Bronx Gang Leader Charged in Slaying

Kicking and screaming after he was seized by detectives at a Bronx street corner, Ramon Serra, 20, was hauled to a police station, where he was charged last night with homicide.

The girl, Alice Bayron, had led police to him.

Serra made a feeble effort to reach a fully loaded automatic pistol, which he had in his belt, before surrendering.

Bronx Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan said he would ask a first-degree murder indictment.

Serra, who wore a star earring in his left earlobe, gave police this account of how he killed Michael Ramos, 17, in a Bronx candy store Saturday night:

"I asked him if he was looking for me and he gave me a bad look. He looked at me from my head to my toes and I shot him."

Ramos had roots in three youth gangs. He had testified for the prosecution during the recent trial of seven gang members, charged in the killing of Michael Farmer, a crippled youth.

But Deputy Police Inspector John V. Halk said: "There is definitely no connection between the Ramos death an dthe Farmer case."

Detectives said the Ramos slaying stemmed from the shotgun wounding two weeks ago of Carlos Candelario, 17, of the Bronx.

Candelario, a member of Serra's gang, was gravely wounded in a gang dispute. Henry Retorica 15, a member of one of Ramos' gangs, has been accused of the shooting.

Detectives said Ramos asked Serra that there be no retaliation for the shooting.

"I didn't go for that jazz," Serra, a handler at a banana company, was quoted as saying.

Police said he told them: "It was all a mistake. My finger tightened on the trigger and it went off."

Asked if he was sorry, Serra said, "Yeah."

Searchers Recover Body in Eagle Lake

The body of William C. Wilson, 19, of 3556 Hatfield Dr., Waterford Township, was recovered in Eagle Lake by volunteer searchers at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Wilson had been reported missing late Friday night by his father, Floyd L. Wilson. He was last seen heading for the lake Friday afternoon to try out a new motor on an eight-foot boat.

Township police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies began a search of the lake when they found the boat capsized with the throttle on the motor still wide open.

VanHorn Trial Begins Tuesday

First - Degree Murder Charge in Rape-Slaying of Waterford Woman

Billy Ray VanHorn, 24-year-old confessed rape-slayer of a Waterford Township housewife, goes on trial tomorrow before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, charged with first-degree murder.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he will parade 39 witnesses to the stand to re-create the day of Jan. 24 when the criminally attacked, stabbed and strangled body of Mrs. Hazel Murdock, 39, was found in her home at 127 N. Josephine St.

Chief evidence against the unemployed welder will be a confession which court-appointed defense attorney Brakie J. Orr unsuccessfully last week tried to omit from evidence.

Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland said it had been obtained lawfully, despite having been taken 22 hours following VanHorn's arrest Jan. 24.

VanHorn allegedly murdered Mrs. Murdock when she criticized him for having been drinking that day, police said.

Hope Mounts at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—Enthusiasm mounted at the U. N. today over the possibility that the U. S. proposal for international inspection of the Northern Arctic might provide the first breakthrough in the 12-year disarmament stalemate.

Ike Urges Reds to OK Arctic Inspection Plan

President Sends New Note to Khrushchev on Disarmament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today urged Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to join the United States and other Western Allies in an international inspection program for the Arctic area.

★ ★ ★

In a new note to the Kremlin leader, the President also appealed anew to the Soviet Union to have its technical experts work with the United States in an effort to determine which nuclear test ban controls are necessary to open the way toward general disarmament.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev had rejected that Eisenhower proposal in a letter to the President last week.

In calling on the Soviet Union to join the Western allies in an Arctic area aerial inspection program, the President pointed out to Khrushchev that the United States already has announced its intention of bringing up the matter in the United Nations Security Council tomorrow.

A resolution will be introduced in the council by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. mission to the U.N.

"I am sure," Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, "that with the growing capabilities in the Soviet Union and the United States of massive surprise attack, it is necessary to establish measures to allay fears."

Eisenhower said agreement on such an inspection program would be a significant first step toward disarmament.

The President's note added up to still another U.S. move to smash recent Soviet charges that this country is endangering peace by sending nuclear armed bomber planes across the Arctic area toward the Soviet frontier.

The Soviet Union brought that complaint before the U.N. Security Council last week. But Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev withdrew his resolution — asking the council to halt such U.S. flights — after nine of the other 10 members of the council had spoken against it.

The United States denied the flights of its bombers were in any way provocative or threatening to peace.

In urging the Russians to support the American resolution, Eisenhower said in his 570-word message to Khrushchev:

"Your support of this proposal and subsequent cooperation would help to achieve a significant first step. It would help reduce tensions, it would contribute to an increase of confidence among states and help reduce the mutual fears of surprise attack."

5,000 to 'Hit the Silk' Today

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — Nearly 5,000 toughened paratroopers, led by their commanding general, are ready to hit the silk today in the largest mass air drop since World War II.

Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland said he would jump 15 minutes ahead of the 101st Airborne Division's scheduled 12:30 p.m. drop to make a personal check of weather conditions and prevent what he called "another horrible phenomenon."

Five troopers were killed and 155 injured last Wednesday when capricious winds slammed them into rocks and trees on this military reservation which straddles the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

Nearly 1,400 men were involved in that drop, a key part of a simulated war known as Operation Eagle Wing.

★ ★ ★

Westmoreland, who made his 70th jump in the Wednesday drop, said, "If I find it safe today, the troops will follow. Otherwise, I'll call off the show. The weather is still a big question mark."

Once the exercise gets started it involves 125 aircraft, tons of heavy equipment and 4,985 paratroopers from the pioneer Pentomic Division — so-called because its organization of five battle groups was designed for atomic war.

The men will be flown to this 88,000-acre reservation from states: Ohio, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

"You might call this our graduation ceremony," said Westmoreland. "Our soldiers have been taught how to exist on atomic battlefields and fight brush fire wars wherever they might spring up.

"Our objective now is to launch a counter-invasion against an aggressor force which landed last week."

The mock war ends April 30.

Police Hunt Murderer in Detroit

NEW BALTIMORE (INS) — Flecks of paint, a missing handyman and a stolen car were leads being checked today by police in the coffin murder of 65-year-old Walter Curlik, wealthy Detroit landlord.

Curlik was found nailed inside a wooden wardrobe or cupboard Saturday in a Macomb County wooded area near New Baltimore. Police said he was beaten and slashed to death with an ax or heavy knife.

The Macomb County coroner's office said the man had been dead about 48 hours before he was found stuffed inside the coffin-like box, shrouded with a painter's drop cloth. This cloth and paint flecks are being checked by police. They believe it came from one of Curlik's properties (at 1307 Woodland).

Sheriff Harley Ensign of Macomb County said he is convinced Curlik was murdered in Detroit, wrapped in the cloth and transported in the box to the lonely area where he was found Saturday.

A caretaker at the Woodland property has not been seen since Saturday. Homicide detectives refused to identify the man, except to say his first name is "John."

Curlik's wallet, believed to contain as much as $2,000 and his 1950 Buick (license EN 2790), are missing.

State Police to Study Bones Found on Farm

PORT AUSTIN (AP) — A human skull and other bones unearthed over the weeknd in a rural area near here were held by Huron County sheriff's officers today for study by State Police.

The skull, which deputies said appeared to be fractured, was found Saturday night on the Martin Fisher farm about 1½ miles southwest of here by Leo Cornett of Filion.

Sheriff Merritt R. McBride and a deputy went to the site and dug up a number of bones. McBride said the skull was human but he did not know about the bones. He said they would be sent to State Police headquarters in East Lansing for tests.

Gen. Twining to Go Easy

Cardinal Stritch Loses Arm in Operation for Blood Clot

The 70-year-old prelate's condition was described as very good.

CARDINAL STRITCH

Two Chicago physicians assisted in the surgery on the veteran churchman who was stricken aboard ship en route to take up his new duties as proprefect of the Vatican's worldwide mission activities. They were Dr. Ralph Bergen and Dr. John Keeley.

Dr. Filipo Rocchi of the Vatican medical staff, who also assisted, said the cardinal awoke soon after the operation and said he "was feeling fine and did not suffer any pain."

Dr. Rocchi said the churchman probably would remain in the hospital about two weeks.

Pope Pius XII, who had sent his blessings and had been praying for his colleague, was notified at once of the success of the operation. The pontiff expressed his happiness at the news.

Shortly before the cardinal went under the knife, he was visited by the pontiff's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi.

The cardinal, whose hand and lower forearm had been darkened and left lifeless by his ailment, was given the last rites of the church before the operation.

It was emphasized that they were administered to provide spiritual fortification, not because his life was in danger.

A veteran church relic, the arm of St. Francis Xavier, was placed against the cardinal's stricken flesh last night and then kept in his room throughout the night before the amputation.

The cardinal was afflicted with

Compromise Move Asks Car Price Cut

Report 1 Firm Already Drafting Rejection to Union Plan

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union today will propose that its contracts with the Big Three carmakers be extended for three months.

One of the companies already was reported drafting its rejection.

The UAW said the plan would be presented to regular negotiating sessions this afternoon. It declined to discuss details in advance.

However, it was learned that in exchange for the extension—which would make contracts expire just when 1959 models are ready for introduction — the union will ask the automakers to cut car prices and boost unemployment benefits.

Companies involved are General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. Present UAW contracts expire about June 1 with all three.

The union said none of the three has seen the new proposal. But a spokesman for one of the companies, who insisted his firm remain unnamed at this time, said a drafting of its rejection already is in the works.

The amount of the car price slash was not disclosed. It was understood the union wants supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) raised from the present 60 to 65 per cent of worker take home pay to 80 per cent.

The UAW also is seeking a profit-sharing plan, a wage increase and other benefits in negotiations on present contracts.

Another facet of the new proposal would have the union joining with the Big Three in urging the federal government to do away with the 10 per cent auto excise tax as a means of beefing up auto sales.

Drink-Crazed Dad Shoots 3

Gunman Gives Self Up After Opening Fire at Lincoln Park Reunion

LINCOLN PARK (INS) — Police held a drink-crazed father of six today for shooting a Lincoln Park policeman, a young mother and her four-year-old son to climax an outburst at a family reunion.

Gunman Jerome Kline, 32-year-old truck driver, escaped in the confusion last night, but surrendered to the principal of a church school.

Most seriously wounded was Patrolman Joseph Vago, 23. He was downed by a .38 caliber slug that struck his arm, then entered his side. Two other shots struck the officer's holster and belt and failed to penetrate.

He was listed today in "fair" condition.

Struck by shotgun pellets were Kline's sister-in-law, Mrs. Wilma Kline, 23, and her son, Richard Jr. They were given first aid at a hospital.

3 Dead, Many Homeless in Floods

Hail, Rain Pound Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Massive rain and hail storms had moved eastward out of the state today after touching off destructive flash floods and causing at least three deaths in east and north Texas.

Weather forecasters said the worst appeared to be over but more scattered thundershowers still were in prospect through tomorrow.

Hail damaged more than 200 homes near McKinney and a tornado whipped the roof off the Frenship School 4½ miles southeast of there in north Texas.

Rains measuring more than 12½ inches sent floodwaters surging into low-lying residential areas of Atlanta, in the state's northeast corner; Pittsburg, 45 miles to the west; and Dallars and Fort Worth.

More than 50 families were homeless in Texas. Travel was disrupted in the worst-hit areas.

Hail the size of golf balls smashed at Frisco, 10 miles southwest of McKinney, and icy chunks up to six inches thick pounded another rural area five miles southeast of Dallas.

At Love Joy, a small community in the same vicinity, hail stones piled up in drifts 14 inches deep.

The Louisiana - Arkansas Railroad suspended movement of all but work trains on the east end of its Texas division. Tracks were under water between Cason and Pittsburg and between Avinger and Hughes Springs.

Burglars Strike Churches, Firms

Rifle Poor-Boxes, Office Plus Six Gas Stations and Car Agencies Here

Churches, gas stations and auto dealerships were the major victims of burglars over the weekend, Pontiac police report.

★ ★ ★

Saturday night thieves ransacked the files and poor-boxes at St. Michael's Church, 100 Lewis St. Change was taken from the boxes.

The Church of God, 25 S. East Blvd., also was burglarized, the office ransacked, and about $30 taken.

Money from coin machines and cash registers were stolen from the following gas stations over the weekend: Campbell's Standard Service, 435 S. Saginaw St.; Pierre's Service Station, 684 S. East Blvd.; and Beatty's Service, 208 N. Paddock St.

An attempt was made to enter the Boulevard Service Station, 842 N. Perry St., but entry was not gained.

★ ★ ★

Burglars also struck at Cy Owens Ford Sales, 147 S. Saginaw, and took $72 from a cash box in an unlocked safe.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

A skating rink, as 85 W. Walton Blvd., was burglarized, but the owner has not yet determined what is missing.

Do you remember the lightning count? Does it really tell you how far away the lightning bolt was?

When you see a bolt of lightning and do not hear thunder, begin a second-count and note the number of seconds until you hear the thunder. Divide this number by five and you have the distance of the lightning.

This is an infallible rule and is based on the knowledge that sound travels only a fifth of a mile per second. Therefore it takes five seconds for the sound to travel a mile, even though you immediately see the flash, even at some distance.

★ ★ ★

Lightning seen in the west is most dangerous (in the north temperate zone) for it is probably heading toward you.

Billy Graham at Cow Palace in Frisco:

Sees Tranquilizers Supplanting God

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) Twenty-three thousand people overflowed the Cow Palace Sunday to hear Billy Graham, opening his West Coast crusade, condemn the age as one trying tranquilizers instead of God.

AP Facsimile

GRAHAM THRONGED — With San Francisco's huge Cow Palace jammed to capacity, evangelist Billy Graham stepped outside Sunday to address this large overflow crowd after opening a six-week crusade in the Palace. The Cow Palace seats 16,500. Many more were left outside.

"We are taking tranquilizer pills to quiet us, sleeping pills to put us to sleep, benzedrine to wake us up in the morning and aspirin in between," the North Carolina evangelist told 18,000 jamming the stock pavilion's 30,100 square feet.

"Our generation needs God more than any generation in history ... Psychiatrists are doing such a big business that they are going to each other for help."

Graham said it again outside the pavilion in a condensed sermon for 5,000 who couldn't get in.

Another 2,000 cars were turned away by police at the gates. At one time, officers said, cars were lined up three abreast for six miles trying to get to this West Coast counterpart of the Madison Square Garden meetings.

Before he arrived, Graham had criticized San Francisco—the city spawned by a gold rush—as statistically out front of the nation in drinking but far back in church attendance.

Yesterday, facing an audience of many races so typical of this gateway to the Orient, Graham acclaimed it one of the largest opening day crowds in his evangelistic career.

The San Francisco crusade is scheduled for six weeks, with a possible extension of two more.

"We are not here to put on a show or to entertain you," Graham said.

"You have been listening to the voice of the diplomat, the scientist, the psychiatrist, the sociologist and the military commander. It is time you listened to the voice of Almighty God."

a clot in the major artery of his arm which developed suddenly on the last two days of his voyage to Rome.

Upon his arrival in Naples Friday, he was weak and pale and already had lost the use of his limb.

Priests attending the ailing prelate said he had remained in good spirits right up until the operation. He talked and joked with Msgr. John Kelly and the Rev. John Banahan, two members of his party from Chicago, until he dozed off under the preoperative sedatives.

Shortly before undergoing surgery, the cardinal said to members of his staff: "Wasn't God nice to let me consecrate that bishop and ordain those priests before his happened?"

He referred to the consecration of Bishop James Ryan of Chicago, now a missionary in Brazil, and ordination of 34 priests for Chicago before he left the city for Rome.

★ ★ ★

A member of the cardinal's staff said it is doubtful whether he will ever consecrate or ordain again. In the church's liturgy important acts, including the breaking of the Eucharistic Host, normally require the use of both hands.

★ ★ ★

The Vatican Press Office pointed out, however that a decree of the Congregation of Rites expressly provides for the assistance of celebrants of the mass who are crippled.

The cardinal's severed arm will be buried in sanctified ground, in accordance with church regulations.

Weekend's Toll in Traffic Low

Only 3 Persons Killed; April Death Count Lags 39 Behind Last Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In what State Police described as an amazing display of safety, Michigan motorists got through the weekend with only three fatal traffic accidents. The death toll was the lowest for any weekend this year.

Police said that through midnight Sunday the state's traffic death toll for April was a low 72, compared to 111 for the same period in 1957.

Andrew VanderZee, 75, Grand Rapids, was killed Sunday when struck by a car in Grand Rapids.

Henry J. Babias, 35, Dearborn, was killed Saturday when his car struck an embankment on a curve in Dearborn Township.

Dudley A. Carson, 20, Wyandotte, was killed Friday night when his car struck a utility pole and burst into flames in Riverview, a Detroit suburb.

Links Cancer, Heart Attacks to Smoking

NEW YORK (INS) — A doctor from Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research reported today that he found lung cancer and heart attacks less frequent among a test group of non-smoking males than is average for the general male population. Incidence of lung cancer was found to be only 10 per cent of the national average for men, and heart attacks 60 per cent.

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, of New York, based his statement on a study of 8,692 patients with cancer and heart ailments in eight Seventh Day Adventist hospitals in the Los Angeles, Calif., area. Of these, 564 were Seventh Day Adventists, who refrain from smoking and drinking alcohol because of religious convictions.

Dr. Wynder said that 38 per cent of the Adventists' heart attacks struck before the age of 64, compared to 62 per cent among the other males before 64. He said:

★ ★ ★

"These findings suggest that smoking may precipitate (trigger) heart attacks and coronary artery disease and that the higher rate among young males in the general population may be associated with their smoking habits."

Bodies of 2 Baby Girls Found Wrapped in Paper

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Bodies of two newborn baby girls, both wrapped in paper bags, were found yesterday, one on the shores of Lake St. Clair at Selfridge Air Force Base and the other in Detroit.

Three Detroit fishermen, came across the baby on Selfridge property. Federal authorities took charge of the investigation. Macomb County Coroner Dr. Raymond G. Markle said the child had been dead two or three days.

★ ★ ★

The other infant was found in the center of Washburn Street in northwest Detroit by Razz Flowers, who called police. The child had been wrapped in a cotton slip and pajamas before being placed in the bag.

Police Arrest 2 Youths for Drag Racing in City

Two youths who police said were drag racing on a city street were arrested Saturday afternoon and charged with reckless driving.

Donald Dayner, 17, of 649 LeBaron St., and William Jameson, 19, of 753 Tennyson St., pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

They were each fined $15 or three days in jail and their drivers' licenses were revoked for 30 days.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Discuss Road-Oiling Program

BIRMINGHAM — Seven hearings, three concerning the summer road-oiling program, are scheduled for tonight's City Commission meeting.

Mrs. E. A. Sjogren has filed a letter of formal protest against the oil mat and seal coat proposed for Chestnut street. She states she feels city taxes should take care of this project without the establishment of a special assessment.

In the three necessity hearings there are 5,600 lineal feet slated for oil mat and seal coat, 3,840 for light oil and 46,390 for seal coat.

Other hearings concern the access drive on North Woodward and the retaining wall and sewer line relative to it.

Tonight's session also will open the door to numerous special meetings as commissioners go through the proposed 1958-59 budget. The proposed budget is $1,640,215, an increase of $42,819.60 over the budget for the fiscal year ending July 1.

Departmental requests would have raised the tax rate to approximately 20 mills. The budget, as submitted now, holds to the current 19.6 mills.

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Birmingham architects, have been selected by the East Detroit School District to design all buildings for its new expansion program, according to Thomas H. Hewlett.

The Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham will meet at 7 tonight at the home of Mrs. Margaret Halliday, 1407 Stanley Blvd. It has been announced that several of the club's members are planning to attend the officers' workshop in Ashland, Ohio, Thursday and Friday.

Robert W. Peden of 1462 Pierce St., Birmingham, has been elected vice president of the Michigan Council of the American Association for the United Nations.

Peden, who is controller of Wayne State University, also is president of the newly-formed Oakland County Chapter of the association.

The Inter-Lakes Women's Republican Club formerly called the West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Women's Republican Club, will open its membership drive with a tea Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Birmingham Community House.

Pearce Floral of Pontiac will demonstrate floral arrangements. Prospective members may make reservations with Mrs. Thomas J. Boyd.

Cohn to Appeal Sewage Decision

Oakland Judge Hartrick Denies Request to Halt Farmington Project

An appeal will be made to the Michigan Supreme Court on Friday's ruling of Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, in which he refused to issue an injunction which would have stopped construction of the $4,900,000 Farmington sewage disposal system.

Attorney Irwin I. Cohn, of 3277 Interlaken Dr., West Bloomfield Township, announced the decision this morning to appeal, even though he hadn't read Judge Hartrick's opinion.

"I've learned it's against us," declared Cohn, "so we will appeal." He indicated the high court might get the case in its October term.

Cohn had asked for the injunction claiming the 1957 act under which the Department of Public Works was proceeding with the project was in parts unconstitutional.

He said that for the project to be carried out, participating townships of West Bloomfield and Farmington and parts of the city of Southfield and Keego Harbor would have to exceed 15-mill tax limitation to pay for their shares of the sewer.

Judge Hartrick ruled that when public health was involved, this far outweighed any questions of tax limitations.

From 4 to 8 per cent of normal men and women are said to be left-handed.

Housewife Swims 26 Miles for Record

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A housewife finished swimming 26 miles from Catalina Island to Long Beach last night and claimed these world records:

Mrs. Amy Hiland, 32, of Long Beach, splashed ashore at Pierpoint Landing here shortly after 7 p.m. That was 24 hours and 25 seconds after she entered the island surf. She was seasick most of the way.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hiland last year swam 18.3 miles across the Strait of Muan De Fuca from Port Angeles, Wash., to William Head, Vancouver Island. That made her, she said, the first woman to swim between the United States and Canada.

★ ★ ★

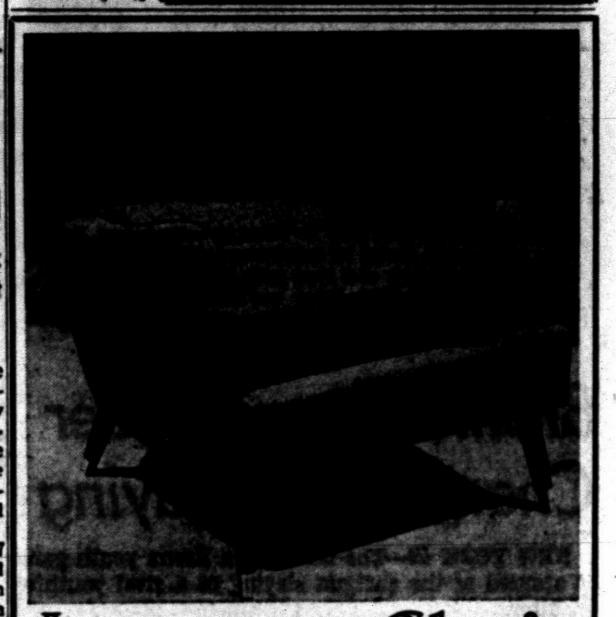

Her explanation for attempting such feats:

"Every woman has to have a challenge to be happy."

Giant Alligators Bask in New York Sewers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — AMERICANS IN A NUTSHELL:

In preparation for National Foot Health Month (May) Boston Doctor Joseph Lelyveld (callouses consultant to the Dionnes, Queen Elizabeth's kiddies and Princess Caroline of Monaco) confides that a good way for the average man to ease feet is to rest them frequently on his desk. Simultaneously, no doubt, watching arches rise and wages fall. . .

The Knoxville Symphony's conductor, David Van Vactor, took a survey which shows students with fine musical taste have higher grades and leadership qualities. Rock 'n' roll stimulates the nerves, symphony the imagination. . .

Gallup reports that inability to earn enough money is number one complaint of 90 per cent of Americans. The unfrustrated 10 per cent were not in high income brackets: just in low boiling-point category. . .

"Women who gamble do not mind losing money as much as men who gamble," according to Alyne Whalen, who interior decorated the gay, gaudy Roosevelt Raceway, and is now doing up New York's Aqueduct race track.

Dozens of alligators bask in the damp darkness of New York City's 5,000 miles of sewer system. "Catholic Digest" reports they were bought as pets by children and flushed away by parents. In the sewers they grow into monster size. No danger. Twenty-thousand men guard the city — from underneath. . .

More immediate threat to peace of mind is revealed by the Better Business Bureau, which warns of crooked air-conditioning advertising.

In special bulletins, BBB says disregard all claims of "no wiring problem," "just plug in," "take it home and be cool tonight," etc. Special wiring, BBB insists, is required for ALL room air conditioners, at least in this city.

Dianna Gayle Bell, the national Camp Fire Girls' "exceptional teenager" from Baton Rouge, runs a nursery for all the neighborhood children on Wednesday nights so their parents can attend church services. She is, by rank and inclination, a "torch-bearer". . .

Are televised college courses a snap, or are home-viewers brighter than classroom students? NYU's pioneer video course in comparative literature had an enrollment of 142. Ten per cent received "A," and 50 per cent "B" . . .

On the subject of women being stronger, longer-lived and wealthier than men, a Michigan male writes:

"Sure men are weaker, but who builds and operates the ocean liners, sea-spanning aircraft, 1,600-foot TV towers, miles-long bridges? Sure man is dumber, but who discovered pasteurization, insulin, polio vaccine, and surgical techniques that enable you women to live so long? Sure man's life span is shorter, but who devotes his precious few years to exploring, pioneering, defending his country and the lazy women who over-populate it?"

Butcher's Boy From Bavaria

Will Strauss Succeed Adenauer?

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Franz Joseph Strauss has been called a butcher's boy from Bavaria, but his kitchen humor, vote-getting and parliamentary ability have made him one of the most powerful men in West Germany.

Now defense minister, the jovial husky politician has the inside political track to succeed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

He is bending every effort for a general review of the military restrictions placed on his country by the West. Recently he said West Germany should be permitted to develop such atomic energy projects as nuclear-powered submarines and planes.

Strauss, now 42, is a former anti-aircraft gunner, and is admired by his friends for his political daring. But his opponents worry about his demagogic appeal to the voters.

He was the son of a Munich butcher, and studied linguistics and education at the university in his native city. World War II interrupted his steps toward the eaching profession, but he graduated in 1939 into military service.

He had the good fortune to be captured by the United States, and at the end of the war, the U. S. military governor gave him his first job in public life as deputy county director of the Schongau District.

In the same year he became a founding father of the Christian Social Union, the Bavarian affiliate of Dr. Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party.

When the German Federal Republic was established, Strauss was elected by his constituency to the Bundestag. He became chairman of the Bundestag Youth Committee and later chairman of the Committee for European Security. Adenauer took him into the cabinet in 1953 as minister for special tasks.

Circus Performer Falls to His Death

The Norwegian performer was doing a balancing act with three chairs atop a pole when he lost his balance and fell to the ground.

His wife Gerda, his assistant in the act, was watching from the arena entrance. She said the couple had been living in Los Angeles and getting only small engagements lately.

★ ★ ★

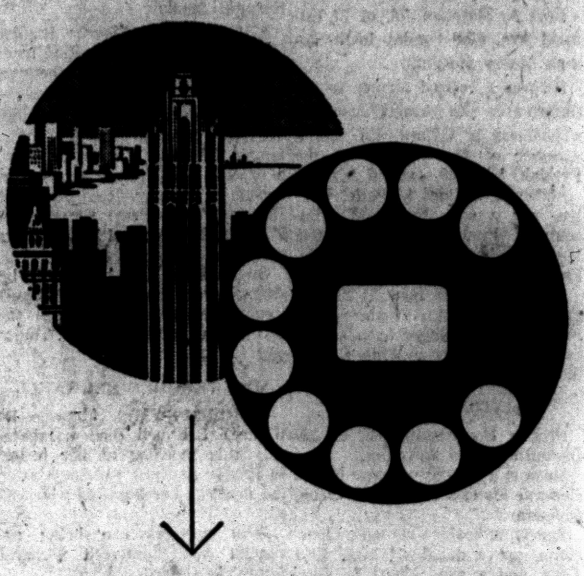

"We hoped things were going to get better from now on," she said. "We came from Norway only two years ago and expected that in this country, where people love to see the kind of skill and personal risk called for in our act, we would go right to the top as star performers."

★ ★ ★

Police Question Man in Deaths

Two Men, Woman Shot in Mysterious Ambush Near Pittsburgh

AMBRIDGE, Pa. (AP)—A 41-year-old man was in police custody at an undisclosed place today for questioning about the mysterious slayings of two men and the wounding of a woman.

★ ★ ★

Arthur G. Schuck of nearby Baden was taken into custody a short while after William Engel, 44, Ambridge, and Vincent Quigley, 34, Economy, were shot to death and Miss Angelina Pugliano, 33, Fair Oaks, was wounded.

The three were shot in ambush as their car backed into a driveway a few doors from Quigley's home in Economy about 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

Dist. Atty. Richard Steward said he had information indicating the shooting was a case of mistaken identity, but he declined to elaborate.

Police said Schuck appeared to be in a stupor and refused to answer questions.

Engel, part owner of a machinery parts firm, and Miss Pugliano, his date, were believed to have been taking Quigly home when the shooting occurred.

★ ★ ★

Steward said the gunman was waiting in a car when Engel's car approached. As Engel backed into a driveway to turn around, Steward said, the gunman fired five shots at close range.

Anti-French Faction Looks Like Winner

LOME, French Togoland (AP)—Unofficial returns today from Assembly elections in this west African U. N. trust territory indicated a sweep for opposition elements who want to sever all ties with France, which administers the country.

★ ★ ★

Final results from yesterday's balloting are not expected for several days. But reports reaching this capital indicated that opposition candidates were leading in most constituencies. Political observers predicted they would take at least 30 of the 46 seats in the new Assembly.

★ ★ ★

The voting, supervised by some 30 U. N. observers, was the first in which all adults were eligible to participate.

Auction Must Be Noisy

OKENE, Okla. (AP)—The 19th annual Okeene Rattlesnake Roundup was termed a success b the Chief Rattler of the International Assn. of Rattlesnake Hunters, Harold Smith, after a total of 3,924 rattlers weighing 4,476 pounds were sold at auction. The longest was 6 feet 1¼ inches.

Sound waves travel at a rate of about 1,100 feet per second.

Discrimination Being Tackled, Says Truman

"If we look at ourselves in the true spirit of brotherhood," Truman said last night, "we must acknowledge that in the United States there are instances of discrimination and injustice because of difference in color, religion or national origin.

"But we are working diligently to overcome these violations of the fundamental faith which holds us together."

Truman spoke at the eighth annual dinner of Universal Brotherhood Movement of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. He was presented with the movement's annual Brotherhood Award.

Even Blaze Attends Firemen's Convention

WOODLAND, Calif. (AP)—The annual convention of the California Rural Firemen's Assn. ended on a fitting note yesterday — a fire broke out in convention headquarters at the Hotel Woodland.

★ ★ ★

A delegate called the fire department. Then the conventioners watched while Woodland firemen put out the blaze, which destroyed a motor and fan in a kitchen vent unit.

Fanatic Nationalists Win in South Africa

In South Africa's general election, the incumbent, Prime Minister JOHANNES G. STRIJDOM was returned to power as expected.

For the next five years his extreme segrationists Nationalist Party of one million will rule South Africa's three million Whites, 1.2 million Coloreds and 10 million Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Established by the British in 1910, eight years after the Boer War, the Union of South Africa consists of the Transvaal, Cape of Good Hope, Orange Free State and Natal. Since 1948 when Dr. DANIEL F. MALAN'S Nationalist Party took over control from the great statesman, Gen. JAN CHRISTAAN SMUTS, the Union has retrogressed and its government is now the most strident advocate of segregation.

Economically the Union is the most advanced African country and could be expected to be the most progressive in human relations. Yet other areas such as Ghana, Nigeria and now Kenya, are solving their equal rights problems and working toward multi-racial legislatures.

The Union is part of the British Commonwealth and it won't be too surprising if Prime Minister STRIJDOM, a descendant of Boer settlers, now demands complete independence from Britain. His country withdrew from membership in the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) in 1955 alleging interference in its racial problems.

"For better or for worse the old Africa is gone and the white races must face the new situation which they themselves created," the late Gen. Smuts once declared. With his "divine mission" of preserving the country for white Africans, Mr. Strijdom is building up racial hatreds which could burst into an explosion affecting the whole world.

Record Wheat Crops Wrecking Farm Plan

It looks as though we are in for a record wheat crop despite some adverse weather conditions in Eastern and Southeastern areas.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has forecast that winter wheat will amount to 964 million bushels. A record yield per acre is expected to contribute to the fourth largest crop of winter wheat yet grown.

It's too early in the season to have any accurate figures on spring wheat but by taking the average yield of the past three years, experts are talking of 225 million bushels. This would mean a total of 1.19 billion bushels. The July 1958 carryover from previous years will be about 880 million bushels, the lowest in five years. But estimated carry over as of July 1959 is likely to be 1.07 billion bushels, some of it due to a record wheat harvest in Western Europe.

In an effort to hold down production, Secretary BENSON cut the support price on the 1958 crop to 75 percent of parity, or $1.78 a bushel, instead of 80 per cent or $2 support price in 1956 and 1957. Farmers figured, however, that instead of reducing acreage, as the Secretary wanted, they'd grow more wheat to make up for the cut in support price, and they did.

Secretary Benson maintains that high price supports do not go hand in hand with farm prosperity. He points out that farm income in general rose 11 per cent in the last year despite price weaknesses in some crops and that the greatest improvement in farm prices has been in commodities not subject to price support such as potatoes, eggs, beef and hogs.

This would indicate that a free market with no government interference has done for these farmers what high price supports have failed to do for other farm commodities.

INDIVIDUAL savings are at highest level ever — $300 billion — a record amount for available spending. There's a new wave of opportunity coming and smart people are getting ready for it.

Tunnel Under Hill

It Is Possible if Dixie Continues Our Main Street

Do-it-yourself: What should be extended to thinking.

Michigan Highway Department

at Lansing is to the effect that it is not beyond possibility that might some day be tunneled. It has been felt that increasing traffic on would make this advisable if it continues to be Oakland County's main street, and that of Michigan.

It would eliminate three bad curves, and do away with that highway's biggest traffic hagard, which already has cost dozens of lives.

Those who made entries in our baseball contest will be interested in today's top batters who, following Sunday's games are:

	G	AB	R	H	Pct.

Kuenn, Detroit	13	53	8	22	.415
Robinson, Baltimore	10	32	6	13	.406
McDougald, New York	11	42	8	16	.381
Martin, Detroit	9	35	6	14	.368

Just the Men to Knock Off Hill '58

David Lawrence Says:

Constitution Is Usurped by Court

WASHINGTON — Will the Supreme Court of the United States be required to return to its original role—to serve solely as a judicial institution? Will a majority of the present justices give up their evident determination to change the court into a "third legislative chamber"?

LAWRENCE

The fight in Congress at the moment centers on a move to enact legislation which would spell out in detail the limits of the Supreme Court's authority to pass upon certain kinds of cases.

Congress, under the Constitution, may by law specify to a certain extent what type of cases the Supreme Court may consider for decision. Many observers think none of the pending bills will be adopted at this session. But the fight is only beginning.

Many groups of citizens throughout the nation are taking up the issue because it is felt that public opinion has not yet been alerted to the usurpation practiced by the present court.

An effort is being made by critics of the pending legislation to imply that the court as an institution is under fire. On the contrary, it is the activity of those who have perverted the court's original purposes and judicial functions which has brought on the controversy of today.

When as eminent a man in Congress as the veteran from Wyoming, Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Democrat, asks that every judge be required to swear specifically in his oath that he will not participate in any decisions that "knowingly alter the Constitution"—a procedure which a Senate subcommittee now requires before confirming new judges—it indicates a belief that something is wrong with the attitude of the present justices toward the Constitution. Their decisions apparently reflect a feeling that they may sit on the bench for life and legislate without regard to constitutional precepts of the past.

Unfortunately too many people have been misled into believing that the sole criticism of the court now is due to the fact that it disregarded law and precedent in deciding the "desegregation" cases on "Psychological" rather than on legal grounds.

Putting aside these cases, however, there are many other decisions of a far-reaching nature which, if unreversed either by Congress or the people, will make the Supreme Court a "third legislative chamber." This, by the way, is the phrase used by Judge Learned Hand, the distinguished judge, now in retirement, who formerly sat on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York and won a nationwide reputation for the soundness of his judicial decisions.

The present Supreme Court has ignored the Constitution in many cases. Though the Constitution, for instance, says that Congress and the judiciary are coordinate and independent institutions, the Supreme Court has undertaken to tell congressional committees what subjects they may investigate and what questions are pertinent to an inquiry—as if there were any limit on the right of Congress to get information on which to base laws or new amendments to the Constitution.

The Supreme Court has given professed Communists a break by declaring that Congress has no right to say by law that persons joining organizations which advocate the overthrow of our government may be punished.

The court says, in effect, it must be proved that the individual Communist has engaged in specific action aimed at the immediate overthrow of government. He can preach treason but can be prosecuted only if the treason is successful in its effect on other persons.

★ ★ ★

The country has not yet waked up to the dangers of the court's unprecedented rulings. The pending bills designed to limit or restrict the jurisdiction of the court constitute the beginning of a prolonged battle to stop the usurpation of legislative power by the present Supreme Court. It may take years to win the fight, but the struggle will increase in intensity as the public learns what's at stake.

★ ★ ★

It is not the court as an institution, but the mistaken attitude of a majority of the justices as to what the court has a right to do, which is the basis for the growing demand that the powers of the present court be curbed. It's not the proper use, but the abuse, of the judicial function which is at issue.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Go Ahead, Have Arthritis —It's a Free Country!

This, in some respects, is still a free country. Any poor soul may believe if he wishes that his chronic joint disability is rheumatism, or if he can afford a more exclusive name, arthritis.

DR. BRADY

Moreover he can attribute his complaint to exposure to foul weather, cold, dampness and this dreadful climate, and corroborate the notion by citing eminent medical authorities.

Without discussing the subject in detail — for that, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz—I'll say here that a great many readers who have had personal experience with joint disability of long duration (over a year) have obtained great benefit from the practice of supplementing their ordinary diet with a suitable daily ration of calcium and D.

This is not medicine and it does not cure anything. It is simply essential food — food which everyone should get every day.

Everyone would get enough calcium and D to prevent such trouble if he consumed enough milk, cheese, eggs, green leafy vegetables, peas, beans, nuts and peanuts; and exposed as much skin as possible to sunlight or diffuse skylight daily, to manufacture the daily requirement of vitamin D.

Besides the foods mentioned, the following foods are good sources of calcium for a high calcium or health diet:

A healthy person excretes 10 to 12 grains of calcium through the intestine and 2 or 3 grains through the kidneys daily.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Have you any suggestions for preventing and curing ivy poisoning?" (J. C.)

Answer — Yes. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on Ivy Poisoning.

"Should motel drinking glasses be sterilized, cleaned with scouring powder or washed in automatic dishwasher?" (F. J.)

Answer—Yes. But I'd prefer a paper cup.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'What of Glass in Schools in Case of Tornado Alert?'

Letters are being received by parents of school children wherein the Pontiac Board of Education requests we don't call at schools for our children in case of tornado alert. This would surely result in confusion true enough. When we stop to think of construction of these new school buildings, however, we feel there is righteous cause for concern for our children's safety.

★ ★ ★

Nearly entire walls of glass compose a large part of the buildings, yet all safety instructions markedly state "keep out of reach of flying glass." Even if these schools had basements, the danger would be very real.

★ ★ ★

Would someone please explain why glass is used so expansively in in our schools and what precautions are taken to insure our children's safety in a disaster?

Warns Against Waiting to Buy

The government has made its mistakes, but the biggest ones are being made right here. Thousands of people are holding back from buying things they can afford and use to good advantage, because they want to see what everyone else is going to do.

★ ★ ★

While they wait, the inflation spiral goes up, and when they wake up and realise American economy is what people make it, they'll have lost 20 to 40 per cent in purchasing power. Then you'll see the wildest scramble in history to own something real.

★ ★ ★

When this happens they make their second mistake. It will overstrain the inflation spiral and millions now considered wealthy will be poor as money goes begging for recognition. Don't expect money to harden down as in depression days. They were still on the gold standard them, and money had a rock bottom. Now the only bottom it has can hit zero.

'Be Sure to Check Before You Send'

If you have a washing and ironing to do, do it yourself or really know whom you're sending it to. I sent mine to a woman who had advertised she would pick up and deliver. She picked it up but I had to go after it. She did a good job and I paid her.

★ ★ ★

The next week she came again and I sent my clothes. Now I can't get them back because she said I didn't pay her for the first week. I could take her to court but that takes money, and I might as well use it to replace my clothes. Maybe the dog chewed them up, I don't know.

Get a receipt any time you give someone money, even if it's only a nickel and from your best friend. If I'd had a receipt, I'd have my clothes.

Thanks to the Oakland County sheriff and state police who raided the hall in Auburn Heights where the gang was engaged in showing obscene movies at a Teamster party, according to deputies. Shame on Coach Fisher of Michigan. When State offers him an honorary blanket he turns it down because the State coach pointed out one of Michigan's players was ineligible. Does Fisher want to play ineligible boys? Does he want to break the code of honor and decency? What sort of a "coach" is that?

Further, his refusal to accept the blanket makes him out a very, very small man. This is not the teaching of Fielding H. Yost and Fritz Crisler. Michigan suffered a body blow in sportsmanship through this bungler's stupidity.

Compares Guest to Classic Poets

Rowland is a stickler for technical perfection even though he misses the essential matter of "human interest." Many artists and poets likewise miss the boat, even though they may be headlined in college English courses every year. Edgar Guest is a far greater poet than Keats and Shelley, combined, for Mr. Guest writes of human values instead of Grecian urns!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X-391: Rowland B., aged 46, is an officer of our U.S. Navy, who makes photography his hobby.

★ ★ ★

He was showing pictures to Mrs. Crane and myself. I expressed pleasure at a photo of a youngster asleep with his head pillowed on his old hound dog.

DR. CRANE

But Rowland discarded my choice as unfit for his exhibit because the light and shadow were not perfect.

His preference was a photograph of a pile of stones!

"Notice my perfect lighting effect thereon," he exclaimed excitedly.

Well, whether the light was perfect or not cuts little ice with most people. The general public wouldn't have looked twice at his pile of rocks!

Children and animals are far more appealing than rocks or trees! That's why an early New York editor used to insist that all photographs for his newspaper contain a dog.

In my college textbook on Applied Psychology I have thus devoted an entire chapter to the psychology of writing and of art.

Granted that technical matters have some value, an artist must not be so preoccupied with light and shadow effects that he forgets the essential human interest content of his picture.

Even poets need to heed this warning, too, for "An Ode to a Grecian Urn" cannot remotely compare with Edgar Guest's "It Takes a Heap O' Living in a House to Make it Home."

★ ★ ★

In that connection, I'd like to pay tribute to Edgar Guest. In my estimation he is the greatest poet who ever lived, and I am not exaggerating.

Like William Shakespeare and Charles Dickens, Edgar Guest is a consumate psychologist.

His writings deal with human relations. His genius lies in lifting out the psychological values of our social relations instead of mere light and shadow effects on a pile of stones or a Grecian urn!

Although I minored in English at Northwestern University when I obtained my Ph.D. degree, and thus read all the poets prescribed in the many courses offered by our English Department, I think Edgar Guest far exceeds Keats and Shelley.

BRAVO — EDGAR GUEST

Edgar Guest's poem "To All Parents" is such an inspiration to all mothers and fathers who lose a child by death, that Mrs. Crane and I had it included in the little memorial booklet when our son George crashed in his jet plane.

★ ★ ★

But my admiration for Edgar Guest is not due to mere sentimentality or the death of our son.

Mr. Guest's verses have literally been read by more people than has the poetry of any other poet in world history!

Edgar Guest hasn't had the benefit of the free promotion which Keats and Shelly obtain perennially from professors of English in every college.

Edgar Guest's poetry has been clipped out of newspapers and memorized by good people for nearly 50 years here in America because of its sheer merit.

About 35 years ago I heard Edgar Guest deliver a recital of his own poetry at Evanston, Illinois, and I realized then that he was far superior to the highly touted favorites of English professors, such as Keats and Shelley.

★ ★ ★

A lot of mediocre writers still are extolled because they just happen to have free press agents each new generation in the English departments of our universities.

Their writings often aren't up to the level of current authors, but they get the benefit of the "halo" of antiquity and new indoctrination of impressionable college youth each generation.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

GIs Join Clubs With Germans

Sip Beer Together to Form Friendships in Suspicious Society

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Once a week, about two dozen German and American men gather for beer, lunch and chitchat.

This is a meeting of the German-American Club, a postwar institution in many West German towns and cities. There are about 50 such clubs, with a total membership of more than 5,000.

The president of the Munich club, which has 200 members, is Lt. Col. Bolton Pierce, 45, Lakeland, Fla., deputy commander of the U.S. Army's Munich area command.

Why did he join the club?

"Well," Pierce replied, "it's hard to meet Germans otherwise. Most American military personnel live in their little settlements and do nothing but shuttle between their offices, the PX and the commissary and never get out and meet people.

★ ★ ★

"This is also partly the fault of the Germans. I sometimes think they're a little suspicious of us. Also, they're not as friendly and open as the average American."

Once a month, the club has a social event, to which wives are invited. The social affairs have ranged from bingo parties to boat rides.

German-American clubs also have sponsored vacations for refugee children from Communist East Germany and provide several scholarships for German and American exchange students.

CROWD GATHERS AT ZOOLOGY EXHIBIT — Attracting a great deal of attention at the Ottawa District Scout-O-Rama Saturday and Sunday at Walled Lake High School was this zoology exhibit staged by Boys Republic Post 11 of Farmington. A zoo in miniature, it featured live muskrats, fox, raccoon, skunks, wild rabbits, porcupine and many varieties of snakes found in Michigan, including the rattler.

28,000 Attend Scout-O-Rama

Best Crowd in History of Walled Lake Event Sees Giant Production

WALLED LAKE — An estimated 28,000 persons toured the 5th Annual Ottawa District Scout-O-Rama held Saturday and Sunday at Walled Lake Senior High School. This was the largest crowd in the history of the event, according to Earl L. Gruber, general chairman.

The giant production, which included exhibits on all phases of scout activities and two stage shows, was put on by some 2,400 scouts and their 700 adult leaders.

There were Indian dances, music, "mid-way" booths, and numerous demonstrations, such as the making of a canoe of orange crates and fiberglas, and many other scout projects.

To accommodate the overflow crowd, Sunday hours were extended two hours to 8 p.m. and an additional stage show was put on, Gruber said.

Building Bigger Homes

CHICAGO — Houses are being built larger nowadays. Fifteen per cent of those started during 1957 have 1,500 square feet compared with 10 per cent in 1956. Also, 31 per cent of the 1957 starts have 1½ baths in contrast to 28 per cent of 1956 starts.

There are about 80,000 recognized species of the moths and butterflies.

Two Others Escape Flames

Detroit Youth, 17, Perishes in Flash Fire

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A 17-year-old Detroit youth was burned to death early Sunday morning in a flash fire at the home of a friend with whom he was spending the night.

★ ★ ★

The body of Filton Cameron was found four feet from the front door of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cook, 21055 Mendota, burned beyond recognition, according to Township Fire Capt. Sam Mitchell.

Mitchell said young Cook told him he and Cameron had prepared some food on the gas stove and apparently had left the burners on when they went to sleep.

The Fire Department was called at 1:55 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Cook and another son, Archie Jr., were away at the time.

Troopers Hunt for Dog That Bit Romeo Boy, 8

ROMEO—State Police in Romeo are hunting for a large brown and white dog which bit an eight-year-old boy early Sunday evening in the vicinity of Van Dyke and Kaeding roads.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The doctor who treated the boy said if the dog is not found he will have to give Raymond a series of painful rabies inoculations.

Take Over $800 From Local Bar

Thieves Move Safe Into Walk-In Freezer to Pry Top Off

A total of $870 in cash and merchandise was stolen from the Town and Country Bar, at 1727 S. Telegraph Rd., Bloomfield Township, early this morning, according to Bloomfield Township Police.

Approximately $800 cash was taken from a safe. Also taken was a case of whisky, four bottles of Scotch, 50 ball point pens, and an undetermined amount of petty cash from the cash register, said Police Chief Norman Dehnke.

"The safe which was located in the kitchen, was moved into a walk-in freezer where its top was pried off," said Behnke.

The owner of the bar, James L. Anderson, said the theft occurred between 2:30 a.m. when the bartender closed up, and 5 a.m. when a clean-up man arrived.

★ ★ ★

The job closely resembled a breakin at Teamsters Local 614, at 1410 S. Telegraph Rd., earlier this month, in which the safe was moved to a ladies room and looted of $200, Dehnke said.

Argentina Rids Country, Maps of Peron Name

Since the overthrow of the dictator in 1955, almost a thousands place names have been changed in the nation he ruled. Scores involving "Peron" were dropped. Eva Peron Province, named after his wife, has become La Pampa. Presidente Peron Province is now Chaco.

The map, second in the Society's program that will culminate in a new atlas of the world, shows many other changes in the burgeoning countries of the south.

Ushuaia, Argentina, for example, has had to give up its title as the world's southernmost town. A settlement called Puerto Williams has grown up around a new Chilean naval base on Navarino Island south of Tierra del Fuego. Some 350 persons live there, 28 miles from Ushuaia, and 680 miles from Antarctica.

Height and depth estimates have also changed. Mount Aconcagua, in western Argentina, surpasses North America's champion, Mount McKinley, by some 2,500 feet and is the highest peak in the Western Hemisphere.

Hal Boyle Says:

Manhattan Barely Notices Space Visitor

He was small but well developed. His three ears were within hearing distance. His eyes — all four of them—though narrow and dark, had an air of utter simplicity.

The antennae that protruded from his forehead were borne with a boyish air, one tilted as if eager to hear from a world he nerer had heard from, one bent to feel the world he knew.

★ ★ ★

His eyes, though green and protruding, seemed ordinary for a Monday in Manhattan. Those who noticed he had four arms during the subway crush tended to admire them and overlooked his other head.

Fortunately, his first reports back from his stranded flying saucer were recorded.

"The place called the earth is warm and habitable. At the hour of landing it was populated.

"The inhabitants range from large aggressive two-legged creatures who call themselves men to small aggressive creatures whom men call insects. The insects have six legs, and a vocabulary of their own, which this expedition is not momentarily able to understand.

"Earth seems to be involved in a time of struggle.

"They all have their rituals, the men and the insects, and they all seem to have their goals. The goal between the insects, and the men seems to be the same: extermination. Whether they have two or six legs, they are bent on destroying each other.

"There appears no area of agreement. Some men fight other men, some insects fight other insects, all men fight all insects, some insects fight all men.

"It is a disparate place. The contending people argue whether one man wins against each other. They all assume that their war against each other is more important than their war against the insects.

"The insects attack all men, also many of their own kind, and they utilize their mandibles for food rather than discussion. They would rather digest than discourse.

"The people seem to feel that if they can just whip each other, they can then handle the insects. The insects rarely fight back. They fasten and feed.

In summary: earth is roughly spheroid, turns on an axis, slants, which determines its weather, is available for exploration.

Political assessment: positive. It could be made a nice rest resort by a higher power."

Using Map Won't Help in Finding Sierra Vista

BISBEE, Ariz. (AP) — A group of Sierra Vista citizens complained to the Cochise County Board of Supervisors that being ignored was worse than being attacked.

Sam Barchas, spokesman for the group, rolled out a brand new county map and pointed out his complaint—no Sierra Vista was listed.

Remember the good old days, when a dollar was worth 75 cents. . . . To some families, the installment plan is something that makes the months seem shorter and the years seem longer.—Earl Wilson.

Busiest Days Coming for Unsure Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This busy Congress, bewildered first by the Sputniks and then by the recession, has its busiest days ahead.

When the legislators quit for 1957 last summer there had been no Sputniks and they were not very conscious of the dropping American economy.

They could look forward — so it seemed—to be a fairly routine session in 1958 and then the campaigns for the November elections.

But then the Soviets sent up their Sputniks. Congress came back in January excited about the missile race, hardly noticing the deepening recession.

By the time this country got up its three little satellites the broadening gloom of the recession hit Congress square in the face.

★ ★ ★

Between January and now, Congrss has worked pretty hard, passing legislation which could be called anti-recession measures.

But the Congress members, like the Eisenhower administration, have shown some bewilderment in coping with this recession problem:

How to get the economy back on the track without derailing it by doing too much or too little too soon or too late?

★ ★ ★

Now Congress is in its closing months of 1958 with its biggest and most heated issues ahead.

1. The election campaign. Even when its work is done it must go home and face the voters. All 435 House seats and 34 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake next November.

★ ★ ★

2. Unemployment pay. It's struggling with a bill to give extra benefits to jobless people who have already exhausted theirs or who never got any at all.

3. The recession. Even unemployment pay may not be enough. If the recession gets worse, far more action may be needed.

4. Reciprocal trade and foreign aid. President Eisenhower wants both renewed. He seems certain to get both. The question is: In what form?

5. Streamlining the Defense Department. Eisenhower insists on action. It's an angry issue, with some lawmakers mighty stubborn against him.

6. Pension and welfare funds. The Senate almost surely will approve this week a measure to protect such funds for employes. But this can't become law until the House also acts.

7. More regulations on unions. Before it leaves, Congress may have to tackle major labor legislation, which may also put clamps on employers too.

8. Outer space. Congress is wrestling in this new field with the idea of setting up an outer space agency. The question here is: Civilian or military control of it?

9. Appropriations. This is the problem Congress faces every year: Voting enough money to keep the government running.

Last year was stormy, with Congress embroiled over civil rights. This has been a fairly quiet year, but an uneasy one, and intense.

Marquette Boy Dies in Fishing Accident

MARQUETTE (AP) — Ten-year-old Carl Ingalls drowned yesterday when he tumbled from a homemade raft while fishing with his 9-year-old brother.

State Police said the boy and his brother, Dennis, were fishing on Pelesier Lake seven miles south of Marquette when Carl fell in the water.

★ ★ ★

A 12-year-old girl, Sue Ann Matson, who was fishing in a nearby boat with her father, Leonard, grabbed for Carl and fell overboard, too, but was rescued by her father. He failed in an attempt to rescue the boy.

Fears Rain Above Police

DALLAS (AP) — Policeman R. R. Scrivner figured a thief with more fear of weekend downpours than retribution took his raincoat from a patrol car. The black rubber coat carries the world "police" in big letters across the back—and the white letters glow in the dark.

5-Month Search for Girl, 7, Ends

Body Found in Woods by Mushroom Hunters; Police Seek Clues

GALENA, Ill. (AP)—Police today hunted for clues in the death of little Maria Ridulph, whose decomposed body was found in the woods near here Saturday, ending a search of nearly five months for the 7-year-old girl.

Dr. A. R. K. Matthews, a state pathologist, who examined the decomposed remains of Maria, said he was unable to determine the cause, time, or place of her death because of the condition of the body.

★ ★ ★

State police said they planned to question sex degenerates and ex-convicts in the Galena area, in the northwest part of the state, as well as in the area near Maria's home at Sycamore. She was abducted from near her home last Dec. 3. She was last seen when she accepted a strange man's offer of a piggy back ride.

★ ★ ★

Her body was found in a wooded area near Woodbine, about 75 miles northwest of Sycamore, by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sitar of Hopkins, Minn., who were hunting mushrooms.

IT'S GOT A "SIX SENSE" ABOUT SAVINGS!
You're on to the BUDGET-BUY of '58 when you take to the road in a NEW CHEVROLET powered by the thrifty, frisky BLUE-FLAME 6. The price range runs as low as the roofline. In fact, the only thing that doesn't run low is the gas tank!
If you like to go first class at extra-low fare, a new Chevrolet with the Blue-Flame 6 under its bonnet is your kind of traveler.
First, take a look at the price tag on one of the new Chevy models powered by this 235-cubic-inch engine. You'll find it's trimmed down to convenient pocket size.
The traveling's lighter with a Chevy six in other ways, too. You'll see what we mean when you notice the gas mileage you get.
Yet this six has an engineful of ginger—145 h.p. with a spunky 8.25 to 1 compression ratio. And whether you prefer a six or one of Chevrolet's five vigorous V8's, you'll find your choice of engine is available on every model.

Pilot Injured Riding Scorpion Jet Down

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An F89D jet Scorpion crashed and burned at Tinker Air Force Base yesterday after the pilot rode the disabled craft to the ground and the radar man parachuted.

The pilot, First Lt. D. A. Pierstorff, 26, was seriously injured as the twin-jet plowed into a ravine. His radar man, First Lt. C. F. Aschenbrenner, 27, landed unhurt in a city street.

Sharp Upswings in Two Weeks

Measle Rash Hits Across Nation

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
INS Medical Science Editor

During the first 16 weeks of 1958, some 335,900 cases were spotted, compared to 248,571 for a similar period in '57.

For the two weeks ended April 19, the latest reporting period, sharp upswings came in Vermont, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, North Dakota, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

Texas had 5,515 cases for the two-week period, marking the biggest increase in any state. During a similar period in 1957, there were 1,762 measles cases in this state.

Measles, the commonest of all contagious diseases of childhood, runs in cycles—up one year, then down for the next, hitting a peak in the "even" years.

This year—1958—is an even year. One attack confers immunity. Second attacks are exceedingly rare. Up to the age of four months, babies usually are immune to the disease, an immunity that is passed on by mothers.

The infectious virus can be picked up through touching, kissing or being around a measles patient when he sneezes.

According to public health experts most children catch it. It is estimated that only two per cent of the U.S. population reaches adulthood — between 20 and 25 years of age — without having had measles. In the adult, the disease usually is harder to take, but rarer and hardly ever fatal.

It takes from eight to 14 days for the measles virus to hatch—if you catch the disease by having direct contact with one who has measles.

One way you can tell if it's happening to you is if you feel sleepy, have a loss of appetite, and within the first few days a redness about the eyes develops, along with a slight fever.

By the fourth day, the rash starts, appearing first on the face and then spreading to the rest of the body.

Ordinarily the rash lasts for four or five days and fever may hit a peak of between 104 to 105 degrees. There's a cough, too.

A severe complication of measles can be broncho-pneumonia, and it may be fatal. Mastoid trouble, brain abscess or even meningitis are other possible complications.

Parents frequently fear serious eye damage when children come down with measles. But medical science says such troubles are rare—even if the eyes do redden.

Medical experts offer these tips:

—Don't force food if the measles patient doesn't want it.

—Provide plenty of fluids; water, fruit juices and milk.

—As the rash fades and fever falls, appetite comes back under normal circumstances.

—Eyes should be cleansed with a solution of boric acid.

—Cough may be controlled to some extent by any of the drugs used for ordinary coughs.

—The disease is most contagious two days before the rash appears. That's why the quarantine, once rigidly imposed, has gone out of style in most places.

Measles are a sort of blessing in disguise for girls. The sooner they get the disease the better, for certain deformities in newborn babies have been linked with measles—for the first time—in the mother during pregnancy.

Schweitzer Appeals Test End

'Clean' Bombs for Display

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer said today that the "clean" hydrogen bombs being produced by the United States are intended primarily for display-case purposes.

They are window dressing, he said, intended to convince people that there is no real argument for discontinuing nuclear bomb tests.

In an appeal for an end to tests for the sake of the yet unborn, Schweitzer said the Defense Department recently declared that the irradiation of whole areas has become a new offensive weapon.

The 1952 Nobel Peace Prize winner accused the great powers, the international press and the guardians of international law of belittling the danger of radioactivity.

No world power, he said, has the right to test nuclear weapons if they are harmful to future generations.

Schweitzer's latest worldwide appeal against nuclear weapons called upon the United States and Britain to follow the Soviet Union's announced ban on nuclear testing.

Bob Considine Says:

Strange to Watch Germany Do Penance

BERLIN (INS)—It is strange to hear and see a nation take the whips to itself in penance. West Germany continues to do so.

The flagellation takes many forms ranging from colossal reparations, the 20-year task of cleaning up the bombed cities, to the heavy taxes; Chancellor Adenauer's gifts to the churches of Britain and other countries bombed by the Luftwaffe, and mea culpas that spill from men's lips.

Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss was talking to Bill Hearst, Frank Conniff and the writer the other day about the close cultural relations among European countries through the centuries. He said:

"We are together in our art, we Germans share a common appreciation of literature, almost parallel justice and so forth. But that didn't prevent us from committing the most horrible things and terrible crimes."

A recent television show on West German scenes was a documentary showing German troops in World War II attacking helpless Polish Jews, pulling them out of their Warsaw homes and machine gunning them. The narrator made it very plain that this was the real McCoy, that this was not the savagery of the enemy but deeds inflicted by the Germans.

This is the type of show that has become a standard feature commemorating the more sordid anniversaries of the Hitler regime.

A German-Jewish couple who emigrated to Israel six years ago returned to Dusseldorf in 1953 and opened a tiny apparel shop. They named it "Israel House." Today it is a six-story department store. One-time believers in Hitler patronize it resolutely.

"The Diary of Anne Frank" has been shown throughout Germany on stage and screen and the effect generally has been one of shocked emotion and tears.

While Hollywood turns out sugar-coated versions of "The Young Lions" and tends to glorify Hitler's submariners in "The Enemy Below," the German film industry has produced a dozen pictures which are striking indictments of Nazism and much closer to the bone than anything the Allied authorities have been able to get across. The films have been a financial success.

One picture in point is "Null Acht Funfzehn," a bitter commentary on treatment of young recruits in Hitler's growing army. Audiences sit in shock and silence at scenes of the bestial treatment their fathers, in some cases, underwent.

"The Bridge on the River Kwai" has packed theaters in Germany for seven weeks but for reasons which are beyond those which attract audiences in the United States. Here, the great message the audience gets is a lesson in the stupidity of war.

Though the great Krupp Company now makes 2,000 things as varied and unwarlike as bridges and dental plates, its sole owner, Alfreid Krupp, must in effect apply every so often to the Adenauer government to continue in business because rightly or unjustly he was tried and convicted at Nuernberg for crimes largely committed by his late father.

Krupp did an $800 million business in five continents last year and his company would be the core of Germany's contribution to the Allied effort. But he goes hat in hand and humbled, part of the parade of penance which no one could have envisioned during the strutting goosestepping days and whose termination no one can with clarity foresee.

Picks Pecans Easy Way

WAURIKA, Okla. (AP) — Bill Griffin, unhappy with old fashioned methods of picking pecans, got to work and designed a new one. He converted a hydraulic load on his tractor through use of 10-foot I-beams and used tires. Now he just drives up to a tree and shakes the pecans down. The I-beams provide the leverage and the tires prevent damage to the trees.

Sea water is said to evaporate more slowly than fresh water.

Be Frank With Your Hostess

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is there any way out of an invitation I've already accepted? The situation is this: Two evenings ago a friend called and invited my husband and me to come to her house on a certain night to spend the evening with them. Thinking that it would be just the four of us I accepted.

"However, I have found out since that she has invited several other guests. One of the guests happens to be a person I do not like and I would rather not be in her company. I am sure it will be a very uncomfortable evening for me. What, if anything, can I do?"

Answer: You could telephone your friend and frankly tell her how you feel about the person you hear is going to be there, and ask if you cannot come another evening.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a bride is wearing ordinary clothes and not a wedding veil, is it in good taste for her to have a procession up through the church and out again? I think that this should be dispensed with."

Answer: If the church is very small the wedding group would properly walk up the aisle. But if the church is very large and its emptiness therefore very conspicuous, it would certainly be better to enter from the chancel.

The rule is the bride should enter on the arm of her father or whoever is to give her away However, if there are no more than very few persons present, she and the bridegroom might possibly walk in together.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it is proper when having a cocktail in a cocktail lounge to keep one's gloves on, or should they be removed?"

Answer: If your cocktail is served in a stemmed glass so that it can be picked up without moisture getting on to your gloves, you may keep your gloves on.

Dear Abby

Boy Rejects Sack; Girl Is 'in the Bag'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: When my boyfriend came to pick me up for our Saturday night date he took one look at my new sack dress and refused to take me out until I changed it. I paid a good price for that dress and it happens to be very nice.

"I put on another dress (a sheath from last year) but had a miserable time because we fought all evening over that sack dress. Was he right in making me change?

UP TO DATE

ABBY

DEAR UP: I think women should dress to please men. If you changed into last year's sheath, I'd say sack or no sack, he's got you "in the bag."

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My niece is getting married in August and she is my sister's only child so they are going all-out on the wedding. My daughter has always been a good cousin to this girl but when it came time to choose bridesmaids she overlooked my daughter.

"When I asked my sister the reason, she told me that they were having only bridesmaids with long hair in the bridal party and my daughter's hair would not be long enough by August. Do you think this is a good enough excuse?"

AUNT HATTY

DEAR AUNT: It sounds foolish to me.

"DEAR ABBY: I came across a strong box full of letters in the trunk of our car. I had the garage man use a blowtorch to open it. The letters were from a married woman who is in love with my husband. They are so full of mush and love talk it would nauseate you. Believe me, she leaves nothing to the imagination.

"I know her and her husband and they live in this town. Should I send the letters to HER husband and let him handle it in his own way?"

BOILING OVER

DEAR BOILING: DON'T send the letters to her husband. Let your husband know you found them and try to settle it peacefully, involving as few innocent parties as possible.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I don't have any love problems to be solved but I think you can help me. I'm a patient in a veterans' hospital. My buddies and I have lots of time to read and watch TV and we never miss reading your column or watching Arthur Godfrey's program.

"A while back you were a guest on Godfrey's show and he read a collection of your best letters. He howled and so did the audience. Where can we get a collection of the "choice" letters like Godfrey had?"

AN ABBY FAN

DEAR FAN: I'm glad you asked that question because my first book (published by Prentice Hall) will be released April 28. Today! It's a collection of all the "choice" Abby letters and I've named it, "DEAR ABBY" (wot else?). I hope you like it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Saw the letter from the neighbor who complained because the bachelor in the apartment below snored so loud he kept her awake nights. I am a lady who is looking for a nice man. If he is between 45 and 60, please send me his name as I am very hard of hearing."

Bridal Shower Given to Honor Evelyn Cook

Evelyn Cook, who will become the bride of Thomas Zielinski on May 3, was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday evening. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Calvin Warner and Mrs. C. Douglas MacLean.

Setting for the shower was the Garland avenue home of Mrs. MacLean's mother, Mrs. Leon Zielinski. Twenty-five guests from Detroit, Flint and Grand Rapids were present.

Kingswood Plans Summer School

Kingswood School Cranbrook will hold co-educational summer school for the third consecutive year.

Ten non-credit courses will be open with the idea that learning can be fun. All courses will require little or no daily homework, and swimming will be the order of the day when classes are over.

Final Dance of Season Held by Cotillion Club

Cotillion Club held the last dinner-dance of its season Saturday evening at Orchard Lake Country Club. Greeting members were Mr. and Mrs. E. Gilmore Winn, Mr. and Mrs. William Dunseith, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Webster Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Isgrigg.

★ ★ ★

Others were the Erwin Greers, the Edmund Rogers, the Howard Powerses, the Jack Habels and the Adsit Stewarts.

OFFICERS NAMED

It was announced that D. B. Eames will serve as president; Harold Owens, vice president; Mrs. Donald Stearns, secretary, and Mrs. Willard Johnson, treasurer.

Serving on the board of directors will be Mrs. Robert Alton, Mrs. Edward Barrett, James Nye and Donald Jacobs.

Out-of-town guests for the Saturday evening event were brought by the following members: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bratton of Birmingham were guests of the Winns; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haupt brought the Jack Wignalls of Clarkston; and guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Smith was Mrs. Howard Lamb.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Thurley Allen, whose guests were the Thomas Newells of Grosse Isle, hosted a post-party breakfast for their guests as well as for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Foley and Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkins.

Concert Plans Shaping

Senior Girls Ensemble will begin the "Say it With Music" vocal concert of Pontiac Central High School with "Cranberry Corners, U.S.A." Following an "Around the World in 80 Minutes" theme they will later appear to sing a Goudy arrangement of "Tico Tico."

★ ★ ★

Junior Boys Ensemble will sing "Chinatown" for the May 6, 8 and 9 concert. Other ensembles singing will be Selective Girls Glee Club presenting "My Johann" and "Suabian Folk Tune." Junior Girls Ensemble will render "Stranger in Paradise" and Senior Boys Ensemble will offer "Istanbul" and "Poor People of Paris."

★ ★ ★

Soloists, instrumental and vocal, will be Vickie Vandecar who will perform "Song of India"; Maria Cosma with "Where My Caravan Has Rested"; John Watson, "Look for the Silver Lining"; and Charles Hobgood will play an accordian solo.

Sandra and Susan Sommerville will play a piano duet arrangement of "Malaguena." Concluding the list of soloists is Marilyn Vernon, Barbara Holder, Diane Beach, Amber Feneley and Pete Cox.

Nursery Conference Scheduled

Representatives of All Saints Nursery School and Temple Beth Jacob Nursery will attend a May 12 and 13 conference at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

For the seventh year, representatives from 100 member cooperative nurseries of Michigan Council of Co-op Nurseries will hear educators and attend workshops.

Theme of this year's conference will be "You, Your Child, Your Nursery."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Vanderlind, Mrs. George Carhart and Mrs. Jack Mapley will accompany the older group of All Saints Nursery School Saturday afternoon to Detroit. The group will be part of fourteen nursery schools explaining to adults what youngsters are learning in nursery schools.

Mental Health Program Set

A recognized authority on mental health in children, Dr. Mildred Peters of Wayne State University, will appear on a program, "Opening the Door to Mental Health."

DR. MILDRED PETERS

The open meeting in connection with Mental Health Week is sponsored by the Oakland County Chapter of Michigan Society for Mental Health. The program will be held May 6 at 8 p.m. in Kimball High School, Royal Oak.

Daily Routine Controls Aging Look

Beauty Care Easy if Basic Tools Kept Handy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is nothing quite so frustrating to a busy woman as lack of equipment with which to carry out her tasks. After weeks of delay you may finally find a few moments in which to write some long delayed personal letters. You go to your desk and sit down to write. The pen is gone or it is out of ink or someone has moved your stationery.

Yet unless we add to a master list regularly items we see are getting low, this is certain to happen to us. It is frustrating and therefore consumes great amounts of energy. This is one of the little leaks which takes a big toll.

This is especially true of beauty care because we are apt to be careless about that anyway. Why not make it easy to indulge in your beauty routines by keeping all of the essential articles in one place and then checking on them periodically?

Many a woman's attractiveness has been damaged because she could not find the necessary implements when she found time to groom herself. Why not make it easy?

A woman can do tricks with mirrors. She actually needs several. First is her dressing table mirror. The lights on each side should be about the level of the nose. These should be bright, not shaded or fluorescent. She also needs a hand mirror in order to look at herself side and back view.

MAGNIFYING MIRROR

Then there is that cruel but essential magnifying mirror. Many grooming jobs such as eyebrow or chin tweezing can be best accomplished by taking the magnifying glass to the window for bright daylight. Make-up for daytime should also be checked at the window with the hand mirror. What looks right in artificial light may look wrong in day light.

At spring vacation time in New York City the hotels are jammed with young folks enjoying this period away from college. Many of them join their parents for this interlude.

The other day while sitting in the lobby of one of the large hotels I saw several mothers and daughters pass by. It was apparent that this was their relationship because they looked so much alike. One pair, especially, could have been identical twins except that one of the women looked older.

This caused me to think again that the impression of age is produced by an aggregate of many small differences or changes. No one big change gives you the appearance of middle age. Many small changes which occur gradually create it.

ANALYZING AGE

To go back to the mother and daughter I watched, I began analyzing just what had happened to the mother to make her look older than the daughter.

First and foremost was the difference in pounds. Some of these came from natural maturing but there were a lot of other pounds lurking about the waist and abdomen and hips of the mother which could not claim this as their origin. Any overweight always detracts from the impression of youthfulness.

Next, I would say that posture had the greatest effect. The mother slumped some, her head protruded forward a little, and her abdomen was thickened even with the aid of a good girdle.

The way a woman walks and moves makes a tremendous difference. The mother's movements were stiff. The lack of elasticity and grace was a result of little exercise.

The matronly looking clothes make a big dent in a youthful appearance. I do not mean to suggest that the middle-aged woman should adopt teen-age styles. However, she can be "in the mode" and smart chic costumes have a zippy rather than droopy appearance.

Hair styling also plays a part. An old-fashioned hairdo can make an angel of 20 look prematurely old.

All of the aging characteristics I have mentioned can be controlled to a great extent by a daily routine and exercise and an awareness which makes you determine not to give in to the forces of gravity by slumping, not to adopt the usual walk for one's age. These slip up on women before they know it.

Tomorrow: "Your Toes Tell Type of Shoe Best for You."

Make-up for daytime should not be too extreme. Use your make-up subtly and with care. Evening make-up may be more dramatic but must still be in good taste and not make you look like an over made-up starlet.

At thirty, sophistication makes you look much younger than the "baby" dress which is for amusing play-clothes only after thirty.

THE EYES HAVE IT

As you no doubt know, this season the line is the important thing. The eyeline and hairline have a major influence on the facial effect. They must coordinate. Eyebrows, when properly outlined, space the face in the right proportions and the result is quite flattering. When coloring your hair don't neglect faded brows, but improve on nature in this subtle way.

Does your eyeline as well as your hairline blend with your particular type of looks? If not, let us solve this for you. With the coming of Mother's Day, we suggest a gift of beauty for the lady who has meant so much in your life. Rowena's Beauty Salons, 4831 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, OR 3-3541 . . . 14 S. Canned or Fresh Fruit Can Be Used

Mrs. Boyle Puts Cracker Crumbs on Top and Bottom

By JANET ODELL

This delicious dessert may be made with fresh or canned pineapple. This is the season to use the fresh variety. You can make the dessert a day ahead of the party.

Mrs. Ray Boyle of Walled Lake is today's cook. Her hobbies include playing the piano and bridge.

PINEAPPLE DESSERT
By Mrs. Ray Boyle

1 cup sugar
¼ pound butter or margarine
2 egg yolks
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup pineapple; cut thin
2 egg whites beaten stiff
Graham cracker crumbs

Mix sugar, butter or margarine and egg yolks. Beat well. Add salt, vanilla, nuts and pineapple. Fold in beaten egg whites.

★ ★ ★

Place a layer of graham cracker crumbs in a greased oblong dish. Cover with fruit mixture. Top with another layer of crumbs. Chill and serve with whipped cream.

Corduroy Better in Nylon Finish

Nobody could find much fault with corduroy as it was — a grand fabric that washes so well, wears so well, and looks so pretty. But now comes a new finish to make corduroy even better.

It's a nylon finish said to take repeated washings and to add luster and softness to the fabric. It is expected to make corduroy more wrinkle-resistant then ever, also resistant to mildew and spotting.

Remember: It's hot suds—either soap or detergent—that keep that silver shining.

Head Dance Plans

Mrs. Adeline Govan and Mrs. Georgianna Witkopp are in charge of plans for a Widow and Widowers of Pontiac Club dance which is to be held in Avon Township Hall. Open to the public, the dance will be held Friday.

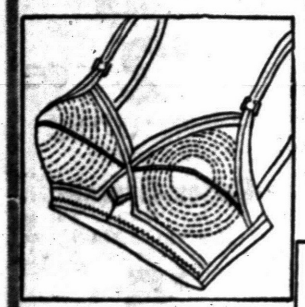

In botany the name annuals applies to plants which complete their life within one year; biennials require two years; and perennials may live on for an indefinite number of years.

Criticism Shows Lack of Confidence

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Pat, aged 15, is exchange editor on her school magazine. After a staff meeting one afternoon, the editor-in-chief, one of the most attractive males in the senior class, offered to drive her home. She was so overwhelmed she barely managed to say yes.

He didn't seem to mind her being overwhelmed. After braking before her house, he went right on telling her about his ideas for the June issue. She was saying, "Oh, I think that's just wonderful!" when an explosion of giggles came from behind the hedge.

The next moment her little brother Bud and his friend Skinny burst out of it yelling, "Ain't love too, too divine?" Then with shrieks of mirth, they dashed for the rear of the house.

To her mother Pat stormed furiously, "I never was so humiliated in my life! Do I have to go on living forever in the same house with that brat of yours?"

After a moment her mother said, "I'm sorry Bud was so rude and I'll certainly ask Dad to speak to him about it. However you're not going to have to live with him forever, you know. One of these days soon you'll have your own home. You'll have babies of your own and be able to teach them the things Dad and I haven't been able to get over to Bud.

PARENTS CRITICIZED

The adolescent finds fault with the way we train his younger brothers and sisters just as he finds fault with the way we vote, set the table or talk to his teachers. Actually, his criticism of our younger children is criticism of us.

★ ★ ★

If we're brave enough to recognize this, we don't get caught in futile, angry defenses of the younger children. Instead, we can deal directly with the fear behind nearly all adolescent criticism of us — the teenager's ever-present fear that he will not be able to break away from us and manage his own independence. Like Pat's mother, we can express faith that he will.

It is hard to be an adolescent. On the one hand, you desperately want independence of your parents. On the other, you're scared to death you'll make a mess of it.

So when you're discouraged, you're apt to belittle your parents in a desperate effort to enlarge confidence in yourself.

YWCA Schedules Swimming Classes

Evening swimming classes sponsored by the YWCA begin May 7 at 6:30 p.m. for girls under 18, and 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. for women over 18. The classes to be held at Pontiac Central High School pool will also be held Ma. 14, 21 and 28.

Instructors for the four-week session are Connie Coons and Jean Young.

Take Steps to Prolong Bath Glow

★ ★ ★

Whatever your choice, that feeling of well-being which comes as you step out of the tub will last longer if you take some steps to prolong it. The best way is through the use of bath preparations that are fresh and flowery.

You start out with a lightly perfumed soap that's gentle. For luxury, you toss a handful of bath crystals in the same scent into the tub.

When you've finished with the towel, fluff dusting powder in matching scent over your skin.

To prevent dryness, you'll probably want to use a new after-bath freshener with a lovely violet scent.

This is a clear lotion which smoothes and softens the skin. It also leaves a fresh fragrance that will cling to your skin for hours.

If you are younger than the person to whom you are talking, don't make any remarks that emphasize the age difference.

Japanese Tea Draws Big Crowd

Affair to Benefit Missions of First Church of God

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Prettier than a picture was Japanese born Mrs. Takako Reich of Franklin boulevard when she poured tea for the annual mission benefit, "Tea Time in Japan," Sunday afternoon in the First Church of God.

INCLUDES EXHIBIT

The Oriental exhibit, arranged on tables beneath flags of the United Nations, included lacquer ware, fans, head pillow, a painting on silk, dolls, and ladies' wooden shoes. All women wear the same size.

Other articles were jeweled chopsticks, dishes, drawings, and miniature frame houses surrounded by flower gardens.

★ ★ ★

Don't Fold Up Soiled Laundry

Heres' a timesaving tip for homemakers who fill their laundry bags in the same manner as they run their homes — in a neat and orderly fashion. Use the time spent folding soiled sheets and other flatwork prior to putting them in the laundry bag to better advantage.

If you fold such items laundries have to unfold them to insure proper cleansing. And, of course, everything must be unfolded for pressing.

Rain Boots Are Washable

The boots that keep your family dry through winter snowbanks and heavy spring rains will last through many another wet season if you clean and store them properly.

Fleece - lined rubber, plastic, and nylon boots take to washing easily as they weather a rainy gutter.

They can be dried safely in your automatic dryer on the "warm" setting — or can be wiped dry inside and outside.

Then fill the clean, dry boots with tissue paper and store them in a cool, dark place.

Production of potato chips in the U. S. has become so great that it is estimated those made in one year would fill the great Empire State building in New York to overflowing.

Does Men's Silence Mean They Agree?

By RUTH MILLETT

Some of my women readers have landed on me with both feet for daring to suggest in a recent column that "togetherness" as a marriage ideal can be overdone, so far as the husband is concerned.

I made a lot of women mad in suggesting that, instead of a husband and wife doing everything together, a bit of separateness might be more stimulating to the marriage and give each a little more room for growth.

Here they are, basking in the warmth and security of having a husband always at their side, whether they are washing dishes, buying groceries, scrubbing floors or whatever. And here am I, questioning the rightness of making marriage such a complete twosome that a man doesn't have any time for masculine pursuits—unless, of course, he takes the little woman along.

But there was one thing that interested me, and ought to interest women, particularly those who have turned their husbands into Mama's little - helper - around - the-house.

And that is, that not one of the protesting letters was written by a husband.

No sir, not one husband of all the thousands who are making their wives happy by accepting their part in the new "togetherness" marriage ideal had one good word to say for it in protest to my article.

So it well may be, as I suggested, that while Mama is happy having Papa share the household tasks and spending every minute of his leisure time in her company, Papa may feel just a bit restless and more than a little envious of his friends whose wives hand them the evening paper when they arrive home from the office, instead of a scrub brush.

Good Hostess Exhibits Grace

A woman can be hospitable and still not be a charming hostess. The woman who invites you to her home and then won't let you leave when you want to is certainly offering hospitality.

Lone Plane Bombs British Oil Tanker

LONDON (AP)—The owners of the British tanker San Flaviano reported today that she had been bombed and set afire by unidentified planes in the harbor of Balikpapan, a steamy oil port on the island of Borneo.

The bombs also fell near the 8,139-ton Shell tanker Daronia, but a message from Balikpapan said the vessel escaped damage. A later message from the Daronia indicated the bombing was carried out by a lone raider.

Eagle tankers, ownerrs of the 12,278-ton San Flaviano, said that the harbor pilot's launch picked up two lifeboats of survivors from their ship.

There was no immediate report of any casualties.

Will Fight Legislation 'Detrimental' to Unions

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said yesterday he will fight with all his strength against "legislation which I believe to be detrimental to organized labor in this country."

Chances are you have Spark Plug "Miss"

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP stop spark plug "miss" which wastes gasoline and robs you of as much as 30 horsepower

You can't see it, you can't hear it, but you can feel spark plug "miss" – when your engine's power fades and you aren't getting the mileage you should.

What causes spark plug "miss"?

Everyday driving, particularly the stop-and-go kind, builds up fouling deposits on the firing ends of spark plugs. These deposits conduct electricity and short out the electrical charge instead of letting it jump the gap and ignite your gasoline.

TCP Adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

Super Shell Gasoline has high octane for anti-knock. But in today's engines anti-knock alone is not enough. That's why TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock. TCP additive neutralizes the deposits that cause spark plug misfiring. After 2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP*, your engine will be "hitting on all eight"—delivering up to 30 horsepower it couldn't give before.

You'll save on gasoline, get better mileage, too, because Super Shell contains a "power pack" of aviation fuel ingredients called aromatics. The extra energy they provide converts automatically to extra miles per gallon. See your Shell Dealer.

PONTIAC, MICHIGAN MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1958

It's Machine Gun Season for Pontiac Post Troopers

By DICK SAUNDERS

The frightening roar of machine gun fire mixed with blasts from sawed off shotguns may greet you most any day at this time of the year if you plan a visit to the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

Check your fears—you don't have to run for cover. It's not a war breaking out or a full-fledged battle royal. It's heavy weapons training time for State Troopers from the Pontiac Post.

In charge of the training program is Trooper Harold Wade.

A total of 29 troopers will have seen action on the Park's rifle range when the training period draws to a close. Wade takes an average of five men on each trip.

"I never take less than three at a time, since our purpose is to turn out troopers that aren't gun-shy as well as men trained in the use of heavy arms," explains Wade.

"The men must have others shooting around them in order to learn the value of working as a team and acquiring a keen sense of concentration."

The shooting schedule is worked out so as not to interfere with off-duty hours of the troopers. No plan is set up in advance; Wade takes a group to the range when he has enough on the day shift who haven't yet fired.

As for the weapons themselves, they are of three major types.

The .30 caliber rifle is used in the event of long distance fighting (tracking down an escaped convict, for example).

The effective range of this gun is no more than 50 yards. The shot scatters to cover a larger area than a rifle and is used as a mob control weapon.

The last major weapon class is machine gun practice. The local troopers use a .45 caliber machine gun practice. The lot of 32 rounds. The weapon's effective range is 300 yards and it is capable of firing 600 rounds per minute.

"We used to do our shooting in the fall of the year, but that had to be changed a few years back," Wade explained. "There were too many hunters on the range sharpening up for the opening of deer season."

This year's compulsory training began in March and is scheduled to be completed by all 29 troopers this week, weather conditions permitting.

The program has been in effect for five or six years, according to Wade.

WORKING WITH MACHINE GUN — The ability to fire a machine gun with accuracy from either hip or shoulder position is an important part of heavy weapons training. Here, Trooper William Droger bangs away at a target using the hip position.

HEADED FOR GREENER PASTURES — Shown here are Tom (seated) and Jim Shedlowsky who have just cut their first record on the Epic label. The popular local duo known professionally as the Ski Brothers, are being rated by recording industry executives as coming stars in the rock 'n' roll field. Their first disc was released nationally last week, with another to be issued later this year.

Gerhard Eisler in Soviet Favor

Expatriated American Returns to Power in East Berlin Regime

BERLIN (INS) — Gerhard Eisler, reportedly in the Red doghouse for the past several years, is again riding high in the East Zone Communist government.

He showed an ease and confidence during the Hearst interview with Communist leader Walter Ulbricht which indicated he has been restored to official favor.

Eisler, who jumped bail and fled America in 1949 aboard the Polish liner Batory while under conviction for violating immigration laws, is now one of the bosses of the East Zone radio network.

"As an American, I'm glad to see Americans again," he told the Hearst party.

He said his composer brother Hans, like himself a subject of controversy in America, was "working hard and turning out a song a day." He added that his own health was now fine after a parently coincided with his eclipse in Red prominence.

Now 61, Eisler speaks occasionally over the German Communist radio. He was made information chief following his return from America, but the post was liquidated in a later shakeup. Eisler then sank back into obscurity.

He seems to be once more in the confidence of the Red leadership.

CHECKING ACCURACY — Trooper Harold Wade, of the Pontiac State Police Post, checks a silhouette target to determine how accurate a trooper's aim is. In their annual heavy weapons training period, the silhouette target is used by troopers using machine guns and riot guns.

Stardom on Horizon for Singing Brothers

Henceforth, they will be known professionally as the Ski Brothers. While the two are talented in many fields of music, their specialty lies in the field of rock 'n' roll and rhythm and blues.

Discovered at a recent party by Al Beni of 3459 Alice Dr., Drayton Plains, who is now their co-manager, the boys have signed a recording contract with Epic records.

Their first record was released last week. The two sides are "While I'm Away" and "Big Deal."

Jim, 21, is a senior at the University of Michigan, majoring in electrical engineering. Tommie, 19, went to Michigan State for a year and is now working for a local engineering firm as a surveyor.

STARTED BY FATHER

He gave the boys their start while leading his own group, Joe Shedlowsky and his Texas Range Riders, following World War II.

While the group played for many local events, Jim and Tommie were finding appreciative audiences at various church and community functions.

By the time they were in high school, the boys had blossomed out into full fledged entertainers for area dances at schools, halls and other community centers.

Beni saw them and was impressed. "I thought they were very talented," he explains, "and urged them to make some recordings."

He then had the boys cut a few sides at a Detroit recording studio and sent the discs to the Music Corporation of America, in New York.

JIM WROTE 1ST SIDE

"I guess I was right since M.C.A. liked the boys too," said Beni.

★ ★ ★

Their first side, "While I'm Away," was written by Jim. On the second side composer credits go to Frank Slay and Bob Crowe who wrote "Silhouette" and "La De Dah," two big hits of 1957.

Their second recording, already cut, is due for release later this year.

Easter Seal Campaign Hits $28,000 in Oakland

Total receipts for the 1958 Easter Seal Drive in Oakland County were $28,000, according to Matthew Cammareri, Easter seal campaign chairman of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

The money will be used to continue professional help from physical therapists, speech teachers, for crutches, wheelchairs, braces and training equipment for afflicted children in the county as well as to send them to summer camp, he added.

Urges U.S. to Set Freedom Examples

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Williams of Michigan has called upon the United States to set an example for the rest of the world by strengthening the practice of civil rights and liberties.

★ ★ ★

"We are surrounded by a world of people most of whom have been ground down for centuries by poverty, hunger and disease and discrimination," Williams told the New Jersey state region of the American Jewish Congress yesterday.

"Today, more than ever before," he said, "we must practice in our individual, community and civic actions the beliefs we hold as a nation."

Williams is chairman of the 12-state governors' continuing committee on civil rights and is a leading exponent of a broad national civil rights and liberties program.

★ ★ ★

Williams said the uncommitted peoples of the world would decide between Communism and Western civilization on the basis of what they saw practiced on each side.

In Fifth Year of Work

Six Recovery, Inc. Groups Meet Here

Currently in its fifth year of working with Pontiac area people with problems is a unique group called Recovery, Inc.

Six groups meet weekly in the Pontiac area, to exchange experiences and seek the solution of their problems through self help and use of their willpower.

Nationally, the group is 21 years old. It was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, author of "Mental Health Through Will-Training."

Avowed purpose of the organization is "To train post-psychotic and psychoneurotic persons in the practice of psychiatric self-help."

Approximately 120 Pontiac area residents are participating in the non-profit, non-sectarian Recovery, Inc. program here.

Some of those attending the meetings have been previously hospitalized for treatment of emotional or psychological problems. Others have had similar problems, but were not hospitalized, and still others attend in efforts to help friends or relatives who are ill.

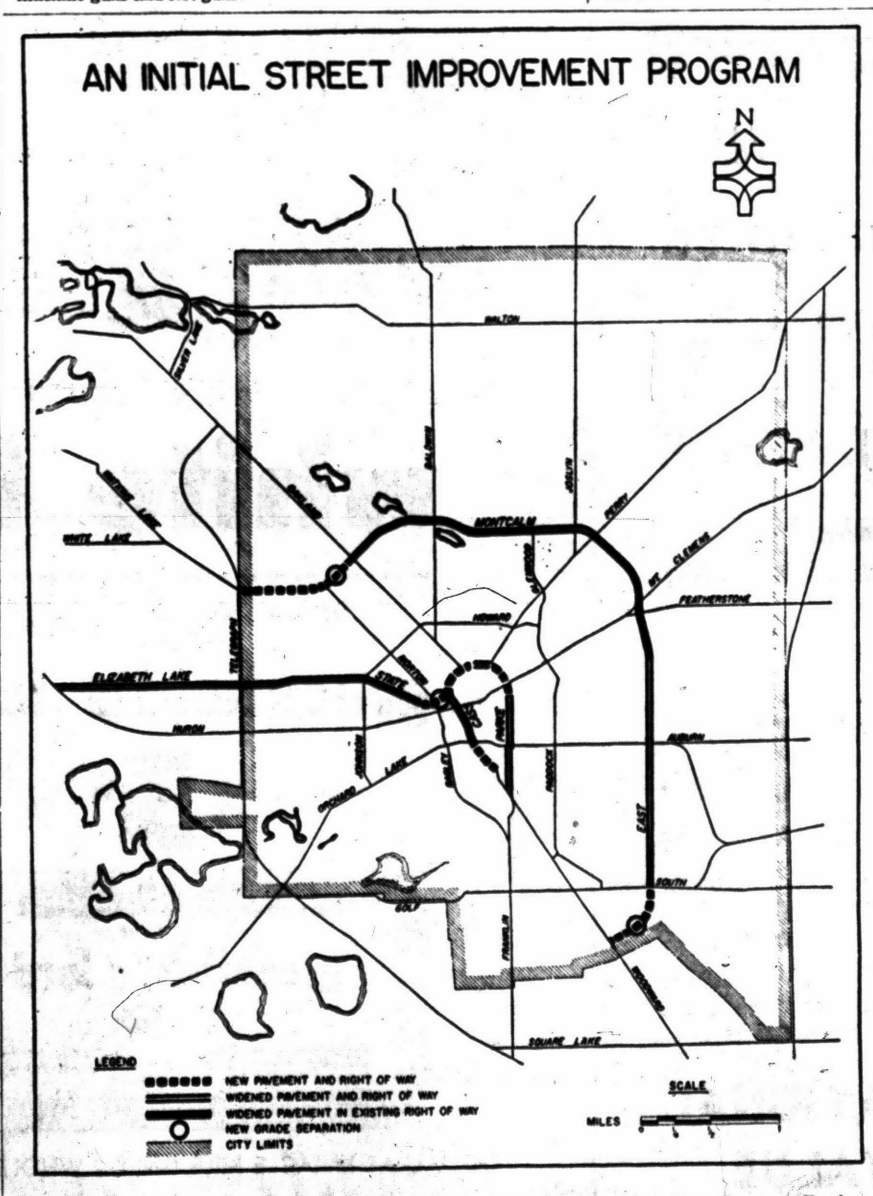

According to officials of the movement, Recovery, Inc. does not take the place of professional psychiatric help, and the organization insists members follow the directions of their doctors.

Much of the work is done in helping persons control or eliminate "hidden fears" through the use of "will-training."

Meetings are conducted in a roundtable form, with members of the panel giving examples of situations in which they sought to control problems or situations through the use of Recovery, Inc. methods.

Through group therapy and will training, Recovery, Inc. members seek to accomplish two goals: to prove to the member that he is not alone — that many others have similar problems and also to eliminate the problem and its symptoms.

NEW THOROUGHFARES — Here's a map showing three of the primary street improvements recommended in the Barton Traffic Study, to be delivered to the city soon. Indicated in the center is the proposed loop system skirting downtown business section via Parke street and Cass avenue. Leading into this by means of a new railroad grade separation is an improved Elizabeth Lake avenue-State street route, offering a new path into downtown from the west. Further out, to the north and east, is the proposed Montcalm avenue-East boulevard beltline. The map, prepared by George W. Barton and Associates, shows where widening, additional right-of-way and new construction would be necessary if the first steps towards a modernized street system were to be taken.

Nixon Visiting Uruguay on South America Tour

Nixon's arrival coincided with a turn to the Kremlin by this nation of 2½ million persons which, although agriculturally rich, is in the throes of an economic crisis.

Because of a drastic cutback in her trade on this side of the Atlantic, dollar-short Uruguay now is dickering with the Soviet Union for 10 tankerloads of petroleum and 2,000 tons of cotton. U.S. oil suppliers have been told Uruguay will be unable to pay dollars for oil before 1960. Payment to the Soviets will be made through sales of Uruguayan wool and meat.

Leaving Washington yesterday, Nixon told reporters that economic problems head the list for his 18-day good will sweep through Uruguay, Argentina, Paraguay, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela.

The trip is built around the inauguration May 1 of Argentine President Arturo Frondizi. Nixon goes to Buenos Aires Wednesday. Argentina also has been dickering with the Soviet bloc because it has a dollar shortage.

En route to Montevideo, Nixon and his party stopped off briefly in Port of Spain, Trinidad, where he hailed the new Federation of the West Indies as the challenging opening of a new era.

Burglars Had Hot Time in Warehouse Last Night

Police said the yeggs had just started working on a safe at the Swift Trucking Co. warehouse here when sparks from their torch apparently ignited a sheaf of records nearby.

Names Leader in Sukarno Plot

Former Army Official Listed as Mastermind of Assassination Try

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A slight young schoolteacher testified today that the Indonesian army's former acting chief of staff, Col. Zulkifli Lubis, masterminded the attempt to kill President Sukarno last Nov. 30.

Jusuf Ismail, 24, told the military court trying him and three others that Lubis had outlined the plot during a secret meeting of an anti-Communist Moslem organization in the suburbs of Jakarta just two days before the unsuccessful assassination attempt.

But he said the actual bomb throwing, which killed nine people and injured 150 more at an elementary school, came with little preparation.

A few hours before the incident, Ismail testified, the conspirators were summoned to the home of Saleh Ibrahim, the organization's leader, and told the President would be visiting a school where his two children are students.

He said he tossed one of his two grenades at Sukarno and then fled home, quivering with fright. Soldiers later tracked him down at Ibrahim's house, but he said he confessed only after repeated beatings with rifle butts.

Lubis succeeded in toppling Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo's government in 1955, when he opposed Ali's choice for army chief of staff.

In 1956 Lubis staged an abortive coup and has since been a fugitive, but one who moved more or less with immunity about the country.

Ismail and the three other youths are the first of some 80 persons accused in connection with the attempt on Sukarno's life. On trial with Ismail are Tasrif bin Husein, 24, Saadon bin Mohammed, 18, and Mohammed bin Abubakar, 22.

Mikoyan to Spend Day Visiting East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan is going to visit East Germany after he finishes his tour of West Germany tonight.

★ ★ ★

The East German news agency (ADN) said Mikyoan would spend one day in the Communist zone. He came to West Germany last Friday to sign a trade and consular pact.

Study Strengthening of NATO Forces

PARIS (AP)—Some 270 senior officers and civilians from throughout the North Atlantic Treaty Organization area today began secret sessions on how the alliance can strengthen its forces.

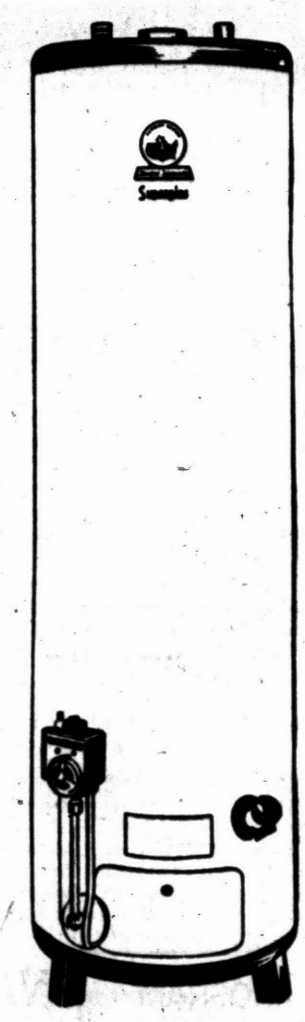

The four-day command post exercise is the last of eight such annual operations held by Viscount Montgomery, the British deputy supreme Allied commander for Europe.

The stated purpose of the exercise is "to study how best the Allied command in Europe can produce the necessary forces, in accordance with practical realities and financial responsibilities."

Sources close to the conference said this could be expected to include discussion of Supreme Commander Lauris Norstad's standing request for from 28 to 32 Western Europe "shield" divisions, as well as NATO's plans to bolster the divisions with nuclear missiles and warhead stocks.

Tigers Rest but Think of Yanks Next

Hoeft Defeats Cleveland, 9-5 to Gain Second

Gail Harris Gets Three Hits as Six Indians Parade to' Mound

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers were idle today but it is doubtful if there was much relaxation in the Bengal camp — not with the awesome Yankees on tap tomorrow.

The Tigers have a special reason for wanting to come out on top in the two-game series at New York: They want to stay in the American League's first division and their present claim is precarious at best.

The Bengals inched into the league's top half the hard way yesterday, defeating the Cleveland Indians 9-5 in a cold drizzle over the last six innings and which finally forced postponement of the bottom half of a scheduled double header.

The decision tied the two clubs up at 7 wins and 6 losses apiece and deadlocked them in the league's fourth position.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft received credit for ending the Indians' winning streak at four games. His teammates backed him up with a 14-hit barrage off six Cleveland pitchers.

The triumph was Hoeft's second against no loses. He held the Indians to six scattered hits in eight innings but ran into a bevy of singles and was replaced by Joe Presko who was nicked for three runs in a ninth-frame rally.

Hoeft was faced by Mike Garcia, making his first start of the season, but the big righthander was taken out in the second inning after the first two batters hit a double and single.

Detroit held a 2-1 edge going into the last half of the fourth when Dick Brown evened it up for Cleveland with a home run into the left field stands.

The Bengals went ahead to stay in the fifth, however, with two runs on a walk by pinch hitter Lou Skizas, a double by Harvey Kuenn and singles by Gus Zernial and Gail Harris. They added two more in the sixth and one each in the last three innings.

Steve Ridzik, Don Ferrarese, Chuck Churn, Bob Kelley and Hoyt Wilhelm followed Garcia to the mound for Cleveland with Ferrarese being charged with the loss.

Revamped Dodgers Trounce Cardinals, 10-3

New Faces Abundant in LA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dissillusioned Los Angeles fans have been asking whether these are the same Dodgers who made Brooklyn famous and who can blame them?

Sunday's starting Dodger lineup against St. Louis showed only two incumbents from the one which faced the New York Yankees in the final game of the 1956 World Series — Gil Hodges at first base and Junior Gilliam at second.

★ ★ ★

The revamped ex-Brooklynites didn't fare badly either. With Larker, Gray, Cimoli and Walker playing key roles, the transplanted Dodgers walloped St. Louis 10-3 to win their first series of the year, two games to one. Gray walloped a home run—his fourth of the year—and a single, driving in three runs. Cimoli and Walker knocked in two runs each and Larker one.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles' fellow-Californians, the San Francisco Giants, had their four-game winning streak snapped by the Chicago Cubs, who came from behind to eke out a 5-4 triumph. In the National League's only other game, Philadelphia conquered Milwaukee 6-2. The scheduled doubleheader between Pittsburgh and the Redlegs in Cincinnati was postponed because of rain.

Johnny Podres went all the way for Los Angeles, spacing 10 Cardinal hits for his third straight victory. The left-hander has all but two of the Dodgers' triumphs in their first 12 games. Four double plays helped him. A crowd of 44,941 watched the victory, swelling the home attendance to 377,601 for the first nine games.

Stan Musial rapped two of the Cardinals hits to give him 24 in 45 times at bat for a league leading .533 average. Stan the Man has now hit safely in all 11 of his team's games.

The Cubs not only snapped the Giants' streak to pull up into a second place tie with Milwaukee, a half game behind San Francisco, but executed the first triple play of the major league season. The triple killing came in the first inning.

With Willie Kirkland on second and Willie Mays on first, Hank Sauer lined to pitcher Dick Drott, who fired to Tony Taylor at second, getting Kirkland. Taylor relayed to Dale Long at first before Mays could get back, completing the triple play. Sauer later hit his sixth homer of the season with nobody on base.

Chicago, trailing 3-2, scored twice in the eighth to take the lead and scored what proved to be the winning run in the ninth on a triple by ex-Giant Bobby Thomson and a double by Long.

Jack Sanford's five hit pitching and Richie Ashburn's first home run in two years featured the Phillies' victory over the Braves. Ashburn also singled twice and walked as the Phils rapped losing pitcher Lew Burdette for four runs and nine of their 12 hits in five innings.

OLD ACHES AND PAINS — Former Chicago White Sox shortstop Luke Appling, who was known in his playing days as "Ole Aches and Pains," holds his back as he puts the glove on for his successor, Luis Aparicio at Comiskey Park. He saw the A's rout the White Sox, 7-1.

Wall's Relief Job Helps Bosox End Senator Jinx

Off to one of their worst starts in history, the Red Sox piled up a seven-run lead and then hung hung on for a 7-5 victory over the Senators for their first conquest of the Nats in six tries this season.

Murray Wall's strong relief pitching made the difference as the Bosox climbed out of the American League cellar past the idle Chicago White Sox.

The 31-year-old Wall, a relief specialist obtained from Dallas of the Texas League last August, put down a big rally by Washington in the 7th and then retired the Nats in order in the last two innings.

Boston took the lead in the 2nd inning on Frank Malzone's first home run of the season, a blast over the friendly left-field wall. Three-run rallies in the 5th and 6th clinched the verdict.

With two out in the 5th, Sisler and Don Buddin drew walks and Jimmy Piersall doubled to score Sisler. After Ted Williams was intentionally passed, Dick Gernert singled to tally Buddin and Piersall.

Singles by Jim Lemon, Rocky Bridges, Eddie Yost, Roy Sievers and Clint Courtney, plus a couple of walks, accounted for Washington's five runs in the 7th.

Canada's Leonard Las Vegas Champion

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The golfing parade heads for Texas and the Colonial Invitational at Fort Worth today with Stan Leonard of Canada, surprise winner of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions leading the procession.

Victor in but one major open in the United States, the Greensboro last year, Leonard, a youngish 43-year-old professional from Vancouver, B. C., tucked away $10,000 for his efforts here.

Leonard, winner of six Canadian PGA championships, came out on top by one stroke in a dramatic seesaw duel with the pace-setting Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif.

His rounds of the straight 69's capped by yesterday's brilliant 68 gave Leonard a 72-hole score of 275. This 13-under-par total broke the tournament record of 278 set by Art Wall Jr. in 1954.

He drove into the pond, hit into it again and wound up with a double bogey six.

He and Leonard were all even going into the 17th. Leonard went one over par on the last hole but the damage to Casper was done. He settled for $5,000 second money.

The likable Billy for the fourth day led the way by one stroke, and for the last round it was over Leonard and Tommy Bolt.

Ken Venturi, the pro-tournament favorite, came in at 283, one shot behind Dutch Harrison and Arnold Palmer, and tied with George Bayer and Cardner Dickinson.

Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Mich., won $1,140 in prize money with a score of 71-68-74-74—287.

Sime Wins at Penn Relays

Morrow Gets Competition

Woodhouse has won three of the races, Morrow one. Does that make Woodhouse the better man?

"Definitely not," said AC track coach Oliver Jackson today. "Both have about the same talents, it's true. They both are aggressive and hate to lose. Both are ideal for a coach to handle."

Morrow ran on both the 440 and 880 relays in the Penn Relays qualifying trials Friday. But he had to scratch from the finals and also his heralded 100-yard special against Woodhouse and Dave Sime. As it turned out, Sime won the race in 9.7.

But even without Morrow, Abilene Christian won the final in both the 440 and 880. The 440 time was 41.3 and the 880 clocking was 1:24.9.

Villanova won three events for the third year in a row, the first time a "triple-threat" has been accomplished. The Wildcats captured the mile in 3:11.8, the sprint medley in 3:22.5 and the distance medley in 9:55.3.

Michigan State nipped defending champion Manhattan with a 7:30.1 clocking in the two-mile relay (the Jaspers were caught in the same time).

Frozen Lines, Stiff Trouters!

Area 'Openers' Report Cold Cramps Fishing

By H. GUY MOATS

MIO — Michigan's trout season opening along the Au Sable and its tributaries, was a chilly one, Saturday, and the 17-degree weather had a most deterrent effect upon the general success of the army of hopeful trouters that streamed into the section over the weekend.

While conservation men reported the fishing pressure was "normal" and stream conditions good, the anglers found water cold, and frozen lines and guides made handling fish difficult. Altogether the opening was below the normal standards.

Few big fish were reported and the limit creels held usually small fish. One of the top catches appeared to be that by Fred Baucom of Lapeer (Pontiac Press stereotyper) who took a 23½-inch rainbow (5 pounder) on the Sturgeon near Wolverine. A half hour fight and a wetting preceded the landing.

Lynn D. Allen had a few browns from the North Branch, but Mr. and Mrs. Chester Graycheck, 115 Cardinal, Commerce, fishing the main stream, reported "too cold for any luck."

One of the best creels this observer saw in some 400 miles of checking the trout areas in northcentral Michigan was that taken by Glen Turnipseed of Grand Rapids. The 10 rainbows, averaging 11½ inches, were taken on the Rapid, near Kalkaska.

Practically all fish were taken with worms, a few on streamers. A late Sunday hatch of stoneflies, promised the fly fishermen better success if higher temperatures continue today.

Apparently Oakland County's trouting contingent was far below the usual numbers for this section, as few were interviewed. Better conditions on the Pontiac area lakes and streams kept most on the home front.

Local Cagers Play 7 Games in Two Days to Win Tournament

Pontiac Council No. 600 won the state Knights of Columbus basketball tournament played in Pontiac Saturday and Sunday, but it had to be done the hard way.

The local K of C team played seven games in two days, including four on Sunday and won six in the two-game knockout.

After dropping a 63-58 decision Saturday to defending champion River Rouge, Pontiac started play Sunday by defeating Benton Harbor, 59-46.

In the next round it was Pontiac 59, Flint 52 and in two other games yesterday the Pontiac team won twice over Rouge, 62-49 and 63-52 at Pontiac Central.

Chief Nine Loses Pair at Bay City Making 10 Errors

The Pontiac Central baseball record dropped to .500 for the season and in Saginaw Valley play as the Chiefs lost a doubleheader at Bay City Central Saturday, 4-0 and 7-3.

A homer by football star Jim Schultz and three unearned runs beat Bob Garrett in the opener. He allowed just one more hit than winner Tom Shook.

Schultz also proved rough in the nightcap hurling the route and getting two hits. Four runs on only one hit broke a 3-3 tie in the 5th. Bob Rabaja had two safeties in the 1st game and Jim Skinner a pair in the 2nd. PCH made 10 errors in the win-bill.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Power in Low-Gear.
DIAGNOSIS: Restricted Shoulder Turn.

TREATMENT: To get full power into your golf shots, you must take a full body turn on the backswing. What this amounts to is fully coiling the body, as you would a spring, so that the recoil will produce that much-needed maximum power.

Many players who turn the hips sufficiently on the backswing fail miserably when it comes to taking a full, free turn with the shoulders. Actually, the full turn with the shoulders is the most important phase of the backswing if it's power production (distance) that you want.

There are two ways in which you can check to see if you're turning your shoulders enough.

One is to see that the shoulders turn to a point where they are at right angles to the intended line of flight. The other is to keep turning the shoulders until your left shoulder contacts your chin.

If you feel that you're not getting enough power into your shots, make these checks. And the place to make them is on the practice tee.

Orion Archer High, but M-59 Bowmen Win

Lake Orion Archery club and Giles M-59 (Friday Night leaguers) archers split the top honors in a weekend shoot at the Giles range.

The Giles shooters took the match, in which 20 from each club participated, 6,434 to 5,463. Lake Orion's John Willis was high individual with 444. Charles Thompson led Giles with 410.

Match totals were based on actual scores on eight shots in a Chicago round (used by Giles) and seven shots in a Flint round (used by Orion).

8 Records Set in Relays

DES MOINES (AP) — There were eight new records on the Drake Relays books today but Drake officials are convinced there would be more if the weather had been better.

The climactic Saturday events were run off under cloudy skies in a cold, 46-degree setting.

The top performance Saturday was a Drake record mile by Jim Grelle of Oregon. The Pacific Coast star did 4:07.9 in beating Alex Henderson of Arizona State of Tempe. Alex was timed in 4:09.4, also under the former record of 4:10.7.

Henderson was chosen the outstanding athlete of the meet. A 25-year-old sophomore from Australia, Henderson bettered the National Collegiate two-mile record with an 8:51.3 race Friday. And he ran a 4:11.4 anchor mile as Arizona State set a Drake mark of 10:02.1 in the college distance medley.

Chapman Wins North and South

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Two decades of frustration were dispelled by a superb three-under-par performance over 26 holes as Dick Chapman finally realized his boyhood dream and won the North and South Amateur golf championship.

★ ★ ★

The dream had become a later-year nightmare as the 47-year-old Pinehurst winter resident failed time and again to come close after a 1934 runnerup experience. In recent years he was a first and second-round victim, and the title opportunity seemed slipping from his grasp.

★ ★ ★

But in Saturday's finals against 33-year-old Herb Durham of Dallas, Tex., Chapman was razor sharp. His 11 and 10 margin has been exceeded only once in the tournament's 58-year history. He lost only two holes and it took a pair of birdies on the morning round to win them for Durham.

Shamrock Thinclads Win Three-Way Meet

Grabbing 11 firsts and compiling a rousing total of 80 and 1-6 points, Pontiac St. Michael High School thinclads Sunday, ran away with a triangular meet against Mt. Clemens St. Mary and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows. St. Mary had 49½ points, OLOS 7 and 1-3. Meet was held at Wisner field. Win was Shamrocks' third, against one loss.

Mike Flynn won the high hurdles and pole vault, Bill Flanigan won the dashes, and Bob Mineweaser the 440 and broad jump. Bob barely missed a tie in the jump, going 20 feet, 1¼ inches. Jerry Ohngren tossed the shot 40 feet 5-inches for a school mark.

Rains Delay Dallas Tourney Until Fall

The Dallas tournament was postponed until September yesterday when heavy rains swept the Glen Lakes Country Club course, creating flood conditions.

The tournament was halted as Alice Bauer of Sarasota, Fla., took the lead. She had a 1-under-par 70 in the first round to tie Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., for the lead. Yesterday in the second round Miss Bauer was 1-over-par through four holes and Miss Rawls two over through five when the tournament was stopped.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Oscar Fraley, long-time sports reporter for the United Press, wrote a collection of golf scramblings which appeared in print last week. One statement in his article caught my eye.

Fraley said: "Golf courses are built for right-handers. So, if you want to switch over from being a southpaw, remember that it was done successfully by such as Jerry Barber, Peter Thomson and Dutch Harrison."

There's no argument with the second part of the statement. The conversion of Barber, Thomson and Harrison is a matter of record. To make the list truly distinguished, he could have added the name of Ben Hogan.

But his contention that courses are made for right-handers is open to verbal broadsides. And the fabulous Hogan would probably be the first to fire a denial.

HOGAN

Abandoning southpaw ways was comparatively easy for Hogan since he was only a small boy at the time. According to Ben, there were two big reasons why he converted to the right side of the ball.

★ ★ ★

In the first place, he was unable to buy left-handed clubs. Secondly, his playing companions told him that southpaws never made good golfers and at his age he was gullible enough to believe them.

Today, Hogan pointed out, left-handed clubs are built just as well as right-handed clubs and are quite easy to obtain.

Lafayette Test Won by Hebert

Four Subpar Rounds Give Jay 273 and Top Award of $2,000

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Debonair Jay Hebert will get a warm welcome from officials of the Lafayette Open golf tournament any time he wants to try his luck again in the $15,000 event.

★ ★ ★

Hebert, a Lafayette native and the hometown favorite of the gallery, made the first edition of the tournament a whopping success yesterday as he carded his fourth straight sub par round to win the $2,000 first prize money.

★ ★ ★

Hebert, now playing out of Sanford, Fla., trailed after each of the first three rounds, but fired a four-under-par 67 in yesterday's finals for a 72-hole total of 273, five strokes better than his nearest challengers and 11 strokes under par.

★ ★ ★

Going into the final round one stroke behind Leo Biagetti of St. Paul, Minn., and Bill Collins of Grossingers, N.Y., Hebert shot his best round. He had three birdies and a bogie on the front nine and two birdies on the back side.

Biagetti, playing in the same threesome with Hebert, took a two over par 73 and finished in a tie for second at 278. In the deadlock with him was Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., who had a final 69.

Tiger Farm Pitcher Off to Flying Start

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

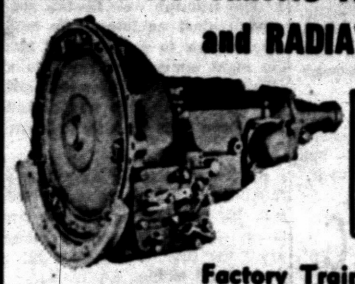

Righthander Chuck Daniel of Charleston was off to a flying start today in the American Association following a two-hit, 11-inning shutout of Minneapolis.

Daniel's 2 to 0 win over the drooping Millers capped a perfect day for the Senators yesterday and gave them a full game lead over Denver. Charleston beat the Millers 9 to 5 in the first game.

Michigan Takes Twinbill From MSU

Purdue, Indiana Share Big 10

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Purdue and Indiana, getting sound pitching and clutch hitting, led the Big Ten baseball race with 3-0 records today after the first weekend of championship play.

Purdue beat Northwestern's defending champions twice, 16-5 in 11 innings and 8-4, while Indiana measured Iowa 6-3 and 6-5.

Michigan took both ends of a doubleheader from Michigan State 10-1 and 2-1 to move into a third-place tie with Ohio State. The Buckeyes defeated Minnesota 4-2 and dropped the nightcap 5-4.

Illinois blanked Wisconsin 4-0 and then lost the second game in extra innings 3-2. Illinois, Northwestern, Michigan State, Minnesota and Wisconsin were bunched with 1-2 records followed by Iowa with an 0-3 mark.

Purdue came up with 11 runs in the 10th inning to break a 5-5 tie with the Wildcats and the momentum carried the Boilermakers to victory in the second game. Royce Stroud won in relief in the opener and saved Mike Birch in the second game when he halted a Northwestern rally with the bases loaded and none out.

Indiana came from behind to take both games from Iowa. Brilliant relief work by Larry Atkins in the first game and Phil Susic in the second saved the Hoosiers. Bob Lawrence homered for Indiana in the first game and Joe Cushing provided the winning run in the nightcap with a homer.

John Herrnstein and Al Koch quieted Michigan State' big bats. Herrnstein allowed six hits and Koch pitched a four-hitter. Jack Mogk's bases-loaded pinch single provided Michigan with the winning run in the second game.

Jim Flynn tossed a three-hit shutout for Illinois' victory in the first game. But the Badgers won the second contest in the ninth inning when they scored the winning run on an error by third baseman Casey Barszca.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State scored twice in the first inning on two hits and twice in the fourth on two hits to beat Minnesota on the five-hit pitching of Ron Nischwitz. Minnesota gained a split by scoring five runs in the second and third innings of the second tilt on Myron Rozmark's seven-hit pitching.

Friday's games: Purdue at Illinois, Northwestern at Minnesota, Wisconsin at Iowa, Indiana at Michigan State and Ohio State at Michigan.

Boxer Is Recovering After Injury in Ring

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Julian Velasquez was reported recovering today from a head injury suffered Saturday night when he was knocked unconscious by Eddie Gaspora in their 10-round main event.

Detroiters Lose ABC Lead

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Scoring took another upward surge in the 30th day of the 72-day American Bowling Congress tournament. The accent yesterday was in the doubles department.

Bill Tucker and Jim Vrenick of St. Louis worked out a 1,414 between them to wrest the two-man lead from Joe Joseph and Bob Nickel of Detroit, who had assembled a 1,369 last Friday. Tucker, 31, blasted a 237-259-235—731 series and Vrenick, 47, chipped in 683.

The new leaders: Total marked the ninth time in the current tenpin derby that the coveted 1,300 line had been crossed, equalling last year's entire tournament output in this category.

Largely on the efforts of Tucker and Vrenick, the Lindenbusch Tea of St. Louis moved into third place in the All-Events column with a grand total of 9,289. The current leader is the St. Louis Falstaffs, who slammed a record 9,608 on April 11.

Tucker, who had rolled 591 in the team event and 636 in the singles, also took the fifth rung in the Individual All-Events section with his 1,958 total for the nine-game route. Steve Nagy of St. Louis rules over the All-Events with 2,033.

Fred Olmsted, Jackson, Mich., rounded out the day's major changes when he rolled a 715 series to garner second place in the singles.

Venturi Favored to Win Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Forty-eight of the country's top golfers were arriving today to find Ken Venturi, the year's biggest winner, favored to win the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation — right in the middle of Ben Hogan's territory.

Colonial Country Club was called "Hogan's Alley" when he won four of the tournaments. Each year since then he has been a top favorite but the past five years have found somebody else coming in with first money.

Golf writers, making their annual choice, selected Venturi by a bare margin over Arnold Palmer, the Masters champion, and rated Hogan third, well away from Venturi and Palmer.

Venturi, winner of three tournaments, has taken the most first places, but the top money-winner is Palmer with $19,883.33. Palmer is a two-tournament winner and so is Bill Casper, the runner-up in money earnings with $13,861.25. Venturi has won $13,731.25.

We drive a FORD it's safer!
Give your loved ones the extra protection of Ford's Lifeguard Design
Always a leader in automotive safety, Ford once again has pioneered important new features designed to make your motoring safer . . . to give you and your loved ones still greater protection against accidents. And Ford's famous Lifeguard Design helps protect from injuries should an accident occur.
SAFETY-TWIN TAILLIGHTS are twice as big as those on other cars in Ford's field, give a better warning signal, help keep you safer.
SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND protects you in every 58 Ford. The first manufacturer to use safety glass in this country was Ford.
WIDE-CONTOURED FRAME is the safest ever designed for a Ford. It bows out a full foot wider midway and completely surrounds the passenger seating area . . . gives extra protection from side impact.
LIFEGUARD DEEP-CENTER STEERING WHEEL Rim and spokes are designed to flex under impact thus cushioning driver from the steering column in case of sudden impact. And it's standard on every Ford model.
LIFEGUARD DOOR LOCKS have a double grip to reduce the possibility of doors springing open under impact. Statistics show that you're twice as safe inside the car.
RIGID ROOF CONSTRUCTION gives extra safety protection in case of vehicle upset. Only Ford of the "low-price three" gives you five roof cross braces. (Others in this field have only three or less.)
LIFEGUARD PADDED INSTRUMENT PANEL and sun visors give protection in two vital injury areas. This optional padding is five times as shock absorbent as ordinary foam rubber.
FORD SAFETY BELTS are thoroughly tested to give you protection, comfort and peace of mind. Experts say highway deaths could be cut 50% if all passengers used this optional safety feature.

Bette Davis to Be 'Guest' in 'John Paul Jones'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bette Davis had no more than set foot in her home in Maine after weeks on the coast than she started packing to be ready to sail May 6 on the SS Independence for Spain and "John Paul Jones."

The bid from producer Sam Bronston for her to play Catherine The Great—$50,000 in non-recession money—was too much to turn down although she recently signed a radio contract. She'll do the radio show aboard ship.

Tony Curtis and his two-year-old daughter, Kelly Lee, paid me a visit, and after the young charmer left for her outing in the park Tony told me some very interesting news.

He said that his next picture starts July 15 and is opposite Marilyn Monroe in "Some Like It Hot." "I hadn't planned to do anything for a few months," Tony told me, "but I couldn't pass up the opportunity to play opposite Marilyn, so I told Harold Mirisch I would do it.

"You see I made five pictures within 18 months and I planned to rest awhile. Marilyn plays a singer in a band in 'Some Like It Hot' and I play a musician too," said Tony.

John O'Hara certainly can have no beef on "10 North Frederick." Charles Brackett, the producer, and Philip Dunne, the director, have stuck close to the O'Hara novel with the result they have a big audience picture.

I was amazed at Suzy Parker who I would have bet was through in Hollywood. I didn't care for her first picture but believe me she's good in "10 North Frederick." Diane Varsi, I continue to say, is one of the best young actresses who has ever come to Hollywood.

As for Gary Cooper, there's only one of him in Hollywood and may he continue to be himself for many a day. Geraldine Fitzgerald as the bitter, scheming mother is exactly as the book pictures her. Tom Tully too merits praise. I prophesy "10 North Frederick" will be another "Peyton Place" at the box office for 20th Century-Fox.

The first date Dr. Ernest Winder, head of cancer research, made in Hollywood was not with Kim Novak but with Elaine Conte, pretty blonde starlet.

Bobby Cohn, son of the late Jack Cohn and nephew of Harry Cohn, has eyes only for pretty singer Connie Towers. They've been going steady for a year.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Woman Sues Salon as Hair 'Disappears'

Mrs. Jack Salmon, of 2732 Glenwood St., said in a suit filed in Oakland County Circuit court that the salon used "too strong a solution causing her scalp to be burned" and "may result in a permanent loss of hair growth."

Named as defendants in the suit were six persons associated with the Artiste Beauty Salon, Northland Center. They were charged with "unskillful and negligent performance of their duties."

Three Areas Up for Rezoning

Waterford Board Gets Proposed Changes at Tonight's Meeting

Three different areas in Waterford Township will be presented for rezoning from residential to commercial when the township board meets at 7:30 tonight.

★ ★ ★

The proposed changes will include 27 lots in the Monroe Subdivision near Sashabaw road and Dixie Highway, two lots in the Frembes Subdivision for a funeral home off-street parking lot, and four lots in Maceday Gardens Subdivision for a proposed retail store.

In other business, board members will submit names to Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson for the appointment of a seven-member Unemployment Arbitration Committee.

The new group will include a minister, attorney, financier, social worker, and representatives of labor, small business, and the real estate business.

★ ★ ★

The township board will also discuss the hiring of one additional patrolman for the police department, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Throaty Singing Ruining Many Vocal Cords

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The husky, low-pitched, sexy voice now so much in demand in popular music is ruining a lot of vocal cords, says a Stanford University throat specialist.

★ ★ ★

Yelling and cheer leading also are playing their parts and should be abolished, he asserted.

The damage comes from repeatedly putting too much tension on the cords, Dr. Paul J. Moses of San Francisco told the California Medical Assn.

A woman singer with a normal soprano voice, for instance, puts added strain on the inner vocal cords when she drops into the lower register and does part of her singing by allowing air to escape from her throat to accent the huskiness, Dr. Moses said.

QUESTION: When did tennis originate?

ANSWER: Tennis is one of the oldest games played with a ball. The ancient Greeks played a game similar to it in which they used their hands to volley a round object back and forth over a mound of earth. A racket, similar to that shown in this picture, was introduced to the game by the French about 700 years ago. Soon after, tennis became a favorite with French and British royalty, and expensive courts were built at the royal palaces.

The game was first played in the United States in 1874. It caught on quickly, and today public tennis courts can be found in practically every city and town in the country.

★ ★ ★

Ravaged Body of Girl Found

High School Pupil, 16, Missing Since Thursday, Murdered in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The body of a 16-year-old high school girl, who had been missing since Thursday, was found yesterday on a country road and authorities said she had been raped and strangled.

She was Mary Jane Hanselman, daughter of a Springfield fire captain and who was last seen Thursday evening when she left a restaurant where she was employed as a part-time waitress.

Her body was found alongside a country road near the Illinois state fairgrounds by Henry W. Landers, a horse trainer at the fair grounds, who was driving with his wife to visit a friend. W. C. Telford, Sangamon County coroner, said the girl had been raped and strangled.

One of the girl's stockings had been wound tightly around her neck and knotted. Her wrists were bound together in front of her body with the other.

Mary Jane, a sophomore at the Sacred Heart Academy, a Roman Catholic girls' school, had started a job as a part-time waitress last Tuesday in a restaurant near her home.

Navy Readies Vanguard for Launching Soon

One source said technical malfunctions that postponed two Vanguard firings last week were corrected and that yesterday's work at the launching pad ran smoothly.

The cause of the mechanical failures was not announced.

Heavy Sunday Edition Proves Good Weapon

Ventriloquist Bird Resides in Jungle

PANAMA CITY — A bird ventriloquist resides in the jungles of Isla Coiba, Panama. Researchers studying the bird, a gray-headed dove, on the convict island say that usually the birds when calling appear to rest on low branches, completely concealed.

★ ★ ★

But when "we came too near they became silent and flew or walked away." But always, the research report said, "the impression was that the sound came from the trees rather than from the undergrowth near at hand."

Cocoa Industry Grows

Businessmen Say Upturn Is Coming

WASHINGTON (INS) — Business leaders attending the annual convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce report that business generally is fairly good. Many of them are strongly opposed to a tax cut on large-scale public works and antirecession measures.

★ ★ ★

A sample of sentiment among top chamber leaders reveals a widespread belief that the recession has already bottomed out. While there is general belief that an upturn is coming, businessmen differ as to its probable date.

★ ★ ★

Some business leaders look ahead to the 1960s as a new era. They think the long-term outlook is inflationary. In their judgment, this argues against "crash" antirecession measures that might prove inflationary later.

★ ★ ★

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Joan Marie Foust, minor. Cause No. 14907.

To Earl Foust, father of said child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of the said minor child are unknown, and said child has violated a law of the State and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 6th day of May, A.D. 1958, at one o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 24th day of April, A.D. 1958.

10 Hurt as Cars Collide in Troy

Head-On Crash Injures 6 Children, 3 Women, Hamtramck Detective

TROY — Ten persons, including Hamtramck's chief of detectives Joseph Katchuba, were injured in a two-car collision at 8 p.m. yesterday on Stephenson highway at 15 Mile road. One is in critical condition.

A passenger in Katchuba's car, Mrs. Ann Benden, 52, of Hamtramck, was reported in critical condition today by the hospital. She suffered head injuries and a fractured jaw.

Katchuba, 57, received facial injuries, and his wife, Mary, 54, suffered a broken ankle and cuts about the face. Their three grandchildren, Richard Katchuba, 9, David, 6, and Gail, 3, all of Hamtramck, were treated at the hospital and released.

Mrs. Beckner suffered multiple cuts and bruises. Her condition was described as satisfactory.

John, 9, one of her three children riding in the car with her, has a broken jaw. He was in satisfactory condition, Harriet, 10, and Elmer, 5, were treated at the hospital and released.

Broadway showgirl's wisdom: "At the age of 20 you blush when a fellow praises you. At the age of 30 you think he is a clever fellow. At 40 you wonder what he wants" . . . Many auto buyers have been struck by the power and speed of the '58 cars. Unfortunately, so have a lot of pedestrians. —Earl Wilson.

8 Chevrolet Plants Resume Production

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors resumed production today at eight of nine Chevrolet plants closed last week, but Ford and Chrysler announced a total of nine shutdowns for this week.

GM said its Oakland, Calif., Chevrolet Assembly Plant will reopen tomorrow, thus putting all 11 Chevy assembly factories in operation. GM estimated 21,500 were idled in last week's shutdowns.

Chrysler recalled 4,000 at its Detroit Dodge Main plant today and said another 3,000 were recalled by its Plymouth Division Plant in Evansville, Ind.

Deals Small in Stock Mart

Changes were almost entirely in small fractions. Trading was quiet after the initial activity in weekend orders.

Heads of the nation's 12 Federal Reserve banks said consumer spending would be the key factor in the ending of the recession. They said quite moderate action by the government might be enough to snap the slump if spending holds up.

Steels and motors were fairly active and irregular. U. S. Steel, which reports first quarter results late tomorrow, was off a fraction. Bethlehem, which last week disclosed a sharp drop in earnings, was ahead a fraction.

Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard were small gainers. General Motors and Ford gave a little ground.

American Smelting declined about a point. The metal concern said it would probably close several lead and zinc facilities if proposed quotas for lead and zinc imports are imposed.

Detroit Worker Killed by Car in Police Chase

DETROIT (AP) — A car being chased by police struck and killed another motorist at a Detroit intersection early today. The victim was a 23-year-old factory worker, Samuel Mickles.

Police said Mickles had the green light when his car was struck by one driven by John Patterson. Patrolman Floyd Pbanz said he had been chasing Patterson for five minutes after spotting him "weaving back and forth."

Dies in Blazing Trailer

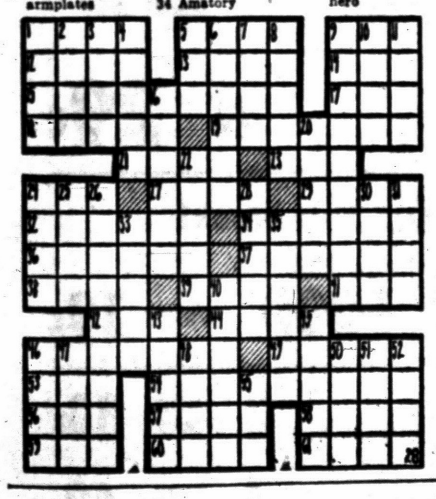

WAYLAND (AP) — Harry Hendrixon, 83, was killed when a fire swept through his house trailer in this Allegan County village Sunday. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in an oil burner.

$150,000 Fire in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A three alarm fire at Pyles Industries, Inc., Sunday caused about $150,000 damage. George S. Pyles, president said the fire might have been caused by a defective heater in the two-story brick building.

He Challenges Grim Gunmen

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

★ ★ ★

The "Home on the Range" warblers in flashy shirts, tailored gabardine pants and two-tone boots were chased away from the gold mines of show business during the past few years by grim-faced pistol packers.

He's a fellow by the name of Rex Allen, who pays $750 for his technicolor western clothes, including a $150 elkskin hat and a belt buckle about the size of a seven-inch TV screen.

★ ★ ★

As TV's non-singing, non-swash-buckling "Frontier Doctor" (ABC Sunday, 6 p.m.), Allen had to stick a stethoscope in his ears and hum to himself when he was in a singing mood.

TURNS IN SCALPEL

But today he has turned in his scalpel for a new guitar pick and renovated all 40 of his fancy suits, his 68 pairs of $75 boots and his tonsils.

★ ★ ★

So what do Rex and his career foreman know that we don't know?

Well, back in 1948 Rex replaced Roy Rogers, who had replaced Gene Autry, as Republic studio's singing cowboy star and Rex appeared in 32 musical Westerns.

Now all 32 films are headed for home screens via NBC-TV and Rex is headed for 20 major fairs and rodeos this year after making a flock of Decca recordings.

And here is what he thinks:

"I think the public will be happy to see a happy cowboy in a clean shirt again. Any actor can be a cowboy but I grew up with it. The singing cowboy really hasn't been seen on TV by a new generation.

PRETTY ADULT

"And some of those musical Westerns I made were pretty dog-gone adult, and I don't think audiences have changed that much. What's wrong with a clean shirt, a pretty horse and Western singin'?"

★ ★ ★

There's really nothing wrong with the idea and Rex may be right. Roy Rogers didn't just change his billing into the "Singing Cowboy" league for nothing, and gents like Rex and Roy are pretty sharp when it comes to personality.

When Allen says, "Any actor can be a cowboy but I grew up with it," he isn't kidding.

He was born on a ranch near Willcox, Ariz., and rode the range as a kid when his legs were just long enough to meet the shortest stirrups.

★ ★ ★

He learned to rope a calf and bulldog a steer and his favorite perch was on a rodeo chute fence until he learned there was money in singing Western songs.

RADIO FAVORITE

But can a singin' cowboy compete with today's "Gunsmoke," "Maverick" and "Have Gun, Will Travel" lads?

"Have tonsils, will try," he laughed.

Modern Pearl Fishing Active Off Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuala — Pearls, which were legal currency in Venezuela for more than a century, in old colonial days, still are an important source of income there, Caracas reports.

Some 6,000 men make their living diving or fishing for pearls, with India as the traditional best customer.

The season lasts from January to April every alternate year, in the waters surrounding the islands of Margarita, Coche and others and near the Araya peninsula on the mainland. The islands form the State of Nueva Esparta, some 20 miles off Venezuela's northwest coast, where the pearl-bearing oysters are found in greatest numbers.

Nowadays diving for pearls has largely been abandoned in favor of dragnets towed by sailboats, a system which yields a much richer harvest of pearl oysters.

Inventor Thomas Edison was born in Milan, Ohio, of Dutch and Scotch ancestry.

Judy Holliday Battles With Process Servers

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Judy Holiday and two bodyguards are having nightly battles in Shubert Alley with process-servers trying to hand her a subpoena to be a witness in an Arthur Murray suit against her mother, involving big money.

WILSON

One night the process-servers threw the subpoena at her in her limousine and the bodyguards threw it back. The process-servers begged bystanders to swear it'd touched her but they declined. Judy meanwhile cries in her dressing room.

Harry Oakes' Son Succumbs

Bahamas Slaying of Father Still a Mystery After 15 Years

NEW YORK (INS) — William Pitt Oakes, 27-year-old son of the mysteriously slain gold mining millionaire Sir Harry Oakes, died Saturday night in a private New York City sanitarium.

Oakes' physician, Dr. Eugene Markovich, said he had recently been hospitalized and also had been under psychiatric care. Dr. Markovich said death probably was due to a coronary thrombosis aggravated by a chronic liver ailment.

Oakes' father, Sir Harry Oakes, who assassed a $200 million fortune in mining, was bludgeoned to death at his plush estate in the Bahamas on July 6, 1943. Sir Harry's son-in-law, Alfred De Marigny, who married Nancy Oakes, was charged with the slaying but was acquitted after a sensational trial.

Oakes' wife, Eunice, a former model, visited him at his hotel Friday night. His brother, Harry, 25, had flown in from Nassau Saturday and accompanied him to the private hospital.

Tot Hurt in Pontiac Tumbling From Car

Three-year-old Cynthia Sue Rayman, of 5144 Joangay St., Waterford Township, was injured Sunday in Pontiac when she opened a car rear door and fell out.

Drowns at Mackinac

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Gordon Warren, 50, of St. Ignace, drowned today when he fell from his boat into the Strait of Mackinac at the Arnold Lines dock here. State police said Warren stepped from the wheelhouse of his boat, slipped and fell.

The Methuselahs, bristlestone pine trees in the White Mountains of California, live up to 4,600 years.

Innovates Club to Tame Young Hooligans

VIENNA — In Vienna, they call young hoodums "halbstarke" (half strongs), and Herr Eduard Hirschfeld, owner of a coffee house, seems to have learned how to handle them.

A gang of some 50 shouting, wrestling and molesting "halbstarke" gathered nightly outside his place until one night Hirschfeld, a man in his 50s, went out and offered "a solution" for their disturbance. In his backyard he showed them a simple wooden hut. "This is for you," he said. "I'll heat this room for you, set up a bar and buy a record player."

Today, Vienna's first "halbstarke" club has over 100 members. A committee of five, including a president and a club "protector" (who throws out trouble-makers), runs the club. Several other businessmen now have offered to finance the foundation of similar organizations.

Gives Classic Excuse for Speeding 100 M.P.H.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Victor Yonke, 28, of Cleveland had a ready explanation for officers who stopped him for speeding 100 miles-per-hour on Municipal Shoreway.

"I was trying to get to a gas station before I ran out of gas," Yonke said. He went to jail anyway.

Ex-Legion Head Dies

370 Algerian Rebels Killed, French Claim

ALGIERS (AP)—French authorities today claimed 370 Algerian rebels were killed and 20 taken prisoner in fighting over the weekend.

Armored vehicles, warplanes and ground troops went into action against a particularly large band in the North Constantine district. In the running fight some were reported killed.

Doesn't Know She's Paralyzed

10-Year-Old Wounded in Back Given Little Chance of Walking

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Little Linda Peer still doesn't know that her chance to walk again hangs in the balance.

Doctors spent three hours removing a bullet from the 10-year-old girl's back yesterday. They fought to save her from being permanently paralyzed from the hips down.

But the girl knows only a numbness in her legs. She hasn't yet been told that she is now paralyzed, her mother Mrs. Adele Peer said.

The surgeon who removed the bullet was pessimistic about her chance for improvement. Dr. Walter Van Ness said the bullet injured her spinal column, causing paraplegia.

When Mrs. Peer finally forced the locked bathroom door open, the water in the tub was turning red from the wound. She helped Linda to a bedroom and Linda's father Harvey called police.

Joseph Thomas, 30, an off-duty patrolman in the next apartment, accidentally fired the bullet as he was emptying his service revolver a few feet away, separated from Linda by the wall common to the two bathrooms.

17-Year-Old Boy Drowns Fishing Near Cadillac

State Police said he started out with an older brother and two other companions, but wandered away from the group. Officers believed he fell into the stream and struck his head on a log. His body was found by another fisherman.

Blazing Buffalo Sets Huts Afire in Oil Town

It was the sixth big fire in the Abadan area during April and the third during the weekend. The government says two of them were set by arsonists, and press reports say the buffalo also was deliberately set afire.

★ ★ ★

Last Wednesday a cat was sprayed with kerosene, set ablaze and turned loose in the bazaar to start a fire. The other fire attributed to arsonists destroyed five unattended sailboats near Abadan Saturday night.

Fears TV Westerns Cloud Picture of U.S. Justice

Justice Joseph R. Weisberger said in a speech that Westerns showing judges making arbitrary decisions or sheriffs enforcing the law merely by being quick on the draw are doing a disservice to America. He said they give the impression that the law is an instrument for the frustration of justice.
