$4.5 Million Suit Filed In Detroit by Carl Renda

Alleges CIO, 11 Persons Conspired to Charge Him in Reuther Case

DETROIT (INS) — Carl Renda, 35, of Grosse Pointe Woods, has filed a $4,500,000 damage suit today against the CIO-United Auto Workers and 11 individuals.

The suit charges that the parties named conspired to charge Renda falsely with a part in the 1948 shooting of CIO and UAW President Walter Reuther.

In a 19-page declaration prepared by his attorneys, Renda alleges that the union and the individuals conspired to induce Donald Ritchie—whose story led to the charges—to give false statements linking Renda to the attack on Reuther.

On the basis of Ritchie's statement, Renda, his father-in-law, Sam Perrone and Pete Lombardo and Clarence Jacobs were named in warrants accusing them of taking part in the attempt to kill the union chief.

The warrants for the four men were dropped last February after Canadian authorities refused to extradite Ritchie, who repudiated his statement.

The suit accuses the union and the 11 individuals of malicious conspiracy to prosecute, malicious prosecution, and abuse of process of law.

Renda claims his health, reputation and business were damaged by the charges which had been brought against him. He is seeking $500,000 on each count with treble the amount of damages on each.

The suit names the following individuals:

Emil Mazey, CIO-UAW secretary-treasurer; Jack T. Conway, administrative assistant to Reuther; Ralph Winstead, CIO-UAW investigator; Harold Cranefield, CIO-UAW general counsel and Samuel J. Henderson, a private investigator.

Also named were Detroit Police Officers Paul Slack, senior inspector; Inspector Fred Heath; Lts. Claude Ingersol and John Lee, Sergeant Bernard Mullins, and Lt. Joseph Sheridan of the Michigan State Police.

Among seven men named as co-conspirators but not defendants in the suit are Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien; Chief Assistant Prosecutor Joseph G. Rashid; Ritchie and Donald Moran, Ritchie's Windsor attorney.

Telephone Calls by Sec. Stevens Now Revealed

Pentagon Man Had Said 'Schine Matter Greatly Exaggerated'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) claimed today the story told in long-secret monitored telephone calls "blows up" the Army's case against him in his bitter battle with top Pentagon officials.

Before taking off for Ripon, Wis., to make a speech marking the 100th anniversary of the Republican party, McCarthy left no doubt that he regarded yesterday's hectic developments as a prelude to final victory in the swirling controversy.

He told newsmen that disclosures during the televised Senate probe into the dispute of hitherto-unpublished transcripts of Army-monitored phone conversations, between Senate Investigations subcommittee senators and Secretary of the Army Stevens, "blows up their whole case."

The calls spilled into the hearing record one after another yesterday, breaking a logjam over their release that had held them back since soon after the public inquiry began April 22.

The calls quoted Stevens, in a March 8 talk with Sen. Symington (D-Mo) shortly before the Army filed its "pressure" charges against McCarthy and his aides, as saying that then current reports of preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine "were very much exaggerated." The Army's formal charges accused the McCarthy camp of seeking by improper means to win special privileges for Schine, a former consultant to the investigations subcommittee headed by McCarthy.

The calls also disclosed that Symington joined forces with the Army side at one point in the dispute before it got to the hearings stage.

Symington was quoted as advising Stevens to seek advice from Clark Clifford, a former top aide to President Truman, and as telling Stevens that Deputy Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers was "one other fellow that is on your side."

The Missouri senator gave this explanation as the content of his transcribed discussions with Stevens came to light:

He had willingly taken "sides" with the Army in an effort to help stop McCarthy's reported abuse of Army witnesses; that he had not talked to any principals in the case outside the hearing room once the subcommittee took on its investigations; and that he did not know if Stevens ever went to Clifford.

With the hearings in recess until Monday, several more of the phone calls between Stevens and subcommittee members and the McCarthy camp principals remained to go into the public records. The calls were originally taken down in

Red China Pulls Surprise Move

Proposes Korea Truce Commission Supervise Peninsula-wide Voting

GENEVA (INS) — Communist China in a surprise move today proposed that the existing neutral armistice commission in Korea supervise all-Korean elections.

The armistice supervision team for Korea is composed of Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia. The first two and the latter communist bloc each have charged that the other impeded their work.

None of them was a belligerent in the Korean War.

But Western delegates have found the work of the team unsatisfactory because of what they termed the obstructionist tactics of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-Lai was understood to have made the proposal, not North Korean Foreign Minister Gen. Nam Il.

The Indochinese phase of the conference limited to nine nations was adjourned until Tuesday, but the Franco-Vietnam and Vietminh military committeemen again met secretly to discuss regrouping of opposing forces under any cease-fire.

CIO Official Says Union Favors School Tax Hike

Fred V. Haggard, president of Oakland County CIO Council, said today the union favors Pontiac Board of Education's request for increased school taxes.

"This is one of those musts that cannot be ignored," Haggard declared. "New schools must be built to accommodate the increasing population and the time to start action on such a project is right now.

"The union has seldom given its approval to tax increases, but in this instance it's an increase of necessity to insure the proper educational facilities for our children," Haggard said.

"If we fail to pass this proposed tax increase at the polls June 14 it's going to cost a great deal more to build the necessary schools by floating bond issues. Bond issues are always expensive propositions and the voting public shouldn't force such measures by failing to approve the millage hike."

The money raised by the tax increase would also be used to keep the school system out of debt on day-to-day operating costs which

Student Held in Child Beating

Flint Youth at U. of M. Is Under Investigation of Assault on Infant

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 19-year-old University of Michigan student was held for investigation today of seriously beating his seven-weeks-old daughter. The baby is in a Flint hospital suffering from six rib fractures, two broken arms and a fractured leg.

Prosecutor Edmond F. Devine identified the student as Frank G. Zimmerman Jr., of Flint, and said he was being held specifically for investigation of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Flint police, who took Zimmerman into custody Thursday, said the father admitted having slapped the baby, Vicki Diana. He was brought to Ann Arbor yesterday.

The child was taken to Flint's St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital Wednesday and police were notified Thursday. The hospital said there were indications that a left arm fracture already had started to heal and that the child had bled from the mouth before being brought there.

Devine said the question of whether Washtenaw (Ann Arbor) County or Genesee (Flint) County had jurisdiction would be settled when it definitely was determined where the baby was injured.

Vietminh Take 2nd French Post

Command Calls It "Minor" Sentry Point on Hanoi-Haiphong Road

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—Communist rebels seized a second defense post on the road-rail lifeline funneling American war material to Red River delta fighting fronts, the French high command announced today.

The post was the second to fall within this week along the artery which runs 58 vulnerable miles between Hanoi and the port of Haiphong.

French authorities described it as a "minor" sentry point and refused to identify it by name or give its location.

The first post, which fell Monday, was only nine miles east of Hanoi in a region thickly infested with Communist Vietminh guerrillas.

Ever since the battle of Dien Bien Phu began last March the Reds have made increasingly bold attempts to cut Hanoi's main link with the port. Almost daily trains have been blasted by radio controlled mines planted by rebels saboteurs and traffic is permitted only from mid-morning to dusk provided there is no wreckage to clear away from the night before.

Stuyvesant Land in New York City Sold by Executor

NEW YORK (AP)—The last land parcels of Manhattan Island, granted by the Dutch government to Gov. Peter Stuyvesant more than three centuries ago, has passed from the family name.

The New York Investors Mutual Group, Inc., yesterday purchased the remaining 73 plots along Third Avenue. The investors group reportedly represents French investment capital.

The property previously was held by the estate of Augustus Van Horne Stuyvesant, last lineal descendant of the governor.

Included in the sale was the Fifth Avenue mansion in which Augustus Stuyvesant died last year.

The purchase price was not disclosed, but its assessed valuation was about $1,850,000.

Serious Rift Grows in AEC

Issue of Chief's Power on Committee Causes Conflict, Solon Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Holifield (D-Calif) said today congressional testimony has disclosed a "serious rift" within the Atomic Energy Commission "over giving more power to its chairman."

The issue, he said in an interview, "must be resolved before we can have a harmoniously functioning commission."

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, of which Holifield is a member, asked the five AEC commissioners for more public testimony today on a proposal to name the chairman as the group's "principal officer."

Commissioner Eugene M. Zuckert, who has opposed the proposal, and Commissioner Joseph Campbell, reportedly favoring it, have their turn to speak today.

Commissioners Henry D. Smyth and Thomas E. Murray both opposed the proposed change yesterday and urged that the present equal status of all commissioners be retained.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss testified his position was "not one of opposition or advocacy" for the change. But he said the lack of some qualifying phrase for the chairman has led to "many difficulties" now and in the past.

The chairman added that on the basis of his past business experience "I can most earnestly state that it is not possible, effectively, to operate—and I emphasize the word operate—a large business enterprise by commitee."

Holifield said the issue was so serious that it could not be settled merely be deleting the phrase "principal officer" from a bill now before the committee.

"It will take joint action by the committee and the commission to settle it," he said.

49 Hurt as Chemical Plant Erupts in Atomic-Like Blasts

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Tons of water pumped from the Kanawha River held at bay today a dangerous chemical plant fire after a series of five "atomic-like" explosions shook the countryside and injured at least 49 persons.

Company officials said as far as they could tell all personnel were accounted for. About 200 men were working in the Institute plant of the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp. about 11 miles west of here, when a tank car exploded and set off a chain of four other blasts.

A spokesman said there was a "possibility" some might have been caught in the blast area. He would not elaborate other than to say there had been no "roll call" of employes.

About 40 of those hurt were employes of the plant. The others included numerous persons cut or otherwise injured by glass and flying debris.

Uncounted property damage resulted from the blasts heard or felt within a 15-mile radius of the sprawling plant in the heart of West Virginia's chemical valley.

It was more than five hours before firemen got the upper hand on the huge fire in the styrene plant. Until electric power could be restored and water pumped from the nearby river, the fire raged unabated.

Homes and business places were shaken and windows shattered in South Charleston, St. Albans, Institute and Dunbar, spotted a few miles apart along the heavily-industrialized river front.

The first explosion, with a fireball strikingly like that from an atomic blast, occurred about 7:40 p.m. EST. Four hours later, firemen were beginning to gain on the chemical-fed blaze.

Delbert Simmons of Dunbar, driving past the plant at the time of the first explosion, said "all I could see was a big flash of white fire and my car turned around."

The original blast and four succeeding ones spread fear and consternation throughout the area. At Watt Powell Baseball Park in Charleston, the first explosion sounded like a roll of thunder.

U. S., Red China Discuss Release of 83 Americans

GENEVA (AP)—The United States opened direct negotiations with Red China today in an effort to obtain the release of an estimated 83 American civilians and military personnel detained in China.

The exact number of those involved was not known by the U. S. delegation at Geneva, but an unofficial breakdown indicated 54 civilians and 19 military personnel were either under arrest or were refused visas to leave.

The beginning of the negotiations was announced by the U. S. delegation shortly after the first meeting was held.

The U. S. representative at the talks was Alexis Johnson, American ambassador to Czechoslovakia.

Later, a member of the American delegation said the meeting with the Red Chinese "does not involve recognition of any sort."

He explained that in the past the United States has always negotiated with its enemies on prisoners of war, "so why shouldn't we do it here?"

The negotiations were opened on instructions from Washington, it was learned.

Following is an unofficial breakdown of Americans in Communist China:

Civilians detained: In prison 32, presumed under arrest 3, unable to obtain exit permits 19. Total 54.

Civilians remaining voluntarily: As far as United States government knows, 19.

Military personnel: U.S. Air Force (from United Nations command, Korea: 18. U.S. Navy and Coast Guard personnel (South China coast): 11.

Total military: 29.

Total number of Americans believed to be 122, of which total number detained, 83.

These figures are minimum estimates, the Americans said, and there may be a larger number detained on which there is no specific information.

Proving Ground for Ford Behind Romeo Options?

Who is behind the purchase of 6,700 acres of land between Leonard and Romeo now under option?

Latest report is that Ford Motor Co. will buy the land for the development of a proving ground and industrial plant.

Rumored to cost between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, the Edward Fisher's 2,500 acre-farm on Mack Road is included in the total transaction.

Roy Annett, Inc., of Pontiac holds all the options on the 6,700 acres and has stated it will release the purchaser's name when the sale is complete. Options are to expire, they said, between June 23 and July 1.

2 Fires in Clothes Dryers Prompt a Warning From Chief to Birminghamites

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Two minor clothes dryer fires within three hours of one another last Wednesday have prompted Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith to offer some words of advice to housewives regarding proper maintenance.

Older dryers or those that have been in use for some time should be periodically serviced (dismantled, checked and thoroughly cleaned), he said.

In some cases, Griffith placed the blame on homemakers for not properly cleaning their wash day helpers. But most often, he said, "Lint collects over a long period of time in places that the average person can't reach."

The lint gradually builds up and clogs the ducts, he said, thus causing the fire hazard.

Griffith said the same holds true of all appliances and recommended the same periodic service check as a precautionary measure.

Six major scholarships of $750 each have been awarded for the 1954-55 school year, Zoltan Sepeshy, director of the Cranbrook Academy of Art, has announced. The recipients were chosen in a world-wide competition.

Jaan Alipere, a war refugee from Estonia, has studied architecture in Finland and Sweden, where he won the Royal Academy of Fine Arts medal for outstanding work. Another winner, Peter Yeomans of Australia, has studied design and exhibition techniques in England, Italy and Canada.

The other four are Richard Abell, weaver; George Hagale, sculptor; William Sultz, painter; and Robert James, ceramist.

The scholarships were established in memory of George G. and Ellen S. Booth, founders of the six Cranbrook institutions, and Eliel Saarinen, first head of Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Youths on Trial in Armed Holdup

Jury Hears Case of 3 Charged in Dairy Bar Robbery April 20

Three Pontiac youths went on trial Friday for the armed holdup of the Walton Dairy Bar April 20 in which $75 was taken at gunpoint.

The trial is being heard before a jury of seven women and five men in Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty's court. It will resume Monday.

Two other youths accused of the holdup pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge Doty June 1 and took the stand yesterday to implicate the three now on trial.

Accused are Richard Parks, 17, of 22 McNeil St.; Arthur C. Hewitt Jr., 19, of 1654 Giddings Rd., and Robert K. Smith, 19, of 1024 Hospital Rd.

They were implicated in the robbery by Lee D. Bates, 20, of 80 Omar St., and Francisco M. Mendez, 26, of 61 Pine St.

Bates and Hewitt are Jackson Prison parolees, recently released after serving terms for breaking and entering in the nighttime. Mendez is on probation for carrying a concealed weapon, according to Pontiac Police.

The five youths are in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bonds.

Two Men Released in Camp Breakin

Oakland County sheriff's deputies have released two of three men held in connection with the Dr. Goldberg Day Camp breakin earlier this week.

Ward Drouillard, 35, of 43771 W. Grand River Ave., Novi Township, and George R. Larogue, 37, of 2010 Dryden, Wayne, were released yesterday afternoon.

A third man, Gene Hill, 43, of 10 Mile and Beck roads, is still being held for investigation of breaking and entering. Thieves who entered a camp storage shed early Tuesday took tools, a .22 rifle and two small portable motors.

Deputies later recovered these articles at the home of a Northville junk dealer who said the property was left in his keeping by three men early Tuesday.

Dearborn Man Demands Examination on Burglary

BIRMINGHAM — John Gagor, 41, of Dearborn, demanded examination when he was arraigned before Justice John J. Gafill yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Gagor is being held in connection with the theft of three typewriters, several blankets, sweaters and other items from the Forbes Printing Co., 415 E. Frank, and Markley Yarn Nook, 247 W. Maple.

The thefts were discovered by Police early Tuesday morning.

Claims Phone Calls Dissolve Army Case

shorthand by Stevens' secretarial staff.

Still to come are the calls of Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), and of McCarthy and his aides—and all were promised when the proceedings start again before the TV cameras Monday.

First to go into the record yesterday were stenographic transcripts of conversations Feb. 20, 21 and 24 between Stevens and Sen. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the subcommittee during the probe. They were sworn to as substantially word-for-word by clerks from Stevens' office.

Stevens told Mundt Feb. 20 that McCarthy "blew his lid on me" when the secretary refused to permit the subcommittee to recall Maj. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commander of Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Stevens was then in a row with McCarthy over what he said was abuse of Zwicker at a closed hearing on the honorable promotion and discharge of Maj. Irving Peress, described by McCarthy as a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Stevens told Symington the same day, according to another transcript that he was calling all subcommittee senators to tell them he had "refused to produce Zwicker" for McCarthy, and that "I told him (McCarthy) that I did not intend to have this abuse of our professional officer corps continued."

"He really started to beat my brains out," Stevens was quoted as saying.

The Feb. 20 call was the first of five monitored between Stevens and Symington. The transcript showed Symington called Stevens back the same morning, telling the secretary: "I talked to our legal friend."

The third call between Symington and Stevens was on the same afternoon—Feb. 20.

After telling Stevens he was writing McCarthy to hold up the hearings until he returned from Europe, Symington said:

"I think you may have put this fellow on the run a little bit, but he is terrifically agile in getting around something."

Symington also told Stevens: "There is one other fellow that is on your side, and I know he is absolutely tops, and that is Bill Rogers. I mean you can't go wrong with Bill."

The fourth conversation took place the following day, the morning of Feb. 21 when Symington was about to leave for Europe.

Symington told Stevens he was "worried a little bit" about news accounts of Stevens back-tracking on an implied promise not to appear as a witness before McCarthy's committee.

"If you and I are going to work together, we have got to be on the table with each other," Symington said.

Symington said to the Army secretary that McCarthy "can't subpoena you," and that under committee rules the three Democrat members could prevent a hearing and "throw the blocks in this thing."

Symington said he wanted to see the forthcoming Army report. Stevens said he did not know whether it had been pulled together.

"I don't want to push you on it, but we have got a problem," Symington said.

But as for current reports about the Schine matter, Stevens said:

"I personally think that anything in that line would prove to be very much exaggerated. That would be my opinion. In other words, I think there has been some talk around that has been very much exaggerated over anything that is there.

* * *

Stevens said "it is a lot of stuff" and that he had "more important things to do" than the Schine matter

'Polio Pioneers' to Receive Pins

Children Taking Salk Test to Get Certificates With Final Injection

Badges of membership in a new exclusive club—the "Polio Pioneers of America"—are being given 17,116 Oakland County school children this week and next.

The "pioneer" pins and certificates are given all first, second and third grade students as they take the third and final injection in the test of the new Salk polio vaccine. All will have had their last injection by June 10.

"This last shot is vital to the test," said Mrs. Howard Rieman of Birmingham, county polio test volunteer chairman. "Dr. John D. Monroe of the county health department is scheduling special 'make-up' clinics for any children who miss the shot."

Mrs. Rieman emphasized that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which paid for research and tests of the vaccine, is very grateful to youngsters who took part.

"These school children are giants in medical trail-blazing," she said. "We hope these pins and cards win them recognization for their unselfish community service in testing the vaccine that may stamp out polio forever."

Final shots were given McConnell and Baldwin children this week. Pontiac's Central, Crofoot, Bailey, Emerson and Owen students will have their last injection Monday; McCarroll and Webster, Tuesday.

Youngsters at Hawthorne, LeBaron, Malkim, Whitfield, Emmanuel Christian, Whittier, Willis, Wilson, St. Frederick and St. Michael will get their third shots Wednesday. Thursday, June 10 will see final shots given Bagley, Longfellow and Wisner children.

Pontiac Deaths

Fred Briggs

After an illness of six months, Fred Briggs, 82, of 733 Cortwright St. died at 9:10 a.m. today.

He was born in Waterford Township April 30, 1872 and married Alberta Wood in White Lake Township in 1912.

Mr. Briggs was a member of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. He was a retired farmer.

Besides his widow he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Estelle Odle of Pontiac, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be Tuesday from the Huntoon Funeral Home, with burial in Waterford Center Cemetery.

Charles A. H. Thom Dies in Detroit

Funeral for Charles A. H. Thom, 83, original founder of Gregory, Mayer & Thom Co. and chairman of the board of directors, will be held Monday in St. John's Episcopal Church. The service will be under the auspices of Detroit Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar. The church is located at Woodward and Vernor.

Mr. Thom, who resided at 201 E. Kirby, died Thursday in Grace Hospital after a short illness.

A native of Montreal, Mr. Thom came to Detroit in 1888. He was chairman of the board of the National Lithograph Co. and a director of the Michigan Life Insurance Co

He was a 33rd-degree Mason and past commander of the Grand Commandery of Michigan.

Mr. Thom was past president of the Detroit Golf Club and a member of Old Guard Detroit Commandery, Detroit Athletic Club, Detroit Rotary and Noontide Club.

Surviving are his widow, a son and daughter, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body is at the William R. Hamilton Co. 3975 Cass Ave.

Cutting Off a Man's Beer Is an Alarming Affair

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Robert Moore found himself accidentally locked inside a tavern cooler room which he was repairing.

With the temperature near freezing, the shirt-sleeved repairman shouted and pounded on the six-inch walls for half an hour to no avail.

Then he had an inspiration. He cut off the supply of beer piped from the cooler room to the tavern tap. That brought Herbert Kempke, the tavern owner, on the run.

Bell Employes Remain on Job

Negotiations Continue as 2nd Strike Deadline Passes at Midnight

DETROIT (AP) — More than 18,000 union employes of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. stayed on the job today although their contract expired at midnight. Negotiations continued.

The old contract between Michigan Bell and the CIO Communication Workers of America had been extended a week.

But as the second expiration date neared last night, federal and state mediators prevailed upon the union not to call a strike as long as negotiations continued.

The bargaining session continued until nearly 2 a. m. today. Then the talks were adjourned until 10 a. m. today.

Federal Mediator E. Marvin Sconyers and State Mediator Walter Mehler said progress was made.

The union members have approved strike action in a series of CWA-conducted votes around the state.

The union is demanding a "reasonable" wage increase, reduction in inter-city wage differentials, company-financed hospitalization and other benefits.

Says Union Backs School Tax Hike

is only sound business sense, he said.

Defeat of the proposed hike would indicate half-day sessions for students which is a situation that should be avoided, Haggard added.

The 10-year tax hike plan proposed by the school board will raise taxes 6.25 mills for the next three years and 8.75 for the following seven.

Money would be used to build about $9,000,000 worth of new schools—including a 48-room high school, 48 new junior high classrooms, 115 grade school classrooms and 10 multi-purpose rooms.

According to school officials the additional assistance afforded by passage of the measure would meet only minimum needs.

Haggard pointed out that the requested increase is an equitable one and would amount to only a little more than 4 mills above what property owners are paying now.

The present rate stands at 14.20 mills, or $14.20 per $1,000 worth of county evaluated property. Starting next year the tax will drop to 12.20 when the millage rate for payment of old debts is stopped, so that with the new tax the millage rate will be only 18.45, or 4 mills above the present rate.

"It's a small price to pay to insure adequate educational facilities for our growing community," Haggard declared.

School officials said they expect to have more than 23,000 students in Pontiac schools by 1964. There are now approximately 17,000.

2 Pay $75 Fines

BIRMINGHAM — Fines of $75 apiece were paid by two men appearing before Justice John J. Gafill on reckless driving charges yesterday. Pleading guilty were George W. Overton, 28, of Detroit, and Jefferson Mitchell of Grosse Ile.

Hopeful Parisian Won't Inherit City of Pontiac

A man in Paris, France, who apparently thinks he may have inherited a large part of Pontiac, will soon have his hopes squelched.

The news will come as a second blow to Charles Ponte, because he has already been informed that he didn't inherit General Motors Corp.

In a letter sent to Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson, Ponte explains that his name translates into English as Pontiac.

Ponte said he read a French newspaper story stating that a search was being made for the heirs of another Ponte who died in Argentina and whose estate included a motorcar company and another extensive holding with the name Pontiac.

Knowing that one of his relatives had visited the United States, Ponte wrote to "The Pontiac General Motors, but they informed me that the name of their firm is not connected with what I am looking for, that Pontiac is the name of a city . . ."

The Frenchman then wrote Donaldson asking if the mayor knew anything about the "Pontiac legacy."

City Police License 1,420 Bicycles Here

Pontiac Police said today that 1,420 bicycles were licensed last month during a two-week safety inspection program in cooperation with the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee.

Both police and committee members pointed out that the main reason for licensing bicycles, aside from the safety standpoint, was that bikes lost or stolen can be returned to the owner by checking the registration or license.

Many times an abandoned bicycle can not be returned, police said, because the youngsters, if they have not licensed their bikes, do not know the registration number.

Twins Meeting to Have Keynote of 'Double Fun'

"Double Fun" will be the keynote when the Michigan Twins Assn. holds its eighth annual convention June 19-20 at Port Huron.

Highlights of the affair at the Gratiot Inn will include registration at 8 a.m. June 19, dinner, dancing and a talent show. A contest to select the most identical, attractive, youngest and oldest twins has been scheduled for June 20.

Additional information about the convention may be secured by calling Richard or Robert Tennisword at Rochester, OLive 1-3100.

5 Communities Plan Interceptor Sewer

Preliminary plans for a 9-mile interceptor sewer were made by representatives of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village, Bloomfield Township and Southfield Township yesterday.

The sewer would stretch from Evergreen and 8-Mile road in Southfield Township to Evergreen and 14-Mile road. From there it would branch to 17-Mile road in Bloomfield Hills and to 16-Mile road in Troy Township.

Legal, financial and engineering advisers from the communities were instructed to decide on a method of allocating costs of the project and report July 7.

'Joe Must Go' Drive Lagging

Gore of Wisconsin Will Start New Campaign If This One Fails

SAUK CITY, Wis. (AP) — Leroy Gore, instigator of a recall drive against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), says if the movement fails to get enough signatures by tonight's deadline, he will start a similar campaign after the November elections.

Gore, editor of a weekly newspaper here, said that as of Thursday the "Joe Must Go" campaign had 375,000 of the 403,900 signatures needed by midnight tonight when the 60-day drive ends. He pointed out, however, that 88,000 of the 375,000 signatures had been invalidated when the dates of the drive were rolled forward almost three weeks.

Under Wisconsin law, 25 per cent of the vote for governor in the last election — in this case 403,900 names — are needed to bring about a recall election.

McCarthy has refused to comment specifically on the recall campaign. He has told his supporters to "pay no attention" to it.

"I don't want anyone spending any money opposing," McCarthy has said.

Gore said today that if the present movement fails, he will start all over again after the fall elections. He said it would then be easier to get the required number of petition signers. A record number of Wisconsin citizens cast ballots in the last gubernatorial election, but Gore predicted the election this fall will draw a lot less voters. He said 25 per cent of this year's total vote for governor might not be more than 225,000.

Gore said a final and complete statistical accounting of all signatures will not be released until Monday night.

Miss Shultes, 91, Dies Here Friday

Miss Florence Shultes, 91, teacher in the history department at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti for 26 years, died here at 2 p.m. Friday.

Miss Shultes had resided in Pontiac since 1948 making her home with her niece, Mrs. Goodloe H. Rogers of 25 Ottawa Dr.

Born in Seneca Castle, N. Y., Oct. 30, 1862 she was the daughter of Henry and Mary Hoose Shultes. She graduated from Michigan State Normal College in 1883 and also studied at the University of Chicago.

Miss Shultes taught school at Centerville, and Traverse City before going to the Normal College, retiring in 1918. She had been a member of First Congregational Church in Ypsilanti since 1894.

She also was a member of the Ypsilanti Chapter DAR, the Women's Literary Club and Red Cross and was active in church and civic affairs there for many years.

Miss Shultes derived much pleasure from travel and had made three trips abroad during her lifetime.

Mrs. Rogers is her only survivor.

Funeral will be Monday at 10:30 a.m. from Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home. Dr. William H. Marbach of First Presbyterian Church will officiate and burial will be at Martin.

Free Press Writer Wins Top Award in AP Contest

GAYLORD (AP)—A story that lifted a traffic accident out of the routine and dramatized its painful aftermath was declared the sweepstakes winner today in the 1954 Michigan Associated Press news writing contest.

The author, Charles Manos of the Detroit Free Press, effectively told what critical injuries suffered by a girl in the accident meant in physical anguish and financial distress.

Manos received a $100 award for the best story in the feature class as well as a $100 sweepstakes award.

Winners of the contest were announced at a meeting of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Assn. at nearby Hidden Valley.

Robert A. Hoving of the Jackson Citizen Patriot won the $100 top award in the general news class with his moving story titled, "Horror Replaced." This piece captured the emotion surrounding the release of Southern Michigan Prison guards held hostage during the 1952 prison riot and mutiny.

Russell Harris, of the Detroit News, was in Milwaukee when that city got back into major league baseball. His account of the inaugural, spiced with comments of rabid fans, won top honors and $100 in the sports field. Judges, members of the University of Michigan Journalism Department faculty, called this "off-beat type sports coverage."

Jack Pickering, veteran Detroit Times reporter, was given a special award for series and investigative writing. He rode with the Wayne County sheriff's patrol and followed up crime reports with interviews in a thorough study of juvenile delinquency.

Robert C. Herrick of the Flint Journal placed second and Robert S. Ball of the Detroit News third in the general news category.

Edwin W. Miller of the Saginaw News and Jack Germond of the Monroe News took second and third in the feature class.

In sports, Chuck Strathard of the Jackson Citizen Patriot and Jerry Hagan of the Kalamazoo Gazette were placed in that order behind Harris.

Second places and the special award were worth $25. Third prize was $10.

A total of 122 stories written by staff members of AP member newspapers were entered in the contest. Stories written in 1952 were held over and judged with those entered in 1953.

Michigan AP member newspapers provided the award money. Members of the contest committee were Lee Woodruff, editor of the Grand Rapids Press; Don Frazier, editor of the Adrian Telegram, and Milton Stewart, managing editor of the Monroe Evening News.

Wright Bryan, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, served as final judge and picked the sweepstakes winner.

Americans Begin Looking for Presidents' Birthplaces

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Now that summer is nearly here a lot of people are preparing for the rigors of touring by auto Mosquito bites, sun burn, flat tires, dyspepsia—the hazards are familiar.

But let's not forget one. That is the pilgrimage to the historic shrine, especially the birthplace of this and that President of the United States.

Many a father bent on fishing and many a mother determined to sun herself on a warm beach will drive many miles out of the way so the kids can see the birthplace of a President—just any President. And scarcely any of these Presidents was born beside a four-lane highway.

I know. I've visited the birthplaces of more Presidents than I can remember. That is because my father was an ardent fisherman.

Every summer he'd want to go fishing in a different part of the Northeast. To justify this frivolity he'd always hunt up a birthplace or two on the way. "It's educational," he'd say as we pulled up before another presidential birthplace. Perhaps it was, though it never had any noticeable effect on my history grades.

Have you ever visited the birthplace of James Monroe? Well, neither have I. Monroe was born in Westmoreland County, Va., and there may be signs all over the place now telling you how to find the house. But in the Model T days there weren't any, or at least we couldn't find them. We drove all over the county and had a flat and the radiator boiled over, but we never found the birthplace of James Monroe.

We made up for it that summer in Virginia, however, by taking in Wakefield (Washington), Shadwell (Jefferson), Port Conway (Madison) and Staunton (Wilson). Then there was the summer we joyfully killed two birds with one stone by visiting Quincy, Mass., where two Presidents have obliged the weary young pilgrim by being born in the same town. Thank you, John Adams and John Quincy Adams.

If you're determined to take the kids to a presidential birthplace and you are around New York this summer may I recommend that of Grover Cleveland in Caldwell, N.J. This home lies on a main-traveled road and the last time I heard of anybody knocking at the door there was no response. But it's well marked and the kids can go back to school in the fall and write a neat composition on "My Pilgrimage to President Cleveland's Birthplace."

The point of all this nostalgic thinking is simply this: What is going to happen about the birthplaces of the Presidents of the future?

Everybody is born in a hospital these days. Are we going to have plaques placed in hospital delivery rooms marking the birthplaces of Presidents? Impossible. You can't let droves of kids go trooping through hospital corridors disturbing the patients just so they can see the birthplace of President Melvin McIntyre (1984-1992).

There's another possibility. An expectant mother who is certain her son will become President could have her little future President at home—if the doctor consents.

But this, too, raises difficulties. Houses just aren't as permanent as they used to be. Or suppose the future President's parents live in an apartment? How will future occupants feel about all those tourists coming up in the elevator to gawk at the rooms?

It definitely appears from here that the birthplaces of future Presidents just don't have any future. That may be sad. Or it could be a great relief to generations of summer tourists yet unborn.

Brownell Talks on Successes in Weeding Risks

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—"We are trying to lock the door before the horse—or the A-bomb secret—is stolen."

That's what Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. told a Republican fund raising dinner here last night as he asserted the Eisenhower administration is weeding out security risks.

Brownell also praised the administration's program in general, declaring it had met the test in virtually every field.

He said the security program was designed not only to remove suspected subversives "but also to keep such people out in the first place." He added that persons must be considered security risks whose personal background or habits are not above reproach.

Brownell said the administration's gains include:

Fewer work stoppages; passage by Congress of the Tidelands Act; the Supreme Court decision against segregation; the halting of "a runaway inflation spiral"; easing the tax burden by 14 billion dollars.

Ike, Mamie Weekending at Catoctin Mountains

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower took it easy today at his Catoctin Mountain lodge.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived late yesterday at Camp David, named for their grandson, for a weekend of rest.

He and the First Lady had tentative plans to drive today to nearby Gettysburg, Pa., to see what progress has been made on the farm home they are having remodeled.

Property Sold, Road Fight Ends

County, Owner Settle Difference Out of Court; Fence Coming Down

An Oakland County Road Commission suit against a Waterford Township man for "encroaching on a public highway" by building a 160 foot long fence down the middle of Lynn stret was settled out of court today.

C. M. Sam Minchoff 77, of 1305 W. Huron St. accepted a $3,500 offer for the 30x160 foot section of land, with the stipulation that some body else tear down the fence.

The out - of - court settlement ended a two-day jury trial and a three-year attempt by county road commissioners to get Minchoff to tear down his $250 fence.

Records show that Minchoff bought the property in 1938 and road commission officials agreed that he owned the property when he built the first fence three years ago.

Minchoff said he erected his barrier when motorists began using his land for a free parking lot.

Chinese Reds Massing Troops Near Indochina

City Will Study Sewer Request

Detroit Firm Wants to Build 400 New Homes Along Featherstone

Pontiac City Commission last night decided to study a request for construction of a sewer to allow development of about 400 new homes along Featherstone avenue between the Grand Trunk Railroad and Opdyke road.

The request came from Victor C. Adler representing a Detroit firm owning about 400 acres in the area. Adler said that if the city constructs the sewer, the homes might be built this year.

Adler stated that as sewers are made available, his firm hopes to develop housing south to Auburn avenue.

Commissioners said Pontiac encourages new home construction as much as possible. But they said engineering problems had to be solved and money found for the project. The requested sewer might have to wait until more necessary work is done, they added.

City Manager Walter K. Willman stated that to service more than the first 400 homes an auxiliary sewage plant would have to be built at cost of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

The plant would service Pontiac's whole northeast section, he added. Adler estimated that a sewer to serve the 400 homes would cost about $65,000.

In other action, a request from Oakland County that Pontiac annex the proposed site for a new county office building was referred to Willman for more study.

At the request of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4), the Commission reconsidered action taken Tuesday night approving requests from Elks Lodge No. 810 to hold a rodeo at Wisner Stadium June 18 through 20 and a carnival at 114 Orchard Lake Ave. July 12 to 24.

Miles said he objected to the affairs being open on Sunday, but approved their functioning on weekdays. Only Commissioner Harcourt S. Patterson (District 2) supported him and the lodge was granted permission to proceed as requested.

Business Inventories Reported in Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has reported a big drop in business inventories, blamed by the Eisenhower administration for the economic lag of the past several months.

The Commerce Department said yesterday that stocks of unsold goods on merchants' shelves declined about 500 million dollars during April—the biggest dip since 1954 started.

The department said that inventories at the end of April were estimated at about $79,613,000,000 compared with $80,091,000,000 at the end of March.

Neither Greenland nor Liberia have any telephones, but there are 70,300,000 of the instruments in the world.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1954

Boys' Friend Honored

It was wholly fitting that Pontiac Boys' Club President Abe Lapides should become the fourth recipient of its Man-Boy award.

During his presidency and even before the club was organized, Mr. Lapides has taken an active interest in the city's youth. In fullest measure he deserved the commendation voiced by Monroe M. Osmun in presenting the award.

Besides being one of the club's founders, Mr. Lapides is a charter member of its board of directors. His contributions to the club's program make him a worthy colleague of previous recipients of the award — Chauncey H. Hutchins, William B. Hartman and Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The faith these men and many others have shown in the club has been more than justified by its accomplishments in the 10 years of its existence.

Not only is membership growing but Director William V. Coulacos reported there has been a notable decrease in juvenile delinquency in the clubs' area. Before the club was organized the rate in that neighborhood was the highest in the city and today, according to police records, it is the lowest.

We feel that the money devoted each year to the work of this fine organization is a sound investment in our citizens of tomorrow.

War on Litterbugs

There should be many a red face in Michigan because 35 national organizations deem it necessary to launch a nationwide war on litterbugs.

Recognizing the inescapable fact that we are a people with deplorably bad outdoor manners, the leaders of these groups have organized "Keep America Beautiful, Inc."

Among the founders are the National Council of State Garden Clubs, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Boy Scouts of America and the Izaak Walton League.

Their aim is to educate Americans so that our highways, parks and beaches will cease to be dumping places. Everyone will be urged to use the receptacles provided for empty bottles, cans, cartons, papers and such other litter as results from picnicking or camping.

In the opinion of William C. Stolk, chairman of the board of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., only a campaign of education leading to mass disapproval of litterbugs can cure this evil. If anyone doubts this disease infects cities, let him take a look at Saginaw Street during the Friday evening shopping hours.

The people of Pontiac as well as the millions who use our highways, parks and beaches owe it to themselves and others to observe the simple rules of good outdoor manners.

By always placing litter in containers provided for that purpose, they can save themselves money and keep both city and countryside more attractive.

State Fights Gypsy Moths

Everyone aware of the devastation which can be wrought by gypsy moths will approve the decision of the Little Legislature to make war on this imported pest.

Following discovery of the moths in the Lansing area, the the first seen in Michigan, it was decided that aerial spraying was the best method of preventing further infestation. An emergency appropriation of $150,000 has been voted to pay for immediate spraying of 104,000 acres in Ingham, Eaton and Clinton Counties.

In Europe the small brown gypsy moths do relatively little damage. But they have become dangerous to most trees and shrubs in this country since their accidental importation into New England in 1870. From 1890 on there have been extensive public efforts to eradicate the pest, but without success.

So voracious are the moths that they sometimes denude and destroy whole forests. Trees susceptible to attack include oak, apple, gray birch and willow. Only the white pines are immune.

The damage these insects can do is so great that infested areas are subject to quarantine. This would prevent shipment of everything stored outdoors, including new automobiles, until they have been inspected and found free of moths.

If this tri-county DDT treatment prevents reappearance of these insects, the money it costs indeed will have been well spent.

Nostalgic note: In these days of radio and TV we miss the covering of a big news story by an extra edition of the paper. Wireless communication has nothing to offer one-tenth as exciting as a flock of newsboys skallyhooting all over town yelling "Extra!" at the top of their lungs.

Even if it were possible to achieve a perfect world, if and when this was done, man would be a stranger in paradise.

"Necessity knows no law"—and expediency is almost as ignorant.

Is Glamor Vital?

Brake Stakes Campaign on His Contrast to Williams

By JACK GREEN

LANSING (AP) — It isn't very often a candidate for public office comes right out and says: "I ain't got no glamor."

But that's what State Treasurer D. Hale Brake has just done in his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor.

Mostly, politicians do everything they can to glamorize themselves. They adopt cute nicknames which their school friends never heard of. They take television lessons. They learn elocution.

They test flesh-colored makeup. They stick hayseed in their hair in rural districts. They learn to swill beer on one side of the block and then slip over to a WCTU tea with their little pinkie properly curled. They only sign their name in green ink.

But Brake stood right up in public at Grand Rapids this week and said bluntly, "If you want color in government, vote for Gov. Williams—not me."

Now, of course, there was a hooker in this unprecedented disavowal of the mainspring of American life, Glamo-o-o-r.

Brake said that if the people wanted ability in government personal experience in both the administrative and legislative branches, he thought he would fit the bill.

Brake's maneuver is regarded as a shrewd political move. It will be interesting to see whether it works.

For what the hard-headed state treasurer has done is offer himself as a contrast candidate to Williams, to seize what some consider his own weakest point and try to covert it into an advantage.

Brake, in effect, is replying forthrightly to the criticism of some Republicans that "we can't nominate Brake because he hasn't the color to beat Williams."

Brake says to them, "If you're looking for a glamor boy to beat Williams, you might as well give up right now. Williams has more political 'it' than all of us. Why don't we concede that and give the people a choice—a seasoned, experienced public official with a good record and a proven vote-getting ability?"

That is a real gamble. It took courage for a man to adopt that attitude when he wants very badly to be governer, when he has waited many years for the chance and when he has stepped aside repeatedly in the interests of party unity.

Brake said, also, that when you say he can't win because he isn't glamorous you aren't indicting him, you are indicting the voters; you are saying the people prefer the happiness boys to Joe Commonsense.

There is no question that Brake lacks glamo-o-or.

He is a stocky, powerfully-built, sandy-haired man with a jaw like Gibraltar and a pair of eyes that would chill a camel. He wastes no time in chit-chat—an obvious handicap in a political campaign, yet he can be extremely witty and a sudden twinkle can melt the frost in his eyes.

He is one of the most forceful speakers in Michigan public life today, writes his own speeches and usually puts some meat into them.

An attorney, former prosecuting attorney, state senator for eight years and state treasurer for 12 years, Brake also operates a 500-acre farm in Montcalm County. He organized the Michigan Institute of Local Government in 1943 to revitalize local home rule government.

He could be called the father of all these "student government days" which now are popular in Michigan high schools to give graduating seniors some idea of how government works from the lips of the men who work it.

So it would appear that Brake has some claim to call himself an experienced public official.

But, can he win without glamo-o-o-r?

Merger of United Presbyterian Churches Merely Proposal, Says Rev. W. Teeuwissen

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

National news coverage of the recently held meeetings of the General Assemblies of the Northern, Southern and United Presbyterian Churches has left the erroneous impression that their action taken actually constitutes merger. This conclusion is premature.

The action taken simply sent the proposed plan of union down to the Presbyteries for a vote. It is on this level that all such decisions are made in Presbyterian denominations.

This action, if favorable in the percentage of votes required by the individual denominations, must still be confirmed by the general assemblies meeting in 1955, with actual merger to be symbolized with the getting together of the three general assemblies in 1956.

Although it is generally assumed that the action of the Presbyteries will be in keeping with the decisions of the general assemblies of this year, at least in the case of the Southern church, this is by no means a foregone conclusion.

The almost unanimous vote of the Northern and United Presbyterian churches in approving the plan for action by the Presbyteries should at the broadest be interpreted only as indicating that those in attendance at these gatherings were willing that the Presbyteries should have the opportunity to decide whether there shall be merger or not.

The plan is furthermore so drawn up that if it is not accepted by any one of the three groups it is dropped by all three.

Our Religions Should Be Considered Great Honor

I have just finished reading "Voice of the People" and I just can't keep from saying what I think. I believe the column is very interesting and never miss reading it.

"Agnostica" wrote awhile back and knocked on our American religion. I notice he is at it again. After all, if a person wants to pledge to God then we should all be proud.

Only Russia thinks of the State and not of God and if this person doesn't love our God then he should take a "fast boat for Russia" as soon as he can. That was the quote he made before—remember?

Religion should never be considered as a shackle and chain but a great honor instead.

Pentecost, Whitsunday, Commemorated as the Birth of the Christian Church

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Seven short weeks ago the Apostles had been with Jesus in Jerusalem, celebrating the feast of the Passover. Now they were all together again in Jerusalem, keeping another Jewish feast, but this time their Lord was not with them.

In the second chapter of Acts the story is told that as the leaderless Apostles huddled together on the feast of Pentecost, they heard a sound "as of a rushing mighty wind," and tongues of flame appeared over their heads. This was the "coming of the Holy Ghost."

It was here that the Christian Church actually began. The Apostles, who up to this moment had been fearful men, concerned only with avoiding the fate that had befallen their Leader, now suddenly became aggressive to the point of recklessness.

The second chapter of Acts tells that they were now able to speak in any language necessary to communicate with the many foreign travelers in Jerusalem, and that 3,000 people were converted to Christianity on this first day of the Church's history.

The day of this mighty release of power from on high is commemorated each year on the seventh Sunday after Easter. In the Roman Catholic church it is called Pentecost.

In the Episcopal church it is called Whitsunday. An increasing number of Protestant churches are beginning to observe this festival nowadays.

June 7 is the Jewish Shabuoth, the Feast of Weeks, which came to be called Pentecost by the Greek-speaking Jews because pentecost means 50th and Shabuoth occurs on the 50th day after Passover.

This festival has a double character. It is an ancient agricultural day, the end of the grain harvest that began at Passover and concluded seven weeks later with a great pilgrimage to Jerusalem. Farmers from all parts of the country brought the first pickings of their barley and wheat, and of grapes, figs, and pomegranates.

These latter items also earned the day the name of Festival of First Fruits.

The second significance of the day comes from the tradition that this was the day on which Moses received the Ten Commandments from the hand of God.

After the Temple was destroyed and Jews were scattered to all parts of the world, the harvest emphasis of the festival tended to diminish and to be overshadowed by the commemoration of "the giving of the Law." The agricultural aspect is preserved in the Shabuoth decorations of both home and synagogue.

With modern Israel developing again as a crop - producing land, the old traditional ceremonies of Shabuoth are making a new comeback.

There are many legends in connection with the receiving of the Law on this day. One is that the Commandments were engraved on tablets of a sapphire - like stone, and that they had been cut there by the finger of God as His last act at the end of the six days of Creation. Another legend says that the Ten Commandments were given in 70 languages.

The Greek word "Pentecost" took some rather strange forms when it reached Northern Europe as part of the Christian calendar. In Germany it became Pingsten. To the Dutch it was Pinkster.

So it was that in early New York, the feast of the beginning of the Christian Church was Pinkster Day. And to the Dutch settlers it was a gay time, with the day itself and several days thereafter being devoted to an exchange of neighborly visits, for which everyone rode in flower - decked buggies or wagons.

It became the custom for the Negro population to take over the merriment on Tuesday, and because the Negroes at that point in our country's history were still very close to their African origin, the whole occasion soon deteriorated into almost a jungle orgy, with native drums and dances that struck terror in Dutch hearts.

By 1811 Pinkster Day had been legally prohibited by the state legislature.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Many Churches Needed in New Residential Areas

Here are 10,000 challenges to you retired clergymen: You have the trained leadership to accept. So how about launching skeleton church organizations in the newly mushroomed residential suburbs, even if you must hold meetings in cottages or home basements? Have pity on the millions of unchurched youngsters in America.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-324: Dr. E. Ellsworth Smith lives in Culver City, Calif. "I've been a minister for 71 years," he wrote recently. Started as a home missionary in the West during the transition from the public grazing lands to the Homesteader Era.

"I organized more than 100 churches by myself and helped erect 41 church buildings and parsonages.

"Why, I used to travel 25,000 miles per year, largely by horse. And that reminds me of a famous question I saw in the Christian Advocate over 50 years ago.

"It ran: 'Which is better: common sense or religion?' And the right answer was 'Common sense.' For if a man has common sense, he will get religion. But if he does not have it, no amount of religion will give it to him.

"Well, I certainly appreciate these daily psychology articles and especially the bulletins, too.

"I have had five weddings the past month and like to pass along to the newly married couples some of the sex bulletins and 'Tests for Husbands and Wives.'"

Dr. Smith is a religious dynamo. He personally typed a 2-page letter, single spaced.

And he gave me several relevant cases within his vast experience that were gems of practical psychology.

But my chief reason in mentioning him today is to show that a trained mind continues to function into a ripe old age.

He wants to organize a "Compliment Club" as a project for his local Masonic Lodge in nearby Beverly Hills. He is its Chaplain.

He also urges the formation of such a club by every woman's society in the various churches.

He does marriage counselling an is an avid reader. In fact, he gave me several references which he thought I'd enjoy reading in current American magazines.

He is a veritable dynamo of constructive religious zeal, and though almost as old as St. John, the Apostle, he is vigorously helping make this world more Christian.

So I am offering him and all of you other retired clergy 10,000 challenges!

For it has been estimated that we are critically in need at this very moment of 10,000 new churches in the United States.

These are not to be million dollar, ritzy downtown edifices. No, they can be church organizations even without buildings, for new residential areas have mushroomed all over our land.

Millions of children have NO church of any denomination within convenient distance of their homes.

So why don't you retired clergymen throw your trained energies into launching skeleton church groups in these critical areas?

Hold Sunday school in the basement of some home that is now equipped for ping pong and other youthful recreation. Such a basement would hold 50 kids.

And when you outgrow one basement, then you can recruit a second. You can preach to the adults in that basement, too, for that's where the Christian church started, namely, in the catacombs.

There is far too much money spent on elaborate church masonry nowadays. The worth of a church cannot be stated by the cost of the limestone edifice.

You may win more souls and do more good in a cottage church meeting than is being done in the million - dollar downtown church.

So help get these vital 10,000 church organizations going!

Baering Down

International News Service

It has been our self-funding opinion that things have never been as bad as amateur theatricals. Nor as good as Secretary Dulles claimed.

As a perpetual optimist Mr. Dulles rated with the old lady who didn't care what happened provided it didn't happen to her.

Our trouble shooter on the high velocity parallels swung an influential portfolio on the international circuit. Until he said something trivial about massive retaliation.

Whereupon our fair weather allies predicted clear skies and sunny neutrality for themselves.

France and England reminded Mr. Dulles that audience participation did not include getting into the cage with the lions.

Massive retaliation was lavendered away in the hope chest with the intimate things of international romancing. With it is the administration mirage of an atomic energy pool for peaceful pursuits. You will notice whenever peace is mentioned its a pursuit.

Moscow agreed to this proposition. It must have found an old affirmative rubber - stamp among the czarist loot. But there was a double snapper in the bon-bon. It said first there must be an agreement to scrap all atomic hardware.

Taking Bath Causes Itching for Some, Such Folks Wise to Shy From Water

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
THE MAIL BOX

Bathes to Itch

My husband hates to take a bath, he has such itching for half an hour afterwards. He has tried many different kinds of soap . . . (Mrs. H. R. W.)

Answer—He should use no soap at all, bathe as briefly and as rarely as possible and use only cool or tepid water, not hot nor very cold. Immediately after the bath restore to the skin the natural sebum (oil) removed by bathing, by means of one of the recipes given in booklet Save the Skin, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self addressed envelope.

Vitamin Eating

I was taking 1,445 units of vitamin D and 14,445 units of vitamin A, with pleasing results in the control of psoriasis. But a doctor here says it may cause "changes," that the vitamin business is a billion dollar racket, and that most people get all the vitamins they need from everyday food . . . (B. R. O.)

Answer—The quantities of D and A mentioned are within the normal daily requirements. What "changes" the doctor thinks an adequate daily intake of vitamins may cause, I can't imagine. If your doctor, or any reputable physician, will submit a specimen menu for 21 meals (a week) which will provide all the vitamin one needs, I'll be happy to print and distribute it as widely as possible, with or without the author's name, as he or she may prefer. It is my conviction that such a diet today is practically unavailable, or at best may be followed only by an expert nutritionist.

Impetigo

Granddaughter, 14, got a skin rash a week ago which was diagnosed as impetigo . . . (Mrs. A. C.)

Answer—Eruption of thin-walled blebs which tend to become pustular (matterate) and may be mistaken for "chicken-pox." Management is described in booklet Save Your Skin, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self addressed envelope.

Rheumatism

I began taking six Ca and D daily just a year ago. Now, although I was told there was no cure for chronic rheumatism I am cured—but I continue with the Ca and D just as you advise. I'm 84 years old . . . (H. T. J.)

Answer — Chronic rheumatism, rheumatiz or, if you feel a little snobbish about it, "arthritis," is, I believe, physical degeneration due mainly to nutritional deficiency over the years from childhood to maturity, and as such it is preventable in most instances or, if taken in time, curable in some instances. Send stamped, self addressed envelope and ask in writing for pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz.

Beriberi

Do I understand you to say that beriberi is as widely prevalent in the U.S. as it is in China or India, for instance? (Mrs. R. R. W.)

Answer—Whatever you may understand, Ma'am, I say beriberi is widely prevalent in the United States.

Mum Is the Word

The corn solution you recommend helped me a great deal, in fact kept me at work when I thought I'd have to quit . . . and your ear drops did the trick for me for a stubborn ear discharge I had had for years . . . (Mrs. F. M. F.)

Answer—For recipe for the corn remedy send 25 cents and stamped, self addressed envelope and ask for booklet Care of the Feet. Ask for the recipe for drops for running ear and inclose stamped, self addressed envelope. A clipping will not bring a reply.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Archery Attracts Many Fans

Would-Be William Tells Practice Historic Sport

Like the fashionable Londoners of the late 18th Century, Pontiac families are taking to the fields for an activity whose origin is rooted deeply in the earliest period of recorded history.

No longer implements of the hunt and the chase, the bow and arrow have served, in this area, to bring families and friends together in an out-of-door sport that continues through all the seasons.

Foremost among these aiming at targets in and around Pontiac are members of the 5-year-old Pontiac Archers Club. In our pictures we find Harold Hedges of Forest avenue, club president, and Mrs. Hedges, chairman of special events.

Speaking of special events — Pontiac archers are hoping to open the summer shoot on June 15 at the public range located just outside of Pontiac on South Telegraph road.

Bow and arrow fans in and around Pontiac are extending an invitation to all who are familiar with the snap of a bow string to join them at this shoot.

Al Tang of North Telegraph road, Pontiac Archers' secretary, will be happy to record entries by June 12 of all interested sportsmen (and that includes women and children, too). This will give him time to make up teams and assign handicaps.

According to club members, proficiency with the bow and arrow leads to bountiful trips in the northern woods. Officials have reported that last season there were 32,000 Michigan hunters who left firearms home in favor of bows and arrows.

The big range at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area is open to all archers, and equipment and free instruction are available at the South Telegraph road range.

Unlike Ishmael of the early Bible narrative, today's archers do not "dwell in the wilderness", but like him they are becoming "expert with the bow."

Mary Bushnell Becomes Bride Today

BIRMINGHAM — Mary Bentley Bushnell and Lt. William Albert Busch were married at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Baldwin Bushnell of Larchlea drive. She wore a white Italian silk taffeta dress fashioned on princess lines with the skirt falling into a circular train.

The yoke of the deep round neckline was made of Rose Pointe lace worn by Mary's paternal grandmother on her wedding day. The lace was repeated in the small round cap which held her fingertip veil of illusion.

She carried lilies-of-the-valley and white orchids.

Nancy Ann Jacobi was maid of honor, Eva Stone was bridesmaid and Barbara Ann Bardisban, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The senior attendants wore ice blue shantung frocks fashioned with embossed blue flowers around the low round necklines and matching jackets. Their flowers were pale pink geraniums with ivy.

Barbara Ann wore a rose frock with a white embroidered organdy pinafore. She carried a nosegay of demure roses.

Howard Harpst of Toledo was best man for Lt. Busch, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Busch of Grand Rapids.

Ushers included William S. Bushnell, young brother of the bride, William Cornack of Flint, John Gilmore of Grand Rapids and John Bachman of East Lansing.

Mrs. Bushnell wore a champagne-colored lace and net dress with a corsage of brown orchids. Mrs. Busch wore ice bluce lace with a corsage of white orchids.

A reception was given at Pine Lake Country Club. For the wedding trip to New England the bride wore a navy and white ensemble with navy accessories.

Lt. and Mrs. Busch will live at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Shelby of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Brown and Fred M. Bushnell of Mansfield, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Conway and Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft Kerr of Napoleon, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Hal K. Wilson, Mrs. Ethel Powell and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grow of Hamburg, N. Y.

Homemakers Use Billfold 5 Times a Day

Ever stop to think how many times a day you take out your billfold — to find change, show identification or photographs, find a telephone number?

According to a recent survey, you use your billfold from seven to fifteen times in an average day if you're a business woman. A homemaker, during the course of shopping, paying bills, uses her billfold a minimum of five times a day. And a man in business, depending upon his profession, uses his wallet anywhere from three to twenty times a day!

It makes sense to consider personal leather goods as important in the impression you create as your other accessories. Smartly dressed men and women do not wear rundown shoes or hats out of shape from too much use; their wallets and billfolds are also selected and used from the standpoints of both fashion and utility.

Most interesting, the survey showed that men are most reluctant to part with an old favorite accessory; a sentimental attachment or simple carelessness leads them to carry a billfold long past the waste-basket stage. Women change handbags by quickly transferring the entire contents from one to another with never a thought that the colors may clash, the dog-earned billfold may contrast sharply with the smart new purse.

Ideally, everyone should have several billfolds to change about with other accessories. When that's not possible, say the experts, alternate the use of two or three to save wear and prevent a fashion faux-pas.

Visitors from San Lorenzo, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Seeterlin with their daughter, Janice and son, Gary. They are visiting his parents, the Thomas P. Moores of Lochaven road, and his brothers, the James Seeterlins of Drayton Plains and the Don Seeterlins of Jones road. They are also visiting Mrs. Seeterlin's parents, the Raymond Butlers of Detroit.

Ellen Seeterlin, who spent the winter at West Palm Beach, is also a visitor at the Seeterlin household.

Dance Instructor Named by Theater

Dance director at Cranbrook Summer Theater this year will be Donna Cummings of Royal Oak, who will replace Marion Nevill Kirk for the season, which opens June 21.

Miss Cummings will provide choreography for the junior play and the senior musical, as well as teach dancing in all divisions.

A student of Prof. Luella Morse of Michigan State Normal College, she has been responsible for choreography and dancing in school productions for several years. Carl C. Wonnberger will direct the theater school.

Farewells Said to Mrs. Wilson

Friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Clara Wilson on North Perry street Wednesday to bid her farewell before her trip to the West Coast and Alaska.

First she will join her sister, former Pontiac resident Mrs. Rosa Summers, and Mrs. Summers' son and daughter-inl-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Summers, at Oxnard, Calif. Then the four will motor to Alaska where the Summers' will make their home. Mrs. Wilson will return to Pontiac later in the summer by plane.

Among those gathering to say farewell were the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Bankes, Mrs. B. F. Haynie, Mrs. Gordon Watson, Mrs. James Leach, Mrs. John Haynie and Mrs. Russell Woodbury.

It is not possible for a captain of a United States ship to perform a marriage at sea.

Brookside Pupils Have 'Supermarket'

A "supermarket" manned by pupils of Brookside School was open for business this afternoon as part of the annual Spring Festival.

"Brookside Supermarket," an opperetta-like production, featured first through sixth graders as actors and orchestra members. The score has been composed by Brookside music teacher William Casey, who directed the performance.

Barbara Liedtke Weds Robert Pickett

Palms and vases of flowers decorated the altar of Sunnyvale Chapel this afternoon when Barbara Ann Liedtke and Robert Louis Pickett spoke their marriage vows.

She is the daughter of the Alfred Liedtkes of Premont street. The Elmer Picketts of West Chicago avenue are his parents.

For the 4 o'clock ceremony the bride wore a floor length gown of white chantilly lace over satin and net. The scalloped bodice featured an illusion net and long lace sleeves.

Her chantilly lace head piece trimmed with seed pearls held a veil of illusion net. She carried a chapel bouquet of white roses, carnations and stephanotis.

JoAnn Robertoy was the bride's only attendant wearing a pale green full length gown. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

John Xenos was best man, and serving as ushers were the bride's uncles, Paul Collier and Desmond Smith.

A navy blue dress accented with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations was chosen by the bride's mother for the occasion and Mrs. Pickett also wore navy blue with a pink carnation corsage.

The bridal recital was sung by Mrs. Carl Hester, accompanied at the organ by Ponnie Sue Davis.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church parlors.

The bride then changed to a pink linen suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

After a Colorado honeymoon the newlyweds will reside in Drayton Plains.

Buttons Provide Decorative Note for Accessories

Buttons are headline news in the accessory picture this summer.

A fill-in ascot in crisp linen has a brand new look, thanks to button decor. Two rows of brightly colored buttons are sewn to each end of the ascot . . . what a wonderful way to perk up a suit or dark dress!

A plain jewel neckline becomes charming and new with a rounded collar of spanking white pique. This collar with its double bib effect is mounted on a straight band that goes 'round the neck and doubles across the front . . . making an anchorage for tiny ornamental buttons. Its lines have a look reminiscent of "Elizabethan" days.

Wide wings of white pique or faille accented with gold buttons make a collar that changes many necklines.

Equally versatile is the "teardrop" collar that disguises a high or low plunging neckline. Buttoned high at the neck, it crosses into two large "teardrops" . . . is trimmed with dollar size buttons in gold.

To complete the well-accessorized look, earrings can be made to match each collar!

JANET ANN HARRY

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Alcock of Lake Orion are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janet Ann Harry, to George W. Muto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Muto of Baldwin road. George is a graduate of General Motors Institute of Technology and at present is stationed in Bremerhaven, Germany, with the U. S. Navy. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. O'Brien Heads Chapter

New officers were chosen at the Thursday meeting of Psi Chapter, Sigma Beta sorority, at the YWCA.

Mrs. Eddie O'Brien heads the roster as president with Mrs. DeVere Games as vice president; Mrs. Eugene Russell, charity chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Thornberry, recording secretary.

Mrs. Kenneth Gannon is corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Deuman, treasurer; Mrs. James Taylor, editor, and Mrs. Raymond Meggitt, parliamentarian.

Installation will be held at a cooperative dinner June 17 with Mrs. A. F. Games of Dover road.

DAVID G. KLINE

A B.S. degree in education will be received by David G. Kline of South Parke street June 16 when over 800 students participate in the University of Detroit graduation exercises.

Is yours a family with a collective sweet tooth? Do they demand dessert every day?

Give them this date pudding, a recipe from Miss Esther Davis, and listen to their purrs of contentment. Miss Davis said you may even make this pudding a couple of days ahead of time.

Miss Davis is a teacher at Daniel Whitfield School, teaching first grade. She lists as her hobbies cooking and art work.

DATE PUDDING
By Miss Esther Davis

1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup chopped nuts
1 package pitted dates

Pour hot water over dates and let cool. Cream butter and sugar, add egg. Add date mixture, flour, soda and nuts to mixture.

Bake one hour in 350-degree oven. Cool and serve with whipped cream. This pudding keeps well.

Tan or stay fair, but keep a beautiful complexion with summer preparations. There's no chance of leathery-looking skin, no danger of a burn if you are protected with summer cosmetics right for your skin.

After Breakup, They Realize How Much Beau Means

Girls Cry, 'How Can I Get Him Back?'

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

It's not until it's all over and you aren't speaking to each other that you realize you've lost the person most precious to you.

You acted wise, maybe, threw your weight around, even thought the whole thing through seriously. You shut the door in his face. And now you want to open it again.

"How can I get him back?" is the general cry. "How can I make up for the harm I did and get things on the old footing?" Well, let's see if it can be done in cases like these.

Ellen went wildly jealous, put on a beautiful scene and wonders now why Jeff has nothing to say to her. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: At three consecutive church meetings this girl kept smiling at my boy friend and he flirted back. I took it but finally got mad and told him not to speak to me.

"When he came over to the car to talk to me I slammed the door in his face. Now when my girl friend asks him if he likes me he says he does as much as he ever did. But he doesn't speak to me much.

"When my girl friend asked him why he doesn't come out to the car to talk to me as he used to do he said he doesn't have anything to say to me. Then he added that he was having fun, he was free and going to stay that way for a while.

"I know it was my fault, but after going with him for a year I do like him an awful lot. How can I get him back?"

You admit blithely that it was all your fault, but do you really understand what a mess your jealousy cooked up? Some girl smiled at your boy friend and he smiled politely back.

Golly, there are probably dozens of girls who smile at him and get smiling friendliness in return. But not when you're around, say you to yourself. He's your boy friend and he'd better be reminded of it.

Instead of quietly monopolizing his attention, you went off in a huff and literally slammed the door in his face. You didn't give him a chance to explain how unimportant the whole thing was then He has nothing to say further on any subject now.

But you have. That girl friend seems to be a good go-between. See if she can't persaude him to come out to your car to listen to what you have to say. And make it plenty humble and apologetic.

Don't wait for him to take the initiative after that, either. If he accepts your apologies, assume that a bridge has been rebuilt between you. Go on from there, showing your friendliness and your awareness that a special relationship does exist between you. Maybe he'll take up your cue and cooperate.

Jane, on the other hand, made no silly scene. She weighed the various factors in her situation quite seriously—and after it was all over discovered that she had underrated the value of her boy friend. She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: After going with Jack for six months I broke up with him because I felt I was being left out by my friends in their activities. You see, we went to different schools.

"I've been sorry ever since. I have apologized to him, but I know I hurt him so deeply that my apology isn't enough. Is there anything I can do to get him back?

The two vital elements in your problem could have been reconciled, it seems to me. A positive break just wasn't necessary. Granted your boy friend wasn't handy enough to participate with you in the casual and impromptu doings of your crowd at school.

But he wasn't out of town or away at school. He was close enough for evenings and weekends. He could have been drawn into your school activities and could have become a regular member of your crowd just because he was your steady beau.

You could have become part of his school group in return. You could have shared each other's weekday activities—if they were important enough to bother with. You thought they were more important than he was, and you hurt him in putting him in his place.

With your eyes wide open now, you could add confession to apology and try to make it good by inviting him to join you in activities your crowd cooks up.

Convince him that you realize you sacrificed the important part of your life for secondary things. Perhaps such a measured and deliberate approach would find you together again.

IF size 40—

Invest in the waist-length jacket over dress for the one-piece look which is most slimming.

Mrs. S. F.—Continuity of button detail, from jacket to skirt, gives a one-piece integrated look. Pleats at center, back or front, or both, give the moderate fulness most flattering to the larger size figure.

Blackboard Eraser

A blackboard eraser is a handy household item, believe it or not. When dampened with dry cleaning fluid, it cleans spots from furniture and rugs beautifully.

It also doubles as a pre-dryer when washing windows, mirrors and auto windsheilds.

Otherwise, She Will Be Over-Tired

Girl Wants to Earn More, Yet Stay in Present Position

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have a good job," a young woman writes, "but it isn't paying quite enough to live on. I want to keep it, because the future is so bright, but the budget can't take it.

"Have you any ideas for after-hours jobs, evenings or weekends, which might supplement my income?

"I am an excellent secretary—that's my present ob. But how do I go about getting after-hours work?"

First of all, don't do secretarial work for your after-hours venture. You get enough of it all day, and it will tire you terribly to do more of it in your free time.

Moreover, it will make you stale, and your present ob will suffer.

Always try to get variety: a job in another field will not tire you nearly so much. It may even refresh you.

Here are some suggestions which other girls have found worthwhile:

Babysitting, evenings and weekends; doing alterations for a neighborhood tailor or dressmaker who needs help when he gets swamped; cooking dinners for a working couple; selling at shops which are open evenings and Saturdays; helping a decorator with curtains, slipcovers, etc.; teaching dancing at a studio which has evening hours; relief desk work at a hotel.

Naturally, you'll have to consider which skills you have, but jobs like these are a real change from secretarial work, and will refresh and stimulate you in addition to relieving the budget.

Watch the Help Wanted ads in your local paper, and answer any that look likely. Then, you might consider putting in an ad of your own for the kind of chore you can handle.

Think in terms of doing something for others which they need on a part-time basis, and which they will pay to have done.

But limit yourself to as few hours as possible; just enough to bring the money you need, no more.

Otherwise you will really get exhausted, and all the extra money will have to go to the doctor!

american designer's pattern

by Joset Walker

But Dress Looks Chic

Selvedge Pattern Is Easy

The easiest dress you will ever make is this selvedge dress, created by Paris-born American designer Joset Walker.

It is a dress that exemplifies both national sides of her background, for it is French in its economy, American in its short-cut system.

The entire collar is cut in one piece; the hem and collar are selvedged, which forms the trim, leaving a minimum of hand finishing. The bodice is molded to the figure by the insertion of a dart under the collar.

Mrs. Walker's original design was in cotton, but it would be equally delightful in denim, linen or sailcloth, but be sure your fabric is reversible.

This pattern is cut in designer sizes.

Bust	Waist	Hips	Size
35	25	36 inches	12
36½	26½	37½ inches	14
38	28	39 inches	16
40	30	41 inches	18
42	32	43 inches	20

Size 12 requires 4⅛ yards of 36-inch material for dress. To order Pattern 1102, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. P6, G.P.O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1. Add five cents for bank clearance if paid by check or money order. Airmail handling 25 cents extra.

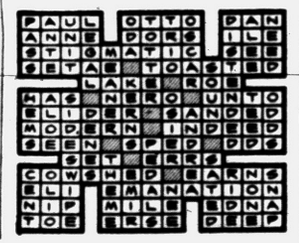
Manners MAKE FRIENDS

The mother who doesn't impress her son with the need for writing thank-you letters for gifts is likely to see him grow into a man who takes everything for granted.

Failing to say "thank you" is the quicket way in the world to cut down on the favors that come one's way.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



Single Girl Should Pay Hotel Bill

She'll Be Criticized if Host Takes Care of This Expense

By EMILY POST

The following letter is from a young woman: "A man I know very well has recently been transferred to another city. He has invited me to visit him when I get my vacation. He lives at a club and I will stay at a nearby hotel.

"I would like to know who pays the hotel bill. Shouldn't he be expected to pay this since he has invited me and I am his guest? I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: As an unmarried girl, you can hardly go to a hotel and have your bill paid by a man without risking criticism. Correctly, you pay your own hotel bill and he, of course, will take you out to meals and pay for any entertainment.

Dear Mrs. Post: How soon after her engagement is announced is it proper for a young woman's friends to give showers and other parties in her honor?

The friend I refer to particularly is not being married for almost a year, and some of us feel that it is as yet too soon to start giving parties for her.

Answer: A year is much too soon to start giving parties. When the wedding date has been set, her friends start giving parties for her.

Dear Mrs. Post: When light refreshments are served in the living room, and the hostess is still eating after her guests have finished, should she finish eating before removing her guests' empty plates, or must they be removed immediately?

This question has bothered me for some time and I would appreciate your opinion.

Answer: She should finish eating as quickly as she can and then remove all the empty plates.

The Water Carnival, which began Friday evening and is continuing through this evening, was the "big talk" on campus this week. "Forsooth and All That" is the theme of the two-day traditional spring term extravaganza.

Featured are 28 floats portraying Shakespearean quotations, three entertainment acts and water sports.

Among Pontiac students working on the Water Carnival is Judy Robinson of East Iroquois road, who sold programs Friday night. Evelyn Bochnig of Sylvan Lake helped with publicity and George Kimball of West Walton boulevard helped arrange the stunts and games.

Charlotte Booth of Whittemore street was escorted to the Bethel Manor term party tonight by Daniel Johnson of Mason. The party is being held at Pleasant Lake.

Mary Chase of Oliver street went to a student teachers' counseling camp at Clear Lake near Battle Creek this weekend.

Sunset Makes Summer Plans

Plans for the summer were announced at the Thursday meeting of Sunset Club at Wilson School.

The group will meet at the school once more in June, then the meetings will be held at Oakland Park. Summer plans include trips to Bob-Lo, the Michigan State Fair, Put-In-Bay and Detroit Zoological Gardens.

Mrs. Sylvia Sutton gave a reading and Mrs. Bertha Luke also entertained the group. A cooperative dinner was served, followed by a social hour.

AUGUST F. SCARPELLI

Electrical engineering is the field chosen by August Scarpelli of Central avenue who will receive his B.E.E. degree from the University of Detroit on June 16.

"Spring Frolic" decorations are prepared by (left to right) Mrs. George Pratt of North Edith street, Mrs. William Coulacos of East Sheffield avenue and Mrs. Abraham Ryeson of Elizabeth Lake road. The preparations are for the Sunday evening dance of Philoptohos Auxiliary to be held at 9 o'clock in the Hellenic Hall on Mariva avenue.

Patricia Colpus Repeats Vows With Richard Hague

A gown of white lace over taffeta fashioned in a ballerina-length was worn by Patricia Colpus this afternoon when she exchanged nuptial vows with Richard E. Hague.

A lace bolero jacket covered the strapless bodice and a halo of tulle and lilies-of-the-valley held her fingertip veil. She wore a single strand of pearls, and an orchid surrounded by lilies-of-the-valley formed her bouquet.

The 4 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. George Widdifield in All Saints Episcopal Church before 150 guests. Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colpus of Henderson street and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Hague of Drayton Plains.

Mrs. Dean Corbin of Waterford attended her sister as honor matron and Mary Jean Brown was bridesmaid. They wore similar dresses of aqua silk parkisteen in a ballerina-length with matching bolero jackets. Pink colonial bouquets of carnations and pink headpieces of lace and carnations completed their ensembles.

Pink net over taffeta was worn by junior bridesmaid, Judy Colpus, the bride's sister. Her bouquet and headpiece were of aqua carnations and lace.

Howard Willis was best man, and seating the guests were Leo Cooper and Charles Poppy, both of Drayton Plains.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Colpus chose a pale blue summer suit with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Hague wore a gray and black silk print dress with a pink rose corsage.

After a reception in the Rose Kneale Room, the couple left for a wedding trip to northern Michigan. The new Mrs. Hague wore a navy silk shantung suit-dress with the orchid from her bridal bouquet. On their return they will reside on Mount Clemens street.

De Erdley Works Help Gallery Mark 4th Anniversary

After a six-month tour of famous museums, colleges and libraries of the West Coast, the 35 most recent and impressive drawings by Francis de Erdely are now on exhibition at the Little Gallery on East Maple avenue in Birmingham.

Arriving just in time to help the Little Gallery celebrate its fourth anniversary, these works may be seen through July 10 from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. daily and from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. on Sunday.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, Mr. de Erdely continued his art studies in Paris and Madrid after graduation from the Royal Academy in Budapest.

In Spain his paintings were acquired by the Madrid and Barcelona museums and subsequently by collectors in Holland, Belgium, France, Australia and Czechoslovakia. More recently, the de Erdely works have been shown throughout the United States.

After a trip to the Far East where his works were exhibited in Singapore and Shanghai, the artist became visiting professor at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts at The Hague.

He came to the United States in 1939 and taught in Detroit, Birmingham, Pontiac and Ann Arbor before making his home in California. Since 1945 he has been professor of fine arts at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Reviewing this show for the San Francisco Chronicle, Alfred Frankenstein, the renowned critic, writes, "De Erdely proves again to be one of the great classic draftsmen of our time. Especially impressive are his pictures of the human figure.

"His works are not only magnificent in technique but also in the tragic, lyric and epic insight which they provide."

Odds are 20 to one that a child's speech will be normal.

New Stockings Coming Closer to a Custom Fit

The influential news this season is the beauty space showing beneath the hemlines—sixteen inches to be exact, a pretty fraction above what looked right last year.

Influenced by this new, stockings are now revealed to be every bit as cosmetic as anything that ever poured from a bottle. Now, sheer, close-proportioned, full-fashioned stockings are coming close to made-to-order fit.

Calculated to the exact number of stitches at all important fit points, like the ankle, calf, knee, and garter hem, stocking are now graded to leg contours as well as length and foot size. Better fit means more beautiful effect, less chance for snagging, and better wear.

Lutherans to Push Mental Health Work

By Religious News Service

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Two "firsts" in the ministry to mentally-handicapped persons were scored by the Minnesota Conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church at its 96th annual convention here.

The Rev. Walter P. Pearson, Attleboro, Mass., was installed as chaplain of the state mental hospital at St. Peter, Minn. He becomes the first church-supported full-time chaplain at any state mental institution in Minnesota.

The conference also voted to convert its Vasa Children's Home near Red Wing, Minn., into a home for mentally-retarded children.

The Vasa home has been caring for dependent and neglected children, but their number has been declining, it was reported. At the same time, the delegates were told, some 250 to 300 mentally-retarded children are awaiting admission to overcrowded state mental institutions in the state. No church institution is presently serving these children, it was said.

THE MAN WHO CAN

While visiting New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston I heard a lecture by the noted specialist on diebetes, Dr. Elliott P. Joslin. He stressed the fact that one may inherit the tendency to this disease. Because of this, one should know whether it is "in the family" or whether one of his forebears died of it.

To illustrate, he said "I know what my great, great, great great grandfather died of." "What?" I asked. He said, "he was hanged."

When the laughter had subsided he added, "He was hanged as a witch in Salem." Then, pointing his finger at me he said, "And you hanged him. It was the church folk who did it."

I had no rebuttal. He was only emphasizing the fact that his thesis applied also in the realm of morals. Diet is an essential here as in physical diseases.

Ezekiel says "the fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge." Shakespeare adds "this is thy eldest son's son, unfortunate in nothing but in thee, poor child. The canon law is laid on him."

The tendencies to both physical and moral diseases are potent in every individual but they are not fixed or final. This is the gist of the gospel.

Man is not doomed by the mistakes of his fathers. He is not enmeshed in a web of evil from which there is no escape. Man is something more than a bale of batten left on the doorstep of a relentless fate.

He is responsible for his own life. One day Tom Paine met Benjamin Franklin in London and asked him, "What is America like?"

Mr. Franklin replied "America is like a glorious promise or it is like a yoke about a man's neck,—depending on the man." The same—is true in life. Your destiny is up to you.

"Every Man A King" is something more than a stage fancy; it is a life fact, or may be, for every man is offered the divine right of kingship. "King" and "can" are the same word.

The king is one who can. He may be free regardless of the evil tendencies that would enslave him. The sour grapes of sin are neutralized by the sweet grapes of forgiving Grace.

"So nigh is graudeur to our dust, so near is God to man," when goodness whispers "lo! thou must," the king replies "I can."

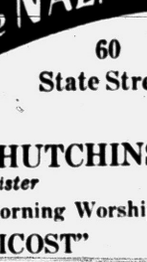
Confident Living

Faith Is a Power Line That You, Too, Can Tap

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Ben Lucian Burman, the novelist, tells about a hill country preacher who discovered a wonderful description of the power of prayer. This preacher walked out of his church and found one of his congregation standing with his arm thrust up in the air holding a ball of string.

"What are you doing there, Brother?" he asked curiously.



DR. PEALE

"Flying a kite," the man answered.

The preacher looked up at the blue, clear sky. "I can't see any kite," he said.

"Neither can I," the man told him, "but I sure can feel it tugging!"

Many people seem to feel prayer tugging these days. An old friend of mine in the South wrote me not long ago, "This is the prayingest generation that ever lived in this country."

My own experience bears him out. We undoubtedly are having a real spiritual renewal, the greatest resurgence of religion in a century. And it is marked particularly by the universality of prayer.

From the President in the White House and the members of Congress in our Capitol down to the least of us, people everywhere are praying. Not all of them go to church, but they pray nevertheless — and more and more of them are going to church every Sunday.

With all this interest in prayer, one of the questions most frequently asked of me is "How do I pray in such a way that it will bring a solution to my problems?"

First of all, pray with confidence that God will guide you about what to do and how to do it. Abraham Lincoln's simple trust in prayer, constantly demonstrated in his own life, reflected such a belief.

A reason many are ineffective in prayer is because of a lack of simple trust in God's guidance. Pray for specific guidance about specific problems and you will get it.

Second, be willing to wait for an answer. After having asked for help, let go the matter; leave it up to God. Successful prayer is based on how much faith you have.

"According to your faith, be it unto you." So do not worry or be anxious or doubting, for such mental attitudes indicate a shortage of faith. Believe that the right answer will come. Practice patience and faith.

Third, do not be afraid to ask big. A man I knew years ago and who was a great expert in prayer taught me his formula. "Think big, believe big, pray big." Some prayers are so little that God knows we do not mean them, and He only answers prayers that we mean.

Of course, He will turn us down sometimes. I have prayed for lots of things to which He has said, "No," but that did not destroy my faith. The great Indian poet, Tagore, wrote, "I have often been saved by His hard refusals."

Sometimes our prayers should be refused and it is to our advantage to receive a "No" answer. But always remember there is nothing for which we are not entitled to ask if we do so with sincerity.

Finally, I think our prayers must not take the form of asking for things, or even of giving thanks for blessings received. An even higher prayer level is to ask God to give Himself to us.

What I mean by this is illustrated by the story of a young man who was having a great deal of trouble and was trying to pray his way out of it. But he did not seem to get an answer. One day he prayed simply, "Dear Lord, be with me."

Almost immediately he felt a sense of inner peace. His mind became calm, and as a result he began to produce ideas, one of which was the solution to his problem.

Keep these basic principles in mind when you offer your own prayers and I am certain you will get right results.

REV. VALENTINE BICZYSKO

Fidelitas Medal to Be Awarded

St. Mary's College Graduate to Be Honored for Work as Priest

The Fidelitas Medal will be awarded the Rev. Valentino Biczysko of St. Stanislaus Parish in Nanticoke, Pa. by St. Mary College at Orchard Lake.

A graduate of St. Mary's, Father Biczysko is also a graduate of St. Thomas College in Scranton and St. Benaventure Seminary in New York. He was ordained at Scranton July 3, 1908.

In announcing the award, the Rt. Rev. Edward J. Szumal, rector of SS Cyral and Methodius Seminary at Orchard Lake said:

"Because he possessed a loving heart that was always sensitive to the spiritual, cultural and social needs of the faithful, he has fashioned of his priestly life the living fulfillment of the teachings of His Master and has proved himself a worthy recipient of the medal."

The presentation will be made by the most Rev. Joseph Rancans of Grand Rapids during the 65th annual commencement exercises.

Couple Will Build 2 Catholic Churches

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Inspired by devotion to their faith and blessings received, a Buffalo contractor and his wife are donating two churches to the Roman Catholic Church.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Troidl, will provide funds to build one church in East Bethany, N. Y., in the Diocese of Buffalo, and another at a site to be designated in the Diocese of Raleigh, N. C.

The gifts fulfill a promise made by the Troidls to Auxiliary Bishop Leo R. Smith, Buffalo, and Auxiliary Bishop James J. Navagh, of Raleigh, former head of the Buffalo Missionary Apostolate.

The Troidls pledged to build a church in each diocese symbolizing their high personal regard for the two bishops. Mr. Troidl drew plans for the East Bethany church and will turn the first spadeful.

Kirk in the Hills Organist Has Distinguished Record

F. L. MARRIOTT

Frederick L. Marriott is the new organist and choirmaster at the Kirk in the Hills. He was appointed last week, according to the pastor, Dr. Harold De Windt.

Marriott was graduated from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago with honors in organ. He also is a graduate of the Ecole de Carillon in Malines, Belgium, where he received his diploma with "grand distinction", a high honor given only eight times in the history of the school. He is the only carillonneur in America to hold the coveted award.

As a composer he was given first prize by the Jury of the Ecole de Carillon for his composition "Fantasie on 'Dat Men Eens Van Drincken Sprack." His composition won over submissions received from Belgium, France, the Netherlands, England, Ireland and the United States.

In making the announcement, Dr. De Windt stated, "We have a unique opportunity and a stirring challenge here at the Kirk. With the growth of membership and the plans which are under way for the completion of the nave and the installation of the new organ, there is a need for a full-time organist and choirmaster.

"We are most fortunate to have been able to obtain the services of Mr. Marriott. We believe he will provide inspirational leadership in this important phase of the activities of our church."

Continue Plans to Build Temple

Rejection of Columbus as Church Council Site Won't Halt Project

By Religious News Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Plans to construct a Temple of Good Will here to house Protestant agencies will be continued no matter where the National Council of Churches locates its headquarters.

The announcement was made by Dr. B. F. Lamb, president of the Temple corporation, after a National Council committee virtually ruled out Columbus as a site for its headquarters.

The committee indicated the field had been narrowed to a choice between New York and Chicago.

The Temple, Dr. Lamb said, will be built as a headquarters for Ohio and national Protestant groups. Until recently Temple supporters felt commitments from denominations should be obtained prior to the start of construction, he said. Now, however, he added, construction will begin and commitments obtained later.

The Temple corporation holds deeds for all but two parcels of a seven-acre building site in the heart of Columbus' downtown area. Dr. Lamb said the property, including an eight-story building, is worth about $2,300,000. He said the corporation owes $900,000 in mortgages on various parcels at the site.

Negro to Head Board of Army Chaplains

By Religious News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A Negro chaplain who was decorated for outstanding heroism in Korea has been named president of the Army's Chaplain Board, it was announced here.

He is Colonel John A. DeVeaux, African Methodist Episcopal of Miami, Fla., the Army's highest ranking Negro chaplain.

Chaplain DeVeaux won the Legion of Merit, second highest decoration the Army can bestow, for heroism with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea. Subsequently, he was senior administrative chaplain in charge of setting up a highly-successful program of ministry to North Korean and Chinese prisoners of war.

His selection as head of the Chaplain Board is the first major appointment made by Chaplain (Major General) Patrick J. Ryan, the new Army Chief of Chaplains.

Pastors Urge Restraint on Segregation Ruling

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.—The Ministers' Association here issued a statement urging "restraint, patience and humility" by the public in considering the Supreme Court ruling banning segregation in the public schools.

"We urge the aviodance of extreme statements, whether of defiance and threat on the one hand," the ministers said, "or jubilation and victory on the other hand, as tending to defeat our efforts in a time when we need to see clearly, think truly, and act bravely."

For a short time she was assistant at the local church here. She went to the border in 1951.

Treats 5,000 Yearly in Jungle Hospital

NEW YORK—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who has been called the greatest man of the 20th Century, reveals in a current magazine that he chose the African jungle as his permanent residence because Africa contains the largest share of the world's misery.

"We should all take our share of the burden of pain that lies upon the world," he says.

Dr. Schweitzer has spent the past 41 years healing and teaching natives at his medical mission in French Equatorial Africa. About 5,000 natives a year are treated at his jungle hospital in Lambarance.

Dr. Schweitzer is also famous as a Nobel Peace Prize winner of last year, at a Biblical scholar, mucician, biographer, philosopher and preacher.

CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED — Public dedication services for the new sanctuary at Bethany Baptist Church will start June 6 and continue through June 13. The formal dedication will take place at the 11 a. m. service Sunday.

New Bethany Sanctuary to Be Dedicated Sunday

Members and friends of Bethany Baptist Church will gather at the 11 a.m. service Sunday to dedicate the new sanctuary to the worship of God.

Dr. W. James Niven, pastor of the church from 1939 to 1942 will preach the dedicatory sermon. Dr. Niven is now with the public relations department of Franklin College, Franklin, Ind.

The Rev. Fred R. Tiffany is pastor of the church. Dr. Rufus M. Traver, organizer and first pastor, will give the prayer of dedication.

Miss Elda Sutter, organist and choir director will play "Adoration" by Purvis for the prelude, and "Priere-Offertoire" for the offertory. The choir will sing "Fear Not, O Israel."

At 7:30 p.m. a candlelight Communion service will close the day's activities. The Rev. Wilbur Bloom, executive secretary of the Detroit Baptist Missionary Society, will preach. Memorial furnishings presented as gifts will be dedicated at this service.

A Community banquet is planned for Wednesday at 6:30 with Mrs. Aden Thornton as chairman. No tickets are being sold for this banquet but reservations will be received until a capacity is reached.

Forrest Brown will be toastmaster and Dr. Ralph T. Andem, executive secretary of the Michigan Baptist Association, will be the speaker.

Following the banquet guests will visit all the rooms and the sanctuary.

The week-long activities will close with the worship service on June 13.

The Rev. Edward W. Ulrich, an American missionary, uses a flying boat in servicing a mission area in a remote interior valley of Netherlands, New Guinea.

Laud Mission Work After World Tour

NEW YORK — A group of 22 Presbyterian men and women lauded the missionary work their denomination is doing after completing here a 59-day, round-the-world tour of its mission installations in 14 countries.

In the course of the tour which began early in March, the group covered more than 30,000 miles, traveling by virtually every known means, and talked with some 200 Presbyterian missionaries in 17 stations on three continents.

Among the 16 mission schools, colleges and universities they inspected were the new Japan International Christian University, near Tokyo, and Presbyterian College for Women at Beirut, Lebanon.

One member of the laymen's party reported on his return that he was so impressed by the work being done that he intended to turn over half his life savings to Presbyterian foreign missions work.

Missouri Synod Tops 2 Million Membership

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Membership in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod topped the 2,000,000-mark at the end of 1953, according to the denomination's annual statistical report issued at headquarters here.

The Rev. Armin Schroeder, Synod statistician, said that membership rose 79,690 to a total of 2,016,660, an increase of 4.1 per cent over 1952. The Synod has 4,013 pastors.

Contributions for the denomination's work throughout the world totaled $80,221,031, only $1,652,106 less than in 1952 when an extra-budgetary $13,000,000 collection was taken up for missions and higher education.

Fund Campaign Reaches Goal

England Thanks World for $1 Million to Repair Westminster Abbey

LONDON — A worldwide fund drive for the repair of Westminster Abbey has reached its goal of 1,000,000 pounds ($2,800,000), it was announced here.

To mark the occasion a thousand balloons were released bearing "thank you" messages to the press and radio of the English-speaking world for helping along the drive.

A tablet also is to be placed outside the Poet's Corner door of the Abbey to commemorate use of the first printing press in England by William Caxton.

"The moving response to our appeal from men, women and children all over the English-speaking world should insure the safety and life of the Abbey for many years to come," Dr. Alan Campbell Don, Dean of Westminster, said.

The fund campaign was launched a year ago by Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill who asked 1,000,000 people throughout the English-speaking world to subscribe a pound sterling ($2.80) each. He said the Abbey's monument and stonework were "falling into decay" as a result of the ravages of time. The Abbey is almost 900 years old.

Graham Reports Britain Near Spiritual Awakening

By Religious News Service

LONDON—Great Britain is on the verge of the greatest spiritual awakening in its history, Dr. Billy Grahm said here after he closed his three month London crusade.

In a press interview, the American evangelist summarized the achievements of the campaign he launched here on March 1.

He said "decisions for Christ" during the crusade had been about three times as many as he had experienced any place before.

The success of the crusade, he said, answered questions raised when it was inaugurated as to whether the methods of the Billy Graham team would work in Great Britain.

For three months, Dr. Graham said, great crowds had come to Harringay Arena "and the interest today is far greater than at the beginning, and the crowds turned away are larger than ever."

The evangelist answered those who feared showmanship and publicity might have undue influence in drawing crowds by citing the team's experience with meetings relayed to other cities over post office transmission lines.

"In these cities," he said, "people sat in crowded auditoriums with the complete absence of showmanship and only the disembodied voice to listen to."

In terms of percentages, he added, the responses at some of these relayed meetings had been greater than at Harringay Arena.

Dr. Graham noted that his audiences had been drawn from all social strata.

"There were church leaders," he said, "those prominent in social circles, many scores of peers and members of Parliament, big industrialists, and many thousands of working people."

He predicted that the greatest effect of the campaign would be felt in the churches.

Stressing that his team would establish no organization in the wake of the campaign, and if one were formed "I would repudiate it," Dr. Graham said they were "sending the campaign results right back to the churches."

He added that many churches had already reported increases in membership and attendance and many had also reported substantially increased giving.

The evangelist said that since the beginning of the campaign there had been a growing interest and willingness to cooperate on the part of the churches.

Dr. Graham said he had been particularly impressed by the response of undergraduates at the universities of Oxford, Cambridge and London, adding:

"Almost every religious awakening must begin in intellecutal circles."

Great Britain, he said, was nearer a spiritual awakening than America.

"I feel the destinies of our two people are linked," he said. "We should get together spiritually as well as for military and economic and political purposes."

New Bethel Set for Big Concert

Mrs. Murray to Direct City Wide Choir Union Sunday Afternoon

Directing the spring concert of the City Wide Choir Union Sunday will be Mrs. Annie Mae Murray. The concert will be held at New Bethel Baptist Church, 175 Branch St. at 3:30 p. m. The Rev. W. H. Bell will be host pastor.

Mrs. Sarah Lawrence is organist and Mrs Lee A. Stewart, president of the union.

The program will open with the Negro National Hymn. Numbers will include "Onward Christian Soldiers", Simeone; "Roll Chariot", Noble Cain; "City Called Heaven," Jackson; "Hush Hush, Somebody Called My Name," Kramer.

Others will be "He's Able to Carry You Through," Carr; "Kentucky Babe", Geibel; "Let Mt. Zion Rejoice," Herbert and "Ringwald's "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Marie James will play a piano solo; Charles Twitty, a bass solo and Frances Rollins will give a reading.

A memorial service will be held followed by a solo by Mrs. Roy Cummings.

The Rev. Donald E. Morris of St. John Methodist Church will read the Scripture and the Rev. J. Allen Parker of Newman AME Church will offer the prayer.

The Choir Union, consisting of all the Negro choirs of the city meets once a month in one of the churches. It was organized by J. L. Keel April 9, 1940 for the sole purpose of promoting a better understanding and a closer fellowship between the churches.

Each month the collection is left with the host church, but the collection from the spring concert goes to the union for incidental expenses.

Britain, U. S. Slate Exchange of Pastors

The Interchange of Preachers, under the cooperative plan administered jointly by the British Council of Churches and the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States, provides each summer opportunities for preachers from each country to appear in churches in the other country. Increasingly this undertaking is recognized as a significant contribution to better understanding, internationally as well as ecumenically.

This current year, the British guest preachers were chosen from among those who would be representing their home church bodies at the Second Assembly of the World Council at Evanston.

In the list of exchange appointments appears the Rev. Cana A. W. Eaton, vicar of St. Peters, Leicester, and honorary Canon of St. Martin's, (Church of England) Leicester, at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Anyone interested in having one of the guest preachers from Britain in 1955 may communicate with the Department of Ecumenical Relations, National Council of Churches, 257 Fourth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Rededicate Statue of Religious Liberty

By Religious News Service

PHILADELPHIA — Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish lay leaders participated in a ceremony here rededicating a Statue of Religious Liberty presented to the United States by national Jewish organizations in 1876 at the time of the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition.

The ceremony was sponsored by B'nai B'rith, Jewish service organization.

Principal speakers were vice president William W. Tomlinson of Temple University, representing the city's Protestant community; Judge Robert V. Bolger of Philadelphia Orphans Court, a Catholic layman, and Sidney G. Kusworm, chairman of B'nai B'rith's national commission on Americanism. William N. Gerber, national vice president of B'nai B'rith, presided.

Adventists Hold World Meeting

108 Nations' Delegates Present at Convention in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO — Seventh Day Adventists during the past four years contributed $72,866,639 for the work of the Church throughout the world.

This was disclosed here this week by W. H. Branson, the denomination's world president from Washington, D. C. who spoke at the opening session of the 47th Adventist international convention.

Addressing delegates from 108 nations, Branson reported the building of some 2,000 church structures since the last quadrennial meeting and an increase of 29 per cent in church membership, now nearing the million mark.

Important evangelistic centers have been established in London and New York, he said.

The president's address stressed a sense of urgency within Adventist ranks.

"We believe that foreboding conditions in the world today, especially the armament race, are a definite fulfillment of Bible prophecy pointing to the second advent of Jesus Christ.

Judy Garland to Win Oscar for New Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Even though the Oscar derby is not even half over, it is safe to predict that Judy Garland will win next year's Academy award.

Does that seem rash? You would certainly think so. Most of the top contenders haven't been seen yet, including "A Star Is Born." But such are the mechanics of Academy awards that Miss Garland is virtually a lead pipe cinch.

I reason this way: Four million dollars has been spent to showcase her talents. Her husband, Sid Luft, is the producer. The director, George Cukor, is noted for wringing peak performances from actresses. The role, engagingly played by Janet Gaynor in the first version, is a tour de force. Miss Garland undoubtedly will be good, perhaps great.

And you can't beat the sympathy vote. The Garland comeback, after her personal and career troubles, is a sure ballot draw.

The Oscar, if it comes, will climax one of the strangest film projects in many years. Before his marriage to Miss Garland, Luft's previous claim to fame concerned various fistic encounters on the Sunset Strip and a stormy divorce from Lynn Bari. His previous experience had been producing quickies at Monogram and his own film on the life of Man O' War.

Hollywood watched in wonderment as the bill mounted for Warner Brothers, which had previously fired large numbers of its staff and undergone other economy measures. The shooting lasted longer than any film in years and isn't over yet. Remaining to be shot is a big production number, reported to cost $100,000.

The film was troubled from the start. Casting of the Fredric March part posed a problem. Among those mentioned: Henry Fonda, Stewart Granger, William Powell, Robert Young, Humphrey Bogart, Vic Mature. The assignment of James Mason caused a large letdown in some quarters.

The set was open to the press for a few days during the long shooting. But most of the time it was closed tight. There were reports that the film had five cameramen in succession and that Miss Garland tiffed with wardrobe designers and vocal arranger Hugh Martin.

There was another report that on one day the cast and crew were ready on the set but Judy didn't show up. Concerning the long schedule, director Cukor said that Judy was giving a splendid performance and was unable to sustain it for more than a few hours a day. But he said the added expense was worth it.

"A Star Is Born" has given Hollywood much to talk about in the past year. And the town will still be talking next March when, I predict, Judy receives an Oscar, just as she does in the picture.

Says June Haver Certain to Wed Fred MacMurray

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—June Haver's spokesman is "very certain" the actress and actor Fred MacMurray will wed but says no date has been set.

Mrs. Carl Johnston, a family friend, sent out invitations yesterday to a lingerie shower for Miss Haver next Thursday, her 28th birthday. June was unavailable for comment.

MacMurray recently purchased a new house for a reported $135,000. His former wife, Lillian, died a year ago after 17 years of marriage, leaving their two adopted children, Susan, 14, and Robert, 10.

One of Oakland County's Oldest Towns Looks Forward

Milford Sees Bright Future

Expects to Feel Effects of Growing Industrial, Residential Expansion

(This is the 13th in a series of articles describing population and industrial growth of communities in Oakland and adjoining counties.)

By HARRY J. REED

Milford, one of the oldest of Oakland County's towns, has as bright a future as some of the most recently established.

With wide expanses of undeveloped land, it stands to play a leading role in the rushing development that is the picture of Oakland County today.

As evidenced now the development will be both residential and industrial, as growth extends from the congested metropolitan Detroit area.

HOUGHTON

President of the 122-year-old village, Don Houghton is one of many residents who feel they are currently "in the calm before the the storm" as far as expansion is concerned.

"Our growth is slow, compared to other booming areas, but all the homes have been nice ones, houses that we're proud of," Houghton says.

He estimates that 25 dwellings were constructed in 1953.

One drawing card which attracts future residents is the beautiful Kensington Metropolitan Park, which brings thousands of Detroit residents every weekend. It aptly displays the gracefully sloping terrain which is so typical of the township.

The names of the large corporations holding land in Milford Township indicate what the future holds for the area.

Besides its large, 400-man carburetor plant the Ford Motor Co. owns some 500 acres. Chrysler Corp. has a large tract in the southern part of the township, and General Motors has several large sections besides its tortuous testing track for military vehicles.

Also within the village is the Agnew Electric Co., producing welding equipment, Pneumatics Co., making pneumatic valves, and Skuttle Manufacturing Co., which makes automatic dehumidifiers for warm air furnaces, steam and hot water systems.

A Detroit firm since 1935, Skuttle exemplifies the trend to move out of expensive, congested city locations, and into wider spaces of Oakland County.

"We changed locations last December for more space which we couldn't get at a reasonable price in Detroit," president Russel Geisler reported.

BOYLE

From his cubby-hole office in a corner of the crowded office, Postmaster Vincent Boyle watches new residents add to his woe.

"We've added about 175 families during the past four years, and we'll soon be a first class post-office if our receipts keep climbing," he stated.

Supt. of Huron Valley Schools Harold Hansen keeps his finger right on growth statistics, vital to his job of educating the youth of the area.

His student population has risen from 1,703 in 1948 to 2,390 right now. Voters approved a $650,000 bond issue for elementary schools in September, 1952, to meet the expansion.

An indication of the influx into the pleasant recreational area is provided by figures from Norman Ball, manager of the Oakland County State Bank.

BALL

"Our steady growth is shown in the increase from 1950 to 1954 of our total assets, from $3,610,000 to $5,200,000," Ball stated. During that period, deposits rose from $3,200,000 to $4,700,000. The bank was expanded three years ago, and already needs more space.

"Our growth is not the booming kind," Township Supervisor Howard J. Reid says, "because so much land is held by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, and the State Department of Conservation."

He estimates these two agencies currently hold about 4,500 acres within the township limits.

"However, we all know that Milford Township is going to grow, and we're going to try and be ready for it," the supervisor stated.

"Our zoning ordinance is one good step, Reid said, "in planning the future development."

Huron Valley to Benefit

Children to Offer Services in Planting Tree Seedlings

MILFORD—"You buy 'em, and we'll plant 'em." That's what children in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be telling property owners in the Huron Valley Schools area.

The children will offer their services to land owners next year in planting tree seedlings under a new reforestration program originated by Arthur Burklund, elementary school superintendent.

Burkland got the idea when a teacher, Mrs. Esther Melphrus, purchased 2,000 tree seedlings from the state for her four acres of property on Milford-Highland road.

Burklund took two sections of sixth graders out, and they planted the seedlings for Mrs. Melphrus. He says the idea of "doing" was met with enthusiasm by the children.

So much enthusiasm that he wants to promote the idea to other residents in the area for reforestration and conservation of trees already planted.

So the children will offer to plant trees for land owners beginning next year.

Last year Mrs. Melphrus attended Higgins Conservation School under a scholarship offered to a teacher each year by the Milford Garden Club. She purchased the seedlings after attending the school, which teaches about animals, plants and man in relation to the environment as well as conservation practices.

Residents in the area who wish to plant trees are urged to get orders in for seedlings as soon as possible for fall planting, because the supply of the state is limited.

There is a minimum charge for Red, White and Scotch pine trees in order to encourage the planting of trees in Michigan, according to Burkland.

Northville's Future in Oil Is Appraised

LANSING—What are the possibilities of a big oil field developing in the Northville area?

State conservation department geologists say they will know better after "core" tests have been made in the Trenton formation.

To date, no uncrushed samples of the rock have been brought to the surface for testing.

When they are, tests will determine how many tiny pore spaces the rock contains and how much connection there is between the pores.

These two factors—porosity and permeability—are vitally necessary before oil can be drawn to the surface.

To think of oil as lying in "pools" beneath the surface, like underground lakes, is a generally erroneous idea, the geologists say.

Petroleum is most often found in veins of rock containing countless tiny holes, all connected one to the other by microscopic passages.

150 Guests See Couple Wed in Milford Church

MILFORD—Ione Marie Thomas and Melvin King were united in marriage in a ceremony May 22 at St. Mary's Church of Milford before 150 guests.

Ione is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thomas of 1124 White Lake Rd. The bridegrom is the son of Mrs. Naomi King and the late Delbert King of 4240 Sleeth Rd.

The bride wore a white lace floor length dress with a mandarin collar, long-pointed sleeves and a fingertip illusion lace veil. She also wore a string of pearls and carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and carnations.

Serving as maid of honor was Helen King, sister of the bridegrom. Bridesmaid was Loann Thomas, sister of the bride.

Serving as best man for his brother was Gerald King. Ushers were Donald Gottschalg of Plymouth and Terrance Barrett, also of Plymouth.

A reception was held at the Oddfellow Rebecca Hall in Clyde before the couple left for a wedding trip through Northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

The bridegrom, employed at General Motors Proving Ground, attended Plymouth High School. The bride, employed at Harvey Container Corp. at Plymouth, attended Milford High School. They will live at 522 E. Commerce St., Milford.

OES Chapter to Meet at Clarkston Monday

Graduation Held at North Branch

73 High School Seniors Receive Diplomas After Talk by UM Dean

NORTH BRANCH — "You Can Take It With You," was the subject of the commencement address, given by Mr. G. C. Wilson, dean of admissions of the University of Michigan before the high school graduates Thursday evening.

Stressing the changing times, he stated that more changes in living have developed in the past 50 years than in the previous 300, making necessary new techniques of application to meet these conditions.

He declared that new technological courses have made vast changes in the school curriculum.

The danger lies in allowing spiritual development to lag behind technically trained minds, a condition conducive to educated criminals, more dangerous to society than illiterate ones, he said.

Following presentation of honor awards, scholarships and the class gift, Board of Education President John Simmons gave a brief address. Supt. C. Wesley Clayton presented diplomas to the 73 graduates.

Cottage Destroyed by Flames Friday

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—A summer cottage, valued at about $4,000, was destroyed by flames last night at Walter's Lake according to Clarkston Fire Chief Don Beach.

The owner, N. C. Zack, told Beach that no one was in the cottage, located at 8895 Mohawk, at the time and the electricity was not turned on.

Zack was quoted as saying that he believes the fire was started by youngsters who gained entry to the boat house which is located below the main living quarters.

The frame cottage was all aflame when two fire engines arrived, Beach said. Firemen worked in the area for almost three hours. Oakland County sheriff's detectives are investigating.

Child Guidance Group Planning New Program

LAKE ORION — Lake Orion Child Guidance Association, headed by Mrs. James Rose of 1443 Beach St., is planning an organized summer recreation program for all children six to 14 years old in the community.

The Village Council recently, after hearing a delegation from the association explain the need for such a program, voted to support the program with $400. Councilmen also authorized the use of village property for recreation.

Spokesmen for the association said $1,000 must be solicited for the project from civic groups and individuals.

James Hoag, coach and science teacher in Lake Orion High School, will head the program which is scheduled to begin July 1 and continue each week day until the middle of August. There will be softball, volleyball, story telling, doll parades and swimming classes for the children.

Civic Association Meets Tuesday at 8

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Commerce Lake Civic Assn. will hold its second organizational meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Union Lake school, Union Lake and Commerce rds.

Speaking at the meeting on civic matters will be George Scrub, director of the Oakland County Planning Commission, and Orrin Gulley, chairman of the Southfield Township Zoning Board.

Property owners in sections 9, 10, 15 and 16 and in the northern half of sections 21 and 22 are invited to attend.

Officers of the associaton report membership in the organization "is growing steadily" and committees are being appointed.

Officers are Ewald Schaffer, president; Edward Oldencamp, vice president and membership chairman; Daniel Katon, secretary, and Roy J. Fleming, treasurer.

JOICE A. BARNETT

Graduating from King's College, near Wilmington, Del., Sunday as valedictorian of a class of 50 will be Joice A. Barnett of Keego Harbor. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barnett of 2322 Pine Lake Ave., she will receive a bachelor of arts degree in Christian education.

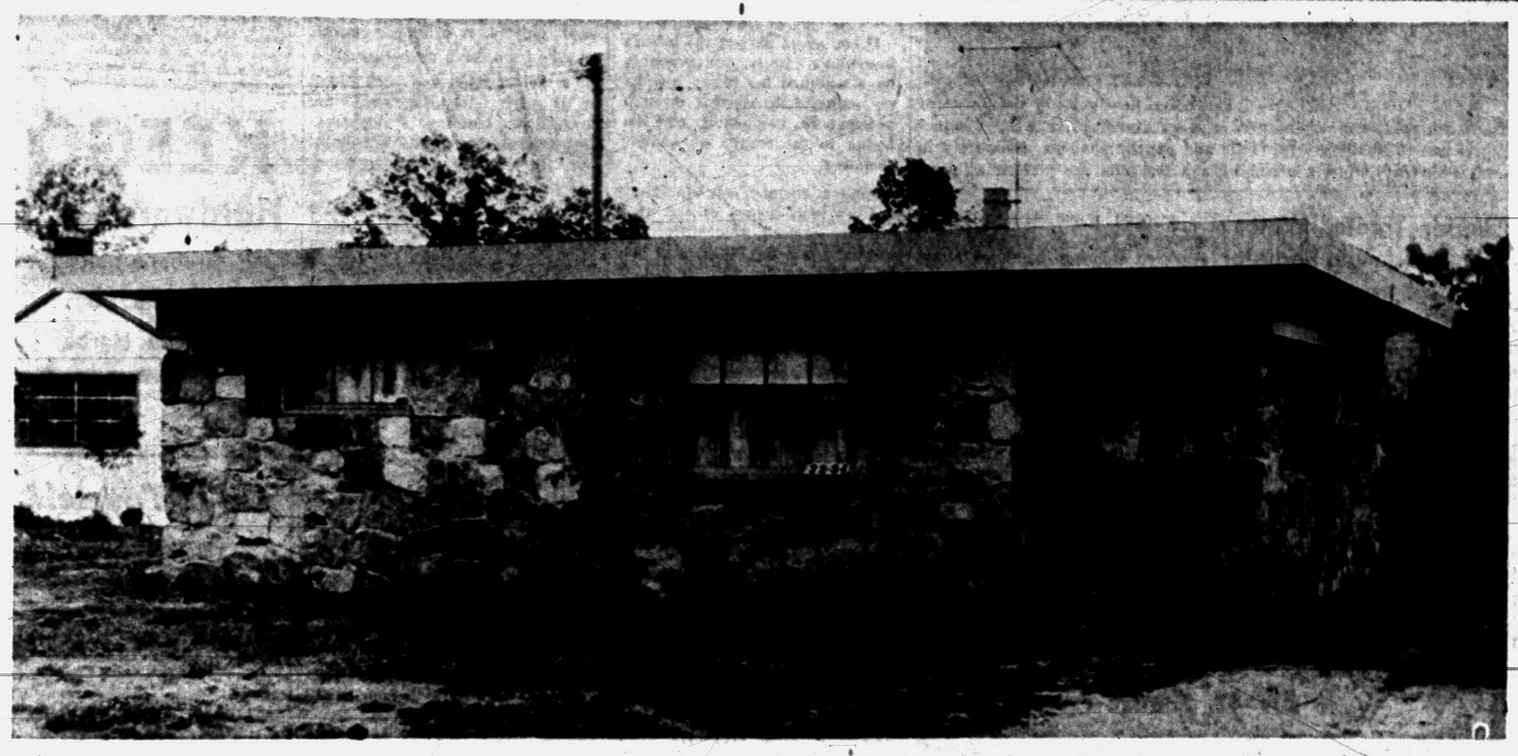
"REVOLT OF THE ZOMBIES"

background for LIVING



STONE BUILDS $2,000 HOME—Mr. and Mrs. William Cowan, of 2234 Allerton Rd., built their own home with fieldstone gathered from farmers' fields and nearby roadsides. They figure it cost them about $2,000. Their floor plan includes a large living room with dinette area, kitchen, two bedrooms and a bathroom. They plan to add a breezeway and a garage. Cowan says he learned to cut his own stone although he had never worked with that material before. He is a welder with the Fisher Body Division and claims that anyone who has the basic knowledge of tools and takes time to figure out plans can build his own home.

Your Neighbor's House

Missouri Handyman Proud of His Home

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

A slow-talking, soft-voiced Missourian, transplanted to Michigan by choice, is indeed a proud man.

He is a homeowner; and he is a taxpayer (which according to William Cowan, of 2234 Allerton Road, Pontiac Township, should be the goal of every man).

Furthermore, the four-room native fieldstone home built by Cowan and his wife, causes him to experience the same swell of pride as would a mansion.

Cowan is typical of thousands of other adopted Michigan residents.

He was lured here by the promise of higher wages in local factories, but when he came, he decided to put "down his roots" and spend his money where he made it.

"Besides, we like the standard of living here. And up and down this street are people just like ourselves. They have, brick by brick and block by block, built their own homes," he points out.

But the Cowans built their home stone by stone.

"All my life, I dreamed of owning a stone house," he says. "Down in Missouri, you don't see many stones. Here in Michigan, they are there for the picking along the roadsides and in farmers' fields."

Cowan grew up believing that if any man wanted a thing badly enough, and if he was willing to sacrifice for it, he could have it.

Recalling that he had no money when he started out, except enough to pay for the two lots he has on Allerton, Cowan said he and his wife began their daily drives with their home-made trailer to find stones for their home.

"People wondered why I didn't built a frame house. I simply told them because I could not afford it. A stone house is cheap if you learn how to select and cut your own stone," he said.

Stones have grains, just like wood, Cowan said.

"You take a 16 pound hammer and hit it. If the hammer bounces, turn your back on that stone. If a piece snaps off, there is some future in that stone. Remember to follow the seams and hit with a 'boxing lick' (with a slight twist before hitting) and this will cut your stone," he stated.

The footing for his home is the only job he hired done. Total cost of the house, Cowan figures, is about $2,000.

Some stones weigh about ½ ton. The Cowans watched their colors and blended the pinks with the grays to produce an attractive exterior.

There was no frame work to go by. They simply put down four corner stakes, used string to keep their lines straight and kept their stone wall about a foot thick.

A special mortar recipe for stone work is offered by Cowan who says that you "work it until you can squeeze it tight and it won't drop out of your hands."

Mrs. Cowan who worked side by side with her husband through the two summers of building with the stone said she calls it the "soft ball stage."

Fine sand and no pebbles must be used in the mortar and they also recommend the use of rubber gloves.

Top stones should be flat, say the Cowans, who emphasize that it was necessary to "tie in" the stones as they built up.

The mortar line, they said, should be kept as small as possible. This preserves the "natural look."

When the stone wall was completed, the Cowans left one foot of dead air space between that and the inner wall.

This serves as a natural insulator, the Cowans said, because the moisture absorbed by the stone drops down to the ground and does not penetrate the inside walls.

Reclaimed lumber was used for the interior wall and for the sub-floor.

The roof, flat with a slight pitch, is built so that the pitch stops four inches over the back wall. Water does not run off the roof, but flows to the low point where gutter pipes take it to the ground.

A two-foot overhang borders the house, and the plywood underside of this has a slight pitch.

The interior of the house has a large living room with a small dinette area, a kitchen, two bedrooms and bathroom. Dry walls were employed, securely taped at the seams and sanded off before painting.

Cowan is proud of what he was able to build with his own hands, but claims anyone with a common knowledge of basic tools who is willing to spend a little time figuring out things can do the same.

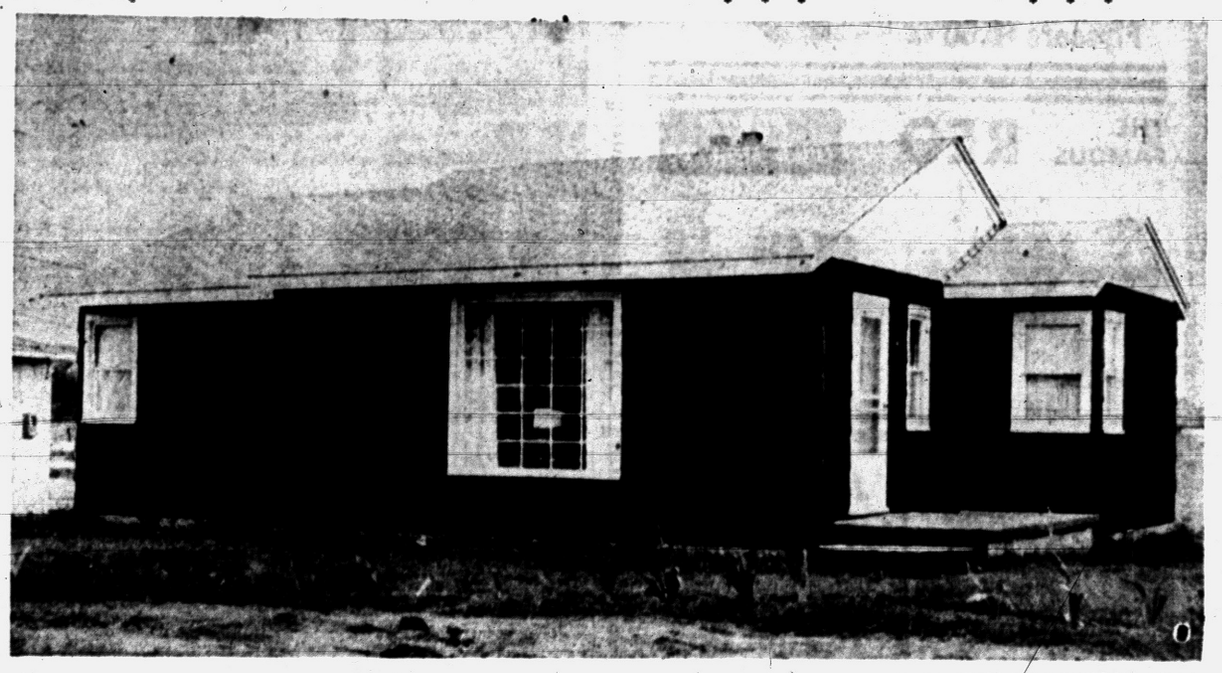
LOG HOUSE OWNED BY STAFFORDS — Wood moves right indoors in the Harvey Stafford home, at 2060 Allerton Rd. Cedar paneling, from ceiling to floor, is used on all the living room walls and has a graciously scalloped cornice effect marking the ceiling line. Birch woods are employed in the upstairs master bedroom with its full-sized walk-in closet. A ledgerock fireplace centers one living room wall and the outside chimney of the house is of fieldstone. Hardwood floors are installed throughout the house and there are many built-in features such as a concealed TV unit, clothes closets and many other storage areas. Once a year, Stafford treats the vertical log exterior of his house to a varnish bath. He says he uses a spray gun which allows him to do the entire house in a day's time.

BEGINNING IN STONE — Shortly after the first few rows of stone were mortared up, the Cowans took this picture. The only line they had to follow in their construction of this natural fieldstone was a string suspended between four corner posts. Cowan warns that in selecting stone, the grain should be watched just as in wood.



RONALD DRAKES HAVE RED SHINGLE HOUSE — A spacious five-room house with bathroom was built by the Ronald Drakes, at 2143 Allerton Rd. Plans were drawn by Mr. and Mrs. Drake and they included a large living room with one wall of ledgerock. This is centered by a fireplace. The exterior of the house is of red cedar shakes. White is the trim color. Variegated gray shingles for the roof give the illusion of blending in with the skyline. Red coloring has been mixed with the concrete for the front and rear porches.

ROBERT CLARKS BUILD THEIR OWN — A cousin of the Cowans, Robert Clark, of 2206 Allerton Rd., Pontiac Township, lives in one of the many handmade homes on this street. The Clarks chose a five-room, white shingle model and used gray as the trim color. This same color outlines the doors and windows and is again picked up in the garage door hue. The backyards of the Cowan and Clark homes will be integrated with their built-up terraces joining. Stones left from the Cowan house helped build a rock garden for the two homes. Perennial plants are in full bloom in this terrace with steps placed to make the lower section of the yards accessible.

CINDER BLOCK TAKES WHITE PAINT—Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weiler, of 2084 Allerton Rd., have discovered that cinder block, if painted, needs an annual coat to keep it gleaming. A six-room model on one floor, the house is trimmed in red and is designed after the California contemporary houses.

Tip for Home Handymen: Lay Your Own Concrete

Have you ever considered doing your own concrete work? The materials are inexpensive, and so are the tools needed. What's more, with a little planning beforehand, the job can be done quickly.

To minimize the work, keep these points in mind: Have the materials delivered as close to the job as possible. Make sure running water is handy. If a job calls for more than three sacks of cement, borrow or rent a mixer and wheelbarrow.

With the forms in place, these mechanical helpers will let you pour a lot of concrete. On really large jobs, consider having the concrete delivered pre-mixed.

For the most jobs around the house use one part cement, two parts sand and three parts gravel or crushed rock. Use about 5½ gallons of clean water per sack of cement; a little less if the sand is damp.

For good results, always keep the water-cement ration constant. Each sack of cement holds one cubic foot. With the proportions recommended, one sack of cement will give about four cubic feet of concrete.

The first step is to lay out the project carefully, then excavate and level the ground. Use a cord as a guide in laying out the job.

Make the forms of 2-inch lumber and stake them along the outside edges. Use a level to align the forms and establish the grade. Oil the forms to prevent sticking.

Mix small batches of concrete on most any flat surface. Or, construct a bottomless measuring box that will hold one cubic foot of

Long-Gone Days

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UP) — Coffee: 25 cents per pound—and a bundle of tobacco thrown in for good measure! That's the deal you got back in 1775, according to the account book of one Tom Lufkin, who ran a general store here in those days. The 179-year-old account book was found by Edson Ricker, a carpenter, while he was remodelling the attic of a farmhouse.

Approximately eight tons of 36 per cent nickel-iron alloy castings were used in construction of the structure to suport the 200-inch telescopic mirror at Mount Palomar Observatory, California.

Fluoride Treated Water Won't Hurt Auto Radiator

City water treated with fluorine to deter tooth decay is harmless to modern automobile radiators, according to A. M. Wauters, chief research engineer for Ford Motor Co.'s engineering staff.

He said Ford engineers recently placed radiator materials in strong solutions of sodium fluoride and they suffered no pitting or corrosion from their contact with the chemical.

At present rates the U. S. will use 50 billion tons of coal in 100 years.

Gift of Furniture Valued by Brides

Accessory, Occasional Items Easiest to Select as Presents

You'll never go wrong if you give furniture for a wedding gift.

Even if you don't know the bride's particular furniture style selection, chances are that she has registered in her favorite stores. This will help you choose just the right furniture gift.

If you are a part of the bride's immediate family, you probably have watched for many months the enthusiastic pouring through newspapers, magazines, and listening to the results of window shopping.

Being a member of the family you are well aware of the style furniture desired, since there is a growing trend for families to help the bridal couple with a gift of furniture.

If you are a friend rather than a relative of the bridal couple, your gift will undoubtedly be an accessory or occasional item.

These are items the bride does not purchase until after she has selected the necessary pieces for her home. There is little chance of duplication when you select furniture gifts a la carte.

Because they accessorize, these are pieces which do not have to adhere strictly to the style and pattern of the basic piece selected.

Here is the ideal opportunity to help the bride of your acquaintance add the conversation piece to her home furnishings.

In this category, what could be more appropriate than small tables, small chests, wall racks, slipper benches, ottomans, book shelves, or a hostess cart.

The variations of these items are many. Their effectiveness, as useful and decorative pieces, is equally as important as the larger items.

The small tables are available singly, in nest form, or stack style. Even the smallest table may have drop leaves. It may be set on casters for simple and quick conversion from a lamp table to a serving table for impromptu refreshments.

Blooms in December

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Sub-freezing tempatures couldn't prevent the signs of spring from showing up in the backyard garden of Mrs. Frank Filanowicz. Several pinkish-purple crocus buds were discovered growing in her garden late in December.

Complete the job of pouring concrete within a half hour after mixing. Recheck the form alignment. After pouring, level the surface with a strikeboard, using a saw-like motion as you move forward over the concrete.

Soon after striking off, smooth it some with a wood float. Later, when the sheen disappears, float the surface again. For a smooth finish, follow second floating with steel troweling.

Don't Paper Over Shellac

While you can apply new wallpaper over old, watch out if the old paper has been coated with shellac or some other finish to make it washable. New wallpaper won't hold well to this sort of surface and so you must either wash or sand off the finish or, what's usually quicker, remove the old wallpaper.

MODERN PLASTICS — Gray mahogany wood-grain laminated plastic distinguishes this kitchen. The cabinets are ready-made, but illustrate what the handyman can do with sheets of this new material.

New Laminate on Market to Refinish Dingy Cabinets

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you are bored with the old kitchen cupboards and can't afford to buy new ones right now, you can dress them up with laminated plastic sheeting available in wood-grained patterns—oak, pine, mahogany and maple.

high pressure laminate in 4x8 foot

Home handmen may find this sizes at building supply dealers.

If it is to work properly old cabinets must be of smooth construction, and at least ¼ of an inch thick. Or it can be used on new cabinets of inexpensive plywood.

The handyman will need an 11-point hand saw for straight sawing, a scroll saw for cutting curves, a fine file, a block plane and a kitchen rolling pin. Materials include the laminate, adhesive and heavy wrapping paper.

The wrapping paper serves as a pattern. It is cut to the exact dimensions of the counter tops. It is kept between the cemented surface and the laminate until the laminated cover is ready to be put in place.

This separation gives you the opportunity to size up the project before the laminate touches the cement, and becomes immovable.

The laminate is cut about a sixteenth of an inch larger than the pattern all around. This surface may be planed off later when the laminate is cemented.

The edge is then beveled with the file to improve its appearance and make it perfectly smooth. The rolling pin applies pressure when the top is cemented down.

Many new homes have cabinets of this type. The cabinets are also available ready-made in department stores. Usually the interiors of these cabinets are enameled in a color to harmonize with the wood grains of the outside.

These laminates are said not to need waxing or polishing. Their surface is said to be proof against ordinary household stains—alcohol, acids, bleaches, ink, etc. They are supposed to be highly resistant to cigarette burns and boiling water.

Mathematics Assist When Buying Paint

Before painting a radiator, be sure to clean it thoroughly. To protect the floor while painting, slide a stiff piece of paper under the radiator. Use a long-handled 1½ inch brush and paint the insides of the flutings first.

To estimate the amount of paint needed for the various surfaces of a radiator, measure the front area and multiply by seven. If, for instance, the radiator is three feet high and four feet long, there'd be 12 square feet of area — times seven — or 84 square feet for which you'd need paint.

Tap Chatter? Look Inside

When a water faucet starts to chatter you can be pretty sure that the trouble is inside the faucet—not the plumbing. Probably either a worn part or a loose washer.

ELLIOTTS EXPAND—Expanding its work area and display space, the Elliott Furniture Co., 5400 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township, has just completed its new building. Built of face-brick, the company now has a working area of 7,140 square feet and 2,400 square feet of showroom. A family enterprise, the company was founded in 1920 by Emerson Elliott, father of the present owners, Harold, Ross, Stuart and Leonard Elliott.

Over 450 Cadet Homes Planned Around County Soon

A new pre-fabricated home, designed for simplicity and ease of construction, was unveiled this month for Pontiac buyers by two local firms.

Construction of this home in the near future will total well over 450 in two Oakland county locations.

According to A. S. Johnson, president of the Johnson Construction Co., of Birmingham, over 100 new National Homes "Cadet" models are planned for Sunshine Acres, near Sahsabaw and Maybee Rds. in Independence Township. Harold Colwell, president of Colwell Homes, Inc., 4057 West Maple Rd., has built 250 "Cadets" in the Walled Lake area.

Models are open for public inspection by both firms in their subdivisions.

Both two and four Bedroom models are available in the "Cadet". It features the new modern open beam ceiling. Exterior and interior walls, basically the secret for much of the savings of construction, are of paneled dry-wall and come ready for painting. The Cadet is not a shell home, according to both Colwell and Johnson, but is ready for immediate occupancy with all wiring and plumbing installed.

FHA financing is available. The low down payments will be an attraction for prospective buyers.

Family Enterprise Started As a One-Man Operation

What started out to be a one-man business has developed into a family enterprise with 23 employes for the Elliott Furniture Co., at 5400 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township.

In 1920, Emerson Elliott founded the company, running the complete operation himself. This included woodworking, refinishing, upholstering and selling.

His four sons, Harold, Ross, Stuart and Leonard, were trained to specialize in the four divisions of the business.

A new building recently has been added to their headquarters giving them a working area of 7,140 square feet and a sales and display room of 2,400 square feet.

The structure, of face brick exterior, has three interior planters for inside decor.

Custom furniture builders, the Elliotts build their own frames and design many of their own pieces. They specialize in contemporary, traditional, French provincial, and a group of authentic Victorian reproductions.

New materials in upholstery, such as foam rubber, fiberglas, latex hair, etc., are being used by the Elliotts.

Electric Wind Tunnel Tests Airplane Wings

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Cornell University aeronautical engineers are now using an electric wind tunnel to determine how certain forces act on airplane wings.

The new tunnel does the work in a fraction of the time it takes a conventional tunnel or by computation.

The device stimulates the flow of air by passing electricity through liquid. It gives engineers the "lift" pattern for any wing shape and any sub-sonic speed.

Don't Paint Over Grease

Paint won't hold over grease or wax. Before painting wipe wax off a surface with turpentine. Dishwashing detergent in water will remove grease.

A wood rasp is a very coarse file for removing excess wood down to a sanding level in places a plane can't reach. After using a rasp, clean it with a wire brush and oil it lightly to prevent rust.

Remove Drawer Knobs Before Applying Paint

When painting or varnishing the drawers from desks or dressers remove the knobs and fasten them temporarily to a section of corrugated board — like the top of a carton.

This simplifies the task of painting the knobs and keeps them in an excellent position wile they are drying. With the knobs out of the way, it's easy to get a smooth snag-free finish on the drawer front.

WET BASEMENT?

Lick It With This ONE-TWO PUNCH!

FIRST—STOP THE LEAKS AT ONCE WITH DIKE!

Simply mix Dike with water to form a putty-like cake, and plug it into the holes or cracks. Almost like magic you will have created a strong, firm barrier that will hold back even heavy water pressure. Dike stops water flow AT ONCE. And it won't turn dark or "bleed through" the Peerless Cement Paint you apply over it.

SECOND—KEEP YOUR BASEMENT DRY AND MAKE IT DECORATIVE WITH PEERLESS CEMENT PAINT

You'll find Peerless Cement Paint is far easier to apply than any cement paint you've ever used. And because of its higher portland cement content, it produces a stronger, more durable coating that effectively seals out moisture (on both interior and exterior applications). Peerless Cement Paint not only will keep your basement bone-dry (if you have first sealed off the holes and cracks with Dike), it will also beautify it so you can turn it into a workshop, recreation room or cheerful laundry.

12 BRIGHT DECORATOR COLORS AND GLEAMING WHITE

One of the few masonry paints containing Titanium Dioxide, Peerless Cement Paint has greater hiding power — produces a more attractive appearance on exterior block, brick or stucco walls as well as basements. Available in 12 lovely decorator colors and dazzling white, it offers you a wide range of attractive color combinations.

BETHANY BAPTIST PREPARES FOR DEDICATION—To be officially dedicated this weekend, the new Bethany Baptist Church at the corner of Huron and Mark Sts., Pontiac, is a combination of contemporary and Early Christian architecture. At a cost of $220,000, members of the church, architect, Ray Ward and contractor, Ward Ross, Inc., designed and built the church. Huge, parabolic lined arches are interior features of the church proper. The two ends of the church also feature arches of brick.

Congregation to Dedicate New Addition to Church

"God sends no Churches from the Skies,
Out of our hearts they must arise."

A milestone in Bethany Baptist Church history will be marked this weekend when the congregation witnesses the dedication of their new church.

Located on Huron at Mark Sts. this new structure represents the cooperative efforts of many years by the membership, and the sound planning of those who are responsible for the physical construction of this Early Christian and contemporary red brick edifice.

The architect, Ray Ward, and the contractor, Ward Ross, both are members of the church.

"It was interesting, too, to note that many of the people who worked on the church also attend church here," pointed out Architect Ward.

The original part of the church was Early Christian in line. The new addition is a careful integration of modern and that traditional style found in many church buildings.

The beauty of the church is derived from its proportion and color. Costing about $220,000, the complete unit now gives Bethany Baptist facilities for a full religious education program as well as a center for community activities.

The church interior was designed around the parabolic arch, Ward said. Huge, fir arches line the wall of the church proper with the two ends of the large room formed by full brick arches.

Shipped from Oregon where they were made, these arches have a 46 foot span at their base. This is the width of the church. The length of the new structure is 95 feet. Combined with the original building, the total length is 150 feet.

The ceiling is plastered with acoustical material and the acoustics of the building have been mathematically determined to provide a reverberation per one and a quarter second when the church is 50 per cent occupied.

At the chancel end of the church, where all the wood matches the pews (natural red oak treated with white filler) a stained glass window in the form of a cross is placed high in the brick wall. A specially designed lighting fixture will keep the cross lighted for special occasions and will be illuminated during the dedication week.

The floor is in rubber tile. The aisle and chancel are carpeted.

The basement area houses a large Sunday school room, which in the future, will be divided by folding doors. Also included downstairs is a ladies parlor, a small kitchen, toilet rooms, a special baptismal room, choir and music rooms.

Housed in the lower portion of the tower section will be the church offices.

Planning ahead for future developments in the church, Ward had the conduits for a public address system and an air conditioning facility included.

The architectural firm was Schley and Ward; the contractor, Ward Ross, Inc.

Lead Paint Washes Clean

Stains from copper screens, flashing, and gutters can be washed off of lead based outside paints, but if the paint contains zinc they are more or less there to stay. You can, however, conceal them with a dab of paint.

Northwood '42' Sales Zooming

Over $1 Million Worth Bought Within 10 Days at New Subdivision

Northwood "42," the extensive new subdivision launched a few weeks ago at Middlebelt and Orchard Lake Rds., has hit an all-time high with a record $1,119,300 sales in 10 days.

Sales, now being handled by the Gordon Williamson Co., over the Memorial Day weekend gave the developers contracts for 74 houses within three days.

The builder of the subdivision, Northwood Building Co., has introduced a new-type of home plan offering four bedroom homes and two bathrooms in their contemporary one-story designs.

These homes, with combination brick and shake exteriors, will number over 400 in the Oakland County area when completed.

Dave Lukacher, president of the building company, said that his company now is erecting 10 homes per week. He said sales since the beginning of the development have hit approximately $1,693,300. The homes sell for $14,350 complete.

Beauty Not Always Practical in Houses

The woman who lives in a house is likely to be a better judge of its decoration than an impartial outsider, because she knows not only her own taste but also her family's requirements.

She also knows that, however beautiful some furnishings may be, they rob her of time.

She can introduce color into the home through easily cleaned floors, no-iron draperies, and fabrics which wipe clean with a damp cloth.

130-Unit Project Started in Waterford Township

Builders and developers of the successful Northwood "42" subdivision at Middlebelt and Orchard Lake Rds. have launched a 130-home project in Waterford township.

Next week ground will be broken for the first 39 homes west of the Dixie Highway, about ½-mile south of Waterford Village.

Most of the homes will be located behind Our Lady of the Lakes Church.

To be known as Northridge "42," the houses will be one-story, contemporary designs with four bedrooms and two baths.

According to White Brothers Realty, of Waterford, exclusive sales agents for the project, the lots will be 88x125 feet. Blacktopped roads, they said, will be built in the subdivision with an artificial lake bordering part of the area.

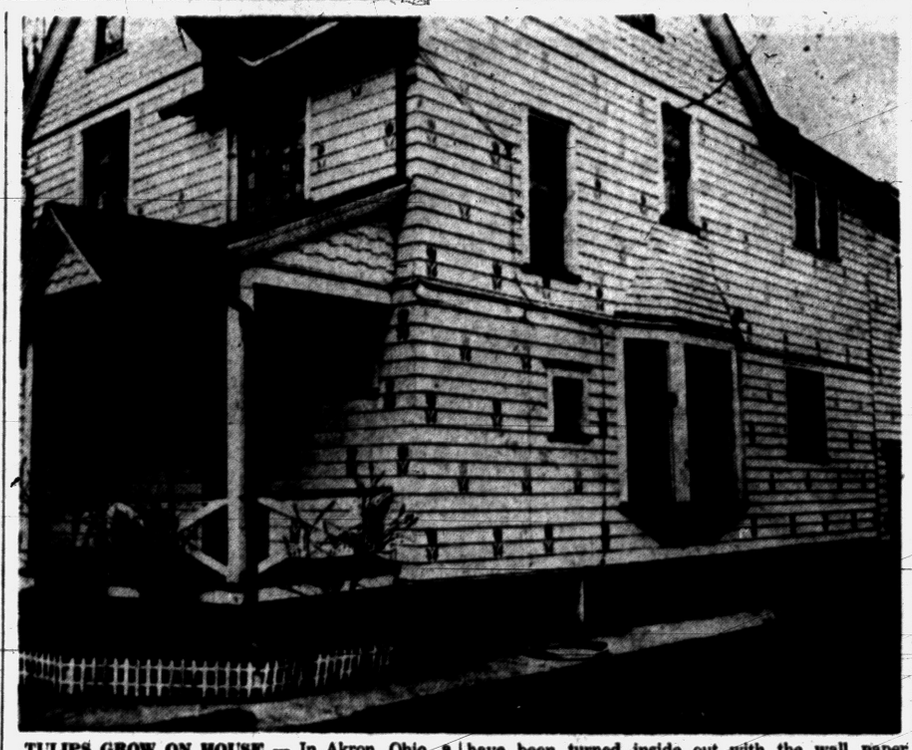
Mildoom Added to Paint Helps to Combat Mildew

Mildew has ruined many paint jobs and once started it must be removed or it will continue to spread under and through a new coat of paint.

It can be prevented by adding a chemical, nicknamed mildoom, to any paint except lacquers. Richard Eckart, director of research for special type paints, recommends one ounce of mildoom to a gallon of paint.

Don't Forget Ventilation

If you're planning to build a basementless house, make sure that the recommendations for ventilation, vapor barriers and insulation are carried out to prevent water vapor from rising from the soil and invading the home. When there is excessive water vapor within a home, it can cause costly-to-repair damage.



TULIPS GROW ON HOUSE — In Akron, Ohio, a house-owner decided he wanted to relieve the plain look of his white house. Looking now as if it might have been turned inside out with the wall paper on the outside, he has painted clusters of gay, red and yellow tulips all over the exterior.

Bedrooms Need Space for Books, Build Shelves

More people read at bedtime than at any other hour of the day, yet most bedrooms offer books no more storage space than one crowded corner of a night table.

Shelves, made of scrap lumber, can turn an otherwise useless corner into a bedroom library. Color-match the shelves to the room.

Bookshelves in wardrobe closet doors — why not? They'll hold a multitude of books and maneuver surprisingly easy.

You can frame shelves with 2 x 8 lumber backed with plywood. They can be hung on three pairs of four inch butt hinges and held closed with two heavy snugger latches.

FHA Out to Halt Profit Abuses

Owners of Apartments Told to Get OK Before Distributing Dividends

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Federal Housing Administration, in a new crackdown on profit abuses, has ordered 7,000 apartment owners to obtain FHA approval before distributing further profits to their stockholders.

Officials say the action immediately affects the disposal of current income from the apartment buildings and requires all owners of FHA-insured rental projects to clear their dividend policies with FHA headquarters.

FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason has also ruled that any excess funds still available from an FHA insured mortgage must be applied toward reducing the apartment loan and cannot be treated as a windfall profit.

Mason issued the directive, covering all aspects of FHA's rental housing program, as industry leaders voiced increasing concern over future apartment construction under the agency's insured loan program.

The National Assn. of Home Builders says proposals pending in the Senate to correct abuses in apartment building "will seriously impair the volume of FHA rental housing." NAHB adds that "it is feared that the pounds of prevention being prescribed may actually prevent the cure."

NAHB officials note that in the '20s apartment building accounted for about 40 per cent of total housing output but the rate has steadily dropped until last year it fell to about 12 per cent.

President Eisenhower's original recommendations on rental housing would have lifted apartment construction out of its present doldrums by raising the ceiling on FHA-insured loans to spur the program in high cost areas like New York and Chicago.

Although the Senate Banking Committee approved the new mortgage ceilings, it wrote strict legislation to require builders to supply cost data and voted to require building firms to maintain a cash investment in the project.

NAHB views the cost certification requirement as particularly critical since, the association contends, it leaves a builder open to charges after a building is completed that he may not have provided accurate cost information. Builders, therefore, say that additional risk is placed on what already is a risky and expensive operation.

In taking his latest action, Mason exercised the permissive authority granted by Congress on the so-called section 608 apartment projects when it specified FHA could control dividend polices. FHA has come under sharp attack for allowing builders to collect excessive profits on the 608 loans.

About 7,000 of these projects have been built since World War II and a small number of them costing less than $200,000 are exempt from the Mason directive.

Cardboard Makes Rack to Hold Knobs for Painting

A piece of a corrugated box or a scrap of hardboard or plywood can make a handy rack for wooden knobs when you paint or varnish desk drawers or cabinet doors.

Drill holes for the knob bolts to hold the knobs for drying while you get a drip-free finish on the drawer or door front.

Develop Site Just for Industry

Waterford Subdivision to Be Devoted to New Manufactories

The first subdivision in this area exclusively designed for industries is now under way in Waterford Township.

A 55-acre tract along the Grand Trunk Western Railroad and Scott Lake road is being developed specifically for the new industries moving into Oakland County, by White Bros. Real Estate firm.

Already building on a five-acre site is Suburban Steel Co., a steel fabricating firm which is putting up a $100,000 building and office in the planned development.

Known as "Waterford Industries," the project is similar to planning moves in Port Huron and several cities in Texas, Realtor Don White says.

"The sites vary from one-third acre plots to six-acre tracts, designed to fit the location of every type of industry," White said, "with 3,000 feet of railroad frontage available."

Also scheduled is four acres of land for parking. Beside the convenience of the site for industries, the centralization of incoming industries makes for a better looking community, White declared.

Writer Entered Business After Fling as Handyman

By STEVE ELLINGSON

The strangest things happen to people who have home workshops—proof, the hundreds of letters arriving each day asking for directions on how to make certain projects.

Take myself, for example. A few years ago I didn't have enough money to buy the kind of furniture for my new home that I wanted and so I got a few tools and built it myself. From my own workshop came my present occupation, writing a syndicated newspaper column.

This smoking stand shown today (with my new bride sitting beside) can be built by anyone with only a few simple hand tools. It costs practically nothing when you build it yourself.

This is a versatile piece of furniture. The shelf on one side holds a dozen pipes. If you have more than 12 pipes you may raise the lower shelf and put another dozen there.

On the side opposite the pipe shelf, there is a magazine rack. Some use this article as a lamp stand beside the bed; others use it for a telephone stand or put a radio on it. It also makes a dandy end table. There are all kinds of places where this piece of furniture can be used.

To build this smoker's stand simply trace the full size pattern on wood, saw it out, then put it together. There's nothing to it. The pattern lists the required materials along with simple step-by-step directions.

To obtain the smoker's stand end table pattern, send 50 cents in coin and ask for pattern No. 57 to Steve Ellingson, care of the Pontiac Press.

Clean Out Down Spouts to Reduce Costly Damage

Before painting the outside of a house, clean out gutters and downspouts.

They should be cleaned at intervals during the year and especially at the end of winter. Gutters that are clogged permit moisture to get behind walls or under the roof, thus causing expensive damage.

Use Cloth When Painting

When painting, clean up any stray spatters as they occur. Keep a damp cloth handy — one that's moistened with water, if you're using a water-base paint or one that's been dampened with turpentine or mineral spirits, if you're working with an oil-base coating material.

Jar rubbers attached to the underside of a small rug will keep it from slipping

Exhaust Fan in Basement Cuts Noises, Dries It Out

While attic exhaust fans are usually mounted in the attic, they are also effective set in the basement assuming that there is a window or door from the basement to the outside of sufficient size.

They create less noise in the basement than in the attic and also help to keep the basement dry if it tends towards dampness.

Try Wax Finish on Wood

If you are looking for a quick and easy way to apply finish for interior woodwork or furniture, try wax. This can be applied to the raw wood or the wood can first be stained. It's only drawback is that on light woods it will tend to darken.

Special Fabrics Make Cleaning Chores Easier

If the wise new homemaker has leaned heavily towards especially treated wood finishes, leathers, plastics and synthetics in her furniture selections, she will be required to spend little time on its upkeep.

New wood finishes have been treated to resist heat, alcohol and other stains, thereby eliminating the need for spending long hours at scrubbing, polishing, or refinishing in order to erase scars of such catastrophes.

Many manufacturers recommend the use of special cleaning polishes for their furniture which "dust" polish it. This means applying the polish to the furniture and then drywiping it to a high lustre rather than polishing it to this same condition.

Leather requires dusting only during the normal course of housekeeping. If it shows dirt, the mildest soap and lukewarm water is all that's necessary for a clean sweep.

Many Stars Quit
Biagetti Is Leader in Western Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP)—A virtual unknown was out in front today at the halfway mark of the 51st Western Open golf tournament.

Such a thing has happened before, of course, in many major golf tournaments but in this one the lead by Leo Biagetti of Sandusky, Ohio, with 137, was marked by a wave of withdrawals by top pros who probably never had heard of Mr. Biagetti.

Defending champion E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., was one who gave up. He said he hadn't been feeling well and was too tired to finish.

Then he was joined on the sidelines by pros Julius Boros of Midpines, N.C.; Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., and Dale Morey of Martinsville, Ind., runner-up for last year's National Amateur Championship.

They didn't offer any reason but the cold weather, following Thursday's rain sent scores soaring, except for Biagetti, of course, and that may have had a part in their decision.

Dave Douglas of Grossinger, N.Y., the first day leader, sagged badly and took a 74 to go with his 68 for a 142 half-way count.

Two strokes behind Biagetti was Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., who knocked another stroke off par for a 70 and a 139 total. Running behind Burke in a field of 60 and tied were Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., a former National Open champion, and Bob Rosburg, a San Francisco pro now playing out of Chicago, who shot 140s.

Cards' Slugger Tops NL, Avila Boosts Margin
Tigers' Tuttle Third in AL Batting, Despite Slip of 15 Points

The Cardinals' slugger from Donora, Pa., who has expressed a desire to "win two more" to deadlock Honus Wagner for the most senior circuit batting championships, is hitting a solid .380. He also leads in home runs with 17 and runs batted in with 59.

Musial moved up from the No. 3 spot in batting as he collected 11 hits in 23 times at bat last week and gained 15 points.

In the American League, Cleveland's Bobby Avila increased his batting lead over Al Rosen, also of the Indians. Avila picked up 10 points last week to .384 while Rosen was tailing off to .346, a drop of 26 points.

Avila had 13 hits in 30 trips and Rosen, hampered by an injured forefinger, went 4-for-28. Rosen maintains his leag-leading margin in home runs (13) and runs batted in (49). The records include Friday's games.

Detroit's Bill Tuttle lost 15 points last week on 4-for-17, but hung onto third place in the American League at .345.

Three pitchers—Ralph Branca of Detroit, Tom Morgan of New York and Dean Stone of Washington—share the best average in the American League. Each has won three games and lost none. Bob Keegan of Chicago has won the most games, eight. He has one setback.

Vic Raschi, still unbeaten, heads the National League moundsmen. The veteran Cardinal righthander has won five games.

Chiefs Nine Shoots for SVC Title Today

Pontiac High School has its sights set on wrapping up the Saginaw Valley Conference baseball championship this afternoon in its game with 2nd place Flint Central on Wisner Field at 1:30 p.m.

Central kept its hopes alive this week by beating Saginaw, 3-1, on the 3-hit pitching of Larry Horde. The Tribe's ace is expected to pitch today.

He will be opposed by Pontiac's Marv Caswell, bulwark of the Chiefs' staff, who has led PHS to 12 wins in 13 games. Pontiac's Valley record is 8-0 to 7-1 for Central.

The scheduled game with Waterford, rained out both Thursday and Friday, was cancelled. PHS has a return game with Central at Flint Thursday, thus has two chances to clinch the title.

Ted Tries to Beat Shift by Hitting to Left

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston's slugging outfielder, may be going to try to hit the ball more to the left field this year.

The big lefthanded Red Sox swinger sent the ball into his opposite field yesterday in two of his four times at bat against Chicago. His fly near the left field line caught Minnie Minoso in left center on the Williams shift but the Cuban speedster came up with the ball after a long run.

Ted punched a clean single to left the other time.

Williams has been complaining that the shift against him this year is forcing him to ground out more this season than ever before when he pulls.

12 Starters Listed

STANTON, Del. (AP)—At least a dozen starters are expected for today's running of the Kent Stakes, the $25,000-added mile and a sixteenth test for three-year-olds at Delaware Park.

The race will be broadcast nationally over ABC from 3:30 to 3:45 p.m. (EST).

Old Timers Practice

Pontiac Old Timers baseball team will practice Sunday morning at 10 a. m. on the Washington Junior High School diamond. All players are urged by co-managers Bud Leslie and John Abel to attend the session.

Fielding Error Gives Detroit Win Over Nats
Sievers Drops Delsing High One in 8th to Let Bolling Scamper Home

BOSTON (AP) — Detroit Tigers cautiously slipped into Boston today for an unusual day-night doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox, wondering whether "lady luck" will frown or smile upon them.

After what happened in Washington, the Tigers can't be sure of her mood.

She was all frowns Thursday night, when Washington scored four unearned runs for a 4-3 victory.

Then, yesterday, she smiled sweetly for the Detroiters.

Tigers were handed a 3-2 victory over the Senators when Roy Sievers, Washington's leftfielder, muffed a fly ball in the 8th inning to allow the winning run (also unearned) to score.

This was the situation:

With two away and Frank Bolling on 1st, Jim Delsing hoisted a high fly to left. It appeared to be the final out of the inning. But Sievers dropped the ball for a two-base error and Bolling breezed home.

The error cost Bob Porterfield his 4th loss compared to six wins. Billy Hoeft, who went all the way, picked up his 2nd victory against four setbacks.

Each hurler allowed seven hits.

Sievers had made three of Washington's hits and had knocked in the Senators' only two runs before his costly bobble.

Hoeft, himself, knocked in Detroit's 1st run and Bob Nieman accounted for the other with a home run in the fourth.

Today's doubleheader against the Bosox marks the mid-way point of the Tigers' testing 22-game road junket. George Zuverink (1-0) and Dick Marlowe (3-2) were named to hurl for Detroit.

Lou Boudreau, Boston manager, picked Bill Henry (3-2) and Leo Kiely (0-2).

But you may be sure the man the Tigers will be watching most carefully will be an outfielder who wears No. 9 on his back. His name? What do you think?

Latin Hoping for Title Shot
Lausse Disposes of Rindone, Seeks Match With Bobo Olson

NEW YORK (AP) — Eduardo Lausse, the scowling Argentine knockout artist, has joined the long line yelling "I want Olson."

Charlie Johnson, Lausse's manager, said Promoter Jim Norris had talked to him about the possibility of Lausse boxing Olson in the fall—if the middleweight champ successfully defends against Rocky Castellani in August.

Lausse, a 26-year-old left hooker, stopped the veteran Joe Rindone last night at Madison Square Garden on a technical knockout in 1:28 of the second round. The baldish Rindone simply was unable to stand up under Lausse's punching.

Rindone was dropped for an automatic eight-count early in the second and staggered against the ropes from another barrage of hooks. When Lausse chased him across the ring and drove home another hook near Rindone's corner, the veteran from Boston turned to Referee Harry Kessler with a strange, appealing look.

Kessler stopped it without further ado. There were no dissenting votes.

Gov. Williams Is Judge in Milford 'Paddle-Push'

Third annual Paddle Push on the Huron River between Milford and Kensington Metropolitan Park will be held Sunday, starting at 2 p.m. Gov. G. Mennen Williams will be one of the judges.

An entry list of 150 canoeists in teams in two are expected to start from the Milford Bridge and paddle over an 8-mile course across Kent Lake into the park.

Event is sponsored by the Milford Chamber of Commerce, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority and American Youth Hostels.

Renewal for Monmouth

OCEANPORT, N. J. (AP) — The $50,000 Monmouth Oaks, which will have its 31st renewal on Aug. 7, is the ninth oldest stakes race in the nation. It was first run in 1871. This year's race comes on the last Saturday of the meeting.

Henry Claims 'Fix' Innocence

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Still protesting his innocence, Clarence Henry, the one-time No. 3 contender for the heavyweight championship, was arraigned today on a bribery charge in the most bizarre boxing "fix" plot that has rocked New York in decades.

Henry was accused of offering $15,000 to Bobby Jones to throw his middleweight bout against Joey Giardello in Madison Square Garden on June 11.

* * *

While experts scratched their heads, wondering why Henry would try to fix the 2-1 underdog, the former title contender hinted darkly that he was being victimized.

"This is all a mistake," he said.

Just about everyone involved in the case was annoyed at someone with the possible exception of Jones, a fair fighter, but regarded as no match for the rugged Giardello.

District Attorney Frank Hogan was irked because the story was broken before he was ready to move in. He said he had intended to try to round up the "whole mob" just before the fight.

For his part, Giardello said he "ought to be insulted."

"A guy who would want to pay Jones to throw the fight can't be thinking much of me as a fighter," he added. "The way I feel about it, Jones is in for a beating without taking any bribes."

Before Henry made the $15,000 offer, Jones had received two other offers, each for $5,000 from strangers.

Jones' eastern representative, Bobby Melnick, then took the fighter to Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club, who in turn, sent the pair to State Athletic Commissioner Bob Christenberry. After hearing the story, Christenberry called Hogan and the DA's detectives moved in on the case.

The gambling aspect of the fix attempt had even the professionals wondering.

For one thing, even to win $15,000 on Jones, the fixers would have to lay $30,000. It's next to impossible to bet that sum in the metropolitan area these days.

SETS AMERICAN RECORD—Wes Santee of Kansas breaks the tape as he sets a new American record in the Compton Invitational Mile run Friday night with a time of 4:00.6. It was the 2nd fastest mile ever run. En route, Santee unofficially eclipsed the world record for 1,500 meters in 3 minutes, 42.8 seconds.

Seek Big Chance
123 Pro, Amateur Link Stars in Field for Sectional Trials for National Open

By JACK SAYLOR

A field of 123 of Michigan's top professional and amateur golfers will tee off Monday in quest of eight coveted positions in the National Open tournament, slated June 17-19 at the Baltusrol Country Club, Springfield, N. J.

The state sectional qualifying is over a 36-hole route, 18 holes each at Franklin Hills and Plum Hollow Country Clubs.

The national total of 1,937 entries (including exempt players) is the highest in the history of the USGA-sponsored event. Defending champion Ben Hogan heads the list of 33 exempt players, which also includes Franklin Hills pro Walter Burkemo, current National PGA champion.

State entries, which include 71 pros and 52 amateurs, will start teeing off at 7:30 a.m. at the two courses, then switch to the opposite course for afternoon rounds at noon.

Four of the players who recently qualified for the National PGA in the trials at Orchard Lake Country Club will seek to score a "double" Monday. They are John Barnum of Grand Rapids (medalist at Orchard Lake with 143), Chick Harbert of Meadowbrook, Max Evans of Detroit and National PGA president Horton Smith of the Detroit Golf Club.

The 5th PGA qualifier, Bob Gajda of Forest Lake Country Club, is not participating. Another of the absentees will be the veteran Henry Ransom of Pine Lake. The annual Invitational at his club falls on the same dates as the Open.

Many Oakland County pros will play their morning rounds at Plum Hollow. Among them (with tee-off time) are Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake (7:30), Ray Maguire and Jack Givern of Birmingham CC (7:44), and Warren Orlick of Tam O'Shanter (7:51).

Al Watrous of Oakland Hills leaves at 8:19 in a group that includes Barnum. Others are Evans (8:40), Tommy Cosmos of Oakland Hills (8:54), Bob Waara of Indianwood (9:01) and Leo Conroy of North Hills (9:22).

Among those playing 1st rounds at Franklin Hills are unattached pros Al Kocsis of Pontiac and Larry Pentiuk, formerly of Pontiac, at 7:37 and 9:15, respectively; Fred Zinn of Indianwood (8:47) and Ben Lula of Tam (9:01).

Heading the list of amateurs from the county competing in the trials is Chuck Kocsis, the Red Run great. He is paired with Harbert and Smith at 7:58 at Plum Hollow.

Starting at Franklin Hills are Carl Daniels of Edgewood (8:33), former city champion Harold Stewart (with Lula's group at 9:01) and Pontiac's Roy Iceberg (9:36).

'Babe' Would Quit, but Can't

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Mildred (Babe) Zaherias, the great competitor who won a battle with cancer and returned to golf, said today she'd like to quit the game "for a little while" until she fully regains her strength.

That's the reason the Babe is playing in the $7,500 Triangle Round Robin Invitation tournament which today moved into its third and fourth rounds over the homestead's par 74 Cascades course.

Patty Berg, veteran professional from St. Andrews, Ill., carried an 8-point advantage into the third round of this "plus and minus" affair with a plus 30 points.

Babe has a plus 14, in 4th place.

Morse Hanover Wins $5,000 Pontiac Trot

Friday night's feature race at Hazel Park track was won by Morse Hanover, with Jimmy Wingfield in the sulky. The event was the $5,000 Pontiac Trot and victory was Morse Hanover's first of the season in five starts. He was a first heat winner last year in the famed Hambletonian.

Hanover had to move up from 4th at the top of the stretch to gain his victory in 2:04 2-5 in the first dash. Wingfield also won with Proud Lassie (2nd) and Sweet Widow (5th).

Scotch Valley won the other Pontiac Trot dash.

Musial's 2 Homers Win for Cards; Tribe Loses

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stan Musial, still denying he's aiming for the fences, has taken over the National League home run lead and is ahead of the record 1927 pace of the great Babe Ruth.

The two sluggers Musial passed last night when he hit his 16th and 17th homers—Hank Sauer of Chicago and Willie Mays of New York—are even with the schedule Ruth followed when he hit his 60 for the New York Yankees.

The two homers last night were the big hits as the Cards beat Philadelphia 5-2. New York took over second place with a 10-6 triumph at Cincinnati while Milwaukee was bowing 4-1 to Pittsburgh. Brooklyn won its sixth straight, 2-1, over Chicago.

In the American League Cleveland lost its second in a row to the Yankees, 8-3, and Chicago climbed within seven percentage points of the first place Indians by beating Boston 7-3. Detroit edged Washington 3-2 and Philadelphia defeated Baltimore 7-6.

Two pitchers, one in each league, won their eighth games. Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals pitched his third straight complete game and ran his record to 8-3. Bob Keegan of the White Sox survived an 11-hit Boston attack for his eighth victory in nine decisions.

A three-run homer by Yogi Berra in the first inning off Early Wynn put the Yanks on the victory trail against Cleveland.

Ed McGhee drove in four runs as the Athletics temporarily won their battle with Baltimore to stay out of last place. The Orioles are now in the cellar by a game and a half.

Maddox-Persley on TV

CHICAGO (UP) — Tommy Maddox, a 20-year-old pro boxer who has lost six of 22 fights, will try for the big time tonight as a decided underdog against veteran Arthur Persley, a lightweight contender who has lost only three in 46 bouts.

Their 10 round battle will be featured on the regular Saturday night television network (WXYZ-Channel 7).

'A' Double Header at Wisner Sunday

First of a series of Class A City League double headers is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at Wisner Field Sunday. It is planned to hold twin bills every Sunday for the balance of the season.

In the opener, General Motors meets Auburn Merchants, while CIO 594 and Oliver Buick hook up in the nightcap about 4 p.m.

In softball, an exhibition doubleheader is slated at North Side Park with Birmingham Riteway and Shaw's Jewelers of Pontiac playing Drayton Drug and Dick & Wes Sport of the Waterford Township loop. Games are at 7 p.m. and 8:30.

15-Event Junior Horse Show Set for Sunday

Young riders of the Junior Dixie Saddle Club will conduct a 15-event junior horse show Sunday at the Glenn Ellis farm 9331 Dixie highway.

Program was prepared and will be handled entirely by the youngsters. Program includes features for all ages, up to 18 years. It starts with a pony class and winds up with the calf riding contest. Lee Perry, 15 is the junior club president.

Kansas Flash Does 4:00.6 in Try for Record
His 3:42.8 for the 1,500 Betters Haegg's World Figure

By JACK STEVENSON

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Lanky Wes Santee ran the second fastest mile on record last night and threw veteran meet officials into a state of confusion when he passed the 1,500-meter mark in a time that eclipsed the world record.

"I can do better in warmer weather," Santee said after missing the 4-minute mile by a fraction of a second at the Compton Invitational track and field meet. He finished all alone in 4:00.6, fastest ever run by an American.

For the 1,500 meters, about 120 yards short of a mile, Santee broke a tape in 3:42.8. The accepted world record shared by Gunder Haegg and Lennart Strand, both of Sweden, and Werner Luegg of Germany, is 3:43.

"Oh, boy a world record," Wes exclaimed happily after the race, but within 30 minutes meet officials had him and the 9,000 fans thoroughly confused.

Wes said he had asked that three timers catch him at 1,500 meters and they were there. Immediately after the race it was announced that his time would be submitted as a new world mark.

Then Dr. Floyd Hanes, president of the Southern Pacific AAU, said, "No." He said you couldn't time any fraction of a race beyond 300 yards.

Santee was flabbergasted, and a recheck of the rules indicated Hanes' interpretation was wrong. It is just the reverse. So if a remeasurement of the track shows the distance was correct, the time will be submitted.

Santee's mile was one of eight meet records broken. Jack Davis of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, toured the 120-yard high hurdles in 13.6, just one-tenth second over the world record.

Other meet records were by Parry O'Brien of LAAC, with a 59-6¾ shot-put; Fred Wilt of the New York AC, who beat teammate Horace Ashenfelter with an 8:58.8 two-mile; Ernie Shelton, Southern California, 6-10½ high jump; Bill Miller, Camp Pendleton Marines, 249-4 javeline throw; Fortune Gordien, LAAC, 181-1½ discus throw, and the University of Southern California 880-yard relay team, 1:24.8.

In the 440, Jim Lea of Southern California, barely beat J. W. Mashburn of Oklahoma A&M, running unattached, in 47.1.

World record holder Mal Whitfield of LAAC edged UCLA freshman Bob Seaman in the half-mile, winning in 1:49.8. Seaman's 1:49.9 will be submitted as a new collegiate freshman record.

Andy Stanfield of the New York Grand Street Boys' Club was the only double winner as he captured both dashes, the 100 in 9.6 and the 220 in 21.1.

2 More Titles Stan Musial's Main Ambition
Hopes to Tie Wagner NL Record of Winning 8 Batting Crowns

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Stan Musial's main ambition, next to playing in another World Series, is to win two more batting titles and amass 3,000 hits before he retires.

One of his biggest disappointments came in 1949 when he was nosed out of the batting title by Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn. Musial led the league in hits, doubles and triples that year but his .338 was four points below Robinson's. If he had won that year he would have had five straight batting championships. He has six all told.

"I would like to win the batting title at least two more years," Stan said. "That would enable me to tie Hans Wagner's league record of eight. Rogers Hornsby won it seven times. I believe I can do it, especially if I win it this year.

"Only seven players ever made 3,000 hits. I'd like to be the eighth. That won't be easy, however. I started the season with 2,223. That means I'll have to average a little under 200 for the next four years. It gets more difficult each year. But I believe I can do it."

May Car Sales Equal to April's

Maintain 9-Month High With Average 19,600 Purchased Daily

New car sales during May kept the same pace as in April when a nine-month high was set, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

Ward's said 490,000 new cars were sold in May, compared to 510,000 in April. But since there was one less selling day in May, sales over the two months averaged an almost identical 19,600 daily. In March the average was 18,200 daily.

Ward's said the "apparent leveling off in demand has prompted speculation that peak monthly sales for 1954 have already been established." It said the factories remain optimistic however about prospects for this being the third best year in history.

The 3,000,000th car or truck of the year was built sometime during this week, Ward's said. Production in the United States dropped off 21 per cent this week to 111,588 cars. A week ago there were 141,089 built.

The trade paper said that while the decline was due to the holiday, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler worked only three days, Kaiser and Willys were idle and Pontiac showed "an unexplained drop."

In Canada 9,018 cars were built this week compared to 7,567 last week. The total vehicles built in the U. S. and Canada this year to date total 3,256,780 compared to 3,595,877 a year ago.

James R. Adams, president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., Bloomfield Hills advertising firm, is the only Michigan advertising man honored in the "100 Top Copy Writers and Their Favorite Ads," just published by Printers Ink Publishing Co. Adams is a co-founder of the agency and has directed its creative staff for many years.

ADAMS

According to the publishers, this is the first time in advertising history that the work of the ablest writers in the business has been published in book form.

The selected writers have contributed what they consider their best work and reveal why they think the ads were successful. Pictures and biographies are included. The group was chosen by a panel of top men in the business.

S. S. Kresge Co. reports its sales for May were 3.22 per cent lower than sales for the same period last year and total sales for the year dipped .59 per cent lower than the corresponding 1953 period. Total sales for May, 1953 period. Total sales for May, the company says, were $24,425,096 compared to $25,236,592 for May of 1953. Total yearly sales of $117,346,739 for 1954 compare to $118,037,536 for 1953.

The Great-West Life Assurance Co. announced today that Curtis E. Patton of Pontiac, a company district organizer, ranked first in the United States organization in May in the amount of new business brought in. It said new business placed by Patton in that month totaled almost $120,000.

Doctor Hits Opposition to Recovery, Inc. Idea

Dr. Abraham Low, Chicago psychiatrist who founded an organization aimed at combating nervous disorders through self - help, charged Friday that state officials are reluctant to support the movement despite great successes.

He said the organization, Recovery Inc., has reduced the number of mental patients, thus freeing psychiatrists to deal with more serious cases and reducing state mental health costs. About 1,000 heard Dr. Low's speech in Detroit.

Oxford Woman Treated After Auto Accident

A 21-year-old Oxford woman was treated for abdominal pains by a private physician Friday after her car collided with another at New York and Baldwin Aves., according to Pontiac Police.

Mrs. Genevieve Powell sustained the injury when her car collided with one driven by Ervin Barber, 56, of Flint.

Lady Collects Lighters

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (INS)—A Texas woman has more than 100 cigarette lighters—and all but three actually work. Mrs. L. L. Powers of Wichita Falls began the hobby of collecting lighters when her husband gave her one for Christmas in 1926; now she has more than a hundred from all over the U. S., Germany, Czechoslovakia, China, Panama, Mexico and Japan.

Michigan Bull Brings Top Price at Auction

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Wisconsin cow and a Michigan bull brought top prices Thursday at an auction climaxing the annual convention of the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Percy Jones of Denver, Colo., bought the cow consigned by Dr. P. E. Pifer of Kenosha, Wis.

Lakefield Farms at Clarkston consigned the bull that brought top price. He is a yearling, Lakefield Fobes Baron, purchased by Kentucky Artificial Breeders Assn. for $2,550.

He'll Settle for 13

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Robert Brody was at the Knox county courthouse seeking a license number for his car "with a lot of 13s in it." He explained: "I was inducted in the Army on Friday, the 13th, assigned to the 13th Infantry, am home on a 13-day leave and have to report back to the base on the 13th of the month. Figured I might as well get a license number to keep the luck up."

Treasure Trove Found

LISBON, Portugal (UP)—Farmers plowing near Covilha in East-Central Portugal turned up an ancient Roman treasure trove. Government experts said the find, dating back to the time of the Emperor Nero, cantained 40 gold coins, a necklace, two earrings, four gold rings, one with an inscription, and other gold objects. Roman garrisons occupied Portugal during the great days of the Empire.

Unemployment Drops in State

5,000 Less Jobless in May, but Commission Predicts New Increase

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission forecast today that unemployment will increase by 12,000 over the state in the next two months. But, at the same time, it reported a 5,000 drop in the number of jobless for the month ended May 15.

It estimated Michigan's current unemployed at 208,000 and predicted it would go to 220,000 in the next two months.

A jobless roll of 220,000, however, would top by only 3,000 the 217,000 which the MESC estimated were out of work three months ago, when 137,000 of them were out in Detroit.

The number of idle dropped in the month ended April 15 as well as in the one ended May 15.

In the month ended May 15, MESC said:

"Aproximately 11,000 auto workers temporarily liad off during the first two weeks in May returned to their jobs. Among the smaller automobile supplier establishments, small layoffs matched recalls.

"Labor demand in seasonal nonmanufacturing industries is increasing."

The 208,000 now estimated as unemployed equal 7.7 per cent of Michigan's available labor force. And the 132,000 of these who are idle in Detroit represent 8.8 per cent of the Motor City's force.

MESC estimated in the state as a whole on May 15 there were 2,418,000 employed in jobs covered by the Unemployment Compensation Act. Of the total, 1,358,000 were in Detroit.

Water Scarce in Mt. Clemens

Main Line Under River Snaps; City Must Use Auxiliary Pipe

MT. CLEMENS (UP)—An auxiliary water line served some 13,000 local residents today while workmen tackled the job of repairing a broken main under the Clinton River.

Engineers said it may take a week to repair the break. They said it involves building a cofferdam in the river so workmen can get to the damaged main.

The flow of water to the 13,000 residents was cut off for 12 hours Friday. Affected were 4,500 homes in the Seminole Hills District of Mt. Clemens, 1,200 homes in Clinton Township four hospitals and two industries.

There was enough water in the pipes Friday morning for housewives to start breakfast. But the faucets went dry after a few minutes.

Fire officials alerted neighboring departments in the event a serious fire should break out in the affected areas. The fire threat was eased today when the auxiliary water line restored partial pressure.

Residents were warned, however, that they would have to conserve water until the main is repaired. The main, one of three leading from Lake St. Clair, is 16 inches in diameter. The auxiliary line is only 10 inches.

Harold Hoffman Is Found Dead

New Jersey's Former Governor Dies in Heart Attack at Age 58

NEW YORK (AP)—New Jersey's former Gov. Harold Giles Hoffman, often the center of political fireworks and for years a sharp critic of Lindbergh kidnaping investigators, died yesterday at the age of 58.

A lifelong Republican, Hoffman succumbed with his latest political furor still a live issue. Last March 18 he was suspended as New Jersey's director of employment security pending investigation of alleged irregularities in purchase of supplies and equipment for his department.

Hoffman had denied the charges, saying annual audits by state and federal governments cleared him of any wrongdoing.

Hoffman, who had suffered from heart trouble recently, had been dead seven or eight hours before his body was discovered late in the afternoon. He apparently had collapsed while dressing.

As governor of New Jersey from 1935 to 1937, Hoffman's term covered the sensational trial in which Bruno Richard Hauptmann was convicted of the kidnaping and slaying of 19-month-old Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Several times Hoffman indicated he was not satisfied with the kidnap investigation. He granted Hauptmann a 30-day reprieve but the death sentence was carried out after Hoffman said he had no legal power as governor to stay the execution further.

On March 1, 1952, the 20th anniversary of the Lindbergh kidnaping, Hoffman told an interviewer:

"I believe that the crime was committed by more than one person. I believe it would have been difficult to execute that crime without the assistance of someone who was inside either the Lindbergh or the Morrow household."

As governor, Hoffman charged the Lindbergh investigation had been "bungled" and fired F. Norman Schwartzkopf, then head of the state police.

Foreign Shipping on Great Lakes Way Up in 1953

CLEVELAND (UP) — Foreign shipping on the Great Lakes last year was nearly twice the traffic in 1952, according to the annual report of the Lake Carriers' Assn.

The association said 119 individual foreign flag ships made 268 inbound trips on the Great Lakes in 1953, compared with 145 entries in 1952.

Six foreign shipping companies entered the Great Lakes' trade last year for the first time, bringing to 12 the number of individual firms operating from overseas.

Auto Industry Nears Peak of Season; Sales Climbing

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press
Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry right now is close to the peak of its selling season.

Accurate figures on total retail deliveries so far this year will not be available for several weeks. Authoritative estimates, however, put the total at approximately 2¼ million passenger car sales.

The actual peak in deliveries probably will come in the next four weeks.

By that time retail new car sales would near the three million unit mark.

In unit deliveries this comes close to boom time volume. It's only a couple of days sales behind the total of last year's comparable period.

But the profits of the retailers haven't matched those of last year. Some dealers are making money while others are operating at a loss.

This probably isn't entirely unexpected to the car makers. They expected some dealers to show losses in a sudden return to competititve operations. They even expected a sizable number of retailers to close up. In this respect they haven't been disappointed.

The National Automobile Dealers Association attributes most of the failures to new car bootlegging. Bootlegging isn't new to the auto industry. It has been going on, in times of keenest competition, for several decades. But the industry experts agree it never has reached the proportions attained during the last six to eight months.

Dealers involved in the wholesailing of surplus stocks claim they have been forced to dispose of them in this manner because factory shipments have been heavier than demand warranted.

Factory output, chiefly by General Motors and Ford, still exceeds the total of retail deliveries. This is demonstrated in the size of the new car field stocks. These show no present signs of leveling off from the postwar high point of 616,000 units reached on May 1.

There has been some speculation in industry trade quarters that a tapering off in sales volume after mid-July might bring some downward price revisions by the car makers.

The guessing is more or less general, however, that if any price reductions are made at the factory they will be deferred until new model time next December and January.

Printer's Error Causes Confusion for Graduation

NAPOLEON, Mich. (AP) — It was no wonder the 39 graduates of Napoleon high school were puzzled when they received their diplomas last night.

A printer inadvertently had inscribed the names of teachers instead of the graduates on the sheepskins.

Air Conditioning Comfort Arrives

Home Owners Desire Best Cooling Possible at Lowest Cost

Take your pick of air conditioinng units this year. There are window units, central systems, some that cool only, others that provide year-round conditioning, even pint-size, portable conditioners which work off a car battery or plug into any 110-volt socket.

Yes, air-condition comfort is here. It's only a matter of choosing the right air conditioner.

Naturally, when buying an air conditioner you want the unit that does the best job of cooling the hme, at the least cots.

This choice, whether a complete system or room unit, will be influenced by many considerations. Discuss specific problems with a dealer before making any final decision.

If yours is an average, one-story house, with standard insulation and no special heat problems — such as large unshaded glass areas— the two main factors will be heat and humidity.

They will influence the amount of cooling needed, and therefore the size of unit. What's more they will greatly affect the choice of the type of air conditioning that is best.

Because of the severe winters in the midwest ond east central areas of the country the best bet is a yeor-round system, with both heating and cooling.

With a forced-air heating, you can probably add a cooling unit, using the same ducts. The average cost will be between $800 to $1,000, unless some complicatied installation problems arise.

In the north central states, unless a house is extra large, or has inadequate insulation, a 1½-HP unit should take care of the average home. Operating costs for the season will be considerably lower than those in southern climates which run $13 to $16 a month.

On the other hand, if the home is fairly small and its plan allows zone cooling — for instance, bedrooms at night, living room and kitchen in daytime—consider converting the heating system to year-round conditioning.

Indochina's Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia Cover More Land Than France Itself

WASHINGTON — Vietminh, the Communist dragon that swallowed Dien Bien Phu, menaces not just one but three Indochinese nations.

Indochina today is a georgraphic name rather than a political entity, the National Georgraphic Society points out. Actually at stake are three quite distinct, virtually independent countries—Viet Nam, Laos, and Cambodia.

Most populus by far, Viet Nam holds the richest prizes and already has seen eight years of fighting. As a whole, Indochina's three states, members of the French Union, cover a third more territory than France itself.

Placed on the east coast of the United States, they would reach from Maine to Georgia and inland beyond the Appalachians.

Viet Nam has been described as two baskets of rice hung from a shoulder pole of mountains. On the Northern Red Run, delta around Hanoi, and in the far south on the plains of the Mekong River around Saigon, a majority of Viet Nam's 25,000,000 people are crowded into rice-rich lowlands. Between stretch the long rugged Annamese mountain ranges.

Viet Nam means "people of the south." It is a Chinese term, and from China dovn the centuries, came much of Viet Nam's language, religion, and culture. Similarly Vietminh, the Communists' name, means "association of the people."

Generally speaking, Viet Nam now holds the rice bowls and Vietminh the limestone mountains and wild jungles. Most gravely threatened is the triangular Red River delta. With more than 1,400 people to the square mile, it is one of the world's most crowded areas.

Vietnamese defenders, aided by the French, have ringed the delta and Hanoi with hundreds of strong points. Here may be fought the next great battle, as the Vietminh, under Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, switches its infiltrating hit-and-run tactics to outright assault.

West of the mountain spine, Laos and Cambodia are lands of differing peoples and cultures, more closely related to Thailand, Burma, and ancient India than to Viet Nam with its Chinese influences.

Laos, ofttimes called the "land of a million elephants," is a kingdom of Thai tribes who speak the same language as northern Siamese.

Peaceful, unhurried, and naturally friendly, they number little more than a million: Laos, twice the size of Pennsylvania, has only half as many inhabitants as Pittsburgh's metropolitan area. Their king is named Sisavang Vong.

Vietminh forces invaded Laos in 1953, but were stopped by French troops flown to the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Communists control today chiefly a slice of northern Laos just across the border from Dien Bien Phu.

Cambodia, the southern kingdom watered by the Mekong River and facing the Gulf of Siam, has had almost no trouble with Communists rebels so far. Cambodians are Khmer peoples, descended from the civilization that built, over 1,000 years ago, the magnificent templed city of Ankor. Today they number about 3,750,000.

Viet Nam writing uses Roman letters. Cambodia still employs the graceful, rounded lines of Sanskrit. Cambodia's king is Norodom Sihanouk, his capital Phnom Penh. Like Laos, Cambodia maintains a diplomatic chancellery in Washington and in other world capitals.

Indochina's crisis lies partially in the fact that six times as many people live in Viet Nam, with its two rice bowls, as in Laos and Cambodia combined. Should Viet Nam fall, its two neighboring states would find it increasingly difficult to stand alone.

Dentist's Wife Tells Her Story

Mrs. Small Uncertain of Her Love for Man Her Husband Killed

DETROIT (AP)—"I couldn't think of anyone but Jules. He gave me a sense of security that I never before had felt."

Thus, Mrs. Edith Small, 30, attractive, brunette mother of three young children, described yesterday her infatuation for Jules M. Lack, New York industrialist slain by her jealous husband.

Dr. Kenneth B. Small, a Detroit dentist, is in jail at Allegan, Mich., awaiting trial on a charge of murdering the wealthy, 45-year-old president of an air conditioning firm. Police said Dr. Small found his wife last Saturday in a plush summer home in southwestern Michigan. And there he pumped two bullets from a German Luger into Lack as he played cards with friends.

Mrs. Small, accompanied by her attorney, nervously described her emotions at a news conference—the first time she had talked directly with reporters since the shooting.

She told of meeting Lack on a Florida vacation. "I don't know whether it was love or not," she said, but added that when Lack returned to New York, "I was lost."

When she returned from Florida, "Kennet.. knew something was wrong," Mrs. Small said. "I guess I greeted him rather coldly.

"I couldn't go on living a lie so I told him."

On her husband's urging Mrs. Small said she went to a psychiatrist.

"The psychiatrist said that I had a father fixation and that Jules was like a father to me. Jules was a boxer and a football player and had a wonderful build," she said, "but he didn't look like my father."

• • •

Mrs. Small said she dropped the psychiatric treatment, deciding that "the best way to straighten the matter out was a separation between Kenneth and me."

Mrs. Small said that although she had decided to drop the divorce since the shooting she still couldn't say whether she would return to her husband if he should go free.

"Right now I can't think one day ahead," she said.

Three State Cities List Surplus Labor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Michigan cities were affected yesterday when the government announced new labor classifications.

Adrian and Benton Harbor were among the cities added to the list of those classed as having critical labor situations, meaning 6 per cent or more available workers unemployed.

Grand Rapids was among those areas moved from a balanced labor supply classification to one of moderate labor surplus, meaning unemployment ranging from 3 to 6 per cent.

The Bureau of Employment Security of the Labor Department reported the additions in a new survey of the nation's employment picture.

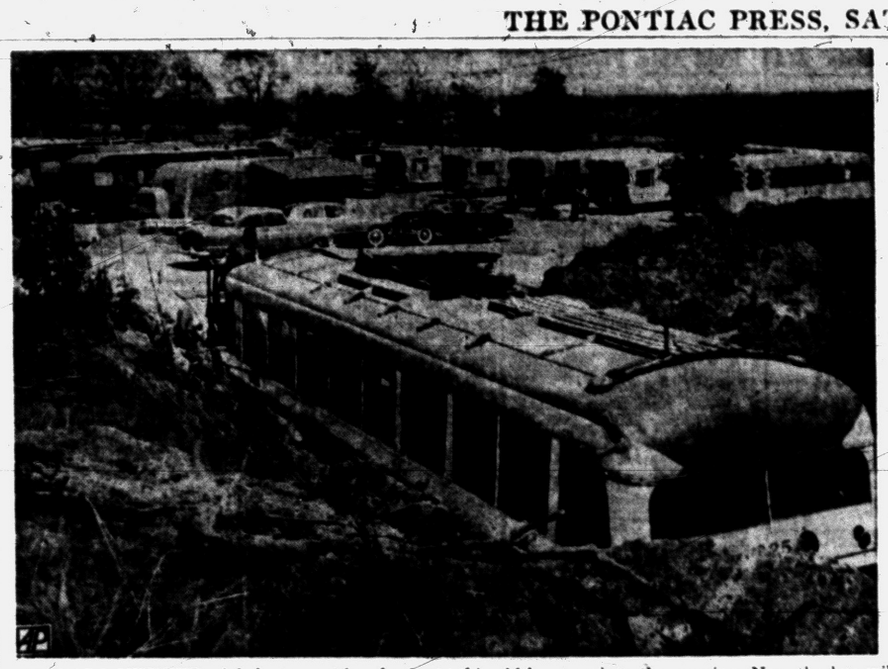
Planned for the meeting is a discussion of the improvement of the beach. All members and new residents of Crescent Lake Estates are urged to attend. Donald J. Shirley is president of the organization and Maxwell C. Haddix is recording secretary.

To Honor Officers

ROCHESTER — Rochester Kiwanis Club will meet Monday in Avon Pavilion to honor senior class officers and the student council of Rochester High School.



TORNADO SHELTER—A hole was cut in a bank at this trailer park on North Dort highway, north of Flint in the area hit by the tornado last June, and this old bus run into the opening. Now the bus will be tarred and covered to make a tornado shelter.

Stevenson Sees America As a Neurosis Sufferer

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said today America is suffering from a "national neurosis" of self-doubt and may be at the crossroads of democracy and totalitarianism.

"That we are not invulnerable . . . is, I think, demonstrated by many symptoms," he said, "of which McCarthyism. . . . is only one."

The 1952 Democratic nominee for president told a bicentennial conference of Columbia University he has been disturbed "by what seems to me the chorus at home and abroad of irrational criticism, abuse and mistrust of America, its motives and its peoples.

"I don't mean just the . . attacks on academic freedom, the pressure for conformity, our failures in the field of foreign affairs, or the present wretched manifestations in Washington of our national neurosis," he said in a prepared address.

(Although he did not say so, the "manifestations" he referred to apparently were the hearings involving the Army and Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

"Rather I am talking about malice, distemper and the new fashion of being cynical, sarcastic and skeptical about America, or about fellow Americans in large groups. . . ."

"What's the matter with us, anyhow?" He asked. "The usual diagnosis is ignorance and fear. . . .

"But I wonder if all these alarming concerns are not America's surface symptoms of something deeper; of a moral and human crisis in the Western world which might even be compared to the 5th and 6th Century crisis when the Roman empire was transformed into feudalism and early Christianity, or the crisis of a thousand years later when the feudal world exploded and the individual emerged with a new relationship to God, nature and society. . . .

"That we are not invulnerable, that there is a moral and human vacuum within us is, I think, demonstrated by many symptoms, of which McCarthyism — which has succeeded in frightening so many—is only one.

"We here in America have in a few years made socialism obsolete, and shown communism to be a loathsome, stagnant pool of reaction, a breeding ground for all the diseases of violence, slavery and spiritual suffocation that man has spent millenia trying to escape. . .

"Why then all this abuse and criticism? Why then have we of late grown afraid of ourselves? Why have we of late acted as though the whole of this nation is a security risk? Why have we given in to the bleatings of those who insist that it is dangerous for a man to have an idea in his head?"

"The horror of our time in history," he said, "is that things are worse than ever before. There is no peace; We are besieged and we are rattled."

Student Dinner Set Tonight in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — "Evening in Paris" will be the theme of the annual Waterford Township High School junior-senior banquet at 7 p.m. today in the school gym.

A group of strolling musicians—the Jack Reed Trio from Detroit —and magician Walter Wilson will be featured at the affair, which is sponsored by the junior class for the graduating seniors.

Also included on the entertainment docket is juggler Mickey O'Malley.

Julie Vernan is general chairman, with Mrs. Gerald Lewis, George Tramontin and Donald Arson as faculty sponsors.

Ex-Farmington Resident Penalized in Dog Case

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A former Farmington Township resident who deserted his sick dog was given a 30-day suspended sentence, placed on one year's probation and assessed $10 costs yesterday by Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Oakland County Humane Officer Albert Sundell testified that John Primozish, 26, now of Jackson, left his dying dog when he moved from his home at 21332 Rensselaer last month.

6 Testify in Trial of Puerto Ricans

Waitress, Congressmen Tell of Events Related to House Shooting

WASHINGTON (AP)—A waitress and five congressmen, three of them still favoring wounds, have added their testimony to the government's case against the four Puerto Ricans in the pistol attack on the House of Representatives March 1.

The waitress, Mrs. Alice Fisher, was in the witness chair yesterday as U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff called a halt for the weekend. She will be back for more cross-examination when the third day of the trial opens Monday.

Mrs. Fisher—like her co-worker, Mrs. Catherine Schull, who testified Thursday—picked out the four defendants as the "untidy" customers she served at Union Station Coffee shop about noon the day of the shooting.

Mrs. Lolita Lebron, 34, an dthe three young men also arrested after the wild shooting spree—Rafael Cancel Miranda, Andres Figueroa Cordero and Irving Flores Rodriguez — sat expressionlessly throughout this testimony.

They received calmly the vivid firsthand accounts given from the witness chair by Reps. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn), Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa) and George H. Fallon (D-Md)—all of whom were wounded—and Reps. Louis E. Graham (R-Pa) and James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa), who were there at the time but not hit.

The four defendants, who have said they wanted to dramatize their demand for full Puerto Rican independence, have entered pleas of innocent. They are charged with five counts each of assault with intent to kill and five charges each of assault with a dangerus weapon. Each faces, if convicted, a possible maximum sentence of 75 years in prison.

Student Achievement Award Winner Told

Maureen Samuel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Samuel, 7141 Hall Rd., Davisburg, has been announcedas the winner of the Wall Street Journal Student Achievement Award at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti.

Maureen was presented the award recently at a Business Studies Department dinner at the college.

The award, a specially designed silver medal plus a year's subscription to the Wall Street Journal, is given on the basis of scholarship, personality character and service to the outstanding senior student in the business department.

Maureen is also secretary-treasurer of Pi Omega Pi, honorary business fraternity at the college, member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society, the Math Club and the Choral Union.

She plans to teach commercial subjects in Waterford Township schools next year.

Chief of Legion Post 431 Gives Thanks to Public

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—William C. Wagner, commander of Waterford Township American Legion Post 431, today expressed his thanks to the general public and members of the post for their participation in this year's Poppy Drive.

In an open letter, Wagner said: "This is a letter of commendation to the general public and to the members of Waterford Township American Legion Post 431 for their generous and cooperative participation in this year's Poppy Drive. Many thanks from all the veterans."

Resident to Be Honored at Methodist Church

MILFORD — George Barton, a long time resident of this community, will be honored Sunday at Milford Methodist Church.

Barton, long active in business here, will be 89 years old Monday. A birthday party will be held for him at the Church of which he has been a member for nearly 55 years. The celebration will include a potluck dinner at 12:45, a short program and an open house at the church from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Huron Valley System Gets New School Bus

MILFORD — Another new bus was delivered for the Huron Valley School System this week, bringing the total number in the fleet to 25, according to Harold Hansen, school superintendent.

An additional bus has been ordered so that one of the older buses may be used as a spare, according to Hansen. The vehicles have a capacity of 60 students, enough to haul 1,600 students throughout the area.

County Deaths

Ransom Lake

Service for Ransom Lake, 90, of 1312 Webster, first custodian of Baldwin Public Library, will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mr. Lake died this morning in Gaylord, after a long illness. He was visiting his son, Carl R. He had made his home here since 1912.

He is survived by another son, Richard W. of Birmingham, 25 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Diet Extends Current Session

Japan's Lower House OKs Move in Orderly Meeting

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—The powerful lower House of Japan's Diet voted tonight to extend its current session for 10 days in a brief orderly session unmarred by expected political violence.

Socialist deputies boycotted the chamber but some of them forced cancellation of a scheduled upper House session by forming a human wall outside the office of President Yahachi Kawai.

There were brief scuffles, but no serious disturbances. Upper House concurrence in the extension vote was not ncessary.

Socialist lawmakers may dispute the legality of the vote, however, and a bitter court battle might be in the offing.

The mounting political turmoil forced Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida to postpone indefintely a world tour scheduled to begin Sunday.

Deputies belonging to Yoshida's Liberal party and the equally conservative Progressive party voted by a show of hands to remain in session to complete action on the administration's controversial police nationalization bill.

Socialist opposition to this measure erupted into a wild brawl in the Diet Thursday night. Fifty persons were injured and 200 police were summoned to restore order.

The outbreak was unprecedented in Japanese political history.

The Socialists have complained bitterly that Yoshida was tying Japan too closely to the United States.

Baccalaureate Services Set for Dryden Seniors

DRYDEN—Baccalaureate services will be held at the Dryden High School gymnasium Sunday evening with the Rev. Canon Charles D. Braidwood of St. John's Episcopal Church delivering the sermon at 8.

Commencement for graduating seniors at the high school will be held Monday at 8 p.m. Speaker will be Roland S. Strolle of the State Department of Public Instruction. The Rev. Melvin Strait of Pilgrim Holiness Church will give the invocation and benediction.

Fears Delegates Will Propagandize

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The President of the International Council of Christian Churches says that delegates coming from Communist countries to attend the World Council of Churches Assembly in August will come "to preach propaganda for the Communist world."

The Rev. Carl McIntire said here yesterday that the Iron Curtain delegates will not come in the "name of Christ and the church."

The World Council's second assembly is scheduled for Aug. 15-31 at Evanston, Ill. The International Council, headed by Dr. McIntire, is a fundamentalist Protestant group long at odds with the World Council.

Rep. Alvin Bentley Files for GOP Nomination

LANSING (AP) — Petitions were filed yesterday in the secretary of state's office by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso to run for the Republican nomination for a second term in Congress at the Aug. 3 primary.

Rep. Walter G. Nakkula, Republican of Gladwin, and Clifford H. Anderson, Democrat of New Era, filed for nomination as state representatives.

Frank C. Lawson of Mt. Clemens filed as a Republican candidate for Congress from the seventh congressional district.

Charles Twitty Wins in Recital

Singer Tops 'Artists of Tomorrow' Contestants Heard Locally

Charles R. Twitty won in the "Artists of Tomorrow" recital recently held in Jefferson Junior High School.

Judges were Mrs. Dora Dawson, Mrs. Don Derragon, Mrs. Joseph L. B. Bennett and Dr. Robert Turpin.

Other numbers favorably mentioned were by Phyllis Smith and Olivcia Mathes, sopranos; James Stevens and Bobbie Wickliffe, tenors.

Twitty, a graduate of Pontiac High School and a student at Wayne University, sang "Old Man River," and "Asleep in the Deep." He will go to Indianapolis later this month to compete for national honors.

Guests were Mrs. Mary Myles, national membership chairman of the sorority, and Mrs. L. K. Clark of Beta Chapter in Detroit.

McCarthy Is Speaking in Wisconsin Tonight

RIPON, Wis. (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) will be the keynote speaker here tonight as this city celebrates the anniversary of a meeting which Ripon citizens say founded the Republican party 100 years ago.

McCarthy has not revealed the subject of his address.

This evening's speech will follow a mile-long street parade today. The city's Republican Centennial Committee expects more than 30,000 vistors for the three-day celebration.

Botanists assert that the Great Smoky Mountains comprised the cradle of all vegetation in North America.

Meadows Sisters Happy at Home, Success on TV

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (AP)—The Meadows Sisters make a team at home, but not on television.

There's Audrey, who started in a TV comedy role with Bob and Ray and stepped into faster fame as Alice Cramdon in Jackie Gleason's Honeymooners' sketches.

Andthere's Jayne, just as successful as the serious actress of the family.

At present the girls live together in a New York apartment to be near the studios. The only time they have appeared in the same TV program was as the invited guests of Person to Person.

Jayne's TV career has concerned itself mainly with dramatic roles, but you can discern a lighter side in her appearances as a regular member of the panel of the weekly humorous series, "I've Got a Secret," on TV.

Her full name is Jayne Meadows Cotter, the Meadows coming from her maternal grandmother. The girls decided it was ideal for professional purposes.

"Grandmother really started us as actresses, for she used to direct us in little plays," Jayne explained. "Using her name has brought us a great deal of good luck."

The girls were born in Wu Chang, China, where their parents were missionaries for 14 years. Their father, the Rev. J. M. Cotter, now is an Episcopalian minister at Sharon, Conn.

Jayne was 7 when the family returned to the United States. She could speak only Chinese, and her first days in school were far from pleasant.

"They laughed at my Chinese clothes," she said, "and because of my black, slant eyes they thought really was Chinese."

Jayne's professional career before TV included the movies and the broadway stage. She always appeared in dramas and sister Audrey in musicals. She also has had some radio experience, can sing and once taught dancing.

It wasn't until after Audrey had begun to make her mark in TV that Jayne started to attract attention there, too. Since then she has had lead roles in some big shows.

102 Cases of Polio in State This Year

LANSING (AP) — The State Health Department today said that 102 cases of poliomyelitis have been reported in Michigan since the first of the year.

This was slightly higher than the 97 cases reported during the same period last year and more than double the 43 cases reported in 1952.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said there were nine cases reported for the week ending June 4.

Of the nine reported, Dr. Heustis said, only one occurred in the 10 counties participating in the polio vaccine field trials. This was in Kent County and was a case of non-paralytic polio in a 16-year-old child.

Williams Dedicates June to Michigan Marines

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has proclaimed June as "Michigan Marine Month."

The proclamation was issued in honor of the Marine Corps Recruiting Service in Michigan which will enlist 225 Marines during June and send it to recruit training as a unit.

Applications are being accepted until June 30. Applicants must be between 17 and 28 years of age.

Bus Employes OK Pay Hike

AFL Local Agrees to 1-Year Contract With Pontiac City Lines

Employes of Pontiac City Lines have agreed to a one-year labor contract with the bus company calling for a hourly six-cent wage increase, according to Earl W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent.

All other provisions are the same as in the previous contract which expired last Sept. 30, said Dreasher. Negotiations took 10 months, with a fact-finding board appointed in December by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to help mediate the dispute.

The contract increases the starting wage for drivers to $1.50 per hour and that for repairmen to $1.68. The maximum wage for both groups is reached after a year, said Dreasher, with drivers getting $1.55 and repairmen $1.78.

The 48 drivers and 15 maintenance men will continue to work a 48-hour week, Dreasher explained, with holiday and vacation pay remaining the same. The employes are represented by local 1097 of AFL Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes.

Pontiac elementary students graduating from St. Hugo of the Hills Country Day School Sunday morning at 9:30 are Mary Jane Puertas, Judith Ermel, Donna Needle, Carolyn Cummings, Mary Ann Johnson, Maureen Drake, Frank Syron, Fred Metz, Jerome Amann, Gregory Kemp and Robert Eldred.

The Rev. Francis Stack, pastor, will present the diplomas.

2 Notions of Corn

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —Mrs. Alfred Giorgi sent her young son Michael to a neighbor to borrow two tablespoons of corn starch. He returned with a jigger of whisky.

Dean Edmonson of UM Dies at 71

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. James B. Edmonson, dean emeritus of the University of Michigan school of education, died at his home last night following a heart attack.

Dean Edmonson, one of the most popular figures and keenest wits on the Michigan campus, was 71. Though he retired in 1952, he remained active in university affairs.

He joined the Michigan faculty in 1914 and became dean of the school of education in 1929.

Born in Parkersburg, Iowa, Dr. Edmonson received his bachelor's and master's degree from Michigan and his doctorate from the University of Chicago.

Reflections

MUSIC SOOTHS OR STIRS

By J. Lee Voorhees

J. L. VOORHEES

According to ancient legend there was music before words; drums were beaten to excite men to wild frenzy. Long before words we were soothed to sleep by the lullabye of our mothers. Some of the happiest recollections of our youth are the times when we stood around our wheezy organ singing the old hymns we knew and loved. One of the greatest contributions to mankind was the crude, temperamental and screechy phonograph; it gave us music.

M. E. SIPLE

Music is a universal language; one of our soldiers, stationed in India, was homesick. On Sunday morning he entered the church of a Mission. The words of the service might as well have been gibberish but the melody of the songs were those he knew in the church at home. Music was the bond of fellowship.

Sing for the joy in your heart. Sing to erase sadness. Sing to be one with the universe.

It's the Second
Look That Tells

Many times people get into trouble because they fail to take a second look. This is especially true in dealing with unknown concerns or questionable individuals. The second look at the merchandise, the second look at the contract, the second look which tells the merchant's reliability and reputation for fair dealing — is the sign of a wise buyer.

Federal Civil Defense Plans Nationwide Drill

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Federal Civil Defense Administration is planning its first nationwide drill during which 41 major U. S. cities will come under mock atomic attack.

FCDA announced last night that "Operation Alert," scheduled for June 14 and 15, is intended "to increase the operational capabilities of all civil defense organizations, test communications facilities, and provide realistic training for civil defense workers."

Gunpowder Burns Man in Waterford

George Sheck, 21, of 6744 Highland Rd., Waterford Township, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with first and second degree burns to face and hands, when he ignited some black gunpowder after placing it in a cinder block.

Sheck and a companion, Fred France of 4770 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township, were in the neighborhood of Sheck's home, and were using powder found at the injured boy's home, according to Waterford Township Police. France was not injured.

Ike Scores Big Win in Taxes

Senate Committee OKs Relief for Stockholders by Wide Margin

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Esenhower scored a big victory for his 195 tax program in Senate Finance Committee action yesterday on the omnibus tax revision bill.

The committee voted by the unexpectedly wide margin of 9 to , with two abstentions, to accept the last remaining major provision in the House-passed bill — the controversial plan to give substantial tax relief to stockholders on dividend income.

This provision — strongly sought by the administration — involves the biggest revenue loss in the bill except for the accelerated depreciation section which the committee approvd Thursday.

The Senate group now expects to clean up work on the 875-page measure next Monday or Tuesday. However, the staff will have a lot of drafting work to do so the bill is not expected to be ready for the floor until about June 21.

One big question that still may come up in the committee is a propposal for a general income tax cut by raising personal exemptions.

One veteran member, who declined use of his name, said the chance for a general reduction had been improved greatly by the group's decision to retain the dividend income relief provision.

This also was the view of Sen. George (D-Ga), senior committee Democrat. Asked after the vote yesterday whether the action brightened the chances for a general income tax cut of some kind, he said:

"I would think so. I would hate to go to the floor with a bill which gave this dividend relief and didn't do anything for 90 per cent of the taxpayers."

Subdivision Residents to Discuss Association

Residents of Washington Park Subdivision will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Emmanuel Baptist Church to discuss forming an association to back neighborhood improvement, according to William L. Treanor, publicity chairman.

Besides problems in individual areas, major projects for consideration, Treanor said, include development of a park play area, an annual pest control program and transporting children to school.

Woman Leaves Store Through Clean Window

LONGVIEW, Tex. (UP)—At Blatt's store here, they've decided that keeping the store-front glass clean might be too expensive.

A woman customer walked out of the store yesterday — via the plate glass window.

Company Dinner—Cooked Last Week
...Waiting in Your

WHEN COMPANY'S COMING why not play hostess in the easy, unflustered way? It's simple. Here's how.

Do your cooking days or weeks ahead. Make those festive appetizers. Bake a ham, pie, cake, cookies . . . and pop 'em in your freezer.

Then on the big day, food's on the table with heat-and-serve speed, as deliciously fresh as tho' just prepared. And you're fresh and relaxed; able to really enjoy being hostess. Convenience!—that's the word for a home freezer.
