Sending Back Photographs

U.S. Puts Tiros Into Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States put a new weather satellite, Tiros IV, into orbit today, and its cameras and electronic equipment promptly began sending back photographs of the earth's cloud cover.

A 90-foot Thor-Delta rocket, blasting off from this base at 7:44 a.m., put up the 285-pound satellite.

In Washington, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced shortly before 11 a.m. that pictures of cloud cover had been received, and that "indications are that these are good."

A spokesman for the space agency said pictures were received at 9:32 a.m. at the Wallops Island, Va., monitoring station.

Officials of Radio Corp. of America said pictures from the satellite were also received at their Princeton, N.J., station.

A spokesman for NASA said these pictures were made during the satellite's first whirl around the earth. In this initial orbit, he said, the satellite was slightly tilted and the quality of pictures would not be expected to be as good as those received during later orbits.

The spokesman, Dr. Morris Taper, director of meteorological systems for NASA, said most of the early pictures showed only the business because of the tilt.

But on a second orbit the satellite camera took what the space agency described as excellent pictures of clouds over the northern Midwest area of the United States, southern Canada and the North Atlantic.

The Midwest area included Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan.

Taper predicted that later today, enough pictures of good quality would be received so they could be used by weathermen.

The new satellite's predecessor, Tiros III, provided pictures of two hurricanes, two typhoons and two tropical storms in a single day, but no such collection of storms is expected at this season.

Taper said very rough early estimates indicated that the satellite was ranging from 450 to 525 miles distant from the earth, with 100 minutes required for each orbit.

All three stages of the booster fired on schedule.

Two hours later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the package was in orbit about 60 miles above the earth.

Confirmation of orbit came when the Wallops Island, Va., tracking station picked up signals from Tiros IV as it slipped overhead at the end of one orbit at 9:16 a.m.

The Tiros series is intended as the forerunner of a global system of space weather stations.

Plan Hearings for Rezoning East Side Area

Would Change Large Section of Industrial Land to Residential

Last night Pontiac city planners took the first major step in a long range plan to rezone vast manufacturing areas on Pontiac's East Side to make way for future recreational and residential development.

Planning commissioners approved two motions. One calls for a public hearing on a proposal to rezone all the land immediately east of the Belt Line Railroad between Perry and Herrington Hills subdivisions from manufacturing to residential.

The second calls for a public hearing on a move to rezone all of Herrington Hills subdivision from R2 to R1.

Planning Commissioner W. F. Kautsky made the first motion. Included is a 25-acre parcel owned by the second. Both public hearings should be held at the March planning commission meeting.

Land in question lies from the Belt Line railroad tracks to a point about a half-mile east. It is bordered on the north by North Perry Street and on the south by Featherstone Road. Several hundred acres are involved.

Almost all of the land is privately owned, the southernmost portion being Herrington Hills subdivision. Included is a 25-acre parcel zoned M2, of which about 3 acres provide the site for an auto parts firm and scrap metal yard. The M2 area lies on the south side of M. Clemens Street at the railroad. Between it and Herrington Hills Elementary School is a 56-acre parcel zoned M2.

All the land between M. Clemens and Perry is zoned M2, but actual land use is divided between residential and vacant parcels. Approximately 64 acres immediately south of Perry from the railroad to Galloway Lake are owned by one party. The rest is under multiple ownership.

Using Good Old Horse Sense

LONELY TEAM — The soft blanket of newly fallen snow didn't bother this pair of horses or the fact that the old wagon was frozen a foot deep in mud at Pontiac's Beaudette Park on Orchard Lake Road. The team waits patiently for spring and summer when youngsters will again be back to play games of the old west. The entire area seemed to be alive as the sun shined on the glistening snow early today.

Also Push for Disarmament

Britain, U.S. Choose N-Test Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission announced today the United States and Britain have agreed to cooperate in testing a low yield British nuclear device underground in Nevada within the next few weeks.

Called for an East-West foreign ministers meeting on disarmament.

The proposal for a foreign ministers meeting was made by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

A joint U.S.-British statement said that foreign ministers of the three powers should meet in advance of the proposed 18-nation disarmament conference opening at Geneva March 14 and should also be ready to participate personally in the negotiations.

The sum of this foreign ministers effort would be to generate a "supreme effort" to bring the nuclear arms race under control, the joint statement said.

On the military side the two Western governments declared that the existing state of nuclear development would "justify the West" in making such further series of nuclear tests as may be necessary for purely military reasons.

An important factor in the present state of nuclear development, the statement said, is the "recent massive Soviet tests."

"The United States and United Kingdom governments," the statement said, "have therefore decided that preparations should be made in various places and as part of these the United Kingdom government is making available to the United States government the facilities at Christmas Island."

IN LONELY SECTION — The island, which is a huge atoll, lies more than 1,000 miles south of Hawaii. It is in a lonely section of the Pacific.

Kennedy told his news conference that U.S.-continued Johnson Island, as well as Christmas Island, offered no legal difficulties so far as the United Nations is concerned to tests in the atmosphere.

Envisaged atoll, where previous U.S. tests were conducted, is held by the United States under a U.N. trusteeship.

Kennedy's mention of Johnson Island suggested that preparations for a series of atmospheric explosions of nuclear weapons may be under way there, apart from those projected for Christmas Island.

Jayne Back With Story of Adventure

NASSAU (AP) — Buxton, blonde Jayne Mansfield, who died gaily out of Nassau Wednesday in a scary swim, told, returned safely today, shivering and weeping with a story of a harrowing experience at sea and a night on a chilly beach.

The movie actress, her weightlifting husband, Mickey Hargitay, and hotel publicist Jack Drury were found safe this morning on a beach at Rose Island after a night long search touched off when they failed to return Wednesday night from the water ski trip.

"It was the sharks. That was the worst," said Jayne, who has an almost uncontrollable fear of sharks.

The Nassau Yacht Club said sharks have not been reported in those waters for many years. Jayne fell off her skis, he said, tried to help and fell off himself. She complained of a hurt leg. They were not wearing life jackets.

Called WARNING — Drury, in the boat, said he thought he saw sharks and called a warning.

Jayne panicked, Hargitay said. They brought the boat about and tried to get her into it. Hargitay lost his grip on Jayne and she went under the boat.

They got hold of her again, but in trying to get her into it, the boat overturned. Then Jayne floated, her husband said.

They had to swim about two blocks to make the island, Hargitay said, and he and Drury held Jayne up between them. When they climbed up on the beach, Jayne floated again.

JFK Invokes Privilege in Censorship Row

Forbids Personnel of Pentagon to Reveal Names to Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy invoked the doctrine of executive privilege today to forbid Pentagon personnel to tell a Senate subcommittee the names of censors who altered texts of specific anti-Communist speeches. The chairman promptly upheld the plea.

"I am convinced this executive plea applies and the chair sustains it," said Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss.

Up to the time of the presidential intervention Stennis had been one of those attempting to elicit answers on the point.

her objecting to the chair's ruling was Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., whose charges that the military had been muzzleed against anti-Communist statements set off the subcommittee study.

Thurmond did not appeal Stennis' ruling immediately to the subcommittee membership, a course which would have been open to him.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara read to the subcommittee a letter from the President invoking the executive privilege and directing Defense Department personnel from top to bottom not to disclose the information about any individual changes in texts.

The President held it would not be "in the public interest" to permit the subcommittee to question the censors, and on this basis Stennis sustained the chief executive's right to invoke executive privilege.

Since the days of George Washington, Stennis said, neither the courts nor the Congress ever has overridden pleas of executive privilege by a president under the constitutional system of checks and balances which, he said, prevents one branch of government

Certificate Cites Waterford Youth

Reward Boy for Rescue

Last night was a big night for 13-year-old Jeffrey J. Janik of 750 Lyle St., Waterford Township. He was awarded the Certificate of Merit of the American Red Cross for saving the life of a friend while swimming last summer.

The near-fatal incident occurred when Gary L. Clement, 14, of 5418 was struck by severe arm and leg cramps while he and Jeffrey were swimming between diving tanks in Elizabeth Lake.

When Gary screamed for help, Jeffrey immediately swam over and grabbed his friend from behind. The struggling Gary panicked and attempted to drag his rescuer down.

This is when Jeffrey's valuable Red Cross water safety instruction was put into use. He slipped from Gary's grasp by sliding down under the water and away. Jeffrey was able to pull himself up on the youth from behind and held him up until help arrived.

Gary was pulled ashore, administered oxygen, and treated for shock. Later he was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released—none the worse from his harrowing experience.

APPLIED SKILLS — Jeffrey had applied the water safety instruction he received in Red Cross classes for the last three years taught by the Red Cross as part of the Youth Swimming Program and sponsored by the Waterford Township Department of Recreation.

The award is the highest given to individuals by the American Red Cross and was presented by Carleton C. Patterson Jr., chairman of the Oakland County Chapter. Jeffrey is the 76th Michigan resident to receive this honored recognition since it was established in 1913.

The presentation was made at the Township Recreation Board meeting at the Community Center. Other participants in the ceremonies were Jeffrey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Janik, Norm Ford, swimming instructor, Donald C. Miller, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter of Red Cross, and Robert Lawyer, recreation director.

Miners Toll 279 in German Blast

Many Still Missing With 81 in Hospitals but 100 Escaped Cave-In SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP) — The Saar State Mining Office announced today that 279 miners were killed and approximately a score are still missing in Germany's second worst coal mine disaster in history.

A spokesman said 275 bodies had been removed from the tragedy-stricken Laidelbach mine near here, and four men had died in hospitals. Another 81 miners are in hospitals, many in critical condition.

The spokesman said 100 men escaped unhurt from Wednesday's explosion and cave-in, leaving about 30 men unaccounted for among the 48 who were in the pit at the time of the disaster.

Efforts continued more than 30 hours after the accident to find the missing, who possibly are buried under tons of coal and rock.

The bodies of many miners were found burned, gassed or crushed under the debris of cave-ins from the massive fire damp blast on the fourth level 1,800 feet underground.

Earlier rescue authorities gave widely varying estimates of the number missing, because of the possibility that many survivors had not reported to the state-owned mine office.

A Bit of Warmth Expected to Cheep on Cloudy Friday

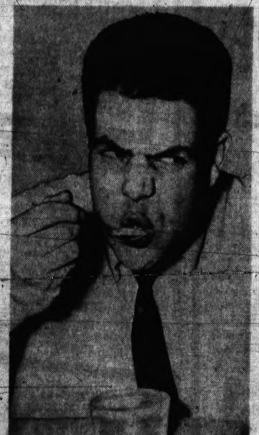

Increasing cloudiness and not so cold, the low about 15, is the forecast for the Pontiac area tonight. Friday will be mostly cloudy and warmer with a chance of snow and temperatures rising to the low 30s. Partly cloudy with little change in temperature is Saturday's prediction.

Morning light and variable winds will become 5 to 12 miles per hour Friday. More than an inch of snow fell on the Pontiac area last night.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 8 degrees. The mercury had climbed to 22 at 2 p.m.

Reporter Drops 5 Pounds on CD Diet

By DICK SAUNDERS
As I sit here munching my survival food and humming "Life Is Just a Bowl of Protein." It occurs to me that a progress report might be in order.

I am in my fourth day of a 14-day civil defense fallout shelter diet. Food consists of Multipurpose Food (MFP) and Emergency Ration served in a variety of ways.

So far I have averaged about 6 ounces of the two products combined per day plus a total consumption of slightly over 2 quarts of liquid per day. I have lost 5 pounds and feel as alert as ever.

Monday I drank 1 1/4 quarts of coffee and a pint of water. Tuesday I drank only one quart of coffee, but downed a pint of milk (powdered) a half-pint of tomato juice and a pint of water.

CRAVES MILK, WATER

Around 10 p.m. Tuesday I developed a craving for milk or water.

Thirst is a major factor—hunger is not. I have experienced periods of extreme thirst, but at no time have I been hungry.

I have invented what I call a "Survival Shake." It consists of one cup evaporated milk, three tablespoons MFP, one tablespoon of vanilla extract and a teaspoon of sugar, all blended together.

Sounds a bit bizarre until you realize that this is dinner. Last night, I substituted pepper extract for the vanilla.

What do I miss most? My peanut butter and crackers. We were inseparable.

Chinese Celebrants Hurt
HONG KONG (U-P)—Firecrackers exploded in celebration of the Chinese New Year this week, causing eye injuries to more than 50 children in Hong Kong, the government announced Wednesday. An estimated 5 million fireworks were set off during the holidays.

Stories of Mystery, Horror Surround Trujillo's Life

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo has been dead eight months, but even today many of the secrets of the Trujillo terror are yet to be disclosed.

Some of the grim aspects of the dictatorship can be pieced together, on the basis of available information. The whole story, including exactly what happened to various victims, is not likely to be known for years, if ever.

The key to many secrets apparently rests among Trujillo followers or kinfolk who got out of the country fast when the Dominican people started mapping a route down the road to democracy. Scores of these people now live in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Two of the most discussed victims were General Lester Murphy of Eugene, Ore., a pilot, and Jesus de Galindez, Spanish-born associate professor at Columbia University, New York.

A generally accepted story is that Murphy was involved in transporting De Galindez, a former employee and arch enemy of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

De Galindez, dropped from sight in New York in March 1956. He supposedly was brought here on orders of Trujillo and was killed shortly after his arrival.

Murphy was not seen after early December 1956.

Their bodies have not been found. Last month a businessman claiming to have been a former student of De Galindez said a body unearthed in the nearby village of San Jose de Ocoa appeared to be the professor's. Authorities dismissed the claim. No formal investigation was made.

NO PLANS TO REOPEN

The attorney general's office says there are no current plans to reopen the Murphy-De Galindez case.

Attempts to determine the fate of Trujillo opponents who disappeared have yielded only a few five political prisoners and some unidentified remains from unmarked graves and hidden wells.

There is dark talk about the mysterious disappearance of a possible instrument of total liquidation. The waters off the south coast are alive with sharks, and there are lonely stretches of wild country only a few miles from Santo Domingo.

Murphy's car was found abandoned near the shore in 1956. The Trujillo government attempted to link his disappearance to a Dominican military officer, Octavio de la Masa, with whom, it alleged, Murphy had a violent argument and fight.

Family friends say De la Masa was last seen Dec. 23, 1956, when he was called to testify on Murphy's disappearance. De la Masa is said to have denied any connection with the American, whom he knew.

De la Masa's body was dumped from a speeding car in front of the home on Jan. 7, 1957. The government claimed he had committed suicide. Family associates said the body showed signs of strangulation and a deep wound at the waist.

According to most versions available from those purporting to have been close to developments, de Galindez was flown from New York.

He is then said to have been revived, taken before Generalissimo Trujillo and forced to set page after page of a copy of an anti-Trujillo manuscript the professor had written. After this, it is said, he was lowered alive into a vat of boiling water.

Other stories of brutality by Trujillo's agents far surpass the De Galindez death versions in sheer horror.

De la Masa's implication in the Murphy disappearance reportedly was not purely accidental. Family associates say the young officer first got in trouble with the generalissimo while in the diplomatic service at London in 1954. He shot and gravely wounded a fellow diplomat close to the official family in what is said to have been a personal quarrel.

Perhaps a chance to eliminate him arose with the need to erase Murphy because of the then widening investigation into the disappearance of De Galindez.

A nurse, Gloria Viera, who allegedly made the flight with Murphy from New York, died in a mysterious automobile accident early in November 1956.

This is said to have had a so-called effect on Murphy, who made belated but never fulfilled plans to leave the country.

The results were costly to the De la Masa family. Brothers Ernesto, Bolivar, Mario and Pablo were tortured and killed immediately following the generalissimo's assassination. Antonio was shot dead on the street June 4.

There still is a reluctance to talk openly about the case, even among members of the families involved.

Those who say they formerly worked with or knew Murphy are even less disposed to reveal much. "There are many people alive and abroad who knew the whole story. Let them talk," one said.

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT IS IN YOURSELF

Can you afford specialized business training? You can't afford not to have it. When you are young the best investment you can make is in yourself. One hundred dollars invested in a bond will bring you three or so dollars a year—unless something happens to the bond. But a hundred dollars invested in acquiring knowledge or skill will bring you dividends of pleasure and profit as long as you live. Your principal will be invested in a business, you control. It will be where you can watch it. Booms can't inflate it and depression can't wipe it out. Thieves can't steal it. Relatives can't borrow it.

Touring Bobby Group Would Deny Surveys Japan Rezoning of Corner

Attorney General Still Enthusiastic Despite Leftist Demonstrations

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy took his meet-the-people campaign to the Japanese countryside today, waving and smiling in good humor both at the thousands who cheered him and the hundred mobsters by the Communist to fear him.

Kennedy took a friendly general said to a newspaper several times during the day as farmers, housewives, workers and children mobbed him enthusiastically.

His enthusiasm was undampened by several leftist demonstrations that dogged his trail as he criss-crossed the countryside from Kyoto to Osaka before boarding a plane for Tokyo.

He ran into one group of 300 shouting Communists outside a textile mill in Kyoto. Waving banners and shouting "Kennedy go home," the demonstrators surged toward the Kennedy bus, but police swiftly moved in and pushed them back.

Although placid in the face of demonstrators, Kennedy showed a flash of temper for the second time publicly in Japan at a luncheon given him by leading businessmen of the Kyoto area. After hearing criticism of U.S. aid policies and what some called a "humbling American foreign policy," President Kennedy's younger brother retorted heatedly.

"I just want you to understand that the United States has established quite a record in the world," he said. "We have not arrived at the vision we have today, culturally, scientifically and economically, just by luck."

"We are not without fault," Kennedy added. "But we won't let World War II against our will and we do not seek now to dominate other nations. Other nations have suffered much, but many of us have suffered personally."

2 Homes in Pontiac Damaged by Fire

Children playing with matches and an overheated furnace caused fires which did an estimated $3,900 to two homes in Pontiac yesterday.

A blaze which started in the second floor bedroom of the Mahlon Morrison residence, 198 N. Johnson St., spread to the other half of the two-story frame duplex at 300 N. Johnson St., occupied by John Johnson about 12:40 p.m.

Firemen, who were at the scene for two hours, said the blaze burned portions of the first and second floors and basement in both sides of the duplex.

A wall in the bedroom started burning when a hot air register became overheated, firemen said. Damage was estimated at $2,000 in the Morrison's side of the duplex and $1,900 in the Johnson residence.

A fire at the one-story frame home of Little Wattaker, 30 Iowa St., which was started by children playing with matches, resulted in a loss of $400 to building and contents, according to firemen. The blaze, reported at 8:57 a.m., was extinguished in 25 minutes.

Monaco's Rainier Gets Bomb Threat

MONTRE CARLO, Monaco (UPI)—Plastic bomb throwers of the outlawed secret army have threatened Prince Rainier of Monaco, reliable reports said today.

Informed sources said Rainier recently received a series of letters threatening plastic-bomb terrorism in his little principality. If Monte Carlo Radio continued its pro-French government broadcasts.

Monacan police have been searching automobiles and checking identification papers for the past several days using the tactics devised by Paris police in their campaign against the rightist underground.

Cable Cut; No 'Hello' for 1,000 Phones

About 1,000 Michigan Bell Telephone Co. customers were at a loss without service today after a Consumers Power Co. work crew accidentally cut into four telephone cables in Pontiac yesterday morning.

North and Midwest Still in Refrigerator

Warmer and wet weather prevailed across broad sections of the nation today but winter's latest, cold spell clung to northern parts of the Midwest and East.

Coldest weather in the Midwest was confined to Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, with temperatures dropping to more than 30 degrees below zero.

In the Northeast, the frigid air dropped readings to nearly 30 below in Maine. Coldest spots were Millinocket, with -28 and Old Town, with a -34 reading. Temperatures in upstate New York were mostly zero to 10 above. Four inches of fresh snow fell at Watertown.

Lowest reading reported in the Midwest was -31 in International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, where the mercury hasn't been much above zero for several days. It was -25 in Marquette, Mich., -23 in Pellisier, Mich., and -20 in Eau Claire, Wis.

OFF TO RESCUE MINERS—Grim-faced miners walk toward coal mine near Sasarbrücken after it was ripped by an explosion in German history. The number still buried in the cave-in debris of the mine's fourth level was uncertain.

SAARBRÜCKEN, Germany (AP)—A powerful explosion ripped through the fourth level of a coal mine here today, sending a cloud of dust and debris billowing into the air.

The explosion, which occurred at about 10:30 a.m., was heard for miles around. It was the deadliest mine disaster in Germany since 1959, when 109 miners were killed in a similar explosion at the same mine.

Rescue workers rushed to the scene, but the mine was so badly damaged that it was feared that the rescue operation would be a long and difficult one.

The mine, which is one of the largest in Germany, has been closed since the explosion. The cause of the disaster is still unknown.

Our Space Plan...Is It Right?

BY BOB CONSIDINE

LOS ANGELES — The nation's attention is magnetized by the often-postponed attempt of astronaut John Glenn to fling himself into orbit.

There is, naturally, great anxiety over his well-being. But one can hear additional and intensely sobering thoughts expressed in this Tool Chest of Space over the well-being of millions of Americans, not just one. One of those thoughts can be summed up as follows:

"Why spend more time and money trying to do something the Russians have already achieved than we spend on ascertaining the military uses of space?"

Proponents of this line of questioning project some hair-raising possibilities. Samples:

The U.S. and U.S.S.R. have now reached a stalemate. According to the more macabre statisticians each side now has the capability of killing as high as 100 million human beings of the other side by means of thermo-nuclear war. Therefore, no war is in prospect.

But what if one side develops an absolute defense against the other's missiles? The stalemate is then broken, and that side can rule the world—just as the U.S. could have imposed whatever it wished upon the world between 1945 and 1949 when it alone possessed the atomic bomb and the means of delivering it.

GRAVE MISGIVINGS

We are working hard to develop the Nike-Zeus, a short-range missile designed to find and destroy an enemy warhead as it comes down from space over an American target.

Khrushchev has been quoted as saying Russian aero-scientists have been employed in the same search. But there are grave misgivings here that sound something like this:

"Even if we do produce the Zeus and it works every time that still won't be the answer. It will simply 'raise the price of admission'—the money will send in more missiles than he had planned to send against the particular target which is protected by a battery of Zeus. We'd do the same, of course, and willingly pay the liked 'price of admission.'"

One space dreamer told us today that a heretofore virtually unknown physicist not long ago came up with a theory that for a short period of time there appeared to be a breath-taking answer to the Soviet ICBM threat. His proposal resulted in Operation Argus, nuclear blasts in space which created a magnetic blanket which promised to disintegrate any warhead that tried to pierce it—a science-fiction death day on high. But the electrons whizzing crazily about in the blanket at the speed of light regrettably unraveled themselves, and we were back in the stalemate.

"The slogan, 'Space is for Peace,' is a prayer," a military man said to us. "It should be changed to, 'We Pray That Space Is for Peace.'"

A Building Booms Into New Business

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Walter Brewer's summer cottage turned into a booming enterprise.

Brewer, a photographer, designed the cabin like the letter "A." From the crumbar up is a loft for sleeping and downstairs is the kitchen and living area. It was inexpensive about half as much as ordinary buildings per square foot.

"His friends and neighbors heard about it and now photographer Brewer has started building for hire."

The National Park Service and the National Geographic Society have completed excavation of Long House, a major cave city in Colorado's Wetherill Mesa.

"Space could be a battlefield beyond present human comprehension and it might be our Waterloo. Or it could be nothing. We know so little about it."

Khrushchev has been out there farther than we have. He has orbited a man 11 times, not three as Col. Glenn would hope for. He has hit the moon, then has gone to the other side of it, taken excellent pictures and sent them back to the earth.

"I sit here horrified at the thought that he's over there in the Kremlin watching us build our Minuteman and Polaris and everything else, and spending $10 million a day to reach the moon ahead of him with a man, and that he has already found out how to block our retaliation missiles before they could fall on the Soviet Union."

"I imagine his saying, one of these days when the time is ripe:

"We now demand your unconditional surrender. We have perfected a defense against whatever you can throw at us."

You have none. If you don't believe me, send one of your missiles or anything else at us and we will be happy to demonstrate this fact."

"We do just that, and he's right; he has demolished the stalemate by means of military—not peaceful—research in space. And we are no longer a nation."

Braves Tear Gas Bomb for Beauty, Not Duty

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (AP) — Husky policemen filed, but secretary Maria Gomez remained inside when a tear gas bomb accidentally exploded in police headquarters.

"It's not devotion to duty," she explained. "It's just that I wouldn't be caught dead on the street with my eye make-up dripping down my cheeks."

Junk Yard Owner Gets Confession in Theft

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Rudy Delmore, who operates an auto junk yard, can understand why someone would steal 65 of his auto-radiators and 13 batteries, but he couldn't figure out why the radio-took his pet tan-and-white pig. Later an 8-year-old boy confessed that he was the guinea pig thief, but didn't know anything about the other loot.

Voice of the People

we know, science provides a way. Even Webster mislaid this one. When one traces the sociological trend of Western Civilization through recent decades one finds a tendency to worship science as the ultimate in wisdom. This false premise leads to false conclusions. The thing of first importance is to know what to do; until that is settled one doesn't need to know how to do it, and that falls in the realm of pure science.

Practices in many churches are defended with the artifice that the end justifies the means. This is simply an inverted application of science over philosophy. It is the responsibility of every individual to exercise his sovereignty of choice toward the delineation of truth. Unless this nation returns to the philosophies that made it great it will travel a downward course to loss of world prestige and eventual chaos.

'Look at City Budget During Campaign'

I would like to thank Bruce J. Amett on his letter concerning the costs of all governments and congratulate him for his forthright and courageous public stand against increasing public expenses, while individuals and businesses are cutting expenses to the bone to survive.

For more businessmen to continue the stand of Mr. Amett could possibly lead to the formation of some influential citizens' groups which could ably represent the taxpaying citizen.

A new city commission is soon to be elected. Since 1948 the city budget has increased from $3 million to now over $6 million and all the while our population is declining. Here is something to discuss in the forthcoming campaign.

Paul A. Kern

'Countries Need Population Control'

In reporting his conversations with Khrushchev, John F. Kennedy said:

"A small group of Communists could exploit discontent and misery in a country where the average income may be $50 or $70 a year and set up control without Communist troops crossing any frontier."

His remarks referred to nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America where millions of people live on 20 cents a day. These governments are trying to preserve their freedom. In this struggle to preserve freedom the unmentioned factor is the current population explosion. This has been brought about by the success of modern medicine and sanitation in reducing infant mortality, prolonging life and wiping out disease. As a result, the "human" family is increasing at the unprecedented rate of 50 million persons in this decade.

I strongly favor the program for foreign economic aid. If, however, it is not accompanied by aid in population control, there will be more people living on 20 cents a day — and more and ever greater appeals to Uncle Sam for economic aid.

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

State House Bill Would Aid Rural Schools

LANSING (P) — Rural school districts would be the chief beneficiaries of a new school aid bill introduced in the House with bipartisan support.

Rep. Lester J. Allen, R-Ithaca, a farmer, proposed to raise the school aid formula from $30 to $50 per pupil and at the same time boost deductible millage from 3.25 to five mills.

The deductible millage factor is a device to channel the most aid to poor school districts with the least taxable property. Any increase benefits poorer districts.

Allen estimated his proposal would boost state aid costs by $12 million a year, and give increases to 50 per cent of the state's school districts. Cosponsor is Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, who also introduced Gov. Swainson's proposal to add $24 million to school aid costs by boosting payments 8 per cent.

"My bill would give more equitable distribution of school aid than any other that has been introduced," said Allen. "For a long time there has been a need for more equalization in payments to poor and rich districts."

Rep. Raymond C. Wursel, R-Port Huron, chairman of the House Education Committee, sponsored a third measure to increase state aid to $250 per pupil and raise deductible millage to 3.5 mills.

Allen also submitted a measure to permit county supervisors to levy nonproperty taxes for school support purposes. They could take a choice from a wide range of taxes, including an income levy or taxes on various consumer items.

"Each tax, however, would expire after one year unless it was re-enacted by the board of supervisors," Allen said. "That way they could correct mistakes if they found a tax undesirable or inequitable."

A bill introduced by Rep. Carroll C. Newton, R-Bellows, would empower circuit courts to issue orders directing divorced fathers and husbands to make support payments. The measure would estimate the need for legal aid for a criminal suit against their delinquent husbands. Newton said.

Rep. Edward K. Michalski, D-Detroit, authored a bill to permit governing bodies of any city, village or township to adopt ordinances controlling Sunday sales by merchants.

Reps. Walter G. Nakkula, R-

Gladwin, and Raymond J. Apley, D-Mount Clemens, are sponsors of a bill to rebate to SDD and SDD liquor, beer and wine licenses taxes which they paid to the state on inventory on hand when nuisance taxes on alcoholic beverages expired last June 30.

The total — $1,511,000 — was absorbed by licensees rather than being paid by customers, they said.

Other new bills in the House would:

• Make Good Friday a legal holiday (Michalski).

• Exempt all retirement benefits, pensions and annuities from any state or local income tax (Hungerford).

• MAKE BODY PERMANENT

Make permanent the legislative audit commission organized last year to assist the legislative budget-makers and make sure that agencies and departments spend appropriations in accordance with legislative intent (Green).

Prohibit peace officers from collecting witness fees if they are on duty when attending court (Strange).

Create an office of state consumer advisor, carrying out Gov. Swainson's proposal (Hunsinger). Require election of Detroit's representatives on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, replacing the appointive method (Yates).

Require motorists to dim their lights when they get within 300 feet of a car they are following (De Maso).

Authorize county boards of supervisors to adopt ordinances regulating speed and size of motorboats on lakes within the county (Stevens).

The common cold results in an economic loss of $5 billion a year, owned aircraft in the United States.

Paris Patrolled Against Bombs

Mount Armored Cars With Cannon to Quell New OAS Outbreak

PARIS (UPI) — Armored cars mounted with cannon patrolled the streets of Paris for the first time today to quell a new outbreak of plastic bombings attributed to Secret Army Organization (OAS) fanatics.

At the same time, French authorities poured an estimated 50,000 troops and police into the area around Algiers to cope with a student demonstration called to protest the killing of two European high school youths. The youths were believed assassinated by Muslims.

President Charles de Gaulle's government ordered five off-the-manufacturing rubber-tired armored cars out of a garage in nearby Versailles and through the Latin Quarter following nine explosions throughout Paris Wednesday. Seven persons were injured in the blasts.

Each of the cars carried two machine guns and a 37mm cannon. About 70 more cars and 35 tanks remained standing by, as they have since the small armada was poised outside the capital Jan. 27.

Most of the bombs went off during a cabinet meeting called to discuss how to crush the OAS, the outlawed European organization determined to keep Algeria French.

One of them rocked the home of Andre Malraux, France's minister of culture and one of its most famous writers. Malraux was not at home but the blast injured a woman and a small girl.

Interior Minister Roger Frey briefed the ministers on anti-OAS measures "and the results obtained." No details of any new security measures were announced but soon after the armored cars appeared, convoyed by motorcycles and Jeeps.

All Employees Needed Was the Proper Proof

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — City commissioners planned to take steps tonight to correct an ordinance covering city administrative offices.

Under a section of the ordinance, passed last fall and effective since Nov. 12, three days' leave of absence with pay was to be granted any city employee who submitted proper proof of his death.

The Army said the men were placed on active duty through a misinterpretation of policy, having been assigned to the ready Reserve instead of the inactive Reserve where they belonged.

Giants' Big Asset, Willie Mays, Part of Attachment

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Outfielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants was under attachment as a "prime asset" of the Giants Wednesday — but only temporarily.

Mays, also with other properties of the Giants including furniture, balls, bats and owner Horace Stoneham's supply of Scotch whisky, was attached by attorney Melvin Bell to the $1,297 Judgment which Bell recently won from the Giants.

Bell was awarded the $1,297 plus $283.69 in court costs last month by superior court judge. His suit claimed that he was injured in Candlestick Park was not heated as advertised.

Mays, one of baseball's highest-paid performers, took it in stride. Informed Wednesday that he was under attachment, he commented, "How about that."

'Mistaken' Army Releases Reservists

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — At most 300 reservists have been mustered out of the Army at Ft. Lewis because they were called up by mistake, an Army spokesman reports.

The discharges, he said Wednesday, were given mostly to "fillers," called to active duty last fall during the Berlin crisis to bring the 32nd Division, a former Wisconsin National Guard outfit, and other units to full strength.

The Army said the men were placed on active duty through a misinterpretation of policy, having been assigned to the ready Reserve instead of the inactive Reserve where they belonged.

30 Defense Contractors Sign Up for Integration

WASHINGTON (U) — Thirty big defense contractors signed agreements to eliminate job discrimination and heard President Kennedy hail their action as an important move for progress and the free enterprise system.

Kennedy spoke as officials of the firms assembled in the state dining room of the White House to sign agreements pledging equal employment opportunity without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

Kennedy said the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and other companies, which signed earlier agreements, have done a most impressive job at all levels of employment.

He said the elimination of discrimination in employment provides an opportunity to build a stronger and more vital economy.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the President's committee on equal employment opportunity, said the 30 companies which signed the agreements today employ more than 3.5 million people. The program, originated by Johnson's committee, aims at firms doing business with the government.

Belgrade Plans School for Jazz Musicians

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U) — The Jazz Association of Belgrade is planning to open the first school for jazz in any Communist country.

The association says the school is needed to improve the tastes in jazz in this country, where Western music has been allowed for many years and now is flourishing. Besides courses for jazz fans, instruction will be given musicians to improve their technique.

Checkups Can Ease Driving Difficulties

Motoring difficulties in the cold winter months can easily be avoided by careful checks of the car's cooling and electrical systems, John C. Bates, Pontiac Motor Division general service manager, said today.

"Many of the unpleasant problems that are occurring in this particularly cold winter can easily be avoided by keeping your car in excellent mechanical condition," Bates points out. "Even though the car may not need a general tuning, a thorough check should always be made to make sure that every part is functioning properly."

Exceptionally vulnerable to cold are the cooling and electrical systems.

Here are some of the more important things recommended by Bates:

1. Poorly maintained cooling systems seem to be the most frequent cause of winter driving troubles. The radiator should be drained, flushed and refilled with fresh antifreeze in amounts recommended for the geographic area in which the car is being driven.

2. All cooling system components should be checked, including drive belts, thermostats and water hoses. One faulty hose can make life miserable.

3. Efficient operation in cold weather demands a good battery and electrical system. Battery connections should be cleaned and tightened, while the voltage regulator and all lights should be checked. To insure quick and easy starts the engine may need new plugs, points and condenser.

4. The crankcase should be drained and refilled with oil of proper viscosity for winter temperatures and the chassis should be completely lubricated.

5. To prevent condensation and the resultant fuel line freeze-up, the gas tank should be maintained at full level whenever possible. Tires should be properly inflated, including the spare, and evenly adjusted brakes can prevent a bad slide on slick pavements. And don't overlook solvent and antifreeze in the windshield washers to get rid of mud and grimy slush.

6. Winter means long stretches of driving with the windows closed and this means the car's entire exhaust system should be leak proof so that fumes cannot seep into the passenger compartment.

Bates also pointed out that many motorists have shown concern and asked how to prevent being electrically shocked when leaving their automobile.

"This electric shock is not a problem peculiar to cars but is the same that occurs when walking on carpets and then touching metal objects or other people."

"This shock, which is caused by static electricity, can easily be prevented in cars if the motorist will ground himself by holding on to the door handle inside the car when sliding across the car seat," Bates said.

Fireman Watches Blaze Go By, Gives Pursuit

DOWNEY, Calif. (UPI) — Fireman Gilbert Laine was standing in the driveway of a fire station Wednesday watching cars go by when a fire went by.

Laine summoned his crew and they boarded a fire truck and pursued the fire, which was burning in a house trailer unoccupied by the driver of the car towing it.

The firemen caught up with the burning vehicle and quickly extinguished the blaze.

House dust, the old kind that has been around a while, causes more trouble than fresh dust for allergy sufferers.

Send Two Priests to Prison in Poland

WARSAW (UPI) — Two Roman Catholic priests from Silesia have been sentenced to three years imprisonment by Communist Polish authorities on charges of distributing an anti-Polish book, according to the newspaper Kurier Polski.

The priests were identified only as Father Marcin Masalski and Father Stanislaw Janik. Masalski was charged with receiving a copy of a book on political and economic relations in the Soviet Union, Poland and other East European satellite countries. After allegedly retyping copies of the unpublished book, Janik was charged with distributing them in the city of Lodz, according to Kurier Polski.

The first rotary printing press, devised by Richard Hoe in 1846, was capable of printing 3,000 copies an hour.

Poor Pellston Town Gets Cold Reputation

PELLSTON (U)—More than rain falls mainly on the plain-cold air drains there, too.

That's one reason Pellston has a traditional tag as Michigan's icebox. Twice, early Wednesday, temperatures dipped to -22 degrees.

Another reason, says U.S. meteorologist William Chassee at Grand Rapids, is that Pellston is the site of a U.S. Weather Bureau official thermometer for hourly reports. It has operated on a 24-hour basis since June 1941.

"It could be somewhere else and maybe just as cold," says Chassee. "Why, some of the valleys and low spots right around Grand Rapids get down to 12 and 15 below but we never know about it because there are no official thermometers in those spots."

His explanation finds "100 per cent agreement" from Lloyd Lovasens, chief flight service specialist with the Federal Aviation Agency and stationed at Pellston since 1948.

"We're just a little place on a low plain ringed with hills," says Lovasens, "and that 'Michigan icebox' description, I guess, is one way of getting recognition—but it's the hard way."

"There probably are other places in the interior that get as cold or colder—but they don't have thermometers."

Pellston is an incorporated village of "roughly between 400 and 500 persons" located about 20 miles south of Mackinaw City along eight-cylinders in the battery.

U.S. 31 and about the same distance north of Pellston.

The business district includes three general stores, two cafes, a hotel, a motel, a hardware store, five service stations and a garage.

Lovasens says its best known activities are the airport, where he works, and "a fairly large consolidated school."

"In the winter," Lovasens adds, "people here bundle up a little more, but everyone takes the temperature pretty well to stride. We have quite a bit of activity with bowling teams, skiing and the like."

She Doesn't Know Much About Batteries Either

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U)—An employee in the state motor vehicle registration department asked the woman applicant about the horsepower of her car.

"I don't know how many horsepower," she replied. "But it has eight cylinders in the battery."

Plane Crash in Gulf Proves False Report

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Reports of a crashed airplane in the Gulf of Mexico sent Coast Guard rescue craft to the scene only to find the wreckage apparently was from a drone aircraft used for antiaircraft target practice.

Crew members of two shrimp boats in the area radioed that a plane had crashed about 75 miles west-northwest of St. Petersburg. The Coast Guard reported Wednesday night that the wreckage appeared to be from a drone airplane, used by the military to test air-to-air and ground-to-air rockets.

He Can't Write but Is Charged With Forgery

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A man who can't write has been charged with forgery.

Detective William Carlisle said Leroy Curry, 27, admitted Wednesday that he stole two payroll checks from fellow construction company workers. Police typed up Curry's statement and he signed it with an "X."

Noted Conductor Quits Vienna State Opera

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Conductor Herbert von Karajan has resigned as artistic director of the Vienna State Opera amidst a controversy between opera management and the government, the education ministry announced Wednesday.

Von Karajan, world-famed conductor of leading European orchestras, said in a letter to the ministry that he was dissatisfied with a recent compromise which ended two months of passive resistance by stage hands.

Reroute Traffic While House Blocks Highway

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — There was a 10-room, two-story, brick house with attached double garage on Ohio 42 today — right smack across the highway.

The house slipped off moving equipment Wednesday night while T. J. Cloonan, president of a house moving firm and owner of the building, was moving it to a new site.

Cloonan estimated it would take two days to get the $45,000 house out of the road. The sheriff is rerouting traffic.

Bills at Lansing Hit Red Party

Would Stop Commies From Public Office, Teach Doctrine

LANSING (AP) — Bills to outlaw the Communist Party in Michigan and require every high school to offer a course pointing to the evils of Communism came into the legislature today.

The sponsor is Rep. Frederic J. Marshall, R-Allen, former sheriff and the legislature's most outspoken foe of Communism.

One measure would prohibit Communists from running for public office and direct them of "all rights, privileges or immunities."

Similar bills are being introduced in at least 25 state legislatures this year, Marshall said. A companion bill would require high schools to offer a course in comparative government, laying special emphasis on "the free enterprise system of the United States of America in contrast to the doctrine, objectives and techniques of Communism."

"There are already some schools doing this and they are to be commended," said Marshall.

A third bill, cosponsored with Rep. Lester J. Allen, R-Ithaca, would compel all persons employed in tax-offering institutions to take a loyalty oath.

"If any person is unwilling to acknowledge his patriotic allegiance to his country, he should not be eligible for employment," Marshall declared. "There is nothing wrong with patriotism—we need more of it in America in 1962."

Last year, Marshall was the chief critic of Gov. Swainson's directive prohibiting state police from making public showings of "Operation Abolition," a controversial film purporting to show Communists in action during a hearing conducted by a congressional committee in San Francisco.

The lawmaker has given numerous talks around the state on communism and its evils.

Sore-Throated Billy Graham Located in Lima

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham turned up in Lima Wednesday, 48 hours after he dropped out of sight. He had a sore throat from which he was described as rapidly recovering.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist probably got his sore throat from the altitude at Quito, Ecuador, his last stop, but that he would preach as promised Saturday and Sunday nights.

The spokesman denied reports that the mystery enveloping Graham's arrival and presence in Lima was due to fears the government might forbid Protestants to carry out public demonstrations. He said Graham simply was resting and did not want any special receptions.

Lunar Map Maker Prepares for Landing

OTTAWA (AP) — A top U.S. moon mapper said Wednesday detailed maps of the moon are being prepared in anticipation of a lunar landing within perhaps a decade.

Albert L. Nowicki, chief of the cartography department of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, said in an interview American astronauts chosen for a trip to the moon will have the most detailed maps possible.

Nowicki, here to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Surveying, will deliver a technical paper on an expedited program to map the visible surface of the moon and later the hidden surface.

Con-Con Flares Over Proposal to Ban Graduated Tax

LANSING—A proposal to ban any graduated state income tax—but allow a flat rate tax—has plunged the constitutional convention into a bitter debate over state philosophy.

The suggestion, first recommended by Republican members of the committee on finance and taxation, was opposed unanimously by Democrats on the committee. As proposed by the committee, the provision reads:

"No income tax graduated as to rate or base shall be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions."

Both Gov. Swainson and his probable Republican rival, George Romney, have advocated adoption of a flat rate income tax, but neither has ruled out the possibility of urging a graduated tax at a later date.

Democrats attacked the proposed ban from several angles in floor debate, while Republicans generally argued that the limitation would prevent confiscatory taxation and block the use of a revenue measure as a device for social reform.

The committee majority also declared that the man would prevent the entry by the state into a field largely pre-empted by the federal government.

"You are trying to nail your philosophy into this constitution," said Democrat Robert G. Hodges, a Detroit attorney, "but what you are doing is driving another nail into the lid of the coffin of this constitution."

'CLASS LEGISLATION'

Another Democrat, Don Binkowski, also a Detroit attorney, charged that the proposal was not tax legislation, but class legislation benefiting the upper income groups.

He added:

"It's nothing more than a scheme whereby the rich get richer and the poor get poorer."

The minority report contended that taxation using a graduated rate structure is a "very equitable device for raising the maximum amount of revenues, without unduly burdening any individual taxpayer, on the basis of ability to pay."

Republicans on the committee said that one other advantage to placing a ban on a graduated income tax was that a legislator who then votes for an income tax would do so with the knowledge that it would fall proportionally as heavily on himself as upon others.

They added:

"(This is) a safeguard which a majority of the committee deems important."

The argument over the income tax issue slowed down the delegates in their drive toward a March 31 adjournment deadline, which they must meet to get the proposed new constitution on the ballot next November.

A move to devote all of today and Friday to debate on another hot subject—local government—failed to accept the suggestion of President Stephen Mabe, R-Pontiac. They agreed, however, to take up the subject out of order on the calendar Friday.

Legislative apportionment, another hot topic, was to be the subject at a Republican caucus tonight.

THE DEMOCRATIC MINORITY on the legislative organization committee, which handled the subject, submitted their report Wednesday which outlined what they termed "a bold, new, imaginative plan" for settling the problem.

Republicans on the committee filed their plan last week.

It calls for a Senate of between 36 and 40 members, apportioned roughly on a formula of 40 per cent for population and 60 per cent for area. In the House, the GOP plan would follow basically along population lines but with extra representation allowed for counties or groups of counties with 7 per cent of the state's total population.

Chilling 'Nightmare' Still in Running for Lt. Governor

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Nightmare 1 Black Hill" overcame the handicap of its billing as a "chilling drama" Wednesday night and proved to be a serviceable, intelligently-handled story.

The Steel Hour presentation on CBS-TV dealt with the problem of a sensitive, haunted 6-year-old boy whose life was crisscrossed with both the creature comforts and the nightmarish conviction that he had murdered his hated older brother.

Into this child's life came a new tutor, an ex-serviceman with a disability of his own—an artificial foot—and a sympathetic approach to the boy's problems.

A. L. Barker's story, turned into a TV play by Lois Landauer, was handled by an excellent cast headed by Douglas Fairbanks Jr.

Director Fielder Cook had his cameras establish the quiet, searching mood of the piece by floating numerous close-ups into the eloquent expressions of his players.

An air of studied calm mingled with the undercurrent of tension and torment thanks to the pacing of the scenes, Cook's good taste with his grooming and camera angles.

Death Takes Gen. Gally

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Benjamin W. Gally, 68, who commanded a 5th Marine Division regiment in the World War II assault on Iwo Jima, died Tuesday after an illness of several months.

GOP Sen. Stahlin Has No Intention of Quitting Bid for Nomination

LANSING—Sen. John H. Stahlin, R-Belling, says he is running for nomination as the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor to stay and to win.

Stahlin, 67-year-old industrialist, is the only Republican to announce so far for lieutenant governor.

Before Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Traverse City, announced that he would seek re-election to Congress there was speculation Griffin would be a running mate with George Romney, and that Stahlin might withdraw.

"While I welcome competition," Stahlin replied, "I have no intention of withdrawing. I am confident that my program for a new Michigan will meet with enthusiastic response from Republicans throughout the state."

USUAL PRACTICE

Under usual political practice, any GOP candidate would have to be approved by and hand-picked by the gubernatorial candidate.

American Motors President George Romney is considered the man most likely to seek the Republican nomination for governor. Romney is scheduled to make an announcement Saturday whether or not he will bid for the office.

Stahlin had a quip on the political situation:

"You just watch this guy Romney," he commented. "First thing you know he'll be jumping into the campaign on my coattails."

Stahlin has been campaigning strongly for the nomination for lieutenant governor. He is paying for billboards, promoting student groups in the universities and has a busy schedule of talks at party meetings and other affairs.

The average American man's waist is up from 30 pounds in 1900 to an average of 165. Women also have gained five pounds, to reach an average of 127.

Tourist Council Asks New Recreation Sites

LANSING (AP)—Creation of new state and national recreation facilities has been urged by the State Tourist Council in an attempt to promote tourist travel, boost economic growth and accommodate a growing horde of outdoor enthusiasts.

As an obvious reference to a controversy in the Sleeping Bear Dunes area near Traverse City, the council called Tuesday for "an immediate and concerted effort" to settle disputes over establishment of recreation areas.

Sens. Philip A. Hart and Patrick V. McNamara, Michigan Democrats, have introduced a bill in Congress to create a 7,000-acre national recreation area in the Sleeping Bear Dunes area.

The proposal triggered opposition from area residents who fear for their property rights.

Influenza Hits in Tokyo; 20 Pct. Classes Close

TOKYO (AP)—An influenza epidemic sweeping Tokyo has closed 20 percent of classes at 400 schools or about 20 percent of the Tokyo area, health officials said Wednesday.

Officials described the epidemic as a milder version of the Asian flu which took 883 lives in Tokyo in 1958. There have been no reports of fatalities.

Star-Crossed Guards Let Prisoners Escape

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Prison guards at Palpa in western Nepal were so preoccupied with astrologers' predictions for doomsday this week that they allowed security to lapse.

About 100 prisoners thanked their stars and made a dash for freedom, reports from the town said Wednesday. Two of the prisoners were shot, some captured, but 75 are still at liberty.

Courtroom TV for School Only

Judge Rules Video Is Strictly for Benefit of
U. of M. Law Students

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The televising of courtroom proceedings in Washtenaw County is strictly for the edification of law school students at the University of Michigan.

By writing a new rule for his courtroom, Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. has made certain the venture does not conflict with the legal profession's Canon 35—the stringent traditional rule barring the use of cameras at trials.

Rule 19 defines a second-floor classroom at the law school as an "adjunct courtroom," and the same rules apply there as in the regular courtroom; except that students may ask questions and discuss cases as they watch a closed-circuit TV screen.

Judge Breakey's rule is so strict, in fact, that during the dedication ceremonies of the TV system a few weeks ago, photographers were not even allowed to photograph the television screen until he had declared court adjourned.

In addition, Judge Breakey can instruct a bailiff to throw a switch which cuts off the transmission to the law school at any time he decides to clear his courtroom of spectators.

The university believes it is the first in the U.S. to employ TV in the study of law. The system, originated by Dr. Charles Joiner, associate dean of the law school, won the praise of top members of the legal profession.

By the reckoning of Herman Goldenson, a Justice Department attorney and a specialist in this area, at least 18 of the 34 presidents at one time or another took stand. Kennedy would be the 19th.

COULD BE CITED

This could happen if the subcommittee on censorship wants a showdown:

It could cite McNamara for contempt for refusing information. If the full Senate approved this, then:

The Senate could order him kept in custody indefinitely or sentence him to prison.

Dr. More likely, having cited him, the Senate could turn the case over to the U.S. district attorney for prosecution in the third branch of government, the federal court, which would then have to resolve the dispute between the two other branches.

The President, of course, would be quickly involved in this fight on the side of McNamara and no doubt would push for the case to be thrown out of court.

Highway Employees Entangled

the highway program which is backed 90 per cent with federal money.

Subcommittee Chairman John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., remarked that the investigation has shown "more and more people being drawn into a net."

Blatnik said "property owners, attorneys, state-aided, upgraders and others were all interwoven in a complex operation."

Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., ranking GOP member of the subcommittee, said the operation was "building taxpayers."

Eisenhower's top aides.

Eisenhower at the time cited some other presidents who took the same position, from Washington to Truman. The latter refused Congress 10 times.

Eisenhower said:

"The messages of our past presidents reveal that almost everyone of them found it necessary to inform Congress of his constitutional duty to execute the office of president and, in furtherance of that duty, to withhold information and papers for the public good."

JFK Hits Back at Rocky, Calls Him Opportunist

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy and other Democrats are being gleefully trying to hang a conservative label on Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and to suggest that he is an opportunist.

His success in this venture might strengthen Rockefeller nationally in the Republican party, where he is regarded as a possible candidate for the presidency in 1964.

It also might weaken him in New York, which will be voting along with the rest of the state on Nov. 4 when he is a candidate for re-election.

The Democratic campaign against Rockefeller began last weekend after his speech at one of the Feb. 1 GOP fund-raising dinners.

Rockefeller criticized the President's proposal for a new government department of urban affairs and charged that the "political facade" he was advancing announced that housing administrator, Robert C. Weaver, a Negro, would be nominated to head the agency if it was approved.

Rockefeller said Kennedy could have named Weaver to another cabinet job previously.

CHANGED MIND

At his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy echoed comments this week from lesser Democrats that the President had "changed his mind" and "backtracked" on a program designed by Rockefeller as chairman of President Eisenhower's advisory committee on government organization.

That memorandum urged the creation of a department of urban affairs.

"He must have, for some reason or another, changed his view on it," Kennedy commented.

As for the Weaver announcement, Rockefeller said that he had earlier suggested a plan to create the health, education and welfare department March 13, 1963.

The White House passed the word the next day, he said, that Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby would be named head of the department and Rockefeller later became her deputy.

Kennedy then quoted a comment that he had made to the right of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and said: "But now I am not so sure."

Rockefeller's bare-knuckle attacks on Kennedy was widely regarded as a move by the New Yorker, who is considered "too liberal" by many Republicans, to take a more partisan and more conservative line.

Hence Democrats were ready to question his motives for his apparent about-face on the urban affairs department.

Cicero Boy Denies Confession on Fires

CHICAGO (UPI) — A 13-year-old suburban Cicero boy, reported to have confessed-starting the 1958 Our Lady of the Angels fire that took 95 lives, denied Wednesday that he set any major fires.
The boy appeared in family court to answer a delinquency petition charging him with setting 11 fires in Chicago and Cicero, not including the school blaze.
A lie detector expert, John E. Reid, testified the youth had signed statements admitting the fire.

Under questioning by his attorney, John Cogan, the boy said: "No sir, I didn't start those fires." He admitted setting only two small trash barrel fires at an apartment house.
He said he "made up a story" because Cicero investigators were so persistent. "A policeman was squeezing my arm," he said.

Signs Point to Slump in Sin Mart

Sex May Be Losing Appeal at Box Office

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Is sex losing its box office appeal? There are some signs that it is. In the past few years, the industry has been losing the favor of the audience for the fate of the "sin mart."

BOYLE making a dirty film or writing a dirty book. Well, it just ain't so. Its bedrock tradition of puritanism still has a strong hold on America. It is easier to make a new detergent, filter cigarette, or headache cure than in the leering portrayal of sex.

You can probably even make more money by starting a one-day diaper laundering service. It is true that the country has been flooded with lurid-covered paperback novels dealing with the risqué aspects of sex, as well as foreign and homemade movies that bring a blush to the cheeks of old maid censors.

But their market is still limited.

The golden harvest is reaped by writers and producers who deal in the wholesome themes that have always appealed most to the hopeful and normal nature of the majority of mankind—adventure, religion, family life, comedy and romantic love.

Here are a few proofs: A headline in the anniversary edition of Variety, the bible of show business, reads: "Sex not Whammo in 1961." The six biggest-drawing films of last year were: "Guns of Navarone," "Exodus," "Parent Trap," "Absent-minded Professor," "Alamo," and "Swiss Family Robinson."

The top foreign import of 1961,

"La Dolce Vita," criticized widely for its suggestive scenes of society orgies in modern Rome, placed 12th in last year's appeal.

ALL-TIME HITS
Variety in the same issue listed the top cinema box office hits of all time. Here they are: "Birth of a Nation," "Gone with the Wind," "Ben-Hur," "The Ten Commandments," "Around the World in 80 Days," "The Robe," "South Pacific," "Bridge on the River Kwai," "Greatest Show on Earth," "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," "This Is Cinerama," and "From Here to Eternity."

Six of these dozen films deal with subtle historical or religious themes. Only the 12th, "From Here to Eternity," had scenes of questionable taste even for a child's eyes.

Now let's take a look at the literary scene. The two fiction books that have been longest on the best seller list of the New York Times are "To Catch a Modelling Bird," by Harper Lee, 79 weeks; and "The Agony and the Ecstasy," by Irving Stone, 45 weeks.

The first is a picture of life in a small Southern town as seen by a child; the second is a novel about Michelangelo, the artist.

TOPS IN NONFICTION
What about nonfiction? The most durable current best sellers are "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," by William L. Shirer, 66 weeks; "The New English Bible: New Testament," 45 weeks; and "The Making of the President" by Theodore White, 30 weeks.

The plain truth is that immorality doesn't have the market or audience in this nation that it did in the roaring 1930s, when prohibition, the flapper, burlesque, night clubs, free love, trial marriage and red-light districts were in full flower.

You can make a good case for the fact that the devil is losing ground in the United States. Where will he try to peddle his nefarious wares, next?

'Surplus' Rocket Packs No Punch but Creates Stir
DETROIT (AP)—The ominous-looking Navy rocket in the surplus goods store of Romeo Cairo and George Stokes turned out to be a dud.

But there was much excitement beforehand. If in condition for firing, the 1,000-pound 15-foot missile would have contained 200 pounds of TNT.

Cairo, 37, and Stokes, 31, bought it for $30 from an unidentified junkman on Monday.

When word got around about their acquisition, both the military and police became very interested.

All night Tuesday police stood guard at the store in a northwest Detroit residential area.

The army's 75th ordnance company took custody of the rocket Wednesday and carried it off to Fort Wayne.

Experts found that the TNT had been removed and the detonators also taken away. The rocket was identified as a "Tiny Tim" type missile used by the Air Force and the Navy about 10 years ago and now obsolete.

Women's Committees at Work

Promoting Met Opera Week

Recently unveiled Italian spring and summer fashions included these creations. The reversible poncho-shaped cape of gray and pink wool (left), worn over a matching pink dress, is by Simonetta fashion house of Rome.

Huge flowers accent the richly plaited cotton muslin dress (right) presented in Florence. Hat and gloves of green linen complete the ensemble by Vito fashion house, Milan.

Highly specialized committees of women from the Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Franklin area are at work in preparation for Detroit's Metropolitan Opera Week May 21 through May 28.

Heading the committee workers who are endeavoring to stimulate broad public support for the cultural attraction is Mrs. Theodore G. Yntema of Bloomfield Hills. Her co-chairmen are Mrs. Carl Sundberg and Mrs. Gilbert Richards, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Max Fisher and Mrs. Harvey Kreege Jr. of Birmingham.

Among the seven operas scheduled by the Met are "Salome," "Madame Butterfly" with Leontyne Price; and "La Fura del Destino" with a cast including Edson Parrell, Rich and Tucker and Robert Merrill.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE
A school committee which will enlist the cooperation of public, private and parochial schools' music departments in arranging apropos programs for students, parents and faculties has been formed under chairmanship of Mrs. Sundberg.

Assisting Mrs. Sundberg are Mrs. Richard T. Purdy and Mrs. John H. Longley, Birmingham; Mrs. Richard E. Bannard, Franklin; and Mrs. Ralph M. Fox, Bloomfield Hills. This group also will make use of educational and program materials and talent available from the education and Grinnell scholarship chairmen of the Detroit Grand Opera Association.

ON SPECIAL EVENTS
The special events committee has been organized to plan gatherings, preferably in private homes, either to promote interest in the opera in this area, or to entertain informally the personnel of the opera, while they are here in May.

Chairman of special events Mrs. Richards has as assistants, Mrs. Max Fisher and Mrs. William L. Kahn, Franklin; Mrs. Kreege and Mrs. Edward A. Proctor, Birmingham; and Bloomfield Hills women, Mrs. Howard B. Barker, Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mrs. James H. Cannel, Mrs. Robert Chambers, Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Mrs. Ben D. Mills and Mrs. John B. Poole.

Others from the Hills on the special events committee are Mrs. Elwood Egert, Mrs. Robert C. Fisher, Mrs. Ernest A. Jones, Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. Frederick S. Strong III and Mrs. George Trumbull.

SPEAKERS COMMITTEE
Mrs. Richard Teel of Birmingham is chairman of the speakers committee whose members will speak in behalf of the opera whenever possible at meetings of various clubs and organizations throughout the area. Working with Mrs. Teel are Mrs. E. Steven Bauer, Orchard Lake; Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, Birmingham; and Mrs. Willys Wagner, Franklin.

TICKET COMMITTEE
Heading the ticket and information table at Grinnell's Birmingham store is Mrs. Paul J. Shine of Birmingham, assisted by Mrs. L. T. Dickson, Birmingham, and Mrs. Darrell Roberts, Bloomfield Hills.

This group will have one or two qualified volunteers at the table each day from 10 a.m. to 12 m. and from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., beginning April 2. They will give out opera information and brochures and, it is hoped, have a direct wire telephone to the box office in Ford Auditorium. Thus they can tell customers precisely what seats are available and the price.

FOR INFORMATION
Placement of posters and brochure distribution is being conducted under the direction of Mrs. LeRoy Dahlberg, Bloomfield Hills, and co-chairman Mrs. William S. Reid, Birmingham. Their committee workers are Mrs. Theodore Guehring, Mrs. John S. Judd and Mrs. Glen Miller, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. William H. McLaughy, Bloomfield Hills.

PROMOTION GROUP
Mrs. George R. Squibb, Birmingham, is in charge of a committee which is endeavoring to promote area clubs and organizations' interest in attending the opera as a group.

Mrs. John Blomquist, Birmingham, and Mrs. Richard S. Bright, Bloomfield Hills, will assist Mrs. Squibb in arranging for club members' opera attendance, possibly combined with pre- or postopera suppers and group bus transportation.

Arrangements for publicity are being handled by co-chairmen Mrs. Robert L. Graham, and Mrs. Raymond T. Perring, Bloomfield Hills, assisted by Mrs. Morgan D. Douglas Jr. and Mrs. Edgar Farrell, Birmingham, and Mrs. Henry C. Johnson, Bloomfield Hills.

Women of the Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Franklin area have formed numerous committees to prepare the way for May's Metropolitan Opera week in Detroit. Photographed at an organizational meeting Wednesday were (from left) Mrs. Ernest A. Jones, special events committee; Mrs. LeRoy Dahlberg, poster and brochures chairman; and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong III, special events.

Just Means Trouble, Abby Says

Keep Hubby's Old Flame Away

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: We are not young folks. We have married children. Three years ago my husband learned that a school-line sweetheart whom he never ceased to love, was living in an eastern city. While on a business trip, he drove some distance to spend the weekend at her home. He told me all about it.

They have corresponded ever since. Now her husband recently passed on and she wrote that she would like to move to our city because she has "no one."

My husband thinks we should ask her to live with us for a while. To me, this is ridiculous. What shall I say?

DEAR WORRIED: Say "Nothing doing!" If she wants to move to your city, you can't stop her but, under the circumstances, you'd be foolish to share your home with her—even for a while.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a father who pushes the button down on the telephone right in the middle of his daughter's conversation?

"ON THE PHONE 30 MINUTES"

Will Hold Valentine's Day Party

The Fashionette Club plans a pre-Valentine's Day party Tuesday evening in the Adah Shelly Library. Valentines will be brought for the children at Pontiac State Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Reichert led the group in exercises at this week's meeting and Mrs. Albert Love discussed diet and facial makeup.

The week's weight-loss trophy was presented to Mrs. Frederick Root. Mrs. Peter Hernandez was the previous winner.

Mrs. J. H. King was honored for her perfect attendance record and greatest loss of weight for January. Mrs. Martin Miller and Mrs. Reichert were runners-up. Mrs. Charles Abler launched a diet plan program.

DEAR ON: He probably knew you were only "in the middle of your conversation" and didn't want to wait another 30 minutes.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is too much advice. I work with a wonderful, middle-aged man with whom I have fallen in love. He has been married twice, and has four children. He is presently free, and has asked me to be his third wife. I am twenty, and two of his children are older than I. The other two are very bratty, and have made it plain that they don't like me. He has custody of all his children.

My clergyman, family and friends have advised me against this marriage. I love this man, and know what I am up against, but I am willing to take the chance. Shouldn't this decision be mine?

WILLING TO GAMBLE
DEAR WILLING: The decision is yours, but don't ignore the advice of those who have only your best interests at heart. Marriage is forever, not something on which you "gamble." Your letter indicates that you are still seeking advice. I say the chances for happy, lasting marriage with this man are poor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DINO FROM ENCINO": Just the thought of getting into hot water keeps some people clean.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press

Decorations are being readied for Alpha Alpha Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority's annual Valentine's Day bridge party in First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland's building. Among committee workers enjoying the creative project are (from left)

Mrs. James M. Stone, East Mansfield Street; Mrs. Edgar Plympton, Manson Street, Waterford; Mrs. Carl Rose, Silver Circle, Waterford Township; and Mrs. Fred Mueller, Crane Street, Drayton Plains.

Sorority Sets Valentine's Day Bridge Party

Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority will sponsor its annual Valentine's Day bridge party 8 p.m. Wednesday, in the civics room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland Building.

Chairman will be Mrs. Carl Rose with the following committee heads: Mrs. Winston Hopp, tickets; Mrs. James Stone, refreshments; Mrs. Elmer Johnson, table prizes; Mrs. James Vincent, door prizes; Mrs. Edgar Plympton, publicity; Mrs. Fred Mueller, kitchen; and Mrs. Francis O'Rourke, tables.

A feature of the evening will be a showing of new trends in coiftures by a local hair stylist.

Proceeds from the party will be turned over to the chapter's philanthropic projects. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from members.

Delivers Review of Teale's Book

The book "Journey Into Summer" written by Edwin Way Teale was reviewed by Mrs. Eugene Glendon before some 20 members of the Round Table Club Tuesday afternoon.

Assisting the hostess, Mrs. James McGuire, who opened her home on Golf Drive for the occasion, were Mrs. William Ford, Mrs. L. J. Hest, Mrs. Paul Kantz and Mrs. Elmer H. Reynolds.

The group will participate in the City Federation of Women's Clubs annual card party Feb. 28.

Buffet Fete to Open Club

A gourmet buffet dinner, following cocktails at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, will highlight the opening of Forest Lake Country Club, Bloomfield Hills, closed for a month while being redecorated.

A local orchestra will provide music for listening and dancing. The Henry Bleckers of Bligham Farms will be hosts for the evening.

Being Single Has Its Blessing Too

By RUTH MILLET
Newspaper Editor

You hear a lot about the advantages of marriage, but there are times when an unmarried man is glad he doesn't have a wife and times when a single woman is glad she doesn't have a husband.

For a man some of those times are —

When he does a nice chunk of money at poker.

When he realizes he made a fool of himself at last night's party.

When he splurges on some luxury for himself — like a new gun when he already has a rack full of guns.

When he gets a ticket for speeding.

For a lone woman the times when she momentarily doesn't mind not having a husband are —

When she decides to change the color of her hair and it turns out a little on the green side of blonde.

When she attempts a tender leading out of a parking space.

When she overdrives her hair.

When she spends too much money on a silly hat.

When she decides to go on a liquid reducing diet.

When she gets a yen to paint the living room some other color.

Of course, the times when it is more convenient to be unmarried than married don't make up a terrible disadvantage.

But that's no reason for the single not to count their blessings. There are times when they are bound to find it convenient not to have a mate to have to explain things to.

An illuminating look at young folks, Ruth Millet's new booklet, "Tips on Teenagers," Mail 25 cent to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 68, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Bara Home Opened to PEO Sisterhood

Mrs. R. W. Woodcock of Grand Rapids, organizer for the Michigan PEO Sisterhood, met with Chapter AW of Pontiac Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Joseph Bara on Club Drive.

After exemplification of the ritual for the state officer following a social hour the hostess served dessert.

Teens Pick Chubby Checker Top Singer

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

To people who don't like them, all Twist steps sound the same.

But to the ear of the nation's teenagers, the way Chubby Checker sings "The Twist," "Let's Twist Again," "The Pony," "The Hucklebuck," and "The Fly" makes a big difference, and also makes him the top male singer.

In our annual poll on popular music, Chubby Checker scored big in what might be called "The Year of the Twist." To teenagers, the Twist was already old hat in 1961, but it was no such a rage that it kept Chubby in the forefront.

And so we found that 28 per cent of those interviewed put Chubby in the top spot, giving him a clear edge over Elvis Presley. Presley, incidentally, did well during the year with "Surfer," "Little Sister," "His Latest Flame," and "I Got a Feelin'." Elvis got the vote of 21 per cent.

The 1960 favorites — Johnny Mathis and Bobby Darin — wound up way behind the leaders, with Mathis in seventh place and Darin in ninth.

GOT TOP VOTE

The greatest voice among the girls, according to the 1,083 answers in our survey, belongs to Brenda Lee, who is hardly a newcomer to the roll of favorite singers. Brenda was second in last year's poll, when Connie Francis was queen, and now Connie is in the second spot.

Brenda got a whopping vote, being picked as the favorite of 43 per cent. Connie didn't fare too badly, since she was picked by 34 per cent. None of the others named on the list came close. In order of votes garnered, they were Judy Garland, Connie Stevens, Peggy Lee, and Ella Fitzgerald.

The big songs for Brenda were "Dum Dum," "You Can Depend On Me," "Emotions," "Fool Number One," and "Anybody But Me."

In 1959, you put the Kingston Trio on top as the favorite vocal group, but in this poll the trio fell to third place. The honor spot went to The Shirelles, who had three songs in the top 20 charts: "Will You Love Me Tomorrow," "Dedicated to the One I Love" and "Mama Said." The Shirelles were put in first place by getting 28 per cent of the vote.

The Everly Brothers held on to second place with 21 per cent naming them as favorites.

Diane Eddy enjoyed first spot as favorite instrumental group in 1959 and 1960, but in this poll the group didn't rate a mention. Ferrante and Teicher, who scored with the theme from "Exodus" and "Tonight," got picked by 40 per cent to lead the way.

CAME IN SECOND

Second choice went to the Ventures, with 22 per cent, on the strength of such hits as "Perfidia," "Walk Don't Run" and "Blue Moon."

In previous surveys we found that you have a knack for predicting talent that's going to make it big. For instance, in 1960 you named Brenda Lee as the most promising female singer.

You also put Chubby Checker into a tie as most promising male vocalist. And now both top your list as favorites and certainly are doing great on the charts.

So, who have you tabbed as most promising of 1961? Gary U.S. Bonds is your number one choice as most promising.

Carole Sapelak Is Wed in Double-Ring Ceremony

Baskets of red and white carnations graced the chancel of the John Avenue United Presbyterian Church for the Saturday marriage of Carole Ann Sapelak to Leroy B. Roberts, Rev. Edmund J. Watkins performed the double-ring evening ceremony before some 250 guests.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Stephens Sapelaks of Westbrook Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy M. Roberts of Lapeer.

An heirloom pearl necklace enhanced the bride's street-length dress of white Chantilly lace and chiffon, styled with full skirt and three-quarter length sleeves.

She wore a short veil of English silk illusion and carried white and red carnations surrounding a white cattleya orchid.

SISTER IS HONOR MAID
Janet Sapelak, her sister's maid of honor, wore red chiffon with matching shoes and white headpiece. Her flowers were red and white carnations.

William Roberts performed the duties of best man. Guests were seated by Douglas Roberts, Lapeer.

MOMS, Unit 2, Hear Reports

Members of Unit 2 MOMS of America, Inc., gathered for a schoolgirl luncheon and business meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Worth Eastman on Pinegrove Avenue.

Mrs. David Edwards gave devotions.

Mrs. Duncan McVean and Mrs. E. Edgar Thomas reported on a regional state board meeting Monday in Berkeley.

A donation has been sent to the national board for the "Project for Peace" program. Letters of thanks for contributions were read from the Oakland County March of Dimes, Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Michigan State Board, and veterans' families.

The group will see for Pontiac General Hospital, Feb. 20, in the Mechanics Street home of Mrs. Frank Van Horn following a schoolgirl luncheon.

Making splits calls not only for great skill, but a terrific amount of luck. Try for one or two pins, rather than take long chances by trying to make them all.

For Fun and Figure Bowling's Real Ball

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Association
There is no simple way to convert all splits.

Each must be played differently. For example, the 4-5 split can be converted consistently by an accurate bowler.

The secret is in rolling the ball between the two pins. Although it is possible to make this split by a light tap to the outside of either pin—toppling one into the other—it takes a great deal of luck to convert.

Practice is essential to increasing skill in making spares. It is only through constantly attempting spare shots that you can gain the accuracy needed.

"Work at making splits, except for the extremely wide ones, such as the 7-10, 4-7-10 and 4-6-7-10," says Evelyn Teal of the AWP staff or champions. "These not only call for a great deal of skill, but a terrific amount of luck."

"I suggest you try for one or two of the pins rather than take long chances against almost overwhelming odds by trying to make them all."

"One or two pins often can mean the difference between a game won and one lost."

Pair to Head Preparation for Fair

Dr. Daniel S. McGinn, Lake Annapolis, and Mrs. Helen Davidson, Lake Orion, will be co-chairmen of the annual country fair of St. Mary's in the Hills, Lake Orion, July 28. Dr. McGinn is senior warden of St. Mary's and Mrs. Davidson represents the Anglican Guild.

Each St. Mary's organization will appoint members of the fair committee and will be responsible for at least one booth. Already named are William Berling, Lake Orion, and Arthur Dodge, Lake Annapolis, representing the vestry. Mrs. Dodge will represent the Episcopal Church. Also named are Gus Kostopoulos of Pontiac, St. Mary's Guild, and Mr. Kostopoulos, the Men's Club.

The fair, which started as an ice cream social nine years ago, now features a variety of booths and amusements, drawing attendance from several counties. High-light will be a ham dinner served by St. Mary's Guild members.

'Blood of a Poet' to Open 2nd Hall of Film Series

The "Film as an Art" series presented by the Detroit Institute of Arts Tuesday evening will open the second half of the 1961-2 season 8 p.m. Feb. 20 with "Blood of a Poet," a French film.

On March 26, Charles Laughton's classic portrayal of "The Private Life of Henry VIII" will be shown. An American film, "End of Innocence," that won prizes at Cannes and London, will be presented April 17.

"The Spanish Inn," a German film which offers tongue-in-cheek satire in operetta form, stars Lita Pulver, May 15.

"Come Back Africa," an American drama of racial conflict in and around Johannesburg, will conclude the series June 8. Sponsor is the Founders Society of the Institute.

Players to Stage Mystery

Behind "The Gloucester Smile" now in rehearsal by St. Dunstan's Guild in its playhouse on Lone Pine Road, lies a mystery drama, which will begin unraveling at 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday of this week and again Thursday through Saturday of next week.

North Woodward Alumnus Association of Kappa Kappa Gamma will sponsor the benefit performance Feb. 15 for the Foundation of Emotionally Disturbed Children at Pontiac State Hospital.

In the cast of the drama will be Margaret Kopp, portraying Henry Hutton, and Mrs. William B. Saunders, as Doris Mead. Mrs. Westau Wright will play Janet Spence. St. Dunstan's continues its policy of blending newcomers with some of the troupe.

Directing the show will be Edith and John C. Crippin. Production will be handled by Mrs. David M. Burnett.

Tickets are available at Grinnell's Birmingham store.

Mrs. Glen Butler will serve as chairman of the group, with Mrs. Jack Cole, secretary and Mrs. John Lane, treasurer. The 20 members meet the first Monday of each month.

To Makes Friends, Enemies

Your Voice Is Important

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
One's voice is the main means of communicating with others.

There are certain steps to follow in order to improve your voice. Good breathing is helpful, but before you take your deep breathing exercises, you must improve posture. Stretch toward the ceiling, and feel your spine straighten.

Even when we do not know a person, we form a definite opinion and paint a clear picture of the individual when we hear her or him speak over the telephone or on radio.

A voice can be soothing, friendly, like music, warm, exciting or intriguing, or it can be harsh, irritating or antagonistic. Many times HOW we say something is more important in its impact on others than WHAT we say.

We can say a perfectly harmless thing, but if our voice is harsh or fierce, the person with whom we are talking may get an entirely wrong impression of what we are trying to say. On the other hand, we often can talk "straight from the shoulder" and get away with it, if our voice is friendly and calm.

Some of the nicest people fall into this trap. They allow the hurry or excitement or fatigue or worries of their daily lives to color their voices. Therefore, their fatigue or worry is transmitted to others who have no connection with either and who, therefore, misunderstand.

I am sure that you must have had this experience. You hang up the telephone, or think over a face-to-face conversation and say to yourself, "I must have sounded abrupt" or "I sounded nervous because I was worried about so and so."

Your voice can be your best friend or your worst enemy.

If you would like to have my deep breathing exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 28, "Fountain of Youth," to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Widad Mushaka of Iraq Blueprints State Bridges

LANSING — Bridges always fascinated Widad Mushaka so now she designs them for the Michigan State Highway Department.

Miss Mushaka, the only woman in the highway department's 125-man bridge design section, is in the process of designing a pedestrian bridge on I-96 Freeway near Lansing.

Bridges were her main interest throughout high school days in Baghdad in Iraq and later at the University of Baghdad, where she earned her bachelor's degree.

Noted Star to Be at Playhouse

Vincent Price, stage, screen and television actor joins a list of international theater greats who have been "Master" at Will-O-Way Theatre in Bloomfield Hills.

On Saturday evening, he will criticize performances of actors by apprentices at the Will-O-Way professional workshop.

Mr. Price was acclaimed a Broadway star almost a year ago in 1955 following his debut on the American stage in "Victoria Regina" with Helen Hayes. Since then, he has appeared in countless Broadway productions, motion pictures and television shows. Born in St. Louis, Mr. Price is a descendant of Jean-Pierre Desnoyers, first treasurer of the State of Michigan.

PLANNED TO BE PROF
Although he first planned to be an art professor while studying at London University, he accepted a challenge from an English friend to try out for a part in "Chicago." He was cast and after opening night abandoned all thoughts of being a professor.

The Master Class Technique was established at Will-O-Way to give qualified apprentices the opportunity to work with, and to demonstrate their abilities to top people in the theater industry. Previous "Masters" at Will-O-Way have been Basil Rathbone, the late Gabriele McClintic, Harold Clurman and Ilka Chase.

"I was good at mathematics and found I liked to build bridges," she said. After graduation from the University of Baghdad, she designed buildings for one and a half years for Iraq's ministry of development.

"I liked to build big buildings, too," she said, "but I liked bridges better."

She joined the State Highway Department in 1956, earning her master's degree at the University of Michigan and has won two promotions in the bridge division since then.

She has her own drafting board and works in a small room of two engineers, a draftsman and a speed leader.

Her father is a retired accountant in Iraq. One sister is a school principal and the other a commerce graduate in Iraq.

Her brother Shauqui is studying for a master's degree in industrial engineering at the University of Michigan. He earned an electrical engineering degree at the University of Baghdad.

Miss Mushaka is one of three women design engineers working for the highway department. The other two are in road design squads.

Youth Leaders to Be Presented at LeBaron PTA

Youth leaders will be recognized at the LeBaron PTA meeting this evening beginning at 7 o'clock in the multipurpose room.

Janis Mrs. physical director, will present four students who recently won honors in physical fitness tests, in a demonstration of like tests.

Following guest speaker George Roper, director of the City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills, who will show the film entitled "School Days in Russia," home-room mothers from the classrooms of Mrs. Amy Carlson and Mrs. Joanne Schwartz will serve refreshments to the group.

JFK to Go All Out in Battle for Aid to Public Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is set to throw all his energy into battle for federal aid to public schools — but not parochial schools.

The President told a news conference Wednesday he thinks his three-year, $1.1 billion program for public school construction and teachers' salaries is so urgent "I will do everything I can to have the Congress take favorable action on this subject this year."

On other issues, the President said:

He would not hesitate to resume nuclear tests in the atmosphere if he finds them essential.

There is a need under any future nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviets for measures not only to prevent sneak tests but also to prevent a recurrence of secret preparations for testing. This last point, in effect, added a new condition for a treaty with the Soviets.

MUST KEEP WORKING

He feels the United States must keep on working toward a general disarmament treaty backed by effective controls.

He stands squarely behind Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's refusal before Senate investigators to link individual Pentagon censors with specific changes made in speeches by uniformed officers. He said questioning of the censors about particular items of editing would amount to harassment. And he added that executive privilege would be invoked if necessary to keep the information from the Senate group.

New Program to Train Steam Engineers Here

A new four-year program for training steam engineers will begin Monday in the Vocational and Adult Education Division of Pontiac Public Schools, Division Director Richard Fell announced yesterday.

Registration will be taken 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily through Monday and 8 to 10 p.m. today only at the vocational office, 230 W. Huron St.

The question of school aid came up when a reporter noted that New York had said the administration proposal would doom the parochial school system. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, asserted there had been no change in his opposition. Detroit auto manufacturer George W. Romney, he said, he'd wait until Romney's position evolved on various matters.

In other news, the President had this to say: Ultraconservatives — The John Birch Society has no place in the Republican party typified by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other "responsible parts" of the GOP. It is totally alien to both parties," he said. As for the bid of former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, a Birch Society member, for the Democratic nomination as governor of Texas, Kennedy said "everybody is free to run, and the people will decide, in either party."

Berlin — Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson will continue his Moscow talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, exploring for means of a Berlin settlement, "even though the so-called probes have not produced any satisfactory common ground as yet."

SEEKS EARLY PACT

Step — He has been in touch with steel industry and union leaders, seeking an "earlier" agreement to replace contracts expiring June 30. Both public and private interests would be served by quick agreement, lest stippling against the possibility of a strike lead to unemployment later.

Space—Recent setbacks, including a moon shot miss and delay in the attempt to orbit Astronaut Bill. "We are running into difficulties which come from altered the timetable to land starting late."

U.N. Bonds—Regarding his proposal to buy $100 million of U.N. bonds, U.S. State Dept. has not accepted burdens greater than those of other free countries "the cause of freedom would collapse in a whole variety of ways."

Students Go to School in Park

By KERA HEINTZELMAN

The big 4,000-acre state-owned Proud Lake Recreation Area near Milford is again teeming with enthusiastic sixth graders — bent on learning more about the great outdoors.

What's more is a tree to some youngsters is a scientific project to most of those who are "guests" at the unique outdoor education center.

The Walled Lake School system has been chosen by The Pontiac Press and education officials for its "outstanding contribution to youth in the field of outdoor conservation education," said in laudatory plaque will be awarded in the near future.

Under the supervision of two

NEWS OF THE AREA

Life-long teacher-friends, Ethel Muggler and Henrietta Pitz, the Walled Lake sixth graders are playing, living and learning about winter outdoor life at the center this week.

Groups are scheduled in various activities from the time they climb out of bunkbeds in the morning until lights-out at night.

They not only learn how to work and play together, but how to live together "and that's a big project in itself," said Miss Muggler. She added that the children are largely dependent on their own planning work and evaluation for their activities and welfare.

Park Manager Alfred Masul and his dedicated crew of rangers tell the youngsters about how a pine cone comes into being, how to tell and take out the trees and why it's important to preserve them.

Boys and girls learn the difference between a Michigan Grosbeak and a tiny Tufted Titmouse (birds). They know and investigate animal habits, as all types of wild-life prevail abundantly in the park.

Rock and river formations, what makes the glistening snow and what and where birds go in the winter are all part of the daily lessons of the outdoor center.

Much preplanning in science goes on before the children go to the center. Many schools, such as Walled Lake, study the wonders of nature that are found at the Proud Lake Center long before the actual "vacation." Lessons are carried over after their return to the indoor classrooms.

To insure a systematic and responsible program, the children plan the activities prior to their visit to the outdoor center with their teachers. They then carry out the plans, sharing responsibilities and evaluating the program, thus making it a wonderful learning process they can never forget, Masul said.

Three boy-girl divided bunk houses and a large mess hall are available to organized groups, and Masul estimated that more than 40,000 youngsters have spent one week in the outdoor education center since its completion in 1955.

The Multi-Lakes Conservation Association sponsored the first outdoor education venture, and since that time the project has gained national recognition.

Some 20 years ago the acreage of the area's building sites belonged to five Detroit doctors. These men encouraged wildlife, feeding the deer and other animals, until the entire location was filled with all types of lower Michigan wildlife. Consequently it has been a haven for birds and animals.

The Huron River runs right through the heart of the recreation area, and the tree-covered hills makes this one of the most beautiful parts in the United States, according to visiting educators from all over America.

SLIDING DOWN'S EASIER—At the big outdoor educational center near Milford, sixth graders spending a week in outdoor study find it's easier to slide down the center hilly paths than walk on the side. A pile-up at the bottom usually follows, but it's all part of "living" at the center.

EVERYONE WORKS AT CAMP—During a one-week stay at the Proud Lake Outdoor Educational Center every one has his own particular job duty. Some help the cooks, some serve meals, others clear brush, and all keep

BIRD WATCHING'S FUN—Walled Lake sixth graders are shown watching a brilliant red owl. They make up its mind whether to land on one of the several bird-feeding stations hanging from trees at the Proud Lake Educational Center on Wixom Road. The youngsters, all bundled up, must remain quiet and motionless as they watch their feathered friends.

'61 Costs Up Slightly Dryden Caucus at Hospital in Area Slated Tuesday

ALMONT — Patient per diem costs at Community Hospital in 1961 increased only $1.12 per day from $25.90 to $26.02, James C. Carty, hospital director, announced today.

The rise was held to this modest amount even though there was a considerable expansion of patient services and a considerably larger payroll, Carty said.

The more important patient services added were complete anesthesia coverage, better pathological services, and the employment of a house physician every weekend.

Hospital occupancy jumped from 67.9 per cent to 71.9 per cent as patient days of service increased from 13,159 to 13,262. The highest census was reached on April 19 when a total of 97 patients were housed in this 40-bed hospital.

The number of newborns remained relatively the same as 190 babies were born in 1961 in contrast to 194 in the previous year.

Other notable increases in patient services in 1961 from 1960 were as follows: major and minor operations to 634 from 522; lab determinations to 18,679 from 15,578; x-ray examinations to 3,385 from 3,313 and patient meals to 38,446 from 35,590.

In order to handle this increased activity the payroll increased from $152,508.68 to $227,627.67. At present there are 99 full-time persons and several part-time people employed to take care of an average daily census of 30.3 patients or an average of 1.55 employees for every patient.

To Sponsor Benefit Fete

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP — Commerce Methodist Church will sponsor a Bishop Marshall Reed Memorial Banquet Saturday to raise funds to assist in the construction of a church on the campus of Michigan State University. Tickets for the 6 p.m. program are on sale at the church, 1135 W. Commerce Road.

Nominations Scheduled for Posts of 8 Whose Terms Are Expiring

DRYDEN — The nominating caucus for the eight village officers whose terms are expiring will be next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Dryden Fire Hall, 3332 Main St.

Incumbents whose one-year terms will be up in March are Robert White, president; Gladys Harrington, treasurer; Mildred Gray, clerk; and Robert Weintraub, assessor.

Two-year terms held by councilman Oliver Bradwood, Ralph Richard and Charles Carlson will also run out in March. Ralph Russell's term on the council is also expiring.

Russell was appointed to the post last year to fill a vacancy. The one-year remainder of his unexpired term will have to be filled this March.

The present administrative facilities are inadequate because the business office and central administration are in separate buildings, said Schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin.

The house on Walton Boulevard, which now is the main board of meetings, also is not adaptable for board meetings, he added.

UNDER ONE ROOF

"We would have much better organization if the instructional center for all special services were in one headquarters, and all administrative offices were under one roof," Baldwin explained.

Tentative plans now are to have the board room and the offices of the superintendent and assistant superintendent on the first floor of the Harrison Building. The upper level would house the department of instruction and special services to the whole program could be correlated in one location.

The proposed move was a recommendation of the Citizens Study Committee in 1957.

Lake Orion OKs $300 Increase in CD Spending

LAKE ORION — The Village Council has approved a $300 hike in civil defense spending for next year.

Under the new schedule, the joint township-village CD office will get a basic village appropriation of $1,000 and $300 as salary for CD Director Ray Gensert.

Recently the township allowed Gensert a $300 raise in their new budget, allowing CD activities $700 and the director a total of $900 per year.

Village Councilmen David E. Anderson and Dr. Richard A. McNeil asked the village to chip in the same amount as the township but not to earmark it for Gensert's salary.

They suggested instead that the money be used as an expense account for the director.

To Dedicate New School in Rochester; Eye Building

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Board of Education is making plans to dedicate the new McGregor Elementary School Feb. 25 and also is considering the conversion of the former Harrison Building for administrative facilities.

The $2.5 million dedication program will be followed by an open house. McGregor School was named in honor of the late Howard L. McGregor Sr., who donated the 18-acre site at 1811 First St.

A bronze plaque commemorating the gift is mounted in the entrance to the building.

The board will hold its Feb. 19 meeting in the Harrison portion of Central Junior High School to decide if it would be suitable for use by the administration.

cilities are inadequate because the business office and central administration are in separate buildings, said Schools Supt. Donald C. Baldwin.

makes snow. In the near future the school will receive a plaque from The Pontiac Press for its contribution to youth in the field of outdoor conservation education.

Petitions for Council Race Due Saturday

Novi Sets Filing Deadline

NOVI — The deadline for filing nominating petitions for the three expiring Village Council posts in the March election will be 4 p.m. Saturday, according to Clerk Mabel Ash.

The councilmen whose terms are expiring are Philip Anderson, Walter Tuck and Eugene Choquet.

The two polling the highest number of votes in the March 12 election will serve four years. The third will win a two-year term.

In addition to naming three councilmen, voters will decide a proposal for city incorporation and elect nine members to a city charter commission.

If approved, the village, the largest in Michigan, would be incorporated into a city with no change in boundaries nor a change in name.

Thirteen candidates have filed petitions for nomination to the charter commission. These include all the village councilmen with the exception of Miss Choquet.

Others are Emery E. Jacques Jr., 2055 Malott St.; Vincent A. Mikkan, 3371 W. LeBout Drive; Andrew Burgess, 3585 Beck Road; and Councilmen Anderson, Tuck, Joseph Crisp and Dean R. Leachler.

If the proposal for incorporation is approved the nine-member commission would prepare a city charter that would be submitted to voters at a later date. It would be at this time that a city council would be elected.

The Village Council would continue to rule until the city council is elected.

JUDITH ANN OCHOON

Announcement is made of the engagement of Judith Ann Ochoon to Ernest James Jides by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Coburn of 6280 Pine Knob Road, Independence Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest T. Jides of 3117 Indianwood Road, Orion Township. A June 16 wedding has been planned.

To Select Candidates for Orionville Offices

ORTONVILLE — Candidates for seven village offices will be nominated at a 7 p.m. caucus Monday in the Orionville Fire Hall, 325 Mill St.

The two-year council terms of Charles Sherman, Lavern Boulet and Ronald Richards will run out next month.

One-year terms which are expiring are those of Raymond Barick, president; Laverne Bost, clerk; Weber Waser, assessor; and Jennie Saunders, treasurer.

Abe Liked Spicy Nut Pie—Honest

Culinary historians tell us that Abraham Lincoln was a plain eater. But one dessert he favored was spiced pecan pie.

Another dessert popular with his friends and neighbors, according to reports, was a buttermilk pie.

SPICED PECAN PIE

- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 1 tablespoon flour
- Unbaked 9-inch pastry shell.

Combine first 5 ingredients. Mix well. Mix together cinnamon, nutmeg and melted butter or margarine. Add to first mixture along with pecans mixed with the flour. Turn into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in a preheated oven (375 degrees) 40 minutes or until filling is firm.

Vanilla Buttermilk Pie

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 cups fresh buttermilk
- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 9-inch unbaked pastry shell

Combine butter or margarine and nutmeg, sugar and cream until fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add flour and mix well. Stir in salt, lemon rind, buttermilk and pure vanilla extract. This mixture will look curdled, but this is as it should be.

Pour into 9-inch pie plate lined with unbaked pastry. Bake in a preheated very hot (450 degrees F.) oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to slow (325 degrees F.) and bake 35 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Take from oven. Cool.

Serve Kidney Beans

Spark up your dinner menu by adding delightfully different vegetables. Begin with Kidney Bean Garden Toss. Cook some sliced celery and chopped green pepper in butter until tender but not brown. Add canned kidney beans with a bit of the liquid; toss lightly until heated through.

Dip Cauliflower

Tired of the potato chip, pretzel routine and with saying, "no," because they're fattening? Keep a cauliflower crisp in plastic bag and take out little flowers to serve at home with low-calorie Italian-Style salad dressing as a dip for a perky "eat-with-drink" taste sensation.

Consider a Pot Roast This Week—Also Pork

On the average, meat takes one-fourth of your food dollars, so give special attention to its selection suggests the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. This special attention might begin with study of the food ads before shopping. By study and comparison, you can learn which meat cuts are being emphasized for the week.

Then arrange menus to include some of these cuts if they are ones your family can use. This method makes sense for meat features may be 10 to 20 cents per pound less than their regular price.

There is always a reason behind change in meat prices. Because beef forequarters dropped slightly at wholesale, you will find cuts from the front among those featured this week. All kinds of chuck and standing rib roasts are in the limelight.

Pork supplies are below the late-fall level, but continue a little above a year ago. The 4 per cent increase in the 1961 fall pig crop should keep supplies above last year throughout the winter months. Usually pork supplies dip during mid-winter, with an increase in price. This year, volume is expected to hold near present levels with relatively stable prices likely.

Wholesale pork prices have been erratic lately according to some retailers, but some stores are giving special emphasis to shoulder cuts, bacon and steaks this week. The Boston butt, the leanest of all pork cuts, is usually sold as a fresh cut from the shoulder. The picnic, from the front leg, is usually sold as a smoked cut. Pork steaks are cut from the Boston butt and priced about 10 cents more per pound than the whole roast.

Lamb is featured in many stores. This is due to slightly lower wholesale prices for heavier weight lambs.

This is the season when fish is at its seasonal low, but one would not recognize this by checking the frozen fish cabinet. Supplies appear to be very

Bake Chops Hawaiian Style

You don't have to be adept at Polynesian cooking—or even near a Maui mui—to treat your family and friends to this exotic Hawaiian version of roast pork chops.

Here is an every-day dish done to a fancy and delicious turn in Pork Chops Hawaiian. The toothsome goodness of pork is accentuated by a combination of pineapple, brown sugar, vinegar, vegetables and spices. And the tomato sauce adds a pungent flavor of its own.

Pork Chops Hawaiian is perfect for company dinner too. You can prepare the chops ahead of time and then entertain your guests while they bake.

Since pork is hearty fare, ideal accompaniments are, shrimp cocktail, green vegetables, such as broccoli or string beans, salad and a simple dessert like sherbet or gelatin.

Pork Chops Hawaiian

- 8 pork chops
- Poly-seasonated vegetable oil
- Salt and pepper
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup pineapple
- 1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) pineapple tidbits
- (Use tidbits and syrup)
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- Salt and pepper pork chops. Brown in oil. Place in shallow roasting pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 1/2 hours. Pour off excess fat. While chops are roasting, mix ingredients, and let stand. Turn chops after 1 1/4 hours baking. Bake 45 to 50 minutes longer, basting frequently, until chops are tender. Makes 8 servings.

Some cooks "stir" eggs they're cooking in the shell because they say this helps to center the yolks.

Help Cupid With a Festive Dessert

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Next week we have two reasons to prepare festive food—Lincoln's Birthday and Valentine's Day. In this article we are concerned with special desserts for Cupid's day, Feb. 14.

These desserts need not be elaborate, but they should be pretty, and preferably pink. Making a special Valentine dessert need not break the budget; fit it into the regular meal planning.

If a recipe calls for whipped cream, you may substitute whipped evaporated milk for whipped cream, topped. For a garnish of whipped cream, whipped nonfat dry milk will stand up for a little while; if you whip it with equal amounts of fruit juice, it will be both colorful and flavorful.

Our picture is of a cake decorated to look like a letter to your love. The cake and frosting both are made with semi-sweet chocolate morsels. A strawberry flavored frosting is used to write your message. This will provide "aha" and "aha" whether it is the centerpiece for a family dinner or for a party buffet.

Valentine Envelope Cake
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon red food coloring, if desired

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels in boiling water; cool. Cream together butter and sugar. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time. Stir in chocolate mixture and vanilla. Stir together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to chocolate mixture alternately with milk. Beat whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into batter. Add red food coloring. Pour into a greased and floured 8x12x4-inch pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool. Put cake on piece of cardboard cut to size. Frost with Glossy Chocolate Frosting.* Place frosted cake on 18x16-inch piece of cardboard covered with paper doily. Decorate with strawberry butter frosting.

Glossy Chocolate Frosting
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiling water
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Add boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil, stirring, 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in semi-sweet chocolate morsels until smooth. Stir in butter and vanilla. Spread on cake while warm.

*Strawberry Butter Frosting
1 1/2 teaspoons milk
1 teaspoon quick strawberry-flavored mix
1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
Pinch salt
Combine milk and quick strawberry-flavored mix; stir until mix is dissolved. Blend in confectioners' sugar, butter and salt; beat until smooth. Pour through decorating tube or paper-cone decorator.

Half fill decorator with Strawberry Frosting and seal end. Make Valentine design with decorator. Outline envelope flap on cake. Write "From" in flap. Write "To My Valentine" below flap and sign 4 x's on lower left corner. Put heart pierced with arrow on lower right corner. If desired, put pink sweetheart roses around cake. Makes 1 8x12 cake. *

The Knave of Hearts must have stolen Valentine tarts. Knaves

ENVELOPE CAKE—This Chocolate Valentine Envelope Cake, adorned with glossy frosting and a strawberry pink message, will go straight to a man's heart. It's an appropriate dessert for any Valentine party—good to look at and better to eat.

Deviled Ham Sauce

Fine on Asparagus

Serve a "different" vegetable dish for a festive meal.

Deviled Asparagus
2 cups cooked asparagus spears
1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
1 4 oz. can deviled ham
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
2 hard cooked eggs chopped coarse
1 tablespoon cooking sherry
Parmesan cheese

Make white sauce using 2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour and 1 1/2 cups milk. When thickened, season with salt and pepper to taste and stir in deviled ham until smooth. Add eggs, chopped pimiento and sherry and pour over drained asparagus. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and garnish with parsley. Serves 6.

Eggs Will Be Plentiful, Keep Them Stored Right

Lower egg prices are predicted for February, which should be your cue to serve more eggs poached, fried, scrambled, boiled, deviled, or however you like them.

Remember, though, to guard against "Humpty, Dumpty" catastrophe when storing eggs at home. If the eggs aren't used within a week, the thick white may thin and the yolk membrane weaken and break when the shell is opened. Flavor is lost quickly at room temperature, so store eggs in your refrigerator in the original covered container.

Heat equal parts of tomato juice and clam juice for a better dinner drink. Serve in mug with cheese spread crackers.

No Cheap Artificial Flavorings Give The True, Rich Flavor Of Burnett's Pure Vanilla

U.S. Banking on $2-Billion Boost for S. Viet Nam

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States has staked more than $2 billion on the belief that giving time and patient help a military and economic program in South Viet Nam can become a democratic bulwark against advancing communism.

It is a race against time for the shadowy Communist Viet Cong rebels coalesce almost at the outskirts of Saigon, the capital, and admittedly control a score of other areas inside the country, from the Mekong Delta in the south to the mountains bordering Cambodia and Laos in the north.

And, aided by overland supply routes stretching back to Communist China, their numbers are growing.

In South Viet Nam, the United States is supporting chain-smoking President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Diem rules with an iron hand and has been described as a man who hates Communism, loves Viet Nam and serves on power.

The law of South Viet Nam would open the door to Communism.

not takeover of the whole Indo-Chinese peninsula, including Laos and Cambodia and pose a serious threat to Thailand.

FAST CRASH PROGRAM

This is the reason the United States has undertaken a vast, new crash program of increased aid to Diem's hard-pressed regime.

Every man, woman and child living south of the 17th parallel who divides this country from Communist North Viet Nam will be affected by the new measures.

Village-level administration, rural health and education programs and village communications systems will be improved.

New roads, an expansion of the agricultural credit system, pest and insect control, public works projects and increased industrial development are also provided for in the grant roots plan.

Coupled with this is a vastly greater military build-up aimed at assuring the success of the economic measures. American military hardware and personnel can now be seen in every facet of Diem's defense structure.

Troop carrying U.S. helicopters, piloted by American GIs, are flying missions almost every day. They transport Vietnamese rangers and paratroopers into battle against the ghostly Communist terrorists, known here as the "Viet Cong."

EXPERTS HELP

Guerrilla warfare experts and technicians are working with Diem's troops in all phases of counter insurgency. One such American, SP-4 James T. Davis, Livingston, Tenn., was killed Dec. 23, when Viet Cong guerrillas blew up a truck in which he was riding.

Air power is being strengthened, and coupled with this, airbases are being modernized and enlarged. One contract alone, which will call for work on at least three air strips and two power stations, will cost the American government $30 million.

The number of U.S. military personnel in South Viet Nam at present is estimated to be 3,000. This will be increased substantially, although the U.S. plan still doesn't call for the commitment of actual combat troops.

The key question at the moment is whether the new U.S. assistance program will do what it's designed to do, provide a higher standard of living and security for the people so they'll rally behind Diem in a common effort against the Viet Cong.

Diem, 61, has thus far had little success in rallying popular support. But the U.S. ambassador, Frederick E. Nolting Jr., says Diem's assurance that he will allow the United States to help him improve the organizational efficiency of the government.

Diem has come in for much personal criticism, both official and unofficial, ranging from accusations that he's undemocratic to charges of incompetence. But the alternatives the United States has spent for South Viet Nam are somewhat limited. As one high-ranking American put it:

"We can't remake this place."

DIEM KNOWS TOO

Diem himself realizes the short comings of his government, and he knows he needs U.S. support, rapidly deteriorating.

He also knows that much of the money the United States has spent in South Viet Nam has not been used wisely.

But most important, Diem knows that time is running out on him.

This war is about to enter its eighth year and the situation is rapidly deteriorating.

Of the 800,000 who die of the U.S., 30 per cent are under 18 years of age each year in age 65.

India Mill Waits for U. S. Help

Bokaro Steel Plant to Be Main Cog but Talks Go On and On

NEW DELHI (AP) — A plan to build India's biggest steel mill is waiting for U. S. agreement. The projected steel plant at Bokaro, 175 miles northwest of Calcutta, will be a main cog in India's drive toward self-sufficiency in steel.

Officials here summer the United States is going to help build Bokaro. Detailed talks on the project have been going on for eight months between Indian and American officials.

India's third five-year plan calls for Bokaro to produce at the rate of one million tons of steel in a year by the end of the plan March 31, 1966. But officials of the Ministry of Steel, Mines and Fuel think it is getting too late to start building Bokaro and reach full production then.

This India will have to keep on spending foreign exchange to import steel and some industrialization will be delayed.

"It will be a drag on our entire development program if we don't get Bokaro going on schedule," one senior official said.

American aid experts here are sympathetic with the Indian position, although some think the target never was attainable. They cite the difficulties India has been having in getting three steel plants up to rated production.

Bill Boyd Is Contented With a Quiet Life Now

AP Movie-TV Writer

PALM DESERT, Calif. — "Those were fantastic, unbelievable times," said Bill Boyd of his reign as TV's first great kid, Hopalong Cassidy.

"But I knew they couldn't last."

This was a relaxed, contented Bill Boyd, living the quiet life with his beautiful wife, the former actress Grace Bradley. They spend half their year at a compact, comfortable home in this desert resort, the other half in a huge trailer by the ocean at Dana Point, Calif.

"We don't even have any help," Bill explained. We found it bothered us to have other people around. After spending our lives in a crowd for so many years, we love just being alone."

HAD LONG CAREER

The Boyd saga is one of the great stories of show business. He started in the movie business in 1919 by tying to Cecil B. De Mille's secretary that he had an appointment with the great man. He was a De Mille leading man in the 30s, then in the '30s starred in a channel. I had been on the cover of every magazine. I was in comic books and comic strips. I was on records. My merchandising was in all the stores. I told people we had 94 per cent saturation, and that was too much. When you get up that high, there's only one place you can go, and that's down."

It was Darryl Crockett who brought the break. When the Hoppy merchandise started to slide, manufacturers got off the handwagon and put their dough into the conman's cap craze, said Boyd — and they lost it fortune."

BEGAN TO PALE

Boyd continued making appearances throughout the country and the world to huge audiences. But the life began to pale.

"I love people; that's why I got such a kick out of the whole thing," he recalled. "But I got too much of it. After a while, the crowds ceased to be people. They became just so many turpids, not faces."

"He made his decision three years ago, as he and Grace were returning from appearances in England."

STOPPED APPEARANCES

"We had traveled a million miles," he said. "I said to Grace, 'I think we're pushing our luck. The man upstairs has watched over us pretty well — so crashes yet. But there are lots more important people in the world. I think we'd better give him more time to watch over them.'"

The appearances stopped. The Boyds sold their Hollywood home and their ranch to simplify their lives. Bill looks after his Palm Desert property — 200 units, 30 toilets, I know because I live 'em. Mostly they just enjoy their solitude.

Club Hopes for Agreement With State

Decision on Kandahar Due

On the agenda to be considered by the State Conservation Commission today and tomorrow is the recommendation that 170 acres in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, including the home of the Kandahar Ski Club, be purchased.

Members of the Kandahar Ski Club, which has among its facilities 6 rope tows, 4 slopes and a 35 meter jump, expressed shock at the Press story last week which announced the Conservation Department's suggestion to buy the property and honor the club's lease until it expires April 1st.

The club has nearly 150 members on its membership roll. It started in 1957 and for the past 5 years Kandahar has been the site of one of the outstanding jumping tournaments in lower Michigan.

Kandahar public relations director Bill McIntosh of Pontiac said the club was hopeful an agreement could be reached with the state to operate the area for public skiing.

"In view of Kandahar's long, continuous residence at the Orr Farm and its pioneering development of skiing in the Metropolitan area, it is the hope of the membership that arrangements can be made with the state for continued use of the area in the manner similar to that of Custer Ski Club and Pontiac Ski Club at Temple Hill," said McIntosh.

McIntosh noted that many times the club had thought of opening its facilities to the public but for financial reasons they could not be expanded adequately. For this reason the club has stayed on a private basis.

"State ownership of the area would open it to the public which we as a club could not do because of limited funds and a year to year lease," said McIntosh, "and with the club as a nucleus, the state backed expansion of this ski could make it one of the finest ski areas in this state."

"We firmly believe that the state wants to encourage organized and recreational facilities for the benefit of the public, and therefore it is most logical that Kandahar Ski Club and the Conservation Commission, could come to a compatible agreement for promotion of skiing and winter activities at the Pontiac Lake Recreation area," he added.

It has been indicated that the state's interest in the area is for the purpose of further development of winter sports and its purchase would come from park permit money of Pontiac Lake. Sale price is said to be $102,000 or $600 per acre.

Kandahar Club officers said they hoped to meet with conservation officials to discuss the future of the area.

Ninth Annual Jumping Meet Slated Sunday

Field of 60 Jumpers to Aim for Hill Mark at Kandahar

With its ski home in jeopardy because of the possibility of state purchase of the land, Kandahar Ski Club is ready to stage its 9th annual jumping tournament Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

A field of 60 jumpers from Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan is expected to participate in the event which is the only jumping meet sanctioned by the Central Ski Association in this part of the state.

The jumping tournament has been held each year since its inception despite weather conditions. Two years ago club members benefited, taken from artificial ice rink scrapings, to the area to make it possible.

The present hill record is 116 feet set by Dave Freeman, former Waterford high school football coach. Alterations made last summer on the 86 foot scenic jump and jumping hill may see jumps up to 130 feet. Benno Erickson of Flint was class A winner last year.

The public is invited to watch the jumping tournament. Kandahar ski club can be reached by going west on M-59 to Williams Lake Road, north to Macedonia, following left dirt road to Orr road.

Dryden Slalom Meet Set for February 17

The second annual Dryden Open Slalom ski tournament will be held Saturday, February 17th, with competition in five classes for men and women.

First, second and third places in each class will receive trophy awards.

Racing will be held in the open class for those 18 and over; in the junior division 16-17; in boys' (girls') division 14-15 and 12-13; and 11-under class.

Don Luther, certified ski instructor of the Dryden Ski area, is chairman of the meet and he will lay out the slalom course.

Competition is expected to get underway at 11:00 a.m. and Dryden ski area owner Fred Mollitor will be on hand.

Activities start at 9:00 a.m. Friday and Saturday and at noon on Sunday. Among the events are slalom, trick skiing, trick tobogganing, crowning the queen, basketball, and the Queen's ball.

HOWT PRO — Host pro for the 2nd annual Mt. Christie Winter Ski Carnival to be held this weekend is Michele Turcato. Turcato practices on the Christie slalom course which will be the scene of several events on the program Saturday and Sunday.

2nd Southeast Michigan Prep Meet Saturday

The second annual Southeast Michigan high school ski meet is scheduled to take place Saturday at Mt. Holly.

Fourteen high schools, most from Oakland County will take part in the event.

Walled Lake's Dave Currie, Bloomfield Hills' Bob Clark and recent Michigan Open winner, Class J, Ken Saver of Pontiac are among the leading individual candidates for honors.

Grosse Pointe is a strong team choice. The meet will start Saturday morning at 10:00 a.m.

Take a Ski Pointer

BASIC PARALLEL HOPS — Practice on near flat terrain. From a straight running position, with feet and legs pressed together, lower your body and advance one pole and arm. With a strong up-movement and retraction of the lower body, raise your ski evenly from the snow and turn them slightly before returning them to the snow. Practice a series of these hops. If you have difficulty in lifting your ski, practice first on a flat.

HONORED CD POLICE GRADS - Thirty-nine Oakland Township men who took a nine-week course to train auxiliary police for work in civil defense received their diplomas last night in the township hall. On hand for the ceremonies were (from left standing) Oakland County CD Director John A. Madole, Deputy Sheriff Charles G. Jahn (who taught the course), and Oakland Township Police Director Clarence H. Williams, one of the students. Seated are Township CD Director Mrs. Dorothy Stackhouse and Supervisor Frank J. Voll Sr.

Red Convoys With 100 Vehicles Spotted on Way Toward Potsdam

BERLIN (UPI)—A Communist convoy of 100 vehicles with armored troop carriers and mobile guns, as well as troop transports, trucks and mobile kitchens.

West Berlin border police said the reason for the troop movement was not known. They said they counted about 40 armored personnel carriers, mounting machine guns and trailing mobile kitchen units.

The convoy was spotted during the early morning hours moving along the road near the western border of the city in the Elbe area. It was said to have originated at an armored force base near the border and was heading toward the East German suburb of Potsdam.

Authorities here said they had received no reports of trouble in the eastern sector which would call for military measures.

East German Vopos (people's police) stepped across the white border line into the French sector of West Berlin Wednesday night in what West Berlin police called a "provocation." West Berlin police feared the Communists to return at gunpoint.

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK - Janet Leigh is an acknowledged member of the renowned organization known as the "rat pack," but let no man hold that against her. She is also a card-carrying charity worker, a candid, unassuming actress, and the perfect wife for Tony Curtis-type people.

"Isn't fortunate I married him," she says, almost breathlessly. And she smiles as though it had just happened yesterday instead of nearly 11 years, and hundreds of tears and laughs ago.

"We decided—well, it was back in winter 1955—that the whole thing was nonsense, my working here while he was working there, and we decided that in the future we would never take on jobs that would keep us more than two weeks apart from each other."

That's why I haven't had an acting job for nearly two years, because the momentum has been just great for Tony, and he's made films everywhere, and the girls and I wanted to be with him. Janet paused for breath, which she does only occasionally, then added, "Listen, if we had to, I'd probably do hair commercials. But Tony's a pretty good breadwinner, so we can afford to be together."

The Curtises recently returned from Argentina, where Tony spent five months working on a film. Janet spent the time seeing that Kelly didn't miss her education.

Voter's Face Familiar to Wisconsin Governor

NEW YORK - Good-looking young Gov. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin - who has been tagged for bigger things by President Kennedy - he might even be vice presidential or presidential time sometime - has been getting the VIP treatment here from such VIPs as Adlai Stevenson.

All the handshaking here reminded Gov. Nelson of visiting a small Wisconsin town where his campaign managers persuaded him to visit a local bar, and shake hands.

One man's face was extremely familiar. Gov. Nelson couldn't think of the name.

"I'm Gov. Nelson - haven't we met before?" he said in the most charming manner.

"I don't know," the man mumbled. "I meet so many people. I can't remember them all."

Donald O'Connor went to bed after he became a father again - with the flu - so Kay Starr took over for him at the Las Vegas Sahara. He's been flying daily to Santa Monica to visit his wife.

Sidney Kingsley's finishing up a play - three years and two weeks after he started. Plays, he says, take longer than elephants to give birth.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ... Eddie Fisher may nab a cameo role in "The Longest Day" in France (meaning he'd have to leave his alone doing "Cleopatra" in Rome for a few days) ... Herb Shriner's planning to do his "Wonderful People" TV show here ... Lauren Bacall and Greer Garson invested in "A Thousand Clowns" (which'll star Jason Robards) ... Elvis Presley's real romance is reportedly a Memphis miss, Bunnie Bunkley.

Johnny Mathis, whose back injury forced a cancellation of his Cops appearance hopes to be there in May—with the medlar OK.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGHS: Men who found their way through trackless wilderness now have great-grandsons who get lost in a supermarket.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: In the old days people made their shirts on spinning wheels. Today they lose 'em the same way.

EARLY'S PEARLS: A suggestion, via Rhonda Fleming, for the woman who has everything: Another closet to put it in.

Definition of a grandmother (from Art Ryan): "A niggling, gray-haired lady who keeps a kid's mother from killing him."

Woman Solon From State Knocks Subsidy for Day Nurseries

WASHINGTON (U) - The first woman in history to serve on the House Tax-Writing Ways and Means Committee came out Wednesday against a Kennedy administration proposal presented as an aid to working women.

Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., said a federal subsidy for day nurseries to care for the children of employed mothers is "a step in the wrong direction." The congresswoman was named last month to the committee which is now considering welfare legislation changes.

In a colloquy with union leader Walter Reuther, Mrs. Griffiths said, "Nobody substitutes a working father." She argued that the subsidy tends to recognize and condone lower pay for women than men doing the same job.

"This is not a subsidy for the employed woman, it's a subsidy for the employer who is not paying her enough," she said. "Let him pay a living wage and let her take care of her family responsibilities."

Mrs. Griffiths and Reuther met at a hearing by the joint economic committee. Earlier she had heard Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff testify before the ways and means committee on Kennedy proposals for welfare changes, including a contribution, initially $5 million, for child day care centers.

Poultry and Eggs

DETROIT, Feb. 8 (AP)—Prices paid per pound at Detroit for No. 1 quality live poultry:

Heavy type hens 21-23; light type hens 8; heavy type roasters, over 4 lbs. 27-28; broilers and fryers 4-4 lbs.; whites 21-23; ducklings 25.

Comment: Market steady. Demand just fair. Farm offerings not too plentiful and snow and cold weather limiting shipments. Fryers ample but heavy hens and roasters scarce. Some heavy hens from Canada received this week.

JFK Invokes Privilege in Censorship Row

Forbids Personnel of Pentagon to Reveal
Names to Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy invoked the doctrine of executive privilege today to forbid Pentagon personnel to tell a Senate subcommittee the names of censors who altered texts of specific anti-Communist speeches. The chairman promptly upheld the plea.

"I am convinced this executive privilege applies and the chair sustains it," said Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss.

Up to the time of the present one of those attempting to elicit answers on the point. The subcommittee's memorandum intervention Stennis had ber objecting to the chair's ruling was Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., whose charges that the military had been muzzleed against anti-Communist statements set off the subcommittee's study.

Thurmond did not appeal Stennis' ruling immediately to the subcommittee membership, a course which would have been open to him.

READS LETTER
Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara read to the subcommittee a letter from the President invoking the executive privilege directing Defense Department personnel from top to bottom not to disclose the information about any individual changes in texts.

The President held it would not be "in the public interest" to permit the subcommittee to question the executive privilege. On this basis Stennis sustained the chief executive's right to invoke executive privilege.

Since the days of George Washington, Stennis said, neither the Senate nor the Congress ever has overridden the privilege of executive privilege by a president under the constitutional system of checks and balances which, he said, prevents one branch of government from imposing its will on the others.

Over objections from Thurmond that the talking should be done by Willis D. Lawrence, chief Pentagon censor who was on the stand, McNamara interrupted the testimony to read the presidential letter.

Previously Stennis had ordered Lawrence to answer a question about individual censorship actions.

Using Good Old Horse Sense

LONELY TEAM—The soft blanket of newly fallen snow didn't bother this pair of horses or the fact that the old wagon was frozen a foot deep in mud at Pontiac's Beaudette Park on Orchard Lake Road. The team waits patiently for spring and summer when youngsters will again be back to play games of the old west. The entire area soon to be alive as the sun shown on the glistening snow early today.

U.S., British Look to Russia

Ask New N-Control Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain announced today agreement on Christmas Island in the mid-Pacific as a site for U.S. nuclear test programs.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain are proposing to the Soviet Union that the foreign ministers meet at the proposed 1962 disarmament conference next month for a major new effort to bring the nuclear arms race under international control.

The step coincides with formal agreement by Britain to allow U.S. testing on Christmas Island in the Pacific for an expected new series of nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere.

Mine Disaster Toll Hits 270

Still Finding Bodies;
Believe 70 Remaining
Amid Shaft Ruins

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP)—The Saar Valley counted 270 dead and 83 seriously injured today in Germany's second worst coal mining disaster. Up to 70 miners are believed still missing.

The bodies of miners—burned, gassed or crushed under tons of coal and rock—were being extricated by rescue teams more than 30 hours after a massive fireproof explosion in Laisene mine near here yesterday.

The death toll reached 270 when officials of the Saar State Mining Authority said 268 bodies had been brought to the surface and two had died in hospital.

The number still buried in the caved-in debris of the mine's fourth level 1,800 feet underground was uncertain. One report said that as many as 70 miners might still be underground. Another report said that the number could be less than 10.

Rescue authorities admitted they could not tell for sure, due to confusion in reporting of survivors.

HOPE ABOUT GONE

In any case, rescuers had all but given up hope that any more would be found alive. The last man brought out alive was discovered yesterday at midday.

Since then rescue crews have found only dead bodies, many contorted in suffering from burns and asphyxiation.

During the night, rescuers found one group of men "littered like leaves" in one gallery, a miner said.

Many miners died from shock waves which buried them about and shattered their lungs.

ment was expected momentarily from London and Washington. U.S. officials said that the proposal to raise the disarmament meeting at Geneva, March 14 to the foreign ministers level was not a barrier to going ahead with U.S. nuclear weapons explosions in the atmosphere.

President Kennedy indicated at a news conference that he would order such tests before the end of the month.

The Soviet Union concluded a series of about 50 nuclear tests in the atmosphere last fall, after a three-year moratorium. The United States has only tested underground since the moratorium was broken. But Kennedy started preparation a month ago for atmospheric explosions.

"WON'T HESITATE"

He said he would not hesitate to give the final go-ahead if he determines after all studies are complete that the step is necessary to preserve the U.S. nuclear power position in the world. Other comments he made left little doubt that he feels now that U.S. security does require further testing.

At his news conference

Wednesday the President in effect added a new condition for any future test has treaty with the Soviet Union—measures to prevent secret preparations for testing. This would be in addition to measures to prevent secret tests.

Kennedy said that in view of the "secretly prepared and massive series of 40 to 50 tests conducted by the Soviet Union last fall," final studies on resumed U.S. air tests should be completed "within the month." His decision on testing, then will be made.

Pointing out that he already has initiated preparations for testing. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

A Bit of Warmth Expected to Cheer on Cloudy Friday

Increasing cloudiness and not so cold, the low about 15, is the forecast for the Pontiac area tonight.

Friday will be mostly cloudy and warmer with a chance of snow and temperatures rising to the low 50s. Partly cloudy with little change in temperature is Saturday's prediction.

Morning light and variable winds will become 8 to 12 miles per hour Friday. More than an inch of snow fell on the Pontiac area last night.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 8 degrees. The mercury had climbed to 24 at 1 p.m.

Reporter Drops 5 Pounds on CD Diet

By DICK SAUNDERS
As I sit here munching my survival food and humming "Life Is Just a Bowl of Protein," it occurs to me that a progress report might be in order.

So far I have averaged about 6 ounces of the two products combined per day plus a total consumption of slightly over 2 quarts of liquid per day. I have lost 5 pounds and feel as alert as ever.

The story lies in liquids consumed other than those used in food preparation or mixed with survival foods.

Monday I drank 1 1/4 quarts of coffee and a pint of water. Tuesday I drank only one quart of coffee, but downed a pint of milk (powdered) a half-pint of tomato juice and a pint of water.

CRAVES MILK, WATER

Around 10 p.m. Tuesday I developed a craving for milk or water.

Thirst is a major factor—hunger is not. I have experienced periods of extreme thirst, but it is no time have I been hungry.

I have invented what I call a "Survival Shake." It consists of one cup evaporated milk, three tablespoons MFF, one tablespoon of vanilla extract and a teaspoon of sugar, all blended together.

Sounds a bit bizarre until you realize that this is dinner. Last night, I substituted peppermint extract for the vanilla.

What do I miss most? My peanut butter and crackers. We were inseparable.

Geared to Send Cloud Pictures Back to Earth

If Reception Is Good,
May Help Glenn's Flight
Set for Feb. 14

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Tiros IV, the fourth in a series of high-flying electronic weathermen, soared into orbit today to photograph the earth's cloud cover.

The 25-pound camera-carrying satellite rose skyward in the nose of a 40-foot Thor-Delta rocket which blasted off at 7:44 a.m.

All three stages of the booster fired on schedule.

Two hours later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the package was in orbit about 400 miles above the earth.

Confirmation of orbit came when the Wallops Island, Va., tracking station picked up signals from Tiros IV as it slipped overhead at the end of one orbit at 9:16 a.m.

TO START PICTURES

Two TV cameras carried in the satellite were to begin transmitting pictures once orbit was achieved. There was no immediate word whether the cameras were working.

The Tiros series is intended as the forerunner of a global system of space weather stations.

This particular shot, if successful, might help with weather forecasting for the Feb. 14 orbital flight of Marine Corps Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

The shot looked good from the start, with a quick announcement that all three stages of the booster had fired as planned.

At a news conference later, project engineer Robert Gray gave the report that all looked well. He said that radio signals from the rocket indicated all three stages performed normally. He said signals were picked up from the payload by a station in Winkfield, England.

The target of the shot was an orbit path about 400 miles high.

No definite conclusion as to whether or not the cameras could be made ahead of the completion of the first 100-minute circuit.

Shaped like a tall drum, Tiros IV is almost identical to the earlier weather-eye satellites. The major difference is an improved lens system in one of its two television cameras to reduce distortion and provide clearer cloud pictures.

The U.S. Weather Bureau planned to make greater use of the Tiros IV pictures, funneling them to weather agencies in many nations within two or three hours after receipt.

Courage Wins Recognition

Elizabeth Lake last August. Carleton C. Patterson Jr., right, chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of the Red Cross, made the presentation. Watching is Robert Lawyer, township recreation director.

Jeffrey immediately swam over and grabbed his friend from behind. The struggling Gary panicked and attempted to drag his rescuer down.

When Gary screamed for help, Jeffrey immediately swam over and grabbed his friend from behind. The struggling Gary panicked and attempted to drag his rescuer down.

The incident occurred when Gary L. Clement, 14, of 5410 Service St., Waterford Township, was stricken by severe arm and leg cramps while he and Jeffrey were swimming between diving rafts in Elizabeth Lake.

Jeffrey was able to get another grip on the youth from behind and held him up until help arrived.

Gary was pulled ashore; administered oxygen, and treated for shock. Later he was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released—none the worse from his harrowing experience.

APPLIED SKILLS

Jeffrey had applied the water safety instruction he received in classes for the last three years, taught by the Red Cross as part of the Youth Swimming Program and sponsored by the Waterford Township Department of Recreation.

The award is the highest given to individuals by the American Red Cross and was presented by Carleton C. Patterson Jr., chairman of the Oakland County Chapter. Jeffrey is the 78th Michigan resident to receive this honored recognition since it was established in 1913.

The presentation was made at the Township Recreation Board meeting at the Community Center.

Others participating in the ceremonies were Jeffrey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Janik; Norm Pond, swimming instructor; Donald C. Miller, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter of Red Cross; and Robert Lawyer, recreation director.

Move on Plan to Rezone

East Side for Development

Last night Pontiac city planners took the first major step in a long range plan to rezone vast manufacturing areas on Pontiac's East Side to make way for future recreational and residential development.

Planning commissioners approved two motions. One called for a public hearing on a proposal to rezone all the land immediately east of the Belt Line Railroad between Perry and Herrington Hills Subdivision from manufacturing to Residential-1.

The second calls for a public hearing on a move to rezone all of Herrington Hills Subdivision from Residential-1 to Residential-2.

Planning Commissioner W. F. Kalivatis made the first motion and Basil E. Burke the second. Both public hearings should be held at the March planning commission meeting.

Land in question lies from the Belt Line railroad tracks to a point about a half-mile east. It is bordered on the north by North Perry Street and on the south by Featherstone Road. Several hundred acres are involved.

Almost all of the land is privately owned, the southernmost portion being Herrington Hills subdivision. Included is a 25-acre plot zoned M2, of which about 5 acres provide the site for an auto parts firm and scrap metal yard.

The M2 area lies on the south side of Mt. Clemens Street at the railroad. Between it and Herrington Hills Elementary School is a 50-acre parcel zoned M2.

LAND USE DIVIDED

All the land between Mt. Clemens and Perry is zoned M2, but actual land use is divided between residential and vacant parcels. Approximately 64 acres immediately south of Perry from the railroad to Galloway Lake are owned by one party. The rest is under multiple ownership.

Most of the land has remained vacant in this area.

Forecast Good for Steel Talks

Negotiator for Industry Admits Importance of Union Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union will strive for substantial improvements in job security and unemployment protection for the nation's 430,000 basic steelworkers in contract talks opening next Wednesday in this steel capital.

Officials of the union formulated their 1962 contract demands in three days of conferences ending in job security and unemployment protection for the nation's 430,000 basic steelworkers in contract talks opening next Wednesday in this steel capital.

Contract expires June 30.

BETTER ATMOSPHERE
USW President David J. McDonald said he feels the atmosphere prevailing between the union and companies is much better than it was prior to the strike-punctuated 1959 negotiations.

R. Conrad Cooper, who will be the top negotiator for big steel, expressed a somewhat sympathetic feeling toward the union's position.

"We recognize that it improved employment security of the steelworkers is of primary concern in these negotiations," and while there is no agreement as to the means by which this can be achieved most effectively, there is no doubt as to its importance as a general objective," he said.

Stories of Mystery, Horror Surround Trujillo's Life

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (U) — Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo has been dead eight months, but even today many of the secrets of the Trujillo terror are yet to be disclosed.

Some of the grim aspects of the dictatorship can be pieced together, on the basis of available information. The whole story, including exactly what happened to various victims, is not likely to be known for years, if ever.

The key to many secrets apparently rests among Trujillo followers or kinsfolk who got out of the country fast when the Dominican people started mapping a route down the road to democracy. Scores of these people now live in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Two of the most discussed victims were Gerald Lester Murphy of Eugene, Ore., a pilot, and Jesus de Galindez, Spanish-born associate professor at Columbia University, New York.

A generally accepted story is that Murphy was involved in transporting De Galindez, a former enemy and arch enemy of Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

De Galindez dropped from sight in New York in March 1956. He supposedly was brought here on orders of Trujillo and was killed shortly after his arrival.

Murphy was not seen after early December 1956.

Their bodies have not been found. Last month a businessman claiming to have been a former student of De Galindez said a body unearthed in the nearby village of San Jose de Ocoa appeared to be the professor's. Authorities dismissed the claim. No formal investigation was made.

NO PLANS TO REOPEN

The attorney general's office says there are no current plans to reopen the Murphy-De Galindez case.

Attempts to determine the fate of Trujillo opponents who disappeared have yielded only a few five political prisoners and some unidentified remains from unmarked graves and hidden wells.

There is dark talk about the municipal incinerator as a possible instrument of total liquidation. The waters off the south coast are alive with sharks, and there are lonely stretches of wild country only a few miles from Santo Domingo. Trujillo government attempted to link his disappearance to a Dominican military officer, Octavio de la Masa, with whom, it alleged, Murphy had a violent argument and fight.

STILL A PUZZLER — Gerald Lester Murphy (left) and Jesus de Galindez, whose disappearances still remain a mystery, are two of the most discussed victims in connection with secrets of the terrors of the Dominican Republic dictatorship of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

Family friends say De La Masa was last seen Dec. 22, 1956, when he was called to testify on Murphy's disappearance. De La Masa is said to have denied any connection with the American, whom he knew.

De La Masa's body was dumped from a speeding car in front of the home on Jan. 7, 1957. The government claimed he had committed suicide. Family associates said the body showed signs of strangulation and a deep wound at the waist.

OUTSPOKEN YOUNG MAN

Friends of Murphy still here describe the Oregonian as an outspoken young man who bragged vaguely to intimates about a connection with the De Galindez case.

According to most versions available from those purporting to have been close to developments, the dragged and mangled De Galindez was flown from New York.

He is then said to have been revived, taken before Generalissimo Trujillo and forced to eat page after page of a copy of an anti-Trujillo manuscript the professor had written. After this, it is said, he was lowered alive into a vat of boiling water.

Other stories of brutality by Trujillo's agents far surpass the De Galindez death versions in sheer horror.

De La Masa family, Brothers Ernesto, Bolivar, Mario and Pablo were tortured and killed immediately following the generalissimo's assassination. Antonio was shot down on the street June 4.

There still is a reluctance to talk openly about the case, even among members of the families involved.

Those who say they formerly worked with or knew Murphy are even less disposed to reveal much.

"There are many people alive and abroad who know the whole story. Let them talk," one said.

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT IS IN YOURSELF

Can you afford specialized business training? You can't afford not to have it. When you are young the best investment you can make is in yourself. One hundred dollars invested in a bond will bring you three or so dollars a year—unless something happens to the bond. But a hundred dollars invested in acquiring knowledge or skill will bring you dividends of pleasure and profit as long as you live. Your principal will be invested in a business you control. It will be where you can watch it. Booms can't inflate it and depression can't wipe it out. Thieves can't steal it. Relatives can't borrow it.

Big Siren Able to Split Missile

Powerful Sound-Makers Used to Test Strength of Metal Alloys

DENVER (U) — You've heard of ear-splitting noises. Three sirens built at the Martin Co. plant southwest of Denver could do more than split eardrums. The concentrated blast of sound from any one of them could tear a man to pieces if he got in front of the horn.

Men working around the sirens during tests wear protective headgear similar to football helmets. Martin engineers, who say the sirens are the most powerful in the world, use them to find out how much vibration missiles and outer spacecraft can withstand. The tough aluminum alloy skin of a missile can be torn like paper if subjected to the siren blast for eight minutes. This is punishment far more severe than missiles encounter in actual launching.

Although the sirens may be heard for several miles during tests, the football ridges where they are used break up the noise.

2 Homes in Pontiac Damaged by Fire

Children playing with matches and an overheated furnace caused fires which did an estimated $5,900 to two homes in Pontiac yesterday.

A blaze which started in the second floor bedroom of the Mahon Morrison residence, 388 N. Johnson St., spread to the other half of the two-story frame duplex at 200 N. Johnson St. occupied by John Johnson about 12:40 p.m.

Firemen, who were at the scene for two hours, said the blaze burned portions of the first and second floors and basement in both sides of the duplex.

A wall in the bedroom started burning when a hot air register became overheated, firemen said. Damage was estimated at $2,000 in Morrison's side of the duplex and $1,200 in the Johnson residence.

A fire at the one-story frame home of Lillie Wattaker, 30 Iowa St., which was started by children playing with matches, resulted in a loss of $400 to building and contents, according to firemen. The blaze, reported at 8:37 a.m., was extinguished in 25 minutes.

TVA Out to Get Rid of Pesky Milfoil

NASHVILLE (U) — It thrives in some people's golfish bowls, and the Tennessee Valley Authority is out to get rid of it.

It is a pesky fern-like growth called water milfoil which has moved into TVA's vast network of dams and reservoirs.

TVA officials say the plant is used in golfish bowls, later poured down the drain and eventually winds up clogging the intake screens at hydro electric plants.

The small weed is even blamed for increasing the mosquito population.

State House Bill Would Aid Rural Schools

LANSING — Rural school districts would be the chief beneficiaries of a new school aid bill introduced in the House with bipartisan support.

Rep. Lester J. Allen, R-Ithaca, farmer, proposed to raise the school aid formula from $20 to $250 per pupil and at the same time boost deductible millage from 3.25 to five mills.

The deductible millage factor is a device to channel the most aid to poor school districts with the least taxable property. Any increase benefits poorer districts.

Allen estimated his proposal would boost state aid costs by $13 million a year, and give increases to 50 per cent of the state's school districts. Opponent is Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, who also introduced Gov. Swainson's proposal to add $24 million to school aid costs by boosting payments 8 per cent.

"My bill would give more equitable distribution of school aid than any other that has been introduced," said Allen. "For a long time there has been a need for more equalization in payments to poor and rich districts."

Rep. Raymond C. Wurzel, R-Port Huron, chairman of the House Education Committee, sponsored a third measure to increase state aid to $250 per pupil and raise deductible millage to 3.5 mills.

Allen also submitted a measure to permit county supervisors to levy nonproperty taxes for school support purposes. They could take a choice from a wide range of taxes, including an income levy or taxes on various consumer items.

Rep. Edward K. Michalski, D-Detroit, authored a bill to permit governing bodies of any city, village or township to adopt ordinances controlling Sunday sales by merchants.

Reps. Walter G. Naknia, R-

Gladwin, and Raymond J. Apley, D-Mount Clemens, are sponsors of a bill to reduce to 300 and 300 liquor, beer and wine licenses taxes which they paid to the state on inventory on hand when nuisance taxes on alcoholic beverages expired last June 30.

The total — $1,251,000 — was absorbed by licensees rather than being paid by customers, they said.

Other new bills in the House would:

Make Good Friday a legal holiday (Michalski).

Exempt all retirement benefits, pensions and annuities from any state or local income tax (Hungerford).

Prohibit peace officers from collecting without fees if they are on duty when attending court (Strange).

Create an office of state consumer advisor, carrying out Gov. Swainson's proposal (Hunsinger).

Require motorists to dim their lights when they get within 300 feet of a car they are following (De Maso).

Authorize county boards of supervisors to adopt ordinances regulating speed and size of motorboats on lakes within the county (Stevens).

The common cold results in an economic loss of $5 billion a year. There are about 70,000 privately owned aircraft in the United States.

Paris Patrolled Against Bombs

Mount Armored Cars With Cannon to Quell New OAS Outbreak

PARIS (UPI) — Armored cars mounted with cannon patrolled the streets of Paris for the first time today to quell a new outbreak of plastic bombings attributed to Secret Army Organization (OAS) fanatics.

AP Photos

SCENE OF BLAST — The cross locates Saarbrücken, Germany, near the area where a coal mine explosion occurred Wednesday. Some 400 miners were trapped by the blast and at least 248 have been reported killed.

At the same time, French authorities poured an estimated 30,000 troops and police into the area around Algiers to cope with a student demonstration called to protest the killing of two European high school youths. The youths were believed assassinated by Muslims.

Giants' Big Asset, Willie Mays, Part of Attachment

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Outfielder Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants was under attachment as a "prime asset" of the Giants Wednesday — but only temporarily.

Mays, also with other properties of the Giants including furniture, balls, bats and owner Horace Stuenkel's supply of Scotch whisky, was attached by attorney Melvin Bell in lieu of a $1,297 judgment which Bell recently won from the Giants.

Bell was awarded the $1,297 plus $38.09 in court costs last month by superior court jury. His suit claimed that his box seat in Candlestick Park was not heated as advertised.

President Charles de Gaulle's government ordered five of the menacing, rubber-tired, armored cars out of a garage in nearby Versailles and through the Latin Quarter following nine explosions throughout Paris Wednesday. Seven persons were injured in the blasts.

Mays, one of baseball's highest-paid performers, took it in stride. Informed Wednesday that he was under attachment, he commented, "How about that?"

Each of the cars carried two machine guns and a 75mm cannon. About 70 more cars and 35 tanks remained standing by as they have since the small armada was poised outside the capital Jan. 27.

Most of the bombs went off during a cabinet meeting called to discuss how to crush the OAS, the outlawed European organization determined to keep Algeria French.

'Mistaken' Army Releases Reservists

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — At least 300 reservists have been mustered out of the Army at Ft. Lewis because they were called up by mistake, an Army spokesman reports.

The discharges, he said Wednesday, were given mostly to "fillers," called to active duty last fall during the Berlin crisis to bring the 32nd Division, a former Wisconsin National Guard outfit, and other units to full strength.

The Army said the men were placed on active duty through a misinterpretation of policy, having been assigned to the ready Reserve instead of the inactive Reserve where they belonged.

All Employees Needed Was the Proper Proof

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — City commissioners planned to take steps tonight to correct an ordinance covering city administrative offices.

Under a section of the ordinance, passed last fall and effective since Nov. 12, three days' leave of absence with pay was to be granted any city employee who submitted proper proof of his death.

Plane Crash in Gulf Proves False Report

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Reports of a crashed airplane in the Gulf of Mexico sent Coast Guard rescue craft to the scene only to find the wreckage apparently was from a drone aircraft used for antiaircraft target practice.

Crew members of two shrimp boats in the area radioed that a plane had crashed about 75 miles west-northwest of St. Petersburg. The Coast Guard reported Wednesday night that the wreckage appeared to be from a drone airplane, used by the military to test air-to-air and ground-to-air rockets.

He Can't Write but Is Charged With Forgery

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A man who can't write has been charged with forgery.

Detective William Carlisle said Leroy Curry, 27, admitted Wednesday that he stole two payroll checks from fellow construction company workers.

Curry took the checks to different stores, Carlisle said, signed them with an "X" and cashed them.

Noted Conductor Quits Vienna State Opera

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Conductor Herbert von Karajan has resigned as artistic director of the Vienna State Opera amidst a controversy between opera management and the government, the education ministry, announced Wednesday.

Von Karajan, world-famed conductor of leading European orchestras, said in a letter to the ministry that he was dissatisfied with a recent compromise which ended two months of passive resistance by stage hands.

North Dakota bow hunters bagged 215 deer during the 1960 season.

Reroute Traffic While House Blocks Highway

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — There was a 10-room, two-story, brick house with attached double garage on Ohio 43 today — right smack across the highway.

The house slipped off moving equipment Wednesday night while T. J. Cloonan, president of a house moving firm and owner of the building, was moving it to a new site.

Cloonan estimated it would take two days to get the $45,000 house out of the road. The sheriff is rerouting traffic.

Bills at Lansing Hit Red Party

Would Stop Commies From Public Office, Teach Doctrine

LANSING (AP) — Bills to outlaw the Communist party in Michigan and require every high school to offer a course pointing to the evils of Communism came into the legislature today.

The sponsor is Rep. Frederic J. Marshall, R-Allen, former sheriff and the legislature's most outspoken foe of Communism.

One measure would prohibit Communists from running for public office and disqualify them of "all rights, privileges or immunities."

Similar bills are being introduced in at least 25 state legislatures this year, Marshall said. A companion bill would require high schools to offer a course in comparative government, laying special emphasis on "the free enterprise system of the United States of America in contrast to the doctrines, objectives and techniques of Communism."

"There are already some schools doing this and they are to be commended," said Marshall.

A third bill, cosponsored with Rep. Lester J. Allen, R-Rhine, would compel all persons employed in tax-supported institutions to take a loyalty oath.

"If any person is unwilling to acknowledge his patriotic allegiance to his country, he should not be eligible for employment," Marshall declared. "There is nothing wrong with patriotism—we need more of it in America in 1962."

Last year, Marshall was the chief critic of Gov. Swainson's directive prohibiting state police from making public showings of "Operation Abolition," a controversial film purporting to show Communists in action during a hearing conducted by a congressional committee in San Francisco.

The lawmaker has given numerous talks around the state on communism and its evils.

Sore-Throated Billy Graham Located in Lima

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham turned up in Lima Wednesday, 48 hours after he dropped out of sight. He had a sore throat from which he was described as rapidly recovering.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist probably got his sore throat from the altitude at Quito, Ecuador, his last stop, but that he would preach as promised Saturday and Sunday nights.

The spokesman denied reports that the mystery enveloping Graham's arrival and presence in Lima was due to fears the government might forbid Protestants to carry out public demonstrations.

He said Graham simply was resting and did not want any special receptions.

Lunar Map Maker Prepares for Landing

OTTAWA (AP) — A top U.S. moon mapper said Wednesday detailed maps of the moon are being prepared in anticipation of a lunar landing within perhaps a decade.

Albert L. Nowicki, chief of the cartography department of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, said in an interview American astronauts chosen for a trip to the moon will have the most detailed maps possible.

Nowicki, here to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Surveying, will deliver a technical paper on an expedited program to map the visible surface of the moon and later the hidden surface.

Doctors Go on 'Strike'

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI) — Doctors at a local hospital staged a one-meal hunger strike Wednesday to protest the roast beef that was served last Sunday at the hospital cafeteria. They complained that the meat was "too tough to eat."

Kansas Stater Hits 46, Ties Big Eight Mark

By The Associated Press
Mike Wroblewski has taken over a starring role for Kansas State after two seasons as understudy, and he's proving a resounding success in the Wildcats' drive for a fifth straight Big Eight basketball championship.

Wednesday night the 6-8 senior equaled the conference scoring record by pouring in 46 points, just over half Kansas State's total in a 91-71 romp over Kansas.

While the nationally fourth-ranked Wildcats were winning with ease, the two other rated teams in action were being toppled. Villanova rapped sixth-ranked Duquesne 82-63 and Toledo surprised eighth-ranked Bowling Green 70-59.

PEAK PERFORMANCE
Wroblewski, a clear jump shooter from South Bend, Ind., moved in as a Wildcat first stringer this season after playing two varsity years in the shadow of Ced Price and compiling a 6.7-point scoring average.

His progress hit the peak with Wednesday night's performance, even though a touch of flu kept him out of pre-game practice. The 46-point outburst matched the Big Eight mark set by Kansas' famed Wilt Chamberlain in 1962 and equaled by Missouri's Joe Scott last year.

Tex Winter's Kansas State club trails the Colorado Buffaloes in the standings, 74 to 61.

The Wildcats will get a chance to even matters with Colorado March 3.

Jabie White, Wally Jones and George Leftwich alternated as chief gunners for Villanova as the second time in three games this season. The Wildcats took charge midway in the opening half and held command the rest of the way.

FIRST LEAGUE LOSS
In the opener of the doubleheader at the Philadelphia Palestra, St. Joseph's, Pa., drew away in the final 10 minutes and trimmed Georgetown, D.C., 81-70.

Toledo broke in front early and stayed there in its upset of Bowling Green, pinning the first league loss of the season on the Mid-American Conference leaders. Larry Jones' 26 points led the Rockets.

Loyola of Chicago pushed its record to 15-2 by running off from Western Michigan 102-79. DePaul outlasted Louisville in triple overtime 79-78.

John Sparks netted 30 points and led repeated rallies for North Carolina State's Wolfpack in an 88-68 Atlantic Coast Conference victory at Virginia. Richmond ran up eight straight points in overtime and tripped VMI 82-81 in their Southern Conference game.

SETON HALL ROUTED
St. Mary's of California took over first place in the West Coast Athletic Conference from Los Angeles-Loyola, shading the Lions 72-71.

Holy Cross bombed Seton Hall 113-64 as the Crusaders' Jack (The Shot) Foley outscored the Pirates' sophomore while, Nick Wickman, in a duel between two of the nation's foremost sharpshooters.

The San Francisco-Cleveland game was a foul-filled affair with 51 fouls called on the Saints and 36 on the Tapers. The game was called off at 21 minutes in the first half.

RELEASING ON RAIL
After Assistant District Attorney Peter Andreoli consented to Hacken's guilty plea on the two counts, Judge Joseph A. Serafini continued him free in $25,000 bail and set March 14 as the sentencing date. He faces a maximum of 10 years on each count.

Hacken, who allegedly took part in a prizefight fixing attempt eight years ago, pleaded guilty to offering $1,500 to Ray Paprocky of New York University to shave points in a game with Utah State.

Another Cage Briber Admits Guilt

NEW YORK (AP)—With another figure in the 1961 basketball scandals admitting complicity with a guilty plea, the court spotlight next focuses on the man termed the master fixer.

He is 25-year-old Aaron Wagman of New York, called the key man in the point-shaving scandals that have involved 37 players from 22 colleges. Wagman pleaded guilty last Nov. 30 to 38 counts of bribery and conspiracy and is due to be sentenced Friday in General Sessions Court. His possible penalty—370 years and up to $370,000 in fines.

Another New Yorker, Joseph Hacken, Wednesday entered a guilty plea to two counts of bribing college players to juggle points. Hacken was arrested with Wagman last March 17 at the outset of the scandal disclosures and indicted two months later on 37 counts of bribery and one of conspiracy.

ABL Has Tight Race

By The Associated Press
Only two games separated the last-place Cleveland Pipers from the front-running Chicago Majors in the tight Eastern Division scramble of the American Basketball League today.

The Pipers outperformed the San Francisco Saints, the Western Division pace-setters, 144-115, in the second game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Wednesday night. The New York Tapers moved into a virtual tie for second place in the East with Pittsburgh by defeating the Reno 130-111 in the opener. No other games were played.

Nicklaus May

Eyes Phoenix Crown
After Sharing First in Pro-Am

PHOENIX (AP)—The thought that young Jack Nicklaus might be ready to slice off some big chunks of prize money haunted seasoned golfers to golf's pay window today as they started after the Phoenix Open's $35,000 pot.

Nicklaus, the 1961 National Amateur and Intercollegiate champion from Ohio State, gave the golf tour elders a sharp warning Wednesday when he knocked seven strokes off par with a 64 in the pro-am prelude to the 72-hole main event.

This gave him a tie with Lionel Hebert for low pro honors. He would have been all by himself but for missed four-foot putts on the 8th and 18th holes.

The husky blond youngster has had moderate success in his first five tournaments as a professional, collecting a total of $1,250, but has yet to endorse one of the really big checks.

In his third Wednesday, Nicklaus missed hitting only one green in regulation and rolled in putts of up to 25 feet.

Long, straight drives appear to be the key to victory on the heavily treed, 6,756-yard, par 36-55-71 Phoenix Country Club course, made to order for the likes of Hebert, Nicklaus, and defending champion Arnold Palmer.
