Seaway Bill Delayed in Committee

April 1st Is Set for Its Decision on House Vote

Postponement Seen as Double Shuffle to Harm Waterways Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Rules Committee today put off until April 1 a decision on whether to send the Senate-approved St. Lawrence Seaway bill to the House for a vote.

Seaway supporters, who had hoped for a committee vote today, were disappointed by the postponement. One, Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn), told reporters:

"This (action to postpone) is a double shuffle in which they (the opponents) are taking every advantage to delay."

Rep. Dondero (R-Mich), chairman of the House Public Works Committee that approved the bill on Feb. 3 by a 23-6 vote, said he was not sure if the delay would jeopardize the bill's chances on the floor.

Chairman Allen (R-Ill), in announcing the postponement, explained that because of his approaching primary contest he would necessarily be away from Washington until April 1.

Allen earlier had predicted that the committee would approve the bill.

He also predicted House passage of the bill.

The bill would authorize the United States to join with Canada in building a 27-foot deep Atlantic to the Great Lakes waterway. Estimated cost to the United States is about 105 million dollars.

The money would be raised through sale of government-guaranteed revenue bonds. Amortization of the costs, over a 50-year period, would be through tolls on shipping.

Rep. Dondero (R-Mich), chairman of the House Public Works Committee that has approved the measure by a vote of 23 to 6, said engineers' estimates of seaway cargo clearly show that amortization can be accomplished — "and the seaway made to pay for itself."

He said Labrador iron ore would be one of the principal items of seaway cargo.

Dondero asked the rules committee to allow four hours debate in the House on the bill.

The committee, largely because of President Eisenhower's support of the project, is expected to act favorably — but probably not before hearing extensive argument.

An earlier hearing had been scheduled by the committee but was postponed because of the shooting in the House when five members were wounded by Puerto Ricans.

One of the wounded was Rep. Fallon (D-Md), an opponent of the project. He is expected to oppose the bill's approval at today's committee hearing.

The proposal, kicked around by Congress for more than 20 years, authorizes the United States to

Douglas to Try for More Reductions in Excise Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hill (D-Ala) said today that "prospects are favorable" for Senate adoption of a proposed $200 increase in personal exemptions for individual income taxpayers.

But Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee, which will consider a House-approved tax revision bill, said he wasn't conceding anything on this score.

Administration forces last week defeated, 210-204, an attempt by House Democrats to tack a $100 exemption increase on the general revision bill.

And another tax-cutting effort by a Democrat was announced last night by Sen. Douglas of Illinois. He said he will try to write 382 million dollars more reductions into the excise tax bill now in the Senate.

He said on the Meet Your Congress television program he proposes reductions on "necessities and nonluxuries." He said the cuts he advocates could mean a $50 price reduction on automobiles and about $25 on such appliances as refrigerators.

He said the big tax revision bill now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee "gives the average taxpayer a $6 a year reduction in his tax load, while slicing $1,700 a year from the taxes paid by the average stock owner making more than $10,000 annually."

Rep. Kean (R-NJ) on the same program said he knew of no one who had caused more jobs to be lost than had Douglas "through his preaching of gloom all the time" and Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) said the Illinois Senator was spreading "fear psychology."

But Douglas insisted he is merely "reporting the facts."

The income tax fight now centers on a proposal by Sen. George (D-Ga) to lift the present exemption allowed for each taxpayer and dependent from $600 to $800 in the next year and $1,000 thereafter as a means of increasing consumer purchasing power. Each $100 increase is estimated to cost the government $2,400,000,000 yearly in revenue.

Battle Renews in Indochina

French Report Violent Fighting Again Around Besieged Fortress

HANOI, Indochina (UP) — The French High Command announced today that violent fighting has broken out again at surrounded Dien Bien Phu and indicated that rebel infiltrators had penetrated close to the heart of the French defenses.

They were trying to open up a road to the fortress' southernmost strong point which the rebels cut off more than a week ago.

In fighting in which 14 Reds were killed and others wounded or captured, the troops found that the Reds had wormed their way between the French positions — possibly in readiness for new major assaults.

It was feared that the relaxation of enemy pressure was merely the calm before a new storm.

Spring Offers Inviting Smile, Cool Reception

While this area basked under cloudless skies, light snow fell in the Dakotas, Minnesota and over the Rockies. Rain fell in southern California, Arizona and Western New Mexico.

Most of the East — and Pontiac was no exception — reported below-freezing temperatures Sunday, the first full day of spring. Spring arrived at 10:54 p. m. Saturday.

The mercury rose from a chilly 21-degree low yesterday to a high of 36. A 22-42 degree temperature range was recorded here Saturday.

Although sunshine warmed the Pontiac area again this morning, the U. S. Weather Bureau expects overcast skies and light rain later today.

Cloudy skies and a low of from 34 to 38 are forecast tonight, with a high of from 39 to 43 due tomorrow.

The temperature rose from 24 at 8 a. m. today to 42 at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac.

One Dies, 4 Hurt on 10-Mile Road

Highland Park Woman Thrown Under Auto in Two-Car Crash

A Highland Park housewife was killed and four other persons seriously injured today when two cars collided at Orchard Lake road and Ten Mile road in Farmington, according to Farmington Police.

Mrs. Marguerite Abraham, 56, of 165 California, Highland Park, was killed instantly when one of the cars rolled over her.

The collision occurred when Mrs. Abraham's husband, Samuel, 68, ran a stop sign at the intersection and his cars crashed into an auto driven by Robert J. Hargreavs, 21, of 30900 Orchard Lake Rd., Farmington, according to Farmington Patrolman Robert Farrow.

The Abraham's were taking their daughter, Marquerite, 20, to school at Michigan State College in East Lansing. Hargreavs and his wife, Barbara, 19, were driving to work in Plymouth. All were taken to Redford Receiving Hospital for treatment.

Abraham is in critical condition with possible spine fracture and severe face and rib cuts. His daughter, Marguerite, is in serious condition with fractured ribs, cerebral concussion and head cuts, Farrow said.

Hargreavs has a fractured spine, and Mrs. Hargreavs suffered rib fractures.

13 Traffic Fatals Mar Spring's First Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring's first weekend brought death to 13 persons in Michigan automobile traffic.

Seven persons were killed in two separate collisions.

One of the other victims was Mrs. Agnes Irene Milner, 54, widow of the hotel chain owner who drowned in a freakish car mishap.

A car driven by the caretaker of Mrs. Milner's Pearl-beach home in St. Clair County plunged into a drainage ditch near Mt. Clemens Sunday.

The car half-submerged and Mrs. Milner, according to reports to state police, drowned while vainly struggling to free herself after sending the caretaker for help.

Mrs. Milner was the third wife of hotelman Earle R. Milner. She was president of the hotel chain Milner-Earle Hotels, Inc.

A Decatur school janitor and his wife and sister-in-law were killed Sunday when their pickup truck collided with a Chicago-bound New York Central passenger train.

Four persons were killed Friday night in a two-car crash 12 miles northeast of Manistee. Killed were Roland H. Miller, 24, and George Hulinek, Jr., 22, both of Onekama and Everton L. Anderson, about 21, and Herman Ziehm, 65, both of Kaleva.

Sgt. Perry L. Critchell, 43, commander of the Wakefield State Police Post, was killed Saturday. His new patrol car and a car driven by Mrs. Margaret Sampsel, 34, of Roscommon, collided at an intersection of U.S. 16 near Grayling. Mrs. Sampsel was injured.

Roscoe V. Hall Jr., 24, and Clyde J. Feltes, 20, both of Detroit, were killed Sunday when their car crashed through a concrete guard rail on the Willow Run Expressway on Detroit's western outskirts.

James D. Lachniet, 7, was killed Saturday when, sheriff's deputies said, he ran in front of a car on South Beltline on the edge of the Grand Rapids city limits. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lachniet of Grand Rapids.

March Breakins Now Up to 41

3 More on Weekend Sees All Available Men on Detective Duty

Three breakins reported over the weekend boosted the March total to 41, the highest in several years, according to Pontiac police.

Willard Jones, owner of the Reliable Auto Sales, 260 Oakland Ave., and Rudolph Nosek, of 206 E. Wilson Ave., reported the breakins.

Roland R. Dennis, owner of a shoe repair store at 234 E. Pike St., reported that $12.70 was taken from a cash register after thieves ransacked his store.

The Nosek home was ransacked and a safe in the auto sales building had been tampered with, police said.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, said every available man has been assigned to investigate the rash of breakins. All but seven were reported over the past 16 days.

Pontiac Will Be Affected If Detroit Changes Time

Although Detroit is some 25 miles away, Pontiac still has a stake in its decision on whether or not to adopt daylight savings time.

Because if the Motor City sets its clocks ahead an hour to give sports fans more daylight, Pontiac probably will have to follow suit.

"Pontiac and Detroit's industrial operations are so closely tied together, it would be a necessity to keep both cities running on the same timetable," explained Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart.

Ewart said confusion in several respects would result if each city was operating on a different time.

Recent pleas by Detroiters for the daylight savings time, discontinued here and in Detroit in 1948, threatened to bring on the annual controversy.

Daylight savings time was discontinued in Pontiac in 1948, the same year when Detroit also ruled

Call Witnesses in Police Probe

DETROIT (AP) — First witnesses were scheduled to be called today before a one-man grand jury investigating alleged bribe-taking by Detroit policemen from suspected gamblers.

Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara, the juror, said he didn't know how many witnesses he would call in the first day and that some who appeared likely would not be questioned immediately.

Thirteen policemen were suspended last week. Mayor Albert Cobo said the city had movies of some taking gifts and money from persons he described as "known gamblers."

Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said as many as 65 of the city's 4,222 policemen may be called in for questioning about associations with suspected numbers racket operators.

No formal charges have been placed against any of the 13 suspended policemen.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph G. Rashid has been assigned to assist Judge O'Hara. Nine especially picked policemen, including four inspectors, are on the investigating staff.

Judge O'Hara's inquiry, like all grand jury proceedings, will be cloaked in secrecy. He has even sworn in O'Brien as an aide so that he can discuss the case only with O'Hara and his staff.

Senator Wants Lie Tests Given to All Witnesses

Many GOP Colleagues Believe He Should Quit Committee During Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sentiment appeared to be building up among Senate Republican leaders today that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) should step all the way off his investigations subcommittee while it looks into his roaring quarrel with the Army.

From McCarthy came announcement of a tentative decision not to do so and a suggestion that the committee employ lie detectors to get at the truth of his controversy with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

The subcommittee plans to meet tomorrow to discuss procedure for its hearings, no date for which has been fixed.

McCarthy, voicing "complete confidence in this scientific instrument when it is operated properly," said he will suggest then the use of lie detectors if all the witnesses agree. He plans to testify himself.

"The American public is entitled to the truth in the matters we are about to investigate in Washington," the senator said in a statement. ". . . I plan to recommend to the . . . subcommittee . . . that it ask all witnesses who may have knowledge of this case, including myself, whether they would be willing to submit to a scientific lie detector test . . .

"It is up to the full subcommittee to determine whether this is proper procedure."

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said in an interview he doesn't want to interfere in the committee's functions, but he thinks McCarthy should volunteer not to question witnesses not to vote on issues before the group. McCarthy has said he plans not to vote "on any final decisions or conclusions" of the subcommittee.

Knowland said in an interview:

"Since the senator has agreed to be sworn and to testify as a witness, I would think the procedure would be for him to voluntarily step aside and not attempt to participate in the questioning of other witnesses."

On the other hand, Sen. Potter (R-Mich), a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, said he for one isn't going to insist that McCarthy give up his place as a committee member, even temporarily, if the Wisconsin senator chooses another course. Besides McCarthy, the group includes three Republicans and three Democrats.

Potter's Michigan colleague, Sen. Ferguson, took a position similar to Knowland's. Ferguson, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, was asked on a CBS television program yesterday whether he thinks McCarthy should step off the subcommittee

GOP Leaders Pessimistic Over Ousting Sen. Chavez

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican leaders were privately gloomy about their chances of unseating Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) as the Senate launched debate today on a GOP resolution declaring his election "no contest."

The Democrats, on the other hand, were optimistic about being able to beat down the Republican move and formally to remove the longstanding threat to Chavez' position in the Senate.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo) lone Democrat on the elections subcommittee which investigated the disputed 1952 Senate race in New Mexico, said he is confident "an overwhelming majority of senators" will vote to reject the GOP resolution.

Sen. Frank A. Barrett (R-Wyo.), chairman of the three-man subcommittee, countered that the Senate "cannot overlook the report filed by our committee."

That report, written by the Republican majority, said the group's investigation showed widespread violation of election laws in the battle between Chavez and his perennial Republican opponent, former Ambassador Patrick J. Hurley.

It did not accuse either Chavez or Hurley of wrongdoing but recommended that the election be declared void. The resolution based on the report would unseat Chavez and ask Republican Gov. Edwin Mechem to fill the vacancy.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he hopes to get a vote on the resolution tomorrow afternoon. He would not speculate on the outcome. The Democrats hold a one-vote edge in the Senate.

Hennings, who issued a strongly-worded, 40-page minority report Saturday, said he thinks Chavez will win the test with the votes of "Republicans as well as Democrats."

Ferguson Stands by to Consider Cuts in Income Tax as Anti-Recession Move

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) urged "serious consideration" today for development of a plan for cutting income taxes as a standby anti-depression measure.

The idea was advanced by the Committee for Economic Development, a bipartisan group of top business leaders, as the keystone of a "defense against recession" program.

"Having been one who thought that the cost of government is too high and taxes too high," said Ferguson, "I certainly want to get all the facts and give this serious consideration."

Ferguson is chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Under the committee plan, Eisenhower and congressional leaders would agree now on a "substantial" across-the-board reduction in income taxes that could be put into effect quickly to bolster consumer purchasing power if business gets bad enough.

Committee spokesmen declined to say exactly how large the tax cut should be. But they said if business failed to turn upward after the initial emergency tax cut, income taxes should be reduced further.

They would not say how bad economic conditions would have to be to warrant putting the emergency tax cut into effect.

The committee spokesmen approved generally of President Eisenhower's program to combat the present business decline.

They said they did not believe the present situation is serious enough to warrant larger tax reductions or other steps in addition to those already recommended by Eisenhower.

Emergency measures recommended for the federal government to offset a depression, if one should be indicated, include increases in public works spending and liberalization of terms of federal loans and loan-guarantees.

Detroit Time Switch Would Affect City

The Detroit Common Council later set up an ordinance designating Eastern Standard Time as that city's official time. According to the ruling, the city could order daylight time only by repealing the ordinance.

In past years, the question of time drew applause and protests at City Commission meetings here.

Sports fans and recreational leaders agreed that daylight time would be a boon to Pontiac recreational programs. Factory workers also favored the time which would give them more outdoor hours before sundown.

But farmers and milk producers fought the measure. Farmers, who start work at sunrise, protested the new time would reduce the working hours of hired help. Dairymen said daylight savings time would lower milk output by 10 per cent.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the question of new time has not arisen in Pontiac, and he believes it would resurrect many old arguments and confusion as in past years.

The daylight savings time problem has not been considered by Oakland County officials either.

One county source said, "It would be highly confusing for the rest of the county if Pontiac and Detroit decided to go on daylight savings time. It would involve the same old arguments among farmers, factory workers and other residents."

Ewart said the legal time for this state is Eastern Standard Time.

But the state law, according to Ewart, provides that a home rule city such as Pontiac can change to daylight savings time.

McCarthy Asks Spying Report

Appropriations Hearing Disrupted by Senator's Demands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) clashed with other senators today by demanding that Atty. Gen. Brownell report at an appropriations hearing on what McCarthy called a case involving the "prosecution for espionage" of a newspaper man.

Naming no names, McCarthy told Brownell at a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing that the case was "still pigeonholed."

Sen. Ellender (D-La) said: "I thought we met here to consider appropriations."

And Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) said: "We are not here to try an espionage case."

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), subcommittee chairman and also a member of McCarthy's Investigations subcommittee, said he thought McCarran's point was "well taken."

Brownell and other Justice Department officials were testifying on the department's money needs for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The session had been scheduled to take place behind closed doors. After it started, however, reporters and photographers were admitted. McCarthy said he had asked that the hearing be open.

He said "two young men" in the Justice Department had been working on a case of alleged espionage by a newspaperman before the Eisenhower administration came into office. He said he was "very much disturbed" that no action had been taken.

The two young Justice Department lawyers, McCarthy said, recommended prosecution but the case is "still pigeonholed." He asked Brownell for an explanation.

Brownell said he had not heard about the case before. He promised to examine the record and report to McCarthy tomorrow.

Governor OKs School Merging

Law Lets Oakland and Wayne Offer Plan for Handicapped Children

Gov. G. Mennen Williams today signed the Oakland County-promoted legislation which will allow school districts to merge in order to provide special education for handicapped children.

Unaminous approval greeted the bill recently in both the House of Representatives, where it was presented by Rep. William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), and then in the Senate.

The governor's signing allows both Oakland and Wayne counties to present the proposal for special millage to the electors at regular school election time this spring.

William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendant of schools and spokesman for the drafting group, said that the Oakland County board would consider the bill Thursday night at their regular meeting.

If approved by the board, the electors will decide the issue. The bill advises that the county board of education review the legislation prior to going before the voters.

The legislation, originally drafted by a committee from the county superintendants' group, followed two years of special investigation into the educational needs of handicapped boys and girls who cannot attend regular schools.

Their figures revealed that hundreds of educable youngsters were not getting an adequate educational program because of the lack of facilities.

One-half mill, said Emerson, would raise about $500,000. This, he pointed out, would get a cooperative program under way for the entire county.

The program will be under the jurisdiction of the county board of education, but several adjacent school districts may combine selecting the center district for the site of its special education program.

68 Iron Curtain Escapees Due in U. S. Today

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sixty-eight escapees from behind the Iron Curtain are scheduled to arrive in Washington today to begin new lives in the United States.

Aboard the "Freedom Flight" which left Munich, Germany, Sunday, will be 25 escapees from Czechoslovakia, 17 from Russia, 12 from Hungary, six from Poland and eight from other Communist-dominated countries. Ages of the escapees varies from two to 65.

They will be met at Washington's airport by Foreign Operations Director Harold Stassen, Mrs. Dorothy Houghton, assistant FOA Director for Refugees and Migration, and a group of other officials connected with the escapee program.

The program was launched just two years ago today when funds were allocated under the Mutual Security Act.

More than 20 American voluntary welfare agencies are cooperating in the program, both in this country and in Europe. Each of the 16 families and individuals arriving today has been sponsored by either the Tolstoy Foundation, the American Fund for Czechoslovak Refugees, or the National Catholic Welfare Conference. The sponsoring agencies have found homes and jobs for the escapees, and will help them get settled in their new communities.

ROYAL OAK (INS)—Lee C. Abrams, vice president and cashier of the Wayne-Oakland Bank in Royal Oak since 1939, died suddenly Sunday in his home in Detroit.

Abrams was a native of Kalamazoo and launched his banking career unpretentiously in 1914 as a messenger for the Highland Park State Bank.

Funeral will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Harris Funeral Home, 14751 W. McNichols Rd., with burial in White Chapel cemetery.

Fire Association to Protest Rating Given to Pontiac

Because Pontiac and other neighboring cities' fire protection was only rated as fair in the April issue of a national magazine, the National Fire Protective Assn. said it would protest the ratings.

The magazine ranked Bay City, Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo and Lansing as having "poor" fire protection. Those ranked with Pontiac are Saginaw, Flint and Detroit, the magazine stated.

The NFPA said it would send its protest to the publication for implying in its article that the association was involved in compiling the ratings. Bay City Fire Chief J. L. Trudell termed the ratings a "disgusting thing" and said he also would forward his protest.

McCarthy Urged Not to Lead Probe

for the duration of this inquiry.

"I do," Ferguson replied. "I feel that under the circumstances where his subcommittee is going to make this investigation in relation to the personnel of the subcommittee that he should excuse himself as is usually done in courts by judges that have anything to do with the matters before them."

McCarthy said in a statement yesterday he had agreed with Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will preside over the hearings, that he should not vote in any question pertaining to the investigation.

"I shall be a witness," he added, "and I do wish to cross examine other witnesses. In all fairness, I feel this right of cross examination should be extended to the Army officials involved . . ."

* * *

That was his reaction to a Democratic suggestion that he step off the subcommittee. It was made Saturday night by a subcommittee member, Sen. Symington (D-Mo), who said in a statement that if McCarthy wants to "appear in the triple role of accusing witness as well as prosecutor and judge" the Democrats will carry a fight against such an arrangement to the parent Government Operations Committee.

McCarthy also heads the full committee.

Symington said that if McCarthy doesn't step aside as a voting and cross-examining member and is upheld in this role, he will attempt to shift the inquiry to the Senate Armed Services Committee. He is a member of this group; McCarthy is not.

* * *

The McCarthy-Army dispute focuses around Secretary Stevens' assertion that McCarthy and his subcommittee's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, sought favored Army treatment for Pvt G. David Schine. Schine was an unpaid consultant to the committee before being drafted.

Cohn disputed that. He and McCarthy joined in accusing Stevens and his aides of trying to "blackmail" the subcommittee into dropping its inquiry into alleged communism in the Army by using Schine as a "hostage." Stevens termed this "fantastic."

Taking note of this in his statement about lie detectors, McCarthy said the issue is "certainly more important than any murder case which, as a (Wisconsin state) judge, I ever tried."

* * *

He added that use of a lie detector, which records the physical reaction of a person to questioning, would be possible only if all prospective witnesses were willing. "And I hope they will be," he added.

Friends Honor Couple on 50th Anniversary

KEEGO HARBOR — Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Tanner of Pontiac were honored at a 50th anniversary open house at the home of their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Harold Washburn, here Sunday afternoon.

In the guest book were inscribed the names of 35 relatives and friends who called.

Assisting the host and hostess were the couple's other daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Soper.

The Tanners were married at Windsor, Ont. March 19, 1904, and were residents here for 20 years before moving to Blaine street, Pontiac.

Their only son, Edward F. Tanner, was killed in England during World War II while serving with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Committee Holds Up Seaway Bill Move

build the International Rapids sections of the waterway which, proan estimated cost of about 100 million dollars.

Canada will build the other sections of the waterways which, proponents claim, will permit most of the world's shipping to enter the Great Lakes from the Atlantic.

Opponents, largely railroads, Eastern and Gulf Port cities and coal interests, contend the seaway is an "economic monstrosity."

The United States' share of the financing is proposed to be met through the sale of Treasury-guaranteed revenue bonds. Ships using the seaway would pay tolls.

In the event the house follows the Senate action in approving the bill, construction would probably start shortly after Eisenhower signs the measure.

Canada has indicated it is eager to get going on the project. And, should the bill fail in the House, Canada has said it will build the seaway on its own side of the St. Lawrence River.

15-Block Sprint Eases His Mind About Sore Head

JACKSON (AP)—Thomas Wright, of Jackson, ran 15 blocks to Mercy Hospital. He thought he'd been shot in the head.

But when he got there doctors could find only a scalp cut.

Wright explained it this way:

He was standing on a street corner Sunday when a man walked up and asked him for some money. Wright refused. Whereupon the man pulled a pistol and whammed Wright over the head, the gun firing as he did so.

Wright frantically streaked for the hospital. He had a sore head, but much more peace of mind when he was dismissed a few minutes later.

Deputies Nab Man on Drunk Charge

A Clarkston man accused of hitting four cars with his truck Saturday night was arrested by Oakland County sheriff's deputies on a drunk and disorderly charge as he slept in his parked truck.

The driver, Donald W. Ervin, 34, of 5330 Pine Knob Rd., is accused of side-swiping a car driven by David L. Hobbin, of Lapeer, on Opdyke at Featherstone Rds. Witnesses said he continued north on Opdyke and side-swiped another car driven by Stanley Christensen, of 2165 Pontiac Rd., Pontiac Township.

Hobbins and Christensen followed Ervin's truck to the Country View Tavern parking lot at 2701 Lapeer Rd., Pontiac Township, where Ervin had run into two parked cars and then fallen asleep.

Philippines Ask U.S. Investments

Visitor From Islands Says Filipinos in Need of American Cash

DETROIT (AP) — A businessman from the Philippines, in the United States on a good will mission, wants American industry to make more investments in his country.

The plea comes from Teofilo D. Reyes, factory owner of the islands, business college dean of the University of Manila, and chairman of the Filipino Trade and Good Will Mission.

"We need capital and technical know-how," Reyes said in an interview in which he called the United States the Philippines' "best friends."

"We have smashed the Communist-led Huks and have started rural improvement and road building programs," he said.

Reyes mentioned Japanese competition against the United States for the Philippines market. He said Japan is trying to capture the islands market despite tariffs on Japanese goods as distinguished from the absence of tariffs on U. S. imports.

He described the Japanese as "very clever."

"They renamed a Japanese town 'U. S. A.,'" he said, "and when the products first started to come in we thought they were made in this country. We corrected this, however."

In Detroit, Reyes combined his good will mission efforts with a family reunion. He visited a sister, Mrs. Donato Teodoro, whom he had not seen in 20 years.

Big Decisions Facing Solons

FEPC, TV Beer Ads and Jobless Aid Among Issues in Legislature

LANSING (AP) — Big decisions—FEPC, TV beer ads, lobbyists, unemployment compensation and budgets—face the Michigan Legislature this week.

By Wednesday night all bills except appropriation and tax measures must be out of committee and on the floor of the House and Senate or they are dead.

This indicated theree intensive sessions facing the lawmkers as they return at 8 p.m. tonight from their weekend recess.

The House Republican majority will go into caucus again tonight to attempt once more to achieve agreement on the Senate-approved Teahen bill to increase unemployment compensation benefits. An earlier meeting led to no decision.

Reportedly a bloc of "Young Turks" within House Republican ranks wants to go even further than did the Senate in raising benefits from a maximum of $35 a week to $41 for a man with four children.

Tuesday will be D-Day in the House and Senate committees faced with decisions on some of the most controversial bills of the session.

On that day, the Senate Judiciary Committee will meet to release or kill the McCune bill to censor television advertising of intoxicating liquors. The betting was the bill would die.

On the same day, the House State Affairs Committee will meet on the Senate-approved fair employment practices (FEPC) bill and the lobbyist control bill, also approved in the Senate.

There were slight odds that the lobbyist regulation bill would be reported out, minus the so-called Haggerty amendment which forbids members of state boards and commissions from being lobbyists — or vice versa. The wisemen thought the FEPC bill was dead.

Time Wins Whatever You Attempt to Beat It

One recent morning he jumped out of bed when the alarm signaled, dressed, and had the coffee on before his wife sleepily reminded him that a power failure the day before had thrown the electric clock off schedule. Hohner had risen four hours too early.

French Request More Aircraft

Ask Immediate Delivery of B26s, Transports for Indochina War

PARIS (INS)—Authoritative diplomatic sources confirmed today reports that Gen. Paul Ely, French chief of staff, has requested immediate delivery of American light bombers and transport aircraft to Indochina.

But these sources added that no official word has been received yet whether the United States will grant this request.

(Ely arrived in Washington Saturday and is scheduled to confer today with President Eisenhower and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.)

The Paris newspaper France Soir said today that the U. S. government is about to send B26 attack bombers and transport planes to Indochina.

But, these sources added, the plight of the encircled French-Vietnam forces at embattled Dien Bien Phu makes the need for aerial reinforcements urgent.

The battle has diplomatic as well as military significance, since most observers feel the Reds want to better their military position in Indochina in order to strengthen their bargaining position at the forthcoming Geneva conference.

'Ballerina' Mice May Aid in War Against Cancer

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP)—Mice that do a ballet step are the latest aides in the war on cancer.

Dr. Margaret Dickie today described discovery of a variety of mice that "pirouette" continually, just like a ballerina.

And she said that studies of this "ballerina mouse" not only offered opportunities for probing the cause of cancer but also such neuromuscular diseases as multiple sclerosis.

* * *

Dr. Dickie, of the Jackson Memorial Cancer Research Laboratory here, told about it at a conference with reporters making a nationwide tour of research projects sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The mice constantly twirl or "pirouette" in contrast to the normal motion of a mouse, which is back and forth.

* * *

Dr. Dickie indicated that the study of this unusual motion might help determine what differentiates the normal cell from the malignant one, as in cancer.

Scientists of the Jackson laboratory told reporters that a million mice are bred there each year for various purposes, and that these constitute about three fourths of all the mice used in cancer research throughout the nation.

Jewelry Store Robbed of $5,000 in Diamonds on Saturday

ROCHESTER — State Police and Rochester police today were seeking a man and woman who Saturday robbed the Palmer Jewelry Store here of $5,000 in diamonds and fled in a black sedan.

The license number of the bandits' car was being checked in Lansing today.

The robbery occurred as Miss Martha Wightman, co-partner of the store along with Miss Pauline Palmer, returned from lunch at 2 p.m.

Miss Wightman said the couple selected a $5 purchase and asked to leave it for gift wrapping. While the woman diverted Miss Wightman's attention, her companion was seen by a woman customer outside the store to reach over the showcase and remove a case of diamonds.

The woman customer who witnessed the theft, whose name was was not revealed, obtained the license number of the bandits' car as they drove off.

The woman sought was reported to be dressed shabbily, wearing an imitation fur coat and a brown and white checked skirt. Miss Wightman said she noticed the woman's skirt had two cigarette burns in the hem.

Friends Help Huff Family Recover From Fire Loss

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Leaden skies caused by the smoke of a family's home and possessions going up in flames have begun to clear for Franklyn Huff, his wife and their three daughters.

The first break in the overcast, which enclosed the family last Tuesday morning as they watched their home at 3202 Adele Terrace in North Shore sub-division disappear in flames, came early Saturday.

A group of 52 of Huff's fellow employes at Pontiac Motor Division in Pontiac were at the scene of the fire at 6:30 a.m. Saturday to clear away the charred ruins for a new house.

With three trucks, a semi-truck trailer and a tractor, the men swept clear the area where the house and furnishings valued at $30,000 had stood.

Standing by were Boy Scouts of Troop 35 in Westacres. They set up two big first aid tents. A Pontiac catering company was also on hand, serving free coffee to the demolition squad.

At noon, six girls from the Pontiac Motor purchasing department served lunch to the men. Contributions to purchase the food had come from all the women in the department.

By 4 p.m. the lot was cl[illegible]

And as the men rem[illegible] rubbel, a Huff neighbo[illegible] architect was drafting [illegible] floor plans for a new house of cinder block. "Cheaper to build and less of a fire hazard, probably," Huff explained.

This Saturday the men will return to start laying the blocks. Directing them will be a building contractor who lives near the Huffs. Some skilled workers will also assist.

In the meantime, Huff, 37, his wife Maxine, 36, and their three girls—Francine, 12, Paula Nickie, 6, and Vickie Ann, 18 months—are living in the home of Mrs. J. R. Webster a few houses down the block from their former home.

Mrs. Webster moved in with another neighbor so she could turn her house over the Huffs.

"All the thanks goes to all our friends and associates at work, because without them we would have been lost. Their help made all the difference in the world," Huff said today.

Gordon Hill, a supervisor in the purchasing department, said four committees have been formed to help the Huffs: Construction, furnishings, cash donations, and clothing. All have been successful, he added.

Survey Buying of Frozen Foods

U. S. Reports Reveal Only Few of 12 Items Bought by Majority

WASHINGTON (INS)—An Agricultural Marketing Service survey of more than two thousand urban families shows that only a few buy specific frozen foods at retail markets.

Foods studied in the survey included peas, lima beans, snap beans, spinach, broccoli, cut corn, strawberries, orange juice concentrates, lemonade, whole chicken chicken parts, and fish fillets.

The survey shows that only three of these 12 frozen items were purchased by more than 50 per cent of the families included in the sample.

The three products were: Frozen orange juice, bought by 68 per cent of the families; frozen peas, purchased by 52 per cent, and frozen strawberries, consumed by an even 50 per cent.

Less than 40 per cent of the families purchased frozen broccoli, lima beans, spinach, snap beans, cut corn, lemonade, whole chicken, or chicken parts.

Researchers who conducted the survey point out that sales of any of these latter commodities could be more than doubled if as many as 75 per cent of the potential consumers could be induced to buy them. This conclusion assumes, however, that the new buyers would but about as much on the average as consumers already using these frozen foods.

An important point in the findings of the survey is that sales of packaged frozen foods can be increased greatly even with the home refrigeration facilities that families now have.

It is pointed out that 89 per cent of all urban families now have refrigerators, but only a small proportion of them are buying frozen foods.

There are no direct air routes to link Australia with any of the major ports in South America.

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Preparing the student to bridge the gap between the elementary and high school years is the new job cut out for James S. Fry, named this week to the principal post of Waterford Township's new Isaac Crary Junior High School.

Serving this year as junior high school coordinator, Principal Fry's appointment was made by the Waterford Board of Education.

He has been associated with the Waterford school system since 1949 acting as coordinator of the distributive education program. He has also served as chairman of the department of business education since that time.

"It is very important that every youngster feel that school holds a definite purpose for him. We know that the junior high school years are very often the most difficult because of the tremendous amount of adjustment that takes place within the youngster himself as well as in his school program," said Fry.

He said that when the new junior high school is completed in the fall, part of the school program will include a guidance set-up designed to help stabilize these youngsters during this interim.

Fry has worked with the community during his distributive education program. He helped establish a cooperative plan in retailing which gave high school students an opportunity to combine training with actual work experiences.

He had charge of all student placement, guiding the students through a progressive program gauged to increase their responsibility with their ability.

A native of Columbus, Ohio, Fry attended Ohio State University. He has had work from South Dakota State College and Wayne University.

During World War II he served with the U.S. Air Corps in Africa and Italy. He was attached to the administrative and engineering division.

$500,000 Hike Is Seen Improvement to City's Fiscal Position

CLAWSON — To help place the city in a firmer financial position, Clawson has increased the assessed valuation of land by $500,000.

Wright stated that the city's financial position is being improved further by the refunding of $658,000 worth of bonds.

Ex-Lawn Cutter Handles White House Floral Needs

WASHINGTON (UP) — Backstairs at the White House:

This is the busy season for Robert Redmond, the White House gardener who has been working on the grounds of the executive mansion for 30 years.

Redmond came to the White House during the Coolidge administration. He was just a kid and got a summer job cutting the grass. He's been at it ever since, only now Red is an executive and someone else cuts the grass.

Most of the cut flowers that adorn the rooms of the White House and particularly, the State Dining Room on official occasions, are not grown at the White House.

Redmond goes into the local wholesale flower markets early every morning to pick up the needs of the day. He pretty well knows Mrs. Eisenhower's preferences, so he does not have to check on every purchase. If there is to be a big dinner, however, Redmond checks the smallest floral details with the First Lady or her secretary.

Passersby are frequently puzzled during the spring by the sight of Redmond's assistants pounding steel spikes into the White House lawn, particularly in the shady area under and near the larger trees.

The men are driving holes near the tree roots. The holes are filled with fertilizer and plugged at the top with topsoil and grass seed.

Redmond finds it about as difficult as any ordinary homemaker to grow luxuriant grass in the shade. Special shade grasses are quite susceptible to heat and rough wear. The White House has it over most homes, however, because there are very few people who have the opportunity to trample down what shade grass Redmond manages to grow.

Mrs. Eisenhower is partial to pink flowers of any sort. Redmond has to be careful, however, in putting decorations in the rather strongly colored public rooms on the main floor of the White House. The colors are so strong in the Red, Green and Blue Rooms that the gardener must select flowers of softly contrasting pastel tones lest he end up in a color riot.

With warm weather on the way, the White House is again getting requests for the loan of the President's swimming pool to school swimming teams. Not much chance of it happening, however, even for the West Point team.

Justice Douglas Continues Hike

Several Quit as Jurist Leads 184-Mile Trek Along C&O Canal

Along the C&O Canal in Western Maryland (UP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and a steadily dwindling party of hiking companions pushed forward today on their 184-mile walk to Washington, D. C.

At the end of their third day's journey lay Fort Frederick State Park and the only night of camping in the open the party plans before its scheduled arrival in Washington Saturday.

The group spent last night at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club near Hancock, Md., 37 miles southeast of Cumberland, Md., where they started out Saturday morning.

* * *

Douglas is seeking to demonstrate to two Washington editorial writers, and others who joined the group, that the natural beauties of the government-owned Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be marred by construction of a proposed federal highway.

His challenge to the editorial writers, who favored the parkway, resulted in the eight-day journey.

In the first day of slogging over muddy trails, and in yesterday's blustery weather which included even a few snow flurries, the expedition shrank from 34 to about 25 who planned to continue today's leg of about 20 miles.

* * *

The walking pace also slowed from an average of a little over four miles an hour the first day to three miles an hour yesterday. Liniment was being liberally applied to sore muscles last night.

Most of the nine who quit the party, though, were newsmen, government officials and others who had to get back to other assignments or their regular Monday jobs.

The rugged justice, who relishes outdoor life, showed little sign of fatigue. Charles P. Thomas, the 78-year-old retired mailcarrier from Washington and oldest man in the group, also was going strong.

Jail Reckless Driver

Vans Shelton, 23, of 391 Franklin road, Pontiac, was sentenced to five days in Oakland County Jail and assessed $100 fine and costs when he pleaded guilty Saturday to reckless driving and driving without an operator's license. He appeared before Sylvan Lake Justice Joseph J. Leavy.

Newborn Babies Get Vaccinations

Doctor's Records Show Treatment Cuts Deaths From Diseases

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CLEVELAND (AP)— Vaccinating babies minutes after they're born is safe, effective insurance against dangerous whopping cough and diphtheria, a family doctor finds.

The shots in the arm against these diseases usually aren't started until babies are three to six months old or more.

* * *

Of 717 babies treated this way since 1948, not one has had whooping cough or diphtheria, even when other children in the family contracted these diseases, he says in an exhibit for the American Academy of General Practice.

Between 1943 and 1948 in his rural practice in Vinton County, Ohio, there had been 40 cases of whooping cough and 10 deaths among babies less than a year old, he said.

* * *

Since 1948, there has not been a single case of whooping cough, except in one baby not inoculated at birth, he said.

He cited government statistics which show whooping cough kills more babies from 1 to 12 months old than all other diseases combined.

He gives the babies a standard vaccine combining protection against whopping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus, a main cause of blood poisoning.

A full treatment consists of three shots. The second is given when the baby is 6 weeks old, when the mother receives a checkup for recovery from childbirth. The third is given when the baby is 3 months old. Three fourths of all the babies have had the full series, he said.

'African Prince' to Give Concert Despite Expose

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Prince Onaga of the Watsui of the Belgian Congo"—disclosed a few days ago as plain Fred Williams of East St. Louis, Ill.—will give his dance concert here after all.

For five years Williams and his Los Angeles-born wife gave "African song and dance concerts" in the United States and Canada, on national television shows, and even appeared in the movies—all as Prince Onaga and Princess Muana.

* * *

Williams freely admitted his big hoax when questioned by immigration officials at the request of the Belgian consul, who couldn't understand such a dignitary not making a formal call.

Williams' No. 1 worry was about his scheduled concert April 5. A few hours later it was canceled.

However, publicity — conscious minds prevailed. The concert will be held, but moved up to Saturday night—before the public has time to forget.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1954

For a Better Pontiac

On April 5 Pontiac voters will have the chance to approve a much needed long range civic improvement program.

First item in this program is the proposed addition to Pontiac General Hospital. Anyone who has seen the patients being cared for in hospital corridors there knows how badly that addition is needed.

The city's program will meet many other urgent needs. Best of all, it can be carried out without any increase in the present tax rate.

This is possible because Pontiac's bonded debt will be retired by the end of the current year. The money now devoted to debt retirement can then be used to finance the improvement program if the voters so decide. Even the one dollar levy required by law to protect hospital bond buyers can be handled within the present tax rate.

We do not believe that the city's taxpayers will turn down this program of civic improvements to save $5.40 a year. That is the amount by which the average home owner's tax levy would be reduced if the proposal is defeated.

Besides the hospital, other projects contemplated are a civic auditorium, new police headquarters, new main library and three more fire stations. All of these are things any growing city sooner or later must provide.

The Press believes this is a sound program. We're convinced the people, accustomed to living in a progressive community, want municipal progress to continue.

It isn't often that the residents of any city have the opportunity to get needed and continuing improvements of this sort without any increase in their tax levies.

Well Earned Praise

Oakland County Road Commission's snow removal crews have the satisfaction of knowing that their hard work during the Winter was appreciated.

They became aware of this because a few residents of the county who have to travel the roads regardless of weather conditions, took time to send thank you letters to the Commission.

As one writer put it "it is quite a comfort knowing come what may the roads will be clear and salted when needed... and many of us will continue to live because someone made it possible for us to travel safely."

The Winter, just about to bow out, was worse than usual as far as snow and ice were concerned. Many a cold night when the rest of us were sleeping, snowplows and salt trucks were out battling storm conditions.

We join these letter writers in saying "thank you" to the Road Commission boys for a tough job well done.

Michigan Week

From May 2 to 8 will be Michigan Week and a group dedicated to the idea of selling the State's wonders and advantages to its 6,500,000 people has been organized.

Although the observance is six weeks away, Walker L. Cisler of Detroit Edison, has been chosen president of Greater Michigan, Inc., the organization which will direct the program.

County and community committees are being organized to push the campaign originated in the Economic Development Commission.

Besides newspapers, other communications media have been enlisted to help sell Michigan to Michigan people. This shouldn't be hard in a State that can boast so many natural advantages to make life worth living the year round.

One of the greatest of these is location. Bordered on three sides by the Great Lakes, Michigan is also bejewelled by more than 11,000 inland lakes, 400 of them in Oakland County.

No State has such fine facilities for all year outdoor recreation. Especially popular are boating, swimming, fishing, hunting and the invigorating winter sports of skating, skiing and tobogganing.

We are heartily in favor of this program. The more Michigan people know about their State, the more they will appreciate it and tell others about it with benefit to all 6,500,000 of us.

Mrs. Carl Dobat Says After Dairy Expenses Farmer Gets 8 Cents Per Quart for Milk

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I am writing in answer to the letter signed, "Daily Reader," regarding the price of milk. I wonder if this person has ever operated a farm and has any idea of the cost of producing milk? Maybe like so many of our officials this person sits at a desk and figures it all out on paper.

Does he have any knowledge of the price which the farmers receive for the milk we sell? We have just received our check for the month of February and I am quoting from that return. Milk with 3.5 test brings the farmer $4.06 per 100 pounds.

Out of that we must pay 25 cents hauling fees, 6 cents association dues and every so often a nice slice for the American Dairy Assn. How much is left? We actually receive $3.75 for 12 gallons of milk. That is about 31 cents per gallon or 8 cents a quart.

As for butter, I know that some farmers do sell their milk and buy oleo and I am ashamed for them. They are defeating themselves. We buy and eat five to six pounds of butter per week.

Slingerland Favors Bricker Plan Support

It is to our best interest that every one write our Congressmen and Senators concerning the support of the Bricker Amendment.

This amendment will safeguard the Constitution against treaty law.

Thomas Jefferson was right when he said "In question of power, let no more be said of confidence in men, but bind him down from mischief by the chains of the Constitution."

This saying shows great wisdom and soundness which is more vitally needed in these times than at any other period in American history. We must find time to take a wider interest in the affairs of our own government.

Lawrence Sees House-Cleaning Needed on Phone Snooping Methods at Capital

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—History has a strange way of repeating itself.

Today there is a furor in Congress over the revelation that someone in the office of the secretary of the Army has been eavesdropping on telephone conversations with members of Congress and their staffs.

Back in 1906 and 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt used the Secret Service to shadow congressmen whom he suspected of wrongdoing and Congress retaliated by passing a law denying to the Secret Service any funds thereafter for investigations in behalf of any other department or agency of the government and confining the Secret Service solely to the detection of counterfeiting and to the protection of the life of the President.

It further ordered the discharge of any Secret Service man found guilty of any snooping except as provided in the law. To clear up this situation, Congress created the FBI in 1908.

It is an infamous disregard of ethics for anybody in the executive agencies of the government or anywhere else to "monitor" or record stenographically a telephone conversation without doing the gentlemanly thing—notifying the other party that his words are being taken down.

"Questionable methods" has been frequently used of late as a phrase of condemnation of congressional committees but nothing that has ever been done by a congressional committee compares in unmorality with the eavesdropping on telephone conversations by persons in the executive agencies.

President Eisenhower is too much of a gentleman to allow anything of this kind to happen hereafter and he would be well advised to order all such memoranda to be destroyed.

Sen. Symington, Democrat of Missouri, in a colloquy last week with a lawyer from the office of the secretary of defense brought out at a Senate Armed Services Committee hearing that there were no mechanical recordings but there are in existence some stengographic notes of "monitored conversations" in connection with the controversy between Sec. Stevens and his counsel, John G. Adams, on the one hand and the staff members of the McCarthy committee.

The Missouri senator insisted that all these records be produced and—now that the issue has been raised—they should be.

But the executive departments will have to consider how this precedent is then going to meet various demands certain to arise now from Congress for all records on "monitored conversations" between senators or representatives and their staffs and the executive departments, including, of course, the conversations of Democratic as well as Republican members of Congress.

Doubtless there have in the past been many congressmen who have asked officials in the armed services about commissions or special treatment for their constituents especially in winding up business affairs when drafted.

Members of Congress find their mail full of such requests and they usually turn the cases over to persons on their office staffs to handle on the telephone.

If business being transacted on the telephone between Capitol Hill and the offices in the Pentagon is to be "monitored," this can only result in demands that Pentagon officials personally come to the Capitol hereafter or send some of their subordinates to take up such matters—a waste of valuable time all around.

But the real objection is to the violation of the so-called "code of fair procedure" which the Eisenhower administration has been piously advising congressional committees to adopt.

Apparently there is considerable house-cleaning on "questionable methods" to be done at the executive agencies.

To eavesdrop on a telephone is morally and at times legally wrong. Where there are recording devices, the law required a "beep" sound to signal both parties that the conversation is recorded.

A directive issued some time ago in the Department of Defense prohibits the use of recording or tapping devices at the Pentagon unless the fact is disclosed to both parties.

The directive really isn't limited to mechanical devices. It implies that all "recording" is taboo and this would seem to include "monitoring" unless both parties are advised that a stenographer is listening in on an extension to take notes.

In the Cohn-Schine-Adams case it is obvious from the memorandum which was clandestinely sent to 14 Democrats and only one Republican on Capitol Hill by the office of the secretary of the Army that the directive was violated.

Also, the so-called report is a post-dated document compiled from excerpts from stenographer's notes. It is significant that the memorandum issued by the Senate committee is a series of actual reports made by committee staff members putting on paper their recollection after each conversation had been concluded.

Many persons have jumped to conclusions and prejudged the case though under other circumstances those same persons are usually in the front row shouting the loudest about fair play and how a man should be regarded as innocent until he is proved guilty.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Tom's Jealous Wife Says His Hobby Is Unbearable

Tom is a victim of an "iron curtain" which his jealous wife has put around him. They were heading for a divorce until Tom regained his proper masculine dominance in his own home via the advice in the sex bulletin mentioned below. Shakespeare diagnosed this type of case in his "Taming of the Shrew."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, my wife is jealous," he began, "but it isn't of another woman.

"No, she is jealous of my workshop in the basement of our home. For I like to spend time down there puttering around with tools and doing cabinet work.

"My office duties all day don't occupy my hands. And from my childhood, I have always liked to work with tools.

"But my wife quarrels about my hobby until life is unbearable, so I have spent only 3 nights at my work bench in this entire year, plus the two weeks she went home to visit her parents.

"She insists that I read at night or sit in front of TV to relax, just because her father always did that.

"But he was a laboring man who probably was tired of working with his hands. My tasks are largely mental at the office, so I actually crave a chance to saw and plane and nail or glue my cabinet pieces.

"I have complimented her liberally every day. I never forget anniversaries. I kiss her liberally. And I don't ask for more than one or two evenings per week in my workshop. But she grows angry even at that."

A jealous person suffers from a feeling of inferiority. She thinks she is playing second fiddle to somebody or something else.

In most cases, jealousy is directed toward people instead of a work bench. The jealous wife imagines other women can outbid her in some romantic respect.

So she doesn't want her husband to be out of her sight. For she fears female competition, since she believes she hasn't got what it takes to hold her husband.

The origin of much post-marital jealousy is due to maladjustment in the marriage relationship.

Wives often are left unsatisfied and frustrated. So they wonder if maybe they are deficient in anatomical make-up.

And soon they may believe other women will thus be far more attractive to their husbands. So they try to impose a marital "iron curtain" around their mates.

In Tom's case, his wife was sexually frustrated. But Tom was romantically attentive to her, so she then began to fear the appeal of his carpenter's bench.

As a result, she has now degenerated into a nagging, shrewish wife. Tom needs to read Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew," for women crave to be dominated.

Tom can partly offset his "desertion" of his wife, however, by fixing a reading lamp downstairs or moving the TV set there, so she can sit and read near his work bench.

But the basic treatment she needs is contained in my bulletin "Sex Problems in Marriage," so send a stamped return envelope, plus a dime, and get your copy thereof. It has prevented thousands of divorces.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
International News Service

We're keeping tabs on that Manhattan drunk-o-meter which clocks heavier-than-air-breaths.

First victim of the electronic gimmick was fined the staggering sum of ten depreciated dollars. The judge said, "Here's a citizen with a wine cellar in his hat. If he were to breathe in a toy balloon there would be a new comet in the firmament tonight."

The owner of the Grapes of Wrath Wine Co. got himself a mouthpiece that wasn't hooked to a tube. The lawyer said, "Spring was not officially here until last night. Therefore, under winter rules no test was legitimate until my client had first been primed with anti-freeze."

You can see there is more to the law than meets the first personal pronoun. They tried the souse-o-graph on a society dude from the south. He told the judge "Down south we build chimneys just for our breaths."

He snorted in the halitosis-grinder and it blew a fuse.

If you can walk a chalk line, say "Truly rural," select a three-hoss parlay with a kitchen fork, dial a telephone number and stack a cold deck you are not sober in New York. The judge wants to know what you're doing with the other hand.

They took the drunk-o-stat to the bowery and a bum hit the jackpot.

He breathed in one end of the rumtraption and the thing hiccuped.

The carbonized tonsils of Chatam Square are not to be classified by theoretical gadgets. On the Bowery they wash a bottle of Sneaky Pete down with a quart of Indian smoke signals.

If the stagger-meter, the barkeep and the two cops say you've overloaded your plimsoll mark don't call in a gypsy fortune teller for a character witness.

Pay the judge the two dollars and start life all over again.

Peritendinitis: Here's What Causes It: Sheath Around Tendon Gets Inflamed

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Mrs. M. E. asks: What causes peritendinitis? Does it affect all parts of the body? Is there a diet one should follow? How to get rid of it? Etc. etc.

Peri means around; tendin, means tendon, sinew; and of course the ending means inflammation—inflammation around a sinew.

Besides peritendinitis, we have some other words for it—tenosynovitis, tendovaginitis, we have to keep a jump ahead of the patient, you know; these words mean inflammation of a tendon sheath.

A tendon sheath in any part of the body may be affected. Usual cause of tenosynovitis is bruising or excessive exertion or unusual muscular effort, but in some instances the cause is focal infection from a septic focus elsewhere in the body.

In occasional cases the condition is tuberculosis and the trouble is chronic.

Absolute rest of the hand, shoulder, ankle, thumb or whatever part of the body involved, preferably by splints or plaster cast, is the treatment required.

The word arthritis means inflammation of joint or joints. Arthritis may be gonorrheal, syphilitic, tuberculous, pneumococcic, streptococcic etc.

One man's remark reminds me of a theory I have had in the back of mind for many years, concerning the development of chronic rheumatism—or call it chronic arthritis if you prefer.

The theory is—and remember I'm no authority but just an old family practitioner—that insufficient general exercise favors development of the rheumatis and a brisk daily five or six mile walk—five or six miles of oxygen on the hoof, that is—tends to prevent it.

This in no way invalidates my teaching that chronic rheumatiz is physical degeneration of joint tissues due in most instances to lifelong nutritional deficiency.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Paratroops Add French Strength

New Assault Expected Against Dien Bien Phu as Supplies Pour In

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — French Union troops braced themselves anew today for a still-expected new mass assault against their Dien Bien Phu fortress by the Communist-led Vietminh.

From the skies poured a new stream of fresh troops, war equipment, ammunition and provisions, parachuted from French transports and American Flying Boxcars piloted by American civilians of the Hong Kong-based Civil Air Transport Service (CATS).

* * *

French, Vietnamese, Senegalese, Moroccan and Algerian troops and the hard-fighting German soldiers who dominate the French Foreign Legion were dug deep into trenches and dirt-bagged bunkers behind the mazes of barbed wire. The area more and more took on the appearance of a World War I battlefield, with the Vietminh also in hastily constructed trenches some of them only 200 to 400 yards from the French Union line.

In Washington U. S. officials reviewed French requests for more U. S. bombers and transports. The U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff considered a proposal to send another group of about 25 B26 light bombers and an undisclosed number of transports to Indochina.

* * *

Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the French armed forces, who arrived in Washington Friday, planned to confer today with President Eisenhower and Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs.

The French at Dien Bien Phu still anticipated a sudden Vietminh rush in an attempt to overwhelm the fortress.

The estimated 36,000 Vietminh far outnumber the defenders—probably 3-1. But as the new power for the defenders cascaded from transport planes, their hopes and confidence of turning back every rebel assault mushroomed.

* * *

While opposing artillery again fought violent duels, the French air armada under a drizzling rain roared over the rebels in the hills in fresh waves of their most intensive attacks of the war.

They streaked fire through the jungle-covered hills where most of the Vietminh were entrenched two miles from the heart of the fortress, showering incendiary bombs and napalm barrages.

Greece Accused of Militarism

Russia Protests Plans for Defense, Says U. S. Bases Threaten Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has protested formally for the third time within a week against defense plans of a North Atlantic Pact nation.

The latest Kremlin note went yesterday to Greece, charging that U. S. military bases on Greek territory threaten peace in the Balkans.

Russia protested to the Netherlands last Thursday against establishment of a U. S. military air base on Dutch territory and also to Turkey against the mutual security pact she is negotiating with Pakistan.

* * *

The note to Greece was the second the Soviets have written on the subject. A similar communication Oct. 26 charged that use of Greek territory for American bases showed "the Greek government has started to carry out measures for direct preparation of a new war."

The latest note, handed yesterday by Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin to Greek Ambassador A. Kontoumas, said: "It is clear that the conclusion of the military agreement between Greece and the U.S.A. creates obstacles to strengthening peace in the Balkans, with which the Soviet Union cannot but reckon. . . .

"It is known from published data that on the territory of Greece big military maneuvers with the participation of foreign forces, inspection tours by represfaknb3a in Greece, frequent visits of large U. S. naval units to greek ports, growing scale of American arms deliveries to Greece ane the intensified construction of American military bases on the territory of Greece are taking place."

Sugar Plantation Strike Averted in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—A possible sugar plantation strike was averted by agreement in principle on a new contract between Hawaiian sugar planters and Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

The agreement, announced jointly yesterday, covers wages, hours, overtime, grievance procedure and a pension plan and extends to Jan. 31, 1956. The announcement said details will be reported later.

Americas Near End of Meeting

Political Asylum Topic of Major Importance to Conferees

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Agreement on a new code for political asylum remained the major objective still before the 10th Inter-American Conference today as it entered its fourth and final week.

The United States was more an onlooker than a participant in the debate on this political topic since it does not offer refuge to all foreigners who must leave home for political reasons.

But the subject is of major importance to Latin America, where politicians frequently must get out of their countries to avoid arrest or a worse fate in times of political trouble.

* * *

A political-juridical subcommittee already has agreed on one controversial point—that the nation granting asylum has the right to determine whether the refugee qualifies for it.

The celebrated case of Peru's Victor Raul Haya de la Torre has pointed up a need for clear regulations on political asylum. Haya, leader of the outlawed Apra party, has been a refugee in the Colombian Embassy in Lima for five years because Colombia and Peru have been unable to agree that he is entitled to political asylum.

Peru will not grant him safe conduct to leave the country, contending he is a common criminal. Colombia won't surrender him, holding that he is a political refugee.

* * *

Colombia and Peru now are negotiating in Bogota over the case, but there were reports the issue would erupt in the conference in the next two days unless the two nations announced an agreement.

The conference economic groups and subcommittees speeded up their work to put various proposals into final shape. U. S. delegates kept plugging away at a policy that Latin America should rely mainly on its own initiative and on private capital rather than outside government aid for economic development.

That did not dissuade the Latin Americans from making clear their view that the United States holds the key to their economic well-being.

UM Students Join Robin Hood Move Against M'Carthy

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A student movement against "McCarthyism" has spread to the University of Michigan campus with students wearing green feathers.

Unofficial spokesman said yesterday that the movement was a non-partisan, non-political one against "McCarthy's threat to freedom."

Joiners of the movement wear green feathers, and call themselves "Robin Hood's merry men." Spokesmen said they were "unalterably opposed to totalitarianism."

Reportedly the movement began in Indiana University campus, spread to Purdue, then Wisconsin and finally Michigan. Ann Arbor residents are reported to have joined students in a search for feathers to dye green.

Spokesmen said the feathers would be distributed Tuesday.

National Carpet Week

Spotlight Falls on Floors in Coast to Coast Displays

All eyes will be on floors this week when local merchants join with carpet manufacturers and designers from coast to coast to show the homeowner the newest in carpet fashions and fabrics.

The beginning of a good interior decoration plan is the carpet. It is the foundation of the entire color scheme.

Experts advise that the home owner budget the largest amount of money for the home furnishing items which receive the greatest wear — such as carpets, upholstered pieces and bedding.

Therefore, it pays to buy the best grade of carpet in order to get long wear. But price alone is not the only factor in determining values. A number of carpets may be the same price, but some will be of higher quality.

Quality is difficult for an inexperienced buyer to determine, so shopping at reputable stores and purchasing a nationally advertised brand is recommended.

Generally speaking, the heavier the carpet, the closer the tuft and the deeper the pile, the finer the quality.

Fabrics this year give the buyer a choice of long-wearing wool broadloom, cotton, man-made fibers and many new blends.

Color should be the first consideration when buying carpet because color is one of the most important phases of decorating. Carpet forms the largest solid area in a room, so the color should be a family favorite.

Bright colored carpet tends to fill in a room and give it atmosphere. It will make the room seem smaller and not require as many pieces of furniture.

Dark carpet absorbs light while light colored carpet reflects, so darker rooms need lighter carpets. Medium colored carpet on the other hand, shows the least amount of soil.

Carpet markets in 1954 are offering more multi-colored textures in tweed-like effects.

Tone-on-tone carpets fall midway in popularity between the plain and the multi-colored patterns. They are usually rather formal, although informal tone-on-tone is available.

The size of a rug is important Nothing can compare with the over-all appearance of luxury and the space expanding effect of wall-to-wall carpeting.

If a regular rug is selected, it should lie no more than 6 to 12 inches from the wall.

'GI' Confesses Tale Was Hoax

Pole Refugee Admits Fabricating Air Crash in Italian Alps

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — The self-styled American sergeant who led more than 200 Italian troops around the Alps in a 24-hour search for a crashed American military plane admitted last night his story was a phony.

Italian police at Vipiteno, here in the Tyrol, identified the "sergeant" as a Polish refugee, Wazily Kowalenko, 32. He told them he fled his homeland and donned an American uniform to make his crossing into Italy easier.

He did not explain how he obtained the uniform or why he dreamed up the story of the wrecked plane.

* * *

Identifying himself as Sgt. Jim Smithly of Chicago, he walked into the village of Campo di Trens, at the southern end of the Brenner Pass, Saturday. He said he had parachuted from a U. S. plane and had seen it falling with the pilot, "Lt. Jim Knolt," still aboard.

He said he was a radio operator assigned to the 36th Attachment Air Base in Germany.

While Italian Alpine troops followed the Pole around the mountains, military authorities in Germany were contacted. They had never heard of a 36th Attachment Air Base, a missing plane, a Sgt. Smithly or a Lt. Knolt. They sent Capt. William E. McKee of Sioux City, Iowa, and five other men of a rescue team from Fuerstenfeldbruck, Germany, to investigate.

The investigation didn't take long. McKee found "Smithly" spoke only a few words of English. He turned him over to police, who held him to investigate his presence in Italy.

To Ask Warrant in Murder Case

David Farmer Admits Killing Shop Woman in Muskegon in 1952

MUSKEGON (UP) — Prosecutor Robert A. Cavanaugh said he would recommend a murder warrant today naming David Farmer, 23-year-old foundry worker as the slayer of Lillian Kayer March 29, 1952.

Officers said Farmer, arrested in Newark, Ohio, had admitted bludgeoning Miss Kayer to death in the basement of her antique shop in a robbery attempt.

A tip from police in Muskegon Heights where Farmer formerly lived led to his arrest in Ohio.

A solution to the puzzling two-year-old case came as a relief to merchants of the greater Muskegon area. They had feared a possible repetition of the attack that killed Miss Kayer.

Officers said Farmer had been questioned regarding one other unsolved death but had denied any knowledge of it.

When first arrested he named Felton Jackson, 45, of Muskegon Heights, as Miss Kayer's assailant but late Saturday changed his story and took full blame himself. Jackson was held for investigation.

Pontiac Man Arrested After Car Hits Tree

McCoy E. Powell, 32, of 106 S. Edith St., who told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he must have fallen asleep at the wheel, was treated early Sunday for cuts and bruises after his car hit a tree along Cass Lake road near Orchard Lake road.

Deputies Thomas Brimhall and Lyle Walmsley arrested Powell on a drunk and disorderly charge after he was treated for his injuries at Pontiac General Hospital.

Freak Gun Accident Injures Area Boy, 14

A 14-year-old Pontiac Township boy who was accidently shot in the right leg Sunday with a .22 caliber rifle at his home is reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Ralph Chittick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chittick, 3301 Baldwin Rd., told Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday that he returned from target shooting and placed his rifle in a corner. When he started to walk away the gun fell and discharged, striking him just above the ankle.

Mrs. Chittick said today that the bullet shattered when it hit a bone.

Typing Can Be Self-Taught at Home

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Recently we were discussing the fact that the woman who knows how to type is always able, if the need arises, to get a paying job.

Since then, many readers have written in asking if it is possible to learn how to type without going to school—if it is possible to teach oneself.

One wonderful young woman told me that she is the mother of four youngsters, and does occasionally have a little time to herself—how she manages it, I can't imagine! She says that she could buy a typewriter if it would be possible to teach herself.

First of all, don't buy the typewriter in the beginning. You may find that you don't have the time you expect, or that you have trouble in teaching yourself.

It is a better idea to start by renting a typewriter. Your classified telephone book will have a listing of typewriter shops, and most of them have machines to rent.

In this way, you can experiment at first with no large outlay of cash. Next, check with your typewriter shop to see if they sell self-instruction booklets.

These cost from 25 cents to a dollar, and are very clear guides to the beginning typist.

If your shop doesn't sell them, check at your bookstore, or write to the manufacturer of the typewriter, asking if he has such booklets.

Next, try to arrange to spend at least an hour a day at your machine. Enclosed in most booklets—or sold with them—is a large sheet of paper which is a replica of the typewriter keyboard.

This you tack on the wall in front of you, so that you can look at it instead of the keyboard. This is very important, because you'll never be a good typist if you have to look at the keyboard.

For the first two or three weeks, you'll be doing the beginning exercises, which are quite boring but very important. They will strengthen your fingers and all the complex net of muscles which you will be using.

After a while, when your fingers are strong, and when you know the keyboard by heart, you can tackle other material.

When you get too bored, try typing stories from your newspaper, which you would be reading anyway. This is killing two birds with one stone and will be far more interesting than staying with the exercises.

After about three months, if you have any manual dexterity at all, and if you have spent your hour a day religiously, you should be a slow, but good typist. After that, keep practicing!

Crust Mix Is Stored Till Needed

Never-Fail Recipe for Pastry Is Given by Mrs. Abbott

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

A sure-fire recipe for pie crust is always a welcome one. Mrs. Vernon Abbott shares hers with us today. She makes up the dry mixture, stores it in a quart jar and always has the "makin's" for a pie on hand.

Mrs. Abbott is a member of the University of Michigan Alumnae Club and also belongs to a church guild.

She is chairman of the kitchen committee of the General Guild of her church, which at present is interested in the problem of remodeling the church kitchen.

NEVER-FAIL PIE CRUST
By Mrs. Vernon Abbott

3 cups sifted flour
1 cup lard or 1 cup plus 1 tablespoon homogenized shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 egg yolk
6 tablespoons ice water (about)

Cut shortening into dry ingredients until particles are the size of peas. Rub between the fingers to get the desired consistency. Keep in a glass jar until needed.

To the above add one egg yolk beaten slightly with the ice water. Mix into the lard-flour mixture with a spoon until it rolls from the sides of the bowl.

If more water is needed, add by teaspoonfuls, one at a time. Roll out on a pastry cloth. This recipe will make four pie crusts.

If only a small amount of the mix is used, use the entire egg yolk, but decrease the amount of water.

Featherweight fabrics tailored with a minimum amount of construction are sure to give men a new walking-on-air feeling this spring and summer. The suit on the left is a blend of dacron and wool in a compound colored blue nubby tweed. Texture and color are outstanding in the suit of blended synthetic fiber on the right. The thick and thin weave has colorful nubs.

Men Place Emphasis on Comfort

Natural, Synthetic Materials Woven With Less Bulk

In this fast-changing world, new concepts about men's apparel are meeting the American way of life.

Men want comfortable clothes. As a result, worsted, blends of dacron and wool, orlon and wool and other combination of manmade and natural fibers have been developed to set a new standard of performance.

Three weight classifications dominate, the setup in worsteds for spring: 12 to 12½ ounces, 11 to 11½ ounces and 10 to 10½ ounces. Tropical weights from 6 to 8 ounces give a new comfort concept for warm weather wear.

While compound colors with the nubby touch still have fashion significance, interest centers on the development of lightweight fabrics. Science and nature and the skill of men's tailoring are combining to produce a new type of clothing that typifies lightweight living.

New blends of vicara and wool, as well as dynel and wool, are also expected to make increased bid for customer favor this spring.

In summer clothing, tweedy effect silks are high fashion news. Cords are expected to grow in popularity with the increase in colors ranging from light to dark in both cotton and a variety of manmade blends.

In evening wear, tropical weights have become established for year-round purposes. The dinner jacket of thin worsted or a lightweight synthetic blend shows up well in midnight blue or dusk gray for wear at any time, winter or summer.

STENOSPEED SCHOOL

Willingly Pay Price for Forbidden Fun

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

I can remember getting demerits like crazy in school. But it didn't matter so frightfully somehow — because I'd had a pile of fun getting them.

But some of you squeal to high heaven when your parents clamp down. They're in a position to deal out the punishment — yet you balk at submitting. Even though you've had fun doing whatever it is that irks your parents.

It seems only fair to me to pay up when you're naughty. And most of you know when you're stepping out of line. You know what you're up to that's going to bring the ceiling down on you. You know what not to do in order to keep things going smoothly and easily with the folks at home.

So why should you get all the breaks? Why should you break your house rules — and expect your family to let you get away with it? Why shouldn't you be made to pay?

That question I'm hurling at this lass who had herself a very fine evening, worried her family to death, and now wonders why she should be made the goat? She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went on a very special date during the week — and we didn't get to the dance until 9 p. m. We went with two other couples — and the dance wasn't over until 1 a. m.

"We took a cab and I got home at 1:30. The thing is that my mother wanted me to be home at midnight! So I'm on punishment for quite a while.

"This date was quite expensive — and it would have been terribly embarrassing to have to leave at 11 in order to be home by midnight.

"I'm home on the dot on other occasions. Don't you think my parents should give me a break this once?"

Your parents might have been talked into giving you a break on this particular occasion — if they'd been let in on all the details ahead of time. If they'd known what to expect of this particular evening of yours, they might have been willing to give you special permission.

It's the way you took the bit in your teeth and ran away with the whole shebang that has them down. There's no mention of any phone call at midnight to let them know you were being delayed.

There is no mention of your advance thinking that the party might go on longer than they anticipated — and that it might be difficult to break away from the other two couples and get yourself home as expected. You blithely did exactly as you pleased.

And between midnight and 1:30 your family thought all kinds of things. None of them kind to the blood-pressure — or conducive to sleep. They worried their blessed heads off not knowing where you were and what was keeping you.

For that you should be inconvenienced. Inconvenienced enough to be more thoughtful and considerate another time.

It's only fair to pay — and through the nose — when your fun turns out to be your family's nightmare!

Child Often Wrongly Associates Ideas

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

My grandmother was born in Scotland, but when I was a small girl, she lived near us in New York state. However, when I visited her she talked only about her native land which she loved very much. In no time at all, I became persuaded that whenever I went to see her, I was taking a trip to Scotland.

I can still recall the horror of my first-grade teacher when I announced that I had been to Scotland. She wrote a strong letter to my mother.

That evening, I was corrected. The association I had made between Scotland and New York state was broken.

Sometimes these childish associations are never corrected.

For example, I know a highly gifted writer who has never developed his gifts. His parents were divorced when he was 7. Soon afterwards, his mother had a nervous breakdown.

Relatives came and went with hushed footsteps and advice to remember how good his poor mother was.

In no time at all, her little son made the same kind of association I once made over my grandmother's talk of Scotland. All the talk of goodness and suffering made them seem like one and the same thing for this little boy.

It has been an unfortunate association of ideas. For with his conviction that suffering is virtuous, this grown man still seeks out suffering at every opportunity.

He will promise an editor a story and then delay writing it in order to suffer when the editor loses his temper.

He will provoke his patient wife into criticizing him before the children so that he will have grounds to complain to them of his henpecked state.

He is tired of suffering, terribly tired of it, but just can't seem to disentangle it from the saintliness with which it was associated for him years and years ago.

We have to take care what ideas we connect together for our children.

Suppose I lie to my boring neighbor? What happens to the child who hears me say what isn't so? Well, he begins to "associate." I get connected with lying.

Since he trusts me, lying becomes part of the trust he gives me. It may take me quite a while to disconnect his trust from lies.

It's quite amazing how many of these associations of ideas that have no real connection at all can influence and confuse our young—unless we correct them in time.

The cut of a jacket, the line of a lapel, the placement and angle of the pockets can go far to express a man's personality. The impression of jauntiness given by this jacket is in keeping with the casual styling of this spring's sport jackets.

Ask Smoker to Use Tray - - - Please!

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "We have a neighbor who is a chain smoker. Not only is he never without a cigarette in his mouth, but he is a very careless smoker as well.

"He never flicks the ashes from his cigarette and when they become really long, they just fall off onto the floor or chair. We've tried placing ashtrays right at his elbow but he just ignores them. Will you please tell me what we can do, or say, without being rude?"

Answer: The only thing to do is to treat him as you would a child and, when handing him an ashtray, say, "Will you please be good, and put your ashes in this?"

Dear Mrs. Post: I was married before and have two children from my first marriage. My daughter has just recently become engaged and an announcement was sent to the newspaper.

The notice read "... daughter of Mrs. John Smith and the late Henry Brown." My husband was very much hurt because his name was not mentioned in the announcement. Will you please tell me if this was a slight to him and if he has a right to feel hurt?

Answer: I do think it would have been better to have had "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith announce the engagement of Mrs. Smith's daughter, Mary Brown. Her father was the late Henry Brown."

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been advised that our son has been incorrectly named. He was christened Charles Henry Brown III. His grandfather is Charles Henry Brown Sr. and his uncle is Charles Henry Brown Jr.

According to my friend, our son should be II instead of III. Will you please tell me what is correct?

Answer: Correctly your friend is right—your son should be II. But the trouble is going to come when II and Jr. both have sons, each with the right to III. (This can be avoided by letting the first born be third and the second be fourth.)

Jersey is ideally suited to topcoats. It is light in weight and resilient.

Topcoats Featuring Big Change

Masculine Apparel Achieves Warmth Without Weight

The jersey topcoat is the first basic change in men's overcoats in many years. It comes in a knit fabric so closely constructed that it appears to be a woven cloth.

Visually, the jersey topcoat contains all the pattern and color associated with conventional woolens. Tweeds, nubby effects, herringbones in set-in sleeve and raglan models are available.

Lodenbury cloth topcoating is another facet of the switch to lightweight fabrics in a new guise. This renowned cloth now is made in 9-ounce weight in waterproof construction that allows the body to breathe.

Take Time to Apply Fresh Makeup

If you must clean your iron, don't dip it in water. Just wipe it with a damp cloth and dry it. Do this when the iron is cool.

Sash Rots When Putty Is Cracked

By HUBBARD COBB

We ran across a horrible looking object the other day which, after a good deal of inspection, turned out to be a window sash so badly rotted out that the only thing holding it together was the glass.

This is the sort of thing that is likely to happen when the outside putty around the glass cracks and allows water to enter the wood portion of the sash.

If you find that the putty around a window pane has cracked, there are several things that can be done. If the cracks are not too wide they can usually be filled with a heavy paint or you can apply some white lead.

Larger cracks can be filled by working additional putty into openings and then applying a coat of paint.

When things are in terrible shape and the putty is falling out in big hunks you really should remove putty, points and glass, and reset the pane from scratch. Trouble with this is that it takes so much time that most busy people just don't ever get around to it or put off doing it until it's too late.

Rather than have this happen, we suggest removing the outside putty and applying a fresh coat. All the old putty should be removed and the exposed wood given a coat of linseeed oil or a light coat of paint.

Now the putty can go on and be given the proper bevel so that the water running off the glass will run down across the putty and out of harm's way.

This method is not ideal by a long shot but it will help matters, at least for a time.

MAKE FRIENDS

Mrs. C. got her feelings hurt over an unintended slight and let several members of her club know how she felt. They passed the word along. Now Mrs. C. has a reputation for being the kind of person who gets hurt feelings easily.

Being known as one whose feelings are easy to step on doesn't draw friends closer—it frightens them away.

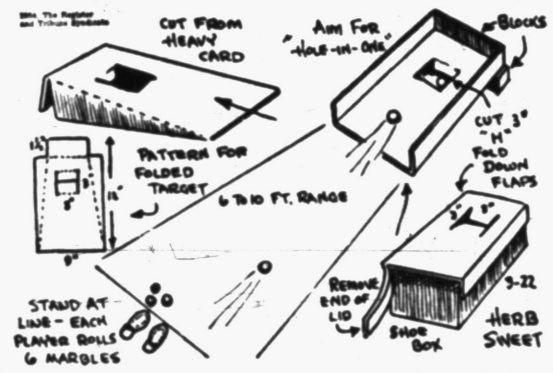
Good Housekeeping Applies to Cars, too

The automobile trade calls a car "clean" if the fenders aren't battered, the rugs and upholstery are unspotted, the overall condition good.

So always go in for good housekeeping and, with the help of the new car dealer who handles your make, attend promptly to small repairs and—keep it "clean!"

Try It

Game Good for Rainy Day



I know that you are beginning to play outdoors more now, but here is a good game for rainy days. An original Try It drawing goes to Christine Olsen of Bellerose, L. I.

If you send an idea in to me and you do not receive an answer, it is because some of the letters come in without a return address. Be sure to check your letters for your name and return address!

There are two ways of making this game. The left side of the picture shows the run made from heavy cardboard, 12 inches by 8 inches. Cut an inch and a half section from the top and turn the remaining flap down on the dotted line as shown.

Fold the sides as shown, and they will be on an angle. For the marble slot you will need an "H" cut. Make it 3 inches each way, then turn the flaps down.

If you use a shoe box lid, turn the lid upside-down and cut the "H" part the 3-inch size. You will need a small block to hold the end up, and cut the other side away.

Mark a line 6 to 10 feet away from the run and roll your five marbles on the ramp. The person who gets the most marbles in the "H" slit wins the game. How about making 21 points a game?"

Despite a general increase in population, the number of persons on farms in the U. S. has fallen from about 32 million in 1910 to 24 million in 1950.

Witches Remain Witches to Improve Salem's Trade

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
International News Service

The Salem witches are still witches.

A bill to reverse the verdict that sent six women to deat hon "Gallow's Hill" in Salem, Mass., 262 years ago was just hung higher than a kite in the Senate of the Bay State.

The petition to clear the names of the Salem six had been introduced by H. Vance Greenslit, of New Orleans, a descendant of one of them, Ann Greenslade Pudeator.

"Justice Triumphs — Witches Cleared" was the word just a few days ago, for his bill had passed the House of Representatives, and unanimous approval was expected from the Senate.

But the triumph was premature. The Senate killed the bill by a 14 to 9 vote—and, legally speaking, the six witches are as guilty of black magic as they were two and a half centuries ago.

Why? One leader of the opposition said he feared the witches' descendants might sue the State of Massachusetts for their ancestors' confiscated property, and the suits "might run into millions."

This was flatly denied by another Senator who led the bill's supporters. "It wouldn't cost the state a nickel," he insisted.

One senator opposed the bill because the value of the witches' houses in Salem would decline if they weren't witches. "This would be a blow to the tourist business."

Sen. Michael Flanagan leaned on the sacredness of history for his opposition. "Essex County is proud of its witches," he said, and why should senators from other counties "seek to rewrite old Essex history?"

There was even intentional humor in the proceedings: Sen. William Keenan was ruled out of order for proposing that since Massachusetts was a colony of the British Crown in 1692, the bill should be "referred to the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain as a matter pertaining to his jurisdiction."

And so it went, back and forth, and the 14 to 9 vote was the tombstone on any further attempt this year to undo an old wrong.

What matters most about this failure is that something which most people know is right never got done.

It almost got done, then the small little arguing began. All the little reasons for not doing it appeared with one man speaking of trade and another of lawsuits, with one holding forth on the untouchability of history and another jesting of British Lord High Chancellors.

Only, it doesn't seem small at all to people who hold that you can't haggle over doing what is right.

To them that new tombstone seems as large as the gibbet on Gallow's Hill in old Salem.

'Cowboy' Barely Escapes Death

Young Buckaroo's Dad Cuts Down Son Hanging From 'Mountain'

DETROIT (UP)—Russell Bush, 5, narrowly escaped hanging himself Sunday when he edged off a garage roof with a rope tied around his chest.

Russell and his cousin, Danny Fletcher, 7, were playing cowboy. To them, the garage was a mountain. Russell was to be lowered into a "valley" with the rope.

The boys tied the rope to a spike at the crest of the roof. Russell eased over the side of the garage, but the short rope broke his descent three from the ground.

Gasping for breath, Russell struggled to free himself as the rope slipped up around his throat. But he soon passed out.

Dann's father, Clarence Fletcher, happened to look out the window of his home. He saw the youngster dangling from the rope.

Michigan Air Guardsman Killed in Virginia Crash

Tax Evasions Cost $2 Billion

Andrews Says Errors, Both Intentional, Honest Face Investigation

WASHINGTON (INS)—The treasury may be losing as much as two billion dollars a year because of income tax errors and evasions.

The estimate was given by the nation's chief tax collector—Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews.

Andrews said that while he might be willing to go along" on the two billion dollar figure "actually there is no basis for estimating the taxes people are not paying."

Andrews also declared last night on NBC's televised "Meet The Press" program that erroneous or fraudulent claims for dependents are being checked closely by his agency.

He said "there are more (such claims) than there ought to be" and declared "prosecutions of the most fraudulent cases" will be forthcoming.

As for existing tax fraud cases, Andrews said: "We are doing a lot of investigating quietly on our own and when the time comes we will deal with them promptly and effectively."

He estimated that audits of this year's returns will bring in "well over a billion—closer to two billion—dollars" in additional taxes. He said a large number of these underpayments were "due to honest mistakes."

The commissioner also indicated that his agency will begin more stringent enforcement of the law as it affects persons claiming large deductions for business expenses, taxpayers in professional fields, and those who receive tips as part of total income.

Boy Scouts in Fight Against Elm Disease

Twelve Boy Scout troops of about 250 youngsters have joined the fight to prevent the spread of Dutch Elm Disease in Pontiac.

Last Saturday the scouts began checking private property on the city's east side for elm logs and brush plus dead elm trees.

The Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America and the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department are sponsoring the program.

According to City Forester William Aho, the beetle which infects the trees hibernates in dead elm wood during the winter. Destruction of the wood usually kills the beetle too.

The scouts, working in two-man teams, will record all finds on a survey sheet which will be turned over to the Parks and Recreation Department for a recheck. Then, Aho said, the city can make recommendations to property owners for removal and destruction of the wood.

A seven-man Recreation Department crew also has been working since January removing dead elm trees and wood on city property.

In 1952, 300 cases of the tree-killing disease were found in Southeastern Michigan. The total jumped to 1,218 in 1953, including two cases in Pontiac.

"The Pontiac cases were found on the east side," Aho said, "and that's why we're concentrating our preventive measures there."

Elms on public property also will be sprayed this spring to kill any insects hibernating in small dead twigs which may have escaped pruning, Aho explained.

"The whole program," said the forester, "is aimed at eliminating the breeding places of the beetles which transmit the disease to healthy elms."

Edward Leland, scout executive, said the troops are scheduled to complete their surveys by April 1. Troops and scoutmasters participating in the program include:

Sea Scout Ship 5, John Ostrander; Troop 4, Norton Graham; Troop 5, John Howell; Troop 8, Richard Byers; Troop 9, William Farrell; Troop 10, Angus Hinds; Troop 12, James Dembo; Troop 14, Otis Lawrence; Troop 17, Gilbert Pierce; Troop 25, Art Warrilow; Troop 66, Nelson Kirby, and Troop 150, Roland Stephison.

Fatalities at 58, Injured 1,044

Walled Lake Has High Rate, White Lake Road Is Second

Fifty-eight traffic deaths were tallied last year in Oakland County, an increase of 10 over 1952, according to a survey made by the Oakland County Road Commission.

Injuries from auto mishaps also increased substantially from 889 in 1952 to 1,044 last year.

According to a map produced by the commission which plotted the deaths and injuries according to location, the three areas with the highest accident rates were:

The Elizabeth Lake-Highland roads from Telegraph road to Airport road in Waterford Township; Northwestern highway from Eight Mile to Twelve Mile roads; and Grand River avenue in the area of the Farmington cut-off.

In 1952 these three high accident rate areas were led only by the Dixie highway from Telegraph road to Williams Lake road.

Generally, accident rates for both years were heavier in the southern end of the county and gradually lessened to a few scattered injury accidents in the northern townships.

Deaths from traffic also followed this pattern to a degree, but were more scattered, with a greater percentage of injury accidents in the north being listed as a fatal collision.

Four deaths last year in or near Walled Lake marked the highest death rate for any particular area, followed by three clustered on the White Lake road at or near U.S. 10.

U.S. 10 (Dixie highway) chalked up the highest number of fatals for any one road with six, followed closely by Pontiac trail with five. Lapeer road and Grand River avenue were next with three each.

Spring Calls Young Folks Up 898 Steps

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the time of year a young man's fancy turns to—climbing up 898 steps.

And some young ladies too, said Charles L. Herman, nodding toward a seemingly endless iron staircase which curled upward around an elevator shaft.

Herman is custodian of the Washington Monument, including all its 898 steps, and he keeps an eye on hundreds of thousands of visitors each year.

* * *

The towering, white marble shaft, 555 feet high, drew a record 1,022,269 people in 1953. Attendance is running lower this year.

Herman said he believed this was partly because economic troubles were keeping more people at home, partly because of some bad tempered weather. He guessed an upswing would begin soon with spring visits from school groups.

As for the young folks, he knew for a fact many scaled the shaft under their own power. Not only had he spotted them clambering up, but he found written evidence in his once or twice weekly inspections of the inside walls for "John loves Mary" type inscriptions, with heart and arrow and so forth.

"I don't mind the pencil marks so much," he confided. "The lipstick is the worst thing to get off."

Details Program to Help Boost Tourist Trade

A program to help communities increase their tourist business was outlined today by Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council.

He urged community leaders to acquaint themselves with tourist accommodations so they can provide better information service to visitors.

Furlong also urged vigorous advertising and publicity programs and development of tourist attractions and entertainment facilities. Improvement of the community's physical appearance also was suggested.

Shattered Beer Bottle Is Symbol of Love?

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—A Butte girl picked up a beer bottle and bashed her boy friend over the head. The bottle shattered, cutting his face and her hand.

Police related: "After the couple was treated in a Butte hospital they apologized to each other, kissed and left the hospital arm in arm."

Accept Registrations for Electrical Talks

Registrations are still being taken for a series of three discussions on the 1953 National Electric Code which will be used as the standard for electrical installations in Pontiac beginning April 1.

City Electrical Supt. John W. Emerson said the first meeting will be tonight at 7:30 p. m. in Consumers Power Co. auditorium, 28 W. Lawrence St., with H. B. Love, Detroit's chief electrical inspector, as speaker.

The topic will be changes applying to general wiring. Meetings also will be held March 29 and 30. Registration can be made at the electrical department, 35 Hill St.

During the first half hour tonight, Consumers Power Co. will conduct instruction in general selling methods, said Emerson.

Confusion Reigns as Korean Clocks Change Hands

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea finally declared her independence from the Japan time zone and you should see the confusion.

The National Assembly, fiercely patriotic, carved out a Korean time zone a half hour behind the Japan zone. It went into effect Saturday.

Now appointments are confirmed with the question: "Japan or Korean time?" The 4 o'clock plane for Japan leaves at 4:30. And the 3 o'clock plane arrives at 3:30. International commuters and telephoners are having the time of their lives making connections.

* * *

Fifty years ago Japan ordered Korea to set her clocks on Japan time. It was done to simplify commerce. And while the political course between the two nations often was rough, they operated smoothly in a single time zone.

Now South Korea is back on its own time.

The U.S. State Department was the first to fall in line. International etiquette, one diplomat explained. How can you keep appointments with Koreans when your clocks aren't in tune.

* * *

The Army was tougher. Army transportation officials, less disposed to diplomacy, asked, "How in heck can we run a railroad when everyone has his own time?" But it gave in.

The Air Force was last. For a while planes took off from Japan on time and arrived in South Korea a half hour ahead of schedule. Then they left South Korea on time and returned to Japan a half hour late. Finally the Air Force threw in its minute hand.

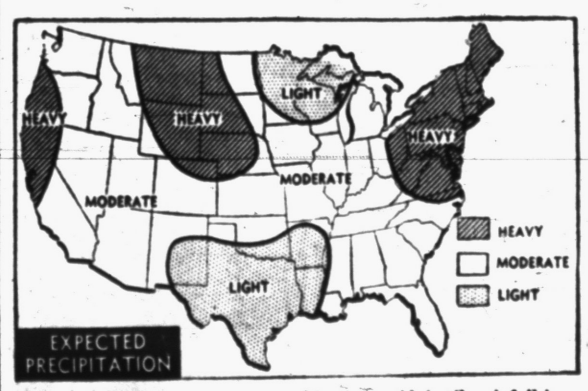
Electrification Causes Ice House to Disappear

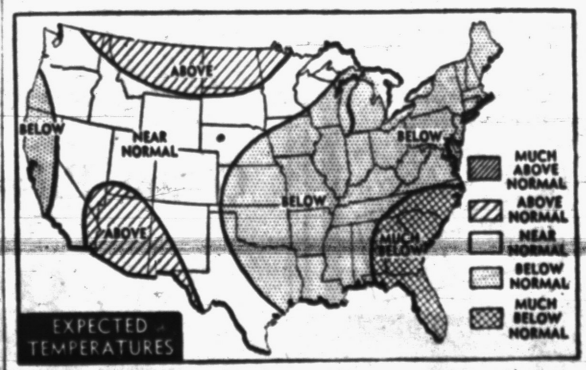
MALONE, N. Y. (AP)—The arrival of modern conveniences even in the tallest timber is threatening to make the ice cutter a vanishing American and the rustic ice house a weatherbeaten curio.

Oscar Brown of Owls Head, deep in the Adirondacks of Northern New York, says he used to fill ice houses for 60 summer campers but this year had only one customer.

"Everybody has electricity now," he explained.



PRECIPITATION—During mid-March to mid-April, rainfall is expected to be above normal in the northeast, northern plains and along the west coast. Subnormal prospects are in sight for Texas.



TEMPERATURES—The mid-March to mid-April forecast shows below normal seasonal temperatures over the eastern half of the nation. Seasonal normals are expected over the western half of the U. S., but the West Coast will have below normal temperatures.

Youth Returned to Jail to Await Arraignment

Francis Ortwein, 18, of 2121 Old Lane, Waterford Township, was bound over for arraignment in Circuit Court Saturday when he waived examination on uttering and publishing charges before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle. Arraignment was set for March 29.

The youth, who admitted passing 20 bad checks in Pontiac, failed to furnish $2,000 bond and was returned to Oakland County Jail.

Find 2,000 Dead Japs on Iwo Jima

IWO JIMA (INS) — Discovery of the bodies of about 2,000 Japanese soldiers today apparently cleared up the World War II mystery of what happened to enemy defenders when U. S. Marines took Iwo Jima.

Only a few of the Japanese defenders were captured when the island was secured by leathernecks on March 16, 1945. At the time American officers were puzzled about the scarcity of enemy dead.

Major Robert Daly, of Spokane, Wash., threw light on the puzzle when he reported that in maneuvers that began Sunday 1,200 to 1,400 bodies were found in one cave and 600 in another underground area.

Daly, an engineer officer, guessed that gas from sulphur springs may have preserved the bodies.

The Marine officer, describing the cave in which the 600 bodies were found, said:

"It must have been a hospital cave. The bodies were close to the entrance and there were bottles of medicine and even packages of cigarettes in a pretty well preserved state."

The cave in which the other bodies were found was opened when a dynamite charge was set off to seal the entry tunnel: A tremendous series of explosions, lasting 18 hours, followed the initial blast.

Marine officers said the subsequent explosions were apparently caused by land mines sown in the area by the Japanese to trap leathernecks in their assault.

Current maneuvers being carried out by the Third Marine Division follow the plan of the original bloody 1945 assault with a move up the volcanic slopes of famed Mt. Suribachi where the American flag was hoisted in one of the most memorable publicized events of the Pacific war.

Denver Police Shut Out by Inoperative Shutter

It took the better part of a week, and was concluded yesterday.

Democrats Form Group for Nonpartisan Battles

DETROIT (UP — Republican State Chairman John Feikens has attacked the Democratic Party's decision to take an active interest in Detroit's nonpartisan government.

Feikens charged Sunday that the Democrats' newly-formed Committee for Detroit Municipal Affairs actually is sponsored by the CIO Political Action Committee.

"It is another attempt on the part of the CIO-PAC bosses to take over government in Michigan," Feikens said.

"On the state level," he added, "they have ordered Gov. Williams to run for re-election because through him they can control the government of the state."

Theodore H. Bohn, Wayne County Democratic chairman announced Saturday that the Committee for Detroit Municipal Affairs had been appointed.

Boy Gets Lesson About Difference Between Trains

LANSING (AP) — A 6-year-old boy who comes down to the railroad tracks to "take care of the trains" almost caused a major disaster Sunday.

A telegraph operator noticed an open switch near Lansing's Main street and Washington boulevard. He quickly wired ahead and stopped a Grand Trunk freight train running on the yard's main line.

Detectives checking the switch found the youngster. He told them he played with his electric trains at home and took care of the trains at the yard.

He admitted opening the switch. Detectives asked him to leave the big trains alone hereafter. Presumably they were big enough to take care of themselves.

500 Deaf Persons 'Hear' Performance of Play

BOSTON (AP)—Some 500 deaf persons yesterday saw and "heard" a performance of "Pilate's Daughter," the nation's oldest passion play.

God Works Anonymously Via Heroic, Creative Man

The following story of Purim and its application to life was written by Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein who came to Temple Beth Jacob as spiritual leader in 1948. The congregation was organized in 1922.

* * *

A favorite question on Biblical quizzes is: What book of the Bible never mentions the name of God? The answer, of course, is the Scroll of Esther, which we read in our congregations on the Festival of Purim.

Rabbi Saperstein

Perhaps this is not the defect that it seems. It is good for us that there should be one among the sacred books that omits the name of God altogether — to prevent us from attaching to the mere name a reverence which belongs only to the Divine Reality.

The story of Esther is reminder that even when the name of God is absent — the work and the presence of God is there.

Think of this problem of the spiritual education of our children. Many are concerned about the so-called secularism of our public schools. They press for the use of public school time and space to do the job that properly belongs to the home and religious institution.

Yet, aside from the threat to a unified democracy that such sectarian invasions of the schools would mean, is it really true that the public schools are lacking in spiritual and moral values?

For my part, when I see a teacher showing sincere respect for the personalities of her pupils, or encouraging cooperation and yet supporting the children in expressing their individualities, when I see her sensitizing pupils to the needs of their community and building bridges between the races and nations and creeds in her classroom — I see a truly religious spirit and not a secular spirit, at all.

Let the schools stand for something, let them be instruments for the ennoblement of character — and though the name of God is not formally pronounced, He will be in every classroom.

There is another place in life, where the presence of God is not immediately apparent — and yet He surely manifests Himself. That is where human suffering occurs. Much of human anguish remains a mystery.

Yet there is that pain we can understand as the toll exacted by the transgression of laws of nature or morality. We may cry out: "Where was God?" — when someone defies these laws and reaps suffering. But the absence of such would be greater proof that this was a universe of chance.

That very suffering bespeaks an ordered and dependable creation and is the greatest testimony of God's presence. Suffering, then, can be the signature of the Eternal.

Finally, let us recognize, that God has been there, even in the midst of those who have denied Him. There are those great truth-seekers, for instance, who have been misled into believing that religion is the foe of truth — instead of understanding that every new discovery, every additional insight, has brought them closer and closer to the "hem of the divine garment" as the Jewish mystics put it.

For example, while Marie Curie thought she was turning away from God, in her devotion to scientific truth, her passion for discovery, in her unselfish gift to humanity of the healing power of radium — she was an instrument of the Most High.

This then is the lesson of that peculiar deficiency in the Book of Esther. It should make us more keenly perceptive of God's anonymous creativity through men who are His co-workers.

Let it also keep us humble and flexible as we each interpret God in our own inadequate, human ways. For He makes Himself known in any guises.

Let us be confident in this — as surely as it was Providence that guided Esther to the throne and through her saved Israel — so God reigns and is present wherever men do His will, even though they name Him not.

Dr. Edsel Ruddiman, Noted Chemist, Dies

DEARBORN (INS) — Dr. Edsel A. Ruddiman, noted chemist and boyhood friend of Henry Ford, died yesterday at his home in Dearborn at the age of 89.

Dr. Ruddiman was a professor of pharmacy from 1890 to 1920 and dean of the pharmacy school at Vanderbilt University. He was chief chemist for several Midwest firms before joining the Ford Motor Co. in 1926. At Ford he supervised nutritional research on soybeans.

Dr. Ruddiman was a schoolmate of the late auto magnate and their initials, carved on the desk which they shared, are preserved at the little country schoolhouse at Greenfield Village.

It was in the doctor's honor that Ford named his only son Edsel.

Volleyball Players Desert Red Team

LISBON, Portugal, (AP)—Two Yugoslav volleyball players who say they are tired of communism have deserted their country's championship ball team and asked for political asylum in Portugal.

Officials identified the pair as Budisin Gavra and Julka Jost and said they turned themselves over to Portuguese police last week.

Gavra was captain of the team, which won an international tournament here last week. Jost was its youngest member.

Neighbors Make Success of Interest in Each Other

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER
Housewife, Atlanta, Ga.

Like any good father, Isidor Jacobs was listening to the radio program which his son, Joe, had suggested over the telephone. A short, balding man, Isidor toyed with the dials, wondering why Joe was insistent about this program.

Then the boy's voice came out of the radio. A senior at Atlanta Boys High, Joe surprised them with the news that he was runner-up in an essay contest, "Know Your Neighbor, Latin America." Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs sat closer to the radio, their eyes beaming.

S. PFEIFFER

Isidor's pride in his son brought tears to his eyes. He, too, felt a natural love for his fellow man. "But why, Lizzie," he burst out to his wife, "is it necessary to go to Cuba and to Argentina to know your neighbors? We don't even know the ones in our own block here in Atlanta. Why?"

The longer he thought about it the more determined he was to make a positive declaration of friendliness. He would ask some of his neighbors to a meal.

No, he would telephone every man in the 1700 block on Noble Drive, explain his ideas and ask their opinion of its worth, even if he had to search for the names of those neighbors.

Approval of Isidor's idea was instantaneous and unanimomus. So he invited the men to a barbecue on Armistice Day.

All 26 men attended. For the first time everyone in the 1700 block had a chance to know each other. They learned the names of the men who had been faces driving their kids to school, playing catch with their boys or mowing their grass behind a fence.

They lingered over the aromatic sauce and the crisply barbecued meat. They thought the party and the company so wonderful that they decided to meet again and to make it a permanent group. They would assemble every three months, taking turns as host and as chairman.

And so Isidor Jacobs was made first chairman of the "Know Your Neighbor Club." Grady Yancy was named chairman to send out notices. And Sam Cefalu invited them to a spaghetti dinner for the next meeting.

Catholics, Jews, Baptists, Presbyterians and Methodists—they all discovered that a man's religion, and his race, have no bearing on whether he is a good neighbor.

The club has only two rules:

1. There will be no arguments over religion or politics.

2. No alcoholic beverages will be served, out of deference to those who do not drink.

Before long the Know Your Neighbor Club commenced to share in all the joys and woes of the block. First, the children's birthdays were remembered with greeting cards. Then wedding anniversaries came in for notice.

Flowers were sent to the ill and hospitalized members. Occasionally an older child married. The club would send a wedding present of silver.

Now and then a family moves out of the block, but the man always keeps his membership in the club. Before a resident moves away, he welcomes the newcomers to their house and to the block.

One night a man on the block was taken ill, while his wife was visiting in another state. He called a doctor who promised to come as soon as possible after caring for another patient.

Meanwhile, the doctor's wife called several neighbors. These wives took turns sitting up with the sick man through the long night.

Isidor Jacobs loves to tell the story of fences on Noble Drive.

One Sunday he had a barbecue at his outdoor fireplace. The aroma spread enticingly. A neighbor came to his fence and called, "Isidor, your cooking makes me hungry."

"Then come and have some barbecue with us," Isidor answered.

With that, Jacobs cut a passage through the fence with wire clippers. Now every neighbor on Noble Drive has a gate in his fence.

And so, because young Joe Jacobs asked his father to listen to a radio program, the 1700 block is living in brotherly love. Joe's call was the spark that initiated the effort to create unity without uniformity.

But success came because the people in that block have worked at understanding and have stayed with it; remembering always that there can be peace—because of you and me.

Tomorrow—Clifford Clinton started a Los Angeles Cafeteria.

British Guard Official's Wife After Threat Note

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard assigned a special bodyguard to Mrs. Oliver Lyttelton, wife of Britain's colonial secretary, yesterday following receipts of a letter threatening her with death.

British political leaders and newspapers have received letters with similar threats against Queen Elizabeth II if she carries out her plans to visit Spanish-claimed Gibraltar May 10. Prime Minister Churchill's wife also received a threatening letter a week ago.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's biggest newspaper today criticized American treatment of 23 fishermen burned by radioactive ashes from a secret U. S. H-bomb test March 1 and urged U. S. doctors to give assurances the 23 "are not guinea pigs."

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi urged the United States to reveal to Japanese physicians the materials used in the blast, but said: "Presumably the United States doesn't want to disclose military secrets."

The fishermen's boat was caught in a two-hour shower of ashes from the massive explosion in the Bikini test area.

* * *

Scientists and doctors of the U.S. Atom Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC) at Hiroshima—American and Japanese—have entered the case.

"The ABCC is an organ to conduct research but not to treat patients," the Asahi said. "Dr. John Morton and his staff should treat the patients this time not only to make a fine report to America but to give the patients assurances they are not guinea pigs."

Dr. Masau Tsuzuki, chief physician for the fishermen, said: "We have gained practically all data necessary for treating the patients."

Dr. Tsuzuki said scientists had determined some of the elements present in the ash, but said they still could not say the specific type of device used.

He said his patients are not in danger of death at present but "we can't tell what it will be ultimately."

No. 1 Is Stalled

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—The police radio dispatcher, Lawrence McNeil, received an urgent call for help from "Car. No. 1." He sent a cruiser post-haste. Car No. 1 was found stalled on a main highway. The occupant was Mayor Richard C. Lee. The cruiser gave him a lift home.

8-Year-Old Has Hidden Feelings to Be Bared

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Ralph H. Dolson took her 8-year-old daughter Suzie downtown to buy an Easter outfit.

"I don't want any just plain stuff," Suzie told her mother. "I want a dress like the dining room curtains. You know, with holes in what it's made out of."

Her reason for a dress "with holes" were evident when she pranced out of the store's dressing room.

* * *

Four large red hearts drawn on her bare chest showed clearly through the lace. Completing the picture were a Cupid's arrow and the words, "Suzie Loves Terry. Terry Loves Suzie."

Later at home, Suzie dolefully watched her lipstick tattoo go down the bathtub drain, and repeated:

"But that's what for I wanted the dress."

She has the dress, though.

India Claims Colonies Which Favor Merger Are Repressed

NEW DELHI (UP) — India has charged the French government with "intimidating" groups in the four settlements of French India who favor merger with the Indian republic. The Indian government also is campaigning to take over Goa, the Portuguese colony on the west coast of India.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the Indian government had sent a "strong protest" to French authorities.

* * *

A Foreign Office statement said the people of Pondicherry and the three other French Indian settlements had through their ministers and mayors given an "almost unanimous verdict" of desire to merge with the Indian republic. It added:

"Reports so far received show that the French authorities sent police parties to various parts of the settlements to warn people against demonstrations for a merger. Four men supporting merger have been arrested.

France contends officially that a popular referendum should be held to determine French India's future. India rejected the proposal, asserting that French domination of the settlements makes a free ballot impossible.

Prime Minister Nehru has told Parliament several times recently that India can no longer tolerate foreign pockets on her coasts.

India a week ago protested to Portugal against alleged "repression" of the people of Goa. The charge was based largely on the arrest and deportation to Lisbon of a Portuguese national who was leading a movement favoring a merger with India.

Exasperating Woman Lives Giveaway Life

By BILLY ROSE

The most endearing and, at the same time, the most exasperating person I ever knew was a Russian immigrant girl named Fannie, who lived in the same house in which I was born on the lower East Side.

BILLY ROSE

I saw a great deal of Fannie during my youth, and even after I moved uptown I used to look her up at least once a week.

When she died in 1935, although she was far from being a celebrity, her death made page-one headlines in the Yiddish newspapers and several thousand people attended her funeral.

My earliest memory of Fannie is of her standing on a soapbox, speechifying and taking up a collection to rescue a Jewish family from one of the pogrom-ridden villages outside Odessa.

In the next dozen years—and I don't pretend to know how she did it — Fannie raised enough money to bring over 80 such families. The children and grandchildren of those salvaged families made up a good part of the respectful turnout at her funeral.

Fannie was also the most indifferent housekeeper I have ever known. And it wasn't because she was lazy. It was only because there were so many other houses in the neighborhood where there were troubles that had to be straightened out first.

Fannie never had as much as $20 she could call her own at any one time for the first 15 years I knew her. Nevertheless, I remember her announcing one day that she had taken title to a five-story brownstone dwelling on upper St. Nicholas avenue.

Her family was going to occupy the ground floor and she planned to rent out the rest. When I asked Fannie where she had raised enough cash to buy a house, she told me the transaction hadn't involved any cash — the owner trusted her.

A few years later, Fannie sold the house at a $7,000 profit and moved her family back into another cold-water flat. That Christmas she made a package deal with a Grand Street dentist and spent almost the entire $7,000 on upper and lower dentures for close to a hundred indigents of her acquaintance.

Perhaps the best way I can sum up this exasperating woman is to say she lived every minute of her life as if it were a giveaway program.

In 1932, when I received the royalties on my first hit song—a distinguished bit of poesy called "Barney Google" — I gave Fannie $500 to buy herself a black sealskin coat.

But when she dropped in to see me a week later, she was wearing the same beat-up cloth coat she had worn for years.

I asked Fannie what she had done with the money. Her bland answer was that she had given every cent of it to a tailor with weak lungs who had been advised by a doctor to go to Arizona.

A few minutes later, I marched Fannie over to a midtown shop and stood there while she picked out a sealskin coat. But the following week when I dropped by to take her out to dinner, she was still wearing her old cloth coat.

Fannie begged me not to be angry with her — a young girl she knew was in some bad trouble, and she had pawned the sealskin for a third of what it cost.

In 1934, when I produced "Jumbo" at the New York Hippodrome, I finally gave Fannie something I was certain she wouldn't give away —a pair of downfront tickets for the premiere. But when I looked for her during the intermission she wasn't there.

Fannie explained the next day that, though she hated to miss the opening of my first big show, she had had no choice in the matter. One of her neighbors — a girl named Rosie — had split up with her intended, a medical student named Julius.

Fannie had given one of the tickets to Rosie, the other to Julius, figuring that when the lovers found themselves sitting side-by-side at a gay circus show, they would wind up holding hands . . .

Well, I could go on like this for a dozen columns with stories about Fannie and her giveaway life. She was, in many ways, the most exasperating person I ever knew. But I can't think of anyone I would rather have had for a mother.

Tax Review Board Hears 338 Cases

The Pontiac Board of Tax Review heard 338 complaints from persons asking assessment adjustments during its annual three-week session which ended Friday, according to James F. Spence, group chairman.

Appeals were considered from persons claiming inability to pay their assessment, from real estate owners and on personal property assessments.

The city assessor's office is now changing tax rolls as ordered by the board prior to setting a total valuation on real and personal property in Pontiac. The final figure must be approved by the Board of Review, Spence said.

Heights Spoils Vikings' Try for Sixth Prep Title

By JOE FALLS

EAST LANSING (AP) — Refusal to quit under pressure — mark of a real champion — carried Muskegon Heights to its first Class A high school basketball championship.

River Rouge (Class B), Lansing St. Mary (Class C) and Gobles (Class D) also were crowned in the afternoon-evening sessions in Jenison Field House before a combined crowd of 23,620.

On both occasions Tigers blew big leads late in the game. But they refused to be dismayed. They fought back even harder, retaining their composure, and edged Highland Park 49-47 in the season's biggest upset, and followed with their tingling overtime decision against Flint Northern.

"I knew my team was good," said Johnson today, "but wasn't sure how good. Now I know. We won because the boys wouldn't fold."

Johnson was given the two shots when Flint's Bob Failing charged into him while trying for the basket that would have won the game for Northern.

Johnson walked to the foul line and fell to his knees, as if in prayer. Realizing the pressure, coach Johnson called a time out to talk with his players.

"I told Murt to shoot just like in practice," the coach said. "I saw he was gasping out there and I figured I'd better talk with him."

Johnson didn't let his coach down. He walked back to the foul line with renewed confidence and calmly dropped in the winning free throws which smashed Flint Northern's hopes of becomming the first team to win six Class A titles.

"It sure was," said coach Johnson. "He slammed into two or our players, Murt Johnson and M. C. Burton. They called it right."

Understandably, Flint Northern coach Carl Stelter was unhappy with the referee's decision.

"It's real rough to lose by a few seconds and on one man's decision," he said dejectedly. "The referee called charging. If he had called it the other way, we had the game won.

That, indeed, is true. Muskegon Heights is a seasoned, well-coached team. They're fast, have the necessary height and, most important, know how to move the ball.

Coach Johnson was asked which victory gave him more satisfaction, the one against Highland Park or the one against Flint Northern. He wouldn't say outright but hinted the Highland Park upset, in which the Parkers' were dealt their first loss after 18 easy victories and were rated No. 1.

Like Muskegon Heights, River Rouge and Gobles captured their first state titles. Rouge almost blew a 22-point halftime lead but choked off a desperate rally by Holland Christian to win the Class B crown, 56-53. Gobles breezed to the Class D title, whipping Remus, 56-28.

Berry's 'Gifts' Clinch Victory for Jewelers

Pontiac Quintet Earns Right to Try for State Title in Battle Creek

Pontiac's Shaw Jewelry came from behind last night to edge Flint Frankenmuth, 70-68, in overtime to win the Michigan recreation Association district basketball tournament at Flint.

Jewelers defeated Marysville, 72-47, Saturday night to earn a finalists berth. Shaw's will go to Battle Creek this weekend to compete for the state title against winners from six other districts.

Jewelers trailed through most of Saturday's game, lagging behind 16 points at one time in the 2nd quarter. They crept to within three points at the end of three periods, and tied the score at 61 points at the end of regulation time.

Former Pontiac High cager Dick Ayling sank a field goal with 55 seconds left in the extra session to again knot the count at 67 points. Smith gave the Jewelers a lead with a free throw, and Max Berry dropped two more charity tosses to ice the victory. Berry led the Pontiac team with 14 points, while Flint's Jim Vukovich had 20.

Two other Pontiac City League teams start tournament play today. Pontiac Merchants, City "B" champion, meets Wyandotte at 8 p.m. in the Class B intercity tournament at Highland Park. Junior Elks Lodge No. 723 opens play in the Intercity Class D test at 7:30 p.m., also against Wyandotte. That game is at Detroit's Lasky Community Center.

Cuts Furnish Headache

Tribe's Lopez Faced With Many Decisions

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Al Lopez, erudite manager of the Cleveland Indians, will be a man of many decisions in the next three weeks.

Cleveland, runnerup to the champion Yankees the past three seasons, can use help for the big three of the pitching corps, Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn, plus Bob Feller, Hal Newhouser and Art Houtteman.

Lopez has no problem with Al Rosen, Indians' third baseman, most valuable player-elect in the American League in 1953 and the homerun champion with 43 in the circuit.

No less than three candidates are applying for first base work. Rookie Rocky Nelson, a purchase from Brooklyn and the most valuable player in the International League last year with Montreal, seems to have the inside track.

Available for utility service are Sam Dente and Hank Majeski, who have been around in the majors for some time, as well as Owen Friend, at second. Lopez can't carry 'em all.

Albright, Jenkins Keep National Skating Titles

Both Winners Indicate Intentions to Remain Amateurs

Pretty Blonde Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., and slim Hayes Alan Jenkins of Colorado Springs, a pair of serious collegians, had little trouble defending their senior singles titles in the United States championships.

Outstanding youngsters included Jenkins' younger brother, David, 17, second in the men's senior division, and Carol Heiss, Ozone Park, N. Y., 14, runnerup to Miss Albright.

The crowd's favorite was vivacious Catherine Machado, 17, of Los Angeles, winner of the junior ladies' championship and the Oscar L. Richard trophy for the most artistic free skating among both junior and senior women.

Sawchuk Misses Vezina Cup by Single Goal as Wings Blast Maple Leafs, 6-1

SOMEWHERE IN TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Detroit Red Wings today were in their secret hotel hideaway in Toledo, mentally preparing for the opening of the Stanley Cup playoffs and fuming because they didn't score one more goal in the last game of the regular season.

Red Wings begin the post-season play Tuesday in Detroit's Olympia Stadium, meeting Toronto Maple Leafs in a best-of-seven semifinal series.

The Detroit management thinks so highly of the playoffs that each year it brings the entire team to this city, away from the turmoil of Detroit, to discuss strategy secretly and rest up for the opening game. Not even members of the press are told where the Red Wings are quartered.

Coach Tommy Ivan had a group of steamed-up players on his hands as he mapped last-minute battle plans — and that's probably a good sign. Wings entered the playoffs last year tired and dull, and were eliminated in a first-round upset by the Boston Bruins.

It could be different this time. Wing players are mad because they only beat Toronto by a 6-1 score in Detroit Sunday night. One more goal, you see, and Detroit netminder Terry Sawchuk would have finished in a tie with Toronto's Harry Lumley for the Vezina trophy, and the $1,000 award that goes with it.

Lumley entered last night's game as an apparent shoo-in for the trophy, holding a six-goal margin on Sawchuk. But he almost lost it as the Wings rallied in an effort to give Sawchuck a tie.

They beat Lumley twice in the first period and once in the second. Toronto had scored in the second — a fluke goal, at that —and Lumley's lead was four goals entering the final period. That still looked good enough.

Detroit's Johnny Wilson clicked at 2:09 of the third period. Lumley's lead was three. Capt. Ted Lindsay scored at 11:00 and again at 13:03, and Lumley's lead over Sawchuk dwindled to a mere goal.

At this point the Red Wings made an all-out effort to tie it for Terry, even though they had the game won. They stormed the Toronto net but Lumley, who was once a Red Wing, refused to yield again.

'Have-Nots' Prefer Switch

Major League Committee Studying Draft Rule Doubts Any Change Will Be Made

By GAYLE TALBOT

TAMPA (AP) — The committee of big league executives studying revision of the present draft rule has just concluded its fifth meeting of the winter and spring without reporting any appreciable progress. One of its members, who prefers anonymity, says he seriously doubts now that anything will come of it.

* * *

At the extremes of the two factions involved in the debate are the Washington Senators, who have no farm system worth mentioning, and the New York Yankees, whose farms are loaded with gifted youngsters who will be stars within a few years.

The Senators, as well as other clubs which are unable to maintain extensive player assembly lines, would like to have an unrestricted draft where all minor leaguers who are not being brought up by the parent team would be placed on the block at each winter draft meeting. As it is now, a club such as the Yankees stands to lose only one player each winter.

* * *

The "have" clubs, naturally, are fighting any such revision with claw and hoof, feeling that it virtually would wipe out their huge minor league investments. Commissioner Ford Frick was at one time reported favorable to some sort of stringent revision as an antidote for criticized aspects of the reserve clause, but is said now to have cooled off.

* * *

Rollie Hemsley, pitching coach of the Philadelphia Athletics, has a new gimmick for getting his charges in shape and keeping them that way. The day after they work they are required to station themselves in the infield and retrieve balls thrown back during batting practice. The stretching and bending keeps 'em supple and removes any soreness.

Dartmouth Student Is Harriman Cup Victor

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (INS) — Tom Corcoran, 22-year-old ski ace from Dartmouth College, turned in two brilliant runs on a 50-gate slalom course at Sun Valley Sunday to win the 11th annual Harriman Cup combined title.

LOS ANGELES (INS) — President Myron H. Wilson of the Cleveland Indians baseball club today ripped up the contract of general manager Hank Greenberg, which had one year to run, and awarded the former all-time first baseman a new two-year pact.

Although salary terms were not disclosed, Wilson said Greenberg will receive the same amount of money he was drawing under the former three-year pact.

Mal Whitfield Is Serious About Record Mile Try

NEW YORK (AP)—No doubt about it, Mal Whitfield is serious about running the four-minute mile this spring.

In the Knights of Columbus games in Madison Square Garden Saturday night, he certainly could have broken his own world indoor record of 1:09.5 for the 600 had he decied to go all out. But, instead, he merely beat his opposition into the ground and crossed the line in 1:10.1, six-tenths of a second off the mark.

Horace Ashenfelter, America's prime distance hope for the 1956 Olympics, thrashed Fred Wilt in the two-mile run in 8:58.5. This was a gratifying triumph, indeed, for Ashenfelter, who has spent the last five years and 16 indoor races chasing his pal from the FBI.

Other winners included Harrison Dillard in the hurdles (7.2), Ed Waters of Morgan State in the 60-yard dash (6.3), Herman Wyatt of Santa Clara, Calif., in the high jump (6-8¼, a new meet record), and Jerry Welbourn of Union City, Ind., and Jim Harrington of Notre Dame in the pole vault, each with 14-4. Bob Richards scratched because of a bad leg.

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Women bowlers from Lansing, Lapeer, Eaton Rapids and St. Johns cracked into the first three places of the State Women's Handicap Bowling Tournament this weekend.

Ena May Eddie of Lansing moved into first of the all events with 1880, shoving Marilyn Swanson of Charlevoix (1832) down to second. Vivian Wijrick of St. Johns captured third place on 1827.

Natalie Carpenter and Patricia Gunderson of Lapeer took over the doubles leadership on 1244 from Betty Hunt and Katie Thompson of Kalamazoo (1212) who fell to second.

Neva Baumer of Eaton Rapids squeezed into third of the singles competition with 633. Team standings in the first three places remained intact.

Ben's the Man

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ben Hogan served notice today that he is the man to beat in the Seminole Club's Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament starting here tomorrow. Hogan toured the 7,006-yard Seminole Golf Club course yesterday in 31-30—61, carding nine birdies, one eagle and eight pars.

Delsing Sets Pace as Tigers 'Big Bat'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Slugging star for the Detroit Tigers this spring is not Walt Dropo or Ray Boone — but outfielder Jim Delsing, normally known as a "singles" hitter.

Delsing has been the team's extra base leader, with two doubles and three home runs. Besides, he has batted in nine runs — most on the team.

Jim Konstanty Tells of Relief Pitcher's Trials

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Jim Konstanty, veteran rescue artist of the Philadelphia Phillies, thinks the life of a starting pitcher is one of ease and comfort compared to that of a relief hurler.

"Oh, for the life of a starter," he sighs. "Starting games is a dream. Work one day and get the next three days off. Nothing to do in between starts but go to the movies, visit places and people and enjoy yourself. A friend calls you up and invites you to his house. You say 'Sure, I don't have to pitch again until next Friday.'

"But us poor relief pitchers . . . we can't go to the movies, we can't visit places, we can't afford to relax. We can't stay out late because we must work the next day, and the next and the next. We've got to be on call.

"We may have to pitch anywhere from two to nine innings tomorrow. Not to mention batting practice and work in the bullpen. The relief pitcher is always working. He must always be ready."

Mantle to Miss Yanks' Opener

Ace Outfielder May Be Idled Until After the 1st of May

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees star centerfielder, definitely will not be able to play when the Yanks open the American League season April 13 at Washington and there's a possibility he won't see action until after May 1.

The blond slugger, who had to have two operations on his damaged knee during the winter, was examined yesterday by Dr. George Bennett, surgeon of Johns Hopkins Hospital.

"It will be at least three weeks before he can give it a serious test," Dr. Bennett said. "It's all a matter of rebuilding the knee. He is doing as well as can be expected."

Since the season begins three weeks from tomorrow, Mantle obviously cannot be ready for hard play then and may not be ready until mid-May. He was operated on last November for removal of a torn cartilege and again in February for removal of a cyst which developed when he ran too soon on the bad leg.

Many Strange Things Happen in Masters' Tourney; Sarazen, Nelson Comebacks, Wood's Reversal

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—It has been 20 years since Bob Jones and Cliff Roberts brought the first Masters into action over the famous flower-garden course of the Augusta National.

* * *

Most of those who started then have vanished from competition—Bob Jones, Walter Hagen, Mac Smith, Craig Wood and other masters of wood and iron. But Ben Hogan will be back. So will Byron Nelson. And so will the eternal one, Gene Sarazen. Jimmy Demaret will be one of the veteran kings on hand along with Sammy Snead.

* * *

Hogan, Nelson and Snead won't be the tournament favorites for many more years. Hogan and Nelson play few tournaments as it is. Hogan played in his first Masters in 1939, 15 years ago. He finished 9th. He won his first Masters in 1951.

* * *

Ben won again in 1953. He played one of the greatest four rounds of golf—breaking the record by five strokes. His score was 70-69-66-69 for a total of 274.

Jimmy Demaret has won the Masters three times, while Hogan, Nelson, Snead and Horton Smith have each won twice. Hogan has also finished second twice.

Here and there I run across a flock of golfers in the course of a year. They always mention the Masters as a meeting ground. There seem to be more odd things that happen at the Masters than anywhere else.

* * *

There was the round in 1935 when Gene Sarazen was trailing Craig Wood by three strokes with only four holes to play. He needed three birdies. He got them all on one hole—the 500-yard, par-5, 15th. From 220 yards away he holed a remarkable spoon shot for a double eagle.

The 1937 tournament was the time Byron Nelson picked up six strokes on the 12th and 13th holes. Ralph Guldahl had a safe lead at the time. Then Nelson had a 2-3 on two holes where Guldahl had required a 5-6.

Probably the most astonishing thing that ever happened occurred in the 1936 tournament, when Craig Wood shot an 85 opening day and then followed with a 67 in the next round. Craig, a truly great golfer, was 21 strokes apart just 24 hours apart. It was the greatest reversal I've ever known in golf.

Cage Coaches Seek Change in '1-and-1'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Collegiate basketball's rulemaking body juggled ideas yesterday in an effort to find a feasible substitute for one of the games most controversial subjects — the one-and-one free throw rule.

Under this rule, a player who has been fouled is given two chances to make a single free throw during the first 37 minutes of the game. All fouls in the final three minutes call for two shots.

The national committee spent a lengthy session on the subject and planned further discussion today.

Major League Clubs Put in Weird Day

By RIP WATSON
AP Sports Writer

Baseball's spring training games don't count in the record books, and there are some days the boys are just as glad nobody's keeping tabs on them.

* * *

Twenty-three bases on balls in one game . . . a home run by a Cuban rookie in his first time at bat in organized baseball . . . a rookie who's played exactly 10 games in the majors installed as the Chicago Cubs regular shortstop . . . a 3-2 victory by Boston with a batting attack consisting of two hits, six walks in two innings and five St. Louis errors.

* * *

The standings themselves are surprising enough, with the Philadelphia Athletics, nobody's favorite to win the American League pennant, leading their league in the spring standings after a 7-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The multiple bases on balls—seven below the major league record—came in Washington's 10-9 victory over Detroit.

The Cuban rookie who made such a sensational debut was Angelo Toledo of the Chicago White Sox, but despite his efforts Cincinnati defeated the Sox 5-3. Toledo had reported to his first baseball camp exactly one hour before.

* * *

The new Cub shortstop is Ernie Banks, one of the first three Negroes ever to represent the team. He batted .314 in a brief trial last September and is close to .500 thus far this spring. This prompted the Cubs to trade their previous shortstop, Roy Smalley, to Milwaukee for pitcher Dave Cole.

Gerry Staley of the Cardinals pitched six innings of one-hit, scoreless ball against Boston, but the effort went for nothing when the Red Sox combined their second hit of the game, with six walks by Tom Poholsky and five Red Bird errors.

The Athletics got five good innings of pitching from Bob Trice, the International League's Most Valuable Player last year, and the lead stood up despite homers by George Freese and Frank Thomas.

Frankie Baumholz, one of the National League's better hitters (lifetime average, .291), slammed two doubles and three singles in five times up in pacing an 8-2 victory for the Cubs over the Baltimore Orioles.

Warren Spahn, the senior member of Milwaukee's pitching corps, retired 14 men in succession in the course of pitching seven scoreless innings against Philadelphia as the Braves walloped the Phillies 10-0.

* * *

Hurler to Get More Chance on Chicago Staff

Change of Scenery Is Likely to Help Ex-Cub Shortstop Too

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The trade which sent Milwaukee Braves relief pitcher Dave Cole and an undisclosed amount of cash to the Chicago Cubs yesterday in return for shortstop Roy Smalley is a break for both players.

* * *

Cole, leaving a club having plenty of moundsmen, will have a better chance as a starting pitcher with Chicago. The trade enables Smalley to leave Wrigley Field, where fans have been riding him for two seasons.

"We consider Cole a good prospect," said Manager Phil Cavaretta of the Cubs at Yuma, Ariz. "With more chance to work as a member of our staff we hope his control will improve. That's all he may need to become a winner because he has a lot of stuff."

* * *

Braves Manager Charlie Grimm, who handled the Cubs in 1948 when Smalley arrived in Chicago, thinks the change will be good for Smalley.

"He has all the tools," said Grimm. "I think all he needs is the proper encouragement in a new environment. Lots of times a change of scenery is all a ballplayer has to have to realize his potentialities."

Cole, 23, a right-hander from Williamsport, Md., had an 0-1 record with the Braves last year. A bullpen regular, he has pitched in only 136 innings since he broke into the major leagues in 1950 with the Braves.

* * *

Smalley, 27, hit 21 homers and led the National League in fielding in 1950, but then ran into three poor seasons. He broke an ankle in 1951. He was hit in the head and suffered from an elbow injury in 1952. Last spring he turned an ankle.

Reports From Majors' Camps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BRADENTON, Fla.—Rumors of a trade between the Phillies and Milwaukee Braves circulated here following Phillies' 10th loss in 14 spring training games, 10-0, yesterday to Milwaukee. The unconfirmed report said the Phillies would send catcher Stan Lopata to Milwaukee for infielder Roy Smalley.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Philadelphia Athletics first baseman Don Bollweg joined outfielder Gus Zernial on the sidelines today after injuring his right ankle in a game with the Pirates yesterday.

ORLANDO, Fla. — Washington Senator strategists will breathe a lot easier if pitcher Mickey McDermott starts to snap out of his current slump.

So far, McDermott's performance has been judged by Washington as a case of "this being still spring training."

His very first time at bat, the Cuban socked a home run. He subsequently struck out twice as the Sox lost 5-3.

Imig says Toledo is called "the arm" in Cuba and that he is a good major league prospect.

Detroit, Jackson Bowlers Revise Legion Tourney List

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Jackson, Detroit and other southern Michigan bowlers brought about a wholesale revision in the American Legion handicap bowling tournament standings this weekend.

Chalmers Post of Detroit pushed Thomas Edison of Detroit out of first place in the team division by rolling a 2502-370—2872. Harold Chatell Post of Trenton took over fourth with a 2556-288—2844.

Two Jackson duos took over the first two places in the doubles, shoving Flint's John Maygar and Fay Barhiti down to third. Jack Gallagher and Jack Weible were first with a 1143-128—1271. Ray Baker and Ed Garfield were second with a 1074-172—1246.

Charles Horton and Ernie Engquist of Howell rolled a 1098-128—1226 to tie for fifth in the doubles with Bernard Sanford and Dick Diederick of Jackson who rolled 1027-199—1226.

Gerald Driscoll of Tecumseh with a 40-pin spot rolled 645 for a total 685 and the singles lead. Lou Musson of Howell with a low two-pin spot rolled a 677 series for a 679 total and second place.

The tournament also recorded an all events standing for the first time in its current play. Elroy Stiles of Lapeer was leading with 1742. Mel Patton of Detroit was only one pin behind with 1741.

It's Time Out!

Giles Defends Cards' Owner

Calls Senator Johnson's Charges Against Busch 'Plain Poppycock'

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — National League president Warren C. Giles, in one of the most vehement outbursts of his career, defended the new St. Louis Cardinal owners Sunday night and called "all this talk about commercial interests owning ball clubs to the detriment of baseball plain poppycock."

Although Giles mentioned no names, his blast unquestionably was aimed at Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, president of the Western League. Johnson has introduced a bill in the senate designed to make baseball teams owned by breweries or other interests subject to the federal anti-trust laws.

August A. Busch Jr., of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company is president of the Cardinals and has faced the brunt of Sen. Johnson's attack against commercial interests in baseball.

"Baseball and baseball owners are being made targets for unjustified and unfair public criticism," the normally quiet-spoken Giles said.

Sickles Image Eligible for Churchill 'Cap

Among the eligibles for the $10,000 Churchill Downs Handicap, which opens the racing season at Louisville, is Sickles Image, owned by Clarence Hartwick of Oxford.

The Oakland County mare is one of 47 horses listed as eligible for the event. Race is slated Saturday, April 24. H. B. Delman's Roaming and Hasty House Farms' Pomace, who finished 1-2 in the same race last year, will return.

East Glovers Seeking Victory

Chicago Team Hasn't Lost Inter-City Bouts Since 1945

NEW YORK (AP) — New York-Eastern Golden Gloves squad, seeking its first victory since 1945 in the inter-city championships, meets the Chicago-Western gloves titlists in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Eight bouts will be staged instead of the 16 in past years. Uusually the champions of each section meet and the alternates fight in another eight bouts. Each bout, champion and alternate, counted one point.

Sectional champions did not automatically qualify for tomorrow's National Golden Gloves windup. Several contenders may be picked instead on the basis of their performances in training. The teams will be announced after today's weigh-in.

Hutchinson Finding 'Bases on Balls' Costly

Mayer's Putt Gives Him, Bolt Best-Ball Title

Boros-Harrison Team Is Beaten in Playoff at Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dick Mayer's 18-foot putt that won the $15,000 International Four Ball Golf Tournament for himself and his partner, Tommy Bolt, was no surprise to the slender, blond St. Petersburg, Fla., campaigner.

"I was absolutely confident when I stepped up to the ball," Mayer said happily. "I felt sure I would make it."

The shot, on the first hole of a "sudden death" playoff, finished Julius Boros and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, who had climbed from third place into a tie with Mayer and Bolt in yesterday's final round of the 72-hole tournament.

All four golfers hit the green with their second shots on the first hole of the playoff. Boros, former National Open champion from Mid Pines, N. C., had a 30-foot putt and he drew a roar from the gallery when he hung his ball on the lip of the cup.

Then Mayer ran the ball into the cup for a birdie three that captured the $3,000 top prize for himself and Bolt.

Mayer's putt was worth $900 to the team. If he and Bolt had lost the playoff, they would have divided $2,100.

Sam Snead, the West Virginian, and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco closed with a 62 that hoisted them from 11th place into a tie for 3rd at 259.

Closing fast with consecutive birdies on the last five holes, Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N. C., posted a 63 for 259. Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans and Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., made up the other team in 3rd-place group.

Tony Kovacs, MSD, won the fence-off of a 4-way tie for 1st place among boys. James Styn and Ray Piper, also of MSD, took the next two places.

Teams from Pontiac and Waterford go to Flint next Saturday to compete for the state team championship.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Hitting The Target

Body Must Stay Down—Pulling the body up suddenly at the foul line is a common fault and one that's disastrous, ruins direction.

It either forces arm to be pulled across the left leg to send ball high on head pin, or to Brooklyn (left side of setup, or it produces top-spinning ball that falls away (backs up) near head pin, as in case of bowler who writes from Des Moines.

Of first importance is developing an easy, reaching follow-through for accuracy. As sketch of Milwaukee's star Bert Barkow shows, the body stays down at the line. Only then can the arm reach out. Control is the pay-off. Note that Barkow makes no extra, unnatural effort to put "stuff on the ball."

His hand has come through straight with the swing, allowing the fingers to apply sufficient lift to create a short but pin-spilling hook-spin—no twist of the wrist. Don't rush the swing and you'll stay down comfortably at the line.

Ex-Cage Star Admits Passing Bad Checks

OAKLAND, Calif. (INS) — Don Lofgran, former University of San Francisco star basketball player, turned himself in to Oakland police today and admitted passing some $200 in worthless checks.

Lofgran, 25, who underwent mental treatment after disappearing for several weeks after the close of the 1953 professional basketball season, told police he had been "living high" since he returned to his Oakland home two months ago. Police quoted him as saying:

"I cashed at least $200 worth of bum checks and I've been getting in deeper and deeper. I've been thinking it over. I decided to get it all cleared up and make restitution if I can."

The 6 foot 7 inch Gola won the most valuable player award hands down as he ignited LaSalle to a 30-point third quarter that dropped Bradley Braves 92-76 in the finals before 10,500 fans at Municipal Auditorium Saturday night.

At Philadelphia's International airport last night an estimated 10,000 persons welcomed the LaSalle team home. Explorers were escorted through the city to the campus by a cheering motorcade.

Gola's 19 points were topped by two of his teammates — Frank Blatcher and Charles Singley with 23 apiece — but the catlike junior was master of rebounds under both baskets and his floor work was amazing.

LaSalle, making its first appearance in the NCAA tourney, set a new scoring record in a championship game, and tied the all-time high for a National Collegiate meet set by the University of Washington last year.

Game total of 168 points also broke the all-time NCAA record of 165 set in two different regional contests in 1953.

Gola was a unanimous choice for the all star team. Jesse Arnelle, Penn State's great center, was second in balloting of the sportswriters and sportscasters. Other all stars were Charles Singley, LaSalle's sophomore, Bob Carney of Bradley and Roy Irvin of Southern California.

Harry Stein, basketball coach at Brandeis University, and Fuzzy Levane, ex-coach of the Milwaukee Hawks in the NBA, were high school classmates in Brooklyn.

Bradley Coach Will 'Visit MSC Officials' Soon

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A Bradley University spokesman says basketball coach Forrest Anderson will "visit with Michigan State officials shortly" on the possibility of becoming Spartan coach.

The spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, added:

"We would, naturally, dislike to see Fordy leave, but the prestige and salary that go with a position such as that at Michigan State are great inducements."

Anderson and his Bradley Braves were welcomed home by a crowd of 1,200 yesterday. They had just returned from Kansas City, where they finished second in the NCAA tournament, losing to LaSalle 92-76 in the championship game.

The Bradley coach said his boys "just ran out of gas" in the second half of the final contest. Braves led by one point at halftime.

Since he came to the Red Sox in 1939, Ted Williams has hit 337 home runs and has batted in 1,298 runs.

Tiger Pitchers Issue 14 Walks, Lose 10-9 Tilt

Marlowe Gives Final Pass With Bases Full in 9th Inning

One of the game's greatest second basement, Frisch could overlook most of his player's shortcomings—except "those bases on balls!" and you could be almost certain today that manager Fred Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers would readily agree with Frisch.

Hutchinson is starting his second full season as Tiger boss. But even from his limited managerial experience he can tell you how costly "those bases on balls" can be. They hurt the Tigers time after time last season, and yesterday they bobbed up again.

Tiger pitchers doled out 14 walks to the Senators and, as you might expect, they lost the game. The score was 10-9.

Of all the walks, No. 14 hurt the most. It was given up by Dick Malowe with the bases loaded in the ninth inning, forcing across the winning run.

Detroit held a 9-8 lead going into the fatal ninth inning. Two singles and a walk filled the bases with one out.

Al Aber, Tiger lefthander, walked Mickey Vernon, American League's leading hitter last season, to force across the tying run. Hutch went to the mound and waved Marlowe in from the bullpen.

The big righthander threw five balls to Clyde Vollmer—but Detroit lost the game because four of them were outside the strike zone.

The loss was Detroit's second in an all-losing weekend. They were blanked 1-0 Saturday by the Boston Red Sox. It gave the Tigers a 5-8 springtime record.

The Tigers, who made 10 hits, were aided themselves by walks. Washington pitchers gave up nine bases on balls.

Jim Delsing, who has been a surprising long-ball hitter in exhibition games, clouted his third home run and a single, scoring twice and drivin gin three runs. Infielder Frank Bolling and outfielder Bob Neiman also made two hits apiece.

Utah's general deer season opens this year on Saturday, Oct. 23.

Mihalo Claims Record for Walking Four Miles

Mihalo's time was an unofficial world's professional walking record. His time of 28 minutes, 21 seconds shaved 40 seconds from the previous mark set by John Meagher in 1882. Mihalo now claims 19 professional records.

Titan Fencers Take 2nd Place in Meet

University of Buffalo outclassed eight other teams Saturday night to capture first place honors. Lawrence Tech of Detroit, finished seventh.

Battle Creek Swimmers Win Boys AAU Honors

DETROIT (UP) — A smooth-stroking team from Battle Creek won top honors in the third annual Michigan AAU boys swimming championships Sunday at Patton Pool.

The Battle Creek 150-yard medley relay team set a new meet record with a time of 1:24.9. Members of the team are Fred Mowrey, Joe Schwartz and Corky Baker.

John Smith, Kronk Recreation, swam the 100-yard backstroke in 1:04.2 for another meet record. Roger Hickman, Patton, posted a 1:42.9 in the 150-yard individual medley for a third record.

Eleven men were asleep in the crew's quarters at the time. Eight fire companies, a fireboat, and other emergency equipment fought the fire for an hour before it was brought under control.

Latin Nations Treat the Stars Like Royalty

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Recommended for film stars who need a lift in morale: Go to South America.

This is the report of statuesque Ann Miller, the talented hoofer of MGM. She has just returned from the Brazil and Argentine film festivals, along with a dozen other stars.

"You have never seen such adulation," she reported breathlessly. "The Latins treated us like miniature kings and queens. The police work was wonderful in Rio. If it hadn't been, we would have been crushed to death."

* * *

Lunching at Romanoff's, Ann had some interesting observations on her travel companions and the countries they visited. The stars were shepherded southward by the State Department as a good will gesture.

"The Latins were wild about Mary Pickford, Jeanette MacDonald and Irene Dunne, who are big names down there," she observed. "And it's a funny thing—those three were the least complaining of the whole gang. The younger stars were always getting tired or sick or beefing about something. But Mary and Jeanette and Irene just took everything in stride. We had trouble keeping up with them."

The players got chummy from the start, Ann remarked, and each assumed a certain role. She and June Haver were the cheer leaders, serenading all the other delegations on the Rio-to-Buenos Aires train. The other nationalities returned the favor in their own tongues.

* * *

"June and Fred MacMurray were the lovebirds on the trip," she added. Walter Pidgeon was the spokesman, "and Robert Cummings was the chiropractor. Whenever someone had something wrong with a muscle or bone, he would cure it. He's a whiz."

The biggest crush came in Rio, she said. "For three days and three nights, nobody sleeps. You can hear the samba beat wherever you go, all times of the day and night. People carry around atomizers with something like ether in them. They squirt it at you, and everybody gets high on the stuff."

* * *

Ann had been gifted with a Carmen-Miranda-like costume and she wore it to the big festival ball. She stood on a chair amidst thousands of surging fans and danced a routine that Carmen had taught her. It was merely a sensation. She was invited to the presidential box, and one of the Vargas sons asked her to a date. She was unable to accept, worst luck.

She added that she had a number of offers for dates from handsome and moneyed South Americans. But the stars' schedule didn't permit. That's why she hopes to return to South America soon.

Marriage Plans Denied by Haver, MacMurray

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Actress June Haver and actor Fred MacMurray are back from South America today both denying they have wedding plans.

They arrived in Los Angles by plane from Panama last night with actor Walter Pidgeon on the last lap of a return trip from Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the International Film Festival.

"No, we do not," Miss Haver replied when asked if she and MacMurray contemplated marriage. His reply was "ask Joan Fontaine."

MacMurray, 45, and a widower, referred to reports that the actress had said in Miami, Fla., that he and Miss Haver, 27, were planning a wedding.

When first asked about the wedding reports last week, the actor told reporters, "It's too early to talk about marriage. We have no definite plans."

Accident Victim, 16, Is Unable to Faint

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—"Why don't I faint? Oh, how I wish I could faint," sobbed a 16-year-old girl whose left hand had been cut off at the wrist by an airplane propellor.

The girl did not lose consciousness as by standers fashioned a tourniquet. She was described in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Dock Struggle Nears Climax

AFL Union Says ILA May Be Supported by Wildcat Tug Strike

NEW YORK (UP)—The waterfront struggle between two rival longshoremen's unions neared the showdown stage in this strike-bound port today.

The AFL dock union reported that the wildcat strikers of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) might be supported by a sympathy stoppage today by tugboat captains and crews, also members of the ILA.

The report could not be confirmed from ILA sources. Such a stoppage would mean that ocean liners and other ships would have to dock and sail without the aid of tugs.

* * *

Leaders of the AFL-ILA yesterday predicted a snowballing back-to-work movement starting today, 18th day of the outlaw strike. The strikers pledged to stay off the job until the ILA is certified by the National Labor Relations Board as bargaining agent for the harbor's 24,000 longshoremen. Neither the ILA nor the AFL-ILA now is certified.

"I want the honest longshoremen, the shipping companies and the public to know that the strong-arm boys have been chased off the New York waterfront and will be kept off it." The mayor said, "Any man who wants to work on the piers can do so without fear of intimidation or attack."

The situation yesterday was much like that of Saturday, when there was unusually heavy pier activity for a weekend in Brooklyn. Manhattan piers remained mostly tied up, however. It was estimated that about 2,000 men worked on the docks, some of them on the New Jersey side of the harbor.

Sees '55 A-Weapons Too Dangerous to Use

DUESSELDORF, Germany (UP)—Prof. Herman Oberth, inventor of the German V2 rocket in World War II, believes atomic weapons developed in the next year will be so dangerous no nation will dare start a war.

Oberth, honorary president of German Society for Space Research, told the group last night that 12 more months of research will make it possible for rockets loaded with atomic bombs to devastate any spot on earth within 45 minutes.

"This means," he said, "that in case of war all big cities of the enemy can be destroyed within two or three hours. Personally, I definitely believe that then no minister will decide himself for a war because he would sign his own death sentence at the same time."

Air Force Locates C47 on Glacier, Crew Safe

ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (UP)—U. S. Air Force officials said last night a C47 missing since last Wednesday has been spotted on a Greenland glacier. Five crewmen and two civilian scientists aboard were reported safe.

The plane, equipped with arctic survival equipment, had made an emergency landing after running out of fuel. Search planes located it 200 miles north of its base at Thule, Greenland, Saturday.

Snake Hunter Dies From Bite

Famed Reptile Expert Lives Six Hours After Rattler Attack

WACO, Tex. (UP)—A 4-foot rattler killed a veteran snake hunter who once called fear of snakes "nonsense."

J. Ed Johnson Jr., an authority on reptiles who long had watched the habits of the deadly rattler, died in a hospital here last night 6 hours and 15 minutes after the rattlesnake sank its fangs into his hand.

* * *

Snake hunting was Johnson's hobby. He was Waco's city comptroller but had gained note as an expert on reptiles. He had tracked snakes more than 30 of his 48 years.

He had shipped thousands of reptiles to museums.

He was a member of the American Society of Icthyologists and Herpetologists, the Texas Herpetological League and other similar associations. Herpetology is the study of reptiles.

He once said, "Fear of snakes is nonsense."

Yesterday, he and his two companions spotted four rattlers—all more than four feet long—in a deep ravine. One rattler was behind a rock.

John Sparks pinned it down. As Johnson started to slip a loop over its head, the snake sprang free and bit Johnson on the back of his hand. He jerked his hand away with such force the fangs stuck in the flesh.

He once said, "I like people, but snakes are more interesting."

Hal Boyle Says:

The World Cannot Make a Watchdog Out of a Lion

By HAL BOYLE

We have dwelt so many years on the fringe of terror that we have come to think of this as normal.

If a man were suddenly thrust into a lion's cage, he would cower against the bars in panic or blindly beat against them with his fists.

Every time the lion glanced at him with a terrible, yellow-eyed authority, the man would feel his death at hand—and perhaps would review his past life, as doomed men are reported to do.

But if the lion paid no attention to him, the man's panic would abate to a feeling of caution. Then, as more time passed, he would become forgetful of his fears. He would even gradually begin to take pride in the lion and think of it as belonging to him.

"How do you like my watchdog?" he would brag to strangers passing by the cage. "Best lion this side of Africa. I'm teaching him to do tricks. Would you like to see him sit up and beg for a biscuit?"

Yet the man would still exist only by the tolerance of the lion, which could at any moment pounce upon him and bash his head in just out of plain curiosity, or as a morning exercise.

The average American today has reached the point where he treats the hydrogen bomb as if it were that lion. He has lived with fear too long to be afraid anymore.

Can you remember how you felt in the first years of the atomic era, so brief a time ago? There was a great wave of disillusionment and despair, a hopeless this-in-the-end feeling among many.

People had nightmares about the atom bomb. Children caught the fever of fear from their parents. No one knows how many people moved from the cities to rural areas in the search for a place safe from atomic attack. For a time some even stored food in their motor cars, so that whatever happened in an emergency they at least could meet it with a full stomach.

But the atom bomb then was really only a lion cub. Now we are living with a rapidly maturing lion—the hydrogen bomb.

The first time they try it out it blows up an entire island. Word of this leaks out so gradually that the residents of Manhattan, which is an island also, are only vaguely impressed. The island that the bomb caused to disappear was, after all, far away in the Pacific and nobody ever heard of it anyway.

Last week they set off a hydrogen bomb 750 times as powerful as the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima, but it is still merely a bomb for dwarfs. It has only the explosive force of 15 million tons of TNT. The one that packs the muscle of 45 to 50 millions tons of TNT —history's biggest firecracker—won't be ready for testing until next month.

One would think these ominous explosions would startle the world, force all the races and nations of the world to forget their differences in a mutual grab for peace.

Such is hardly the case. The hydrogen bomb may have torn mile-long crevices in the ocean floor, but it seems to have created only a ripple of public interest.

The terror weapon no longer terrifies a generation that has grown up in the shadow of fear. People are awed by the power of the hydrogen bomb. Some respect it, some even admire it for its power, but few any longer seem to be actively afraid of it.

It is the lion in the cage of our time, and we take it for granted, because it is a fact of our lives and we must live with it. But commonsense tells us we cannot make a lion a watchdog—nor can we put our faith in a firecracker.

Market Prices in Midday Slump

At the most, prices were down around a point, although most minus signs were in the minor fractions.

Business seemed to diminish as prices declined. The pace was at a rate of 1,750,000 shares for the day. That compares with 1,930,000 shares traded Friday when the market was rising to a new peak for the year.

Steels were depressed most of the time, and also lower were the motors, coppers, chemicals, railroads, and utilities. Others were mixed.

The golds were higher. Trading was resumed today on the loan market for the first time in 15 years, another step in the direction of a free world gold market.

Munson Pleads Guilty in Murder Case Here

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland discharged the jury and set sentencing for April 5.

Herman Walton, 38, a constable and former Pontiac policeman, testified this morning that he was shot four times before returning Munson's fire.

The constable, who said earlier he had been hired to protect Mrs. Munson, told Circuit Court jury today that Munson shot his wife three times, then fired at him. Walton and Munson suffered only minor injuries.

Deans Attack 'McCarthyism'

Two Episcopal Clerics Call It 'New Tyranny,' 'Devil's Disguise'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Episcopal deans of New York and Washington, D. C., preaching Sunday sermons in each other's cathedrals, attacked "McCarthyism" — one calling it a "devil's disguise" and the other "new tryanny."

One of the deans, the Very Rev. Dr. James A. Pike of New York's Cathedral of St. John the Divine, also criticized yesterday what he called the solence of the Roman Catholic hierachy of this issue.

In his criticism of the Roman Catholic position on McCarthy, Dean Pike said.

"The non-Roman churches will have to bear the heat of the day in making the Christian witness against his new tyranny.

"It is not surprising that the Roman Catholic hierarchy, which is not adverse to taking positions on other moral issues, (for example, for their particular view on birth control), has been silent on McCarthyism, and that Roman Catholic papers with huge circulations have been pro-McCarthy in influence."

This is not surprising," he continued, "because, entirely apart from the fact that the senator is a Roman Catholic, that church, as Dr. Robert T. McCracken has reminded us, 'has never disavowed the inquisition, makes a policy of censorship, insists on conformity.'"

Dr. McCracken is minister of the Riverside (Baptist) Church here.

Dean Sayre told the New York congregation "McCarthyism is only another of the devil's disguises" and violates the principle that "a single individual is infinitely-precious" in the sight of God.

"If there are a few innocent that suffer, McCarthy has said that it is for the common good," the dean continued.

"For the sake of 10 guilty ones he will damn an army. For the sake of 20 he is willing to wreck a whole administration. For the sake of 30 or 40 or 50, he will divide a nation right down to its democratic roots . . . little reckons he the diabilical consequences of his demoralized tryanny."

Does Good Job With Bob Hope

NBC Should Consider Pairing Martha Raye With Cass

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

She ran away with the show in her latest guest appearance with Hope, despite the fact her skit and song came in the final 20 minutes of the hour. Her act was by far the best of the program.

NBC should capitalize on this talent. As a starter it might try pairing her up with Martha Raye, who has a similar technique. What a team that would make!

TV super shows are getting more and more ambitious. Latest example is the program planned for a two-hour block on three networks next October celebrating the 75th anniversary of the electric light.

More than 200 electrical manufacturing and utility companies will foot the bill, a total that could run well over a million dollars. The exact amount still is to be determined, partly because the hookup will include stations not yet on the air.

Neither has the format of the show itself been firmly set. David O. Selznik, the show's producer, says it is too soon to give details. He said the program would aim at interpreting American life in the past 65 years and in the future, with the development of electricity a basic theme. He also said he had some new techniques he hoped to introduce in production.

No doubt movie talent will be employed to an important extent in view of Selznick's long association with the film industry.

A newcomer to TV acting is Ben Gazzara, 23-year-old New Yorker who is beginning to make his presence felt in whodunits. He started out on the stage only a couple of years ago, and last fall had a 12-week run on Broadway.

Among Ben's most recent appearances have been "Danger" on TV and as a reporter in the TV "Man of the Year" program. His wife, Louise Erickson, played in the radio version of "Date With Judy" for three years.

STUDIOUS STEPPER — Although pert Jeanne Harrison could hardly be called "intellectual looking," she is in reality a serious student of psychology. Earning her livelihood as a fancy stepper on TV's "Colgate Comedy Hour," Jeanne is also pursuing a degree at Los Angeles University. Her eventual ambition—to be a psychiatrist.

Argument Over TV Results in Shooting

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP)—After an argument over whether the children should watch television, a 36-year-old man shot and killed his 15-year-old daughter and wounded his wife, his 10-year-old son and himself in their home at nearby Deshler last night, Sheriff Fred H. Bartels reported.

Bartels said Wolfe was able to talk when officers first arrived at the house, but answered "I don't know" to every question.

The curious insect known as the walking stick looks so much like a twig that it is all but invisible against a tree. Wingless, with thin, sticklike legs, it fools its enemies by merging with the color of its background, whether the green of spring or the brown of autumn.

Turkey Ousts Bank Delegate

Charges Representative of World Organization Meddled in Affairs

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—The World Bank's representative in Turkey left the country yesterday after the government requested his withdrawal and charged the bank with meddling.

The representative, Pieter Lieftinck, former finance minister in the Netherlands, went to Syria. Bank officials in Washington said he would make a survey there, which Syria had requested, and then return to the United States to report. His departure, the Washington officials said, happened to coincide with Turkey's withdrawal request.

* * *

Prime Minister Adnan Menderes asked that Lieftinck leave in a letter to Bank President Eugene R. Black, according to informants in the Prime Minister's office. These sources said the letter charged the bank had interfered in Turkey's affairs and asked that all its relations with this country be reviewed.

Reportedly Menderes was displeased at suggestions Lieftinck made for improving Turkey's unfavorable trade balance and shortage of foreign exchange. Turkish sources said the Dutch expert also had asked for more careful planning in a request for a loan for a dam.

White Lake Woman Hurt in Car Crash

A White Lake Township housewife was injured Saturday when the car in which she was riding was struck in front of her home by another auto, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Doris M. McCurley, 38, of 9351 Mandon Dr., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises. Her husband, Kenneth R., 28, told deputies that he looked both ways before backing out of their drive and did not see a car driven by William Brady, 17, of 9493 Lakeview Dr., White Lake Township.

$900,000 Allotment to Aid Jewish Culture

NEW YORK (AP)—The Conference on Jewish Material Claims against Germany has voted to spend $900,000 on a program to rebuild and advance Jewish culture.

The money is part of nine million dollars allocated to Jews outside Israel from a 90-million-dollar reparations installment paid recently by Germany to Israel. This was the first installment on 822 million dollars West Germany has agreed to pay under a Bonn-Israel reparations agreement.

The share for Jews outside Israel was turned over to the conference, which yesterday voted the bulk of the money for relief and welfare for Jewish war victims and refugees.

Funds allotted to the cultural program will be for research in Jewish creative arts, religious studies, and for salvage, restoration and preservation of books, manuscripts, historical documents, works of art and religious articles.

Communists Keep Jobs From Political Opponents

HONG KONG (AP)—Unemployment is a political weapon in Communist Canton. Chinese from that city have told Father Paul J. Duchesne, Catholic missionary here, that lay Christians in Canton who refuse to join the Peiping controlld church, have a don't employ this person" stamped on their residence permits.

"We only know of the Christian examples," Duchesne said, "but a punishment for one political offense usually is meted out for others."
