'U.S. Doctors Passed Thalidomide to 15,904'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze said today that surveys have shown 15,904 patients received thalidomide pills from U.S. doctors and the investigation has not been completed.

Celebrezze told reporters at the first news conference he has held since assuming office that about one in five or 3,272 of the American patients who received the drug were women of child-bearing age.

"So far as we have been able to determine at this time there has been no effect on offspring," Celebrezze said. He added it has been learned that some patients who got the drug from their doctors passed the pills on to other people and checking of these cases has not been completed.

Celebrezze's figures covered the distribution of the drug by the American manufacturer to U.S. doctors for experimental use while efforts were being made to obtain clearance from the Food and Drug Administration for its release.

His report did not take account of the case of a New York woman who gave birth to a malformed baby after receiving the drug from a Park Avenue psychiatrist who obtained supplies from Germany before it was associated with cases of deformity in Europe. The child lived only 41 minutes.

There have also been a few cases of deformity of children born in this country to women who had taken the pills overseas or otherwise obtained them from abroad.

Questioning brought out from Celebrezze that the Food and Drug Administration thus far has information that 207 of the women who received the pills in the experimental distribution were known to be pregnant at the time. Nearly all these women have delivered babies, it was stated, and the investigation showed that many took the suspect drug only in the later months of pregnancy. The critical time for effect on unborn infants is the first three months.

70 Safe in Landing Accident

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Seventy persons aboard an American Airlines plane escaped serious injury in a landing crash blamed on steady winds which blew the plane off a runway Monday during a thunderstorm.

The right wing of the four-engine Electra "propeller" plane ripped off and caught fire. The fuselage settled about 50 feet away.

Alan Atkin, airport manager, said separation of the wing and fuselage probably saved the lives of the 65 passengers and five crewmen.

"If the wing had not torn off, the plane would have burned with the passengers aboard," Atkin said.

Two persons, a mother and her teenage daughter, were injured, neither seriously.

He said the plane took off from Dallas, Tex., to New York.

STEWARDS HELPED Passengers, including Reps. Cliff Davis, D-Tenn., and Dale Alford, D-Ark., hailed stewards Nancy Root, 23, of Dallas, Texas, as a heroine.

Miss Root hurried her 100-pound body against an emergency door repeatedly until it opened allowing passengers to escape.

A thunderstorm was in progress and wind gusts up to 40 miles per hour swept the airport as the plane approached Knoxville.

"We were taking a terrific beating as we approached the field," Alford said. "I felt we were going to crash. I don't know how the pilot did as well as he did."

Capt. Vic James of Ft. Worth, Tex., the pilot, said a wind blew the airliner off to the right of the runway, causing the right landing gear to collapse.

He said the plane then skidded in an arc and the right wing ripped off and caught fire. Airport firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

Telephone Call to Marilyn Adds Puzzle to Tragedy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A mysterious phone call to the night shortly before Marilyn Monroe was found dead added still further conjecture today to the tragedy that befell the blonde movie queen.

There already remained the question of whether she died intentionally or accidentally.

"I don't remember what time the call came in," said the actress' housekeeper.

Mrs. Eunice Murray Monday. "And I don't know who it was from."

"But knowing Marilyn as I do, I think that if this call woke her up, she might have taken some more sleeping pills."

Coroner Theodore J. Curphey said the death Saturday of the actress was caused by a massive overdose of barbiturates.

Mrs. Murray added that the and property in it was taken to the police department property clerk's office.

J. Edgar Hoover Reveals Crime Growth in U. S.

In his current message to all law enforcing officials, J. Edgar Hoover summarizes the startling mathematical advance crime has made in this country.

The FBI Director says: "The massive avalanche of crime sweeping our nation today is a shocking indictment of the American people. Some 1,826,659 serious crimes were committed in 1961, topping all the time high record of the previous year by 3 per cent. During the past 5 years, crime has outstripped the growth of population 50 per cent."

"Youthful criminality continued to rise. Arrests of people under 18 were up 4 per cent above 1960. This age group represented 43 per cent of all arrests for the more serious offenses of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, and automobile theft."

"The role of the law enforcement officer has become increasingly hazardous. Of the 71 officers who met violent deaths, 37 were killed by vicious criminals. Twelve killers were 21 years of age or younger."

"This problem boils down to the simple fact that in our land today the average man, woman and child is in greater danger than ever before of becoming a victim of this criminal onslaught. It means that day or night, at work or play, the individual's basic rights of personal security and pursuit of happiness are steadily diminishing."

"There is no more remedial answer, the causes and factors of crime are far too varied and complex. However, we shall see no abatement in widespread lawlessness as long as there is wholesale disregard for law and order in our nation. Indulgence and materialistic selfishness are eroding the tried and true American traditions of honesty, integrity and fair play."

"Progress can be effected only in proportion to awakened and well-informed public opinion. Statistics conscientiously collected by law enforcement officials and compiled by the FBI give an up-to-date account—and the nation's news media have performed superior public service in reporting the

HILAND M. THATCHER

Hiland Thatcher Dies in Hospital

County Road Official Was Son of Pioneer Oakland Family

Oakland County Road Commissioner Hiland M. Thatcher, 71, died suddenly yesterday at University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

He had been admitted the day before for medical treatment of a blood disorder, a hospital spokesman said. An autopsy has been ordered, according to the spokesman.

Mr. Thatcher was alone in his hospital room when death ended a life of long public service in the county shortly before noon.

The son of a pioneer family in the area, Mr. Thatcher was a life-long resident of Oakland County.

SUPERVISOR He served as a West Bloomfield Township supervisor for nearly a dozen years before his appointment as County Road Commissioner in 1960.

Under Mr. Thatcher's direction the road commission this year launched the county's largest road reconstruction program in the past 30 years.

He was piloting an $11 million program in conjunction with the State Highway Department's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Expect 85,000 in County to Vote

Fifteen competitors in the game of politics will be hunched today by Oakland County voters.

Ten others will stay on the field and get starting assignments in the main event next November.

The final lineup is being decided today as an estimated 85,000 voters march to the polls under sunny skies throughout the county. Voting started at 7 a.m. and will last until 8 p.m.

On the Democratic team, the county positions up for grabs are U.S. congressman, drain commissioner, sheriff, 4th District representative and 6th District representative.

Republicans, meanwhile, are picking nominees for the jobs of state senator, drain commissioner and representatives of the 1st, 1th and 5th districts.

Eighteen other county candidates are listed on the ballot but they are unopposed.

In addition, county Republicans will have a voice in the statewide selection of a nominee for lieutenant governor, a post which three GOP candidates are seeking.

Democratic and Republican candidates for two other statewide offices on the ballot—governor and congressman at large—are unopposed for nomination.

In the most hotly contested county race, con-con delegate Richard D. Kuhn and Troy Mayor Robert J. Huber are challenging incumbent Farver E. Roberts for the GOP nomination as state senator.

Other Republican contests and the candidates are: drain commissioner, incumbent Daniel W. Barry and Art Becker; 1st district representative, incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson and Michael Carl; 4th district state representative, incumbent Raymond L. Baker and Terrence E. Nagle; and 5th district state representative, incumbent William Hayward and Donald W. Sargent.

On the Democratic portion of the ballot, offices and candidates are: U.S. congressman, George E. Lemox and George J. Fulkerson; drain commissioner, Daniel T. Berry and Roy J. Russell; sheriff, William A. Smith, Kenneth G. Hirt and Homer Hight; 4th district state representative, Maxwell M. Gorman, Albert A. Kramer and Archie H. Bailey; and 6th district state representative, Bill S. Huffman, Lee Walker, incumbent John C. Hitchcock and Thomas Kalezich.

More than 30 junior leaders will be interviewed Thursday for selection of the outstanding 4-H'er in junior leadership.

Events scheduled for later in the week include a dress review, a leader dog demonstration and a two dog obedience contest.

Expect 2,000 Entries 1,500 Busy at 4-H Fair

Bright skies greeted the opening of the 1962 Oakland County 4-H Fair this morning as some 1,500 boys and girls from throughout the county began to stream into the 4-H fairgrounds to compete for honors with exhibits of their year's projects.

Some 2,000 exhibits are expected to adorn the fairgrounds on N. Perry Street near Walton Boulevard for five days of contests, shows, parades and countless other activities.

Highlights of the fair's first day will be the crowning of the 4-H king and queen, Lyle McLachlan and Ricki Ann Hoxie, presentation of a Holstein heifer to a 4-H'er for outstanding club work, and a reekies contest.

These events will be part of today's evening program scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. They will be preceded by a livestock parade and followed by a cavalcade of horses.

Featured this afternoon will be judging of flower and vegetable gardening exhibits.

Big event tomorrow will be the annual 4-H parade, due to hit downtown Pontiac about 2 p.m. where it will pass before a reviewing stand in front of the old courthouse.

The Holstein calf awarded for outstanding club work will be presented by the Winifred Haas Foundation perpetuating the memory of the wife of the late Joe Haas, Pontiac Press Man About Town for many years.

Presentation of the calf will be made by Lee Winborn, Press Area News Editor.

Howard V. Heldenbrand, who became the Press' Man About Town after Joe Haas' death recently, will judge the traditional freestyle contest.

Tomorrow night's program will feature the tractor operator's contest finals and a pie eating contest.

Judging of home economics exhibits, general exhibits and poultry and rabbits will take place during the day tomorrow, which also will be children's day.

Other exhibits at the fair will include projects in photography, knitting, contortistry (study of insects), sheep, dairy animals and horses.

Events scheduled for later in the week include a dress review, a leader dog demonstration and a two dog obedience contest.

Little Opposition Gets Blame for Lighter Turnout

Only Spots With Local Issues Drawing Longer Voting Lines

DETROIT (AP)—Voter turnout ranged from "embarrassingly light" to above average — apparently according to local issues—in today's Michigan primary election.

Saginaw reported only about half as many voters were casting ballots as in the 1960 primary but said there were few local ballot questions.

Monroe reported a rate about the same as in 1960—about 25 per cent turnout.

The lack of opposition in most statewide contests was blamed for light turnouts where local issues failed to spur voter interest.

State election officials estimate only 25 per cent of Michigan's 3,710,798 registered voters will go to the polls.

Forecasts of thundershowers later today are expected to discourage voters.

Grand Total 521,933, 181,298 More Than in 1961 Year

Automotive production in Pontiac will begin grinding to a halt tomorrow when General Motors Fisher Body Division plants start shutting down 1962 model lines.

Pontiac Motor Division will complete production of its '62 models Friday with a final total of 521,933 cars—181,298 more than were assembled during the 1961 model year.

E. M. Estes, GM vice president and Pontiac general manager, said the total figures 374,740 Pontiacs and 141,193 Tempos.

GM Truck & Coach Division is scheduled to start shutting down for changeover to '63 models Aug. 17.

Approximately 18,500 GM production employees in the city will be laid off tomorrow as the changeover to '63 models is completed in the plants of all three divisions.

Both Pontiac and Truck & Coach divisions are scheduled to resume assembly operations Sept. 4. Fisher Body is expected to return to production a couple days before.

Economic Asks U.S. Tax Cut

U. of M. Prof Suggests Slashes Up to $10 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Income tax cuts up to $10 billion a year were recommended to a Senate-House committee today by a Michigan economist.

On this note, and with some criticism from its own ranks of what was termed "the high interest rate, economy slow-down policies" of the Federal Reserve, the joint economic committee opened hearings on the national economy in other tax developments.

1. The House Ways and Means Committee, hearing the end of its studies in the same field, heard Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and Budget Director David Bell in a closed session. Presumably they outlined the administration view. President Kennedy advocates a tax cut next year and has said he will decide soon whether to recommend one earlier.

2. Sen. Jacob J. Javits, R-N.Y.,

Algerian Rule Now in Hands of Ben Bella and His Faction

ALGER (AP) — The Algerian provisional government of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda surrendered its powers today to the political bureau headed by Vice Premier Ahmed Ben Bella. A communique issued by Ben Khedda's office said "the powers held hitherto by the provisional government of the Algerian Republic are henceforth exercised by the political bureau."

The communique said the provisional government continues to exist as the "institution of the revolution" until a meeting of the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA) — the self-appointed nationalist parliament that directed the Algerian rebellion — scheduled for early September.

The Ben Khedda regime thus assumes formally the almost entirely figural role it has had since Algeria became independent. Its assumption of actual control over the administration of the country was stymied by the bitter struggle for power between Ben Bella and his opponents.

Did Reds Start Tests Before Sunday Shot?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says the Soviet Union may have opened its new nuclear test series with some blasts in Siberia before firing Sunday's high-altitude shot of about 30 megatons.

The AEC said there are "indications" that the Sunday test was the first in the new round of Russian tests. Indications are that tests in the low kiloton range were fired at the Soviet nuclear site in Siberia, the commission said. A kiloton is the explosive force of 1,000 tons of TNT.

The commission said the Soviet blast detected Sunday was "in the order of" 30 megatons, the power of 30 million tons of TNT. The Russians' biggest nuclear test is believed to have been a shot of about 30 megatons detonated last fall.

Waterford Board Votes Action on Three Projects

Following public hearings on three separate proposed projects last night, the Waterford Township Board voted that action proceed.

The hearings were held in conjunction with the regular weekly board meeting.

Two of the hearings were on special assessment rolls for blacktopping, one for Preston Street and the other for Kempf Street.

A request by residents in Lotus Lake subdivision seeking township aid in alleviating so-called health and safety hazards caused by a swampy area behind the subdivision was discussed at length. The board voted to conduct a study of the alleged conditions.

Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson favored the study but emphasized the fact that the township was not responsible to step in whenever a developer established a subdivision in a low area, and remedy the situation.

Referring to what residents called a swamp and what the board members tagged a "low area," he said, "It was there when the residents purchased their property."

Johnson pointed out that several similar areas existed in the township and added that he would be hesitant to establish any precedent in township action on such matters.

Patrolman Uses Elaborate Lasso to Catch Monkey

Bloomfield Township police officer Richard Reuther improvised an elaborate lasso from a length of rope and a piece of rope pretzel to capture an escaped pet monkey.

The squirrel monkey, owned by Kevin Connel, of 3357 Van Kenyon Court, of Bloomfield Township, escaped Sunday night while the cage was being cleaned. Police were summoned for help when the animal was spotted Monday morning in the rafters of the garage.

Quickly realizing that the fleet-footed monkey was impossible to catch by hand, Reuther slipped the rope through the side post pipe and made a loop at the end.

He then cornered the animal, slipped the noose around its waist and with Kevin's help caught the escapee.

The monkey, which nipped the knuckles of neighborhood girl, Grace Rowley, 9, when she tried to catch it Sunday night, will be observed for rabies over the next ten days. Grace received a tetanus shot as a precaution for the scratch.

Deadlock Keeps Soblen in Jail

Israeli Airline Mum on British Orders to Carry Spy to U.S.

LONDON (AP) — A deadlock over transport kept Robert A. Soblen in Brixton Prison today.

The state-owned Israeli El Al Airlines — silent about British orders to ferry the fugitive spy on to the United States — sent off its London-New York plane without him.

The next El Al airliner for New York leaves London Friday. That is 36 hours after expiration of Britain's deadline for getting rid of the espionage agent who faces a life term for smuggling U.S. secrets to the Soviet Union.

NEW DELHI (AP) — The British Home Office last week gave the airline until mid-July to arrange for Soblen's trip from Tel Aviv to New York, a trip that he interrupted by slashing a wrist and his abdomen in a bid for asylum in Britain.

El Al responded that the airline would not take Soblen to New York. If forced to accept him as a passenger, the Israeli said he would fly him back to Israel and he might there seek a haven elsewhere.

The Home Office said today the line has so far failed to disclose its arrangements, so Soblen will remain in prison tonight. El Al declined comment.

The British Press Association said this morning Soblen might be shipped out aboard the Israeli flight to New York this afternoon. But he was not among the passengers when the plane took off at 2:45 p.m.

The Day in Birmingham City Backs Amendment to Dance Hall Ordinance

Provisions of the New Ordinance Exempts the Birmingham School System, Parochial Schools, the YMCA, the Community House and Other Charitable Organizations

BIRMINGHAM — Tentative approval of a revised dance hall ordinance was given by the City Commission last night.

The amended ordinance, which provides for the licensing and regulation of public dance halls and dancing schools, will be included in the codification of city laws and will become effective when the codification is adopted.

Until such time that the codification is approved the city will operate under the old ordinance.

The new dance hall ordinance requires, among other things, inspection of public dance halls and dancing schools and requirements for licenses, fees and insurance.

It also provides for application approval by the city manager rather than the commission as was the case in the old ordinance.

The provisions of the new ordinance exempts the Birmingham school system, parochial schools, the YMCA, the Community House and other charitable organizations which may be exempted by resolution of the commission.

The commission, in another action, adopted a resolution giving the State Highway Department authority to turn left turns from two streets from Hunter Boulevard.

The Highway Department had recommended the ban on Bowers and Haynes streets in an attempt to reduce the number of accidents at the intersection. In the last 15 months, there were 22 accidents in the last 15 months.

When the ban is imposed, drivers waiting to turn left will be channeled north on Elm to Bowers and then west on Bowers across Hunter at the traffic signal.

Primarily the left turn on Bowers will be prohibited so that cars will not crowd the center island cutoff when other cars are moving and will become ineffective when the prohibition will be installed on Hunter at Webster. Other signs will direct them into Elm and then Bowers.

Mrs. Chester B. McCormick Service and burial for Mrs. Chester B. (Mildred G.) McCormick, 73, of 491 Hanna Ave., will be Friday afternoon at Arlington National Cemetery, Va.

Mrs. McCormick died Sunday at a hospital, following a short illness.

She was a nurse in World War I and her late husband was a colonel in the U.S. Army.

She was a member of the Birmingham Musicale and the Bowers and Haynes. Surviving are two brothers.

Her body will be at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home until 2 p.m. Thursday.

Phone Call to Marilyn Adds Puzzle to Death

Proctor's secretary, took an inventory of the contents of the apartment. Among 5 items listed were four fur coats, seven seals, several fur hats and articles of jewelry. The property will be assessed by the coroner's action on the will. Contents of the will have not been made public.

Meanwhile, arrangements were being completed for quiet funeral services and entombment Wednesday. Friends were hoping the simple rites would not attract throngs of the curious.

Details were not set, but mortuary spokesmen said only 15 persons were invited to the service for the 36-year-old Miss Monroe.

"There will be just persons close to Marilyn, no movie stars or anything like that," said a spokesman.

The actress will be interred in a mausoleum crypt near the grave of a woman believed to have befriended her early in life.

MADE ARRANGEMENTS

The headstone identifies Grace as the actress who died in 1933 and whose burial arrangements were reportedly made by Marilyn herself.

The woman is believed to be the former Grace McKee, who took Marilyn in as a child. Miss Monroe's mother was at a mental institution.

Invited to the funeral at 1 p.m. in the tiny chapel of Westwood Village Mortuary were former baseball star Joe DiMaggio, second of Miss Monroe's three husbands; drama teachers Lee and Paula Strasberg of New York; Miss Monroe's half-sister, Mrs. Bernice Miracle; the star's publicity agent, Miss Patricia Newcomb, and a few others.

Dr. Curphy said a toxicologist had examined the body and found twice the amount of barbiturates considered a lethal dose.

No alcohol was found in the blood.

Experts from the Los Angeles medical prevention center are seeking information on the last weeks of the star's life. They will report their findings to the coroner to help him decide whether the death was intentional or accidental.

15,904 Given Drug by Doctors in U.S.

With 1,097 doctors out of a total of 12,498 reported as investigators or users of thalidomide.

He explained that the number of doctors having the drug exceeds the number of investigators as previously reported by the manufacturers because a few investigators gave some of the drug to their patients or to other physicians.

There were 74 doctors who had some of the drug on hand when the survey was made, with the supply being 1,097 tablets. The date to date have been either destroyed, collected as official samples, or impounded by local authorities.

Celebrezze opened the news conference with a statement that he had hoped to have in final form today new rules and regulations tightening up requirements for approval of new drugs for general use. He said, however, that they will not be ready until the latter part of this week or the early part of next week.

General Increase Is Expected in Price of Milk

DETROIT (AP) — A general increase in milk prices in the Detroit area and throughout northern Michigan is expected after two dairies increased the price of milk by one cent a quart yesterday.

The hike was described as new but not as low as milk set by the United Dairies Inc. and the Borden Co. announced the one-cent increase.

Milk in most super markets ran 77 cents per quart carton yesterday. Home deliveries of milk was 28 cents per quart bottle.

The dairies said the increase reflected an Aug. 1 increase, put into effect by the Michigan Milk Producers Association and other cooperatives representing dairy farmers.

FDR Daughter to Aid State U.N. Day Event

A Birmingham woman, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Halted, daughter of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was appointed co-chairman for Michigan's observance of United Nations Day, Oct. 24 by Gov. Swanson today.

Mrs. Halted, 3766 Bingham Lane, director of Community Relations for Metropolitan Hospital in Detroit, will serve as co-chairman with Eugene H. Konarski, typewriter director of Polish producers for Detroit radio station WJLB.

Club Managers Refuse Offer to Arbitrate

DETROIT (UPI) — Managers for 30 private clubs today rebuffed a proposal for arbitration from the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union and instead told the union to submit the strike issue to a secret vote of its members.

The union, which has already struck four of the clubs and has said it will methodically strike all 30 in higher wages, said it would not submit a secret vote was "facetious."

Frank E. Kenney, chairman of the Detroit Club Managers Assn., said, "The committee does not believe that arbitration would be helpful in settling the differences between the parties."

Told State Police Not Called

LANSING (AP) — Protests claiming lack of police protection were carried to Lansing yesterday by a group of about 60 nonstickers at the truck Evans Products Co. to plant at West Branch, Okemaw County.

The protesters, the majority of them women, took their plea to Gov. Swanson's office, the attorney general's office and state police headquarters.

They presented a petition bearing 47 signatures demanding better police protection at the plant.

FEARS RIOTING

"Six or seven people have been put in the hospital already," said Mrs. Dorothy B. Beaver of Gladwin, leader of the group. "There could be a mass riot before this is over."

Unionists, she said, harried the plant with cars and their own city was wrecked.

Another one of the demonstrators, Mrs. Mary Selts of Gladwin, said she was hospitalized with bruises and pulled muscles as she circled the plant in a plane from injuries inflicted by unionists.

Another member of the delegation, among the minority of males, showed a black eye he said he received in a picket line scuffle.

"The state police are not as strong as police work within municipalities unless they use enforcement agencies are unable to preserve law and order," a state attorney issued from the governor's office yesterday.

"I check by the executive of the police following presentation of the petition claiming that there are no disturbances at the plant and that local officers are maintaining law and order," the state attorney continued. "The state police are in constant touch with developments at the scene."

Mrs. Beaver said she would return to picket the Capital if they received no satisfaction to their request for additional police protection.

The group drove to Lansing by car.

Railroad Battle 'Handed' to JFK

Judge Indicates That He Will Reject Union Plea for Injunction

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal judge shifted responsibility for heading off a crippling national rail strike closer to the front steps of the White House today.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry indicated strongly he will turn down an appeal for an injunction made by five brotherhoods representing more than 200,000 on-train railroad employees.

The unions pleaded with Perry to forbid the nation's railroads from going ahead with plans to operate "unaffiliated" work rules changes into effect Aug. 16.

The unions, charging that the new rules would mean loss of 41,000 strikers' jobs, have threatened to strike if they become effective.

The squirrel monkey, owned by Kevin Connel, of 3357 Van Kenyon Court, of Bloomfield Township, escaped Sunday night while the cage was being cleaned. Police were summoned for help when the animal was spotted Monday morning in the rafters of the garage.

Quickly realizing that the fleet-footed monkey was impossible to catch by hand, Reuther slipped the rope through the side post pipe and made a loop at the end.

He then cornered the animal, slipped the noose around its waist and with Kevin's help caught the escapee.

The monkey, which nipped the knuckles of neighborhood girl, Grace Rowley, 9, when she tried to catch it Sunday night, will be observed for rabies over the next ten days. Grace received a tetanus shot as a precaution for the scratch.

Patrolman Uses Elaborate Lasso to Catch Monkey

Bloomfield Township police officer Richard Reuther improvised an elaborate lasso from a length of rope and a piece of rope pretzel to capture an escaped pet monkey.

BLAZING PLEASURE BOAT — Rowboats and rubber dinghies were pressed into service to rescue passengers from pleasure boat Kaiserplatz which burst into flames after engine room explosion during cruise on Lake Constance near Lindau, West Germany, last week. All the passengers and the boat's crew escaped serious injury. Some of them were waded ashore from the boat, which was completely burned out after having come in to shallower water.

Detroit Man Charged in Hit-and-Run Death

DETROIT (AP) — A top-down convertible struck and killed a woman pedestrian. The impact catapulted her body into the rear seat.

Gary Paves, 21, was charged Monday with leaving the scene of an accident.

Police quoted the youth as saying everything went black after the accident Sunday night and he could not recall that he kept on driving for 30 minutes.

The pedestrian was Mrs. Betty Sue Marshall, 38, mother of four children.

Tax Court Nominations Confirmed by Senate

3 FLOORS OF BIRTHDAY BARGAINS

Twenty Years Ago Today: Guadalcanal

(Editor's Note—During the month of August two decades ago Americans began hearing of a tiny island with a hard-to-pronounce name. After almost a year of successive defeats, the Allies had taken the first step on the long, bloody road to victory in the Pacific. The time was Aug. 7, 1942—20 years ago today. The place was Guadalcanal.)

Through the pre-dawn mist, the highest masts rose mysteriously, men and dark against the moonlit sky as the invasion fleet stole silently across its western cape. The only sounds were the soft splash of water against the moving prows of the ships and the murmur of muted conversation among men of the 1st Marine Division holed below decks in their transports.

As the first streaks of dawn creaked over the eastern sky, the big guns of the cruiser Quincy crashed the overture and shells burst among the palms and jungle and Japanese camps on the island.

Moments later, green-clad Marines went over the side, scrambled down swaying cargo nets toward the landing beach and moved off toward the beach.

They knew not what awaited them, for they were the first. The Navy communiqué, issued later the same day, Aug. 7, 1942, was terse and uninformative, yet it electrified a nation that was sinking into despair under the weight of defeat. It said:

"United States naval and other forces have attacked enemy installations in the southeastern part of the Solomon Islands in force and the attacks are continuing." After eight months of gallant stands and galling retreats at Ba-tan, Wake Island, Singapore and the East Indies, America and her allies were at last starting the long road back.

It was some time before the precise point of attack emerged from the miasma of rumor and secrecy. Then it became a household word: Guadalcanal.

ABOVE AUSTRALIA
On maps of the Pacific the Solomon Islands, a 900-mile long chain, sprawled atop the continent of Australia like an overhanging roof pointing directly at the allied lifeline between America and Australia.

The groping fingers of the Japanese empire, seemingly invincible, reached Guadalcanal at the tip of the Solomon chain in June 1942 and coiled to spring south on the Australian flank.

Clearly, the time to stop them was the summer of 1942. And clearly the place to do it was Guadalcanal.

Geographers knew Guadalcanal as a 2,500-square-mile island of mountains, jungle, and sandy beaches, peopled by dark, fuzzy-haired Melanesians, ruled by the British and noted for its coconut plantations.

Military strategists, poring over their meager maps, saw it was one of the few islands in the rugged Solomons with sufficient level area for the construction of a major airstrip.

But the Marines, in the six months that followed, came to know it best.

IT WAS ROTTEN
It was a beautiful green South Sea isle—and it was rotten. It stank with the accumulated decay of centuries. Its jungles continually dripped of moisture and its swamps crawled with germs of strange tropical diseases.

The landings were unexpectedly easy. The Marines overran the airstrip, renamed Henderson Field, and the Japanese camps, where breakfasts were found on the tables. The ease of the landings made the Marines apprehensive. Maybe it was a trap. But it wasn't. It was complete surprise.

The battle for Guadalcanal did not really begin for several days when the Japanese returned in force. And it didn't end until the last contingent of Japanese were driven from the island on Feb. 9, 1943.

Marine casualties were 1,202 killed, 3,070 wounded. The Army lost 550 killed, 1,289 wounded. Some 25,500 Japanese died on the island.

Guadalcanal was the proving ground for the Marines in World War II.

There they learned the awful loneliness of the battlefield when the Navy was linked in the battle of Savo Island and for days they were left unprotected from enemy attacks by air and sea.

They learned from the enemy the tricks of jungle warfare. They learned too that the Japanese were not invincible by the Japanese and hurling back the wild, noisy charges of the crack Ichihi detachment and the Sendai Division, the small brown men in baggy uniforms who rarely surrendered but fought to the death.

The lessons of Guadalcanal were carried on to other places with unfamiliar names on the bloody road to Tokyo—Tarawa, Peleliu, Iwo Jima. But always, Guadalcanal comes first.

12 Dutch Soldiers Die in Indonesia Fighting

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Pia News Agency said yesterday 12 Dutch soldiers were killed in a clash with Indonesian guerrilla forces last week near Pak Pak on West New Guinea's southwest coast.

The agency, quoting reports from Indonesia's staging center at Makassar, said two local guides led the Dutch into a trap.

Ex-GI Deported From Philippines Watched by Police in Zurich

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—American millionaire Harry Stonelli, deported last week from the Philippines, was in Zurich today, reportedly under police surveillance.

The ex-GI from Chicago who remained in the Philippines after World War II to build a fortune arrived at Zurich Airport last night from Sydney, Australia. He refused to discuss his plans or his expulsion from the Philippines. He registered at a small hotel.

President Diosdado Macapagal deported Stonelli and an American associate, Robert Brooks, after a deportation board found them guilty of bribing public officials, blackmail, tax evasion and numerous other charges.

A group of plainclothesmen were at the airport when Stonelli arrived, and police sources said he would be watched during his stay. However, police said they had no warrants for Stonelli, who owns Swiss real estate.

Police informants said Stonelli, the international police organization, had asked Swiss authorities on two occasions this year for information about Stonelli and his associates. Police declined to say why Stonelli was interested.

Most foreigners who enter Switzerland as tourists are allowed to stay at least three months. Provincial police can authorize temporary or permanent residence.

Gap Will Grow in Next 2 Weeks Auto Output Is Up 1.12 Million Units

By BEN PHILEGAR
Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Auto production this year has moved 1.12 million units ahead of the 1961 pace and the gap will widen in the next two weeks.

For most of the year the bulge has been less than one million. But most manufacturers shut off 1961 model production sooner than they have done with 1962 models.

For example, last week the industry produced 114,473 cars while in the comparable week of 1961 the total was only 32,562.

Ford is still trying to make up production lost by a stamping plant strike in June. The company's July output was the highest in its history and it worked several plants overtime Saturday. Production last week ran 13,000 units ahead of the similar week a year ago.

Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker have finished 1962 model and General Motors is beginning to close down. Cadillac and the standard Buick ended last week. But General Motors still is producing far above its rate of a year ago. Last week it built 73,264 cars whereas in the comparable week a year ago it built only 2,770.

Everything appears set for a fast start on 1963 production by all of the companies. Some concern was expressed last week when the Aluminum Company of America and Reynolds Aluminum were struck.

But the walkout was quickly settled. Studebaker said a strike last month at the Budd Co. had delayed its tooling and forced a one week delay in final assembly. The Budd strike also has been settled.

Several Chrysler plants expected to begin final assembly of 1963 models the week of Aug. 13. Other lines will resume at staggered intervals between then and Sept. 4.

3 Bidders Await Word on Estes

Texas Financial Groups To Learn if Any OK to Receive Assets

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Three Texas financial groups may have to wait until Friday to learn which of their bids if any, on assets of bankrupt Billie Sol Estes is accepted.

A spokesman for the committee representing creditors of the Peccos, Texas, promoter said after meeting the bidders Monday that several days will be required to determine whether any bid is acceptable.

The spokesman, Bob Greenberg of Chicago, declined to disclose amounts of the bids. He said the committee would not consider any bid of less than $6.5 million.

One of the bidders is Morris D. Jaffee of San Antonio, Tex., president of Fed Mart, Inc., a discount house. Jaffee said he was making an offer for the Estes assets as an individual.

Irvin E. Kaplan, president of United Foods Inc., heads a group of Houston, Tex., investors submitting another bid.

The third came from E. J. Gray of Baytown, Tex., and his son, Eddie, who have real estate and oil interests.

Adventure in Paradise?

Sergeant Joe Kerzon is not in the tropics for the scenery. He's there with lots of other GI's... waiting... watching... standing guard... fighting loneliness... There is no USO on Joe's island—as there is in 32 other military danger zones. With 2,750,000 GI's, USO hasn't been able to keep pace. For lack of funds, thousands of watch-weary, tau-taued GI's are being deprived of the USO's spiritual help... its vital measure of home. Well, you can do something about that by giving to your United Fund or Community Chest, from which the USO gets a well-deserved share. Especially well-deserved because USO tries to reach all GI's—your boy among them—so he'll never have to wonder...

Returned Vacationers Could Choke Their Friends

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks people get tired of hearing on their return from a vacation: "Where have you been hiding yourself? I haven't seen you for ages."

"Vacations are okay in their way, but I bet actually you're kind of glad to get back to the old salt mine, aren't you?"

"Where did you go? I know you sent us a post card, but we couldn't read what it said."

"You just got back in time, Gilbert. The guy who took your place was a real fireball. The boss said he never saw a man with more new ideas."

"While you were gone, the office gang held a farewell party for old Jim in the stock room. I kicked in $10 for your share. Do you happen to have it on you?"

"You remembered to turn off the gas and close the windows all right, but you forgot to tell the milkman to stop deliveries. He left a total of 14 bottles, and I wonder if you'd mind coming over right now and getting them. They kind of crowd my refrigerator."

"It's too bad you had such awful weather. Here at home it was clear and sunny every day you were gone."

"I hear you just got back from your vacation, Gilbert. I'm leaving tomorrow on mine. Let me tell you about it."

"Are you sure you spent your vacation at the beach, Mildred? You look so pale I thought maybe you'd just got back from giving a blood transfusion."

"No, I didn't mind caring for your cat while you were gone. But she took sick, and the vet said she needed several shots. Here's his bill — for $40."

"The only really important message that came while you were gone, Gilbert, was a long-distance phone call from your mother-in-law. She's arriving tonight to stay with you for a month, and she just wanted to be sure you'd drive out to the airport to meet her. The plane gets in at 1:45 a.m."

"Just like you asked me to, I went over to your house a couple of times to check the doors to be sure nobody had broken in. Say, do you know what you've got in the back porch? Termites—those stinks of them!"

"Where were you? Away some place?"

"That's a nice tan you've got."

Gilbert: What do you figure it cost you—about $10 a square inch?"

"Everybody missed you. Even the boss mentioned how much quieter and more restful the office was with you gone."

"Don't tell me you've used up your vacation already. Why, I've still got two weeks left."

"Gee, you look all worn out. What you need is a good long rest."

'Hawaii Estate' Ad Real Phony—Kelley

LANSING (AP) — Real estate offers from outside the state should be checked carefully — as evidenced by one of "a beautiful estate in Hawaii" — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley said today.

Kelley said the Hawaii mail offer advertised the "estate" on "palm-fringed beaches" as being minutes away from a golf course with free transportation to schools, an excellent water supply and membership in a yacht club for a few dollars a month.

His office investigated, Kelley said, and found the offer was being made by a Nevada corporation not licensed to do business in Michigan.

Group Selects 'Bird Man' for Movie Festival

VENICE, Italy (AP) — "Lolita" and "Bird Man of Alcatraz" are the official American entries chosen by the Venice Film Festival committee for the 23rd annual competition here Aug. 23-Sept. 8.

The 14 nominations announced Monday night also included two foreign films directed by Americans: Franz Kafka's "The Trial," directed by Oron Weller, a French-German-Italian entry, and "Eva," directed by Joseph Losey, an entry from Italy-France.

"Lolita" was classed as a British-American picture, while "Bird Man of Alcatraz" was all-American.

U.S. Considers New Saving Plan

Treasury Would Pay Tax Refunds in Bonds if People Desired

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury is considering a plan that would give taxpayers the option of accepting income tax refunds in the form of savings bonds rather than cash.

Since the refunds to individuals total about $6 billion a year, this device could provide an important shot in the arm for the bond program, which has been lagging because of increased competition from savings institutions.

During the weekend, Undersecretary Robert V. Roosa mailed questionnaires to 3,794 selected taxpayers, asking if they would favor accepting bonds rather than cash refunds.

The survey involves only a minute fraction of the 40 million taxpayers who claimed refunds in 1961.

If the response indicates a significant demand for bonds, the department will adopt the plan, probably in time for next year's tax filing period.

The bond program has slipped a bit since commercial banks and savings and loan associations began raising interest rates on savings deposits last Jan. 1. Banks now can pay 4 per cent interest on funds deposited for a year or longer while the rate on bonds is 3 1/2 per cent.

In the first seven months of 1962, cash sales of Series E and H savings bonds totaled $2.6 billion — down by $113 million from the comparable period last year.

Seven-month redemptions of old bonds exceeded $2.8 billion, an increase of $125 million from the corresponding portion of 1961.

Detroiters Defy Rain to March 'for Peace'

DETROIT (AP) — A single file of 39 demonstrators, organized by the Detroit Women for Peace, marched in heavy rain on Woodward Avenue yesterday, calling attention to the 17th anniversary of Hiroshima's atom bombing.

Men, women and children carried signs demanding "no tests in space, save the human race" and "no tests, east or west" in their early evening two-hour protest walk.

ON NEW CHEVROLETS

TO PLEASE EVERYBODY

(WELL... ALMOST EVERYBODY)

Even the most persnickety luxury-lover couldn't ask for very much more than a Jet-smooth Chevrolet (like, for instance, that Impala Sport Coupe at the top). Yet all of it—Body-by-Fisher elegance, road-gentling Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension, six engine choices, the works—comes for a Chevrolet price. (You know how low that is.)

JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET

Here's about the best thing that's happened to make money go farther since budgets—the lively low-cost Chevy II. It's got all kinds of room (Body by Fisher, what else?), a 6 that thrives on regular gasoline, plus things like bolt-on front-end components for rock-bottom upkeep. Eleven models include the Nova 400 2-Door Sedan (second from top).

CHEVY II NOVA

The Corvair Monza is kind of like two cars for one low price—a roomy family car and a sporty driver's car. And with the engine at the rear for better traction and easy handling, it plays both roles to the hilt. The Monza comes in three flavors—Club Coupe (third from top), Sedan or Convertible. Care to join the club—and get a once-a-year buy, to boot?

Time to Begin Thinking of United Fund Drive

The shortening days tell us that summer is waning, with the events of fall not far over the horizon.

One of these is the annual Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, the opening date Oct. 16. With the goal set at $706,125, it marks the fourteenth year of the "give once for all" plan of welfare fund-raising.

Much of the groundwork for the solicitation has already been laid in meetings of the all-important volunteer citizens' panels which reconcile submitted budgets of the agencies covered by the Fund with the total amount of money to be available, and grant allotments accordingly.

Since its inception in 1949, the fund has functioned with outstanding success in providing an organizing, cohesive structure for administering the welfare needs of the area. It freed the many individual agencies of the financial burden of maintaining themselves by the necessity of staging virtually continuous fund raising campaigns.

For obvious reasons, the public response to these constant appeals was becoming apathetic if not downright antagonistic. As welfare responsibilities have grown with the area, it would not be hard to visualize the chaos and ineffectiveness were now the 54 agencies each to paddle its own canoe. Significantly, when one nationally known agency felt that the fund allocation was inadequate and withdrew to launch an individual campaign, the dismal result quickly brought it back into the fold—sadder and wiser.

That the United Fund concept of welfare management has proved itself is attested by its adoption in 2,200 other areas. Locally, administrative expense—pledge procurement, subsequent collection and disbursement of proceeds—represents a nominal nine per cent of the total. To date, 97 per cent of 1961 pledges have been collected.

It is not too early to stress the vital part the Pontiac Area United Fund plays in our community well-being and to bespeak enthusiastic and generous response to its call for support.

Swedish Government Changes Direction

On March 22, 1975, EDMUND BURKE said: "All government—indeed every human benefit and enjoyment, every virtue and every prudent act—is founded on compromise and barter."

Nothing could better describe the shifts in direction, the pulling and hauling that has characterized the philosophy of government and related fiscal policies over the past decades.

To illustrate: When FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT instituted his then revolutionary social innovations, Sweden, with strong socialistic leanings, had been considered the very birthplace of social welfare philosophy legislatively implemented. The New Deal architects modeled much of their program on the Swedish blueprint.

Now, however, that country has seemingly completed her economic cycle. Observers report that she has moved far away from socialism and toward private enterprise—with business booming.

Swedish business and industry now have an outstandingly favorable tax deduction schedule for investment in machinery and equipment, with our own newly liberalized provisions appearing tough and restrictive in comparison. That country's growth rate, mainly attributed by economists to the favorable depreciation factor, is an annual 4.5 per cent—well ahead of our own.

This is not to say that social welfare is being curtailed—actually 9 per cent more will be spent in this area than last year—but in relieving business and industry of a disproportionate burden in supporting it, a larger share of the cost is being assessed against the direct beneficiaries of the system.

The corporation tax has been cut from 50 to 40 per cent and the individual top rate from 80 to 65—comparing respectively with the present 52 and 91 per cent in the United States. There, direct taxes on business amount to 2.4 per cent of total output as against 4.5 per cent here. BUT the direct taxes (not income) on Swedish individuals are 14.5 per cent as compared to 9.5 per cent on U. S. citizens.

A further look around Europe, enjoying for the last decade a boom unprecedented in history, also shows less reliance on the income tax as a revenue producer. Whereas 80 per cent of U. S. Federal revenue comes from corporation and personal income tax, Germany got but 45 and Belgium 39 per cent. Even Britain, less capitalistic than many continental countries, obtained only 55 per cent.

It appears that important areas of Europe have effectively adopted their earlier socialistic philosophy to the realism of capitalistic stability and progress, while the United States is still trailing with a hybrid concept of government.

Anyone's Weather Word May Be Good as a Bond

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

The lady who went out on a limb a short time ago and predicted the temperature for a given time and date—she missed it somewhat—aroused so much interest that The Press is going to make it worth your while to exercise your meteorological clairvoyance.

A $100 U. S. Government savings bond will be awarded to the one making the closest prediction of date and time of the highest temperature registered between now and 6 p.m. on Labor Day, entries close at noon, Friday, August 10. Address your card to the MAT.

The Pontiac Press will judge all entries and its decision will be final. The contest is not open to employees or relatives of the newspaper.

A cheeky letter from Mrs. Cyril Davis of 12 Edison St. A recent item about a pretty aged hoe got her to wondering whether it had endured so long because of exceptional durability or had just been used mainly for leaning purposes. (The MAT, however, is strictly neutral. He's afraid the question being posed about the use of the hoe is too hot to handle.)

—Which recalls to her the one about the hundred-year-old straightedge razor a father was giving to his son. Said he:

"Son, always cherish this. It is original and antique. It belongs to your great-grandfather and all of us have taken very good care of it. Why, such good care that we've only had to replace the handle twice and the blade three times in the entire hundred years!"

For those who think the weather in the 19th state holds continuity in the subzero area, and that what the well-dressed Alaskan wears on all occasions, including meetings at nudist camps, are woolies, either shirt, hooded parka and felt-lined boots.

Robert B. Oliver

of 218 W. Inglewood Road, way up there with the Howard Shelley fishing and chowder expedition, in refutation airmails an Aug. 1 newspaper page with a weather report. Here 'tis: Low temperature tonight 53, high tomorrow 86, low last night 58, high yesterday 86.

'Please . . . Not While I'm Eating!'

David Lawrence Says:

Red Anglers Go Long Way to 'Fish'

WASHINGTON — The Russian people presumably are hungry, and they seem to want some fish to eat. Is it plausible to believe that the waters adjacent to Europe haven't any fish in them, and that this is why the Russians have been sending fleets in unprecedented numbers to cruise up and down the Pacific and Atlantic coasts of this country?

The real function of these ships and the equipment they carry are cloaked in mystery. These vessels are of such size that they can conceal mechanical devices which can be used to interfere with undersea cables or to lay mines or to operate detecting devices to chart the course of American submarines.

There is undoubtedly a military objective in the sending of such large fishing fleets to American waters. It's true that outside the three-mile limit the seas are legally free to any country, but so is the sky above the Soviet Union.

Yet not so long ago the Communists raised a big fuss when an unarmed U2 plane made observation trips in space high above Soviet territory.

Another questionable phase of the whole affair is what the Russians are up to in Cuba as they encourage the use there of certain fishing vessels for reconnaissance in American waters. A United Press International dispatch the other day from Moscow said:

"The Soviet Union has agreed to provide technical assistance to Cuba for the development of commercial fishing, the official Soviet news agency Tass said today. The agency, in a dispatch from Havana, said a protocol was signed between the two nations covering details of the assistance."

"FISHING POSSIBILITIES" "The agreement will cover the exploration of fishing possibilities in waters off Cuba and the instruction of Cuban fishermen in the techniques of commercial fishing, it said."

Just why should the Moscow government be spending its own money to instruct Cubans in the use of fishing vessels? It is assumed that these acts will go unnoticed by American naval authorities.

Much of what the Soviets are doing with their huge fleets of vessels has come to light in speeches in Congress concerning fishing operations of the Soviets "right in our own front yard."

On May 25, Sen. Benjamin A. Smith, Democrat, of Massachusetts, described the massive intrusion of Soviet vessels at Georges Bank off Cape Cod and along the New England coast.

On Aug. 3, Sen. Warren Magnuson, Democrat, of Washington State, spoke of a "distant land" near the Aleutian Islands. He said also one of the 61 Russian fishing ships in the Gulf of Alaska "could not be identified as to function." He added:

"Each year the Russian fishing fleets move further south. This is the first year the Russians have fished in the Gulf of Alaska. Last year they sent only exploratory vessels there. It is the second year they have fished on Georges Bank on the Atlantic Coast. It is the second year they have fished in Bristol Bay and the third in Bering Sea areas just above Bristol Bay."

"My colleagues in Congress from the states of North and South Carolina may find it of interest that last month Russian units of the Soviet Navy, in exploratory ships were cruising the coastal waters of those two states, observing and evaluating off-shore stocks of Menhaden. If the Russians follow their usual pattern, they will be fishing there a year or two from now."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Vitamin-Poor Americans

Don't Know What's Wrong

Many readers are beginning to be interested in nutrition. They are interested in the modern vendors omit from their diets. Do the symptoms indicate a lack of vitamins or something?

As likely as not, they do. A few years ago, a great many everyday complaints of the sort people do not regard as serious enough to require medical care, at least immediately, are, in my opinion, manifestations of nutritional deficiency. But telling these people which vitamins and/or which minerals they need to take to supplement their inadequate diet and improve nutrition takes more knowledge than a physician can get from the mere recital of symptoms.

The patient may scarcely notice or perhaps fail to recognize the signs, signs or conditions which the doctor regards as significant, and indeed some of the more typical or specific signs of deficiency of vitamins or that mineral can be elicited only by the physician's physical examination of the patient.

On the one hand, some hidebound, know-it-all doctors, purporting to represent the rank and file of the profession, arbitrarily assert that the American scale of living is the highest in the world and that Americans get all the vitamins and minerals they need from their everyday diet.

Of course, these know-it-all doctors imply that the diet is "well balanced" whatever that means and had rather not talk about the number of calories Americans get from cheat-food. Nor do they bother to write me, for say, a week that will provide all the vitamins and minerals one needs to maintain good nutrition.

"PEP PILLS" On the other hand, a good many untrained or misinformed persons, studying quick and nostrum literature, have acquired the notion that vitamins prevent or reverse fatigue, build vigor and strength and give one "zip." The poor geeks readily believe that the vendor or sales person claims "high potency" vitamins work greater magic than ordinary vitamins, also that vitamins given in "shots" are more effective in some innumerable way than vitamins taken by mouth.

One merchant of medicine did a lucrative business giving "shots" to gullible customers who dropped in at his shop whenever they felt the need of a "fix" — the office nurse took care of most of them and collected the fees. Some of them kept getting their "shots" of vitamins (it is false) for several weeks without ever seeing the doctor.

If you are really concerned about nutrition, it may be well to ponder the statement of the late Norman Joliffe, a recognized nutrition authority:

"It seems, therefore, that a 55 per cent fraction of the calories in the American diet of 1940 contained a minimum of 600 international units of Vitamin B1, has been replaced in the contemporary American diet by a like fraction containing only about 50 international units."

I'm no authority. Just a teacher, but I am prompted to say:

"When we prate about being the best-fed people in the world, who do we think we're kidding?"

AFS Student From Japan Relates Experiences

I'm safely home. I started my American Field Service bus trip June 25 and we stopped in Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Jersey. We had AFS Midway in Washington D.C. and "Reunion" under the Washington monument. We met President Kennedy at the White House and saw the sights of Washington, D.C. Everything was very wonderful there and we enjoyed it so much.

Japanese AFSers left Washington, D.C. by plane to Los Angeles and stayed three days reaching Tokyo on July 18.

I had a wonderful AFS bus trip as a conclusion of my stay in the United States and at Orchard Lake. It was marvelous. I learned how people are nice to each other and we must try to keep world peace.

I thank The Press so much for its kindness in helping make my stay wonderful and I really enjoyed it. I'll never forget this year as it was the most wonderful time of my life.

'Give Jaguars Better Coverage'

Apparently the only way to make known the Jaguar successes at Waterford Hills is to be headed at the checkered flag by the Corvette car. My friends were quite disappointed when not a word of any of the three previous events (May 27, June 23 and June 20) appeared in The Pontiac Press. I was able to report that the Mulholland XKE-Jaguar was in fact successful in five starts out of five races (not four as erroneously stated in The Press). Then, full coverage, a photo and broadcast-cold on the person-car of the Thompson-Corvette. How come the here-to-fore inadequate coverage?

'Other Tennis Courts Could Be Improved'

The heavy increase in play at the Oakland Park tennis courts during the completion of their recent refurbishment seems to warrant similar improvements for some of the other courts in the city. That the interest in tennis certainly follows in direct proportion to the facilities available is consistently shown by the number of entries in tournaments such as that which was recently completed.

Peace Corps for Oldsters, Too

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Peace Corps is finding that older, retired people have an important role to play in its foreign training missions, right along with youngsters fresh out of college and experienced young specialists.

In the next few months Peace Corps will select 100 vocational teachers who have just retired or who are contemplating retirement. After a training period of final acceptance, they will join the ranks of the 40 men and 60 women "senior citizens" already on duty with Peace Corps overseas.

Peace Corps today has 4,000 people assigned to 70 missions in 40 developing countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America. This force will be raised to 10,000 this year. The number of missions will probably be doubled.

There are already on hand applications for far more missions than that. But there are limits to the amount of money Congress will appropriate—$60 million for this year—even though the program has been a great success.

The present plan is to keep 10,000 Peace Corps overseas on two-year assignments. Half will be brought home each year and replaced by new volunteers. From one to half a dozen or more senior citizens and women will be assigned to each mission, depending on its size. In one mission now under training for British Honduras, six senior citizens aged 53, 54, 63, 66, 68 and 69 are assigned.

Experience has shown that these older citizens can take the hardships of living in remote, primitive areas and working for low pay just as well as the tougher youngsters. The pay is $75 a month plus travel, living and medical costs. By the end of the year, they will be able to reduce Social Security pensions.

The job of recruiting these senior Peace Corpsmen has been given to one of Director Sargent Shriver's consultants, Dr. J. C. Noffsinger. He is 75, has already retired twice but is still going strong. In recent years he has been director of International Volunteer Services, a private educational organization which pioneered Peace Corps trails.

Noffsinger now gets 40 to 50 letters a day from senior citizens who beg to be sent to the Peace Corps. Pay is no object. Many applications for so many to do to relieve retirement boredom.

With over 15 million people a year retiring under the Social Security system, Dr. Noffsinger feels there is an abundant supply of skilled teachers and technicians to meet Peace Corps requirements.

A sampling of one day's mail shows letters from a dental technician of 71, a superintendent of schools of 64, a banker of 64 and a wife, who is a teacher. Incidentally, husband-and-wife teams can be accepted if they both work. Bankers are needed in Latin America to set up savings and loan institutions for low-cost housing developments.

Another batch of letters offers skills ranging from plumber to steel climber, sanitary engineer, superintendent of public welfare, doctors, nurses, a man who speaks five languages, teachers of all sorts. Science, math and home economics teachers are in great demand but the biggest need is for teachers of English as a second language.

Peace Corps has two requirements for all these senior citizen applicants. Each must have a skill that some host country wants. Each must pass a rigid physical exam.

A long application form and six reference reports are required for an interview. For those accepted, there follow 8 to 12 weeks' training at an American university. These goers to foreign countries get four weeks of testing in a Puerto Rican rain forest to see if they can take the punishment.

Anyone applying for one of these jobs to Senior Manpower Recruitment, The Peace Corps, Washington 25, D.C., must be prepared for rigorous examination and possible rejection if requirements and standards cannot be met.

But so far, experience has shown that washouts of oldsters and youngsters run at about the same rate—18 per cent.

Manual Throws JFK Into November Campaign

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Republicans are bound to be intrigued by a new campaign booklet originating in the White House, which daringly puts President Kennedy's personal popularity on the political block in the November congressional elections.

The author is Lawrence F. O'Brien, JFK's special assistant and closest political adviser. The publisher is the Democratic National Committee.

Few presidents in American history have been able to spread their own aura over congressional candidates in off-year elections. In fact, they have been burned so often that most are rather skittish about trying it, for fear of damaging their own prestige.

This makes all the more interesting some aspects of the O'Brien booklet, entitled "Democratic Congressional Campaign Manual 1962."

O'Brien, a charming Irishman with a reddish crew cut and a perpetual cigar, gave up a thriving public relations business to direct three successful Kennedy campaigns. A veteran of the Massachusetts clique that staged the Kennedy presidential blitz, he has the complete confidence of JFK.

The author therefore speaks with his boss's approval, in the unusual and highly adept booklet that sets forth the strategy for the fall campaign.

One section offers explicit instructions for seven different categories of campaign chairman ranging from farm, to labor, to business and professional. The first directive to each is identical: "Emphasize the close ties between President Kennedy and your candidate."

TO HELP JFK

O'Brien dictates a sample letter to be sent to thousands of potential volunteers with automobiles. It begins: "President John F. Kennedy would like your help driving voters to the polls on Election Day Nov. 6." A bit further along it entices: "If you would be willing to drive for President Kennedy and your congressional candidate on election day, please call . . ."

Larry's directions for telephone volunteers are equally exacting. He instructs them to go straight through the directory, saying to everyone in the phone book: "This is the (blank) for Congress Committee calling, asking you to support President Kennedy by voting for (blank) for Congress, because he is the man best suited to the job."

To inspire workers with the necessary zeal to get out every Democratic vote, O'Brien grimly warns: "One more Republican vote in each precinct would have elected Richard Nixon" in 1960.

If that indeed had occurred, Jack Kennedy rather than Dick Nixon could have written a book about his "Six Crises." Bobby Kennedy would not have authored a new tome called "Just Friends and Brave Enemies." Fish Baldrige could have published her novel, and Arthur Schlesinger Jr., might have found mighty few sales for his upcoming book on economics.

The highly articulate Kennedy administration is bouncy with book authors. The President set the pace with two best sellers, "Why England Slept" and "Profiles in Courage." Bobby wrote "The Enemy Within," and Harper and Row is bringing out his second book later this month.

Social secretary Letitia Baldrige wrote "Roman Candle," a sprightly book of memoirs, after serving as social secretary to Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce in Italy.

Subsequently she wrote a novel with a Roman setting, and had finished all but the last two chapters when Jackie Kennedy lured her fellow Vassar alumna to the White House.

Tish, who will visit her former Republican boss, Clare Luce, in Spanish Majorca later this month, exercised far more taste and re-

Rydell, a Major Heartbeat, Knows Success Formula

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The formula for success as a pop singer nowadays seems to be: Have a large mop of hair and a hustling manager, stay unmarried, be of Italian extraction, but most of all come from South Philadelphia.

Bobby Rydell has all these qualifications, so it's no wonder he is one of the major heartbeats of the teen world. He is now making a major assault on the more aged audience, starting in his first movie, "Bye, Bye Birdie."

Don't let the Rydell fool you. His real name is Richard. He got shortened when Bobby was appearing on Paul Whiteman's old television show at age 9, and Whiteman twisted his tongue on Richard.

Bobby is from the same precincts that have produced for a waiting world such talents as Frankie Avalon, Fabian, Jimmy Darnin and Buddy Greco.

The same neighborhood also gave show his Mario Lanza, Eddie Fisher, Joey Bishop, Chubby Checker, Michael Callen and more.

ASKED WHY

I asked Bobby why the area proved so fertile for singing types.

"The fact that the Dick Clark show is done from Philadelphia helps," he explained. "Also, at our high school a kid is handed a musical instrument and encouraged to play it. We have the annual Mummer's parade in which kids of all ages play instruments."

"From there it is a small step to singing. I played drums in an outfit called 'Rocco and the Saints,' and Frankie Avalon played trumpet. We both went on to singing."

Bobby had a long, hard pull up to the big time, however. Although he started doing imitations in the family parlor at 6, his career didn't start rolling until he was 15. That's when he met a bass player named Frankie Day, who took the kid in hand and put him through a grind of dance, voice and guitar lessons.

SPRUNG ON PUBLIC

When Bobby was ready, he was sprung on the waiting public. He clicked first with a record of "All I Want Is You," then smashed with "Kissin' Time." The rest is history.

It might have been a short history, but for the planning of his manager, Bobby was drilled in the niceties of entertaining lest he suffer the fate of most teen-age flashes. The nation's honky-tonks are littered with their remains.

"We knew that I would have a limited run with the young audience," Bobby said realistically. "Right now I figure I'm good for about one more year, then the kids will go onto somebody new."

"I could have done other movies, but we steered away from anything with the juvenile delinquency and rock 'n' roll label on it. This part in 'Bye Bye Birdie' is just what we were waiting for."

A $100,000 bill is on display at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing's Currency Museum. The last bill of this denomination was printed in 1935.

Presses Rolling at Minneapolis

Star and Tribune on Streets After Longest (116-Day) Strike

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Presses of the Minneapolis Star and Morning Tribune hummed again today after a strike had killed the plant 116 days.

The Tribune, with a weekday circulation of 229,481 and 672,162 Sunday, and the Star, circulating 201,230 evening newspapers, were shut down April 12 for the first time in history. It was the nation's longest major newspaper strike.

In a front-page statement to Tribune readers, president John Cowles and publisher Joyce A. Cowles said "it is certainly good to be back!"

COSTLY STRIKE

They declared the cost of the strike had been considerable to employees, business generally for lack of advertising, and to the reading public.

"Our employees who did not report for work lost more than $3 million in pay," the statement said. "Our 13,000 carrier salesmen and other distributors lost more than $1.4 million."

The Star and Tribune Co. did not estimate its own revenue loss. It carried an undisclosed amount of strike insurance.

A statistician for the Federal Reserve District figures there was a loss of $10 million in local retail and department store sales.

The papers announced a price increase from 7 to 10 cents for single daily copies and from 35 to 40 cents a week for home delivery in the city.

$2-Million Expansion Planned at Cadillac Lake

CADILLAC (AP) — A proposed $2 million expansion covering 12 acres at the west end of Cadillac Lake has been revealed by motel operator Vernon Vincent.

He appeared before the Cadillac zoning board to seek permission to build a service station as the first new structure in a complex surrounding the present 31-unit motel to which another 16-unit section is to be added this fall.

Youth Paints 'PT 109' on Rocky's Yacht

MT. DESERT, Maine (UPI) — An 18-year-old boy has been fined $10 for painting "PT 109," the number of President Kennedy's motor torpedo boat during World War II, on the bow of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's yacht at Seal Harbor last week, police disclosed today.

Police Chief Edward Chambers said Edward Nash Crofoot, a summer resident of this island, and another boy rowed out to Rockefeller's 80-foot cabin cruiser "Dragon Lady" in a small boat under cover of darkness.

Chambers said Crofoot painted "PT 109" with whitewash in letters two feet high on each side of the bow.

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so asthma attacks and relieves the most symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the coughing, the wheezing, the terrible fear of asphyxiation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is as safe when used as directed, it can be held without prescription to any doctor called BROMENTIN.

Doctors know that when asthma ment scheduled for the August GWCC meeting will be held instead in September.

Among the items slated for consideration by the Planning Commission are the proposed budget for 1963 and further discussion on a recommendation it made last month calling for a study on the feasibility of incorporation.

The Township Board later discussed the recommendation that a 15-member study committee be named but has taken no action.

Nursery School Ready

Bethany Nursery School opens official enrollment for the fall semester Friday from 10 in the morning to noon at the Bethany Baptist Church, corner of West Huron and Mark streets.

The staff of the school also will be present the following three Fridays, Aug. 17, 24 and 31 during the same hours for registration.

This weekday nursery school started a year ago by Bethany Baptist Church at the suggestion of its pastor, Dr. Emil Kontz.

Although the school is non-sectarian in character, a spiritual emphasis on the children's level is part of the regular program. The children learn Bible stories, hymns and prayers.

The daily schedule includes individual and group play, stories, music, rhythm games and creative activities.

Individual and group guidance is given. Conferences with the teachers will be available and parents will be invited to visit the school to observe their children's play and work patterns.

The fall semester begins Sept. 10. The school meets Monday through Thursday from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Children who are four years of age (or who will be four by Dec. 1) are enrolled in the Monday, Wednesday, Friday sessions.

Those children who are three (or will be by Dec. 1) meet on Tuesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Mark Cheney, who holds a master's degree in elementary education and an elementary life teaching license from the state, is the director of the school. Assisting her is Mrs. Andrew Pepper.

Facilities, play and educational equipment have been inspected and approved by local and state educational, safety and health officials. The school is licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare.

Bethany Nursery School is open to all preschool children in the community as long as registration limits permit. Further details may be obtained from Mrs. Cheney or the church office.

Interested parents also are invited to visit the school Friday or any of the following Fridays during the enrollment period to meet teachers and inspect the facilities.

Mrs. Leroy McCartney (right) of East Kennett Road enrolls her grandson, David Smith, also of East Kennett Road, with Bethany Nursery School director, Mrs. Mark Cheney of Dwight Avenue. The school is open to all preschool children in the community until enrollment limits are reached.

Assistant teacher at Bethany Nursery School, Mrs. Andrew Pepper of Sylvan Lake will be on hand during the school's fall enrollment Friday, 10 a. m. to 12 p. m. at the Bethany Baptist Church. Getting a preview of what lies in store for them when school bells ring Sept. 10 are Dickie Nye of Sylvan Shores Drive in Waterford; Amy Stuckman of James K Boulevard and Richard Hicks of Elira Lane, Waterford.

Be Thankful, Says Abby

Don't Turn Tiny Plant Gift Into Big Jungle of Trouble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day I got a potted plant from one of my children. I think! Anyway, it came from a local florist with a card which read, "From the — family."

I am sure it came from one of my sons, who lives about 300 miles away. I am real angry about it. I think they should have at least signed their given names.

My daughter here in town says I am being silly. Of course, I could have called the florist and found out where it came from, but I was too hurt. What do you think about it?

MRS. STILL, ANGRY

DEAR MRS. STILL: You are turning a simple potted plant into a jungle of trouble. Many mothers were forgotten entirely on Mother's Day. Be glad you weren't one of them.

DEAR ABBY: I read somewhere that a hostess should be complimented if a guest picks up her china or silverware to admire it and see what company made it.

We were at a dinner party last night and I picked up a plate and turned it over to examine it more closely and everyone looked shocked.

I don't want to embarrass myself again. Did I do something wrong or not?

LOVES NICE THINGS

DEAR LOVES: If a guest admires china or silver and wants to know the pattern and manufacturer, she should ask her hostess. It is improper to examine it for trade marks.

DEAR ABBY: I am an ex-sailor, married a year. We are both 31 and, Abby, can you believe it, I am trying to teach my wife how to wash dishes.

She never rinses the soap off the dishes or glasses. She says you don't have to go to all that trouble because the dish towel does that. I never eat at her mother's because I don't like soapy tea.

Can a dish towel remove soap? Please put your answer in the paper. She won't believe me.

EX-SAILOR

DEAR EX - SAILOR: You don't have to join the Navy to know how important water is! A dish towel will NOT remove soap residue. Rinsing is necessary. People have become violently ill from unrinsed dishes and glassware.

DEAR ABBY: You can tell "From Missouri!" that when our son was two weeks old he turned COMPLETELY over in his crib and we have witnessed to prove it.

Now he is 26 months old, and four-year-old neighbor boys are afraid to wrestle with him. How about that?

A reception in the Coral Reef Room of the Coral Reef Club, followed the Saturday vows of Ruth Ann Watts to Daniel E. Stocker in the Covert Methodist Church. Rev. Wilbur Courter performed the evening ceremony against a background of palms, white gladioli and anemones.

Parents of the newlyweds, who will live in Waterford after a northern Michigan honeymoon, are Mr. and Mrs. George A. Watts of Elsmere Street and the Ernest L. Stockers of Hillcliff Street, all of Waterford Township.

The bride designed and made her gown of white Chantilly lace over satin with chapel train. Seed pearls accented the fitted bodice and scalloped neckline. She wore the bridegroom's pearl girth jewelry and a silk illusion veil held by a pearl tiara. White rosebuds and ivory rested on her small white heels.

Sorority Picnics

The annual picnic of Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Pi sorority was held Sunday at the home of the H. C. Thinsys on Elizabeth Lake Road.

The guest list included the Grover Scotts, Mrs. Nancy Fought, James Coad, Mrs. Charles Reich and children, Mary Katherine, Charles Jr. and Elizabeth, who are visiting at the Coad home before leaving for their new home in San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Frank Coad of Neoms Drive and Mrs. Russell Beam of Birmingham assisted the hostess with the arrangements.

Many Showers Given for Virginia Dowling

Gay with parties is the schedule of Virginia Kathryn Dowling who will exchange vows with James W. Schultz of Bay City at a candlelight ceremony, Aug. 19, in Kirk-in-the-Hills.

Mrs. Robert Thom of Foxcroft, Bloomfield Township, will entertain at a pool-side luncheon with a crystal and china shower Thursday.

Among guests at the Ralph Hunts party in Birmingham will be Janet and Susan Schultz who will attend their sister-in-law as bridesmaids, with her cousin Nita Jarvis and Mrs. Paul Bando, matron of honor.

Gifts were opened at a recent personal shower and luncheon at the Lake Orion home of Mrs. R. J. Van Wageningen with Mrs. Loy Sutherland, cohostess. Mrs. Harvey Prand and daughter Diane of Bloomfield Hills gave a dessert and recipe shower.

Mrs. Bando and her mother, Mrs. Arnett B. Granger honored Miss Dowling at a kitchen shower and supper in their Bloomfield Hills home.

Entertaining at a tea and shower were Mrs. Herbert Mason, Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. George Jacoby of Birmingham.

The prospective bridegroom graduated from Wayne State University and the bride-elect is attending WSU. The couple plans Sept. 15 vows.

For Mrs. Brady

Feted at Baby Shower

A baby shower was given for Mrs. James Brady of Ogemaw Street Monday at the home of Mrs. Edward Ruthenberg of Dwight Street.

Cohostesses were Mrs. William Kleino of Rochester and Mrs. Dale Spear of Lake Orion.

Mrs. Brady opened her gifts after refreshments were served. Guests attended from Pontiac, Lake Orion and Rochester.

Wed in Presbyterian Rite

Shirley May Willis became Mrs. Ramon C. Block in an evening ceremony performed by Rev. Edmond Watkins Saturday, in the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Altar flowers were white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Willis of East Tennyson Avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Greta Block of Auburn Heights and Ralph Block of Phoenix, Ariz.

A petal-fall capulet held the bride's shoulder-length veil of silk illusion worn with a street-length sheath dress of white pure silk with silk organza overskirt. The fitted bodice was styled with Sabrina neckline. She carried white rosebuds and Stephanotis.

Mrs. D. A. Manganello, matron of honor, and the bride's only attendant, wore pale aquamarine silk organza over taffeta and carried yellow roses.

David G. Willis performed the duties of best man at his sister's wedding and D. A. Manganello seated the guests.

Beige Cymbidium orchids accented Mrs. Willis' blue and taupe-shade silk print sheath dress. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue silk print and white Cymbidium orchids.

Returning from a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will live on Pontiac Road.

The bride's great-uncle and aunt, the Isaac Van Meters of Carlisle, Ind., and her cousins, the Kenneth Van Meters of Indianapolis and Sharon Lou Price of Tucson, Ariz., came for the wedding.

Shirley May Willis and Ramon C. Block were wed Saturday in the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Willis of East Tennyson Avenue, Mrs. Greta Block of Auburn Heights and Ralph Block of Phoenix, Ariz.

MRS. EUGENE A. HUBBACK

Marries in Evening

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the vows of Barbara Ann Kintz to Eugene A. Hubback spoken before Rev. William Lyle Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony.

Before leaving for a northern Michigan honeymoon the newlyweds received some 200 guests at a buffet supper and dance in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick E. Kintz of Covert Road, Waterford Township, and the late Mr. Kintz. Parents of the bridegroom are the Orville A. Hubbacks of East Huron Street.

The floor-length bridal gown of white silk organza over Chantilly lace featured a lace bodice and a draped hemline caught with rosebuds. A double crown of seed pearls held her bouffant silk illusion veil.

All-white roses, carnations and Stephanotis were arranged in a cascade.

Mrs. J. D. Nicely attended her sister as matron of honor and their cousin Carole and Karen Gorkie; also Mrs. Donald Ogg, were bridesmaids.

The ballerina-length dresses of coil blue pentu satin featured portrait necklines and controlled bell skirts. They carried blue-tipped and white carnations.

Larry Campbell of Sylvan Village was best man. Donald Ogg ushered for his brother-in-law with Robert Gallardo and Ronald Campbell.

White gemallies accented Mrs. Kintz' dress of metallic gold and a pale blue Italian silk sheath dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds will live in Pontiac.

Parents Honor New Mrs. Traicoff at Luncheon After Nuptial Ceremony

The Darwin G. Simpsons were hosts at a luncheon reception in their home on Cass Lake Front, West Bloomfield Township, honoring their daughter Connie Jeanne who became Mrs. Richard W. Traicoff Saturday morning in St. Benedict's Church. Rev. Richard W. Thomas offered the nuptial Mass. White orchids centered a cascade of carnations carried by the bride who appeared in ballerina-length white Chantilly lace and net over taffeta. Her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion was held by a pearl tiara.

Wearing powder blue nylon chiffon were Linda Simpson of Orchard Lake, her cousin's maid of honor and another cousin, Claudia Simpson of Pontiac, who served as bridesmaid with the bride's sister Janice. They carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Beth Ann Squire was flower girl and Richard - Kincaid of Sylvan Village carried the rings.

The bridegroom, son of the Walter P. Traicoffs of Voorhees Road, had Stanley Puumoff for his best man, Ronald Fry of Pontiac and Wayne Copeland of West Bloomfield Township were ushers.

Returning from a northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will reside in Sylvan Village. Mr. Traicoff attends Wayne State University.

White carnations atop her purse accented a dress of light blue Belgian silk for Mrs. Simpson. The mother of the bridegroom, attired in champagne lace, also wore white carnations.

Wed Saturday in St. Benedict's Church were Connie Jeanne Simpson, daughter of the Darwin G. Simpsons of Cass Lake Front, West Bloomfield Township, and Richard W. Traicoff, son of the Walter P. Traicoffs of Voorhees Road.

Newlyweds Take Trip Through New England

Touring the New England States and New York this week are Gerald D. Hesse and his bride, the former Joyce Duckett, who were wed Saturday in Christ Lutheran Church on Williams Lake Road.

Potted white flowers adorned the altar where the Rev. Wayne E. Peterson performed the evening ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Waterford Community Center. The couple will live in Waterford.

Daughter of the Ernest F. Ducketts of Clarkson, the bride appeared in a tiered gown of white lace styled with round neckline, wrist-point sleeves and chapel train. A double crown of pearls secured her bouffant veil of silk illusion.

She held a crescent of yellow roses and white carnations as did her matron of honor, Mrs. James Hatfield of Warren.

The bridesmaids, Diana Campbell, of Davisburg, Mrs. Dolan Palmer, of Waterford and Judy Evans, Clarkson, carried round bouquets. All wore identical dresses of yellow chiffon over matching satin.

Susan McAboy of Clarkson was flower-girl and Rex Egges Jr., carried the rings. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hesse of Alliance Drive, Waterford Township, had Edward and Henry Shell, of Drayton Woods, as best man and usher, respectively. Also seating guests were Richard, Ryan, Waterford, and Dominic Tenuta, of Drayton Plains.

Tangerine carnations complemented Mrs. Kintz' brown and beige silk print and a corsage of pink carnations accented Mrs. Hesse's dress of powder blue silk chiffon.

Miss Detmer Married in St. Michael's Church

Mary Ellen Detmer chose a gown of white satin styled with chapel train and bodice hand-appliqued with seed pearls for her marriage to Dallas M. Adkins Saturday in St. Michael's Church.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl crown and she carried Stephanotis and lily surrounding a white Cattleya orchid. She is the daughter of the Richard J. Detmers of Victory Drive.

A reception in the Knights of Columbus hall followed the morning ceremony performed by Rev. Herbert Mansfield.

Bouquets of pink carnations complemented dresses of mint green nylon organza over taffeta for the bridegroom's sister Pamela who was maid of honor, Carol Morris, bridesmaid, and Kathleen Detmer, her sister's junior attendant.

Richard Detmer, the bride's brother, served as best man and David Hendrix ushered. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Adkins of Wilson Drive, Drayton Plains.

Tip Waiter but Not Owner

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I live in a glorified boarding house. The family built this beautiful big house several years ago but after the husband died, his widow found it very hard to get along and decided to take in paying guests.

Most of the guests also have their meals here. The widow has two daughters who help out. One waits on table and the other cleans the rooms.

I would like to know whether the daughters should be given tips for their services considering the relationship.

A: You do not tip the owner of the house, but it is correct to tip whoever waits on you at table and takes care of your rooms, even though they be the daughters of the owner.

Q: My father-in-law is deceased and my husband was asked to give his sister in marriage. After walking up the aisle with her he took his place next to his mother in the first pew.

An elderly aunt of my husband's also sat in the front pew with his mother. I was seated in the second pew.

Am I wrong in assuming that I should have been asked to sit in the front pew with his mother and my husband, or that my husband should have at least taken his place beside me after walking up the aisle with his sister?

A: You are right; either you should have been seated in the first pew or your husband should have joined you in the second pew.

A mining town right out of the Old West is the setting for the Bret Harte play "Maybe It's Love" presented by the Cranbrook Summer Theater School this evening and Wednesday. Rehearsing are (left to right) Nancy Walker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.

Gerald R. Walker of James K. Boulevard; Tim Briney, son of the James Brineys of East Iroquois Road; and Alice Colombo, daughter of the Louis J. Colombos Jr. of Bloomfield Hills.

Crooks, City Slicker, Girl All There

Cranbrook Readies Big 'Melodrama'

Cranbrook Summer Theater School presents "Maybe It's Love" by Bret Harte at the Cranbrook Greek Theater as the culmination of the school's 21st season.

The show opens at 8:15 this evening and Wednesday evening. The plot of the melodrama centers around a mining town in the Old West, complete with gold seekers, city slicker and a pretty girl. The murder of the miner after he struck gold is one of the exciting actions of the play. The dramatics and music were adapted by Carl G. Wornberger, director of the school. The play is double cast. One group presents the play one night and then different people play the leads the next night.

Some of the cast members are Frank Roland of Southfield, a teacher at the school; Anne Marie d'Heyvire of Bloomfield Hills, Judith Sheffman of Detroit, Judie Lane of Chicago and Jan Detweiler of Franklin.

Tickets for both performances are available at the gate.

Accuracy Still Goal in Long Iron Shots

By SANDRA HAYNIE
Written for NEA

With even long irons the purpose is accuracy.

If too far away to presume to sink the shot, aim for the point nearest the green. Try to place the ball where you will be afforded a clean-cut shot to the green.

Select the right club for long iron shots. Shoot well within limitations.

I usually advise pupils to take one club longer, and with less loft, than the shot calls for according to the book. This will eliminate the tendency to press in an effort to get distance.

Iron shots should be hit firmly, not pampered or batted. When my iron shots become inaccurate, I find it usually is because my hands have lost control.

The clubface has not been at precise right angles to the line of flight when it hit the ball.

The force of the clubhead hitting the ball will turn the face of an iron much more easily than it will a wood.

Keep firm control of the club with the hands on all iron shots, but don't tighten up.

I play short iron shots off the right foot. The ball moves more toward the left foot as the left of the club decreases.

The ball is slightly ahead of my right foot on a nine iron, just inside the left heel with a long iron.

My stance becomes more open as the loft of the club increases, so that I am facing more toward the hole when playing a nine iron than when using a five.

The Voice Improves With Use

An unattractive voice is a social disadvantage. Although it requires diligence and effort to improve pitch and pronunciation, it can be done.

If you have a tape recorder, you're fortunate, for you can hear yourself. Practice daily to correct whatever your voice fault may be and listen to the playbacks to see how you're coming along.

If you don't own a tape recorder, you can still set up a program of voice improvement.

Each night read the newspaper aloud. Whether or not you have an audience, you'll find you are reading in your "company" voice—doing your best. If only to impress yourself.

Before long, you'll be speaking that way at all times. And you will have provided yourself with another social asset—knowledge of current events. You will not only find that your speaking voice and pronunciation have greatly improved in just a few weeks, but you'll be an interesting conversationalist as well.

Ten Beauties Compete for Peach Queen Title

ROMEO — Some 10 pick-of-the-crop contestants are expected to compete for the coveted Romeo Peach Queen crown Aug. 14, the contest committee announced today.

All candidates invited to enter the competition are title holders in their own communities. They are from Utica, Lake Orion, Oxford, Dryden, Westford Township, Roseville, Fraser, Ardena, Romeo and Miss Metropolitan Beach from Warren.

With the total number of contestants traditionally set at 21 one more eligible title aspirant can still enter the contest, Chairman Marlene Marsh of Washington, said today.

The competition will be held at 8 p.m. at Romeo Junior High School with dress rehearsal to take place at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the same location.

To be divided into two segments, the contest will open with the girls appearing on stage in street dress for individual interviews and to give a short reading selected by the contest committee.

They will return later in formal attire to pick a nosegay off a flower cart. The nosegay will contain a question that the candidate must answer extemporaneously.

Talent has been eliminated as a contest requirement this year.

A panel of out-of-town judges will rate each girl on poise, personality, appearance, beauty and ability to speak before an audience.

During the contest the girls will be identified solely by the names of peaches. Only after the queen and her two maids of honor have been selected will their true identities be revealed.

TO REIGN AT FESTIVAL.
The trio will reign over the 30th annual Peach Festival Sept. 1-3. The rest of the contestants will form the queen's court.

All of the girls will be guests in Romeo weekend over the Labor Day weekend and each one will receive the formal gown she will wear in the coronation ceremonies which will highlight the three-day celebration.

Prior to the festival the queen and her two attendants will appear at numerous public events and on television and radio to publicize the forthcoming event.

'Nice Looking' Man Robs Finance Office

LAKE ORION — A "nice looking young man" who appeared to be a student, was arrested Friday, charged with robbing a finance office.

The man, described as about 22 years old by Mrs. Edna Gudemose, 30, of E. Flint St., who was alone in the office at the time, conducted a leisurely search after ordering Mrs. Gudemose to sit at a table and put her head down, according to Lake Orion police.

After rifling the cash box and Mrs. Gudemose's purse, he locked the clerk in the basement and escaped by the back door.

Mrs. Gudemose told police the bandit had left the office Friday morning without completing his application.

The name and address on the application were fictitious.

State Head Talks to Kiwanis Club

Rochester Unit Hears Aims for '62 by District Governor Bowler

ROCHESTER — Dr. George E. Bowler, Ann Arbor, governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International, addressed the Rochester Kiwanis Club last night at Parke, Davis & Co. picnic grounds.

Bowler, public health veterinarian on the staff of the Washtenaw County-Ann Arbor city health departments, outlined some of the major goals for Kiwanis in his address.

Some of the major goals for Kiwanis in his address were: "Freedom — Our Individual Responsibility."

During his year in office the district governor will travel about 25,000 miles in order to appear before most of the 9,500 Kiwanis in the 135 clubs throughout the United States and in 10 foreign countries of the Upper Peninsula.

A Kiwanian for 21 years and a past president of the Ann Arbor Club, Dr. Bowler has been active in various professional, civic, school, and church groups. He is a graduate of Michigan State University and of the University of Michigan, is married and the father of four daughters.

His wife Gladys accompanied him on his visit to Rochester and was entertained at the Michigan State University Oakland student center by several Kiwanis wives.

Beef Dinner to Highlight
Ortonville Church Fest

ORTONVILLE — Plans for a three-day festival featuring a big Sunday roast beef dinner Friday through Sunday have been announced by St. Ann's Church here.

To be held at McFeely's Resort on Ortonville Road, the annual celebration will include a carnival, booths, games and rides. The roast beef dinner, which drew some 900 diners last year, is scheduled for noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

In Rochester Rites

On Tuesday, Aug. 7, the annual celebration will include a carnival, booths, games and rides. The roast beef dinner, which drew some 900 diners last year, is scheduled for noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Farr-Allen Vows Told

AVON TOWNSHIP — While glad-toll and chrysanthemums graced the altar of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester, for the wedding Sunday afternoon of Detroit's Lou Allen and Stephen Towne Farr, Rev. Leon Dayringer performed the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Allen, 3636 Gerald, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Farr, 150 First St., Romeo.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of white silk organza over net, fastened with a pearl-encrusted Chantilly lace bodice. The lace extended into deep points on the skirt that ended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of aurora borealis crystals and she carried a cascade of orchids and Stephanotis entwined with ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Frederick T. Farr Jr. of Detroit. Attending as bridesmaids were Mrs. Thelma Hall of Detroit, Mrs. Michael Stone of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Peter Ache of Rochester.

Serving as best man was James Tyley of Detroit. The guests were seated by Frederick T. Farr Jr. and William T. Farr, brothers of the bridegroom, and Peter Ache.

Injured Officer Unable to Shed Light on Crash

SOUTHFIELD — A policeman who was seriously injured when the scout car he was riding was forced off the road by a 1959 or '60 light automobile.

Harding is survived by his wife, Myra, and their three-year-old daughter.

Chief Sackett said Mrs. Harding will receive about $4,000 from the insurance company.

Novi Council Endorses Village Water Project

NOVI — The Village Council last night officially supported the establishment of a village water department.

Village Manager Harold N. Ackley said the council passed a resolution expressing its willingness to enter into the water business but did not discuss the methods of financing such a program.

"The action places us in a better position to negotiate with Detroit for its water," said Ackley.

Detroit has informed the village officially that it cannot possibly supply water until the village provides some portion of the water system at the start.

OFFERED SYSTEM
The village has been offered a large private water system at a purchase price of $150,000 by developer Paul LeBoat.

LeBoat's system serves more than 300 families in the Willowbrook subdivision at 10 Mile and Meadowbrook roads.

The proposal is being considered by the council. Technical data is being studied by village engineers to learn the feasibility of having the village take over the water system.

Ackley said the council's action last night will allow the village attorney to begin gathering information that could lead to the creation of a water department.

Dance Under Stars Set at Metropolitan Beach
The Warren Covington Orchestra will provide music for dancing under the stars Sunday night at Metropolitan Beach near Mount Clemens.

The dance, from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., is part of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority's summer dance specials. Only a parking charge will be the beach's usual parking fee.

Lansing OKs Fluoridation
LANSING (AP) — The Lansing City Council last night authorized the board of water and light to fluoridate the city water supply and ordered that immediate steps be taken to purchase equipment to complete the project.

Hope to Avoid Schedule Cuts

Board OKs Equipment Purchase Postponement to Save '63 Curriculum

ROCHESTER — The board of education here last night approved postponement of equipment purchases in order to avoid curriculum cuts next year.

In another session of budget revision to bring expenditures in line with a less than anticipated revenue, school board members decided not to buy some $40,000 worth of new equipment, including two new buses.

Shop equipment, hand instruments and equipment for commercial, home economic and other programs are affected by the move.

Supt. Donald C. Baldwin presented the budget revisions following instructions by school board members at their July 16 meeting to save the instructional program then slated to be eliminated to balance the budget.

Programs once headed for the chopping block, but now reinstated because of the postponed purchases, were the vocal music and physical education programs in the elementary schools and special English classes in the senior high school.

The board was faced with trimming some $100,000 from its tentative record budget of $2.23 million after failure of a $-mill special operating tax proposal in a June election.

ASKED TO INVESTIGATE
Baldwin was asked to investigate the possibility of postponing purchase of five new school buses, but recommended that the purchase of only two be deferred. They cost about $6,000 each.

However, a prospective purchase of new social science text books for elementary schools was not reinstated.

Some $80,000 in cuts was approved at the July 16 meeting. Since some of those have been reinstated, completed figures for the new budget have yet to be compiled, according to Baldwin.

In other action, board members appointed 31-year-old Fred Huger, 7th grade mathematics and science teacher at Central Junior High School, to the position of principal of the Woodward and Goodison elementary schools.

Board members placed on file a letter from Schurrer Construction Co. of Pontiac giving a 60-day completion date for the new West Junior High School, construction of which was delayed recently by a strike of construction workers.

Doubling up of students at Central Junior High School until the new school is ready has been approved by the board. A completion date of Nov. 1 had been expected.

Board Member Leaves

School Head Resigns Position in Avondale

LeRoy R. Watt, Avondale school superintendent for the past three years, last night submitted his resignation to the board of education at its regular meeting.

School board members agreed to release Watt from his contract, which was to expire July 1, 1963. The resignation of board member Earl Wilson also was accepted.

Watt has accepted a position as superintendent of city schools in Wooster, Ohio, he told the board.

His new position in the Wooster school system, which is twice the size of the Avondale school district, offers opportunity for advancement and professional growth, Watt said.

MOVED TO N.J.
Wilson, who was vice president of the school board last year, has moved to New Jersey where he has accepted a new job with Western Electric Co.

Watt will assume his new duties in Wooster Aug. 22. Although his resignation from Avondale will be effective Aug. 21, Watt said he will be available to help a new superintendent take over until Aug. 31.

School board members took no immediate action toward locating a replacement for Watt or appointing a new member to fill the vacancy left by Wilson. The board must appoint a successor to Wilson within 20 days.

Watt, who lives with his wife and four children at 308 N. Hill Circle, Rochester, came to Avondale from the Fairgrove-Aldrich school district in Michigan's "humb" area, where he was school superintendent.

Prior to that, he had served as superintendent of Dearborn Township schools.

While submitting his resignation, Watt expressed appreciation for the "overwhelming support" given his administration by the staff and members of the community.

1st State Police Pilot to Quit After 25 Years

EAST LANSING (AP) — Sgt. Bevil O. Froberg, first regularly assigned airplane pilot for state police, will retire Aug. 17 after 25 years of service.

Froberg started his pilot duties in 1947 after state police purchased their own plane and logged more than 5,000 hours in flying time in 12 years on a variety of missions. He was transferred to the records and statistics division at East Lansing in 1959 as case supervisor.

Froberg previously served at the Detroit, Paw Paw, Mainstreet, Algonquin and Battle Creek posts. He has three citations for meritorious service.

Fashions from Noble's Suburban Shoppe also will be shown.

Mrs. Harry Slater is chairman of the event. Mrs. Stewart Drahner, president of the Woman's Club, will act as host.

Proceeds will go to support the club's scholarship fund. Recipients of two scholarships awarded this year were Karine Church, a junior at Western Michigan University and Judith Favre, a freshman at Western Michigan.

Lake Orion Club Sets Show Date

Women's Group Plans Luncheon and Fashions on Aug. 16

A "Day in the Country" will be the theme of a luncheon and fashion show by the Lake Orion Woman's Club Aug. 16 at St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church on Joyn Road in Orion Township.

The luncheon and show, scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m., will be followed by an afternoon of card games, scrabble and croquet.

Modeling tall fashions from the Clothes Closet of Orford will be Mrs. Anthony Wojcik, Mrs. Dexter Garbet, Mrs. Lynn Appleby and Mrs. Howard Fletcher.

Mary Jane Berger, Miss Lake Orion of 1962, will model for the Sweetheart Shop of Lake Orion along with Mrs. Edward Bretzlaff and her daughter, Tammy, Mrs. Mike La Magna and Mrs. William Berridge.

Fashions from Noble's Suburban Shoppe also will be shown.

Mrs. Harry Slater is chairman of the event. Mrs. Stewart Drahner, president of the Woman's Club, will act as host.

Proceeds will go to support the club's scholarship fund. Recipients of two scholarships awarded this year were Karine Church, a junior at Western Michigan University and Judith Favre, a freshman at Western Michigan.

Four Homers Wasted as Detroit Bows

Tigers DP Group Baseball's Worst

DETROIT (UPI) — "Fernandez, Wood to Cash?"

No, it seems unlikely this double play jingle coined by the Detroit Tigers will ever find the path of Cooperstown.

It may not even make it to the first division of the American League.

Alan, the Tigers are stuck with the worst double play combination in baseball, even Casey Stengel's hapless New York Mets are fielding with more aplomb than the Tigers.

In a game in which defensive skills are needed to counteract a weak offense, the Tigers are out of luck. Their team batting average is not only the worst in the American League, so is their fielding.

Only pitching, in which the Tigers rank third, has kept them from flopping completely this season.

Injuries to the team's best hitter — Al Kaline — and best pitcher — Frank Lary — have caused untold miseries for manager Bob Schefling. But it has also become apparent this year that if the Tigers are to become a contender in 1963, something will have to be done with the infield.

POOR SHOWING
Detroit has made only 68 double plays — a far cry from their 1961 pace of 147, at least a respectable figure. This ranks as the poorest in either of the major leagues.

SHORTSTOP CHICO FERNANDEZ, sometimes brilliant but more often erratic, has committed 21 errors. Jack Wood, recently platoon with Dick McAuliffe and Don Radtke, has bobbled 17 double plays, while third baseman Steve Boros has gaffed by 13 occasions.

Fernandez, as one observer said, "is clever on balls hit to either side of him, but when one is hit directly at him, he doesn't seem to know what to do."

Wood, a brilliant runner whose speed is an asset on the bases, is far off his 1961 fielding form. Jack's chief problem of twin billings has been his propensity for getting blocked by the oncoming runner.

"It's something we've got to work hard on to improve," Schefling says. "Our fielding has been off all season."

He doesn't suggest it, but the winds could be blowing the Tigers' way this winter.

DETROIT (UPI) — Manager Bob Schefling may have to order his charges to stop putting on displays of individual batting skill in Municipal Stadium.

Tiger third baseman Steve Boros put three solo home runs and a double in the bases in July 5 when Rocky Colavito turned the trick. The Indians won that one in the ninth inning, too.

For seven innings, it looked as though the Tigers would walk away with the opener of a two-game set. Hank Aguirre was coasting along on a four-hitter and the Tigers had flashed the power in all three runs at the time coming on home runs by Boros and catcher Dick Brown.

WILF THROW
A pair of singles, a double and a walk chased home a run and filled the bases in the Cleveland eighth. The game came apart at the seams when Aguirre grabbed a bouncer off The Francon's bat and threw the ball away on an easy play at the plate. Two runs scored and were followed by two more when Chuck Essegian teed off for a single on an offering by reliever Sam Jones.

The Tigers tied the game in the ninth on Boros' third round tripper and Dick McAuliffe's single following a walk and a sacrifice. Cleveland capped the game's hit at the landing on a sacrifice fly to deep left field after a pair of singles had set up the play.

Ty Cline's sacrifice fly produced his first run batted in since June 20.

When the Tigers arrived here, Cleveland general manager Gabe Paul was calling the Indians recent wins "the greatest disappointment of my career."

This preceded the gift handed his faltering ball club by Aguirre's throwing error, keeping the Indians a game and one-half ahead of the seventh-place Tigers, who are now 1 1/2 games out.

Schefling planned to send Jim Bunning (11-7) against Mudcat Grant (4-4) in this afternoon's seven-inning game.

DETROIT
Detroit's 1962 season has been a roller coaster ride. The team has won 10 of its last 15 games, but is still 1 1/2 games out of first place.

TOO LATE NOW — Detroit's Steve Boros waits for a throw from catcher Dick Brown after pitcher Hank Aguirre threw wild on a force play at home last night. Pedro Ramos of the Indians slides across with one of the two runs that scored on the play. Boros, who raced in from third to cover the plate, hit three homers in a 6-5 Tiger defeat.

Morrall Hot Yet Still No. 2

Earl Having Top Summer Camp Pushed by Plum

Lewis and Watkins Dueling for Halfback, 2 Line Battles Left

MIL PLUM is making a better quarterback out of Earl Morrall than once again, off-gang, off-gang Morrall finds himself the No. 2 signal-caller for the Detroit Lions.

Morrall shared quarterbacking duties last fall with Jim Nowinski but when the Lions traded Nowinski to the Cleveland Browns for Plum, Morrall was shoved further into the background.

But at the Lions' summer camp, Morrall has sparked. "Lion" coaches say he has never looked better in summer camp and they're hopeful that the keen competition from Plum, the NFL's No. 1 passer the last two seasons, will push Morrall to his peak of performance.

Both Plum and Morrall were effective in the Lions' first full-scale scrimmage Saturday night at Wm. Stadium as they sharpened their throwing arms for this Saturday night's encounter with the Browns at Tiger Stadium.

Another competitive fight is taking place for the running halfback job, where Danny Lewis, a Lions veteran, and young Tommy Watkins, an Iowa State product who came to the Lions from the Browns in the Plum deal, are fighting for the opening nod.

MORE CONSISTENT
Assistant coach Aldo Forte said Morrall "is sharper than any time in my memory. He has always done everything well. The only question has been his throwing. Now he's consistently sharp with that."

Head coach George Wilson has already cut his squad to 43 players with nearly a month to go before the regular schedule begins at home Sunday, Sept. 16, with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Competition for first-string jobs is all but over in both the offensive and defensive line unit. However, there is a real battle between John Gonzaga and Willie McCung for one of the tackle jobs in the offensive line and Sam Williams and Paul Ward, a Chicago Bears re-tread, are dueling at a defensive end post.

Canadian Season Starts
REGINA (AP) — The Saskatchewan Roughriders trained the Calgary Stampede 174 before 12,362 fans Monday night as the teams launched the Canadian Football League season.

Mexicans Take U.S.; McKinley Tops in Loss

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Out of the wreckage of another shattered U.S. Davis Cup campaign a single glimmer of light emerged today in the form of Chuck McKinley.

If there was one individual standout in the 3-day series of matches in which Mexico eliminated the United States 3-2 from the American zone, it was the stocky Trinity (Tex.) University student from St. Ann, Mo. McKinley won both his singles matches and almost single-handedly pulled out two sets in the five-set doubles deal in which his partner, Dennis Ralston, went sour at the service line.

"McKinley was easily the best player on either team," said Bob Kelleher, the U.S. captain, today. "I'm proud of all the boys—no missed winning by just a smelly eyelash—but I'm particularly pleased with the way McKinley has developed."

"I predict he will be a factor in amateur tennis for years to come."

Pancho Gonzalez, the former pro king who served as coach of the Yanks, said McKinley is the nucleus around which Uncle Sam must build a winning Davis Cup team.

"Chuck already is close to being the best amateur player in the world," said Gonzalez. "The way he played here I'm not sure he isn't ready to take Rod Laver—the Australian who already has won the Australian, French and Wimbledon titles."

"He may be the one to stop Laver's bid for a grand slam in the Nationals at Forest Hills."

LONG MATCH
Mexico eliminated the United States in the American zone finals Monday when Rafael Osuna, a student at the University of Southern California, beat Jon Douglas, the former Stanford University quarterback, in a tense grueling five-setter at Chapultepec Sports Center 3-7, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

In the final match, which took on exhibition status because the series already had been clinched, McKinley followed up his first day triumph over Mario Lamas, a 35-year-old Mexican national champion.

Lamas was substituted at the last minute for Antonio Palafox, who best Douglas in the first day's play, in a shift that strained relations between the two teams.

Kelleher wanted McKinley to get a shot at Palafox and insisted on his prerogative that a change in the lineup could not be made without the consent of both captains.

INJURY CLAIMED
Pancho Contreras, however, said Palafox had pulled groin injury and he contended he had the right to make the switch. There was considerable controversy before Kelleher, influenced by Gonzalez, finally agreed to the change.

Douglas put up a dramatic fight against the heavily favored Osuna and appeared to have the talented Mexican on the ropes after tying the count at two sets each. Then in the fifth set, with Osuna wobbling-legged and inhaling oxygen between court changes, Douglas grabbed a quick 40-15 lead on Osuna's service.

If Douglas had broken here, he would not even need Osuna himself to sweep the set. But a yell by a spectator disrupted play, broke Douglas' momentum and resulted in loss of the game and ultimately the match.

Yugoslavs Lead British Netters in Cup Action
PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—Yugoslavia swept into a 2-0 lead over British Caribbean Monday, winning both opening singles matches in their long-delayed American Zone semifinal Davis Cup tennis series.

The Yugoslavs can clinch the best-of-5 series by winning the doubles Tuesday. The winner here will play Mexico at Mexico City, Aug. 17-19 for the American Zone championship. Mexico eliminated the United States in their semifinal series Monday.

Boris Jovanovic and Nicolo Pietrangeli won their singles in straight sets. Jovanovic defeated British Caribbean's Ian McDonald 6-1, 6-1 and Pietrangeli Peter Valdez 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

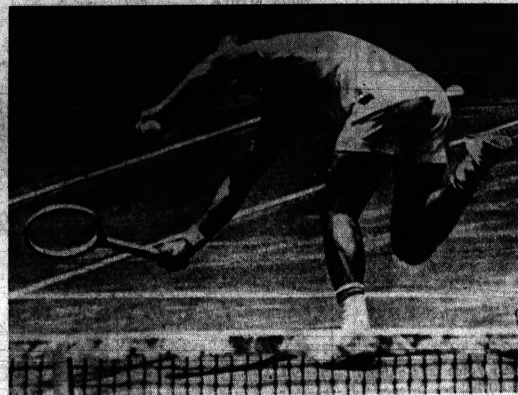

The competition, after three days of rain, was moved to asphalt courts at Skinner Park, 8 miles from the water-logged Guacarara Park in South Trinidad, where the series was scheduled.

Go-Karters Get Trophies
Trophies were awarded to Go Kart racers at the Pontiac Motor course on Opylke road over the weekend. Racers competed in seven events. These were the top winners:

4-BURNING HOT CLASS-1. Tom Janicki, 2. Don Robinson, 3. Tom Janicki, 4. Ben Spino, Kathy Stein, 5. Harry Edwards, 6. Harry Edwards, 7. Harry Edwards, 8. Chester Pouchard, 9. Peter Carr, 10. Harry Edwards.

4-BURNING HOT CLASS-2. John Orr, 2. Bill Smith, 3. John Orr, 4. Bill Smith, 5. John Orr, 6. Bill Smith, 7. John Orr, 8. Bill Smith, 9. John Orr, 10. Bill Smith.

4-BURNING HOT CLASS-3. Tom Janicki, 2. Don Robinson, 3. Tom Janicki, 4. Ben Spino, Kathy Stein, 5. Harry Edwards, 6. Harry Edwards, 7. Harry Edwards, 8. Chester Pouchard, 9. Peter Carr, 10. Harry Edwards.

CUP BID FADES—Jon Douglas stumbles after missing a drive from Mexico's Rafael Osuna in their match yesterday at the American Zone Davis Cup competition in Mexico City. Osuna won the five-set match to send his country into the inter-zone matches.

Mays' Five Hits Continue Streak

By The Associated Press
Say hey, look what Willie did! Willie Mays, the San Francisco slugger who four days ago was on the verge of slipping below .300, blasted two homers and added three singles in a 5-for-5 performance that powered the Giants to a 9-2 victory against Philadelphia Monday.

Mays, who started his hot streak against Pittsburgh with five hits in 11 at-bats, now has 11 hits in his last 16 trips to the plate and has raised his average to .311 while keeping the Giants in the National League pennant race.

MARGIN NEEDED
The victory left the second-place Giants 4½ games behind the National League-leading Dodgers, who rode Johnny Pomeroy's pitching their runs in the seventh on a home run by relief pitcher Johnny Killebrew and Milwaukee defeated Chicago's Cubs 4-1 behind Bob Shaw's four-hit pitching. St. Louis and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Mays hammered his homers in consecutive at-bats, in the first two innings, each time with a man aboard, and helped the Giants build a 6-0 bulge against the Phillies. Backed by Willie and a supporting cast that collected 17 hits, the veteran left-hander Billy Pierce (10-1) went the distance with a six-hitter for his second consecutive victory since recovering from a spike wound. The Phillies scored their runs in the seventh on a single by Tony Gonzalez and doubles by Ted Savage and Roy Sievers. The loser was Dallas Green (4-5).

RAN FAST MEETS
The Dodgers didn't exactly overpower Jay Hook (7-12) and the Mets. They scored their first run in the second on singles by Tommy Davis and Ron Fairly and a double play grounder by Frank Howard. In the sixth, Willie beat out a bunt, stole second for his 58th theft, took third on an attempted pickoff that went astray and came home as Willie Davis outgassed a grounder to second baseman Rod Kanehl. Podres (9-7) gave up a run in the sixth on a double by Tony Gonzalez and Charlie Neal's single, then needed Ron Pomeroy's ninth inning relief help to nail it. Killebrew (4-2) who came in on relief on Reds' starter Bob Purkey in the 11th, snapped the scoreless deadlock with two out in the top of the 13th, tagging a Don McMahon (2-1) pitch for his first homer of the season. Purkey hurled 10 innings in attempt to get victory No. 17, leaving for a pinch hitter after allowing seven hits. Colts' starter Dick Farrell was taken out for a pinch swinger in the 12th after permitting only six hits.

Shaw (13-8) struck out seven and walked only two against the Cubs, recording his 12th complete game in 72 starts and lowering his earned run average to a sparkling 2.29. He lost his bid for his fourth shutout when George Altman hit his 17th homer in the fourth inning. The Braves scored two runs in the first when Dick Ellsworth (6-16) walked two batters, and uncorked a wild pitch before Eddie Mathews poked a two-run single to right.

Wings to Host Montreal Oct. 14 in Home Opener
DETROIT (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens—for the first time—will be the opponents at the Detroit Red Wings' home opener Oct. 14 at Olympia Stadium.

The Wings will open their National Hockey League season on the road Oct. 11 in New York and will play at Chicago Oct. 13 before coming home. Their schedule was announced Friday.

Detroit's busiest home nights again will be Sunday and Thursday. The Wings will be at Olympia 16 Sundays and 12 Thursdays. They also have three Saturday matinee dates, three Tuesday dates and one game on a Monday, New Year's Eve.

HOWARD'S FRONT
By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jon Douglas, who lost to Mexico's Rafael Osuna in the American Zone Davis Cup tennis match Monday, is a former Stanford University quarterback. He is a former Philadelphia Phillies pitcher. He is a former Philadelphia Phillies pitcher.

COULD BE FINEST
John Jacobs, junior from Bradford, Pa., has first call for the quarterback post. "He could be one of the finest," said Kushi, his experience is limited and the Sun Devils will just have to wait to see how he develops.

The only other signal callers are the youngest of the meet was the 1st hole-in-one in the tourney's five-year history. Hugh Cheesman bagged his last ever on the 180-yard 9th hole using a 9 iron. It was the 5th in all of the college time.

Kushi's teams always have been noted for their running game. He promised, however, that Jacobs will be doing plenty of passing to ends Locke, Dale Keller, Phil Misch, Herman (Ham) Harrison, Duquesne, Pa., and Alamo Hill, Bakerdick, Calif.

The tackles are young and for the most part inexperienced. Kushi feels that Mike Krotchick, National Heights, Pa., and Mike Cusack, Detroit, both 210 pounders, have the potential to do the job.

It is hoped that the transfer of Charles Karamak, Stillton, Pa., from fullback and Bob Koc, Cleveland, from end, will help strengthen that position.

Senior Steve Federbach, 210 pound letterman from Alliquippa, Pa., appears set at center on offense. However, a defensive counterpart must be found.

Kushi smiles when he talks about the future of the team.

Musial Will Play Again Next Season

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stan Musial, leading the major leagues in batting with a .357 mark at the age of 41, certainly plans to play again next season, close friends of "The Man" disclosed today.

A couple of those intimates are on the committee that is cooperating with the New York Mets in arranging a "Musial Night" when the Mets entertain the St. Louis Cardinals at the Polo Grounds Friday, Aug. 17.

"I see no reason why I shouldn't play next season," outfielder Stan was quoted as saying. "I'm still getting a lot of fun out of the game."

Sandy-haired Musial—who looks more like a business man in street clothes than a famous athlete because he stands only five-feet-11 and weighs 185 pounds—is still and getting a lot of dollars out of baseball, as well as fun.

Since the 1958 season, his salary is generally believed to have approximated $100,000 a year.

POPULAR IDOL
When friends of any successful man report that he has earned more than $1,250,000 in his career, there are usually a few of the envious who say, "I hope it comes."

Not so with Musial, probably the most continuously popular idol the game ever produced. Restaurants, hotels, clubs, and members of the committee, says: "I never heard of Musial being booed even once—anywhere—and that's amazing, for a player of his long-time popularity."

Even in Brooklyn, in the old boisterous days, Stan was not booed by the rabid Dodgers fans. In fact it was his Brooklyn admirers who gave him the name "The Man" because of his consistent hitting.

The "night" committee includes Arthur Godfrey of television and radio, Horace McMahon of movies and television, and Fred Corcoran, golf impresario and personal business manager of Musial.

When Corcoran was asked today about Musial's salary and wealth, he replied: "I never talk about my friends' financial affairs. Let's just say Stan gets a very large salary and is a very wealthy man."

On Sunday, Stan got two hits against Houston to bring his major league lifetime total to 3,501 hits.

and make him the third 3,500-hitter along with Tris Speaker, 3,515, and the late Ty Cobb, more than 4,000. Cobb finished a playing career at 43 and Speaker at 42.

Playoffs May Resume Today
Rain Delays Action Except for Widgets; Waterford Play Set

Only one city ball game was reported as played after steady rains drenched Pontiac diamonds day and night yesterday. Officials hoped to resume baseball and softball action today.

The Chiefs slammed the Rebels 10-3 in 4½ innings for a Widget International triumph in the lone contest. Dave Parsons and Roger Cox had two hits apiece and Rick Byers homered for the playoff victors.

Class E finals are slated for today at 2:30 with Americans Auburn Heights Boys Club and Webster Homes at Jayco, and Class F finals at 5:30 with the NL and International teams Great Lakes vs. Providence at Columbus-Joslyn.

In "D," Cranbrook vs. Pontiac Boys Club and Pontiac Central vs. Westside Edwards at 5:30. Class F teams were to try again.

Howe's Lanes can gain a berth in the Class B district softball playoffs by whipping Hi-Way Collision for the 2nd time at Beaudette at 7. Elks 810, Class A, has the same opportunity against Arco Realty at 8:30. Huron Bowl beats CIO 84 in a three-way battle for Class D at 7 at Northside. In "C," Fishery Club can end it by taking 300 Bowl again.

National League pairings were made last night with the top trio in the upper bracket and the next four in lower bracket. The IL drawings will be made tonight at 77 Clippings.

Two big games are on tap at Waterford tonight. A & W meets Hasdina Chevrolet in a major at 7. A & W can gain a playoff for the Class C title by winning. That would be Wednesday at 7 against Bob & Larry's. The "B" playoffs start tonight at 8:30 with 1-2 power Stron's and Spencer Floors battling.

STEELS, MOTORS LOSE

Two favorable news developments failed to stem the slide. Steel production was reported at a seven-week high and July auto sales were at the highest for the month since 1953. Both the steel and motor groups were among the losers. U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin were all down minor fractions.

General Motors, which declared a regular quarterly dividend late yesterday despite speculation that it would be a pie, fell more than 1/2 point. Ford and Chrysler were down fractions.

Many drug issues were particularly weak, apparently in response to continued unfavorable publicity, analysts believed. Merck was off more than 2, Pfizer about 1 and Schering almost 1.

The rail section showed a high majority of minus signs as Wall Street began to think action by the administration will be necessary to avert a rail strike later this month.

Prices also declined on the American Stock Exchange. Anker Chemical, Sherwin Williams and Aerojet General were all down a point or more. Higher in the same range were South Coast Corp. and Hartford Electric Light.

Prices proved within a narrow range, with only two early trades involving a fluctuation of a full point.

Activity was described as slow.

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporate bond prices edged higher at the opening today. U. S. Treasury bonds were a little weaker in quiet trading.

An over the counter dealer in government said some issues and intermediate term issues were up 2/32 at the start. Distinct maturities were quoted unchanged.

Activity was described as slow.

July Auto Sales Tops Since '55

Ward's Reports Says 511,679 Cars in June, 420,032 in '61 Month

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's Reports said yesterday sales of new domestic cars in July were the highest for the month since 1955.

The statistical service said 511,679 cars were sold last month, a daily average of 20,467, compared with 420,032 in July 1961, and 420,032 in July 1960.

The total volume was the lowest this year for any month since February.

The seasonal drop of 12.7 per cent from June was caused in part by higher-than-expected sales following lower-than-expected June sales. The drop was the smallest since 1956.

General Motors accounted for 54.4 per cent of all domestic cars sold. This was a drop from 56.2 per cent in June but well above the 47.3 per cent of the market held by GM in July of last year.

Ford took 26.8 per cent, against 33.2 per cent last year. Chrysler slipped from 11.9 per cent in 1961 to 10.8 per cent this year. American Motors took 6.8 per cent last year and 6.2 per cent last year. Studebaker edged up to 1.2 per cent after a mere 0.9 per cent last year.

After selling almost a cent a bushel lower at the opening August day on the board of trade and in the buying orders and within a few minutes had climbed about a cent a bushel above the previous close.

Brokers said the buying of both old and new crops months appeared to be toward reinstatement of long positions, an indication that some speculators considered the declines had hit bargain levels.

Who's Going to Win Power Battle? Congress or JFK?

(Editor's Note — The nation's Congress and its executives have been slipping away on end off through most of U. S. history. It's too early to tell which will become dominant during President John F. Kennedy's term in the White House.)

By KELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elihu Root, secretary of war in two cabinets, often characterized the enormous power of the presidency as a "battle-axe," and he went on to say:

"The man should swing a battle-axe as though it were a riding crop."

Today, critics of President Kennedy identify as one factor causing his difficulties with Congress the allegedly injudicious use of the "battle-axe." His handling of the steel price-rise case last spring, when the administration moved like an awesome juggernaut, is the example most frequently cited. It is not the only one, however.

"A strong feeling has been growing in Congress," says Rep. John Lindsay, R-N.Y., "that the Kennedys are trying to shut out debate. They have made basic grabs for power that are offensive to conservatives and liberals alike." (Note that he made it plural.)

JFK REQUESTS

A Republican senatorial document tabulated, as of June 1, a list of 27 requests by Kennedy which they describe as calls for "sweeping new powers."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says, "He (Kennedy) inherited enough powers to make his office a dictatorship, but one of the consistent patterns in this administration is the demand for more power."

The struggle between the executive and legislative branches of government is an ancient one.

And one theory among students of the amazing American system holds that the nation moved only when the President is strong enough to dominate Congress. It is too early to tell whether Kennedy will emerge as a "strong president." At the moment, he is not dominating Congress. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., says he is in a "state of disarray."

OWN CHIEF OF STAFF

In the White House, however, Kennedy is his own chief of staff. There is no "assistant president" who filters the enormous mass of business and gives priority to the problems.

He delegates authority widely. But he keeps a string on much of the major business and tends to follow through himself. Ralph A. Dungan, special assistant at the White House, recalls that "he phoned me at home one night—it was about 10:45—to ask about a small detail of something we had in the works." Members of the Cabinet give similar reports.

Kennedy's day begins around 7:30, with breakfast and a stack of newspapers in bed. He soaks up an incredible amount of news, editorial comment and columns before coming to his office. Sometimes, he goes beyond merely reading a story. Mention a given news report and he is apt to say, "Yes, I read that and I know where he (the writer) got it."

His office day seldom ends before early evening. A recent visit, leaving shortly after 7 o'clock, found three others with appointments waiting to see Kennedy. Evidently, judging from reports of his aides, he sometimes works at night.

PRESS SEC. CHANGES

A marked difference between this administration and President Dwight D. Eisenhower's appears in the office of the White House press secretary. James C. Hagerty, secretary to Eisenhower, would say, "The lid's on, boys." That told correspondents there would be no more White House announcements for the day. Kennedy's secretary, Pierre Salinger, can't always do that.

A veteran White House correspondent says, "Pierre may put the lid on but it won't necessarily stay on." Salinger wryly observes, "You aren't always able to predict accurately what the President is going to do." Reporters covering the White House have learned to ask Salinger whether it is safe to go to lunch on some days.

PERSONALITY STAMP

To a considerable degree, Kennedy's own personality stamps his administration. He is tough-minded, quick, incisive, highly articulate, a machingun talker who uses $ words. (For example, today's problems are not "complicated," they are "sophisticated.") You find the same characteristics in some of those around Kennedy—especially his brother, Atty.

Gen. Robert Kennedy, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, special counsel Theodore C. Sorensen and Salinger.

Some others, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Abraham Ribicoff, who recently resigned from the Cabinet, may speak more deliberately. But they have the same dry, astirring manner in discussing an issue.

OTHER PROS

In the White House today, along with Salinger, are some of the other professionals who played major parts in fashioning the campaign that elected Kennedy—Leavens F. O'Brien, Kenneth F. O'Donnell and Meyer "Mike" Feldman.

They have discovered that coaxing votes out of the Congress is, if anything, tougher than persuading the ordinary voter.

Kennedy recently said, referring to his troubles with Congress, "We should realize that some Democrats have voted with the Republicans for 25 years. And that makes it very difficult to secure the enactment of any controversial legislation." During the 1960 campaign, he said: "If we are really to move ahead in this country then a Democratic House and a Democratic Senate are necessary, but not enough. Without presidential leadership and presidential initiative and of votes, the Congress cannot do the job alone."

BLAME PLACED

Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., commenting on Congress' legislative record, says, "Maybe some of the blame belongs there (in Congress). But we think most of the blame belongs on the Kennedy administration. This cause for the failure of the Kennedy legislative program is a simple one—it is not popular with the American people and it is not popular with Congress."

In that connection, a question arises:

Is there a great demand, a compelling call, throughout the United States for some of the legislation the President has requested?

The proposed department of urban affairs, for example. GOP Rep. Lindsay says he voted "yes" on this, "because there is chaos in the conditions of many cities."

But he concedes that it is too complicated (or sophisticated) an issue for the man on the street and welfare, said American like to think that they believe wholeheartedly in schools. Similarly with federal aid to education. Ribicoff, before he resigned as secretary of health, education, "We don't have the commitment to education, though, that the President wants. Next: Business Labor and Government.

Report 15,000 in U.S. Received Thalidomide

WASHINGTON (U)—A food and Drug Administration spokesman said today that surveys indicate more than 15,000 American patients received thalidomide pills from U.S. doctors. About 3,200 of them were women of child bearing age.

"We have no information as to how many of these women were pregnant," said Wallace Janssen, FDA information director. "And we don't have any information at this point on the total quantity of pills given to doctors."

Senators were told in a closed session Monday that so far there have been no reports of malformed babies attributable to thalidomide pills dispensed in the United States.

But Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., told the Senate Monday no one can be certain until about Jan. 1 that no deformities will develop.

FEW REPORTED
Thalidomide, a sedative, has been blamed for the malformation of thousands of infants in Europe. It was not sold in the United States, but was distributed to doctors for possible experimental use before its effects in Europe were publicized.

There have been a few birth deformities in the United States blamed on thalidomide, but the cases reported so far involved supplies of the drug obtained abroad.

"In one case, however, a New York woman gave birth to a deformed child after taking thalidomide supplied by a Pack Avenue psychiatrist who obtained it from Germany. The child lived only 41 minutes.

Expect 25 Pct. of Eligible State Voters to Show

Little Opposition for Top Posts to Limit Interest in Primary Voting

DETROIT (U) — Only 25 per cent of the eligible voters were expected to turn out for today's primary election in Michigan. Most incumbent congressmen and the candidates for governor and congressman-at-large are running unopposed.

The only statewide contest on the ballot is one in which Republicans will choose a running-mate for George Romney, the party's unopposed candidate for governor.

Former Lt. Gov. Clarence Reid of Detroit seems to have the inside track, mainly because of past performance. Others vying for the post are Sen. John Stahlin of Belding and Constitutional Convention delegate Rockwell T. Gust Jr. of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Most voter interest should come in the 4th District where four Republicans are seeking the seat of Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, who is retiring after 28 years in Washington.

Hoffman reportedly has thrown his support behind former state senator Edward Hutchinson. The speaker of the Michigan House, Don Pears, and two attorneys are also trying to get the nomination.

The state's 19th Congressional District is being filled from the state at-large because Gov. Swainson would not approve any of the proposed new boundaries set up by the Republican-controlled legislature.

Candidates for this office are Neil Stabler of Ann Arbor, Democratic national committeeman, and Alvin M. Bentley, of Owosso, former congressman.

Party managers watched the total vote turnout for an indication of the relative popularity of Swainson and Romney.

Voter interest appeared to reduce sharply after U. S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart's decision delayed beyond the primary a Michigan Supreme Court order for state Senate reapportionment.

Earlier, the state Supreme Court ruled that the present apportionment of the state Senate was illegal and ordered reapportionment by Aug. 20.

Primary elections involving state senators were called off.

The ruling went on to state that if reapportionment was not completed by that time, senators would be elected on an at-large basis.

He Visits Old Home
He Had as NATO Chief

PARIS (U) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower returned today to the home he lived in as NATO commander in Europe and spent 40 minutes at the present home of the NATO commandant, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad.

Eisenhower made the stop on a drive through the woods of Marnes-La-Coquette. Later he went to the town hall of Marnes-La-Coquette to visit with the mayor and other officials.

Danes Protest Red Tests
COPENHAGEN (AP) — Members of the Danish campaign against nuclear weapons staged a silent demonstration at the Soviet embassy Monday night protesting against resumption of Soviet nuclear testing.

"The role of the law enforcement officer has become increasingly hazardous. Of the 71 officers who met violent deaths, 27 were killed by vicious criminals. Twelve killers were 21 years of age or younger."

"This problem boils down to the simple fact that in our land today the average man, woman and child is in greater danger than ever before of becoming a victim of this criminal onslaught. It means that day or night, at work or play, the individual's basic rights of personal security and pursuit of happiness are steadily diminishing."

"There is no one remedial answer. The causes and factors of crime are far too varied and complex. However, we shall see an abatement in widespread lawlessness as long as there is wholesale disregard for law and order in our nation. Indulgences and materialistic selfishness are eroding the tried and true American traditions of honesty, integrity and fair play."

As Five-Day Event Opens

1,500 4-H'ers Throng to Fair

BY JIM DYGERT
Bright skies greeted the opening of the 1962 Oakland County 4-H Fair this morning as some 1,500 boys and girls from throughout the county began to stream into the 4-H fairgrounds to compete for honors with exhibits of their year's projects.

Some 2,000 exhibits are expected to adorn the fairgrounds on N. Perry Street near Walton Boulevard for five days of contests, shows, parades and countless other activities.

Highlights of the fair's first day will be the crowning of the 4-H king and queen, Lyle McLachlan and Ricki Ann Hoxie, presentation of a Holstein heifer to a 4-H'er for outstanding club work, and a freckles contest.

These events will be part of today's evening program scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. They will be preceded by a livestock parade and followed by a cavalcade of horses.

Featured this afternoon will be judging of flower and vegetable gardening exhibits.

Big event tomorrow will be the annual 4-H parade, due to hit downtown Pontiac about 7 p.m., where it will pass before a reviewing stand in front of the old courthouse.

The Holstein calf awarded for outstanding club work will be presented by the Winifred Haas Foundation perpetuating the memory of the wife of the late Joe Haas, Pontiac Press Man About Town for many years.

Presentation of the calf will be made by Lee Winborn, Press Area News Editor.

Howard V. Holdenbrand, who became the Press' Man About Town after Joe Haas' death recently, will judge the traditional freckles contest.

Tomorrow night's program will feature the tractor operator's contest finals and a pie eating contest.

Judging of home economics exhibits, general exhibits and poultry and rabbit will take place during the day tomorrow, which also will be children's day.

Other exhibits at the fair will include projects in photography, knitting, entomology (study of insects), sheep, dairy animals and horses.

More than 20 junior leaders will be interviewed Thursday for selection as the outstanding 4-H'er in junior leadership.

Events scheduled for later in the week include a dress review, a leader dog demonstration and a dog obedience contest.

GM Declares Dividend
DETROIT (U) — A regular dividend of 50 cents a share on outstanding common stock was declared yesterday by the General Motors Corp. The dividend is payable Sept. 10 to stockholders of record Aug. 16.

Under Mr. Thatcher's direction the road commission this year launched the county's largest road reconstruction program in the past 30 years.

85,000 in County to Cast Ballots for Candidates

Sunny Skies in Area as Polls Stay Open to 8 o'Clock Tonight

Fifteen competitors in the game of politics will be benched today by Oakland County voters.

Ten others will stay on the field and get starting assignments in the main event next November.

The final lineup is being decided today as an estimated 85,000 voters march to the polls under sunny skies throughout the county. Voting started at 7 a.m. and will last until 8 p.m.

On the Democratic ticket, the county positions up for grabs are U.S. congressman, state committee member, sheriff, 4th District representative and 6th District representative.

Republicans, meanwhile, are picking nominees for the jobs of state senator, drain commissioner and representatives of the 1st, 4th and 5th districts.

Nine other county offices are slated on the ballot but candidates for these posts are unopposed.

In addition, county Republicans will have a voice in the statewide selection of a nominee for lieutenant governor, a post which three GOP candidates are seeking.

UNOPPOSED OFFICES
Democratic and Republican candidates for two other statewide offices on the ballot—governor and congressman at large—are unopposed for nomination.

In the most hotly contested county race, con-con delegate Richard D. Kuhn and Troy Mayor Robert J. Huber are challenging incumbent Farrell E. Roberts for the GOP nomination as state senator.

Other Republican contests and the candidates are: drain commissioner, incumbent Daniel W. Barry; and Art Becker, 1st district state representative, incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson and Michael Carl; 4th district state representative, incumbent Raymond L. Baker and Terrence E. Nagle; and 5th district state representative, incumbent William Hayward and Donald W. Sargent.

On the Democratic portion of the ballot, offices and candidates are: U.S. congressman, George E. Lemmon and George J. Fulkerson; drain commissioner, Daniel T. Berry and Roy J. Russell; sheriff, William A. Smith, Kenneth C. Hart and Homer Hight; 4th district state representative, Maxwell M. Gorman, Albert A. Kramer and Archie H. Bailey; and 6th district state representative, Bill S. Bauman, Les Walker, incumbent John C. Hitchcock and Thomas Kaleza.

Fisher, Pontiac to End '62 Run
Grand Total 521,933, 181,298 More Than in 1961 Year

Automotive production in Pontiac will begin grinding to a halt tomorrow when General Motors Fisher Body Division plants start shutting down 1962 model lines.

Pontiac Motor Division will complete production of its '62 models Friday with a final total of 521,933 cars — 181,298 more than were assembled during the 1961 model run.

E. M. Eslen, GM vice president, and Pontiac general manager, said the total includes 174,706 Pontiacs and 145,183 Tempests.

GM Truck & Coach Division is scheduled to start shutting down for changeover to '63 models Aug. 17.

Approximately 18,500 GM production employees in the city will be furloughed while inventories and model changeovers are being completed in the plants of all three divisions.

Both Pontiac and Truck & Coach divisions are scheduled to resume assembly operations Sept. 4. Fisher Body is expected to return to production a couple days before.

A Last Favor

DIMAAGHO AT MORTUARY—Joe DiMaggio, second husband of Marilyn Monroe who died last Saturday night, enters the offices of the Westwood Village Mortuary in West Los Angeles late yesterday to assist in making final arrangements for Miss Monroe's funeral. The funeral and interment will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Telephone Call to Marilyn Adds Puzzle to Tragedy

HOLLYWOOD (U)—A mysterious phone call in the night shortly before Marilyn Monroe was found dead added still further conjecture today to the tragedy that befell the blonde movie queen.

There already remained the question of whether she died intentionally or accidentally.

"I don't remember what time the call came in," said the actress' housekeeper, Mrs. Eunice Murray Monday. "And I don't know who it was from."

"But knowing Marilyn as I do, I think that if this call walked her up, she might have taken some more sleeping pills."

Coroner Theodore J. Curyphy said the death Saturday of the actress was caused by a massive overdose of barbiturates.

Mrs. Murray added that the unidentified call might account for the phone being found cluttered in the hand of the sometimes bright and gay, sometimes depressed star.

In New York City, Miss Monroe's Manhattan apartment at 441 E. 57th St. was sealed by police.

70 Safe in Landing Accident

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Seventy persons aboard an American Airlines plane escaped serious injury in a landing crash blamed on gusty winds which blew the plane off a runway Monday during a thunderstorm.

The right wing of the four-engine electric turbine propeller plane ripped off and caught fire. The fuselage sagged about 30 feet away.

Alan Atkin, airport manager, said the separation of the wing and fuselage probably saved the lives of the 65 passengers, and five crewmen.

"If the wing had not torn off, the plane would have burned with the passengers aboard," Atkin said.

Two persons, a mother and her 10-year-old daughter, were injured, neither seriously.

The plane was bound from Dallas, Tex., to New York.

STEWARDS HELPS
Passengers, including Reps. Cliff Davis, D-Tenn., and Dale A. Ford, D-Ark., hailed stewards Nancy Roof, 23, of Dallas, Texas, as a heroine.

Miss Roof hurried her 100-pound body against an emergency door repeatedly until it opened allowing passengers to escape.

A thunderstorm was in progress and wind gusts up to 40 miles per hour swept the airport as the plane approached Knoxville.

"We were taking a terrific beating as we approached the field," Aford said. "I felt we were going to crash. I don't know how the pilot did as well as he did."

Capt. Vic James of Ft. Worth, Tex., the pilot, said a wind gust blew the airliner off to the right of the runway, causing the right landing gear to collapse.

He said the plane then skidded in an arc and the right wing ripped off and caught fire. Airport firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

HOOPER

In his current message, to all law enforcement officials, J. Edgar Hoover summarizes the startling mathematical advance crime has made in this country.

"The FBI Director says: 'The avalanche of crime sweeping our nation today is a shocking disgrace and a broad indictment of the American people. Some 1,520,000 serious crimes were committed in 1961, topping the all-time high record of the previous year by 3 per cent. During the past 5 years, crime has outstripped the growth of population 2 to 1.'

"Youthful criminality continued to rise. Arrests of people under 18 were up 4 per cent above 1960. This age group represented 43 per cent of all arrests for the more serious offenses of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, and automobile theft."

"The role of the law enforcement officer has become increasingly hazardous. Of the 71 officers who met violent deaths, 27 were killed by vicious criminals. Twelve killers were 21 years of age or younger."

"This problem boils down to the simple fact that in our land today the average man, woman and child is in greater danger than ever before of becoming a victim of this criminal onslaught. It means that day or night, at work or play, the individual's basic rights of personal security and pursuit of happiness are steadily diminishing."

Don't Turn Tiny Plant Gift Into Big Jungle of Trouble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day I got a potted plant from one of my children. I think it came from a local florist with a card which read, "From the — family." I am sure it came from one of my sons, who lives about 300 miles away. I am real angry about it. I think they should have at least signed their given names.

wants to know the pattern and manufacturer, she should ask her hostess. It is improper to examine it for trade marks.

DEAR ABBY: I am an ex-sailor, married a year. We are both 31 and, Abby, can you believe it, I am trying to teach my wife how to wash dishes. She never rinses the soap off dishes or glasses. She says you don't have to go to all that trouble because the dish towel does that. I never eat at her mother's because I don't like soggy tea.

Can a dish towel remove soap? Please put your answer in the paper. She won't believe me.

EX-SAILOR

DEAR EX - SAILOR: You don't have to join the Navy to know how important water is! A dish towel will NOT remove soap residue. Rinsing is necessary. People have become violently ill from unriused dishes and glassware.

DEAR ABBY: You can tell "From Missouri" that when our son was two weeks old he turned COMPLETELY over in his crib and we have witnessed to prove it.

Now he is 28 months old, and four-year-old neighbor boys are afraid to wrestle with him. How about that?

MRS. EUGENE A. HUBBUCK

Marries in Evening

All Saints Episcopal Church was the setting for the vows of Barbara Ann Kintz to Eugene A. Hubbuck spoken before Rev. William Lyle Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony.

Before leaving for a northern Michigan honeymoon the newlyweds received some 200 guests at a buffet supper and dances in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick E. Kintz of Covert Road, Waterford Township, and the late Mr. Kintz. Parents of the bridegroom are the Orville A. Hubbuck of East Huron Street.

The floor-length bridal gown of white silk organza over Chantilly lace featured a delicate lace and a draped hemline caught with rosebuds. A double crown of seed pearls held her bouffant silk illusion veil.

All-white roses, carnations and Stephanotis were arranged in a cascade.

Mrs. J. D. Nicley attended her sister as matron of honor, and their cousins Carole and Karen Gordie; also Mrs. Donald Ogg, were bridesmaids.

Their ballerina-length dresses of cell blue pease satin featured portrait necklines and controlled bell skirts. They carried blue-tipped and white carnations.

Larry Campbell of Sylvan Village was best man. Donald Ogg ushered for his brother-in-law with Robert Gallardo and Ronald Campbell.

White gladioli accented Mrs. Kintz' dress of metallic gold and a pale blue Italian silk sheath dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds will live in Pontiac.

Newlyweds Take Trip Through New England

Touring the New England States and New York this week are Gerald D. Hesse and his bride, the former Joyce Duckett, who were wed Saturday in Christ Lutheran Church on Williams Lake Road.

Potted white flowers adorned the altar where the Rev. Wayne E. Peterson performed the wedding ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Waterford Community Center. The couple will live in Waterford.

Daughter of the Ernest F. Duckets of Clarkson, the bride appeared in a tiered gown of white lace styled with round neckline, wrist-point sleeves and chapel train. A double crown of pearls secured her bouffant veil of silk illusion.

She held a crescent of yellow roses and white carnations as did her matron of honor, Mrs. James Hatfield of Warren. The bridesmaids, Diana Campbell of Davisburg, Mrs. Dolan Palmer of Waterford and Judy Evans, Clarkson, carried round bouquets. All wore identical dresses of yellow chiffon over matching satin.

Tip Waiter but Not Owner

By The Daily Post Institute
Q: I live in a glorified boarding house. The family built this beautiful big house several years ago but after the husband died, his widow found it very hard to get along and decided to take in paying guests.
Most of the guests also have their meals here. The widow has two daughters who help out. One waits on table and the other cleans the rooms.
I would like to know whether the daughters should be given tips for their services considering the relationship.
A: You do not tip the owner of the house, but it is correct to tip whoever waits on you at table and takes care of your rooms, even though they be the daughters of the owner.

Q: My father-in-law is deceased and my husband was asked to give his sister in marriage. After walking up the aisle with her he took his place next to his mother in the first pew.
An elderly aunt of my husband's also sat in the front pew with his mother. I was seated in the second pew.
Am I wrong in assuming that I should have been asked to sit in the front pew with his mother and my husband, or that my husband should have at least taken his place beside me after walking up the aisle with his sister?
A: You are right; either you should have been seated in the first pew or your husband should have joined you in the second pew.

Miss Detmer Married in St. Michael's Church

Mary Ellen Detmer chose a gown of white satin styled with chapel train and bodice hand-appliqued with seed pearls for her marriage to Dallas M. Adkins Saturday in St. Michael's Church.

Her veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl crown and she carried Stephanotis and ivy surrounding a white Cattleya orchid. She is the daughter of the Richard J. Detmers of Victory Drive.

A reception in the Knights of Columbus hall followed the morning ceremony performed by Rev. Herbert Mansfield.

Bouquets of pink carnations complemented dresses of mint green nylon organza over tulle for the bridegroom's sister Pamela who was maid of honor, Carol Morris, bridesmaid, and Kathleen Detmer, her sister's junior attendant. Richard Detmer, the bride's brother, served as best man and David Hendrix ushered. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Adkins of Wilson Drive, Drayton Plains.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Detmer chose a blue floral silk print, white brimmed hat and corsage of white rosebuds and blue carnations. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in a sheath dress of brown eyelot over organza. Yellow carnations accented her corsage of white rosebuds.

ACCEPTED BY MANY! Model of New Miniature Hearing Aid Given

A most unique free offer of special interest to those who have not yet understood words has just been made by the American Hearing Aid Society. A miniature hearing aid will be given absolutely free in addition to a free hearing examination. No one who answers this advertisement, without cost or obligation of any kind, is ever asked to pay. The cost of this hearing aid is only one of its many features. It is small, light, and a third of an ounce and fits all ear types. It is not visible from the outside and is easy to handle. It is a real hearing aid for the hand of hearing.

These models are free while the limited supply lasts, so we suggest you call or write for yours now. Again we repeat, there is no cost and certainly no obligation.

A mining town right out of the Old West is the setting for the Bret Harte play "Maybe It's Love" presented by the Cranbrook Summer Theater School this evening and Wednesday. Rehearsing are (left to right) Nancy Walker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.

Gerald R. Walker of James K. Boulevard; Jim Briney, son of the James Brineys of East Iroquois Road; and Alice Colombo, daughter of the Louis J. Colombos Jr. of Bloomfield Hills.

Cranbrook Readies Big 'Mellerdrama'

Cranbrook Summer Theater School presents "Maybe It's Love" by Bret Harte at the Cranbrook Greek Theater as the culmination of the school's 21st season.

The show opens at 8:15 this evening and Wednesday evening.

The plot of the melodrama centers around a mining town in the Old West, complete with gold seekers, city slicker and a pretty girl. The murder of the miner after he struck gold is one of the exciting actions of the play.

The dramatics and music were adapted by Carl G. Womberger, director of the school. The play is double cast. One group presents the play one night and then different people play the leads the next night.

Some of the cast members are Frank Roland of Southfield, a teacher at the school; Anne Marie d'Huyve of Bloomfield Hills, Judith Sherman of Detroit, Julie Lane of Chicago and Jan Detwiler of Franklin.

Tickets for both performances are available at the gate.

Man-Tailored

(UPI) — Numerous are the man-tailoring touches in the fall and winter clothes. These show in suit jackets with button additions to the sleeves, in seaming to give a trouser crease effect, and in the men's suit fabrics showing in women's apparel.

More for Petits

(UPI) — The number of clothing manufacturers catering to the small woman—the five feet four inches and under—grows steadily on Seventh Avenue, heart of the nation's garment center. Numerous firms announced addition of petites to their regular size collections for fall.

Long Sleeves In

(UPI) — Sleeves are coming down for fall. Almost every major New York manufacturer showed suit and coat sleeves to the wristbone. Still in, however, the sleeveless wool dress or blouse beneath.

The Voice Improves With Use

An unattractive voice is a social disadvantage. Although it requires diligence and effort to improve pitch and pronunciation, it can be done.

If you have a tape recorder, you're fortunate, for you can hear yourself. Practice daily to correct whatever your voice fault may be and listen to the playback to see how you're coming along.

If you don't own a tape recorder, you can still set up a program of voice improvement.

Each night read the newspaper aloud. Whether or not you have an audience, you'll find you are reading in your "company" voice—doing your best, if only to impress yourself.

Before long, you'll be speaking that way at all times. And you will have provided yourself with another social asset—knowledge of current events. You will not only find that your speaking voice and pronunciation have greatly improved in just a few weeks, but you'll be an interesting conversationalist as well.

Gloves are meant to be worn—not to be carried.

Spark Up!

Old clothes aren't for a rainy day. What a rainy day calls for is rain wear in bright colors, and a cheerful outlook on the weather.
