General Refuses to Bare Details of Zwicker Talk

Council for McCarthy Says Army Is Gagging Censure Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton refused today to testify at the McCarthy censure hearings concerning a conversation with Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker. Sen. McCarthy's counsel accused the Army of "definitely gagging" the witness.

Lawton, in refusing to testify about the conversation, cited a presidential directive against disclosure of private conversations within the executive department of the government.

The retired general, a friend of McCarthy, said he was acting on advice he had obtained from "various counsel" at the Pentagon.

Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy's chief counsel, declared that any such advice would be "either incompetent or not in good faith."

Williams said to Lawton: "You did tell me the substance of your conversation with Gen. Zwicker on Monday night?"

Lawton: "I did discuss the substance with you."

Williams appealed then to Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) of the special committee conducting public hearings on 46 censure charges preferred against McCarthy by three fellow senators.

"Mr. Chairman," Williams said, "here we have a very cogent illustration of what this case is all about."

"Now we find the Department of Defense gagging this witness . . . on the basis of altogether incompetent advice."

"It's advice either incompetent or not given in good faith."

One of the accusations against McCarthy is that he abused Zwicker at a closed door hearing on the subject of Communist infiltration of the Army.

Lawton's testimony was sought in connection with this charge.

Declining to testify about his conversation with Zwicker, Lawton cited a directive by President Eisenhower barring disclosure of confidential talks within the executive department of the government.

Lawton declined to say whether he had conferred with Chief Counsel Wilber Brucker of the Defense Department in advance of his appearance, but said he "sought counsel in various areas" yesterday.

Lawton, former commanding officer at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., retired Aug. 31.

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — Lynchburg's 100-degree heat felled one citizen yesterday — an employee of a local air-conditioning firm.

Relief From Heat Promised but Little Hope for Rain

After three days of blistering summer heat, Pontiac area residents were given hope of relief today but little hope for much needed rain was expressed by forecasters.

Th U. S. Weather Bureau said the mercury would hover around the 74-78 degree mark today. They also predicted partly cloudy skies but gave no indication of rainfall.

Sunday's 98 degrees, a record high for the season here, was followed by 91 Monday and a humid 87 yesterday.

Farmers report that harvests are being curtailed critically by the prolonged dry spell which extended through most of last month into September. Officials say immediate substantial rain is needed. Oak Park, Hazel Park and Ferndale were reported eased today. The shortages, brought on by the

Williams Starts Election Drive

Governor's Campaign Will Feature Statewide Radio-TV Chat Sept. 21

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' re-election campaign began to roll today.

The governor appointed a statewide committee to raise funds for his campaign for a fourth term and his campaign committee disclosed it hopes to organize 3,000 radio and television parties in Democrats' homes to hear or see Williams "fireside chat" on Sept. 21.

Lawrence L. Farrell, the governor's executive secretary, said the campaign actually will get under way today.

Williams will mix campaign appearances with official visits during the rest of September. In October he will start a county-by-county tour of Michigan to bring out the votes for the November 2 general election.

Hurricane May Bypass Florida in Shift to North

Danger to Coast Less as 5th Storm of Season Changes Direction

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Edna appeared to be swinging a bit to the north today on a course that may lessen the chances of Florida being hit by its savage 115 mile per hour winds.

At 8 a. m. (EST) the season's fifth hurricane was 270 miles due east of Miami and about 120 miles north-east of Nassau, Bahamas.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami Weather Bureau, said "The slight shift to a more northerly course has lessened the possibility of the storm hitting the Florida coast." But he warned that the storm was "moving very slowly and somewhat erratically and would have to be watched closely."

A special bulletin said if the present course was maintained "the danger of reaching the Florida coast is greatly lessened."

Early morning reports indicated Edna was drifting north-northwest and interests in the northern Bahamas were told to continue precautions.

South Florida was ordered to stand by on the alert for further advisories. Small craft along the Florida coast from Daytona Beach to Key West, a distance of 415 miles, were told to stay in port.

Winds of 115 miles an hour were recorded in the 45-mile wide core of the storm, and gales extended outward 150 miles to the northeast and 100 miles to the southwest.

Merchants and residents in Nassau, a Bahamas resort city of 20,000, boarded up and moved out of exposed areas as the storm approached.

A Navy hurricane hunter near the eye of the storm reported a ship "fighting extreme seas" but said it could not make out the ship's name in the wild, wind-tossed ocean which at times broke completely over the vessel's decks.

States' Righter Issues Challenge in Carolina Race

COLUMBIA, S. C. (INS) — Former South Carolina governor J. Strom Thurmond says he will oppose State Sen. Edgar Brown for the U. S. Senate in the November general election.

Brown was given the nomination to the full six-year term which begins Jan. 2 by the State Democratic Executive Committee. The committee had voted down efforts to call a primary to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Sen. Burnett Maybank.

Thurmond, presidential candidate in 1948 on the State's Rights ticket, offered to meet Brown in a primary and said yesterday that if no primary is held he will run as a write-in candidate in the general election.

Brown declined comment on the challenge.

Gov. James F. Byrnes has expressed a desire to see a primary held for the Senate post.

Area Idleness Rises During Auto Layoffs

DETROIT (UP) — The idle labor surplus in Detroit is expected to climb to 225,000 or higher later this month, the Michigan Employment Security Commission said today.

The MESCC said the city's labor market is spiking in the period when automobile manufacturers are preparing for 1955 model changeovers.

Detroit area branch offices of the MESCC are handling their largest unemployment insurance claims load since July of 1952, with an average of 900 persons per week exhausting their benefits rights.

The volume of individual unemployment compensation rose to 90,000 in August, compared with 79,000 in July.

The commission reported that the labor market in the area of Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties is expected to continue unsettled until full production of 1955 automobiles gets under way.

'Watch Out for Kids'

Motorists Urged to Use Greater Care as Children Start Back to Classrooms

With thousands of children returning to classrooms this week, Pontiac Police, Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. and the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee made an urgent appeal to motorists today aimed at reducing accidents involving school children.

The announcement came as part of a statewide traffic safety campaign which started immediately after Labor Day as a record 14 million children began their trek to schools all over Michigan.

The Michigan Safety Commission said 140,000 of the children will be attending school for the first time and "motorists must remember that this is a new experience for these children."

According to Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies, there will be a record number of children and cars on county roads. "Unless we redouble our safety efforts, we will have the blackest traffic record in years," he said.

Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the Pontiac traffic and accident bureau, said that speeders will not be tolerated, especially in school zones and during hours when children are going to school and returning home.

Commenting on the personal responsibility of motorists, Cyle

R. Haskill, Safety Committee chairman, said, "We urge every motorist to do one thing this year — upon sight of any child repeat the September campaign slogan, 'Watch Out for Kids.'"

"We know there are parents at home anxiously awaiting the safe arrival of their children. The prime responsibility rests with the motorist because no parent can be at the side of each child all day."

"The few minutes required to slow down for children," he added, "is a small investment that will pay a rich dividend and it will protect a valuable possession, possibly your own children and your driver's license."

Lt. Koren summed up the campaign when he warned, "Don't let a school lot die under the screeching wheels of your car."

Junior Smarter Than His Dad, IQ Tests Show

ROME (AP) — If the tests are right, junior probably will turn out to be a smarter man than his father, after all.

Dad needn't take that too hard. He probably was smarter than his father although the tests don't go back far enough to make that certain.

Five hundred scientists here for a U. N. conference on population were told today that year by year the youngsters are passing higher intelligence examinations.

Dr. Anne Anastasi, professor of psychology of the Graduate School of Fordham University, New York, told the population experts that this seems to be without regard for size of family, or whether the children are from the city or the country.

Army intelligence tests, Dr. Anastasi told the conference, showed that the average soldier in the second war passed an IQ test higher than 83 per cent did in the first war.

Court Orders Small's Release

Ionia Official Reports Dentist Is Sane and No Menace to Society

IONIA (UP) — Society dentist Kenneth B. Small was ordered released from the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane today.

Dr. Perry C. Robertson, head of the hospital, said Small is "sane and sound of mind" and wouldn't be a menace to society if set free.

Dr. Robertson, testifying at a hearing to determine if the Detroit dentist who killed his wife's New York lover should be released from the hospital here, reported exhaustive tests conducted through him showed Small sane.

The hearing was conducted by Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis, who ordered Small's release from the hospital.

Small, found innocent by reason of insanity in the slaying of Jules Lack, 45, has been confined to the hospital "for the rest of his life" or until he regains his sanity.

Small's lawyer, Leo W. Hoffman, asked if Small would be a menace to society if released.

"It is unlikely that the circumstances that caused him to go to the hospital would arise again," Robertson said.

He said if the same circumstances did occur he didn't believe Small would react the same way. "He has learned his lesson," Robertson said.

Small shot and killed Lack, a wealthy New York air-conditioning executive, in a luxurious summer villa overlooking Lake Michigan May 29. Lack and Small's wife, Edith, 30, were among weekend guests at the villa.

Pact Tells Reds No Trespassing Will Be Allowed

Binds Member Lands in Military, Economic Alliance

MANILA (AP) — Eight nations of the East and the West signed a collective security pact today which in effect warns the Communists against any further aggression in Southeast Asia.

It took just three days for the United States, France, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines to reach complete accord.

The treaty hangs a big "no trespassing" sign on small nations in the area. It binds the eight nations militarily and economically, and declares each party will meet the "common danger" of armed attack in the treaty area or against any member "in accordance with its constitutional processes."

Australia's Richard G. Casey was first to sign the historic document. He began affixing his signature to the various copies at 5:02 p.m. (1:02 a.m., EST).

The documents, about 12x18 inches, were bound in dark blue leather. The ministers signed with individual gold pens.

Casey was followed by France's Guy La Chambre, New Zealand's T. Clifton Webb and Pakistan's Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan.

The entire Philippine delegation then signed, led by Vice President Carlos P. Garcia, chairman of the conference.

The Philippine delegation, dressed in native tagalog shirts, was followed by Thailand's Prince Wan Wathayakorn and Great Britain's Lord Reading.

John Foster Dulles, U. S. secretary of state, who sponsored the meeting, signed at 5:18 p.m. Garcia banged his gavel and declared the conference closed at 5:22 p.m.

The "hands off" warning to the Communists defined the treaty area as "the general area of Southeast Asia, including also the en-

Sept. 17 Designated 'Dondero Day' Here

Pontiac City Commission last night designated Sept. 17 as "Congressman George A. Dondero Day" here in recognition of the Royal Oak Republican's work toward passage of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Although he didn't vote against the resolution, Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) voiced opposition, saying practically all of Michigan's representatives in Washington had fought for the plan through the years.

Commissioner Harry W. Lutz (District 7) said Dondero had led the fight and deserved special recognition.

Nationalists Keep Pounding Reds' Mainland Batteries

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Nationalist warships and planes—including U. S.-supplied F84 Thunderjets—teamed up again today to pound possible Communist invasion bases on the mainland, the Defense Ministry announced.

It was the first time Nationalist jets have been in action against the Reds.

The ministry said bombs and shells rained for the third day on Communist batteries which have shelled Quemoy, Nationalist island just off the coast opposite Formosa, and on bases where the Reds may have been massing junks for an invasion.

Gen. Chang Yi-ting, a military spokesman, said he had no information on reports that two former U. S. destroyers took part in the bombardment of Amoy and other Communist bases within gun range of Quemoy.

Even as the Nationalist sea and air attacks continued, top government officials conferred on plans for a five-hour visit to Formosa tomorrow by U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

A Hong Kong report says U. S. fighting ships have all but disappeared from Hong Kong Harbor since the Quemoy fighting broke out.

There usually are from four to eight U. S. Navy ships here on rest and recreational leave, but this week most of those in port quietly put to sea and no more have come in.

Navy personnel refused to comment whether the withdrawal was related to the Quemoy fighting. Similar Navy departures have been reported from Manila this week, however.

Following the deaths of two U. S. observers on Quemoy last weekend, a U. S. spokesman in Washington told reporters "we are alert to our responsibilities in the area" of Quemoy. He added, however, he knew of no "specific orders" to the 7th Fleet to protect any Chinese Nationalist territory other than Formosa.

He announced in a statewide broadcast from New York last night that "not under any circumstances" will he be a candidate this fall for a fourth term as governor, or for any other office.

Perhaps significantly, he said in his announcement that in private life he would "continue to take an active interest in the cause of good government and enlightened public policies." He said he would be "actively in the campaign to elect my successor."

In Washington GOP circles, including those close to President Eisenhower, the general expectation was that U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives will become his party's candidate.

The Day in Birmingham

Lawmakers Set Necessity of Southwest Parking Lot

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — After more than six years spent in trying to provide off-street parking facilities to rid Birmingham of its congested streets, the current city commission at a formal public hearing last night established the necessity for a 277-car lot in the southwest business section.

This represents only the first step, for spreading the estimated $250,000 assessment roll must come next.

Back into the picture was the possibility of an underground lot beneath the city's Shain Park, with one suggestion that the city lease portions of the land to the public.

Mayor Charles Renfrew assured citizens that any offer made by merchants or property owners in the not too distant future to finance the sub-stratum parking facilities, would be welcomed.

A show of hands indicated that a minority of residents attending the meeting approved the proposed location. The lot now being considered by the commission would be west of the Detroit Edison Co. building, in the block bounded by Pierce, Merrill, Woodward and Brown.

The assessment district, which seemed the biggest barrier as far as residents present were concerned, would be the area within Woodward, West Maple, Chester, and a point south of Brown. Proposed financing calls for the city and benefiting property owners to share equally in the costs. The city would pay its portion through revenues from all parking meters, while a predetermined formula would determine the share of individual property owners.

Residents will apparently have to bear with early morning traffic tie-ups at Southfield and Lincoln roads until about October, when the W. Maple paving detour should be ended.

That's what happened yesterday morning, when students headed back to Birmingham High School at Cranbrook and Lincoln roads. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley anticipates a traffic jam around 8 a.m. each day, and will station his officers there to eliminate as much of the confusion as possible.

The Eastminster Guild at First Presbyterian Church is one of many groups starting fall meetings again. Women in this guild will gather for the first time this summer for a luncheon at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the church.

Because of the holiday the Ladies Auxiliary No. 9 of the Metropolitan Club postponed its meeting last week and will resume fall activities with a pot luck supper at 6:30 tonight. The women will gather at the Williams Lake home of Mrs. Marguerite Mellem.

A program based on "Highlights of the Summer Convention," and including the missionary and love gift dedication, has been planned for the Fall Festival, being held by the Women's Mission Union of the First Baptist Church tomorrow. The festival will start the official year for the group, with the meeting to start at 11 a.m. and luncheon to be served at 12:30 p.m. Devotions will be given by Mrs. Emil Kuntz, with a prayer, by the Rev. Mr. Kuntz, pastor. Hostess for the day is the Esther Circle.

Election of officers is scheduled for tomorrow's 1 p.m. meeting of the Hannah Guild at Ascension Lutheran Church. The year's program will be presented and Mrs. Edward Barr will act as hostess.

UF Campaign Chief Asks for Volunteers

A plea for volunteer typists to do advance work for the United Fund Drive scheduled for next month was voiced by campaign chairman Frank S. Lyndall.

"People who can give even a little time now to advance jobs such as typing of solicitors' lists will be doing a real service to their community," Lyndall said.

Pontiac area's fine record of low campaign expenses has been made possible only by the splendid cooperation we've had in the past, according to Lyndall.

"It's the large volume of advance work, as well as all the work of solicitation which is done by volunteers, that has made our past records possible."

Those interested in offering their service are asked to call Lyndall at United Fund headquarters at Federal 4-3987 as soon as possible.

Charles Dugos Elected Toastmasters' President

Charles Dugos was elected president of the Pontiac Toastmasters Club last night at a meeting in the Pontiac YMCA, succeeding Arnold Whittaker.

Other officers elected for six months include: Robert Pote, vice president; Norman O'Brien, secretary; Otto Mildebrandt, educational chairman; Louis Davidson, sergeant at arms; and Edward O'Brien, treasurer.

The club also announced erection of "Welcome to Pontiac" signs on the Woodward avenue and Oakland avenue approaches to the city.

The sign installations were attended by a group of club past presidents including Arthur Canon, George Crabtree, Sidney Siegel, Anthony Renne, John Hurlinger, Arnold Whittaker, Floyd Levely and Harvey Perry.

Driver Given 90 Days

William F. Wiggins, 34, of 8769 Epworth, Detroit, was handed a 90-day jail term yesterday for drunk driving. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle and was sent to jail when he could not pay a $75 fine and $25 costs.

SNIP OF THE SCISSORS — And the Wabeek-Jacobson Corporation's off-street parking lot was opened in Birmingham yesterday. The new lot, north of Willis street, will accommodate some 300 cars. Among those looking on as Mayor Charles Renfrew cuts the ribbon at the Woodward avenue entrance are: (l. to r.) Wilbur R. Mason Jr., manager of Jacobson's Store for Women; City Commissioner Robert Navin; Harold B. Kuder, secretary of the Wabeek Corp.; and Renfrew.

Pilot to Arrange Mother's Rites

Lindbergh Expected to Arrive in Detroit Today to Complete Details

DETROIT (UP) — Brig. Gen. Charles A. Lindbergh, who gained international fame as the "Lone Eagle" by making the first solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean, was expected here today to complete funeral arrangements for his mother.

Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Land Lindbergh, mother of the famed flyer, died Tuesday at her suburban Grosse Pointe Park home following a lingering illness. She was 78 years old.

A constant companion of Lindbergh and an avid airplane enthusiast in her own right, Mrs. Lindbergh was a native Detroit.

She shared the joys of her son when he made his historic flight across the Atlantic in 1927 and she shared his sorrow when his infant son was kidnapped and slain in 1932.

Mrs. Lindbergh was retired from the Detroit Public School system in 1942 after serving as a teacher for 20 years.

She was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1909 but abandoned thoughts of a career to marry Charles Augustus Lindbergh, who represented Minnesota in Congress.

Mrs. Lindbergh and her husband moved to Detroit in 1901 where Charles Jr. was born. Her husband died shortly after she took a job teaching. For 19 years, she was a chemistry instructor at Cass Technical High School.

Missing Badge 'In His Honor' Found by Boys

Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson has an extra mayor's badge today.

He is searching for the former city official who lost the police-type emblem of office and two young boys who found it.

The lads entered Donaldson's office last Friday while he was absent. They gave the badge to a secretary saying they had found it and thought it might be Donaldson's.

Then the pair left, promising to come back later for a reward, but have not returned as yet.

Dewey Retirement May Be Temporary

didate — however reluctantly — for governor of New York, Ives need not resign his Senate seat to make the race, and if nominated and elected, he could name a Senate successor to serve until the next election.

Ives has said repeatedly, reiterating it shortly before Dewey's broadcast, that "I am not a candidate."

There seemed little doubt that Dewey, retiring after 12 years in the gloomy mansion at Albany, would remain a close adviser to Eisenhower and the national administration.

As one who helped get Eisenhower in the race for the GOR nomination in 1952 and who has had the White House ear since, he remains one of the relatively small group to whom Eisenhower might turn for a recommended successor if the President decides not to run again in 1956.

Jail Sentence Just in Time for Farewells

Giles Ragsdale, 28, of Grand Rapids, was returned to Oakland County Jail Tuesday to serve only one day, but Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan said he would be credited with serving a 24-day sentence.

Ragsdale, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor last month, was returned to jail to await trial after he pleaded innocent to the charge Aug. 16. He was unable to furnish a $1,000 bond at the time.

After finding Ragsdale guilty Tuesday, Judge Finnegan said, "I sentence you to 24 days in the Oakland County Jail. But since you already served 23 days, waiting for trial, you must return to complete the sentence. One more day."

the territories of the Asian parties, and the general area of the Southwest Pacific, not including the Pacific area north of 21 degrees 30 minutes north latitude."

The last definition would extend the treaty just north of the northern tip of the Philippines, but short of Chinese Nationalist Formosa.

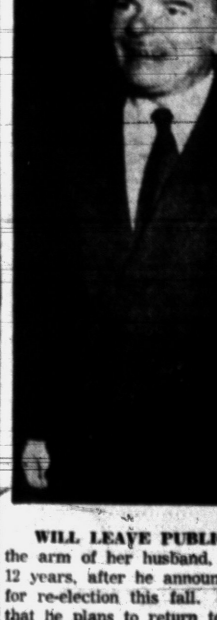

The treaty stipulated that other countries could join.

Dulles helped clear the way for signing when he agreed to delete from the treaty's preamble the word "Communist" in identifying potential aggressors. However, Dulles specified that other member nations must agree in writing that the United States would not necessarily consider a local war as aggression. This specification was written into the pact.

In a brief speech preceding the signing Dulles called the treaty "a major step in building security for Southeast Asia."

"Constitutional steps are still needed to make this pact a complete legal reality," he said, "but the meeting of minds which has been developed here will instantly help to strengthen our position."

"It is a shocking thing that Communists, who seek only to enslave, have persuaded so many that they are liberators. The true facts are just the reverse."

WILL LEAVE PUBLIC LIFE — Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey clutches the arm of her husband, governor of New York state for the past 12 years, after he announced last night he will not be a candidate for re-election this fall. The governor told his state-wide audience that he plans to return to private life.

Meeting Likely on Red Attack

U.N. Security Council May Discuss Shooting of U.S. Plane Friday

UNITED NATIONS (UP) — The United Nations Security Council probably will meet Friday to consider American charges of an unprovoked Soviet attack on a U. S. plane, it was indicated today.

The incident took place Saturday when two Soviet built MIG-15 fighter planes shot down a U. S. naval patrol bomber into the sea of Japan off the Siberian coast. One of 10 crewmembers was killed.

Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the U. N., in an unusual Labor Day action, telephoned Francisco Urrutia of Colombia, this month's Council president, and asked for an "early" meeting of the group.

Under U. N. procedure, a special meeting cannot be called until an oral request has been formalized in a letter. But the U. S. failed to submit its letter Tuesday, leading Urrutia to say the Council "probably" would not meet until Friday.

An American spokesman said there was nothing unusual in the delay. He said it was necessary to consult with Allied delegates, as well as to await further details on the plane incident which were on the way.

Strike Leader Held by Police

Charged With Stoning the Cars of Square D Employees

DETROIT (UP) — Philip D. Saba, imported leader of strikers at the Square D Co. here, was held by police for investigation of felonious assault today following a stoning incident on the picket lines Tuesday.

Police said Saba was accused of stoning workers' cars in the company parking lot. They said the Philadelphia organizer for the independent United Electrical Workers Union became belligerent when questioned by police about the incident.

The incident took place as more than 300 workers were leaving the Square D plant late Tuesday, Robert Curtis, a company attorney, said he saw Saba throw stones at the cars.

Police also arrested Edward Perkola, a former president of the striking union, but released him after preliminary questioning.

Meanwhile, police investigated a brick-throwing incident at the home of a Detroit woman who returned to work at Square D only Tuesday. Mrs. Sophia Zawislak, 34, told police she was awakened by the shattering of glass at her home Tuesday night. She said her kitchen window had been broken by a brick which was wrapped with the following note: "Scab, this is not the end."

It marked the second time in five days a brick had been hurled at the home of a woman who refused to side in with the strikers.

Mrs. Cyphia Vaughn, 44, Highland Park, had a brick tossed on her front porch last Friday which said "Scab, this house burns easily."

Congressman Kit Clardy, a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, said Tuesday that his committee planned to subpoena three of the striking union's leaders in a investigation of alleged Communist infiltration into Michigan industries.

Clardy said the investigation probably will be conducted in Detroit next year.

Zavada Quads Start to School

Busy Mom Relieved as Foursome Troops Off to First Grade

LATROBE, Pa. — School bells rang Tuesday for the 6-year-old Zavada quadruplets and it brought a sigh of "wonderful" from their mother. It was the quads' first day in first grade.

"Now maybe I can get some of my housework done," commented Mrs. Barbara Zavada. "You don't know how wonderful it is to have the children in school."

The quads — a boy, John Michael, and three girls, Barbara Rose, Anna Mary and Bernadette Elizabeth — began first grade at St. Vincent Parochial School in West Latrobe.

It was a busy day for Mrs. Zavada. She arose at 6 a.m., packed individual lunches, dressed each and then drove them to school in the family car.

Perhaps the biggest chore for Mrs. Zavada was packing their lunches. Each took a different sandwich.

Barbara Rose wanted ham, Anna Mary said she preferred chicken, Bernadette asked for minced ham — and John Michael — well to make things easy for Mom he settled for ham, too.

The girls were all dressed in identical blue print dresses. John Michael wore tan trousers and a tan shirt. You wouldn't expect him to wear a blue print — now could you?

Sister Mary Susanne, the first grade teacher at St. Vincent, said the children were "very well settled."

Back home Mrs. Zavada was wondering what to prepare for dinner. She had dresses to darn, socks to repair, trousers to mend. "You know how children wear out clothes," reminded Mrs. Zavada. "The three girls always wear identical dresses. Why I have to order them 6 to 9 months in advance."

Ann Clyde Hart, Polio Victim, Is in Farmington

PETOSKEY (UP) — Ann Clyde Hart, 7, was moved Tuesday from Little Traverse Hospital here to Children's Hospital at Farmington for further treatment for polio.

The daughter of Philip Hart, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, was reported "improving." She was stricken at the family home on Mackinac Island several days after her father's nomination in August.

No final determination has been made yet whether any permanent injuries were suffered by the girl.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Angus Macaulay

Mrs. Angus (Mary) Macaulay, 67, of Calumet, mother of Mortimer F. Macaulay of Motorway Drive, died Monday after a long illness. She was born in Calumet Jan. 6, 1867 and lived there most of her life. She was the daughter of Bartholomew and Katherine Quello.

Surviving are three daughters another son, Marie Gordon of Springfield, Ill., Gertrude Davidson of Highland Park, Ill., Katherine Fuller of Gulfport, Miss., and Adm. Walter Macaulay of Schemmady, N. Y. A sister, Anna Quello of Calumet, also survives.

The funeral will be held Friday in Calumet at 9 a.m. from the Sacred Heart Catholic Church of which she was a member. Burial will follow in Lakeview Cemetery at Calumet. Arrangements are by the Shea-Crowley Funeral Home.

Jesse Thomas

Jesse Thomas, known to his friends as "Whity," died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after an illness of 18 months. Mr. Thomas, 74, was born in Altoona, Pa., Feb. 7, 1880 and lived with his daughter Mrs. Pearl Koelle of 405 Lowell St. He was the son of John and Margaret Hines Thomas, coming to Pontiac from Altoona in 1915.

Two years ago, he retired from General Motors Truck & Coach Div.

He was a member of Elks Lodge 810.

Besides his sister, he is survived by 3 nieces and one nephew in Pennsylvania.

Salvation Army Official Speaks to Kiwanians

"Our most important task in the world today is to hold up the right standards before our young people."

This statement by Capt. Vernon Vie sounded the keynote of his talk to Pontiac Kiwanians Tuesday noon at Hotel Waldron. Capt. Vie is in charge of the Salvation Army Citadel and work in Pontiac.

He told of the founding of the Salvation Army in England, and of its work throughout the world today. He said it now has seven million members and carries on the biggest mission work of any Protestant group.

Locally he said the Army, a United Fund agency, aided 39 unwed mothers last year, at a cost of approximately $23,000 including hospital care.

It served 1,765 meals to transient persons in need. He said one social worker and Mrs. Vie and himself conducted 2,430 interviews during the year.

"When anyone violates God's commandments, trouble follows," he said. "These troubles affect all classes of society."

3 Go on Trial in Mail Fraud

Seven Were Indicted in National Discount Auto Credit Deals

Trial of three defendants in an alleged million-dollar mail fraud swindle of the National Discount Corp., of South Bend, opened Tuesday in Federal Court in Detroit before visiting Judge George Boldt, of Tacoma, Wash.

The three are Robert L. Althouse, a Mt. Clemens auto dealer; Joseph B. Foltz, a Detroit auto dealer, and Joseph N. Lewis, of Birmingham, a bookkeeper.

A fourth defendant, Ami Althouse, of Clarkston, previously pleaded guilty to two of 13 counts.

Joseph J. Madison, former branch manager of the firm's office here, pleaded "no contest" to two of the 13 counts. The original probe into the alleged irregularities centered around transactions handled in the Pontiac office.

Two other defendants, Fred Holzhauer, Detroit used car dealer, and Earl T. Buttery, former Farmhaven used car dealer, also have pleaded "no contest" on their indictments.

Many Contributed to Labor Day Fete

Pontiac UAW-CIO and AFL officials today extended appreciation to all units who participated in the Labor Day activities here Monday.

Co-chairman of the parade, Robert Boyer of the CIO Regional office said, "We wish to thank city officials, and other organizations who helped to make the parade one of the most successful we've had."

Contributing to the half-hour long parade was the 25 members of the Flint Elks IBPOE of W. followed by 30 majorettes of that group.

Boyer also commended the Pontiac Fire and Police Depts., for their roles and the Pontiac Federation of Musicians who played for a huge gathering during the day's celebration at Murphy Park. The 30-piece concert band was directed by Lee T. Masters.

2 Face Lie Tests in Store Robbery

Lie detector tests for "at least two employees and possibly more" are scheduled for the near future in connection with the $6,000 robbery of a Hazel Park supermarket Aug. 27, according to Det. Lt. Harold Hill of the city's police department.

"Two employees have already been cleared by lie tests," Hill said, "but we're still working on the theory that the robbery was an inside job."

Complete interrogation of the Food Fair Market's 53 employees is being undertaken by Hazel Park police and all those that seem the least suspicious will be asked to submit to lie tests.

The store at 330 W. Nine Mile Rd., was entered by someone who sawed a hasp off a rear door and then escaped with the $6,000 after opening a locked safe, police said.

Pontiac Child Injured After Running Into Bus

A 22-month-old tot, Rita Kay Jackson of 278 Harrison Ave., was slightly injured Tuesday evening when she darted from her parents into the side of a city bus at N. Saginaw and Mt. Clemens St., according to Pontiac Police.

Patrolman Robert Emery said the bus driver was Mrs. L. M. Williams, 35 of 3524 Thomas, Berkeley.

Sportsmen Obey Laws

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—If you hunt and fish, chances are good that you're an honest, law-abiding citizen, according to one deduction. A Knox County, Tenn., jailer, J. T. Jones, in a report to the Wildlife Management Institute, said that less than two per cent of the 20,000 persons committed over a period of years to county prisons had a hunting or a fishing license.

Mayor Urges City Park Improvement

Gifts Suggested to Finance Work

May Name Some Areas for Citizens Who Aid With Contributions

A long term program for encouraging private gifts for park improvements and other civic facilities was given a boost Tuesday night by Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson.

"A study by Parks and Recreation Department Director David R. Ewalt, requested by city commissioners, has revealed that none of our present parks were officially named," said Donaldson.

"Names of persons who sold the park land to the city were simply carried over as park names," he explained.

Commissioners Aug. 8 agreed that some parks might be renamed after persons making donations or other significant contributions to city improvement.

"I would propose we refrain from renaming any of our parks, playgrounds, or streets for one year," said Donaldson. "During that time we could all strive to develop a civic conscience. I have faith that several names will present themselves as deserving of something being named after them."

At last night's commission meeting, Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) said he thought some parks are rightly named and warned against going "overboard" for donations.

"You can't buy respect, you have to earn it," Carry stated.

But Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) said, "Many great civic buildings and parks in cities came from donations."

Commissioner Dr. Roy V. Cooley (District 1) called for a "philanthropy of 80,000 people" with nearly every citizen making at least a small donation.

Ewalt's report finds the first record of a public park in Pontiac in 1888. Known as "Pulford Addition," it was located south of Brush street west of Franklin road.

In 1890 a 375 foot square parcel known as Hodges Addition was deeded to the city by its owners, but the common council refused to appropriate $100 per year for its upkeep as required by the deed.

and it reverted to the former owners.

Commenting on this, Donaldson said, "It is regrettable that . . . Hodges Park, the only park ever donated to Pontiac, was lost because a short sighted common council refused . . . to develop it."

"I am quite sure that a similar offer today would be received with enthusiasm by our present city commission and funds provided for development."

In his report, Ewalt noted that 1919 saw the first real drive to purchase and develop a city park system. From then through 1922 parks were bought including: Richardson, Beaudette, Wilson, Murphy, Oakland and Aaron Perry. The cost was $221,892 and the total area purchased 308 acres.

"When the lands were bought," said Ewalt, "the city commission just kept the names of owners without taking any official action."

According to Ewalt, Richardson Park was named after a General Richardson of Pontiac who fought in the Civil War. Beaudette Park was named for O. J. Beaudette; Wilson Park, which is the municipal golf course, after manufacturer Charles B. and David R. Wilson; Murphy Park after Edward Murphy, founder of the Pontiac Buggy Works; Aaron Perry Park for an attorney and Oakland Park for the Oakland Motor Car Co.

In addition to the above named parks, the city has acquired 14 small pieces of land and large areas with no official name which are used or planned as parks, said Ewalt.

In conclusion Ewalt said, "There has never been any large civic project developed by private funds and that is one reason why Pontiac's existing parks are way below standards of other cities its size."

In a letter thanking Ewalt for his report, Donaldson said, "... during the many years since this city was founded, few if any of its citizens have appreciated its opportunities."

"A successful farmer . . . knows that he must plow something back into the soil, or it becomes barren and unproductive. Perhaps herein lies the secret of Pontiac being barren of civic pride . . . a city thirsting for rejuvenation."

"Could it be its present plight is the result of the selfishness of its successful citizens? Other cities have had their benefactors, but not Pontiac.

"Your report reveals that Pontiac's parks were all purchased, and at a good price too. Why then shouldn't we encourage our successful citizens to become interested in their community, and then reward the benefactors by naming parks and streets after them?

"Let's make it smart to be civic-minded. Under our present tax laws, a generous gift by certain persons would actually cost them very little and their community would benefit so much. Unselfishness pays big dividends . . ."

"Theodore Roosevelt once said, 'What a man does for himself dies with him. What he does for his community lives after he is gone.'"

Salk Says Polio Vaccine May Give Long Immunity

ROME (UP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, whose polio vaccine is undergoing one of medical history's most closely watched tests, reported today that man eventually may gain long-term immunity against polio from as little as two injections.

The young bacteriologist from the University of Pittsburgh submitted his eagerly awaited report to physicians and scientists of 49 nations, gathered in Rome for the International Poliomyelitis Congress.

Salk developed the vaccine which has been given to 425,000 children in the United States in a massive trial supported by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Its effectiveness will not be known definitely until next March, when the field test results are evaluated and announced by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. of the University of Michigan. Salk's former mentor and also a delegate at the congress.

But Salk reported there already is evidence that the vaccine generates antibodies — virus-fighting particles — in the blood streams of vaccinated persons. He said they are equal to antibodies found in the blood of persons who have recovered from the disease.

"The indications are that such can be accomplished with as few as two injections," he reported, "provided the potency of the vaccine and the interval between shots are both adequate."

It is still not certain how long the effect of the vaccine will last, Salk said, adding: "That there is still much to be learned is clear indeed. Nevertheless, it does appear . . . that by suitable manipulation of the dose of vaccine and of the intervals between inoculations, it should be possible with relatively few injections properly spaced to provide long-term immunity."

Salk said he and his associates now are trying to find out what is the shortest effective time between inoculations.

"In man," he said, "it is clear that the interval is longer than five weeks."

The Protestant Episcopal Church in America was started at Woodbury, Conn. in 1783 when Samuel Seabury was named the first bishop.

3 Persons Injured in 2-Car Collision

One was admitted and two persons were treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph Hospital last night following a 2-car accident at Auburn and Opdyke Rds. Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported today.

In fair condition is Bert Parker, 60, of 1300 Winthrop. He suffered severe cuts while riding in an auto driven by his wife, Irlene, 55, who was treated for bruises.

Margaret Malone, 19, of 84 N. Roslyn St., also was treated for cuts and bruises. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Levis, 23.

Deputies quoted Malone as saying he was making a left turn when the accident occurred. Mrs. Parker said she was proceeding through the intersection when the auto turned in front of her, according to deputies.

Florida Air Crash Kills 2 Michigan Navy Men

MIAMI (INS)—Two Michigan Naval Reserve lieutenants, one from Lincoln Park, were killed yesterday when their planes collided in mid-air during a gunnery training mission off the Florida coast.

Dead are Lt. Victor T. Molinaro, 32, of Lincoln Park and Lt. Alvin R. Hoeksema of Owosso. Both were members of a reserve fighter squadron based at Grosse Ile currently on a two-week annual training duty at a Marine Corps air station near Miami.

Sister's Sacrificial Assistance Bears Fruit Only to a Certain Point

She Should Think About Herself Too

By ANNE HEYWOOD
Sometimes a reader will write in, asking what seems to be a very simple question, but underneath that simple question will lie a complicated, and sometimes quite tragic tale.

For example, a reader in Maryland, Edith L., wrote several weeks ago: "My kid sister was graduated from college in June, with an English major. She wants to enter the field of journalism eventually, and now it seems necessary for her to get her Master's. Which do you think is the best school for graduate study in journalism? Is there any near Baltimore, or will she have to go some distance?"

Then, as if it were an unimportant detail, Edith L. went on: "You see, I don't know much about college, since I had to leave high school in the second year, when Father and Mother died."

"But I was lucky, because I started at the bottom in a department store and am now a buyer, making a very good salary especially for anyone who is not a college graduate."

"I have been able to put my two brothers through college, and my kid sister. But if she has to go far from home it will be terribly expensive and will require many changes in my way of living. Please let me know if there is a good graduate course in journalism here."

a little actual work, no matter how menial, on a real newspaper.

But most important, as I told Edith L., is the fact that if she continues to sacrifice herself and her life for her brothers and sister, they will end up hating her, snooting her because she didn't go to college, and forgetting all she has done for them. She must begin to use her hard-earned salary for herself, and nobody but herself.

Bar Cookies Use Jam for Filing

Mrs. Stockton King Carries on Family Cooking Tradition

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Good cooking seems to run in families. Mrs. Stockton A. King of Westacres is carrying on the tradition set by her mother and is passing her skill on to her daughter, Linda. She also shares Linda's interest in Girl Scouting. Among her outside interests is membership in the Westacres Child Study Club.

These Jam Bars can be made in a variety of flavors, depending on the kind of jam or jelly you use for filling. Make them once, and we think you'll make them often.

JAM BARS

By Mrs. Stockton A. King

2 cups oatmeal
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup margarine, melted
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup jam or jelly

Mix together thoroughly the oatmeal and brown sugar. Add the melted margarine and blend well. Sift the dry ingredients together and add to the oatmeal mixture. Pat half of this mixture into a greased 8x8 pan. Cover with the jam or jelly and spread the other half of the oatmeal mixture over the filling. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

Those Ants Are the Funniest People

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

As I watched with a sort of helpless fascination, the busy black ants succeeded in tugging the dead fly completely into a small hole they had bored in the cement between the stones on the terrace.

I had been planning to pour hot water into the hole until I began to read John Crompton's "Ways of the Ant," and since then I know, or at least suspect, too much about what is going on beneath the terrace to be able to sponsor such an act of destruction. Of course, my surmises may run a little wild, for the ants about which Mr. Crompton records the strangest and most exotic habits probably don't live under my stone floor.

At least I haven't seen any golden-haired beetles around. Ants, according to Mr. Crompton, are gourmets and these beetles exude from the bases of their golden hairs a secretion which certain ants find irresistible. So they lure the creatures into their nests and feed them on food intended for their own infants or, worse, even the infants themselves.

Another kind of ant has a strange partnership with a blue butterfly. These butterflies in the caterpillar stage supply a kind of ant-beer or nectar, and in return the ants dig holes in the earth and range the caterpillars in rows for their cocoon period. When the butterflies emerge, the ants escort them above ground. Chronicler Crompton speculates about whether this proves that ants, unlike men, take a long-term view about preserving a species which is valuable to them.

My own favorite in the ant world is the "rotund" which has to be specially trained for his work from infancy as does a human contortionist. Rotunds are fed by workers until they are fat and round as casks. Then they are hung up on the cellar ceiling—and tapped for food in lean periods.

Crompton, who is fiercely defensive of the ant in spite of some of its odd behavior, wonders injudiciously how these insects could have so annoyed Mark Twain that the great humorist found it necessary to slander them.

"Science," wrote Twain, commenting on Solomon's advice to go to the ant, "has recently discovered that the ant does not lay up anything for winter use . . . He does not work, except when people are looking, and only then when Bess and Irene, both 15, live six blocks apart. But this morning, invitations to a mutual friend's party faced them with the same problem.

Each, for the occasion, wanted a new skirt. Each knew that money to buy it would be denied by her mother.

What Bess did first was to think. Then, humming a little tune to herself, she ran up to her room. There, from her closet she took the last summer's pink pique dress that had grown too short-waisted.

With scissors, she began to snip at its belt stitches. She took care not to snip cloth because she knew that she'd need the belt to make the new skirt from the old dress.

Irene thought, too. Then what she did was to wander into her mother's bedroom. From the purse on the table, she removed a department store charge plate.

Telling her mother she had books to return to the library, she took a bus downtown, chose a new skirt and charged it to her mother's account.

Why couldn't she, like Bess, find a solution in herself?

Well, a couple of days ago, she got a fruit stain on a blouse. She was told, "Give it to me. You'll ruin it." If she ever tries to rearrange her room, she's told, "Put your bureau back. Don't you know that damp will warp its drawers near the window?"

Individual ideas just die stillborn in Irene. Her long experience with vetoes has turned her into a dependent child.

Yet, when the store sends the bill for her skirt at this month's end, her mother will cry. She will call Irene dishonest and say, "What have I done to deserve this?"

Such scenes are frequent between Irene and her mother. For Irene, trained to look for all her solutions in her mother, has now learned to force them from her.

If she overspends her weekly allowance, she expects the same contempt for her need of more money as for her opinion on the rearrangement of her room. So she is unable to present her need for it as respectable. Needing it, she just takes it from her mother's purse.

Her dependence is the key to her dishonesty. Thieves are no thieves because they have no solutions in themselves.

Like Irene, they use their gifts of ingenuity, perseverance and alertness to wring their solutions from other people. Often, they have been children who have suffered consistent discouragement of their own resourcefulness.

Women Rough on Eyeglasses

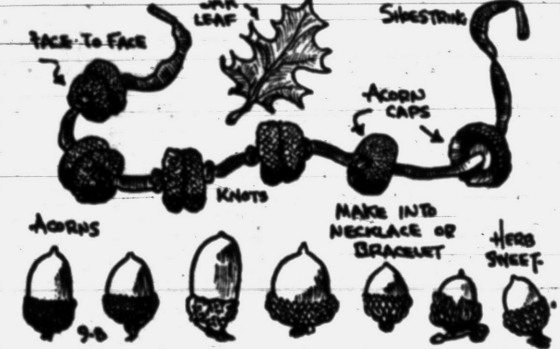

GENEVA, N. Y. (INS)—Women are more nervous than men.

At least, that's the conclusion drawn by those familiar with eyewear habits.

When the average man puts on his glasses, he leaves them on until there is a good reason for taking them off. But many women take their nervous tension out on their eyewear.

Besides constantly removing and replacing glasses, they frequently gnaw on the ends of the ear-pieces. This practice mars the temples and sore ears often are the result.

The nervous male, on the other hand, may be an eyewear twirler. And because the twirlers and most other eyeglass wearers are right-handed, 80 per cent of broken temples are on the right side.

Try It Fall Strolls Mean Fun

I hope that you will soon have a chance to go for a walk in the woods. If you live in the country, I hope that you get out often, but those of you who live in the center of a large city must make plans to go. How about a family trip?

It is real fun to go for a walk in the open, and if you have a project in mind, it is even more fun. Many things can be made from things found in the woods, and I wonder if you have ever used acorns? Here is some jewelry made from acorns, and it is so pretty that I have even seen some similar to it for sale in some of the stores. You boys can make some for mother to wear all during the winter. Gather the acorns, then remove the caps. Use a colored shoe string and string the caps on it. Make a knot after each pair. Tie in the back, making the string any length the wearer wants.

This necklace has no glue to it, the only trick is to use a nail to punch the holes through the caps. Make one for a friend too.

Most Grains Turn Easier

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains turned a little easier on the Board of Trade today as profit taking developed after yesterday's upturn.

Commission houses gave the market support at the start. Brokers thought some of the demand may have been inspired by apprehension over a first class shooting war developing out of the fighting between Chinese Communists and Nationalists off Quemoy Island in the Pacific.

Soybeans rallied after the Agriculture Department came out with a cotton crop forecast of 11,332,000 bales compared with an estimate a month ago of 12,680,000.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 cent lower, September $2.18, corn 1/4 cent lower, September $1.63, oats 1/4 cent lower, September 76 1/2, soybeans 1/4 cent higher, September $14.34, soybeans 1/4 cent higher, September $3.00, and lard 8 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $17.20.
