Fall Has Its Pleasures

"HERE THEY COME" — This cry was a welcome reminder to Boyce Knight (left), of 110 S. Merrimac St. and Harold Knight of 371 Hazelmary St., that with the arrival of fall plenty of enjoyable hours of duck hunting lay ahead.

FUTURE GRIDIRON STARS—The usual bitter taste of having to return to school in the fall is lessened somewhat for these youngsters. They can easily forget their books when they gather on a neighborhood playground for a good game of football.

AN ANGEL ONE MINUTE . . . — Ronnie Johnson, 12, of 158 Green St., paid heed to his parents' warning that he "better get out and rake the leaves before playing" Saturday. But it wasn't long before Ronnie's halo was replaced by a little devilish trickery.

. . . A DEVIL THE NEXT — With his fall chores out of the way, Ronnie gets a kick out of playing around in the yard. Here he messes up his hard work much to his parents' displeasure.

Pontiac '58 Goal: Fifth in Industry

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

With an entirely new line of cars for 1958, Pontiac Motor Division expects to substantially increase its share of the retail car market next year. It is aiming for fifth place in the industry.

This was the goal outlined this morning by S. E. Knudsen, general manager of the division, at a press showing of the Pontiac cars in Detroit.

With an anticipated market of at least six million units next year, Pontiac's goal would require about 500,000 cars.

New car registration figures to date indicate Pontiac should deliver about 360,000 cars of the current model, a modest increase over last years deliveries.

Pontiac is one of the General Motors Divisions to escape the slump that hit GM production volume this year. It shares this distinction with Cadillac. While GM's over-all production volume this year to date shows a drop of more than a quarter million units from last year, Pontiac's 262,692 car assemblies is nearly 2,000 ahead of its 1956 performance.

In common with most of the car markers, Pontiac had its biggest year in 1955. It built 581,860 cars that year and delivered 536,007 of them at retail.

Details of the new cars are withheld pending public announcement either late this month or early in November. It is no secret, however, that Pontiac has made major engineering and styling changes in the wholly new cars for '58.

In addressing newsmen this morning Knudsen said, in part:

"We've made basic changes in basic chassis construction. Displacement has been increased to 370 cubic inches, giving us outstanding engine performance, more torque improved acceleration.

"Air ride and fuel injection will be available on all models. Twin dual headlamps will be introduced this year for the first time by Pontiac.

"And, as for style, our car has an entirely new body—a distinctive new silhouette—a full four and one half inches lower than our '57—both longer and wider than anything we've offered in the past.

"Sixteen entirely new body styles highlight four series—two of these models new to the line—the Bonneville Sport Coupe and the Chieftain Convertible.

Discussing the business outlook, Knudsen said:

"About our nation's economic health, we, too are confident. The men who run this country's industries are betting billions of dollars on its continued growth. Sharing their optimism are government appraisers who see continually rising activity.

"All signs are that there will be relative stability, with a modest rise in activity."

Skies Are Clear for Fifth Game

Series Square at 2-2 as Yankees Send Ford Against Burdette

MILWAUKEE (INS)—Mickey Mantle, biggest gun in Casey Stengel's arsenal was missing from the starting lineup today when the Milwaukee Braves met the New York Yankees in the fifth game of the all-even 1957 World Series.

MILWAUKEE (INS) — Clear skies and a warm sun sent the thermometer over the 60 mark for today's fifth World Series game between the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves.

All even at two victories each after the first four games, the teams will fly to New York immediately after today's game. However, there will be no game tomorrow which was left open for travel. The sixth game, and a seventh, if necessary, will be played at Yankee Stadium on Wednesday and Thursday.

Hysterical Brave fans who spent most of the night riding through the city streets honking their auto horns after the exciting 10-inning Sunday victory, again jammed the park to its 45,000 capacity.

Lew Burdette, the fidgety right-hander who beat the Yanks in the second game, 4-2, was the Braves' hope to send them out of their home park with a 3-2 edge in this best-of-seven competition.

Whitey Ford, the chunky left-hander who whipped Warren Spahn in Wednesday's opener with a five hit 3-1 victory, was the Yankee pitcher.

As they headed into the fifth game, rookie Tony Kubek was the leading hitter of the series with a .412 average on 7 hits in 17 at bats. Henry Aaron topped the Braves with a .375 mark.

★ ★ ★

The Yanks had outscored the Braves 22-15 and had a .263 team batting average as compared to Milwaukee's .211. However, the Braves had made only one error to the Yanks' three.

Russians Tracking Satellite

United Press Radiophoto

TRACING ORBIT — Technicians at the Moscow Planetarium use a huge globe to help track the Russian satellite as it continues its earth-circling voyage in space. Although the Russians have referred in advance to cities over which the space ball was to pass, an official of the Smithsonian Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., says it will take nearly three months to determine the satellite's precise orbit.

Hydrogen Blast Reported Made at High Altitude

U.S. May Spurt Ahead With Rocket-to-Moon From Space Balloon

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON—A touring Soviet scientist said this afternoon the second Red satellite to be sent up in the "nearest future" would be heavier than the baby Red moon now circling the earth and would contain at least three scientific experiments.

Prof. A. A. Blagonravov said the experiments would involve cosmic ray measurements, studies of the lyman-alpha component of the earth's electrical field and outer space temperature measurements.

Blagonravov made the statements as he left the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory following a tour of Project Vanguard facilities. Vanguard is the Navy code name for the U.S. satellite program.

Blagonravov said the launching date of the second Red satellite would depend upon information gleaned from a study of the Soviet-made moon now circling the earth at five miles a second.

He would not commit himself to say whether this would take one week or one month to do, but indicated it would be closer to a month.

The Russians also announced today they have successfully exploded a new type hydrogen bomb.

The announcement said a "powerful hydrogen device of new design" was tested at a great altitude yesterday.

The announcement was made over Moscow radio while the world was still looking in stunned amazement for the Soviet man-made moon circling the globe.

The emphasis the Soviet announcement put on the "new design" of the latest hydrogen bomb attracted especial attention here. And the speed with which the Russians disclosed the explosion —

Let Public Conscience Go to Work

Ike, Faubus Silent; Permit Cooling Off

From Our Wire Services

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus and President Eisenhower appeared to be in temporary agreement on one thing today—to keep quiet and let the conscience of the country work on Little Rock's integration problem.

Faubus cut himself off from contact with newsmen Sunday and an aide said he planned to make no news on the integration issue today.

The governor plainly was playing a waiting game in his dispute with Eisenhower. But Little Rock church and business leaders, anxious to have a "cooling off" period during which public opinion can be mobilized behind some compromise, could count this a blessing.

The third week of Army-enforced integration began quietly at Central High School today with nine Negro students making a quiet entrance to continue their integrated education.

Principal J. W. Matthews appeared on the sunlit steps at the main entrance and cleared it of about 50 lounging white students in advance of the Negroes' arrival.

In contrast to last week's 30 or more armed escorting troops, only a half dozen federalized National Guardsmen walked beside the six Negro girls and three boys as they entered school. There was no heckling although several score white students looked on from school windows or at a distance on the campus.

A surface calm overlaid this focal point of the South's integration struggle during the weekend. But

Four Area Schools Hit by Epidemic of Influenza

Increased absences in area schools last week and today were cited by Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the Oakland County health department, as an "explosive type of upper respiratory epidemic . . . and some of the cases are probably Asian flu."

The greatest increase in absences reported today remains in the Holly school system where 510 of the 2,016 students in three schools were missing from their desks.

Holly Superintendent Charles Coggins reports seven high school and two elementary teachers of a staff of 80 were also absent today with flu symptoms.

Two Pontiac parochial schools have also been hit by the flu bug, although attendance in the public schools was not reported below last week's normal figures.

There were more than 100 students absent from St. Frederick School today compared to the average of 18 absentees per day according to Sister Christine, principal. There are 774 enrolled in the elementary and secondary school.

Attendance began to drop Thursday when 83 were absent and the figure rose on Friday to 101.

New Pot-O-Gold With $500 Prize Begins Today

A brand new Pot-O-Gold puzzle worth $500 starts today on page 25. You might as well be the winner, and you can be with just a little time and effort.

All you have to do is read the rules and clues and then pick out the words that best fit the descriptions.

★ ★ ★

After you've selected the words, just write the number of the words in the corresponding blanks of the puzzle form. Put the puzzle with the right answers on a postcard, have it postmarked before midnight, Oct. 15, and you'll be a winner.

Now what could be easier?

Moderate Weather, Clouds Predicted

For the Pontiac area, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts partly cloudy with not much temperature change for tonight and toworrow. The low tonight will be 46-50 degrees and the high tomorrow will be near 65.

The forecast for tomorrow night is partly cloudy and mild with the mercury dipping to a mild 50.

In downtown Pontiac, 51 was the lowest recorded temperature before 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the mercury had reached 65.

Series on 'Autocide' Starting in Press

Both bewildering and tragic are the current records on motor vehicles, fatalities and injuries.

Beginning in today's issue of the Pontiac Press, this newspaper as a public service, will offer the first in a series of 10 articles, written by outstanding authorities in their respective fields presenting their views on how this problem can be met.

You will find the first article on page 17.

Blame Rogues in Warsaw Riots

Outbreaks Continue for Fourth Straight Night in Polish Capital

WARSAW (INS) — Communist Polish officials blamed "Hooligans" today for the fourth straight night of rioting in Warsaw.

Rifle-toting militia, joined in some cases by Warsaw University students, clashed with the demonstrators in restoring order in last night's outbreak.

The Roman Catholic primate of Poland, Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, threw his prestige behind attempts to restore order in the tense Polish capital.

In a sermon at St. Ann's church near Warsaw University, the cardinal told the congregation that conditions in Poland are "often very difficult and complicated, but you should learn to work for our country."

The cardinal was freed from police detention less than a year ago at the height of the Polish "liberalization" campaign.

Hams Glued to Sets for Signals

Pontiac Watchers May See Satellite Tonight

Sharp-eyed and patient residents of the Pontiac area might perform a miraculous first this evening when Russia's earth satellite makes another pass over the earth's surface.

But according to Dr. Orren C. Mohler, assistant director of the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, chances of seeing the artificial moon "are mighty, mighty slim."

While some take their chances, "ham" radio operators in this area will be glued to their sets continuing to pick up the signal from the sphere which is reportedly whirling around the earth at 18,000 miles per hour.

One such "ham" is Albert R. Lewellen, of 2124 Devonshire Rd., Bloomfield Township. Along with a companion yesterday, he listened intently for hours to the signal on his commerical short wave radio.

Dr. Mohler reported that scientists theorized that since the satellite presumably passed over the vicinity of Minneapolis at 7:30 this morning, 12 hours later it probably would travel over this general area.

The astronomer warned that predictions might be off 200 to 300 miles because radio signals from the "moon" are inadequate to determine its exact location.

"It's hard to tell what part of the sky to look at and at what time to look," he said. He explained it would be above the horizon for only three minutes possibly sometime between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. and traveling from the southwest to the northeast.

"It won't be a startling bright object," the doctor said. "It is not as bright as the planet Venus, scientists say."

The observatory has no official program to observe the satellite, Dr. Mohler added. "Our telescopes are very poorly adapted for such observation as this where you have to scan a very wide area," he said.

USE BINOCULARS

Staff members of the observatory would continue to watch for the object "on their own," the director said. Most would use binoculars.

He didn't rule out the possibility that the sphere might be visible with the naked eye. However, he said these chances would be "slimmer" than with the binoculars.

Knowledge of the inclination of the orbit in which the 184-pound, 23-inch object is speeding, permits scientists to predict that it will return over this hemisphere again 12 hours since it passed first.

The Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills is not participating in observing the satellite

Space Missile Control Sought

West Readies U.N. Plan Calling for Regulation by World

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP) — The West readied a U.N. disarmament resolution calling for international control of outer-space missiles today while a Soviet satellite circled the earth.

American sources said they thought the Soviet Union's launching of the world's first man-made moon would deeply affect "the whole feeling about the urgency of the disarmament negotiations."

They said perhaps 20 nations would submit the resolution tomorrow or shortly after for debate to begin probably Wednesday in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee.

Diplomats reported the resolution would have the 82-nation Assembly call for resumption of negotiations in the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee on the basis of six Western proposals:

(1) Agreement on measures to control outer-space missiles; (2) cessation of production of fissionable materials for use in weapons; (3) gradual transfer of military atomic stockpiles to civilian use; (4) an end to nuclear tests; (5) cuts in arms and armed forces, and (6) ground and air inspection covering the whole of disarmament.

Britain, Canada, France and the United States proposed this program to the Soviet Union in the five-nation subcommittee in London Aug. 29. The Soviets rejected the plan and the subcommittee talks recessed in deadlock eight days later.

Heart Attack Kills Dad at Wyandotte Ball Game

WYANDOTTE (INS) — Funeral service was being arranged today for a 63-year-old Wyandotte man who died of a heart attack three hours after collapsing at a fotball game in which his son was expected to play.

Police said Gerald Whalen died in Wyandotte General Hospital. His 16-year-old son, William, was to play at the Wyandotte Roosevelt High School field.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is it true that the best cooks cook by the weather?

Yes, there is scientific basis for cooking by the weather. Experienced chefs know that there are certain cakes and icings which cannot be satisfactorily made in rainy weather.

Cakes fall and icings turn out too grainy. Certain candies, like pralines, do not become creamy. This is due to the great amount of moisture in the air, which is picked up by the ingredients.

Because moisture has such a great effect on certain kitchen products many recipes are varied —are slightly different in the dry western states from those recommended in the other states, proof that the weather has a considerable effect on cooking.

16 Die on Crowded State Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sixteen persons lost their lives in Michigan traffic accidents over the weekend.

Pleasant weather, college football games and hunting trips crowded the highways with cars.

In addition, an 11-year-old boy was fatally wounded on a hunting trip, a man died in an industrial accident, a construction worker was crushed between two trucks and a man drowned in Lake St. Clair.

The Associated Press tabulation runs from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

Here is a list of the victims:

Russell J. Cole, 29, Jackson, was killed Sunday night in a two-car collision on a curve of U. S. 112 just west of Moscow in Hillsdale County.

★ ★ ★

Ward Walker, 11, Manistique, was killed Sunday when struck in the chest by a bullet from a small caliber rifle on a hunting trip in Mackinac County. State Police headquarters at East Lansing said the shot was fired accidentally by the youth's brother Gary, 12.

Norman V. Lasiter, 19, Benton Harbor, suffered fatal injuries Sunday when his car hit a tree south of St. Joseph.

Bruce Balcom, 28, and Michael Riley, 24, both of Lincoln Park, were killed Sunday when Riley's car hit a tree in Dearborn.

Ronald Birchmeier, 19, of New Lothrop, was killed Sunday in Saginaw County. Deputies said his car and another sideswiped on a narrow bridge near Chesaning.

Robert Bullard, 21, Burt, was killed Sunday in a two-car headon collision in Genesee County.

Fred Smart, 43, Marquette, was killed Saturday night in a truck-car smashup in Marquette County.

Carol Weakland, 9, Detroit, was killed Saturday when her family's car in which she was riding collided with a gasoline tank truck near Livonia.

Robert L. Jarvis, 22, Ypsilanti, was crushed between two trucks while working as a checker for a construction firm on the Toledo-Detroit Expressway Saturday.

Edward Dziesinski, 44, died Saturday when caught in a conveyor belt while working at the Wyandotte Chemical Corp. plant at Alpena. He was crushed to death.

Mrs. Delores Blossom, 27, Belmont, died early Saturday in a two-car collision on U.S. 131 near Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Joe T. Nixon, 22, St. Clair, was killed Saturday when the car he was driving crashed into a ditch near St. Clair.

Ross Christiansen, 54, Detroit, was killed Friday night when his car crashed into a parked truck in Detroit.

Lonnie B. Burdette, 50, Detroit, was killed Friday night when struck by a car in Inkster.

Mrs. Eulab Eckhardt, 56, Lake Odessa, died Friday night in a car-truck collision on U. S. 16 east of Grand Rapids.

William Broderick, 35, Grosse Pointe Farms, drowned Friday night when he fell from a cabin cruiser in Lake St. Clair.

Harry Sarris, 61, and Minnie I. Hartog, 72, both of Detroit, were killed Saturday night when their car hit a freight train in Genesee County.

Lambert Gryzen, 46, Hudsonville, died Saturday night when his car and a lumber truck collided near Hudsonville. Police said Gryzen was thrown from the car and the auto toppled over on him.

Dairy Strike May Be Short

Reported Pact Contains 8-Cent Wage Hike Plus Other Benefits

A settlement of the dairy strike which threatens to cut off half of the milk supply of the Detroit area including Pontiac may by made today.

A spokesman for the 17 creameries affected, including Maple Leaf and V. A. Nye dairies of Potiac, said leaders of the striking dairy workers have agreed to place a management proposal before their 2,800 workers today.

He said the local's officers would recommend adoption of the proposed terms by the membership.

Details of the pact reportedly called for an eight-cent hourly wage-hike, with pension and hospitalization insurance.

Carl Burger, secretary-manager of the Detroit Milk Dealers Assn., said the agreement was reached in a marathon meeting with representatives of the United Dairy Workers Local 83.

Although the union voted to strike Sunday, milk supplies on hand should take care of today's deliveries, according to John O'Keefe, Local 83 president.

The union was reported to be asking for a boost of 10 cents an hour, with the dairies offering a lesser amount.

Negotiations continued throughout the night at Detroit's Park-Shelton Hotel. State Labor Mediator Walter Quillico and Federal Mediator Paul Ricketts aided in the negotiations.

Another threat, however, looms to the area milk supply.

Homer Martin, organizational director of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn., said today, "This strike, as a dairyman's strike, just hastens our strike for a higher milk price.

"Our action is closer than we think. There will be a joint meeting in Owosso Saturday of the DFCA board of director and a state strike committee to determine the exact time of strike action."

Charles C. Lockwood, president of the Greater Detroit Consumers Council predicted today the settlement of the milk strike will bring an increase in retail milk prices for two million metropolitan area residents.

He said farmers in the Detroit milk shed were disturbed because dairy workers get more income for distributing milk than they receive for producing it. Lockwood concluded:

"The settlement will only add to the tension. One thing we can be sure of is that any increase in wages to a handful of dairy workers means an increase in retail milk prices."

Parochial Schools, Holly Hit by Flu Bug

tendence decrease was also evident this morning for the first time when 60 instead of the normal dozen students were absent. The school has an enrollment of 657.

C. T. Forsman, assistant principal of Pontiac High school, said this morning there was a "slight increase in absences and a greater number of students than usual were sent home because they felt ill." He said the flu was not "wholesale" yet.

The great amount of absence occurring last week in Waterford Township High school dropped today, from Friday's 389 to 301 of the total of 1,427 students.

Monroe said that he would not recommend the schools to close, since this decision would be the school administrations job. He estimated the epidemic would last a total of at least four weeks.

Ready for Use Last Year

'Army's Jupiter C Missile Able to Launch Satellite'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A noted authority on outer space said today the Army could have launched its huge Jupiter C guided missile into outer space as a satellite last year, had it so chosen, but an "astonishing piece of stupidity" prevented it.

But, said Dr. I. M. Levitt, "the Pentagon chose to ignore the fact that we had a device capable of launching a satellite and decided to develop another."

He said the Defense Department was deep in the development of the Vanguard Rocket for launching a satellite in the International Geophysical Year and decided to concentrate on this rocket when the Jupiter C was already capable of accomplishing the task.

He said the Pentagon explained this "astonishing piece of stupidity" by asserting the "Jupiter was designed as a missile, not as a satellite launcher, and that work on the missile — as a weapon— should continue."

Levitt, director of Fels Planetarium here, said "this of course retarded the satellite program. It may have speeded the missile program; I don't know.

★ ★ ★

"But it certainly let the Russians score an astounding propaganda victory over the United States."

Levitt said the United States could have "achieved a satellite moon just like Russia's by doing little more than changing the angle of fire" in a test conducted at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

The Jupiter C reached a speed of 15,000 m.p.h. in the test according to an article in Missiles and Rockets magazine last December. The Army declined comment on the article but other sources said the information was accurate.

Levitt said the Army did not fire the last stage of the three-stage rocket. This last stage, he said, would have boosted the Jupiter's speed to 18,000 m.p.h. needed for placing a satellite in an orbit about the earth.

The Jupiter was fired as a surface to surface missile but even so, Levitt said, it reached an altitude of 650 miles.

"It would have been a satellite then and there" had it had sufficient speed to counteract the pull of gravity and put it in an orbit, Levitt said.

The rocket landed off South America, some 1,400 miles west of Ascension Island.

The last stage of the rocket, if launched, said Levitt, could have been used as an artificial moon. The last stage engine and fuel tank would have orbited around the earth.

The amateur operator said he watched the pulse on an oscilloscope and could see the change in its length. He said he received the signal at 20,005 kilocycles.

He said "hams" needed a deep frequency oscillator (DFO) to blend the signal in to make it audible.

Harold Gasser Dies of Heart Attack

Service for Harold H. Gasser, general sales manager of Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Corp., will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Birmingham. He died Sunday of a heart attack.

Mr. Gasser, who lived in Birmingham, was a one-time baseball star at Michigan State University and a past president of the University's National Alumni Assn.

He was graduated from Michigan State in 1925 and joined Kelsey-Hayes 28 years ago, becoming the firm's sales manager in 1955.

Mr. Gasser was active in the Society of Automotive Engineers and Masonic orders.

New Soviet 'Moon' Ready to Launch

the next day — was significant. Usually they wait — or even keep the tests secret even after they are detected outside the Soviet Union. The last previous reported Soviet nuclear test was Sept. 24.

The spinning Soviet space satellite apeared to be turning slower today and one scientist gives it a month to live.

Dr. Alan Shapley of Boulder, Colo., revealed plots made at the National Bureau of Standards Laboratory at Boulder showed the artificial moon had slowed to one revolution every seven and one-half seconds.

Previously scientists had calculated its rate of spin as one revolution per each three seconds.

Dr. Shapley said this indicated the tiny globe has slowed down and would eventually drop back into the ionosphere. He gave the satellite one month of existence.

When the globe swings back toward the earth it is expected to burn up as does a meteorite.

WAIT FOR WINDS

Money-pinched scientists on air force project "farside" a reference to the never-seen far side of the moon—are ready to send up their balloon and four-stage rocket whenever the winds turn in their favor.

Thus far, high level policy and lack of funds have been hampering them, rather than nature. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson once proclaimed that the air force "has no business going to the moon."

Their equipment is now ready to be used, however, at the Eniwetok Pacific Proving Ground for atomic weapons.

With it, the Air Force scientists hope to escape the earth's atmosphere and gravity, come within the moon's gravity, swing around the back side of the natural satellite, and return back toward the earth.

All the time, if plans do not go amiss, a television camera would be sending pictures of the moon back to earth. Other instruments in the nose of this space ship also would be transmitting invaluable information.

The rockets would not be intended to orbit around the earth as the Russian satellite is now doing.

The big problem for the scientists will be to reach the enormous speed of seven miles per second to break free of the restraining pull of earth gravity.

Even the highly-vaunted Russian satellite launching rocket only reached a speed of five miles per second, according to U. S. scientists.

President Eisenhower was kept informed over the weekend on the Soviet space satellite story.

And Moscow reports the Russian people are tickled pink that their scientists have grabbed the lead from the Americans in the satellite field. But they're not surprised. The Russian people believe Soviet science leads the world.

Radio Moscow announced tonight that the carrier rocket which launched the first earth satellite is also revolving around the globe.

Tot Falls From Car, Escapes Serious Injury

A two-year-old Pontiac boy was injured Sunday as he fell from a car going 50 miles per hour on U.S. 10 at Tripp road, Groveland Township, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

William R. Vuncannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Vuncannon, 63 Whitfield St., escaped with minor head and face cuts, said officials at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. X-rays showed no fractures, and he was treated and released.

His parents said he evidently opened a rear door and fell out.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission to Study Communications, Reports

BIRMINGHAM — Communications and reports make up the agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting.

Among the most important of the reports is that of City Manager L. R. Gare, concerning the issuing of driver's licenses in Birmingham.

Gare said a secretary of state recommendation is to cut the issuing time. Licenses now may be obtained at any hour, any day. It is suggested that a one-week trial period be given the following schedule:

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, licenses would be issued from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Wednesday hours would be from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. No licenses would be issued Saturdays or Sundays.

★ ★ ★

Police Sgt. Richard E. Brown was discharged from William Beaumont Hospital Saturday, five days after being shot through the chest by an armed intruder in a Birmingham home.

"Brownie" reported for duty Sunday, but was ordered home after he had completed a few reports.

The annual meeting of the Birmingham community Halloween Party Committee is scheduled for 4 p.m. Tuesday at the Community House.

Chairman Rollie Reese urges that all societies and service clubs have their representatives present.

With its next baptismal service scheduled for Oct. 20, the Rev. Emil Kontz, D. D., of the First Baptist Church has announced classes in Biblical baptism. The last will be held in his study at the church at 9:45 a.m. Oct. 13.

Dr. James A. Lewis, University of Michigan vice president for student affairs, will address the first fall meeting of the local unit of U. of M. Alumnae Club. The meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Russell Strickland, Country Club drive, Bloomfield Hills.

Following the formal program, a tea will be held to welcome new members into the group. Eligibility is based on those who have attended the University of Michigan, whose husbands were graduated from there, or who have children enrolled there now.

The membership committee consists of Mrs. Stewart Crane, Mrs. Howard Canfield, Mrs. J. W. Johnson Jr., Mrs. Kenneth McGregor, Mrs. Fred McKewen, Mrs. R. W. Schmid, Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Clavin Patterson, Mrs. L. E. Quinn, Mrs. William Randall, Mrs. Leslie Stauffer, Mrs. James Temple, Mrs. William Vincent and Mrs. Hugh White.

Officers for the coming year are Mrs. Robert Klintworth, president; Mrs. Sylvester Leahy, vice president; Mrs. William Bird, recording secretary; Mrs. Lewis Sappington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Neil Hyde, treasurer; Mrs. Sylvester Trythall, Mrs. Paul Robertson, Mrs. S. W. Bychinsky, Mrs. Edwin George, Mrs. Frederick Adams, Mrs. Stewart Cram, Mrs. Robert Watt and Mrs. Norris Host, board of directors.

Robert L. Jarvis

Service for Robert Lewis Jarvis of 708 Pearl St., Ypsilanti, and former resident here, will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. Jarvis, checker for a construction firm on the Toledo-Detroit Expressway, died Saturday from injuries received when he was crushed between two trucks.

He was graduated from Michigan state University in June, receiving his degree in business administration and his commission as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

He was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook and Alpha Tau Omega.

He is survived by his wife, the former Judith Ann Dedoes, whom he married in August; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy O. Jarvis; two sisters, Jean and Susan, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Flora M. Jarvis, all of Birmingham.

Mrs. Florence L. DeSalle

Service will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday from Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. for Mrs. Florence L. DeSalle, 79, of 2151 Manor Rd. She died Saturday at the Green Lake Rest Home after a year of illness.

A resident of Birmingham for two years, she was a member of Central Woodward Christian Church, Detroit. Her only survivor is a son, Albert DeSalle of Birmingham.

Siamese Twin Girls Reported Doing Well

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Children's Hospital reported today that 10-day-old Siamese twin girls separated by rare surgery are both doing well.

The children, Patricia and Pamela Schatz of Carle Place, Long Island, N.Y., were operated on Saturday. During the operation, Patricia's heart stopped and was massaged back into action by a surgeon.

The twins were joined at the pelvis but are described as normal in other respects. Patricia also suffers from a congenital heart lesion and is what is called a "blue baby."

The children were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Schatz in Mercy Hospital, Rockville Centre, Long Island. They weighed a total of 14 pounds at birth.

4th French Quintuplet Dies After 5-Day Fight

TOULON, France (AP) — Roland, last but one of the Christofle quintuplets, died about 4 a.m. today after a five-day fight for his life.

Doctors would make no prediction about the chances of survival for the remaining baby, Michele.

The five babies were born Wednesday, three months prematurely, to Mrs. Camille Christofle, wife of a social security official. A boy and two girls died within 12 hours.

Indonesia has the greatest number of Moslems in the world.

After 28 years in news work, Ashley joined the Michigan State University public relations staff early this year, and was with MSU at the time of his death.

He graduated from Michigan State in 1929 and took a job on the Big Rapids Pioneer in his home town. He stayed on the Pioneer nine years, serving as city editor.

Ashley served five years in the U.S. Army during World War II, emerging as a major in 1946.

In that year, he joined the Associated Press at Grand Rapids. He resigned in 1954 to become Capitol correspondent for Federated Publications, Inc.

$6,000 Fire Strikes Pontiac Home, Garage

A fire started in the garage and spread to the roof, attic and upper story of the James Carter Jr. home at 51 Hovey St. Saturday evening.

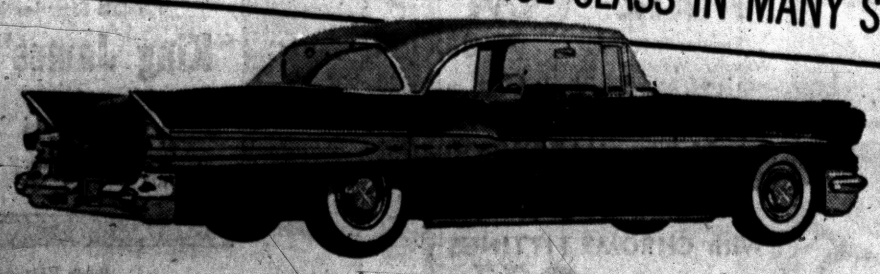

Pontiac firemen battled the blaze for more than two hours before extinguishing it. Damages to the building are estimated at $4,000 while contents suffered $2,000 damages.

NATO Fleet Prepares

Arctic Ship Drills for Atom Attack

ABOARD U.S. CARRIER FORRESTAL (AP)—Ships in the NATO fleet, on a training maneuver north of the Arctic Circle, have been holding daily practices to show crews how an actual atomic attack might develop.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes the drill was based on assumption of an airburst of a nuclear bomb above the fleet, sometimes with the idea that an enemy had detonated a bomb beneath the surface to shatter hulls with the shock wave and envelope the fleet in the radioactive mist called "base surge."

Aboard the Forrestal, this is what the drill was like:

Three sharp, piercing, beeping notes on the loudspeakers throughout the ship. The voice of a talker, "atomic attack probable." The scurry of feet racing to position in general quarters; the metallic slamming of doors and hatches, dogged down securely to divide the ship into watertight and airtight compartments.

The familiar background noise of the ventilating system, the pumps, the steam catapult machinery cuts off abruptly. Silence—and waiting—pervade the ship in all its many decks and compartments.

★ ★ ★

The talker, from his place deep down at control center near the bottom of the ship, speaks again:

"Atomic attack imminent."

More silence, more waiting. Then the voice again:

"Subsurface burst at 12,000 yards! Flex your knees! Hit the deck!"

You flex your knees to soften the hammerlike shock of the blast transmitted through water into the hulls of ships, a shock which can be felt even on observer ships nine miles away. Personnel aboard target ships could be thrown up against the overhead or into bulkheads and injured or killed, even though the ship itself eventually escaped destruction.

★ ★ ★

"Secure gas tight envelope." "All openings to the outside of the hull are sealed tightly, to prevent contamination drifting in. The air in the ship is recirculated, but no fresh air is drawn in.

"Base surge expected to engulf this ship in about five minutes."

Another interval of silence, then:

★ ★ ★

"This ship is engulfed in base surge."

More orders:

"Damage control parties check all spaces for fire or flooding." "monitor teams make additional survey for contamination; all hands stand clear of salt water lines; do not drink fresh water."

Through a passageway, a monitor team hurries, the men dressed in white contamination proof suits, wearing masks to filter out radioactive particles, carrying Geiger counters.

The results of their surveys begin coming in—"175 roentgens per hour at 03-71 2-1" (a position on the ship expressed by frame number, deck number and passageway number.)

"At plus 17 minutes, 200 roentgens on flight deck, 125 roentgens on hangar deck." The roentgen is a measurement of the intensity-time radiation. The measurements given here would be fatal dosages if personnel were exposed for any more than a brief time.

In theory—though not in practice because of the corrosive effect of salt water on the aluminum skins of aircraft—the entire external surface of the Forrestal would be flushed off with sea water pumped through an elaborate spray system, to cleanse the ship of contamination.

Ike Stays on Farm to Play More Golf

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower extended a weekend stay at his farm home today in the hope of getting in another round of golf.

Eisenhower had no scheduled engagements at the White House in Washington, and indications were he would not return there until late in the day.

Cold weather and heavily overcast skies kept Eisenhower indoors yesterday after 18 holes of golf both Friday and Saturday at the Gettysburg Country Club.

He played both days with George E. Allen, Washington businessman who has a farm near the Eisenhower place.

Mrs. Eisenhower is at the farm with the President. This is the First Lady's first visit since she underwent surgery Aug. 6.

Lansing Editor Heads University Press Club

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Kenneth R. West, managing editor of the Lansing State Journal, Saturday was elected president of the University Press Club of Michigan. He succeeds George C. Mather, editor of the Albion Evening Record.

Meredith Clark, publisher of the Vicksburg Commercial, was named first vice president and Arthur P. Gallagher, editor of the Ann Arbor News, was elected second vice president.

Russia First With Man-Made "Moon"

A few months ago, The PRESS pointed out that current Russian claims should be taken more seriously than they had been in the past.

For a time, Russia's glib assertions of achievement were just an international guffaw. They lacked sustenance and the elements of truth. But then our channels of observation began to report that the Reds were on the march.

★ ★ ★

It's different today.

They really clicked.

That doesn't mean that Russia has upset any global apple carts or struck terror to the hearts of other nations with her "moon." However, in the light of this artificial satellite the world must concede that Russia is "on the ball" in scientific circles and her laboratories have accomplished some marvelous results.

She has a tremendous "first."

It was a long time coming.

But it's here.

In everything else, Russia trailed; she always remained a distant and dismal second to the U.S.A. But now she scores a victory. Her "man-made moon" is a record breaking event and something the world will universally acclaim as a geophysical victory.

Perhaps this is a good thing. It may leave us less complacent and more eager to bend to the tasks ahead. It may provide the necessary catalyst leading to redoubled energies in that and other directions.

★ ★ ★

This nation dislikes to get beaten at anything, but no one wins all the time. Here's a global race and battle and we've lost. And yes, our golf team dropped the Ryder cup for the first time in 24 years the same day. Apparently, we must clamp a heavier foot on the accelerator in things big and small.

Mongolian Assignment to Test Molotov Skill

When Foreign Minister MOLOTOV was made Ambassador to Outer Mongolia, it seemed to be a good way for KHRUSHCHEV, whose authority he had challenged, to get rid of him without a firing squad.

That move may not have been all it appeared to be. There are many predictions of a coming conflict between Russia and China for domination of the Communist world. Outer Mongolia after 300 years is a link between these two countries and could be a battleground.

With an area six times that of Texas and a population of only one million, it was a closed country until 1945 with the defeat of Japan. Visitors were not welcome and very little news leaked out except from the one party Russian style government. Diplomatic relations now have been established with India, Burma and Indonesia.

Forty years ago the capital city of Ulan Bator consisted of a Buddha palace, a lamasery, 4 temple, a two story Czarist consulate and wooden shacks. A Russian reporting to his government at that time said there was no industry, no education and no agriculture.

All that has changed. Ambassador Molotov will find a city of 100,000, wide streets, white buildings, a central square, museums, an opera and ballet theater, a university, libraries, clinics, sewer system and electric power.

Agriculture is thriving, factories process meat, produce veterinary serums and make cloth, boots and other leather goods. 70,000 Mongolians are now in industry. Oil has been discovered in the Gobi desert. The airport in Ulan Bator is being enlarged to accommodate the Tu 104 airliner from Moscow to Peiping.

★ ★ ★

The popular mood of the moment, according to the London Times, is one of passionate nationalism and eagerness for independent contact with the outside world. As the Russians have given modern Mongolia its technology, educational, health and political systems and its Slavic alphabet, it may not be too difficult for the able Mr. MOLOTOV to swing some of that enthusiasm to the disadvantage of Red China.

A STATISTICIAN says a certain beautiful Swedish model has 21,719 freckles. He is probably the only freckle-counting statistician in the whole wide world.

Only 16 Are Left

Contest Promises an Early Finish; May End Saturday

Argument: On which there are two sides—and usually several corners.

Our football contest, which had 3,814 entries, is rapidly getting down to small numbers. Only 16 survive for the fourth game next Saturday.

When Duke beat Maryland, 14-0, Saturday, 30 of the 59 entries who had survived the first contest were eliminated. They were the 27 who picked Maryland and the 3 who predicted a tie game.

The 29 who picked Duke carried over to Sunday's game between the Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers, 16 of whom picked the Lions and 13 favored the Packers. The Lions won, 24-14.

The next contest game is Oct. 12, when the 16 survivors divide their predictions as follows: Michigan State, 10; Michigan, 5; tie game, 1.

"We Can See the Trees Now Without That Old Forest"

David Lawrence Says:

May Give Parents School Choice

WASHINGTON — The big news in the "segregation - integration" controversy is not at Little Rock, but here in the nation's capital.

LAWRENCE

Talk now is of a "compromise" solution though really what is being proposed doesn't require either side to give up its fundamental beliefs.

For it now is realized in high places that mere withdrawal of Federal troops from Arkansas will in and of itself settle very little. The real question is recognized as being much broader—finding some way to stabilize the whole situation throughout the country for several years to come.

The latest plan which is being considered by some of the White House advisers—though it has not yet been broached to the President himself—is being brought to the attention of several Southern leaders through intermediaries to ascertain the reaction. Some of these leaders already say they favor it in principle but want to know more details as to its possible scope.

The proposal, briefly, is that a triple system be set up in the public schools based on freedom of choice. There would come into being not only all-Negro schools and all-white schools, but also mixed schools.

Parents would choose in which category they preferred to enroll their children. The selection and decision, therefore, would be by the parents—not by the school authorities of city, county or state.

The father and mother of the children would be the judges of whether they want the psychological benefits of mixed schools or of separate schools.

SPECIFIC ACT

How would the Supreme Court view such a plan? The answer being offered is that the court would then be confronted for the first time with a specific act of Congress which would supersede any previous ruling of the court.

The Fourteenth Amendment itself explicitly gives to Congress alone the power "to enforce" the terms of the amendment "by appropriate legislation."

How, it is also asked, would Congress get the right to legislate in the field of education which is supposed to be the exclusive power of the several states?

★ ★ ★

The answer given is that Congress would in no sense undertake to control or regulate public schools as such, but would merely appropriate money, along with the states, for public school buildings and facilities.

In doing so, Congress could specify that its appropriations could be used for a triple system of school buildings and facilities. This, it is argued, would meet the constitutional question.

In many small communities, of course, the same buildings could be used by all groups but separate classrooms or sections would be maintained for each of the divisions of students in keeping with the system of parental choice.

APPROPRIATION BILLS

Where extra buildings or facilities are needed, appropriation bills would carry the permissive or optional form for states to follow in accordance with the desires of their citizens.

The 1954 ruling of the Supreme Court would remain in effect insofar as it would bar any "state action" that prohibits the establishment of mixed schools. The ruling also would apply, for example, against anyone who exerted undue pressure on any parents in their exercise of freedom of choice under state laws.

The President's advisers realize it may run up against the opposition of extremists on both sides in Congress, but the sponsors are confident it would have a strong public opinion behind it.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Big Threat' of Asian Flu Seems to Be False Alarm

"Please give a series of articles on the Asian flu threat which is causing so much comment. Such articles should be most helpful. (W.E.H.)"

So far it's all "threat" and nothing more to speak of.

DR. BRADY

Discounting the "threat" whipped up by the superfluous "health authorities" who have plenty of time to spend on publicity work, and discounting the promotion of the scare by professional propagandists — the wonderful new vaccine is to cost only "pennies" (66 of 'em per dose!) you know — this so-called Asian flu appears to be mostly false alarm.

In the medical journals, where one looks for reliable evidence, the reports have been singularly unsensational so far.

Now, the health authorities say, "Little protection against the new virus" (that is, the virus that causes Asian influenza) "is gained by vaccination with existing influenza vaccine."

GET IN LINE

So there you are. Better resign yourself to it and get in line for the very latest vaccine, at 66 pennies per dose.

Usual manifestations of influenza — American, Spanish or Asian — are: great weakness, high fever, headache, cough, sore throat and general aches or pains. The illness lasts four or five days. Following the illness, the patient complains of extreme weakness for a week.

The less self-doctoring, the better. Taking pain-killers without resting for an hour after every dose is a foolish practice in any circumstance, in my judgment. If you happen to be coming down with the flu, it is likely to prove disastrous, because every such drug, even aspirin, damages the heart and breaks down or interferes with the red blood corpuscles — whose function is to carry oxygen to all the body cells.

If you even spspect you have flu, yet can't afford or haven't the sense to call the doctor, stay snug and warm in bed for 24 hours and isolate yourself behind a suitable mask — as described in Call H C R I (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Abstain from aspirin (acetylsalicylic acid), acetanilid (phenylacetamide, monoacetylaniline), phenacetin (acetphetidin) or the numerous nostrums of which these sense - deadening drugs are the main ingredients; eat what you like when you're hungry; and drink water, fruit juice, soup, tea or milk.

No harm applying oil, salve, liniment, vapor, heat, cold, camphor or other "penetrating" or smelly stuff if such treatment diverts you. But really, now, you don't believe the moon is made of green cheese!

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Troops were sent to Arkansas only after Faubus took it upon himself to disregard the Supreme Court decision that schools should be integrated. Supreme Court judges are supposedly wise, educated and experienced men, qualified to decide such issues. We, the common people, know very little about them other than what we read in the papers and hear on news broadcasts, and we must have faith that such men are doing what they think best for the whole nation.

Troops were first called out by Faubus to prevent integration in contempt of the court decision. If the governor had abided by the decision, all or most of the ensuing violence might have been avoided. The court must be supported when its decisions are so flagrantly disregarded.

Faubus may be doing what he thinks best for Arkansas, but there are 48 states in this Union, and the best interests of all must be served.

Oxford Students Ask Clarification

There is a question in the minds of Oxford High students. We did no booing during the game, and we didn't show bad sportsmanship after being beaten. Clarkston students weren't admitted to the dance because it's a school policy that all after-game dances are open to Oxford students only.

We hold closed dances to avoid any misunderstanding between teams and to avoid destruction of property which has occurred in the past by students not from Oxford High.

Poor sportsmanship is a broad topic and since no specific incidents were mentioned in the first letter, we have no way of knowing what it referred to. We don't think we showed poor sportsmanship, and if we did, we'd like to know how.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

If Amon Carter were alive and kicking today Fort Worth would have a team in both leagues. And a third standing by in case of a tie.

When Amon was boosting Fort Worth he wouldn't take no, yes or maybe for an answer. He was a fellow who put up the wallpaper before he took down the scaffolding.

Kentucky, Connecticut and Rhode Island were in the National League as early as 1876. So was Indiana. But where's Texas?

Amon was a fellow who could do anything but make it rain. They should look over his desk again. He must have blueprints somewhere for a baseball park with bases 180 feet apart, two pitching boxes and a seating capacity of 400,000 men or 80,000 hosses.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And thou, Ezra, after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hand, set magistrates and judges, which may judge all the people that are beyond the river, all such as know the laws of thy God; and teach ye them that know them not.—Ezra 7:25.

Debates Use of Delinquent's Name

Editor Ben Maidenburg raises a question that causes arguments among psychiatrists and criminologists, as well as alert newspaper readers of both sexes. Discuss this problem with your own teen-agers. Debate it in high school. And lay it before your church groups, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-313: Ben Maidenburg, versatile executive editor in Akron, Ohio, offers a fascinating debate topic.

DR. CRANE

All of our discerning newspaper editors have also been faced with it for many years, and it is not as simple as some readers may imagine.

"Dr. Crane," Ben Maidenburg began, "If we print the names of juvenile offenders in our newspaper, then some very fine people in the community charge us with not giving youth a break.

"They accuse us of labeling such a teenager unfairly. They argue that we thus prejudice his future chances in life and may actually predispose him to become a permanent criminal type.

"On the other hand, if we omit his name from the newspaper account of the crime, another group of very sincere people will reprimand us for aiding and abetting delinquency by thus shielding young lawbreakers.

"Every good newspaper tries to exert a positive, constructive influence on the entire community.

"So could you outline this dilemma confronting us editors in order that readers can see its many aspects?"

Yes, and I am happy that Ben Maidenburg raised the issue, for it is time the general public threshed out all the pros and cons.

★ ★ ★

First of all, please remember that there are various kinds of first offender.

Here's a boy, for instance, who has been spoiled and allowed to be a headstrong imperious dictator of his easy-going parents, even before he enters kindergarten.

He filches money from his mother's purse, and steals the tricycle of the youngster down the block.

Later, when he reaches school, he steals crayons and loots the pockets of coats that hang in the wardrobe.

In high school, he may even break into lockers and take money. But maybe he never gets caught until he finally steals an automobile or breaks into a gas station or tavern with a gun, to rob the cash register

★ ★ ★

When he is listed on the police docket, it may actually be his first official crime, yet he is already a lifelong or "habit" criminal.

Does such an offender deserve the same consideration as the boy named below, who comes from a law-abiding home.

But after a high school ball game, this second boy joins a mob of his classmates to celebrate. They happen to be dominated by a wild young leader who snake dances them down the boulevard and into a candy shop where they grab $500 worth of chocolates and other merchandise.

★ ★ ★

This youth never broke a law before, yet now is a party to a mob's illegal action. Is he as bad as the habit criminal described above?

CRIMES OF PASSION

Certain offenses, too, are regarded as crimes of passion, instead of premeditated wrongdoing.

Thus, a husband who comes home to discover his wife in the arms of another male, may suddenly go berserk and strike the latter. He may even kill the intruder who is disrupting his home.

Courts usually are more lenient with such emotional crimes performed by previously law-abiding folks.

Before we vote on this general issue of whether to print the names of juvenile offenders or hide their identity, we should also realize that some egotistical show-offs gloat over getting their names and pictures in the newspaper, even though they are meanwhile depicted in prison cells.

In their juvenile gang, such notoriety gives them social prestige, so they save such newspaper clippings as eagerly as an actress does her press notices.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE DEAD SEA

QUESTION: Is there any life in the Dead Sea?

ANSWER. Palestine's Dead Sea, famous since Biblical days, is actually not a sea at all. It is a 47-mile-long lake, without inlet or outlet. Its brackish waters contain 25 per cent salt, compared with 4 to 6 per cent in ocean waters. In the Middle Ages, strange legends grew up about the Dead Sea. It was said that no birds could fly over it and that its depths contained the remains of the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Birds do not fly in any great numbers over the lake because the water is too brackish and salty to support marine life and there is little vegetation around its shores. Fish do live in small, spring-fed lagoons about its shores but are soon killed by the large amounts of chloride and bromide in the water if brought into the main body of the lake. Some living bacilli are found in the mud of the lake, but no animal life of any size.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Add salt to a shallow bowl of water, wait for it to dissolve, and try floating various small objects that would sink in clear water. People can float easily in the Dead Sea but find the high salt content extremely irritating to the skin. The picture, which you can color, shows a Biblical boy eating lunch by the sea.

'Honesty Market' Sells Fruits Without Clerks

SUNSET BEACH, Calif. (AP) — There is a roadside stand near the Meadowlark Country Club and people in the vicinity have come to know it as "Honesty Market."

The stand has fresh fruits and vegetables. One customer wrote the Long Beach Independent about the operation, saying: "In four years we have never seen a clerk at this market. The prices of all items are marked and in bags and boxes, and you simply drop your money in a box. Today the cars were lined up 10 deep while people shopped."

OK to Steal Ladders, but Please Return Daily

ST. VINCENT, Minn. (AP) — The St. Vincent village council ran this notice in the New Era, weekly newspaper at near by Pembina, N. D.:

"To anyone knowing the whereabouts of the ladders from the St. Vincent Fire Hall: Would appreciate having them returned. Anyone using these ladders should return them to the fire hall each evening so in case of fire they can be readily found."

Needs Interpretation

NORMAN, Ola. (AP) — "Let me see that," a Norman father yelped after being informed his wife has requested she be excused from jury duty because of (10) minor children.

He read the note and sighed with relief. His wife had requested she be excused because of the 10th item (minor children) in a list of grounds for excusing jurors.

Youth Shoots Girl Friend, Self

Bodies of 18-Year-Old Pair Found in Home After Shooting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An 18-year-old youth shot a girl choir singer to death and then killed himself in her home, police said today.

The bodies were found on the living room floor Saturday night, a .22 caliber rifle nearby.

One Trooper Gives His Life

Officers Prove Courage, Devotion

DETROIT (INS)—William Allen, 37, of Mount Clemens, mumbled "I'm going to get one of these cops" and opened fire on a Macomb County Sheriff's officer.

Minutes later, after 17 shots had been fired, Allen was dead.

That was two Saturdays ago. Since then, three other men who armed themselves against the law in Michigan also have died.

So has Dugald Pellot, a 23-year-old Michigan State Trooper from Tecumseh.

★ ★ ★

Allen and two companions, one his ex-wife, held up a Harrison Township tavern and escaped with more than $200. Two Macomb County deputies gave chase and the bandits finally pulled their car to the side of a road. The shooting followed.

A trail of blood and horror reminiscent of "mad dog" John Dillinger began Monday near Evans Lake in Lenawee County.

State trooper Donald A. Vogel, 31, of Clinton, pulled over two cars for speeding. A man in one of the cars shot Vogel and both autos roared away. The wounded officer radioed, "I've been shot."

Sgt. Fred O'Donnel and Pellot, of the Clinton post, jumped into a car and finally pulled abreast of one of the fleeing automobiles. The car halted.

Pellot was approaching the auto when he was shot down by a .44 caliber slug imbedded near his heart.

★ ★ ★

The desperadoes, Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, of Kenova, W.Va., and Victor W. Whitley, 26, of Granger, Tex., wounded three other officers and killed an Indiana State Trooper in a spree through Michigan and the bordering state.

The horror ended Tuesday when Whitley surrendered near North Vernon, Ind. Taylor had been fatally wounded in one of the duels and his "buddy" had pitched his body from the car.

Whitley may "burn." He dashed madly from Michigan where there is no capital punishment, to Indiana, where first degree murder is punishable upon conviction by death in the electric chair.

★ ★ ★

On Wednesday, Mrs. John Van Alstyne Jr., of Birmingham, called police and said a bandit had forced his way into her home and was holding her husband at gunpoint.

Sgt. Richard E. Brown of the Birmingham police force went to the house. He was barely inside the dwelling when the bandit, his face clumsily masked, shot him in the left side.

The gunman's pistol then jammed and the wounded officer pumped five shots into the intruder, who died later.

Van Alstyne told police he was walking to his garage to get into his car and drive to work when the bandit accosted him.

The dead thug was identified as Frank R. Frahm, 58, an ex-convict.

★ ★ ★

Another trouble call ended in a shooting on Thursday. Mrs. Wilma Baker reported her husband, Robert, a gardener at an Avon Township golf course, had threatened her with an eight-inch butcher knife.

Baker was shot twice, in the hand and leg, when he charged an Oakland County officer with the knife after nearly 20 officers went to his home.

Few people doubt the bravery of law enforcement officers. A number of Michigan Lawmen proved their devotion to duty this past week.

One gave up his life.

Gas Refunds This Week

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. says refund checks totaling $4,086,000 for 940,000 customers in the state are coming up within a week. The checks, amounting to $6 to $11, are refunds of money paid as a result of a rate increase by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., a Michigan Consolidated supplier, later declared excessive by the Federal Power Commission.

The sequoia tree is estimated to live 2,500 to 3,000 years and reaches heights of more than 300 feet.

Weds Dr. Zako in Martha-Mary Chapel

Mary Jane Soper Is Sunday Bride

Mary Jane Soper became the bride of Dr. Louis R. Zako of Chicago, yesterday, in an afternoon ceremony at Martha-Mary Chapel, Greenfield Village.

* * *

The Rev. Howard McClintock of St. Paul Cathedral, Detroit, officiated in the presence of 150 guests.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Soper of 3086 Moss Dr., Keego Harbor, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Zako, of Chicago.

* * *

Wearing a gown of imported embroidered silk with a mandarin neck, fitted bodice and a ruffled, full skirt which cascaded into a full chapel sweep, the bride's illusion veil was secured by a double wedding ring of lace and tiny seed pearls.

* * *

Her bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Walter of Pontiac, Mrs. Robert Frue of Belleville, Mrs. Donald Griffin and Mrs. Edward Zako, both of Detroit, were bridal attendants. Flower girl was Wendy Walter.

* * *

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Edward Zako of Detroit. Ushers were Maurice Binkow of Alexandria, Va., Michael Rosinia of Chicago, Jerold Scheel of Detroit and John Sommerfeldt of Ann Arbor.

* * *

Four hundred persons attended the 7 p.m. reception in Slovene Hall, Detroit.

* * *

After honeymooning in Montreal and Quebec City, the couple will reside in Chicago, where Dr. Zako is now interning at St. Luke Hospital.

Moore Defends Appraiser Role

Supervisors Meeting Today to Talk About Streamlining

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore today defended his past appointments of Oakland County supervisors as estate appraisers.

In a letter to the Board of Supervisors this morning, Moore said he was willing, however, to change his policy of appointing supervisors to the lucrative appraisers' jobs.

Moore's letter was read as a prelude to a committee-of-the-whole meeting at which supervisors were prepared to consider revision in county government.

* * *

Chief among the proposed changes is one to bar supervisors from accepting positions as appraisers.

Judge Moore furnished figures which showed that so far this year only four per cent of the county's estate appraisers were supervisors.

Most of these were nominated by heirs and not selected by himself, Moore noted.

Of a total 468 appraisers appointed through Sept. 6, he said, nine were supervisors he selected and 14 were supervisors nominated by heirs.

Heirs nominated 393 persons who were not supervisors, and 52 non-supervisors were selected by the court, Moore said. He added that the 1956 figures follow the same pattern.

* * *

The judge defended the qualifications of supervisors to serve as appraisers when they are local assessing officers or real estate brokers.

"I feel there is nothing incompatible with an assessor-supervisor rendering this service to the probate estates. I am quite proud of the caliber of these men and will stand firmly upon the exceptional results of their public service."

Of the hundreds of appointments which he has made, only two have ever been tested in court, he noted.

The policy of having state appraisers appointed by probate court has been in operation in Oakland County for many years and is common throughout the state.

However, Moore said that if the board of supervisors takes action today to reverse this policy "I will be very pleased to follow a different policy."

Asks Mackie Include Pontiac Expressway

Broomfield Hits Road 'Neglect'

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) today criticized State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie's failure to include a Pontiac area expressway in his recent five-year highway plan.

Broomfield said Mackie is "neglecting" Oakland County's need for a north-south arterial highway.

In a public statement, Broomfield asked that the highway plan be revised to include a major highway paralleling U.S. 10 (Woodward) from Detroit through Pontiac to Flint.

Broomfield's statement, sent to Mackie today by letter, follows:

"Both Royal Oak and Pontiac appear to be overlooked in the state's five-year $1 billion highway plan, to be financed mainly by the federal government.

MAJOR CITIES LEFT OUT

"Oakland County has the second largest population in the state, yet two of the county's major cities —Royal Oak and Pontiac—will evidently not be included in plans to link all cities of more than 50,000 population.

"The $750,000 traffic origin and destination survey conducted jointly by federal, state, and Wayne County governments showed the major desire lines of drivers is northward from Detroit into Oakland County.

"Yet no plans for new highways in Oakland County have thus far been included in plans announced by the highway commissioner.

* * *

"I hope that the findings of this survey haven't been neglected by your department (State Highway Commission) in its determination of future road networks.

ALL FOR SOUTH

"Five super highways for the southern portion of Oakland County were recommended by the survey.

"These five included east and west relief roads for Woodward Ave. (U.S. 10) — one of the most heavily traveled highways in the United States.

"I hope that later reports from your office will reveal that highway needs of Oakland County have been taken into consideration in the proposed federal-state highway network.

"Under the plan, the federal government will pay 90 per cent of the new construction costs, while the state will pay the remaining 10 per cent."

Union and Hoffa on Rough Road

Teamsters Are Facing Trouble With Law and With AFL-CIO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Teamsters Union, with President-Elect James Hoffa at the wheel, headed out on a rocky road today in the wake of a convention held under fire.

* * *

Pending in federal courts at Washington is an effort by New York rank and file teamsters members to discredit the acts of "rigged" voting delegations.

* * *

The AFL-CIO Council meets in New York Oct. 24. It had warned the convention under pain of expulsion not to elect Hoffa, and said both Hoffa and retiring President Dave Beck were unfit to stay in organized labor.

If the Council suspends the 1½-million-member teamsters, and the AFL-CIO convention expels the Teamsters at its Atlantic City convention Dec. 5, Hoffa has made preparations for a court fight to block the ouster.

Hoffa himself faces charges of wiretapping conspiracy and perjury in New York federal courts Oct. 15.

* * *

That is the same day the 44-year-old Detroit labor leader was scheduled to succeed Beck, to whom the convention granted leave as of that date. But Hoffa, already top Teamster in all but title, probably will assume the office earlier through an arrangement revealed by Beck yesterday.

Beck will receive a $50,000 a year pension as retired president.

Sad tale of the local girl whose measurements were 40-22-32. Unfortunately, that was from the bottom up . . . Romance is out the window when a husband stops praising his wife's clothes and starts pricing them.—Earl Wilson.

Study Increase at Waterford

Need Water Rate Hike to Cover Emergency Breakdown in System

The proposed increase in Waterford Township water rates will be board meeting, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

* * *

The increase is necessary because no funds are available in case of an emergency breakdown of the water system, Clerk James Seeterlin said.

* * *

Other business will be board action regarding the rezoning of five acres at the corner of Scott Lake and Watkins Lake roads from residential to commercial.

* * *

An agreement between the Highland Estate Subdivision and the township regarding the operation of a new water system in the subdivision will be discussed.

* * *

So far, Waterford Township is operating four subdivision water systems under agreements with land developers.

3 Alaskan Scientists Observe Satellite With Naked Eye; Monitor Radio Signals

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Three young scientists at the Geophysical Institute of the University of Alaska yesterday were reported as being the first Americans to see the Soviet earth satellite.

Robert S. Leonard, Joseph Pope and Dr. Giancarlo Rumi observed the satellite with the naked eye for five minutes yesterday starting at 4:53 a.m., Alaska Standard Time (9:53 a.m., EST), Dr. C. Gordon Little, deputy director of the institute, said today.

* * *

A Harvard scientist said last night the object sighted over Alaska may have been the third stage of the rocket used to fire the satellite and not the satellite itself.

Dr. Richard E. McCrosky, a lecturer in astronomy and research fellow at Harvard College Observatory, said reports of its brightness indicated it was of the fourth magnitude, whereas the size and distance given by the Russians indicated a seventh or eighth magnitude of brightness

* * *

Dr. Little, however, said the three men who stated they saw the object, were sure it was the satellite because radio signals from the satellite were recorded at the same time they saw it.

Dr. Little said he did not see it himself as he was asleep at the time. He reported the sighting to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass.

Leonard and Pope are graduate students at the University of Alaska. Dr. Rumi is a member of the institute's staff.

The satellite was first seen at an elevation of 10 degrees north of west. It crossed the sky, reaching a maximum elevation of 60 degrees and then disappeared into the sunlit southeastern sky.

Leonard, who was the first to see it, had predicted correctly the exact spot where it would appear. The three men were at the Ballaines Lake receiver site of the institute, a mile north of the university campus.

When the three heard the satellite's radio signals they rushed from the building. They had no difficulty spotting the satellite against the dark sky as the sun's rays from the east reflected on its mirrored surface

Leonard said it was a point source like a star and was brighter than the planet Jupiter. It moved slowly across the sky like a shooting star.

The station has been monitoring the satellite by its radio signals each night since Russia announced its launching. Dr. Little said the orbit of the satellite appears to be inclined at 65 degrees relative to the equator. This brings the satellite to within one mile of being directly over the station here seven times in each 24 hours.

Your PTA Is Planning

County Aids for Children Topic at Pine Knob Unit

CLARKSTON — Pine Knob PTA will meet at 8 tonight in the kindergarten room at the Pine Knob Elementary School on Sashabaw road.

Guest speaker will be James Hunt, director of children's services for Oakland County. His topic will be "Oakland County's Services to Children."

Refreshments will be served by the kindergarten mothers of the school.

Lake Orion

The Lake Orion Junior High School PTA, which was recently organized, was attended by Mrs. Charles Cox, of Ferndale, district director, and Mrs. G. A. Goforth, president of the East Oakland Area Council of PTA from Auburn Heights.

Officers installed by Mrs. Cox were: Mrs. Max Burgess, president; Mrs. Morris Cucksey, vice president; Mrs. Finley Kennedy, parent vice president; Mrs. Robert Sill, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Zemke, corresponding secretary; Lee Taylor, treasurer, and Mrs. Ralph Shell, historian.

Michael LaMagna principal introduced the teachers.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a little red lunch box, in which nestled a single "apple for the teacher."

The next meeting will be Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Slate Mission Speakers at Gingellville Church

GINGELLVILLE — A special program featuring music and speaking by the Rev. and Mrs. V. L. Martin, who have spent eight years with the Evangelical Alliance Mission in Trinidad, will follow the first fall family night potluck supper at the Gingellville Baptist Church, at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Interested persons are invited to attend.

Oxford Man Suffering From Crash Injuries

An Oxford man is in poor condition at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered in an accident in Oxford Township Sunday morning.

Norman E. Moore, 52, of 1452 Ray Rd. was riding in his own car which was being driven by Maureen E. Smith, 38, of 707 Lakeview St., Lake Orion. She was treated and released.

According to Oakland County sheriff's deputies, the car evidently ran off M24 just west of Dunlap road, and rolled over.

Army Missile Expert Not Available to Press

PANAMA (AP) — No comment is available from Col. John C. Nickerson, the banished Army missile expert, on the new Soviet earth satellite.

He has made himself unavailable to the press at his new station — Ft. Clayton — and his wife says "definitely" her husband is not making any comment to the press.

Col. Nickerson was convicted—and sentenced to be reprimanded—at the Army ballistic missile agency in Huntsville, Ala., last June on charges of giving reporters and other unauthorized persons a document arguing against limitation of the Army's role in the ballistic missile field. The charges said the document contained secret material.

Detroit Girl Succumbs to Burns From Sparkler

DETROIT (INS) — A four-year-old Detroit girl died of burns yesterday when her clothing was ignited by a sparkler.

Police said the girl, Anita Jones, of 4337 Vinewood, suffered second and third degree burns over 30 per cent of her body.

Dora Hook, Daniel Carter Wed in Waterford Church

Some 150 persons witnessed the marriage of Dora Ilene Hook, to Daniel R. Carter, 8 p.m. Saturday, at Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford Township.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hook of 5089 Dixie Hwy. and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George Carter, 3320 Van Zandt Ave., Drayton Plains.

The Rev. Arvid Anderson, pastor of the church, officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

The bride wore a wedding suit of wedgwood blue wool, with navy accessories and carried a rose corsage

* * *

Ushers from Waterford Township were Harold Pankner and Richard Lotis.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, and after a short honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the young couple will live in Waterford Township.

Little Rock: Town in Turmoil

Like a Hurricane's Eye, Center of the Storm

(Editor's Note — Nine Negro students are in school, but is Little Rock's problem solved? A Pulitzer prizewinning reporter, who has been on the scene since the violence started, leans back for a long objective look at what has happened and what's to come. This is the first of five articles).

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—This is the eye of the hurricane, the dead center of the storm.

There is the same deceptive calm, the same oppressive feeling in the air, the sense of vast and destructive forces swirling toward disaster.

★ ★ ★

This is Little Rock.

A police car siren screams in the street. People who wouldn't have noticed it a month ago look up anxiously now. A riot starting?

"I've got a loaded shotgun beside my bed," says a man. If he hears a sound in the night, he will reach for it.

At night the telephoning starts, the threats and warnings.

"Who is this?" a click. The phone goes dead.

The calls come to parents. Segregationists would like to force a mass boycott of Central High School. "There's going to be trouble at school . . . better keep your daughter home." No name.

They come to the father of aboy who delivers the Arkansas Gazette, the Little Rock newspaper, Gov. Orval Faubus. "If you don't want something to happen to your kid . . ." No name.

They even come to legislators. A man's voice says to State Sen. Charles Yingling, "understand you're in favor of a cooling off period instead of closing the schools . . . there's a slab at the undertaker's where you'll be cooling off."

★ ★ ★

It's hardest on the parents.

Most are letting their children go to the high school — and worrying over what the die-hards may do in reprisal.

Some are keeping their boys and girls away — and worrying for a different reason. A woman, in tears, calls the segregationist Capitol Citizens Council. "My daughter wants to go back. She's falling behind in her studies. What shall I do?"

Soldiers inside a high school . . . fights and muttered threats there . . . business slowed to a standstill . . . feeling between neighbors so deep it may never be bridged . . . the atmosphere heavy with menace, dark and brooding.

Even seeing Little Rock today, you can't believe it.

Federal troops in a Southern city! Bayonets pointed at American men and women? Impossible. All that ended 90 years ago. It couldn't happen in this day and age.

But it has happened.

Force confronts raw force now.

★ ★ ★

Twice a day, the power of federal authority pushes through massive resentment to take nine Negro students to school, against the wishes of most of the people. Seventy per cent? Eighty? Who can say?

And no end is in sight in Little Rock. Nothing has been settled. A decision is postponed. But what happens when the troops are withdrawn?

★ ★ ★

Moderates can only hope. "Maybe people will get used to it . . ."

Segregationists say they are simply waiting. "We can't do much now. But you'll see . . ."

Little Rock is a nice place.

People say "howdy" to strangers. They are courteous in their cars, on the streets, in the stores.

They are proud of their city. It's a good looking city, clean and bright with tree-shaded streets. There is a church on every other corner, handsome buildings, good schools. People have two interesting and well-edited newspapers. It's a good community.

★ ★ ★

Yet, in other states and even in other nations today, Little Rock is an ugly symbol. It represents mob violence, unbridled passions, defiance of the law.

It represents the most critical clash between a sovereign state and the federal government since the Civil War and the Reconstruction.

What has happened here is bigger than Little Rock, bigger than Arkansas, bigger than the whole South. It hangs over all of America.

The reason is quite clear.

★ ★ ★

It took federal troops to enforce a law. Now a high school has been integrated. Nine Negroes are sitting in classrooms with white children. Under guns, the law is being observed.

But what of the future?

If the "Little Rock Nine" should be forced out of school again, it will strengthen the hands of segregationists everywhere. Who can expect compliance with the Supreme Court ruling anywhere else in the South?

Vice versa, if they stay, will segregationist opposition go down like a row of dominoes, with Little Rock the first domino?

Further, is this to be the pattern for integration everywhere? Violence, followed by the rumble of Army trucks and naked bayonets?

In short, for both sides, a gauntlet has been thrown. Perhaps, somehow, reasoning people on both sides will find the compromise. And perhaps history will mark Little Rock as the turning-point in the greatest social struggle of a century.

How did this come about?

You could go back a long way. You could point to the workings of city and state politics, the operations of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, the interplay of ambition and high emotion.

It's an incredible story.

It begins with a man who thought he had devised a plan for integration that would satisfy everybody — until another man, Gov. Orval Faubus, decided to use force.

Ohio, California Report

Hoosiers Spot Satellite 1st

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—American efforts to track the Soviet satellite — the world's first artificial moon streaking around the globe 560 miles out in space — were centered early today in the Smithonian Astrophysical Observatory.

★ ★ ★

Because of its altitude and speed, estimated at 18,000 miles an hour, Dr. J. Allen Heynek, associate director, said the artificial moon could remain in its orbit for 20 years.

Shortly after the Russian announcement that the man-made sphere was hurtling around the earth, Dr. Hynek, director of the earth satellite optical tracking program, had alerted 80 visual spotters throughout the Western Hemisphere and Japan.

★ ★ ★

Several hours after the Moscow announcement the first sighting was reported by a moonwatch station in Terre Haute, Ind. Dr. Fred L. Whipple, observatory director, said the satellite was spotted at 8:50 p.m. (EST).

Dr. Whipple said that other reports of sightings came from Columbus, Ohio, at 10:28 p.m. (EST) and Whittier, Calif., at 7:47 (PST) (10:47 p.m. EST).

The observatory bustled with activity as the satellite experts manned a small battery of telescopes and consulted charts beneath a high domed ceiling.

Dr. Hynek, said the satellite would "look like a star moving about one-quarter of a degree a second. It would look like a high flying jet aircraft with a moving pinpoint of light.

"One of the difficulties watchers will have in locating it will be that they do not know what hour it was launched."

26 Area Men Accepted by Navy in September

The Pontiac Naval Recruiting Substation has announced that a total of 26 area men were accepted for enlistment in the Navy during the month of September.

Of the 26 from Oakland County, three are Pontiac residents. They are: Francis A. Comps, of 1098 Myrtle Dr.; Richard B. Hartman, of 831 Glendale Ave.; and Kenneth W. Vipperman, of 515 N. East Blvd.

★ ★ ★

Others in nearby areas are James E. Hawes and Robert R. Houck, both of Waterford Township; Frederick K. Helfrich, of Commerce Township; and Stanley G. Kaminski and James E. Schellenberg, both of West Bloomfield Township.

Enlistees from other points in Oakland County are: Chester D. Devault and Charles A. Wittkopp, both of Rochester; Peter F. Finfgeld, of Franklin; Douglas G. Hervela and Roy A. Randolph, both of Farmington; John J. Czarnowski and Jackie W. Schlappi, both of Troy; and Ray E. Greenwald, of Walled Lake.

Also accepted for enlistment were: Stuart M. Webb, of Keego Harbor; Timothy A. White, of Milford; Joseph M. Dotson, Dennis D. Jefferson, William H. Scott, and Gerald F. Villaire, all of Royal Oak; Lawrence Johnson, of Clawson; George W. Roberts, of Southfield Township; Robert T. Rolfe, of Hazel Park, and Raymond P. Talerico, of Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

All are undergoing recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill., with the exception of Hartman, who is taking his training at San Diego, Calif.

Reenlisting were Donald J. Kelley, of Waterford Township; and Donald E. Thompson, of 135 N. Josephine St., Pontiac.

Enlisting in the Waves was a Waterford Township woman, Margaret C. Andrews. She will get her training at Bainbridge, Md.

Britain Has Prospered Under Her Six Queens

Long Royal History Shapes the Role of Elizabeth II

(Probably no head of state in the Western world is so influenced by tradition and breeding, so bound by ceremony and precedent as is Elizabeth Alexandra Mary of Windsor. Here, in the second of six articles, a famed reporter tells how history has shaped the British Queen as a person and her role in government.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

International News Service

When King Farouk waddled off into plush exile he said bitterly but not unwittily "there will soon come a day when there will be only five kings—the king of hearts, king of diamonds, king of clubs, king of spades, and the King of England."

★ ★ ★

It was a tribute to an ancient game and ancient state of mind. Under the monarchy of Elizabeth II, the British throne has taken on new prestige and a firmer hold on the imagination and loyalties of subjects and devoted followers numbering one in every four persons on the face of the earth.

A thousand years of royal blood is in the veins of the first British queen regnant ever to visit the U.S.—"Elizabeth the Second, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of her other realms and territories Queen, head of the commonwealth, defender of the faith."

BESTOWED BY POPE

The Queen inherits the "defender of the faith" title from ancestor Henry VIII on whom it was bestowed in 1521 by Pope Clement VII for the King's defense of the papacy against Martin Luther. Elizabeth II, like her predecessors since Henry VIII's time, is head of the Church of England.

★ ★ ★

The roots of Queen Elizabeth II reach much deeper into the lore of Britain than the forebear best known for his penchant for beheading successive wives and gustatory excesses.

Though the line has not been as constant as, say, that of the Japanese royal family, the twigs of the family tree extend all the way to William the Conquerer (1027-1087), brilliant illegitimate son of Robert I, Duke of Normandy, and a tanner's daughter named Arletta.

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth walks through draughty castles and royal lodges on whose walls hang the paintings, the emblems and the armor of ancestral Henrys from I to VIII, Edwards from I to her wistful uncle Edward VIII, the Duke of Windsor, Georges from I to her beloved father, George VI.

'BLOODY MARY'

There is some of Mary I, "Bloody Mary" as the foes of this daughter of Henry VIII called her when, after enormous vicissitudes, she restored Catholicism briefly to England.

★ ★ ★

And some of Mary's spinster half sister, Elizabeth I, daughter of beheaded Anne Boleyn, declared illegitimate on her father's order in 1536, re-established in succession to the throne in 1544 by Parliament.

Her fleet's destruction of the Spanish armada altered the course of history. Her patronage of the arts stimulated the age which took her name.

★ ★ ★

And there is Elizabeth of Bohemia in her remote past, eldest daughter of James I of Great Britain and Anne of Denmark. Elizabeth of Bohemia had a life that Sir Walter Scott might have written. When only nine, the conspirators of the Gun Powder Plot proposed to seize her and proclaim her queen.

A STRIKING BEAUTY

When she came to court in 1608 poets swooned over her striking beauty. Her suitors included the Dauphin of France, Prince Michael of Orange, Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, Philip III of Spain.

She married Frederick V, jeeringly called "Frederick the Winter King" because of his short tenure. Deposed with him, Elizabeth of Bohemia fell on hard times, lived in poverty in Holland, finally got back to England in 1662 in time to receive a small pension from Charles II.

She is buried in Westminster Abbey, as well she might: Her daughter Sophia, one of her 13 children, was the mother of George I, forefather of Victoria and of all Victoria's descendants, including Elizabeth II and her German, Dutch, Spanish, Romanian, Greek, Danish, Portuguese and American relatives.

★ ★ ★

Victoria, the matriarch, lived long enough and was great enough to give her name to an age that takes its place in history with that of Elizabeth I. Lydia Hoyt Farmer, in "The Book of Famous Queens," wrote:

"Victoria's life spanned nearly the whole of the 19th Century —that tremendous period of progress in the arts and sciences. . . .

RESPLENDENT EPOCH

"To have reigned the greater part of a century and the longest in English history, the sovereign of one of the greatest powers of the world, during such a time of human progress and religious liberty, will make the Victorian Age shine forth in the pages of history as one of the most resplendent epochs in the annals of the world."

★ ★ ★

The deep sense of tradition of Elizabeth's peoples through the world remind them that things have usually gone well when a queen regnant was at the helm. Elizabeth II is the sixth such.

Their reigns and rules produced, under Elizabeth I and Victoria, situations that made Britain the world's No. 1 power. Under Queen Anne, union between England and Scotland was achieved under firm but gentle terms.

★ ★ ★

How much actual power does Elizabeth II wield?

It would seem pale by the standards and ambitions of Elizabeth I, who ruled almost without rein for 45 years during a golden age that produced Shakepeare, Drake, Raleigh, Bacon, Spenser.

It might seem puerile to Mary I, who countenanced 300 hangings and beheadings, and to Anne, the last monarch to exercise the royal veto and who waged "Queen Anne's War."

But there is much left for the British Queen of the atomic age to attend to.

An official British source delicately describes them in these terms:

"The Queen is the personification of the state. In law, she is the supreme authority, an integral part of the legislature, the head of the judiciary in England and Wales, Northern Ireland and Scotland, the commander-in-chief of all the armed forces of the crown and the temporal head of the established Church of England.

BPW Has Dedication in Capital

National Quarters Moved to Elegant Converted Home

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women trekking here from all parts of the country for the dedication of their new headquarters saw in it a handsome realization of a 28-year-old dream.

★ ★ ★

The organization which boasts some 171,000 members in 3,300 clubs in the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia, moved its national offices here last year after 18 years in New York.

PROPER FANFARE

The new quarters, an elegant private residence on Massachusetts avenue converted at a cost of about $250,000, was opened with the proper fanfare.

★ ★ ★

President Hazel Palmer, Sedalia, Mo., attorney, cut the green and gold ribbon.

Participating in the program were Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and Philip Talbott, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

Miss Palmer's office has white walls, a pale aqua rug and a beautiful marble fireplace. Miss Rose Leibrand, executive director, also from Sedalia, has a white and gold office.

CAPITAL QUARTERS

"It's been our dream since 1929 to have our quarters in the capital," said Miss Leibrand.

★ ★ ★

"It began with a $29,000 fund at our biennial convention at Mackinac, Mich. In 1953 a committee was appointed by Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Tex., then president, and in 1954 we started our fund drive, 'Two Bucks for Bricks,' with every member contributing."

Miss Leibrand says some 500 different occupations are represented in the federation membership.

They range from sea shell sellers, gravemarkers and farmers to presidents of industries, judges and members of Congress.

OWN BUSINESSES

Forty-one per cent own their own businesses. Miss Leibrand herself combines four categories. She's a real estate broker, an insurance broker, owner of a gift shop and publisher of a weekly newspaper.

★ ★ ★

She served four years active duty and nine years in the reserves of the Army and Air Force.

They are active in a campaign to open jury service for women, now granted in all except three states, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

They worked with the Department of Labor to secure equal pay for equal work and hope to continue their fight for passage of a constitutional amendment providing equal legal rights for women when Congress reconvenes in January.

Mrs. Hayward Marks Birthday

Mrs. Marilla Hayward of North Genesee avenue was honored Sunday with a tea celebrating her 98th birthday. Hostess for the 15 guests was Mrs. Harry Rice of Ogemaw road.

Mrs. Hayward, whose birthday is Oct. 7, received a letter of congratulations from Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Bride-to-Be Entertained at Shower

Donna Anderson Lists Attendants for Nov. 23 Rite

Donna Anderson, bride-elect of Edward Allen Bentley of Columbus, Ga., was honored Friday evening at a shower given by Mrs. Harris Hartjen Jr. of Huntington Woods.

★ ★ ★

Members of the bridal party for her November 23 wedding at First Presbyterian Church were announced. Mrs. Hartjen and Sally Ayling of Grosse Pointe will serve as Donna's attendants; Mrs. John B. Nicolls Jr. of Minneapolis, Minn., as soloist; Harry Hartjen, best man; John Canavan of Birmingham and Lee B. Thompson of Atlanta, Ga., ushers.

Attending the shower were Mrs. A. T. Anderson, Mrs. Donovan Everling, Mrs. Charles Renwick, Mrs. E. A. Reitmeyer, Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel, Mrs. Horace Morrill, Mrs. William Cowie, Mrs. Gary Hetherington, Mrs. Albert Linabury, Stephanie Linabury and Pamela Everling.

Others were Mrs. John Canavan, Geri King, Mrs. Max Hower, Myra MacPherson, Mrs. R. N. Slate, Pat Yaroch and Mrs. James Houghton, all of Birmingham; Nan Rossnagel, Mrs. Earl Harnden, Nora Mabarak, Sally Ayling and Mrs. Cecil Ayling all of Grosse Pointe.

Nancy Behm of Walled Lake, Mrs. Peg Pulls of Royal Oak, Harriett Saferstein of Oak Park, Virginia Hartjen of Huntington Woods, Isle Wolfe, Mrs. George Montgomery Jr., Anne Kyker, Mrs. Schubert Johnson Jr., Katharine Martone and Judith Ehrman, all of Detroit, conclude the guest list.

Football Party Set

Members of Pine Lake Country Club will start activities early Oct. 12 with a breakfast before leaving for Ann Arbor and the U. of M. versus MSU football game. After the game, a buffet dinner and dance will be held at the club for members.

This is French individualism. From the Paris house of Roney, this one-of-a-kind evening handbag is magnificently hand-worked. The silk threads have been hand dyed and woven into a painting by skilled French artisans. The figures are embossed and the back of the bag is an example of French attention to detail.

Miss Justin Is Honored at Shower

To Become Bride in October 19 Rite at Orchard Lake

Lochmoor County Club, Grosse Pointe, was the scene of a linen shower and luncheon held Saturday in honor of bride-elect Catherine Ann Justin.

★ ★ ★

Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William John Justin of Orchard Lake, will exchange vows with Thomas Francis Devereaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Devereaux of Howell, on Oct. 19 at Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake.

Hostess for the affair was Gerrie Godin of Grosse Pointe.

Among the guests were Mrs. William John Justin, Mrs. Alex McIntosh of Berkley; Mrs. Thomas H. Devereaux and Rosemary Devereaux, both of Howell; Mrs. John Coe of Kalamazoo; Mrs. Arthur Godin and Sheila Flannery of Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

Also attending were Mrs. Robert Watkins of Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Warren Holmes of Toledo, Ohio, Grayce Dettloff and Mrs. Donald Hutchins, both of Detroit, and Mrs. Donald McLean.

Concluding the guest list were Mrs. Albert Herzog of Farmington, Mrs. Vincent J. Raymond of Scott Air Force Base, Ill., Mrs. James Hildebrandt of Royal Oak, Mrs. Fred Randall of Livonia; Mrs. John Pannelli of Birmingham and Mrs. John O'Brien of Royal Oak.

Elsie Benson Honored at Tea and Open House

Bride-elect Elsie Benson was honored Saturday afternoon at a tea and open house given by her mother, Mrs. Mahlon A. Benson of South Josephine Ave.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Benson was assisted by Mrs. Lyman W. Bittman Jr. of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Bittman, the bride-elect's sister, has been asked to serve as matron of honor.

Presiding at the tea table throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Mahlon Benson Jr., Mrs. John A. Benson, Mrs. B. M. Mitchell, Mrs. Howard Dohme of Monroe, Mrs. Bert Griffin, Ethel Graham, Alice Jackson, Marian Lehner and Mrs. Lawrence McDowell.

★ ★ ★

Guests were received by Mrs. Walter J. Baumgartner, Mrs. John Benson, Mrs. Mahlon Benson Jr. and Eleanore Kellogg.

You Can Encourage Good Luck

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Have you ever noticed that when one thing in your life goes wrong, just about everything else does, too?

★ ★ ★

We almost never have single tragedies; we tend to have a whole string of them.

Then, one fine day the tide turns. One good thing happens; after that, we're in for a string of wonderful things.

START IT YOURSELF

The secret, it seems to me, is to start the string of good events yourself, to refuse to give in to the usual feeling of rebellion and self-pity.

Because the energy you waste in tears can usually be used to start good things happening again.

Anyway, that's what Teresa did.

Teresa is the mother of one small daughter, her only child. Moreover, childbirth was complicated in her case and she was told she could not have any more children. That was the beginning of a series of bad events.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, Teresa and her husband cherished their only child.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Well, when the little girl was about 4, she got rheumatic fever. She finally recovered, but only after a year's convalescence.

★ ★ ★

Teresa took wonderful care of her, but it meant being confined to the house. Bill was wonderful too, and did his share in caring for the child, but it was a heartbreaking and difficult grind for both.

Along with everything else the bills piled up and money was awfully scarce.

★ ★ ★

"It was just about the lowest period you can imagine," Teresa told me, "or at least, I used to think that nothing more could happen, that we had had just about every bad break.

DOG WAS STOLEN

"Then, little Teresa's dog was stolen.

"She had adored him. He was her companion and slept curled up at the foot of her bed.

"It was our own fault that we lost him. We didn't have a collar on him with a name tag. We had always meant to, but had never gotten around to it.

★ ★ ★

"With little Teresa crying her heart out, Bill and I just sat there in blind despair.

"Then I got an idea.

LEATHER PROJECT

"In order to keep Teresa happy, I decided to get a puppy from our local SPCA. Then, in order to keep us busy, I decided to buy a simple leather craft set so that we could make the pup a collar with his name on it.

"We were soon getting such nice compliments about the pup's collar that little Teresa and I decided to make some up for sale.

"And now a fancy pet shop in town carries our collars. We are not only busy and happy, but money is coming in, too!"

If you're interested in leathercraft, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my list of books on it.

Mature Woman Needs More Than Mere Social Pursuits

Middle Age Demands New Interests in Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you are middle age or nearing that period, it is essential that you begin to add new interests to your life if the years from then on are to be vital and exciting.

Something that you enjoy but really have to work at is the project to look for. Pleasurable, mild hobbies and social pursuits are splendid, but a mature woman needs more than that to replace her earlier responsibilities.

She needs to exercise her mind as well as her muscles and emotions. Many women do extremely important work in the civic projects of their communities. The ones who profit as well as give in such activities are those who really take this work seriously.

Adult education opens so many doors. It is old-fashioned to think that education ends with college or high school. Today, more and more, we are hearing of mature and even older men and women who continue their studies along with their children and even their grandchildren.

★ ★ ★

Psychosomatic medicine has proven over and over again that boredom and a dull outlook, and worry and all of the negative emotions, literally do things to us physically. Physicians have told me that their offices are filled with women who feel ill and have real symptoms because life has gone limp in their hands.

GRADUAL TRANSITION

Begin building new interests now so that the transition will be gradual and easy. Do not wait until you suddenly realize that your children have left home or that you are to be retired very soon.

★ ★ ★

I cannot remind you too often of this dilemma which could be yours. I know so well what it will do to you unless you prepare for it psychologically and practically.

This really is a great social problem which will worsen since more and more women are living longer and since the youthful portion of life is being prolonged. It is not enough to sit at a bridge table or do token duty or study.

Begin now. Add study or work of a new kind to your life. Also ask yourself these questions:

"Will I cling to my children when they are grown and no longer require my constant attention or am I letting them go psychologically now?"

★ ★ ★

"Have I begun to wear black exclusively?" (Black is undeniably smart, but bright colors do a lot for the skin and morale of the middle-aged woman).

YOUR OWN LIFE?

"Am I beginning to live through others, or have I a vital life of my own?"

"What has happened to my companionship with my husband?"

★ ★ ★

"Is my mind flexible and open to new ideas, or do I disapprove of more things than I used to?"

"Am I giving my skin special attention?"

"Am I aware that style rather than prettiness is now my forte?"

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my leaflet "Woman of 50" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 33 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

ATTITUDE, NOT TIME GOVERNS EXERCISE

We so often hear women say, "I just do not have time for exercise." This is a question of attitude rather than time. It is an admission of lack of vision, lack of information, poor organization or a "give up" outlook.

★ ★ ★

Any woman who knows about the value of exercise and is determined to take care of her health and figure will arrange time for it somehow. We are hearing more and more about the importance of exercise to health. We have known for a long time, or many of us have, about its effect on figure.

It's old-fashioned to think that education ends with high school or college. Adult education opens up many doors for those who are foresighted enough to take extension or night school courses.

In case you do not know about the latter I can promise you, from long experience, that exercise can redistribute your poundage. Many women who are the correct weight are out of proportion. Exercise is the magic answer to this problem.

Even when you are overweight, and must diet, exercise plays an important part in speeding the loss in certain spots and building up in others.

Perhaps you would like a few suggestions about what kind of exercises to take and when it is best to do them. What kind you take depends on your physical condition and in what way you wish to change your figure.

If you are new to exercise, you should try easy ones at first and gradually work up to more difficult ones. You should also gradually increase the length of your exercise period. Be sure to have your heart and blood pressure checked before beginning.

INDIVIDUAL SITUATION

When you exercise depends on your individual situation. If you have very young children, the best time is probably before your lunch but after they are in bed for their afternoon nap.

★ ★ ★

Whether or not they are old enough to enjoy them with you, or to enjoy watching you, is for you to decide. If they are old enough to play volley ball or badminton with you, those games would be splendid for you and the children.

If your children are school age, of course, there is no problem as to opportunity for your daily dozen. Some wives and mothers like to take mat exercises just before going to sleep at night.

The career woman can benefit health and figure by walking part of the way to and from work and by taking a few exercises in the early morning or before going to bed at night. These should be selected carefully in order to be of greatest benefit. The woman who works in an office needs exercise even more than her sister who works in the home.

If you would like to have my easy, beginning exercises "Essential Daily Routine for Beauty and Health" I have designed especially for women, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Bake Meal in Crusts Like Pie

Mrs. Johnson Uses Tuna Fish and Peas Along With Spuds

By JANET ODELL

Meatless meal planning is a continuous problem in some families and homemakers are anxious to get new ideas. We think Mrs. L. H. Johnson's Tuna Fish Pie would make an excellent dish for Friday—or any other day in the week.

Before an illness slowed her down, Mrs. Johnson worked full time. This past summer she has enjoyed gardening. She loves to crochet. Five grandchildren help keep her young in spirit.

TUNA FISH PIE
By Mrs. L. H. Johnson

1 can solid pack tuna
1 package frozen peas
8-10 tiny cooked potatoes, peeled
Small onion, chopped
¼ cup milk
Butter or margarine
Pastry for double crust pie

Fit one crust into pie tin. Add tuna, vegetables and milk. Season with salt and pepper and dot butter or margarine over top. Cover with pie crust. Bake 35 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Serves 4-6.

Susan Joy Harley Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Susan Joy Herley and Samuel Henegar Campbell III were united in marriage Saturday evening in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham. The Rev. Kenneth H. Gass performed the candlelight ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McLeod Harley of Birmingham are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Samuel Henegar Campbell Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., and the late Mr. Campbell.

The bride chose a gown of imported ivory satin fashioned with basque waist, a bouffant skirt ending in a chapel train and a portrait neckline appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls. A crown of matching lace held a three-tiered fingertip veil of illusion.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Stephen Elliott Puckette of Sewanee, Tenn., and bridesmaids were Harriet Babcock Campbell, a sister of the bridegroom; Ellen Farwell Lewis and Susan Virginia Wilson of Birmingham. Kathy Lawton was the flower maid.

The senior attendants were gowned alike in kelly green peau de soie and carried arrangements of American Beauty roses with ivy. The flower girl was gowned in white organdy with a kelly green sash and a miniature of the attendants' bouquets.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

James W. Hudlow of Chattanooga, Tenn., acted as best man. The guests were seated by Russell P. Heuer of Bryn Mawr, Pa., William Frank Hutcheson of Roseville, Ga., Frederick McLeod Harley, Stewart Jacques Harley, brothers of the bride; Robert Porter Babcock of Glenshaw, Pa., and John McDonald of New York City and Atlanta, Ga.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harley wore a deep blue peau de soie gown for receiving guests at Orchard Lake Country Club. She carried white Eucharist lilies. The bridegroom's mother chose a champagne satin and lace gown and carried green cymbidium orchids.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving on a trip to Florida the new Mrs. Campbell changed to a gray silk and wool suit with black accessories. The couple will live at Fort Smith, Ark.

Business Women's Unit Celebrates 4th Birthday

Celebrating a fourth birthday party at Waldron Hotel Friday night were members of the Tipacon Chepter of the American Business Women's Association. Mrs. Ossie Gates presided at the affair.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Evelyn MacDonald, first vice president of the ABWA, who outlined her visits to various chapters in the northeastern and southeastern districts of Michigan.

Also participating in the program were Mrs. Bessie Holliday, who spoke briefly on benefits of ABWA, and Donna Cole, who spoke on her duties in the office of Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors.

Elected to the nominating committee for next month's election of officers were Mrs. Bessie Holliday, Mrs. Joan Callahan and Mrs. Dorothy Brooks.

New members installed were Mrs. Robert Benedict, Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Keith Colling, Mrs. Ersla Leece, Mrs. Mary Popa, Shirley Webb, Georgia Lee Richardson and Marilyn Moore.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Grace Holliday and Mrs. G. R. Reed.

The extreme unfitted version of the chemise can be worn by the perfect figure but a belt, narrow or wide, makes it easy on problem figures.

Eventually the eye becomes accustomed to a change so first try the new dress before it is belted. Notice the becoming ease at the waistline. But you can still belt as lots of belts, particularly hipline belts, are shown.

Wayside Gleaners Hear Rev. Allebach

The Rev. Theodore Allebach of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was speaker for the Friday meeting of Wayside Gleaners held at First Baptist Church.

Mrs. T. N. Slosson presented three solos accompanied by Mrs. H. L. Stout.

Chapter to Hold Halloween Party

Plans for a masquerade Halloween party are revealed by members of the Phi Alpha Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Serving on the party committee are Sandra Johnson, Karen Stack and Joan Bennet. To the affair, to be held at the home of Sandra Johnson on Edison Street, each girl will bring a guest for future membership.

Advice to 'Take It Easy' Wrong for Most Oldsters

Those Who Work, Use Their Energy Live Longer and Are Happier

By RUTH MILLETT

"Now, Dad, you've worked hard all your life and you've got enough saved that you and Mother can live comfortably. Why don't you quit work and take it easy?"

That's the way a lot of well-meaning sons and daughters talk to their fathers.

To their mothers, they say: "Mother, why don't you get rid of this big house and get an apartment? It would be so much easier to take care of and you wouldn't have any yard to worry about."

They think they are giving good advice, but it could be harmful.

Dr. Ewald W. Busse, director of a Duke University research project on aging, says: "A person seems to live longer if he has to solve a reasonable number of problems and encounter a reasonable amount of trouble"

So the older man whose work has been his life and who still takes pride in his job may be better off pushing himself a little to get to the office each day than he would be facing day after day of puttering and idleness.

* * *

The older woman, who may occasionally complain that the house in which she reared her family is hard to take care of and that the weeds are outgrowing the flowers in her garden, may still be much happier maintaining the home than cramped up in a tiny apartment with little housework to do each day . . . and no yard.

Apparently "taking it easy" is not the way to an extended or happy old age. The oldsters who stay young, active and vigorous live up to their energy instead of sitting back and hoarding it.

* * *

Most older people seem to know this instinctively and want to "hold on" as long as possible. It is usually their well-meaning children who are sure that since they have "earned a rest," they ought to take it—for the rest of their lives.

Child Exploits Parent With 'It Isn't Fair!'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Three times — while Norman's father was trimming glass to replace two broken panes in the garage window—he told the boy to keep away.

* * *

Once he told him to leave the putty alone. Twice he told him to stop handling the broken glass on the garage floor. Finally when Norman started playing with his steel measuring tape, he punished him by sending him to his room for half an hour.

On Norman's return, he found his younger brother playing with the measuring tape. Angered, he said to his father, "Why don't you send Ted upstairs like you did me? Why do you let him have your tape—and not me? It isn't fair!"

His father, busy fitting a glass pane into its frame, said, "What's that? Oh, I didn't know Ted had the tape." And obediently imposed the same punishment on Ted as he had on his older son.

* * *

Almost at once he began to feel a sense of intense irritation. Things seemed suddenly to get out of control. He cut his finger gathering up the broken glass. He snapped at his wife's request to know what he wanted for lunch.

For he knew that Ted's behavior had not rated the penalty he'd imposed on Norman's persistent disobedience—and was furious with himself for allowing his older child to control his treatment of the younger one.

* * *

We are bound to feel uneasy when we let children take over our thinking for us like this—and decree punishments for their brothers and sisters.

The phrase they use to manipulate us into surrender of our own judgment is usually "It isn't fair!" The modern child knows how anxious we are to render him a justice so perfect that he'll find it impossible to develop any embarrassing, costly psychological problems.

And like Norman, they'll exploit our terror of being considered "unfair" to control our treatment of his brothers and sisters.

This power over us is not good for him.

* * *

Though Norman is entitled to his idea of fairness, we, too, have a right to ours. When we execute his idea of it against our own, our compliance doesn't increase his trust of us. It undermines it.

Quite reasonably, he'll begin to attack all our judgments as unreliable and "unfair."

Protect Protectors

The plastic bags that protect your clothing need protection too. For, while they're preventing dust from soiling the crinolines, skirts, and dresses they contain, these covers are collecting dust of their own.

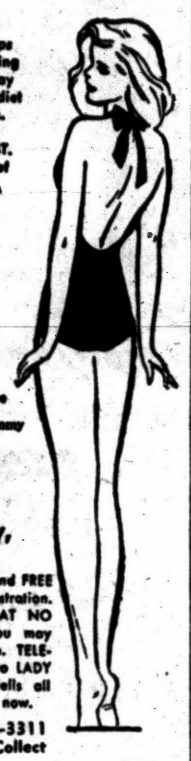

For perfect protection, all protective cases should be wiped off frequently with a sponge squeezed through thick soap or detergent suds.

HIPS

Make your hips smaller amazing NEW EASY way at home. No diet or weight loss. Use at HOME while you REST. Reduces size of HIPS, TUMMY, THIGHS. NO EFFORT. Fun! Sensible. Healthful. Economical.

Women Say: "Four inches removed from abdomen, 3 in. from hips." —M.F. "3 in. from hips."—M.A. "First time since I've had my 3 children my tummy is flat."—E.S. "Dress size was 16, now 12." —C.P. You may lose less...or more!

Neighbor Takes Dog Into Homes

Unwelcome Canine Sits on Furniture, Chews Toys

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: What is your opinion of people who come calling and bring their pets with them? We have a neighbor who brings her dog with her every time she goes visiting and I'm at my wits end as to how to put an end to this.

"He chews my children's toys, jumps on the furniture, etc. I don't want to offend her but I really can't take much more of this dog. She is very fond of the dog and I suppose thinks everyone should feel the same.

"There are three of us in the neighborhood whom this woman visits quite often and we all feel the same about it. What can we do about this problem without seeming rude?"

Answer: I think the best solution will be for all three of you to her her, "Mary, we love you very much but your dog is really a trial to us. Couldn't you leave him home when you come to our houses?"

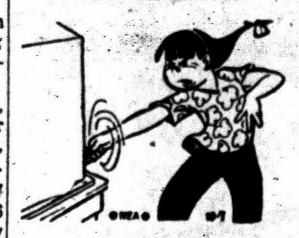

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter left home, without telling anyone, to marry a boy with whom she had been going steady for three years. They have been married now for six months. She is coming home for her first visit soon and I was wondering if it would be proper to give a reception for them at this time.

"The boy is from our town too, and they have many friends here. He is in the service. Would this be in good taste or might people feel that it is a bid for wedding presents? I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: By all means give a reception for them to show that you approve of their marriage. An invitation to the reception will not carry the slightest obligation to send a present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married soon. As her gift to the bridesmaids she planned on giving each of them a framed picture of the bridal party. My sister does not think this an appropriate gift and says that they should receive something more personal. Will you please give your opinion of this?"

Answer: I agree with your sister. It is possible that the bridesmaids might not especially want a picture of someone else's bridal party even if they are part of it.

TV is no longer in its infancy, because old movies are now being replaced by old TV shows.

Dorothy Deborah Collins and Raymond Clement Cunningham were married Saturday morning in Immaculate Heart of Mary Church, Indianapolis. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Collins, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Raymond Cunnigham and the late Mr. Cunningham.

MRS. RAYMOND C. CUNNINGHAM

Dorothy Collins Weds Raymond Cunningham

Three hundred guests witnessed an 11:30 a.m. Nuptial Mass Saturday uniting Dorothy Deborah Collins and Raymond Clement Cunningham. The Rev. J. A. Hodges performed the ceremony in Immaculate Heart of Mary Church of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Collins of Indianapolis, Ind., are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Raymond Cunningham of Birmingham and the late Mr. Cunningham.

The bride's gown of antique ivory satin featured a full cathedral train. The basque bodice had long Alencon lace sleeves and a portrait neckline outlined in appliques of lace and pearls. A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried an arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Beverly Boegaholtz of Indianapolis and Mrs. Robert Welch served as the honor attendants while Becky Collins, a sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in beige silk organza, and carried gilded baskets of wheat, oak leaves and chrysanthemums in deep fall colors.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Donald Runkel of Birmingham was the best man. Walter O. Briggs III and William K. Downey of Birmingham, John B. Collins II of Cocoa Beach, Fla. and Williams Touhy of Chicago seated the guests.

Mrs. Collins received guests at the Columbia Club wearing a silk sheath dress in mink tones with a matching feather hat, and a green orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a mocha lace dress and small jeweled hat in bronze with a corsage of bronze orchids.

To wear on a trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, the new Mrs. Cunningham . . . selected a gray wool ensemble with beige accessories and beige cloche.

Mary O'Leary Feted at Shower and Luncheon

Mary Danevieve O'Leary of Bloomfield terrace, bride-elect of Robert L. Wilson, was honored at a bridal shower and luncheon this afternoon at the Cass Lake road home of Mrs. Robert J. McManus. Cohostess for the event was Mrs. Wilbur Caverly of Bloomfield terrace.

* * *

Among the guests were Mrs. Alice Wilson, Margaret Ann Wilson, Kaye Wilson, Mrs. William Douglas and Mrs. Dewey Taylor.

* * *

Others attending were Mrs. Robert Waltersdorf, Mrs. Clinton Plymoton, Mrs. Charles Lawson, Mrs. A. W. Emery, Fran Schymik and Margaret Miller.

De Molay Moms Name Chairmen for Coming Year

Committee chairmen were appointed by Mrs. Arthur Thomas, president of the Pontiac DeMolay Mothers' Club, when the group met at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening.

* * *

Heading the social committee will be Mrs. Roy Wilton. Others include Mrs. Clifford McLean, telephone; Mrs. Harold Wert, historian; Mrs. William McClure, Ways and Means, and Mrs. Duncan McVean, publicity.

Later this month Mrs. William McClure will open her West Huron street home for a brunch designed to introduce new DeMolay boys' mothers.

* * *

Plans are also under way for a co-operative dinner for all DeMolay families to be held Nov. 7 at the Masonic Temple. Boys from ages 11 to 21 years are eligible for DeMolay membership.

Hoffa Wins Because, Like His Drivers, He Delivers

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Writer

Like his truck drivers, Jimmy Hoffa delivers.

But the short, muscled labor leader with his tough upper lip seldom worries about the route he takes in delivery.

CODE HIS OWN

Since he started organizing at 18, Hoffa has lived within the Teamsters Union by his own code, a tough and simple one:

Fight to win, treat your followers "right," keep your word, trust only your friends and never turn against a pal.

What happens outside the Teamsters, beaver-toothed Jimmy Hoffa doesn't much care.

STRENGTH UNITED

"The only reason unions exist," he said once, "is to use united strength against the employer, to protect the rank and file."

Asked about his rather poor "public relations" outside the union, scandal-painted Hoffa had this answer: "I don't need public relations as long as I do the job for my membership."

He proved that today in Miami Beach. Never before had he stood so discredited before the public: indicted for conspiracy, blasted by a congressional committee, indirectly excommunicated by the AFL-CIO for alleged trickery with union funds and other abuses of power.

Yet he won the presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, perhaps the most powerful single union in America.

Jimmy Hoffa is, in the physical sense, a fearsome man whose smile never reaches his icy eyes and who is decribed by his friends as "all muscle from the neck down."

By the time he was 18, Hoffa was earning 32 cents an hour unloading boxcars in the Kroger warehouse. He organized the workers, and at once used the principle that stuck throughout his life: fight to win.

★ ★ ★

He timed the first strike, as he said, "just as a load of strawberries came in." He won, "because they had to get the strawberries unloaded before they spoiled."

Within the year, he got the charter of Teamsters Union Local 674. The big fight began, with Hoffa — five foot, five, and a half inches tall and 170 pounds heavy — leading it. He recalls:

"Our cars were bombed out. Three different times, someone broke into the office and destroyed our furniture . . . They hired thugs . . . We used to slug it out on the streets . . . The cops harassed us every day . . . The whole thing didn't take months — it took years."

★ ★ ★

As his power over men and Teamsters' money grew, he watched out for Jimmy Hoffa. The Teamsters Union put out a laudatory booklet called, "The Name Is Hoffa," and said this about his private business affairs:

"He describes himself as 'comfortably well off' as a result of private investments that have included a truck equipment leasing firm, an investment concern, a brewery, and a race track. His salary is $15,000 a year as president of . . . Local 299, and $6,000 a year as vice president of the International Union.

Hoffa's private interests have come in for more critical examination by the Senate Labor Rackets Committee. Chairman Sen. John L. McClellan has accused him of repeatedly tapping union treasuries for his own benefit.

He has been charged with tapping other labor union leaders' telephone conversations. He was acquitted of an FBI charge of bribing a New York attorney to tell him just what went on inside the Senate Rackets Committee.

But the watching of others didn't make him president of the Teamsters. Treating his truck drivers "right" did it, and his bed-rock credo: "Never turn against a pal."

Therein lies his power. He has made the leaders of locals his men by granting favors, bringing pressure and, in fact, installing them in power — as, for instance, he did with gangster Johnny Dio.

The elected him president — even at the risk of being put outside most of the rest of the labor movement by expulsion from the AFL-CIO. And in spite of continuing charges against him by the U.S. Senate that could put him in still deeper trouble with the law.

Tough, hard-eyed Jimmy Hoffa had done it again.

THE WINNER — Possessor of a ninth grade education, Jimmy Hoffa, now 44, has the biggest single union job in the world. Hoffa started working at 16, as a stockboy in a Detroit department store. Now he earns $21,000 a year.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Death Calls the Turns on Narrow Highways

By HENRY A. BARNES
Director of Traffic
Baltimore, Maryland

While visiting a large city in the South recently, an overpass was observed which has a left-turn lane, overpassing a divided highway, only 10 feet wide.

Even though this is sufficiently wide for the safe travel of a motor vehicle, the facility appears so narrow that many drivers become panicky and crash into the guard rail.

MARKED BY CROSSES

During a trip to one of the southwestern states, it was noted that a white cross had been installed at every point where a motor vehicle fatality had occurred during that year.

Driving a distance of only 300 miles, 68 white crosses were observed—most of them immediately adjacent to a small culvert with a raised curb about 12 inches high and about 3 feet off the edge of the road.

This curb was at the right distance from the edge of the road and the right height to catch the cross member on the automobile frame. Even though painted white, it offered a tremendous hazard, particularly after dark.

COST HEAVY

It is realized that new facilities cost tremendous amounts of money. The new Boston Freeway cost as high as $23,000,000 a mile, and I am sure figures approximating that amount can be found in most cities.

Even so, however, safety should not be compromised in the interest of economy, and no highway should be constructed unless every precaution possible has been taken to assure the users that it is safe—not only from today's standpoint, but, also, from that of the future.

All too frequently, highways are designed to meet certain budget standards, and facilities are constructed that do not meet good highway standards. It would be better to postpone that facility altogether, rather than to build one which will mean someone's death.

While new facilities are important, particularly today with all the discussions of Federal aid, we should not overlook the fact that our existing street systems will, at one time or another, carry every vehicle which also uses the new facilities.

Most people have the mistaken belief that traffic signals, for example, will eliminate accidents. In some cases, they do; but, at the same time, a signal which is not properly engineered will more often than not be a greater hazard than if it did not exist.

The idea is gradually being accepted that modernization of existing facilities is just as important, if not more so, than the construction of new highways because if a city is just embarking on a new highway project, say 10 miles long, it is unlikely that the facility will be fully opened to traffic for at least 10 years.

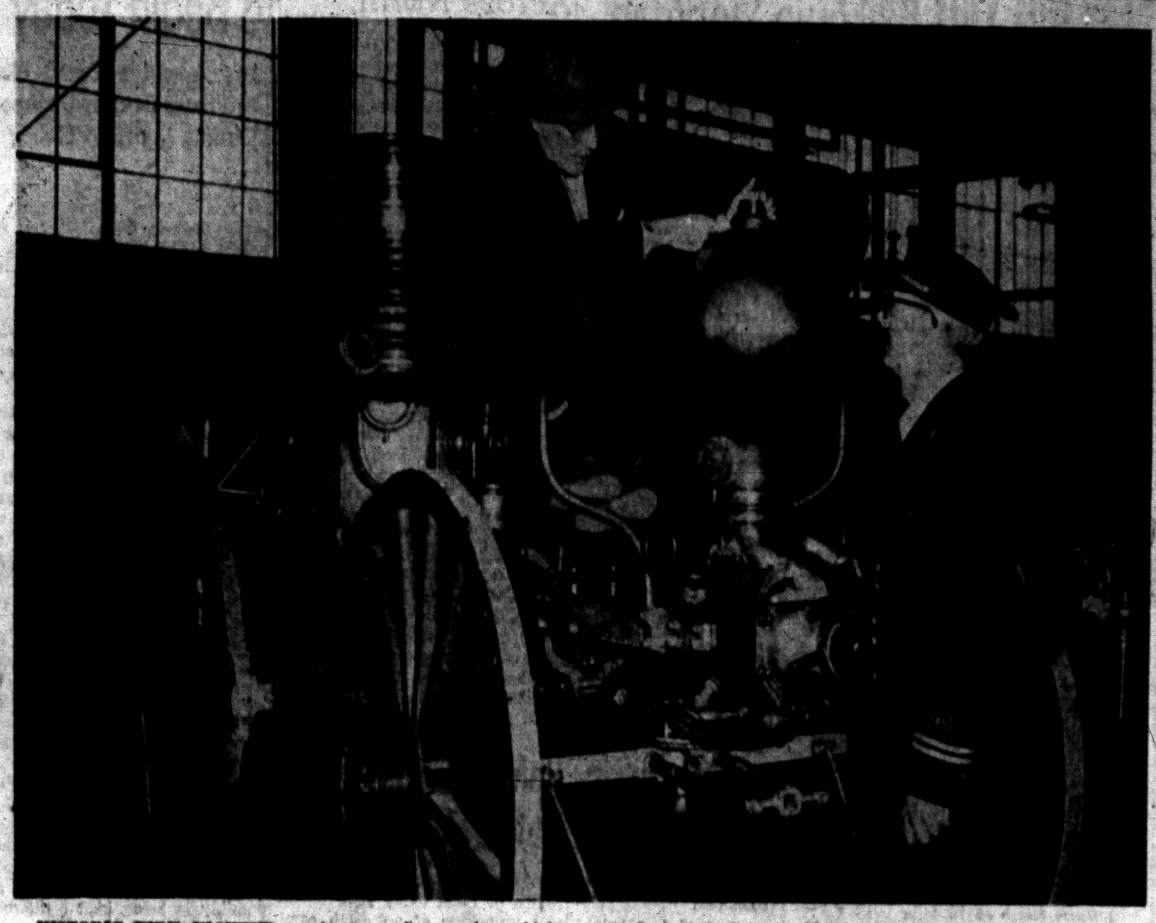

MUST DO

During that period, existing facilities must do the job, and the only way they will anywhere near suffice lies in the possibility of using the most modern engineering methods and equipment possible.

Such things as fully reflectorized stop signs, modern electronic signal control equipment, channelizing of complicated intersections, median strips on hazardous highways, and lots of paint, along with good street lighting and good regulations, can certainly improve our present situation tremendously.

In fact, a traffic engineer has a tool that will do almost everything, except tighten the loose nut behind the steering wheel, who, too often, is already tight!

Next: "More and Better Driver Training," is written by Alfred L. Moseley, of Moseley and Associates, consulting psychologist for the Institute for Safer Driving.

HISTORIC FIRE FIGHTER — A steam fire engine which fought the famous Chicago Fire of 1870 is examined by James B. Foreman, and Pontiac Fire Chief John F. Schroeder. The 1868 engine will be drawn by six horses in the Fire Prevention Week parade up N. Saginaw St. Wednesday. Foreman is apparatus procurement chairman for the parade and Chief Schroeder is supervising a fire fighting demonstration planned afterwards.

Supreme Court Starts Big Term

Heavy Docket Includes Virginia's Placement of Pupils Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today begins a new term that is certain to produce historic decisions affecting racial relations, Communist activities and other important national problems.

Returning to the bench after summer vacation, the nine justices are confronted with an unusually heavy docket of about 800 cases.

★ ★ ★

The court already has agreed to hear agruments in 113 cases. In the previous term that ended July 11, the court heard arguments in 123 cases. Thus, from the standpoint of oral arguments, the justices already have a work load almost equal to that of the entire 1956-57 term.

Pending school integration and subversive activities cases could add to the controversy still ranging from last term.

Whether the Little Rock school situation will reach the Supreme Court is problematical, but the court is expected to act this month on an appeal involving Virginia's pupil placement act.

Virginia and school officials of Norfolk and Newport News joined in the appeal, asking the court to review lower federal court decisions that the act is unconstitutional.

The Virginia act conferred on a state board the authority for assignment of pupils. The appeal said the board could act on stated cases, but none of them involved in any way race or color.

"The time has come," the appeal said, "for the Supreme Court to recognize and expound the practicalities of life in these areas (affected by integration) and to establish a framework within which public education can continue."

NEEDED: SPACIOUS ROADS — Americans are finally beginning to recognize that existing traffic arteries must be modernized to cope with the ever-increasing number of cars on the streets.

Claims No Race Over Satellites

U.S. 'Moon' Launcher Not Disturbed About Russia's Early Entry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. John P. Hagen is an unexcitable man with one of the most exciting jobs in the world — that of launching the first U.S. satellite into space.

Hagen whose serene attitude about the whole thing astonishes associates, needs all the even temper he can muster for the difficult project.

★ ★ ★

He is head of Project Vanguard, the U.S. effort to learn the secrets of space by rocketing tiny, instrument-crammed baby moons out of the earth's atmosphere and into orbits around the earth.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the Russians already have done this very thing doesn't disturb Hagen. He told the nation in a weekend television interview that the United States isn't and hasn't been trying to beat Russia to the punch.

★ ★ ★

That reaction is borne out by earlier statements along identical lines. As long ago as last December, Hagen said, "We are not in any way racing with Russia. We are only racing with our own schedule."

★ ★ ★

That schedule calls for speeding a series of baby moons out of the earth's atmosphere, where it is hoped they will assume orbits and begin sending vital information to watching the listening observers on the ground. The first fully equipped U.S. satellite is expected to be launched early next year.

Only the United States and Russia are launching satellites, although scientists all over the world are supposed to share in the collection and analysis of the information gained.

The whole thing is a part of the 18-month observance of the International Geophysical Year, a concerted, worldwide drive under way since July 1 to learn more about the earth and the universe.

20 More Guinea Natives Dying of Laughing Disease

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Twenty New Guinea natives afflicted with the kuru—laughing disease—are laughing themselves to death in Okana Hospital, in the eastern highlands of New Guinea.

Sir Macfarlane Burnet, director of the Walter and Keilza Hall Institute for Medical Research in Melbourne, says the grim disease, probably inherited, is one of the world's rarest and almost always is fatal.

So far 70 natives are afflicted with kuru.

An Okana Hospital official said the walls there shake from time to time with hysterical outbursts of laughter. . . .

"Some of the 70 victims already are laid down to die, after exhausting themselves with laughter. Soon they'll be paralyzed and die."

The official said he had been told there is one village in the highlands "packed with laughing men and women."

The disease was discovered by an American, Dr. Carleton Gajdusek, who recently spent 15 months in the Hall Institute.

Coed Swimmer Halted 2 Miles Short of Goal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A husky coed was forcibly pulled from the water last night by her handlers only two miles from the beach in an attempt to become the first to swim the 26.5 miles from the Farallon Islands to San Francisco.

Myra Thompson, 22, of San Francisco State College, had been in the water more than 18 hours.

She entered the Pacific at 4:50 a.m. and was pulled out at 10:50 p.m.

Uruguay Prevents Revolt by Officers

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Eleven persons were under indictment and another 30 in jail today as the government pressed action against groups it said planned a revolt.

★ ★ ★

Those indicted were three members of the Montevideo secret police, three members of the maritime prefecture and five civilians.

★ ★ ★

The government announced yesterday that it had averted an uprising scheduled for dawn today. A police communique said a number of army and air force officers had plotted a revolt with some civilians. It said they planned to kill a number of government leaders and take over important buildings.

Lehman Terms Faubus' Action 'Shortsighted'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Former Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York has termed the actions of Gov. Orval Faubus in the Little Rock school integration crisis "foolish and shortsighted."

★ ★ ★

Lehman, who was taken ill Saturday in New York, made the statement in a speech read for him here at a dinner last night by his son John R. Lehman. The younger Lehman accepted the Solomon Bublick Public Service Award of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem on behalf of his father.

★ ★ ★

Lehman is in Doctors Hospital for a checkup and observation. A family spokesman said the condition of the 79-year-old former senator and New York governor is not considered serious.

Russia to Send Cards to Satellite Watchers

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union today said it would send "special cards" to radio amateurs around the world who report the reception of signals from its earth satellite.

Moscow radio in a broadcast beamed to North America told the hams to report their receptions to Radio Magazine, Moscow.

Pontiac Fire Prevention Week

Demonstration to Follow Parade

The Pontiac Fire Prevention Week parade Wednesday, at 7 p.m., will be followed by an hour and 10 minute fire fighting demonstration program, it was revealed today.

The program, which will start at 8 p.m. right after the parade, will be held at North Side baseball field, Edison and Montcalm streets.

Following flag raising ceremonies, the Pontiac Fire Dept. will demonstrate the "church raise" method of rigging a ladder to fight fires in high ceiling buildings.

The department will then extend its aerial ladder a full 100 feet with a man at the end and rotate it around.

A house fire will be ignited and a Pontiac company will fight the fire in full view of the audience.

Next the Ansul Fire Extinguisher Co. will set ablaze a 10,000 gallon L. C. Cole fuel truck and show how the fire can be put out with dry powder.

The same firm will use its powder next on a propane gas fire.

★ ★ ★

A highlight of the program will be a water battle between the champion Waterford Township Fire Dept. and the challengers, the Brooklands Fire Dept.

A surprise method of fire fighting is promised the audience by Capt. Albert Rayner who is handling the arrangements.

Harvey Johns, of GMC Truck and Coach, will serve as master of ceremonies and Fire Marshall Charles Metz will narrate the program.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration and the huge parade up Saginaw street preceding it are both arranged by the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The parade, which Sherwin Birnkrant, parade marshall believes will be the largest in the country, will feature many historic pieces of equipment as well as a number of bands and acts.

Straits Cities Look Ahead

Keep Up With Progress

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — "Progress," said Jan Vonderohe, "never hurt anybody who kept up with it. That's what the bridge is and that's what we've got to do on both sides of the Straits of Mackinac—keep up."

★ ★ ★

Vonderohe was speaking of the Mackinac Bridge and the possible fate of his Mackinaw City, with a population of 970, and St. Ignace, with a population of 2,946.

The ivory-legged green giant's stride already has by-passed Mackinaw City on the lower peninsula, and plans are in the works to get busy U.S. 2 off St. Ignace's main street and outside the upper peninsula town.

Mackinaw City's economy primarily depends upon the tourist dollar. St. Ignace's No. 1 income has been from men who have operated the State Highway Department's ferry fleet which the bridge will put out of business. The tourist trade also has been an important item there.

★ ★ ★

Most of the men who built the 100-million-dollar bridge have lived on the St. Ignace side of the Straits. At times they have numbered as many as 2,500. They'll be going with the opening Nov. 1.

FERRY PAYROLL HIGH

The ferry payrolls have run as high as $220,000 a month in summer; $50,000 in winter. Ferry jobs run from 471 to 232 depending upon the season.

Marvin Winkelman, St. Ignace merchant and Chamber of Commerce president, expects the town to undergo an economic readjustment for a couple of years, but thinks the bridge "definitely will bring a lot more people up here."

Mayor Al Phillips of St. Ignace is "confident the bridge will make St. Ignace grow."

Vonderohe estimates his restaurant and gift shop at the top of the Mackinaw City ferry docks does a gross of $160,000 to $180,000 annually, most of it between April 1 and Labor Day. And, he concedes, he may lose 30 to 40 per cent of it unless something is done to lure bridge-crossers off the bypass.

★ ★ ★

A "golden opportunity" will slip by, he says, unless Mackinaw City, Mackinac Island and St. Ignace unite in a campaign to attract the vacationer and tourist.

John Scherf, Mackinaw City Chamber of Commerce president and a motel operator, anticipates an increase in traffic that actually will result in more people visiting the town "to shop and see."

E. A. Murphy, a Mackinaw City motel operator for 10 years, says neither side can accommodate all the tourists looking for food and shelter. He expects continued good business.

★ ★ ★

There are men in both towns who look upon the bridge with apprehension, but Murphy is glad it is built because the ferries "can't begin to handle the traffic."

And he adds:

"I've heard people lament when they were putting on a new, big ferry boat that it'd shuttle folks so fast through town they wouldn't stop. But each year, boat after boat, business has been better."

MACKINAC ISLAND TRAFFIC

There's no bridge to Mackinac Island, just to the northeast of the Straits; never has been and one isn't even in the speculative stages. The island limits its vehicles to horse-drawn buggies.

★ ★ ★

And if St. Ignace and Mackinaw City lost every other vacationer except those bound for Mackinac Island, they'd still get 300,000 to 350,000 a year. The only way to get there by ferry is from Mackinaw City or St. Ignace.

One annual event towsfolk and the travelers alike will miss is the annual, miles-long pileup of deer hunters bound to and from the upper peninsula around Nov. 15. The wait sometimes lasts five hours.

Some are glad those madhouse days are over. One of them is Vonderohe, who has suffered three heart attacks trying to keep up with business and can take it easier now.

A number of new motels have sprung up below Mackinaw City where the highways sweep to left and up the bridge, leaving the town behind.

But Scherf, whose motel is bypassed, says: "Progress and prosperity go hand in hand. That's history. And that's the way we feel here. Open the bridge."

Laws Aimed at JPs Not for City Courts

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh has held that the new statutory requirements designed to tighten up bookkeeping practices of justices of the peace do not apply to municipal courts.

In an opinion replying to queries of two Lansing municipal judges and the Ingham County treasurer, Kavanagh said the 1957 Legislature evidently sought to reach only JPs.

"It should not however be inferred that municipal courts are not required to maintain suitable dockets nor to report and remit fees and costs," he said.

In a separate opinion, the attorney general told Judge Frank G. Schemanske, executive judge of the Detroit Recorders Court, that one appointment of counsel for an accused indigent is sufficient

Overcast Blocks Moscow's View of Red Satellite

MOSCOW (INS) — Moscow citizens who got out of bed early today to see the Russian satellite pass over were disappointed.

★ ★ ★

The news agency Tass said the object was scheduled to pass over the city at 6:40 a.m., Moscow time.

But rain and an overcast sky prevented a sighting.

This did not appear to quell the enthusiasm of the man-in-the street, however, at the news that Russia had launched the first artificial moon.

One man exulted thus:

"Now we have really shown America something which is even better than catching up with their butter and milk production."

Big Span Tests Louie Stepman

Spectacular Accident on Catwalks Takes 2; Miracle Saves Him

ST. IGNACE (AP) — As long as stories are told about the building of the Mackinac Bridge, Louis (Big Louie) Stepman likely will figure in them.

Stepman figured in the most spectacular accident in the four years the big span was abuilding —and lived to tell about it. That's the miraculous part.

An Indian and a native of Muskogee, Okla., the 30-year-old Stepman is 200 pounds of hard muscle spread over a 6-foot frame in life-guard shape. He has walked the high steel of many bridges and buildings.

The big accident happened June 6, 1956. Two men died in it. Two others almost did.

Stepman, Robert (Bob) Anderson, American Bridge's yard boss ashore, and Jack C. Baker of Pagosa Springs, Colo., and Robert Koppen of Plymouth, Mass., were stringing catwalk from the north tower.

★ ★ ★

The catwalk, strung on thin steel cables, was made of chain-link fencing. The men already had fastened wooden timbers at intervals of 100 feet and had fastened them to the cables.

2 FALL TO DEATH

Suddenly at that 47-story height, the 100 feet on the cables began to slide, snapping off the loose folds. Koppen and Baker toppled to their deaths in the Straits below. Anderson, on the section fastened to the cables, was jerked forward with it.

Big Louie, too, was snapped forward, feet-first—off the tower. One of the timbers in the mesh struck him in the back of the shoulders and straightened him up.

"I was falling out in space," he recalls. "Then right in front of me I saw the broken section falling from the catwalk. I grabbed into it with the fingers of one hand. It almost pulled my arm out of the socket but my hold held."

The deadly roller coaster headed down the cables straight at a concrete pier. But where the slant of the cables slackened, it began slowing and finally stopped.

The loose end swayed to and fro, Big Louie dangling some 30 feet from the end of it 180 feet above the water.

Big Louie said:

"I had made up my mind to jump and take my chances in the water. I yelled at Anderson I thought I'd drop off. He told me to climb on up."

To do this, Stepman reached down with a free hand and took off his shoes so he could get a toe-hold in the fencing. Hand over hand, he made it up the perpendicular 70 feet of wire mesh.

Big Louie was bruised and battered, but back on his job as a bridgeman the next day.

Poor Pedro Wonders Where the Railing Went

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Pedro Trevino, 45, was rescued by an ambulance driver from a 40-foot-deep creek bed and taken to a hospital with back injuries.

Pedro explained that he got tired while walking home. He said he started to sit down on a bridge railing and then found himself on the creek bed.

The ambulance driver explained it a little more.

The bridge had no railing.

Wet and Cloudy Weather Extends Across North

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet and cloudy weather extended across the northern part of the country today from the north Pacific Coast eastward through New England, but skies were clear in most other areas.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation was reported in wide sections, with heaviest falls in the New England region and the northern Plains. Rainfall measured 1½ inches at Providence, R.I., and more than half an inch at Watertown, S.D.

★ ★ ★

The storm that struck the Atlantic Coast yesterday weakened considerably during the night. Heavy rain, high tides and gale force winds hammered the area. Wind gusts of 74 m.p.h. lashed Chincteague, Va., and more than 4½ inches of rain drenched Cape Hatteras, N.C. However, as the winds diminished all storm warnings along the Atlantic Coast and inland waters were lowered.

Freezing rain and snow flurries and temperatures in the 20s were reported in Montana and cool weather extended from the northern Plains to the Pacific Northwest.

Nehru Claims Orb Outdates Politics

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India today said the Soviet launching of an earth satellite "forces people to realize that our present-day politics are outdated."

★ ★ ★

"Science and technological advance has gone far ahead of the capacity of human beings to adapt themselves to it," Nehru told a news conference. "It is a quite fantastic advance.

"Military alliances, armament races and our politics are out of date. The gap between science and technology and normal human thinking is very big. We have to adapt ourselves to our age."

★ ★ ★

Speaking of Soviet troops in Hungary and U.S. troops in Japan and Korea, Nehru said:

"It is essentially the same, although practically there may be some differences. I understand the American forces are in the process of being withdrawn. . . . Otherwise there is no difference."

★ ★ ★

He added that Russian troops should not be in Hungary. As for U.S. troops in Japan, he commented: "A country which wishes the presence of foreign troops is a country which is weak and uncertain of itself."

Murder Trial to Begin Today

Los Angeles Court Has to Prove Death; Defense Claims Woman Living

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The strangest Los Angeles murder trial in years begins today. It is the state's attempt to prove that L. Ewing Scott killed his long-missing wife Evelyn.

Indications are that jury selection in the court of Superior Judge Clement D. Nye will take several days.

★ ★ ★

The prosecutor, Dep. Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy, has the task of establishing murder without the corpus delicti—the actual death of the person alleged to have been murdered.

The body of Mrs. Scott has not been found nor has an official theory been advanced as to how the wealthy matron may have met death.

Defense attorneys P. Basil Lambros, Al Matthews and Tom Williams are expected to attack the state's case on the ground that the prosecution cannot prove that Mrs. Scott is dead, much less murdered.

The 61-year-old Scott, distinguished in appearance and confident in manner, has maintained from the outset that his wife is still alive. He contends that she possibly is being held somewhere against her will.

Mrs. Scott was 63 when she vanished from her $75,000 home in suburban Bel Air May 16, 1955. Scott, her fifth husband, did not report her missing to authorities until jogged by relatives.

★ ★ ★

On March 6, 1956, Mrs. Scott's brother, E. Raymond Throsby, filed an estate guardianship petition in Superior Court in which he alleged Scott not only had refused to report his wife's disappearance but had taken no steps to conserve her $600,000 estate.

Four days later police found Mrs. Scott's dentures and two pairs of eyeglasses near an incinerator in the back yard of her home.

★ ★ ★

The county grand jury indicted Scott, self-styled investment counselor, on charges of theft and forgery in the administration of his wife's estate. But when the dapper Scott was called for arraignment he, too, had disappeared.

Five months after he vanished the grand jury indicted him on a murder count.

His arrest in Windsor, Ont., Canada, last April 16 ended the most extensive manhunt in Los Angeles crime history.

Ex-Plumber Rises to Top as 'Pops' Vocalist

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It is not so bad to be a plumber's assistant. It is quiet work, at any rate, with only the sounds of drips, splashes and occasional clanks to befuddle the blissful brain.

To be a "vocal recording artist" is quite another thing again. All day long you hear — over and above the sound of your own voice bellowing out the blues and other, louder noises — the harangue of agents, the screams of teenagers, the beat beat beat of the tom-tom, and the endless clinking of money.

LOTS DIFFERENT

"It's lots different," said Don Rondo, who doesn't say much. "Anything you do, if you get appreciated, you like it."

Rondo, about one year ago, was a plumber's apprentice; he still carries his union card. Today, as anyone under 19 knows for sure, he is at the top of the popular record industry. His rise was so fast that his press agents enthusiastically, if inanely, refer to him as a "Cinderella" boy

★ ★ ★

"That's kind of silly," he says, looking wholesome and open-faced and good, as a teen idol should. "I've been around for ten years and never could get arrested, much less famous. Then I do one record, 'Two Different Worlds,' and I go, bang! From nowhere to silk suits."

FOUND IN BARN

Don was "discovered," but in a small and frustrating way, a few years ago in a barn, where he was serenading a passel of chickens. This sounds like pure press agentry, but Don has such a nutritious look about him, you've got to buy it.

"I come from a family of eight kids. Every Sunday afternoon, me being the youngest, it was my job to feed the cows while my older brothers took their girls out. They had to be back by five to milk the cows.

"Well, one Sunday I was singing my head off, using a rake for a mike, and a couple of grain salesmen heard me—they were there to sell my dad something—and said they were going to put my name up for a talent scout contest sponsored by the Lions Club."

HE WON

Rondo won, of course. And success led to his own radio show at station WACE in Chicopee Falls, Mass, a few miles from his home-farm of Palmer.

Having too much pride to sing without accompaniment however, he hired three musicians at $5 a week to back him. This cut his personal take down to $5 a week, and explains why he had to go into the plumbing business

"That's how it happened that when an agent from New York called me about recording 'Two Different Worlds,' I happened to be repairing a faucet."

Don Rondo is 27, six feet tall, the father of three children, now has what is ignobly referred to as gobs of money. It hasn't changed his home (in Palmer) life any. "We've added a few lamps here and there, and we have storm windows for the place, that's about it.

"The kids get more daring, since I'm not home so much, but I get home enough to keep 'em in line. I tell them to cool off, and if they don't, they get it—hand or strap—just like I got it."

Lower Peaks Offer Climbers Challenge

DARJEELING, India (AP) — It isn't the height of the mountain that intrigues mountain climbers any more, Guido Magnone, leader of a French mountain climbers group here surveying the 25,300-foot Mt. Janu for a climbing expedition, had this to say:

"Now that all the highest mountains in the Himalayas except Dhaulagiri have been climbed, the challenge is for the lower, more difficult peaks."

Insulin was discovered by scientists in Toronto, Canada in the year 1921.

Doodles Weaver Weds Actress Reita Green

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Winstead Sheffield (Doodles) Weaver, television producer and comedian, and actress Reita Ann Green were married at the Laurel Canyon home of architect Ray Donley yesterday.

Weaver, probably best known for his recording of "Beedlebaum," a takeoff on a horse race announcer, is 40, and his bride 21. Superior Judge Samuel Blake read the marriage vows.

Fights Queen's Use of U.S. Car for Tour

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Sketch today protested the use of an American car for Queen Elizabeth's forthcoming U.S. tour.

★ ★ ★

"When the Queen visited Paris, a Rolls-Royce was flown over for her use," said the Sketch. "This was entirely right.

"The ordinary American can't be blamed for thinking when he sees the Queen in a Cadillac: 'Gee, the limeys have to use our cars too.' "

19 Cars Per Road Mile

CHICAGO — There are 19 motor vehicles for each mile of highway, road, and street in the United States compared with 15 per mile in 1950. By 1975 the figure is expected to be 30 per mile.

Hollywood Headlines

Kathryn Grayson Happy Over Her Own Company

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Good to hear the lilt in Kathryn Grayson's voice—she hasn't sounded this way in weeks, and I discovered the reason. She has just signed a contract with Joseph Kaufman for her own independent company, "Grayson Enterprises," the same sort of deal that Lana Turner has with him for "Another Time, Another Place."

Kathryn's first picture is "Wake Up, Darling," a play by Alex Gottlieb, and she will do it with music. Said Katie, "I'll go to Europe next spring after Patti (her daughter) is out of school. Then I'll make two more in Europe, one in Italy and one in Switzerland."

"What about your home?" I asked her.

"I'm not selling that," she replied. "Our roots are here. I wouldn't think of permanently living in Europe and I'll be back after I make the pictures, but it will be nice to get a change of atmosphere."

ESTHER'S ANGRY

Over the weekend Esther Williams, Ben Gage and Little Susie planed in from New York. Esther is hot under the collar about the stories that she and Ben have had trouble. "I guess I'll have to have another baby," she said, "to prove there's no trouble."

I asked her if she had any plans. She said she'll discuss "Scorpion Reed" with Universal-International. "I'll take it in the Bahamas," she said. "But right now I'm glad to get home and see my two boys.

"The trouble in my marriage is that Ben is very busy with the pre-fab houses, swimming pools, and our other business projects and can't leave, while my career is taking me away because so many pictures are being made on location in other countries."

SPOOKY 'MAC'

The severest critic of "Mac" Macdonald Carey, no less a person than his charming wife Betty, tells me that the script of "The Seedling Doubt," the TV show he is making for Frank Sinatra, is swell.

Said Betty, "I know, because I cued Mac on it before he reported to his director, Richard Sale. It is very spooky."

Frank won't appear in this, but the show is for his TV company and I will say out loud he has a good actor in Mac, one of my favorite neighbors.

Red Skelton was sitting in the UCLA Medical Center waiting room while he son Richard underwent a routine check-up, when a strange woman dashed up, practically in a state of hysterics. Poor Red has had much trouble of his own, and perhaps because of it, he was extraordinarily patient and sympathetic as she burst out her pitiful story:

"My husband has just been brought in with the most terrible burns from an explosion in Saugus," she cried. "Oh, Mr. Skelton, if you could just speak to him, it might help so much."

Not only did Red take the time to visit the horribly burned man, but promised, "Every time I'm here with my son, I shall visit you. Maybe it will help a little."

HOLLYWOOD SNAPSHOTS

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Pretty, dark-eyed Joanne Rio, once reported engaged to Liberace, will soon be getting married to David Barr. He is a designer and the owner of a chain of women's stores.

Terry Hunt, who keeps many people in the film colony fit, and his wife are expecting a Christmas present—a baby.

The long rumored secret marriage of Elaine Stewart to Dr. Herman Platt obviously isn't true. She's being romanced by Palm Springs man-about-town, realtor Jerry Nathanson.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Scientist Attains Highest Altitude —on the Ground

BALTIMORE (AP) — With the world looking to space and speculating when it will be able to send men to the moon, the Air Force announced today it has sent a man to a record simulated altitude of 95 miles.

Niels Jensen, a scientist from Litton Industries, Inc. of Beverly Hills, Calif., made the trip without leaving the ground by wearing a special pressure suit in a chamber capable of producing rarified atmosphere.

Litton designed and constructed the new high vacuum chamber, 15 feet long and 8 feet in diameter for the Air Research and Development Command's Office of Scientific Research.

The pressure suit enables Jensen to provide accurate information about his own physical behavior and to observe the reaction of materials, equipment and instruments under extremely low pressure and density.

San Marino Expects Long, Hard Struggle

By RICHARD EHRMAN

SAN MARINO (AP)—"It looks like it's going to be a long war."

That's the way San Marinese today assessed the trouble which has divided their tiny republic into two armed camps.

★ ★ ★

So far not a shot has been fired between supporters of the rival Communist and anti-Communist governments, which have been on guard against each other for a week.

And neither seems to have the means— or desire — to force a showdown.

With no solution in sight, San Marinese are buckling down with the prospect of some food shortage, no postal service and disruption of the tourist trade.

Since most of the hilltop republic's 14,000 people are farmers, the food shortage is not likely to be too serious. But the Italian blockade of all approaches to San Marino has cut off the supply of vegetables and other foods which usually flow in.

★ ★ ★

The post office is in the hands of the Communists. Italy, which completely surrounds the republic and has recognized the anti-Red regime, is allowing none of San Marino's mail out.

The anti-Communist government controls only one remote corner of the 38-square-mile country. But it plans to set up a post office. Italy probably would permit the flow of its mail.

★ ★ ★

Planning for a long dispute, the anti-Communists are setting up prefabricated huts — complete with bathtubs — at the abandoned steel factory they use as headquarters.

The anti-Communists used a plane yesterday to drop leaflets for the second time on San Marino. The leflets warned shopkeepers not to sell supplies to the Red government on credit.

Texas Tot Spills Gasoline; Dies in Resulting Flames

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Douglas Wayne Rudel, 2, got hold of a can of gasoline in the family washhouse yesterday.

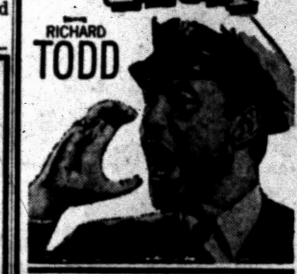

"He was bad about screwing the caps off things," said his father, Joney Rudel. "He must have just sat in the middle of the floor, unscrewed the cap off the gas can and poured the stuff all over him."

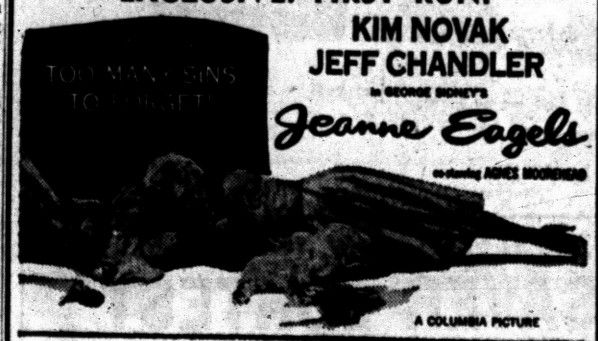

The pilot light of a water heater ignited the gasoline fumes and Douglas Wayne burned to death.

$90,000,000 Goal Set for Washing of Air

MINNEAPOLIS — Electronic washing of air will be a $90,000,000-a-year business in about five years, one of the half-dozen large makers of this sort of equipment predicts. The equipment is incorporated into air-conditioning systems in both industries and homes.

Lions See Daylight in 24-14 Win

Detroit Gains First Victory at Green Bay

Johnson Sparks Running Attack; Rote Engineers Two Touchdowns

GREEN BAY, Wisc. (AP) — It's amazing what one victory can do.

Affable Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions, thought a suitable comparison would be the coal miner who comes out of a dark shaft into the blazing sunlight.

★ ★ ★

The Lions came out of the darkness Sunday, trampling the Green Bay Packers 24-14 in a professional football contest that was more one sided than the score indicates.

★ ★ ★

In overwhelming the Packers, the Lions threw up a stubborn defense that picked off five Green Bay passes and restricted the Wisconsin team to 98 yards on the ground. The Detroiters did their best rushing in two seasons and bulldozing John Henry Johnson picked up 109 yards for the best individual running performance in several campaigns.

The victory was heartening to the Lions, not only because it evened their National Football League mark at 1-1, but because Johnson and Leon Hart, two of the "big guys" needed most to make the offense go, snapped out of leg injuries.

"They played like they're capable of playing," said head coach George Wilson.

Too, the Lions' tackling and blocking—so pitifully inept a week ago—was sharp and crisp. They overcame 113 yards in penalties (Green Bay was penalized 54 yards) and Tobin Rote proved he's the finest quarterback the Packers ever turned loose.

Rote, a disappointment through the exhibition season, completed five passes in five attempts for 25 yards, and ran the ball eight times for 27 yards. He engineered two of the three touchdown drives.

The first one started with the opening kickoff on the Detroit 19. Counting a 15-yard penalty, the march actually covered 96 yards and consumed 14 plays. With Rote passing for 11 yards, running for 19 more himself and Johnson chipping in with 22 yards. The Lions moved to the Packer two from where Rote plunged over.

★ ★ ★

The key play was a daring call prepared by Wilson himself. With fourth down and 22 to go from the Lion 45, Yale Lary ran from punt formation for 32 yards to the Green Bay 23.

★ ★ ★

So dominating were the Lions in the early stages that Green Bay had the ball for only a dozen or so plays in the first half. Detroit struck again before the half was over with Bobby Layne booting a 15-yard field goal to make it 17-0.

Detroit soared ahead 24-0 early in the fourth period on a 59-yard drive. Halfback Howard Cassady's running and pass receiving accounted for 31 of those yards and Gene Gedman finally crashed across from one yard out.

'Bush League' Braves Deadlock Series

Ford, Burdette on Firing Line

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Practically a new World Series starts today as Milwaukee's Lew Burdette and New York's Whitey Ford go after their second victory in the 5th game of the October classic with an all-important 3-2 edge for the winners hanging in the balance.

With the series all square at two victories apiece, after Milwaukee's dramatic 10-inning 7-5 triumph over the Yankees yesterday, the see-saw battle must return to New York no matter what happens today.

Even the most partisan New York rooters, watching the Braves bounce back twice to pull abreast of the haughty world champions, must be convinced by now that the Yankees are in for the fight of their lives barring a sudden collapse by either team, the series seems almost certain to go the full seven-game distance.

Another capacity crowd of 45,804 was assured for the last game to be played at County Stadium. Again the weatherman has come to the aid of the World Series combatants, assuring good baseball weather for the game that was scheduled to start at 2 P.M. (EST).

A victory for either team today will leave the winner needing just one more triumph in New York. Since tomorrow has been set aside for travel the issue can not be decided until Wednesday, at the earliest.

Neither manager wished to divulge any pitching information beyond today, if indeed, they know, but it looks like Wednesday's moundsmen will be Bob Buhl for Milwaukee and Bob Turley for New York. They opposed each other in the 3rd game Saturday. Should a 7th game be needed to decide the world championship it probably will be Warren Spahn for the Braves and Don Larsen for the Yankees.

The immediate concern for both managers—Fred Haney and Casey Stengel, however, is today's game. Both realize the importance of this one and both will be shooting the works.

"Those National Leaguers have proven to me what I've thought right from the beginning," Stengel said yesterday. "I warned my fellows at the start not to take them too lightly. Make no mistake about it, this Milwaukee team is tough. It has the pitching, the defense and the hitting. It proved that in every game but one. Those fellows have hit all my pitchers but one. That's Ford. Now we'll see how those fellows can do against him this time."

In Ford, the Braves will be facing a pitcher who not only has muffled them with five hits in a 3-1 success in the opener, but a seasoned performer who has won five world series games.

In Burdette, the Yankees will be facing a pitcher who has shackled them with only seven hits, only one longer than a single, in his 4-2 triumph over them in the 2nd game.

Spahn Survives Yankee Comeback to Win in 10 Innings

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The team the Yankees had labeled as "bush leaguers" was all even with them going into the 5th game of the World Series at County Stadium today after a gallant comeback had given the Braves an electrifying 7-5 triumph in 10 innings Sunday.

It was the 36-year-old Warren Spahn, ably supported by the bludgeoning bats of Henry Aaron, Frank Torre, Johnny Logan and Eddie Mathews, who gained the all-important Milwaukee victory yesterday. He went the nerve-wracking 10-inning distance despite only a three day rest and 11 Yankee base hits that included a last ditch three-run homer by Elston Howard and a near-fatal triple by Hank Bauer.

Until the ninth, Spahn was superb. He had limited the Yankee powerhouse to only six hits and had not permitted a run after the first inning. From the second faced the minimum of three batters an inning. Two double plays wiped out the only two hits he allowed in that interim.

A double by Andy Carey and a pinch single by Jerry Lumpe put Yankee runners on first and third in the eighth but a third twin killing, started by shortstop Logan, snuffed out that threat. Logan, incidentally, established a series record with 10 assists.

The ninth was a nightmare for Spahn. After retiring the first two batters, the brilliant southpaw seemed certain of an easy 4-1 triumph but a tremendous Yankee rally, coming with the suddenness of a hurricane, left not only the score tied at 4-4 but the partisan crowd of 45,804 stunned beyond speech.

Hardly before Spahn knew what had hit him, Yogi Berra and Gil McDougiad singled and Howard, connecting with a 3-2 pitch, sent the ball screeching into the left field bleachers for a might three-run homer.

Spahn managed to wiggle out of that inning without further damage but in the 10th, again after he retired the first two batters, Kubek beat out an infield hit and scores on a triple by Bauer. All seemed lost when the Braves came to bat in their half. But Tommy Byrne, who had taken over in the eighth, hit pinch-hitter Nippy Jones with the first pitch. Bob Grim, the relief games for the Yankees during the regular season, was summoned from the bullpen.

Red Schoendienst sacrificed pinch runner Felix Mantilla to second. Logan after taking two balls, smashed a double into the left field corner tying the score. Stengel preferred to pitch to the lefthanded Mathews even though first base was open. A healthy respect for Aaron's bat plus the knowledge that Mathews had been held hitless thrpugh the first three games, prompted Casey's decision. It proved to be the wrong one.

THIS IS "BUSH" — A Braves' fan lets everyone know how he feels about the Yankees who called the Milwaukee reception "bush" when the city officials welcomed them at the station. Casey Stengel later made a bitter-sweet apology, but Milwaukee fans booed him throughout the game for the remark.

ANSWERS "BUSH" CALLS — Yankee manager Casey Stengel, fresh from an 8th inning booing, puts a touch of amusement to the World Series by blowing a kiss to the fans who threw the words "bush leaguer" back at him all during the game. The Braves won, 7-5.

NFL in 2nd Place Jam

Colts, Browns Continue Unbeaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The upstart and unbeaten Baltimore Colts and the back-home-again Cleveland Browns today were a step ahead of a logjam of eight National Football League teams.

★ ★ ★

The Colts paced the Western Conference and the Browns the Eastern Conference with 2-0 records. The rest of the league was virtually in one big second place tie after weekend play.

★ ★ ★

Sunday's results compounded the tangle as last week's losers turned on the winners. The Detroit Lions deflated the previously unbeaten Green Bay Packers 24-14, Washington's rookies powered the Redskins to a 37-14 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals and the San Francisco 49ers reversed a lopsided exhibition performance and whipped the Los Angeles Rams 23-20. All six teams have 1-1 records.

The New York Giants, defending champions, evened their record Saturday night, winning their first game 23-20 against winless Philadelphia. In other Saturday games, Cleveland moved into familiar first place quarters after overpowering Pittsburgh 23-12 and the Colts repeated a 1956 upset of the troublesome Chicago Bears 21-10.

Pittsburgh has a 1-1 record. The Bears, Western champions last year, and the Eagles each took their second defeats.

At Chicago, Ed Sutton and Don Bosseler accounted for three touchdowns in the Redskin romp. Both are first year men. Sutton scored twice in the third quarter and gained 44 yards on 10 carries. Bosseler gained 67 yards on 16 rushes, including a fourth period one-yarder that capped an 83-yard touchdown march.

Cardinal quarterback LaMar McHan threw touchdown passes to end Gene Nagler in the first and second quarters to give the Cardinals a 14-13 halftime lead.

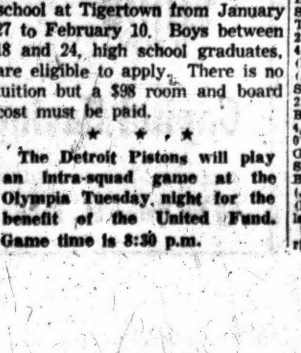

The 49ers Y. A. Tittle tossed the clinching touchdown pass 11 yards to rookie R. C. "Overdrive" Owens. Oewns earlier turned a 46-yard Tittle aerial into a score with a leaping catch.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles scored the first time it had the ball. Halfback Tom Wilson went the final 20 yards. Norman Van Brocklin threw to end Leon Clarke for the second Ram touchdown. The play covered 70 yards. Paige Cothren kicked two field goals for the Rams.

Covington Fans 6 Times

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Braves' Wes Covington, who has struck out six times, is in danger of setting a record. The standard is nine for a six game series set by Jim Bottomley of the Cards in 1930 and for a seven game set it is 10 by Bill Abstein of Pittsburgh in 1909.

Doug Maison, 200-pound quarterback at Hillsdale from Imlay City, is the nephew of ex-Michigan Stater Al Dorow now of the Philadelphia Eagles. Dorrow is also a native of Imlay City.

The Detroit Pistons will play an intra-squad game at the Olympia Tuesday night for the benefit of the United Fund. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

BACKS IN — Howard Ferguson (37) Green Bay halfback tried to spin and back in to score but Detroit's captain and linebacker Joe Schmidt (56) backed him out. The Lions won, 24-14.

Lou Little Calls 'em

By LOU LITTLE
Chairman, Committee on Rules, American Football Coaches Assn.

We are seeing this fall, much earlier than we used to expect it, a fine balance and a varied power in the football offense. This was true in every area of major action on the last weekend, and it was noticeably true of several teams which this week will play nationally important games. There is increasing evidence that we have developed well the possibilities of the two-unit football so necessary these days when the men are playing both ways if you hope to keep the tempo of your game at top speed.

Two of the nationally significant games this week are the Notre Dame-Army contest in Philadelphia and the Michigan-Michigan State clash at Ann Arbor. Off their most recent performances on Saturday, it seems well established that these four are ready for the really serious business of the campaign.

It is quite true, of course, that Army and Notre Dame don't have second units that are as well manned as they would like. Both, however, have shown fine strength and each added week will mean that the second unit so important to them will be more and more developed.

★ ★ ★

I saw Michigan State against California at Berkeley. Because their test this week against Michigan is of extreme importance to the Spartans, both from the traditional point of view and from the angle of Big Ten title play, State's performance was viewed with special interest.

California was almost a perfect opponent for State on this day, extending the middle westerners but not to the point where it became a fight for survival.

California did a fine job of preparing a second unit to face the substituting unit that came in for State. This was a spirited California team, playing a game which those close to the situation told me was much improved over the earlier showings.

Michigan State impressed me with its great potential strength, but its offense was sporadic. I'm sure this was just about the kind of game State needed to tighten up after the easy win of the week before.

Michigan, on the other hand, had a rather less satisfactory afternoon against Georgia, whose mistakes, notably fumbling, enabled the Wolverines to get the game well in hand in the first half, removing some measure of second-half pressure which the coaching staff probably would have welcomed.

WELCOME HERO — Eddie Mathews runs into a Braves' welcoming committee at home plate after he homered in the 10th inning to give Milwaukee a 7-5 victory and to even the World Series at two games apiece. The Yanks tied the score in the ninth when Elston Howard homered with two men on base. There was one man on base when Mathews hit his homer.

St. Mike Falls Again, 13-0

St. Michael's offensive punch was sadly lacking again Sunday afternoon as the Shamrocks suffered their 2nd straight Suburban Catholic League defeat.

St. Benedict mustered touchdown drives in the 2nd and 4th quarters to hand the Mikes a 13-0 setback yesterday at Highland Park.

It was the 2nd consecutive SCL triumph for the unbeaten Ravens and their 3rd win overall. St. Mike now has a 1-2 record.

Two-yard plunges by Larry Gacki and Billy Behrend were all St. Ben required to down the punchless Shamrocks. Gacki hit pay-dirt in the 2nd period while Behrend waited until the 4th stanza to get his TD.

The Ravens muffed another golden opportunity to score when quarterback Art Massucci overthrew Gacki after the fleet-footed halfback had outmaneuvered the Shamrock secondary and raced into the open.

St. Mike made no serious scoring threats. The Shamrocks' best effort was halted on the St. Ben 25 and one lone tackler prevented halfback Bob Mineweaser from returning a kickoff all the way.

The Mikes also took their physical lumps. Tom Chapdelaine injured an ankle, Lou Palace aggravated his ailing knee, Mike Flynn reinjured his leg and Chuck Steinhelper was out of action with a bruised ankle.

Coach Bob Mineweaser expects all four players to be ready for next Sunday's big cross-town battle with St. Frederick.

St. Fred was scheduled to meet Orchard Lake St. Mary Sunday at Orchard Lake, but the flu bug's invasion of both schools postponed the game.

Ferndale St. James and Detroit St. Rita stayed in the undefeated ranks with SCL victories yesterday.

Bill Tunnicliff, 190-pound fullback, tallied on an 85-yard run and a 70-yard pass play as the Dales dumped Center Line St. Clement, 31-20. Quarterback Al Sleyter scored two touchdowns and four extra points to pace St. Rita's 28-6 rout of Royal Oak St. Mary.

In other parochial games, St. Patrick trounced Shrine, 44-6, and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow bowed to St. Agatha, 27-13.

Dales Roll Along; Ypsi, Chips Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With a few notable exceptions—including powerful Hillsdale—Michigan's small college football teams gladly settled for some mighty slim scoring margins over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

For the Dales it was the same old story as they thundered to their 28th straight victory with a 60-0 onslaught over helpless Olivet in an MIAA game.

But that's where the one-way football ended. For example:

Hope beat Northern Michigan, 14-13, with three minutes left; Kalamazoo and Alma settled for a 13-13 tie; Illinois Normal nudged Central Michigan, 24-20; Albion remained undefeated, beating Adrian, 14-6; Marshall rallied in the final quarter to take Western Michigan, 12-7; Youngstown made a touchdown in the last 80 seconds and beat Eastern Michigan, 13-6.

In other games, Michigan Tech outpowered Ferris, 34-13; and Wayne State humbzled Case Tech, 27-7.

Hillsdale halfback Earl O'Shaughnessy scored thre touchdowns in the league opener and gained 122 yards from scrimmage in six carries. But victory wasn't without cost. Right guard Dave Trippett was carried from the field with a knee injury coaches feared would prove serious.

Hope's Ron Bronson grabbed a Northern Michigan fumble with three minutes to go and ran it to the seven. Four plays later Jack Faber hit Bronson with a score-tying pass and Bill Huibregtse kicked the winning point on Northern's field.

Kalamazoo, trailing 13-6 in the final quarter of an MIAA home game, marched 50 yards and scored on a short pass from Bob Urschalitz to end Paul Asbury.

★ ★ ★

Central Michigan was outmanned from the start and never was ahead, but Central coach Bill Kelly fielded a starting team of eight freshmen because he had to leave four starters— including leading ground gainer Walt Beach—home with the flu.

Breath Taken Out of Titans

DENVER — University of Detroit had the breath taken out of its vaunted Winged-T attack Saturday by the newest of service teams, the Air Force.

The Airmen took a 19-12 victory from the Titans in Denver where opposing teams are often said to be short-winded because of the mile-high atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

U. of D. had 253 yards compared to 197 for the Air Force. Titan touchdowns were scored by Dan Collins on a 11-yard dash and by Algonac's Al Korpak on a 62-yard pass play from Lou Faoro.

★ ★ ★

A pass interception in the final minutes killed Detroit's chance to score again.

Next week Detroit is at Wichita.

Grouse Definitely 'Up'

By JACK PATTERSON

ALPENA — The other evening someone asked us how we "test" an area for its grouse population. We figure others might wonder the same thing. First of all we check results of hunters using the area under examination. We add to this the opinions of local residents and a general picture begins to shape up. Unfortunately, it is a very general picture; hunting skills are variable and honest opinions differ. But it's a starting point.

PATTERSON

Next we get down to the business of a little serious hunting ourselves. Obviously we can't begin to thoroughly check even a very small area.

But through the years we've found a good many spots in strategic areas of the state where we hunt time after time, and we feel safe in making a comparative estimate of the grouse in those selected spots.

There are many variables such as weather, time of day, prevalence or absence of preferred food, to name a few, but after a few hours spent in such covers we are fairly sure of making a reasonably accurate appraisal.

Applying the above procedure to the northeastern county over the weekend, we can't think of a better way to express our opinion than in the words of the game division's latest estimate that there is a "modest but definite increase" of grouse in the region. For example: we observed more birds in an hour's stroll around our Alcona County place than we saw there all last season.

We've neglected, in print anyway, another sizeable segment of the sporting public, currently much in evidence in the woods. It is of bow and arrow hunters that we speak and their tribe seems to be increasing more rapidly than ever.

The only local deer bow hunter we've run into who has scored is Dean Murray of Royal Oak with a spike near Curran. We did run into another of our local boys who was boasting about putting arrows in three deer the night before, all of which got away, but he shall remain nameless.

Aside from the suspected exaggerations of both parties there does seem to be something to the idea that bow hunters see lots of birds and bird hunters see lots of deer. We've tumbled on a possible answer.

2 Big 'Ifs' at Milwaukee

Shoe Polish, Slow Yank Help in Braves' Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The big "ifs" of the fourth game of the World Series concern a trace of shoe polish and some apparently slow base running.

If shoe polish had not been found on the brand new baseball that Tommy Byrne of the New York Yankees pitched in the 10th inning to pinch-hitter Nippy Jones of the Milwaukee Braves, umpire Augie Donatelli would not have sent Jones to first.

And if Jones had not been awarded the base as a hit batsman, Byrne might have gone on mowing down the Braves and the Yankees would have won 5-4. Instead Bob Grim took over and was charged with the loss.

The slow base running came in the eighth when Andy Carey doubled and advanced only to third on pinch-hitter Jerry Lumpe's single to center. If he had scored the Yankees could have won in the regulation nine innings when Elston Howard hit his big three-run homer in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

Instead it was Ed Mathews' two run homer in the bottom of the tenth that proved to be the big blow of the game. It gave victory to the home team, 7-5, evened the Series at two games all, and sent Milwaukee fans into various forms of hysteria.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

Many beginning bowlers, fortunately, never experience the back-up ball which veers off to the right. Instead they begin rolling a straight ball which we illustrate today. And that's just what I recommend for a beginner.

I roll a straight ball by releasing the ball without any turn of the wrist—either to the left or the right. I apply no finger lift either; I simply let the ball roll off my fingers with no attempt to lift it with the fingers or turn it with the wrist.

This is a simple and effective delivery for all beginners because it allows them to concentrate completely on the fundamentals of foot work, arm swing and timing. It's easy to control, too, and is better than a back-up ball for scoring strikes.

The straight ball is released on the right side of the alley and angled into the 1-3 pocket. Some bowlers may give it more angle than we show today, releasing it from the extreme right corner of the alley.

'M'-MSU Now Look to Showdown Game

Spartans Clear Bench in Romp of California

East Lansing Gridders Now Point to Michigan After 19-0 Win

EAST LANSING — Michigan State football coaches can start thinking about the big one now — the big one, of course, being next Saturday's game with the University of Michigan.

During the long fight back from the west coast on the team plane late Sunday, there was as much speculation about Michigan's 26-0 victory over Georgia as there was celebration over State's 19-0 defeat of California.

Only meager reports from the Michigan game were received in California. But MSU coaches were trying to read between the lines for a tip-off on what they might expect at the big bowl in Ann Arbor next weekend.

Despite the three-touchdown shutout victory, Michigan State received some surprises in Saturday's game with the University of California.

★ ★ ★

California made a good try at stopping the Spartan running game by jamming as many as nine men up in the line. The Bears also pulled some unexpected flanker formations and one pass play to an end flanked out wide went just five yards short of a touchdown.

Michigan had a scout watching from the press box, so anything that causes the Spartans trouble is sure to be given serious consideration by the U-M football board of strategy.

Michigan State showed again in the game what it means by multiple offense. When the going got sticky on the ground, state's alternating quarterbacks simply threw over the California line.

Television viewers missed the two first-half touchdown plays, passes by Jim Ninowski to ends Dave Daiser and Sammie Williams in the end zone, the first covering five yards and the second seven.

But Mike Panitch scored his touchdown the same way, on a 12-yard pass-run play to Art Johnson when television viewers were able to see the game following the World Series.

The first away game showed what Michigan can expect from MSU as a pattern of substitution. The Spartans again will be limited to a 38-man traveling squad for the Michigan game.

Coach Duffy Daugherty, playing to win all the way, alternated his first and second teams as entire units throughout most of the game.

Players on the first eleven averaged around 35 minutes each.

AP Wirephoto

LONG GAINER — Michigan State's Blanche Martin (31) has the entire middle of the California line chasing him as he reels off a 25-yard gain in the second period. Two of the big linemen are Mike White (88) and Proverb Jacobs (69). Michigan State won, 19-0.

Michigan Turns Its Attention to Next Clash

Saturday Is 'Big Game' for Wolverines After 26-0 Breeze

ANN ARBOR — After breezing to a 26-0 victory over Georgia last Saturday, Michigan's Wolverines today turned their attention to preparing for a more formidable foe — Michigan State's No. 2-ranked Spartans.

The game figures to be the top contest of Michigan's 1957 grid season as the Wolverines meet their traditional rivals in a contest that is certain to be watched carefull by football fans and pundits all over the country.

The classic battle at Michigan Stadium is expected to be a slugging match between Michigan's ground specialists and Michigan State's passing wizards.

Topping the agenda at the Michigan training camp this week will be pass defense.

★ ★ ★

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan figures the first wave of the Spartans' attack will be accompanied by an aerial onslaught.

Against Indiana and California, Michigan State had a definite weapon in its overhead game. It completed 62 per cent, 26 of 40 passes.

Michigan, meanwhile, showed pronounced flaws in defending against Georgia passes last Saturday. Two sophomore quarterbacks —Charlie Britt and Tommy Lewis —combined to pass the Southerns to 151 yards on 10 completions and 23 attempts.

★ ★ ★

But actually, the Wolverines had air superiority. They gained 173 yards on 12 of 21 tosses. Michigan has completed 57 per cent of its passes in the games against Southern California and Georgia. Such accuracy is unusual for Michigan, a ground-minded team for may years.

"If our passing percentage is remarkable, what about Michigan State's?" Oosterbaan said. "This is going to be a wide open game."

Oosterbaan said his team was greatly improved against Georgia, especially in the tackling department.

He singled out quarterbacks Jim Van Pelt and Stan Noskin for their adept passing.

Former Detroit Sports Editor Dies on Coast

ND, Army Play Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Back in 1913, Army played a relatively unknown team from the midwest for the first time and the game was scheduled quite by accident when the Cadets discovered an open date on their schedule.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame accepted a $1,000 guarantee, sent its team to West Point and whipped the Army, 35-13. It was in this game that Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais further popularized the forward pass.

★ ★ ★

After that game, Notre Dame was no longer unknown. An intense rivalry was born and it lasted for 34 games. The last was played in 1947 in South Bend. Notre Dame won the game, 27-7 with Terry Brennan, currently ND's head coach, whipping 97 yards for a touchdown on the opening kickoff.

Right after that game, the rivalry was broken off. It takes up again this Saturday in Philadelphia.

So far, the Irish have won two games against weak opponents and are unscored upon. Their victims have been Purdue (12-0) and Indiana (26-0). Army, hungry for the mythical Eastern title, will present their first major test.

The Cadets, too, are in a peculiar position. With the demise of all the other pretenders to the Eastern throne, they find themselves high in the running by whipping Penn State, 27-13, last Saturday.

Navy had full intentions of rampaging through its entire schedule for Academy officials thought this was the strongest team of Midshipmen in many a year. But North Carolina punctured the dream, 13-7.

Mighty Oklahoma, flu bug and all, goes after its 43rd straight victory, meeting Texas this week. Fifteen of the Sooners were stricken with the flu over the past two weeks, and they still clubbed Iowa State, 40-14.

Five teams in the big 10 remain unbeaten with two triumphs to their credit. They are Michigan State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

★ ★ ★

Arkansas and Texas A&M ride herd on the Southwest Conference (3-0 all games) with the Aggies still showing they have what it takes to win it all. Duke and North Carolina State are emerging as the big boys in the Atlantic Coast Conferenie, each with a 3-0 record and heading toward a Nov. 23 showdown.

Beats Case, 27-7

Wayne Starts Off Right

DETROIT—Around Wayne State University, the de-emphasized Presidents' Athletic Conference, of which the school is a member, has never had much popularity.

Especially outspoken against the Conference are athletes, who can barely buy a hamburger without being influenced by some rule of the rigid PAC charter.

One exception to this, however, seems to be WSU's speedy Halfback, Jim MacMillan, who licks his chops with joy whenever the Tartars are to play a Conference opponent.

The five-foot ten-inch 165-pounder was at his Conference best Saturday as the Tartars successfully opened defense of the loop title downing Case Tech of Cleveland, 27-7.

★ ★ ★

MacMillan scored three touchdowns, including one on a 62-yard punt return, and had a fourth called back after a 46-yard run when a teammate was detected clipping.

But ruining PAC opponents is nothing new to this former Grosse Pointe High star. Playing in his first varsity game last year, Jim scored the only touchdown of the day as Wayne downed Case in the opener, 6-0.

Later in the season, MacMillan used his "Golden Toe" to boot a 34-yard field goal in the waning seconds of the game to top Western Reserve, defending Conference titlists at the time, 10-7.

And Jim MacMillan? He can hardly wait.

Kramer Shines as Receiver With Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Michigan's Ron Kramer caught five passes for 56 yards, outshining veteran receivers Bill Howton and Gary Knafelc as their Green Bay Packers dropped a 24-14 decision to the Detroit Lions here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"I like pro football a whole lot," said Kramer. "I'm learning a lot and the game is wonderful."

Kramer enjoyed a brief reunion with his former teammate, Lion halfback Terry Barr, on the field after the game. The two of them walked a short distance and talked with Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, who used to play against both Barr and Kramer with the Ohio State Buckeyes.

Asked if he thought professional football was exceptionally rough, Kramer said "it may be but I like it that way. It's the way all the pros play and it's interesting."

Crane Soccer Team Wins 4th Straight

The Cranbrook soccer team had to come from behind Saturday to keep its unbeaten record intact at four games.

Third period goals by Pete King and John Studebaker produced a 2-1 triumph for the Cranes over Blenheim Collegiate of Ontario. The visitors had led 1-0 after two periods.

Cranbrook returns to action Saturday meeting Shady Side in an Inter-Sttate League match.

Bout Delayed a Week

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 12-round fight between Kid Gavilan of Havana and Gaspar Ortega of Tijuana has been postponed from Oct. 15 to Oct. 22 in Wrigley Field, Los Angeles.

NHL All-Stars Beat Montreal

Howe Gets One of 3rd Period Goals in 5-3 Victory

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League All-Stars struck for two third-period goals Saturday night to whip the Montreal Canadiens 5-3 and hand the Stanley Cup champions their second All-Star defeat.

Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings and Dean Prentice of the New York Rangers scored the final goals. The Canadiens have fought in All-Star competition three times, losing two games and tying one.

The 11th annual All-Star game drew a crowd of 13,003, below the record 14,169 set in 1947 at Toronto. But gate returns of $33,247 topped the previous record of $30,386 in 1953 at Montreal.

Proceeds go to the NHL Players Society.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard scored the only Montreal first-period goal. Bert Olmstead and Stan Smrke tallied in the second frame.

Goalie Glen Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks held off the Canadiens in the 3rd period.

In All-Star play the Stars have won five times, tied twice and lost twice—both times to the Detroit Red Wings.

Satellite Soars Missile-Makers

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts and missile-making issues rose vigorously in a mixed stock market early today.

Russia with its man-made satellite led Wall Street sources to expect a greater pressure for more United States spending in the field of missiles and rockets.

Some big blocks in such stocks changed hands, but the tendency in the rest of the list was generally lower.

Boeing was up 3¼ to 36½ on 5,000 shares; Douglas Aircraft up 4 at 62½ on 3,200; United Aircraft up 1¼ at 63½ on 2,500; Lockheed up 1½ at 32½ on 2,300; and Curtiss-Wright up ⅛ at 34 on 4,200.

General Tire, which has a rocket-making subsidiary, Aerojet General, rose 3 to 25¾ on 5,000 shares. Raytheon, also involved in missiles, was up 1⅛ to 20 on 3,300.

In a delayed opening, North American Aviation rose 1⅝ to 21⅞ on a huge block of 10,000 shares.

After the opening blocks were cleared away, however, the pace of trading slowed.

Du Pont dropped more than two. Losses or around a point were taken by Youngstown Sheet, Kennecott and Baltimore & Ohio. Lukens Steel, which announced some price cuts, dropped more than four, continuing its slump of last week. Steels were mostly lower.

Suspects Questioned in Two Detroit Murders

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit homicide detectives were questioning suspects today in connection with two murders which occurred during the weekend.

They said William Page, 31, of 3535 Riopelle, Detroit, died in Receiving Hospital, apparently the victim of a beating.

Police said the second victim was Willie Hudson, 46, of 5314 Maybury Grand, Detroit. They said he was stabbed in the stomach during a fight near 2646 McGraw in Detroit.

Educators Study Reading Skills

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Educators are different . . . at least in Pontiac. Their job isn't a 40 hour week and they don't punch the clock.

★ ★ ★

Teachers in Pontiac have the job of educating our children. And, if a weekend impression is any criteria for judging them, they seem to be more interested and enthused about their work than any other job one can name.

This unquenchable thirst for knowledge and the desire to teach children the best way they can was evident this past weekend when 110 school administrators, teachers, consultants and board members plus PTA Council members met for the seventh annual Pontiac Educators Conference.

It was evident throughout the conference, held at the Higgins Lake Conservation Training School, Roscommon, that Pontiac teachers think of their job or profession as more than waiting for a pay check every two weeks.

STUDY READING SKILLS

This year they gathered to work out and improve the reading program of children in kindergarten through 12th grade.

The purpose of the meetings during the two and one half day conference, was to listen to the experts tell of the techniques and skills in teaching three fundamental areas of reading and then, after discussion, bring the ideas home to Pontiac and put them to use.

These areas were; Word attack skills; reading readiness at all levels, and research techniques in the classroom;

Dr. Byron H. Van Roekel, associate professor of teacher, education at Michigan State University; Dr. Thomas Edwards, director of special services and research at Flint Junior Community College; and Dr. Harry Hahn, Oakland County director of instructional service were the three keynote speakers.

They pinpointed methods and techniques which teachers may use to teach youngsters to read and then, keep them reading, but at the same time, have them retain their lessons.

★ ★ ★

In essence, throughout the conference, the motto: for every learning experience, there must be some type of preparation, prevailed.

MUST ROUSE INTEREST

In order to experience something, one must have a background of adequate concepts and here is where the teacher's job comes to view, it was felt.

★ ★ ★

Students must also have interest, and their curiosity must be raised to learn. Reading should be stressed and taught in all classes and should be carried on throughout all grades in some manner, it was agreed.

★ ★ ★

At Higgins Lake this past weekend, Pontiac educators, on their own time and money, gathered to improve their methods and understanding of the teaching of reading so that Pontiac children can and will read easily, efficiently and with enjoyment.

Burglary Wave Continues in City

10 More Places Hit on Weekend as Two-Month Rash Goes On

Pontiac's two-month wave of burglaries continued unabated over the weekend with three businesses, five homes, a lodge hall and an office, all entered.

Saturday, Lawrence Hull, of 408 S. Saginaw reported $12 taken from his apartment.

Sunday, James Purkiss, of 290 Pioneer St., reported his wife's purse stolen from a bedroom with $30 in it.

Gustaf Purson, 291 Starr St., reported Sunday that about $100 was taken from a dresser drawer and a milk bottle which held change.

Leonard H. Cain, 324 Pioneer St., told police that $40 in cash and some checks were stolen from his home.

Freddie Corr, of 197 Harrison St., Sunday reported an old-fashioned large $2 bill taken from his home.

Thieves hit The Walker Sign Co. office at 822 Woodward last night and took an undetermined amount from a safe and from a cigarette machine.

Also hit was the Golden Drumstick, 5655 S. Saginaw St., where vending machines were emptied.

Cappy's Drive-in, 157 Auburn Ave., was also entered and money taken from a cigarette machine and juke box, plus $8 in pennies.

The safe and vending machines at the Eagles Hall, 289 Montcalm St., were looted last night, while the Pontiac Girl Scout Council office at 10 W. Huron St. were broken into and about $10 taken from the petty cash box.

Anti-Merger Action Charged Against P-G

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Federal Trade Commission charged today that the acquisition of the Clorox Chemical Co. of Oakland, Calif., by the Procter & Gamble Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio, was in violation of the anti-merger law.

A commission complaint alleges the acquisition of the Clorox company, maker of "Clorox," the nation's largest selling household liquid bleach, may substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly.

The complaint said that by acquiring Clorox, Procter & Gamble increased its ability to get difficult-to-obtain shelf space since it now has a complete line of cleasing and laundry products while competitive household liquid bleach producers do not.

The FTC also charged that other household liquid bleach producers "may be unable to compete with P & G due to its market position, financial and economic strength, advertising ability and experience, and merchandising and promotional ability and experience."

State GOP Leaders OK New Fund-Raising Plan

LANSING (AP)—State Republican leaders took a step toward bolstering sagging party coffers yesterday when they approved a fund-raising plan patterned after the Community Chest technique.

★ ★ ★

The system was proposed at a special meeting of the Republican State Central Committee by Don E. Ahrens of Bloomfield Hills, new chairman of the Republican State Finance Committee.

Ahrens' plan calls for the state to be broken down into 20 districts, each corresponding roughly to a trading area. Money collected would be turned into a central agency which would distribute it to the national organization and local committees.

Control would be vested in a board of governors, made up of from 20 to 40 fund raising specialists.

Ahrens, a retired General Motors Corp. vice president and now chairman of the United Foundation in Detroit, said the plan probably won't be put into operation until after the first of next year.

★ ★ ★

The committee plans to rely to some extent on the services of Ketchum Inc., a Pittsburgh consulting firm that has set up GOP finance plans in 22 cities.

A $2,400-a-month Ketchum representative is scheduled to start working with the committee Dec. 1.

$35,000 IN RED

The state party now is about $35,000 in the red.

GM Transmission Plant Goes on Strike

YPSILANTI (AP) — The United Auto Workers today struck the General Motors Detroit Transmission Division at nearby Willow Run. Some 6,000 hourly rated workers are idle.

A company spokesman said a dispute over transfer of workers between departments was a major cause of the walkout. The strikers are members of Local 735.

The strike was authorized by the UAW international.

The walkout was ordered "because three months of fruitless negotiations failed to resolve issues involving production standards, violations of the seniority agreement and some job rates," a UAW spokesman said.

Car Sales Exceed 500,000 Per Month

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's retailing division is maintaining its average of better than half a million new car deliveries each month, Automotive News figures showed today.

Registration figures for this year's January-August period show a total of 4,105,978 units licensed. In the same period last year 4,191,804 cars were registered. The figures also show that Ford Division increased its lead over Chevrolet in total registrations during August.

At the end of August, Ford had total registrations of 1,024,831 cars and Chevrolet 975,592. A month earlier the figures were Ford 901,199; Chevrolet 857,848.

Registrations of foreign-built cars for the first eight months of this year numbered 116,013, compared with 56,730 in like 1956 period.

Urge Official Opposition to Out-County Water

DETROIT (INS) — Wayne County mayors, supervisors, councilmen and village and township trustees today were urged to oppose the $50,000,000 out-county water supply plant.

The County Water Users Committee sent out letters saying the downriver intake is not needed.

Chefs, Waiters Agree on Sour Musical Notes

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico (AP)—Owner Demetrio Kyriakis of the Cavern, a nightspot which draws heavily from the American side of the border, gave his orchestra members notice because, he said, they were sounding too many sour notes.

Without waiting for their discharge to become effective, the musicians went out on strike and asked the chefs and waiters to join them on the picket line.

The chefs and waiters refused. They said they agreed with Kyriakis.

Plane Hits Mountain in Rain, Killing Six

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Six persons, including an official of Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, were killed last night when their twin-engine airplane crashed near the top of fog-shrouded Summit Mountain.

Flying in a heavy rain, the craft came down in a heavily wooded area near the Jumonville Methodist summer camp about seven miles east of this southwestern Pennsylvania community. Ironically, the crash occurred a short time before the camp's huge, electrically lighted cross was turned on.

Fire enveloped the stricken plane. Wreckage was strewn over a wide area. At least three bodies were thrown clear.

Stephen R. Haky, deputy coroner of Fayette County, identified four of the victims from papers found on their bodies. They were:

T. M. McLaughlin, about 45, Shaker Heights, Ohio, senior partner of T. M. McLaughlin Co., Cleveland food brokers.

His wife Helengrace.

Warren F. Noonan, 40, pilot, Middletown, Ohio.

Theodore O. Krauss, 30, copilot, Cleveland.

Haky tentatively identified the other two victims from clothing marks as Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Stewart, Cleveland.

3 Hurt in Collision in Orion Township

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision at M24 and Silverbell Rd., Orion Township, Sunday afternoon, according to Oakland County Sheriff's reports.

Admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital were one of the drivers, Nadine Teague, 49, of 3272 Grant St., and a companion, Linda Johnson, 9, of 3961 Silver Valley Dr., Orion Township. Both are listed in satisfactory condition by hospital officials.

George A. Sick, 42, of Detroit, the driver of the other car, was uninjured, but his wife, Hedwig, 40, was treated for minor injuries at the hospital and released, according to deputies.

Rochester Girl, 16, Runs Into Street, Is Hit

A Rochester girl was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital Sunday afternoon after suffering multiple cuts and bruises and a fractured right leg when hit by a car, according to Rochester Police.

Grain Prices Remain Static

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain and Soybeans held about steady on the board of trade today.

Traders were on both sides of the market in early dealings and prices fluctuated within a narrow range.

★ ★ ★

There was some speculative selling in wheat but this was offset by buying by local traders who appeared hesistant to go short in view of reported large scale impoundings of the bread grain during the last 30 days.

★ ★ ★

Corn and soybeans also were steady at the outset despite expected near record crops. One big grain house was reported selling beans while speculators, encouraged by indications that large amounts of beans are going into storage, bought futures.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. $2.18½; corn was ⅝ to ½ higher, Dec. $1.20 ⅛; Oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, Dec. 67 ⅝; Rye ⅞ to ¼ higher, Dec. $1:30¼; Soybeans were ⅝ to 1 cent higher, Nov. 2.27⅝; and lard was 7 to 17 cents a 100 pounds lower.

Coffers Again Swell to $500 in Pot-O-Gold

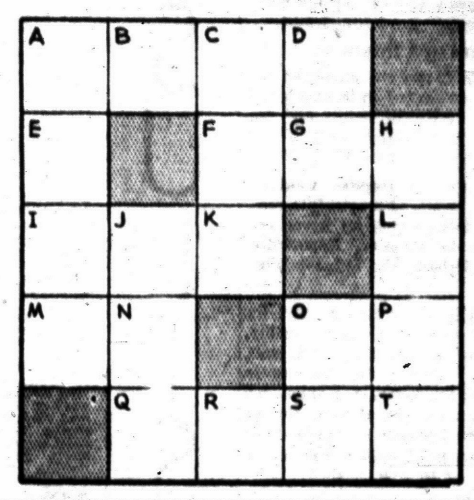

It doesn't take long for the riches to pile up when they're increased by $100 each week. This puzzle is worth $500 if no winner is found for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle that appeared in last week's paper. Even if that happens, this week's winner will get not less than $100 and possibly $125. How can you lose?

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blan

Red 'Big Brain' British Trained

Kapitsa Leader in Race to Build Moon; Studied Atom at Cambridge

LONDON (INS) — The British-trained son of a Czarist general was reported today to be one of the "big brains" behind the Soviet baby "moon" hurled into the heavens last Friday.

★ ★ ★

He is 64-year-old Prof. Peter Kapitsa, head of the special committee on interplanetary travel of the Soviet Academy of Sciences—the one-time "genius" of Britain's Royal Society.

The late Joseph Stalin reportedly is the man responsible for regaining Kapitsa's services for the Soviet Union and denying them to the West.

Kapitsa fled to Britain in 1921 and studied atomic and thermonuclear theories at the Cavendish laboratories and Cambridge under atom pioneer Lord Rutherford.

WON BRITISH HONORS

The quiet-spoken, blue-eyed scientist was elected an honorary Fellow of the Royal Society and presented a specially-built $70,000 laboratory at Cambridge in 1933.

But in 1935 Kapitsa went to Russia to attend a scientific congress from which he never returned to Britain. Reportedly Stalin forbade him to leave Russia.

Indications are that at first the Soviets gave him every facility, including a laboratory and staff, but that during the last seven years of Stalin's rule, Kapitsa fell from grace. The reason, reports say, was because he opposed the development of nuclear weapons.

★ ★ ★

Kapitsa, however, again rose in favor after Stalin's death and now is credited with being a leading figure in the race won by Russia to launch the first man-made earth satellite.

Raps Magazine Postal 'Subsidy'

Summerfield Says Rate Too Low; Publisher Counters: 'Inefficiency'

NEW YORK (INS)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield charges that second class mailing privileges are a gigantic federal "subsidy" of magazine publishers.

The postmaster general, speaking on a television program, claimed the subsidy is "the best guarded secret of its kind in history."

He was supported by Congressman George Rhodes (D-Pa) who claimed that every time the Post Office delivers an issue of "The Reader's Digest" it loses nearly $350,000.

He said this amounted to the "subsidy to the publishers."

General business manager of the "Digest," Arthur L. Cole, hotly denied the charges on the same program, claiming that certain post office estimates of costs of delivering the "Digest" and "five times as high as the actual facts justify."

CHARGES INEFFICIENCY

Cole hit back by saying that "if the Post Office were operated with reasonable efficiency, there would be a very large reduction in itis cost."

He attributed the huge annual deficits to the fact that "top management of the Post Office is selected on the basis of political performance," and the fact that the plant "has been allowed to run downhill."

He said the Post Office was one of the most "antiquated, antediluvian, obsolete operations in the world."

Summerfield also charged that the "power of magazine publishers lobby and the third class (mail) users lobby working in unison," were "preventing the normal legislative processes to function."

Motorists Expected to Increase Mileage

NEW YORK — The National Petroleum News, in its annual Factbook, predicts that the average American motorist will drive more in the years to come, increasing his mileage from 9,800 in 1957 to 10,000 by 1966.

★ ★ ★

It also predicts that by 1966 about 95 per cent of all cars will use automatic transmissions compared with 48 per cent today; gasoline octane ratings will rise (5 points premium and 7 points regular), and 41 per cent of all cars will use premium gasoline compared with 33 per cent now.

Calumet Airman Killed in Missouri Car Crash

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Michigan serviceman was fatally injured in an auto accident near here Saturday.

Airman 3-C Ralph Rantenen, 18, a native of Calumet was a passenger in a car which crashed into an embankment on U.S. 66 in St. Louis County. He was attached to Chanute Air Force Base.

Development of America's great plains was delayed for years by the mistaken idea that land which would not have trees on it would also be worthless for the growing of crops.

Await Moscow's Reaction to Talk

Aides Ask if Dulles-Gromyko Meet Opened New Avenues

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials awaited Moscow reaction today for evidence on whether the unprecedented Dulles-Gromyko talk here will lead to some improvement in Soviet-American relations.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dulles and his aides were carefully studying Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's comments in the person-to-person discussion to see whether they opened up any new avenues of approach.

★ ★ ★

The statement which both men agreed to declared that exchange of views had been helpful in clarifying the policies of the two governments on these major areas of common interest. Gromyko told reporters upon leaving Dulles' house, with a friendly farewell handshake at the front door, that he considered the session "useful."

★ ★ ★

Informed officials said neither man had put forward any new ideas or proposals for dealing with any of the problems raised.

Defense Official at Port Huron

Asst. Secretary Maguire Will Speak at Opening of Opportunities Exhibit

PORT HURON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of Defense Perkins Maguire is scheduled to be the main speaker at tonight's opening of the three-day Business Opportunities for Michigan exhibit here.

★ ★ ★

The exhibit will feature 150 displays of military missiles and weapons, industrial products and nuclear devices, each intended to stimulate business in Michigan.

Special exhibits will include a model of the earth satellite planned for future launching by the United States, an atomic reactor model and several guided missiles.

The event will take place at the Mueller Brass Co. Plant.

About one-fifth of the 40,000 square feet of floor space will be taken up by Defense Department displays, each an example of various products used in the national defense program.

Other speakers at exhibit sessions will be F. Trowbridge vom Baur, chief counsel for the U.S. Navy; Col. John H. Ford Jr., of the U.S. Army's Detroit Ordnance District; and Brig. Gen. Beverly H. Warren of the U.S. Air Force.

The event is sponsored by the City of Port Huron, the U.S. Dept. of Defense and various Michigan industries.

Here's the New Road to Television Success

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The town was so jammed it was an autumnal New Year's eve.

The moon dipped very low over Times Square just skimming the top of the Paramount clock. The aroma of barbecued ribs floated very high—and some of the guests floated rather high, too.

Steve Allen, city slicker from Chicago, very sober, spoke about them thar TV westerns.

WILSON

"Have you thought of doing your show in cowboy clothes?" I asked Steverino, whom "Maverick" topped in a Trendex Sunday.

"Giveaways and westerns are the big things now, so we may do a 'giveaway western' and give away a whole state, like Nevada."

It might be good for one show. NBC's merely "amused," he said, at "Maverick" topping him in his battle with Ed Sullivan.

We were at a luau because Steve'll do a Hawaiian show Oct. 10 against the CBS Edsel Bing-Frankie show. The party was to whoop it up in advance. That's the TV technique now—get 'em talking before the show, stop up your ears afterward.

The chef rolled in a roast pig as the climax to the dinner.

Some press guy from out of town was very fresh if you ask me, chirped, "Oh, look, they invited the TV critics." We want you to know we deplore that sort of talk.

Detroiter Dies as Car Overturns in Arkansas

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A Detroit man was killed yesterday when his automobile overturned on State Highway 69 about seven miles north of Batesville.

Hubert Hon, 40, died at a Batesville hospital shortly after the accident.

Hon had been visiting relatives in this area.

Girl, 4, Dies of Burns

DETROIT (AP) — Anita Jones, 4, died yesterday of burns suffered Sept. 4 when her clothes caught fire while she was playing with fireworks.

Retired Railman Lives in Caboose

STAMPS, Ark. (INS) — Tom Owens of Stamps, Ark., a station agent for the Louisiana and Arkansas Railroad, is retiring after 40 years of service, but apparently he can't bear to leave his trains

So the Arkansas railroadman has come up with a solution to the sad situation. He has purchased a caboose to live in after retirement.

And to make it permanent, he has placed the caboose on his farm called "Caboose Ranch."

Augusta, Me. — Maine is the only one of the states that adjoins only one other state.

All Four Chains Make Changes

Fight TV, Independent Stations for America's Mobile Public

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Morning, noon and night now, there's the sound of network radio on the comeback trail on the nation's airwaves.

★ ★ ★

All four major chains-American, Columbia, Mutual and National—are busy with autumn changes that emphasize a trend slowly gathering momentum. And it's armed with cash, surveys and ideas.

"We're going right down the middle between the competition of television and 'teapots,' said Matthew J. Culligan, vice president in charge of the NBC radio network.

"Teapots" are the independent stations that concentrate on the top 40 jukebox tunes.

★ ★ ★

A Mutual network spokesman says:

"The American public today is basically a mobile one, spending more and more of their time away from living room get togethers."

In the comeback format, soap operas are vanishing, and big splash shows are gone.

STRESS INFORMATION

'Instead, with focus on the individual listener, the emphasis is on information, the background mood mostly soft music.

★ ★ ★

Two solid facts underlie what is going on.

Nearly 30-million radio receivers have been sold in the past two years, twice the number of television sets sold.

The other element is network growth. After hitting bottom about 18 months ago in both audience attention and sales, advertisers are returning.

★ ★ ★

In the drive to lure a sizeable audience back to the loudspeaker, CBS started its fall programs during the summer.

MORE SELECTIVE

"We realize it is impossible to lure away all of the TV watchers, but the public gets more selective during the summer," an official explains.

★ ★ ★

One of the biggest overhauls has been launched by ABC with five similar one-hour programs that will be on the air every weekday.

Mutual—the largest network with 483 stations—reports more and more emphasis on coordinated planning through an affiliates' advisory committee, has put into operation expanded news operations, recorded music and public service shows.

Mutual and CBS plan further major surveys. Most of all the brass would like to figure out a way of studying the audience that listens as it travels.

A museum honoring the late Osa and Martin Johnson, noted explorers, is planned by their home town at Chanute, Kan.

Say Reds Exploded Big Nuclear Bomb

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Central Meteorological Observatory reported today that the Soviet Union exploded a nuclear bomb yesterday north of the Arctic Circle in eastern Siberia.

★ ★ ★

An observatory spokesman said the bomb was "larger than 10 megatons," a force equivalent to that of 10 million tons of TNT. U.S. experts assume that any blast in the megaton range means a hydrogen bomb.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced Aug. 22 that the Russians had begun a new series of nuclear tests. The AEC reported another explosion Sept. 8 and a third Sept. 24, the latter at a site north of the Arctic Circle.

Chile has practically all the coal deposits found in South America.

'Beeps' From Space Have Russian Accent

U.S. Must Answer for Losing the Satellite 'Race'

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Beep . . . beep. . . beep . . beep."

This is the sound of the future And, at the moment, it has a Russian accent.

Around the world in about an hour and half goes the Soviet moonlet. Constantly its radio transmitter sends back that haunting telltale beep. You can hear the beep on any short-wave radio. You may be able to see the satellite itself soon. Some say they already have seen it.

★ ★ ★

The Russians are busy kissing their own reflections in mirrors over their triumph in being first The United States would have done more than a little crowing too if this country had taken the first big plunge into space.

How come we didn't, after all the talking U.S. officials did about big plans for a satellite?

Already there is the usual demand for an investigation. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) wants the Senate Armed Services Committee to call in defense officials and scientists for questioning. "This is a very serious matter that cannot be laughed off," Symington says.

Nobody has been heard laughing, except maybe the television gagwriters chortling at their own jokes. (Like the one about the lonesome satellite spotting a gleam of light as it passed over its home base and radioing back wistfully: "Is satellite in the window for me?"

There is official pooh-poohing, however. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty shows no dismay that the Russians successfully launched the first artificial moon. "We never thought of our program as one which was in a race with the Soviets," Hagerty says.

But the Russians obviously thought they were in a race and proceeded to win it. It isn't so hard to win a race when your opponent didn't hear the starting gun.

Scientifically, it may not matter that the Russians were first with a missile powerful enough to plant a beach-ball-sized sphere more than 500 miles in the air. This country's satellite project is known to be well along and presumably can catch up. But disturbing questions arise in other fields:

1. What does the rest of the world think? The Soviet satellites (of the earthbound variety, that is) are happily trumpeting that Russia has taken over world leadership in research and development. What effect will this have on American allies, to say nothing of the "neutral" bloc?

2. Is this country devoting enough attention to science and engineering? Many educators and others have long contended that we are not—that the Soviets are forging ahead of us. Will the dramatic launching of the man-made moon force us to answer the question to our complete satisfaction, and will we get moving if we find we have been losing ground?

3. What happens next? We'll try to get our own satellite off the ground, of course, at our relatively leisure pace. What then? The Russians are talking already of travel to the moon. Some of our people are too. An editor of Missiles and Rockets magazine says we could plant a missile on the moon in two months at a cost of less than $200,000. Does he know what he's talking about? Is the government trying to find out?

★ ★ ★

It would answer a good many questions of this sort if the American people, squinting into the sun for a glimpse of the man-made moon, had a detailed report from their government on just what has happened and what is being done about it.

Shot Hits 3 Freighters and Wounds Seaman

PORT HURON (AP)—A merchant seaman was wounded when three lake freighters were raked by shotgun pellets as they passed through the St. Clair River Saturday.

The boats were identified as the James Davidson, Marquette and the W. G. Mather.

★ ★ ★

Irwin Shuman, a deckhand aboard the James Davidson, told State Police he was struck in the cheek by one pellet but was not seriously injured.

State Police said they questioned two men who admitted firing on clay pigeons in the area.

Scientists Find Bird Hibernates

Poorwill Spends Winter in Rocky Niche; Life All but Ceases

WASHINGTON — A small shy bird of the west adds its own suspense story to autumn's wonderful mystery of migration and hibernation.

It's the time of year when birds of land and water wing south to ancestral winter homes, urged by inner clocks and following uncanny direction-finders. Vulnerable animals that can't travel far are enabled by nature, meanwhile, to drop off into a profound sleep that protects them from cold and the scarcity of food.

★ ★ ★

The poorwill, named after its mournful night cry, is a member of the highly migratory goatsucker family. But the poorwill apparently doesn't choose to make the fall journey. It can enter into a state of true hibernation and is the only bird known to do so, the National Geographic Society says.

DISCOVERY IN CALIFORNIA

The discovery was made several years ago by Dr. Edmund C. Jaeger, a California biologist, in the Chuckwalla Mountains of California's Colorado Desert. He found a poorwill holed up in a rocky niche where it passed portions of four winters in a comatose state, its temperature some 40 degrees below normal. A stethoscope could detect no heartbeat. A mirror caught no mist of its breath.

Earlier, poorwills had been picked up in a trancelike condition, but scientists had assumed the birds were temporarily numbed.

Torpor is a well-known phenomenon among many diverse creatures, including birds that burn up a lot of energy. Hummingbirds need so much food that they'd starve at night if the body metabolism did not slow down.

Their close relatives, the swifts, live on flying insects. When insects vanish during stormy weather, swifts tide themselves over by fasting and sleeping. A swift's respiratory rate may drop to eight times a minute from a normal, hard-pumping count of 90.

But torpor is different from months-long hibernation, when the body's functions all but cease and the flame of life dwindles to an ember.

It is still not known, however, whether all poorwills hibernate as a matter of course or whether some take off south with other members of the family. Some goatsuckers go to the tropics; others fly down to the Southern Hemisphere's temperate zone.

Would-Be Holdup Man Loses Nerve and Cash

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A man who tried to hold up Charles B. Almo's grocery lost money on the deal.

He ordered and paid for sardines, cookies, bread and cigars.

Then he pulled a gun and told Almo to fork over his cash.

But he lost his nerve and ran, minus his groceries.

Optimist or Pessimist?

VALLEY GROVE, W. Va. (AP) — This community of 800, near Wheeling, is an arresting little town — it lives on fines collected from unwary motorists.

In its levy estimate submitted to the state tax commissioner, Valley Grove listed anticipated municipal income in the current fiscal year of $30,240 — $30,000 from police fines and $240 from rents, buildings and concessions.

Check-Out Needed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies Clarence Merce and Richard Saunders radioed their office to send out a supermarket employe with a key to lock a door they found open. A half hour later Merce called again by phone to report, "Hey, that guy locked the store and he locked us in." A second trip by the store employe freed the deputies.
