Brownell Resigns; Rogers Gets Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The choice of William P. Rogers to replace Herbert Brownell Jr. as attorney general apparently will bring no change in the Eisenhower administration's civil rights policies.

Brownell resigned yesterday after more than 4½ years as the government's top legal officer. President Eisenhower accepted the resignation with "very deep regrets," and praised Brownell for "a highly significant contribution that you have made in the nation's service."

Saying he plans to return to private law practice, Brownell disclaimed any ambitions for political office and asserted his intention to "stay in private life."

The White House announced that Rogers, deputy attorney general throughout Brownell's tenure, will be named to head the Justice Department.

He is expected to take over in about two weeks, but his nomination is subject to Senate confirmation next year.

CLOSE TO NIXON

Rogers, a close friend and adviser of Vice President Nixon, has civil rights legislation as his Brownell.

When a newsman asked whether "the Brownell policy" will be the Rogers policy," Rogers replied: "We have worked together for 4½ years, and have gotten along exceptionally well. Any differences we may have had have been very minor. In all major matters, we have seen eye to eye."

Brownell has drawn the fire of many Southerners, who blame him for having played a major role in Eisenhower's decision to use federal troops to enforce racial integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark.

However, Brownell said Southern criticism "did not enter into my calculations at all." His letter of resignation, made public earlier, recalled that in late August — before the Little Rock crisis developed — he had discussed with

Navy Vanguard Surpasses Goal in Test Firing

Air Force Rocket Rises 4,000 Miles Above Its Pacific Platform

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) — Defense Department officials, highly encouraged over the performance of the General Electric engine for the first boost of the Vanguard rocket, predicted today that the missile will carry the United States earth satellite into outer space as scheduled next March.

The slender, 72-foot-long rocket was fired yesterday from the Cape Canaveral, Fla. missile test center. The navy research laboratory said it reached an altitude of 109 miles at a speed of 4,250 miles an hour before it fell into the Atlantic 328 miles from the launching base.

The Navy and the Martin Company of Baltimore, which built the Vanguard, rated the test "extremely satisfactory."

The flame from the rocket's General Electric engine was visible only for seconds by observers at nearby Cocoa Beach as the projectile rose straight up into low hanging clouds.

Main purpose of the firing was to test the 27,000 horsepower GE first stage engine, which exhausts its fuel mixture of kerosene and liquid oxygen in two minutes and 22 seconds in successful tests.

The first stage Vanguard thrust is designed to give the rocket a speed of 3,700 m.p.h. and the second and third stages increase the velocity to the 18,000 m.p.h. necessary to place a satellite into its outer space orbit.

Dummy second and third stages were carried in the Vanguard fir (Continued on Page 26, Col. 1)

City Milk Flowing Freely as Farmers Begin Strike

Milk continued to flow smoothly in Pontiac this morning as the first day of a withholding strike by farmers was called off the Detroit metropolitan area.

Initial strike action in Oakland County was limited to a small handful of picketers who stayed at the Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) depot in Ortonville 1½ hours this morning, without attempting to block tankers bringing in fresh milk.

DUMPS REPORTED

Elsewhere, two milk dumpings were reported early today during the first few hours of the strike by members of the Dairy Farmers Co-operative Association (DFC) against dairies supplying Pontiac and the rest of the Detroit area.

Violence accompanied the first dumping at Elsie, where DFC members had set up a picket line around the MMPA receiving station there.

An MMPA trucker who was attempting to deliver fresh milk about 5 a.m. was halted and beaten, but not seriously hurt, sheriff's deputies said. Eight men were jailed on charges of assault and battery.

TRUCK HALTED

Another dumping occurred near Richmond. State police said an MMPA truck was halted on U.S. 25 about 1:30 a.m. About 5,000 gallons of milk was dumped into a ditch, police said.

The striking DFC group had set up pickets around pickup stations in five Michigan cities early today, it was reported. Pickets were at Alma, Greenville, Saranac, Elsie and Ovid, to back up the association's demands for higher milk prices and bargaining rights.

"I hate to do this to you," he

The DFC wants a boost in the price of class one drinking milk from $5 to $6 and recognition at the bargaining table.

Bandit Slays Woman, 57, After Robbing Pastor

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A bandit slashed to death a church secretary today after kidnaping her and her pastor as they left their Canal St. church.

The pastor was slashed and beaten during a wild ride in his new car, gift of his congregation, then left bound and gagged.

Dead is Miss Maud Lind, 57, secretary of St. John's Lutheran church.

The Rev. Martin W. H. Hollis, 69, was treated at a hospital for knife wounds of the throat and head injuries. Attendants said he would recover.

Police said a dark-skinned man forced his way into Hollis' car as the pastor was preparing to drive Miss Lind to her home after night services at the church.

The man pushed into the front seat alongside them, officers said. He thrust a gun into Miss Lind and told Hollis to drive "where I tell you."

After 20 minutes of driving around the City Park section, he ordered the car stopped and demanded that the minister hand over his money.

"I hate to do this to you," he said, "but I need the money. My little boy is sick. My family comes first."

Hollis surrendered about $7. of officers said.

The bandit forced Miss Lind into the back seat and made her remove her stockings. He used the stockings to bind and gag Hollis, then demanded Miss Lind's purse and diamond ring. It was not known how much money Miss Lind's purse contained.

Hollis told officers the bandit crawled into the back seat by the fear-crazed secretary. The minister said she pleaded for her life and told the bandit she couldn't breathe.

Miss Lind screamed several times, Hollis said, then there was silence. The man slashed him across the neck, Hollis said, and struck him across the head three times. He fled, apparently believing both were dead, officers said.

Edward Drew Arrested After 90-Minute Hunt

Karl Kolm Killed by Single Bullet, Wife Is Beaten With Gun

Twenty-six-year-old Edward Drew confessed today to Oakland County Prosecutor Fred Ziem that he shot and killed Commerce Township grocer Karl Kolm yesterday in a holdup attempt. He told Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons and deputies where to find the murder weapon, a .30-30 cal. rifle, but it has not been found yet.

By DICK SAUNDERS
A Commerce Township store owner was killed and his screaming wife beaten, late Wednesday afternoon, by a bandit armed with a rifle.

Karl Kolm, 63, of 1010 Oakley Park Rd., died instantly. The bandit fired only once, sending a bullet through his heart.

Kolm's wife, Amanda, 64, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where she is reported in satisfactory condition with head injuries.

Sheriff's detectives are holding a suspect, Edward Drew, 26, of 2983 Welch Rd., Commerce Township, at the Oakland County Jail for investigation of murder.

Drew, who has a police record dating back to 1948, has been positively identified as the holdup man, detectives said. He has maintained he is innocent.

Through the rapid work of deputies and state troopers both Drew and his car, which he had abandoned, were found within 90 minutes of the shooting.

RECONSTRUCT CRIME

Police have reconstructed the slaying this way:

At approximately 4:45 p.m. Kolm was sitting down to dinner in the kitchen of his dwelling, located at the rear of his grocery store, the Oakley Park Market.

Mrs. Kolm was tending the store when a young man entered carrying a rifle and told her that he wanted all the money in the store.

She said that local youths had been bothering them lately and she thought this was some kind of a trick.

She retreated to the kitchen, calling her husband.

As he came into the store, she said, the gunman, standing behind the counter, fired.

The bullet tore through Kolm's body, through a 2½ inch metal frame refrigerator door behind (Continued on Page 26, Col. 2)

2 Teachers Seek Realistic Ordinance

1915 Law Would Ring Curfew at 8; Anyone Hear It?

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

The chief of the Pontiac fire department isn't carrying out one of his prescribed duties.

That's a pretty harsh statement to make but it's true. The trouble is, this particular duty, required in a city ordinance, just can't be applied to the 1957 way of life. Things just aren't done that way anymore.

Section No. 6 of the 1915 ordinance reads:

"The Chief of the Fire Department of the City of Pontiac shall ring or cause to be rung the bell at the fire station as a curfew signal for at least 30 seconds duration at 10 minutes before the evening hour (8 p.m.) . . . as a warning to all persons in the city of Pontiac."

Yes, believe it or not Pontiac's youngsters, under 16 years old, must be off the "streets, alleys, parks or public places" by 8 p.m. from Oct. 1 to March 31 and by 9 p.m. from April 1 to Sept. 30.

LAW NOT ENFORCED

This is the law . . . but apparently, it hasn't been enforced for several decades. Officials at municipal court claim there are no records to show anyone has been prosecuted for violating the curfew law.

Legally, unless the teenager under 16 is accompanied by a parent or guardian, is on an errand for such person or is employed under the laws permitted by the state, he can be arrested by police if he is found on the streets after this unreasonable curfew hour of 8 p.m.

The ordinance states that the minors and/or parents and guardians may be fined $50 plus costs and/or jailed for 30 days if they violate the curfew.

Law enforcement agencies as well as citizens will probably agree that the ordinance is quite harsh for today's teenager but the law still stands.

STUDY NEED FOR LAW

Two Pontiac educators have realized the need for a workable curfew law. They have drawn up a letter to be sent to the presidents of the Parent-Teacher associations in Pontiac, which meet next Tuesday night.

The letter appeals for an internal curfew to be set up by the parents themselves. The men promoting the need for a reasonable curfew are John F. Perdue, principal of Bagley elementary school and youth chairman of the Pontiac Council of PTA and Donnie Smith Jr., junior and senior high school counselor.

They also intend to request the city commission to revamp the old ordinance to meet today's needs.

The letter from the two men addressed to "parents" states:

"In view of the fact that there is no enforced city ordinance imposing a curfew on our children it is requested that restrictions be imposed from within the home."

"The increase in juvenile crime and the obvious number of our children 'roaming or hanging around' during late hours at night makes it necessary for a curfew,

"A recent local midnight movie which lasted past 3 a.m. was reportedly packed with teenagers. Such hours are not conducive to good health, and are moreover, degenerative to morals and character."

"It is felt that your unlimited cooperation is necessary to successfully get a curfew law into effect."

This is not the first time the outmoded curfew law on Pontiac's record has been called to the people's attention.

A least three times in the past five years, concerned citizens as well as law enforcement agencies have complained about this outdated ordinance. The trouble is, it's still on the books and the chief is still supposed to ring the bell.

Officer Reveals Scott's Story

Says Murder Suspect Characterized Wife as Secret Drunkard

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors trying L. Ewing Scott on a murder charge have heard for the first time his explanation to police of the disappearance of his wife.

Mrs. Scott, a vivacious, 63-year-old socialite, vanished May 16, 1955, leaving a wide circle of bewildered friends and a $600,000 estate.

Testifying at the trial yesterday as a prosecution witness was Police Lt. Herman Zander, who questioned Scott after Mrs. Scott's disappearance first became known to police nearly a year later.

Zander said Scott told him his wife was a secret drinker who nibbled at bottles hidden throughout the house and that she was loaded on May 16, 1955, when she sent him off on a shopping errand.

When he returned a half-hour later she was missing and her car was gone from the garage, Zander quoted Scott as saying.

"He said he didn't think this was strange," Zander testified. "He said she had left on previous occasions and usually came back in a day or two."

NOT DISCUSSED

"I asked him if he had ever learned from his wife where she went and what she did on these occasions and he said: 'No, whenever I asked her she'd always tell me to mind my own business, so I never brought it up.'"

Zander said Scott described his wife as a drunkard and a lesbian and said she was mentally deranged.

Among the 23 prosecution witnesses who preceded Zander to the stand were a half-dozen smartly dressed socialite friends of Mrs. Scott, all of whom testified she never drank to excess, was extremely intelligent and was a perfect lady.

The prosecution has about a dozen more witnesses to call before Scott will have a chance to testify in his own defense.

Gets Small Reward

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Railway conductor Fred Barnister found a purse containing $3,829 pounds—$10,721—in a coach yesterday. The well-dressed woman who claimed it some time later tipped him half a crown—35 cents.

Can the weather (other than rain or snow, of course) have an important bearing on the performance of a football team on a certain day?

Yes, football players (and everyone else) feel more energetic and frisky during the presence of a high pressure system. But the system affects both teams. Some believe that a team which flies from a low pressure area into a high pressure system on the day of a game may get a sensation of exhilaration.

Players will feel better, less irritable, and probably perform better in good, clear cold, high-pressure weather—so often prevalent in the autumn. A team with tremendous desire might be affected less by low-pressure weather than one which is expected to win, and which feels it has nothing to gain in a particular game.

Hold Freedom Fighter With Molotov Cocktail

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Hungarian freedom fighter was arrested last night for carrying a Molotov cocktail while staging a one-man picket of the Russian Embassy on the anniversary of the Hungarian revolt.

Gabor Louis Babier, 24, was charged with carrying a deadly weapon, described by Washington police as a "coco-cola bottle three quarters full of gasoline with a wick."

Babier insisted he had no intention of using it.

1958 Auto Plates Go on Sale Nov. 1

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's black and grey 1958 automobile license plates will go on sale Nov. 1.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said today that a half million plates are being shipped this week to department branch offices in all 83 counties.

They represent the first installment of an order for 6,540,000 vehicle plates for the coming year. Of this number, 344,500 are single plates for motorcycles and trailers with the rest pairs for use of automobiles.

The new plates will have black numerals on a light grey background.

Agreement Reported Near in Ike-Macmillan Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan were reported moving toward agreement today on action to mobilize Allied scientific skills and tighten Allied cooperation in the face of Russia's growing power.

One specific step now foreseen is a proposal by Eisenhower to Congress for modification of the law forbidding sharing of U.S. atomic weapons secrets.

Far greater joint efforts by the United States and Britain in weapons research and technology are expected.

Eisenhower and Macmillan met for dinner at the White House last night and were together with Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd for 3½ hours.

The dinner session followed a two-hour meeting between Macmillan and Dulles and their advisers at the British embassy. A statement released by the State Department said that they "began a general review of world affairs and an appraisal of the political and military considerations involved."

It was understood that in the afternoon conference and presumably again in the White House dinner discussion they came to grips with the two central problems of this gathering—how to overtake Russia's apparent lead in long range missiles development and how to coordinate their policies in dealing with the frequently recurring crisis in the Middle East where Russia seeks expanded power.

Officials reported the discussions.

City Teamsters Petition Meany

Anti-Hoffa Faction of Pontiac Local 614 Asks Probe on Trusteeship

The anti-Hoffa faction of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 sent a telegram to AFL-CIO President George Meany today requesting that certain questions be asked of new Teamster boss James R. Hoffa and his relationship over the Pontiac union.

"We want Hoffa to explain to the union why five leaders were fired back in 1953 and 1954 because they opposed Daniel Keating and Hoffa's trusteeship," said Floyd Hook, leader of the insurgent group.

Hoffa and the 1,400,000-member union were to stand before the executive council of the AFL-CIO today to answer corruption charges which might possibly mean the union's ouster from the giant parent organization.

Hoffa took over the trusteeship of Local 614 when Keating, then the local's president, and Louis C. Lintau, business agent, were convicted and sent to prison on bribe conspiracy charges.

The insurgent group, which according to Hook is made up of 90 per cent of 614's 3,500 members, has fought Hoffa and the trusteeship four years.

They also seek an election from the ranks of members which they say has been denied them since Hoffa became trustee.

Baldwin Library Opens Display of Picture Books

BIRMINGHAM—Baldwin Public Library this week opened a display which marks the 300th anniversary of the first picture book for children. Continuing over a period of weeks, with changes every three weeks, the display will show, in chronological order, the history of the great illustrators of children's books.

Dorothy O'Neill, children's librarian, said the first book was one written in 1657 by Jacob Canselin, entitled "Orbis Pictus" (The World in Pictures).

To show the contrast time, changing ideas and advancement in printing methods has created, a 1957 book, "The March Wind" is shown with the old volume. The latter was written by Inez Rice and illustrated by Vladimir Bobri. Miss O'Neill said current plans are for the display to continue for four or five months. Library patrons and residents of the area are urged to visit the display.

Baldwin elementary school is being taken over by the "Indians" as 14 tribes gather there today in full regalia. The tribes will have displays of tents, totem poles, shields and Indian lore. More than 200 boys and their dads are active in the program which is sponsored by the Birmingham YMCA Indian Guide group. Parents and relatives are to be guests at the display.

Ed Kirbert, 'Y' secretary, also announced the Young Adults group would see documentary films, "Action in Asia," at their 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

The films will show the work of World Service teams in devastated areas of Korea and the Philippines. A card party and social dancing will fill out the evening at the 'Y' building on Lincoln avenue.

Boys and girls of the Saturday morning craft class, sponsored by the YMCA, will make jack-o-lanterns at their regular session this week. The work will be under the direction of Mary Bleakley. She has announced a few openings in the group and invites other local children to take part in this 10 a.m. to noon program.

The modified vacation of York-shire avenue between Elton road and the GTWRR, has been approved by commissioners and accepted by Frank C. Newell, petitioner. The 75-foot strip will retain a 45-foot easement in the center for the servicing of the various utilities located there, while the two strips, 15 feet each, will be vacated by the city.

The report of residents of Valley View Lane that the sewer line there has reached an inadequate condition, has been referred to the city manager's office. An investigation will be made and commissioners informed as soon as possible.

Charles F. Wickey Service will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. here for Charles F. Wickey, 78, of 29331 Wellington Rd., Franklin. He died at his home Tuesday after a long illness.

He was a retired representative of the Tool and Die Products Co., where he had been associated with the automobile industry for 40 years.

Mr. Wickey was a life member of Zion Lodge, F. & A.M. Detroit, and a former member of Central Methodist Church, Detroit.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Rogers of Jasper, Fla., and Mrs. James M. Tenney of Franklin.

Search for F89 Jet Off Atlantic Coast

FALMOUTH, Mass. (INS)—

Coast Guard and Air Force planes and surface ships today fanned out over a wide area of the Atlantic off Cape Cod in a search for an F89 jet which vanished during the night with two men on board.

The plane, from Otis Air Force Base, was piloted by Lt. Cletus L. Corn, 25, of Buzzards Bay and High Point, N.C. His radar observer was Lt. Michael W. Clemens, 22, of Kansas City, Kansas. The Coast Guard sent three planes and three surface craft into the search while the Air Force put up nine planes.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was on a routine radar defense mission and was being tracked on the radar screen at Otis when it suddenly disappeared somewhere north of Provincetown and east of Plymouth.

The city of Colon on the Atlantic coast of Panama was built in 1849 as a construction camp for the Panama Railroad.

Four Dots — RIK — Four Dots

Dutch Professor Creates Language for Outer Space

AMSTERDAM (AP)—A Dutch educator says he has developed a cosmic language to communicate with creatures of outer space.

Hans Freudenthal, 52-year-old mathematics professor at the University of Utrecht, lectured on his "Lincos" language before the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences. An Amsterdam weekly told about it today.

Freudenthal said he thought it very improbable that our earth was the only spot in the universe populated by intelligent beings.

He set out to create a radio language to communicate with intelligent beings "somewhat resembling us in mentality and education" but who needed not be humans and need not have bodies resembling ours.

For building up a cosmic vocabulary of only 150 words, Freudenthal has written a book of 300 pages that will appear shortly.

It is only natural, he said, that mathematics be used first to communicate with beings from other worlds because mathematics is the most abstract science.

The simplest type of text possible would be sent first. For instance:

Four dots, RIK, four dots, RIK stands for a combination of radio signals of unknown meaning.

This is repeated and alternated by any other number of dots under 10, followed by RIK and the same number of dots.

The receiver is expected to grasp that RIK has the meaning of "IS"—the equality sign.

Next lesson: Four dots, POF, two dots, RIK, six dots.

POF stands for a different combination of radio signals.

Freudenthal expects our counterparts to understand that POF has the meaning of "plus."

Other arithmetic operations—minus, greater than, smaller than, multiplication and division—follow.

The second chapter of the book deals with duration of time and notions like "before" and "after." Chapters on "human behavior" and "mechanics" follow. In a second book, Freudenthal plans to continue with geography and human and animal bodies.

The professor said he hoped his lecture made clear that his project was no "funny whim" but is in line with linguistic studies.

The professor was born in Luckenwalde, Germany, and came to the Netherlands in 1930. He has been teaching pure and applied mathematics at Utrecht since 1947.

Indonesian Government Force in North Sumatra

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The Indonesian government has moved a contingent of loyal Javanese troops into rebellious North Sumatra.

Sumatra has been in sporadic revolt against the central government for some months. The Sumatrans complain that earnings from their exports are mostly spent in Java.

Armored Car Vault
Stops All but Water

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It's regarded as burglar-proof, fireproof and earthquake-proof—the underground vault of the Loomis Armored Car Service. But to the chagrin of company officials, it isn't leakproof. When it rains, money and other valuables must be restocked to keep them off the floor. "Worrisome and frustrating," says Fred Rice, the firm's division manager, after a rainfall yesterday left several inches of water on the floor. "We don't know what to do."

Summations Set in Abel's Trial

Spying Case Scheduled to Go Before the Jury Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP)—Summations take place today in the trial of Russian Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, accused of spying for the Soviet Union.

Both sides rested yesterday after seven days of testimony in Brooklyn Federal District Court. Judge Mortimer W. Byers is hearing the case with a jury of nine men and three women.

The defense rested without putting a single witness on the stand. Counsel for the 55-year-old Abel presented a series of motions for acquittal on each of three counts in an indictment handed up by a federal grand jury last Aug. 7. Byers denied all of them.

The case is scheduled to go to the jury tomorrow.

Abel was arrested last June as an illegal alien and indicted on charges of stealing American atomic and defense secrets during a nine-year period while he posed as a Brooklyn photographer.

Final prosecution witnesses were FBI men who searched Abel's studio and his Manhattan hotel room. Among items found, they said, were microfilmed data contained in two hollowed-out screws, a hollowed-out flashlight, a hollowed-out pencil and a hollowed-out wooden block.

Star government witness was Reino Hayhanen, admitted Russian spy who defected to the West last May. Hayhanen testified that Abel was his boss in the espionage conspiracy.

If convicted, Abel would face the possible maximum penalty of death.

Upholds Man Erasing Chalk Mark on His Tire

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Traffic officer R.E. Helsel arrested Frank Livingston after, he said, the plumber had erased a chalk mark from the tire of his parked truck.

Helsel said Livingston had obstructed an officer's duties because the chalk marks are used to identify overtime parkers. This, contended Helsel, constituted destroying evidence.

Municipal Judge Donald Wright dismissed the case. He ruled that evidence is not evidence unless a crime is committed—and the city has no ordinance forbidding erasing chalk marks.

Brownell Quits Post as Attorney General

Eisenhower "my desire to return to private law practice at the earliest practicable date."

"Before you were able to complete plans for the transition of the duties of the office to my successor," Brownell told Eisenhower, "the Little Rock matter intervened, requiring urgent legal action in the federal courts."

"Since the federal government's legal position in this case has now been clearly defined, it seems an appropriate time for me to fulfill my desire to resume private law practice."

Rogers served as a contact man for the Justice Department on Capitol Hill, where he worked after World War II as counsel for the old Senate War Investigating Committee and the Senate Investigations subcommittee. He is generally liked by legislators.

Although his confirmation seems certain, the 44-year-old Rogers is expected to face some rugged questioning by Southern members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will consider his nomination.

Southerners who commented on the changeover generally applauded Brownell's imminent departure. Some voiced the opinion Rogers would be an improvement.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, a key figure in the federal-state controversy at Little Rock, declined comment on Brownell's resignation.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said, "I like Rogers very well. I don't know Mr. Brownell very well." He has been a critic of Brownell on civil rights matters.

Sen. Talmadge (D-Ga.) said he knows little about Rogers but that "I understand he is close to Vice President Nixon and that certainly is not a good endorsement."

Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) said Rogers "will be a great improvement over Brownell who, in my opinion, is a conscienceless politician."

Brownell was one of Eisenhower's top political strategists. He managed Eisenhower's campaign for the presidency in 1952. A close friend of former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Brownell also managed Dewey's unsuccessful presidential campaigns in 1944 and 1948.

Vanguard Reaches Altitude of 109 Miles

ing but instruments had been installed in those sections instead of propulsion elements.

From Washington, scientific verification is expected today of the apparently spectacular success of the Air Force in rocketing an object to a record altitude of 4,600 miles at a speed of 17,000 m.p.h.

The Pentagon revealed last night that a rocket designed to achieve that altitude and speed was launched "with every appearance of success" from a balloon platform 100,000 feet over Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific on Monday.

MEET RED CHALLENGE
The announcement climaxed a day of dramatic disclosures by the Defense Department indicating the U. S. is moving full steam ahead to meet Russian scientific challenges and let the people of the world know it.

So great was the height at which the experiment was conducted and so small was the rocket's three and a half pound "payload" that there was no way of tracking the object either visually or by radar on its trip into space.

Determination of the altitude therefore depended on careful analysis of dot-dash messages sent back to earth by the "research package" which contained miniature radio telemetering equipment and instruments for counting cosmic rays and meteorites.

Even if the altitude was only 1,000 miles, it would still be by far the greatest height known to have been reached by a man-made object.

The Navy announced that although the Vanguard "coasted" much farther than expected, scientists at the test range said this would not have been the case if the second stage had been fired.

Starting next December, the United States plans to fire four "pilot" satellites before attempting to launch one of the six 21-pound moons it has ready for the full-scale attempt next March.

him, and shattered the tops of a row of bottles.

As he fell to the floor, Mrs. Kolm began screaming. The man hit her twice over the head with the barrel of the gun and fled without taking a cent, she related. She ran to the back door, bleeding and screaming for help.

YOUTHS SPOT CAR

Two teenagers in a passing car told deputies they saw a man leave the store and hop into a red and white coupe. Raymond Downing, 16, of 884 Glengary Rd., gave deputies a description of the car that agreed with that given by Mrs. Kolm.

The youths did not notice him carrying a gun. Deputy Roland Pless, in checking the neighborhood, found a resident who stated that a man had just tried to sell him a 30-30 deer rifle.

Jack Davy, 32, of 3080 Terry St., only a few blocks south of the store, described a man fitting Mrs. Kolm's description as having come up to his home only a few moments before. Davy said he didn't buy the gun because it wasn't the type he wanted and the barrel was dented and slightly bent.

She had described the man as of medium build, dark hair, with a thin mustache, and wearing a white shirt and white painter's cap. When she pointed him out in the lineup he was dressed in green cotton twill trousers, a green and red plaid cotton shirt, with no tie, coat, or hat.

SAW SUSPECT NEARBY
Another witness, Joseph Cleary, 22, of 3215 Rio Vista St., Commerce Township, told police he had seen Drew walking through a field about 1/2 mile from the market, near the spot at which his car was found.

Cleary led Detroit State Trooper Donald Kaiser and Det. Warren Cannon to the spot.
Kolm was pronounced dead by deputy coroner Dr. William R. Roch at the store.

Kolm's wife was operated on late last night to close several head lacerations. She was described in satisfactory condition after surgery but a fracture or concussion is still remotely possible, hospital officials said.

Detectives said that Drew lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Drew at the Welch Rd. address.

His past record shows arrests and convictions for breaking and entering among other charges. He had escaped from a trustee camp, police said.

Milk Available Despite Strike

Homer Martin, DFC strike leader, said yesterday that his organization represents a majority of the farmers currently supplying milk to the Detroit area. This claim was disputed by MMPA president Glenn Lake, who said the strike will be observed only by an "irresponsible minority of rabble-rousers."

Lake added that armed guards may be put aboard tank trucks if necessary to insure delivery of milk.

A spokesman at the MMPA depot in Ortonville said a carload of pickets arrived at 8:45 a.m. and left at 10:15 a.m. None of the pickets left the car, the spokesman said.

From his New Hudson headquarters, Martin was issuing strike orders that may result in further picketing, however, at Ortonville and in Pontiac.

Milk arrived this morning without delay at Pontiac's two major creameries, the Detroit Creamery, 408 Auburn Ave., and the Borden company, 256 Norton Ave.

Company spokesmen said there were no pickets.
The DFC's Oakland County president, Carl Dobat, said the strike strategy would be to keep fresh milk from being delivered to the dairies.

"We hope non-DFC dairy farmers will cooperate with us in withholding their milk from the market," he said.

If milk is shipped to the dairies, Dobat said, the DFC's strategy will be to prevent its being delivered by use of pickets.

Dobat, an Oakland Township dairy farmer, lives at 2460 Dutton Rd. north of Rochester.

Details of Firing to Be Given After Test

Vanguard 1st Stage Rocket Now on Pad for 'Imminent Firing' at Florida Base

WASHINGTON (INS)—The powerful rocket that will carry America's earth satellite on its first step into space was reported ready for "imminent firing" today at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The 27,000-horsepower first stage of the "Vanguard" rocket, with dummy second and third stages mounted on its nose, was expected to rise to an altitude of 36 miles and soar about 230 miles out over the Atlantic.

The Defense Department is prepared to announce details of the firing, including the altitude and range, soon after the test occurs.

The firing originally was scheduled for 5 a.m. (EDT) Friday, but "range trouble" prevented the test. A second scheduled firing was canceled Monday because of weather conditions. "Range trouble," it was understood, usually means a ship or small boat had entered the sea area over which the rocket must fly.

ON PAD SINCE MAY

The Vanguard rocket, which is 72 feet high including the dummy second and third stages, has stood on the launching pad at Cape Canaveral ever since last May, but repeated delays have prevented its firing.

Efforts to accelerate the test

Soviet Students Getting Wages

MIT Professor Says Scientists Are Treated as Aristocrats by Reds

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (INS)—Students in Russia get paid and scientists are aristocrats.

That was the statement of Professor Morris Cohen of Massachusetts Institute of Technology today following his arrival from a stay in the U.S.S.R. with nine other American scientists. He said:

"There is great respect for the intellect in the Soviet Union today. They are placing great emphasis on education.

"Even students are paid to attend college. Scientists are the Red aristocrats."

Prof. Cohen said he was in Moscow at the time of the launching of the satellite Sputnik, adding: "There was no bragging or boasting."

He also said: "It had been announced earlier in the newspaper that the satellite was to be launched, so the real launching caused no excitement."

Prof. Cohen said the Soviets "are making a lot of progress but have a long way to go. They've demonstrated that they have technical, scientific and industrial 'know-how.'"

He said he thought the Russians probably were well advanced in the intercontinental ballistic missile program.

Metalurgy is the department of Professor Cohen and he said he saw little that was new in that field in Russia, although the laboratories were well equipped.

He said he visited Leningrad, a city of a million residents, and spoke there. He observed that it was a beautiful city with plenty to eat and drink. From Sverdlovsk he talked with his wife in Swampscott by telephone.

Study Finds Men Do Little Around Home

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Social researchers at the University of Michigan found that 6 out of 10 married men neither helped with the dishes nor got their own breakfast even occasionally.

Only 15 per cent were found to lend a hand with the house cleaning. Mother is also primarily responsible for such tasks as awakening the children, buying the groceries, cooking and writing the family correspondence.

12 Refugees Arrested

OSLO (AP)—A dozen young Hungarian refugees were arrested last night when they tried to force their way past police guarding the Hungarian legation. They were released after dumping the stones from their pockets.

Guatemala Vote Declared Void

Army Chiefs Disregard Election Results After 2 Fatal Demonstrations

GUATEMALA (AP)—Army leaders running Guatemala under a state of siege threw out Sunday's presidential election results last night after the second fatal demonstration in two days.

The high command announced that the election was nullified "in order that a new election may be called at the first opportunity to solve within legal principles the presidential succession."

There was no indication when the vote would be held. Congress was called into session to ratify the decision and to legalize the modified form of martial law imposed Monday when demonstrations began.

The army said it was "talking transcendental decisions" to end the election strife. Its action apparently halted a mounting crisis touched off by the government party's claim that its candidate, Miguel Ortiz Passarelli, had been elected.

Supporters of rightist Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes in Guatemala City claimed he had been robbed of victory by fraud. Ydigoras led in the capital but returns announced by the government party for the countryside gave the presidency to Ortiz.

Rocket Will Die in Two Months

Smithsonian Scientists Not Yet Able to Figure Length of Sputnik's Life

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, says latest figures indicate the Russian rocket has a life expectancy of at least two more months.

He said last night it could not be estimated immediately how long more the Russian satellite itself would continue circling the globe.

Dr. Whipple added, however, that the satellite is expected to outlast the rocket by a considerable time because of the lessened drag on the satellite's compact spherical shape.

Scientists estimate the highest point of the rocket is now about 480 miles above the earth, compared with 573 miles when launched Oct. 4.

The low point is now approximately 140 miles from the earth, a decline of about three miles since launching.

Observatory officials said the third stage rocket is now about 56 minutes—or about halfway around the world—ahead of the smaller Sputnik.

The rocket has been pulling ahead of Sputnik daily since they were launched into space.

There is a progressive daily increase in the space between them.

What kind of meat do you choose for beef stew? Do you check the grade? Grade is important because lower grade means less tender meat, usually a lower price. You are wise to choose less tender beef for stew for it will cook to flavorful tenderness in moist heat. Double check costs, for you can sometimes save as much as 20 cents a pound by cutting your own stew meat from blade chuck.

PRODUCE — Apples in autumn are at the top of the alphabet and at the top of fruit lists. Buying Michigan apples by the bushel will be cheaper. It may be to your advantage to buy a bushel and share half with your neighbor. Especially is this true if you are making special plans for small spoons that are sure to come calling next week.

A new storage process called controlled atmosphere storage is stretching the fresh apple season so that we may enjoy some of this fall's harvest early next summer. In this process apples are kept under refrigeration with lower-than-normal carbon dioxide. This slows ripening of the fruit as if the apples were "put to sleep" in storage. When taken out into room temperature, they awaken and ripen more slowly than apples freshly picked.

Wondering how much cider to get? Count on sixteen 8-ounce glasses from one gallon.

Penny-wise buys in the produce department—pumpkin, squash, potatoes. If you keep potatoes under heavy sugar measuring 2 inches across top. Add brown sugar. Prepare peeled, sliced apples; arrange over brown sugar mixture in skillet. Cover. Cook over medium heat for 10 minutes. Remove from heat.

Prepare gingerbread mix batter as directed on package. Stir in raisins. Pour over apples in skillet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 to 40 minutes until cake springs back when touched lightly in center. Invert and remove from pan immediately. Serve warm or cold, plain or with whipped cream. Makes 9 inch round cake.

Intensify Cherry Flavor

When you are using canned cherries in a salad or a dessert and there is cherry syrup leftover, use it instead of half (or less) of the water called for in making up a package of cherry gelatin. If the gelatin dessert seems sweeter than you like, add a tablespoon or two of lemon juice.

Lucille V. Schwarzer and Richard O. Smith were married Oct. 12 in Maplewood, Mo. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwarzer, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith.

Divorcee Is Missed in Capital

Ex-Wife of Envoy Plans Career in New York City

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON — The witty and talented Claude Alphonse, whose divorce last summer from her husband, Herve, the French ambassador, shocked their friends, is missed on the social scene this season.

The couple, who came to Washington in the fall of 1956, injected a new note of gaiety and sophistication into Embassy Row partying.

As hosts at the big Normandy-style embassy, they joined in giving generously of their diverse talents—he as a mimic and witty raconteur, the beautiful blonde Claude as an accomplished singer and guitarist.

NEW YORK REUNION
Washington has not seen Mrs. Alphonse since her departure for France last spring, so it was with some surprise I found myself facing her in the elevator of a small East Side hotel in New York recently. I told her she was missed in the capital.

"I in turn will miss the friends I made there," she said softly. "The divorce is sad, for we were married for 27 years. But for us both, it is best. I cannot live the official life."

"I had no time for my own interests, not even time to study English. I was not happy."

"I expect to live in New York," she said. "First I will take an eight-week course in English at Columbia University."

GREATER FLUENCY
I noted that she already spoke with greater fluency than when I interviewed her last April in Washington. Then we had conversed through an interpreter.

"When I am settled I hope to go into commercial decorating, restaurants, nightclubs, little shops, and I will probably sing again," she said.

During World War II, while her husband was serving with the French underground, she sang at a chic New York Supper club. She also has made recordings.

Washington is familiar with Mrs. Alphonse's gift as a decorator. She had begun to transform the formerly rather gloomy embassy into a residence with a light, young look.

Her flair for color, line and texture combinations was notable in several of the downstairs rooms she had done over.

Missionary Feted

Ruth Young of China Inland Mission was honored at a cooperative dinner given Tuesday evening by members of Third Philathea Class of First Baptist Church. Miss Young, now serving in Canada, spoke of her work as a missionary in Japan.

All laundry equipment should be grounded.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD O. SMITH

Lucille Schwarzer Weds in Missouri Church Rite

Lucille Veronica Schwarzer became the bride of Richard Otto Smith in a ceremony performed at St. Luke Catholic Church, Maplewood, Mo. The Rev. John Freiberger solemnized the Oct. 12 ceremony in the presence of 100 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwarzer of Clarence street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith of Vandalia, Ill.

For her wedding the bride chose a waist-length gown of nylon tulle over satin with a fitted lace bodice, a Sabrina neckline and long, tapered lace sleeves. The bouffant skirt was outlined in lace, and the rhinestone-sprinkled lace veil was secured to a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls.

Lucille's bouquet consisted of lilies-of-the-valley centered with a white orchid, and she carried a prayerbook.

Matron of honor Mrs. Howard Schrader of Maplewood, sister of the bride, wore a pale blue taffeta gown in a ballerina length, featuring a fitted torso and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was a blue feathered tiara, and she carried red roses on a blue prayerbook.

FLORIST
Karen Schrader, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. Her gown was of Nile green taffeta with a scooped neckline outlined with ruffles. The full skirt was accented by a sash which formed a large bow extending into streamers at the back.

The best man was Howard Schrader of Maplewood.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the Buckingham Dining Room, Maplewood.

Before leaving on a trip through Illinois the new Mrs. Smith changed to a red and black pin stripe dress with red and black accessories and the orchid from her bridal arrangement.

The couple is residing in Maplewood.

Beating Fluffs Up Eiderdown Quilts

Wash your eiderdown quilt by hand in lots of warm soap or detergent suds, repeating in a second tubful of fresh, clean suds. Rinse well, squeeze out extra water, and hang the quilt in the shade. Shake it often during drying.

Last of all, beat it well on both sides with an old-fashioned carpet beater: this fluffs and distributes the down filling.

HONOR IN BRONZE — The prep football "Athlete-of-the-Year" will gain this year by chosen by The Pontiac Press and will be the recipient of this beautiful award which is his own bronze plated football shoe. Last year's winner was John Walker of Walled Lake.

Press Again to Select Grid 'Athlete-of-the-Year'

High school football players of Oakland County are being scouted again by the PONTIAC PRESS to find the second annual winner of the Thom McAn Football Trophy and candidate for the $1,000 scholarship awarded to one of these trophy winners each season.

The griddler will gain the honor as the County's prep football "Athlete-of-the-Year."

The unique trophy is his own football shoe, bronze-plated and mounted on a handsome wood base with an engraved plaque, and is

Seniors in good scholastic standing are eligible to compete for the scholarship. Players on more than 800 high school teams across the country will be screened to pick this year's trophy winners, the eighth year of the awards.

The 1956 Oakland County winner here was John Walker of Walled Lake High School. Tom Biddison of Baltimore, Md., was the 1956 winner of the scholarship for his exceptional academic and sports records and his prize-winning paper on higher education.

The awards were originated by Ward Melville, chairman of the board of Melville Shoe Corporation.

Walker was an all-state full-back last year at Walled Lake and was also an all-B student.

He is now a freshman at the University of Michigan and a member of the frosh grid team.

The griddler selected by the Press will have until February 15th to submit his essay on a subject to be selected by the McAn company.

Town Prays for Prep's Recovery

PAWNEE, Okla. (U-P) — Young Abe Abbington is through playing football, but the misfortune that shortened his gridiron days left him with the knowledge he has lots of friends.

Abe, a 19-year-old Negro, was home today convalescing from a serious intestinal operation necessary because of a football injury suffered more than a month ago.

He was the only Negro starter for Pawnee High School, for which he played in the three seasons since the school was integrated.

Last year he was the second highest scorer in Oklahoma prep ranks, and until laid low had averaged better than two touchdowns a game for his then undefeated team.

Hurt in a game Sept. 17, he underwent hospital observation three days but was released and played in another contest. He became ill Oct. 6 and was returned to the hospital to undergo four-hour surgery for removal of part of a ruptured colon.

As he lay for 12 hours near death, the 6-foot-2, 225-pound junior fullback's popularity with classmates and townspeople showed in their concern.

"At one time," Coach Max McKenzie reported, "at least 250 persons, adults and children, white, Negro and Indian, were lined up to assist him in any manner they could."

A physician related that as the operation started, 60 or 70 high school students went to the hospital. A girl and three of Abbington's football teammates donated blood.

McKenzie kept a promise to the stricken youth and stayed at his bedside during the hours of crisis. So did assistant coach Glenn Sechrist and team captains Bob Perry and Fred Staff.

Prayers for Abe's recovery were offered by the school's pep squad and church groups. Two rival teams which had felt his football charges sent flowers.

Schools Superintendent Homer Shaw described Abbington as a "fine school citizen" who had to take special studies to keep up with his classmates. He had missed much schooling because of outside work.

Football for him is out, but Abe said he hopes he will be able to play basketball this winter.

Hope to End Ohio State Reign

Big One for Badgers

CHICAGO (INS) — This could be the year that Wisconsin trips up Ohio State, one of its bitterest football rivals.

That is the opinion today of both Wisconsin coach Milt Bruhn and Ohio State mentor Woody Hayes in telephone interviews.

Reminded that the Wisconsin Badgers have not beaten the Ohio State Buckeyes since 1946, Hayes said:

"Every year is different. I don't look at it as a case of Ohio having a jinx over Wisconsin. It's just a game for this year and there is nothing as ridiculous as saying that one team has a hoodoo over another."

Bruhn, now in his second year at Wisconsin, refused to discuss his team's poor luck against the Buckeyes. He added:

"We've got a much sounder team this year than a year ago but we know Ohio State does, too. They have better passing and a little more depth."

"From our experience, we know that Ohio likes to run a lot and their power plays can run a team down. All we can do is try to stop their offense and hope their pass defense is vulnerable. That is the one thing that may enable us to win."

Hayes, far more wary of Wisconsin than Bruhn was of his Buckeyes, said:

"They've got a vastly improved team at Madison this year and those sophomores have sparked them in every game."

"The Badgers have a great running halfback in Danny Lewis and have big ends who are very elusive."

Bruhn compared Ohio State to a team "that is slow in getting started but by mid-season picks up steam." He added:

"As far as I'm concerned, Ohio State hasn't really played a good game against anybody this year. Wisconsin never seems to produce any problem for them but I've got a great bunch of kids who don't believe in a jinx but only believe in winning."

Asked how he felt about Ohio State's possibly winning the Big Ten championship and eventually going to the Rose Bowl, Hayes answered:

"That's the farthest thing from our minds. We at Ohio are like anybody else—we take one game at a time. But why worry about championships and Rose Bowls when we'll have a bad enough time against Wisconsin. Then we've got Purdue, Iowa and Michigan—what could be worse than that?"

RUGGED LAKER — A big reason why West Bloomfield has come along fast in recent weeks has been the play of big Raul Sanchez as an offensive end and defensive tackle.

Les Dye is in his ninth season as freshman football coach at Syracuse University.

Cincinnati Reds pitcher Raul Sanchez had a 1-1 record with the Washington Senators in 1952.

DU PONT ZEREX® ANTI-FREEZE

PERMANENT TYPE

WITH MR-8 KEEPS YOU

GUARANTEED* SAFE

AGAINST FREEZE-UPS, RUST-UPS
...AND IT WON'T ROT HOSE

HOW MR-8 PROTECTS YOUR CAR

Here's the complete all-around cooling system protection you get with "Zerex," the only permanent type anti-freeze containing MR-8, Du Pont's special chemical rust inhibitor.

1. Works in all waters

Du Pont "Zerex" anti-freeze with MR-8 is compatible with all types of water. Even in hard water the inhibitor stays in perfect solution. Hard water makes the inhibitors used in many anti-freezes precipitate out, materially reducing their protective qualities.

2. Will not rot rubber hose

"Zerex" with MR-8 will not rot or soften rubber hose because it contains no oil. Oil is extremely harmful to some radiator hoses, softening or rotting it sometimes in one season. Then the hose may collapse or burst, causing overheating and engine damage.

So don't take chances this winter. See your dealer now and get the complete winter-long protection only "Zerex" with MR-8 gives. It's the premium, permanent type anti-freeze made and guaranteed by Du Pont... your best assurance of quality and satisfaction.

3. Neutralizes all acids

The seven different metals used in modern cooling systems can become corroded when a permanent anti-freeze solution turns acid. However, "Zerex" with MR-8 has extra "reserve alkalinity" that gives winter-long protection from the corrosive action of cooling system acids.

4. Keeps rust in suspension

"Zerex" with MR-8 keeps the cooling systems of today's complex engines clean and free-flowing. Because "Zerex" contains no oil, it does not cause rust to stick to cooling system surfaces and clog radiator passages, which can cause overheating and engine damage.

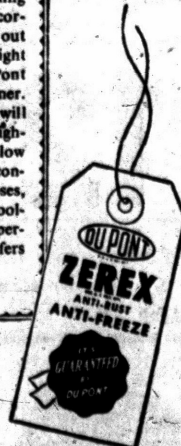

*DU PONT GUARANTEE

"Zerex" anti-freeze will protect the cooling system of your car from freezing, rust or corrosion for one full winter—and will not leak out—if used in a properly operating, watertight cooling system and if used according to Du Pont directions printed on the "Zerex" container.

Du Pont guarantees too, that "Zerex" will not boil away and can be used with either high or low-opening thermostats, at high or low altitudes in extreme driving or weather conditions. "Zerex" will not harm rubber hoses, gaskets, pump packing, metal parts of the cooling system or car finish. "Zerex" mixes perfectly with water, flows freely, and transfers heat efficiently.

Illini Fear MSU Irate for 1936 Defeat and Last Week's Loss

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (P)—Illinois emerged from its stunning 34-13 upset of Minnesota virtually injury-free and with a new "Mr. Inside" and "Mr. Outside" combination to throw at Michigan State this week. But Ray Eliot is far from a happy coach.

"We couldn't catch Michigan State at a worse time," he wails. "Just take a look at the facts: we upset them last year in our homecoming 20-13. Now it's their homecoming. They're out for revenge—and they're also bristling because of what Purdue did to them Saturday."

The aggressive defensive work of the Illini in the Minnesota game drew praise from Eliot. But he was quick to add: "It may sound silly, but I wasn't too pleased with our offense—we blew a lot of signals. We've just got to be more efficient."

The Illini gained 270 yards rushing against the Gophers and 159 in the air.

RAMPAGING COLTS — The Troy Colts meet Clawson Friday night in a crucial Oakland B League football game at Clawson and quarterback Wayne Figley will try to guide the unbeaten Colts to their 6th straight victory. Figley is shown here taking the ball from center Bill Jennings.

Michigan State took moving pictures of its football games for the first time in 1937.

Junior quarterback Tom Haller completed 7 of 13 tosses for 123 yards. Counting Ohio State, to which Illinois lost 21-7, Haller has hit on 17 out of 26 passes for 306 yards in his last two games.

Haller's aerial work and fine signal calling greatly supplemented the inside smashes of full-back Jack Delvaux and the running Bobby Mitchell.

Delvaux crashed for 78 yards in 12 trips against Minnesota and scored twice. Mitchell slithered for 74 yards in 14 attempts. Haller's main target is sophomore end Rich Kreitling of Chicago. He caught 3 passes for 43 yards against the Gophers and now has a total of 9 receptions for 157.

Probably many of the missed signals Eliot refers to come on the offensive line. The Illini have "automatic" plays that are called by the quarterback before taking the snap-back after he surveys the defense. In some games, these "automatics," which require split-second readjustment in linemen assignments, are used as much as 60 per cent.

Some Heart Surgery Beats Tonsillectomy

PHILADELPHIA (U) — Some heart operations are "safer" than a tonsillectomy, a Philadelphia surgeon said today.

Recent surgical advances have made it possible to correct holes in the inner heart wall which cause "blue babies," Dr. Houck E. Bolton, instructor in chest surgery at Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital, said at a cardiac children's institute.

He said other new heart techniques make possible the removal of the patent ductus — a blood vessel that should disappear before birth — and cure aortic stenosis — the narrowing of the great blood vessel of the heart.

Won't Be Home for Christmas

Navy Men at South Pole to Stay for 2nd Winter; Replacements Delayed

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (U) — With a bitter storm whipping snow around their huts, veterans of last winter here got the sad news today that they probably won't be home for Christmas.

Navy Capt. W. M. Dickey, the area commander, told the 317 "old explorers" that bad flying weather has delayed arrival of their replacements. Most personnel changes will now have to await opening of the ice as the antarctic summer progresses and ships can reach Little America.

The personnel exchange was not made last summer until late in January and early February. But hopes had been raised by a Navy newsletter from Washington to the men's families indicating they might be home for the holidays.

Dickey said only hardship and special cases now are likely to get out in time. Morale is still high despite the delay, he added.

A tractor train of 19 men headed by Lt. (j.g.) Bob White of Glen Falls, N.Y., completed a 650-mile, 21-day trek from here to Byrd station Tuesday. It carried 145 tons of supplies, including a rig to drill 1,000 feet through the ice for geological information.

Hungarian Reds Mark U.N. Birthday by Jeers

VIENNA (U) — Hungary's Communists today observed the 12th birthday of the U. N. by accusing it of countenancing "lies and insults against the Hungarian government."

Radio Budapest broadcast a statement by the Hungarian United Nations League denouncing the 12th U. N. General Assembly, which adopted a resolution condemning the Soviet repression of last October's Hungarian revolution and the Communist reprisals against the rebels.

Red Consulate Stoned

LONDON (U) — A crowd stoned the Hungarian consulate and legation building in fashionable Eaton Place early today, breaking five windows. The crowd gathered to mark the first anniversary yesterday of the Hungarian freedom fighters' unsuccessful attempt to break Soviet domination.
