

Space Walk, Rendezvous Next

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 10 pilots today triggered jets on their scooter in the skies — a locked-on Agena space engine — to set up an afternoon rendezvous with a second target satellite and an hour-long jet-gun space stroll by astronaut Michael Collins.

Command pilot John W. Young, short of fuel on Gemini 10, borrowed power from the Agena by firing rockets on the space engine, kicking the orbital path of the specimen to the north.

That was the first move in chase of the Agena left over from last March's Gemini 8 mission.

Their eyes no longer smarting from a pungent gas that cut short a space stand yesterday, the astronauts were given a tentative go-ahead for Collins to stroll into space on a 50-foot lifeline about 6 p.m. EST to work with the Gemini 8 Agena.

Final approval will come if a space suit test shows no repeat of the problem.

During the test, the astronauts will depressurize their cabin partially.

Asked late this morning if the eye-watering was bothering the astronauts, Young said, "We still do get a whiff of that stuff." But he said it wasn't bad.

Ground officials figured they could control the gas enough to prevent a crisis.

The astronauts were told on one orbit that Houston's baseball team beat Philadelphia 5-2 Tuesday night and also that Frank Sinatra had married Mia Farrow.

ONE TRIUMPH

"Well, that's one triumph at least," Young said.

Hurricane Celia brewing west of Bermuda, was being watched by recovery forces.

Mission Control said they believed the storm would not affect the prime recovery area, located several hundred miles south of the storm center.

Defense Department officials, however, said the forecast for the prime recovery area calls for restricted visibility and some showers and said there is a chance the landing point might be shifted.

The crew awoke about 8 a.m. after nine hours of sleep. The ground controllers said good morning.

"Uh — good morning," answered Young, a Navy commander.

He was told that his spacecraft and the Agena still locked firmly to the nose were looking good.

Troops Sent to Cleveland Riot Sector

By The Associated Press

Amid what Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes calls "a state of tumult, riot and other emergency," National Guardsmen have begun patrolling the violence-racked Hough section of Cleveland where a Negro man was shot to death last night.

Two Negroes were wounded by gunfire, several other persons were injured by thrown bricks and rocks, a white man was slugged in the eye and more than 100 persons were arrested in the two-mile-square area thickly populated by Negroes.

Before the troops moved in, 200 policemen, many armed with shotguns, struggled to restore order in the wild rioting three miles from downtown Cleveland.

WHEN COLLINS WALKS—Gemini 10 astronaut-pilot Michael Collins got the go-ahead today to walk in space on a 50-foot lifeline. He will use a gas-powered handgun to propel himself over to Agena 8, left over from last March, to conduct experiments. Collins is expected to make his stroll this afternoon. An Associated Press artist shows how Collins might accomplish his feat.

City Ratifies Firemen's Pact

Commission Approval
Ends Year of Dispute

Ending a year-old dispute that saw daily picketing of City Hall for more than a month, the City Commission last night ratified an agreement with Pontiac firemen.

Essentially a noncash package, the contract with the Pontiac Firefighters Union is expected to cost an estimated $8,000 a year, according to city officials.

The agreement ends one of the longest disputes between the city and a group of municipal employees. The pact does not incorporate any wage hikes and does not carry a termination date.

Although a unanimous vote passed the measure, some City Commissioners were obviously unhappy with the contract.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., who is on vacation, is credited with playing a key role in the negotiations that date back to last summer.

Survivor and Suspect Meet Face-to-Face

CHICAGO (U-P) — The dark-haired, dainty nurse looked at the sinewy man accused of calmly killing eight of her friends.

Richard Speck, 24, was in a bed at the City Jail Hospital, pale from the blood he had lost through self-inflicted cuts in his arms.

He may have been further weakened, doctors said, by a heart attack which he may have suffered shortly before his face-to-face meeting with the nurse yesterday.

Was he the same man who had managed to subdue, gag, bind and then kill eight young student nurses early Thursday?

SPECK

Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse who escaped the fate of her roommates by rolling under a bed and praying as they were led, one by one, to their deaths, was there to answer that question.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune in today's editions both said Miss Amurao had identified Speck as the intruder.

However, the state's attorney's office refused to give any information on the confrontation or to comment on the newspaper reports.

Sunny, Cool Days Forecast Till Friday

Sunny days and cool nights, just what you read about in resort folders, may be found in your own back yard the next few days.

The weatherman's forecast is just right for outdoor living, camping, picnics, swimming or sun bathing, as he predicts fair and cool tonight with lows of 50 to 57, and sunny again tomorrow with highs near 76 to 82.

Fair and slightly warmer is the outlook for Friday.

Today's low temperature prior to 8 a.m. was 55. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 76.

Pontiac Output Tops '65 Mark

Record Reached With
2 Weeks Remaining

A new model year production record was set at Pontiac Motor Division this morning with still two weeks of 1966 production remaining. It was announced by John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and divisional general manager.

At 10 a.m., 802,001 Pontiacs and Tempests had been assembled in the 1966 model run, breaking the record 802,000 established in the 1965 model year.

"The 1966 model year total will exceed 830,000 units by the time we shut down for our changeover Aug. 2," DeLorean said.

"When our sales are strong our production must keep pace and we have maintained a high production schedule throughout the year," DeLorean stated.

Since Jan. 1, Pontiac production has averaged over 80,000 cars a month.

June was a new record production month. Pontiac production reached 89,123 units.

During the projected record production model year, the week of Feb. 7 saw the best output for any one week with 22,864 units assembled. The record production day was Feb. 8 with 4,070 units assembled.

Happy Newlyweds After Ceremony

Frank, Mia Are Wed, Off on Honeymoon

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (U-P) — Singer Frank Sinatra honeymooned, somewhere, with his third wife Mia Farrow today after a Las Vegas wedding performed between plane flights.

Exactly where they went hasn't been determined.

Sinatra, 50, flew from London to New York and from there to Las Vegas, landing two hours before the wedding yesterday.

Mia Farrow flew in from Los Angeles in another of his company jets.

The marriage is the first for the 21-year-old star of television's "Peyton Place."

Minutes after the wedding was performed before a few friends at the Sands Hotel, the couple announced they were flying to New York and boarded their plane.

NO FLIGHT PLAN

They filed no flight plan, and airport authorities in New York reported the jet did not land there.

There were unconfirmed reports that they flew here instead, but airport officials had left the field by that time.

Later, two jets similar to Sinatra's touched down at Van Nuys Airport, about 100 miles northwest of here, with no passengers aboard.

Sinatra maintains a home at this desert spa but the house was quiet and its windows dark last night.

Senate Hearings Plan to Delve Into Dodd's Financial Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee indicated today its next round of hearings on misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd will deal with the Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., told a reporter he will announce the subject and the date for the hearings just as soon as he can. But he said he had no definite information at this time.

Stennis said that progress was being made in investigating other charges against Dodd, that financial records and other data were being checked.

Indications were that this phase of the committee's investigation will go beyond the raising of campaign funds and the use made of them by Dodd.

public relations firm and a registered agent for West German business interests, ended late Tuesday.

KEY ISSUE

Klein spent the day in the witness chair. On a key issue, he insisted he hadn't pressured Dodd in going to West Germany in 1964 to help Klein retain his clients there.

"I don't know a single United States senator who can be pressured," said Klein, who testified all his letters, memos and telephone calls to Dodd were just the exercise of his "God-given right" of petition.

Klein, a Republican, said he also had asked Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and other senators to speak to German government and industrial leaders in his behalf. Javits later told a reporter he had mentioned

Klein in talks with former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and former Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano.

Javits said in both cases his discussions dealt with Klein's views on German reparations to Jewish victims of Nazi persecution. "I thought Klein's position reflected credit on him," Javits said.

STAYED AWAY

Dodd, who stayed away from

Tuesday's hearing, previously had sworn the purpose of his six-day trip to Germany was to investigate the Soviet terror apparatus.

Klein said that when he learned Dodd was going, he encouraged him to make the trip and to counter "distortions" in the German press about a 1963 Senate Foreign Relations Committee probe of foreign agents.

However, he testified that not a single one of his West German clients who had canceled their contracts after the 1963 investigation had been "salvaged" as a result of Dodd's trip.

"Would you say that Senator Dodd's trip was personally helpful to you?" asked the Ethics Committee's counsel, Benjamin R. Ferris.

"I'd rather put it the other way," Klein replied. "It surely didn't do me any harm."

Airline Strike Showdown Looms

Sicilians Flee Landslide Area

AGRIGENTO, Sicily (AP) — With 5,000 persons already homeless, a new landslide scare sent 10,000 more residents fleeing in panic today from Agrigento.

So far, the city's chief tourist attraction, one of the world's best preserved Greek temples, did not appear threatened.

A slow earthquake continued after partly wrecking the southwest third of the city, which is on a hill three miles inland from Sicily's south coast.

Ten buildings, some of them new apartment houses eight to ten stories tall, have collapsed. Hundreds of others, including the 13th-century Norman Cathedral and the town museum, were cracked and badly damaged.

No person has been injured.

Plane Wreckage Is That of C47; Crashed in 1945

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army said today the wreckage of a plane found last week in Malaysia was that of a C47 which vanished in November 1945 while on a flight from Singapore to an airfield in what was then the Malay States.

"No trace of the aircraft was found until the recent discovery," the Army said.

Reports of the location of the wreckage were carried last week from Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

1st Lt. William H. Myers of Elizabethtown, Pa., Flight Officer Judson B. Baskett of Paducah, Ky., and PFC Donald E. Jones of Mascoutah, Ill.

Ground Hunt for State Girl, Is Abandoned

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A ground search was abandoned today as Kent County detectives took charge of the baffling disappearance of 13-year-old Laura Jo Sutcliffe, who has been missing from her home near Sparta since Saturday.

Fears for the safety of the missing girl mounted as Kent County sheriff's department members reported scores of tips and leads offered by citizens have resulted in no trace of the missing girl.

About 200 officers and civilians combed the woods and dragging operations were held in High Lake and Low Lake in the area in an unproductive search for the girl.

A National Guard helicopter and State Police dog also were used in the search yesterday.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sutcliffe, said they found Laura gone when they returned home Saturday afternoon.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched the 125th satellite in its Cosmos series today, the Soviet news agency Tass reported. It said the unmanned satellite carried scientific equipment and was in a circular orbit about 155 miles above the earth.

The Cosmos series began March 16, 1962. The Soviet announcement said its aim was scientific exploration.

ness, flames crackled in stores, off part of the city's smoldering looters pillaged businesses, and Negro section and its exits shops and police exchanged shots.

Police fired tear gas into one store where it was believed a sniper was lurking.

Authorities identified the dead man as Percy Giles, 36. He was shot near an intersection in the worst trouble area where Negro crowds had gathered.

A Negro woman was shot and killed during rioting Monday night.

Eighteen jeeps loaded with four National Guardsmen each pulled into the riot areas shortly before midnight and violence appeared to lessen.

Rhodes originally called for 1,000 troops to rush to Cleveland then called for an additional 500 when new violence broke out last night.

SECOND NIGHT

More violence flared in Jacksonville, Fla., for the second straight night and police sealed

Mrs. Catright was admitted to a hospital with cuts and bruises on her arms and legs.

Mayor Louis Ritter said he would ask for National Guard troops if violence developed.

However, Gov. Haydon Burns, a former mayor of Jacksonville, suggested the use of highway patrolmen instead.

CHICAGO CALM

A "very, very quiet" night was reported by officers in Chicago although National Guardsmen were no longer patrolling the West Side area where rioting began last week.

The soldiers remained on call in their armories.

In Grenada, Miss., police arrested about 50 Negro pickets on a charge of blocking the sidewalk in front of a grocery store.

City Prosecutor Bradford J. Dye said 41 were jailed and juveniles in the group were released.

IN 'BLACKOUT'

Negroes in the north Mississippi city of 8,000 have been marching in behalf of an economic "blackout" since last week.

In New York, the director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said summer rioting in cities might stop if Negroes governed the ghettos.

"The time is here when black people have to make the decisions for themselves," said Floyd McKissick.

He said Negroes could bring about constructive changes by adhering to the doctrine of "black power."

City Ratifies Contract for Fire Fighters

Leslie H. Hudson, "This is one evening that I would like to have the mayor in this chair."

Hudson pointed out that the commission was not in total agreement on the settlement.

Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr., noting that he has promised not to vote for any settlement that cost the city any more money, explained his yes vote by stating that he would support the mayor and city manager.

Commissioner John A. Dugan urged the contract be approved.

He said the mayor and city manager had negotiated the agreement in good faith and "in all fairness" the commission should back them up.

Regarded as a working agreement, the contract stipulates hours, working conditions and other noncash benefits.

Explaining the added $8,000 city cost, Warren said several promotions within the department would be necessary, plus payment of call-back pay and overtime.

Previously, Warren estimated the firemen's agreement represented 17 bargaining sessions during the past year totaling more than 50 hours of discussion, including three all-day meetings.

Approval of the contract came as the firefighters recently accused the city of unfair labor practices. One of the charges had been that the commission had been slow in approving the contract, received for study May 17.

Commission Changes Two Meeting Dates

Because of two elections that fall on their regular meeting night designated Monday, Aug. 1, and Monday, Nov. 7, as their meeting dates for those respective weeks.

The commission will meet on Mondays of those weeks because of primary election day, Aug. 2, and general election day, Aug. 8.

Vote on Offer Would Stretch Costly Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13-day airline strike approached a crucial showdown today with a union maneuver that threatens to stretch the costly, crippling walkout another two weeks.

The decision of the striking Machinists' Union to take a "vote of confidence" among all 25,000 strikers in some 30 cities if there is no contract agreement today stunned top federal officials and negotiators for the five grounded airlines.

The only hope for shortening the strike that has already taken much of the joy and the money out of the nation's peak summer tourist season apparently lay in government pressure to win a settlement before the union's 4 p.m. EST deadline.

That left just seven hours from the opening of today's talks.

REJECTION LIKELY

A union vote without an agreement between company and union negotiators is virtually certain to reject the last airline's proposal, sources in the talks said. And negotiations would cease during the week it would take to conduct the balloting.

Negotiations with United, National, Eastern, Northwest and Trans World airlines would have to begin all over again if the union members voted no. And even a prompt agreement then would mean still another week to take a second ratification vote.

"There must be a better way than that," said one high government official.

In the unusual move, union Vice President Joseph W. Ramsey said if no settlement is reached by 4 p.m., the airlines' latest offer would be presented to the strikers for a vote.

This appeared to harden the stance of the airline negotiators, who Ramsey complained, already had "their feet planted in cement."

Both sides indicated the stalemate negotiations were right back where they started when the strike began July 8.

Bloomfield Hills Board Will Take Bids on Pool

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education will soon be advertising for construction bids for the new swimming pool at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Plans for the pool are nearly complete, according to a report submitted to the board last night by the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach of Birmingham.

Schools Superintendent Eugene L. Johnson said the pool which is expected to cost about $720,000, should be complete by September of 1967.

The pool will be housed in a building located just north of the high school's present gymnasium, between the parking lot and the athletic field.

In other action last night, the board approved the use of buses to transport morning and afternoon session kindergarten children to and from school during the noon hour.

REGULAR BUSES

The children will use the regular school buses in the morning and evening.

Preservation of the bell from the old Wing Lake School was discussed, but no definite plans were made. Superintendent Johnson said the board recognizes the historical significance of the bell and soon will approach the school PTO about further action on the project.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Beginning Aug. 2 the Cranbrook Institute of Science will offer a four-week course in "Introduction to Bird Study" for youngsters who have completed the fourth grade.

Classes will be on Tuesdays.

"I refer to the right of freedom of contract, the right to sell or rent property — or not to sell or rent — to whomsoever one chooses without coercion from the government."

'LESS PROTECTION'

The bill, as revised, now covers owners of five-or-more-unit properties, said Partridge. "But is the owner of five units entitled to less protection from government harassment than the owner of four units, three units, or even one's own home?"

He added that Title IV would expose home owners to a rash of "split sales" from persons responsibly charging discrimination, involving expensive litigation, harmful publicity and invasion of privacy by federal investigators and attorneys.

ferred to end the war, including the air strikes against the Communist North, and begin talks toward reunification of North and South Viet Nam if the Viet Cong disband and Hanoi withdraw its troops from the South.

Except for the mention of reunification, the proclamation represented little new and reflected the new confidence in Saigon over the allied military position.

REJECTION CERTAIN

Since the proposal demanded their capitulation, the Communists were certain to reject it.

In the ground war, U.S. jets and artillery pounded Communist positions in the jungles of the Song Ngon Valley just below the 17th Parallel frontier as 7,000 American Marines and South Vietnamese troops carried Operation Hastings into the sixth day.

The main target of the aerial barrage was Hill 208, site of numerous bunkers and foxholes.

A spokesman said 11 bunkers had been destroyed or damaged.

New Novi Cityhood Bid in Works

NOVI — New petitions for the incorporation of the village into a home rule city will be presented to the Village Council at its Aug. 15 meeting.

The latest petitions will replace those already on file calling for an election on incorporation of Novi as a fourth-class city, according to C. A. Smith, representative of the Committee for the City of Novi.

Fourth-class city status does not include home rule or provision for a city manager.

The committee's effort to gain fourth-class cityhood for Novi was made after petitions the group filed last November for fifth-class city status were declared illegal.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore ruled in March that the village did not meet the state statute requirement that the area must contain at least 500 persons per square mile to qualify for home rule city status.

BROUGHT BY TOWNSHIP
The suit had been brought against the village by Novi Township.

The new petitions, Smith said, specify no city class but do stipulate that the new city would have home rule.

He said that the committee met with a representative of the Michigan Secretary of State's office and was given a written opinion that the village could qualify for home rule even though it does not satisfy the population requirement.

Smith said the group is seeking incorporation to prevent annexation of parts of the village by neighboring cities.

WOULD LESSEN FRICTION

He also indicated the move would lessen friction between the village and the township.

If the petitions are approved, the council would have to wait 30 days before scheduling an election at least 40 days later.

The incorporation question probably could not be submitted to the voters before early November, said Smith.

Nine charter commissioners would be elected at that time to draft a charter for the new government. Their election would be voided in case of a defeat of the incorporation proposal.

OPPOSITION SEEN

The Novi Township Board will definitely oppose in court any attempt to incorporate the village into a home rule city, said Township Supervisor Hedy J. Bachert.

He maintained that any such attempt is illegal since the village still cannot satisfy the 500 - persons - per - square - mile statute provision.

Should the village incorporate as a city, the township would be almost completely absorbed into the city.

Only the 2 per cent of the township's land area that now is separate from the village would remain outside city control.

School Board, HVEA to Meet

MILFORD — Negotiators for the board of education and the Huron Valley Education Association (HVEA) have slated a meeting for tonight in an effort to reach accord on teacher salaries for the coming school year.

Neil Davis, HVEA president, said the teachers are holding off on a salary schedule demand pending a complete explanation by the board of its operating budget for the 1966-67 school term.

The teachers received a detailed budget statement from the board yesterday.

The teachers want to discuss the budget further with the board before they settle on a salary demand, according to Davis.

Smorgasbord Saturday

ORTONVILLE — A smorgasbord dinner will be held at the Ortonville Methodist Church from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday. Proceeds will go to the general fund of the church.

GROUND - BREAKING — Southfield city officials were among those recently attending a ground-breaking ceremony for a new Montgomery-Ward store at 12 Mile and Telegraph, Southfield. Taking part in the ceremonies are (from left) Jean McDonnell, Southfield councilman; Thomas Rowley, city council president; Clarence Durbin, Southfield councilman; Aaron Gershenson, developer; and S. D. Ward, district general manager for Montgomery-Ward and Co.

Utica May Vote on It in November

Renewal Levy Asked

UTICA — A proposal to levy 2 mills to cover the city's share of an urban renewal project may be submitted to voters in the November general election.

Jacob Driker of the Development Planning Co. of Pontiac told city commissioners last night that the city's share of such a project would be about $200,000.

Driker, city planning consultant, recommended that a 2-mill proposal be placed on the ballot to raise the funds. The federal government normally finances three-fourths of an urban renewal project.

City Clerk Mrs. Eunice Kopietz said a decision probably will be made at the August 1 commission meeting. She said September is the deadline if the question is to be placed on the November ballot.

EIGHT ACRES
About eight acres of the downtown area is slated for renewal if commissioners approve the project.

A number of stores on Auburn are to be rejuvenated. Summers Street is to be widened and more off-street parking provided.

Planners are now in the process of getting appraisals and surveying the area.

In other action last night, the commission approved a resolution indicating it favors a countywide 1 mill tax levy to build a new Macomb County courthouse.

PUT TO VOTERS

The question is to be put to Macomb County voters in November.

Two rezoning petitions were referred by the commission to the planning commission for recommendation.

One request was to rezone several parcels of land on DeShon between Hahn and McClellan from parking to multiple dwelling.

The second sought rezoning of a small parcel of land on Russell between Custer and Reimer from single family to multiple dwelling.

House to Go on Troy's Land

Resolution Is Passed; Exact Site Unsettled

TROY — The 134-year-old house on North Adams will definitely be moved to city property, according to a resolution passed by the City Commission.

The exact location is still unsettled although the present city hall site on 17 Mile at Livernois seems to be the favored spot.

City Clerk J. Lawson Lockhart said it will be up to the commission's historical committee to decide the location for the house, which has been given to the city.

In the meantime, a drive is being conducted to raise funds to move the old house and renovate it in pre-1900 style.

The commission Monday night also tabled a request from Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith that the city construct a water line to the new Smith Junior High School as soon as possible.

CITES URGENCY

Smith said the need is urgent to allow proper concrete of sand before the concrete floors are poured in the building now under construction.

Commissioners tabled the request until next week. They said they couldn't see the necessity for urgency and that the procedure in setting up the main and special assessment district will involve time.

Independence Board Gets Financial Study

TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night received for study a financial consultant's report on the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

After reading the report, board members are to meet with their consultants at Stratton Associates, Inc., to discuss the feasibility of township participation in the system.

The meeting is expected to be held in about 10 days.

Participation in the area sewage system would cost this community about $2 million.

The feasibility study was undertaken by Stratton Associates, Inc., upon request by the board at its June 21 meeting.

3 COMMUNITIES

The city of Orchard Lake, and Avon and Independence townships are the only three communities in the proposed $28.6-million endeavor who have not given their consent.

Pontiac has turned down a bid to participate in the Clinton-Oakland, while the townships of Waterford, West Bloomfield, Pontiac and Orion have signed contracts with the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

The $28.6-million total cost figure does not include funds which will be required to construct internal lines to connect to the Clinton-Oakland system.

The Township Board also tabled action on a proposed new private cemetery in the township until a valid land plat is received.

Also an evaluation was called for the firm which would own and operate the cemetery.

Freeze Sliced Peach, Tart Cherry Crops

LANSING — The spring freeze will cut Michigan's peach and tart cherry crops in half and the state's total fruit production by about 20 per cent from last year, the Federal State Crop Reporting Service says.

The peach crop will be the smallest since 1951 and only 40 per cent as large as last year's, with production estimated at 1.1 million bushels. This compares with 2.8 million last year and a 1960-61 average of 2.65 million.

Production of Michigan tart cherries was estimated at $2,000 tons, compared with 120,000 last year and a 1960-61 average of 127,000.

Sweet cherry production was estimated at 17,000 tons, compared with 24,000 last year and a 1960-61 average of 15,260.

Apple production was expected to be down only slightly — 15.5 million bushels, compared with 16 million last year and a 1960-61 average of 13.75 million.

Grape production will be down from 75,000 tons last year to 55,000 tons. The 1960-61 average is 53,900.

Prediction of pears will climb from 1.1 million bushels last year to 1.3 million bushels this year — still under the 1960-61 average of 1.5 million.

Plum production was estimated at 12,000 tons, up from 9,900 last year and the 1960-61 average of 8,290.

Southwestern counties suffered the most severe damage, with even apple production in that region down sharply. The area has two-thirds of the state's peach trees.

The service reported Michigan's number of bearing fruit trees continued to increase for apples, plums, pears and sweet cherries. The number of tart cherry trees and grape vines remained the same as in 1965 and the number of peach trees declined.

Total acreage of tree fruits and grapes in Michigan now stands at 172.3, an increase of 1.6 per cent from 1965.

The number of bearing apple trees increased by 3 per cent for the third consecutive year.

The number of bearing sweet cherry trees increased 7 per cent and is 50 per cent above the 1960 number.

Retroactivity Is Urged for Disaster Relief Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indiana members of Congress proposed yesterday that a pending disaster relief bill—prompted by the Palm Sunday tornadoes of 1965—be made retroactive to provide aid for disaster areas designated since October 1964.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Rep. J. Edward Roush, D-Ind., made the suggestion in testimony to a House Public Works subcommittee considering the Senate-passed disaster relief bill. The Senate passed the bill a year ago.

Bayh and Roush sponsored the legislation after tornadoes brought heavy damage in areas of Indiana and nearby states, including Michigan, on Palm Sunday 1965.

Bayh said he learned at that time that many different relief programs are provided by law, some of them conflicting, and that he introduced a general disaster relief bill to "bring all the bits and pieces together."

The bill authorizes a general program of relief to communities and individuals hit by natural disasters — floods, droughts, tornadoes and hurricanes.

The program would come into use automatically and, Roush said, would reduce the time lag in getting the relief under way.

'U.S. Will Go Whole Hog'

Four Senators Warn Hanoi on GI Trials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen says that even if no executions are ordered, "the American people will want to go whole hog" against North Viet Nam if Hanoi puts captured U.S. pilots on trial.

Views similar to that expressed by the Senate Republican leader at a news conference Tuesday were reflected in statements by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

Cooper said any violation of the Geneva prisoners of war convention by North Viet Nam "could provoke responses which would increase and increase into total barbaric conflict." Hanoi signed the convention in 1957.

"The possibility of a trial of these prisoners, and the unknown ultimate results of such a trial, should shock the conscience of the world and ought to lead every country in the world to express its condemnation," Cooper said.

SEALED CAPSULE
Is Monumental Flop to Finders

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—City officials unsealed a 65-year-old time capsule Tuesday night, but didn't find much for their troubles except inkty letters and a Confederate $5 bill.

The bill was in the capsule, along with several newspapers and a book of municipal ordinances, all dating from 1901. The trouble was, water had seeped in and made the contents most unreadable.

One of the newspapers advertised a complete bedroom suite for $15 and reported women were complaining that skirts were too long.

The capsule was found in the base of a statue which is being moved from a downtown area to a park elsewhere in the city.

Dirksen said if such trials are held the world can expect to be assaulted with a taped radio-television barrage of propaganda. He predicted there may be "brain-washed confessions" from American fliers.

INDECENT

"The trials will be as indecent and as one-sided as it is possible for the Communists to make them," he said. "This is one of the real benefits they hope to reap in world propaganda."

Dirksen said he had found little, if any, hope of exchanging American prisoners for North Vietnamese captured in South Viet Nam.

He said he had undertaken this investigation at the request of a Navy commander's wife, whom he did not name. He said she represented an association of U.S. prisoners' relatives.

The most recent Pentagon count of American prisoners in North Viet Nam is 62, including 45 airmen. The number of pilots has not been disclosed.

Cuba's most valuable mineral deposit of nickel and next to Canada and New Caledonia, ranks third in world production.

His Nuptial Decisions Overruled

The April-and-December marriage of 68-year-old U.S. Supreme Court Justice WILLIAM O. DOUGLAS to a miss of 23 is causing considerable eyebrow-raising in Washington. It was but three years ago that the Justice celebrated a May-and-December marriage to a bride of the same age.

As of now his matrimonial league batting average stands at .250. He was thumped out on his three former trips to the nuptial plate by divorce court judges.

Ordinarily, you'd say that an individual's predilection for wives was strictly his own business, so long as he was law-abiding and only took one wife at a time.

But when he is a member of a government agency so august and sensitive as the Nation's highest court, doubters might be excused for wondering whether his questionable judgment in affairs of the heart might also be reflected in affairs of the Court.

Incidentally, Rep. GEORGE W. ANDREWS, D-Ala., has asked about alleged personal indignities charged by one of the divorced wives and intimated an investigation would be in order.

Although DOUGLAS cannot be singly charged with the rash of weird decisions that have been handed down by the Supreme Court, he has invariably decided with the radical majority.

Added cause for eyebrow-raising is the announcement that the newlyweds may travel to Red China. DOUGLAS said that he had been invited by the Red Chinese government to visit Peking late this year.

After the recent High Court decision that gave a clean bill of health to American communism—the organization dedicated to the overthrow of our government—we can believe that Justice Douglas' welcome there will be a warm one.

Imaginary Family Takes Imaginary Vacation

A funny thing happened on the Throckmortons' vacation this year. They came back rested and relaxed. How about THAT!

It was simple, really. All they did was decide they wouldn't try for the mileage they had made in the past but concentrate instead on enjoying what they saw.

This deprived them, of course, of the chance to see four marvelous, mystifying caves, 176 reptile zoos, 12 rocks that look like elephant heads, 498 roadside hot dog stands, two cliffs from which Indian maidens had jumped when disappointed in love and 23 accidental detours.

But it did permit them to sleep later each morning, take it easier during the day's travel, indulge in pauses to enjoy special scenic panoramas and historical sites and even to relax a little before they ate their evening meal.

In fact, the Throckmortons insist they actually enjoyed the unusual arrangement. And they are reasonably sure that in time their friends will stop regarding them as some sort of oddballs.

What Happened to Vaunted American Courage?

Many of us may have been directing our scorn at draft-card burners so earnestly that we have neglected another species of draft dodgers.

These are the characters who elect to sit it out when they are drafted by fate to witness an emergency in which a fellow human is in serious trouble and needs help.

Hardly a week passes that a man, woman or child isn't robbed, beaten, assaulted, shot or seriously injured in full view of onlookers who stand there with hands in their pockets as if they were watching a pool game or a shuffleboard match.

Such callous and cowardly behavior is in some ways more contemptible than evasion of military duty, since it isn't even supported by the claim of religious or conscientious scruples.

So far, no way has been found to deal effectively with these chicken-hearted citizens.

Perhaps a heavier dose of public scorn is part of the answer. Provided, of course, it comes from those of us who are quite sure we ourselves could and would summon enough courage, compassion and decency to help a human being in distress.

Powell Talks on 'Black Power'

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was a new Adam Clayton Powell who called in the press Monday to talk about "black power."

The old-time bounce, the quickness with a phrase, the thin cigars were the same.

But the mood was subdued, the fire so much under control that it appeared to flicker rather than flare.

Suddenly the New York Democrat was the "grand old man" of the civil rights movement.

"Black power" was no shock to him; he had seen it coming.

PHILOSOPHIC He was philosophic. He saw no reason for alarm. And he didn't see what the difficulty was in defining the term.

When Harlem's Negroes first sent Powell to Congress in 1945, "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael was 4.

Powell was talking about "black power" and "audacious power" long before he was chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee and the Mississippi marchers drummed the phrase into America's consciousness—and set nerves to jangling.

Now here he was, in what he called his "twilight years," calmly—almost with an air of resignation—telling reporters in the gleaming Rayburn Office Building that

"black power" is an attempt to redistribute economic and political power. "It is not rooted in violence any more than white power is," Powell said. "White supremacy demanded the whole hog; black power seeks a part of the action."

Should whites fear black power? a reporter asked.

"No sir-ee," Powell said easily.

Again, "black power" doesn't mean a 'take-over.' It means the 10 per cent of the population that is Negro "is going to have some dignity and respect."

'ENDLESS CYCLE' Of course, if "black power" is not permitted to assert itself, there could be "an endless cycle of violence and destruction."

Leaning back and rocking gently in his leather chair, Powell said philosophically, "How this dialogue is resolved is up to America."

The furor over "black power" has threatened to splinter the civil rights movement.

But except for some darts tossed gently in the direction of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.—"he doesn't understand black power"—the stance struck by Powell seemed somehow above the internal bickering.

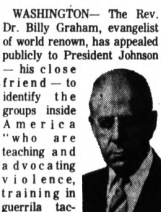

However, at another, he said that, in the main, "I don't disagree with Martin Luther King."

STOP THE WORLD—HE WANTS OFF!

David Lawrence Says:

Graham Cites Anarchy Threat

LAWRENCE

The famous Baptist minister declares that, "incredible as it may seem, we are on the road to anarchy in some of the large cities of this country, and the symptoms are ominous and dangerous." He says that "our leaders should not ignore this threat any longer."

Recently, Congress has been studying the Ku Klux Klan and is about to consider legislation dealing with "clandestine organizations." But this does not go far enough. For it is becoming known that some of the persons with considerable influence in the terrorist activities being carried on in the name of the "civil rights" movement in America either are Communists themselves, or are sympathetic to communism.

Dr. Graham points out that many of the demonstrations have "the pattern or defiance of authority," and he emphasizes that "they are organized and planned by a hard core of extremists who are taking advantage of just grievances by people living in the frustrations of ghettos."

NEED TO KNOW

He adds that "the FBI and the President know who they (the extremist leaders) are and what they are up to. Now the people need to know. Congress has no more urgent business than to pass laws with teeth in them."

The time has come in the opinion of many observers—particularly those who agree with Dr. Graham—for the administration to initiate hearings in Congress and let the people what is going on that has caused much of the rioting and mob violence, allegedly in support.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, July 20, the 201st day of 1966 with 164 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1945, the American Flag was raised over Berlin as the first American troops prepared to participate in the occupation government.

In 1960, the first ballistic missile was fired from a submerged submarine... The George Washington.

port of the civil-rights movement.

Actually the result has been a disturbing of the peace generally and a heating up of friction between the races.

Dr. Graham's appeal expresses the viewpoint of many citizens who have been hopeful that Congress would forget about politics, courageously tackle the problem of mob violence, and make it a crime to impair the safety of citizens anywhere in the United States by incitements to violence.

Bob Considine Says:

Pierre Claims O'Donnell Was the Closest to JFK

NEW YORK — "He had a bristling temper and a cold sarcasm," Pierre Salinger writes of a man he served and revered, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, in his book "With Kennedy."

It is being serialized in the current and also next month's Good Housekeeping.

"But our faith in him was absolute," the press secretary who worked under both JFK and, for a time, President Johnson continues. "He drove himself harder than he drove us—despite great and persistent physical pain."

"With Kennedy" is in many respects the best of the Kennedy biographies to date.

It is written as a good reporter would write such a story, if he had had the advantage of seeing the late President on and off stage—and, the day he was elected, taking a tub bath. Pierre was a first-class reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle.

The closest man to Kennedy at the White House, Salinger says, was not Ted Sorensen, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., whose books led the avalanche of many more to come, McGeorge Bundy or himself. The man who had JFK's ear all the way was Ken O'Donnell.

KEY ROLE

"He was the coordinator of planning for domestic policy, had a key role in formulating JFK's recommendations to Congress and served as principal speech writer," Salinger observes.

"Actually, speeches were not written for the President but with him. He knew what he wanted to say and how he wanted to say it."

"The role of the speech writer was to organize JFK's thoughts into a rough draft, on which he himself would put the final touches."

The Good Housekeeping excerpts present an unforgettable picture of the President weeping silently and alone at the side of the monstrous steel pressure chamber wherein his infant son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, had just died.

Pierre's despair, over not being in Dallas with him on Nov. 22, 1963, is something to make the reader, too.

So is a letter Pierre received from a Dallas woman on Nov. 19, 1963. She wrote:

"Don't let the President come down here. I'm worried about him. I think something terrible will happen to him."

Pierre never showed the letter to the President.

Not that that would have deterred him.

Dead Battery?

The Minneapolis Morning Tribune

"Why haven't you brushed your teeth?" the mother asked her seven-year-old son.

"I can't," he replied. "My battery's dead."

Javits for V. P.?

The Arizona Republic

Since the New York Times and Jacob Javits decided, at approximately the same time, that Javits was the best available Republican candidate for the vice presidency in 1968, the propaganda drums have been busy beating out the message to any who will listen.

The only drawback is that Javits is not a Republican, which is of course what endears him to the hearts of those who have worked so diligently to eliminate any meaningful distinctions between the two parties. That is, he is not a Republican by any standard other than the fact that he chooses to call himself a Republican even while amassing a voting record far more liberal

'Our Step-Up of Bombing Like Gasoline on a Fire'

I can't applaud President Johnson's recommendation for stepped-up bombing in the Viet Nam war for the same reason I would not applaud a man who threw gasoline on a fire to put it out. Your recent editorial says, "Proceed onward, sir." And I ask, "Where to?"

PHYLLIS WILKINSON

'Tidy Neighbor's Yard for Own Benefit'

I advise the lady who complained about the condemned house and property next to her, if she is an able-bodied woman, to go herself and cut the weeds and pick up the trash in her neighbor's yard.

Several years ago we had to do the same. We never received a word of thanks from anyone but our property looked a little better for our work.

Some Questions About the Bar Association

I am interested in the Oakland County Bar Association's preferred ratings of attorneys for circuit or probate court judgeships.

Just how would they have rated those who are now sitting on the bench, who are appointees of ex-Gov. Williams and Gov. Romney? What were their qualifications other than being political brothers?

Who pays the expenses of the Oakland County Bar, which, I understand, is located in the Oakland County Courthouse. What is its function other than rating attorneys for public office?

League of Women Voters States Policies

The West Bloomfield League of Women Voters wishes to remind readers that all Leagues are nonpartisan and never support or oppose any political party or candidate.

Participation in the activities of political parties is an essential ingredient of citizen responsibility. League members are urged to work for the party of their choice as individuals. A League member may run for and hold public office but she may not be a member of any League Board while engaging in any partisan political activity.

The nonpartisan policy of the League of Women Voters applies not only to political parties, but to factions within a party, to any group which supports candidates and to any candidates for public office whether or not they run under party designations.

Questions and Answers

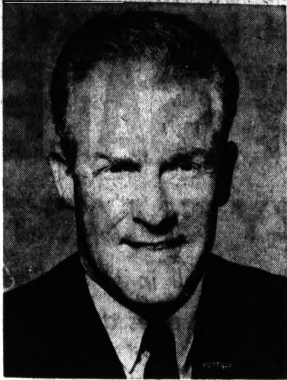

I understand some of the events in ancient Olympic games were about the same as ours today. Are there any records from that long ago? If there are, how do they compare with modern times or distances?

REPLY

The oldest accurate record of an Olympic event was July 21, or 22, 776 B.C. The oldest measurement available is from 656 B.C., when Chionis of Sparta made a long jump of 23 ft. 1 1/2 in. and Protesilaus threw the discus 100 cubits. The modern record for a long jump is 27 ft. 4 1/4 in. set in 1964 by Ralph Harold Boston of the U.S. Modern women's record comes pretty close to Chionis—22 ft. 2 1/4 in. in 1964 by Mary Denise Rand of United Kingdom. There's been much greater improvement in the discus throw. Using the ancient Greek cubit measurement of 18.2 in., Protesilaus tossed his discus 151 ft. 10 in. Even the women today have a record of 194 ft. 6 1/4 in. credited to Tanya Natanova Press of U.S.S.R. in 1963. The men's record (211 ft. 9 1/4 in.) was set in 1964 by Czechoslovakia's Luk Radk. Danek. Survival Rate Tops Korea

Viet Duty Not Perilous--Comparatively

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mounting Viet Nam casualty figures make an essential fact for all draft-age Americans: The average G.I.'s chances of leaving Viet Nam alive are five times better than during the Korean war.

Of the next 1,000 men inducted into the Army, only eight probably will be killed in action, current official figures show.

Of the hypothetical 1,000 draftees, about 40 will be wounded, but their chances of dying later are far reduced from Korea or World War II because of helicopter medical evacuation, vastly improved hospital systems and the absence of enemy artillery and airpower.

About 300,000 men will be drafted into the Army under current plans for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967. And based on current strength requirements for Viet Nam, a Pentagon spokesman estimated one-third of the total will see service in the war zone.

Army regulars stand a much better chance of staying out of the fighting zone. Overall, only one out of seven Army men can expect to be sent to Viet Nam under current plans.

And what if a draftee is assigned to Viet Nam?

More than 45 per cent of the Army's present 155,000-man force in Viet Nam is classified as support personnel — everything from cooks, supply clerks and typists to helicopter mechanics and truck drivers. At most one out of three is in the supply network.

A Pentagon spokesman said it stood at 103 per year, the even men assigned to such combat units as the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division run an excellent chance of getting a job behind the lines. He said in the average 16,000-man division, about 6,000 to 7,000 men actually are caught up in day to day combat operations.

LESS DANGEROUS

Pentagon figures show it is far less dangerous to be in Viet Nam than to have been in either World War II or Korean combat zones. The current annual battle death rate in Viet Nam is about 24 per 1,000 Army men stationed in the country. In Korea the figure was 136 and in World War II it stood at 103 per year, the Army says.

State Branches
Now Licensing
60 Pct. of Drivers

LANSING (AP) — The state now has taken over from local police in operating driver licensing stations serving about 60 per cent of the state's nearly 4.5 million licensed drivers.

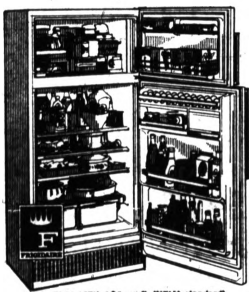

Secretary of State James Hare said the state now is operating 23 stations out of 150 in Michigan, many of them in heavily populated areas. Newest state-run station is at Bay City. It opened Monday.

"Hardly a week goes by that some location stations, operated by sheriffs and local police departments, do not go out of business or indicate they are planning to quit the licensing business in the near future," Hare said.

Teens Leaving U.S. With Odd Souvenirs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two out-of-date Ohio license plates, a broken ski, a flour sifter, a couple of old copies of Playboy magazine, and about 15 tons of excess fat.

That may not sound like a list of tourist souvenirs of a trip to the United States, but for 3,006 youngsters, it was.

There was, of course, a smattering of models of the Statue of Liberty, picture postcards of the White House at night and a few Indian blankets.

But after living in this country for nearly a year under "typical American home" conditions, 3,086 teen-agers from 59 foreign countries were far more interested in returning home with, as one put it, "the idiotic little things we can't get or can't afford in our own countries."

FIELD SERVICE

The teen-agers arrived late last summer to live and study in the United States under the auspices of the American Field Service. They stayed with American families and many, who were high school seniors when they arrived, were returning home with diplomas from American schools.

As they gathered here during their last week in this country, they had curious souvenir lists and some frank comments about the American way of life.

Most startling for many of the students were American's strange drinking habits. Some sample comments:

Stella de la Garma, 18, of Mar Del Plata, Argentina: "We have no drinking age (limit) in Ar-entina. Anybody can drink any time, so nobody ever gets drunk. But here, kids get drunk just because it's against the law."

'SOAPY WATER'

Hans Joerg Niebergall, 18, of Bremen, Germany: "American beer tastes like soapy water. And Americans pour beer down the side of glasses to keep foam down. That's just making bad beer worse."

Jose Filomino, 19, of Sao Paulo, Brazil: "In my country, if you can reach the bar, you can order a beer."

But, apparently in Brazil, he can't get old Confederate flags because they number among Jose's souvenirs, as does a set of Ohio license plates.

"There's no particular reason for them," he said. "I just like them."

"It's not surprising," said Annie Ringot, 19, of Paris. "Americans take cars everywhere they go. When I went to the mailbox, I took a car."

Status of Major Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Status of major legislation:

LABOR

WAGE-HOUSE — Administration and labor now supporting legislation to raise the $1.25 hourly minimum wage to $1.40 on Feb. 1, 1967 and to $1.60 on Feb. 1, 1968.

Also would give new minimum wage coverage to about 8 million workers, for the first time, including farm hands and service industry workers.

CIVIL RIGHTS

JOB DISCRIMINATION — The President has endorsed legislation that would give the new equal employment opportunities commission authority to enforce its own findings of illegal discrimination against employers or labor unions instead of going through the federal courts. House: passed. Senate: no action.

HOME RULE

Administration has requested legislation to permit Washington, D. C., to elect its own local government.

SENATE: approved. House: approved differing version, requiring vote of citizens on home rule question.

Efforts to reconcile the two bills apparently have failed. Attempt will be made in senate to attach its bill to House-approved college aid bill.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

FOREIGN AID — Administration asked $3.38 billion in overseas economic and military aid during the year starting July 1.

Also called for authorizing program for five years instead of present one year.

HOUSE: approved almost entire money request and endorsed two-year authorization.

SENATE: Foreign Relations Committee cut $142 million but

SAFETY

AUTO-HIGHWAY — Senate has passed bills to require new safety features in cars starting with 1968 models and to set up a broad highway-driver safety program in cooperation with the states.

HOUSE: Commerce Committee is considering similar legislation, while House Public Works Committee has approved separate bill containing different version of highway-driver program.

TIRES — Senate unanimously passed bill ordering federal safety standards for tires. House: Commerce Committee is considering.

FARM

President Johnson has asked for a five-year, $3.3 billion annual "food for freedom" program to sell and give food to hungry nations.

HOUSE: Approved a $3.3 billion annual program for only two years. Senate: Agriculture Committee hearings completed.

SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

DEBT — The administration asked Congress to lift the legal ceiling on the national debt by $4 billion, to a total of $330 billion.

House and Senate approved legislation to allow half the requested increase, to $330 billion.

BAIL — Congress approved administration request for more liberal bail rules, including pretrial release without cash bond or with partial payment of bail.

TIME — Congress has passed legislation which this year would set the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in October as uniform dates for any state or locality going on and off daylight savings time.

Starting next year, daylight time would be automatic for that period except if any state whose legislature votes to stay on standard time year-around and throughout the state.

BEFORE SHOOTING — Comedian Red Skelton hands his wife a piece of his birthday cake, Monday just a few hours before she accidentally shot herself in their room at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas. She is reported in good condition at a local hospital. Red was told of the accident after he finished his act at the hotel Monday.

28 Convicted in Sit-In Face Jail, Project

EAST LANSING (AP) — Three days in jail — and assignment to a civil rights project — face 28 persons arrested in an East Lansing civil rights demonstration in May 1965.

The 28 pleaded no contest Monday to charges of violating a local loitering ordinance in a sit-in in front of East Lansing city hall to show support for a proposed antidiscrimination housing ordinance.

Municipal Judge William Harmon entered pleas of guilty for them and set a penalty of $70 fines and costs, three days in jail and a 72-hour project in furtherance of civil rights.

Police arrested 59 persons in the sit-in. Five have pleaded guilty and Miss Marlene Deutsch was convicted and appeared to Ingham County Circuit Court. Judge Marvin Salmon held the loitering ordinance was valid, but did not rule out the possibility of a new hearing in the case.

House Panel OKs Auto Defect Notification

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Commerce Committee voted yesterday to require auto makers to notify dealers and purchasers by registered mail of defects in their cars that could be safety hazards.

The committee added the requirement to its traffic safety bill, which it hopes to complete this week.

The committee also:

• Voted to require manufacturers to let the secretary of commerce inspect records relating to auto design, engineering, quality control, shipment and future plans.

• Approved a requirement that auto makers certify that their vehicles conform to federal standards, either with a tag accompanying the vehicle or a notice stamped into the metal.

• Authorized $5.8 million over the three years to enforce tire safety standards.

ONE MORE

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., committee chairman, said he expected at least one more amendment to be offered to the auto safety section, but that it was completed "for all practical purposes." Sections on federal safety research and on a national bad driver list remain.

The House Committee and the Senate have approved provisions requiring federal safety standards for new cars to be issued early next year. The House of the defect, its safety risk, and added requirements for certain used cars starting two years later.

The defect disclosure provision — like the Senate version — requires notification by registered mail "or other more expeditious means" of the nature of the defect, its safety risk, and how it may be repaired, with a copy for the secretary of commerce.

Red Masks Grief in Act as Wife Lies Wounded

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — His rubbery face masking his grief, Red Skelton clowned before a delighted audience Tuesday night as his wife lay seriously wounded in a Las Vegas hospital from an apparently accidental gunshot.

Georgia Skelton, 44, was declared in satisfactory condition at Sunrise Hospital following treatment for a chest wound which was inflicted with a pistol early Tuesday morning.

The accident took place in the Skelton's suite in the Sands Hotel as he was performing in the supper club below.

The shot was heard by the Skelton's daughter, Valentina, 19, and a college student friend, Art Coleman, 19, who were in another part of the suite. Coleman entered the bedroom to find Mrs. Skelton stretched on the bed, bleeding at the chest.

WHAT DID I DO?

"What happened? What did I do?" she was reported to have said.

Mrs. Skelton was rushed to the hospital where doctors determined the shot had penetrated no vital organs. After his performance, Skelton was told the news and he rushed tearfully to the hospital.

Skelton remained with his wife, whom he married in 1945, and later attended the wedding.

Anniversary Party Perfect ... or Almost

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — The wedding anniversary dinner for which Louis Weiler made such long-range plans went off without a hitch.

There was pink champagne with the steak dinner and long stem red roses for Mrs. Weiler. There were two guests, Mrs. Weiler's brother and sister.

The Weilers, married seven years, had never spent a wedding anniversary together. They weren't together Tuesday night either.

An empty chair at the restaurant table represented the missing husband.

Luci Gets Ideas From White House 'Wedding Book'

Mr. and Mrs. L. Keith Crissman of Applehill Lane, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Gail, to Richard Fredrick Brenner, son of Mrs. Sylvester Brenner of Ann Arbor and the late Mr. Brenner. November vows are planned.

MARY GAIL CRISSMAN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The most popular book in the White House today is the "Wedding Book" compiled by curator James Ketchum.

And its most avid readers are bride-to-be Luci Baines Johnson and her mother who are borrowing from the pages of White House history to plan Luci's Aug. 6 wedding.

Six presidential daughters and one presidential son were married in the grand setting of the White House. But Luci chose the altar at Roman Catholic Shrine of the Immaculate Conception to say "I do" to Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

FLOWERS, CANDLELIGHT

The White House, however, will be decked out with flowers and candlelight for the joyous reception after the religious services. According to Ketchum's book, compiled mostly from old newspaper clips, there were 14 previous wedding ceremonies in the executive mansion.

The first White House wedding was on Sunday evening, March 29, 1812, when Mrs. Lucy Washington, widowed sister of Dolley Madison, was married to Thomas Todd, a supreme court judge and a widower.

The most recent marriage ceremony in the mansion was a quickie ring ceremony during World War II when President Roosevelt's top adviser, Harry Hopkins, married Louise Gili Macy.

The nuptials took place in FDR's study on July 30, 1942. The most spectacular White House betrothal, still talked about for its opulence, gaiety and staging, was that of Alice Roosevelt the popular "Princess Alice," to Rep. Nicholas Longworth on Feb. 17, 1906 in the east wing.

Mrs. Longworth, now at 81 a living legend, says of her wedding: "It was fun. It was a good party, a very good party."

1,000 GUESTS

There were 1,000 guests. Her father, President Theodore Roosevelt, invited all officialdom. The bride wore a heavy cream satin gown with a train of silver brocade, carried orchids and wore a diamond necklace given to her by her husband.

"Miss Alice" had dozens of admirers and one of them wired her: "I always knew old Nick would get you."

She did not let a single bridesmaid or maid of honor share the spotlight with her. She entered the east room, transformed into a bower of flowers, on her father's arm. The ceremony was performed on a dais.

The first president's daughter to be married in the official residence was Maria Hester Monroe who wed Samuel Lawrence Gouverneur on March 9, 1820. Solemnized in the east room, it was witnessed only by old friends of the bride and groom.

Described in the "Wedding Book" as looking "exquisitely lovely," Elizabeth Tyler, daughter of President James Tyler was married to William Waller of Williamsburg, Va. on Jan. 31, 1842. It was written at the time, "Lizzie had quite a grand wedding. Although the intention was that it should be quiet and private. This under the circumstances was found impossible."

Both Mrs. Johnson and Luci must have smiled at those lines knowing their own attempts to keep the forthcoming wedding "private and personal — not a state occasion."

The wedding of Nellie Grant, daughter of President U. S. Grant to Algernon Sartoris, an Englishman, commanded the American spotlight for she was the "pet of the nation."

The wedding of Jesse Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the president to Francis Bowie Sayre on Nov. 26, 1913, was staged in the east room with the bride looking "as fair as lilies in a severe vase and pink the predominant color."

Another Wilson Daughter, Eleanor, was married in the White House to William Gibbs McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury on May 17, 1914.

The record shows one Roman Catholic ceremony in the mansion. The occasion was the marriage of Andrew Jackson's ward, Mary Lewis, to Alphonse Pageot, a secretary of the French Legation in 1832.

Displays Nasty Temper

Angelo Has Them Scared

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a very hot temper. He tried to call home for two hours yesterday and the line was busy because our teen-age daughter was talking. Well, Angelo left work, stormed into the house and tore our telephone out by the roots! (I was ashamed to tell the telephone repairman how it happened, so I said the dog did it.)

If one of the children leaves his bicycle or a toy in the driveway, Angelo deliberately drives over it. A friend of mine who has studied a lot of psychology told me that this is "healthy" for Angelo because it gets the anger out of his system, which if he kept bottled up inside might give him ulcers.

But, what is the rest of the family supposed to do while Angelo protects himself against ulcers?

ANGELO'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: They protect themselves against Angelo.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which I am sure must bother other newlyweds. Why does a young wife feel that if she doesn't see or call her mother every single day, the world will come to an end?

My wife seems to have this idea. She says she's afraid her mother might get "upset" if she isn't in touch with her daily.

Her mother is in good health and has a husband to look after her. Why don't mothers let their married daughters grow up and be independent? Or am I wrong to take this attitude?

A HUSBAND

DEAR HUSBAND: You are assuming a great deal when you assume that it's the mother who "refuses" to let her married daughter grow up and be independent. Perhaps the daughter is hanging onto her mother.

I see nothing wrong with a daughter (married or single) keeping in touch with her mother daily. And if you do, perhaps you should ask yourself why.

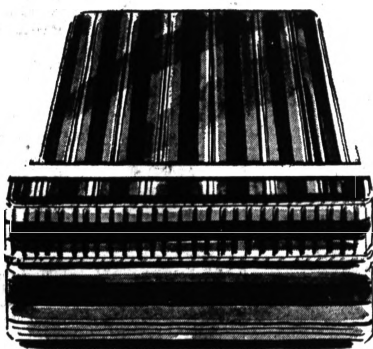

DEAR ABBY: Somebody must have been pulling your leg. A man who signed himself "CRITICIZED" wrote to say that his wife's cousin was being buried on the same Saturday morning that his brother's son was becoming Bar Mitzvah.

Abby this is not possible. Jewish people are NEVER — but NEVER buried on a Saturday.

A RABBI

DEAR RABBI: I know they aren't. But the wife's cousin was not Jewish.

Bride Must Send Notes of Thanks

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In a column, you advised someone who had not received an acknowledgment of a wedding gift. I wish you would emphasize more strongly the deplorable fact that some people not only don't acknowledge a gift promptly; some don't acknowledge them at all!

How can a bride be so rude? Some I know have sent no acknowledgments for several months; from others I have had thank-you notes that were apparently the same one written to everyone — the "Thank you for your gift, it will come in handy" type, or some such impersonal thing.

For any kind of gift I consider this rude, and especially so for a sizable one that was chosen with care. This is one thing I wish you could stress so that perhaps some young brides (and their mothers) might see it and pay attention. — Maybell Johnson.

Dear Mrs. Johnson: I am publishing your letter because I want to emphasize the rudeness of brides who do not write their thank-you notes promptly.

I realize that at times it is impossible to keep up with the gifts, but I cannot think of a valid excuse for not catching up within a few weeks of the end of the honeymoon. A special sentence should be included in each letter about the gift, its suitability, how much it was needed, etc. The note need not be long, but it should make the letter distinctive and personal.

In case I have not previously stressed the importance of prompt notes strongly enough, let me do so now.

A long delayed thank-you, or worse, none at all, is an inexcusable offense against good manners.

Designers are giving the cut-out trend a merry whirl with all kinds of unexpected bare skin views. Robert Sloan aerates this limber little shift of all-American double-knit wool by Jasco with a trio of side portholes, balancing the exposure with a modest neckline that rises into a tall stand-up collar.

MOMS Meet for Luncheon on Tuesday

Members of the MOMS of America, Inc. Unit No. 2, met for luncheon Tuesday at the East Pike Street home of Mrs. S. Edgar Thomas.

Mrs. David Edwards and Mrs. Duncan McVean took part in the program. Mrs. Thomas was chosen to be delegate to the state convention slated for Sept. 21-23 in Jackson.

A donation was sent to the state board for the USO Milk Fund.

The August 9 meeting will be held at the Sylvan Lake home of Mrs. C. A. Bondurant.

Ham Cans Have Future

To make attractive pictures for your small child's room, take pear-shaped ham cans from which the top has been smoothly removed.

Paint them the same color inside and out. Paste a picture to the back of the inside and go over it all with clear shellac.

Unite Pair at Recent Ceremonies

Recent vows were exchanged by Alice Mae Franzel, daughter of the Frank Franzels of Cherrylawn Street and Lawrence F. Snow, Sheriff Street son of the William Snows of New York City.

Rev. James Hayes officiated at the ceremony in St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Brocade satin with Chantilly lace was chosen by the bride who wore a matching lace fingertip veil and carried white carnations with red roses.

Frances Franzel was maid of honor for her sister with bridesmaids, Barbara Hanel and Nellie Wessel.

The groom's brother, William, was best man and ushers were John Giles and Jack Campbell.

A reception honoring the pair was given in the Franzel home following the rites. A tour of New York state will be taken by the newlyweds in August.

Keep Brows Clean, Tidy

Keep the eyebrows clean. Pluck stray hair from between the eyes.

The inner corners of the brows should be plucked to be directly over the corners of your eyes. To emphasize the highest are over the temple bone of the eye, pluck a few hairs from the underside of the brow at this spot.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Beutler of Dexter Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rita Jean, to Donald Louis Griffith, son of the Ralph H. Griffiths of Meigs Street. October vows are planned.

Older Employees Are Worth Hiring

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that older workers are stable and dependable.

In urging employers to consider hiring older workers, the Administration on Aging reminds that the senior citizens can contribute skills, warmth and sympathy, patience and experience.

They'll Have More in Common

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE Z-41: Tony F., aged 18 months, monopolizes his family stage.

"Dr. Crane," his daddy protested, "don't you think Tony ought to have a baby brother or sister?"

"But my wife thinks the uncertainty of world affairs and the threat of possible nuclear wars, should cause us to stop our family with just this one child."

"Are her arguments sound?" No, her arguments are merely selfish instead of sound.

If you couples expect to have babies, then have them in pairs so they can stimulate each other's minds.

The ideal plan for having a family is to offer the first-born a new brother or sister by the time that firstborn is 2 years of age.

This age gap permits them to be partners and playmates, so the elder can instruct the younger.

If you wait too long, there will be little in common between the pair of youngsters.

If you plan to have more than two children, then wait for a few years and then again have them in pairs.

If you find yourselves parents at the age of 40, with an unexpected youngster, by all means have a second to furnish it companionship.

Otherwise, you older parents are likely to spoil that lone youngster unduly until it becomes a veritable "brat."

An "only" child also lacks the peace of mind on the playground which he would otherwise have if he had siblings to back him up.

For when you have several youngsters, they tend to stick together as a "clan" or "gang," to be sure your brother is not mistreated.

This sense of social solidarity is very reassuring to the youngster with several brothers and sisters.

Alas, the "only" child misses such reassurance.

Furthermore, it costs no more to hire a baby-sitter for several children than for just one!

And you mothers are not tied-down much more with several than with only one.

So when you marry and plan your family, set your goal at either 3 kiddies, spaced a year or two apart.

Or have them in pairs, with each pair spaced 3 or 4 years apart.

And when you mothers have children to care for, plus all the myriad other household chores, then your husbands have no right to criticize your house for looking a mess!

It is normal and proper for a household to be messy when you have youngsters.

Otherwise, you are inhibiting the children unduly and regimenting them like a top sergeant in the Army.

But many meticulous office executives, with neat desks and paid office secretaries to wait on them, hand and foot, then bawl out their wives because the house is not spic and span.

Is It Just Protection or Overindulgence?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Shouldn't older children be protective toward younger ones? Our boys, 5 and 8, do not get along. But the older one has never hurt his brother until this week. Then he knocked him down.

I punished him as I do not believe that older children should be allowed to mistreat younger ones. Later he told his father that his brother had thrown a stone at his scooter and showed a dent he said the stone had made. His father always takes his side . . .

ANSWER: Are you asking me if the youngness of a younger child entitles him to throw stones at his brother's property?

Because I don't think so. And the violence with which your older boy responded to his brother's aggression suggests that he's lost all patience with your permissiveness toward youngness.

While the juniority of a younger child may be very appealing to us, it has no more appeal for the brother whose rights he invades than did the age of Billy the Kid for the townsfolk whose property he assaulted and vandalized.

Not do we ask a vandal how old he is when we come home to find him breaking through our basement window. We don't care how old he is. What we care about is his conduct.

temptuous disregard for the property of other people.

I don't wonder your sons don't get along. If you won't insist your younger child leave his brother's possessions alone, then his brother will have to teach him to do it or choose to submit to the lawlessness of Billy the Kid.

What you mean by "protectiveness toward younger children sounds to me like overindulgence of them.

If you want your older boy to develop protective feeling toward his younger brother, then you will first have to find some for his youngness. He's a child. As a child, he can only grow protective feeling toward his brother as he experiences your respect for his rights.

To know that he can depend on his parents to enforce his ownership of his possessions is a deeply gratifying knowledge to a child, whatever age he is. It is a knowledge so gratifying, so comforting that out of it comes that protective appreciation of his brother's rights. Cain was an older child, you know. It's a point to remember.

50-50 Split Not Correct

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A 10-year-old girl and a younger sister found two $20 bills on a Wichita street sometime ago and turned them in to the police department.

When no one reported a loss after a specified period of time, the girls were called to the station and told the money was theirs. A policeman said: "I suppose you will split this 50-50." The 10-year-old replied: "Not 50-50. We'll split it 20-20."

Face It, Moving Costs Are Not Cheap

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

If you're facing your first major move from one part of the country to another — moving your furnishings, family and beloved possessions — then you probably have more questions in your mind right now than you have answers.

I'm assuming MARY FEELEY of the 37 million who will be living at a new address in 1967. (The Census Bureau bases this estimate on last year's record.

First of all, you'll want an experienced company which has national carrier rights to handle your interstate move.

Even though the rates the mover quotes are established by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and are based on weight, mileage, and additional services performed, no two movers see a shipping job exactly alike.

GET ESTIMATE

So, if you obtain estimates from at least three established movers in your community, you'll have a good idea of what shipping costs should be. If one of the estimates is too low in comparison to those given by the other movers, find out why. Put to one side items not worth shipping, along with those you want to sell or give to tax deductible charities. Since an estimate is based on what a mover can see, he will want to look in your closets and other storage areas.

You might want to reduce the cost by doing some of the packing yourself. Possibly you could pack bedding, linens, curtains, and clothing in cartons purchased from the mover or obtained elsewhere. And is that automatic washer, weighing about 250 pounds, worth moving?

If it is approaching its estimated "service life expectancy" of 11 years, possibly the moving costs, which include appliance charges for special handling, might make it seem more economical to sell now, and replace later. This is something you should decide when you see the specific shipping charges for this item.

According to experts in the industry there's a situation that needs correcting if estimated price and final cost of the move are too far apart. Pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission are rulings to help alleviate this situation.

To protect yourself on such a development, handle your part of moving as an efficient business transaction. When you have selected the mover, ask him for a copy of the shipping services and liability coverage you have ordered, and the approximate date of pickup and delivery.

You should also receive a copy of the Interstate Commerce Commission's "Information for Shippers," and a bill of lading signed by you and the carrier. Read these carefully.

Moving is hectic, but you should be on hand to list what goes into each container packed by the mover. Compare your own inventory of containers, crates, boxes and barrels with that of the driver, so you'll be able to check it off on arrival. Your local mover will give you the name of the agent who will receive your furniture, and the file number of your shipment.

Under the law, a mover's liability for articles lost or destroyed is only 30 cents per pound per article. You can buy moving company's trip-transit insurance at a cost of $5 per $1,000 or purchase full-value protection under Interstate Commerce's tariff at the same rate.

Finally you should understand the method of payment for moving. Unless you can get a short-term credit arrangement (up to seven days), you should be prepared to pay moving charges in cash, by money order, or certified check before delivery. Since you will only know the estimated cost, you should have some additional cash on hand to avoid the extra costly charge of overnight storage.

A large national company now has a tariff on file with Interstate Commerce governing a time payment plan. Other movers will soon be offering the same arrangement. This requires a minimum down-payment of 10 per cent of the total charges with monthly payments at an interest rate of 1 per cent per month on the unpaid balance.

This "move-now and pay-later" contract has to be signed by both husband and wife, and credit has to be approved before delivery of shipment is made.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Violet that I have taken many letters of my husband's bowling shirts and the places where they were cannot even be seen. First I took a razor blade and a pair of manicure scissors and cut the threads ON TOP, not the wrong side.

Doing it on the right side eliminates the danger of making holes in the shirt. After cutting the letters through I found a paper card form underneath which gave me a clue as to the starting thread which I pulled. This really works and leaves no marks after the shirt is laundered. — MARTHA

DEAR POLLY—The letters on a bowling shirt are usually done on a machine which makes a chain locked stitch. Unloop the thread and find the correct end. Pull this and the whole initial can be unraveled. — MRS. R. K.

DEAR GIRLS — Some readers said they had found guides for the letters stamped on the shirts under the stitched on letters and they were hard to remove. Often done with such heavy thread that small holes remain. Most said that after several washings the shirts looked very good. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — The following Pointer is from my husband. When expecting a number of guests who may have trouble finding your home at night, just turning on the porch light may not be enough. Some of the neighbors may have theirs on, too. In the socket of your porch light insert one of those flashers used for blinking Christmas tree lights off and on. They cost very little at the hardware store.

Tell your guests to come to the house with the flashing light. — MRS. T. E. K.

DEAR POLLY — We have four children so the thermometer seems to be in constant use during the sore throat and flu season. My husband took an empty plastic capsule bottle, put a dab of cotton in the bottom and made a hole in the cap.

Fill it about two thirds full of alcohol and insert the thermometer through the cap. We now have a handy holder and sterilizer. — MRS. G. G.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Faraway Help

HONOLULU, Hawaii UP — A voice on the telephone urged the police to come to her aid. A woman said her husband was beating her. Officer Lynn Murphy was unable to place the street address the woman caller gave him and finally said: "Where are you calling from?" "San Diego," she answered.

Need Pre-Sudsing

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is good reason for pre-sudsing certain areas of garments such as collars, cuffs, apron fronts and pocket edges. The treatment softens and loosens the ground-in soil, which is often a stubborn combination of dirt and oils. After the pre-sudsing, launder the whole garment as usual.

Prosecutor's Decision on Dem Legislator Stirs Wrath

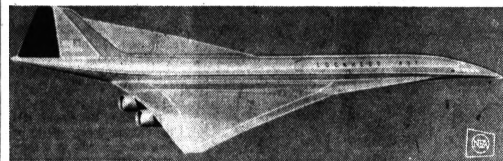

LANSING (AP)—The Ingham County prosecutor said Tuesday he has "had my head chewed off" since recommending dismissal of drunken driving charge against Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park.

Prosecutor Donald Reisig did not specify from where the criticism has come, but indicated it came from within his own party. He is a Republican.

Brown pleaded guilty to an earlier drunken driving charge in Lansing Municipal Court and paid $80 fine and costs.

Justice Roy Adams in Mason has yet to rule on Reisig's recommendation that the second drunken driving charge be in this case," Reisig said. "I matter what their political affiliations have done the same thing for a truck driver. When I took my oath of office, I took an obligation to treat all people fairly, no first charge, Brown publicly announced he was surrendering his driver's license and selling his car. Reisig said this "definitely was a factor" in his decision.

THE SHAPE TO COME — Here is the air transport of the future, according to the Lockheed-California Co. which has this proposed supersonic plane, the L-2000-7, on the drawing boards. Sheathed in titanium, it is designed to carry up to 226 passengers and cruise at 1,800 m.p.h. at altitudes of 60,000 to 70,000 feet.

Woman Pleads Guilty in Slaying of Man

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Patricia A. Bushell, 27, of Lake Leelanau was awaiting sentence today on manslaughter charges in the knife slaying of Otto G. Malek, 57, in his apartment here last March.

She pleaded guilty and ended the necessity for a trial which had been scheduled for yesterday before Circuit Judge Fred N. Searl.

Gov. Romney Will Undergo Full Physical

New England Rainy

Midwest, East Cool Off

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. Romney said he will undergo a "complete physical examination" tomorrow and Friday at Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Romney, who recently turned 59, said it has been "four or five years" since he has had a complete medical checkup.

With an eye to the political campaign, Romney said he wants to be in top physical shape.

The governor, a hard campaigner, will be seeking reelection to a third term this fall.

Romney said a heart checkup in Detroit two years ago showed "my circulation is as good as a young man of 20."

The governor tries to keep in good physical shape by playing golf regularly before beginning work each day.

Throughout the world, about 100,000 journals of science in more than 60 languages are being published and the number doubles about every 15 years.

By the Associated Press

Cool, dry air spread across wide sections of the Midwest and East today, taking over briefly areas dominated for days by readings mostly in the 90s.

Some rain fell in sections of New England, and along a staggered line through the middle of the country.

On the Pacific Coast, clear, seasonable weather prevailed. Nearly two inches of rain fell during a six-hour period ended early today at Houlton, Maine.

SEVERE THUNDERSTORMS Earlier, other sections of the East reported severe thunderstorms.

More than two inches of rain fell Tuesday during a storm at Albany, N.Y., and at Windsor Locks, Conn., 1.22 inches of rain fell during a storm that carried winds of more than 60 m.p.h.

Tornadoes caused some damage in Mississippi, Texas and Connecticut Tuesday.

northwest of Oklahoma City, the high Tuesday reached 110 degrees.

Oklahoma City had its 19th straight day of over-100 degrees, with a reading of 108.

Temperatures over most of Oklahoma, except for the Panhandle, hit more than 100.

The day's lowest reading was 45 degrees at Hibbing, Minn.

Quads Eat Up Time

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "There's not enough time in the day to feed and change them," exclaimed Regina Eife, of her seven-week-old quadruplets.

Mrs. Eife and her husband, Richard, a police detective, brought the two boys and two girls home from the hospital last Saturday.

"So I don't go buggy, I have to record who ate when," said Mrs. Eife. "Otherwise somebody might go hungry and another would get fed twice."

Though caring for four at a time may be hectic, none of the routine is new to Sgt. and Mrs. Eife.

The parents, both 35, have four other children — Ricky, 13, Michael, 8, Eileen, 5, and Denise, 4.

HOST OF VISITORS

Adjusting to a routine has been complicated by a host of friends, neighbors and relatives trooping up the stairs to see the quads — Alan, Beth, Cathy and David.

"The worst thing," the sergeant said, "is to hear them cry at night."

"You don't know which one is crying because he's hungry, and which one you can let cry because he's just been fed. You've got to get up and check."

State to Study Claim of Civil Service Bias

LANSING (AP) — The state will start a study Aug. 1 on whether its officials discriminate against nonwhite persons who apply for state Civil Service jobs.

Negro legislators have complained that Civil Service employment procedures place non-white job applicants at a disadvantage.

The state Civil Service and Civil Rights Commission said they will start Aug. 1 tracing the progress of nonwhite applicants, checking how they score on Civil Service tests and, if they do well, whether they are hired.

Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, asked the Civil Rights Commission in January to launch an investigation. He charged then that "blatant discrimination practices by the state's executive offices make such an investigation imperative."

DENIES CHARGE

Franklin Dewald, state personnel director, denied the charge.

About 10 per cent of the state's 36,000 civil service jobs are held by Negroes, the department says, and it has expanded its recruitment efforts among minority groups.

Cyanide Found in Two Bodies

Mother and Stepson Dead in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — A State Police crime lab investigation said yesterday traces of cyanide poisoning were found in the bodies of a mother and her stepson who were found dead in a closet Friday.

Dr. James Howenstein told the Calhoun County sheriff he also found cyanide in a sample of water found in a glass bowl taken from the room in which they were found.

Dr. Howenstein said his report was not complete, however, and that he would be unable to determine the cause of death for another day or two.

Carlton Smith, 38, told police he returned from work Friday morning and found the bodies of his wife, Emily, 28, and his son, Ronald, 13, in a closet in their township home.

Smith was treated at Bronson Hospital, apparently from the effects of the cyanide, and released. He was not held by police.

Man Drowns in Canal

DETROIT (AP) — A man tentatively identified as Daniel Cabell of Detroit drowned in a canal Tuesday.

Conservative Club Is Formed in County

The formation of a new Oakland County Conservative Club was announced today by two leading Republicans, Charles L. Lyle, chairman of the 18th Congressional District Committee, and G. Doyle Dodge, the party's organization director.

The president of another organization by the same name has been requested to cease using the designation, according to Lyle, since the title of the new club will have been registered with the county clerk's office.

Arthur J. Brandt Jr., president and a founder of the other Oakland County Conservative Club, could not be reached for comment on whether or not he would comply.

"We have been concerned with the abuse of the word 'conservative' by some of the extremist organizations in this country," said Lyle, president of the new club, "and of the reprehensible connotation that the word has taken on because of narrow, selfish, parochial viewpoints not shared by the majority of honest, constructive conservatives."

Lyle explained that the aims of the new club, essentially, will be to establish practical and political principles.

"We do not agree with extremist groups who find victory in defeat," said Lyle, former chairman of the Oakland County Republican Committee.

"We seek total victory so that practical and progressive common-sense principles can be implemented in government today."

Novi Driver Hospitalized

A 17-year-old Novi girl is reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital after the car she was driving went off 14 Mile last night and overturned.

Susan J. Boyer of 1123 E. Lake was alone in the car, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

She was about a half-mile west of Haggerty when the car, skidded across the road and rolled over, deputies said.

Key Hormone Is Synthesized

Useful in Diagnosing Disease of Pancreas

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — A hormone called secretin, useful in diagnosing diseases of the pancreas, including cancer, has been synthesized in the laboratory.

The polypeptide hormone, which contains 27 amino acids, has been obtained from its natural source, hog intestines, but has remained scarce because of the difficulty in purifying it.

The pancreas is best known as the insulin-producing organ of the body. When cancer occurs there, it is of a type that tends to spread, so early detection is of special importance.

Dr. Miklos Bodanszky of the Squibb Institute for Medical Research, who synthesized the hormone with the help of colleagues told the Fourth International Symposium on the Chemistry of Natural Products held recently in Stockholm, Sweden, that the synthesis starts with the C-terminal amino acid and adds one amino acid at a time.

The Squibb synthesis was based on the molecular blueprint drawn by Prof. J. Erik Jorpes and Dr. Viktor Mutt of the Karolinska Institute of Stockholm, who first isolated secretin in pure form.

Cancer Drugs to Help Combat Eye Diseases

By Science Service
CHICAGO — A cancer-fighting drug is now helping to combat an eye disease.

A 51-year-old man with glaucoma and cataracts who developed sympathetic ophthalmia (inflammation) has been treated successfully with the antitumor drug, methotrexate.

Dramatic improvement was reported from the drug, given because the patient did not respond to steroid therapy, and after removal of the cataracts the man's vision returned to normal.

Glaucoma responded to acetazolamide and installation of two per cent epinephrine.

Dr. Vernon G. Wong, Evan M. Hersh and Philip R. B. McMaster of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., reported the treatment. Dr. Hersh is presently at Stanford University Hospital, Palo Alto, Calif.

Junior Editors Quiz on CRAYONS

QUESTION: What are crayons made of?

ANSWER: The word "crayon" is often used to mean any drawing stick, which might be made of a waxy or chalky substance, or even of charcoal.

Artists often use a kind of stick called "pastel" containing chalk and pigmented colors, which give light and airy effects (A).

School crayons, such as in (B), are more easily handled, have brighter and shinier colors and don't rub off.

These are made from mixtures of soap, wax, resin, as well as lampblack or pigments of the various colors. It is possible to make many beautiful pictures with school-type crayons.

These will be "more interesting if one color is put over another, rather than just laying on single colors. If you wanted the effect of sunlight on grass, for example, you might begin by laying in a light yellow to give the sunniness, and then lightly stroking green over this for the grass. The result may surprise you. The colors will seem to vibrate and become more lifelike and beautiful.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try "crayon resist" as shown in the picture. The waxy crayon resists the watery poster paint, producing strange and beautiful effects.

Boss Can Cure the 'Post-Vacation Blues'

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Our jills are full of people who feel unwanted by society. So are most business offices this time of year. They are thronged with bitter employees who have returned from vacation only to find nobody missed them while they were away. I have a hunch the "post-vacation blues."

The average worker, rested by his annual hiatus at seashore or mountain resort, comes back raring to do a good job. He may be the lowliest cog in the office, but he is comfortably sure the place has gone to rack and ruin in his absence.

To his consternation, he is met with utter indifference, or such quips as:

"Where you been hiding, Joe? Long time no see."
"You say you've been on a vacation? From what?"

FEW BOTHER

Few bother to ask the returning pilgrim where he has been, what vacation wonders and horrors he enjoyed or survived. If he tries to tell them, they yawn in his face or make up excuses to break away.

Nobody wants to listen at all to the big new ideas he has to improve the firm — ideas he thought up on his own time.

Joe's joy evaporates.

His vacation has hurt rather than helped Joe's morale. How could it have been more effective? Well, if the personnel department had been really on its toes, the scene might be something like this:

ARRIVES LATE

Joe Biffle tries to sneak in, worried because he is 29 seconds late to work after his two weeks off.

"Joe's back!" someone shouts. The staff breaks into cheers and starts throwing papers wildly in the air. Several put Joe on their shoulders and parade him around the desks and water cooler.

'Planning, Hard Work Can Help Appalachia'

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "Careful planning and long, hard work" is the ultimate answer to problems facing the Appalachian region, says the director of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Frank E. Smith told an audience at Union College here co-operation at all levels is needed years and a fort for 100 years to put the region's "abundant resources on a stable, continuously productive basis."

"For he's a jolly good fellow!" they sing.
The boss comes out, pounds Joe on the back and says, "Welcome back, son. Boy, was it dull here without you! Everybody take the morning off."

FREE BREAKFAST

He sends out for coffee and free pastry for all. Joe stands up on a desk and everybody listens entranced while he describes the fish he caught, the bears and Indians he saw, and passes out color photographs he took.

At noon, the boss says, "No, that's all for now. I want to take Joe to lunch at my club. You boys are wearing him out."

At lunch the boss piles Joe with double martinis, sirloin steak and dollar cigars. He listens as Joe mentions a few ideas he has thought up to improve the office.

"These are too good to wait, son," he remarks. "I'm going to call an emergency board meeting this afternoon."

JOE'S TURN

The rest of the day Joe spouts off to the board. "Not too fast, Joe," pleads the chairman, taking down notes himself with a gold pencil.

Perhaps the board may not accept all his recommendations, but his vacation has done him a world of good.

He feels wanted. He feels important. And isn't that the goal of every business office? It just takes a little human forethought by management.

Chances are that Joe will feel so grateful he won't even think of asking for more money — not, at least, until the bills for his vacation come due.

Tick Population Up; Dogs Are 'Bugged'

By Science Service
ELIZABETH, N.J. — Pity the poor dog! It was bad enough to have doggnappers lurking behind every tree, and now his other arch enemy, the tick, is having a population explosion.

The dog is having his own explosion too, but that just inspires the fertile ticks — one female can lay as many as 3,000 eggs at a time — to bigger and better things.

Man now keeps nearly 30,000,000 dogs as pets, and to the bloodthirsty ticks they are just one big anti-poverty program: food and shelter in one tasty lump.

One of the most common varieties is the brown dog tick (tongue-twistingly named Rhipicephalus sanguineus), says the National Pest Control Association.

Dog Star of Midsummer Nights

WASHINGTON — This year's called this period dies cancluc-often in spring and fall than in summer.

Since July 3, the traditional start of the dog days, much of the United States has sweated in continuous 90-plus and 100-degree temperatures, the National Geographic Society says.

Instead of worrying about mad dogs and other odd legends, present-day Americans are concerned about power failures caused by overloading from air conditioners.

The brightest visible star — 23 times brighter than the sun — is named Sirius. Its clear blue-white light marks the constellation Canis Major, "the Greater Dog," so Sirius became known as the Dog Star.

The Greeks and Romans noted that Sirius rose with the sun at midsummer, the hottest time of the year. Thus the Romans show that rabies occurs more often in spring and fall than in summer. Though Sirius makes no contribution to the heat, the dog days generally are more uncomfortable than the rest of the year because of an internal combination of heat and humidity.

EARTH WARMED
By July and August, the earth is well warmed; oceans have lost their winter chill. Days are still long, and the sun beats down fiercely from high in the sky.

As temperatures rise, more moisture evaporates. The air becomes muggy. From every pond, ocean, river, and stream water is drawn into the air at the rate of some 16 million tons a second.

Eventually, the moisture will return as rain, snow, or some other form of precipitation. But while moisture is retained in the air it causes sticky misery and endless repetition of, "It's not the heat, it's the humidity."

ARMOR—THEN AND NOW—A stark contrast with the armor of medieval knights is this lightweight, fiberglass, yet bulletproof suit worn by U.S. helicopter crewmen in Viet Nam. Designed by the Army Laboratories in Natick, Mass., and patented by Goodyear Aerospace, the armor has proved effective against small arms fire. It consists of front and back torso plates worn in vest, leg and thigh pieces.

Standards Studied for Entry Into College

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Getting into the right college is, perhaps, the most important hurdle in the educational path of a student.

College admissions procedures will be more complex but greatly improved, by the 1970s.

The process is under continuous study by the College Board, the National Entrance Examination Boards and the admissions officers of the colleges—and well it should be!

When a wrong student is admitted to college it is an expensive mistake. He occupies the place of a student who was not admitted and who might well have succeeded. As a result, there are at least seven frustrated persons; two students, four parents and one admissions officer.

Top marks in high school and high scores on scholastic aptitude tests are not sufficient guarantees that a college freshman will be successful. Some factors are not measured by either of these indications.

Colleges which now choose from among students who made high grades in high school and high scores on the entrance tests still have difficulty in selecting candidates.

FAILED TO RETURN

For example, at California Institute of Technology, about 20 per cent of the freshmen who entered in 1963 failed to return for the sophomore year, although they were selected with great care.

The following year the school discontinued grades in freshmen courses, giving only Pass or Fail marks. The dean of freshmen, Foster Strong, says, "We feel we are getting more natural students now. They are making better contact with the materials and are interested in learning and not in the grade as a payoff." In the first pass-fail year, the number of dropouts fell to 15 per cent.

My own experience shows that high grades in high school are not a sure indication that a student has developed adequate skills of learning to succeed in college. Neither is the lack of these skills brought to light through entrance tests.

What puzzles the admission officers is that top students from good high schools sometimes are in grave scholastic difficulties in the first semester in college. Jane was typical. In her case the learning deficiency was in the organization of subject matter and the written expression of thoughts under pressure.

NO EXPERIENCE

Because of Jane's high grades on unit tests she had not been required to write final examinations in high school. She reached college not only without any experience in writing essay-type examinations but with no skill in the overall organization of course material that makes for permanent learning.

Jane had succeeded in high school on a "drift and cram before examinations" basis. In high school this brought her top grades, but she was an all "A" student with little knowledge of HOW to study.

I find that although the specific causes of college failure among such students vary greatly they always lie in the learning skills area.

I predict that in the 1970s college admission officers will expect principals, counselors and teachers to evaluate and report to the college a student's progress in developing skills of learning.

With a more intimate knowledge of the individual student, counselors can do a better job of getting the right student into the right college.

Economy 'Bombed'

London Faces 2nd 'Blitz'

LONDON (UPI)—London may be really swinging but the country is going through a grim second battle of Britain. The jet set and go-go tourists are flocking to this great metropolis of almost 8 million. But the impression is growing that too many people may be fiddling while the economic fat of a nation of 54 million begins to go up in flames.

Britain, which so far has always managed to face up to any adversity with magnificent courage, now appears somewhat confused at the prospect of a return to stark austerity and almost Communist-type controls.

"The wolves are now getting uncomfortably close to the door and it is time for the plainest possible speaking," said the economist.

Britain is using its considerable industrial resources less efficiently and more wastefully than any other major power in Western Europe. There is therefore urgent need for shock treatment and redeployment.

The short term mess has been allowed to get so out of hand that the country can now probably extricate itself only by using two out of three bitter measures of temporary impoverishment: an income freeze, an increase in unemployment, or devaluation.

Devaluation, a chill word in any language, is now being talked about openly as a "final solution" if all other measures fail. The Labor government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, however, is known to be emphatically against such an extreme step.

Red Divorce Rates on Rise

Newlyweds, Oldsters Form Major Faction

VIENNA (AP)—Divorce is increasing in Communist East Europe. The Bulgarian newspaper Rabotnicheske Delo said "the number of marriages in Bulgaria is decreasing while the number of divorces is up."

The paper said the annual average was 16,000 divorces for a population of 8 million.

In part, the high figure is caused by the housing shortage and the fact that most married women have a job, but the largest number of divorces—45.4 per cent—is granted on grounds of adultery.

MENTAL CRUELTY

Physical or mental cruelty was the cause for one divorce in eight. Several hundred divorces were granted for drunkenness.

Statistics showed the largest number of divorces occur among couples that have been married a very short time and among those married for over 20 years.

Divorces among the older groups were caused mainly by differences of age between the partners, or because one of the spouses suddenly decided he was fed up with married life, the paper said.

In Czechoslovakia, the number of divorces soared from 11,360 four years ago to 18,702 last year. The Czechoslovak newspaper Obranu Lidu reported some years ago that in the cities every third marriage ended in divorce.

Authorities admitted that only 13 per cent of Czechoslovak newlyweds manage to get their own apartments.

Bobby Suggests U.S. Eye Two-China U.N. Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said today the United States should initiate a move to allow the admission of Red China to the United Nations while retaining a U.N. seat for Nationalist China.

The Massachusetts Democrat said if the United States drafted and supported such a resolution it would "make a new beginning in our Asia policy and make it where it is most important — in the eyes of our Asian friends and allies."

In a prepared Senate speech, Kennedy said the roll call vote in recent years on the question of admitting Communist China

"has shown our position to be deteriorating; our persuasion less compelling."

He said that if the United States is to preserve a U.N. seat for Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government based on Formosa, "We would be well advised to take the initiative in drafting and supporting a resolution that would allow both the presence of China as well as the retention of Formosa."

Kennedy conceded "it is quite likely that this proposal would be considered unacceptable at first by both Formosa and China" but said it has many advantages.

Romney Names Lawyer to State Appeal Board

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney appointed Sam F. Trentacosta, a Warren lawyer, Tuesday to a $16,500-a-year position on the Workmen's Compensation Appeal Board. Trentacosta's appointment to the four-year term ending Feb. 1, 1969, is subject to Senate confirmation.

Jungle-Wise Aussie Unit Has Tough Viet Mission

By HORST FAAS
PHUOC TUY PROVINCE, South Viet Nam (AP) — In a rubber plantation southeast of Saigon — the exact spot still is secret — a 3,000-man Australian task force has set up camp. The Australians have their own ideas how to fight the Viet Cong and they have the whole province of Phuoc Tuy to try them out.

Many of these men have fought and won a similar guerrilla war in the jungles and plantations of Malaya. About one-third are draftees, new to war like most of the Americans in Viet Nam.

Their mission — as described by their commander, Brig. Oliver David Jackson — is to break up, scatter and destroy the hard-core Viet Cong units in Phuoc Tuy Province; destroy the Viet Cong political apparatus; and then hunt down every Communist terrorist one by one.

RETURN REFUGEES

Once an area has been freed of Communist domination, the Australians will help the Vietnamese protect it and resettle refugees into it.

It will be a big job.

"In the Malaya war we didn't worry about time," says Lt. Col. John Arnold Warr. "This same attitude will be necessary in Viet Nam."

"We have to realize that it will take years to complete our mission and simply accept the fact and stay until it is done."

DIFFERENT WAR

In making this comparison, Warr also recognizes differences in the Malaya and Vietnamese wars.

"The Chinese Communists in Malaya were much less active than the Viet Cong," he said. "The Viet Cong is better armed, has greater dedication and discipline, and is operating in much larger units."

"Only after we have broken up the enemy regiments and battalions can we fight a Malaya-type campaign."

Other advantages mentioned by Warr were better information about the enemy in Malaya and better links between the local government — then British — and the fighting units.

SOME ADVANTAGE

But Viet Nam has some advantages, too. All the Australian company commanders and most of the noncommissioned officers in Viet Nam took part in the Malaya campaign.

Many of these men say the weather and terrain in Phuoc Tuy Province are easier to cope with. It is not so hot and the jungle is not so thick.

So far the Australian task force has pushed through less than a third of Phuoc Tuy Province. It has met slight resistance.

What will happen as the Aussies forge farther — pinching the long-dominant Viet Cong regiments between American units based to the north and west?

Either the Viet Cong will stand and fight or leave Phuoc Tuy Province to the Australians.

Dog Petters May Catch Rare Disease

By Science Service
BILTHOVEN, Holland — If you are a dog petter look out for a rare, elusive bacterial disease named listeriosis, not to be confused with halitosis although it was named after Joseph Lister of antiseptic fame.

This disease can trigger severe meningitis and septicemia in man, and one report at a conference here offers strong indications that listeriosis has been communicated between pet dogs and their owners.

In each case, said Drs. Warren C. Eveland and Joseph V. Baublis of the University of Michigan School of Public Health, there was very close contact between man and dog.

The researchers "surmise that these patients had become infected by the inhalation of infectious dust particles."

In another report at the symposium, the Michigan physicians reviewed studies showing that immunity to certain types of listeriosis can be transmitted from mother to child.

Listeriosis is named for the genus Listeria, a genus of microorganisms occurring primarily in lower animals.

It can infect man with an upper respiratory ailment with numerous complications.

57 Are Reported Dead in Mongolia Flooding

North Viet Nam Trial Threats Are Subject of Nuernberg-Geneva Legal Debates

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Are the American captives in North Viet Nam subject to trial under the 1948 Nuernberg Charter against war criminals — or are they immune from it under the 1949 Geneva convention for the protection of prisoners of war?

North Vietnamese diplomats have spotlighted a growing world legal dispute on that point in announcing that the captured fliers would be tried on war crime charges.

But Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. chief delegate to the United Nations, told reporters in Geneva Tuesday that in the U.S. view "the Geneva conventions on the treatment of prisoners of war fully apply to the Viet Nam conflict." Goldberg is a former justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

This conflict of opinion was noted in an appeal made by Secretary General U Thant last Saturday in which he asked

THANT URGED

In a statement issued by a spokesman, Thant urged all sides in the Viet Nam war to "comply with the provisions of the Geneva convention of Aug. 12, 1949, irrespective of conflict interpretations."

The North Vietnamese, however, continue to threaten the trial of U.S. personnel under the Nuernberg Charter.

They argue that the United States is carrying on the war in Viet Nam in violation of the 1954 Geneva agreements on Indochina, which call for the withdrawal of foreign troops.

Article 6 of the Nuernberg Charter sets out that "crimes against peace" include "waging of a war of aggression, or a war in violation of 'international treaties, agreements or assurances.'"

Article 8 says: "The fact that the defendant acted pursuant to order of his government or of a superior shall not free him from responsibility, but may be considered in mitigation of punishment."

No Immediate Strikes Likely on 3 Jet Bases Near Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials said today U.S. planes probably will not hit the three jet air bases near Hanoi unless the North Vietnamese air force becomes more of a threat.

A Defense Department spokesman said the bases are a latent threat.

But he added: "Until North

Viet Nam puts up a substantial challenge to our air operations, the fields probably will remain a lower priority target."

In May, after a rash of dog-fights between U.S. and Communist planes, U.S. officials implied that the air strikes would be attacked if more American planes were shot down.

Since then, the Pentagon said, four U.S. jets have been shot down in dogfights with Communist planes. Saigon officials list five U.S. planes lost in aerial combat. But officials apparently do not regard this as ample justification to take out North Vietnamese bases at Gia Lam, Phuc Yen and Kep.

The Defense Department says the North Vietnamese, on the other hand, have lost 17 of their Soviet-built MIGs, including three of the later, more maneuverable MIG21s.

The United States has lost about 290 planes of all types in the air and ground war in Viet Nam, the Pentagon reports.

Defense officials say Hanoi has been losing planes faster than they are being replaced. Either the Soviet Union or Communist China, or both, have been doing the providing.

"It is our best estimate that they probably come primarily from the Soviet Union," Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said last weekend.

Vance, content to describe the North Vietnamese air force as "relatively small," said the Hanoi regime has approximately 15 to 20 MIG21 supersonic aircraft, approximately 40 of the older MIG15s and 17s, and six of the old Soviet IL28 bombers.

These figures compare with about 11 MIG21s, 55 to 60 MIG15s and 17s, and six IL28s the Reds were believed to have had at the beginning of the year, Vance said.

This Is A Different Kind Of Wardrobe

Goodby Broadway, Hello Saigon

You're in the Army Now--'66 Version

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a three-part series.)

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
FORT POLK, La. — They are a solemn bunch of boys. Skin sweating, feet hurting, shoulders itching from a few minutes of standing at rigid attention.

Moments earlier they were civilians. Free men. Laughing, shouting, smoking at will. But then the passenger bus stopped and the door opened.

"Welcome home," the driver sneezed.

And all of a sudden they were all in the Army.

"Move out you men," somebody in fatigues shouted. "On the double. Pick up that suitcase. Put out that cigarette. You, you and you! Line up here. Everybody else fall in behind these three. I said MOVE!"

PUT 'EM OUT
"Crush that cigarette butt, mister."

"Tuck in those shirt-tails."

"You. Don't throw that butt on the ground."

"Roll up those sleeves."

"No, you can't keep the cigarette in your hand either."

"Eyes front!"

"Look, my friend, I don't care how you get rid of that butt. You can eat it for all I care. But don't you dare get sick on it during this formation."

This is Army training. The first few minutes of it. Not a bit like the posters in front of the recruiting station.

It is degrading, harassing, uncompromising . . . and it gets worse. The gag among two-year enlistees is that the first 24 months are the toughest.

SHED EVERYTHING
In the next 48 hours the recruits will shed their clothing.

their hair and their individuality. In the next week they will be bled, indexed, fingerprinted, matched, mismatched, taken mentally apart and put back together differently.

In the next eight weeks they will work for most of 44 days, absorb over 350 hours of instruction, use up a dozen cans of polish on two pair of boots, learn to tell a general from a lieutenant (generals have younger wives) and hold their ears to the noise of M-14 rifles, M-40 machine guns, M-79 grenade launchers, 45-caliber pistols and 3.5 rocket launchers.

And if they go through hell, thank God for it. Because in the next two years they may be in Viet Nam.

In peacetime one can argue the merits of teaching a man to spit shine light bulbs. But in war, victory goes to the driven and the disciplined.

A LONG TIME
Fortunately for the nation's security, the U.S. Army has been driving men to discipline for 190 years. And even more fortunately they have been improving at it.

Gone are the pathetic practices of yore. The "ain't," "don't-got-no," and "godamnit" utterances from the classroom podiums.

The "come-at-me-with-a-knife" mode of instruction. The out-of-focus movies. The professors with PX pots.

But if training is different, so are the trainees.

DIFFERENT MATERIAL
They are no longer the gangling, awkward oafs depicted in the John Wayne films. Today's GI is hardly a Sgt. Bilko patsy. And none of them act like Gomer Pyle.

They are sharp, serious and sure of themselves. Some 77 per cent of them graduate from high school (vs. 48 per cent in 1952). They average an inch or two taller than World War II recruits, and several pounds heavier.

They read more, know more, think more and learn more than any previous soldier in the nation's history.

They are products of the

SAME ROUTINE

Oh, they gag it up and "cool it" when they can. That's to be expected. But they know the score. And few of them sleep in the classes on Viet Nam.

They go about this business intently, as if their lives were at stake.

Because, frankly, they know their lives are.

(NEXT: Realism.)

Cotton Patch
Just for Show

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The crop produced by one cotton patch in this mid-South cotton-growing area won't ever be used commercially. It is purely for show.

The patch is located just south of the Memphis city limits between the terminal building and the loading ramp at Metropolitan Airport.

The "planter" is T. Harri Baker, executive director of the airport.

The practice of planting the small area each year was started in response to the query of the thousands of air travelers coming through this city whose most frequent question is "Is there anywhere we can go and see cotton growing?"

Now they not only can see it conveniently, but they often have pictures made standing in front of the airport cotton patch.

Millionaire's Wife
Gets Divorce, Stock

DETROIT (AP)—The wife of millionaire Mitchell J. Simon, former vice president of Essex Wire Corp., was granted a divorce Tuesday and awarded Essex stock worth $2.7 million. Circuit Judge Joseph Moynihan Jr. also gave the 42-year-old Mrs. Simon custody of the couple's six children and their home in suburban Grosse Pointe Farms. Simon was ordered to pay the woman's attorney $100,000.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Cobalt Use Requires Careful Control

Q—When cobalt treatments are given to the cobalt rays destroy only the tumor cells, do they also destroy healthy cells in the area?

A—Although the healthy cells are more resistant to irradiation than most tumor cells, healthy cells are also damaged by rays of cobalt-60.

That is why the placement of the needles and the duration of the treatment must be carefully controlled.

Q—What is lymphosarcoma? Is it related to leukemia?

A—This is a type of cancer that may be found in different parts of the body.

Another name for it is Hodgkin's disease.

It resembles leukemia in that it involves the lymph nodes and is sometimes characterized by a high white blood cell count.

Q—What are the symptoms of bone cancer?

Can you have this without having cancer in any other part of the body?

A—The symptoms vary. There may be pain in the bone and a hard swelling or the bone may become eroded and break with a minimum of trauma.

Some cancers start in a bone and spread to other parts later. Many bone cancers are an offshoot from an initial cancer in some distant part.

Q—My father died of a sarcoma that affected the bones in his legs.

What is the cause of this disease? Is it hereditary?

A—The cause of osteosarcoma is unknown. This is a very malignant type of cancer but it is not hereditary.

Q—Can a girl who has graduated from high school with average grades be classified as an idiot?

Her stepfather insists that she is.

A—Using the term "idiot" loosely is a popular indoor sport but not one to be taken seriously.

A true idiot has an IQ of 20 or less and is not able to dress, feed or bathe herself.

If you called a true idiot by that name she couldn't care less.

Restaurant Lease at Airport Okayed

An international food service company was granted a five-year lease last night on the city-owned restaurant at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The restaurant closed June 30 when the Waterford Township School District dropped its lease on the airport facilities.

City Commissioners last night approved a lease with the Prophet Co., operator of over 300 food service facilities, including cafeterias at Pontiac Motor Division and the Fisher Body plant.

The lease provides for a minimum monthly rental of $50 until gross sales reach $3,000 per month, when the rental becomes 3.5 per cent of the total gross.

When total sales reach $4,000 per month or more, the lease calls for a five per cent of sales payment to the city.

OPEN BY TUESDAY

J. David Vanderveen, acting airport manager, said the company hoped to open the restaurant by Tuesday. In addition to providing hot lunch service, the new restaurant operators are to install vending machines offering a full line of food products on a 24-hour, seven-days-a-week basis.

Planning Study Turned Down

Analyst Offered $600 Residential Proposal

Believing that a $600 study can't be worth much, even if it is done by an "expert," the City Commission voted 4-2 last night to reject a proposed planning study of undeveloped residential areas in the city.

Despite a staff recommendation in its favor, the commission rejected a proposed study by Aaron J. Blumberg of Detroit, rated the foremost market analyst in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Included in the study would have been a "housing report" to be used in setting housing policies for undeveloped residential sections, recommending the type, size, character and quality of housing for such areas.

Commissioners John A. Dugan and Wesley J. Wood were the only commissioners voting in favor of the study.

HELP OFFICIALS

Wood said he thought it would be a help to city planners, including City Commissioners.

Planning and Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates defended his recommendation for the study, which, he said, was part of the city's "701" planning studies paid for by the federal government. (The city's contribution is in staff time.)

Bates claimed the planning commission had reacted favorably to the proposal.

"I think it can give us some guidance, and Blumberg's vast knowledge would be of a tremendous benefit to the city," Bates said.

Commissioners Robert C. Irwin and Leslie H. Hudson, however, disagreed with Bates.

QUESTION USEFULNESS

Irwin said he questioned the usefulness of the study. He suggested that the current study being made in Pontiac by the University of Detroit might have many of the same findings.

Hudson said thousands of dollars had been spent for a city master plan and for similar studies. He added that for such a small amount, the study could not be in depth.

The District 4 commissioner wondered if an expert's opinion would be followed if it were given.

Hudson claimed development of vacant areas would depend on the emotions of the neighborhood, the planning commission and the City Commission.

$45,000 Bus Subsidy Is Sought

A proposal that city officials estimate would more than double the city's subsidy of Pontiac Transit Corp. for local bus service was received last night by the City Commission.

The proposal, which would hike the annual subsidy to $45,000, was referred for study at the next informal meeting.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said Kenneth Totter, regional manager for American Transit Corp., parent company for Pontiac Transit, would meet with the commission to further discuss provisions of the bus firm's proposal.

Warren said the proposal provides the city pay all costs in operating the local bus system, plus a management fee of three per cent of gross revenues.

In addition, the city would pay the company five per cent of its gross revenue as profit. Gross revenue for the year ending July 1, 1967, is estimated at $171,549, according to Warren.

Operating expense for the same period is estimated at $208,091, he said.

Payments to the bus company would be offset by fare box, charter and advertising revenues, explained Warren.

Bus company officials are seeking renewal of their one-year agreement with the city that expired June 30. The city in the past year paid a subsidy of $29,500.

In other business last night, the commission gave tentative approval to the sale of two parcels in the urban renewal R20 project.

Final approval is to follow an okay from Housing and Urban Development officials.

PARCEL SOLD

One parcel was a half-lot on the west side of Parkhurst, between Chandler and Pike, which was sold for $1,000 to adjacent property owners.

The second, larger lot was approved for sale to the Pontiac Teachers Credit Union for $15,000.

An office building is proposed for the property on the south side of Auburn, between East Wide Track and Center.

In still other business, public hearings were held on necessity to construct curb, gutter, grade and gravel on portions of Broadway, Cedar and Bingham; and sidewalk on a portion of the west side of Baldwin.

Referred to the planning commission was a request for resident-3 rezoning for a parcel of land on the south side of Collier, east of Joslyn.

Sale-of-Land Fund Account Lists $310,450 in Total Assets

The first accounting of the city's sale-of-land fund was received last night by the City Commission, disclosing total assets of $310,450, with $219,941 not specifically appropriated.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren, in presenting the financial statement, pointed out that the so-called unappropriated assets of $219,941 did not represent actual cash on hand.

He said the actual cash in the fund, which was established six months ago, totaled $37,389 with outstanding contracts owing the fund $282,746.

Made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965, the sale-of-land fund received $275,064 last year from the sale of city-owned land.

The major sales included $150,650 worth of land to the Michigan State Highway Department for M59 and a $90,778 site on the north side of the city for the Allen scrap yard.

Major expenditures from the fund have included $134,563 for additional land for the sanitary landfill site, also on the north side; $93,926 for first payments for industrial park properties on South Boulevard; and minor land purchases for a drain on Joslyn.

Expenditures to date have totaled $229,711, according to Warren.

In 1966, only one major land deal has been made, reported Warren. This was the sale for $190,000 of city-owned land on Crooks in Avon Township.

Warren said the fund would be boosted shortly when the sale of a former landfill site on Orchard Lake is consummated.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren, in presenting the financial statement, pointed out that the so-called unappropriated assets of $219,941 did not represent actual cash on hand.

Made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965, the sale-of-land fund received $275,064 last year from the sale of city-owned land.

The major sales included $150,650 worth of land to the Michigan State Highway Department for M59 and a $90,778 site on the north side of the city for the Allen scrap yard.

Major expenditures from the fund have included $134,563 for additional land for the sanitary landfill site, also on the north side; $93,926 for first payments for industrial park properties on South Boulevard; and minor land purchases for a drain on Joslyn.

Expenditures to date have totaled $229,711, according to Warren.

In 1966, only one major land deal has been made, reported Warren. This was the sale for $190,000 of city-owned land on Crooks in Avon Township.

Warren said the fund would be boosted shortly when the sale of a former landfill site on Orchard Lake is consummated.

Veterans' Benefits—14

Burial Expenses Available to Many

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 14th of 17 articles on veterans' benefits.)

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — The Veterans Administration will pay burial expenses up to $350 for a veteran of the Spanish-American War, World Wars I or II or Korea.

Peacetime veterans retired for a disability incurred in the line of duty are eligible as are peacetime veterans receiving a service-connected compensation.

If a veteran dies while in a VA hospital or home, the government will pay part or all of the costs of transporting the remains to the cemetery chosen for burial. Application may be made at any VA office.

Burial in a national cemetery is available to any honorably discharged veteran of wartime or peacetime services. Reservists who die while performing active duty for training also are eligible.

Burial usually is also available for the wife, husband, widow and minor children of eligible veterans. Unmarried adult children of eligible veterans are also eligible if they're physically or mentally dependent.

ARE ELIGIBLE

U.S. citizens, who, as such, served in time of war in the armed forces of any government allied with the United States, may be eligible for burial in a national cemetery.

If an eligible veteran's husband or wife, minor child or eligible adult child dies before the veteran dies, he (or she) may be buried in a national cemetery.

But the veteran must file a written statement saying that his intention is to be buried at the same spot.

Applications should go to the superintendent of the national cemetery in which burial is desired. But any VA office will provide information and other assistance in filing burial request applications.

TIME OF DEATH

Applications should be made only at the time of death of the veteran or eligible dependent.

Grave sites are not assigned in advance of immediate requirements.

A United States flag will be provided to drape the caskets of veterans who have served in wartime, including Korea, and all veterans who have served in the post-Korea cold-war period.

Veterans who served at least one enlistment during peacetime before Korea are also eligible. So are all pre-Korea peacetime veterans who were released from service for disability incurred in the line of duty.

The flag may be given to the next of kin or close friend of the deceased after the ceremony. Application may be made at any VA office or at most post offices.

HEADSTONE

All honorably discharged peacetime and wartime veterans are entitled to a headstone or grave marker at government expense, whether buried at a private or government cemetery.

Servicemen missing in action are eligible for memorial plots in national cemeteries. So are men killed while in service whose remains have not been identified or were unrecoverable.

Servicemen buried at sea have the same right. These veterans are also entitled to memorial headstones or markers.

Applications for headstones and markers, and memorial plots in national cemeteries administered by the Army Department should go to the Chief of Support Services Department of the Army, Washington, D.C. 20310.

Applications for memorial plots in national cemeteries administered by the Interior Department should go to the Director, National Park Service, Washington, D.C. 20240.

But any VA office will provide information and other assistance in filing headstone, grave marker or memorial plot applications. (NEXT: Pensions for Widows.)

Cooling Punch Is Peachy

Party time in the summer-time deserves to be celebrated with a tantalizing and pretty punch that looks and tastes like it's meant for the season.

Just such a beverage to perfectly suit many a summer occasion is the Peach and Lemon Punch. With floating sliced peaches and fresh flowers, it will certainly capture the center of attention on your party table and gain compliments for you.

The appealing flavor results from a blend of cream sherry, lemon juice, ginger ale and sugar. And, it's twice as easy to prepare, since all the ingredients come in a package or a bottle.

Peach and Lemon Punch
3 packages (12 ounces each) frozen sliced peaches, drained; or 6 fresh peaches, peeled and sliced
1/2 to 1 1/2 cups superfine sugar*

1/2 cup cream sherry
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 quart ginger ale, chilled
Ice Mint leaves and fresh flowers, if desired

Put peach slices in bowl; sprinkle with sugar and let sit 30 minutes. Pour cream sherry over peaches and refrigerate for at least 2 hours. Pour lemon juice and ginger ale over fruit. Serve over ice in large punch bowl.

Garnish with mint leaves and fresh flowers. Makes about 15 four-ounce servings.

*Use larger amount of sugar with fresh peaches.

SUMMER PATIO SUPPER — Special Stuffed Peppers, served with other brightly colored summer vegetables and fruits, present an attractive appearance for an indoor or outdoor supper.

Fruit and Vegetables Mixed in Sauce for Chicken Dish

Crisp shoestring potatoes, festive fruit cocktail and diced chicken are combined in this filling casserole. A busy-day delight, you can serve it in thirty minutes from kitchen shelf to dinner table. All you need to round out an easy but elegant meal is a tossed green salad and a light dessert.

Crispy Chicken Casserole
1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cocktail

1 can (4 oz.) shoestring potatoes
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
Drain fruit cocktail. Reserve 1 cup shoestring potatoes for topping. Stir mushroom soup and milk together.

Combine remaining potatoes, chicken, pimiento and drained fruit cocktail. Add soup mixture and stir to mix. Top with reserved potatoes. Bake uncovered in greased 1 1/2-quart casserole in 375 degree (moderately hot) oven for 20-25 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Poppy Seeds

Like poppy seed? Then try adding it to plain muffins. The poppy seed should be stirred into the dry ingredients.

Pour pancake batter from a pitcher or ladle if you want your pancakes to be shapely.

Oats Put in Stuffing for Peppers

Gardens and markets offer such a tempting array of fresh vegetables now. Take advantage of summer's plenty by using colorful, succulent vegetables in as many ways as possible.

These Special Stuffed Peppers offer a suggestion for making bright green peppers part of the main dish. The sweet, flavorful peppers serve as a case for a savory ground beef mixture seasoned with onion, celery and basil. Tomato juice is added for moisture.

What's so special about Special Stuffed Peppers? The extra-special ingredient is rolled oats. The oats lock in the natural meat juices, making the filling especially moist and flavorful.

Creamy sauce, made from condensed mushroom soup and milk, complements the peppers perfectly.

Serve Special Stuffed Peppers with other summer favorites for a patio or porch supper. Sliced tomatoes and crisp relishes provide appetizing contrast and crusty rolls and butter round out the menu.

For a handsome dessert, fill cantaloupe halves with melon balls, grapes, pineapple chunks and orange sections.

Special Stuffed Peppers
6 medium-sized green peppers
1 1/2 lb. ground beef
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup celery
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon basil
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/2 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup milk

Cut 1/4-inch slice from top of each green pepper; remove seeds. Cook green peppers about 15 minutes in enough salted boiling water to cover them; drain.

Pan-fry ground beef, onion and celery until lightly browned. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Fill green peppers with meat mixture. Stand upright in shallow baking pan; add small amount of water. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Serve hot with mushroom sauce made by heating together mushroom soup and milk.

Only a Short Season for Cantaloupes

CHERRY MELON COOLER

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor.
Fragrance plays a large part in one's enjoyment of food. Melons of all kinds have a delightful fragrance.
Muskmelons are native to Persia (Iran) and the word "muskmelons" means perfume. All cantaloupes are muskmelons, but not all muskmelons are cantaloupes.
The melon season is short. This year the crop is excellent and large supplies are arriving daily from the west.

Signs of a good cantaloupe are: coarse netting against a rind of grayish or yellowish tinge; scar at stem end a bit sunken; sometimes a flavor that permeates the rind.
Don't press the end to test ripeness. All you'll do is make a soft spot.

Cantaloupe has both vitamin A and C. Half a melon contains only 60 calories.

When keeping cut melons in the refrigerator, be sure to cover the cut surface. Otherwise, the odor will get into other foods. It doesn't improve things like butter.

Just plain melon can't be beat. But if you want to dress it up, try scooping out balls of melon and replacing them with stemmed sweet cherries. It's a pretty dessert.

Cherry Melon Cooler
2 cups fresh sweet cherries
2 small cantaloupes
Sherry dressing
Mint sprigs
Lime wedges

Chill cherries. Cut melons in half. Remove seeds and scoop melon balls evenly from edges of melons with a 1-teaspoon measuring spoon or a melon-ball cutter.

Replace scooped out melon balls with cherries, leaving stems intact. Toss melon balls with remaining cherries and Sherry dressing. Heap in centers of melons.

Serve on tray or platter of crushed ice. Garnish with mint and lime wedges. Makes 4 servings.

Sherry Dressing
1/2 cup sherry wine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
Dash salt

Combine ingredients and stir until sugar dissolves. Chill. If desired, add 1/4 cup finely chopped fresh mint leaves to dressing before chilling. Strain to serve. Makes 1/2 cup.

A more elaborate dessert is made by chilling Bavarian cream in melon shells.

Cantaloupe Bavarian
2 medium-sized cantaloupes

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Fresh Strawberry sauce

Cut cantaloupes in half, remove seeds; remove pulp and cut into small dice. (There should be about 4 cups.) Turn shells upside down on paper towel to drain. Reserve.

Drain diced cantaloupe; reserve 1/2 cup liquid. Soften gelatin in the 1/2 cup cantaloupe liquid in a custard cup. Place in pan of simmering water until gelatin dissolves.

Combine diced cantaloupe, gelatin, sugar, lemon juice and vanilla extract. Mix well. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in shells in half and serve with Fresh Strawberry sauce.

Strawberry Sauce
1 pint fresh strawberries
1/2 to 3/4 cup sugar
Dash salt
1/2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

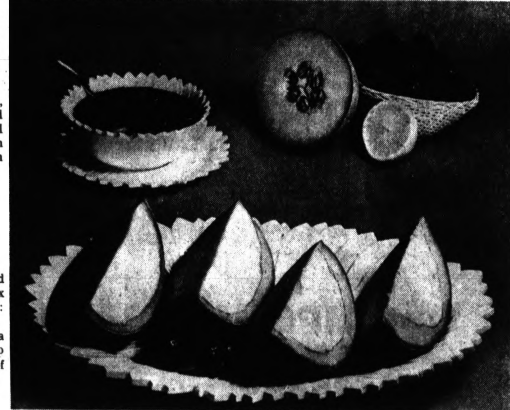

Hull and slice berries. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Refrigerate 1 hour. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

Melon certainly belongs in a summer fruit salad. But it also has a place in other types of salads—like the two below.

CANTALOUPE COLESLAW
4 cups shredded cabbage (about 1/2 medium head)
1/2 cup grated carrot

SUMMER MELON SALAD
2 cups diced, cooked white chicken meat
1 orange, sectioned
1/4 cup grapes, seedless or seeded and halved
1/4 cup salted almonds, toasted and slivered
1 cup cantaloupe balls
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Cantaloupe rings or halves Iceberg lettuce
Combine chicken, orange, grapes, almonds, cantaloupe balls and mayonnaise; chill.
Arrange peeled cantaloupe rings or halves on iceberg lettuce and fill with chicken salad. Garnish with mint or water cress, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CANTALOUPE BAVARIAN — Cantaloupe wedges filled with a light and luscious Bavarian cream makes an easy, but elegant summer dessert.

Light Creamy Filling Goes Into Nutty Crust

It's pure fallacy that Scots are prone to watch their pennies — at least where food is concerned. The groaning boards of a Scottish tea or supper table are proof enough of this.
Here you'll see an array of sturdy foods to sate the hunger, followed by a wondrous selection of sweets that will tempt you to just one more and another, until all are tasted and tried.
The Scots are a people known for their love of desserts and shortbread is a favored treat. This is a delightful dessert, rich yet refreshingly delicate in flavor.

The pecan shortbread shell is simple to prepare and makes an ideal base for this and other fillings. One bite will show you why shortbread has become the pride of Scottish cooks!
Dessert mix makes the fluff of a filling we've spooned into the shell to chill and set.
Crushed pineapple has been added to give the filling a cool summer air, though this dessert would be an elegant addition to menus any time of the year, with its perky twists of pineapple and pecans that put the finishing touch of garnish to the dish.

Scottish Pecan Fancy
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup butter
1/4 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup sugar
1 3/4 ounce package vanilla whipped dessert mix
1/2 cup cold milk

1 9-ounce can crushed pineapple, drained
Pineapple slices
Pecan halves

Combine flour, butter, chopped pecans and sugar. Blend with a spoon or gently knead ingredients together with fingers. Press into a 9-inch torte-and-cake pan (with 9-inch round insert in place). Bake at 320 degrees for 1 hour. Cool.

In a small, deep bowl, combine whipped dessert mix and milk; whip until smooth and thick. Beat in crushed pineapple and spoon mixture into cooled shells. Chill for 2 hours.

Garnish with pineapple slices and pecan halves. Serves 6 to 8.

SCOTTISH PECAN FANCY—This pretty torte borrows from the Scots by using a crispy, pecan-flecked shortbread shell as its base. The filling combines a whipped dessert mix with crushed pineapple. All is chilled.

Pickles Put Zest Into This Salad

Sweet mixed pickles add flavor to a favorite salad combination of carrots and pineapple. Mix together 1 (8 1/2 ounce) can of crushed pineapple, drained, 1 cup of grated raw carrots, 1/2 cup of chopped sweet mixed pickles, 2 tablespoons of finely chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup of chopped celery, 1/4 teaspoon of salt, a dash of nutmeg and 3 tablespoons of sweet pickle liquid. Chill.
Serve on crisp salad greens. Makes about 4 servings.

Cantaloupe Bavarian
2 medium-sized cantaloupes

Sherry Dressing
1/2 cup sherry wine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
Dash salt

Combine ingredients and stir until sugar dissolves. Chill. If desired, add 1/4 cup finely chopped fresh mint leaves to dressing before chilling. Strain to serve. Makes 1/2 cup.

Famed Caesar Salad Mexican Chef Began It All

Caesar Salad is a favorite appetizer course on the West Coast. Many of the better restaurants have their waiters trained to make a dramatic production of this salad beside their guests' table.

A Mexican shaped wooden bowl will help to identify the country that originated this salad even though others have held claim to it. The popular version of how this salad made its debut goes something like this.

Caesar Salad
1 bunch romaine
1/2 head iceberg lettuce
1 clove garlic
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 fresh lemon
1 egg
1 cup garlic chive croutons

Break cold, crisp romaine and lettuce into bite-size pieces into a large wooden bowl. Mash finely the garlic clove with the salt and add mustard, pepper and sauce; blend in the oil. Pour over the greens; add cheese, juice of fresh lemon. Break egg on top and toss

Charm of these sweetly satisfying Rolled Out Clusters lies in their savory blending of flavors and textures. Crunchy rolled oats are folded into a quick cooking peanut butter mixture to create a creamy rich and wholly delectable confection. Staple convenience foods are all that are required.

Rolling Out Clusters
2 cups sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup peanut butter
3 cups rolled oats, uncooked, quick or regular

Combine sugar, milk, butter or margarine and salt; stir. Bring to a full boil; boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and peanut butter; stir until smooth. Add rolled oats; mix well. Cool slightly until mixture holds shape slightly.

Freeze Fresh Fruit Filling for Pies

Wouldn't it be lovely if fresh fruits were available in the fall and winter when you wouldn't mind turning on the oven to bake luscious pies and other desserts? But you can do the next best thing — preserve the summertime goodness of fruit in frozen pie fillings to bake when the snow flies.

Jiffy Peach-Plum Pie Fillings are so easy to prepare that you won't mind mixing up a batch on the hottest day of summer. You just peel, pit, and slice the fruit; then mix in the quick-cooking tapioca and other ingredients, pour into foil-lined pie pans, cover loosely, and freeze.

The pies can be baked in a jiffy, too, when the time comes. The frozen pie-shaped fillings are merely unwrapped, slipped into pastry-lined pans, covered with pastry, and baked — there's no need to thaw the fillings before baking.

The quick-cooking tapioca that was mixed with the fruit months earlier will thicken the fillings perfectly and leave the color and flavor of the fruit clear and bright.

Prepare now for a heavy schedule of wintertime entertaining — make several batches of jiffy pie filling. Each batch makes enough filling for four 9-inch pies.

JIFFY PEACH-PLUM PIE FILLINGS

- 2 quarts (8 cups) prepared plums (about 5 pounds)
- 2 quarts (8 cups) prepared peaches (about 4½ pounds)
- 2 teaspoons ascorbic acid*
- ¾ cup sugar
- ¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca
- 6 tablespoons lemon juice

1 teaspoon salt
*Or use a commercial antioxidant to prevent browning of fruit.

Wash, remove pits, and slice fully ripe sweet plums; measure 2 quarts. Scald, peel, and pit fully ripe peaches; slice and measure 2 quarts.

Combine ascorbic acid and sugar. Combine all ingredients and mix well.

Line four 8-inch pie pans with heavy-duty aluminum foil, freezer paper, or several thicknesses of transparent saran, letting lining extend 5 inches beyond rims of pans.

Evenly divide filling between pans. Loosely cover fillings with extending lining. Freeze until firm.

Then seal lining tightly over fillings; remove from pans and return to freezer. FILLING MAY BE STORED IN THE FREEZER UP TO SIX MONTHS.

For each frozen filling, prepare pastry for a 9-inch pie.

Roll half of pastry less than ¼ inch thick. Line a 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim.

Roll remaining pastry ¼ inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or a fancy design near center.

Remove wrapping from filling and set the frozen block of fruit into the pastry-lined pan. (Do not thaw.)

Dot filling with about 1 tablespoon butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. Center top crust on filling and trim, letting pastry extend ½ inch beyond rim.

Press top and bottom crust together on rim; then fold top crust under bottom crust and flute edge. Open slits in top crust to permit escape of steam during baking.

Bake at 425 degrees until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst — about 55 minutes.

Note: If plums are not fully ripe, increase sugar to 4 cups.

JIFFY PEACH-PLUM PIE FILLINGS—Now's the time to make Jiffy Peach-Plum Pie Fillings for use in next winter's pies. The filling is not cooked before freezing and does not have to be thawed before baking, so it can be mixed in a jiffy now and baked in a jiffy later.

Adapt French Way

Just what has broadened American tastes in food is hard to say. Travel has undoubtedly done its share, particularly trips to the cooking capitals of the world. When Americans come home, they bring their new food loves right along, such as this recipe for sautéed fish, adapted for Americans by the National Fisheries Institute.

When you're deciding what to serve with it, enjoy the best of both worlds: a bowl of crisp endive tossed with French dressing, a basket of good old American French fries, and a rose or white wine.

Sautéed Fillets Francaise
1 pound fish fillets, fresh or frozen
2 carrots, sliced or diced
2 onions, sliced
1 teaspoon sugar
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ pint light cream
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon brandy (optional)
If fish is frozen, let partially defrost at room temperature while preparing sauce.

For sauce, cook carrots and onions in small amount of boiling water to which sugar has been added for 10 minutes or until just tender. Drain.

Melt butter or margarine in skillet and sauté fish fillets until lightly browned on both sides (3 to 5 minutes per side). Remove fish to warm plate.

Place carrots, onions, parsley and cream in skillet. Mix well and season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly but do not boil. Add brandy to sauce just before serving. Pour sauce over fish. Makes four servings.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 5 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a restless sleep, and other habits often indicate a child has pinworms. Just parasites that most children acquire after 1 cup of sugar 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jay's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it.

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the large intestine where they dissolve. Then—Jay's P-W Tablets, medically-approved ingredients, go right to work to kill Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jay's P-W Vermifuge, small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Leave Some Room for Expansion

Here's a tip on freezing fruits and vegetables from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Be sure to allow for head space — room for the product to expand. Food specialists suggest: ½ inch for a dry pack (packed without liquid).

For a liquid pack in wide-mouth containers, leave ½ inch per pint; with containers having narrow top openings, ¾ inch per pint. The exception: Juice. Each pint of juice requires 1½ inches of head space.

Soil pollution, caused by adding industrial and agricultural wastes to the soil faster than the wastes decomposed and improperly used agricultural chemicals, can render the soil unfit for food production.

His Plight Not Ignored

NEW YORK (UPI)—Not all New Yorkers remain oblivious to the plight of a fellow citizen in distress.

When Vall Molorni, 41, slipped on a banana peel at a subway station yesterday it was only a matter of minutes before two men rushed to his aid.

As he was lying on the ground in a daze, the first man grabbed Molorni's wristwatch and fled. The second man attempted to steal his wallet.

A-Site Choice in '66—Seaborg

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Glenn Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission said yesterday he is still confident his group will select before the end of the year a site for the proposed $375 million atomic accelerator.

Seaborg told reporters the AEC is still evaluating information on the six sites which remained from more than 200 proposed locations in 46 states.

The sites under consideration are: Ann Arbor, Mich.; Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, L.I.; Denver, Colo.; Madison, Wis.; Sierra Foothills near Sacramento, Calif.; and South Barrington, or Weston, near Chicago.

None of the six has been eliminated as yet, the chairman said.

Seaborg was questioned about the proposed atom smasher before he appeared to testify before the joint Atomic Energy Committee in support of two nominees for the commission, Samuel Nabrit and Wilfred Johnson.

IF CONFIRMED

If confirmed by the Senate, the two will help decide the site for the atom smasher.

There have been reports that, even after the SEC decides on the site, that actual construction of the atomic accelerator may be held up because of the cost.

But when asked to comment concerning such a possibility, Seaborg said he intends once a site is selected, to ask Congress to provide planning funds.

The project would employ about 2,000 people and have an annual operating budget estimated at $60 million.

session, the word was that the program would call for:

• A freeze on wages, prices and dividends with a national minimum wage as a sop for low-paid workers.

DEFENSE CUT

• A cut of about $500 million in defense and other overseas spending, principally for Britain's army in Germany and her forces east of Suez.

The purpose of the program is to increase productivity in export industries by diverting labor to those industries, trim inflationary spending which has boosted imports for the domestic market, and reduce the perennial drain on Britain's foreign exchange holdings.

The pound has been in bad health for two years, its weakness reflecting fears that Britain will be forced to devalue its currency. It closed Tuesday at $2.78 11-16, about a penny and a quarter under the official exchange rate of $2.80. The Bank of England stepped in to support the rate with gold from its dwindling reserves.

Soapy, Jerry Exchange Pleasantries at Livonia Factory Gate

By the Associated Press
"Good morning, Jerry," said Soapy.
"Good morning, governor," said Jerry.
And that was about as far as it went.
G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh traded a few pleasantries Tuesday when they found themselves face to face at a factory gate in Livonia.
"GOOD TO SEE YOU"
"It's good to see you," said the former governor.

"It's nice and early," said the mayor.
Then the two candidates for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination went to work, pumping workers' hands and asking for votes in the Aug. 2 primary.
Later, a reporter polled some of the workers at the plant and found 60 were for Williams, 47 for Cavanagh, 47 undecided and four for Republican Sen. Robert Griffin, who'll face the winner of the Williams-Cavanagh battle in November.
From Livonia, the mayor continued to tour the Detroit area, with stops in Plymouth Township, Detroit, Harper Woods and Roseville. Williams visited in Plymouth, then left for Jackson and Washtenaw counties.

Williams planned a series of campaign staff meetings in Detroit today, with time out for a luncheon speech. Cavanagh planned a morning of appearances in Monroe before leaving for an evening rally in Jackson.
Griffin, in Washington all day

Tuesday, planned to be there all day today.
Not satisfied with his brief meeting with Williams, Cavanagh continued to seek to "face the issues in this campaign" in a debate with the former governor.
BACKS RIGHTS BILL
Cavanagh accepted an invitation to appear at the Detroit Press Club at a meeting which Williams also was invited to attend. Williams, who has repeatedly refused to debate the mayor, didn't indicate whether he planned to be there.

Williams did, however, endorse the proposed new civil rights bill, including the section banning racial discrimination in sale of privately owned housing.
Rod Riggs, Jackson County Democratic chairman, estimated Williams will carry the county two to one. "I'll be surprised if Cavanagh carries a single precinct," Riggs said.
Gov. George Romney, unopposed in the Republican primary in his reelection bid, spent Tuesday in Lansing, singing hills and keeping appointments. He was to fly to Gettysburg, Pa., today for a visit with former President Dwight Eisenhower.

His Democratic opponent, State Democratic chief Zolton Ferency, planned to spend today in Washington, conferring, he said, with government officials and political leaders about his campaign.
Griffin, in Washington, issued a statement Tuesday saying he was pleased at the results of a statewide poll of voters taken by the Detroit News. The poll showed Griffin leading Cavanagh 42 per cent to 38, and trailing Williams by only 1 per cent, 43 to 42.

"The poll indicates the tremendous progress we have made since I announced my decision to run for the U.S. Senate last February," he said.
It also "clearly indicates the unrest felt by the public about the inadequate policies of the Johnson administration," Griffin said.

you can't make a mistake at A&P

Ever pick up a "bargain" somewhere... only to discover later it wasn't a bargain at all?
Well, you'll never make a mistake like that at A&P. Because...

Wallace: U.S. Financing 'Black Power'

Offers Tea

Funeral for Girl Set at Mine

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace claims that an antipoverty grant to a Lowndes County group is tantamount to federal financing of the "black power" movement. A federal spokesman says the matter is being looked into.

Wallace said yesterday that the Lowndes County Christian Movement for Human Rights, Inc., which has been designated to receive a $241,000 federal antipoverty grant, is "an adjunct of the Black Panther party," which is running Negro candidates for office in that county. Furthermore, the governor said, Robert Strickland, recently sentenced to life in prison for a 1965 murder in Birmingham, was convicted of first-degree murder in Birmingham 25 years ago.

The Negro was paroled from a life sentence five years later, the governor said, and in 1967 was pardoned. Records show he was pardoned for good conduct.

NOT AVAILABLE
Strickland was not available for comment.

Wallace claimed that leaders of the Black Panther party were active in organizing the Lowndes County Christian Movement, and that Stokely Carmichael, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and an advocate of "black power," helped organize both the Black Panther party and Christian movement group.

Wallace identified the chairman of the movement, John Hulet, as the man who "is or was" the president of the Black Panther group.

LONDON (UPI)—Srinuloy le Poor Trench, author of a recent book on flying saucers, was asked yesterday what his first question would be if he met a landing party from another planet.

His answer: "Where did you come from?" The second question, he said, would be: "What are your intentions?" And the third: "Would you like a cup of tea?"

CALUMET (UPI)—The mile-deep copper mine shaft that swallowed up little Ruth Ann Miller Saturday officially will become her grave tomorrow afternoon.

The family has scheduled funeral services — restricted to the immediate family—at the opening of the 20-foot-wide shaft in the middle of Michigan's "copper country."

Mine officials put a halt to the 3-day-old search operation yesterday when federal mine inspectors descended into the hole and ruled that the situation was too dangerous for the search to continue.

Eugene Taylor, Ruth Ann's stepfather, who within hours after the accident Saturday had given up hope of the 7-year-old girl's survival, thanked the men who had descended into the shaft in a basket on the end of a huge crane.

Workers stayed on the job around the clock working feverishly to remove debris that blocked the shaft's opening. 500-FOOT LEVEL

They got to the 500-foot level of the shaft without finding Ruth Ann.

Yesterday Calumet and Hecla Mine President Bers Peterson stepped from a bus where he had held a conference with other officials involved and expressed his deep regrets "that because of the perils in the operation, we just felt it would be better to call it off."

GARY PLAYER'S GOLF CLASS:

How to avoid hitting it "fat"

Golfdom's Big Guns Aim at PGA Crown

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The PGA's golden anniversary tournament begins Thursday with the game's top stars harboring various reasons for wanting to win the final major championship of 1966.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Doug Sanders and Dave Marr are among those who have an ax to grind in the 72-hole battle across the vast field of the Firestone Country Club which measures 7,180 yards and carries a challenging par of 35-35-70.

Nicklaus is gunning for a three-quarter slam. If he takes the PGA to his Master's and British Open victories, he'll become the first player to win three major titles since Ben Hogan won the Masters, the British, the U.S. Open and then didn't compete in the 1963 PGA.

Palmer is still somewhat shocked from his big blowup loss to Casper in this year's Open and a triumph this week would give Arnie's somewhat tarnished image.

Firestone is not an enviable one. He finished in a tie for third in the 1960 PGA and in five American classics his best showing was a tie for ninth last year.

Marr's story has become a sad one, in that he has been completely overlooked despite the fact he is defending the title he won at Ligonier last year.

be forgotten." Dave hasn't won a thing since the 1965 PGA, but he has been among the top 10 in seven tournaments this year and remains a title threat.

Everyone in the field of 165 will be trying to win the prestigious tournament, but except for the possibility of a long shot coming through, only a handful aside from the consistent winners appear to have a reasonable chance of wearing three of 90 tournaments should the crown.

Brown Sulks in Gilmer's Happy House

Roger Balking; Seeking Raise in '66 Contract

Gordy, Ted Karras, J. D. Smith Among Absent Players

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"Oh, Joy we welcome thee, to this house where oft we found thee missing."

Someone said it, maybe hundreds of years ago on some Gaelic football field or in some Greek amphitheatre.

It might be apropos for head coach Harry Gilmer of the Detroit Lions to repeat and then hope that this adage stays in the serenity of his football camp. "I was happy to see all of the hands who are in camp in such good physical condition," said Gilmer yesterday after two workouts with the veterans and rookies combined.

There were some missing and their absence from this "happy house" will cost Ted Karras and Roger Brown $100 per day.

Brown signed a three-year contract last December, but said he wants a pay raise just the same.

"If I don't get an adjustment then I won't play for the Lions at all," he said.

"Talk to any coach or player and they say the Lions have the two best tackles in football. I'm not making half as much as Karras. I love Alex, don't get me wrong and I don't blame him, but I think I should be making as much money," Brown said.

LONG PACT

Karras, after being approached by the American Football League prior to the merger, signed a seven-year contract earlier this year for an estimated $35,000 a season.

"I wasn't satisfied when I signed, but I needed immediate money and the Lions said they would help if I signed," Brown said.

Not in uniform yesterday was John Gordy who was on the contract table with personnel director Russ Thomas.

The other absence was J. D. Smith, whom the Lions learned might be contemplating retirement.

Smith, who has had leg injuries for two straight years since he was obtained from the Philadelphia Eagles, told the Lions several weeks ago he felt in good physical condition and indicated he might give it another try.

"I guess he's harvesting corn in Texas right now," said Gilmer "but we hope he'll come back and try it again, and not retire."

How's everything in Lions camp in general?

"Healthy, happy and looking forward to a good short season," Gilmer remarked.

Gail Cogdill was giving his leg a test and he informed Gilmer it felt physically sound. "He's come into camp with a good attitude and we'll be in good shape if he has one of his good years," Gilmer commented.

Rookie linebacker Bill Cody, 54 draft choice from Auburn, and rookie end Bill Malinchuk, 3rd choice from Indiana, drew special appraisal from Gilmer after yesterday full squad workouts.

"Cody is looking good, and Malinchuk is a real mover," Gilmer offered in praise.

NOT EVEN CLOSE — The Detroit Tigers started their contest with the Baltimore Orioles on a happy note last night in Baltimore as rightfielder Jim Northrup (30) came in to score in the first inning on a sacrifice fly by Willie Horton. Catcher Vic Rigney watches for the throw from the outfield. Umpire Jerry Neudecker watches the play. Although the Tigers started well, the Orioles came on to rout the Detroiters, 13-3.

Weary Orioles Soaring Higher

BALTIMORE (AP) — There's no rest for the weary.

What transpired Tuesday night hardly added substance to Robinson's complaints. The Orioles cracked out 19 hits and could only have made themselves more weary by running the bases while crushing the Tigers 13-3.

Robinson may have lost a point, but he gained a grief reprieve.

After collecting his third hit in the seventh inning, he was benched for the first time this season. Frank Robinson also was rested after smashing two homers and a single, driving in five runs.

Curt Blefary and winning pitcher Eddie Watt also socked homers as Baltimore widened its lead to 9½ games and threatened to make its runaway bid a reality.

Oriole Manager Hank Bauer revealed in the victory, but rejected a suggestion that his club had "too many guns" for the remainder of the league.

"I'm like a hog," he said. "I'd like to have some more."

Watt, a rookie who hurled two no-hitters in the minors last year, hurled a complete game in his second major league start.

Cleveland Defeated

Birds' Belters Seek Spoils

By United Press International

The Baltimore Orioles, having conquered the American League, can now fight among themselves for the spoils of war.

The most prized booty of all — the junior circuit's most valuable player award — is contested by both Frank and Brooks Robinson. Boog Powell is challenging both Robinsons for the RBI trophy while Russ Snyder must battle Frank, Powell and Brooks for the batting crown.

The Orioles are sacking the rest of the AL, thanks to brilliant individual performances and old-fashioned team work.

Baltimore players have monopolized individual hitting departures. Overhaughing Brooks' men. Brooks is first in RBIs Tuesday night, Frank drove home five runs with a pair of homers. Brooks "merely" collected three hits and two RBIs.

In other AL action, Chicago shamed Cleveland 5-4 and Minnesota swept a pair from Washington 5-4 and 4-0, while the Kansas City at New York and California at Boston games were rained out.

PINCH HITTER

Smoky Burgess, the best pinch hitter in history, delivered in the ninth when his sacrifice fly scored Don Buford with Chicago's winning run.

Buford reached first with a leadoff walk and went to second on Tommy Agee's single.

Burgess was pinch-hitting for Willie Wilson, who pitched two home runs in a losing effort for Bob & Kens.

Left fielder Ron Reed triggered a five-run first inning for lifetime by clouting a three-run homer and the winners pushed across three more in the second to sew it up.

Reed added a double in the fourth to his homer while teammate Jim Skinner picked up a two-run circuit ball in the second to go with an earlier single.

Spencer Pitcher in Softball Shutout

Floyd Hicks fashioned a three-hitter last night in pitching American League softball leader Spencer Flores to a 12-0 triumph over Orchard Lane.

In other American league games, Francis Fuel & Oil (4-10) trimmed Bob & Larry's (5-11), 8-5, and Ron's Root (7-8) came up with three runs in the seventh to nip Bob & Ken's (4-11), 6-5.

In a National League contest, Lidleme (8-2) knocked off J. A. Fredman (3-9), 9-3.

Ben Traxler slapped four singles to account for four runs, Dick Cooper had three singles for four runs. Winning hurler Harry Kunkle pitched in with a double and triple.

Two-run homers by Don Gibbs and Barry Erickson sparked the Francis Fuel victory. Erickson's blow in the fifth put Francis in front, 5-4, and Gibbs' sixth-inning blow sent across two more markers. Erickson tripled and came home on a single for the final run in the seventh.

SOLO HOMER

Marv Holler clouted a solo homer for the losers and teammate Tom McMann picked up a double and a pair of singles.

Bill Hayward checked in with a home run, triple and single, knocking in three runs and scoring three in the Ron Root victory.

Hayward picked up a two-run homer in the first, singled and scored on a double by Walt Travis in the third, tripled home a run in the fourth, and Jerry Hinesper, another junior competitor, took second in the discus with a toss of 96 feet, 2 inches.

Western Frosh Takes Distance Event at OU

United States Track and Field Federation long distance runners set fast paces in two races over the Oakland University cross country course Tuesday night.

John Bennett, a Western Michigan freshman from St. Clair Shores, won the six-mile trot for the senior entries with a 36:22 clocking.

He and runner-up Louis Putnam of Cars, OU's harrier captain, were well ahead of the pack. Putnam finished in 36:38 and set a school four-mile mark of 24:05 during his effort.

The four-mile juniors' race saw both winner Mike Koerner, a Cranbrook junior, and Birmingham Seaholm senior Chip Gorman eclipse Putnam's new mark. Koerner won in 23:49 and Gorman was second in 24:04.

Oakland freshman Al Garney of Royal Oak was third in 24:23.

Youngsters Trying Hand at Bowling

The Independence Township Recreation Department and Howe's Lanes began showing 100 youngsters Tuesday how to be proficient at bowling in the new 100-Plus Youth Bowler Development Program.

The program is conducted by the U.S. Bowling Development Institute at a limited number of establishments. All the youngsters here are 8-12 years old.

They will have a five-week, 10-session course under the guidance of Howe's personnel specially trained for this project.

There are 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. lessons each Tuesday and Thursday with the next one slated for tomorrow.

Six Women Golfers Share League Honors

Six women shared the laurels after Tuesday morning's week-11 Silver Lake Ladies Golf League session.

In the flights low net scoring, Hope Campbell had 34 in the first grouping, Bea Moberg 33 in the second, while Margaret Lally and Kay Frick tied with 38 in the third.

Madeline Castleberry's 45 was the low gross and Jean Looney's 13 the low putts.

Porcupine Mountains Offer More Than Fish

By DON VOGEL

"You probably have better fishing down there (Oakland County) than we have here in the Porcupines," said Dave Balbough, manager of the sprawling park in the northwest corner of the Upper Peninsula.

"The deer hunting is poor, too," he continued, "because of the tall timber. But I feel we have things to offer that more than make up for these deficiencies."

The fishing really isn't poor. During June, rainbows averaging four pounds can be caught by wading into Lake Superior from the beach along M107 late in the afternoon. Lakers running about the same size are taken along with the rainbows. Johnson Silver Minnows are the preferred lure.

About July 1, the rainbows move to deep water, but can easily be reached by boat.

Trout fishing on the Big and Little Carp rivers, however, isn't any better than on many Lower Peninsula streams. Mirror Lake, a three-mile hike from the nearest road, offers rainbows to 14 inches and splake have recently been planted.

Lake of the Clouds is more famous for its scenic beauty when seen from the escarpment than it is for fishing. The Presque Isle River, on the west side of the park, has good fishing below the falls.

"You don't know what you'll catch there," said Balbough, a former Elizabeth Lake resident. "The pike, some up to 15 pounds, start coming into the river late in June. Earlier in the spring there are a lot of rainbows."

Although not too well publicized, the Presque Isle Falls are rated by many as the most spectacular in Michigan.

"I think that this park is popular because it is one of the few remaining wilderness areas in this country," said Balbough. "There are no roads except for M107 which stops at the escarpment. It's a place where people can get back to nature."

INTERLACED WITH SMALL STREAMS

The mountains are actually big hills. The highest is a little over 2,000 feet above sea level. The park is covered with stands of virgin hardwoods and conifers and interlaced with small streams.

Well-marked hiking trails run through the park. The longest—about 15 miles—is from the mouth of the Presque Isle to the escarpment. Walking time is estimated at 14 hours. This route follows the Superior shoreline and there are a couple of outpost cabins for overnight stops. Mirror Lake also has housekeeping cabins. These facilities, however, must be reserved well in advance.

There is a modern campground just off M107.

"The campground is pretty well filled up during July and August," reported Balbough. "I would suggest anyone coming up here to camp during those months to get here early in the day. It is seldom filled during the rest of the year."

The beach along M107 is a mecca for rockhounds. They carry the agates away by the handful. The Porcupines also have a large population of bears.

"Our personnel have seen quite a few this year," said the manager. "The best place for tourists to see one, however, is at the White Pine dump in the evening." The dump is a 10-minute drive from the eastern entrance to the park.

The park also has ski facilities and it was behind this hill that Balbough averaged eight flushes an hour while hunting grouse last fall.

The Porcupines are about 625 miles from Pontiac and the trip averages 12½ hours.

BEACH CLEANUP — While state and federal agencies try to bring the exploding populations of alewives in the Great Lakes under control, swimmers battle the smell of dead fish on the beaches. Millions of these shad-like fish die each summer and wash up on the beaches. The children above are burying dead fish along Lake Michigan in an attempt to clear a spot on the beach.

Press Offers Top Award

Pontiac Kennel Club Show Aug. 21

Entries are being accepted for what is described as "Michigan's Most Beautiful Outdoor Dog Show."

This would be the annual Pontiac Kennel Club all-breed show and obedience trial Aug. 21 at the Waterford Township High School athletic field. The deadline for filing entries with Bow Dog Show Organization, 9999 Broad Street, Detroit 48204, is noon Tuesday, Aug. 9.

Bow is general superintendent for the show.

The Pontiac Press will again present the best-in-show trophy. Over 800 canines are expected to compete for the award in the sanctioned, unbenchmarked event.

Hot Weather Proves Fatal to Rainbows

Hot weather and skimpy rainfall have combined to cause trouble for fish in many lakes and streams in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula.

Fish kills have been reported over most of the region. One particularly noticeable loss of trout occurred in Tamarack Lake, Montcalm County.

The Conservation Department planted 32,000 fingerling-size rainbows in the lake last fall. During June, an estimated 6,000 were found dead along the shores.

The hot spell has also been troublesome for farm ponds and private trout ponds, which also have reported losses of fish. The department's Fish Division suggests that well water be trickled into such ponds at some point to provide a cool refuge point for fish.

Walleyes Caught on St. Clair; Bluegills Active

Walleyes have been hitting on the Canadian side of Lake St. Clair and in the St. Clair River from Port Huron to Marysville. But other activity on the jakes has slowed considerably.

Blugills, however, continue to provide good action on many area lakes and some perch are being caught. But the pike and bass action is poor.

Walleyes are being taken by still fishing at night and drifting during the day. Muskie fishing is fair on Lake St. Clair with several 12-15 pounders taken last weekend.

More sturgeon than normal are being caught on the Detroit River.

Indians Take Gentile in Deal With Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Seasoned first baseman Jim Gentile, sent to the minors after a temper display as a Houston Astro, made it back to the majors Tuesday.

The National League Astros announced they had sold Gentile to the Cleveland Indians for an undisclosed amount of cash and a 28-year-old outfielder Tony Curry.

Champion Water Skiers Prepare for Area Meets

The big meet is over for most of the local water skiers, but they'll have another opportunity to show off their (in some cases) state championship form this summer.

Harry Messler of Cass Lake and Jerry Hosner of Silver Lake retained their state laurels over the weekend on the Grand River in Lansing.

Hosner can display his talents in local competition again.

Game Projects Receive Boost

Federal aid to Michigan fish and game projects increased to $685,000 this year, up $137,000 from a year ago.

Another slice of Pittman-Robertson money will be made available to the states this fall, thus boosting Michigan's share of federal aid well above last year's total. The increase reflects higher sales of hunting and fishing licenses in Michigan.

Michigan's allotment is part of $18.3 million to be shared by the states and principal U.S. possessions.

This first allotment, announced last week, includes $560,000 for game work and $125,000 for fisheries projects.

The money will come to Michigan as reimbursement for fish and game projects as they are completed. Federal funds pay up to 75 per cent of total costs.

Pittman-Robertson money is collected from an excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition. Dingell-Johnson money is similarly collected as a tax on fishing equipment.

Lauds State Legislature

Missourian Praises Staff and Research

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP) — Michigan's legislature has improved its staff and research to the point that "it is one of the finest in the nation," a leader of the Midwestern Conference of State Governments said Tuesday.

"We all need the bill analysis, research and legal help, committee staff and improved staffing facilities that Michigan has achieved in two short years," said Sen. Albert M. Spradling Jr. of Missouri.

Spradling, chairman of the board of managers of the National Council of State Governments, described Michigan's developments at a session of the 12-state midwestern conference. He also cited efforts in Michigan to provide each legislator with a private working space off the floor and the creation of the legislative council.

TWO-DAY CONFERENCE
The two-day conference, which ends tonight, is composed of legislators and legislative staff members from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Attending from Michigan are Sens. Garland Lant, D-Flint; Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair; and Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit; and Reps. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit; and Reps. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit; Dale Kildee, D-Flint; and Cyril Root, R-Kalamazoo.

Kowalski is speaker of the house and Lane is chairman of the Senate appropriations committee.

Also attending are Donald Hoenshell, director of the legislative service bureau and staff members William Davison, Charles T. Sheridan and Gerald V. Mallory.

U. S. Awards Pact on Night Sunshine

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The Boeing Co. has received a government contract to look into ways of making the sun shine at night.

The $125,000 award is for a study of the feasibility of orbiting a huge satellite to reflect light from the sun on to the dark side of the earth.

The award was made Tuesday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which made a similar award to the Westinghouse Corp.

St. Clair Democrats Endorse Williams Bid

PORT HURON (UPI) — The St. Clair County Democratic Committee yesterday announced its endorsement of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is opposing Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

A spokesman for the committee said the decision to pick Williams over Cavanagh was the result of a belief that the former governor has a better understanding of the national and state problems.

Costly Paintings Reported Missing

DETROIT (AP) — Former Detroit art patron Lawrence Fleischman said yesterday two of his paintings, insured for $135,000, disappeared over the weekend while being moved from Detroit to New York.

Fleischman, 41, who moved to New York earlier this month, said the paintings — by Peter Paul Rubens and Girard Torborch — were among household goods shipped by professional movers. They didn't arrive, he said.

Fleischman is a former president of the Detroit Arts Commission and former trustee of the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Romney Signs 19 Measures in Legislation Cleanup

LANSING (AP) — Better public officials, better drivers, cleaner water and medical care for the needy were the aims of bills signed by Gov. George Romney Tuesday.

They were among the 19 signed by Romney in a cleanup of regular session legislation.

Romney has signed 328 bills this year and allowed four more to become law without his signature. He vetoed 14 and struck two items for appropriations bills in past weeks.

Also approved was a 31-cent per barrel reduction in the beer tax—a cut of one cent a gallon and about two cents a case.

The four major bills signed by Romney set up conflict of interest regulations on all government employees, increase state grants to local school districts for driver education, establish a water pollution control fund, and implement Medicare.

The conflict of interest bill prohibits all government employees at all levels from having direct or indirect interest in any contract with the state and its political subdivisions.

It also prohibits lawyer-legislators from practicing before state boards or commissions in various types of cases.

Members of state boards, in turn, are prohibited from lobbying as registered legislative agents.

The driver education bill increases first-license fees from $4.50 to $5.50 and renewals from $3 to $4. Coupled with other changes, these increases will bring an additional $1.8 million a year.

TO DISTRICTS

The money will be passed on to school districts—hiking state reimbursement from $25 to $30 per student. Because of fund shortages in recent years, actual state reimbursement has fallen below the official level of $25.

The bill expands driver education programs to include out-of-school youths, and students in private and parochial schools. Inclusion of the teen-aged drop-outs remains optional, but the non-public school students, previously discretionary with the district, will be mandatory.

The water pollution control bill will spread some $2.25 million among local governments to help them build control facilities. Romney called it "an unprecedented state program."

Under the supplementary program, 70 per cent of the local project will have to be locally financed.

MEDICARE BILL

The Medicare bill sets up the legal machinery for the Michigan version of the Medicare program.

The $30.7 million for the state's share of the Medicare program has already been approved. It was in the social services bill signed by Romney last week.

The primary purpose of the bill signed Tuesday is to set up eligibility standards.

Total costs for state medical assistance programs in 1966-67 will be $66.8 million, of which $41.8 million will be for Medicare. The state share will be $32.7 million and $30.7 million respectively.

Reconstructed Village in East to Expand

STURBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Old Sturbridge Village, a reconstructed New England country town of the early 1800s, has announced a 10-year, $11-million expansion program.

The village, a private, non-profit educational institution, plans to acquire 1,066 acres of nearby land.

Film for Carol Channing

It's Goodby to Dolly and Hello to Millie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

THOMAS
also stars Julie Andrews.

"I play the richest woman in America," Miss Channing recounted, "and I arrive on the scene with my latest hobby, an airplane. Beside me is my flight instructor, a slim, divine-looking fellow all in black and looking like a line of electric current. "I am all in white, wearing an aviator's suit of silk with ermine lapels and diamond buttons. There I stand, just loaded with phlanh."

SOUGHT RELEASE

To join the "Millie" troupe, the Broadway star had to seek a release from "Hello Dolly," with which she has drawn several millions of dollars through the nation's box offices. The producer of the show is David Merrick, the so-called "abominable showman" who is not the flapper-age musical which also stars Julie Andrews.

The price: Extension of her "Dolly" contract to June, 1967. "Oh, I just love Mr. Merrick; he's so — well, so honest," she said. "When I asked where he would send me after the picture, he said: 'Wherever the box office is sagging.'" is not really Miss Channing's movie debut. She recalled dimly that director William Dieterle gave her a screen test which resulted in only a one-line bit in a movie.

"Thoroughly Modern Millie"

After her Broadway success in the revue "Lend An Ear" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," she returned to co-star with Ginger Rogers in "The First Traveling Saleslady."

CHANGED TITLE

"We closed RKO with that one," Miss Channing said ruefully. "Our own title for it was

'Death of a Saleslady.' The picture was so disorganized that the director William Dieterle would come on the set and suggest, 'Why don't you say this and I'll say this' and that's how we did our dialogue."

Miss Channing termed her character in "Millie" as a "victim of her five physical senses." The role affords her some smashing Jean Louis outfits and wild scenes as the fun-loving heiress. There is method in her madness: she hopes the movie will act as a screen test for the film "Hello, Dolly," which will not be made for two years.

Nurses' Talks Break Down

Mass Resignations Urged in California

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bargaining a i m e d at averting the mass resignations of 3,500 nurses who want better pay broke down early today.

The California Nurses Association (CNA) called upon the nurses, employed at 33 San Francisco Bay area hospitals, to hand in their two-week notices at once. About 1,200 of the nurses had indicated they would do so.

Spokesmen for both sides indicated that further negotiations would be held soon.

The CNA was reported to be seeking a salary scale of $613-$782 a month while the hospitals were offering $500-$570.

The joint talks began at the request of the State Conciliation Service last Friday after temporary settlement of a pay dispute at Eden Hospital, a small medical facility at Castro Valley.

BACKED DEMANDS
At Eden, 91 nurses quit their jobs July 10 to back demands for better pay.

They agreed to return to work four days later when the hospital promised to abide any settlement reached during joint talks.

Hospital negotiators and CNA officials returned to the bargaining table yesterday after both sides exchanged preliminary proposals last Friday.

Horn-Happy Vienna Drivers Are Classified

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Public safety officials have drawn up four classifications for motorists who use their horns excessively:

The boxers — aggressive types who think all traffic space should be reserved for themselves.

The fearful — use horns in every situation.

The lazy — want to free themselves from all responsibilities once they have honked at the other fellow.

TEACHERS
Schoolteachers — lean on the horn to advise other motorists of alleged traffic violations.

The city is planning fines for those who use horns when there is no immediate danger.

Peking Protests Expulsion of Senior Envoy in Holland

TOKYO (AP)—Red China has lodged a strong protest with the Netherlands on the expulsion of Peking's senior diplomat in The Hague, the official New China News Agency said today.

The agency said the Chinese Foreign Ministry labeled "outrageous and unjustifiable" a Dutch order declaring Li En-chi, Chinese charge d'affaires in The Hague, persona non grata and giving him 24 hours to get out of the country. He left Tuesday.

Charges Filed in Bar Brawl

Owner, Bartender Cited After Fracas

The owner of a Pontiac tavern and a bartender employed by him have been cited by Pontiac police on charges growing out of a brawl July 2.

Leroy Goldworthy, proprietor of Bud & Lou's Bar at 417 Auburn, is accused of permitting a "disturbance on the premises" and general disorder in a report filed by police with the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Patrick Spencer, 21, of 755 Lyle, bartender at the tavern at the time of the fight, is charged with resisting arrest while allegedly assisting some of the participants in the fight to escape police.

A warrant for Spencer's arrest was issued yesterday through the Oakland County Prosecutor's office at the request of vice squad Lt. Fred L. Goines.

Goines said police, who answered a fight call at the tavern July 2, found an injured man lying outside on the sidewalk.

When Patrolman Joseph W. Gallardo attempted to gain entry to the bar, Goines said, Spencer refused to unlock the door.

It was later determined that several men, including one who was injured, were taken to the front door and out the back before officers arrived.

Daniel Moreno, 24, of 426 Midway was arraigned on the attempted murder charge July 6, and is presently free on $500 personal bond pending examination Aug. 17.

Harry L. Ricks Jr., 30, of 390 S. Marshall, victim of Moreno's alleged attack, was hospitalized at the time with head and neck injuries.

Goines said the liquor commission is expected to schedule a hearing into the charges against Goldworthy.

START OF SOMETHING BIG — This view, looking up, shows the first section of a steel column being lowered into place for construction of the 100-story John Hancock Center in Chicago. The column is the first of 42,000 tons of steel used for installing the building. The photo was taken by a Chicago photographer, who used a camera with a 180-degree "fish-eye" lens.

Accidents Spark Move

Bronson Asks Tighter Motorcycle Laws

An increase in motorcycle accidents in recent months, including the death of a young motorcyclist in Troy last week, has prompted Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson to appeal for new legislative controls.

"I consider the present hazard to be of the utmost urgency," said Bronson, "and for this reason I am urging the Legislature to conduct hearings as soon as possible on the use, sale and rental of these two-wheeled vehicles."

Individual communities have ordinances regarding motorcycles, but from a law enforcement standpoint this is not the answer, said Bronson.

"The laws should be uniform," he said.

Bronson said that he will conduct a poll among police agencies, particularly in the populated south end of the county, to determine if present regulations are considered stringent enough, and to gather suggestions on proposed legislation.

"I am not biased against these recreational vehicles," explained Bronson, "but their abuses can not be overlooked."

He said that he will conduct a poll among police agencies, particularly in the populated south end of the county, to determine if present regulations are considered stringent enough, and to gather suggestions on proposed legislation.

"I'm the happiest person in the world," said his young mother, Mrs. Larry Shepard, of nearby Stone Mountain.

"My arm hurts," said Debbie, who managed to tell the photographer how to pose her parents Tuesday.

WASHER MISHAP — Deborah was trying to put her nightgown into the washing machine when the accident occurred last Friday. The washer was going through a spin cycle and the gown, her arm and her long hair all caught in the machine.

John B. Gross, 21, of 27 Mariva told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he was trail riding in an "unfamiliar" area when the motorcycle caught in a sand hole and flipped over.

A passenger on the bike, Janet M. Bender, 21, of 634 Orchard Lake, West Bloomfield Township, was treated for injuries at Pontiac General and released.

Mrs. Cable and another daughter, Margaret, 5, were also treated and released. Deputies said Haynes told them he mistook the red flashing blinker at the intersection for a yellow warning light.

'Shoe Shiner' Steals 12 Pair From a Queen — JACKSON (AP)—Police are looking for a "stocky man" in his 30s with a dozen pair of women's shoes belonging to Jackson's rose queen, Cindy Flintoff, 18. Cindy said she took the shoes from her home promising to shine them and disappear.

Irradiated shrimp and oysters have been given public acceptance tests. People generally seem to prefer the treated samples to the untreated. Irradiation will at least double the storage life of these shellfish.

Police said Hamlin, charged with being drunk and disorderly, had driven his motorcycle across a football field and struck some cables, inflicting bruises to a young passenger on the cycle.

Retirees Day' Plans Include Car Parade

Gov. Romney will establish the second Saturday in August as "Retirees Day," thanks to the efforts of an area resident, Fred B. Schram of 575 E. Lake Avenue, Lake Angelus Village.

Schram, president of the non-profit, non-political Oakland County Association of Retirees, wrote the governor suggesting such a day to honor or retiring citizens.

The first celebration of the day will be Saturday, Aug. 13, at Hawthorne Park. A 100-car parade through town will lead to the park, where there will be speakers and a picnic lunch.

The group's objectives, according to Schram are to extend help to both members and non-members deserving of aid and providing educational and recreational meetings for members and invited guests.

HELP CAN RANGE — The help can range from transportation to the doctor's office to minor home repairs. Anyone can join the association, although only retirees of those over 55 years of age can vote.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital are Dawn Cable, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cable of 6575 Walnut Lake, West Bloomfield Township, and Leslie L. Haynes Sr., 43, of Clarksville, West Va.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Haynes was the driver of a car which entered the intersection from Haggerty and collided with Mrs. Cable.

Haynes' wife and 10-year-old son were treated for injuries at Pontiac General and released.

Mrs. Cable and another daughter, Margaret, 5, were also treated and released. Deputies said Haynes told them he mistook the red flashing blinker at the intersection for a yellow warning light.

Bomb Hunter to Aid NATO

U.S. Vessel Chartered for Ocean Research

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Ocean research is pretty tame stuff compared to hunting for downed submarines and lost H-bombs, but when NATO calls, the Navy listens.

The USNS Mizar, which found and photographed the hull of the Thresher in 1964 and monitored the minibus Alvin's search for the H-bomb lost this year, has been drafted by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for Miloc 66, an oceanography program conducted annually during the summer.

Since the bomb hunt, the Mizar has been running tests on prosaic items as the towing characteristics of long cables — up to 15,000 feet — at great depths.

A unique tracking system enables the crew to tell at all times where the free end of the cable is, despite motions of the ship and the current.

An array of underwater "ears" called hydrophones is mounted on the bottom of the vessel, for tracking towed equipment or determining the ship's position relative to a fixed marker on the ocean floor.

GUIDED MOVES

It was a slightly modified version of this equipment that allowed the Mizar to guide the Alvin after the bomb.

A transmitter-receiver on Alvin's hull let the Mizar watch and guide its position, just as a control tower "talks down" an airplane in a fog.

The same system helped another sub find the Alvin once the bomb was found.

But the excitement has been over for months. After doing the job for NATO, the Mizar will have an assortment of mine tasks to occupy its time until the first of the year, when it will go into drydock to be fitted with chemistry and biology laboratories and accommodations for 20 scientists.

You can see the Spanish influence in several authentic styling details. Note, for instance, the wing backs, turned spindles and handsome block fronts. These pieces retain all the flavor of the original Spanish furniture without appearing massive. And they're much more comfortable! The deep Ward-Foam® cushions are supported by a resilient spring base. The textured fabric comes in traditional Spanish colors—orange or olive.

Know?*

We torture-test Wards merchandise for you in our own labs! For instance, a mattress can't be called Style House® until our giant testing machine puts its stamp of approval on it. This machine beats and twists every sleepable inch with 24 tons of steel per minute, for weeks, until any below-par mattress shows its true stripes. Happy Newlyweds After Ceremony

Frank, Mia Are Wed, Off on Honeymoon

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Singer Frank Sinatra honeymooned, somewhere, with his third wife Mia Farrow today after a Las Vegas wedding performed between plane flights.

Exactly where they went hasn't been determined.

Sinatra, 50, flew from London to New York and from there to Las Vegas, landing two hours before the wedding yesterday.

Miss Farrow flew in from Los Angeles in another of his company jets.

The marriage is the first for the 21-year-old star of television's "Peyton Place."

Minutes after the wedding was performed before a few friends at the Sands Hotel, the couple announced they were flying to New York and boarded their plane.

NO FLIGHT PLAN

They filed no flight plan, and airport authorities in New York reported the jet did not land there.

There were unconfirmed reports that they flew here instead, but airport officials had left the field by that time.

Later, two jets similar to Sinatra's touched down at Van Nuys Airport, about 100 miles northwest of here, with no passengers aboard.

Sinatra maintains a home at this desert spa but the house was quiet and its windows dark last night.

City Ratifies Firemen's Pact

Commission Approval
Ends Year of Dispute

Ending a year-old dispute that saw daily picketing of City Hall for more than a month, the City Commission last night ratified an agreement with Pontiac firemen.

Essentially a noncash package, the contract with the Pontiac Firefighters Union is expected to cost an estimated $6,000 a year, according to city officials.

The agreement ends one of the longest disputes between the city and a group of municipal employees. The pact does not incorporate any wage hikes and does not carry a termination date.

Although a unanimous vote passed the measure, some City Commissioners were obviously unhappy with the contract. Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., who is on vacation, is credited with playing a key role in the negotiations that date back to last summer.

For Gemini Astronauts

Rendezvous, Stroll Due

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Gemini 10 pilot Michael Collins was flashed an "all clear" today to stroll into space on a 50-foot lifeline and work with a "dead bird" target satellite left over from last March.

Using fuel from their own Agena space engine to make up some of the shortage on Gemini 10, command pilot John W. Young and Collins sped toward their distant target, expecting to catch up with it and begin Collins' space stroll at 5:56 p.m. EST.

Space officials apparently decided the pungent gas that caused the Gemini twins' eyes to water during a 45-minute space stand yesterday could be controlled.

After the crew woke up, capsule communicator C. C. Williams asked, "How are your eyes?"

"Everything is fine this morning, C. C.," replied Young.

BOTH READY

Collins reported both he and

Young were "go" for the dual rendezvous and space walk.

The crew awoke about 8 a.m. after nine hours of sleep. The ground controllers said good morning.

"Uh — good morning," answered Young, a Navy commander.

He was told that his spacecraft and the Agena still locked firmly to the nose were looking good.

Young and Collins, an Air Force major, were told to use a secondary propulsion system in their Agena to change their orbital plane and adjust their height so they could jockey into a position to rendezvous with the satellite.

Flight officials on the ground continued studying the problems of low fuel and smarting eyes as the astronauts spun 240 miles above the earth.

William C. Schneider Gemini

mission director, said: "We feel we have a reasonable chance of completing the double rendezvous even though we don't have as much fuel pad as we'd like."

"If the environmental control system problem straightens out, we also feel we can make the space walk."

At an after-midnight news conference National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials gave the venture out side priority over rendezvous if a choice has to be made.

Pontiac Output Tops '65 Mark

Record Reached With
2 Weeks Remaining

A new model year production record was set at Pontiac Motor Division this morning with still two weeks of 1966 production remaining. It was announced by John Z. DeLoorean, a General Motors vice president and divisional general manager.

At 10 a.m., 802,001 Pontiacs and Tempests had been assembled in the 1966 model run, breaking the record 802,000 established in the 1965 model year.

"The 1966 model year total will exceed 830,000 units by the time we shut down for our changeover Aug. 3," DeLoorean said.

"When our sales are strong our production must keep pace and we have maintained a high production schedule throughout the year," DeLoorean stated.

Since Jan. 1, Pontiac production has averaged over 80,000 cars a month.

June was a new record production month. Pontiac production reached 89,123 units.

During the projected record production model year, the week of Feb. 7 saw the best output for any one week with 22,004 units assembled. The record production day was Feb. 8 with 4,070 units assembled.

Surviving Nurse Meets Suspect Face-to-Face

CHICAGO (AP)—The dark-haired, dainty nurse looked at the sinewy man accused of calmly killing eight of her friends.

Richard Speck, 24, was in a bed at the City Jail Hospital, pale from the blood he had lost through self-inflicted cuts in his arms.

He may have been further weakened, doctors said, by a heart attack which he may have suffered shortly before his face-to-face meeting with the nurse yesterday.

Was he the same man who had managed to subdue, gag, bind and then kill eight young student nurses early Thursday?

Corazon Amurao, 23, a Filipino exchange nurse who escaped the fate of her roommates by rolling under a bed and praying as they were led, one by one, to their deaths, was there to answer that question.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Chicago Tribune in today's editions both said Miss Amurao had identified Speck as the intruder.

REFUSED TO SAY

However, the state's attorney's office refused to give any information on the confrontation or to comment on the newspaper reports.

Guardsmen Ordered to Cleveland

By The Associated Press
Amid what Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes calls "a state of tumult, riot and other emergency," National Guardsmen have begun patrolling the violence-racked Hough section of Cleveland where a Negro man was shot to death last night.

Two Negroes were wounded by gunfire, several other persons were injured by thrown bricks and rocks, a white man was slugged in the eye and more than 100 persons were arrested in the two-mile-square area thickly populated by Negroes.

Before the troops moved in, 200 policemen many, armed with shotguns, struggled to restore order in the wild rioting three miles from downtown Cleveland.

Fire bombs flew in the darkness, flames cracked in stores, looters pillaged businesses, and snipers and police exchanged shots.

OU Drama School Decision Due Tomorrow

Speculation rose today that Oakland University may be the location for a drama school and repertory company, on the eve of a meeting of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, governing board of OU.

The trustees will meet at noon tomorrow at OU to reveal their decision on the project. Noted director John Fernald, who is sought to head the center, was scheduled to arrive today for the meeting.

Possibility of the university's becoming the site of a major drama center serving Michigan and the nation was first revealed last week.

OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner said the drama center would be a logical development in the performing arts program at OU which began with the well-received Meadow Brook music festival.

The trustees approved establishment of such a program a year ago, and have been looking for the right man to head the project, which would be a major cultural expansion for OU and Southeastern Michigan.

HEADED ACADEMY

Fernald, 61, headed the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in England for 10 years, until his resignation last year.

Varner said previously that Richmond, Va., was seeking his services for a similar project, but added that Fernald was quite impressed with Oakland University.

As visualized, the academic portion of the performing arts center would be tied to OU, but the professional theater portion would serve, and be the responsibility of, the community.

Senate Hearings Plan to Delve Into Dodd's Financial Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee indicated today its next round of hearings on misconduct charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd will deal with the Connecticut Democrat's financial affairs.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., told a reporter he will announce the subject and the date for the hearings just as soon as he can. But he said he had no definite information at this time.

Stennis said that progress was being made in investigating other charges against Dodd, that financial records and other data were being checked.

Indications were that this phase of the committee's investigation will go beyond the raising of campaign funds and the use made of them by Dodd.

KEY ISSUE

Klein spent the day in the witness chair. On a key issue, he insisted he hadn't pressured Dodd in going to West Germany in 1964 to help Klein retain his clients there.

States senator who can be pressured," said Klein, who testified all his letters, memos and telephone calls to Dodd were just the exercise of his "God-given right" of petition.

Klein, a Republican, said he also had asked Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and other senators to speak to German government and industrial leaders in his behalf. Javits later told a reporter he had mentioned

Klein in talks with former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and former Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

Javits said in both cases his discussions dealt with Klein's views on German reparations to Jewish victims of Nazi persecution. "I thought Klein's position reflected credit on him," Javits said.

STAYED AWAY

Dodd, who stayed away from

Tuesday's hearing, previously had sworn the purpose of his six-day trip to Germany was to investigate the Soviet terror apparatus.

Klein said that when he learned Dodd was going, he encouraged him to make the trip and to counter "distortions" in the German press about a 1963 Senate Foreign Relations Committee probe of foreign agents.

However, he testified that not a single one of his West German clients who had canceled their contracts after the 1963 investigation had been "salvaged" as a result of Dodd's trip.

"Would you say that Senator Dodd's trip was personally helpful to you?" asked the Ethics Committee's counsel, Benjamin R. Fern.

"I'd rather put it the other way," Klein replied. "It surely didn't do me any harm."

Airline Strike Showdown Looms

Kent County Search for Girl, 13, Widens

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A National Guard helicopter and a State Police dog yesterday augmented volunteer searchers as fears mounted for the safety of 13-year-old Laura Jo Sutcliffe, who has been missing from the family home near Sparta since Saturday.

Lt. Gaylord Moreau of the Kent County Sheriff's Department said scores of tips and leads have been phoned into the department, which, with the aid of State Police and other law enforcement agencies, have been checked out but still no trace of the girl has been found.

GUARDSMEN REPORT — These Ohio National Guardsmen reported to Fifth District police headquarters on Cleveland's East Side late last night, ready for action in the

Vote on Offer Would Stretch Costly Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 13-day airline strike approached a crucial showdown today with a union maneuver that threatens to stretch the costly, crippling walkout another two weeks.

The decision of the striking Machinists' Union to take a "vote of confidence" among all 35,000 strikers in some 20 cities if there is no contract agreement today stunned top federal officials and negotiators for the five grounded airlines.

The only hope for shortening the strike that has already taken much of the joy and the money out of the nation's peak summer tourist season apparently lay in government pressure to win a settlement before the union's 4 p.m. EST deadline.

That left just seven hours from the opening of today's talks.

REJECTION LIKELY

A union vote without an agreement between company and union negotiators is virtually certain to reject the last airline's proposal, sources in the talks said. And negotiations would cease during the week it would take to conduct the balloting.

Negotiations with United, National, Eastern, Northwest and Trans World airlines would have to begin all over again if the union members voted no. And even a prompt agreement then would mean still another week to take a second ratification vote.

"There must be a better way than that," said one high government official.

In the unusual move, union Vice President Joseph W. Ramsey said if no settlement is reached by 4 p.m., the airlines' latest offer would be presented to the strikers for a vote.

This appeared to harden the stance of the airline negotiators, who, Ramsey complained, already had "their feet planted in cement."

Both sides indicated the stalemate negotiations were right back where they started when the strike began July 8.

Sicilians Flee Landslide Area

AGRIGENTO, Sicily (AP) — With 5,000 persons already homeless, a new landslide scared sent 10,000 more residents fleeing in panic today from Agrigento.

So far, the city's chief tourist attraction, one of the world's best preserved Greek temples, did not appear threatened.

A slow earthslide continued after partly wrecking the southwest third of the city, which is on a hill three miles inland from Sicily's south coast.

Ten buildings, some of them new apartment houses eight to ten stories tall, have collapsed. Hundreds of others, including the 13th-century Norman Cathedral and the town museum, were cracked and badly damaged.

No person has been injured.

man as Percy Giles, 36. He was shot near an intersection in the worst trouble area where Negro crowds had gathered.

A Negro woman was shot and killed during rioting Monday night.

Eighteen jeeps loaded with four National Guardsmen each pulled into the riot areas shortly before midnight and violence appeared to lessen.

Rhodes originally called for 1,000 troops to rush to Cleveland then called for an additional 500 when new violence broke out last night.

SECOND NIGHT

More violence flared in Jackson, Miss., for the second straight night and police sealed off part of the city's smoldering Negro section and its exits to expressways.

Police Sgt. J. T. Lowe said 12 Negroes, mostly teenagers, were arrested during the marauding last night.

Fires began in a laundry and

commission was not in total agreement on the settlement.

Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr., noting that he has promised not to vote for any settlement that cost the city any more money, explained his vote by stating that he would support the mayor and city manager.

Commissioner John A. Dugan urged the contract be approved.

NEGOTIATIONS

He said the mayor and city manager had negotiated the agreement in good faith and "in all fairness" the commission should back them up.

REGARDED AS WORKING AGREEMENT

The contract stipulates hours, working conditions and other noncash benefits.

Explaining the added $8,000 city cost, Warren said several promotions within the department would be necessary, plus payment of call-back pay and overtime.

Previously, Warren estimated the firemen's agreement represented 17 bargaining sessions during the past year totaling more than 50 hours of discussion, including three all-day meetings.

Approval of the contract came as the firefighters recently accused the city of unfair labor practices. One of the charges had been that the commission had been slow in approving the contract, received for study May 17.

Status of Major Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Status of major legislation:

LABOR

WAGE-HOUSE — Administration and labor now supporting legislation to raise the $1.25 hourly minimum wage to $1.40 on Feb. 1, 1967 and to $1.60 on Feb. 1, 1969.

Also would give new minimum wage coverage to about 8 million workers, for the first time, including farm hands and service industry workers.

CIVIL RIGHTS

JOB DISCRIMINATION — The President has endorsed legislation that would give the new equal employment opportunities commission authority to enforce its own findings of illegal discrimination against employers or labor unions instead of going through the federal courts. House: passed. Senate: no action.

HOMERULE

Administration has requested legislation to permit Washington, D. C., to elect its own local government.

Senate: approved. House: approved differing version, requiring vote of citizens on home rule question.

Efforts to reconcile the two bills apparently have failed. Attempt will be made in senate to attach its bill to House-approved college aid bill.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

FOREIGN AID — Administration asked $3.38 billion in overseas economic and military aid during the year starting July 1.

Also called for authorizing program for five years instead of present one year.

House: approved almost entire money request and endorsed two-year authorization.

Senate: Foreign Relations Committee cut $142 million but refused to go more than one year on extension. Senate vote expected this week.

SAFETY

AUTO-HIGHWAY — Senate has passed bills to require new safety features in cars starting with 1968 models and to set up a broad highway-driver safety program in cooperation with the states.

House Commerce Committee is considering similar legislation, while House Public Works Committee has approved separate bill containing different version of highway-driver program.

TIRES — Senate unanimously passed bill ordering federal safety standards for tires. House: Commerce Committee is considering.

FARM

President Johnson has asked for a five-year, $3.3 billion annual "food for freedom" program to sell and give food to hungry nations.

House: Approved a $3.3 billion annual program for only two years. Senate: Agriculture Committee hearings completed.

SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

DEBT — The administration asked Congress to lift the legal ceiling on the national debt by $4 billion, to a total of $332 billion.

House and Senate approved legislation to allow half the requested increase, to $330 billion.

BAIL — Congress approved administration request for more liberal bail rules, including pretrial release without cash bond or with partial payment of bail.

TIME — Congress has passed legislation which this year would set the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in October as uniform dates for any state or locality going on and off daylight savings time.

Starting next year, daylight time would be automatic for that period except if any state whose legislature votes to stay on standard time year-around and throughout the state.

Have Future

To make attractive pictures for your small child's room, take pear-shaped ham cans from which the top has been smoothly removed.
Paint them the same color inside and out. Paste a picture to the back of the inside and go over it all with clear shalac.

Mobey of West Walton Boulevard and Mrs. Earl Weber of Windiate Road. The group starts its season in May and continues through August.

Older Employees Are Worth Hiring

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports that older workers are stable and dependable.
In urging employers to consider hiring older workers, the Administration on Aging reminds that the senior citizens can contribute skills, warmth and sympathy, patience and experience.

They'll Have More in Common

Plan Babes in Pairs

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 2-441: Tony F., aged 18 months, monopolizes his family stage.
"Dr. Crane," his daddy protested, "don't you think Tony ought to have a baby brother or sister?"
"But my wife thinks the uncertainty of world affairs and the threat of possible nuclear wars, should cause us to stop our family with just this one child."
"Are her arguments sound?" No, her arguments are merely selfish instead of sound.
If you couples expect to have babies, then have them in pairs so they can stimulate each other's minds.

This age gap permits them to be partners and playmates, so the elder can instruct the younger.
If you wait too long, there will be little in common between the pair of youngsters.
If you plan to have more than two children, then wait for a few years and then again have them in pairs.
If you find yourselves parents at the age of 40, with an unexpected youngster, by all means have a second to furnish it companionship.
Otherwise, you older parents are likely to spoil that lone youngster unduly until it becomes a veritable "brat."
An "only" child also lacks the peace of mind on the playground which he would otherwise have if he had siblings to back him up.
For when you have several youngsters, they tend to stick

Unite Pair at Recent Ceremonies

Recent vows were exchanged by Alice Mae Franzel, daughter of the Frank Franzels of Cherrylawn Street and Lawrence F. Snow, Sherwell Street son of the William Snows of New York City.
Rev. James Hayes officiated at the ceremony in St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Frances Franzel was maid of honor for her sister with bridesmaids, Barbara Hanel and Nellie Wresell.
The groom's brother, William, was best man and ushers were John Giles and Jack Campbell.

A reception honoring the pair was given in the Franzel home following the rites. A tour of New York state will be taken by the newlyweds in August.

If you're facing your first major move from one part of the country to another—moving your furnishings, family and beloved possessions—then you probably have more questions in your mind right now than you have answers.

I'm assuming you may be one of the 37 million who will be living at a new address in 1967. (The Census Bureau bases this estimate on last year's record.

First of all, you'll want an experienced company which has national carrier rights to handle your interstate move.

Even though the rates the mover quotes are established by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and are based on weight, mileage, and additional services performed, no two movers see a shipping job exactly alike.

GET ESTIMATE

So, if you obtain estimates from at least three established movers in your community, you'll have a good idea of what shipping costs should be. If one of the estimates is too low in comparison to those given by the other movers, find out why.

Put to one side items not worth shipping, along with those you want to sell or give to tax deductible charities. Since an estimate is based on what a mover can see, he will want to look in your closets and other storage areas.

You might want to reduce the cost by doing some of the packing yourself. Possibly you could pack bedding, linens, curtains, and clothing in cartons purchased from the mover or obtained elsewhere. And is that automatic washer, weighing about 250 pounds, worth moving?

If it is approaching its estimated "service life expectancy" of 11 years, possibly the moving costs, which include appliance charges for special handling, might make it seem more economical to sell now, and replace later. This is something you should decide when you see the specific shipping charges for this item.

According to experts in the industry there's a situation that needs correcting if estimated price and final cost of the move are too far apart. Pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission are rulings to help alleviate this situation.

To protect yourself on such a development, handle your part of moving as an efficient business transaction. When you have selected the mover, ask him for a copy of the shipping services and liability coverage you have ordered, and the approximate date of pickup and delivery.

You should also receive a copy of the Interstate Commerce Commission's "Information for Shippers", and a bill of lading signed by you and the carrier. Read these carefully.

Moving is hectic, but you should be on hand to list what goes into each container packed by the mover. Compare your own inventory of containers, crates, boxes and barrels with that of the driver, so you'll be able to check it off on arrival. Your local mover will give you the name of the agent who will receive your furniture, and the file number of your shipment.

Under the law, a mover's liability for articles lost or destroyed is only 30 cents per pound per article. You can buy moving company's trip-trip insurance at a cost of $5 per $1,000 or purchase full-value protection under Interstate Commerce's tariff at the same rate.

Finally you should understand the method of payment for moving. Unless you can get a short-term credit arrangement (up to seven days), you should be prepared to pay moving charges in cash, by money order, or certified check before delivery.

Since you will only know the estimated cost, you should have some additional cash on hand to avoid the extra costly charge of overnight storage.

A large national company now has a tariff on file with Interstate Commerce governing a time payment plan. Other movers will soon be offering the same arrangement. This requires a minimum down-payment of 10 per cent of the total charges with monthly payments at an interest rate of 1 per cent per month on the unpaid balance.

This "move-now and pay-later" contract has to be signed by both husband and wife, and credit has to be approved before delivery of shipment is made.

Installation of officers will be a part of the evening's program.

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Violet that I have taken many letters off my husband's bowing shirts and the places where they were cannot even be seen. First I took a razor blade and a pair of manicure scissors and cut the threads ON TOP, not the wrong side.

Doing it on the right side eliminates the danger of making holes in the shirt. After cutting the letters through I found a paper card form underneath which gave me a clue as to the starting thread which I pulled. This really works and leaves no marks after the shirt is laundered.—MARTHA

DEAR POLLY—The letters on a bowing shirt are usually done on a machine which makes a chain locked stitch. Unloop the thread and find the correct end. Pull this and the whole initial can be unraveled.—MRS. R. K.

DEAR GIRLS—Some readers said they had found guides for the letters stamped on the shirts under the stitched on letters and they were hard to remove. Others said the stitching is often done with such heavy thread that small holes remain. Most said that after several washings the shirts looked very good.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—The following Pointer is from my husband. When expecting a number of guests who may have trouble finding your home at night, just turning on the porch light may not be enough.

Some of the neighbors may have theirs on, too. In the socket of your porch light insert one of those flashers used for blinking Christmas tree lights off and on. They cost very little at the hardware store.

Tell your guests to come to the house with the flashing light.—MRS. T. E. K.

DEAR POLLY—We have four children so the thermometer seems to be in constant use during the sore throat and flu season. My husband took an empty plastic capsule bottle, put a dab of cotton in the bottom and made a hole in the cap.

Fill it about two thirds full of alcohol and insert the thermometer through the cap. We now have a handy holder and sterilizer.—MRS. G. G.

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

ARMOR—THEN AND NOW—A stark contrast with the armor of medieval knights is this lightweight, fiberglass, yet bulletproof suit worn by U. S. helicopter crewmen in Viet Nam. It consists of front and back torso plates worn in vest, leg and thigh pieces.

Economy 'Bombed'

London Faces 2nd 'Blitz'

LONDON (UPI) — London may be really swinging but the country is going through a grim second battle of Britain. The jet set and go-go tourists are flocking to this great metropolis of almost 8 million. But the impression is growing that too many people may be fiddling while the economic fat of a nation of 54 million begins to go up in flames.

Britain, which so far has always managed to face up to any adversity with magnificent courage, now appears somewhat confused at the prospect of a return to stark austerity and almost Communist-type controls.

"The wolves are now getting uncomfortably close to the door and it is time for the plainest possible speaking," said the economist.

"Britain is using its considerable industrial resources less efficiently and more wastefully than any other major power in Western Europe. There is therefore urgent need for shock treatment and redeployment.

"The short term mess has been allowed to get so out of hand that the country can now probably extricate itself only by using two out of three bitter measures of temporary impoverishment: an income freeze, an increase in unemployment, or devaluation."

Devaluation, a chill word in any language, is now being talked about openly as a "final solution" if all other measures fail. The Labor government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, however, is known to be emphatically against such an extreme step.

Standards Studied for Entry Into College

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Getting into the right college is, perhaps, the most important hurdle in the educational path of a student. College admissions procedures will be more complex but greatly improved, by the 1970's.

The process is under continuous study by the College Entrance Examination Board and the admissions officers of the colleges — and well it should be!

When a wrong student is admitted to college it is an expensive mistake. He occupies the place of a student who was not admitted and who might well have succeeded. As a result, there are at least seven frustrated persons; two students, four parents and one admissions officer.

Top marks in high school and high scores on scholastic aptitude tests are not sufficient guarantees that a college freshman will be successful. Some factors are not measured by either of these indications.

Colleges which now choose from among students who made high grades in high school and high scores on the entrance tests still have difficulty in selecting candidates.

FAILED TO RETURN

For example, at California Institute of Technology, about 20 per cent of the freshmen who entered in 1962 failed to return for the sophomore year, although they were selected with great care.

The following year the school discontinued grades in freshmen courses, giving only Pass or Fail marks. The dean of freshmen, Foster Strong, says, "We feel we are getting more natural students now. They are making better contact with the materials and are interested in learning and not in the grade as a payoff." In the first pass-fail year, the number of dropouts fell to 15 per cent.

My own experience shows that high grades in high school are not a sure indication that a student has developed adequate skills of learning to succeed in college. Neither is the lack of these skills brought to light through entrance tests.

What puzzles the admission officers is that top students from good high schools sometimes are in grave scholastic difficulties in the first semester in college. The learning deficiency was in the organization of subject matter and the written expression of thoughts under pressure.

NO EXPERIENCE

Because of Jane's high grades on unit tests she had not been required to write final examinations in high school. She reached college not only without any experience in writing essay-type examinations but with no skill in the overall organization of course material that makes for permanent learning.

Jane had succeeded in high school on a "dritt and cram before examinations" basis. In high school this brought her top grades, but she was an all "A" student with little knowledge of HOW to study.

I find that although the specific causes of college failure among such students vary greatly they always lie in the learning skills area.

I predict that in the 1970's college admissions officers will expect principals, counselors and teachers to evaluate and report to the college a student's progress in developing skills of learning.

With a more intimate knowledge of the individual student, counselors can do a better job of getting the right student located in the right college.

Red Divorce Rates on Rise

VIENNA (AP) — Divorce is increasing in Communist East Europe.

The Bulgarian newspaper Rabotnicheske Delo said "the number of marriages in Bulgaria is decreasing while the number of divorces is up."

The paper said the annual average was 16,000 divorces for a population of 8 million. In part, the high figure is caused by the housing shortage and the fact that most married women have a job, but the largest number of divorces — 45.4 per cent — is granted on grounds of adultery.

MENTAL CRUELTY

Physical or mental cruelty was the cause for one divorce in eight. Several hundred divorces were granted for drunkenness. Statistics showed the largest number of divorces occur among couples that have been married a very short time and among those married for over 20 years.

Divorces among the older groups were caused mainly by differences of age between the partners, or because one of the spouses suddenly decided he was fed up with married life, the paper said.

In Czechoslovakia, the number of divorces soared from 11,200 four years ago to 18,702 last year. The Czechoslovak newspaper Obrana Lidu reported some years ago that in the cities every third marriage ended in divorce.

Authorities admitted that only 12 per cent of Czechoslovak newlyweds manage to get their own apartments.

Favorable weather is no safeguard against accidents. The overwhelming percentage of all accidents in 1965 occurred during clear and dry weather.

Only a Short Season for Cantaloupes

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Fragrance plays a large part in one's enjoyment of food. Melons of all kinds have a delightful fragrance. Muskmelons are native to Persia (Iran) and the word "musk" means perfume. All cantaloupes are muskmelons, but not all muskmelons are cantaloupes.

The melon season is short. This year the crop is excellent and large supplies are arriving daily from the west.

Signs of a good cantaloupe are: coarse netting against a rind of grayish or yellowish tinge; scar at stem end a bit sunken; sometimes a flavor that permeates the rind.

Don't press the end to test ripeness. All you'll do is make a soft spot.

Cantaloupe has both vitamin A and C. Half a melon contains only 60 calories.

When keeping cut melons in the refrigerator, be sure to cover the cut surface. Otherwise, the odor will get into other foods. It doesn't improve things like butter.

Just plain melon can't be beat. But if you want to dress it up, try scooping out balls of melon and replacing them with stemmed sweet cherries. It's a pretty dessert.

Cherry Melon Cooler

2 cups fresh sweet cherries
2 small cantaloupes
Sherry dressing
Mint sprigs
Lime wedges
Chill cherries. Cut melons in half. Remove seeds and scoop melon balls evenly from edges of melons with a 1-teaspoon measuring spoon or a melon-ball cutter.

Replace scooped out melon balls with cherries, leaving stems intact. Toss melon balls with remaining cherries and Sherry dressing. Heap in centers of melons.

Serve on tray or platter of crushed ice. Garnish with mint and lime wedges. Makes 4 servings.

Sherry Dressing

½ cup sherry wine
½ cup sugar
½ cup lemon juice
Dash salt

Combine ingredients and stir until sugar dissolves. Chill. If desired, add ¼ cup finely chopped fresh mint leaves to dressing before chilling. Strain to serve. Makes ¼ cup.

A more elaborate dessert is made by chilling Bavarian cream in melon shells.

Cantaloupe Bavarian

2 medium-sized cantaloupes

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Fresh Strawberry sauce

Cut cantaloupes in half, remove seeds; remove pulp and cut into small dice. (There should be about 4 cups.) Turn shells upside down on paper towel to drain. Reserve.

Drain diced cantaloupe; reserve ½ cup liquid. Soften gelatin in the ½ cup cantaloupe liquid in a custard cup. Place in pan of simmering water until gelatin dissolves.

Combine diced cantaloupe, gelatin, sugar, lemon juice and vanilla extract. Mix well. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in shells in half and serve with Fresh Strawberry sauce.

Strawberry Sauce

1 pint fresh strawberries
½ to ¾ cup sugar
Dash salt
½ teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Hull and slice berries. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Refrigerate 1 hour. Yield: 8 servings.

Melon certainly belongs in a summer fruit salad. But it also has a place in other types of salads—like the two below.

CANTALOUPE COLESLAW

4 cups shredded cabbage (about ½ medium head)
½ cup grated carrot

2 cups diced cantaloupe
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup commercial sour cream
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Combine cabbage, carrot and cantaloupe. Mix mayonnaise, sour cream, sugar and salt; add to cabbage mixture and toss lightly. Chill thoroughly. Makes 6 servings.

SUMMER MELON SALAD

2 cups diced, cooked white chicken meat
1 orange, sectioned
¼ cup grapes, seedless or seeded and halved
¼ cup salted almonds, toasted and slivered
1 cup cantaloupe balls
½ cup mayonnaise

Cantaloupe rings or halves

Iceberg lettuce
Combine chicken, orange, grapes, almonds, cantaloupe balls and mayonnaise; chill. Arrange peeled cantaloupe rings or halves on iceberg lettuce and fill with chicken salad. Garnish with mint or watercress, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHERRY MELON COOLER

Light Creamy Filling Goes Into Nutty Crust

It's pure fallacy that Scots are prone to watch their pennies — at least where food is concerned. The graining boards of a Scottish tea or supper table are proof enough of this.

Here you'll see an array of sturdy foods to sate the hunger, followed by a wonderful selection of sweets that will tempt you to just one more and another, until all are tasted and tried.

The Scots are a people known for their love of desserts and shortbread is a favored treat. This is a delightful dessert, rich yet refreshingly delicate in flavor.

The pecan shortbread shell is simple to prepare and makes an ideal base for this and other fillings. One bite will show you why shortbread has become the pride of Scottish cooks!

Dessert mix makes the fluff of a filling we've spooned into the shell to chill and set.

Crushed pineapple has been added to give the filling a cool summer air, though this dessert would be an elegant addition to menus any time of the year, with its perky twists of pineapple and pecans that put the finishing touch of garnish to the dish.

Scottish Pecan Fancy

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup butter
¼ cup chopped pecans
¼ cup sugar
1 3-4 ounce package vanilla whipped dessert mix
½ cup cold milk
1 9-ounce can crushed pineapple, drained
Pineapple slices
Pecan halves

Combine flour, butter, chopped pecans and sugar. Blend with a spoon or gently knead ingredients together with fingers. Press into a 9-inch torte-and-cake pan (with 9-inch round insert in place). Bake at 320 degrees for 1 hour. Cool.

In a small, deep bowl, combine whipped dessert mix and milk; whip until smooth and thick. Beat in crushed pineapple and spoon mixture into cooled shells. Chill for 2 hours.

Garnish with pineapple slices and pecan halves. Serves 6 to 8.

SCOTTISH PECAN FANCY—This pretty torte borrows from the Scots by using a crispy, pecan-flecked shortbread shell as its base. The filling combines a whipped dessert mix with crushed pineapple. All is chilled.

Famed Caesar Salad Mexican Chef Began It All

Caesar Salad is a favorite appetizer course on the West Coast. Many of the better restaurants have their waiters trained to make a dramatic production of this salad beside their guests' table.

A Mexican shaped wooden bowl will help to identify the country that originated this salad even though others have held claim to it. The popular version of how this salad made its debut goes something like this.

Caesar Salad
1 bunch romaine
½ head iceberg lettuce
1 clove garlic
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
½ fresh lemon
1 egg
1 cup garlic cheese croutons
Break cold, crisp romaine and lettuce into bite-size pieces into a large wooden bowl. Mash finely the garlic clove with the salt and add mustard, pepper and sauce; blend in the oil. Pour over the greens; add cheese, juice of fresh lemon. Break egg on top and toss.

all of the ingredients until each piece of green is coated. Add the croutons on the last toss. Makes 4 servings.

In 2nd Quarter

Economy Still Zesty

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—If the economy

slowed down in the second quarter of 1966, it forgot to tell the bookkeepers of many of the nations top money this last year, and in many cases netted larger profits than for any other three months in their history.

Corporate earnings statements for the first six months and for the April-June period are flooding in now. To the profit of most shareholders, the profit harvest is bountiful—and for many so is the outpouring of dividends.

But all is not quite so serene in the corporate executive suits. The record profits which this year may increase government spending by more than $5 billion, leaving him the choice between a tax increase or more deficit spending.

The President was particularly critical, several who attended the meeting said, of increases in programs for education and veterans' benefits.

SUGGESTS VETO

Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-

Mich., reportedly suggested to the President that he veto bills which call for more spending than his budget proposals.

There just aren't enough of us Republicans to cut these bills, he said. "We are not numbered two to one. We have had little or no support from

Democrats in our efforts to cut appropriations and bills which will require appropriations later. If the President really wants economy, he should help us get some support from Democrats."

House Republican leader

Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said the economy drive by veto bills which exceed his budget or by withholding funds appropriated by Congress. Ford said he has suggested to the Presi-

on early returns—doubtless are being watched closely by an administration bent on discouraging price increases it deems unjustified.

Record profits also may serve as an inspiration for union officials seeking to get a bigger share of corporate revenues for workers in the form of higher wage scales.

BUSINESS BOOM

But the profits themselves spell out a story of prosperity—and a business boom which has yet really to level off, and one that certainly still seems far from turning down.

The list of companies reporting that second quarter profits were the highest for any three months is a sizable one. Some of the companies are: Du Pont, IBM, General Foods, Reynolds Metals.

ACQUIRE HIGHS

Record profits for any second quarter also are reported by Xerox, Polaroid, U.S. Rubber, Westinghouse Electric, Allis Chalmers, Kaiser Aluminum, RCA, Continental Can, Georgia Pacific, Mead Corp.

The long list of companies that netted more income after taxes in this year's second quarter than last also includes General Electric, Kaiser Steel, American Can, Container Corp., Corn Products, Mead Johnson, H.K. Porter, Mack Trucks, Honeywell.

Clark Equipment, like Polaroid, nearly doubled its profits this year over last.

A few of the many companies reporting that their first six months of 1966 were more profitable than the first half of 1965 are: General Tire, American Cyanamid and Western Union.

MADE A BILLION

And then there's American Telephone & Telegraph. It's one of three companies that made more than a billion dollars in all of 1966. AT&T seems well on the way to setting a profits record this year. For the three months ending May 31, it reports profits of $465,233,000, up from $435,732,000 in the like period last year.

The other two companies making more than a billion last year are General Motors and Jersey Zinc. Both are expected to report on this year's results by the end of this month.

GM, which was the No. 1 money maker with $2 billion in profits for all of 1965, will be closely watched to see if its second quarter 1966 profits are clipped by the drop in sales and production that were widely publicized in April, May and June. The sales drop was credited with causing some of the chills that have been plaguing the stock market for three months.

As the last speech ended, the crowd broke into cheers and applause. Then came a signal from three of the prisoners that they wanted to stay in the south.

The others were hustled into trucks and taken to the bridge.

SPEECHES BLAZE

On both sides of the river speeches blared from loud-speakers in front of the returns at the end of the bridge, was a huge North Vietnamese flag.

All three who remained behind were born in North Viet-

Nam. They will be allowed to remain in the country, a govern-

Of the 13 returnees, three were born in south Viet Nam.

Earnings come from a narrow margin and I believe that this stock is too speculative for you. I would switch to Southern Ry., yielding 5.9 per cent. Sears, Roebuck is one of the best on the list but I am not too rich for you, selling on a two per cent basis.

Switch to Interstate Bakeries yielding 5.5 per cent.

Q) "Like a few other fools,

I took someone's advice and bought an over-the-counter stock. I bought a share of

Warren Oil Company. I have heard a lot of things from my brother. Is there any way I can get information about this stock?"

A) Your mistake was not in buying an over-the-counter stock, but in buying a highly speculative low-price issue.

Your company forfeited its New Mexico charter in 1961 and I can find no quotation for the shares. And please believe that there are just as many good

OTC stocks as listed ones.

Gets Over Viet Jitters

Stock Mart Moves Unevenly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market seemed to be over its latest case of Viet Nam jitters and moved unevenly early today. Trading was moderate.

Fractional changes were the general rule among key stocks.

Mail order-retailers were up a little. The major steelmakers were unchanged except for one

Bethlehem which lost a fraction. Autos were very narrowly mixed.

Drugs also were up slightly.

Airlines continued lower but declines were small.

UP ONE POINT

Johns-Manville, which reported a sharp gain in net income, was up a full point.

Du Pont lost nearly a point.

American Telephone and Standard Oil (New Jersey) edged higher.

Xerox continued weak. It fell

3 1/2 to 25 1/2 on an opening block of 3,500 shares after dropping

10 1/2 points Tuesday.

Pan American Sulphur rose

1 1/2 to 19 on a gain of 7,500 shares and widened its gain in later trades.

OPENING BLOCKS

Opening blocks included:

Electrical & Musical Instruments, off 1/4 at 15 1/2.

shares; Chrysler, off 1/4 at 39 1/2 on 3,000; and Sperry Rand, up

1/4 at 27 on 3,000.

Tuesday The Associated Press

average of 60 stocks fell 2.2 to 318.0.

prevailed among most stocks on the American Stock Exchange.

On the upside were Creole

Petroleum, Kaweco Chemical,

Molybdenum and A. Seaboard

World Airlines. Lower were Kaiser Industries, Giannini Controls, Signal Oil "A" and Syn-thron.
