

Gordon Quits Bengals; Might Manage KC

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics said today they would talk with Joe Gordon about becoming manager of the club. General Manager Parke Carroll said he intended to talk with Gordon during the World Series, which opens at Pittsburgh Wednesday.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRE
DETROIT—Joe Gordon, an old figure in controversial managerial changes, today quit as Detroit

Tiger manager amid reports he would become manager of the Kansas City Athletics. A few hours later, the Athletics announced that Bob Elliott and his coaching staff would not be retained for the 1961 season. Tiger President Bill DeWitt said Gordon called him this morning and asked that he be released from his 1961 contract. DeWitt said he understood Gordon was taking the managerial job with the Athletics and that a prospective buyer of the Kansas City club had talked to Gordon. "The Kansas City group, now negotiating for the purchase of the club will be consulted about plans for next season," Kansas City General Manager Parke Carroll said in a statement. "Bob and his crew worked under unusual and difficult circumstances. Fired along with Elliott were coaches Don Heffner, Walker Cooper and Fred Fitzsimmons. Reached in Canton, Ohio, where he was visiting friends, Gordon told a newsman: "I have resigned at Detroit and am seeking employment. No one has talked to me about Kansas City. If there are reports that I have been hired at Kansas City, I deny them. "I'm going to the World Series at Pittsburgh and probably won't give much thought to a job for several days."

Gordon evaded newsmen in Detroit by ducking out of a back door of his apartment hotel. A Detroit front office official quoted Gordon as saying "I don't know what I'm going to do right now. I've got to think it over." In Kansas City, Parke Carroll, general manager of the Athletics, said: "I don't know anything about it. Gordon might have been approached by someone who planned to buy the ball club."

"Right now the Athletics wouldn't sign anyone without consulting the group who planned to buy the club." The Athletics are for sale, after the death last spring of Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier who owned a majority of the stock. His estate has announced it plans to dispose of his holdings. Asked if the statement by Gordon meant the sale of the club had been consummated, Carroll said: "I haven't heard of it if it has." The Tigers wound up the season with a 9-1 loss to Kansas City Sunday that gave them their poorest record since 1954. Their season record was 71-85. Gordon, who took over the Tigers on Aug. 5, had directed the club to 25 victories and 31 defeats. * * *

In a switch that sent former Tiger pilot Jimmy Dykes to the Indians, Dykes has already signed for 1961 with Cleveland. DeWitt said that Gordon had been "heated" about signing with the Tigers for 1961 when he first came here and that Gordon felt he should take the job "on a trial basis" for the remainder of the season. However, he had been signed (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

NY Police Probe Bomb Explosion—Scares Multiply

FROM OUR NEWS WIRE
NEW YORK—Police today examined the debris of a home-made bomb that exploded in the middle of Times Square at the crowded peak of a sunny Sunday afternoon, injuring seven persons, including two children. There were few clues, however, to tell authorities whether the explosion was the work of another "mad bomber" or was connected with the unpopular visits of Communist heads of state including Russia's Nikita Khrushchev. Tense police earlier in the day checked out two other bomb scares, one a hand grenade in Central Park where Janos Kadar, first secretary of the Hungarian Communist Party was scheduled to walk, and a reported threat in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where many of the diplomats are staying. The Times Square blast went off in a marble-walled bed of azalea plants in cement-covered Father Duffy Square. It shattered a window in a nearby restaurant, knocked down eight-seaters, frightened residents, threw dirt and twigs at cars. The sound of the blast could be heard half a mile away. EARTH COVERS 2 CARS—Two taxicabs parked nearby were covered with earth. The drivers were away eating. A telephone warning that a bomb would explode in the Waldorf-Astoria led to a search of many of the hotel's 2,500 rooms. Police suspected a package delivered Saturday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. When it was opened they found an apple pie which had been sent to the Soviet leader by a Texas woman. * * *

The store reopened at noon today. White said that the blast "fired in" with a string of trash-can fires set in the downtown area recently, sometimes at night, sometimes during the day. "We do not know if there was a deliberate attempt to set the store off, or just the rubbish," said White. "But the blast could have had extremely serious consequences." A label of arson was placed on the fire in a complaint filed with police today by Fire Marshal Charles Metz, who said his investigation agreed with White's conclusions. Pontiac detectives were assigned to the investigation. Metz said fires have been set in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Blame Firebug in Waite's Blaze
Inspectors Link It With Series of Outbreaks in Downtown Trash Cans
A dangerous firebug, prowling downtown Pontiac at night but striking sometimes in broad daylight, was indicated today in the investigation into the blaze that firemen nipped just in time at Waite's Department Store Friday night. The fire was "definitely incendiary," pronounced Fire Chief James White, meaning that it was deliberately set. In this case, it was card and boxes left overnight at the rear of the large retail establishment. The store reopened at noon today. White said that the blast "fired in" with a string of trash-can fires set in the downtown area recently, sometimes at night, sometimes during the day. "We do not know if there was a deliberate attempt to set the store off, or just the rubbish," said White. "But the blast could have had extremely serious consequences." 'Fair and Cool' Tonight's Outlook for Pontiac Area

Fair and cool weather is in store for tonight with a low of 43 expected. Tuesday will be partly cloudy but somewhat warmer with a high of 70. Morning southerly winds at 4 miles per hour will become northwesterly 8 to 15 miles tonight. Rainfall from 10 a.m. Saturday to 10 a.m. this morning registered .2 of an inch. The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. At 2 p.m. the reading was 60.

K Pounds Away for Dag to Quit

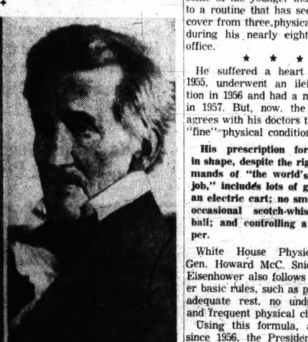

RANOS DOWN HARD AGAIN — Premier Nikita Khrushchev of Russia addresses the U.N. General Assembly today. He threatened to ignore U.N. decisions unless changes are made in its structure. He also challenged U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to quit his post.

Big States Rated Tossups Nixon, Kennedy Running Even

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neither Richard M. Nixon nor John F. Kennedy now has a substantial lead in the race for president. Experts rate the states with the big votes as tossups. At this stage, Nixon, the Republican candidate, apparently has more electoral votes in his pocket than Kennedy, the Democratic candidate. But Nixon's lead is slim and his total far from a majority. These are the conclusions that emerge from a survey of 50 states just completed by The Associated Press. To create its image of the election battle, the AP culled observations from its political writers, key party leaders, and veteran newspaper analysts. Various polls also were taken into account. The survey showed that Nixon seems to be leading in 22 states with 151 electoral votes. Kennedy seems to be leading in 14 states with 123 votes. The difference is only 38 votes, and neither man comes within 100 votes of the 269 votes needed to win the presidency. The survey rated six of the largest states—New York, 45, California, 32, Pennsylvania, 21, Illinois, 27, Texas, 24, and Michigan, 20—among the tossups, at least there was some indication Kennedy had an edge in Ohio and Texas. If either Kennedy or Nixon could take all or most of these 178 votes, he probably would win the election. The data were collected while observers were trying to weigh the effect of last Monday's television debate on the voters. Some sources said they thought Kennedy had gained ground because of it. There were some indications Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion was hurting him, particularly in the South, somewhat in California and Illinois, and increasing in Arizona. The issue seemed to be waning. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Eisenhower Is Oldest of All U.S. Presidents

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dwight David Eisenhower today became the oldest president in U.S. history. Just 11 days short of his 70th birthday, President Eisenhower eclipsed the age-in-office record held by another former military commander, President Andrew Jackson. "Old Hickory" was 69 years, 11 months and 19 days old when he left the White House shortly after noon on March 4, 1837. "Ike" will be 70 on Oct. 14. Eisenhower passed the milestone in robust health. He is still able to put in a 12-hour day that fires some of his younger aides, thanks to a routine that has seen him recover from three physical setbacks during his nearly eight years in office. He suffered a heart attack in 1955, underwent an ileitis operation in 1956 and had a mild stroke in 1957. But, now, the President agrees with his doctors that he is in "fine" physical condition. His prescription for keeping in shape, despite the rigorous demands of "the world's toughest job," includes lots of golf, using an electric cart; no smoking; an occasional scotch-whisky highball; and confining a hot temper. White House Physician Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snider says Eisenhower also follows a few other basic rules, such as proper diet, adequate rest, no undue fatigue, and frequent physical check-ups. Using this formula, he has since 1956, the President recently passed a head-to-toe examination by Army doctors. They reported he was in excellent condition after the mid-September checkup.

But Nehru Slaps Back Defending U.N. Structure

Nikita Is Quite Calm Today as He Threatens to Go His Own Way
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld today defied a challenge by Nikita Khrushchev that he resign. He said he would "remain in my post during the term of my office" as long as the organization wishes him to do so. UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Premier Khrushchev today challenged Dag Hammarskjöld to resign as U.N. secretary-general. However, the Soviet leader's drive to change the structure of the world organization received a powerful blow from India's Prime Minister Nehru. Khrushchev threatened to ignore U.N. decisions unless the organization's structure was changed and the secretary-general's job abolished. At the same time he dashed Nehru's hopes for a new Khrushchev-Eisenhower summit meeting. Nehru attempted in his policy speech to the 28-nation assembly to revive these hopes. He also lent his powerful voice to defense of the present U.N. structure. He conceded there might be some defects in the U.N. setup, but added: "Even so, we wish to proceed slowly and with agreement, and not to press for any change which would result in the amendment of the Charter and the raising of heated controversies." The change Khrushchev sought was a three-man, veto-wielding executive instead of a secretary-general who would require a Charter amendment. Thus, in effect, the Indian prime minister, a highly influential leader of the neutrals, was opposing the Khrushchev proposal. Nehru also refused to be dismayed by the responses of both President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev to the proposal of five neutral nations that they meet face to face again. Khrushchev, in a singularly restrained delivery of a prepared speech to the assembly today, did not mention the neutralist resolution, but said he might sit down indefinitely without results unless there was a desire on the part of Eisenhower "to come to agreement." Nehru said President Eisenhower had not entirely ruled out a meeting. "The door is still open for consideration, and the President has expressed his deep anxiety to help in the lessening of international tensions," Nehru said. The Indian leader expressed complete agreement with President Eisenhower. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Enclosing Courthouse

Miracle Mile Contest Champ Wins Fastest-Gun Title

Fastest gun in the territory to-day is 11-year-old Jack Spitz of 1875 Hood St., Bloomfield Township.

He proved his prowess with a "fast-shooter" Saturday afternoon when he outdrew 229 other contestants in the fast-gun contest at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The event culminated Frontier Days which drew an estimated 3,000 children and their parents for a multi-fracture stage-coach race and to see Comanche, the wildest horse of the West.

The fast-gun champ won an engraved trophy, a time-holster set of cap guns with battery timers so he will always know how fast his draw is, and a membership in the Fast Gun Club of America.

Ramsey Danny Wall, 10, of 1311 Rotel Road, also won a cap gun set and membership in the club.

Miracle Mile manager Gary Graham deemed the Frontier Days a tremendous success, "producing a very good sales increase" during the four days.

Pontiac Doctors Drop Appeal to Supreme Court

Three doctors who once sought unrestricted surgical privileges at Pontiac General Hospital have decided to drop their appeal of a lawsuit to the State Supreme Court.

Their attorney, David C. Herter said he had been requested by Drs. Roy V. Cooley Jr., Douglas A. Haddock and Moulton Han to pursue the appeal which was ready to be heard before the high court during the term starting tomorrow.

Five city train cars since Sept. 19. The train cars are those that sit in the open on downtown sidewalks for use by passersby.

There were three afternoon train cars since about Sept. 26, near the corner of Pike and Perry Streets, adjacent to the city's bus stops and Saginaw and Auburn Avenue.

The first blaze Sept. 19 was in the afternoon at Huron and Saginaw.

Another was at 2:30 a.m. Sept. 20 on West Huron.

Less than two hours before the 11:45 p.m. Waite's fire, firemen extinguished a train car blaze on the west side of North Saginaw Street across from St. Clement's.

It is highly improbable that all these fires could have been accidental, from carelessly discarded cigarette butts, for instance," said investigators.

Investigators also but ruled out child as the arsonist because of the late hour of the three nighttime fires.

White said there was no official estimate of the Waite's damage. The fire destroyed about 100,000 to $400,000 of the rear of the building and $8,000 in smoke damage to stock.

"It will be up to insurance adjustors to make the final estimate," said White.

Metz said that the cardboard boxes had been piled, in accordance with custom at the store on a rear loading dock facing the alley for pickup in the morning.

He said the boxes were not packed in the store and concluded that some time and effort had been spent in stacking them.

"The fire had spread through a wooden rear and into the store's first-floor shop department by the time firemen arrived.

Chauhan said at 11:47 p.m. telephone call from a so-called unidentified woman, firemen reached the blaze only minutes after it began. But smoke and already filtered through much of the store.

Just a Pleasant Fall Day All Across Country

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a pleasant fall day in the Northeast and Midwest.

There were a few wet spots during the night and in the chilly side in some northern areas. Scattered showers were indicated in a few spots.

Temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s across most of the northern third of the country from the Pacific Northwest to Maine. There were some 30-degree readings in western Montana, the eastern Dakotas and northern Minnesota. It was 25 above at Fraser, Colo.

The southern third of the country was warmer with temperatures in the 50-70 range, with the 80s in the Southwest desert region.

He's Young but Fearless

Will Mobutu Be Hero of Congo?

LOEPODVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Nobody would be likely to pick Col. Joseph Mobutu out of a crowd to lead a revolution or pacify an angry and divided army.

Only 30 years old, the 150-pound Congolese army chief of staff looks like a drawing board planter, not a man of action.

Two weeks ago he pushed his way through a crowd of sweating correspondents in the bare salon of Leopoldville's Hotel Regina and announce he was taking over the Congo until the end of the year. The immediate reaction was outright disbelief.

When he followed this up with the announcement that the Soviets and Czechs had 48 hours to leave the country, there were gasps all over the room. They were followed by cheers from curious Belgians who had forced their way into the conference room.

The Soviet departure two days later, with their propaganda planes and their Czech partners probably is the greatest tribute to the Congo's military dictator has received in his short career.

Another part of Mobutu's bold seizure of power was to "neutralize" (Advertisement)

COL. JOSEPH MOBUTU

President Joseph Kasavubu and the former Premier Patrice Lumumba and close down Parliament.

Most important of all, Mobutu has managed to keep a tight grip on the Congo's volatile 25,000-man army. Army units no longer rule the city, striking a blow for Lumumba one day and one for Kasavubu the next.

Mobutu has escaped at least two attempts at assassination. He is guarded by his Congolese troops even more closely than the United Nations troops guard Kasavubu and Lumumba.

Col. Mobutu calls himself "a Christian above all" and friends say he is indeed a deeply religious man.

Mobutu seems to foreigners a "good brain," although perhaps somewhat naive. He went to school in the Equator city of Congo-Brazzaville and then took a course at the Institute of Social Studies in Brussels.

He served seven years in the old Force Publique or colonial army, being assigned to the operations section of the general staff in Leopoldville for a time.

He entered journalism, a job for the elite here, while still in the army and wound up as editor of a fortnightly news magazine Actuaire Africaine.

Mobutu's friends say he thirsts for knowledge and is a real Congo patriot and idealist. They believe him when he says he has no political ambitions, on just wants to see an end to political discord and a beginning to the task of constructing a nation.

In the frequent clashes and disagreements involving the army and the United Nations forces, Mobutu has done the most to smooth the way for the United Nations.

If he can keep the army paid, escape assassination and resolve the bitter struggle between Kasavubu and Lumumba, he may yet emerge as the hero of Congolese independence.

Orchestra Starts Season

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The world-renowned Philadelphia Orchestra opened its 61st season Friday in an afternoon concert which Mobutu's friends say he thirsts for knowledge and is a real Congo patriot and idealist. They believe him when he says he has no political ambitions, on just wants to see an end to political discord and a beginning to the task of constructing a nation.

Defense Secretary Calls Labor Confab

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. has invited AFL-CIO President George Meany and eight other labor leaders to meet with him Friday and discuss missile base construction.

Gates announced the meeting would be a follow-up to one he held recently with contractors holding bases for the nation's intercontinental ballistic missiles.

There have been delays recently in the missile base program, and named acting postmaster at Charlotte the defense chief arranged the meetings in an effort to get it back on schedule.

Two Counties Planning for New Traffic Signs

LANSING (UPI)—Bids will be opened Oct. 19 on a contract for traffic signs on 27 miles of Interstate 94 in Kalamazoo and Van Buren counties, the Highway Department said.

The contract called for all-route markers, distance and directional signs in Kalamazoo County and on a portion in Van Buren County.

Postmaster at Charlotte

CHARLOTTE (UPI)—Elmer Conley, 38, of Charlotte, has been named acting postmaster at Charlotte to fill the vacancy created by the Sept. 18 death of O. Edward Packard.

There'd Be Plenty of Pat Answers

First Ladylike Debate Would Be a Wow

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—As a breathless world now knows, prospective first lady Pat Nixon has reluctantly expressed a willingness to debate prospective first lady Jacqueline Kennedy on "anything of great value" except clothes.

We have therefore turned up the mikes, poured on the klieg lights, and made with an imaginatively debate.

Moderator: Mrs. Kennedy has won the toss and will speak first.

Mrs. Kennedy: Really, I don't know what the fuss is about. I was quietly minding my own business and moving buttons over on my maternity dresses—which I'll bet cost less than Mrs. Nixon's ball gowns—when all at once there's a great to-do and I'm on television. What am I supposed to talk about?

Moderator: Your preliminary time is up. Now for Mrs. Nixon's opening statement.

Mrs. Nixon: This talk about clothes simply will not do. I make it a firm policy never to discuss what Mrs. Kennedy says or wears. I insist that we talk about issues, or not at all. The issue is peace, and peace is so important that . . .

Moderator: Time's up. And now for the questions.

Miss Deakes: I would like to ask Mrs. Kennedy what she considers the proper role for a first lady.

Mrs. K: Really, it would be presumptuous of me to say. If I said what I thought, people would think that I was visualizing myself in that role, and that would be terribly gauche of me.

Mrs. N: No comment.

Miss Glib: My question is addressed to Mrs. Nixon. If peace is the greatest issue, how do you think your husband would go about accomplishing it?

Mrs. N: You girls surely know that I leave all political questions to Dick. Peace is not political, but getting peace might be, so I will have no comment on that, except to say that peace is perfectly wonderful.

Mrs. K: Peace is important, to be sure, but I have always been particularly interested in things like education and foreign languages. I just happen to speak four languages, but that has nothing to do with the fact that education and languages are very important in this space age, when we're so far behind Russia in the . . .

Mrs. N: Who says we're behind Russia in the . . .

Moderator: Tut-tut. You must save any further discussion of that subject for the rebuttal. Next question?

Miss Snoops: Mrs. Kennedy, why do you think your husband would make a better president than Mr. Nixon?

Mrs. K: Well, I didn't exactly say that, because it might sound presumptuous, but I think Jack would make a perfectly dharveious Chief Executive, because he has such a broad attitude on things. You may not know it, but he was traveling abroad before anyone had ever heard of Mr. Nixon.

Moderator: You've used up your time on that subject. Does Mrs. Nixon have anything to say on it?

Mrs. Nixon: It isn't when you go abroad, it's how, and my husband went as the personal representative of the President. We were greeted by all the top leaders, not to mention the people throwing stones, and I slipped out and talked to the people on the streets, so that we know both sides of the problem.

Moderator: Very good, ladies, and now for your summation.

Mrs. Kennedy: I just want you to know how much I will appreciate it if you will vote for Jack. His mother, father, two brothers, four sisters, three brothers-in-law and two sisters-in-law will be deeply indebted to you, too, and it would be nice for little Caroline to have a daddy who stays home nights in the White House, instead of riding planes all over the country. Adios, adios, and wiederehen.

Mrs. Nixon: I only buy good American clothes, and I only try to speak our good American language, but I am sure you understand me when I urge you to think of peace. If you do that, you can not fail to vote for . . .

Moderator: You have heard another in our historic debates. Thanks for listening.

British Labor Party
Opens Rough Confab

SCARBOROUGH, England (UPI)—The Labor Party opened its annual conference today under the cloud of a national defense policy battle that has split the party into warring factions.

On one side is party leader Hugh Gaitskell and his policy—at present backed officially by the party—to reliance on NATO and a British nuclear deterrent.

On the other is Frank Cousins, powerful leader of the Transport and General Workers' Union, who wants Britain to abandon its nuclear arms, unilaterally if necessary.

The result could seriously dam-

A NEW INSPIRATION FOR THE MOTORING WORLD

You are looking at the completely new Cadillac for 1961—a motor car that will inspire the automotive world for years to come.

While unmistakably Cadillac in stature and in majesty, it represents a totally new concept in fine car design and engineering.

Its graceful silhouette reveals less over-all length and increased head room. Its delicately formed roof lines provide an almost uninterrupted panorama of vision—while a crisp, new sculptured design of front, rear and sides confers a degree of distinction that is entirely new to motoring.

Beneath this visual elegance resides a host of dramatic engineering advances—an even quieter and smoother-performing engine . . . an entirely new front suspension system . . . a lubrication-free chassis . . . improved steering and braking . . . and increased maneuverability and handling ease.

This new world of motoring pleasure has been interpreted in eleven individual body styles—each with an exceptionally wide selection of beautifully crafted and appointed interiors . . . and an unusually generous choice of accessories, fabrics and colors.

Your dealer will be proud and privileged to introduce you to the entirely new 1961 Cadillac at any time. We sincerely believe that you will find it an inspiration in motor car quality and goodness.

Red China Not Likely to Be Admitted to U.N.

India has announced that it would not ask for admission of Red China to the United Nations at this session as the New Delhi governor had done so often in the past. Although still maintaining that the Republic of China should be admitted, India is passing up the sponsor's role as a result of its own border troubles with the Reds and the rape of Tibet.

However, despite the much talked about differences between Communist China and the Soviet Union, Russia's foreign minister, ANDREI GROMYKO has formally requested the General Assembly to consider the question of China's admission. Premier KHRUSHCHEV will probably argue the case and it could then be referred to the Steering Committee where the United States would move to table the request.

The argument for admission is that Red China would be more manageable within the United Nations than outside. Our position is that the Republic of China was branded by the General Assembly on Feb. 1, 1951, as an aggressor nation in Korea and has not become a "peace-loving nation" within the terms of the U.N. Charter.

If the Chou En-lai regime could offer convincing proof of conversion to the ways of peace, it would gain the two-thirds vote needed for admission.

It just doesn't look like Red China's year.

Jet Age Permits More Extensive Campaigning

Traditionally, September is the time candidates for office spar around like a couple of boxers. Of course, this year the main interest rests in the nominees out for the presidency.

The top job in the country is at stake for the first time during the jet age. And as a result many changes are in the making.

Both Kennedy and Nixon have been trying out their arguments and polishing their techniques in an effort to fire up party workers. The pace they have been going at is something to behold. The geographical sweep made possible by the arrival of jets is brand new.

Just recently Nixon stumped during the week in fifteen states, bouncing from East Coast to West Coast and back and then almost as far out again and back again. The trip measured 9,000 miles. Sen. KENNEDY at the same time carried his pitch into nine states from California to New York and covered nearly as many miles.

What all this traveling means is that the nominees were able to get front page attention in several parts of the country every day. This is something new. In the past a candidate has had to be content with the attention only in the region through which he moved in a day and was relegated to the inside and back pages in the rest of the country.

The modern jet age has changed this. The whole country is fast becoming one big stumping ground used daily.

Balance of Power Held by Neutralist Countries

In showing United States willingness to contribute to United Nations programs of industrial, technical and educational aid to all new African nations regardless of their political complexion, President EISENHOWER has reversed our attitude toward neutralism.

In a June, 1950, speech in Ames, Iowa the late Secretary of State JOHN FOSTER DULLES described neutrality as a policy "which pretends that a nation can best gain safety by being indifferent to the fate of others... an immoral and shortsighted conception." Nevertheless, the U.S. now finds itself actively promoting the "third force" of neutralism which we could not contain if we wished.

The last few years have brought a greater understanding of the views and needs of neutral countries. In his address to the U.N. President EISENHOWER not only recognized but encouraged neutrality among the newly independent nations.

These and other neutrals are more concerned with their internal woes than with external alignments. To them the struggle is against poverty, ignorance and political unrest. However, whether they realize it or not, their political neutrality is sustained only by the Western military shield.

A neutral bloc which seems to be forming in the U.N. with our blessing, could be of advantage to both East and West as a go-between. The neutrals are coming to hold the balance in the world today.

David Lawrence Says:

'Neutrals' Anything but Neutral

WASHINGTON — "Neutrals" and "neutralists" were the words used in the press dispatches and headlines the other day to describe the chiefs of five governments who sponsored a resolution in the United Nations Assembly calling for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

But they really aren't "neutrals." Can there justifiably be a position of neutrality between a government of barbarism and a government of freedom and humaneness? Is any government entitled to call itself "neutral" when it side against the other and, in some instances, engages in an international game of extortion and blackmail?

The heads of the governments of Indonesia, Yugoslavia, Ghana and the United Arab Republic are impartial only in the sense that they have received or are demanding aid from both the Soviet Union and the West.

As for India, which is the fifth nation in the group, it has in the cabinet of the premier an influential minister of distinctly Communist sympathies who steers Mr. Nehru into moves such as he made the other day.

The whole group of five conferred at length with the Soviet premier and then issued the resolution calling for the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting.

There is every evidence that the Soviet premier was using the group of five chiefs of state for his own propaganda purposes. The resolution was hardly a day old when the Soviet Union announced its demand for an "apology" from President Eisenhower for the U-2 flights.

The so-called "neutralist" group is constantly pressing for more money or economic aid from the United States. The argument usually made is that if America doesn't furnish the aid, they will have to turn to Moscow for it.

Expectedly Adlai Stevenson, who is expected to be secretary of state if Mr. Kennedy is elected president, is demanding, in effect, that President Eisenhower now back down and meet with Khrushchev. Stevenson said in a speech at Salt Lake City last Saturday:

"President Eisenhower has offered that he would do nothing to advance peace. But if he decides not to see Khrushchev, I hope he will have an explanation that will satisfy the neutrals."

But why must the United States forget the insults to its president and also ignore the Soviet refusal even to permit a U. N. investigation of the circumstances whereby an American airplane is shot down over the high seas and two survivors?

The Country Parson

Aside from the attempt to attach religious significance to tophi, the old timers of 1950-1959 are still mulling customers for laboratory measurements of the level of uric acid in the blood. There is always a certain amount of uric acid in the blood of a healthy individual, and the amount varies from day to day under varying conditions of diet, physical activity or physical inactivity. But the "scientific" charlatans, aware of popular ignorance of physiology, have a good deal of unnecessary or harmful fitting and medication of these perfectly normal changes in the level of uric acid in the blood. vivors of the crew are still held prisoner in the Soviet Union?

Why are the so-called "neutrals" to be "satisfied" only by the sacrifice of America's self-respect?

Just 24 hours before President Sukarno of Indonesia was introducing the so-called "neutralist" resolution in the United Nations, a Reuters News Service dispatch from Indonesia was coming over the wires as follows:

"An Indonesian military commander announced today that only newspapers supporting the government's political philosophy will be allowed to continue publication in Jakarta (the capital).

Dr. William Brady Says:

Both Doctors, Patients Gullible on Talk of Gout

A Brooklyn reader asks me to tell him how to keep from getting gout. I pass.

I have never seen a case of gout in hospital or private practice.

Yes, indeed, I have seen patients in hospital and private practice who told me they had gout.

And there are imposing chapters in medical textbooks describing gout and, at least in the soft-boiled, half-truths published in the 19th century, giving the signs and symptoms which warrant diagnosis of gout.

According to the eminent medical authorities of yesterday, gout was exclusively a rich man's ailment. Due to excessive consumption of red meat and total abstinence from honest work, that is, physical labor.

This way of life entitled the aristocrats or upper-class citizens, as distinguished from the riff-raff or day-laborers, to have very rich blood, blood which contained so much uric acid that the stuff, in some cases, sloped over and deposited in the joints masses of acid uric arate and uric acid crystals, called tophi.

Even up to the middle of this century the old timers have tried to clinch the diagnosis of gout on the finding of tophi.

There's no denying that tophi occur in the ligaments, on the margin of the ear, about the small joints of the hands. Sometimes the skin over them ulcerates and the little lumps are seen to be white chalky matter, mono-sodium urate (uric acid crystals).

The fault with this diagnosis of gout is that in most instances we find that people who have tophi haven't now and never have had an ailment answering the description of what the old timers called "gout."

Aside from the attempt to attach religious significance to tophi, the old timers of 1950-1959 are still mulling customers for laboratory measurements of the level of uric acid in the blood.

There is always a certain amount of uric acid in the blood of a healthy individual, and the amount varies from day to day under varying conditions of diet, physical activity or physical inactivity. "The government has confiscated eight printing plants in Jakarta, Bandung, Semarang, Surabaya and Makassar in the past week, causing the closure of 11 daily newspapers."

Yet it is the dictator of this kind of despotic and totalitarian government who stalks around in the United Nations Assembly as one of the sacrosanct "neutrals" in the so-called "free world!" (Copyright 1960)

'These Past Eight Years Have Been Best of All'

In 1932, I worked hard on the GOP elections and a good Democratic friend of mine said I'd be very sorry when I was laid off most of the next four years.

Well, it is eight years later now and I have bought two good used cars and hope to buy one of those compact models soon. We have new carpets all over our house and a TV set. When my son got married I helped send him and the girl on a nice wedding trip. The wife gave me a lift last Christmas out of her money and we are going to send the youngest to college next fall. I have a fair bank account and we add to it every other week.

Do you think I would trade eight years of this for Truman, Roosevelt or Kennedy? And probably another war to boot!

YMCA Push for Members Succeeds

The recent annual membership enrollment campaign of the Pontiac YMCA ended on a successful note, Maxwell H. Doerr, general campaign chairman, announced today.

During the 10-day membership drive which ended last week, 671 memberships were obtained. Of these, 132 were new.

The YMCA went over its quota of $24,000 in membership dues from the campaign. Final reports showed dues from the campaign coming to $24,008.

GE Strike Goes Into Work Day

6 Arrested for Assault in Pittsfield as Local Supervisors Clash

NEW YORK (AP) — Supervisors, employees and production workers clashed at plants in Massachusetts today as a nationwide strike against General Electric Co. entered its first working day.

Police arrested six persons in Pittsfield on assault and battery charges.

Pushing, shoving and other minor violence were reported in Lynn and Everett and at other GE plants in the state.

The strike was called Saturday by the International Electric Workers Union, but members of the union's largest local, No. 301 at Schenectady, N.Y., reported to work as usual today.

At Holland, Mich., more than 700 hourly rated GE workers were idle in the wake of the nationwide strike.

Company spokesmen at Holland estimated less than 10 per cent of the plant's employees, including nonunion and office personnel, appeared at their jobs today.

Zoning Hearing at Silver Beach Set 7 to 9 Tonight

A hearing on rezoning nine lots in the Silver Beach Subdivision from residential to commercial will be held from 7 to 9 at tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting. The subdivision is located near Lochaven and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Board members will consider and award bids on fleet vehicle insurance policies for township equipment. The bids were opened at last week's meeting.

Petitions for blacktopping Sylvan Shores Drive and Sedum Glen Courts have been filed, and the board will direct township engineers, Johnson & Anderson, to draw up construction plans and present estimated costs of the two projects.

Stabber Kills Three Women

Alabama Police Hunt for Barefoot Assassin; Hold Husband

ASHLAND, Okla. (AP) — The bodies of three women in a gospel-singing family lay in a morgue today while officers searched for a barefoot killer who stabbed them with a razor-sharp kitchen knife.

A 10-inch knife and bloody footprints leading out of the house gave investigators stronger clues.

The estranged husband of one victim was jailed for questioning, but insisted he knew nothing of the ghastly weekend killing of his wife, her mother and invalid grandmother. He was held without charge.

His wife, Mrs. John D. Martin, 31, had been stabbed 123 times and her throat slashed in what Sheriff Paul G. Leve said evidently was a savage struggle.

The body of Mrs. Martin's mother, Ethel Ogle, 63, lay face up on a bed. Her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed several times.

On another bed lay the grandmother, Everena Ogle, 82, stabbed 18 times. The sheriff said the grandmother, unable to walk, apparently managed to make only a feeble attempt to ward off the blows.

Public Safety Director Floyd Mann described the slaughter as the work of a "sadistic killer or one bent on revenge."

Martin, a neatly dressed farmer of about 40, told officers that when a neighbor notified him of the killings, he slipped his shoes, bathed and shaved, and drove to his mother-in-law's house. He was arrested while standing in the crowd outside.

Questioned by state investigators, Martin said he had been under treatment for a nervous disorder and at one time was given psychiatric treatment in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Birmingham.

Hussein Assails Soviet Policies

Young Jordanian King Attacks Communism in Address Before U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan declared today the Soviet Union has always tried to destroy the United Nations.

The young Jordanian monarch took the rostrum in the 58-nation General Assembly immediately after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

At the outset King Hussein said: "I want to make sure that there is no mistake where Jordan stands in the conflict of ideologies endangering the peace of the world."

He said he also wanted to lay down his country's attitude on the growing tension between Jordan and the United Arab Republic, the independence of Algeria, and the "still unsolved problems of Palestine."

In his attack on communism and the Soviet Union the young king declared:

"On almost every vital issue Nations are offered a choice, becoming part of the Soviet empire subservient to the dictates of Moscow, or to remain free nations."

"It is a choice and it is for every nation to decide."

He said his Arab kingdom had made its choice, "and I am here to reaffirm we reject communism."

Chevy Unveils Details About New Truck Line

DETROIT (UPI)—Chevrolet has revealed details of its new series of short wheelbase, rear-wheel-drive trucks.

The new line, called the Corvair 25, consists of a panel delivery and two pickup models. It is designed for maximum utility of cargo space and load capacity in relation to overall dimension and weight.

With a 95-inch wheelbase and overall length of less than 15 feet, all models have a short turning radius and high maneuverability. One of the pickup models has a unique swing-down, side-loading ramp. For economy of operation, the new series is powered by the 80 horsepower air-cooled Corvair engine in the rear.

Name Local Teacher to National Group

A Waterford Township high school teacher, Miss Ruth L. Chamberlin, has been named to a study committee of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE), a professional organization of some 60,000 members and subscribers at all school levels.

She will serve on the committee on English for the general student, which will study programs in language and literature needed by students who are not in college preparatory programs.

The council's goal is to increase the effectiveness of English teaching in the nation's schools.

Mayfield Twp. Man Killed in Car Mishap

A 38-year-old Mayfield Township man was killed within a few blocks of his home Saturday evening when his car left the road, plunged into a ditch and flipped over.

The victim was Kenneth R. Cook, 38, of 482 Plumb Creek Road, who was married and the father of two children.

Cook apparently lost control of his car when he attempted to make a turn at Plumb Creek and Valentine roads, Lapeer County sheriff's deputies reported today.

He was alone in the car, police said.

Calls Nixon Another Dewey

Kennedy Slugs On With New Strategy

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, an oratorical boxer who has suddenly developed into a slugger, tore into Richard M. Nixon again today.

"He said the vice president is talking nonsense when he says Republicans and Democrats have similar goals for this country," Kennedy contended that only a Democrat can lead this country forward.

Kennedy's direct attack on his Republican opponent seems to be a part of a new strategy.

Throughout a non-stop weekend Kennedy flailed away at Nixon. The audiences seemed to love it. Especially one member of his St. Louis audience Sunday night, champion word slinger Harry S. Truman.

The former president enjoyed particularly Kennedy's remark that he noticed Nixon recently called him "another Truman."

"I regard that as a great compliment," Kennedy said. "But observing the content of Mr. Nixon's campaign, I have no hesitation in returning the compliment. I consider him another Dewey."

Chiang Kai-shek Foe on Trial for Sedition

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Lei Chen, leader of an embryonic party opposed to Chiang Kai-shek, went on trial today before a military court on sedition charges.

Lei, a former cabinet minister and publisher of the semi-monthly magazine "Free China," was accused of attempting to incite riots and rebellion and of knowingly providing cover for a Communist agent.

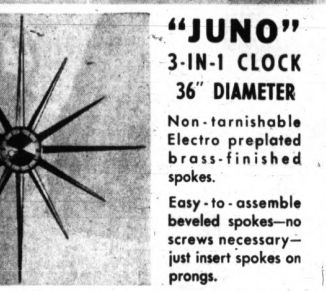

The government denied charges by Lei and other leaders of his China Democratic party that the action against him was politically motivated.

Nikita May Be Getting Ready to Laugh at U.N. Over Berlin

BY PHIL NEWCOM
UPI Foreign Editor

West Germans think they have the answer to Nikita Khrushchev's attacks on United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and his demands for reorganization of the U.N. secretariat.

"They believe his aim is to prepare the ground for rejection of U.N. intervention if the Berlin crisis gets hot."

U.N. effectiveness in the Congo spoiled Khrushchev's plans there and the Germans believe he wants to take no chances that the same thing happens to him in Germany where his prestige stakes would be higher.

Another baby airlift:
West Germans expect the Communist to step up their campaign against free West Berlin on Oct. 15 in connection with the scheduled meeting of West German veterans' organizations.

The West Berliners expect the Communists to close off Berlin travel to persons attending the meeting, just as they did recently against a meeting of persons expelled from Germany's former Eastern territories. On that occasion, the West instituted a "baby airlift" circumventing the Communist ban on rail and road travel.

African turmoil:
When Britain granted independence to Africa's most populous country, Nigeria, it left tribal and cultural divisions as deep as those in the Congo — but with nothing resembling the Congo mess.

The Nigerians are better educated and more accustomed to government. But, as in the Congo, one region is rich and populous enough to overrule the other two.

In the Congo, it is secessionist Katanga.

In Nigeria it is the rich and feudal north, composing one of Nigeria's three regions.

In addition, tribal rivalries have resulted in demands that the three existing regions be broken into six smaller ones. Rioting and violent deaths already have resulted. More are likely.

The bomb:
British genius for compromise is expected to show at its best in this week's Labor party conference at Scarborough, Yorkshire.

The problem will be whether to support the defense policy of party leader Hugh Gaitskill, which depends on the nuclear deterrent and the Western alliance, or to go with that of Frank Cousins, a powerful trade union leader who wants Britain to abandon nuclear weapons.

Andrew Carnegie gave $800 in 1900 to establish the first band at Pennsylvania State University.

Dem Speakers Working Michigan All Week Long

By United Press International
Democrats move into Michigan in force during the next few days to campaign for presidential nominee John F. Kennedy.

Five of Kennedy's U.S. Senate colleagues will visit the state in the next eight days as will one of Kennedy's sisters and the eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The parade of Democrats starts today when Rep. James Roosevelt of California visits Mount Clemens, Roseville and East Detroit in a drive for voter registration.

Roosevelt will attend a noon luncheon in Detroit, sponsored by Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson, before going to Macomb County—the first stop on Vice President Richard M. Nixon's recent campaign trip to Michigan.

Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Peter Lawford, will attend a reception at the University of Michigan Tuesday afternoon and then travel to Detroit for another reception in the evening.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota will address an 18th Congressional District dinner in Pontiac Thursday and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, vice presidential nominee on the losing 1956 Democratic ticket, will be in Flint the same day for a luncheon sponsored by the Genesee County Democratic Committee.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who fought unsuccessfully for the presidential nomination at Los Angeles in July, will speak in Detroit Saturday at a birthday party for Sen. Pat McNamara, Michigan's senior senator who is seeking reelection.

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine will speak Sunday at the Pulaski Day observance in Detroit and Sen. Frank Church, the Democratic National Convention keynote from Idaho, will be at Midland a week from today for a 19th Congressional District dinner.

Michigan's gubernatorial candidates, Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and Republican Paul D. Bagwell, switched campaign grounds.

Swainson wound up a four-day tour of the Upper Peninsula Saturday and Bagwell moved north of the Straits of Mackinac for a three-day swing through Sault Ste. Marie, Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Houghton, Hancock, Crystal Falls, Iron River, Stambaugh and Caspian.

Find Indian Log Canoe

CRIVITZ, Wis. (AP)—A 15-foot hollowed-out log, identified as an Indian canoe about 200 years old, was pulled from a marsh near here by Lloyd Randall of Crivitz and Raymond Letke of Harvey, Ill.

CHILD STAR GROWS UP — Gigi Perreau, 19, a child movie star of the early 1950s, gets a squeeze from her husband, Emilie Frank Gallo, 35, a razor company executive, after their marriage in St. Victor's Roman Catholic Church in Hollywood Saturday. The marriage was the first for both.

How the unique advantages of life insurance help safeguard all of them ...
bringing peace of mind at the stroke of a pen

1 HIS FAMILY'S PROTECTION.
With life insurance, you can immediately guarantee your family an amount of money far greater than you could possibly save in many years.

2 A SECURE HOME. When you own enough life insurance to take care of your unpaid mortgage, you know that your family can always have the home they love.

3 COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR HIS CHILDREN. By actually figuring how much it will cost to give your children a college education—you can make sure, through life insurance, that college expenses will be met.

4 THE JOB OF HIS CHOICE. Business and job decisions can be made with confidence when you own life insurance. You also have more freedom to seek new opportunity, for the life insurance owner knows in advance exactly how much money will be available at any given time.

5 RETIREMENT FREE OF ANXIETY. Your retirement years can be happier when you plan ahead and use life insurance to guarantee a steady income for you and your wife which will last for both your lifetimes.

Life insurance works most effectively for you when it is tailored to your family's current needs and plans. Helping you keep your life insurance up to date—and, thus, of maximum value to you—is one of the services your life insurance agent offers.

'Quick Draw' Injures Area Gunslinger

A Rochester man shot himself in the foot while practicing his "quick draw" yesterday afternoon in an Oakland Township field.

Charles E. Souders Jr., of 126 E. Third St., pulled the trigger too soon when he drew the .22-caliber revolver from his side holster. He was hit in the right foot.

Souders had gone to an open field at Buhl and Lake George roads to practice his draw. A friend who had accompanied him took Souders home where he was treated by a physician. The wound was not serious.

Police Receive Details About the Items Stolen

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — The following report turned up on the books at the State Police office here recently:

"Alfred F. Weingath came to the station to report the following items were stolen from his home: One outboard, value $30; one door to outboard, value $50."

Thomas Jefferson loved music; spent much of his idle time playing the fiddle.

Drownings Drop to 2

16 Die on Michigan Roads as Danger Season Begins

By The Associated Press
As chill weather and short days replace summer's sun, the drowning toll in Michigan falls. But traffic deaths usually go up.

This weekend 16 died in traffic and only two drowning deaths were reported to the Associated Press. Two died in an auto at a result of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Here are the deaths reported to the Associated Press:

TRAFFIC

Richard Henry, 23, of Detroit, died Sunday when an auto hit a tree in Detroit.

Johanna Imboden, 18, of Owasco, was killed Saturday when her car went out of control and crashed into a pole in Owasco.

Peter Kiddon, 47, and his wife Audrey, 40, of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Zigmund Kowalski, 43, of Saginaw, were killed Saturday in a six-car accident on the Dixie Highway 17 miles south of Saginaw.

Leo F. Werner, 41, of Kalamazoo, died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night when the car in which he was riding was sideswiped by another auto on U.S. 131, 25 miles north of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Bernice Butcher, 78, of Jonesville, died Saturday in a car-truck collision at the U.S. 23 and 112 intersection, south of Ypsilanti.

Robert L. Grant, 12, of Buchanan, was struck and killed Saturday when he ran in front of a car in Buchanan Township in Berrien County.

Helen Gallande, 13, of Placemine, was killed Saturday in an auto-truck collision at an intersection six miles northwest of Bay City.

David Sullivan, 19, of Marlette, was injured fatally Sunday when he ran in which he was riding hit M-52 and struck a tree near Marlette in Sanilac County.

Alvin Curry, 20, of Inkster, died in a hospital Sunday morning, four hours after his car ran off the street and hit a mailbox and two trees in Wayne.

Gloria Reed, 20, of Wayne, was killed Sunday in a head-on auto collision in Nankin Township.

State Traffic Toll to Exceed 1959

Fatalities Expected to Climb Three to Five Per Cent

EAST LANSING (UPI)—An analysis of Michigan highway accident figures for 1960 indicates the state will finish the year with three per cent to five per cent more fatalities than in 1959, state police said.

At the same time, provisional death figures for September showed 111 dead, a drop of 44 or 29 per cent from last year, police said.

The provisional nine-month total for this year was 1,073, 3 per cent above the deaths for a comparable period in 1959, police said. Delayed reports of deaths were expected to increase totals for this year.

The reduction of traffic deaths for September was only the third month this year in which a reduction from the previous year was noted.

More complete figures for August of this year show it to be the first month with comparatively fewer accidents than the corresponding month of 1959.

The total of 13,155 accidents in August was 4 per cent less than August of the previous year, but deaths rose 16 per cent to 149.

Police said Michigan's cumulative traffic for the first eight months of 1960 showed 957 deaths, 25,967 injured in 132,150 accidents. The figures represented increases of 8 per cent, 43 per cent and 7 per cent, respectively, over 1959 figures.

China Makes 'Peace Noises'

Takes Amity, Friends Line With Neighbors
in Asia

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China held out olive branches of peace and friendship for its Asian neighbors today in an obvious maneuver to win votes for a seat in the United Nations.

The New China News Agency and Peiping Radio softened their attacks against the United States and even extended an invitation to Americans — except "imperialists" — to visit Communist China.

The toned-down propaganda complemented Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's efforts at the United Nations to depict Communist China as a great, peace-loving nation deserving of U.N. membership.

Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Chairman (president) Liu Shao-chi set the style change with statements on the signing Saturday of a boundary treaty with Burma.

They spoke loudly of "peaceful coexistence" among all nations and said Peiping wanted to establish "a boundary of peace and friendship with all neighboring countries."

Peiping newspapers as with one voice sang the praises of Communist China's "peaceful foreign policy."

In a comparatively mild poke at the United States, the paper Ta Kung Pao said "imperialists... viciously smeared China as bellows and seeking for expansion. The Sino-Burmese treaty now gives them a solid slap in the face."

The Queensboro Bridge, which opened in 1909 to connect the boroughs of Manhattan and Queens in New York City, was built at a cost of $18 million.

Supreme Court Starts on Big Docket Today

By PAUL M. YOST
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court reassembles today to begin a new term which could be one of the busiest and most difficult in the tribunal's long history.

By tradition, today's session was limited to brief opening formalities. After a week of conferences, the court will announce next Monday which of many new appeals it will hear, and then will start hearing cases already scheduled.

The justices face a docket crowded with appeals already numbering nearly 1,000. Veteran observers say this is an all-time high.

In its last term the court agreed to hear 100 appeals—another high—in the argument sessions beginning Oct. 10. Listening to these arguments could occupy the justices up to mid-march.

Included in the 100 appeals due for final decisions are cases in such sensitive areas as state birth control laws, Sunday blue laws, use of union dues for political purposes, refusal to serve a Negro passenger at a segregated bus terminal, restaurant, an jailing of a city's boundaries to eliminate Negro voters.

Once again the court tackles the constitutionality of a requirement that the Communist party must register with the government as a subversive organization dominated by the Soviet Union, and of a clause of the Smith Anti-Communist law making it a crime knowingly to belong to an organization that advocates violent overthrow of government.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months. Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

White Shareholders to Vote on Purchase

CLEVELAND (AP) — White Motor Co. shareholders will vote Oct. 31 on a contract to purchase fixed assets and certain inventories of the farm equipment division of Oliver Corp. of Chicago.

White stock, plus some long-term a final contract for the purchase here yesterday but did not disclose the price to be paid or the method of payment, which reportedly will involve issuance of some white stock, plus some long-term financing.

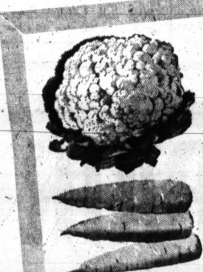

Oliver's farm-equipment business which will be a new field for White Motor, accounted for about $83 million of the Chicago concern's $114.6 million sales in 1959, its best year since 1955.

Says Dems Spend Much Despite Fund Lack Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican National Committee has accused the Democrats of trying to cover up heavy presidential campaign spending by spreading a "fake story" that their funds are running low.

"It is obvious the Democrats outspend the Republicans 2-1," the GOP committee said in its publication Battle Line.

Mrs. A. Floyd Blakeslee and Mrs. Victor E. Nelson will assist at the home of Mrs. Gelston V. Poole, while Mrs. William C. Rogers will have the help of Mrs. Robert J. Alton and Mrs. F. A. Voelker. Assisting Mrs. William D. Thomas Jr. will be Mrs. Russell H. Galbraith, Mrs. B. Jack Habel and Mrs. Robert G. Isgrig.

Also opening their homes are Mrs. Edmund S. Rogers and Mrs. J. Standish Sibley. Cochairman of arrangements for the parties are Mrs. Robert J. Alton and Mrs. John H. Patterson. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Donald D. Bos, Mrs. James C. Clarke, Mrs. Russell H. Galbraith, Mrs. Robert S. Isgrig and Mrs. Edmund S. Rogers.

Just Be Nice, Says Abby

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is my third year at the "U" and history is repeating itself. My mother wrote that her friend's daughter is a freshman here at the "U" and would I please

"be a big" to Little Patsy." Last year I was so busy being nice to "Little Sandy, Little Margie and Little Annie" that I couldn't get started with a girl of my own choice.

I just met "Little Patsy," to whom I am supposed to "be nice" this year. "Little Patsy" is bigger than I am. She is not my type and I don't care for her. Please say something in your column that I can cut out and send to my mother. And make it good. Thanks a bunch.

FALL GUY

DEAR FALL GUY: You can "be nice" to these newcomers without assuming the responsibility personally. Every college man has a few friends in assorted shapes and sizes who would welcome a blind date. Line up a Tall Paul, Fat Pat or Wide Clyde for "Little Patsy." One cat's arsenic is another cat's catnip.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and a pen pal out of the state asked me for my picture. I am not very pretty so I sent him a picture of my girl friend instead. When I told my mother, she hit the ceiling. She said I did wrong. Did I?

NOT PRETTY

DEAR NOT PRETTY: There is an old saying, "Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder." So even though YOU might think you are not pretty — someone else might think you are. Your pen pal obviously liked the personality expressed in your letters. Be yourself, honey. And don't ever be ashamed of your face.

We assured them they could call us collect and we would come and get them whenever and wherever they wished and there would be no scoldings. They've thanked us many times for the assurance this knowledge gave them — although they never had to use it.

JUST A MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain how the grandfather knew when he made out his will that the Omaha relative would not attend his funeral?

CONSTANT READER

DEAR READER: He didn't. The grandfather obviously stipulated when he made his will that only the relatives who attended his funeral would receive a sizable inheritance. Those who didn't attend would get one dollar.

Sorority Sets Get-Together on Business

The October business meeting of the Oakland County Kappa Delta Alumnae Association will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 11 in the home of Mrs. Gordon H. Fowle on Inveray Street, Birmingham.

This year's plans include the group's annual import-export fair Nov. 4. Proceeds from the project will benefit the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Cohostesses at the meeting will be Mrs. John Hume, Mary Elizabeth Brown and Mrs. Richard J. Meurer.

Alice Faye Reed Weds

Honeymoon in the East

Lighted candles and greens marked aisle pews in Central Methodist Church for the Saturday afternoon vows Alice Faye Reed of Sylvan Lake and James H. Patterson of Grand Rapids.

Dr. Milton H. Bank performed the candlelight nuptials before a background of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms in the presence of some 300 guests.

The Guy J. Reed of Lakeview Drive, Sylvan Lake, were hosts for a dinner-reception at Devon Gables following their daughter's nuptials.

Receiving with them were the James A. Pattersons of Grand Rapids, parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown of white silk chiffon velvet featured a straight front panel, wide back bustle bow and chapel train. Alenore lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, accented the V neckline.

Her elbow-length veil of pure silk French illusion, was attached to a Swedish crown of crystals. A white orchid centered the spray of white roses and stephanotis atop the bride's white Bible.

Mutation shades of satin in fall colors with nylon over-skirts and dipped hemlines were worn by attendants who held beige cymbidium orchids, daisy chrysanthemums and croton foliage.

Attending the bride were her sisters Doris Reed, maid of honor, wearing gold shade, with Janet in champagne and Irene in apricot. Also serving as bridesmaids were Beverly Barkeley, wearing cocoa brown and Kaye Newlin in beige.

Doreene Johnson of Sylvan Lake, in floor-length olive green silk brocade, carried rose petals in a wicker basket. John Jackman was best man for his nephew. Guests were seated by William Vansilver, David Bowen, and the bridegroom's cousin William Zeeher, all of Grand Rapids; and his uncle, John Rufus, of Livonia. John Patterson carried the rings at his brother's wedding.

For the New England honeymoon, the new Mrs. Patterson donned a wool knit suit of olive green trimmed with mink.

She attended Ferris Institute where her husband received his degree. The couple will live on Salmer Street.

The Joe W. Narrins of Bloomfield Hills announce the engagement of their daughter

Alumnae to Meet in Beverly Hills

Mrs. F. L. Lutz of Amherst Street, Beverly Hills, will be hostess at the October meeting of Group I, Delta Zeta Oakland County Alumnae Wednesday.

The 1 p.m. session will be followed by a discussion of the group's 1960 convention held in June at Pasadena, Calif.

MRS. RICHARD WOMACK

Study Club to Open Season at Church

The Parliamentary Study Club will open its season with luncheon Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. at the Bethany Baptist Church.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Marjorie Eicher, women's editor of The Pontiac Press.

On the esquire side were best man Ronald Schrubber, and Paul Beth at Dayton Plains; John C. Bailey and Michael Womack, ushers; and Daniel Bailey, ring bearer.

Upon a leaving for Niagara Falls and New York City, the bride changed to a sheer wool sheath dress of Dior blue worn with matching gloves and shoes. The couple will reside in Pontiac.

For the wedding and church reception, Mrs. Pawley chose powder blue peau de soie with Alenore lace Empire bodice and dome skirt. Her shoulder corsage was of white rosebuds.

Wearing a navy blue sheath dress, styled with wide cummerbund, Mrs. Womack carried white rosebuds.

Episcopal Women Set Dinner

The Episcopal Church Women of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church will stage their annual public smorgasbord Saturday at Waterford's Community Activities Building. Hours are from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Planning committee members Mrs. William Baer, Mrs. Donald Jacobs and Mrs. Ian Stevenson are completing arrangements for the event.

Assisting Mrs. Robert Brown in the dining room will be Mrs. Veroe Murray and Mrs. Lawrence Murray.

Additional committee chairmen are Mrs. Ross Luxon and Mrs. Richard McPartlin, kitchen, and Mrs. Harmon Gillen, decorations.

Mrs. Carl Hoffmann and Mrs. Donald Gork announce that tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from church guild members.

Pine Lake Art Club members are planning a membership tea Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. at the West Bloomfield Township Hall. Among artists who enjoy their membership in the group are (from left) Mrs.

Patrick Mason of Middle Belt Road, Mrs. Harold E. Schneider of Pine Ridge Road, Mrs. Robert Kring of Pine Heights Drive and painter Mrs. Russell Kock of Pine View Drive.

JEWELLED TOUCH

Jewels are making headlines this season. Whether your hair-style follows soft, cream-puff lines or is close to the head in a return to the marini '50's style, jewelry is providing the fashionable accent. Although today's pared down cloche coil is softer than those worn in the '20's, jewelry still benefits from the right touch of jewelry. The stars whose popularity was given a fresh boost by the recent royal wedding, is a decided favorite now.

Your favorite hairstyle may be lacking without a good permanent for body. Why not make an appointment now for a lovely, long-lasting wave.

All New Clothes Can Make Gal Self-Conscious

(NEA) — One of the biggest mistakes any teen-ager can make is to turn out for the Big Date in new dress, new shoes, new hairdo. For there's something about new clothes that make you feel self-conscious the first time you wear them. You're aware of them and you shouldn't be if you want to make a good impression.

By all means, buy new clothes for the big evening. But wear them one evening at home for the family. (After all, you can press the dress before you wear it again.) This is the best way to find out if the dress is really comfortable. If it isn't, there is still time for alterations before your date.

Perhaps the shoes you bought don't look quite right with the dress. Exchange them. Breaking in a new outfit this way has saved many a girl from disaster.

Guard Against Excess Fat

Baby Needn't Ruin Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Preventative rather than corrective measures are more effective when dealing with any defects in beauty. This is true whatever the cause, but today we want to discuss the "ravages" of pregnancy.

Take the bustline for instance. You can greatly minimize the tendency to droop, which often follows pregnancy and is especially prevalent when you are nursing your child. The bust becomes heavier during the months you are pregnant and, of course, much heavier during the nursing period.

If you will wear bras which are planned for this time, it will make a difference for the better.

These are designed to support the increased weight. Also lie down whenever you nurse your baby.

AVOID MARKS
Many women dislike the little white stretch marks which sometimes follow pregnancy. These usually are unnecessary. In order to avoid them do not gain weight yourself.

Naturally you will weigh more because of the baby and its surroundings, but you yourself do not have to add to the strain with fatty deposits.

It also is extremely helpful in avoiding these marks if you will men and thighs and busts with oil or melted cocoa butter. This should lubricate the skin of your abdomen and each night from the fourth month on.

A maternity girdle also will ease the strain. Most of the physicians I have asked feel that whether to wear a girdle or not is unimportant so far as health is concerned.

Whether you are more comfortable with one or without one is an individual choice. However, it may aid in sidestepping stretch marks.

Naturally, the condition of the abdominal muscles and other considerations play a part in the decision as to whether or not to wear a girdle during these nine months.

Also, you should be guided by your physician.

TAKE EXERCISES
You no longer can blame the loss of your figure on your child. There is no permanent widening of the bony structure. You will have some stretched abdominal muscles which can be snapped back into form with special exercises. Take them as soon as your doctor says you can. This is usually about six weeks after delivery.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Care During Pregnancy" and "Reconditioning After Child Birth" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 21. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hand Washing Is Serious Matter

Hand washing with soap and water immediately after each job is a good rule for do-it-yourself addicts who handle chemicals and substances which may cause skin irritation or infections.

Hunters, fishermen, gardeners, wood workers all need to take the hand washing routine seriously. This advice is from Dr. Donald T. Birmingham, Chief Dermatologist, Occupational Health Service, the United States Department of Public Health.

Whether or not you wear a maternity foundation garment during your pregnancy is an individual choice. You may be more comfortable in one and, too, it may aid in sidestepping stretch marks.

Wash Your Linens Before First Use

You launder your table linens after use, of course, but do you also wash them before you use them the first time?

Some manufacturers even launder their new cloths, napkins, and place mats before packaging them for sale — and feature this service in their ads.

A clean cloth, with handling soil and factory sizing washed away, is a safer and more sanitary setting for any meal.

Avoid All White

(NEA)—Any woman with white hair should be careful about buying a white hat unless it has dark veiling, such as navy, purple or black. All white will give her face a ghostly look.

Not Proper to Charge for Party

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother will soon celebrate her 80th birthday. She is very active in several charitable organizations. Hence she has many acquaintances who feel she is a remarkable individual, and I'm sure they would all enjoy joining in celebrating her birthday.

We would like to be able to have a luncheon or dinner in some private dining room in a hotel or restaurant where all friends and relatives could be invited. However, family finances are such that it is not possible.

It has been suggested by some that a testimonial type affair be arranged for which those interested could purchase tickets. The cost of the tickets would be sufficient to cover cost of the arrangements but no more.

Others have insisted that such would be very improper procedure and that it would be better not to hold such an event, but to limit it to a family gathering.

However, I feel a large gathering would be much more memorable for my mother with her interest in her many friends. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

Answer: The suggestion for the arrangement of a testimonial dinner for which tickets are to be sold, should not be made by the family of the person to be honored.

If none of your mother's charitable organizations wish to sponsor a testimonial celebration for her, it will be better to limit her birthday party to a family gathering.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper for a young woman who is marrying a widower with a child to wear bridal clothes and have a large church wedding and reception? The bride has never been married. The young woman in question is a very conservative person and does not want to do anything that might cause criticism.

Answer: The bride's clothes — and all of the details of the wedding — indicate her own status, not that of the bridegroom. In the situation, you describe the bride may, of course, wear bridal clothes, have as many attendants as she chooses and every other detail that is pleasing to her.

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper way to eat a sticky cinnamon bun at the breakfast table? I say it should be eaten with a knife and fork because it makes the hands sticky. My husband's answer to this is, "Whoever heard of eating a cinnamon bun with a knife and fork?"

Answer: I agree with your husband absolutely.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening a friend and I had dinner at one of the hotels here in town. For the first time we were served fresh pineapple cut into moon shaped quarters.

The edible part of the pineapple was cut into small triangular pieces and set back into the pineapple skin.

On top of one of the pieces of pineapple was a toothpick with a cherry on it.

I used a fork. I think he was wrong to use the toothpick. Will you please tell me which one of us was right?

Answer: You were right in using a fork. The toothpick was only to hold the cherry in place.

Make Up Your Own Mind About Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Usually, after an afternoon visit from her mother, Mrs. B. is left feeling nervous and depressed. For Mama makes no bones about calling 5-year-old Howie "spoiled."

And indeed he often makes a pest of himself. He'll interrupt Grandma's description of the new house his Uncle Henry has bought; keep running in to jump up and down on the furniture and demand cola instead of obediently drinking his orange juice.

As Mrs. B. tries to convince him of the superior vitamin value of the orange juice, she knows exactly what Mama is thinking: "Howie runs back to the yard, with his cola, she says:

"Stel, why do you let that child walk all over you? How can you ever expect obedience from him if you don't make him do what he's told now?"

That's when the feeling of helplessness engulfs Mrs. B. I wish she knew that it is exactly the same feeling that used to darken the world when she was a child and Mama would say, "Why did you stay at Miriam's house when you knew I wanted you to go to the store for me? How can you expect me to do things for you when you are unwilling to do anything for me?"

SHE FEELS BAD

Just as she used to feel herself a bad girl for forgetting Mama's errand, she now feels herself a bad girl for failing to give Mama a more "obedient" grandson.

It would be good to recognize the sameness in these feelings. They represent Mrs. B.'s continuing dependence on Mama's approval.

The bad thing about it is that it includes a continuing dependence on Mama's judgments.

Until she can outgrow it, it will distort her own judgments, of Howie's behavior. Actually, his preference for cokes over orange juice is not evidence of unregenerate, "spoiled" character at all. Howie just happens to like cokes better than orange juice.

But as Mama sees this taste of his as evidence of sinful defiance, Mrs. B.'s dependence forces her to see it as sinful, too. So she cannot cheerfully indulge it as an innocent taste but has to regard herself as a bad mother for indulging it.

When we cannot question other people's opinions of our children's behavior, we spend a lot of time being depressed.

Old Age Isn't Bad if You're Cheerful

By RUTH MILLETT

'Do you dread growing old? Maybe that's just because you are young and have a wrong idea of what it's like to be a member of the "older generation."

A psychologist told delegates to a recent American Psychological convention that he has found, through testing, that older people aren't nearly as unhappy as younger persons suppose they are.

It looks to me as though there is a real opportunity for older people to sell those who are dreading old age on the idea that it's not so bad after all.

Old age has its advantages and compensations. The older person may well be a lot happier than the person who is so fearful of old age that he is fighting to hold on to the youth that is slipping away.

The best selling method, of course, would be for our older citizens to concentrate a little more on "happy talk"—to stress the things that are all right with them, instead of the things that are wrong.

Why don't they brag a little more about their leisure, instead of acting as though it were something to be ashamed of? Why don't they talk more about what they are doing today and planning to do tomorrow, and less about the past?

Why don't they make a greater effort to enjoy each other's company, instead of being overly critical of each other?

Why aren't they as willing to do for each other and help each other out as they are to lend a helping hand to the younger generation?

All of those things would help to dispel the idea that old age is a time to be dreaded. And it would help to give the elderly more status.

There are many older citizens leading such interesting, happy lives that they are an inspiration to the rest of us.

But there are still too many who give the impression of not being as happy as they actually are, who seem to want sympathy more than admiration and respect, and who are reluctant to admit that they are actually leading comfortable, pleasant lives and that they are actually no more unhappy in old age than they were in youth or in the middle years.

Proxy Shower Honors GI Wife

Mrs. Alvah Clark who is in Wiesbaden, Germany, where her husband is stationed as an Army private first class, was honored at a stork shower by proxy Thursday evening.

Mrs. Elmer Hicks was hostess for the affair at the home of Mrs. Clark's mother Mrs. Alvin Graham of Michigan Avenue. Twenty-five guests brought gifts to the buffet luncheon.

Baths Were Rare in Medieval Times

Although the Emily Poets of the Middle Ages were a bit off-hand on the subject of bathing, they did have the good grace to advise hosts to make baths available to guests.

While daily bathing for the entire household was not considered necessary, etiquette experts strongly recommended that the family wash their hands, faces, and teeth every day.

Crime Baffles, Then Horrifies Scotland Yard

Englishman Monstrous Murderer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth installment of a 10-part series on international crime syndicates from "Journey Into Crime", a new book by Don Whithead, pre-time Pulitzer Prize winner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

The English are among the most law-abiding people in the world. But the English also produce perhaps the most bizarre murders to be found in any civilized country. They have a startling quality to them because they happen in unlikely places and to the wrong people.

Such was the case in the year 1949 when a killer turned up in the quiet, shabbily respectable area of South Kensington—a killer who reasoned that if the police could not find the body, then he could not be convicted of murder.

The nightmare always began with a vision of a forest of crucifixes. The crosses slowly changed into trees, dripping heavy dew. He drew nearer and saw that the glistening drops were—blood.

Suddenly a blurred figure dashed from tree to tree, catching the fluid in a cup. And when it was brimming, the dream figure came close and said in a commanding voice: "Drink!"

But he could not move. He knew before he could take a draught to find release from this nightmare—he must kill.

Such was the dream which John George Haigh related to a psychiatrist.

But long before he told anyone of his dream, Haigh was confronted in his London bedroom by a woman who was no part of a dream world. She was Mrs. Hilda Kirkwood, head bookkeeper of the Onslow Court Hotel, holding in her hand a bill totaling 49 pounds, 1 shilling, one penny ($140.16).

Five years of residence at the faded little retreat in South Kensington, and having a title of director of an engineering firm, did not entitle Haigh to overlook prompt settlement of bills.

"Do you prefer cash or check?" he asked.

"Cash, if you please," she replied firmly.

Haigh waved to an open cash drawer. "Take what you need."

Mrs. Kirkwood counted out the amount, leaving him four shillings eleven pence. Haigh held the coins in his palm for a moment and then snapped shut his hand. He had reached a decision.

Next day at lunch, Haigh entered the dining room and took his usual seat. Soon he was chatting with his neighbor, Mrs. Olive Durand-Deacon, an elderly widow whose husband had left her a comfortable estate.

The following day, Haigh came into the Onslow Court Hotel dining room for breakfast, freshly shaved and looking fit and rested.

Finding Mrs. Lane, he said "Mrs. Durand-Deacon wasn't down for dinner last evening and I haven't seen her this morning. Is she ill?"

Mrs. Lane said, "Why, she told me yesterday you wanted to take her to your factory at Crawley."

"Yes, I did, but I was late having lunch and she asked me to pick her up later at the Army and Navy store. I waited an hour, but she didn't show up."

Mrs. Lane went upstairs to Mrs. Durand-Deacon's room. Her bed had not been slept in. But perhaps she had spent the night with a friend.

At Sunday breakfast, Haigh again asked Mrs. Lane if she had any news.

"No, I haven't . . . and I've made up my mind that I'm going to the Chelsea police station and ask them to find her."

Haigh suggested, "I think we had better go together."

Together they told police of the strange absence. Haigh repeated in more detail the story he had told Mrs. Lane.

Scotland Yard began the hunt, and called at the hotel to question Haigh. He showed no sign of nervousness under questioning, but he wasn't aware that office. "From the description you give," said the officer's superintendant, "your man is identical with CRO 8622—Haigh, John George, sentenced to four years at Surrey Assizes in November 1937 for obtaining money by false pretenses and to 21 months at London Assizes in June 1941 for theft."

Symes gave a low whistle. "Thanks. This looks like trouble."

TRAPPED

At Crawley, Detective-Sergeant Patrick Joseph Heslin questioned the directing manager of Hurstle Products, Ltd. He denied that Haigh, as he claimed, was a director of the company.

He said Haigh had acted from time to time as his unpaid London representative. In return, Haigh had been permitted the use of a company storehouse where Haigh said he was working on a conversion job.

Sgt. Heslin went to the storehouse. In the center of the floor were three 10-gallon acid jugs. A rubber apron and rubber gloves had been tossed to one side. On a table in one corner was a large square box, containing a 38 Webley automatic that apparently had been fired recently.

In the box, also, was a Horsesham dry cleaners' receipt for a Persian lamb coat valued at 50 pounds. On the whitewashed walls were splashes that looked suspiciously like blood.

Information began to pour into Scotland Yard. The coat described by the receipt had been left at the cleaners the day following Mrs. Durand-Deacon's disappearance. The man who left it was identified from a picture as Haigh.

An officer also reported that a man meeting Haigh's description had obtained an appraisal on some "family jewelry" from a Horsesham jeweler. Another officer found the same jewelry had been sold in Horsesham for 100 pounds—jewelry identified by Mrs. Durand-Deacon's sister as the small treasures belonging to the missing woman.

Symes ordered Haigh brought to the Chelsea headquarters. Wasting no time, he told Haigh his men had found the coat.

Haigh realized he was trapped. "I can see that you know what you are talking about," he said. "I admit the coat belonged to Mrs. Durand-Deacon and that I sold her jewelry."

Symes demanded, "Where is Mrs. Durand-Deacon? I must tell you anything you say may be used in evidence."

Haigh squirmed in his seat. He said finally, "It is a long story of blackmail and I shall have to implicate others. How do I stand about that?"

Symes retorted, "What you have to say is entirely a matter for you." And the chief left the room to let Haigh think things over. Only Inspector Webb was left with him.

ONE MISCALCULATION

After a time, Haigh said to Webb, "I'll tell you all about it. She has disappeared completely and no trace of her car ever has been found. I have destroyed her with acid . . . and how can you prove murder if there is no body? How can you?"

Once his tongue loosened, Haigh went on and on with a story that made the officers shudder.

"I shot her in the back of the head while she was looking at some paper for use as artificial fingernails. Then I went out to the car and fetched a drinking glass. I took a drink and made an incision on one side of her throat and collected a glass of blood . . . I drank it."

"After that, I took off the coat and jewelry she was wearing and put her in a 45-gallon tank. I filled the tank with sulphuric acid and left it to react. In between showing her in the tank and pumping in the acid, I went around to the Ancient Priory's for a cup of tea."

"On Monday, I returned to Crawley to find the reaction of the acid almost complete. I emptied off the sludge on the ground opposite the shed. I pumped more acid in . . . On Tuesday, I found that the body had dissolved completely. I emptied the tank and left it outside in the yard . . ."

The police officers pressed Haigh to tell them why it was he had in his possession ration books and coupons bearing the names of a Donald and Amy McSwan and their son William and also the names of Dr. Archie Henderson, and his wife Rose who had been missing for more than a year. He confessed these murders also.

This is how he described two of the crimes later in his prison diary . . . by now I was seized with an awful urge. Once more I saw the forest of crucifixes which changed to trees dripping with blood. Once more I awakened with the desire which demanded fulfillment . . . From each of them I took my draught of blood."

Haigh forged powers of attorney and other documents which enabled him to dispose of their real estate, automobiles and personal effects. His bank account rose by some 6,800 pounds after the McSwans' deaths, and by about 7,771 after the Hendersons' deaths.

Without doubt, Haigh was one of the most monstrous criminals ever trapped by Scotland Yard—a monster who thought he could not be condemned to death for murder if the police could find no body.

But the sludge in the storehouse yard contained human fat, pieces of undissolved bone identified as that of an elderly female, a denture positively identified by a dentist as one he had made for Mrs. Durand-Deacon, and the victim's red plastic purse.

The jury required only 17 minutes to reach a unanimous verdict of guilty, and brushed aside Haigh's defense of insanity. The condemned man was hanged at Wandsworth prison on Aug. 6, 1949.

But She May Not Go GOP!

Georgia's Dem Vote Slip Showing

BY LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The most anxious news from the South for Sen. John F. Kennedy probably is from Georgia.

Georgia is an anchor state of the Solid South. It never has held a Democratic nominee for president. Only Arkansas shares with Georgia that distinction of party loyalty.

Georgia now seems to be moving away from the Democratic Party in a national sense. Many Georgians would tell you that the move is the other way — that the political party of their fathers has moved away from Georgia.

The solid evidence of movement in Georgia on the question whether the state's presidential electors should be pledged to vote in the electoral college for the Democratic presidential ticket. An overwhelming vote for pledged electors was expected.

There was a straw vote majority of more than 20,000 for free electors. Except as it may detract from the aggregate of the electoral college vote for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, this is no cause for unrestrained Republican applause.

The vote is not at all evidence that Georgians love the Republican Party more, but only that Georgians love the national Democratic Party less.

All good citizens might rejoice in the outcome of the straw ballot as evidence that the South is moving, if slowly, toward a legitimate party system.

The straw vote was not binding on the electors, who may or may not decide to cast free rather than pledged votes in the electoral college.

If they cast free votes, it would not follow that they would go to the Republican Nixon-Lodge ticket. More likely, Georgia's electors would vote for some notable Southern conservative, such as their own Sen. Richard B. Russell or Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

If such maverick Georgia electors votes and others similarly freed in the South prevented either major party ticket from obtaining an absolute majority of the electoral vote, the contest would go to the House of Representatives.

Southern conservatives would like that. In the House, each state would have a single vote, 26 votes being necessary to elect a president.

Under such circumstances, Southern states could — would band together to prevent, if possible, any election, at all until a deal had been made with the prospective new president and/or with Northern Democrats.

Such a deal would be to relieve the South of some of the Northern liberal pressures now bearing on it.

With one vote per state in the House, Mississippi would be equal to New York, Alabama equal to Pennsylvania, Georgia equal to Illinois. That would be for the South a happy day.

It could happen. The state's rights bolters tried to bring that about in 1945, failing by a whisker.

More immediate, however, is this question: What do the rumblings of Georgia rebellion mean for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket?

Not merely in Georgia, but throughout the South.

Five Southern states bolted the Democratic ticket in 1952. Four in 1948 and 1952. Four years ago there were five Southern bolters. It is beginning to look like a trend.

First printing press not operated by hand was invented in 1806 by Friedrich Koenig. Two were purchased by the London Times and produced a record 1,000 impressions an hour.

Kennedy, Nixon Debate Friday

Second Meeting of Presidential Aspirants to Be Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—The debates between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy continue next Friday night in Washington, with all major television networks airing the hour-long program.

The National Broadcasting Co., the producing network, said the debate was moved from Cleveland to the nation's capital "so that the network could draw freely and swiftly on the varied types number for handling the myriad of details."

The debate—the second in a series of four—starts at 7:30 p. m. Pontiac time. The first debate was held last Monday in Chicago.

NBC news correspondent Frank McGee will be moderator. The panelists: Edward P. Morgan of the American Broadcasting Co., Paul Niven of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Harold of Newsday, and Alvin Spivak of United Press International.

Mutual will carry the debate on its radio network.

3 Field Goals Best Detroit Could Muster

Green Bay Displays Strength to Become NFL Contender

GREEN BAY, Wis. — The Green Bay Packers have come up with a ground attack that could well carry them to better things in the 1960 National Football League season.

The Packers tried to get by primarily on a passing game before coach Vince Lombardi took over last year. He started to put the run back in the Packers' football picture in the 1959 season and Green Bay finished in third place in the Western Division of the league after languishing in the cellar the previous season.

The rejuvenated Packers showed the effects of Lombardi's training when they unleashed a powerful ground attack Sunday to crush the Detroit Lions 28-9. The victory gave the Packers a 11 record in the young National Football League season.

"I thought we could win this one," coach Lombardi said after the game. "However, I didn't think we'd be able to run that much against the Lions who have a fine line."

"And I thought Lamar McLain called an excellent game. After his performance, I'll have to start him against the Colts."

McLain, who has been alternating with Bart Starr at quarterback, attempted only 15 passes, completing seven for 109 yards and one touchdown.

"That's all we should show when we run like that," Lombardi said.

The Packers gained 255 yards by rushing with Jim Taylor, a lean 215 pound fullback from Louisiana State, smashing for 151 yards in 26 carries—an average nearly six yards a crack. Paul Hornung, the former Notre Dame star, netted 71 yards in 14 cracks at the Detroit line.

Coach George Wilson of Detroit admitted that the Packers "run too good," but added that "the tackling was bad." He said that he was encouraged by the improvement in his team's passing but added that there was much to be done on the running game. The Lions gained only 69 yards on the ground against the Packers. However, Jim Ninkovich, Lion quarterback, completed 18 of 32 passes for 272 yards against the Packers.

The Lions scored also again in the first half on three field goals by Jim Martin, the 36-year-old veteran. He had successful kicks of 14, 20 and 48 yards that gave Detroit a 9-7 halftime lead.

The Packers came back with 21 points in the final period. Green Bay scored a touchdown in the second quarter on rookie Tom Moore's five yard run, added another in the third period on Taylor's two yard plunge, tied in the fourth on Martin's 10 yard pass to Hornung and Hornung's 11-yard scamper across the goal.

Pace Wins With 4 TD Passes; Steelers Lose

Big Day for Shaw, Unitas

Quarterback George Shaw, long time heir apparent to a front-line job after serving his National Football League apprenticeship under two pass masters, is making a determined bid for the top berth with the Eastern Conference champion New York Giants.

The 27-year-old veteran of six pro campaigns came off the bench with New York trailing 7-0 in the second period Sunday and threw four touchdown passes as the Giants walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 35-14 for their second victory without a loss.

Shaw, the understudy to Baltimore's Johnny Unitas before being traded to the Giants, took over for another tutor—ailing Charley Conner—after the Cardinals had forged ahead on a 26-yard scoring pass from Jim Roach to John David Crow.

Then, just as he had done against San Francisco last week, Shaw pitched the Giants from behind, flipping a pair of TD tosses to Joe Morrison in the last 3½ minutes of the second period for a lead the Giants never relinquished.

The Cleveland Browns kept pace in the East sector by beating the Pittsburgh Steelers 28-20 for their second triumph while Baltimore's NFL champion Colts drubbed Chicago's Bears 42-7 behind Unitas' four touchdown arials and took over the top rung in the West with a 2-0 mark.

The Green Bay Packers thumped the Detroit Lions 28-9 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 19-9 in other games.

Shaw, completing 15 of 22 passes for 238 yards, pitched 51 and 6 yards to Morrison, then wound up his performance with 17 and 15-yard TD strikes to Kyle Rote. Mel Triplett bulled 33 yards up the middle for the other New York touchdown. King Hill sneaked 1-yard to round out the Cards' scoring before 58,089 at St. Louis' home opener.

The Browns put it out of Pittsburgh's misery in the first half, building a 27-0 lead on Milt Plum's short plunge, Bobby Mitchell's 5-yard dash and a 69-yard pass from Plum to Rich Kriettling. Tom Tracy scored twice for the Steelers, grabbing a 40-yard heave from Bobby Layne and cracking over for another score on a 1-yard plunge.

Gordon Quits Tigers to Manage Kansas City

Joe to Replace Elliott as A's Field Manager

DeWitt Grants Request to 'Relieve' Gordon of '61 Contract

DETROIT—Joe Gordon, an old figure in controversial managerial switches, today quit as Detroit Tiger manager to become manager of the Kansas City Athletics.

Tiger President Bill DeWitt said Gordon informed him of his plans to go to Kansas City this morning in a telephone call. Gordon, Tiger manager for only two months, was not immediately available for comment.

Gordon took over the Tigers toward the end of the season in a "swap" that sent former Detroit manager Jimmy Dykes to Cleveland and brought Gordon here.

DeWitt said the announcement was being made "now so that Joe and the club can be free to negotiate for 1961."

Late last night both clubs denied any knowledge of a story which was rumored out of Kansas City. Yesterday DeWitt said, "As far as I know, Gordon's staying with us. I haven't spoken to Joe since Friday but I understand he's going with us to Pittsburgh for the World Series."

In Kansas City, Parke Carroll, general manager of the A's said yesterday he is in no position to talk to anyone about the manager's job because the club is to be sold soon.

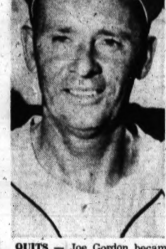

Gordon returned here after yesterday's game, but was located in his hotel room. He refused to answer his door or accept telephone calls.

A Yankee and Indian second baseman in the late 1950s and 1960s, Gordon, 46, followed Bobby Bragan as Cleveland manager in June, 1953.

He had the Indians in the thick of the 1959 pennant fight, but they eventually finished second to the Chicago White Sox. The night Chicago won the pennant by beating the Indians, Gordon was fired by general manager Frank Lane.

Next day, Lane rehired Gordon for 1960. When the Indians failed this season, Lane agreed with DeWitt on the unique trade of managers.

Elliott, 43, played mostly in the National League with Pittsburgh, Boston and New York. He managed San Diego and Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League before the A's hired him to replace Harry Carter in 1960.

Lusky Passes Titans to Win

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The University of Detroit rode to victory Saturday on quarterback Ed Lusky's throwing arm.

Lusky threw for two touchdowns and completed eight out of 10 passes for 153 yards to engineer the Titans to their first 1960 victory, a 26-0 romp over Xavier.

Detroit took charge early in the game, scoring twice in the first seven minutes. Lusky passed eight yards to end Larry Bargo for the first score and, after the Titans recovered an Xavier fumble a few moments later, the lanky quarterback scored himself on a three-yard plunge.

The Titans added another touchdown shortly before the end of the first half and piled up a 26-0 lead in the third period. Xavier scored its only touchdown in the final quarter.

The win squares Detroit's record at 1-1 for the season.

Stengel Picks Dimar

NEW YORK—Yankee manager Casey Stengel today named right hander Art Dimar to oppose Pittsburgh's Vernon Law, another right-hander, in the opening game of the World Series at Pittsburgh Wednesday. Dimar has a 15-9 record. Law's record is 20-9.

Elliott Says Spartans Best on 'Scoreboard'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
EAST LANSING — Bump Elliott isn't taking a dim view of Michigan's chances in the Big 10 race this year despite the 24-17 loss to Michigan State Saturday afternoon before a record 76,650 fans at East Lansing.

Before the game, both coaches agreed that the winner of the game would be a strong contender for the Big Ten title.

Now that the game is over, Elliott feels that MSU is definitely in the driver's seat, but he was so pleased with his team's showing that he refused to concede that the Spartans were the better football team.

"The Spartans were better on the scoreboard. We certainly haven't eliminated ourselves from the Big 10 race," Elliott said afterward.

"Michigan State is big and powerful and they won because they had more fresh men on the field in the last three minutes," he added.

Elliott did not make any excuses. He did not point to the fact that several of his top players were out of game in the final minutes. Bonnie McRae, Ken Tureaud, two of his best backs, along with starting linebacks missed much of the final period.

It was one of the classic football games of all time.

"It had every element of surprise and excitement," summed up MSU coach Duffy Daugherty. There was a selection of heroes for the partisans.

State backers had two choices—Tommy Wilson of Lapeer for his coming of age as a quarterback or fullback Carl Chonko of Boyne City for his spectacular 141 yards rushing.

Michigan fullback Dennis Fitzgerald of Ann Arbor provided the most electrifying moment of the game with his 99-yard punt return for a touchdown. Sophomore signal caller Dave Glinka was valiant for the losers.

"Bound to be one of the best quarterbacks in the Big Ten," was the most frequent appraisal.

Michigan scored immediately after the kickoff. Glinka, passing and play calling like an old pro, directed his team 83 yards in 15 plays for the touchdown.

Dave Rainey carried in the last few yards.

A Wilson pass to Herb Adair, good for 41 yards to the six, set up the Spartans' game-winning drive.

A 35-yard field goal by John Halstead of Bay City put the Wolverines momentarily ahead 10-7. Halstead also kicked both extra points.

The Spartans struck back by grinding 88 yards with Gary Ballman of East Detroit carrying the last vital four yards for a score.

Fitzgerald countered with his spectacular run. He caught the ball on the one but up the middle and then streaked along the sideline for what was to be Michigan's last score.

Prettiest block of the game was thrown by Ben McRae, a senior from Detroit.

Art Brundatier of East Lansing tied it at 17 all with a 32-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Turning point in the final period came when Glinka was trapped on his three by the charging MSU defense and had to kick out.

Chonko carried four of five times in the climactic Michigan State touchdown march. A 39-yard effort in the final few minutes of the memorable meeting.

"We saw a couple of places late in the game where we could have won '61," said Elliott. "It was a close game, but we were out again, but this is one we just had to play over once or twice."

Elliott said the game was "close enough so that we wouldn't have been happy to settle for a tie. We were disappointed not to win and our players were pretty low after the game." He added: "It'll be a rough week for us now getting ready for Duke. But our boys had good spirit and I think we'll keep it."

RAMBLING McRAE — Bonnie McRae, speedy.

Michigan fullback takes off for a good gain in the Michigan-Pittsburgh game. McRae was injured later in the game and limped off the field early in the 4th period which hurt the Wolverines as they made a last ditch effort to score against the Spartans.

In 1961 Detroit Event City to Have ABC Squad

Pontiac area key teams with averages of 850 or less will have their own squad at the 1961 ABC bowling tournament to be held at the new Cobo Hall in Detroit.

All other teams will compete in the open division and must make the open division.

The Pontiac booster group will compete in the national event Thursday, April 4 at 7 p.m.

Oct. 30 is the deadline for entering to be on the special squad. Entry blanks are available at all area bowling establishments. Teams may be turned in at any key hole.

And sophomore Bill McNally accounted for 123 yards rushing.

It was the first time that Alma had tasted defeat. The Scots now are 1-0 for the season.

Of the seven teams, Northern Michigan bowled two victories, to fall. The Wildcats bowed to underdog Youngstown of Ohio Thursday night, 69-56, for their first loss against two victories.

Adrian suffered its first defeat last weekend at the hands of Hillsdale, defending MIAA champion. The Dales, apparently recovered from a 24-0 upset by Northern Michigan, romped to a 64-0 conquest of the Bulldogs in the conference opener.

Adrian has given up only one touchdown in its first two games and had a 1-0 record. But when the Dales got going even center or to squad chairman Lou Koprince may be contacted at FE 54602.

Goldsmith Wins Race

DAYTON (UPI) — Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, led all the way to win the 10-mile United States Auto Club national championship stock car race at the Dayton Speedway Sunday.

Goldsmith collected a prize of $3,500 as he averaged 86.6 miles per hour. Only 12 of the 24 starters finished.

Varsity Drag — This is not the latest dance step being executed by Michigan State and Louie Sanders (left) and quarterback John Stamms of Michigan.

The ball fell to the ground in a pass intended for Sanders.

Eastern Michigan still doesn't have a victory but it did manage a 14-14 tie with Illinois State Normal.

Central Michigan coach Bill Kelley finally found his Chipewack can score — but not enough. Central Michigan scored only three points in two previous losses and then bowed to Western Illinois 28-13.

Wayne State University, playing its first game this season, bowed to Michigan Tech, Northern State turned in a 21-6 victory at Moorhead. Day scored on a 65-yard jump, Hard-driving Jack Bole broke away for a 51-yard touchdown run in the second period after John Graves gave the Huskies a 10-0 lead by racing.

Orange Survive Grid Upset Day

Syracuse's top-ranked orange against Miami on Saturday. The men's unbeaten string extended to 19 games after a come-from-behind victory.

ed Kansas, should find their situation a bit more relaxing this Saturday when they face a weak Holy Cross eleven.

While Syracuse is an overwhelming favorite to continue along its way, other major powers who were victimized by upsets Saturday will be seeking to straighten themselves out this week. Included in this revenge-minded group are Washington, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, Northwestern and Georgia Tech.

Syracuse's defending national champion, rated No. 1 in the first weekly balloting of the United Press International board of coaches, scored a touchdown in the final period to beat fifth-ranked Kansas, 14-7. Even after Orange were staggered, Kansas almost came back for a tie or possible victory, but had a touchdown called back on a penalty with just a few minutes remaining.

Three-ranked Washington, 1-1, lost a Rose Bowl champion and considered a top pick for the Big Ten, was upended by Iowa, 14-14, on a 32-yard field goal by Greg Mather with 14 seconds remaining in the game. The Huskies will have to take revenge on under-par Stanford.

Ray Cane of Detroit and Ray Cullenbine, former Tiger outfielder, each shot a one-under-par 70 Sunday at Glenhurst Golf Club to share top honors. Cane fired 35-35 and Cullenbine 34-36. Par at Glenhurst is 73-74-71.

Bengals' Record Worst Since '54

DETROIT (UPI)—Despite some starting trades, lineup juggling, fireworks after the games, clowns and bands, the Detroit Tigers finished the 1960 season in sixth place with their worst win-loss record since 1954.

The Tigers opened the season last spring with a five-game winning streak and fans hoped for at least another fourth-place finish. Detroit finished fourth in the American League in 1959.

But the Tigers went on to lose 85 games with only 51 victories. They also lost in home attendance, down to 1,187,000 from 1,221,221 last year. They didn't make as much money either, but club officials won't say how much less.

Bill DeWitt, president of the Tigers, has hinted that there'll be even more changes before the start of the 1961 season. DeWitt predicted last spring, "we'll win more games than last year."

DeWitt indicated last week that out of 25 regular players, he guessed 10 would be changed before the start of next season.

He hinted that the main concern were a first baseman and catcher. However, among top candidates for trades he listed outfielder Charley Maxwell, Eddie Yost, second baseman Frank Bolling, and perhaps even Rocky Colavito.

Since coming to the Tigers in the Cleveland trade, Colavito has hit 35 home runs, and collected 87 RBIs and 138 hits in 555 times at bat for a .249 average.

The Tigers lost to Kansas City yesterday. Rookie Phil Regan started for the Tigers and suffered the defeat, his fourth against no victories.

Former Tiger pitcher Ray Herbert blanked his ex-teams' mates for eight innings, then had to have help in the ninth from Dave Wickensham.

The Tigers got their only run in the ninth when Al Kaline opened with a triple and was doubled home by Maxwell.

The Athletics scored their first run in the fifth inning when Jim McManus singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Pete Daley.

In the seventh, McManus reached first base on an error by Bolling and scored on a double to left by Daley.

Yost hit a double off of pitcher McManus to lead off the inning. He was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Bolling.

Pittsburgh Beats Burdette in Final

By The Associated Press
Putting first things first at the finish, the first place Pittsburgh Pirates rolled into their first World Series in 33 years with their first batting champion in two decades after winning 96 games in a National League season for the first time since 1925.

One week after clinching their first flag since 1927, the Bucc wrapped up the regular season with a 9-5 victory over the second place Milwaukee Braves Sunday. And they did it by whipping Lee Burdette, blocking his bid for a third consecutive 20-victory season and completing a somewhat fantastic bout against the top pitchers in the NL.

It was the Pirates' second victory over Burdette in three decisions, and it came on the heels of their fifth victory over Warren Spahn in six decisions this year.

The Pirates, first Big Club to win 95 since the 1925 champs who went on to beat Washington in the World Series, tagged Burdette (19-13) for 15 hits while Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell won his 14th. Mizell gave up six of the Braves' 10 hits in his five innings.

Then Harvey Haddix, who with him supplies the left-handed pitching Manager Danny Murtagh has planned when the Series swings to Yankee Stadium next weekend, finished up. He allowed four hits and one run.

Hank Aaron of the Braves drove in one run, giving him the RBI title with 126. Ed Matthews, adding two against the Buccs, was second, two behind, giving the Braves a two-slugger total of 250 RBI.

Aaron was second in the home run race behind the Cubs' Ernie Banks, who hit 41. Aaron had 40 and Matthews, third, hit 39.

Lethal Mike McCormick (15-12) pitched a four-hitter for the Giants, and topped NL starting pitchers with a 2.70 earned run average, as the Cards bowed out by losing seven of their last eight.

Don Drysdale (15-14) was the winner in relief against the Cubs, topping the Dodger staff in victories thanks to Maury Wills' ninth-inning sacrifice fly.

Rookie Art Mahaffey finished with a 7-3 record for the Phils, losing a shutout against the Reds in the ninth inning on Frank Robinson's 31st home run.

Fenton Crew Captures Honors in PYC Regatta

Perfect winds, white caps and sunny skies gave 41 skippers and their crews one of the season's most exciting sailing days in the Pontiac Yacht Club Invitational White Cap Regatta held yesterday at Cass Lake.

With his boat Jockey II, Nickels accumulated 116 1/2 points with Dr. Gerald Murphy of Tawas Bay Yacht Club taking second place with 115 points.

Mack Goodwin of Pontiac Yacht Club took third with 108 points. Goodwin's wife Marlene and John Seaton were members of his crew.

Al Berg, ace skipper from Chicago, who was disqualified on Saturday, had Sunday troubles when his lightning flipped as they rounded a mark and pulling in the spinnaker the first time around.

PVC skippers were among the top half of the fleet.

In 4th place was Clarence Holman (105 1/2) points; 5th was Claude Bennett (96 points); 10th was Paul Smith (84 points); 11th was Bob Black (81 points); 12th was Dave Davies (76 points); 14th was Al Gray (74 points); 15th, Ralph Bohrer (73 points); and 17th was Ralph Johnson (72 points).

Trophy presentations were made by Fleet Captain Clarence Holman and Paul Goode, Commodore Robert Pies, made individual trophy presentations to each skipper in the regatta.

Twenty mile gusts caused some broken rudders and snapped stays. One of Paul Young's crew crew overboard but was not injured.

Nickels and Murphy were tied after Saturday's races and Nickels took the honors in Sunday's activities.

Yankees Win to End, Orioles Second

By The Associated Press.

Pete Rummels won his first batting title. A couple of kid right-handers, Jim Perry and Chuck Estrada, were the winningest pitchers. The Washington Senators won 73 games, their best total since 1953. And Baltimore's modern day Orioles finished second, their highest yet.

But the American League champions? The New York Yankees, and no doubt about it.

With Mickey Mantle winning the home run crown with 40, one more than teammate Roger Maris, who took the RBI title with 112, the Yankees broke their AL home run record, gave Manager Casey Stengel his 10th pennant in a dozen years, and finished with a 15-game winning streak—the longest ever for a club headed into the World Series.

The Yankees, their pride stung by last season's frustrating three-place failure, bounced back to a 97-51 record, their sixth best under Casey, and crushed Baltimore's surprising bid by winning 19 of their last 21 games.

And they finished with a flourish, coming from behind in Sunday's regular season windup for an 8-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Sox on a two-run homer in the second inning by Dale Long that sent them barreling into next inning. Al Smith, injured Chicago White Sox outfielder, was second at Pittsburgh against the Pirates.

Long, 34, a left-handed hitting first baseman picked up from the Giants in late August, batted .366 and drove in 10 runs while fitting perfectly into the Yankee pattern of plucking bench power off the NL waiver list for the stretch run. His game-winning shot against the seventh place Red Sox was his third as a Yankee.

That was the 153rd home run of the year for the champion, who had set the old AL standard with 190 in 1956 (the same year Cincinnati tied the New York Giants' 1947 major league record of 221).

Duke Maas was the winner for a 5-1 record as the fifth in a string of Yankee pitchers which began with Ralph Terry and probable series opener Whitey Ford. Arnold Earley (6-1) was the loser as Boston (65-89) closed its worst season since owner Tom Yawkey took over in 1953.

Rummels, 32-year-old Red Sox Sox on a two-run homer in the second inning by Dale Long that sent them barreling into next inning. Al Smith, injured Chicago White Sox outfielder, was second at Pittsburgh against the Pirates.

Social Security to Aid Disabled

Amendments to the Social Security law signed two weeks ago by President Eisenhower will bring benefits to an estimated 500 additional disabled workers and members of their families in Oakland County, William L. LaRock, manager of the Pontiac district SS office, said today.

Nationally, it is expected that some 125,000 will be affected by the change regarding disability payments.

Other changes will bring increased benefits to 400,000 children and, through liberalized work requirements, make some 250,000 people age 65 or older eligible for benefits.

LaRock explained that persons can now qualify for disability benefits without regard to age. If an applicant has worked long enough under SS and if his disability is severe enough to meet the definition in the SS law, he and eligible members of his family may draw benefits prior to 50 — the age requirement in the past.

SS WILL WRITE

"Those who have already made application to have their SS records frozen because of disability do not have to take any action now," he said. "The SS office has their records on file and will write them what they should do."

"However, those disabled persons who have not had a previous contact with an SS office to discuss disability protection should get in as soon as possible because benefits cannot be paid until an application for them is made."

Another change concerns retired persons but who have an annual earned income of more than $1,200. The following formula will apply beginning in 1961: One dollar in benefits withheld for each $2 of earnings between $1,200 and $1,500. Those earning above $1,500 will figure a dollar in benefits for each dollar that earnings are above that figure.

In spite of this rule, LaRock said, no one will forfeit benefits for any month in which wages are $100 or less.

He said many aged widows will benefit by changes in the law which permit payment of monthly checks to eligible survivors of working people who died between March 31, 1938, and Dec. 31, 1939.

Dependent widows can now get benefits even if their wives died before age 50, if the wives met work requirements under SS.

But, LaRock said, no one can receive benefits under this provision without making a claim at the district office.

Families drawing SS benefits for two or more children and not now receiving the maximum payable to a family, will find an additional amount added to their checks next January because of a change which calls for payment of an amount equal to three-fourths of the base amount to each child.

The SS amendments also cut the amount of work time needed to qualify for benefits. Instead of needing two calendar quarters of work every four quarters after age 50, it is now one quarter.

"She's divorcing her husband, but it really isn't her fault. She got along with him beautifully for five years and then he came back."

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our cat has suffered from an open sore for some time. Should we treat it, or will the cat's saliva cure it? Mrs. M. B. Baker, Bath, Mich.

A. If we could place any credence in the old superstition about animals healing their own wounds, veterinarians would have far less to do. Small superficial wounds would heal in spite of your cat's licking, for saliva has little, if any, curative power, and your pet's mouth is no more germ free than ours.

Any wound an animal sustains should be thoroughly cleaned and treated with an antiseptic. A deep, lacerated injury, may, of course, require stitching.

Summertime wounds should be watched cautiously, as flies and other insects can infect the sore and retard healing.

Some animals, particularly cats, are allergic to certain antiseptics, so specify the type of animal when purchasing any medication.

Vehicle Registrations Up in '60 by 3.2 Pct.

LANSING (UPI)—Motor vehicle registrations increased by 3.2 per cent this year to 3,305,000, a preliminary estimate shows.

Last year's registration of cars, trucks and buses was 3,201,000, the Highway Department said.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads indicated a 3.3 per cent increase nationally, the department said.

State Road Mileage Log on Sale at $1 Per Copy

LANSING (UPI)—The State Highway Department's latest mileage log of all state highways is now available.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the new log, the first published since 1958, would be sold for the reproduction cost of $1 per copy.

Expressway Training Set for New Troopers

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Expressway patrol operations were to be emphasized in concluding basic training for 33 new troopers, a state police spokesman said.

The men were scheduled to return to East Lansing headquarters Oct. 19 from six-month field assignments and be taught by federal, state and Michigan State University instructors.

HOW HURRICANES ARE BORN

DEADLY SPIN — Birth of a cyclonic storm occurs when, for some reason not completely understood, a very large mass of warm air rises at one time. Relatively colder air rushes in beneath. Spin of the earth deflects this great mass of air, the typical spiral formation of a hurricane begins to form, and the storm travels in direction of prevailing winds. Storms spin counterclockwise north of the equator; clockwise to the south. So long as the storm has a supply of water and very humid air, it can perpetuate itself. Once it moves over land the chain is broken and the storm dies eventually.

Brazil Elects New President

Tabulation May Take

2 Weeks; Conservative Is Favorite

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —

Brazil elects a new president today but the outcome may not be known for a week in the three-man race between a conservative,

a nationalist and a leftist.

Troops were alerted but the country was quiet as the polls opened with 15,500,000 persons eligible to cast ballots. The counting begins Tuesday and may take two weeks, but a trend is expected

Conservative Janio Quadros, 43, former governor of booming Sao

Paulo province, was favored in

tiring President Juscelino Kubit-

war minister, Gen. Henrique Teixeira Lott, 65, a Roman Catholic whose nationalist policies brought

Communists.

Tokyo (AP) — Red China

Chairman Mao Tse-tung says it is necessary for Communist China to unite with neutral nations to defeat imperialism.

The declaration was made in a newly published book of Mao's that constitutes official dogma of Red China. It was reported by Peiping radio. The volume was put on public sale in Chinese book stores Saturday, the 11th anniversary of the formation of the Red government.

Plane Sputters; 153 Safe

CHICAGO (U)—"I only thank God that the power failure came when we had altitude. If this had occurred during take-off 153 persons probably would have died."

Ham Mueller-Nalbach, Luftthansa German Airlines captain, was talking with reporters Sunday after he landed an airliner with two of its four engines out and 143 passengers and 10 crewmen aboard. Shortly after a pre-dawn takeoff for Frankfurt, two engines of his huge Boeing 707 failed and Mueller-Nalbach circled precariously over Lake Michigan for nearly an hour, jettisoning 77,000 pounds of fuel.

He then returned to O'Hare Field and made a smooth landing. "They say that once in his life, a captain really earns his pay. Last night was my turn," said Mueller-Nalbach, a veteran of 22 years of flying.

Nixon Dips South to Start 'Pat Week'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon compared with some in other sciences. But he said research makes another one-day job into the once solidly Democratic South the greatest needs and the best today while Republican women start observance of "Pat Week" in honor of his wife.

The Republican Presidential nominee and Mrs. Nixon arranged to help launch motorcades of women workers to nearby states to try attracting women to the Nixon cause.

Hoping to renew the cracks in the solid South made by President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, Nixon on his scheduled stops at Richmond, Va., and Charlotte, N.C., Tuesday he tours New Jersey.

His new campaign trip comes after a day in which he rested at home in Washington, gave some "position paper" a pep talk, and issued a "position paper" on medical problems.

The paper called for "a great new offensive against the age-old scourges of mankind" and set down a four-point program.

It called for:

1. The award of federal fellowships to pay tuition for medical students, to support medical research, and to loan money to students.

2. The federal support of medical research, including increased grants.

3. A 10-year accelerated program of building medical facilities and research laboratories.

4. The use of the president's "leadership and full persuasion" to mobilize more private and public support of medical schools, hospitals and institutes.

Nixon ruled out a crash program to wipe out "a particular disease like cancer or heart ailments on grounds that breakthroughs in this field cannot be predicted.

Joe Gordon Quits Tigers to Manage A's

From Our News Wire
DETROIT — Joe Gordon, who came here in August in an unprecedented "trade" of managers, resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers to become manager of the Kansas City Athletics.

Major General Manager Bill DeWitt announced that Gordon had "asked to be relieved of his contract for 1961" and his request has been granted.

DeWitt said Gordon had informed him of his plans to go to Kansas City this morning in a telephone call.

Gordon is replacing Bob Elliott, who had been Kansas City manager for only one season.

In Kansas City, Parke Carroll, general manager of the Athletics, said: "I don't know anything about it. Gordon might have been approached by someone who planned to buy the ball club."

"Right now the Athletics wouldn't sign anyone without consulting the group who planned to buy the club."

The Athletics are for sale, after the death last spring of Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier who owned a majority of the stock. His estate has announced it plans to dispose of his holdings.

Asked if the statement by Gordon meant the sale of the club had been consummated, Carroll said: "I haven't heard of it if it has."

The Tigers wound up the season with a 51 loss to Kansas City Sunday that gave them their poorest record since 1954. Their season record was 71-83.

Gordon, who took over the Tigers on Aug. 5, had directed the club to 26 victories and 31 defeats.

He came here from Cleveland in a switch that sent former Tiger pitcher Jimmie Dykes to the Indians. Dykes has already signed for 1961 with Cleveland.

DeWitt said that Gordon had been "hesitant" about signing with the Tigers for 1961 when he first came here and that Gordon felt he should take the job "on a trial basis" for the remainder of the season.

However, he had been signed for 1961. DeWitt said that "when a general manager doesn't want a manager, the manager gets released and Joe feels that the manager should have the same prerogative."

DeWitt said the resignation was announced today so that "Joe and the club will be free to negotiate for 1961."

REPORTS FLOURISH
Reports had been current around Detroit this weekend that

Gordon was in line for the job at Kansas City.

As late as last night DeWitt said he knew nothing about the rumors that Gordon would resign and that "all I know is that he is supposed to go to the World Series with us."

When Gordon took over the Tigers, he said, "I never want to manage where I'm not wanted."

He also said at the time that the Tigers were at least a 300 ball club.

But they weren't before he took over, and they weren't after he came, either. They finished in sixth place, right where they were when he succeeded Dykes.

Lane General Manager Frank Lane had fired Gordon as Indian manager after the 1959 season, but then he Presidential Hopelists Neck and Neck in Poll

WASHINGTON (U) — Neither Richard M. Nixon nor John F. Kennedy now has a substantial lead in the race for president.

Experts rate the states with the big votes as tossups. At this stage, Nixon, the Republican candidate, apparently has more electoral votes in his pocket than Kennedy, the Democratic candidate.

Blame Firebug in Waite's Blaze

Inspectors Link It With Series of Outbreaks in Downtown Trunk Cans

A dangerous firebug, prowling downtown Pontiac at night, has been smoking sometimes in broad daylight, was indicated today in the investigation into the blaze that firemen nipped just in time at Waite's Department Store Friday night.

The store reopened at noon today.

White said that the blaze "tied in" with a string of trash-can fires set in the downtown area recently, sometimes at night, sometimes during the day.

"We do not know if there was a deliberate attempt to set the store afire, or just the rubbish," said White. "But the blaze could have had extremely serious consequences."

Nikita to Dag: Quit Your Job

Ike Rejects Talks With K for Now

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower held the door open today for a return to summit diplomacy if Soviet Premier Khrushchev will take steps to "pave the way for useful negotiations."

Eisenhower rejected, however, a neutralist proposal put forth at the U.N. General Assembly last week for an immediate conference between himself and Khrushchev.

He said that the record of Soviet behavior since the breakdown of the Paris summit conference May 16 gives no promise that a meeting between the two would yield productive results.

"I would not want to participate in a mere gesture which might convey a thoroughly misleading and unfortunate impression to the peoples of the world," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower's views were set out in a letter sent late Sunday to five neutralist leaders now attending the General Assembly meeting in New York—Prime Minister Nehru of India and Presidents Sukarno of Indonesia, Nasser of the United Arab Republic, Tito of Yugoslavia and Nkrumah of Ghana.

He told them that he understood and sympathized with the motives they had in asking the General Assembly to call for a meeting between himself and Khrushchev. Their formal resolution is awaiting U.N. action.

He said that he had understood and sympathized with the motives they had in asking the General Assembly to call for a meeting between himself and Khrushchev. Their formal resolution is awaiting U.N. action.

His wife, Mrs. John D. Martin, 31, had been stabbed 12 times and her throat slashed in what Sheriff Paul G. Lewis said evidently was a savage struggle.

The body of Mrs. Martin's mother, Ethel Ogde, 63, lay face up on a bed. Her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed several times.

On another bed lay the grandmother, Everlene Ogde, 82, stabbed 18 times. The sheriff said the grandmother, unable to walk, apparently managed to make only a feeble attempt to ward off the blows.

Public Safety Director Floyd Mann described the slaughter as the work of a "sadistic killer" who beat on revenge.

Martin, a neatly dressed farmer of about 40, told officers that when a neighbor notified him of the killing, he slipped his shoes, pulled on his mother-in-law's hand, and arrested while standing in the crowd outside.

Questioned by state investigators, Martin said he had been under treatment for a nervous disorder and at one time was given psychiatric treatment in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Birmingham.

The survey showed that Nixon seems to be leading in 22 states with 161 electoral votes. Kennedy seems to be leading in 14 states with 123 votes.

The difference is only 38 votes, and neither man comes within 100 votes of the 269 votes needed to win the presidency.

The survey rated six of the largest states—New York 45, California 32, Pennsylvania 25, Ohio 25, Texas 24, and Michigan 20—among the tossups, although there was some indication Kennedy had an edge in Ohio and Texas.

If either Kennedy or Nixon could take all or most of these 175 votes, he probably would win the election.

The data were collected while observers were trying to weigh the effect of last Monday's television debate on the voters. Some sources said they thought Kennedy

7 Hurt; Scares Multiply
Times Square Casualty — Bystanders help James Foley, 73, who suffered head injuries in a bomb explosion in the crowded Times Square theatrical district Sunday. The injured by flying debris.

Probe Bomb Explosion in NY

From Our News Wire
NEW YORK — Police today examined the debris of a home-made bomb that exploded in the middle of Times Square at the crowded peak of a sunny Sunday afternoon, injuring seven persons, including two children.

There were few clues, however, to tell authorities whether the explosion was the work of another "mad bomber" or was connected with the unpopular visits of Communist heads of state including Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.

Tense police earlier in the day checked out two other bomb scares, one a hand grenade in Central Park where James K. Hagan, first secretary of the Hungarian Communist Party was scheduled to walk, and a reported threat in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel where many of the diplomats are staying.

The Times Square blast went off in a marble-walled bed of azalea plants in cement-covered Father Duffy Square.

It shattered a window in a nearby restaurant, knocked down sightseers, frightened residents, threw dirt and twigs at cars. The sound of the blast could be heard half a mile away.

Two taxicabs parked nearby were covered with earth. The drivers were away eating.

A telephone warning that a bomb would explode in the Waldorf Astoria led to a search of many of the hotel's 2,500 rooms.

Police suspected a package delivered Saturday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. When it was opened they found an apple pie which had been sent to the Soviet leader by a Texas woman.

The grenade, a practice bomb filled with gunpowder, was found by a gardener in Central Park hours before a scheduled visit of Hungarian Communist Janos Kadar.

The Times Square bomb had been planted in shrubbery behind a statue of composer George M. Cohan at 46th Street between 7th Avenue and Broadway.

Bomb experts said the bomb apparently had been a "low-grade explosion" of smokeless black powder, apparently placed in a cardboard box.

Only James Foley, 73, who lives nearby, was seriously hurt.

He suffered a heart attack in 1952, underwent an aortic operation in 1956 and had a mild stroke in 1957. But, now, the President agrees with his doctors that he is in "fine" physical condition.

His prescription for keeping in shape, despite the rigorous demands of "the world's toughest job," includes lots of golf, using an electric car; no smoking; an occasional Scotch whisky; high ball; and controlling a hot temper.

White House Physician Maj. Gen. Howard M. C. Snyder says Eisenhower also follows a few other basic rules, such as proper diet, adequate rest, no undue fatigue and frequent physical check-ups.

Using this formula, as he has since 1952, the President recently passed a head-to-toe examination by Army doctors. They reported he was in excellent condition after the mid-September checkup.

Red Threatens Boycott; Asks Quick Revisions

Heaps Vicious Attack on Secretary General Before Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru called for unanimous General Assembly approval of a neutralist demand for an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting despite the President's rejection of the plan.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today challenged U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to resign. He threatened to refuse to recognize U.N. decisions unless the world organization's peacemaking machinery is revised.

Khrushchev, addressing the General Assembly under "right of reply" procedure, unleashed a new, heavy attack on Hammarskjöld. He is seeking to replace the secretary general with a three-man executive with veto powers.

"To avoid misinterpretation, I want to reaffirm that we do not trust Mr. Hammarskjöld and cannot trust him," Khrushchev said. "If he himself does not master up enough courage to resign, so to say, in a cavalier manner, then we shall draw up the necessary conclusions from the situation."

"It is not proper for a man who has flouted elementary justice to hold such an important post at that of secretary general."

The Khrushchev attack came at the assembly's 98 members waited expectantly for new efforts to bring Khrushchev together with President Eisenhower. The U.S. President indicated Sunday night he is not ready for such a meeting in view of Soviet behavior.

"If the machinery which is called upon to solve the major international issues with due regard for the interests of all states, if this U.N. machinery, the Security Council and the secretariat — resolve . . . questions to the detriment of the Socialist Communist and neutralist states, then naturally, these countries will not recognize such decisions and will rely on their own strength to defend the interests of their states, the interests of peace."

"This is the choice that now faces the United Nations. Either we truly unite our efforts and do our utmost to consolidate the United Nations, thus insuring cooperation among all states toward preserving peace, or else the forces reflecting the interests of the group of imperialist states will go on dominating the United Nations and its machinery, which will inflict great damage upon the cause of peace and international cooperation."

He came here from Cleveland

in a switch that sent former Tiger pitcher Jimmie Dykes to the Indians. Dykes has already signed for 1961 with Cleveland.

DeWitt said that Gordon had been "hesitant" about signing with the Tigers for 1961 when he first came here and that Gordon felt he should take the job "on a trial basis" for the remainder of the season.

However, he had been signed for 1961. DeWitt said that "when a general manager doesn't want a manager, the manager gets released and Joe feels that the manager should have the same prerogative."

DeWitt said the resignation was announced today so that "Joe and the club will be free to negotiate for 1961."

REPORTS FLOURISH

Reports had been current around Detroit this weekend that

Gordon was in line for the job at Kansas City.

As late as last night DeWitt said he knew nothing about the rumors that Gordon would resign and that "all I know is that he is supposed to go to the World Series with us."

When Gordon took over the Tigers he said "I never want to manage where I'm not wanted."

He also said at the time that the Tigers were at least a .500 ball club.

But they weren't before he took over and they weren't after he came. They finished in sixth place, right where they were when he succeeded Dykes.

(Cleveland General Manager Frank Lane had fired Gordon as Indian manager after the 1959 season, but then he

Enclosing Courthouse

Presidential Hopefuls Neck and Neck in Poll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither Richard M. Nixon nor John F. Kennedy now has a substantial lead in the race for president.

Experts rate the states with the big votes as tossups. At this stage, Nixon, the Republican candidate, apparently has more electoral votes in his pocket than Kennedy, the Democratic candidate.

But Nixon's lead is slim and his total far from a majority.

These are the conclusions that emerge from a survey of 50 states just completed by The Associated Press.

To create its image of the election battle, the AP culled observations from its political writers, key party leaders, and veteran newspaper analysts. Various polls also were taken into account.

NIXON AHEAD BY 38

The survey showed that Nixon seems to be leading in 22 states with 101 electoral votes. Kennedy seems to be leading in 14 states with 123 votes.

The difference is only 34 votes, and neither man comes within 100 votes of the 269 votes needed to win the presidency.

The survey rated six of the largest states—New York 45, California 32, Pennsylvania 27, Ohio 25, Texas 24, and Michigan 23—among the tossups, although there was some indication Kennedy had an edge in Ohio and Texas.

If either Kennedy or Nixon could take all or most of these 173 votes, he probably would win the election.

The data were collected while observers were trying to weigh the effect of last Monday's television debate on the voters. Some sources said they thought Kennedy

Blame Firebug in Waite's Blaze

Inspectors Link It With Series of Outbreaks in Downtown Trash Cans

A dangerous firebug, prowling downtown Pontiac at night, bet streaking sometimes in broad daylight, was indicated today in the investigation into the blaze that flared up just in time at Waite's Department Store Friday night.

The store reopened at noon today.

White said that the blaze "fled in" with a string of trash-can fires set in the downtown area recently, sometimes at night, sometimes during the day.

"We do not know if there was a deliberate attempt to set the store afire, or just the rubbish," said White. "But the blaze could have had extremely serious consequences."

Nikita to Dag: Quit Your Job

Ike Rejects Talks With K for Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower held the door open today for a return to summit diplomacy if Soviet Premier Khrushchev will take steps to "pave the way for useful negotiations."

Eisenhower rejected, however, a neutralist proposal put forth at the U.N. General Assembly last week for an immediate conference between himself and Khrushchev.

He said that the record of Soviet behavior since the breakdown of the Paris summit conference May 18 gives no promise that a meeting between the two would yield productive results.

"I would not want to participate in a mere gesture which might convey a thoroughly misleading and unfortunate impression to the peoples of the world," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower's views were set out in a letter sent late Sunday to five neutralist leaders now attending the General Assembly meeting in New York—Prime Minister Nehru of India and Presidents Sukarno of Indonesia, Nasser of the United Arab Republic, Tito of Yugoslavia and Nkrumah of Ghana.

He told them that he understands and sympathizes with the motives they had in fixing the General Assembly call for a meeting between himself and Khrushchev. Their formal resolution is awaiting U.N. action.

In blunt, no-concession sentences, however, he went over the record of Soviet maneuvers not only in the United Nations but on such world issues as Cuba and the Congo and said this record provides no basis for believing that a meeting now would be successful.

Eisenhower noted that he had pledged many times that he would go "to meet with anyone at any time if there is any serious promise of productive results."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon held a special conference with Eisenhower this morning before starting out on his fourth week of intensive campaigning with an other foray into the South.

Stabber Kills Three Women

Alabama Police Hunt for Barefoot Assassin; Hold Husband

ASHLAND, Ohio, (AP) — The bodies of three women in a morgue today while officers searched for a barefoot killer who stabbed them with a razor-sharp kitchen knife.

A 10-inch knife and bloody footprints leading out of the house gave investigators meager clues.

The estranged husband of one victim was jailed for questioning, but insisted he knew nothing of the grisly weekend killing of his wife, her mother and invalid grandmother. He was held with out charge.

His wife, Mrs. John D. Martin, 31, had been stabbed 123 times, and her throat slashed in what Sheriff Paul G. Lewis said evidently was a savage struggle.

The body of Mrs. Martin's mother, Ethel Egel, 63, lay face up on a bed, her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed several times.

On another bed lay the grandmother, Everlena Egel, 82, stabbed 18 times. The sheriff said the grandmother, unable to walk, apparently managed to make only a feeble attempt to ward off the blows.

Public Safety Director Floyd Mann described the slaughter as the work of a "sadistic killer or one bent on revenge."

Martin, a neatly dressed farmer of about 40, told officers that when a neighbor notified him of the killing, he snatched his shoes, bathed and shaved, and drove to his mother-in-law's house. He was arrested while standing in the crowd outside.

Questioned by state investigators, Martin said he had been under treatment for a nervous disorder and at one time was given psychiatric treatment in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Birmingham.

One of the most bizarre killers in history was an Englishman of the South Kensington area who reasoned that if the police could not find the bodies of his victims, he could not be convicted of murder.

For all the gruesome details, don't miss the installment of Don Whithead's thrilling "Journey Into Crime" on page 16 of today's Pontiac Press.

Journey Into Crime With Bizarre Murder

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dwight David Eisenhower today became the oldest president in U.S. history.

Just 11 days short of his 70th birthday, President Eisenhower eclipsed the age-in-office record held by another former military commander, President Andrew Jackson.

"Old Hickory" was 69 years, 11 months and 19 days old when he left the White House shortly after noon on March 4, 1837. " Ike" will be 70 on Oct. 14.

Eisenhower passed the milestone in robust health. He is still able to put in a 12-hour day that time demands of "the world's toughest job," includes lots of golf, using an electric cart; no smoking; an occasional Scotch-whisky highball; and controlling a hot temper.

White House Physician Maj. Gen. Howard M. C. Snyder says Eisenhower is no fizzle—a few days per basic rest, such as proper diet, adequate rest, no undue fatigue and frequent physical check-ups.

Using this formula, as he has since 1956, the President recently passed a head-to-toe examination by Army doctors. They reported he was in excellent condition after the mid-September checkup.

He suffered a heart attack in 1955, underwent an aortic operation in 1956 and had a mild stroke in 1957. But, now the President agrees with his doctors that he is in "fine" physical condition.

His prescription for keeping in shape, despite the rigorous demands of "the world's toughest job," includes lots of golf, using an electric cart; no smoking; an occasional Scotch-whisky highball; and controlling a hot temper.

7 Hurt; Scares Multiply

Times Square Casualty — Bystanders help James Foley, 75, who suffered head injuries from a mysterious bomb explosion in the crowded Times Square theatrical district Sunday.

Probe Bomb Explosion in NY

From Our News Wire
NEW YORK — Police today examined the debris of a home-made bomb that exploded in the middle of Times Square at the crowded peak of a sunny Sunday afternoon, injuring seven persons, including two children.

There were few clues, however, to tell authorities whether the explosion was the work of another "mad bomber" or was connected with the unpopular visits of Communist leaders to state including Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.

Tense police earlier in the day checked out two other bomb scares, one a hand grenade in Central Park where James K. Garrison, first secretary of the Hungarian Communist Party was scheduled to walk, and a reported threat in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where many of the diplomats are staying.

The Times Square blast went off in a marble-walled bed of azule tiles in cement-covered Father Duffy Square.

It shattered a window in a nearby restaurant, knocked down sightseers, frightened residents, threw dirt and twigs at cars. The sound of the blast could be heard half a mile away.

Police searched for a package delivered Saturday to Soviet Premier Khrushchev. When it was opened they found an apple pie which had been sent to the Soviet leader by a Texas woman.

The grenade, a practice bomb filled with gunpowder, was found by a guard in Central Park hours before a scheduled visit of Hungarian Communist Janos Kadar.

Bomb experts said the bomb apparently had been a "low-grade explosion" of smokeless black powder, apparently placed in a cardboard box.

'Fair and Cool' Tonight's Outlook for Pontiac Area

Fair and cool weather is in store for tonight with a low of 43 expected.

Tuesday will be partly cloudy but somewhat warmer with a high of 70.

Morning southeasterly winds at 4 miles per hour will become northwesterly 8 to 15 miles tonight.

Rainfall from 10 a.m. Saturday to 10 a.m. this morning registered 2.4 of an inch.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 65.

Red Threatens Boycott; Asks Quick Revisions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today challenged U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to resign. He threatened to refuse to recognize U.N. decisions unless the world organizations' peacekeeping machinery is revised.

Khrushchev, addressing the General Assembly under "right of reply" procedure, unleashed a new, heavy attack on Hammarskjöld. He is seeking to replace the secretary general with a three-man executive with veto powers.

"To avoid misinterpretation, I want to reaffirm that we do not trust Mr. Hammarskjöld and cannot trust him," Khrushchev said.

"If he himself does not muster up enough courage to resign, so to say, in a chivalrous manner, then we shall draw up the necessary conclusions from this situation."

"It is not proper for a man who has flouted elementary justice to hold such an important post at that of secretary-general."

The Khrushchev attack came as the assembly's 38 members waited expectantly for new efforts to bring Khrushchev together with President Eisenhower. The U.S. President indicated Sunday night he is not ready for such a meeting in view of Soviet behavior.

"If the machinery which is called upon to solve the major international issues with due regard for the interests of all states, if this U.N. machinery, the Security Council and the secretariat — resolve . . . questions to the detriment of the Socialist Communist and neutralist states, then naturally, these countries will not recognize such decisions and will rely on their own strength to defend the interests of their states — the interests of peace."

"This is the choice that now faces the United Nations. Either we truly unite our efforts and do our utmost to consolidate the United Nations, thus insuring cooperation among all states toward preserving peace, or else the forces of imperialism, the interests of the group of imperialist states will go on dominating the United Nations and its machinery, which will inflict great damage upon the cause of peace and international cooperation."

Social Workers Due at Meeting

2 Pontiac Men Slated to Attend Conference in Chicago

Two Pontiac area men will attend the biennial delegates assembly of the National Conference of Social Workers Oct. 12-15 in Chicago.

They are Robert Jones, executive director of Family Service of Oakland County, and Charles Montzer, executive director of the Birmingham Council of Community Services.

Jones was elected as voting delegate to the policy-making meeting by the Oakland County of the National Association of Social Workers, with Montzer as alternate.

Jones is chapter chairman, and Montzer is program coordinator and a member of the executive committee.

Some 400 delegates, representing 27,000 members from 138 chapters throughout the country will attend the sessions.

Among issues to be discussed will be certification of social workers, meeting professional standards, personnel practices in cases where workers are dismissed or penalized, and revision of the association's goals on public social work policy.

Granny Belts Thief, Runs After His Pal

NEW YORK (UPI) — An 80-year-old fighting Irish grandmother knocked down a young tough trying to steal $100 from her purse and chased him partner-in-crime down the street Sunday in a rare show of courage.

Today Mrs. Ellen O'Neill, a retired seamstress, considered whether she should return to Ireland "for some peace and quiet" after almost half a century here.

Mrs. O'Neill was accosted before dawn by two assailants, Richard Van Dyke, 19, and John Van Wright, 20, who grabbed for her purse which contained $100.

"Oh, no you don't," the white-haired lady shouted.

She swung a strong right cross at Van Wright, who fell to the pavement with a cut lip.

Van Dyke pulled out a knife, cut the strap off her purse and ran down the street with Van Wright behind him. Mrs. O'Neill, in tears, was hot on their heels, screaming, "Thief, thief."

Detective John Capobianco then drew by, gave chase and captured the two youths who were accused of trying to take her money to buy dope.

"Naughty, naughty boys," Mrs. O'Neill told them in the police station. "No way to behave at all."

Delroit Opens Sewers to Area

Farmington, Evergreen Systems Flowing Into Metropolitan Ripes

A bulkhead was knocked out today starting the flow into Detroit of sewage from Oakland County's first outside sewer system.

Over the weekend pumps were going constant, pulling water that had collected in the once-idle Evergreen and Farmington sewers.

Today's chopping away of the brick enclosure on Southfield road 150 feet south of Eight Mile road eliminated four months of negotiations between the county and the city to start the flow.

Some 125,000 persons in 12 communities will be served by the sewers which were started June 4, 1959. They were supposed to dump into Detroit, the system's outlet, around June 1 of this year.

This sewer, called the South Oak drain, is now progressing toward the construction stage after years of wrangling among Southfield residents over assessments.

The ultimate in the usage of the Evergreen and Farmington interceptors, constructed with the sale of $1,667,000 general obligation bonds, won't be realized possibly for another 25 years, according to R. J. Alexander, director of the Department of Public Works.

The DPW built the larger interceptors (trunks), while individual communities either built their internal systems or petitioned the DPW to do the work.

During the months of negotiations the completed internal systems north of 14-Mile road temporarily dumped into the old Birmingham treatment plant. Alexander said it will be about 10 days before the link bypassing this plant and connecting into the main interceptor is completed.

Irish Gal and French Poodle

Honors Go to Patti, Jock

A French canine and an Irish colleen won top honors at the city-wide pooch party Saturday.

Patti Doolin, 10, of 331 Elizabeth Lake Road, and her two-year-old poodle Jock won three trophies and the title of best all-around dog.

Judges awarded Patti, a fifth grade pupil at Webster School, second place for her knowledge of dogs and the pair was declared the best pet-owner combination in their class.

Patti is Irish in name only and Jock is about as Americanized as a poodle can be. Even his name is Americanized because, as Patti explained, "I don't know how to spell the name the way the French spell it."

(It would be Jacques in French.)

Patti thinks the 10-week dog obedience course she and Jock completed last year helped her win the titles. Jock won one trophy at the end of the course, another in a Tot-Huron Shopping Center contest and a third at the 1959 pooch party, for good grooming.

Other first place winners, junior division, were Karen Plourde, 10, of 132 Oliver St., best informed owner, and Dennis Kilmer, 10, of 94 Glenwood, best trick dog.

Senior division first place winners included Lorraine Mottberg, 15, of 372 Newport St., best pet combining and best trick dog; Kathy Gould, 13, of 85 Henry Clay St., best informed owner; and Pamela Loucks, 12, of 240 E. Russell St., best groomed dog.

Second and third place winners were (junior division) Mary Stewart, 9, of 2554 Silverdale Dr.; Jeff Buck, 9, of 750 Austere St.; Elaine Steinhilper, 10, of 888 Spencer St.; and Carol Mottberg, 9, of 372 Newport St. (senior division) Brenda Massey, 15, of 648 Lenox St.; Cheryl Montgomery, 14, of 686 Cameron St.; Sandra Etinger, 13, of 145 Oliver St.; and Sharon Albery, 13, of 1624 N. Telegraph Rd.

Nixon Dips South

to Start 'Pat Week'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon makes another one-day job into the once solidly Democratic South today while Republican women start observance of "Pat Week" in honor of his wife.

The Republican presidential nominee and Mrs. Nixon arranged to help launch motercades of women workers to nearby states to try attracting women to the Nixon cause.

Hoping to renew the cracks in the solid South made by President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, Nixon has scheduled stops at Richmond, Va., and Charlotte, N.C., Tuesday he tours New Jersey.

His new campaign trip comes after a day in which he rested at home in Washington, gave some volunteers a pep talk, and issued a "position paper" on medical problems.

The paper called for "a great new offensive against the aged, the sick, the poor, the ignorant, the scoundrels of mankind" and set down a four-point program.

It called for: 1. The award of federal fellowships to pay tuition for medical students, to support medical schools, and to loan money to students.

2. The federal support of medical research, including increased grants.

3. A 10-year accelerated program of building medical facilities and research laboratories.

4. The use of the president's "leadership and full persuasion" to mobilize more private and public support of medical schools, hospitals and institutes.

Nixon ruled out a crash program to wipe out a particular disease like cancer or heart ailments "on grounds that breakthroughs in this field cannot be compared with some in other sciences. But he said research grants should take into account the greatest needs and the best talents.

Ex-Ike Speech Writer

'Defects' to Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Felix Eugene Sklagen, a speech writer for President Eisenhower during the 1952 campaign, has been appointed director of special research for the National Citizens Committee for Kennedy-Johnson.

Sklagen said in a statement Sunday that "The extensive lessons of the past 7-1/2 years of the republican administration . . . have convinced me that Republican leadership has not only failed in its programs and objectives but that it is also bringing us dangerously close to the brink of world disaster."

The report mentioned the North Oakland Library Project, operating out of Pontiac, as an example of initial efforts towards cooperation. The project loans state-owned library books to increase the collections in several participating cities, villages and townships on a revolving basis.

The report suggested, to get the ball rolling, these areas might band together:

1. All the communities north of 14-Mile Road, plus Milford Township, with Pontiac acting as the core city.

2. West Bloomfield, Bloomfield and West communities, with Birmingham's Baldwin Library at the center.

3. The Commerce, Lyon, Novi, Farmington and Southfield areas.

4. The remaining cities in the southeast quadrant of the county.

"The possibilities for cooperation are numerous and exciting," the report concluded.

"The desire for library service and the willingness to support it exists."

"It only needs imaginative leadership and full cooperation to bring full library service to all of Oakland County."

The Day in Birmingham

Hills Residents Ballot on Sewer Bonds Today

BIRMINGHAM — Voters in Bloomfield Hills go to the polls today to decide a $1.5 million bond issue that would be used for the construction of an internal sewer system.

It is the first bond proposal ever placed before city voters.

Only property owners are allowed to vote on the proposition.

The polls, which will be open to 8 p.m., are at city hall on East Long Lake Road and at St. Dunstan's Playhouse on Lone Pine Road.

City officials have indicated they are confident that the sewer program will be accepted if all eligible voters go to the polls.

If approved, it has been estimated that the internal system would cost taxpayers annually an additional $7.30 on each $1,000 assessed valuation.

Another plan, which would not call for the immediate sale of the entire bond issue, would reduce the tax to $6.

At present, the more than 450 homes in the city are served by septic tanks.

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians will appear tomorrow night at the Birmingham Lion's Club annual fall concert.

The concert will be held in the Seaholm High School auditorium at 8:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the concert will be used for the Lion's philanthropic programs, such as aid to the blind and other community projects.

On the program with the Lombardo orchestra, will be the Petticoats, a vocal trio, and Bobby Winters, juggler-comedian.

Dorothy Waldo Phillips, English-born lecturer and author, will continue her visit to Birmingham elementary schools this week.

Mrs. Phillips uses a puppet named Sammy Spivens as a means of generating student discussions about good behavior.

Her all-day visits with children are followed by an evening lecture to parents.

Today she will speak at the Walnut Lake Elementary School, 2027 Walnut Lake Road; Tuesday, Midvale Elementary School, 2121 Midvale Road; and Wednesday at Hillman Elementary School, 3235 Adams Road.

Guest speaker at the Birmingham Woman's Club luncheon program tomorrow at 1 p.m. will be Lavinia Khoram of the General Motors Corporation.

Khoram, who was in charge of the GM exhibition at the American National Exhibition in Moscow last summer, will discuss some of his experience there during his three-month stay.

Just a Pleasant Fall Day All Across Country

—By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a pleasant fall day in most of the country today. There were a few wet spots during the night and it was on the chilly side in some northern areas. Scattered showers were indicated in a few spots.

Temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s across most of the northern third of the country from the Pacific Northwest to Maine. There were some 30s over the ridges in western Montana, the eastern Dakotas and northern Minnesota. It was 23 above at Fraser, Colo.

The southern third of the country was warmer with temperatures in the 60-70 degree range, with the 80s in the Southwest desert region.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Gift for Trying This

Kansas City, Mo. — Here is an improved means of holding rupture that has benefited thousands of ruptured men and women in the last year.

Inconspicuous, without leg straps, elastic belts, body encircling springs or harsh pads, it has caused many to say, "I don't see how it holds so easy. I would not have believed, had I not tried it."

So comfortable — so easy to wear — it could show you the way to joyous freedom from your rupture trouble.

You can't lose by trying. It is sent to you on 30 days trial. You receive a $3.50 special, truss as a gift for making this trial.

Write for descriptive circular. It's free. Just address Physician's Appliance Company, 404 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main, Kansas City 8, Missouri.

But do it today before you lose the address.

Fateful Day Jan. 1 for Rule on 'Donut' Hole

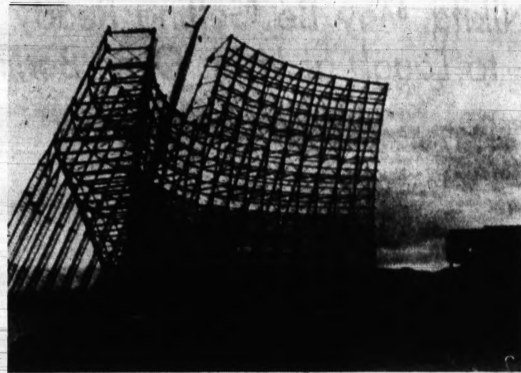

NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the most acute economic barometers in the nation is being watched for signs of change — the hole in the doughnut.

Annual Doughnut Month is upon us and to all observers the three-eighths inch hole which has maintained itself so far in 1960 is expected to have to the same dimension in forthcoming months.

The Donut Institute claims the hole gets larger, during a recession and during inflationary periods.

A momentous decision on the 1916 size of the circular vent in the doughnut will be announced Jan. 1. That's when we'll know the worst.

Debate Ways to Cut President's Load —NAM Blames It on Excess Control

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—How can we take some of the burdens of the president of the United States off the shoulders of the states don't or won't.

Can the nation deal adequately with both its increasing domestic problems and mounting and quick changing foreign turmoil without sighting one for the other?

These are widely debated issues in the presidential campaign. Opinion on how to deal with them differs markedly.

But the National Association of Manufacturers says today that the basic issue involved in both questions is how much the federal

much should be left to the states or to private endeavor.

INVOLVEMENT BLAMED

In a study of the role the federal government should play, the NAM holds that it is increased

ters that adds to the burdens of the presidency and also leads to conflict of emphasis between federal and domestic problems.

The NAM has never been counted

involvement of the federal government in local government duties or in business matters. But the trend toward centralism has gone on steadily. And today NAM charges this is hurting the government in its conduct of defense and survival policies in confused and critical times.

It argues that increased reliance upon the federal government to

lems saps the energies of the president. It also holds that Congress and diplomatic and defense

Opposed to the NAM view is the one holding that federal participation is needed to make the economy stronger, and hence able the needed or desired things. And to ward off outside threats. Cham they contend that the entire nations of centralism hold that from must be economically strong

Washington must do what the if we're to meet outside threats office off the shoulders of the states don't or won't.

WANTS CUTBACK

But the NAM contends this overburdens the president. It says, it isn't fair to the man or to the

endowment, either of physical

ing every detail of the life and work of the citizens. It wants

tional tasks.

—The federal government is asked to give too much time and attention to relatively small matters which states and communities could handle, the NAM contends, asking:

"How can there be firm and

plication in either military preparation or statecraft—when the

scatter their attention over a thousand and one issues, ranging

to juvenile delinquency, from college curricula to waste treatment works, from below-cost housing to rentals to free food stamps?"

The business group argues that states and local communities could bear the cost of local projects if they weren't beguiled by the ease of obtaining federal funds.

Opponents of this view point out that wealth and income tends to concentrate in some states and some localities. These might bear

of the federal tax burden.

But those who favor having the

insist that some states and many communities aren't able to do all the things that are needed.

Name Local Teacher to National Group

A Waterford Township high school teacher, Miss Ruth L. Chamberlin, has been named to a study committee of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE), a professional organization of some 60,000 members and subscribers at all school levels.

She will serve on the committee on English for the general student, which will study programs in language and literature needed by students who are not in college preparatory programs.

The council's goal is to increase the effectiveness of English teaching in the nation's schools.

GRAHAM'S DEBATED TENT — Some 20,000 West Berlin students listened while evangelist Billy Graham spoke inside this giant tent near the East Berlin border last week. The tent has stirred an East-West Berlin controversy. The East Berlin Communist government has demanded the tent be removed from the area and West Berlin has refused.

Calls Nixon Another Dewey

Kennedy Slugs On With New Strategy

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, an oratorical boxer who has suddenly developed into a slugger, tore into Richard M. Nixon again today.

He said the vice president is talking nonsense when he says Republicans and Democrats have similar goals for this country.

Kennedy's busy schedule called for a day-long hunt, by motorcycle and by airplane, for Illinois' 27 electoral votes.

In remarks he prepared for delivery here, Kennedy said:

"Mr. Nixon says he agrees with me on our goals for America, but differs on the means to reach those goals. I say this is nonsense. The goal is meaningless if he refuses to take the only road that will reach it."

Kennedy contended that only a Democrat can lead this country forward.

Kennedy's direct attack on his Republican opponent seems to be a part of a new strategy.

Throughout a non-stop weekend Kennedy flailed away at Nixon. The audience seemed to love Kennedy. Especially one member of his St. Louis audience Sunday night, champion word slinger Harry S. Truman.

The former president enjoyed particularly Kennedy's remark that he noticed Nixon recently called him "another Truman."

"I regard that as a great compliment," Kennedy said. "But observing the content of Mr. Nixon's campaign, I have no hesitation in returning the compliment. I consider him another Dewey."

This reference to Thomas E. Dewey, who was upset by Truman in the 1948 presidential election, got cheers from the 1,500 Democratic faithful who chipped in $100 each for the dinner.

"Like Mr. Dewey, he represents a do-nothing party," said Kennedy. "Like Mr. Dewey, he is a say-nothing candidate, and like Mr. Dewey he will win nothing in November."

Truman tried his hardest to keep Kennedy from getting the Democratic nomination. He even stayed away because he said the whole thing looked rigged.

But you'd never have guessed it Sunday night, Kennedy hurried over to shake Truman's hand, and posed for pictures with him and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, the man Truman wanted for the nomination.

The Coast Guard, it is now estimated, has saved more than 23,000 persons from death at sea.

Chiang Kai-shek Foe on Trial for Sedition

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Lei Chen, leader of an embryonic party opposed to Chiang Kai-shek, went on trial today before a military court on sedition charges.

Lei, a former cabinet minister and publisher of the semi-monthly magazine "Free China," was accused of attempting to incite riots and rebellion and of knowingly providing cover for a Communist agent.

The government denied charges by Lei and other leaders of his China Democratic party that the action against him was politically motivated.

BY PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

West Germans think they have the answer to Nikita Khrushchev's attacks on United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and his demands for recognition of the U.N. secretariat.

They believe his aim is to prepare the ground for rejection of U.N. intervention if the Berlin crisis gets hot.

U.N. effectiveness in the Congo spoiled Khrushchev's plans there and the Germans believe he wants to take no chances that the same thing happens to him in Germany where his prestige stakes would be higher.

Another baby airift: West Germans expect the Communists to step up their campaign against free West Berlin on Oct. 15 in connection with the scheduled meeting of West German veterans' organizations.

The West Berliners expect the Communists to close off Berlin travel to persons attending the meeting, just as they did recently against a meeting of persons expelled from Germany's former Eastern territories. On that occasion, the West instituted a "baby airlift"—circumventing the Communist ban on rail and road travel.

African turmoil: When Britain granted independence to Africa's most populous country, Nigeria, it left tribal and cultural divisions as deep as those in the Congo — but with nothing resembling the Congo mess.

The Nigerians are better educated and more accustomed to government. But, as in the Congo, one region is rich and populous enough to overrule the other two.

In the Congo, it is secessionist Katanga.

In Nigeria it is the rich and feudal north, composing one of Nigeria's three regions.

In addition, tribal rivalries have resulted in demands that the three existing regions be broken into six smaller ones. Rising and violent deaths already have resulted. More are likely.

The bomb: British "genius for compromise" is expected to show at its best in this week's Labor party conference at Scarborough, Yorkshire.

The problem will be whether to support the defense policy of party leader Hugh Gaitskell, which depends on the nuclear deterrent and the Western alliance, or to go with that of Frank Cousins, a powerful trade union leader who wants Britain to abandon nuclear weapons.

The split could cost Gaitskell his job or it could result in a compromise involving partial agreement with both sides. It would satisfy no one but it would leave the party intact.

Huge Damages Award Made at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — One of the largest damage awards ever to come out of Kalamazoo County Circuit Court was approved for two auto accident victims Friday.

Jacob and Nellie Roundhouse were awarded a default judgment of $185,000 growing out of an accident Oct. 2, 1957. Their car was struck by a county road commission truck and both were seriously injured.

Andrew Carnegie gave $800 in 1900 to establish the first band at Pennsylvania State University.

Judith Johnson Marries in Evening Ceremony

Spicy arrangements of white chrysanthemums and orchids adorned the altar in Marmon Baptist Church for Saturday evening vows of Judith Johnson and Richard Womack. The Rev. Philip Somers read the candlelight service before some 400 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gerald Pawley of Lake-side Drive and the late Marie Johnson. The Groom is son of West Brooklyn Avenue are the bridegroom's parents.

Styled with lace neckline and basque waist, the bride's gown of white silk rose-pattern brocade fell into soft pleats and a cathedral train.

Gold roses centered Colonial bouquets of white carnations and stephanotis for bridesmaids

Kay Swenson and Evelyn Kerr of Pontiac and Janice Baker of Union Lake. Phyllis Bart, maid of honor, carried white carnations, orchids and gold roses. They were identical short bouffant dresses of Romance blue satin and veiled headbands edged with pearls.

Attending their cousin were Kathryn Bailey, junior attendant and Jill Pawley, flower girl, in floor-length powder blue silk organza over taffets. They carried white carnations and gold roses.

On the esquire side were best man Ronald Schrubbe; and Paul Beth of Drayton Plains, John C. Bailey and Michael Womack, ushers, and Daniel Bailey, ring-leader.

Upon leaving for Niagara Falls and New York City, the bride changed to a sheer wool sheath dress of Dior blue worn with matching gloves and shoes. The couple will reside in Pontiac.

Extension Group to Meet Tonight

The Maceady Gardens Extension Group will meet at 8 p.m. this evening in the home of Mrs. Richard Garrett on Homestead Drive.

Mrs. Carolyn Schryck, County Extension Agent, will present a non-partisan film on the importance of voting and the results of failure to exercise the freedom of ballot.

The yearbook of the Pontiac Branch, WNF & G, is examined by committee members (from left) Mrs. Edmund S. Rogers of Linden Road, Mrs. Russell H. Galbraith of Cherokee

Just Be Nice, Says Abby

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is my third year at the "U" and history is repeating itself. My mother wrote that her friend's daughter is a freshman here at the "U" and would I please "be nice to Little Pat." Last year I was so busy being nice to "Little Sandy, Little Margie and Little Annie" that I couldn't get started with a girl of my own choice. I just met "Little Pat," to whom I am supposed to "be nice" this year. "Little Pat" is bigger than I am. She is not my type and I don't care for her. Please say something in your column that I can cut out and send to my mother. And make it good. Thanks a bunch.

FALL GUY

DEAR FALL GUY: You can "be nice" to these newcomers without assuming the responsibility personally. Every college man has a few friends in assorted shapes and sizes who would welcome a blind date. Line up a Tall Paul, Fat Pat or Wide Clyde for "Little Pat."

One cat's arsenic is another cat's catnip.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and a pen pal out of the state asked me for my picture. I am not very pretty so I sent him a picture of my girl friend instead. When I told my mother, she hit the ceiling. She said I did wrong. Did I?

NOT PRETTY

DEAR NOT PRETTY: There is an old saying, "Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder." So even though YOU might think you are not pretty—someone else might think you are. Your pen pal obviously liked the personality expressed in your letters. Be yourself, honey. And don't ever be ashamed of your face.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the girl who "preferred" to walk home. Abby, why don't parents teach their children to reverse charges on a telephone call? We taught ours how to do when they reached the dating age.

We assured them they could call us collect and we would come and get them whenever and wherever they wished and there would be no scoldings. They've thanked us many times. For the assurance this knowledge gave them—although they never had to use it.

JUST A MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain how the grandfather knew when he made out his will that the Omaha relative would not attend his funeral?

CONSTANT READER

DEAR READER: He didn't. The grandfather obviously stipulated when he made his will that only the relatives who attended his funeral would receive a sizable inheritance. Those who didn't attend would get one dollar.

Alice Faye Reed Weds

Honeymoon in the East

Lighted candles and greens marked aisle pews in Central Methodist Church for the Saturday afternoon vows of Alice Faye Reed of Sylvan Lake and James H. Patterson of Grand Rapids.

Dr. Milton H. Bank performed the candlelight nuptials before a background of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms in the presence of some 300 guests.

The Gays J. Reeds of Lakeview Drive, Sylvan Lake, were hosts for a dinner-reception at Devon Gables following their daughter's nuptials.

Receiving with them were the James A. Pattersons of Grand Rapids, parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown of white silk chiffon velvet featured a straight front panel, wide back bustle bow and chapel train. Alencon lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, accented the V neckline.

Her elbow-length veil of pure silk French illusion, was attached to a Swedish crown of crystals. A white orchid centered the spray of white roses and stephanotis atop the bride's white Bible.

Mutation shades of satin in fall colors with nylon overskirts and dipped hemlines were worn by attendants who held beige cymbidium orchids, daisy chrysanthemums and croton foliage.

Attending the bride were her sisters Doris Reed, maid of honor, wearing gold shade, with Janet in champagne and Irene in apricot. Also serving as bridesmaids were Beverly Barkeley, wearing cocoa brown and Kaye Newlin in beige.

Doreene Johnson of Sylvan Lake, in floor-length olive green silk brocade, carried rose petals in a wicker basket. John Jackson was best man for his nephew. Guests were seated by William Vansdier, David Bowen, and the bridegroom's cousin William Zoner, all of Grand Rapids, and his uncle, John Rufus, of Livonia. John Patterson carried the rings at his brother's wedding.

For the New England honeymoon, the new Mrs. Patterson donned a wool knit suit of olive green trimmed with mink.

She attended Ferris Institute where her husband received his degree. The couple will live on Salmer Street.

All New Clothes Can Make Gal Self-Conscious

(NEA) — One of the biggest mistakes any teen-ager can make is to turn out for the Big Date in new dress, new shoes, new hairdo. For there's something about new clothes that make you feel self-conscious the first time you wear them. You're aware of them and you shouldn't be if you want to make a good impression.

By all means, buy new clothes for the big evening. But wear them one evening at home for the family. (After all, you can press the dress before you wear it again.) This is the best way to find out if the dress is really comfortable. If it isn't, there is still time for alterations before your date.

Perhaps the shoes you bought don't look quite right with the dress. Exchange them. Breaking in a new outfit this way has saved many a girl from disaster.

Guard Against Excess Fat Baby Needn't Ruin Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Preventative rather than corrective measures are more effective when dealing with any defects in beauty. This is true whatever the cause, but today we want to discuss the "ravages" of pregnancy. You can greatly minimize the tendency to drop, which often follows pregnancy and is especially prevalent when you are nursing your child. The bust becomes heavier during the months you are pregnant and, of course, much heavier during the nursing period.

If you will wear brassieres which are planned for this time, it will make a difference for the better.

These are designed to support the increased weight. Also lie down whenever you nurse your baby.

AVOID MARKS
Many women dislike the little white stretch marks which sometimes follow pregnancy. These usually are unnecessary. In order to avoid them do not gain weight yourself.

Naturally you will weigh more because of the baby and the surroundings, but you yourself do not have to add to the strain with fatty deposits.

Whether or not you wear a maternity foundation garment during your pregnancy is an individual choice. You may be more comfortable in one and, too, it may aid in sidestepping stretch marks.

It also is extremely helpful in avoiding these marks if you will men and thighs and busts with oil or melted cocoa butter. This should be applied each night from the fourth month on.

A maternity girdle also will ease the strain. Most of the physicians I have asked feel that whether to wear a girdle or not is unimportant so far as health is concerned.

Wash Your Linens Before First Use

You launder your table linens after use, of course, but do you also wash them before you use them the first time?

This is so important that some manufacturers even launder their new cloths, napkins, and place mat sets before packaging them for sale — and feature this service in their ads.

A clean cloth, with handling soil and factory sizing washed away, is a softer and more sanitary setting for any meal.

Avoid All White

(NEA)—Any woman with white hair should be careful about buying a white hat unless it has dark veiling, such as navy, purple or black. All white will give her face a ghostly look.

Take the Time

(NEA)—For results that are both natural-looking and glamorous, it is important that you carefully apply foundation make-up. Cover every blemish and blend the make-up to an even tone. Take enough time to apply your eye make-up correctly, and shape your brows and lips carefully.

Let Big Bed Pillow Perform 2 Duties

(UPI)—To convert your big, comfortable bed pillows into colorful cushions for double duty in the den or family room for TV lounging or reading, cover them with ready-made cotton corduroy shams. These completely washable shams are inexpensive, come equipped with zipper closings, and can be had in kelly green, taupe, red, gold and aqua.

Not Proper to Charge for Party

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother will soon celebrate her 80th birthday. She is very active in several charitable organizations, hence she has many acquaintances who feel she is, a remarkable individual, and I'm sure they would all enjoy joining in celebrating her birthday.

We would like to be able to have a luncheon or dinner in some private dining room in a hotel or restaurant where all friends and relatives could be invited. However, family finances are such that it is not possible.

It has been suggested by some that a testimonial type affair be arranged for which those interested could purchase tickets. The cost of the tickets would be sufficient to cover cost of the arrangements but no more.

Others have insisted that such would be very improper procedure and that it would be better not to hold such an event, but to limit it to a family gathering.

However, I feel a large gathering would be much more memorable for my mother with her interest in her many friends. Will you please give me your opinion of this?

Answer: The suggestion for and the arrangement of a testimonial dinner for which tickets are to be sold, should not be made by the family of the person to be honored.

If none of your mother's charitable organizations wish to sponsor a testimonial celebration for her, it will be better to limit her birthday party to a family gathering.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper for a young woman who is marrying a widower with children to wear bridal clothes and have a large church wedding and reception? The bride has never been married. The young woman in question is a very conservative person and does not want to do anything that might cause criticism.

Answer: The bride's clothes and all of the details of the wedding — indicate her own status, not that of the bridegroom. In the situation you describe the bride may, of course, wear bridal clothes, have as many attendants as she chooses and every other detail that is pleasing to her.

Dear Mrs. Post: It is the proper way to eat a sticky cinnamon bun at the breakfast table? I say it should be eaten with a knife and fork because it makes the hands sticky. My husband's answer to this is, "Whoever heard of eating a cinnamon bun with a knife and fork?"

Answer: I agree with your husband absolutely.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening a friend and I had dinner at one of the hotels here in town. For the first course we were served fresh pineapple cut into moon shaped quarters.

The edible part of the pineapple was cut into small triangular pieces and set back into the pineapple skin. On top of one of the pieces of pineapple was a toothpick with a cherry on it. My friend used the toothpick to pick up the pieces of pineapple.

I used a fork. I think he was wrong to use the toothpick. Will you please tell me which one of us was right?

Answer: You were right in using a fork. The toothpick was only to hold the cherry in place.

Naturally, the condition of the abdominal muscles and other considerations play a part in the decision as to whether or not to wear a girdle during those nine months.

Also, you should be guided by your physician.

TAKE EXERCISES
You no longer can blame the loss of your figure on your child. There is no permanent widening of the bony structure. You will have some stretched abdominal muscles which can be snapped back into form with special exercises. Take them as soon as your doctor says you can. This is usually about six weeks after delivery.

Hand Washing Is Serious Matter

Hand washing with soap and water immediately after each job is a good rule for do-it-yourself addicts who handle chemicals and substances which may cause skin irritation or infections.

Hunters, fishermen, gardeners, wood workers all need to take the hand washing routine seriously. This advice is from Dr. Donald J. Birmingham, Chief Dermatologist, Occupational Health Service, the United States Department of Public Health.

Roll Up Vegetables in Meat Pinwheel

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor
Maybe your children will love Pinwheel Meat Loaf as well as Mrs. John Driver's children do. It's a dish that combines meat, potatoes and vegetables all in one.

Mrs. Driver likes to bowl, swim and do oil painting. She works part time.

PINWHEEL MEAT LOAF

By Mrs. John Driver
Make up your favorite recipe for meat loaf. Mrs. Driver uses two pounds of beef for her family, plus the usual bread crumbs, egg, and milk. Prepare 2 cups of mashed potatoes.

Lay out a piece of aluminum foil with a piece of waxed paper on top of it. Spread meat mixture on waxed paper. Spread mashed potatoes over meat.

Cover with contents of a can peas and carrots or mixed vegetables. Season with salt, pepper and butter.

Roll up like jelly roll, peeling the waxed paper off as you go. The roll will then be on the foil. Turn up the sides to catch any juices. Bake 45-60 minutes in 350-degree oven. Slice to serve.

Bengals' Record Worst Since '54

DETROIT (UP)—Despite some startling trades, lineup-juggling, fireworks after the games, clowns and bands, the Detroit Tigers finished the 1960 season in sixth place with their worst win-loss record since 1954.

The Tigers opened the season last spring with a five-game winning streak and fans hoped for at least another fourth-place finish. Detroit finished fourth in the American League in 1959.

Gordie Wrenches His Knee

Howe's Injury Hurts Wings

DETROIT (UP)—The Detroit Red Wings' hopes for a fast start during the National Hockey League season, which opens Wednesday night, suffered a damaging blow yesterday with the news that Gordie Howe may be sidelined for the first three games.

Hydroplane Title Goes to Muncey

Seattle Driver Wins It in Governor's Cup Race With Miss Thriftway

MADISON, Ind. (UP)—Bill Muncey of Seattle captured the Governor's Cup race yesterday at 102.66 miles an hour and clinched the national unlimited hydroplane championship for his boat, Miss Thriftway.

Muncey had an even faster preliminary heat at 105.68 miles an hour in the 15-mile runs on the Ohio River. He won all three of his heats in the two-day show, which drew a crowd estimated by state police at 65,000 for the final.

Seattle boats took three of four places in the championship heat and the driver also was from Seattle. Bill Brown finished second in Miss Birchard at 101.67, Ron Musson was third at a flat 100 in Dam Du Pont's Nitrogen II, from Wilmington, Del., and Bob Day.

Gilliam took fourth in Kool-Roy. The Maples totaled 63 points at Jackson and Flint Southwestern finished second with 74 each. East but the engine conked out.

Musson, last year's winner in the title of 13 schools.

Bill Heydon came in 5th in the fastest preliminary five-mile mile of 10:48 to pace Seaholm. Jack lap at 106.9 miles an hour but McPhee was 7th in 10:49, Ted Egan 12th in 10:56, Mike Greg 17th in 11:03 and 22nd was Scotty Parris in 11:08.

Individual victory for the meet was Roger Stevens of Kalamazoo Center.

The Maples will be a strong candidate for All-Oakland County honors at Wallick Lake Saturday, they compete at East Detroit Tuesday and Royal Oak Dondro Thursday.

Fairfield, Ill. (UP)—Race driver James Packard, 22, of Indianapolis, was killed Saturday during a turn during time trials at the Fairfield Fair Grounds.

Individual victory for the meet was Roger Stevens of Kalamazoo Center.

By The Associated Press

Putting first things first at the finish, the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates rolled into their first World Series in 33 years with their first batting champion in two decades after winning 85 games in the National League season for the first time since 1925.

One week after clinching their first flag since 1927, the Bucs wrapped up the regular season with a 9-5 victory over the second-place Milwaukee Braves Sunday. And they did it by whipping Lew Burdette, blocking his bid for a third consecutive 20-victory season and completing a somewhat fantastic bout against the top pitcher in the NL.

It was the Pirates' second victory over Burdette in three decisions, and it came on the heels of their fifth victory over Warren Spahn in six decisions this season.

That gave the Pittsburghers a 7-2 record against the two Milwaukee aces, who won 40 between them.

Dick Groat, back in the lineup for the final two games and feeling no pain from his injured leg, started the first batting champion to be won by a Pirate since Deb Garms hit .355 in 1940.

Two-slugger total of 250 RBIs. Aaron was second in the home run race behind the Cubs' Ernie Banks, who hit 41. Aaron had 40 and Matthews, third, hit 39.

Lefty Mike McCormick (15-12) was second in the home run race behind the Cubs' Ernie Banks, who hit 41. Aaron had 40 and Matthews, third, hit 39.

HOW HURRICANES ARE BORN

DEADLY SPIN — Birth of a cyclonic storm occurs when, for some reason not completely understood, a very large mass of warm air rises at one time. Relatively colder air rushes in beneath. Spin of the earth deflects this great mass of air, the typical spiral formation of a hurricane begins to form, and the storm travels in direction of prevailing winds. Storms spin counterclockwise north of the equator; clockwise to the south. So long as the storm has a supply of water and very humid air, it can perpetuate itself. Once it moves over land the chain is broken and the storm dies eventually.

2 Engines Fail in Flight

Plane Sputters; 153 Safe

CHICAGO (AP) — Only thank God that the power failure came once we had altitude. If this had occurred during take-off 153 persons probably would have died.

Hans Mueller-Nalbach, Luftthaus Germania Airlines captain, was talking with reporters Sunday after he landed an airliner with two of its four engines out and 143 passengers and 10 crewmen aboard.

Shortly after a pre-dawn take-off for Frankfurt, two engines of his huge Boeing 707 failed and Mueller-Nalbach climbed precariously over Lake Michigan for nearly an hour, jettisoning 7,000 pounds of fuel.

"They say that once in his life, a captain really earns his pay. Last night was my turn," said Mueller-Nalbach a veteran of 22 years of flying.

Hope Is Off Tonight With Another Romp

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The sage of Toluca Lake said his roiling green acres, fingering a golf club and talking about the craft of comedy.

Bob Hope enters the second decade in television to night with another of his monthly NBC romps. Never one to keep such things secret, he consented to take time from his complex business affairs to give an interview.

Though Red Skelton appears more regularly, Hope is the only comedian who has to survive a regular stint in TV and still maintain his career in films. He has no despair for the future of comedy.

"People ask where the new comics will come from," he remarked. "I'm not worried. There are plenty of good ones coming up through the rough, tough school of night clubs and local TV."

"That's the only way they'll develop: through the school of hard knocks. NBC found that out when they tried to run a school for young comedians. The network found out there weren't any teachers."

LISTS NEWCOMERS

Hope ran through the names of some of the newcomers. Mort Sahl ("Just great; he's got a fresh style of delivery that is terrific"), Shelley Berman ("Fantastic; that airplane routine made quite an impression—put three airlines out of business"). Dick Shawn ("Clever, brilliant"), Sheeky Green ("A scream").

"A surprising enthusiasm of Hope's is Lenore Bruce, who has a lot of letter words and admittedly sick humor has been lambasted by critics.

"Yes, I know he uses locker-room humor," Hope said, "but the guy is opening up new realms of comedy. Some of his stuff is brilliant."

"Actually, sick comedy isn't very new at all. Some of the material we used to do with Jerry Colonna was pretty far-out. The difference is that today you can get away with more."

Can a master comic like Bob Hope enjoy other comedians? "Absolutely," he replied, "I can laugh as much as anybody. Of course, I won't laugh at anything that is old or contrived."

He watches the work of his colleagues and enjoys them. Among his favorites: Groucho Marx, Milton Berle, Red Skelton ("He has grown tremendously"), Jackie Gleason ("A great character—a beefy, dressed-up burlesque clown").

What Hope doesn't like is comics who play it humble. He feels it clear that he believes the funnyman's mission is to be funny, not to pose as the warm-hearted friend of humanity.

Prisoner Says 23 Jails Could Give References

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Laura Hanson, who at present is in the Wichita Falls, Tex., jail, wrote a letter to Hidalgo County Dist. Atty. Robert Lattimore asking him to drop felony charges against her and her husband.

"We have never been in any kind of trouble before and I'm sure that any of the 23 jails that we have been in would tell you we have an excellent record of behavior," the letter stated.
