Pflimlin Given Power to Fight 'Plot'

Report Opposes More Hospital Expansion Here

By PETE LOCHBILER

The Pontiac area doesn't have to expand its hospital facilities now, according to a report of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council yesterday.

Despite ambitious building programs planned at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, the area already has too many hospital beds, as the council report saw it, and would continue to have if the council's recommendations were carried out.

This conclusion was drawn in an extensive, 14-month study of hospital needs in Southeastern Michigan. The report on the study recommended a $30 million construction and modernization program to bring hospital facilities up to an acceptable standard over a seven-county area.

It said more hospital beds are needed at William Beaumont Hospital in northern Royal Oak. It said additional facilities to serve South Oakland and Macomb Counties "would do much to relieve what apparently is an artifical demand existing in Pontiac."

The present overcrowding of Pontiac hospitals is due mainly the report indicated, to residents of those areas coming here for treatment because they do not have adequate facilities near home.

The report made no criticism of the Pontiac General Hospital 200-bed expansion that will be completed late this year.

Taking this expansion into consideration, it submitted some 1960 estimates for an area including Pontiac and all of Oakland County north of a line marked by Fourteen Mile road, Telegraph road and South boulevard on the east.

The hospital bed need in 1960 for this area was figured at 777 beds. With the Pontiac General expansion completed, the area would have a total 959 beds, of which 828 were deemed to be in facilities that meet acceptable standards.

It figured the area will have a surplus of 182 beds by the end of the year and an extra 51 beds by 1960.

Besides the three major Pontiac hospitals, the 18-bed Avon Center Osteopathic Hospital and the 8-bed annex operated by Pontiac General in the County Service Center were taken into consideration. Pontiac General proper was figured to have 352 beds on completion, St. Joseph 330 beds and Pontiac Osteopathic 131 beds.

The report said the area at present has 3.5 general care beds per

Judge Huff Held in Contempt of Supreme Court

To Escape Punishment if He Complies With Transfer Order

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court today ruled in contempt Circuit Judge Eugene S. Huff of Saginaw and fined him $250.

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Supreme Court today ruled Circuit Judge Eugene S. Huff in contempt of court. However, the high court said Huff would be allowed to escape punishment if he will comply with its transfer order.

In an historic proceeding, the high court granted Huff's request for a 15-minute recess to confer with counsel on whether to purge himself in open court by announcing he will sit in Detroit next Monday for one month.

This he had previously refused to do, accounting for the charges against him.

"I am here only because of a matter of principle. It is difficult to compromise principle," the slender Saginaw jurist told the eight black-robed justices.

Huff stood accused of failure to comply with a May 12 order directing him to turn his post as presiding judge of the Saginaw circuit over to Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Caro for one month, and sit for that period in Detroit.

Quinn was under instructions to clear up a backlog of pending Saginaw cases in process two years or longer.

At the conclusion of the hearing

Spring to Stay, Cooler Tonight, Fair Tomorrow

Pleasant spring weather with clear skies and rising temperatures was the outlook for most of Michigan today.

The weatherman says fair and cool tonight with a low of 46-50. Generally fair tomorrow with the high near 82.

The five day weather forecast predicts temperatures will average slightly below the normal high of 69 and normal low of 49 degrees. Saturday and Sunday will be warm with temperatures somewhat cooler Monday through Wednesday.

Precipitation will total around one quarter to one half inch in showers Saturday night, Sunday and possibly Monday.

City Teamsters Vote Tomorrow

First Election Here in 5 Years to Restore Local Autonomy

The first election of officers at Pontiac Teamster Local 614 in five years should come off as scheduled tomorrow and Sunday, despite contentions by one candidate that its results might be challenged.

More than 2,000 local members are eligible to vote to fill seven offices out of a field of 20 candidates, said Robert Holmes, vice president of the Detroit District Teamsters Council which is conducting the election on orders of the union's international executive board.

When the winners take office, local autonomy will be returned to the local for the first time since Oct., 1953, when it was placed under the trusteeship of James R. Hoffa following a shakedown scandal involving local officers.

Ballots will be counted Sunday night. Ballot boxes will be kept at Oakland County Jail Saturday night for safekeeping, Holmes said.

Candidate Charles Fetherlyn, was ruled by Holmes to be ineligible to run for the office of secretary-treasurer on grounds his dues were not continuously paid for the past two years.

Fetherlyn appealed this week to the executive board that the ruling was incorrect. But Holmes said he has not been instructed by the board to make any changes or hold up the election.

French Premier Wins Support

EMERGENCY POWERS VOTED — Premier Pierre Pflimlin of France (right) is surrounded by newsmen as he leaves Elysee Palace in Paris, where he pleaded for emergency police powers to deal with riots, and disorder in behalf of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. This afternoon the National Assembly passed a bill (461 to 114) placing the country under a virtual state of seige. It is believed to be the strongest majority given a French government since World War II.

Assembly OKs Crackdown on Gaullist Coup

Bomb Premier's Home; France Totters on Brink of Civil War

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly, meeting under the Lengthening shadow of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, today voted Premier Pflimlin emergency powers to fight what he called a plot against the nation.

A first unofficial count gave the vote as 461-114 — possibly a record majority for any government since World War II.

The emergency powers act gives the three-day-old government the means of cracking down on all forms of subversive activity.

It can dissolve political organizations, arrest and hold suspects, make searches night and day, impose ful censorship of press and radio, collect arms, and close movies, theaters and cafes.

While the Assembly voted the Council of the Republic, Parliament's upper house, heard Pflimlin's speech read by Minister of Justice Robert Lecourt.

The senators were expected to give their confirming vote within a matter of hours.

A notable absentee from today's Aseembly session was Gaullist leader Jacques Soustelle. He had been under discreet surveillance since intercepted when trying to leave for Algiers earlier in the week.

One of his closest friends said he had no news of Soustelle for two days. He was last seen in the Assembly on Tuesday.

Pflimlin's country villa at Hendaye was bombed last night and police found two more bombs at the Interior and Economic Ministry buildings in Paris.

The bombs in Paris were disarmed before they exploded but the bomb in front of the premier's villa caused considerable damage.

Pflimlin himself was in Paris and no one was reported hurt.

Several rightist generals and other officers reportedly were arrested during the night on charges of subversive activities. The government refused confirmation of the reports.

Pflimlin, in a dramatic speech to a morning Assembly session, asked the powers because, he said, there is a carefully planned plot to overthrow the Fourth Republic.

The country was teetering on the brink of civil war. Paris was an armed camp. De Gaulle was in seclusion.

The Communists announced support of the measure before the vote was taken.

Deputy Premier Guy Mollet, the powerful Socialist leader, made a new plea to restore unity between the government and the enigmatic De Gaulle. He urged the general

Reuther Directs Strategy Today

Union Tells Workers No Strike Now With Backlog of Cars

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther was due back in Detroit today to direct United Auto Workers Union strategy in the climactic stages of contract talks with the auto companies during the next two weeks.

Reliable sources said the union has advised more than 300,000 members in General Motors locals to be prepared to report for work as usual after the current GM contract expires May 29 even if no new settlement has been reached.

Similar instructions are expected to be given 100,000 Ford workers and 70,000 Chrysler workers. The Ford and Chrysler contracts expire June 1.

Reuther has said the union has no intention of accommodating the companies with a strike when they have a backlog of more than 750,000 unsold new cars.

The average wage for production workers now is $2.40 an hour.

The companies and the union agreed yesterday to keep in effect a news blackout on bargaining talks.

Ernie Ford to Appear

DETROIT (AP) — Showman Tennessee Ernie Ford and his troupe will make three appearances during the opening weekend of the 109th Annual Michigan State Fair here Aug. 29-Sept. 7. The musician and his company will appear Aug. 30-Sept. 1.

Looking Ahead . . . 3 Years

Don't Give Up the Trip!

"Please don't do away with your New York Theater Tour for three more years, anyway. Mother says that she and I can take your wonderful trip in three years as I will be sixteen then.

Dorothy, bless your heart, we haven't any plans for three years away but after this letter from you, we certainly are going to mark the New York trip on the "must" agenda.

Assure Sullenberger of Hospital Hearing

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger will get a hearing before Pontiac General Hospital authorities, but only after attorneys for the city hospital decide on who should take part and how the hearing should be carried out.

Dr. Sullenberger, in a letter to the board last night, requested the hearing "at the hands of your appeal committee." He added: "Please make this a hearing that I, also, may attend."

Dr. Sullenberger was suspended from the hospital last November after failing to appear at three board meetings which were scheduled to air alleged charges against the 42-year-old chest surgeon.

New City Public Safety Director Gets Top Commission Priority

A new Public Safety Director was given top priority by the City Commission last night.

Meeting in informal session to discuss the highly critical Public Administration Service report on morale and efficiency in the Pontiac Police Department, commissioners considered a good director as the key to carrying out the report's technical recommendations.

City Manager Walter K. Willman was asked to begin scouting for possible candidates. He believed the post should be filled by a man "thoroughly experienced in police work, public relations, personnel relations, well - versed in law and a top - notch administrator."

What the salary would be for the full - time job of putting the department back on its feet has not yet been determined.

The post has been nominally held by Willman since the former, part-time director resigned in 1952.

Commissioners decided they should also concentrate on to other major recommendations: transfer of the traffic violations bureau from the police department to the municipal courts and repeal or amendment of the state civil service act, under which voters placed the department last year.

Willman recommended the transfer, but only if adequate safeguards to prevent "ticket fixing" were set up.

The civil service question was considered more complex. Commissioners generally considered that changes are necessary. They criticized various provisions and portions of the act, especially the one placing the police chief under civil service.

SUPERVISING CRIPPLED

"This provision cripples any serious attempt for the city to supervise its police department," said Mayor William W. Donaldson. "The top position must be controlled by the city."

Theodore Carlson, president of the Civil Service Commission, admitted the act could stand some changes. "But the law is being criticized prematurely, in my opinion, because poor conditions existed in the department prior to last year," he said in a letter to Willman.

Willman noted that the reaction of top police officials to the report was "varied and violent, as could be expected."

Among the others who made written reports to Willman, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley attacked the accuracy and methods of the PAS study and the personnel who made it. Willman said. Straley was personally criticized by the PAS report.

Only one police officer reacted favorably. That was Capt. Oliver Lemeaux, who told Willman that morale in the department "is the lowest in my 33 years on the force."

Others reporting were Det. Insp. Clark M. Wheaton, Capts. Walter

State Legislature Heading for Home in 30-Day Recess

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature canceled its scheduled adjournment and went home at noon today for a 30-day recess without taking action on jobless pay benefits and several other important measures.

Both Houses agreed to return June 12-13 for another try at settling inter-chamber disputes.

With a dozen substantive issues to settle, they produced a single agreement of consequence yesterday in giving final approval to a bare bones $6,500,000 capital outlay program for 1958-59.

Nearly 20 million dollars was voted for this purpose in 1957, and 36 millions in 1956.

The key was deletion from an item alloting $650,000 for a start on a new boys vocational school at Whitmore Lake or wording that would have handed a veto over the project to the Livingston County Board of Supervisors.

After a caucus of majority Republican senators, Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) said GOP solons were split five different ways on what if anything to do for 60,000 laid off workers with exhausted jobless pay benefits, and more facing exhaustion prospects.

Beadle, the caucus chairman,

Hoffa Will Stand Trial on Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, International Brotherhood of Teamsters president, has been ordered to stand trial Tuesday on a wiretap indictment following denial of his motion for dismissal.

U. S. District Judge Thomas F. Murphy turned down Hoffa's bid for dismissal yesterday. Hoffa is charged with conspiring to tap telephones of teamster subordinates at teamster headquarters in Detroit.

Owen B. Brennan, president of Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard B. Spindel will be tried with Hoffa on the same charges.

New School to Divide Top-Rated Musicians

Last PHS Band Concert Tonight

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Tonight, the Pontiac High School Band's cymbals will clash for the last time when they open the 31st and final Spring Concert with the "Pontiac Fanfare," written especially for this band.

The opening number, composed in 1956 by Robert M. Peterson, instrumental music teacher, will be played for the last time by the present band. Next fall, band members will be divided because of the opening of a second Pontiac high school.

The first half of the program, which begins at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium, will be under the direction of Dale C. Harris, supervisor of instrumental music for Pontiac schools and conductor of the band since it was organized in 1927.

Eighty students make up the band, which has received first place state and district awards for the past 27 of the 31 years it has existed.

The second number of the program will be the "Third Movement from Symphony 1," by the Russian composer Kallinikow. The flute and piccolo section will be featured in the next selection, "Waltz Compestre" from "Suite Siciliana" by the Italian Marinuzzi.

"March Free Lance," by John P. Sousa will complete the band's first portion of the concert.

Leonard Falcone, professor of music and director of the Michigan State University band, will be the guest soloist of the evening.

Falcone will play "Fantaisie Original," by Picchi, a euphonium solo.

Waltzes and excerpts from Richard Rodgers' musical, "Carousel," also will be performed by the band. The basses, baritones and trombones will be featured in this selection.

GOLDMAN TO CONDUCT

The second half of the concert will be directed by the guest conductor, Richard F. Goldman, internationally known composer, conductor, teacher, lecturer and author of music articles and texts.

Goldman is now chairman of the Department of Literature and Materials of Music, Juilliard School of Music, in New York City.

Goldman will conduct two marches, "March Fanfare" and "March On The Mall," written by his famous father, E. F. Goldman, who died in 1956.

Other selections to be conducted by Goldman include: "Overture in C," by Gossec; "Fantasia in G Major," by Bach; "Chester Overture," by William Schuman, and "March Rifle Regiment," by Sousa.

De Gaulle 'Guarded' While Awaiting Call

COLOMBEY-LES DEUX IGLESES, France, (INS) — Gen. Charles de Gaulle sat silently in his heavily-guarded country home today, presumably hoping for the call to take supreme power in France.

Troops and police set up roadblocks on all roads leading to the de Gaulle estate in eastern France. Cars were stopped and the names of all persons approaching the little village of Colombey-les Deux Iglises were taken.

Some observers said de Gaulle was under what amounted to house arrest. But the Paris government insisted he merely was being protected against possible attack by foes.

Newsmen were permitted to pass through the police lines and several cars labelled "press" were parked outside the general's home. The reporters sent in a request for an interview. De Gaulle replied that he did not want to see anyone.

British newsman Randolph Churchill, son of Sir Winston Churchill, rang de Gaulle's bell and told the servant who answered he wanted to pay his respects to the general. But de Gaulle refused to see him.

Bidding Opens on New School

Architect to Present Report in Waterford on Thursday Evening

Bids for the new Thomas M. Cooley Elementary School in Waterford Township were opened at last night's Board of Education meeting and were referred to architect George D. Mason for recommendations.

The architect will present his report at a special meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday when contracts will be awarded for construction of the 10-room school building.

The base bids ranged from $218,472 to $269,500, with alternative bids submitted for additional rooms, type of construction, roadways and interior detail.

There were 14 bids received for construction of the school to be located on an eight-acre site on the north side of Watkins Lake.

Construction of the school is part of a program of a $3.5 million school bond issue approved by Waterford Township voters in 1956.

In other business, the board purchased four new 60-passenger school buses from low bidder, Higgins Co., Inc., of Ferndale, for $5,758 each. There were five bids submitted.

Superintendent William Shunck recommended that the board approve a request for an advance of $500,000 from the State Dept. of Public Instruction from the 1958-59 State Aid program for operating expenses.

Board members also approved a recommendation to make application to the Municipal Finance Commission for permission to borrow $300,000 if the state turns down the $500,000 advance.

Teaching contracts were awarded two new teachers for the current year plus 14 for the 1958-59 school year.

Recommendations presented by Shunck for the summer band, orchestra, driver training and teaching program were also approved by the board.

Great Lakes Area Misses Nation's Scattered Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showery weather was indicated in scattered sections of the nation today.

Areas out of the rain belt were most of the Southeast, the Far West and from the northern Rockies eastward through the Great Lakes.

The major wet belt continued along an air mass boundary which extended from the Texas Panhandle eastward through central sections of the mid Mississippi Valley to parts of the mid and north Atlantic states.

Thunderstorms hit along the eastern slopes of the central and southern Rockies. Heavy rainfall was reported in some parts of Kansas. St. Joseph, Mo., was doused with more than 2½ inches of rain yesterday in a thunderstorm.

The cooler air which invaded the northern Great Lakes region spread southward into the lakes area, dropping temperatures into the 40s and 50s.

Assembly Gives Pflimlin Extra Powers in Crisis

to issue a new statement clarifying his position.

Pflimlin suffered a blow with ex-Premier Georges Bidault's declaration he would not vote for the state of urgency. "It is better to obey God than men," Bidault said.

But Pflimlin met most objections to his emergency measure with this chilling warning to the Assembly:

"There is a plot against the Republic and public order . . . Certain people went from metropolitan France to Algeria in order to create a state of insurrection both in Algeria and metropolitan France.

"They have prepared carefully and systematically."

Pflimlin's call for emergency powers was decided upon at a cabinet session which ended early this morning after Gen. Charles de Gaulle and "rebel" army leaders in Algeria issued challenges to the government.

Parisians went about their business today, strangely unperturbed by the worst crisis in the nation's postwar history.

About 1,000 policemen ringed the Palais Bourbon where the National Assembly met. Few other signs of urgency were visible in the city.

One cab driver, asked for his reaction, said he had not been reading the papers lately and did not know what the trouble was about anyway.

Supreme Court Rules Judge in Contempt

in the dingy but historic Supreme Court Chamber, atty. Robert J. Curry, counsel for Huff, likened the position taken by the circuit judge to resistance by American colonists to the British crown in Revolutionary days.

Curry argued that except under unusual circumstances not obtained in Huff's case, the lawyers and citizens of the Saginaw circuit had a right to have their litigations heard by a judge of their own choosing.

"If it was wrong in 1776 to take our citizens to England to be tried, where is the difference then in principle to bringing an English judge to the colonies andy trying them there?" Curry asked the eight black-robed Supreme Court justices.

Implying that the pending issue was comparable, Curry asserted "The people of iMchigan when they comprehend, will not stand for it."

In response to stern questions by Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, Huff, standing at a counsel table before the bench, acknowledged that:

He was aware of an assignment made at Dethmers' direction on April 28, a subsequent order of the Supreme Court on May 9, and was served with a second order in his courtroom at Saginaw on May 12.

He acknowledged that the May 12 order temporarily assigned Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Caro as a temporary successor as presiding judge of the Saginaw circuit.

"You were aware then that you were directed by order of this court to serve in the third judicial circuit of Wayne County from May 12 until June 12?" Dethmers asked.

"Yes, I was," Huff replied.

"Did you go there as directed by this court?"

"No, your honor," was Huff's reply.

The early stages of the hearing were marked by a tenseness that showed when Justice Dethmers stopped at one point to ask Huff to remain standing while he was questioned.

At another point, Dethmers directed Atty. Robert J. Curry, counsel for Huff, to take his seat.

Curry had sought to insist that he, as counsel for Huff, reply to the court's questioning rather than Huff directly.

"Judge Huff is in the best position to answer the questions of the court. You will be allowed to state your position, but a little later. Sit down, please," Justice Dethmers said.

While arguing a motion for a continuance, which the court denied, Curry said:

"Maybe you already have made up your mind he is in contempt, which, if you have, you shouldn't have done."

Dethmers sharply interjected:

"I would suggest you refrain from any such observations."

At the outset of the hearing the court announced that it was denying a motion by the Saginaw County Bar Assn. to intervene as a friend of the court.

An 11-year veteran of the circuit bench, Huff said he has never been reversed by the high court of appeal.

For his refusal, Huff faced a fine of up to $250, a jail sentence or other punishment.

Legislature Goes Home for 30 Days held out a glimmer of hope, but that was all.

One of the possibilities discussed embodied a recommendation for a permanent, built-in system of extended unemployment benefits to family men during periods of widespread joblessness for up to 13 weeks.

It was painstakingly worked out by House labor experts working with a couple of senators and industry representatives.

Beadle conceded that if the legislature quit without doing something Gov. Williams probably would call a special session in June and raise the jobless pay issue once more after Congress acts.

The House and Senate breathed defiance at one another over State Police spending. At stake was a possible layoff of 100 troopers, and strangulation of the State Safety Commission by cutting off its funds.

A new attempt to compose differences was on tap.

Sewer System Gets Approval

Public Works Board Now Has All Tentative Contracts but Two

Proposed agreements between Oakland County and participating communities in the Evergreen sewage disposal system were approved by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Harold K. Schone, acting director of the Department of Public Works, which is planning the system, said all contracts except two areas which will benefit from the system.

He said he expected tentative contracts from the new city of Southfield and Southfield Township soon.

The department must now prepare contracts in final form, resubmit them to the eight communities for signatures, and then hand the proposal over to the Board of Supervisors.

Because of a pending Supreme Court appeal on a similar sewage project, Schone said there "isn't much hurry." "Nothing else can move with the department until that case is heard," he said.

A West Bloomfield Township attorney is appealing a recent Circuit Court decision permitting the Farmington interceptor sewer system to proceed.

Schone also reported that a $399,600 loan from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for the five-township Clinton River sewage disposal system is being withheld until a court decision is reached.

Perry Street Closed to Through Traffic

Pontiac motorists were alerted today that Perry street (M-24 business route) from Madison to Pontiac Road, is closed to through traffic.

Capt. Joseph Koren, head of the police traffic bureau, said the tearing up of Perry for widening and resurfacing is under way.

As the work progresses, the entire street, from Huron to the city limits, will be closed, he added.

Through traffic should take an alternate route using Auburn (M-59) and Opdyke (M-24 bypass), Capt. Koren said.

Dog 'Rustlers' Busy

MIDLAND, Ont. (AP)—Midland's dog catcher says dog lovers have been stealthily liberating impounded pets in night raids. Most dogs have been rounded up again, he says, but some residents near the pound are complaining about midnight barks and yelps.

The Day in Birmingham

Summer Camping Plans Announced by YMCA

BIRMINGHAM — The summer camping program of the Birmingham YMCA has been announced by Edwin Kirbert, executive secretary.

The first camp scheduled will be for high school boys, ages 15 and 16, at the new Loud Island Senior Camp on Lake Van Etten.

To be held from June 26 to July 24, the 30-day camp session will cost $100. The second camp for youths in the same age bracket has been slated for July 24 through Aug. 21. These camps will feature preliminary ranger training.

Interviews may be arraigned through the Birmingham "Y" office.

Kirbert and Arthur Blakeslee will be co-leaders of the group which will leave here Aug. 21 for a 10-day trip to Lake Anjigami in Northern Ontario. Boys wishing to go on this fishing trip must be able to swim and be at least 13 years old, Kirbert said.

The family camp at Hissokone will be held Aug. 23 to Sept. 1. Children from 3 to 12 years will be permitted to attend with their family groups at "half fare."

Other camp activities include both sessions at Camps at Oscoda and Lake Van Etten. Reservations are still available and descriptive material may be obtained at the "Y" office, Kirbert said.

The July 1 retirement of Municpal Judge J. Gafill has been announced by Birmingham City Manager L. R. Gare.

Judge Gafill, who lives at 651 Frank St., Birmingham, is leaving the bench on the advice of his physician. He is 83.

Judge Gafill was appointed to the judgeship in 1946 and has been elected to two four-year terms since that time. His present term will expire next year.

Judge Gafill at one time served as village attorney and was formerly general attorney for the Grand Trunk Western Canadian National Railroad.

Mayor Carl Ingraham has proclaimed May 24 as "Batter-Up Booster Day."

Sponsored by the Birmingham Kiwanis Club, boys from the Little and Babe Ruth baseball leagues will conduct a peanut sale that day throughout the residential district.

Mayor Ingraham pointed out that last year approximately half of the boys in the city between 8 and 15 years old took part in the baseball program.

Valley Woods Elementary School will hold its Kindergarten Roundup beginning at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday. Parents planning to enroll their children in the kindergarten classes next fall have been asked to register them at the school at this time.

Reservations are being taken by Marian Meadowcroft, general chairman of the annual spring card party sponsored by Soroptimist International of Birmingham.

The affair will be held May 22 at 8 p.m. in the Birmingham Community House. Again this year funds will be used to purchase specialized equipment for use at William Beaumont Hospital.

Serving with Mrs. Meadowcroft are Mable Sorensen and Maxine Luscombe. Committee heads are Dorothy Dunbar and Nina Noble, prizes; Mary Dewey, tickets; Edith Foster and Linda Moore, posters; Mrs. Sorenson and Fern Hotton, refreshments.

Hospital Expansion Opposed in Report

1,000 residents for the estimated 1960 population of 261,168, but only needs 2,973 beds.

Recommended expansion elsewhere that would relieve pressure here included:

Beaumont Hospital — 300 new beds;

St. John and Holy Cross Hospital in East Detroit—300 beds each for the benefit of northeast Detroit and southern Macomb County residents.

The report also took into consideration the contemplated move of Providence Hospital from Detroit to Greenfield road in south Oakland County. This would add 350 beds to help that area.

The overall council program called for 1,500 new beds to replace some 2,100 present beds considered unacceptable. The program would be at an estimated cost of $20,000 for each new bed.

The council believed that larger facilities are better than smaller ones and recommended that 200-bed hospitals the minimum size.

The report was aired at the annual meeting of the hospital council in Detroit, at which Allen W. Merrell, council president, urged cooperation in planning expansion in the future.

"Society can no longer afford the expensive luxury of a completely unrelated hospital development program which is costly in terms of financing, both capital and operational, and compounds the shortage of trained medical and health personnel," Merrell said.

One hundred hospitals in the seven-county area participated in the study, including 55 that are members of the hospital council. Pontiac General St. Joseph, and Avon Center belong to the council.

Grasshoppers Take Over

Millions of them are swarming over this normally spic and span city of 130,000, causing a mess underfoot.

Windows and automobile windshields are covered with the pests. At night they obscure headlights and street lamps.

Jupiter Missile Fails to Go at Zero Hour

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Army Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile launching, the first in five months, was postponed by technical difficulties early today at the last split second.

After an 18-minute delay in the preliminary countdown, the missile appeared set to go. Power was cut off at the critical zero mark, however. The shoot was "scrubbed" at 12:30 a.m.

The missile appeared to be a regular Jupiter IRBM except for its blunt nose cone which seemed larger and longer than those used in previous tests.

The Department of Defense said in a brief statement that the launching would be rescheduled at the earliest possible date. No details were released on the technical trouble.

The last Jupiter launching, fired Dec. 18, underwent a successful takeoff but failed to complete its full flight because of technical defects.

To Honor Ex-Senator

DETROIT (AP)—Former Democratic Senator Prentiss M. Brown will receive this year's Detroit Historical Society Guild Award May 26 for his long career of public service, including chairmanship of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Use Groundcovers for Laborsavers

Groundcovers are widely recommended as laborsavers for low-maintenance areas, but these plantings often become badly infested with weeds soon after planting.

The choice has been either meticulous handwork or the permanent nuisance of weeds, but it now appears that two standard weed killers may provide help, says the May issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine.

Research workers at Michigan State University have found that most weeds could be eliminated from groundcover plantings with Alanap or Crag 1.

Groundcovers used in the Michigan tests included ajuga, English ivy, euonymus, pachysandra, and Japanese honeysuckle. Crag 1 was safe on all plants except ajuga, which was severely injured. Alanap was safe except on ajuga, pachysandra, and English ivy, the report says.

All remaining graveled state trunklines will be paved by 1962.

Tough Tactics Calming Beirut

Vigilant Police Insure Peace After Riots Die Down in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Tough tactics by vigilant security police brought calm to the riot-scarred streets of Beirut today.

The Lebanese capital passed its quietest night of a bomb-rocked week. When curfew was lifted this morning, the snipers, arsonists and rioters seeking to overthrow Lebanon's pro-Western government did not return to the havoc they have caused for four days.

Police officials awaited the sunset call to weekly Moslem prayers, however, as a time when agitators might harangue groups to further violence. Many of the rioters are Moslems who want to join President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

The official count of persons killed in yesterday's demonstrations was five—a sharp drop for the rioting that began Saturday in the northern port of Tripoli.

So far no official figures have been released on total casualties in fighting that has swirled through most of this tiny republic at the eastern end of the Mediterranean. But the total was expected to surpass 50 killed and hundreds wounded.

Hupdreds more have been arrested by police who yesterday received a rush air shipment of U. S. antiriot equipment.

On the political front, little hope was seen for a quick compromise between President Camille Chamoun and opposition leaders who want him to resign.

Reports from the mountains continued to be sparse. Damascus radio in nearby Syria claimed Lebanese rebels were in full control of three districts in north, east and central Lebanon.

FBI Asked to Curb Southern Bombings

Two measures have been introduced in Congress urging the Justice Department to take action to prevent further bombing outrages in the South.

Since January, 1957, there have been 45 bombings or dynamitings of religious institutions, public schools, community centers and other properties. Of these, 14 were in Alabama, six each in Tennessee and North Carolina, five each in Georgia and Texas, four in South Carolina, three in Florida and one each in Arkansas and Oklahoma. Twelve of the bombings were in 1958.

Most of the outrages involve Negro institutions and homes. A new elementary school at Nashville was virtually destroyed. Six bombings were of Jewish places of worship, an annex to Temple Beth El in Miami suffering $30,000 damage. So far few arrests have been made and there have been no convictions.

The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith has appealed to Attorney General WILLIAM P. ROGERS for FBI help. Ground for this appeal is the League's contention that Federal laws have been violated, including the Civil Rights, the Smith Act and sections of the criminal code.

If local enforcement officials can't stop this disgraceful reign of terror and give protection to all citizens, the Federal Government should step in, states righters to the contrary notwithstanding.

HEW Head Resigns Because of Ill Health

Secretary FOLSOM of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) has resigned because of poor health but will remain in office until the end of the present session of Congress.

This widely respected and successful businessman (Eastman Kodak Co.) was a pioneer in the concept of social security in its role of meeting intimate human needs. He worked with zeal to improve medical care, schooling and the economic stability of American families. His practical turn of mind combined with idealism made him an effective administrator.

Mr. Folsom campaigned persistently for regulation of the food and drug industries. Aware of the vast changes in processing and packaging of foods, he knew the need for an expanded inspection service for the protection of the consumer.

The new head, ARTHUR S. FLEMING, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, is no stranger to Washington. He is a member of the President's Advisory Council on Government Reorganization. With long experience in Government as well as in the field of education, he may be able to steer the Administration to a sound and realistic program of aid to education.

Greek Premier Wins in Pro-West Voting

Another Greek election ordinarily would not stir up too much concern in the West, but in the recent one the question of American missile bases was involved.

For the past two and a half years, Premier KARAMANLIS, who has been returned to power after his government resigned, provided remarkable stability for his country. Internal development was impressive, inflation controlled and foreign investments improved.

The Greek Government favored missile bases and had been moderate and conciliatory in the matter of Cyprus. It even had engaged in negotiations toward a settlement. The Communist line (EDA) party charged Karamanlis with being a puppet of John Foster Dulles and with softness toward Cyprus.

While the Communist party as such is outlawed in Greece, EDA made no secret of its leanings toward Russia. It stressed neutrality for Greece, a member of NATO, and polled a surprisingly large vote.

The 51 year old KARAMANLIS has headed the government since 1955 and his party is expected to fill 17 of the 300 seats, 12 more than in 1956. This, unfortunately, will strengthen his hand in continued support of the West.

David Lawrence Says:

Nation Must Unite in Nixon Affair

WASHINGTON — Patriotism may be dormant at times, but partisanship never. Thus the wholehearted welcome given to Vice President Nixon and the demonstration of confidence by President Eisenhower and by members of both parities in Congress at the airport on his arrival here was later marred by a brief debate in the House of Representatives when a few partisans applauded criticism of the State Department for letting Nixon go to Latin America in the first place.

LAWRENCE

The United States government, it was argued in effect, should have yielded to the threats of terror and canceled the visit.

LOTS OF TALK

Only a few months ago, on the other hand, there was a lot of talk in Congress about "freedom to travel," and the State Department was denounced because it didn't want American newsmen to take risks inside Red China, whose regime is not recognized by the United States.

But now that argument has been switched around. It apears that "freedom to travel" should not be exercised by the high officials of the American government in friendly countries to which diplomatic recognition has been given.

What a cowardly thing it would be for the United States government to refuse to go ahead with a trip previously announced and to give as the reason that it couldn't expect — from friendly governments — protection or security for a visiting delegation!

GOVERNMENTS OFFENDED

Not only would the governments of Latin America have been offended, but they would have winced under the charge that they couldn't protect the distinguished visitors they themselves had invited.

As for the communist rulers in Moscow, this would have been grist for their mill. They would have been delighted to read that they had intimidated the United States government. This would have been a propaganda success of transcendent proportions.

Indeed, instead of standing up for the government of the United States, the word now is that some members of Congress want an investigation to be undertaken to find out what the Administration knew of the possibility of outbreaks in Latin America, as if there is blame to be imposed here.

Unfortunately, the Communists in countries with which the Intelligence Agency or the Department of State the details of the plans they intend to pursue in attempting to stir up disorders in countries with which the United States is at peace.

It is important, however, to note that the Communists did openly attempt to bestir their followers in Latin America to make trouble for Nixon on the trip.

Here is what Daniel Schorr of the Columbia Broadcasting System, formerly Moscow correspondent but now in Washington, said over the radio at midnight on the eve of Nixon's return:

"Any communist sympathizer in Latin America, listening to Moscow Radio for the past two weeks, would know that it was important to the Kremlin that Nixon's tour be turned into an anti-United States demonstration.

"On April 27 — the day Nixon left Washington — Moscow beamed a broadcast in Spanish to South America, predicting that Nixon would hear grave complaints on his tour, complaints about U.S. attempts to shift its recession to the backs of Latin Americans, complaints about what Moscow called insolent American interference in Latin-American affairs. The purpose of Nixon's trip, said Moscow, was to exert pressure, and Latin Americans wanted no such visitors.

"In Russian and English broadcasts for Europe, Moscow Radio reported Nixon meeting difficulties — this before the first demonstration against him . . . On May 10 Moscow Radio reported with great satisfaction that in Montevideo, Buenos Aires, La Paz and Asuncion, Nixon had the experience — and I quote — of experiencing personally the violent exhibition of hatred of the people for Washington's policies.

"Then, in Spanish, Moscow gloated about the student demonstration against Nixon in Lima, said the visit to Peru had turned into a veritable scandal. No one listening to the voice of Moscow could have failed to know what the Kremlin was hoping to see."

Then, on May 13 and 14, the climax came in Venezuela. The Moscow government has several thousand Communist Party members in each of the Latin American countries, and the broadcasts from Moscow contained instructions to them to stir up animosities and even violence.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Skin 'Absorbs' Nothing—but Liniment Is Useful

Many medical authorities of yesteryear flatly asserted or implied that this or that food, chemical, medicine or poison may be absorbed through the unbroken skin.

DR. BRADY

There are on record numerous reports of serious or fatal poisoning from arsenic solution spilled over the feet, from spilling nicotine solution on the clothing and failing to change the clothing immediately, from applying a poisonous shoe dye to shoes on the feet, from prolonged use of hair dye containing lead, or from careless handling of tetra-ethyl lead (anti-knock) gasoline.

In all of these instances, I am confident — cocksure, if you like —that whatever poisoning occurred was from inhalation of the poison, not from absorption through the skin.

Even though I claim nothing is absorbed through the unbroken skin, various liniments or embrocations are, nevertheless, good remedies. Spirit of camphor or camphor liniment (camphorated oil) may give considerable relief when applied to the chest, for bronchitis, over the brow for neuralgia, or over the bridge of the nose for coryza.

Camphor linement (camphorated oil) is made by dissolving about two ounces (three heaping tablespoonfuls) of gum camphor, coarsely powdered in enough olive oil or cottonseed oil to fill a pint bottle.

Add to camphor liniment a little aromatic spirit of ammonia (an ounce to the pint) to make a good rubbing liniment to relieve or prevent muscle soreness or stiffness.

How can these external applications have an effect if they are not inhaled? Who says they are not inhaled?

But aside from the perhaps insignificant amount of camphor or ammonia inhaled when volatilized by the body's warmth, these and numerous other agents applied externally are more or less irritating so they act as counter-irritants.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

"I guess the trouble is that we don't have church services at a convenient time for lots of our people."

Days of All Faiths:

Churches Emphasize Evangelism

Evelyn makes an interesting report on the success of the "Compliment Club" as a church project. It is the quickest and simplest method that church folks can adopt for practicing their Christianity every day. So launch it as a wholesome project in your church or school or office and factory. It pays rich dividends in happiness!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-311: Evelyn G., aged 17, is a member of the Young Peoples Society over which Clayton serves as advisor, as described yesterday.

"Dr. Crane, we have had so much fun," Evelyn began, "while we have been working on the 'Compliment Club' project.

DR. CRANE

"There were 18 of us who decided to try it. And we have kept track of the three people we praise each day.

"On Sunday nights we then give the group a chance to tell of any especially interesting experiences they have had that week in paying their daily compliments.

"And it is thrilling. In fact, we feel that we are really putting Christianity into daily use by raising the spirit of unhappy people with our sincere praise.

HUNGRY FOR PRAISE

"Several of the girls and boys have even used some of their compliments on their parents, and the home atmosphere has been changed.

"One boy said his dad always criticized his mother and the other children, but after this boy complimented his father a few times, his dad apologized for being so grouchy and said he would try to turn over a new leaf.

"And I praised my Latin teacher in high school. Tears came to her eyes, for she is an elderly woman. She told me she had taught Latin for nearly 40 years and I was the only pupil who had ever complimented her.

"Really, it makes us ashamed of ourselves when we now realize how many golden opportunities we have missed in the past.

"For everybody brightens and smiles when complimented. It gives a boost to one's morale. And it truly is just putting the Golden Rule into everyday action, isn't it?"

RELIGION IS FUN

Yes, and religion can be fun when you start mixing it with practical projects in the realm of psychology.

People basically want to be your friends. But many of them just don't know how to start a conversation. They are shy. To hide their heartache, they may affect indifference or even disdain.

Somebody must finally break the conversational "ice" or a haughty "chill" will pervade the situation and people may go away hostile.

So church folks should always consider themselves as religious salesmen. It is their job, therefore, to speak first and to smile and look for good things in their neighbors.

Then phrase a bit of praise for some of the merits in your companions. This not only serves as an ideal "ice breaker" for starting conversation, but bouys up the wounded spirit of your neighbor.

And you never can tell from outside aspects just how low in morale a person can be!

environment, even though the parents never dreamed such a state existed.

So pay compliments daily. They are simply verbal "bouquets" which you offer to your companions BEFORE the funeral.

Such verbal bouquets can change the outlook of moody, weary and friendless souls. So don't limit your praise to your boon friends.

It is perfectly proper to compliment strangers. So spread the Golden Rule via the "Compliment Club." Make it your personal hobby.

Urge your church and school groups to launch upon it as a jolly social experiment.

But learn the Five Rules for Complimenting, so send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Can't Something Be Done About City Rat Problem?'

Why can't something be done about the rats in this town? We've been trying for two months. According to the Board of Health, they're receiving so many calls they can't take care of them, but we're not allowed to put poison out.

I've seen as many as 11 in half an hour coming from one piece of property. It's getting so we can't tell them from the squirrels until we see their tails. Something will have to be done soon, because they're taking over. Some of them are quite clean, though. They come out for their shower when we sprinkle the lawn.

M. E., Rat Hater

I see one department of this fair city is clearing south main street of all people who drink. Now how about the sanitation department getting on the ball and doing the job they're paid for? When rats by the dozen are running over house and home in broad daylight, no amount of calls does any good.

Advices Gardeners on Healthier Plants

Every gardener should study organic gardening and raise healthier and better vegetables. There are 17 trace elements in new soil, but year after year of gardening removes these so plants don't contain them and you get none when you eat the vegetables. You can remedy this by applying ground rock phosphate and green sand liberally to your garden. Rock phosphate is from bottoms of prehistoric lakes and contains all 17 elements. When spread on the garden it's absorbed by the plants and when you eat them your body absorbs the elements, and your health is muchly improved. Vegetables also have better texture and flavor.

'Is Church-Going Really Necessary?'

I don't go to church on Sunday and probably I should. However, I think the way you live your life is the most important. If I believe in God, treat my neighbors fairly, love my family, conduct myself honorably in business and take part in civic activities, I feel I'm following the Lord's direction as much as though I went to church each Sunday. I am interested in knowing whether others agree with me.

If those quarrelsome frogs don't wake up and get DeGaulle on the job, there won't be any French government at all. There's practically none now. Only this man can save a revolution and maybe he can't. But he's worth a try. Are Frenchmen always dumber than other people?

'Alaska Does Not Measure Up Yet'

Another move is being pushed to get Alaska into the Union. Alaska isn't ready and should not be admitted at this time. Do you think for a moment that Alaska is entitled to two U.S. senators the same as Michigan and New York and California? How could a tiny sector of the population like Alaska expect to have as much say in the Senate as these huge, modern, well-educated districts?

When she measures up, Alaska will be welcome, but that day hasn't arrived and it is many years away. We need to do some great missionary work in Alaska. Also, when we take Alaska into the Union, we have moved our border to within a scant few miles of Russia. Don't forget that.

'Let's Not Forget the Fence as Well'

In passing through Pontiac several times a month at the Oakland-Saginaw intersection, I notice our Soldier's Memorial which has been cleaned up and polished for the season, as usual. It's clean-up, fix-up week again, so let's not overlook the eyesore of the unsightly, dilapidated and rusty cable fence which surrounds the monument. This needs some attention and Memorial Day is about on us. Let's clean up and fix up this triangle.

'Would Dance Club for Teens Pay Off?'

The way teenagers are turning to dancing leads me to wonder if a dance club might be profitable. I solicit the opinion of teenagers and their parents. I have in mind a building within city limits that would handle about 250 dancers. Dances would be Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, and Saturday and Sunday afternoons, music by hi-fi and organ trio. A charge of 50 cents per person should be adequate to cover costs and profits if it were well patronized. What about it? Could Pontiac teenagers support this sort of a club?

City Offers Hospital 3-Year Debt Delay

To help Pontiac General Hospital stay out of the red, City Commissioners are willing to declare a three-year moratorium on an old, $100,000 back debt.

The money is part of a total $200,000 which the hospital owed the city when it was taken over by a board of trustees in 1952.

It has been paying the debt off at a rate of $25,000 a year, City Manager Walter K. Willman told Commissioners last night, but has not paid this year's installment yet.

Commissioners told Willman to offer the moratorium at another joint committee meeting of city and hospital officials Monday night. The committee has been considering ways to prevent a repeat of last year's $71,698 net loss.

The hospital has said it might consider giving up an annual $75,000 appropriation by the city if the city in turn would take over the annual interest on the 1954 hospital bond issue. The interest is $80,750 this year.

EXPENSES TO INCREASE

The appropriation is for employe pensions and the emergency ward. "Both of these expenses are bound to increase as time goes on," Willman noted, "while the interest rate drops a bit every year, so the city ought to save money on the deal before too long."

Aware of this, the hospital figures it also would save money in the long run by being in a better position to raise voluntary contributions and bargain on employe raises.

At present, according to Hospital Director Carl I. Flath, the hospital is looked upon in some quarters as "subsidized" by the city.

"It's not a subsidy, but a fixed sum agreed upon when the board took over the hospital. The city isn't going to increase our "subsidy" to help us out at the end of the year if we haven't made ends meet."

Willman said the city would not be able to assume the interest rate this year for lack of budgeted funds for that purpose.

The hospital had hoped to get rid of the interest this year. It has yet to reimburse the city for paying off the first half of this year's interest last month.

Children's Rates Set by General Hospital

Room rates for children at Pontiac General Hospital have been set at a uniform rate of $19 per day, except in the case of private rooms.

The Board of Trustees last night established the rate upon the recommendation of Director Carl I. Flath, who said shifting of pediatric patients from wards to semi-private and private rooms often caused a difficulty in bookkeeping.

So, trustees approved the $19 rate for all pediatric patients, excepting those whose parents request private accommodations. This rate will be at $25 per day cost, Flath said.

Old charges were $18 for wards, $19 for semi-private and $20 for private rooms.

Billy Asks Decisions of Youths, Convicts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham spoke yesterday to two different groups — thousands of young students and thousands of San Quentin convicts.

About 17,000 turned out in the 16,500-seat Cow Palace on the third Thursday "Youth Night" of his crusade here and the "decisions for Christ" came to 1,044.

He preached earlier to 4,000 of the 4,500 inmates at the state penitentiary.

After the sermon prisoners demanded so many autographs that Graham begged off, saying, "I haven't any more time."

"Oh, we've got lots of time," they said.

Capt. Townsend Calls on Meg for Tea Again

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP)—It wasn't mentioned in the royal court circular today but that man called on Princess Margaret again for tea.

Group Capt. Peter Townsend told a reporter he expected to see the princess again before he leaves England again sometime next week.

A spokesman for Buckingham Palace said his visit yesterday to Clarence House, where the princess lives with Queen Mother Elizabeth, was a "private visit—that's all I can say."

It was Townsend's second call at Clarence House since he returned from his world tour. He had tea with Margaret and the Queen Mother March 26, another "private visit" lasting three hours.

That one kicked up a mighty fuss in the papers and in court circles because Queen Elizabeth II was out of the country, on a state visit to the Netherlands.

Palace sources shrugged off the latest meeting, depicting the princess and the handsome World War II ace as just good friends. The newspapers seemed resigned to the meetings and this time showed no shock. The Daily Mail suggested the two had also met on Monday at a secret rendezvous for tea.

Whether the queen mother was at home when Townsend called yesterday wasn't known publicly. The Daily Mail said she wasn't.

Margaret had spent the day visiting a new children's hospital. She returned home to find Townsend waiting. He stayed for two hours and a half.

Later Margaret, her mother and her sister went to a reception for visiting President Gronchi of Italy.

"Margaret smiled all evening," said one of the guests. "She didn't seem to have a care in the world."

Ike Objects to Two Key Parts of Bill Passed in Committee

ta104 defense lead .czzcu v ph16

WASHINGTON (AP)— The House Armed Services Committe today unanimously approved a compromise bill to reorganize the Defense Department. President Eisenhower objected to two key features of it.

The bill largely followed Eisenhower's recommendations as to command over military forces made up of more than one service. It contains two major provisions to help establish a clear line of command from a president through the secretary of defense to the forces in the field.

It does this by providing an operational joint staff of up to 400 members for the Joint Chiefs of Staff and by limiting command powers of the individual service chiefs.

But the committe refused to go as far as Eisenhower wishes in authorizing the secretary of defense to reassign military functions among the services. It wrote in provisions saying the head of any one of the separate services—the chief of staff of the Army or Air Force or Navy—can object to such a transfer and in effect refer the question to Congress for determination.

Congress could then block the change by a simple resolution in both houses, not requiring a president's signature. As submitted by the administration, Eisenhower's proposal would have required only that such changes be submitted to Congress. The lawmakers then could stop it only by passing a bill.

A president could veto such a measure and a two-thirds vote in both houses would be required to override the veto.

Thus, in the language of a committee announcement, the group preserved to Congress its constitutional responsibility to provide for an Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps.

Hal Boyle Says:

Cary Grant Declares Men 'Idiots' Until 35

NEW YORK (AP) — Cary Grant picks the age of 35 as the break-even point in life.

After that, he says, things should get better—if they are ever going to.

"Until 35 a man is often a self-centered idiot," the handsome screen actor remarked, "but then he should begin to make more sense.

"I know I was impossible before 35. I'm hardly possible now. I may be more of a bore, but I feel I'm less of a boor. I'm a little less self-concerned.

"Sufficient kicks in the rear over the years do make a difference, and you can learn from experience.

"If a man picks up a little knowledge, if he improves his tolerance, if he reduces his own impatience and irritability, if he can spare a listening ear to the other fellow—well, he can't help but find himself easier to live with."

Grant just returned this week from England where he costarred with Ingrid Bergman in "Indiscret," a romantic comedy. It is the first time they have teamed together since they made "Notorious" a number of years ago.

Grant, born Archibald Alexander Leach, ran away from home at 13 to become a stilt walker with an acrobatic troupe. He served time as a carnival barker before he graduated to Broadway and Hollywood stardom.

One who has enjoyed the sunlight of international popularity for so long might be tempted to pick up the chips and call it quits while he was still ahead. But Grant still wants to go on making pictures, he said, "until I'm dead—or longer.

"I did quit once for 18 months. I can't say I was bored. I never have been. But I just wasn't as interested in life.

"I learned that you appreciate work most while you're at leisure, and leisure while you're at work. It's like being married or single. You can't be both at the same time."

What makes for success or failure in living? Many people think luck is the decisive factor. Grant emphatically doesn't.

"Everybody puts himself exactly where he finds himself in this world," he said.

"Everyone has constant choices to make all day long. We put ourselves where we are by the choices we make.

"I know I'm sticking my neck out in saying this, and the ill-fortuned won't agree with me.

"But I do believe people can do practically anything they set out to do—if they apply themselves diligently, and learn. Few people recognize opportunity because it comes disguised as hard work and application."

Japan Rejects Inquiry by Reds as 'Propaganda'

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government today rejected as "political propaganda" a Russian inquiry about reports that American aircraft in Japan carry atomic weapons.

"Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and other responsible officials have repeatedly declared that Japan will not maintain nuclear armaments and will not allow nuclear weapons to be brought to Japan," the Foreign Office's chief spokesman said.

Willman Plans to Hold Contest

Wants Architects to Enter Dream Designs of New City Buildings

Pontiac may find an architect for the new Main Fire Hall and Library buildings by means of a contest.

City Manager Walter K. Willman thinks architects should be encouraged to submit dream designs for the civic center structures.

"If we got enough entries," he told City Commissioners last night, "we might pick out the one we like best and use that as our guide in entering into a contract."

Architects would not be reimbursed for their suggestions, he said. "But at the same time, we wouldn't need detailed drawings. Just something to give us an idea of what the designer has in mind."

Commissioners, eyeing next year as a possible target date to begin the fire hall construction, gave the contest their sanction.

Willman suggested the Commission might begin setting funds aside in next year's budget and have enough more on hand in 1960 to pay for the building at the time of its completion.

The fire hall is to be located on a site across East Pike street from the Public Safety Building. Land purchase is three-quarters completed.

The Public Safety Building and City Hall were designed by the late Leo J. Heenan. His death leaves the choice of a new architect wide open, the Commission decided.

In Japan Jan. 15 is "Adults Day" and corresponds to our Thanksgiving day.

Mailman Lets His Dog Take Nip at Substitute

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP)—A substitute mailman said he was bitten by a mailman's dog as he tried to deliver a letter to the home of the man for whom he was working.

All the while, the substitute said, the regular mailman sat on the porch and watched the dog bite.

Top Honors Go to City Hospital

Frostbite Thesis Wins Statewide Laurels for Pontiac General Team

A research project on the effects of frostbite on humans has won a 31-year-old resident on the Pontiac General Hospital medical staff, the hospital and an attending doctor first place in an annual research contest sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of the American College of Surgeons.

Top honors went to the hospital, Dr. David C. Packard, a member of the residency staff since July of 1957, and Dr. Vernon C. Abbott, a member of the attending staff at Pontiac General.

The yearly competition for the Frederick A. Coller Award is carried out jointly by a resident and an attending surgeon at the participating hospitals.

The paper of Dr. Packard and Dr. Abbott was titled "Hypothermal Injuries to the Extremities." It showed what happens to frostbitten parts of the body and how to treat them.

The local entry was among 15 submitted by Michigan hospitals.

Protective GM Stock Sale Now Proposed by Du Pont

CHICAGO (AP) — The Du Pont Co. says it has a method of disposing of its interest in General Motors Corp. that will protect stockholders of the two firms from a five billion dollar loss possible under a government forced sale plan.

The Du Pont proposal has been filed in U.S. District Court in compliance with a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which directs Du Pont to give up ownership of 23 per cent of General Motors.

Du Pont said a Justice Department proposal made in October 1957 would cause forced sales of stock and tax penalties that could result in a tax and market value loss of about five billion to stockholders of the two concerns.

Its plan, Du Pont said, would satisfy the high court's mandate without penalizing nearly 900,000 stockholders.

The company's alternate plan would not involve sale of the motor firm's stock, but would prevent Du Pont from voting it or having directors on the General Motors board. In effect, Du Pont would only collect dividends from the GM stock.

Principal points of the Du Pont proposal included:

A transfer of the right to vote Du Pont's 63 million shares of GM stock from the company to its 185,000 common stockholders on a pro rata basis.

Prohibition against Du Pont and General Motors from having any common directors except with specific approval of the court.

Crawford H. Greenewalt, Du Pont president, said the company's plan would protect the public interest "by avoiding the disastrous economic consequences of the government plan, yet would carry out the mandate of the Supreme Court by depriving Du Pont of all the rights and attributes of a stockholder which could possibly be used to influence General Motors to deal with Du Pont."

He said the company program does not involve compulsory distribution as prescribed by the government proposal and therefore would not impose confiscatory tax penalties or depress market values of both stocks.

Detroit Beer Strike Ends After 44 Days

DETROIT (AP) — The 44-day Detroit beer strike ended today after a marathon 15-hour bargaining session.

Company and union negotiators agreed on a contract which will be submitted this weekend to 4,500 striking brewery workers for ratification.

The new pact gives workers immediate raises of 7 to 10 cents an hour. Both sides said it was "a good contract."

Union officials said brewers and bottlers will vote on the contract tomorrow. Truck drivers will vote Sunday. They said that if it is accepted beer will begin to move out to consumers Monday.

Charles Maley, a union bargainer, said "I consider the contract a good one. I will urge the membership to accept it."

Waterford Jaycees to Install Officers

An installation dinner will be held for the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, at 7 p.m. Monday at Wilkins Restaurant, 4105 Orchard Lake Rd.

Past president Mrs. Thomas Belton will install the new officers. They are: Mrs. Arthur Salley, president; Mrs. Zavelin Melkonian vice president, and Mrs. Delwin Richardson, treasurer.

The new corresponding secretary will be Mrs. Ward Rathbun who will be assisted by recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Marcera.

Freer Trade Bill Passes 1st Test

Group Permits Issue Into House, but Battle Looms Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's embattled program for a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade law has passed its first big congressional test.

The administration trade bill is still a long way from enactment. A big battle looms when the measure goes to the House for consideration next week. Then it must clear the Senate.

With Democratic leaders cracking the whip, the House Ways and Means Committee late yesterday completed action on an administration-approved compromise that would give Eisenhower virtually all of his basic requests.

It was an initial victory for the President, who has said repeatedly that U.S. restrictions on world trade would play into Communist hands.

As approved by the committee, the bill includes a five-year continuation of the trade program beyond June 30, with authority to lower U.S. tariffs up to 25 per cent more in negotiations of international trade agreements.

With it, however, went a precedent-setting provision for congressional review of the President's tariff authority. The administration accepted this provision, but foes of the program labeled it a fraud and "phantom gimmick."

With Democratic leaders in control, the compromise bill is expected to win final House approval by next Wednesday.

NLRB Backs Union Bosses

Organizers Will Vote on Right to Bargain With AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organizers for the AFL-CIO have won their fight for an election to seek to establish their union as bargaining agent in wage negotiations with the labor federation.

The National Labor Relations Board yesterday rejected unanimously the argument of AFL-CIO officers that their organizers are managerial employes, not entitled to bargaining rights under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The board ordered a secret election within 30 days. AFL-CIO organizers, working out of 23 field offices across the country, will vote on whether they wish to be represented by the Field Representatives Federation in bargaining with their employer, the AFL-CIO's Department of Organization.

The NLRB ruled that these organizers are not management representatives of the federation but are the "production workers" of the Department of Organization. The organizers do not make policy, the board held, even though they have limited authority to bargain and sign contracts on behalf of local unions, to represent the federation to the public, and to incur bills in the name of the AFL-CIO.

"The board has long held that the authority to sign an agreement binding on an employer does not confer managerial status on an employe," the NLRB held.

Old Scouters Descend on Chicago

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO — A score or more from Pontiac and vicinity today are numbered among the 2,000 Old Scouters gathered here for the 48th annual convention of the Boy Scouts of America.

HAAS

Our delegation represents the 12,000 boys and others actively engaged in scout work in Clinton Valley Council. This comprises most of the area in Oakland and Macomb Counties, including the cities of Pontiac and Mt. Clemens.

Our council, on account of the diversity of its membership, covering both city and rural areas, all contiguous to a large city, is regarded as quite unique in scouting work.

Despite this quite different position, geographically and otherwise, it has made such progress in scouting that it generally is singled out among the councils of the entire nation. The wearer of a Clinton Valley Council badge is usually accosted with, "How do you do it?"

Coming from every state and territory, as well as from some foreign countries, the 2,000 delegates have taken over the Conrad Hilton, the largest hotel in the world.

The delegates represent over three million scouts, largest youth organization in existence. The overall total of those actively engaged in scouting is approaching the 5 million mark.

The annual business meeting this forenoon showed the work to be at an alltime high. The reports marked the close of the second year of the "Onward for God and My Country" program.

Also at this meeting was set the foundation for the third year of the general program, started in 1956, with particular emphasis on the theme of "Conservation Through Safety."

At the regional luncheons this noon, Clinton Valley Council had 20 reservations at that of Region seven, which comprises the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan. Our own state's delegation was second in size, exceeded only by that of the host state, Illinois.

Region seven has the largest scout membership of any of the 12 regions. It also shows a greater percentage of growth in membership than any other region thus far reporting.

Reservations for the opening luncheon this noon were held by the following from Clinton Valley Council: President and Mrs. John W. Hunt of Farmington, R. C. Cummings and John Ostrander of Pontiac, Stanley J. Filkins of Sylvan Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Baker of Green Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Case of Rochester, James Montgomery of Walled Lake, William Gennette of Milford, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Barck, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Randolph and Ernest Lawrence of Mt. Clemens, and Joe Haas of Holly.

Executive Secretary Edward H. Leland and Field Executive William H. Wells of Clinton Valley Council, will be here for Saturday's sessions. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were also here yesterday for the Presidents' Luncheon, a new convention feature.

Repair Work Done by Air Force, Navy

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUNDS, N. M. — (INS)—The Navy and Air Force teamed up to solve the problem of how to repair a damaged weather instrument atop a 135-foot tower at White Sands Proving Grounds.

When portable scaffolding was over-ruled as too expensive, Holloman Air Force Base Weathermen loaned a basket-carrying balloon.

A repairman was hoisted in the basket to the top of the tower and he made the necessary repairs.

The plan was carried out successfully at the Navy's "Desert Ship," a concrete structure locked in the desert sands of the integrated missile testing range.

Bob Considine Says:

Nixon Heroism Jumps Party Lines

NEW YORK (INS) — No single act of his own contrivance could have done Dick Nixon as much political good as the gruelling events of Lima and Caracas.

He returns not as one of several men frankly seeking the GOP nomination in 1960, but as an American hero fresh from an adventure that cut across all political lines and barriers.

Significantly, one of the first Capitol Hill Titans to announce that he would go to the airport to greet Nixon was Sen. Lyndon Johnson—who might very well be the Democratic nominee.

Johnson's appearance there under almost any other circumstance would have been politically unthinkable.

In the past few days, during a swing through Buffalo, Rochester and Boston, as well are in New York, I've heard dozens of people not hitherto known as strong adherents of Nixon first express rage at the treatment accorded him and then say, in effect, "That fellow's got a lot more on the ball than we thought."

Impeccable is the word for Nixon's conduct through an ordeal that hardly has had a parallel in the history of the Republic. The word pictures that have come to us from excellent reporters traveling with the vice president promise to be of an indelible type.

We see him as a man of good heart, bent on a mission that could mean only benefit to the countries involved, suddenly turned on and grossly berated.

Manliness comes through. In Lima, with a rock-welt on his neck, he bawls, "Cowards, come out and fight." There is humor of a sort, too. Of the spit, at Caracas, "See" he says, "it wasn't rain that was falling."

Most of all, Nixon was attacked not as Nixon but as a representative of and symbol of the United States of America. That has closed the political ranks as nothing else, and it has made him Richard M. Nixon — American — rather than Richard M. Nixon, Republican.

There is no question that it has made him a lot more atractive to that ever increasing section of the body politic, the independent, who must by now outnumber (in both theory and practice) both Democrats and Republicans.

Political fortunes rise and fall like a Bay of Fundy tide but often with less reason. It is conceivable that if John Foster Dulles had made that same South American trip, and been similarly treated, the tendency at home would have been to say, "Old Foster is sure unpopular down that way. Ike had better shelve him."

The same might have been said if Harold Stassen had been the recipient of the stones and clubs or Adlai Stevenson.

That's the way the political football bounces. I remember talking to Col. Jack Arvey, the astute Illinois Democratic leader, the night Nixon appeared on TV to explain his income and campaign expenses.

I expected to find him contemptuous, as were so many Democrats and liberals. Instead, Jack was wheezing with relief.

"Thank God the election isn't tomorrow," he said. "We'd lose every woman's vote in the country to Nixon and Eisenhower."

Nixon emerges from Latin America with his cause strengthened, where it might have meant ruin for another man.

The role that Mrs. Nixon has played in this new and immense shot in the arm for the vice president cannot be underestimated. Pat's poise under the terrifying asults of the mob warranted her military aide's commendation. "She's as brave as any man I've ever known." They make an excellent team.

The Nixon's should go through with their planed European trip, even though there is some indication that the Communists will attempt to stir up demonstrations against them there, too.

It won't be as easy for the Reds as in Latin America, and the police work would be better.

Seems to me they out to go into Russia, too. They're in a winning streak and it shouldn't be broken.

Commerce Unit Cut $65 Million

Appropriations Group Still Granting Increase Over Present Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House cut $65,581,000 from the $982,721,000 requested by the administration to finance the Commerce Department and related activities.

Subject to House action next week, the 7 per cent reduction left the agencies with $917,140,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1. The amount is almost 200 million dollars more than they received during the present year.

Hefty boosts were recommended for the Census Bureau, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Public Roads Bureau, the Bureau of Standards and the Maritime Administration.

The Census Bureau was allotted $22,250,000, including seven million to start preparing for the 1960 census.

For the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the committee earmarked $421,950,000, a cut of $16,750,000 from the amount requested but an increase of $74,082,675 for operation and regulation. The committee said improved control of air traffic is needed as a result of recent plane collisions in flight.

For establishment of air navigation facilities, the committee recommended 158½ million. It suggested that Congress draft legislation to require the airlines to share part of the mounting cost of modern safety installations.

Boss of Steel Company Also Mother of Baby

RODESIA S.A. — The founder and head of one of South Africa's largest steel distribution agencies is also a mother of a baby only a few months old, named Dodds Beauchamp Pringle.

The mother is Mrs. Gwen Pringle, who recently got a $560,000 steel contract from the Union's railroads. She came out to South Africa from England to get married after World War II ended. Her fiance had changed his mind, but instead of going back home she started in business in a bare office with not even enough cash in hand to pay the telephone bill.

Now she has a staff of eight — all women. "I had two men working for me once, but they were no good," she told an interviewer. "They spent all their time in the 'pub' drinking."

Trujillo's Reign Enters 28th Year

Dictator Keeps Respect of 4 Million People in Dominican Republic

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—This prosperous Caribbean island republic heads into the 28th year of the era of Trujillo today with its ruler still in unchallengeable control.

The boss is Generalissimi Rafael Leonidas Trujillo Molina, 67-year-old Benefactor of the Fatherland, as his Congress has dubbed him.

Trujillo not only keeps a tight grip on one of the world's most durable dictatorships, but seems to command at least respect among his country's four million people.

Some Dominicans are outspoken in their disapproval of some of the generalissimo's policies. But usually they wind up saying he "has done a good job for his country."

There seems to be no organized opposition, or else it doesn't dare show itself. But there is much vocal opposition to his rule among Dominican exiles in Puerto Rico, the United States, Venezuela and elsewhere.

None of this causes the generalissimo any sleepless nights. He maintains that he has the overwhelming backing of his people and works tirelessly in pushing public works and plans designed to maintain the nation's high standard of prosperity.

Much of the heavy administrative burden has been shifted to his brother, Gen. Hector Benavides Trujillo, the titular president. But the generalissimo is still boss.

Rafael Trujillo seized power in a military coup May 16, 1930, and started rebuilding a hurricane-wrecked, poverty-stricken land. Today he is proud that this nation owes no foreign debts and long has stood on its own feet economically.

More than 2,000,000 Michigan families will make vacation trips in 1958, Automobile Club of Michigan predicts. More than half of the Michiganians will spend their entire vacation in resort areas of their home state, travel services director Harry N. Rogan states.

Dear Abby . . .

Past, Present Wives Just Don't Mix, Child

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: My Mommy and my Daddy were married for 15 years. Then they got a divorce and my Daddy married this other lady. They kept on being nice to each other. My Mommy says the other lady is good and we should like her. My Daddy and his new wife moved to our block around Easter time and all the ladies on our block gave a party to let Daddy's new wife know they like her. Mommy wasn't invited. She said she didn't feel bad but I saw her crying. Was this a nice thing for the ladies on our block to do?"

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: It is sometimes embarrassing for the ex-wife and the new wife to be present at the same party so I think the ladies on the block did your Mommy a favor by not inviting her. Don't hold it against them.

"DEAR ABBY: Every time I'm with this girl she gets hungry. Regardless of where we are, no matter how romantic and tender the situation is, all she thinks of is food. I love her, Abby. How can I find out if she is using me for a meal ticket or does she want me romantically?"

NOT HUNGRY

DEAR NOT: Feed her first and find out.

"DEAR ABBY: After thirty years of married life my husband started to chase some trampy young girl who works at a drive-in. He was just fine all through the hard times and raising our family, but now that they are grown and married he says we have nothing in common. I had major surgery about three years ago and was de-femaled. Could that have anything to do with it? Should I divorce him? I am very lonely."

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: No matter what kind of surgery you had—you are still a woman, and also this man's wife. Don't divorce him. Urge him to talk to a clergyman, marriage counselor or his family doctor. When the fling is flung he will "come to."

"DEAR ABBY: I have been married for three years and I love my husband. Recently a fellow I dated before I was married came to see us. He didn't know my husband but he made himself right at home. Now he has made a habit of dropping in all hours of the day and night.

"I never invited him but my husband won't believe me. I have told him that my husband doesn't like it, but he doesn't seem to care. This fellow is a pest and means nothing to me. How can I discourage him without hurting his feelings?"

IMPOSED ON

DEAR IMPOSED: What feelings? Tell him in plain English that he isn't welcome.

Discusses MSU-O

Dr. Jones Speaks to Zontas

Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones of Rochester discussed Michigan State University-Oakland and the history of land grant colleges when members of the Zonta Club met at Hotel Waldron Thursday.

Dr. Jones, a member of the MSU-O Advisory Board, has given 300 acres for the campus of the new school. Dr. Jones stressed the opportunity and privilege residents of Oakland County will experience in seeing a college born and observing its growth.

She stated that in all likelihood MSU-O would reach the size of Michigan State University in even less time than the East Lansing campus required to reach its present size. There will be no dormitories or residence halls on the MSU-O campus.

In discussing the land grant college Dr. Jones traced the history of colleges to the 1600's when for 200 years no sciences, graduate work, research, or extension work were known. She explained that the separation of church and education, like the separation of church and state, brought many changes, with the fight for coeducation originating.

"Educational reform and much change came with the emergence of science," she declared. Up to this point education had consisted of memory work with no reasoning or thought stressed.

Michigan State University really came into being in 1855, related Dr. Jones, when the governor signed a bill creating the first agricultural college in the United States. In 1951 Michigan's Agricultural College became Michigan State College expanding to include all functions of a modern university. It has 126 different areas of study, 65 on a graduate level.

'Spose the Experts Ever Try It Out?

By RUTH MILLETT

The child psychologist ought to have his own head examined who first thought up the idea that small children should be encouraged to make decisions for themselves by being offered choices.

The only thing that offering a choice does to small fry is to make them stubborn.

During years of shopping at supermarkets I have watched conscientious young mothers offering their toddlers choices.

"You can have either a candy bar or an ice cream cone at the drugstore," Mama says in a reasonable tone of voice. And then she asks hopefully, "Now which would you rather have? Hurry and make up your mind because Mama has to get back home."

In all the dozens of times I have heard a mother offer a young one such a choice, I have never seen a kid do what the psychology books and Mama hopefully expect him to do.

Never have I heard a small child, faced with the prospect of choosing between two good things, make a happy selection of one of them.

Some kids demand both, and if they don't get them they're dragged away kicking and screaming.

Some decide that, given a choice of a candy bar of an ice cream cone, they'll push their luck and demand a soda. So they introduce the third choice — which for some reason or other is never one Mama considers suitable.

Some simply stand and stare and say they don't know what they want, until Mama is forced to make the decision the child is supposed to make.

But the usual ending of the little episode is unpleasant—and Junior is likely to come out of it with a couple of licks for throwing a temper tantrum.

Widow's Name Is the Same

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was married ten years when my husband died very suddenly. I loved him dearly and his death was a great shock to me.

"Now to add to my distress, a friend of mine tells me that I have to give up his name and also discontinue wearing my wedding ring—or at least wear it on my right hand—since I am no longer married. Will you please tell me if she is right?"

Answer: I have never heard of such a ridiculous opinion. You certainly have the right to his name — meaning you call yourself Mrs. John, not Mrs. Mary, and the wedding ring is certainly yours for life—or until you remarry.

The only reason for taking off your wedding ring and putting it on your right hand is to indicate that you are interested in finding another husband.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has been invited to a prep school in another city for a weekend. She is going down with the boy's parents and they are taking care of all the expenses. I would like to know what she is expected to do to show proper appreciation to them."

Answer: Nothing is expected of your daughter further than being polite and courteous to his parents and showing them that she is pleased. When she leaves them she must thank the boy's mother and father for taking her and tell them how much she enjoyed the wekend.

No Shame in Parent's Interest in Self

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

When Mart got home from school, it was raining hard. Accordingly his mother told him to put on dry shoes and rubbers before going over to a friend's house. He ignored her.

So to make obedience easier for him, she got his shoes and rubbers herself. But when she anxiously urged them on him again, he flatly refused.

Then in a flash of anger, she said, "All right, keep your feet wet—and get yourself pneumonia!"

Her anger was only partly caused by Mart's refusal to let her protect him against illness. Mostly it was caused by his refusal to let her protect herself against it—against the outlay of sleepless nights, extra work and worry required of her when Mart is sick.

This self-interested anger seems perfectly natural to me. No sensible person enjoys the strain of nursing children through illness.

The trouble is, it doesn't seem natural to Mart's mother.

Like other overprotective parents, she'd be ashamed to acknowledge any interest in her own safety, and feels obliged to pretend she struggles to secure Mart's health only for his sake, never for her own.

But this denial of self-interest doesn't destroy it. All it does is to infuse her interest in Mart's safety with forbidden anxiety over her own—and compel her to pursue him with pleas to relieve her of it.

ACCEPT SELF INTEREST

If she accepted interest in her own safety as natural instead of shameful, she could protect it herself instead of begging Mart to protect it for her. She could say unhesitatingly, "All right — if you want to keep your wet feet, keep them here in this warm house instead of taking them over to Brownie's."

But so long as we are obliged to pretend no personal interest in keeping him well, we'll have to hover over him with appeals to keep himself well. And when he rejects them, we experience the same anger we feel when anyone denies us what we have a right to.

The root problem of the overprotective parent is his fear of asserting any interest in himself.

We all have a personal interest in keeping children reasonably safe. Unfortunately, the virtue of "loving" them has been preached to us so hard that we've got the impression that it's shameful to love ourselves.

And so we have to pretend that our concern for their safety contains no concern for our own.

Waist Is Small

This Guy Is Hard to Please, Yes?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "My boy friend (whom I am going to marry if he ever slows down so I can catch him) says I am too fat. For the sake of love I already have cut out candy and desserts and have held my calorie count to the minimum for survival. He still is yelling that I am too fat.

Now what do I do? Is he just too particular? I am 5 feet tall and weigh 110 pounds. If you must know the worst, I have a small frame. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 23 and hips 36. I am 19 if that makes any difference. I am too old to call it baby fat."

A. I doubt that you should run too fast to catch him. He seems sort of hard to please to me! You are not oevrweight. Your bust and hips are in 'perfect ratio. Your waist is the only measurement which is out of line. It is unusually small! Few men object to this! What kind of a character is this guy

Q. "I have some exercises for sway back but when I stand my hips just naturally stick out in the back. How should I try to stand to overcome this?"

A. Keep doing the exercises. When you stand or walk, remember these things. First, pull your abdomen in. It is practically impossible to do this without pulling your hips down and under. Try to keep this alignment when you walk. It is also more important that you do not hyperextend your knees with each step. By this I mean do NOT extend your knees to their full extent, or push back with them at the end of each step. Keep a feeling of relaxation in your knees.

Q. "How much more weight can I carry with my very large frame than I could if my frame were medium?'

A. You can allow yourself about 12 pounds more. Between a very small frame and a large one there is even greater leeway.

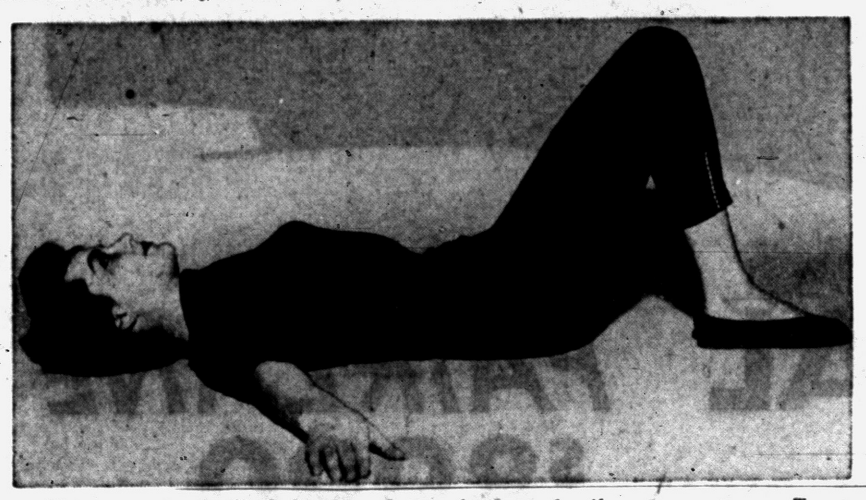

Q. "My doctor says that I have a lazy or sluggish liver. What exercise is good for that?"

A. This is one of the best. Lie on the bed or floor on your back. Pull the abdominal muscles in—as close to your backbone as possible. Hold for a moment or so. Now push your abdominal muscles toward the ceiling. Again pull your abdomen down HARD. Continue.

(Released by The Register and Tribune Syndicate, 1958)

This exercise will help remedy sway back: Lie on the floor as pictured. Try to press as much of your back to the floor as you can. Try to touch the small of your back to the floor while you count to five.

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

FIVE ACES: According to the record retailers in the Pontiac area the following are tops in sales: "All I Have To Do Is Dream," by The Everly Brothers; "Witch Dr.," by David Seville; "Secretly," by Jimmy Rodgers; "Big Man," by The Four Preps; "Return To Me," by Dean Martin and "Wear My Ring Around Your Neck" by Elvis (tied for fifth place).

Look for "Jennie Lee," by Jan & Arnie, to be the next big seller. Only issued within the past ten days, it's almost in the top five already.

Also getting attention are "Do You Want To Dance," by Bobby Freeman; "Sugar Moon" by Pat Boone (coming close for the second week); and "You Need Hands," by Eydie Gorme, which is hot in some shops and cold in others.

IMPRESSIONS: Don't go unnoticed in your neighborhood, when it's so easy to become important and talked about. Try the following out on your turntables late some night (with windows open) and in no time the neighbors will be saying, "There goes the guy with the hi-fi."

Guaranteed to make a lasting impression are "Railroad Sounds — Steam and Diesel Engines" (Audio Fidelity AFLP-1843); "Echoes Of The Storm" (Audiophile AP-20); "Adventures in Cacophony" (Audiophile AP-37) which includes Milwaukee river traffic and a fabulous railroad crossing episode.

If these don't do it, try the clincher: "The Compleat In Fidelytie" (Cook 1044) which includes recordings of jet aircraft, Mexican firecrackers, babies, gas engines, and 10,000 hens and three roosters. Lotsa Luck.

THE JAZZ NEST: Most outstanding of the many jazz releases this month is "One Never Knows" (Atlantic-1284) by the Modern Jazz Quartet.

It is certainly one of their finest, and possibly their best to date. This is a beautifully played and thought-out work with superior taste and touch. For modern jazz fans it's the living end — a must for collectors.

Rock Gardens Are Useful, Artistic

By MRS. DONALD C. SOMERS
Foxcroft Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assoc., Inc.

(This is the sixth in a series of articles by a member of one of the 27 branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn., Inc. throughout the area which will be printed on the farm and garden pages this year.)

Building a rock garden can be a highly complicated project requiring the services of a professional landscape gardener.

However, for one who has a slope or bank on his property that he wishes to protect from washing away; or if one particularly desires a grouping of rocks around a small pool or in the foreground of shrubbery in the corner of a lot; or possibly a rock wall would fit into a landscape design — these are projects within the scope of the amateur.

The crowning achievement of the rock bank or garden is the successful planting among the stones plants suitable for growth under the limiting conditions which such a setting imposes.

There are several principles to be followed in the construction and planting of the rock garden formations of the various types described above.

In preparing the soil of a slope on which stones of not too great a size are to be placed, remove the turf and top soil to a depth of four to six inches. Prepare a mixture of ⅓ loam, ⅓ peat, and ⅓ sand and work this into the face of the slope.

It is now ready for the placing of the stones. Bury these deep enough to be firm and show only a small surface above the ground. Space so that there are at least four to six inch pockets between them to allow for the plants.

TOUR GRAVEL PITS

A word about where these stones are to be found — it is usually best to settle for stones native to the area. In Oakland County, they may be obtained from gravel pits where one may gather stones of his own choosing for a nominal price, providing he furnishes the labor and transportation.

The simplest design of the planting gives the effect of a colorful carpet, the sedums forming the background, and low-growing perennials the color. It would be very difficult to carry out a formal design of certain color schemes and it isn't necessary.

Theoretically, there are dozens of varieties of plants from which to choose but actually, nurseries in this area stock up on comparatively few.

Various kinds of sedum, creeping Phlox, Coral Bells, Golden Alyssum, Snow-in-summer, saxifraga, pink Saponaria, creeping Veronicas, and Nepeta are all desirable.

Most of these plants are sold in small quantities (for instance, sedum at three boxes for a dollar, so economize by leaving bare spots for a while until the plants have spread or can be increased by division to place in the unplanted areas.

The best time to propagate by division is immediately after flowering.

The care of this type of slope is quite simple. Mainly remove weeds and stray plants. For instance, a violet plant does not belong in the middle of a nice spot of sedum or creeping Phlox and must be rooted out. Some types of sedum spread so rapidly that they must be prevented from taking over completely.

In case of a long period of dry weather, it is a good idea to water the slope to clean the dust from the plants. Otherwise, it requires little watering.

BE ABLE TO MOVE ROCKS

A true rock garden is contructed on a larger scale. The rocks should be as large as can practically be transported. Use rocks of interesting shape and color. These can usually be found by searching local fields.

To obtain good drainage, dig out the area in which the garden is to be built to a depth of at least a foot and fill with a layer of coarse gravel. Add a layer of sand and hose the area thoroughly.

Now for the rocks and soil mixture of ⅓ loam, ⅓ peat, and ⅓ sand. Start at the bottom to place the stones and let them shelve back gradually, filling in with the soil and placing the rocks in their natural position (never on side or end).

Pockets for the planting should be about a foot square or larger. It is important that the rocks should be firmly entrenched in the soil.

If the area is large enough, a path is an attractive addition to the rock garden. Flat stones of the same natural rock sunk flush with the ground level serves the purpose.

The plantings for the rock garden include a variety of hardy perennials and shrubs which necessarily must be of dwarf stature. For winter interest, add some evergreens to large rock slopes. These could include Euonymus Kewensis which grows close to the ground and has a small leaf. Cotoneaster Apicula keeps foliage until late winter and Dwarf Yews and Mugho Pine are shrubby and bushy.

Among the flowering plantings are the sedums, dwarf Iris, fringed Bleedingheart, purple Rock-cress, Ajuga, Alyssum, creeping Phlox, creeping Veronicas, Primroses, and such small bulbs as Grape-hyacinth, Snow-drops and Scilla.

ABOUT WALL GARDENS

On the grouds of many suburban homes, there is an ideal location for a wall garden. As no mortar and little soil is used in the construction of this wall, it is known as a "dry wall." Its construction is similar to that of the stone bank and rock garden.

In any location involving different land elevations, whether only slight or very marked, a bank can be prepared at right angles to the ground level, to allow a wall of rocks to be laid against it.

Lay the stones so that they extend back into the bank, sloping them backward from the bottom to the top at least a 10 per cent slant from the perpendicular. Also slope down at a slight angle into the earth.

As the stones are laid, fill around each stone with good soil. Plant as the wall is being constructed. Place plants at intervals as desired on the rocks covering well with soil and extending their roots into the soil behind the stone.

Rock walls need not be generously planted. The rock formation itself is important and should have ample showing. Plants suitable for the wall are Alyssum, Nepta, Saponaria, Iberis, Saxiflaga, Rock-cress, Forget-me-nots, and primroses.

Indian Heap Not Crazy

A farm magazine published pictures of a dilapidated house and a washed-away field, and invited its readers to "tell your own story of the two pictures."

An Oklahoma Indian won, over 2,604 contestants, with the following:

Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big tepee, plow hill. Water wash. Wind blow soil, grass all gone. Squaw gone, papoose too. No chuckaway. No pig, no corn no hay, no cow, no pony.

"Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make tepee, moccasins too. Indian no make terrace. No build dam. No give dam. All time eat. No hunt job. No hitch-hike. No ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work.

Mushrooms Get to Full Size in Three Days

Mushrooms that grow dramatically to full size in 72 hours instead of 60 days are among new products this week.

They grow in vats of aerated nutrient fluid so that conditions are ultra-sanitary and important food values can be "grown-in," according to the producer, Yorktown Products Corp., New York City.

These are a fine-flavored luxury type called morel mushrooms. A common mushroom grown in a shed takes about two months to mature from a spore or seed to commercial size.

Develop Nemagreen

Lima beans in many sections of the country have been damaged by a tiny creature in the soil called the nematode.

Scientists of the Department of Agriculture found that a variety of lima beans gown by Hopi Indians in the southwest was immune to damage by nematodes, and have used this to develop a new commercial variety called Nemagreen being made available to growers this year for the first time.

Extra Soil Prep Pays Dividends in Gardening

Professional gardeners recommend extra effort with soil preparation and treatment during the spring to insure a first-class lawn and garden in the summer and early fall.

The garden plot should be fumigated one week before seeds are to be sown since harmful insects and fungi breed in the soil. Special fumigants are manufactured especially for home garden use, and they may be sprayed either with pressurized equipment or a galvanized steel sprinkling can.

Amateur gardeners should tramp down the soil after sowing the seeds to protect against wind and rain. An easy way to pack down the soil and seeds is to place a wooden plank over the plot and walk across it several times. The seeded soil may also be patted down with a shovel.

USE MULCH

The planted seeds should be covered with a surface mulch of peat, grass clippings, rotted and well-pulverized manure, straw or some similar materials. This loose, porous layer prevents evaporation of moisture.

Recently - prepared gardens should not be watered too heavily. The most practical and inexpensive method for the home gardener to take is to use a galvanized steel sprinkling can. These zinc-coated cans are available in a variety of sizes and their perforated nozzles provide a fine, even distribution of water.

Sprinkling cans are also handy for watering window boxes and small gardenp lots that cannot be reached with a hose.

Extension Office Will Help You

County Agent Outlines Three Musts for Successful Vegetable Garden

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

It certainly isn't hard to raise vegetables, but to have a nice vegetable garden may be tougher than one thinks.

If a fellow does three things he is bound to be successful. Don't make it too big. Be persistent. Use lots of fertilizer. From here on it's a matter of arguing about just how successful is successful.

I've met several people lately who said this year they were really going to plant a nice big garden and quit paying such high prices for vegetables. But this means "nice long rows to hoe, weed and fertilize."

When a garden is small enough to be hoed lightly every week, this is sort of fun. There is a feeling of accomplishment. One is able to watch each part of it grow.

When the garden is so big one has to rescue each vegetable as he comes to it, this becomes discouraging, blister raising work and thoughts of "It's easier to buy them at the store and keep close track of the local baseball club instead."

When I mentioned "be persistent," this means try to do a little hoeing, or watering or just looking every day or so. A little at a time is interesting and relaxing, and can give one pride in a job well done or a plant well grown.

WHAT ABOUT FERTILIZER?

I think lots of us are sort of in the dark about how to use fertilizer in a garden. Some gardens are clay soils, some are sandy. Some crops need quite a lot of fertilizer, some need very little.

One of the ways to get started on a fertilizer program is to have the soil tested at The Cooperative Extension Service soil test laboratory, 1260 West Boulevard. This test will reveal the relative fertility of the sample, determine whether lime is necessary and what general type of soil is present. The charge is 50 cents per sample.

The next problem is how to add the fertilizer and how much to put on. We use the fertilizer test, plus experience of others, and a mimeographed folder entitled "Fertilizer Program for the Home Garden" to make suggestions for gardens. This folder is also available at the Cooperative Extension Service Office, and can be obtained by calling the office or personally picking it up.

If you are the sort of a person who knows how, you also have plenty of the other answers on how to have a nice garden. But a lot of early vegetables can be grown without having your own nursery.

If tomatoes, melons and peppers are on your list, buy greenhouse plants. In the case of tomatoes, get two varieties, a very early and a mid-season. Remember, each plant can produce one-third of a bushel. All of these should be planted by mid-May.

Some common vegetables may be planted very early because of their resistance to frost. Radishes, lettuce, peas, carrots, cabbage, and beets were planted as early as April 10 this spring and may still be planted until late June. Several plantings (small ones) of lettuce, radishes, and cabbage are in order.

Snap beans and early sweet corn are usually planted near the beginning of May, with mid-season snap beans (different variety than early), lima beans, mid-season sweet corn, cucumbers, muskmelons, peppers, squash, tomatoes, and watermelons planted by this week.

CULTIVATE SHALLOW

Quite a lot of new ideas have developed recently about cultivating. Deep cultivating to dig out the weeds, break up the soil and get air to the roots used to be the best practice. Professors at Michigan State University have recently proven this kind of cultivating does a lot of harm. It breaks a lot of roots and causes too much moisture loss.

Since they have been using black plastic covers to control weeds and hold moisture, they have proven that no cultivating has always outyielded cultivating, when all the rest was the same. When hoeing scrape off the weeds. So if you cultivate, you can do it as shallow as possible.

Another interesting development in vegetable growing has been the use of side dressing of crops. This means putting on a high nitrogen fertilizer at mid-season. For home gardens this is done by hand. An easy way is to punch holes, straddle of vine crops like melons and tomatoes with a hoe handle to a depth of five inches and put a heaping spoonful in each hole. It really works on corn, peppers, squash and cucumbers too.

Do not punch these holes too close to the plant. Four to six inches from the plant is about the right distance.

There's History Involved

Plant Fragrant Flowers; Have 'Nosegay' Garden

Let's go on a toot and get a little "nose-gay" in the garden this year! The intoxicating delights you'll enjoy from planting a fragrance garden from seed, will prove to be a most rewarding experience.

The scent of flowers has played an important part in the history of man. Thousands of years ago, ancient Aztec physicians learned that fatigue was a bodily ailment and melancholia was also susceptible to treatment.

To alleviate both, they used the fragrance of flowers. It's believed that the effects were psychic.

Through the ages, from the scents used in worship in ancient temples and shrines, the medical practices of physicians, the lure of the perfumes of famous women of history, up to the present time, the appreciation of the value of fragrances in our lives has grown.

Today there is a new profession based on this realization, known as odor engineering.

While you may not want to be a chemist and spend your time in a laboratory investigating odors, chances are, you'll like to grow your own fragrances. Here are some suggestions.

During the day, the fragrance of gardenia-scented nicotiana, or sweet peas twining up a trellis by your window will be delightful. Anyone who has ever visited Europe will never forget the sweet scent of petunias.

Plant these old favorites with the new F1 hybrid petunias that are taking America by storm. The annual phlox and pansy seed you will find on display racks this spring are smart additions to the fragrance garden. As your eye falls on the bright packets of annual pinks, remember that they are exciting little plants with an allusive spiciness.

Take a tip from the experts and seed nasturtiums and sweet alyssum along the edge of your terrace. They are bright and fragrant. Brilliantly colored verbenas are good for this purpose, too, and the new hybrids have the added advantage of being dwarf and compact in growth.

Sweet sultan's perfumed flowers come in many shades of rose, yellow and white. Mignonette is as popular today as it was when grandmother was a girl.

Moonflower is a vine which blooms at sunset, releasing a freesia-like aroma all evening. Fragrant tobacco is an annual that perfumes the night. To the connoiseur, evening-scented stock rates high. It has lilac flowers which in the morning, evening and after a shower emit a delicious odor, too.

Weed Cutting on Time Basis

Commission Changes Property Owners' Cost to Be Fairer

When Parks & Recreation Department crews begin this summer's weed cutting campaign, they'll be doing it on a new cost basis.

City Commission has decided that property owners will be assessed on a time basis, rather than the former 20 cents a front foot scale.

Commissioners felt the change would be fairer.

City Manager Walter K. Willman told them last night it would more acurately reflect the k actual cost involved. . . . . .

"The weeds we cut, for instance, sometimes don't cover a whole lot, so to assess on a frontage foot basis would be overcharging," he said.

This summer, bills will be figured on how long it takes a crewman to trim a lot.

Under a recent city ordinance, the city is authorized to step in and trim vacant lots where property owners have failed to do so. The aim is to rid the city of noxious weeds.

Spray Weeds, Protect Lawn

Rid Yard of Ragweed, Dandelions, Crab Grass and Quack Grass

Pesky common weeds need not be the "straw that broke the gardener's back" in your yard this summer. Dandelions, crabgrass, ragweed, quackgrass and Bermuda grass can be very irksome, especially if each weed has to be plucked out individually.

Spraying, however, can save valuable time and eliminate the weeds before they get a chance to ruin the lawn.

Dandelions, for instance, can be controlled by spraying with a 2-4D solution than can be mixed easily in a galvanized steel sprinkling can. The manufacturer provides easty-to-follow instructions for mixing the chemical.

Lawn and garden experts recommend galvanized steel sprinkling cans for spraying chemicals because the solution can be concentrated on certain areas. Many chemicals will damage flowers or shrubs if they are not sprayed carefully.

RINSE CONTAINERS

A zinc-coated steel pail will not be affected by the chemical, but it should be rinsed out thoroughly before being used again for lawn and garden purposes.

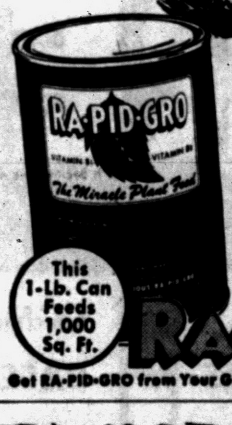

Spraying crabgrass with a solution of potassium cyanate and water will curb this common weed and maintain a high-quality lawn throughout the summer.

Many chemical soil conditioners, designated for addition to poor soils to make them porous, may be used in a liquid form and applied from a galvanized steel sprinkling can.

Chicago Throws Muscle Into High School Science

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

Your youngster may be taking physics and geometry in high school voluntarily. If you lived in Chicago, he might be required to take them.

Chicago is one of the nation's first cities "since Sputnik" to throw muscle into its high school science and mathematics courses. At the same time, however, it also raised requirements in English, history and social sciences—and denied that Sputnik had anything to do with the changes.

Some 105,000 students of 46 public high schools will be required to complete:

Three courses of science and mathematics, instead of the previous one of either; four years of English, instead of three, and three courses of history and other social sciences, instead of two.

These changes may appear slight. But a study showed that 23 states require only one year of science in high school, four states require two years and 21 states have no science requirement at all. A Board of Education spokesman in Chicago said:

"We decided to make the changes after more than two years of self examination. No, don't credit Sputnik. You don't change the curriculum over night. We're seeking over-all improvement—and we're not finished yet."

A student still is permitted to choose among physics, chemistry and biology, and between algebra and geometry.

Board President R. Sargent Shriver believes "flexibility is more suited to individual needs." He says:

"We talk about equal opportunity and some interpret that to mean identical studies. That's silly. We want a program which will get the best from each child."

He would like to prepare more students for college. He points to statistics that an average one-third of the nation's top 20 per cent of high school seniors do not go on to earn college diplomas and declares it a "waste."

For those more suited to vocational training, however, he wants their education to mean more than "instruction in the manipulation of tools." He asks:

"If disciplinary and mentally retarded children are considered fit students for vocational education courses, how can this fail to depreciate the dignity and acceptance of true vocational high schools?"

Shriver contends that "there's a legitimate connection between fine arts and the useful arts" and that vocational students should not be denied a liberal education.

In fact, Shriver envisions a triple-threat program of science, humanities and vocational education as the answer to Russia's "intellectual fire power."

Phone Directory Makes 'Senator' of Potter's Foe

DETROIT (INS) — Michigan Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, expected to be the Democratic candidate against Sen. Charles E. Potter this fall, already is a U.S. senator—in the telephone book.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. explained that a directory department employe who received an order for the listing, "Hart, Philip A., for U.S. Sen." dropped the "for" and the listing appears "Hart, Philip A., U.S. Sen."

Michigan Bell said a telephone apology was made to "Potter, Chas. E., U.S. Sen."

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"It was a thrill I've never before experienced," said Larry Beamer, who was called up to the speaker's table Wednesday night in complete surprise at the PCH banquet to be told that he had just received a $2,000 scholarship to the college of his choosing.

"Even when I awoke the next morning I had to gather my senses to be sure I wasn't dreaming," said the popular Pontiac Central student.

GIRARD BEAMER
Wins $2,000 Scholarship

The scholarship was instituted by the Community National Bank for several reasons. It is the 25th anniversary of the bank, it will be a tie-in with future Pontiac Central and Northern All-Sports banquets and it will henceforth be presented as a link to the opening of the new Michigan State Oakland branch which will begin operation next year.

Opportunity to win the scholarship will be open to both boys and girls from either Pontiac Central or Pontiac Northern.

Athletics will not be the basic requirement. The award will be made on the basis of scholastic achievements and extra-curricular activities.

BEAMER DESERVING CHOICE

Check the extra-curricular activities in which he participates and it would take more than this column space to itemize them.

Sports fans naturally will know him for his track and cross country achievements, as well as some in football and reserve basketball.

Yet even with athletics, president of the student council, president of the choir and active membership in a dozen other organizations, Larry still has managed to carry a B-plus average through his days at Pontiac Central.

His interest is pharmacy and he plans to pursue this field through college. He still would like to continue track participation.

Because MSU-Oakland is not yet open, he is able to choose any college he desires for the scholarship.

"It's not definite but I'm thinking about the University of Michigan," he said. "I want very much to continue running track, but only if it will not interfere with my classes."

"We are happy to make this scholarship available to some worthy student, and Beamer is certainly a wonderful selection as the first recipient," said A. C. Girard, President of Community National Bank.

Maris Has Hit 6 of 7 Homers at Tiger Park

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have no sympathy for the National League pitchers who are having "gopher ball" trouble because of short fences.

Tiger pitchers have enough trouble of their own. His name is Roger Maris.

The muscular Cleveland Indian outfielder leaves the tape-measure home runs to Mickey Mantle, but like the Yankee slugger and Ted Williams, Maris has developed quite an affection for the right field fence at Briggs Stadium.

In the three - game series concluded yesterday, Maris walloped four home runs into the right field seats. Two came against right-handed pitcher and two against southpaws.

The Cleveland sophomore has hit seven home runs this season and six have come at Briggs Stadium. Of 14 home runs a year ago, four were off Tiger pitching and three of them were hit in Detroit.

Champs Test Redlegs in 4 Games

Braves Continue Shaky Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The time has come for those Cincinnati Redlegs to decide whether they are to be contenders in that National League pennant race. They open a four-game series at home against the world champion Milwaukee Braves tonight.

It was a year ago today that the Redlegs busted into the NL lead for a stay of almost a month. Now they're fifth, 5½ games behind Milwaukee—a good spot to stop this nonsense of playing dead for the Braves.

The Redlegs lost 18 of 22 with Milwaukee a year ago and have lost four of five to the champs this season—all in succession.

It was a three-game sweep by the Braves last weekend in Milwaukee that started the Redlegs on a five-game losing streak that didn't end until they managed a 9-4 victory over Pittsburgh yesterday.

The Braves were trailing 3-1 when last night's game was postponed by first-inning rain at Philadelphia. That left Milwaukee in shaky command of first place—by .024 percentage points over the San Francisco Giants, who ended the St. Louis Cardinals' wining streak at seven, 4-2.

Last place Los Angeles ended its losing streak at six—longest since 1950 for the Dodgers—with an 11-inning, 4-2 victory at Chicago.

The Redlegs, who had blown early leads throughout the five-game slump, had to come from behind at Pittsburgh after leading 3-0. George Crowe drove in five runs for the Reds, clouting a two-run homer in the seventh for a 5-4 edge that ended the Pirates' winning string at six.

Bob Friend lost his second against five victories, leaving in a four-run ninth capped by Crowe's two-run single. Johnny Klippstein won his first in relief of Harvey Haddix, who gave up Frank Thomas' 10th homer in the second and then gave way in a two-run fourth.

Willie Mays hit his ninth homer, eighth in six games, for a 1-0 lead in the first for the Giants, and Jim Davenport's triple made it 3-0 in the second as unbeaten Mike McCormick won his third with relief help. Lindy McDaniel lost his third in five decisions although the Cards out-hit the Giants 11-9. Stan Musial was 0-for-4, losing 21 points for a .479 average.

A walk and slow motion fielding by catcher Sammy Taylor and losing reliever Hersh Freeman on two bunts handed the Dodgers two runs in the 11th. Clem Labine, making his first regular-season start since Sept. 29, 1956 (when he won the second game of a doubleheader and gave the Dodgers a one-game lead on the next to last day of the season), was the winner — his first victory since beating the Cubs in relief last July 21.

Eddie Mathews' double and a single by Hank Aaron gave the Braves a run against Dack Sanford, but the Phils then cracked Lew Burdette for three runs on four hits and a walk before the rains came.

Detroit Drops Decision Even With 3 Homers

Harvey Has Hit Twelve Times in the Last 21 Trips to Plate

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe probably is looking for a bright spot in the Detroit Tiger picture today — and he need look no further than Harvey Kuenn's batting average.

While the club was dropping an 8-5 decision to the power - hitting Cleveland Indians yesterday, the Tigers' new center fielder was rapping out a double an da triple in three official trips.

Harvey now has 12 hits in his last 21 at-bats and his .377 batting average ties him with New York's Gil McDougald for second in the American League hitting race.

He credits his early spurt to the fact that manager Jack Tighe had him playing every game during the exhibition season. "I feel better than I ever have before in my career," said Kuenn.

It is unique that Kuenn was playing daily in Florida so he could sharpen up defensively at his new position, and that now that regular work is paying off in base hits.

The Tigers didn't get enough hits yesterday, tough. Frank Bolling, Gail Harris and pitcher Lou Sleater had home runs — but the Tiger pitching fell down.

Bill Hoeft, the starter, appeared off to a smooth beginning but he was struck in the foot by a line drive off Mickey Vernon's bat in the third, and Heoft had to be replaced.

That one safety by Vernon — the only one Hoeft allowed — brought about the Tiger southpaw's second defeat of the campaign. Vernon reached first, went to second on a walk, to third on a sacrifice and then both he and Chico Carrasquel scored on Roger Maris' double to left.

Bob Shaw was Hoeft's successor, and before the long afternoon drew to a conslusion manager Tighe had used Sleater, Tom Morgan, Hank Aguirre and Paul Foytack. It was Foytack's fourth appearance in six days.

Tonight the Tigers open a weekend series iin Kansas City. Following another night game Saturday and a Sunday afternoon contest, the Tigers return home and will start a 13-game home stand Tuesday against Baltimore.

Susce Shy About Flying

DETROIT (AP)—Pitcher George Susce arrived in town to join the Detroit Tigers and club officials learned immediately that the ex-Boston pitcher does not like to fly in an airplane.

Since the Tigers make practically all their trips by plane, manager Jack Tighe was faced with a minor problem before the club took off today for Kansas City.

"I suppose he'd rather fly to Kansas City than take a train to the Minor Leagues," Tighe quipped.

Garver Blanks Chisox for His 2nd Shutout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Ned Garver, whose 20 victories for a last place club now are all but forgotten, is back in business again as the pitching ace of the Kansas City Athletics.

It was in 1951 that Garver, a baby-faced kid of 25, was 20-12 for the old cellar dwelling St. Louis Browns, who won but 52 games that year. It's the only 20-victory season the chunky right-hander has had in the majors and it put him in pretty fast company. The others to win 20 in the American League that year were Cleveland's Bob Feller, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn, and New York's Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat.

Garver, who stands 5-10½, has had only one winning season since (14-11 with Detroit in 1954), but now he's 4-1 with the A's after collecting his second shutout with a seven-hit, 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

It came just a month to the day after he had blanked Cleveland 5-0 on seven hits opening day and gave him two shutouts in one season for the first time since 1954.

A three-run homer by Vic Power, following singles by Mike Baxes and Hec Lopez, broke up a scoreless duel between Garver and Jim Wilson at Kansas City. The White Sox right-hander, now 3-2, had a three-hitter 'til then.

Garver, 32, breezed in his third complete game except for the second when Bubba Phillips' double followed the Sox' lone walk. Lopez fielded Luis Aparicio's grounder to get the runner at the plate, and Wilson then tapped back to the mound to end the threat.

Four Open With 65s at Memphis as 30 Break Par

MEMPHIS (AP) — With old man par taking a solid drubbing, an Army Pfc and three pros led the field into the second round of the $20,000 Memphis Invitational golf tournament today.

On top of a hard pressing pack were Pfc Mason Rudolph of Fort Chaffee, Ark., Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., Jim Ferree of Winston Salem, N.C., and Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex.

All four slammed through the first 18-holes of the 72-hole medal play tournament over the 6,700-yard 34-36—70 Colonial Country Club course with 5-under-par 65s.

But the field behind was closely packed. Thirty of the 102 starters broke par. Marty Furgol of Lamont, Ill., was alone with a 66, but seven had 67s, six shot 68s and a dozen 69s.

The leaders:

Jones Loses to Jones

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Speedster Hayes Jones won the 100-yard dash but then was upset in the high hurdles Thursday as his Eastern Michigan team chalked up a 80-51 dual track victory over Central Michigan.

Jones was surprised in the high hurdles by teammate Paul Jones, who also won the low hurdles. Hayes Jones was withdrawn for the lows when recurring hip injury began to aggravate him.

DOWNED BY DRIVE — Billy Hoeft, Tiger pitcher, is knocked to the ground after a line drive off the bat of Mickey Vernon hit him in the foot yesterday at Briggs Stadium. Bob Shaw relieved him. The Tigers, despite three homers, still lost, 8-5. Hoeft was the loser.

Dodgers' Stay in L.A. Up to Voters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter O'Malley hints his Dodgers may leave Los Angeles if voters turn down his real estate deal for a stadium site in Chavez Ravine.

"We want to stay in Los Angeles but we can't if we have no place to play," O'Malley yesterday told a State Assembly committee looking into the city's contract with the Dodger baseball club.

The contract is subject to a referendum in a June 3 election. The deal involves swapping Wrigley Field for city-owned acreage in Chavez Ravine, within a mile of the downtown section.

"I can't conceive of our contract with the city being defeated by the voters for the good reason that there is no other possible site here for our contemplated ball park," O'Malley said.

"Both the commissioner of baseball and the National League president have been outspoken in indicating we have only temporary approval to occupy the Coliseum," said the Dodger president.

The 100,000-seat stadium has come in for criticism because of its short 250-foot field foul line.

The referendum threat may be the reason for the Dodgers' miserable showing so far this season, O'Malley said.

"The uncertainty about their future worries our players . . . and that I feel is back of our slump," O'Malley said.

City Councilman Karl Rundberg surprised the hearing by announcing that he is sorry he voted in favor of the Dodger land deal. The council approved the contract 10-4 and Rundberg's vote was one of the 10 required for passage.

Rundberg said that he is now convinced the people are against the pact. He said he hopes a new contract more beneficial to the city can be negotiated.

His change of heart, however, will not affect the ordinance if the voters approve next month.

Shell's Shutout Hurling Nets Drug 3-0 Triumph

Behind the three-hit pitching of Gene Shell, Drayton Drug "A" handed Lakeland Pharmacy a 3-0 whitewashing last night at Drayton Plains in the American division of the Waterford Softball League.

In a National loop game, a double and two singles by Lyndon Wood paced an 11-hit attack as the Drayton Merchants trimmed the Pontiac Lake Merchants, 16-6. The contest was halted after five innings by the league's 10-run rule.

Shutout, Rallies Feature Softball

Deni's Corner came from behind with a four-run uprising in the 7th for a 7-5 victory over American Legion Post 20.

The Sports Shop scored three times in the bottom of the 7th for a 12-11 triumph over Dostal Foundry. Thomas slammed a two-run homer for the losers.

International Autos tallied nine runs in the 2nd inning and eight more in the 3rd for an 18-10 rout of Franklin Products in a game called after 3½ stanzas. Gibbs clouted two homers in a losing cause.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: More Topped Shots
Diagnosis: Crooking the Left Arm Before Impact

TREATMENT: A few days ago, I mentioned the fault of trying to give the ball extra "oomph" through lifting action with your hands.

Most golfers think they're assisting the clubhead in getting the ball up by using their hands. But when you come right down to it, this useless action probably ruins more shots than any single golf fault I can think of.

In these days of excellent golfing equipment, you can be sure that the club will do its work if you're willing to do yours. All you should be concerned about is hitting on through the ball the way you know you're supposed to.

Take a good long look at today's illustration. You can see how this picking-up motion raises the plane of the swing. So what else can you do but hit the ball on top? You'll either wind up with a half-top (which is bad) or, worse yet, a full-top.

Midgets on Mat Card at Armory

Tiny Tim, Irish Jackie Tangle Tonight to Head 3-Bout Program

Midget wrestlers hold the spotlight in tonight's professional mat program at the Pontiac Armory. It will be their first appearance here since the opening show of the year.

Tiny Tim, 82 pounds, grapples with Irish Jackie, and 85-pounder in the main attraction of a three-bout card. Both "mighty mites" stand 3 feet, 6 inches tall.

Supporting the midget bout are two preliminary matches, each two out of three falls with a 45-minute time limit. Lew Kline battles Johnny Gates in one match while the other pairs Dick "Mr. Michigan" Garza and Chuck Gorman.

Tonight's show, arranged by former wrestler Bert Ruby, begins at 8:30. Advance tickets are available at Griff's Grill and the city Armory. These bouts are sponsored by the 107th Ordnance Company of the Pontiac National Guard.

Personal Links Feud Marks Southern Test

It will be Miss Creed, the blonde from Lamar Tech, vs. Mrs. Maurice Glick, 47-year-old Maryland champion from Baltimore. And it will be settlement of a personal links feud. Mrs. Glick bowed to Miss Creed in the quarter-finals last year but later the Baltimore star beat Miss Creed in the first round of the Western.

The other semifinal sends Polly Riley of Fort Worth, former Curtis Cupper and five times champion of this tournament, against Mrs. Mary Ann Reynolds, the 28-year-old Georgia state champion.

SKIPPER FLYER — One of the most improved prep track athletes in the area, this spring, Bill Cole (above) of Waterford High, has figured in some stirring high hurdle races involving PCH's Danny Sowell, Jim Hawkins, and Farmington's Warren Cawley. Cawley is rated one of the state's best. All four probably will collide again, Saturday, in the Ypsilanti MHSAA regional, where Pontiac defends its 1957 championship.

Chiefs, Maples Favored Among County Teams

Four Area Schools in Marysville 'B' Event; PCH Seeks 6th Title

By H. GUY MOATS

While Pontiac's defending state and regional prep track champs shoot for their 6th straight regional crown at Ypsilanti, Saturday, they will be keeping their eyes on what happens in the Class A-B regional at Ann Arbor High. Reason for this interest in the Ann Arbor regional is the appearance there of both Flint Northern and Flint Central squads, and the possibility of large numbers of qualifiers by Vikings and Indjans for the big state meet at University of Michigan a week hence.

Chiefs face a strong field at Ypsi. They must qualify a strong squad if they make a real defense of their 3rd Michigan prep title. PCH is aiming for a 4th MHSAA crown on May 24. Northern and Central, particularly Northern, have been Pontiac's most powerful competition all season. Northern has stopped Pontiac several times, but Chiefs have won more of the big meets.

Among area squads PCH and Birmingham are favored for Class "A" honors in regionals. East Detroit and Grosse Pte. will probably battle it out at Fitzgerald, while Vikings are favored at Ann Arbor. Waterford is rated well up in the Ypsi meet. Maples are at U. of D.

A number of Eastern Oakland County schools are entered in the Marysville "B" meet. The Howell "B" test, Flint "B-C" section; and U. of D. A-B meets also draw from all sections of the area. Orion, Rochester, Avondale and Romeo are in the 15-team Marysville meet (B).

Pontiac's squad will include the folowing, Coach Dean Wilson announced this morning (Jim Hawkins has been put in the relays, moving him from the hurdles to give added speed to the quartets):

880—Coats, Cox and Lee.
Mile—Beamer, Jefferson and Ken Smith.
Hurdles—Sowell, Howse and Terry.
High Jump—Barge, Brooks and Carson.
Broad Jump—Sowell, Keller and Carson.
Pole vault—White and Finley.
Shot—Brown and Rush.
880 relay—Keller, Hawkins, Hill and Manning.
Med. relay—Richards (440), Keller (220), Hawkins (220) and Pritchett (440).

Canoe Calendar Adds New Event

BAY CITY (AP) — The first annual Midwest International championship has been added to Michigan's 1958 canoe racing calendar. It will be run July 4 down the Rifle river 85 miles from Lupton to Omer. The river is west of Saginaw Bay in Eastern lower Michigan.

The midwest international is the second new canoe racing event added this year. The other is a Mackinac marathon to be run June 28 over a 45-mile rivers and lakes course at the top of the Lower Peninsula.

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Ruth Martin leaves Indiana State Teachers College in June with a diploma and a varsity letter in tennis. She's the first woman athlete in the history of the school to earn a letter—and, incidentally, the last.

Plan to Boycott Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—Plans to boycott the Detroit Tigers game with the Chicago White Sox here June 1 are being readied by an irate group of 100 who want the Tigers to have a Negro on their roster by then.

The Rev. George Hill Jr. of Detroit, chairman of the Briggs Stadium Boycott Committee, said his group is trying to force the Tigers to sign a Negro by employment of the boycott.

The Detroit club and the Boston Red Sox are the only two major league clubs which never have used a Negro.

Fred K. Persons, a Detroit attorney and a committee leader, said he spoke with Tiger President Harvey Hanson but received an unsatisfactorhy answer to his request that the Tigers sign a Negro.

Persons said Hanson indicated the committee wouldn't be capable of staging a successful boycott of the ball park.

Jimmy Conway, who trains Talent Show for Mrs. Ada L. Rice of Chicago, beat the gun by telephoning his entry in from New Jersey yesterday. Eleven others headed by the Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, winner of the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago, were expected to be named for the mile and three-sixteenths gallop on Saturday.

With a dozen starters, and the Derby mud an excuse for many of the horses, this 82nd Preakness shapes up as one of the most controversial races since Survivor copped the inaugural way back in 1873. In 1928, Harry Payne Whitney's Victorian defeated 17 rivals—the most ever to start in the 3 - year - old cavalry charge.

In addition to Silky, 12th in the Derby goo, Tim Tam and Talent Show, others in the expected lineup were the Maine Chance Farm entry of Jewel's Reward and Liberty Ruler, the Sunny Blue Farm's Lincoln Road, the Crabgrass Stable's Noureddin, the Llangollen Farm's Gone Fishin', Edward J. Potter Jr.'s Plion, the Powhatan Stable's Michore, Mrs. Anna Cannuli's Chance It Tony, and George Lewis' Martins Rullah.

With eight of the field having gone in the Derby, the Preakness has attracted more horses out of the Louisville event since Hector was a pup. Usually the Preakness has only seven or eight starters. The Derby horses with their placings, apart from Tim Tam and Silky, are Lincoln Road (2), Noureddin (3), Jewel's Reward (4), Martins Rullah (5), Chance It Tony (6), and Gone Fish' (8).

The weatherman predicted fair and mild weather for the big race, and the presence of the Derby stars plus the lure of come-from-behind Silky Sullivan probably will mean one of the biggest Pimlico crowds in years. The track has been fast for several days, but whether any horse can menace Nashua's track and Preakness record of 1:54 3-5 set in 1955 remains to be seen.

Soviet Lifters Believe Americans Out of Shape

DETROIT (AP) — Members of the Russian weightlifting team believe amateur athletes in the United States get too little attention and take too little time conditioning themselves.

The way the Soviet team defeated the United States' hand-picked weightlifting team last night, its members leave no room for argument. The Russians, who maintain a business-like atmosphere even during practice, beat the Americans in four of seven weight classes.

There was only one clear-cut United States victory but Americans gained the edge in the featherweight and bantamweight divisions when their competitors each weighed a quarter pound less than the Russians in those weight classes.

Bantamweights Chuck Vinci of the United States and victor Stogov of Russia tied at 738 points apiece in the press, snatch, and clean and jerk competitions. Featherweights Isaac Berger and Eugene Mineaev tied at 776¾ points. Berger and Vinci got the verdict on weight.

The small, but enthusiastic crowd gave the Russian winners thundering ovations but treated heavyweight Alexander Medvedev with special warmth. He defeated Jim Bradford of the United States 1102-1036.

"These boys mean business," said Bradford, a 300-pounder from Washington, D.C. "They train together as a unit for months and months. We're kinda fly-by-night, I guess."

Bradford explained that his own schedule was such that he had to go to work in the morning, go to school at night and train whenever he could find time after school.

The Americans were pleased with their showing in the second of the three-match series. Monday night in Chicago they were defeated 6-1.

"We'll beat them in New York Saturday night," vowed Jim George, who was overwhelmed in the lightheavyweight class by Trofim Lomakin, a 35-year-old Russian army captain.

The Russians have been sightseeing in Detroit. They toured an automotive plant, saw an American movie and visited a Detroit home. Kenneth Katzner, a state department interpreter traveling with the team, said the large buildings, the heavy traffic and the way Americans scurry about impressed them most.

Lead Tourney at Snead's Course

Hogan, Unknown Top Pack

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS., W. Va. (AP)—The old guard of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, marched in step at the head of the parade with the younger set of San Mosel and Gary Player today as the golf tourney-honoring Snead went into the second round.

The contrasting quartet stepped off a brisk pace for the 53 other pros in yesterday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament at the spa resort where Snead has been pro for 21 years.

Hogan and Mosel went at a clip of 65 strokes on the par 70 course. Snead and Player were only a stroke behind. Hogan and Snead are approaching their 46th year. Mosel is 26, Player 22.

Both the oldsters showed their mettle under pressure.

Hogan and Player arrived at the 18th hole, each four under par. Player, invader from Johannesburg, South Africa, shot 30 feet from the cup on the 163-yard hole. Hogan's tee shot was 25 yards away.

Player's first putt as an inch off course and he settled for a par 3. Hogan sank his for a birdie.

The shot tied him with Mosel, who had finished an hour and a half sooner.

Snead, coming in about 15 minutes ahead of Hogan and Player, seemed on the verge of killing off immediately his chance to win his own tournament for the fourth time in 11 attempts.

He was one over par through the 11th hole. Then he brought forth one of the sensational spurts for which he has been famous since he turned pro 22 years ago. He beat par on five of the last seven holes.

The leaders:

Stan Mosel	33-32—65

2 County Boys to See Action in Backfields

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

ANN ARBOR — As final class room tests for the semester near the football team at the University of Michigan will undergo some gridiron examination of their own tomorrow with the annual spring intra-squad game in the stadium at 2:00 p.m.

Head of the class is professor Bennie Oosterbaan and those who pass their tests will receive invitations to join the Wolverines at the Fall session next September 1st.

The game will continue until every member of the squad who is in uniform gets the chance to play.

In the backfield, the improved passing of Stan Noskin, junior letterman quarterback, has been a standout of the spring drills. John Spidel, senior "M" man and Bob Ptacek, who has been working both at left half and quarter, also will be in action Saturday.

Ptacek and Darrell Harper, the latter also a letterman junior from Royal Oak, along with Hank Stuart of Detroit; Reid Bushong, Toledo and Gary McNitt of Mesick, Mich., will be filling left halfback berths while Brad Myers, Fred Julian, Al Groce and Jerry Leith, all from last year's squad probably will get the principal assignments at right half.

athlete, is a center candidate who also will be carefully watched. Mike Dupay, powerful junior from Monongahela, Pa., has been given a trial at tackle this spring while Gordon Morrow, letterman end from Ann Arbor, now is working at center along with Jim Byers, letterman fullback from last year. Just what will emerge out of the effort to bolster the spot shared by Gene Snider and Jerry Goebel last season, will be one of the major points of interest Saturday.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

The Romeo Golf and Athletic Club, a new 18-hole layout with a unique name as far as courses in this vicinity are concerned, will open for play next spring.

Or, to be more accurate, half of it will open.

The front nine holes, measuring approximately 3,600 yards, are expected to be ready for par-busters and duffers alike in the spring of 1959, according to general manager Hiram C. Brown.

It's a different situation on the back nine, however. Only rough grading has been done, Brown reports, and the second half of the course may not be ready until the 1960 season.

Located on 32-Mile Road one mile east of Romeo, the property is largely flat and open with a winding creek as the major obstacle. A timber hazard will be present on the acreage reserved for the back nine.

The first nine will carry a par of 36 holes ranging in length from the 160-yard 4th to the 540-yard 9th. The creek must be crossed on the 4th, 6th and 8th holes and a small pond on No. 6 adds to the golfer's worries.

Due to a scarcity of hilly terrain and other natural hazards, sand traps and heavy rough will be employed to toughen the course. The rough will vary from four to six inches deep and bunkers will be strategically placed by club officials.

Each nine-hole layout is still in the tentative stage, especially the back nine, but plans are mostly complete. Trees are liable to make it a little bit tougher coming home than going out, Brown believes.

The course will open to the public, although club memberships will probably be offered. The club driving range is expected to be ready for business by June 1.

SHORT PUTTS

Wealthy Frank Stranahan, the Toledo professional, was fined $11 Wednesday in Memphis, Tenn., for illegally parking his car. Stranahan is playing in the Memphis Open. It's very doubtful that Frank missed the money.

Two interesting golf tournaments are scheduled next week. The third Pro-Am tourney of the year is slated Monday at Franklin Hills, followed by the Detroit medal play event May 23-25 at Indianwood.

Michigan, Michigan State and the University of Detroit compete in a triangular meet tomorrow at Grosse Ile.

George S. May, who cancelled his rich All-American and World tourneys this spring, has resigned from the PGA Advisory Board upon the request of Harold Sargent, PGA president.

Pennsylvanian Hits 279 ABC Singleton

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Frank Sheloski of Plymouth, Pa., highlighted a day of limited activity in the American Bowling Congress yesterday. He rolled a 279 game, the highest singleton in the Open team event since the tournament got under way, 48 days ago.

Despite Sheloski's contribution, the Cauly's Appliance & TV team was only able to eke out a 2,710, not nearly enough to crack the top ten standings of the Open team division.

Yesterday's entire schedule included only two team squads, one Booster and one Open division. There were no threats to the leaders.

An unusual bit of competition was tested at OCSC's pistol and archery ranges, recently, with very satisfactory results. The hand-gun shooters won a match from the club's archers, 1432 - 1207, both groups shooting from scratch.

Pistol clubbers were paced by Ted Villella and George Gorstrom with 246 and 243 of 250. Archers' tops were L. Sheddon (224) and L. G. Green (221). Winners won a fine trophy, which is a revolving award for future 6-man teams in the annual event.

Largest Entry in Open Trials

NEW YORK (AP)—The largest field in the history of the U.S. Open Golf Championship will try for one of the 145 spots to be filled for the title event at the Southern Hills Country Club, Tulsa, Okla., June 12-16.

Joe Dey, executive director of the USGA, announced yesterday a record entry list of 2,140. Seventeen of the entries are exempted from qualifying. The championships bracket for the 72-hole medal play tournament will have 162 players.

The previous highest entry was 1,928 in 1954 when the tournament was played at Baltrusrol in New Jersey.

Exempted from qualifying include defending champion Dick Mayer of La Jolla, Calif., U. S. Amateur champion Lt. Hillman Robbins Jr., of Memphis and PGA champion Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La.

The field will be cut down to championship size in 28 sectional tournaments. The first is scheduled for Honolulu May 26. The remainder will be played June 2.

Milford Nine Clinches Tie; PCH Last

Milford and Royal Oak St. Mary clinched ties for league titles in baseball, St. Frederick scored its 9th golf victory and the Birmingham tennis team kept rolling in featured events on the area prep calendar yesterday.

Clarkston stayed in the running for Wayne-Oakland honors by walloping Brighton 11-4, Clarenceville dumped Bloomfield Hills 9-3, Birmingham bowed to Port Huron 4-1, Pontiac lost again, Romeo had four homers in a 14-1 romp, Cranbrook tripped Dearborn, South Lake nipped Utica 3-2 and New Haven stayed unbeaten in other baseball action.

Milford got its only two hits and all its runs in the 3rd to down Holly 4-3 in a W-O duel. Terry Hoy won his 7th. Clarkston got a good pitching performance and three hits from Bob Porritt. Jim Paddock accounted for the Brighton runs with a homer and triple. Unearned runs gave Clarenceville a lead it never relinquished. Baron pitcher Bruce Withers was the batting star with a home run and triple.

Royal Oak St. Mary became assured of at least a share of its 2nd straight crown by nipping chief contender Orchard Lake St. Mary 4-3. The Eaglets held a 3-2 lead before bowing.

Joe Keller edged Rochester's Larry Beaupre for medalist honors 75 to 76 in St. Fred's 341 to 363 golf triumph. The boys were all even starting the final hole. Keller scored an eagle and Beaupre a birdie. West Bloomfield totaled 164, Holly 171 in another match. Don Cole of the victors was medalist with 39. Bill Gromett had 40 for Holly.

Birmingham blanked Port Huron in tennis, 5-0. It was the 8th win in nine starts for the Maples. They meet Mt. Clemens for the Eastern Michigan championship May 29th.

In other baseball, Flint Central whipped Pontiac for the 2nd time in four days with a 5-3 triumph here. The Chiefs led 1-0 early and were later tied until a three-run 6th decided the issue. The defeat, charged to Dave Jones, dropped PCH into a tie for the Saginaw Valley League cellar. Three of the four Pontiac hits were extra basers.

Ron Schmidt had two homers and two singles to bat in five runs, Bud Dodge and Warren Cahoon also hit for the circuit in Romeo's 11th straight victory. Bob Galan won his 7th.

Cranbrook overcame a 3-1 deficit to win 8-6 behind Larry Demrick. New Haven breezed over Dryden 10-1 combining eight singles with 11 errors. "Hoot" Englebert gained his 3rd triumph.

Grid Coach Loses Leg Shattered by Gun Blast

BANNING, Calif. (AP)—A high school football coach has lost the leg that was shattered by the blast of a shotgun in the hands of a student.

Linden, 31, was shot May 1 by James Johnson, 15, after he had reprimanded Johnson for fighting with other students. The youth faces a juvenile court hearing June 5 on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

New President for Cage Loop

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Industrial Basketball League Thursday named a new president—James W. Vickers, a Wichita, Kan., sportsman and industrialist.

He succeeds Louis G. Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., who held the post three years. George J. Kolowich of Denver succeeds Vickers as a vice president and Warren Womble of Peoria, Ill., was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Representatives of firms with teams in the league scheduled the second anual East-West All-Star game for Denver next March 15. Womble will coach the Eastern team, drawn from players on the Bartlesville, Peoria, and Akron clubs. Johnny Dee of Denver will coach the West, made up of players from Wichita, Denver and Seattle.

The representatives voted to permit six time-outs instead of five and to retain 48-minute games and the 24-second rule next season.

Youngsters Bring Tiny Cars to Miracle Mile Track

Quarter-Midget Races Here

Ever hear of the Wolverine One-Quarter Midget Racing Association, Inc.? If you haven't, keep reading and learn about a sport which is growing in popularity by leaps and bounds.

The Wolverine organization is operated on a non-profit basis by parents of youngsters who love the thrill of automobile racing.

Youngsters of both sexes from ages 4 to 15 participate in these races under the supervision of their parents and active club members come from Pontiac, Waterford, Milford, Royal Oak, Ferndale, Detroit and Toledo, O., to mention a few.

After four years of operation on property owned by the city of Royal Oak at 13-Mile Road and Coolidge, the Wolverine Association has now moved its auto racing program into Pontiac's back yard.

A new dirt track has been laid on property at the southwest corner of the Miracle Mile Shopping Center near Square Lake Road and the youthful drivers have already initiated the oval in practice runs.

Patterned after similar youth racing programs in California and other states, the youngsters really go all out in this recreational activity with crash helmets and the whole works.

Their programs attempt to follow a regular professional show — main event, semifinal, time trials and all the rest. Races run from 6 to 20 laps, depending upon the age of the participant.

The youths race in four age groups — 4 through 6, 7 through 9, 10 through 12 and 13 through 15. Their cars have a maximum of three horsepower, a restriction of nine cubic inch displacement and a top speed of 25 m.p.h.

Autos are either bought or built by the parents and constant supervision is maintained at all times to make each race as safe as possible.

The new Miracle Mile track is one - tenth of a mile long with a three-foot retaining wall. Although the track has been in constant use by the young speed merchants, it still needs a lot of surface work before the opening races June 8.

Before a track was available, these races began in shopping center parking lots with 8 to 10 cars taking part. Edward Hansz of Birmingham, vice president of the group, thinks membership, which now numbers about 60, will be doubled by the end of the current season.

Secretary of State James M. Hare is expected to attend the June 8 opener, according to Hansz, whose 12-year-old son Tommy is a regular competitor.

Racing programs will be held every other Sunday until September and awards will be presented to the drivers who have accumulated the most points.

Gordon Gore of Ferndale is the president of the Wolverine Association and Gerald Lacy serves as publicity chairman. Their place of business? The Miracle Mile, home of the Wolverine Quarter Midgets.

Sophomore football players Joe and Reggie Robertson of the Mississippi team are first cousins. Joe is a tackle and Reggie a fullback.

OAKLAND COUNTY YOUTH HOME — This is the beautiful building, with its rolling surrounding landscape, which Oakland County took over in February to handle the overflow of children committed to the Children's home at 2050 Telegraph Rd. Director Wesley Johnson and his staff will stage an open house Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m. to show interested citizens the operation. Located at 7350 Cooley Lake Rd., it was the former children's branch of the Tuberculosis Sanitorium.

Clarkston Voters Will Decide on School Bond Issue May 26

CLARKSTON — Qualified voters in the Clarkston Community School District will be asked in a special election Monday, May 26, to approve a proposed $2,500,000 bond issue for construction of a new high school.

The proposal follows a year of study by thee Citizen's Committee, made up of more than 100 Clarkston residents, which has compiled reports and recommendations indicating the need of a new school.

The bond issue can be financed at no increase in the present debt millage of 13 mills on state equalized valuation, according to the board of Education's finance chairman, Robert Martin.

This is possible because the board has been retiring the previous bond dept at a rapid rate, he said.

There are more than 1,000 pupils enrolled in Clarkston High School at the present time, according to Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent. This figure is expected to be more than doubled within the next six years, he added.

DISTRICT OWNS PROPERTY

The new high school building would be located on a 70-acre site south of the present high school. The Clarkston School District now owns the property.

Plans and specifications for the 30-room high school provide accommodations for approximately 1,500 pupils and a gymnasium with a seating capacity of 2,000.

The school would have 18 general classrooms and special rooms for general science, biology, chemistry, physics, art, business education, homemaking, vocal and instrumental music and shop.

A large auditorium, cafeteria, library and administrative offices also are included in the plans, with provisions for future expansion when needed.

The present high school building would be used as a junior high school, Dr. Greene said.

The Citizens' Committee report to the Board of Education said the present curriculum of the high school was lacking in physical education, auto mechanics, advanced biology, physics and chemistry, audio-visual education and library facilities.

PROVISIONS REQUESTED

The committee requested that the board make provisions for these facilities in the final planning and specifications.

The special election has been scheduled from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and will be held in the Clarkston Elementary School on Waldon road in Clarkston.

Mayor Donaldson Hits Planning of Courthouse

Mayor William W. Donaldson told city commissioners at an informal meeting last night that he wishes to revive efforts to keep the Oakland County Courthouse downtown.

Donaldson said he felt the Oakland County Board of Supervisors should reconsider their site selection at the County Service Center on Telegraph Road.

Construction of the new courthouse is currently delayed pending a Michigan Supreme Court decision on an appeal of a local court ruling that money for the courthouse was accumulated illegally and the site annexed illegally.

Changes Plea to Guilty on Bad Check Charges

The former manager of a downtown Pontiac clothing store, Bernard Bluestein, 32, late of Philadelphia, yesterday appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty to change his plea to guilty on two counts of check forgery and uttering and publishing.

Judge Doty set sentencing for May 23. Bluestein earlier had stood mute to passing a worthless $34 check while employed by the store.

'Janus' Opens Tonight

Office-Seeker to Star in Avon Players' Comedy

ROCHESTER — Don Brown, a candidate for lieutenant governor of Michigan, and his pretty wife, Lynette, head the cast of the Avon Players' sophisticated comedy, "Janus," opening tonight at Smart's Barn on Tienken road, north of Rochester.

This will be the first of four performances of the play which won the praise of Broadway theater-goers for more than a year in its New York run. Other performances are scheduled for tomorrow, and May 23 and 24. Curtain time for each is 8 p.m.

Both veteran performers, the Browns have had extensive experience in college dramatics, summer stock and the Lansing Civic Players in addition to their work with the Avon group.

Brown will be seeking the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor in the August primary.

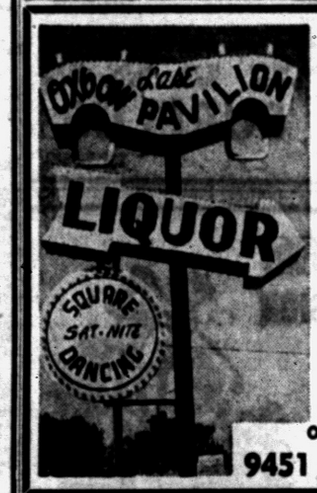

The second lead will be played by Tom King, another veteran of the amateur theater. He is remembered by Oakland County audiences for his outstanding performance in "Tender Trap" and "Born Yesterday."

Hollywood Headlines

Writer, Producer Team to Establish New Firm

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The combination of writer Robert Wilder and Al Zugsmith who produced "Written on the Wind" for U-I was very successful. It won Robert Stack an Academy nomination and Dorothy Malone an Academy award.

Now Al and Bob have formed the Producers Artists Corp. and their first picture will be Wilder's novel, "Walk With Evil." They are seeking Edward G. Robinson, Lee Cobb, Robert Stack and Dorothy Malone for their movie.

Maybe you are asking how Zugsmith, who is at MGM and about to bring "The Vanquished," the William Faulkner novel, to the screen, can do all this. Simple. His contract gives him permission to do one outside picture a year.

More power to Sam Goldwyn who today made his 1958 creative writing awards at UCLA. Sam not only encourages talented students with his $1,000 and $250 cash prizes, but he gives much of his personal attention to this worthwhile project.

In his speech at the University Sam said, "Hollywood's basic problem is a lack of good stories —and nothing more. No matter how great the stars, the director, the producer, if the story is not sound it is impossible to produce a success."

One thousand students plus first prize winner Richard Stockton (for his stage play, "The House Shall Tremble") and Peter Renno (second place winner for his book, "Tales of Ibiza") applauded Sam.

Richard Thorpe, MGM director, just missed Vice President Richard Nixon's visit to Bogota, Colombia, by a few days. He was there looking for locations for a picture he's calling "Project 9."

"I saw enough," said Thorpe, "to make me cancel out and forget the backgrounds and locations we were going to use. I was in a little town near Bogota and while the people were friendly enough I don't think it's any place to take an American film company right now."

"Princess Grace and Prince Rainier are planning to come to the U. S. A. in September," writes Grace's good friend Rupert Allen from London en route home after handling the public relations at the birth and christening of infant Prince Albert.

They are looking forward to the big gala in Monaco on June 14, "An Evening With Frank Sinatra," when Monaco will hold the world premiere of "Kings Go Forth."

Frank is singing at the gala after the screening, and Grace will see her old friend, Sinatra, who was one of her personally invited wedding guests.

That's all today.

Birth of Quad Calves in State 2 Million to One

MUNISING, Mich. (UP)—The birth of quadruplet calves, described as a two-million-to-one rarity, occurred on an upper peninsula farm near here yesterday. The first-calf mother was bred through artificial insemination.

John Campana, Michigan State University agricultural agent, said the two bulls and two heifers born weighed 173 pounds.

"This happens maybe once or twice a year in the United States," he said. "But it's the first time I know of that it happened as a result of artificial breeding."

Using More Rubber

NEW YORK — The Rubber Manufacturers Association reports that the nation used 1,475,000 tons of new rubber in 1957, compared with 1,436,482 tons the year before.

All About Men . . . Chapter Five

Don't Always Say, 'Yes, Dear'

By JOSEPH H. PECK, M.D.

When you a-wooing go, consider the customer's wishes.

Are you the kind of man who will attract the girl you want? You must study her preferences in men, as well as in candy and corsages.

In all nature, the advancement of the breed depends on the female choosing the sire of her offspring. Even though the gals have much reason to be discouraged, Mother Nature makes them look at you and wonder just what kind of father you will make.

A mining engineer who worked in South America told me of a new man who had a gold bridge that caused some comment. One day the tribal chief called on this man and said the women of his tribe had decided they wanted some children with gold teeth. Would the engineer accommodate them?

Gold teeth may not have much bearing on your girl's choice, but your curly hair may be a factor. And one thing that will count is your personality.

BE DECISIVE, MEN

From many years of listening to women recount their husbands' defects, I think their greatest gripe is having a namby-pamby spouse.

I don't know how many times I've heard an anguished female say, "Oh, if he would only beat me when I get bitchy, but, darn him, all he says is, "Yes, dear.'"

When I was a kid we had a neighbor whose only contribution to his household was coming home stoned on Saturday nights and beating up his poor, hard-working wife.

When my gentle mother suggested that she divorce this monster, she always said: "Oh, Mrs. Peck, you don't know what loving ways he has when he's sober!"

What a woman primarily wants, if she has any brains, is a man who will provide a safe and comfortable nest in which to raise her brood.

She wants a clean, but not a meticulous dresser, and maybe a husband who bores her only half the time after they have been married 30 years.

As for the qualifications of a good husband, it matters little if I have omitted some.

Once you are hitched, son, your wife will be glad to point them out to you.

What kind of gal should you marry?

A few years ago you stressed appearance. Well, your ideal, well-upholstered, curvaceous little blonde will likely, by the time she is 40, spread out like a bale of hay after the retaining wires are cut.

If you take marriage seriously, discount all the moonlight and roses and "love-forever-true" stuff.

You are entering the most sacred and important partnership of your entire life. It can be heaven on earth, whether in palace or trailer, or it can be hell on wheels.

I think it was Michelet who said, "If you wish to ruin yourself, marry a rich wife." And if Michelet didn't, Joe Peck does.

You only have to live with your wife for 40 years or so, but the traits you two will hand down will have a direct bearing on the destiny of mankind. Size up the stock she came from.

If you knew a fraction of the ills due to indiscriminate matings, you would realize the importance of giving the matter the attention it deserves. If you want the Lord to bless you with healthy offspring, it is better to prevent now rather than try to correct later.

Among common diseases that run in families are allergy, deafness, a tendency toward heart disease, diabetes, migraine, cleft palate, many kinds of mental diseases, and tuberculosis in all its forms.

If only one side of the family has some of these diseases in its history, the chances are just half as bad as when both sides have the same weakness. Without too much trouble, you can find a girl who has inherited weaknesses different from yours.

I know farmers who spend a lot of time and money trying to keep dwarfism out of their cattle herds, but who show interest in their children's alliances only when one wants to marry out of the family faith.

Incidentally, after you do get children and grandchildren if you keep a medical record, just as families in my day used to record births and deaths in the family Bible.

Prices on Grains Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices of grain futures were steady to firm today in early dealings on the board of trade.

Activity was brisk at times, but again it centered mainly on the May contracts in evening up operations where the broadest price shifts occurred.

May wheat and rye were the widest swingers during the first hour. Wheat was ¼ cent lower to ⅝ higher, May $2.18⅞, corn ½ higher to ⅛ lower, May $1.28⅛; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, May 64⅜; rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, May $1.37½; soybeans unchanged to ¼ lower, May $2.24½; lard 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.45.

Total wheat and flour shipments for this crop year which began on July 1 were reported today at only about 325 million bushels, compared with about 467 million bushels for the same period of the last crop year which was a record.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WALter K. Steyskal who passed away 1 year ago, May 16

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away from fright or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.

Role in 'Maverick' Turns Spotlight on Diane Brewster

Dennis Crosby Wants to Sing Like Sinatra

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dennis Crosby, in town with his chorus girl bride, says he wants to be a swinging singer like Frank Sinatra.

"I wouldn't say I sing in my dad's style," said the son of Bing Crosby. "The songs I sing are the Sinatra type of swing tune."

His wife, divorcee Pat Sheehan, 26, said she has no plans for a career.

"I just want to be a good wife and mother," said Miss Sheehan, who has a son, 6, by a previous marriage.

The couple arrived in Hollywood last night from Las Vegas, Nev., where Miss Sheehan had been appearing in a show at a hotel.

Dennis, 23, said they plan to do some house hunting. He said he has tape recordings of a couple of songs which he hopes to sell to some recording company.

Dennis, married May 4 at Las Vegas, was asked by a reporter if he intended to contact his father.

"No, I don't think so," he replied. "I guess, perhaps, I'll see him when he comes to town—if he calls me."

Asked about an unemployed telephone operator's charge that he fathered her 5-month-old son, Dennis said:

"I have nothing to say."

DIANE BREWSTER

Actress Scores as 'Samantha'

Success in Television Leads to Major Part in Western Movie

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Lady Luck in Hollywood masquerades as different people under unexpected names. Her latest is Samantha — Samantha Crawford, a scheming, two-faced double talking li'l ol' Southern belle — who first appeared on TV's "Cheyenne" followed by several Sunday night "Maverick" telefilms.

Diane is from Kansas City where, as you know, everything is up to date — and we better keep up to date with her because the bets are down that she's going places fast.

Stardust has been sparkling in Diane's blonde hair ever since her cool, Grace Kelly-type beauty showed up as Samantha, who showed Maverick brothers, Bart and Bret, a couple of slick tricks with words, cards, money and warm kisses.

THAT SAMANTHA!

But they are up to date at Allied Artists, too, because Diane's billing in advertisements for the film, I'm told, will read:

"Now on big screens — that 'Samantha' girl from Maverick!"

Except for that cool beauty, Diane Brewster is nothing at all like Samantha, who was her Lady Luck. There's no Southern accent but there is a solid acting background dating back to her dramatic major days at the University of Kansas.

"The Southern accent is easy for me, though," says this girl suddenly crashing the Hollywood spotlight. "I had a tough time getting rid of a Midwestern drawl. Going back to it with a Southern flavor isn't a bit difficult."

But for Diane Brewster, one-time secretary at a Kansas City TV station, finding acting success in Hollywood wasn't so easy, even after she made a name for herself as a TV personality in commercials, on weather shows and on panels for the same TV station.

She had one line, "Excuse me," in "Lucy Gallant," and she had a walk-on in the Liberace movie, "Sincerely Yours."

The recent appearances as Samantha on "Maverick," however, left most of the country saying, "Wow — who is that girl?"

Local Streets on TV

A 14-minute film on Leader Dogs for the Blind will be feafured Sunday at 1 p.m. on the WJBK-TV show "Detroit Speaks." The entire half-hour program will be devoted to the work of the Rochester school.

Much of the movie was filmed on the streets of Pontiac, showing the training of the leader dogs.

Extols 'All This Plus Guckenheimer's Band'

BY EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO — Your roving reporter has become a raving reporter — raving about this most pleasant of visits to this city famous for flowers, shoe shine stands and "Guckenheimer's Sour Kraut Band."

WILSON

Strolling the sloping streets, hearing people talk about their Giants (and not pronouncing it Gi'nts as they do in New York), I wondered if San Francisco is neater than New York.

And if it isn't—then how come it's hard to find a shoe stand in Manhattan, while they are numerous here? And how metropolitan it seems for a man to step up to a sidewalk flower stand here and buy a flower for his lapel.

But besides the cracked crab, the little Olympic oysters, the Bay shrimp, the "top of the Mark," there's that gang of Guckenheimers' sour-krauters and their old taxi who can play good music — but avoid it.

SOUR KRAUT BAND

Big league merchant Richard Gump got the idea in 1948 to start a little street corner band and claims to have got the name Guckenheimer off a whisky bottle. "We play a little Wagner, a little Strauss and a little off-key," they admit.

Gradually this band has gone from bad to worse until now it's bringing out an album titled, "Music for Non-Thinkers."

There are no pros in the outfit, although cornetist Robert McDonald has worked under many talented conductors (he's a fireman on the Southern Pacific RR).

An architect, Richard Hiatt, plays the flugelhorn and up to now is the worst flugelhornist ever uncovered. His blowings sound like the puffings of somebody just hit in the stomach by a football shoe.

They play for comic effect and riding their little 1934 Austin taxi (nine of them at once) with the same motive. They are getting enormously popular, and expect to welcome the Milwaukee Braves to town shortly at a concerto being arranged at Lefty O'Doul's saloon, in white tie and tails.

Music, it's wonderful, and it must be when these nine busy men, from tycoons to railroaders, can devote several hours a week to having fun. They make the hillbillies of Nashville sound like symphony, that's how talented they are.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK . . .

Sugar Ray Robinson offered a bundle for rights to "Golden Boy," was shrugged off . . . Perle Mesta loaned her clothes and jewels to Ruth Hagy, who'll lampoon her at the Women's National Press Club show . . . Henry Fonda arrives at his show aboard a tiny motor scooter . . . Danny Scholl will get $2,000 a week for doing "Roberta" in St. Louis — $1,250 more than Bob Hope got in the original B'way production . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Comic Joe E. Ross complained he was working too hard while filming "Maracaibo." "Why didn't you hire a laborer?" he snapped. "Are you nuts?" said Cornel Wilde. "You know how much more we'd have to pay a laborer?" . . . That's earl, brother. (Copyright, 1958)

Newswomen Revise Skit to Note Nixon Experience

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon was featured last night in a skit at a newswomen's stunt party — but with a script hastily revised to note his unfortunate treatment in Venezuela.

Bandages all but hid the face of the member of the Women's National Press Club who impersonated the vice president. She wore the Latin American costume she had planned on for weeks—but it was torn and tattered in a previously unplanned way.

The script with which the newswomen had rehearsed the skit was thrown away for the most part at the last minute. The revision had Nixon's impersonator introduced with these lines:

"Look who is here. He is Richard M. Nixon, here to say:

" 'Latinos welcome prople in a very funny way. Oh, the smile is beeg but when they throw the rose, it's apt to be much harder than you might suppose.

" 'He was down here on the Pampas when they told him not to try any visit to the campus, but he's a very nervy guy. He has shown that he can handle any very touchy situation. Now he is the hero of the nation.' "

Nixon's impersonator then came on stage with a song saved from the original script about "When You Begin to Be In (the White House)." It was sung to the tune of "Begin the Beguine."

The words included: "My Destiny's clear—up in the stars. The time's getting near—when people will choose and little I fear that maybe I'll lose for I have begun to be in."

Another skit took cognizance of the attention focused on Nixon and the presidential ambitions of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass).

Kennedy's impersonator demanded "equal time in Venezuela."

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's recent visit to the Maine Chance reducing retreat of Elizabeth Arden came in for lampooning with the beautician introduced as "A Republican woman's best friend."

The first lady was depicted initially with her face covered by a mud pack and singing, "I hate for Ike to see me like this—he never did approve of mud-slinging" and with Miss Arden replying:

"But he doesn't mind when someone else does it."

Authentic bright orange space suits and helmets adorned impersonators of the three military services who sang: "Hush little missile, don't you cry, you'll be a satellite by and by."

Big Mental Hospitals Come Under Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The New York State and Delaware mental health administrators today disputed a call by Dr. Harry C. Solomon, the American Psychiatric Assn.'s retiring president, for liquidation of large state mental hospitals as "bankrupt beyond remedy."

Dr. Paul Hoch of Albany, New York's commissioner of mental health, said he concurred with the goal of eliminating the big mental hospital. But he disagreed with what he said was Dr. Solomon's implication that attainment of the goal was assured.

Dr. M. A. Tarumianz, chief psychiatrist of Delaware, who drafted the APA's standards for inspecting and rating mental hospitals, declared not even the worst of state hospitals was bankrupt in therapy achievements. He said great progress had been made in state hospitals all across the country in recent years.

In his presidential address Monday Dr. Solomon, of Boston, had urged that large state hospitals be liquidated "as rapidly as more effective facilities could replace them." Dr. Solomon is superintendent of the Massachusetts Mental Health Center and emeritus professor of psychiatry at Harvard.
