Havana Trials Start

Army Man Gets Death After 12-Hour Hearing

30,000 Jam Stadium; Major Hears Sentence at Dawn

From Our News Wires

HAVANA—Cuban Army Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, the first "war criminal" to be tried here, was senteneed to death today at a 12-hour-and-19-minute trial that ended at dawn in the overcrowded Sports Palace Stadium.

Most of the 30,000 spectators who jammed the 15,000-seat stadium at the start of the trial last night left before the sentence was announced at 6:04 a.m.

Sosa, who was charged with responsibility for at least 108 deaths and the burning of 120 homes, denied his guilt on every count. Anything he did, he said, he did as a soldier under orders.

He was found guilty and convicted of murder, homicide, robbery, looting and damage to public property.

The three-man revolutionary tribunal which passed judgment on Sosa ordered that he be taken to the Cabana Fortress Prison to await the order for his execution. The judges said he would have an opportunity to appeal the sentence.

Only about 300 newsmen and armed, bearded guards from Castro's forces heard the verdict as it was read out in the sports arena.

Sosa Blanco's trial was the first of three Castro has announced for the Havana Sports Palace to justify to the world his speedy military judgment of Batistans, some 250 of whom have already been executed.

Another trial was scheduled to get under way this afternoon, but it was not known how the slow progress of the first hearing would affect the schedule.

Cost of Living Dips Slightly in December

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs dipped two-tenths of one per cent in December—their first decline since August.

Lower prices for food, automobiles and clothing overbalanced increases in rents, other housing items, medical care and other consumer costs.

In reporting this today, the bureau noted the index stood 1.7 per cent higher than December, 1957.

The December index was exactly the same as that of last September and last June.

Some 700,000 workers whose pay rates are geared to quarterly and semiannual adjustments of the index consequently will receive no change in pay.

State Rep. Roberts Heads House Labor Committee

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) said he was going to work toward a labor reform bill for Michigan.

Roberts, a 36-year-old Keego Harbor attorney in his second term as state representative, made the announcement as he was named chairman of the powerful Labor Committee of the House of Representatives.

Committee assignments for Oakland's other five representatives also were made.

The Labor Committee chairman said a preliminary to a labor reform bill for the state would be "to remove the fear that such a bill is a union-busting attempt."

He said before such a measure could be realized, bipartisan support would be needed. A similar bill came out of Nakkula's committee last session, passed the House, but was killed in the Senate "because it was overloaded will silly amendments which had no part in the bill," Roberts said.

He said his committee will study the new labor reform bill to be put before Congress.

"Responsible union leaders are going to have to realize that in order to assure honest handling of workers' money they must be subject to some type of review," Roberts said.

His committee is composed of five Republicans and four Democrats. This ratio was indicative of the party's grip put on committee assignments when Repub-

Says Irons Can Keep Badges

Royal Oak Twp. Police Captain Claims Force Still Has Power

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons can keep his deputy badges forever as far as Royal Oak Township's police department is concerned.

Captain Samuel Whitfield, head of the department, said last night, "My men have just as much power as deputy sheriffs."

The department's 13 members have been notified by Irons that their appointments as Oakland County deputies "expired as of midnight, Dec. 31, 1958."

Irons said he took the action because four township officers refused to cooperate in an investigation into alleged corruption within the department and in a crackdown on vice in the community.

Without deputy authority, Irons said, township police have power to enforce only local ordinances, but not state laws. He said he was acting under the provisions of a 1948 state act.

The growing feud between Irons and the department was brought up before the Township Board last night when an exchange of communications between Whitfield and Irons was read to board members.

Supervisor Elwood Dickens told the board he, personally, had received no communication from Irons, and recommended no action.

Board members unanimously voted to take the matter "under advisement," and called for a meeting with township attorney Lynn V. Hooe Jr. to consider the issue. No date was set for the meeting.

Whitfield, who did not attend the meeting, but was in the township hall on other business, told reporters, "I've checked the Michigan Police Law Manual, and my men don't have to be deputies to enforce state laws.

"They have just as much power as they ever did—with or without deputy status. We're going to continue operating just as we have."

"If Frank Irons thinks we're wrong, then he can fight us in the

Girl Tells of 2-Year Bondage

Admits Chaining Daughter

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Police said the mother of 7-year-old Judith Ball has admitted chaining her to a bedpost over the last two years, releasing her only to go to the bathroom and to school.

Detective James McCormick said Judith told him she slept on the floor in her underclothing. She said that was more comfortable than the bed, which had only a thin blanket over coil springs, he added.

As she talked to detectives, Judith showed them her swollen and bruised ankles, to which she said the chain was attached daily.

McCormick quoted the mother, 39-year-old Ruth Ball, as saying she chained the girl because of her habits of getting up at night, raiding the refrigerator and, otherwise causing trouble.

Once, the mother said, the girl started a fire in a chair by playing with matches.

The father, Paul Ball, 40, is an unemployed laborer. The Balls have two other girls, 8 and 9, and six boys, 14 to 22, all living at home.

Count 90 Dead as Cold Follows Lethal Storms

From Our News Wires

A massive cold wave knifed across the Eastern half of the country today in the wake of winter's most severe and destructive weather, which left a heavy toll of dead and homeless.

The death toll in the succession of snow, wind, sleet and rain storms which began Tuesday neared the 100 mark. Damage mounted into the tens of millions of dollars.

A count since the start of the storms showed at least 90 weather-connected deaths in traffic, overexertion, drowning, exposure or tornadoes.

There were 16 deaths in Ohio, 13 in Wisconsin, 11 in Illinois, 10 in Michigan, 9 in Indiana, 6 in New York state, 4 each in Iowa, Kentucky and Pennsylvania, 3 in both Missouri and Oklahoma, 2 each in Kansas, New Mexico and Texas, and 1 in Washington.

The widespread variety of intense storms which have pounded the Eastern two thirds of the country this week ended Thursday as the front, with cold dry air clashing with warm moist air, moved across the coast and out into the Atlantic.

GRIM AFTERMATH

Much of the nation struggled to clean up its aftermath.

In Missouri, authorities sought an Air Force officer and two enlisted men feared lost in their car in deep snow between Springfield, Mo., and Kansas City.

Fire added to flood miseries in South Buffalo, N.Y., where a Pennsylvania Railroad shop was destroyed Thursday by a three-alarm blaze. No one was injured.

Two highway employes were found unconscious in a snowplow near Chicago Thursday after being buried beneath drifts for more than 10 hours.

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

4 a.m.	4	10 a.m.	1
6 a.m.	2	12 noon	5
8 a.m.	—1	2 p.m.	9

Area residents better keep their overcoats buttoned up in view of a prediction by the U.S. Weather Bureau that the cold will continue today and tonight.

Today's predicted high will reach 15 degrees with partly cloudy skies and a few light snow flurries. The low tonight will be about 3 above in Pontiac and is expected to drop below zero in outlying areas.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high of about 19. Winds will be westerly 20-25 m.p.h. today, diminishing tonight.

Most main roads throughout the area are reported in good condition by police but side roads are still extremely slippery.

The five-day outlook for this area calls for temperatures to average about 10 degrees below the normal high of 33 and low of 19.

Temperatures will rise slowly through Monday, turning colder again Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation will total near one-tenth of an inch as light snow Sunday night and Monday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 1 below zero. The mercury climbed to 9 above at 2 p.m.

PULLED TO SAFETY — Rescuers pull two Indian girls to safety in a boat after flood waters inundated the Cattaraugus reservation near Gowanda, N. Y. Thousands are homeless as heavy rains pushed rivers over their banks in many areas.

Floods Bringing Havoc to Ohio, Pennsylvania

From Our News Wires

Floods were bringing havoc to scores of communities in Ohio and Pennsylvania today.

There were frightening prospects that the worst is yet to come.

Down along the banks of Ohio's rain-choked rivers whole communities waited, bracing themselves for the terrible floodcrests that have already brought death and destruction and untold misery to tens of thousands upstream.

At least 16 persons have died so far from the floods, and maybe more. No one can estimate the property damage.

The destruction has been too vast as the rivers, some small, some wide and deep, all turbulent, spilled over and boiled through the towns and cities in their paths.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania declared a state of "extreme emergency" in the flood-stricken area stretching from the New York state border to Pittsburgh. He appealed to President Eisenhower for federal aid. Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he also would seek federal aid.

The small business administration declared three Ohio counties disaster areas. The Office of Civilian and Defense Mobilization sent teams of disaster surveyors to Pennsylvania and Ohio to recommend action on federal aid.

In Ohio, at least 16,000 persons were forced to flee homes inundated by two days of flooding. Licking, Knox and Muskingum counties in Ohio were declared disaster areas. An estimated 8,800 persons were homeless in Western Pennsylvania floodlands.

As the floodwaters drained into the swollen Ohio river, nearly 100 barges were torn loose from moorings and drifted free down the river, ramming bridges and shore installations.

The Ohio was expected to crest 10 to 12 feet above flood stage in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Hundreds of families were evacuated from homes in the tri-state area.

Meadville, Pa. a town of 25,000 was virtually paralyzed today by a record flood resulting from a two-mile long ice dam in French Creek.

Fire Chief Fred Carman, directing relief efforts, said nearly 1,500 persons have been evacuated from their homes. The work is continuing.

Plans were made to dynamite the ice jam.

The flood-swollen Scioto River hit 32.6 feet at Chillicothe, Ohio today, three feet above predictions. About one-third of the 163-year-old city was under water as the Scioto went 15½ feet above flood stage.

The homes of an estimated 10,000 of Chillicothe's 27,000 residents were affected, but by 9 a.m. the Scioto was reported down some four inches.

There were reports three persons were missing.

Other states had flood problems. In Kentucky, highway equipment was being sent to Ohio County in the western part of the state to help rebuild 30 bridges and numerous roads washed out by flash floods. All 15 schools in the county remained closed.

What Price Snow? $1,000 an Inch Here

If it rains pennies from heaven, it snows dollars as far as the Department of Public Works is concerned.

For instance, it cost the DPW $3,000 Wednesday to free streets from the 3-inch snowfall Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

If Wednesday's storm had come off as forecast, a couple thousand more dollars would have been spent to keep traffic moving.

A thousand dollars an inch—that's the price of snow removal in Pontiac, according to Joseph B. Jewell, DPW director.

Half the cost is for labor, a third for salt and sand, and a sixth for gasoline, oil and maintenance of the DPW's snow-removal machines.

NOT WORRIED

The more snow, the more money spent, but Jewell isn't worried about running out of funds.

There's $56,000 budgeted for snow removal in Pontiac this year—more than enough to get through the rest of the winter.

Even if the weather stays as rugged as it has been—and Jewell doubts that it will—the city won't have to worry about a possible shortage in 1959 snow-removal funds until late this year, he pointed out.

When this month's snowfall is totaled up, it may prove to be an extra heavy month. If so, the rest of the winter ought to be easier, figures Jewell, who over the years has seen many a winter's snowfall average out.

Through Dec. 31, 6.2 inches of snow fell in Pontiac. But Jewell isn't worried about that since it didn't affect this year's budget.

Dim Chance They're Alive in Air Pockets

Rescuers Spare No Effort, Expense Trying to Reach Buddies

From Our News Wires

PITTSTON, Pa.—Hope faded today for 12 miners trapped by icy waters in an anthracite mine after the swollen Susquehanna river breached a hole in a tunnel below the river bed and swirled into the honeycomb of diggings.

Under the unwritten law of the coal mine fields, "never leave a buddy down below," rescuers spared no effort or expense in a frantic effort to reach them. Their only hope was that they managed to crawl into air pockets above the still rising water level.

The volunteer rescue crews, directed by federal, state and company experts, dug throughout the night in remote shafts and tunnels in efforts to break through to some still-dry subterranean corridors where the missing may have found refuge.

Forty-four of the miners working deep underground managed to reach safety after the ice-clogged river drained through a hole 20 feet in diameter into the quarter-mile long tunnel like an emptying bathtub yesterday.

They were greeted with whoops of joy by relatives and friends standing vigil around the numerous entrances to mine shafts.

Company records showed that 56 miners had been working in various sections of the firm's operations when the water broke through.

For hours there was utter confusion about what happened to them until the company ascertained definitely that 44 had reached the surface and the 12 still were missing.

The disaster hit the anthracite community hard. Unlike other mine tragedies of previous years, it caused veteran miners to vow they never again would go underground.

Twenty-eight of the 44 miners who escaped wandered through a maze of dark air shafts for more than six hours before they emerged

Detroit Chevy Dealers Indicted

Association, 22 Firms Cited for Allegedly Fixing Retail Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers today announced the indictment of Chevrolet dealers in the Detroit metropolitan area on antitrust charges of illegally fixing the retail prices for new automobiles.

The indictment, returned by a federal grand jury in Detroit, named the Detroit Chevrolet Dealers' Assn. and 22 of its members.

The grand jury alleged, Rogers said, that for several years the dealers conspired to fix automobile prices at a level which would insure a gross profit of not less than $225 on each new car sold.

The indictment charged this was done by adopting uniform prices substantially higher than the list prices suggested by manufacturers and by agreeing to refrain from price advertising.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, said in a statement:

"Conspiracies of the nature alleged here deprive purchasers of the right to buy new automobiles in a free and unrestricted market.

Bill Now in Legislature

Vote on Home-Rule Asked

A bill was tossed into the hopper of the Legislature yesterday which would order a statewide vote April 6 on a constitutional amendment to let counties like Oakland adopt home-rule government charters like cities.

Oakland County officials have not as yet taken a position on home rule. The bill was introduced by Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman).

Also bills to carry out Gov. Williams' plan to mortgage the Veterans Trust Fund were ready for their first hurdle in the House Taxation Committee today, but the legislature was in weekend recess. Four measures introduced by Democrats yesterday are the governor's immediate answer to the state's cash emergency. They do not purport to solve the long-run revenue problem.

After it was broached last week, the Williams proposal drew fire from many Republicans and veterans' organization leaders, but as yet no alternative has mustered significant support.

However, Republicans reported to be toying with different ideas as to how to utilize the big 50 million dollar trust.

With the House and Senate away until 8 p.m. Monday, no immediate action was possible.

Rep. Edwin A. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit), chief sponsor, urged prompt passage of the bills, calling this "absolutely necessary" if the state is to continue meeting payrolls and other bills on time.

Fitzpatrick, like the governor, contended the proposal would safeguard the integrity of the Veterans Trust Fund program for indigent veterans, and not liquidate the fund.

One bill would authorize State Administrative Board assignment of most of the bonds to the state treasury and pledge an appropriation equal to trust income as a replacement for lost bond interest.

Two other bills would permit temporary transfer of trust fund bonds to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, with the requirement of repurchase in 10 years and return to the trust fund.

The schools in the interim would be able to put up the bonds as collateral for bank loans to make up for arrearages in state treasury payments, now approaching 15 million dollars and still mounting.

The fourth bill would allow transfer of bonds to the Public School Employes Retirement System in lieu of sums ordinarily provided from the now anemic school aid fund.

Other bills and resolutions presented in the Legislature yesterday included those to:

Provide for an indeterminate rather than fixed sentence for convicted sex deviates, allowing for a complete cure before release, and appropriate $50,000 for a special medical facility under State Corrections Department supervision to screen and test sex deviates (Waldron).

Regulate advertising along highway right-of-way, with the highway commissioner empowered to issue permits. For sale ads on real property abutting a highway would be exempted (Nichols).

Reduce from 20 years to life to one year to life the penalty upon conviction of selling or administering narcotics without a license (Brown).

Williams to Give Tax Plan on TV

Governor Will Explain Remedy for State's Money Ills Jan. 30

That is the way the Governor proposes to break the news the night of Jan. 30. His half hour telecast, at 7:30 p.m., will be carried over a statewide network.

A more detailed statement of his tax recommendations will go to the legislature the first week in February.

The state is plunging toward a deficit of better than 100 million dollars by June 30, and is in serious cash trouble now — having suspended payments to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

Paul Weber, the Governor's press secretary, said the plan represents a departure from past practice only to the extent that we never sought free television time before."

The "overriding importance" of the subject contributed to the decision, Weber said, as did a breakdown in plans to present the Governor's tax recommendations in his opening message to the legislature last week.

Before the Governor lays out his program he will spend some of his television time explaining the reality of the state's cash situation.

Five to four stations have made commitments to carry the telecast, the announcement said. WWJ-TV in Detroit, WNEM-TV in Saginaw, WPBN-TV in Traverse City and WOOD-TV in Grand Rapids.

Keep Your Badges, Police Captain Says

courts or get a legal opinion. The next step is up to him," Whitfield declared.

The Michigan Police Law Manual, a guide for officers, was written by Glenn C. Gillespie, a former Oakland County circuit judge who is considered an expert on Michigan criminal law and procedure.

Township police have been told in the past few days by arrested persons that they don't have power, Whitfield said. "We do, though," he added.

Township police must renew their badges every two years and are traditionally invited to do so by the sheriff.

Irons said that on Jan. 9 he asked a captain, two sergeants, and a patrolman to submit confidential reports to him on police irregularities and vice in the township.

"I talked to them individually, and they agreed to do so," Irons said. "Then on Jan. 12, I received a letter from Captain Whitfield saying they wouldn't cooperate."

Whitfield snapped last night: "That's not true. We never agreed to any such thing."

The 71-year-old captain claims he has no jurisdiction under township regulations to file such a report. "I am not in any way obligated to fulfill his request," Whitfield declared.

Whitfield said a sound relationship between the township department and the sheriff depends "on voluntary cooperation and the proper approach to the matter involved."

Irons said, "We've been doing our own investigation in Royal Oak Township, and there's going to be a lot coming out of there soon. We've had our eye on the situation down there for quite a while."

Bill Goulet Wins Jaycee Honor

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce last night named 30-year-old Claude (Bill) Goulet the township's "Man of the Year."

The presentation of the award was made at the Jaycees' annual Bosses Night banquet in the Community Activities Center.

In making the announcement, Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson said, "Whenever a fellow needs a friend, they call on Bill Goulet."

FRIEND TO MANY

"Unpretentious and dependable, Bill Goulet is known throughout the township for the many little things he has done for all his acquaintances," Johnson said.

An untiring worker in Our Lady of the Lakes Church, he has given "unstintingly" of his time in many church projects, according to the judges.

An all-round ardent sportsman, Bill has been on the state championship Drayton Plains Softball Team for the past 15 years. Whenever he has been able to help a teenage boy in trouble, he has exerted every effort to set the youth on the right track, Bill's friends told the judges.

Preceding the presentation of the 'Man of the Year' plaque, Jaycees, their wives and bosses heard an address by Herbert Stoutenburg, the director of admissions and registrar at Michigan State University of Oakland.

Nose Cone Test Fizzles Out

Rocket Launching Fails

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—That old bugaboo of rocketry—failure of an upper stage to fire—foiled an attempt to test a futuristic nose cone over intercontinental range early today.

But all the Air Force's elaborate preparations to recover the cone went for naught when the rocket's second stage failed to ignite.

The 90-foot, two-stage rocket was the fourth in the Thor-Able test series, but it was the first to be fitted with the sharp, tapered nose cone which may be used on small, solid-fuel intercontinental ballistic missiles still on the drawing boards.

Earlier, five other men had made their way to safety through the same shaft which had been out of operation for some 50 years.

The first 11 miners clawed their way to the surface "like chipmunks" as the water poured into the shafts.

"We never heard the water come in at all," one miner said. "It was just there."

The water pouring into the mine also posed a serious threat to the economic life of the Wyoming Valley in northeast Pennsylvania.

After years of working, the anthracite vein under the valley is honeycombed with interconnecting tunnels. The Port Griffith accident forced nearby mines to close immediately as water swirled through the tunnels.

There were fears that mines down the valley might have to be closed, throwing hundreds of miners out of work.

Two Area Youths Held After Assault on Officer

BIRMINGHAM—Two 18-year-old area youths will stand trial Tuesday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer Dieterle charged with assault and battery and drunk and disorderly conduct. Both are students at Birmingham High School.

The pair, Robert G. Squires of 26421 Normandy Rd., Franklin, and Michael Hogan of 1538 Pierce St., Birmingham, were arrested Wednesday by Bloomfield Township patrolman Martin McLaughlin when he went to investigate a call that cars were blocking a driveway on Forest lane.

McLaughlin found the cars gone and a truck in the ditch. The truck driver said he had been forced off the road and described the car to McLaughlin.

The officer said he met the car a short distance down the road and turned around to give chase. He said the boys threw beer bottles in the path of the police car during the mile-long chase over icy back roads.

When the youths stopped, Squires assaulted him, McLaughlin said. He added that two others in the car ran off into nearby woods where Hogan was caught after the officers radioed for help, the third youth escaped.

Squires is charged with assault and battery and Hogan with drunk and disorderly conduct. Both have been released on $100 bonds.

Two Pontiac men were injured in a rear-end collision on Telegraph road near Hickory Grove road at about 11 last night.

Serges Likoff, 65, of 761 E. Tennyson St., was reported in "fair" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac this morning. He suffered severe head injuries, according to police.

James Neely, 27, of 213 State St. was released after treatment for cuts about the face.

Neely told Bloomfield Township police he did not see the other car before the crash. Officers said they were unable to question Likoff because of the extent of his injuries.

A group of skiing enthusiasts will leave here tomorrow for a weekend at Caberfae near Cadillac. This is the first of four trips which the Birmingham Ski Club is planning in the northern area.

Membership in the club, which meets every other Wednesday in the Community House, is open to all local residents.

Miss Marion Goodale, head mistress at Kingswood School Cranbrook will entertain the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham at her home Monday at 7 p.m.

Jay H. Church

Service for Jay H. Church, 57, of 1027 Clark St., will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

A native of Southfield Township, he had been a lifelong resident of the area.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Clark Nixon of Howell, Mrs. Walter Lange and Mrs. A. M. McCleery, both of Birmingham; and a brother, Stanley J. Church, also of Birmingham.

Ronson Ordered to Halt Price Fix

FTC Also Demands Stop to Discriminating Among Customers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ronson Corp. has been ordered by the Federal Trade Commission to stop entering into illegal price-fixing agreements with its retail distributors."

The FTC yesterday also ordered the company "to discontinue discriminating among its customers" in prices and allowances for promotional activities.

Ronson makes cigarette lighters and electric shavers.

Named in the order with the parent company were Ronson Service Companies in San Francisco, Denver, Atlanta, Chicago, Baltimore, Boston, Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Seattle and New York City.

The commission's action was based on an order agreed to by Ronson and FTC lawyers.

The commission recently issued similar orders against three other large manufacturers of electric shavers. Ronson's agreement with FTC was conditioned on the issuance of these orders. The agreement is for settlement purposes only and does not constitute an admission by Ronson that it has violated the law.

The complaint, issued 11 months ago, said Ronson entered into retail price-fixing contracts with many dealers in states having fair trade laws. FTC said the agreements were illegal.

Women buy about 80 per cent of men's neckties and most sales are made around the holiday season.

Courses in Arabic in Only 23 Schools

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Instruction in Aribic is offered by only 23 out of an estimated 1,800 American institutions of higher learning, a survey released here shows.

Prof. Menahem Mansoor of the University of Wisconsin Department of Hebrew and Semitic Studies conducted the survey.

He pointed out that Arabic is the tongue spoken daily by more than 65 million persons of the Middle East and the sacred language for 250 million people of the world.

more than 300. Now, for the first time, graduates of the school's secondary-school courses can qualify for university admission.

Senator Can't Live Down Funny Speech

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some of the political pros are suffering mild qualms lest the gag man replace the old-fashioned ghost writer.

They are happy to note that President Eisenhower, at least, still stands by the latter. There wasn't a smile in his latest State-of-the-Union message which was drafted for him in the traditional straightforward way.

But in a couple of recent senatoral offerings they see disquieting evidence that gags, not statistics, are what holds an audience.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY) has learned this to his sorrow. He currently is fending off people who want him to make funny speeches. He would like it known he has retired from an illustrious, though brief, career as a comic.

Keating is a scholarly silver-maned type who could pass for a British chief justice. Although in many years of distinguished public service he had rarely been known to crack more than a pro-forma joke, he went out recently and for 20 minutes made like Bob Hope.

"I stand before you tonight as a member of the nation's most oppressed minority, the Republican Party," he began.

There's only one difference between the two parties. The Democrat says things are awful and tells you a joke to cheer you up. A Republican says things are wonderful—and then weeps at the beauty of it.

"Walter Reuther announced that labor was not wedded to the Democratic party. If that be true, my friends, we have been witnessing the world's most notorious case of living in sin."

Keating's speech to the Women's National Press Club, and a laugh-getter by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) last weekend before the Alfalfa Club (a fun-making club of local big-wigs), stirred speculation that unemployed TV script writers may have moved in on the political scene. Both statesmen reject any such suggestion as applied to them.

Keating says he worked out his own funnies over a period of two or three months. He concedes he had "some suggestions from two or three different sources."

Bush says his only help came from his son, John, except for one of his better lines. This one, which he attributed to George, his 11-year-old grandson, was a definition of a farmer: "A man outstanding in his field."

Bush, as far as his colleagues could tell, sprang like Keating full grown as a comic. The Alfalfa Club's mock candidate for president, Bush opened his campaign with a speech that made Adlai E. Stevenson's quips in two jovial tries for the White House look like a treasurer's report.

Bush promised to do everything in his power. Period. He pledged to face the nation. Also to meet the press. On issues he stood firm. As for labor, "I certainly do." On taxes and defense: "I just don't see why a guy like me should dissipate his means. I suggest instead that we borrow the money from (Russia). A few years later when the notes come due we would tell 'em we are short a hundred million or two. And they wouldn't dare attack because we wouldn't pay 'em back."

This sort of thing could revolutionize Congress. What especially worried some of the old-timers was that Keating's performance was reviewed by a local dramatic critic, who said Keating was great.

The review may have contributed to Keating's current plight. Nobody wants to hear him say anything serious. A week after his stellar performance before the lady reporters he was to address a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"When I was introduced they all started to gigle," he says. "And I was there to talk about peace. I've had some more requests (to be funny . . . I've declined 'em. I don't want a reputation as a comedian."

Range Land Eroding

NEW YORK —Probably 50 per cent — or nearly 90,000,000 acres —of the federal range land alone, which comprises roughly one-fifth of all public and private Western range lands, is in a state of severe to critical erosion, a Twentieth Century Fund report states.

New Plan No Hazard to Monroe Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says its plan to narrow down its hunt for economic power from the atom will not alter the course of a pilot plant now under construction at Monroe, Mich.

AEC spokesmen say details of the plan have not been worked out as yet, but add that the commission now has almost a dozen different reactor concepts under development.

John McCone, AEC chairman, says studies indicate it is much too costly to try to develop to the point of commercial application every conceivable type that shows promise.

Commission spokesmen said, in response to a specific query, that there are no plans to change emphasis on concepts involving "breeding" of nuclear fuel in connection with production of power.

Businessman in Political World Exemplified by Summerfield

In these days of crack brained political philosophies, it's a distinct comfort to tie into someone that possesses the convictions of Postmaster General ARTHUR E. SUMMERFIELD

The country is overrun with half baked agitators who spout new political theories that are in direct contradiction to the practices that have made this the greatest nation on earth. You can't get something for nothing, whether you're a nation, a state, a city or a private Joe.

★ ★ ★

The Postmaster General believes that the "wild spending proposals destined to come before this Congress constitute a reckless tampering with our recovery."

Keno, Mr. SUMMERFIELD!

That's exactly what they will be—"a reckless tampering with our recovery." You can't spend your way into solvency.

It always works in reverse

There's no other way

★ ★ ★

This nation needs more practical, hard headed businessmen like the Postmaster General in Washington. We need more men that have operated a successful business and who have been accountable for paying the bills themselves. Too many in the District of Columbia are trained in drawing blank checks against the taxpayers. This largess is distributed by expansive officeholders that take the bows personally, collect the credit and approval — while the boys and girls back home pay the shot through added taxes—either this year or extended over more years ahead.

★ ★ ★

This cabinet official also believes that there is an absolute need for "a clean up of labor racketeering." In this he merely voices the sentiments of the vast majority of union members themselves who have no desire to see their dues put to illegal or personal uses for a small band of top leaders. The individual members should have a voice in what costs their dues actually pay.

★ ★ ★

Also, the Michigander thinks that all citizens should become more active in political affairs. Employes and employers should concern themselves with things that are transpiring on the local, state and national level.

★ ★ ★

Summerfield summarizes his suggestions with the declaration that we must keep our military strength, bring about a sounder economy, stabilize the dollar, encourage private investments and aim for tax reductions.

★ ★ ★

Our near neighbor to the north is a splendid example of a businessman in government. He has fought continuously to balance his own federal budget by facing the facts squarely and recognizing that "economies in office" can't overcome the deficits we've encountered. And he acknowledges that postal wages cannot be kept abreast of current living conditions by anything except an increase in postal rates. SUMMERFIELD has never tried to conceal or cover the facts.

★ ★ ★

Michigan has been very ably represented in the President's cabinet the past few years. We've had C. E. Wilson, Arthur E. Summerfield and Wilber Brucker. This is a very substantial percentage of the whole and a group that reflects great honor and distinction on our commonwealth.

IT IS in error to class birds among the dumbest of vertebrates. Many of them are smart enough to go south for the winter.

The Man About Town

Birds Starving

Customary Food Supply Almost Eliminated

Sinners. Not the only ones who stand in slippery places.

There never was a time when your feathered friends in the Pontiac area needed your help more than they do now. They're clamoring for it, as the heavy snow, sleet and ice covered vegetation has practically left them to starve.

Even the dry weeds from which they gather seeds have been ice encrusted the last few days, rendering them of no account in that respect. To further accent the matter, the birds exhaust their energy in trying to peck their way through to the seeds, which they can see but usually are unable to reach when the ice king rules.

If you're a regular bird feeder you should greatly increase your menu. Undoubtedly they've already asked you to do so. They've become accustomed to your help, and now need it more than ever before.

If you haven't been putting out something for the birds, you never will have a better time to start than right now. And the expressions of thankfulness you'll receive will make you so glad that you'll wish you had done so long ago.

If at a loss to know what to feed the birds, just govern yourself by the standard rule that they'll eat anything that you will. They will be glad to pinch hit for your garbage can, and sing for you for that privilege.

A Strong Influence in New Congress

David Lawrence Says:

Spenders and Savers Battle It Out

WASHINGTON—The battle is on between the "spenders" and the "savers." The Democratic Party has taken its position in favor of an unbalanced budget, deficit spending, and policies that could lead to a ten-cent dollar.

LAWRENCE

The Democratic Advisory Council, unanimously approved by its members, claims that "the new Republican budget comes close to being a fraud on the American people . . . the individual budget items and the related legislative program are an intricate combination of defeat, deception and denial."

This is strong language from Democrats who, during the 1952 presidential campaign, protested the alleged characterization of the Democratic Party as the "party of treason" on the Communist issue.

But apparently, in employing such words as "fraud" and "deception" in a description of the Republican Party today, and particularly in applying the comment to a message delivered to Congress by the President of the United States, no holds now are to be barred on the use of invective.

Among the listed sponsors of the statement of the Democratic Advisory Council are former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson, as well as Governors Williams of Michigan and Lawrence of Pennsylvania, and former Governor Harriman of New York.

Members of Congress on the council who approved the statement are Senators Kefauver of Tennessee and Humphrey of Minnesota.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House and Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of the Senate resent any implication that the Democratic Party is the party of the "spenders." Naturally, as southern conservatives, they oppose any such classification.

But party policy apparently is being made by the Democrats from the North, where they have been winning their big majorities. Here is the Democratic Party doctrine as the advisory council sees it:

The Democratic Party Advisory Council apparently favors more and more spending, more and more deficits, and more and more inflation. This, they argue is what the people voted for last November. The Eisenhower administration disagrees and, if it is wrong in its fiscal policy, there will be a chance in 1960 to resolve the issue.

Meanwhile, there must be tens of millions of citizens whose income is from the money they have saved and invested or from retirement and pension funds. Also many millions of persons, including widows and orphans, are living on the proceeds of insurance policies.

These and others on fixed incomes may soon have to decide where the "deception" begins and ends as they try to compare the purchasing power of their dollar today with what it will be in November 1960 if the budget isn't balanced.

The Country Parson

Dr. William Brady Says:

Try Alcoholics Anonymous and May God Go With You

From long experience I have learned to look first at the signature of a letter. If the signature does not seem right I give the letter little attention. If there is no signature, I drop the letter into the chucker. But this one, somehow stayed my hand.

DR. BRADY

"Dear Doc: I am writing to you and hope with all my heart you will put it in your column. I drank heavy for five years. I quit during Lent and I only had two or three rough days.

"Now I'm trying hard to quit, but I get this choking and lonely feeling and it keeps up for four or five hours. It's one of the awful feelings so the only thing that will help is another drink.

"I went to one doctor and he called me an Alcoholic and laughed. So I won't dare to go to another one. But I need help bad.

"Please what can I do so the lonely feeling will go away. Please help me." (Unsigned)

Very likely the doctor who called the patient an alcoholic and laughed is himself or herself a victim of the narcotic habit, requiring a certain number of cocktails or highballs every day.

The best suggestion I can give any drinker who gets that choking and lonely feeling which he or she thinks only more alcohol will relieve is this:

Look in the telephone book for the address of ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS in or near your community and telephone for information. Bear in mind that neither your name nor the name of the group member who gives you information need be mentioned.

If you will find out when and where the group meets and attend a meeting or two it may be the very thing you need to free you from that choking and lonely feeling. Everyone at the meeting is or has been addicted as much as you are and everyone is there to help himself or herself and to help other drinkers who need help.

No matter whether you are or are not an alcoholic, your belief that the only thing that will help is another drink doesn't make me laugh; sir or madam. When I think about it too much it makes me cry.

You see, I have had to deal close up with the misery and shame, the remorse and unhappiness, the disease and death that drinking brings to its victims, innocent and guilty alike.

For the help you need, go to ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS, and may God go with you.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Handicap May Prove to Be Asset

Don Gross offers two valuable ideas that can benefit millions of Americans. Notice how he felt his brilliant athletic future was ruined. Then he converted his stumbling block into a stepping stone to great success. And teach your children to memorize the motto below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

He is what is termed a southpaw or lefthanded thrower. And a year ago he married an attractive Cincinnati girl, June McGrath.

CRANE

Thereafter, his pitching improved quite evidently, and Don credits his wife with part of his success.

"Yes, I guess a fellow sort of settles down after he is married," he added.

And that "settling down" is doubly necessary to a baseball pitcher, since wildness on the pitching mound is a pitcher's Waterloo.

But I want to remind you readers that Don Gross suffered a severe accident in his childhood.

If Don had been a chronic negative thinker, he would probably have given up all hopes of getting into the big leagues.

CHANGE VIEWPOINT

Earlier this week I mentioned the Biblical story where the futile fishermen labored all night without catching even a minnow.

Christ the told them to change their viewpoint and toss their nets on the other side of the boat. Then they were swamped with fish!

So PLEASE teach yourself, and especially your children, to take a positive outlook.

Urge them to memorize this very true adage:

Instead, use it as the stepping stone to greater success!

Every day 1,000 of you readers send me letters for advice or requests for the non-profit educational booklets which this newspaper offers you.

And many of those writers are so blue they are about ready to throw in the sponge in life's battle, just because they have freckles or a flat bust or thick ankles or a skinny frame or a fat chassis or many other minor defects like a crossed eye or deafness, an amputation, etc.

God will open ANOTHER door for you, if you think positively and cooperate with the Almighty.

If you sincerely vow to play ball on God's team and keep your wits alert, you will soon find that you can find another and BETTER door to success.

Indeed, you will soon discover that you can actually make capital out of your supposed defect.

Joe E. Brown and Jimmy Durante and Martha Raye and hundreds of other popular, happy folks have compensated for a big mouth or long nose or other minor physical defect and have actually used it as a stepping stone to fame.

So keep your chin up. Think positive ideas and even whisper them to yourself when your courage is low. Remember England's motto that she always keeps on till she wins the last battle!

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Road Isn't Proper Place for Competition of Autos'

Surely fair competition between businesses, manufacturing, servicing or supplying is a stimulus to prosperity. For years there's been competition between automobile manufacturers, and it's essential to prosperity. Let it stop there.

★ ★ ★

I thought at one time it was speed instinct that made a driver try to outstart another. Now it appears a driver of one make of car will try to outdo drivers in another make, even if he must force them off the road or into the curb to be first on the road.

★ ★ ★

Take a position at most any intersection and see the drivers who will drive into on-coming traffic just so long as he can get ahead. If safety is so important, if public welfare on the road is so important, let's start at the base of things. Make observations and report them to the proper authorities and let them make the same observations. That's as good a place as any to start. Yours for highway safety.

The Greater Pontiac USO Committee would like to thank the many merchants, business clubs and social organizations for the laudable cooperation which helped make possible the successful Christmas party and dance for officers and enlisted men of the Nike sites and others stationed in this area.

Although individual letters were sent, the Committee wants people of Pontiac to know of the cooperation merchants and organizations gave us. 'Amateur Operators Aren't to Blame'

Amateur wireless operators aren't causing the trouble a letter in the Voice of the People spoke out. It's WJR itself with its remote broadcasts.

When they try it by telephone and then onto the air, it sounds as though a man was yelling down a rain barrel and it is very poor radio. A regular radio broadcast can originate in California and it comes in perfectly, but when WJR tries this distance stunt of theirs, it always has a very dismal result and sounds like radio did 30 years ago.

'Residential Streets Need Attention, Too'

The conditions of some of our City streets are terrible. Ours is so bad with bumps that before he realized it a driver could easily break a spring or lose control of his car when snow covers the road. The City should pay more attention to the residential streets and not just the main thoroughfares.

About the mystery blasts that were heard Sunday, we live at Brooklands and it rattled our door. My husband and I ran out along with the rest of the neighbors, thinking there had been an explosion. We looked up in the sky and saw vapor from what we believe were two jets.

If officials at Selfridge Field deny any jets being out, then why aren't they out checking to see what's breaking the sound barrier. It's not the first time it's been heard around here and vapor has been seen.

Defends Coach at Walled Lake

This is expression of loyalty to the Walled Lake basketball coach. Since your sports writer so eloquently gave the impression that the student body was instrumental in "hanging Mr. Shadford," perhaps you'll publish this.

★ ★ ★

Since when do two or three crackpots represent a student body? I've attended every game, home and away, and have never seen a demonstration such as was written, not by the coach, students or spectators.

★ ★ ★

Thank heavens we have a coach that's enough of a red-blooded American to protest unfairness from referees. Some persons are more interested in what they call "good sportsmanship" than they are in winning a fair game. They're probably tiddly-winks champions. It's the American way to protest unfair play and a few "boos" are good for the circulation—of our blood—if not for your paper.

'Develop a Strong Faith,' PCH Graduates Advised

"We hope that you will reap rich benefits from the education you have received and, with these achievements, we want you to develop the ability to believe in something and have a strong and abiding faith."

This was the essence of the message which Donald M. Currie, assistant superintendent of Royal Oak Schools, delivered to the January graduates of Pontiac Central High School last night.

The titile of Currie's talk was "What Do We Want."

He defined the time the graduates were going out into the world as an "age of searching and seeking the mysteries of creation."

Since the arrival of Sputnik, there has been an "increasing dependence on one another . . . and if we are to survive these times, we need more teachers, doctors and scientists."

"However, there are worse things in life than not going to college," he said. "I realize many of you will not go on to college, but you can succeed in many other occupations which do not require more formal education."

Lenora King last night became the first student to deliver the invocation at any of the commencement exercises at PCH.

Roland Sapp, 50, of Detroit, was sworn and questioned about a hydraulic system on a back door of the Ilgenfritz Nurseries, Inc., 22951 Northwestern Highway, Southfield, where the body of Anthony Jasinski, a caretaker, was found Aug. 1.

Alyea, 35, who formerly worked with Sapp for the nursery, is charged with first-degree murder in the killing.

Alyea has testified that he entered the nursery July 31—the day police say Jasinski was slain. He said he knocked on the back door and that it opened.

State Police detectives have given a conflicting story. They say the hydraulic system would have prevented the door from opening unless the door knob was turned.

Sapp's testimony related that this system had been removed for repairs, supposedly allowing the door to go ajar as Alyea said, "in the spring."

Assistant Prosecutor William E. Lang and Alyea's court-appointed attorney, William R. Beasley, were expected to call witnesses back to the stand today to see when the system might have been placed on the door.

U.S. Won't Quit in Hoffa Case

Justice Department May Use Grand Jury to Get at Buried Facts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is reported to be using the services of a grand jury to obtain otherwise inaccessible information in connection with a continuing study of activities of Teamster boss James Hoffa.

The department declined to comment, except to say the various Hoffa matters which had been referred to it by the McClellan Senate Labor-Management Rackets Committee still were being studied.

The Senate committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) demanded investigation of Hoffa's income taxes, financial dealings and political activities.

It also requested a study of Hoffa's testimony in the rackets hearings to determine whether any perjury was involved.

Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters, has been acquitted in federal court trials on charges of trying to bribe a rackets committee aide and of violating federal wire tapping laws in spying on subordinate unionists.

Fire Is Fatal to Tots in Nailed Room

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Officers sought today to determine who nailed a board across the door of an apartment in which three children died in a fire Thursday.

The two-room abode of the parents, Robert and Geneva Holt, was destroyed. The dead were Janice, 1, Marie, 2, and Joyce, 3.

Asst. Fire Marshal W H. Dixon said the parents and the landlord, A. W. Wright, couldn't explain how the door was nailed shut.

Wright said he took the mother to work at a laundry early in the day. The father was at work at a steel company.

Selfridge Calls Off Air 'War'

Engine Troubles Cancel Reserve Exercises Set for This Weekend

Real engine trouble has forced Michigan's 403rd Reserve Troop Carrier Wing to call off its make-believe war scheduled this weekend.

Col. James H. McPartlin, 40, of Birmingham, commander of the group at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mt. Clemens, announced cancellation of the two-day training exercise today.

★ ★ ★

"All of the unit's Selfridge-based Giant Fairchild C-119 flying boxcars have been grounded pending a teardown inspection report," McPartlin said.

★ ★ ★

The order came from Maj. Gen. Robert E. L. Eaton, 10th Air Force commander at Selfridge, after four recent propellor thrust bearing failures. The failures caused no accidents or injuries.

★ ★ ★

The grounding also affects three other flying reserve wings in the 10th Air Force's 18-state district.

Col. McPartlin, who lives at 3930 Orchard Hill Dr., said the wing's 800 members will report for duty just the same for what now will be a regular training weekend.

Of the 800 members, 115 are Oakland County men.

Crash on Telegraph Injures 2 Local Men

Two Pontiac drivers were injured in a two-car collision late last night on Telegraph road just south of Square Lake road, Bloomfield Township.

Treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released was James M. Neelly, 26, of 213 State St. The other driver, Sergej Likoff, 65, of 761 E. Tennyson St., is at the hospital with a possible fractured vertebra. His condition was reported as fair.

Township police said the accident which occurred shortly after 11 p. m., backed up traffic a half mile while officers attempted to clear the road and aid the injured parties.

Both men were alone in their cars.

Budget Director Stands Firm

Says Administration to Meet Essential Needs if Revenues Permit

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Budget Director Maurice H. Stans said today the Eisenhower administration wants to meet all essential needs of the people, but only as revenues permit.

"For the present," Stans said, "we will go as far as we can."

In a speech prepared for the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, he said that we believe in meeting all the essential needs of our people. We will meet them when we can do so without a budget deficit."

The budget which President Eisenhower sent to Congress Monday envisions a surplus of 70 million dollars and spending of just over 77 billions.

Stans said a Republican congressman, unnamed, remarked several weks ago that if Eisenhower balances the budget, "it would be the neatest hat trick of the year."

The budget chief added: "Let me assure you that it wasn't done with mirrors, hats, rabbits, or other props of that description."

★ ★ ★

He said the coming year will be the most prosperous in American history and added that "if ever there is a time when the federal government should live within its means, it is in periods of prosperity." He said this is the wrong time to operate in the red.

Corns' Corn Is Tops

WASHINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — George and Carl Corn today were declared winners in the Pike County corn growing contest.

CASTRO WITH AND WITHOUT — Cuban popular hero Fidel Castro now sports the rebel trademark, a full beard, right. But it was not always so. Three years ago, he appeared in New York to raise funds for his cause, without the facial adornment.

New Civil Rights Bill Can't Solve Everything

By LYLE C. WILSON

Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), the lefty heir of FDR's New Deal, would so write it off. ADA called the civil rights proposal "a typical Johnson compromise, scratching the surface of the civil rights problem and carefully refraining from digging down to its heart—school segregation."

★ ★ ★

ADA, northern Democrats in general and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) apparently want a congressional endorsement of the Supreme Court's ruling against school segregation. Some of those opposing segregation probably would prefer congressional action to enforce desegregation of southern schools. The implication of that preference is that desegregation should be inforced through the south—as in Little Rock—by the armed forces of the United States.

★ ★ ★

It is a fact that Johnson's four-point bill avoids direct approach to the immediate problem of schooling white and Negro children together. Assuming that there is a valid argument against Congress attempting to deal directly with the school problem, it probably would be this.

—That both time and patience reasonably could be expected to help toward a solution of the great social and educational crisis now confronting the southern states.

—That direct congressional intervention, especially with enforcing legislation, would reduce greatly the opportunity of either time or patience to heal raw wounds.

Not just around the corner, but far down the road there appears to be one decisive, home-grown solution to the south's problem of racial integration of its schools.

That solution would be peaceful integration of schools in the south under conditions pretty much confirming to the state's rights point of view of even the most extremist of southern segregationists.

Given time and patience this could and may come to pass by reason of increased political activity of southern Negroes. The Negro vote already is a political powerhouse in the northern states. Southern Negroes are more numerous actually and proportionately than are Negroes in the north. But they don't vote much.

Disinterest, disfranchisement and one thing and another have so retarded voting by southern Negroes that they have had little political impact. That situation began to change some time ago, and the change continues at an increasing pace. The Federal Civil Rights Bill of 1957 was intended to speed the change already under way.

The NAACP is campaigning to register 3 million southern Negroes before the 1960 presidential election. Registration in 1956 was about 1,300,000. There are enough Negroes in the south to put the segregation problem far toward solution if they would and could register and vote.

This sort of solution was suggested by President Eisenhower last week in a National Press Club Speech. The fourth section of the proposed Johnson civil rights bill would help bring that about.

The section would give the Justice Department instant subpoena to obtain all registration and other records needed to prepare voting-rights cases. Perhaps southern Negroes will vote themselves into white schools.

Drags Machine Across Room

Seamstress Sews Finger

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — A professional seamstress accidentally sewed her finger to an electric sewing machine, then had to drag the 60-pound object twice across a room to get help.

"I just kept perspiring from pain," Mrs. Alexander Adamiak, 59, said yesterday after her ordeal. "I used the sheet as a towel and kept wiping my face and my eyes."

The woman was trapped for 40 agonizing minutes, the electric needle and thread pinning her finger fast to the machine cabinet. She dragged the entire machine across the room to reach a telephone and call police. When they arrived she had to pull the heavy object to the other side of the room to press a buzzer releasing the door lock.

She had been sewing a sheet when the accident happened and her family was not home. The needle passed through the nail and forefinger of her left hand.

Police Nurse Richard J. Herbert removed the needle from the machine and then attempted to take the needle from her finger.

★ ★ ★

Dust Cocktail Mixed by Frenetic Vacuum

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—When the children spilled a big container of bubble bath powder all over the floor, Mrs. Vernon Reed came along with her vacuum cleaner to clean it up.

Her cleaner is one of those that filters everything through a tank of water. Although it has been cleaned out three times since then the machine still whips up a frightful froth every time it's turned on.

Father of Five Killed in Station Holdup

DETROIT (AP)—A father of five children was shot and killed in a holdup yesterday at his East Side service station.

Frank Galvez, 58, of suburban Dearborn, the victim, was shot in the head and shoulders with a shotgun. The body was found by a neighborhood girl.

Police said an undetermined amount of money was missing.

Boat Launched by Train Saves Flood Victims

Volunteer firemen rode a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train Thursday as close to the farm of Mrs. Berth Lemon, 55, and her son Roland, 18, as they could get.

About half a mile away they cast off and putt-putted he rest of the way to save the two from the flood.

Come Home, Eddie--- They'll Talk It Over

PORT HURON (AP)—Eddie Rylander — wherever you are — come home.

Bernice, the five kids and state and local police plus the FBI and the Michigan National Bank would like to talk things over.

Now that this personal appeal to Edward F. Rylander, 35-year-old former bank clerk, is over, perhaps we'd better explain.

Rylander was loan supervisor for the Port Huron bank's installment division.

He is described in Port Huron as "a quiet, reliable-type guy."

But the comptroller of currency in Washington uncovered a shortage in the bank last November. He notified the Justice Department. Rylander was confronted with a $6,800 shortage on Jan. 12.

"I fired him," said Frank J. McCabe, senior vice president of the bank. "Then he disappeared."

"Please explain," added McCabe, when contacted at a meeting of bank executives in Lansing, "that this won't break us. We're insured to up to two million dollars."

★ ★ ★

McCabe said that the entire matter was kept quiet at the request of the FBI.

But an Associated Press story from Washington said that the FBI was investigating a shortage in the Port Huron bank.

A check showed that Mrs. Rylander had put out a missing persons report on her husband Jan. 19.

The wife at first did some quiet investigating on her own. She found that her husband had checked into a Detroit area motel, then checked out. She called relatives in Chicago. When all leads failed she called police.

The couple's five children range in age from two to 14.

The U.S. aircraft industry spent more than one and a half billion dollars or research, development and production of civil jet transports before the first plane was delivered.

SNOW-STALLED — Huge trucks have trouble negotiating a snow-slick hill in Kansas City, where eight inches of snow fell. Traffic is stalled behind the trucks, as vehicles piled up around the city. The snow in Kansas City was part of a storm that extended from the Eastern Rockies to the Ohio Valley, and from Montana to Mexico.

No Official Measurements on 'Cabbage-Size' Lumps

Big Iowa Hailstones a Record?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The weather Bureau this week published reports from Iowa of hailstones the size of cabbages.

If the reports had been authenticated before the evidence melted, the state which grows the tallest corn also could claim to have produced the biggest hailstones.

In its just published national weather summary for October, the bureau said:

"Some hailstones up to the amazing size of 6 to 8 inches in diameter were reported to have fallen north and notheast of Des Moines, Iowa, on the 8th."

Unfortunately nobody thought to put the stones on ice until they could be officially measured, weighed and photographed.

So, as far as the weather bureau is concerned, the world championship still belongs to a hailstone which fell in a field near Potter, Neb., in the summer of 1928. It measured 17 inches around and 5 4 inches in diameter.

CAUSED BY UPDRAFTS

Big hailstones imply tremendous updrafts in hail-producing thunderstorms. Such stones appear to be built like an onion in concentric layers.

A stone forms at subfreezing altitudes, drops, picks up moisture at lower levels, and is hurled back into the congealing zone by updrafts. This process may be repeated several times.

The Weather Bureau says the western Great Plains are the hailiest region and Cheyenne, Wyo., the hailiest city.

Cheyenne averages eight or nine hailstorms a year compared with three or four elsewhere in the hail country.

A hailstorm at Billings, Mont., last summer did $3,500,000 damage. Hailstones have battered the hard tops of automobiles. They seldom, however, brain anybody.

One reason is that even the biggest stones are low in density because of the way they're built. The Potter field giant weighed only 1½ pounds.

Another reason is that the human head is mounted on a good shock absorber, the neck. It also is pretty strong. The national bureau of standards estimated recently that the average skull is about one-tenth as stiff as if it were made of steel.

Apartment Raid Nets 4 Women

New York Detectives Pose as Out-of-Town Business Men

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives posing as out of town professional men raided a well furnished Manhattan apartment Thursday night and arrested four women on vice charges.

Five businessmen found in the apartment were not arrested.

The raid was led by First Dep Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy, who is heading a police probe into the call girl racket touched off by allegations made on a nationwide radio program Monday night.

Kennedy, who entered the apartment in the raid with five detectives, said the establishment had been operating for about six months, furnishing girls at fees ranging from $50 to $100.

Charges were made on the CBS radio program presented by commentator Edward R. Murrow, that some big business firms have employed prostitutes to entertain prospective customers and help to swing deals and make sales.

Average number of auto lights in a passenger car rose from 5.5 in 1925 to a new high total of about 25 in an average car today.

Famine, Drought Seen as Weapons

Says Weather Warfare Could Outclass Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) says weather warfare may some day be more effective than missiles in bringing a nation to its knees.

"Weather warfare could be so applied that the operator of the modification could not only damage his opponent but escape undamaged himself — something that might not be said of multi-megaton thermonuclear blasts," Anderson said.

He addressed a symposium of weather modification Thursday night.

"Who needs to be told how long it would take to bring the United States to her knees if it lay in the power of another country to deny us at will our drinking water or our wheat crop, to alternately freeze us or burn us up, to flood our cities and scorch our farms?" he asked.

Two top meteoroligists joined Anderson in urging intensive further research on weather control techniques.

Dr. Horace R. Byers of the University of Chicago said progress in weather modification has been distressingly slow since such studies were started 12 years ago. He said this was mainly because most of the effort had gone into trying to apply principles that were too poorly understood instead of doing basic research on atmospheric processes.

Dr. Edward A. Ackerman of the Carnegie Institution of Washington said a new federal agency should be set up to promote basic research in the field.

Ackerman said "the exploration of outer space has captured our minds and our funds. However, it does not yet offer the same wide vista (beneficially) altering the conditions of life for the human race as manipulation of the atmosphere."

★ ★ ★

The symposium was sponsored by Resources for the Future Inc., a research and educational agency supported by the Ford Foundation.

Truth at Last— No Eggs Used in Egg Rolls

NEW YORK (UPI) — The owner of a Chinese restaurant has shattered another illusion held by many lovers of Chinese food—there are no eggs in egg rolls.

Mrs. Emily Kwo, who runs a Chinese restaurant in the Greenwich village section of Manhattan, said the North China delicacy is a mixture of pork and Chinese vegetables wrapped in a special dough and deep fried.

The name? Chinese ingenuity.

Floundering Around

WARGRAVE, England (UPI) — Thames River floods have forced local merchant Tony Shaw to make his deliveries in rowboats. Shaw sells fish.

No Proof Reds Lead in Missiles Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy says he does not believe the Soviet Union now has an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of use against the United States.

★ ★ ★

And he said there's no proof the Soviet Union is ahead in combat-reading ICBMs. Reports the Soviets will have 300 ICBMs by 1960 are exaggerated, he told a news conference Thursday.

★ ★ ★

McElroy said the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in the thrust of rocket engines used in weapons and space vehicles. But, he added, we have engines with enough thrust to "propel a large warhead to the point we want it to reach."

Bomber Flies Cross-Country in Under 5 Hours

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—An Air Force RB66 twin-engine bomber flashed across the country yesterday in four hours and 58 minutes, traveling the distance from Washington, D.C., at an average speed of 552 miles per hour.

The reconnaissance plane was on loan to General Electric Corp. to permit testing two new turbojet engines which may be used in the future on commercial airliners.

The same plane had flown from the west coast to the east coast on Tuesday, arriving over Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D.C., after three hours and 36 minutes aloft, a cross country record.

Hal Boyle Says:

Success Is Not Goal of Most Americans

NEW YORK (AP)— Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

The one thing the rest of the world feels surest of about the average American is this: That material success is his god.

Great material success is admired rather than worshipped by the average American—just as he admires achievement in any form, whether it be in the art of home run knocking or hula hooping. He even has a sneaking admiration for a successful bank robber—so long as the fellow doesn't spill blood.

But material success isn't the major goal of the average American. It is only one of his major daydreams. But he doesn't want it bad enough to make his dream come true.

Take yourself, as an average American. Why aren't you a success?

You probably can't, with honesty, put the blame on fate, your boss or your wife. You can't even blame it on the fact you were born dumb and never outgrew it. The chances are you aren't a big success simply because it isn't worthwhile to you. There simply are other things more important to you.

In my work as a reporter I have interviewed perhaps 2,000 "successful" people over the last quarter century. Asked the reason for their success, about 99 out of 100 gave the same answer: "Hard work." The hundredth person would credit it to "getting the breaks," or admit, off the cuff, he inherited success or married into it.

Many successful people I have met have lacked the charm, personality and even the talent I have found among other men so spectacularly unsuccessful they couldn't buy their way into the city dump. They aren't nearly as much fun to be with.

One difference between the successful man and the average man is obvious. The average man has credit. The successful man has credit plus something else—it is called money.

But there are other differences. The big one lies in how they use their energy. The successful man controls his energy and directs it to a single aim—the winning of success. Everything else is secondary. The average man isn't that single-minded.

As a multimillionaire real estate dealer once told me: 'It doesn't take great brains to be a success. It takes desire. The ordinary man has plenty of brains. But he doesn't have the desire. It's as simple as that. Practically anyone who has a strong enough desire to succeed can do so—if he puts that goal first and lets nothing distract him.

"But he has to be willing to pay the price. He has to be willing to miss other things along the way."

The average American—or the average man in any country—isn't willing to pay that price. Too many other facets of life interest him. He doesn't want to postpone his pleasures now in a gamble for a greater reward later.

He is basically more interested in living it up than in piling it up.

Does the successful man himself regret the price he had to pay to get where he is? Often he does—in a very wistful human way. But there is a limit to his regret.

The average man sometimes likes to boast he wouldn't trade places with the most successful man he ever knew. The successful man returns the compliment. He isn't interested in changing places either.

No matter how stern the cost of success, the last thing any successful man I ever met was willing to give up was—success.

He may feel a bit sorry for himself on his perch, but he doesn't want to yield it to anyone.

22-Month-Old Is Electrocuted in Kitchen Sink

GEORGETOWN, Iowa (AP)—A 22-month-old boy was electrocuted while being given a bath in the kitchen sink at his home Wednesday night.

Monroe County Coroner Bart Downs said a sheet of lead foil apparently acted as a conductor of electricity from a toaster near the sink to the bath water where Stephen Pickerell was sitting.

Downs said neither the boy nor his mother, Mrs. Ralph Pickerell, came in contact with the plugged-in electric toaster. He theorized that water must have been splashed upon the foil.

Traffic Hazards Hit One and All Alike

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—It seems that traffic hazards apply to all. Here's what was in a 24-hour report here:

An out-of-town policeman was hurt in a collision.

A police accident investigator was injured in an accident en route to the scene of an accident.

The Workers Can't Bear Company

★ ★ ★

In fact, the danger of meeting unfriendly bears after dark at Churchill, Manitoba's aircraft refueling facilities is so great that construction work has been limited to a six-hour daylight period, according to R. G. Johnson, president of Defense Construction Ltd.

★ ★ ★

Johnson told a convention session of the Canadian Construction Assn. that construction crews at the project had tried helicopter flights to scare the hungry bears away, but without success.

The workers cannot shoot the bears because hunting permits are limited only to Eskimos.

★ ★ ★

"Judging by progress reports, those polar bears do not scare so easily," Johnson said. "We've had to limit construction work to the six-hour winter daylight period to be on the safe side."

CHAPTER XXXIV

"True?" The Admiral stared at his sister in suprise.

"You said I was going to be under the coach. Don't remember being under the coach, unless somebody put me there when I was out for those few minutes.

But the coach was empty—you remember, Rodney? The coach was empty. I had seen it empty in my dream, and—"

"But you'd seen it in a ditch."

But don't you see? The ditch was the river! The coach was empty"—Her voice was rising sharply—"the coach was empty and . . . the ditch was there and you were all m-muddy and—"

"Here, steady on, old girl," admonished the Admiral.

"I saw it all! When I heard you shout, I t-told myself that it had c-come at last. You were in danger, and here was the empty c-coach, the empty coach, the empty—"

"Good God, her needle's stuck!" The Admiral was on his feet, whiter than his recent experiences had succeeded in making him. "Here, Graham, get her into a chair."

"—empty coach," sang Mrs. Denby-Warre, on a high and wavering note. "Ha ha ha! There you were, going down, ha ha ha, down towards the ditch and there was the empty coach, the empty coach, the—"

* * *

"Quick! Don't just stand there!" roared the Admiral at Angus. "Do something, can't you. Slap her face! Get some water! Get her head between her knees! Get—"

"Ha ha ha ha ha!" shrieked Mrs. Denby-Warre. "Oh Rodney, it was so terrible, so t-terrible! There was the empty coach and the empty coach and the—"

"What the hell are you doing?" the Admiral bellowed at Angus. "Who wants water? Take your hands off her, d'you hear? Go and fetch that blasted c— go on, go ON, d'you hear me? Go and GET him. Go and GET HIM. GO AND GET HIM! FETCH HIM BACK!

Angus fetched him back.

For the next few hours, Angus was too fully occupied with practical details to be able to spare any time for thought. He had to reorganize the travel arrangements for two of his passengers. Mrs. Denby-Warre, in bed in a darkened room, had recovered her self-control, but there was no question of her traveling for the next few days, and the Admiral, who had been unwilling to stay on his account, had no hesitation in deciding to remain behind with his sister.

He issued contradictory orders for the comfort of the patient, barred visitors from the sickroom and growled when anybody mentioned his own accident.

"I'm all right," he insisted, looking fiercely at Angus. "You see that my sister's looked after, that's all. You could start by showing them how to make a decent cup of tea. The last lot they sent up was made of straw."

"The doctor didn't advise tea, sir, and—"

"When a woman feels she needs a good cup of tea, she should have one. And don't let anybody barge in on any of those so-called sickroom visits. She doesn't want to see them. She doesn't want to see anybody—except m'self, naturally. But you'd better go in now'n then to see that orders are being carried out.

"And don't you leave this place without makin fool-proof arrangements for getting us out of it. I can't talk this blasted tongue and I don't want to, so just you see that everything's written down for them so's they know what they're about when the coach has left. Four days, no more.

"I want to leave here with my sister, five days from now. Two days in bed, one day up, one day about, that's all she needs. See to it."

Seeing to it, Angus found no leisure and no opportunity to deal with other matters. When at last he had arranged every detail to the Admiral's satisfaction, and read out, in his presence, a lengthy list of instructions to the staff, he found that he was tired, hungry and longing for Angela's company.

* * *

"I feel," said Angus slowly, "as though I hadn't seen you for years."

'YOU LOOK TIRED'

"You look tired. Have the patients been troublesome?"

"Only one of them. Can't we go out somewhere and have dinner?"

"That's what I was going to ask you."

Facing her across a table less than half an hour later, he felt grateful for the way in which she steered their conversation clear of all matters relating to the journey. He was, she reminded him, off duty, this was their evening and not Sir Claud's.

Angus was content to put tomorrow's problems aside. Once, when she referred glancingly to the fact that when the coach left Salamanca, there would be only six passengers aboard, he was on the point of telling her to subtract one more and then changed his mind.

He would tell her tomorrow, tonight was for other things.

"What are you dreaming about?" she asked, after watching him during a spell of silence.

"You. And the soothing effect you've had on me. I came out tonight feeling a bit on edge."

Raises our spirits and calms our fears.' "

she quoted. "I can't claim all the credit, you've eaten two helpings of shell fish and practically an entire chicken, so that's had a lot to do with raising your spirits sweetly, sweetly. Angus—"

"Well?"

"Couldn't we live in Spain? We've been so happy here."

"I don't see why we shouldn't. There must be a number of castles to let."

Mikoyan Flays U.S. Diplomacy

Says State Department, Not American People Prolonging Cold War

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Soviet First Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan said Thursday night that everybody in America wants the cold war to end except the State Department.

Stopping for 30 hours on his way home to Moscow, the Kremlin's No. 2 man made his first statement since his U.S. tour to about 400 members of the Danish-Soviet Friendship Society. He left by special Soviet plane for Moscow this morning.

"Everybody wants the cold war to stop except the department which is engaged with continuing the cold war," he said. "The atmosphere is favorable for the strengthening of peace, but it is difficult to come to terms on concrete matters because many statesmen want to hold their bastions."

He told his audience he had been well received in the United States, "not because of my person but because I represented the Soviet Union."

He also lashed out at West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his defense minister, Franz-Josef Strauss, accusing them of seeking revenge for Germany's World War II defeat.

Tape Gives an Image

MINNEAPOLIS—Tape recorders record data by magnetizing iron particles embedded in a paper or plastic tape. Now, according to the Journal of Applied Physics, electron beams can be used for another type of "magnetic writing," in which a magnetized tape is demagnetized by the beam. The new system can make a record of pictures and diagrams that can be "read out" as directly visible images.

Livestock Feed Better

LOS ANGELES—Agricultural research workers have developed a variety of sorgo, a livesock feed, that is said to give such a high yield that it is a potential competitor of sugar cane and sugar beets in commercial sugar production. California and United States Agriculture Department breeders were its creators.

About five million acres in New Mexico are occupied by Indians.

Traditional piping in the Haggis will be accomplished by Stewart Grant of the 425th Light Guard Pipe Band of Detroit. John Tough of the Windsor, Ont. Burns Club will be the after-dinner speaker.

Dinner will feature Scotch beefsteak pie.

43 Safe After Plane Skids Off Runway

DETROIT (UPI) — Everyone escaped injury today when an American Airlines DC-7 landing with one engine dead, skidded off the runway at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The plane, carrying 38 passengers and a crew of 5, was on a flight from Los Angeles and Chicago when a sparkplug malfunction forced the pilot, E. J. Brown of Los Angeles, to feather one engine.

As thee four-engine plane completed its landing and was rolling along at about 20 miles an hour, it skidded off the runway to the left and sank down in a foot of mud.

The passengers remained on board while an airlines tug spent an hour pulling the plane back on the runway.

Wayne Board Vote Expected

Senate Likely to Pass Bill Making Post an Appointed One

LANSING (AP)—A bill to head off election April 6 of a Wayne State University board and make it appointive instead is ready for a passage vote in the Senate, probably Monday night.

Senate approval seemed assured, but there was doubt about its fate in the House—or assuming passage there, at the governor's desk.

Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) said In Senate debate yesterday, Sen. the elective basis had worked well for Michigan State University and University of Michigan control boards.

He said the MSU, U. of M. boards and the State Board of Agriculture all were appointive for long periods.

The bill would provide for a seven-member unit, instead of the six under existing law, to be appointed by the governor for staggered seven year terms and with Senate consent.

Governor of Alaska Improves

★ ★ ★

Egan, 44, remained on the critical list, however, and doctors said it still would be a few days before his full recovery is assured.

The Democratic governor underwent emergency surgery Tuesday for a paralysis of the abdomen and a bowel blockage, an aftermath of a gall bladder operation in Juneau, Alaska, Jan. 6.

Dr. Joel W. Baker, who directed the surgical team which performed the operation at Virginia Mason Hospital, had given Egan less than a 50-50 chance to survive. But he said Thursday the governor's condition was "definitely encouraging."

On an average work day the output of coal in the United States is equivalent to about 20 pounds for every man, woman and child in the nation.

Predicts Smooth Sailing in Cuba

Hemingway for Castro

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Ernest Hemingway, Nobel Prize winner whose works on violence and quiet seas have won him international acclaim, Thursday night predicted smooth sailing for the Castro regime in Cuba after a period of violent readjustment.

★ ★ ★

Hemingway made his prediction after revealing that youths he had known had been murdered by the followers of Fulgencio Batista.

In a telephoned interview from his cabin near Ketcham, Idaho, where he is working on another novel, Hemingway told Radio Station KING he has high hopes for Fidel Castro's government as long as outsiders do not interfere.

Long a resident of Cuba, Hemingway condemned the Batista group as torturers and murderers.

Referring to boys in his own village, he said: "Ther were 12 who were tortured and killed by the police and army forces, and the people there know who the torturers were and who the killers were."

Hemingway said he feels the trials of Batista supporters would be conducted in a just manner.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think people outside the country have any business to criticize the justice of thee trials since the trials are public and witnesses are heard and an impartial decision is given," he said.

'U.S. Needs Liberty and Justice Party'

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. President George Romney says what this country needs is a political party "more dedicated to the principles of human liberty and justice than to political victory at any cost."

In a speech here last night, the industrialist said economic motives "have corrupted both where they are largely duplicates of each other."

"Both parties," he said, "have reached the point where their primary effort is to secure immediate victory by meeting the economic demands of as many groups as possible."

Romney spoke at graduation exercises for 57 executives who have completed management courses at Wayne State University's Materials Management Center.

Sales Resistance Low

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (UPI)—Detectives quoted Virgil Kilpatrick, charged with stealing three 25-cent bottles of shaving lotion, as explaining: "It was suhc a good bargain, I ouldn't pass it up."

Avon Youngster Needs Help to Remain Alive

AVON TOWNSHIP — An apparently healthy boy for the first five years of his life, Johnny Castor then grew steadily paler day after day until his parents decided a trip to the doctor was in order. That was the day after Christmas.

★ ★ ★

The doctor had Johnny put in the hospital in Pontiac. The dread verdict was leukemia — cancer of the blood.

On Monday night the Johnny Castor Leukemia Fund will stage a porchlight campaign to raise funds for the stricken lad.

The fund has been established by the Elmwood School Girl Scouts who will conduct the area canvass under the supervision of adult leaders.

Money collected will go toward defraying medical expenses which are threatening to overcome Johnny's family.

The hapless youngster was returned from the hospital to his home at 2965 Hartline Rd. earlier this week but must go back every other day for treatment.

The Rochester Red Cross is setting up a blood bank for Johnny Castor on Feb. 3. Donations will be accepted from 2 to 4:45 p.m. and from 5:45 to 8 p.m. in the basement of St. Andrew Catholic Church at the corner of Walnut and Third streets in Rochester.

Oxford Grows 70 Pct. in Year

450 Acres Acquired in '58; Dual Program Set Up for Youths

OXFORD — During the past year the area of the village of Oxford was increased 70 per cent through the acquisition of some 450 acres, according to the annual report prepared by Ralph Precious, village manager.

A two-fold youth program also was instituted for use of the community by the village police department. One objective is to aid juveniles who have committed minor offenses.

The other is a youth program for boys between 12 and 15 years of age, being directed by officer Chauncey Brooks without compensation. At present some 20 boys have enrolled in this program.

An anual savings to the village of $1,200 was provided by leasing a car for police use. The village pays only for insurance and gasoline and the lessor (a different car dealer each year) furnishes all maintenance and exchanges cars every six months.

The fire department answered a total of 61 calls, nine in the village and 34 in the township. The remaining calls were made to other villages and townships under a mutual aid agreement.

★ ★ ★

Unfair Assessment Denied

Drain Plan Mostly for Southfield

Southfield residents are paying for a bigger percentage of the proposed $4,760,000 Eight Mile Road Storm Drain because more than 2,000 acres of the city will be served by the sewer.

However, Robert J. Evans, deputy drain commissioner for Oakland County, denied that residents of Southfield are being assessed any more per acre than are Oak Park residents living in the other community to be served.

"An acre of property in Southfield zoned as residential pays the same as an acre of property in Oak Park zoned residential," declared Evans. The assessment rate is $2.006 per acre.

Besides, he added that assessments were set "on the basis of benefits derived by reason of the construction."

★ ★ ★

Evans outlined financing of the drain, already approved by the Board of Supervisors, as a protest group of Southfield citizens prepared to hold a mass meeting tomorrow night.

Another meeting is planned for Tuesday in Lansing when protestors hope to upset a bonding proposition to finance the drain. They seek a meeting with the Municipal Finance Commission.

Evans clarified another point yesterday when he pointed out that the assessment rate for the average home-owner, in Southfield and Oak Park, would be about $460. This can be paid, with interest, over a 30-year period instead of $460 per year for the same length of time as some accounts have led residents to believe, he said.

Southfield residents will pay for more than 78 per cent of the project while Oak Park residents will carry just over 3 per cent.

This, Evans explains, is because only 80 acres of the 2,122-acre drainage district to be served are within Oak Park, while the remaining acreage is located in Southfield.

In addition, residential Southfield property will carry a greater burden of the costs than commercial (51 per cent against 26) because there is more residential lots involved, he added.

Just the reverse is true in Oak Park, the county official said.

Costs of the drain, running from near Greenfield road to the Rouge River, will be split five ways. Besides residents of the two cities, Oak Park and Southfield cities-at-large are being assessed, in addition to the State of Michigan and Oakland County.

Broken down these shares add up to: State, $209,440; county, $188,324; City of Southfield, $439,409; City of Oak Park, $7,905; Southfield residents and other property, $3,739,327; and Oak Park residents and other property, $175,592.

Jail Romeo Youth on Theft Charge

ROMEO — A 20-year-old Romeo youth is in Macomb County jail today charged with stealing checks and currency from a local gas station, Romeo Police Chief Edgar Welsch reported today.

John S. (Scoot) Fowler of 225 Dorsey St. was arrested last night and has confessed looting the cash register in McLaren's Standard Service Station Dec. 4, Welsch said. The station is located at 200 N. Main St.

Mount Clemens police also plan to question Fowler about a forged check he allegedly passed after the theft.

Post Office at Troy to Deliver to Homes

TROY — For the first time in its history the U.S. Post Office here will make direct home delivery of mail.

Routes will be operated beginning tomorrow, absorbing areas formerly served by post offices in Royal Oak, Rochester, Warren and part of that served by the irmingham post office.

Troy Postmaster Sherwood Shaver said nothing will be done at present on the relocation of mail boxes. About 300 patrons who have been getting their mail at the Troy Post Office are now eligible for home delivery, he said.

House Being Built Catches Fire

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A house under construction on Charlesine road, near Orion road, caught fire yesterday, according to Rohester Fire Chief George Ross.

He said salamanders being used to heat the house while workmen were plastering the walls set fire to the siding, causing about $300 damage. No one was hurt.

State Liquor Sales Off 9 Per Cent in 1958

LANSING (UPI)—Final 1958 statistics show a decrease in Michigan liquor sales of $16,021,652 or nine per cent from 1957, the State Liquor Control Commission said today.

George J. Burke, commission business manager, said sales were $153,719,639 last year compared with $169,741,291 in 1957.

Troy City Manager Resigns From Post

TROY — At a special meeting last night Troy city commissioners accepted the resignation of City Manager C. R. Lukens to become effective in about five weeks.

Lukens, who came to Troy in March 1957 from Fairburn, Ohio, will return to that state as city manager at Chillicothe.

Baldwin Keeps School Position

Renamed to Top Post in Rochester With Pay Hiked to $16,000

ROCHESTER — The board of education has renewed the contract of Dr. Donald C. Baldwin, superintendent of schools, for another three years with an increase in salary from $15,000 to $16,000 per year, it was announced today.

The board also has set the date for dedication of Meadow Brook Elementary School. The event will take place from 3 to 6 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22.

Yesterday was moving day for the school district's business office personnel. They transferred their operations from the board of education offices on Walton boulevard to Stoney Creek Elementary School on the corner of Tienken and Washington roads.

Centennial Farm Assn. to Meet at MSU Feb. 5

LANSING (AP)—The first official meeting of the Michigan Centennial Farm Assn. will be held Feb. 5 at Michigan State University.

The group represents the nearly 1,000 Michigan farms which have been in the same family for 100 years or more.

2-Piano Concert at Oxford High

Webb and Hornibrook in Town Hall Series Tuesday Night

OXFORD—A two-piano concert, featuring Charles Webb and Wallace Hornibrook, will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the auditorium of the new Oxford Area High School. The event is sponsored by the Oxford Service Club Town Hall series.

The two pianists first played together as accompanists for the Fred Waring Workshops in 1952. They have served as accompanists and instructors on the Waring staff since that time.

A native of Dallas, Texas, Webb has been cited as one of the leading musicians in the southwest. A graduate of Southern Methodist University, he also served as assistant to the dean of music at the university in addition to training the university choir.

While an officer in the U.S. Air Force, Webb organized and trained a glee club which toured the country giving concerts under the auspices of the Air Force.

Hornibrook is a native of Goldendale, Wash., and has been associated with the Waring organization since 1950 as accompanist and instructor for the music workshops and pianist and accompanist for the Waring Pennsylvanians on television, records and the concert stages from 1951 to 1954.

★ ★ ★

The team appeared in solo performance in July 1957, on a Waring show from Shawnee-on-Delaware. Early in 1958 the pair started out on a self booked tour in a number of eastern and mid-western states.

★ ★ ★

The Town Hall series was created by the four Oxford service clubs to offer events of a cultural nature to the community. Members of the participating organizations, the Rotary, Lions, Junior Women's and Music Clubs have tickets for the forthcoming concert.

Store Sponsors Essay Contest for Scout Units

ROCHESTER — A local department store is sponsoring an essay contest for members of Boy Scout groups in the area to promote interest in the observance of the 49th birthday of the scout movement.

Mitzfeld's Department Store is offering prizes for the best essays on the subject "What Scouting Means to Me." The contest is open to registered members of Explorer, Boy Scout and Cub Scout groups in the Manito District of the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council.

The communities where Boy Scouts are eligible to compete include Rochester, Brooklands, Washington, Utica, Romeo, Goodison, Lake Orion and Oxford.

Dale Daley, Manito District Boy Scout executive, will have charge of judging the essays which must be turned into Metzelfeld's Boy Scout Department no later than Feb. 4.

Prizes will be awarded to winners in all three scout classifications — Explorers, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts. And any winner may trade his prize for another piece of scout equipment of equal value if he so desires.

Sterling Chrysler Plant Gets More Missile Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chrysler Corp. yesterday was awarded contracts totaling more than five million dollars for work on the Army's Redstone Missile program.

Rep. James G. O'Hara (D-Mich) said he was informed the Detroit Ordnance District awarded two contracts, amounting to $4,761,561 and $612,001, for work to be done at Chrysler's Sterling Township plant in Macomb County.

Square Dancers to Meet

FOUR TOWNS — The Intermediate Square Dance Group will meet tonight at 8:30 in the Four Towns Methodist Church. Bob Longe will be the caller and hosts for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Livings.

To Discuss College Grants

LAKE ORION — High school student counselors Jean Wertenberger and Roger Tyrrell will speak on "College Grants and Aids — How Much Are Our Graduates Benefiting?" at the Parent Teacher Student Assn. meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Lake Orion Community High School.

"I cannot urge too strongly that all parents interested in their childrens' education be present at this meeting," High School Principal James Hoag said today. "Many parents are unaware of how many scholarships are available."

He added that many parents do not realize that aside from scholarships there are numerous other aids, such as special loans and work study programs, available to enthusiastic students who couldn't otherwise afford a college education. These plans also will be discussed during the meeting, Hoag said.

★ ★ ★

A film titled "Overcoming Economic Barriers to Higher Education" will be shown, and cakes and coffee will be served after the discussion.

Tomorrow Deadline to File for Council

OXFORD—The deadline for filing nominating petitions for the three positions open on the village council is noon tomorrow, Village Manager Ralph Precious, announced today.

Two of the terms are for two years and the other for one year.

Five men, including two of the three incumbents, already have filed nominating petitions, Precious said. The incumbents are Ted Pearson Jr., village president, and Edmund Unger, trustee.

If no more than two applicants file for each position, there will be no primary election, Precious said, and office holders will be determined in the general spring election March 9.

Of all the boy babies born in the U.S. today, about 64 out of 100 will live to be 65 years old, according to mortality tables based on life expectancy rates.

Wants New Ideas on German Issue

Dulles Asks Allies to Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has urged U.S. allies, particularly West Germany, to produce some basic new ideas on German reunification for possible proposal to the Soviet Union.

Reporting this today, informants said that Dulles and his advisers are particularly interested in the possibility that a plan might be devised for a German confederation. They are looking for some plan which would offer a constructive, fresh approach to reuniting Germany and on which the Soviet government might be willing to negotiate.

In the U.S. view any confederation plan would have to provide at least for a central government with control over such matters as foreign policy. Moscow proposed confederation in a Jan. 10 note but indicated it would be little more than a facade for continuing West Germany and Communist East Germany as completely independent states.

The German problem is being attacked on three fronts in the biggest review since 1955 of where the West stands on this whole crucial matter:

1. The most immediate problem is to prepare a reply to the Soviet Jan. 10 note, which calls for a 28-nation peace conference in March to write a German peace treaty. A peace treaty draft, which the Western governments branded as unacceptable, was offered at the same time. There is a possibility that the West may suggest a different set of peace treaty principles. But the probability is that the Western powers will call for a Big Four meeting of foreign ministers or deputy foreign ministers by early May to discuss the whole German problem.

2. Related to the problem of a reply is the more fundamental question of how the Western powers can seize the initiative with constructive proposals if they get into formal talks with the Soviet government on German issues. The United States, Britain, France and the German Federal Republic are forming a working group of State Department and embassy officials which will begin active work on the possibilities early next month.

★ ★ ★

3. Behind the policy review is the danger of a new Berlin crisis developing in May. This will result if Premier Nikita Khrushchev goes through with his plan to turn over to East Germany Soviet occupation authority in East Berlin and over the communications lines between West Germany and West Berlin.

If the lines are interrupted, the question will arise immediately how the Western powers intend to supply their troops and, if necessary, feed the 2,200,000 people living in West Berlin.

High officials said Friday that there has been no agreement yet among the allies on this critical problem. They are still considering an airlift, the device that broke the 1948-49 blockade. They are still considering the use of force if necessary to try to keep highways and rail lines open.

Diplomats report that the British government strongly favors the airlift plan but frowns upon use of force, while the United States and France feel that if the situation develops badly, force may be their only alternative to preserve their Berlin rights.

American officials are hopeful, however, that the combination of solid Allied firmness in Berlin and willingness to negotiate on the whole German question will persuade the Russians to handle the prospective crisis in such a way as to prevent any need for even a limited military showdown.

Thieves Work Together

DETROIT (AP)— Bar operator Mahism Agemy came back from a fruitless chase of a man who stole his coat Thursday and found a second thief had rifled the cash drawer of $115.

Williams Slates Rights Confab

18 Northern States Will Participate in Detroit Conference

LANSING (AP) — Six northern governors have promised to attend personally and a dozen more will send representatives to Gov. Williams Civil Rights Conference in Detroit later this month.

"This should not be construed as a conference to challenge the south," said Charles S. Brown, aide to the Governor, who has been arranging the confab details.

"The governors are going to talk about new areas of legislation involving segregation both on the state and national level," Brown said.

The civil rights group will meet Jan. 30-31 at the Detroit McGregor Center.

In addition to Williams, the governors of New Jersey, Massachusetts, Illinois, Minnesota and Indiana will personally attend.

Governors sending representatives will include the states of Colorado, Connecticut, Kentucky, Missouri, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Washington, Wisconsin, Ohio and Kansas.

The Committee of Governors on Civil Rights was formed by Williams and former Gov. Averill Harriman of New York in 1957.

Williams since has become chairman.

Dear Abby . . .

Give Compliment–Not Nose-y Kind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: An acquaintance of mine recently had a nose job and I am wondering if it would be proper for me to say anything about the operation or should I let it go unnoticed?" LINDA

ABBY

DEAR LINDA: People resort to plastic surgery because they hope it will make a noticeable improvement in their appearance. Avoid using expressions such as "nose job" or "bob job"—but do comment on how "lovely" she (or he) looks.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in High School and I am not bragging when I say I have a very good reputation. I date on Friday and Saturday nights and have to be in by 12:30 sharp, and I always am. Last Friday I had a date with a boy who carried a pint of whisky in his glove compartment. He started drinking and driving recklessly so I got out of the car and walked home.

"I had to walk four miles and didn't get home until 3:00 A.M. My parents were furious and took away my dating privileges for three months. I think I used good judgment and shouldn't have been punished for it. What is your opinion?"

PUNISHED UNJUSTLY

DEAR PUNISHED: Your decision to refuse to ride with a drunken driver was excellent, but no girl should walk four miles alone at three a.m. You'd have been wiser to have called your father, a taxi, or even the Police Department for a ride home.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My parents are trying hard to save their marriage. They went to our minister and he sent them to a Marriage Counselor. The Marriage Counselor said they both needed a psychiatrist. They both couldn't afford to go to a psychiatrist, so my mother is going. The trouble is, I am sure the wrong one is going. My father needs it much worse than my mother. What can be done about this problem? THEIR SON

DEAR SON: The psychiatrist will not waste his time or your mother's money. If she doesn't need treatment, he'll discharge her. In the meantime he'll give her some helpful advice on how to live with your father.

"DEAR ABBY: My wife died four years ago and none of my four married children offered me a home with them. I own a nicely furnished house but it was lonesome coming home to an empty house every night and eating in restaurants.

"A respectable widow lady who cleans my house and does my laundry agreed to move into an upstairs bedroom (mine is downstairs) and I was glad to have her. I am 64 and she is 62. My children raised such a fuss you'd think we were doing something immoral (which I give you my word we are not.) Should I ask this lady to move out or should I tell my children to leave me alone?"

PAPPA

DEAR PAPPA: There is nothing wrong with having a housekeeper live in your home. Tell your children to mind their morals and you'll mind yours.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO CHAIRMAN OF THE BORED: How about offering your services to a Volunteer Organization? If you aren't giving, you aren't living.

Age Will Prevent Criticism

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a widow 70 years old and live alone. My late husband's brother also in his 70s plans to spend the winter here in the South to get away from the cold East Coast. Would it be proper for me to have him as a guest in my house or should he go to a hotel?"

Answer: I do not think that anyone could criticize you at your ages if you have your brother-in-law as a house guest.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would greatly appreciate your opinion on the following matter: My brother thinks it is perfectly correct for a person to help himself to a remaining portion of food on a serving dish without inquiring first whether anyone else at table would care for any.

"He feels that if anyone else wanted it, he (or she) would take it and therefore it is not incorrect for him to help himself to it. I believe that this action is extremely impolite and that one should always ask if anyone else would care for it before emptying the dish."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Who writes the first letter—the boy or the girl? We've been arguing this question and I said that I thought the girl might write first as she is supposed to speak first to a boy she doesn't know well."

Answer: Between old friends there is no rule. The one who goes away is likely to write first because his (or her) surroundings suggest subjects to write about. On the other hand, any especially interesting happening at home produces an even greater impulse to write.

"When a new friendship starts, it is better that the girl wait for the boy's letter; just as she waits for him to ask her to go out with him.

Try Exercise Too

Weight Gain May Make Ankles Fat

By Josephine Lowman
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I would like to make my ankles larger. How can I do this?"

A. The size of the ankles depends to a great degree on bony structure. We cannot change this. A general gain in weight will make you a bit fatter all over. Most women long for a slim ankle. Perhaps you are just dissatisfied with pipestem legs. If so, an increase in the calf of your leg will make the difference.

If you or any of my readers would like to have my leaflet "Why Not Take Steps Toward Lovely Legs?" which gives you exercises for the most usual leg defects, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "I am 12 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 100 pounds. My bust measures 32 inches, waist 25, and hips 32½. Am I over weight?"

A. No you are just about right. You have the usual figure for your age. In a couple of years or sooner you will naturally slim down through the waist and develop more in the bust.

Q. "I am 11 years old and have blackheads and pimples now. I have always had a good complexion. My mother says it is because of the oil glands in my skin. My face is very oily. Please tell me why I am having this trouble and what to do."

A. You are at the age when the oil glands in your skin become very active. This is a part of approaching adolescense. Wash your face with soap and water about four times daily and keep your hands off your face. Do not pick at it.

Q. "I have had three children and am expecting my fourth. Whenever I become pregnant my breasts increase in size and my complexion clears up the way I was before I had children. Why is this and could a gland specialist help me?"

A. The change in your breasts and complexion comes from the change in the hormone setup in your body during pregnancy. I think most women have this experience. Discuss this with your obstetrician.

Q. "My hair was a very dark brown and I wanted a lighter brown color, so I used a product which was supposed to lighten it. Instead it turned my hair an awful red. What can I do to bring back the natural color?"

A. Sometimes a dye will look red after you have had a permanent. You may be able to hide this or tone it down with a vegetable rinse until the hair grows out its natural color. However, I am not an expert about hair coloring and I suggest that you go to a reputable shop and ask about it there.

All Saints to Dedicate New Organ

Public Is Invited to Attend Recital at 5 P. M. Sunday

All Saints Episcopal Church is holding a recital at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon to dedicate the church's new organ.

Phillip Steinhaus will be the organist, with John S. McCreary as guest conductor.

Mr. McCreary is organist and choirmaster of All Soul's Memorial Episcopal Church in Washington, D. C. He received his master of music degree from the University of Michigan.

Mr. Steinhaus has selected members of the Pontiac Symphony, South Oakland Symphony and Grosse Pointe Symphony to play in the orchestra on Sunday.

On the program will be "Concerto 5 in F major by Handel; Variations on "Hail to Thee, Merciful Jesus," by Bach; "The Musical Clocks," by Haydn; "Pastorale," by Roger-Ducasse; and "Concerto for Organ, Strings and Tympani," by Poulenc.

The recital is open to the public.

Cherry Pie Winner Puts Sugar, Butter in Crust

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You all read about the Cherry Pie Contest in Monday's paper. We're sure you are interested in the winner's recipe.

Cordree Heard of Milford has an unusual list of ingredients for her pie crust. Unusual or not, her recipe came out on top.

WINNER'S CHERRY PIE
By Cordree Heard

CRUST:
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup shortening
⅓ cup milk

Sift flour, salt and sugar together into mixing bowl. Cut margarine and shortening into dry flour mixture until it becomes crumbly. Add milk, blending with pastry blender. Shape dough into ball. Cut in half. Roll to fit 9-inch pie pan and line pan with crust. Roll remaining dough and cut into half-inch strips.

Pour filling into pan and arrange strips in lattice fashion on top of pie. Flute edge. Place foil around edges of pie. Bake in hot oven at 425 degrees for 20 minutes. Reduce heat to 300 degrees and bake for another 20 minutes.

FILLING:
4 cups drained frozen cherries
⅔ cup cherry juice
3 tablespoons cornstarch
⅔ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon almond flavoring
¼ teaspoon red food coloring
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt. Add cherry juice and stir until smooth. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add cherries, flavoring and butter. Mix well. Cool while preparing crust.

146 Seniors Leave Pontiac Central

By JOANNE WOOD

The biggest event for at least 146 seniors at Pontiac Central High School this week happened last night.

The January 1959 class received its diplomas from Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, at the 8 p.m. commencement program in the gymnasium.

Jeanne Johnson was awarded the Y-Teen scholarship and Michael Nyberg, the Hi-Y scholarship.

The PCH Pep Club will sponsor its first dance, "The Basketball Bounce," tonight following the game with Saginaw. The record hop will be held in the boys' gymnasium.

Tickets are 50 cents for singles and 75 cents for couples. Disc jockey Chuck Lewis will spin the records.

Committee chairmen for the event were appointed this week. They include Karen Oliver and Phyllis Burke, costumes; Marilyn Tomkins and Judy Kenny, publicity; Lorraine Butler, makeup; Bruce Quayle, stage manager, and Carol Stacy and Warren Norland, properties.

All performances will be given at the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

March 17-19, matinees will begin at 3:15 p.m. March 18, 20 and 21, the curtain for the evening performances will go up at 8 p.m.

ENTERTAIN PARENTS

The Playcrafters and Thespians, the two dramatic groups at Central, held a reception for their parents this week. The program included two one-act plays.

★ ★ ★

"The Penniless Princess," the other presentation, included Lorraine Butler, Sally Bogel and Norman O'Neil.

By DIANE DOLECEK

Two big events—one in sports, the other musical—are scheduled for Thursday at the Lake Orion Community High School.

In the afternoon, the boy's Hi-Y Club will play the Girls' Y-Teen Club in a basketball game to raise funds for the March of Dimes.

Admission to the 2:30 p.m. event will be 10 cents.

The eight boys will be required to wear swimming fins on their feet when they try to out-play the five girls.

BAND RECITAL TOO

In the evening, the Lake Orion Community High School Band will present a solo-ensemble and band recital.

Guest critic will be Frank Buchholtz of Pittsburgh, Pa., who is now the head of the string department at Highland Park High School.

Seventeen solo and ensemble numbers will be included in the 8 p.m. program, plus three by the complete band.

The recital will be dedicated to the school's band boosters club.

Prepare for Talent Shows at Clarkston High Tuesday

By JOAN PAYNE

Clarkston High School students will be practicing this weekend for a talent show the Student Council is sponsoring Tuesday.

Thirteen students in the junior and senior high schools will entertain the student body in two morning assemblies, one at 9:30 and one at 10:30, according to Gay Ann Parks, chairman.

Participants will be Janet Spangler, Sandy Podger, Diane and Kathy Taylor, Sue Truek, Anita Haddrill, Lucy Oakley, Ron Porritt, Danny Althouse, Bailey Terry, Fred Parks, John Marsh and Willie Knox.

Eight Clarkston High School musicians are in the Wayne-Oakland League Band.

They and four alternates were selected Saturday in Clarenceville following tryouts and judging. The band, composed of students from all high schools in the league will present four concerts this year throughout the area.

Doug and David St. Clair, Robert Lawson and Marleen Payne were selected to be alternates.

To Recognize Brains, Brawn With Letters

SUTTONS BAY (UPI)—Starting this spring, school letters will be awarded for brains as well as brawn at Suttons Bay High School, Supt. Harold E. Sweeney has announced.

Athletic letters, as they have been in the past, will be awarded on the basis of the amount of time spent in an organized contest by members of the different school teams.

Academic letters will be awarded to students who maintain high scholastic standings.

"The academic awards are intended as recognition for those who show better than average achievement in the school's main endeavor — education," Sweeny said.

"We felt students deserve equal recognition for scholastic gains with those who show athletic prowess."

4 Get Honorary Degrees

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Four honorary Doctors degrees will be awarded at Central Michigan College exercises Sunday. Receiving the degrees will be Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times; Dr. Benjamin Willis, Chicago school superintendent; Dr. Dale Kennedy, Michigan Education Assn. executive secretary, and Elliott Spratt, a Missouri businessman.

St. Fred's Pupils to Collect Funds in Polio Drive

BY MARY SUE RITTER

St. Frederick High School students are combing the Pontiac area this week and will continue to do so next week in hopes of collecting funds for the Teens Against Polio campaign.

Honor Civil War Expert With U. of M. Citation

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Edward E. Barthell Jr., a Ludington attorney, will be presented a "Citation of Honor" Saturday by the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Barthell, a self-taught expert on the Civil War, will be honored for "unusual distinction in the self-taught field of historical investigation."

He is the author of several publications on the Civil War and is believed to have the largest collecion of Civil War literature in Michigan.

Northern Drama Students to Make Debut Next Week

By BARBARA SHAVER

Another first will be recorded at Pontiac Northern High School Monday. Members of the dramatics department will make their debut.

Under the direction of Edna Williams, the dramatics class will present three one-act serious drama plays beginning at 3:30 p.m. in the Little Theater. Previously, all Northern students interested in dramatics had combined their efforts with the Pontiac Central High School group.

The first play, "So Wonderful in White," will include Sharron Monroe, Janet Sutesman, Mary MacDermaid, Carolyn Robertoy, Lois Hammond, Joan Humphrey, Doris Ellis and Colleen Adams.

★ ★ ★

This story concerns a girl in search of her lost brother. She hears that he is in jail waiting for a death sentence and decides to go to talk to him and find out if he is her lost relative.

★ ★ ★

The seniors sponsored a dance this week to help relieve the pressures of examinations. "The Husky Swirl" was a WPA (Woman Pay All) event.

PLAN OPERETTAS

The operetta, "Cumberland Fair," will be presented in the auditorium March 5-7, according to Melvin Larimer, director.

The cast for this production, which will be presented the same day as another one, "Lowland Sea," was selected recently.

It includes Ron Hutchinson, Bill Dean, Dick Eley, Pauline Noell, Nicky Trietsch, Bob Franks and Tom Eley. Both of the operettas were written by Alex Wilder.

At Waterford High

Plan Four Productions During Second Semester

By JEAN REXFORD

The advanced speech classes will present "South Sea Island Showboat" next Thursday and Friday.

The classes are also preparing to present "Wizard of Oz" as the Children's Theatre play this year. Plans are to give this one in late February or early March.

The faculty has selected "Bell, Book, and Candle" for its May 1 and 2 production.

Finally, the Dramatics Club has slated "Teahouse of the August Moon" for April 10 and 11.

Sharlene Peters was chairman.

Winner of the 1959 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow contest at WTHS was Miriam Forbes, a senior. She has now entered the state contest.

Constituents Ask for Limits on State Services

MIDLAND (AP)—State Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) reports from a survey that voters of his district indicate a preference for a cut in state services rather than new taxes.

Or, if not a cut, at least a halt to expansion of state services.

Sen. Francis is conducting a mail poll of about 1,500 constituents in Bay, Midland and Isabella counties. He has received about 150 replies.

★ ★ ★

In his letter to the voters Francis included an outline of Michigan's financial problem.

★ ★ ★

Most of those replying said "no" to a question whether they wished state expenditures to continue expanding at their present rate.

Name Deadline to Order Viking

Sale of Walled Lake Yearbook Will End Thursday Afternoon

By SALLY COLLINS

Thursday is the last day students and area residents will be able to order the 1959 Viking, the Walled Lake High School yearbook, according to Virginia Slinker, business editor of the staff.

This year, the book will have an embossed cover, more pages, pictures of students, teachers, the school, social activities, clubs and sports and autograph pages.

Twenty WLHS students have registered for the annual United Nations contest sponsored by the American Association of the United Nations.

2 TO NATIONALS

The contest consists of an examination with 50 short answers and two essay questions on the UN. It will be held March 5. The school library has a kit containing study-material.

★ ★ ★

The two top entries will be forwarded to the national contest headquarters.

U. of M. Atom Scientist Leaves for Greece

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Prof. Henry J. Gomberg, assistant director of the University of Michigan's Phoenix Atomic Research Program, leaves for Greece Saturday to help that country and Turkey in developing peacetime uses of atomic energy.

Charles S. Simons, associate professor of radiation physics, will join Gomberg later at Ankara, Turkey.

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

FIVE ACES: "Stagger Lee" (Lloyd Price) moves several notches up the musical ladder to take first place among the top five sellers this week. Dropped to second is "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" (The Platters).

In third place is "16 Candles" (The Crests) with fourth place going to "Donna" (Richie Valens). Rounding out the top five is "My Happiness" (Connie Francis).

Religious music in an intriguing form is found on "And God Said" (Epic LN-3534), an LP of stories from the Bible in word and song. Dana Andrews, noted stage and screen star, makes his recording debut narrating this album.

Johnny Cash fans will find the grooves full of cash in a recent Columbia release, "The Fabulous Johnny Cash" (CL-1253). For the real young generation, Victor Borge has teamed up with Andre Popp and his orchestra to cut "The Adventures of Piccolo, Saxie and Company" (CL-1233), a new children's guide to the orchestra.

Victor has a good LP on Victor "Torch Time" (LPM-1940) with Henri Rene and his orchestra. I think Gogi Grant is one of today's most outstanding pop singers, having plenty of power in her voice and a variety of methods in her presentation which breaks the monotony of so many present day singers.

One of the season's most popular TV shows, Peter Gunn, is making the big time for several reasons, the biggest no doubt being its musical background.

This is really a major step for jazz in television. Many fans such as I watch the show for the music alone. Victor has come up with an LP, "Peter Gunn" (LPM-1956) composed and conducted by the brilliant young man responsible for the series, Henry Mancini.

Mancini writes a new and original score for each show, using prominent musicians in the jazz field. This LP is a fine addition to any record shelf and for my loot, when they start handing out the emmys for musical scores on TV, Mancini should walk away with an easy win.

Sal Mineo Gives Press His 'Going Steady' Ideas

Going steady in high school has its advantages as well as disadvantages, according to 20-year-old film star Sal Mineo, but he thinks he would "make a horrible steady."

At least, that's what he told The Pontiac Press when we called him this week at his home in Mamaroneck, N. Y., about 40 miles from Manhattan. We wanted to find out what he's been doing since his visit to Pontiac in December of 1956.

It was then that he was made honorary mayor of the city during his efforts to raise money for the Pontiac General Hospital building fund. He also premiered one of his movies here.

Beginning Jan. 30, Sal's latest movie, "Tonka," will begin a one-week run at the Oakland Theater.

He said this, his 11th picture, is "the true story of an Indian boy, portrayed by me, who catches a wild colt. I train him and eventually we meet on the battlefield on opposite sides during General Custer's Battle of the Little Big Horn."

First thing one would think of after hearing Sal was playing the part of an Indian would be his curly black hair. "Did you have it cut?" we asked him.

"We had a long discussion about that at Disney studios and we finally compromised." Sal explained. "I wear a wig with pigtails."

HE KEEPS MOVING

Getting back to this going steady topic, although many girls would like to try it, Sal thinks he would be a "horrible steady." He said, "I'm never in one place long enough and this would be unfair to her."

SAL MINEO

Sal has never gone steady, mainly because his job has kept him moving around the country continuously. But, he's not certain he would have done so anyway under normal circumstances.

"When kids go steady, they don't get a chance to go out with enough others. Freedom is something we are lucky to have in our young age and we shouldn't forget that.

"The advantages to teens going steady are the security of having a 'regular' date and knowing you have someone to confide in and be a companion to, which are both essentials in life," Sal said.

What about Sal's future plans? Show business, of course! His ultimate goal is to become a writer of novels or stories for the screen.

To prepare for this, Sal entered Adelphi College in Long Island in September. But, "I was only there three days when I was called back to the coast to work," he complained.

"So, I now have a professor who tutors me in English and writing every morning and travels with me wherever I go."

Life Was an Adventure

Key to DeMille's Success

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The reason for Cecil B. De Mille's success as a maker of stirring film dramas?

Perhaps because life itself was an adventure for him.

Jesse Lasky recalled when they were producing vaudeville sketches in New York. De Mille told him at lunch one day that he was getting restless and wanted to go to Mexico to get into the revolution and perhaps write about it.

Lasky didn't want to lose his best friend. He seized upon the suggestion of his brother-in-law, Samuel Goldwyn. Said Lasky: "If you want adventure, I've got an even better idea—let's make some movies!"

So De Mille set out for the West with his hardy band of movie pioneers to make 'The Squaw Man.' This adventure was not merely in trailblazing a new form of entertainment. The trio were up against tough opponents.

"We were just little independents bucking the trusts," De Mille recalled recently. "We had $20,000 tied up, and that was our all. It occurred to me that if we had a fire, we might lose all the film I was shooting so I took to shooting every scene twice. I'd sneak home one negative and put it in the attic.

There was no fire, but the "trust" found a lot of ways to sabotage the little company, De-Mille said, and when the picture was done, less than half the film was usable.

★ ★ ★

"But they didn't know about the second takes. I spirited them out of the house, cut the picture on a train headed East, dropped off at Philadelphia, and had prints made."

"The Squaw Man" cost $15,500, grossed $255,000, and De Mille became a top director. But the outbreak of World War I found him restless again.

"I wanted to get into the war, but I was told I was too old," he said. "I went to an air base in the Midwest, and they told me they would take fliers of any age. So I learned to fly."

For $5,000 he bought a Jenny from the widow of a flier who had been killed in it in Canada. But by the time he had learned to fly, the war was over.

He formed the Mercury Aviation Co. in 1919 with 12 planes, including two German Junkers flown to California by Eddie Rickenbacker. Eventually he had to chose between aviation and movies and settled on the latter.

An actor balked at having Jean Arthur flick a gun from his hand with a bull whip in "The Plainsman." De Mille took a severe lashing on his own arm until the actress improved her aim enough for the actor to risk it.

In his 70s he went to Egypt to film his greatest crowd scenes—25,000 followers of Moses fleeing the Pharaoh in "The Ten Commandments." Despite a heart attack he insisted on finishing the picture which was to be his monument.

Space Planning Unit Set Up by Chrysler

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. said today it has set up a special group concerned withh the concept and planning of space system projects and new weapons.

Irving J. Minett, head of Chrysler's defense group, said the new unit will concentrate on incorporating new technical developments into current engineering and production programs.

Almost a Parade En Route to Hospital

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Mrs. Richard Barchick, 26, had lots of company on her way to St. Vincent's Hospital where she gave birth to a son. When the arrival seemed imminent, she phoned her husband at work and called in four friends.

Her husband phoned the fire department which dispatched a five-man rescue squad.

The firemen, in turn, called in a two-man police ambulance detail. The total of 12 persons, in various vehicles, accompanied Mrs. Barchick to the hospital.

Sylvania Gives Annual Awards

'Little Moon of Alban' With Julie Harris Wins Top Honors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Little Moon of Alban," an original teleplay about a girl caught up in the Irish revolution, walked off with top honors in four categories last night in the 1958 Sylvania television awards.

The production, which appeared on the NBC "Hallmark Hall of Fame," was cited as the year's outstanding telecast and dramatic program. In addition, its author, James Costigan, was honored for writing the outstanding original TV play, and the play's star, Julie Harris, was cited the outstanding actress of the year.

Other awards went to Neville Brand, actor's performance in starring role in "All the King's Men" on NBC's Kraft Theater; Maureen Stapleton, outstanding performance by an actress in a supporting role in the same play; Oscar Homolka, outstanding performance by an actor in a supporting role for his part in "The Plot to Kill Stalin," a CBS Playhouse 90 production.

Sylvania statuettes were presented to the winners by Don G. Mitchell, chairman of the board of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., at a dinner attended by 400 persons.

The judging panel consisted of 31 television critics, who balloted quarterly, and a committee of six judges and six critics who made the final selections at a three-day meeting in New York this month.

Also cited were "The Face of Red China," a CBS presentation, outstanding documentary program; CBS' "The Twentieth Century," outstanding documentary series; NBC's "Continental Classroom," outstanding public service series; NBC's "Frontiers of Faith," "Catholic Hour" and "Eternal Light," outstanding religious series.

Special awards went to the Gillette Co. for its sports presentations, and to CBS for its coverage of the coronation of Pope John XXIII.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Chrysler Corp. filed similar suits of replevin yesterday against two of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.'s strike-closed plants.

Separate suits were filed in Pittsburgh and Kittanning, Pa., for recovery of Chrysler's windshield-making apparatus at Pittsburgh Plate's Creighton and Ford City, Pa., plants.

Chrysler posted bond of $97,550 in each of the suits. The company says the sum represents almost double the value of the tools.

Chrysler was forced to close its Detroit Plymouth assembly plant and several other operations late last week for lack of glass for its 1959 models.

Hollywood Headlines

Kerouac's 'Subterraneans' Will Be Filmed by MGM

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Seated between Sol Siegel and Arthur Freed at the Screen Producers' Guild milestone dinner honoring Samuel Goldwyn, I couldn't help but get news.

Sol told me that, in May, Arthur will start "Subterraneans," a story of young Bohemians by Jack Kerouac, and calling for a cast of young people.

"We signed George Peppard, who made such a hit on Broadway in 'Pleasure of His Company,'" said Sol.

Arthur told me that he will make "Subterraneans" right after "Bells Are Ringing." Judy Holliday will be in Los Angeles next month to get ready for the picture at MGM, and at the same time she will open her play in Los Angeles.

Put it down to the influence of Dick Powell that Robert Taylor is headed into the TV business. Bob bought a ranch near Dick's Mandeville Canyon estate, and the two actors have been talking over the fence.

Now Bob has joined Dick, David Niven and Charles Boyer's four-star with his Robert Taylor Productions in a new series created by Jules Levy, Arthur Gardner and Arnold Lavin (they produce "The Rifleman").

First Bob has two pictures to complete. He'll go to London for "Adamson in Africa" and then he'll film "The House of Seven Flies" for MGM which will also have English as well as Holland locales. He returns Aug. 1 to start his TV series.

In the death of Cecil Blount De Mille, an era comes to an end. An era of flagrant make-believe, of gossamer dreams, big spectacles, the mysteries of religion unfolding under the studio Kleig lights. De Mille never stooped to "reality," the god of today's creators like Tennessee Williams, Faulkner and Ernest Hemingway.

He spun dreams in the rarified air of imagination. We shall not again see the likes of this man, "C. B.", as he was known to the far corners of the earth.

I got it straight from Bill Perlberg at the producers dinner as to why Keely Smith and Louis Prima are out of Bill's "Rat Race" with Debbie Reynolds.

"When I signed Keely and Louis," Bill told me, "they weren't the hot properties they became after their sensational engagement at Moulin Rouge. After that, it wasn't fair to ask them to play the small roles assigned them in 'Rat Race.'"

All Volkswagens?

BERLIN — Germany has 2,300,000 cars and is expected to have twice that many in operation in 1965, when one German in every 10 will have an automobile. Production through August totaled 760,000 cars, 25 per cent ahead of last year. Exports were running 18 per cent ahead. German car makers now account for one tenth of the world's output and one fourth of that outside the United States.

Clearing Costs Differ

ATLANTA—The cost of clearing land varies greatly. In some parts of the South, where the land cover is not heavy, clearing may cost as little as $20 to $30 an acre. In the Pacific Northwest, where the cover is heavy, it may cost as much as $200 an acre to clear the land.

Labor Only Cloud in Sunny Business Sky

By SAM DAWSON
A PBusiness News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the darkest clouds on the horizon of a generally sunny business sky today is the threat of major labor trouble.

Basic industries have wage contracts now in their final months. And both management and labor are talking even tougher than usual this time.

Management says it can't go on with big pay hikes year after year. It now cites President Eisenhower's condemnation of boosts in excess of productivity gains as a prime cause of price inflation.

Labor says that the business recovery and the quick snap back of corporate profits has put management in an excellent position to share more of sales income with the workers.

Just the threat of major strikes can upset the economy in two ways:

1. It leads companies to overorder supplies ahead of the prospective strike, running up prices and causing shortages, and then to stop ordering all together while these stocks are worked off.

2. It leads the more cautious workers to put off buying on time such big ticket items such as cars and appliances. This spreads from those involved in the dispute to others who might be laid off for lack of materials in their own factories.

The country already has been harassed by bitter labor disputes on several airlines. It has just escaped a strike in the refineries of several oil companies. Some 100,000 oilworkers are involved in labor contracts expiring in June.

Some aircraft workers will seek new contracts in May and others in September.

Cloak, suit, and skirt manufacturers have a May deadline for their negotiations with 50,000 garment makers.

But it is in June and July that the economy will face its most critical labor-management talks.

Contracts with 300,000 steel workers expire in June. In that month and the next 62,000 nonferrous wokers will be involved in negotiations.

Fear of a steel strike is widespread now. Each increase in steel wages has been followed by boosts in prices, affecting a large number of industries making consumer goods.

Both steel management and steel workers are reported ready to take tough stands and to be ready for hard battling at the conference table at least and to be preparing for a strike if there is no meeting of the minds.

The major meat packers and their 100,000 workers must hammer out a new contract in August.

A million railroad workers will see their present contracts expire in October.

Some unions, particularly some aircraft workers, will be getting automatic pay increases before their present contracts come up for renegotiation.

Other unions not involved this year in contract renewals will be getting pay raises automatically. These include auto workers, electrical workers, machinists and coal miners.

Altogether it's going to be a tense year in the labor relations field. And it's going to be pretty hard for President Eisenhower to get his wish that labor and management use more restraint in the matter of wages and prices.

For every 10,000 live babies born to American women in the 20-to-24-year-old group today, only 3.2 maternal deaths occur, making these the safest years for childbearing.

Top Mediator Says Rough Seas Ahead

Predicts Stormy Year for Labor

WASHINGTON (AP)—A stormy year in labor relations is forecast for 1959 by the country's top labor trouble shooter, Joseph F. Finnegan.

Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, gave out that appraisal even before the AFL-CIO announced a renewed drive to boost worker wages this year.

The big labor union federation, claiming 14 million members, said it emphatically disagrees with President Eisenhower's wage holddown plea and other economic views.

It contended that overly high prices are responsible for inflation and that the influence of wages on prices has been infinitesimal. New wage boosts, the AFL-CIO said, will help buoy the economy through increased purchasing power of the free world.

A statement issued Thursday by the AFL-CIO's Economic Policy Committee, headed by auto union leader Walter Reuther, said Eisenhower's recent budget and economic messages to Congress practically ignore the country's four million unemployed and below-capacity industrial production.

"At the very time when the American economy should be devoting its great material assets to facing the economic challenge of the Soviet Union," Reuther's group said, "the President has failed to set economic goals for the United States as required by the Employment Act of 1946."

It said 20 per cent of U.S. productive capacity is idle, living standards for millions of Americans remain intolerably low, and Soviet production advances are challenging the productive power of the fre world.

Yet, it added, in America "stagnation apparently does not unduly disturb the administration."

Finnegan sized up 1959 as a stormy one in labor relations in a statement saying he is holding a series of meetings around the country to prepare his 200-man staff of mediators for possible trouble ahead.

★ ★ ★

"We will emphasize the need for constant alertness to situations where mediation may be helpful in preventing costly strikes," Finnegan said.

War of Grapes Now in Court

Can Spain Produce and Export to Britain Drink Called Champagne?

LONDON (NEA)—If it had happened 400 years ago, France would now be at war with England and Spain, and the whole episode would be known as the War of the Grapes.

But this being the Age of Litigation, the three-nation hassle over the right of Spain to produce and export to England a beverage labeled champagne has wound up in the law courts.

It all started a few weeks ago when a shipment of 18,000 bottles of Spanish champagne was turned back as "undesirable" by pistol-packing French frontier police.

The French, of course, maintain that Spanish champagne is an imposter, falsely named, and that the only true champagne comes from the Champagne district of France.

The undaunted Spaniards switched the consignment by truck to Barcelona where it was placed aboard a freighter which got it to London in time to assuage the holiday thirst of Britons.

The Spanish beverage is a popular seller here, since it retails for only $2.80 a bottle, about half the price of the French product. It is known as "the poor man's bubbly."

The French and the Champagne Association of Britain lost the first legal battle when a jury in London Central Criminal Court found the Spanish champagne "not guilty" of masquerading under a false label.

The case is believed unique in that it was the first time British justice in all its awesome solemnity, has been set in motion to press the juice of a grape.

A more direct form of economic warfare was launcher in France by the "Whisky a Gogo" (Whisky Galore) chain which operates 17 bars in Paris, Toulon and Marseilles.

They closed their bars temporarily in protest, posting signs reading "Scotch remains English, Champagne must remain French."

The boycott on Scotch whisky has spread among other patriotic bartenders, and there even has been a threat to produce a French version of the "dew of Dundee."

A bit of Anglo-American solidarity has sprung from all this. Grylls showed me a cable from Otto E. Myer, vice president of a California vintner, pointing out that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery and that the French should be delighted other nations have chosen to make sparkling wine by the champagne method. The cable concluded:

Diseases of Plants May Be Forecast

WASHINGTON — It now appears that forecasts of plant diseases are possible, just like weather forecasts, according to the Agriculture Department. In fact, the department says, the relationship of weather to the development of just such diseases as mildews, molds and blights is the basis for disease predictions.

By using instruments which automatically measure and record temperatures, relative humidity, and dew duration, the disease warnings can be given weeks or even months in advance.

There are about 6,000 active camera clubs within the United States.

Bring that old double-breasted suit of yours out to us. We will restyle it into a smart, new narrow-lapel single breasted model.

Leg Injury Puts Bob Cousy on Bench

East vs. West Tonight in NBA Tilt at Detroit

Boston Ace Will Make a 'Token' Appearance on Olympia Court

DETROIT (UPI) — Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics, who has broken up more than one National Basketball Association All-Star game during his glamorous career, undoubtedly will be on the sidelines with a leg injury when the East pros meet the West tonight.

Although the announcement of Cousy's status was couched in confusion and a touch of controversy, it was plain that coach Red Auerbach and owner Walter Brown of the Celtics had no intention of risking a prolonged injury by playing their brilliant backcourt man tonight.

After Brown had stormed out of a conference room with the flat announcement that "Cousy is out of the game," Auerbach immediately put in a telephone call to Frank Ramsey of the Celtics and directed him to fly to Detroit early today.

League president Maurice Podoloff then announced there was a chance Cousy "might see limited action." But it was obvious that the Celtics' star, who has played in every All-Star game thus far and been named the Most Valuable Player twice, could make only a token appearance at best.

Cousy suffered the injury when he collided with Jack McMahon of the Hawks in a game at St. Louis Tuesday night. He did not play against the Nationals at Syracuse Wednesday night and spent two hours taking diathermy treatment at the University of Detroit yesterday afternoon.

But the injury did not respond to treatment and still pains Cousy every time he bends his knee. His place in the East starting lineup is expected to be taken over by Richie Guerin of the New York Knickerbockers.

Two other East stars, Bill Russell of the Celtics and Ken Sears of the Knickerbockers, also were hobbled by injuries. The odds, which previously favored the East by 3½ points were expected to drop to even-money by game time.

The second half of the All-Star game will be televised nationally by the National Broadcasting company, starting at 10 p.m. (EST), the time customarily occupied by the Friday night boxing matches. A crowd of more than 10,000 will watch the game at Olympia Stadium.

Russell, the Celtics' six-foot-10 rebounding and defensive marvel, was "not 200 per cent" because of a pulled groin muscle, while the six-foot-nine, high scoring Sears also had a bruised right calf similar to Cousy's.

Russell and Sears were expected to start for the East, along with forward Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors, guard Bill Sharman of Boston and Guerin. Woody Sauldsberry of Philadelphia and Dolph Schayes, Johnny Kerr and Larry Costello of the Syracuse Nationals will be in the East reserves.

Coach Ed Macauley reported his West team in excellent physical condition following an afternoon workout. The East team did not work out but held an "organizational meeting" instead.

★ ★ ★

Bob Pettit of St. Louis, who has won the MVP award twice in the last three All-Star games, currently leads the league in scoring with a 28.5 point average. He will start at center with rookie Elgin Baylor of the Minneapolis Lakers and Cliff Hagan of the Hawks at the forwards. Slater Martin of the Hawks and Gene Shue of the Detroit Pistons will start in the West backcourt.

Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals, George Yardley and Dick McGuire of the Pistons, and Larry Foust and Dick Garmaker of the Lakers will be West substitutes.

Farmington Beaten by Berkley, 46-37

Farmington made high-flying Berkley mighty uncomfortable for two quarters, then wilted in the 2nd half to drop a 46-37 decision in an Inter-Lakes Conference basketball game last night at Berkley.

★ ★ ★

The unbeaten Bears trailed at halftime, 19-17, but they forged ahead early in the 3rd quarter and held the lead the rest of the way to post their 9th straight victory and 5th in the Inter-Lakes.

★ ★ ★

Berkley, gunning for its 4th consecutive I-L title, was paced by rangy Dave Burris with 17 points and Bob Ross with 14. Farmington had no one in double figures as the Falcons slipped to a 2-3 league record and 5-6 overall.

NBA Expansion Thoughts Back Where They Started

Lots of Ideas---No Answers

DETROIT (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. kicked around the idea of expanding to 10 or 12 teams until the wee hours today and wound up just where it started—with a lot of ideas and no conclusions.

★ ★ ★

When the sleepy-eyed owners who comprise the NBA's board of governors emerged from an uneventful meeting that lasted all afternoon and most of the night they had settled only the routine matters.

President Maurice Podoloff said the possibilities of expansion will be discussed at a special meeting in late February when the owners will determine playoff dates.

The governors met on the eve of the NBA's annual All-Star Game. The game pitting stars of the Eastern division against those of the Western division, will be played tonight at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

A delegation from San Francisco formally applied for membership. Other groups from Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle on the West Coast, along with Dallas, Houston, Chicago and Pittsburgh, have expressed definite interest in joining the NBA.

However, several owners said privately they doubt if the league will expand at all in the next year. Expansion, if it comes at all, likely is two years away.

Several owners lean toward admitting Chicago and making the league a nine-team affair in 1959-60.

One idea, for a four-team West Coast division, got a cool reception. A better idea seemed to be to build up the present eight teams. One owner argued that there are not enough good players available for expansion.

The board of governors decided to hold the annual draft meeting in Cincinnati on March 23, the annual league meeting in New York or Minneapolis in April and the 1959-60 All-Star Game in Philadelphia next January.

Podoloff said the present eight teams apparently are all set for another season. There have been almost-constant rumors that the Minneapolis Lakers are ready to switch to San Francisco, but Podoloff said the Lakers have attained the financial goal spelled out by the league.

Podoloff said the NBA has taken steps to guard against "any future discrimination because of race, creed or color."

Elgin Baylor, Minneapolis rookie star, and two other Negro players from the Lakers' club said they were denied hotel accommodations last weekend in Charleston, W.Va.

"We had a guarantee that this would not happen," said Podoloff, "and I can assure you it will not happen again."

★ ★ ★

He said all teams in the league will have written agreements in the future with the various hotels and lodges.

All Pistons 'Trade Bait'

DETROIT (AP)—If another basketball team wants to pick up a salary estimated at $25,000 a season, George Yardley is available for trade.

So are all the other members of the Detroit Pistons' basketball team, coach Red Rocha said today.

"We don't have any untouchables," said Rocha as he huddled with owners and coaches at the National Basketball Assn. meeting. "Nobody is indispensable."

Although Rocha says everyone is available, it is unlikely the Pistons will deal off Yardley. Most likely trade material is Walter Dukes, but with the Pistons in a terrible slump, it would surprise no one if Rocha, general manager W. Nick Kerbawy and owner Fred Zollner make a wholesale shuffle of talent.

Awards for outstanding citizenship, scholarship and athletic achievement went to Jerry Andrews (Pontiac Central), Mike Flynn (St. Mikes) and Jack Lyon (St. Freds). Buhl Burt, president of Pontiac Optimists displays the permanent plaque which will go to each school.

Will Join 49er Defensive Staff

Christiansen Quits Lions to Coach

★ ★ ★

"He still had another year or two left in him," said Lions coach George Wilson, "but he had this chance to get into coaching and we didn't want to stand in the way."

Howard (Red) Hickey, San Francisco head coach, said Christiansen will coach the 49er defensive backfield.

Christiansen, a 30-year-old Colorado A & M graduate, joined the Lions in 1951. He was Detroit's all-time leading pass interceptor with 45. His 12 interceptions in 1953 led the National Football League and he tied for league honors in 1957 with 10.

Almost forgotten in his last season was Christiansen's early value as a kickoff and punt return specialist. His long stride and speed made him dangerous. In his rookie year he returned four punts for touchdowns and he had two the following year.

But his speed disappeared and efforts were made to trade him after the 1957 season. Last year he was injured in an exhibition game and missed more than half the season. When he did play he was slow. He told friends it might be his last season.

At San Francisco, Christiansen will replace Mark Duncan, his coach at Colorado A & M. Duncan, who held the defensive backfield job with the 49ers since 1955, becomes defensive line coach.

Married and the father of four daughters, the 6-foot-2, 196-pound Christiansen makes his home in Fort Collins, Colorado.

Jimmy David now says he definitely will return to the Lions next season.

The veteran defensive halfback had said at the end of last year that he was retiring from professional football.

"I think in his own mind he always wanted to play," said coach George Wilson who made the announcement yesterday of David's change of mind.

He'd Rather Be Traded Off

McDougald Fights Pay Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gil McDougald says he would rather be traded away from the world champion New York Yankees than take a pay cut.

★ ★ ★

"If I accept a cut," the infielder said, "I admit a weakness, and I have to think I don't have any or I'll give the game up."

★ ★ ★

McDougald said the Yankees' first contract offer for 1959 called for a cut of more than $4,000 from the reported $30,000 he received last season. It followed on the heels of reports that New York is asking Mickey Mantle to take a cut.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"I'm sure I can prove to an honest man like Weiss that I don't rate a cut," Gil said. "I'll show him why I rate a dollar raise for every dollar cut he suggests."

★ ★ ★

McDougald's 1958 batting average slipped 39 points to .250, but he topped his 1957 total in home runs and runs batted in. In last fall's World Series with Milwaukee Gil was a key player in helping the Bombers regain the championship which they lost to the Braves in 1957.

Ted Williams Signed to 1959 Contract Today

The left-handed slugging left fielder figured to retain his status as the highest paid athlete in the game when he emerged from a Fenway Park chat with Joe Cronin and Bucky Harris.

"I am better right now than I was last year at this time," Williams said.

After signing for $125,000 or more a year ago, Ted got off to a slow start. The ankle sprain he suffered the preceding fall pained him.

Blaik Explains Signals

At Last: Army's Secret of Lonesome End Out

NEW YORK (UPI)—College football's best kept secret — how does army's "lonely end" receive his signals — was divulged for the first time last night by its creator, Earl (Red) Blaik.

★ ★ ★

The cadets' outgoing head coach let the cat out of the bag during an off-the-cuff speech before members of the touchdown club of New York, who honored him "for his long and meritorious service to college football," at their Silver Anniversary dinner.

"I have been asked many times to explain the secret of the lonely end formation," said Blaik, who surprised rival coaches last season by stationing one end, Bill Carpenter, far out on the flank and never permitting him to enter the huddle.

"I always declined to discuss how he received his signals, but now I think it might be a nice idea to tell you how simple it is," he added.

The 61-year-old coach, who will leave West Point next month to accept an executive position in the business world, then went on to explain how Carpenter always knew what play quarterback Joe Caldwell had called.

"If you recall, Caldwell always had a towel attached to his pants," Blaik said. "He would take the towel and massage it before each play. All he was doing was wiping his hands. His hands perspired a lot.

"But if you watched Caldwell closely — and a lot of people did — you noticed for example when he lined up facing the huddle, his two feet were in a different position. If his feet were parallel — or in a closed stance — it meant a run. If his left foot was forward, it also meant a run. But if his right foot was forward, it meant a pass.

"All you had was a pass or run, and there you have it."

★ ★ ★

Blaik then went on to explain that additional information was transmitted to the lonely end by another man, advising the end which route to take downfield on each play. These signals were transmitted by a player touching his helmet, rubbing his nose or grabbing his Jersey.

Johansson Sure He'll Get Bout

Unbeaten Swede Heads for New York Confident of Winning Title

The handsome, undefeated European titleholder was confident on two counts—he will get the contract and then the crown in the June fight.

"I'm sure I will win—otherwise I would never sign my name on thee paper. If you don't believe in yourself you cannot be a boxer," he said on boarding thee U.S.-bound plane at Goteborg.

Promoter Bill Rosensohn shared Johansson's optimism that the fight will be made—for either New York, Los Angeles or Colorado Springs—despite some puzzling statements by Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato.

"With Johansson coming on the scene, now we can get busy and expedite the whole thing. I'm hopeful we can get contracts signed early next week," said Rosensohn.

Lollar Sets Pay Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — A pay hike for Sherm Lollar has made him the highest paid catcher in Chicago White Sox history.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Chuck Comiskey announced yesterday the 34-year-old Lollar had agreed to 1959 terms and his paycheck will show "about a 20 per cent increase." This reportedly would boost him approximately $5,000 to a salary around the $32,000 level.

Pontiac Central Aims for 7th

Barge to Play Final Contest for PCH Five

Coach Van Ryzin Fears High-Scoring Saginaw Cage Team

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There is still more than half of the season schedule to go for Pontiac Central, but tonight's game against Saginaw at the PCH gym rings down the prep curtain for Charley Barge.

For two varsity years the little guard has been a key to the success of Pontiac Central basketball and track teams.

At 5-foot-8, Barge took part in the high jump and helped the Chiefs to their 3rd and 4th state track titles in succession. He won the Mansfield relays and the Saginaw Valley high jump event last year by going 6-2½.

Incidentally, he is the brother of Alex Barge who was also 5-8 and who went over the bars at 6-3½ as PCH was winning its first and second state titles in succession.

It can be certain that Saginaw will set up its defenses in an attempt to stop the high scoring Chief who goes into his last game with a 21.5 average.

"We can't afford to take this Saginaw team lightly," said coach Art Van Ryzin, "they always have a high scoring offensive unit and if they should get hot, we'd be in trouble."

Pontiac's big problem will be to stop Bob Parker, 6-foot jump shot artist, who now leads the overall point race among SVC players with 161 points.

That task may fall on the shoulders of Bill Hayward who so adequately put a stopper on Flint Northern's John Gillian a week ago.

Gillian had only four points up to the time that Hayward left the game in the 4th quarter. He then finished with 10 for the night, far below his 21 point average.

John Bandy, who has been hitting with sharp accuracy the last two games, has also become a big rebounder for the Chiefs. The lanky 6-3 forward boosted his shooting mark to 14 points per game and has accounted for 19 rebounds in the last two contests.

Saginaw has nothing to lose and everything to gain in the way of prestige by knocking Pontiac Central out of the number one ranking in the state.

But the Chiefs will be playing tonight's game for jersey No. 14, Charley Barge, and with that incentive Pontiac Central will shoot for its 7th win of the season and 5th in Saginaw Valley competition.

Game time is 8:15 p.m.

Area Prep Loops in Spotlight Tonight

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

The fabulous achievements of Royal Oak's Pete Dawkins at West Point in the 1958 football season have almost completely overshadowed the work of several other former Cranbrook athletes on the collegiate level.

It is easy to understand the oversight. Dawkins went to the U.S. Military Academy from Cranbrook and walked away with every national honor possible, both athletically and scholastically.

Dawkins was an All-America halfback and captain of the Army team. He was awarded the Heisman and Maxwell trophies as college football's "player of the year."

Additionally, he ranks in the top five per cent of his class academically and has been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship which he will put to use next October in England at Oxford. He's also the captain of cadets at West Point, the highest student position on campus.

So it's no wonder that other ex-Cranbrook stars have had their collegiate athletic light hidden under a bushel. There are a few that should be mentioned, however, and this is as good a time as any to give credit where credit is due.

Dave Martin, who scooted the mile in 4:17 as a freshman at Miami, has since transferred to the University of Michigan and he will be running for the Wolverine track team this spring after waiting a year to gain eligibility.

ODDS AND ENDS

FLASHY—Jim Darrow, junior guard at Bowling Green University, has been touted as one of the outstanding players in the Midwest this season. The classy jumpshooter leads the team in scoring with 18.6 average. Bowling Green meets U. of D. in Detroit Saturday night.

Basketball fans will be treated to another big night of prep action around the Oakland County area tonight with league play holding the spotlight.

Coach Gene Wright's St. Frederick crew, given new life by Orchard Lake's setback Tuesday, attempts to draw even with the Eaglets and St. Benedict in the Suburban Catholic race by beating St. Rita of Detroit while St. Michael visits Ferndale St. James, Royal Oak St. Mary hosts St. Clement in the other tilt.

Not having any bearing on the Inter-Lakes lead but mighty important to followers of Waterford and Walled Lake will be the meeting of those rivals at the Skipper gym. Van Dyke is at Southfield.

Down-but-not-out Birmingham tries to snap a three-game losing streak at home against Mt. Clemens. Ferndale seeks its 5th straight loop triumph at Royal Oak Kimball and East Detroit goes to Hazel Park elsewhere in the Eastern Michigan League action.

It is a similar situation as the Waterford-Walled Lake meeting with the rivalry of more importance than league standings. Troy and Fitzgerald go at it to settle 1st place for the moment and Clawson is at Madison in others.

None of the powers are matched in the Wayne-Oakland but an interesting evening is still anticipated with top contender Holly guest of unpredictable West Bloomfield, surprising Clarenceville trying to hand Brighton its 1st league setback, Clarkston at home to meet Bloomfield Hills needing every victory to stay in the running and Northville at Milford.

Unbeaten Rochester puts that mark on the line again with Lapeer providing the opposition at the Falcon court. Each has won its only Tri-County start. Romeo hosts L'Anse Creuse completing that slate.

Ortonville has a home South Central tilt. The Blackhawks, with Mead Myers providing new scoring punch, take on Millington.

South Lyon goes after undisputed possession of the League of the Lake lead playing at Boysville. Sacred Heart invades Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow, Utica is at Lakeview, St. Theresa at Royal Oak Shrine and Royal Oak Dondero takes on powerful Grosse Pointe at home in some of the other games. Country Day has a Saturday afternoon home date with Maumee, Ohio.

Plenty of excitement is on tap for Southern Thumb followers with two of the three schools tied for 1st place meeting head-on. That donny-brook will bring together New Haven and Almont at Almont. Anchor Bay, the other leader, must get by Armada to remain even with the survivor. High-riding Dryden goes to Brown City and Memphis vs. Capac.

Barry MacKay Enters Aussie Tennis Semis

The big American from Dayton, Ohio, overcame second seeded Australian, Roy Emerson, 4-6, 10-8, 6-3, 8-6 and thus assured a United States player in the final.

Stott, McDaniels Pushing Leader Gallup

County Point Race Close

Birmingham's scoring ace Merv Gallup better get back on the scoring beam tonight at home against Mt. Clemens or he may lose his place atop the Oakland County individual point list.

He has a couple fellows named Doug Stott and George McDaniels breathing down his neck with some others not far behind them.

Gallup's average dropped from 26 to 23.5 Tuesday when he could hit only 11 at Ferndale. Stott of Oxford took advantage of the situation by swishing 30 to improve his average to an even 23. McDaniels garnered 26 for Holly and now has 22.3.

Other gainers were Pontiac Central's graduating sensation Charley Barge and Rick Moos of Madison who are now tied for 4th with 21.5 averages.

John Lucadam of West Bloomfield, Kirk Evans, Walled Lake, and Jerry Williams, Cranbrook, retain their positions among the best 10 averages while John Bandy of the Chiefs has replaced Waterford's Barry Campbell.

McDaniels is the 1st county cager to reach 200 points. He has 201 in nine contests.

Players Make Little Progress at Meeting

Thoughts Differ on NFL Pensions

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There were two schools of thought at the National Football League's annual winter meeting today. To wit:

1. The players association is making progress toward a pension for pro football players.

2. The players association is being taken for the proverbial ride and has as much chance of getting a pension as a snow ball has of freezing in the lower, warmer regions.

The viewpoint depends on where you sit.

Bill Howton, Green Bay end who doubles as president of the association, and his committee of six feel they are making progress.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL gives the impression of a patient father who is willing to listen, discuss and investigate and then give a reluctant, "no." The owners he directs apparently are of a like mind.

George Preston Marshall, volatile owner of the Washington Redskins, doesn't even bother with diplomacy or niceties. An avowed opponent of the association and its pension request, Marshall sits outside the meeting room like a petulant schoolboy whenever the players discuss the pension with the owners.

Neutral observers believe the pension doesn't have a chance unless some magic formula not now in sight is evolved to produce $213,000 in league contributed money to finance the plan.

Bill Dudley, the former pro great who now is an insurance expert, took several hours yesterday to explain in detail the pension plan he recommended for the players.

In a nutshell, it involves a contribution of $213,000 from league sources and $125,000 from the players themselves. The plan would give the players, at age 65, $100 a month if they played five years in the league. The benefits go up $10 a month for each year of service over five.

Commissioner Bell, who recently said flatly and with more than a small degree of firmness, that he thought a pension plan for pro football was unrealistic and unfeasible, reversed his field yesterday, at least outwardly.

Said Bell, after hearing Dudley expound at length on the plan, and Howton suggest how the money could be raised:

"I have an open mind on the subject. I want to study the plan, listen to some other insurance experts, investigate this thing some way. Maybe it is feasible."

This, about a plan Bell has had in his possession for more than four months, and rated unworkable. Why the sudden public change of heart?

The answer is simple. Bell and the owners don't want to offend Congress. The commissioner recognized the association before a congressional committee and apparently desires to give all the appearances of negotiating with it in good faith.

The odds seem to be against establishing a pension fund. The best reaction one can get from an owner on the subject is that Dudley "made a fine presentation."

Howton tried to win friends and influence owners when he started his appeal with the statement that the players did not expect the clubs to pay for the pension out of pocket. He suggested these possible fund raising methods:

1. A two out of three game series for the NFL title with a percentage of each gate to the pension fund.

2. A cut of the gate of the Pro Bowl games or the pro-college All-Star game, six extra exhibition games a season, and the money saved from the recently reduced amusement tax.

The latter suggestion seems to have the most merit. The federal amusement tax recently was amended to allow a 10 per cent reduction of the first 90 cents on the cost of a ticket. Figuring at nine cents a ticket on three million admission, this would amount to $270,000 a year for the pension pit.

There is a gimmick here, too. The owners probably are figuring on pocketing that extra nine cents per ticket. Several clubs in precarious financial condition can use the money to stay out of the red ink.

Bell, while asserting he wanted to look further into the Dudley plan, pointed out that there were many problems and complexities to be ironed out before the projects mentioned by Howton could be set in motion, if they can. He didn't say so, but it was doubtful if the sponsors in back of the Pro Bowl and the All Star Game would want to cut in the pension fund.

The extra exhibition games involve promotion and the danger of injury to a ball player. Who would be responsible for a player's salary if he is hurt in the extra exhibition and can't play the rest of the season was one of the questions asked.

Under the Dudley plan each player would contribute an estimated $300 a year. At least 75 per cent of all the players, including the Chicago Bears who are not members of the association, would have to participate to put the plan into effect.

In other actions at last night's executive meeting, the owners turned down or withdrew 11 proposed rule changes and passed a regulation preventing players from participating in any pre-season or post-season games not sanctioned by the league.

The latter was aimed at the Hula Bowl in Honolulu in which quarterback Bobby Layne of Pittsburgh, and halfback Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals, performed earlier this month in preference to the league's own Pro Bowl extravaganza. Bell said he would announce later what penalty would result from violation of this edict.

★ ★ ★

The annual winter meeting continued today with the hope of winding up tonight. Constitutional amendments were on the docket which covers a multitude of possible legislation. Even the pension might barge back into the picture.

Tourney Bound Teams to Meet U. of D. Quint

Two teams bound for the NCCA or National Invitational tournaments at the end of this season will play the University of Detroit basketball team at the U. of D. Memorial Building Saturday and Monday.

TRAINING SITES — These are the training camps and the reporting dates for the Major Leagues. First date listed is for pitchers and catchers, second date for the full squad. AMERICAN LEAGUE: Baltimore (Feb. 23 and 26), Boston (Feb. 19 and 25), Chicago (Feb. 23 all), Cleveland (Feb. 22 and 26), Detroit (Feb. 20 and 26), Kansas City (Feb. 22 and 26), New York (Feb. 19 and 26), Washington (Feb. 18 and 26). NATIONAL LEAGUE: Chicago (Feb. 22 and 27), Cincinnati (Feb. 23 and 26), Los Angeles (Feb. 19 and 26), Milwaukee (Feb. 20 and 26), Philadelphia (Feb. 26 all), Pittsburgh (Feb. 18 and 23), St. Louis (Feb. 20 and 26) and San Francisco (Feb. 14 and 22).

Early Baseball Season Opening Means Earlier Training Camps

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Spring training for major league baseball players will be a bit different this time. All of the healthy ones, except those doing a six months bit in the National Defense Service and the stubborn holdouts, are expected to be in uniform and working out by Feb. 28. Three teams will have full squads on hand by Feb. 23.

For the past few years the latest reporting date was March 1, but that's changed now because the American and National League seasons open one week sooner.

President Eisenhower probably will throw out the first American League baseball with new league president Joe Cronin's signature on it in Washington where Baltimore takes part in the April 9 inaugural.

In the National League Cincinnati plays host to Pittsburgh on the same day. On April 10 all teams in both leagues are scheduled to play except Washington and Baltimore. They have the 10th open in case of a rainout on the 9th.

With the season starting earlier than usual, the Florida and Arizona exhibition seasons are moved up. That means earlier reporting dates for the athletes. All teams open their exhibition activity on Saturday, March 7.

Several clubs are holding instruction camps for farm team players and untested rookies who could be added to major league rosters before opening day. But the first National League regulars who will report are the San Francisco batterymen.

First in February but last in September appears to be Washington's lot. The Senators have Feb. 18 down for their battery men at Orlando, Fla., which is the earliest American League training date. The Chicago White Sox will be the first team in the league to have a full squad assembled. Feb. 23 orders to report to Tampa have been sent out by the Pale Hose.

There are only two major changes in the training camp set up of the four previous springs. The Boston Red Sox and the Baltimore Orioles have traded states, so to speak.

Boston is moving from Sarasota, Fla., to Scottsdale, Ariz., former base of the Orioles. Baltimore will make new headquarters in Miami and replaces the Los Angeles Dodgers as the home team for exhibition games in Miami Stadium.

The Dodgers, a monetary success in their first season in Los Angeles but a flop in the standings, will continue to train at Vero Beach, Fla., but most of their exhibitions will be played at Payne Park, Sarasota where 10 are scheduled.

The world champion New York Yankees have eliminated their instruction school this year but will again use Miller Huggins Field, St. Petersburg, Fla., for workouts beginning Feb. 19, and Al Lang Field for exhibitions.

Twelve teams will train in Florida, four in Arizona.

One-Sided Decisions in Waterford Loop

Lopsided decisions were the rule last night in Waterford Township Recreation League basketball games at Isaac Crary Junior High.

Bill Pfahlert and Ron Gayete each scored 10 points to lead Johnson & Anderson to an easy 49-34 conquest of Rocco's Restaurant in a Class A game.

The Waterford Faculty and Ron & Don Service were runaway Class B winners.

Stu Torrell tallied 20 points to pace the Faculty's 57-37 rout of Van Welt's Auto Sales. Earl Neeb made 14 for the losers. Ron & Don crushed Northern Lumber, 55-22, behind a 22-point spree by Clarence Beers.

MSU Cagers Eye Big Ten Lead

Spartans Tangle With Minnesota Saturday Night

Winner Will Take 1st Place in Title Chase; Wolverines Idle

By The Associated Press

Either Michigan State or Minnesota will take sole possession of the Big Ten basketball lead in tomorrow's light schedule of games.

Each is 3-1 in the race, sharing first place with Illinois and Michigan, and they play each other in a vital game at Minnesota.

Michigan is idle and Illinois has a non-conference game with Notre Dame as a part of a Chicago Stadium doubleheader. Toledo meets Loyola of Chicago in the other contest.

Northwestern (2-3) is at Iowa (2-2) for an afternoon regionally televised engagement and Ohio State (1-3) is at Purdue (1-3) at night to round out the Big Ten card.

Minnesota has won its last two starts, defeating Purdue 64-62 and Northwestern 71-67. Topping the Gopher attack is Ron Johnson, fourth in conference scoring with a 20.5 average, and long-range hitters Tom Benson, 13.5, and Al Lehman, 11.5.

The Spartans hold victories over Indiana, Illinois and Ohio State. John Green is averaging 21.8 points and has collected 69 rebounds. Bob Anderegg adds scoring balance with 19.7 and Horace Walker is hitting 13.0. Walker also is a great rebounder and is credited with 61.

Northwestern has lost its last three starts and still is trying to find a steady replacement for Phil Warren, sidelined with a bone fracture in his foot. The Wildcats defeated Iowa 80-77 in their Big Ten opener as Joe Ruklick made 28 points. But Ruklick has been in a slump, getting only 5 points in Monday's loss to Minnesota.

Purdue, losing to Minnesota 64-62 in its last start, will have the home court advantage over Ohio State. Willie Merriweather is Purdue's top scorer with 18.0 with Wilson Eison a close second at 17.7.

Ohio State's Larry Huston, the Big Ten's leading scorer a week ago, has plunged to 4th with a 17.3 average.

City Hockey Finals Moved to Saturday

Thursday night's scheduled championship games in the City Junior hockey tournament were postponed until Saturday morning because of poor skating conditions at the Northside softball field.

Unbeaten Fisher Hill Merchants and once-beaten Spencer Floor Covering will clash for the Class A title tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock on Northside ice.

Undefeated Bulman's Hardware and Pontiac Northern B, with one loss, meet for the Class B crown at 10 a.m. on the same rink. If follow-up games are needed to settle the double elimination tourney, they will be played in the afternoon.

HILLSDALE (UPI)—Adrian forged to an early lead and was ahead all the way to defeat Hillsdale, 74-66.

Skipper Matmen Win 1st; Chiefs Lose

A mere ⅛th of a pound cost Pontiac Central a wrestling match yesterday. The Chiefs lost a 24-15 decision to Bay City Central as two PCH wrestlers failed to make the weight and had to forfeit.

The forfeits came in the 103 and 112 pound divisions and coach Steve Szabo said the total weight was "no more than ⅛th of a pound."

In other wrestling matches in the area, Waterford won its first match since starting the sport by downing Walled Lake, 28-22, and Southfield made its record 4-2 for the season by downing Van Dyke, 39-11.

For Pontiac Central, Willie Duncan wrestled his last match in the heavyweight division and he won a 2-1 decision over Mike Burke. He is a mid-year graduate.

Another PCH win was turned in by Duke Relyea in the 175 pound class as he decisioned Rick Czap, 5-2.

Skipper matmen benefited by two forfeits in the opening bouts against Walled Lake, went on to grab their first win by taking the final match. Dick Banfield pinned Walled Lake's Don Hartle to clinch the victory. Prior to this match the count was 23-22.

Best bout was the win for Gary Eskelinen (WL) over Skippers' Mike Ewer at 138 points, 9-8. It was nip and tuck all the way.

Decisions were won by Joe Santti, 4-3 in 103 pound, Jim Marvis, 7-0, in 127 pound, and Jerry Mawhinney, 5-4, in 133-pound class.

Berkley defeated Farmington, 38-16 in another match. Farmington had to forfeit in the 95 and 103 pound weights and Berkley then won 9 of 12 classes.

...astro's Top 'War Crimes' Prosecutor

...Criminal Trials New to Sori Marin

...y United Press International

...he chief prosecutor at the Ha...a "war crimes" trials is a ...ht, excitable, voluble Havana ...yer, 43-year-old Humberto Sori ...rin, who holds the double post ... minister of agriculture and ...ge advocate general of the ...ny.

...He spent 15 months with Fidel ...stro in the Sierra Maestras as ...ef legal officer, and, except for ...ty thievery cases concerning ...diers, the forthcoming trials will ...the first criminal cases for Sori ...rin. His specialty is civil and ...mmercial law.

...He was elected vice president ... the Inter-American Bar Asso...ation for a two-year term at ...e Montevideo meeting in 1951, ...d permanent honorary presi...ent of the Cuban delegation to ...e Inter-American Bar Associa...on.

...He was born in Sancti Spiritus ... Las Villas Province in Central Cuba in 1915 and received his law degree at Havana University in 1940. He now lives in Havana with his wife and two pretty daughters, Rosa Maria, 14, and Alicia, 17.

★ ★ ★

Sori Marin is known for his liberal sentiments, and had several run-ins with the Batista government which arrested him on three occasions. He never spent more than a few days in jail and said he was too well known to be murdered.

JOINED CASTRO

He joined thee Castro movement when he was sent to Santiago as representative of the Havana Bar Association to aid Castro after the abortive attack on Moncada barracks on July 26, 1953. Fidel Castro wanted Sori to defend him, but Sori insisted, "You could do a much better job than I."

At 1 a.m. on Sept. 5, 1957, the day of the Cienfuegos revolt, there was a knock on his door. He slipped out the back way while the family was talking with the secret police in front.

He hid in different houses in Havana each night for a month and finally made his way to the Sierras where he joined Fidel in October.

While there he drew up the civil and criminal code for the rebel army and the territory it controlled, the code now in use for the trial of alleged war criminals.

One of the cases he judged involved a farmer who abandoned his farm and a neighbor who worked his land for many months until the original owner returned. The problem was who got the proceeds from the farm. Sori divided it.

Sori Marin said the code was specifically drawn for wartime, and will remain in effect only during a transition period until it can be replaced by regular constitutional law in a few months.

On his appointment as minister of agriculture, he said he took a 15-month course in the problems of Sierras farmers—such posers as the need for roads to haul crops to market and the need to learn better farming methods from the United States. He says he thinks he understands and will be able to minister to farmers' needs.

...Exchange Head Says Upward Spiral Won't Go on Forever

The warning was sounded by ...dward T. McCormick in a talk ...epared for a meeting of the ...ational Industrial Conference ...oard.

"I don't think anyone, however ...Pollyannish he may be, should ...e under the illusion that securi...ies prices will continue to rise ...n an unending spiral from this ...ime forward," he said.

"There are bound to be readjust...ents from time to time in general ...usiness conditions as well as in ...e affairs of particular corpora...ons that will be reflected in ...ctuations in the prices of cor...orate securities."

"Notwithstanding the glowing ...prospects of long-term continued ...prosperity that lie before this ...dynamic economy of ours, in...vestors, particularly in these ...days, should exercise caution to ...see to it that they do not merely ...buy market averages—that they ...do not buy a security merely ...because its price has been and ...is rising. Selection after careful ...analysis must be the keynote."

Health Restored to Troy Boy in Heart Operation

Ten University of Michigan Medical Center surgeons at Ann Arbor worked for more than four hours yesterday to restore health to a 6-year-old Troy boy suffering a heart defect.

Stephen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Perry of 3710 John R Rd., was reported in good condition following the operation.

Surgeons repaired a hole between the two lower chambers of his heart. Doctors term the condition a ventricular septal defect.

Today, Stephen is headed toward an active life and is expected to be released from the University Hospital in two weeks.

Medical Center officials said the heart defect—congenital in nature—did not harm the boy. They added, however, that if left uncorrected it would have resulted later in limited activity because the blood would not have circulated properly.

News in Brief

Thieves broke into the Detroit Gun Club, 2775 Oakley Park Rd., last night and escaped with several bottles of liquor, some drinking glasses, a box of cigars and an empty cash box, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Kenneth Solomon, 311 Pioneer St., reported the theft of a $100 bill to Pontiac Police yesterday.

9 Die in Jordan Air Crash

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)— A Jordanian airliner with 15 persons aboard crashed Thursday night near Amman. The airline said nine persons, including two Americans, were killed. The six others aboard were injured.

A phonograph has been developed in Britain which is small enough to fit into a coat pocket but large enough to play 12-inch records.

Business and Finance

Grains Inactive, Soybeans Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices were virtually stationary today in early dealings on the Board of Trade but soybeans had gains up to a half-cent a bushel.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Soybeans had extended their gains to as much as 1 cent a bushel near the end of the first hour. Wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cent a bushel lower, March $1.96⅞; corn ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, March old type contract $1.15⅝; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 67⅝; soybeans ⅜ to 1 cent higher, March $2.20½.

Hearing for Mooney Delayed Till Feb. 6

Examination of a suspended Waterford Township high school teacher in justice court on a charge of gross indecency has been postponed to Feb. 6 by Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge.

The accused teacher, Arthur Mooney, 50, of 1651 Grimshaw St., Commerce Township, will also be tried then on a misdemeanor charge, furnishing beer to minors.

Mooney was arrested in December by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies after they investigated a fatal auto accident in West Bloomfield Township.

Hodge's postponement of the case is the second. He originally scheduled trial and examination on the charges for Jan. 9.

Selected Stocks Showing Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Some airlines, oils and selected issues advanced in an irregularly lower stock market early today. Trading was active.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so.

Jet age prospects for passenger travel continued to help selected airlines which resumed their rise of yesterday. Eastern Air Lines was up more than a point and American Air Lines rose a fraction. Pan American World Airways backed away slightly from recent gains.

Royal Dutch continued to show some strength, rising close to a point and Texas Co. gained fractionally in a carryover of recent demand for oils. Other leaders in this section backed away fractionally.

Bulldozer Turns Over on Rochester Man

ROCHESTER—a village employe was pinned under his bulldozer yesterday when it turned over in a ditch on E. Third street, leading to the village dump, Rochester police reported today.

George Hartwig, 45, of 120 Castell St. called for help after the machine tipped over against the Grand Trunk Railroad embankment. His cries were heard by John Mahopack, junk processor, who summoned officers.

Hartwig was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac where X-rays disclosed no broken bones—just bruises. He was listed in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital today.

Firm Ordered Not to Hinder Union Drive

Speery and Hutchinson Co., a trading stamps firm in Royal Oak, was ordered today by the National Labor Relations Board to refrain from discouraging union organization of its employes.

The NLRB also ordered the company, located at 1515 E. 11-Mile Rd., to stop interrogating its employes in regard to their membership in or activities on behalf of the Retail Clerks International Assn., AFL-CIO, or any other labor organizations.

The Board claims the S&H green stamp firm had promised benefits to its employes to induce them to refrain from union participation and had granted some workers wage hikes to "refrain from activities" on behalf of the Clerks Union.

The Board also ordered the company to reinstate employes Charles Goodney, Leonard Standler and James Weldon and pay them a total of $2,800 in back wages.

Indicate Slight Change in Position on Hospital

A special committee studying what is to become of the vacant Oakland County Contagious Hospital yesterday appeared to have given in slightly in its opposition to having the 80-bed center used for the emergency care of the mentally ill.

This all came about when another committee representing the Oakland Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health altered its drive to take over the entire building for this purpose.

Harold G. Webster, society director, suggested a new "pilot program" whereby the county might split the use of the hospital between care of the mentally ill and whatever other use the special committee decides on.

Webster explained the so-called compromise plan of the society by saying, "We realized that we weren't getting very far by asking for all of the center."

He said he hoped that county officials, should they go along with this "pilot program," would see that their suggestions are feasible.

Biggest block, members said, was how much such an emergency care center would cost the county, and that Dr. Charles F. Wagg, state director of mental health, advised their group against entering into such a temporary arrangement unless the center could be made a part of a general hospital.

The 33-year-old edifice, located at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd., has been vacant since last August when Pontiac General Hospital terminated its lease for an annex.

Fred W. Smith, chairman of the special committee, said he will meet again with Kenny Foundation officials and inform them of the latest proposals.

Should the split use of the hospital be approved—the final decision resting with the Board of Supervisors—it still would remain who would operate the hospital.

"Unless the state comes through in carrying a more apportionate share of costs, we (the county) just won't have the money," said Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Begin to Fight Move for Sunday Beer Ban

A former Pontiac mayor said today he would begin circulation of petitions fighting a church move to ban sale of beer and wine here Sundays.

Philip R. Sauer, a bar-restaurant owner, said his petitions would call for a public vote at the April 6 election to let Pontiac taverns open at noon Sundays instead of 2 p.m.

"The Pontiac Pastors Assn. has asked for this fight. Let's find out what the people want," said Sauer, president of the Oakland County Table-toppers Assn., an organization to which the majority of Pontiac tavern owners belong.

These petitions call for an April 6 vote on whether sale of beer and wine should be eliminated altogether on Sunday.

The two petition movements were seen as a renewal of a fight the two groups waged last summer before the City Commission.

Table-toppers asked for permission then to open up at noon on Sundays, instead of at 2 p.m. as a 1934 ordinance requires.

The tavern-owner group subsequently withdrew its request and commissioners voted down the church bid by a 4-3 vote.

★ ★ ★

"This is a moral issue on which the people should decide, not us," commissioners who voted against it agreed.

"That's exactly what we're doing now," declared Rev. Daniel Wallace, associate pastor of Central Methodist Church. "We believe we have popular support behind our movement."

Rev. Wallace, chairman of the petition movement, also saw the issue as a moral one, but believed it correct to pass laws about it.

"There is nothing we can do in life, or say or even think that is totally devoid of moral significances. How then can we not legislate on moral questions?" he asked in a recent letter to commissioners.

"We feel that local ordinances cutting down on tavern hours are discriminatory and, instead, the city should follow state law, which applies to everyone in Michigan."

Private clubs in Pontiac, operating under state law, can open at noon on Sundays, but public taverns can't open until 2 p.m. because of the local regulation, he pointed out.

The pastors group, petitioning under state law, must get about 8,400 signatures in order to win a place on the ballot.

Card of Thanks 1

AS MUCH AS HUMAN WORDS can express we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the many friends and neighbors who so generously helped us in the death of our loved Husband and Father, James Carroll. May Jehovah God in his kindness and mercy provide each of you with such friends in your time of trouble. Mrs. James Carroll, Mrs. Marvin Neilsen, James Carroll Jr., John E. Carroll, Mrs. Harry Genakos, and Robert Carroll.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends & neighbors for their wonderful help and sympathy at our time of sorrow. Special thanks to Rev. Benedict and Godhardt Funeral Home.
—Bernard Hulslander & Family

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband and father Edward Old who passed away one year ago today, January 23, 1958.
It is lonesome here without you
And sad and weary the way
Life has not been the same
Since you were called away
Sadly missed by Eltha, Edward Jr. and Jo Ann Old.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Minnie Crank, who passed away January 23, 1958.
From this world of pain and sorrow
To the land of peace and rest
God has taken you, dear loved one
Where you have found eternal rest
Sadly missed by her daughter, Violet Rathbun and son Lester Rathbun and her husband H. J. Crank of Atlanta, Mich.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF OUR Loving and kind Father and Grandfather, Otto Pentiuk, who went to his eternal rest Jan. 23, 1957.
—Eugene, Marge & Children.

Bill Would Blitz Bombing Cases

Broomfield Asks Law to Make Such Crimes a Federal Offense

A bill has been introduced into the U.S. House of Representatives by Oakland County Congressman William S. Broomfield which would call in the Federal Bureau of Investigation on bombings of churches, schools, homes and businesses.

"At present," he said, "the FBI has to stay out of these cases until such time as it appears that a federal law has been violated."

"The processes of crime detection would be speeded considerably if our federal law enforcement agencies were able to get into such bombing cases immediately," Broomfield stated.

* * *

He explained that he introduced the bill as a means of deterring the rash of church, synagogue and school bombings which have taken place in recent months.

"I think that a lot of these people will think twice about bombing places of worship and education if they know that the federal government will be directly involved," he said.

Earl Staggers Nearer to Long Week's End

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — As I stagger to the end of my "Be Kind to People Week"—an effort to report only the good things about celebrities—I realize I've neglected Dwight Eisenhower, who, after all, is the best President we've had for the last . . . oh . . . six or seven years.

WILSON

Perry Como — surprised that some press people think Ike's cold—told me of a conversation they had the other day.

"It's the press women who scare me," declared Ike. "They can ask you some pretty embarrassing questions. They start out by asking 'How long have you been bald?' and then go on from there!"

Perry Como admits asking for a shorter season next year but smilingly adds "A contract's a contract. I've another year to go—then they'll have to catch me." But he's in no mood to retire. "I think," he says, "I've got a few songs left in me."

In my search for good and godly items, I claim Edith Adams is today's nice doll — she phoned from Hollywood to say she and Ernie Kovacs are expecting a baby in June. Wanted me to have the news first because I helped them get married in Mexico a few years ago with a call to William O'Dwyer and couldn't print the story because of necessary secrecy. "Ernie's carried away with this news," she reported. Planning to work Las Vegas shortly she exclaimed, "Thank God for the Empire dress!"

EDITH

Peggy Cass tells me of once having lunch — when she was just getting started as an actress—with "a correspondent for 36 out-of-town papers." After asking her questions for two hours, the man said, "I'm not really a correspondent. I'm Tom O'Malley from the Jack Paar show, and want you on the program." Peggy says it was a wonderful for Jack Paar to have her auditioned: "Otherwise I'd have been so nervous I'd have bombed."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ricardo Montalban's studying French at Berlitz — his agents are negotiating for a film with BBardot . . . Debbie Reynolds turned down the Las Vegas Dunes' $30,000-a-week offer . . . Mickey Rooney signed over a chunk of his "Last Mile" loot to his youngest son . . . Johnny Mathis started his dramatic lessons.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Married men may not be the best-informed men, but they are the most.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: An optimist is a man who sets aside one evening to complete his tax return . . . The way some Republicans talk, they expect that in 1960 Washington'll change its name to Rockefeller Center. . . . That's earl, brother.

Griffiths' TV Bill Gets Wide Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Martha W. Griffiths (D-Mich) says her proposal to open the House and its committees to television coverage "is getting a surprising amount of support."

"I don't quite understand it," she said today. "I introduced this same bill in 1955 and 1957 and no one made much fuss over it.

"Now, we're getting enthusiastic mail about it every day." But Mrs. Griffiths isn't optimistic about the bill's chances.

"Of course Mr. Rayburn (the House speaker) is opposed to it, so it's not going to get anywhere," she said.

Concert Written by Mr. Bernstein

Hopes to Dispel Idea That Classical Music Is Only 'High Brow'

"What Does Classical Music Mean?" will be the theme of the second of Leonard Bernstein's four one-hour New York Philharmonic Young People's Concerts, to be broadcast live from Carnegie Hall in New York, on Channel 2 Saturday 12 noon-1:00 p.m.

* * *

Performing in the triple role of conductor, pianist and interpreter, Bernstein will cover the musical period of the 18th Century, the heyday of such giants as Mozart, Beethoven, Haydn, Bach and Handel.

* * *

In his exposition, Bernstein will seek to dispel the notion that classical music is, among other things, "long hair," "high brow," or "concert" music, as many people believe.

* * *

Instead, he will try to show that classical music is simply that kind of composition in which the composer's intent must be followed.

The New York Philharmonic Young People's Concerts are produced and directed by Roger Englander, and written by Bernstein.

They Needed Sunday for Recuperation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Janitors at Jefferson County Courthouse are paid on Saturdays now instead of Wednesday.

Fiscal Court changed the payday after Frank Norris, head custodian, said too many of the men celebrated Wednesday night and weren't able to work Thursday.

Amino Acid Aids Expectant Mothers

NEW YORK — Complications during pregnancy can be combated by supplementing the diet of expectant mothers with a preparation consisting of the usual vitamins plus an essential amino acid, lysine, protein researchers have found.

Lysine-treated women are easily spotted, the researchers say, because they lack the lassitude and chronic fatigue common during the first three months of pregnancy. They also have a greater feeling of well-being throughout their pregnancies and convalesce faster after their deliveries.

Divers Use Wireless

SAN DIEGO, Cal. — An underwater wireless telephone has been developed for divers to use to contact their boat or other divwaves in the water are transmitters. High-frequency pressure ted and received by a battery-operated transistorized unit. The range is three fourths of a mile to a depth of about 200 feet.

Playhouse 90 Stands Out – a Jewel on Rubbish Heap

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—It is the custom of TV programmers to refer to the counterfeit portion of their product—the shoddytown of half-hour shows—as the meat and potatoes of the medium.

* * *

However, as I understand meat and potatoes—nourishing, tasty, substantial—there is really only one regular meat and potatoes offering on television:

CBS-TV's Playhouse 90.

Playhouse 90 stands alone right now. It sits on a lonely pinnacle, a jewel on a rubbish heap, a diamond capping a jimjams-world where baubles and scrimshaw are the common currency.

It is a show crafted by pros and hit or miss, it shoots light into the TV week. Last night it hit.

* * *

It hit with Rod Serling's "The Velvet Alley," a Faustian piece which traced the career of a TV writer who traded himself for fame, money and what passes for immortality nowadays. It was, to hammer it down more simply, a study of values.

Like most of Serling's recent efforts, "The Velvet Alley" had a nice feeling for talk and Serling kept that talk ping-ponging around the play's edges—frantic talk, chi chi talk, butter talk, shop talk, con man talk.

But more important, that talk was bounced against a piece of some substance. The play itself was honest. It posed its problem honestly and enmeshed in the stuff of its own logic. It ended honestly—without compromising its innards. And except for a little sag around its middle, the piece generated fire and flash over almost all of its 90 minutes.

* * *

The cast, with the exception of Bonita Granville who gave an awkward performance, was on target—Art Carney, Katherine Bard, George Voskovec, Alexander Scourby and Micky Braddock, among them. I liked particularly Jack Klugman in the role of a sweet agent and Leslie Nielen, who played an eggshell of a man with just the right touch of hollowness.

* * *

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Mrs. Clare Ruth, wife of the late Babe Ruth, was forced to withdraw from tonight's CBS-TV's Person to Person because her Manhattan landlord objected to the electronic visit—it's the first time in the program's six year history this has happened. Genevieve will replace Mrs. Ruth on the Ed Murrow chat show.

The Canadian Broadcasting Company will pick up the Feb. 4 CBS-TV Armstrong Circle Theater drama which will deal with the recent Nova Scotia Mine disaster.

Gene Peterson of the CBS-TV soap opera, Love of Life, has turned down a role in the road company of "The Bells Are Ringing" to remain with the daytime serial . . . Harry Sosnick, musical director of CBS-TV's Your Hit Parade, will be musical director of six specials sponsored by a soft drink company (Coca Cola) scheduled for CBS-TV—the first special is set for March 30.

Circus 'Snobbery' Worries Red Paper

* * *

"Cruel competition, characteristic for bourgeois society, is appearing even among circus entrepreneurs (who) are filling their programs with cafe singers and dancers who have little in common with a genuine circus act."

Soviet Culture, charging that the Western circus has fallen into the hands of "traders in art," said the situation was about equally unhappy in the United States, France and other European countries.

Ultraviolet Hurts Virus

LOS ANGELES—In studying the tobacco-mosaic virus, researchers at the University of California at Los Angeles have found a two-way method of disabling the virus by using ultraviolet light. The scientists found that short ultraviolet wave lengths inactivate the virus by damaging its protein armor, preventing the nucleic acid in its infectious core from getting out. Longer wave lengths, it was found, are directly absorbed by the acid itself.

Hold Suspect in Decapitation

Admits Ax-Slaying of Woman Found in Coal Bin, Headless

DETROIT (AP)—A factory worker was held today in the decapitation of a woman whose severed head apparently was burned in a furnace.

In custody was Lee L. Kelsey, 47, who police said admitted killing the woman, then going to his job but intending to give himself up later.

Detective Lt. Joseph Walrad said Kelsey told of slaying Mrs. Lou Bessie Young during an argument yesterday. He said Kelsey called the woman his common law wife.

Police found Mrs. Young's headless body in a padlocked coal bin in the basement of the Kelsey home. They said bone fragments found in the furnace were identified as portions of a human skull.

Walrad said Kelsey told him he became angry during an argument over $30 the woman had borrowed from him and failed to pay back. He said she pushed him down a stair and he became enraged and struck her with an ax.

Later, he was quoted as saying he cut off her head and burned it, hid the rest of the body in the coal bin and went to work.

Ten Suffer Burns in Fire at Home

BENTON HARBOR (UPI) — Eight children and their parents were burned last night when a flash fire swept through their small frame home in Benton Township.

One child, Marvin Price, 6, was admitted to Mercy Hospital with third degree burns over 100 per cent of his body. He was not expected to live, according to the hospital.

The father, Ollie Price Sr., 51, suffered second and third degree burns over 30 per cent of his body and his wife, Velma, 32, was treated for third degree burns over 60 per cent of her body.

6 Cubans Held in Texas Talk With Lawyers

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Six Cubans who fled their country after the collapse of thee Batista regime conferred with lawyers Thursday, a border patrol spokesman said.

They include Sen. Rolando Masferrer Rojas, his two brothers, a naval officer and two servants. All are held at the immigration detention center here.

A spokesman said he had no idea when and where a hearing will be held for the group who have been held here since Jan. 15.

From Alaska to Florida in 5½ Hours

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—Lunch in Alaska and dinner at Eglin, 3,850 miles away. That was Capt. Billy B. White's experience Thursday.

The test pilot from Caddo Mills, Tex., piloted a Republic F105 Thunderchief jet on a record nonstop flight from Eielson AFB, Alaska, to Eglin in five hours and 27 minutes.

The average speed was about 700 miles per hour. Official timing devices were not used, so no time record will be claimed. The Air Force said it was the longest nonstop flight by a fighter type aircraft within the continental limits of the United States.

Dems Oppose Housing Plan

Call 14 to Counter Ike's Appeal for Action on His Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders called 14 witnesses today to counter the Eisenhower administration's appeals for enactment of its own housing program.

The witnesses included spokesmen for the National Housing Conference, the AFL-CIO, Americans for Democratic Action, American Institute of Architects, and others who have called for bigger programs than President Eisenhower has asked.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), presiding over Senate hearings on the hotly disputed program, predicted that a one package housing bill far broader and more costly than Eisenhower wants will be passed by Congress before the end of February.

The Democrats, with commanding majorities in both Senate and House, are driving for a swift passage of a comprehensive housing program in a single bill. It would contain money and authority the President describes as urgently needed to keep some housing activities alive, plus many other items he believes should be cut or otherwise amended drastically.

Thief Snatches Purse of Woman at Prayer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Kalgaard was kneeling in prayer in St. Francis de Sales Church Thursday when a young man snatched her purse.

He was arrested five minutes later and identified as Leonard E. Robert, 23, a paroled burglar. Her purse was recovered but a wallet containing $6 was missing.

MACK SENNETT BUSY — Mack Sennett, whose Keystone Cops and bathing beauties convulsed a generation of movie fans, is busy working on a new screen treatment of one of his oldtime hits, "Molly-O," as he observes his 75th birthday recently. Sennett, who lives alone in a Hollywood Boulevard apartment, told newsmen grumpily, "I don't want to talk about birthdays." He hopes to sell his "Molly-O" treatment to a studio.

Marriages Up, Births Are Down

November Public Health Figures Source; Both Show 1958 Decreases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marriages increased during November but the number of births continued to decline, the Public Health Service estimated Thursday.

The service figured there were 119,000 marriages during November, an increase of 0.8 per cent over the November 1957 total of 118,000.

This was the first time in 15 months that the monthly total was higher than in the same month of the previous year.

It estimated there were 1,322,000 marriages up to Dec. 1, a decrease of 5.2 per cent from the 1957 figure of 1,394,000 for 11 months.

There were an estimated 341,000 births during November, down 1.2 per cent from the 345,000 for the 1957 months. For the first 11 months of 1958 the estimate was 3,847,000, down 1.3 per cent from the 3,986,000 for the 1957 span.

The 1958 birth rate has been running at 24.3 per 1,000 population, a drop of 2.9 per cent under the 1957 rate of 24.5.

Situation Gets Desperate So He Hollers for Help

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A man who asked for quick service on repair of his radio and television sets explained why the special speed was needed:

"With both sets broken last night, I had to sit and talk with my wife."
