

Czech Premier Seeks Soviet Economic Aid

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak Premier Oldrich Cernik flew to Moscow today for new negotiations, presumably seeking help to offset the economic setback resulting from the Soviet invasion of his country.

Cernik was accompanied by two economic experts, Deputy Premier Frantisek Hamouz and Foreign Trade Minister Václav Vales. Prague Radio said the three men went for economic talks.

The economic nature of the talks was underlined by the makeup of the Soviet delegation at the first session today in the Kremlin. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the Soviet government was represented by Premier Alexei Kosygin, Deputy Premier Nikolai Baibakov, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, First Deputy Foreign Trade Minister Mikhail Kuzmin and a member of the state planning committee, Nikolai Inozemtsev. The Czechoslovaks for some time have sought a big loan from the Soviet Union, and the Russians have also half promised compensation for all damages caused by the invasion.

PRODUCTION PARALYZED

The Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo said Monday that the "arrival of foreign troops paralyzed production in heavy industry." It estimated production losses during the first week of the occupation at more than $227 million.

Rude Pravo complained that the Soviet Union and some of its hard-line allies did not meet their obligation to supply certain raw materials to Czechoslovakia.

Meanwhile, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov returned to Prague after a visit to Bratislava, the capital of Slovakia. A report that his talks with Slovak Communist party chief Gustav Husak had been "cordial" raised the prospect that Moscow has bigger things in mind for Husak.

The report by the official news agency CTK gave no details, but the term "cordial" indicated Kuznetsov and Husak found common ground.

CONTRAST

This contrasted with the official description of "frank and comradely" — meaning disagreement — used for Kuznetsov's talks with Ondrej Klokoc, chairman of the Slovak National Council, and earlier with President Ludvik Svoboda, Premier Cernik and national Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek.

Kuznetsov came to Czechoslovakia Friday amid complaints in the Soviet press that liberal Czechoslovak leaders were not moving swiftly enough to conform to Moscow's demands that the liberal reforms of the past months be rolled back.

Buick Exec Says '69 Looks Good

DETROIT (AP) — Robert L. Kessler added his voice today to the swelling chorus of "General Motors never had it so good."

Kessler, GM vice president and general manager of its Buick division, told a national press preview of the division's 1969 cars that business for 1968 and next year looked great.

His comments came a day after John Z. DeLorean, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac division, predicted his unit would top the million sales mark for the first time in 1969.

Kessler, in a statement released in advance of the preview, did not make an exact estimate of 1969 sales but he did report that Buick expected to wind up calendar 1968 with 659,000 sales — its second best year on record and topped only by the 745,000 sold in 1955.

OPELS PUSH MARK

He pointed out that if the estimated 90,000 Opel Kadets, sold here this year imported from Germany and built in GM plants there, were included in Buick sales the total for the year would be 749,000 — a Buick high mark.

Kessler said he was "optimistic" about 1969 sales. "Our growth rate is solid and even surpasses the industry trend as a whole."

Kessler said Buick had scheduled a build of 250,000 of the new 1969 models by yearend and added, "This will be (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 4)

U.S. OK Urged on N-Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in the first real test of congressional will since the Soviet Union invaded Czechoslovakia, was urged today to take quick action on a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

The plea was made by committee member Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

It was the first attempt to dislodge the nuclear nonproliferation treaty from committee since Congress received last week.

President Johnson asked swift action when he submitted the treaty to the Senate July 9. He has continued to press for approval despite lessening of congressional support since the Czech invasion.

DELAY POSSIBLE

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has raised the possibility the treaty might be put over until next year.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk renewed the administration plea before the committee yesterday. He said U.S. action could have impact on what other countries decide about signing the treaty.

Luau Kicks Off PAUF Drive

The Advance Gifts Division campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund kicked off this morning with a Hawaiian Luau breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

A goal of $118,324 was announced by Charles Woodhead, chairman of the Advance Gifts Division. Approximately 100 volunteer solicitors attended the breakfast, where they received campaign kits and instructions.

Robert R. Eldred, president of Community National Bank, presented the first contribution to the Advance Gifts Division — a check for $14,631.60 which includes firm and employee giving.

Woodhead stressed the importance of a vigorous and dynamic beginning by the Advance Gifts Division, the first solicitation of the campaign which contacts some 600 major contributors in Pontiac and the area.

'WE'LL TOP GOAL'

Alger V. Conner, chairman of this year's PAUF drive, commented, "I appeal to you and to every '68 campaign worker to think positively. We are not going to make our goal — we're going to exceed it and raise more United Fund money than ever before."

"We will do this because we believe in the United Fund idea. We will do it because we remember that businessmen, like us, throughout our area and our country wanted and helped organize the United Fund idea and plan.

"Their reason in Pontiac in 1948 was, as it is today, to provide for the most worthy agencies in the community so that they might serve our people, and we might campaign only once a year. Business people and individuals want United Fund because it drastically reduces costs to business and the agencies."

"I am positive no local businessman will ever want each of our 55 agencies to conduct its own drive and be contacted by 55 campaign workers each asking for the firm's work force to help raise the funds. Neither will these business firms or our agencies want to reduce service because of greatly increased campaign costs."

5 VICE CHAIRMEN

Vice Chairmen of the Advance Gifts Division attending the kickoff were Edward Swift, Consumers Power; Harold Newhouse, Community National Bank; Carleton C. Patterson, Jr., Thatcher-Patterson, Inc.; Dr. Kenneth VandenBerg and Gene Stanley, Gaukler Moving.

Harry Vanhook, chairman of this year's PAUF Speaker's Bureau gave a brief presentation on this year's campaign film and program.

This year's total UF goal is $1,130,000 — 10 per cent over the amount raised last year. Funds collected go to support 55 health, welfare, and youth agencies with PAUF. This year's campaign is scheduled to run from Oct. 15 through Nov. 10.

Rain Is Expected to Leave the Area

Today's light rain and drizzle are expected to move eastward late this afternoon or evening, leaving skies partly cloudy and temperatures cooler with a low of 46 to 56 tonight.

Partly sunny and continued cool is the forecast for tomorrow. Partly cloudy with little temperature change is the outlook for Thursday.

Sixty-two was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer reading was 66 at 2 p.m.

Marine Unit First to Leave Vietnam

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The first American unit to leave Vietnam — the 27th Marine Regiment — started back to the United States today, but nearly half its men have been reassigned to other outposts and are staying behind.

As the first 100 officers and men waited for their plane to Okinawa, the 1st Marine Division band played "California, Here I Come." The Leathernecks laughed and shuffled their feet impatiently. It was the second time most of them had left Vietnam.

Every team's a winner at this stage of the football campaign. So for a look at what your favorite team's expected to do this fall, check the 1968 issue of the Kickoff in today's Pontiac Press.

The 13th annual Kickoff is crammed with facts, figures and photos.

Previews of state colleges, of the nation's leading conferences and of the major independents are included in this edition. For the preps, there's a complete rundown of high school football in Oakland County.

The regiment was thrown into the war in February at the height of the Vietcong's Tet offensive. Its battalions fought near Hue and south of Da Nang. The 27th was assigned to war duty temporarily, and the 1st Brigade of the Army's 5th Mechanized Division is replacing it.

In nearly seven months of combat, the 4,500-man regiment claimed 2,000 of the enemy killed, 25 prisoners and 463 captured weapons. The regiment lost 292 dead and handed out 1,500 Purple Hearts for battlefield wounds.

"I'd say 21 months here is quite enough," said second timer Cpl. Bruce Finley, 22 of Newton, Mass.

"This was my second time here," said 21-year-old Sgt. Dennis Bier of Union City, Calif. "It's time we stepped aside and gave some of these younger troopers a chance."

The Marine commander in Vietnam, Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman, was on hand, shaking hands. The men had quick kisses for stewardess Pat Bennett of Auburn, N.Y., as they boarded the plane.

Only about 800 of the 27th's men are going home now. About 2,000 with time left on their first one-year tour in Vietnam have been sprinkled through other Marine units. Another 1,500 men left earlier as casualties, transfers or for discharge.

recommendations to the Lions and Tigers management on construction of a new stadium in the Detroit Metropolitan area by the end of this year, or early 1969.

TOP LOCATION

Pontiac is making its bid to be the site of the new stadium. According to city officials, Pontiac has the location that tops all others, including Detroit, Troy and Walled Lake, which are actively bidding to become the site, and several other communities which may or may not make a presentation to the stadium committee.

In order to make a proper presentation, city commissioners earlier this year authorized spending $6,000 for a professional presentation, as prepared by Drinker Associates Inc., city planning consultants of Birmingham.

LAST NIGHT

Last night the commissioners saw what the city received for the money, and they said they were well-satisfied. Principals of the firm outlined a slide presentation and charts and graphs which will be used in the presentation tomorrow night to boast of the advantages of Pontiac's contemplated site.

PARKING FOR 25,000

The proposed site takes in 154 acres at the interchange of I-75 and M59. This, the planners said, can be utilized for constructing a stadium and parking facilities for 25,000 cars.

SUCCESSOR TO RFK — U.S. Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., was named today by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller to fill the Senate seat of the late Robert F. Kennedy.

In addition, another 117 acres in Pontiac Township immediately adjacent can be acquired for related development, officials said.

The proposed site is bounded on the east by Opdyke Road, on the south by M59, on the north by Featherstone Road and on the west by the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks.

The adjacent 117-acre parcel is directly south, bounded on the north by M59, on the east by Opdyke, on the south by the sewage treatment plant and on the west by the Grand Trunk tracks.

Most of the land is owned by the Pontiac School board or the city. The school board has privately agreed to sell the property if a stadium can be located there.

Pontiac Plans to Double Its Subsidy to Bus Firm

If you're a bus rider in Pontiac, worried about the threatened loss of bus service, you can breathe easier—at least for the next 6½ months.

"According to an agreement hammered out last night by city commissioners and officials of the American Transit Corp. in an informal meeting, the bus service will be continued on five main routes covering 10 main thoroughfares."

The city will increase its subsidy to the bus company, expected to more than double the present $2,916-per-month rate ($35,000 per year) to somewhere near $6,000 per month.

The present fare of 30 cents for adults is expected to remain the same. But rates for school children may go from 15 to 20 cents.

OK SEEN TONIGHT

The commission is expected to formally approve the agreement at its weekly meeting tonight.

The solution is only temporary, city officials said. Meanwhile a 50-year veteran of the bus business and an expert of 21 years in the transit field warned that conditions are rapidly changing in the "white area of local transportation."

The city will have to take steps to meet the change, private bus companies can no longer do the job, Kenneth R. Totten, regional manager of the bus corporation, told the city. He said local (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 1)

The Pontiac Tigers? The Pontiac Lions?

Maybe not, but Pontiac may well be the future home of the Detroit Tigers and Detroit Lions.

Nixon Aims at Negro Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's southern strategy calls for him to try to win Negro votes while cutting down support for George C. Wallace.

"We have to try and get our share of the black vote while minimizing Wallace's," said an adviser to the Republican presidential candidate.

Nixon's strategists talked of the South as the former vice president prepared to leave tomorrow on another coast-to-coast trip that will take him into North Carolina, Louisiana, the Midwest and California.

Nixon scheduled a private meeting today with his business advisory group before having dinner with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who opposed him for the presidential nomination, but who now supports him.

NIXON RALLY

They meet at the governor's Pocantico Hills estate. Afterward, Nixon will speak to a rally in suburban White Plains, N.Y.

Nixon's strategists say that Wallace, the American Independent party candidate, will attract votes in Southern areas that supported Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964.

As evidence of how important Nixon aides consider the Wallace vote, one adviser said: "In every southern district, the combined Nixon vote and Wallace vote is going to be over half of the votes cast."

The Nixon camp views North Carolina, one of the states on the week's tour, with optimism. Advisers cite figures they say show the GOP has been making steady gains over the past few years.

But in Louisiana, they say it will be difficult for Nixon to duplicate the feat of Dwight D. Eisenhower, who carried the heavily Democratic state in 1952, and Goldwater, who did it eight years later.

Nominees Are the Reason—HHH

'Peace Prospects Better'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey says chances for a negotiated Vietnam peace have been helped by his and Richard M. Nixon's nomination because the North Vietnamese now know they will have little chance of winning "unusual concessions" from the next president.

Related Stories, Pages A-7, C-12

"Neither of us gives any more than they are able to get in the Paris negotiations," Humphrey said Monday night aboard his campaign plane in a news conference.

It was called to clarify remarks he made earlier in Philadelphia and Denver on the possibility of U.S. troop withdrawals and on his stand on the bombing of North Vietnam.

The Vietnam issue—and vocal antiwar demonstrators—dogged Humphrey's trail in the 15-hour, coast-to-coast opener of his presidential campaign.

CROWDS DROWNED OUT

In Philadelphia, Denver and Los Angeles, sparse crowds offering little applause were drowned out by placard-waving, chanting demonstrators.

Less than 200 persons met Humphrey in Los Angeles. Of them, about 50 were demonstrators. Many of the youths were supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, defeated Democratic presidential candidate and they waved signs reading "remember Chicago."

Humphrey began to shake hands with supporters but one youth leaped a fence as the vice president approached him. The youth was quickly hustled away by Secret Service agents.

Humphrey was then driven to his hotel by police. He made no public statements during his arrival at the airport or hotel.

APPEARS CHEERFUL

Through it all, Humphrey appeared cheerful.

The news conference on the plane resulted in some elaboration of Humphrey's statement that "we could start to remove some of the American forces (from Vietnam) in early 1969 or late 1968."

He revised an earlier statement that he "would have had no trouble in accepting" a minority Vietnam plan at the Democratic National Convention calling for an unconditional bombing halt over North Vietnam.

The prediction of troop withdrawals, he said, was based on briefings from Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

"I don't know if there will be large numbers," he said, adding that both predicted "some modest—I didn't say modest—troop withdrawals."

Humphrey reaffirmed his stand against a bombing halt, saying "I cannot support a unilateral bombing halt."

He said he favors "a cessation of the bombing when there is some restraint shown," the position taken by President Johnson.

Kin of City Car Pioneers Dies

Palmer T. Beaudette of Carmel, Calif., a member of one of Pontiac's automotive pioneer families, died in Carmel this weekend.

Service was to be at 11 a.m. today in the Episcopal Church in Carmel followed by cremation.

Surviving are his wife, Cobina; two daughters, Suzanne and Cobina; three sons, Palmer T. Jr., Oliver J. and William; a brother, Bruce of Santa Barbara, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Wilson of Clarkston.

Beaudette, 54, a native of Pontiac, attended Pontiac schools and Cranbrook School for Boys.

OCEANIC FOUNDATION

After moving to California where he married the former Cobina Wright Jr., Hollywood actress, he established the Oceanic Foundation. He was a member of the Episcopal Church in Carmel.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. Les Beaudette of Pontiac, he was the grandson of Oliver J. Beaudette, founder of the Beaudette Buggy Works of Pontiac, located on Walnut Street.

That company branched into the automobile body field and was sold in 1922 to the Fisher Body Corp.

Wallace Calling Chandler Out?

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Presidential candidate George Wallace canceled a Washington news conference today and apparently changed his mind about naming former Kentucky Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler as his running mate.

The reason, it appeared, was Chandler's civil rights stance.

Chandler's wife said last night that it was pretty evident that the 70-year-old Chandler was not selected to run with Wallace.

Mrs. Chandler said Wallace aides met with her husband yesterday in Lexington, Ky., and then returned to Montgomery.

'MANY OBJECTED'

The Louisville Courier-Journal in its edition today said that Chandler, former baseball commissioner, was scratched as a Wallace running mate on an American Independent party ticket because many of Wallace's supporters objected to having Chandler on the ticket because of his civil rights posture.

"Although Wallace contends he is not a racist," the paper said, "many of his supporters certainly are," and they objected to having Chandler on the ticket unless the Kentuckian would change his position.

EDWARD H. LELAND

Clinton Valley Scout Executive to Retire Nov. 1

Edward H. Leland, Scout executive of the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced his retirement last night after almost 50 years of scouting.

Leland, of 2440 Middle Belt, West Bloomfield Township, said his retirement is effective Nov. 1.

He became the head professional Scout in the Council Nov. 15, 1945, and has seen the council grow from 2,400 boys to almost 12,000.

George R. DeCourcey, council president, expressed his regret at Leland's retirement.

KEY FACTOR

"Mr. Leland has been a key factor in the continuing growth of this council," DeCourcey said. "We're going to miss him. His counsel and guidance have been valued highly."

Leland, who will be 62 in December, told the executive board he had been considering his retirement decision for some time and decided to seek a less active role.

Born in Chicago, Leland entered scouting Dec. 24, 1918. On that date this year he will observe the 50th anniversary of his association.

As a boy he became an Eagle Scout, earning 64 merit badges.

GRADUATE DEGREE

He received a bachelor of science degree in 1929 from Beloit College, Beloit, Wis.

He did post graduate work at the University of Wisconsin, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Graduate School of Engineering at Harvard University.

His association with scouting on a professional basis began in October 1929, as assistant Scout executive at Milwaukee.

Leland, a retired commander in the Naval Reserve, and his wife have two children, a son who is a major in the Air Force Reserve, and a daughter who is a supervisor in the Wisconsin State Vocational Rehabilitation Program.

Fishy Request Gets Okay of Commission

By JIM LONG
BIRMINGHAM — As fishy as it first sounded, a request hopefully aimed at solving a vexing problem of astronauts in outer space was approved by the City Commission last night.

Laughter broke out among commissioners when Jeffrey S. Life made his proposal, but soon ended when they learned of the implications.

When it was all over, Life had been given permission to take as many as 200 goldfish from Quanton Lake in the northwest section of the city.

Life, director of physiological research for the Space Research Corp., Birmingham, later explained the goldfish are needed for a research project designed to overcome a kidney function problem of astronauts.

PROBLEM

The problem is one of an excessive amount of urine, which at this point is believed to be caused by weightless conditions in outer space.

"It hasn't been proven that this is the cause," said Life, "but it's the only theory we have to work on."

Life said that under normal conditions kidneys function properly in combination with an antidiuretic hormone, produced in the brain and transferred into the posterior pituitary gland and then into the bloodstream.

"But astronauts are not living under normal conditions," said Life.

IDEAL FOR STUDY

Working under contract for the National Aeronautic and Space Administration (NASA), the bioengineering firm, with headquarters in the Gleaner Building, Woodward and Quanton, wants to find out what is causing the high output urine.

The goldfish, which also have the hormone, is ideal for the study, according to Life, because they live in a type of weightless situation and don't depend on gravity as we know it.

The study is not a priority project, said Life, since the problem is alleviated now by astronauts by inhaling a chemical compound. "Nevertheless it is still a problem."

If the problem is solved it could easily have a practical use in some cases of bedridden patients, Life said.

Life and an associate will begin collecting the fish and placing them in tanks next week.

Bomb Damages Store in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A bomb exploded some 300 feet north of the Woodward Precinct Station of the Detroit Police Department about 12:30 a.m. today. It was the third time within 12 days that an explosion had occurred near a police station.

The latest explosion was at the rear of the Fisher Wall Paper & Paint Co. store on Woodward Avenue. It broke about 25 windows in the establishment and dug an eight-inch deep hole, but did not damage two cars parked in the area.

Police precinct parking lots were targets of the first two bombings, which demolished two private cars and extensively damaged another.

transportation for those citizens who have none will have to be supplied by local city or area authorities.

"In less than 10 years, bus riders will not pay bus fares," Totten told the commission.

MANY COMMUNITIES

As regional manager for the American Transit Corp. Totten oversees the operation of the Pontiac subsidiary and Great Lakes Transit Corp., a subsidiary which operates bus service from a number of metropolitan area communities—including Grosse Pointe, St. Clair Shores, Birmingham and Wyandotte—to downtown Detroit.

His prediction may not have entirely pleased city commissioners who maintained throughout their dealings with the Pontiac Transit Corp. that the city should not get into the bus business.

Although not in the business, commissioners unanimously indicated that the city should have a bus system.

Totten maintained that the company could no longer operate in Pontiac without increased support from the city and offered several proposals which called for the purchase lease of the bus company's assets, with the transit corporation hired to run the business.

PICKING UP LOSS

This hasn't interested city commissioners but they did agree to his final proposal calling for the city to make the difference between what the company is losing and costs for 6 1/2 months.

Totten estimated that the amount his company is losing in Pontiac would run to about $72,000 a year, and added that he was waiting any possible profit in the deal. He said the company's books could be audited by a private firm to ensure that the city was satisfied with arrangements.

Attending the meeting were two members of the Pontiac Board of Education and Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Walmer, who estimated that about 800 pupils use the private bus to school each day. (He said school buses transport 3,000 per day and another 20,000 get to school on their own.)

The city has been subsidizing bus operations since July 1962 in ever-increasing amounts. For more than the past year the city has been subsidizing at a flat rate of $55,000 per year.

STEADILY LOSING

Despite the subsidies, Totten said, his bus operation has been steadily losing money in ever-increasing amount. Totten said the company lost about $20,000 through the year to the school each day. Because of the financial situation, he said, the company has been unable to replace equipment and is now operating eight and nine-year-old buses, which frequently are breaking down and adding heavy repair costs to the cost of operation.

At the end of August, Totten told city commissioners a different arrangement would have to be worked out or he would discontinue the system in the city Sept. 31.

"We can't exist beyond the next 30 days under this arrangement," he said last night.

PROBLEMS LISTED

Outlining some of the problems of the bus business Totten told the city officials that it's hard to attract help because the industry isn't comparable to other industries in this area, still, the company can't afford to go any higher than this has.

He said even a rate increase won't help. When the rate is raised the system loses some of its customers. One survey showed, his aide said, that when the rate is raised to 45 cents a system will lose 20 per cent of its customers.

"If the fare goes up to 45 cents, we're out of business," he said. And, he said he personally feels that there is a maximum price that can be reached because persons who use the bus system can't afford to pay too much.

He said the 15-cent fare for school children is a steady loss even if the buses used for these runs are full of students and recommended upping the rate to those riders to 20 cents to cut down some of the loss to the city.

MANY IDEAS

A wide variety of ideas for cutting costs was discussed, but few seemed entirely feasible.

Commissioners agreed to the new arrangement, to a federal grant to buy new buses, which presumably would be owned by the city. Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said the city would look into that possibility in the next six months.

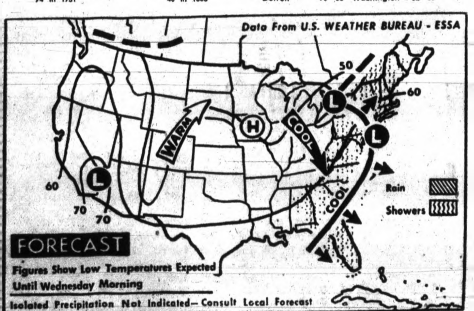

While nothing except the new agreement seems certain at this point, Totten indicated that he would be able to continue to operate with the same subsidy when the agreement expires.

'69 Buicks Hit Area Showrooms Sept. 26

Buick Motor Division will introduce 36 models in dealer showrooms Sept. 26.

LeSabre, Wildcat and Electra series passenger cars will feature a new styling but maintain the traditional Buick design.

The following area dealers will be handling the Buick lineup: Fletcher Buick, 544 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Feigley Inc., 750 G.M. Millard; Grimaldi Buick-Olds, 210 Orchard Lake, Pontiac; Al Hanout, Inc., 206 N. Park, Lake Orion; and Shelton Pontiac Buick, 855 S. Rochester, Avon Township.

One of the most notable changes for Buick is the elimination of window vents in the upper series cars and on all two-door hardtops and convertibles in the Skylark and GS models.

Engineering revisions include an anti-theft ignition lock on the steering column, locking the steering and transmission lever as well as the ignition. Also "60-40" seats, standard on the Electra Limited, allow the driver or passenger to adjust their respective section of the front seat.

Other new features in various Buick models are an electric fuel pump on the Riviera, dual-action tailgate in station wagons and variable ratio power steering on Electra and Riviera models. Common to all series are new grilles, bumpers and taillight designs.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey showed today that at least 46 senators favor confirmation of President Johnson's appointment of Abe Fortas to be chief justice, while 26 are opposed.

The Associated Press compiled the figures from personal contact with the senators or from publicly stated positions.

If the other 27 senators who declined to commit themselves or could not be reached split about evenly, there would be a total of 59 or 60 votes for Fortas and 40 or 39 against.

But before the nomination is voted on, it will have to get out of the Senate Judiciary Committee, where it has been bottled up for over two months.

FILIBUSTER THREAT
And if it gets to the Senate, opponents have threatened to filibuster against confirmation. Johnson told a news conference last Friday that 60 to 70 of the senators support his effort to elevate Fortas from an associate justice of the Supreme Court to chief justice, succeeding retiring Earl Warren.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., spearheading the fight against confirmation, says the number of opponents is climbing toward a majority.

Fortas' nomination was submitted to the Senate on June 26, along with Johnson's nomination of U.S. Circuit Court Judge Homer Thornberry to be an associate justice.

COMMITTEE PROBLEM
The AP survey also showed a majority of the committee members favor confirmation, but the problem in the committee, as in the Senate itself, is to get a vote.

If the appointment does reach the floor, Senate leaders of both parties, although supporting Fortas, doubt that the necessary two-thirds margin can be obtained to kill a filibuster.

Several senators who said they favor confirmation indicated they would vote against cutting off debate.

Supporters fear that if the committee doesn't act soon, or if an effort isn't successfully made to force the matter directly to the floor, Congress will adjourn without acting and the nominations will die.

TOO INVOLVED
The critics, a loose coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, are not necessarily in agreement on their points of opposition.

Some, like Griffin, claim

Thomas A. Foran, U.S. district attorney, already had started an investigation, and Judge Campbell ordered him to turn over to the grand jury all information he has accumulated thus far.

"Only the federal grand jury has the total responsibility under our Constitution to hold such a probe," Judge Campbell told the jurors.

VIOLATING CIVIL RIGHTS

"Purely on the information I have read in the press, I find that various people are accused of interstate conspiracy to promote a riot in violation of federal law," he said.

"A second category of charges has been made where police officers are accused of violating civil rights of demonstrators in performing duties in quelling riots and returning order," Campbell added.

He said the investigation also would look into possible violation of the federal communications statute by some television networks, which he said were accused of engaging in interstate conspiracy to unduly influence the convention by television.

The governor has proclaimed Wednesday Walt Disney Day. The multicolored 6-cent stamp depicts Marceline as it appeared when Disney lived here from age 5 until he was 9.

The jury also was directed to investigate charges that a television network, NBC, buggered a closed hearing of the Democratic convention platform committee.

By 135-Vote Margin

Oxford School Millage OK'd

OXFORD—School district voters yesterday approved by a 135-vote margin, an increase of 2.5 mills for one year for schools.

The count was 418 "yes" and 383 "no" votes. Precinct 1 in the village passed the issue by a count of 346 to 287. It was defeated by 26 votes in Precinct 2, in Leonard.

The additional millage is expected to bring in $70,000, $20,000 of which is earmarked for teachers' salaries and the other $50,000 to re-institute cuts made by the board after the defeat of the first request for an additional 6 mills last June 10.

The increased amount will join the 5 mills voted by the people last fall for construction of a new junior high school and additions to existing schools on the December tax bills.

Residents will pay 22.1 mills in operating taxes and 8 mills for bonding, for a total of $30.11 per $1,000 of state equalized assessed valuation.

Dequindre Sanitary Sewer Given Go-Ahead by Troy

TROY — City Commission last night unanimously approved construction of a sanitary sewer under Dequindre from Dashwood to Wisconsin.

The total estimated cost of the project is $91,500, of which $61,500 will be specially assessed on the basis of $13.96 per front foot, plus .004-cent per square foot of acreage.

Also last night, the commission gave final approval to a contract between the City of Troy and the Elro Corp. for installation of a storm sewer in Troywood, connecting into the Sturges Drain south of the west end of the street.

The work will be at the complete expense of the developer to provide drainage for his subdivision.

WATER MAIN OK'D

The Commission unanimously approved a water main construction, on Crooks from Big Beaver to Bannock.

Total estimated cost is $36,570, with $20,840 of this to be special assessed.

In other action, the commission approved two amendments updating the city code.

A new section was added to the building regulations concerning additional soundproofing requirements in multi-family dwellings.

CODE AMENDED

Several sections were amended and added to the utilities and services chapter of the city code, bringing up city sewer service to current specifications.

Tentative preliminary plat approval was given to Emerald Lakes Subdivision No. Five subject to the additions of turnarounds on each lot fronting on John R. to avoid the traffic hazards presented by residents backing out on the thoroughfare.

School Board, Parents Discuss W. Bloomfield Walking Hazards

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — About 40 parents attended last night's board of education meeting to discuss transportation problems with school officials.

Concerned, but not angry, the parents were mostly interested in solving a safety problem they feel exists for students who walk along Walnut Lake and Orchard Lake Roads to West Bloomfield High School.

Delegations from at least four area subdivisions expressed concern to the board, not about the distance children have to walk, but about hazardous conditions for students who are forced to walk along and cross the two busy thoroughfares.

They said shoulders on the road are narrow, and that in bad weather snow and mud make the walking room even tighter. They also pointed out poor visibility and a great volume of traffic that exists in the morning and the lack of a traffic control device in front of the school or at the Orchard Lake Walnut Lake intersection.

BOARD SEES PROBLEM

Board members and other school officials agreed the problem exists.

Assistant superintendent for business, Norman Katter, said he would take calls and letters in his office this week and would set up a date for a special meeting of school officials and parents.

School Millage Vote Certified

The Avondale Board of Education last night certified its winning vote for a 7.7-mill increase in operating expenses. Local units of government were to be notified today so that the additional sum can be collected on the December tax bills.

The millage was approved Saturday by a slim 35-vote margin. Precinct 1, composed of Auburn Heights, Bloomfield Orchards and Chapel Hills offsetting the heavily "no" vote from Precinct 2 at the east end of Auburn Road.

Nineteen budget cuts adopted by the board July 1 are to be reinstated with the additional millage.

Administrators reported that some 10 teachers remain to be hired before all schools can resume a full-day schedule. The junior high will be on full days tomorrow.

Elementary schools, including the R. Grant Graham School, are expected to resume the normal schedule Sept. 23.

The pay system for substitute teachers formerly on a percentage basis, was changed and set at $13 for a half day, $25 for a full day and for those teaching 11 consecutive days or more at the same job $28 a day.

The retirement age on substitute teachers was waived, allowing the schools to become fully operational at a quicker date, according to Supt. John W. Dickey.

Pay raises amounting to about a 10 per cent increase across the board were granted to 40 noncertificated staff members.

Lake Orion Okays Department Pacts

LAKE ORION — The Village Council last night ratified contracts with the police and public works departments expected to cost taxpayers some $30,000 over the next two years.

The contracts call for a reduction from 4 to 40 hours in the policemen's workweek, pay increases and fringe benefits including longevity and a retirement plan to be activated next July.

Employees of the two village departments recently joined Metropolitan Council 23, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

New Troy Firm PR Specialists

TROY — Communicators for Industry, a new organization specializing in technical public and press relations and providing full collateral and graphic services, has been formed.

The firm, at 950 E. Maple, Troy, has three partners: They are Earl L. Lapp of 556 Oak, Birmingham; Russell A. Thomson of 7248 Valleybrook, West Bloomfield Township; and Jack Muir of 2425 Chestwick, Troy.

LAPP

The new firm serves companies which manufacture products and provide services for industry.

All three partners have engineering education, have worked in industry and on editorial staffs of national trade publications and have extensive experience in industrial publicity and sales promotion.

Lapp previously operated his own public and press relations firm, E. L. Lapp Associates.

Thomson was formerly regional editor of Design News and Purchasing News and an account executive with Hall Industrial Publicity.

Muir was a regional editor of Design News and an account executive and vice president at Hall Industrial Publicity.

Pontiac Twp. Purchases Sewer Financial Planning

By JEAN SAILE
PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night hired Stratton Associates of Detroit at a fee of $13,725 to do the financial planning on an internal sewer system encompassing use of the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor.

Henry Draper Sr., representing the firm, promised completion of work in six months. The township will be allowed 15 months to pay.

The action followed the recommendation of Supervisor Roy Wahl who noted that until consultants were hired, "We're stymied. We can't work without them."

County Department of Public Works engineers have been working on plans for the physical system of laterals to feed into the Clinton-Oakland. The interceptor is expected to be ready for use in 10 months.

'GOT TO BE READY'

Said Clayton Lovelace, township building inspector, "We've got to have pipes sticking into that interceptor when it's ready to go."

He referred to the need for income from local connections which will finance the township's share of the giant interceptor.

The township's present plan is to build its first system of laterals in the Auburn Heights area — an area which has been cited consistently by the State Water Resources Commission for its alleged contribution to pollution of the Clinton River.

Stratton Associates has done the financial planning for Waterford, Avon and Independence Townships and is at work on plans for Orion Township.

DRAINAGE NEED NOTED

The need for a townshipwide drainage district in lieu of stopgap measures was noted by the board. Such measures include filling of low area with foundry sand.

As a result, repair is necessary to streets and sidewalks flooded by runoff waters, was noted by the board.

In view of three requests received from residents for permission to use foundry sand, Trustee John C. Richardson said, "We're actually compounding felonies (by allowing permission to fill). Drainage moves to other lower spots. They fill and force water onto the road. We don't have an ordinance to regulate filling, nor a drainage district to alleviate the problem."

Despite objections, three residents were given permission to fill.

The board, over the objection of Trustee Walter Smith and Treasurer Goldie Malina, voted to participate with the County Road Commission in a matching fund project to provide drainage to stop flooding at Henrydale and Squirrel Roads.

Cost to the township is estimated at $993.

A debate on the advisability of continuing township deposits in the county's matching road fund ensued. Supervisor Wahl said the township now has a balance of $36,800 with the commission. "It will take another ten years for the township to accumulate enough matching funds to do a major job," said Trustee Ron Drake. "In the meantime we're losing $1,000 a year interest."

The debate was tabled for further information. The board voted, Trustee Richardson objecting, to indicate interest in a Genesee County plan which would create, manage and support a regional airport to replace Bishop Airport in Flint.

Trustee Claude Arnett, noting that the board's answer signified no commitment on the township's part, said, "Let's join them and try to get the airport moved up there."

Plans for the county development of Oakland-Orion Airport involve land in Pontiac Township. They have been the subject of attack by several homeowners' groups including the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association.

Emergency Powers, Parking Prohibition

Rochester Gives 1st OK to 2 Ordinances

ROCHESTER — A pair of unrelated ordinances — one giving emergency powers to the mayor and one prohibiting parking on a portion of Main Street — were introduced here last night and given preliminary approval by the City Council.

The emergency powers ordinance was given first reading with final action scheduled for Sept. 23. The ordinance sets up a chain of command and grants emergency powers to the mayor in the event of civil disorder or natural disaster.

The second ordinance, also given first reading, would prohibit parking on the east and west sides of North Main from University to the north city limits.

Final action on the parking ordinance is slated for a special meeting next Monday. The meeting has been set up to discuss the general question of parking in the downtown area.

TEMPORARY LOT

In related action, the council last night directed City Manager William Sinclair to negotiate for use of a lot on Walnut between Third and Fourth for temporary parking.

Sinclair reported he had talked to the owner of the lot, William Poire, The lot, which is to accommodate about 30 cars, is to be resurfaced to provide added downtown parking for perhaps three years, said Sinclair.

The city manager estimated some 12 to 15 downtown spaces would be lost with the projected removal of parking on North Main.

In still-other business, the council approved the low bid of Sterling-Garrett on an urban renewal contract. The bid was $431,429, which was about $46,500 above estimates. Sterling-Garrett was the lowest of four bidders on the contract for road work, storm sewers and earth moving work.

LIBRARY LETTER

A letter was received last night from trustees of the Woodward Memorial Library. Essentially, the letter sought clarification of the library's financial support from the three communities of Rochester, Avon Township and Oakland Township.

The Council referred the matter to City Attorney Arthur Cox. Mayor Roy Rewold cited a lack of time to answer questions raised in the letter.

Police chief Robert Werth was named acting city manager for three weeks during the vacation of Sinclair.

In concluding business last night, Councilman Burdette Lewis asked the city attorney to check city ordinances governing prosecution of shoplifting, loitering in school buildings and leaving a restaurant or gas station without paying.

Lewis said prosecution should be under local ordinances rather than state law so that complainants don't have to make the trip to Pontiac to the prosecutor's office.

Huron Valley OKs Hiring of Crossing Guards

The Huron Valley Board of Education last night granted School Supt. Theodore Hagadone authority to hire up to 10 adult crossing guards, if necessary, to provide safety measures at various schools in the district.

Hagadone said there was an immediate need for three crossing guards — one each at Apollo, Oxbow and Johnson elementary schools.

He said the cost would be about $900 for each guard per year.

He recommended the immediate hiring of the three guards as a solution to some of the close-in busing problems. Costs can be recovered by eliminating some buses, he added.

SHARE COST

The board will now contact the Milford and Oakland County police officials to do the official hiring and request that they provide for 50 per cent of the cost, he said.

Kenneth Jones, principal of Oxbow Elementary School, spoke for a group of concerned parents from that area and requested the posting of school signs before a curve leading up to the school where the speed limit is presently 65 miles per hour.

A group of White Lake Township mothers have organized an emergency safety patrol to guard their children as they walk the short, but what they call dangerous, distance to the school.

Jones said, the parents, mostly residents of the Cedar Shore area, do not want their children bused because of the short distance. They have offered to pay for the signs, he added.

STEPS TAKEN

Hagadone said steps have already been taken to have the speed limit reduced and provide other safety measures for the area.

State Representative Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, will meet with parents tomorrow in an effort to help them secure immediate action in getting the speed limit reduced to 25 miles per hour, he added.

In other action the board approved the request of two junior high principals to have four marking periods instead of six. This would allow for two brief evaluation reports to be sent to parents.

The changes will take place in Muir and Highland junior high schools.

The board approved the promotions of administrative assistants Clifford A. Scherer and Gerald B. Kratz to the positions of assistant superintendents. There were no salary increases.

Berkeley Integrates
Schools Via Buses

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The public schools of Berkeley become fully integrated today as the city starts using the first 3,500 grade school children up and down the hills, to and from Negro and white neighborhoods.

The children will be carried in 25 buses.

"We consider this the first and most thorough of all school integration systems of significant size in the country," said Dr. Dan Freudenthal, coordinator of research and publications for the Berkeley Board of Education.

Berkeley, home of the University of California, has about 110,000 residents.

SOME 9,000 grade school children attend Berkeley schools—41 per cent Negro, about 50 per cent white, the rest Oriental and other races. Ultimately, all the pupils will be involved in the busing, since during some periods, the children will live close enough to their assigned schools to walk, while at other times their schools will require a bus.

At the start of their school careers, children of all races will attend the 11 elementary schools in the Berkeley Highlands.

From the fourth through sixth grades, the pupils will be bused to schools in the Negro sections in the flatlands.

Former NY Commissioner
Is Sentenced in Bribe Plot

NEW YORK (AP) — Former City Water Commissioner James L. Marcus has been sentenced to 15 months in prison for bribery conspiracy involving kickback deals.

The 37-year-old Marcus, son-in-law of former Connecticut Gov. John Davis Lodge, stood mute in federal court Monday as Judge Edward Weinfeld pronounced sentence. He begins his jail term on Friday.

Weinfeld, in sentencing Marcus, noted that he had pleaded guilty and cooperated with authorities in the prosecution of three other men subsequently convicted in the case.

But, the judge continued, "He was faithful to his public trust, and he betrayed the confidence of the friend who appointed him."

LINDING CONFIDANTE

Marcus, appointed to his $25,000-a-year post by Mayor John V. Lindsay, had been a Lindsay aide and confidante prior to the conspiracy disclosures.

Marcus also has pleaded guilty to state charges in another kickback case, and faces up to seven years in jail on those charges.

The federal case involved Marcus' acceptance of part of a $40,000 fee from a contractor who got an $840,000 reservoir cleaning contract.

Testimony by Marcus and at-

AWAITING TRIAL

Corallo received a three-year prison sentence, and Fried and Motto two-year sentences.

At the start of their school careers, children of all races will attend the 11 elementary schools in the Berkeley Highlands.

From the fourth through sixth grades, the pupils will be bused to schools in the Negro sections in the flatlands.

No State Income Tax for County Roads

Revenues from the State income tax are remaining considerably ahead of expectations, which is good news to city, county, township and village governments. It's good news to just about everybody but the Oakland County Road Commission.

The road commission doesn't get a penny of the State income tax revenue. And, what's more, nobody wants to share his slice of the fiscal pie with the road commission.

When Oakland County officials drafted the 1968 County budget last fall, they didn't include State income tax revenues as an item of income. Yet, the County coffers have received $1,108,591 to date from the income tax in two payments from Lansing. And there's still one payment left to go.

Although never included in the budget, County officials had anticipated about $1.2 million coming in this year as the County's share of income tax revenues. That money — all pure surplus — should be used toward financing a new County road, the County ways and means committee recommended.

The amount received so far comes close to that anticipated for the entire year, so it appears obvious that by the end of 1968 the County will receive substantially more than the $1.2 million originally estimated.

Yet, the road commission is still sitting by itself out in left field, an autonomous group that no one cares much about helping. The County has steadfastly refused to allocate a percentage of its tax revenues to the road commission. Even the public voted overwhelmingly against an additional 1-mill tax levy to help pump needed funds into the building and maintenance of our county roads.

It's about time our county supervisors began taking a second look at the situation. The road commission, we feel, should be a part of county government, physically and financially.

Right now, with the available budget surpluses, would seem an ideal time to initiate such a move — before our roads turn to dust.

See More Regulation as Hindrance to Progress

Proposals to vest a federal agency with broad new management authority over the electric industry, in the name of reliability, have received strong opposition in some quarters. And there's a good reason for this opposition. Bitter experience has shown that excessive government regulation is a killer of progress.

For example, in January 1967 Consumers Power Company announced plans to build a new Pontiac Service Center on Featherstone Road at a cost of $3.75 million. That facility was completed this summer and is now in operation.

In November 1967 Consumers and Detroit Edison announced joint plans to build a $186-million pumped storage hydroelectric plant, capable of generating up to 1,872,000 kilowatts of power, on the Lake Michigan shore south of Ludington. The plant is scheduled for initial use in 1973. A month later, Consumers announced plans to build a $267-million dual purpose nuclear plant south of Midland, to become operational in 1974.

The point is that if the company had been forced to seek approval of a bureaucratic authority before initiating these expansion projects, there would have been needless economic slowdown all along the line. This means a slowdown in jobs and industrial growth — both of which produce more tax dollars for the benefit of every level of government.

When the resources of the Nation are straining to meet the needs of an exploding population, more regulation of the electric industry on the nebulous claim of reliability should be shunned like the plague.

Is Grid Contest Pep Talk Your Need?

With The Press Annual Football Contest deadline just three days off, if you haven't yet put in your bid for the victor's award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond, you'd better give yourself a good pep talk and get swinging. Probably you've been scanning the sports pages of The Press to get a hint on how the contest teams shape up for the season ahead, as well as invoking other pigskin portents that could steer you into the winner's circle.

Nothing more than remains to be done to become a contest participant in good standing except to put your mental exercises into writing on the form below (or facsimile) and get it into contention.

What would we think about submitting your entry in the form of a writing? Well, you'd probably have trouble making out a good story writer — one who could spell — and an adverse wind might leave both you and the entry up in the air. No, we'd say sky writing was for the birds. (Editor's note: Sorry about that, folks.)

You'll hear from us again tomorrow. If you don't want to have a guilty conscience then, we'd suggest you have your entry in transit.

CONTEST RULES

1. Every man, woman and child is eligible to enter contest (except Press employees and close relatives) but are limited to one entry each. All members of families may participate, subject to the same limitation.
2. To enter, you simply check your prediction of the winner of each of the 16 games below (to indicate a tie, leave both boxes blank), sign entry form or facsimile, and dispatch.
3. Entries may be deposited in The Press' Huron Street drop box or mailed. If mailed, they must be enclosed in envelopes (THE POST OFFICE WILL NOT ACCEPT POSTAL CARDS WITH ATTACHED ENTRIES) and addressed to: THE PONTIAC PRESS FOOTBALL CONTEST, P.O. Box 777, Pontiac, Michigan.

4. The contestant who, starting with the first game, correctly predicts without a miss the outcomes of the most games will be awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

5. If in the final stage of contest the few remaining contestants should have predicted the same outcome of a game, this game will be scratched and the contest advanced to the following game.

6. Contest deadline is Friday noon, Sept. 13, and entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.

7. Judges' decisions on all questions relating to contest will be final.

'And I Was Beginning To Believe You Were Respectable!'

David Lawrence Says:

Fortas Dispute Unprecedented

WASHINGTON — The controversy over the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the Supreme Court is unprecedented. The Senate has hesitated to confirm him for reasons that have never been advanced before.

They relate primarily to the fact that, while a member of the court, he has continued to act as a personal adviser to the head of another branch of the government — the chief executive. So the argument is being made that Justice Fortas has not observed the doctrine of "separation of powers."

Significant also is the attitude which senators have taken toward the course followed by Chief Justice Warren. The latter did not actually resign and, in his letter to the President, said he would "retire" when a successor had been confirmed by the Senate. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., yesterday declared:

"Mr. Warren, in the way he conditioned his retirement, has acted in a manner unbecoming the great office of chief justice. It is unprecedented in the Supreme Court. The method used by Mr. Warren and the President, in effect, that Mr. Warren will retire as chief justice provided the Senate will confirm Mr. Fortas as his successor."

CONDITIONALLY

"In other words, he is retiring conditionally or provisionally and saying to the Senate: 'You either take my preference as a successor or I won't retire.' I should think that the Senate would not want to be so coerced."

The argument is made that the procedure used by Chief Justice Warren was merely to insure continuity of administration in the court itself.

In answer, Sen. Byrd points out that the present United States code provides that: "Whenever the chief justice is unable to perform the duties of his office or the office is vacant, his powers and duties shall devolve upon the associate justice next in precedence who is able to act, until such disability is removed or another chief justice is appointed and duly qualified."

President Johnson evoked considerable resentment in the Senate when he referred a few days ago to those engaged in blocking the confirmation of Fortas as a "little sectional group."

LEADING FIGHT

Senator Robert P. Griffin,

R-Mich. is really leading the fight against Fortas. It is Griffin who asked the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday to reopen its inquiry.

He declared that Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., planned to submit evidence that Justice Fortas this year assisted the President in drafting an amendment to an appropriation bill.

Bob Considine Says:

Early American Movies Being Made by Italians

LONDON—The Italians are making two Early American movies, with an assist from their American allies, Paramount Pictures, as it is to bring Hollywood to its senses. One is a kind of Keystone Comedy. The other is a western, "Once Upon a Time in the West."

Tony Curtis stars in "The Monte Carlo Rally," etc. He plays it with glasses, just like Harold Lloyd. There is no message in the film now being put together at Dino De Laurentiis' studio by Italians under the command of Ken Annakin and Jack Davies, who together wrote "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines."

It is simply a race (laid somewhere in the late 1920s) from five separate points in Europe, all converging on Monte Carlo and a pretty British dame named Susan Hampshire.

The Western will be called "Once Upon a Time in the West." It is being done by Italy's leading western buff, Sergio Leone. He's one of those characters so wrapped up in the history of U.S. western movies — the world's most accepted film fare — that he knows the middle name of Williams S. Hart.

PAMPERS STARS

The most pampered stars of the "Monte Carlo Rally" are the cars. In the end they may cost more than any of the two-legged people in the movie. It is not easy to find a 40-year old Mercedes SSK two-seater in good running condition. Or a Peugeot of comparable vintage, a Lancia, Aston-Martin or a Lea Francis coupe with rumble seat.

Leone is making "Once Upon a Time in the West" with Henry Fonda, Jason Roberts and Charles Bronson. The backdrop of his story was three pictures starring Clint Eastwood: "Fistful of Dollars," "A Few Dollars More" and "The Good, the Bad and the Ugly."

Eastwood got $15,000 for the first, $50,000 for the second, and $250,000 for the third. He now commands $750,000 a picture. The three films grossed $40 million.

Each of the male stars in "Once Upon a Time in the West" will make more dough out of the picture than the cost of the first film Leone made on his own. They seem happy with Leone, who speaks no English.

"Leone persuaded Fonda to take the bad guy's role in the film."

"The meanest thing I've ever done in films before this was to shoot Jimmy Stewart in the leg," he says. "I felt terrible about it, too. Now I shoot kids."

TV in the Democratic Process

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

It is both annoying and monumentally frustrating for a delegate to one of the national political conventions to attempt to conduct the business of nominating a man to the awesome post of President of the United States while the so-called electronics reporters are at the same time roaming the convention floor seeking, like talent scouts for the movies, subjects for entertainment.

I comment from deep and wide personal experience.

The summing up of the events and effects of the Republican convention in Miami Beach and the more recent and outlandish events and effects of the Democratic convention in Chicago has made millions of Americans turn their critical attention to television's presence in the democratic process; to the importance of nominating good people to the highest office.

The Miami Beach convention moved up to penetrating thought about TV reporting. The Chicago convention crystallized it.

From Miami Beach, the TV people told the nation how boring it all was. From Chicago, they pulled the switch and helped to make it interesting indeed — I cannot describe them as reporters without doing injustice to professional journalists — then brought delegates on the screen to ask them what they thought of the mayor's security measures.

When the interviewers spoke against Mr. Daley, his words of opinion were stretched out interminably for the supposed edification of the national TV audience. But when three or four of the interviewed subjects praised the security measures provided by Chicago, the TV floor entertainers cut them off almost abruptly. All of this took place on the floor during the business of the convention.

The performance was a clear and outrageous attempt at editorializing and bias.

Television cameras should not be allowed on the floor of nominating convention, and the comments of television persons should not be allowed to interfere with the regular business. After it is all over they can do and say anything they wish.

To solve the convention problem, we must turn them into something less massive, with the emphasis placed on the real business. The parties could rule that candidates for nomination must be serious candidates, and they could be made so by requiring each presidential candidate to pay a filing fee of $10,000 and each vice presidential candidate a fee of $5,000. There wouldn't be so much unbusinesslike horse trading around, and the convention then might be held in smaller cities. If such were the case, there would be more competition for the conventions, and the cost would be kept down to manageable proportions.

In future, convention managers may decide that television persons be admitted to the convention to learn, to interpret and to faithfully report — not to entertain and distort.

Voice of the People:

'Our Nation Is Reaping Wild Oats We Have Sown'

Everyone wonders why America is in such trouble today. I wonder if we could find the answer in a so-called "old, outdated" book. The Bible says that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." We have sown permissiveness in the raising of our young people. We are now reaping the rebellion. We have sown laxity in the punishment of our criminals and we are reaping an alarming increase in the crime rate.

God says that He will honor the nation that honors Him. He won't honor the one that doesn't. We are in trouble and we need help. Man can't do it. Man's wisdom has put us where we are.

Young people, why don't we stop trying to find some kind of power in a flower, and look to heaven for some real power. Read your Bible and find some real answers to life's problems.

'Chicago Policemen Did Commendable Job'

In the calm after the Democratic National Convention at Chicago the news media is full of derogatory remarks aimed at the Chicago police force. I think the Chicago police did a commendable job in quelling the demonstrations. The "peaceful" demonstrators jeered and taunted the police with no intention other than provoking them to violent tactics. The police took the only alternative offered. The people clubbed or arrested were only those who violently resisted the efforts of the police.

These disaffected young Americans who claimed they rallied in rejection of the war and our political system were in Chicago only to cause a stir and cast themselves into the public eye. The protesters didn't seem to realize that because of their contemptible actions the rest of the world saw America as a place of violence and terrorism. The right to dissent is ineradicable for all Americans but no American would promote subversion and anarchy.

Rome Might Gas Canines

ROME (AP) — Last week Naples executed 327 dogs for the sake of health. This week Rome is threatening to gas hundreds of canines for the sake of money.

The Ministry of Health has announced that collection of taxes for dogs in the province of Rome, including strays taken in by the kindhearted, will be strictly enforced. All dogs for which no tax has been paid in the next 10 days will be gassed, the ministry said.

Taxes vary depending on the quality of the dog. For those of pedigree it can run to 5,000 lire — $8 a year. For most mixed breeds it is low, about 1,000 lire.

But for some persons who already devote most of a meager income to housing and feeding strays, the tax collection comes as a hard blow. Mrs. Elide Brigada, for one, keeps 140 dogs. She is said to skimp on food for herself to keep the dogs eating.

RABIES SUSPECTS

The 327 dogs who were killed in Naples were executed on suspicion of having rabies. The executions emptied the kennels of two avid dog lovers who kept and fed strays, Marie Muleny, a British employee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and Neapolitan Gioacchino di Biasi.

Rabies is not an issue in Rome. Many of the dogs who face death if their taxes are not paid have already been inoculated against rabies.

The director of the local animal protection society fired off a telegram to Premier Giovanni Leone asking him to void the health ministry order.

17 Are Named to Head Units of Narcotics Bureau

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark Monday announced appointment of 17 directors for 17 regional offices for the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Three of the offices are to be located out of the country — Mexico City, Rome and Bangkok.

The Detroit offices will be directed by Charles G. Ward, former district supervisor in the Chicago office of the Bureau of Narcotics and will cover Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky.

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Carl Aronson, 53, of Iron Mountain died Monday of injuries suffered Sunday in a traffic accident that had claimed the life of his brother, Carl Aronson, 53, also of Iron Mountain. Bus Charge Is Hit FLINT (AP) — Parents in a Flint public housing project protested bus transportation costs Monday by keeping their children out of school and marching two miles to talk with welfare officials. The parents said they were told when they moved into the housing that they would not face added living costs.

Are You A Bore?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in social and business advancement and works like magic to give you poise, self confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. Whether in business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances there are ways to make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Conversation," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Conversation, 835 Diversey, Dept. 377-019, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

State UAW to Choose Presidential Favorite

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers located in Michigan will decide in a statewide meeting at Detroit's Cobo Hall Sept. 22 who they favor for the U.S. presidency.

The 1.6-million-member UAW recently called off a nationwide convention planned in Detroit next Saturday for a decision on which candidate will get the union's official endorsement.

Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey said local unions requested cancellation because a third convention within two years would be too large a strain on local union finances. Locals foot the bills for transportation, lodging, lost time and other expenses.

In canceling the nationwide gathering, the UAW said there would be regional meetings, instead, with statewide meeting in Ohio and Michigan and delegates voting, as previously planned, by secret ballot.

SET OWN DATES

The union said Ohio and various regions outside Michigan would set their own meeting dates, and votes would be accumulated and announced from national headquarters here.

The UAW said delegates attending state and regional meetings would be those selected to attend the biennial convention in Atlantic City last April, plus presidents of locals and amalgamated unions who were not Atlantic City delegates.

Democrats customarily get the endorsement of the UAW. A pre-nominating poll of the UAW's 26-member international executive board showed a majority favoring Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey over the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. No one named former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, now the Republican nominee.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has not yet disclosed a choice.

With only about 200 of its 5,000 members attending, Ternstedt Local 328 of Flint, Mich., voted Sunday in favor of third-party candidate George C. Wallace, former governor of Alabama.

The local also broke with tradition by endorsing five Republican candidates for local offices.

Wallace's endorsement by what was described as "a wide majority of those present" came despite a recommendation of the Flint Area United Labor Committee, which had asked locals not to concern themselves with presidential endorsements.

U.S. Road Toll Up 5 Pct. Over '68

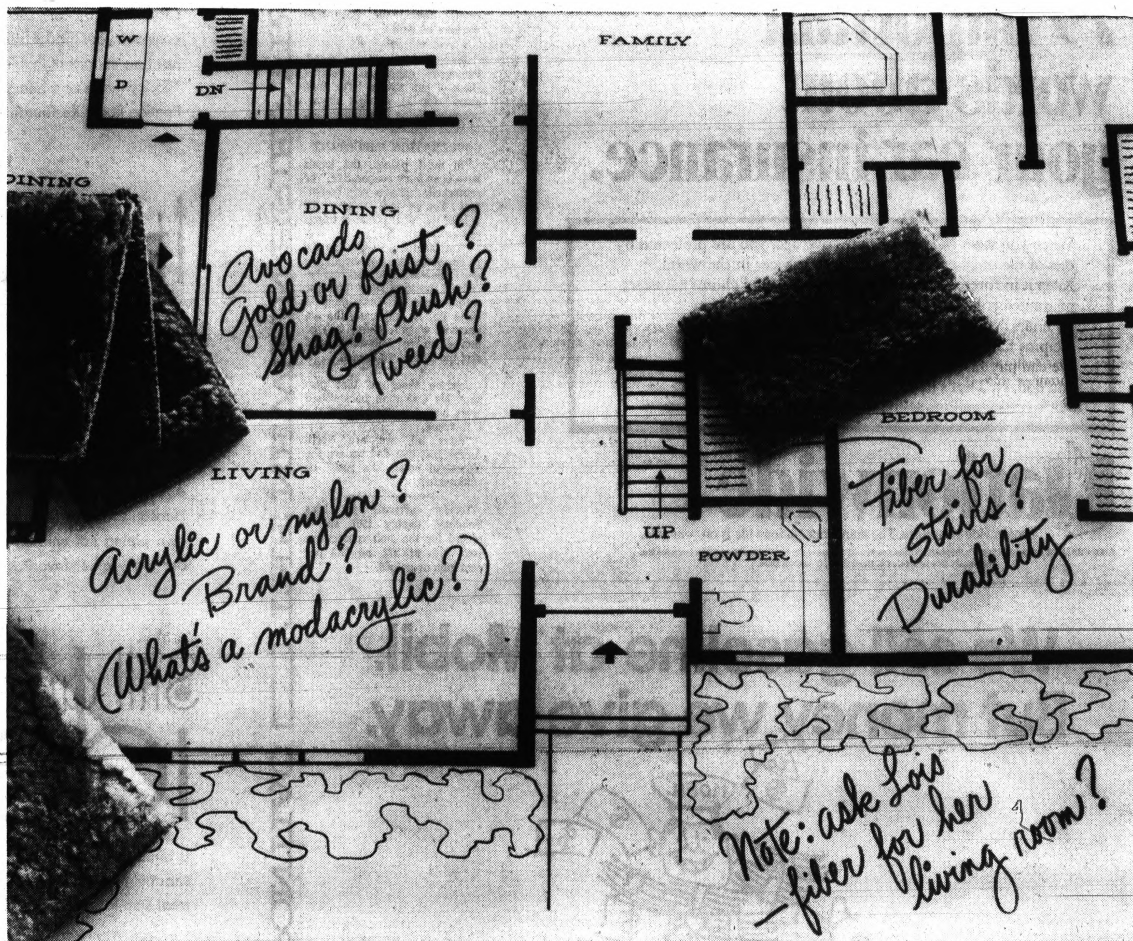

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths in the United States for the first seven months of 1968 were up 5 per cent over the same period last year, the National Safety Council reports.

The council said Monday 29,950 Americans died from January through July of this year.

But the council also said traffic volume increased substantially and that helped reduce the fatality rate per 100 million miles from 5.2 for the 1967 period to 5.1 for this year.

Six hundred eighty thousand tourists visited Lebanon during 1967.

Jewison's Films Regional

Canadian Director Depicts U.S.

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Norman Jewison was a Canadian boy of 8, he made his first trip to the United States. His point of entry was Niagara Falls and he was less impressed by the natural wonders than by the sight of a policeman with a gun on his hip. "Canadian police didn't wear guns, and I was awed by seeing this cop with his pistol showing and real bullets in his belt," says Jewison, now one of Hollywood's most successful directors. "I went up to him and asked if I could touch it."

Jewison returned to the United States for a look at the New York World's Fair of 1939, then in 1945 he hitchhiked his way through the South after his discharge from the Canadian navy. Such experiences made a deep impression on him, and they help to account for his becoming today's most accomplished interpreter of regional America to film audiences of the world.

THOMAS

The director is shooting interiors at Goldwyn studio for his Mirisch Production of "Gaily, Gaily," an account of Ben Hecht's introduction to the bawdy world of 1910 Chicago. The company returned from weeks of filming locations in Chicago, Milwaukee and Galena, Ill., which doubled for Hecht's home town of Racine, Wis.

OTHER FORAYS

Jewison has made other forays into the American hinterlands: to New Orleans for "The Cincinnati Kid"; to Fort Bragg, Calif., for "The Russians are Coming, the Russians are Coming"; to Sparta, Ill., and Dyersburg and Union City, Tenn., for "In the Heat of the Night"; and to Boston for "The Thomas Crown Affair."

"You can't shoot pictures on the back lots of studios any more," he explained. "Film makers used to be able to get away with it, but no longer. Television has changed all that. Audiences see too much of reality on TV to be fooled by made-to-order sets."

"I find that there are distinct advantages to shooting in authentic locales, advantages that offset whatever inconveniences you encounter. The actors feel a part of the life of the place where they are working; you get an added quality from their performances. And there is an esprit among the other film workers as well."

Jewison admitted the disadvantages: capricious weather (lack of sun stalled "The Russians" for 11 straight days); primitive living conditions; lack of local support.

COOPERATION IMPORTANT
"In most places, the locals have been very cooperative," he remarked. "That's very important. You've got to have the help of the local police or things can get tough."

"For instance, in Chicago the police were not too helpful. I don't know whether that was because I wouldn't show them the script, which is something I never do. At any rate, the assistance wasn't there, so we moved on to Milwaukee and shot the scenes we needed."

Jewison theorized that perhaps his Canadian background gives him a better view of the U.S. scene.

"After all, we are North Americans, too, and we are the closest to being like you," he commented.

Tourist arrivals in the Bahamas during 1967 set a record for the 18th consecutive year with 915,273, an 11.3 per cent gain over 1966.

buying luxury lizard shoes and a handbag in our Salon?
She's saving some more during

HUDSON'S ANNUAL SALE OF FINE REPTILE SHOES AND HANDBAGS 22.90 - 44.90

When you like nice things, you sometimes have to play a waiting game. For instance, you would have had to cool your heels 365 days for the once-a-year values in this event. But we believe the wait was well worth it. Every shoe is a masterpiece of luxury skins, rare craftsmanship and exquisite colorings. Every handbag is expertly constructed and beautifully shaped. The shoes were done exclusively for Hudson's by some of your favorite shoe designers. All have leather soles. And by choosing one of the reptile handbags in our Sale collection you'll have two very fine acquisitions at a substantial price advantage. Come try them on now. While waiting goes slowly, our reptiles will go fast in Hudson's Pontiac Fashion and Salon Shoe Shops.

If Hat's in the Ring—Wear It

All the silky luxuriousness of long-haired furs awaits the lucky wearer of this plush hat by Dobbs. Its masculine lines make it the perfect companion for the new "town-tweed" look of men's clothing. The hat is available in a range of new fashion colors, and features a novel braided ring band.

"Long-hair" definitely does not mean "square" in this new fur felt hat for fall! With its under shaped brim and soft, glossy "bearskin" finish, it's the perfect mate for the dramatically-shaped men's fashions currently in vogue. In colors ranging from white to red, the new hat lends itself to an interesting variety of colorful combinations with suits, shirts, ties and overcoats. From Dobbs.

The "shaped" look is revolutionizing men's fashions today, and it takes a hat of the dimensions shown here to top off this new look of sophisticated elegance! Note how the under brim sweeps up sharply at back and sides, then slopes gently toward the front. A rocker crown marks this hat as a fresh new look for fall, and an extra fashion accent is provided by the genuine feather lei band. From Knox.

Ehrling's Baton Is Poised for Season's Start

Sixteen Ehrling will conduct the opening performances of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1968-69 season in Ford Auditorium on Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Both programs will be all-orchestral.

On Thursday night, the musical fare will include Wagner's Prelude to "Die Meistersinger," Bizet's Symphony in C, and Richard Strauss's "Ein Heldenleben." Saturday's program will be the same except that Honegger's Symphony for Strings will be performed instead of the Bizet Symphony in C.

The performances also will be the first in the Symphony's 1968-69 subscription series — "subscription" here meaning that the concerts are offered in various combinations, as well as singly, though purchasers of a series plan get comparative bargains.

Subscriptions are still available through the Symphony office for series of 11 or 12 Thursday performances or for six, 12, or 18 Saturday performances.

Tickets for individual concerts are now available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, and at Grinnell's and Hudson's stores.

GUEST APPEARANCES

The subscription series will include six guest conductors: Sergiu Comissiona, Hans Werner Henze, Seiji Ozawa, Antal Dorati, Jean Martinon and Werner Torkanowski.

Henze and Martinon will be making their first appearances with the Detroit Symphony.

Valter Poole will conduct one pair of concerts on the same series.

Instrumental soloists will include Gary Graffman, Eugene Istomin, Hans Leygraf, Arturo Benedetti Michelangeli, Rafael Orozco, and Andre Watts, pianists; Alfons and Aloys Kontarsky, duo-pianists; Christian Ferras, Kyung Wha Chung, Linda Snedden Smith, Gordon Staples, Isaac Stern and Uto Ughi, violinists; and Vincent Melidon, clarinetist.

Among vocal soloists will be Maureen Forrester, contralto; Leslie Guinn, baritone; and William Lewis, tenor.

The Rackham Symphony Choir, Maynard Klein, conductor, also will appear on the series.

Another highlight will be the world premiere performance of a new work by Benjamin Lees, commissioned by the Symphony.

Newcomers to Meet

The 28th year of activities of the Pontiac Newcomers' Club will open with a dinner meeting at the Old Mill, Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Officers for the 1968-69 season are Mesdames: Samuel Miller, president; James Wood, vice president; Gerald Burwell, secretary and Harold Smith, treasurer.

Two charter members are still active in the group. Some 36 members, new to the area, have recently joined.

Betroths Are Told

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petrusha of Oliver Street announce the engagement and late November wedding of their daughter, Lois Ann, to Phillip A. Cortez. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cortez of Houston, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Greer of Second Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Patti Lou, to Dennis Miller. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin H. Miller of Grandview Street. May vows are slated.

Season at Bloomfield Open Hunt Lofted Into Orbit at 'Tennis Ball'

Bloomfield Open Hunt will round off the summer season on Saturday with the "Tennis Ball," the annual fall dinner dance. This is traditionally a seafood meal and this year, as always, the table will groan, as they say in English novels, under dish after dish of lobster, clams, oysters, caviar, escargot and, for those who wonder who it was who got to eat the first oyster—prime rib of beef.

In the past tense, another fall party—the annual Labor Day dinner dance and cocktail bash at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club was held last Saturday, actually a week after the holiday to allow everyone time to struggle back into town.

Back for almost a week now are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jenkins of Antique Lane. They stayed for a few days on Oden Island in Crooked Lake near Harbor Springs, the guests of the Jack Posters of Wendover Road.

Also there were three of the five Jenkins' children and the three Foster children, plus Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carney and daughter Michelle, of Holt Tower Drive.

DOWNY DOINGS

The Downey clan gathered at their Chicago Club cottage in Charlevoix over Labor Day—Mr. and Mrs. William D. Downey of Bloomfield Hills; son William K., his wife Ruth, and their children Diane, Ellen and Billy; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Downey.

Various members of the Downey family sort of stayed at Charlevoix in shifts during the summer months.

William K. Downey celebrates his birthday Thursday. Ten Downeys, including Blair, the infant daughter of the Gary Downeys, will be at the family party.

Dr. and Mrs. Warren B. Cooksey are just back from 10 days at their Au Sable River tree farm, where they've been summering since 1941. On and off, all eight of the Cooksey grandchildren visited there during vacation.

The other Dr. Cooksey, son Norton J., is hoping to go to the Au Sable spot this coming weekend.

Mrs. Cooksey will start the fall season with a whoosh, attending the kick-off luncheon Thursday in Detroit for the United Fund, and, the day before, the first meeting of Ikabana International, for which she is serving as historian.

Mrs. Cooksey is a charter member of both organizations.

Style Show, Skit To Present Style Show

The Ladies Association of the Spring Lake Golf and Country Club is presenting a fall fashion show and luncheon Wednesday beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Tickets for the affair, attire for which will be furnished by Penthouse Fashions, may be purchased at the door or obtained by calling the Club for reservations. The public may attend.

A fund-raising premiere of the movie "Star" based on the life of Gertrude Lawrence, is the subject of the planned skit to be performed by Mesdames: Richard Beadle, R. B. Fahim, Roy Levine, J. Dale Petrovsky, Joseph F. Dillon and Peter Tiltotson. This event is being chaired by Mrs. Girard F. Smith.

"Keynote speakers" for a "political review," designed to get the Juniors busy bringing in ads for their souvenir program, will be Mesdames John Morava, Owen Regan, Robert McKendrick, Jack G. Smith, and Richard M. Berg.

The program is scheduled for use at the Kresge Concert of Jan. 11. Mrs. Hugh James is chairman for this project. Walton-Pierce will supply the fashions for the show.

Artists' Society Starts New Year at PCAC

New officers of the Pontiac Society of Artists will assume active duties at the first meeting Friday in the Pontiac Creative Arts Center at 6 p.m.

Thomas Hughes who is studying for a Masters at Cranbrook will be the speaker on "Found Art, What It Is and How to Use It in Painting and Sculpture."

The new officers for Mrs. Robert Belknap, president; Mrs. Russel Foukes, vice president; Mrs. Arthur Hoover, secretary; and Mrs. Francis Ross, treasurer.

According to Custom and Etiquette Guests Are to Be Served First

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been arguing for the past several years regarding the following:

When we have company in for dinner, I always serve my guests first. My husband claims it is disrespectful to him, that I should serve HIM first. If you give me your opinion I shall abide by same. Thank you.

G. S. ABBY

DEAR G. S.: Tell your husband that it's customary (and proper) to serve one's GUESTS first. And the host is served LAST.

DEAR ABBY: Last April I met Eric (not his real name) and it was love at first sight for both of us. We set our wedding date for Sept. 29th. Last weekend Eric's "best man," Bruce (also a fake name) came to town and I met him for the first time. Bruce had been Eric's roommate in Seattle before he moved down here.

Abby, Bruce got me alone and he broke down and cried like a baby. He begged me not to marry Eric. He said they had been closer than brothers, that I hadn't known Eric enough, and my love for him couldn't be as deep as HIS! I couldn't believe what I was hearing.

After Bruce composed himself he asked me to forget everything he'd said, and to please not mention it to Eric.

I am so shook and bewildered I don't know what to do. Should I tell Eric? Or should I start running in the opposite direction? I love this man.

SHOOK IN S. F.

DEAR SHOOK: Tell Eric, and give him a chance to explain it. Your chances for a happy marriage are zero with a man who was "closer than brothers" with another man.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently a luncheon guest at the home of a friend. Not a real close friend, but a friend?

When I got home I discovered that someone had been in my purse and taken my money. I know I had close to $50 in folding money when I arrived at that house because I had just cashed a check in anticipation of paying some bills on my way home.

There were about 16 ladies at this party and we all left our purses and our wraps in the bedroom.

Should I tell the hostess about my loss?

VICTIM

DEAR VICTIM: Yes. If this had happened in OUR home, wouldn't you want to be told?

DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 60, married 37 years, no children and I have never written to a columnist before, but we had an experience I think should be published.

Saturday our lawn needed mowing, the garage needed cleaning, and I wanted to watch the ball game.

My wife saw four teen-age boys walking aimlessly past our house, so she called to them, told them our lawn needed mowing, and asked if they were interested in earning a little money.

They almost mobbed her. One grabbed the mower, the other the rake, another the grass shears. The fourth went around the house, found the hose, washed down the garage and driveway, swept out the excess water, coiled the hose neatly, and put it back where he found it. Then he started pulling weeds.

There was no arguing or bickering.

Auxiliary to Hold Membership Tea

The annual membership tea of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society will be held Wednesday from 1:30 until 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mortea Minul, co-chairman with Mrs. Hal Aulie for this event, will open her Kirkway Road home for the occasion.

All members and prospective members may attend the function, whose objective is the promotion of closer acquaintanceship between physicians' families.

OFFICERS

New officers for the 1968-69 season are Mesdames: Harry Lichtwardt, president; Gilbert Hague, president-elect; William Bauer, vice president; John Becker, Thomas Varbedian and Kenneth Ullrich, secretaries and John Lichtwardt, treasurer.

Show Wild Life Films

Two short films will comprise the program for Wednesday's meeting of the Pontiac Audubon Club at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

"Spring comes to a Pond" is a study of the habits of birds, frogs, insects and turtles. "Life in the Woodlot" illustrates the interdependence of plants and animals. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m.

They rotated all the jobs and when they were finished, our lawn looked the best ever.

My point is this. If more people would hire these boys to do odd jobs, and give them a chance to earn a little pocket money, it would give them a little confidence and dignity. I think you would then see a sharp decline in juvenile delinquency and vandalism. There are always little jobs they can do and it would not cost much.

Just give the kids a chance to prove themselves, and you will be pleasantly surprised.

ALMOST SR. CITIZEN: ALBUQUERQUE

Cranbrook Guild Slates Meeting

Cranbrook House will be the setting Sept. 17 for a membership dessert meeting sponsored by the Cranbrook Music Guild.

Mrs. Duncan C. Augustine is chairman of the 1:30 p.m. event. Assisting her are Mrs. David G. Booth, Mrs. William W. Stewart, Mrs. Henry W. Wolpert, Mrs. Walter G. Stecker, Mrs. Glenn S. Carpenter, Mrs. Richard E. Kent and Mrs. Kenneth T. Carlson.

Chairman of "Back at Cranbrook," Mrs. L. James Schneider and Mrs. George V. Cripps will preside at the coffee urns.

The first concert on Oct. 8 will be held in Kingswood which has a larger seating capacity than Cranbrook House. Following concerts will take place in Cranbrook House. A tour of the Cranbrook Gardens will follow the dessert meeting.

Guest Lifts Curtain for Faculty Wives

An insight into the experiences of an actor and director will be afforded the Faculty Wives' Association of Oakland Community College Monday when Edgar A. Guest III appears as guest speaker at its first meeting of the new year.

Guest is presently associated with the Meadow Brook Theatre at Oakland University.

NEW OFFICERS

New officers for the year are Mesdames: David Carpenter, president; Richard Thompson and Joseph Kelly, vice presidents; Earl Long, treasurer; and James Hansen and John Davenport, secretaries.

The first project of the social and service group will be a benefit sale to be held Sept. 26-27 with proceeds allocated to the book scholarship fund.

Monday's meeting at the Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington, will begin at 8 p.m. in the Administration Building, also known as Building M.

First prize of $500 in Sterling Silver Design Competition went to set of wine cups, designed by Alfred E. Green of Davis, Calif., a student at Cranbrook Academy of Art. Interiors of cups are washed with gold, and cast-silver stems feature a combination of polished and oxidized Sterling. Green's design will be featured along with nine other winners in a 1968-69 tour of major American cities. Competition is sponsored by Sterling Silversmiths Guild of America.

The fourth-prize winner, "an exercise in pure form... displaying complete simplicity and warmth in design," was a raised Sterling silver vase with a cylindrical base and a rounded body which moves to a slightly defined triangle at the very top. Featured on the vase is a single decorative element—a circular symbol made of a Japanese alloy of copper and brass. By Hiroko Sato, another Cranbrook Academy of Art student.

Day Sleepers Can Have Peace

To deaden the sound of a doorbell when you have day sleepers, or illness in the home, slip a sufficiently large piece of blotting paper under the bell.

This gives a muted sound that can be heard if you are listening, yet there is no noise to disturb the sleeper or sick person.

Non-Food Items Included in Total Tab

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money
Management

The woman who saves the cash register tapes from the supermarket to prove how much she has to spend for the family's "food" may be kidding herself — or someone else.

If she's an average shopper, she'll get closer to the actual figure by subtracting $25 from every $100 she puts into the market till.

MARY FEELEY

According to the latest breakdown reported by the Department of Agriculture, grocery store sales of $64.7 billion in one year showed that 74.6 per cent of sales were for food items. Non-food purchases accounted for 25.4 per cent. The list of these nonfood items, as shown by the survey, includes such habitual purchases that it's no wonder they get confused in a woman's mind with such staples as bread and eggs.

For example, soaps and laundry supplies account for 2.5 per cent of the "food" dollar; health and beauty aids, 3.1 per cent; housewares and household supplies, 2.1 per cent; tobacco, 3.8 per cent. In addition, there are the inevitable paper and foil products, pet food, magazines, books, records, and other items, totaling 9 per cent. Alcoholic beverages accounted for 4.9 per cent of the "grocery" dollar in the statistical lineup.

Supermarket prices and non-food items can be more attractive than they're apt to be at some other retail sources. So the average shopper who lumps them in with the edibles is using her head and saving money. The only trouble is, she forgets to be aware of this combined food and non-food outlay and feels like a martyr when her husband yells "How could we eat that much food?"

CHANGING PATTERNS

Even after she grasps the fact that only about 75 per cent of her grocery money actually gets to the table, she needs to analyze the changing patterns in food shopping if she really wants to know why she seems to be spending more to feed the family these days.

Take the case of that good old standby, the potato. While the quantity of potatoes the average family eats hasn't changed materially over the years, the form in which potatoes are eaten has.

Chips and sticks are increasingly popular. In one year, the quantity of chips and sticks per person increased 83 per cent. Frozen and dehydrated products gained in sales even more. So the bills reflect the higher cost of processed potatoes and other foods.

While no one food item is going to throw the budget off balance, of course, it might be a good idea to analyze other changes in your particular shopping patterns. Look for an increase in use of convenience foods all down the line. In an honest evaluation, does the time-saving factor mean more in family management than the extra cost? Maybe it does. But at least you'll know what you're spending your money for.

GRADES OF BEEF

Another point consumer surveys bring out, according to the USDA, is that shoppers reveal considerable confusion about the names used to designate USDA grades of beef. While only 21 per cent of consumers questioned knew the five true grades of names — Prime, Choice, Good, Standard,

The engagement of their daughter, Doris Jean, to Pvt. Randall Alan Pike, USA, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Zuck of Fourth Avenue. Pvt. Pike, who is currently stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Pike of Arizona Court, Avon Township.

DeVOLL-PENNEL

A reception at the Metropolitan Club followed vows Friday evening in Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church by Sharon Jean Pennell and Joseph DeVoll. The daughter of Henry Pennell of Alhi Street and the son of the Calvin DeVolls of Aquaria Drive then departed for a northern Michigan honeymoon. For the evening ceremony, the bride wore a gown of Rochelle lace over taffeta fashioned along traditional lines. Crystal drops and seed pearls frosted the petal headpiece securing her illusion veil and she held white carnations with yellow roses. The Frank Rochovniks attended the couple as matron of honor and best man.

Air Force Pair's Truth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Denton of Logan, Utah, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Airman 1C Audrie Denton, to Sgt. James K. Buchanan, both USAF. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Buchanan of Rochester.

Miss Denton is serving in the dental clinic and Sgt. Buchanan with the organizational maintenance squadron, both at McCord Air Force Base, Washington.

An early December wedding is planned.

Woman Selects Costly Location

POWELL, Wyo. UP — It cost a woman here $85 to put her garbage can in front of her home instead of in the alley at the rear.

She was fined for allegedly attacking both the chief of police and an assistant who tried to serve a warrant on her for putting the garbage receptacle in the wrong place.

"LOSE WEIGHT FOREVER"

Free Meeting - Open to the Public
Learn to lose weight and keep it off

You are invited to attend a free lecture by Mrs. Florine Mark . . . One of America's most distinguished examples of successful living. This remarkable woman who not only changed her life but that of thousands of others will speak Thursday Sept. 12th 7:30 P.M.

Rochester High School

Mrs. Mark, a mother of five children, was a victim of one of America's most crippling and humiliating diseases—overweight.

From her teens, Mrs. Mark had been an almost constant dieter and user of diet drugs with no permanent success. Repeated failure had caused her to abandon almost all the social activities healthy people take for granted.

In 1965, Mrs. Mark discovered the International Weight Watchers movement, started by Jean Neidich, and the medically sound principles on which it is based. More than that, she discovered these principles can be used to lead a more successful, happier life.

In 1966 she brought the dignified Weight Watcher movement to Michigan. In two short years the organization she directs has expanded into more than ninety classes every week. Over 8 thousand people have achieved success through her methods.

Speaking with eloquence, understanding and honesty, Mrs. Mark will describe the techniques that have done so much to help so many people live more successfully.

Be sure to attend this free lecture if you are sincerely interested in losing weight.

Thursday, Sept. 12 - 7:30 P.M.

This Bird Talks Real Turkey

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
NEW YORK (AP) — "Do you think I look like a feminist writer?" Caroline Bird asked, partly in earnest.

She had just won $133 because only one panelist on a TV show had correctly guessed that she was the author of "Born Female: The High Cost of Keeping Women Down," a newly-published book that details all the abuses women face in the employment world.

Conceal, flit and graying, Miss Bird doesn't look like a feminist, if one pictures a feminist as the old type of suffragette, militantly motivated by sex hostility and a woman who envied men their freedom.

"I thought they were all dead," commented Miss Bird. "I'm writing for and about the new style feminist. This woman may well be married and be a mother but she does not believe that the only career for a woman is pleasing a man. Nor is this woman assisted to fill a typically stereotyped female job."

underpaid, assisting a man usually as a clerk or secretary, and prevented from enlarging her job scope."

Director of research for a New York public relations firm and in private life the wife of a journalist, Tom Mahoney and mother of two children, a six-year-old son and a married daughter, Miss Bird seems to fit the new feminist image. However, until she was asked to research the subject of discrimination against women in the labor field for a national magazine article (the magazine's male editor turned down her research — hence the book) Miss Bird admitted that she hadn't even considered whether women were discriminated against in business. "I thought we'd maybe others, but not me."

REACTION
This reaction, she said, was the way most successful women, those earning $10,000 or more a year, reacted to any suggestion that women in business were indeed discriminated against.

"Most successful women were even afraid to discuss the word discrimination," she noted. "They're terribly afraid of retaliation. They prefer to feel that in one way or another they are exceptions."

"Yet in one way most of them are not exceptions."

CAROLINE BIRD

These successful women were alike. The majority had reached the top because of a fluke, a special circumstance."

For example, she explained the telephone companies need someone to supervise the operators. Naturally that woman has to be paid more.

Miss Bird's first job after college was on a nationwide news magazine as a researcher to a writer. "A typically female job," she said.

Perhaps because of this, she began classifying the women achievers according to the loop-hole they used to slip through the invisible barrier. Half of all women who earn $10,000 or more a year through their own efforts she categorized as Women's Women — editors of women's magazines, buyers, those who interpret women and business to each other.

Then there were Dynastic Women, wives, widows, or daughters of business owners;

Token Women, "I'm the company woman type;" Gimmick Women who turn up where they're unexpected, Rate-busters, women who are hired for a job simply because they will accept lower salaries. Office Wives and Housekeepers backstop men in business and professional work and Sex Women... well, they use a seductive manner to get ahead.

Although Miss Bird feels the position of women in the working world will gradually improve, she doesn't plan to personally participate in any feminist crusade.

"Our economy and rapid industrialization will create a need for more and more women. Combined with the fact that more and more life choices will be available, that more part-time jobs will be created and that a greater amount of the socialization of children will be done outside the home, the old pattern of keeping women down will fade into oblivion."

Why, the girls graduating college today don't even consider it a problem.

Meanwhile, she has this advice for the girl who aspires to a top business career:

• Don't go into a job that's traditionally sex-typed. Find a newly created job or job field. Ask what happened to the person who held the same job before.

• Make it clear that you are serious about working. If you're married and don't plan to have children immediately, make that fact clear. Seek more responsibility without being overly aggressive.

• When you've worked long and hard enough to justify asking for a promotion, do so. If you don't get it, ask what your prospects are. If the answer is that "well, women don't usually rise beyond a certain level," look around for another job. It may be the best thing that ever happened to you!

Jackson Chorale Auditions Singers

Auditions of new voices for the Jackson Chorale will be held Sept. 16 and Sept. 23 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the vocal music room of Pontiac Northern High School.

The chorale is composed of persons, past high school age, from Pontiac and environs, including Rochester, Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills. Detroit and Flint are also represented in the membership.

The purpose of the chorale is not only the pleasure of personally participating in any members the opportunity to study good vocal music literature.

Further information may be obtained from Les Vocum of Meadow Lane, Rochester, formerly Walton Boulevard.

For eye and appetite appeal, plan to use more than one color in meals. An all-white or all-red meal lacks interest. Children, especially, dislike the all-white meal.

Dread Moving? Booklet Will Aid in Getting Ready

If you may be moving this year, and your family is the one in six that will move to another state, a free booklet is available that can eliminate a lot of the work and worry.

The booklet explains about such matters as packing, unpacking, bills of lading, interstate moving rates and storage. It contains a check list of things to do before you move and after you arrive at your new address.

INVENTORY
The booklet also contains a room by room inventory check list to help you ascertain the value of your furnishings for insurance purposes. For a free copy of the booklet entitled "Arrived... As Shipped," write to Burnham Van Service, P.O. Box 1125, Columbus, Georgia 31902.

Authority Talks

Louise Langlier, authority on antique porcelain, will be giving lectures at Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Detroit, for the benefit of the Washington Cathedral.

Her appearances are scheduled Sept. 30, and Oct. 7-8, from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. with luncheon intervening.

A fee is charged. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Herman Scarney of Pontiac Trip, West Bloomfield Township.

Pure Cotton Has Principal Role

Pure cotton takes a stellar role in depicting the shape and softness of fashion's new silhouettes.

Dimensional fabrics — like diagonal cotton twills, sculptured cotton cloques and piques, and rich-textured jacquards — lend fresh interest to the ensemble, the National Cotton Council reports.

See What's Up

West didn't bid four spades with any idea that he would make the contract. He knew that he couldn't go down more than three tricks and probably not more than two in any case. He even had 100 honors to cut down the penalty. Actually he would only have been set one trick because all he would lose would be two hearts and his minor suit singletons.

Most players would have doubled with the North hand but North was pretty sure that his partner had raised to three no-trump with a long minor suit make the hand and he proceeded as his secret weapon. In that case North felt that his partner might well be able to make the minor suit game.

South figured out just what was in his partner's mind. Obviously North did not have anything in spades, otherwise he would have doubled four spades in that case all North's cards would be working for South so South bid five diamonds.

East doubled on general principles. He felt that if South could make five diamonds he was entitled to get double price.

West held the first trick with the king of spades. Had he shifted to a heart he would have beaten the contract but West saw no reason to lead anything but a second spade.

This gave South a chance to

Landon Says LBJ May Play Big Role in Presidential Race

By DAN HAMRICK
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — All M. Landon says President Johnson could have an overpowering impact on the 1968 presidential election.

The 1936 Republican presidential nominee gave his views on the 1968 campaign on the occasion of his 81st birthday yesterday. Landon said "momentous events" in foreign affairs could occur before the election, making its outcome unpredictable at this time.

He said Johnson is the most unpopular president since Herbert Hoover, but he more than anyone else could influence the course of those events.

Landon, who supported Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP nomination, also made his first public declaration of support for Richard M. Nixon. Landon said two emotional is-— the Vietnam war and attitudes on questions involving human relations—will be crucial in the campaign.

He said there were demands within the Democratic party that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey disengage himself from the policies of the President. But this is difficult for Humphrey to do, he said, because "Johnson will be captain of the team until January and the decisions he makes in the next eight weeks will have an effect on the election."

Landon said the Soviet Union's invasion of Czechoslovakia presents an opportunity for a first step toward diplomatic recognition of Red China, a step he said the United States should take.

He suggested that the United States abstain from the question of Red China's admission to the United Nations at the next U.N. session.

OPPORTUNITY TIME

Landon said, "The bitter animosity between Russia and Red China—coupled with a return to Stalinism in Moscow—creates a situation that makes this an opportunity time for a signal step in the direction of establishing diplomatic relations with Red China."

"That doesn't mean I'm ready to go to sleep in the same room with Mao and leave my pocketbook in my pants on the back of a chair," Landon said.

By Prediction of Unrest

Student Aid Bill Threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — J. Edgar Hoover's prediction of impending "revolutionary terrorism" on the nation's college campuses could severely hamper House-Senate efforts to agree on this year's big education legislation.

This is because the two houses passed legislation carrying sharply differing plans for penalizing those who take part in college demonstrations. A conference committee tries this week to settle this and other conflicts between the two measures.

The Senate, for example, passed a five-year, $13-billion aid-to-education measure, and the House a one-year, $5-billion version. But the latter provision is expected to be by far the toughest to compromise.

The general purpose of the legislation is to renew student loan programs—which expired last June 30 but were extended through October pending final congressional action — and to provide construction funds for overcrowded colleges and cash for teacher training and other graduate student programs.

FBI WARNING

A congressional source said that Hoover's published statement of Aug. 31, warning of planned widespread campus disorders this school year, is intended to tie the conference in.

Hoover said in an article in the FBI's monthly law enforcement bulletin that "it would be foolhardy for educators, public officials and law enforcement officers to ignore or dismiss lightly the revolutionary terrorism invading college campuses."

Hoover, noting the riots on the Columbia University campus last spring, said: "Encouraged by their success at Columbia, the anarchists in the New Left movement are boldly spreading the word that they intend to create two, and three mini-Columbias."

The Senate bill, in touching on the campus disorders, merely reminded university officials that they have authority to discontinue a student's federal loan in such cases.

The House measure would make it mandatory for a university to cut off federal aid to a student who had been disciplined for taking part in a campus disorder.

"Hoover's comments are going to make the House people more stubborn than ever to stick by their wording," the congressional source said.

Senators on the conference committee, however, were described as "equally dedicated" to their body's version.

Secretary Wilbur Cohen of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is on record against the type of wording in the House bill.

Lock up your car instead of a kid.

People are usually surprised to find out how many criminals started as teen-ager car thieves. But that doesn't seem to stop them from leaving their cars unlocked and the keys in them.

Last year 76% of stolen cars were left unlocked; nearly half also had ignition keys in them! Even a kid can steal a car with a key in it. Maybe that's why more than half the car thieves in this country are under 18.

To steal your car and start a life of crime, young car thieves need your help. Don't give it to them. Lock your car. Take your keys.

Lock your car. Take your keys.

Junior Editors Quiz on CONTACT LENSES

QUESTION: How do contact lenses work?

ANSWER: Many people have eyes which do not bring the light rays coming through to a sharp image on the back of the eye, which is necessary in order to see clearly. Eyeglasses correct this defect. By using just the right lenses, the light rays can be bent so they focus as clearly on the back of the eye as if there had been no trouble.

But some persons consider eyeglasses somewhat of a nuisance, being breakable and liable to fog up in rainy weather. To overcome these objections, a German optician invented a small lens which could be worn directly on the eye. Made at first of glass, these contact lenses are now constructed of plastic, a less breakable material.

Contact lenses are almost invisible. The eyelids, moving down over them, keep them from frosting, and the tiny lens protects the eye from dust, rain and wind. They are very useful to athletes who could not wear regular glasses, to people who act on the stage, and to many others who don't want to change their appearance.

'No Protests, Panty Raids at Hanoi U.'

SAIGON (UPI)—No long hair for students at Hanoi University. Not even for the girls.

A description of the grim life at the largest university in Communist North Vietnam came from Nguyen Thanh Cong, a former student who defected to the South Vietnamese. Tight-fitting dresses are out, he said, and he referred to the traditional slit skirt that almost every Vietnamese woman wears. Miniskirts, of course, would be unthinkable.

Male students have similar strictures. They are forbidden to wear what he called "good looking trousers" and even if they are wearing others they are forbidden to "walk haughtily."

BIG PROBLEM

One of the worst problems students must face are the three P's — for postponements. They are urged to postpone falling in love, and if they do, they are urged to postpone getting married. If they should fail these two P's they are urged to postpone having children.

"It works fine in theory, but only in theory," said Cong, a one-time professor of Marxist philosophy.

The taboos on love may give trouble, he said, because emphasis on plain dress and lack of personal adornment seems to have been accepted. Asked what he thought of the pretty girls in South Vietnam when one co-quisitely passed by, he replied that they did not appear "serious" enough.

Feeding off your friends seems to be a way of life among North Vietnamese university students, he said.

RATIONS SLIM

The average students will get about one pound of rice a day and about an ounce of pork a month, Cong said.

The very poor get scholarship, but the amount will only stretch to pay for breakfast the first few days of every month.

"The longing hope of all North Vietnamese students is that their friends will provide them with a full meal," Cong said. Two Sundays a month, the students must perform hard physical labor. The authorities provide drinking water, some music but no food, Cong said. Apparently the idea is that the young intellectual will be able to understand the workingman, and stand "side-by-side with them against the imperialists."

APPROVAL NEEDED

Neither a basketball game nor an outing could be arranged without the party's approval, and even the primary school math books follow the approved line, according to a top U.S. source.

Police Round Up Escapes From Children's Zoo

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police in suburban Plymouth Township took a giraffe into custody Monday. They also apprehended an ostrich, 50 goats, ducklings, geese, chicks, rabbits and bantam roosters.

The animals, belonging to the Pettey Zoo, an attraction for children, escaped from an open trailer.

Policemen William Knoebel and Robert Marinelli rounded up all of the escapes easily, with the exception of the giraffe.

They finally found him in a nearby parking lot for state police repair trucks. He came along quietly.

BEARLY GETTING ALONG — An An (right), Moscow Zoo's male giant panda, lumbars toward a coy Chi Chi, London Zoo's female counterpart, in their first get-together of a two-month session which zoo keepers hope will result in cubs. They are the only two such animals in captivity outside Red China. Their first visit together last year was fruitless.

Giant Pandas Frolic, Fight Together

LONDON (UPI) — Chi Chi and An An got together for the first time yesterday — and fought.

But zoo men who watched the skirmish, along with cheering spectators at London Zoo, were delighted.

"Very good. Very good," bawled An An's Russian keeper. "Beautiful," said the zoo's curator of mammals, Dr. Michael Brambell.

DEFINITELY PLAYFUL

For, although the animals fought for a half-hour in a battle which gave Chi Chi a bloody ear, the zoo men think they were definitely playful with each other toward the end.

And playful is what everyone wants them to be. An An is here until early November for what officials hope will lead to pandas.

They wrestled wildly as the two are the only such animals in captivity outside their native China and North Korea.

An An and Chi Chi were allowed to meet in their long, grassy pen. For nine frustrating hours, they ignored each other.

But then An An boldly galloped at Chi Chi, who weighs in at about 220.

Hotel Owner Is Taken to Court by City

The City of Pontiac has taken the owner of the Roosevelt Hotel to court to force him to raze the structure which was destroyed by fire two weeks ago.

A hearing is tentatively scheduled for 9 a.m. tomorrow before Circuit Judge Farrell E. Roberts.

At that time, the owner John Kinnally, will be given the opportunity to show cause why a preliminary order issued against him last week shouldn't be made permanent.

The city alleges that the hotel in its present condition is a hazard.

City firemen discontinued a search of the building for a possible victim of the fire because of the danger involved in probing through debris.

14 in Racial Gun Battle Ordered Held

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Fourteen men have been ordered held on charges of murder in an interracial gun battle Labor Day during which one white man and one Negro were killed.

The defendants, eight whites and six blacks, appeared Monday at an examining trial before Madison County Judge Robert Turley in this small eastern Kentucky community.

Turley ordered the men held in Madison County jail and to appear Oct. 23 before a county grand jury.

The examining trial, to determine whether there are reasonable grounds to hold persons for grand jury action, was held Monday in two successive sessions. The first was for the white defendants, the other for the black men.

EXTREMIST GROUP

Most of the white men say they are members of the National States' Rights party, an extreme right-wing group that says its goal is a white Christian America without Jews or Negroes.

The Negro defendants are residents of Berea, a community near Richmond. The shooting took place there in a vacant lot. The white defendants are from Ohio, Georgia and Kentucky.

Only about 60 persons were permitted in the courtroom during the examining trial and those who entered were searched for weapons. Police stood guard at the courtroom doors and outside around the court building.

None of the defendants testified.

State trooper John Nixon said that one of the States' Rights party members told him that the Negroes fired first in the 10-minute gun battle. But another trooper, Homer Baker, testified that a Negro defendant told him that the white men began the firing.

Nixon also testified that 14 weapons—rifles, shotguns and pistols—were seized after the shooting stopped and the men were rounded up.

Killed were Elza V. Rucker, 30, of Lexington, Ky., and Leno J. Boggs, 32, of Berea. Rucker was identified as a sergeant-at-arms for the party.

Compromise Plan Ends Ann Arbor Welfare Feud

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — chairman of the House Appropriations Committee; Roy Smith, R-Ypsilanti; Raymond J. Smith, R-Ann Arbor; and Thomas G. Sharpe, R-Howell.

The ADC mothers will have 30 days to make applications by affidavit for a maximum of $70 per child "on the basis of need," Harrison said.

The $70-per-child maximum was $10 more than the offer rejected last week by the mothers, who were demanding an end to any ceiling on the payments.

The agreement was reached after seven hours of fact-finding led by a three-man board composed of Ypsilanti Mayor John Burton; Fedele F. Pauli, dean of the University of Michigan school of Social Work; and Nicholas Prakken, a Bell Telephone Co. executive.

COMPROMISE 'INADEQUATE'
A spokesman for the mothers complained that the compromise figure was "totally inadequate." But he admitted he didn't think the board "could come up with any more money at this time."

Attending the meeting were State Reps. James S. Farnsworth, R-Plainwell,

Tigers Bank Angels, 6-0; McLain Goes After 29th Victory

Bengals Unleash HR Power to Back Lolic's 2-Hitter

ANAHEIM (U) — Danny McLain, with a season record of 28-5, takes the mound for Detroit against the California Angels tonight as he continues his bid to become major-league baseball's first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean of St. Louis in 1934.

McLain faces sensational rookie right-hander Andy Messersmith, 30, but seemed calm about it all Monday night after the Tigers beat the Angel, 6-0.

"Sure, I know I'm getting close," McLain said, "but the pressure hasn't built up the way I thought it would. That's because my main concern has been the pennant."

Dick Tracewski, a man who's been there before, believes the Tigers will beat St. Louis, defending champion in the 1969 World Series and National League leader this year.

REMEMBERS CARDS

"I know what the Cardinals have — I played against them, and I think we have the best team," said the Detroit shortstop Monday night after the Tigers moved a step nearer the American League title.

"It took the Cardinals seven games to beat Boston in the series last year," reminded Tracewski, "and we're a better team than the Red Sox were."

"We have more hitting and better pitching. To me, the key to beating St. Louis is to keep Lou Brock from getting on base."

The Tigers now lead second place Baltimore by eight games with only 17 remaining to be played and a World Series will be nothing new for Tracewski. He played for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the '63 series against the New York Yankees and in the '65 series against Minnesota. And the Dodgers won the world title both times.

Detroit's "magic number" has been reduced to 10. That means any combination of Detroit victories or Baltimore losses totaling 10 will give the Tigers their first pennant since 1945.

STILL NO CLAIM

Mayo Smith, the Detroit manager, refuses to claim the championship just yet. However, he says the Tigers will start scouting St. Louis "within the next day or two," and concedes that the Tigers will win the pennant if they can capture nine of their last 16 games.

Lolich, 14-9, hurled a two-hitter at the Angels Monday night and was supported by homers from the bat of Willie Horton (No. 33), Mickey Stanley (No. 11) and Al Kaline (No. 9). Lolich even knocked in a run, hitting a sixth-inning double after a single by Don Wert.

"We were simply over-matched," said Angel manager Bill Rigney after watching Lolich extend his string of scoreless innings against the Angels to 29 this season. The home club's lone hits were a third-inning single by Aurelio Rodriguez and an eighth-inning double by Tom Satriano.

The Tigers won the game with five runs in the first three innings against left-hander Dennis Bennett, 0-4.

Stanley had a single and double in addition to his homer and started a three-run rally in the first inning when he hit the two bagger. Kaline singled him home and then hit the third-inning homer that drove Bennett to the showers.

U.S. CHAMPION — Arthur Ashe Jr., of Richmond, Va., returns the ball during his final match with Tom Okker of The Netherlands in the men's singles of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships yesterday at Forest Hills, N.Y. Ashe took the title in a match that lasted nearly three hours, 14-12, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6 and 6-3.

New Titan of Tennis Is Still Not Happy

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe Jr., is the new titan of international tennis, but he's still not happy.

He has, he says, two more outstanding goals. He wants to help the United States get back the Davis Cup from Australia. And he wants to find his proper place in the seething black power struggle.

"I won't be satisfied until we get back the Davis Cup," the 25-year-old Army lieutenant from Richmond, Va., said today, still receiving congratulations for his stirring 14-12, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 victory over young Tom Okker of The Netherlands for the men's singles crown in the U.S. Open Championships.

The thin Negro not only extended his winning streak of matches to 26—dating back to last July—but he added the open to his national amateur crown won two weeks ago at Brookline, Mass., and scored a double slam that may not be duplicated for years.

his champion of a star-spangled field that included such stars as Rod Laver, Tony Roche, Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall. Ashe immediately subordinated his own interests to his future goals.

"While I've been winning here, the Australians have been running, jumping and hitting two-on-one," he said, referring to a favorite tactic of Aussie Capt. Harry Hopman in putting two men against one in practice. "They're getting ready for us—we've got to get back that cup."

MAY BE NO. 1

He automatically became a strong candidate for No. 1 world ranking among both amateurs and professionals.

"For this week, at least, he was the greatest," said Jack Kramer. "Maybe he can prove he's the best in the world. We will have to wait and see."

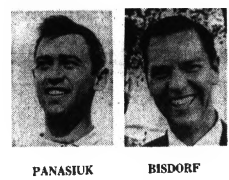

DIFFERENT FEELING

Someone asked Ashe if winning back the Davis Cup would give him more satisfaction than his victory in the U.S. Open.

"Sure, it would," he said. "Out here, I play for myself. In the Davis Cup, we play for the country. The umpire doesn't say, 'Advantage Ashe.' He says, 'Advantage U.S.A.' That gets to you."

Ashe and the man he had to beat in the semifinals, Clark Graebner, head the team that will invade Adelaide, Australia, at Christmas time for the Davis Cup challenge round—granting the Yanks get by their last hurdle, the interzone final.

The Aussies, their strength bled by pro raids, will try to defend with Bill Bowrey and Ray Ruffies, two outsiders who do not compete here. The United States next must play the winner of the series involving India, Japan and West Germany.

PANASIUK BISDORF

Bisdorf-Panasiuk Win Golf Tourney

Bill Bisdorf of Grosse Ile and Bob Panasiuk of Knollwood combined their talents for a two-stroke victory in the second annual Al Watrous Pro-Professional tournament at Warwick Hills Country Club yesterday.

The twosome bagged 13 birdies en route to a 58-68—13 under par—two shots ahead of Nick Berklich of Warwick and Tom Talkington of Waukegan.

COLLECTS CASH

Climax to Berklich's round was his first hole-in-one and it came in the second round on the 165-yard 17th.

Defending champions Mac McElmurry of Knollwood and partner Larry Tomasino withdrew after a 75 in the morning round after Tomasino became ill.

Gene Bone of Bay Pointe and Bill Mattson of Shenandoah were among a group with even-par 144's.

River Claims Another Racing Victim

Gordon Studies Scout Reports as Royals Prepare for Draft

KANSAS CITY (U) — Joe Gordon's first job as manager of the Kansas City Royals will be intensive study of scouting reports aimed at the Oct. 15 expansion draft, which will furnish the players he will have in 1969.

Unlike some other expansion managers in the past, Gordon won't be starting with nothing. The Royals have about 70 players under contract at Corning, N.Y., Dubuque, Iowa, and Highpoint, Thomasville, N.C.

Fred Haney had only a matter of days before the granting of the California Angels franchise at St. Louis in December, 1960, and selection of players which formed the nucleus of baseball's most successful expansion club. One of Haney's assistants, Cedric Tallis, is now executive vice president of the Royals.

Ewing Kauffman, owner of the Royals, has spent more than $2,000 getting the jump on baseball's other expansion clubs and he says he is happy with the progress of his organization.

The Royals will pay $175,000 per player for the 30 players they will select from the 10 American League 40-man rosters.

RETIRING — New Orleans fullback Jim Taylor was expected to announce his retirement from pro football at a Saints' press conference this morning.

Packers Thin Roster

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Veteran running back Ben Wilson and rookies Billy Stevens and Gordon Rule were cut Monday as the Green Bay Packers reduced their squad to the 40-player National Football League limit.

Grid Star Taylor Calling It Quits

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jim Taylor hangs up No. 31 for good today. The Associated Press has learned that he plans to announce his retirement from pro football.

A news conference was scheduled at the general offices of the New Orleans Saints for Taylor to make his announcement.

He'll be 33 in 10 more days. Behind Taylor are 10 years of glory and records in the National Football League.

Hydro Pilot Gardner Dies

By BILL HALLS

DETROIT (U) — The thunderboats obey the man who holds the steering wheel—but the river, with its treacherous holes, obeys no one.

Col. Warner Gardner, an ex-Air Force fighter pilot from Bay City, became the Detroit River's second victim in three years Monday, and its third in seven years.

He died of body-crushing injuries suffered 24 hours earlier when his straining hydroplane, Eagle Electric, disintegrated during the final heat of the Gold Cup race. He was driving at speeds upwards of 130 miles per hour.

TIED ON CIRCUIT

Driver Billy Schumacher of Seattle had been tied with Gardner on the American Powerboat Association circuit at three victories apiece before the race. He took Mike Bardahl to victory in the final heat 45 minutes after the accident.

"You put whatever happened out of your head," said Schumacher. "You've got to concentrate on what you have to do."

Gardner, 52, was pulled from the water minutes after his boat made a 360-degree roll, then flipped and shattered.

Gardner, the ninth victim of powerboat racing in the last 17 years, had a premonition of his plight. Shortly before the accident he described the danger on the river.

"Man, this is a rough one," he said. "There must be holes in the water out there 10 and 12 feet deep. The water doesn't look that rough. But suddenly these holes appear behind a roller. All you can do is hang on."

Gardner, survived by his wife, Gloria, a son, Warner Jr., 17, and two daughters, didn't hang on. He was thrown clear of the boat, his helmet knocked loose on impact with the water.

A helicopter plucked him from the water moments later and took him to a hospital. Suffering from extensive head and internal injuries, he died 24 hours later, following surgery.

The United States has one of its doubles teams, Stan Smith and Bobby Lutz of Pasadena, Calif., already in the finals of the U.S. Open and another, Graebner and Charlie Pasarell, leading Ashe and Andres Gimeno 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 12-12. The unfinished doubles are scheduled Tuesday morning.

Ex-Buckeye Shines

New 'PF Flyer'

A transplanted Buckeye is the new P. F. Flyer (Pontiac Firebirds) flyer and he has given new life to the Firebirds' Midwest Football title chances.

Bob Brown, a 5-9 and 200 pound running back, showed he had quick moves to go with his running power as the Firebirds whipped Vespanti Sunday, 26-6.

A native of Alliance, Ohio, a hotbed of Buckeye football, Brown had carried only four times for 22 yards in a reserve role. Sunday, he carried five times and rolled up 93 yards to give him a 13.3 average for the season.

"He never quit trying and has worked hard in practice even though he hasn't played much," said head coach Tom Tracy, "but he certainly has earned himself a job."

The Firebirds play at Fort Wayne, Ind., Saturday night and return home Sept. 21 to meet the Hamtramck Chargers.

...raylor, however, is not stepping back willingly. He insists on the fact that he was in the game through 1955 because he was the only player who has been in the game since 1940 without re-joining more than 1,000 yards — a record.

Attorney Purchases Barons Hockey Team

CLEVELAND (U) — A Cleveland group headed by attorney Nick Millett has purchased the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League in a deal which will involve more than $2 million.

The club announced Monday Barons were sold for $510,000 and the sale of the Cleveland Arena is still being worked out with the cost estimated at $1 million.

Baron's President Paul Bright has said he is out of the club and will have no role in the new organization. Bright had been controlling stock for three of its years as club president.

TIGHT FINISH — Charlie Greene (foreground) of Nebraska and his foremost rival, Jim Hines of Oakland, Calif., head into the tape in a near dead heat during the 100-meter race as the Olympic high-altitude trials opened yesterday at South Lake Tahoe, Calif. Bill Hurd (left) of Notre Dame was third. Greene and Hines were clocked at 10.1 seconds.

Colts Open Sunday

Elbow Puts Unitas on Doubtful List

BALTIMORE (AP) — St. Louis John Unitas finally had to admit the obvious.

After rejoining his chronic right elbow in last Saturday's National Football League exhibition against Dallas, the great Baltimore Colts quarterback relented a bit from his usual noncommittal attitude. "I'll have to say it hurts more than it ever has," Unitas said of the elbow, which has been bothered for years by tendonitis. "All I know is that I don't expect to be doing any throwing for awhile."

With Baltimore's NFL season opener coming up Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers, that doesn't give Coach Don Shula long to make a decision.

Costly Night for Ring Foe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Light heavyweight champion Bobby Foster is willing to fight anyone who'll pay to get into the ring with him. Roger Rouse has learned it is a costly experience.

Foster carved rivers of blood on the face of the well-regarded challenger and stopped him on a technical knockout at 2:34 of the fifth round in their non-title fight Monday night.

It was the third exhibition victory in six weeks for the lean and mean Foster, who is collecting as many paydays as possible with his new crown while waiting for a challenger willing to give him the $100,000 guarantee he demands for a title bout.

Junior Team Triumphs

The junior baseball team sponsored by McCullough Realty of Waterford journeyed to Corunna, Ontario, over the weekend and downed a Junior squad from that city, 3-2, in 10 innings.

Breezes to Win at High Altitude

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — Altitude means hardly a thing when you're running—even if you're running for half an hour—says Tracy Smith. It's not likely he'll ever convince Billy Mills.

Smith, a slender 23-year-old Army Pfc, had things all his own way Monday when he handily won the 10,000-meter run at the U.S. Olympic track and field trials and won a trip to Mexico City next month.

The second and third finishers—Van Nelson and Tom Laris—also earned berths on the team, but Mills, the top U.S. star of the Olympics four years ago, was denied another trip when he finished a lackluster and painful fourth.

DISTANCE ACE

In addition, another top hopeful for a gold medal in the distance race, Gerry Lindgren, missed in his bid to make the team in the 10,000 and will have to settle for a crack at a 5,000-meter berth. And it's far from a cinch that he'll make it.

Running at high altitude—the Echo Summit ski resort near here is 7,377 feet above sea level, 28-feet higher than Mexico City—is nothing new to Smith. He has trained for two years at his parents' fishing lodge in Southern California, running each day at altitudes between 8,400 and 9,200 feet.

"It gave me a big psychological lift," said Smith, who is 5-foot-11 and weighs 158 pounds. "I had a lot more left."

Smith, who finished in 30:00.4, a less than brilliant time, said that when Mills dropped out of contention near the end of the race, he thought about setting for third.

"But people expected me to win," he said, so he passed Laris with one-half lap to go and sprinted home the winner. Smith said he will try to earn a berth in the 5,000 and double at the Mexico Games.

LAST HOPE

The 5,000 now represents Lindgren's last hope and he first must get past the trials on Wednesday—which he can do by running 14:45 or better—and then come in among the first three in the finals on Friday.

Lindgren, who was fifth, had little to say except "I didn't have the feeling."

Mills had previously tried to qualify for the team in the Marathon, but was kept out by a painful side injury and he said it cropped up again, bothering him along with the fatigue. The rest of the day's activities was given over to two rounds of races in 100-meter dash that eliminated nobody because all 11 runners bettered the 10.4 standard set by the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The reason for the extra races was so there would be exactly as many as in the Mexico Games.

THE RECORD

The real fun in the dash comes today when the semifinals and finals will be held. Charlie Greene, Ronnie Ray Smith and Jim Hines all ran 10.0 Monday, tying the existing record, but falling short of the pending mark of 9.9 they all share.

Shot putters, 400-meter intermediate hurdlers and 800-meter runners also went through the preliminary motions, with few being eliminated because as Jim Ryun, who finished fourth in his 800 heat said, "We were just trying to make it into the next race."

Summaries of the U.S. Olympic track and field trials Monday: 100-meter dash: 1. 10.4, 11.3, 12.1, 12.2, 12.3, 12.4, 12.5, 12.6, 12.7, 12.8, 12.9, 13.0, 13.1, 13.2, 13.3, 13.4, 13.5, 13.6, 13.7, 13.8, Waterford Names Recreation Director

A new recreation director for Waterford Township was named last night by the township board at its regular weekly meeting.

He is Ralph A. Richard, 26, now a resident of Ypsilanti. Richard will replace Thomas Simons, who died April 30. Richard will assume his new duties within two weeks.

Richard has worked for the recreation departments of Redford and Ann Arbor. He also spent three years directing the men's intramural sports program at Eastern Michigan University, according to Waterford Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

Base salary for the job will be $9,000, Johnson said.

LIQUOR BIDS OK'D
The board also approved two applications for liquor licenses in the township. Upon request from proprietors Julius and Estelle Kuklinski, Lakewood Lanes at 3121 W. Huron, will be allowed to serve liquor in its lounge area as well as at the bar.

Also approved was a new liquor license at the Cunningham Drug Store at 5050 Dixie.

In other business, the board authorized Calvin Patterson to draw up a resolution allowing township police to keep an eye on problematic minibus drivers.

Restrictions on the use of minibuses have been enacted since the township board's last meeting. The deadline for cancellation of registrations is Sept. 15. The township board will be given notice to get your "MINIBUS" license. No adjustments will be given.

Daley Slates TV Rebuttal

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Richard J. Daley announced Monday that a one-hour television show prepared to present "a balanced portrayal" of the events during the Democratic National Convention will be aired at 9 p.m. Sept. 15.

Daley said 47 television stations throughout the country will carry the filmed program. In addition to Metromedia and WGN Continental networks, a number of independent stations have requested permission to use the program as a spokesman for Daley said.

A radio show is also in preparation.

Cuba to Test Education by TV This Fall

HAVANA (AP)—Education by television gets its first big test in Cuba this fall. Education Ministry officials say they plan to supplement regular courses for nearly 200,000 high school pupils with instruction from 10,000 television sets now being installed in classrooms across the island.

"The introduction of television does not mean that the traditional methods of teaching will be discarded," said the newspaper El Mundo in noting that each classroom will have a live teacher to go with its 20-inch East German sets.

The decision to use television as extra teachers followed a trial run this summer at the government's work-study camps which junior and high school pupils attend for 45 days.

French Rebel Chief Barred at Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Venezuelan authorities barred Daniel (Danny) the Red) Cohn-Bendit, leader of this year's French students' revolt, from entering the country.

Government sources said Cohn-Bendit was not permitted to leave a jetliner Monday after it arrived here from Europe. The student leader was aboard the plane when it flew on to Lima.

Group Boasts of Cuban Blast

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A man who said he represented an organization called "Cuban Power" said his group took credit for a bomb blast in Camaguey, Cuba, that the government of Prime Minister Fidel Castro said destroyed $1.5 million in clothes and fabric.

The Communist party newspaper Granma said in Havana Monday that the explosion and fire over the weekend was "apparently caused by criminal action of the enemy." The blaze was in a government supply depot.

In a call to the Associated Press bureau here, a man who identified himself as Ernesto said his organization had previously planted a bomb on a British freighter carrying goods to Havana.

Ted Kennedy Is Back on Campaign Trail

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is back on the political campaign trail in support of the Democratic party, but he says he will limit his activity.

Kennedy, returning to the political front for the first time since the assassination of his brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, expressed support Monday night for the presidential candidacy of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The Massachusetts senator told a 50-person reception for U.S. Rep. Edward Boland in nearby Chicopee that Humphrey about the campaign as time goes on.

Kennedy made several appearances on a visit to the Springfield area in support of Boland, who is seeking a ninth term as congressman from the Second District.

In changing his mind, he said his campaigning "will be limited."

Kennedy, who returns to his

Washington office today for the first time since his brother was shot while campaigning for the presidential nomination in Los Angeles, said he had not planned to participate in the

Survey Shows Wider Lead for Nixon, Wallace Gain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon appears to have widened his lead over Hubert H. Humphrey in the presidential contest during the past week, Sindlinger's Daily Survey reported yesterday.

An even sharper gain was registered by the third-party candidate, former Gov. George C. Wallace, the survey reported on the basis of telephone interviews conducted with 1,877 adults of voting age in the four-day period Sept. 5-8.

The survey, published by Sindlinger & Co., a market research organization based in Norwood, Pa., asked this question: "Who would you yourself want to see elected president if the election were held today?"

The results, compared with percentages obtained from 1,844 interviews Aug. 30-Sept. 2, follow:

Muskie Meets With Fulbright

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie paused Monday in his Democratic vice presidential campaign for a private meeting with Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., one of the party's strongest critics of the Vietnam war.

Muskie and Fulbright did not appear in public together. No statement was issued following their meeting and a dinner they attended with several state Democratic leaders.

Newsman glimpsed the two senators together only once, inside a hotel garage where Fulbright, who did not meet Muskie's campaign plane, greeted his Maine colleague.

They shook hands warmly, exchanged pleasantries, and moved inside before the bulk of the press corps following Muskie arrived. Fulbright is campaigning to win reelection against his Republican opponent, Charles Bernard.

HE'LL BACK TICKET

Asked if he was backing the national Democratic ticket, Fulbright said, "Certainly—I always do."

Muskie aides said the overnight stay at Hot Springs was chosen as a convenient jumping-off point for Tuesday's campaign schedule, which called for airport rallies at St. Joseph and Jefferson City, Mo., before an evening's campaigning and overnight stay at St. Louis.

Since launching his campaign Sunday with the start of a five-day, seven-state tour, Muskie has made a dozen different appearances.

His largest and most enthusiastic crowd heard a speech Monday morning at Las Vegas. There, he told 1,700 delegates to the American Federation of Government Employees convention that he favored collective bargaining for federal workers and revision of the Hatch Act, which bars them from active political roles.

Notices Mailed

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Water Resources Commission reports mailing more than 1,000 notices of a public hearing on a plan for managing surplus waters of the Tittabawassee River Basin, which is to be held Wednesday at Alma.

Reshuffling Continues of Grid Teams

Football coaches have at least one thing in common — they're all optimists.

Fall is a great experience. With September comes the smell of ripe apples and burning leaves, a slight coolness in the air, and, in an almost mysterious way, a baseball seems to change into a football.

ARRIVES SOON

And it is the old game of football that will arrive here this weekend — the high school brand of it, anyway.

Another nice thing about September and football is that hopes are high for everyone. True, no one has won a game, but on the other hand, no one has lost a game, either.

SEVERAL CHANGES

A number of changes will be taking place at the high school football level during the next year or so.

There will be some realignment of leagues and some independents at present will be moving to league affiliation.

DIVIDING

The Oakland A League, at present an organization of eight teams, will go to a two divisional setup next fall with two six-team loops.

There are some 55 schools in Oakland County now playing a varsity football schedule. Another league with some change taking place is the Wayne-Oakland, which took in one new member (Kettering) this year and lost one (Holly), and which will lose another next year (Northville).

BOWING OUT

Pontiac Catholic, in its second season, will be making an exit from the Northwest Parochial after this season and joining another division of the Detroit Catholic League.

Emmanuel Christian, which dropped football last year because of lack of players, will not be engaged in the sport this year either.

Southfield Lathrup, Bloomfield Roepel, Bloomfield Lahser and Waterford Mott, all with jayvee teams last year engaged in varsity football this year.

In another year, Walled Lake Western, Farmington, Rochester, will move into the prep scene with new schools.

Oakland County is now on its way to having the largest number of high schools in the state.

New cross country coach at Oakland University is Henry Kennedy, former Michigan State harrier great who won Big Ten titles in 1955 and 1956.

Shoe Award Awaits Top Prep Gridder

All that glitters isn't gold; especially when it comes to the shoe of the outstanding scholar-athlete among Oakland County's high school grididders.

In that case what glitters is bronze. The Thom McAn Shoe Company and The Press each fall sponsor a Bronze Shoe Award in recognition of that county player boasting the top achievements on the gridiron and in the classroom.

Leo Folsom Has Top Percentage

Leo Folsom of Walled Lake wasted no time continuing the winning tradition of the Vikings' revered veteran mentor Dave Smith (who left them last fall for an assistant's spot at Michigan State University).

Smith was the second most successful coach in the county high school gridiron realm at the time of his departure. Folsom took over for him and registered an opening log that was just one extra point shy of perfection.

As it is, though, the youthful Folsom is the only current prep mentor with at least one season's varsity campaign behind him who hasn't felt defeat. The only blemish on the Walled Lake nine-game schedule last fall was a 20-20 tie.

So Folsom's .889 winning percentage and the .822 of John Shada, entering his 10th season at Ferndale St. James, rank one-two on the current list. They are the only two above the .800 mark.

Both Mike Boyd of Waterford Our Lady and Paul Temerian of Royal Oak Kimball saw their sparkling records diminish somewhat last year. Boyd had a two-year unbeaten mark until the 1967 Lakers had their problems and won only once.

WILL LEAVE

The well-liked WOLL athletic mogul is involved in a unique situation this fall. He will relinquish the coaching reins in an unusual early season switch necessitated by his pending U.S. Army tour as a commissioned officer in the reserves. Aide George Sharpe is scheduled to replace Boyd.

With the retirement of 22-year coach Gene Konley at Rochester — he's now overseeing the Utica schools' athletic operation — the Rev. John Rakoczy at Orchard Lake St. Mary becomes the dean of the county grid mentors in terms of service (13 campaigns) and victories 65 out of 97 tries.

However, Ivy Loftin (Royal Oak Dondero), Shada at St. James and West Bloomfield's Art Paddy each has 58 triumphs or more in 9-11 years and could pass Fr. Rakoczy's win total within the next season or two. Only Shada (among the three) has a better percentage.

Changes have been made at six schools with five coaches making their county debuts this week. Dick Tyler is returning to the Farmington head job that he had in 1965.

The new men are Doug Holcomb at Lake Orion, Bill Norton (Brother Rice), Jim Kapp (Rochester), Charles Pratt (Oak Park) and Dave Horner (Holly).

Also becoming varsity mentors this season after a year of guiding the fledgling football fortunes of new schools with jayvee schedules are Dave Coatta (Bloomfield Hills Lahser), George Perry (Waterford Mott), Six Fox (Bil Roepoer) and Darrell Harper (Southfield Lathrup).

Hoople Likes Upsets to Start as Usual

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Peerless Prognosticator

Egad, friends, here we are on the threshold of another challenging pigskin season for the Hoople Football Forecast.

The college clubs this year are bigger, faster and smarter than ever, and while most of the incoming freshmen are still trying to find their way from the dining halls to the dorms, several of the top-flight elevens are preparing to meet head-on!

The kickoff weekend matches such well-regarded teams as Wyoming's Cowboys (10-0-0 in 1967) and always rugged Nebraska, high-scoring Houston and optimistic Tulane, and Georgia's determined Bulldogs and the Tennessee Vols, the defending Southeastern Conference champs.

The opening contest in Atlantic Coast Conference competition pits player-rich Wake Forest (32-lettermen) against highly-regarded North Carolina State. In a traditional intrastate battle, those mighty mites of Ohio football — Miami and Xavier — clash at Cincinnati.

Never in the long and illustrious history of the Hoople Forecast—hah-kaff—do I recall a more formidable opening day schedule!

But difficult or no, your favorite correspondent, in consultation with our new assistant, Chet Thinkley, "the human computer," has prepared a perfect card for you—har-rumph!

The Hoople System foresees the day's leading contest providing the season's first upset — kaff-kaff—as the Georgia lads lower the colors of the Tennessee Volunteers. The Bulldogs will prevail 22-19!

At Lincoln, Nebraska, the offense-minded Cornhuskers will edge Wyoming, 28-27, in a thrilling aerial duel!

Now on with the forecast:
Dayton 13, Kent State 7
East Carolina 25, Parsons 6
Houston 21, Tulane 16
Buffalo 31, Iowa State 28
Morehead St. 37, Marshall 13
Nebraska 28, Wyoming 27
Toledo 23, Richmond 7

Sportsmanship, dedication and durability are other key factors in the selection. Every year there are many outstanding players, but few who can fill all of the attributes required for the Bronze Shoe Award.

Last season for the first time there were two choices: twins Doug and Gary Halliday from Royal Oak Kimball. The two honor student linemen are currently at Michigan State University.

Their selection brought to 13 the number of honorees since the award was originated in 1956 when Walled Lake's John Walker was chosen.

PROTOTYPE

During the span the selection has averaged 6-0 in height and 200 pounds. The academic average has been just above 3.0. The only position not represented is end. Quarterbacks have captured five of the awards.

Preceding the Hallidays were Jim Ball, Rochester, 1966 (QB); John Gabler, Kimball, 1965 (HB); Roger Ruminski, Walled Lake, 1964 (T); Ron Ranieri, 1963 (C) and Chuck Lowther, 1962 (QB), both RO Shrine.

Steve Juday, Northville, 1961 (QB); Mike Brown, Ferndale, 1960 (QB); Charley Brown, Pontiac Central, 1959 (G); John Lucadam, West Bloomfield, 1958 (QB); Lou Pavloff, Hazel Park, 1957 (T); and Walker, Walled Lake, 1956 (FB).

DEADLINE

The selection is made at the end of the prep season based on the recommendation of coaches and school administrators. All nominations must be submitted to The Press sports department by Nov. 18.

In addition to receiving a certificate, the honoree has one of his playing shoes mounted in bronze and presented to his high school for the balance of the school year.

In addition, he is eligible to compete for a $1,000 college scholarship presented by Thom McAn Shoes.

Almost without fail, the Oakland County recipients have played college football. Currently, Gabler (University of Michigan) and Ruminski (MSU) are performing for Big Ten teams.

KICKING TEAM—Handling the extra point and field goal chores this fall will be Rollie Garcia (holding) and Jerry Hinsperger. The Chiefs open the season Friday at Midland.

Mud Becomes Astroturf

Huskies Losing Annual Alibi

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — This is the year of the rug.

The University of Washington has made a $300,000 effort to yank the alibi from under rain-fearing football visitors by installing a waterproof carpet of fake grass in its 55,000-seat stadium.

The field's new surface is called Astroturf and is very similar to the material that floors the Houston Astrodome.

But Washington's 1½ acres of rug is open to a sky which has been known to leak off and on. There are Californians who swore there was even a dial on Coach Jim Owens' office marked "off" and "on" and connected directly to a black cloud roosting over the field in perpetual readiness.

A QUAGMIRE

They spoke with fear of venturing north to play in the Washington quagmire. A coach might tell his players the field was just as quag for the Washington Huskies as it was for them, but they never quite believed it.

Astroturf was given a local dry run—well, drip-dry—last season in the high schools' Memorial Stadium downtown. Sixty-seven games were played on the rubber grass, including nine by the professional Seattle Rangers, and not one halfback was lost in a mudhole.

Just one serious injury — a pro player suffered a ruptured spleen — was recorded in 2,500 man-hours of football action. In one stretch of four games, neither a trainer nor a doctor was called on the field.

The only equipment switch has been in the shoe department. Experiments last year evolved the use of a soccer-type shoe with multiple small cleats. These give the player what he likes to call "a hold" on the surface for quick turns but permits the foot to yield slightly when the leg is hit.

It cuts down on knee injuries, one of football's occupational hazards.

Because visiting teams will have only their usual cleated sneakers, Washington has stocked 200 pairs of the special shoes in assorted sizes. Instead of rushing to the field to inspect the mire on Friday, the guests will spend a pleasant interlude trying on shoes.

Chiefs Need Fast Start

Pontiac Central's chances of a high first division finish in the Saginaw Valley Conference could receive a major boost or setback Friday when the Chiefs open at Midland.

A victory would put the Chiefs in a position to possibly ambush co-favorite Flint Northern the following week at Wisner Stadium. Losses to both Midland and the Vikings would mean a long uphill struggle.

Although Central lost 19 of 32 lettermen from last season's 3-4-2 team that placed seventh in the SVC, the returnees supply good experience.

Some holes will have to be filled with untested performers and the bench strength developed.

BATTLE FOR THIRD

Bay City Central and Flint Northern are expected to dominate the league with Pontiac Central, Midland and Flint Northern battling for the No. 3 spot.

The two Saginaw schools, Flint Southwestern and Bay City Handy are rebuilding.

"We will be short on experience and expect to rely on a strong defense," said PCH coach Paul Dellerba. "Our attitude is very good and could be a factor in overcoming the short points."

There is speed and power in the backfield and experience along the interior line.

Rollie Garcia moves in at quarterback. He played defensive halfback last fall and spelled Larry Froede on offense when the All-Valley player suffered a shoulder injury.

POWER RUNNER

Willie Ramsey, Horace Davis and Larry Moses have good speed. Jerry Hinsperger, a 215-pounder, saw considerable action in 1967 and will give Central the power at fullback. Dellerba likes to have in his control-ball offense.

Bill Gottschall is a veteran lineman who probably will start at one guard. Robert Hunt, 205, will man one of the tackles, Eric Walker, a 274-pound junior, could see action at one of the defensive tackles.

Center probably will go to Joe McMillan. Victor Quince is a veteran end, but this could be one of the positions that need shoring up.

Pre-season reports say that Bay City Central was decimated by graduation. This usually is the case. However, Elmer Engel sees to it that the juniors see plenty of action.

Until someone proves otherwise, the Wolves must be given the edge.

FIELD GOAL

Flint Northern has good speed returning in the backfield and several very capable performers up front. The Vikings lost to BCC on a field goal in the closing minutes last season and will be striving to reverse things this time.

Midland was stocked with underclassmen last season. They will be out to avenge the punishment meted out during their learning season. Flint Central graduated a good share of its starters and also has a new coach.

The Forecast:

1. Bay City Central
2. Flint Northern
3. Midland
4. Pontiac Central
5. Flint Central
6. Flint Southwestern
7. Arthur Hill
8. Saginaw
9. Bay City Handy

ON THE BALL—Holding down the center spot this fall for the Chiefs of Pontiac Central will be Joe McMillen, a 5-0, 160-pound senior.

Veterans Vital to PNH, Viking Elevens

Huskies Have Good Backs, Line Problem

A review of the personnel available to coach Dave Schmidt this season gives the impression that Pontiac Northern could have the best football team in its history.

There are some who feel the 1967 team should have been. But it came up short after a roaring start, and although the 5-4 record was PNH's best since the spirited 6-3 effort in 1963, last fall wasn't a good season.

The breakdown was mental probably more than anything else. While injuries took their toll, a disheartening 21-20 defeat at Walled Lake sent the Huskies skidding to a 2-4 closing effort when the tackling and blocking lost their early season sting.

OPTIMISTIC

But Schmidt and his staff approach the 1968 campaign encouraged by a wealth of quick ball carriers and husky defensive linemen.

In 6-0, 220-pound tackler Greg Adsit and 6-0, 190-pound linebacker Leon Conley they have leadership by example. Transfer halfback Hardman Jones — a Pontiac Central standout for two seasons — is another prospect who can spark a team by his performance.

With an unsettled quarterback situation — anyone of five candidates could get the call — the task of inspiring the offense and defense also will be the responsibility of Adsit, Conley and perhaps senior guard Paul King.

King and massive center George Norberg (6-3, 220-pounder) constitute the experience in the offensive line. Even the pass catchers are gone. Building up the blocking has top priority this month in practice.

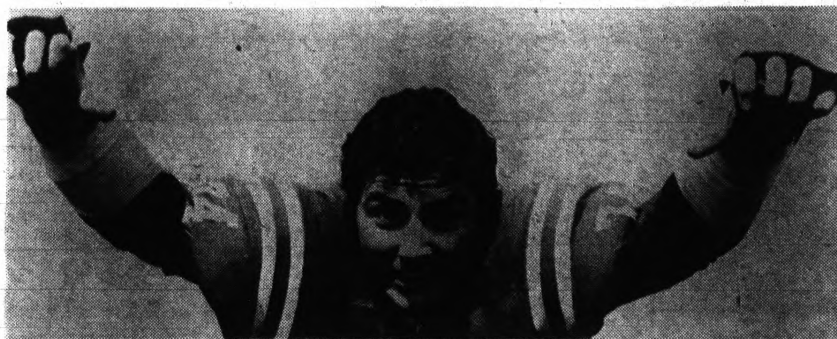

The array of fine running backs — Jerry Woods, Barry Webb, Larry Crivea, Joe McShan, Ed Williams, Rick Chapa and Sandy Seay — complementing the shifty 5-11, 190-pound Jones will go for naught if the line can't open the holes.

VERSATILE

Williams is one of those given consideration for the quarterback berth, although he is highly regarded as a defensive backfield and kick return specialist.

HUSTLING HUSKIE—The steady development of tackle Greg Adsit into a defensive standout has been a rewarding experience for the Pontiac Northern coaching staff. The 6-0, 220-pound senior is expected to be a leading force if the 1968 PNH gridmen are to challenge the school record for victories in one season which is six.

Walled Lake's Defense Key to Title Hopes

At first glance, the temptation is to say the Inter-Lakes League title will be decided the opening night of loop play when Walled Lake starts the quest of its 10th straight championship against visiting Waterford Sept. 27.

The WTHS Skippers are most likely to succeed when and if the Vikings slip. However, ambushes are planned for the top contenders by both Livonia Stevenson and Pontiac Northern.

Farmington is rebuilding with a new coach, Dick Tyler, while newcomer Southfield Lathrup lacks experience and size — being primarily a junior-sophomore unit.

THREE FACTORS

Walled Lake can point to a veteran lineup on defense as reason No. 1 for its favorite's role. A talented backfield crew is reason No. 2, and 21 letterwinners back from an 8-0-1 squad is No. 3.

Waterford boasts the I-L's top quarterback returnee in Brad Potter. The Skippers' high-scoring backfield of last season returns intact and there is plenty of size up front to open some holes.

PNH doesn't expect to relinquish much yardage through the middle and has a top-rated crew of runners.

Stevenson's initial grid campaign in the league last fall found it a top-flight foe for everyone. The Spartans split their four starts and weren't outclassed in any of them.

Lanky signal caller John McFaddin, rangy halfback Jeff Scott and diminutive scatback John Lang are the core of Lathrup's backfield. Tackles Rick Weinberg (5-10, 220 pounds) and Jim Preston (6-2, 190) are the only boys with any size.

BACK AT HELM

Tyler handled Farmington for one season three years ago and now has to start from scratch after the Falcons' one-victory effort last fall. Medical reports have slowed the development of two potential starting linemen.

Junior halfback Lou Henry is a bright spot for the coach. Rick Landacre (fullback) and Bill Mynatt (quarterback) show promise and center Tom Koops will anchor the line.

Coach Darrell Harper at Lathrup will send the Chargers against their I-L rivals with only one season of junior varsity experience. Lumps and lessons loom for them this fall.

The coaches' forecast:

Waterford Pursuing I-L Kings

WTHS Boasts Experienced, Talented Unit

Waterford's explosive attack of 1967 could easily be overshadowed by this year's Skipper offense; if the defense can pick up where it left off, this fall could be the best in WTHS grid history.

The Skippers last season scored four touchdowns or more in five of their nine games. Included was a record 54-7 thrashing of arch-rival Kettering in the finale despite treacherous footing.

The defense in the final three games never yielded more than one six-pointer, though this performance perhaps was tainted by the muddy playing conditions. Still, it was a significant improvement and a big factor in WTHS' winning record (5-3-1).

But focal point No. 1 in discussing the new Skippers' roster has to be the offensive backfield. Two-year starter Brad Potter will direct the attack.

BALL CARRIERS

His handoffs will go to tricky halfback Steve Goit, slender speedster Mike Sheldon and driving senior Neil Blackmer. The crunching power in the backfield will come from 200-pound fullback Bruce Saffron who is backed up by senior Mark Altemann.

In addition, both Goit and Sheldon can pass off their halfback sweeps, or dash downfield to receive the aeriels of Potter. The attack also has a Bill Foley, plus compact terminal Steve Lohff.

Blackmer and Frank Ballard will see extensive duty in the defensive backfield. Junior 195-pounder Jim Main heads the linebacker corps. Third-year veteran center Bruce Carlson will also utilize his 6-2, 205-pound bulk at middle guard.

Walled Lake, Skippers to Clash in Early Tilt

A veteran, crunching defense keynotes what is likely to be the last Walled Lake powerhouse for a few seasons on the Inter-Lakes League gridirons.

Now officially WL Central, the perennial I-L grid champion doesn't have to divide its football talent wealth until next fall when Walled Lake Western will open.

Though the prospect isn't a happy one for second-year mentor Leo Folsom, the youthful coach hopes the 1968 Vikings will avoid the suspenseful performances of last season while still posting another undefeated season.

CLOSE CALLS

In winning eight and tying one, the Vikings registered four victories by one point, and another by one touchdown — usually coming from behind.

If the squad can get its attack going earlier this fall, Folsom would have an opportunity to give more players game experience and thus improve the hold-over Vikings' chances next year.

A stronger 185-pound line-backer John Bubnes is a plus on the defense. Behind him in the secondary are experienced hands Greg Wendell, Bill Welch, Pat Piilo and Dan Spatula.

Anchoring the defensive wall are third-year regular Wally Williams (a 5-10, 195-pounder) and Larry Bigham (6-0, 175).

The running game should be dangerous. Zippy Bob Zaebs and grinding Steve Gebala can comprise a potent one-two ground game. Pushing them for regular berths will be John Orossey and Mike Karner.

Juniors Jack Lewis and Wayne Morenz undoubtedly will see lots of game action, too. Bob Swiatek has first call at the signal caller's berth, but bidding for recognition are junior passers Don Burlingame and Roy Coomer.

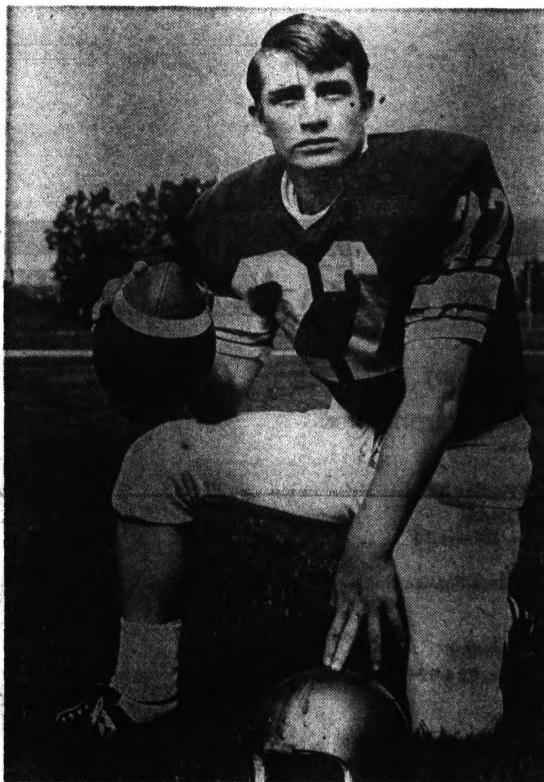

Senior guard Greg Gonlea and the aforementioned Williams and Bigham are talented blockers. Rick Lobert and Bob Deming are other top offensive line candidates.

EXPERIENCED HAND — Quarterback Brad Potter broke into the Waterford Township backfield as a sophomore. The 5-9, 170-pound senior is a key figure if the Skippers are to threaten for the Inter-Lakes League title again this campaign. He has a veteran backfield to work with.

SKIPPING ALONG—Stocky Steve Goit is expected to have Waterford's Skippers soaring if he can improve upon last fall's 13-touchdown performance.

Oxford Working on Scoring

Wildcats Try to Overcome '67 Letdown

Oxford's Wildcats hope they can spread their scoring around more this season and they don't intend to let up in their final Central Suburban grid campaign.

The Wildcats moved into the circuit last season with very little prior exposure to the style of football. They handily won their debut with a six-touchdown romp against Harper Woods.

They were routed by eventual champion Lamphere before blanking Chippewa Valley in start No. 3. Then the letdown came and the Wildcats dropped their last four games — including two league outings.

SLIM ATTACK

Adding to the disappointment was the fact that after their six-pointer spree against Harper Woods, the Wildcats could only cross the goal line three more times all season.

The 1968 Oxford squad will be smaller and less experienced. But coach Gerry Neidlinger does have the usual Oxford dashing speed in the backfield if he can develop the blockers.

Guard Randy Shepard is the team leader. Tackle Chris Kozachik (a 210-pounder) should be full recovered from a broken leg suffered last fall. At center there is 185-pounder Randy Woodbeck.

Another line prospect is 190-pound guard Jerry Podzikowski. On defense, Larry Rumball throws his 205 pounds around at end and tackle; and 185-pound Marty Ostrander likes the middle guard role. Ron McIntyre packs 185 pounds at another tackle lost.

TWO CHOICES

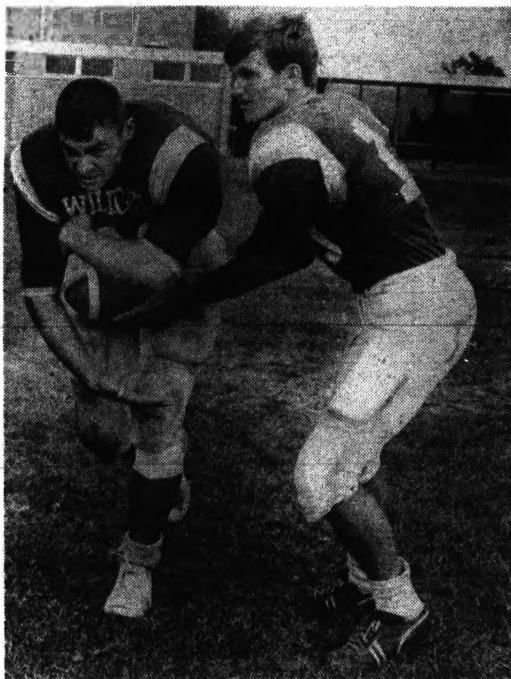

The quarterbacking is up for grabs between senior Larry Schultz and junior Dan Valentine. Dave Darling, a speedy flanker, is one of their targets, and also newcomer Greg Davidson.

New Coach, League

Holly Has Fresh Start

There's a new look for Holly's Bronchos this year.

First of all, the team has a new coach, and secondly, the squad is playing in a newly-organized league.

SEES SURPRISES

Heading the squad this fall is David M. Horner, who says, "This should be a year of many surprises. We feel we have as good a chance as any team."

The favorites in the Flint Metro League are always Ainsworth.

LACK EXPERIENCE

Holly could figure in the title picture but the Bronchos will have to rely on players with only reserve experience to do it.

Among the 10 holdovers' are three linemen and a big fullback.

The linemen are tackle Ted Witte (6-1, 225), guard Tim Strigrow (6-2, 195) and center Jim Bradley (6-0, 200), while the fullback is Tim Burns, a 6-1, 195 pounder. All are seniors.

A couple of prospects are transfer student Dan Groh, a 5-10, 185-pound halfback, and junior halfback Tom Roeder, a 5-9, 160 pounder.

Pontiac Catholic to Rebound

Titans Hoping to Improve in Speed, Size

Watch for the Titans of Pontiac Catholic to rebound this year in the Northwest Catholic League race.

The Green-and-White finished fourth last year with a 3-4 mark, but they figure to more than turn that mark around this fall.

MORE EXPERIENCE

The school was new last fall and coach Mel Larsen was new to the Titans, so it figures with experience all around this year's club will be tough.

"We don't have a great deal of depth," says Larsen, "but with no injuries we should make a good showing. We have better size and speed than last year."

FINAL CAMPAIGN

Another thing the Titans have going for them is that they'll be bowing out of the Northwest loop after this season and they'd like to leave with their heads high.

From a depth standpoint, Larsen has 10 lettermen returning and there's a lot of quality in those 10.

Along the line he has tackle Larry Klein (6-0, 200), center Charles Amshay (6-0, 180), guard Biff Martin (5-10, 165) and end Dave Bierlein (6-1, 175).

MORE CANDIDATES

Some of the other linemen who figure prominently in Larsen's plans are guards Rick Polmear (5-8, 150) and Larry Boyer (5-10, 150), tackle Cliff Linsenman (5-10, 170) and end Kelly Dean (6-0, 155).

Sparkling a talented backfield will be speedster Tim Boyer, a 5-10, 160-pound junior, who led the team with more than 800 yards total offense last season.

COVERING UP — Defensive back Rudy Martinez dives on a loose ball during a practice session with his Pontiac Catholic teammates. Martinez is a 5-7, 135-pound junior.

Five new opponents will appear on Central Michigan University's 1969 football schedule including Western Michigan, Northern Iowa, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Akron and Indiana State.

Grid Numbers Thinner at Waterford Our Lady

The bench will be almost deserted when the Lakers of Waterford Our Lady take the field this fall.

Only 24 candidates are on hand and coach Mike Boyd is keeping his fingers crossed that the injury bug will bypass his thin squad.

ENTERING ARMY

Boyd, 26, will have something else on his mind, too. He's slated to enter the U. S. Army Oct. 11, the halfway point in the schedule, so the last half of the campaign will be handled by assistant coach Joe Sharpe.

Boyd's a first lieutenant and he'll report to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, Ind. "We play our games on Saturday night, and I'll try to get weekend passes," said Boyd.

THIN NUMERICALLY

Young Mike, whose basketball team advanced to the semifinals last spring, has some talent on the squad, but it's a small team in numbers and therein could lie some problems.

He'll put together one of the best backfields in the league. Whether it'll perform effectively is another question.

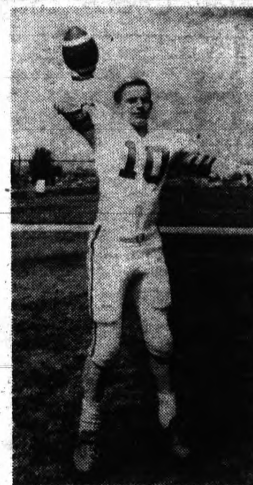

There's a shortage of linemen on the Laker squad, and without the manpower up front, the best runners are nothing.

Heading the backfield talent is quarterback Jim Tracey, a 5-10, 203-pound sophomore, who'll be working with junior Mike Webster (5-8, 165) and seniors Jim Hagan (5-10, 175) and Roy Lilley (5-8, 160).

HOLDOVER LINEMAN

The only holdover on the line is tackle Jon Weston, a 5-10, 185-pounder. Bidding for jobs on the line will be tackles Pat Harris, a 5-8, 158-pound junior, and 210-pound junior Len Methner, along with guard Bryan Sauve (5-8, 150), a junior, and end Pat McColgan, a 5-10, 155-pound junior.

The Lakers' hopes are tied to the ability of the newcomers to step into starting positions. If they mature rapidly, the season could have its bright spots. Otherwise, another 1-7 season could be in the offing.

TOP TITAN — Heading the Pontiac Catholic Titans as they open the season this week will be quarterback Herb Larson, a 5-11, 155-pound junior. 11x19.5 zinc—11 outline

Thin Eaglets Ready

Cyman Leads OLSM Eleven in '68 Race

Coach Fr. John Rakoczy of Orchard Lake St. Mary looks over his 1968 roster and begins to hope that there'll be few, if any, opportunities to use the school's health insurance policy this fall.

Injuries represent a part of football that Coach Fr. Rakoczy and the Eaglets could well do without this campaign.

THIN SQUAD

The Eaglets are thin this year. That's nothing new for OLSM, really, but it is if the injury bug invades a camp.

Last year, the Eaglets went through the season with just 15 regulars and they won the Northwest Catholic League championship with a 7-0 record. "We had only one injury," offered Fr. Rakoczy.

The successful OLSM coach isn't in the habit of talking about championships for the Eaglets, but odds are they'll figure prominently in the '68 race.

Essentially, the team is much the same as last year. From a number standpoint, it's almost identical. Same for quality. This edition may lack a bit of experience, since there are only four seniors on the team.

ALL-STATERS GONE

Gone is All-State center John Wojtya, but returning is another potential All-Stater in fullback Tad Cyman, a bruising 6.3 185-pounder, who has won two letters with the Eaglets.

Cyman has to have a big year for the Eaglets to prosper, and the same goes for quarterback Mick Krogulecki, a 5-10, 155-pound junior.

Another likely backfield performer will be Dale Roman, a 5-9, 153-pound junior.

It's take your pick in the Northwest Catholic League. Orchard Lake St. Mary (7-0) is the defending champion and EAGLET STARS—Two of the veterans on the Orchard Lake St. Mary squad are center Ed Wojtya and quarterback Mick Krogulecki, and they'll hold starting assignments when the team opens the season Sunday.

the Eaglets have enough talent to win it again, or at least make the challengers know they've been in a fight.

LIKELY SUCCESSOR

The most likely successor to the Eaglets on the throne is St. Francis de Sales, which came on strong last season to finish a game behind OLSM. St. Francis has a handful of key performers returning and the coaches have put the finger on the Monarchs to rise to the top this season.

Picked to give the Monarchs a run for all the marbles are OLSM, Farmington Our Lady, Ferndale St. James and Pontiac Catholic, not necessarily in that order.

After that it looks like Waterford Our Lady, Detroit St. Rita and Royal Oak St. Mary.

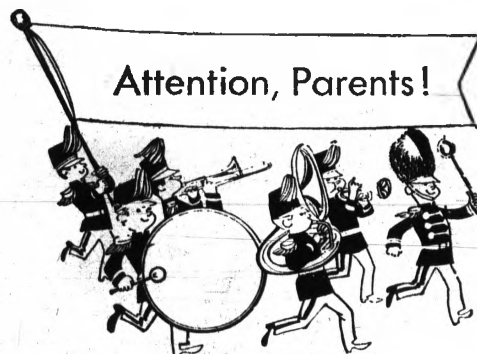

A surprise in the group could be St. Rita, which has a big crop of veterans back from last year's squad that finished last at 0-7. For a reversal, however, the Vikings would have to develop a winning attitude. They'll find out quite early how they stand, since St. James is first on the schedule (Sept. 14).

NORTHWEST CATHOLIC

The consensus:
1. St. Francis de Sales
2. Pontiac Catholic
3. Orchard Lake St. Mary
4. Ferndale St. James
5. Farmington Our Lady
6. St. Rita
7. Waterford Our Lady
8. Royal Oak St. Mary

Avon Hopeful; New Coach at Rochester

19 Lettermen Give Jackets Bright Hopes

Coach Bob Young had Avondale's Yellow Jackets going at a .500 clip and then the defense let up and the offense stalled in the last three games of 1967.

From that 3-6 unit 19 experienced performers return and Young rightly can expect improvement. It's doubtful the Yellow Jackets can be an Oakland A League title contender unless the quarterbacking shapes up faster than expected.

S * * *

To this end, new assistant coach Jim Boreland (four-year regular at Western Michigan) is working closely with the backfield and hoping that Larry Davis, a diminutive senior, can get the offense started.

Also in the bidding prominently is junior Craig Medlin.

BLOCKERS RETURN

Helping the quarterbacks' cause will be the presence of veterans directly in front of them along the line. Junior center Dan Barker is 6-1 and weighs 235. Senior guards Gary Monroe and Gary Chevalier both top 180 while juniors John Williford and Dave Sutherland add depth at the positions.

Tackles Todd LaRose and Ken Walker pack 185 and 190 pounds in their frames. Aiding in passing protection and providing power running will be Clyde McCauley (6-2, 200 pounds) and Gary Price (5-8, 191). McCauley is a quick tailback.

Hard-hitting roverback (on defense) Billy Lester — a two-year regular — can fill in as a ballcarrier when needed. Stu Fraser adds speed to the backfield.

Adding still more punch both ways will be 6-2, 190-pound end Dwight McLaughlin (brother of standout 1967 linebacker-pass catcher Duane).

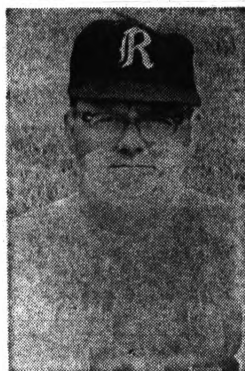

Avondale potentially could be an important factor in deciding the O-A title. If the field generalship and passing game are forthcoming from the quarterback candidates, the Yellow Jackets may wear the crown at season's end.

BOB YOUNG

TEERING UP FOR KICKOFF — Kicking specialist Stan Babiuk (83) shows teammate Mike Hall how he wants the ball held on the flat tee as Rochester prepares all phases of its game for Friday night's kickoff at Utica Stevenson. The 6-0, 180-pound Babiuk is in his first season of grid action although he is a senior on the Falcons' roster. Hall is a junior.

Veterans Lacking

Falcons Could Surprise

A new coach, a new system plus a lack of experience depth and returning linemen don't paint a bright picture for the Rochester football team.

However, there are some rosy factors that tint the scene just enough to cast away any drabness. The Falcons could soar high if the fledglings don't tumble badly the first few times out of the nest.

Quarterback Mike Scally's return and the imposing figures of Mike Maten and Jon Nugent along the offensive line are definite pluses.

Speedster Gary Miller from the track team and slugger Stan Babiuk from the baseball squad are attempting to gear their talents to the gridiron this fall. Their raw natural ability could prove a big boost to the Falcons.

POSITIONS

Miller will run from the tailback slot; and Babiuk's 6-0, 180-pound physique will be stationed at an end slot, and he will also handle the team's kicking chores.

Another big boy on the roster is defensive regular John Major, a 235-pounder. Russ Gill returns, in the secondary, and Ted Malkasian shows promise as a linebacker.

New mentor Jim Kapp inherited 22 letterwinners from veteran (now retired) mentor Gene Konley whose 1967 squad was 7-2 and the runner-up in the Oakland A League.

Mike Hall and Rod Thiel are expected to see lots of duty in the I-formation backfield. Guard Barney Chapman is a 6-0, 180-pound junior who is getting a good look from the coaches.

Mike Fitzwilson is a lanky threat as a pass catcher and can also run with the pigskin. Chris Diener is a 6-3, 170-pound aerial target.

There is good size available along the line. Roger Mouthaan, Bob Denz, Paul Kowaleski and Mike Moeller all top the 200 limit. Moeller is the biggest at 6-2 and 240.

Rochester plays three of its first four games away from home and this could be determining factor in the young squad's development.

Orion Hopes Rise

Dragons Priming Fire

The best thing that could happen to the Lake Orion gridmen may have transpired last November. It was a 14-0 triumph over Oxford in the final game of the season—the first victory for the Dragons in three seasons.

Although Lake Orion has changed its head coach (and also athletic director) since that long-awaited victory, 20 players who earned letters last season are back.

Among them are regular quarterback Bill Baker, four-touchdown scorer Chuck Whippo (155-pound halfback), lanky Rick Toles (6-2, 190), linebacker George Trim and tackle Mike Bracken (the cocaptains this fall), and hard-nosed 215-pound middle guard Walt Hagelin (who also boots extra points).

GOOD NUCLEUS

This is a solid nucleus—unheard of in recent seasons at Orion. Complementing this group will be a group of junior varsity regulars with a glossy winning record last season.

Over-all, the Dragons aren't big and they're not known as having exceptional speed. New coach Doug Holcomb is stressing fundamentals to achieve sustained execution.

Tom Perry, Jim Luebbert and Jerrell Hollens are returning ball carriers who could ease the work burden for Whippo. Chuck Snarey (a 200-pounder) and Dan Eichenberg (170) provide blocking experience up the middle.

John Peck is a 180-pound returning guard and 190-pounder Rich Parsons and 195-pound Tull Lasswell are scrapping for a tackle slot. Gary Roberts and Ray Rogers are tight end hopefuls.

Lake Orion won't be considered an Oakland A League title prospect, but the Dragons appear certain of noticeably improving upon their win totals of recent seasons.

BULLETS FROM BAKER

— Lake Orion pass receivers will have to handle the bullet-like passes of letterwinning quarterback Bill Baker. The 6-0 165-pounder took his lumps last fall when the pass protection broke down.

FINDS HOLES — Halfback

Tom Perry promises to be a bright spot for Lake Orion this season with his rushes through the holes opened by his teammates along the line. Perry is a 6-1, 180-pounder in his first varsity season.

Utica, Romeo See Upward Swing in Oakland-A

Juniors Key to Chieftain '68 Success

The initiation of Utica into the Oakland A League football realm was a rough one for the Chieftains and coach Bob Dilday.

Their 3-6 and sixth-place finish in 1967 was a big comedown after the highly successful succeeding campaigns in the Bi-County circuit; the 16 returning veterans this fall have some pride to recapture.

Dilday is confident the squad can regroup its talents, but a lack of depth likely will betray any title aspirations of the Chieftains. The coach's son Rob, the senior quarterback, and his partner on the snap of the pigskin, center Dave Walsh (a 175-pound senior), will share the leadership responsibilities.

Junior Bill Reynolds likely will rate one of the slots next to the center after earning a letter last fall. Rangy pass catcher Bruce Harms is another junior slated for regular duty along the line.

RETURNEES

Two juniors expected to carry the ball again are Dave Hall and Dick Redd. Sophomore Jim Ball at 6-0 and 185 has the size to become a standout on defense, and 10th grader Gary Baginski (5-11, 175) has the moves of a veteran runner.

Three other sophomores destined to be key players if Utica is to improve are Bob Hudgens, Doug Rienas and Bruce Brennan — guard, tackle and end in that order. Vince Norkus probably will have a good shot as a junior guard.

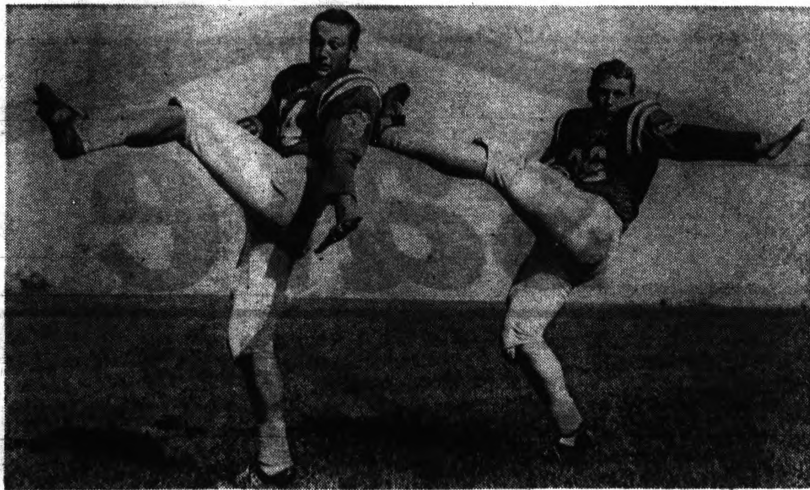

"The Monster" is a defensive tactic popular with many coaches; Dilday has his own version on offense. Junior Larry Kunarski packs 235 pounds on his solid 6-5 frame. His No. 1 assignment is to clear the holes from his fullback slot for his shiffler backfield mates.

Kunarski also will provide the Chieftains with a powerful weapon on plunges for short yardage; and quarterback Dilday (an All-League selection as a junior) certainly can benefit from the fullback's blocking capacity in passing situations.

Nor is Kunarski the only Chieftain with bulk. Junior Sam Eaman is a 6-1, 240-pound tackle hopeful, and another line prospect is junior 6-2, 215-pounder Greg Carpenter.

BULLDOG BROTHERS—Romeo can throw a pair of high-stepping brothers at its Oakland A League rivals. Senior Gary Lebedig (left) is a rangy, letterwinning tailback while his stockier brother Fred (215-pound junior) goes at the full-back slot. The Bulldogs will make their debut under new coach Frank Wisniewski Friday at Lapeer in a nonleague opener for both schools.

Bulldogs Try Junior Corps, New Mentor

The Bulldogs never quite found their bite last season when they moved into the Oakland A League for the first time, and new Romeo coach Frank Wisniewski is confident of an improved showing.

A good corps of runners and a positive attitude in general give him encouragement. The Bulldogs have a talented crew of juniors bidding for berths and likely to prevent any problem of senioritis among the veterans.

GOOD CHANCES

Two junior linemen, Dan Burzynski (6-7, 200-pound end) and Dave Glowacki (6-0, 185-pound guard), have excellent opportunities to earn starting berths alongside returning seniors.

They include a pair of tackles — 225-pound Joe Malburg and 200-pound Norm Fay, split end Fred Castle (6-1, 180) and 6-1 center Don Ritter, a 215-pounder.

Mike Semp, a senior, and Mike Schmidt, a junior, are backfield hopefuls.

Despite the influx of junior prospects, Wisniewski is concerned that there will be a lack of depth on the Romeo squad. Friday's opener at Lapeer should be a good test for the Bulldogs.

What are the three things most important to your family's financial welfare?

SAVING . . . BORROWING . . . INSURING . . . and you can do all three under one roof, all at one time, in the friendly, understanding atmosphere of your credit union.

SAVE where your money earns generous dividends . . . and where ALL dividends go back to the credit union owner-members.

BORROW where your loan usually costs less . . . because a credit union is owned by its members, and there is no point in charging yourself high interest rates.

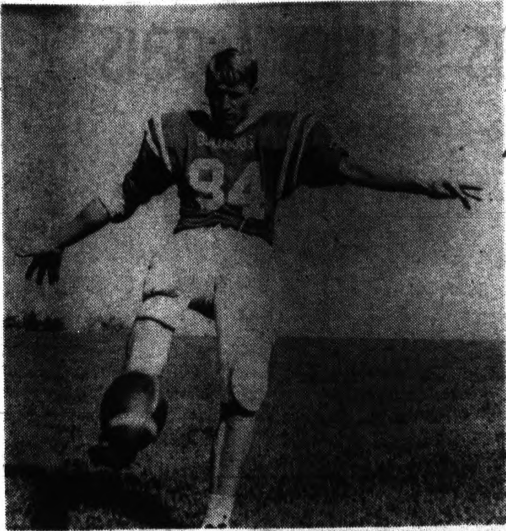

INSURE where qualified members get life insurance with their savings — and life insurance with their loans — as an extra dividend at no extra cost.

IT PAYS TO SAVE OR BORROW AT YOUR

PUNTING THE PIGSKIN — Romeo coach Frank Wisniewski is banking on 6-1, 180-pound senior Fred Castle to put a big foot into the pigskin in punting situations. The solidly built lineman also is considered a fine prospect at an offensive end-slot, both as a blocker and receiver.

Madison Rates Backing for Oakland-A Crown

Madison, the only squad to defeat Troy's 1967 Oakland A League championship eleven, is the choice of the coaches to dethrone the Colts this fall.

However, it won't be easy for the Eagles of veteran mentor Frank Crowell. Clawson, Troy and Rochester all are waiting to ambush the favorites.

Expected improved play by Lake Orion, Avondale and possibly Romeo and Utica give indications that this will be a tougher race than last season when four clubs were in contention for a share of the crown, the final night.

Madison has to replace departed signal caller Derrick Carriere to uphold its favorite's role. The return of hard-hitting Jerry Caudill and Doug Meadows, plus lanky end John Havrelko will help.

Meadows tallied eight touchdowns and Havrelko four last season. Some big junior and sophomore linemen gained valuable experience last season, too.

Troy, too, has to replace talented passer Gary Griffiths plus several other key backs. Coach Bob McElreath may need more than the Colts' high spirits to replace the losses in the short time since their delayed start of practice last week.

Two contenders with no signal caller problems are Rochester and Clawson. Mike Scally heads the Falcons who just missed the O-A title last season by virtue of close losses at Clawson and Troy.

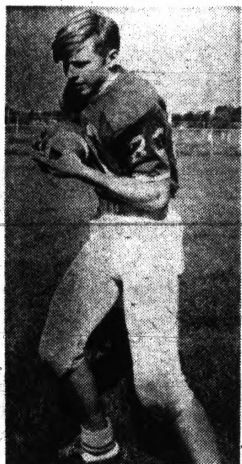

Clawson's offense is commanded by two-year regular Mike Heist. The Trojans have 14 returnees from last year's 5-3 runner-up (three-way tie) unit.

Offensive tackle Don Songer (6-2, 185) and halfback Bill Weakley (6-0, 175) also have earned two monograms. Larry Niedowicz is a quick two-way back.

Rob Dilday, an all-league selection last fall, is back under center for Utica; and Lake Orion hopes Bill Baker can develop a sustained offense in his second season.

Avondale and Romeo both have good material but must display the leadership at the quarterback post to become good teams.

Next year the loop will add four teams — Oxford, Bloomfield Hills Lahser, Madison Heights Lamphere and a new Rochester school — and divide into northern and southern divisions. A playoff will determine the championship.

RECEPTION — End Harold Clason expects to be on the receiving end of numerous passes this fall when Avondale bids for a spot among the Oakland A League leaders.

West Bloomfield Eleven Has Title Goals

Lakers Hoping to Avert Similar Slump of '67

A late slump forced the Lakers of West Bloomfield to settle for second place last year, but they're hopeful they can put a squad together that will jell for the entire campaign in this year's Wayne-Oakland League race.

The Lakers rolled up five wins in a row and then were held to a tie by Clarkston and lost to Bloomfield Hills Andover to wind up at 5-1-1. That skid enabled Milford to sneak in and take the title with a 6-1 mark.

BACKS GONE

Coach Art Paddy lost a lot of the backfield talent that spurred the Lakers in '67, but most of the linemen are back and the West Bloomfield squad is looking forward to the '68 campaign.

The Lakers will have a lot of weight up front in tackles Jim Taperek, a 6-2, 208-pound senior, and Terry Urquhart, a 6-3, 247-pound junior.

Also up front will be all-league performers Kevin Gawronski, a 5-11, 165-pound guard, and center Mike Walosin, a 5-6, 161-pounder.

Paddy has one veteran end in Jim Bays (6-2, 190) and the other end slot is likely to go to Steve Westjohn, a 6-2, 182-pound senior.

QB RETURNS

Guiding the Lakers' attack will be another all-leaguer in quarterback Robin Brennan, a 5-10, 173-pound senior.

Two players who'll see a lot of action in the running game with Brennan will be Terry Conley (5-9, 155) and Ed McKenna (5-11, 184), both seniors.

Like a lot of teams, Paddy and the Lakers are not blessed with depth, so their status in '68 could well depend on how well the squad avoids injuries.

Over-Exposure Is Fear of TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Like quiz shows and shoot-'em-up westerns, the bloom — and the boom — are gone for football television. Fan interest is at a peak, stadiums are a sellout, but there's a lag in the sponsor's dollar.

"All of us are in trouble — we're hurting," one television executive lamented Monday.

"The three major networks are committed to around $110 million worth of football television this season. They will be lucky to sell three-fourths of it."

"I'm afraid football TV has reached the saturation point — it's over-exposed," said an official of another network. "Sponsors don't come running any more — you have to chase them and twist their arms."

Andover Has Talent

One of the hottest teams in the area at the tailend of last season was Bloomfield Hills Andover.

The Barons won three of their last four contests, closing out the campaign with a convincing 32-6 verdict over Wayne-Oakland League runner-up West Bloomfield.

MISSING FACES

Gone are a lot of folks from that team, but coach Bob Kefgen, starting his second season, has some promising talent on hand from which he'll build for this campaign.

Among the holdovers are two-year ends Larry Appleby (6-0, 180) and Rick Stahr (6-1, 170), both seniors, and they'll likely be on the receiving end of passes tossed by junior quarterback Scott Riley, a 5-9, 155-pounder.

OTHER CANDIDATES

Among the line candidates are Dick Souther, a 6-2, 196-pound tackle, and guard Gordie Cherup, a 5-11, 225-pound senior.

Halfback Jeff Roley, a 5-9, 160-pounder, is after a running-back spot along with Chuck Palania, a 5-7, 185-pounder.

DEFENSIVE SPOTS

A couple of players likely to gain positions on the defensive team are Tyron Howard (5-8, 150) and John Schmidt (6-2, 175).

"We're looking forward to a winning season," says Kefgen, admitting however, that a lack of depth could slow the Barons.

With that fast finish the Barons wound up with a 4-4 record and placed fourth in the league with a 4-3 mark.

MIDDLE MEN—Milford's plays this fall will start with this pair of seniors, center Mark Crabb, 6-0, 200-pounder, and quarterback Bob Clinard (5-11, 150), cocaptain of the Redskins.

New Coach for Brighton

Young Line at N'ville

Northville is in one of those situations where the record will depend on the progress of a young team.

Coach Alex Klukach has probably the most experienced backfield in the league, but he's a little on the thin side in the linemen department.

And therein lies the Mustangs' problems. If the linemen up from the reserves fill the gaps left by the graduation of 14 lettermen, the Mustangs will be tough. If not, it'll just be a so-so season.

Heading the backfield corps is halfback Bary Deal, a 6-0, 175-pound senior and he'll be working with quarterback Stan Nirider (6-0, 170), Craig MacDermaid (5-8, 160) and Terry Mills (5-9, 150).

ANCHOR LINE

Klukach will build a line around tackle Fred Hicks, a 6-2, 210-pounder, and guard Glen Heffner, a 6-0, 180-pounder who has lettered for two years at that position.

Some players in the 'propable starter' category are ends Craig Turnbull (6-0, 160) and Bob Hutcherson (5-10, 170), guard Brian Myers (6-0, 180) and tackles John Hotchkins (6-3, 220) and Marc Sheffer (6-1, 190).

Brighton is operating under a new head coach, Daniel M. Lantz, who is busy at present familiarizing himself with the Bulldogs.

Dogfight Looms Again in W-O

Milford Still Seeks Blocking Candidates

Coach Jerry Ganzel of Milford has the same problem he thought he had last year which could be good news for him but a bad omen for the remainder of the league.

When Jerry and the Redskins prepared for the 1967 campaign, the interior of the line was strictly, outside of veteran tackle Robin Andrews, a question mark.

The question mark was erased early, however, and the Skins went on to post an 8-1 record and they won the Wayne-Oakland League championship with a 6-1 mark.

The team is starting in almost the same way this fall, Ganzel lost several of the players who occupied the middle part of the line last season, a group that cleared the holes throughout the season for a crop of fleet running backs. Among those who departed was Andrews.

TOP SCORER

So, Ganzel now has the task of finding some talent to man those line positions, along with finding a replacement for halfback Bob McFarland, who led the county in scoring last year with 113 points.

The prospects are that Ganzel will find the talent he's looking for.

TOP CANDIDATES

Likely to fill the tackle spots are Larry Cece (6-2, 195), Rick Sharpe (6-2, 245) or Art Hill (5-11, 185), all seniors, while Ralph Ives, a 5-10, 170-pound senior, is expected to go at one of the guard slots.

A couple of other line candidates are Mark Crabb (6-0, 200) at center and Doug Powers (6-0, 170) at end. Both are veterans.

VET AT QB

Handling the club and looking for his third letter will be quarterback Bob Clinard, a 5-11, 150-pounder.

Three players likely to see action in the backfield with Clinard are Matt Partridge (6-0, 180) and Jon Newcomb (5-11, 155), both juniors, and senior fullback Larry Vick, a 5-11, 160-pounder.

The Skins prospered with quick openers up the middle last year, and it appears that Ganzel's present crop of players has the weight and mobility to continue that type of attack.

Andover Rates Rival's Boost

Kettering to Debut in Place of Holly

The battle for the Wayne-Oakland League football title was a real dogfight last season, and the outlook is for more of the same in '68.

But it'll be different, too. The big difference will be the presence of the Captains of Waterford Kettering, who are replacing Holly in the W-O lineup.

PLAYING KEY ROLE

Kettering, always a strong club, figures to play a key role in deciding who takes the championship, and others who'll be around the top are West Bloomfield, Milford, Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills.

Bloomfield Hills could be the real sleeper. "The way they handled us they should be tough," said coach Art Paddy of West Bloomfield a few days ago.

LOPSIDED LOSS

Paddy was referring to the 32-6 pasting he and the Lakers suffered in their final game of the '68 campaign, a loss that knocked them out of the championship.

West Bloomfield is strong again. Ditto Milford and Clarkston. Kettering, Bloomfield Hills and Northville should provide a few headaches.

Brighton and Clarenceville look like contenders for the cellar-dwelling slot.

South Lyon 11 Looks Strong

A Class B grid powerhouse may be emerging in the southwest corner of Oakland County at little South Lyon.

Cochampions of the Southeast Conference with a 4-0-2 mark in 1967, the Lions' efforts were dimmed by three losses in outside competition.

Although the leading ball carriers and pass catcher are gone from that team's backfield, coach Bob Keezer has 18 letterwinners returning and can point to the best size in the school's history.

FOUR CAPTAINS

Another key factor is the return of well-built signal-caller Dave Brandon, a 6-2, 200-pound junior passer-runner. Joining him as one of four captains is fullback Larry Baran, 5-11 and 185.

End Ray Tiernan (6-1, 165) and linebacker Jim Riordan (5-11, 185) are the other leaders.

Three linemen the runners plan to follow downfield are tackles Larry Janes (6-0, 235) and Mike Byrd (6-1, 205) (who also doubles as a tough linebacker) and guard Dave Penley, an honor student who stands 5-11, 205.

On defense the Lions are building around 6-0, 255-pound Leon Lusk. Even sophomore halfback hopeful Glen Wiseman gets in the picture with his 6-1, 205-pound frame.

LEADING THE WAY — Co-captain Ralph Ives, a fast guard at 5-10, 170 pounds, will be among the Milford linemen clearing the way for some speedy backs this fall. Ives is a senior.

Joe Shanabrook New Principal

Joe Shanabrook of Waterford Township, an assistant football coach at Avondale High School for five years, has been named principal at Dryden High School.

He replaces Dick Krebs as principal. Shanabrook has a BA in education from Buffalo and earned his MA at Eastern Michigan University.

While at Avondale, Shanabrook also was head golf coach for four years, compiling a 39-25 record. He also coached the junior varsity basketball squad for three seasons.

He has announced the programming of golf and tennis as additional varsity sports at Dryden — joining football, basketball, baseball and track. Shanabrook doesn't plan to involve himself actively as a coach in the Dryden program, although he will be an avid supporter of it.

DOWNTOWN PONTIAC — ROCHESTER — DRAYTON PLAINS — WALLED LAKE — MILFORD — CLARKSTON — LAKE ORION — WATERFORD — UNION LAKE

DEFENSIVE HUDDLE—Opposing runners will have to look at this quintet when they take on Clarkston this fall. Manning the defensive line

Wolves' Nucleus Good

READY TO GO — Halfback Bruce Hardy is one of the runners Clarkston is counting on this fall to pick up the yardage. He's a 5-9, 160-pound junior.

Clarkston Eyes New Title Shot

270-Pounder Among Returning Linemen

Clarkston's Wolves seem stuck on the No. 3 rung on the Wayne-Oakland League ladder.

The Wolves had a chance for the title, or at least a share of it, right to the end last fall, but the chance went down the drain when they dropped a 27-7 verdict to Milford.

That win gave Milford the crown and left the third-place Wolves with a 4-2-1 league mark and an over-all record of 5-3-1.

SEVENTH CAMPAIGNE

Coach Ralph Kenyon is starting his seventh year with the Wolves and he goes into the campaign with a fine array of holdovers from the '67 squad.

Among the veterans is nearly an even split in linemen and backfield talent.

LINE CANDIDATES

Heading the line candidates is tackle Chris Poole, a 6-1, 270-pounder, plus guards Bill Wertman (6-2, 175) and Bill Anderson (6-0, 175).

A couple of candidates for end positions are Eric Hood (6-3, 185) and Mark Walter (5-10, 165).

CARRYING THE BALL

Sparking the backfield will be two-year letter winner Jeff Keyser, a 5-10, 165-pound speedster, who'll likely be working with halfbacks Bruce Hardy (5-9, 160) and Rich Porritt (5-9, 150) and quarterback Steve Warman, a 5-9, 150-pound junior.

The Wolves will be good, but so will Milford, Bloomfield Hills, West Bloomfield and Kettering, just to name a few.

Novi Returnees Expect to Improve Grid Mark

Last year, the Wildcats of Novi had a 2-5-0 records. Don't be surprised if they turn that around this fall.

The 'Cats have handful of three-year players on the squad to they promise to be one of the most experienced squads around.

LEADS WAY

Leading the three-year players is quarterback Gary Boyer, a 5-9, 155-pounder, who'll have with him in the backfield Jon VanWagner, a 6-1, 180-pound speedster and full back Ken Osborn, a 6-0, 170-pounder.

Both tackles and guards are among the holdovers.

Manning the tackle slots will be Joe Morrison (6-0, 190) and Lev Taffalian (6-1, 225), while Doug Keith (5-10, 170) gets the call at one of the guard slots.

The Cats open on the road Friday at Hartland, and then play before the home fans the following week with Churchill providing the opposition.

Tackles Varsity Schedule

Mott Adds Sophomores

Waterford Mott's sophomores broke even with a 4-1 mark on a junior varsity schedule last fall and now will tackle a varsity slate with the addition of a new sophomore crop led by quarterback hopeful Bill Ziem.

The slender aerialist, though, must beat out returning ball handler Gerry McNair who has size and experience in his favor.

Committed to a new league next season, the Pilots will have an independent schedule this season that won't pit them against their older neighbors Kettering and Township.

YOUNG TEAM

Coach George Perry's one comment about this year's crew is "Young!" Despite this, there is talent enough to foster hopes for at least a winning season.

The linemen are led by guard John Cudnohufsky, tackle Eric Ernst and end Bob Schupback. Ernst is the heaviest at 175.

Two heavy newcomers, Paul Cooper at 200 pounds and Mike Baker at 240, will be watched closely as defensive tackle prospects. Junior tackles include Steve Burns and Steve Crumb.

WELL BUILT

Probably the strongest candidate on the Mott roster is fullback Bob Zywicki, a 6-0, 200-pounder. Center Tom Burgess, another junior like Zywicki, packs 190 pounds.

Two other promising runners are Dan Sheldon and fleet Terry Ruffato. Bruce Clifton is slated for duty in the secondary defense.

The Pilots were a spirited bunch and ran up four straight wins last fall before skidding to no wins in their last five starts. If they can regain their drive early this year, the poor finish can be avoided.

Central Michigan University will open its 1968 football season on Saturday, Sept. 14, at Bradley. On Saturday, Sept. 21, the Chips will open their home season by hosting Youngstown.

BACKFIELD MATES—This is a scene likely to be repeated often this fall for Kettering. Taking a handoff in a practice run is halfback Bob Earls from quarterback Paul Curry.

Fatal Heat Strokes Drop Significantly

CHICAGO (AP) — Heat stroke fatalities in football have dropped from an average of six to seven from 1950 to 1965 to about two a year at the present time, according to the American Medical Association.

The decrease, the AMA said, was due to a program by the AMA committee in medical aspects of sports and the national federation of state high school athletic associations.

Football coaches and athletic trainers were advised of the hazards of improper training procedures.

"Working up a good sweat could be fatal to the out-of-shape football player," said the AMA.

HEAT FATIGUE

"The athlete who works out in very warm humid weather is susceptible to heat fatigue caused by depletion of salt and water. The old belief that water should not be drunk during workouts has been discounted."

Failure to replace water and salt lost by the body in strenuous exercise is one way to invite heat exhaustion.

Captains Enter W-O League

"It's just a rebuilding year for us," says coach Jim Larkin of Kettering.

Along with some rebuilding, Larkin and the Captains will also be familiarizing themselves with a new league—the Wayne-Oakland.

The Captains were a powerhouse in the old Tri-County which disbanded a year ago, and the Captains played as an independent last season in posting a 3-6-0 record.

While Larkin says he's rebuilding, he's not implying the Captains won't win some games.

MANY HOLES

He has a number of younger players on the team and they'll have to step in and fill some holes if the Captains are to have a big year. Then, too, there's the matter of a new league.

"I know nothing about the teams," says Larkin, whose squad can't win the title anyway. The Captains were unable to schedule Northville — a member of the W-O—and without that game they cannot figure in the championship picture.

There are 12 lettermen returning as the Captains start their first campaign in the W-O.

HEADS LIST

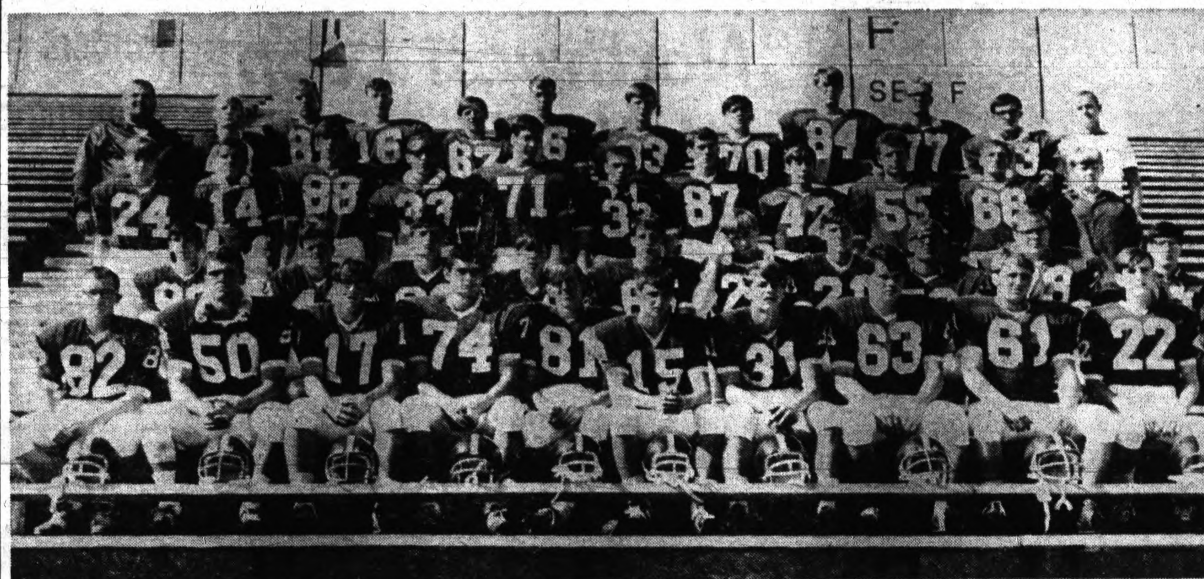

Heading the list are a couple of sharp halfbacks in senior Bob Earl (5-11, 170) and sophomore Bob Cratz (6-1, 180).

Junior Paul Curry (6-0, 160) is slated for duty at quarterback, while a couple other players likely to see a lot of backfield action are Harry Booker (5-11, 170) and Mike Copeman (5-9, 165).

Northwest Loop Well Balanced

Raiders Find Winning Easy

Junior Signal Caller Gets First Call

Balance is the byword in the Northwest Suburban League this season.

Wayne John Glenn and Livonia Franklin shared the top spot last season with 4-1 records, and indications are that no one team will dominate this fall.

RACE FORECAST

The race is likely to shape up this way: John Glenn, Thurston, North Farmington, Oak Park, Livonia Franklin and Birmingham Groves.

With the balance that exists, coaches are agreed that almost anyone could finish last with the same holding true for the top spot.

So Groves, although listed last above, doesn't have that position locked up.

The Falcons have a crop of quality veterans returning and they could move up the ladder if some of the newcomers come through.

Among the Groves' returnees are halfback Greg Wood, ends Scott Roller and Scott Rowley, guard Gary Grenader and tackle Dave Chapman and Russ Foote.

Other runners bidding for jobs are quarterback Mark Shade and halfbacks Mark Curran and Jay Warford.

Franklin has 18 lettermen returning from its title year and among them are backs Gary Sica (5-9, 165) and Pete MacLean (5-8, 155.)

When Central Michigan University meets Northern Michigan University in the 17th annual Red Feather Game in Saginaw (Sept. 28), it will mark the Chips' 16th appearance in the contest.

Coach Ron Holland of North Farmington's Raiders knows he has a major task to build the 1968 squad into the talented teams typical of the 13 Mile Road school.

Losing seasons are almost unheard of at North Farmington. Last year the Raiders were 6-3 but never quite hit the peak the highly successful mentor has produced.

A tough opening loss to Pontiac Northern was a prelude to a 3-2 Northwest Suburban league mark that only earned the Raiders a third place standing.

PNH again looms as their opening test and Holland will probably know just how much building is necessary after that debut. At the moment the big concern is the line.

BIG TACKLE

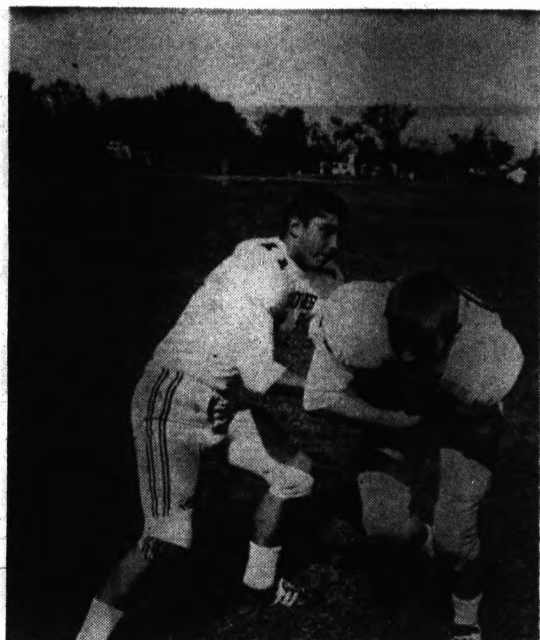

Graduation, injuries and illness have cut significantly into the forward wall ranks. One bright spot, though, is the transfer of 6-3 agile 215-pounder Dave Payne from Bloomfield Hills Lahser. He is a tackle and potentially a good one.

Chuck Batton and Dave Thomas return at the ends. Letter-winner Dan Emmitt, a guard, should get some interior line help from center Mike Cannon plus junior guards Jay Pease and Steve Loe.

Another junior, rangy Bob Hughes, has the first call as the signal caller. Rugged Paul Adamina heads a potentially good running corps that includes Tony Garcia, John Thomas and Rick Toohey.

WORKING OUT—Quarterback Mark Shada plants the ball into the midsection of halfback Bill McClarnon as the two Birmingham Groves stars go through ball-handling exercises.

TAKING OFF—The opposition will see a lot of this big guy this fall. He's senior tackle Dave Payne, a 6-3, 215-pounder and he'll hold down one of the line spots for North Farmington.

St. Lawrence to Retaliate

The Mustangs of Utica St. Lawrence took their lumps in a 2-5 campaign last year, but indications are that they'll dish out a few bruises this season.

Returning are 15 lettermen from '67, including a pair of veteran tackles—Glenn Niederhofer (5-11, 188), a senior, and junior Tim Valin, a 6-0, 200-pounder.

Also on hand in quarterback Paul Marchiano, a 5-9, 160-pound senior, who has lettered twice at that post, plus halfbacks John VanHevel (5-10, 160), Gary Radulski (5-10, 175) and Dennis Thiel (5-8, 155).

TAKES TO AIR—Quarterback Dave Girard of Birmingham Brother Rice is about to turn loose a pass during a practice session. He is one of a couple of candidates for the signal-calling post.

Brother Rice 'Loaded'

Warriors Can Repeat for Central Title

If all goes well and indications are that all will go well, Birmingham Brother Rice will retain its title in the Central Division of the Detroit Catholic League.

The situation at Brother Rice can be summed up in one word—loaded.

STRONG TEAM BACK

The Warriors, who went 7-2 last year and won the league title with a 6-1 mark, have 25 lettermen returning, a mong them regulars from both offense and defense.

One new aspect of the squad will be in the coaching ranks where Bill Norton will assume command. He replaces Joe Pascuzzi, who moved up as health and physical education director of the archdiocese of Detroit.

LEADING SQUAD

Cocaptains of the Warriors will be a couple of two-year performers—Mike Biallas, a 6-3, 200-pound halfback-linebacker, and Dave Girard, a 5-10, 165-pound defensive halfback.

Among the candidates for line jobs are a trio of two-year performers—tackles John Fontanesi (6-2, 235) and Ed Naughton (6-2, 205), plus guard-linebacker Dan Tomlinson (6-0, 205).

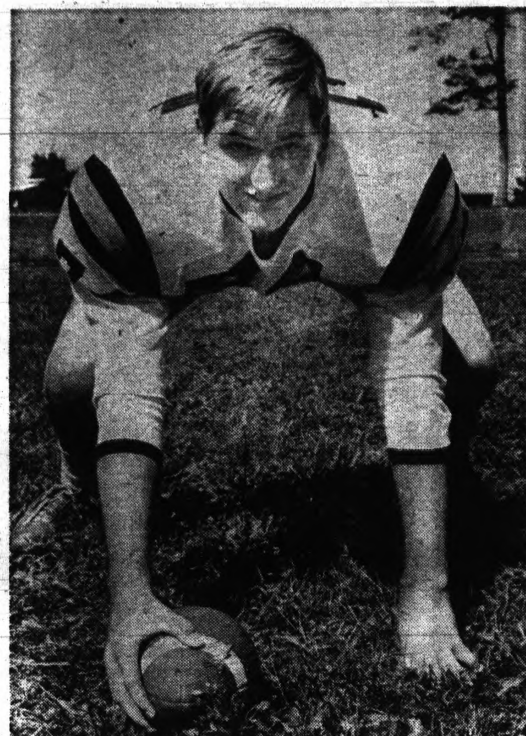

TOP RUNNERS

Among the backs are John Maloney, a 6-2, 170-pound senior who is expected to go at quarterback, Kevin Keating (6-1, 175) and Tom Bruce (5-10, 195).

Jerry Sullivan, a 6-3, 215-pounder, is slated to go at center and defensive tackle, while junior twins Pat and Mike Knuff, are listed for guard and defensive end posts.

Tops among the receivers are Mike McGill (6-5, 210) and speedster Steve Jones (5-9, 165).

The Warriors won't have to wait long to find out how good they are. They take on Notre Dame and U. of D. High in their first two outings. Those two are considered the chief challengers to the Warriors' title.

WARRIORS' CENTER—In the middle of the action this fall for Birmingham Brother Rice will be center Terry Sullivan.

Shrine Thin; St. Lawrence Set Mustangs After Macomb Title

Lack of Reserves
May Slow Knights

The talent thins quickly on the Royal Oak Shrine squad which is tuning for its opener Saturday at Benedictine High in a Catholic League First Division AA contest.

Last year, the Knights posted a 4-3 record and missing from that squad are 22 letterwinners, meaning that coach Al Fracassa will have his hands full filling the gaps.

SOME RETURNEES

He does have 14 returnees so the first unit will be a respectable one, but there's no experience beyond that.

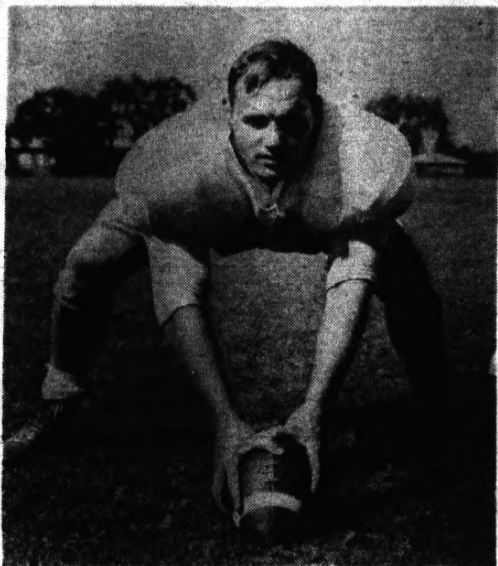

After the quarterback job are Buddy Krause and Bill Simpson, neither of whom had much work last fall, while the other spots in the backfield are expected to go to Bob Lively, Bill Nitschman and Tom Antonow.

COACH OPTIMISTIC

At Utica St. Lawrence, coach Robert Fortin is optimistic as he approaches the opening of the Macomb League.

He has 15 lettermen on hand and the team is expected to battle Marine City Holy Cross and St. Gertrude for the championship.

Paul Marchiano returns at quarterback for the St. Lawrence eleven.

TOP KNIGHT—One of Royal Oak Shrine's leading performers this season is expected to be Allen Kaczowski, a 6-0, 200-pound center.

ON THE BALL—Guard Tom Martin of Royal Oak Shrine is Johnny-on-the-spot as he leaps to cover the ball in a pre-season drill.

THE MAN'S ACTION WATCH . . . GOES
WHERE YOU GO . . . DOES WHAT YOU DO!

ROLEX, the favored watch among sportsmen since 1926. That was the year we patented the Oyster, the first waterproof wrist watch. Today, it's still the finest a man can own. Certain refinements have been made of course. For instance, the Explorer can take pressures equivalent to 330 feet underwater. There's a Rolex that measures speed and distance, there's a Rolex that indicates elapsed time underwater . . . there's a Rolex that's built to stand up to the specific rigors of your sport. Why not let us let you in on the full story soon.

This is the Rolex Explorer. Rugged Oyster Perpetual (waterproof * self-winding) with officially certified 26-jewel chronometer movement. Black dial, heavy-duty luminous markers, stainless steel case. $180. Matching steel bracelet, $15.

Seaholm Small in Comparison

Birmingham Seaholm's Maples slumped badly in coach Alex McInnes' inaugural season at the helm.

The 1968 combine has a three-game losing streak to discard when it suits up for the traditional opener with Birmingham Groves.

McInnes started the 1967 campaign with victories in two of Seaholm's first three starts; but there was only one more win in the next six outings. Being a member of the rugged Southeast Michigan Association doesn't make for a bright picture, either.

This season's Maples appear to be small compared to league rivals Ferndale, Royal Oak Kimball, Southfield and maybe Hazel Park. Brother Rice in the closing game will be another test.

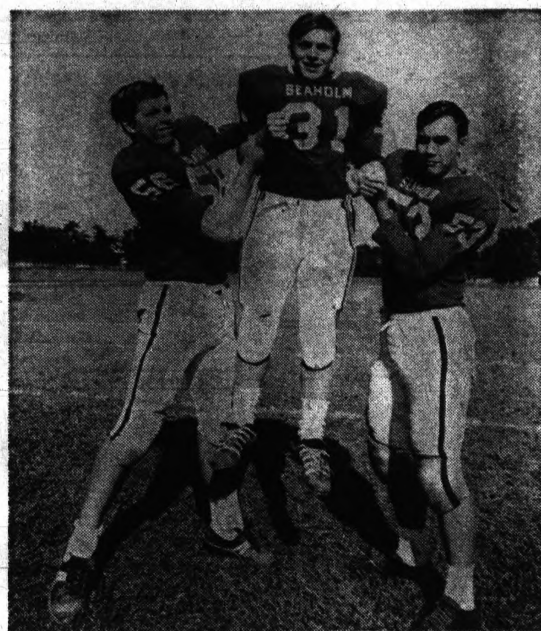

One plus for the Maples should be 6-3, 235-pound tackle Jay Juhrend. Defensive back Dave Robinson (5-9, 175 pounds) and quarterback Dennis O'Neil (5-11, 165) will be the cocaptains.

LETTER WEARERS

Joining them among the 16 returning letterwinners are lanky end Ken Schack (6-0, 180) and promising halfbacks Jim Shettel and Eddie Neff.

Newcomer Chris Myers, a well-built fullback transfer from Cleveland, and junior end Carl Charles at 6-2 and 195 are two other prospects who boast above average size.

Center Paul Tobias is a 5-11, 180-pound senior. Terry Miller is another line prospect who could prove valuable. The other hopefuls include guards Mike Filkins and Dave Reeve, center Jeff Keller and tackle Jim Reddig.

SHOW OF STRENGTH — Two Birmingham Seaholm tackles—Jay Juhrend (left) and Terry Miller (right)—use 5-8 teammate Eddie Neff, a 175-pound defensive halfback, to display their potent arm muscles. Juhrend is a 6-3, 235-pounder while Miller stands 6-1 and weighs 195. All three will see extensive duty for the Maples.

Pick Ferndale to Win Title

The return of the starting 1967 backfield plus five regular linemen make Ferndale the No. 1 pick of the Southeast Michigan Association football race.

However, it's an eager row of rivals waiting for a crack at the Eagles and coach Frank Joranko is the first to admit that the squad is lacking in depth and could use a bit more size to withstand the pounding.

Defending champ Royal Oak Kimball never seems to run out of material and has made two straight successful defenses of SEMA titles under coach Paul Temerian.

Southfield has 13 returning letterwinners from last year's strong runner-up squad. Two hefty tackles and three experienced backs are among the returnees.

Hazel Park went with a crew of massive sophomores and juniors and had some bright moments in last fall's 4-5 season. If coach Chuck Skinner finds a good quarterback, the Vikings will make trouble with standout tackle Marc Pruss (6-4, 235 pounds) leading the charge.

Berkley lost most of the winless unit from last fall. Two solidly built tackles are back in Don Dearing and Vince Chuchetti, but coach Hugh Wilson will go with young passers.

Seaholm also lost heavily at key spots and likely will fight the Bears for fifth place.

Ferndale's talent includes signal caller Bill Screws, who lettered as a sophomore, and speedster Baylee Reid, a diminutive dangerous halfback.

Tackles Jim Prentiss (205 pounds) and Chuck Yakemonis (210), center Gary Holland (200) and guard Pete Reynolds (195) comprise a formidable front line. Jim Stephens (6-2, 195) is a sizable target for Screws' aeriels.

Kimball's assets include guard Jay Brown — A hard-hitting 6-2, 195-pound guard who is a capable replacement for one of the Big Ten-bound Halliday twins — quarterback Jerry Wasen and strong end Fred Shellnut (the ROK tricapitans).

SOUTHEAST MICHIGAN ASSOCIATION Coaches' Consensus

1. Ferndale
2. Royal Oak Kimball
3. Hazel Park
4. Southfield
5. Birmingham Seaholm
6. Berkley

Junior High Teams in Grid Workouts

More than 500 city junior high school boys are working hard toward the start of their six-team league season next month.

Two new coaches are on the scene this fall: Irv Speaks has replaced Earl McKee at Jefferson JHS, and Bill McKinney is running the grid program in place of Bob Friedland at Madison.

Veteran Don Kelly (in his 13th campaign) is at Washington; Dave Yarbrough is in his third season at Kennedy; while Lincoln's Tom Stapleton and Eastern's Joe Romero are beginning their second seasons.

For Romero there will be a new twist to the season; Eastern will have home games as the school's resodded playing field is ready for use. It was a traveling squad all last fall.

The city junior high schools have practice games Sept. 20 and arrangements are being made for regular games against non-city rivals the following week.

The league contests will start Oct. 10 for the varsity units. The lightweight teams will begin Oct. 8 and the junior varsity games start Oct. 9.

All players are classified according to age, height and weight. Varsity backs can't weigh more than 155. Jayvee ball carriers must be less than 136.

Washington and Jefferson tied at 4-1 last season.

Millington Changes Leagues

The switch of Millington into the Greater Thumb B circuit after last fall's runner-up finish in the North Central is one in name only. The lineup of foes remains basically the same.

Coach Bruce Gardner has size in the line and speed in the backfield among the 18 returning monogram bearers from last fall's 6-3 squad.

Three-year letter-winner Rich Castle will call the signals. Senior scatbacks Tom Ferstl and Doug Cole each have won two letters. Opening the holes for them could be center Bruce Johnson (6-0 185-pounder), plus guards Dan Gibbs (6-2 215-pounder) and Al Rhode (6-2 200-pounder), all of whom have won two monograms.

The defense can key around 6-5, 225-pound Vern Sergeant. Dan Mercer and Tim Schell join Sergeant with a year's experience. Also back is senior fullback Jerry Ohmer.

Imlay City has 11 returnees and will have to depend upon newcomers to fill key positions along the line. A pair of solid tacklers are back, Bob Fischhaber and Gary Davis (both 195-pounders).

John Mason and Mark Dodd are experienced ballcarriers, and there are bright expectations for Howard Upleger and Ron Harsen. Gerry Shull is a veteran quarterback.

HEADS LINEMEN — Clarkston's offensive line will be built around guard Bill Wertman, a 6-2, 175-pound senior.

CHARGING PILOT—Defensive tackle Steve Crumb of Waterford Mott doesn't hesitate to leave the ground when making the stop on an opposing ball carrier. He is a 6-3, 185-pound junior on the Pilots' roster.

ARMED KNIGHT — When Bloomfield Hills Lahser's Knights resort to their "arms" this fall, leading the charge will be passer Doug Wagner, a 5-11 junior who guided them to an unbeaten season last year on a junior varsity schedule.

First Varsity Year Bright for Lahser 11

This is varsity season No. 1 for Bloomfield Hills Lahser in football, but at least one veteran county mentor sees some rough "Knights" ahead for the opposition.

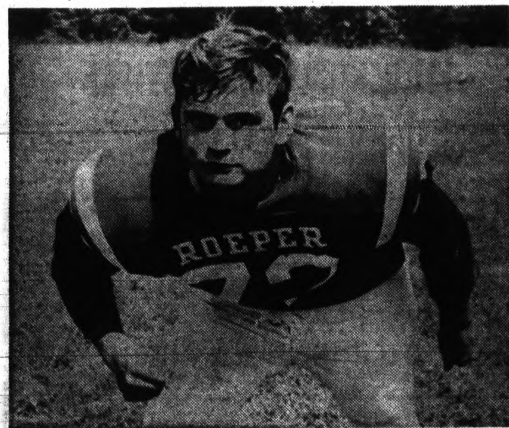

"They'll be tough," the admiring coach states emphatically. It isn't a precautionary warning either, since the coach doesn't have to worry about his squad facing Lahser.

As a junior varsity squad last fall, Lahser posted an impressive 8-0 mark, including a 19-6 romp against Pontiac Catholic's varsity in the finale.

TWO MISSING

Since this is Lahser's first senior class it seems obvious that everyone is back from that successful first edition team. But at least two key players are missing.

An agile 6-3, 215-pound tackle named Dave Payne now is at North Farmington and won't be easily replaced. Nor will end Bruce Gangnath who also moved.

TOUGH ROUGHRIDER—A mainstay for Roeper along the front line this fall will be guard Bob Russell, a 6-0, 185-pound senior.

LONG-REACHING OAK—End John Mann of Royal Oak Dondero scored three touchdowns last season en route to his third varsity monogram. He is a copcaptain on the Oaks' squad this fall. The 6-1 170-pounder plays both offense and defense for coach Ivy Loftin.

Oaks Need Size, Depth

Dondero Has Obstacles

A significant loss of experience and a lack of size form big obstacles for Royal Oak Dondero to overcome if it's to approach the first and second-place finishes of 1966 and 1967 in the Border Cities League.

Coach Ivy Loftin is satisfied with his first-team offense, but is searching for backup insurance.

The Oaks should be quick. In fullback Roger Duty and end John Mann there are represented eight touchdowns from last season.

Halfback Tom Poff returns as does passer Jerry Campbell, and Keith Sanders is another ball carrying letterwinner. Opening the holes and providing protection for Campbell remain uncertain.

BLOCKERS

The presence of tackle returnees Dave LeFave (205 pounds) and Al Hodge (170), plus veteran guard Chuck Halsig (170), and tight end Don Schulz (6-2, 200-pounder). Big center Del Osborne (6-4, 215) is back with the defense. Speedy sophomore Lamar Cheek may see extensive duty on offense at halfback.

Wyandotte and Dearborn Fordson rate highly in Loftin's estimate of the Dondero Border Cities' rivals. Grosse Pointe could give the Oaks a battle, too.

Highland Park and Monroe are unknown quantities and expected to be spoilers.

Lapeer Has 22 Lettermen to Start '68

Lapeer graduated 22 letter-winners from last year's 2-7 team that played as an independent and coach Sid DeCou will enter the inaugural season of the Flint Metro League with a young Panthers' squad.

Moreover, the Panthers will be on the light side. But DeCou is confident of an improved record since the 1967 Lapeer junior varsity had a 6-2 mark.

There will be some experience in the backfield if seniors Brad Gerlach, a quarterback, plus Gary Preville and Mark McKillen, both halfbacks, can improve upon their varsity efforts of last year.

Waiting to assume their roles if they falter or need rest are juniors—Walt Sierakowski, a passer, and Kevin Wickstrom, Gary Piger and Dave Sohlden, all ballcarriers.

Senior Terry Surtees and junior Mike Wood seem sure of extensive duty at the ends; but DeCou must uncover some interior blocking talent along the line, and determine who can do the best jobs on defense.

Sohlden — a 5-11, 180-pound fullback — is the biggest of the leading prospects in the backfield.

Michigan State's 28-game football winning streak in 1950-53 ranks 10th highest among all-time collegiate records.

GLENWOOD PLAZA—NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

MORE THAN "E-KNUFF" — Birmingham Brother Rice will give its Catholic League rivals lots of the Knuff brand of football this season. Senior twins Pat (bottom) and Mike Knuff work on each other while awaiting this Sunday's opener against another Irish school, Harper Woods Notre Dame. Mike is a linebacker while Pat prefers offensive guard. Each is 6-1 and weigh 200 pounds.

PULLS IN A PASS—Senior pass catcher Gary Ferguson starts after his third varsity letter at Walled Lake still seeking his first touchdown. The 5-11, 175-pound end is highly regarded by the coaches for his determined style of play.

RUNNING FROM "T" — Rochester this season will utilize the I formation on the attack. Senior Rod Thiel (front) will be the upback, and speedster Gary Miller, another senior, will run from the tailback.

HIGH STEPPER — Fullback Larry Vick, a 5-11, 160-pound senior, will have to carry a heavy load this fall as he and his Millford teammates launch defense of their Wayne-Oakland League championship.

NOT EASY TO STOP—Lanky end Bruce Harms (6-2, 180 pounds) manages to outreach defensive halfback teammates Dave Marini (21) and Juell Bjerke (23) during a Utica passing practice session. The two senior secondarymen give away five inches to their junior teammate.

MAKING A SALE — Detroit Lion tight end Jim Gibbons isn't "tight" with his money when it comes to aiding midget football. Two members of the Lakeland Athletic Association make a sale to the National Football League veteran as the Suburban Midget Football Conference begins its annual fund-raising campaign this week through the cooperation of the Health Candy Company. Dave Legge of the Lakers and Stacy Weaver of the Chiefs — both Lakeland AA units — collect a dollar from Gibbons in exchange for a box. The candy sale proceeds enable more than 1,000 boys and 250 cheerleaders from Royal Oak, Troy, Clawson, Walled Lake, Madison Heights and the Pontiac-Sylvan-Keego Harbor area to compete in the program each fall. The boys are divided among freshmen, junior and varsity units.

Cranbrook Hopes High

A veteran unit showing speed, size and an experienced offense offers hopes for an Inter-State Prep League championship this season for Cranbrook coach Del Walden.

The Cranes could use more depth and some shoring up on defense. Two-year regulars Craig Tuohy — a flashy half-back — and Paul Cragin — 215-pound tackle — feature the Cranbrook roster.

Quarterback Dirk Dieters, halfback Rod Fonda and fullback John Wallace are available again. Also returning are guards Dennis Harris, a 210-pounder and quick-hitting senior Jerry Iwanski.

Walden would like to find a capable replacement for line-backer Ned Heavenrich and two-way back Mark Steiner. Dick Collie and Tony Thomas, both juniors, should help with their speed in the backfield.

Another bright spot could be senior center Bob Northwood. Walden sees Nichols of Buffalo and University School from Cleveland dueling with the Cranes for the grid title.

Soccer Slate Opens Sept. 18

The boys who kick the round ball — soccer style — will open their battle for the North Suburban Soccer championship Sept. 18.

Those openers will find Groves at Cranbrook, Seasholm at Lasher and Ferndale at Bloomfield Hills Andover. Country Day is idle.

ELUSIVE FULLBACK —

Compact senior Steve Gebala should prove quite a problem for Walled Lake's rivals. The 5-10, 175-pounder combines deceptive moves with fine drive to break tackles.

Stevenson Ready for EML Conflict

Utica Stevenson becomes a full-time member of the Eastern Michigan League Sept. 27 when it will tangle with East Detroit in the circuit grid kickoff for both.

The EML has been a five-team conference while awaiting the maturing of Stevenson into a competitive football team, although the Titans have participated in EML spring varsity sports.

Stevenson only won one game last year while playing a combination varsity-jayvee schedule. Coach Jerry Thomas has 20 players back who earned letters. He expects considerable improvement.

Well-built quarterback Greg Kohn, a 6-2, 190-pound senior, will lead the attack. He has a hard charging fullback in 6-2, 205-pounder John Masi, a 190-pound halfback in Bryan Clippard and slender ball carriers in Keith Netzel and Brent Bailey.

LINE HOPEFULS

Guard Bob Blanton and tackle Dan Sappington both go 185. Junior Tony Jacobs is a 195-pound tackle candidate and defensive specialist Gary Kayne is a stocky 230-pound senior.

Despite the big backfield and solidly built linemen, the Titans don't figure to give the favored Port Huron Northern Huskies a battle for the championship this season.

Port Huron and Roseville are potential contenders, while Mount Clemens and East Detroit will join Stevenson as spoilers.

PH Northern's strength is the return of 15 letterwinners, including five juniors who started as sophomores. Center Stan Gillis' 6-3, 200-pound frame will lead the Northern offensive unit into action.

ADVANTAGE

Port Huron's Big Reds have the advantage over their crosstown rivals in that quarterback Mike Loxton returns. Cocaptains Stu Howe (6-0, 185 end) and Stew Albert (tricky halfback) are other key returnees.

Roseville tied for first last season and has some swift but small letterwinners returning. Bob Maus is the quarterback.

Gary Thomas, a junior, packs 205 pounds at fullback.

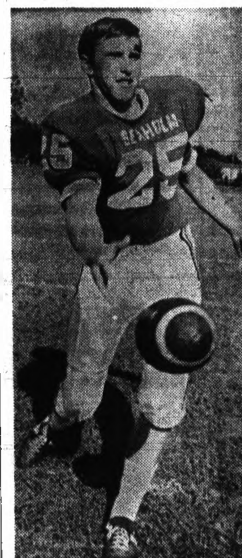

Mount Clemens, the other defending cochamp, has size and speed but lacks experience and depth.

Brandon Due for Grid Skid

After two seasons of near .500 results Ortonville Brandon is expected to hit upon lean times this season with coach Bill Pugh having extensive repair work to do on the lineup.

The Blackhawks lost heavily among their letterwinners. None of this year's backfield prospects — led by senior Dave Madrigal and junior Mike Reed — has crossed the goalline in a varsity game.

The returning line prospects lack size. Guard Roger Lewis heads the list. Brandon plays in the Genesee C circuit which is now a seven-team circuit with the pullout of Flint Hamady.

PITCHING OUT — Quarterback Dennis O'Neil, Birmingham Seaholm cocaptain, likely will pitch out often as the Maples attempt to outflank their foes with end sweeps.

TROJAN SPARKER—O. J. Simpson, Southern California's premier backfield star, returns for another season with the Trojans. The All-America halfback is one of the reasons USC is favored to make a second straight appearance in the Rose Bowl.

Heavy TV Schedules for College Regions

ABC-TV WXYZ Channel 7 in Detroit begin telecasts of NCAA football games Sept. 14. ABC will cover a total of 35 games. Channel 7 will carry all 11 of the nationwide telecasts, plus six of the 24 regional telecasts, all in color.

Three new features have been added this year. First, ABC will televise two night games nationally.

Second, the conference games for November 16 will not be announced until the season is under way. ABC will watch the Big Eight, Big Ten, AAWU and Southwest conference races and decide, shortly before November 16, which is likely to have most bearing on the four conference titles. These four games will be telecast regionally.

Third, and probably the biggest new feature is the "Wild Card" game. ABC-TV will be able to pick one extra game on any date during the season and televise it. Games already scheduled for that date will still be televised.

The biggest games of the two previous seasons are on the 1968 schedule; Notre Dame-Michigan State and USC-UCLA, both of which decided the winners of national championships.

(Wild Card game will be picked sometime during the season. ABC has the option of telecasting one game on any date. Any game can be chosen.)

Southern Cal Expected to Be Challenger

By The Associated Press
Purdue, Southern California and Notre Dame were rated 1-2-3 to top the nation's college football teams in one of the closest pre-season polls ever taken by The Associated Press.

The Boilermakers, co-champions of the Big Ten with Indiana and Minnesota a year ago and led once again by their marvelous halfback Leroy Keyes, barely edged Southern California's 1967 champions with Notre Dame another shade behind.

Purdue received 14 first place votes of the 33 cast by a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters and a total of 567 points.

Southern California, which has mercury-footed O. J. Simpson back again, received 10 first place votes and 549 points.

Notre Dame, led once more by the talented Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour passing and receiving combination, gathered three first place votes and 542 points.

This year The Associated Press, which started picking the top teams in 1936, expanded its ratings from a Top Ten to a Top Twenty.

Last year Notre Dame was picked as the No. 1 team in the pre-season poll followed by Alabama, Michigan State, Texas, Miami of Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and Colorado.

So what happened? Southern California, 9-1, and beaten only by Oregon State, wound up as the national champion and then beat Indiana in the Rose Bowl 14-3. Notre Dame finished fifth.

The top 20, with first place votes and total points (points awarded for first 15 picks, 20-18-16-14-12-10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1):

1. Purdue	14	567
2. Southern Calif.	10	549

NMU Remains Strong

Northern Michigan, one of the most powerful small college elevens in the nation last fall, has some holes to plug and more difficult schedule to overcome if the Wildcats are to repeat an unbeaten campaign.

NMU reached the NAIA championship game before bowing.

This season's schedule includes the Quantico Marines, North Texas State, Southern Illinois and Tampa.

There are 32 lettermen around which coach Rollie Dotsch will attempt to mold another winner. Vacancies occur at defensive tackle and split end.

Coach Frank (Muddy) Waters claims this is the second of his two-year building program at Hillsdale. He suffered through a 3-5 campaign last fall — something unusual since Waters arrived on campus 14 years ago.

BIG HOLE

Filling the hole left by leading rusher and most valuable player Mel Patterson, former Waterford Kettering star, is the big problem.

Several local players are among the candidates which include 27 lettermen. Dick Kraatz from Bloomfield Hills probably will be the starting fullback and Dick Micheli from Kettering has the inside track at quarterback.

Co-captain Chuch Haviland, also from Kettering, leads the linebackers. The schedule is ambitious with NAIA champion Fairmont State and runnerup Northern Michigan on it and so is strong Eastern Kentucky.

Hillsdale will be known as the Chargers this season.

Michigan Tech Coach Bill Lucier suffered through a 0-7-1 season, his first losing campaign in any sport, and he hopes the Huskies will make amends this time around.

There are 21 lettermen — mostly underclassmen who saw considerable action last year.

Ferris State is still rebuilding under Bob Leach, but should show some improvement.

Record high point total for a Michigan State basketball team is 118, recorded when the Spartans defeated Oklahoma (118-100) in 1963-64.

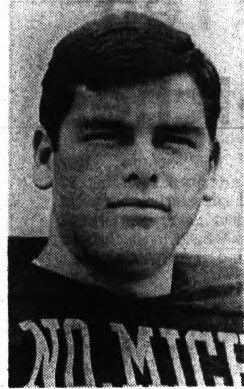

U. of D. Club Football Team Has 5 Games

University of Detroit, which initiated its club football program last year and posted a 3-0 record against Fordham and Marquette, will play five games this year in the circuit of football dropouts.

All of the schools on the schedule are those which dropped the sport several years ago and the club football program is made up of students.

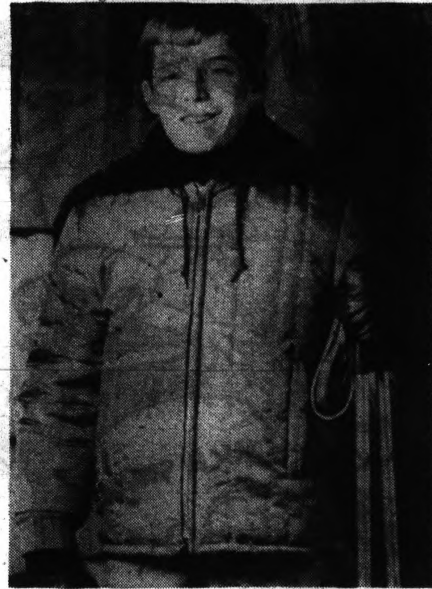

The Titans play two road games, starting Sept. 28 at Fordham and Oct. 4 at Marquette and then play three Friday night games at home with St. Peters College of New Jersey, Canisius of Buffalo and St. Bonaventure.

Jim Leary, former U. of D. high school coach is coaching the club football team.

WILDCAT — Former West Bloomfield star Rick Hacht is a starting defensive end for Northern Michigan. The Wildcats went to the NAIA championship game before losing last season.

Record Dimensions in 'M' Backfield

Wolverines' QB, Halfback Show Talents

Ann Arbor — Michigan's backfield is constructed in record dimensions and Coach Bump Elliott is hoping it remains that way.

Spearheaded by halfback Ron Johnson and quarterback Dennis Brown, the Wolverines offer an assemblage of backs not lacking in talent or experience. Both Johnson and Brown are among the top half-dozen players in the country at their positions, while Garvie Crawford emerged as a solid fullback during his sophomore season.

There is a question of depth behind this trio. Only Warren Sipp, a 210-pound Akron, O., senior, has much playing experience. He likely will understudy Crawford. Lance Scheffler and Kirby Sams are two sophomores who could develop into excellent halfback replacements while Eric Federico, a junior, provides more insurance at fullback.

But Michigan's offense will be tied to the considerable talents of Johnson and Brown.

GOOD FINISH

The Wolverines, who finished the 1967 season by winning three of their final four games, have both offensive and defensive backfields returning. In addition, there are several key holdovers, including tight end Jim Mandich and linebacker Tom Stincic.

Johnson, the first halfback to be elected Michigan's captain in more than 20 years, set an all-time school rushing record, gaining 1,005 yards. He also established an individual game figure of 270 yards against Navy, broke one Big Ten mark with 42 carries against Northwestern and tied the conference kickoff return record by handling 18 for the season.

Two new assistant coaches joined the staff in the spring. Bob Shaw, from Bucknell University and once a highly successful coach at Niles (Ohio) High, handles the defensive ends and linebackers.

Frank Maloney, a former Michigan player who was voted Chicago prep coach of the year in 1967 after his Mt. Carmel team won the City championship, has charge of the offensive linemen.

Tony Mason is Elliott's offensive coordinator and Hank Fonde the defensive coordinator. George Mans (receivers) and Dennis Fitzgerald (defensive line) complete the varsity staff. Bill Dodd again will coach the freshmen.

Elliott, starting his 10th season as head coach, sends the Wolverines into action Sept. 21 in the home opener against California.

TROPHY CANDIDATE—Leroy Keyes of Purdue is a top candidate for this season's Heisman Trophy and the Boilermakers are favored to win the Big Ten championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

'M' All-America Choice Has 'Separate' Records

ANN ARBOR — The ideal summer job for the collegiate football star of yesteryear was digging ditches or building roads . . . fresh air, a blazing sun, and hard work were the summer combinations for fall football victories.

Those days are no more. Today's outstanding players are thinking about more than a pro football career. They consider off-season and post-playing-day job prospects as well as their chances of making the professional game.

Michigan's top All-America candidate in 1968, Ron Johnson, is typical of the new career oriented athlete. The only muscles likely to be taxed by his job this summer are in his head, not his legs. Ron is an employee of a bank in Detroit.

"I work in the Credit Department at the bank," Ron explains. "I have the title of loan analyst trainee. I work closely with the loaning officers, doing research and collecting facts that will aid them in their decisions as to whether a loan should be made or not."

HOLDS RECORDS

Ron, a halfback, should be familiar with records and statistics after his 1967 football season. He kept the adding machines in the press box busy as he rambled for 1005 yards, a modern-day Michigan rushing mark.

In addition, he shocked Navy with 270 yards rushing, a Michigan single-game record, and carried 42 times against Northwestern, setting a Wolverine and Big Ten workhorse standard.

A student in Michigan's School of Business Administration, Johnson carries a B-average. He is concentrating in the field of finance.

He has found this summer job especially valuable from a career standpoint. "It has given me a good perspective of business," Ron claims. "You learn the practical side of the business world from an experience like this, and how to apply many of the procedures outlined in textbooks."

U. of M. Sweep

The University of Michigan football team played and won a rare gridiron "doubleheader" on Oct. 3, 1931. In the first game, the Wolverines defeated Central State Teachers, now Central Michigan University, 27-0. In the nightcap, Michigan completed the sweep with a 34-0 shutout of Michigan State Normal, now Eastern Michigan University.

WMU Needs Depth

Ohio Rivals MAC Choices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ancient rivals Ohio University and Miami figure to battle for football supremacy in the Mid-American Conference this fall.

The Bobcats and the Redskins may not have cornered all of the talented gridders in the league but apparently have enough superstars to make them bonafide co-favorites.

The MAC's coaches agreed that the 'Cats and 'Skins are the teams to beat for the title. Coach Bill Hess' Ohio squad, boasting a stong offense and seasoned performers, rates a slight edge.

Ohio shared the crown last year with upstart Toledo but needed a forfeit victory over Knet State to get a piece of the title. Hess is openly optimistic that Ohio can claim its first clear championship in nine years.

At Miami, Coach Bo Schembechler feels his Redskins are second to none. "We will be a better football team than a year ago. There is no question about it."

QUARTERBACK

This well-founded enthusiasm hinges on the apparent maturity of junior quarterback Kent Thompson.

Toledo boss Frank Lauterbur faces the unenviable task of finding replacements for prolific John Schneider, the MAC's top passer in 1967, and brilliant middle guard Tom Beutler.

"If Steve Jones, a scrambling quarterback, comes through, we'll have an exciting offense. He could make star running backs Roland Moss and Bob Pfefferle even tougher. We have 10 starters back from last year and feel we will be a real contender."

Here's the way the other coaches in the MAC size up their chances:

Bill Doolittle, Western Michigan — "Depth is a key. We have 14 or 15 good football players that we have to build around. We're going to have to outthistle everyone since we're not big enough to knock down a lot of people. We must improve on a lot of fronts to make up for lost quality."

Don Nehlen, Bowling Green — "Defense is our forte. P.J. Nyitray gives us good quarterbacking and we have veteran backs. But we could have four sophomores in our offensive line."

Dave Puddington, Kent State — "We hope to have a space age offense. Defensively, we'll be constantly punting."

Perry Moss, Marshall — "We're an unknown quantity coming off a 0-10 season. I don't know where we stand but I do know we don't have a big strong college football team."

Central Michigan University's 1968 Homecoming football opponent will be league rival Illinois State, with the game scheduled for Oct. 26.

MSU Has Grounds for '68 Optimism

Spartans See Improvement With Defense

There are grounds for optimism at Michigan State this year:

- A good nucleus of experienced players.
- A stronger defense.
- A strong array of bright sophomores.
- The tradition of Spartan teams coming back strong after a disappointing season.

Twice coach Duffy Daugherty followed losing campaigns with Rose Bowl teams, and a third time (1959) he came back to within a half game of a champion after a loser in 1958.

MSU will have 25 lettermen returning and a few who lettered in 1966 and were injured last year.

The defense encompassing linebackers, roverback, cornerbacks and safety — was perhaps the hardest hit by injuries last fall and showed the greatest vulnerability as the season progressed.

BIG TURNOVER

The turnover was so great that by the Northwestern finale only one early season regular — co-captain Drake Garrett — answered the opening whistle, and he had missed considerable mid-campaign action.

It would appear that the talent is on hand to cut off quite a few of the 1,300 more yards opponents gained against last year's team than the 1966 eleven.

That extra yardage leakage helped spell the difference between a 9-0-1 record and a 3-7 mark.

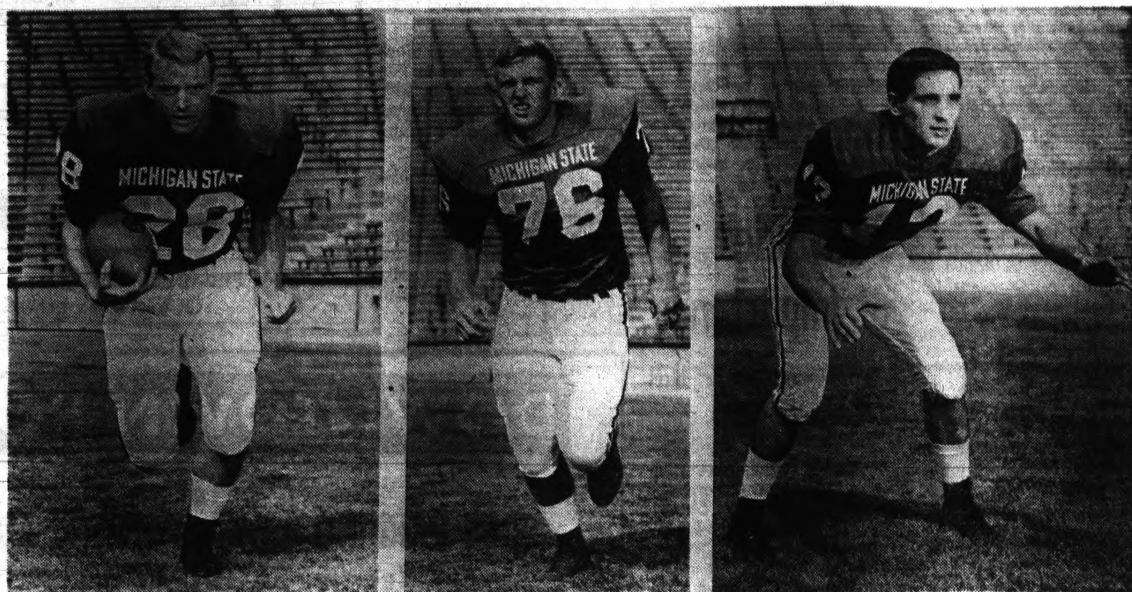

Coaches think the secondary this time — barring a run of injuries like last fall — can be smarter, tougher and a bit faster.

There also is a nice balance between experience and youth. Vying most strongly at linebacker right now are three lettermen and three sophomores. The old hands are juniors Rich Saul of Butler, Pa., Frank Traylor of Beaumont, Texas, and Don Law of Brownsville, Pa.

The new troopers are Calvin Fox of Battle Creek, Mike Hogan of Dayton, Ohio, and Tom Barnum of Woodland. Only Saul appears to have a post locked up.

Veteran letterman Bob Super of Ferndale and sophomore Gary Parmentier of Detroit are tussling for the roverback call.

There are six in the free-for-all at the cornerbacks, again evenly balanced in experience among seniors Frank Waters of Hillsdale, Ken Heft of Birmingham and Wade Payne of Garden City.

COUNTY SPARTANS—Michigan State will have a large contingent of Oakland County gridders on its 1968 roster including this trio (left to right) Ken Heft of Birmingham Seaholm, Roger Ruminiski of Walled Lake and Bob Super of Ferndale. Heft, an all-state diver as well as football player at Seaholm, is being used as a defensive back. Ruminiski, former county Outstanding Player is at tackle and Bob Super, an ex-quarterback at Ferndale is now the rover defensive back or linebacker.

MSU's Al Brenner Fast to Enter Record Books

EAST LANSING — It didn't take Michigan State's Al Brenner long to enter his name in the football record books.

In October, 1966, Brenner, a sophomore playing in his first Big Ten game, picked off an Illinois punt at the Michigan State 5-yard line and raced 95 yards for a touchdown. He thereby set a record for the longest punt return in the 72-year history of the conference.

ALL-AMERICA HOPE

Now, two years later, Al is the team captain, an academic star and a top All-American candidate.

At the start of the 1968 campaign, Al is third on the all-time Michigan State pass receiving list behind Bob Carey and Gene Washington. With 48 career receptions to his credit, he needs only 18 catches this season to pass Carey and move up to the No. 2 spot. Washington has 102 and could be beyond Al's reach.

Big Ten Games Lure Grid Fans

NEW YORK (AP) — Attendance reports at the 62nd annual NCAA Convention showed that in 10 weekends from Sept. 23 to Nov. 25 three Big Ten teams were at the head of the class three times in drawing the best football crowds of the week in 1967.

They were Michigan State, Michigan and Ohio State.

Michigan and Michigan State drew the top crowd 103,210 on Oct. 14.

College Intent Program Grows

Chicago, Ill., — The Inter-Conference Letter of Intent program, now in its sixth year, has grown to a record membership of 125 schools, 67 more than when the plan was initiated in 1963.

Prospective student-athletes to these schools are asked to sign a Letter of Intent by mid-May, binding them to that school if they meet the requirements for admission to that institution or the academic requirements for financial aid to athletes (as is the case in the Big Ten.)

A dozen conferences comprising 101 schools and 24 other independent institutions are participating in the 1968 plans.

The conferences include: AAWU (Pacific 8), Atlantic Coast, Big Eight, Big Ten, Mid-American, Missouri Valley, Ohio Valley, South-eastern, Southern, Southwest, South-western Athletic and Western Athletic.

The independent schools include:

Dayton, Detroit, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Houston, Indiana State, Jacksonville University, Marquette, Newberry College (S.C.), Notre Dame, Oklahoma City, Parsons, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Seattle, Buffalo, University of Southern Alabama, Southern Illinois, Syracuse, Tulane, Virginia Xavier.

The Letter of Intent Plan's provisions prescribe that if a student-athlete elects to enroll in another school which is a participant in the plan, but not a member of the same conference, the institution in which he enrolls may not be represented by the boy in athletic competition until he has been in residence two years and in no case for no more than two years of varsity competition in any sport.

The restriction does not apply student-athlete in a switch of academic year of residence at the institution with which he originally signed. Conference and NCAA regulations govern a student athlete in a switch of schools after a year of residence.

The program grew to 98 schools in 1965 . . . 104 in 1966 . . . and 120 last year. In 1966, 4,306 student-athletes signed letters, while last year the total grew to 5,086.

Dr. J. William Davis of Texas Tech is chairman of the Letter of Intent Steering Committee. Once again, the Big Ten office will act as a clearing house for all Letter signees . . . primarily to insure there is no duplication and invalid returns.

3 Rivalries of Importance

Michigan State Has Many Trophies

A wooden statue, a cuspidor and a piece of cheerleader equipment relate to three Michigan State football rivalries.

They're trophies at stake when State plays Michigan, Indiana and Notre Dame this fall.

The statue is the "Paul Bunyan-Governor of Michigan" Trophy. The Spartans and Michigan have battled for it since 1953. The cuspidor is the "Old Brass Spittoon," up for grabs since 1950 in the yearly tussle with Indiana.

The cheerleader item is the "Megaphone Trophy", possession of the winner when MSU meets Notre Dame. It was started in 1949.

State currently holds only the Bunyan trophy.

Pritchard Big Star

High Stenner Spurs ASU

TEMPE, Ariz. (NEA) — Wisconsin, Washington State and some Western Athletic Conference teams who are taking their sinuses to Arizona this fall are likely to find them stepped on by Ron Pritchard and his Arizona State teammates.

Pritchard is an All-America linebacking candidate who is expected to help the Sun Devils stave off newcomer Texas-El Paso and defending champ Wyoming for the WAC title. He'll be aided on defense by seven other starters from last season, including end Dennis Farrell, tackle Bobby Johnson, linebackers Mike Kennedy and backs Dicky Brown, Rick Shaw, Ray Powell and Wes Plummer, an all-conference performer who returned eight interceptions for 160 yards in '67.

On offense, coach Frank Kush is hoping for spectacular quarterback Ed Roseborough. George Hummer, All-WAC center, leads a contingent of five veterans in the offensive line.

TEXAS (EL PASO) — The Miners are making their first appearance in the WAC and should do well. Quarterback Brooks Dawson threw 15 TDs as a reserve in '67 and is expected to team up with flanker Volley Murphy, who caught 40 passes for 12 TD's, in a pass-happy attack.

The offensive line is beefed up with tackle Alton Crabb (240), center Dennis Bramlett (243) and guards Wally Guilford (223) and Walter Olivieri (250). Coach Bobby Dobbs also has a rugged defensive crew that should help challenge Arizona State when the two get together the second game of the season in what will probably be not only the title game but also a grudge battle. The Sun Devils won last year, 33-32.

WYOMING — Coach Lloyd Eaton has gone through the last two league seasons unbeaten but the Cowboys are about to take a spill. The entire backfield is gone, along with four starters from the front seven that ranked first nationally in defense against rushing.

However, all is not lost at Laramie. All-WAC linebacker Jim House returns as does split end Gene Huey, who holds five school pass receiving records.

Another Good Year for Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (NEA)—This being an election year, it may be worth noting that Ara Parseghian, the incumbent at Notre Dame, has never had a losing campaign in his four years as head football coach.

And the coming season shapes up as another Irish landslide. Since Notre Dame doesn't belong to a conference or compete in post-season bowl games, the national championship is its perennial goal. The Irish are rated a better-than-even shot to attain it in '68.

While no other independent in the Midwest can touch Parseghian's crew, there is some rugged competition for national honors in other parts of the country, notably the Southeast, where Miami, Florida State and Georgia Tech are expected to dominate opponents. Houston and Utah State could also break into the ratings.

Among the returning veterans who averaged nearly 35 points per game for Notre Dame last season are quarterback Terry Hanratty and receiver Jim Seymour, the 6-4 speedster with the great hands and moves to match.

INTERCEPTIONS

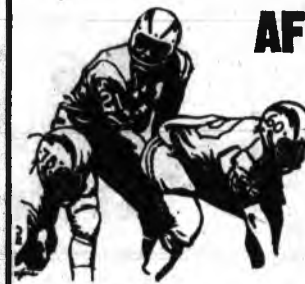

Hanratty could pass George Gipp's total offense record if he avoids the interceptions that plagued him the first half of the '67 season — 15 in five games. However, in the last five, he threw 63 passes without an interception.

ND's passing attack will be effective because running backs Jeff Zimmerman and Bob Gladieux have established an outstanding ground game. On the line, offensive tackle George Kunz (6-5, 240) is a devastating blocker and will get plenty of support from tight end Jim Winegardner and guards Jim Reilly and Tom McKinley.

If Parseghian has a problem, it's defense, but there's no real cause for alarm. Mike McCoy, a 6-5 270-pounder, returns at tackle, along with proven veterans Rudy Keuchenberg (245) at end and Bob Olson (225) at linebacker. Converted quarterback Coley O'Brien will be tested at safety.

WORKHORSE — Fullback Charlie Jarvis is being counted on to supply Army with the ground attack it needs to help a potentially strong passing game work.

Sons Follow Dads to MSU Grid Glory

There are three "like father, like son" situations on Michigan State's football team this fall.

Senior flanker and defensive back Frank Waters of Hillsdale, junior middle guard Jack Zindel and soph defensive back Jay Breslin from East Lansing are offsprings of former Spartan varsity grid lettermen.

Waters is the son of current Hillsdale College athletic director and football coach Frank Waters. Dad lettered at fullback in 1946-47-48-49.

Zindel is the son of Howard Zindel, lineman letterwinner in 1934-35-36 who's now professor and chairman of MSU's poultry science department.

Breslin's dad is Jack Breslin, secretary of the University and of its Board of Trustees. Jack lettered in 1944-45 and was team "most valuable player" in 1944.

Fun Week Precedes Cadets' Grid Work

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — This was at a delightful hide-away called the Bull Pond where late each summer Army football coach Tom Cahill takes his staff before fall practice. The Bull Pond barbecue has been a must affair at the United States Military Academy for more than 20 years.

Cahill was pitching horseshoes with an aide while another assistant continually came up empty because the fish in the pond refused to take the lure he was casting.

Others were taking turns with a golf club to see how close they could come to a flag stuck in sand. Table tennis addicts were beating a little white ball on the open porch in the shade of giant oaks.

Some used underhand tosses with little blue and white weighed objects that could be called darts with wings.

WEEK FOR FUN

This was the week for fun and games for Army's football staff and a few invited guests.

But right now Coach Cahill's worries are football. Can his Black Knights get in enough practice? Can they hit hard and get by without injury? And can they cope with a schedule that is a notch or two above Ivy League football and a notch below a Big 10 schedule?

"We have 29 practice opportunities before we open against The Citadel here on Sept. 21," Coach Cahill was saying as he put away the horseshoes.

"We'll have a good team this fall but the schedule will be more of a challenge. We play a fine Penn State team. Missouri will be tough so will Vanderbilt and California. And Pitt is improving."

Cahill didn't mention Navy, which will be met Nov. 30 in Philadelphia. He knows this is the big game for the Cadets and it still hurts him to think Navy upset his charges 19-14 last year.

Would Army have another 8-2 record this year?

"I'll settle for that right now," said Cahill with a big smile. This could be Army's best football team under the former Piebe coach.

Battle in SEC Loop May Be All-Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (NEA) — College football talent is as common as sunburn in the Sunshine State this year. Florida is tabbed as the favorite in the Southeastern Conference and Miami is rated among the nation's elite. Florida State could be better than both of them.

The Seminoles were winless in their first three games last season but won seven in a row for a trip to the Gator Bowl. This year, State should get off to a better start and become the country's best independent, with the probable exemption of Notre Dame.

Quarterback sensation Kim Hammond is gone but likely won't be missed. Gary Pajic, the regular quarterback two years ago, underwent an elbow operation last winter and is now ready for action. So is his backup man, junior Bill Capleman (6-3, 200). For a receiver, they'll have All-American Ron Sellers, the 6-4 phenom who grabbed 70 passes for eight TD's in '67.

MIAMI — Coach Charlie Tate welcomes back his giant All-American defensive end, Ted Hendricks (6-8, 230), and that's not all. The front five on defense averages nearly 240 and has experience to match the size.

GEORGIA TECH — Coach Bud Carson was 4-6 last year (his first) as a string of injuries, poor defensive play and dissension among the coaches caused Tech's worst season since 1950. But the situation is looking up in Atlanta. Carson has a new crop of coaches and some new talent.

TO BE UNVEILED — Wayne State will unveil its new stadium for the final three home games of 1968. The Tartars will play two games at U. of D. Sept. 28 and Oct. 19 and expect to be in their Stadium for the Homecoming game with Washington, Mo. Oct. 26, and dates of Nov. 2 with Washington and Jefferson and Nov. 9, Eastern Illinois. Initial capacity will be 5,700 and be extended to permanent seating of 26,000.

Plan Mid-Season Opening

Wayne State to Unveil Stadium

Wayne State University's new football stadium is progressing and is expected to be unveiled by mid-season.

Coach Vern Gale's 1968 Tartar team expects to play the last three home games of the coming season in the facility, which will have the first seating stage, the under-stadium locker-office-training-equipment complex and the temporary pressbox completed.

The first two home games on September 28 (Temple) and October 19 (Augustana) have been moved to the University of Detroit Stadium.

WSU tentatively plans to get into the as-yet unnamed stadium for the October 26 Homecoming date with Washington (Mo.) University. Other home dates set for use are November 2, Washington and Jefferson, and November 9, Eastern Illinois.

FIRST STAGE

The first seating stage includes eight sections of stands between the 20-yard lines with a listed initial capacity of 5,700. It looks like it may seat more than that as the bleacher sections of the concrete stands still have to be installed.

Eventually, the stadium will have a permanent seating capacity of 26,000 with both sides filled in from end zone to end zone. The area behind the end zones will be left vacant, but could be utilized for future or temporary permanent seating.

The second stage of seating construction will take the center section of the west side stands to the top and add the permanent pressbox. It and the other stages including the extensions of the stands to the north and south, the installation of the east side stands and the addition of lights is expected to follow as quickly as non-tax funds can be allocated.

WSU's varsity practice field will be located on the Trumbull Avenue side of the stadium which is situated in the Trumbull-Ford Freeway corner of the 42-acre tract being developed for WSU athletics and physical education needs. Also under development at the present time are intramural and instructional fields, the baseball field and the 16-court tennis complex.

The completion of these items brings WSU's athletics-physical education financial outlay to $5.25-million with an estimated $3-million needed to finish the football stadium complex.

Tartars Hope to Match '67 Grid Record

Wayne State goes into the football season with 24 lettermen, a tougher schedule and hopes for at least equaling last season's impressive record.

Four of the lettermen won awards in 1966 and were hobbled by injuries last year while one player, 'back-up' center Luther Aman, last lettered in 1965.

The Tartars again face a nine-game card and it's easily the stiffest in Vern Gale's tenure. Says Gale, "The chances of our matching last year's record of 7-2 are very difficult in view of the improved caliber of opponents on the schedule."

Gale ticks off highly-regarded Temple and Augustana (S.D.), of the North Central Conference, as two very difficult new opponents.

Eastern Illinois and Central Michigan, the teams who stopped the Tartars in '67, return with strong teams. Michigan Tech, UI-Chicago Circle and Ferris State are all rated improved teams.

Washington (Mo.) University and Washington & Jefferson return to the schedule and have been difficult foes in the past.

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — A 27-year-old Vietnam veteran, who was awarded the bronze star medal for valor, and a 30-year-old father of three add seasoning and savvy to the 1968 New Mexico State University football team.

Jim Vizethann, the war veteran, and Donald Abbott, who at 30 is the same age as Agge Coach Jim Wood, are competing for an offensive guard's starting position.

"That was two years ago," Vizethann said when asked about his Vietnam tour. "I'm a college kid now."

After a little prodding about his medal, Vizethann said, "We pulled some Marines out of trouble." He said he was on a Navy patrol at the time.

TRANSFERS

Abbott, a 212-pounder, said he worked for a few years before playing the past two seasons at Santa Ana, Calif., Junior College and then transferred to New Mexico State for this season.

Vizethann, a 250-pounder, from Ridgewood, N.J., also is a junior. He lettered last year at New Mexico State and played freshman football at Clemson before his enlistment in the U.S. Navy.

The two guards said they don't feel their age is a disadvantage physically in football and say it is to their advantage scholastically.

"You have a wife and family to think about," said Abbott. "When you miss a class, you talk to the professor. Some of the other players just cut classes and forget about it."

Wood, in his first season as head coach, feels the players' ages lend to the maturity of his team.

"I feel like it is an aid to us," he said. "Don Abbott is the best leader in our program. He doesn't act on a whim."

Vizethann's wife, Gail, teaches in a Las Cruces elementary school. They are the parents of two small sons.

Abbott's wife, Mary, is a secretary at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration apollo testing site east of Las Cruces.

NO OBJECTIONS

The two players said their wives had no objection to their playing college football.

"My wife encourages me all the time about football," said Abbott.

"So does mine," said Vizethann, who is studying history and would "like to go to law school if I can scrape up enough money. I hate to ask my wife to work three more years."

Abbott, a physical education major, said he is "going to start coaching pretty soon."

Vizethann quipped back, "He's too old to go to graduate school."

Pitt Comeback Expected to Arouse East Teams

NEW YORK (UPI) — The day Dave Hart set foot on the University of Pittsburgh campus he swore the Panthers' football future would change radically. Through an elaborate recruiting program, he has kept his word and this year the Panthers will growl again.

Their growl may not be fierce enough to win the Lambert Trophy — symbol of eastern football supremacy — but they are going to frighten a lot of foes and must rank as a sleeper in the race for top eastern football honors.

The reason for optimism at Pitt stems from coach Hart's massive recruiting program, which has netted some of the finest high school football players in the country over the past two years. As many as 15 sophomores could start for the Panthers this season.

BANK ON SOPHS

It sounds risky to be banking on sophomores to bring a team back to prosperity after two successive 1-9 campaigns, but Hart does not have a group of ordinary sophs.

Among them are linebackers Ralph Cindrich and Lloyd Weston, two of the most-prized first-year players in the nation. Another is John Stevens, a 238-pound tackle, whom Hart lured away from the clutches of Notre Dame.

Hart knows he mustn't be too optimistic. He has a major task of developing a quarterback and, of course, there is Pitt's rugged schedule, which again includes such powers as UCLA, Notre Dame and Miami Fla.

The problem of finding a suitable quarterback faces most of the eastern powers this season. The two best around are Army's Steve Lindell and Yale's Brian Dowling, but after that things get pretty thin.

PENN STATE RATES HIGH

Penn State, which won the Lambert Trophy last year, ranks on paper as the strongest team in the East and if coach Joe Paterno can come up with a first-rate quarterback, the Nittany Lions could be as good as last year's 8-2 Gator Bowl squad.

The offense returns seven starters, including tight end Ted Kwalick, halfback Charlie Pittman and fullback Don Abbey, and the defense also has seven returnees.

For the first time in over a decade Syracuse will be without an All-America ball carrier, but it shouldn't stop the Orangemen from fielding another strong team.

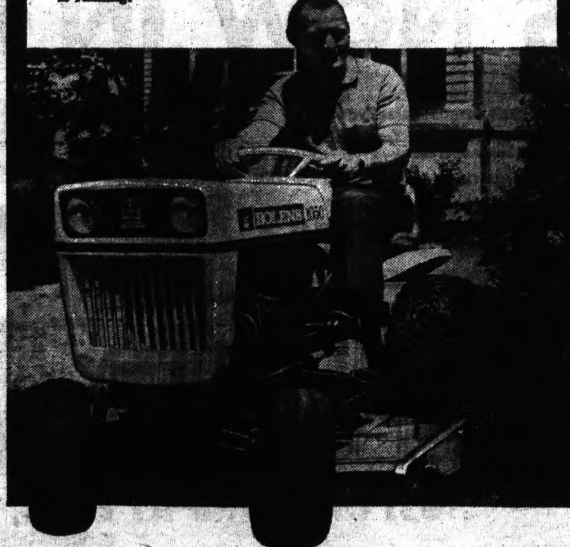

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's team retains the bulk of a defensive unit that ranked fourth in the nation last year, so the Orangemen probably won't be scored upon too often. However, the offense was depleted by graduation and thus they probably won't score too much either.

Power mowing is fun, fast and easy with a BOLENS HUSKY 1050

Mowing is a fast, one-pass operation — when you own a Bolens Husky. Consider these advantages: The Bolens Husky lets you select two speed ranges to match ground speed to mowing conditions — six forward and two reverse, $\frac{3}{4}$ to 6 mph; exclusive Post-Traction controlled differential gets you out of tight and slippery spots that leave other tractors spinning their wheels; live PTO that keeps full throttle power flowing directly from the engine to the attachment; ability to raise or lower the power mower attachment to any of six different cutting heights . . . without stopping or breaking stride.

Designed to handle every yard care task, the Bolens Husky offers PTO-driven, 3-bladed rotary mowing attachments*: 42-inch, 38-inch and 32-inch. A system for all seasons, the Husky can be equipped with all Bolens Fast-Switch Power-lock Hitch attachments. Try it today!

* All rotary mower attachments feature special hose-out coupling mounted on mower base for quick flushing and cleaning while motor is running.

Almost Unanimous in Big Ten—Purdue

Every Foe Votes for Boiler '11'

Jack Mollenkopf didn't vote for himself. However, nine other coaches did and Purdue, to no one's total amazement, has been tabbed as the team the rest of the Big Ten would most like to crush.

In a special poll taken following the close and analysis of spring drills, the Big Ten coaches pointed nine fingers at Mollenkopf and his abundantly talented Boilermakers.

In a breakdown of these learned opinions, Ohio State, Minnesota and Indiana will provide strong challenges for the honor and glory, with the two Michigan's headed by the stars of the Bump and Duffy television spectacular, coming up fast.

This isn't to say that Illinois, Iowa, Northwestern and Wisconsin will operate somewhere among the Little Sisters. These four ball clubs will present vastly improved forces and will have much to say about the division of spoils come November 23.

SOFTTEST TOUCH

Illinois and Iowa both play all four of the prime contenders, while Wisconsin misses only Purdue. Northwestern has the "softest" touch, meeting only Ohio State and Purdue. But the Wildcats must "pad" out its non-Conference slate by meeting the likes of Miami (Fla.), Southern California and Notre Dame.

Shaping up as this year's "game of the century" will be the Oct. 12 confrontation in Columbus, Ohio, between Ohio State and Purdue. If you'll remember last year, also on the banks of the Olentangy River, Purdue shell-shocked an audience of 84,089 with the most finely tuned collegiate offense in years and walked off with a 41-6 scalp. Some people remember such results more than others.

That Oct. 12 meeting will be Ohio State's first Conference encounter and Purdue's second. The course of the Big Ten's 73rd football campaign could well be shaped at this juncture.

Purdue brings back for public display three-fourths of the Big Ten's 1967 All-Conference backfield — quarterback Mike Phipps, fullback Perry Williams and the incomparable star of stars, halfback Leroy Keys.

Keys led the nation in scoring last season with 114 points, plus the Big Ten rushing and scoring titles.

The forecast:

1. Purdue	6. Michigan
2. Ohio State	7. Wisconsin
3. Minnesota	8. Illinois
4. Indiana	9. Northwestern
5. Michigan State	10. Iowa

Richie, Ken McCarter, Rick Groth, Steve Main, Ken Scislowicz, Ron James, Dave Farris and Herb Deromedi (offensive line coach). Both Odykirk and Deromedi coached at Royal Oak Kimball before coming to CMU.

Chippewas' Boasting Lettermen

Central Michigan opens its football season Saturday at Bradley University with 26 lettermen on the 53-man roster.

Among the 26 returning lettermen are four all Interstate Conference selections from last fall including tailback Craig Tefft (East Lansing), offensive tackle Ralph Sarnowski (Escanaba), defensive end Buckie Colton (Midland) and defensive halfback Raleigh Smith (Grand Rapids).

Tefft was the first Chip back in over 10 years to gain more than 1,000 yards when he accomplished the feat last fall in nine games. He finished the year with 1,046 yards.

Smith, a two-year letterwinner, is scheduled to get a trial at the swingback position, hoping to fill the gap created by the graduation of Wally Hempton, the school's greatest pass receiver in terms of number of catches and yards gained.

Coach Roy Kramer and his staff have lost 17 lettermen, including 10 starters, from last year's team which posted an 8-2 record in Kramer's first season as head coach. The Chips also shared the Interstate Conference title.

Both the offensive and defensive backfields seem to be set, but Kramer's problem is finding some depth for the offensive line and receiving good performances from the inexperienced members of the defensive line.

Also returning is last year's starting quarterback Gene Gilin, a high school teammate of Tefft's. Gilin took over the starting job on the third play of the season last year when Bob Miles suffered a broken leg. Two years ago a sophomore, Miles was the IAC's first team quarterback. He and Gilin will battle for the Chips number one quarterback spot this fall.

The offensive line will be composed of Jim Lutz (Ann Arbor) at center, Ray Rieble (Hazel Park) and Fred Ferguson (Walled Lake) at the guards and Tom Ackley (Corunna) and Sarnowski at the tackles. The end positions, both hard-hit-through-graduation, will be the hardest to fill, with Dave Farris (Waterford Township), a defensive tackle last fall, Dave Lemere (Fenton) and Lenny Burroughs (Inkster) having the best chance for starting berths.

The big problem defensively will be the lack of experienced linemen with some help expected from transfer Terry Harris (Flint), along with sophomores Ralph Burde (Port Huron) and Ken Scislowicz (Royal Oak). Also expected to battle for a starting spot are Dan Painter (Breckenridge), Bill MacDonald (Mt. Pleasant) and Mike Post (Midland). Painter and Post were starters last fall.

Pontiac Gridder Among 45 Vets on Alma Squad

ALMA — Paul Thomas of Pontiac is one of the 45 veterans of Alma College's undefeated 1967 Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) football champions who will begin the 1968 season.

Alma was Michigan's only undefeated collegiate team in 1967 and was ranked 20th in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' final listing. Seven all-MIAA performers are among the 45 veterans returning to the Scot squad.

Thomas, a 6 ft. 190-pound back, played high school football at Waterford. A sophomore at Alma, Paul will try at a number of positions this fall to find room for his talents.

Alma opens its 1968 campaign with a couple of tough nonleague road games, playing Bluffton (Ohio) College on Sept. 14 and Carthage College at Kenosha, Wis., on Sept. 21, then take on Defiance College of Ohio at Alma on Sept. 28 before its MIAA opener against Hope College at Holland on Oct. 5.

IN CONTENTION — Former Waterford gridder Dave Farris is a strong contender for an end position at Central Michigan. He was a defensive tackle last season.

Pont's Reason for 96-Yarder Is Real Valid

John Pont, Indiana coach was featured on the program at a Chicago meeting. The toastmaster who introduced him recalled that Pont had fumbled the opening kickoff of his first college game, then picked it up and ran 96 yards for a touchdown.

"He neglected to tell you why I fumbled that kickoff," said Pont.

"The reason I fumbled was my coach was Woody Hayes. And the reason I picked it up and went for a touchdown was because my coach was Woody Hayes."

EMU Revamps Offense

Mike Yankee Leads Runners

Eastern Michigan will present a revamped offense this season built around the passing of quarterback Arnold Fontes.

"Last year our offense was based on running; this year the passing will be the key," said coach Dan Boisture. "At this point we are completely untested."

However, opponents will have to keep a wary eye out for Huron runners. Among the 19 lettermen are Mike Yankee, a sophomore from Royal Oak Kimball who was the third leading runner in 1968 and is being switched to fullback, and Tommie Walls, a junior who averaged 4.1 last fall.

Fontes is a 5-11, 185-pound junior from Canton McKinley who hit on 13 of 19 passes in the annual spring Green-White game. Five Huron signal callers completed only 37 passes all last season.

"The key to our success from the I-formation will be a quarterback who can run and throw. We think Fontes can do the job," said Boisture.

The Hurons will open an ambitious schedule Sept. 15 against Morningside College.

Alma Seen to Repeat as MIAA Champions

Alma College hung out a zero sign in its last four Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association games last fall on the way to winning the championship and completing an 8-0 campaign.

Can the Scots repeat this success? All signs say yes—at least in the MIAA. Olivet and Albion are rated the top threats to Alma's dominance.

Coach Denny Stolz has all-league quarterback Tom Jakovac back plus a host of fine running backs.

The defense, which didn't allow a league opponent to score after the opening 20-18 win over Hope, has been damaged by graduation. But the Scots still are the team to beat.

RUSHING LEADER

Olivet's hopes will be built around 1967 MIAA rushing leader Karl Wilson while Albion's Morely Fraser always fields a tough team. The Britons look strong on defense and passer Ron Isaac could get the offense rolling.

Hope is the darkhorse, and will count on league total offense leader Gary Frens. Adrian has a new coach — Bill Davis — and new hopes, but the Bulldogs haven't reached the 500 mark since 1948.

The loss of rushing leader Pete Velorde to Eastern Michigan also hurts Adrian which might surprise on defense. Kalamazoo is rebuilding and may edge Adrian for the cellar.

Calvin, the other league member, does not participate in football.

'Whizzer White' His Name

Justice Grid Whiz

WASHINGTON, D.C. (NEA)—The cold marble corridors of the Supreme Court Building at First and East Capitol Streets dissolve into warmth behind the oak-paneled door.

In his carpeted private chambers, the associate justice wears a glen-plaid gray suit. The trousers are rumpled, and he's forgotten his belt. If you didn't know he sat on the highest court, the impulse would be to blurt, "Hi, Whizzer."

His name is Byron White, appointed to the Supreme Court March 30, 1962, by the late John F. Kennedy.

You settle for "Hello, Sir." As Whizzer White of Colorado, he was the Frank Merriwell incarnate of another generation, for another species of sports fan that didn't know about threatened boycotts and pensions and player benefits.

He played professional football for three seasons to finance his law education at Yale, and led the National Football League in rushing for two of those years. He was also a Rhodes scholar. And before that he worked for his room and board while playing football, basketball and baseball at Colorado, at the same time maintaining an academic scholarship.

"The old guys," he said softly, slowly, "still call me Whizzer. There aren't many of them around."

SAME WEIGHT

Today, Byron (Whizzer) White still weighs 190 pounds, which is what he weighed when he ran at tailback in the single wing for the Pittsburgh Steelers and Detroit Lions. The wavy brown hair has receded to gray thinness, but the chin remains strong and the nose has a bump that didn't get there naturally.

If you sneak up to the top floor of the Court building some afternoon in the winter, you might find him playing basketball, two-on-two, with some of the young clerks serving the justices. He was once a law clerk himself to then Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson 22 years ago.

By his own estimate, Associate Justice White attends a couple of professional football games a year, a college game or two, an occasional basketball game and once got around to soccer.

"I don't," he said, "like baseball on television. Or football. I can't see the defensive alignments in the secondary."

When he played pro football and his team gave up the ball, Whizzer didn't go to the bench. He drifted back to safety. For this he was paid $15,000 a year,

Alabama Enjoys In-State Games

UNIVERSITY, Ala. (AP)—Alabama's 1968 Crimson Tide football team will play seven games in-state, with three in Birmingham, three in Tuscaloosa and one in Mobile.

Birmingham opponents will be Virginia Tech, Louisiana State and Auburn, while Southern Mississippi will be met in Mobile and the three Tuscaloosa opponents will be Vanderbilt, Clemson and Mississippi State.

Out-of-state trips are to Jackson to play Mississippi, Knoxville to battle Tennessee and to the Orange Bowl to play Miami.

Of the seven "home" games, only the Virginia Tech opener on September 21 will be played at night.

which is what the NFL Players Association would like to see the minimum salary for very player.

"The players today," he said, "are bigger and better and more specialized, just like lawyers specialize. I might be a quarterback today." A smile flickered like a candle coming to life.

"But Williams," he continued, "won't give me a contract. He's too interested in coming over here all the time and talking."

Edward Bennett Williams is the president of the Washington Redskins and a famous trial lawyer who has pleaded cases before the Supreme Court.

So Whizzer White, at the age of 51, plays golf, skis once a year in his native Colorado, plays some tennis ("when my wife needs a partner — she's pretty good") and is hooked mostly on stream fishing.

Talk about the role of sports in the fabric of today's society brings only a quizzical look.

"The Olympic boycott?" he echoes the question, "I don't know the issues involved. Or the boys. I don't know much about track and field. I never competed in it."

"When you talk about sports, the spectator events comprise only a minimal fraction of the action or the values and enjoyment received from sports."

Yale Big Winner on Ivy Gridiron

By The Associated Press

Yale defends more than an Ivy League championship this fall. The Elis are the biggest winners in college football history — by a whopping 31 victories.

Princeton, Harvard and Pennsylvania round out the top quartet as schools which helped start the game on American campuses. They still dominate the won column long after their national prestige, poll-wise, has waned.

From a three-goals-to-none

Three Big Ifs for Bronco 11

Three question marks and an "if" surround Western Michigan's football season.

Can the Broncos come up with adequate quarterback? Who will take kicker Dale Livingston's place? Can the lack of experience at end be compensated?

The "if" takes into account injuries at the three above positions. Coach Bill Doolittle feels that injuries early in the campaign could seriously hamper the Broncos bid for a Mid-American title as happened last season when they tied for third with a 4-2 record.

Unlike last season, WMU won't start league play with its opening game. This could be beneficial. The first two outings will be at home against strong non-league foes.

Arkansas State upset the Broncos, 21-8, and Brigham Young taught them a 44-19 lesson, both on the road.

TIGHT END

Bill French, 6-5, 224-pound tight end from Pontiac, may help solve the flanker problem. But he played tackle at St. Michael and last season on the WMU frosh squad. He was shifted to end during spring practice.

The loss of quarterbacks Jim Boreland and Mark Seifert to graduation leave a large gap. Sophomore Mark Bordieax is expected to get the call.

The running game is strong with fullback Tim Majerle and Jack Foster returning along with Ken Woodside. Doolittle has switched three offensive backs to defense, including Sam Antonazzo from Livonia Franklin.

From tackle to tackle, the line should be strong both on offense and defense. Junior Chuck Andrews from Milford could break into the starting lineup on either unit. He lettered last season.

All-League center Gene Hamlin is being boosted for All-American honors and Jerry Collins, another All-MAC first teamer, returns at defensive end.

victory over Columbia in 1872 through Walter Camp and Amos Alonzo Stagg to Carmen Cozza and Brian Dowling, Yale has posted 619 triumphs.

Princeton follows with 588 while Harvard and Penn both claim 567.

TIE-BREAKER

The rankings are based solely on the number of games won with percentages a factor only when teams have the same edge the Quakers, .659, for the No. 3 spot.

Michigan with 502 triumphs and Notre Dame at 501 are the only other schools to reach the elite '500' bracket. Texas, Army, Dartmouth and Alabama round out the top 10.

It stands to reason the ancient Ivy powers are well out in front. What a head start they had.

By the end of 1888 — a year the Elis outscored the opposition 694-0-Yale had won 92 games, Princeton 91, Harvard 79 and Penn 51.

By comparison, Michigan 16 victories to its credit and that brash newcomer, Notre Dame, one.

The Fighting Irish have a slight lead, percentagewise, with a .784 mark compared to Princeton's .780 and Yale's .778. Michigan, .732 and Army, .729, are the closet pursuers.

UNBEATEN SEASONS

Yale has the most unbeaten seasons to its credit, 29, while Princeton claims the most perfect campaigns with 18.

Yale appears up to its old tricks this fall, favored to retain the Ivy crown it won last fall with stars like quarterback Dowling and halfback Calvin Hill returning. The Elis had gained the championship the first time the Ivy League became formalized in 1956, too.

Harvard, of course, shaped football's destiny by introducing rugby aspects to a soccer-oriented game in those early days.

The schools which are closet to cracking the 400-victory circle are Colorado with 383; Louisiana State, 391; Georgia, 383; Miami of Ohio, 381; Brown and West Virginia, 378; Rutgers and Michigan State, 377; Holy Cross and Virginia, 375.

California, listed with 402 wins, would be much higher in the ratings if the school hadn't switched to rugby for a period of years early in this century. Thus the Golden bears claim many more victories but they weren't all achieved in football.

Midwest Coaches in Lead

Bob Devaney Is Tops in Percentage

The Midwest, not the South, has spawned the most successful major college football coaches. Just look at No. 1 — Nebraska's Bob Devaney.

Leading the Cornhuskers' resurgence and remaining his profession's only active 800 winner, Devaney played end at little Alma College in Michigan. For 11 seasons of coaching, the Devaney record lists 88 victories, 22 losses, 5 ties and an even .800 percentage.

In the age-old sectional supremacy struggle, it is worth noting that 10 of the top 26 coaches of the day attended Midwest schools compared to eight in the South.

Even more amazing, six of them matriculated in the state of Ohio.

FRACTION OF POINT

Nevertheless it is Mississippi's John Vaught who bests Alabama's Paul "Bear" Bryant by .001 point — .773 to .772 — for runnerup position. Vaught was an All-American guard at Texas Christian. Bryant played end opposite Don Hutson at 'Bama.

The ratings are based on men who have directed varsity squads for 10 or more seasons.

Fourth spot is held by Dan Devine of Missouri, who attended the University of Minnesota Duluth Branch. While fifth place Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, went to Southern California, Arizona State's Frank Kush was a headline guard at Michigan State and Woody Hayes of Ohio State, was a lineman at Denison in Granville, Ohio.

Miami of Ohio, self-styled cradle of coaches, has turned out three of the current leaders in Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, John Pont of Indiana and South Carolina's Paul Dietzel.

Major college coaching's leaders based on 10 or more seasons percentages figured without ties:

Coach, School	Won	Lost	T	Pct.	Yrs.
Nebraska's Bob Devaney	88	22	5	.800	11
Mississippi's John Vaught	163	48	11	.773	21
Alabama's Paul Bryant	179	53	15	.772	23
Missouri's Dan Devine	97	30	8	.764	13
Minnesota's Bob Blackman	129	43	8	.750	19
Dartmouth's Frank Kush	73	26	1	.737	10
Arizona State's Woody Hayes	140	52	7	.729	22
Ohio State's Dick Coleman	105	40	3	.724	14

Say Rules Makers

More Scoring Expected

By the Associated Press
Watch for more scoring in college football's 100th season.

The rules makers have set it up that way.

It's not that the offensive team will get a special advantage. There just will be more plays per game this year and therefore more opportunities to score.

The rules changes include a stipulation there will be an officials' time out every time a team makes a first down. Result: There will be about 20 more times out per game, each time preserving valuable seconds which used to evaporate as the clock kept moving.

As a result, games will be longer. In an effort to prevent them from getting out of hand, the time out was reduced in length from two minutes to a minute and a half each.

BIG FACTOR

That new rule is going to be a big factor this season," says Joe Yukica, new head coach at Boston College. "You can get in a lot of extra plays." Nearly all of his coaching fraternity brothers agree.

The most dramatic application of the rule will come, of course, when a team makes a first down near the opponents' goal line in the final seconds. Even if the offensive club has used up all of its times out it can still get in at least one more play.

Punt coverage will revert to traditional from this year. The 1967 rule which said interior linemen could not cross the line of scrimmage until after the ball had been kicked has been revoked.

There was much ado about the provision last fall, some coaches turning crimson at their distaste for it. Facts prove there were more yards gained on punt runbacks as a result of it.

Southern California's Mike Battle led the nation with 570 yards returning punts in 1967. The previous fall the major college leader was Wyoming's Vic Washington with 443 yards.

STATUS QUO

It is doubtful if the rule was as disastrous as some quarters made it out but things are now statue quo again in the kicking game.

The rest of the rules changes won't be noticed at all by the average fan.

A player signalling fair catch of a punt can no longer block anyone. Previously he could fake a fair catch, normally inside his 10 yard line, and then block out an opponent to prevent him from blocking the ball before it reached the end zone. The player can still fake the fair catch but can't throw a block afterward.

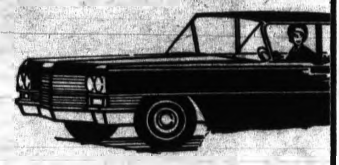

Last year one player was allowed to come to the sideline during a time out and talk to a coach. But in this age of specialization at least one of the assistants wanted to get in on the strategy talks along with the head coach. Some officials ruled such multiple talks illegal. Now the player can talk to anyone on the coaching staff.

Under another new rule, once the interior linemen have taken their three-point stance, they can't change position. Backs and ends can still pull a shift on offense but their movements can no longer be masked by mass migrations.

Finally, a strict adherence to uniform numbering must be followed — backs 1-49, interior linemen 40-79, ends 80s. Imagine. Under this system Red Grange No. 77 would have had to play tackle and Tom Harmon 98 couldn't have played at all.

What a waste!

Several Additions to WMU Schedule

Several additions have been made to future football schedules at Western Michigan University.

The school's Athletic Board recently approved football games with University of Pacific and Northern Illinois University and also approved a single-game series with the University of Idaho.

It was announced earlier this month that Western Michigan and U.O.P. will meet for the first time on Sept. 20, 1969, at Stockton.

In addition, the Broncos and the Northern Illinois also will meet in 1969 and 1970.

A single game was approved with the University of Idaho, to be played on Nov. 18, 1972, in Kalamazoo. It will be the first meeting between the two inter-sectional rivals.

Kearns Picks LA Rams to Win NFL Title

Green Bay Selected
in Central Division
Ahead of Lions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Picking against the Green Bay Packers in the 1968 NFL title chase would be different but it wouldn't be sensible, even though this may be the year it might happen.

Dallas, Baltimore or Los Angeles could be the three which could make it happen.

The Packers with a new head coach in Phil Bengston are the favorites in any case until someone proves differently.

The Central Division with Green Bay, Detroit, Chicago and Minnesota and the Coastal Division with Los Angeles, Baltimore, San Francisco and Atlanta could be real cliff hangers in their respective races.

The Bears and the Lions will change the balance of power in the Central division and the Vikings will win their share. The thing is, will these three knock each other off again and leave the gravy for the Packers?

Los Angeles is our favorite to win it all. The powerful Rams have more balance than ever.

Baltimore, which was unbeaten until the last Coastal Division game, when it lost 34-10 to the Rams, is hoping youth will fill in the rough spots, but it's still too early.

Those Bears have speed and the Lions have an all new lease on life with new quarterbacks, changing offense and stronger defense.

The game in Dallas in the opener should tell the Lions a lot, because the Cowboys are the strong choices in the Eastern Division.

These are the Cowboys who annihilated the Rams 42-10 and then as usual took their constant lacing from the Packers last year.

This is the 1968 forecast for the NFL.

Next 'Orange Juice' at USC 'Ju Ju Juice'

By AP Newsfeatures

When Coach Johnny McKay of Southern California was saying "we have a boy who will take the place of O. J. Simpson," the boss of the Trojans must have been thinking of Jim Jones.

At least that's what a number of coaches think because Jones, a quarterback at John Harris High in Harrisburg, Pa., had offers from 112 schools.

Jones, who threw 35 touchdown passes for a new Pennsylvania high school record last season, will go to Southern California in the fall and he'll probably have no trouble making the freshman team.

In two years Jones, a Negro of 180 pounds and almost 6-feet-1, racked up 4563 yards and figured in 59 touchdowns.

COACH AT OSU

"Jim Jones is a great kid," says George Chaump, his high school coach who now helps coach quarterbacks for Woody Hayes at Ohio State. "He has unique ability in passing and running and can throw a ball 50 yards while on the run without breaking stride. He ought to be great."

Chaump, 32, should know. In his six years at Harris High his teams won six Central Pennsylvania titles. His overall record was 58-4, including 35 in a row and 11 straight last season.

"I used to get a dozen calls a night," says Chaump, "because Jim Jones was that good, plus being a B student in an academic course and also senior class president."

"I wish Jim were at Ohio State now, but as a junior he seemed to be set on Southern Cal. Last March he went out there and I've heard that John McKay went to Harrisburg to see Jones for himself."

WOODY CALLS

Chaump got a call from Woody Hayes on Feb. 28 and within a week he was in Big 10 territory getting ready to learn the Hayes system.

Chaump really had Jim Jones for only two seasons because the all around athlete broke his collarbone as a sophomore. His neck was in and out of a cast for nine months and he was not permitted to play on defense as a junior or senior.

Around Harrisburg it has been said that Chaump designed an offense similar to the Southern Cal attack. And if that doesn't help, McKay may change his system to fit the boy. Jones is that good, whether passing or running.

Southern Cal fans will have to wait until 1969, however, because O. J. Simpson will be back next fall when Jim Jones is a freshman.

They'll probably call him J. J. (Ju Ju Juice Jones).

All-Weather Surface for Wisconsin U.

Each of Michigan Tech's four home football games in 1968 have been given a special designation, according to head coach Bill Lucier.

Tech's opener on Sept. 21 against Wayne State (Mich.) University is labeled "Freshman Day" in honor of the incoming students who will have just completed orientation week.

On Sept. 28 when Tech hosts Mankato State College, a special reunion of MTU's only modern day undefeated football team, the 1948 club, will be recognized.

This game is designated "48'ers Day" and squad members attending the reunion will be recognized at halftime.

HOME COMING

When Winona State College comes to Houghton on Oct. 19, the Warriors run smack into Michigan Tech's annual "Homecoming" celebration.

Tech's final home encounter is set for Nov. 2 against Ferris State College. At this game, fathers of the Michigan Tech players will be given special recognition on "Dad's Day."

DUNLOP QUALITY COSTS NO MORE ➤ DUNLOP QUALITY COSTS NO MORE DUNLOP QUALITY

This is the new Elite by Dunlop. It's a premium tire. Whatever that means.

Definitions vary. All we know is what "premium" means to us.

It means our best. Tires you buy, then forget. Tires you depend on. At speeds, stops, corners. In rain or dry. For confidence, comfort, control.

It means a tire designed for speeds up to 110 mph for your assurance at normal legal speeds. With a stronger tire body for endurance. Wide, 7-rib tread that is 20% deeper than original equipment tires. And more than 3400 tread-deep sipes with squeegee action for sure grip on wet roads.

It means 78 Series Optimum Profile™, the one best tire shape for performance and longer mileage. And now, patented† Dual Safety-Shoulders to get you across ridges and ruts without lurching.

It means anti-aquaplaning tread design, tread wear safety indicators, full 4-ply prime nylon cord construction, and an extra red liner-shield over the 2-ply chlorobutyl innerliner for maximum air retention.

The all-new Elite meets and exceeds National Traffic Safety Bureau Specifications 109 & 110, and required GSA specifications.

Stop in and see the new worry-free Elite. We'll show you what "premium" really means. And prove that Dunlop quality costs no more.

*No industry-wide or other accepted system of quality standards or grading currently exists. The Elite is Dunlop's premium or top-of-the-line tire.

Lions Are in Challenging Role

Many Changes Give Schmidt Winning Hope

Improved Defense,
Better Passing Game
Bolster Chances

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Lions' den this summer has had more action and more faces moving on and off the squad than the local parole board.

All the activity however has been pinpointed toward one ultimate — to put a winner on the field and it may happen for the first time since 1964 when the Lions posted a 7-5-2 record.

The last serious contender was the 1962 team which finished with a 11-3 record to earn the consolation bowl trip to Miami where the Lions defeated Pittsburgh, 17-10.

'DEAN' ALREADY

Head coach Joe Schmidt, who in his second year is the 'dean' of the coaches in the Central Division, has gone for both youth and veterans in making eight different trades up to the final exhibition game.

An old defensive man himself, Schmidt has bolstered the front four on defense with the addition of Joe Robb and John Baker, real veterans at the position.

First line linebacking is strong but needs depth; and the defensive secondary which will have a new face to replace Bruce Maher will have to be more consistent with its performances.

Defensive rookie of the year Lem Barney is on his way to becoming one of the all-time greats in the NFL and with more consistent help he could help make the Lions' secondary one of the best in the league.

INJURIES HURT

Injuries on the offensive line since the start of training camp have hurt the team's progress and herein lies the biggest problem to a successful season.

The quarterbacking should be better than what it was in recent years, and after some playing time for Bill Munson and his rookie understudy Greg Landry, the Lions' passing game with exceptional speed among the receivers should improve with every game.

The future certainly looks much better than ever. As for the present, the Lions could be a contender but will probably fall short of championship caliber.

Oakland 11 Is Favored as NFL Foe

The western Division of the American Football League again holds the balance of power in the AFL, and it should be a real battle to the finish between Oakland, San Diego and Kansas City.

In the weaker Eastern Division, which has Houston out of territorial alignment, the New York Jets and the Oilers will probably battle it out.

Buffalo could have been a contender in the East, but the punishment of a mid-week scrimmage after losing an exhibition game cost the Bills their No. 1 quarterback Jack Kemp for the season and Buffalo might have a hard time getting up to the third position now.

DOLPHINS YOUNG

Miami under coach George Wilson has plenty of youth and could be the darkhorse. The Dolphins will be hurt by the loss of outstanding receiver Jack Clancy, but Wilson will get the best out of his players and the team overall is looking more stable with Bob Griese at quarterback.

Pete Beathard is looking sharp at Houston with his passing and former MSU star George Webster gives the Oilers much better defensive strength.

The Jets are about to run out of excuses for not winning despite Joe Namath's knee as a reason. If the Jets don't win it, coach Ewbank might never see it.

San Diego is probably the mystery team of the AFL, with its outstanding personnel. The Chargers make a good run for it but never get to cut the bridal cake.

Oakland has been building for these days and the 1967 champs have enough to repeat, unless Daryle Lamonic was just a flash in the pan last year.

The Oakland offensive line is supposed to be the best in the AFL as is the defensive secondary.

Then there are the Kansas City Chiefs, champions of 1966 and disappointments last year.

Veteran Len Dawson may go on forever at quarterback and the KC running strength is still top rated in the league.

This is how it looks in 1968:

East Division	West Division
1. New York	1. Oakland
2. Houston	2. San Diego
3. Miami	3. Kansas City
4. Buffalo	4. Denver
5. Boston	5. Cincinnati

Unitas Tops All

300-Yard Days Total 19

There were nineteen 300-yard passing performances in the National Football League in 1967 and eight of the ten best were by John Unitas of Baltimore and Sonny Jurgensen of Washington, the No. 1 and 2 alltime NFL passers.

Jurgensen, who won his first league passing title in 1967, had five games of 300 or more yards including the season's top figure of 418 yards against the Cleveland Browns on Nov. 26.

Unitas had three 300-yard plus days and went over 400 yards for the first time in his career with 401 yards in the Colts' opener vs. Atlanta on Sept. 17.

Unitas holds the league record for 300-yard games with 23 while Jurgensen is second with 20.

RECORD HOLDER

Jurgensen is the record-holder for 400-yard games with 5.

The only other player in NFL history to have reached 400 yards more than once is Dallas' Don Meredith, who has done it twice.

Like Father, Like Son

KALAMAZOO (M) — Allen Bush, new director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, was captain of the 1947 Western Michigan University football team, and his son, Al, is a member of the 1968 Bronco varsity.

Saints Figure More Progress This Season

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Will the New Orleans Saints suffer the fate of all pro football expansion clubs in their second year. Or will the Saints continue to improve in the National Football League?

"My goal is 14 victories," says Tom Fears, the Saints head coach.

"Realistically, I'd be very happy and think we'd have tremendous progress with five. Four wouldn't be disappointing. I would be disappointed with three or less," Fears quickly adds.

"Of course, if we got three, again we'd do better than any expansion team has ever done because they've all dipped after that."

The Saints won three games last fall, equalling the number of victories by any expansion club for its first season. They also won five exhibition games and attracted a record attendance for a first year team.

The 77,000-plus average attendance for home games, was the fourth best in NFL history.

WMU Capacity Raises

KALAMAZOO (M) — Western Michigan University increased the seating capacity at Waldo Stadium to 18,500 this summer with the addition of 1,000 permanent bleacher seats.

Grid High Point

UNIVERSITY, Ala. (AP) — The first college football game was played on Nov. 6, 1869 between Princeton and Rutgers in New Brunswick, N. J., but 96 years later two Southern schools set a record that may stand for years.

Last fall Alabama and Florida State played a 37-37 tie before 71,299 fans in Birmingham. It topped the old record for most points scored in a tied game. That one was back in 1893 when Illinois and Purdue played a 26-26 deadlock.

Wayne State University's under-construction football stadium will eventually seat 26,000.

CONSIDER THE COMPLETE COST

How much does it cost to get well these days—compared with years ago? If we figure only on the basis of Rx prices, it might seem that today's cost is greater. But the fact is that today's prescription generally cuts down on the number of doctor visits . . . and eliminates or shortens the hospital stay. As a result the complete cost of getting better is much less now than it used to be. That's why we say . . .

'Garbage Man' Asset to KC

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Remi Prudhomme, who came to the Kansas City Chiefs in an off-season trade with the Buffalo Bills, personifies versatility.

"Garbage man," he said. "That's what they call the person who can play several positions. But it doesn't bother me. Even making this club is an accomplishment."

Prudhomme, the Chiefs' line-up shows, made the club at six positions: Backup man at center and both tackles on offense; backup man at both defensive ends, and defensive right tackle.

One of his talents is not being exploited — he can also kick.

Prudhomme was a guard and defensive tackle at LSU, and held those positions during his injury-plagued stay with the Bills. The last time he played center, he said, was in frosh year in college.

His preferences? "I would prefer defensive end. I feel more comfortable there. But I'll play where I get a chance."

Tackle Rattles

Foes, Not Rattled by Large Snakes

Ray Jacobs, 285-pound defensive tackle of the Miami Dolphins, keeps his reflexes sharp during the off-season by hunting rattlesnakes.

"The woods near the house are full of them," says Jacobs, who now lives in Miami after developing his hobby as a boy in the more open country around Corsicana, Texas.

"Back home it's not so dangerous," he says. "But in Florida you have to be real careful with all the high grass. You can hear 'em, though. They'll send up a warning with the rattles when you're about 12 feet away."

The "rattlers" usually are dispatched by pistol, but sometimes — says Jacobs — "we save 'em to show the kids. Then we catch 'em by attaching a piano wire to a broom handle."

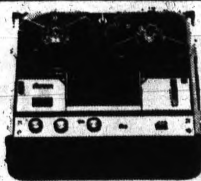

What's his record kill?

"Once we got one five feet long and as big around as the muscle above your elbow. That's pretty big."

Frosh Candidate on Carthage 11

A leading candidate for Carthage College (Wis.) football team this fall is freshman Craig Deaton from Pontiac Northern High School.

Deaton was one of the most valuable players on last year's PNH grid squad as the quarterback. He also was a standout at guard in basketball.

The Sonomatic 105 is about the highest-fidelity mono recorder around. And it's got features like Sonomatic ARC (Automatic Recording Control), Retractable Pinch Roller for almost automatic threading, 3 speeds, 4-track recording/playback, pause and tone control and 10 watts of Sony playback power. Taylor Leads Active Backs

"I ENJOY RUNNING UP THE MIDDLE," says Los Angeles' Dick Bass, at 5-10 and 195 pounds one of the smaller running backs in the National Football League. "I enjoy it because I believe I'm better in there. I think I have an advantage against a bigger man. I can duck under him or wiggle away from him."

Bass, who will soon begin his ninth NFL season, is in a race with San Francisco's John David Crow to become the 12th runner in NFL history to gain 5,000 yards rushing.

Among active rushers Jim Taylor of New Orleans and Don Perkins top the list.

Hawaiian Frosh Pineapple Worthwhile Trip for Duffy

EAST LANSING, Mich. (P) — Spring practice was over now and head coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State was completing arrangements for a trip to Hawaii while Cal Stoll and Henry Bullough, two of his trusted assistants, were at the movies.

Sounds like a lark, doesn't it? But this job of coaching a college football team is a constant effort.

This was prior to a four week summer vacation for the Spartan coaching staff. Duffy was flying to Honolulu to sign a football player to a letter of intent and the movies viewed by Stoll and Bullough contained all the action of a game Syracuse had won last fall.

"This is a must," said Stoll, the former Minnesota star who coaches Duffy's defensive, tight and split ends. "We open with Syracuse at home and they have a tremendous defense and a powerful offense."

Long before the Sept. 21 Syracuse game, Bullough and Stoll will have broken down every phase of the Syracuse defense and offense. Then they will dream up ways to counteract successful maneuvers and try to capitalize on any Orange weakness they saw on the films.

Runners-Up in MFL

Pick Firebirds Second

Another runnerup season! That's what 1968 may hold for the Pontiac Firebirds in the Midwest Football League.

Last year, the Firebirds lost two of their first three and then won nine in a row to finish one game behind Mt. Clemens with a 10-2 record.

This year with the early season schedule, the Firebirds lost two of their first four primarily due to a breakdown in the offense with injuries to both quarterbacks, Bill Harrington and Bob Pomeroy.

WIN OVER PONTIAC

Dayton appears to be the team to beat this year, having won a 25-14 decision over Pontiac already.

All title hopes for the Firebirds rest with a new offense which would have to carry Pontiac to victory the rest of the way.

There are few teams capable of beating Dayton. If the Firebirds do it in their return engagement they will have to get help from another team and hope for even a tie in the standings and a subsequent playoff.

The League's two new teams Fort Wayne and Lackawanna are going in opposite directions.

Lackawanna, a 6-0 winner over Pontiac, has held first place with Dayton for the early part of the season, while Fort Wayne has held the cellar position most of the way.

Ypsilanti sold quarterback Steve Juday to Hamtramck, but the former MSU star refused to play for the Chargers and thus both Ypsi and Hamtramck have been weak at the signal calling position.

MOST IMPROVED

Flint is the most improved team in the league and the Wildcats will be capable of knocking off any of the leaders at any time.

Dayton has Pistol Pete Mikolajewski, the league's top passer for three years back at the helm and Pete has been throwing touchdown passes as if they were going out of style, with 16 in his first four games, including four against the Firebirds.

Lackawanna has a strong defense and an exceptional runner in Norman Maxwell.

The Battle between Dayton and Lackawanna should pit the league's top offense against one of the better defenses.

The Firebirds have enough to come back and finish second in the league with a powerful defense.

The front line of Dan LaRose, Willie Washington at ends, Jerry Thick, Ron Clark and Bob Minto at defensive tackles will be tough on any running attack.

Jon Izer and Steve Szabo lead the linebacking corp and Chuck Stein, the top pass interceptor last year, heads the secondary.

INJURIES FACTOR

Injuries have played an important part in the early games for Pontiac with three defensive tackles, Clark, Minton and Ed Gillespie put out of action for most of four games.

Head coach Tom Tracy has had two consecutive runner-up teams, the first while at Ypsilanti and last year with Pontiac.

This is the 1968 MFL forecast:

1. Dayton
2. PONTIAC
3. Lackawanna
4. Flint
5. Ypsilanti
6. Hamtramck
7. Fort Wayne

21 Non-League Foes for Big 10

The Big Ten will take on 21 non-Conference opponents in those 29 "extra" games. A year ago the non-Conference record sagged to 12-18, including the Rose Bowl.

Three of the teams were nationally ranked at the end of the 1967 season: national champion Southern California, Notre Dame and Oregon State.

Notre Dame will play five straight Big Ten teams — Purdue, Iowa, Northwestern, Illinois and Michigan State.

MSU in Lead of Veterans in NFL Camps

One Hundred ninety colleges and universities were represented by the more than 700 veteran players when they reported to National Football League training camps this month and for the first time in four years, Notre Dame is not the individual leader.

The '68 leader is Michigan State, with 17 players.

Notre Dame, Southern California and Illinois are next with 16 each, followed by LSU with 14, Georgia, Mississippi and Nebraska with 12 each, Ohio State, Iowa, Washington, Michigan and Minnesota with 11 each, and Wisconsin, Northwestern, Penn State, Purdue, Grambling, Missouri and Utah State with 20 each.

On a conference basis, the leader again is the Big Ten with 116. The Southeastern Conference is second with 76 followed by the Pacific Eight with 60, the Big Eight with 51, the Southwest with 44 and the Atlantic Coast with 35.

Western Michigan University senior Sam Antonazzo of Livonia (Franklin) holds the school football record for kickoff returns in a season, returning 18 for 366 yards in 1968.

Favored Over Alabama

Gators Adjust Scales

NEW YORK (NEA) — Sometimes the only way to balance the law of averages is to adjust the scales yourself.

By coming up with a multitasking team and assigning it an undemanding schedule, coach Ray Graves has done just that. His University of Florida football team, after 34 years of trying, is favored to win its first Southeastern Conference championship in the school's history.

Graves has often found outstanding individuals in his nine years at Gainesville. He now has come up with a super-type in tailback Larry Smith and also a superb supporting cast.

Larry Rentz and Jackie Eckdahl, both versatile and both experienced, return at quarterback. The blockers are all able, especially 6-8, 246-pound Jim Yarbrough, probably the best tight end in the South.

GOOD DEFENSE

As for defense, Graves calls it better than at any time since he's been with the Gators. David Mann, the best of the linebackers, is a solid All-Conference choice. The safety position could be a little weak, and Graves needs to find a receiver to complement Smith's running threat. There are plenty of candidates available.

The Gators biggest advantage is not having to play the likes of Alabama, Mississippi, LSU or Tennessee. They do meet Auburn and Georgia on successive weekends, but that's in November and Florida should be almost to the title by then.

Graves has been quoted as saying that anything less than an 8-2 record will be disappointing. Florida is beginning to sound like Alabama.

ALABAMA — Bear Bryant "slipped" to an 8-2-1 mark last season, but the Crimson Tide will be back strong again this year. Joe Kelley takes over at quarterback after two years as an understudy. The offensive line is another problem, but the defensive line could be the best in the SEC.

The offensive backfield will be all sophs — except for Kelley. Biggest problem facing the Tide is playing four of the toughest conference opponents — all of whom delight in trying to beat 'Bama and the Bear.

LSU — While the Tigers have no All-American candidates, they do have depth and experience. Fred Haynes, the top quarterback, is a 5-9, 165-pound runt, but he has two years of action behind him. Eddie Ray and Tommy Allen provide a serious running attack, and both lines have nothing but lettermen.

What coach Charley McClendon wants most, however is a place-kicker. The Tigers lost three games in a row by a total of six points last season, due to missed field goals and PATs.

Mitchell Takes Top Spot for Receivers

Retirements of Raymond Berry, Jim Phillips and Max McGee have moved Washington's Bobby Mitchell into first place among active National Football League receivers and opened the way for Del Shofner, Mike Ditka and Jimmy Orr to join the top ten.

Mitchell caught 60 passes (for 866 yards and 6 touchdowns) in 1967 and now ranks No. 1 on the active list with 507 catches.

Longhorns SWC Favorites

Texas Gridiron Fans 'Suffer'

NEW YORK (NEA) — If you think a little success does not make people greedy, listen to University of Texas football fans tell you how they've "suffered" through three straight 6-4 seasons.

Six and four, mind you, and now it's time for a winner.

The Longhorns won the national championship in 1956 and finished with a 9-1 record the following year. It's now time for another big season from coach Darrell Royal. A Southwest Conference championship is probable and another national title a possibility.

Standing in the way are Texas A&M and Arkansas.

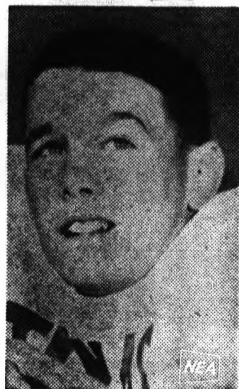

MORE TALENT

But UT figures to get by the Aggies and Razorbacks — not on better talent, just more of it. Among Royal's 28 returning lettermen are Chris Gilbert, Bill Bradley and Corby Robertson. Gilbert is the sensational tailback who will become in this, his senior season, the all-time SWC rusher.

Bradley is a senior quarterback who hasn't lived up to his potential because of injuries but is healthy now and is an all-round threat if he stays that way. Robertson is a senior linebacker who combines competitive drive with intelligence to man his position.

Each of the three could be all-America.

And there's more. Two returning guards, Danny Abbott and Loyd Wainscott, made all-conference last year. Ted Koy, younger brother of New York Giants star Ernie Koy, provides speed and power at fullback and sophomore Steve Worster could turn out to be the best of the backfield men. Glenn Halsel teams with Robertson to form one of college football's top linebacks two-somes, and receiver Deryl Comer is also all-conference material.

LONGHORN — Quarterback Bill Bradley is one of the reasons why Texas is favored to win the Southwest Conference title and is a leading contender for national grid honors.

TEXAS A&M — Something strange happened at College Station last season. Despite the outstanding play of quarterback Edd Hargett, the Aggies lost their first four games, three of them in the last seconds of play. Then, the rest of the team jelled suddenly and rallied behind Hargett to win his last seven games, including a Cotton Bowl victory over Alabama.

Besides Hargett, coach Gene Stallings has five veterans who made all-SWC last season — linebacker Bill Hobbs, flanker Bob Long, tackle Rolf Krueger, safety Tommy Maxwell and halfback Larry Stegent — plus punter Steve O'Neal, who averaged 42 yards per kick.

ARKANSAS — The Razorbacks, coming off their worst season in 10 years, are hoping for quarterback John Eichler to spark a pass-minded offense. Wingback David Dickey and tailback Russell Cody will balance the attack with strong running, but coach Frank Broyles could have trouble with the offensive line.

There also may be problems on defense, but if a group of sophomores and redshirts mature quickly, it could be fun to be in Fayetteville again.

Leading Rusher Returns

Sooners Ready to Keep Rolling

NORMAN, Okla. (NEA) — Oklahoma was so good last year, the Big Eight's leading rusher couldn't break into the starting lineup.

Tailback Steve Owens gained over 800 yards and scored 72 points — without ever starting a game — as the Sooners went undefeated in the conference, upset Tennessee in the Orange Bowl and finished 10-1 for the season.

Coach Chuck Fairbanks goes into his second campaign with not only Owens but also eight of his 11 offensive starters returning, including all-conference quarterback Bobby Warmack, speedy wingback Eddie Hinton and powerful fullback Mike Harper. Each could be all-league in '68.

Also, a half dozen regulars return to the defensive unit that gave up fewer points per game last year than any in the country. They are end Jim Files, tackle John Titsworth, linebacker Gary Harper, halfback Bruce Stensrud, safety Steve Barrett and tackle Dick Paaso, who is moving to middle guard to plug the gap vacated by All-American Granville Ligins.

DEPTH PROBLEM

The only real problems facing OU are a lack of depth and a conference race that could be the tightest and most exciting in the history of the Big Eight. But before their first league opponent is met, the Sooners have to face the likes of Notre Dame, North Carolina State and Texas.

It won't be an easy year but, as they say in the song Oklahoma, it should come out O.K.

KANSAS — Bobby Douglass, last season's conference back-of-the-year, returns at quarterback to give coach Pepper Rodgers a strong shot at the title. Douglass should get help from running backs Junior Riggins, John Jackson and Don Shanklin while all-conference end John Zook leads an able defense. On the offensive line, tight end John Mosier, tackle Keith Christensen and center Dale Evans are all-conference material. The Jayhawks don't face Oklahoma, in what could be a showdown, until November. KU should be in the race at least until that game.

NEBRASKA — Linebacker Ken Geddes leads seven returning regulars from the squad that led the nation in total defense and coach Bob Devaney can count on offensive help from all-conference fullback Dick Davis and quarterback Frank Patrick, last season's leading passer in the Big Eight.

The Cornhuskers get added aid in the presence of receiver Tom Penny and halfback Joe Orduna, an exceptional break-away runner.

Nebraska could get a lift by beating Kansas at home in the first conference encounter before meeting Oklahoma in the season's last game that will probably decide the title.

MISSOURI VALLEY — North Texas State has an All-America candidate in 275-pound tackle Joe Greene, a head coach going for his second straight MVC title in his second year on campus, college football's leading aerial combination in quarterback Steve Ramsey and flanker Ronnie Shanklin, and a tenacious defensive unit that led the nation in pass interceptions and calls itself the Mean Green.

Rod Rust may improve on his 7-1-1 mark and 4-0 league record of last season but one hurdle stands in the way: Memphis State. The Tigers enter the MVC race for the first time but will need to beef up their offense to match a strong defense before tangling with North Texas' Eagles.

David L. Holmes was Wayne State University's first head football coach, handling the sport from its inception in 1918 through 1928.

HAWAIIAN KICKOFF — A drive of the Advance Gifts Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund started this morning with a Hawaiian luau breakfast sponsored by the Community

Luau Kicks Off PAUF Drive

The Advance Gifts Division campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund kicked off this morning with a Hawaiian Luau breakfast sponsored by the Community National Bank.

A goal of $118,324 was announced by Charles Woodhead, chairman of the Advance Gifts Division. Approximately 100 volunteer solicitors attended the breakfast, where they received campaign kits and instructions.

Robert R. Eldred, president of Community National Bank, presented the first contribution to the Advance Gifts Division — a check for $14,631.60 which includes firm and employee giving.

Woodhead stressed the importance of a vigorous and dynamic beginning by the Advance Gifts Division, the first solicitation of the campaign which contacts some 600 major contributors in Pontiac and the area.

'WE'LL TOP GOAL'

Alger V. Conner, chairman of this year's PAUF drive, commented, "I appeal to you and to every '68 campaign worker to think positively. We are not going to make our goal — we're going to exceed it and raise more United Fund money than ever before."

"We will do this because we believe in the United Fund idea. We will do it because we remember that businessmen, like us, throughout our area and our country wanted and helped organize the United Fund idea and plan."

"Their reason in Pontiac in 1948 was, as it is today, to provide for the most worthy agencies in the community so that they might serve our people, and we might campaign only once a year. Business people and individuals want United Fund because it drastically reduces costs to business and the agencies."

"I am positive no local businessman will ever want each of our 55 agencies to conduct its own drive and be contacted by 55 campaign workers each asking for the firm's work force to help raise the funds. Neither will these business firms or our agencies want to reduce service because of greatly increased campaign costs."

5 VICE CHAIRMEN

Vice Chairmen of the Advance Gifts Division attending the kickoff were Edward Swift, Consumers Power; Harold Newhouse, Community National Bank; Carleton C. Patterson, Jr., Thatcher-Patterson, Inc.; Dr. Kenneth Vandenberg and Gene Stanley, Gaulker Moving.

Harry Vanhook, chairman of this year's PAUF Speaker's Bureau gave a brief presentation on this year's campaign film and program.

This year's total UF goal is $1,130,000 — 10 per cent over the amount raised last year. Funds collected go to support 55 health, welfare, and youth agencies with PAUF. This year's campaign is scheduled to run from Oct. 15 through Nov. 10.

Rain Is Expected to Leave the Area

Today's light rain and drizzle are expected to move eastward late this afternoon or evening, leaving skies partly cloudy and temperatures cooler with a low of 46 to 56 tonight.

Partly sunny and continued cool is the forecast for tomorrow. Partly cloudy with little temperature change is the outlook for Thursday.

Morning winds variable will become north to northeast at eight to 15 miles per hour this afternoon and northwesterly at 10 to 15 miles tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: Today 80, tonight 30, tomorrow 20.

Sixty-two was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The thermometer reading was 68 at 12:30 p.m.

Guard Blast 'Sabotage'

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — An explosion that authorities tentatively blamed on sabotage destroyed a truck and slightly damaged four others on the grounds of the California National Guard army today.

Primer cord was found beneath one of the vehicles, indicating it had been wired to explode, a fire department official said.

Czech Premier Seeks Soviet Economic Aid

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak Premier Oldrich Cernik flew to Moscow today for new negotiations, presumably seeking help to offset the economic setback resulting from the Soviet invasion of his country.

Cernik was accompanied by two economic experts, Deputy Premier Frantisek Hamouz and Foreign Trade Minister Václav Vales. Prague Radio said the three men went for economic talks.

The economic nature of the talks was underlined by the makeup of the Soviet delegation at the first session today in the Kremlin. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the Soviet government was represented by Premier Alexei Kosygin, Deputy Premier Nikolai Baibakov, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, First Deputy Foreign Trade Minister Mikhail Kuzmin and a member of the state planning committee, Nikolai Inozemtsev.

The Czechoslovaks for some time have sought a big loan from the Soviet Union, and the Russians have also half promised compensation for all damages caused by the invasion.

'PRODUCTION PARALYZED'

The Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo said Monday that the "arrival of foreign troops paralyzed production in heavy industry." It estimated production losses during the first week of the occupation at more than $227 million.

Rude Pravo complained that the Soviet Union and some of its hard-line allies did not meet their obligation to supply certain raw materials to Czechoslovakia.

Meanwhile, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov returned to Prague after a visit to Bratislava, the capital of Slovakia. A report that his talks with Slovak Communist party chief Gustav Husak had been "cordial" raised the prospect that Moscow has bigger things in mind for Husak.

CONTRAST

This contrasted with the official description of "frank and cordial" — meaning disagreement — used for Kuznetsov's talks with Ondrej Klokoc, chairman of the Slovak National Council, and earlier with President Ludvik Svoboda. Premier Cernik and national Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek.

Kuznetsov came to Czechoslovakia Friday amid complaints in the Soviet press that liberal Czechoslovak leaders were not moving swiftly enough to conform to Moscow's demands that the liberal reforms of the past months be rolled back.

Buick Exec Says '69 Looks Good

DETROIT (AP) — Robert L. Kessler added his voice today to the swelling chorus of "General Motors never had it so good."

Kessler, GM vice president and general manager of its Buick division, told a national press preview of the division's 1969 cars that business for 1968 and next year looked great.

His comments came a day after John Z. Lorean, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac division, predicted his unit would top the million sales mark for the first time in 1969.

Kessler, in a statement released in advance of the preview, did not make an exact estimate of 1969 sales but he did report that Buick expected to wind up calendar 1968 with 659,000 sales — its second best year on record and topped only by the 745,000 sold in 1965.

PELS PUSH MARK

He pointed out that if the estimated 90,000 Opel Kadetts, sold here this year imported from Germany and built in GM plants there, were included in Buick sales the total for the year would be 749,000 — a Buick high mark.

Kessler said he was "optimistic" about 1969 sales. "Our growth rate is solid and even surpasses the industry trend as a whole."

Kessler said Buick had scheduled a build of 250,000 of the new 1969 models by year-end and added "This will be

U.S. OK Urged on N-Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in the first test of the congressional willingness to force the Soviet Union to invade Czechoslovakia, was urged today to take quick action on a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

The plea was made by committee member Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

It was the first attempt to dislodge the nuclear nonproliferation treaty from committee since Congress reconvened last week.

President Johnson asked swift action when he submitted the treaty to the Senate July 9. He has continued to press for approval despite lessening of congressional support since the Czech invasion.

DELAY POSSIBLE

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has raised the possibility the treaty might be put over until next year.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk renewed the administration plea before the committee yesterday. He said U.S. action could have impact on what other countries decide about signing the treaty.

Marine Unit First to Leave Vietnam

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — The first American unit to leave Vietnam — the 27th Marine Regiment — started back to the United States today, but nearly half its men have been reassigned to other outposts and are staying behind.

As the first 100 officers and men waited for their plane to Okinawa, the 1st Marine Division band played "California, Here I Come." The Leathernecks laughed and shuffled their feet impatiently. It was the second time most of them had left Vietnam.

"Man, am I happy to get out of here," said Sgt. Jim Blake, 25, of Shreveport, La.

The regiment was thrown into the war in February at the height of the Vietcong's Tet offensive. Its battalions fought near Hue and south of Da Nang. The 27th was assigned to war duty temporarily, and the 1st Brigade of the Army's 5th Mechanized Division is replacing it.

In nearly seven months of combat, the 4,500-man regiment claimed 2,000 of the enemy killed, 25 prisoners and 463 captured weapons. The regiment lost 292 dead and handed out 1,900 Purple Hearts for battlefield wounds.

"I'd say 21 months here is quite enough," said second timer Cpl. Bruce Finley, 22, of Newton, Mass.

"This was my second time here," said 21-year-old Sgt. Dennis Bier of Union City, Calif. "It's time we stepped aside and gave some of these younger troopers a chance."

A regimental parade is scheduled for Sept. 17 in San Diego.

Grid Season Preview in Today's 'Kickoff'

Every team's a winner at this stage of the football campaign. So for a look at what your favorite team's expected to do this fall, check the 1968 issue of the Kickoff in today's Pontiac Press.

The 13th annual Kickoff is crammed with facts, figures and photos.

Previews of state colleges, of the nation's leading conferences and of the major independents are included in this edition. For the preps, there's a complete rundown of high school football in Oakland County.

There's something on the pros, too. Sports Editor Bruno L. Kearns sees the reign of the Packers coming to an end. It's all in the '68 Kickoff.

Pontiac Plans to Double Its Subsidy to Bus Firm

If you're a bus rider in Pontiac, worried about the threatened loss of bus service, you can breathe easier—at least for the next 6½ months.

According to an agreement hammered out last night by city commissioners and officials of the American Transit Corp. in an informal meeting, the bus service will be continued on five main routes covering 10 main thoroughfares.

The city will increase its subsidy to the bus company, expected to more than double the present $2,916-per-month rate ($35,000 per year) to somewhere near $6,000 per month.

The present fare of 30 cents for adults is expected to remain the same. But rates for school children may go from 15 to 20 cents.

OK SEEN TONIGHT

The commission is expected to formally approve the agreement at its weekly meeting tonight.

The solution is only temporary, city officials said. Meanwhile a 50-year veteran of the bus business and an expert of 21 years in the transit field warned that conditions are rapidly changing in the whole area of local transportation.

The city will have to take steps to meet the change, private bus companies can no longer do the job, Kenneth R. Tollen, regional manager of the bus corporation, told the city. He said local (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 1)

Pontiac: Future Home of the Tigers, Lions?

By BOB WISLER
The Pontiac Tigers? The Pontiac Lions?

Maybe not, but Pontiac may well be the future home of the Detroit Tigers and Detroit Lions.

The chance that the Tigers and Lions can perform in Pontiac is not a pipe dream, according to those city officials who last night saw a preview of the presentation which will be made tomorrow to the Metropolitan Stadium Committee at Oakland University.

The committee, a quasi-official group, includes top leaders in a number of fields in the tricity area of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne.

The group is expected to make strong recommendations to the Lions and Tigers management on construction of a new stadium in the Detroit Metropolitan area by the end of this year, or early 1969.

TOP LOCATION

Pontiac is making its bid to be the site of the new stadium. According to city officials, Pontiac has the location that tops all others, including Detroit, Troy and Walled Lake, which are actively bidding to become the site, and several other communities which may or may not make a presentation to the stadium committee.

In order to make a proper presentation, city commissioners earlier this year authorized spending $6,000 for a professional presentation, as prepared by Drinker Associates Inc., city planning consultants of Birmingham.

Last night city commissioners saw what the city received for the money, and they said they were well-satisfied.

Principals of the firm outlined a slide presentation and charts and graphs which will be used in the presentation tomorrow night to boast of the advantages of Pontiac's contemplated site.

PARKING FOR 25,000

The proposed site takes in 154 acres at the interchange of I-75 and M59. This, the planners said, can be utilized for constructing a stadium and parking facilities for 25,000 cars.

In addition, another 117 acres in Pontiac Township immediately adjacent can be acquired for related development, officials said.

Most of the land is owned by the Pontiac School board or the city. The school board has privately agreed to sell the property if a stadium can be located there.

"This site has everything—land availability, easy access, the center of a highway network, near the population center," City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

Warren said he thinks Pontiac is in a very good position in seeking consideration as the future home of the proposed stadium.

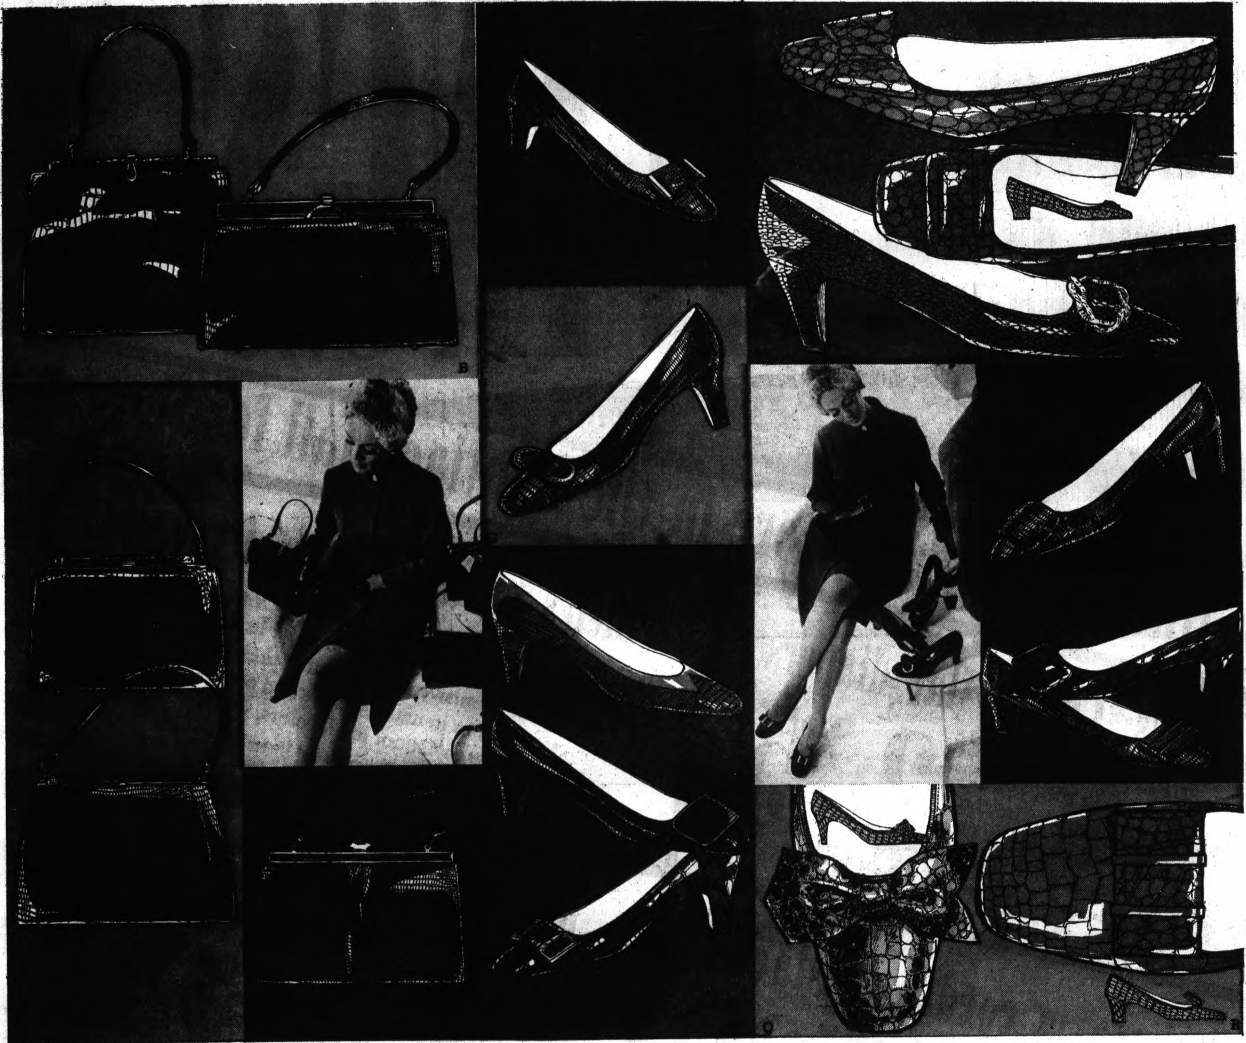

Jacob Drinker of Drinker Associates said, "We haven't had to strain the facts at all. The facts are overwhelming."

Some of the facts, which will be presented publicly tomorrow night and reported in The Press Thursday, show Pontiac as the center of a transportation network and as a population area believed unique among communities in the southeastern Michigan area.

Engineering revisions include an anti-theft ignition lock on the steering column, locking the steering and transmission lever as well as the ig-
