5,000 More Flee Flood Menace in Minnesota

Boss, Neighbor Call Belcher Model Dad

Harry M. Belcher's boss and a neighbor yesterday pictured the accused Ferndale murderer as a model father who loved his six children.

His employer, Robert Hauswirth, president of the Waterston's Machine and Supply Co., and Mrs. Margaret Ahlstrom, 466 W. Hazelhurst, were the last two defense witnesses to testify before attorneys rested their case.

The case was expected to go to the Oakland County Circuit Court jury today.

Belcher is charged with first-degree murder of his wife, Catherine, who along with their children died in a fire at their home on Jan. 25.

BROUGHT CHILDREN

Hauswirth told the crowded courtroom that Belcher would sometimes bring his children to work with him, show pictures of the youngsters to other employes and pass out cigars on the arrival of a new baby.

Under cross-examination by Assistant Prosecutor James Roberts, Hauswirth said that he knew of Belcher's outside romance with Joyce Ann Cross, 20, of Hazel Park.

"I even talked to him about ending it," said Hauswirth.

Mrs. Ahlstrom, who lives only one house away from Belcher, said she saw Belcher "many times in the back yard playing with the children."

MADE PLAYHOUSE

"He even made some sort of a playhouse for them," she added.

She said that during the fire she attempted to keep Bel-

Countersuit by Scrap Yard

City Asked to Pay $750,000 Damages

At the conclusion of Pontiac's case against the Sam Allen & Sons scrap yard, Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem will begin hearing a countercomplaint asking damages of $750,000 from the city.

The countersuit, filed last month, is also asking the court to order the city to issue a scrap yard license to Allen, which the suit contends the city has refused to do.

Six witnesses took the stand yesterday and testified that they were being disturbed by loud noises from the operation and that smoke and vibrations were causing them headaches.

In all, 20 persons have testified against the firm at 22 Congress. All are residents of the area.

One witness, Perry Glass of 32 Bagley, said he was "astonished that a machine could make so much noise."

JOINS RESIDENTS

The city joined a number of area residents in bringing suit against Allen, claiming that the operation is a nuisance and asking that an injunction be ordered against the firm.

City Attorney William Ewart was slated to question a sound expert during the trial today. The trial is in its fourth day.

Ewart said that he expected the hearing to continue into next week.

Ewart said he would also ask Allen to testify about the expansion of the operation and any improvements that have been made to lessen noise.

In February, Judge Ziem signed a temporary order restraining the firm from bringing in scrap metal during late evening and early morning hours.

Expect River Crest Saturday

Warm, Sunny Skies Speed Snow Runoff

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—About 5,000 more persons fled their homes today, while embattled flood workers retreated from a dike that threatened to burst from the swirling Minnesota River waters.

It was Minnesota's worst flood in history, as the roiling waters and ice rose to 28.75 feet, or nearly 10 feet over flood stage.

Although the level held steady for several hours this morning, the Weather Bureau stuck to its prediction of a 30-foot crest tomorrow.

Warm, sunny skies today hastened the runoff of snow which blanketed southern Minnesota all winter.

The latest evacuation came at North Mankato, a community of 6,000 persons across the river from Mankato, which has a population of 25,000.

EVACUATION ORDERED

North Mankato Mayor Ray Eckes ordered the evacuation at 6 a.m. (CST) as a safety precaution.

The 29-foot-level dikes were holding back the battering waters, but workers were ordered off the barrier when it appeared unsafe.

Women and children went to homes of Mankato residents, who generously threw open their doors.

The Red Cross at St. Paul estimated that some 9,000 persons who had been forced to evacuate their homes in southern Minnesota during the past week.

BACK IN HOMES

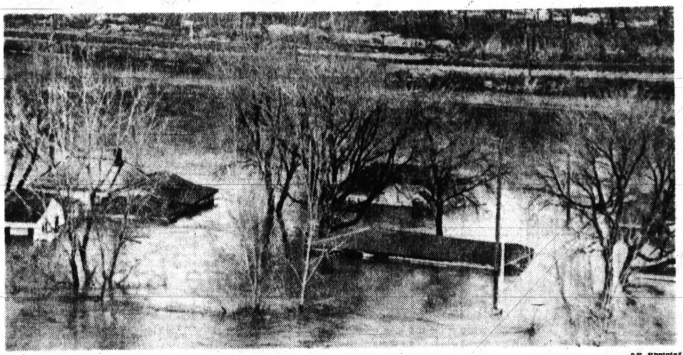

Many of the estimated 1,200 who fled at Hastings Tuesday, when the Vermillion River roared out of its banks, were back in their homes today.

Officials planned to shut down the highway bridge between Mankato and its northern suburb today.

They said the bridge might be unsafe with more water and ice ramming into it as the expected crest hits.

Other towns farther downstream braced for higher levels of water.

At Henderson, 30 miles away, 58 of 255 families were evacuated and 20 more were packed up ready to move at a moment's notice.

Most Massive Air Raid Yet Staged in War

2 Marine Battalions, Fighter Squadron to Join Yank Forces

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Navy Phantom jets flying top cover for the most massive air strike yet staged against North Viet Nam battled Communist MIGs over the sea 25 miles from Red China's Hainan Island today.

One of the Soviet-built jet fighters possibly was shot down. It was seen disappearing into clouds in flames.

The nationality of the MIGs was not determined, but they were presumed to be North Vietnamese.

There was no announcement of any American losses in the air battle.

In Saigon, American authorities announced that two more battalions of U.S. Marines and a squadron of Marine jet fighters will land shortly in Viet Nam, further reinforcing security at Da Nang and at the city of Hue.

DEATH PENALTY

A five-man Vietnamese military tribunal sentenced to death the driver of the getaway motorbike in the U.S. Embassy bombing of March 30 despite the Viet Cong's threat to execute a captive U.S. aid mission official, Gustav C. Hertz of Leesburg, Va., in reprisal.

The condemned terrorist is Nguyen Van Hai, 27. There is no appeal from the tribunal's sentence, but Chief of State Phan Kac Suu could commute it.

About 220 U.S. Air Force and Navy planes raided North Vietnamese bridges in this 20th such operation against military targets of the Haoni regime since Feb. 7.

The greatest number previously involved on a single day was about 160 on March 2.

PILOT RESCUED

U.S. authorities announced ground fire felled one plane, a Navy A4D Skyhawk, but said the pilot was rescued.

Radio Peking declared eight of the raiders were shot down.

With the report on the Skyhawk, American announcements show a loss of 27 planes — U.S. and South Vietnamese — during the 20 strikes north of the border.

House OKs Health Care Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's $6-billion health care - Social Security bill has swept through the House by a margin of almost 3 to 1 and Senate approval is expected within eight weeks.

The House passed the historic measure—the greatest revision and expansion of the Social Security system in its three decades of existence—by a 313-115 vote last night after rejecting a Republican substitute by a much closer vote, 236 to 191.

Republicans argued the plan to provide comprehensive health services for older Americans and to boost retirement benefits should be financed primarily by the general Treasury.

Democrats contended the bill's way is best—boosting the payroll tax on employers and employes. The House is overwhelmingly Democratic and the Democrats won.

The GOP leadership then freed individual Republicans from the restraint of a party position.

So, even though GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan voted against the Democratic administration's bill, it carried by the wide margin of almost 3 to 1.

Pontiac Killer Is Sentenced

Carl Foster Given 10-15 Years in Prison

Pontiac slayer Carl F. Foster was sentenced today to 10-15 years in the state prison at Jackson.

The sentence was ordered by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Foster, 29, of 286 S. East Blvd. pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter March 26 in the death of a Bloomfield Township divorcee. Maximum sentence for involuntary manslaughter is 15 years.

He had originally been charged with first-degree murder in the killing of Mrs. Maurice Crook, 20, of 2401 S. Telegraph on Dec. 12, 1963.

Her body was found the next day in a lovers' lane at Featherstone and Opdyke. She had been beaten and strangled.

Foster admitted the crime to Pontiac police after he gave himself up for questioning.

His guilty plea was entered just as pretrial hearing got under way to determine if his oral confession was made voluntarily.

Gary Player Clings to Masters Lead

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The curtain went up on the second act of "Murder at the Masters" today with black-dressed South African pro Gary Player holding onto his lead after 27 holes at Augusta National Golf Club.

Player, who fired a seven-under-par 65 yesterday, made the turn in 36 and was six under par after 36 holes today.

Pressing him among the early leaders on the course in the 29th annual Masters championship was Champagne Tony Lema, who held the lead briefly, but picked up a double bogey on the back nine and was five-under par after 30 holes.

Arnold Palmer was four under after 30 holes.

Also giving close chase was Player's partner Dan Sikes, who was still five under par after 27 holes.

The golfers have strong winds to contend with today and the temperatures are in the high 80's.

A strong wind carried Bobby Nichols' approach shot to the ninth green and after the ball bounced it would have gone 25 yards over but instead it hit the scorer's table and bounced back to within 20 feet of the pin.

Nichols, with a 73 yesterday, two putted and had 35 for the nine.

One of the old Masters in the early field, Byron Nelson, held onto his two-under-par total of 70 yesterday by adding a 36 for his first nine today.

Big George Bayer, among five players at 69, finished today with a 74 for a one-under-par 143 total.

Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Aaron, playing together with first rounds of 67 each, parred the first two holes and were five under after 20 holes.

The field will be cut after 36 holes with the low 44, or all golfers within 10 strokes of the leader, going into Saturday's round.

28 Japanese Perish in Coal Mine Blast

TOKYO (AP) — Twenty-eight miners perished in a coal mine explosion and cave-in today on a small island near Nagasaki. Rescue workers dug without much hope for two missing men.

Saturday Skies to Be Sunny Note

Tomorrow's weather will fit the golf season to a tee. Mostly sunny skies with slightly warmer temperatures are forecast. The high will be 50 to 58.

Tonight, however, will remain cool with a low expected around 28 to 35.

The lowest temperature recorded downtown this morning was 34. At 2 p.m., the mercury stood at 53.

Drivers' School a Hit

When Gov. Romney came to Pontiac several months ago, he said the highway death toll would stop mounting only when people became concerned enough to do something about the problem.

Nearly 200 persons here last night indicated they were ready to take action as they turned out for the city's first driver school.

Sponsors of the school — the Pontiac Police, the Automobile Club and the Pontiac Press — were all caught by surprise by the "record" turnout.

The crowd filled both courtrooms of Pontiac's Municipal Court and flowed into the hallways of the public safety building, 110 E. Pike.

Last night's class, first of its kind in the area, was the initial session of a regular drivers' school to be held on the second Thursday of each month.

TRAFFIC LAWS

At the school, drivers will be brought up to date on driving skills and traffic laws.

Topics under discussion include driver attitude, car maintenance, speed, how to signal for turns and maneuvering, freeway driving and the pedestrian.

Last night's opening session was a special one with representatives of all three sponsoring organizations on hand to welcome guests.

Many Delays in Gaming Case

Why has it taken 20 months to bring the Steren Assembly Club gambling case to trial?

Many factors have been responsible for the delay in bringing the case before a jury. Some are clear; others obscured in legal maneuvering.

Most recently, the trial had been scheduled to begin April 1, but three days before it got under way, another in a long string of adjournments was granted.

A new trial date of May 11 has been scheduled. This is the start of the next Circuit Court jury term and exactly 20 months since the plush Madison Heights club was raided by state police.

Two of the suspects, Eddie Guarella of St. Clair Shores and Joseph Brooklier of Mount Clemens, were named in a U.S. Senate Crime Committee hearing the day before the raid as members of the Mafia.

Reds Open, Then Shut Berlin Road

BERLIN (AP) — The Berlin autobahn was closed again tonight just when Communist pressures on the isolated city appeared to be easing.

This was the first time that traffic was stopped since Thursday night on the 110-mile lifeline connecting the city with the West.

East German army officers showed up in several trucks and jeeps a few yards from the Western checkpoint outside Berlin. They unloaded a temporary barrier and promptly at 6 p.m. it was placed across the four-lane highway.

At Helmstedt, the western end of the autobahn, East German border guards lowered the barriers at the same time.

DAILY SHUTDOWN

The Communists had said the daily shutdowns would continue until Soviet-East German military maneuvers end Sunday.

But hope rose that the harassment might be at an end when the highway remained open throughout the morning.

A U.S. military convoy of four vehicles and nine men was cleared for West Berlin and civilian traffic moved both ways on the autobahn.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

There was a marked slowdown on traffic entering the West German end of the 110-mile superhighway. Trucks were backed up for seven miles at the Helmstedt checkpoint and were waiting 27 to 28 hours before going through the Communist controls.

About 100 cars were lined up at Helmstedt. The waiting period for them was three to four hours.

The intermittent blockade of Berlin traffic that began Monday posed a challenge to the United States, Britain and France to take counter measures which could create a new East-West crisis but so far the Western Allies confined themselves to protests.

"The longer the harassment goes on, the more serious the situation created by the harassment will be," a State Department spokesman said in Washington.

The harassment of traffic was generally viewed as an expression of Red displeasure over the meeting of the West German Bundestag in West Berlin Wednesday despite Communist insistence that the city is not part of West Germany.

Although the Bundestag meeting was over, the Communists closed the highway twice Thursday. For the first time, the evening closure lasted five hours, the longest stoppage since the blockades began.

BARN FERRIED ACROSS POND—A 100-year-old barn on a raft is pulled across Redd's Pond in Marblehead, Mass., yesterday by a dory with Lincoln Hawkes, the new owner, and Gerald Smith at the oars. The 20-ton building, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Libbey, was given to Hawkes provided he move it as soon as possible because the Libbeys plan to build a new modern barn on the old site. Hawkes plans to convert the old barn into a cider mill.

School Draws Large Turnout

aging Editor Harry J. Reed all spoke briefly to the assembled group on the importance of driver safety.

Hanger said he hoped the school would make all drivers specialists in survival.

He said he was very impressed with the magnitude of the traffic problem and said it was a tribute to the people of Pontiac that so many people had the intelligence and the interest to attend.

Two instructors took part at the opening session. Reyniear Staats, special project coordinator for the Auto Club's safety and traffic division and Pontiac Patrolman Billie Irwin conducted the school.

A color slide presentation on traffic laws and driver responsibilities was given during the 75 minute session.

DRIVE QUIZ

Those attending the session were given a "take home" driver quiz and a speed and distance chart.

The next regular session of the school will be Thursday, May 13 at 7:30 p.m.

A larger meeting room is being sought to house the driver school. The location of the next class will be announced later.

Won't Hurry on School ---Bloomfield Hills Board

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Permission to build a high school on Lahser Road did not come soon enough to save the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education from taking emergency action.

The board has decided it will not hurry construction of the unit to have it ready by the 1966-67 school year.

"This cannot be a crash program because we cannot have what we want the way we want it if we try to construct it in less than two years," Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson said today. "This is too big a project."

The decision to take the emergency action formulated earlier this year was made after a recent meeting the board held with educational consultants at Michigan State University, architects at Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc., and school administrators.

All agreed construction of the high school should be phased over a two-year period, Johnson said.

COURT SUIT

Plans for the district's second high school were halted by an Oakland County Circuit Court suit in which five Lahser Road couples protested the proposed location.

Permission to build the school on the 40-acre site was granted March 18 by Judge Philip J. Pratt.

However, the board has decided there is not enough time to meet the original construction deadline of September 1966.

It will revert to an emergency plan established during the Circuit Court litigation.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Construction of the district's third junior high school is to be speeded up so that it can be used by all of the district's sophomores for the 1966-67 school year.

The $1.8-million unit is to be built near Lone Pine and Middle Belt.

Because of the delay in plans for the high school, the Bloomfield Hills architectural firm now can concentrate on the junior high school, which can be planned and constructed faster than a high school, Johnson said.

"This is the lesser of several evils," he commented.

Spring styles will be viewed by women attending the Wednesday meeting of the West Side Christian Women's Club at Devon Gables.

Fashions for the 12:30 p.m. event will be provided by the Lisbeth Shop of Birmingham.

Dr. Rene Hall, a Clawson optometerist who lives in Birmingham will be the speaker.

cher calm while he sat in a car where he was wrapped in a blanket to escape the cold.

"I sat down beside him and he said 'My God, Catherine's upstairs too'."

At William Beaumont Hospital, "he was crying," said Mrs. Ahlstrom, who had accompanied Belcher there.

"He said 'Why don't they let me see my wife,' and 'I want to see my kids,'" Mrs. Ahlstrom said.

Her testimony conflicted with prosecution witnesses who said Belcher expressed little concern about the fire after arriving at the hospital, where he was treated for smoke inhalation.

Earlier in the day, Roberts, cross-examining Belcher, who had taken the stand for the second day, said, "Did you know that you were playing checkers in the hospital at the time of funeral."

"I suppose I was," Belcher replied.

Didn't Break 'Dry' Law, Just 'Wetting' Appetite

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Nightclub operator James W. Norton pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of possessing whisky in violation of Mississippi's "dry" law.

He admitted, however, that he sold glassfuls of ice to his customers. "People get hot dancing," Norton explained to the court and he was acquitted.

Called 'Highland Lakes'

OCC Campus Site Is Named

The Oakland Community College campus on the site of the TB Sanatorium in Waterford Township has officially been named Highland Lakes.

The name was approved by the college board of trustees last night.

In the past, it has only been identified as the Lakes Campus.

A recommendation from Trustee Vernon Fritch to name the site the Oakland Lake Campus was rejected.

In a related matter, the board awarded contracts totaling $122,000 to three firms for alterations on the present youth home, located on the grounds of the sanatorium.

BUILDING RENOVATION

The remodeling of the building into a library, physical education facilities and classrooms was to begin today. It is scheduled for occupancy by July 1.

Contracts went to the Bundy Construction Co., Anderson Plumbing and Heating Co. and the Moote Electrical Co.

The cost of the project was lowered by about $34,000 when the board temporarily deleted plans for a fire sprinkler system.

The State Fire Marshal's Office in Lansing has been asked to reconsider its order that the system be installed since adequate fire safety equipment is already in the building and more will be added.

ADDED EXPENSE

The administration has noted that the sprinkler system may just be an additional expense at this time because the building will not be a permanent structure on the campus.

In other business, the board also authorized the architectural firm of Giffels and Rossetti to begin preparing working drawings for the first construction phase at the Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Township.

The board gave tentative approval to plans but asked that a new rendering of a revised design be presented at its next meeting next Thursday.

Primarily the change is in the treatment of the windows in the technical laboratories and classrooms.

OK Is Given to Tentative School Funds

A tentative budget of $2,393,980 for special education in the 1965-66 school year was approved yesterday by the Oakland Schools Board of Education.

This budget, along with the school system's regular 1965-66 tentative budget approved by the board in February, will be reviewed by the County Tax Allocation Board.

The special education budget is based on the assumption that voters will approve a proposed half mill tax increase in the June 14 school election.

Since 1954, the special education program has been financed by a half mill tax levy which yeilds $1.1 million in revnue annually.

If the proposal to double the present tax to a one mill levy is approved in the June election, revenue will increase to $2.2 million.

Though the special education budget will be examined by the allocation board, it will not share in the allocation of 15 mills to the county, school systems and townships.

Death Comes at 62 to Cardinal Meyer

CHICAGO (AP) — Albert Cardinal Meyer, 62, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, died today. He had undergone cancer surgery Feb. 25.

The prelate, head of the largest Catholic community in the United States, began sinking last week after showing some signs of improvement from the operation in which a malignant tumor the size of a large walnut was removed from his brain.

Earlier, he had been taken off intravenous feeding and fed by tube. For a day or two, he was able to take soft nourishment normally.

400 Attend Boys' Club Awards Fete

Some 400 persons attended the annual Awards Banquet at the Pontiac Boys' Club, 530 E. Pike last night.

Boys and their fathers and club officials gathered in the gym for the awards presentation.

Howard Dell, president of the board of directors of the club, was presented the Extra Mile Award, for outstanding service and enthusiasm.

The entire board of directors was presented an award from the Boys' Club, also for outstanding service.

Club members who won awards were Kevin Dushane, outstanding boy in gym; Darrell Miller, outstanding junior prep; Alan Ladd, outstanding junior; Steven Slater, outstanding prep; Charles Stout, outstanding senior; Jay Farr, outstanding boy in woodshop; and Louis Cascadden, volunteer of the year.

Group club awards were presented to the Mustangs, the Knights and the Matadors.

LINDA DARNELL

Actress Burned Trying Rescue

Searches in Blaze for Friend's Daughter

CHICAGO (UPI) — Actress Linda Darnell was critically burned today, apparently while playing the greatest drama of her life.

Miss Darnell was removed from the flame-swept home of her ex-agent. Friends said she had been searching the smoke-filled home for the agent's daughter.

The 43-year-old actress was rushed to surgery in Skokie Valley Community Hospital. Doctors said she had suffered third degree burns over 85 to 90 per cent of her body.

Her condition was listed as "very, very critical." Doctors would not comment on her chances for survival but they did not appear optimistic.

Firemen dragged Miss Darnell from the burning home of her ex-agent and close friend, Mrs. Richard Curtis, with whom she was visiting.

RUSHED DOWNSTAIRS

It was reported that Miss Darnell was burned when she rushed downstairs in search of Mrs. Curtis' daughter, Patricia, 16.

Patricia had escaped by jumping from a second-story window.

A family friend said Miss Darnell put a cloth over her head and was downstairs searching for Patricia when overcome by smoke.

Miss Darnell, clad in pajamas, was found by firemen behind a sofa. The sofa and other furnishings in the living room were burned.

Last Appeal Set on Air Service

A last chance appeal to save North Central Airlines (NCA) service to Pontiac and three other Michigan communities will be filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals.

James Ramsey, director of the State Aeronautics Department, announced the court action.

He said the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) would be asked to stay its decision to allow NCA to discontinue service to Pontiac; Port Huron and Cadillac-Reed City.

CAB has said that NCA service can stop April 19 under the board's "use it or lose it" policy which sets passenger quotas.

Pontiac city officials have indicated they will join in the federal court action.

Khrushchev Is Seen at Sculpture Exhibit

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, who laid down the line for Soviet art while in power, is continuing his artistic interest in retirement.

Khrushchev and his wife, Nina, visited a sculpture exhibit yesterday. They went to an exhibit of paintings across the street from the Kremlin on Monday.

The former premier now has been seen in public at least three times in less than a month. Before he voted on March 14 in the Moscow local elections, he had not been seen since his fall from power last October.

Health Care Dissenter in Michigan Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Minority Leader Gerald Ford was the only Congressman from Michigan who voted against the $6-billion Social Security health care bill passed by the House Thursday 313-115. A total of 12 Democrat and six Republican Michigan representatives voted for the bill.

Many Factors Delay Steren Club Case

with the misdemeanor of frequenting a gambling place.

They have never had an examination in Justice Court. Their hearing has been postponed indefinitely pending the outcome of the Circuit Court trial.

HALF PLEAD GUILTY

When the 25 were arraigned originally about half of them pleaded guilty but later withdrew their plea.

Those named in the felony warrants were arraigned Oct. 21, 1963, before Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Allen C. Ingle.

All demanded a preliminary examination and were released on $1,000 bond each.

The hearing was set for Nov. 19, then postponed until Jan. 7, then to Jan. 16 and finally to Feb. 4, 1964.

MUTUALLY AGREED

The several months delay was mutually agreed upon by attorneys to give the prosecution and defense an opportunity to prepare their case.

The hearing began Feb. 4 and ended nearly eight months later, with the dubious distinction of being the longest preliminary examination in the state's history.

The hearing concluded Sept. 18. In all, there has only been 22 days on which the hearing was actually in session. Six other session dates were postponed.

Conflicts in the schedules of the attorneys were blamed for the delays.

IN CIRCUIT COURT

"Either the prosecutor or the defense attorney had to be in Circuit Court on other matters," said Ingle. "And Circuit Court has preference over this court."

When it was over, Ingle had dismissed all charges against three of the defendants, saying that the testimony was insufficient to bind them over on the felony counts.

The 21 others were bound over to Circuit Court.

On Sept. 28, the 21 were arraigned before Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn. He ordered them to stand trial.

He strongly recommended that the case be heard during the following jury term, adding that it was an "old matter" and "should have been disposed of long ago."

The case was assigned for trial Dec. 18.

However, on the same day Thorburn expressed his concern over the case, he also granted a request to defense attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac that he be provided with a copy of the prosecutor's office official transcript of the justice court proceedings.

Robert L. Templin, then the assistant prosecutor handling the case, said it might take months for court reporters to complete.

It was February before the 3,000-page document was finished.

Templin resigned after losing in his bid for the post of county prosecutor to Democrat S. Jerome Bronson in the Nov. 3 election.

When Bronson took office in January he assigned his two most experienced trial lawyers to the case, William E. Lang and James Roberts.

Within a week, Lang had resigned to enter private practice.

Roberts was named to head the case, but since Bronson did not have a full complement of experienced assistants following the change in administration he did not immediately name another to work with Roberts.

The assignment went to Patrick Oliver when he joined the staff in early February.

Arguments were prepared by Roberts and Oliver on a motion filed earlier by Templin to have charges reinstated against the three defendants who were freed by Ingle, and renew two charges dismissed against 18.

On March 29, Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero, denied the motion.

SEEKS ADJOURNMENT

Roberts then asked for an adjournment of the April 1 trial date, so answers could be prepared on several motions filed by defense attorney Roeser. One of the motions is for a dismissal.

Dondero granted the postponement, but said he personally objected to further delaying the case.

A hearing to argue the motions is scheduled for April 28.

Order Rail Line to Justify Ending Service

LANSING (AP) —The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway was under orders to justify in court today its anticommuter blitz after suddenly dropping an afternoon run from Grand Rapids to Detroit Thursday.

The C&O's train No. 11 refused to take on passengers in Grand Rapids and Lansing, resulting in trackside arguments between railroad and state officials, angry passengers and threats of contempt of court action.

The railroad was ordered to show up in Ingham County Circuit court at 1:30 p.m. today to show cause why an order, issued by Judge Marvin Salmon requiring the C&O to continue the service, should not be made permanent.

Thursday, the railroad decided on minutes' notice to drop trains No. 11 and 12, a round trip which leaves Grand Rapids in the afternoon and Detroit in the morning on the return run.

READIED INJUNCTION

Informed of the railroad's refusal to take aboard passengers in Grand Rapids, Assistant Atty. Gen. Hugh Anderson drafted and had Judge Salmon sign the injunction — all within 85 minutes.

Anderson, raced to the C&O Lansing station 10 minutes before the train pulled in and served the injunction on trainmaster Charles Krieve.

Still, the train would not take on passengers. Conductor Ralph Hoon, on orders from his superiors, refused to lower the steps on two empty passenger cars.

In a wild trackside melee, angry would-be passengers milled around the train, and a flying squad of Public Service Commission officials, headed by chairman Peter Spivak, gathered material for what Spivak said could result in a contempt of court action.

A group of some 200 schoolchildren from the Detroit area who had visited the Capitol and who had been scheduled to return to Detroit on the regular train, were put on a special train.

Other passengers who tried to board the special were kept off, including a 12-year-old blind commuting student, Fred Obler of Wayne, who attends the Michigan School of the Blind in Lansing.

The other passengers were taken to Detroit by chartered bus —a trip that takes half a hour longer than the one hour, 45 minute train ride.

New Ruling Revives Case of Killing of Judge's Kin

DETROIT (AP) — A 30-year-old murder case — the slaying victim was a relative of the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes — comes before a court again today.

A prison lifer's plea brings it there. One point at issue is the modern Supreme Court's ruling that a trial judge, not the jury, must rule on the admissibility of evidence of any alleged admission to a crime obtained by police.

William Lee Schweitzer, 57, who has spent 30 years of a life sentence in the State Prison of Southern Michigan, is the appellant.

The case now is before Recorder's (Criminal) Court Judge John P. O'Hara. The original trial transcript is missing. And the sentencing judge is dead.

Schweitzer and three young women were convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to life in the June 26, 1935, slaying of Howard Career Dickinson, nephew of Justice Hughes. A jury convicted the four.

Dickinson, a middle-aged attorney, was in Detroit on legal business when he was shot to death in a car in Rouge Park.

Police said at the time that Schweitzer, then 27, and the women lured Dickinson from his hotel on a promise to "show him the town" and conspired to kill him. Robbery was the alleged motive. The sum of $14 was taken from the dead man's pockets, police said. Schweitzer fired the fatal shot, it was said.

Florence and Loretta Jackson, sisters, and Jean Miller were sentenced to life also. The late Recorder's Judge John A. Boyne handed down mandatory life sentences.

The three women were freed in 1950. Their sentences had been commuted. Miss Miller is dead. The whereabouts of the sisters is not known.

Schweitzer, a cocky young man at the time of his trial, is now bespectacled and reserved in manner.

In prison he has learned radio and television servicing. He has taught other prisoners.

"I haven't just done time," he said at an initial court hearing Thursday. "I've studied and taught school and I'm rehabilitated."

Schweitzer's attorney, Daniel H. Burress, said police obtained a confession from his client by duress and that Schweitzer was not permitted to talk to a lawyer.

Schweitzer and the women were arrested in Fort Wayne, Ind. Burress also said Schweitzer was brought illegally to Detroit by police without his permission or a court order.

Teen Jobless to Skyrocket in June—Wirtz

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teen-age unemployment is expected to skyrocket in June when the close of school sends a wave of a million or more summer job-seekers into the labor market.

"We're going to be in a real crack so far as teen-age unemployment is concerned in June. It will probably go higher this year than ever before," Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz told President Johnson yesterday

The conference marked the second time in as many weeks that Johnson has made individual Cabinet members and officials of Cabinet rank available to reporters after their regular closed meeting with him at the White House.

Wirtz gave Cabinet members an advance look at Labor Department employment statistics for March, due to be announced in more detail today.

He said they would show the jobless rate during the first quarter of 1965 remained under 5 per cent of the work force for the first time in eight years.

Johnson Offers Key to Viet Nam Deadlock

In conciliatory but nonetheless firm terms, President JOHNSON in a Wednesday evening address extended the olive branch to Southeast Asia and coupled it with a proposal for a $1-billion program for economic and development aid for the embattled area.

Moved no doubt by the appeal of a bloc of 17 nonaligned nations, he proposed removal of the Administration's pre-condition of cessation of hostilities by the Viet Cong before initiating peace negotiations. The President indicated readiness to enter into such discussions even with the possibility that air strikes against North Viet Nam might continue during negotiations.

Johnson expressed hope that all industrial nations — including the Soviet Union — would join his plan for regional development of Southeast Asia. The plan would not exclude North Viet Nam from sharing its benefits once a stable peace had been achieved.

Although a few of the more militant leaders of both political parties expressed mild to strong opposition to what they considered Administration weakening, the majority of the Congress saw it as an earnest and well-intentioned approach to ending what LBJ termed the "dirty, brutal and difficult war."

Certainly, the generality of Americans as well as nationals of many other countries are thoroughly sick of the Viet Nam impasse. Enlarging on such general disaffection is the evidence that South Viet Nam is itself largely indifferent to the outcome.

Johnson said the air strikes against the north were launched to "convince the leaders of North Viet Nam, and all who seek to share their conquest, of a simple fact: We will not be defeated. We will not grow tired. We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

Within that context, President JOHNSON'S modification of the original inflexible position of the U.S. is to be commended, reflecting, we think, a sincere but determined overture to end honorably an intolerable and pointless conflict.

Risk in Ear Needling, Point Out Physicians

From time immemorial, the male of the species has expressed his bemusement with the foibles of the distaff division with the frustration-laden question "What Will They Do Next?"

If, from our ivory tower, we may be permitted an observation on the unpredictability of ladies, we think it more important to let the future take care of itself and rephrase the question to "What Are They Doing Now?"

And one of the things they're doing — mainly the teen-agers — is remodeling their ears.

Yep. Not satisfied with the standard one-hole ear provided by nature, the gals are adding another —hole, not ear—from which adornment can be hung.

Starting with the announcement that LUCI-BIRD JOHNSON had had her ears pierced at the White House —seems as though ears are always making news around there!—American girls have taken up do-it-yourself ear piercing like crazy.

The modus operandi seems to be to anesthetize the ear lobes with ice cubes and then have an accomplice pierce them with sterilized darning needles.

You can hardly believe your ears.

One of the problems, however, is seeing that both holes match. Physicians within earshot are complaining about being called upon to square up ragged jobs done by novice ear drillers.

More important, doctors caution that the dangers of infection are greatly increased by amateurs who may not know how to sterilize properly.

This whole ear business sounds pretty eerie but then, you know how women are.

"Do you believe the Government should own the railroads?" asks a columnist. Heavens, no! It's hard enough to figure out a railroad time table now.

LBJ Impressive With Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Political scientists will dig in President Johnson's record for years to come to learn the kind of polite judo he used on Congress to get what he wanted.

MARLOW

So far his record in foreign affairs is unimpressive but he has done amazingly well in getting action from Congress on his programs, particularly some which the men in the capitol steadfastly refused to approve for almost two decades.

There were two astonishing examples this week:

His proposal of federal aid to education — in elementary and secondary schools — came up for debate in the Senate and is likely to pass today. It passed the House March 26. Yesterday, the House passed Johnson's health care for the aged program.

Both programs are expected to become law. Both of them have been kicking around in Congress, in one form or another, for at least 18 years. Opposition to them was always too strong until now.

There are three obvious explanations for Johnson's success so far:

● As a result of the 1964 election, his Democrats have overwhelming control of Congress. In the House they outnumber Republicans 295 to 140 and in the Senate 68 to 32.

After the election, and despite his majorities in both houses, some predicted Johnson would coast and offer few programs. He has done just the opposite. He is making full use of his political advantage and deluging Congress with requests.

● He works at his job probably harder than any president in 100 years.

This involves inviting members of Congress to the White House for personal talks — the 100 senators and the 435 House members sometimes in batches of 50—besides individual invitations and endless telephone calls.

He works with leaders of both houses constantly.

● He is willing to settle for something less than all he would like to have. In other words, he is willing to make some compromises to get legislation through instead of sitting rigidly in the ice box where otherwise it might wind up.

Still pending are other major pieces of legislation this year: an excise tax cut, presidential disability, congressional redistricting, a minimum wage increase, and a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights.

It's possible as time goes on, say next year, Johnson may lose much of his effectiveness if only because of congressional weariness from getting arms twisted. But there's no sign of it yet. Anything but.

Reader Suggests Cure for Murder on Highways

I don't think insurance is the cure to murder on our highways. The cure is to stop building horse and buggy roads and have strict law enforcement.

When we build a road and tell people they must drive 60 m.p.h. in heavy traffic, it becomes a suicide lane, not a freeway. A car in good mechanical condition can save a life—insurance won't.

'Why Couldn't Sister Speak at Church?'

Will a Catholic, preferably a priest, explain why Sister Alexine was forbidden to attend services at Central Methodist Church to speak about her participation in the civil rights demonstrations in Selma, and to request an ecumenical collection for the work of a Catholic hospital there.

When she asked permission to remain through the rest of the service, the chancery refused to allow her to attend. Such orders and divisions do not bear out high-sounding proposals for an ecumenical movement.

David Lawrence Says:

Boycott Has Legal Drawbacks

WASHINGTON — Unfamiliarity with the laws of the land is certainly widespread in America today.

LAWRENCE

The mere fact that certain leaders of Negro organizations have proclaimed an intention to call for a "boycott" by the public of all products manufactured in Alabama tells only part of the story. For what is not generally realized is that there are certain legal consequences which can flow from such an attempt to injure the businesses of private individuals.

Not only are damage suits possible to recover any losses, but the Sherman Anti-trust Act forbids all combinations or conspiracies "in restraint of trade" that may occur in interstate commerce.

Unquestionably, in the case of a boycott of products made in Alabama and sold outside the state, interstate commerce is affected, and it is apparent that a combination of persons would be involved.

Also, if any companies act in concert not to purchase goods from that state, they could be held liable and suffer penalties under the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that the making of an actual agreement between members of such a combination is not always necessary to bring about a violation of the antitrust law. The agreement may be implied — just so long as the result is a concerted action to boycott particular companies or their products.

The courts have also held that the word "boycott" itself could imply a threat to certain individuals or companies if they refused to comply with the demands made upon them.

The Constitution provides for the protection of individual rights. A person's business is entitled to protection from all unlawful interference, and damages can be imposed by courts if injury to a business can be proved.

Indeed, the framers of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 relied on the "interstate commerce" clause of the Constitution in outlawing racial discrimination, and yet a burden on commerce could also result from the proposed boycott.

It has been said that the proposed boycott would not be protected by the right of freedom of speech as guaranteed in the First Amendment to the Constitution. But the Supreme Court has ruled that there is no such thing as absolute freedom of speech.

Broadly speaking, the law does not protect general boycotts which can injure innocent persons.

The Constitution stipulates that no one shall be deprived of property "without due process of law."

A nationwide boycott instituted against products manufactured in a particular state and sold outside that state would, therefore, certainly come into conflict with the federal laws.

Innumerable damage suits probably could be filed against organizations and individuals instigating or participating in such boycotts.

These legal obstacles may be one of the reasons why there has been a tendency in the last few days to soft-pedal the boycott idea.

Student Group Defined as Radical Democratic

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON: The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, commonly known as SNCC or SNICK, has been called "irresponsible," "dangerously radical," "left - wing revolutionary," "demonstration happy," and "Communist infested."

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Its critics charge that it is less interested in voter registration than in headlines and demonstrations. Since it is symbolic of student unrest across the continent, and has the largest paid staff of any civil rights organization, it seemed important to learn what SNCC is all about.

I therefore interviewed James A. Monsonis, its Washington director, who declared:

"Our philosophy is radical democratic. We believe in one man, one vote. Whether a man can read or write is unimportant as a voting test, because he has as much right to a voice in decisions which affect his life as does a bank president. We call ourselves 'radical' because we think this must come about now — not ten or fifteen years hence."

Monsonis, a white student who has completed two years at Yale Divinity School, was also willing to talk about the charges of Communist domination in SNCC.

NOT RELEVANT

"I don't think there are any Communists on our staff, but I don't consider it relevant anyway," he shrugged. "We feel that anyone willing to risk his life working for Negro betterment in the South ought to be allowed to work, whether he's Republican, Socialist, Democratic or Communist."

Monsonis pooh-poohed talk of a major split within the civil rights ranks. He said SNCC originally opposed the Rev. Martin Luther King's call for the Selma - to - Montgomery march, believing it to be wasted effort, but once the decision was reached it loyally participated.

"Of course, we have differences of opinion in the two groups, just as there are within each group, but there's a great deal of unity, too," he added.

SNCC is unique in that it has a large staff but no membership. Of this, Monsonis said: "Our salaries are the lowest of any organization in America. In the South, our field staffers get approximately $10 a week, and live like the sharecroppers they identify with.

SAME LEVEL

"In New York and Washington, they get $30 to $40 a week. Our staff lives on the same level as the people we're trying to help — we like to think that the Peace Corps adopted the idea from us. We don't have a membership because we encourage organizations at the local level, where they know their problems better than we could."

A highly placed U.S. official says of SNCC: "Some Communists may have infiltrated it, but they're probably pretty frustrated because every Red organization is tightly disciplined, and this is probably the most undisciplined organization extant."

Foreign Opinion

The Glasgow Herald

Mr. Stewart and the Leader of the Opposition, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, were not really in disagreement with each other, but with a small knot of left-wing Labour Members. Few people in Britain regard the war in Viet Nam as a simple crusade for democracy or believe that any conceivable American commitment can bring military victory.

But fewer still are naive enough to think that an American withdrawal would restore peace in Southeast Asia; and Britain's own commitment in Malaysia has contributed to this mood.

The probable alternative to the present British and American commitments is not peace and quiet but the spread of turmoil and the dictatorship which follows in its wake.

President de Gaulle's ambition and plans for the neutralization of Southeast Asia may have some effect if the Communists face a choice between neutralization and resistance; but the immediate choice for Britain and the United States is between supporting their friends and allies and accepting that in ten years Communism — probably Chinese Communism — will dominate the entire area east of India and north of Australia.

Of Good Faith . . .

The London Telegraph

Preaching in St. Paul's Cathedral, Canon Collins has given it as his view that the American bombings in North Viet Nam are "wholly repugnant to Christian conscience." He also called on British Christians and the Labour party to oppose them.

It is a little difficult to see how these two categories can be equated, for although Canon Collins's views command much support among back-bench Labour M.P.s, these are not ordinarily regarded as being bound together by devout Christian fervour.

What the Canon persistently ignores is that devout Christianity is perfectly compatible with political opinions which radically contradict his own.

Has he, for instance, seriously canvassed the views of the million Roman Catholics alleged to have fled to South Viet Nam from persecution in the North? Has he, more generally and more profoundly, considered what beliefs men must hold in common before they may profess and call themselves Christians, and contrasted this minimum foothold with the vast areas over which they may legitimately disagree?

Would Canon Collins, for example, hold that a man's attitude to a 4d postal service was a touchstone of his Christianity? Of course he would not. Let him then recognize that, in our muddled and turbulent world, conflicting views on much wider issues may be held by Christians of unchallengeably good faith.

Speaks on Role of Samaritan

HICAGO (UPI)—A law professor told a conference on the good samaritan today that most people are reluctant to help others in distress because they do not want to get involved and they want to mind their own business.

Charles O. Gregory of the University of Virginia told the conference of a man in Pennsylvania who heard a racket outside his window.

The man opened the window and saw about 20 youths trying to hammer their way into an an auto in which there were two girls and a young man.

The man called the police, but 10 minutes later they hadn't come.

Gregory related that the man fired a shotgun twice. The shots broke up the attack, but the police jailed him for aggravated criminal assault and battery and he was found guilty.

'NO MORE HELPING'

"When Kitty Genovese's neighbors read about this, what are they going to say?" Gregory asked.

"Probably the same thing the man is saying: 'No more helping anybody else in danger — ever!'"

Gregory cited what has been the classic example of noninvolvement, the fatal attack of 28-year-old Katherine Genovese in New York City one year ago as 38 witnesses listened to her cries.

"What fundamentally underlies the reluctance of most people to help others in distress?" Gregory asked. "Probably the desire not to get involved, and the instinct to mind one's own business."

MASS ANONYMITY

Gregory quoted anthropologist Margaret Mead as saying, "Our obsession with privacy has resulted in mass anonymity in our large cities — a dulling of our senses which kills neighborliness and caring about what happens to others.

The University of Chicago and the Sentry Insurance Companies of Stevens Point, Wis., called the conference to discuss moral and legal implications of volunteering help — or failing to help — in dangerous situations.

Automobile theft has doubled in the last decade to become the largest single crime involving property.

Seek Suspects in Dixie Terror

2 Policemen Already Charged in Beating

PROSPERITY, S.C. (UPI) — Police and state and FBI agents sought three or four other suspects today on charges of participating with two policemen in the hooded terrorism of a Negro prisoner at the jail.

The Ku Klux Klan also was investigating the incident "to clear the name of the Klan."

The two policemen, Phillip Plampin, 22, and Cornell Wise, 47, were suspended yesterday after being charged with second-degree lynching in the first use of a 14-year-old state law.

The statute, carrying a sentence of three to 20 years imprisonment upon conviction, covers nonfatal infliction of violence upon a person by a mob.

POSTED BOND

Plampin and Wise posted $10,000 bond less than 12 hours after their arrests.

The men were accused of dressing in hoods and robes similar to those used by the Ku Klux Klan and entering the jail early Monday.

They slapped and threatened Freddie Jackson, 18, jailed on disorderly conduct and resisting arrest charges, police said.

Plampin arrested the young Negro Saturday night at a cafe in the negro section.

SERVING TIME

At the time of his arrest, Jackson was supposed to be in the Newberry County jail eight miles north where he was a trusty under Sheriff Tom Fellers. Jackson was serving three years for aggravated assault.

Fellers said he did not know Jackson had "left" until Prosperity police notified him.

The investigation got uninvited help from the South Carolina Klan.

Robert Scoggin, grand dragon of the Klan in this state, brought three of his "Klan Bureau of Investigation" agents to town with him.

'KLAN NOT INVOLVED'

"We only want to question the people and clear the name of the Klan," Scoggin said. "We are positive it was not members of the United Klan."

Plampin had been a policeman here for one year. He is married and has two children. His father-in-law, Claude Ragsdale, posted his bond.

Wise, a stocky bachelor, had been jailer and night watchman for three months. It was a part-time job for Wise.

His full-time job was constable for Magistrate W. B. Wicker, the official who set bond for both policemen. A friend of Wise, Wesley Crockrell, posted his bond.

Police would not say exactly what role the two were suspected of playing in the incident. Wise initially told police the hooded men overpowered him.

Answer AP Survey

Asian Nations Differ Over Viet Strategy

TOKYO (AP) — How do Asian nations view U.S. policy in Viet Nam? What do they think should be done to achieve peace?

The Associated Press completed a survey of eight nations just before President Johnson's speech offering to hold "unconditional discussions" to return peace to Viet Nam.

—Neutralist India advocated an immediate cessation of "provocative actions" by all sides in Viet Nam and another international conference to settle the conflict. Indonesia said the Vietnamese should be allowed to settle their own problems.

The other countries surveyed — Japan, Malaysia, Nationalist China, the Philippines, South Korea and Tailand — were wary about another Geneva-type conference. But most said they would attend if all Communist infiltrators are first withdrawn from South Viet Nam.

—Most of the nations believe there is nothing to prevent North Viet Nam and Communist China from breaking agreements reached at another international conference.

—India and Indonesia oppose continued U.S. retaliatory airstrikes against North Viet Nam. The other nations support the raids, but in varying degrees.

—Japan, Malaysia, Nationalist China, the Philippines, South Korea and Thailand believe the United States should remain in South Viet Nam until peace and security are restored. Many Indians believe the United States already has lost and should pull out as soon as possible to cut its losses.

—All the nations believe the political turmoil in South Viet Nam has weakened U.S. plans.

Nationalist China maintains Peking is the cause of the troubles in Viet Nam. It claims the best way to end the conflict would be for the Nationalists to invade the Chinese mainland.

The United States long has denied support for any Nationalist invasion because of the probability of Soviet intervention and a nuclear war.

The Nationalists, although supporting air strikes against strategic North Vietnamese targets, believe the raids will prolong the war in Viet Nam, not end it.

India advocates an end to hostilities and another international conference fearing the U.S. raids into North Viet Nam will escalate the conflict until it engulfs all of Southeast Asia and drags in other nations, including India.

Indonesia, whose relations with the United States have grown increasingly bad, claims U.S. attacks have resulted in "a senseless killing of innocent civilians."

An Indonesian spokesman said some American officials already have intimated that the United States is involved in a losing war.

Japan, the Philippines, South Korea, Thailand and Malaysia all believe the United States should stand fast on its Viet Nam policy. But opinions differ regarding the extent of U.S. raids.

Japanese, South Korean and Malaysian officials are hopeful the United States will not find it necessary to continue or intensify the attacks. The Philippines believe the attacks should be intensified, and Thailand is firmly behind U.S. action in Viet Nam.

Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman castigates advocates of U.S. withdrawal from South Viet Nam as persons unable "to see beyond their own noses."

Mrs. Gregg Dodge, blonde widow of Horace E. Dodge II, Detroit auto magnate, plans to marry Daniel D. Moran, former New York City policeman, shortly after Lent in New York.

She is in New York for fittings on her wedding dress. She said yesterday that she and her husband will spend part of the summer at her New Stamford, Conn., home, then go to Europe.

Gregg Dodge won a $9 million settlement of an $11 million suit a year ago against her mother-in-law in connection with disposition of the Dodge Estate. Dodge died in December 1963 at the age of 60. She was his fifth wife. They had one son, John, now 10.

Spike Jones Better, Leaves Hospital

Bandleader Spike Jones, 53, who at one time was critically ill with complications that resulted from an asthmatic attack, was well enough yesterday to go home from Santa Monica Hospital in California.

Jones was admitted to the hospital March 23 after being stricken at Lake Tahoe, Nev., where his orchestra was appearing at a resort hotel.

Says Tourists Avoid Alabama

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan tourists headed for Florida have been bypassing Alabama since the death of Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo, the Automobile Club of Michigan reports.

"People just don't want to get involved," Jerry E. Fisher, touring manager for the club, said Thursday. "It's more apprehension than a fear of physical harm, but since that Detroit woman was killed, most people have been telling us they don't want to go through Alabama."

Fisher said ordinarily people take the so-called "nonmountainous" route which goes through Louisville, Ky., Nashville, Tenn., and Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala., neither Selma nor Camden, Ala., scenes of recent racial troubles are on that route.

He added there have been no reports of violence toward tourists.

Relief Can Be Given as Skin Clears Up

By DR. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Q—What is dermatitis repediformis caused by? Is it curable?

A — What your doctor said you have is dermatitis herpetiformis. The cause is unknown, but if you have it you can aggravate it by taking iodized salt or iodine in any other form or by taking bromides, chocolate, nuts, fish or pork.

BRANDSTADT

This skin disease is characterized by red itching spots, blisters and acne-like lesions. Although no cure is known, the disease clears up spontaneously after 10 or 20 years.

During that time, your doctor can make you more comfortable by giving you a short course of cortisone and various other drugs.

Q— About eight years ago my doctor began giving me Ammothlyn tablets for my arteriosclerosis. What action does that drug have on the arteries? I take a 1½-grain tablet once or twice a day. Are there any bad side effects from prolonged use of this drug?

A —I believe the drug you are taking is Ammophylin, a brand of aminophylline. This drug stimulates the heart and kidneys to more effective action.

Q— My doctor says I have dermomyositis. What causes this and is there any cure?

A — What your doctor said you had was dermatomyositis. This is a relatively common disease. The cause is unknown, but some authorities suspect a type of allergy.

As the name implies, both the skin and the muscles are involved in this acute inflammatory process. There may be redness and itching of the skin and soreness and weakness of muscles.

Although treatment is often unsatisfactory, aspirin remains the most valuable drug for this disease. A short cause of prednisone may be of benefit. Penicillin is often given to prevent infectious complications.

Most important of all, you should be re-examined every two or three months for evidence of cancer because about 12 per cent of all disease develop malignant tumors and their early detection may be life saving.

Policemen, Reporter Study Underworld Safe-Cracking Tactics

By BOB POOS

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — At large in the St. Louis area are 152 men who have undergone a thorough course, conducted by experts, in how to open safes.

All but one are policemen, from 35 Missouri and Illinois communities around St. Louis. The other is this reporter.

The men attended a course at the St. Louis Police Academy conducted by Robert Wilgus and Henry Self, executives of the Diebold Safe Co. of Canton, Ohio. The firm has made, among other special projects, the safe that holds the famous Hope diamond in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

The two experts make trips around the country periodically to familiarize authorities with methods employed by safe-crackers.

Capt. Lester Martin, head of the St. Louis police burglary and robbery detail, said the lessons would be valuable to police for two reasons.

"First, it will help us in our instructions to merchants on how to prevent burglaries and safe jobs so far as it is possible to prevent them," he said.

"And it will aid us in our evaluation of evidence when we examine the scene of a safe job or similar theft."

Wilgus has been 15 years in the business of striving to make entry-proof vaults.

14 YEARS

Self, in a way, got into the business from the other side. For 14 years he was in a section of U.S. Army Intelligence which was interested in ways of opening safes. After Army service, he entered the safe business.

Wilgus explains that there are basically two kinds of safes: records protectors and money protection vaults.

Much to his chagrin, too many people who keep large sums of money around depend on the records protection type. This is simply a large box with inner and outer plates of sheet steel surrounding fire insulation material.

It is this kind of safe that is usually pried, blasted, drilled or burned open or "peeled."

NOVEL TOOLS

Burglars have developed many novel tools for their trade. One of the more interesting involves the direct approach. It is called by safe men "the can opener." The device looks like a big, crude hand can opener. It has a point and a curved blade at the end of a long handle.

Burglars jab with it until they puncture safes with thin doors and then lever away on the blade until a hole of satisfactory size is ripped in the door. This tool, however, is seldom used anymore, Wilgus says, because it is too readily recognized by police.

Sophisticated money safes these days, Wilgus says, virtually are impregnable. His firm has one type that hasn't been entered forcibly since it was invented in 1960. "And some people have tried pretty hard to do it," he said.

"But some day it probably will be solved and then we will have to come up with something new," he added.

NEW TACTICS

World War II, among other things, brought forth many new tactics for getting into places that aren't supposed to be gotten into. Scientific uses of explosives, drills and other techniques for opening vaults eventually found their way into the underworld.

Safe manufacturers had to develop materials that resist carbide drills and reduce diamond drills to dust. They invented counterthief and counterspy devices that seal safe doors so firmly that even the safe companies have trouble opening them once they are tampered with.

The sophisticated safes are so impervious to explosives that to open one with them would "necessitate so much explosive that the building around the safe would be blown to bits," Wilgus says.

But there are all kinds of safes. "We make about 70 different types," Wilgus says. "It all depends on how much the customer wants to spend. He probably won't spend $3,000 on a safe that will never hold more than a thousand dollars."

BIG MONEY

So burglars doubtless are going to continue to try to get into the simple ones. And they will continue to strive to solve the complicated ones because that is where the big money lies.

One legendary character has almost — but not quite — disappeared.

This is the intruder who stealthily attempts to open a safe by manipulation of the tumblers.

"I don't know of a single thief who operates that way anymore," Wilgus said.

MAIN PROBLEM

"Our main problem is with government jobs," he said. "Foreign agents on all sides like to get into embassies and go through files without disturbing them. Obviously burning or drilling or blasting a safe won't work in this case.

"So they set about training agents to scientifically manipulate tumblers," he explained. "This is done largely through scientific application of mathematical principles, recording the various graduations and adjustments.

"Yet touch and sound also play a part in it and it's not an art easily attained, or even possible for most people to develop."

Even the mathematical approach won't work on really sophisticated safes, Wilgus claims.

Local Leaders to Attend Talks

Representatives from the Pontiac area are among the 200 civic and civil rights leaders attending a three-day meeting in East Lansing beginning today.

Labeled a "Community Action Assembly," the group will discuss ways and means of wiping out poverty among Negro citizens and members of other minority groups, according to Ted Cobb of Flint, president of the Michigan Council of Urban Leagues, sponsor of the meeting.

Participating as speakers and discussion leaders from this area will be Charles M. Tucker Jr. of 161 Earlemoor and Dr. Robert Turpin, 160 Palmer, both members of the Oakland County Economic Opportunity Commission.

Clarence E. Barnes director of the Pontiac Area Urban League will also attend.

Gov. Romney will address the luncheon meeting tomorrow.

Zing into spring! Corvair by Chevrolet

New Corvair Corsa Convertible and Sport Coupe top Corvair's 7-model lineup for '65—all with Body by Fisher.

The steering's crisper, the ride's flatter, the style's racier — even the grass looks a shade greener from behind the wheel of this new Corvair

You'll find a Corvair Corsa's instrument panel vastly more informative than an ordinary car's. But that's really only a fringe benefit of driving one.

Because for all its finely calibrated instrumentation—tachometer, manifold pressure gauge, even an electric clock with a sweep second hand for rally buffs—the most important thing that happens when you get a Corsa out on the road doesn't register on the dash. It registers on you.

You feel it in the steering—crisp and precise—as you double back on a curve. In the flat riveted-to-the-road stability of the new fully independent suspension. In the response of the rear engine (up to 180 hp available now in Corsa's Turbo-Charged version).

You don't have to wear a sports car cap and sun goggles to appreciate things like this. Or the clean international cut of Corvair's styling.

Drop down to your dealer's now—while the trading's extra good—and see for yourself. Look over the dashboard gadgetry all you like, but by all means get out on the road where you can really handle the merchandise. We'll guarantee spring will look greener, sun goggles or no.

To Entertain 25 Needy Children

By JAMIE SCHUTT

Waterford Kettering Girls' Athletic Association and GAA letter club members will hold their annual Underprivileged Children's Day tomorrow.

The girls will bring a sack lunch for two, and will entertain 25 children from the Oakland County Children's Home.

Special entertainment features include cartoons, movies, trampoline and games.

Tonight the sophomore class will host their second activity of the year, a recreation night at 8.

Basketball, volleyball, ping-pong and trampoline will be in the gymnasium, with dancing and refreshments in the west cafeteria.

RULE BOOK

The student council citizenship committee is composing a book of school rules and policies to aid in the good citizenship campaign.

The play production class has selected "Winnie-the-Pooh" for the May presentation of Children's Theater.

The lead roles of Christopher Robin and Winnie-the-Pooh have been given to Terry Schmidt and Karen Alexander, respectively.

Other cast members are Susan Sadler, Stephen Bone, Ronald Cleland, Barbara Gustafson, Cynthia Cudnohufsky, Edwinna Delbridge, John Bartlebaugh, Connie Baker, Ruth Coffee, Theresa Manual and Sandra Bowden.

Waterford Production

Juniors Plan 'Safari'

By JEAN PERRY

Tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m., Waterford Township High School's junior class will present "Showboat on Safari" after five months work under the direction of faculty member Gilbert Bergsrud.

This year's production shows the shipwrecked showboat by the Whamazon River in deepest Africa. The survivors, when captured by the fierce native tribe, spend the time figuring out ways to save themselves from the wrath of the Fire God Yahoomba.

Ronald Smith assumes the part of a puny Tarzan, henpecked by his wife, Jane, played by Sandra Hughes. Carolyn Hall plays Lucy Belle, the glamorous showgirl who is in for a big surprise when she is chosen to be queen for a day.

Also featured will be the traditional boys' chorus line. Several individual acts will highlight the show. This year, the scenery will not only encompass the stage but also the entire front of the gym.

Showboat has been a traditional junior activity since 1949. It gives the class a chance to show its creative abilities, humor, wit, musical and artistic talents.

Major parts are played by Mark Haddow, Daryl Roddewig, Bud Fulkerson and Jim Miller. More of the cast include Bruce Lloyd, Sherry Elwell, Linda Vincent, Karin Hunt, Judy Lippert and Linda Jergovich.

Co-op students last Tuesday attended a banquet at the University of Michigan given for schools of Southern Michigan. Homa Tindall, co-ordinator instructor from WTHS, accompanied the group.

Throughout the day, guest speakers were on hand and several competitive contests were in session. The competition included best salesman or saleswoman, best advertisement layout and job interviewing.

Next Wednesday, Waterford and Waterford Kettering Student Councils will present a "Hoot 'n' Hop" at Waterford.

The Hootenanny will be held in the lobby, the dance in the gym. Proceeds from this duo activity will help send 25 Township students to Europe this summer.

Committees for the dance are Carol Benson, general chairman; Kay Sirlin, entertainment; Kathy Hendry, tickets; Susan Beaudry, publicity; Dianne Voydanoff, music; and Karin Hunt, refreshments.

The all "A" honor roll for the fourth marking period has been announced. Included are Mary Burrell, Sandra Elliot, Patricia French, Barbara Hammond, Roberta Herrmann, Bill Hill, Sandy La Barge and Virginia Laidler.

Others are Donna Marvosh, John Mercer, Linda Prout, Regan Rieth, Judy St. Lawrence, Mary Sue Terice and Linda Yorke.

Dominican Pupils Get Report Cards

By PATT GENEREUX

Dominican Academy's quarterly report cards were passed out yesterday.

Monday, juniors listened to a tape, presented by Father Casey, O.P., which humorously revealed "The Mind of a 17-year-old Boy."

The school play "Girls Will Be Girls," was a record breaker. Attendance passed over the 500 mark 15 minutes before the play started.

Stan's Grill Hall is secured for the Spring Hop. The dance will be held May 8. Students and outsiders are requested to wear school clothes. No girls in slacks will be allowed.

Lady of Lakes

By ANN LONGO

Thirty-two members of the junior class at Our Lady of the Lakes High School will attend University Day at the University of Michigan Saturday.

Monday, four members of the press club attended a press conference at the site of the Auburn Hills campus of the Oakland Community College.

District Finals

4 PNH Pupils Win in Speech Contest

By ALICE TURNER

Eight Pontiac Northern students traveled to Waterford Kettering Tuesday for the Michigan High School Forensics Society Speech Contest District finals.

Four of the eight returned as winners in the contest. Gary Eldridge, Mike Harmon, Bruce Kilmer and Tony Wyrick all took honors.

The contest was divided into five areas: interpretive reading, humorous reading, declamation, oratory and extemporaneous speaking.

Gary Eldridge, a senior, received a first place in interpretive reading with the Bible as his topic. Gary had studied five selections in advance but did not know which selection he would be presenting until 15 minutes beforehand.

Mike Harmon, also a senior, took a first place rating in the field of oratory from among ten contestants. His topic was civil rights.

In the field of declamation, Bruce Kilmer, a sophomore, took a third place rating with President Kennedy's Inaugural Address as his topic.

Tony Wyrick, also a sophomore, took a fourth place winning in humorous reading with "Pygmalion" as her topic.

Gary and Mike will attend the regionals at Oakland University.

Northern was visited recently by 31 performers from the Finnish Youth Association. The group, made up of singers, dancers and instrumentalists, is touring cities across the United States.

The entertainers appeared at a student assembly presenting folk songs and dances of their native land.

Members of Northern's swim team, the Candy Stripers, and their parents held a banquet in Northern's cafeteria Tuesday.

Northern's faculty will be holding a faculty smorgasbord in the school library tomorrow at 6:30 p.m.

Sophomores to Give Party

'Think Summer' Title of Milford High Event

By BOB GORSLINE

"Think Summer" is the hopeful title of the sophomore class party to be held at Milford High School tonight beginning at 8.

Decorations, consisting of such "summery" items as a pond, fish nets, and beach umbrellas, and the refreshments lemonade and cookies, will add authenticity to the theme.

Three Milford High students were selected regional winners in the Michigan Industrial Arts Contest held recently at Southfield High School.

The three boys, Mike Mace, Jerry Cook, and Kurt Achenbach, have entered their projects in the state competition at Grand Rapids this weekend as a result of this recognition.

Members of two MHS organizations will use their talents to make a brighter Easter for patients at the Howell State Hospital.

Next Wednesday the future teachers club will take Easter baskets which they made to some of the younger patients.

SENIOR CLASS

Then, on April 17, members of the senior class will sing folk songs and hymns for many of the patients.

On Tuesday at 3 p.m., the senior girls will challenge the women of the faculty in a spirited basketball game.

There will be no school Good Friday because of the Easter holiday. However, there will be school on the Monday following Easter.

This is due to the four-day weekends allowed at the end of each marking period in the second semester.

Avondale Sets Annual Event

By LINDA TONG

Seniors at Avondale High School are filling out applications for teaching, administration and school maintenance positions, for the annual Student Government Day to be held Tuesday.

Sponsored by the student council the activity helps acquaint the students with leadership and responsibility.

Seniors must fill out an application giving their choice of job and why they feel they are qualified.

Seniors with a "C" average or better can participate in the program. Students must dress as a regular teacher. All assignments or punishments issued on this day must be done.

The Future Homemakers went to Grand Rapids over the weekend. Sandra Gabert was elected state treasurer.

Area School News

Clarkston

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Clarkston High freshmen, sophomores, and juniors will cast their primary ballots for next year's student government officers, on Monday.

Running for the office of president are Rita Kerzykowski, Cathy Lessard, Randy Locklar, and Cathy Verback.

Caroline Giles and Sue Powell are competing for the position of vice-president.

Margaret Keech, Cathy Richardson, Joette Schultz, and Kathy Yarbrough are running for secretary.

Karen Caldwell and Sandra Medlin are the candidates for treasurer.

Final elections will take place on April 14.

Tomorrow, the Y-Teens will meet in the home economics department to make refreshments for their Easter visit to Pontiac State Hospital on Tuesday.

The Y-Teens will entertain an elderly ladies' ward with skits and songs. Easter baskets will be passed out.

Lake Orion

By PATRICIA WARD

Students at Lake Orion High School had the chance to use a voting machine today as they elected next year's student council officers.

Candidates are Fred Cudnohufsky, David Dewey, Pat Ward, president; Karol Johnson, Jeff Straub, Bonnie Wirth, vice president; Terry Matheys, Nadine Williams, secretary; and Judd Bankert, Anne Clemons, William Rathberg, treasurer.

As junior Rotarian for April, Michael Dwyer, vice president of the student council, will attend all April meetings of the Lake Orion Rotary.

The district forensic contest was held this afternoon at Oxford High School. Nine students represented Lake Orion.

Walled Lake

By VIVI METTALA

Walled Lake High School presents its Fine Arts Festival tonight at 7:30 in room 202. The program, initiated by teacher Kay Bender and her fine arts committee, is featuring jazz, dancing, interpretative readings, and a faculty play.

Student work in painting and sculpture will be displayed. Prizes will be awarded. A special issue of the LEIF will be devoted to creative writing in poetry, short story, and essay.

Twenty juniors will have the opportunity tomorrow to become familiar with college life as the University of Michigan presents its University Day.

Winners of the school forensic contest who attended district finals at Waterford Kettering this week included Bob Smart, John Ellenwood, Priscilla Yucharitz, Mary Fitzgerald, Cheryl Kass, Rick Blough and Steve Dean.

Students Plan Quebec Trip

By LYNDA VITALES

The Brandon High School Contemporary History Club is taking its second annual Quebec trip, April 10-16.

Under the direction of adviser Robert Harvey, the students have completed many successful projects to finance their trip.

Students going are Martha Brown, Leslie Carmean, Deborah Ferris, Dan Hyde, Melvin McDowell, Wilene Smith, Tim Stayton and Diann Stowell.

Chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Schmitt, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sharrard.

They have planned a walking tour of Old Quebec and a boat trip to one of the small islands in the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Tonight from 7:30 to 11 the Brandon cheerleaders are sponsoring the "Easter Bunny Hop," featuring the Trix rabbit as host. Entertainment will be "oldie but goodie" records provided by WTRX.

2 Girls Named Top Students at Bloomfield Hills

By KAREN TRIMMER

Valedictorian and salutatorian for the class of 1965 at Bloomfield Hills High School recently were announced by Principal Richard Spiess.

Valedictorian for 1965 is Jane Bartek who has maintained a plus 4 average in her four years of high school.

Jane, who will be attending the University of Michigan next fall, plans to major in education and possibly teach high school students after graduation.

This year's salutatorian, Mary Snyder, also is considering the University of Michigan.

As secretary of National Honor Society, Mary has achieved high marks during her high school career.

At Appomattox Farmhouse

Nation's Civil War Ended Century Ago

(EDITOR'S NOTE — A century ago today four years of war between Union and Confederate forces came to a quiet end in an Appomattox County, Va., farmhouse. Lt. Gen. U.S. Grant started the final day with a headache. Gen. Robert E. Lee started the day with discomfort, too, but his was the pain of a lost cause.)

By JERRY BUCK

APPOMATTOX, Va. (AP) — For Lt. Gen. U.S. Grant, the last night of the Civil War was a miserable one. He spent it tossing fitfully in a farmhouse bed and trying to ease the pain throbbing in his head.

He tried soaking his feet in a hot mustard bath. He applied mustard plasters to the back of his neck and wrists.

Nothing seemed to ease the ache, so as a rooster announced dawn on April 9, 1865, he rolled out of bed. He was pulling on his boots when a courier rode up with word from Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Grant's chief of staff read aloud:

"As far as your proposal may affect the C.S. forces under my command and tend to the restoration of peace, I shall be pleased to meet you at 10 a.m. tomorrow on the old stage road to Richmond between the picket lines of the two armies."

ANSWERED NOTE

Lee had written it the day before, in answer to a note from Grant asking that he surrender.

Grant, commander of the Union forces, put on his drab blue tunic and said, "I'll meet Lee as he asks and we'll settle the whole business in an hour." His headache was gone.

Lee's last night as commander of the army of northern Virginia had not been much better. He slept on the cold ground with his saddle for a pillow and thoughts of defeat for a companion. He's said he'd "rather die a thousand deaths" than give up.

He too was up before dawn, and its coming brought disheartening news. The attempt by Gen. John B. Gordon to cut through Union defenses to the Lynchburg road — and escape — had been repulsed.

"I have fought my corps to a frazzle, and can do nothing unless I am heavily supported by Longstreet's corps," Gordon told Lee by courier.

But Lee knew Lt. Gen. James Longstreet could not go to his aid. Lee's last prop had fallen and he prepared to meet Grant.

Lee sent his military secretary, Col. Charles Marshall, into Appomattox to find a place suitable for the meeting. The first man Marshall met was Wilmer McLean.

Four years earlier, the Civil War's first major battle had raged across McLean's farm at Manassas. Soon afterward, McLean had fled to Appomattox to escape the war. But this afternoon, that war was to end in his parlor.

The courthouse lay between the poised armies. The courthouse was at a junction of the roads, and to its left, enclosed by a white fence, was the home of McLean.

The village is set where the rolling plains of the Piedmont begin climbing to meet the Blue Ridge Mountains 20 miles to the west.

"Gen. Lee, Col. Orville Babcock and myself sat in the parlor for about half an hour, when a large party of mounted men arrived, and in a few minutes Gen. Grant came into the room," Marshall recalled later.

"Gen. Grant greeted Gen. Lee civilly, and they engaged for a short time in conversation about their former acquaintance during the Mexican War."

WRITES TERMS

Grant's secretary, Col. Ely Parker, wrote out the terms of surrender on a marble-topped table set in the middle of the parlor. Grant allowed the Southern officers to keep their sidearms and horses, but Lee pointed out the soldiers also owned their own horses and would need them for spring planting.

Grant quickly agreed to this, and later wrote that "Lee remarked again that this would have a happy effect."

Lee wrote out a brief acceptance of the terms and the two secretaries made copies.

Arrangements also were made to feed the 28,000 men Lee surrendered that day. They had not received rations since abandoning Petersburg a week earlier.

After the two commanders left, the Union officers fell upon McLean's furniture for souvenirs. When McLean refused the money they offered, it was tossed on the floor and tables and chairs were carried out the door. A sofa was torn to shreds.

Gen. Joseph Johnston carried on for a few weeks more in North Carolina. Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, was captured a month later in Georgia.

So ended the Civil War, the formalities of the surrender settled in an hour. Peace was longer in coming.

300 Mexican Families Lose Homes in Torrent

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — More than 300 families were without homes today after watching their tin, cardboard and wooden shacks being washed away and crushed during a torrential downpour yesterday.

The dwellings were situated on the hillsides surrounding the Tijuana River bed. More than 200 other families were evacuated from their low-lying river bottom homes near the international border.

A NEW METHOD FOR RELIEVING PAINFUL CORNS OR CALLOUSES

A scientific new formula in an easy to apply liquid is available to those who suffer with corns, callouses, bunions, tired-aching feet or athletes foot. Although many Chiropodists and Podiatrists use similar formulas for their patients suffering with foot troubles, there is no formula that is as complete as this golden easy to apply liquid. Bunex is a liquid that promises you relief from foot troubles or your money back.

For corns on top of the toes or between the toes, just place a little Bunex on and around the corn area and massage in well twice daily using the fingers.

For callouses or Bunions, place a little Bunex on or around the infected area and massage in well twice daily.

For tired and aching feet, apply Bunex and rub in well like applying a hand lotion.

For "Athletes foot," apply Bunex each night for about two weeks by massaging into infected area. Although the tissue will clear up in a few days, keep using this wonderful liquid for about two weeks to be sure that all the fungi has been removed.

Bunex is safe to use. Continued use of this wonderful liquid can prevent return of corns, callouses, or athletes foot.

AP Photofax

There is an oversupply of hippopotamuses in East Africa. Since the excess is imperiling other animals, a program is under way to reduce the herd and export the meat.

Kuwait is only 6,000 square miles in area. Its population is about 322,000.

Bullets, Bombs and Death

Pawnshop Turned Into Battleground

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A wild gun battle between police and a robbery suspect barricaded in an arms-filled pawnshop turned a downtown San Diego street corner into a no-man's-land of bullets, bombs and blood.

The police won. But one man was fatally shot and another dropped dead.

Hit by two shotgun blasts in a room above the pawnshop Thursday was Robert Page Anderson, 28, a convict on probation for possession of marijuana. He was in serious condition with extensive wounds in both arms and the abdomen.

Police poured about 800 rounds of ammunition and numerous tear gas bombs into the pawnshop during the four-hour siege.

TWO GRENADES

Two concussion grenades softened Anderson for the final police assault on his stronghold.

The battle began with a report to police of a robbery in the shop. The caller said a male with a gun was in the store.

Theodore Sweinty, 63, a clerk in the pawnshop, said Anderson asked to see a rifle and ammunition. With both in his hands he threatened to kill the two clerks. Sweinty ran upstairs where he hid under a bed during the entire fracas, he said.

But the other clerk, Louis Richards, 62, was shot and fell fatally wounded in the shop doorway.

BARRAGE OF GUNFIRE

When police arrived they were met by a barrage of gunfire from inside the store, where Anderson had armed himself with shotguns, rifles and pistols from the gun racks.

Police called for reinforcements. Sixty-five officers surrounded the store and riddled it with rifle, shotgun and pistol fire.

Store windows across the street were shattered by Anderson's fire.

ANSWERED FIRE

Submachine guns ripped the building and Anderson answered their fire from his arsenal.

"He must have eyes of stone to take that gas," one officer said.

During the fight, Sgt. Allen Brown and other officers braved the gunman's ire to retrieve Richards' body from the store doorway.

STOOD IN DOWNPOUR

Thousands of spectators stood in the downpour, watching the fight from a block away where police had stopped traffic.

A newsman, Robert Crandall, 50, editor of the biweekly Independent, died on the scene from a heart attack.

RUSHED INSIDE

Officers rushed inside but were met by gunfire from above.

"He's upstairs," yelled a policeman.

More bullets were pumped into the rooms above the store and Sgt. Brown charged up carrying a shotgun.

Two blasts echoed through the wreckage of the pawnshop, then silence.

Brown came down.

"I had to shoot him or be shot," he said.

Why $325,000 for New Johnson Auto?

WASHINGTON (AP) —Fiscally, we have come a long, long way.

Once the model T could be bought for around $400. Now comes its swanky, well-stacked successor, the limousine built for a president. It costs $325,000, or more.

Heavens to Henry Ford! What in the automotive world has happened?

For $325,000 you should be able to buy a tank. For $325,000 you could buy six of those fancy automobiles built for James Bond, the fictional international agent, whose car had a radar road map to show where the fellow he is chasing is going.

MONEY REQUESTED

The question comes up today because the House has appropriated $325,000 for a presidential automobile, plus $197,000 for a Secret Service car. The bill now is in the Senate.

If you ask Ford Motor Co. officials — how can anyone spend $325,000 on an automobile? — The answer is something like this: It is easy. To plan, to develop, to build the Lincoln Continental Lyndon B. Johnson rides in right now cost about $500,000.

But this car was a goodwill or advertising gesture. It was leased to the government, some say for $500 a year, others say it was only $1. Either way, it obviously was a bargain.

Anyone trying to build an assassin-proof car has problems. He will need armor plated sides, bulletproof glass, bulletproof tires, an engine capable of a quick getaway in case of trouble.

BIGGER EVERYTHING

But when you add weight you have to strengthen the structure. Pretty soon you are needing bigger brakes, bigger tires, a bigger engine.

All this happened to the Lincoln Continental the President rode in during the campaign and in the inaugural parade.

The modification, or rebuilding, after President Johnson F. Kennedy's assassination, was done by Hess & Eisenhardt of Cincinnati, a firm that builds ambulances and those big professional limousines used by sightseers. Sometimes it builds cars for foreign potentates. It did the body work for the presidential car.

Williard Hess has been with the company since 1928, and in a telephone interview he said the word "modification" is misleading.

OLD-FASHIONED TERM

He prefers the old term: custom-built cars.

"About all we use of the original car will be the instrument panel, the windshield and sometimes the rear fenders," Hess said.

After sizing up the specifications, the firm builds a small scale model. If this passes the test, a full scale model is produced. If this is okay, it then goes into production.

A 1965 four-door Lincoln sedan weighs 5,075 pounds. The presidential job weighs twice that. The 1965 regular car has a 275-horsepower motor; the presidential car has 500-horsepower V-8, more powerful than any passenger car on the market today.

THICK GLASS

The glass is eight panes and three inches thick. The steel plating alone weighs 1,600 pounds.

The extra money comes from all the extra measures taken to make a president safe, Hess said, but no one will detail precisely what these measures are. It seems like a good guess, though, that that Secret Service automobile won't only be an armored car but also a well stocked arsenal.

A study shows a relationship between moonlight and the activities of mosquitoes.

SPRING — Like other youngsters throughout the area, Carmen Netschke, a first-grader at Dublin School in White Lake Township, is learning that spring is the time for growing things. Even in a milk carton a marigold can sprout into life—if it's watched carefully and watered frequently. Carmen is the daughter of Mrs. Rose Netschke, 273 Bramble.

Voters to Decide $1.4 Million Issue

AREA NEWS

ROMEO — Voters in the Romeo School District will go to the polls Monday to cast ballots on the largest bond issue proposal ever put before them—$1.4 million.

According to estimates, the taxpayers will be considering whether to raise school taxes by 3.29 mills.

Based on state equalized valuation through the district, additional actual taxes would range from a low of $6.34 in Addison and Oakland townships to a high of $9.30 in Shelby Township on each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

If the bond issue is approved, it will pay for a number of things — all under the heading of a building program.

Included are additions at the junior and senior high schools and a new elementary school, to be built near the corner of Campground and 29 Mile roads.

BIGGEST PORTION

The biggest portion of the money, $600,000, would be spent on the junior high school, covering demolition of that part of the building erected in 1885 and replacement with a one-story section.

That section would house a music room, new locker facilities, cafeteria and warming kitchen. Food would still be prepared at the high school.

A second addition at the junior high would be a three-story building at the south end of the wing built in 1963.

This would contain eight classrooms, science room, arts and crafts room, faculty room and space for ground level administrative offices.

Also proposed is a library that would extend about 60 feet from the front of the school toward Prospect Street, and which would house the junior high principal's office as well.

The elementary school, with an anticipated cost of $405,900, would include two kindergarten rooms, eight classrooms, a multipurpose room with a stage and storage spaces, an office and faculty room.

Expansion to 21 rooms would be permitted by design of the initial structure.

The senior high school additions, two of them, are the result of nearly two years of studying vocational-educational needs in the district.

BUSINESS NEEDS

In view of the fact that 60 per cent of the graduates in the district go directly into the labor market without continuing their education, the school board has decided to emphasize the need for business education and shop instruction on the secondary level.

As a result, plans have been made to add eight classrooms at the school, at least two of them half again as large as regular classrooms.

They would be used for instruction in typing and the use of other business machines.

Another part of the $353,000 that would be spent at the senior high school would go for an extension of the north end of the music room.

PROVISIONS

This would provide rooms for workshop, metal and power machines.

A small lobby would connect the old and new sections.

School officials expect construction on the building program will begin this summer if the voters approve the bond issue Monday.

If all goes well, the facilities may be ready for use in September, 1966.

House Bought to End Hazard

Vacant Building Is Danger to Youngsters

KEEGO HARBOR—The West Bloomfield Board of Education has spent $1 to perhaps save the life, limb or lungs of a Keego Harbor child.

The board purchased a small lot and vacant house now standing as a temptation to youngsters.

Schools Supt. Dr. Leif Hougen noted a vacant building has a peculiar, and dangerous, attraction for children.

It can be the scene of many hazardous adventures, including smoking, Hougen said.

The lot purchased by the board is on the west side of Cass Lake Road, a block and a half north of Roosevelt Elementary School.

The property, claimed by the State Conservation Department because of failure to pay taxes, did not attract any bids when offered in December.

It then was made available to the board for the nominal $1 charge.

The lot is too small for the board to develop, Hougen said.

"Our only purpose is to see that the building is removed because it's a hazard to children," he said.

Problem of Flagpole 'Waved' Aside for Now

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — It's not a lack of patriotism, but a plenitude of problems, that is keeping the Township Hall flagpole-less.

The original flagpole which stood before the hall was handmade and had been weakened by repairs made through the years.

Finally, during the March 17 storm, it snapped.

Township officials set about buying a new one but learned Wednesday night that the insurance policies on the hall would not cover the purchase.

The pole, it seems, is not a part of the building.

AGENT OF RECORD

Insurance for the building is with four companies, but Louie J. Lawton of Lawton and Quellette in Detroit serves as the township's agent of record.

Miss Lawton said she checked with the other three companies and none of them has ever had a claim for a broken flagpole.

Added to this is the problem of the bids on a new pole.

Trustees consider the four—ranging from $450 to $750—to be too high.

They've turned the insurance problem over to Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan and the bids over to the building committee.

Objections Voiced at Hearing in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — The wave of objections toward a proposed $979,472 water main crested last night at a hearing attended by some 175 residents.

The 2½-hour session was the second of three to be held on the system which would serve the southeastern portion of the township.

It involved property owners in District No. 2, the most heavily populated of the three proposed special assessment districts.

The district includes Brooklands Subdivision north of Auburn Road and properties along the south side of Auburn.

"Quite a few petitions opposing the main were presented last night," Township Clerk Thelma Spencer said, "and quite a few people at the meeting voiced objections."

ESTIMATED COST

Opposition to the proposed program has been based on the estimated cost to home owners and the fact that they now have wells to serve them.

Many of the wells in District No. 2 are only 25 feet deep or shallower, Mrs. Spencer noted.

Petitions against the project also were submitted Wednesday at the hearing on District No. 1, which includes parcels along John R from Auburn to Avon roads and the area north of Brooklands.

A hearing on the third district, consisting of the rest of Brooklands, will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Township Hall.

If the owners of 20 per cent of the property in any of the districts sign a petition opposing the water system, that district cannot participate in the program.

Brass Ensemble to Play at Church

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A brass ensemble from Waterford Township High School will perform Sunday night at Commerce Methodist Church.

The group will play music from the baroque period for the 7:30 p.m. Pa'm Sunday vesper service at the church, 1155 W. Commerce.

Confab Called on Grass Fires Set by Trains

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Grass fires caused by trains and proposed state legislation to deal with them will be the subject of a conference in the township hall here at 10 a.m. Monday.

The supervisors and clerks, as well as other representatives from Avon, Oakland, Orion and Oxford townships will gather to discuss the issue with State Rep. Robert J. Slingerlend (D-Lake Orion).

Slingerlend will discuss House Bill No. 2492, which is aimed at requiring railroad companies to maintain their equipment in such a way as to minimize grass fires caused by sparks.

If passed in its present form, the bill would establish a fine for noncompliance with the maintenance requirements.

Area Group to Hear Talk on Viet Nam

ROCHESTER — "The Crisis in Viet Nam — How We Got Where We Are and the Role of the U.N." will be the subject of a talk to be given Sunday before the Rochester Area Chapter of the United Nations Association.

The group will meet at 3 p.m. in the Oakland University Student Center.

The speaker will be Anthony Ripley, Detroit News reporter who recently returned from the Asian trouble spot.

Recital Will Follow Dedication of Orchard Lake Chapel Organ

ORCHARD LAKE — The organ recently installed in Our Lady of Orchard Lake Chapel will be dedicated Sunday.

The 2:30 p.m. blessing ceremony will be followed by a recital by Edgar Billups, organist and choirmaster at All Saints Episcopal Church in Pontiac.

Rev. John Krause, pastor of Our Lady of Assumption Church in Detroit, will be celebrant at the blessing.

Liturgical music for the occasion will be provided by the Schola Cantorum and a special by selected antiphonal chorus.

The two choirs will render a traditional Polish processional, "Kto sia w opieke" ("Under Thy Protection") and "Psalm 150," composed by Rev. Henry Waraksa, director of sacred music at the Orchard Lake Schools.

Accompanist will be William Koerper, director of public school choral music in Detroit and a member of the Detroit Archdiocesan Music Commission.

Billups' recital will consist of compositions by Bach, Mozart, Couperin, Reger and Alain.

A member of several sacred music commissions, Billups has performed in the United States and Europe.

The public is invited to the dedicatory program to hear the organ, built by Wicks Organ Co. of Highland, Ill.

Art Fair Scheduled by Rochester AAUW

ROCHESTER — The Rochester chapter of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) has scheduled the third annual AAUW Art Fair for May 2 in the Gold and Sunset Rooms at Oakland Center, Oakland University.

The 1-6 p.m. affair will feature exhibits by artists of the area. Anyone wishing to participate can contact AAUW chairman Mrs. Michael Myal of 28763 Cunningham, Warren.

Student to Present Recital in Oxford

OXFORD—An Addison Township college student will present a piano recital Sunday at 8 p.m. at Oxford High School.

Leslie McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. McWilliams of 1458 Rochester, will give the recital he will present later this month as partial fulfillment of bachelor's degree requirements in music at the University of Michigan.

McWilliams was introduced to the piano at the age of 14 and began serious study of the instrument while a senior at Oxford High School.

His program will include works by Handel, Brahms, Beethoven and Berg.

Rochester Church Slates 1-Act Play, Exec's Talk

ROCHESTER — An original one-act play and a talk by the executive secretary of the Methodist Board of Missions will highlight Sunday activities at St. Paul's Methodist Church, 620 Romeo.

"The House in Elmwood Hills," a play by Victor Zink of 1903 Kingstree Court, will be presented at 7 p.m., directed by Zink.

The play deals with the application of faith in suburban life, portraying a family that must face the hard facts of adjusting to a new age.

Henry Lacy, executive secretary of India and Nepal for the Methodist Board of Missions, will speak at the morning worship service.

Lacy has recently returned from a trip to Nepal and India, where he visited Mr. and Mrs. George Somers, missionaries supported by St. Paul's.

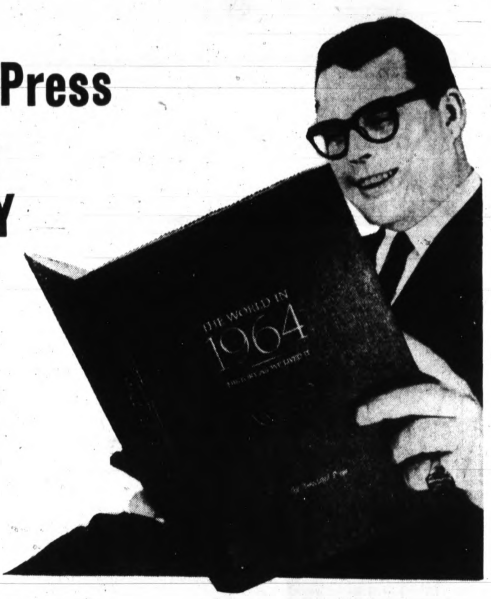

Lacy served in India for 10 years as principal of Ingraham Institute, a Methodist school for boys.

Notice of hearing. Re: Petition to locate, establish and construct a drain in Franklin Road and Square Lake Road.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 20 of Act No. 40 of the Public Acts of 1956, as amended, a petition was filed with the County Drain Commissioner of Oakland County, Michigan, petitioning for the following project, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the existing branch of the Rouge River at Square Lake Road distant East 1938 feet from the SW corner of Section No. 4 T2N R10E, Bloomfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan; thence west in Square Lake Road to Franklin Road; thence north in Franklin Road approximately 1000 feet; thence northeasterly to the southeast corner of Supervisors Plat No. 1; thence northerly to a point of terminus at the Pontiac City Limit Line in the vicinity of Howland Avenue which said drain is necessary for the public health and is located entirely within the limits of the County of Oakland.

Notice is further given, that the Drainage Board for said project has considered the said petition and has made a tentative determination that said petition is sufficient and that the said project is practical; has given the name "Murphy Drain" as the name of said drain and the name "Murphy Drainage District" as the name of the drainage district therefor; and has made a tentative determination that the following public corporations should be assessed for the cost of said project, to-wit: State of Michigan on account of drainage to state highways; County of Oakland on account of drainage to county highways; City of Pontiac and Township of Bloomfield.

Notice is further given, that the said Drainage Board will meet on the 3rd day of May, 1965, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., Eastern Standard Time, in the Town Hall 4200 Telegraph Road in the Township of Bloomfield, Michigan, for the purpose of hearing any objections to said project, to the petition therefor, and to the matter of assessing the cost thereof to the public corporations above named. At said hearing any public corporation to be assessed or any taxpayer thereof, will be entitled to be heard.

This notice is given by order of the said Drainage Board for the Murphy Drain.

Dated: April 1, 1965.

HAIR OF THE HOUND — Patsy, a part Irish wolfhound, has an eye-opener at his favorite tavern, the Hope and Anchor in London. The dog has been labeled an alcoholic by his vet "doctor." His favorite drink is light ale, but his owner and his friends are hoping to reform him and have him become a part of normal dog society.

Dog Is an Alcoholic; Laps Up the Booze

LONDON (AP) — Patsy, a 7-year-old part-Irish wolfhound, has been declared a chronic alcoholic.

Said his owner, Mrs. Mary Shannon: "Our vet says that in all his experience he's never seen an alcoholic dog before."

Today Patsy is a four-pint-a-day dog suffering painful hangovers. The hangovers are so awful he has to be given two aspirins per hangover.

He even has his regular pub—the Hope and Anchor — in London's East End.

"He used to drink stout," explained Mrs. Shannon, 24, but that seemed a bit heavy for him so he switched to light ale.

BECOMING PROBLEM

"It's becoming quite a problem because he drinks about four pints — and feels awful the next day.

"Sometimes he has so much beer that his feet go in the opposite direction to his body. Sometimes he cannot get about at all, and he has to sleep off his binge."

Asked what she was doing about Patsy's addiction, she replied:

"I took him to the vet three weeks ago, and the vet advised that he cut down. We're trying to get him to taper off."

Poor Patsy's hangovers are real, searing, head-jarring shockers.

"He just lies on the bed covering his eyes with his paws and sort of moaning," said his owner. "His head must hurt something awful because it takes two aspirins to get him back to normal."

The dog's addiction began — Mrs. Shannon can't remember just when —the day he was taken to his neigborhood pub by Mrs. Shannon and her husband.

Someone poured him a saucer of stout and Patsy liked it. Filling Patsy's saucer got to be a regular thing. So, the dog started going to the pub on his own.

Leaves for Geneva After Cyprus Talks

Rusk delayed his departure half an hour for the breakfast meeting with the Turkish diplomat.

"We talked about the Cyprus question in great detail," said Rusk. "We are very closely in touch with the governments that are parties to the dispute, and with the communities on Cyprus.

"It is not clear to us how quickly a solution can be found, but it is important that a permanent political solution be found."

Have you hardened yourself against Soft Whiskey without even tasting it?

There are two types of characters who are certain Soft Whiskey doesn't work. There's the guy who's sure it's nothing but a gimmick. (He hasn't tried it, but he's sure.) Then there's the guy who believes Soft Whiskey is soft (he hasn't tried it either), but thinks if it's soft, it's weak.

First of all, Soft Whiskey isn't just something we cooked up overnight. Distillers have tried to make a Soft Whiskey for years. Even we flopped in thousands of tries before we had it.

Secondly, Soft Whiskey is 86 proof. It does what any 86 proof does. It just does it softer. Soft Whiskey goes down gently. It sort of swallows softly, but carries a big stick. (Incidentally, one way we soften Calvert Extra is by distilling in small batches instead of giant ones.)

It's a lucky thing for us the skeptics are few and far between. (We've had phenomenal success.) Then why all this trouble to convert them?

Quite frankly, after all the work we've been through, we refuse to give up on anybody. We haven't hardened ourselves against them.

With These Umbrellas You'll Welcome Rain

Spring bursts out all over when you open this umbrella providing a gay "roof" of flowers overhead. There's more floral protection, too, in a matching scarf triangle that's tucked through a golden loop on the umbrella handle. Perfect way —and always at hand—to keep your coiffure in order during a gusty wind, the kerchief is pretty enough to double as a head cover in clear weather. The soft-and-feminine print is available with blue, pink or yellow background. About $6.

Stemming from the shaft of a long, slim umbrella, charming plastic posies pop up via the handle of this "bouquet brella." A wonderful spirit-lifter for dark and cloudy days, this one comes in a wide choice of spring colors. About $7.

Whether she wears "Hers" or flaunts "His," she's "in" when she sports the most exciting umbrella fashion of the year — the Beltbrella. Paris designed, the Beltbrella is worn slung over the shoulder, leaving the hands free. An adjustable shoulder strap unleashes to double as a belt. "His" version comes in black; "Hers" in many colors and textures. All umbrellas shown by Polan Katz are available locally.

Let it rain about town, country or en route in travel—for the generous accommodations of this "Bag 'n' Brella" set is ready for action. In smart Belgian-type linen with mock mahogany-grained leather trim, this zippered case can tote all your essentials and provides a handy outside brass-locked pocket for change, cosmetics and passport. Comes the rain, and the midget-sized umbrella slides out of its pocket to protect you from the sudden shower, goes back in for safe-keeping when the sky clears. A short shoulder-strap makes it easy to carry. About $10.

Be Frank About It

She's Borrowing Trouble

DEAR ABBY: I don't mind people borrowing things, but I can't stand beggars.

My neighbor (I can't call her a friend, she is just an acquaintance) carries things too far.

She sends her children over here for two eggs, or shoe polish, or sugar, mustard, or bread. She has even borrowed money from me.

She has never returned anything. Her excuse is, "We didn't have time to go to the store."

Since I always have on hand what she sends for, I can't say I don't have it and sin against God. And I can't say I can't spare it when I really can.

My husband hates this situation. And it is getting me down. Please advise.

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Don't lie. Tell your neighbor that because she has never returned anything she's borrowed, you have decided not to lend her anything in the future.

It may be exactly what she needs to wake her up.

If she's offended and never speaks to you again, you are not out much.

DEAR ABBY: I met a woman recently at the home of a mutual friend. She was very pretty, intelligent, refined and friendly.

But for some strange reason, which I cannot for the life of me understand, I took an instant dislike to her.

This has been bothering me because I rarely form an opinion about a person before getting to know him. Are first impressions usually correct?

Why do you suppose I took such a definite dislike to this woman?

MISS T.

DEAR MISS T.: Perhaps she reminded you of someone you dislike with good reason.

Or possibly she was TOO "pretty, intelligent and refined," and you were jealous.

First impressions are the result of one's combined prejudices and should not be relied upon.

St. Maria Club

St. Maria Woman's Club of St. George Romanian Church will sponsor the annual Lenten banquet, Sunday in the parish hall.

Films of Romania taken by church members on recent vacations will be shown immediately following the dinner which is open to the public. Traditional dishes prepared and served by the women will be on the menu.

Mrs. Charles Parker was hostess for the April meeting on Wednesday.

WNFGA

Oakland branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association (WNFGA) has scheduled a workshop, Monday, in the Birmingham home of Mrs. W. H. Ruggles, flower show chairman.

Mrs. Archie Coran will assist the members in making Easter arrangements to suit the decor in their homes. Artificial flowers, baskets and supplies will be available.

Dental Auxiliary

Typical food of European countries will appear on the menu of the Womens Auxiliary of the Oakland County Dental Society luncheon.

The Village Woman's Club on East Long Lake Road will house the luncheon meeting at noon on Tuesday.

Also on the afternoon agenda will be the election of officers.

Philia Theta

Four members were initiated into the Philia Theta Club Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. William Palace on Hummingbird Lane, Independence Township.

The new club roster will include Mrs. Carroll Kinney, Mrs. William Parker and Mrs. Ronald May, all of Pontiac, and Mrs. Harvey Price of Clawson.

Queen Mary Section

Mrs. Henry Milligan was hostess to the Queen Mary Section of the Needlework Guild of America, Thursday, in her home on Peacock Street.

During the afternoon sewing and knitting session, a gift was presented to Mrs. Thomas Campbell who is planning a trip to Scotland.

The group will meet with Mrs. George Bickley of Mechanic Street for the April 22 meeting.

At Oakland University

Unique Music Program Offered

A wealth of musical performing talents with vast professional experience awaits the students who attend Oakland University's newly formed Meadow Brook School of Music, opening July 6.

Oakland seeks 101 top instrumental students and 250 students of voice for its unique credit - granting program which will combine the talents of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, its conductor Sixten Ehrling, and Robert Shaw, noted associate conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra.

Six-week instrumental programs for orchestral students and conductors and four-week sessions for vocal students and directors have been scheduled to run coincident with the six-week Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Walter S. Collins, dean of the music school, has announced that Shaw will select three of the most outstanding voices enrolled to appear as soloists in the Schubert G Major Mass which he will present with the Detroit Symphony during the Festival.

The winners will also be awarded full tuition scholarships to Oakland's regular music degree program.

FROM THE SYMPHONY

Among the symphony personnel engaged by the University are violinists Mischa Mischakoff, Gordon Staples, Edouard Kesner, Jack Boesen and Felix Resnick. Violists are Nathan Gordon and Taras Hubicki.

Included in the program are Italo Babini and Thaddeus Markiewicz, cellists; Raymond Benner, bass; Elyze Yockey, harp; Albert Tipton, flutist, who will assist Ehrling in his conductor's workshop; Arno Mariotti, oboe; Paul Schaller, clarinet; and Charles Sirard, bassoon.

Others from the Symphony are Arthur Krehbiel, French horn; James Tamburini, trumpet; Allen Chase, trombone; Oscar LaGasse, tuba; Salvatore Rabbio timpani; and Robert Pangborn, percussion.

SHAW

Shaw, who will be on the Oakland campus during the entire period of his four-week Institute for Choral Studies program, will have the aid of such performing notables as Saramae Endich, soprano of Glyndebourne Festival acclaim; Florence Kopleff, contralto; and Blake Stern, tenor.

All three will appear as soloists in Festival concerts.

Others in the choral program are John Wustman, pianist; Paul Steinitz, visiting lecturer and Director of the Bach Choir of London, England; and Burton Garlinghouse, noted voice coach and lecturer.

Enrollment is open to professional musicians, college students, graduate students and high school students who have completed their junior year.

Substantial financial aid based on ability and need will be available in the Oakland program which has been designed as a bridge for students leading from school to professional life.

Dr. Walter S. Collins (left), Albert Tipton and Chancellor D. B. Varner discuss plans for Oakland University's new Meadow Brook summer music school. Dr. Collins is dean of the school, assisted by Tipton as music director. Sixten Ehrling, conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and Robert Shaw, associate conductor of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, will head the school. Classes start July 6.

Child Culture Club Elects Officers

The Pontiac Child Culture Club elected officers Thursday in the home of Mrs. Neil Nelson on South Marshall Street.

Mrs. Isabel Brannack is president; Mrs. Andrew Kasurow, first vice-president; Mrs. Donald Rofe, second vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. William Thiede, recording secretary; Mrs. Floyd Crump, treasurer; Mrs. Hillman Fortney, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Nelson is social chairman.

THEATER

The group will attend a performance of "Barefoot in the Park," April 22, in the Fisher Theater, Detroit.

Mrs. Brannack and Mrs. Rofe will represent the club at the Michigan Child Study Association's spring program-planning session, May 1, in Holly.

Tuesday's the Day

The Pontiac Tuesday Musicale's "Dollars for Scholars" program will be presented at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday in Fellowship Hall of the Central Methodist Church and not on April 20 as previously reported.

New York Is Scene of Nuptials

Mary Ann Luffman of Lansing and William C. Ramsey, son of the William Ramseys of Williams Drive, were wed recently in the Bristol Springs Free Church, Bristol Springs, N.Y.

Daughter of the Ernest Luffmans of Canandaigua, N.Y., the bride chose a street-length white brocade sheath and short veil with satin pillbox. She carried white orchids and Stephanotis.

Bonnie J. McDowell of East Lansing, the bride's only attendant, wearing a pink wool suit, chose cranberry accessories.

Clubs to Get Awards for Worthy Projects

Judges for the Club Achievement Award Contest were announced today by Joseph Ross, president of Federal Department Stores.

The contest will award $3,500 in prizes to six women's clubs in the tri-county area.

Judges will be William H. Frank, president of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit; Mrs. Fran Harris, special features Coordinator of WWJ; Dwight B. Havens, general manager of Greater Detroit Board of Commerce; William A. Mayberry, chairman of the board, Manufacturers National Bank; William T. Patrick Jr., assistant general attorney, Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

PRIZES

Prizes will be awarded in two classifications; membership over 100, and membership under 100.

There will be two first prizes of $1,000; two second prizes of $500; and two third prizes of $250.

The contest is open to women's organizations in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Projects performed between April 1, 1964 and April 1, 1965 may be submitted.

"Such achievements as assistance to the retarded, blind, senior citizens, unemployed, youth activities, contributions to better government or any activity which makes our community a better place to live may be entered," said Ross.

Contest rules may be picked up from any of the managers of the 25 Federal stores in the tri-county area.

Deadline for entries is April 16.

Urban Renewal Talk

Assisting as hostesses were Mrs. James H. McGuire, Miss Adah Shelly and Mrs. T. W. Bradford.

Mrs. Ernest L. Guy is chairman for the salad luncheon and card party, April 22, in the First Federal Savings of Oakland club rooms. Proceeds from the afternoon affair will benefit the Boys' Club of Pontiac.

Hostess for the May 4 brunch meeting will be Mrs K. K. Kreltz of Watkins Lake Road.

Home After Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Perry of North Lake Drive, arrived home Wednesday from a three-month vacation in Florida, Nassau and the southern states.

On the trip home, they stopped at Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, S. C., where they attended an azalea festival.

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding in 1965?

We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details.

Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be two months between engagement and wedding stories, if there is to be a picture with both.

No engagements are announced less than a month before the wedding date.

We prefer to receive wedding stories and pictures before the ceremony.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings.)

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Sanpshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be served nor can we promise the size of a picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

The joys of motherhood for Mrs. Frank Gates of North Astor Street, include (among other things) showing off her two lovely youngsters at the Longfellow PTA mother-daughter banquet. The girls at the left, Adele, 8, and at the right, Lorraine, 7, attended the event last evening in the school.

Must Count Calories

Weight Raises Pressure

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE V-449: Tom W., aged 41, weighs 214 pounds.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "my blood pressure is now 240/100 and my doctor says I must lose weight.

DR. CRANE

"For I get a dull pain around my heart when I climb stairs or walk fast.

"But I am an engineer so I'd like to know the specific mechanical reason why my surplus weight is dangerous."

Your heart is the "motor" of your entire physical machine. It works steadily, day and night with never a single full second's rest!

When we are born, God figuratively places about 2.6 billion heart beats in our cardiac bank account.

We can draw on them as we wish.

Like the Prodigal Son, we can exhaust our bank account early and thus die at 45 or 50. Or we can use common sense and spread our 2.6 billion beats till we attain the age of 80 or 90.

Since your blood vessels are not fixed and unchangeable at birth as you add extra weight, new blood vessels sprout into the blubber region.

ADDITIONAL MILES

In fact, you sprout 3 miles of new blood vessels for every 5 pounds of additional fat!

You don't need to be an engineer to understand why extra weight thus puts a double strain on your heart.

First, the heart must exert more pressure to push your 5 or 6 quarts of blood through those extra miles of "pipes."

Tom weighed only 160 when he was in college, which was about right for his height is 5' 10".

That means he is 54 pounds heavier than his ideal weight should be.

Which also indicates that his faithful "motor" must maintain a steady flow of blood in almost 33 miles of extra "pipes."

At each beat, therefore, it must labor harder, thus wearing out that much sooner. For with its greater load, it steps up the pulse rate, too.

NORMAL

A normal blood pressure for Tom would not be more than 140/90.

So he is in constant danger of a blowout of a small blood vessel, due to this excessive pressure.

For example, if your automobile tires are supposed to carry only 26 pounds of air pressure, you accidentally inflate them to 40 pounds, wouldn't they be more likely to blowout, especially if you hit a bump?

Well, the same physical strain occurs in the blood vessels.

For Tom's pressure of 240/100 may zoom to 260 if he runs for a bus or tries to skip upstairs in a hurry.

Obesity is not the only cause of high blood pressure for nervous tension, plus hardening of the arteries, will also zoom the blood pressure even in skinny people.

But heavy folks can often lower their blood pressure almost one point per pound if they will radically reduce their blubber.

An aunt of mine, aged 55, weighed 212 and had a stroke with a blood pressure of 220.

WEIGHT LOSS

By dieting, we dropped her weight to 158 and her blood pressure fell meanwhile to 164.

So her blood pressure dropped 56 points while she lost 54 pounds.

So send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It may add 10 years to your longevity!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

We Need to Break Slavery's Chains

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Women are sweet creatures who can't think straight" . . . "Negroes are less intelligent than white people" . . .

"Jews are crazy for money" . . . "Republicans are all for the rich and Democrats are for the poor" . . . "Parents always know best" . . . .

These are examples of prejudice, that form of mental illness which psychiatrist Nathan W. Ackerman, writing in a recent issue of Mental Hygiene, defines as the "product of conflict and fear: the effort to build myself up by tearing others down."

What makes prejudice a form of mental illness is its evasion of reality.

For there do exist women who can think straight, Negroes who are more intelligent than many white people, Jews who don't give a whoop about money, Republicans who feel for the poor and Democrats who protest the feeling to get votes.

And parents do not always know best.

As women have been victimized by the sexual prejudice of men who've told us we can't think straight, I don't understand why all of us are not in the vanguard of the Negro struggle against the racial prejudice which has insisted that they're inferior to white people.

We carry the scars of slavery, too, you know. We're known throughout the world as "aggressive" women.

Someday, maybe, we'll begin to connect man-hating behavior with the centuries of sexual slavery that compelled us to always say, "As you wish, dear."

Sometimes, perhaps, we'll be able to see that the results of that obligation are not unlike the results of the obligation Negroes suffered in slavery.

I think that we women could do more than we're doing to advance the cause of civil rights.

The biggest contribution we could make as former slaves ourselves would be to say over and over to our sons, "You don't have to master everything, darling. You don't have to beat everybody you fight.

"You don't have to know everything other people expect you to know.

"With me you're tops, win or lose."

"The master derives his whole importance from the slave's willingness to be a slave," writes Dr. Ackerman.

"Should the slave defy him, his omnipotent power is destroyed."

That's a lovely thing to happen to a master. It helps him to relax and makes him available to love.

Still Sewing at Age 90

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Woodhull, who learned to sew at the age of five and sewed professionally for 60 years, is still an expert seamstress at the age of 90, though she confines her work nowadays mostly to alterations.

Recalling the difficulty in using old "sad irons" heated on a coal stove, she appreciates modern conveniences such as gas heat, electricity and washing machines.

A colorful table setting for Easter puts the Easter bunny to work as a decorative theme. First of all, a brightly colored round cloth sets the background for "bunny" place mats cut from latex foam rubber that may be bought by the yard in upholstery shops and stores. A pattern is made on paper and the foam rubber cut from that—in two easy steps. If desired, eyes and nose may be applied with a grease pencil. The head part of the "bunny" serves nicely as resting place for the beverage, and the main part for glass snack plates. Colored napkins and multicolored eggs in bright hues, make this table a delight to the eye as well as the appetite.

To Display 'Experiment'

A "kind of experiment in propaganda" is the way Joel Schwalb, master of fine arts degree candidate at Cranbrook Academy of Art, describes his environmental exhibition which will be on display in the Art Galleries from April 17 through May 9.

The exhibition is assembled with a modular frame structure, flat panels and screens and contains both mechanical and non-mechanical devices and graphic material.

Devices such as back screen projection, moving discs of color, sound, changing light patterns, flat panels of color and form, photographs, textured surfaces and paintings are used.

Alcoa has donated 1,350 feet of aluminum tubing for construction of the exhibition. Schwalb, of Forest Hills, N.Y., will receive his M.F.A. degree in design on May 28.

Buy, Sew Wisely

Small Fry Should Be Stylish

Look to the laundering when sewing for children or when buying ready-mades.

Smartly styled fabrics, fast in color and with a minimum shrinkage, are available.

When planning to make or buy a child's dress, think of how it will look after it has been laundered once, then after 20 washings.

Trimmings can be too frail to stand washing, and often they are too tedious to iron. Sometimes they are not sewn securely enough.

ESSENTIALS

Mothers should insist upon simplicity, good materials, good workmanship, good fit, becomingness and fashion rightness.

One criticism of most ready-made clothes for children is that they are sometimes too fussy, which means they cannot be washed and ironed easily.

Too often, perhaps, ready-made clothes have better style than "mother-mades," but this need not be true.

One way to be sure of making good-looking clothes for children is first to find a ready-made dress or suit that is exactly right for the child. Then buy material of excellent quality and duplicate this garment.

If necessary, buy the ready-made garment to use as a guide.

Suppose this ready-made dress cost you $5. You can usually buy material comparable in quality for $2.

TWO FOR PRICE

Thus you can make two dresses for $4 and you will have, in all, several for the cost of two ready-made.

Remember that the style has a value, and you must pay for this. If you have a good eye and can remember a design even to the detail of finish, you will not need to buy the dress.

Make several dresses for the price of one ready-made. Look for attractive remnants on sale.

Another critically important point in sewing for children is the length of the skirts, or trouser legs, and the sleeves. All the style can be lost if these are too long.

Children's clothes must look smart for their sake, and your own.

BEST FABRICS

Ginghams, linen-like fabrics, printed challis, lawns, percales and the easy-care fabrics are practical for children.

Smocking is ever new and appropriate, as are trimmings of bias bindings, rickrack, applique, and the new no-iron embroidery.

Play suits should be sturdy, made of substantial fabrics. Many mothers make these in lots of half-dozens.

They can be cut alike, each in a different color perhaps trimmed differently.

Use matching thread that you know is fast-color, buy first-quality bias binding, rickrack, tape, and, most important of all, good buttons and fasteners.

Try to place these so that the children can manage them without help, and, above all, place buttons so that the point of the iron can get in between them.

Vacuum Slipcover Before Washing

Always remove dust from slipcovers with vacuum cleaner before dropping them in the water to wash.

They will come out much cleaner this way.

New Season for Summer Jobs Is Here

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Teen-agers:

Are you looking for a summer job? If you are, my advice is to start looking early—now!

MARY FEELEY

That's also the advice offered by the U. S. Department of Labor, which suggests 47 different kinds of jobs you might find—and even enjoy.

If you're serious about earning some money this summer, spring vacation is the time to get your foot in the door.

There are a number of ways of going about this.

First, of course, you should make up your mind about the kind of work you'd like; then the kind of work you might be best at; then consider whether you want to use your vacation But the list of possibilities may stimulate your thinking.

Some of the 47 they list may be available in your own community, and others won't.

This list ranges from carhop to mother's helper to lifeguard to library attendant.

Maybe you haven't thought about opportunities that may be open as ticket-taker, messenger boy, telephone operator, cannery worker, engineering aide.

Or busboy, office clerk (boys or girls), car washer, or caddie.

You might tutor a summer student or take over a vacation job for a receptionist.

If you want to send for this booklet — which also gives you valuable information about labor laws in regard to age — send your request with 5 cents to the Superintendent of Documents to further a planned career.

Be honest with yourself. If you just want spending money, there are practical ways of going about this.

If you would like to spend this time learning, with the hopes of cashing in on your summer experience, then direct your efforts toward a permanent goal.

As a first step, you might send for the Department of Labor's booklet entitled "Summer Jobs for Students."

The department isn't going to actually get you a job, of course. ments, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Another way to start job-hunting is to go talk to the people at your local public employment office.

Just don't be discouraged if they don't have anything specific to suggest at the moment.

There are other valuable leads to follow: your school Guidance Counselor, your parents, friends and relatives can help if you talk them into it.

Write letters to possible employers.

On this subject of letter-writing, let me remind you of some of the things that prospective employers consider important.

* * *

State the facts clearly—all the information about yourself they will want to know, such as age, schooling, qualifications for the particular job, working hours you can take on, any previous experience in any line, reassure the person you are writing to that you have, or can get, a working permit if necessary, and local references.

The references might be your teachers, your clergyman, friends (adults), local businessmen.

Try to fit your experience or your capabilities to the specific job you're applying for.

And for goodness' sake, watch your spelling! A dictionary is always available, and careless mistakes count against you.

If you have a telephone, be sure to include the number as well as your street address.

An acceptable business letter doesn't have to be a literary composition, so don't be hesitant about just setting down on paper the pertinent information.

Remember this, too—the law of averages will work for you. The more people who know you are seriously job-hunting for the summer months, the better your chances will be.

The fact that you notify prospective employers early in the season will make a favorable impression.

And while you're making your working plans, make some plan for saving some of what you earn.

That's how fortunes are built!

Sorority Units Meet

Two groups of Kappa Delta South Oakland Alumnae Association will meet on Tuesday.

AFTERNOON GROUP

Members will share luncheon together at Devon Gables at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Donald Rader of Birmingham is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Neil Leavens of Royal Oak will be hostess to this group at a cooperative dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Kappa Delta annual awards for orthopaeric research were made recently at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Orthopadelc Surgeons in New York.

Expensive Taste Is Evident

The champagne taste of the American consumer, vintage 1965, is more effervescent than ever, says the April issue of Department Store Economist, the Chilton magazine of department store merchandising and management.

Mink baby carriage robes turning over at $500, refrigerator doors made of steerhide and four-speaker stereo tape recorders for the family car are exotic and expensive.

But they are very much a part of the current merchandising scene.

Whatever they may mean at the cash register, their presence on the shelves points up a significant aspect of today's retailing: The public's newly acquired champagne taste is bubbling over!

The trend is clearly visible in hard goods. Demand for color television sets is running far ahead of supply and, in some places, customers must wait weeks for delivery.

Manufacturers expect sales of color sets this year to reach 2.2 million units, 50 per cent ahead of last year's record-breaking 1.4 million.

WOMEN LOVE IT

Last year General Electric unveiled an electric range which boasts a unique self-cleaning oven. Units so equipped run as high as $600, compared to $200 to $240 for ordinary models.

* * *

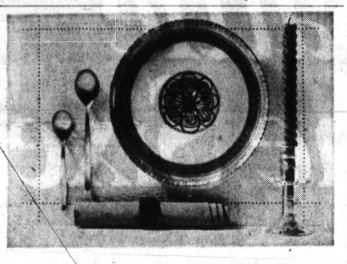

Nonetheless, the new ranges have enjoyed such popularity that GE has expanded its line from three models to seven.

Another fact: Detroit's biggest and costliest cars are selling best.

Department Store Economist notes that in soft goods, super-sized bedspreads, ranging upwards to $50-$75, have soared in recent years from virtually nowhere to nearly 40 per cent of total volume.

And Macy's chairman of the board confidently looks for a continued srge in trading up.

Theta Sigma Phi Is Scheduling Its Book Fair

A number of area women are busy with plans for the annual Theta Sigma Phi book fair on April 20.

Scores of books, an auction, strolling musicians and both real and make-believe celebrities will be highlights of the 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. event at the Detroit Press Club.

Proceeds from the fair go to the Lucy Corbett scholarship fund for college women majoring in journalism.

Mrs. Nelson J. Roy of West Bloomfield Township is co-chairman of the fair with Marion Corwell of Dearborn.

Other area women doing committee work are Mrs. L. M. Middlemas Jr. and president of Theta Sigma Phi, Mrs. William Candler.

Mrs. Tagore Will Speak

Mrs. Amit Tagore, wife of Professor Tagore of Oakland University will be the speaker on "Life in India" at the May 2 breakfast of Iota Eta chapter of Pi Omicron sorority.

Members will gather in Devon Gables for the upcoming event discussed at Thursday's meeting in the Snow Apple Drive home of Mrs. George F. Brinkman.

An announcement that the Michigan State Board Meeting will be held in Bay City on May 10, was made.

The May 13 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Robert S. Dunham of Midrow Drive.

Key Cuban Political Prisoners Given Rehabilitation

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government is in the midst of a massive rehabilitation program to return political prisoners "to the society which they tried to destroy."

The local papers say Prime Minister Fidel Castro launched the idea three years ago but it has moved into high gear only this year. Government sources estimate 1,000 of the nation's 15,000 political prisoners are taking part in the experiment, most of them in the big Isle of Pines prison off Cuba's southwest coast.

The aim is to teach the prisoners "the greatness and generosity of the revolution, always severe and just, but never vengeful." A prisoner is watched closely at first but gradually is given more freedom and sent to farms outside the prison if he progresses.

Some 70 instructors, who draw on the services of scores of trained personnel, put the prisoners through an intense study program including political indoctrination and classes to develop agricultural skills.

PRIORITY SYSTEM

Not every prisoner is eligible. A priority system gives preference to those from "working class and petit bourgeois families." The plan also favors prisoners with smaller sentences.

The selected inmates are transferred to better quarters and given special privileges.

As a bonus, married prisoners are permitted to see their wives privately "once in a while."

The final stage of the plan permits prisoners to work on farms near their home towns and make unguarded visits to their families. When the prisoner is considered "reintegrated into society," he can work wherever he pleases.

Arizona Lawmen Nab Escapee From State

GUADALUPE, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies have apprehended an escapee from a Southern Michigan Prison work gang who, they said, apparently had been living in the Phoenix area in recent months.

Larry Jones, 24, was arrested Wednesday night when two deputies noticed how slowly the car driven by the fugitive was traveling. The car had fictitious license plates, the deputies said, and a routine check disclosed Jones' identity.

Expect Record Travel in State During Summer

LANSING (AP) — A record summer season appears to be in sight for the Michigan travel industry, reports the Michigan Tourist Council.

William McGraw, council director, said more than 40,000 requests for Michigan spring-summer vacation planning literature were received in March.

Gary 2 Shots Up in Masters

Player Leads Charge on Dixie Course

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga. — On this day 100 years ago, April 9, 1865 at 3:45 p.m., General Lee's surrender at Appomattox, Va., brought an end to the civil strife between the North and the South.

Today, in this hotbed, on the anniversary of the Confederacy, a major battle rages. In this case however, the weapons are golf clubs and the leader who represents neither the Yankees nor the Confederates is South African Gary Player.

Player, the 1961 Masters champion who has resumed his native residence in Johannesburg, South Africa, fired a seven-under-par 65 in 90-degree heat yesterday in the opening round of the 29th Annual Masters Classic.

From the opening twosome at Augusta National Golf Club when Mason Rudolph came in with a two-under-par 70, until Player came in at 6 p.m., the first round lead was in doubt.

Tommy Aaron, a native Georgian who followed in the twosome behind Rudolph, took the early lead with a five-under 67 but matching the score during the long hot afternoon were Jack Nicklaus, the Golden Bear from Ohio, Tony Lema, the champagne swinger from San Francisco and Dan Sikes from Florida.

Others in strong contention at the start of today's second round were Kentucky's Frank Beard with a four-under 68; Doug Sanders of Georgia, Ray Floyd of North Carolina, Tommy Bolt of Oklahoma, Wes Ellis of New Jersey and George Bayer at 69.

DEFENDING CHAMPION

Among seven tied at 70 was defending champion Arnold Palmer.

Player's round was somewhat spectacular in as much as he hit for seven birdies and 11 pars in his 32-33—65. It was the best opening round since Lloyd Mangrum fired his 64 in the Masters of 1940.

Mangrum failed to hold his lead that year, however, as Jimmy Demaret moved into a midpoint tie with him at 139 and went on to win with a 280 total.

Player has been in only four tournaments on the U.S. winter circuit thus far, and prior to the Masters, he won the South African Open.

He started yesterday with birdies on the first three holes and added another on nine to go out four-under par.

The 13th hole, known at Augusta National as the "Azalea Hole," netted him another bird as he belted a drive, a four-wood and two-putted from 12 feet. At No. 12, the 520-yarder, his three-wood second shot went five feet over the green. He chipped within 30 inches and dropped it for the bird.

At No. 16 he put his four-iron shot to within three feet of the pin and sank it to end his birdie spree for the day.

LEADING THE WAY—South African Gary Player raises his putter after sinking a putt on the ninth green in the opening round yesterday of the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga. Player was four-under-par after nine holes and finished with a 65 to take the lead.

Hull's 'Blind' Goal Helps Hawks Even Series

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga.—We dubbers should live so long as to score a "disgusting" round of five-under-par 67 on a course such as the Augusta National.

In fact, we would probably be the first entry in the Moon Open if ever we finished with a five-under par on any course in any round.

For Tony Lema, however, this was a disgusting week.

"I played Monday, got disgusted and quit after nine holes," he said.

"I started Tuesday played nine holes, got disgusted and quit again," he added.

"Wednesday I was disgusted before I started so I decided to play no more than nine holes. I was disgusted when I went to bed last night, when I got up this morning and when I hit my first drive of my round today."

"How did you feel when you came in with that 67?" he was asked.

HE'S STILL DISGUSTED

"Disgusted," he answered.

"I have been playing so badly the past few weeks and I thought I was getting over it until I got to the 18th hole and then I missed that two-foot putt for a bogey-five, so here I am disgusted all over again."

Lema, known for his champagne celebrations which have followed his victories on the tour, said the course of the Masters played as easy as it will ever play and "you can't afford to mess up the easy chances like missing short putts."

"My, this is good beer," he concluded, "I might even get so disgusted I'll change my brands."

DITTOS FROM THE MASTERS

Oldtimers Fred McLeod, USGA champion of 1908, and Jock Hutchinson, the PGA champion of 1920, who teed off and played the 18 holes as honorary starters in the start of the 29th Masters yesterday, received a large applause from the gallery at the 18th when they came in.

McLeod backhanded his 10-inch putt and tipped his hat.

The scorer announcing the scores at the green then yelled, "McLeod 62, Hutchinson 60. All putts were gimmees."

Among the statistical notes, it was pointed out that the most number of sub-par rounds prior to yesterday's opener was 17 in 1958. Yesterday there were 30 under par, among which were two eagles and 252 birdies.

Besides Lema's eagle on the 13th, Britisher Peter Butler chipped in a shot for an eagle-three on the second hole.

HAWK BOTTLED UP—Detroit's Bill Gadsby (4) and Gordie Howe (right) move behind their own net last night in the opening period of play to take the puck away from Chicago's Eric Nesterenko. Watching is Red Wings' goalie Roger Crozier. Black Hawks won, 2-1, to even the Stanley Cup semifinal series at 2-2.

Chicago Trims Red Wings, 2-1 on Home Ice

Teams Resume Play at Detroit Sunday; Hawks Skate Well

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Hull didn't see the blistering shot which gave the Chicago Black Hawks a 2-1 victory and tied their Stanley Cup best-of-7 semifinal series with Detroit at two games each Thursday night and he doesn't particularly care.

"As long as it went in and we won that's all that counts," said Hull in the Chicago dressing room after the National Hockey League Playoff game which everyone agreed could have gone either way.

"I got the puck from Chico (Maki) and as I reached the blue line I fired," said Hull. "The next thing I knew I was flat on the ice because Doug Barkley hit me. Then I heard the crowd cheer and I knew it was in."

Despite the victory, their second straight at home after losing a pair at Detroit, the Hawks weren't predicting any victory in the series.

FIFTH GAME

The scene now shifts to Detroit for the fifth game Sunday night and the teams then return to Chicago for No. 6 Tuesday. If a seventh game is necessary, it will be played Thursday in Detroit.

The Red Wings are near invincible at home and the Hawks know it.

"We'll give it all we got," said Hull, when asked if he thought the Hawks could win in Detroit. And Coach Billy Reay had the same pat answer when asked the same question.

"It now becomes a best-of-3 series with two games in Detroit," said Reay.

TURNING POINT

Reay felt that one turning point in the game came in the first period after each team had scored on a power play for a 1-1 tie. Maki scored for Chicago and Gordie Howe tied it.

The Hawks' Phil Esposito then drew a five-minute major

Maple Leafs Turn Boos Into Cheers

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs are in the thick of contention for the championship in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Maple Leafs turned boos to cheers with a three-goal outburst in the last period for a 4-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens Thursday night. That squared the best-of-7 semifinal series at two games apiece with the fifth game scheduled at Montreal Saturday night.

Most in the Toronto crowd of 14,572 hooted and booed the Leafs when Montreal took an early 2-0 lead on goals by Bobby Rousseau and Henri Richard.

Only some great saves by 40-year-old Johnny Bower in the Toronto net kept the Canadiens from piling up the score in the second period.

Late in the second period the Leafs' Red Kelly tipped in Tim Horton's slap shot, but the goal didn't seem to mean anything the way the Canadiens were skating.

The Leafs executed an about-face in the third period. No longer were they caught off balance and disorganized. Rookie Ron Ellis slapped home the tying goal at 5:16 on a pass from rookie Pete Stemkowski.

WINNING SHOT

Just 40 seconds later, at 5:56, Captain George Armstrong banged in the winning goal on assists by Dave Keon and Dickie Moore. Kelly scored again for the Leafs with 28 seconds left, this time into an empty net.

"It was Bower against the Canadiens for the first two periods," said Punch Imlach, the Toronto coach, in the dressing room. "Then the team took over."

"Let's say the Lord was with me," the veteran Bower said modestly. "I was pretty lucky on a couple of shots, but that's the game."

A grim-faced Toe Blake, Montreal coach, made no comment after the game and barred reporters from the Canadiens' dressing room.

Municipal Golf Links Will Open Tomorrow

Pontiac's Municipal Golf Course will open for the 1965 season tomorrow at 8 a.m., according to manager L. C. Barner.

"The fairways are damp, but the greens have been rolled and the course should be playable," he said.

Tigers in Atlanta

Freehan's Still Ailing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The northbound Detroit Tigers opened a three-day competitive stay here today still uncertain whether No. 1 catcher Bill Freehan would be behind the plate Monday night in their American League opener.

Freehan, with a muscle strain in his back, remained in a hospital at Lakeland, Fla., when the Tigers left their home base for the trip north that brings them against the Kansas City Athletics at Kansas City in the season opener.

During their stay here the Tigers will meet the Milwaukee Braves in three games at the Atlanta Stadium, the Braves' future home. Milwaukee moves to Atlanta next year.

Before the Tigers left Lakeland, interim manager Bob Swift had only indefinite word at best on Freehan.

The doctors at Lakeland General Hospital said young Freehan, one of the major leagues' best catchers, would have to spend three more days in bed.

Trainer Jack Homel said no chances were being taken that the injury, described as associated with the sacroiliac, might be irritated.

The three-day order from the docs made it apparent that Freehan, if he is pronounced O.K., might be able to make it to Kansas City only by plane barely in time for the game.

Freehan said Thursday the severe pain in his back had departed but that he still felt sore.

Rookie John Sullivan will take over the catching if Freehan can't make it.

The Tigers fill out their stay in this Georgia city by playing the Braves tonight, Saturday night and Sunday.

The final exhibition series will determine whether Detroit will finish at .500 in the spring games. The Tigers are 11-13 with the three to play.

Acquitted Maris Seeks Damages From Accuser

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Roger Maris of the New York Yankees wants $310,000 in damages from a man who charged him with assault during a tavern brawl.

Maris filed the suit Thursday against Jerome Modzelewski, 25, who brought the assault and battery charge.

Maris was acquitted. He says the incident caused him great aggravation, harmed his reputation and cost him money in bail, travel and attorney fees.

Modzelewski brought identical charges against Maris' teammate, Clete Boyer.

American Racers Join Ferraris for Big Event

LeMANS, France (UPI) — American Ford G.T. protoypes and A.C. Cobras, along with Italian Ferraris, head the list of 40 cars which will undergo two days of practice this weekend for the famed 24-hour Le Mans sports car race June 19-20.

The trials are designed to give builders a chance to try out their vehicles in time to make any necessary alterations before the 24-hour race.

Among the drivers in the Ford team will be Frenchmen Maurice Trintignant and Jo Schlesser in the G.T. cars, with New Zealander Chris Amon and American Bob Bondurant in the Cobras.

BIRDIE MAKES JACK SPIN—Husky Jack Nichlaus delighted the gallery at the Masters golf tournament yesterday at Augusta, Ga., with some fancy stepping brought on by a putt which Jack dropped for a birdie. Nicklaus carded a 67, putting him two strokes behind leader Gary Player.

Bloomfield Hills Tennis Squad Tops Clarkston

Bloomfield Hills' tennis team grabbed a rain-shortened 3-0 victory over Clarkston in the opening match for both teams in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Mike Righter and Rick Carrier downed Clarkston's Paul Hinckley and Bill Bailey, 6-0, 6-3, in the first doubles' match, and Greg Lau teamed with John Liles in trimming Jack Swanson and Mel Green, 6-0, 6-0.

In the only singles match played, Gary Markley posted a 6-1, 6-3 victory over Mike Daugherty.

Teen Sets Record; Micki King Second

COMMERCE, Calif. (AP) — Patty Caretto, 14-year-old Whittier, Calif., girl, raced to a U.S. record Thursday night to win the 1,650-yard freestyle finals of the AAU National Women's Indoor Swimming and Diving Championships.

The petite, 5-foot-1, 108-pound eighth-grader, competing with the City of Commerce, Swim Club, bettered her previous best time by 50 seconds with her shattering clocking of 18:03.6.

Joel O'Connell, Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club took first place with 415.15 points in the one-meter diving preliminaries, which was the first event staged of the four-day championships.

Miss O'Connell easily outpointed her nearest rival, Micki King of Pontiac and the Ann Arbor Swim Club, who had a 377.80 score.

Ex-Yankees Helping Indians Draw Fans Back to Stadium

By United Press International

The Indians are fostering a rebirth of baseball interest in Cleveland — with the aid of a pair of ex-Yankees.

Tribe General Manager Gabe Paul hit the trading path during the off-season and came up with such beauties as Rocky Colavito from Kansas City and Chuck Hinton (Washington). But his greatest coup may have been in acquiring a couple of Yankee castoffs — righthanders Ralph Terry and Stan Williams.

Williams, a 6-foot-4 California resident, who won only one game for the Yankees last year and was picked up by the Indians late last month, limited the San Francisco Giants to four hits and retired the last 10 men in a row as Cleveland registered a 4-1 victory Thursday.

The Indians have been taking a back seat to the co-occupants of Municipal Stadium, the National Football League Cleveland Browns.

But since the return of Colavito, an old favorite, and the relative success (15-13) of the team this spring, advance ticket sales have risen above the $800,000 mark.

Little Vic Davalillo and Leon Wagner contributed a single and a double apiece as Cleveland recorded its second decision over the Giants in Cactus League play.

By the same token, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals were in the market for new talent during the off-season and came up with Bob Purkey, a former Cincinnati Red, who blanked the Mets for five innings Thursday as the redbirds pounded out a 6-1 win.

Purkey, who Manager Red Schoendienst calls one of the league's finest "money pitchers," lowered his pre - season earned run average to 1.74 as the Cards evened their exhibition record at 13-13.

Rookie Cardinal sensation Ed Spiezio ripped a triple, upping his batting average to a startling .533 and his slugging percentage to an astounding .933.

However, the 23-year-old utility-man may have a problem finding a spot on the squad because he performs at third base and in left field where the Cardinals have solid fixtures in Ken Boyer and Lou Brock.

Center fielder Curt Flood went 4-for-4 and Boyer chipped in with three hits in the Cards final Florida game for the spring.

SENATORS WIN

Two former Dodgers helped Washington to an 8-3 win over Baltimore, the Senators fifth straight victory. Ken McMullen rapped out four hits and right-hander Phil Ortega stopped the birds on two hits over the first five frames.

Record Crowds Saw Play in State Cage Tourney

LANSING (AP)—Attendance at the state high school basketball tournament hit a new high but the gate take was slightly down from last year, reports the State High School Athletic Association.

Charles Forsythe, association director, said the attendance and gate receipt figures still were good considering a combination of adverse circumstances.

These included the worst blizzard of the winter during the tournament and a stabbing incident in Detroit that led to banning fans from the last games played there.

The attendance at district, regional, quarter-final, semi-final and final games was 689,440, an increase of 2,645 over last year.

Gross receipts were $523,674, a decline of $1,280 from last year. Broadcast and viewing rights from 38 radio stations and two television stations contributed $8,008.

COLD NIGHT

The blizzard hit the state on the day of the Wednesday night quarter-finals and sharply cut attendance. All games were played but between 40 and 50 bus trips planned by spectators were cancelled.

Entertaining and competing schools retained $235,663 of the more half million dollar total. About another $50,000 will be distributed to the schools, mostly to competing schools.

The association will retain $221,958 after expenses are paid.

Skippers Edge R. O. Kimball

Track Win Sparked by Three Sweeps

Waterford Township swept all three places in a trio of events yesterday to edge Royal Oak Kimball, 58-51, in the opening track meet for both schools.

The Skippers took all the points in the high hurdles, shot put and pole vault.

Tom Hoke was the individual star for Waterford. The senior veteran won the 100-yard dash in 11 seconds, was second in the shot put and broad jump and ran a leg on the winning 880 relay team.

Ulcers Slow NHL Prexy Campbell

TORONTO (AP) — Clarence Campbell, 60-year-old president of the National Hockey League, was resting comfortably in a hospital today after suffering an attack from peptic ulcers Thursday. He will remain there about a week.

Dr. Hugh Smythe, club physician of the Toronto Maple Leafs, said Campbell had not been well all day Thursay so he sent him to Sunnybrook Hospital for examination and tests.

A hospital official said the type of attack the NHL president suffered does not usually result in complications.

Hull Scores Clincher

Hawks Square Series at 2-2

penalty for cutting Marcel Pronovost on the forehead. The Hawks managed to skate it off.

"The penalty took a lot out of both teams," said Reay. "We worked hard to skate it off and they worked hard trying to score. It was a good game and could have gone either way. Both teams were hitting harder than in the other two games."

Detroit Coach Sid Abel was still confident of an ultimate victory. "We know now we have to go six games but we're still sitting right because we're going home.

KEEP HOPING

"This was a great game and plenty rough. We can't do anything about Bobby Hull except hope that he doesn't score.

"They say he has bad knees? I've got eight guys on my club with worse knees. Usually a game like this is broken up with a long shot and that's what happened."

Hull's goal was his sixth of the series, an indication that he has regained the scoring form he displayed early in the regular season before suffering injuries to both knees.

Russell Paces Celtics to Win Over 76ers

112-94 Triumph Puts Boston Ahead 2-1 in Playoff Series

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's Bill Russell has successfully made a surprise raid on Wilt Chamberlain's domain — scoring.

As a result, the Celtics beat Philadelphia 112-94 in the Eastern Division playoff finals Thursday night. They lead the best-of-7 National Basketball Association series 2-1 moving into game No. 4 on the 76ers' court tonight.

"Russell really beat us with those tap-ins and he did a great job on the offensive boards," said Chamberlain. "Heck, yes, he surprised me the way he scored early in the game. But I don't know what I could do about it."

Russell, blaming his sub-par performance for the second game defeat, scored 12 of his 19 points as Boston jumped off to a 34-27 first quarter lead Thursday night. He held the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain without a field goal until there were eight seconds left in the first half.

CAGE WAR

By intermission Russell had outscored Wilt 15-8 and there was speculation as to when The Defender had topped The Scorer at his own game in this war of the pivotmen.

Chamberlain finished ahead 24-19 in the game and 37-26 in rebounds but the damage had been done. Russell had the better shooting average, a 9-7 edge in field goals, 8-1 bulge in assists, and was ahead 3-1 in steals.

"Boston really put us in the hole early the way Russell was getting those offensive rebounds, going to the board and tapping in the ball," said Philadelphia Coach Dolph Schayes.

John Havlicek and Sam Jones scored 24 points each for Boston.

The Western Division playoff finals resume tonight at Baltimore with the Los Angeles Lakers meeting the Bullets in the fourth game of their best-of-7 series. The Lakers hold a 2-1 lead.

Twins' Official Ailing

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Minnesota Twins' President Calvin Griffith has a second blood clot in his left leg and probably will go to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., early next week it was announced Thursday. Griffith has had plebitis since February.

Spartans Lure Prep Gridders

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State is skimming off the cream of the high school football talent in Michigan this year claims coach Duffy Daugherty.

Daugherty said that of the 17 top prep players in the state last fall, Michigan State already has signed 11 to tenders and has assurances three others will join the Spartans.

Michigan State recruiters have been fighting nose-to-nose with University of Michigan talent scouts for the top state players.

"Much of our recruiting this year has been in Michigan," Daugherty said. "We lost only three of our top 17 choices in Michigan and we are doing well out-state also."

Michigan prospects who already have returned their signed tenders are reported as: Bob Super, Ferndale back; Al Brenner, Niles back; Duane McIver, Lowell end; Neal Peterson, Pontiac lineman; Dwight Romangnoli, Kingsford lineman; Dick Berlinski, Kingsford back; Roger Ruminski, Walled Lake lineman; Terry Lewis, Lincoln Park lineman; Roger Cavendar, Detroit Cathedral back, and Gene Frigetto, Escanaba Holy Name lineman.

STATE RECORD

Berlinski was the most talked-about back in the state last fall when he set a state high school scoring record with 194 points. He is Upper Peninsula broad jump champion, plays baseball and basketball as well as track and football and is an all-A student.

MSU has 30 scholarships for the freshman team this year. Four are being used for players who entered school during the year, three from Michigan and one from Kentucky.

There will be 14 for other Michigan prep stars and eight for players from other states. The remaining four will be held for members of the squad not now on scholarships and who show enough improvement during spring practice to win one.

Weber Bidding for Keg Title

Dick Holding Lead in Champs' Tourney

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Match game play failed to slow down Dick Weber of St. Louis, as he won six of his eight games Thursday night in the $100,000 Firestone Professional Bowlers Association Tournament of Champions.

Weber lost one game and tied one to pile up 7,559 actual and bonus pins as he held the lead over defending champion Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., who made a big move toward a successful defense of the crown he won at Indianapolis in 1962.

Weber's eight-game total was 1730, lower than the sizzling 1889 he fired in the afternoon but good enough to take the measure of all his opponents except Dick Downey of Bloomfield, N.J., and Joseph. Downey defeated Weber 224-221 in the seventh game, while Joseph tied Weber 234-234 in the fourth game.

Joseph, apparently fully recovered from a back injury which has plagued him for the past year and a half, moved from ninth place in the standings by winning five of his eight match games. He lost two and tied one.

The finals will be televised nationally, ABC at 3:30 p.m., EST.

The standings:
1. Dick Weber 7234, 6-1-1, 325, 7539, St. Louis
2. Joe Joseph 6968, 5-2-1, 275, 7243, Lansing, Mich.
3. Billy Hardwich 6979, 4-3-1, 225, 7204, San Mateo, Calif.
4. Earl Johnson 6928, 5-3-0, 250, 7178, Minneapolis
5. Ray Bluth 6933, 4-4-0, 200, 7133, St. Louis
6. Bill Allen 6844, 5-2-1, 275, 7119, Orlando, Fla
7. Dick Downey 6803, 6-2-0, 300, 7103, Bloomfield, N.J.
8. Mike Limongello 6841, 5-3-0, 250, 7092, Chicago
9. Carmen Salvino 6826, 5-3-0, 250, 7076, Detroit
10. Billy Golembiewski 6819, 4-2-2, 250, 7069, Detroit
11. Dave Soutar 6832, 4-3-1, 225, 7057, Detroit
12. Marty Pirallo 6944, 2-6-0, 100, 7044, Syracuse, N.Y.
13. Ray Orf 6825, 3-3-2, 200, 7025, St. Louis
14. Ed Lubanski 6840, 3-4-1, 175, 7015, Detroit
15. Billy Welu 6733, 5-3-0, 250, 6983, St. Louis
16. Norm Meyers 6820, 3-5-0, 150, 6970

BOWLING

One of the year's outstanding individual bowling efforts was recorded Tuesday night at Rochester's North Hill Lanes when youthful Dave Mackley hit 20 strikes in two games.

Bowling in the Elks Mixed League, Mackley started with a nice 202. Then he ripped into the pins for 289 and 269 for a 760 performance.

Ron Rothbarth of Calbi Music's Huron Bowl Classic entry had a big night last Friday when he posted 247-278—721 in an eight-point sweep.

Another big result of the evening was Felice Quality Market's victory over All-Star Lanes in a first place showdown. Tony Ledesma led the important win with 236—644 and Tom Augello had 227—638.

Calbi also had an eight-point conquest Monday in the West Side Lanes Classic loop. Oakland Vending holds that much of a league lead, still, over 300 Bowl.

Individually, Carl Hartman had 225-244—683 and Fran Bertram 279-225—682 for the night's laurels.

The "300" team in the Airway Lanes Men's Classic is faring much better, however, thanks to a seven-point lead and only two weeks to go in the season.

Jerry Hesse had a fine 238-231—694 for the pacesetters this week. Jim Gage posted a 231-223—645.

Lake Oakland Heights Mixed League keglers at 200 Bowl Monday were led by Bob McConnell's 235 and Clara Geeck's 225. Rex Oakley had 218 and Donna Washburne 212.

Lakewood Lanes' St. Benedict Mixed circuit Sunday had a 258—611 performance by Paul Bond. John Gottschalk rolled 243 and Manley Hughes 223.

Orchard Lanes Tuesday was host to the Detroit All-Star Classic traveling league. There were two 700s: Bill Spargo of Alexander-Hornung had 246-233—747 and Dave Robertson of Haggerty Lumber hit 288-211—700.

In all, 26 men had 600 or better. The A-H bowlers totaled 3293 as a team.

BEST IN SINGLES —The 696 score of Amy Rose made her the only Pontiac resident a champion in the city's women's 32nd annual competition. She earns $50 and a trophy.

ACTUALLY TOPS — The all-events title is the only PWBA major title determined by actual pinfall. Dorothy White of Rochester took the honors with 1687.

DETROIT (AP)—Former big league pitcher Bob Miller was named head baseball coach at the University of Detroit Thursday, succeeding the late Lloyd Brazil.

Miller, onetime U of D star and who pitched eight years for the Philadelphia Phillies, had been Brazil's assistant. Brazil, 57, died recently following a heart attack.

Nicklaus, Lema Post 67s

South African Leading Masters

among the leaders including Lema, who scored an eagle when he put his second shot, a four-iron 175-yarder, within 12 feet of the pin and tapped it in.

"The course played as easy and as short as it has ever played," said Lema, "but if it continues to dry with the temperatures I'm sure it will get tougher in succeeding rounds."

Lema had five birdies and two bogeys in his round, while Nicklaus netted six birdies and a bogey.

Aaron, who has never won a PGA tournament since turning pro in 1960, hails from Gainesville, Ga., and is playing in his first Masters. He was playing with lanky Terry Dill from Muleshoe, Texas, and admitted that his game was slightly disrupted when officials assessed Dill a two-stroke penalty on No. 13 for slow play.

Dill had hit bad drives on the eighth and ninth holes at which time he received his first warning for slowing play. The second warning and the penalty came at 13. "We must have been two holes behind at this point, said Aaron, "and it did bother me a bit."

"The 15-foot birdie on 15 picked me up however," he added.

PENALTY RESCINDED

Later the penalty against Dill was rescinded by the rules committee.

Nicklaus, who won the Masters in 1963 and is the current choice of the oddsmakers, said he made "the longest putt I ever made in the Masters" when he dropped a 40-footer on the sixth hole.

Sikes, who had three birds and two bogeys on the front side for a 35, found the long par 5s to his liking. He birdied all four and was the only player among all the leaders to hit all 18 greens in regulation.

While the oldest player among the first round leaders is Sikes at 34, some of the old-timers in the field fared very well, including Byron Nelson who fired a two-under 70 and Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan each with 71s.

Ex-champions Gene Sarazen who had his only birdie on 13, finished with 78 while Ralph Guldahl finished with an 83.

Former local pro Jack Fleck, now working out of Northbrook, Ill., shot 40-39—79. A 36-hold cut will be made today and the low 44 players will go into Saturday's third round.

U.S. Runners Shine During Europe Tour

BERLIN, Germany (AP) — America's all-conquering track team, with victories over English and German teams and three world marks to its credit, prepared to return to the United States today.

Mike Larrabee, a schoolteacher from Fillmore, Calif., was the latest claimant to a world indoor mark with a 46.8 mark in the 400 meters Thursday night, almost a full second under the listed record of 47.7.

Larrabee, who won the 400-meter gold medal in the Tokyo Olympics, added his record to those set earlier by Ted Nelson, Canoga Park, Calif., and Janell Smith, Fredonia, Kan., in the two-day meet.

SPECIAL AWARD

Nelson clipped off a 1:47.4 time for the 800 meters and was awarded a special trophy by West Berlin Mayor Willi Brandt, then ran on a victorious U.S. relay team. Miss Smith won the women's 400 meters in 54 flat, an improvement of 1.6 seconds on the listed record.

Those performances helped the United States to a whopping 101-56 victory for the men, while the American girls won their two-day match 61-52.

Michigan Still No. 2 in Outboard Motors

Michigan maintained its No. 2 position in the nation during 1964 for the number of outboard motors sold and in use, according to a joint report of the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers and the Outboard Boating Club of America.

This state, in finishing behind leader New York, had 464,000 outboard motors zipping boats over its waters last year. Its estimated sales of these units increased to 27,200 a figure also topped only by New York.

Nine Sign With Bills

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — The Buffalo Bills signed nine players for the 1965 season Thursday. The list included defensive tackle Tom Keating, end Charley Ferguson, linebacker Herb Paterra, quarterback Mailon Kent, tackle Jim Baffico, end Bill Nies, tackle Bob Dugan, halfback Bob Curington and end Frank Orgel.

The Savage Cell—V

Leukemia Still Mystery Killer

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Leukemia is a form of cancer that frequently attacks children. Some of the latest information on the disease is discussed in this fifth of 12 articles condensed from the new book, "The Savage Cell.")

By PAT McGRADY

Of all diagnoses, the most fateful is leukemia. It is destiny, signed and sealed, the setting for an early Christmas, the essence of the six-month-to-live story.

Leukemia, meaning "white blood," is cancer of the bone marrow and lymphatic organs which manufacture blood cells.

Leukemic cells — young, useless, predatory and constantly proliferating — invade the marrow, swell the spleen, liver, lymph nodes and other organs.

A number of malignant diseases involving lymphatic and marrow tissues are closely related and kill even more people; they include lymphosarcoma and Hodgkin's disease.

Leukemia is called incurable. Still, youngsters dying of the disease have been beneficiaries of that rare miracle, "spontaneous regression." A few are completely cured by nature.

CHILDREN'S DISEASE

Considered a disease of children, leukemia is now five times as common in older people, and the incidence is increasing at an astounding rate.

It is considered a rare disease. Yet it is the leading killer of children; in 1963, an estimated 11,500 adults and 2,300 children died of it.

One gets the impression that leukemia always is rapidly fatal. Yet some patients live 10 or 20 or more years with chronic leukemia under reasonable control and die of diseases of old age.

Several scientists have reported finding viruslike particles in human leukemia.

LEUKEMIC CELLS

If the viruses turn out to be the causative agent for this disease, measures for its prevention and treatment in humans could be started immediately.

Every now and then a dramatic situation yields a promise of penetrating the inscrutable exterior of leukemia. In most instances the evidence hints at a virus or other infection.

VETERINARIANS

Scientists at the University of Minnesota discovered that within a short period children of four veterinarians developed acute lymphatic leukemia.

The veterinarians had treated cows which had lymphosarcoma and chickens with contagious virus-caused leukemoid diseases.

Were the veterinarians unwitting carriers of the disease?

Leukemias and lymphomas struck humans, chickens and cattle recently in a rural area of south central Nebraska. Was there a connection?

CHICAGO SUBURB

In Niles, a Chicago suburb of 18,863 people, eight children came down with leukemia in two years.

Seven either attended or had older brothers or sisters attending a parochial school with 1,416 students.

All lived within a two-mile square area. Investigators concluded the outbreak was due to an unidentified infectious agent.

Meanwhile, a dozen other clusters of childhood leukemia were reported from widely separated communities — Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Cheyenne, Wyo., and a Seattle suburban area. Some, or perhaps all, may be a statistical mirage.

1-WAY TRANSMISSION

Several bits of evidence indicate there is at least a one-way transmission of leukemia—from man to animals.

Dr. Ludwik Gross of New York cites experiments in which scientists induced cancers, including leukemia, in rabbits, rats, chicks, and mice with human tumors and extracts of them.

The onset of leukemia usually is insidious in both children and adults. Early leukemia is remarkably free of pain; the swollen tissues seldom are tender.

SLOW RECOVERY

In children, it often follows a slow recovery from a cold or a contagious disease.

The child is pale, apathetic, somewhat feverish, bearing bruises of unknown origin, and without appetite.

Eventually bleeding tendencies — from the gums and under the skin most often — are found.

In the best medical centers, any single antileukemia treatment gives complete (and temporary) remissions to only 36 per cent of children.

Chronic leukemia, most often reserved for adults, may be preceded by a year or two of unexplainable fatigue, easy bruising, bleeding, itching, flatulence, dyspepsia and perhaps an enlarged spleen and lymph nodes.

One study of 285 leukemic children by Dr. Daniel Stowens of the University of Southern California showed that in one-quarter of the cases, at least one member of the family, usually a grandparent, had diabetes.

If these findings are born out, they may indicate that diabetes in some cases constitutes a genetic hormonal predisposition to leukemia.

Radiation causes leukemia both in animals and humans. It does so in one large dose or multiple small ones.

The lot of physicians themselves hardly instills confidence; as a class, radiologists, dentists, dermatologists, radiation-using general doctors have much higher than normal leukemia rates.

One of the most intriguing chains of evidence as to the nature of leukemia centers around the thymus, a gland located between the neck and the chest, behind the breastbone.

It now appears that at least in mice, the thymus plays a key role in leukemia. Indirect damage to the gland brings on the disease.

IN SOME MICE

In some mice, radiation and viruses cannot induce leukemia in the absence of the gland.

University of Minnesota scientists have found that a substantial number of cancer patients, and particularly leukemics, lacked gamma globulin, the stuff that antibodies are made of, and consequently are defenseless against infections.

Lymph cells, like those in the thymus, manufacture gamma globulin.

The thymus seems to seed the system with lymphoid cells which become lifetime lymphocyte and anitbody factories.

Prospects for Lemass Party Dim

DUBLIN (AP) — Prime Minister Sean Lemass will have the biggest faction in the new Irish parliament again, but his prospects for a majority are not good.

As the laborious task of counting the ballots in Ireland's complicated proportional representation system continued today, Lemass' Fianna Fail party held 65 of the 108 seats decided.

There are 144 members in the Dail (parliament), but the speaker — a Laborite — does not vote.

James Dillon's Fine Gael party had won 43 seats, Labor had 20 and independents 3.

Despite a considerable increase in its share of the total vote, Fianna Fail had not improved its share of the seats. It had lost one to Labor and gained one.

NET GAIN

Fine Gail had a net gain of two, at the expense of independents who normally supported Lemass and gave him coalition control in the previous Dail. Labor had a net gain of one from an independent.

With recounts demanded in several cases, final results were not expected before tomorrow.

Representation in the last Dail was Fianna Fail 70 seats, Fine Gael 48, Labor 18, Independent 7 and one vacant.

The present situation represented a considerable setback for Lemass, prime minister since 1959. The 65-year-old politician had staked all his personal prestige on winning a majority.

ONE OF CALMEST

Lemass said during the campaign — one of the calmest in Irish history — that he would go into opposition unless given the majority to push through his program of industrial and agricultural reorganization.

Fine Gael and Labor campaigned heavily for extension of medical and welfare benefits, claiming they took too small a share of the national product.

In Guard Probe

Romney Questions Officer

LANSING (AP) — "The question is: who was responsible for what," Gov. George Romney said Thursday as he took a hand in cross examining Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald about actions which led to McDonald's suspension as adjutant general of Michigan's National Guard.

"If anybody is guilty of misconduct, it is the (State) Military Board and the armory boards because they're the only ones with authority there," McDonald's attorney, Thomas McAllister, contended.

The questioning by Romney concluded McDonald's 10½-hour appearance on the witness stand to defend himself against gross neglect of duty charges.

Romney's 87-hour-old hearing for McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert goes into its 19th day Monday with Neifert still to be heard. Romney said he hopes the hearing can conclude Monday.

One of the charges says the quartermaster general's office purchased material for Camp Grayling and Lansing headquarters and charged it to local armories to conceal the true nature of the expenditures.

McDonald has testified the state military establishment should be considered "all a common fort" and that the material was state material no matter which military unit used it.

Romney cited military laws which he said restricted use of armory funds to operation and maintenance of the armories.

"The question is whether anyone had authority to spend funds for other than the specified purposes,' he said.

McAllister has contended that spending of armory funds is up to the armory boards of control.

Romney told him at one point Thursday, though, "I don't think the question of who is responsible has been ultimately decided."

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved
"After weeks of pain in my back and hips, I tried DeWitt's Pills—got wonderful relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.
People write in every day praising the remarkable relief they get with DeWitt's Pills.
DeWitt's Pills act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and flush out irritating bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. If pain persists, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Insist on the genuine DeWitt's Pills.
Over 1¼ million DeWitt's Pills are sold by druggists day after day after day, the world over—a tribute to their amazing action!

Jerome Hines Top Alumnus

Opera Star Honored by UCLA

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — UCLA's alumnus of the year is the famed Metropolitan Opera basso Jerome Hines, who never took a music lesson at the university.

THOMAS

The 6-feet-6½ singer was in his old hometown this week to intone the title role of "Moses" at the Music Center and to be notified of his selection by UCLA. He is only the second entertainment-world figure. The first was choreographer Agnes De Mille to be chosen for the annual honor, others having been Ralph Bunche, Ford Motor Co. President Arjay Miller, Atomic Energy chairman Glenn T. Seaborg.

Hines, class of '43, graduated in chemistry.

"I had thought I wanted to be a singer since I was 16," he explained. "I continued taking private singing lessons; at that time, the best operatic coaches couldn't afford to work for universities. I also was interested in chemistry, mathematics and physics, and I knew they could provide a good profession to fall back on."

INTROVERTED LAD

Hines might never have achieved his operatic triumphs if he hadn't been such an introverted lad. A shy giant already 6-feet-6 at 16, he was given vocal lessons as a device to draw him out. Teachers recognized his gift immediately.

His father, a movie production official, paled at raising his boy to be a singer and conspired to have a friend discourage him.

The friend, Civic Light Opera boss Edwin Lester, heard Jerome's voice and instead told his father: "Mortgage your house, sell your car, do anything to give this boy opera training!" Lester also changed Jerome's name from Heinz, to avoid any reference to pickles.

The newly named Hines was signing with the San Francisco Opera at 18. In 1946 he auditioned at the Met, won the Caruso Award and has been there ever since.

LEADING HOUSES

He has also sung in leading opera houses of Europe and South America, missing on Paris, Vienna and London's Covent Garden. He figures the high point in his career came when he sang "Boris Godunov" in Moscow in 1962.

"That was right in the middle of the Cuban crisis," Hines recalled. "Even our ambassador couldn't get in to see Khrushchev, yet he came backstage after the performance to meet me. He offered a toast of peace and friendship, and that indicated that the crisis would be abated."

It is Hines' favorite jest that he might have had something to do with the Soviet leader's decision. When Khrushchev marveled at his height, the basso replied, "Why, I'm just a California midget."

Hines lives in South Orange, N.J., with his wife and four young sons and makes about 40 forays into the hinterlands each year for concerts, which are "the backbone of my finances."

Veteran Fire Chief, 87, Calling It Quits May 1

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — At the age of 87 and after nearly half century as fire chief of Elyria, Wallace N. Bates is stepping down.

Bates, the only full-time fire chief this city ever hired, said today he will retire May 1.

"It's time," said Bates, "I can't last another 100 years."

Pipes New 'Twist' to Lawn Care

Here's a new twist that can put an end to dragging out the sprinkling hose every hot, dry evening this summer.

The twist is a literal one — given to a valve inside your home.

It waters your lawn, saving you lots of time, bother and mosquito bites.

An underground sprinkling system is a network of pipes laid beneath your lawn to supply several heads at ground level.

Such a system is not nearly as complicated or hard to install as many people imagine.

NOT NECESSARY

For one thing, it isn't necessary to dig up the entire lawn to put one in. Only those areas where the piping will be laid need to be disturbed, and even there the sod layer is carefully removed during installation so that it can be replaced intact when the job is done.

A plumbing contractor will survey your yard to estimate how many sprinkler heads you will need to sufficiently distribute water to all sections.

He will then design a piping layout to serve these distribution points that will do the best job and require the least materials and digging.

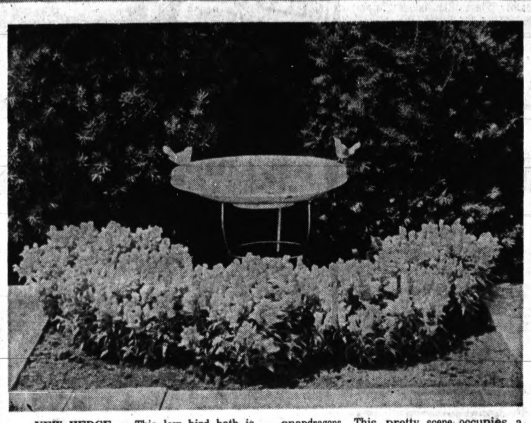

The control valve for your underground sprinkling system can be placed anywhere you want it — in the basement, garage, utility room or kitchen.

ANOTHER REASON

In addition to the obvious advantage of convenience, there is another good reason for installing this system.

It waters the lawn far more uniformly than hit-and-miss hose methods. And, because it is so easy to operate, you'll use it as regularly as needed. (Hose sprinkling is a lot of trouble, and most people don't do it as often as they should.)

If you can't bear the thought of dragging out the hose again this year, why not get a cost estimate from a qualified plumbing contractor soon?

YEW HEDGE — This low bird bath is set off by the dark green of the yew hedge in the background; embellished with dwarf snapdragons. This pretty scene occupies a small bed at the side of a terrace.

In Informal and Formal Gardens

Bird Bath Can Be Landscape Feature

A bird bath is ordinarily placed in a garden not only to afford a place for birds to drink and bathe but to provide a feature in the landscape. For this reason it deserves to be given a colorful setting.

The two illustrations show two entirely different conceptions of bird bath placement, yet each is an example of good planning and planting.

The top picture shows a bird bath used as the center of a formal garden, surrounded with sweet alyssum plants and four beds of petunias.

The bath serves as a focal point, at the meeting of the paths as they come from different directions in the garden.

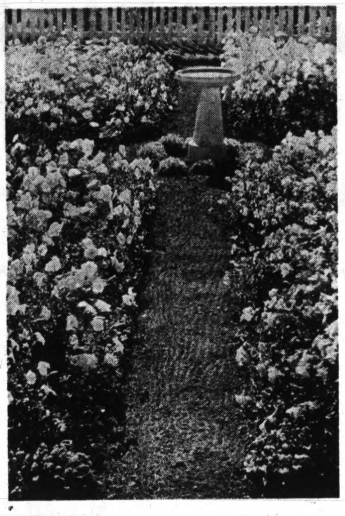

Notice that both pedestal and petunias are light in color, contrasting with the dark, raked earth of the paths.

In the bottom picture the low bird bath has a small area all to itself in a little bed at one side of a terrace.

It has a dark green background of a yew hedge and a suitable foreground of dwarf snapdragons.

Once again, both bird bath and flowers are light in color. In this case they do not contrast with the paving which also is light, but with the yew background.

Is there a bird bath in your garden? If so, is it properly featured and planted? It's so easy to beautify a bird bath. Why not try?

FORMAL GARDEN — Here a bird bath is the feature of a small, formal garden. It stands where four paths meet and is set off with sweet alyssum and four beds of bright petunias. Note raked earth paths.

Amateur Burbanks Prepare for Spring

By CARLO SALZANO
United Press International

Now's the time for amateur Luther Burbanks to leaf through seed catalogs and take an anxious glance at the lawnmower stored in garage or basement.

Visions of beautiful stretches of lawn dance through the head and almost at once, the back begins to ache the psychosomatic way.

Keep the dreams and forget the aches. Making and caring for a dream lawn do not have to be a back-breaking chore.

With all the help that contemporary science provides, grass can be just as beautiful on your side of the fence.

The best way to control weeds is to establish a program of good lawn maintenance.

The main thing: select the right herbicides to control broadleaf weeds, crabgrass and other weedy grasses. Follow directions and precautions listed on the container label and you can't go wrong.

Use the chemical treatment before crabgrass germinates — during late April or early May.

Herbicides used before the grass comes up will prevent germination of new lawn grass seeds for two to four months. That means that you must wait until fall to reseed the lawn.

D-M-P-A applied at 15 to 20 pounds per acre can be used to control crabgrass before it germinates.

If you have not stopped the weed before it sprouts, apply P-M-A at weekly intervals for effective early control.

A chemical called two-four-D can be used in the war on dandelions, ground ivy and wild carrot, garlic and onion.

The chemical should kill the weeds in one application without damaging the permanent grasses.

Check your weather forecast first. It is best to spray the chemical when no rain is expected for about 12 hours.

DON'T MOW

After spraying, don't mow the lawn for three or four days. The weeds should die within two to four weeks.

Some precautions in the use of two-four-D: Don't get it on flowers, vegetables or shrubs. And don't use the same sprayer for flowers or vegetables before washing it thoroughly with ammonia.

Control of lawn diseases and insects is no hit-or-miss proposition. Before taking any action, be sure you know what your problem is.

Most grass diseases can be controlled with chemicals known as fungicides. But remember that such chemicals are poisonous and should be used with extreme care.

After you determine exactly what disease you want to control, follow directions to the letter.

Shade Biennials From Winter Sun

The small plants of foxgloves and Canterbury bells grown from seeds last year and due to beautify your garden in June should be shaded from the late winter sun.

They undoubtedly look beautifully green and healthy right now, but it is well known that these plants rarely die from winter weather until late February or early March.

Bentgrass Worth Effort Expended

Bentgrass does have to be given a little more care than bluegrass-fine fescue, to look its best. But even then, the more erect Colonial bents don't need so much thinning nor constant attention as do creeping bents of the golf green.

Yet Colonial bents, too, have that incomparably fine texture that has made the bentgrass name famous.

The Highland variety in particular has a bluish cast, most attractive closeup and in contrast to border plantings. Because the seed comes only from a limited growing area in Oregon, where the summers are normally hot and dry.

Highland should not be quite so insistent on continual dampness as are some bents. And since it is available economically as seed, gardeners find it practical for maintaining those special nooks and glamor swards close by the house.

For best performance with any bentgrass, watering and regular feeding are needed. Also, bentgrass should be mowed low compared to the bluegrass-fescue lawn—less than an inch, even ½ inch if you prefer. Mow frequently. Weeding or thinning may be wanted occasionally, and perhaps a fungicide now and then.

The moderate extra effort that bentgrass requires is compensated for in its splendor for those close-by turfs where nothing less will do.

Weed Seeds Germinate

Find your new lawn a meadow of weeds and at once the seed is suspect. Did you buy a parcel of weeds? Almost certainly not. You couldn't if you wanted to. (A few years ago a chemical company offered fantastic prices for crabgrass seed, couldn't locate any!)

Thoroughly weedy seed just won't pass muster of state seed laws; and growers of the elite lawngrasses like bluegrasses and and fine fescues could hardly corral a buyer if the seed was really weedy.

No, that carpet of weeds almost surely came from old seed in the soil. Some seeds may endure for decades in a dormant state, especially if buried fairly deeply.

They revive if the ground is cultivated or the normal sod thins. Only part of the crabgrass seed set any one year sprouts the next — which still may be plenty to fill the yard, however.

It's costly to sterilize the lawn soil, killing the weed seeds there, and the average guy just does not do it. But take heart.

NEW LAWN

Even though the new lawn seems to come up weeds, a lot of 'em are just temporary, will disappear when mowing starts.

Most others will be squeezed out as the perennial grasses thicken. And the remainder can usually be controlled easily with herbicides such as 2, 4-D.

More important than worrying about weeds is to check your lawn seed to be sure only good grasses are contained, the kind listed as "fine-textured."

The label must also note any official weeds, but you'll find almost none are there.

Winter Path Cut Lawn?

Examine your lawn now for signs of "permanent" paths across it.

Either plan to construct a path where there are signs of constant use or get ready for an early spring reseeding job.

The idea that a frozen lawn is not hurt by regularly walking on it is erroneous.

This is Agrico 1-2-3.

It's the new, easy way to control crabgrass, lawn insects and feed your lawn—all in one application.

Why fuss with three different products to do three different lawn jobs? New Agrico 1-2-3 does it all in one shot—and you save money in the bargain.

Agrico 1-2-3 kills crabgrass before it emerges, controls grubs and other lawn-eating soil insects all season long. Besides all this, Agrico contains a special blend of lawn nutrients to get grass off to a vigorous, colorful start.

Get Agrico 1-2-3 and apply it this weekend before crabgrass and insects can get a foothold. One 25-lb. bag of Agrico 1-2-3 treats and feeds 2500 square feet of lawn. Only $7.95

Results show with Agrico—that's why 2 out of 3 professional turfmen buy and use Agrico.

May Be Invading Michigan

Virus Kills Corn Plants

A new disease which can completely destroy corn crops may soon be heading into Michigan. And scientists are working earnestly to bar the door against it.

Called "Maize Dwarf Mosaic," the disease is caused by a virus and transmitted by corn leaf aphids. It has already ruined corn crops in Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Ohio and other central and southern states.

"To get an idea just how fast the disease is moving, you need only look at the Ohio situation," reports E. C. Rossman, Michigan State University crop scientist. "Two years ago the disease was reported in only two fields in all of Ohio. This year, disease symptoms have been found in all but six counties.

"We haven't identified the disease in Michigan as yet, but we know that it is mighty close — probably just across the border. We also know that there is no fence yet built that can keep it out of the Wolverine State."

But there is one "fence" that could be "constructed" to protect Michigan corn growers. It's called "disease resistance."

FIGHT BEGUN

Rossman has already begun a search for Michigan-adapted varieties that are not susceptible to the disease. He notes that some resistant varieties have already been found, but most of these are too late in maturity for Michigan.

"There is an outside chance that some of the varieties we are now using may carry at least some resistance," contends Rossman. "Some of our experimental inbreds and hybrids were developed from prolific Tennessee lines which carry some resistance to the disease."

This winter Rossman will start some breeding research in Florida. Next spring and summer, the breeding research and evaluation will be conducted in cooperation with the Ohio State University Agricultural Experiment Station to find out how well the Michigan varieties will perform in areas which are under severe attack from maize dwarf mosaic.

Most of this work will be carried out at a Portsmouth, Ohio field nursery. The experiments will be conducted in a field where a farmer had 10 per cent of his corn infected in 1962, 50 per cent in 1963 and 100 per cent infection last year.

"In areas such as these, some farmers have quit growing corn," says Rossman. "A conservative estimate of total corn losses in 1964 due to the virus disease in Ohio alone was about 5 million bushels."

"But we at least have a start toward protecting Michigan growers. We already know something about the disease and what causes it. We also know that it starts slowly and that we may have an opportunity to get resistant varieties before it gets too well established."

Rossman just returned from a meeting at Wooster, Ohio, where scientists from throughout the Corn Belt gathered to review information and plan research on maize dwarf mosaic. He was accompanied to the meeting by four other MSU scientists, all of whom will play an important role in protecting Michigan's corn crop.

SPECIALISTS

These men include A. H. Ellingboe and N. A. Smith, of the Department of Botany and Plant Pathology; James Bath, an entomologist; and Stuart Hildebrand, another crop scientist.

If Rossman doesn't find Michigan varieties that are resistant, he will probably cross Michigan material with late maturing (and resistant) southern material.

"This wouldn't give us complete resistance, but some is better than none," comments Rossman.

A second alternative would be the development of resistant lines from plant material already available. Even with Rossman's winter breeding research program in Florida, this project would take at least three years.

But he and his colleagues at least have a start on this serious corn threat. And they have already begun an earnest effort to stop it from invading Michigan.

Course Covers Rose Gardening

Correspondence courses at Penn State announce the complete revision of the course on Rose Gardening.

The new course deals with the culture and care of roses grown in home gardens.

Condition Tools Before Storing to Avoid Rust

Most "gardener-fathers" are everlastingly after the small fry to put tools back where they belong, clean and dry.

Yet, these same fathers, hard-pressed for time, frequently round up all those expensive, helpful pieces of gardening equipment, pack them into a crowded corner of the garage or tool-shed, and hope for the best each Fall.

The pleasures of a blooming Spring garden will be somewhat watered-down if spreaders, mowers, and rakes present a rusty, neglected look.

Oil applied to metal parts will double the life of much garden equipment. When caring for the spreader, avoid dabbing paint near the holes to prevent possible clogging.

PRACTICALLY PERFECT—Cover the cracks with annuals and cut down the need to weed these spaces between stepping stones or patio squares. Here sweet alyssum borders the path and soon will cover cracks.

Sow Low Annuals to Carpet Crevices

With the present popularity of terraces and patios, the many different kinds of paving often present weeding problems. Why give weeds a chance to grow?

Early sowing of annuals which naturally grow low and spreading will give these a head start and if you keep a space clear around them for just a little while there'll be no need to weed later in the season.

The annuals will cover the cracks and provide color and, sometimes, fragrance.

Shown in the illustration is sweet alyssum used in the cracks of a flagstone path.

It also is used as a border along the edge of the path so that border and cracks will gradually merge into a carpet of one color.

MANY COLORS

As you know, sweet alyssum is available with flowers of white, pink, lavender or purple so even this one annual offers a wide choice.

Creeping zinnia might be used in a similar situation and its small yellow flowers would present a different color scheme from alyssum.

Lobelias with blooms of varying shades of blue or white would be equally suitable and grow especially well in light shade.

For long-season weed avoidance, verbenas in mixed colors or in white, pink, rose, lavender or purple would be a happy choice — for these annuals continue to grow and flower until hard frost.

Portulacas are the gayest of the spreading annuals. Coming as they do with single or double flowers in bright yellows, roses, pinks and white, they are particularly suitable for a sunny situation where soil is poor for they thrive under these conditions.

Cutworms, working mostly at night, destroy young plants by cutting the stems. They actually ruin more vegetation than they devour.

Prepare Bulb Bed Before Planting

When planting summer bulbs in solid beds in new soil, take a good, sturdy shovel or spade, lift off the top soil one shovel-blade deep over the entire bed and pile it aside.

Then take your spade or spading fork and improve the soil under it an equal depth. Mix in a 2-inch layer of compost and some good bulb food (or vegetable garden fertilizer) at the rate of 5 pounds per 10 by 10-foot square.

Rake the surface smooth and set your bulbs evenly. Then prepare the top soil the same way and return it to its original location.

Plant small bulbs the same way, if you so desire, but not so deep or set them individually.

Time to Fix Cold Frame

Any warm day is a good time to repair your cold frame if you have one or start constructing one if you haven't.

As small a frame as 2 feet by 4 feet will enable you to start seeds of annual flowers and vegetables for extra-early blooms and crops.

As soon as these plants are out of the frame, it may be used for planting seeds of perennials — much cheaper from seeds than bought as plants.

North America has more than 50 kinds of oak trees. The most important is the white oak, which grows from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Trim Edges Chemically

The frequent chore for every home gardener, of keeping areas neatly trimmed with mechanical edgers, and lawn shears, will become as old-fashioned as "chopping kindling for the kitchen stove" for those who use E-Z Edge.

E-Z Edge is composed of two chemicals: one killing the grass and weeds; the other for long term soil sterilization. These chemicals are laminated into a water soluble plastic strip.

When this tape is laid down and watered thoroughly, the plastic disappears, releasing the chemicals into the topsoil. The effectiveness lasts up to five years and costs about two and one half cents per foot.

Many applications have been found: trimming the lawn next to walks; eliminating weeds and grass between flagstones slabs and from cracks; establishing a "grass free" line between lawn and shrub area; underneath chain link or picket fences; around sprinkler heads; adjacent to walls and buildings, and around swimming pools.

ALSO, it is ideal for the marking of lines on athletic fields, around traps and fairways on the golf course and around headstones in cemeteries.

The deposited chemicals leave a distinct path, up to a maximum of four inches wide wherever application is made. Growth beyond this width will not be affected, when used according to simple "step-by-step" directions. Neither chemical is hazardous to children or pets.

It is available in packages containing 60'-300' and 1,000' of tape at local lawn and garden stores and counters.

Time to Discover Caterpillar Nests

March and April are the months to seek out and burn tent caterpillar eggs. Children as well as adults often make this pre-spring project. School classes and garden clubs can run contests to get rid of this serious pest, the Eastern tent caterpillar.

Egg masses containing 150 to 350 eggs each are found encircling smaller twigs of wild cherry, apple, hawthorne, flowering crabapple and quince.

The egg masses are oval-shaped, like a football, chocolate-brown in color, glistening with a varnish-like coat. The twigs encircled are smaller in diameter than a lead pencil. If you don't get rid of eggs early, the tent caterpillars can completely defoliate valuable trees when they hatch.

Do this: With a sharp knife slice off the twig back of the eggs, then burn the egg masses. It's as simple as that. Otherwise, you would have to rely on sprays to control the tent caterpillars later.

Mail Course for Basics

For a general but comprehensive presentation of growing flowers at home, The Pennsylvania State University offers a course in floriculture by correspondence.

Basic gardening practices, including soil management, plant propagation, and care of annuals, perennials, roses and container-grown plants both indoors and out, make up the lessons. Some technical information is given, but it's written in easy-to-read language.

Anyone may enroll and get a copy of the course by sending his name and address with $2.50 to Home Floriculture, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania 16802.

Pansies Blossom a Long Time

With moderate attention, pansies will give your border blooms for months.

* * *

If you have raised pansies from seed, transplant before the buds form to reduce shock to a minimum, compared with blooming time.

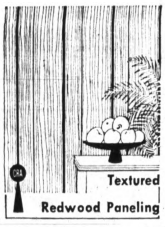

Keep the flowers plucked to increase vitality for growth.

Fertilize lightly occasionally (monthly) to help increase the size of flowers, and pinch back long shoots. Pansies enjoy a bit more water than many other plants, so plant them in a bit of a hollow to provide a rain catcher.

Mrs. Lippard died Wednesday after an illness of seven months.

A graduate of the University of Vincennes, she helped her husband establish the furniture and cartage businesses at 133 Oakland more than 35 years ago.

During this period, she served as bookkeeper and assisted with operation of the business.

Western Film Makers Barred by Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk's government barred western film companies from shooting in Cambodia today because of comments British actor Peter O'Toole and Israeli actress Daliah Lavi made about the country.

A government announcement accused O'Toole and Miss Lavi of "scandalous disparagement against Cambodia" after the filming in the country of "Lord Jim." It said other western film makers also had disparaged Cambodia.

Waterford Twp. to Step Up Traffic Safety Campaign

Alarmed over the sharp increase in fatal accidents this year, Waterford Township officials yesterday laid the ground work for a stepped-up traffic safety campaign.

The first step will be immediate establishment of a traffic safety school conducted by the police department.

Motorists cited for serious moving violations will be ordered to attend the classes by the township's justices of the peace prior to sentencing.

Also discussed at the informal meeting of community officials, police officers and the justices were other measures aimed at reversing an increasing accident trend.

Principal attention was given to suggested upward revisions in fines for speeders and a generally tougher policy against the flagrant violator.

TO CHECK OTHERS

Justice Patrick K. Daly, who was host for the meeting, will check speeding fine practices elsewhere in the state and report to the group at a future meeting.

Daly and John E. McGrath, the township's other justice, both said they generally fine a speeder one dollar per mile over the limit.

Though the total number of accidents in the township is up only slightly this year to date over the same period a year ago, 10 fatal accidents occured in the township during the first quarter this year compared to three for the period last year.

Township Board Trustee Loren Anderson, who requested the meeting, said that all efforts must be made to stop the highway slaughter.

'CAN'T TOLERATE THIS'

"The majority of society can no longer tolerate this minority which uses our roads as a playground," Anderson said.

Trustee Rudy Mansfield attributed the accident problem in part to the fact that many motorist feel that Waterford is "soft on tickets" and become careless.

Proclaim April 12-17 Future Teachers Week

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has proclaimed April 12-17 as Future Teachers Week in Michigan to promote interest among young people in teaching careers. Romney also proclaimed May as Hemophilia Month to encourage the fight against the disease, mainly affecting children.

City Motorist Hurt in Crash

A rear-end auto crash yesterday hospitalized a 27-year-old Pontiac man, Donald Brown of 147 N. Merrimac.

According to police, Brown's car was struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by William D. Ostrander, 47, of 28 S. Edith.

Brown was listed in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with back injuries.

Ostrander told police his car slid into Brown's as he tried to stop for a red light at N. Paddock and Ellwood. The accident happened at 4:15 p. m.

The yearly value of new non-farm homes and apartments built in this country increased 318 per cent between 1946 and 1963.

Heavy Trading

Stock Market Resumes Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market resumed its rally in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Many key stocks made moderate gains. A few advanced a point or more.

Analysts said sentiment was helped considerably by the fact that this is the last day to sell stocks "regular way" (four-day delivery) to use the cash for paying income taxes due April 15.

The tone was generally higher among steels, rails, motors, airlines, electrical equipments, aerospace issues, chemicals, nonferrous metals and utilities.

Cigarette stocks tended to ease and electronics were mixed. Many leading issues were unchanged.

At noon the Dow industrials were up 3.64 at 901.54.

On average, the market advance was a solid one. Volumewise, it was the heaviest of the week.

General Motors traded unchanged at its high.

Prices rose in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Helena Rubinstein, after rising about 6, showed a net gain exceeding 3. A company spokesman said no merger or sale of the firm was planned. Westab rose about 2. Up about a point were Computer Sciences, Microwave Associates, Astrodata and Walter Kidde. Ford of Canada rose a point and a half. Fractional gainers included D. Kaltman, Flying Tiger, Banff Oil and Siboney.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds edged lower.

For Better Adjustment

Young Pupil Should Be Less Aggressive

By LESLIE J. NASON, E. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: Recently our 7-year-old daughter, who is in the second grade, received her report card. We were pleased with the results of her efforts, which consisted of all Bs with one A.

However, in the space reserved for the teacher's comments was this memo: "Mary would be a happier child if she were not so competitive."

Both my wife and I were of the opinion that a competitive spirit was necessary both while in school and during later life.

Y. J. H., Silver Spring, Md.

Very young children are self-centered. They strive to learn to walk and to talk, but not from any competitive drive. Competitive spirit is developed as children mature. Your seven-year-old, in the teacher's opinion, is developing this spirit too rapidly.

Help her see that as long as she does the best she can, she does not have to be the best.

A child who must always win is often an unhappy child.

Dear Dr. Nason: My second daughter is in high school. All through school I encouraged her to follow in the footsteps of her older sister whose marks were excellent. Now her marks are lower than ever. I have talked with her counselor to no avail. My daughter has lost interest in school and wants to drop out.

Is there anything I can do to keep her in school?

Your first mistake was in holding the older daughter up as an example. Your second mistake was to rely upon encouragement rather than help. Your daughter's attitude developed over a considerable period of time.

Now, at high school age, what you think is encouragement is pressure on the girl.

Improvement can now be brought about ONLY if your daughter is willing to try for it. Arrange for some expert consulting in learning techniques. Your school superintendent should be able to refer you to such a person.

Get all the information you can. Choose a major and work hard at it. This will be worthwhile even if you change your field later. Here are some sources of information.

Collier-Macmillan Library Div. 60 Fifth Ave., N. Y. 11, N. Y. has analyzed 121 careers in a booklet they sell for 50 cents each.

When you are defending against a slam contract and have to make an early discard it is a pretty good general rule to let go a card from your longest suit. It is a far better general rule to stop a while and decide as to whether or not declarer holds as many cards in that suit as you do.

JACOBY

East was playing a very relaxed game. He was pleased when his partner opened the queen of hearts against the spade slam and signaled with the seven spot.

Declarer led dummy's king of trumps and East dropped the three of clubs. He had five of them and certainly thought that he could spare one.

He could not have been more wrong! The club discard let South bring home a slam contract that normally would have been wrecked on the rocks of distribution.

All South had to do was to cash dummy's ace and king of diamonds so as to get rid of his losing heart. Then he led the queen of clubs.

East covered with his king. Not that it mattered since the damage had already been done. South won with his ace and led the jack.

West ruffed and led a second heart which South ruffed. Then South trumped a low club in dummy, drew trumps and made the last two tricks with his last two clubs.

If East had thought carefully at trick two he would have noted the possibility that declarer would hold five clubs. He would also have noted that he could well afford a heart discard, whereupon South would have had no way to make 12 tricks.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 4 3 2 ♥ K 8 7 ♦ K 6 5 4 ♣ K 3 2

What do you do?

A — Pass. You seldom hang one trick short of game, but this time you should do so.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three hearts, your partner has gone to two no-trump. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . A stroke of genius points the way."

For Saturday

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Your day and evening to enjoy CREATIVE RELAXATION. Romantic interests highlighted. You will be better able to put meanings across. You earn respect — and love.

TARUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): Be ready for challenges, some obstacles. Stress the new, unusual. Don't be bogged down with details. Restrictions due to be lifted. Know this and plan accordingly.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Be objective. Take short journey, if necessary. Handle correspondence. Obtain hint from today's TAURUS message. Important to be specific and thorough. Cooperate with relatives.

CANCER (June 21 — July 22): Your sense of humor can "save the day." Family members tend to be ultra-sensitive. This likely to revolve around subject of MONEY. Give a little . . . gain much.

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): Attend to personal affairs. Get house in order. Tonight you may find yourself the "center of attention." Be gracious. But pull out all stops where SHOWMANSHIP is concerned.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): Good to ENGAGE IN RESEARCH. Check statements. Be aware of what goes on behind the scenes. Throw off tendency to be "uncertain." Your ideas sparkle. Utilize them!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Cement group affiliations. Strive for harmony. Key is your innate grace, charm. Your sense of justice also comes into play. Lend helping hand to friend. Pays dividends!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 — Nov. 21): Exciting aspects! You dig deep and come up with "hidden" facts. Social affairs highlighted. So is your sense of responsibility. Impress higher-ups. Do what must be done — efficiently.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Good lunar aspect emphasizes long-range planning. Keep communication lines open. Travel — make calls and write. Cycle of much action . . . but it is one which DOES bring results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Finish projects. Don't hang on to situation which drains vitality. Shake off emotional lethargy. Examine future possibilities. Applies to personal as well as professional life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): Paradoxical situation may exist. Take initiative. Lead rather than follow. Set example. Check with expert. Gain knowledge from a variety of sources. Then use experience to arrive at firm decision.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Intuitive intellect accented. Hunch proves profitable. Consult neighbor or fellow worker. Share desires, hopes. Then you gain valuable allies. Stress REASON, LOGICAL approach.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are an innovator, a pioneer. You investigate — and take a chance in creative fields.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for LEO, VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to GEMINI: If you are versatile, your chances for success are heightened.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Vote Age Bill Goes to State Senate Floor

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee sent the 18-year-old-voter amendment to the Senate floor Thursday but deferred action on two other controversial measures: university autonomy and the implied consent drunken driver law.

The measure on 18-year-olds requires a constitutional amendment. It would have to be approved by two-thirds of each house, then voted on favorably by the public. It would lower the minimum Michigan voting age by three years.

The committee voted 4-0 with an abstention and two absentees after little debate.

Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Dearborn, told the committee his constitutional amendment removing university and college autonomy is necessary "if we're going to move forward in higher education."

STRONGER CONTROL

His proposal would give the new State Board of Education stronger control over the state's 10 institutions of higher learning.

University control is a hot issue currently because of the University of Michigan's disputed plans to expand its Flint branch.

Robinson said U-M branches at Flint and Dearborn "have not blossomed as we thought they would." He pointed to the University of California as "one of the best universities in the country" and one which operates under centralized control.

A decision on the amendment on the amendment was deferred.

13 PROPOSED CHANGES

Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, presented the committee with 13 proposed amendments to his implied consent bill but action on them was not immediately taken.

The implied consent law would state that a person receiving a driver's license implies his consent to submit to tests for drunkenness.

Zaagman's amendments would narrow the situations in which such a blood test could be taken and would strengthen the driver's means of avoiding license revocation.

Spouse Most Ardent Fan of Sexy Rexy Harrison

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The big glamour news this week is that Mrs. Sexy Rexy Harrison is very much in love with Mr. Sexy Rexy Harrison.

WILSON

The fourth Mrs. Sexy Rexy . . . lovely young Welsh blond Rachel Roberts who won a British Oscar . . . is tossing her own booming acting career into the jolly old Thames to become a dutiful housewife. She'll patter along after her Oscar-winning master like a terrier barking a soft "Yes, Love," to all . . . or practically all . . . of his requests.

Rachel told me this a few nights ago at a ball and I guess I can reveal it now.

I'd better reveal it now or I won't have a column today.

"I know I'll sound like a real square but rather than be an actress I prefer being a housewife to Rex," she said. I can't say she told me exclusively . . . because people all around the table heard her raving about him.

In fact, she lectured me about his qualities with such violence that in about three more hours I'd have hated him, and I love him.

"Rex loves America and so do I!" she said. "Why do Americans feel inferior?"

(I don't know where she found any that do).

Syb says Americans have a saying, 'New York's a wonderful place to visit but it's terrible to live there.' Syb says it should be the opposite: 'New York's a wonderful place to live but it would be terrible if you could only visit there.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Oscar-winner Rex Harrison also has a new granddaughter (via son Noel) . . . Actress Barbara Harris refused to wear the topless bathing suit Rudy Gernreich designed for her for "Oh Dad, Poor Dad" . . . Kirk Douglas, back from filming "Heroes of Telemark" in Norway, reports co-star Richard Harris has "a temper like a wounded lion" . . . Spike Jones became ill at Lake Tahoe's Harrah's, and his son, 16, led the band.

Penny Fuller did "Barefoot in the Park" the other night despite fever and flu — boy friend Tony Roberts was taking over the co-tsar role, and "I'll go on if I have to crawl" . . . The Secret Service is trying to learn who's making theater reservations in Jackie Kennedy's name . . . Melina Mercouri's new Athens apt. has a swimming pool in the bedroom.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's just one way (notes L. S. McCandless) to get more for the same money than you did ten years ago: Weigh yourself on a penny scale.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "People who fly into a rage generally make a bad landing."—Will Rogers.

EARL'S PEARLS: George Jessel said it: "The only reason I tell people the truth is so that they won't believe me."

Ted Berkelmann was approached by a panhandler, who asked: "Sir, can you help out a victim of the coin shortage?" . . . That's earl, brother.

Wrong-Way Driver Likely to Be Boozer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A four-year state and federal highway study has resulted in a bulky report on the problem of the wrong-way freeway driver.

The report concluded that the person most likely to cause an accident because of wrong-way freeway driving is, on the average, a 37-year-old man who leaves a tavern after 2 a.m., gets into his car, and can't figure which way he's going.

State Senate OKs 50 Per Cent Boost in Job Injury Benefits

LANSING (AP) — The Senate early today approved a 50 per cent boost in workmen's compensation benefits after a long Thursday of caucuses and party-line battles.

Working until 3:37 a.m., the Senate finally voted 23-13 for a measure which many Republicans and Democrats said would probably be vetoed by Republican Gov. George Romney after it moves through the House.

Some technical amendments won approval but in general, the measure was what had been recommended by the Senate Labor Committee and its chairman, Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley.

It boosts the maximum weekly benefits to injured workers to a $100 maximum, removes the 50-week limitation on payments and lifts the $10,500 ceiling on payments to silicosis victims.

Republicans argued the measure would cost business too much and hinder the state's economic growth.

DEMS RETORT

Democrats retorted that the increase would cost employers only a few cents per employe hour—producing an over-all cost increase pegged at $45 million by Republicans.

Both parties made some attempts to negotiate a compromise in benefits levels but never got closer than $10 per average weekly payment.

Democrats hoped they could win some Republican support to lessen the chances of a Romney veto. The governor has proposed a payment scale ranging to a $90 maximum.

Democrats retained the dependency factor in computing compensation payments. A worker with no dependents would receive a maximum of $75 per week. Each dependent is worth an extra $5 to a tops of $100 for five dependents.

No injured worker can receive more than two-thirds of his average weekly wages except that his payments must be at least $27 to $42, again depending on how many dependents he has.

The bill delays for one year the imposition of workmen's compensation on farm laborers. Democrats turned down an impassioned plea by Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, to eliminate any reference to agricultural compensation pending a study if that question.

They likewise turned down a series of Republican amendments which would have pegged average weekly payments at $72.50. The payment scale approved averages about $85.

Caucuses on the bill ran from 2:30 p.m. Thursday until nearly midnight.

Store Picketing to Be Probed

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Civil Rights Commission said Thursday it would investigate complaints that a West Side Detroit market is being picketed without regard for the owner's rights.

Azzam's Market has been picketed since a Negro youth, John Christian, 20, was shot and killed March 1 by a son of the owners. The death has been ruled "excusable homicide" by Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen.

The investigation was requested Wednesday by attorney Sheldon Otis for Louis and Emily Azzam who operate the market.

Pickets had called for an effort to drive the Azzams out of business. Fifteen of them have been charged with criminal conspiracy to deprive the market owners of their rights.

Murrow Is Discharged From Hospital in NY

NEW YORK (AP) —Edward R. Murrow, 56, the former news broadcaster and ex-head of the U.S. Information Service, has been discharged from New York hospital.

Murrow had a cancerous lung removed in October 1963. He entered the hospital for a general checkup March 3. Fifteen days later, the hospital said he had "developed minor complications" and would remain in the hospital longer than had been expected. He was discharged Wednesday night.

SUDDEN FLOOD—Cars on the streets of Nashville, Tenn., were caught in a quick flood yesterday as more than 1½ inches of rain were dumped on the city in an hour. Much of the sudden downpour ended up in residents' basements.

Floods Leave Thousands Homeless in the Midwest

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Floodwaters churned through streets, homes and fields in Iowa and Minnesota today, leaving thousands homeless. Towns in Indiana, Nebraska and Ohio were recovering from the lash of tornadoes or strong winds.

A 12-year-old boy standing near a tree was struck and killed by lightning during a hailstorm at Middletown in southwestern Ohio.

Rivers rose in many areas, causing the U.S. Weather Bureau to predict one of the worst flood seasons in many years.

Floods have driven more than 4,000 persons from their homes in Minnesota. More than 2,000 persons have been evacuated in Iowa.

A portion of the Flandreau Dam on the Cottonwood River near New Ulm, in southern Minnesota burst last night permitting a heavier flow of water downstream toward Mankato.

The Red Cross estimated that about 2,000 more persons would be evacuated within the next two days in the Mankato area, which is expected to get six inches more of water because of the broken dam.

RIVER TO CREST

The Minnesota River was expected to crest at 30 feet tomorrow at Mankato, breaking the record 29.9-foot crest in 1881. The river was at 27.6 feet last night.

Residents of Chaska were constructing a .31-foot .dike after the Weather Bureau forecast a 32-foot crest next week. Utility companies disconnected heating units.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag inspected the flooded area in a helicopter.

At least 20 Minnesota highways have been closed.

About 400 families were evacuated in Waterloo, Iowa, Thursday night when the Cedar River flowed into the town.

Witnesses Call Belcher Model Dad

Harry M. Belcher's boss and a neighbor yesterday pictured the accused Ferndale murderer as a model father who loved his six children.

His employer, Robert Hauswirth, president of the Waterston's Machine and Supply Co., and Mrs. Margaret Ahlstrom, 466 W. Hazelhurst, were the last two defense witnesses to testify before attorneys rested their case.

The case was expected to go to the Oakland County Circuit Court jury today.

Belcher is charged with first-degree murder of his wife, Catherine, who along with their children died in a fire at their home on Jan. 25.

BROUGHT CHILDREN

Hauswirth told the crowded courtroom that Belcher would sometimes bring his children to work with him, show pictures of the youngsters to other employes and pass out cigars on the arrival of a new baby.

Under cross-examination by Assistant Prosecutor James Roberts, Hauswirth said that he knew of Belcher's outside romance with Joyce Ann Cross, 20, of Hazel Park.

"I even talked to him about ending it," said Hauswirth.

Health Care Bill OK'd by House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's $6-billion health care-Social Security bill has swept through the House by a margin of almost 3 to 1 and Senate approval is expected within eight weeks.

The House passed the historic measure — the greatest revision and expansion of the Social Security system in its three decades of existence—by a 313-115 vote last night after rejecting a Republican substitute by a much closer vote, 236 to 191.

Republicans argued the plan to provide comprehensive health services for older Americans and to boost retirement benefits should be financed primarily by the general Treasury.

Democrats contended the bill's way is best—boosting the payroll tax on employers and employes. The House is overwhelmingly Democratic and the Democrats won.

The GOP leadership then freed individual Republicans from the restraint of a party position.

So, even though GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan voted against the Democratic administration's bill, it carried by the wide margin of almost 3 to 1.

The two key votes went this way: On substituting the Republican bill, 128 Republicans and 63 Democrats were on the losing side, bowing to 226 Democrats and 10 Republicans.

FINAL PASSAGE

On final passage of the administration bill, 248 Democrats and 65 Republicans triumphed over 42 Democrats and 73 Republicans.

Johnson said the House action "demonstrates once again the vitality of our democratic system in responding to the needs and will of the people."

The first step on the Senate side is a round of hearings before the Finance Committee. The chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said it will not be able to take up the measure until after the Easter recess, scheduled for April 15-21.

Preliminary plans, Byrd said, are for the committee to have two or three days general briefing sessions with officials of the departments concerned immediately after the recess and begin publis hearings probably the following week.

SENATE PASSAGE

A committee member, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said the Senate will pass the bill with few changes and by at least a 3-1 margin.

Countersuit by Scrap Yard

City Asked to Pay $750,000 Damages

At the conclusion of Pontiac's case against the Sam Allen & Sons scrapyard, Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem will begin hearing a countercomplaint asking damages of $750,000 from the city.

The countersuit, filed last month, is also asking the court to order the city to issue a scrap yard license to Allen, which the suit contends the city has refused to do.

Six witnesses took the stand yesterday and testified that they were being disturbed by loud noises from the operation and that smoke and vibrations were causing them headaches.

In all, 20 persons have testified against the firm at 22 Congress. All are residents of the area.

One witness, Perry Glass of 32 Bagley, said he was "astonished that a machine could make so much noise."

JOINS RESIDENTS

The city joined a number of area residents in bringing suit against Allen, claiming that the operation is a nuisance and asking that an injunction be ordered against the firm.

City Attorney William Ewart was slated to question a sound expert during the trial today. The trial is in its fourth day.

Ewart said that he expected the hearing to continue into next week.

Ewart said he would also ask Allen to testify about the expansion of the operation and any improvements that have been made to lessen noise.

In February, Judge Ziem signed a temporary order restraining the firm from bringing in scrap metal during late evening and early morning hours.

OPEN DRIVER SCHOOL — Pontiac Press Managing Editor Harry J. Reed was the first speaker at last night's opening session of the city's first driver school. A capacity crowd turned out for the school, sponsored by the Pontiac Police, Automobile Club and The Press.

Drivers' School Initiated Before 'Record' Gathering

When Gov. Romney came to Pontiac several months ago, he said the highway death toll would stop mounting only when people became concerned enough to do something about the problem.

Nearly 200 persons here last night indicated they were ready to take action as they turned out for the city's first driver school.

Sponsors of the school — the Pontiac Police, the Automobile Club and the Pontiac Press — were all caught by surprise by the "record" turnout.

The crowd filled both courtrooms of Pontiac's Municipal Court and flowed into the hallways of the public safety building, 110 E. Pike.

Last night's class, first of its kind in the area, was the initial session of a regular drivers' school to be held on the second Thursday of each month.

TRAFFIC LAWS

At the school, drivers will be brought up to date on driving skills and traffic laws.

Topics under discussion include driver attitude, car maintenance, speed, how to signal for turns and maneuvering, freeway driving and the pedestrian.

Last night's opening session was a special one with representatives of all three sponsoring organizations on hand to welcome guests.

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger, Auto Club Pontiac Division Manager Harold Heumann and Pontiac Press Managing Editor Harry J. Reed all spoke briefly to the assembled group on the importance of driver safety.

SPECIALISTS

Hanger said he hoped the school would make all drivers specialists in survival.

He said he was very impressed with the magnitude of the traffic problem and said it was a tribute to the people of Pontiac that so many people had the intelligence and the interest to attend.

Two instructors took part at the opening session. Reyniear Staats, special project coordinator for the Auto Club's safety and traffic division and Pontiac Patrolman Billie Irwin conducted the school.

A color slide presentation on traffic laws and driver responsibilities was given during the 75 minute session.

DRIVE QUIZ

Those attending the session were given a "take home" driver quiz and a speed and distance chart.

The next regular session of the school will be Thursday, May 13 at 7:30 p.m.

A larger meeting room is being sought to house the driver school. The location of the next class will be announced later.

One Communist Craft Possibly Shot Down Near China Territory

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Navy Phantom jets flying top cover for the most massive air strike yet staged against North Viet Nam battled Communist MIGs over the sea 25 miles from Red China's Hainan Island today.

One of the Soviet-built jet fighters possibly was shot down. It was seen disappearing into clouds in flames.

The nationality of the MIGs was not determined, but they were presumed to be North Vietnamese.

There was no announcement of any American losses in the air battle.

DEATH PENALTY

A five-man Vietnamese military tribunal sentenced to death the driver of the getaway motorbike in the U.S. Embassy bombing of March 30 despite the Viet Cong's threat to execute a captive U.S. aid mission official, Gustav C. Hertz of Leesburg, Va., in reprisal.

The condemned terrorist is Nguyen Van Hai, 27. There is no appeal from the tribunal's sentence, but Chief of State Phan Kac Suu could commute it.

About 220 U.S. Air Force and Navy planes raided North Vietnamese bridges in this 20th such operation against military targets of the Haoni regime since Feb. 7.

Masters 2nd Round

Gary Player Leads Pack

By BRUNO I. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Garbed in his traditional tournament black shirt and cap, Gary Player, 29-year-old pro from South Africa, led the field in the second round of the 29th annual Masters golf tournament today.

Player, dubbed the "Mortician" because of his black clothing, buried the proud Augusta National course with his seven-under par 65 in yesterday's opening round.

A total of 30 golfers out of a field of 91 fired sub-par rounds while 10 others hit par-72 to help with the burial of this famous course of Robert Trent Jones.

Augusta officials showed great shock at the low scores on the first round but they were certain that another day of 85-90 degree temperatures plus the pin placements would make the course tougher to crack.

There was a very strong wind this morning which was certain to have an effect on the playing conditions.

Two strokes behind Player at 67 were Jack Nicklaus, Tommy Aaron, Dan Sikes and Tony Lema. Frank Beard followed with a 68.

Among those at 69 were Doug Sanders, Tommy Bolt, George Bayer, Wes Ellis and Ray Floyd.

Arnold Palmer and Byron Nelson were among eight at 70 and there were 13 at one under-par 71 including former Masters champions Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret.

After today's round, the field will be cut to the low 44 or to those within 10 strokes of the leader.

Saturday and Sunday's rounds have been completely sold out which means 50,000 spectators will tour the course each day, at $7.50 a person.

Killer Carl Foster Gets 10-15 Years in State Prison

The sentence was ordered by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Foster, 29, of 286 S. East Blvd. pleaded guilty to involuntary manslaughter March 26 in the death of a Bloomfield Township divorcee. Maximum sentence for involuntary manslaughter is 15 years.

He had originally been charged with first-degree murder in the killing of Mrs. Maurice Crook, 20, of 2401 S. Telegraph on Dec. 12, 1963.

Her body was found the next day in a lovers' lane at Featherstone and Opdyke. She had been beaten and strangled.

Saturday Skies to Be Sunny Note

Tomorrow's weather will fit the golf season to a tee. Mostly sunny skies with slightly warmer temperatures are forecast. The high will be 50 to 58.

Tonight, however, will remain cool with a low expected around 28 to 35.

The lowest temperature recorded downtown this morning was 34. At 1 p.m., the mercury stood at 49.

For Steren Club

Many Factors Delay Gambling Trial

Why has it taken 20 months to bring the Steren Assembly Club gambling case to trial?

Many factors have been responsible for the delay in bringing the case before a jury. Some are clear; others obscured in legal maneuvering.

Most recently, the trial had been scheduled to begin April 1, but three days before it got under way, another in a long string of adjournments was granted.

A new trial date of May 11 has been scheduled. This is the start of the next Circuit Court jury term and exactly 20 months since the plush Madison Heights club was raided by state police.

Twenty-four were charged with three counts of conspiracy to operate a gambling establishment and three high misdemeanor gambling counts.

Two of the suspects, Eddie Guarella of St. Clair Shores and Joseph Brooklier of Mount Clemens, were named in a U.S. Senate Crime Committee hearing the day before the raid as members of the Mafia.

Editor's Dream True: 'Man Bites Dog' Story

YOKOHAMA (AP) — A mongrel dog was in critical condition today after being bitten by a man.

Police gave this account:

Nishimura opened the gate, caught the dog and bit it. The dog bit back.

Nishimura bit the dog again and continued biting it.

CALLED POLICE

It took two police officers to pull man and dog apart.

Officials said that although the dog got the worst of the fight, they were keeping it under watch for any signs of rabies.

No charges were filed.

"We believe Nishimura already has been punished," said a police officer.

Cuba Jails Ministers as Spies

HAVANA (AP) — The Castro government is holding 47 Baptist preachers — including two Americans —and 13 laymen as spies for the United States.

A spokesman for the Western Cuba Baptist Convention said two-thirds of the Baptist ministers in western Cuba are in jail.

Swiss Ambassador Emil Stadelhofer, who handles U.S. interests in Cuba, has not been permitted to see the arrested men.

The Americans are the Rev. Herbert Caudill, 61, head of the convention and a missionary here the past 35 years; and his son-in-law; the Rev. James David Fite, 31, of Waynesboro, Ga.

Their wives and relatives of the other men were notified they would be able to visit the prisoners next Tuesday.

Mrs. Caudill refused Thursday night to comment on her husband's arrest except to remark that they had "not faced any trouble before in Cuba and were dedicated to teaching and preaching."

RAIDING PARTIES

Cuban authorities picked up seven ministers in outlying provinces some days ago. Thursday at dawn, raiding parties searched homes and churches in the Havana area, arresting 40 preachers and the 13 laymen.

Caudill was arrested at the Baptist Seminary in Havana, where he lived and taught.

Cuba's government radio charged that Caudill and the other churchmen, "working under the cloak of religion, organized a counterrevolutionary group for missions of espionage and subversion."

Caudill, a native of Clinchport, Va., returned to the United States last year for surgery on a detached retina. Dr. Arthur B. Rutledge, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, said in Atlanta, Ga., Thursday that during the months Caudill was home, he would not even discuss Cuban political matters for fear he would jeopardize his return to Cuba.

The Western Cuba Baptist Convention has 90 churches with an estimated 9,000 adult communicants in Havana, Matanzas, Pinar del Rio and Las Villas provinces.

AFFILIATION

The Eastern Cuba Baptist Convention, affiliated with the Northern Baptists in the United States, has about 10,000 members.

Two other Baptist missionaries, Miss Lucille Kerrigan and Miss Ruby Miller, were expelled by the Cuban government in July 1963 and now work with Cuban refugees in Miami.

BARN FERRIED ACROSS POND—A 100-year-old barn on a raft is pulled across Redd's Pond in Marblehead, Mass., yesterday by a dory with Lincoln Hawkes, the new owner, and Gerald Smith at the oars. The 20-ton building, formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Libbey, was given to Hawkes provided he move it as soon as possible because the Libbeys plan to build a new modern barn on the old site. Hawkes plans to convert the old barn into a cider mill.

Belcher Called Model Father said she saw Belcher "many times in the back yard playing with the children."

MADE PLAYHOUSE

"He even made some sort of a playhouse for them," she added.

She said that during the fire she attempted to keep Belcher calm while he sat in a car where he was wrapped in a blanket to escape the cold.

"I sat down beside him and he said 'My God, Catherine's upstairs too.

WAS CRYING

At William Beaumont Hospital, "he was crying," said Mrs. Ahlstrom, who had accompanied Belcher there.

"He said 'Why don't they let me see my wife,' and 'I want to see my kids,' " Mrs. Ahlstrom said.

Her testimony conflicted with prosecution witnesses who said Belcher expressed little concern about the fire after arriving at the hospital, where he was treated for smoke inhalation.

Earlier in the day, Roberts, cross-examining Belcher, who had taken the stand for the second day, said, "Did you know that you were playing checkers in the hospital at the time of funeral."

* * *

"I suppose I was," Belcher replied.

But How Long?

Berlin Highways Open

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists left the Berlin autobahn open throughout the morning today for the first time since they started closing it on Monday.

A U.S. military convoy of four vehicles and nine men was cleared for West Berlin without trouble. Civilian traffic moved in both directions.

The Communists offered no explanation for the change in procedure. For the past four days they have closed down the autobahn every morning at 9 a.m. for three or four hours.

There was still a possibility, however, that the Communists would close the autobahn later in the day. A Soviet officer told newsmen Thursday night in Helmstedt that the daily shutdowns would continue until Soviet-East German military maneuvers end on Sunday.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

There was a marked slowdown on traffic entering the West German end of the 110-mile superhighway. Trucks were backed up for seven miles at the Helmstedt checkpoint and were waiting 27 to 28 hours before going through the Communist controls.

About 100 cars were lined up at Helmstedt. The waiting period for them was three to four hours.

The intermittent blockade of Berlin traffic that began Monday posed a challenge to the United States, Britain and France to take counter measures which could create a new East-West crisis but so far the Western Allies confined themselves to protests.

"The longer the harassment goes on, the more serious the situation created by the harassment will be," a State Department spokesman said in Washington.

RED ANGER

The harassment of traffic was generally viewed as an expression of Red displeasure over the meeting of the West German Bundestag in West Berlin Wednesday despite Communist insistence that the city is not part of West Germany.

Although the Bundestag meeting was over, the Communists closed the highway twice Thursday. For the first time, the evening closure lasted five hours, the longest stoppage since the blockades began.

A small U.S. convoy of three trucks was held on the autobahn for three hours by the morning blockade Thursday. The United States called this "a clear violation of the Western Allies' unrestricted access rights to Berlin."

Another U.S. military convoy of 22 trucks and 44 soldiers was being processed at Helmstedt when the autobahn reopened at noon Thursday.

EVENING BLOCKADE

During the evening blockade, 18 Western military vehicles were held up at Helmstedt and eight allied cars in Berlin. Again the Allies protested but the vehicles were not allowed to pass through East Germany until the barrier was lifted to all traffic.

The U.S. Army confirmed today that two officers assigned to the U.S. military mission in East Germany were involved in an accident on the autobahn Thursday. It said the accident was "minor" and denied earlier reports that the car went over a bank while being pursued by East German secret police.

Neither officer was injured. They were identified as Lt. Col. Leland B. Fair of Chillicothe, Mo., and Air Force Capt. Theodore C. Heine Jr. of Staten Island, N.Y.

The Army announcement said the accident had occurred as the result of efforts to avoid collision with a civilian truck.

CAR FOLLOWED

A spokesman later said it was understood the car had been followed by East German secret police, a frequent practice in that Commdnist country, but that it was not under pursuit.

400 Attend Boys' Club Awards Fete

Some 400 persons attended the annual Awards Banquet at the Pontiac Boys' Club, 530 E. Pike last night.

Boys and their fathers and club officials gathered in the gym for the awards presentation.

Howard Dell, president of the board of directors of the club, was presented the Extra Mile Award, for outstanding service and enthusiasm.

The entire board of directors was presented an award from the Boys' Club, also for outstanding service.

OTHER RECIPIENTS

Group club awards were presented to the Mustangs, the Knights and the Matadors.

Nearly 100 other awards were given, including the "California or Bust" physical fitness certificates to youths passing the fitness tests.

LINDA DARNELL

Fire Critically Burns Actress

3rd-Degree Wounds Over Most of Body

CHICAGO (UPI) — Actress Linda Darnell was critically burned early today when fire swept the suburban home of her ex-agent.

Miss Darnell, 40, was rushed to Skokie Valley Community Hospital. Spokesmen said she suffered third-degree burns over 85 to 90 per cent of her body.

Miss Darnell was pulled from the burning home by firemen.

Miss Darnell and Mrs. Richard Curtis, her former agent, stayed up late to watch a 1940 film, "Star Dust," which was being replayed on television. Miss Darnell starred in the film with actor John Payne.

Spokesmen said the two women sat up after the film, smoking cigarettes downstairs on the sofa. Then they went up to read in a second floor bedroom.

SMELLED SMOKE

Mrs. Curtis' daughter, Patricia, 16, smelled smoke, and the three apparently headed for a stairway from the second floor bedroom. Mrs. Curtis and the daughter stopped to put wet towels around themselves. They said they thought Miss Darnell was with them.

Instead, officers said, Miss Darnell apparently continued on downstairs. She was found behind a sofa in the burned-out living room, clad in pajamas.

School Aid Bill to LBJ Today?

Senate Will Debate Church-State Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders expect to pass President Johnson's school aid bill today and send it to him to sign into law. But first they will have to wrestle with the ticklish church-state issue.

As the Senate prepared to meet two hours early for a third day of debate on the $1.3-billion measure, an early vote was in prospect on an amendment sponsored by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

The onetime judge wants to tack onto the bill an amendment to specifically provide for judicial review of the aid that will indirectly go to church schools.

The House has already passed the bill —March 26 by a vote of 263 to 153 — and the Ervin amendment appeared to be the last major obstacle to enactment. For if no substantial changes are made there will be no need for a conference of House and Senate to resolve differences and the bill can be on President Johnson's desk by dusk.

HARD TO CHALLENGE

Ervin argued in presenting his amendment Thursday night that it is practically impossible for an ordinary taxpayer to challenge aid to parochial schools. The courts, he said, have held that an individual has too minimal an interest to sustain a suit.

But Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., former dean of the Oregon University Law School, appealed for defeat of the Ervin amendment.

OK Is Given to Tentative School Funds

A tentative budget of $2,393,980 for special education in the 1965-66 school year was approved yesterday by the Oakland Schools Board of Education.

This budget, along with the school system's regular 1965-66 tentative budget approved by the board in February, will be reviewed by the County Tax Allocation Board.

The special education budget is based on the assumption that voters will approve a proposed half mill tax increase in the June 14 school election.

Since 1954, the special education program has been financed by a half mill tax levy which yeilds $1.1 million in revnue annually.

If the proposal to double the present tax to a one mill levy is approved in the June election, revenue will increase to $2.2 million.

* * *

Though the special education budget will be examined by the allocation board, it will not share in the allocation of 15 mills to the county, school systems and townships.

Many Factors Delay Steren Club Case

with the misdemeanor of frequenting a gambling place.

They have never had an examination in Justice Court. Their hearing has been postponed indefinitely pending the outcome of the Circuit Court trial.

HALF PLEAD GUILTY

When the 25 were arraigned originally about half of them pleaded guilty but later withdrew their plea.

Those named in the felony warrants were arraigned Oct. 21, 1963, before Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Allen C. Ingle.

All demanded a preliminary examination and were released on $1,000 bond each.

The hearing was set for Nov. 19, then postponed until Jan. 7, then to Jan. 16 and finally to Feb. 4, 1964.

MUTUALLY AGREED

The several months delay was mutually agreed upon by attorneys to give the prosecution and defense an opportunity to prepare their case.

The hearing began Feb. 4 and ended nearly eight months later, with the dubious distinction of being the longest preliminary examination in the state's history.

The hearing concluded Sept. 18. In all, there has only been 22 days on which the hearing was actually in session. Six other session dates were postponed.

Conflicts in the schedules of the attorneys were blamed for the delays.

IN CIRCUIT COURT

"Either the prosecutor or the defense attorney had to be in Circuit Court on other matters," said Ingle. "And Circuit Court has preference over this court."

When it was over, Ingle had dismissed all charges against three of the defendants, saying that the testimony was insufficient to bind them over on the felony counts.

The 21 others were bound over to Circuit Court.

On Sept. 28, the 21 were arraigned before Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn. He ordered them to stand trial.

He strongly recommended that the case be heard during the following jury term, adding that it was an "old matter" and "should have been disposed of long ago."

The case was assigned for trial Dec. 18.

However, on the same day Thorburn expressed his concern over the case, he also granted a request to defense attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac that he be provided with a copy of the prosecutor's office official transcript of the justice court proceedings.

Robert L. Templin, then the assistant prosecutor handling the case, said it might take months for court reporters to complete.

It was February before the 3,000-page document was finished.

Templin resigned after losing in his bid for the post of county prosecutor to Democrat S. Jerome Bronson in the Nov. 3 election.

When Bronson took office in January he assigned his two most experienced trial lawyers to the case, William E. Lang and James Roberts.

Within a week, Lang had resigned to enter private practice.

Roberts was named to head the case, but since Bronson did not have a full complement of experienced assistants following the change in administration he did not immediately name another to work with Roberts.

The assignment went to Patrick Oliver when he joined the staff in early February.

Arguments were prepared by Roberts and Oliver on a motion filed earlier by Templin to have charges reinstated against the three defendants who were freed by Ingle, and renew two charges dismissed against 18.

On March 29, Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero, denied the motion.

SEEKS ADJOURNMENT

Roberts then asked for an adjournment of the April 1 trial date, so answers could be prepared on several motions filed by defense attorney Roeser. One of the motions is for a dismissal.

* * *

Dondero granted the postponement, but said he personally objected to further delaying the case.

* * *

A hearing to argue the motions is scheduled for April 20.

Won't Hurry on School ---Bloomfield Hills Board

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Permission to build a high school on Lahser Road did not come soon enough to save the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education from taking emergency action.

The board has decided it will not hurry construction of the unit to have it ready by the 1966-67 school year.

"This cannot be a crash program because we cannot have what we want the way we want it if we try to construct it in less than two years," Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson said today. "This is too big a project."

The decision to take the emergency action formulated earlier this year was made after a recent meeting the board held with educational consultants at Michigan State University, architects at Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc., and school administrators.

All agreed construction of the high school should be phased over a two-year period, Johnson said.

COURT SUIT

Plans for the district's second high school were halted by an Oakland County Circuit Court suit in which five Lahser Road couples protested the proposed location.

Permission to build the school on the 40-acre site was granted March 18 by Judge Philip J. Pratt.

However, the board has decided there is not enough time to meet the original construction deadline of September 1966.

* * *

It will revert to an emergency plan established during the Circuit Court litigation.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Construction of the district's third junior high school is to be speeded up so that it can be used by all of the district's sophomores for the 1966-67 school year.

The $1.8-million unit is to be built near Lone Pine and Middle Belt.

Because of the delay in plans for the high school, the Bloomfield Hills architectural firm now can concentrate on the junior high school, which can be planned and constructed faster than a high school, Johnson said.

"This is the lesser of several evils," he commented.

The encounter between the MIGs and the American planes was the third in a week.

On Sunday, MIGs attacked a formation of U.S. planes and shot down two F105s.

MATTER OF HOURS

There were indications that the Marines would begin landing in a matter of hours.

There had been reports for several days that the 7th Fleet transport Mt. McKinley was standing offshore loaded with Marines ready to land.

A U.S. statement said the additional Marines were requested by the government of South Viet Nam.

Both the reinforcements and the original contingent that landed last month are from the 9th Marine Brigade, formerly stationed on Okinawa.

Last Appeal Set on Air Service

A last chance appeal to save North Central Airlines (NCA) service to Pontiac and three other Michigan communities will be filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals.

James Ramsey, director of the State Aeronautics Department, announced the court action.

He said the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) would be asked to stay its decision to allow NCA to discontinue service to Pontiac, Port Huron and Cadillac-Reed City.

CAB has said that NCA service can stop April 19 under the board's "use it or lose it" policy which sets passenger quotas.

Pontiac city officials have indicated they will join in the federal court action.

Johnson Offers Key to Viet Nam Deadlock

In conciliatory but nonetheless firm terms, President JOHNSON in a Wednesday evening address extended the olive branch to Southeast Asia and coupled it with a proposal for a $1-billion program for economic and development aid for the embattled area.

Moved no doubt by the appeal of a bloc of 17 nonaligned nations, he proposed removal of the Administration's pre-condition of cessation of hostilities by the Viet Cong before initiating peace negotiations. The President indicated readiness to enter into such discussions even with the possibility that air strikes against North Viet Nam might continue during negotiations.

Johnson expressed hope that all industrial nations — including the Soviet Union — would join his plan for regional development of Southeast Asia. The plan would not exclude North Viet Nam from sharing its benefits once a stable peace had been achieved.

Although a few of the more militant leaders of both political parties expressed mild to strong opposition to what they considered Administration weakening, the majority of the Congress saw it as an earnest and well-intentioned approach to ending what LBJ termed the "dirty, brutal and difficult war."

Certainly, the generality of Americans as well as nationals of many other countries are thoroughly sick of the Viet Nam impasse. Enlarging on such general disaffection is the evidence that South Viet Nam is itself largely indifferent to the outcome.

Johnson said the air strikes against the north were launched to "convince the leaders of North Viet Nam, and all who seek to share their conquest, of a simple fact: We will not be defeated. We will not grow tired. We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

Within that context, President JOHNSON's modification of the original inflexible position of the U.S. is to be commended, reflecting, we think, a sincere but determined overture to end honorably an intolerable and pointless conflict.

Risk in Ear Needling, Point Out Physicians

From time immemorial, the male of the species has expressed his bemusement with the foibles of the distaff division with the frustration-laden question "What Will They Do Next?"

If, from our ivory tower, we may be permitted an observation on the unpredictability of ladies, we think it more important to let the future take care of itself and rephrase the question to "What Are They Doing Now?"

And one of the things they're doing — mainly the teen-agers — is remodeling their ears.

Yep. Not satisfied with the standard one-hole ear provided by nature, the gals are adding another —hole, not ear—from which adornment can be hung.

Starting with the announcement that LUCI-BIRD JOHNSON had had her ears pierced at the White House —seems as though ears are always making news around there—American girls have taken up do-it-yourself ear piercing like crazy.

The modus operandi seems to be to anesthetize the ear lobes with ice cubes and then have an accomplice pierce them with sterilized darning needles.

You can hardly believe your ears.

One of the problems, however, is seeing that both holes match. Physicians within earshot are complaining about being called upon to square up ragged jobs done by novice ear drillers.

More important, doctors caution that the dangers of infection are greatly increased by amateurs who may not know how to sterilize properly.

This whole ear business sounds pretty eerie but then, you know how women are.

"Do you believe the Government should own the railroads?" asks a columnist. Heavens, no! It's hard enough to figure out a railroad time table now.

LBJ Impressive With Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Political scientists will dig in President Johnson's record for years to come to learn the kind of polite judo he used on Congress to get what he wanted.

MARLOW

So far his record in foreign affairs is unimpressive but he has done amazingly well in getting action from Congress on his programs, particularly some which the men in the capitol steadfastly refused to approve for almost two decades.

There were two astonishing examples this week:

His proposal of federal aid to education — in elementary and secondary schools — came up for debate in the Senate and is likely to pass today. It passed the House March 26. Yesterday, the House passed Johnson's health care for the aged program.

Both programs are expected to become law. Both of them have been kicking around in Congress, in one form or another, for at least 18 years. Opposition to them was always too strong until now.

There are three obvious explanations for Johnson's success so far:

● As a result of the 1964 election, his Democrats have overwhelming control of Congress. In the House they outnumber Republicans 295 to 140 and in the Senate 68 to 32.

After the election, and despite his majorities in both houses, some predicted Johnson would coast and offer few programs. He has done just the opposite. He is making full use of his political advantage and deluging Congress with requests.

● He works at his job probably harder than any president in 100 years.

This involves inviting members of Congress to the White House for personal talks — the 100 senators and the 435 House members sometimes in batches of 50—besides individual invitations and endless telephone calls.

He works with leaders of both houses constantly.

● He is willing to settle for something less than all he would like to have. In other words, he is willing to make some compromises to get legislation through instead of sitting rigidly in the ice box where otherwise it might wind up.

Still pending are other major pieces of legislation this year: an excise tax cut, presidential disability, congressional redistricting, a minimum wage increase, and a bill to protect Negroes' voting rights.

It's possible as time goes on, say next year, Johnson may lose much of his effectiveness if only because of congressional weariness from getting arms twisted. But there's no sign of it yet. Anything but.

David Lawrence Says:

Boycott Has Legal Drawbacks

WASHINGTON — Unfamiliarity with the laws of the land is certainly widespread in America today.

LAWRENCE

The mere fact that certain leaders of Negro organizations have proclaimed an intention to call for a "boycott" by the public of all products manufactured in Alabama tells only part of the story. For what is not generally realized is that there are certain legal consequences which can flow from such an attempt to injure the businesses of private individuals.

Not only are damage suits possible to recover any losses, but the Sherman Anti-trust Act forbids all combinations or conspiracies "in restraint of trade" that may occur in interstate commerce.

Unquestionably, in the case of a boycott of products made in Alabama and sold outside the state, interstate commerce is affected, and it is apparent that a combination of persons would be involved.

Also, if any companies act in concert not to purchase goods from that state, they could be held liable and suffer penalties under the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The Supreme Court of the United States has ruled that the making of an actual agreement between members of such a combination is not always necessary to bring about a violation of the antitrust law. The agreement may be implied — just so long as the result is a concerted action to boycott particular companies or their products.

The courts have also held that the word "boycott" itself could imply a threat to certain individuals or companies if they refused to comply with the demands made upon them.

The Constitution provides for the protection of individual rights. A person's business is entitled to protection from all unlawful interference, and damages can be imposed by courts if injury to a business can be proved.

Indeed, the framers of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 relied on the "interstate commerce" clause of the Constitution in outlawing racial discrimination, and yet a burden on commerce could also result from the proposed boycott.

It has been said that the proposed boycott would not be protected by the right of freedom of speech as guaranteed in the First Amendment to the Constitution. But the Supreme Court has ruled that there is no such thing as absolute freedom of speech.

Broadly speaking, the law does not protect general boycotts which can injure innocent persons.

The Constitution stipulates that no one shall be deprived of property "without due process of law."

A nationwide boycott instituted against products manufactured in a particular state and sold outside that state would, therefore, certainly come into conflict with the federal laws.

Innumerable damage suits probably could be filed against organizations and individuals instigating or participating in such boycotts.

These legal obstacles may be one of the reasons why there has been a tendency in the last few days to soft-pedal the boycott idea.

Student Group Defined as Radical Democratic

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON: The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, commonly known as SNCC or SNICK, has been called "irresponsible," "dangerously radical," "left - wing revolutionary," "demonstration happy," and "Communist infested."

RUTH

Its critics charge that it is less interested in voter registration than in headlines and demonstrations. Since it is symbolic of student unrest across the continent, and has the largest paid staff of any civil rights organization, it seemed important to learn what SNCC is all about.

I therefore interviewed James A. Monsonis, its Washington director, who declared:

"Our philosophy is radical democratic. We believe in one man, one vote. Whether a man can read or write is unimportant as a voting test, because he has as much right to a voice in decisions which affect his life as does a bank president. We call ourselves 'radical' because we think this must come about now — not ten or fifteen years hence."

Monsonis, a white student who has completed two years at Yale Divinity School, was also willing to talk about the charges of Communist domination in SNCC.

NOT RELEVANT

"I don't think there are any Communists on our staff, but I don't consider it relevant anyway," he shrugged. "We feel that anyone willing to risk his life working for Negro betterment in the South ought to be allowed to work, whether he's Republican, Socialist, Democratic or Communist."

Monsonis pooh-poohed talk of a major split within the civil rights ranks. He said SNCC originally opposed the Rev. Martin Luther King's call for the Selma - to - Montgomery march, believing it to be wasted effort, but once the decision was reached it loyally participated.

"Of course, we have differences of opinion in the two groups, just as there are within each group, but there's a great deal of unity, too," he added.

SNCC is unique in that it has a large staff but no membership. Of this, Monsonis said: "Our salaries are the lowest of any organization in America. In the South, our field staffers get approximately $10 a week, and live like the sharecroppers they identify with.

SAME LEVEL

"In New York and Washington, they get $30 to $40 a week. Our staff lives on the same level as the people we're trying to help — we like to think that the Peace Corps adopted the idea from us. We don't have a membership because we encourage organizations at the local level, where they know their problems better than we could."

A highly placed U.S. official says of SNCC: "Some Communists may have infiltrated it, but they're probably pretty frustrated because every Red organization is tightly disciplined, and this is probably the most undisciplined organization extant."

Reader Suggests Cure for Murder on Highways

I don't think insurance is the cure to murder on our highways. The cure is to stop building horse and buggy roads and have strict law enforcement.

When we build a road and tell people they must drive 60 m.p.h. in heavy traffic, it becomes a suicide lane, not a freeway. A car in good mechanical condition can save a life—insurance won't.

'Why Couldn't Sister Speak at Church?'

Will a Catholic, preferably a priest, explain why Sister Alexine was forbidden to attend services at Central Methodist Church to speak about her participation in the civil rights demonstrations in Selma, and to request an ecumenical collection for the work of a Catholic hospital there.

When she asked permission to remain through the rest of the service, the chancery refused to allow her to attend. Such orders and divisions do not bear out high-sounding proposals for an ecumenical movement.

Foreign Opinion

The Glasgow Herald

Mr. Stewart and the Leader of the Opposition, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, were not really in disagreement with each other, but with a small knot of left-wing Labour Members. Few people in Britain regard the war in Viet Nam as a simple crusade for democracy or believe that any conceivable American commitment can bring military victory.

But fewer still are naive enough to think that an American withdrawal would restore peace in Southeast Asia; and Britain's own commitment in Malaysia has contributed to this mood.

The probable alternative to the present British and American commitments is not peace and quiet but the spread of turmoil and the dictatorship which follows in its wake.

President de Gaulle's ambition and plans for the neutralization of Southeast Asia may have some effect if the Communists face a choice between neutralization and resistance; but the immediate choice for Britain and the United States is between supporting their friends and allies and accepting that in ten years Communism — probably Chinese Communism — will dominate the entire area east of India and north of Australia.

Of Good Faith . . .

The London Telegraph

Preaching in St. Paul's Cathedral, Canon Collins has given it as his view that the American bombings in North Viet Nam are "wholly repugnant to Christian conscience." He also called on British Christians and the Labour party to oppose them.

It is a little difficult to see how these two categories can be equated, for although Canon Collins's views command much support among back-bench Labour M.P.s, these are not ordinarily regarded as being bound together by devout Christian fervour.

What the Canon persistently ignores is that devout Christianity is perfectly compatible with political opinions which radically contradict his own.

Has he, for instance, seriously canvassed the views of the million Roman Catholics alleged to have fled to South Viet Nam from persecution in the North? Has he, more generally and more profoundly, considered what beliefs men must hold in common before they may profess and call themselves Christians, and contrasted this minimum foothold with the vast areas over which they may legitimately disagree?

Would Canon Collins, for example, hold that a man's attitude to a 4d postal service was a touchstone of his Christianity? Of course he would not. Let him then recognize that, in our muddled and turbulent world, conflicting views on much wider issues may be held by Christians of unchallengeably good faith.

New Season for Summer Jobs Is Here

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Teen-agers:

Are you looking for a summer job? If you are, my advice is to start looking early—now!

MARY FEELEY

That's also the advice offered by the U.S. Department of Labor, which suggests 47 different kinds of jobs you might find—and even enjoy.

If you're serious about earning some money this summer, spring vacation is the time to get your foot in the door.

There are a number of ways of going about this.

First, of course, you should make up your mind about the kind of work you'd like; then the kind of work you might be best at; then consider whether you want to use your vacation. But the list of possibilities may stimulate your thinking.

Some of the 47 they list may be available in your own community, and others won't.

This list ranges from carhop to mother's helper to lifeguard to library attendant.

Maybe you haven't thought about opportunities that may be open as ticket-taker, messenger boy, telephone operator, cannery worker, engineering aide.

Or busboy, office clerk (boys or girls), car washer, or caddie.

You might tutor a summer student or take over a vacation job for a receptionist.

If you want to send for this booklet — which also gives you valuable information about labor laws in regard to age — send your request with 5 cents to the Superintendent of Documents to further a planned career.

Be honest with yourself. If you just want spending money, there are practical ways of going about this.

If you would like to spend this time learning, with the hopes of cashing in on your summer experience, then direct your efforts toward a permanent goal.

As a first step, you might send for the Department of Labor's booklet entitled "Summer Jobs for Students."

The department isn't going to actually get you a job, of course.

Another way to start job-hunting is to go talk to the people at your local public employment office.

Just don't be discouraged if they don't have anything specific to suggest at the moment.

There are other valuable leads to follow: your school Guidance Counselor, your parents, friends and relatives can help if you talk them into it.

Write letters to possible employers.

On this subject of letter-writing, let me remind you of some of the things that prospective employers consider important.

State the facts clearly—all the information about yourself they will want to know, such as age, schooling, qualifications for the particular job, working hours you can take on, any previous experience in any line, reassure the person you are writing to that you have, or can get, a working permit if necessary, and local references.

The references might be your teachers, your clergyman, friends (adults), local businessmen.

Try to fit your experience or your capabilities to the specific job you're applying for.

And for goodness' sake, watch your spelling! A dictionary is always available, and careless mistakes count against you.

If you have a telephone, be sure to include the number as well as your street address.

An acceptable business letter doesn't have to be a literary composition, so don't be hesitant about just setting down on paper the pertinent information.

Remember this, too—the law of averages will work for you. The more people who know you are seriously job-hunting for the summer months, the better your chances will be.

The fact that you notify prospective employers early in the season will make a favorable impression.

And while you're making your working plans, make some plan for saving some of what you earn.

That's how fortunes are built!

Sorority Units Meet

Two groups of Kappa Delta South Oakland Alumnae Association will meet on Tuesday.

AFTERNOON GROUP

Members will share luncheon together at Devon Gables at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Donald Rader of Birmingham is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Neil Leavens of Royal Oak will be hostess to this group at a cooperative dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Kappa Delta annual awards for orthopaeric research were made recently at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Orthopadeic Surgeons in New York.

Expensive Taste Is Evident

The champagne taste of the American consumer, vintage 1965, is more effervescent than ever, says the April issue of Department Store Economist, the Chilton magazine of department store merchandising and management.

Mink baby carriage robes turning over at $500, refrigerator doors made of steerhide and four-speaker stereo tape recorders for the family car are exotic and expensive.

But they are very much a part of the current merchandising scene.

Whatever they may mean at the cash register, their presence on the shelves points up a significant aspect of today's retailing: The public's newly acquired champagne taste is bubbling over!

The trend is clearly visible in hard goods. Demand for color television sets is running far ahead of supply and, in some places, customers must wait weeks for delivery.

Manufacturers expect sales of color sets this year to reach 2.2 million units, 50 per cent ahead of last year's record-breaking 1.4 million.

WOMEN LOVE IT

Last year General Electric unveiled an electric range which boasts a unique self-cleaning oven. Units so equipped run as high as $600, compared to $200 to $240 for ordinary models.

Nonetheless, the new ranges have enjoyed such popularity that GE has expanded its line from three models to seven.

Another fact: Detroit's biggest and costliest cars are selling best.

Department Store Economist notes that in soft goods, super-sized bedspreads, ranging upwards to $50-$75, have soared in recent years from virtually nowhere to nearly 40 per cent of total volume.

And Macy's chairman of the board confidently looks for a continued srge in trading up.

A June wedding in St. Michael's Catholic Church is planned by MarcyAnn Kloka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Kloka of Joswick Street, Pontiac Township, and Dennis Wayne Poosch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Poosch of Berkley.

Theta Sigma Phi Is Scheduling Its Book Fair

A number of area women are busy with plans for the annual Theta Sigma Phi book fair on April 20.

Scores of books, an auction, strolling musicians and both real and make-believe celebrities will be highlights of the 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. event at the Detroit Press Club.

Proceeds from the fair go to the Lucy Corbett scholarship fund for college women majoring in journalism.

Mrs. Nelson J. Roy of West Bloomfield Township is co-chairman of the fair with Marion Corwell of Dearborn.

Other area women doing committee work are Mrs. L. M. Middlemas Jr. and president of Theta Sigma Phi, Mrs. William Candler.

Mrs. Tagore Will Speak

Mrs. Amit Tagore, wife of Professor Tagore of Oakland University will be the speaker on "Life in India" at the May 2 breakfast of Iota Eta chapter of Pi Omicron sorority.

Members will gather in Devon Gables for the upcoming event discussed at Thursday's meeting in the Snow Apple Drive home of Mrs. George F. Brinkman.

An announcement that the Michigan State Board Meeting will be held in Bay City on May 10, was made.

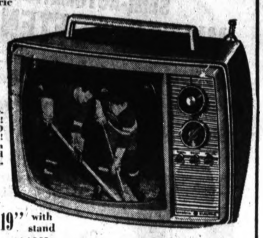

The May 13 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Robert S. Dunham of Midrow Drive.
