U.S., Hanoi to Meet in Paris Shortly

AP Wirephoto

BIG AND LITTLE LYN — Sometimes being a grandfather is more important than being president of the United States. The White House yesterday released this picture of one of those times. It shows Patrick Lyndon Nugent frolicking on the lawn at the LBJ Ranch in Texas with his famed grandfather during a recent visit there.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and North Vietnam agreed today to open preliminary peace talks in Paris next Friday or a few days thereafter.

President Johnson announced at a 10 a.m. conference he had sent word to Hanoi that he accepts the time and place Hanoi had announced to the world two hours earlier.

Johnson said he was informed of the North Vietnamese agreement at 1 a.m. today. He then conferred with Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials and made his decision.

Leading the U.S. peace mission in the forthcoming Paris talks will be Ambassador at Large W. Averell Harriman, 76, backed by U.S. Ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., 63. Both have long experience in dealing with Communist diplomats.

Heading the North Vietnamese delegation to Paris will be Xuan Thuy (pronounced Foon Twee), 55, a former member of the Communist party Central Committee secretariat.

HANOI'S PURPOSE

Hanoi announced its purpose in the talks would be "to decide with the U.S. side the unconditional cessation by the United States of its bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam North Vietnam and later to talk about other matters related to the two sides."

Johnson ordered March 31 a partial halt in bombing of the North and called for peace talks. He offered to stop the rest of the bombing if Hanoi would show "restraint" in its military operations.

But U.S. officials report Hanoi since early March has greatly increased infiltration of men and weapons into South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Asked about this today Johnson said, "We have been quite concerned" about the North Vietnamese expanding infiltration.

'FIRST STEP'

The President warned the Paris talks would be only the "first step" toward bringing the long and bloody war in Southeast Asia to a close.

On politics, Johnson drew a laugh when he told a questioning reporter that he would discuss "after the convention" whether he would campaign for his party's nominee.

He indicated the setting of a tentative date and site for preliminary talks with North Vietnam had not altered his March 31 decision not to run for reelection.

★ ★ ★

Johnson was asked, too, how he thinks Congress will respond to pressure from the Poor People's march on Washington.

NOW PENDING

He noted that $80 billion of recommendations on social matters are now pending and said "we are hopeful and we expect Congress will give due consideration to all these matters."

Johnson was asked what he thinks the prospects are for his 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

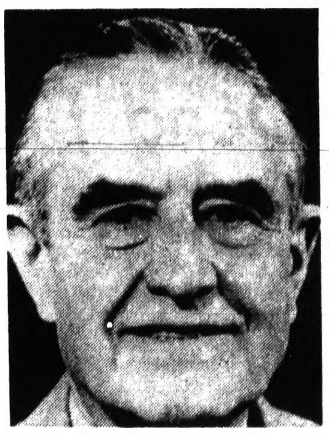

"I think we have a long and difficult road ahead," he said, adding that if he were making up the budget now instead of last fall he would "perhaps add some to it" rather than cut it.

★ ★ ★

While critics are demanding billions of dollars in cuts, he called the budget "very lean" in view of increasing needs in Vietnam and the cities.

★ ★ ★

The President disclosed he is leaving today for Kansas City, Mo., to confer with former President Harry S. Truman on the pending preliminary peace talks with North Vietnam.

LBJ Urges Congress: Pass Tax Hike Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson delivered today his strongest appeal yet for Congress to act on his tax increase proposal.

He told those demanding deeper spending cuts:

"Don't hold up a tax bill until you can blackmail sonmeone."

The President told a nationally televised news conference, his first since last November, that "we are courting danger" by continued delay on the tax proposal.

He called on Congress members to "stand up like men and vote" to pass the tax bill.

He said that he remains personally opposed to spending cuts but that he has reluctantly agreed to the plan approved this week by the House Appropriations Committee.

That would cut spending by $4 billion and appropriations by $18 billion in an effort to pave the way for the tax bill.

But he said Senate-approved spending cuts of $6 billion "would really bring chaos to the government."

Johnson said, "I think the time has come for all the members of Congress to be responsible," to stand up for their country and pass a tax bill—the thing he said needs to be done more than anything else.

★ ★ ★

Johnson promised the government will give "serious consideration" to the appeal planned by the Poor People's Campaign.

THEY'LL BE HEARD

The campaign, the idea of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., started in Memphis yesterday in what is planned as a mass march on Washington from several sections of the nation.

Congress and the Administration will consider the proposals seriously, he said, and then will expect to go on with the business of government.

Johnson struck out at those who by "pursuing . . . personal ambition" divide the country.

And he withheld a commitment to campaign for the Democratic presidential nominee.

'TOO MUCH DIVISION'

"We still have too much division in this country and too many people thinking too much of self and not enough of country," Johnson said.

"Everybody should measure what he has to say," he added, because "he may not have full information . . ."

His administration meets continually to evaluate all information, he said, and "there just are no other people who have that information available to them."

★ ★ ★

Johnson said members of his Cabinet will stay out of the presidential campaign because Communist countries might get the wrong impression of division in this country.

Arizona Man, 47, Is Ninth to Get Transplanted Heart

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A 47-year-old Arizona accountant received the heart of a 15-year-old married woman during a three-hour heart transplant operation today at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

It was the world's ninth transplant case and the first in Texas.

Hospital spokesmen described the condition of the recipient, Everett Clair Thomas, Phoenix, as satisfactory. They said his blood pressure became normal shortly after a single electric shock restored the regular beat of the donor heart.

The hospital did not identify the donor but relatives identified her as Mrs. Charlie L. Martin III, a Houston suburban resident who had been married only six months. The identification was made by the father-in-law, Charles L. Martin Jr.

★ ★ ★

The hospital said the donor died of a gunshot wound to the head.

IN FAIR CONDITION

In Stanford, Calif., Joseph Rizor, 40, was in fair condition after the heart of an unidentified 43-year-old man replaced his own in an operation yesterday.

Dr. Norman E. Shumway, 44, who headed the Stanford transplant team, said the condition of the stocky Salinas, Calif., carpenter was fair.

The patient was receiving artificial respiration to help him breathe "because of a lung condition," Shumway said.

The donor, whose family asked anonymity, died of brain damage doctors described as irreversible.

EIGHTH IN HISTORY

Rizor, eighth person in medical history to undergo a human heart transplant, entered the hospital in March after suffering a serious heart condition for seven years. He wanted the surgery.

Cities Programs Funds Boosted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee, despite budgetary pressures of the Vietnam war, voted today to increase funds for rent supplements, public housing and some other big-city programs in the 12 months starting July 1.

★ ★ ★

But the committee allowed less for all these functions than President Johnson asked.

It sent the house a $13.8-billion money package, covering operations of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and 20 other government agencies, and estimated to trim about $350 million off Johnson's spending plans for the new bookkeeping year.

The President had asked $14.6 billion in new money for the various functions affected. The appropriations cut ran to $782 million, and presumably all of this would be reflected in spending reductions eventually.

In addition, the committee denied administration requests for authority to sell $2.1 billion of shares in such assets as government-owned GI mortgages, and it said this action too should result sooner or later in savings.

OTHER AGENCIES

Other agencies provided for in the big money bill included the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which was cut to $4 billion (from a $4.3-billion request); Veterans Administration, allowed $6.9 billion (all but about $39 million of what it wanted); and the Appalachian development programs, cut $168 million from the $213 million requested.

From top to bottom, everybody was trimmed except the Selective Service system, which got all the $63 million it asked to pay for inducting an estimated 240,000 men in fiscal 1969.

Pontiac Division, GM Truck Sales Top '67 Period

Sales for the first four months of 1968 are ahead of a year ago for both Pontiac Motor Division and GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Pontiac sales through April were 10 per cent ahead of the same period of a year ago, according to John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager.

In that four-month period Pontiac dealers delivered 283,496 units compared with 256,743 in the first four months of 1967.

"As we enter the spring selling season, we have every reason to believe that our sales will continue to increase at an even greater rate over our past records," DeLorean said.

He also reported sales of 81,391 for April and 26,653 for the April 21-30 period.

FAST PACE

Sales of trucks and coaches at GMC Truck and Coach Division continued at a fast pace in April with 12,888 vehicles delivered to the domestic market.

Martin J. Caserio, a vice president of General Motors Corp. and general manager of the division, said last month's total topped the April 1967 figure by 35.5 per cent.

The April surge followed record first-quarter sales. From January through March, a total of 33,534 trucks and coaches were delivered by the divison.

Eisenhower Doing Well

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The progress being made by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower since suffering a mild heart attack Monday continues to satisfy his doctors.

A late bulletin said "there has been no recurrence of any difficulties . . . Gen. Eisenhower remains at complete bedrest in the cardiac care unit."

Weekend Outlook Sun and Showers

Sunshine and showers will be on the agenda for the Pontiac area over the weekend.

The official forecast of the U.S. Weather Bureau is:

TODAY — Mostly cloudy with a chance of showers or thundershowers through tonight. A little cooler. High 63 to 70. Low tonight 38 to 45.

★ ★ ★

TOMORROW — Partly sunny and a little cooler.

SUNDAY — Fair, a little warmer in the afternoon.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today and tonight 50, tomorrow 20.

★ ★ ★

The mercury slipped to a low of 49 in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The recording at 2 p.m. was 52.

Cong Bomb Rips Viet TV Station

★ ★ ★

It blasted a student center and American and South Vietnamese television buildings, killing three Vietnamese and wounding about 25 Vietnamese and five Americans.

Most of the wounded were young Vietnamese girls.

The Vietcong was blamed for the bombing, first major terrorist attack in the South Vietnamese capital since the lunar new year offensive in February.

TNT IN TAXI

Police estimated 120 pounds of TNT was in the taxi. The vehicle had been backed into a narrow driveway between the headquarters of the church-sponsored World Unversity Service building and the main studio for the South Vietnamese govenment television broadcasting service.

The American television station is just beyond the South Vietnamese station, about 75 yards from the blast.

The explosion collapsed the two story university center and blasted windows and shattered partitions in the two broadcast buildings.

★ ★ ★

Road Irregularities Are Probed

THOMAS KENNEDY

By JEAN SAILE

An investigation of alleged irregularities involving a former Oakland County Road Commission weighmaster has been confirmed by the Michigan State attorney general's office and the road commission.

MRS. SAILE

State Police of the Redford post and auditors from the State Treasury Department are sifting allegations lodged against Thomas Kennedy, county weighmaster for 15 years until last fall.

A statement yesterday by L. W. McEntee, attorney for the commission, said, "In September of 1967, the board received information and evidence that the Oakland County Road Commission weighmaster had issued a special hauling permit and had allegedly accepted a cash deposit as a condition for its issuance.

"The road commission files did not contain any record of the permit nor of the receipt of the cash deposit. Upon being confronted with the information and evidence, the weighmaster resigned.

★ ★ ★

"Following his resignation the road commission received additional information and evidence that other permits had been issued and cash deposits received of which the road commission has no record.

SURETY BOND

"The weighmaster was covered by a surety bond and the board has made claim under the bond."

McEntee continued, "All information and evidence concerning the former weighmaster's activities has been turned over to the Michigan State Police who have been investigating the matter.

"The weighmaster department has been reorganized and a former state policeman has been hired as weighmaster."

★ ★ ★

Peter Waisanen, the new weighmaster, was appointed last November to replace Kennedy who lives at 2908 Voorheis, Waterford Township.

AFTER SUSPENSION

Kennedy resigned Oct. 1 — two days after being relieved of his job responsibilities, according to McEntee.

600 Area Phone Workers to Vote on Pact

About 600 Pontiac area telephone workers will be voting on a proposed contract tonight and tomorrow that could end a 16-day-old strike against the Bell Telephone Co.

★ ★ ★

The national strike was called April 18 by the Communications Workers of America, affecting some 200,000 workers in the U.S. Tentative agreement on a nationwide contract was announced between the company and the union yesterday.

The proposed agreement has been termed the biggest package of increased wage and fringe benefits in the industry. Ratification votes will be held at union locals tonight and tomorrow.

In Pontiac, Joe Veresh, president of Local 4012, announced a ratification meeting will be held 6:30 p.m. today at UAW Local 653 at 990 Joslyn, across from Pontiac Motor Division.

DETAILS TO BE GIVEN

Details of the proposed agreement will be given at that time, Veresh said. For those unable to attend, ballots may be cast tomorrow, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Local office, 24½ E. Huron.

Veresh said the executive board has urged ratification. He pointed out the proposed contract contained agreement on an issue important to his local — wage parity with Detroit is included. A difference of about 3 per cent existed formerly, he said.

In details of the national contract it was revealed that top-paid telephone installers would get a raise of $34 per week.

Over-all, wage increases are expected to average nearly 20 per cent over a three-year period.

A company spokesman said the wage package would result in rate increases, but no exact details were revealed.

If the contract is approved nationally, workers are expected to be back on the job by Monday or Tuesday. Little interruption of service was noted during the strike as equipment was manned by supervisory personnel.

Skin, Kidneys, Spleen Donated

Dead Boy May Save 4 Lives

DANIEL SOCHOR

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — The parents of Daniel Sochor, dead at 11, have offered new hope to four persons. They have given his skin to one, his spleen to another and his kidneys to two others.

Daniel, described as "a lively little boy" by his father, Stanley Sochor, died after a traffic accident Thursday as he returned from a Little League baseball game.

His father and mother, deeply religious Seventh-day Adventists, readily agreed to suggestions by doctors at Loma Linda University Hospital that their son's vitality benefit the living.

The boy's kidneys were sped to the University of California at Los Angeles Medical Center and transplanted to Chester S. Garbacz, 42, of Claremont, Calif., and Herman Holloway, 34, of Los Angeles.

About the same time much of his skin was grafted onto Mrs. Brandon McLane of Loma Linda, who had suffered third-degree burns in a March 28 fire that killed her young son. The new skin covered 40 per cent of her body.

Meanwhile a few miles south, a part of Daniel's spleen was being used to treat "a serious blood disease" in an unidentified patient at Orange County General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Hospital spokesmen reported both kidney recipients were in good condition while the burn patient remained critical. There was no report on the spleen case.

The youngster died after artificial means could no longer sustain his life, a hospital spokesman said. Garbacz, one of the kidney recipients, was taken in a Los Angeles County helicopter to get to an operating table in time.

Kidnap Suspect to Be Arraigned in Second Case

A Pontiac man was to be arraigned this afternoon on new charges of kidnaping and raping a second Pontiac woman last March.

★ ★ ★

Already being held in the Oakland County Jail in the abduction of a 19-year-old woman on Monday, Laurence S. Moore, 24, was charged again yesterday as the man who attacked a 21-year-old woman on March 15.

Following his arrest Tuesday in Genesee County, Moore of 499 W. Huron was charged with kidnaping, rape and gross indecency involving Mrs. Norman Kinnison Jr., 435½ University.

The charges filed yesterday by the Oakland County prosecutor's office involved a woman, who like Mrs. Kinnison, was kidnaped from the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center parking lot in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

She had told Waterford Township police following the March 15 incident that she had been forced to drive her abductor to a secluded area in White Lake Township where she was raped and robbed of $81.

$50,000 BOND

Moore, who is being held in lieu of $50,000 bond, is to have his preliminary hearing on the initial charges next Friday before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead.

His arraignment today on the new charges is also before Hempstead.

Moore is also charged with a third count of kidnaping involving Mrs. Kinnison's 14-year-old brother-in-law, Frank Kinnison.

★ ★ ★

The boy had been waiting for his sister-in-law when he was approached by a man with a knife and small pistol and told to introduce him as a friend when Mrs. Kinnison returned.

★ ★ ★

Kinnison was later released in Commerce Township, where he contacted the Walled Lake police. Mrs. Kinnison was held captive for nearly 12 hours before she gained her freedom near Columbiaville in Lapeer County.

'Hope Focus' Seminar Set at School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — "Focus Summer Hope," a human relations project of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, will open in Oakland County Tuesday in the auditorium of St. Hugo Elementary School, 380 E. Hickory Grove.

The meeting, first of three on consecutive Tuesday evenings, will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will feature Dr. Hubert G. Locke, director of the office of religious affairs at Detroit's Wayne State University, as guest speaker.

★ ★ ★

Locke, who also serves as research associate for Wayne State's Center for Urban Studies, will discuss "Power and Violence in an Urban Society."

A Wayne State graduate, Locke earned his bachelor of divinity degree at the Chicago Theological Seminary and a master of arts degree at the University of Michigan.

Involved in youth and religious affairs in the Detroit area since 1956, he has served as associate youth work secretary for the Detroit Downtown YMCA, minister for the Conant Gardens Church of Christ, and executive director of the Citizens' Committee for Equal Opportunity.

DR. HUBERT G. LOCKE

★ ★ ★

Other meetings in the series will also be held in the St. Hugo auditorium. Lorenzo Wright will be the guest speaker May 14, while an open discussion by a panel on urban affairs is planned for May 21.

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham-Bloomfield Poetry Club will present "Max Ellison Night" May 14 at The Community House, 380 S. Bates, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Ellison, born in Bellaire, has given poetry readings at Grand Valley and Schoolcraft colleges and Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities.

Wayne State is making a video tape of his poetry readings to be used there and made available to other universities.

Recordings may be borrowed for a week with the cost "on the house" at Baldwin Public Library, 351 Martin, beginning Monday.

The customary loan fee is being temporarily set aside in honor of National Music Week, May 5-12.

All recordings will be affected, from Wagner operas to instructions in the Japanese language.

For those desiring to audition records in making a selection, earphones will be available at the home reading desk for use on the library turntable.

The library's special collection had its origin some 20 years ago when Mrs. Albert Kahn donated a number of records as a memorial to her late husband.

Loan of the records on a rental basis has permitted expansion and development of the collection until at the present time it totals about 1,500 LPs.

Struck by Car Near Home, Avon Woman Listed Critical

An Avon Township woman is in critical condition at Crittenton Hospital today after being struck by a car while walking near her home.

Mrs. Jack Pankey, 37, of 313 Avon underwent a number of transfusions with blood transferred by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies from Detroit, Macomb County and hospitals in Pontiac during the night.

Sheriff's deputies investigating the accident said Mrs. Pankey apparently was walking in the roadway when she was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Boone Pace, 39, of 1581 Gravelridge, Avon Township.

The accident occurred on Avon Road just east of Rochester Road shortly before 10 p.m. It is still under investigation.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Pace said she did not see anyone and only stopped after she heard a thud. Deputies said that Mrs. Pankey was wearing dark clothing.

Kennedy, when contacted by The Pontiac Press, said that all monies involved had been paid back to the road commission.

RETIREMENT FUND

"They've got my retirement fund. I haven't talked to them about it, and that's all."

Kennedy who reported he is now self-employed said he did not know the sum involved.

As weighmaster, Kennedy had charge of truck traffic on county roads. The weight of loads carried by trucks and road weight restrictions were enforced through a system of bonds and permits by his office.

The original complaint to the State Police was made by an unidentified source other than the county commission.

Chairman Frazer W. Staman said, "We did not call the State Police."

Probe Stalled in Triple Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — Police today continued their investigation of the mysterious slayings of three men in a Detroit apartment.

An inspector said that the probe is stalled at the moment for lack of a motive for the killings.

"We have no suspects and no motive," the inspector said.

"It would really help our investigation if we could come up with the motive."

The victims were William Jackson, 38, a Ford Rouge plant worker; Donald S. Pressley, 25, an employe of Herman Keifer Hospital, and Robert Gillum, 27, who apparently was unemployed.

All lived in Detroit, but not at the apartment where the bodies were found.

Police said the four residents of the apartment, who reported finding the bodies and summoned police, said they were away from the apartment when the killings took place.

GTW Commuter Load Up 42 Pct. in 3 Months

Grand Trunk Western Railroad's Pontiac-to-Detroit commuter trains are experiencing an upswing in the amount of passengers traveling the 26-mile route.

The railroad showed a surge of 42 per cent in the first three months of 1968, a continuation of the upward trend that started last spring, according to John W. Demcoe, vice president and general manager.

He said 183,580 commuters rode the rail cars in the first three months of 1968 compared to 128,831 in the first quarter of 1967.

The daily average of passengers has risen from 2,045 last year to 2,914 for the first three months of 1968.

★ ★ ★

The peak load this year was 3,357 on March 13.

FULL DISTANCE

Commuters traveling the full distance from Pontiac to the Brush Street station in Detroit, or back, total 7,774.

Demcoe predicted the commuter service between Detroit and its near-north neighbors would continue to increase as commuters try to beat the freeway rush.

Smoking Is Blamed

Couple Escape Apartment Fire

A Pontiac couple escaped without serious injury early this morning when a fire swept through their apartment on the city's northeast side.

Capt. Jack McKenna of the Pontiac Fire Department blamed the 3 a.m. fire in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hudson, 890 Robinwood, on careless smoking.

Hudson suffered burns on his hands in attempting to put out the fire, according to firemen. A fire fighter, Richard Best, also was burned around the ears.

McKenna said both rooms in the Hudsons' second-floor apartment were damaged. Total damage to the buliding and contents was estimated at $5,000 by fire department officials.

Fireman said the building is owned by Dale Anderson of 3459 Mahopac, Orion Township.

Reuther Raps Meany Again

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A drawn-out feud between two powerful labor chieftains has again surfaced with United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther threatening to cut his union's ties with the AFL-CIO.

★ ★ ★

Delegates arriving here today for the UAW's 21st Constitutional Convention were greeted with a report from Reuther saying if his call for a special AFL-CIO convention is rejected, "We could not in good conscience continue to be confined within the restricted limits of an organization ruled by the dead hand of the past."

Reuther never mentioned AFL-CIO President George Meany by name, but it was clear to whom he was referring.

A UAW spokesman declined to comment on a report that UAW leaders will ask the delegates for approval to stop payment of $1 million dues a year for AFL-CIO membership. Withholding of dues would in effect leave the auto workers in the federation in name alone.

"It is a sad and disappointing fact that the AFL-CIO leadership shies away from a full and open confrontation with the arguments and proposals the UAW has advanced to make American labor more relevant and more effective," Reuther said. He repeated his criticism that the AFL-CIO has become complacent under Meany's leadership.

The week-long UAW convention opens Saturday.

House Committee to Look at Surtax, Spending-Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee—where President Johnson's proposed income tax boost has lanquished in limbo for eight months—will take a new look at the measure and a companion $18 billion appropriations cut plan.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he wants to sound out the committee Monday before any more sessions of a Senate-House conference committee seeking a compromise package.

★ ★ ★

"There is no point in going much farther in the conference until I have an idea what the committee will back," Mills told newsmen Thursday.

The Senate has passed a bill including a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, as proposed by President Johnson. That same bill calls for a $6-billion spending cut in Johnson's budget for fiscal 1969, which begins July 1.

The conference committee has been discussing this bill for several weeks without much outward sign of progress. But the House Appropriations Committee made its own recommendation on spending this week: an $18-billion long-range appropriations cut, including a $4 billion slash in the coming fiscal year.

There are predictions the final figure for fiscal 1969 spending reductions will amount to $5 billion.

★ ★ ★

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee, said House Republicans won't support any tax-economy package unless it calls for a $6-billion cut in the coming year.

GOP AID NEEDED

It is believed GOP support will be needed in both Senate and House to pass any tax-spending bill.

Sen. McCarthy Wins Big Poll

Million Votes Cast on U. S. Campuses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., has emerged the winner in the most ambitious mock presidential election ever held to sample the thinking of American college students.

More than one million students cast ballots on 1,207 campuses, taking their pick of 13 presidential prospects and answering a series of questions about the Vietnam war.

Results of the voting at Oakland University have not yet been received by the university from Washington where the ballets were sent for tabulaiton, an OU spokesman said.

Sponsors of Choice 68 said Thursday the computer-counted results of the April 24 balloting showed McCarthy victorious with 285,988 votes.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was second with 213,832.

Since the ballot went to the printers before President Johnson's March 31 announcement that he would not run again, there was no listing for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, now actively campaigning for the Democratic nomination. Humphrey received 18,535 write-ins.

Third place went to Republican Richard M. Nixon, with 197,167 votes. His GOP rival, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, was fourth with 115,937.

President Johnson was fifth with 57,362 votes despite his disavowal, followed by George Wallace, 33,078; California Gov. Ronald Reagan, 28,215; and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, 22,301.

Choice 68 was sponsored and financed by Time Magazine and Univac Division of Sperry Rand Corp., with policy controlled by a board of student directors.

Computer analysis of the ballots showed students voting in opposition to present U.S. war policy made up 85 per cent of McCarthy's strength, two-thirds of Kennedy's.

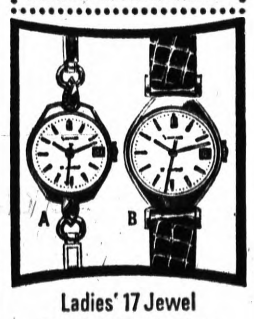

More than half the students voting asked for a halt to the bombing of North Vietnam and a reduction of the U.S. military effort.

Twenty-nine per cent asked for a permanent bombing halt and another 29 per cent favored temporary suspension of all attacks. Twenty-six per cent suggested intensified bombing raids, and 4 per cent backed nuclear attacks.

Forty-five per cent supported a phased reduction of the American military activities and 18 per cent backed immediate withdrawal. Twenty-one per cent called for an "all out U.S. military effort."

How to Best Utilize School

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

KEEGO HARBOR — How can you get the most for your money out of a school building? The Roosevelt Elementary School PTA has a way.

First, keep it open in the evenings, on Saturdays and during vacations.

Second, open it to all family members. Not just families with youngsters attending the school, but all families in the city.

The idea is called "community school." Whether it becomes a reality in Keego Harbor depends on a survey being taken this week.

★ ★ ★

About 30 PTA members are canvassing the city's 950 homes. Questions asked include: Do you go for the community school idea? What activities would you be interested in? Gymnastics? Water safety? Cake decorating? Reading improvement? Psychology? Senior citizens group?

IDEAS TO BE COMPILED

The answers will be compiled and put before the West Bloomfield Board of Education in the last part of May or early June, said Donald Grothe, head of the community school committee.

Earlier this year, the board gave the committee the go-ahead to conduct the survey. Results of the survey will determine whether or not Roosevelt will become a community school by Fall, said Grothe.

Residents interested in the community school but missed by the canvassers can contact Mrs. James Thompson, 3023 Norcott, survey chairman.

If the program is approved, it may be financed with Federal funds, Grothe said. Total cost can't yet be estimated, he added.

FIRST IN DISTRICT

He did say that a program director would have to be hired.

Roosevelt Elementary would be the first school in the West Bloomfield School District to carry on such a program.

Plans began after Roosevelt Principal Norman C. Katner presented the concept to the school's PTA.

★ ★ ★

The community school committee recently visited a Mott Foundation school in Flint to see such a program in operation.

BROAD REPRESENTATION

The 12-member steering committee includes representatives from the local Mothers' Club, Youth Protective and Child Guidance Committee, City Council, West Bloomfield Jaycees, Pontiac Model Airplane Club and the city police department.

SCHOOL SURVEY—Mrs. James Thompson (right), 3023 Norcott, Keego Harbor, stops at one of the nearly 950 homes in her city where residents are being asked if they want Roosevelt Elementary School to become a "community school." Builder Ready to Drop Fight on Troy Petitions

TROY — Petitions opposing the controversial Biltmore rezoning may be presented to the City Commission Monday night.

City Clerk Kenneth Courtney said today he is required by law to present the certified petitions if the Biltmore Development Co. follows its announced intention to drop a lawsuit against the city now pending in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Norman Cohen, representing the development firm, announced Tuesday at a joint meeting of the commission and planning commission, that Biltmore was abandoning the case, in which it had received an injunction barring the city from taking any action with regard to the petitions.

Cohen said the action was being taken in the interest of "better public spirit and better public relations," despite feeling that "we had a sound legal position."

★ ★ ★

Biltmore won a rezoning of land north of Big Beaver and east of Coolidge Jan. 19 for a proposed expansion of its Somerset apartment complex, located south of Big Beaver.

OBJECTED TO CHANGE

Residents, however, objected to the change, and began a petition drive shortly afterwards to force the commission to repeal the rezoning or put the matter to a public referendum.

Petitions bearing signatures of the required number of voters were subsequently filed with the city clerk's office, and were in the process of being certified when the injunction was issued by Circuit Court Judge Robert L. Templin.

Five From Area Cited by Ford for Citizenship

Five area residents have been named recipients of Ford Motor Co.'s "Good Citizen Awards."

Those honored at a recent dinner were: Russell J. Williams, 1521 Gravel Ridge, Avon Township; Mrs. Howard Hissong, 212 South Helen, Rochester; Peter Hines, 53454 Bruce Hill, Avon Township; Will Avril, 236 Church, Romeo; and Jose G. Benavides, 11015 Dill, Utica.

Williams, an engineer at Michigan Proving Grounds, Romeo, was commended for his work with Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, YMCA field days and skating Olympics, and for charitable promotions and civic drives sponsored by local organizations.

He is a counselor for young auto mechanics and auto electronics enthusiasts and serves as assistant chief of the local Indian Guides.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hissong, whose husband also works at Michigan Proving Grounds, was honored for her work in organizing 22 Camp Fire Girl groups.

MILLAGE CAMPAIGN

Hines was honored for his work in support of a millage renewal campaign for schools, for conducting a door-to-door get-out-the-vote campaign and for his work as a member of his community's Land Use Committee.

Hines is an order cancellation analyst at the Utica Trim Plant.

Avril, an accountant at the Utica Trim Plant, was commended for his work with the Republican Party. He reportedly devotes 10 hours a week to research and lining up delegates for local, state and national conventions.

★ ★ ★

He is also active in the Jaycees, serving as treasurer of his group. He is a member of Romeo's Beautification Committee, and raises funds to add books to the library.

Benavides, an engineer at the Mount Clemens Paint Plant, won his award for service as cochairmjn of his community's School Citizens Advisory Committee, get-out-the-vote efforts, and service as cochairman of his com-Charter Advisory Committee.

New Holly School Millage Drive Starts

HOLLY — Another millage drive is under way in this school district.

A citizens' group, headed by Fred J. Mills, 113 N. Corbin, is organizing to push for approval of the board of education's fifth millage request in just over a year.

Though four previous efforts to gain the money—to be asked June 10—have failed, Mills sees cause for optimism.

"I've gotten good encouragement from the people I've talked with so far," he said today.

★ ★ ★

A committee has been formed to formulate ideas and study the needs of the district, he added, "so that within the next week, when we begin presenting the millage to the voters of Holly, we'll have the necessary facts and figures."

CITES TURNOUT

Mills cited the heavy turnout at a board meeting Monday night as a good sign for the upcoming vote.

At that meeting, about 80 citizens attended. Many pledged their support in another election.

The board then voted unanimously to resubmit to voters the proposed 3-mill increase which had been rejected April 10.

★ ★ ★

Previously, requests for 10 mills were defeated twice. On a third election the 10 mills was split into 7 mills renewal and a 3-mill increase, and voters approved renewal only.

DISCOURAGEMENT

In a meeting April 22, board members made it apparent that only a considerable outpouring of popular sentiment might make another election try possible.

They generally expressed discouragement with the April 10 failure, and spent most of the evening discussing budget cuts for the 1968-69 school year.

Most said they agreed with Trustee Lloyd Good, who said he couldn't see what good another election would do. "I think we've been whipped badly enough, and I think the citizens were aware of what the consequences would be," declared Good.

★ ★ ★

The board has made public a list of cuts which will be enacted if the proposal fails again in June.

FOLLOWS SUGGESTION

The list, according to Supt. of Schools Russell Haddon, contains parts of two proposals which the board studied at the April 22 meeting.

The compromise between the two cutback packages follows a suggestion of Trustee Robert P. Longstreth, who had urged that the board add parts of the two packages together.

The first proposal centered in the administrative area, and included the reassignment of an assistant principal and a junior high librarian as teachers, the elimination of 3½ unhired teachers, and the elimination of sponsors and coaches for a number of extracurricular activities.

★ ★ ★

The second proposal involved cuts in the areas of student transportation, athletics, music and art.

The final cut list agreed upon by the board includes most of the administrative cuts, but also adds reduction in field trips, elimination of two audio-visual coordinators, and elimination of busing to athletic contests.

Staff reductions, Haddon said, will mean no art, music or physical education at the elementary level.

Water-Sewer Hearings May 14-15

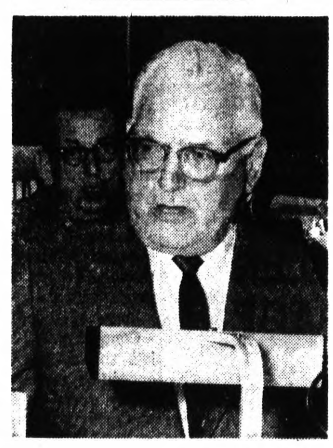

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Public hearings May 14 and 15 on proposed water and sewer plans for the township will be conducted before any control ordinance is adopted by the Township Board.

Township Clerk Howard Altman said a meeting yesterday with township engineering and financial consultants had confirmed that such an ordinance can be delayed until after the meetings and still keep the township well within its deadline for action.

The duplicate meetings are scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Clarkston Senior High School for the purpose of informing residents of their financial obligation in connection with development of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor.

The township is one of six townships to be connected to the huge sewer, construction of which is to begin this month.

A system of internal laterals emptying into the interceptor and ready for use when the interceptor is complete is the object of current township planning.

Social Justice Unit Is Organized in Orion and Oxford

The first fruit of a series of human relations meetings in the Oxford-Orion area is the organization of a social justice task force to create changes in racial attitudes.

About 150 people met last night at First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, 471 S. Broadway, Lake Orion, to elect B. A. Tomczak, 5923 Lake George, Addison Township temporary chairman.

Nine committees involving business and employment practices, communications, public education, housing and real estate, public relations, legislation, law enforcement, citizen education and liason with other like groups in the county were formed and chairmen elected.

A report on their activities is due at a meeting to take place May 23 in Oxford. The location of the meeting has not yet been determined.

★ ★ ★

The group was informed that a teen human relations council from Lake Orion has combined with one from Pontiac Northern High School for a cleanup effort, picnic and ball game beginning at noon Sunday at Beaudette Park.

House Ordered Demolished

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has issued orders that a house, termed an eyesore by neighbors and township building officials, be torn or burned down.

The cottage-type structure at 6617 Pinnock, just south of Buckland, will be removed within six weeks, according to John Ward, head of the township building department.

Ward terms this case especially unusual because the house has been vacant for at least six years, according to his information. Two nearby neighbors say the summer cottage has been vacant for at least 15 years.

The building department is deciding the cheapest method of razing the house. The cost will be added onto the owner's property taxes.

★ ★ ★

The owner, Roman Garwood of Detroit and 550 Hamlin, Avon Township, hasn't acknowledged four notices that his house is in violation of the township ordinance defining unsafe houses, according to officials.

BUILDING CONDEMNED

The ordinance requires that if repairs on the house amount to more than 50 per cent of the replacement cost, the owner is to tear or burn it down within 30 days of receiving the violation notice.

A notice dated Jan. 9 remains tacked to the sagging porch. Under it is a notice of condemnation of the structure.

Even if the house is boarded up, it would still be a fire and safety hazard, said Max Selle, in charge of building violations in the township.

★ ★ ★

Selle described the house as having holes in the roof and floor, being without sanitary facilities and strewn with old furniture.

The Pontiac Press erred in reporting Wednesday that a new Brandon Township citizens' group will hold its organizational meeting tomorrow night.

The group, which is being formed to inform citizens about governmental activities and programs on all levels, will have its first formal meeting May 25 at 8 p.m. at the township hall in Ortonville.

Milford Township Gets Grant for Urban Planning

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — A $6,308 urban planning assistance grant has been awarded this township by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The funds will be combined with $3,154 from the township to finance the first of a two-year planning study, said township Supervisor William L. Mainland.

The township will soon be applying for a similar grant for the second year of the study, the supervisor said.

The study will lead to a new master land-use plan. The current master plan was adopted in 1957.

The planning firm, Parkins Rogers Associates Inc. of Detroit has been hired for the job.

Proposed Novi Budget Is Up

NOVI — This village's proposed 1968-69 budget calls for revenues and expenditures which are $126,070 more than last year. The tentative total is $493,440.

A public hearing on the budget is set for Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Village Hall, 25850 Novi.

A copy of the proposed budget is available for public inspection at the Village Hall.

A major change in anticipated revenues is a $12,000 increase in property taxes, from $156,000 last year to $168,000 for 1968-69.

★ ★ ★

The addition comes from an increase in assessed valuation from $32 million to $36 million, said Village Manager Harold Ackley.

REASONS FOR HIKE

He attributes the valuation hike to home and business construction.

This is also reflected in a $9,000 anticipated addition to water department revenues, estimated at $65,000 last year.

Changes in expenditures include an estimated $9,000 more for the police department for a total of $17,700. This covers more equipment and cars and higher general expenses, said Ackley.

★ ★ ★

The proposed budget also includes $4,700 more for the fire department for a total of $17,700 and $20,640 more for roads for a total of $102,740, explained Ackley.

Fired as Map Technician

Girl Denies U.S. Morals Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 22-year-old woman charged Thursday that her security clearance was revoked and that she was forced to resign from an Army job on the basis of reports that she was immoral—reports which, she said, she was not permitted to see.

Carolyn Lea Tatnall, a photographic information technician with the Army Map Service, said she was told by a government security officer the reports had come from neighbors in her apartment building. She said in an interview that she could find no one in the building who would admit to having talked to government investigators.

* * *

An Army spokesman denied that Miss Tatnall was forced to resign, but confirmed revocation of her security-clearance.

"I don't understand it," she said. "I'm not promiscuous."

INTERROGATION SESSION

On Feb. 19, Miss Tatnall said, she underwent a 2½-hour interrogation session at the Pentagon. She said she was asked, among other things: Are you a homosexual? Have you ever had an abortion? Do you take birth-control pills? She said she was told she would have to answer the same questions the following week in a lie detector test.

Miss Tatnall was never called back for the test, she said, but on April 2 a security officer and a representative from the personnel section of the Army Map Service told her that her security clearance had been revoked.

Miss Tatnall quoted the security officer as saying, "Based on the security reports that you are immoral and not of character to handle classified material, we are not only refusing you a top secret clearance, but we are also revoking any previous clearances that you have had. From now on you are not authorized to work with classified material of any sort."

* * *

She said he told her that "in mid-March the investigators went to your apartment and received a derogatory report on you . . . They came up with seven derogatory reports from that one building to confirm it. Do you give wild parties in your apartment? Apparently you shout and have violent fights and drinking sessions. Does someone else have a key to that apartment?"

HER REPLIES

Miss Tatnall said she replied that she didn't know of seven people who would say such things, that she has had only one party—a birthday party—in the six months she lived in the apartment and that she invited the neighbors so they wouldn't be disturbed by the noise and that her boyfriend had a key so he could feed her fish and her cat when she went home to Philadelphia on weekends.

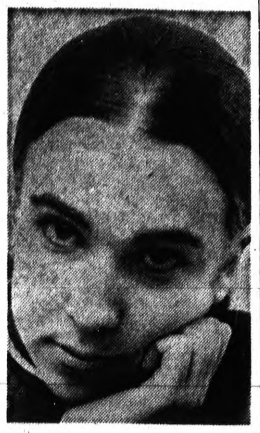

She was told the following day by her superior, she said, that unless she resigned she would be fired. Miss Tatnall said she resigned and left work April 19.

* * *

Harold P. Dunning, personnel chief at the Army Map Service, said there had been a "routine background investigation" of Miss Tatnall but claimed no knowledge of any Pentagon interview.

There was no comment from the Pentagon.

Cunning said that Miss Tatnall was told that as a result of the background investigation, her security clearance was being revoked "but I'm sure nobody told her to resign or be fired. I wouldn't permit anyone on my staff to talk to an employe like that."

Senate Okays Sex Education

LANSING (UPI) — Bills allowing students in public schools to be taught sex educationand birth control met different fates in the Senate yesterday.

The bill allowing sex education to be taught, with a House amendment giving local school districts the power to set the standards for "competent" sex education teachers, passed the Senate 23-6.

The birth control bill, with a House amendment striking out a clause allowing students to be excused from classes where "symptoms of disease" are taught, was defeated but will be reconsidered today.

The sex education bill orders the State Department of Education to help local school districts set up sex education classes from kindergarten through postcollege levels.

COMPREHENSIVE PROGRAM

The comprehensive program would include instruction in the "emotional, physical, psychological, hygenic, economic and social aspects of family life and sexual relations, as well as socially deviant behavior."

Aslo, under the bill's provisions, a library of films, tapes and books would be established for the program.

Legislators in Middle in Detroit Tax Plight

LANSING (UPI) — Detroit members on the House Taxation Committee continued in an uncomfortable cross fire today — caught between their mayor, who wants higher taxes for the city, and their legislative colleagues, who do not.

They are also caught between fears of driving taxpayers out of the city and not providing proper services for those who stay.

* * *

As yet ,no cavalry has come over the hill in the form of endorsement for higher Motor City taxes from either the Common Council or city employes, who would benefit most from $30 million in new city revenue next year.

At stake are two tax bills that would affect only Detroit, which is running in the red by nearly that much.

One would let the Common Council double the resident city income tax from 1 per cent to 2 per cent; the other would let the city sell five mills worth of budget bonds for building purposes.

The income tax hike would raise about $40 million for a full year, and the bonding proposal as much as $24 million a year if it were fully utilized.

About 80 per cent of diabetic adults were overweight prior to the onset of the disease.

Vital to Retain Waterford School Levy

Monday, Waterford Township School District voters will be asked to decide a crucial millage issue — one which will have a major effect on the future education of their children.

Up for renewal at the polls will be a 15-mill operating tax levy.

In recent months, township voters have shown an unwillingness to approve additional school taxes. Last fall, school district voters soundly defeated a proposed 7½-mill tax increase.

★ ★ ★

But this one is different. It isn't a tax increase. A "Yes" vote Monday will merely continue an already existing tax levy for 15 years.

The 15-mill levy in question became effective in December 1964 and is scheduled to expire in December 1969 unless voters act to renew it.

With the township school district already reeling from the effects of last fall's millage setback, failure of the voters to approve this millage renewal would spell serious trouble for the school system.

★ ★ ★

Some cutbacks have already been announced as a result of last year's tax defeat. Others would be inevitable without the continuing 15-mill levy. The situation could be drastic.

In addition, according to school officials, failure of voters to renew the 15 mills would mean the school district wouldn't be levying enough local millage to receive state aid. At least 10 mills must be levied locally to make the school district eligible for state aid, which provided the Waterford Township School District with 65 per cent, or more than $6 million, of its operating income last year.

We urge voters to cast ballots in favor of renewing the 15-mill operating levy. Defeat of this proposal could completely cripple educational programs for Waterford Township children.

'You Just Fill In The Bottom Line!'

Pulitzer Prize Awards Seldom Win United Praise

Pulitzer Prizes in journalism, letters and music are traditionally announced at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism on the first Monday of May. The one thing predictable about the annual awards is the debate that ensues.

A 14-member advisory panel made up of newspaper executives and the secretary of the Graduate School awards eight prizes in journalism and seven in the arts yearly from among recommendations submitted by various juries. But the advisory board can ignore the jury recommendation if it chooses, and herein lies fertile ground for controversy.

★ ★ ★

There was a flare-up last year when the advisory board overruled its juries on national and international reporting. They wanted to bestow prizes on Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson for disclosure in the Sen. Thomas Dodd case and on Harrison E. Salisbury for his reporting from North Vietnam for the New York Times.

Instead, the awards went to R. JOHN HUGHES of the Christian Science Monitor for dispatches from Indonesia and to STANLEY W. PENN and MONROE W. KARMIN of the Wall Street Journal for exposing links between organized crime in the United States and gambling in the Bahamas.

★ ★ ★

And in the arts, playwright EDWARD ALBEE accepted the 1967 Pulitzer drama award only reluctantly—with a statement sharply critical of the prize system. His comments added to a sizable body of criticism from the journalistic and literary communities over the years since prizes were first bestowed in 1916 in honor of the late JOSEPH PULITZER SR.

That the awards continue to generate interest and controversy is strong evidence that they are still held in high esteem.

Nader Again Assumes Role of the Gadfly

The United Mine Workers of America is a voice crying in coal pits against the perils of atomic energy, which apparently it alone perceives.

Nuclear power plants are spewing out highly radioactive wastes around the Country and constitute a danger to the health and well-being of the American people, warns union president W. A. BOYLE. Besides that, they're uneconomic. They also compete with coal.

★ ★ ★

The UMW feels so strongly about the matter that in March it expelled "District 50," its affiliated union representing atomic energy plant workers, because of that organization's endorsement of atomic energy.

Comes now on the scene RALPH NADER, the man who has taken on such giants as the auto, meat-packing and gas industries, with another ringing "j'accuse."

★ ★ ★

The United Mine Workers, along with the whole coal industry and the U.S. Bureau of Mines, NADER has just charged, is guilty of neglecting the health and safety of — you guessed it — coal mine workers.

Pays Tribute To Hockey Immortal

By DICK SAUNDERS

We lost a giant when Jack Adams died this week.

At age 72, he collapsed on the job in the sport to which he devoted his life — ice hockey.

SAUNDERS

He was a man who made dreams come true. He made it possible for me to grow up into a world studded with dreams and glory.

★ ★ ★

When asked recently why he served on the Spirit of Detroit Association, a group credited with bringing big-time hydroplane racing to Detroit, Adams said he thought he owed something to the city which had given him so much. It was typical of him.

Jack Adams gave Detroit far more than it could give in return. He brought unprecedented hockey glory to the Detroit area. After a distinguished career as a player, Adams came here to guide the newly formed Detroit Hockey Club in 1927.

After 35 years as coach and general manager, he left the Detroit Red Wings in 1962 to become president of the Central Professional Hockey League, a position he held until his death.

★ ★ ★

Adams guided the Wings to 12 National Hockey League titles, including an unequalled seven straight titles from 1949 to 1955. His teams won seven Stanley Cups, the symbol of supremecy in professional hockey.

It was Adams who discovered a kid playing on a rink in Floral, Saskatchewan, in the mid 1940s and brought him to Detroit. That kid, Gordie Howe, just finished his 22nd season. He became the greatest athlete ever to strap on a pair of skates in the National Hockey League.

Jolly Jack was a trader. He made many good player deals. He made a few bad ones. You can't win them all.

★ ★ ★

Some may prefer to remember him for a few of the bad trades late in his career.

Not me. I prefer to remember the glory.

Kids need champions. He gave them to me — a whole string of champions.

I'll remember it was Jack Adams who gave me heroes like Terry Sawchuck, Alex Delvecchio, Ted Lindsey, Sid Abel, "Black Jack" Stewart, and so many others.

★ ★ ★

He gave me Gordie Howe. Around the Saunders household, Gordie Howe is 'It.' I constantly tell my 10-year-old son to watch and savor Howe's every move on the ice because in all likelihood, he will live out his life without ever again seeing a greater athlete.

Without Jack Adams it would have been another story in another place.

David Lawrence Says:

Criticism of Peace Efforts Unjust

WASHINGTON — The American government, in its efforts to get peace talks started with North Vietnam, is being blamed for the delays not only by the Communist world but right here in the Unites States.

LAWRENCE

The critics of the President, many of them motivated by what they think is "popular" with the country, are accusing him of going back on his word when he said he would be willing to go to the peace table "any time, any place."

Obviously he meant any suitable location, and didn't mean the city of Hanoi or any other Communist center.

When Indonesia suggested one of its ships as a possible site, Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said that this was not a "neutral" spot because the Communists had recently been overthrown in a revolution in Indonesia.

But the same senator didn't hesitate to favor Warsaw, which is, of course, not a neutral place but the capital of a country that is Communist-controlled.

Again and again America's adversaries have been encouraged by what is being said inside the United States about the Vietnam war. In the last few days, a survey made by the Gallup Poll has shown that the "hawks" and the "doves" are now about 50-50.

But in describing a "hawk" or a "dove," the distinction was on the basis of whether the individual wanted to "step up" or "reduce" our military effort in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

As between those two points of view, certainly a large number would not have a chance to make clear that they do not, in any case, want the United States to go to the peace table and surrender.

SHREWD PLANNING

It is evident that the North Vietnamese have been shrewdly planning to prolong the debate over the selection of a site for a meeting. The idea is to keep the preliminary talks going — past the time of the American elections, if possible.

Meanwhile, the United States has restricted its bombing, and this is a big advantage to North Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese have completely misinterpreted the temper and mood of the United States.

★ ★ ★

Certainly the American people would like to see an end to the war. But they also want to be assured that there will not be a bigger war coming as the result of some patched-up peace which merely opens the way for further Communist aggressions in other Asian countries that would surely involve the United States militarily once more.

NOT FRIENDLY ACT

Some of the candidates for the presidential nomination have indicated they would like to see the National Liberation Front — the political arm of the Communist guerrillas — represented at the conference. The people of South Vietnam are not likely to regard this as a friendly act.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, there has been a noticeable indifference in this country to the feelings of the South Vietnamese, who are making enormous sacrifices in an effort to preserve their independence.

Bob Considine Says:

Anti-De Gaulle Feeling Shocks French Reporter

NEW YORK — Le Figaro, the important Paris newspaper, recently sent one of its better reporters to the U.S. to check up on wild rumors that a few people in this country have come to the conclusion that if Charles de Gaulle is our friend then we don't need any enemies.

CONSIDINE

Anne Thinesse, the reporter, was shocked by her findings. Some of what she dispatched back to Paris is being ventilated in the May issue of Atlas magazine, the only magazine which lets the American people know who is talking behind our backs, and where.

"Francophobia in America," Mlle. Thinesse's report, contains such passages as:

"When a customer in a grocery store asked for a piece of Brie, another reprimanded her with: "Don't you know that cheese is imported (from France) and don't you know that de Gaulle is out for our gold?'

★ ★ ★

"A famous delicatessen has removed cans of snails, quenelles and foie gras from its show windows. In Chicago, a restaurant owner put signs on the doors of his two restaurants saying: 'We do not serve French wines, due to the rudeness of General de Gaulle.'

DROP IN CHEESES

"As for cheeses, there has been a drop of as much as 80 to 90 per cent in the ultra-conservative areas which are particularly fertile terrains for Francophobia.

"As good as Brie, roquefort and other French cheeses may be, if wrapped in the tricolor they are markedly shunned."

Mlle. Thinesse wrote, with finesse, that part of this catastrophe that has befallen de Gaulle's goodies can be traced to "ironic and vulgar comments on France and its government being made by certain television personalities."

Vive the vulgar!

Note from Larry Gray, former Hollywood star now living in Mexico City:

"How to stop the war in Vietnam?

"Why don't we set up a black market in Communist war weapons? Knowing what I know about borders, it is a simple thing for the enemy to cross the DMZ and deliver these items to certain receiving stations where they will be paid for in cash or rice, and all will end up happy.

We should have the same arrangement with the in-country Vietcong, too. Everyone has a little contrabandista in his heart!"

Waterford Voters Urged to Renew School Millage

On May 6, a vote will be held on a renewal of 15 mills to operate the Waterford school system. Two facts are important regarding this election. Your tax rate will not increase as a result of this millage renewal; this millage renewal is essential to the continued operation of Waterford schools.

★ ★ ★

Please do your part and vote "yes" on the millage renewal. The Waterford Jaycees Board Directors passed a resolution giving unanimous support for the 15 mill renewal.

CHARLES C. WOOD, PRESIDENT
WATERFORD JAYCEES

On May 6th Waterford Township voters will be asked to continue the present 15 mill tax levy. This is not an increase but a renewal of our present millage. Waterford will not qualify for the full amount of State aid to schools should this millage be defeated. Please help the children get a good education by voting "yes."

MRS. A. JOHN CHURCH
470 LAKESIDE

Waterford Township will vote on renewal of the 15 mills needed to run our school system. This renewal will not increase our taxes, it will continue our present tax rate for schools. Without the 15 mills we would lose the money we receive from the State, which makes up a considerable amount of the school budget. I'm proud of the school my child attends and feel confident she will receive a good education in the hands of competent teachers. Let's vote to insure our children's education.

CARL A. DORSEY
1780 EASON

As a resident of Waterford with school-age children, I find it hard to believe that voters of this area would not renew the 15 mills for schools. Passage of this means no increase in taxes and will enable the school board to maintain some semblance of an educational program for our children. Facing half-day sessions for the coming school year, failure of this renewal would certainly have dire effects on the future of our children—a prospect I'm sure no concerned parent desires.

'Another View on Attendance at Funeral'

A writer stated he felt that the famous individuals that attended Martin Luther King's funeral were political and curiosity seekers. I see a better point of view and feel citizens of Pontiac will, too. The Kennedys' attendance was an uplift to Mrs. King, her four children and family because they, too, had a great loss of a son, brother, husband and father by assassination. I cannot judge them as curiosity seekers because I have not had one loss by death of assassination.

Disagrees With Comments on Ball Player

Your peripatetic reporter should take another walk, to the sports department this time. There you will find that Roger Maris is not quite the dud you write about. Compare him if you will to a real overrated ball player, Al Kaline. How many pennants has Maris help win? Where are the championships that Kaline has given his team? At one point in last year's pennant win for St. Louis, Maris figured directly in 18 wins. He has always been great in the clutch. If the Tigers had him instead of Kaline, then we, too, would have a great ball team.

MARLIN HENDRICKS
3851 CHESTERFIELD

(Editor's Note: Our peripatetic reporter says he wouldn't trade Kaline for three (3) Marises. He still rates Maris as the dud's dud for 1968 and suggests that if this far-gone has-been won 18 games last year he must have lost 118.)

Question and Answer

Is there any refined group in Pontiac in which a lonely person 40 and up can meet single men and women in this age group? I like to play cards and just talk over coffee.

J. R.

REPLY

We found no such group for single men and women that age group, but Mr. Strait at City Recreation said the department might be able to sponsor one if enough people are interested. Those who might like to start one may call him at 333-7131. The Unitarian Church in Birmingham has such a group and welcomes new members. For information, call Ann Wood, 642-5821, after 7 p.m.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Exception . . .

Nashville Banner

Not all candidates for the presidency are making pie-in-the-sky promises — nor advocating heightened Treasury raids as the avenue to domestic peace and prosperity. The notable exception to that demagogic pitch is Richard M. Nixon; his reasons as sound as the economic law on which they rest . . . his warning clear.

★ ★ ★

The welter of promises comprising vote-bait on the left compound demands which no treasury on earth could meet; they magnify the "expectations" of the constituency to which they are addressed. They are irresponsibly voiced, because no administration could deliver on them; and the very attempt would complete the financial disaster of which competent authorities already are warning if action is not swiftly taken to set the nation's fiscal house in order.

★ ★ ★

That is the essence of Mr. Nixon's blunt statement on priorities. His view is not of indifference to cases and circumstances of genuine need. It is the sobering assertion of federal responsibility, to clear up the financial crisis confronted, before embarking on any enlarged operations of "aid" and reconstruction.

★ ★ ★

He calls for a budget cut in the amount of $8 billion. He would draw the line at that level against the built-in waste —and terminate the red ink spending that has ravaged the dollar and subjected every pocketbook to inflation's ravishment. He would reinstate policies of fiscal responsibility which could and would restore confidence in the dollar, and meet with strength the challenges from abroad—in the form of balance of payments deficits—that are draining the nation's gold supply and kindred resources.

★ ★ ★

False hopes, generated by glib promises can only worsen the domestic issues that explode into mob disorder. Valid hopes, attainable by responsible address to programs of improvement, can elicit constructive measures. As the former Vice President observed in that delineation of policy, "Firm enforcement of the law, combined with hope, would reduce riots in the United States."

★ ★ ★

It is a two-fold responsibility which judgment, reason and conscience cannot default; and which must not be delegated to hands of recklessness. The economic crisis demands sober and courageous attention, for corrective action by men of stature and maturity.

Mr. Nixon is warning of dangers of which the American majority is aware. He has refused to subordinate convictions in pursuit of the office sought. "I will not," he said, "join a parade of candidates offering pie-in-the-sky solutions and massive federal spending, even if it means the election."

Marchers Recruited in N. Mississippi

MARKS, Miss. (AP) — Field commanders of the Poor People's Campaign fanned out through Negro settlements in this north Delta area today, recruiting volunteers for the march on Washington.

The marchers—riding in chartered buses—arrived here Thursday from Memphis. They started from the spot where a sniper's bullet killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on April 4.

The situation was confused, due to constantly changing plans, but organizers said they would stay here about two days to drum up support for the march on the nation's capital.

The town was quiet when they arrived from Memphis, Tenn., 70 miles to the north, although a bullet struck a Columbia Broadcasting System helicopter hovering 600 feet above the marchers as they rallied at the courthouse.

LANDING SKID

A CBS newsman, Larry Pomeroy, reported: "All of a sudden we heard this 'plink.' The pilot said somebody must be shooting at us. We headed for a field and sat down. The bullet had put a hole in the left landing skid."

★ ★ ★

After the rally at the courthouse, half of the 600 marchers returned to Memphis in the eight buses, chartered at a cost of about $1,500. The remainder spent the night with residents in the area.

Organizers planned originally for the Negroes to sleep in four circus-like tents erected on a field near the town.

But the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference complained that Quitman County officials failed to supply the camp site with electricity and water as promised.

PLANS BLAMED

Confusion about the Negroes' plans was blamed by county officials for not meeting the requests. State Rep. Ney Gore of Marks said the water and power would be installed today.

★ ★ ★

"The days of weeping are ended. The days of march have begun," said Abernathy at the start of the march Thursday.

The poor people's protest was conceived by King, and his widow spoke at the somber memorial service that preceeded the march.

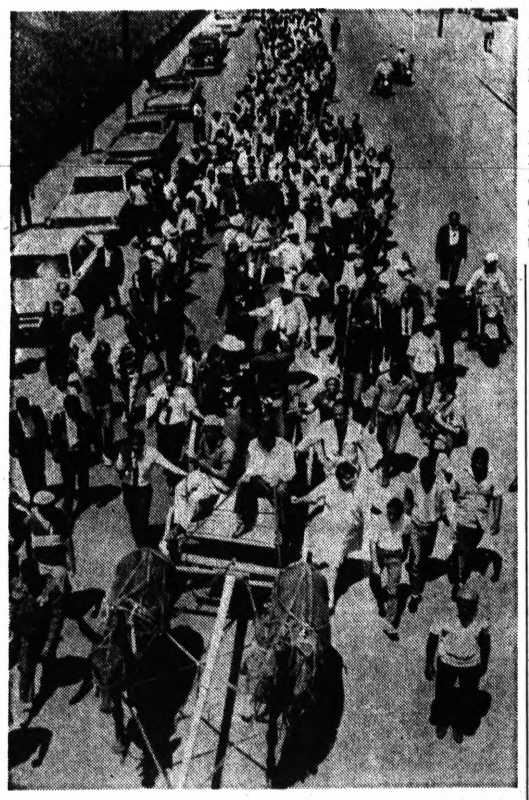

★ ★ ★

"On this spot where my husband gave his life for love and service to humanity, I pledge my loyalty and devotion to the work which he so nobly began," she said.

POOR POWER

The slain civil rights leader envisioned the march as a dramatic method of revealing the plight of the underprivileged in the United States.

"We're not going to have white power or black power,' cried Abernathy as he led the marchers southward. "We're going to have poor power."

STARTING OUT—The Poor People's Campaign march stretches into the distance behind a team of mules pulling a farm wagon as it started out in Memphis yesterday on the way to Marks, Miss.

Poor People's Group in Detroit May 13

DETROIT (AP) — The Midwest leg of the Poor People's March on Washington will wind through Detroit May 13, with 200 Detroiters expected to join the campaign, the Rev. Cecil L. Franklin said Thursday.

He said about 1,100 marchers are expected to arrive in Detroit on the leg starting from Chicago, Ill., and covering elements from Milwaukee, Wis.

The group is supposed to mak it to Washington, D.C., on May 16.

Franklin said the organization of the march, headed by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, hoped to have plans made well enough to avoid a housing or food problem for the mass of marchers.

He said the march is intended to convince Congress to take action on civil rights and related measures "so that we, as a nation, can continue to be leaders."

Asked if Congress would get the message, Franklin said, "I think we'll stay there until they do."

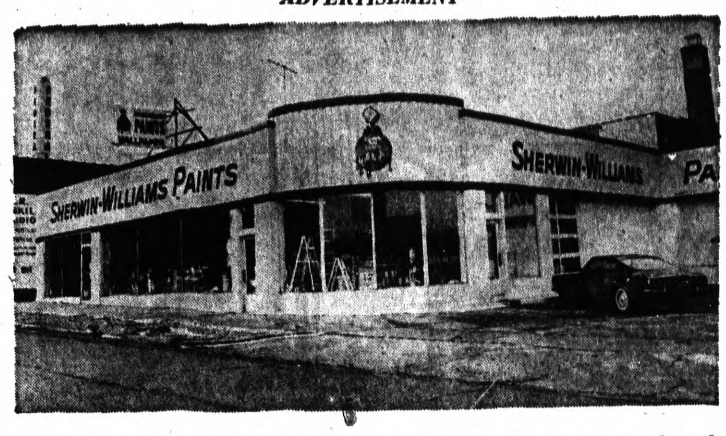

Owner Held in Hotel Fire

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP) — A retired major general in the Army Reserve was arraigned Thursday on charges of arson and burning insured property with intent to defraud.

C. C. Parrish, 58, is accused in the $300,000 fire last October at a hotel he owns in Great Bend. He was released under $10,000 bond pending a hearing May 15.

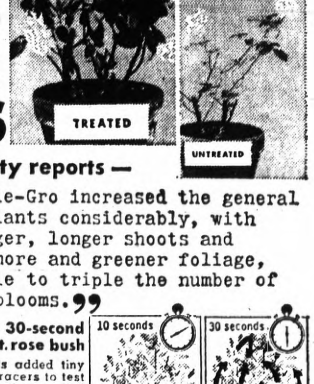

Parrish, who owns another hotel and a motel in Great Bend and a hotel in Pratt, retired as commander of the 89th Army Division last year.

4-Year House Term Near Vote

LANSING (AP) — Members of the House of Representatives yesterday moved into position for final action a measure which would lengthen House terms of office from two years to four.

Defeated, however, was a substitute four-year-term proposal intended to be more palatable to the Senate, which must give the measure two-thirds approval to place it on the ballot.

The resolution giving House members four-year terms requires two-thirds legislative majorities and voter approval. Senate concurrence was not thought likely.

In its present form, it provides for election of House members in presidential election years and for election of senators in off-years.

★ ★ ★

Senators now have four-year terms under the 1963 State Constitution.

'State Protects Its Car Buyers'

Hare Cites Program at Fete for Betty Furness

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan residents are protected against being "flim-flammed" when buying a car, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

★ ★ ★

Hare, speaking at a reception for Betty Furness, head of the President's Consumer Protection program, said the little-publicized consumer protection program for car buyers handled nearly 200 cases last year.

★ ★ ★

The program is under the Michigan Department of State in its Auto Dealer Review Board set up to take disciplinary action against unscrupulous auto dealers.

"We renew their licenses each year. And we have the option of bringing in for hearings dealers who may be guilty of violations against the buying public," Hare said.

ODOMETER FRAUD

He said that complaints last year ranged from dealers turning back odometers, commonly called speedometers, to substituting used tires as spares in new car sales.

Texas Skies to Stay Dry

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Those Lone Star skies are dry, says Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

It is illegal for a commercial airline employe to sell alcoholic drinks while flying over Texas, Martin said Thursday in an opinion requested by O.N. Humphreys, acting administrator for the Texas Liquor Control Board.

There is one hitch. Martin's opinion says jurisdiction lies in the county in whose air space the offense occurred. The prosecutor would face the problem of proving which one that was.

Research indicates that smoking or exposure to nicotone causes the concentrations of certain hormones secreted by the adrenal cortex to rise by as much as 77 per cent.

Open-Housing Bill Is Sent to House Floor

LANSING (AP) — The House Civil Rights Committee Thursday voted the open-housing bill to the floor without amendment, removing two strengthening changes the body had adopted the day before.

Rep. Melvin DeStiger, R-Hudsonville, said most committee members had agreed to resist floor amendments to the controversial measure, hoping to avoid a second major fight in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Five Republicans outvoted four Democrats as the committee removed earlier amendments designed to make it easier to prove racial discrimination in housing cases and to insure that a bias case, once started before the State Civil Rights Commission, would stay there.

Striking the amendments was a tactical move by majority GOP leaders, who hope the House will pass without amendment the version of the bill which the Senate approved April 4 after five days of debate.

NEXT WEEK

If the House makes substantial changes when it takes up the measure — probably next week — the Senate would have to consider them and, it was thought, might kill the bill in the process.

"I'd rather have the bill as it is than no bill," DeStigter said. "I think it's a good bill that covers the subject very well."

★ ★ ★

"Now we'll be accused of being a rubber stamp for the Senate," said committee member Rosetta Ferguson, D-Detroit.

Drew Afflicted

Saqqara, site of Egypt's first pyramid, attracted the afflicted from as far away as Greece and Rome. The sick visited a shrine in the ancient city seeking miraculous cures much as they do today at Lourdes, France, the National Geographic Society says.

More than 450 space vehicles were launched in 1967, of which the U.S. launched 82 and the Soviet Union 72.

Everyone's Talking About . . .
Simplicity

compare!

Before buying any riding tractor, take its measure with Simplicity

• SELECTION? With Simplicity in 1968, you pick from five new tractors (5 to 12 hp) and a 4 hp riding mower. You get "job-tailored" tractor choice.
• NO-SCALP MOWING? If the mower's mounted on the tractor frame, you'll get scalping. By contrast, Simplicity's patented mounting suspends the mower from the front axle. Can't scalp—because the front wheels "telegraph" every change in ground contour.
• ARE ATTACHMENTS MATCHED? Some tractor-makers buy and "adapt" basic attachments. But Simplicity designs and builds its own. When you put a Simplicity attachment on a Simplicity tractor, the combination works in perfect harmony.
• WHAT'S INVOLVED IN CHANGING ATTACHMENTS? Don't take anybody's word for it. Insist on a demonstration. You'll be amazed at the quick-changing difference that results from Simplicity's made-for-each-other tractor - attachment design.
• START COMPARING! Our yardstick of riding tractor values demonstrates the measurable difference between Simplicity and all other brands.

If the thought of buying a new furnace bothers you, read this new Three-Step Protection Plan.

First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been approved by Edison as qualified—and each is a reputable businessman.

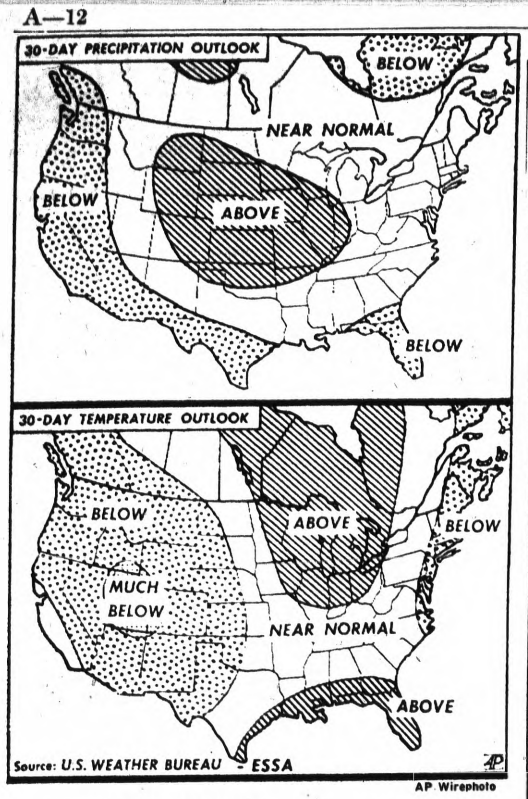

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He'll recommend electric heat only if it meets your needs. Electric heat is clean, quiet, comfortable and more economical than you'd imagine. In fact, electric heat rates have been reduced again—this time, by 10%. That's 30.5% in eight years. The contractor will estimate both installation and operating costs and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotation if you like.

Then, after your new electric heat system is installed, Edison and your contractor working together, will make any adjustments necessary to the system if operating cost exceeds the original estimate during the first three years of use. At the end of this time, if operating cost still exceeds the estimate, and you aren't satisfied, Edison will remove the system and refund your original price.

That's our new Three-Step Protection Plan. What better way to protect your investment during every step of conversion to electric heat? Remember the First Step. Call Edison for names of the approved contractors nearest you.

Gastric Ulcer, Food Link Told

By Science Service

Gastric ulcers may be caused by food stagnating in the stomach, University of Florida researchers at Gainesville report.

It is generally accepted that gastric (stomach) ulcers and duodenal (small intestine) ulcers are both caused by an excess of highly corrosive stomach acids.

★ ★ ★

But while duodenal ulcers can be traced to nervous oversecretion of acid, gastric ulcers can not.

The overlong presence of the food stimulates prolonged secretion of the hormone gastrin by the stomach.

★ ★ ★

This excess hormone stimulates excessive secretion of gastric acids, leading to ulcers.

For Nuclear Wastes

Propose Cement Graves

By Science Service

Nuclear reactors, becoming continually more important in electric power production, develop radioactive wastes that remain dangerous for years. While some of these radioactive isotopes can be used, the major portion will have to be disposed of.

One way of getting rid of nuclear wastes is to bury them. By digging a well deep into nonporous rock, such as shale, an area can be reached in which the waste material can be pumped.

With high enough pressure, the deep rock will break up and the radioactive wastes be absorbed in the fissures.

In the process of fracturing, however, the earth formation above the well sometimes is moved so that openings are formed which could lead the deep wastes to water supplies or even to the surface.

To keep the waste products safely below, a newly patented method proposes mixing the radioactive material with cement so that it stays put.

He's Just Praying

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Police were called "to investigate a suspicious person praying on the steps of a church" in northeast Denver. The man told police he wanted to pray, found the church locked and knelt on the steps. Police said a nervous neighbor probably called.

An estimated 51,800 persons will die this year of lung cancer.

Austrians Wait for Telephones

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — More than 60,000 Austrians are waiting for telephones, though last year the number of subscribers soared by 57,000 the Austrian general Post Office said in its annual report.

The average Austrian beyond the age of 18 last year received 190 letters, 85 newspapers, 6 parcels post and two money orders, the total of letters and papers delivered in 1966 amounting to 1.5 billion.

JAMES MARLOW

AP Columnist for 25 Years Dies at Age 64

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Marlow, a newspaperman for 41 years, died Thursday. He was 64 and had been in poor health for some time.

The past 25 years he wrote a column for the Associated Press from Washington. It was called "The World Today," won awards and was unusual.

His column appeared regularly on The Pontiac Press editorial page for many years.

The column did not predict. It did not pretend to pass on "inside" information. It was neither pretentious nor pontifical.

★ ★ ★

Instead, the writer tried to explain events, to put them in context in an interesting and factual way. This required exhaustive research; Marlow read more than 45 books for a series analyzing Winston Churchill's impact on history.

★ ★ ★

He pioneered in interpretive writing.

He read and fished for relaxation. He worked hard for the American Newspaper Guild, was a leader in the successful drive to unionize AP editorial employes in the late 1940s.

8 Wounded as Man Shoots at 2 Gangs

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Eight persons, one of them an elderly bystander, were shot and wounded by a man who fired a shotgun wildly at two gangs of youths as they prepared to battle with chains and clubs on the city's west side last night.

Police said Albert Napier, 40, father of one of the gang members, fired into a crowd of youths who marched down a street to invade another gang. About 100 youths were on the street.

Napier was taken into custody after a prolonged auto chase through the city. Ten gang members also were apprehended by police but most were released later to their parents.

Police said charges against Napier would not be made until later today.

★ ★ ★

Two of the wounded were bystanders, John Veninshek, 81, and his daughter, Beatrice, 48. Both were treated for pellet wounds at a hospital and released.

The other six wounded were teen-agers. All were treated for superficial gunshot wounds at four hospitals and released.

Police said a gang from West 75th Street invaded the West 41st Street and Trent Avenue area seeking revenge for one of its members who died yesterday after being beaten in a tavern Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Kansas City Kids Sandwich In Some Party Fun

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — When it came time for the luncheon party Miss Jade Hagen had promised her 28 hungry second grade students, she had only a single sandwich.

But her second graders didn't complain. The sandwich was five feet long and contained four kinds of meat, cheese and salad.

It was prepared by a St. Louis specialty shop owner and flown to Kansas City as his attempt to help the youngsters forget cancellation of their Easter party April 11. Principal Alonzo Plough provided milk.

Rocky Pins Hopes on 'Iceberg Strategy'

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is pinning his hopes of winning the Republican presidential nomination on what one of his close aides calls "the iceberg strategy."

* * *

The visible part—his surface approach—will be a series of public-speaking appearances, in which he will offer his solutions to the problems bedeviling the nation and present himself as a "can-do" alternative to front-runner Richard M. Nixon.

* * *

The really serious business will be conducted below the surface. Rockefeller and a variety of seasoned Republican professionals allied with him will apply persuasion and pressure to key Republicans controlling state delegations to the GOP national convention.

The second part of the strategy is inextricably linked to the first. The men who control the delegates must be convinced, if they are leaning toward Nixon, that they should switch to Rockefeller or, if they are uncommitted, that Rockefeller has the winning combination.

News Analysis

ESSENCE OF PLAN

This is the essence of Rockefeller's campaign effort, as explained by the governor's political advisers.

The first part was put into motion immediately, with Rockefeller's speech in Philadelphia Wednesday giving his views on ending the Vietnam war. He followed up Thursday with a speech in Iowa on how the military draft could be conducted.

Meanwhile, the second part already was being implemented. Even before Rockefeller announced his candidacy Tuesday, Rockefeller allies were working on influential Republicans in other states.

U.S. Sen. Thruston B. Morton and former Rep. William E. Miller, the party's vice presidential candidate in 1964, went on a cross-country tour during which they beseeched GOP leaders to give Rockefeller a chance.

WIDE CONTACTS

Miller and Morton, both former GOP national chairmen, have wide contacts and political friendships in GOP circles across the nation. Miller also has a special entry in conservative Republican ranks, having been Barry Goldwater's running mate.

Leonard W. Hall, another former national chairman, also had been traveling, with less fanfare, and is ready to hit the road again.

* * *

Two more ex-chairmen, U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott and Meade Alcorn Jr., also are prepared to play roles for Rockefeller.

* * *

At this point, pending formation of a campaign committee and appointment of a campaign manager, Rockefeller's longtime adviser on national political affairs, National Committeeman George L. Hinman, is overseeing the delegate-wooing and other operations.

MAIN HOPE

Hinman readily conceded that, having entered the race too late to participate in the presidential primaries, Rockefeller's main hope is to reach the men who influence the state delegations.

"That's it—that's it," he said. "We are going to do everything we can to show them that Nelson is the best candidate."

Army Recruit Defies Tradition

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — A 19-year-old who started basic training this week sports a full beard, a mustache and hair which would hang to his waist if it weren't bundled atop his head.

* * *

He is Pvt. Baldev Singh Purewall of Fresno, Calif., a native of India whose Sikh religion forbids the cutting of hair and requires the wearing of a turban. The Army agreed, but said Pvt. Purewall will have to wear a steel helmet over his turban when necessary.

Abernathy Completes First Big Test in Wake of King Slaying

By AUSTIN SCOTT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy has just completed his first major public test as a leader of the nonviolent civil rights movement dominated for more than a decade by the magnetic personality of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

It's doubtful even Abernathy believed he moved much closer to his goal of congressional action on a jobs and income program during the three peaceful days that saw 150 poor people demand more help from their government.

★ ★ ★

"They have made no guarantees or any promises," Abernathy said after meeting with congressional leaders. "I have detected a sympathy on the part of people with whom I have met, but that sympathy alone will not solve the problem—we want action."

News Analysis

He did, however, take a community organizer's kind of pride because for three days a varied group of poor people—hard to organize under any circumstances—worked as a unit to "tell it like it is."

The poor have appeared in the awe-inspiring halls of Congress before to explain their problems, but seldom in the ethnic variety of Abernathy's group.

There were strains within his coalition of Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Indians, Mexican-Americans and poor whites.

Some of the Negro mothers complained their demands for control of welfare programs were taking a back seat to land-ownership problems faced by the Spanish-speaking poor of the Southwest.

And some southwesterners complained the show was really being run by what they called "the Black, Eastern protest establishment."

NO SERIOUS THREAT

But none of these undercurrents grew so large that it seriously threatened the coalition.

Asked in an interview to explain why he repeatedly called the three days "beautiful" despite little concrete progress, Abernathy talked primarily about how these groups with widely differing interests had worked together.

★ ★ ★

"First is the large outpouring of poor people and their representatives here," he said, explaining he had expected only about 100 persons.

"Next is the dignity and fine nonviolent manner in which these people conducted themselves here, in spite of the humiliation, embarrassment and suffering they have faced in their individual communities. They were not disrespectful toward each other."

'REALLY SPOKE UP'

Third, he said, "I think they stated the case exactly like it is. It was beautiful, just beautiful . . . the way they really spoke up to government officials and leaders of the Congress."

★ ★ ★

Many of the leaders they talked to, Abernathy said, "never in their whole political careers heard poor people articulate their suffering and misery in such profound terms. The grammar did not matter. They were profound, they really communicated, and several of these officials were deeply moved."

Right to Die May Be Defended

Ways to Lengthen Life Hunted

LONDON (UPI) — Someday science may prolong life to the point where the right to die may have to be defended as a fundamental human liberty.

The state may decide, for example to keep alive men who are national assets whether or not they want to live.

Although it sounds like science fiction now, it is not a complete impossibility in the light of recent research.

In laboratories all over the world, experiments are under way to determine the nature of the aging process in man and whether anything can be done about it.

A new book summarizing the present state of knowledge, "The Biological Time Bomb," says many gerontologists are "highly optimistic" that something can.

BREAKTHROUGH

"There is the real possibility of a breakthrough affecting either human vigor at higher ages or the human life span or both," according to Dr. Alex Comfort, director of Britain's medical Research Council Gerontology Group.

"I think that, even while it remains speculative, the public and administration should realize that the possibility exists and that large numbers of scientists are trying to bring it about."

Comfort went on to suggest that science might unravel within 20 years "the nature of the predominant age-process in man."

Author Gordon Rattray Taylor believes this is too optimistic, although he quoted Dr. F. A. D'Abreu, a well known surgeon, as predicting in a lecture at the Royal College of Surgeons that some of his listeners would live to be 180.

THEORIES ON AGING

Taylor says that since the aging process can be accelerated — men and women are sometimes described as "old before their time" — it is reasonable to suppose it can also be retarded if not actually stopped or reversed. He lists these among the main theories of aging:

- The cell theory — Tissues fail because cells die in certain parts of the body (the brain included) and are not replaced.
- The molecule theory — The important cell molecules which carry on the life process become damaged or contaminated.
- The computer theory — Cells are programmed to perform certain tasks, and when these are completed so is their life.
- The hormone theory—The hormonal messengers which control so many of the body's activities became exhausted.

'Grandes Dames' Adorn American Scene in Widely-Varying Fields

A party giver who has won Washington's title of "the hostess with the mostest," Pearl Mesta is a picture of grace and elegance.

One of the pioneers in the field of painting, Georgia O'Keefe still wields palette and brush at the age of 80.

Since Pocahontas interfered with tribal politics to save Capt. John Smith's neck 360 years ago, women in America have exerted a benign, often inspirational influence on the country's social and political life.

Today, that impact carries increasing punch, in an increasing number of previously male-dominated areas.

Women now earn 20 per cent of the wage and salary income, comprise a third of the total work force and head 10 per cent of American families. As consumers, they set the trends. They buy stock: 51 per cent of U.S. stockholders are women, as are 55 per cent of mutual fund purchasers. Consequently they command a massive respect in the marketplace.

★ ★ ★

Aided immeasurably by a spate of labor-saving household devices, women are looking for something more to do and many go to work — as volunteers, or full-fledged members of the labor force. Recent studies show that 40 per cent of families with an income between $7,000 and $10,000 enjoy that level of relative prosperity because the wife is working.

And, with professional education and new fields opening to them, and with family planning socially acceptable, women now can successfully combine career and marriage.

For these and other reasons, more and more women are making prominent names for themselves in more and more fields of endeavor — politics, the arts, literature and education, in particular.

FAMOUS NAMES

There is Margaret Mead, an anthropologist and authoress whose views, often controversial, are largely sought on social and moral questions.

In the arts, Helen Hayes is considered the First Lady of the theater, and Georgia O'Keefe, still painting at 80, is a much-respected name in her field.

Pearl Buck, who won a Nobel Prize for literature, now is chiefly concerned with helping part-American children who are living in Asian countries.

The reigning queen of American politics, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, the regal Republican from Maine, is a force to be reckoned with on Capitol Hill.

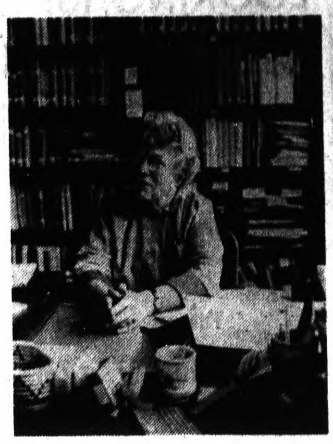

★ ★ ★

In Washington, Perle Mesta still holds the unofficial title of the "hostess with the mostest," and Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt and widow of a former Speaker of the House of Representatives, Nicholas Longworth, has lived history and is making it.

These are, truly, the "Grandes Dames."

In costume for an upcoming television show "Arsenic and Old Lace" is the grand lady of the theater, Helen Hayes.

Anthropologist and author Margaret Mead presents her learned views based on studies of cultures throughout the world.

In the man's world of politics, Margaret Chase Smith, the Maine Republican, has risen to be a powerful voice in the decisions of Congress.

Pearl Buck, winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature, studies a twisted-root carving of an old Chinese man.

Daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, widow of former Speaker of the House of Representatives Nicholas Longworth, Alice Roosevelt Longworth sits before a favorite China tiger print.

Lady Bird's Portrait Ready for Place in White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new portrait of Lady Bird Johnson to be hung in the White House after President Johnson leaves office has been completed, it was announced today.

The portrait by artist Elizabeth Shoumatoff was commissioned and approved by the White House Historical Association at a cost of $6,000. The First Lady wore a soft yellow chiffon Stavroupoulos gown for five sittings which took place over a period of three months, beginning last Nov. 1 in the Lincoln Room of the White House.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman said both President and Mrs. Johnson were very pleased with the portrait. Johnson still has not settled on an artist to do his own portrait for hanging in the White House. He previously rejected a painting by artist Peter Hurd, which had been commissioned by the Association, as "the ugliest thing I ever saw."

Mrs. Shoumatoff of Locust Valley, Long Island, N.Y., is a favorite artist of the Johnsons. She painted three portraits of President Franklin D. Roosevelt and one hangs over the mantel in President Johnson's office. She was working on a portrait of FDR at Warm Springs, Ga., when he died in 1945.

You're Just a Troublemaker

Abby Asks—What's Your Problem?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a woman who would take a job as a "housekeeper" for a single man? Part of the deal is that the housekeeper has to live ON the place.

If a woman sells all her own household goods, and sells (or rents) her own house to move in with a man and keep house for him, how do you think that looks?

ABBY

What does the community think of a woman who would hire herself out this way? And what do YOU think?

MADRID, IOWA LADY

DEAR LADY: Personally I couldn't care less, but if I were to give it one moment's thought, I would assume that the housekeeper was KEEPING — not PLAYING house. Now, what's YOUR problem, Lady?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister's wife and I would like to ask you a simple question:

Is the minister's wife "automatically" invited to all the weddings her husband officiates at?

I have never attended a wedding without having been specifically invited, yet many parishioners have expressed great surprise (and even hurt) when I haven't shown up with my husband. They also seem surprised when my husband says his farewells after having performed the wedding ceremony, although not one word was mentioned beforehand about his staying on as a guest.

Should a minister just assume he is a guest wherever he performs a service? And should his wife join him, even though no invitation was issued?

MINISTER'S WIFE

★ ★ ★

DEAR WIFE: A surgeon's wife is not expected to accompany her husband when he operates, and neither should a minister's wife be expected to "show up" wherever her husband performs a service.

★ ★ ★

No one is "automatically" invited anywhere. Although most clergymen and their wives would be welcome as honored guests at the affairs of their parishioners, they should be invited — same as any other guest.

Limit Number to Space Free Aboard Boat

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have just purchased a small cabin cruiser. We would like to have some kind of a party for our friends to see her. However, she is quite small (cabin can comfortably seat about six and deck four) Is there such a thing as a "boat warming?"

There is a narrow dock where she is berthed. We are wondering if we could have a 5-7 cocktail hour and perhaps put the overflow of people on the dock. We would appreciate any suggestions you might offer.—Mrs. Bailey

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Bailey: First, limit your guests to those who can fit aboard comfortably, but don't worry about seating everyone. They can stand, lean or sit or rest in innumerable unlikely spots. If there are no other boats at the dock, your over-flow can certainly step ashore.

But if there are other boats, unless you invite their owners to your party, you can't allow your guests to block their passage back and forth.

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents' 25th anniversary is coming up. My sisters and I are wondering about gifts. Should we get a separate gift for each parent or one big one for both?—Patricia

Dear Patricia: You should give them one present suitable for both of them. An anniversary is one time when a present really should be to the couple and not to each one individually.

Women's Federation Sets Annual Meeting, Golden Gavel Dinner

The Pontiac Area Federation of Women's Clubs is departing from its usual calendar. The annual meeting and Golden Gavel dinner are being held on two nights instead of together.

Reports for the year and election of officers are on the agenda for the Monday evening meeting in the Oakland County Supervisors' auditorium on North Telegraph Road.

★ ★ ★

During the meeting which begins at 8 p.m. two new clubs will be admitted to membership in the federation: the Bethune Art and Study Club and Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, Pontiac City Council.

★ ★ ★

The Golden Gavel dinner will be held at the Kingsley Inn on May 27. Martin J. Caserio, general manager GMC Truck and Coach Division, will be the guest speaker. The club having the greatest percentage of members attending will receive the golden gavel.

Miss Brooke Engaged to Wed

NEW MILFORD, N.J. (AP)—The 19-year-old daughter of Negro Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and a white Monmouth College student plan to marry in June, the student's parents disclosed.

The date of the marriage between Remi Brooke and Donald R. Hasler, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Hasler of New Milford, has tentatively been set for June 22. The wedding will take place in Martha's Vineyard, Mass., Mrs. Hasler said.

Brooke is the first Negro to be elected to the Senate since Reconstruction. He is married to a white woman.

Mrs. Hasler, asked how she felt about her son marrying into a racially mixed family commented:

"It makes no difference, they're in love."

She said her son met Remi, who attends Northeastern University in Boston, at a party last year in New Milford. A friend of Donald's brought Miss Brooke, Mrs. Hasler said.

STUDENT

Donald is a first-year engineering student at Monmouth College in West Long Branch.

The couple plans to move to Boston after the wedding and he will transfer to another school, Mrs. Hasler said.

Mrs. Hasler said she and her husband have visited the Brooke family several times in Boston.

"We're looking forward to the wedding," she added.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hasler is a Democratic committeewoman in New Milford who works for Stock Forms Co. in Englewood. Hasler is a machinist at Lever Bros. in Edgewater.

They have two married daughters, and a younger son who is a New Milford High School student.

Mrs. Humphrey Does Well After Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey was reported "getting along fine" at Bethesda Naval Medical Center following pelvic survery to correct a nonmalignant disorder.

Mrs. Humphrey, 56, was operated on Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"I knew all would be well with Mom," said her husband, who hurried from the hospital to keep a speaking date across town. "She's the best member of the family. These things usually turn out well for her."

★ ★ ★

Humphrey was 45 minutes late for his appearance before the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped because he "didn't want to leave until Mrs. Humphrey was out of the operating room."

Two Concerts Are Rescheduled

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra's last Young People's Concert of the season, which had been postponed from April 6, has been rescheduled for May 11.

The world-famous Pickwick Puppet Theatre will appear as originally planned.

★ ★ ★

Tickets dated April 6 will be honored, and performances will be at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The program in Ford Auditorium will be under Valter Poole's direction.

A few tickets are still available at the box office for both the morning and afternoon performances.

The Riverside benefit concert set originally for April 5 at Ford Auditorium was postponed because of the curfew.

Rev. David Eberhard, Director of Riverside, said, "The Detroit Symphony Orchestra has graciously rescheduled this concert for May 15 at 8 p.m."

Tickets dated April 5 will be honored and can still be purchased at all J. L. Hudson stores, Grinnell's Downtown, and at the Ford Auditorium box office.

★ ★ ★

ATTENDED

Representatives at the convention were club president, Mrs. Walter Kowalczyk and Mesdames Thomas McGlone, John Allen, E. Thomas Sturner, Lloyd Lake, Bishop, James King and John Couture.

Home decorating is a passion with a lot of homemakers, as witness the gleam in the eyes of Mrs. George T. Gorman (left) and Mrs. William H. Hackbarth, as they scan some of the items in Hudson's decorating studio at The Pontiac Mall. A Hudson's decorator, Mrs. Richard P. Torley, will be guest speaker at the Spring Luncheon next Wednesday at Forest Lake Country Club. The curtain of the Birmingham Community House will rise Saturday on the Newcomer's Club presentation of "The Steadfast Tin Soldier."

Tickets for the performances, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., are available at the Community House. The public may attend.

During the business meeting new officers were elected. Mrs. Timothy Patterson is president; Mrs. Larry Ettinger, vice president; Mrs. Bruce Sias and Mrs. Robert Newman, secretaries and Mrs. Darwin Johnson, treasurer.

Serving on the board of directors will be Mesdames: Michael Halfpenny, William Maxfield and John Herrington.

A number of the members and their husbands will be attending the Jaycee state convention in Grand Rapids next weekend.

Upcoming social events for the group include a treasure hunt on June 1 and a mother-daughter luncheon June 15. Mrs. Ettinger and Mrs. Tom Daane have charge of the former and Mrs. Lyle Kittridge the latter.

Show Winners Are Picked

An error was made in reporting the number of awards won by Jean Belknap at the recent Pontiac Society of Artists annual show. She received three blue ribbons, including "Best of Show."

Popular vote picked a traditional painting by Theo Davis and a sculptured raccoon by Grace Persinger as favorites.

Women's Army Corps Looks for Recruits

The United States Women's Army Corps (WAC) celebrates the 26th anniversary of its founding during the month of May announced Sergeant Edward Garcia of the U.S. Army recruiting station in Pontiac, Michigan.

With the anniversary month, the U.S. Army Recruiting Service has already announced a special enlistment plan for future WACs who now reside in the state of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The plan, known as the "All Michigan Women's Army Corps Company," entitles Michigan girls to be sworn into the army on June 29, then fly directly to Fort McClellan, Ala., where they will live, train and have fun together while attending basic training.

"The girls receive a written guarantee in the course of their choice," said Sergeant Garcia;" this includes such fields of study as medical technology, food service, dental, medical, personnel or public relations to mention a few."

"The Women's Army Corps offers a proud and dignified history to go with the exciting present."

"For example, the first member and director of the WACs was Colonel Oveta Culp Hobby, who later became President Eisenhower's Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare."

Today's women enlistees will fill chosen positionss in the continental United States and a number of foreign countries.

"Educational opportunities, including the GI Bill, offer a bright future for any young lady," Sergeant Garcia concluded.

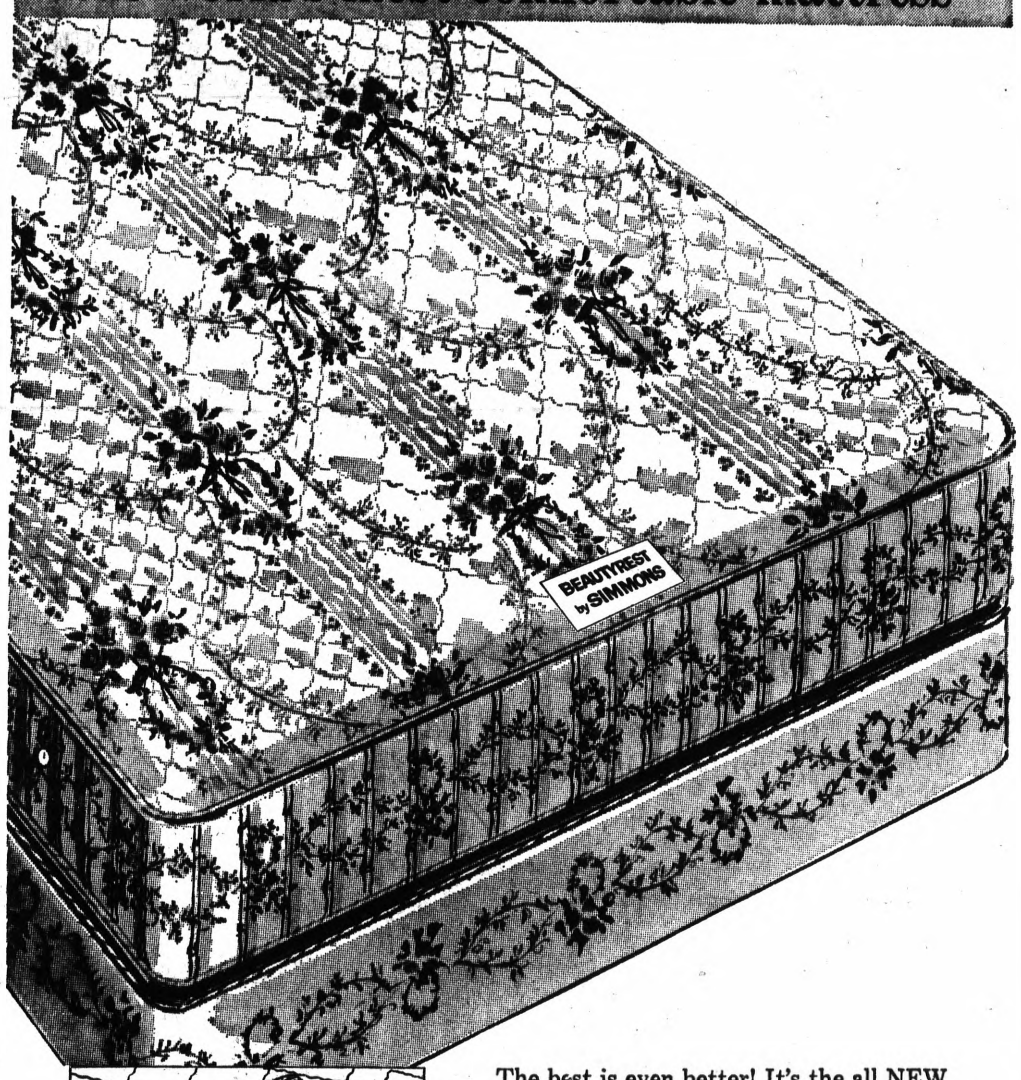

Those women seeking more information on the Women's Army Corps and the "All Michigan Women's Army Corps Company" can do so by calling Sergeant Edward Garcia or visit him at his recruiting station located in Room 105, 35 East Huron St.

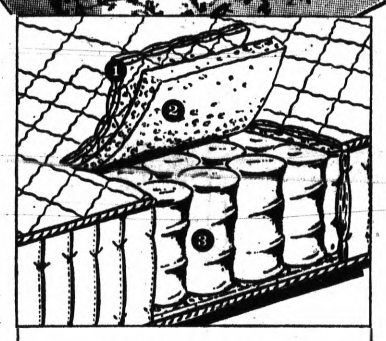

It has been estimated that U.S. women use enough lipstick each year to cover the outer surface of 40,000 barns.

Actor Comes Back After Making Millions

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harry Lewis was back at his old profession of acting this week after a 15-year lapse. During his absence from the screen he happened to make a few million dollars selling hamburgers.

THOMAS

His return to films occurred through one of those by-chance happenstances that press agents used to dote upon. Lewis was lunching in the Hamburger Hamlet Restaurant opposite Grauman's Chinese when he was spotted by a couple of Columbia Studios casting men.

"You're just the man we've been looking for," said one of the casting agents, who had no fear of cliches. "We need somebody who looks enough like George Peppard to double for him in a scene for 'Pendulum.' Come on over to the studio and audition for the part."

Lewis agreed to try out before producer Stanley Niss and director George Schafer, and his interview was so brief he feared he had blown the part. "Not at all," he was told. "You were so perfect that there was no question about it."

'PART IDEAL'

And so Lewis played the role, which called for him to seduce Peppard's wife, Jean Seberg, then be shot in bed by gunmen who mistook him for Peppard.

"The part was ideal,' Lewis reasoned. "I figure if you're going to come back to acting, you should come back in an important way. I'd rather play a scene in bed with the leading lady than have the role of a reporter."

★ ★ ★

The crux of the story is that Harry Lewis owns the $500,000 Hamburger Hamlet in which he was discovered, as well as nine others, and will have four or five more a-building this year. Furthermore, his wife, Marilyn, who designed the imaginative decor of the restaurants, is one of the country's fastest-rising dress designers. Her Cardinali creations are offered by Saks Fifth Avenue, Nieman Marcus and other top stores at prices from $395 to $2,000.

Harry Lewis' is a heartwarming story of an actor who knew when to quit. He was a local boy, a graduate of Hollywood High School and classmate of Victor Mature, Dana Andrews and Gig Young at the Pasadena Playhouse. After a three-year course, he was signed to a Warner Brothers contract, and he remained at the studio for seven years, minus three years in the Army.

TYPED AS KILLER

"I got a good role as a killer in 'Her Kind of Man' with Zachary Scott and Faye Emerson after the war," he said. "That typed me as a killer, and I won my best part as Edward G. Robinson's muscleman in 'Key Largo.'

"I thought I was really set, playing in a picture with Humphrey Bogart, Robinson, Lauren Bacall and Lionel Barrymore and directed by John Huston. But that was 1948, when the bottom fell out of the movie market and actors were being dropped from studio contracts all over town. I was one of them."

★ ★ ★

Lewis tried to improve his luck in New York, but the jobs were scarce. One day he saw an actor of 55 applying for work at NBC. "Here was this poor guy looking for a job at his age; I didn't want that to happen to me," he said.

Returning to Hollywood, Lewis decided to scout other lines of work. He knew nothing about the restaurant business, but he decided that Hollywood needed a first-class hamburger place. He scrounged some financing, induced his fellow actors to help him decorate a Sunset Strip building according to the design of his future wife.

★ ★ ★

The pair opened the place one night in 1950 with only a dishwasher as help. The enterprise has continued to grow; last year the Hamburger Hamlets did a $6-million gross. Harry and Marilyn married a few months after the opening; they now have two sons, 16 and 13.

Merit Scholar Gets Award After Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 18-year-old straight-A student who died of cancer in March was among 61 greater Cleveland high school seniors awarded National Merit Scholarships. The winners were announced today.

Theodore Huechel, class valedictorian at John Adams High School, was described by teachers as "the kind of fellow you expect to do marvelous things in the world."

★ ★ ★

Theodore became ill last November with a malignant brain tumor. He had won a four-year scholarship to the University of Chicago and planned to begin classes this fall.

"My son was told just shortly before he died that he had won the honorary scholarship," Mrs. Otta Heuchel said Wednesday night.

Youth Sentenced for Spilling Paint

PORTLAND, ORE. (AP) — A U.S. District judge sentenced a youth to 60 days in prison for interfering with the Selective Service system by spilling paint on an induction center floor.

Presidential Nominating System Haphazard, but It Works

AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be hard to design a more haphazard, inefficient system than that by which the United States nominates its presidential candidates. It would also be hard to find one better suited to the national temper in this election year.

At a time of national uncertainty, a hovering between war and peace, a groping for answers to racial, urban and economic problems, the system is keeping the political situation fluid.

It permits Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to become a full-fledged candidate for the Republican nomination and score at least a psychologically important victory in Massachusetts little more than a month after he declared himself out of the race.

It permits Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to go from noncandidate to strong contender in the Democratic contest without having faced a rival in a single primary.

QUIXOTIC CRUSADE

It permits Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., to turn a quixotic one-man crusade into a full-fledged campaign; and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., to avoid casting the first stone and then come into the fray swinging.

It not only has made the whole incredible series of moves and countermoves on the political scene possible, but it even can be argued that it has caused them.

★ ★ ★

In any reasonably ordered society it would be expected that candidates for the highest office would be chosen in a uniform, consistent manner. But Americans, with their genius for political improvisation, have never even tried it.

Ever since George Washington became unavailable for another presidential term, the nation has experimented with a variety of methods for nominating presidential candidates.

TINKERING SINCE

Having settled in 1832 on the national party convention as the best way to make the final choice, it has been tinkering ever since with the method of choosing delegates to the conventions and giving the voters a large role in the nominating process.

The reform movement in the early 20th Century that replaced boss-dominated state nominating conventions with direct primaries appeared for a time to be leading toward a universal system—perhaps even the direct national primary which Woodrow Wilson, among others, advocated. By 1916, 24 states were holding presidential primaries, but that was the high-water mark. In 1964 only 16 states let the voters help pick the candidates. This year it's down to 13.

Most states still use conventions, some use both conventions and primaries. It is hard to find even two states that follow identical procedures. In addition, the states act over a time span beginning in March and extending right up to the national conventions.

This, then, is the American way of political life for a candidate and it is bound to impose its peculiar logic on him.

Certainly, it was the opportunity offered by the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries to get at least a tentative reading on voter attitudes toward the Vietnam war and President Johnson that led McCarthy to act.

McCarthy's success brought in Kennedy and forced Johnson to declare a hand he may well have preferred to conceal for a while. And the fact that not enough states hold presidential primaries to give any candidate a lock on the nomination let Humphrey and Rockefeller make their belated moves.

★ ★ ★

101st Airborne Troops Have One of Toughest Jobs in Vietnam

WITH THE 101st AIRBORNE DIVISION, Vietnam (AP) — Needle-like thorns shred arms and legs, tear uniforms.

Vines and exposed roots cause soldiers to trip and fall.

Hills become slippery after footsteps have worn down the vegetation and movement upward gets tough.

★ ★ ★

It's rough going for the "Screaming Eagles" of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division trying to smash the triple-canopied jungle supply route of North Vietnamese troops menacing the old imperial capital of Hue.

The 101st has one of the toughest missions in South Vietnam: providing external security for the shaky city of Hue and cutting the Communist command's supply lines along Highway 547 to the west.

MAIN ROUTE

Highway 547 is a main route all the way from the Laotian border, through the A Shau Valley into Hue and beyond to the coast. While troops of the U.S 1st Air Cavalry Division and from the South Vietnamese army are hunting down supply bases in the valley in Operation Delaware, the paratroopers of the 101st are blocking the North Vietnamese northeast of the valley and cutting their main supply route.

Division engineers, operating huge plows, have widened the road in segments and have cleared areas up to 200 yards on either side.

★ ★ ★

The road, hardly a highway by most standards, is unpaved and winds through thick jungle and rugged hills before reaching the broad sweep of the coastal plain and Hue.

Right now we're sitting astride the highway and we're cutting the North Vietnamese off from Hue and the coast," said Maj. Gen. Olinto M. Barsanti, commander of the 101st.

MAIN FORCE

While the engineers move along the road—"never in the same place twice," says Barsanti—the main strength of the paratroopers is committed to the jungles.

The paratroopers operate in company size or smaller units. As much as 90 per cent of their activity takes place at night, when they set ambushes for North Vietnamese units.

★ ★ ★

The engineers, working out of the division base at Camp Eagle, have cleared 20 miles along Highway 547.

The paratroopers reported killing 440 North Vietnamese soldiers in the first week of Operation Delaware, taking eight prisoners and capturing 108 individual weapons and 15 larger guns.

A division spokesman said the North Vietnamese were leaving many bodies behind, "just lying there, not burying them or dragging them off." One reason may be the rugged terrain, which makes any movement extremely difficult.

"We've had casualties of our own," the spokesman said. "At the most, you could call them light."

★ ★ ★

Two weeks ago a battalion from the 101st and a South Vietnamese airborne task force were lifted by helicopters into a steep valley in the area and began fighting their way up a pair of hills.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Col. Elliott Sydnor, Auburn, Ky., the U.S. battalion commander, said 10 of his men had been killed and 91 wounded by the time the allied troops reached the twin peaks, five days after the assault began. A North Vietnamese battalion was set up in bunkers and dug into the steep slopes.

THEY HAD TIME

Only one body was found in the bunkers. Sydnor said he believed the North Vietnamese had time to remove their dead this time.

"They were falling back in front of us," he said, "and don't forget they were moving downhill while we were coming up."

Whitney Young Says It's Time to Study Whites

BOSTON (AP) — Whitney Young, executive director of the Urban League, says enough studies have been made of the Negro—it's time to study whites.

★ ★ ★

"The Negro throughout the years has been dissected and analyzed and inspected horizontally, vertically and diagonally," Young told the American Association on Mental Deficiency Thursday.

The President's Commission on Civil Disorders concluded that the main problem in the nation's society is white racism, Young said, and that for that reason "We should have a study of the souls of white folks."

Asthma Is Often Psychological

By Science Service

Asthma attacks appear to be psychologically controlled in a good number of cases.

Of 40 patients who volunteered to take part in a State University of New York experiment, 19 developed asthma symptoms after breathing the mist of a salt solution. They were told the mist contained allergens, such as pollen dust or animal dander.

★ ★ ★

Twelve of the reactors got full-blown attacks including wheezing and shortness of breath —all of which disappeared immediately when the patients took what they thought was an asthma drug. Actually it was the salt mist again.

Eugene R. Bleecker, a medical student who did the work with three faculty members from downstate Medical Center, then tried patients with bronchitis or tuberculosis and persons with no respiratory disease. None reacted to the salt mist though they were told it would irritate lungs.

Using a laser-hologram technique, a Stanford University group has made a photograph of a man from eight miles away. It was done in the desert near Holloman Air Force base in New Mexico. A ruby laser served as light source, attached to a 48-inch telescope to receive the light reflected from the subject.

New Cosmic Ray Clues Found

By Science Service

A new cosmic ray detector, consisting of a large flat package of sheets of plastic, has provided unexpected information about the chemical composition of the rays, high energy bolts that bombard earth from space.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at General Electric Research and Development Center, Schenectady, N. Y., where the device was perfected, have found that iron and two neighboring elements in the periodic table, manganese and chromium, are all about equally abundant in low energy cosmic rays.

★ ★ ★

As a result, astrophysicists will have to take a new look at the complicated sequence of events that occur during the explosion of a supernova, a suspected origin of cosmic rays.

Where Is Anywhere Anyhow?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Humphrey said Monday the use of "anywhere, anytime" in connection with Vietnam peace talks may have been an overstatement.

WEST

Which may be the understatement of the week.

Actually, the disagreement between the United States and North Vietnam over a site for the talks seems to be more of a misunderstanding caused by faulty translation.

It is often difficult to convert the idioms and nuances of one language to another tongue so that they convey the precise meaning intended.

PECULIAR TRANSLATION

When President Johnson said he was willing to go "anywhere, anytime" to talk peace, the North Vietnamese, perhaps through some peculiarity of their own language, translated "anywhere" as Cambodia or Poland.

In English, of course, when "anywhere" is used in that context it means 10 other countries. In another context, it could mean something else.

A word like "anywhere" can mean almost anything, depending on such things as voice inflection, accent and clothing.

★ ★ ★

Let us say you are taking your wife out to dinner. As you are helping her on with her coat you say, "Where would you like to eat?"

"Oh, anywhere is all right with me," she replies.

If you were a Vietnamese, you presumably would take her to a restaurant specializing in Cambodian or Polish dishes. But being an American, you know immediately that "anywhere" is not all right with her.

You can tell that from the way she is dressed.

IDIOMATIC TERM

In a literal interpretation, "anywhere" could mean the neighborhood pizza palace. But your wife is using the word idiomatically. Meaning she wants to go to some place fancy.

So you name over 10 restaurants you think you might afford. None of which fits her definition of "anywhere."

Finally you compromise and take her to the chic little French restaurant that is out of your price range. Which is the place she had in mind when you first asked where she wanted to go.

★ ★ ★

In view of the complications that "anywhere" can lead to when both sides are speaking English, it is easy to see how dual language negotiations can get hung up over the word.

★ ★ ★

It now appears that "anywhere" may be aboard ship. But that doesn't necessarily mean the peace talks will begin right away.

First we will have to see the North Vietnamese translation of "anytime."

Chaplain Gets in the Swim

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Rev. Angelo Nobile, chaplain at Christian Brothers College, joined students Thursday in a lighthearted demonstration aimed at getting the college swimming pool opened.

Father Nobile carried a placard saying, "The Church Must Get Involved," as students bearing signs reading "No Pool, No School" and "Keep it Cool, Fill the Pool" converged on the administration building.

The demonstration ended when the Rev. Luke M. Grady, college president, offered the demonstrators a sprinkling can filld with water.

Arizona Horse Clinic Popular

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — They're crazy about horses in Arizona.

At least the 1,500 boys and girls enrolled in the 4-H horse project and the 300 youngsters from all over the state who attend a day-long horse clinic years or more.

The annual event also attracted adult horse-lovers to the program, which included advice from a veterinarian on how to buy a horse and the proper way to clip and groom an animal for the show ring.

The clinic concluded with a horse-judging contest open to all, in which the horses had to be placed in proper order.

Teacher Recruitment in Trouble

Waterford School Affairs

Waterford Township School District is experiencing teacher recruiting problems, M. Barrett Vorce, associate superintendent for instruction and personnel, told members of the board of education last night.

"We are far behind what we were last year in elementary recruiting," Vorce said. "Recruiting is difficult."

Vorce attributed the recruiting problems to an uncertainty over the availabiliy of sufficient funds and a change of image in the school district.

The new state aid bill, signed by Gov. Romney this week, partially clears up the uncertainty about funds, however.

★ ★ ★

Vorce said Waterford had become a popular district because of the high standard of its staff.

'NO LONGER POPULAR'

He said it is no longer a popular district because of the existing serious financial situation, which, consequently, keeps teachers from seeking employment in Waterford.

Because of the 1968-69 budget deficiency, the board previously announced that 93 secondary and elementary teaching positions would be eliminated next school year.

School Board President Eldon C. Rosegart said that although the new state school aid bill represents a 19 per cent increase statewide, the average boost among schools in Oakland County is only 5.6 per cent.

★ ★ ★

School officials said the increase for the Waterford Township School District will amount to about 11 per cent or $25.85 per student.

POSSIBLE SALE

In other business last night, the board discussed the possible eventual sale of Webster School on Pontiac Lake Road, the board of education building on West Walton and a parcel of property on M59 at Cass Lake Road.

A new administration building is to be built at 1021 Airport.

Also discussed last night without any action taken was the possible conversion of Lambert School on Cass Elizabeth into a special education headquarters.

★ ★ ★

The building presently is used by the district's Indicom project staff.

REPRESENTATIVES NAMED

Also last night, Treasurer Donald W. Porter and Secretary Mrs. Virginia M. Ross were named as representative and alternate, respectively, for discussions involving the future operation of Children's Village School.

In still other business, the board dedicated a 60-foot easement for Oakland County Road Commission use along the easterly boundary of the district's Hospital Road high school site.

Also approved were 1968-69 contracts for 13 teachers.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Zella Mitchell, a reading consultant, presented a report on the district's reading improvement service offered in all six secondary schools.

Niagara U. Names Laymen to Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Niagara University, a Roman Catholic school near Niagara Falls, N.Y., announced here Thursday it is including laymen on its board of trustees for the first time. Some of them are Jewish.

Among those appointed to the new board are New York City Council President Frank D. O'Connor, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial candidate; Undersecretary of Commerce Howard J. Samuels; and Republican State Sen. Edward J. Speno.

O'Connor and Speno are Niagara alumni. Samuels is Jewish.

Trees Not So Old

DAVIS, Calif. (UPI) — University of California agricultural researchers say most of California's coast redwood trees live only 500 to 900 years, even though some of them have a record age of 2,000 years of mofe.

Crossover May Hold Key to Indiana Vote

By IRWIN J. MILLER
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Crossover voting may play an important role in Indiana's presidential primary which dictates that write-in votes cannot be counted.

Party crossover voting may prove a big asset to Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigin, running as a favorite-son candidate against Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy on the Democratic ballot Tuesday. Richard M. Nixon is unopposed on the Republican ballot.

★ ★ ★

Crossing over is not difficult in Indiana, and because Nixon has no opposition and Branigin is personally popular with many Republicans, the governor could get substantial GOP support.

A voter requests the ballot of the party of his choice, and is subject to challenge only by a poll watcher of that party.

If challenged, the voter must sign an affidavit that he voted for a majority of that party's candidates in the preceding general election and intends to do so again in the next general election.

Since the general election ballot is secret, there's no way to prove or disprove his affidavit.

★ ★ ★

In the case of a person who did not vote in the preceding election, for any reason including age, the affidavit need state only that he intends to vote in the coming general election for a majority of the party's candidates.

WRITE-INS

The state law on write-ins provides that any paper ballot carrying any distinguishing mark must be thrown out. This has been interpreted as meaning any marking outside the regular squares.

One attorney commented there would be nothing to prevent precinct election officials from keeping a count of how many ballots they throw out, and for what reason. But they couldn't include the figure in official returns.

The question affects the 42 counties which use paper ballots. The other 50 use machines and there is no way to write in on them.

Of the state's 4,461 precincts, 3,085 use machines.

To be a legal candidate in Indiana's presidential primary, the candidate must have submitted petitions signed by at least 500 registered voters in each of the 11 congressional districts.

The law binds the state's national convention votes—63 Democratic, 26 Republican—to the primary winners for one ballot only.

Unions OK Pact

PORT HURON (AP)—Members of two unions representing 340 workers at Port Huron Paper Co. Thursday ratified a new one-year contract calling for a general five per cent pay raise. The unions involved were Local 193 of the United Papermakers and Paperworkers and Local 156 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers. The old contract expired Wednesday.

Romney Mum on Veep Idea

Just Not Thinking About It, He Says

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney said yesterday he hasn't been thinking about the possibility he might become the Republican vice presidential candidate. He added he had not rejected the idea.

"I'm not going to talk about accepting it on the presumption it might be available," Romney said at a news conference. "I have no way of knowing what will happen."

★ ★ ★

Asked about a statement earlier this week by U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., that the governor would accept the vice presidential nomination, Romney said: "Whatever he said in that connection, he said on his own.

"He doesn't know what he's talking about as a result of any knowledge about my attitude," Romney said.

COULDN'T KNOW

"He couldn't possibly have any knowledge about my attitude," he added, "because I have not discussed the matter with my wife or my associates or anybody else — so how is he going to know?"

Asked if he had rejected the idea, Romney said: "Well, I just haven't been thinking about it."

Local Pupils Vie in Parade Float Contest

Next Thanksgiving Day, some fifth or sixth grader in the Pontiac School District will see the float he designed in the J. L. Hudson Co.'s parade in Detroit.

Detroit and Pontiac school systems are the only school districts that have been asked to design floats, according to Gerald White, director of elementary education.

Simple drawings based on a well-known character in literature or television, for example, will be submitted this month by Pontiac fifth and sixth graders.

One float will be made after the winning Pontiac drawing is selected, White says.

Corbin said the Shrine Club this summer also will sponsor visits to Detroit Tiger baseball games for 120 state wards confined to Pontiac State Hospital.

Tigers Not Opportunists in 3-2 Defeat

Pontiac Press Photos by Rolf Winter

'WATCHING' THE WINNER — Coach Al Cuthrell of Waterford clicks the stop watch off with the final time on Dave Galloway who won the mile for the Skippers in a 60-58 victory over Pontiac Northern yesterday. Galloway was timed in 4:30.9. Starter Dick Robinson is in the background.

Called on Warmup Pitches

Spitball Rule Causes Feud

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Mauch and Gil Hodges long for the good old days when the spitball was an illegal, unsanitary but generally accepted maneuver that was cheerfully overlooked by everyone concerned.

No more.

Mauch, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, learned that the hard way Thursday night during a 3-0 loss to Hodges' New York Mets.

It was the bottom of the seventh inning and John Boozer was coming on to relieve Phillies' starter Woody Fryman. Boozer went to the mound for his eight warmup pitches, toed the rubber, bent and wiped his hand across it. Then he spit on his hand. Trouble.

"Ball one," shouted plate umpire Ed Vargo.

★ ★ ★

Mauch raced out and argued. "How can he be charged with a ball on a warmup pitch?" he asked. "He went to his mouth inside the 18 foot circle of the mound," answered Vargo, "and that's a ball — anytime."

"But the game's eight pitches away from being in progress," said Mauch. "It doesn't matter," answered Vargo.

"What if he does it again?" continued Mauch. "I'll call ball two," said Vargo.

"Do it," ordered Mauch. Boozer complied. "Ball two," shouted Vargo.

"What if he does it again?" repeated Mauch. "I'll call ball three and throw him out," replied Vargo.

★ ★ ★

You know what Mauch did.

Now with Boozer out, Dick Hall relieved. "And what," asked Mauch politely, "if Hall does it"?

"I'll forfeit the game to the Mets," answered Vargo.

THREE BALLS

Mauch wasn't prepared to go quite that far. So Bud Harrelson, leadoff batter for the Mets, became the first man in baseball history to draw three balls in the on-deck circle.

"They don't know the rule so how should I?" said Mauch of the argument which lasted 15 minutes. "I've heard of players over-hustling, and managers over-managing. Now I've seen umpires over-umpiring.

"A pitcher going to his mouth while warming up has no bearing on the game. Why should he be penalized? Next thing you know, they'll be calling it in the bullpen."

Mauch, who was ejected along with Boozer, called the spitball rule weak-kneed and wishy washy. "Punish the people who cheat," he said. "We all know who they are."

Hodges agreed.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think the rule is right," he said. "It puts too much emphasis on the umpire. I like the way it was before. Go to your mouth when you want to. If the president of the league wants to do something about you, then he does."

The spitball controversy overshadowed a combined three-hit shutout by Nolan Ryan and Ron Taylor and Ed Charles' two-run homer.

Ryan struck out 10 but threw 136 pitches in seven innings and was lifted for a pinch hitter. Taylor finished up.

Bases Loaded in 10th, but Bengals Fail

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Even when they lose the Detroit Tigers have been unbelievable, and the way they lost 3-2 to the Minnesota Twins last night was really hard to believe.

The Bengals have been sitting atop the American League, not because of any big batting averages, but because they have been getting exceptional pitching and they have been late inning opportunists.

Last night, even though the Tigers managed only six hits off Dean Chance in nine innings, they had the former Cy Young award winner on the ropes on several occasions but couldn't deliver the kayo hit.

Jim Northrup, who tied the game Wednesday night with a homer, did it again in the ninth inning yesterday. The blast went into the second deck in left field with no one on base to knot the count at 2-2.

OFF THE HOOK

Al Worthington, right hand reliefer who pitched the 10th for the Twins, couldn't find the plate, but the Tiger let him off the hook, also.

Minnesota took the 3-2 lead in the top of the 10th after two outs when Rod Carew doubled down the left field line and Tony Oliva singled sharply to right off the Tigers fourth pitcher Denny Ribant.

★ ★ ★

In the bottom of the frame after Dick McAuliffe started the inning with a single to center, Don Wert sacrificed. Al Kaline then walked and both advanced on a wild pitch. Willie Horton was given an intentional pass to load the bases.

Bill Freehan, however, went down swinging and Dick Tracewski with a .000 batting average, swung at three straight high outside pitches to end the threat and the game.

It was a game in which players, managers and fans were all involved in rhubarbs with the umpires.

The Tigers had four double plays in the game and appeared to have ended the Twins' fourth inning with a twin killing which would have kept Minnesota from scoring.

RULED SAFE

However, first base umpire Bill Haller ruled Ted Uhlaender safe at first on McAuliffe's relay throw and the Twins collected their first run. Jack Hernandez then followed with a single and it was 2-0.

In the bottom of the fifth, Northrup and pinch hitter Tom Matchik walked. Norm Cash, batting for starter Joe Sparma, laced a single into center for an rbi. But, McAuliffe and Wert struck out and grounded out.

Skippers Edge PNH Thinclads in Final Event

Victory in the mile relay — final event of the meet — pulled Waterford from behind Pontiac Northern and to a 60-58 track victory yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Northern led 58-55 going into the relay. But Bob Thomas, Mike Daly, Neal Blackmer and Dave Galloway sped home in front in 3:35.9 for five big points. There are no points for second in a dual meet relay.

★ ★ ★

Mel Reeves was the big scorer for Northern as he won the high and low hurdles and high jump. Claude McCathern sped to firsts in the 100 and 220 for PNH and anchored the Huskies winning 880 relay team.

Larry Biskner of the Skippers won the pole vault at 13 feet and captured the long jump with a good leap of 21-1½. McCathern's 10.1 in the 100 also was exceptional.

The teams divided the 14 first places. Waterford swept all three places in the 880, but PNH countered by grabbing all points in the 220. The Skippers controlled the distance events while the Huskies took care of the dashes and hurdles.

★ ★ ★

But Waterford had faster 440 men than Northern available for the mile relay and this decided the outcome.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake stepped outside the Inter-Lakes League to test Southfield and came away on the short end of a 67-51 score.

94th Derby Saturday

Poor Post Position for Forward Pass

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jimmy Conway is hoping Francie's Hat will make Saturday another very special May Day.

★ ★ ★

Henry Forrest is wondering if a certain post will block Foward Pass' way to the Kentucky Derby winner's circle.

★ ★ ★

And 12 other trainers are saddled with their private hopes and fears as they await the 94th running of America's foremost horse race.

May Day for Conway does not fall on the first day of the month, but on the fourth. The last time Conway trained a Derby horse was the last time it was run on May 4, in 1963. He saddled Chateaugay, the winner.

"I hope this May 4 is a good day for me," Conway said Thursday after making Francie's Hat, owned by Al Lippe's Saddle Rock Farm, an official part of the 14-horse field entered in the 1¼-mile classic.

The post Forrest is worried about is post position 13.

NOT LUCKY

"We weren't very lucky in the draw," said the trainer for Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm.

In Forward Pass' five victories this year, four of them in stakes, he started from the No. 1 through No. 4 post positions. In his three losses, he broke from the No. 5, 7 and 10 slots.

"I believe the post will probably cost us a length or two," Forrest said. "However, if he breaks good, he shouldn't have trouble getting a position."

The post position did not keep Forward Pass from being made the early 8-5 favorite for the race which will go off at 4:38 p.m., EDT. It will be televised from 4-5 p.m. and carried on radio from 4:20 4:50 p.m. by CBS.

★ ★ ★

If all 14 start, the Derby will have a gross value of $165,100, with $122,600 to the winner.

Jockey Ismael Valenzuela will be looking to get Forward Pass a good break, while Howard Grant will be trying to help Francie's Hat touch off Conway's May Day celebration.

The second early favorite is Peter Fuller's Dancer's Image, who will be ridden by Bobby Usery, and the third choice is Mrs. Montgomery Fisher's Proper Proof, to be ridden by Johnny Sellers.

October House Farm's Iron Ruler and Cain Hoy Stable's Catpain's Gig dfew th Cain Hoy Stable's Captain Gig drew the fourth shortest odds in the early betting line.

Iron Ruler will start from the No. 1 position — "It's the shortest way home," said trainer Eddie Yowell — and will be ridden by Braulio Baeza. Manny Ycaza will be aboard Captain's Gig.

PP	Horse	Jockey	Prob. Odds
1.	Iron Ruler	B. Baeza	8-1
2.	T. V. Commercial	H. Grant	15-1
3.	Jig Time	R. Broussard	20-1
4.	Kentucky Sherry	J. Combest	20-1

Kentucky Sherry, Trouble Brewing and Te Vega are coupled in the wagering as members of the mutuel field.

Brundage Explains Barring S. Africa From '68 Olympics

CHICAGO (AP) — South Africa was barred from the 1968 Olympics at Mexico City as a protective measure against possible violence at the Games.

That was the explanation of Avery Brundage, International Olympic Committee president, on his return to Chicago Thursday from Lausanne, Switzerland.

★ ★ ★

It was in Lausanne that Brundage said he recommended to the IOC executive board a quick mail vote which knocked South Africa from the Games.

"The action by the ececutive board recommending a full committee vote against South Africa's participation was done at my suggestion," said the 80-year-old millionaire.

"The protesters seem to think we took this action just against South Africa. We did it, in effect, to protect their boys and girls who would be exposed to violence or unpleasantness nn Mexico City.

NHL Western Playoff Reaches Final Game

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Wren Blair, coach of the Minnesota North Stars, won't be trapped into predicting a victory for his team tonight against the St. Louis Blues. But he says it wouldn't surprise him.

With the West Division National Hockey League playoffs tied 3-3 Blair has developed a good deal of respect for the Blues . . . and their fans.

★ ★ ★

"This team (Minnesota) has bounced back so many times already this season," Blair declared, "nothing surprises me anymore. But the crowd in St. Louis is bound to give the Blues a big lift.

"That place is wild," said the North Stars' coach. "I've always thought the crowds at Boston and Chicago were the toughest for a visiting team. Believe me, St. Louis ranks right with them."

FACE MONTREAL

The winner of tonight's contest will face the Montreal Canadiens in the opening match of their Stanley Cup playoff series, a best-of-7 affair. The Canadiens have been catching their breath after a whirlwind East Division playoff series victory over the Chicago Black Hawks.

The Blues will be looking for the return of captain Al Arbour and veteran defenseman Doug Harvey for tonight's contest. Arbour warmed up before Wednesday night's game, but did not play.

★ ★ ★

"Al tested his injured leg and he didn't think he was quite 100 per cent," said Blues' Coach Scotty Bowman. "So, rather than risk the chance of re-injury, I decided to rest him for a couple more days."

★ ★ ★

Bowman explained he lifted his veteran goalie Glenn Hall in the second period of Wednesday's contest in order to give him added rest for the crucial game tonight. The North Stars held a comfortable lead over the Blues at the time and seemed to be in control.

DOUBLE TALK

Tonight's game will be televised in Canada with commentary in both French and English, a Blues' spokesman said. The Stanley Cup opener Sunday afternoon will be televised in the United States (CBS) and the network is not about to gamble on the outcome of tonight's contest.

Identical television facilities are being prepared at the St. Louis Arena and at the Metropolitan Sports Center, home of the North Stars.

SPITBALL FUROR — Plate umpire Ed Vargo strides toward Philadelphia relief pitcher John Boozer who delivers a warm-up pitch in the seventh inning of last night's game with the Mets in New York. Vargo charged three balls against Boozer and then ejected him from the game for using the spitball motion (hand to mouth) during the warm-ups. Phillie manager Gene Mauch protests the ruling which was the most unusual ruling involving the spitter rule this year. The Mets won the game, 3-0.

WIBC Bowler Fails to Lead on Final Ball

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Enice Rainwater of Belvedere, Ill., left four pins standing with her last ball and fell down to third in the Division I singles of the Woman's International Bowling Congress Thursday.

She had scored a double and needed a strike to give her a tie for first with Jackie Kott of San Antonio. She wound up with 661. Miss Kott has 665 and Marie Geib of Pryor, Okla., has 663.

★ ★ ★

Miss Rainwater lost at least $100. "I was nervous," she explained.

Solid Hit Bound Sounds of Detroit rolled into second place in Division I team with 2,713.

Sportsman Barger Service of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, went into a tie for third in Division II team with 2,383.

Phoebus Whips Yanks for 4th Victory

Associated Press Sports Writer

No-hit Tom Phoebus said he didn't have very much Thursday night but the surging Baltimore Orioles have plenty to show for it today.

In his first start since his no-hitter last Saturday, the stocky whipped the New York Yankees 7-3, becoming the first American League pitcher to win four games.

★ ★ ★

In the only other contests, Minnesota edged Detroit 3-2 on Tony Oliva's 10th-inning single and Boston trimmed California 4-1. Detroit's league lead shrank to a half-game over Baltimore and one game over Minnesota.

Phoebus allowed his first hit with one out in the third inning —a run-scoring single by Horace Clarke. He also served up a two-run homer to Andy Kosco in the eighth.

But he struck out 11 batters, whiffing Mickey Mantle four times, as the Orioles swept their three-game series from the Yankees and won their fourth straight game.

"I felt a little pressure at the start," Phoebus said. "I wasn't relaxed. I wasn't as sharp as the last time.

★ ★ ★

"I wasn't hitting the corners and I was behind the batters. I seemed to relax a little after Clarke's hit."

Phoebus went to a 3-2 count nine times but issued only four walks. He threw 138 pitches, compared to 110 in the no-hitter.

Andy Etchebarren, Paul Blair and Mark Belanger paced the Baltimore attack with three hits apiece. Etchebarren had a homer and Blair knocked in three runs.

★ ★ ★

"The hitting's been picking up lately," said Manager Hank Bauer. "Now, if we can get our big man back in there . . ." He was talking about slugger Frank Robinson, who returned to Baltimore Thursday after being hospitalized in California with the mumps but is not expected back in the line-up for at least another week.

Boston's Jose Santiago allowed only three hits and fanned nine in recording his 11th straight regular season victory since mid-1967.

Ken Harrelson supported him with a single, double, homer and two runs batted in. The triumph ended a four-game losing streak for the defending champion Red Sox.

ABC an Echo for Keg Army

Jim Stefanish Wins Classic Crown

CINCINNATI (AP) — Only the echo of toppling pins now, but 30,000 bowlers can give first hand accounts when the lanes roared at the American Bowling Congress tourney for 75 days.

Many of the Keglers, posting scores good enough for a piece of the $541,000 prize money, will continue to give vivid accounts of fortunes and failures long after the tournament ended Wednesday.

In the ABC regular team all-events division, Cascade Natural Gas Co., Seattle, Wash., won with a 9,151 total, which was audited Thursday.

Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., and Vince Mazzanit of Philadelphia won all-events titles in the classic and regular division, respectively.

Stefanich fired his total on series of 664, 652 and 667, and Mazzanit utilized blocks of 732, 600 and 639.

In classic doubles, Bill Tucker of Los Angeles rolled a 300 to help his partner Don Johnson of Kokomo, Ind., and himself take first place and a $1,000 prize.

Walt Roy and Rich Stark of Glenwood Springs, Colo., came up with a 1,325 in regular doubles for first place and $1,000.

Classic singles action saw Dave Davis, Phoenix, Ariz., post a first-place 741 which netted $500.

Wayne Kowalski of Revere, Mass., rolled a 738 to win regular singles and $500.

South Lyon '9' Defeats Milan

South Lyon's Larry Roper spun a six-hitter at Milan yesterday as the Lions posted a 2-1 Southeastern League victory.

South Lyon, 5-1 in league play, scored both its runs in the fourth inning on two singles, a walk and a throwing error.

4th for Novi

Novi won its 4th straight track meet by downing Ypsilanti Roosevelt in a league dual, 70-48, and John Van Wagner took three events.

He won the high jump, pole vault and high hurdles. His high jump was 6-0 and vault was 10-0.

Freshman Tom Boyer ran the half mile in 2:08.1.

Yachts Ready for Big Race

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The first vessles in the 21st annual Newport-to-Ensenada yacht race were expected in Ensenada, Mixico, about midday today but light southerly breezes were slowing the pace.

Some 570 yachts in five classes left the starting line Thursday under overcast skies and were near San Diego at nightfall. At that time, the field was led by the 58-foot catamaran Seasmoke, owned by television star James Arness.

Harvard, Penn Crews Tangle in Adams Cup

By the Associated Press

Harvard, winner of 31 consecutive races in college competition, and Pennsylvania's IRA champions, meet for the first time this season in the Adams Cup Regatta at Annapolis, Md., Saturday.

The two tall, powerful heavyweight crews are rated the best in the East and possibly in the country this year. It wouldn't be surprising if either one won the Olympic eight-oared rowing berth.

★ ★ ★

Navy, the host crew, doesn't figure to stay up long with the two unbeaten eights. Navy is 0-2 while Harvard and Penn are both 2-0 for the season.

The crews will meet again on May 11 in the Eastern Sprint Championships at Worcester, Mass.

Harvard, unbeaten in college rowing since 1963, has won the title the last four years. Penn won the three-mile Intercollegiate Rowing Association championship last year. Harvard does not row in the IRA.

There's an easy way to tell a Mercury from other outboards.

It's the quiet one.

If you don't believe us, just drop down to the nearest lake or marina and give a listen. A Mercury outboard is quieter than other outboards to begin with because of the way it's built: internal reed valves, tighter-fitting parts with closer tolerances and Jet-Prop exhaust. But that's just a starter. Mercury adds a rubber-mounted aluminum wraparound cowling with sound-absorbent liner, Dyna-Float suspension, Power-Dome combustion chambers and sound-sealed remote control and fuel line fittings. But enough details. The important thing is that a Mercury isn't just quieter than any other outboard—it's the quietest outboard you can buy! Your Mercury dealer will be happy to arrange a listen.

GARY PLAYER'S GOLF CLASS: How many knuckles?

Defeat Lakers, 124-109

Celtics Rule NBA Roost Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston's Celtics once again rule the National Basketball Association roost after what Bill Russell terms "one of the greatest victories of all the championships we've won."

★ ★ ★

The 6-foot-9 player-coach referred not only to Thursday night's 124-109 triumph in the Forum, home of the Lakers, but to the playoffs over-all.

For Russell it meant the first title as a coach after Boston won eight straight under Red Auerbach. The Celtics were beaten out last year by the Philadelphia 76ers.

Big Bill figures this one of the finest seasons because "this Celtic team is not one of the most talented that I have been on."

Literally, however, they blew the Lakers off the court in the first half to build a 20-point advantage at 70-50. John Havlicek, who wound up with 40, and Bailey Howell, with 30, led the assault.

SIXTH TIME

Los Angeles played poorly in the finale which gave Boston the series by a 4-2 count, the sixth time in the modern reign of the Celtics that the Lakers have been their final victims.

Havlicek again proved the iron man as he played 47 of the 48 minutes in Boston's 101st game of the long season.

"Russell learned a lot as a coach last year and he was a better coach this year, which helped the team a lot," Havlicek commented, adding, "Bill, himself, admitted it."

Cojecture began immediately on the playing years left for the 33-year-old Russell.

He and Sam Jones have played on the Boston title teams since 1958-59 and Sam has said he plans to retire next year.

Boston built a 35-28 first-quarter advantage before the 17,398 in the new Forum and then surged to a 20-point lead early in the second stanza.

Twins Defeat Tigers in 10th on Single, 3-2

In the sixth inning, Kaline reached first when Bob Allison who had just entered the game in place of Rich Reese, dropped a low liner in left field for an error. Willie Horton followed with a single.

The Tigers made no attempt to sacrifice the runners at this point. Instead Freehan popped up to shortstop. Ed Mathews took a third strike which started the arguments with plate umpire Al Salerno and Northrup grounded out.

Mathews was tossed out of the game and this provoked the fans even more, bringing about an inning by inning battle of words and gestures between the fans and umpire Salerno.

Miller, who had two hits in the game, came home when Mike Dodds laid down a squeeze bunt in the fourth.

Lake managed only one hit, a single by Paul Bailey in the third inning as the Dragons suffered a 1-0 loss to Utica High.

Nicklaus Makes Golfing Point With 65 Round

Takes One Stroke Lead in Houston Champions International Event

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Golfer Jack Nicklaus, without a tournament victory for the year and far down the list in official money winnings, said he came to the Houston Champions International ready to win. After the first round Thursday, nobody stepped up to argue the point.

He fired a six-under-par 65 in the first round of the $100,000 Champions tournament to grab the lead by one stroke.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus toured the 7,166-yard champions golf club course with six birdies and no miscues.

"These must be my kind of greens," the 28-year-old Columbus, Ohio pro said. "The ball rolled good. I drove the ball well and, of course, I putted well, too."

He also pitched well. Using short irons he repeatedly dropped the ball to within six feet or less of the pin. He followed up five of these shots with birdie putts. Nicklaus' other birdie came on No. 9 where he blasted out of a bunker and dropped a 20-footer.

Nicklaus, whose blond hair is burned almost white by the sun, said he's not concerned about the results of the tour so far this year.

"I don't feel like I've been in shape to win until the last month or so," said Nicklaus.

Phillie Pitcher Gets Advice From Met---Use Pickle Brine

By the Associate Press

Nolan Ryan has some advice for John Boozer. Pickle brine. It keeps you out of spitball trouble with the umpires.

The Great Spitball Controversy erupted again Thursday night in the midst of the New York Mets' 3-0 victory over Philadelphia.

Boozer was tossed out while warming upon the mound as a relief pitcher for putting his hand to his mouth.

Ryan, the winning pitcher who allowed just three hits in the seven innings he pitched, said he says out of trouble because of the pickle brine prescribed by trainer Gus Mauch to treat blisters on his pitching hand.

★ ★ ★

"I don't like pickles," said Ryan, who was lifted after throwing 136 pitches and striking out 10. "But the brine is doing the job. I keep dipping my finger in a jar of the stuff.

★ ★ ★

"Only trouble is I don't like the smell. It bothers me, especially when I bring my hand to my mouth. Outside the 18-foot circle, of course."

OTHER GAMES

In other National League games Thursday, Los Angeles outlasted Atlanta 2-1 in 17 innings, Houston blanked St. Louis 4-0, Chicago shut out Pittsburgh 1-0 and Cincinnati downed San Francisco 6-2 in 11 innings.

Look to Your Garden for a Better World

By JODY HEADLEE
Pontiac Press Garden Editor

"Better gardens make a better world," said Carlton B. Lees, kicking off the seventh annual Clara B. Ford Garden Forum at Greenfield Village.

"A garden," continued Lees, executive director of the Massachusetts Horticulture Society," is an experience. To me, it is my life.

"Look at the trees. Really look at them. A tree changes not just day to day or year to year but moment to moment.

"Our gardens are a link between ourselves and the world we live in, an art form. Actually, it is the last form to develop in a civilization.

★ ★ ★

"Take a tiny garden of petunias that brightens a dark alleyway. What makes the human being tending that garden different?

INTELLECT

"Knowledge! Man brings intellect to a landscape and that's what makes a garden.

"A garden," he reemphasized, "is an experience. And it takes the artist in us to see it, pull it out and make us aware of it.

"Put yourself into the landscape, improve on it and remember as you work, greater gardens create a greater America."

★ ★ ★

Lees supplemented his lecture with three slide projectors working simultaneously to create a coloful psychedlelic effect.

Robert P. Wintz of the Chicago Horticultural Society shared the morning program with Lees.

Wintz directed his attention and lecture to "Garden Annuals — Our Perennial Favorites."

★ ★ ★

"You," he said to the audience," should be especially aware of annuals. Metropolitan Detroit leads the country in the production of bedding annuals.

HYBRID

"The big spurt in the annual industry . . . and annuals are big business . . . started after World War II with the arrival of the F1 hybrid.

"The late seedsman George Park wanted to buy exclusive rights on the F1 Sugar Plum from its deevloper . . . Mr. Petunia . . . Chalres Weddle and asked what the cost would be.

"Weddle is to have replied, 'I'll sell you one pound of Sugar Plum seeds in exchange for your airplane.'

★ ★ ★

"F1 hybrids," continued Wintz, "are worth more than their weight in diamonds.

"On the wholesale market today, one ounce of grandiflora petunia seeds sells for $610. And one ounce of double grandiflora petunia seeds costs $952.

"The inbred petunia popcorn brings $100 an ounce while the zinnia Zenith is $24 an ounce and the zinnia Blaze, $2.50 an ounce."

★ ★ ★

Costs on the hybrid seeds are high because it is strictly a hand operated production. Each plant must be cross pollinated by hand and seed men must be careful that the plants are protected from pollen carried by bees and insects.

MESH COVER

One year, according to Wintz, Pan American Seed Co. covered its entire crop of Commanche petunias with mesh to avoid this hit-and-miss pollination problem.

The mesh didn't stay put. The bees got in. And Pan American lost its whole year's crop.

Is the cost and effort worth it? Piantsmen gand gardeners agree that it is. The results prove it.

The color range, size and beauty of today's annuals far exceed those of the originals.

★ ★

"Petunias, zinnias and snapdragons are hybridized the greatest," said Wintz. "But look for others to join the march in the near future."

Annuals are also the answer to our instant craze. We have instant coffee, instant puddings, instant pictures and bedding annuals make possible instant gardens. Within a very short time after planting, the plants give a profusion of color and bloom.

"I would advise the annual buyer," said Wint', "to know the varieties. Plantsmen frequently have untrained help during the peak seasons and they are not equipped with all the answers.

★ ★ ★

"If you know a particular variety that you want to try or have tried and found successful, contact your dealer and have him grow them on contract.

"It's temptation to buy blooming bedding plants, he said. "But with reliable dealers who label their plants correctly, it's not necessary Frequently, the nonbloomers suffer less setback when transplanted and side branch more quickly.

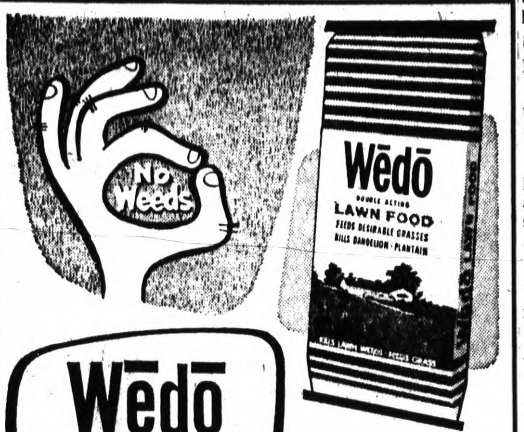

"Test the All-America selections. They're the cream of the crop."

★ ★ ★

Next year's Clara B. Ford Garden Forum will be held April 23, 24 and 25 at Greenfield Village. As a handy string-around the-finger reminder, garden clubs and plant socieites might like to list these dates in their annual program books.

Ever try digging out dandelions?

It's not only hard work . . . it's a waste of time. The roots go down deep . . . sometimes 18-24 inches. And if you leave the least little bit of root behind it can grow right back up again.

There's an easier way. Turf Builder Plus 2 gets rid of dandelions and twenty four other lawn weeds with no trouble. No mixing. No spraying. No mess. No odor.

There's no guess work about it. Results are guaranteed—or your money back.

...and grass gets thicker

What's more, you'll be feeding your lawn at the same time with Turf Builder — America's favorite lawn fertilizer. Your grass will get thicker because Turf Builder makes grass multiply itself.

Nature's Own Are Touchy

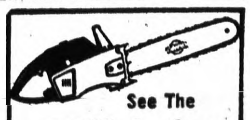

Discussing the difficulties of setting up wildflower exhibits, Louis Politi, horticulturist at the New York Botanical Garden, said:

★ ★ ★

"These little plants are often fussy, temperamental, and extremely difficult to grow. They resent being disturbed so you have to pray over them, plead, or get nasty and storm at them.

★ ★ ★

"But they are delicately beautiful and well worth all the trouble."

Lawn-Garden Fair to Open Tomorrow

"The accent is on "color" this year in the garden," said Don Juchartz, Extension Agricultural Agent. "The greater Detroit area is the world's largest producer of flowering annual plants and the unparalleled choice of colors, plants and prices makes this area a natural for the use of beautiful flowers around the home."

Juchartz pointed out that there will be a 20 per cent increase in the number of varieties of colorful petunias alone this year due to the great reception the public gave to this plant last year.

"Mature landscapes can benefit by adding a dash of color through the use of petunias, marigolds, alyssum, ageratums or pansies. It is surprising what a difference a few dollars worth of flowers can make in the appearance of a home where the landscaping is primarily green in color.

"Additionally, those who are just starting out with new homes can add much individuality and distinctiveness through the use of beds or borders of solid or mixed colors."

★ ★ ★

Many people really do not know how to use flowers for maximum effect, pointed out Juchartz, nor really what plants to put together to give a succession of bloom or the right combination of height. This is not as difficult as it might seem and the Cooperative Extension Service has made it quite easy to see these plants in "living color." Tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., has been set aside for the Free Lawn and Garden Fair at the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Woodward Avenue and Eight Mile Road.

FREE TO PUBLIC

This free, educational event will have masses of plants in flower to show not only what the plants are, but what colors and heights are available and how they can be combined together in various ways.

Demonstrations will be conducted on how to plant, fertilize and take care of beds of flowers, as well as answering individual questions and giving recommendations and suggestions for specific situations.

Detroit area commercial flower growers will truck in thousands of plants in flower for everyone to have an opportunity to examine them at close range. While the plants will not be sold, homeowners will be encouraged to take note of names of varieties and kinds of plants they like for purchase later at one of the many Detroit area garden centers or flower shops.

★ ★ ★

"A small investment in time and money can make a great deal of difference in the appearance of your yard," emphasized Juchartz. "Little upkeep is necessary in a bed of flowers if the proper preparation for planting has been made. A little beauty in the life of everyone can go a long way."

Everyone is welcome to attend the Fair. Over 150 different demonstrations showing how to take care of many yard problems, from how to prune a tree to laying sod, will be shown by over 200 professional and lay people who are experts in their field.

Vigorous Strain

Park is an unusual variety of Kentucky bluegrass, in that it is a combination of the most vigorous strains picked up by University of Minnesota researchers. It is especially noted for seedling vigor-plump, heavy seed that sprouts quickly.

Bluegrass Needs Spring Scalping

Kentucky bluegrass-fine fescue lawn can be mowed very low in late winter or very early spring.

This one close clipping of the year, followed by raking or sweeping, rids the lawn of dead foilage and allows perky spring shoots to show up more quickly. Also, the soil, less insulated, warms quickly, hastening early growth.

They all grow faster. Bigger. Stronger. Healthier. And more beautiful.

WHAT IS REDI-EARTH?

Back in 1960, professional growers were becoming alarmed. They couldn't get good rich topsoil anymore. As a result, their flowers, shrubs and bushes took longer to grow. They didn't bear as well. And too many of them sickened and died.

Scientists at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, took on the project of finding a better growing medium.

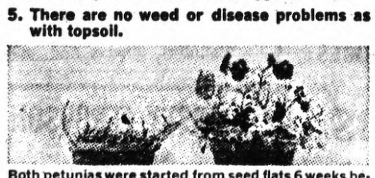

They tested hundreds of formulations before they settled on one.

It consisted of horticultural vermiculite, sphagnum peat moss, special trace elements and plant nutrients. We call this same mix Redi-Earth.

THOUSANDS OF "PRO'S" NOW USE REDI-EARTH

Professional growers all over the country now use Redi-Earth. They find that:

1. More seed springs to life.
2. Growing time is reduced up to five weeks.
3. The plants grow even bigger and healthier than in rich topsoil.
4. Shrubs and bushes grow bigger; fill in better. Flowers produce more and bigger blooms.
5. There are no weed or disease problems as with topsoil.

Both petunias were started from seed flats 6 weeks before the picture was taken. Left plant was grown in rich topsoil. Right plant was grown in Redi-Earth.

As a result, some of the food you eat and many of the plants and bulbs you buy were grown in Redi-Earth.

YOU CAN'T MAKE A MISTAKE WITH REDI-EARTH

Redi-Earth comes in a bag. Easy to store. Easy to handle, lightweight. And it's easy to use.

1. Dig your hole as wide and deep as instructions direct.

2. Pour 2" to 6" of Redi-Earth into bottom of hole.

3. Place the shrub, bulb, tree, flowers or vegetables in the hole.

4. Fill in around ball or roots with Redi-Earth, tamp down, fill in top with dirt. Then water and sta-a-a-a-a-nd back!

You can't make a mistake with Redi-Earth because all the mixing is done for you. It is a complete, scientifically balanced, one-step growing medium.

Redi-Earth is guaranteed to work. You must be satisfied with it or we will refund your money.

Audubon Society Joins Elm Drive

The National Audubon Society has joined the newly formed Elm Research Institute in its national drive to save the American elm from extinction

★ ★ ★

Dutch elm disease is killing more than 1,000,000 elms per year. Even the minimal costs of removing the dead trees is costing America scores of millions of dollars a year; the total cost, including reduced property values on streets and estates where these beautiful shade trees are lost, runs far higher.

The National Audubon Society and the Elm Research Institute might at first seem unlikely allies. The conservation organization is in the midst of a national campaign to ban spraying with DDT, whereas many of the Institute's members are tree service company officials whose companies spray trees.

But like many apparent disagreements, this "spray vs. antispray" controversy is giving way to understanding and knowledge. The National Audubon Society is not opposed to all sprays or all spraying, and the tree experts of the Elm Institute agree with the conservationists that any "cure" for Dutch elm diesease that contaminates the environment for other wildlife is not the right answer for the community nor, ultimately, for the elm.

★ ★ ★

"In gaining the support of the Audubon Society and other conservation groups," said John P. Hansel, Executive Secretary of the Elm Research Institute, of Waldwick, N. J., "we hope to develop a new area of understanding between the normally pro-spray tree experts and traditionally antispray conservationists, and in this way to fund a crash program of research that will control Dutch elm disease before the American elm follows the chestnut into extinction."

CONSERVATIONISTS

It was to provide this type of leadership that the Elm Research Institute was founded in the spring of 1967 by a group of distinguished conservationists headed by Governor Harold E. Hughes of Iowa. Research is to be financed by membership dues, on a graduated scale from $5,000 for life membership for a municipality to $5 for regular individual memberships.

It is hoped that the opening membership drive will provide funds by June of this year to sponsor Dutch elm disease research by scientists in tree laboratories at Cornell University, the University of Wisconsin, the University of Maine and like institutions. Since the Institute has no salaried personnel, the entire amount raised through dues can be applied to productive research.

The National Audubon Society, a conservation organization headquartered in New York, has opposed use of DDT against Dutch elm disease on the grounds that it is ineffective and that it inflicts long-lasting damage to wildlife and the balance of nature in the surrounding region.

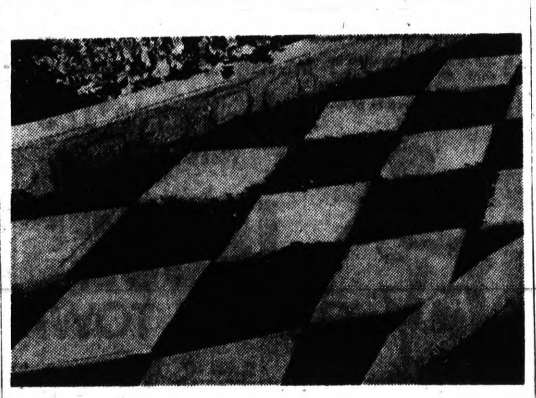

The Society condones the use of certain types of chemical pesticides to a reasonable extent, but favors other measures, such as the proposed introduction of a tiny European wasp that is a natural enemy of the disease-carrying elm bark beetle, a promising "biological control" now under study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

★ ★ ★

"We're in full accord with the Elm Research Institute's approach," says Roland C. Clement, biologist and Vice President of the conservation organization. "We are going to do our best to encourage others to support it and will work with the Institute in every way that we can."

★ ★ ★

Membership applications should be sent to the National Secretary, Elm Research Institute, 60 West Prospect Street, Waldwick, N. J. 07463.

Fertilizer Use Sets Pattern

Why do some newly planted lawns literally jump off to a fast start, while turf grasses languish in the ground? Differences in the way fertilizer was used is a common answer, says R. C. Kuehner, manager of Oregon Fine Leaf Fescue Commission.

He advises you to be sure to put enough fertilizer in the ground early to give your lawn a good start. This means about 20 to 30 pounds of the usual commercial mixes per thousand square feet. The fertilizer should be applied on dry soil.

Man Needs Green Plants

The director of the New York Botanical Garden says that the absolute dependence on green plants by and and all other animals provides an urgent challenge for increased research into the fundamental nature of plants.

Dr. William C. Steere says conservation-minded people must emphasize "the dramatic fact that as man continues to destroy the plants upon which all life depends, he simply destroys himself."

"An almost shocking state of affairs exists in that so few members of the general public realize the fundamental necessity of green plants for the very existence of life itself. Without them neither man nor other animals could exist."

Latest figures show that there are 81,000,000 gardeners now in the U.S.A. caring for 45,000,000 gardens report the Union Fork and Hoe Company researchers.

YELLOWING EVERGREENS
TURN HEALTHY GREEN FAST

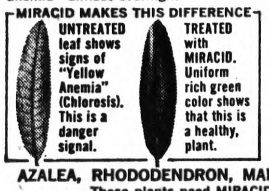

5 EVERGREENS worth $250...with $1 worth of MIRACID!

Contains Miracle CHELATED IRON — releases "locked up" nutrients

"Yellow anemia" (Chlorosis) is a dangerous killer! It is caused by improper soil acidity or serious iron deficiency. Instant-action MIRACID stops "yellow anemia" almost overnight!

MIRACID MAKES THIS DIFFERENCE

UNTREATED leaf shows signs of "Yellow Anemia" (Chlorosis). This is a danger signal. TREATED with MIRACID. Uniform rich green color shows that this is a healthy, plant.

WHY MOST FOUNDATION PLANTS NEED MIRACID

Chemical lime from concrete foundation continuously leaches into soil, making it unsuitable for evergreens, causes destructive "yellow anemia". MIRACID ironizes soil quickly, releases locked-up nutrients, produces proper soil chemistry for evergreens. Adds new vigor fast! See results in 7 days!

Only Simplicity has a line of non-scalp mowers

All Simplicity tractors (12 hp to 4 hp) have this patented anti-scalp feature. Mower is mounted on the front tilting axle . . . not on the tractor frame like other tractors. When front tires roll over bumpy terrain, front wheels act as a mower guide, allowing it to rise and fall and tilt from side to side. Anti-scalp rollers located under mower complete the job. In this way, Simplicity gives you true scalp-free mowing.

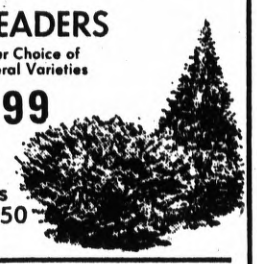

We invite your comparison! Come in and check our Tractor Value Yardstick. Take the exact measure of your yard and garden needs from the Simplicity line of six no-scalp deluxe tractors. Easy terms arranged.

RFK's Son Apprehended in Rock-Tossing Incident

DAVID KENNEDY

MCLEAN, Va. (AP) — "I regret to say," said Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, "that one of my sons, in the company of another boy, got into trouble last Saturday while my wife and I were away from home."

The Democratic presidential contender issued a statement while campaigning in Indiana Thursday after police in this Washington suburb disclosed his 12-year-old son, David, was apprehended last week after a rock-throwing incident on a highway near the Kennedys' Hickory Hill home.

David, one of 10 Kennedy children, and the other boy were brought to a police station after a motorist complained they threw rocks at his car, said Police Chief William L. Durrer of Fairfax County.

No charges were brought against the boys and they were taken home—David by a governess and the other boy by his parents, Durrer said.

SAME PROCEDURES

"We will follow the same procedures we use in all such incidents involving young children without prior records and hope the parents of the boys will be able to work things out," the chief added.

Police said the complaint, brought by Leoneo L. Correa of McLean, was dropped on condition the boys' parents pay the $119.72 damage. The windshield of Correa's car was smashed.

Sen. Kennedy said of his son: "He feels very badly about what he has done and has apologized to all concerned. He is a good boy who has always been a source of joy and pride to all our family and never has been involved in any trouble whatsoever prior to this incident.

Trial Board Upholds Deputy's Dismissal

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Deputy Fred J. Postill was fired Thursday by Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey after a sheriff's department trial board found him guilty of insubordination.

Postill, secretary of the Washtenaw County Deputies Association, refused to attend the trial board hearing Thursday, saying it was a "kangaroo court."

At issue in the firing was a squabble between Postill and Harvey.

The highest and lowest points in continental U.S. are both in California and only 86 miles apart: Mt. Whitney is 14,495 feet above sea level; Death Valley is 282 feet below sea level.

Graduates After 37 Years

LOS LUNAS, N.M. (AP) — Mrs. Manuel R. Sanchez quit school 37 years ago when she was in the 12th grade because of illness.

This spring, she will earn her diploma after several years of night classes, and already has ordered a graduation ring, cap and gown.

"The new math is shorter and easier," she says. "I don't know whether they're going to offer college courses here but I'd like to go ahead."

MSU to Honor Thai Leader

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Thailand's prime minister, Thanom Kittikachorn, is to be presented an honorary degree Sunday by Michigan State University, which conducts educational programs in his nation.

Kitticachorn, accompanied by his foreign minister and other top Thai officials, is on a five-nation tour that is taking them to Japan, Austria, the Netherlands, Brazil and the United States.

★ ★ ★

He is scheduled to meet Tuesday with President Johnson in Washington after a brief visit to New York City Monday.

Kitticachorn is to be greeted at the Lansing Airport by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan, MSU President John A. Hannah and local officials. Also to be there is the prime minister's niece, Miss Vilaireun Ansuchote, one of 52 Thai students enrolled at Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

The Thai party is to tour the MSU campus Monday morning before leaving for New York.

JERRY RAY

King Suspect's Brother Quits Job, Vanishes

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Ray, brother of the man sought on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has quit his job at a north suburban golf club and disappeared, the Chicago Tribune said today.

Ray's disappearance was reported a few hours after he appealed through an interview with another Chicago morning newspaper, the Sun-Times, for his brother, James Earl Ray, to surrender.

The Tribune quoted an official at the Sportsman Country Club near Northbrook as saying that Jerry Ray quit his job at the club a day after his photograph appeared in a national magazine. Ray had used a Wheeling post office address but lived in a room at the club, the paper said.

"We don't know where he went," the club official was quoted. "He didn't leave a forwarding address. I guess he got tired of being interviewed."

FEARED DEAD

In the Sun-Times interview, Ray, 32, expressed fears that his brother was dead and said other members of the family also doubted that he was alive.

"If he is still alive," Ray said, "I urge him to surrender himself to the FBI or to contact someone in the family and ask them to make surrender arrangements."

★ ★ ★

Ray told the interviewer he found it difficult to believe his brother shot King because "he never was a man of violence."

Ray, who worked as a maintenance man at the golf club, was reported as saying his brother could have been used in a conspiracy to kill the civil rights leader. His brother's criminal record shows he never fired a gun or hit anyone, Ray said.

★ ★ ★

The Sun-Times reported Ray said that if his brother tries to contact the people who "used him," he would be killed.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand, an old favorite of bridge writers, looks run-of-the-mill and would be in rubber bridge. But when Helen White played it in the 1935 National Women's Pair tourney, she made an important overtrick at her five club contract.

JACOBY

That overtrick would only be 20 points in rubber bridge but it gave her a top score in match point play.

We aren't going into the merit or lack of merit of the bidding.

In spite of vulnerability East might have ventured a heart overcall and it is doubtful if many North players opened with one diamond, but the lack of an overcall set the stage for Miss White's play.

She played the deuce of spades from dummy. This risked nothing unless the defense could get in a surprise ruff. Helen started with two losers. She was taking one quickly and leaving the other for later—or was she?

Anyway East was in with the queen of spades and promptly returned the jack of diamonds. Helen took the ace, cashed dummy's ace and king of clubs and her own king of diamonds, discarded her four of diamonds on one of dummy's high spades, ruffed a diamond, entered dummy with the eight of trumps and discarded her heart loser on dummy's last diamond.

We doubt if many readers have recognized the name Helen White and it won't mean anything more if we tell you that she is now Helen Smith.

However, you will undoubtedly remember her if we tell you that shortly after 1935 she became Helen Sobel, who is still recognized as the greatest woman bridge player of all time.

	1 ♠	Dble	?

You, South, hold:
♠A 8 7 6 4 ♥A 10 5 3 2 ♦5 4 ♣3

What do you do?

A—Redouble. You are too strong to crowd the bidding by an immediate jump to four spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You redouble. West bids two clubs and your partner bids two spades. East passes. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You could be trapped by false flattery. Be creative without being too impulsive. Express love without wearing heart on sleeve. Emotions run the gamut. Exercise control.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Almost without warning comes a turn of events leading to combination of responsibility and reward — that is the emphasis today. Older individual figures prominently. Be ready.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Finish, complete — don't feel you must hang on to past. Friends, relatives urge you in different directions. Key is to be independent without being arrogant. One phase ends, another begins.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Study GEMINI message. You are on edge of a new beginning. Have confidence. Promote your own ability. Spend money in order to make money. Be more daring than usual. Get going.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Follow through on hunch. Intellectual curiosity should be satisfied. Ask question — obtain answers. One who attempts to discourage you knows nothing. Depend on your own judgment — it will work.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Don't push yourself to forefront. Honor, acclaim come through efforts of others, very likely behind scenes. Display versatility. Look beyond immediate indications. Socialize.

LIBRA (Sept. 33-Oct. 22): Stress on practicality of your desires. Find out how best to express your needs. Today the details are emphasized. Outline agenda. Have suggestions at hand. Be specific.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your ability to communicate desires to superiors is highlighted. Don't be defeated by shyness. many want to know where you stand, tell them. Be frank. Stick to principles — you'll win.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Bring family into discussion concerning travel, vacation. Long-range view requires backing of those close to you. Let people know that you are open to suggestion. Overcome envy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your partner, marriage or business is concerned with financial situation. You may be victim of self-deception. Key is to talk, communicate. Find out why. If perceptive, you gain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on how you relate to public, to criticism and praise. Weigh facts, figures. Don't judge on basis of rumor, story or supposition. Mate or partner deserves benefit of doubt.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Accent on work, basic tasks. Keep resolutions concerning health, diet, well-being. Finish what you start. Keep promises made to yourself. Associates back you.

★ ★ ★

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are due to make major domestic adjustment. Do so with intelligence, compassion.

Junior Editors Quiz on STATIC ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: Why does static electricity do such strange things?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Inside a tiny atom is a central nucleus with one or more electrons circling around it (black balls in picture). Some of these electrons may be free. When a wire is connected to two poles of a battery, these free electrons move into nearby atoms, a process which continues right around the wire: this is an electric current (bottom).

But another way electricity works is called static electricity. The main picture shows this at work. Mary rubbed a comb briskly across a piece of wool. Some of the electrons in the wool were picked up by the comb.

Electricity may be either negative or positive. In this case, the comb gained negative electrons, so the comb became charged with negative electricity.

Then Mary held the comb over some bits of paper. These have no electric charge. But it is a rule in electricity that opposites attract each other, so the charged comb attracts the paper, which lifts off of the table, and sails up to the comb. This seems just like magic. Try it!

Students Egged On to Greater Heights

HILLSDALE (AP — The Hillsdale municipal airport recently came under a barrage of UFEs. That's a not-so-scientific term for "unidentified falling eggs."

Eighth-grade students at Davis Junior High School, under the supervision of their teacher, William Vincent Jr., heard that Coldwater students had packaged eggs tightly and dropped them from the air to illustrate the problems the space program has in landing men and equipment softly on the moon.

Not to be outdone by the Coldwater students, who sent their eggs to earth from 1,000 feet, the Hillsdale class tried it from higher altitudes after a series of experiments to find the best way of packaging the eggs.

The Hillsdale eggs, Mr. Vincent said, were carefully wrapped in containers that were dropped from an airplane supplied by airport manager Charles Bishop.

Mr. Vincent said the airplane drop came as the final test in a series of three tests that were meant "to show the students how an idea can be put through a sound testing program to produce superior results."

The eggs — about 162 of them — were placed in a variety of containers. Some were suspended in gelatin, shortening and in water.

He said no "hard" containers were used because they could have possibly damaged the airplane, and no supporting devices such as parachutes were used. He said, however, one container had propellers, and it still hasn't been found.

Other containers, he said, couldn't be dropped because they weighed too much, although they were successfully used in the first two tests.

The first test consisted of dropping the packages from the ceiling of their classroom to the floor. Mr. Vincent said 40 of 174 eggs broke in this test.

In the second test about 26-27 eggs out of 174 were broken when they were dropped from a third-story window onto concrete, he said.

In the third test — the drop from the airplane at 1,400-1,500 feet — only 15 eggs were broken. Mr. Vincent said two egg packages hit the hard-surfaced runway and survived the impact. This compares, he said with Coldwater's five eggs broken out of 100.

Handicapped Titlist Seems Anything but

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "handicapped American of 1967" looks and talks like anything but a handicapped American.

Max C. Rheinberger Jr., 38-year-old businessman of Duluth, Minn., said he hoped to deserve the President's trophy being presented to him today by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Those who met him here believed his right to the annual plaque could not be challenged.

Rheinberger was 22 years old when he was stricken by paralytic polio in 1952, and for three months his chances of survival were dim.

★ ★ ★

Three years later, after medical science had done everything then possible to help him, he was paralyzed from the neck down, with only minimal use of his left arm. According to some, he was not a hopeful subject for rehabilitation.

GET USED TO IT

Were those days of deep discouragement?

"No," he said, "it's a long time before you realize it isn't going to go away, and by the time you do, you're used to it."

Then a counselor in the Duluth office of the vocational rehabilitation program "decided I'd make a pretty good accountant." Rheinberger recalled. He enrolled in a two-year mail course.

Pecking out his assignments on a typewriter by using a cigarette holder clenched between his teeth, he completed the course in less than a year, with high grades.

★ ★ ★

No job was available immediately, so he hung out a shingle "Income Tax," and was in business. A federal grant of less than $2,000 financed a typewriter, adding machine and office quarters, and Rheinberger said he solicited business "like anyone else."

ORTHOPEDIC APPLIANCES

Then he realized there was no orthopedic appliance outlet in Duluth, so he entered into partnership with a friend to fill that need.

"We rented the store next door, put in a line of wheelchairs, and went at it," he said. "I knew the product."

Next he began the Northland Ambulance Service, a non-emergency type which operates out of Grand Rapids, Minn., 70 miles northwest of Duluth.

PC Musical to Open

By DEBBIE ROCHON

Students at Pontiac Catholic High School have set a hectic pace this week preparing for their first musical, Irving Berlin's "Annie, Get Your Gun."

The play is the story of Annie Oakley, portrayed by Judy Rick, and of her rise from a simple country girl to a famous sharpshooter.

While gaining her stardom, Annie finds herself falling in love with another famous marksman, Frank Butler, portrayed by Mike Meyer. Comedy, romance and tears all emerge in "Annie."

The musical will be presented tonight and Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Stevens T. Mason Junior High, Walton near Sashabaw Road. Tickets will be available at the door.

Freshmen were recently initiated by the senior class. The initiation had been delayed due to the confusion involved in moving from the old school to the new building.

RIGOROUS TASKS

Seniors put the frosh through such rigorous tasks as carrying the upper classmen's books, proposing to teachers and wearing wild outfits on dress-up day.

Each senior was allowed one particular freshman to initiate, and they could be dressed in any reasonable costume for one day. A contest was held to see which senior could come up with the best outfit for their freshman.

Winners were Pam Hamlin, who dressed Mark Roselli up for a "night on the town" complete with a semiformal dress and bunny fur; and Darla Wallet, whose freshman, Julie Szermet, represented the Tin Man from the "Wizard of Oz."

A welcome dance was held Sunday night to reward the freshmen for being good sports during initiation.

The new cafeteria at Pontiac Catholic was opened to the students this week. The cafeteria is in the uncompleted wing of the building, which also houses the chapel and auditorium, scheduled for completion by fall.

Girl at Walled Lake Honored at Conference

A Walled Lake High School senior ranks as the only girl in the state to win an award at the annual conference of the national Office Education Association.

Arlene Spence, 1441 Beverly, was judged tops in the nation in the categories of job application and interview, and individual student manual.

★ ★ ★

The manual described her duties as a co-op student working as secretary to Roy Hanes, director of the Walled Lake branch of the Michigan State University student teacher program.

Arlene was competing against 500 other girls in the nation.

ON TARGET—The spotlight swings to Pontiac Catholic High School dramatists (from left) Judy Rick, Pat Wirth, Ron Olesky and Mike Meyer as they get in one last rehearsal before tonight's opening of "Annie Get Your Gun." The musical will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at 8 and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. All three performances will be held in the Stevens T. Mason Junior High School, Waterford Township.

Mott Yell Leaders, Council Plan Two Fund-Raisers

By GEORGIA ROSEWALL

"Laugh, dance, swing. It's Spring!" To celebrate the season the Waterford Mott High School Student Council and cheerleaders are working hand in hand sponsoring a car wash and a dance.

The car wash will be tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Gilmore's Sunoco Customs Service, 3925 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township.

Proceeds from the car wash will go to the Student Council treasury. A small fee will be charged.

"Spr-r-ring," is the theme of the dance, sponsored by the Mott cheerleaders.

The event will be from 8-11 p.m. May 10 in the Mason Junior High School cafetorium.

FOR CHEERLEADING CAMP

Purpose of the dance is to raise money to help the varsity cheerleaders go to cheerleading camp this summer.

Typical thoughts of spring will set the mood for the dance. Potted flowers, a golden sun and raindrops made out of paper, will serve as decorations.

"The Incredible Left-Handed Mung," which previously played at Silver Bell, and the "Coral Sunset" will provide the entertainment for the evening.

Tickets will be on sale May 8-10 and at the door.

Novi Election

By THOM HOLMES

The question of cityhood for the Novi community was put to the student body of Novi High School today.

A long-debated issue in the village-township governed area, the question may soon go to the public itself and the results of today's mock election map be some indication of adult voting.

results of today's mock election may be Fred Hanert's freshmen civics class.

On Monday an assembly was held to discuss the issue.

Norm Sommers, a member of the Jaycees, spoke in favor of cityhood. Emery E. Jacques, a member of the local township board, spoke against cityhood.

Students were allowed to ask questions of the speakers.

Dominican

By ANDI BARNES

During the past week Dominican Academy was in a minor state of turmoil. Walls, windows, and ceilings of the school building were covered with posters giving the indication that it was Student Council election time.

This year a new election system was devised. Candidates were not chosen but were volunteers who really wanted to run for an office.

Students interested presented themselves to Sister Stephanie, student council moderator.

Sister then checked scholastic averages and personality traits before giving each girl her endorsement paper.

The endorsement papers were then given to campaign managers.

Each paper was to have seven signatures from each grade and three signatures from faculty members in order to be complete.

Campaign speeches were given Wednesday, voting followed.

Running for Student Council offices are Teri Collins and Shari Yezbick, president; Barb Small and Cindi Wyzgowski vice president; Sue Butler, Pat Gondert and Andi Barnes, secretary; and Barb Hunt, Janet Mastalski, Nancy May, Linda Sabatini and Cathy Spitzer, treasurer.

Lake Orion

By DIANE CHAMBERLIN

"Our team is red hot" was a familiar cry at Lake Orion High School this week as next year's cheerleaders were chosen. Each squad consists of six regular cheerleaders and one alternate.

The bruised knees and sore muscles were well worth the pain according to the new varsity squad.

Chosen were Barb Bonning, Gail Cole, Pat Knight, Karen Koehn, Theresa Vincent, Bonnie Workman and alternate Sue Cucksey.

Karen Clark, Kristen Kuester, Pat La Lone, Becky Matheys, Danielle Waldecker, Toni Winters and atlernate Mickey Vallenciam will compose next year's junior varsity squad.

The alternate will have a new meaning at LOH next year. The two girls will wear uniforms, cheer on the sidelines at all games, cheer during the school song, and act as manager, as well as take the place of any absent cheerleader on the squad.

Criticism Greets Plan Unveiled by Blue Shield

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Shield announced details today of a new program said to offer "the finest medical-surgical cost protection available anywhere."

Professor Max Shain of the University of Michigan School of Public Health, however, the new program is a "deception" which will lead to a "galloping inflation of Physcians' charges."

★ ★ ★

Michigan Blue Shield President John C. McCabe said the program — called Michigan Variable Fee (MVF) — is designed to broaden existing health care protection benefits.

Blue Shield has some 4,325,000 Michigan members — more than half the population of the state.

McCabe said the program would provide for a more ealistic payment method to eliminate present fixed payment schedules tied to subscribers' income.

He said fees traditionally have varied by locality, the nature of the services and the training and experience of the physician. He said there is no income differential.

McCabe also said the program would provide new benefits and would inclue others which were previously available only at extra cost under M-75, Blue Shield's previous "standard" protection.

Various medical exclusions which have been traditional in health care coverage in Blue Shield and commercial carriers will be removed, he said.

Talks Resume in Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — With Gov. George Romney and a state Senate subcommittee stopped short in their bid to get involved in Detroit's newspaper strike, bargainers for the parties to the strike resumed talks today.

A meeting was scheduled between publishers of the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News, which is out of publication for the 170th day, and the mailers union, which is not on strike.

Starting Monday, though, the publishers will meet with the Pressmen's Union, which is on strike, and sources said the talks would continue wit the other three striking unions.

Unlike the other three striking unions, the pressmen have yet to agree with the publishers on a number of nonecomic issues.

Al Leggat, Detroit labor relations director, said the meetings probably would reduce the unsettled issues on the pressmen's contract to the matters of wages, length of the contract, and hiring practices.

★ ★ ★

These, he said, are the main issues unsettled with the striking Plate and Paper Handlers Union, International Typographical Union, and Stereotypers Union.

Opponents of Bill to Ban Games Heard

LANSING (AP) — Spokesmen for Michigan's newspapers, radio and television stations and snall food retailers lined up Thursday against a bill that would ban lotteries and games of chance in the state.

The measure is aimed at the many forms of such games used as sales boosters by supermarkets and gasoline stations.

More than 100 witnesses crowded the Court of Appeals hearing room to give testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, committee vice chairman, presiding at the hearing said no decision would be made on reporting out the proposed legislation until at least next Tuesday.

Elmer White, executive secretary of the Michigan Press Association said his group "opposes any legislation which makes it illegal for a business to advise consumers what is available in the market place."

Summer Strife Not Inevitable--Milliken

PORT HURON (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken told 1,700 St. Clair County high school students Thursday that he does not share the idea that another summer of civil disorder in Michigan is inevitable.

While not precluding disorder Milliken said he was optimistic that passage of an open housing bill by the State Legislature and action on other civil rights measures "will help stave off a repeat of last summer's disorder."

Milliken praised peaceful student demonstrations which "have led to the righting of great social wrongs" but said "violent demonstrations have no place in a democratic society."

Arson Investigated at Telephone Office

A fire set by an arsonist at the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. business office, 87 N. Saginaw, was under investigation today by Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles Metz.

The fire, which caused only minor damage to a ceiling tile and two rugs, was started when someone tossed a match into a roof ventilator that had been stuffed with newspapers, Metz said.

A company mailman discovered the fire when he stopped at the office to make a pickup shortly after 2 a.m.

2 Proclamations

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has proclaimed the week beginning Monday as professional week in Michigan and designated May 12-18 as nursing home week in the state.

Math Aide Picked

Dr. David W. Wells, director of instruction and methematics for Oakland Schools, has been elected vice president for the elementary school division of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Plenty of Air, but Pilot Stays on the Ground

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Test pilot" Jack Heitman says he has better than 1,000 hours in the cockpit of a World War II fighter running at full throttle, but he's never left the ground.

Heitman, technical service manager for the Cupples Products Division of the H. H. Robertson Co., operates a bobtailed, wingless Chance Vaught Corsair.

The corsair directs a blast of air against prefabricated curtain walls custom designed for buildings.

The fighter's 2,100-horsepower engine generates a 135 miles-per-hour slipstream to test the effect of hurricane-force winds on the curtain walls. Water jets add the equivalent of torrential rain to the big wind.

★ ★ ★

Cupples bought the Corsair in Miami 10 years ago and the aircraft was flown to St. Louis. The federal government removed wings, tail and special instruments. Cupples technicians sawed off the fuselage just behind the cockpit and what was left was mounted in front of a testing frame.

Drop-In Center Hostess

Retiree Serves City's Elderly

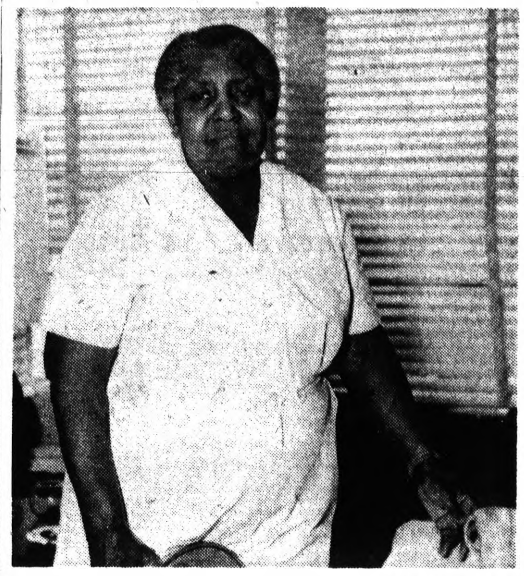

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in a series on the people and programs of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity — the antipoverty war.)

By ED BLUNDEN

A 71-year-old Pontiac woman has come out of retirement to serve her community — and at the same time find enjoyment.

Mrs. Rosie Gray of 42 Crawford is in charge of the drop-in center for the elderly at the foot of Branch Street in the Lakeside Community Center.

The center is operated by Project FIND of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO). Mrs. Gray's title is senior citizens' aide, but her proper title might be hostess.

Mrs. Rosie Gray: Hostess At Center For Elderly

The Pontiac drop-in center, similar to several around the county, was established last fall. Since then it has grown in popularity, and donated furnishings and a television set have been added. "There's always someone dropping by," Mrs. Gray said. "They're very proud to have this place," she added.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gray is a retired county worker. She is paid for 20 hours of work a week with OCCEO Project FIND funds.

HOME-COOKED MEAL

Every second Friday at the Pontiac Center, the elderly citizens offer a home-cooked meal. Last week it was spare ribs. Proceeds are to be used for center projects. This summer a two-day trip to Mackinac Island by about 40 members is planned.

Mrs. Gray terms her job a real pleasure and said she enjoys visits by the elderly of the community and all who drop in.

Oakland County is one of just 12 areas to have a Project FIND. It is a pilot project sponsored by the National Council on Aging.

★ ★ ★

George Cherry, county FIND director, said much of what is learned here can be used in a nationwide project.

OTHER PROJECTS

Besides the drop-in centers for the elderly, FIND staff members take part in various civic and government projects. For instance, they aided in a recently federally sponsored health poll by door-to-door canvassing.

But the main object is to organize the elderly for social participation, relieve their lonliness and to see they aren't neglected, he said.

"In essence, the program is to teach elderly persons to help themselves," Cherry said.

★ ★ ★

Project FIND stands for the : Friendless, Isolated, Needy and Disabled. It was initiated after studies showed many of the nation's elderly were being neglected in the crush of modern society, Cherry said.

U.S. Exports Up 4 Pct. in First Quarter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Exports — those goods that America sells to other countries — are playing an increasingly important role in supporting the growing economy of this nation, and all 50 states had something to offer in the world's marketplaces last year.

In 1967, the United States exported more than $31 billion in goods to overseas buyers, and first quarter figures for 1968 were running about 4 per cent higher.

★ ★ ★

According to the U.S. Commerce Department, some states have a broad business base and sent a variety of goods overseas.

Sales of manufactured goods from Michigan ranked sixth in the nation at $1.6 billion, and Michigan leads the nation in the sale of transportation equipment and nonelectrical machinery. Detroit ranks behind only Chicago as a foreign goods market.

FACTS ABOUT COLOR TV ANTENNAS

Experience has proven that the following facts apply to most locations in this area regarding Color TV Antenna installation.

- Modern, broad-band antennas are definitely superior for color reception.
- Lead-in wire should be high quality, low-loss type
- One continuous lead-in to set is best without couplers or series outlets.
- Good antennas are more directional — they tend to reject stations from other directions.
- Effects of weather on antennas and lead-in wire can cause severe loss of performance.

3 Brothers Use Phone for Rehearsal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The three Hammerman brothers, cantors who serve widely separated Jewish congregations, found distance no problem in rehearsing for a recent concert they presented at Beth El Congregation here.

They set up a weekly three-way phone hookup several months before their performance.

★ ★ ★

Saul, the youngest of the singing trio, is cantor at Beth El; Herman, the oldest, serves B'nai Israel in Los Angeles, and Michael is at Kehillath Israel Congregation in Boston.

Their transcontinental rehearsals lasted about 30 minutes and, as Saul Hammerman points out: "The telephone is a big help to use in getting ready for a concert. Our bills prove it."

Rumor-Curb Center Slated

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A rumor-control center will open in Oklahoma City next month.

The center will be manned by trained volunteers and its function will be to track down the origin of rumors and to reassure the public about them.

Tentative plans call for an eight-hour-a-day operation. It will have its headquarters in the office of the Oklahoma City Community Relations Commission.

El Paso Tax Aide Pays a Little Late

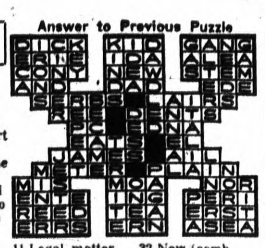

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Prudot, an assistant city tax assessor and collector, discovered he was delinquent on paying 1967 taxes on his home.

Prudot said he made out a check for the taxes but found the check among some papers Thursday.

He made out a new check and included $11.64 in payment of penalties and interest since the March 1 deadline.

A Look at TV

Social Satire Dated

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Sir James Barrie's turn-of-the-century comedy, "The Admirable Crichton," has not survived years and change very well, even with the help of some plastic surgery in the form of a TV adaptation.

The play was the last of the season's "Hall of Fame" series on NBC and was, perhaps, the most disappointing of all.

★ ★ ★

In a day when the word "servant" is used primarily by politicans on the campaign trail and when the live-in domestic is almost as rare as the golden eagle, it is hard for the contemporary audience to identify with the horrendous social problems posed by Sir James' little fable.

The play began as a Colonel Blimp type, Lord Loam, was about to make his annual demonstration of a democratic philosophy by having his three daughters and their beaus entertain his household staff at a formal tea.

DEFINITE ORDEAL

It was made clear immediately that, while the daughters snobbishly deplored the custom, the party was a definite ordeal for the ladies, maids, cook, chauffeurs and gardeners.

But it was his lordship's butler, Crichton, pronounced cryton, who believed most devoutly in caste distinctions.

★ ★ ★

Then the Loam family and friends—two foppish fiances—were shipwrecked on one of those lovely "Gilligan's Island" tropic spots with Crichton and one of the kitchen maids.

As was inevitable in a play that telegraphed its twists and turns far in advance, Crichton was forced to take command of the party. And, naturally, the aristocrats moved into the servants' roles.

ONLY ENDING

"The Admirable Crichton" could have only one ending. The party was rescued after several years on the island. And everybody reverted to his old role and position in life upon returning home. Except Crichton, who found lording it over the shipwrecked party so exhilarating that he decided to get out of service.

Bill Travers, a British actor, played Crichton with the stiff formality of a Wodehouse character. His wife, Virginia McKenna, was the lord's daughter and the subject of his island romance.

Although the material left much to be desired, and the comedy lines of a 1900 satire often seemed more silly than witty, the 90-minute program was still a treat to the eye. The settings were beautiful and so were the costumes.

"Hall of Fame" shows are always elaborate, expensive and painstakingly produced. But over the seasons, it has been evident that comedy has been their most difficult problem.

Earl Sees Barbra Streisand Sexing Up 'Dolly!' Movie

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — I've seen Barbra Streisand doing "Hello, Dolly!"—and besides being very beautiful at times, she's sexy.

Film history is being made here at 20th Century-Fox by 26-year-old Barbra from Brooklyn. Producer Ernie Lehman, a New York boy who's probably the "moneyest" writer in the world, has taken over the entire studio with his "1890s New York" set which'll glamorize Barbra throughout mankind.

WILSON

Ernie sat me down in his bungalow and allowed me to be the first outsider to hear Barbra singing "Hello, Dolly!" from the picture which just started filming the other day and won't finish until mid-August.

"When I heard her singing that song, it was goose-pimple time," asserted Ernie. "It was history . . ."

"And Barbra sings sexy, too," I commented enthusiastically. "A Mae West quality here and there," I added.

"Happy you noticed that," said Ernie, and so now we are going to have a double debate going: Is Barbra Streisand one of the sexiest girls in the world as well as one of the most beautiful?

I was smuggled out of Ernie's bungalow with my secret intelligence about how Barbra sounds singing "Hello, Dolly!" in the incompleted picture and permitted to stand in the back of a closed set while Barbra did a scene with the great Walter Matthau who to me has a remarkable W. C. Fields quality.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Television is an invention that has changed our kids from irresistible forces into immovable objects.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The Algonquin Wits," an entertaining book, quotes Franklin P. Adams: "Ninety-two per cent of the stuff told you in confidence you couldn't get anybody else to listen to."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "All parents of bright children are firm believers in heredity."—Pic Larmour.

EARL'S PEARLS: Remember the good old days, before credit cards, when you knew every day exactly how broke you were?

A Manhattan restaurateur complained that every time a newspaper mentioned his place they referred to it as "a midtown restaurant." But he solved the problem—he changed its name to "A Midtown Restaurant." . . . That's earl, brother.

Pam, A Student At Seaholm High School, Ponders Homework

Dishes Done, Pam Relaxes In Kitchen

Pam Martin's Typical, Plus...

By TOM GRAY

Outwardly, there is little to distinguish Pamela Martin from the average American teen-age girl.

She has typical teen-age "vices" — studying in bed, grabbing a quick snack after coming home from school, talking on the telephone.

Topical, too, are her chores around the Martin household, such as washing dishes, cooking an occasional meal, and helping take care of younger sister Kristin, going on 3 years of age.

However, certain related factors help to distinguish the 18-year-old Bloomfield Township resident from others her age. She has unusually long brown hair, for one, and she is prettier than most.

★ ★ ★

She is also Miss Teen USA.

Not only that, but she just missed being chosen Miss Teen International in a recent nationally televised contest in Hollywood.

For finishing third in the international event, she collected $1,000 from Teen-Age Fair, Inc., the sponsor.

"I guess I've always thought about entering one of these contests," Pam remarked. She read about the affair — at the time, a contest for "Miss Teen Great Lakes" — in the Seaholm High School student paper.

★ ★ ★

She called the number given in the article, and "was the last one to enter — I called just before the contest."

From then (last April) on, it was a matter of surprise after surprise, Pam said. "She was very happy just to be a contestant," her mother, Mrs. James F. Martin, recalled, "let alone win."

The topper was Hollywood, where two photographers flew her to Las Vegas to make a filmstrip required of each contestant. Each was taken to a national landmark, in Pam's case Hoover Dam, and photographed enjoying the sights, as if acting in a film for tourism advertising.

After "shooting" Pam as she viewed the famous dam, her escorts bought her a bathing suit, rented a boat, and filmed her water-skiing on Lake Mead.

★ ★ ★

Besides the contest activities, there were other things which helped to make the trip a memorable one. There were the 28 telegrams she received from well-wishers back home (including four from Julie Paulus, her "best friend"). And a dozen roses from her boyfriend.

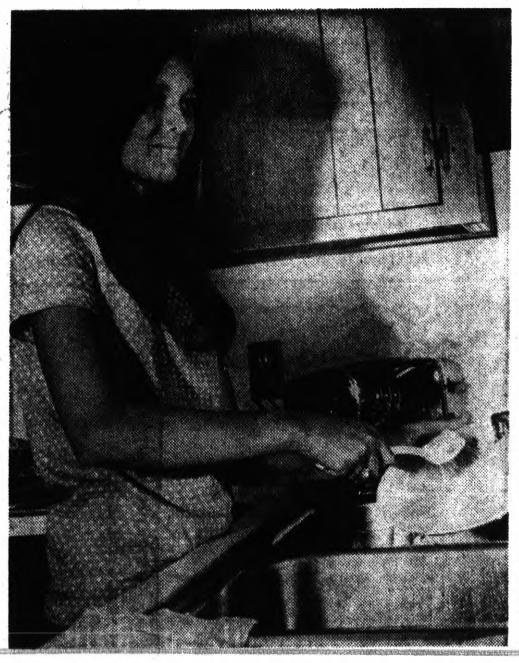

★ ★ ★

And perhaps best of all, there was a two-week vacation which followed, visiting relatives in Mexico and touring Mexico City, Taxco and Acapulco.

Pam, who has taken Spanish in school since the seventh grade, acted as interpreter for her parents much of the time.

She also got a first-rate look at Acapulco, which she says is her favorite of the three cities. "We were in Mexico City for three days, but we spent most of the time touring," she explained, "and I never had a chance to meet the people and know what they were like."

Next fall she will enter the University of Michigan, where she plans to major in either speech or Spanish.

Two More Hearts Transplanted in U.S.

By The Associated Press

The world's third human heart transplant within a week—and the ninth in all—was performed today at Houston, Tex.

Two of the recipients, both Americans, were still alive. The third, a Frenchman, died Tuesday.

Principal in the latest operation, at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston early today, was Everett Clair Thomas, 47, a Phoenix, Ariz., accountant. His heart was replaced by that of a 23-year-old woman who shot herself.

★ ★ ★

In Stanford, Calif., Joseph Rizor, 40, was in fair condition after the heart of an unidentified 43-year-old man replaced his own in an operation yesterday.

Dr. Norman E. Shumway, 44, who headed the Stanford transplant team, said the condition of the stocky Salinas, Calif., carpenter was fair.

The patient was receiving artificial respiration to help him breathe "because of a lung condition," Shumway said.

★ ★ ★

The donor, whose family asked anonymity, died of brain damage doctors described as irreversible.

EIGHTH IN HISTORY

Rizor, eighth person in medical history to undergo a human heart transplant, entered the hospital in March after suffering a serious heart condition for seven years. He wanted the surgery.

"I wish that were me," Rizor had said when he heard about the world's first heart transplant, which was done at Cape Town, South Africa, last Dec. 3.

"At first I was shocked by the idea but time and the knowledge of how desperately my husband wanted to undergo the operation have made me realize that this may be his only chance to live," Mrs. Rizor said before the operation began at 7:30 a.m.

Brain Proteins Learning Link?

NEW YORK (AP)—Brain research scientists report that they have found, for the first time, specific proteins in the brain involved "in some intimate way" in learning and memory.

With this knowledge, one scientist said, it may become possible to "influence the proteins and, at crucial periods of development, increase the potential for learning."

Dr. Samuel Bogoch, director of the Foundation for Research on the Nervous System, of Boston, reported isolating acidic protein that increased during learning in pigeons.

"It is very likely that the same thing exists in man's brain," Dr. Bogoch said. "It would be most unusual if it is not so."

★ ★ ★

The work of Bogoch was confirmed by work done by Dr. Holgar Hyden, director of the Institute of Neurobiology at the University of Goteborg, Sweden.

Both men reported their studies to an international conference on "The Future of the Brain Sciences" sponsored by the Boston foundation and the Manfred Sakel Institute of New York, meeting today.

Dr. Hyden suggested another way of influencing the function of the brain-injecting nucleic acids.

It might be possible, he said yesterday, to counteract the aging process in the brain by infecting the brain with a virus carrying fresh genetic material.

★ ★ ★

Genes could be attached to a harmless virus, he said, entering the brain from the musosa of the nose.

Probe Is Stalled in Triple Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — Police today continued their investigation of the mysterious slayings of three men in a Detroit apartment.

An inspector said that the probe is stalled at the moment for lack of a motive for the killings.

"We have no suspects and no motive," the inspector said.

"It would really help our investigation if we could come up with the motive."

★ ★ ★

NONE LIVED THERE

All lived in Detroit, but not at the apartment where the bodies were found.

Police said the four residents of the apartment, who reported finding the bodies and summoned police, said they were away from the apartment when the killings took place.

Police also said the apartment residents could not explain what Jackson, Pressley and Gillum were doing at the apartment.

House Panel Votes to Hike Rent, Housing, Cities Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Appropriations Committee, despite budgetary pressures of the Vietnam war, voted today to increase funds for rent supplements, public housing and some other big-city programs in the 12 months starting July 1.

★ ★ ★

But the committee allowed less for all these functions than President Johnson asked.

It sent the house a $13.8-billion money package, covering operations of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and 20 other government agencies, and estimated to trim about $350 million off Johnson's spending plans for the new bookkeeping year.

The President had asked $14.6 billion in new money for the various functions affected. The appropriations cut ran to $782 million, and presumably all of this would be reflected in spending reductions eventually.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the committee denied administration requests for authority to sell $2.1 billion of shares in such assets as government-owned GI mortgages, and it said this action too should result sooner or later in savings.

OTHER AGENCIES

Other agencies provided for in the big money bill included the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which was cut to $4 billion (from a $4.3-billion request); Veterans Administration, allowed $6.9 billion (all but about $39 million of what it wanted); and the Appalachian development programs, cut $168 million from the $213 million requested.

From top to bottom, everybody was trimmed except the Selective Service system, which got all the $63 million it asked to pay for inducting an estimated 240,000 men in fiscal 1969.

It was the year's first test for the big-city programs, caught between conflicting new demands for economy and for stepped-up assistance to the urban poor.

★ ★ ★

The President asked new appropriations for HUD and some of its programs totaling $1.4 billion. The committee allowed $1.2 billion, a cut of $190 million.

May 10 Is Accepted as the Starting Date

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The United States and North Vietnam agreed today to meet in Paris to discuss conditions for possible Vietnam peace talks.

President Johnson told a nationally televised and broadcast news conference: "I have sent a message informing Hanoi the date of May 10 and the site of Paris are acceptable to the United States."

A Hanoi radio broadcast picked up by U. S. monitors only a short time before the President's statement proposed that "formal talks" between the United States and North Vietnam begin May 10 "or a few days later."

President Johnson, who said he had learned of Hanois willingness to meet in Paris at 1 a.m. EDT, said at his news conference that the United States had sought a site where it could be assured of "fair and impartial treatment" for both sides.

★ ★ ★

He said Paris was agreeable on this score, but he cautioned: "This is only the very first step. Thre are many many hazards and difficulties ahead."

'CLOSE CONSULTATION'

He said, "We will continue in close consultation with our allies" and said he hopes the agreement on the initial contact will lead to further progress.

"I have never felt it was useful for public officials to confuse delicate negotiations by detailing personal views" in advance, Johnson went on. So, he said, he would not discuss the question further now.

Johnson made the announcement at a news conference where he was asked whether he thought there should be a moratorium on political discussion of the peace talks.

★ ★ ★

"I would not urge that," he said, but added: "I do not think we do justice to our country" when we spend time "pursuing our personal ambitions" that at the same time divide the country.

'TOO MUCH DIVISION'

"We still have too much division in this country and too many people thinking too much of self and not enough of country," he continued.

But he said he thinks "some of the personal criticism has been more restrained" lately and that the country has benefited from that.

It was exactly a month ago today that North Vietnam and the United States publically declared their readiness for such talks, thus signaling a potential breakthrough in the long effort to begin peace discussions.

The forthcoming discussions are expected to be only preliminary to what could be much-drawn-out negotiations.

Cong Bomb Rips Viet TV Station

SAIGON (AP) — A taxi loaded with TNT exploded a block from the U.S. Embassy today.

★ ★ ★

It blasted a student center and American and South Vietnamese television buildings, killing three Vietnamese and wounding about 25 Vietnamese and five Americans.

Most of the wounded were young Vietnamese girls.

The Vietcong was blamed for the bombing, first major terrorist attack in the South Vietnamese capital since the lunar new year offensive in February.

TNT IN TAXI

Police estimated 120 pounds of TNT was in the taxi. The vehicle had been backed into a narrow driveway between the headquarters of the church-sponsored World Unversity Service building and the main studio for the South Vietnamese govenment television broadcasting service.

The American television station is just beyond the South Vietnamese station, about 75 yards from the blast.

The explosion collapsed the two story university center and blasted windows and shattered partitions in the two broadcast buildings.

BACK ON THE AIR

The stations were off the air only momentarily.

In the ground war, U.S. forces crushed a North Vietnamese counterattack near Dong Ha yesterday.

It climaxed four days of fighting in the northeast corner of South Vietnam in which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported at least 1,208 of the enemy killed.

★ ★ ★

Fighting slacked off today after U.S. Marines and Army infantry reinforcements beat back a heavy enemy counter attack near the 3rd Marine Division headquarters at Dong Ha, 11 miles below the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

MIG IS DOWNED

In the air war over North Vietnam, a Navy jet pilot reported downing the first enemy MIG in two and a half months yesterday.

For Pontiac, GM Truck

4-Month Sales Top 1967

Sales for the first four months of 1968 are ahead of a year ago for both Pontiac Motor Division and GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Pontiac sales through April were 10 per cent ahead of the same period of a year ago, according to John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager.

In that four-month period Pontiac dealers delivered 283,496 units compared with 256,743 in the first four months of 1967.

"As we enter the spring selling season, we have every reason to believe that our sales will continue to increase at an even greater rate over our past records," DeLorean said.

He also reported sales of 81,391 for April and 26,653 for the April 21-30 period.

FAST PACE

Sales of trucks and coaches at GMC Truck and Coach Division continued at a fast pace in April with 12,888 vehicles delivered to the domestic market.

Martin J. Caserio, a vice president of General Motors Corp. and general manager of the division, said last month's total topped the April 1967 figure by 35.5 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Road Irregularities Are Probed

THOMAS KENNEDY

BY JEAN SAILE

An investigation of alleged irregularities involving a former Oakland County Road Commission weighmaster has been confirmed by the Michigan State attorney general's office and the road commission.

MRS. SAILE

State Police of the Redford post and auditors from the State Treasury Department are sifting allegations lodged against Thomas Kennedy, county weighmaster for 15 years until last fall.

A statement yesterday by L. W. McEntee, attorney for the commission, said, "In September of 1967, the board received information and evidence that the Oakland County Road Commission weighmaster had issued a special hauling permit and had allegedly accepted a cash deposit as a condition for its issuance.

"The road commission files did not contain any record of the permit nor of the receipt of the cash deposit. Upon being confronted with the information and evidence, the weighmaster resigned.

★ ★ ★

"Following his resignation the road commission received additional information and evidence that other permits had been issued and cash deposits received of which the road commission has no record.

SURETY BOND

"The weighmaster was covered by a surety bond and the board has made claim under the bond."

McEntee continued, "All information and evidence concerning the former weighmaster's activities has been turned over to the Michigan State Police who have been investigating the matter.

"The weighmaster department has been reorganized and a former state policeman has been hired as weighmaster."

★ ★ ★

Peter Waisanen, the new weighmaster, was appointed last November to replace Kennedy who lives at 2908 Voorheis Waterford Township.

AFTER SUSPENSION

Kennedy resigned Oct. 1 — two days after being relieved of his job responsibilities, according to McEntee.

600 Area Phone Workers to Vote on Pact

About 600 Pontiac area telephone workers will be voting on a proposed contract tonight and tomorrow that could end a 16-day-old strike against the Bell Telephone Co.

★ ★ ★

The national strike was called April 18 by the Communications Workers of America, affecting some 200,000 workers in the U.S. Tentative agreement on a nationwide contract was announced between the company and the union yesterday.

The proposed agreement has been termed the biggest package of increased wage and fringe benefits in the industry. Ratification votes will be held at union locals tonight and tomorrow.

In Pontiac, Joe Veresh, president of Local 4012, announced a ratification meeting will be held 6:30 p.m. today at UAW Local 653 at 990 Joslyn, across from Pontiac Motor Division.

DETAILS TO BE GIVEN

Details of the proposed agreement will be given at that time, Veresh said. For those unable to attend, ballots may be cast tomorrow, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Local office, 24½ E. Huron.

Veresh said the executive board has urged ratification. He pointed out the proposed contract contained agreement on an issue important to his local — wage parity with Detroit is included. A difference of about 3 per cent existed formerly, he said.

In details of the national contract it was revealed that top-paid telephone installers would get a raise of $34 per week.

Over-all, wage increases are expected to average nearly 20 per cent over a three-year period.

A company spokesman said the wage package would result in rate increases, but no exact details were revealed.

If the contract is approved nationally, workers are expected to be back on the job by Monday or Tuesday. Little interruption of service was noted during the strike as equipment was manned by supervisory personnel.

Skin, Kidneys, Spleen Donated

Dead Boy May Save 4 Lives

DANIEL SOCHOR

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — The parents of Daniel Sochor, dead at 11, have offered new hope to four persons. They have given his skin to one, his spleen to another and his kidneys to two others.

Daniel, described as "a lively little boy" by his father, Stanley Sochor, died after a traffic accident Thursday as he returned from a Little League baseball game.

His father and mother, deeply religious Seventh-day Adventists, readily agreed to suggestions by doctors at Loma Linda University Hospital that their son's vitality benefit the living.

The boy's kidneys were sped to the University of California at Los Angeles Medical Center and transplanted to Chester S. Garbacz, 42, of Claremont, Calif., and Herman Holloway, 34, of Los Angeles.

About the same time much of his skin was grafted onto Mrs. Brandon McLane of Loma Linda, who had suffered third-degree burns in a March 28 fire that killed her young son. The new skin covered 40 per cent of her body.

Meanwhile a few miles south, a part of Daniel's spleen was being used to treat "a serious blood disease" in an unidentified patient at Orange County General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Hospital spokesmen reported both kidney recipients were in good condition while the burn patient remained critical. There was no report on the spleen case.

The youngster died after artificial means could no longer sustain his life, a hospital spokesman said. Garbacz, one of the kidney recipients, was taken in a Los Angeles County helicopter to get to an operating table in time.

Kidnap Suspect to Be Arraigned in Second Case

A Pontiac man was to be arraigned this afternoon on new charges of kidnaping and raping a second Pontiac woman last March.

★ ★ ★

Already being held in the Oakland County Jail in the abduction of a 19-year-old woman on Monday, Laurence S. Moore, 24, was charged again yesterday as the man who attacked a 21-year-old woman on March 15.

Following his arrest Tuesday in Genesee County, Moore of 499 W. Huron was charged with kidnaping, rape and gross indecency involving Mrs. Norman Kinnison Jr., 435½ University.

The charges filed yesterday by the Oakland County prosecutor's office involved a woman, who like Mrs. Kinnison, was kidnaped from the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center parking lot in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

She had told Waterford Township police following the March 15 incident that she had been forced to drive her abductor to a secluded area in White Lake Township where she was raped and robbed of $81.

$50,000 BOND

Moore, who is being held in lieu of $50,000 bond, is to have his preliminary hearing on the initial charges next Friday before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead.

His arraignment today on the new charges is also before Hempstead.

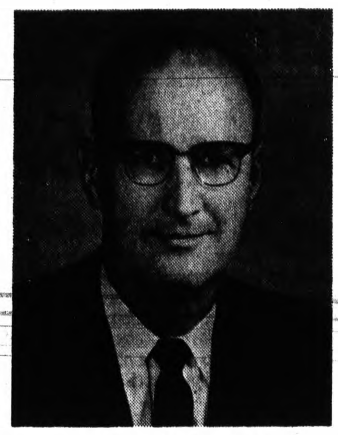

Moore is also charged with a third count of kidnaping involving Mrs. Kinnison's 14-year-old brother-in-law, Frank Kinnison.

★ ★ ★

The boy had been waiting for his sister-in-law when he was approached by a man with a knife and small pistol and told to introduce him as a friend when Mrs. Kinnison returned.

★ ★ ★

Kinnison was later released in Commerce Township, where he contacted the Walled Lake police. Mrs. Kinnison was held captive for nearly 12 hours before she gained her freedom near Columbiaville in Lapeer County.

BOYD C. ZACHARIAS

GM Data Exec in OCC Race

Boyd C. Zacharias of Birmingham is one of 12 candidates campaigning to be elected to three seats on the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.

Zacharias, 57, of 187 Pilgrim is general director of data systems of the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp. in Detroit.

He joined Chevrolet from Lockheed Aircraft Corp. 11 years ago and has held his present position for three years.

★ ★ ★

His statement:

"I view our community college as an investment for the future — for the future of thousands of young people who need the particular opportunity which should be made available by a local community college or who need help in getting started on a lifetime vocation.

★ ★ ★

"It should be regarded as neither a monument to outmoded methods of teaching nor as an experimental laboratory; as neither a cold-blooded business venture nor as an instrument for wasting taxpayers' money.

★ ★ ★

"I believe our young people deserve high-quality teaching which can only be afforded by well-qualified teachers."

'Hope Focus' Seminar Set at School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Focus Summer Hope," a human relations project of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, will open in Oakland County Tuesday in the auditorium of St. Hugo Elementary School, 380 E. Hickory Grove.

The meeting, first of three on consecutive Tuesday evenings, will begin at 8:30 p.m. and will feature Dr. Hubert G. Locke, director of the office of religious affairs at Detroit's Wayne State University, as guest speaker.

★ ★ ★

Locke, who also serves as research associate for Wayne State's Center for Urban Studies, will discuss "Power and Violence in an Urban Society."

A Wayne State graduate, Locke earned his bachelor of divinity degree at the Chicago Theological Seminary and a master of arts degree at the University of Michigan.

Involved in youth and religious affairs in the Detroit area since 1956, he has served as associate youth work secretary for the Detroit Downtown YMCA, minister for the Conant Gardens Church of Christ, and executive director of the Citizens' Committee for Equal Opportunity.

DR. HUBERT G. LOCKE

★ ★ ★

Other meetings in the series will also be held in the St. Hugo auditorium. Lorenzo Wright will be the guest speaker May 14, while an open discussion by a panel on urban affairs is planned for May 21.

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham-Bloomfield Poetry Club will present "Max Ellison Night" May 14 at The Community House, 380 S. Bates, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Ellison, born in Bellaire, has given poetry readings at Grand Valley and Schoolcraft colleges and Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities.

Wayne State is making a video tape of his poetry readings to be used there and made available to other universities.

Recordings may be borrowed for a week with the cost "on the house" at Baldwin Public Library, 351 Martin, beginning Monday.

The customary loan fee is being temporarily set aside in honor of National Music Week, May 5-12.

All recordings will be affected, from Wagner operas to instructions in the Japanese language.

For those desiring to audition records in making a selection, earphones will be available at the home reading desk for use on the library turntable.

The library's special collection had its origin some 20 years ago when Mrs. Albert Kahn donated a number of records as a memorial to her late husband.

Loan of the records on a rental basis has permitted expansion and development of the collection until at the present time it totals about 1,500 LPs.

Struck by Car Near Home, Avon Woman Listed Critical

An Avon Township woman is in critical condition at Crittenton Hospital today after being struck by a car while walking near her home.

Mrs. Jack Pankey, 37, of 313 Avon underwent a number of transfusions with blood transferred by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies from Detroit, Macomb County and hospitals in Pontiac during the night.

Sheriff's deputies investigating the accident said Mrs. Pankey apparently was walking in the roadway when she was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Boone Pace, 39, of 1581 Gravelridge, Avon Township.

The accident occurred on Avon Road just east of Rochester Road shortly before 10 p.m. It is still under investigation.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Pace said she did not see anyone and only stopped after she heard a thud. Deputies said that Mrs. Pankey was wearing dark clothing.

Kennedy, when contacted by The Pontiac Press, said that all monies involved had been paid back to the road commission.

RETIREMENT FUND

"They've got my retirement fund. I haven't talked to them about it, and that's all."

Kennedy who reported he is now self-employed said he did not know the sum involved.

As weighmaster, Kennedy had charge of truck traffic on county roads. The weight of loads carried by trucks and road weight restrictions were enforced through a system of bonds and permits by his office.

Columbia Panel to Probe Protest

NEW YORK (AP) — A Columbia University faculty committee has moved to create a fact-finding commission to inquire into the causes of the crisis that has convulsed the Ivy League campus for 10 days.

The 12-member committee — a key group in the effort to end the student protest — took the action Thursday. They agreed the commission should be headed by an outsider but did not decide on its size or composition.

With few exceptions, classes were suspended again yesterday for the university's 25,381 students but some individual units announced they would conduct regular classes today.

Deans and faculties of units affected by the disorders which began April 23 were authorized to extend classes and examinations beyond the previously scheduled academic year to make up lost time.

GTW Commuter Load Up 42 Pct. in 3 Months

Grand Trunk Western Railroad's Pontiac-to-Detroit commuter trains are experiencing an upswing in the amount of passengers traveling the 26-mile route.

The railroad showed a surge of 42 per cent in the first three months of 1968, a continuation of the upward trend that started last spring, according to John W. Demcoe, vice president and general manager.

He said 183,580 commuters rode the rail cars in the first three months of 1968 compared to 128,831 in the first quarter of 1967.

The daily average of passengers has risen from 2,045 last year to 2,914 for the first three months of 1968.

★ ★ ★

The peak load this year was 3,357 on March 13.

FULL DISTANCE

Commuters traveling the full distance from Pontiac to the Brush Street station in Detroit, or back, total 7,774.

Demcoe predicted the commuter service between Detroit and its near-north neighbors would continue to increase as commuters try to beat the freeway rush.

Smoking Is Blamed

Couple Escape Apartment Fire

A Pontiac couple escaped without serious injury early this morning when a fire swept through their apartment on the city's northeast side.

Capt. Jack McKenna of the Pontiac Fire Department blamed the 3 a.m. fire in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hudson, 890 Robinwood, on careless smoking.

Hudson suffered burns on his hands in attempting to put out the fire, according to firemen. A fire fighter, Richard Best, also was burned around the ears.

McKenna said both rooms in the Hudsons' second-floor apartment were damaged. Total damage to the buliding and contents was estimated at $5,000 by fire department officials.

Fireman said the building is owned by Dale Anderson of 3459 Mahopac, Orion Township.

Threatens to Bolt AFL-CIO

Reuther Raps Meany Again

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A drawn-out feud between two powerful labor chieftains has again surfaced with United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther threatening to cut his union's ties with the AFL-CIO.

★ ★ ★

Delegates arriving here today for the UAW's 21st Constitutional Convention were greeted with a report from Reuther saying if his call for a special AFL-CIO convention is rejected, "We could not in good conscience continue to be confined within the restricted limits of an organization ruled by the dead hand of the past."

Reuther never mentioned AFL-CIO President George Meany by name, but it was clear to whom he was referring.

A UAW spokesman declined to comment on a report that UAW leaders will ask the delegates for approval to stop payment of $1 million dues a year for AFL-CIO membership. Withholding of dues would in effect leave the auto workers in the federation in name alone.

"It is a sad and disappointing fact that the AFL-CIO leadership shies away from a full and open confrontation with the arguments and proposals the UAW has advanced to make American labor more relevant and more effective," Reuther said. He repeated his criticism that the AFL-CIO has become complacent under Meany's leadership.

The week-long UAW convention opens Saturday.

Gastric Ulcer, Food Link Told

By Science Service

Gastric ulcers may be caused by food stagnating in the stomach, University of Florida researchers at Gainesville report.

It is generally accepted that gastric (stomach) ulcers and duodenal (small intestine) ulcers are both caused by an excess of highly corrosive stomach acids.

* * *

But while duodenal ulcers can be traced to nervous oversecretion of acid, gastric ulcers can not.

The overlong presence of the food stimulates prolonged secretion of the hormone gastrin by the stomach.

* * *

This excess hormone stimulates excessive secretion of gastric acids, leading to ulcers.

For Nuclear Wastes

Propose Cement Graves

By Science Service

Nuclear reactors, becoming continually more important in electric power production, develop radioactive wastes that remain dangerous for years. While some of these radioactive isotopes can be used, the major portion will have to be disposed of.

One way of getting rid of nuclear wastes is to bury them. By digging a well deep into nonporous rock, such as shale, an area can be reached in which the waste material can be pumped.

With high enough pressure, the deep rock will break up and the radioactive wastes be absorbed in the fissures.

In the process of fracturing, however, the earth formation above the well sometimes is moved so that openings are formed which could lead the deep wastes to water supplies or even to the surface.

To keep the waste products safely below, a newly patented method proposes mixing the radioactive material with cement so that it stays put.

JAMES MARLOW

AP Columnist for 25 Years Dies at Age 64

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Marlow, a newspaperman for 41 years, died Thursday. He was 64 and had been in poor health for some time.

The past 25 years he wrote a column for the Associated Press from Washington. It was called "The World Today," won awards and was unusual.

His column appeared regularly on The Pontiac Press editorial page for many years.

The column did not predict. It did not pretend to pass on "inside" information. It was neither pretentious nor pontifical.

★ ★ ★

Instead, the writer tried to explain events, to put them in context in an interesting and factual way. This required exhaustive research; Marlow read more than 45 books for a series analyzing Winston Churchill's impact on history.

★ ★ ★

He pioneered in interpretive writing.

He read and fished for relaxation. He worked hard for the American Newspaper Guild, was a leader in the successful drive to unionize AP editorial employes in the late 1940s.

8 Wounded as Man Shoots at 2 Gangs

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Eight persons, one of them an elderly bystander, were shot and wounded by a man who fired a shotgun wildly at two gangs of youths as they prepared to battle with chains and clubs on the city's west side last night.

Police said Albert Napier, 40, father of one of the gang members, fired into a crowd of youths who marched down a street to invade another gang. About 100 youths were on the street.

Napier was taken into custody after a prolonged auto chase through the city. Ten gang members also were apprenehended by police but most were released later to their parents.

Police said charges against Napier would not be made until later today.

★ ★ ★

Two of the wounded were by standers, John Veninshek, 81, and his daughter, Beatrice, 48. Both were treated for pellet wounds at a hospital and released.

The other six wounded were teen-agers. All were treated for superficial gunshot wounds at four hospitals and released.

Police said a gang from West 75th Street invaded the West 41st Street and Trent Avenue area seeking revenge for one of its members who died yesterday after being beaten in a tavern Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Teacher Recruitment in Trouble

Waterford Township School District is experiencing teacher recruiting problems, M. Barrett Vorce, associate superintendent for instruction and personnel, told members of the board of education last night.

"We are far behind what we were last year in elementary recruiting," Vorce said. "Recruiting is difficult."

Vorce attributed the recruiting problems to an uncertainty over the availabiliy of sufficient funds and a change of image in the school district.

The new state aid bill, signed by Gov. Romney this week, partially clears up the uncertainty about funds, however.

★ ★ ★

Vorce said Waterford had become a popular district because of the high standard of its staff.

'NO LONGER POPULAR'

He said it is no longer a popular district because of the existing serious financial situation, which, consequently, keeps teachers from seeking employment in Waterford.

Because of the 1968-69 budget deficiency, the board previously announced that 93 secondary and elementary teaching positions would be eliminated next school year.

School Board President Eldon C. Rosegart said that although the new state school aid bill represents a 19 per cent increase statewide, the average boost among schools in Oakland County is only 5.6 per cent.

★ ★ ★

School officials said the increase for the Waterford Township School District will amount to about 11 per cent or $25.85 per student.

POSSIBLE SALE

In other business last night, the board discussed the possible eventual sale of Webster School on Pontiac Lake Road, the board of education building on West Walton and a parcel of property on M59 at Cass Lake Road.

A new administration building is to be built at 1021 Airport.

Also discussed last night without any action taken was the possible conversion of Lambert School on Cass Elizabeth into a special education headquarters.

★ ★ ★

The building presently is used by the district's Indicom project staff.

REPRESENTATIVES NAMED

Also last night, Treasurer Donald W. Porter and Secretary Mrs. Virginia M. Ross were named as representative and alternate, respectively, for discussions involving the future operation of Children's Village School.

In still other business, the board dedicated a 60-foot easement for Oakland County Road Commission use along the easterly boundary of the district's Hospital Road high school site.

Also approved were 1968-69 contracts for 13 teachers.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Zella Mitchell, a reading consultant, presented a report on the district's reading improvement service offered in all six secondary schools.

Crossover May Hold Key to Indiana Vote

By IRWIN J. MILLER
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Crossover voting may play an important role in Indiana's presidential primary which dictates that write-in votes cannot be counted.

Party crossover voting may prove a big asset to Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigin, running as a favorite son candidate against Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy on the democratic ballot Tuesday. Richard M. Nixon is unopposed on the Republican ballot.

CROSSOVERS

Crossing over is not difficult in Indiana, and because Nixon has no opposition and Branigin is personally popular with many Republicans, the governor could get substantial GOP support.

A voter requests the ballot of the party of his choice, and is subject to challenge only by a poll watcher of that party.

If challenged, the voter must sign an affidavit that he voted for a majority of that party's candidates i the preceding general election and intends to do so again in the next general election.

Since the general electio ballot is secret, there's no way to prove or disprove his affidavit.

In the case of a person who did not vote in the preceding election, for any reason including age, the affidavit need state only that he intends to vote in the coming general election for a majority of the party's candidates.

WIRTE-INS

State law provides that any paper ballot carrying any distinguishing mark must be thrown out. This has been interpreted as meaning any marking outside the regular squares.

One attorney commented there would be nothing to prevent precinct election officials many ballots they throw out, and for what reason. But they couldn't include the figure in official returns.

The question affects the counties which use paper ballots. The other 50 use machines and there is no way to write in on them.

Of the state's 4,461 precincts, 3,085 use machines.

To b a legal candidate in Indiana's presidential primary, the candidate must have submitted petitions signed by at least 500 registered voters in each of the 11 congressional districts.

The law binds the state's national convention votes—63 Democratic, 26 Republican—to the primary winners for one ballot only.

Affected by Peace Talk News

Stock Market Rallies Strongly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied strongly early today on news that President Johnson had agreed to Hanoi's preliminary Vietnam peace proposal of Paris as the site for talks.

In the first half hour, the Dow Jones Average of 30 Industrials spurted 11.50 to 929.55.

GAINS FRACTIONAL

Gains of most key issues were fractional but some ranged to 2 points or so.

Brokers said they expected the newest move toward peace to unleash a torrent of demand for stocks.

Junior Editors Quiz on STATIC ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: Why does static electricity do such strange things?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Inside a tiny atom is a central nucleus with one or more electrons circling around it (black balls in picture). Some of these electrons may be free. When a wire is connected to two poles of a battery, these free electrons move into nearby atoms, a process which continues right around the wire: this is an electric current (bottom).

But another way electricity works is called static electricity. The main picture shows this at work. Mary rubbed a comb briskly across a piece of wool. Some of the electrons in the wool were picked up by the comb.

Electricity may be either negative or positive. In this case, the comb gained negative electrons, so the comb became charged with negative electricity.

Then Mary held the comb over some bits of paper. These have no electric charge. But it is a rule in electricity that opposites attract each other, so the charged comb attracts the paper, which lifts off of the table, and sails up to the comb. This seems just like magic. Try it!

Students Egged On to Greater Heights

HILLSDALE (AP — The Hillsdale municipal airport recently came under a barrage of UFEs. That's a not-so-scientific term for "unidentified falling eggs."

Eighth-grade students at Davis Junior High School, under the supervision of their teacher, William Vincent Jr., heard that Coldwater students had packaged eggs tightly and dropped them from the air to illustrate the problems the space program has in landing men and equipment softly on the moon.

Not to be outdone by the Coldwater students, who sent their eggs to earth from 1,000 feet, the Hillsdale class tried it from higher altitudes after a series of experiments to find the best way of packaging the eggs.

The Hillsdale eggs, Mr. Vincent said, were carefully wrapped in containers that were dropped from an airplane supplied by airport manager Charles Bishop.

Mr. Vincent said the airplane drop came as the final test in a series of three tests that were meant "to show the students how an idea can be put through a sound testing program to produce superior results."

The eggs — about 162 of them — were placed in a variety of containers. Some were suspended in gelatin, shortening and in water.

He said no "hard" containers were used because they could have possibly damaged the airplane, and no supporting devices such as parachutes were used. He said, however, one container had propellers, and it still hasn't been found.

Other containers, he said, couldn't be dropped because they weighed too much, although they were successfully used in the first two tests.

The first test consisted of dropping the packages from the ceiling of their classroom to the floor. Mr. Vincent said 40 of 174 eggs broke in this test.

In the second test about 26-27 eggs out of 174 were broken when they were dropped from a third-story window onto concrete, he said.

In the third test — the drop from the airplane at 1,400-1,500 feet — only 15 eggs were broken. Mr. Vincent said two egg packages hit the hard-surfaced runway and survived the impact. This compares, he said with Coldwater's five eggs broken out of 100.

Handicapped Titlist Seems Anything but

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The "handicapped American of 1967" looks and talks like anything but a handicapped American.

Max C. Rheinberger Jr., 38-year-old businessman of Duluth, Minn., said he hoped to deserve the President's trophy being presented to him today by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Those who met him here believed his right to the annual plaque could not be challenged.

Rheinberger was 22 years old when he was stricken by paralytic polio in 1952, and for three months his chances of survival were dim.

★ ★ ★

Three years later, after medical science had done everything then possible to help him, he was paralyzed from the neck down, with only minimal use of his left arm. According to some, he was not a hopeful subject for rehabilitation.

GET USED TO IT

Were those days of deep discouragement?

"No," he said, "it's a long time before you realize it isn't going to go away, and by the time you do, you're used to it."

Then a counselor in the Duluth office of the vocational rehabilitation program "decided I'd make a pretty good accountant." Rheinberger recalled. He enrolled in a two-year mail course.

Pecking out his assignments on a typewriter by using a cigarette holder clenched between his teeth, he completed the course in less than a year, with high grades.

★ ★ ★

No job was available immediately, so he hung out a shingle "Income Tax," and was in business. A federal grant of less than $2,000 financed a typewriter, adding machine and office quarters, and Rheinberger said he solicited business "like anyone else."

ORTHOPEDIC APPLIANCES

Then he realized there was no orthopedic appliance outlet in Duluth, so he entered into partnership with a friend to fill that need.

"We rented the store next door, put in a line of wheelchairs, and went at it," he said. "I knew the product."

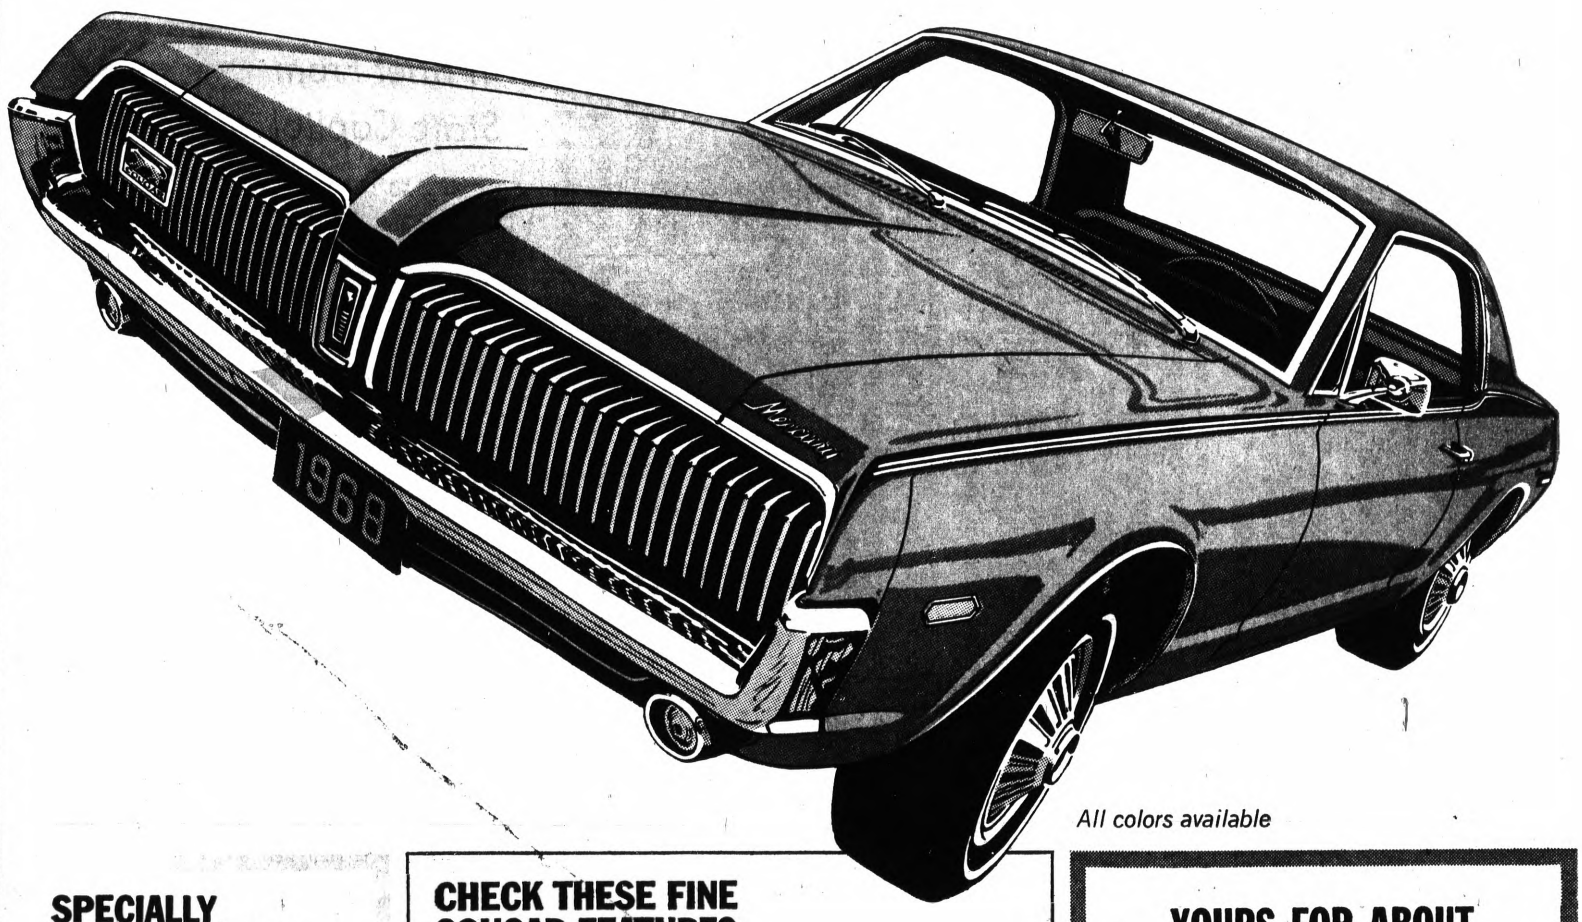

Next he began the Northland Ambulance Service, a non-emergency type which operates out of Grand Rapids, Minn., 70 miles northwest of Duluth.

Criticism Greets Plan Unveiled by Blue Shield

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Shield announced details today of a new program said to offer "the finest medical-surgical cost protection available anywhere."

Professor Max Shain of the University of Michigan School of Public Health, however, the new program is a "deception" which will lead to a "galloping inflation of Physcians' charges."

★ ★ ★

Michigan Blue Shield President John C. McCabe said the program — called Michigan Variable Fee (MVF) — is designed to broaden existing health care protection benefits.

Blue Shield has some 4,325,000 Michigan members — more than half the population of the state.

McCabe said the program would provide for a more ealistic payment method to eliminate present fixed payment schedules tied to subscribers' income.

He said fees traditionally have varied by locality, the nature of the services and the training and experience of the physician. He said there is no income differential.

McCabe also said the program would provide new benefits and would inclue others which were previously available only at extra cost under M-75, Blue Shield's previous "standard" protection.

Various medical exclusions which have been traditional in health care coverage in Blue Shield and commercial carriers will be removed, he said.

Talks Resume in Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — With Gov. George Romney and a state Senate subcommittee stopped short in their bid to get involved in Detroit's newspaper strike, bargainers for the parties to the strike resumed talks today.

A meeting was scheduled between publishers of the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News, which is out of publication for the 170th day, and the mailers union, which is not on strike.

★ ★ ★

Starting Monday, though, the publishers will meet with the Pressmen's Union, which is on strike, and sources said the talks would continue wit the other three striking unions.

Unlike the other three striking unions, the pressmen have yet to agree with the publishers on a number of nonecomic issues.

Al Leggat, Detroit labor relations director, said the meetings probably would reduce the unsettled issues on the pressmen's contract to the matters of wages, length of the contract, and hiring practices.

★ ★ ★

These, he said, are the main issues unsettled with the striking Plate and Paper Handlers Union, International Typographical Union, and Stereotypers Union.

Opponents of Bill to Ban Games Heard

LANSING (AP) — Spokesmen for Michigan's newspapers, radio and television stations and snall food retailers lined up Thursday against a bill that would ban lotteries and games of chance in the state.

The measure is aimed at the many forms of such games used as sales boosters by supermarkets and gasoline stations.

More than 100 witnesses crowded the Court of Appeals hearing room to give testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, committee vice chairman, presiding at the hearing said no decision would be made on reporting out the proposed legislation until at least next Tuesday.

Elmer White, executive secretary of the Michigan Press Association said his group "opposes any legislation which makes it illegal for a business to advise consumers what is available in the market place."

Summer Strife Not Inevitable--Milliken

PORT HURON (AP) — Lt. Gov. William Milliken told 1,700 St. Clair County high school students Thursday that he does not share the idea that another summer of civil disorder in Michigan is inevitable.

While not precluding disorder Milliken said he was optimistic that passage of an open housing bill by the State Legislature and action on other civil rights measures "will help stave off a repeat of last summer's disorder."

Milliken praised peaceful student demonstrations which "have led to the righting of great social wrongs" but said "violent demonstrations have no place in a democratic society."

Arson Investigated at Telephone Office

A fire set by an arsonist at the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. business office, 87 N. Saginaw, was under investigation today by Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles Metz.

The fire, which caused only minor damage to a ceiling tile and fwo rugs, was started when someone tossed a match into a roof ventilator that had been stuffed with newspapers, Metz said.

A company mailman discovered the fire when he stopped at the office to make a pickup shortly after 2 a.m.

3 Brothers Use Phone for Rehearsal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The three Hammerman brothers, cantors who serve widely separated Jewish congregations, found distance no problem in rehearsing for a recent concert they presented at Beth El Congregation here.

They set up a weekly three-way phone hookup several months before their performance.

★ ★ ★

Saul, the youngest of the singing trio, is cantor at Beth El; Herman, the oldest, serves B'nai Israel in Los Angeles, and Michael is at Kehillath Israel Congregation in Boston.

Their transcontinental rehearsals lasted about 30 minutes and, as Saul Hammerman points out: "The telephone is a big help to use in getting ready for a concert. Our bills prove it."

Rumor-Curb Center Slated

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A rumor-control center will open in Oklahoma City next month.

The center will be manned by trained volunteers and its function will be to track down the origin of rumors and to reassure the public about them.

Tentative plans call for an eight-hour-a-day operation. It will have its headquarters in the office of the Oklahoma City Community Relations Commission.

El Paso Tax Aide Pays a Little Late

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Prudot, an assistant city tax assessor and collector, discovered he was delinquent on paying 1967 taxes on his home.

Prudot said he made out a check for the taxes but found the check among some papers Thursday.

He made out a new check and included $11.64 in payment of penalties and interest since the March 1 deadline.

A Look at TV

Social Satire Dated

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Sir James Barrie's turn-of-the-century comedy, "The Admirable Crichton," has not survived years and change very well, even with the help of some plastic surgery in the form of a TV adaptation.

The play was the last of the season's "Hall of Fame" series on NBC and was, perhaps, the most disappointing of all.

★ ★ ★

In a day when the word "servant" is used primarily by politicans on the campaign trail and when the live-in domestic is almost as rare as the golden eagle, it is hard for the contemporary audience to identify with the horrendous social problems posed by Sir James' little fable.

The play began as a Colonel Blimp type, Lord Loam, was about to make his annual demonstration of a democratic philosophy by having his three daughters and their beaus entertain his household staff at a formal tea.

DEFINITE ORDEAL

It was made clear immediately that, while the daughters snobbishly deplored the custom, the party was a definite ordeal for the ladies, maids, cook, chauffeurs and gardeners.

But it was his lordship's butler, Crichton; pronounced cryton, who believed most devoutly in caste distinctions.

★ ★ ★

Then the Loam family and friends—two foppish fiances—were shipwrecked on one of those lovely "Gilligan's Island" tropic spots with Crichton and one of the kitchen maids.

As was inevitable in a play that telegraphed its twists and turns far in advance, Crichton was forced to take command of the party. And, naturally, the aristocrats moved into the servants' roles.

ONLY ENDING

"The Admirable Crichton" could have only one ending. The party was rescued after several years on the island. And everybody reverted to his old role and position in life upon returning home. Except Crichton, who found lording it over the shipwrecked party so exhilarating that he decided to get out of service.

Bill Travers, a British actor, played Crichton with the stiff formality of a Wodehouse character. His wife, Virginia McKenna, was the lord's daughter and the subject of his island romance.

Although the material left much to be desired, and the comedy lines of a 1900 satire often seemed more silly than witty, the 90-minute program was still a treat to the eye. The settings were beautiful and so were the costumes.

"Hall of Fame" shows are always elaborate, expensive and painstakingly produced. But over the seasons, it has been evident that comedy has been their most difficult problem.

Earl Sees Barbra Streisand Sexing Up 'Dolly!' Movie

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — I've seen Barbra Streisand doing "Hello, Dolly!"—and besides being very beautiful at times, she's sexy.

Film history is being made here at 20th Century-Fox by 26-year-old Barbra from Brooklyn. Producer Ernie Lehman, a New York boy who's probably the "moneyest" writer in the world, has taken over the entire studio with his "1890s New York" set which'll glamorize Barbra throughout mankind.

Ernie sat me down in his bungalow and allowed me to be the first outsider to hear Barbra singing "Hello, Dolly!" from the picture which just started filming the other day and won't finish until mid-August.

"When I heard her singing that song, it was goose-pimple time," asserted Ernie. "It was history . . ."

"And Barbra sings sexy, too," I commented enthusiastically. "A Mae West quality here and there," I added.

"Happy you noticed that," said Ernie, and so now we are going to have a double debate going: Is Barbra Streisand one of the sexiest girls in the world as well as one of the most beautiful?

I was smuggled out of Ernie's bungalow with my secret intelligence about how Barbra sounds singing "Hello, Dolly!" in the incompleted picture and permitted to stand in the back of a closed set while Barbra did a scene with the great Walter Matthau who to me has a remarkable W. C. Fields quality.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Television is an invention that has changed our kids from irresistible forces into immovable objects.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The Algonquin Wits," an entertaining book, quotes Franklin P. Adams: "Ninety-two per cent of the stuff told you in confidence you couldn't get anybody else to listen to."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "All parents of bright children are firm believers in heredity."—Pic Larmour.

EARL'S PEARLS: Remember the good old days, before credit cards, when you knew every day exactly how broke you were?

A Manhattan restaurateur complained that every time a newspaper mentioned his place they referred to it as "a midtown restaurant." But he solved the problem—he changed its name to "A Midtown Restaurant." . . . That's earl, brother.

Dishes Are A Part Of Teen-Age Life

Pam Martin's Typical, Plus...

By TOM GRAY

Outwardly, there is little to distinguish Pamela Martin from the average American teen-age girl.

She has typical teen-age "vices" — studying in bed, grabbing a quick snack after coming home from school, talking on the telephone.

Topical, too, are her chores around the Martin household, such as washing dishes, cooking an occasional meal, and helping take care of younger sister Kristin, going on 3 years of age.

However, certain related factors help to distinguish the 18-year-old Bloomfield Township resident from others her age. She has unusually long brown hair, for one, and she is prettier than most.

★ ★ ★

She is also Miss Teen USA.

Not only that, but she just missed being chosen Miss Teen International in a recent nationally televised contest in Hollywood.

For finishing third in the international event, she collected $1,000 from Teen-Age Fair, Inc., the sponsor.

"I guess I've always thought about entering one of these contests," Pam remarked. She read about the affair — at the time, a contest for "Miss Teen Great Lakes" — in the Seaholm High School student paper.

★ ★ ★

She called the number given in the article, and "was the last one to enter — I called just before the contest."

From then (last April) on, it was a matter of surprise after surprise, Pam said. "She was very happy just to be a contestant," her mother, Mrs. James F. Martin, recalled, "let alone win."

The topper was Hollywood, where two photographers flew her to Las Vegas to make a filmstrip required of each contestant. Each was taken to a national landmark, in Pam's case Hoover Dam, and photographed enjoying the sights, as if acting in a film for tourism advertising.

After "shooting" Pam as she viewed the famous dam, her escorts bought her a bathing suit, rented a boat, and filmed her water-skiing on Lake Mead.

Besides the contest activities, there were other things which helped to make the trip a memorable one. There were the 28 telegrams she received from well-wishers back home (including four from Julie Paulus, her "best friend"). And a dozen roses from her boyfriend.

And perhaps best of all, there was a two-week vacation which followed, visiting relatives in Mexico and touring Mexico City, Taxco and Acapulco.

Pam, who has taken Spanish in school since the seventh grade, acted as interpreter for her parents much of the time.

She also got a first-rate look at Acapulco, which she says is her favorite of the three cities. "We were in Mexico City for three days, but we spent most of the time touring," she explained, "and I never had a chance to meet the people and know what they were like."

Next fall she will enter the University of Michigan, where she plans to major in either speech or Spanish.
