De Gaulle Forming Government, Urges France to Remain Calm

Reuther to Enter Bartering at GM in Final Hour

Will Attempt to Jolt Firm From Contract Renewal Offer

DETROIT (UPI) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther will enter negotiations at General Motors tomorrow or Thursday in a final-hour attempt to jolt the company from its "take it or leave it" contract renewal offer.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock revealed Reuther will enter the talks before the contract expires Thursday midnight. Woodcock said whether Reuther shows up at the General Motors Building tomorrow or Thursday "depends on developments," presumably on whether GM starts to budge on the union's minimum demands.

The UAW this morning asked for immediate lifting of news blackouts on negotiations on GM, Ford and Chrysler. General Motors and Ford declined to erase bargaining secrecy immediately and held the union to the 24-hour notice agreement.

The blackouts will be lifted at GM at 9:57 a.m. and at Ford at 10:10 a.m.

Woodcock strongly indicated the union will charge the company is bargaining in bad faith and perhaps will call for outside mediation. Woodcock said there will be no new union proposal but the union will be "free to discuss the conduct of bargaining if nothing develops" by tomorrow.

The UAW said Chrysler also will be given 24-hour notice in accordance with the agreement when the news blackout was imposed. Chrysler negotiations resume this afternoon.

The lifting of the news blackout apparently signaled a new union bargaining proposal or approach, or a union report on the conduct of bargaining at this time.

It was only the second time in the more than eight weeks of contract negotiations that the blackout has been lifted.

On April 25, the union asked to remove the secrecy ban and three days later delivered its proposal for a three-month extension of contracts plus a cut in car prices and taxes.

The company called this a union stall to postpone bargaining until the 1959 model building period, when the union would have considerably more economic power.

Pflimlin May Submit Resignation Tonight

Large Bloc in Assembly Declares It Will Never Support General

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle today started forming a new French government. There were growing indications that he would have the assistance of President Rene Coty and Premier Pierre Pflimlin.

His plans ran into difficulty when Socialist members of the National Assembly agreed they would not support De Gaulle under any circumstances.

With their 97 votes in the badly split National Assembly, the Socialists made paper-thin De Gaulle's chances of coming to power constitutionally on an assembly vote.

Premier Pierre Pflimlin met this afternoon with President Rene Coty.

He arrived pale and red-eyed, was with Coty for 12 minutes and then sped off to a Cabinet session.

Pflimlin, normally cordial, would not talk to reporters. He jumped into his car and locked the door from the inside.

A source at the President's Elysee Palace, who would not be named, said the resignation of the Pflimlin Cabinet could be expected tonight.

The same source said De Gaulle saw the Premier during his first visit to Paris last night. The two agreed on the formation of a new government, which would be headed by De Gaulle but include at least some of the ministers now in office.

De Gaulle announced earlier in the day he was moving to take over the government. He urged the nation to remain calm.

SETTLE CRISIS

He promised a quick contact with the Gaullist leaders in Algeria to settle that crisis on the Right.

New trouble boiled up for France on the far Left. Hundreds of thousands of workers began laying down their tools in a general strike called by the huge Communist controlled General Confederation of Labor to protest against De Gaulle's rise to power.

Paris suburban train service was tied up. Northern coal fields were deserted. Many factories were idle. But non-Communist unions were not cooperating. Paris subway service was reported normal. Only 40 of the city's 1,700 buses returned to their garages.

RECESS CALLED

The National Assembly recessed shortly before De Gaulle issued his statement. Premier Pierre Pflimlin and members of his Popular Republican Movement (CMRP) hurried off to see President Rene Coty.

De Gaulle moved today in utmost secrecy.

17 Warships Ring Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI) — Seventeen French warships with the power that might enable French Algerian rebels to make good their boast that they "soon shall march together up the Champs Elysees," either already were at anchor in Algerian ports today or reported on their way.

But whether they were there on normal call, as the government of French Premier Pierre Pflimlin insisted, or to join the forces rallying around the standard of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, as the rebels hoped, remained an unanswered question.

Radio Algiers continued its mysterious messages reminiscent of those beamed at France from London by De Gaulle's free French movement.

Today's was: "The rice is cooked just right. It is time to eat it."

Hospital Board Approves Hearing for Sullenberger

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac General Hospital will give Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger a final hearing within three weeks on his suspension from practice there.

Although the medical staff's executive committee went on record against a hearing now and as "unalterably opposed to a public hearing," it was ordered by the board last night to lodge specific charges within 10 days against the 42-year-old chest surgeon.

A copy of the charges will be sent to Dr. Sullenberger, the board decided, and a hearing scheduled within 10 days after that by either the full board or a committee of its members.

While it was left up to board chairman Willis M. Brewer to decide how many board members should sit on the hearing, the full board will have to make the final ruling whether to reinstate Dr. Sullenberger or permanently remove him from the medical staff.

Brewer said he would make up his mind on the first question "within a few days." Another question — whether the hearing will be public or secret—has not been decided, he said.

Dr. Sullenberger has said unofficially that he "definitely prefers" a public hearing. He has not officially notified the hospital, however, of his preference.

After a 90-minute closed session at a specially-scheduled

State Certifies County Values

Tax Base of $1.8 Billion Given Final Approval for Equalization

A state equalized valuation of $1,808,669,648 for levying of 1958 taxes in Oakland County has been certified by the State Board of Equalization. It is identical to that valuation arrived at by the County Equalization Dept.

It represents a $37,966,848 increase over the 1957 figure, and a huge jump of $223,867,748 over the 1956 valation, which reflects the building growth of the county.

The state equalized valuation is that figure on which the County Tax Allocation Board Friday arrived at a 1958-59 tax rate of $5.75 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. It is intended to raise $10,672,280 by taxation to meet the needs of the proposed 1959 budget of $12,762,280.

Board members tomorrow will hold the first of two public hearings on preliminary township and school district allocations handed down Friday.

These rates will be made final Monay, said William J. Emerson, board chairman.

Cabinet Members Resign in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The 13-member Cabinet of Venezuela's provisional government resigned last night, but the ruling junta is expected to reappoint more than half the ministers.

Government officials said the resignation was a routine procedure to permit the recently reshuffled junta to decide on any changes.

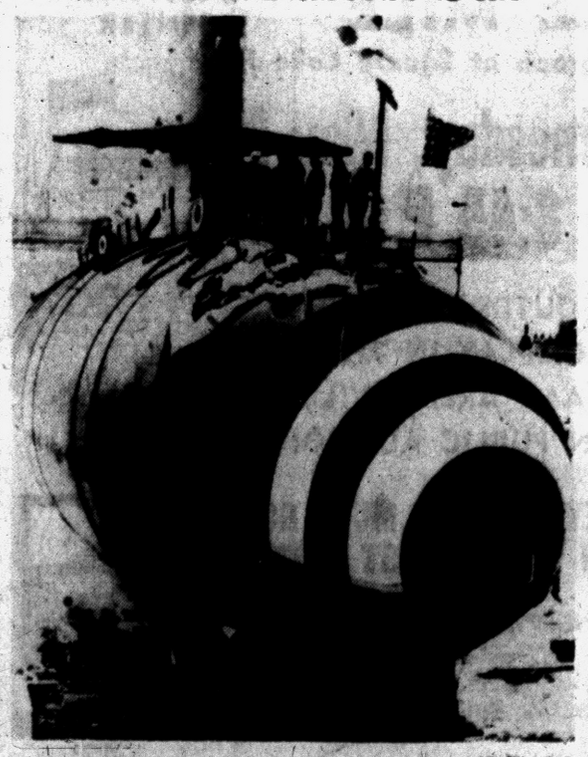

The junta is considering enlarging the Cabinet to include representatives of political parties as ministers without portfolio. Venezuela's major parties have criticized junta chief Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal for not permitting wider political participation in the government.

Dems Supporting Ike's Tax Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Democratic leadership today announced its support for President Eisenhower's stand against tax cuts.

At the same time Republican legislative leaders predicted a "substantial majority" in the House and Senate would go along with the Chief Executive's plea to hold the line on taxes this year.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) called on Congress to grant the President's plea of yesterday for extension of present corporation and excise taxes without tax-cutting amendments.

Rayburn predicted the bill would pass the House without amendments within the next week or two. But he wouldn't predict what would happen in the Senate, where there is strong sentiment for tax-cutting amendments.

Despite the stand taken by the President and Rayburn Congress appeared to be in a mood to cut some excise taxes.

Rayburn went even further than the administration which had left open the door for a possible tax cut later in the year if the recession gets worse.

But formally and officially the leadership of both parties was behind the President.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said after the weekly legislative conference of GOP leaders with the President that:

"Based on the facts now available, there is not likely to be any tax reduction legislation in this session of Congress."

Knowland said that on the basis of a report from Treasury secretary Robert B. Anderson there can be no antirecession tax cutting now because of the "widening budget deficit."

Court Upholds Right to Work

Two Unions Must Pay for Keeping Men From Making Livelihood

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court, in two major decisions, has affirmed the right of aggrieved workers to collect damages from labor unions under state laws.

Voting 6-2, the high tribunal yesterday upheld an Alabama state court award of $10,000 to Paul S. Russell, an electrician, for malicious interference with his lawful occupation.

Russell had sued the United Auto Workers, contending excessive picketing prevented him from entering a Decatur, Ala., plant of the Calumet & Hecla Consolidated Copper Co. from July 18 to Aug. 22, 1951.

Russell also alleged intimidation, stopping of his car and threats to overturn it, and threats of personal injury and property damage.

By the same 6-2 vote, the Supreme Court upheld a California state court award of $9,300 in damages to Marcos Gonzales of San Francisco. In a suit against the International Assn. of Machinists and its Local Lodge No. 68, Gonzales asserted he was illegally expelled from union membership and then refused referral to work from the union hiring hall.

To Celebrate Funeral Mass Thursday

Cardinal Stritch Is Dead

ROME (AP) — The body of Samuel Cardinal Stritch lay in state today at the Pontifical College where Americans study for the priesthood.

The 70-year-old Archbishop of Chicago died last night at Rome's Sanatrix Clinic. He had been confined there with circulatory ailments since he arrived in Rome April 25 to assume the high post given him by Pope Pius XII.

The cardinal's body will remain at the North American Pontifical College until tonight. Then it will be taken to Rome's St. Ignatius Church. A funeral mass will be celebrated there Thursday and the body will be flown home to Chicago for burial.

The funeral mass will be celebrated by Bishop Martin John O'Connor of Scranton, Pa., the rector of the Pontifical College.

All cardinals in Rome will pass before the body and each give his absolution. The last to do so will be Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, French-born dean of the College of Cardinals, who will give absolution in the name of the Pope.

SAMUEL CARDINAL STRITCH

The prelate was stricken first with a blood clot in his right arm while en route to Italy to take up his Vatican post. Three days later the arm was amputated to eliminate danger of gangrene.

Eight days ago, while apparently recovering rapidly, he suffered a severe stroke. He had lost ground steadily since then.

His last act before death was to kiss a small crucifix he kept with him throughout the past week of crisis.

Bonds Approved to Finance M24

Highway Bureau OKs $100,000,000 Bid to Pay for Widening

A new M24, stretching from Lake Orion to one mile north of Lapeer, will be financed by the largest highway construction bond issue in Michigan history.

The State Highway Dept. today accepted what it believed would be the only bid on its $100,000,000 in bonds put up for sale in order to finance 245 miles of new highways which will be placed under contract this year and next.

The work on Lapeer road (M24) will be one of 13 major projects covered by the proposed bond issue, according to Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Mackie said the bond issue represents the "keystone in the department's five-year, $1,250,000,000 highway construction program."

It is expected that a group of New York financiers would combine to bid on the bonds as the issue is too large to be handled by most organizations.

Michigan, with a total of 228 million dollars in highway bonds outstanding, will issue a total of 400 million dollars in bonds to complete Mackie's five-year program.

Seventy-three million dollars will be spent on Oakland County roads in this program, Mackie said.

The M24 project will be an extension to a four-lane, divided highway of the present road from Lake Orion north 10 miles to a mile north of Lapeer.

2 More Enter Race for Oakland Offices

Two more hats were tossed into the ring for the upcoming political race today as a housewife from Berkley and a Ford Motor Co. employe from Rochester filed statutory filing fees for the Oakland County offices of register of deeds and treasurer, respectively.

Mrs. Ruth Julian, 43, of 2551 Thomas St., Berkley, will seek the register post in the Aug. 5 primary on the Democratic ticket. It is now held by Daniel T. Murphy Jr., a Republican.

Also running on the Democratic ticket will be William K. Benson, 48, of 2569 John R., Rochester. He will bid for Treasurer Charles A. Sparks' seat in the primary.

Benson is a former member and president of the Brooklands School District, which he served for five years.

Reds Claim They'll Pull Troops Out of Romania

MOSCOW (AP) — Announcing the Soviet Union will pull its troops out of Romania and reduce forces in Hungary, the Soviet bloc called on the NATO nations again today to join in a 25-year nonaggression pact.

At the same time, Premier Khrushchev threatened to set up rocket bases in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia if the United States and its allies arm West Germany with nuclear weapons.

These disclosures appeared in a communique summing up the meeting of the Soviet Union and her East European allies in Moscow Saturday. The group met after a four-day economic conference of the members of the Warsaw Pact, the Communists counter to the North Atlantic Alliance.

Soviet troops have been in Romania since they liberated the Balkan neighbor on the Black Sea from the Germans in World War II. The communique did not specify the number, but some sources estimate the total at 30,000 to 40,000. Their withdrawal would leave Soviet troops stationed in Poland and East Germany as well as in Hungary.

The communique said the Soviet government will cut its Hungary garrison by one division this year. The Soviets said earlier this year they were pulling 17,000 soldiers out of Hungary. They did not specify how many would then remain, but Western observers put the figure as high as 100,000.

The Warsaw Pact nations also announced their decision to reduce forces by 119,000 men in 1958 in addition to a 300,000-man cut announced earlier for Soviet forces. The new reductions are Romania 55,000, Bulgaria 23,000, Poland 20,000, Czechoslovakia 20,000 and Albania 1,000.

Nine Candidates Will Run for Commission if City Status Gained

ROCHESTER — Nominating petitions for nine candidates for the Rochester City Charter Commission were filed yesterday in the Oakland County Clerk's Office.

A nine-member commission will be named in the special election Aug. 5 on the proposed incorporation of the village and parts of Avon Township as a city of more than four square miles.

Five village councilmen were among those filing yesterday. They are William C. Chapman, John Dahlmann, James Hill, Clarence Burr and Stowell Collins.

The others were Dr. Glenn R. Brooks and Dr. Max Mallon, both Rochester dentists, Langley E. Smart, businessman, and Roy Rewold, contractor.

The deadline for filing petitions is June 17.

Those elected will take office only if the incorporation proposal is adopted by the electorate. If it is, the commission would draw up a city charter to be placed before the electorate for final approval.

Sullenberger to Get Final Hearing

meeting, the hospital trustees met briefly in the open and made public two resolutions.

One was prepared by hospital attorneys, Brewer said, and contained details about the board's intention to grant the surgeon's request for a hearing to consider his temporary suspension Nov. 13.

The other was passed by the 13-member executive committee yesterday in an attempt to delay a hearing.

It said Dr. Sullenberger should first complete his appeal to reverse the April 11 dismissal of his suit for reinstatement and $250,000 damages.

But if a hearing is held, the resolution continued, it should be held in private to protect the staff from possible further legal action by Dr. Sullenberger. The staff members who might testify at a hearing, the resolution noted, "have no assurance of protection in regards to legal immunity."

This contention was sent to the hospital attorneys for study.

In setting up ground rules for the hearing, the board said it should be open "to all interested persons, either personally or by legal counsel." Both sides, it said, will have the right to present testimony and cross-examine witnesses.

The law suit which highlighted Dr. Sullenberger's fight to practice again at the hospital was dismissed by Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn on grounds the surgeon brought it before attending a final hearing by the board to appeal the medical staff's original recommendation that he be suspended.

The board says that Dr. Sullenberger failed to show up at several hearings scheduled at his request. Dr. Sullenberger argues that he had obtained a postponement of the Nov. 13 hearing, but was temporarily suspended then anyway.

The final hearing was scheduled for Dec. 2, but the surgeon filed suit earlier that day and obtained a court order restraining the board from holding it.

This order was dissolved by Judge Quinn in dismissing the suit. Dr. Sullenberger has filed claim to appeal the dismissal to the State Supreme Court. He asked the board for a final hearing two weeks ago.

Cardinal Stritch Dies Peacefully

American-born priest ever summoned to Rome to become a member of the Church's governing curia, apparently knew when the final moment had come.

He raised the crucifix in his left hand, blessed those around his bedside with it and then died. His right arm was amputated a month ago.

"He surely taught us how to die," said Msgr. James C. Hardiman, the cardinal's secretary.

Pope Pius was one of the first notified of the cardinal's death. He gave his approval for funeral and burial plans in accordance with canon law.

Cardinal Stritch was born Aug. 27, 1887, in Nashville, Tenn. After studies in Cincinnati and Rome, he was ordained a priest at 22. A special dispensation was needed since priests usually are not ordained until the age of 24.

When only 34 he became bishop of Toledo, Ohio, the youngest member of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States. In 1930 he was named archbishop of Milwaukee and 10 years later became archbishop of Chicago, the largest Roman Catholic diocese in the world with some two million communicants.

In December 1945 he was elevated to the College of Cardinals. His Vatican post would have placed under his jurisdiction some 30 million Catholics, mostly Africans and Asians, and about 25,000 missionary priests, nearly 10,000 lay brothers and more than 60,000 missionary nuns on the five continents.

In Yugoslavia Alojzije Cardinal Stephinac was reported in critical condition. He is suffering from a blood disease complicated by bronchial pneumonia, a weakened heart and a blood clot in his leg.

Reuther to Step In for Final-Hour Try has attempted to win company concessions on a new trimmed-down bargaining program, but the companies have stuck to a two-year contract renewal offer without improvements.

Contract deadlines for a half-million auto production workers are hours away. General Motors' contract expires at midnight Thursday; the Ford and Chrysler contracts end at midnight Sunday.

Negotiations started this morning at General Motors and Ford, this afternoon at Chrysler.

The UAW met with General Motors and Ford yesterday for the first time since chopping the profit sharing and other union goals from its bargaining program last Friday.

The two top UAW economists, Nat Weinberg and Woodrow Ginsberg, went to the Ford negotiations session. While it was learned they argued for the union's top goals of better wages, unemployment benefits, pensions and severance pay for displaced workers, neither party would comment on the bargaining.

At General Motors, GM Industrial Relations Chief Earl R. Bramblett would say only that the offer of a two-year contract renewal, made by all three companies, "is still on the table until 11:59 p.m. Thursday."

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, asked if there was any progress in the middle ground separating the two parties, said, "We're always bargaining," but indicated the company made no offers.

The company two-year contract renewal would boost wages an average of nine cents an hour immediately, with another seven cents guaranteed in one year.

But UAW President Walter P. Reuther declared "basic human problems" of the unemployed, retired and displaced must be solved now.

Gen. De Gaulle Forming Government in France

ters had advance notice that he intended issuing a statement.

The military chiefs in Algeria first launched the move to bring De Gaulle to power.

It was not immediately clear whether the World War II hero had been asked by President Coty to form a government.

A spokesman at the presidential palace said he was not aware that Coty had asked De Gaulle to step in. But he added that could have been done by telephone.

De Gaulle slipped into Paris last night and presumably set the take-over machinery in motion. He spent four hours in Paris, then returned to his home near Metz.

In the wake of De Gaulle's statement Communist and non-Communist leaders met together and decided to make immediate joint contact with the government.

De Gaulle is 67. He dropped out of French political life in 1946 disdainful of the nation's political system. He stepped into France's blackest crises two weeks ago when he came to Paris to announce that he was willing to take over the reins of government—but on his own terms. Then he returned to his country home.

All along, the Communists have threatened to tie up the country with strikes if De Gaulle came to power.

Ike and Leaders Planning to Work With De Gaulle

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States is laying the groundwork for trying to get along with a French government headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Officially the government maintained silence on De Gaulle's drive for power. But the Paris political crisis was getting priority attention from President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The President reviewed the French situation with Republican congressional leaders this morning and a short time later conferred with Dulles and Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland refused to say what the President told GOP congressmen at their White House meeting.

But he said the French crisis "was raised and there was some discussion . . . various aspects were mentioned."

Asked who did the talking for the administration, Knowland replied, "The President. There is no higher spokesman."

Hoffa Starting to Woo Unions

Makes Initial Effort to Re-Enter Teamsters in AFL-CIO Ranks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jimmy Hoffa has started to woo AFL-CIO unions in an effort to pave the way for eventual readmission of his Teamsters Union to the AFL-CIO, informed sources said today.

Hoffa, 45-year-old president of the nation's biggest union, took a step toward the goal of reaffiliation by helping the retail clerks settle their strike against Montgomery Ward.

The best efforts of the AFL-CIO, including a two-man team appointed by its President George Meany, had failed to settle the dispute. The union has been on strike at six Montgomery Ward stores for five months.

Hoffa, whose teamsters employed at Ward's had authorized a strike in separate bargaining, stepped into the situation about May 1.

Clerks and teamsters began joint negotiations and yesterday announced agreement on a five-year contract providing an across-the-board wage increase, a cost-of-living clause and modified union shop. It was a big victory for the clerks.

Hoffa has approached leaders of at least three other AFL-CIO unions in his "win friends and influence people" campaign. His maneuvers are being watched closely at AFL-CIO headquarters where officials doubt he is merely interested in performing good deeds.

The AFL-CIO branded Hoffa a friend of racketeers and accused him of misusing union power for personal gain in hearings which led to the teamsters' ouster on corruption charges.

Board of Trustees Will Appoint Special Group to Study Applicants

Pontiac General Hospital will begin searching for a new director this week.

The Board of Trustees last night authorized its chairman, Willis M. Brewer, to appoint a special committee to investigate applicants.

Brewer said he would make the appointments within a few days.

The former director, Carl I. Fiath, was fired last week. The board said it was "dissatisfied with the progress of the hospital" under his direction.

Although there has been no official announcement that the post is open, numerous unofficial inquiries by possible applicants have been received, Brewer said.

Warship Arrives in Washington With Unknowns

WASHINGTON (AP) — A grim, gray warship threaded its way up the Potomac River today, returning the bodies of two unknown fighting men to the country for which they died.

In twin bronze caskets, the two will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery Friday to symbolize all the nameless dead of World War II and Korea.

A third, brought with them from foreign battlefields, was given a sailor's burial in the sea yesterday after a final selection was made during a rendezvous off the Virginia Capes. He was one of two picked from the anonymous dead of World War II.

Tomorrow morning the two caskets containing the Unknowns will be removed to the rotunda of the Capitol. There they will lie in state, in the place reserved by custom for presidents and other famous men who have died. On Memorial Day, they will be entombed in Arlington close by the Unknown Soldier of the first World War.

The Day in Birmingham

Planning Board Sponsors Meeting on City's Growth

BIRMINGHAM — The future growth and development of Birmingham will be the topic of discussion at a public meeting at 8 this evening in the Community House.

Sponsored by a subcommittee of the Birmingham Planning Board, the meeting will feature talks by three city planning experts on what is being done in other Michigan cities.

Speakers will be Harold B. Euler, secretary of the Downtown Pontiac Association; Paul Moffett, Birmingham architect who has worked on plans for Royal Oak, and David Geer, planning consultant for several southeastern Michigan cities, including Birmingham.

Dr. George E. Marin, chairman of the Birmingham Planning Board, said the purpose of the public meeting is to try and get across a better understanding of what the people want in the way of future development.

"It is far better to have their backing than to dump a cut and dried plan in their laps without their understanding of it," he said.

Tonight's meeting was called by Elliott Robinson and William Merrill, planning board members who have been working as a committee within a committee toward a cooperative effort in making Birmingham the kind of a city its residents want it to be.

Only one street will be deleted from Birmingham's 1958 road oiling program.

John W. Greenleaf of 1798 Pembroke Rd. asked the City Commission how much longer it would be before Grayfield road gets permanent paving to stop the continued cost of surface repairs.

The permanent improvement was dropped several years ago because of a proposed sewer line, he said. A records search revealed that in 1954 a special assessment district had been formed, but because of the sewer to the proposed Derby School no work was done.

The sewer line was installed in another area and the Grayfield paving district was left in the files.

City Manager L. R. Gare and City Engineer Grover Serenbetz assured Greenleaf that unless further search reveals that the district has been closed, it will be reactivated and permanent paving plans started as quickly as possible.

The Cole avenue paving, plus the installation of sewer and water lines, was approved as a special assessment district. The estimated cost of the entire project is $23,760.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual picnic Sunday at Camp Talahi near Brighton. Church services will be conducted at the camp along with the regular church school, beginning at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Walter L. Jackson

Service for Mrs. Walter L. (Marthe) Jackson, 67, of 208 Larchlea Dr., Birmingham, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Holy Name Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mrs. Jackson died yesterday in the Green Lake Rest Haven after a brief illness.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Robert G. Saltsman, and two grandsons, all of Birmingham.

Happy

the home!

Houses are like people. The healthier they are, the happier they are.

How about your house? Is it a happy home for your family, free of small but dangerous flaws, safe from the ever-present threat of blight and decay? Make sure it is by making timely repairs. Remember that blight needs only a tiny toe hold to grow and spread.

Stay alert. Protect your home, guard your neighborhood. Carelessness and neglect are contagious. One shabby home leads to another. A few blighted houses can start a slum . . . raise your taxes, rob you of school and business opportunities, impair local facilities of all kinds.

Keep your property in healthy shape. Make timely repairs at home . . . then join your neighbors in community-improvement groups. Safeguard your family's future now by writing for practical, effective information to:

Grenade-Like Object Burns Grandfather, Boy

DETROIT (UP) — A 6-year-old boy and his grandfather were burned yesterday when a grenade-like object exploded and splattered them with fire.

Thomas Gaginski and his 63-year-old grandfather, Paul Boga, were hospitalized.

Police said the boy and his grandfather found the tubular object while picking dandelions and the boy pulled the mechanism's pin. The grandfather then threw it away and it exploded on landing, hurling flaming material on them.

Atom Subs Set Undersea Marks

Skate, Seawolf Hailed, as New U.S. Vessel Skipjack Is Launched

GROTON, Conn. (UP) — Two of the nation's atom submarines — the Skate and the Seawolf — have sailed for 30 days and more under the sea to set new endurance records.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, hailed the records as "major breakthroughs of the first magnitude with implications far beyond undersea warfare."

During a training exercise, the Skate operated continuously underwater for 31 days and 5½ hours. The Seawolf surfaced after 30 days. She held the previous endurance record of 16 days.

Burke made the dramatic announcement moments before the nation's sixth and fastest nuclear sub, the Skipjack, slid down the ways into the choppy gray waters of the Thames River.

The Skate rode quietly at anchor only a short distance away in the yards of the General Dynamic Corp.'s Electric Boat Division, where it, too, had been launched only last year.

Across the river in New London was the Seawolf, also a product of the same yards along with the pioneer Nautilus.

Burke said the time spent under water by the 160 men of the two vessels was the longest known period in which man has been exposed to an artificial atmosphere under actual rather than laboratory controlled conditions.

"Space life existence under actual working conditions was proved a reality," he said.

"The men who established the new mark dramatically proved the ability of the Navy's submarine service to conduct unrestricted operations under artificial atmospheric conditions with no adverse effects."

Outright Jobless Aid Asked by Williams

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of recession-hit Michigan called on the federal government today to give the states outright grants so they can extend their unemployment benefits.

But Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) urged state governors to follow the "sound example" of Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill by dipping into their own 8-billion-dollar reserves before asking the federal government to extend jobless payments.

The Senate was scheduled to open debate today on a House-approved measure which would enable the states to borrow from the federal government to extend the duration of jobless payments by as much as 50 per cent.

The proposal, which would be on a strictly voluntary basis as far as the states are concerned, has been endorsed by President Eisenhower although he originally sought a mandatory plan.

Bomb Rocks Home of TV Price Slasher

DETROIT (UP) — A small bomb exploded last night in the milk chute of the home of a man who has been selling television sets at cut-rate prices.

Police said they believed the explosion may have been caused by a large firecracker. Damage was slight.

The man, Fred J. Hullett, 30, of 14709 Quincy, Detroit, said he had received several threatening telephone calls recently demanding he raise his prices to the level of his competitors.

He said, however, that he believed the explosion was the work of neighborhood pranksters.

About a dozen explosions have been reported in Detroit business establishments since January. Many of them were attributed to price-slashing. There have been no injuries.

State Allots $30 Million to Aid School Districts

LANSING (UPI) — The state will distribute about 30 million dollars in aid to local school districts around June 9, it was learned today.

The state treasurer already has the cash on hand to make the payment, which was due May 15, but it will take some time to figure out the share which will be given to each school district.

The payment will be the last of the 1957-58 fiscal year. Many of the school districts already have borrowed the money to meet expenses of the current year in anticipation of the state aid and will merely use the money to repay their loans.

Councils Finally Decide Who Owns Fire Station

The parish council had thought the county council owned it, and the county council thought it belonged to the parish council.

Motorcycle Rider Isn't Talking Slang

"I flipped," a Wixom man told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies Monday afternoon, and he wasn't just talking in slang expressions.

Ray Profitt, 22, of 3048 W. Maple Rd., was traveling east on Oakley Park Rd., Commerce Township, on his motorcycle. He struck a hole in the road. Both he and the cycle "flipped."

The flip sent him to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises and a possible fractured collarbone.

Man in Pontiac Sues Railway for $1.5 Million

Damages totaling $1,494,634 have been asked by a Royal Oak man who claims he no longer can work following a collision in 1956 with a locomotive switch engine at a crossing in Highland Park.

Lawson L. Isaacs, 46, of 426 E. Kenilworth St., filed a suit in Oakland County Circuit Court against the Detroit Terminal Railroad Co. and an employe, John Hoffman, 59, of 3708 Hazelton Ave., Rochester.

Isaacs, once an employe of Fisher Body Division, charges the railroad with being negligent in not having safeguards, such as warning signals, at a crossing behind the Ford Motor Co. plant on Oakland avenue.

One million dollars is being asked for pain and suffering past and what is expected from the Dec. 17, 1956 accident. The suit asks the remaining $494,634 for hospital and doctor's bills accrued through May 8 of this year.

Isaacs suffered chest, skull, and hip fractures, and a serious heart condition as the result of the accident, the suit claims.

OWOSSO (UP)—Frank Norris, owner of a Midland dry cleaners, has been ordered to pay his 79-year-old mother $40 a month for support.

Shanahan also ordered Norris to pay his mother an extra $20 a month for eight months.

Two other sons and a daughter of Mrs. Norris also were ordered by Shanahan to lend support.

General Motors Vital for Prosperity in U.S.

ANTHONY DE LORENZO, General Motors Vice President, issues a challenging statement in his discussion of GM suppliers.

There are 26,000 of these.

GM pays them six billion dollars.

That means that approximately one half of all the money General Motors takes in, is paid out to other firms for the thousands of items which they provide the top corporation. These organizations are located in all 48 states and the District of Columbia. This illustrates graphically what a tremendous impact General Motors alone has on the economy of the nation.

If GM plants shut down, every state in the union is hit. The impact is even considerably greater than indicated here, as these 26,000 suppliers are in turn buying from their own suppliers.

Higher Military Pay Takes Effect June 1

About two million men and women in the Armed Forces, 900,000 in the Active Reserve and National Guard and 210,000 retired personnel will benefit by the pay bill signed by President EISENHOWER.

The half billion dollar raise is to encourage trained soldiers, sailors, marines and fliers to re-enlist after their service time has been completed and to attract higher quality men to choose military careers.

Many of the recommendations of the Cordiner report have been incorporated in the measure. It provides incentive pay for men who acquire skills and increases for officers with positions of a critical nature. Nearly everyone with more than two years service will get a monthly increase of from $10 to $424 starting June 1, depending on rank. Retired military men are due for a six per cent boost. Pay scales will no longer be based on length of service.

The Cordiner Committee envisaged a savings of up to $5 billion a year through reduced turnover, increased proficiency and better use of skilled personnel. Whether adoption of the system can do all this would be hard to say. The Army already had raised intelligence standards and all services report a substantial increase in enlistments for the first three months of the year, some of it no doubt due to unemployment.

Estimated cost of the first year is $576 million. But if the end result is higher morale and a more efficient military establishment, it will be money well spent.

City Should Act on Free Golf Question

A writer in Voice of the People column wonders when the City will take action on free golf for retired people. This seems like a perfectly legitimate question.

The golf season is well under way. Whichever way the City decides to act, now is the time. If the Commission and City officials haggle over the question, much valuable time can be wasted.

Free golf on our Municipal course for retired people over 65 will not affect many people. For the few that can enjoy this break we feel that the City should act immediately.

Any revenue loss to the City would be relatively small in comparison to the advantage to the retiree.

Watch for the Seven Cancer Danger Signals

Cancer is one of the specters that leaves mankind awed and still. Our defense is pretty futile but we are making progress.

Medical research is definitely gaining and some day a long awaited discovery may minimize a killer that strikes ruthlessly. The forward steps have been told and re-told, but they cannot be aired too often.

There are seven warnings and rules that the American Cancer Society has promulgated for your guidance up to this point. At the first appearance of any of these, go immediately to your doctor:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Persistent change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
6. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
3. Change in a wart or mole.

City Is to Be Recognized in Big Bridge Dedication

Foreign car: One that looks it.

Word comes to me directly from those in charge of the preparations that Pontiac is to be especially recognized in connection with the dedication of the "Big Mac" bridge next month. As Chief Pontiac ruled the Mackinac Straits area, the dedication program will recognize the importance of the great Indian warrior in whose honor our city was named.

The Michigan Historical Commission and Historical Society are to hold a joint meeting with the Upper Peninsula Historical Society at St. Ignace on June 24-25, just in advance of the dedication days.

Having watched his work for many years, I'll say it was quite fitting and proper that 150 of his friends gave a retirement dinner for who spent the best years of his life in improving conditions for the aged at the Oakland County Infirmary—and did a mighty fine job.

With Memorial Day and July 4 coming next to a weekend,

Sheriff Frank W. Irons

anticipates record breaking traffic, and will have men on duty to keep it in line. Now's the time to resolve that you'll be careful. Don't become a hospital or funeral home agent.

Latest among Oakland County's 25 townships to post notices at all of its borders that it is states that growing pains, incidental to the rapid development of that area up toward our northwest corner, makes such action necessary.

Still Trying to Get a Nose Cone

David Lawrence Says:

House May Call Talkative Citizens

WASHINGTON — Citizens of the United States who on their own promote international conferences of private individuals from other countries or engage in discussions about them, written or oral, with foreign ambassadors, in order through such conferences to influence the policies of foreign governments in disputes with this country or to defeat the measures of the United States, may find themselves on the witness stand before the House Committee on un-American activities.

LAWRENCE

For the House committee has a right to determine for itself whether the present law forbidding such activities shall be expanded and made more stringent.

Just the other day a prominent industrialist was subpoenaed by the House committee, and it was erroneously assumed in some quarters that he was being called in merely to reproach him for views he had expressed in criticism of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It was indignantly asserted by some critics that the committee has no right to interfere with freedom of speech.

But it turns out that what the House committee has a right to investigate and what it is interested now in finding out is whether present laws shall be amended to prevent the carrying on of correspondence or intercourse between American citizens and foreign governments where the object may be to influence the action of the United States government in its disputes with other governments.

The exact text of what is known as the Logan Act—originally passed in 1798, but reaffirmed in the U.S. Code of Statutes in 1948—is as follows:

"Any citizen of the United States, wherever he may be, who, without authority of the United States, directly or indirectly commences or carries on any correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or to defeat the measures of the United States, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both."

To what extent may an American citizen invite to his home a representative of a foreign government with which the United States has a dispute and, with several persons in the business world in attendance, speak at such a function in contradiction of the policies of his own government?

The industrialist who did so recently is not a Communist nor identified in any way with Communist organizations but, under the terms of the existing law, may he in the presence of a foreign government's representative denounce his own government's policies?

If he may do so—and there is no clear-cut definition as yet of what is or is not permissible under the present statute—then is it advisable for Congress to amend the law and recite specifically the activities which will hereafter be considered un-American and hence prohibited?

Plainly the Congress has a right to seek to inform itself so it may pass legislation to meet any contingency. The Senate Internal Security subcommittee, for example, last week in a formal report recommended that new laws be passed to punish what it terms treason "during a 'cold war'" on the theory that similar acts would be punishable during a "hot war."

Free speech, under the Constitution, is protected even in time of war. A speaker may espouse the cause of the enemy, but he is limited in that he may not incite others to disobey or refuse to join military forces.

The Logan Act doesn't infringe the right to speak, but does limit the citizen in his intercourse with the representatives of foreign governments. The statute applies in time of peace as well as in time of war.

Even so commendable an objective as seeking to bring about a "compromise" would seem, in certain circumstances, to come under the ban of the Logan Act.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Let's Reserve Hospitals for Those Who Are Sick

Whenever I hear the stereotyped cry about the shortage of nurses and the lack of hospital beds to take care of the sick and injured, I think of two ways in which the situation could and should be improved.

DR. BRADY

Many hospital rooms or beds are occupied by persons who check in for a few days or a week for "observation" or "study" or "tests" at the request of a doctor. They use the hospital as a hotel simply because it is more convenient for them and for the doctor.

Every little while a correspondent tells me that I do not seem to realize that when the mother of several children has another baby the least she deserves is a week of rest in hospital after the birth of her baby, for that is the only chance she is likely to get for a good rest.

Provided "a good rest" is not just lying abed, I cordially second the motion to give the new mother a week off, a vacation after each and every childbirth. I sincerely believe the state should provide such a vacation for every new mother.

But that is no argument for using hospital beds and the services of nurses. The best place to have a baby is at home. If your home is not fit for it, then you may have to go to the hospital, but even so it is better for everyone concerned if you go home with your baby 48 hours after the baby is born.

Mothers who are up and about their usual activities two or three days after childbirth get along far better than did mothers 30 years ago who remained in bed for the legendary nine days.

The woman who is early up and back at work or play is more likely to retain or regain a good figure, too. Prolonged bed rest induces the accumulation of slacker flesh and flabbiness.

Hospitals and nurses are for the sick and injured. Others please keep out.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"My sincere thanks for the booklet containing the recipe for Whitfield's ointment. It has positively cleared up ringworm of the groin. Two skin specialists I had consulted prescribed expensive remedies and gave me not the slightest relief . . . " (O. L.)

Answer — Thank you. Booklet "Save Your Skin," sent on request — enclose 25 cents and stamped envelope bearing your address — contains the recipe, and many others for common skin toubles.

"Son, 18, has been told at school that he has flat feet. They say he should wear arch supports. Kindly advise." (K. McL.)

Answer — Let's keep "They Say" out of it. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet, Care of the Feet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Laments Cutting of Trees for Perry Street Widening

Have you looked at Perry Street in the last few days? It should be called Prairie Street; it looks exactly like any of a dozen streets you have to drive in New Mexico or the Sahara Desert. I don't live on the street, but I do hate to see my town, any part of it, deliberately ruined for purposes of living. It took at least 35 years to grow those beautiful trees, and now a bulldozer comes along and butts them down in a few minutes. I don't know why they want to run a super highway through the middle of town anyway.

Glad I Don't Live There

Substantiates Need for Church-Going

Church attendance is necessary if we would follow New Testament teaching. We have in it an approved example of Christians meeting on the first day of the week and we have a command, "Forsake not the assembly." I would be happy to discuss this matter further with any interested party by mail or in person.

'Parole System Needs Changes'

I'm not opposed to capital punishment, but it won't save any money. No state executes more than a few persons each year, and cost of acquiring, maintaining and operating execution equipment would be more than could be saved from those few prisoners.

As for murderers being released to kill again, I can't think of any who had been convicted of murder before. But plenty of murderers are ex-convicts released on lesser offenses such as burglary, etc. They're the ones we should be concerned about, and if we had screened these men more carefully, many murder victims would be alive today.

Capital punishment is O.K. as a last resort, but prevention is better. Let's revise our parole system so people who aren't fit to be free can't be released just because their time is up. Then we won't have to worry about them going on to "bigger and better" crimes.

'Why Do We Give Aid to India?'

Why give any foreign aid to India? India sweet talks Russia every time she thinks we aren't looking and sometimes when she knows we are. They want a modified communism over there, something between socialism and communism and why should we contribute? They aren't on our side at all except when it suits their convenience.

Disappointed

'Be Grateful for the Work'

Why can't a few intelligent workers be grateful enough to say thanks for the employment under the rotten stress of Reuther and his Hoffas and Becks? Has industry or business had any kind of encouragement to go on providing work? The Constitution plainly states freedom to work. I know GM has been wonderful to my boy, who is salaried and exempt from the tyranny of unions. If everyone at the end of the day would take a few minutes to count blessings, this world would be a better place.

Grateful

'Downtown Stores Deserve Time Off'

A letter from the Downtown Pontiac Association says stores will stay open Thursday until 9 p.m., and I've come to the conclusion store policies are dictated by the few. I've served the public for 32 years on Saginaw street and have yet to see this minority group identified with anything constructive or civic minded.

Our industrialists and organized labor can get together through the years to allow working men time off to enjoy a national holiday by closing down plants even for a four-day weekend, but our Pontiac Merchants Association, or the dictatorial few, say in effect, if help gets a holiday off, let's open late the night before so they can't leave Pontiac.

Businessmen, I've been among you 32 years and I challenge you honestly to justify your action in preventing employes leaving town to honor their dead in their respective towns or states and this goes for Fourth of July and Labor Day.

'New Deal Eggs Hatching Now'

In answer to the letter about Ike giving us a raw deal, if that's true, it's because the eggs of the New Deal are hatching now. And they'll be hatching for generations to come. The sad part of it is that unless a miracle is performed, millions will vote in 1960 for another FDR if found. Taxes to pay our national debt will in time destroy our economy.

Joe Parsons and his charming wife are members of the same "Fisherman's Society" to which St. Peter and St. Paul belonged. Notice their remarkable record below. Then see if you dare accept my challenge to use the "block system" in your community! Church folks should all be star salesmen but selling usually involves personal interviews!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y - 320: Joe Parsons and his vivacious wife live in Indianapolis wheere they belong to the Broadway Methodist Church.

"And they are real fishermen in the religious sense," Mrs. Crane informed me.

For she and I had gone to the Hoosier capital for my recent address before the Indiana Florists' Association.

DR. CRANE

We never miss church on Sunday, so we decided to visit Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Pierce at the Broadway Church.

After the services, they had a dinner in the church basement, which we attended.

And during the dinner, Mrs. Crane got the startling information about Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parsons.

Mrs. Pierce told my wife. "Why, they personally have caused 129 people to join our church in the past 2½ years.

"We tried to get a special pin in recognition of their wonderful work, but our National Board reported they had pins only for people who had recruited 50 new members.

"Apparently, nobody had dreamed that a Christian couple could win 129 new members to a city church like ours. Isn't it wonderful?"

CHURCH SALESMEN

Yes, it is truly a wonderful tribute to the energy and devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Parsons.

Jesus told Peter that he would make him a fisher of men, and the Parsons are the finest example among modern laymen that I have met.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," many new church members have implored, "what can I do to help make the world better and fulfil the ideals of Christ?"

Well, I often recommend the "Compliment Club" as well as the kindred project called the "League of the Golden Pen."

But it would also be a good idea to organize a church "Fisherman's Society," to which people could be admitted who had brought in new members.

Home missionary work is vitally needed right here in America, for just look around your town or city. About 40 per cent of the children and adults therein belong to no church whatever!

So you have a vast opportunity to recruit new members. The fields are ripe unto the harvest but good reapers are few.

We have about 60 per cent of our population as members of Hebrew, Catholic and Protestant churches in America, but most of them are shy or afraid to ask their neighbors to go to church with them.

The "block system" is still the best method a Young People's Society can employ for increasing attendance and stimulating greater church membership.

But most churches shy away from using the block system and doing house-to-house calling.

Except for the clergymen themselves, few laymen make any official calls in their area, except maybe the one week the finance committee is trying to raise the pledges for the annual budget.

Why don't more of you adults, as well as teen-agers, accept my challenge?

I dare you to imitate Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parsons! I challenge you to spend two hours on Sunday afternoon making a house-to house survey, using the block system, with two members assigned one or two city blocks apiece.

The Mormon Church and Jehovah's Witnesses are the most vigorous folks I have met thus far as regards the unrivalled method of personal calls.

Send for my booklet "How to Increase Church Attendance," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents (non-profit). Use it to emulate the Parsons.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

2 Persons Injured in Auto Accident

A Huntington Woods couple were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Monday night after suffering injuries in an accident on Woodward Ave. just north of Lone Pine Rd., according to Bloomfield Hills Police.

Charles Carson, 53, of 26245 Salem Rd., and his wife Marjorie, 51, were reported in "fair" condition today by a hospital spokesman.

Police said Carson's auto struck the rear of a car owned by Marchal Williams, 34, of 2925 Elmwood Ave., Detroit, while going outh. Williams had a flat tire and was attempting to push the car onto the parkway when it was hit, said officers.

Its Meaning Now Touches Most Everyone . . .

When Memorial Day was instituted, it set apart a day for the memory of our nation's heroes who had fallen in our defense. Following the Civil War, the long period of peace made fewer the families affected.

Today, almost every family has those who have been members of our Armed Forces. Memorial Day means much to everyone of them—it affects us all. Honor all on this day set apart for that purpose—for your loved ones as well as others.

Township Board Gets Proposal to Establish Committee on Problem

The problem of water safety on Waterford Township lakes was discussed at length at last night's regular township board meeting when Justice Donald E. Adams presented a summary of recommendations made by a committee concerning the problems.

A committee of residents to serve by virtue of their office was recommended. Official title of the group would be the Waterford Township Safety Committee.

The group would act in an advisory capacity to the township board.

Several Waterford Township residents were present, protesting boating hot-rodders' inconsideration of fishermen on area lakes.

Boat livery operators were also present protesting what they termed the laxity of laws and lack of control of high power boats.

A meeting has been scheduled with Supervisor Elmer Johnson, Adams, Police Chief Millard Pender and Justice of the Peace Patrick Daly to select additional committee representatives.

In other business, nine insurance bids were opened for township personnel and equipment and referred to Paul Mandell, township attorney, for recommendations.

Whether to accept the estate of the late George A. Kimball for a future library was diseussed and the matter was referred to the Waterford Township Library Committee for recommendations. He left a house and a lot.

Hannah at MSU Firmly Against Intellectual Cuts

EAST LANSING (AP) — John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president, has declared against "intellectual suicide" in meeting a one million dollar budget cut.

He told the MSU Academic Senate, a faculty group:

"Faculty salaries, already far too low, will not be cut. The amount of money we spend on books for the library will not be reduced."

"Wounds there will be, but the university has no intention of committing intellectual suicide."

Hannah's speech was reported yesterday by Thomas H. Hamilton, vice president for academic affairs. It was made to a closed session of the faculty organization last week.

The legislature, for the fiscal year starting July 1, granted MSU $25,315,000.

Hamilton said the view of education leaders is that the action in cutting back appropriations was a "grave error" but the "representatives of the people have acted."

The State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body, is expected to adopt a budget for the coming year at its meeting in June.

Lincoln began his public career as a $25 a year postmaster.

Bolster Strength but Still Lacking Majority After Election

ROME (AP)—Italy's pro-Western Christian Democrats today boosted their parliamentary strength but once more fell short of a majority in the face of matching gains by leftist forces.

The Christian Democrats appeared to have emerged from the nationwide election Sunday and yesterday strong enough to continue to govern Italy as they have since World War II. They will have to proceed cautiously in a coalition for lack of a majority.

The big losers in the national balloting appeared to be on the right — the Monarchists and Fascists.

The Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists gained after campaigning against installation of North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in Italy. The Red gains showed they had overcome the setback they were believed to have suffered when the Soviet Union crushed the 1956 Hungarian uprising and Premier Khrushchev exposed Stalin's crimes.

With about 70 per cent of the vote counted for the lower house, the Christian Democrats had won 42.7 per cent, compared with 40.1 in the last election. The Communist-Socialist left was up from 35.2 in 1953 to 37.5. The Monarchists dropped from 6.8 to 2.2 per cent and the Fascists from 5.9 to 4.4.

Seeking to Head Off Strike in Plane Firm

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Conciliation Service today seeks to head off a strike of 15,000 employes of McDonnell Aircraft Corp. — Missouri's largest employer.

Members of Machinists Union Local 9 voted Sunday to reject what the company said was its final offer.

The company offered a wage increase of from 11 to 20 cents hourly the first year and 3½ per cent the second year of a two-year contract.

The local wants a 15-cent cost of living increase plus a 6 per cent raise, or 30 cents total, whichever is higher.

Recent Report Up for Discussion

To Air Pontiac Police Affairs

Internal affairs of the Pontiac Police Department will be given a public airing tonight by the City Comission.

Up for discussion at a public hearing in City Hall is the recent Public Administration Service report which recommended sweeping changes in the department to bring about improved morale and efficiency.

Mayor William W. Donaldson has described the hearing as one at which "questions and objections to the report" can be brought out before the Commission takes positive action on it.

Rank and file members of the department were expected to take an interest in the hearing, Willman said.

The Pontiac Police Officers Assn., which last summer demanded investigation and Straley's ouster, has made no official indication it will take a stand at tonight's meeting, Willman said.

However, several association members have said in private they voted for a strongly-worded resolution concerning Straley at a special meeting last Thursday. It may be submitted tonight.

On the other hand, other members of the department have said they signed a resolution protesting the action of the association. This may also be handed to the Commission.

Straley was personally criticized in the report, but City Commissioners — acting under rules set up by City Charter — have shied away from taking any action in his dipection. Meeting informally, they have decided to stick to policy questions brought up by the report and leave administrative matters to Willman.

Whether a fight within the Association's ranks develops or not, Commissioners have decided to defer any positive action on the report until after another informal session. In the meantime, Willman has been instructed to sound out possible candidates for the post of Public Safety Director. The report recommended that one be hired.

Also scheduled for action tonight is a recommendation from City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn that State Highway Department plans for repaving of Telegraph road be approved.

The state proposes to repave from W. Huron street south to James K. boulevard and the Orchard Lake underpass. The job would be done this summer, as a measure to relieve unemployment here, the highway department has said.

A public hearing is scheduled on intention to install a water pipe line on the north side of Featherstone road from Kenilworth avenue 300 feet west.

Commissioners are scheduled to begin the rezoning of two Pontiac trailer parks from their present classifications to a new one set up under a zoning code amendment last week.

The trailer parks are on Telegraph road north of Beaudette Park and on E. Walton boulevard at the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad.

Special assessment rolls are ready for widening and repaving of Perry street from E. Huron street to the northeast city limits. If accepted, public hearings will be scheduled for next Tuesday.

Other rolls for sidewalks on Cherry court east of Hill street are also ready.

Housing Program Funds Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration today released an additional 300 million dollars to carry out the government's recession housing program.

Without the new allocation, the program would have run out of funds in about two weeks.

The Budget Bureau made the money available to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy government-backed home loans. FNMA can commit itself to buy, at par, mortgages of not more than $13,500 on homes not yet under construction.

In an effort to revivt building as a counter to the recession, Congress made available up to one billion dollars for FNMA purchases of FHA and VA mortgages.

The administration allocated only 300 million when the law went into effect last month, however, and 220 million of this already has been committed.

With this second allocation, the Budget Bureau still has authority from Congress to release an additional 400 million dollars.

Pontiac Man Sentenced on Morals Charge

For taking indecent liberties with a three-year-old girl, Hershel H. Fite, 29, of 88 W. Brooklyn Ave., yesterday was sentenced to serve 2½ to 10 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland handed down the sentence with no recommendation for the minimum term. Fite pleaded guilty to the charge May 12.

Color plays an important part in the courtship of butterflies. A male is most attracted to a female bearing its own colors. In two species the scarlet wing patch is a recognition sign. Orange and blue are vital hues for other species.

Shot on U. N. Duty in Israel

Canadian Colonel Killed

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel and Jordan each blamed the other today for the death of Canadian truce chief Lt. Col. George Flint, killed in a crossfire while trying to arrange a truce between battling units of the two nations.

Flint's own chief of staff said it could not be determined which side fired the bullet that felled the head of the Israel-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission on Mt. Scopus in Old Jerusalem yesterday. Four Israelis also were killed on the Jordan-surrounded Israeli enclave adjoining the Mount of Olives.

The death of the 47-year-old veteran of World War II and the Korean War brought expressions of sympathy from Jordan's King Hussein, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and the Israeli government.

Flint had accompanied a Jordan patrol to investigate rifle fire on Mt. Scopus. Stepping out in front of the Jordan patrol, he was hit as he sought to stop the fire exchange to permit removal of four wounded Israeli guards.

Flint could not be rescued in the heavy crossfire that continued and bled to death before aid reached him.

One Israeli officer and three soldiers also were killed in the exchange. It was the gravest Israeli-Jordan border incident in months. No Jordan casualties were reported.

Waterford PTA Split on Status With County Unit

Representatives of the executive board of the Waterford Township Parent Teacher Associations were split last night when they voted on the question of whether to form a local council or continue with the Oakland County Council of Parent Teachers Associations.

The group, which met at the high school, tabled the proposal until September when each school PTA could vote.

Last night's vote resulted in seven members approving the change, five disapproving and five not committing themselves.

According to Mrs. Glenn Wolters, chairman of the meeting, 17 of the 33 schools belonging to the county council are in Waterford Township.

Promoters of forming a local council feel that the entire county is not interested in the many problems which could arise in this township and a local group could concentrate more readily.

A person from out of the county will be scheduled to meet with each PTA in September to explain the advantages of a local council.

Tunisia Seeks Arms

French Governments Shaky Since Napoleons Left

By HARVEY HUDSON

(The turbulent recent events in Paris and Algeria have put the spotlight on the French political system which has resulted in 25 governments since World War II. A veteran member of The Associated Press bureau in Paris explains the system and why it exists.)

PARIS (AP) — The memory of two Napoleons has been the dominant principle of French political life for the past 90 years.

The short but never forgotten shadow of pint-sized Napoleon I has led to the long shadow of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Napoleon twice seized power in France and ruled the nation with a firm hand for 15 years before he was forced to abdicate in 1814.

Some 30 years later his nephew, Napoleon III, took over in a coup and ruled for a quarter of a century with an absolute power that was later liberalized.

These two experiences, dinned into the minds of every French student, seem to have decided the French people forever against any kind of strong or personal government.

To guard against a recurrence, the power in France during both the Third (1870-1940) and Fourth (since 1947) Republics has been vested in Paliament.

The executive arm is called the Council of Ministers, or Cabinet, and is voted into office by the National Assembly which can vote it out whenever a majority of the deputies wish.

The 596 Assembly deputies are divided among 16 parties as varied — and changing — in policy as the colors of a rainbow. Their difficulty in making up their collective mind has led to unending confusion.

Governments frequently have been voted out of office by combinations which could never agree on anything except to disagree with the Cabinet.

France is inured to governmental instability and the outside world paid little attention until increased dependence on security alliances brought France's problems to international prominence after World War II.

The same increased awareness of the international scene may have reacted on the French too. In any case, the French have begun to show impatience with government instability as things go badly for the nation.

During the Third Republic, 1870 to 1940, Frence had 101 governments. The average life of each was about eight months. Some lasted only a few days. During World War I, France had seven different cabinets.

Georges Clemenceau is remembered as the Franch wartime premier, although he did not take office until November 1917. He styed in office until 1920 and participated in the peace conference.

Since World War II the average life of a cabinet has been a little more than six months.

The Assembly now includes 143 Communists and about 30 Poujadists who are in systematic opposition to anything the government proposes.

Take out the Comunists and Poujadists, and any prospective premier has a field of about 400 deputies—ranging from Socialists to right-wing Independents — in which to find a workable majority of about 325 supporters.

Including half a dozen different political parties in one Cabinet often led to timid action or inaction.

Why so many parties? It's all part of the traditional French system. There is a party for the workers who follow the Communist line, and the Socialist party for the workers who refuse to look to Moscow.

There is a party, the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), for the Catholics. The Radical Socialists get most of their support from the small shopkeepers. The Peasant party gets support from the farmers. The deputies elected from overseas territories have two separate groups who fight each other.

Some of the parties are separated only by small nuances of political outlook. Two of the big parties, the Socialists (97 deputies) and Popular Republican Movement (75) are split by one explosive issue — the granting of state funds to church schools.

The Socialists, who get considerable support from the schoolteacher union, are bitterly opposed to the church schools. The Popular Republicans, with a church background, fight to maintain this aid.

The multiparty system is encouraged by the proportional representation election system. Under this system, a department may be allotted five deputies. These five seats are then partitioned out according to the share of the vote each party gets.

Almost never does one party get all the seats from a department. Each important segment of political opinion gets something.

A voter does not cast his ballot for any individual, only for the party. The party decides which individuals shall be put at the head of the list, where they may have a chance of being elected.

Thus a Franchman has no chance to vote against an individual he may feel has done a bad job in Parliament.

There has been much agitation in recent years for a change in the proportional representation system. Parliament never has been able to agree on any new system. Some prefer the district system used in the United States and Great Britain. Half a dozen various schemes were proposed in 1955. All were voted down.

Opponents of change point out that France has used no less than five different systems since 1870, but none produced governmental stability.

The present Pflimlin Cabinet is talking about a system to reinforce the executive by making it necessary for the opposition to agree on a new premier and a program before voting a government out of office.

The parliamentary system of government is generally used throughout Europe. The French system differs little from that in Italy, where instability is also the rule. In Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has been able to remain steadily in office because his Christian Democratic party has a majority in the Bundestag. Only four parties are represented in the Bundestag and the Social Democrats are the main opposition group.

Great Britain's House of Commons has virtually been reduced to two parties. In the event that a government is voted out of office in Britain, new elections are almost automatic.

Dissolution of the French Assembly is extremely difficult at present. This is another change that Pflimlin would like to make in the constitution. He has proposed that provision be made for dissolving the Assembly in case of dispute between the deputies and the government.

Panicky Riders Flee as Lightning Hits Bus

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A bolt of lightning struck a crowded transit bus at a busy Portland setting it afire.

All the 50 passengers — many with singed eyebrows and hair — escaped without serious injury. Thirteen were hospitalized overnight for treatment of smoke inhalation and noncritical burns.

Witnesses said the lightning, which struck at the height of a sudden storm, skipped along the trolley wire before it shot into the electric trolley bus.

Inside the bus, the bolt became a huge ball of fire which flashed over the passengers' heads and set the rear portion of the vehicle ablaze.

"The bus is on fire, open the doors," a passenger shouted. Bus driver Walter Nabors pressed the electric door switch, which still was operating, and the passengers — some of them hysterical — poured out into the street. A number of them lost shoes, purses, umbrellas and other possessions in the scramble to get out.

The bus burned.

For the first time the 1950 census showed that there were more automobiles than horses in use on the farms of the United States.

Navy Will Continue to Train Own Pilots

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Navy said today it planned to continue training its own fledgling pilots instead of using civilian instructors for primary flight training as the Air Force and the Army do, even though the civilian training may be cheaper.

The Navy made its stand known in a news release at an Aviation Writers' Assn. meeting here, taking issue with certain recommendations of a survey conducted by a Cleveland firm, Robert Heller and Associates.

The Navy described the Aeronautical Training Society of Washington, D. C., which made the Heller report public, as a "bargaining agent for civilian flight training organizations."

The vote was 334-90 yesterday after an hour of orderly but determined debate by more than 400 lawyers.

Safe Picnics Are Lots More Fun

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Hurrah! It's picnic season again. We've become a nation of outdoor cooks and picnickers.

The refrain? Keep cold foods really cold and hot foods really hot. None of this lukewarm stage. That's the temperature that tempts the deadly germs to do their fastest growing.

There are handsome ice chests and thermos bottles on the market. If you do not wish to go to this much expense, use ice in a covered roaster, wrapped in newspaper, for cold foods. Heat the hot foods at the picnic.

GREATEST OFFENDERS

One or two foods are the greatest offenders. Mayonnaise potato salad, any sandwiches with mayonnaise-type fillings, cream cakes, custard desserts and dishes with ground meat will about cover the list.

Substitute German potato salad for the mayonnaise type for safety's sake. This can stand almost indefinitely without chilling. In fact, it should never be served ice cold.

German Potato Salad

8 potatoes
6 slices bacon
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup water
¾ cup vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 onion, minced

Scrub potatoes and cook until tender in boiling salted water. Cut bacon in small pieces and cook until crisp. Drain on soft crumpled paper.

To the drippings in the pan, add flour, stirring well, then water and vinegar. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add salt, sugar and onion.

When potatoes are done, drain, then dry and peel. Slice or cut into small dice. Add bacon. Pour hot dressing over and mix thoroughly. Serve hot or lukewarm. Serves six.

If you insist on the other kind of potato salad or salad-type sandwich fillings, take the makings along and mix them just before you eat the food. Keep everything chilled.

Rather than run the risk of upset tummies and maybe more serious illness, forget the custard and cream dessert completely during warm weather. Banana cream pie really isn't essential to your well-being, is it? Substitute a fresh fruit pie instead. Or ice cream.

The reason we mention ground meat dishes is because the small pieces of meat leave so many surfaces exposed. Chili and hamburger casseroles should never be kept lukewarm. Either freeze them ahead of time and warm them up at the picnic site; or cook them just before eating.

DIFFERENT BROWNIES

Why not take along a pan of Butterscotch Brownies on your Memorial Day picnic? They're a nice variation on the usual chocolate theme.

Butterscotch Brownies

½ cup butter
½ cup evaporated milk
2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup chopped pecans

Melt butter in medium size saucepan over low heat. Remove from heat. Add evaporated milk, sugar, eggs and salt and beat until well blended. Sift flour with baking powder. Stir into egg mixture to blend. Then stir in vanilla and nuts.

Turn into a well greased pan 11¼x7½x1¼ inches. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean, about 45 minutes. Cool in pan on cake rack, then cut in thirds lengthwise and in fourths crosswise to make 12 servings. Brownies keep well if covered tightly with aluminum foil.

If ice cream is on the menu, you might like this quick easy, no-cook sundae sauce. It's made with instant pudding, peanut butter and evaporated milk.

Instant Chocolate-Peanut Sauce

1 package chocolate instant pudding mix
½ cup corn syrup, light or dark
½ cup softened chunk style peanut butter
1 cup evaporated milk

Combine the instant pudding and corn syrup in a bowl. Mix well. Add the peanut butter and blend. Stirring constantly, gradually add the evaporated milk. Continue stirring until well blended.

Allow to stand about 10 minutes to thicken sauce. Serve on ice cream, cake or other desserts. Makes 2¼ cups of sauce.

Have a wonderful Memorial Day weekend and many happy picnics all summer. But do be careful, please!

He's Going to Die With Killer 'Buddy'

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—"I stuck with my buddy," Eddie Oxendine told a newsman who accompanied him to the state penitentiary yesterday.

Oxendine, 27, and his buddy James Spence, 29, were taken to death row. They are sentenced to die Aug. 16 for the murder last March 31 of Mrs. Ruth Zimmerman, 19.

The North Carolina men were convicted last week of shooting the young mother after focing her husband Reggie, 22, to open a Lawton store for robbery. Zimmerman was wounded by gunfire as he and his wife sat trussed in the closet of their apartment above the store.

Oxendine expressed no regret about insisting on a joint trial with Spence, the triggerman.

"I stuck with my buddy," said Oxendine. "We did the robbery together. We did everything together.

"And I guess we'll die together."

Dear Abby....

Who'll Dance at the Wedding?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband passed away four months ago. My daughter is getting married. (She has to) as soon as I finish the hem on her dress. The wedding party plans to go to a hall for a wedding dance right after the ceremony.

ABBY

"I don't feel much like dancing. Is it my duty to go to the wedding dance? Could I go to the dance and sit? This husband wasn't my daughter's real father so she can dance, can't she? Please steer me right."

IN MOURNING

DEAR IN: A wife in mourning should not go to a wedding dance. If your daughter feels like dancing, let her dance, but it seems to me a stepfather should rate more respect than he is being shown.

"DEAR ABBY: I have a bone-headed sister-in-law who thinks she knows it all. Her little girl is almost four years old and she still drinks milk out of a bottle and nipple. Even the minister's wife told her that she was doing the wrong thing.

"This sister-in-law says that she doesn't care what anybody says, it won't do the child any harm and she would rather have her drink milk out of a bottle and nipple than not at all. What is your opinion?

GIVING UP

DEAR GIVING: Suggest that your sister-in-law ask her family doctor for his professional opinion. He has news for her!

"DEAR ABBY: We are two high school girls who have nothing but time on our hands. Can you give us the names of some boys in the service who are lonely and would enjoy corresponding with a couple of cute pen pals? Thanks."

TWO BORED GIRLS

DEAR GIRLS: Surely you must have a friend or relative in the service (or in a hospital or sanitarium) who would appreciate hearing news of mutual friends. REAL charity begins at home, girls.

"DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry a young widower whose wife died two years after their marriage. Because he was in the Navy, they traveled around a lot and all their wedding gifts were left in their original boxes, never used and placed in storage.

"He has recently purchased a home where we would have use for these things. My family feels that each gift should be returned as they were meant for his first wife and not me. I want to do what's right. These gifts were sent almost three years ago. I'd appreciate your opinion."

SECOND WIFE

DEAR SECOND: I don't agree with your family. After three years — I'm sure the senders do not expect to have their gifts returned. Use them and think no more of it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BROKEN-HEARTED: What did you expect from a married man? Any man who will cheat on his wife and lie to HER, will cheat on his girl friend and lie to her also. Sorry, look for sympathy under "S" in the dictionary.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Presents Are Not Expected

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: There seems to be a disagreement about the necessity for taking presents to one's hostess when going to spend a weekend at her house. Some say a present is necessary; others say no. So, to get this straight, will you please tell us just what is customary—according to etiquette among well-mannered guests."

Answer: Etiquette does not exact that anyone take a gift to his (or her) hostess or even that anything be sent afterwards — except a thank-you note after having stayed in her house for a night or longer. On the other hand, to take a box of candy is a courteous gesture that many people like to make.

"Where there are children, guests often bring them toys. They may be no more than trifles, but children are always so pleased with a present — and this naturally pleases their mother, too.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several days ago I went to see a friend in the hospital. While I was there her parish priest came in to visit her. I did not get up when he came in but remained seated at her bedside. My friend told me after he had gone that I should have stood up when he approached the bed. Will you please tell me if I was wrong not to get up?"

Answer: Strictly according to the rules you were not wrong, but it would have been courteous for you to have gotten up out of respect for his cloth.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We have a question we would like settled —namely, is it proper to have engraved menu cards at a wedding. There is no choice of food—it is just a menu mentioning the food to be served."

Answer: At a small wedding engraved menu cards would seem pretentious, but they would be proper at a large one where the guests at the reception are seated at numerous tables.

Canned Turkey May Be Used in Quick Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With the salad season close at hand, this recipe for a quick turkey salad will be welcome. Use fowl especially cooked for the salad, leftover turkey or canned turkey.

Mrs. Clarence Smith of Otter Lake is today's cook. She enjoys church work and gardening. Her granddaughters, she says, are her hobby.

QUICK TURKEY SALAD
By Mrs. Clarence Smith

3 cups cooked turkey
2 cups finely chopped celery
4 hard cooked eggs, chopped
Salt and pepper

A special salad dressing must be used to make this salad. This recipe makes about one pint. Dilute it for the turkey salad with top milk, half and half or whipping cream. The consistency should be thick enough to hold the ingredients together.

Dressing

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon celery salt
1 cup vinegar
2 eggs, well beaten

Beat eggs in a small bowl. Combine other ingredients and cook in a double boiler until slightly thickened. Pour over well beaten eggs. Beat to blend.

Return to stove and continue cooking until dressing is thick, about 4-5 minutes.

The salad will serve six.

Tightens Cane Seats

Gracious Arts Mean More in Later Years

By RUTH MILLETT

The older a woman gets, the more important things become. For instance—

Looking as well-groomed and neat as possible. A young woman can sometimes get by with being careless about the way she looks, but as a woman's youth and beauty fade she has to depend upon good grooming to keep herself attractive.

Being tactful and gracious. The young are often forgiven for tactless remarks, but the woman who has lived long enough to know better isn't so quickly forgiven for remarks that hurt.

Nurturing her friendships. During the busy years of her life a woman can get by without close friends, but as the demands on a woman's time and energy lessen she needs friends more and more.

Keeping up with what is going on in the world. There is no age limit in the world of ideas. The older woman who wants to be good company for those who are younger than she is tries to keep up wth things of general interest.

Being cheerful. The older a woman gets, the more she has to complain about, it seems. She must constantly fight the temptation to make conversation of her troubles.

Using her time and strength wisely. An older person can compensate for slowing down physically by the wise use of time and energy. The older person who seems to have as much pep as a much younger person is one who has learned how to conserve strength and use time to the best advantage.

Looking for opportunities to be helpful. An older woman never feels so young as when she is able to do something for someone else.

Being genuinely kind. Kindness brings a softness and sweetness to an older face that no woman can get at a beauty salon or out of jars and bottles.

Buckles on Shoes Tell Girl's Status

In ancient times, a sentimental custom of young Hebrew women was to wear a heel plate on which the face of their loved one had been carved, leaving an imprint with every step.

Today's sentimental custom among very young American women involves the buckle on the Ivy League flat. If it's left open, the wearer is available to go steady; closed, she unavailable.

Insure Comfort

The new stretch nylon yarns make it possible to have a well-fitting sock without the standard shaped heel. Foot comfort is assured through knitting with vertical wales in front.

When washed as usual in warm soap or detergent suds and rinses, these socks revert to their original tubular form, and are ready to shape to the wearer's foot

Someday She May Rule White House

Pat Nixon Born in Miner's Tent

(This is the second of four articles in which a famed Washington reporter describes the life and romance of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If Richard M. Nixon proves to be the "people's choice" in 1960, his pretty wife will have made it from tent-to-White House in one generation.

At least, Patricia Ryan Nixon "thinks" she began life in a tent. The daughter of a migrant gold miner, she was born in 1913 in the "tent city" of Ely, Nevada, which boasted little else than those primitive lodgings.

As an infant she moved with her parents to a truck farm in California, and her earliest memories are of tending cows and riding to market in her father's buggy.

Life is more glamorous, but no less crammed with obligations for her today. There is still no lolling in bed past 7 a.m. for the fragile-looking woman whose stamina and courage have been rigorously tested on four continents.

Should Pat Nixon become First Lady, she will be the only "working girl" ever to preside as chatelaine of the executive mansion. And work she has!

TAUGHT SCHOOL

Orphaned in her teens, she has clerked in department stores, typed, kept books, pounded pavements, served as X-ray technician, and taught school.

In the depression-ridden early '30s, she battled New York subway crowds at rush hour on her way to and from work, and skimped on breakfasts to afford an occasional size 10 dress.

Today, still wearing a size 10, she has closets full of glamorous ball gowns and luncheon frocks which—as an unpaid servant of the government—she must wear at official functions for the greater gloriment of Uncle Sam.

DOES IT HERSELF

The Second Lady might be called the original do-it-yourself girl. Until little more than a year ago, she was performing all of her own household chores, cooking for a family of four, making her own hats, draperies and slip covers, and answering all of her voluminous mail.

Nowadays, because of her pressing official duties as a goodwill emissary, a domestic couple has shouldered much of the housework, and the Vice President's office staff assists with the mail.

But Pat was certainly trained to do everything for herself. She was 12 when her mother died. Five years later she lost her father, William Ryan, who had begun life in Connecticut and gradually migrated westward to Artesia, Calif.

Pat, supporting herself for several years after high school graduation, finally saved enough money to enroll at the University of Southern California.

By means of a research fellowship, paper grading and weekend clerking in stores, she graduated in 1937 as a merchandising major. Then fate took a hand.

Although visions of a career in fashions danced in her pretty head, necessity dictated that she accept a vacant job as commercial teacher in Whittier High School.

Plunging with customary vigor into the life of the new community, she tried out for an amateur "Little Theater" part in a mystery play, "The Dark Tower," and captured the leading role.

At the first rehearsal, she met a dark-jowled young man who had just returned from Duke University Law School to hang out his shingle in his home town.

Dick Nixon was assigned the hero's role, and in the play it took him only 90 minutes to woo and win the heroine from the loving clutches of an "older man."

Real life was something else again, and although the youthful attorney began squiring the new teacher around town, it was nearly three years before they could pool their savings for a wedding ring and a honeymoon.

SPEAK VOWS

They finally spoke their vows in 1940 at a Quaker service, for although Pat had been reared a Methodist, she adopted her husband's religion as uncomplainingly as she had backed his political ambitions.

After their marriage she continued to teach for another year, and then moved with Dick to Washington, where he joined the Office of Emergency Management as a government lawyer.

Came the war, and the future vice president enlisted in the Navy with the rank of lieutenant junior grade. While stationed at Ottumwa, Iowa, Pat worked as a bank teller there. Several moves later, when Dick was shipped to the South Pacific, she took a government job in San Francisco to wait out his return.

At the end of the war, with Dick by then in a lieutenant commander's uniform, they were reunited in Baltimore when the appeal came for the little-known young lawyer to return home and run for Congress.

An exciting new phase was about to begin!

Lovely Back Is a Beauty Asset

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

For the next few days I want to give you a little back talk. A lovely back is one of woman's most valued assets. This is especially true today when so many women wear revealing play clothes, swim suits and evening gowns.

Of course first we need a straight spine on which to hang our hopes for beauty. Round shoulders not only crowd internal organs but ruin a graceful carriage. This habit often is formed during childhood because of slumping over desks at school. These are sometimes the wrong height for the child.

Poor posture may appear at teen age when growth is so rapid that fatigue sometimes occurs. Also, this is the time of developiny curves and many young girls are self-conscious about them.

Sometimes round shoulders are the result of illness or a poor state of health with their resulting weariness. No matter what the cause any woman who has pride in her appearance and in her health should try to improve this condition.

Special exercise and a determination which causes you to remind yourself to straighten up many times each day, are the remedies.

Also, we know that fat often accumulates over the shoulders across the back. This is most unsightly since it creates a roll around the brassiere. Usually this state of affairs goes along with general overweight but this is not always true. Sometimes a woman has the correct number of pounds but also battles this figure fault.

Exercise is your answer if this latter is the case. If you are overweight, count calories as well as exercise.

Try this one. Lie on the floor on your back with your hips a foot or more away from the wall, depending on your height. Straighten your legs and place your heels on the wall in front of you. Cross your arms and extend the fingers of each hand in order to catch yourself with your hands. Lift the head from the floor and roll from side to side, feet still on the wall.

Round your shoulders slightly. Catch yourself with your right hand as you roll to the left so that you will not go all the way over. Catch yourself with your left hand when you roll to the right.

If you would like to have my exercises to correct round shoulders, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Lists Reasons, Remedies for Blemishes on Back."

You may be the correct weight and still suffer from fat over the shoulders across the back. Try this: with your feet on the wall roll from side to side catching yourself with your hands.

'58 Swimsuits Take Plunge in Back, Front

Sleek swimsuits—detailed at the V-plunge bodice with locket closures, peek-a-boo cutouts, demi-size buttons and grosgrain bows—are among the top styles in both knit and elastic swimsuits, according to fashion experts.

Low plunge backs and dipped fronts continue to be significant. Surface interest in elasticized styles is underscored with scroll work and embroidered motifs; in knits with leaf prints and pebbled textures.

Playdresses, introduced for resort, continue significantly into summer. Newest versions are quite short, almost playsuit length, and very feminine in ruffled or plain white cotton eyelet. They have separate matching underpants.

College 'Career Day' Is Briefing for Students

HARTFORD, Conn. (INS)—When Trinity College graduates leave the ivy halls and venture into the world of business this June — they may be more profitably and happily situated thanks to "Career Day."

"Career Day" is a preview of June set aside to give students an inside look at possible professions — and a few hints on how to sell themselves to prospective employers.

Representatives from twelve leading professions painted a general picture of their special field — listing both advantages and drawbacks, and answered spot questions from the students.

Trinity placement director John F. Butler said the most popular panel was the "preparation for interviews" where personnel directors of three leading companies gave pointers on "what to give, and what to get," using extemporaneous interviews performed before the assembly as departure points.

The most encouraging note this year, said director Butler, was a near 20 per cent turnout at the panel on the teaching profession.

a wedding dress,

Those were the sole possessions of one Molly Murphy, a shy young slip of a girl, when she left Ireland to marry Daniel Murphy of Westhampton, Long Island. The wedding dress and the prayer book are long gone, but the rich lace tablecloth — lovingly created by Molly — survives in a modern interpretation by Waverly Bonded Fabrics for draperies, curtains and slipcovers. Strange, that seemingly minor events give rise to today's newest decorating ideas. Good reason for the decorator to keep his mind open to possibilities . . . an awareness that is reflected in our advice to you and in the offerings you will find in our Waverly Fabric Corner.

Clarkston School District OKs $2.5 Million Construction Bond

CLARKSTON — Voters in the Clarkston Community School District yesterday approved by nearly a 2½ to 1 margin a proposed $2,500,000 bond issue for construction of a new high school.

The vote of 745 "yes" to 313 "no" represented the largest turnout at a school district election in his seven years in the system, Supt. L. F. Greene said.

Construction of the new school is expected to begin early next fall. Preliminary planning already has been done by Louis C. Kingscott and Associates of Kalamazoo, the architectural firm retained to design the school, Dr. Greene said.

The new building will be located south of the present high school on a 70-acre site owned by the school district. The 30-room school will provide accommodations for approximately 1,500 pupils and a gymnasium with a seating capacity of 2,000.

Greene said the money from the bond issue, according to estimates, will cover the complete cost of constructing and furnishing the school. It also will pay for developing the land surrounding the building, including roads and sidewalks, as well as legal and architect's fees.

Approval of the bond issue climaxed a year of study by a citizen's committee made up of more than 100 Clarkston residents.

"It was rewarding to see the people back the committee and the board of education by such a large vote margin," Greene said.

Walled Lake Church Last for Presbytery

WALLED LAKE — Formally organized Sunday, the Crossroads Presbyterian Church in Walled Lake became the last to be established by the present Presbytery.

This week, the Presbyterian Church and the United Presbyterian Church are merging at a general assembly in Pittsburgh.

Elected to the Crossroads Church board as elders were Roy Thompson, Mrs. Dick Roach, George A. Shaw, Mrs. Edgar Ketchum, Mrs. John La Chance and Glenn Moss.

The board plans to meet within the next two weeks to elect a clerk for the session and to determine the classes of elders and the lengths of their terms of office.

Into Walled Lake JP's Bookkeeping

Denies Probe Requested

County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today said he has received no request to investigate the bookkeeping practices of Justice of the Peace Herman A. Roth of Walled Lake.

Reportedly, Michigan Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski yesterday asked Ziem to "take appropriate action to correct the situation," referring to the practices of the 45-year-old justice and attorney.

"I haven't got a thing from Lansing," said Ziem. "I certainly will get into it if requested, but as yet I don't know a thing about it."

The auditor general said Roth, justice of the peace since April of 1956, kept large amounts of fines and costs at his home instead of depositing them in the bank within 30 days as required by law.

Roth also, according to Szymanski, failed to report and deposit all collections with the city and county monthly and failed to issue prenumbered receipts for all collections.

Roth has denied any irregularities in his bookkeeping.

Warrant to Be Asked in Child Cruelty Case

A bench warrant will be asked for a 25-year-old Keego Harbor man who failed to appear today in Circuit Court for his trial on a cruelty to children charge.

Judge Frank L. Doty ordered a $500 property bond, posted from Frank Szumowski Jr., of 2066 Willow Beach Rd., forfeited for failing to appear.

James E. Roberts, assistant prosecuting attorney, said he would petition the judge to issue the bench warrant.

Szumowski, a former amateur boxer, is charged with thrashing his 10-year-old stepdaughter, Diane Dube, with a razor strop in February. Police said the alleged beating left the girl's back "with one mass of black and blue marks."

Szumowski had a plea of innocent entered for him Feb. 28 as he stood mute to the cruelty to children charge.

Drives Without Permit, Troy Resident Jailed

A Troy man, Walter Lee Pinion, of 1241 Kirts St., yesterday began serving six months in the Oakland County Jail for driving a second time while his license was suspended.

Pinion pleaded guilty May 12. He was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Battle Looming on Jobless Pay

Bipartisan Group Plans to Push for Extension of Benefits

WASHINGTON (UP) — A bi-partisan Senate group planned a fight today to broaden legislation to extend unemployment benefits. But supporters of an emergency bill said they have the votes to pass it without change.

A final vote on the anti-recession measure was possible today, but there was some sentiment as debate began to wait until tomorrow for a vote.

The emergency bill, already passed by the House, follows closely Eisenhower administration recommendations in this field.

A drive to strengthen the bill was anounced by a group of Northern Democrats led by Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill). They were joined by some Republicans from industrial states.

Douglas and Kennedy prepared amendments that would both broaden the temporary features of the bill and write in higher permanent standards for jobless payments. Such payments now vary in duration and amount under state laws.

The group favoring a stronger bill contended the House-passed measure would provide no help for many jobless workers who have exhausted unemployment payments.

Expect to Hire 1,500 in Detroit by June 15

DETROIT (UP) — The new owners of the old Packard Motor Plant on Detroit's E. Grand Boulevard said today they expected more than 1,500 persons to be employed in the huge building by June 15.

Edward Land, one of the owners, said five new companies have purchased or leased space. He said they were in addition to eight other firms who previously moved into the plant.

Land said the new tenants were Arlen's, Inc., U.S. Equipment Co., Bryden Terminals, Inc., Chemical Process Co., and Michigan Metal Processing Co.

Clarkston Council Seeks Delay of Suit

The Clarkston Village Council last night decided to request an adjournment in its lawsuit to condemn the Caribou Inn site for a parking lot.

The delay is because Inn-owner Ernest Felice has been offered $40,000 for the site, if he can get adjacent property, a council statement said.

It was further resolved that the suit be dropped if the sale is consumated. In the statement, the council accused Felice of delaying tactics in the legal action and said that Felice's family paid $30,000 for the land.

The $40,000 offer is for the land only, and stipulates that the deal must be closed by June 4, and that the buildings must be removed. the offer was made by the Billing Co., of Detroit.

Cooking Without Pans Not a New Idea

About 50 years ago an English chef named Nicholas Soyer tried to influence cooks to throw away their pots and pans.

As persuasion his small book, "Soyer's Paper-Bag Cookery," detailed how paper bags could be used instead of utensils.

"I am neither the discoverer of a new invention nor of a patent method for this order of cookery," the chef wrote in his introduction.

"The principle was known to our forefathers, and I daresay that if I had time to make researches I would find evidence that the peoples of the Far East cooked their fame and fruit in leaves and parchment."

Soyer's system "made a great furor" in England. Then he invaded the United States, giving "hundreds of popular demonstrations . . . which he personally conducted." In 1911 his cook book was published in this country.

At the same time a New York bag and paper company manufactured his cooking bags and they were on sale at grocers. Selling agents for the bags in Chicago, Cincinnati, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore bore witness to their promotion.

Soyer was a delightful eager beaver. "I could not rest in my bed, and often I would get up at two o'clock in the morning in order that I might put my paper bag to some fresh test," he wrote. "I cooked a great variety of articles, noting most carefully how long each took, and in what temperatures the best results were obtained."

In spite of the dedicated chef, our pots and pans stayed with us. Paper bags came and went. His cook book is long out of print. But how delighted he would have been could he have used his bag's modern counterpart—aluminum foil.

Nicholas Soyer was enamored of cooking fish in his bags. Nowadays some of us are enraptured with cooking fish in foil. To borrow the chef's words to describe the results of the foil wrapping, "The delicate flavors of fish cannot help but be retained because this method allows nothing to escape in taste, appearance and digestibility."

Here is a fish-in-foil dish we believe Soyer himself would have relished. The mushrooms, scallions, butter and seasonings give the fish surpassing savor.

Use heavy duty quilted foil that is 14 inches wide and designed for broiling, baking and roasting. If the foil is left loose enough on top, it will puff up during the cooking as does the parchment paper used in the "papillottes" often met with in France and New Orleans. As Soyer enthused, such a method means "no pot and pan scrubbing, no waste in the cooking, no cooking smell, no grease!"

Fish In Foil

6 long fish fillets (about 2 pounds)
12 scallions (green onions)
¼ pound (12) medium-sized mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter
Salt
White pepper

Dry fillets; place each on a sheet of aluminum foil (14 by 16 to 18 inches) so their length is parallel with longest sides of foil. Trim root ends from scallions; wash and dry; cut into 2-inch lengths, including most of green part; arrange 2 cut scallions over each fillet.

Wipe mushrooms with damp cloth; do not peel; slice fairly thin through cap and stem; arrange 2 sliced mushrooms over each fillet. Dot each fillet with 1½ tablespoons butter; sprinkle with salt and papper.

Bring opposite long ends of foil together making a drugstore fold; doublefold remaining ends to make tight package; leave foil roomy over fish by not pressing down. Place packages on cookie sheet in hot (400 degrees) oven until foil puffs up — 15 to 20 minutes.

Makes 6 servings. (To serve, remove from oven and cut top of foil open at dining table so eaters can enjoy wonderful aroma that comes from packages.)

Citrus Fruits Came Originally From India

BOSTON—Apples, apricots, and cabbage came to us from northern Asia; peaches, pears, and persimmons from China; citrus fruits, plants from India; dates and figs from Arabia. Okra came originally from Abyssinia, watermelons from South America, and grapes, radishes, olives, lettuce, asparagus, garlic, and beets from countries on the Mediterranean's shores.

Army Assures Missile Safety

New Jersey Citizens Pray for Those Killed at Nike Base

MIDDLETOWN, N.J. (AP) — A citizens meeting called in the wake of the explosion of eight Nike missiles at a nearby installation heard both a prayer and a promise last night.

The prayer was for the 10 men who lost their lives in Thursday's disaster.

The promise came from the Army, which vowed to do all in its power to prevent a recurrence of the tragedy

Army spokesmen told the 200 residents at the meeting that any future changes in the Nikes will be made with only one of the missiles above ground at a time.

Brig. Gen. Charles D. Duff, commander of the 52nd Brigade, said the battery site at his base was not on an alert status when one of the missiles exploded and set off the others.

Duff, questioned closely on why so many of the missiles were above ground, said the weapons were in the process of being checked out before a scheduled alert.

The general said the new regulations permitting only one Nike above ground at a time would minimize the dangers of such a chain of explosions in the future. He said the regulations are going into effect at Nike bases all over the country.

Duff added there would be an effort in the future to station career soldiers instead of draftees at Nike bases.

Hercules missiles expected here in early 1959 will not be equipped with nuclear warheads next year, Duff said.

Duff said it may be months before experts can determine exactly what set off the explosion.

Bob Considine Says:

Stricter Rule Over Airways Will Come

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The biggest ocean of them all is the air ocean that covers the earth's lands and waters. But, it too, must soon accept stricter rules of passage. Too many planes are colliding. Too many more are almost. The cost in life on the past two years has been shocking. Revenue loss in shaken confidence is hardly measureable.

C. R. Smith, the rugged Texan who built American Airlines into the country's biggest domestic carrier, told me while flying to the capital:

"Controlling the air space does not involve many factors, really. We need a single agency to direct traffic, plus a speed-up in the production of radar and other equipment and a new drive to employ enough competent people to operate this gear.

The time has gone when you could get in an airplane and wander around in the sky. The military pilot, the private plane owner and in some respects the commercial pilot has just got to face that fact. They'll all demand the latitude they grew up with. That's now out of the question. Everybody's got to submit to an over-all regulatory body. A motorist who made up his own traffic rules wouldn't last long behind a wheel, would he?"

Smith feels that a bill introduced by Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla), will provide the answer. It would set up a Federal Aviation Agency based largely on the recommendations of Edward P. Curtis, formerly the President's aviation advisor and now vice president of Eastman Kodak. Briefly, it would make the users of the air space toe a much straighter line.

Commercial lines have been complaining for years, fruitlessly, that military and certain other agencies of the government, notably the Atomic Energy Commission, have arbitrarily taken sovereignty over a considerable portion of the air space although the U. S. Civil Aeronautics Administration may designate this or that road as the proper one for airliners to fly. Then the military, of some such, comes along and makes this ruling unworkable by announcing certain "air space reservations." The CAA has no power to countermand the military order. The military takes no orders from the CAA, nor does the AEC. Hence, confusion. And who wants confusion in the air?

The proposed FAA would absorb CAA and the Airways Modernization Board, prescribe all air safety regulations, investigate air accidents both commercial and military (military crackups, usually unheralded, cost American taxpayers about one billion dollars a year), hand down traffic rules, separate the winged things in our air, and punish violators.

The new agency would be staffed with civilian and military personnel. The administrator would have the authority to disapprove the location of military, civil and joint civil-military airports as well as runway lay-outs, to avoid air space and traffic control problems resulting from inappropriately located on uncoordinated airports and facilities.

It must be done before the big jets arrive. You'll be flying in the huge swift jobs by the end of this year and for a long time to come in the same sort of ship.

"We plan a 10-year charge-off on our Boeing 707 jets," Smith remarked while here. "They'll fly at nine-tenths of the speed of sound. That should be fast enough for the people for at least a decade."

The industry could build a 2,500 or 3,000 mile an hour jet transport but it would cost a billion dollars to produce the first one, and nobody's got that kind of money. As for the speed of the jets we have on order, I predict that the thing that will make them most attractive to the air traveler is not their speed—twice that of the planes we now operate—but their lack of vibration.

The vibration caused bq 72 cylinders working at cross-purposes is what tires the long-range air traveler today. Soon he'll be making round-trips to the coast in one day with less fatigue than today's single crossing, and it will be quieter than a Park Avenue apartment."

Guess Who? Baffles Desk Sergeant in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Something inside the box on the police information desk was saying —"Who."

Patrolman Marvin W. Terrell opened it cautiously. Inside was a baby owl.

Inspector Harvey Alston dropped by a few minutes later to explain. His 10-year-old son found the baby bird, which apparently had fallen from a nest. Naturally, the boy thought first of the police and brought it to headquarters.

Zoo officials have promised to pick up the owl.

Scotland's lowlands represent only about 10 per cent of the country's area but contain about 75 per cent of the population and most of its industry.

She's Happy With Bearded Arctic Explorer

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lady Suzanne Wilkins married the bearded Arctic explorer Sir Hubert Wilkins in 1930 ("at least, I think it was around 1930, as I recall"), and they have a quite fabulous relationship, she says.

All she knows about him, as a rule, is what she reads in the papers. Sir Hubert could say the same of Suzanne. It has been a remarkably successful marriage.

NO CROSS WORDS

"He has never said a cross word to me since we took the vows," she says. "Isn't that wonderful?" Yes, I think it is, too.

"Occasionally he pops in on a weekend, whenever he can, and we have so much to talk about." She glowed, as they say in soap opera circles. "It is very, very romantic and a good way to keep a marriage young."

Lady Suzanne was perched on a step-ladder in a chi-chi Manhattan art gallery where a collection of her oil portraits is being displayed at the moment. She said she was confident Sir Hubert would drop in from the Antarctic to see her and the latest collection, although "at the moment I just don't know where he is.

"I talked to him a couple of weeks ago on short wave, and he mentioned that they were discussing Africa next. He's a consultant to the United States Army now, you know, and there's something in the African desert he's looking into next. He's going every second, that sweet man."

ACTRESS AT 17

Lady Wilkins is as sweet and, in her way, as fast-moving as her famous husband. Born in the bush country of Australia, she was a Broadway actress by the time she was 17. "It was a mistake, actually. I was sent to Italy to study opera, but I was sidetracked to America, and somebody offered me a job on the stage, and I liked America, so I gave up singing."

One day, during the run of her Broadway play, a friend invited her to a party to meet Sir Hubert.

"They said he is a very illustrious man. And I said, but what has he done to make him so illustrious? So they said oh, for heaven's sake, Suzanne, read the papers. I never got around to that but I went to the party and as far as I was concerned, it was love at first sight.

"Him? Oh, I think it was the same for Hubert. At any rate, he asked me to marry him right off which must indicate good feeling, wouldn't you say?"

The beautiful blonde and the bushy-chinned hero took a wedding trip, of course. They honeymooned on the maiden transatlantic venture of the zeppelin "Hindenburg," and got better acquainted climbing Mt. Pilatus in Switzerland.

"I used to travel with him a bit, you see, but he wouldn't take me now, and thank goodness for that. I don't like hot deserts, and I don't like to sleep under icicles either, for that matter."

So while her husband explores the uncharted, Suzanne exploits her several talents. She is recording a new album of love songs, and making a name for herself in the art field with a new technique in portraiture which might be titled "Faces-by-Memory." She paints famous people she has met by recalling how they looked to her.

Obviously, she is a person who likes most everyone she meets. Because her lovely, gay-colored impressions of friends are images of beauty.

They might be summed up in the comment of a wealthy lady who studied a Wilkins image of a blue-blood: "If she can make that old hag look like this, Lady Wilkins is a genius."

Dulles to See Daughter Get Theology Degree

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles tonight sees his daughter, Mrs. Lillias Dulles Hinshaw, receive her bachelor of divinity degree.

She is the second of Dulles' three children to study theology.

Two years ago, Dulles, the son of a Presbyterian minister, attended the ordination of his son Avery as a member of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) of the Roman Catholic Church.

Like her father, who is a ruling elder of the Brick Presbyterian Church here, Mrs. Hinshaw is a Presbyterian. She is 43 and the wife of Robert Hinshaw, a publicity man and a Quaker. They have four children.

Union Theological Seminary, which is graduating Mrs. Hinshaw, is nondenominational.

Mrs. Hinshaw has passed her ordination examinations.

"And if I find the job I am looking for, I can be ordained in the fall," she said at her home in Manhattan.

A part-time job as assistant minister is her immediate objective.

"The problem," she explained, "is that I like to be at home when the children come home from school, and evenings too."

The oldest, Janet, 15, said: "We are all very proud of mother. Even when she was studying hard, she never stopped being a mother. Now we are all campaigning hard to help her get the kind of job she wants."

Beside Janet, the family consists of David, 13; Foster, 10; and Lila, 7.

Cooking 'On Board' Takes Ingenuity

Cooking on board, you will be grateful for the buffet-size cans, to save storage space, as well as waste. Here is a tasty recipe for In-A-Minute Mushroom Stew, made with ingredients you will more than likely have on hand.

The most important point to remember when galley cooking is that you're not preparing food merely to fill a vacuum. You can make the most ordinary course exciting with just a few little extra touches of creativity.

For instance, this stew would be merely a conglomeration of canned goods heated up if you hadn't added the mushrooms, the herbs and the red wine. With these extra little touches you come pretty close to an honest-to-goodness home made stew.

In-A-Minute Mushroom Stew

2 lbs. ground beef
1 large onion, chopped
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
¼ teaspoon oregano or thyme
¼ cup good red wine (or use milk, broth, vegetable juice, or other liquid)
Seasoned flour
2 slices bacon, diced
2 cans (4-oz.) sliced mushrooms
1 can (1 lb.) tiny whole carrots
1 can (buffet size) tiny whole onions
Other vegetables, if desired
Liquid

Combine beef, onion, seasonings and wine. Mix and shape into small balls or little cakes. Roll in seasoned flour. Place meat balls on a piece of heavy foil, or other wrapping; sprinkle with chopped bacon and wrap and store until ready to use.

When stew is on the menu, turn meat balls and bacon bits into a heated skillet. As bacon begins to cook, stir and turn meat balls to brown on all sides. Add drained vegetables and an additional ½ cup wine, or whatever liquid was used in place of wine. Cook over moderate heat for a few minutes until vegetables are heated through.

Serve in bowls with a generous sprinkle of chopped parsley. Chunks of garlic bread, or unsliced frankfurter rolls, may be employed as a "pusher." Makes 4, 5 or 6 generous servings, depending on appetite.

Serve tomato soup with it and, to save effort, use hot beverage paper cups.

The flag of Liberia, patterned after Old Glory, has one large star instead of 48 small ones.

Civitan Club Gives $200 to Send Ten to Camp

The Pontiac Civitan Club has presented a check for $200 to William J. Matus, director of Camp Oakland, it was announced today.

Club president Robert C. Tricker, presented the check at a recent meeting held at the camp. The money will enable 10 underprivileged children from Oakland County to enjoy a week's camping this summer.

Social Credit Head Quits Canada Politics

OTTAWA (AP)—The leader of Canada's Social Credit party, whose small parliamentary delegation was wiped out in last March's election, is quitting politics.

Solon Law, 58, said last night he will hand in his resignation this week as the party's national leader and go home to Raymond, Alta. He will resume a high-school teaching career he dropped 23 years ago when the Social Credit movement surged to power in Alberta.

The depression-born party advocates a national economy based on individual enterprise and circulation of more money. It held 19 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons before the March 31 Conservative election sweep.

Low suffered a heart attack in November 1955 but campaigned vigorously this year. He said last night his party is not destroyed but requires the leadership of "a younger man, unimpaired in health."

Pineapple a Symbol of Hospitality

Have you ever noticed a handsome pineapple carved out of wood as a decoration on a piece of antique furniture or for an old house?

Originally the fruit may have been copied in this way because some early and gifted wood-carver saw the elegant possibilities in the pineapple's interesting shape.

Or the fruit may have been duplicated because it denoted hospitality. For legend has it that during their exploration of America, the Spaniards noticed that any Peruvian house whose gate post was topped with a pineapple gave them warm welcome.

Designers of our Colonial period who first put the carved pineapple over a doorway or a gate entrance may have done so because they liked this legend and its charming symbol.

Cooks, too, have fallen heir to the association. Used in a centerpiece dominating other fruit, a fresh pineapple adds allure. To us it usually signifies that a hostess is particularly happy to have her guests and enjoyed making the table especially attractive.

Fresh pineapple desserts, served in the hollowed-out shells of the fruit, look so festive and are wonderfully refreshing. To hollow the shells, cut the pineapple in half, right through the green plume or crown. With a sharp knife cut out the center core in a long, narrow and deep strip. (Any edible pulp may now be cut away from the fibrous center.)

With a curved serrated grapefruit knife, cut out the rest of the pineapple in two large half-circle sections. These should be cut into strips or sliced, cubed large or diced small, or shredded with the sharp tines of a fork — depending on how the pineapple shells are to be filled. With a sharpedged spoon, any good pineapple pulp left in the shells may finally be removed.

Take your choice of ways to fill the shells. Most usual is to mix the cubed pineapple with strawberries, raspberries, pitted cherries, melon balls, blueberries or orange — or a combination of some of these fruits. The melange may then be sugared to taste, if desired, and spooned back into the shells.

A special dessert we favor: Fill the shells with vanilla ice cream and garnish with mint leaves and cherries. Serve with a sauce made from the finely diced fresh pineapple, sugared to taste, and a little finely diced preserved-in-ginger syrup.

One last tip to a hostess: Snip off any frayed edges of the pineapple plume with a kitchen scissors, making clean slanting edges.

Smokes Usual Cigar on 107th Birthday

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Hiram Franklin Deaner sat back contentedly after dinner last night and lit the 32,486th cigar of his life, the first in a birthday package of 107—one for each of Deaner's years.

Deaner, a retired piano tuner, figures he's been smoking a cigar a day since he was 16.

"I'm a little hard of hearing," he said, "and I wear glasses. But there's nothing wrong with my memory."

His recollections include one of watching President Abraham Lincoln drive into Gettysburg, Pa., to deliver that immortal address. But the then 10-year-old Deaner didn't stay around for the speech.

He ran off to play with some friends.

Maples Win Fifth Press Title

Total of 381 Is 29 Strokes Ahead of Field

Rams Runnersup, With 410; Whitmer, Badger A, B Medalists

By H. GUY MOATS

Birmingham High's golfers chalked up their fifth Pontiac Press Invitational tourney championship yesterday under perfect conditions at Pontiac's Municipal course. Maples have won the honors for the 2nd straight year, after missing in 1956 when Waterford won. The, suburban team took it three times in a row prior to 1956. This was the 7th annual event.

While most of the field, comprising the area's finest prep linksmen, found the course played hard, and long, and greens were fast, Coach Carl Lemle's five-man crew sailed along to a 36-over-par (for 5 rounds) 381 total. Par for the distance 345. A surprising St. Frederick's team (Class C) was runnerup with 410.

Maples were paced by last year's medalist Pete Green with 71, Warren Sumners 76, Gary Mouw 72, Dick Taylor 78, and John Roberson 84.

Green just missed tying Pontiac Central's Dick Whitmer for the tourney and Class A medals. Whitmer carded a brilliant 33 first nine to go with a 2nd round 37 for a one-over par total. Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills fired a fine 73 to take Class B Medal.

Here are the medalists' cards:

PAR OUT	434	433	445—34
WHITMER	433	423	446—33
PAR IN	334	354	544—35—69
WHITMER	334	365	544—37—70
PAR OUT	434	433	445—34
BADGER	644	434	445—38
PAR IN	334	364	544—35—69
BADGER	333	365	843 35—73

The big Press championship trophy goes back to the halls of Birmingham, along with a permanent trophy in the form of a plaque. Each member of the title team also received a gold medal. Medals went to the medalists, all presented by The Press.

Maples' steady under-80 average play was the deciding factor in their victory. Jene Wright's Rams were steady, too, led by Joe Keller's 78, for 410, a stroke under Bloomfield Hills, and six under PCH's total.

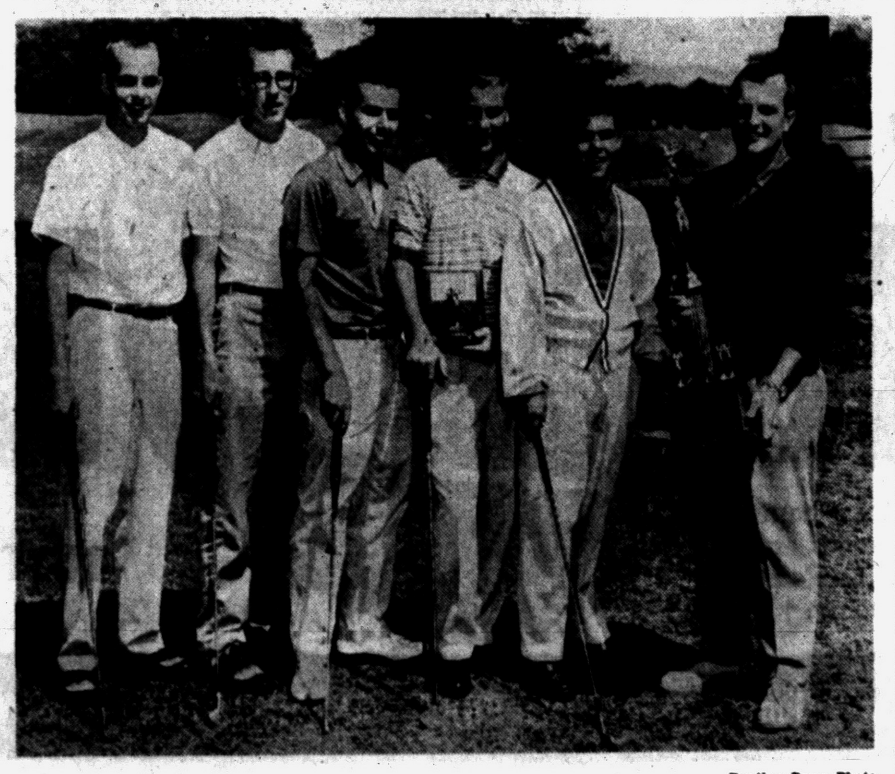

Fourteen schools were represented.

FIVE TIME WINNERS — For the fifth time in the seven years the Pontiac Press Prep Invitational golf tourney has been held, a Birmingham team yesterday walked off with team honors. Maples won with a 381 total. Members of the team, with coach Carl Lemle holding the big rotating award, are, from left—Dick Taylor, John Roberson, Warren Sumner, Pete Green and Gary Mouw. Mouw is a tenth grader, who shot a sizzling 72.

MEDALISTS — Pontiac Central's Dick Whitmer, right, carded a fine one-over par 70 for yesterday's Press Invitational golf tourney medal. With him is Bloomfield Hills Bud Badger, three strokes behind at 73, as Class B medalist. Whitmer fired a one-under 33 for the first round, came back with 37 on the "home" nine. Badger's card read 38-35. Both received medals. Whitmer was also Class A medalist and took a medal for that division.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Oakland County schools and prep athletes did themselves proud in Michigan state meets.

Naturally, a well earned pat on the back goes to coach Den Wilson and the Pontiac Central track team for annexing an unprecedented fourth straight state championship.

Another tip of the hat goes to Birmingham for taking honors as the state prep golf champion. Cranbrook could add the tennis crown to complete the spring sports picture.

Individuals also merit recognition. Bill Alcorn of Birmingham, who set a new pole vault mark, and Warren Cawley of Farmington, with a low hurdle record, give Oakland County a total of five places in the record book for the 13 events listed in class A competition.

MAJOR LEAGUERS ACTING LIKE KIDS

Beanball accusations are becoming too frequent in the Major Leagues. The latest episodes taking place between the Giants and the Pirates the past weekend, and the Braves and the Redlegs just a week ago proves the need for installing extreme penalties for any deliberate tactics.

Major Leaguers are acting like kids. In fact Little Leaguers have more common sense. What kind of humans would deliberately throw at another person's head? They sure don't belong in American pastime.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Michigan State is making a habit of being knocked out of Big Ten titles. Purdue did it in football. Indiana did it in basketball and now Minnesota does it in baseball.

Dick Groat and Bill Mazeroski of the Pirates get our vote as the best upcoming double play combination in the Major Laegues.

A regional and even a state high school golf tournament are overdue for Oakland County. Can anyone dispute that with 36 courses within an 18-mile radius of Pontiac, that this area is the golf capital of Michigan and possibly the country?

Williams and Red Sox Invade Detroit Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — If Ted Williams, at age 39, is going to break out of his current batting slump Briggs Stadium well may be the place he'll start.

The Boston slugger who has won five American League batting championships is hitting only .248 — lower than any season-ending percentage posted since he joined Boston in 1939.

But Williams seems to have an attraction for the Detroit Tiger Stadium and in the past his bat has raised havoc with the Tigers.

Williams and his teammates will face Paul Foytack (3-4) tonight while Boston, originally scheduling Tom Brewer (1-4) to hurl, changed signals last night and substituted Dave Sisler (4-1).

Detroit, just three percentage points ahead of last-place Washington after a three-game winning streak, is just three games behind second-place Boston in the American League standings. Boston is nine games behind the front-running New York Yankees.

A new Tiger outfielder Bob Hazle, arrived in Detroit yesterday with a question:

"How's a guy going to break into that Detroit outfield with Charley Maxwell, Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline playing in it?" When told that Tiger manager Jack Tighe might consider putting Maxwell at first base if Hazle begins hitting, the new outfielder commented, "that's a different story."

Hazle has hit only 10 singles at 56 at bats this year for a .179 average. In 41 games last year he hit .403 and helped Milwaukee in its pennant drive.

"I had a few dizzy spells after I was beaned (by St. Louis' Larry Jackson last May 7)," said Hazle. "I went to manager Fred Haney and told him I was ready to play again when actually I wasn't ready. I haven't been hitting well but if I play a little more I'll get my timing back.

"Naturally I'm a little disappointed being traded from a world championship club, but I'm in good physical shape and I'll be in there hustling for Detroit."

After winding up with Boston in a day game Wednesday, Detroit will have an off day Thursday. The Tigers will meet Chicago in a Memorial Day doubleheader, a night game Saturday and a single game Sunday, winding up a home stand.

The Tigers were idle yesterday.

JOINS TIGERS — Bob Hazle, still sporting a Milwaukee cap, joined the Tigers yesterday at Briggs Stadium after being acquired on waivers from the World Champs. The left-hand hitting outfielder will be in his new uniform tonight against Boston.

Starts Season Right, Hurls City No-Hitter

There's nothing like the starting a season right. At least that's the way the Talbott Lumber Company of the Class B city baseball league feel.

All the Lumber tossers did in the loop opener last night was blast Varden's 15-0 behind a no-hitter by Marv Holler.

Holler, who fanned 12 in the six-inning contest, also got three of his team's 13 hits as did Mike Turner.

Varden's	000	000 — 0
Talbott	282	06x — 15

Eastern Downs Titans, MSU-Irish Game Off

Home runs by Don Mathews, Chuck Shonta and Frank Hanley led Eastern Michigan to a 9-6 win over the University of Detroit yesterday.

The Michigan State-Notre Dame baseball game scheduled tomorrow at South Bend has been called off because the Irish are in the NCAA playoffs.

Misses Setting Record

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bobby Adams of the Chicago Cubs fell one shy of the Major League record for consecutive pinch hits. A strikeout ended his string at six in last night's 4-3 defeat by the Milwaukee Braves. The record of seven was set by Peanuts Lowrey, now a manager in the Braves' farm system, with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1952.

Plays Golf on One Leg

Dondero Boy Typifies Courage

If courage, determination and desire meant pars in the game of golf, a Royal Oak youth would score 18 of them on every round.

The boy's name is Jim Milewski, an 18-year-old Dondero High School student whose right leg was amputated nearly five years ago after a losing battle against cancer.

Milewski, who will be graduated from Dondero this june, is a member of the school golf team and he played for the Oaks here yesterday in the annual Pontiac Press Prep Invitational tournament at City Municipal course.

Dondero didn't win the schoolboy tourney, but it wasn't due to any lack of effort by Milewski. After an opening 53 on the north side, Jim switched to the south nine and shot a sparkling 39, the third such nine-hole score in his brief golfing career.

Jim has previously shot 39's at Rackham and Sylvan Glen. His best 18-hole total thus far is 82, also at Rackham.

He has played in the junior division of the National Amputees tournament for the past four years and has won it three times. He's entering the tourney again this summer on Aug. 14-15 at Baltusrol in Springfield, N. J.

Jim was always fond of golf, but for some reason or other he never took a serious interest in the game until after the amputation of his leg in November of 1953 when he was 13 years old.

Prior to the operation his golfing activity was limited. Following a five-month recuperation from surgery, Jim took up the game with enthusiasm in the summer of 1954 and he has been going ever since.

Milewski has never used an artificial leg and he wants no part of his crutches when he's shooting golf. He lays them on the ground, stands erectly, addresses the ball and fires.

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Milewski, 632 South Wilson, Royal Oak. He has two brothers and a sister.

Pontiac Press Photo

REAL COURAGE — Cancer forced the amputation of Jim Milewski's right leg above the knee nearly five years ago, but that didn't stop the courageous youth from playing the game he loves so well. Milewski, an 18-year-old senior at Royal Oak Dondero High, belongs to the school golf team and played for the Oaks here yesterday in the annual Pontiac Press Prep Invitational tournament over City Municipal's 18-hole course. Jim carded nine-hole rounds of 53 and 39.

At Fleck's Rochester Club

Golf Clinic Wednesday

Jack Fleck, former National Open champion and at least six other top touring golf professionals, will stage a special clinic for members and guests of the Rochester Golf and Country Club on Wednesday, May 28 at 6:30 p.m.

The event comes on the eve of the Western Open Tournament, which starts at nearby Red Run Golf Club on Thursday.

Fleck, winner over Ben Hogan in the 1955 National Open, is the host pro at the refurbished Rochester links and is one of the chief owners of the rolling 18 hole course.

Appearing with him will be Doug Ford, Billy Maxwell, Gene Littler and Ted Kroll, plus several others hot off the circuit.

The Rochester course, reopened last season by Fleck and his associates, has been re-organized on a private club basis this year. The old stone clubhouse has been remodeled and other major improvements undertaken.

Perini Mum on New Team Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—Lou Perini, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, has refused to confirm or deny that he was a participant in a recent secret meeting to discuss chances of bringing another major league team to New York.

Sports columnist Red Smith says in today's edition of the Herald Tribune that Perini, New York Parks Commissioner Robert Moses, chairman William Shea of the mayor's baseball committee and two others were present.

All except Perini, Smith said, were bound to silence. Perini, reached in Wellesley, Mass., said flatly "no comment" when told of Smith's column.

The Braves boss was said to have suggested that each current member sell three of its players to form a pool for the new clubs. Other players would come from the minors.

Gallant Man, Ruler Revive Old Rivalry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It'll be just like old times at Belmont Park Memorial Day along about post time of the $50,000 Carter Handicap, with a reunion scheduled for a pair of sprightly four-year olds.

Gallant Man and Bold Ruler are all set to renew a 1957 rivalry that never was settled, thanks to Mssrs. John Nerud and Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, their trainers.

No Back-Pedaling for Vince Martinez

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Clever Vince Martinez says he won't "ride the bicycle" when he meets hard-punching Virgil Akins for the world welterweight boxing championship June 6.

The 29-year-old Martinez told a news conference yesterday that "I won't be back pedaling." He has used that tactic in the past.

Garrett Hurls No-Hitter

Senior pitcher Bob Garrett made history at Pontiac Central yesterday afternoon when he pitched a no-hitter as the Chiefs blanked Waterford 3-0.

His mound gem was the 1st by a Pontiac pitcher in 11 years and the 1st since the word Central was added to the school name.

Garrett struck out eight and walked only one in seven innings. One other Skipper reached on an error but was erased on a double play.

It was the 7th triumph against nine setbacks for the Chiefs and sweet revenge for an earlier setback. PCH closes today against Royal Oak Dondero.

Romeo evened the score for its only loss of the season by dumping Utica 8-6 in the only other baseball game played.

Bud Dodge's two-run homer sparked a five-run uprising in the 6th which decided the outcome after Utica had led 6-3. Ron Schmidt also had a Romeo circuit clout. Bob Galan won his 8th straight giving the team a 12-1 record with Lapeer left Thursday.

In tennis, Southfield and Bloomfield Hills battled to a 3-3 tie. Bloomfield dominated the singles despite a loss by star Bob Kuchai while Southfield had the edge in doubles.

Mt. Clemens 'A' Tennis Winner

Mt. Clemens clinched the singles title as expected with 18 points while Birmingham finished runner-up with 10¾ as the Class A tennis regionals ended at Cranbrook yesterday.

Martin McDoniel won the singles title while the Maples' doubles duo of Tom Watson and Jeff Crawford took that crown.

18th Straight for Kenny Lane

Michigan Boxer Beats Dupas by KO; Aims for Brown's Crown

DALLAS (AP) — Kenny Lane, the Muskegon, Mich., walloper, knocked out Davey Dupas of New Orleans for his eighteenth straight ring victory last night then looked toward a shot at Joe Brown's world's lightweight title.

There'll be a title fight as Lane, the No. 1 contender, finally gets his chance. But where it will be is problematical.

A Dallas group has offered Brown $60,000 or 40 per cent of the gate to defend his championship in Dallas but Houston, where Brown took down almost $40,000 May 7 when he knocked out Ralph Dupas, gave notice it was going to contest Dallas for the honor.

Lane knocked Dupas down in the fifth round and the New Orleans battler was saved by the bell. In the sixth the lefthanded Lane rushed out, feinted with a right lead and ripped home a short left hook to knock out Dupas in just 40 seconds of the round.

Archie Beats Norkus, Asks New Title Shot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Light heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore, whose boxing life keeps rolling right on through his 40's, plans a promotion campaign to win another shot at the heavyweight crown.

"Retire, why should I retire?" he asked last night after handing veteran Charley Norkus a thorough beating in 10 rounds. "I gave the better part of my younger days trying to learn this boxing game."

Moore did not break the all-time record for knockouts he shares with the late Young Stribling at 126, but he has probably had few easier work evenings.

Miler Leads Tech Team

WEST DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — Michigan Tech's Vance McDonald won the mile and two-mile races yesterday as Tech defeated St. Norbert 79-two thirds to 51-one third in a track meet.

Doctoring Your Golf

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: More Sand Trap Trouble.
DIAGNOSIS: Failure to Adapt to Depth of Sand.

Treatment: The distance you hit behind the ball on an explosion shot from the sand depends greatly on how deep the sand is. If the sand is deep enough so that your clubhead won't go down through it and reach solid ground, you should let the clubhead contact the sand about two inches behind the ball. But if sand is shallow, let the clubhead contact the sand about a half inch farther back.

The reasoning here is that in shallow sand the clubhead will contact solid ground soon after entering the sand, and the solid ground will bounce the clubhead into the ball.

You gauge the depth of the sand when you work your feet down into the sand to take your stance.

In prescribing the distance that you should hit behind the ball in this lesson, I'm assuming that the shot is a short one from a trap around the green.

All that talk about Carl Erskine being washed up turns out to be just a lot of soap suds.

Don't try to sell that lather to the Philadelphia Phillies, who managed to get only two singles off him last night when he pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 2-1 victory.

Erskine, who held the Phils hitless until the sixth inning, had a little extra incentive because he knew his hospitalized old battery-mate, Roy Campanella, was watching him on television.

"It would sound too corny if I said I won it for Campy," said Erskine, who visited him Sunday night, "but I knew he was watching and I know the kick he gets whenever we win.

There wasn't a thing wrong with the Dodgers last night as they hung Robin Roberts' fifth defeat of the season on him. They scored both of their runs in the fourth inning when Gil Hodges walked with two out, Gino Cimoli singled and little Don Zimmer scored them both with a line double off the left-field wall. The victory was Erskin's third of the season.

Dodger Duke Snider paid a secret visit to a Philly doctor yesterday to learn why his ailing left knee is failing to respond to treatment. He found out the knee which has grown worse since operated on last November, is still inflamed.

The Milwaukee Braves moved to within two games of first place with a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs in the only other National League game scheduled.

Eddie Matthews' 11th home run of the season in the eighth inning off Moe Drabowsky settled matters after the Cubs battled back to tie the score with a three-run rally in the sixth.

Frank Torre gave the Braves a three-run jump when he homered with two on in the fourth but the Cubs drove starter Lew Burdette to cover with their three-run burst in the sixth. Fastballer Don McMahon then took over, checked Chicago on one hit the rest of the way and earned his third victory in eight days.

The Giants won an exhibition at West Point blasting the Army nine 17-1 with Jim Constable hurling a three-hitter while Willie Kirkland and Orlando Cepeda swatted homers.

In a post-game interview, manager Bill Rigney called 'Frisco sensation Willie Mays "the best player I ever saw." He said Willie might lead the league "in everything."

Murry Dickson, 42-year-old Kansas City knuckle-baller, won his own ball game with a 10th inning homer over the left field wall that beat Baltimore, 5-4.

Dickson's homer was only the third one he hit in his 17-year major league career and it capped a relief stint of 6 2-3 innings during which he yielded only four hits to register his third victory of the campaign.

Jim Busby put Baltimore in front with a fourth-inning grand-slam homer off KC starter Ralph Terry. The A's got three of those runs back in the bottom of the fourth off Connie Johnson on Bob Martyn's two-run homer, an error and a pair of infield outs, then tied the score on Harry Chiti's homer in the fifth.

It was the only American League game scheduled.

Wagner Hurls CIO Victory

Shaw's, VFW, Mailmen and Birmingham Win in Softball

Jim Wagner's three-hit chucking plus a well balanced batting attack produced an 8-1 CIO Class A baseball victory over Griff's Grill last night.

Wagner helped his own cause with two hits. The victors led all the way following Bud Hayward's 1st inning home run with the bases empty.

In softball, Shaw's blanked Cavern Bar 11-0, the VFW nipped Stadium Inn 3-1 and UAW No. 594 bowed to Birmingham 6-3 in the American League while the Pontiac Post Office was taking a 6-3 verdict over O'Neil Realty.

The Shaw's-Cavern tilt was call after three innings due to the 10-run rule. The Jewelers had combined six hits and several walks. F. Konchis of the VFW bested McManus in a battle of three-hitters. Birmingham was outhit but led all the way aided by six errors. The Post Office nine also was short on hits but long on runs rallying from an early 1-0 deficit. Clason paced the mailmen with three successive singles.

The CIO-Griff's baseball box-score:

Good Pitching Marks Victory for Avon 9

Although his Pontiac RLDS team battered Parkdale Nazarene 19-6 in last night's Avondale Church Softball League play, pitcher Wayne Jenks had 10 strikeouts, and with Bill Schincing, who finished, gave up only four hits. Gary Root homered for RLDS.

In other league games Elmwood defeated United Presbyterian 17-11 and McKee (UP) and Nike crushed Avondale Baptists 31-6. Orion RLDS took a forfeit from Stone Baptists.

Bidding Begins for Iowa Whiz

BANCROFT, Iowa (AP) — It isn't hard to find Bancroft, Iowa, any more. Ask any major league baseball scout, he can point the way without use of hands.

If you're not a major league scout, you'd probably have little interest in going to Bancroft population 900.

But their interest is in young Denny Menke, a shortstop whose talents are being bid on today. The price may go as high as $100,000, according to one club which seeks him.

The scouts couldn't wait until the 17-year-old farm youth graduated from Bancroft's St. John's High School. Several of them were in the audience at the commencement exercises Sunday and they also attended a reception at his home later.

Yesterday was the first time the professionals could officially talk business with modest Denny. Then through the front door of the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Menke, they came all day.

Paul Richards, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, spent 90 minutes with the family. Mike Ryba, scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, and Claude Freeman, in the same capacity with the Chicago Cubs, also made their offers. The Boston Red Sox had a representative there and Joe McDermott of the New York Yankees was to meet Menke today. At least another half dozen scouts are expected to appear at the farm.

"We will listen to every one who comes in," Denny said. He added the best "combination of opportunity and money" will be the deciding factors. "I have no favorite."

Denny, 6 feet and 178 pounds, said he would be happy to go with any club. He said he is not worried about playing with a major league team right off, although he feels he is in need of experience first.

Menke, whose father was a minor league player, hit .550 as a shortstop and also pitched St. John's to two successive state prep baseball titles.

Father and son plan to weigh every offer carefully and expect to announce a decision tomorrow or Thursday.

Sonlie Wins at Hazel

DETROIT (AP) — Sonlie, winless since taking Hazel Park's big five trot last year, won last night's feature at the harness track by trotting home in 2:04.2 with Don McIlmurray at the reigns. The winner paid $4.60. A crowd of 4,824 bet $277,318.

Hitters Have Ball in Church Loop Play

The hitters had a field day in the Church Softball League last night.

St. John's Lutheran scored six in the 7th to down Liberty Baptist 14-7. Homers by Jerry James and Dalton Wheatley led Columbia Baptist to a 16-5 romp over First General Baptist. Brad Scott batted in four runs with homer and double as First Presbyterian drubbed Bethany Baptist 14-7.

Trinity Baptist waltzed past Oakland United Presbyterian 16-5 while First Baptist was taking Christian Missionary Alliance 13-3 sparked by Dave Stubb's 3-run homer.

This could have very well been proclaimed as "Hail the Champions" week in Oakland County the way things turned out for high school athletic teams in this area the last few days.

Pontiac's great finish to topple Flint Northern and take its 4th straight track crown headed the pack. Then there was Birmingham's winning of the state and Pontiac Press Invitational golf crowns and a regional tennis triumph for Cranbrook. How about that?

The Chief thinclads certainly were a credit to their school and to hard-working head coach Dean Wilson clinching their championship in the last event of the day Saturday after trailing.

A one-sided loss to Flint here and a close setback resulting from a disqualification in the Saginaw Valley meet were certainly made up for Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Good team balance paid off for the Birmingham in the Maples' two golf victories within three days.

Cranbrook just coasted to its regional net crown but the Cranes will likely be underdogs in the state battle June 6 and 7.

Donald Marshall, who directed the Dearborn A-C tennis regionals last weekend while also coaching his team to the "A" crown, predicts the two winners there will be state champions. That means his team and defending Michigan "C" king Grosse Pointe University School.

Baseball has no actual playoffs on a statewide basis but several county nines rate a salute while honors are being passed out. These include league winners, Milford, Clawson, Ferndale, Royal Oak Dondero, Royal Oak St. Mary and Berkley.

Eastern Michigan loop nines get a chance to get even with Ferndale in the new league tourney which started today.

SKIPPING AROUND

A pair of baseballers doing well at Central Michigan are Wally Galba of Oxford and Ferndale's Jim Samec. Galba plays 3rd for the varsity. He has a .364 overall average and .435 in the IIAC making him a strong choice for all-loop 3rd base honors. Samec handles 1st for the jayvees.

Southfield and Walled Lake finished with 4-1 records in the Inter-Lakes golf loop . . . Bluejay teams will be feted tonight with Michigan backfield coach Chalmers "Bumps" Elliot heading a long list of guests . . . South Lyon won the League of Lakes track title and finished 2nd in baseball for a successful spring.

Former Red Wing publicist Fred Huber spoke at the Holly all-sports banquet last night . . . Ex-Roseville star Ron Cole may get coaching job at Romeo. He graduates from Northern Michigan next month . . . Madison grid mentor Don Scott hopes to be named to the Hazel Park school board in June 9th election.

Farmington athletic department still chuckling over new gimmick they came up with for drawing a track crowd. AD Jack Cotton bet the school cheerleaders they could not sell over 200 tickets for the Inter-Lakes meet last week. The girls went out and sold 600 on a promise by Cotton that all the coaches would attend wearing Bermuda shorts if they did. Everyone had a good laugh and the Falcons won a title.

Catholic Invitational track meet will be held Wednesday and Thursday at U. of D. with St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary entered.

39 Runs in Two Softball Games at Waterford

There was plenty of scoring in the Waterford Softball League last night—a total of 39 runs in two games.

SnoBol's Hall shutout Drayton Drug 9-0 in one while the Drayton Merchant's Arrow whipped the Eagles 20-10.

There were a total of eight hits and the same number of errors in the SnoBol victory.

Tied 10-10, the Arrows tossers scored 10 runs in the 6th inning and still had no outs when the game was halted because of the 10-run rule.

Sugar Ray Out of Action Now

Champ Claims Fighting This Year Would Cost Him Money in Taxes

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson says he isn't going to fight again this year.

"I can't afford to," says the middleweight champion. "The way the tax situation is it would even cost me money."

That's the way Ray sees it today. He's been known to change his mind.

Robinson discussed his future plans after he seconded his sparring partner, Otis Woodard, 160½, of New York, to a second straight victory over Eddie Andrews, 159½, of Lowell, Mass, at St. Nicholas Arena last night. Andrews once again had ex-middleweight king Rocky Graziano in his corner.

In talking about his financial picture, Robinson said he was in the 95 per cent tax bracket.

"Uncle Sam would take all I make if I fought this year," said Sugar Ray, "and some of what I have. The government is still holding $514,000 against taxes I may owe.

Venturi, Palmer and Casper Top Pros in Circuit

They Will Head Glaxay of Stars This Weekend at Red Run Golf Club

By BILL CORNWELL

Three of the brightest young lights on the professional trail—Ken Venturi, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper — will lead a galaxy of stars into the Western Open golf tournament this weekend at Red Run.

Venturi, Palmer and Casper head a list of 16 pros who have won at least once since the 1958 tour began.

Three victories by Venturi top the group. The slender Californian has won the Thunderbird, Phoenix and Baton Rouge tournaments in addition to being the most consistent threat in every event.

He tied Casper for 1st place at New Orleans, but bowed on the 2nd hole of a sudden-death playoff. He finished 2nd in both the Pensacola and Colonial events and took 4th spot in the Masters after setting the early pace.

The prize catch of the season so far went to Palmer when he won the Masters at Augusta, Ga.

Palmer also captured the St. Petersburg Open and wound up 2nd in the Azalea tourney after losing to Howie Johnson in a title playoff. The former National Amateur champion took another runner-up position at Baton Rouge and placed 4th in the Tijuana event.

Casper, like Palmer, has won twice. As previously mentioned, he defeated Venturi in a playoff to win the New Orleans Open and preceded that one with a victory in the Bing Crosby tournament.

The remaining 13 champions will each carry one triumph into the four-day 72-hole Western classic which gets under way Thursday morning.

On this list can be found hurryin' Doug Ford, who annexed the Western crown last year at Plum Hollow by conquering big George Bayer, Billy Maxwell and Gene Littler in a sudden-death playoff. Ford's lone win on the current circuit was at Pensacola, Fla.

Slammin' Sam Snead, idol of the galleries, gained his only victory in his own tourney, the Sam Snead Festival, and he had to beat South African Gary Player in extra holes to do it.

Rounding out the group of champs who will invade Red Run Thursday are:

Frank Stranahan, Los Angeles Open; E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Tijuana Open; Lionel Hebert, Tucson Open; Bill Johnson, Texas Open; Ed (Porky) Oliver, Houston Classic; Gary Player, Kentucky Derby Open; Stan Leonard, Las Vegas Tournament of Champions; Tommy Bolt, Colonial Invitation; Julius Boros, Hot Springs Open; Billy Maxwell, Memphis Open, and Ernie Vossler, Kansas City Open.

PASSER TRADED — Norman Van Brocklin, 32, one of the all-time great passers of the National Football League was traded to the Philadelphia Eagles by the Los Angeles Rams yesterday after he had announced he would quit pro ball unless traded. The Rams obtained two players and a draft choice in the swap.

NL Prexy Making Study

CINCINNATI (AP) — Renewed uproar over "duster" pitching has put the spotlight on a little study being made quietly by National League President Warren Giles.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of Pittsburgh's Pirates is the latest to complain after a brawl broke out last Sunday in a Pirate doubleheader with San Francisco's Giants.

Giles talked with Brown by telephone yesterday and said later, "I believe the rule can be improved but I didn't want to recommend any change until I have conferred with more men in baseball."

Duster pitching is what players call deliberately throwing close to a batter to shake him up or intimidate him. But some managers call it murder when this kind of pitching turns into a beanball—hitting a batter on the head.

Lindemann Sets Record

Huron Bowl Scores 1248 in ABC Event

Pontiac's strong Huron Bowl keg team mixed with elite again Sunday and turned in an impressive showing posting a 2,848 team score in the ABC Master's tournament at Syracuse, N. Y.

Detroit star Tony Lindemann stole the show there yesterday by rolling a record 1021 besting George Young of Detroit in a four-game duel. Young had 812. Lindemann had games of 288, 238, 258 and 237 with a total of 33 strikes.

The combined Lindemann-Young total of 1833 was the 3rd highest in Masters history.

Defending champion Dick Hoover was eliminated and match game specialist Don Carter also bowed in surprise events.

Don Martell's 616 paced the Huron team. Les Rothbarth had 586, Clark Balch 556, Jay Lovett 548 and Joe Bonfiglio 543. Rothbarth won a bronze medal for topping 1800 in all events with 1829.

Bonfiglio topped the locals in singles with 665 and he and Rothbarth combined for a 1240 in doubles.

There were no changes in the standings of the regular categories of the ABC Monday.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bobby Adams of the Chicago Cubs fell one shy of the major league record for consecutive pinch hits. A strikeout ended his string at six in last night's 4-3 defeat by the Milwaukee Braves.

The record of seven was set by Peanuts Lowrey, now a manager in the Braves' farm system, with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1952.

Call It 'Plumb Nearly'

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — County commissioners have made "Plumb Nearly" the official name of a road southeast of Charlotte. Residents along the previously undesignated road said the name meant "plumb out of the city and nearly out of the county."

St. Louis, Mo., was named by French settlers for King Louis XV of France.

Says Phantom Cat Near Soo Is Cougar

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — This area's phantom cat may be a cougar, like veteran guide Clark Izzard says. But even Izzard, a pack of hounds and conservation men can't find the feline.

The cat has been spotted off and on for over a year in this Upper Peninsula area.

Izzard, a onetime Wyoming guide, says the animal crossed the road in front of his car Sunday some 40 miles south of the Soo and he's positive it's a cougar.

Izzard called conservation officers who put a pack of hounds on the trail. The dogs picked up a scent in the woods but brought back no cat.

Contribution Reduced

LANSING (AP) — The State Social Welfare Commission has reduced the City of Detroit's contribution to welfare costs by some $2,500,000. The commission agreed yesterday to reduce the city's welfare contribution from 2 mills of assessed valuation to 1.5 mills.

Hollywood Headlines

Bobby Driscoll Trying to Rebuild Acting Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I was carried on a satin cushion and then dropped into the garbage can."

That is Robert Driscoll's view of his acting career, which began at 5. Now a sharp, realistic 21, he is attempting to rebuild his career as an adult. He's doing nicely.

Robert is better known as Bobby Driscoll, though he's trying to duck the youngish name. As Bobby, he was a busy actor in such films as "The Window," "So Dear to My Heart," "Song of the South" and "Treasure Island." He even won an Oscar as an outstanding child star.

But he admitted that his career didn't buy him happiness. He sees now that he had too little discipline and too much adulation.

"Yet I really feared people," he said. "The other kids didn't accept me. They treated me as one apart. I tried desperately to be one of the gang. When they rejected me, I fought back, became belligerent and cocky and was afraid all the time."

The wise counsel of his wife Marjorie and close friends, notably Dean Stockwell, helped conquer his inner fears, he said. Now he is determined to make a success in the profession he fell into by accident.

Driscoll's father took him to a barber whose son acted in films. Impressed by the lad's personality, the barber referred him to the son's agent. A job in "Lost Angel" with Margaret O'Brien resulted.

After a successful career as a child, including eight years with Walt Disney, he found important roles getting scarce. He even took a job as a clothing salesman after he was married, but failed miserably at it.

Now he's determined to succeed as an adult actor. And he's doing well, having appeared on most of the filmed and live dramatic shows. He has his best grown-up role to date in "Party Crashers" for Paramount.

His youngish face allows him to play teenagers, but he has also been cast older than his age. He reported he had even played an opium smuggler for a half-hour TV drama.

School Bus Driver Blacks Out; 18 Hurt

HALIFAX, Va. (AP) — Larry Conner, 17, was finishing his second trip as a substitute driver of a county school bus yesterday when he momentarily blacked out, he said.

The bus, loaded with high school and elementary school pupils on their way home from classes, left the highway and hit a tree. Eighteen of those aboard, ranging in age from 7 to 16, were injured—none critically.

Ten of the young victims still were hospitalized today.

State Trooper R. A. Adams Jr. said the bus was traveling about 35 m.p.h.

Conner, who received his driving license four months ago, said he couldn't explain his blackout though he had not felt well all day.

All About Men . . . Chapter Fourteen

Now Take Life Slow and Easy

TOOTLING IS THE EXCEPTION.

By JOSEPH H. PECK, M.D.

Man's great trouble, when he thinks of retiring, is the boy within him.

He regards the coming change just as he did a summer vacation—all swimming, loafing and eating watermelons.

Insurance people have encouraged this dream by calling his retreat from active life "The Golden Years of Retirement."

You must plan to work at something in retirement, of course, for killing time is not murder, but suicide.

At the age of 55, you have 10 years in which to plan. Spend your vacations checking the activities favored by your horoscope.

If farming seems to be your Shangri-La, go to the country and ask a farmer to let you milk a few cows. In two weeks you'll learn whether you have a way with animals.

If you dream of a life of fishing, drop a hook for two weeks straight, with no time off because of bugs or bad weather, and eat the mud-cats, gars and turtles you catch. Then imagine how 15 years of this will affect you.

Want to be a writer? Leave your family and rent a room in a strange neighborhood. Write for several hours a day, and mail your best effort (with return postage) to a good magazine.

YOU CAN ALWAYS TRY

No matter what you want, try it. The only thing I know of that an old man definitely cannot do is toot a horn in a band. His dentures drop down when he puffs out his cheeks.

Take it slow and easy, for the ladder of life is full of splinters, and they hurt most when you're sliding down.

You will reach the river in time, but most of us, like the Missouri farmer at a camp meeting, are in no hurry.

During the services a laborer in the vineyard placed her hand on his shoulder, and in the voice of a cooing dove, said: "My dear man, don't you want to see Jesus?"

"Not tonight," the old man said, "Not tonight, sister."

Take your aging body to a clinic and have a complete check-up. Not a once-over-lightly, but the works. The examination should begin at the tip of your toes.

As a man grows old, his toenails begin to thicken, and if they tend to grow down into the flesh on the sides, there will be trouble unless you stuff cotton under the edges and train them to grow flat. Corns and callouses should be treated by corrective footwear; many a diabetic old man has died because he clipped his corns with a razor blade and developed gangrene.

If your job requires a lot of standing on your feet, watch for enlarged veins and get supportive stockings before they cause ulcers.

OLD ULCERS DO DIE

Watch out for a hernia, and if the wall of your groin shows weakness, have it repaired while you are still on the payroll so the hospital fund will pay for it. The same goes for hemorrhoids.

If you have a spare tire around your middle, eat less fat and sweets and exercise daily to melt it off.

Don't worry about your old ulcer. It's good insurance, because a man who growls about his stomach all his life seldom gets a cancer there, and ulcers tend to fade along with the frustrations of employment.

Pray that your gallstones won't decide to travel, and treat your liver kindly by chopping a hole in your wife's frying pan.

A little blood coming from any place but your nose should be investigated at once, and you should have your chest X-rayed to check the outlines of your heart and to see if those cigarettes did any damage to your lung tissues.

No doctor can be sure whether or not you will have a coronary. If it comes, it's a quick way of reaching the river, and speed is of the essence when you are ready to embark.

Your blood pressure is much more important than your wife's; if yours is more than 150 over 90, let your doc worry about it, but if your wife's is 250, don't prick up your ears and begin to look at the fillies in the pasture.

If your teeth are bad, have them yanked. Artificial dentures aren't so bad as pictured, and once you retire, you can wear them in your pocket if you wish.

Have your ears checked. I have seen plugs of wax in the canal as big as your little finger, and as hard as flint. Such a condition explains why some persons think they need a hearing aid.

An eye man should look over your eyes for opacities, cataracts and the condition of the blood vessels. Watch every skin blemish; brown spots will surely come, but if they are much rougher than the rest of your face, or there is a sore on the lip or inside the mouth that takes longer to heal than the usual "cold sore," see your physician pronto.

The older you get, the slower you must turn and get up and down to avoid nasty falls. Drive your car 10 miles slower than your former average speed and you will dent your fenders about as often as usual.

I'm not going to hand down any commandments about guzzling. The Mormons are a healthy people, and they drink neither tea, coffee nor alcoholic beverages.

There is no harm in any of these things if taken in moderation. For some persons, of course, one drink is too many, and a thousand are not enough.

There are few preventable diseases of old age that cannot be cured by a brisk walk, a good book or a dish of prunes, and if you worry too much, you spend on doctors and medicine money that should be used for your wife's entertainment.

Atom Test Reactor Closes 3 to 4 Weeks

OTTAWA (AP)—An atomic test reactor that is probably the West's most powerful has been shut down for three or four weeks by an accident that contaminated its building.

No one was injured in the accident Saturday night to the 57-million-dollar reactor at Chalk River, Ont. It is known by the code name NRU.

Atomic Energy of Canada, Ltd., which operates the huge Chalk River atomic project, said a piece of uranium fuel rod caught fire after it was removed from the reactor.

"The fire was quickly extinguished but in the meantime radioactive dust was spread throughout the interior of the NRU building," the company said.

A Broadwayite who recently moved to the suburbs bought a carload of topsoil for his garden, and now groans, "The guy who coined the phrase 'dirt cheap' didn't know what he was talking about" . . . Most women want to hear the truth — no matter how flattering it is.—Earl Wilson

Liberal Offerings Weaken Wheat

CHICAGO (AP) — Liberal offerings by commission houses weakened wheat futures prices in early board of trade dealings today.

Prices were off around a cent a bushel within a few minutes in all contracts and the weakness spread to other grains and soybeans.

Some dealers said the liquidation of wheat was largely to cash in some of the profits from yesterday's good runup.

After about an hour, trade was slow and wheat was 1 to 1¼ cents a bushel lower, July $1.86¾; corn ⅜ to ½ lower, July $1.28⅞; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, July 60¾; rye unchanged to ½ lower, July $1.19¾; soybeans ¾ to 1 cent lower, July $2.27½; lard 7 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.45.

Reports that the winter wheat harvest has begun in scattered areas of Oklahoma and Texas sent some grain firms into their statistics. They need a reliable answer to the important question of how much grain will be dumped on the market immediately.

Stock Market Down Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a slightly lower trend in dull trading early today.

The tendency toward the downside became apparent after leading stocks opened virtually unchanged in active dealings. Most losses of pivotal issues were fractional.

Rails were at a standstill following their rally yesterday on news of the Senate Commerce Committee's proposals to aid the industry. The major steel shares drifted off slightly.

Motors were unchanged to a bit off, oils, chemicals and aircrafts irregularly lower. Base metals and utilities leaned slightly to the upside.

Technically, the market remained in a difficult zone to penetrate because it was close to the year's high. News of the fourth straight weekly rise in steel production was encouraging.

Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were small losers.

8 Auto Plants Suspend Work for Holiday Week

DETROIT (UPI) — At least eight auto assembly plants and other installations are closed down this week for inventory adjustments, idling about 25,000 workers.

Chrysler Corp. has shut down its Plymouth, Dodge and DeSoto assembly plants here and its Los Angeles assembly plant, as well as its Mound road engine plant and other manufacturing facilities. But a company spokesman said the report that 35,000 were idled was too high, the actual layoffs numbering about 10,000 production workers plus several thousand salaried production employes.

Ford Motor Co. reported its Atlanta and Memphis assembly plants down for the week, Ford's M-E-L division shut down the St. Louis, Chicago and Metuchen, N.J. Mercury plants and the station wagon body plant at Wayne, Mich.

Dapper Actor Hosts 'Target'

Claims That Pictures Can't Provide Enough Employment

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Adolphe Menjou is as proud of his new anthology dramatic series, "Target," on TV as any performer could be.

"Money," is his answer to anyone asking why he turned to TV. "Everybody in TV is in it for money, but to hear some of them talk it's all for art.

"I'm not positive," said Menjou, who has made more than 250 motion pictures, "but I don't think I could make a living out of pictures at the moment — if I had to, which I don't.

"They just aren't making enough pictures these days. If they want you badly enough they'll get you, but they don't want most actors that badly."

In fairness to Menjou, however, it must be pointed out that he is currently, or was recently, visible in movie houses playing in "Paths of Glory," "The Ambassador's Daughter," "I Married a Woman" and "Bundle of Joy." Let's always keep the record straight for an honest man.

HOST AND PERFORMER

Menjou is the host and plays frequently in "Target." Each self-contained drama is characterized, he says, by "a lot of emotion and action, whether the theme is a Western, law enforcement, crime, drama or comedy.

"Who is the target? It varies each week. Sometimes the villain. Sometimes the hero. As with life, it changes all the time."

As everyone knows, Menjou is one of the world's most impeccably dressed men. That is, to sloppy sacks he always looks as if he's going to a wedding.

The other morning while transacting a day's normal business, he was wearing striped trousers, double-breasted vest, stiff white shirt, dark coat. . . Yes, a tie, socks and shoes too.

"As the host of 'Target' I step into millions of living rooms. Why should I go in sloppy? It's disrespectful and rude. We've lost a lot of the graciousness of living in this country. We've abandoned spats and canes. And look how men have abandoned wearing hats. It's disgraceful."

Menjou recently turned 68 but doesn't look it.

Looks Like Doberman Is in Army for Life

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Private Doberman" thought he was out of the Army in 1945 but now it looks like he's in for the duration of his life—and he hopes so.

WILSON

"A private's pay is good," he says.

Maurice Gosfield refers, of course, to the pay he gets as an actor in Phil Silvers' "Sgt. Bilko" TV show.

"I've been soldierin' for Phil for 3½ years already and just reenlisted," he grinned the other night. "I've been in Phil's army longer than in Uncle Sam's . . . and I like it better."

"Morry," as he's called by his closest friends, made Tech Sgt. in the 8th Armored Division. While he served mostly stateside, he risked his life, too—playing Shakespeare, for example, for GI audiences.

Gosfield realized that he's not Gosfield any longer—but Doberman—when he was on Steve Allen's show recently. Louis Nye, an old friend, told him cheerfully afterward:

"Nice to have had you with us, Doberman—WHAT 'M I SAYING? I mean Morry."

Sometimes, though, a fan comes right out and says, "Oh, you're Mr. Gosfield"—"which makes me feel 10 feet tall." He's actually about 5-4½, in his 40's, and weighs about 200. "I went on a reducing diet last week," he told me, "and gained four pounds."

Though born in N.Y. he was raised in Philly and Evanston, Ill., where, at an early age he showed great promise—of becoming a juvenile delinquent.

"I was kicked out of school in my sophomore year because I refused to take mathematics," he says. "I was a rebel. They said they weren't going to change the school curriculum to suit me."

He began acting with the Ralph Bellamy and Melvyn Douglas players in Chicago and has been a ham ever since. He once considered changing his name but Dick Barthelmess said, "You think YOU'VE got a tough name! If you get good enough, everybody'll remember your name whatever it is."

SUSAN

And he was right, of course—because everybody can remember Doberman.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra and Brigitte Bardot'll probably meet for the first time in Monaco June 14 when he screens his "Kings Go Forth" . . . Statuesque Susan Turner is a Wilson Girl candidate . . . Greta Thyssen threatens suit against a TV critic who rapped her work on a show—on which she didn't appear.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Nowadays when you see a woman in a sack dress you don't know whether she's expecting a compliment or just expecting . . . That's earl, brother.

Record Amount Won by Woman on '21' Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Elfrida von Nardroff last night became the all-time high winner for a single TV quiz show.

The Brooklyn woman set a new mark when she won $50,000 to boost her bankroll on NBC-TV's Twenty-One to $216,500.

The highest single show winner had been 11-year-old Robert Strom, who won $192,000 on the CBS show The $64,000 Question.

Miss von Nardroff, 32, won $50,000 by defeating Frederick Rein of Alexandria, Va., in their fifth game. They competed for $2,500 a point in the difference between their scores.

The champion defeated Rein by a 21-1 score to add to her previous total of $166,500.

Miss von Nardroff and Rein, who is on the staff of the U.S. Information Agency, completed their fourth tie game last night after starting the program deadlocked at 10-10.

In the decisive game, Rein scored 11 and Miss von Nardroff 10 in the first round on world cities.

The challenger then missed a 10-pointer on political leaders when he was unable to name the late William Bankhead as one of the three men who have been speaker of the House of Representatives during the last 20 years.

Then, Miss von Nardroff correctly name dthe U.S. senators representing Massachusetts, Illinois, Wisconsin and Ohio — states with senators from both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Miss von Nardroff returns next week to announce whether she will continue on the show with another contestant.

Mail Stalled in Chute

DETROIT (AP) — Workers in Detroit's skyscraper City-County Building are finding the mail does not always go through. For the building yielded a batch of delayed mail, this time payments for bills and payroll checks dated May 1. Complaints from people about their pay brought postal inspectors with special keys to unlock the chutes. Some weeks ago a circuit judge learned his Christmas cards had been blocked in a narrow mail chute.

60 CD Workers Will Graduate

Total Trained Personnel in Waterford Township to Exceed 300

Approximately sixty members of Waterford Township's Civil Defense medical and police auxiliaries, will graduate at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow night at Community Activities, Inc.

This brings the total number of trained Civil Defense workers in the township to more than 300, according to assistant director Lloyd Gidley.

He has directed the training of the auxiliary police who have learned the intricacies of controlling traffic and how to organize and direct rescue work in the event of disaster.

Gidley said that this class will now begin a 10-week course in First Aid training, in order to round out the entire schedule. Some members will probably continue in an advanced first aid course later he said.

Registered nurse Mrs. John Rise has conducted the 13-week course in medical auxiliary and 40 trained members wil lreceive certificates tomorrow night.

These people have learned nursing procedure in manning various emergency hospitals in case of disaster and have also had three additional weeks training at the portable hospital set up at the C.A.I.

Red-Faced Detroit Buys Back 3 Lots

DETROIT (AP) — After letting them slip through the city's red-taped fingers, Detroit today owned for the second time three and a half lots in the heart of the multi-million-dollar, city-owned Civic Center.

The lots, lying snugly between the new Veterans Memorial Building and Ford Auditorium, were sold back to the city yesterday for $1,062.16 by real estate man Easel H. Gomah. Gomah bought them after the city neglected, by mistake, to pay back county taxes for 1954.

Gomah sold the lots back for what he paid for them, waiving his right to $531.08 more in penalty because of the city's slipup.

"I'm a taxpayer, too, and I understand," he said.

Take Payroll in Holdup

DETROIT (AP) — Two men escaped with a $2,300 payroll Monday in a downtown holdup. They took the money from Donald L. Fife, whose father, D. Lyle Fife, is owner of the Fife Electric Supply Co. and a former president of the Detroit Lions. Fife was carrying the money from the bank to his office in a paper bag when he said the two men forced him into an alley, poked something hard in his back and fled with the money.

Executive Says He Once Escaped From Prison

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Gov. Raymond Gary said he probably will grant a full pardon to a Houston, Tex., transportation executive who escaped from the Oklahoma Penitentiary 18 years ago.

A. R. Talley, 42, terminal manager for Herrin Transportation Co., was sentenced in 1935 to 15 years imprisonment for armed robbery.

State Prison Warden H. C. McLeod and State Crime Bureau Chief O. K. Bivins, who investigated Talley's record, appeared before the Pardon and Parole Board on the Texan's behalf.

Talley's mother, Mrs. Grace ing more than $20,000 a year, said he had disclosed his past to a friend who urged him to seek clemency. "I just got tired of living under the strain," he said at Houston.

Talley's mother Mrs. Grace Alexander of Oklahoma City was overjoyed by the board's action. She had kept her son's secret and disclosed he had informed her two months ago he was going to seek parole.

Robert Herrin, Talley's employer, sent a company attorney to McAlester to plead Talley's case.

Lawyers Smile as Cooling Off for Divorce Ends

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's one-year experiment with a 60-day cooling off period in divorce cases was at an end today, much to the satisfaction of divorce lawyers.

Gov. Williams yesterday signed two legislative bills that scrapped the system.

Legislative backers of the experiment contended last year that the cooling off period would promote reconciliations, cut the divorce rate and slow down the breakup of homes.

However, attorneys urged repeal this spring, arguing that the 1957 legislation was so full of legal holes and conflict that it made matters worse rather than better.

Lawmakers agreed.

Flint in Contest for TV Channel

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have been told that a chairman of the Federal Communications Commission once sent White House aide Sherman Adams information on TV channel contests in St. Louis and Flint, Mich.

Stephen J. Angland, a staff member of the special House subcommittee investigating the FCC, said yesterday he was unable to find in FCC files any request from Adams for the information. Adams is President Eisenhower's top aide.

Angland said he got from FCC files information concerning a memo to Adams from then FCC Chairman Rosel Hyde. Dated Oct. 27, 1953, the Hyde memo said, "I thought it might be helpful if you had the attached outline information concerning television contests at St. Louis and Flint, Mich., respectively."

Attached, Angland said, was an outline of competing applicants for Channel 4 in St. Louis and an unidentified channel at Flint, and giving the status of the cases.

Opposes Aid to Red Satellites

Knowland Sees No Justification in U.S. Helping Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he will oppose vigorously proposed authority for President Eisenhower to furnish economic aid for Soviet satellites.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he will fight this provision in a $3,707,000,000 foreign aid bill which may come before the Senate later this week.

"I do not think the granting of mutual aid to Communist countries can be justified," he said.

He said his effort will be directed primarily toward shutting off any assistance for Yugoslavia and Poland.

As approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, an amendment to the House-passed bill would authorize the President to provide economic aid to any country except the Soviet Union, Communist China and Communist North Korea.

In doing so, the President would have to find that such assistance would (1) strengthen U.S. security by enabling "freedom loving peoples" to gain additional release from Red Chinese and Soviet domination, (2) strengthen their efforts to make their governments less dependent on Moscow, and (3) reduce their economic dependence on the Soviets and Red Chinese.

Knowland said State Department acceptance of the amendment will not deter his opposition. He said he had no plans to discuss the matter with Eisenhower.

The theory on which the mutual security program was founded was to provide help for nations that are willing to stand together in maintenance of the free world, he said.

"On foreign policy matters, Yugoslavia has voted against us and with the Soviet bloc 90 per cent of the time in the United Nations. It has attempted to undermine us in the Far East and in NATO," he added.

Detroit OKs Plan to Fight Recession

DETROIT (AP)—A double-barreled attack on the recession was agreed upon today by the City of Detroit.

The plan calls for widening part of Woodward Avenue, Detroit's main traffic artery, into a mall and boulevard, and splitting up the city's next car and truck order among the big three auto firms.

The $2,000,000 street widening was expected to result in some 600 jobs in private demolition and construction companies.

City officials said Woodward would be widened by 70 feet on its west side from Congress to Jefferson. When finished it will contain a center mall of lawn and trees. The job is expected to begin early this summer.

The auto-truck order for 366 vehicles, costing an estimated $1,322,000, will be placed immediately.

Instead of giving the total order to the lowest bidder, the plan calls for giving the lowest bidder 50 per cent of the order, the middle bidder 30 per cent and the highest bidder 20 per cent.

Britain Resents Jerry's Bride, 13; They Leave

LONDON (AP) — American singer Jerry Lee Lewis and his 13-year-old bride packed up and headed for home today as British theaters canceled the rock 'n' roll shouter's tour in the face of rising public resentment.

"They checked out and told us they were catching the first plane for the United States," said a reception clerk at the singer-pianist's hotel.

"It's all very unfortunate," said Oscar Davis, manager of the thrice-married Lewis, "and there could be a reaction in the States."

Lewis has a role in the film "High School Confidential" which is about to be released in the United States.

The big Rank organization called off 27 appearances in Britain by the 22-year-old singer.

Lewis was greeted in London last night with catcalls, boos and shouts of "Go home, you cradle-snatcher."

CAB Plans Skyway

NEW YORK (UPI) — A member of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) said today a transcontinental super skyway will be created soon as the first step toward blanket safety control of all planes in the air. In Washington, it was learned that officials hope the 40-mile-wide skyway will be operative in July.

Waterford PTA Asks Safety Assessment at Board Meeting

For the first time since the problem of traffic safety for children on Waterford Township highways was brought to the attention of officials, a group of residents has asked that it be assessed for installation of sidewalks.

Two representatives of the Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Assn. traffic and safety committee, Chairman Frank Rudlaff and William Amann, were present at last night's board meeting asking the township's cooperation in the project.

The area in question is approximately four blocks on the south side of Maceday drive from Schoolcraft Elementary School to Maceday Gardens Subdivision.

The representatives pointed out there is no safe way for the children to walk to and from school except in the ditch or on the lawns of property owners.

Supervisor Elmer Johnson advised the group to procure signatures of at least 65 per cent of property owners fronting the road and that the township would stand some of the engineering costs.

Johnson said a special assessment could then be established to be spread over a five-year period. Hearings would be held and bids would be awarded on a contract basis.

If the project gets underway within the next two weeks, the sidewalks would be ready for use by September.
