U.S., Hanoi Meet; Talks to Go Ahead

PARIS (AP) — U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives agreed today to start preliminary peace negotiations at 10:30 a.m. Monday following a further meeting Saturday on arrangements.

The starting time was worked out in the session of first contact here today between Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance, deputy of the U.S. delegation, and Col. Ha Van Lau, No. 2 man in the North Vietnamese group.

They spoke separately to newsmen after this meeting, which lasted nearly two hours.

The announcement indicated both sides were prepared to skip over possible procedural disputes which could deadlock the conference at the very outset.

The North Vietnamese were reported to have asked for the first contact today to be held at less than top level in order to arrange procedural details. U. S. officials expressed disappointment and said they had been prepared to go into full-scale preliminary talks this afternoon.

Officially a U. S. spokesman would say only that the delegation had not requested this kind of beginning.

★ ★ ★

Saturday's second procedural session will begin at 10:30 a.m. (5:30 a.m. EDT).

U. S. Ambasasdor W. Averell Harriman and the leader of the negotiating team from Hanoi, Xuan Thuy, stayed in the background.

U.S. ARRIVES FIRST

The American delegation drove up first in three sedans and was followed within minutes by the Vietnamese in another trio of black sedans. Two security cars followed.

A crowd of 700 to 800 lined the broad Avenue Kleber, near the Arc de Triomphe, as the delegates arrived. Other curious hung out of balcony windows and windows of the International Conference Center itself. There was no applause or cheering.

The weather was cool and overcast as the cars drew up near red-carpeted stairs leading into the conference center where the talks are set in a salon known as "Committee Room 5." A doorman and protocol official were on hand to greet the delegates.

Thuy, who knows Harriman from the 1961-62 Geneva conference on Laos, proclaimed a hard line as he arrived yesterday.

KEY POINTS

He said the origin of the war is "American Aggression and North Vietnam's four-point program for peace is "reasonable, logical and judicious." The key points are American withdrawal from Vietnam and reunification of North and South Vietnam without foreign interference.

Educator Asks Total Plan

By BOB WISLER

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Pontiac school superintendent, last night proposed to the Pontiac Area Planning Council board of governors that the council develop a long-range comprehensive plan for development of the Pontiac area.

WHITMER

Whitmer related the proposal on behalf of the board of education. A plan of the type outlined by Whitmer might cost approximately $250,000, one governor estimated. University of Detroit architect C. Don Davidson agreed this estimate was close.

Whitmer said the type of comprehensive plan discussed would have no bearing on present school projects — such as a development of a Human Resource Center to replace three elementary schools and construction of a new super high school — or any projects likely to be undertaken in the city within the next 12 months.

Discussing financing of the plan study, Whitmer and the council's project director, Dr. David Doherty, agreed there was a good possibility much or most of the plan can be paid for by federal or private foundation funds.

The school superintendent said the need for a comprehensive development plan became acutely aware to the board of education while it was trying to decide where to locate its Human Resource Center and the planned 4,500-student high school.

He said that the board began to realize the decision on a human resource center site was intertwined with other questions concerning construction and rehabilitation of housing, racial composition of neighborhoods, pedestrian and vehicular traffic, parks and the concept of citywide services.

Whitmer said the school board didn't have enough information in these areas on which to base the best decision.

"It would have been much better if there were a long-term comprehensive plan," he said.

NO TOTAL PLAN

Whitmer said that while Pontiac has had some 19 planning studies in the past few years each study has concerned

Stiff Opposition Expected for Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rugged House opposition awaits a compromise measure combining President Johnson's proposed income tax hike with a mandatory $6 billion spending slash.

Senate-House conferees nailed down Thursday a version tacking the spending cut demand onto the 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson has sought since last August.

★ ★ ★

In most respects, the conferees agreed to the bill passed earlier by the Senate.

Reversing earlier indications, handlers of the legislation said it probably won't be brought to a House vote next week. They cited the time required to prepare a report on the complicated bill.

DELAY PLANNED

But it was evident the delay also is planned for careful head counts and persuasion of undecided members.

"There's a lot of work to be done," said one of the bill's major backers, adding he has doubts about the outcome.

A major factor is Johnson's attitude. He faces the choice of blessing the measure because it contains the revenue he says is desperately needed, or fighting it—even with a veto if it is passed—because of the $6 billion cut.

That's $2 billion more than the figure he reluctantly agreed was acceptable and he has said a cut of this depth would be against the national interest.

Observers noted a majority of senators who come up for re-election this year voted against the measure. All House seats are up for election this year.

Area Plan Council Urges More Policemen for City

The Pontiac Area Planning Council board of governors, in existence since last October, last night approved its first recommendation to the Pontiac City Commission.

The governing board — set up to operate as an advisory body to the City Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education—unanimously passed a resolution urging the city to raise the authorized strength of the city police department by 12 officers and make every effort to recruit eight to 10 qualified Negro policemen.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the city is presently filling some 12 vacancies authorized by the city commission earlier this year in an effort to bring the department up to 132 men.

The planning council recommendation would raise the total to 144 officers. Warren said to reach that level a major revision of the city budget would have to be effected.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out to the governing board that the commission can accept or reject the recommendatons of the planning council. recommendations of the planning council.

Martin J. Caserio, general manager of of the governors, said General Motors was interested in helping the city effect council recommendations and would advance tax money ahead of payment deadlines if the city saw the need.

The governors discussed other resolutions and proposals which will be formally acted on at their May 23 meeting. These included:

- A resolution ensuring that the council will be an "equal opportunity employer" and that contractors or businesses engaged by the council or doing business with the council will take affirmative action in hiring minority group members.

'Nixon Varies Views on Viet'

LANSING (AP)— Richard Nixon privately is expressing views on Vietnam which differ from what he has said publicly, Michigan Gov. George Romney said today.

Romney added at a news conference that he is not ready to endorse any of the GOP presidential candidates at this time and has not recently drawn closer to anyone.

Related Stories, Page A-10

Romney was a candidate himself until Feb. 29, when he announced his withdrawal after campaigning in the New Hampshire primary race that Nixon won.

'NOT SIMILAR'

Asked what he thought of the former vice president's views on Vietnam, Romney said:

"His public views are not similar to those I've expressed in the past. What his private views are at this time he really hasn't indicated, and what his future public position will be remains to be seen.

"He's expressing views privately which are not entirely similar to those he's expressed publicly previously," Romney said.

State Counties Get Districting Deadline

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said yesterday that all of Michigan's 83 counties, large and small, must reapportion themselves into equal population districts in time for this year's elections.

That, Kelley said in a statement, is the effect of the State Supreme Court's Wednesday ruling which upheld the one-man, one-vote principle's extension to county government.

"It is clear," Kelley said, "that the time to act is now."

As far as Oakland County is concerned, a vote may not be held this year in spite of the ruling, according to Robert P. Allen, county corporation counsel. He pointed out a lawsuit challenging a proposed redistricting plan for the county is in the State Appeals Court and has not yet been decided.

Allen said the lawsuit could also be brought to the Supreme Court. However, he could not be certain this would delay action on Kelley's order.

The Oakland County plan would change membership on the board of supervisors from 87 to 27 and the southern areas would be more heavily represented than at present.

Bernard Apol, state elections director, said that 51 counties had filed reapportionment plans with his office and added that some of the 32 remaining counties probably had finished redrawing their districts.

But, Kelley said, 10 of the 18 Michigan counties of over 75,000 population had failed to file such plans — probably because of an earlier Supreme Court ruling.

The court held, in April 1967, that a one-man, one-vote law passed in 1966 and setting a May 1967, deadline for apportionment, violated the State Constitution and was void. Many counties then stopped their reapportionment work.

Wednesday, the Supreme Court reversed itself in light of a month-old ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court, upholding the county reapportionment concept.

Kelley said he issued his statement "in the hope that by this means we can communicate as speedily as possible with the officials and citizens of this state who are afected by this important decision."

2 Trapped Crawl to Buddies

Mine Rescue Near

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) —Two men trapped four days in the dark, flooded passageway of a coal mine crawled a half-mile through 10 inches of water today to reach another 13 known to be alive.

The remaining 10 of the 25 men, trapped when millions of gallons of water poured into the mine through a wall break Monday, are presumed dead. There has been no contact with them.

Mine foreman Frank Davis and miner Edward Rudd, isolated 1½ miles from the mine entrance, groped through the murky waters and reached the other group at 10:30 a.m. The group of 13 was cut off by the flood waters one mile from the mine opening.

The director of rescue operations said it was hoped that "we'll have them out late this afternoon."

PUMPS VITAL

C. E. Richardson, president of the Maust Coal and Coke Co., said much depended on the operation of the big pumps draining the passageway.

"If the pumps keep working like we hope they will," he said, "we hope to have the 15 out by 6 p.m."

While some crews moved pumps farther into the mine, other workers gouged through the other side of the mountain. They were creating another tunnel as an alternate route to the point where 15 awaited rescue.

At 6 a.m. the tunnel was "about halfway through," but another official pinned his hopes on the pumps.

"In view of the delays encountered in the tunnel," said overnight rescue director C. E. Sundstrom, "I still think they will be able to pump the water out and rescue the men through the main shaft before the alternate tunnel is completed."

The tunnel crews ran into hard rock during the pre-dawn hours and it all but halted forward movement.

Weekend Will Be Cool, Damp

The official U.S. Weather Bureau forecast:

TODAY — Mostly sunny and cooler. High 60 to 66. Partly cloudy and cool tonight. Low 38 to 44.

TOMORROW — Increasing cloudiness with little temperature change and a chance of rain by late tomorrow or tomorrow night.

SUNDAY — Cloudy and quite cool with rain ending.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are 40 tomorrow.

The mercury dipped from a high of 74 yesterday afternoon to a low of 42 at 7 a.m. today. By 2 p.m. the temperature had warmed up to 64.

Crew of Pueblo May Be Set Free

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman whose subcommittee deals in Asian matters says there is some indication North Korea is moving toward release the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

But administration officials said they had no new progress to report in the long negotiations to win release of the ship and crew.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House subcommittee on Asian and Pacific affairs, told a newsman that while he couldn't go into details, "there is some indication that they will be released."

Communist capture of the Pueblo Jan. 23 set off an international crisis which is being dealt with mainly at U.S.-North Korean talks at the Korean truce site, Panmunjom.

SHIP MOVED

State Department officials said Thursday the ship has been moved from Wonsan Harbor.

Last Year to Date 33

UAW Sets Dec. 15 for AFL-CIO Pullout

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther has fixed Dec. 15 as the date his 1.6 million United Auto Workers will walk out of the AFL-CIO unless a convention without any strings attached is called to debate UAW demands for federation "reform and revitalization."

On top of that, Reuther's union has challenged the AFL-CIO, in effect, to expel the UAW by voting to continue holding up payment of dues to the federation which approximate $1 million a year.

★ ★ ★

New kindling was added to the long-smoldering and sometimes flaming dispute between the 60-year-old Reuther and 73year-old AFL-CIO President George Meany Thursday night by some 3,000 UAW delegates at a biennial convention.

After delegates from the AFL-CIO's largest member voted almost unanimously to withhold federation dues until the Reuther-Meany squabble is settled and demanded a new AFL-CIO convention, Reuther was asked in an interview to spell out precisely what the action indicated.

He said it meant "we're automatically disaffiliated" unless a convention without any conditions attached is called by Dec. 15.

It was the first time Reuther had set a specific walkout deadline.

In voting to hold up dues, the UAW challenged the AFL-CIO to exercise a rule that any member which fails to pay federation dues for three months may be expelled.

The UAW will be three months in arrears next Wednesday.

The convention ordered what normally would be AFL-CIO dues put into an escrow fund, payable if a federation convention is called on UAW terms.

Otherwise, the delegates specified the money is to be used for an organizing crucsade, which Reuther has been demanding, and for deeper involvement of labor in such social reforms as civil rights and formation of community unions.

"If we have got to choose between being the prisoners of a convenient and comfortable complacent kind of status quo because the labor movement won't move, then we will ask those of our friends who are ready to march, to march with us and get the labor movement on the move," Reuther told delegates.

In obvious reference to Meany and veteran labor chiefs who make up the AFL-CIO executive council, Reuther said: "I don't think the leadership of the labor movement ought to be a retired worker's rest home. I believe it ought to be a place of action."

Bill on Holidays OK'd in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a bill that would give the nation four long weekends a year by moving three national holidays to Monday and creating a new one— Columbus Day—also to be observed on Monday.

Rejecting the charge that it was uprooting the nation's historic past, the House voted 218 to 83 to scrap the existing dates for Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day.

★ ★ ★

Under the bill, which faces a questionable future in the Senate, Washington's Birthday would fall on the third Monday in February, Memorial Day on the last Monday in May, Columbus Day on the second Monday in October and Veterans Day on the fourth Monday in October.

★ ★ ★

EXPECTED TO GO ALONG

Only the District of Columbia and federal employes would be affected by the bill, but the states are expected to go along if the new lineup becomes law.

Greater business efficiency and a lessening of absenteeism were the major reasons given by supporters for passage of the bill.

Rep. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., opposing a day honoring Columbus, said "when he left, he didn't know where he was going, when he got here he didn't know where he was and when he got home he didn't know where he had been."

League Seeks Backers for Judge Law Change

Petitions will be circulated at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center tomorrow and the next two Saturdays by the Birmingham-Bloomfield League of Women Voters. They seek to place a proposal on the ballot for the appointment of judges.

Purpose is to remove alleged political pressures on judges who now have to be elected to office, according to the league and the Michigan Jaycees, the two organizations spearheading the petition drive.

The petitions will be available at the shopping center all three Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The proposal calls for the appointment of all judges by the governor, who will receive nominations from a committee of citizens and attorneys.

STEPS OUTLINED

There would be one statewide council to make nominations for judges of the statewide courts. Local, regional councils would make nominations for all other judges.

A new judge would serve three years, after which voters would decide if he should be kept in office. If elected he would decide if he should be kept in office. If elected he would stay in office until age 70.

★ ★ ★

The change from the present judicial selection method would be implemented gradually.

Incumbent judges would serve out their terms. At the end of their terms, they would run on their records as if they had been appointed.

Three area residents have been named to new posts with General Motors Corp.

Thomas J. Carroll, 963 Puritan, has been appointed to the manufacturing staff to act in liaison with a newly-formed forward planning group headed by Lowell A. Kintigh.

In 1957 he was awarded an Alfred P. Sloan Jr. fellowship at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

COLLETTA NAMED

P. J. Colletta, 4550 Coachmaker, Bloomfield Township, has been appointed plant manager at the Kansas City, Kan., GM Assembly Division plant.

Colletta received a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Villanova (Pa.) University in 1950, and a master's degree in industrial management from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1956. He joined GM in 1950.

City Man Shot; Suspect Is Held

A 30-year-old Pontiac man was shot at his estranged wife's home yesterday and his brother-in-law, arrested minutes later by city police, was booked for attempted murder.

Police said Richard A. Fitzgerald of 29 S. Shirley was hit in the back by a shotgun blast about 11:30 p.m. He is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Malane probably will be arraigned today on a charge to be determined by the Oakland County prosecutor's office, according to investigators.

Police said they had been summoned to the home by Mrs. Fitzgerald, 28, about 30 minutes before the shooting.

★ ★ ★

She told officers that the victim had assaulted her earlier in the day and was again in the area.

Tory Rout Shakes Wilson Party Hold

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's hold on Britain's ruling Labor party was threatened today by an unprecedented electoral rout of his party from town halls from one end of Britain to the other.

Conservatives swept Labor out of strongholds that had not known a Tory mayor for generations.

London went almost solidly Tory as Labor lost 16 of the 20 boroughs it held in the capital. In the provinces, Labor lost 560 seats and the Conservatives gained 570.

MACHINE MOWED DOWN

The voting did not affect the Labor party's 74 member majority in the House of Commons. But the party now faces the next two or three years before national elections with its grassroots machine mowed down.

★ ★ ★

In more immediate danger may be the political fortunes of the prime minister himself.

House OKs Stiffer Chiropractor Requirements

LANSING (AP)—Laboring to meet today's deadline for committee action, the Legislature met only briefly Thursday to receive bills from various committees. The House, however, approved a bill stiffening educational requirements for chiropractors.

Midnight is the legislature's self-imposed deadline for receiving bills passed earlier by the opposite chamber. Members spent most of their time Thursday working in committee.

* * *

Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, predicted that several important bills still trapped in various Senate committees would be reported out today. He cited appropriations bills and an insurance pooling measure still in the Commerce Committee as the most important.

"There are many other bills of some importance but not of the degree of importance of these particular items," Lockwood said.

In addition, the majority leader said it may be necessary for a special session to be held later this year because of Detroit's problems.

"I'm referring to the financial problems or possible employees strikes," Lockwood said, not racial rioting.

* * *

I the House, Republican and Democratic leaders agreed to begin debate next Monday on the controversial open occupancy bill.

Approved by the Senate April 4, the housing bill was reported from committee last week without amendment.

It outlaws discrimination based on race, color, religion or national origin in the sale and rental of most housing units and provides penalties of up to $2,000 against realtors who violate the measure.

The House defeated a similar bill last year, falling nine votes short. Leaders of both parties predict the measure will be approved this session after long debate.

* * *

The House approved Thursday by a vote of 76-20 a measure increasing the training required of an applicant for a chiropractor's license from 2,750 class hours to 4,000 and providing that, beginning in 1970, an applicant must have had two years of arts and sciences classes in an accredited college.

It also increases the size of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners from three men members to five and limits members to two 4 year terms.

The measure increases the board's rule-making power, permits suspension of a chiropractor's license for violation of rules, and makes a second violation of the law regulating chiropractors a felony instead of a misdemeanor.

A compromise amendment approved Thursday authorizes chiropractors to use "analytical instruments" approved by the board.

* * *

Earlier, the chamber had voted to limit chirropractors to X-ray machines only. Some members charged certain licensees use "Buck Rogers gadgets" and "Machines with flashing lights that don'thdo anything."

In the Senate, a bill establishing a nine - member committee to set salaries for executive judicial and legislative branches of the government was effectively killed when it was reported from committee without recommendation.

The bill authorized the board to set salaries of the governor, lieutenant governor, principal department heads, Supreme Court justices, appeals court judges and members of the Legislature unless overruled by a two thirds vote of the Legislature.

Also reported out of committee—and recommended for passage—was a House-passed bill to add three judges to the Court of Appeals.

House Curbs Aid to Student Demonstrators

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members have shown their displeasure over continuing ferment on college campuses by voting to deny federal loans, scholarships and grants to students participating in serious campus uprisings.

The recent student-administration power struggle at Columbia University was mentioned repeatedly Thursday as the House voted 306 to 54 for an amendment to prevent federal financial aid from benefiting students joining in disorders that disrupt a college's operations.

* * *

The amendment was added to a bill extending for two years a $1-billion assortment of programs that assist about 1.5 million of the 6 million students in U.S. colleges and universities.

Sponsored by Rep. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., the amendment would bar federal assistance funds from going to any student who refuses to obey a lawful order of the college authorities and is determined by those authorities to have taken part in activities that lead to a disruption of operations at the college.

Rocky Gives Peace Views

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI) — An honorable peace settlement in Vietnam should include the right of self-determination for the South Vetnamese, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York told University of Kansas students yesterday.

Rockefeller, latest aspirant for the GOP presidential nomination, contended the only real solution in Vietnam would be gained by "negotiation and not escalation."

* * *

He apparently was unruffled by a near collision upon his arrival. Another plane forced his aircraft out of the way while landing.

A receptive audience of about 13,000 interrupted the governor's speech several times, and applauded his answers to questions.

SUGGESTS DRAFT LOTTERY

Rockefeller suggested a draft lottery and recommended establishment of a national post-Vietnam planning committee. He also said the voting age should be 18.

Rockefeller and the others aboard his plane "remained quite cool" during the near-miss at the airport, an aide said.

Controversial Island Bridge Aired Again

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The 6-year-old controversy surrounding a proposed causeway and bridge between Dawson Island in White Lake and the southwest corner of Jackson and Ormond roads was aired again last night.

More than 100 area residents showed up last night at a public hearing on the bridge plans of Mrs. Estelle Dawson, former township resident who now lives at 74 Alice, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The hearing was conducted by the State Department of Conservation which is hearing Mrs. Dawson's request to construct the bridge and causeway.

The department has the last word on whether a permit will be issued, said George Taack, who presided at the hearing last night. A decision is expected within 30 days.

WON'T DROP FIGHT

Residents and Mrs. Dawson, however, may take the matter to court.

Residents have been opposed to the structure and the projected residential development of the island since 1962 and indicated last night they don't intend to give up the fight.

Mrs. Dawson likewise said she will definitely go to court if the department doesn't issue her a permit.

Dean G. Beier a Pontiac attorney representing the 350-member White Lake Citizens League stated reasons for resident opposition:

- The right of lake-front property owners or those having access to the lake would be encroached upon because the bridge would only leave open 40 feet of the lake surface and limit the height of boats to 10 feet.
- The structure isn't in the public interest but "to command a profit" for someone.
- The bridge will probably be a private road and may mean "foisting maintenance and care upon some public body."

ECHO POINTS

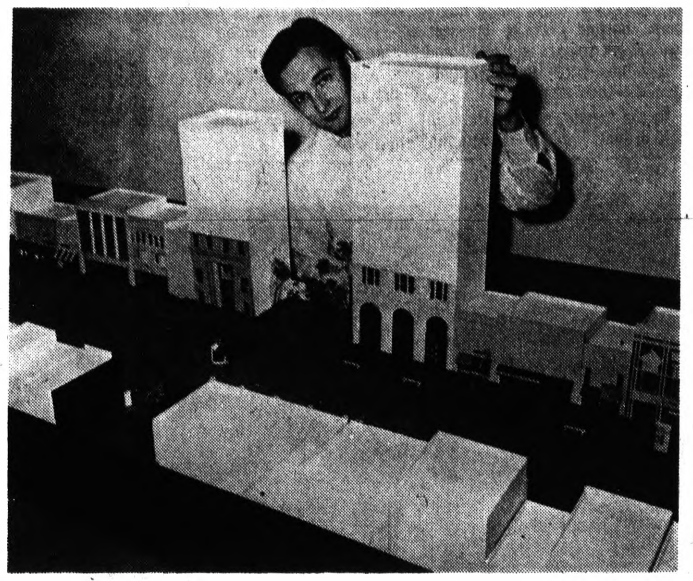

The nearly 20 residents who voiced opposition echoed Beier's points with most of the audience frequently responding with applause.

Howard I. Bond attorney for Mrs. Dawson, asserted that the bridge and causeway would be in the public interest, wouldn't destroy the rights of property owners, and the road would be assured of maintenance.

Mrs. Dawson, Bond added, will probably seek rezoning of the island from the current single-family status to multiple dwelling.

The bridge is designed to be 900 feet long and 30 feet in width, including 20 feet for two traffic lanes and five feet on each side for pedestrians.

11 Contestants Will Vie as Miss Rochester

ROCHESTER — Eleven young women, aged 17 to 22, will compete here tomorrow night for the title of Miss Rochester and prizes valued at $1,000.

The winner will participate in the Miss Michigan pageant June 17 in Muskegon.

Saturday's winner will be crowned by Cindy Jo Thomas, the reigning Miss Rochester, in a pageant sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce at 8 p.m. at Rochester Senior High School.

Contestants include Nancy Lee Baker, Cheryl Ann Baranski, Sally Ann Barnes, Sue Freeborn, Fern Marie Steward and Karen Warstler, all of Rochester, Candace Hershberger of Oakland University, Deborah Lynn Garvock of Troy, Marcia Ann Thompson of Lake Orion, Anne Hohnart of Birmingham, and Adrienne Castle of Washington. They will be judged on the basis of talent and appearance.

JUDGES NAMED

Area Firms Convicted of Meat Law Violation

Two area firms have been convicted of failure to comply with meat standards, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The firms include Cattlemen's Meat, 4980 Highland, Waterford Township, fined for excess fat in ground beef, and Farmer Jack, 2880 W. Maple, Troy, fined for excess fat in pork sausage, the department reported.

Land-Fill Opened to W. Bloomfield

Pontiac City Commissioners have voted to extend a contract to West Bloomfield Township to allow township residents to use the city's sanitary land-fill for trash disposal.

Residents may bring refuse, excluding garbage, by car, trailer or pickup truck at a fee of 50 cents per car or $1 per trailer or pickup truck.

★ ★ ★

Larger loads will be charged for at $1 per cubic yard. The contract excludes commercial hauling of waste materials to the site.

Apartment Zoning Nixed in Avon Twp.

AVON TOWNSHIP — An application for rezoning to allow the construction of apartments on Auburn Road, between Harvey and Leach, adjacent to property planned for a mobile home park has been denied by the Township Board.

Application originally was made by Harold Newingham and Donald Barcome in the belief that such zoning would be required in order to allow the trailer park.

The board decided last night that since the property is now surrounded by light industrially zoned land, a further buffer of apartments would not be needed.

The vote was in accordance with a planning commission recommendation.

Final approval of the trailer park awaits a deicision by the zoning board of appeals, according to Clerk Thelma Spencer.

A bid in the amount of $10,500 to build an addition to the Avondale Fire Hall has been awarded to Schurrer Construction Co. of Pontiac. Space is needed to house another fire truck, according to township officials.

Supervisor Cyril Miller has reported that the professional reappraisal of township property is proceeding without incident. He said crews are at work in the southern part of the township.

Miller also reported on his recent trip to Washington, D.C., where he sought federal assistance for the township's Phase II water and sewer program. He said application has been made, but there has been no indication of the outcome.

NAMED TO COMMITTEE

Clerk Spencer and Trustees George Ennis and Earl Borden have been named to a committee to work with engineers on a building program for Phase I water and sewer development. Housing for the water department and maintenance work is necessary according to townsrip plans.

Bids for the paving of Perrydale showed it would probably cost home onwers $700 a lot for the job. The Township Board delayed action waiting for residents to review the costs.

Saginaw Street Is His Model

Student Maps Urban Center Rescue

By TOM GRAY

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Many urban centers are dying out, or being supplanted by shopping centers uniquely suited and designed for the automotive age.

Is the process a reversible one?

Hardesty, who majors in graphic design communications, has just finished turning 15 months of study, photography, and creative effort into a 15-foot model of Pontiac's Saginaw street, between Water and Huron.

CONSUMER USE

In that model, the 23-year-old student has attempted to place retail stores of various types in such a way as to encourage maximum consumer use.

He has also projected possible methods of dealing with traffic flow, parking, use of signs and other major problems which confront urban designers.

★ ★ ★

Graphic design communications?

Hardesty's instructor, Howard Brown, translates: "It is the study of two-dimensional information which marks, identifies or describes something. Stores use graphics to identify their merchandise, packages use graphics to describe their contents."

BEGAN AS IDEA

Hardesty said his study of Pontiac began as a concept — an idea which could be applied to many cities. "So many shopping areas, all over the country, die after 30-40 years," he explained.

"The only solution so far is to level them and rebuild. I felt that there should be a more economical solution, one that could use the existing buildings."

Most Pontiac buildings, he continued, still have 20 or 30 years of life. "While they can still function, there is something that keeps people from coming in to them," Hardesty asserted.

He identified the primary problem as coping with the automobile. The downtown area is built to function for the auto, he noted, but doesn't, because of the lack of parking space. At the same time, it cannot function for the pedestrian.

1st MAJOR STEP

This realization led to the first major step: The closing of Saginaw to autos and its conversion into a mall.

"Instead of heavy signage designed to attract people driving by in autos, the signs have been reduced to such a size that the pedestrian can see them as he walks through the area," Hardesty pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Also, he said, the reduction in size made it possible to relate the signs more closely to the architecture of the buildings.

★ ★ ★

The model itself shows great attention to detail. For example, the "Games Inc." sign on a toy store in the "youth area" of the model is at ground level, with letters scaled to six feet in height which children could climb on and play around.

FOR CONVENIENCE

Furniture stores, clothing stores, theaters and other facilities visited less frequently are toward the center of the business district.

The best of the plan, Hardesty said, is that it could be effected at a minimal cost compared to the typical "urban renewal" project, allowing the possibility of a trial period.

Merchants could bear much of the expense or finance the project with low-cost loans, he theorized.

Retiring Principal Will Be Honored

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Florence Mortimer, retiring principal of North Hill Elementary School, will be honored at a PTA reception at 8 p.m. Monday at the school.

Principal since the school was opened in 1955, Mrs. Mortimer resides at 322 Cantley, Addison Township.

★ ★ ★

The Rochester Senior High "Triple Trio" under the direction of Frank Irish will provide entertainment, according to Mrs. Richard H. Goldsworthy, reception chariman.

Former students at the school and their parents have been invited to attend the program.

School Fair Saturday in Orion Township

ORION TOWNSHIP — Carpenter School will host a fair from 3 to 6 p.m. tomorrow at the school, corner of Joslyn and Flintridge.

Mrs. Everett J. Naugle and Mrs. Richard Koehn, cochairmen, have announced that games, booths, refreshments and rides will be available.

To Clean Up Old Cemetery

Girls Prove They're Good Scouts

ORTONVILLE—Fifteen Junior Girl Scouts from Troop 755 will set to work tomorrow cleaning up an old—and rather mysterious—cemetery located about a mile south of this village.

According to Mrs. Carl Anderson, 255 Granger, leader of the troop, inquiry of local residents has so far yielded no clue as to the name of the cemetery or any other information about it.

★ ★ ★

The girls, aged 9-11, all attend Howard T. Burt School. They have been working for nearly a year, Mrs. Anderson said, to complete the requirements for the "My Community" merit badge.

Other projects under the badge have included cleaning up debris at the high school football field following homecoming and working in the village library.

Most of the 12 visible headstones in the tiny cemetery, located on M15, are so weathered as to be unreadable. One, however, bears the name "Kent."

Besides cleaning up the area tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon, the girls plan to place a sign identifying the cemetery and to visit it on Memorial Day following the village's annual parade.

Orion Family Survives Fire but Blaze Still Takes Toll

By JEAN SAILE

No one in the 13-member Negro family was hurt. All were out of the big two-story four-bedroom house when a short in the electrical system apparently started the blaze.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless the fire has taken its toll. Several of the children have been ill. The doctor has diagnosed it as nerves, according to Mrs. King.

Mrs. King's husband, whom she took to the doctor yesterday, has been ordered to stay off his job at GMC Truck and Coach Division for 30 days for the same reason.

Meanwhile, the Kings are staying with the Eli Washington family next door where a three-bedroom one-story ranch home has been expanded to take care of its 17 residents.

★ ★ ★

It may be two months until the Kings get back in their home. Though the house was covered by insurance, the current builders' strike is expected to delay repair.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Mrs. Washington goes about preparing an average dinner — six chickens and 25 pounds of potatoes — for the combined families. Mrs. Washington's husband has set up beds in the basement and made other changes to accommodate the Kings.

SEEK ANOTHER HOME

Overwhelmed with gifts of clothing and furniture, the family would still like to find another home while theirs is being repaired.

★ ★ ★

"We just haven't got room to store any more furniture," said Washington. "The school just called and said they had another load for us, but I haven't got anywhere to put it."

★ ★ ★

Carpenter School Principal James Theunick started a food and clothing drive for the family immediately after the fire. Four of the children attend classes there.

GRATEFUL FOR RESPONSE

"It was Kenneth Kirk who lives across the road who saved our clothes and the boys' clothes," said Mrs. King who works part time as a domestic servant.

● A esolution urging that the City Commission and board of education establish a Youth Service Corps (a program which has youths, especially Negroes, working with police officers a few hours each day) during the summer.

● A resolution urging passage of a fair housing ordinance for the city. A referendum election one the ordinance passed by the City Commission will be held June 24.

ACTION EXPECTED

The governing board is expected to adopt the resolutions at its next meeting.

Formulation of the resolutions caps discussion of racial relations over many meetings.

Racial relations in the city was the subject of a special task force's investigations. The resolutions on hiring more police and Negro police officers, on creating a youth corps program and on adopting and urging equal opportunity pacts for the council, city and school board were recommendations of the task force.

Governors last night also received a proposal to change its bylaws to ensure that either a governor or a regular alternate attend all meetings. Mrs. Louise Saks, parliamentarian, recommended the change to ensure "continuity," she said.

COUNCIL SLOW

Mayor Taylor said the planning council has been somewhat slow to act on certain matters and he noted that there has been apparently some "mistrust among members."

But, he said, the council should have coalesced to the point where its ready to take action. "We have a group, good group . . . we have a job to do," he said.

Taylor noted that work of the council should improve and be more focused now that the recently appointed project director, Dr. David J. Doherty, has taken over. Doherty accepted duties May 1.

Taylor said the planning council had been unfavorably compared to the New Detroit Committee. But, he said, the council has not yet had the same number of meetings the New Detroit Committee has had.

"I don't think you should take a back seat, or that you have to take a back seat to anything the New Detroit Committee has done," Doherty told the governors.

He said he is aware that the Detroit committee had to solve its human relations problems first and that it is still trying to do so.

★ ★ ★

Doherty said he didn't think ratios could be set as to how much time should be spent on human relations and how much on physical construction of bricks and mortar. "The problem of human relations has to be cleared up."

"All the steps taken so far are necessary steps, he said.

Doherty said his job will be to pull together all the efforts of the governors, the administrative council, the task forces and consultants.

OUTLINE PROGRAMS

The project director said he will attempt to outline a number of short-range programs the council can become interested in during the months ahead.

He mentioned a possibility: construction of a large recreation center in the downtown area which can be used by individuals, businesses and industry.

Doherty said his first moves as project director will include soliciation of federal and private foundation funds.

He said he will meet with officials of the Archdiocese of Detroit to discuss the possibility of securing part of the $1.5 million the Catholic organization has pledged for initiation of housing construction.

"There's no reason why Pontiac should not have part of this," he said.

Army Alerts Thousands; D.C. Outbreak Feared

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Army troops in the Washington area reportedly will go on alert Saturday to be ready for any violence accompanying this weekend's arrival of the vanguard of the Poor Peoples' Campaign.

The Pentagon said the Army was taking certain "prudent actions" but declined to detail them.

Sources said these actions include alerting troops at posts and bases near Washington to be set to move, if necessary, in as little as one hour.

Elements of the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., also will be alerted but won't be flown to the capital area unless needed, sources said.

GUARD AVAILABLE

Units of the District Coloumbia National Guard, most of them military policemen, will undergo weekend drills at the D.C. Armory and will be available for any riot duty. Other guardsmen will stand by at home or within easy reach.

It was reported that some Army agents were observing the progress of the Poor Peoples' Campaign to determine the probable size of the crowds that will reach Washington, the mood of the marchers and those who are leading and influencing them.

Although leaders of the campaign maintain they will adhere to nonviolent means in seeking expanded social programs from Congress, fears have been expressed on Capitol Hill and elsewhere that violence could erupt.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has told the Senate his investigating committee has uncovered plans by militants—he refused to name them—to grab control of the campaign and turn it to rioting.

VIEW CHALLENGED

Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., a Negro, challenged McClellan's charges Thursday at a news conference saying the Arkan san's statements "sound to me like some more rumors that are calculated to disturb the citizenry . . ."

The Washington Post reported meanwhile that federal officials are close to agreement with campaign leaders on a site for the shanty-town or tent city the demonstrators plan to erect to house the marchers.

★ ★ ★

The Post said a large field in West Potomac Park near the Lincoln Memorial and its reflecting pool was under consideration. Use of this site would be limited to 3,000 persons, the paper said.

★ ★ ★

Plans for dealing with possible major disturbances have been sharpened in two episodes since last fall—the antiwar march on the Pentagon last October and the capital rioting that followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King early last month.

Heart Transplants Called Too Risky

BOSTON (AP) — A leading Boston chest surgeon told a medical audience which included two heart transplant pioneers, that Boston doctors aren't going to try heart transplants—at least not right away.

Dr. Dwight E. Harken, thoracic surgeon at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, and one of the developers of open-heart surgery, said Thursday that heart transplants are too risky, that they represent "human experiments" with too high a probability of failure.

Comprehensive Plan Is Urged

only a section or element and not total development.

"There has been no study that has included all the elements," he said. Whitmer said none of the studies had included aspects of improving the educational system.

He said a comprehensive plan would enable the school board to make decisions which make "maximum contribution to the general welfare . . . and to the end that the people of Pontiac have maximum opportunity for the good life or personal fulfillment."

The proposal, as outlined by Whitmer, calls for the planning council's board of governors to invite four to six planning firms to prepare proposals for its consideration.

Doherty, told the governors that, while federal and foundation money is available for projects in the Pontiac area, a comprehensive development plan is almost a prerequisite to securing the money.

• SELECTION? With Simplicity in 1968, you pick from five new tractors (5 to 12 hp) and a 4-hp riding mower. You get "job-tailored" tractor choice.

• NO-SCALP MOWING? If the mower's mounted on the tractor frame, you'll get scalping. By contrast, Simplicity's patented mounting suspends the mower from the front axle. Can't scalp—because the front wheels "telegraph" every change in ground contour.

Mother's Day Memorializes Love

It's pronounced variously, of course, in different languages: "Madre" in Italian, "Mere" in French, "Mutter" in German, "Mater" in Latin and, needless to say, "Mother" in English.

But in any language, the term is synonymous with love — a selfless, self-sacrificing and protective love not matched by any other mortal being.

★ ★ ★

So it is fitting that a day has been designated as an annual memorial to this quality of human tenderness.

Mother's Day falls on the second Sunday of May, day after tomorrow.

It was given official status in 1914 when President WOODROW WILSON signed a joint resolution of Congress in recognition of it.

Millions of Americans, young and old, look forward to Mother's Day as a time for expressing their devotion to those who gave them life and for maternal bounty so freely bestowed throughout the year.

★ ★ ★

So let's go all out to make this Mother's Day an unforgettable one for the mothers who give so much and ask so little.

Better yet, why not make every day Mother's Day?

Hard-Core Idleness Challenge to Industry

In times of military emergency or other periods of national stress, Government leaders have called on business and industry for cooperative assistance. And U.S. Leaders in the business world have always responded wholeheartedly.

These voluntary efforts of business and industry typify the kind of government-business partnership that really works because, as citizens, we all have a mutual interest in resolving problems that threaten free institutions and the security of the Nation.

The latest example of this partnership is the government-industry cooperative effort to put hard-core unemployed to work.

★ ★ ★

A practical sociologist recently posed the question: "Can private business succeed where the dreamers and the planners have failed?"

There is good evidence that it can.

One of the most promising areas of employment is in retail distribution, since numerically the service segment of our economy now exceeds the production.

It is therefore encouraging to note that the National Association of Food Chains has launched an all-out drive to stimulate the interest of its members in a Government program that will help defray the costs of special training provided by companies undertaking to put the hard-core unemployed on their payrolls.

New employes will be given both off the job leadership and on the job counseling and training until they have acquired sufficient proficiency to become fully functioning employes.

A chain store official, in urging participation in the Government-industry employment program, says: "The supermarket industry has always been the leader in providing jobs for youth in this Country. Don't we have an opportunity to provide a real public service—to help our manpower deficiency as well as mounting a major industry effort to train and employ disadvantaged youths?"

★ ★ ★

Private industry is and must remain the primary employer of U.S. citizens. The present Government-industry partnership to provide employment rests solidly upon this basic premise.

Armor of Irish Swains Pierced by Cupid's Arrows

The famous Irish bachelor is becoming, if not as rare as the elusive leprechaun, definitely much scarcer than he used to be.

As recently as 1951, Erin's percentage of unmarried people was the highest in the world and the birth rate one of the lowest.

Ten years later, though, things had changed considerably. The average age at marriage had dropped to 30 for men and 27 for women. (Corresponding figures in Britain were 23 and 18, and in the United States 22 and 20.)

Today, Irishmen at any age between 21 and 30 are fair game for the colleens.

Even in rural Ireland, the last bastion of bachelorhood, the social pattern is rapidly changing. Thanks to increased industrialization and an improved economy, dependence on agriculture has been lessened.

In the old days, younger members of a rural family were forced to migrate, while the eldest son stayed at home waiting for the old folks to pass from the scene.

Today, the younger ones go to work in factories in the local town and, through generous government grants, the first son is able to move out and build his own home while his parents are still alive.

One gauge of the younger marrying pattern is the high attrition among its hostesses, reports Irish International Airlines. Girls come in at 20 and on the average are married in two years—the majority of them to the lad back home, now usually in his 20s.

Even the Fighting Irish, it must be concluded, are outmatched by Cupid.

OU Will Swing With Top-Notch Jazz

By DICK SAUNDERS

Something really outstanding is going to happen at Oakland University next month. This is not to say that outstanding things aren't already happening out there; just that this one strikes closer to home with me. .

SAUNDERS

They're going to swing.

It's a little piece of Americana featuring some top-notch jazz bands.

One is Count Basie; the other a traditional group, The Preservation Hall Jazz Band.

The Count is slated for a concert at the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion June 15. The Preservation Hall Jazz Band, direct from New Orleans, will appear there in concert June 14.

It is a notable occasion because the Baldwin pavilion now becomes, for the first time, an arena for American heritage in its purest form — jazz.

The public will get some of the finest in big band modern jazz from Basie, and a pure strain of New Orleans jazz from the Preservation Hall group.

This latter group is the lesser known of the two, and it's too bad because they are a direct throwback to the traditional idiom; a penetrating glimpse of the bare soul of this great American art form.

★ ★ ★

Aside from Allan Jaffe, who is proprietor of Preservation Hall in New Orleans and plays tuba, there is no one in the Preservation Hall Jazz Band under 60 years old.

The band consists of Billie Pierce, piano; DeDe Pierce, trumpet; Jim Robinson, trombone; Willie Humphrey Jr., clarinet; and Cie Frazier, drums.

Billie, at 61, is the youngster of the group. The great Jim Robinson, whom I have waited half a lifetime to see, is still blowing his marvelous, gutty, tailgate trombone at 78.

The people at OU showed some real taste and insight when they put this band under contract.

★ ★ ★

It's a sad thing to even think, but life does slip away from us as time goes by. This could well be our last chance to see this group in action outside the New Orleans area.

The years will take their toll.

David Lawrence Says:

Warsaw Drawbacks in Evidence

WASHINGTON — Maybe those members of Congress who recently were so quick to express themselves in favor of the selection of Warsaw as a site for the Vietnam peace negotiations will have second thoughts now that a crisis has arisen in the Polish capital itself. For Western diplomats and all foreign residents have just been barred from traveling to or from Warsaw.

LAWRENCE

While no reasons were given, the assumption is that the Soviet government, which controls the countries of East Europe, is moving troops toward Czechoslovakia, whose leaders lately have had the temerity to differ ideologically with the Moscow concepts of communism.

The right of dissent is punishable by military force in Communist-bloc countries, and the Soviet Union hasn't hesitated to make a show of force as a signal that further deviation from Communist concepts of the past will not be tolerated.

A "summit" conference of all the Communist countries of East Europe except Czechoslovakia and Romania has just been convened in Moscow, and the leaders pledged themselves to "all-around cooperation" with Moscow in the controversy with Czechoslovakia.

SIGN OF HEADWAY

The American government has known for some time about the rising tension between Poland and Czechoslovakia. This is one of the reasons why Warsaw wasn't regarded here as a good place in which to hold peace conferences with North Vietnam.

The reform movement in Czechoslovakia has been welcomed in Western Europe and inside the United States as a sign that at last democracy was making a little headway in the Eastern bloc and that Czechoslovakia was showing a trend toward self-determination.

The Soviet government has a large number of troops not only in East Germany but in Poland, and these have presumably been alerted.

For the last two weeks hopes have risen here that a substantial change in Czechoslovakia would bring about better relations between the United States and all the countries in the Communist bloc of Eastern Europe.

Recently members of the administration have been urging an improvement of relations between the United States and the Communist-bloc countries, particularly through trade arrangements.

Bob Considine Says:

Get Out of Vietnam? Indians Have New Idea

NEW YORK — People . . . Places . . .

Marty Allen, the inventor of Brillo, says he took a poll among the American Indians recently. Ten per cent said we should get out of Vietnam. Ninety per cent said we should get the hell out of America.

CONSIDINE

Ten per cent of the members of the engineers' faculty at the University of California (Berkeley) are paid nothing by the University. They are on loan from their companies for periods of time, ranging up to a full school year. Some of them are in the $40,000 a year echelon.

They accomplish two things: 1) they bring to the students the latest know-how in their special fields, as researched at great cost by the companies involved, and 2) they save their companies a lot of money by scouting brains.

It costs the big U.S. companies as much as $4,000 to coax bright young graduates to sign up to work for this or that corporation. But an IBM or General Motors (or Lockheed or what have you) executive operating as a part-time professor on campus can spot the brightest young men and sign them up on the spot.

It's as if the N.Y. Yankees gave Mickey Mantle a sabbatical and let him teach in a school renowned for its ballplayers. Mickey would grab the best, before the best began shopping around for a bigger bonus.

One does not expect to hear the dean of the University of California's College of Engineering talking about tomatoes. But Dean George J. Maslach got around to that homely topic recently while ruminating on the outrageous inroads automation has made in human affairs.

"It's hard to get a good tomato in a salad that uses California tomatoes, for example," he said. "Instead of importing pickers, as of old, our Davis Campus (agricultural arm of Cal) came up with a tomato-picking machine.

TOUGHER SKIN

"That meant the tomato had to be altered so that it would grow a tougher skin. The tougher skin would not only save it from being mangled by the machine but would enable the shippers to use bigger cartons in shipping the tomatoes.

"Now something had to be done to make the whole tomato crop ripen at the same time, instead of the way tomatoes naturally ripen. Chemical sprays retarded the early buds, and now everything ripens simultaneously. That's good for the machines and the growers.

★ ★ ★

Three Readers Express Views on Vietnam War

When I read the paper or watch the news it makes me sick to see war protesters and draft dodgers. I am a teen-ager and though I am a girl I would gladly go if I were called.

★ ★ ★

The United States has made a promise to the countries of Southeast Asia and now that we are in the war, we should either win it or settle it through peace talks.

★ ★ ★

If protesters really want the war to be ended, they should go and fight to end it.

LAUREL FARLEY
906 CANAL, MILFORD

I think we should get out of the war in Vietnam and mind our own business. I know we're faced with the problem of Red China getting more power and thinking we are chicken and starting another war against us. It is just like a civil war between them. The real problem is that we are killing and losing our men in Vietnam for a war that we should not be involved with.

JANET RICHARDS
2042 S. MILFORD RD., MILFORD

Some people in our great society say we should pull out of this war and be through. In my opinion this would not stop the war but only make it bigger. In pulling out of the war the European countries might think of us as being "chicken" and start aggravating us and possibly creating or bringing about World War III.

★ ★ ★

Other Americans feel we should drop a bomb on Vietnam. What will stop Red China from dropping a bomb on us? We must consider our obligation concerning the innocent lives in Vietnam.

New Reader Has Suggestions About Eating

During the newspaper strike in Detroit, your paper is being furnished to me by a friend from your area. What becomes of freedom of the press, as guaranteed in the First Amendment, when the press can operate only at sufferance of lawless and monopolistic unions?

★ ★ ★

As for malnutrition, how many overeat of meats, starches, sugars and soft drinks, but are undernourished? Production of one pound of beef requires nine pounds of feed and fiber and 4,000 pounds of water. Why not use fresh fruits, vegetables and nuts for foods? Why not adopt the proven principles of natural hygiene, including use of natural foods, with periodic fasts to rest the digestive system and permit the body to throw off accumulated toxins; exercise followed by adequate rest; cleanliness and plenty of pure air and water.

Question and Answer

The City income tax form says if the total amount of tax paid is less than 70 per cent of what is due, interest and penalties will be charged. Exactly what are the interest and penalties?

L. L. D.

REPLY

For minor infractions, such as late payment, one-half per cent a month will be charged. For flagrant violations, an additional penalty can be imposed of one per cent of the unpaid tax for each month it is delinquent. The minimum penalty is $2 and the maximum penalty cannot be more than 25% of the total tax. This information comes from the City Finance Director.

Farm Program

Toledo Blade

The revelation that corporate sugar growers in Hawaii, already receiving millions in federal subsidy payments, also collect a $2 million bonus because of the Agriculture Department's old definition of what constitutes a farm ought to suggest to Congress that a good place to start cutting the 1969 budget proposal is the government's farm-price support program.

★ ★ ★

To begin with, the proposal includes $3.5 billion for farm-income stabilization, an activity that should be eliminated altogether. It is directed at a situation of years ago which no longer exists.

It has not been effective anyway — the farm-surplus problem went away despite government programs, not because of them.

The surplus was not defined correctly and the attempted remedy was not appropriate at the outset. Today it is preposterous.

Besides being a victory for common sense, abolition of the price-support program would make an important opening in the Johnson administration's claim that its budget proposal is virtually irreducible.

★ ★ ★

This listing, along with another $79.8 billion for national defense, is supposed to prove that there is almost nothing which can be done to cut the budget.

★ ★ ★

Well, right there in the middle of the "uncontrollable" items is a $3.4 billion one which can be dispensed with. And we suspect there may be many other items in the list which are no more uncontrollable than this one.

New Idea . . .

The Wall Street Journal

What appears to be one of the first new ideas in years for increasing farm income is being promoted by the Kansas Wheat Commission. The beauty of the scheme is that it requires no vast outlays of Federal funds.

★ ★ ★

All the Kansas group is asking the Agriculture Department to do is undertake a public relations campaign to persuade Americans to eat one more slice of bread every day.

Now one slice of bread naturally suggests two, with something in between — ham, bologna, salami or roast beef (which would help the cattle growers); or peanut butter (which would aid the peanut growers); or cheese (which would make the dairy people happy). Sandwiches suggest accompanying beverages, which would make a lot of other people happy.

★ ★ ★

The addition of all these extra calories is likely to change the shape of a lot of people, who then would need new and better-fitting clothing, making the textile people happy.

★ ★ ★

Still, if the Kansans' scheme actually could slim down Washington's outlays for farmers, maybe a lot of people would adopt it, even at the risk of getting fat.

Senate Unit Shelves Game Prize Bill

The bill, which would ban supermarket and gas station contests, passed the House, but was tabled by a 3-1 vote in the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday.

★ ★ ★

Trying to keep the measure alive, Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, Thursday proposed a substitute bill which would exempt supermarkets from the bill's provisions.

★ ★ ★

It's Hell in Paradise at Christmas, Mich.

Associated Press Writer

It's Hell in Paradise at Christmas, but come summer the three Michigan towns capitalize on their catchy names.

★ ★ ★

All three communities are crossroads towns with small populations. Winters are generally long and uneventful but on hot summer days, tourists throng to all three towns if for nothing more than to send a friend a postcard with an unusual postmark.

★ ★ ★

All three villages have postal substations with postmarks of their own and the circular black rubber stamps have turned up all over the world.

Hell is the smallest of the three communities, with a population of less than 50 persons.

BUSY LITTLE TOWN

The businesses of Hell include an antique shop run by Mel Reinhard, president of the chamber of commerce, plus a restaurant, a motel, a beauty shop and a combination grocery-service station.

★ ★ ★

"We've profited from our name," admits Reinhard, who doubles as justice of the peace in nearby Pinckney. "Tourism is our business, and people come here because of the name."

★ ★ ★

Hell is located in Livingston County, just northwest of Ann Arbor. It's in the midst of the Pinckney Recreation area, which includes lakes, summer camps, wooded hills.

Reinhard sells bumper stickers and a state park surrounded by — "We've been to HELL Michigan" and similar gimmick merchandise at his gift shop and antique store.

SOME HISTORY

How did Hell come by its name?

"There are two stories," says Reinhard. "The first goes back to a whisky distillery in 1841. Oxcarts hauled the whisky to a tavern for 10 cents a gallon. The tavern was known as a helluva place because of the brawls and the name stuck."

Reinhard said the other story was told to him last year by an old resident.

"The early settlers were Germans from New York," he said. "A group of them were moving west in a wagon train from Dexter and when they saw the clearing around the settlement, they began shouting 'Hell! Hell!,' which is German for 'light.' "

MORE COLORFUL

Reinhard said he preferred the first story because it is more colorful.

Paradise, which draws 400,000 tourists each year because of nearby Tahquamenon Falls, has an equally picturesque background and is one of eight identically named communities in the United States.

"A man named Ed LeDuc and a fellow named MacGregor were sitting on the shores of Lake Superior one night," says Larry Jacques, the postmaster. "The area was abundant with fish and wildlife.

"MacGregor said, 'this is really a paradise, isn't it?' and LeDuc replied 'young man, that's what we're going to call this place.' "

THRIVING SINCE

That was near the turn of the century. Paradise has thrived on tourism ever since.

Paradise, with 50 or 60 families, boasts three churches, two gas stations, two general stores, two taverns, four restaurants and a dozen motels and tourist courts, says Jacques.

The post office came in 1937 and has proved a boon to the town ever since.

North Part of State Called a Tinderbox

LANSING (AP) — The northern third of Michigan is a "potential tinderbox" very much in the need of rain, a State Conservation Department official said Thursday after a blaze destroyed 4,000 acres of forest in southern Kalkaska County.

The fire, which broke out Wednesday afternoon, destroyed more acreage than all such fires combined during 1967, said Milton Bergman, chief of the Conservation Department forest fire section.

He warned that still worse fires are possible this weekend.

Bergman told the State Conservation Commission that most of the damage was done to valuable trees on state forest lands.

Less than 3,000 acres were destroyed by forest fires in 1967.

'DANGEROUS'

Another fire on Wednesday, near Roscommon in Crawford County, was potentially more dangerous than the one in Kalkaska County, Bergman said. However, only 900 acres were burned.

"Fortunately, we got that one under control fast," he said. "It was dangerous because there are a lot of homes, summer cottages and about 14,000 people in the area."

★ ★ ★

The weather prediction for the northern third of the state over the weekend is for high winds, low humidity and no rain, which thus increases the possibility of fires.

Bergman also noted that since foliage has not "greened up," it is vulnerable to any fire threat.

WATER BOMBING

Bergman said pinpoint water bombing by planes has been the most effective weapon so far in preventing the spread of these fires.

"These pilots do amazing things," he commented. "They have played a major role in either putting out entirely or preventing the spread of fires that has hit us."

★ ★ ★

Gerald Johnson, pilot of a Beaver plane used in fire-fighting, scooped up water 12 times in a half hour from a lake to bomb a young fire in Otsego County. His work confined it to only three acres.

Bergman estimated that to date about 15,000 acres of forests and grasslands have been burned by about 850 fires.

No Fire Truck ---Town Loses Main Industry

JAM DAM (UPI) — For want of a fire truck, this small northern Menominee County community lost its main industry. The citizens are now helping to rebuild the burned-out company and are leading a drive to get a fire engine.

On April 27, fire destroyed the Robinson Furniture Co. plant, causing an estimated one-half-million dollar loss and throwing 90 persons — a large percentage of the community out of work.

Since that fire, branch factories in several other surrounding Upper Peninsula communities have had to close because of lack of parts. The owner, Earl Robinson, has vowed to rebuild his factory despite the fact that he had no insurance on the original lding.

Insurance costs, he said, would have been prohibitive because the nearest firetruck was some 10 miles away.

Another Ship Is Stuck on Florida Beach

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Another shipload of men has gone down to the beach in ships, just in time to maintain Palm Beach County's 32-month record of having an oceangoing freighter stuck on its sand.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers was almost finished with the $67,000 job of cutting up the 441-foot freighter Amaryllis 30 miles north at Riviera Beach when the 328-foot ore carrier Inverrosa beached itself in a high wind.

The Inverrosa came in Wednesday. The official explanation from aboard the British vessel was faulty steering compounded by a leaky boiler and high seas.

COULD STAY DRY

Thursday hundreds of persons crowded the beach here to stand at the base of the 2,963-ton Inverrosa—a ship that needs 13-feet-three-inches to float but trapped in a spot where crewmen could walk ashore fully dressed and stay dry.

The Inverrosa was swept in stern first and swung broadside Thursday before the U.S. Coast Guard abandoned efforts to attempt to refloat the vessel.

Boca Raton city police, into whose jurisdiction the out-ofwater ship had come, treated it all as a traffic problem.

U.S. agents for Ortran Ltd. of London, the ship's owners, indicated arrangements were being made with a salvage company to attempt to refloat the vessel. Two reefs stood between the Inverrosa and deep water even if it could be slid from its sandy pier.

When an old-time recipe calls for "a wine glass" of liquid, you are usually safe in adding one-quarter cup.

Thousands at Mrs. Wallace Rites

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Mourners by the thousands gathered in the hot sun on a cemetery hilltop overlooking nearby pastures yesterday to pay their final respects to Gov. Lurleen Burns Wallace.

★ ★ ★

Five Air National Guard jets flew overhead as graveside ceremonies began and one peeled off, leaving a symbolic empty spot in the formation.

★ ★ ★

After an eulogy by the Rev. John E. Vickers and a prayer by Methodist Bishop Kenneth Goodson, eight National Guardsmen removed the red and white state flag from the casket, folded it and presented it to former Gov. George Wallace with a salute.

ASKED FOR 2 POEMS

Earlier in services attended by more than 600 at St. James Methodist Church, Vickers said Mrs. Wallace had made plans for the funeral and had asked that two poems be read.

One, by an unknown author, began "I love you not only for what you are but for what I am when I am with you."

The second, a sonnet by Elizabeth Barret Browning, ended with the words "... and if God choose, I shall but love thee better after death."

UAW VPs Split Support

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—One of the two vice presidents of the United Auto Workers Union is supporting the presidential candidacy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and the other Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Walter P. Reuther, however, was keeping his 1.6-million-member UAW noncommitted as a union and as its president has not indicated a choice.

A partial poll of the UAW's International Executive Board showed two at-large members, Ken Bannon and Douglas Fraser, both for Kennedy, but Olga Madar for Humphrey and Nelson Jack Edwards uncommitted.

The 18 regional directors,w so are also executive board members, were split about evenly between Humphrey and Kennedy.

None was found for Sen. Eugene J McCarthy, D-Minn., or for the Republican contenders, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

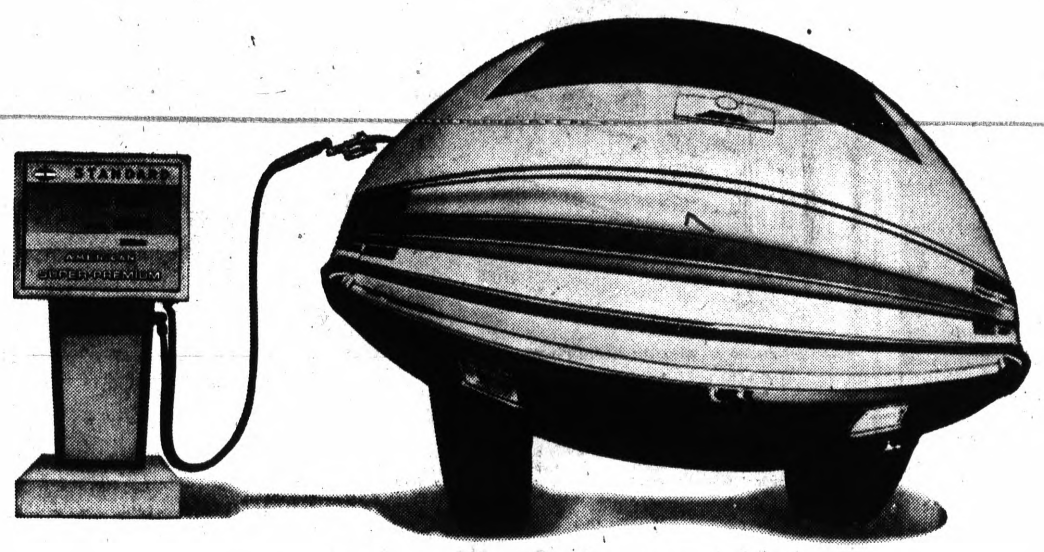

"So I put the wife and the two young'uns in the car and we're off to Mr. Steak . . . and we eat like farmhands . . . and we revel and celebrate in huge enjoyment . . . AND I get change back from a ten dollar Bill?" That's what one of our friends told us, he did!

VP Reported Gaining Strength in 3 Big Northern States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is reported garnering delegate strength in at least three of five big Northern states that could hold the key to his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The reports come from sources not committed to Humphrey as well as from his campaign organization.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey is making inroads in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan, the sources say. But his status with the hefty Illinois and New Jersey delegations is tied closely to the as yet obscure preferences of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago and New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes. Both were backing President Johnson for reelection before he bowed out.

These five states will have 541 votes at the Democratic National Convention, where 1,312 votes will be needed for the nomination.

NOT YET CHOSEN

Humphrey backers are counting on most of the 762 Southern and Border State delegates. They claim he already has 1,100 delegates, many of them not yet chosen.

Many delegates in the five big Northern states may stay nominally uncommitted until after the June 4 California primary. Meanwhile, a string of primary victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy could win him some of these votes.

★ ★ ★

In Pennsylvania, most political leaders are officially uncommitted, but sources said the party organization, labor leaders and—most important—Mayors Joseph Barr of Pittsburgh and James H.J. Tate of Philadelphia favor Humphrey.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, rumored as likely to come out for Kennedy some weeks back, has been neutral since his close primary race.

ONLY CANDIDATE

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy polled more than 400,000 votes as the only presidential candidate on Pennsylvania's primary ballot, picking up perhaps 20 of the 130 convention votes. Kennedy is reported to have about the same number.

But the remaining 90 are considered inclining toward Humphrey.

In Michigan, four delegates will be picked in each of the congressional districts next week, and 20 at-large delegates will be chosen June 1. Reps. James G. O'Hara, William D. Ford and John D. Dingell have endorsed the vice president. Sen. Philip A. Hart and other party leaders are neutral.

One Humphrey camp guess is that the vice president right now is likely to pull down the largest share—possibly close to 50 per cent of the 96 votes—with Kennedy and McCarthy sharing the rest.

★ ★ ★

In Ohio, Sen. Stephen M. Young, the delegation chairman who had previously plugged for a Kennedy-McCarthy ticket, said last week he is now neutral. He conceded in an interview that "Humphrey has a substantial number of supporters in our large delegation."

Organized labor, buoyed by John J. Gilligan's Democratic primary victory over Sen. Frank Lausche, is likely to assert itself in efforts to line up most of the delegations behind Humphrey.

Cost of Primary Is Cited

LANSING (AP)—A presidential primary in Michigan would cost the state about $700,000 and would roughly double its presidential election costs, Secretary of State James Hare said Thursday.

But Hare, who supervises election procedures in the state, added he did not oppose the idea.

A bill to return the primary system to Michigan, which had a presidential primary law from 1912 to 1931, was introduced in the House last year but died in committee.

Michigan voters had a voice in picking presidential candidates in four primary elections, the first in 1916 and the last in 1928. Three of the four candidates elected president in those years had won in Michigan.

Woodrow Wilson was re-elected to the White House in 1916 after carrying the Michigan Democratic primary, while the state's GOP anticipated the victories of Calvin Coolidge in 1924 and Herbert Hoover in 1928, Hare noted.

Republican Warren G. Harding, who was elected in 1928, was not in the Michigan primary race, which was won by Hiram W. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Hoover ran and won in the state's Democratic primary in 1920, eight years before winning the White House on the Republican ticket.

Another crossover candidate was Henry Ford, founder of Ford Motor Co., who won the Michigan Republican primary in 1916 and the Democratic contest in 1924. He was not nominated by either party.

Marines Not Out of Place in Land War, Says General

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Although the U.S. Marine Corps is primarily an amphibious force, Marines are fully trained and prepared for conventional ground warfare, their commander in South Vietnam says.

"We fight out of the same manual as the Army in land warfare," Lt. Gen. Robert Cushman said in an interview. "It is in the amphibious operation where we differ. That is our primary mission."

★ ★ ★

Although the Marine position in South Vietnam's northernmost tactical area has precluded many major amphibious offensives, Cushman maintained his troops are well trained for fighting as varied as the street battles of Hue to the long-term holding actions of Khe Sanh.

★ ★ ★

"At Khe Sanh we started out with a small force and used the area as a base for mobile operations," Cushman said. "Later, when the pressure built, there was no opportunity for a Maginot-Line type of defense to be built."

ANSWERS CRITICISM

Referring to the pre-World War II French defense, Cushman was answering recent criticism of the Marine position at Khe Sanh. Although the Marines did not build structures resembling the elaborate concrete bunkers of the Maginot Line, he denied they were not well dug in.

He also said that based on his visits to Khe Sanh, he issued three specific orders to the commander of the 5,000 Marines at the combat base: "Dig faster, deeper and better."

That the Marines were in fact well dug in at Khe Sanh was borne out by the casualty figures for the 77-day siege of the combat base near the Laos border, he said.

During that time, according to Marine Corps figures, 204 Marines were killed and 845 were wounded seriously enough to be evacuated and another 777 received minor wounds.

'LOW AVERAGE'

"That averages out to less than three men killed a day," Cushman said. "Why, there are more Marines killed every day just sweeping the paddy fields around Da Nang searching for guerrillas."

Other Marine Corps figures claimed a confirmed kill of 1,561 North Vietnamese troops around the Khe Sanh combat base.

As to claims that the Marines were ill-prepared for street fighting such as they encountered in the old imperial capital of Hue, Cushman said: "The facts state otherwise.

"It just so happens that I was in charge of training troops for Vietnam duty while I was at Camp Pendleton (California). All Marines go through simulated combat cities and were trained in city fighting."

The general said the Marines were so effective in the fight for the Hue Citadel—the former seat of Vietnamese emperors—that they once cleared North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops out of a hospital without injuring any of the patients in the building.

Marine Corps figures state that 141 Marines were killed in Hue street fighting from Feb. 3 to March 3. In addition, 853 Marines were evacuated for serious wounds and 222 were treated for minor wounds.

The figures claim the Marines killed 1,927 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers.

Observers have stated that the Marines are misplaced in the northernmost I Corps tactical zone; that they would be better suited to making amphibious assaults in the river-laced Mekong Delta.

Cushman said this was a misconception.

Area Man, 72, Plans a Jaunt

Ray Burkett, who said he has been a motorcycle racer, gold prospector and radio script writer, will zig-zag through the country on the nation's river systems with a sleeping bag, 200 pounds of supplies and a five-horsepower motor.

★ ★ ★

Burkett has launched his boat off Belle Isle. He intends to write a book about his experiences and local folklore he finds.

He is confident he will find a way over the rough spots, including several dams and portages in the Midwest.

HE IMPROVISES

"I was in show business before I retired, and I've learned to improvise, and improvise on the improvisions," Burkett explained.

He has written to state officials and Boy Scout organizations asking them to help him as he travels through their territory.

★ ★ ★

Burkett is interested in the efforts of the Lewis and Clark Trail Commission which is creating a network of parks along the Missouri River. He hopes his third book will "generate interest in wilderness preservation."

After crossing Lake Erie, Burkett's route will take him through Toledo, Ohio, which is at the mouth of the Maumee River. He will follow the Maumee into Indiana where he will make a portage to the Wabash River. He will follow this river to the Ohio River.

TURNING NORTH

At Cairo, Ill., his route turns north on the Mississippi River to the mouth of the Missouri River, where the route taken by Lewis and Clark more than 160 years ago begins.

Burkett's 1968 expedition will follow the Missouri River to Three Forks, Mont., where Burkett says he will "run out of water."

★ ★ ★

His trip takes him through potentially dangerous stretches along the Missouri River. Two man-made lakes on the river in the Dakotas are several hundred miles long and can become very choppy.

He will meet his first rapids as the Missouri River passes through canyon walls for 150 miles through the wilderness between Ft. Benton, Mont., and Great Falls, Mont.

TO CUSTER SITE

If he has time, Burkett intends to backtrack down the Yellowstone River and the Big Horn rivers to the site of Custer's last stand.

"I'll travel from dawn to dusk, stopping every 10 miles or so to look for interesting stories," Burkett explained. "I'll also be checking out campsites for the Boy Scouts."

"Boy Scout groups will meet me all along the Lewis and Clark Trail. Several children's life jackets are packed away for boys who will travel with me for part of the way," he continued.

His supplies include a typewriter, camera, food and cooking utensils, and clothing packed in two large wooden boxes. The Royal Oak adventurer will cook on shore and sleep either on shore or in his boat. A two-gallon container will hold his reserve gas.

Burkett said his wife believed the trip was necessary so he could write his book.

Wife Serves Marvin Breakfast in Bed

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — The wife of the new postmaster-general is a pretty, green-eyed blonde who calls herself a homebody and believes that maybe the most important thing she does for her country is to bring her husband breakfast in bed.

"I feel this is my one contribution, to get him started right for the day," Marion Watson said not long after William Marvin Watson became a Presidential assistant three years ago.

Now that 43-year-old Watson has moved to the post office, he'll still get his light breakfast in bed after he wakes up at 6 a.m.

★ ★ ★

"I've heard of other husbands who bring their wives coffee in bed, but I never learned that part," Mrs. Watson said.

Instead, she cooks breakfast for son Lee Watson, 21, now at the University of Maryland; daughter Kimberly, 17, and William Marvin III, called Bill, who is 4.

"I wait until everybody leaves, then I sneak back to bed and get up all over again later and read the paper. In my real life I like to stay up late and get up late."

UNREAL LIFE?

"Real life?" a visitor caught her up.

Admittedly, it's a heady sensation to move in the highest government circles, to know your husband is one of the President's closest advisers, to entertain foreign dignitaries at official functions when before, the most trying social events revolved around Texas women's club luncheons.

But Marion Watson has kept her balance, because, as she put it: "Marvin and I both are just sort of plain people, and sometimes it's difficult to be something that you're not, so we don't try."

A trim, youthful-looking woman with innate dignity and unassumed friendliness, Mrs. Watson pointed out, with the next thing to humility in her voice: "Cooking is my only real hobby. Unfortunately, I have no talents like painting. I'm very simple and very homey."

Mrs. Watson buys her clothes off the rack. "I like rather simple daytime clothes, mostly pastels. Marvin helps me select a great many of my clothes. While he was traveling, when we were in Texas, he brought back a great many clothes for me. He has excellent taste."

In Daingerfield, where they lived for 15 years before leaving for Washington, Mrs. Watson was "involved in civic and club work because it's a small town and you're involved in everything.

"I see more of him now because he used to travel so much — he was executive assistant to the president of the Lone Star Steel Company — but it was a more relaxed atmosphere then and we could plan trips and picnics."

While he was President Johnson's appointments secretary — until early April — Mrs. Watson said she didn't attend too many things at night.

NOT UPSET

"Here you can't always go with your husband, and I'm used to going with him. One night I was dressed in a long dress for a special reception and at the last minute it was impossible for him to go. He said, 'You go on alone.' I finally slipped out of the dress and decided to read some more.

"I felt his job was very important and a few nights sitting at home was not going to make a big difference in our lives now. We both enjoy people a great deal. At home we have a great many in, and we'll get back to it again."

When they made their decision to come, she said, "we felt it would be a wonderful opportunity for the children to live through this exciting time in Washington and feel that their father was a part of it."

At leaving Daingerfield, she said, "we didn't want to bring the furniture, so we closed the door and sort of walked away. It has a little space and we look out on tall pine trees. We have no idea of the future. He'll be here as long as he's needed in a special way. We hope someday to return to his work and our life there."

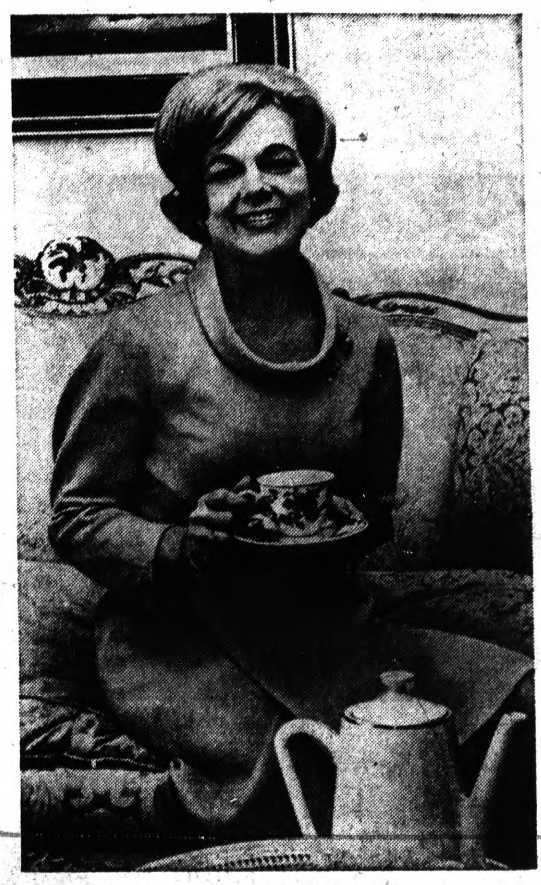

When she first came to Washington, "I spent practically every waking moment for months trying to find a house." For a while they lived in a four-bedroom hotel suite. At last they found a house they liked.

Marion met her husband at Baylor University in Waco, Tex., on a blind date. "He majored in economics and I started out in business and didn't graduate. He got his master's degree after we were married. We had the two older children while he was still in school."

PLAIN JANE

About little Bill, she said: "This later child in life is like a grandchild. As the other children were getting older we were filling our lives with extra civic work that we hadn't had time for earlier. Then this little fellow came along and we want to grasp every little change in him. I'm very selfish with my time now; I want to be with the children.

They're Both Fortunate

Nothing Wrong With This Setup

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In our circle there is a widow past 65 who has a man living with her. He's a cousin (widower) about her age. She tells people that she is afraid to be alone in the house without a man. The home is hers and this cousin helps with the household chores. They share expenses, and seem to be enjoying the arrangement.

ABBY

Most of her friends do not approve of this setup, but so far they haven't let her know how they feel. What do you think of such an arrangement? TRUMPS

DEAR TRUMPS: I think every widow over 65 should be so lucky as to have a male cousin about her age with whom to share her home, expenses, and to keep her company. And that goes double for widowers.

DEAR ABBY: I hope this doesn't sound dumb, coming from a 16-year-old girl, but I haven't dated much and I need to know. Should a girl ever kiss a guy on their first date?

BRONX ADDRESS

DEAR BRONX: The "act" itself is not as important as the motivation. A good-night kiss should communicate "affection," . . . never "thanks." If a boy has shown you a very nice evening, say "thank you" — don't kiss him out of obligation or gratitude.

★ ★ ★

If there is no "feeling" for the other person, the kiss is meaningless and cheap. A girl should kiss a boy because she WANTS to — not because HE wants to kiss her, or because she feels she owes him something.

Inter-Media Art to Be Discussed

Jan van der Marck, director of the Museum of Contemporary Art, Chicago, will present an illustrated lecture in Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries, at 8 p.m. Sunday.

He will discuss "Art of Mixed Means" and he will cover the growing syncretism of the arts and some of the inter-media experiments with which he is currently involved.

★ ★ ★

From 1959 to 1961 he was curator of the Municipal Museum in Arnhem, The Netherlands, after which he was appointed assistant director of the fine arts exhibitions at the Seattle World's Fair.

He has organized exhibitions that have circulated throughout this country, and besides writing authoritative catalogs on various contemporary artists, has had articles published in "Art International," "Art in America" and "Domus."

The lecture is open to the public without charge.

Mother of Year Says Chores, Religion, Basic to Family Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Bodine, 1968 Mother of the Year, raised her 18 children on a farm in North Dakota. Saying too much freedom is not good for children, she believes that it is better when they have chores to do.

Mrs. Bodine's guidance has paid off. The numerous offspring of this 70-year-old native of Poland have made their mark in America. They include a Navy officer, a retired Air Force colonel, three teachers, two nurses, a lawyer, a football coach and a baseball coach.

★ ★ ★

Her family, including 80 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, is spread from Minnesota to California although six of the children make their homes in North Dakota.

When they are not at their own home in Velva, N. D., Mrs. Bodine and her husband, Frank, a retired farmer, visit the children's homes, stopping about a month at each place.

Mrs. Bodine, who came to the United States with her parents in 1913, was named the 1968 award winner Thursday in a candlelight ceremony at the grand ballroom of the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel.

MRS. FRANK BODINE

Asked her advice for young mothers today, Mrs. Bodine replied: "I think religion is the basis of a family. Religion came first in our house."

Mrs. Bodine said she was particularly proud that 16 of her 18 children had attended college. She frowns on miniskirts and hippies.

★ ★ ★

Wesley Warlick, a son-in-law, said later in Columbia Heights, Minn., that the trademark of the Bodine family — set by the parents — was accomplishment, both mental and physical.

He said all the children were top students as well as athletes, even the girls. His wife, a nurse, was both valedictorian and track star in high school, he said.

★ ★ ★

Other Bodine daughters include: teacher - housewife Mrs. Emanuel Fix, head nurse Mrs. Phil Prescott; housewife Mrs. Gerald Effertz; housewife Mrs. Floyd Goetz; housewife Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin; housewife Mrs. Robert Bernards; and Sister M. Bernadetta, sub prioress of the Benedictine Sacred Heart Priory at Richardton, N. D.

SONS

A Party Giver Wishes Guests to Contribute

By ELIZABETH POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In approximately three months my very dearest friend will be moving to another state. I would like very much to give her a "going-away" present. But, rather than give her something large or diffficult to pack, would it be proper to ask each guest to contribute a dollar and a half to be made into a gift certificate?

I would write to the Chamber of Commerce in the town to which she is moving to get the name of a reputable store there and then present her with the gift certificate so she can buy something for her new home. Thank you for your assistance. — Mrs. Donald Snyder

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Snyder: What a lovely idea! Your suggestion shows real thoughtfulness and a willingness to go to considerable effort to arrange for such a gift.

Although I do not approve of asking for gifts of money to be given as cash, it is perfectly correct to ask for a contribution toward a specific item, in this case the gift certificate.

You might call the party a "Farewell shower," since you will be asking the guests to contribute toward a gift.

SIGNATURE?

Dear Mrs. Post: This question comes up every time we write a condolence note. I write the note, but my husband insists that I sign his name, too. Who is right? — Jean Lubash

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Lubash: It is correct to sign the note Jean and Glenn Lubash, but if you prefer, another solution is to include your husband's name in the body of the note by saying "Glenn and I" or "My husband and I were so sorry to hear, etc." Then you sign the note alone.

Either of these methods is preferable to writing without referring to your husband at all.

Polly's Pointers

All Are From Spools

DEAR POLLY — I made carousels for my little ones out of empty thread spools. I painted them bright colors, then cut two cardboard circles, one larger than the other, and pasted one on top and one under one spool. The others were pasted on top of the larger cardboard, making a circle around the outer edge.

Pictures of animals, cut from magazines, were pasted on the fronts of these spools. My children spent many happy hours spinning this toy. — BERNICE

DEAR GIRLS — Bernice certainly has a clever toy idea But I couldn't see how the top could spin if pasted to the support spool. I suggest punching a nail about the size of the spool hole through the top cardboard, down into the spool hole and then it will spin. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. M. C. K. can make a corner knick-knack shelf with her empty spools. Have shelves cut and use the larger spools as legs, the biggest ones at the bottom, then graduate to other sizes between the shelves. Little ones could be put on top for extra decorations. — MRS. D. D. S.

DEAR POLLY — After cooking macaroni or spaghetti, I place the colander or strainer over the bowl it is to be served in. When the hot water is drained off, it goes into the bowl, is emptied and leaves a warm bowl so the spaghetti does not cool so quickly. — ROSE

Birmingham Mother of Six Keeps Date as State Finalist

Mrs. John (Joyce) Ward of Birmingham was on her honeymoon, 13 years ago, when she decided to enter the "Mrs. America" contest.

This week, that decision finally paid its first dividend, as the 37-year-old mother of six was named one of three finalists in the Mrs. Michigan" portion of the competition.

★ ★ ★

"We were in Florida at the time," Mrs. Ward recalled, "and the contest was a big joke down there, but I thought that I would like to enter. But I always forgot, up until this year."

This year, however, she remembered to enter the contest, which is being sponsored by the U.S. Treasury Department. The department, Mrs. Ward added, is looking for a "Mrs. U.S. Savings Bond."

INTERVIEWS

The Michigan contest will be decided by personal interviews, with the winner going on to compete in the national event, slated for Aug. 14-23 in Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.

The opening round, Mrs. Ward explained, consisted of a questionnaire delving into such everyday matters as shopping habits and menus — as well as questions of a more philosophical nature, like "What do you feel has been your most beneficial experience?"

EXPERIENCE

"Six months in a TB sanatorium," she answered. The confinement, she said, took place after surgical removal of an abcess on one lung — usually a sign of cancer or TB. Several months of tests followed.

"They inject a rabbit with blood samples from a patient," she said. "Then everybody waits around for their rabbit to die — but mine didn't."

Mrs. Ward values the experience because it taught her to make use of idle time. She kept busy with knitting and sewing, a hobby which has proved useful to her since. At present, she is engaged in sewing all the costumes for a school play.

While she cheerfully admits to having originally thought of entering the contest, "probably because I'm a ham," Mrs. Ward's reasons today are quite different.

"So many people look at being a housewife and a mother as just washing and ironing — but it doesn't have to be. You can make a real executive position out of it."

While her six youngsters, aged 5-11, keep things busy around the Ward household, there are compensations.

"Each one has chores, setting the table or helping with the dishes," she said, adding with a smile, "You might get a big spoon with your meal, and a teeny-weeny little fork, but we don't say anything, we just use them."

Shopping for groceries is done on a monthly basis. "You should see the people look at us," she remarked — up to seven shopping carts may be required for one trip.

Besides sewing, her hobbies include decoupage and furniture antiquing. She proudly indicated a piano in the living room which she had refinished herself, removing four coats of paint in the process.

Activitites outside the home include work with church and civic groups.

Mrs. John Ward of Birmingham sews costumes which she is preparing for a play to be presented at the Convent of the Sacred Heart May 17. Sewing is just one of the hobbies of the mother of six, a finalist in the "Mrs. Michigan" contest.

Classes Slated in New Skill

Cranbrook Theatre School plans for the coming summer include the addition of a course in Readers Theatre for older high school, college and adult students under the direction of James Savedes.

According to Mrs. Carl G. Wonnberger, director of the school, Readers Theatre is a new concept in dramatic interpretation which provides not only for the development of interpretive skill, but also for increase in literary comprehension and appreciation.

This is in keeping, Mrs. Wonnberger says, with the established policy of Cranbrook Theatre School which stresses educational and personal development as well as skill training and creative power.

Savades, a specialist in interpretation, holds an M.A. degree in theatre from the University of Michigan and a B.A. from the University of Detroit. The eight-week session opens June 24.

Dad Is Tired of Questions

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F-528: Alan K., aged 5, prods his father unmercifully.

DR. CRANE

"So I sit down with my newspaper to read.

"But what happens?

"Well, as soon as Alan knows I am in the house, he rushes to greet me, which is fine.

"But then he keeps pestering me with an incessant barrage of questions of the Who-What-Where-Why-How-When variety.

"He may ask how flies can walk on the ceiling or why dogs can't climb trees or where the sun goes at night.

* * *

"In fact, he can stump me with some of his queries, for I don't know the answers, nor has any scientist even offered an explanation for some of his questions.

"But I realize that a good parent should encourage his son's mental development, so how can I do it with the minimum of strain on my own brain?"

REVERSIBLE

First, be grateful when a child is full of questions!

For that indicates a fertile brain and a high I. Q., plus a lot of vitality.

Feebleminded kiddies don't raise many queries.

And when a child is seriously ill, it then becomes quiet. That is a dangerous sign in medicine!

Even idle conversation does likewise, which is why we medics debar people from the hospital room of a very sick patient.

God has decreed that our brain should not waste any extra energy via curious questions when our physiology is in need of every calorie.

So a child's active curiosity is an indirect evidence of both health and intelligence.

Bring Mother a Basket of Fresh Flowers

What could be more appropriate? No flower container can surpass the basket for simple, country charm. Its simplicity is reminiscent of childhood itself — a time when it was the most natural thing in the world to give one's mother a handful of fresh, spring flowers.

Make your own flower basket arrangement for mother this Mother's Day, and in the giving and receiving of the fragrant fresh blossoms, there will be a shared remembrance of happy childhood days.

Finding the basket is no problem. Florist shops provide a great variety at this time of year. They are not expensive, and wicker baskets, especially, can combine both a comfortable, homey appearance and a look of natural elegance.

Finding flowers is no problem either. Flower shops are bountifully stocked at this time of year. Simple, unsophisticated blooms are the ideal choice for a Mother's Day basket. Daisies, sweet peas, forget-me-nots, lily-of-the-valley, calendulas, marigolds, and violets, for example, bring sunny fields and old-fashioned gardens to mind. Imagine several or all of these colorful beauties mixed with six or a dozen pink sweetheart roses.

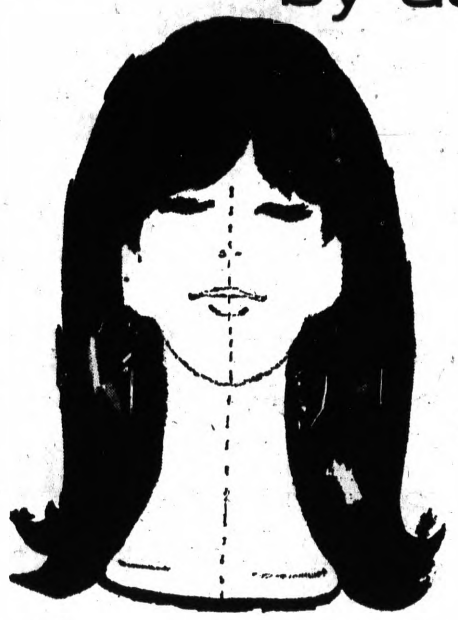

Instructions for making your basket bouquet, provided by the Society of American Florists, are brief and simple:

- Be certain that an inside plastic (or metal) container accompanies the basket.
- Fill container with florist's foam.
- Thrust a twelve-inch strand of pipe cleaner (or two twelve inch strands wound together to form a twenty-inch length if basket is large) through bottom of basket. Neatly tie two ends of pipe cleaner together. The stability of your arrangement is now assured.
- Arrange one choice of foliage — baker fern, ivy foliage, podocarpus, eucalyptus, or huckleberry leaves — in foam first. This gives you a background to work around, a tidy lower compactness and starting design.
- Arrange fresh flowers in foam, remembering that the loose, natural look is by far the loveliest. This is no time for stiff, contrived designs! With old-fashioned Williamsburg and Flemish designs — simple fan-shaped or rounded lines — as your guide, your beautiful bouquet will have an unmistakably country air.

A grown-up christening dress by Carlye expresses one of the newest and freshest ways to look on a warm summer evening. Schiffli embroidered and ladened with lace, the voile fabric of "Dacron" polyester and cotton retains its crisp and wrinkle-free appearance. Line carried locally.

No Decision on King Memorial as Contributions Pour In ATLANTA (AP) — Since the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., contributions have poured into Atlanta for the erection of a suitable memorial to the civil rights leader. But his widow suggests that perhaps the best memorial would not be of brick and stone and mortar.

"He'd rather have slums cleared in his memory," Mrs. King says.

But she has made no decision yet on a memorial.

Mrs. King has spoken of a library center. And a close friend and associate said he is considering a center for studies dealing with the issues of peace, race and poverty.

★ ★ ★

"We are still considering what should be done," said Mrs. King. "Nothing has been decided yet."

MANY SOURCES

The money for a memorial to King has come in many different ways.

Foundations have pledged large amounts. Churches have sent their Sunday collections. Pledges have come from individuals as well as businesses.

★ ★ ★

One woman wearing a scarf against the rain walked into the Southern Christian Leadership Conference offices recently. She carried a small envelope. Printed on it was: Lizzie Chapel Baptist church. And written in script, "$21.60. Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial."

★ ★ ★

About $10,000 in small amounts has come in the thousands of letters delivered to the King home since his assassination in Memphis, Tenn., April 4.

"There's no way to figure all the amounts pledged for memorials thus far," an SCLC official said. "All the memorial funds we get, or Mrs. King receives, are being deposited in a separate account." He declined comment on the total amount received to date.

EYES STUDY CENTER

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive vice president of SCLC and a close family friend of the Kings, said he has been thinking about some type of center for studies—rather like a center for continuing education, dealing with the issues of peace, race and poverty.

★ ★ ★

"The science of racial integration has to emerge," he said in an interview with The Associated Press. "Everything has been pretty much hit or miss, scattergun tactics, as opposed to studied, rational scientific methods of accomplishing objectives.

★ ★ ★

"We haven't really begun to get into race as a scientific study. I think I can see a whole area for people being trained. Every city is looking for somebody trained in race relations. They usually end up getting somebody because he's a Negro. The truth is that most of them become damned ineffective, an establishment mascot."

★ ★ ★

Young spoke of religion being at the heart of King's philosophy. "I would like to see a chapel in the center of a 'world action center,' where we can deal with a revolution in values, nonviolent.

FIRST MEMORIAL

"Our problem is we still have to be in the freedom business and can't give our time to the memorial business. The first memorial is to fulfill his Poor People's Campaign."

Morehouse College in Atlanta, King's alma mater, plans a $2-million Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Chapel. It will serve as a religious center for students as well as a memorial.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Hugh M. Gloster, Morehouse president, said a special memorial scholarship fund has been set up to provide financial assistance for talented students handicapped by poverty.

★ ★ ★

In addition, he said grants of $100,000 from the Field Foundation and $50,000 from philanthropist Charles Merrill have been received for antipoverty programs to be conducted by Morehouse teachers and students.

FELLOWSHIP FUND

Mrs. King enthusiastically approved a fellowship fund for returning Negro veterans given by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

The Rockefeller Foundation has granted $200,000 to the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation as seed money to finance fellowships for Negro veterans of outstanding promise to enter graduate or professional schools.

Peter Fuller, a Boston businessman and sportsman, flew to Atlanta in April to turn over $62,000 won by his horse, Dancer's Image, in the Bowie Governor's Gold Cup Race in Baltimore. The horse later won the Kentucky Derby but was disqualified when a pain-killing drug was detected in his system.

The $62,000 was turned over to the American Foundation on Nonviolence, organized in New York largely to aid nonviolence, Young said. He said King served as honorary chairman of the foundation but had no formal connection.

In New York State, 50 Negro churches pledged $500 each and Central Presbyterian, in Rochester, which is predominantly white, contributed its Easter offering of more than $1,000.

In Rochester, too, Eastman Kodak Co. pledged $150,000 to the Community Chest's Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Fund to build innercity housing, raising the total pledge to $515,825.

Details Listed on How LBJ's 10 Pct. Surtax Would Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Americans will begin paying more federal income taxes shortly, if Congress enacts the 10 per cent surcharge package worked out by Senate-House conferees—and if President Johnson signs it.

The President has sought the tax hike but it is not certain he will go along with congressional demands for a $6 billion spending cut that would accompany it.

Q—When would the 10 per cent tax surcharge affect my paycheck?

A—The surcharge, if signed into law, would go into effect 15 days after the signing. The treasury Department is now planning to begin collecting the additional tax about June 10.

Q—What is a surcharge?

A—It's actually a tax levied on a tax. The Treasury and Johnson administration preferred the tax increase in this way instead of a basic change in rates to preserve its identity as a temporary tax and to make it easier to remove once the Vietnam war permits.

Q—How many American will pay the tax?

A—The Treasury estimates about 83 million. About 17 million others in the two lowest income tax brackets—those who pay taxes at the 14 and 15 per cent rates—will pay nothing more.

Q—How will I pay the tax?

A—Beginning with the first paycheck after June 10, according to the present schedule, your paycheck will reflect a deduction covering the surcharge. For example, if $15 a week is now deducted from your paycheck for federal income taxes, you will pay an additional $1.50 for a total of $16.50.

★ ★ ★

Q—How long must I pay this extra tax?

Q—Isn't the tax retroactive?

A—Yes, but it won't affect the amount withheld from your paycheck. The surcharge on individual taxes would go into effect as of April 1. You won't begin paying it until June under the tentative schedule, thus missing more than two months of deductions from your paycheck.

Q—Will I be required to pay this later?

A—Yes, but not until you file your income tax return for 1968 by April 15 of next year. When you figure out how much tax you owe the government for 1968 at that time, you will be required to assess the surcharge from the previous April 1.

This will be included in the instructions the Internal Revenue Service will send to you next January at income tax-filing time. As a result of the surcharge you may get a smaller refund next year or be required to pay more by April 15 than you ordinarily would.

Q—Won't the tax for 1968 be actually less than 10 per cent?

A—Yes, for 1968 as a whole the tax will boil down to a 7.5 per cent surcharge since it will be assessed for only nine months of the year. But it will be collected during that time at a 10 per cent rate.

During 1969, the surcharge would boil down to a 5 per cent rate over the entire year since it would be collected for only six months. But it would be collected at a 10 per cent rate for those six months.

Q—How about an example?

A—Let's suppose you're married with two children and earn $10,000 a year. For 1968, you would pay $1,114 in federal income taxes if you took the standard deduction allowed on your return.

With the surcharge effective April 1 you would pay $1,198 in taxes this year, an increase of $84. During 1969, your tax bill would be $1,170, or $56 above what it would have been without a surcharge.

Q—Who is exempt?

A—Single persons who pay $195 or less in taxes will pay nothing additional. The same applies to persons filing joint returns who now pay $290 in taxes or less and persons filing as head of a household who pay $220 or less in taxes.

★ ★ ★

Q—Will corporations also pay a surcharge?

A—Yes, and for corporations the tax will be assessed from last Jan. 1. Corporations also face a speedup in their tax payments to put them on a more current basis.

PHONE, AUTO HIKES

Q—Are there other parts of the tax package?

A—The measure also includes an extension of the 10 per cent tax on telephone service and the 7 per cent manufacturers excise tax on automobiles.

Q—Will this reduce the budget deficit to a reasonable level?

A—The deficit in the current fiscal year will be lower but not as low as the administration wanted. The over-all tax package—if collections begin in early June as now assumed by the Treasury—will increase revenues by about 1.5 billion by June 30, by about of the current fiscal year.

This is only half what the administration wanted. What isn't collected in the current year however, will be carried over into the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

With increases in defense spending already announced the deficit in the current fiscal year is now expected to run about $23.8 billion. In the next fiscal year, if spending is cut by $6 billion as voted by the Senate-House negotiators, the deficit could drop to as low as $3.1 billion.

Fears Cuts in Wrong Places

Hart Is Cool to Surtax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday he may vote against the 10 per cent surtax bill because he fears the spending cuts will be made in the wrong areas.

"I'm inclining toward voting against the bill," Hart told a news conference. He said part of his objection was based on the possibility cuts will be made in education, antipoverty and housing programs.

He said he felt the country would be better off if cuts were made in space and military spending.

"Cuts in space and military would do Michigan less damage than a cutback on the poverty program in Detroit," he said.

WORK OUT DETAILS

House and Senate negotiators worked out details of a tax hike—$6 billion spending cut plan Wednesday which will go to Congress shortly.

★ ★ ★

In other news, Hart said:

- He is "neutral, but enthusiastic" over the three Democratic presidential contenders.
- His daughter, Ann, is continuing to work in California for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn.
- He is uncertain who will lead the Michigan Democratic delegation to the national convention.

★ ★ ★

He discussed the need for a bill to abolish captial punishment which he has sponsored, but he admitted that with crime on the increase "the time may not be right for it."

What It Will Cost You

WASHINGTIN (AP) — Here are examples of how the surtax agreed on by Senate-House conferees would affect individual U.S. taxpayers if enacted by Congress:

	TAX TO BE PAID
1967	1968	1969
$145-single	$145.00	$145.00
290-joint	290.00	290.00
500	537.50	525.00
1,000	1,075.00	1,050.00
5,000	5,375.00	5,250.00
20,000	21,500.00	21.000.00

NOTE: This table takes into account the fact the surtax, as now written, would apply only for nine months of 1968 and six months of 1969. If Congress should extend the surtax through 1969, the additional tax figures for 1969 would be doubled.

Air Force Grounds F111s, Probes Crash

NELLIS AFB, Calif. (UPI) — The Air Force has grounded all flights of the F111A jet pending investigation of the latest crash of one of the controversial swing-wing bombers.

"F111A operations have been restricted pending further investigation of the May 8 accident," an Air Force spokesman said yesterday. It was indicated the curtailment would not be lengthy.

★ ★ ★

Detroit Panel Backs March

DETROIT (AP) — The New Detroit Committee Thursday endorsed the Poor People's March on Washington and earmarked $100,000 for a new job training and placement program.

The committee decided to give $10,800 to defray the costs of the Poor People's March while it stops in Detroit. Chairman Joseph L. Hudson Jr. said the funds will come from private sources.

The money will be used to provide food, shelter and other items for the estimated 1,400 marchers expected in Detroit May 13 for an overnight stop. About 200 Detroiters are expected to join the march when it passes through the city.

Hopes High for Avoiding Area Teacher Strife

By DICK ROBINSON

Area teachers and administrators are generally optimistic that this year's contract negotiations won't result in strikes by militant teachers who closed schools in Oakland County and across the nation last fall.

But observers say this is an early assessment as talks on salary issues are just getting into full swing. Situations could change as teacher salary demands are more thoroughly discussed.

News Analysis

Strikes swept many of the nation's school systems — including Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Troy — last fall, forcing almost a million pupils to stay home. Late winter strikes affected three states.

Braulio Alonso, president of the National Education Association, predicts there will be new teacher walkouts in 300 of the nation's 24,000 school districts this year.

MAKING PREPARATIONS

Rival teacher organizations, the NEA and American Federation of Teachers, are already making preparations for possible trouble.

The Michigan Education Association is arranging financial aid for a possible 10,000 to 15,000 members who may be involved in "salary interruptions" this fall.

MEA, which represents 65,000 teachers affiliated with the NEA, has also set a June 6 target date for ratification of local contracts.

The AFL-CIO AFT is conducting a drive to raise a $1-million war chest to help fight court injunctions, fines and jail terms against striking teachers. Some 15,000 teachers belong to the AFT Michigan unit.

ONCE CONSERVATIVE

The once conservative NEA with 1.1 million members for the first time announced last summer it would support teacher walkouts.

Only 150,000 members strong, the aggressive AFT advanced its militancy in prolonged work stoppages in many big-city disputes, including Detroit and New York.

"We hope there will be a settlement before the teachers go home in June," comments Don Cameron, executive secretary of the Birmingham Education Association.

"Both sides have that objective in mind. We hope it won't drag on again this year. It could, but I doubt it."

COURT ORDER

Eight school days were lost in Birmingham in September because of a teacher strike, which was ended by a court order. A contract wasn't agreed upon until mid-January.

Schools in Bloomfield Hills were struck for 10 days and those in Troy for five days.

Teachers in Bloomfield Hills got a two-year contract last year, so there aren't salary negotiations for 1968-69.

Troy, which is having serious financial troubles, began contract negotations early in April like many districts did. No difficulties are presently foreseen.

NO TROUBLE

"We expect no trouble in Pontiac, especially since the millage and bond issues passed," explained Assistant Supt. Richard C. Fell of the county's largest district with 24,000 pupils.

"We are optimistic about the negotiations," James McCoy, executive secretary of the Pontiac Education Association, says. "Strikes are not our approach."

★ ★ ★

Others among the 15 area school districts surveyed by The Pontiac Press indicated issues may have to go to mediation. At least one district is close to settlement while many are hoping for additional funds from proposed millage increases.

Signed earlier than usual this year to clarify the income picture of local school districts and thus make money available for teachers was a $752 million state aid bill.

BIG INCREASES

In addition, teachers are in for big salary increases judging from contracts already settled, ranging from $7,000 to $7,500 for beginning teachers to maximums of $12,000.

Teachers demonstrated their new political clout—particularly in Detroit and New York — last fall in one of the most strife-ridden school openings in years.

They have shed their long-time image as a professional too polite to fight for a decent wage. At the same time the taxpayer is fed up with soaring school costs.

Since last September, teachers in more than 27 states and cities have demonstrated they can and will disrupt education of the nation's children until legislators or others find means to provide more money for education.

State governments must solve the problems, educators say. There is no indication the real solution to the problem has been reached when striking teachers return to the classroom.

★ ★ ★

Teachers have received salary increases, but where will the money come from?

Last year's court orders and last month's State Supreme Court decision in the Holland teacher case are expected to prevent the situation this fall from getting out of hand.

The Supreme Court decision dissolved a temporary injunction against the teachers, who were ruled employes even without a contract and were therefore striking under the no-strike provisions of a state law.

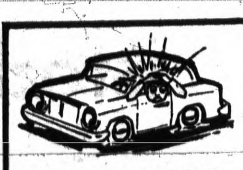

★ ★ ★

School boards seeking injunctions against striking teachers must be negotiating in good faith, according to the ruling.

Schools Supt. Frank Dick of Toledo gave an optimistic appraisal of the situation last month in Detroit:

"Negotiations and bargaining are okay. That's how we get things done in America. If we have faith in our classroom teachers we shouldn't be afraid to give them a voice.

2 House Members Urge Probe Into Firing of Ship's Captain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House members have urged a formal Capitol Hill probe into the Navy's firing of a ship's captain, and one called on the secretary of the Navy to resign because of his role in the affair.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., concluding three days of unofficial hearings on the case of Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter, said Thursday that Secretary of the Navy Paul R. Ignatius' tried to protect a senior admiral involved in approving Arnheiter's dismissal as commanding officer of the destroyer escort Vance. The admiral wasn't named.

Arnheiter, 42, was relieved of command in March 1966 after some of his junior officers complained about him.

Arnheiter has claimed he could not call witnesses at that session and Resnick supports his contention that an official court of inquiry should be called.

JOIN CALL FOR PROBE

★ ★ ★

Testimony, not given under oath due to the unofficial nature of the hearing, turned up allegations of brutality aboard the Vance before and after Arnheiter's command.

Chief Petty Officer William Young of Cincinnati described the Vance as having had the worst disciplinary record in Pearl Harbor before Arnheiter's arrival.

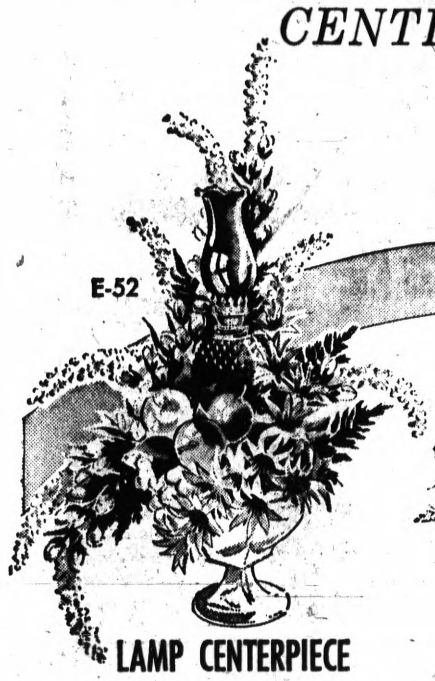

Young said Arnheiter should have "received a commendation instead of being relieved."

Police Arrest 13 Students in Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chicago police arrested 13 students Thursday night after they barricaded themselves in a Roosevelt University office in a continuing demonstration. The school suspended 24 others arrested earlier.

Elsewhere there were these developments in the disturbances which have hit the nation's campuses.

★ ★ ★

● About 800 Marquette University students marched through the campus to back demands for more school involvement in Milwaukee's racial problems. No incidents or arrests were reported.

● The administration of Stanford University in California agreed to the two main demands of students who staged a three-day sit-in at the Old Student Union.

AGREES TO AMNESTY

President Wallace Sterling and provost Richard Lyman agreed to amnesty for the sit-in participants and to set aside proposed suspensions of seven students who demonstrated last fall against CIA recruiting.

● Columbia University President Grayson Kirk said the school could not drop criminal trespass charges against students who occupied five campus buildings during a week-long sit-in.

● A show of force by 500 Philadelphia police Thursday night ended a rally by 150 student demonstrators at Temple University who had assembled to test a court order banning campus protest gatherings.

● At Southern Illinois University in Carbondale student protesters called for coeds to "sleep-out" from their dorms in support of anti-administration demonstrations.

Five students were charged with mob action and a warrant issued for the arrest of a sixth in connection with the abortive take-over of the president's office Wednesday night.

● Anti-Vietnam demonstrators at the State University of Buffalo in New York invaded the president's office briefly and used his stationery to send letters condemning the war to President Johnson and other officials.

In the Roosevelt University protest in Chicago the students are demanding that the president approve a full-time teaching appointment for Staughton Lynd, controversial history instructor and Vietnam war critic.

Romney Commutes Sentence of Lifer

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today approved the commutation of a life sentence for first-degree murder being served by Steven Keleman, 64, formerly of Kalamazoo.

Keleman was sentenced in 1930 from Kalamazoo County for the slaying of another man. He has been serving his term at the Marquette branch prison.

Romney's commutation makes Keleman eligible for immediate parole. It was made following the unanimous recommendation of the State Parole Board. Keleman will live with a sister in Chicago when released.

To Community Colleges

Polley Issues Warning

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's community colleges may soon be facing "enormous difficulty" in recruiting staff, according to Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction.

Polley, speaking Thursday to a group of recently appointed community college presidents at Michigan State University, said enrollments have doubled in the last four years and may double again in the next four at the schools.

★ ★ ★

"These figures are eloquent testimony of the acceptance that the community college has found in most parts of Michigan," he said.

However, Polley added that the colleges have found "severe and perplexing organizational problems" and that there are "difficult struggles for operating and capital outlay funds."

Polley cited the need for a community college to serve metropolitan Detroit, expansion of vocational and technical educational programs, and greater educational opportunities to as many young people as possible.

FIRE NEAR CAMP GRAYLING—Behind a heavy cover of smoke, flames of a large forest fire south of the Grayling Military Reservation are leaping across the road. The fire damaged about 3,000 acres of brush and timberland this week.

Lieutenant Takes 'Bull' by the Horns

CU CHI, Vietnam (AP)—Things were going badly for the United States in Vinh Loc village.

There were differing opinions about how that water buffalo got trapped in the well. The villagers seemed to be blaming the American troops.

The sidewalk engineers had begun to gather—mostly critical kibitzers in the range of 5 to 7 years old. The kid who was supposed to guard the water buffalo was bawling. His grandmother was wailing.

An interpreter was attempting to give the American side of things: two buffalo had gotten into a snorting and butting match and the unfortunate loser had backed into the well. Nobody seemed to be buying that explanation.

That was the critical summation when 1st Lt. Robert Dehlinger, a 23-year-old mechanized platoon leader from Staten Island, N.Y., arrived on the scene

Dehlinger sent for the buffalo's owner and called up a tank recovery vehicle, a behemoth equipped to haul damaged tanks from the battlefield.

"Old papa-san nearly had a heart attack," Dehlinger recalled. "He thought we were going to strangle the thing."

A water buffalo is valuable property. That 700-pound snorter in the hole was worth about $300 as a farm animal. Dead, he was worth about one-third that for meat. Old papa-san could see his financial losses mounting.

ALMOST DIED

Dehlinger admits that the buffalo "almost died of asphyxiation" while the tank recovery vehicle tugged away.

A new approach was obviously needed and it was decided to put the cable around the buffalo's horns.

Finally the cable began to lift the buffalo out, his neck stretched alarmingly and his owner alternately wailing and cheering. Clambering to safety from the shallow well, the buffalo snorted and went off peacefully behind the little boy who was his keeper.

"He wasn't feeling too kindly about Americans or Vietnamese or anybody," Dehlinger reported. "But he was all right."

Back at 25th Division headquarters in Cu Chi, there were jokes about the lieutenant who found a well full of bull, was almost buffaloed and grabbed the bull by the horns.

Fire Safety Code Cited

Pontiac fire officials today recommended city merchants take steps now to make sure their stores comply with safety ordinances concerning obstructed passageways and exits.

"The busy summer shopping is coming soon and aisles and exits have to be kept clear for easy evacuation in case of fire," said Fire Chief Charles Marion.

★ ★ ★

He cited two sections of the Pontiac Fire Prevention Code concerning businesses.

"One ordinance states that no aisle, passageway or stairway shall be obstructed with tables, showcases or other obstructions during hours when the store is open for business.

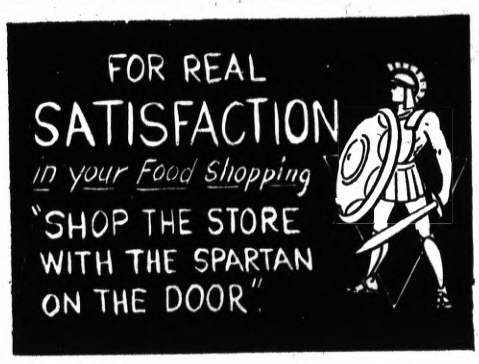

MUST BE UNLOCKED

"A second specifies that no exit doors shall be locked, bolted or otherwise fastened or obstructed by any means so that the door cannot be opened from the inside by the use of an ordinary latch or knob or by pressure on the door or on a panic release device."

Marion explained that these laws are considered by his department to be extremely important to the safety of large gatherings of shoppers.

★ ★ ★

"The city merchants have always been cooperative about this," he said, "but they sometimes need a reminder."

Public Employe Strike—2

Youngstown Set the Stage

(Second of a Series)

By ROGER DOUGHTY
Urban Affairs Editor

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (NEA) — Cops have always had a way of getting involved in strikes. It goes with the job.

In one of the most celebrated strike-sparked struggles in the holocaustic history of the American labor movement — the Chicago Haymarket riot of 1886 — seven policemen were killed, 66 wounded when somebody exploded a bomb.

★ ★ ★

Eighty-one years and a lot of strikes later, the police of this normally innocuous industrial city exploded a bomb of their own, figuratively speaking, when they put aside their nightsticks and persuaders last year and hit the bricks to dramatically prove to the people that even protection has its price.

With the firemen following suit, this city became the scene of a precedent-setting strike against the public. The reverberations are still being felt.

WAITING PATIENTLY

Before the walkout ended the protectors of the people had satisfied their demands while other policemen, firemen, teachers, social workers and garbage collectors from coast to coast clipped stories with Youngstown datelines out of their papers and thoughtfully waited for their contracts to expire.

"We aren't trying to set any national patterns," says a local policeman, recalling the strike. "We just wanted to get a fair shake. I guess everybody figured that if we could do it, they could do it too."

★ ★ ★

All of us are used to strikes. To paraphrase H. Rap Brown, they're as American as cherry pie. But the kinds of strikes we've learned to know, and in some cases love, were different. They were staged by industrial unions. You could ignore them if you wanted to.

CAN'T BE IGNORED

Today's strikes can't be ignored. They're too basic. They reach every individual in the city under siege.

Add to this the fact that you, the taxpayer, will shell out any salary increases won by the strikers, and it becomes very clear why the public is growing weary of walkouts.

★ ★ ★

Still, many Americans have sympathy for the unionists.

The public has often been a frugal employer. None of its employes have been over paid.

NOBODY KNOWS HOW

Taking the right to strike away from public employes might be a good idea, as far as the public is concerned, but nobody seems to know just how to go about it.

In New York, for example, Albert Shanker, president of the local teachers' union, went to jail for 15 days while his organization was fined $150,000 under the provisions of the state's Taylor Law.

But the city's 50,000 striking teachers stuck to their demands until they won a healthy settlement while Shanker lost weight in jail.

The Taylor Law was invoked in New York's sanitation workers strike as well with union chief John De Lury going to jail and the union being fined. But the strike went on as 100,000 tons of refuse buried the city.

★ ★ ★

"Under the Taylor Law," says labor mediator Theodore Kheel, in a report to the state legislature, "the notion that joint determination or real bargaining can take place is a mirage." This, he says, breeds resentment, adding:

★ ★ ★

"From the resentment comes the encouragement to defy the law and ignore the process of peaceful settlement."

It makes no sense to outlaw strikes," says Dr. John Fischer, president of Columbia University's Teachers College, "when we see that the laws don't work.

★ ★ ★

"But what bothers me the most about this situation is that professionals, be the very nature of their work, are individuals. By approaching their problems on a collective basis they tend to become a faceless mass where seniority is the only meaningful factor. Is this what we want our teachers to be?"

Head of Denver U. Explains Expulsions

DENVER — Chancellor Maurice B. Mitchell of the University of Denver has explained the expulsion of 39 student demonstrators and has said that any future incidents will be handled in exactly the same way.

In a letter to alumni and friends of the university, the chancellor stated, "There is not now and will not be in the future any alternative to this handling of this kind of situation."

★ ★ ★

The situation was that 39 students and two former students staged a sit-in last Tuesday morning in the registrar's office and refused to leave even after they were informed they would be expelled if they remained. They remained. They were expelled.

They also were arrested and taken away by Denver police. Mitchell made no mention of the arrests in his letter.

'TIME FOR STAND'

He wrote, "The time has come to make the stand, and we are doing it in the very beginning. We want no Columbia University, Berkeley or Howard or Wilburforce situation on this campus, and we simply are not going to have it."

It is time for society to take back the control of its functions, he went on. If the rule of law is abandoned at the university, then its students cannot be expected to obey the law when they move out into society, he added.

★ ★ ★

"There is the assumption on the part of some disaffected students at the university that it is immoral for them to tolerate conditions not of their liking, and that they have some sort of moral obligation to engage in acts of defiance and violence," Mitchell's letter said.

While there is no way to prevent such thinking, Mitchell wrote, there is every reason to hold such persons fully responsible for their actions.

INITIAL REQUEST

It was out of the university's desire to produce law-abiding citizens that the most extreme form of discipline — expulsion — was taken, he went on.

The initial student request was that graduate students be granted voting and office-holding rights in the student government, which are now limited to undergraduates. As the students met more and more resistance in achieving their objective, the issue became one of being allowed to control their own affairs.

★ ★ ★

"The issues on which these protests are based are improper, illegal, and go against the orderly processes by which institutions can and should operate," Mitchell stated in his letter.

Opening lead—♥ J

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

There are a number of ways to bid the North-South cards but, as all roads lead to Rome, all lines of bidding are likely to lead to the same three no-trump contract that South reached.

JACOBY

Against any lead but hearts South will have plenty of time to go about the business of setting up nine tricks, but the heart lead is just about automatic whether North or South is declarer.

South has to win the first heart. If he ducks, both his ace and king will fall together on the second heart lead and he will have to scramble for his nine tricks because this second heart lead has set up three tricks in the suit for the defense.

It is hopeless to go after spades. South can't set up more than three tricks in the suit. He can set up three extra diamond tricks to give him a total of eight tricks but that will leave him one short.

He must go after clubs and if that suit breaks 3-3 he can add five club tricks to his one spade, two hearts and two diamonds, a total of 10. As you can see, clubs aren't going to break evenly and South will have to give up two tricks in order to bring home the rest of the suit.

Furthermore a suit will divide 3-3 less than 40 per cent of the time. However, South has a better play at his disposal. He wins the heart lead in dummy and leads a club toward his hand.

If East rises with the ace, South's worries are over. If East ducks as he should, South has one club trick in. He should abandon that suit, lead a diamond and duck in dummy.

This will give him five diamond tricks and his contract. Since a suit will break 3-2 more than 60 per cent of the time, it is the correct play once South has brought home a club.

Democracy and Liberalization Motto for Today's Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — "Novotny is an idiot. If he were here, I would like to kick him," a man in dark glasses shouts into a microphone. He is a former political prisoner.

A young student reads a 192 essay by Czech writer Karel Capek, entitled "Why I Am Not a Communist." It condemns communism as a power-hungry movement for the benefit of a few.

★ ★ ★

The scene is Prague's Old Town Square, where a crowd of 5,000 has assembled to air their beefs over a public address system lent by the city.

Not a policeman is in sight.

"Three months ago, the police would have charged in here and thrown all of us in the clink" says a young man.

This is Prague, the capital of Communist Czechoslovakia, three months after the ouster of Antonin Novotny as the country's president and Communist party chief.

Novotny's successors, party chief Alexander Dubcek, Premier Oldrich Cernik and President Ludvik Svoboda, have launched the country on a liberal course unmatched in any other Communist country.

"They have gone further here in the past three months than in Yugoslavia in the past 20 years," said a Westerner who has lived in Belgrade.

The new course is in evidence everywhere.

Press censorship has been lifted. Every day the newspapers are filled with stories of mental and physical tortures in Stalinist jails.

DISCUSS EVERYTHNG

People in the streets, in cafes and in the aging streetcars discuss and criticize everything and anything.

"Democracy and liberalization" is the motto of the day.

Downtown bookstores display pictures of Thomas Garrigue Masaryk, the country's first president, whom previous Communist regimes tried to strike from the history books. Pictures of his son Jan, Czechoslovakia's last non-Communist foreign minister, are on sale on Vaclavske Namesti, Prague's main square.

The mood is buoyant but many ask, "Will it last?" and "What will happen next?"

But most seem to think there is no turning back.

FACES HURDLES

The new leadership still faces some high hurdles. It badly needs a hard currency credit to get the rundown economy going. It must avoid aggravating Moscow and, if the present course is to continue, it must oust some 40 conservative members from the party's 110-member ruling presidium.

Dubcek, Svoboda and the new course received a vote of confidence from the Prague population during the celebrations of labor day holiday May 1.

Both were showered with flowers and surrounded by masses of Prague citizens, who turned out to celebrate the holiday voluntarily for the first time in 20 years.

"First of May celebrations used to be like a funeral," said a young postal worker. "We used to be ordered to assemble, roll call was taken and then we were marched off. Everyone tried to duck out if he could do so without being seen. This year there was none of this."

With liberalization came a sharp curtailment of secret police activities. Interior Minister Josef Pavel declared in an interview:

"Any bugging devices installed to spy on our citizens are in complete contravention of the new line of the ministry. They are not only impermissible, but it is a criminal offense to install them."

Junior Editors Quiz on SASSAFRAS

QUESTION: Where does sassafras come from and what is it used for?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Sassafras is quite easy to recognize. It may be a medium sized tree or a shrub, but its leaves and bark have a special fragrance and spicy taste which one will identify easily after first acquaintance.

The leaves vary in shape, even in the same leaf group. Some may be without lobes or divisions, others have two or three.

Sassafras can be used to make a hot tea by digging up the roots, drying them and scraping off the bark, the scrapings being then steeped in hot water like tea leaves. This makes a pleasant aromatic drink, which was widely used in the old days, especially as a cure for the upsets once vaguely called "spring fever."

The boy in our picture seems to feel that the best cure of his spring fever is a sizzling steak, cooked over an open fire; chances are he is right.

Another use for sassafras lies in extracting sassafras oil, which is often used as a perfume in soap; still another lies in the wood, which is light and suitable for making fence posts.

New Book on Bible Says UFOs are Old

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK—Sightings of unidentified flying objects began long before the space age — far back in Biblical times. So did another presumed modern development—mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

These odd bits of information are brought out in a new book, "Strange Facts about the Bible," being issued by the Methodist Church's publishing house, Abingdon Press.

The collection of unusual sidelights on Scriptures, put together by the Rev. Dr. Webb Garrison, of Evansville, Ind., also punctures such popular misconceptions as the idea that the forbidden fruit eaten by Adam was an apple.

"It's highly doubtful that this temperate zone fruit was even known in the ancient Near East," Dr. Garrison says, noting that the account in Genesis doesn't specify what variety of fruit was involved.

STORY SYMBOLIC

Although religious interpreters widely regard the story as symbolic—using pictorial imagery to bring out a basic truth—Dr. Garrison says the most likely fruit implied was apricot or a pomegranate.

As for the earliest recorded report of a "UFO" Dr. Garrison cites the first chapter of Ezekiel, who tells of seeing a strange machine from the sky land near the Chebar River in Chaldea—now Iraq.

★ ★ ★

The craft was "gleaming bronze," like a "wheel within a wheel," Ezekiel describes it, and occupied by creatures formed like men but with four faces.

"The four wheels had rims and they had spokes; and their rims were full of eyes round about," the report says. " . . . When the living creatures rose from the earth, the wheels rose."

NEW WAY IS OLD

Concerning mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, which rescue experts recently have advocated as dramatically more effective than the old chest-pressure system of artificial respiration, Dr. Garrison says the new way actually is an old one.

It "probably represents a rediscovery of a method known to the early Hebrews," he says, noting that 2 Kings 4:34 describes its use by the Old Testament prophet Elisha in the rescue of a child. The account says:

"Then he went up and lay upon the child, putting his mouth upon his mouth, his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands; and as he stretched himself upon him, the flesh of the child became warm."

The title of the Bible itself has a strange origin, Dr. Garrison says, noting that it originally came from a pagan seaport shipping center for papyrus on the Mediterranean coast, a port town which traders nicknamed "Byblos."

BOOK COLLECTION

Since papyrus was the most important writing material of the ancient world, the slang name for the town came to be the Greek word "biblia," meaning a collection of books, a title eventually applied to Scriptures.

Montreal Plays Encore for Blues in Stanley Cup Series

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Rousseau ruined Doug Harvey's homecoming Thursday night by scoring at 1:13 of overtime to give the Montreal Canadiens a 4-3 Stanley Cup victory and 3-0 lead in the best-of-7 final series against the St. Louis Blues.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time in four years that the 43-year-old Harvey had played in the Montreal Forum after spending 14 seasons of glory with the Canadiens before being sold to the New York Rangers.

He was called back up after the Kansas City Blues, with whom he was playing coach this season, were knocked out of the Central Professional League playoffs.

BRIEF ACTION

But his duty with St. Louis was cut short by a groin injury and he managed to see only brief playoff action against Philadelphia and Minnesota. He hadn't played in the other final games, won 3-2 in overtime and 1-0 by Montreal in St. Louis.

Rousseau, whose goal was his first playoff winner in eight years as a Canadien, was just breaking into the big time and played only 15 games in Harvey's last year with Montreal.

★ ★ ★

But Thursday night Rousseau slammed the puck past veteran St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall after winger Dick Duff had split Harvey and defense partner Barclay Plager to get two tries at a goal only to be held off by Hall.

★ ★ ★

Yvan Cournoyer, Serge Savard and Ralph Backstrom were the other Canadiens to get the puck past Hall, while Red Berenson, with two goals, and Frank St. Marseille, beat Lorne Worsley in the Montreal net.

The fourth game of the series is set for Saturday at 3 p.m., EDT., and will be televised by CBS.

RECORD SET

The game was the second overtime contest between the two clubs, a record 10th in this year's playoffs and also a record eighth for St. Louis this year, of which they've won four.

"We have to be a lot prouder of our team than they do of theirs," St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman said.

"They played a lot better for being home, but the crowd didn't do that much for them."

Coach Toe Blake of Montreal also mentioned the crowd, which booed Montreal at times, while applauding every time Harvey left the ice, or when the Canadiens committed playing errors.

Of the Blues, he said, "They're very seldom behind in the score, so they don't have to change their style and open up. They're tough to play against."

Rousseau described his winning goal.

"I had followed Duff in on the play and he had two shots close in. Then it came out and I trapped it on my stick and let it go.

DIDN'T SEE IT

"I was still moving as I shot the puck, and I was trying to avoid pilling into the corner of the net with my shoulder. So, I honestly didn't see the puck go in."

Berenson sent the game into overtime with 2:35 remaining in regulation time.

The Canadiens dominated the action, peppering Hall with 46 shots on goal while the Blues tested Worsley only 15 times.

TYING GOAL — Yvan Cournoyer (12) of Montreal charges the net and scores the tying goal against goaltender Glenn Hall of the St. Louis Blues in their Stanley Cup playoff series. The Canadiens won in overtime, 4-3 and now hold a 3-0 lead in the final series.

Tiger Hurlers Could Claim 'Non-Support'

Bengals Hoping for More Hits in Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You really couldn't blame the Detroit Tigers' pitchers if, like the estranged wife, they filed suit for non-support.

The Tigers have gotten where they are, a mere half-game out of first place in the American League, strictly on the arms of their pitching staff.

The hitters apparently have been using bats which have been coated with a mysterious substance that repels baseballs, not after coming in contact but preventing the sweet, solid smack.

The Tigers send Denny McLain, who seens to be getting the benefit of the sporadic slugging outbursts, after his fifth win without a loss tonight against the Senators. Washington has Barry Moore, 2-0, ready for the opener of the three-game set.

Prior to the six-game road trip the Tigers departed on, they carried a lusty .229 batting average. They have failed to improve on this, something calculated to make grown pitchers wail and gnash their teeth.

RECENT RECORD

Since the fortunes of the baseball wars turned into misfortunes following the terminating of Detroit's nine-game winning streak, the Tigers have compiled a so-so 7-8 record.

They've done this by scoring a skinny 2.4 runs per game, while allowing 2.67 tallies each contest by the oppostition.

The staff earned run average has hovered around the 2.50 point mark for the past week. At one point it was lower than the club's batting average, which is great when you're hitting .230.

But when the Tigers do hit, they hit in the clutch.

As evidence, note the fatc that nine games have been won so far with a single hit. Three came in 10th innings, four in the ninth, one in the eighth and the other in the fifth.

SPREAD OUT HITS

The clutch hits, game-winners, were made by eight different players with Willie Horton's home run and sacrifice fly being the only time a name appears twice on the list.

McLain pitched to no decision in his first two appearances of the season but since that time has pitched four complete games in a row for his wins. And wonders of wonders, seems to have cut down on his habit of serving up "hitters delight"—the home run pitch.

Bill Buntin Dies During Game

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Buntin, who helped form the nucleus of Michigan's great 1964 and 1965 Big Ten basketball champions, collapsed and died Thursday night while playing in a pickup game in a Detroit gym. He was 26.

The 6-foot-7 Buntin, a threetime All-Big Ten center and teammate of former All-American Cazzie Russell, was pronounced dead at a Detroit hospital shortly after being stricken. He complained of being ill during the game, stepped outside for some air and collapsed, police said.

Buntin died a short distance from the neighborhood where he had played high school basketball. The cause of death was not immediately known.

"It was a great shock," said Dave Strack, Michigan basketball coach. "I had talked with Bill just the other day. He was planning to come back to Michigan next fall and finish work on his degree."

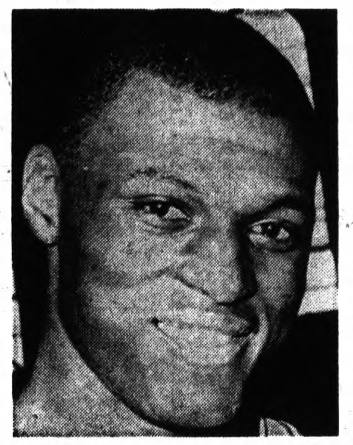

ONE SEMESTER

Strack said Buntin was a semester short of a bachelor's degree in education.

Buntin was the top choice of the Detroit Pistons in the 1965 National Basketball Association college draft but reported to training camp overweight and seldom played. He was cut from the squad in the 1966 training camp when he failed to solve his weight problem.

Last fall, Buntin was signed to a contract by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League but was cut from the team when he failed to pass the NFL physical. Again, overweight was a major factor.

He had a two-game tryout with the Pontiac Tomahawks in the North American Basketball League during the winter.

DEAD AT 26 — Former University of Michigan basketball star Bill Buntin, 26, collapsed and died Thursday night in Detroit while playing in a pickup game.

"Bill was a great kid and a great player," said Strack. "He finally had gotten his troubles straightened out and was determined to be a teacher. Getting Bill was one of the major breaks of my coaching career.

NOT RECRUITED

"We never recruited Bill, but he was an automatic starter as a sophomore," recalls Strack. "He was the major factor in Michigan's resurgence as a college basketball power.

"We had other great players like Cazzie Russell and Oliver Darden, but without a great center we never could have won."

★ ★ ★

With Buntin at center, Michigan won 16 and lost eight in the 1962-63 season, Strack's first as a winning coach. The Wolverines won the Big Ten title in 1963-64, finishing second in The Associated press Poll, and winding up third in the NCAA tournament.

The Wolverines were voted the top team in the nation in the 1964-65 AP poll, Buntin's senior year, winning 24 of 28 games and losing the NCAA title to UCLA.

"Bill could have had a fine career as a pro," said Strack. "But he was overweight and out of shape with the Pistons."

Kentucky Derby Nerves Jangling

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Confusion, discretion, jingling phones and jangling nerves were everywhere today as the slowest decision in Kentucky Derby history plodded toward its finish line.

The end, most probably, will come Monday when the owner, trainer and handlers of Dancer's Image will appear before Churchill Downs stewards in a hearing to determine who drugged the horse, when they did it and why.

Made timid by the first disqualification in the 94-year history of America's and the world's most famous horse race, sources hedged at every question. All said they didn't want to say anything that might influence the outcome of the hearing.

KEEPS ASKING

Reporters—and in some cases, the general public—kept asking. Where they didn't find discretion, they found confusion.

"I'm just plain upset about all this," said Mrs. Gene Markey, owner of Forward Pass, who finished second in the Derby and was declared the winner after the drug was found in the system of Dancer's Image.

★ ★ ★

"It upset me in a way—I was elated—when they told me we had won the Derby," Mrs. Markey said. "Now they tell me maybe we haven't won. Frankly, I'm all mixed up."

The general manager of the firm that found the phenylbutazone wouldn't say anything at all. We hope you understand, but all these questions will be asked at the hearing and we'll answer them then," he said.

KEY POINTS

The emotion centered around these points:

—The original announcement by Churchill Downs Tuesday indicated that Dancer's Image had been disqualified and that Forward Pass had been declared the winner of the Derby.

—A statement later by one of the stewards who decide such things said that nothing was official—yet. But asked if Dancer's Image still might be declared the Derby winner, Leo O'Donnell said, "No, I don't think so."

—A second statement from Churchill Downs left no doubt. It said the track where the Derby has been at home for 94 years would recognize Forward Pass, from the Calumet Farm, as its 1968 winner.

"Only one point remains to be settled," public relations director Kelso Sturgeon said, "and that is the innocence or guilt of the parties connected with Dancer's Image."

Pros Criticize Long Par Four

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Controversy raged today over the redesigned 15th hole at the plush Lakewood Country Club golf course where the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open moved into its second day.

"I don't think it's a fair hole," said Bob Stanton, the 22-year-old Aussie who fashioned a six-under par 65 Thursday to take a one-stroke lead after the first round.

Jack Nicklaus, golf's Golden Bear, said of No. 15, now a par 4 hole playing at 470 yards: "It was a wonderful par 5, but a lousy par 4."

"I don't give a damn what they say," commented Jack Weiss, a tournament official. "I think it's a real fine hole now. Just because it's a par 5 for the members doesn't mean it has to be a par 5 for the pros."

★ ★ ★

The tee was moved up 60 yards on the hole, making it 470 yards and a par 4.

Pole Vault Slam Helps Skippers

A sweep of the pole vault and a victory in the final mile relay keyed the Skippers of Waterford Township in their 61-57 Inter-Lakes League conquest of Livonia Stevenson yesterday.

The speedy Spartans took eight firsts but didn't have enough strength in the field events and longer races.

Orchard Lake St. Mary divided a pair of Catholic League track meets at Allen Park yesterday, trimming host Cabrini, 73-45, but losing to Roseville sacred Heart, 69-49.

The Eaglets won 11 events and swept the pole vault against Cabrini, with Ed Pomazanko winning both hurdle races in :16.4 and :21.8.

But they could garner only five firsts against Sacred Heart, and lost 14 points in the dashes while seeing their over-all mark slip to 3-3.

TAG COMPLETED — Atlanta third baseman Clete Boyer (6) rises from ground after being tagged at home plate by Pittsburgh catcher Jerry May in the second inning of their game last night in Atlanta. May held on to the ball despite Boyer's attempt to dislodge the ball and Atlanta won the game, 4-2.

50-1 Longshot Trot Winner

★ ★ ★

With driver Clarence Ayotte at the reins, Little Dominion came from sixth place midway down the backstretch in the first heat to nip the leading Propensity in the drive to the wire by a head in 2:06 2-5 and that clocking won him the coveted M&M trophy.

★ ★ ★

But the biggest shock came in Little Dominion's triumph. He left the post as a 50-1 longshot and paid a mutuel of $112.60, most ever for the M&M.

Big Ten Nines Start 2nd Half of Campaign

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten conference baseball campaign entered the second half of the season today with league leading Michigan (5-1) at Madison for a doubleheader with Wisconsin (6-2).

The Badgers are tied for second place with Minnesota (6-2). The Gophers are in Lafayette, Ind., for a twin bill with last place Purdue (0-6).

★ ★ ★

Eighteen Big Ten games are on tap for the weekend, including eight doubleheaders.

Michigan, which suffered its first conference loss to Indiana last week by a 1-0 score, follows today's doubleheader with Wisconsin with a pair at Northwestern (4-4) Saturday.

TWO GAMES

Northwestern entertains Michigan State's Spartans in two games today. Michigan State has won 4 Big Ten games after losing their first two.

★ ★ ★

Other games on today's schedule include a doubleheader between Iowa (3-5) and Illinois (4-2) in Champaign, and Indiana (2-6) meets Ohio State (2-6) in a single game in Columbus.

★ ★ ★

In a single game Saturday Indiana again opposes Ohio State.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It's not likely to happen, but the No. 1 man on the high school golf team at Milford in a couple of years could be a girl.

The young lady is Anne Hildreth, a 14-year-old ninth grader, who is now the No. 2 man — or girl — on the Muir Junior High School team.

The biggest obstacle in Anne's path to a spot on the high school team is the Michigan State High School Athletic Association (MSHSAA). Another but smaller stumbling block would be her willingness to continue improvement of her game so she could earn a starting job with the team.

That first obstacle is really a big one. According to the MSHSAA rules, girls are forbidden to participate in interscholastic sports where part or all of the membership of one or both of the competing teams is composed of boys.

How about those equal rights, gals?

★ ★ ★

To be sure, the rule is a good one for football, basketball or any other contact sport, but it should not be applied to sports such as tennis, skiing or golf.

ABILITY NOT ENOUGH

Under the present rule, Miss Hildreth may be a par-shooter in a couple of years but it won't do the Milford High team any good.

★ ★ ★

So gals—at least those who feel they can play the game of golf as good as the boys—start those cards and letters rolling. Send 'em to Charlie Forsythe, State Director of Athletics, Michigan High School Athletic Association, 1008 Prudden Building, 109 West Michigan Avenue, Lansing, Mich. 48902.

Chuck Wood, ninth grade algebra teacher at Muir, is coach of the junior high golf team and he says Anne is doing well.

"She asked me if a girl could try out for the team," Wood was saying yesterday. "I told her I knew of no reason why she couldn't. I think the boys kind of enjoy it.

"I hope I'm not violating any rule. No one has said anything to me about it."

★ ★ ★

The junior high team has played only one match and Anne was ill that day and missed it.

ANOTHER DATE

"We are going to play that team (Highland Junior High) again this Monday," said Wood.

★ ★ ★

Milford senior high golf coach Jim Koresky admitted he's like to have a par-shooter even if she was a girl. "I'd be crazy not to let her try out," said Koresky.

Low scorer on the Muir team is Mike Weeks who has carded a 49. Anne had a 54 in practice with the team and that makes her the No. 2 man on the squad.

Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hildreth, 5035 Surfwood in Milford. The entire family plays golf, and Anne's brother, Charles, is a junior at the high school and a member of the team. The family has a membership at Lakelands Golf & Country Club. The father is a salesman with Liberty Mutual Insurance.

WINNING START

Bill Bisdorf made a winning impression in his first outing in the Michigan Section PGA weekly best-ball events last Monday by posting the low score and taking the lion's share of the money.

★ ★ ★

Bisdorf, 39, came to Michigan this spring as head pro at Grosse Ile Golf & Country Club after nine years as pro at Green Gables County Club in Denver, Colo.

And he'll be a player to watch in the big state pro golf tournaments this season. In Colorado, Bill won the Sectional PGA championship three times, took the Colorado Open in 1964, 1965 and 1967 (he was second in 1966) and in those nine years out West he qualified each time for the National PGA.

Last year, Bill and Mike Souchak, head pro at Oakland Hills, tied for 20th place in the National PGA and both are exempt from the qualifying this year.

Mel Larsen, athletic director at Pontiac Catholic and golf coach, was trying to explain a few bad shots on the course last week. He was playing in a threesome behind his team and an opponent.

"I don't have my shoes and a few of my clubs are gone," Larsen was saying. One of his players had borrowed his shoes and another had taken a few of his clubs. Mel may also qualify as the golf equipment manager.

Groves to Host Track Event

The first Invitational Track Meet for Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills preps is set for Tuesday at Groves High School.

Coach Len Cercone of the host school is organizing the meet that will involve athletes from Seaholm, Brother Rice, Country Day and Groves in Birmingham, plus Cranbrook, Lahser and Andover from Bloomfield Hills.

The official starter and timer at the National Collegiate Athletic Association's indoor meet, Dave Beauvais of Detroit and Harold Silverston of Southfield, will officiate at the Invitational, Cercone has announced.

★ ★ ★

Various county track mentors will assist, including Don Hoff and Pete Slader, the athletic directors of Andover and Cranbrook respectively.

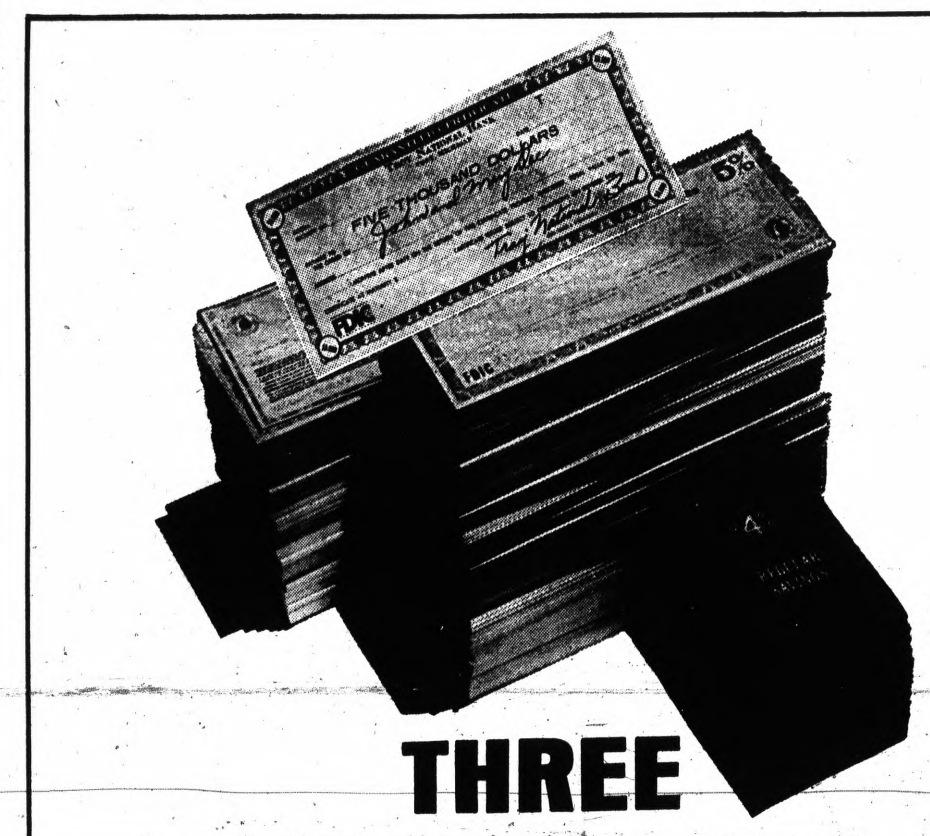

★ ★ ★

Pontiac track devotees John Osler and Bob Kent also will participate. Trophies for the individual winners have been donated by 13 service clubs, and there is a huge team trophy.

11-Year-Old Surprise of PTTA Event

The Pontiac Table Tennis Association, now one of the largest organizations in the state, took three weeks to complete its city handicap tournament, because of the large number of entries.

On Wednesday, the PTTA All-Star team defeated Sarnia, Ont., in an exhibition and the All-Stars now are competing in the Oakland County championships.

Romeo Sophs Help Earn 6-4 Victory

Romeo's sophomores produced the big hits and some strong relief work in the mound Thursday to earn the Bulldogs a 6-4 extra-inning victory at Mount Clemens.

Young left-hander Vance Green stopped the home club in the final five innings on three hits and six strikouts to gain his first varsity decision.

Corky Semp, playing his first varsity game, singled home the tying run in the fourth and an insurance run in the eighth after soph catcher Tom Lerchen's third hit led off the winning rally and John Rogers' double scored Lerches.

Romeo is 6-7 over-all.

Phillies' Callison Throwing Weight Around in NL

By the Associated Press

Johnny Callison has thrown away his weights and now his bat is weighing into Philadelphia's push towards the top of the National League.

Callison drove in four runs with a double, triple and home run Thursday night, helping the Phillies beat Cincinnati 7-3. It was the third straight victory over the Reds for the Phillies and the second straight game in which Callison homered.

The victory pulled the Phillies into second place, one game ahead of Cincinnati, Los Angeles and San Francisco and three back of idle St. Louis. The Dodgers dropped Chicago 6-0, Houston downed San Francisco 5-3 and Atlanta topped Pittsburgh 4-2 in the only other National League games scheduled Thursday.

Callison spent a week last winter with Gene Berde, the 63-year-old conditioning expert from Wakefield, Mass., who was credited with developing the body-building program that turned Carl Yastrzemski into baseball's top slugger last year.

"It wasn't a muscle-building thing," says Callison of the week he spent under Berde's tutelage. "As a matter of fact, he told me to throw away my weights. He told me all they did is build tired muscles."

So Callison climbed ropes, went through breathing exercises and rested his tired muscles. The result was a revitalized spring in which he felt leaner and stronger than at any time during his career.

★ ★ ★

He looked strong enough to the Reds. In the first inning of Thursday night's game, he followed a walk to Tony Taylor and Cookie Rojas' single with his three-base hit.

★ ★ ★

Then, after the Reds had tied the score in their half of the first, Callison unloaded his third home run of the season in the third inning with Taylor aboard.

Rojas climaxed the Phillie attack with a three-run homer in the ninth that wrapped up Larry Jackson's third victory. Dick Farrell finished up for Jackson when the Reds nicked him for a run in the bottom of the ninth.

GIANTS LOSE

Jim Wynn and Ron Davis both homered and Dave Giusti pitched a six-hitter as Houston defeated the Giants. Davis also drove in another Astro run with a fifth-inning single.

Hal Lanier, a Giant infielder, was tagged with an indefinite suspension and fine by Manager Herman Franks when he reportedly threw his bat and helmet after being lifted for a pinch hitter.

Rookie Ron Reed won his third straight game as Sonny Jackson drove in three runs with a pair of singles and the Braves whipped the Pirates.

Jackson's bases-loaded single in the second got Atlanta off in front and then he singled home another run with two-out in the eighth inning.

Utica 9 Stumbles at Clawson

The Oakland A League baseball race tightened a little yesterday as Clawson (4-2) turned back previously unbeaten Utica (4-1), 2-1.

Rochester (4-2) took advantage of Utica's misfortune to move into a share of second by blasting Lake Orin (1-5), 12-0.

Tom Hering flipped a two-hitter and knocked in two runs to pace the Rochester victory. Teammate Ed Talley picked up three hits while Les Littlejohn chased home a pair of runs.

A twp-run outburst in the last of the seventh enabled Clawson to halt Utica. Austin Hockey tripled in one run and he scored the winning marker moments later on a suicide squeeze bunt by Dan Nichols.

In other baseball action yesterday, Waterford Mott downed Waterford Township's reserves, 4-2, Harper Woods blanked Oxford, 8-0, South Lyon nipped Ypsilanti Lincoln, 5-4, and Redford St. Mary downed Royal Oak Shrine, 3-2.

Terry Ruffatto collected two hits and drove in a couple of runs to pace the Mott (5-4) victory.

South Lyon ran its league-leading record to 6-1 in the Southeastern Conference by stopping Lincoln. Paul Jamison paced the win with two hits.

★ ★ ★

In the other Oakland A contest, Madison whipped Troy in an error plagued outing, 10-5, as Gary Morrow hit two singles, doubled and produced five runs and gained his third straight mound win.

Al Ochalek added four singles and four runs. The Eagles now are 4-2 and in a three-way tie for second.

Turbocharged Indy Cars May Challenge Turbines

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The accent has been on the turbine-powered cars, but the pepped-up Offenhauser and Ford cars have demonstrated plenty of eight for this year's Indianapolis 500-mile race.

The turbocharged Offy of Bobby Unser has won three straight races on the U.S. Auto Club circuit for Indianapolis-type cars.

★ ★ ★

The turbocharged Ford, minus many of its earlier problems, made its season's debut at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Thursday.

Jim Malloy of Denver, Colo., got his turbo Ford up to 161.5 miles an hour.

FEW PROBLEMS

"I figured they'd solve the problems they'd been having with this thing," he said. "But I never thought they'd come up with anything like this. There really aren't any problems to speak of. I think we can have the car ready to go full out in a couple of days."

★ ★ ★

Malloy said adjustment of the manifold was the major improvement, with the power "nice and gradual" now.

"I hope we can do 168 or 169 in qualifying," Malloy said. "It's not that easy, but I think this machine's capable of it."

Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., former USAC driving champion who set the Speedway's one-lap record of 169.775 m.p.h. in qualifications last year, had less luck with his turbocharged Hawk Ford on its first run this month.

NEW CHASSIS

Andretti hit 157.535 on his only lap and then returned to the garage complaining about handling of the new chassis.

Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., had the best time of the day with 166.3 in his turbocharged Eagle Offy. Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., pushed his Eagle Offy to 165.8, while Dan Gurney, Costa Mesa, Calif., hit 165.2 in an Eagle Ford.

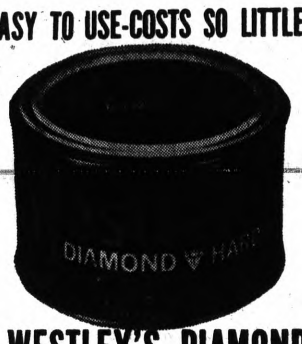

The best since practice began May 1 is 169.555 set Tuesday by British driver Mike Spence in a Lotus turbine. A few hours later Spence was injured fatally when another turbine he was driving hit a retaining wall.

Ski Jumpers to Try Again

ALTA, Utah (AP) — The Western States Ski Jumping championships, postponed last weekend because of too much snow at the Alta ski resort, have been rescheduled for May 19.

A cross-country meet, which was to be held in conjunction with the ski jumping, has been canceled because "it's too late in the year for cross-country," Mont Murphy, president of the Nord-Alp Ski Club, said.

Men's City Softball Debut Set

All eight teams in the city men's fast pitch softball league will be in action Tuesday as the slimmed down recreation department program begins its 1968 season.

For the first time in many years, there will be only one fast-pitch league. A round of 21 games will be played through Aug. 1, followed the the post-season playoffs.

The Slow Pitch, or blooperball, program will begin May 20. Teams may enter through 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. At present, 15 teams have signed up for the two leagues.

Generally the slow pitch teams will play Monday and Wednesday, and the fast pitch squads Tuesday and Thursday. Postponements will be made up Sundays.

A $2 registration fee for in-town residents and $3 fee for out-of-town players is required in both programs.

Win State Honors

Rochester Best in Fitness Competition

Rochester High School's physical education program entered the six best conditioned athletes last weekend in the first U.S. Marine Corps-sponsored state youth Physical Fitness Competition.

Nearly 25 high schools entered the five events at Detroit's Brodhead Naval Armory and Rochester's sextet just edged out Carelton-Airport and Monroe for the handsome team plaque.

The format required all six boys to do push-ups, sit-ups, pull-ups, squat-thrusts and a 300-yard shuttle run. Time required and the manner of execution determined the points.

The top five scores from each team were used in the team standings. The maximum total is 2,500 points and Rochester amassed 1,920. Carleton's entry had 1,916 and Monroe 1,904.

NATIONALS

The Falcons' winning score now will be compared to the top totals in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. The best of those four will be invited to the national competition this summer at Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Other local areas represented included Birmingham, Troy, Holly and Royal Oak. Schools sent teams from as far north as Traverse City, Bay City and Saginaw, and as far west as Grand Haven, Kalamazoo and South Haven.

Area Collegian in Keg Meet

He not only won the league all events title for a third straight spring, but set a new record of 1915 in the process, won the singles crown with a record equaling 672 and teamed with Greg Brown to place second in the doubles.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the Spartans were the team champions in the rolloffs at the University of Illinois. John Zoellner of Rochester also is a member of the Spartan title squad.

★ ★ ★

Bennett repeated as the Big Ten singles champ for the second year and placed third in the doubles last spring.

Confab Slated for City 9's

The final adult baseball league managers' meeting will be 7 p.m. Monday in the ground floor personnel conference room at City Hall.

★ ★ ★

All sponsor fees are due at that time and each team is asked to have one representative attend the gathering. The schedule will be drawn based on those teams having their fee paid by the end of the meeting.

U. of M. Selects New Publicist for Sports Post

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Will Perry, sportswriter of The Grand Rapids Press, Thursday was named sports information director at the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Perry's appointment by the U-M Board of Control of Intercollegiate Athletics is effective June 1.

The board also announced the appointment of Larry Zimmer, sports director of radio station WAAM in Ann Arbor, to the newly created post of coordinator of radio and television for the U-M athletic Department.

Kansas Athletes Make Headway With Demands

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — University of Kansas athletes have gained some results from a one-day boycott of spring football practice and a threat to boycott all athletics in support of demands for a Negro cheerleader, a Negro coach and more Negro professors.

A university spokesman said Thursday night a Negro will be chosen to fill a vacancy on the pom pom girls' squad; a course in Negro history will be offered next fall, and the university always is looking for qualified Negro faculty members.

★ ★ ★

John Greene, Negro student and former football player, said he thought the protesting group generally was satisfied with the answers.

Ward Hits Two Homers

White Sox Back on Pennant Track

By the Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox are back on the road to the pennant race, using a new way—for them—to travel. The Sox are winning with home runs.

Pete Ward, their newly discovered slugger, smacked two solo shots, his seventh and eighth of the season, and powered the Sox to a 4-2 victory over the Oakland A's Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

But Ward is not alone. Joining him have been Tommy Davis, Luis Aparicio, Tom McCraw and pitcher Gary Peters as Chicago has turned around from its 0-10 start to win eight of its last 13 games.

★ ★ ★

Peters went 8⅔ innings, giving up only five hits, for the latest triumph which moved the still last-place Sox only 7½ games behind American League leading Baltimore.

FROM BEHIND

Minnesota broke a third place tie with Oakland by coming from behind for a 4-3 10-inning triumph over California on Rod Carew's double and Cesar Tovar's single.

The Washington Senators snapped a six-game losing streak in the only other AL game, beating Boston 3-1 behind the pitching of Phil Ortega and Dave Baldwin.

Ward's first belt in the fifth inning tied the game at 2-2 and his second in the seventh off starter Lew Krausse put the White Sox ahead to stay.

THREE HITS

★ ★ ★

He singled in the first inning, stole second and scored on Harmon Killebrew's single for a 1-0 Minnesota lead, but the Angels' Tom Satriano wiped that out with a three-run homer off Jim Merritt in the third.

After Ted Uhlaender's bunt single scored Tony Oliva, who had doubled, from second base in the seventh, Carew and Tovar singled in the eighth and Carew scored on Frank Kostro's pinch sacrifice fly for a 3-3 score.

With Ron Perranoski holding off the Angels for two innings for his first AL victory, Carew and Tovar teamed again in the 10th against Jim Weaver.

Ortega helped himself with his bat to his fourth victory, doubling in Washington's third run in the sixth. He scattered seven hits in seven innings before Baldwin came on.

Ed Stroud had singled and stole second before Ortega's hit and the outfielder scored the first Senators' run in the second when he beat out a bunt, stole second, took third on a balk and scored on a wild pitch.

★ ★ ★

The decisive run came in the fifth when Fred Valentine singled and moved around on Bill Bryan's hit and a ground out.

GET UP TO 3 TIMES MORE ROSES

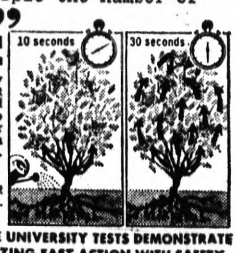

Famous University reports —

"Use of Miracle-Gro increased the general vigor of rose plants considerably, with many more stronger, longer shoots and branches, much more and greener foliage, as well as double to triple the number of more beautiful blooms."

University test proves 30-second "instant action" in 5-ft. rose bush

Famous University scientists added tiny quantities of radioactive tracers to test solution of Miracle-Gro. They then applied this solution to the roots of a 5-foot rose bush. Within 30 seconds, Geiger counter registered definite activity at top of bush —proof of how fast Miracle-Gro works.

Conservation Department Takes Firm Stand on DDT

Director Ralph A. MacMullan has expressed concern over "misunderstandings" of the Conservation Department's stand against continued uncontrolled use of some so-called "hard" pesticides in Michigan.

"We have been accused of pointing the finger at certain groups, particularly farmers, and blaming them for poisoning our environment," he explained. "What we really are pointing at is a group of chemicals. This is a problem which concerns everybody because it affects the world we all live in."

Clarifying the department's position on pesticides, MacMullan made these points:

● "First and foremost, we are not opposed to all pesticides, but only to a few which are dangerous because they persist in the air, water and soil for years and even decades after application, with harmful effects on living organisms.

★ ★ ★

● "We believe the use of these few chemicals — DDT, Dieldrin, Aldrin, Endrin, Chlordane, Lindane and Heptachlor—should be strictly regulated and eventually eliminated as research develops effective substitutes for them.

ELIMINATE USE OF DDT

● "Most specifically, we think DDT should be eliminated now, because there are good substitutes which meet the needs of agriculture, Dutch elm disease control, mosquito suppression, the home gardener and the housewife. The finding that DDT is the most probable cause of coho salmon losses in our hatcheries is a clear and obvious signal that we have a serious problem in Lake Michigan. We just can't afford to use any more DDT in Michigan.

● "We remain firmly opposed to the proposed Dieldrin treatment of 3,000 acres in Berrien County to control Japanese beetles. This acreage is in the Lake Michigan watershed, and Dieldrin is many times more toxic than DDT. Other, less persistent chemicals can be used against Japanese beetles.

● "Where effective substitutes aren't yet available and where the public interest requires it, we agree that hard pesticides will have to be used. These applications should be carefully controlled and monitored.

● "We realize that the safer substitutes may cost more. These increased costs should be borne by the public, meaning all of us, just as the costs of water pollution control and other environmental protection programs must be the responsibility of society as a whole.

"No one group should have to foot the bills. A chemically clean environment benefits everybody, and everybody should pay his share to achieve it."

MacMullan concluded:

"It's ridiculous to say that agriculturists, or any other particular group, is to blame for pesticide contamination. Just about everybody in Michigan, including the Conservation Department until recently, has used these chemicals in the sincere belief that they were harmless.

"Now we know they're dangerous, and their use should be rigidly controlled or in some cases eliminated. It's that simple."

Certification of Lawn Seed

Certification of lawn seed basically means that authorities attest to the trueness-of-type of a particular variety. Additional restrictions vary from state to state, and may involve certain germination or weed control standards. Pennlawn is one of the certified fine fescues grown in Oregon, and state agriculturists are building up new certifiable stock of such old-favorites as Chewings.

★ ★ ★

Oregon also certifies Highland bentgrass seed, the only state in which this economical bentgrass is produced. Park and Merion are typical bluegrasses commonly certified. Park originated in Minnesota, a combination of numerous vigorous selections.

Certification attests to proper intermixtures of these in the seed field, and is granted only to fields suitably located from other bluegrass.

The State of Kentucky is even contemplating certification of its widely adaptable natural Kentucky bluegrass. All such procedures are meant to guarantee that the customer will receive seed of the exact identity claimed.

★ ★ ★

Other than that, certification is no guarantee of quality, and it is quite possible that some uncertified seed will be cleaner and with better germination than that which is certified.

Fescues Best for Shady Lawn

Studies by Dr. A. A. Beard at Michigan State University indicate that seed mixtures built around fine fescues are the most persistent and recuperative of lawn plantings for deep shade.

★ ★ ★

Loss of turf in shade is believed mostly due to greater disease prevailing there, which fescue mixtures seem to effectively "shake off."

Surprise Your Friends, Try Something New

One of the greatest joys of gardening is to always try something new. It's fun to keep a jump ahead of one's friends.

Among the annual flowers there is a great number which are little known and deserve wider appreciation. For instance, everyone knows the regular sweet alyssum which make a handsome 6 inch-high edging, but how many have tried the tiny ones, only half as high for daintier, more intimate edgings?

Or, how many have tried white, daisy-like arctotis which produces its delicately tinted blooms all summer? It has much more grace and distinction than the daisy and is excellent for cutting.

Bright, fiery crimson leaves producing a plant reminiscent of the poinsettia, that is the amaranthus. Three-feet or more tall, it is excellent against a background or as a background.

★ ★ ★

Dainty, pale blue and lacy are the blooms of the blue lace flower, excellent in borders particularly in cool places. Also good for cutting.

BELLS OF IRELAND

And, you don't have to be Irish to appreciate the Bells of Ireland with their 2-foot stems clothed up and down with translucent green bell-like structures. They're long-lasting and excellent for cutting.

For semi-shade or cool, dry places try the clarkias. Easily grown, they reach 2 to 3 feet tall and are topped with dainty salmon, pink, rose, mauve, white or almost purple blooms.

Very much like the arctotis but with their graceful, long-petaled daisies in tones of soft orange, yellow, white, scarlet, crimson or rose are the gerberas. With care they can sometimes also be grown indoors. Either way, they are well worth a try — and one of the best, long-lasting cut flowers.

Then in a cool, semi-shaded, moist soil it's a good idea to experiment with the godetias or satin flowers. Rose, carmine, pink or blue cups are borne on sturdy 15 inch plants making them ideal for garden bedding. These are many other little-known plants await you, if you explore the seed catalogs or garden shops.

In all cases, prepare the soil as you would for a vegetable grden. Spade it a full spade deep, incorporating a 2-inch layer of compost or other humus, and 5 pounds of vegetable fertilizer per 100 square feet.

Then rake it smooth and sow your seed as gently and carefully as you know how. If there is danger of the soil drying, cover it with light burlap until germination is well under way.

★ ★ ★

Then remove it and when the seedlings are large enough to handle dig them out with a green thumb trowel and replant at full recommended width apart.

Because fine lawngrasses can't be grown in unnatural surroundings, such as the Astrodome with its inadequate sunlight, artificial lawn carpeting is beginning to get attention.

Some even predict that Astroturf will gain new markets where real grass could be grown. Live grass does not generally endure close mowing well, nor constant use. It may be seasonally off-color because of disease, too.

Now, for the first time, comes a Kentucky bluegrass that promises to handle the duties expected of artificial grass, and still be the fresh, hygenic cover that only a living sod can provide. The new Fylking Kentucky bluegrass thrives well at a mowing height of an inch or less.

This means it is adapted not only to a baseball infield, but to the golf course tee and the modern fairway which the pros insist be clipped low. Here at last is a perennial bluegrass low-growing enough to be companion to the Colonial bentgrasses of the fairway, and a stalwart in cared-for home lawns.

Another hex on artificial turf is Fylking's ability to resist disease, including the well known leafspot and the new menace, stripe smut. Even without preventive sprayings this new variety comes down with so few ills that it is sparkling and unblemished during the entire growing season.

Fylking greens early in spring, and holds color late in autumn. Even drought does not harm this one. So why bother with expensive Astroturf, neither selfrenewing nor as healthful as a select bluegrass lawn always is?

Moisture Is Key to Lawn Success

Agronomists say that either too much or too little moisture is responsible for about three-fourths of the lawn maintenance problems. Most grasses flourish when the soil is neither baked dry, nor kept so wet that root growth is retarded.

★ ★ ★

Most experts suggest letting the lawn dry out almost to wilting stage before rewatering, and then irrigating well.

★ ★ ★

The widely-used Kentucky bluegrasses and fine fescues need less water than do the bentgrasses, and can even endure considerable periods of drought (although they will not look so well as if irrigated).

★ ★ ★

There may be some benefit to the soil from occasional drying, much as with freezing in winter. Soggy soils turn tight more easily than do dryish ones, especially if there is much traffic on the lawn.

Ersatz Soil Ideal Starter

If you are getting ready to set out ball-and-burlap trees, shrubs, bushes, or bedding plants, you'll give them a better start with the addition of a new "soil substitute" called Redi-Earth.

Developed by horticulturalists at Cornell University, the lightweight recipe consists of a blend of horticultural vermiculite, sphagnum moss, trace elements and plant nutrients.

Extraordinary results, first reported by professional growers in New York State, have been since duplicated by home gardeners in areas where the new material was test-marketed by Zonelite Division W. R. Grace & Co.

The new "clean dirt" is lightweight and easy to use in transplanting. First, dig a hole of sufficient size to receive the plant. Second, put a layer of one-to-two inches of Redi-Earth at the base of the hole. Third, place plant upright in the hole. Fourth, add another layer of Redi-Earth to completely surround the planting, then fill balance of hole with the top-soil you originally removed.

★ ★ ★

Water frequently and liberally during early weeks after transplanting. The lightweight sutstitute provides essential aeration, water-retention and nutritive value to foster good growth.

★ ★ ★

The new mix, available at garden supply outlets, is handy for other uses around the home and garden, such as patching of bare spots in the lawn, or as a potting soil.

Crabgrass Is in the Soil

It is reassuring that seed experts checking millions of samples never find crabgrass in Kentucky bluegrass, fine fescue and bentgrass.

Crabgrass is not introduced into the lawn by sowing lawn seed. If crabgrass shows up, it must come from seed already in the soil, or that tracked in from neighboring ground where crabgrass is prevalent.

Fortunately, there are now available many excellent crabgrass preventers and killers.

Glad Blooms Poor? Replace Old Corms

Now comes the spring, and it's time to think about refurbishing the summer glad patch.

If last year's gladiolus blooms were something less than satisfactory, radical action may be called for, according to a Michigan State University plant pathologist.

To assure magnificent glad blooms in the home garden, summer after summer, it may be necessary to replace glad corms and to relocate the glad patch every two or three years, declares Dr. W. J. Hooker, MSU Department of Botany and Plant Pathology.

Dr. Hooker says that corms which produce spectacular blooms when first planted often seem to 'run out' after a few seasons, despite good care.

★ ★ ★

"The glads may not appear to be diseased; they just don't grow with vigor," he explained. "They bloom irregularly, the blooms get smaller and the plants get weaker.

"We suspect that diseases, possibly viruses, are involved in this degeneration."

For the home gardener who finds his glads degenerating, Dr. Hooker advises getting rid of all old corms so that the disease will not be spread, buying new corms, planting them in a new location and rotating the glad patch from year to year, if possible.

Orchid Society to Hear Authority

Craig Foster, orchid authority, will address members and guests of the Michigan Orchid Society May 19 at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium at 622 W. Lafayette, Detroit.

Foster will speak on the "Meristem Process of Reproducing Orchids."

Lush Green Color Due to Nitrogen

The deep green color of your fine bluegrass or bentgrass is stimulated largely by nitrogen in the lawn fertilizer. Experts consider nitrogen to be the fertility nutrient which contributes most to turfgrass quality.

That's why fertilizer formulations designed specifically for lawns contain a higher percentage of nitrogen than the two other main nutrients, phosphorus and potassium.

The latter are essential, but not so much used up by the grass. Nitrogen is the element that promotes foliage growth as well as color.

It is needed most constantly by "heavy feeders" such as the bentgrasses and Merion Kentucky bluegrass, less heavily by most other Kentucky bluegrasses including Park, and least of all by the fine fescues such as Chewings, Illahee and Pennlawn.

The ASA safety seal means the manufacturer certifies that the mower meets the safety standards published by the American Statndards Association, sponsored by the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute.

Ruby Red

New Fescue Debuts

An improved turf grass for lawn seed mixtures is making its first appearance on the market this year. The newcomer: Ruby Creeping Red Fescue.

What is Ruby? A simple, yet accurate, reply would be: Ruby is the friendly fescue, the fescue that gets along well with other lawn grasses, says Howard Kaerwer, Northrup King turf specialist.

New Ruby Creeping Red Fescue mows clean. It doesn't leave an unsightly brown cast to a lawn caused by the leaf tips being broken off rather than cut cleanly. And new Ruby tolerates the high fertility common in modern bluegrass lawn care.

Ruby's unique compatability characteristics make it ideal for blending with other grasses in lawn mixtures. This new fine fescue grows well in sun as well as shade. It is more tolerant to high levels of fertility than other fescues. Bunchiness, a common characteristic of most fescues, does not occur with Ruby.

Improved mowing characteristics plus disease resitance, add to Ruby's desirability. Its spreading ability and color contrast with bluegrass make it a preferred ingredient in lawn seed mixtures.

COMPATIBILITY

Until Ruby appeared, fescues used for turf purposes lacked compatability with other grass species. Under some conditions, the fescue would be so aggressive it would crowd out all other species leaving unsightly, tightly knit bunches of wiry looking turf.

In other cases, the other turf species would crowd out the fescue, and bare patches would appear particularly in shady or poor soil areas.

Even before Ruby, the fine fescues had a place in turf mixtures, because of their ability to grow in shade and to produce and attractive lawn cover in low fertility areas. Their ability to stand up under heavy traffic is another reason for their inclusion in turf grass blends with bluegrasses and other lawn grass species.

Now, with new Ruby, an improved fine fescue, your lawn can be even more beautiful — and still retain its durability.

Paper Potion Pushes Peace ---It's a Riot

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two weeks or so ago there were 11,000 troops on riot duty at the D. C. National Guard Armory.

WEST

This week the entire armory was given over to an industrial arts fair staged by Washington public school students.

I was told that if I paid a visit to the fair I would find something reassuring in the contrast. And I did.

At one exhibit, students were operating an offset printing machine capable of turning out 9,000 government forms every hour. That made me feel better about the future in America.

PAPERWORK NEEDED

According to Sol Silverman, director of the graphic arts program in the local school system, about 4,000 students are learning to operate high-speed duplicating machines, which are the backbone of the federal government.

★ ★ ★

Figures I obtained from the A. B. Dick Co., a duplicating machine manufacturer, show that the government buys about 2,650,000,000 sheets of paper a year.

NO NEED TO FEAR

Trainging school kids to operate the machines insures that the nation will never collapse because some of those 2,650,000,000 pages remained blank.

Beyond that is a reassuring sociology factor. Many of the students are products of the ghetto, whose inhabitants feel alienated from the American mainstream.

If there is anything that represents the American mainstream it is paperwork. When children of the ghetto are engaged in paperwork output they are bound to feel a part of the mainstream. It gives them a sense of identification, of belonging.

This, I might add, is more than mere theory. Silverman said the dropout rate among students learning to run duplicating machines is very low.

It occurred to me that perhaps paperwork also could be used in riot control. Instead of confronting looters with weapons, police would hand them a 5-page federal form to be filled out in triplicate.

You've Got Fighting Chance

At Odds With the IRS?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last of a two-part series on the Internal Revenue Service.)

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

They cry remittance! You cry refund!

An audit of your records has just been completed and the IRS agent has outlined exactly what he claims you owe in additional assessments.

Dissatisfied, you refuse to sign a waiver agreeing to pay the additional assessments. Instead, you decide to appeal.

FIRST STEP

First step is to request a meeting with the staff if the amount of the alleged over-assessment or claimed refund is less than $2,500 for any one year. If the amount in question is more, a written protest must be filed which details the taxpayer's arguments.

Technically, an appealer could bypass a district conference if he believes he will have better results in a higher level of appeal.

★ ★ ★

He could file a protest requesting direct consideration by the regional Appellate Division although this procedure is not encouraged, according to an IRS spokesman. He claimed that the district conference procedures usually result in quicker disposition of disputed cases.

This conference offers a neutral setting where the taxpayer can present his case to a district conferee who takes a new look at the facts.

SEVERAL AVENUES OPEN

If John Q. Taxpayer is content with the decision reached at the conference, he signs a waiver agreeing to the decided change in liability.

There are several avenues open to the still-irate taxpayer. The most popular road is to request consideration from the Appellate Division of the office of the regional commissioner.

★ ★ ★

Cases reaching this more formal level generally involve questions of law. Settlements reached usually reflect agreement by both parties.

Other paths open to a taxpayer not wanting to go to the Appellate Division depend upon whether he is seeking a refund or contesting a proposed tax increase.

The taxpayer wanting to claim a refund should secure a disallowance notice and then file suit in a U.S. District Court or in a U.S. Court of Claims within two years of the date that notice was mailed.

The taxpayer fighting a proposed increase can file suit with the Tax Court of the United States.

He must file, with the aid of a lawyer, within 90 days after receiving a statutory notice of deficiency — a statement detailing the adjustments proposed by the IRS. If the case is not decided in the taxpayer's favor, he can file suit in the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Another way to appeal, without going to a tax court, is to pay the additional tax and then file a claim for refund.

AVOID INTEREST

This technique allows the taxpayer to avoid paying interest on the asked-for assessment while fighting the IRS claims. If this claim should be disallowed, the taxpayer can then file suit in a district court or in the Court of Claims.

The taxpayer still dissatisfied after a decision in either the Court of Appeals or the Court of Claims can take his case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Some 76,000 disputed cases were received by the appeals function out of 3.1 million returns examined in 1967, according to the commissioner of Internal Revenue's annual report.

Only 1,340 cases were tried in the courts; 799 in the tax courts and 541 in the district courts and the U.S. Court of Claims.

During the year 41,154 cases were closed at the district conference level. This is a 5 per cent increase over the number of cases brought to that level in 1966, according to the report.

Taxpayers agreed to the conferee's recommendations in 65 per cent of these cases during both 1966 and 1967.

Youth Corps Helped Nancy Get Diploma, Job She Likes

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in a series about people and programs of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity—the antipoverty war.)

By ED BLUNDEN

"They helped me all the way . . . to get my high school diploma and to get my job," said Nancy Quitmeyer, 21, of 400 Oak, Rochester.

She gives credit to the Neighborhood Youth Corps program of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO) for helping her attain her present position, a ward clerk at Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Nancy said she is very happy with her job, a Civil Service position with a promising future and good starting salary.

Helping Nancy was a step-by-step process that began in February 1967 when she applied to the Youth Corps. Nancy's problem was that she couldn't find work. She had no experience and no high school diploma.

FEW CREDITS SHORT

She was just a few credits short of the diploma. With a part-time job supplied through the program she was able not only to finish her schooling, but to gain work experience at the same time.

For a while she worked at the Air Force recruiting center in Pontiac. Encouraged to take a Civil Service test, Nancy passed it and waited for a job to open. She worked at temporary jobs in the meantime.

★ ★ ★

Then about two weeks ago she was accepted at the state hospital, where she works on patients' records, answers the phone and does other clerking duties.

"I don't know how I could have done it without their help," she said, referring to the Youth Corps program.

SUCCESS NOTED

That the Oakland County program has been particularly successful has been noted by U.S. officials.

Last month the Washington OEO office announced that $184,000 had been appropriated for the Youth Corps Out-of-School program.

★ ★ ★

This will provide summer work for hundreds of Pontiac area teen-agers and appropriation is more than a 50 per cent increase above the period of last year. This was alloted at a time when spending for OEO and many other federal programs were being cut.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

The ancient Greeks called them provocatives to drinking. The modern Greeks nibble mezethakia. Spain has its suuun tapas, Russia its sideboard of zakuski, Italy its pungent antipasto, and Germany, Vorspeisen. Sweden of course calls that glittering assortment smorgasbord, and in France everybody loves an hors-d'oeuvres. So do we. Properly speaking, hors d'oeuvres are not served before dinner. Hors d'oeuvres, from classical times and in almost all other corners of world dining, are a course of the dinner. They are not to fill up on: they're to begin with. Remember this the next time you have a dinner party and don't stuff your guests with catchall "appetizers."

Ring Returned After 12-Year Trip on Railroad

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Donald Brown lost his wedding ring in 1956 and it was returned to him Thursday after a 12-year railroad tour of western United States.

Brown, a clerk for the Santa Fe Railway, said this apparently happened:

★ ★ ★

The ring slipped off into newspaper packing for an office machine he shipped to Topeka, Kan., where all the road's repair work is done. Apparently the same crate with original packing was used to ship machines to and from company offices, including Chicago; San Francisco; Los Angeles; Galveston, Tex., and others.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday, a company employe in Topeka discovered the ring, with initials D.A.B. He used payroll lists and checked persons with those initials. Brown responded and the ring was mailed to him.

20-25 Are Ill After PTA Meal in Sterling Twp.

STERLING TOWNSHIP (AP) — About 20 to 25 persons were reported today to have become sick overnight after attending a Parent-Teacher Association banquet at the Warner Elementary School in this Macomb County community.

Mrs. Mario Carlini, a spokesman for the Warner PTA, said that about 250 persons attended the banquet.

★ ★ ★

The dinner, which was handled by an outside caterer, included chicken, potato salad and cole slaw, she said.

★ ★ ★

By BENITA ROSEN

Flowered arches, trellises and a gazebo or two, all will aid in giving the Wylie E. Groves High School gymnasium the atmosphere of a Southern plantation for the annual school prom, J-Hop.

Tomorrow night, couples will stroll, chat and dance amidst Taralike props and decorations that will carry out the "Gone With the Wind" theme.

★ ★ ★

For some students, buying prom dresses, renting dinner jackets, making restaurant reservations and selecting corsages, will not be the only preparations they will make for the event. Those working on J-Hop committees have been giving up countless hours of their spare time the past few months so that the prom will run smoothly.

The dance is sponsored by the Groves junior class.

HARD-WORKING COMMITTEE

Headed by chairman Claudia Hughes, this group first divided itself into many subcommittees, so that each subcommittee was responsible for a different setting in the gym.

With Maureen Templeton as its chairman, the committee in charge of favors and programs has succeeded in obtaining small silver-plated discs engraved "Gone With the Wind." These charms will be presented to each couple.

The program design will be a yellow background with the black silhouettes of a Southern belle and her gentleman.

More than 20 adult couples, mostly parents of Groves students, will act as chaperones. Linda Shahan chaired the committee responsible for this.

A CATERED AFFAIR

Refreshments for the evening will be catered. Chairman Kathy McNabb and her committee made arrangements for foods like Swedish meatballs, shrimp, petit fours and little cocktail sausages to be available. Tea and fruit punch will be served. The punch will be ladled of a serving bowl carved out of ice.

★ ★ ★

As in past years, members from the Groves sophomore class will act as hosts and hostesses by serving the refreshments.

Other J-Hop committee chairmen are Sue Cannon, in charge of prom tickets, and Laura Elvig, responsible for publicity of the event.

For those of you who missed Vernors' new slogan,

No slogan? That's right, no slogan. Vernors is so different it doesn't need a slogan. We don't need a lot of square, so-called "catch" phrases to tell you Vernors and Vernors One-Calorie are very different—that it's different because it's flavor-aged 4 years in wood. Try gingery Vernors. The taste is unfiltered by slogans.

(Special note: The space in the box above would normally be used to once again hit you with a big, fat slogan. Since we have no slogan, we donate this space to you . . . the tired, over-sloganed American consumer. It's yours! Do with it as you will. Doodle in it, make angry symbols or just sit and contemplate its clean, uncluttered, soothing emptiness.)

gingery Vernors . . . so different it doesn't need a slogan

Use this new Three-Step Protection Plan to guard your investment before and after you convert your furnace. First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been approved by Edison as qualified—and each is a reputable businessman.

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He'll recommend electric heat only if it meets your needs. Electric heat is clean, quiet, comfortable and more economical than you'd imagine. In fact, electric heat rates have been reduced again—this time, by 10%. That's 30.5% in eight years. The contractor will estimate both installation and operating cost and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotation if you like.

Then, after your new electric heat system is installed, Edison and your contractor, working together, will make any adjustments necessary to the system if operating cost exceeds the original estimate during the first three years of use. At the end of this time, if operating cost still exceeds the estimate, and you aren't satisfied, Edison will remove the system and refund your original price.

That's our new Three-Step Protection Plan. What better way to protect your investment during every step of conversion to electric heat? Remember the First Step. Call Edison for the names of the approved contractors nearest you.

Stock Market Edges Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged ahead in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

When the reports were first heard Thursday afternoon, the market fell sharply but started a comeback before the close.

Analysts aiso said efforts to push the tax increase legislation through Congress zas an encouraging factor for the market.

Changes of key stocks ranged to 2 points or so.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 2.72 at 914.07.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had gained .5 to 329.3, with industrials up 1.6, rails off .6, and utilities up .5.

Motors, mail order-retailers, aircrafts, electronics, utilities, nonferrous metals and airlines paced the advance. Oils were mostly lower.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of more than a point were posted by Pacific Industries, Silvray, Continental Oil, Sealectro and Claey.

U.S. Rips Cong in Saigon Fight

War Slows Down as Peace Talkers Meet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. bombers and artillery rained tons of explosives late this afternoon on stubborn Vietcong holdouts along the southern edge of Saigon, but generally the war slowed down as American and North Vietnamese peace negotiators met in Paris.

A battalion commander from the U.S. 9th Infantry Division called airstrikes and a rolling artillery barrage down on the last major group of enemy soldiers still pressing the Vietcong's six-day-old "peace talk" offensive.

The American bombs and shells devastated a narrow row of homes, shanties and shops stretching half a mile along the southern limits of the capital where 9th Division infantrymen had clashed repeatedly with bands of snipers and rocket-firing Vietcong.

The Americans from the 9th Division appeared to be driving the enemy away from South Vietnam's capital on the sixth day of the Vietcong's "peace talk" offensive. Intelligence sources said U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had virtually crushed, at least for the time being, the waves of attacks on Saigon that began last Sunday.

REASON FOR SETBACK

They said one reason for the enemy setback was that U.S. troops sweeping the countryside around Saigon intercepted much of the Vietcong and North Vietnamese forces before they reached the capital.

★ ★ ★

Two major developments were reported in the air war against North Vietnam. U.S. Navy pilots said they blew up the biggest oil depot in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the U.S. Command confirmed a report earlier this week from Pentagon sources in Washington that Communist MIG fighters are operating in the North Vietnamese panhandle south of the 20th parallel for the first time in the war.

★ ★ ★

The command said a MIG21 shot down an American F4 Phantom Tuesday about 145 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

2 CWA Locals Holding Out

DETROIT (AP) — Two locals of the Communications Workers of America remained off the job at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today in defiance of an order from international union officials.

The state's largest unit, Local 4000 in Detroit with 5,300 members, and Local 4016 in the Royal Oak area with 2,500 members both voted overwhelmingly Thursday to remain on strike pending the results of a new ratification vote.

Telephone workers were reported back on the job Thursday everywhere else in Michigan.

CWA international representatives first ordered all telephone workers in the state back on the job last Monday after the CWA ratified a new three-year contract nationally with the Bell System. The agreement was rejected by Michigan union members.

A new ratification vote was ordered for the state after CWA executives said only half the employes had a chance to vote on the new contract because of the short balloting period. The ratification period was extended until May 19. All union members were then ordered back to work.

South Is Closing Gap

U. S. Incomes Soaring

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Per capita income of Americans during 1967 ranged from $3,865 in Connecticut to $1,895 in Mississiggi.

CUNNIFF

Therein lies some of the explanation for differing views on scores of economic and social matters.

★ ★ ★

There is a danger, however, in assuming the figures are static. The Commerce Department's latest "Survey of Current Business," in which the figures are reported, makes clear that the incomes picture is becoming more uniform.

Broadly speaking, the areas with the lowest per capita income generally are advancing at the fastest rate, except in periods of swift economic acceleration. Then the advance is more similar for all regions.

SOUTH SOARS

In post World War II years, for example, personal income has risen much more rapidly in the South and West than in the North and East. During 1967, in fact, the South's incomes advanced faster than in much of the nation.

Nevertheless, the old industrialized section remains with the highest incomes. New York, Illinois, Delaware, California and New Jersey have per capita incomes above $3,600. But Alaska and Nevada also exceed that figure.

The survey notes that in 1967 personal income rose a bit less than 7 per cent for the entire nation. But there was a relatively large range within that figure.

Above average gains were made in the Far West at 8 per cent, and in the Southwest, Southeast and Mideast at 7¼ per cent.

AREAS LISTED

But in the Great Lakes and Great Plains the gain was only 5½ per cent.

The impact of the federal government, which was spending heavily and beyond its budget during much of 1967, was pronounced.

The study showed, for example, that federal civilian payrolls grew rapidly in the Southwest, Far West and Southeast, and that military payrolls also contributed to the strong advance in the Far West.

GREAT LAKES

The less than average increase in the Great Lakes region, which is divided between heavy industry and agriculture, was due to a slow growth of manufacturing wages and a sharp decline in farm income.

Some indication of why farmers have been complaining is shown by the Plains states figure, where a drop of more than 15 per cent in agricultural income kept that region's advance to the smallest in the nation.

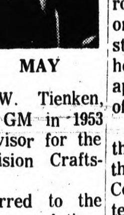

Throughout the nation, in fact, sharp declines in farm income kept the rate of advance from being higher. In New England, which is far less dependent upon farm income than the Great Plains, the decline was 23 per cent. But declines of 32 per cent in Iowa and 28 per cent in Nebraska were among the sharpest anywhere.

To receive the awards from Gov. George Romney at a Detroit Economic Club luncheon are: Talbert Abrams, board chairman of Abrams Aerial Survey Corp., Lansing; Frank J. Manley, executive director of the Mott Foundation, Flint; Wade H. McCree Jr. of Detroit, judge of the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court at Cincinnati and James M. A fifth award goes to Anton J. F. Schwarz, director of health research and development of Midland - based Dow Chemical Company's Indianapolis laboratory.

Abrams is recognized for definitive development of the science of aerial mapping, Manley for starting the now widely used community school concept at Flint.

Judge McCree founded and is chairman of the Higher Education Opportunities Committee which in four years has helped some 1,000 financially disadvantaged students to attend Michigan colleges.

Schwarz developed a measles vaccine, manufactured by Dow as Lirugen, that has given long-term, one-shot immunity to some 18 million children.

Printing Firm in Detroit Hit by Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — A fire caused by electrical trouble damaged a large rotary press at the Post Publishing Co., which prints about 35 weekly newspapapers, in Detroit Thursday.

A spokesman said the production of the newspapers was transferred to neighboring plants, causing a short delay.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Between 50 and 60 rolls of newsprint were damaged by water from firemen's hoses, he said. No estimate of amount of damages was available. However, one source said the press was valued at $250,000.

Lansing Voters OK Income Tax

LANSING (AP) — Voters in Lansing turned out in record numbers for a special election Thursday to pass a city income tax by a 140-vote margin in unofficial tabulation. City officials said it would make possible a hefty decline in property taxes.

The vote for passage was 12,442,-12,302, as nearly half of the 51,243 registered voters went to the polls. It was the largest turnout for a special election in Lansing's history.

In another matter, the voters defeated a proposal to add 3.4 mills in taxes for operation of the Lansing schools, 16,266—8,955.

City officials said the income tax will allow the property tax rate of $19.95 per $1,000 assessed valuation to be sliced to $13.50, which is the lowest level in 25 years.

MAYBE BIGGER CUT

Lansing Mayor Max Murninghan said if the income tax revenues exceed the estimated $4 million a year, the city will be able to lop off an additional $1 to $1.50 in property taxes per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Ratifying Ends 105-Day Strike

A 3½-month strike ended yesterday at Vickers Division of the Sperry Rand Corp. with the ratification of a three-year contract by members of Local 945 of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO.

The agreement ended 105 days of work stoppage by the 313 production and maintenance hourly employes represented by the union at Vickers' administrative and engineering center, Crooks and East Maple, Troy, and the company's Ferndale facility, 1365 Jarvis.

★ ★ ★

The 1,083 salaried employes at the administrative center, and 212 salaried workers at the Ferndale plant were not affected by the stoppage.

MAIN HEADQUARTERS

The Troy office is the main headquarters for the firm which manufacturers hydraulic products in plants in several locations throughout the country.

County Gets Traffic Data Center Grant

Oakland County has been awarded a grant from the National Highway Safety Bureau of more than $36,000 for the establishment of a countywide traffic data center, it was announced today by the Michigan office of Highway Planning.

The development and administration of the program — which will serve as a national demonstration model — will be under the auspices of the Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County (TIA).

★ ★ ★

The data center will be installed in the TIA office at 3580 W. Maple, Birmingham.

Bruce B. Madsen, TIA managing director, said the center will produce monthly accident summaries in a matter of seconds, rather than the hundreds of hours now required.

★ ★ ★

He said the program's goal is the accumulation of traffic accident data for analysis and eventual accident prevention measures.

Union Plans Strike Vote at State Hospital

Authorization to call a strike at Pontiac State Hospital is being sought by the executive board of the employes' union, representing some 600 workers at the institution.

Local 49 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes received authority to call for the strike vote at a meeting at the hospital last night.

A union spokesman said the vote would be by mail. Wording of the strike authorization has not been worked out yet, the spokesman said.

The hospital employees have State Civil Service status and no contract or collective bargaining machinery at present, according to the spokesman.

Employes have complained about grievance procedures, staff shortages and working conditions.

Dr. Donald W. Martin, medical superintendent, said today that while he understood how the employes felt about the shortage of staff, he couldn't condone a strike.

FACTS ABOUT COLOR TV ANTENNAS
Experience has proven that the following facts apply to most locations in this area regarding Color TV Antenna installation.
- Modern, broad-band antennas are definitely superior for color reception.
- Lead-in wire should be high quality, low-loss type
- One continuous lead-in to set is best without couplers or series outlets.
- Good antennas are more directional — they tend to reject stations from other directions.
- Effects of weather on antennas and lead-in wire can cause severe loss of performance.

Averell Plugged as Comic by Jack at 'Dimes' Event

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Our Vietnam peace negotiator, Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman, was praised for his sense of humor by Jack Benny when the March of Dimes' FDR Birthday award was given to him at the NY Hilton.

Benny recalled a reception several years ago when LBJ addressed him repeatedly as "Mr. Benny" rather than as Jack.

"I finally said to the group, 'wish that President Johnson would call me by my first name,'" Jack related.

"Whereupon Averell spoke up and said, 'What did Lincoln call you?'"

That seemed to have won the day until the late Adlai Stevenson, waiting for silence, remarked, "Lincoln called him Benny Kubelsky because he hadn't changed his name yet."

The dinner was filled with rumors that comedian Joe E. Lewis was ill. (He had a diabetic attack but will be out of Mt. Sinai shortly.) . . . Rumors of a new kind of "protest": Against high price of hamburgers, franks and drinks at sports events ($8 for a snack? You used to be able to buy an outfielder for that).

"How's your juvenile delinquent brother?" a friend asked James Roosevelt who'd flown in from Geneva where he's now in investments and money. "Which one?" he asked smiling around at John and FDR Jr. "Oh," one of them said, airily, "Elliott's very happy in Miami Beach."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Vinnie Haggerty said it: "I never met a man I didn't like — except Phyllis Diller."

A Look at Television

'Flying Nun' Role a Natural for Actor

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — "The Flying Nun," ABC's comedy-fantasy entry in this season's television hit parade, is now gliding through the summer on reruns. And that dashing playboy-gambler, Carlos Rameros is free to assume, for a little while, his own identity.

The part—and it is the only regular man's role in a female-dominated series built around a Puerto Rican convent—seems quite natural for Alejandro Rey—pronounced alla-hand-ro ray—a dashing young gentleman from the Argentine. On holiday, he is currently trying to see every show on Broadway before returning to another season of being victimized weekly by Sister Bertrille in the series.

Alejandro is an actor with a pretty broad experience, having appeared in stage productions of serious dramas like "Tea and Sympathy" and attracting attention playing a tragic young Puerto Rican in a episode of "Naked City." He thinks that perhaps his "Flying Nun" role with its curious limitations may make greater demands than anything he has ever before tackled.

ETERNAL HOPEFUL

Week after week he must play an eternally hopeful wolf who, just when he gets a gorgeous girl in his arms, is interrupted by the little flying nun, demanding that he solve some emergency.

Each week, too, he must say, "Sister Bertrille!" and deliver the words with a combination of dismay, incredulity and frustration bordering on anger.

"Sometimes we have to stop and figure another way to get through it," Rey said, "because we had done it the same way the week before. After all those shows with something like 30 different girls I only got to kiss one of them, and then the show was too long and they cut most of it out."

Rey adds, however, that the public seems to enjoy Carlos relationship with the little nun, and the mail indicates that many of the fans fondly believe that if Sister Bertrille were not a nun, there might be a romance growing up with Carlos.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1968

VOL. 126 — NO. 81 ★★★★★ UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATED PRESS —54 PAGES 10c

PARIS (AP) — American and North Vietnamese officials arrived at peace conference headquarters today to discuss technical details for the opening of preliminary talks on ending the Vietnam war.

Cars bearing deputy chiefs of the two delegations went to the International Conference Center shortly after 3 p.m. (10 a.m. EDT).

★ ★ ★

The first round of talks was slated to decide procedural questions. It had been expected earlier substantive talks would begin today.

The American delegation drove up first in three sedans and was followed within minutes by the Vietnamese in another trio of black sedans. Two security cars followed.

CROWD LINES STREET

A crowd of 700 to 800 lined the broad Avenue Kleber, near the Arc de Triomphe, as the delegates arrived. Other curious hung out of balcony windows and windows of the International Conference Center itself. There was no applause or cheering.

The weather was cool and overcast as the cars drew up near red-carpeted stairs leading into the conference center where the talks are set in a salon known as "Committee Room 5." A doorman and protocol official were on hand to greet the delegates.

★ ★ ★ ★

The arrangement for a session on planning details was reported to have been a disappointment to American officials, who had hoped more substantial talks might begin today.

About the same time the American announcement was being made of a 3 p.m. (10 a.m. EDT) meeting time the North Vietnamese chief delegate Xuan Thuy said the meeting would be at 3:30 p.m.

The discrepancy in time was not immediately explained.

★ ★ ★

The procedural questions for discussion at this first session could include the matter of an agenda for the later opening talks between Thuy and the U.S. top negotiator, Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

An argument over the agenda could delay substantial talks indefinitely, but U.S. officials said they had no word that the situation would develop in that manner.

REPRESENTATIVES

William Jordan, an assistant to Harriman, told newsmen U.S. representatives at the midafternoon session would be Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance and Philip Habib, a State Department expert on Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of North Vietnam will be Ha Van Lau and Nguyen Minh Vy, according to information given the Americans.

The session was set for the International Conference Center, the old Majestic Hotel, where the main talks are to be held.

Educator Urges Total Plan

By BOB WISLER

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Pontiac school superintendent, last night proposed to the Pontiac Area Planning Council board of governors that the council develop a long-range comprehensive plan for development of the Pontiac area.

WHITMER

Whitmer related the proposal on behalf of the board of education. A plan of the type outlined by Whitmer might cost approximately $250,000, one governor estimated. University of Detroit architect C. Don Davidson agreed this estimate was close.

Whitmer said the type of comprehensive plan discussed would have no bearing on present school projects — such as a development of a Human Resource Center to replace three elementary schools and construction of a new super high school — or any projects likely to be undertaken in the city within the next 12 months.

Discussing financing of the plan study, Whitmer and the council's project director, Dr. David Doherty, agreed there was a good possibility much or most of the plan can be paid for by federal or private foundation funds.

The school superintendent said the need for a comprehensive development plan became acutely aware to the board of education while it was trying to decide where to locate its Human Resource Center and the planned 4,500-student high school.

He said that the board began to realize the decision on a human resource center site was intertwined with other questions concerning construction and rehabilitation of housing, racial composition of neighborhoods, pedestrian and vehicular traffic, parks and the concept of citywide services.

Whitmer said the school board didn't have enough information in these areas on which to base the best decision.

"It would have been much better if there were a long-term comprehensive plan," he said.

NO TOTAL PLAN

Whitmer said that while Pontiac has had some 19 planning studies in the past few years each study has concerned

Area Plan Council Urges More Policemen for City

The Pontiac Area Planning Council board of governors, in existence since last October, last night approved its first recommendation to the Pontiac City Commission.

The governing board — set up to operate as an advisory body to the City Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education—unanimously passed a resolution ruging the city to rsiae the authorized strength of the city police department by 12 officers and make every effort to recruit eight to 10 qualified Negro policemen.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the city is presently filling some 12 vacancies authorized by the city commission earlier this year in an effort to bring the department up to 132 men.

The planning council recommendation would raise the total to 144 officers. Warren said to reach that level a major revision of the city budget would have to be effected.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. pointed out to the governing board that the commission can accept or reject the recommendatons of the planning council.

MartinJ. Caserio, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division and one of the governors, said General Motors was interested in helping the city effect council recommendations and would advance tax money ahead of payment deadlines if the city saw the need.

★ ★ ★

The governors discussed other resolutions and proposals which will be formally acted on at their May 23 meeting. These included:

● A resolution ensuring that the council will be an "equal opportunity employer" and that contractors or businesses engaged by the council or doing business with the council will take affirmative action in hiring minority group members.

Stiff Opposition Expected for Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rugged House opposition awaits a compromise measure combining President Johnson's proposed income tax hike with a mandatory $6 billion spending slash.

Senate-House conferees nailed down Thursday a version tacking the spending cut demand onto the 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson has sought since last August.

★ ★ ★

In most respects, the conferees agreed to the bill passed earlier by the Senate.

Reversing earlier indications, handlers of the legislation said it probably won't be brought to a House vote next week. They cited the time required to prepare a report on the complicated bill.

DELAY PLANNED

But it was evident the delay also is planned for careful head counts and persuasion of undecided members.

"There's a lot of work to be done," said one of the bill's major backers, adding he has doubts about the outcome.

★ ★ ★

A major factor is Johnson's attitude. He faces the choice of blessing the measure because it contains the revenue he says is desperately needed, or fighting it—even with a veto if it is passed—because of the $6 billion cut.

That's $2 billion more than the figure he reluctantly agreed was acceptable and he has said a cut of this depth would be against the national interest.

VOTED AGAINST

Observers noted a majority of senators who come up for re-election this year voted against the measure. All House seats are up for election this year.

State Counties Get Districting Deadline

LANSINF (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said yesterday that all of Michigan's 83 counties, large and small, must reapportion themselves into equal population districts in time for this year's elections.

That, Kelley said in a statement, if the effect of the State Supreme Court's Wednesday ruling which upheld the one-man, one-vote principle's extension to county government.

★ ★ ★

"It is clear," Kelley said, "that the time to act is now."

cerned, a vite may hot be held this year in spite of the ruling, according to Robert P. Allen, county corporation counsel. He pointed out a lawsuit challenging a proposed redistricting plan for the county is in the State Appeals Court and has not yet been decided.

UNCERTAIN ON DELAY

Allen said the lawsuit could also be brought to the Supreme Court. However, he could not be certain this would delay action on Kelley's order.

The Oakland County plan would change membership on the board of supervisors from 87 to 27 and the southern areas would be more heavily represented than at present.

Bernard Apol, state elections director, said that 51 counties had filed reapportionment plans with his office and added that some of the 32 remanning counties probably had finished redrawing their districts.

But, Kelley said, 10 of the 18 Michigan counties of over 75,000 population had failed to file such plans — probably because of an earlier Supreme Court ruling.

1967 RULING

The court held, in April 1967, that a one-man, one-vote law passed in 1966 and setting a May 1967, dealine for apportionment, violated the State Constitution and was viod. Many counties then stopped their reapportionment work.

Wednesday, the Supreme Court reversed itself in light of a month-old ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court, upholding the county reapportionment concept.

Kelley said he issued his statement "in the hope that by this means we can

New Try Made to Save Miners

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — Teams of miners gouged a new escape route from the other side of big Sewell Mountain today in an alternate effort to reach 15 men deep inside a coal mine.

The belief that the other 10 trapped in the mine are dead was reinforced Thursday when two bores, from the top of the mountain, revealed their section of the passage was filled with water.

★ ★ ★

"We believe that whole area is flooded," said H. E. Sundstrom, the overnight rescue supervisor. "We are not drilling any more holes there."

PRESSURE IS GREAT

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The rescuers had gotten to within 600 feet of the trapped men Thursday when they encountered a "swag"—a long trough in the mine's 36-inch passage. Despite continued pumping, the level in the swag did not drop.

Hint by Congressman

'Crew Release Near'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman whose subcommittee deals in Asian matters says there is some indication North Korea is moving toward release the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

But administration officials said they had no new progress to report in the long negotiations to win release of the ship and crew.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House subcommittee on Asian and Pacific affairs, told a newsman that while he couldn't go into details, "there is some indication that they will be released."

SHIP MOVED

State Department officials said Thursday the ship has been moved from Wonsan Harbor. The North Koreans first brought it there after seizing it in what the United States claims were international waters.

The Reds were reported to have moved the vessel to a smaller North Korean port about 50 miles above Wonsan.

City JCs Favor Open Housing

An overwhelming majority of Pontiac Jaycees have voted to support the open housing ordinance which will be voted on by Pontiac residents at a referendum election June 24.

"If we believe in the Jaycee creed which says that the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations' we have no choice but to support open housing," said James H. Gallagher Jr., Jaycee president.

★ ★ ★

"Although we do have a national law regarding fair housing and will probably have a state law shortly, it would not look good in the eyes of the nation and the state and particularly within our own community if the referendum were defeated," he added.

★ ★ ★

UAW Sets Dec. 15 for AFL-CIO Pullout

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther has fixed Dec. 15 as the date his 1.6 million United Auto Workers will walk out of the AFL-CIO unless a convention without any strings attached is called to debate UAW demands for federation "reform and revitalization."

On top of that, Reuther's union has challenged the AFL-CIO, in effect, to expel the UAW by voting to continue holding up payment of dues to the federation which approximate $1 million a year.

New kindling was added to the long-smoldering and sometimes flaming dispute between the 60-year-old Reuther and 73year-old AFL-CIO President George Meany Thursday night by some 3,000 UAW delegates at a biennial convention.

After delegates from the AFL-CIO's largest member voted almost unanimously to withhold federation dues until the Reuther-Meany squabble is settled and demanded a new AFL-CIO convention, Reuther was asked in an interview to spell out precisely what the action indicated.

He said it meant "we're automatically disaffiliated" unless a convention without any conditions attached is called by Dec. 15.

It was the first time Reuther had set a specific walkout deadline.

In voting to hold up dues, the UAW challenged the AFL-CIO to exercise a rule that any member which fails to pay federation dues for three months may be expelled.

The UAW will be three months in arrears next Wednesday.

The convention ordered what normally would be AFL-CIO dues put into an escrow fund, payable if a federation convention is called on UAW terms.

Otherwise, the delegates specified the money is to be used for an organizing crucsade, which Reuther has been demanding, and for deeper involvement of labor in such social reforms as civil rights and formation of community unions.

"If we have got to choose between being the prisoners of a convenient and comfortable complacent kind of status quo because the labor movement won't move, then we will ask those of our friends who are ready to march, to march with us and get the labor movement on the move," Reuther told delegates.

In obvious reference to Meany and veteran labor chiefs who make up the AFL-CIO executive council, Reuther said: "I don't think the leadership of the labor movement ought to be a retired worker's rest home. I believe it ought to be a place of action."

Bill on Holidays OK'd in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a bill that would give the nation four long weekends a year by moving three national holidays to Monday and creating a new one— Columbus Day—also to be observed on Monday.

Rejecting the charge that it was uprooting the nation's historic past, the House voted 218 to 83 to scrap the existing dates for Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day.

★ ★ ★

Under the bill, which faces a questionable future in the Senate, Washington's Birthday would fall on the third Monday in February, Memorial Day on the last Monday in May, Columbus Day on the second Monday in October and Veterans Day on the fourth Monday in October.

★ ★ ★

EXPECTED TO GO ALONG

Only the District of Columbia and federal employes would be affected by the bill, but the states are expected to go along if the new lineup becomes law.

Greater business efficiency and a lessening of absenteeism were the major reasons given by supporters for passage of the bill.

Rep. Joe D. Waggonner, D-La., opposing a day honoring Columbus, said "when he left, he didn't know where he was going, when he got here he didn't know where he was and when he got home he didn't know where he had been."

League Seeks Backers for Judge Law Change

Petitions will be circulated at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center tomorrow and the next two Saturdays by the Birmingham-Bloomfield League of Women Voters. They seek to place a proposal on the ballot for the appointment of judges.

Purpose is to remove alleged political pressures on judges who now have to be elected to office, according to the league and the Michigan Jaycees, the two organizations spearheading the petition drive.

The petitions will be available at the shopping center all three Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The proposal calls for the appointment of all judges by the governor, who will receive nominations from a committee of citizens and attorneys.

STEPS OUTLINED

There would be one statewide council to make nominations for judges of the statewide courts. Local, regional councils would make nominations for all other judges.

A new judge would serve three years, after which voters would decide if he should be kept in office. If elected he would decide if he should be kept in office. If elected he would stay in office until age 70.

★ ★ ★

The change from the present judicial selection method would be implemented gradually.

Incumbent judges would serve out their terms. At the end of their terms, they would run on their records as if they had been appointed.

City Man Shot; Suspect Is Held

A 30-year-old Pontiac man was shot at his estranged wife's home yesterday and his brother-in-law, arrested minutes later by city police, was booked for attempted murder.

Police said Richard A. Fitzgerald of 29 S. Shirley was hit in the back by a shotgun blast about 11:30 p.m. He is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Malane probably will be arraigned today on a charge to be determined by the Oakland County prosecutor's office, according to investigators.

Police said they had been summoned to the home by Mrs. Fitzgerald, 28, about 30 minutes before the shooting.

★ ★ ★

She told officers that the victim had assaulted her earlier in the day and was again in the area.

Calhoun Deputies Quit

MARSHALL (AP) — Twenty-four of 35 Calhoun County Sheriff's deputies resigned at midnight Thursday, but the president of the deputies association hinted they could be re-employed on Monday if an agreement on a contract is reached with the county board of supervisors.

Tory Rout Shakes Wilson Party Hold

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's hold on Britain's ruling Labor party was threatened today by an unprecedented electoral rout of his party from town halls from one end of Britain to the other.

Conservatives swept Labor out of strongholds that had not known a Tory mayor for generations.

London went almost solidly Tory as Labor lost 16 of the 20 boroughs it held in the capital. In the provinces, Labor lost 560 seats and the Conservatives gained 570.

MACHINE MOWED DOWN

The voting did not affect the Labor party's 74-member majprity in the House of Commons. But the party now faces the next two or three years before national elections with its grassroots machine mowed down.

★ ★ ★

In more immediate danger may be the political fortunes of the prime minister himself.

Controversial Island Bridge Aired Again

By BETTY ANN SCHULT

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The 6-year-old controversy surrounding a proposed causeway and bridge between Dawson Island in White Lake and the southwest corner of Jackson and Ormond roads was aired again last night.

More than 100 area residents showed up last night at a public hearing on the bridge plans of Mrs. Estelle Dawson, former township resident who now lives at 74 Alice, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The hearing was conducted by the State Department of Conservation which is hearing Mrs. Dawson's request to construct the bridge and causeway.

The department has the last word on whether a permit will be issued, said George Taack, who presided at the hearing last night. A decision is expected within 30 days.

WON'T DROP FIGHT

Residents and Mrs. Dawson, however, may take the matter to court.

Residents have been opposed to the structure and the projected residential development of the island since 1962 and indicated last night they don't intend to give up the fight.

Mrs. Dawson likewise said she will definitely go to court if the department doesn't issue her a permit.

★ ★ ★

Dean G. Beier a Pontiac attorney representing the 350-member White Lake Citizens League stated reasons for resident opposition:

- The right of lake-front property owners or those having access to the lake would be encroached upon because the bridge would only leave open 40 feet of the lake surface and limit the height of boats to 10 feet.
- The structure isn't in the public interest but "to command a profit" for someone.
- The bridge will probably be a private road and may mean "foisting

The nearly 20 residents who voiced opposition echoed Beier's points with maintenance and care upon some public body."

ECHO POINTS

Howard I. Bond attorney for Mrs. Dawson, asserted that the bridge and causeway would be in the public interest, wouldn't destroy the rights of property owners, and the road would be assured of maintenance.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dawson, Bond added, will probably seek rezoning of the island from the current single-family status to multiple dwelling.

The bridge is designed to be 900 feet long and 30 feet in width, including 20 feet for two traffic lanes and five feet on each side for pedestrians.

David Hardesty Views His Model of Pontiac

Saginaw Street Is His Model

Student Maps Urban Center Rescue

By TOM GRAY

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Many urban centers are dying out, or being supplanted by shopping centers uniquely suited and designed for the automotive age.

Hardesty, who majors in graphic design communications, has just finished turning 15 months of study, photography, and creative effort into a 15-foot model of Pontiac's Saginaw street, between Water and Huron.

CONSUMER USE

Inthat model, the 23-year-old student has attempted to place retail stores of various types in sucr a way as to encourage maximum comsuner uses.

He has alos projected possible methods of dealing with traffic flow, parking, use of signs and other major problems which confront urban designers.

★ ★ ★

Graphic design communications?

Hardesty's instructor, Howard Brown, translates: "It is the study of two-dimensional information which marks, identifies or describes someting. Stores use graphics to identify their merc andise, packages use graphics to describe their contents."

BEGAN AS IDEA

Hardesty said his study of Pontiac began as a concept—an an idea which could be applied to many cities. "So many shopping areas, all over the country, die after 30-40 years," he explained.

"The only solution so far is to level trem and rebuild. I felt that there should be a more economical solution, one that could use the existing buildings."

Most Potiac buildings,he continued, still have 20 or 30 years of life. "While they can still function,there is something that keeps people from coming in to them," Hardesty asserted.

He identified the primary problem as coping with the automobile. The downtown area is built to function for the auto, he noted, but doesn't, because of the lack of parking space. At the same time, it cannot function for the pedestrian.

1st MAJOR STEP

This realization led to the first major step: tre closing of Saginaw to autos and its conversion into a mall.

"Instead of heavy signage desiged to attract people driving by in autos, the signs have been reduced to such a size that the pedestrian can see them as he walks through the area," Hardesty pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Also, he said, the reduction in size made it possible to relate the signs more closely to the architecture of the buildings.

★ ★ ★

The model itself shows great attention to detail. For example, the "Games Inc." sign ona toy store in the "youtr area" of the model is at ground level, with letters scaled to six feet in height which children could climb nn and play around.

FOR CONVENIENCE

Furniture stores, clothing stores, theaters and other facilities visited less frequently are toward the center of the business district.

★ ★ ★

The best of the plan, Hardesty said, is that it could be effected at a minimal cost compared to the typical "urban renewal" project, allowing the possibility of a trial period.

Mercrants could bear much of the expense or finance the project with low-cost loans, he theorized.

Area Firms Convicted of Meat Law Violation

Two area firms have been convicted of failure to comply with meat standards, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The firms include Cattlemen's Meat, 4980 Highland, Waterford Township, fined for excess fat in ground beef, and Farmer Jack, 2880 W. Maple, Troy, fined for excess fat in pork sausage, the department reported.

Land-Fill Opened to W. Bloomfield

Pontiac City Commissioners have voted to extend a contract to West Bloomfield Township to allow township residents to use the city's sanitary land-fill for trash disposal.

Residents may bring refuse, excluding garbage, by car, trailer or pickup truck at a fee of 50 cents per car or $1 per trailer or pickup truck.

★ ★ ★

Larger loads will be charged for at $1 per cubic yard. The contract excludes commercial hauling of waste materials to the site.

Apartment Zoning Nixed in Avon Twp.

AVON TOWNSHIP — An application for rezoning to allow the construction of apartments on Auburn Road, between Harvey and Leach, adjacent to property planned for a mobile home park has been denied by the Township Board.

Application originally was made by Harold Newingham and Donald Barcome in the belief that such zoning would be required in order to allow the trailer park.

★ ★ ★

The board decided last night that since the property is now surrounded by light industrially zoned land, a further buffer of apartments would not be needed.

The vote was in accordance with a planning commission recommendation.

Final approval of the trailer park awaits a deicision by the zoning board of appeals, according to Clerk Thelma Spencer.

A bid in the amount of $10,500 to build an addition to the Avondale Fire Hall has been awarded to Schurrer Construction Co. of Pontiac. Space is needed to house another fire truck, according to township officials.

Supervisor Cyril Miller has reported that the professional reappraisal of township property is proceeding without incident. He said crews are at work in the southern part of the township.

Miller also reported on his recent trip to Washington, D.C., where he sought federal assistance for the township's Phase II water and sewer program. He said application has been made, but there has been no indication of the outcome.

NAMED TO COMMITTEE

Clerk Spencer and Trustees George Ennis and Earl Borden have been named to a committee to work with engineers on a building program for Phase I water and sewer development. Housing for the water department and maintenance work is necessary according to townsrip plans.

Bids for the paving of Perrydale showed it would probably cost home onwers $700 a lot for the job. The Township Board delayed action waiting for residents to review the costs.

Retiring Principal Will Be Honored

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Florence Mortimer, retiring principal of North Hill Elementary School, will be honored at a PTA reception at 8 p.m. Monday at the school.

Principal since the school was opened in 1955, Mrs. Mortimer resides at 322 Cantley, Addison Township.

★ ★ ★

The Rochester Senior High "Triple Trio" under the direction of Frank Irish will provide entertainment, according to Mrs. Richard H. Goldsworthy, reception chariman.

Former students at the school and their parents have been invited to attend the program.

School Fair Saturday in Orion Township

ORION TOWNSHIP — Carpenter School will host a fair from 3 to 6 p.m. tomorrow at the school, corner of Joslyn and Flintridge.

Mrs. Everett J. Naugle and Mrs. Richard Koehn, cochairmen, have announced that games, booths, refreshments and rides will be available.

To Clean Up Old Cemetery

Girls Prove They're Good Scouts

ORTONVILLE—Fifteen Junior Girl Scouts from Troop 755 will set to work tomorrow cleaning up an old—and rather mysterious—cemetery located about a mile south of this village.

According to Mrs. Carl Anderson, 255 Granger, leader of the troop, inquiry of local residents has so far yielded no clue as to the name of the cemetery or any other information about it.

★ ★ ★

The girls, aged 9-11, all attend Howard T. Burt School. They have been working for nearly a year, Mrs. Anderson said, to complete the requirements for the "My Community" merit badge.

Other projects under the badge have included cleaning up debris at the high school football field following homecoming and working in the village library.

Most of the 12 visible headstones in the tiny cemetery, located on M15, are so weathered as to be unreadable. One, however, bears the name "Kent."

Besides cleaning up the area tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon, the girls plan to place a sign identifying the cemetery and to visit it on Memorial Day following the village's annual parade.

Other officers are Charles Horger, treasurer; Richard Vandkerkhove, advocate; Paul Kesteloot, financial secretary; Virgil Oswald, inside guard; Curtis Robuch and Bernard Oswald, outside guards; and Russel Corbin, Edward Janoscrka and Jerry Nocker, trustees.

By JEAN SAILE

No one in the 13-member Negro family was hurt. All were out of the big two-story four-bedroom house when a short in the electrical system apparently started the blaze.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless the fire has taken its toll. Several of the children have been ill. The doctor has diagnosed it as nerves, according to Mrs. King.

Mrs. King's husband, whom she took to the doctor yesterday, has been ordered to stay off his job at GMC Truck and Coach Division for 30 days for the same reason.

Meanwhile, the Kings are staying with the Eli Washington family next door where a three-bedroom one-story ranch home has been expanded to take care of its 17 residents.

★ ★ ★

It may be two months until the Kings get back in their home. Though the house was covered by insurance, the current builders' strike is expected to delay repair.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Mrs. Washington goes about preparing an average dinner — six chickens and 25 pounds of potatoes — for the combined families. Mrs. Washington's husband has set up beds in the basement and made other changes to accommodate the Kings.

SEEK ANOTHER HOME

Overwhelmed with gifts of clothing and furniture, the family would still like to find another home while theirs is being repaired.

★ ★ ★

"We just haven't got room to store any more furniture," said Washington. "The school just called and said they had another load for us, but I haven't got anywhere to put it."

★ ★ ★

Carpenter School Principal James Theunick started a food and clothing drive for the family immediately after the fire. Four of the children attend classes there.

GRATEFUL FOR RESPONSE

"It was Kenneth Kirk who lives across the road who saved our clothes and the boys' clothes," said Mrs. King who works part time as a domestic servant.

Senate Unit Shelves Game Prize Bill

The bill, which would ban supermarket and gas station contests, passed the House, but was tabled by a 3-1 vote in the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday.

★ ★ ★

Trying to keep the measure alive, Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, Thursday proposed a substitute bill which would exempt supermarkets from the bill's provisions.

★ ★ ★

Public Employe Strike—2

Youngstown Set the Stage

(Second of a Series)

By ROGER DOUGHTY
Urban Affairs Editor

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (NEA) — Cops have always had a way of getting involved in strikes. It goes with the job.

In one of the most celebrated strike-sparked struggles in the holocaustic history of the American labor movement — the Chicago Haymarket riot of 1886 — seven policemeh were killed, 66 wounded when somebody exploded a bomb.

★ ★ ★

Eighty-one years and a lot of strikes later, the police of this normally innocuous industrial city exploded a bomb of their own, figuratively speaking, when they put aside their nightsticks and persuaders last year and hit the bricks to dramatically prove to the people that even protection has its price.

With the firemen following suit, this city became the scene of a precedent-setting strike against the public. The reverberations are still being felt.

WAITING PATIENTLY

Before the walkout ended the protectors of the people had satisfied their demands while other policemen, firemen, teachers, social workers and garbage collectors from coast to coast clipped stories with Youngstown datelines out of their papers and thoughtfully waited for their contracts to expire.

"We aren't trying to set any national patterns," says a local policeman, recalling the strike. "We just wanted to get a fair shake. I guess everybody figured that if we could do it, they could do it too."

★ ★ ★

All of us are used to strikes. To paraphrase H. Rap Brown, they're as American as cherry pie. But the kinds of strikes we've learned to know, and in some cases love, were different. They were staged by industrial unions. You could ignore them if you wanted to.

CAN'T BE IGNORED

Add to this the fact that you, the taxpayer, will shell out any salary increases won by the strikers, and it becomes very clear why the public is growing weary of walkouts.

★ ★ ★

Still, many Americans have sympathy for the unionists.

The public has often been a frugal employer. None of its employes have been over paind.

NOBODY KNOWS HOW

Taking the right to strike away from public employes might be a good idea, as far as the public is concerned, but nobody seems to know just how to go about it.

In New York, for example, Albert Shanker, president of the local teachers' union, went to jail for 15 days while his organization was fined $150,000 under the provisions of the state's Taylor Law.

But the city's 50,000 striking teachers stuck to their demands until they won a healthy settlement while Shanker lost weight in jail.

'HE WAS RIGHT'

Many experts feel he was right.

The Taylor Law was invoked in New York's sanitation workeres strike as well with union chief John De Lury going to jail and the union being fined. But the strike went on as 100,000 ton of refuse buried the city.

★ ★ ★

"Under the Taylor Law," says labor mediator Theodore Kheel, in a report to the state legislature, "the notion that joint determi ation or real bargaining can take place is a mirage." This, he says, breeds resentment, adding:

★ ★ ★

strikes," says Dr. John Fischer, president of Columbia University's Teachers College, "when we see that the laws don't work.

★ ★ ★

"But what bothers me the most about this situation is that professionals, be the very nature of their work, are individuals. By approaching thei problems on a collective basis they tend to become a faceless mass where seniority is the only meaningful factor. Is this what we want our teachers to be?"

Head of Denver U. Explains Expulsions

DENVER — Chancellor Maurice B. Mitchell of the University of Denver has explained the expulsion of 39 student demonstrators and has said that any future incidents will be handled in exactly the same way.

In a letter to alumni and friends of the university, the chancellor stated, "There is not now and will not be in the future any alternative to this handling of this kind of situation."

★ ★ ★

The situation was that 39 students and two former students staged a sit-in last Tuesday morning in the registrar's office and refused to leave even after they were informed they would be expelled if they remained. They remained. They were expelled.

They also were arrested and taken away by Denver police. Mitchell made no mention of the arrests in his letter.

'TIME FOR STAND'

He wrote, "The time has come to make the stand, and we are doing it in the very beginning. We want no Columbia University, Berkeley or Howard or Wilburforce situation on this campus, and we simply are not going to have it."

It is time for society to take back the control of its functions, he went on. If the rule of law is abandoned at the university, then its students cannot be expected to obey the law when they move out into society, he added.

★ ★ ★

"There is the assumption on the part of some disaffected students at the university that it is immoral for them to tolerate conditions not of their liking, and that they have some sort of moral obligation to engage in acts of defiance and violence," Mitchell's letter said.

While there is no way to prevent such thinking, Mitchell wrote, there is every reason to hold such persons fully responsible for their actions.

INITIAL REQUEST

It was out of the university's desire to produce law-abiding citizens that the most extreme form of discipline — expulsion — was taken, he went on.

The initial student request was that graduate students be granted voting and office-holding rights in the student government, which are now limited to undergraduates. As the students met more and more resistance in achieving their objective, the issue became one of being allowed to control their own affairs.

★ ★ ★

"The issues on which these protests are based are improper, illegal, and go against the orderly processes by which institutions can and should operate," Mitchell stated in his letter.

Stock Market Pattern Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market fell into a mixed pattern in active trading early today.

The averages showed small losses, but advances among individual stocks topped declines by about 170 issues.

Brokers said a major question was whether reports of Soviet troop movements near the Czech border would continue to upset the market as they did Thursday afternoon.

There also was the usual reluctance of traders to commit themselves before the weekend.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional, but a few ran to a point or so.

Losses of about a point were taken by General Motors, General Dynamics and Eastman Kodak.

War Slows Down as Peace Talkers Meet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. bombers and artillery rained tons of explosives late this afternoon on stubborn Vietcong holdouts along the southern edge of Saigon, but generally the war slowed down as American and North Vietnamese peace negotiators met in Paris.

A battalion commander from the U.S. 9th Infantry Division called airstrikes and a rolling artillery barrage down on the last major group of enemy soldiers still pressing the Vietcong's six-day-old "peace talk" offensive.

The American bombs and shells devastated a narrow row of homes, shanties and shops stretching half a mile along the southern limits of the capital where 9th Division infantrymen had clashed repeatedly with bands of snipers and rocket-firing Vietcong.

The Americans from the 9th Division appeared to be driving the enemy away from South Vietnam's capital on the sixth day of the Vietcong's "peace talk" offensive. Intelligence sources said U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had virtually crushed, at least for the time being, the waves of attacks on Saigon that began last Sunday.

REASON FOR SETBACK

★ ★ ★

Two major developments were reported in the air war against North Vietnam. U.S. Navy pilots said they blew up the biggest oil depot in the southern half of North Vietnam. And the U.S. Command confirmed a report earlier this week from Pentagon sources in Washington that Communist MIG fighters are operating in the North Vietnamese panhandle south of the 20th parallel for the first time in the war.

★ ★ ★

The command said a MIG21 shot down an American F4 Phantom Tuesday about 145 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

South Is Closing Gap

U. S. Incomes Soaring

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Per capita income of Americans during 1967 ranged from $3,865 in Connecticut to $1,895 in Mississiggi.

CUNNIFF

Therein lies some of the explanation for differing views on scores of economic and social matters.

★ ★ ★

There is a danger, however, in assuming the figures are static. The Commerce Department's latest "Survey of Current Business," in which the figures are reported, makes clear that the incomes picture is becoming more uniform.

Broadly speaking, the areas with the lowest per capita income generally are advancing at the fastest rate, except in periods of swift economic acceleration. Then the advance is more similar for all regions.

SOUTH SOARS

In post World War II years, for example, personal income has risen much more rapidly in the South and West than in the North and East. During 1967, in fact, the South's incomes advanced faster than in much of the nation.

Nevertheless, the old industrialized section remains with the highest incomes, New York, Illinois, Delaware, California and New Jersey have per capita incomes above $3,600. But Alaska and Nevada also exceed that figure.

The survey notes that in 1967 personal income rose a bit less than 7 per cent for the entire nation. But there was a relatively large range within that figure.

Above average gains were made in the Far West at 8 per cent, and in the Southwest, Southeast and Mideast at 7¼ per cent.

AREAS LISTED

But in the Great Lakes and Great Plains the gain was only 5½ per cent.

The impact of the federal government, which was spending heavily and beyond its budget during much of 1967, was pronounced.

The study showed, for example, that federal civilian payrolls grew rapidly in the Southwest, Far West and Southeast, and that military payrolls also contributed to the strong advance in the Far West.

GREAT LAKES

The less than average increase in the Great Lakes region, which is divided between heavy industry and agriculture, was due to a slow growth of manufacturing wages and a sharp decline in farm income.

Some indication of why farmers have been complaining is shown by the Plains states figure, where a drop of more than 15 per cent in agricultural income kept that region's advance to the smallest in the nation.

Throughout the nation, in fact, sharp declines in farm income kept the rate of advance from being higher. In New England, which is far less dependent upon farm income than the Great Plains, the decline was 23 per cent. But declines of 32 per cent in Iowa and 28 per cent in Nebraska were among the sharpest anywhere.

New England, $3,436; Mideast, $3,534; Great Lakes, $3,392; Plains, $2,995; Southeast, $2,429; Southwest, $2,674; Rocky Mountain, $2,859; and Far West, $3,588.

Printing Firm in Detroit Hit by Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — A fire caused by electrical trouble damaged a large rotary press at the Post Publishing Co., which prints about 35 weekly newspapers, in Detroit Thursday.

A spokesman said the production of the newspapers was transferred to neighboring plants, causing a short delay.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Between 50 and 60 rolls of newsprint were damaged by water from firemen's hoses, he said. No estimate of amount of damages was available. However, one source said the press was valued at $250,000.

★ ★ ★

Shulz said that with the exception of the one press that was damaged, that operations are scheduled to reopen at Post today.

Czechs Ignore Russian Move

Holiday Continues, No Invasion Feared

WARSAW (AP) — Western quarters discounted today the possibility that reports of heavy Soviet troop concentrations moving through Poland indicated an invasion of Czechoslovakia or moves to put pressure on the new liberal regime in Prague. The Czechoslovak capital was calm and taking a holiday.

Western military attaches said Thursday Soviet forces in Poland had advanced as close as 18 miles to the frontier with Czechoslovakia shortly after an emergency summit conference in Moscow of hard-line East European Communist leaders.

Prague radio made no mention of the report, but many Czechs were aware of the development through foreign broadcasts. They carried on with a three-day holiday marking the nation's liberation from Nazi Germany by the Red army 23 years ago.

There was even a message of greetings from Czechoslovakia's Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek to Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. It said: "Friendship and alliance with the U.S.S.R. have become a permanent factor for our people which is now being again strongly confirmed in the current process of revival in our country."

2 CWA Locals Holding Out

DETROIT (AP) — Two locals of the Communications Workers of America remained off the job at Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today in defiance of an order from international union officials.

The state's largest unit, Local 4000 in Detroit with 5,300 members, and Local 4016 in the Royal Oak area with 2,500 members both voted overwhelmingly Thursday to remain on strike pending the results of a new ratification vote.

★ ★ ★

Telephone workers were reported back on the job Thursday everywhere else in Michigan.

CWA international representatives first ordered all telephone workers in the state back on the job last Monday after the CWA ratified a new three-year contract nationally with the Bell System. The agreement was rejected by Michigan union members.

A new ratification vote was ordered for the state after CWA executives said only half the employes had a chance to vote on the new contract because of the short balloting period. The ratification period was extended until May 19. All union members were then ordered back to work.

★ ★ ★

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — The government department where I work replaced older equipment with data recorders made by Mohawk Data Sciences. I invested in this company even though my capital is limited and I don't know much about stocks. Should I hold, buy more or switch? — E. L.

A — In your circumstances I advise retaining Mohawk for the present but not adding to it. Your company is favored by its participation in the rapidly expanding computer industry for which it supplies input devices used in data processing. Recent merger with Anelex added a high-quality line of printers and other electronic equipment. Marketing base should be further strengthened by an exclusive distribution agreement with National Cash Register.

Competition, though, is keen among the suppliers to the computer industry and their stocks tend to be volatile — especially in higher-priced issues. Losses reported by Mohawk in 1965 and 1966 grew out of the Anelex acquisition, but combined operations were in the black for 1967 and first-half fiscal 1968 earnings are excellent.

You have ridden out the recent decline and a more favorable market atmosphere should benefit your shares. However, believing that your future purchases should have a more conservative tone, I recommend Warner - Lambert, a broadly diversified pharmaceutical and consumer - oriented stock.

A — First, may I say that lower-priced stocks are not necessarily bargain buys. The food chains have suffered from a cost-price squeeze, although this shows signs of easing, Gerber from a declining birth rate and the utilities from ascending money rates. I'd rather advise paying more for an actively growing situation like Rayette-Faberge, maker of cosmetics and hair-care products, which should again this year set net sales and earnings records.

Ratifying Ends 105-Day Strike

A 3½-month strike ended yesterday at Vickers Division of the Sperry Rand Corp. with the ratification of a three-year contract by members of Local 945 of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO.

The agreement ended 105 days of work stoppage by the 313 production and maintenance hourly employes represented by the union at Vickers' administrative and engineering center, Crooks and East Maple, Troy, and the company's Ferndale facility, 1365 Jarvis.

MAIN HEADQUARTERS

The Troy office is the main headquarters for the firm which manufacturers hydraulic products in plants in several locations throughout the country.

County Gets Traffic Data Center Grant

Oakland County has been awarded a grant from the National Highway Safety Bureau of more than $36,000 for the establishment of a countywide traffic data center, it was announced today by the Michigan office of Highway Planning.

The development and administration of the program — which will serve as a national demonstration model — will be under the auspices of the Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County (TIA).

The data center will be installed in the TIA office at 3580 W. Maple, Birmingham.

Bruce B. Madsen, TIA managing director, said the center will produce monthly accident summaries in a matter of seconds, rather than the hundreds of hours now required.

★ ★ ★

He said the program's goal is the accumulation of traffic accident data for analysis and eventual accident prevention measures.

FACTS ABOUT COLOR TV ANTENNAS
Experience has proven that the following facts apply to most locations in this area regarding Color TV Antenna installation.
- Modern, broad-band antennas are definitely superior for color reception.
- Lead-in wire should be high quality, low-loss type
- One continuous lead-in to set is best without couplers or series outlets.
- Good antennas are more directional — they tend to reject stations from other directions.
- Effects of weather on antennas and lead-in wire can cause severe loss of performance.
