find their job easier if furniture is upholstered with colorful new plastics, Mrs. Carter says.

Here's why: finger marks and dirt can be removed form plastics with a damp cloth. Most grease stains, ink marks and lipstick smears will wipe clean if they are removed immediately.

Plastics lend themselves to rooms that receive hard use—such as children's rooms or the recreation area. They're good, too, for large television cushions that can be stacked and used as viewing seats or placed side by side on the floor for an extra guest bed.

* * *

Mrs. Carter cautions would-be home upholsterers to learn how to work with plastics before tackling the job of using them. It's no easy task for beginners, she says.

Ironing Board Made Attractive

There was a time when an ironing table was a housekeeping aid that was a nuisance to set up and was generally so unattractive that it was kept out of sight when not in use.

But Arvin Industries of Columbus, Indiana has made a determined effort to improve both utility and appearance of ironing tables in its seven-model line now being introduced nationally in department, furniture and hardware stores at prices ranging from about $6.95 to $12.95.

Whether you prefer to iron while standing up or sitting down, these tables can be quickly adjusted to the height most comfortable and convenient for you. Without resorting to slots, holes, stopping pins or catches, you can set the ironing surface as low as 22" off the floor or as high as 36" and at any desired height between these limits.

When using at a lower level for chairside ironing, the tables afford spacious knee and leg room, permitting you to move up close to the work at hand rather than iron by "remote control." A safety lock sets the table firmly on non-skid rubber feet and it can be folded flat for storage in closet or cupboard.

Because many ironing tables have been wobbly and unstable, Arvin has strengthened the upper assembly so that the table will not weave or bob. The top surface—it's perforated to help disperse the heat and moisture generated during ironing—is supported by a tubular steel frame. This, in turn, is strengthened by a reinforcing frame with eleven cross-members.

Screens Need Periodic Cleaning for Long Life

Your screens need a periodic cleaning. Dust and dirt, accumulated over the year, should be washed off thoroughly. Apply clear varnish or a screen enamel with a brush. This will save copper or bronze screens from corrosion.

If you have trouble with the screens staining window sills—scrub the sill with washing soda or trisodium phosphate—a little paint will come off with the dirt. Screens that have been varnished or enameled will not stain window sills.

Federal payment of local taxes on certain types of property owned by the national government and now exempt from tax rolls, or payment in lieu of such taxes, is advocated by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Daylight Bleaches Hardwood Flooring

Many housewives like to take up their rugs for the summer and leave the floors bare, or use scatter rugs. They may be startled to notice that the wood floor under the rug is a lighter shade than the wood exposed all year to daylight. Daylight will yellow wood, even wood that has been varnished, lacquered or shellacked.

* * *

This is a good time to clean the entire floor. One treatment is to give it a good washing with a detergent, then wipe with a cloth wet with a paint thinner, and then give it a final waxing.

Transitional Styling Second for Furniture

The second most popular furniture style this year, next to modern, is transitional. This is a modification of original period designs. Current favorites stem from design sources such as Early American, French and Italian Provincial, late 18th Century and Oriental.

Scaled to Smallness

Most furniture manufactured today is scaled to smaller homes. Some pieces are smaller in size, while others seem smaller or lighter because they have slim legs and are high from the floor.

"LITTLE GRASS HUT" — That's the theme of the Griffen recreation room. The door at the right opens on the patio that sets high above Cass Lake. Bamboo shades and furniture add to the tropical look. Stuffed monkeys climb up the artificial palm trees and perch on the fireplace shelves. The roof over the bar is thatched. Three of the four walls are painted deep red. The floor is vinyl tile.

UPSTAIRS KITCHEN — The kitchen in the Griffen home that is used during all but the summer months is done in charcoal gray and coral. All wooden cabinets are korina wood. The bamboo stools have coral coverings. The floor is tan vinyl tile, the counter tops coral Formica. In the background the door to the utility room can be seen.

Steel and Plastic Leave Dinettes

NEW YORK (INS)—The combination of steel and plastic needn't be confined to dinette decor.

• • •

Furniture companies these days are coming out with modern styled living room sets of this combination that include such items as a two or three piece sectional, a love seat, a club chair, occasional chairs, cocktail, step and end tables, a swivel chair and variety of other items.

But this furniture has some styling to its material—to begin with tube steel legs have brass ferrules, are angled and painted black for the smart wrought iron look. Tubing is used as supports for arms of sectionals, for example, to give an open, light appearance.

The prices tend to draw people to this furniture—for instance a two or three piece sectional costs about $69.

Hollywood Headlines

Wife Terry Moore Gains Different Outlook on Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Terry Moore has gotten herself a new husband, four homes spread over the hemisphere and an entirely different outlook on life.

* * *

You can see the difference when you talk to her for a while. She's still intent on her acting career, but she's no longer the eager beaver. She seems to have found contentment.

HAPPIEST TIME

"These last four months since I've been married have been the happiest time in my life," she glowed. "I'm leading a fascinating life."

* * *

She sure is. In February, she married Eugene McGrath, a young businessman who operates on an international scale. The son of a Panama Canal engineer, McGrath is a self-made capitalist who deals in insurance, oil, shrimp and other enterprises, with headquarters in Panama and Venezuela. Since many of his business associates are in the United States, he does a great deal of traveling.

* * *

"Last year he clocked 260,000 miles," Terry reported admiringly. "Because he does so much traveling, we have four different homes. We have a house in Panama City—a lovely ranch - type place on a hill. Then we have two floors on top of an apartment building in Caracas. We have six bedrooms; we need that much space because Gene does a lot of entertaining of visiting business associates.

AND STILL MORE

"We keep an apartment at the Sherry - Netherlands in New York. When we're here, we stay with my folks—in a wing where we have our own private entrance."

* * *

"Oh, no," she replied. "I have four different sets of clothes—one for each place, plus my brushes and other personal things. I don't even have to pack a bag when I go from one place to the other."

* * *

Probers to Grill Chotiner Clients

Inquiry Seeking Data on How LA Lawyer Earned Fees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators have started to canvass law clients of Murray M. Chotiner, California Republican leader, in an effort to learn how he earned his fees.

Chotiner, a Los Angeles lawyer who managed Vice President Nixon's 1952 campaign, declined immediate comment, but said he would have what he called a "very interesting" statement Monday "regarding this entire situation."

Chotiner already has sent letters protesting vigorously—and to no avail—against this search for information he had declined to give the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

A source close to the situation said in an interview Chotiner has protested to the subcommittee that the inquiry is "not fair" and is a politically inspired "fishing expedition" far outside the scope of its announced hunt for evidence of graft and underowrld influence in military uniform contracts.

Chotiner has testified he once had received fees as counsel for Herman Kravitz of Atlantic City, N.J., and Joseph Abrams, two contractors later blacklisted from getting more federal business. He also said he did some legal work for Philadelphia gangster Marco Reginelli who died recently.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adding more money for cancer, heart and other health research programs, the Senate Appropriations Committee has recommended $2,372,023,281 for the Labor and Welfare Departments.

• • •

The total, for the year starting July 1, is $8,137,881 more than President Eisenhower asked in his budget requests, and $76,042,500 more than the House had voted. The Senate still must act, and differences will be worked out by a conference committee.

The Senate committee, while cutting some items, added $57,192,000 to the amount Eisenhower had asked for health research.

Lary Continues Role of Yankee-Killer, Wins 6-3

NEW YORK (AP)—If the Detroit Tigers seriously want to work a trade with the New York Yankees they certainly wouldn't have to look far today for their end of the deal.

Lary pitched the Tigers to a 6-3 verdict over the Bronx Bombers last night in the rain and mud of Yankee Stadium. It was his 3rd straight over New York this season and 4th straight over two seasons.

The Yanks long have worked their own private twist to the old axiom "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em." Their version is, "if you can't beat 'em, get 'em to join you."

And the Lary spell certainly has worked to perfection. On the Tigers last trip to New York he worked the first game and gave up only three hits, winning 7-1. When the Bombers hit Detroit 10 days ago Lary whipped them again, breaking a six-game New York winning streak. This time he weathered a rough first inning and finally won out when Red Wilson homered in the last of the ninth.

Last night he gave up nine hits, including home runs by Eddie Robinson and Tommy Byrne. But he was just as tough as ever in the clutch. Eight Yanks were stranded and this pitching includied leaving Bill Skowron on third base in the 4th when he represented the tying run.

The Tigers jammed their scoring into the 4th and 5th innings. In the 4th Bill Tuttle led off with his 6th homer of the season. Byrne got the next two outs but then he walked two and Lary singled home the second run.

In the 5th with one out Al Kaline tripled. Byrne got in a 3-0 hole against Tuttle, then purposedly passed him. Casey Stengel ordered Ray Boone walked, loading the bases and bringing up Bob Kennedy.

Skowron tripled home Gil McDougald in the 4th and the two New York home runs in the 6th.

Mickey Mantle settled for a pair of singles in three official times at bat but neither hit figured in the scoring. Lary struck him out once and walked him once.

The Tigers collected nine hits in handing Byrne his first loss against a pair of triumphs. Everybody got at least one except Boone and Jim Brideweser. Kaline and Kennedy had two each.

League Crown Won by Maples

Outdistance Field in EML Track Event Held at Hazel Park

Outdistancing the field, Friday afternoon, at Hazel Park, Birmingham high's track squad successfully defended its Eastern Michigan League title for the 2nd straight year with a 83 point total. East Detroit was runnerup with 55.

* * *

Other teams finished as follows: Mt. Clemens 28; Port Huron 17; Hazel Park 16; Ferndale 1 (5th in the high jump).

Maples took 10 firsts and a scattering of 2nds and other places for its near-record total. Disqualification of Lynn Benn, in the 2nd half mile which the Birmingham coach thought was not quite correct, cut off additional points. Benn was some yards ahead of another runner, Coach Kermit Ambrose said, when officials thought he bumped the other lad.

Maples did not score in the two 440s.

Other winners—100-220 yard dashes, Tony Evangelista (10.5 and 23.1); high, low hurdles, Kidwell (15.7 and 20.9); high jump Bob Stephenson (5 feet 9 and 3/4); pole vault, Tom Segal (11 feet 6 in); mile, Doug Wuggazer (4.43.3); 880 relay (Macdonald, Berry, Sellner, John Appleford) 1:36.6; broad jump, won by Alan Sulki (E. Det) 19 feet 8 in); shot put, won by Mickey Walker (E. Det) 48 feet 9½ inches); 440 (1st race) Jack Bebya) (HP); 2nd race, Wallace Ford (Mt. C) 52.8.

GRAND SLAMMER — Bob Kennedy, reeently acquired by the Detroit Tigers, blasted a grand-slam homer yesterday as the Tigers beat the Yankees in New York, 6-3, to give pitcher Frank Lary his 4th straight win over the Bronx Bombers.

Rockets Blast Majors as Ivory Bags 7 Goals

138 in Field

Qualifying to Begin

By H. GUY MOATS

Michigan's topmost shotmakers will be in action Monday over two of the Metropolitan area's best tests of golf. A field of 138, including all of the state's leading professionals and most of its finest amateur players will go 36 holes in efforts to qualify for the eight places open for the 1956 National Open tournament, for this section. The Open, rated the country's most exacting and colorful links show, takes place June 14-16 at Oak Hill club, near Rochester N. Y.

Starting at the same time, from Orchard Lake Country Club and Pine Lake Country Club (7:30 a.m.) the field will be divided, playing half (18 holes) of the qualifying round at each course.

Oakland County will be well represented among the entries. Professionals from its score or more fine courses, plus a large delegation of consistently top-ranked amateurs will make up a considerable portion of the field.

Among the area's shooters will be two former National PGA champions, Wally Burkemo and Chick Harbert. Others who have figured in many big tournaments include Horton Smith (Detroit), former PGA prexy, Lou Wendrow of Lansing, Al Watrous of Oakland Hills, John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Emerick Kocsis of Detroit, Mike Dietz of Indianwood, Bob Gajda of Forest Lake, Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake among the pros.

Leading the amateur field will be Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile, '55 state champ; Bob and Dick Whiting of Royal Oak; Harold Brink of Grand Rapids; Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak (winner of many tourneys); Lloyd Syron, (Pontiac) Notre Dame University team player.

There are many youngsters, at least one of whom is making his 1st start in the Open trial. Jack Reynolds, of Waterford High School (this year's Pontiac Press Invitational Prep tourney champion), is 18, one of the youngest in the field. Bob Zimmerman of Jackson, Tommy Watrous of Royal Oak, are other area youngsters with lots of ability.

In Coast Meet

Two Crack 4-Minute Mile

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—The still select sub-4-minute mile club admitted two more members today, slight little Ron Delany of Ireland and lanky Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark.

The two made the grade last night in the Compton Invitational Track and Field Meet, 21-year-old Ron, a student at Villanova University, qualifying first with a stunning, hard-won duel to the tape with Nielsen.

No U.S. miler belongs to the club. The two foreigners qualified for membership on the same Ramsaur Stadium track where America's Wes Santee, three times tried to break the Fearsome Four.

The achievement of Ira Murchison of the U.S. Army, who got into the meet as an added starter and proceeded to tie the world record in the 100 meters at 10.2.

Another prodigious put of the shot by the world king, Parry O'Brien, at 60 feet 5¼ inches which went virtually unnoticed because such throws, including his official record of 60-feet-11, are customary for him.

A pole vault of 15 feet ¼ inch by Bob Richards, which was no surprise, and another of the same height by Ron Morris of Southern California, his first at such a dizzy altitude.

Middlecoff, Littler, Casper Fire 64s, Pace Dallas Test

DALLAS (AP)—Youth continued to dominate Dallas' lush golf show today but old campaigner Cary Middlecoff was ready to challenge the boys again, this time for the biggest jackpot—the $14,000 first money in the $70,000 Texas International Open.

* * *

Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., at 25 one of the game's top winners, and Bill Casper of Chula Vista, Calif., 24 and making his first try for the big money, tied Middlecoff, the Dallas golfing dentist, for first place in the opening round yesterday. Each shot an eagle-marked six-under-par 64.

* * *

They were one stroke to the good over another newcomer to the pro circuit, Bill Bisdorf of San Diego, and veterans Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and Roberto De Vicenzo of Mexico City.

The Texas International is the second part of a $100,000 Dallas golf project. The $30,000 Dallas Centennial Open last week was won by a youngster, Don January of Abilene, Tex.

Twenty-one players were bunched within four strokes of each other and just three strokes away from first was Sam Snead, the colorful West Virginian who was the pre-tournament favorite. Snead shot a 67 without being able to sink a decent putt. He had most of the small gallery that turned out.

* * *

January had a respectable 68 but was tied for 16th place. Bunched at 66 were Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, N.C.; Earl Stewart of Dallas, Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., and Tommy Bolt of Houston.

After today's round the field of 156 will be trimmed to the 90 low pros plus 10 amateurs for the final 36 holes Sunday and Monday.

Bronco Cager Still Critical

Needs Brain Surgery After Given Beating by Ex-MSU Gridder

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — Eugene E. Lekenta, 24, a former Michigan State football star, was held today as a probation violator pending possible charges in the critical injury of a Western Michigan college basketball player.

The injured man, Fred Corbus, 23, was reported still unconscious and in critical condition at a Kalamazoo hospital of injuries suffered Memorial Day in a fight at a Saugatuck restaurant.

Allegan County prosecutor Dwight Cheever said charges against Lekenta would depend upon the outcome of Corbus' injuries. Corbus underwent brain surgery after the fight.

The probation violation charge against Lekenta was brought in a bench warrant issued by circuit judge Charles Hayden of Ingham County. He put Lekenta on two years probation last February for aggravated assault on a former MSU student in a tavern argument.

Judge Hayden said if Lekenta were found guilty of violating his probation he could be made to serve up to two years in jail.

CANADIAN CATCH — Fred Poole of Pontiac proudly displays this whopping 13½ pound gray trout which he landed this week at Bell Lake in Canada. Poole used an 8-pound test line and it took him 47 minutes to haul it in. It was the first trout he had ever caught.

Bucs Keep Moving, Beat Braves, 4-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe it's time to change signals on Pittsburgh's preposterous Pirates—they're beginning to look like they may be for real.

So here it is June 2. And there they are, in second place—a half-game behind Milwaukee and only four games back of the Braves in the "lost" column.

* * *

They got up there last night, smacking Warren Spahn and the Braves 4-1. A three-run homer by Lee Walls, the rookie who has shown the power the club needed in the outfield, and a solo smash by Long got the job done in the eighth inning. The Pirates moved up as the St. Louis Cardinals were tumbled to third by the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2. Cincinnati was held in fourth by the New York Giants 3-2. Brooklyn lost to the Chicago Cubs 4-2 in 15 innings.

In the American, first place New York was beaten 6-3 by Detroit, with righthander Frank Lary taking his fourth straight from the Yankees. Chicago, Cleveland and Boston wound up in a virtual three-way tie for second — 6½ games back. Baltimore beat Chicago 3-2; Washington clipped Cleveland 5-3, and Boston defeated Kansas City 5-0.

A pair of former teammates beat the White Sox for the Orioles. Righthander Connie Johnson held them hitless for six frames and finished with a five-hitter while Bob Nieman drove in all three runs. A third ex-Soxer, George Kell, put them in scoring position with two sacrifices.

Ex-Yankee Bob Wiesler went all the way for the first time in the majors to beat the Indians and Bob Lemon, who had won six straight. Lemon homered for a 2-0 lead in the second, then gave up Washington's winning run in the seventh on a walk, sacrifice and Jim Lemon's single.

Tom Brewer spun a five-hitter for his second shutout and seventh victory for the Red Sox. Ted Lepcio got three hits and drove in two runs. Boston center fielder Jim Piersall made a tremendous catch, snarling Jim Finigan's drive with a 40-yard sprint and high leap against the wall.

Young Lightweight Now Hopes for Title Shot at Wallace Smith

* * *

Sam Silverman, Boston promoter, said he could present a deal by which Smith would be guaranteed $50,000 to fight Boardman for the title in Boston, Sept. 10. The New England youngster knocked out Ryff last night in 46 seconds of the ninth round at Madison Square Garden.

* * *

* * *

Referee Barney Felix and Judge Joe Agnello had it 5-3 and Judge Jack Gordon 4-3-1, all for Boardman. The AP card saw it even at 3-3-2. The crowd of about 2,500 paying an estimated $6,000 appeared to like the nationally televised fight.

CUT ALONG THE INNER EDGE OF TOP

A VOLCANO

There are volcanoes in many parts of the world. All have been caused by rock, so hot that it is liquid, bursting through an opening in the earth's surface. This molten rock, or lava, was blown into the air, and then fell and settled around the opening, cooling off to form a cone shaped mountain.

Some volcanoes have not erupted for centuries and the sides are covered with vegetation; others still occasionally let off burning gases and steam and throw lava over the sides.

Here is a volcano you can make "erupt." It is Paricutin in Mexico. A farmer discovered the first sighs of it in February 1943. In less than a week it formed a mountain more than 500 feet high. It is now more than 1,300 feet and there is still some activity.

Color this picture with your crayons, making the flames red, orange and yellow. Paste it down on cardboard and cut the parts out. Punch holes in the upper corners of the square so it can be hung up on a piece of string.

FOR THE EXECUTIVE THAT NEEDS AN OFFICE OR DEN IN HIS OWN HOME, OR FOR THE HOUSEWIFE WHO NEEDS THREE LARGE BEDROOMS AND A LAUNDRY THAT IS AT GRADE LEVEL, THIS TRI-LEVEL HOME HAS ALL THIS AND MUCH MORE. DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR, WE INVITE COMPARISON WITH ANY OTHER CUSTOM HOME IN THIS CLASS AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

$52 PER WEEK, IS THE INCOME THAT THE PRESENT OWNER IS GETTING FOR THIS 3-FAMILY. WITH A GENERAL CLEAN-UP AND PAINT JOB, YOU SHOULD BE ABLE TO REALIZE ADDITIONAL RENT. THIS BUY IS ON THE WATER AT CASS LAKE IN KEEGO HARBOR

IF YOU OBJECT TO PAINTING, THEN WE SUGGEST THAT YOU TRY THIS 3 BEDROOM FULL BASEMENT HOUSE WITH ITS NEVER-REQUIRING-PAINTING ALUMINUM SIDING. IT ALSO HAS A LOW-INTEREST-RATE MORTGAGE.

OUR PROPERTIES ON AND NEAR ELIZABETH LAKE WILL STAND THE MOST RIGID INSPECTION BY EITHER THE SMALL HOME BUYERS OR PEOPLE WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE WHO CAN AFFORD AN INCOME PROPERTY.

GETTING BACK TO THE CITY, WE HAVE THE NEIGHBORHOOD SHOWPIECE AVAILABLE AT $12,000. COMPLETELY REDECORATED INSIDE AND OUT, AND WITH ITS LOCATION YOU ELIMINATE THE NEED FOR 3 CARS.

30 ACRES IN THE COUNTRY, PLUS AN OLDER 7 ROOM HOUSE WILL GIVE YOU A REAL THRILL. YOU CAN RAISE HORSES, COWS OR POTATOES, IT REALLY DOESN'T MATTER BECAUSE WHATEVER YOU DO HERE WILL BE A PLEASANT ADVENTURE.

FOR THE SMALL ESTATE OWNER, WE HAVE A BEAUTIFUL PIECE 280 x 520 FT. THAT IS IDEAL FOR IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY. THE FRONT IS CLEARED, AND THE BACK HAS WONDERFUL TREES THAT ARE WORTH SEEING JUST FOR THEIR BEAUTY ALONE. $4,850 FULL PRICE.

COUNTRY LIVING IS WHAT SOME PEOPLE LIKE, HOWEVER, FOR DOWN-RIGHT FULL DOLLAR VALUE, WE CAN SINCERELY RECOMMEND THIS LOVELY 3 BEDROOM HOME ON BALDWIN AVE. IN THE CITY OF PONTIAC. FOR ADDED VALUE, THE OWNER WILL LEAVE THE NEWLY REMODELED KITCHEN AND THE CARPETING.

THIS OWNER HAS 2 SEPARATE HOUSES AND WANTS TO SELL. WHAT DID HE DO??? HE CALLED OUR OFFICE AND OF COURSE HE IS NOW GETTING REAL SERVICE. ONE IS AN OLDER FRAME HOME, THAT NEEDS SOME REPAIRS AND PAINT. THIS OFFERING IS FOR THE BARGAIN-HUNTING DO-IT-YOURSELF PERSON. HIS OTHER ONE IS A CITY INCOME THAT BRINGS IN A FULL $20 PER WEEK PER UNIT OR A GRAND TOTAL OF $40 FOR THE TWO. THESE PROPERTIES CAN BE BOUGHT SINGLY OR TOGETHER.

This Week Joan Collins Celebrates Birthday 23

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — This week Joan Collins was 23—so we thought we'd tell her she's the zippiest, unstuffiest British actress we know.

"What would be a good article to write about you?" we asked Miss Collins the other day up at Ye Olde Savoy Plaza Inn.

"'Will Success Spoil Joan Collins?'" she answered quickly.

"Well, will it?" we inquired, and she replied, "Probably!"

Joan's flip enough to be from the Bronx, or Texas or Ohio, or Boroklyn. She wore a hat that she called "creepy"—or did she say "crinky"?—and had nothing phony to say about hating cheesecake pictures, my deauh.

"Yes, I do certain kinds of cheesecake" . . . "What kind?"

"Ordinary kind."

"Has Hollywood shocked you?"

"No, nothing shocks me."

"You broke up with your husband (Maxwell Reed) out there?"

"No, before. I hadn't live dat all when I married at 18. The man I married was the first grown up I'd really ever met. I used to do everything anybody told me was wrong and EVERYBODY told me this was wrong. I knew it was wrong, too."

"So why did you do it?"

"Stubborness!"

"Isn't it going to be Arthur Loew Jr. when you get your divorce?" we asked.

"You know a lot can happen in a year. I need a year, anyway, to think a thing over. It'll help me get over my impetuousness!"

The Indonesian Embassy tried to kill a newspaper photo of visiting Pres. Sukarno with Nejla Ates, the "Fanny" belly dancer . . . A midwest night club owner hired recording star Pat Boone—he thought it was a girl named Patricia Boone. . .

Arthur Godfrey's helping violinist Maria Neglia get her American citizenship . . . When Liberace gives his Canadian concerts, brother George will translate his patter into French for the customers . . . Robert Wagner's so anxious to have his first recording released that he'll pay for it himself . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A person can't lose weight simply by talking about it—he must keep his mouth shut."—Fern E. Lee, Towner, N. D.

"Women have quite a time," notes John Boyer. "The single ones wonder if there's a man in their future, and the married ones wonder if there's a futuer in their man." . . . That's earl, brother.

Will Rogers Jr. Praised for Avoiding Dad's Style

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—A respectful bow to Will Rogers Jr., who refuses to trade on his late great dad's comedy style. . . .

His CBS-TV morning show has a high standard of conversational good nature with no clumsy attempts to capitalize on his dad as a comic chip off the old cowhand. . . .

Will Jr. even refused to write (in fact, have ghosted) a column of smarty observations in his pop's style to be syndicated during the upcoming political conventions.

"Major Joppolo" in "A Bell for Adano" has been changed from married to bachelor status so Barry Sullivan can play around morally, with his Italian gal pal Anna Maria Alberghetti on the musical CBS-TV version tonight at 8:30.

TV certainly doesn't go along with "No Time for Sergeants," what with Sgt. Bilko, Sgt. Friday, Sgt. Preston and Sgt. O'Hara of "Rin Tin Tin." . . .

Beulah Garrick's fine work in Noel Coward's "Happy Breed" on TV got her a good Broadway stage role in "Lentil" by Rose Caylor, Mrs. Ben Hecht. . . .

The FCC is considering proposals to make all TV in the East UHF and everything West VHF, and now listen for the screams. . . .

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Lo, the Poor Pigeon! Open Game in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP)—After July 1 in New York it's "lo, the poor pigeon."

After that date, the City Health Department said yesterday, pigeons go off the list of protected birds.

Pigeons are becoming too numerous, the department said, and "too much of a nuisance."

Adrian Graduation

ADRIAN (AP)—Adrian College will confer degrees on 45 seniors at 111th commencement exercises Sunday. The speaker will be Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Detroit area of the Methodist Church.
