Missing U.S. Jet Downed by Reds; Crew Dead

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today one of its fighters downed a U.S. jet trainer over East Germany and the three officers aboard were killed.

The disclosure of the fate of the trainer plane came in a Soviet protest note released in Moscow accusing the United States of a provocative flight designed to increase tensions.

The plane vanished yesterday on a flight from this U.S. air base, and Air Force officials said it apparently lost its way. The Russians had been asked for information.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet note said the plane appeared over Communist East Germany and ignored warning shots from a Soviet fighter plane directing it to land.

SIGNALS IGNORED

The note did not actually say the twin-jet T39 training plane was shot down. After saying the "intruder did not react to the conventional signals demanding it to land" or react to warning fire, the note added:

"Therefore the Soviet fighter had to take measures in compliance with air defense instructions which are well known to the American command.

Erfurt is about 140 miles northeast of Wiesbaden and on a direct line of the flight the plane was making to the Frankfurt area. The plane had been forced to fly above a storm.

The U.S. Air Force said a radar track of the plane's flight showed two blips appeared just before the plane vanished from the radar screen.

"An inspection of the crash site showed that the intruder was a military jet plane of the T37 type belonging to the U.S. Air Force," the Soviet note said. "Three corpses of servicemen were found."

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the note asserted:

★ ★ ★

"The Soviet government cannot regard this intrusion as anything but a gross provocation by the American military authorities, aimed at aggravating the situation in Central Europe."

Milton Henry Quits as Commissioner; Whiters Appointed

Nearing the end of his sixth year as District 1 City Commissioner, Milton R. Henry last night resigned from the commission in a move that caught even fellow commissioners by surprise.

After accepting his resignation. commissioners unanimously appointed Samuel J. Whiters, 50, of 453 Harvey to serve the remainder of Henry's term.

MILTON R. HENRY

SAMUEL J. WHITERS

Henry had recommended Whiters as his successor.

All current City Commission terms expire in April.

ISSUES STATEMENT

Henry, in a statement often marked with bitterness toward his critics, said he wanted to devote his talents to "working for the Freedom Now party."

The newly formed party, for which Henry is cochairman in Michigan, is devoted to "independent political action for black people all over the United States," Henry said.

He indicated he might be a candidate for a high state office on the Freedom Now party ticket.

Henry, 43, a Pontiac attorney, first ran for the City Commission in 1958 and won. He was reelected in 1960 and 1962.

WIDE MARGINS

He was elected by wide margins, winning by 657 votes in 1958 and 784 votes in 1962. Henry was unopposed in 1960.

He said he was resigning "because I don't feel I can be of service to my people any longer in this capacity.

"I must move on to other fields where my talents can be used as God wants."

★ ★ ★

He recommended Whiters to succeed him "because he polled the largest number of votes of any of my opponents."

VOTE TALLY

Whiters polled 893 votes in 1956 when he lost to Dr. Roy V. Cooley, and 702 votes in losing to Henry in 1958.

Commissioners generally expressed regret at Henry's decision to leave.

Commissioner William H. Taylor said he respected Henry as a "well-educated and dedicated commissioner, even if I have not agreed with him on many occasions."

Pontiac Loses Out on Osteopathic Unit

Local promoters of Pontiac as the site for a proposed $42-million osteopathic college today registered surprise and disappointment upon learning that the Lansing area was chosen.

The selection of a site near Lansing was announced yesterday by Dr. Alan M. Potts, chairman of the site committee of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Inc.

Both Max Adams, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and Harry H. Whitlow, administrator of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital expressed surprise.

"I felt certain Pontiac would be the ideal spot," Whitlow said.

"I still think we have the best site for it," said Adams.

Dr. Potts said "Pontiac did a wonderful job" in making a pitch to bring the college here.

He said the primary reason it failed was because of the association's concern over whether sufficient property at the proposed site would become available.

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Russia's crack hockey team defeated the defending champion Americans 5-1 as competition began in the ninth Winter Olympics.

The Soviets, leading 1-0 after a period of play, capitalized on an injury to U.S. goalie Tom Yurkovich and broke the game open with two goals in an 8½-minute stretch of the second period.

Yurkovich suffered an injury in the first period when he fell heavily to the ice as Russian skaters swarmed around the net.

He finished the game, however, after being treated.

The games opened with a moment of silence for two athletes killed while training here and a parade of more than 4,000 competitors and officials from 35 nations.

Saturn I Sets Weight Record

Payload Much Larger Than Russia's Mark

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Saturn 1 super rocket propelled the world's heaviest satellite into orbit today and presumably vaulted the United States past the Soviet Union in the race for space rocket supremacy.

The mighty rocket, 164 feet tall and weighing 562 tons, flooded its launching pad with a rush of flame and sent a thunderous shock wave rolling across Cape Kennedy as it blasted off at 11:25 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, on its first full-scale test flight.

Slightly more than 10 minutes later, the Saturn I—its second stage live for the first time—injected into orbit a mammoth 84-foot-long satellite weighing 37,700 pounds, nearly three times heavier than the Soviet heavyweight champions of space.

But its presence in the sky demonstrates U.S. capability for the future and the nation's determination to grasp the space rocket power lead.

NO SCIENCE VALUE

No scientific value was attached to the huge satellite because of the research nature of the flight.

Carter Gets Backing of Commissioners

By DICK SAUNDERS

All seven agreed that Carter, 47, is innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Commissioner William H. Taylor, however, was the lone commissioner to suggest that "The manager might gain more respect and support in the community if he voluntarily suspended himself until this case is cleared up."

The other six commissioners said they wouldn't suspend him or ask for a voluntary suspension or resignation on the basis that "he has only been charged with something; he hasn't been found guilty."

★ ★ ★

AWAIT DECISION

"If an adverse decision is rendered in court, Mr. Carter has assured us he will resign immediately," he said.

"Dedication to the common good of our people," the mayor continued, "entails strict adherance to basic principles. One of this nation's basic principles is that a man is innocent until proven guilty.

"Mr. Carter came to us highly recommended, even by a Circuit Court judge in Genesee County.

★ ★ ★

"We were assured by many Flint citizens and several Pontiac citizens that his part in the property aquisition for Flint was above reproach."

CAREFULLY CHECKED

"His background and record were carefully cheeked," Landry asserted.

"As mayor, I've been under pressure before without buckling. I assure you I won't buckle this time."

Carter decided late yesterday to attend last night's meeting.

★ ★ ★

He appeared a bit tired, but otherwise cool and collected as he puffed his way through three pipes he customarily carries to all meetings.

CHANGED MIND

Carter said he had intended to voluntarily suspend himself, but changed his mind.

"I felt it would constitute some admission that I had done something legally or morally wrong," he explained.

"Whatever the commission wants me to do, I'll do it."

LEDFORD VIEW

Commissioner Loy L. Ledford said, "If the man says he's not guilty, who am I to say he is?"

Commissioner Milton R. Henry objected to anyone giving an opinion about the indictment.

"As a lawyer, I see no good

Discusses the Events Prior to Jury Probe

City Manager Robert A. Carter stopped at the end of a busy day yesterday to reflect on his side of a controversial land deal that took place while he was city manager of Flint.

The purchase has been subject to a one-man grand jury investigation since Dec. 6 and yesterday resulted in Carter's arrest on charges of conspiracy to fraudulently obtain city money under false pretenses.

He has staunchly maintained he is innocent, both legally and morally.

"We reached a point in the Flint-Lake Huron water supply project where we had to hire someone to buy land for the city," Carter began.

CHOICE OF THREE

"I explained this to the Flint City Commission and gave them three alternate methods of doing it.

"I told them they could openly appoint an agent, appoint someone in an executive or closed-door session, or authorize me to appoint a man secretly.

"They chose the last method. "I was authorized to select and appoint a special real estate agent to purchase the necessary land for a pumping station.

in passing judgment now. Let the law follow its course. Then, maybe I would express an opinion on the outcome."

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom said he was "behind Carter 100 per cent until such time as he's proven guilty.

"We discussed this at the time we hired him and he assured us he had no part in anything that was illegal."

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby felt that "most people misunderstand the meaning of an indictment. They think it indicates a man is guilty.

"Only a jury can make a man guilty. Let's wait and see what the jury's decision is."

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon said, "I only hope this can be cleared up in a hurry. The city can't afford to wait long for a decision."

'SHOULDN'T JUDGE'

Taylor agreed "it is not our right to judge him" but referred to the manner in which Carter was hired as "just another example of an autocratic mayor-council form of government here instead of the manager form prescribed in the City Charter.

"I have nothing against Mr. Carter personally. I wasn't completely sold on him when he was hired, and I'm not entirely satisfied now, but I always like to give a man a fair chance."

For the first time, its massive eight-engine first-stage power plant developed full thrust of 1.5 million pounds — equal to 34 million horsepower or enough to power more than 200,000 standard automobiles.

★ ★ ★

On four earlier flights of the first stage only, the thrust was held to 1.3 million pounds.

SECOND STAGE

The second stage, a cluster of six motors driven by high-energy liquid hydrogen fuel, was flown alive for the first time and provided the muscle to shove the satellite into orbit.

That stage, cutting in after the first had burned 145 seconds, delivered 90,000 pounds of thrust.

Saturn I's claim to the title of world's most powerful rocket is based on official U.S. estimates that its first stage generates about 50 per cent more thrust than Russia's largest booster and the fact that there is no evidence of Soviet progress with liquid hydrogen fuel.

SOUND LINGERED

As it sped into space, a plume of flame more than 300 feet long trailed behind it. The rumble of its engines fed by 145 tons of fuel lingered in the Cape Kennedy area for some time after it vanished from sight in low-hanging clouds.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration fed a running report of progress from the blockhouse near the launch pad to a news site about two miles away.

The first stage engines shut down almost precisely as planned after 147 seconds and the second stage separated and flashed to life at an altitude of 48 miles, 65 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

GREEN LIGHT

When a green light flashed in the blockhouse indicating the second stage had fired, a roar went up from the 40-man launching team and some 150 observers.

The upper stage engines burned for eight minutes, reaching orbital speed of 16,650 miles an hour.

The space agency said the engines cut off precisely as planned after 10 minutes, 32 seconds of Saturn I's flight.

★ ★ ★

At this time, the satellite with the burned-out second stage still attached was estimated to be in an orbit ranging from about 160 to 400 miles above the earth.

ORBIT CONFIRMED

The preliminary estimate was that because of its great weight and low orbit the almost inert mass would stay aloft only about a week.

HERE'S HOW — Cpl. Safety Division Nears Birthday

By PAT McCARTY

Completing a year of operation which produced a number of favorable statistics, the division now is launching a campaign to educate student safety patrols.

It has recorded success with other safety programs throughout the year, while making progress in the area of traffic law enforcement.

Cpl. Richard Reuther, head of the division, compared the township's traffic accident increase of 2.6 per cent during the year to the 20 and 30 per cent increases in other area communities. The county average, he noted, was in the neighborhood of 19 per cent.

CAMPAIGN EFFECTIVE

"This illustrates that our safety campaign with increased enforcement has proven to be considerably effective," he commented.

Reuther was assigned to the traffic safety job last February and was joined by two patrolmen, Edward Quintal and Robert Cleland, in September.

All three have been trained at Oakland University's accident investigation school. They provide a 16-hour vigil seven days a week.

★ ★ ★

TICKET ISSUED

Besides covering 380 personal injury and 549 property damage accidents, the department issued a total of 2,541 tickets for violations in 1963. This marks a 149 per cent increase over the 1,052 issued in 1962.

Their work has been aided by the installation of a radar unit in one patrol car last fall.

Reuther estimates that about half of the division's work is concerned with preventing accidents.

★ ★ ★

WORST CORNER

Their figures for the year indicate that Telgraph and Maple was the worst corner with 66 accidents, followed closely by Square Lake and Woodward with 63.

Other high tallies were at Telegraph and Miracle Mile, 41; Quarton and Woodward, 36; and Maple and Lahser, 32.

With statistics in hand, they have made recommendations to clear up problem areas.

CROSSOVERS

About 200 students participated in a vehicle safety check at Bloomfield Hills High School last spring. The division set up the program with the help of school officials and upperclassmen.

"We hope to make the check township - wide this spring," Reuther said.

The policemen also have cooperated with school officials in setting up their newest program, designed to educate children who serve as safety patrols on school buses.

HELP PROGRAM

Ward Rowden, transportation supervisor for the Bloomfield Hills School District, has worked directly with the officers in the program.

Reuther began this week to visit each of the elementary schools in the district, showing the students exactly what is expected of them.

He takes with him a 14-minute film, bus patrol handbooks and other literature from the Automobile Club of Michigan, along with his own list of regulations.

Police Chief Norman Dehnke summed up his feeling about the new traffic division in a single statement: "They're doing a good job," he said.

Supervisors to Meet for Grant Approval

A special meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has been called for Friday morning in order to save a $375,000 federal grant for sewer construction in Farmington Township.

County Public Works Director R. J. Alexander received word yesterday that the grant was approved.

Later in the day, he received a phone call from federal authorities saying that the board of supervisors must formally accept the grant no later than Friday — or lose it.

★ ★ ★

Normally the board has 30 days to act after receiving notice of approval from Washington.

SURPRISED OFFICIALS

Alexander said yesterday's late phone call surprised county officials.

Normally, the board of supervisors is only summoned to meet after members have received at least 10 days prior notice, according to its by-laws.

This limitation can only be overcome upon petition for a meeting by at least a third of the supervisors.

Alexander said his staff succeeded in getting 49 signatures from among the total 85 members of the board.

The meeting is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the Courthouse Auditorium. Only the federal grant matter will be taken up.

site, about three miles south of available to us immediately."

The actual 105-acre building siet, about three miles south of Michigan State University and east of Holt, was donated by Daniel and Virginia Holloway of Detroit.

Last night, Mayor Robert A. Landry said "We are very disappointed that the osteopaths didn't choose to locate their college in Pontiac.

"However, Lansing had more land to give them and more financial support to offer in the form of both private and governmental grants."

"We just didn't have that kind of land available. Even through an urban renewal project we would have had to sell them the land.

"We did all we could in bidding for the college and I want to thank everyone who took part in the program."

Birmingham Death Probe

Psychiatrist Sees Teen Held in Slaying

A Pontiac psychiatrist confirmed today that he has talked with the 15-year-old boy held in the slaying of Nancy Jean Jones at the request of the youth's defense attorneys.

Dr. Abraham Tauber said he visited the boy at the county jail before the youth was transferred Monday to the county Children's Center.

Dr. Tauber said he could not disclose any details of his conversation with the boy, however.

NOT IN AREA

He also denied being near the area where Nancy was slain on her way to school in a dense fog.

Walter R. Denison of Birmingham, one of the boy's attorneys, said "No comment," to whether the boy had been examined by a psychiatrist or if he planned to arrange such an examination.

Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard said no arrangements have been made yet for the boy to be examined by Juvenile Court psychologists.

★ ★ ★

Daniel faces a Juvenile Court hearing tomorrow to determine whether there are sufficient grounds to continue holding him in the case.

POLICE TESTIMONY

A preliminary lab report showed blood on a knife a witness said Daniel gave him Friday morning, but it was not clear whether it was of the same type as the victim's.

Also being investigated were fibers of material found on the knife. The victim's coat was sent to the crime lab for comparison.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Robert Schaule of the Birmingham police said there is still no evidence that Daniel ever knew Nancy, although they both had been seen at the dances, parties and other youth activities.

PROBE CONTINUES

Lt. Schaule said police are continuing to investigate the case.

The boy's father, Frederick Lovaas Jr., said yesterday, "I know he didn't do it. I know in my heart that he couldn't have done it. I knew him too well and know he couldn't have."

mission itself would be told who the purchasing agent was," Carter said.

"This secrecy was intended to protect the city's best interests by avoiding any sudden hike in property costs that might be created by publicizing our plans."

Carter chose Claude O. Darby, a prominent Flint real estate man (now retired) who at that time was president of Darby and Son, Inc., a Flint realty firm.

★ ★ ★

"He was highly respected with many years of experience," Carter noted.

SECRET KNOWN

"Even though his identity was supposed to be a secret, Darby was seen at City Hall so often that I'm sure there were some commissioners who knew he was the man I'd appointed."

Carter said Darby then proceeded to locate the land north of Port Huron and close the deal. The city paid $75,000 for the parcel.

"The city auditors, Price-Waterhouse, Inc., later discovered there was a discrepancy in figures regarding the land purchase while running their annual audit on city accounts," Carter related. (Auditors said the land had sold for $42,000.)

"It came as a surprise to all of us. I think it was the city finance director who called Darby in.

MATTER SETTLED

"We (Carter, the finance director and city attorney) talked to Darby and he agreed to settle the matter, paying the difference to the city.

"That was the end of it," Carter concluded.

"We teach our children to respect authority. People should not allow city officials to be subjected to insults."

"The individual is unimportant but the position is," he asserted, referring to the office of mayor.

MOTION OFFERED

Whiters, a Pontiac resident for 45 years, is married and has 11 children.

He is active in youth and school groups, currently as a member of the Pontiac District Boy Scouts advancement committee and as president of the Jefferson Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

Whiters is also a member of Macedonia Baptist Church and the Rema Club of Pontiac.

City Delays Okay for '64 Budget

Pontiac's proposed $6.8-million 1964 city budget will have to wait until tomorrow for adoption.

After approving the budget at a public hearing last week, and ordering it prepared in the form of an appropriation ordinance for passage at this week's meeting, commissioners decided last night to delay final action.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon offered the motion to defer adoption to a special meeting slated for 7 p.m. at City Hall tomorrow.

Harmon said he wanted time to study the budget ordinance. It must be adopted by midnight Friday under the City Charter.

OBJECTIONS

Commissioner William H. Taylor added that he objected to the proposed budgets for the legal, building inspection, plumbing inspection, community relations, police and garbage collection and disposal departments.

However, both Harmon and Taylor indicated they would vote for the overall budget ordinance if action couldn't be delayed.

There were no objections voiced to Harmon's motion.

Candidate Lineup Change Possible in 19th Race

Although the Republican contest for congressional nomination in the new 19th District this year may well end up a three-man affair as it currently appears, the three may not be the same by the time the Aug. 4 primary rolls around.

★ ★ ★

There were signs today that a fourth candidate was preparing to enter the race in the person of Ferndale auto dealer and former state Sen. George N. Higgins.

News Analysis

At the same time, there was speculation that State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, one of three announced candidates, may return instead to previous plans of running for a seat on the new state court of appeals.

★ ★ ★

This would cut back the field to three even if Higgins were to flip his politically experienced hat into the ring.

As for County Prosecutor George F. Taylor, also considered a possible candidate for the new congressional district, indications are he is not joining the crowd.

At present, sources close to Taylor indicate he probably will choose between running for Circuit Court and retiring from politics.

★ ★ ★

The other two announced candidates — James Dickerson, assistant to the chancellor of Oakland University, and Richard D. Kuhn, Pontiac attorney and businessman — have said they are in the race to stay.

ANNOUNCEMENT DUE

Friends of Higgins, currently chairman of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, (MESC) say the 63-year-old auto dealer's announcement of candidacy is imminent.

Higgins, who owns a farm near Clarkston but currently resides in Ferndale, is reportedly waiting only for assurance that he would not have to surrender his post on the MESC if he became a candidate.

Roberts' plans apparently have been affected once again by a change in the outlook for establishment of the new state appellate court.

Then he switched his ambitions to Congress when the State Legislature failed to pass a bill setting up the court last month because of a disagreement over the manner of districting.

But the State Supreme Court last week straightened out that matter with advice to legislators that only one districting plan — three 3-judge districts — would be constitutional.

As a result, approval of the new court has changed from doubtful to almost certain and Roberts, insiders say, is reconsidering.

Of the five candidates mentioned — three announced and two possible — only Roberts and Kuhn live in the new 19th District, which Michigan received as a result of the 1960 census.

The State Legislature last year put northern and western Oakland County, including Pontiac, into the new district along with all of Livingston County.

City to Seek a Lease on Parking Lot

The City Commission last night unanimously approved a resolution authorizing City Manager Robert A. Carter to negotiate with Oakland County for a lease of the old courthouse site to the city.

It has been unused since a lease to Outdoor Parking Co. expired and was not renewed at the end of 1963.

Last night's action authorizes Carter to offer the county rent in the amount of about $500 a month for the property.

TOTAL COST

Commissioners okayed a total cost of $8,850 to rent, improve and maintain the lot for the coming year. Carter said that $6,000 of this would be rent.

The rest would go toward surfacing the lot, and installing parking bumpers and meters. The city has meters available, he said.

Carter estimated that the income from meters would be about $10,482 in a year.

"It would give us a little profit and should greatly aid our downtown businessmen, Carter said.

Schools Issue 'Once-Only' Report on Negro Student, Teacher

By L. GARY THORNE

Issued for the avowed purpose of arresting rumors, Pontiac school officials have quietly released a statistical report on Negro students and teachers in local schools.

The report was requested by the local office of the Urban League. It contains certain enrollment, personnel and program information.

In meetings with members of the Negro community, School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said that school officials have been told that rumors have been circulating about the Negro student in Pontiac schools.

One such rumor was that Negro pupils are placed in separate homerooms. This is not the case, Whitmer explained, but the report does not show this because the information was not available.

However, that information is being added to the final report to Urban League representatives.

He hopes the report will arrest some of the rumors, showing there is equal treatment and facilities for Negro pupils.

Pontiac school officials had to make a special survey to prepare the report.

★ ★ ★

The school district's official records make no distinction as to race, Whitmer stressed in undertaking the "one-time-only" report.

HOUSING PATTERNS

The report reflects an imbalance between white and Negro pupils in some schools. But this results because of housing patterns, not from the policies of the school district, Whitmer said.

Eight Pontiac elementary schools have no Negro pupils, while two schools have no white pupils.

Seven schools have 10 or less Negro pupils. One school has only eight white students.

★ ★ ★

This is the "imbalance" in local classrooms that is a direct result of housing patterns, the superintendent said.

NOT RESPONSIBLE

School board members, privately and publicly, have indicated they do not feel the school district can be responsible for housing patterns.

Last fall, a Pontiac parent group charged that there was "de facto segregation" in some local schools. The group's spokesman said such classrooms present "an unhealthy school atmosphere."

The report, Whitmer said, includes some areas where it might appear there had been an attempt to assign Negro teachers to schools with large Negro enrollments.

★ ★ ★

However, he maintained this was not the case.

EVOLUTION ASPECTS

The school district, he said, employed its first Negro teacher in 1948. At that time a policy was instigated to hire teachers on the basis of competency and character.

Whitmer explained that the board at that time apparently thought it logical to assign Negro teachers to schools with primarily Negro enrollments.

This was the policy until 1954, Whitmer said. When he arrived the same year, the schools employed about 50-60 Negro teachers. Practically all had been assigned to so-called Negro buildings.

AMEND POLICY

In 1955, the employment policy of the schools was amended to state that all workers should be hired and assigned without regard to race, color, creed or marital status.

This amendment was prompted by Rev. Joseph A. Parker, the first Negro to serve on the local school board.

Whitmer added that since then the school district has followed board policy. He pointed out that many of the Negro instructors had been at their posts for some years and had rarely requested transfer.

Eighteen schools have no Negro teachers. In addition, 10 schools have less than 10 Negro instructors.

TEACHER RATIO

The school district has a total of 135 Negro teachers, while employing 802 white teachers.

Three out of the 31 principals are Negro. There is one Negro counselor assigned to Jefferson High School. There are 32 counselors in the school system.

Using Pontiac Central High School as an example, Whitmer pointed out that there are 641 Negro pupils and 1,653 white.

★ ★ ★

Viewing the statistics on Negro-white enrollments, Whitmer noted that these also had a long history.

NO SET POLICY

Until 1954, there was no firm policy on school boundary lines. Attendance areas or districts for individual schools were nonexistent, he said.

Whitmer said he changed this when he took over as superintendent. He drew up attendance areas for each school and the board approved them, despite, in some instances, strong opposition from parents.

The 1954 boundary policy stipulates that students attend " . . . the school serving the school district in which they live, except that special pupil transfers . . . may be granted when extenuating circumstances exist."

The report to the Urban League also answered several general questions concerning future building, contract awarding, and hiring practices of buildings and contractors.

School officials said that contracts were awarded to low bidders in accordance with state law.

The employment of personnel on construction jobs is done by the contractor, and the school district does not participate in any way, the report further states.

No future schools or additions to schools are presently planned.

However, several projects are currently under way.

News of Area Service Personnel

Technical Sergeant Vernon A. Green of Lapeer has retired from the United States Air Force after more than 21 years active duty.

Sgt. Green was assigned to Lowry Air Force Base as an air traffic controller prior to his retirement. During World War II, he served in Italy.

The sergeant, who attended Central Michigan College of Education, is the son of Mrs. Hazel Green of 5388 Davison Road, Lapeer and the late Mr. Green.

Sgt. 1. C. William E. Jackson, formerly of Rochester, was seriously wounded recently when his Vietnamese camp received a surprise attack.

The sergeant was acting as senior advisor to the encampment when he was shot. He is now in the eighth U.S. hospital in Saigon, Viet Nam and may be evacuated to the United States.

He was transferred to Viet Nam in late December. He entered the service in 1945 and was last stationed at Fort Bragg, N.C. He has served in Germany, Austria, and as an instructor at West Point.

He received his diploma from Rochester High School in January, 1946. His sister and her husband, Mrs. Kenneth B. Davis live at 907 Opdyke Road. His parents are deceased.

FAHRNER

Fahrner is serving aboard the U.S. S. Canister operating out of Norfolk, Va. He enlisted in the Navy in August, 1961, after graduating from Pontiac Northern High School in June of that year.

He recently returned to Norfolk after a 5 month cruise to the Mediterranean. He is expected home on leave sometime in February.

★ ★ ★

Thomas A. Bannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney D. Bannon, 720 Ardmoor Drive, has received his Pilot Training Wings in the Air Force ROTC program at Denison University, Granville, Ohio where he is a sophomore.

BENTLEY

Pvt. Michael L. Bentley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Bentley of 2960 Sunderland Drive is currently at Fort Knox, Ky. for nine weeks of basic training in the United States Army.

Airman Third Class Michael L. Bridgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Bridgers of 1687 Ashstan, Walled Lake, is home on leave for two weeks.

He is stationed at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y. After graduating from West Bloomfield High School, he enlisted in August, 1963.

McKEE

Seaman Robert McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred McKee of 3157 Margaret Street, Auburn Heights, is currently aboard the Coast Guard Ice breaker "Eastwind" participating in Operation Deep Freeze '64 at Antarctica.

McKee enlisted in September, 1962 after graduating from Avondale High School. He completed his basic training at Lakehurst, N.J.

★ ★ ★

Airman first class Kenneth A. Wagner Jr. of 5554 North Street, Dryden is member of the base karate team in Itazuke Air Base, Japan which finished second among 16 teams competing in the Korkura City district free match.

Airman Wagner, an Air Force communications operations specialist, and his teammates were the only Americans competing.

Opposing them were teams from Japanese colleges, high schools and government organizations. Their finish was the highest ever recorded by an American team in any district competition on the Island of Kyushu.

He is a graduate of Dryden High School.

Solutions to Racial Woes Sought by Atlanta Leaders

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Leaders of Atlanta grope today for an answer to new racial questions arising after four consecutive days of demonstrations.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrations by young Negroes and white persons were directed mainly against one restaurant which has refused to go along with many others in desegrating.

However, a leader of the demonstrations said protests will continue until all restaurants in Atlanta are open to Negroes.

MANY YEARS

"There are many instances of segregation in the city and for many long years people have tried to negotiate a settlement without success," said James Forman, executive secretary of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. called together about 250 city leaders for a conference today.

"I feel that this meeting is necessary to maintain the rational attitude that has marked Atlanta's approach to human relations," Allen said.

Allen has been working to open public accommodations to all. He was one of the few Southerners who testified in behalf of the accommodations section of the proposed civil rights bill in Washington.

BE CLOSED

The Atlanta Restaurant Association proposed to its members Tuesday night that all restaurants in the city be closed for one day to "show the unity of the restaurant industry."

The association's executive secretary, Ed England, told the approximately 200 members that the organization wanted only to have the right to operate its restaurants either integrated or segregated, whichever the owners preferred.

"This is strictly a matter of individual choice," he said.

The size and intensity of Tuesday's demonstrations lessened after massive protests Sunday and Monday, when more than 200 were arrested. Fisticuffs broke out Sunday night among Ku Klux Klansmen and Negro pickets at Leb's restaurant, in the heart of the city's downtown hotel district.

Those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace.

SANG, PRAYED

About 60 demonstrators sang and prayed on the city hall steps Tuesday, some holding a large sign reading, "As a first step, we want a public accommodations law."

A leader of the group, Prathea Hall, was received by Allen. She read a statement demanding an immediate end to discrimination and segregation in Atlanta. Allen thanked her and told her of the forthcoming biracial meeting.

Shortly afterwards the demonstrators dispersed. Some went to Leb's restaurant where they picketed for several hours. Later, 22 marched to the city jail, sang "freedom songs" and shouted encouragement to those still behind bars. A few returned to the restaurant, marched briefly past, then dispersed.

MESSAGE FOR MAYOR — Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. walks out of his city hall office in Atlanta, Ga., yesterday past a line of demonstrators holding a large sign. The sign reads, "As a first step, we want a public accommodations law." Arrests have been numerous as racial demonstrations continue.

State Pair Charged in Murder Try

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Police held two young men from Michigan today on attempted murder and kidnap charges after they robbed a taxicab driver and abducted a teen-age boy and his date. They were caught after a gunfight.

Jailed were Philip Hudgins, 21, and Robert Cooley, 17, both of Monroe, Mich. They were booked on two counts each of attempted murder and aggravated kidnap.

★ ★ ★

Police were looking for the two after taxi driver Fred Probost reported a young pair took $8 from him at gun point and attempted to force him inside the cab's trunk.

Probost said he told them he wouldn't fit in the trunk because of the spare tire, so they made him take it out.

MAKES ESCAPE

"I felt like it was as good as over if I got in there," he said.

"When I got hold of the tire I threw it at the one with the gun. I ran and got away and called the police."

Later, Pierce Petersen, 17, and his 15-year-old date, said they were stopped in the same area when the pair drove up and jumped into the back seat of their car.

★ ★ ★

Petersen was forced to drive away, but police spotted the car and tried to force him to pull over.

ONE SHOT SURRENDER

Officers said they captured Cooley immediately, but Hudgins grabbed the girl and dragged her away, shooting at both patrolmen and threatening the girl.

One officer said he fired one shot and Hudgins then surrendered.

Solon Seeks to Exempt Industrial Tool Firms

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, has proposed that the state eliminate the property tax on firms making certain manufacturing tools to improve Michigan's business climate.

★ ★ ★

Although the measure would cause a $4-million loss in local property tax revenues, this would be more than recovered with improved business climate, Bursley said. Ohio and Wisconsin have the exemption.

Blue Shield Position for Highway Official

LANSING (AP)—Al Kaufman administrative assistant to State Highway Commissioner John Mackie, resigned today to become director of public relations for the Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield).

Kaufman, political editor of the former Detroit Times, joined the highway department in 1961. He will assume his new duties Feb. 10 and will move to Detroit.

Stew About Stereo Set Big Ado Over Nothing

The current outcry over the gift of a stereo set to President JOHNSON when he was a Senator leaves us singularly unexcited. And we think the anguish and hand-wringing over it on the part of a couple of GOP stalwarts—Sen. BARRY GOLDWATER and Republican National Chairman WILLIAM E. MILLER—might better be preserved for situations more worthy of their frenzy.

★ ★ ★

From the beginning of time, the exchange of gifts has been a built-in facet of our civilization: in social intercourse, in the business community, in felicitous relations among heads of government, in domestic political practice.

In the preponderance of cases of gift bestowal, the motives are above reproach; in a few, they are to be condemned.

In the area of politics, neither party holds a monopoly on instances of gifting that, taken out of context, can be ballooned into deeds holding pretty sinister implications.

Since for every such deed that through misadventure sees the light of day there are logically countless others that occur unheralded, the conclusion could be that the very structure and direction of our government rests on gift giving.

Such an idea is, of course, arrant nonsense. The integrity, ethics and devotion to duty of government representatives will, we have always maintained, compare most favorably with any other cross section of American citizenry. But no laws, written or to be written, will ever breed honor in a character where none exists.

Since President JOHNSON and his wife are both independently wealthy and easily able to provide themselves with necessities and luxuries without limit, we think that in this particular case the introduction of a stereo set as a political cause celebre hits a new high —or low—in partisan naivete.

Daylight Saving Time Is 'Seasonal Insanity'

Tinkering is by no means confined to the handiwork of handymen or the creativity of do-it-yourself devotees. It can be seen in unexpected places — like, say, the State's legislative halls.

Currently, there has been introduced a bill to tinker with Michigan's clock. The would-be tinkerer, Rep. Joseph A. Gillis Jr. of Detroit, would, come summer, put us on Daylight Saving Time.

We thought this particular form of seasonal insanity had been laid to rest, once and for all. The last abortive effort to outwit the sun was in 1948 when Detroit set its clocks ahead—and most everything else back — as some outstate communities followed its lead while others had no time for it.

★ ★ ★

Back in 1883, Congress established four U. S. time zones, based on common sense and equitable longitudinal progression from Greenwich zero. But in 1918, Washington solons found time hanging heavy on their hands and passed a Daylight Saving Time law for the whole Country.

★ ★ ★

But it was given such a hard time by so many segments of the populace that a year later the law was repealed. Particularly irked were the farmers who, getting at their crops an hour earlier by the sun, found them still dew-covered and unworkable. Confusion was rampant as transportation systems and various government and private agencies with inflexible hours for routine commitments struggled to make adaptation.

The truth of the matter is that under the original act establishing the four time divisions, Michigan falls within the central time zone. But in 1931, motivated by a fatuous desire to accommodate the State to Eastern hours of commerce, the legislature changed the time from Central to Eastern.

★ ★ ★

The present move to gain more daylight by moving the clocks still another hour ahead is about as pointless as giving PERRY COMO a sedative.

Woman Senator Meets Challenge

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — When a lady tosses her bonnet in the presidential ring, she does it gingerly — almost teasingly—as if loath to let go of such a nice new hat.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

As a matter of fact, "The Perils of Pauline" had nothing on the cliff-hanging suspense with which Sen. Margaret Chase Smith built up to her declared candidacy at a Women's National Press Club luncheon Monday.

The long-awaited announcement began with a prepared speech in which the gentlewoman from Maine firmly blocked off the middle of the road for herself, citing her own voting record and discreetly suggesting that her GOP rivals were too liberal or too conservative.

The white-haired, 66-year-old solon next listed all the arguments why she should run — and then all the reasons why she shouldn't. Having done so, she declared.

"The reasons against my running are far more compelling. I am confronted by a lack of money, a lack of organization, and a lack of time because of the requirements of my job in Washington, plus the very heavy odds against me."

★ ★ ★

So she wasn't going to run! A murmur of surprise escaped her listeners, but Maggie Smith was not through. Smiling roguishly, she added: "So because of these very impelling reasons for not running, I have decided that I shall.

MET CHALLENGE

"I shall enter the New Hampshire preferential primary and the Illinois primary, for I accept the reasons advanced against my running as a challenge—a challenge which I met in 1948 when I first ran for the Senate, and was told that the Senate was no place for a woman."

Not a reporter in the room believed that the senator actually has her sights set higher than the vice presidency, but when asked if she would "accept second place," she replied deadpan: "I will be a candidate for president, and I have no further comment."

Asked whom she would like for her vice presidential running mate, she grinned: "None of the announced candidates have indicated any desire . . ."

Queried as to which candidate she favors for president if she can't land the nomination herself, she said suavely: "I'm a candidate for president, and I'm not supporting anyone else."

Sen. Smith admits to the novelty of her upcoming campaign. She says she won't have a campaign headquarters, or a paid staff; she has no campaign and she'll woo votes only when the Senate is not in session.

Having achieved the Senate's all-time attendance record by answering 1,590 consecutive roll calls, she is not about to change her ways.

The lady from Maine made a pretty good case for her candidacy by appealing to both sides of the political aisle. She said liberals called her a traitor when she voted for the late Robert A. Taft rather than Henry Cabot Lodge for Senate Republican leader in 1949, and conservatives called her a traitor because of her "declaration of conscience" against the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

She reminded that she has held public office longer than any of her GOP presidential rivals — declared or undeclared.

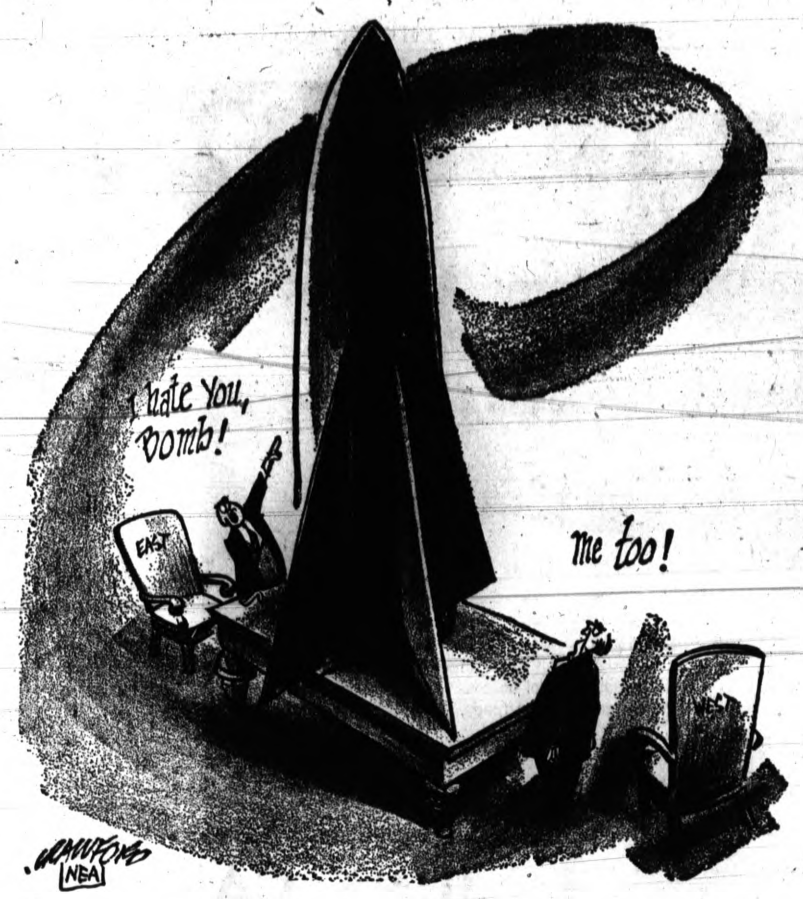

TOSS OF LOCKS

With a brave toss of her silvery locks, she added that she would like to destroy the political bigotry against women, just as President Kennedy "broke the political barrier on religion."

★ ★ ★

Voters traditionally prefer a married presidential candidate who can offer them a first lady. Would it seem like the White House without a husband around the House?

The Latest Word On Disarmament

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Me-Tooers Aiding LBJ

WASHINGTON — Maybe all those would-be nominees for the presidency in the Republican party who believe in "me-tooism" had better announce themselves for the election of President Johnson and call it a day.

LAWRENCE

They have failed to tell the country in a comprehensive manner what's wrong with the Democratic administration and have preferred instead to espouse some of the same vague doctrines of utopianism championed by President Johnson himself.

With the exception of Sen. Goldwater — who has been floundering somewhat lately —the Republican aspirants are ignoring the most significant factor in American presidential elections, namely, the emphasis on the grievances and discontent of the voters.

Theoreticians imagine that presidential campaigns are won by the specific programs which the candidate outlines in his speeches or by his personal popularity, such as is supposedly derived nowadays from television appearances.

★ ★ ★

But not a single presidential campaign in 50 years has been won on that basis.

CORRUPT, INEFFICIENT

Victory has come primarily by convincing the voters that the incumbent administration is either corrupt or inefficient or weak-kneed or just plainly incompetent to deal with economic troubles that may prevail.

Only when the voters are persuaded that they had better get rid of the administration or party in power and take a chance on a new leadership is there a change in the White House.

If the party in power cannot be proved as bad as the spokesmen of the other party claim, then all the arguments and personal appeal of the opposition nominee will be of no avail and the incumbent party will win out anyhow.

Sen. Goldwater's position deviates from the general rule. He started off with a spectacular series of attacks and won widespread support.

GOP ENTRANTS

Then Republican "me-tooers" began to enter the race—stimulated by the applause of the Democrats, who welcome with perceptible enthusiasm every new entry into the race for the Republican nomination.

Now the Arizona senator, who is almost alone in his militancy on the opposition front, has made the mistake of trying to tell what he would do if elected.

No candidates with political acumen does any more than promise utopia and a balanced budget and prosperity and peace.

★ ★ ★

In the last several weeks, Lyndon Johnson has given a good example of how a politician can promise everything and yet not tell how he intends to achieve his goals.

OPPOSITION CASE

There is, to be sure, an opposition case. Secretary of Defense McNamara has revealed to a House committee that "There is now solid evidence that weapons also are being sent from Cuba to dissident groups in other Latin-American countries."

★ ★ ★

Judging by the way the Republican presidential campaign is going today, it might be thought that victory can be won only by "me-tooism," though millions of voters doubtless would like to have at least one candidate articulate the mistakes in the foreign and domestic policies of the incumbent administration during the last three years.

Bob Considine Says:

Missionary Has Learned South Africa's Problems

NEW YORK — "When I went out to South Africa from Ireland, these seven years ago, I tell you my heart was filled with pain for all that I had heard and read about the poor downtrodden blacks," mused a big strapping missionary named Joe White, of the Sacred Heart Fathers.

CONSIDINE

"The feeling is still there, but the picture is different," he continued.

"I'm no apologist for apartheid, for the love of God, but I've at least learned a bit more about the white man's problem in that land.

"The whites number about three and a half million to maybe twelve million blacks.

"The whites have been in South Africa almost as long as they have been in America, but immeasurably more isolated.

"If South Africa became 'independent' tomorrow, in the manner of other new African states, there would be no place for the whites to go — except into the Indian Ocean. South Africa is the only home they know.

"It's a marvelous country with incredible riches in its earth and mines. There's more than enough for everybody, if he deserves his share."

★ ★ ★

CIVIL DUTIES

"I believe in civil rights, certainly," he told us. "But I believe just as strongly in civil duties, a sense of pride and belief in the nobility of man.

"Through better housing, schooling, hygiene and example, I'd say the majority of the whites out there are doing as much or more to lift the standard of living among the natives than in other countries I might name—America, for example.

"Where are your Indians? What about your Harlems? Where are the Aborigines of Australia? Where are the natives of New Zealand?"

ACCEPT DUTY

Father Joe feels that the only hope of Africans obtaining proper recognition and equal opportunities is for them to face the difficult task of accepting education opportunities offered and accepting "duty" along with "right."

'Can No Longer Afford Foreign Aid'

During the past 14 years four Presidents have appointed ten committees to study foreign aid. Each has proposed changes to make foreign handouts more palatable. Meantime American taxpayers' opposition to aid has increased enormously. The reason is simple. Foreign aid effort is unsound. And efficient administration cannot make an unsound concept succeed.

★ ★ ★

Foreign aid is dangerously damaging. Our gold reserve has dropped from $24.6 billion to $15.5 billion. Foreigners have amassed $27 billion in short term credits redeemable in gold. The fate of the dollar lies in foreign hands! Confiscatory taxes have lessened our foreign competitive position. The American people deeply resent the foreign handout program. It is an expenditure which we cannot afford.

Harry Barbour

'Overseas Expenditures Cause Deficits'

Concern over U. S. budget deficits prompts this letter on behalf of the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee. This committee is composed of distinguished citizens whose interests are worldwide.

Our committee has found that U. S. overseas expenditures are the major cause of our deficits and the chronic deficits in our balance of international payments. Foreign aid has undermined our economy. This is evidenced by the outflow of gold, the weakness of the dollar and the competitive debility among our strongest industries such as textile and steel.

Our aid has failed to establish stable regimes, economic viability and firm ties with Brazil, Bolivia, Argentina, Cuba, Turkey, Laos, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and South Korea. Since 1946, total foreign aid cost, not including billions in aid funneled through international agencies, has exceeded $6 billion annually.

★ ★ ★

Systems Similar

The Monroe Evening News

Pontiac voters recently decided on a new method of electing their seven city commissioners by a better than two to one vote. Each commissioner must reside in the precinct he represents, but is elected by the entire community. Although there are some differences in the Pontiac system, it is very like Monroe's.

In the usual precinct form of city government, which Pontiac has had in the past and Monroe had until the early 1930s each commissioner is elected from his own precinct and elected only by the voters in that precinct.

The system all too frequently results in abuses of patronage, special treatment for a few and worst of all, a disregard of the progress of a community as a whole.

Usually when this has happened, communities have gone the full route in the other direction, electing commissioners at large by vote of the entire community.

But this too, has its evils, for as can and does happen, the elected officials of a community can all live in the same neighborhood, lead the same kind of lives and be oblivious of or at least insensitive to problems peculiar to other neighborhoods.

Monroe was one of the first cities in the country to hit upon the happy compromise of combining ward representation with the requirement of electing ward nominees by vote of the city at large.

The charter change here, we recall, won the attention, and with it the approval, of one of Michigan's best-known students of government, Dr. James Pollock of the University of Michigan faculty.

Monroe's election formula has served its purpose well. Nominations from the wards have assured a balanced representation from all parts of the city.

Election by the city at large has given a proper advantage to those candidates who are best known and best credentialed as citizens beyond the confines of their home areas. Consistently the system has produced a legislative and policy-making body well representative of the people as a whole.

We extend the right hand of fellowship to Pontiac for its adoption of a similar plan and trust that our Oakland County neighbors will experience similar benefits from their charter amendment.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA SHELLS

QUESTION: How do sea shells grow?

ANSWER: We all love sea shells, but the animal which once lived inside each empty shell is also very interesting.

These animals belong to a large group called "mollusks." Remove the shell from a "gastropod"—a mollusk with single shell—and it would look as in (1).

The soft body spirals around inside the shell and has a heart, stomach, gills, primitive brain, eyes and mouth.

The body is covered with a kind of cape called a "mantle," and it is this which secrets the hard lime substance which makes the shell.

As the animal grows, it keeps twisting around the center and getting larger, with the mantle adding new shell all the time. Crawling on its flat "foot," the animal holds the shell above it (2). When alarmed the mollusk pulls into the shell and closes the opening (3) with the horny "operculum" (white arrows).

At first, the animal is a free swimming "veliger" with a tiny partly coiled body (4). Coon the veliger sinks to the bottom and covers its body with shell (5).

The large shell is the extremely rare "Glory of the Seas" which comes from the East. It's value may be over a thousand dollars.

Stew About Stereo Set Big Ado Over Nothing

The current outcry over the gift of a stereo set to President JOHNSON when he was a Senator leaves us singularly unexcited. And we think the anguish and hand-wringing over it on the part of a couple of GOP stalwarts—Sen. BARRY GOLDWATER and Republican National Chairman WILLIAM E. MILLER—might better be preserved for situations more worthy of their frenzy.

★ ★ ★

From the beginning of time, the exchange of gifts has been a built-in facet of our civilization: in social intercourse, in the business community, in felicitous relations among heads of government, in domestic political practice.

In the preponderance of cases of gift bestowal, the motives are above reproach; in a few, they are to be condemned.

In the area of politics, neither party holds a monopoly on instances of gifting that, taken out of context, can be ballooned into deeds holding pretty sinister implications.

Since for every such deed that through misadventure sees the light of day there are logically countless others that occur unheralded, the conclusion could be that the very structure and direction of our government rests on gift giving.

Such an idea is, of course, arrant nonsense. The integrity, ethics and devotion to duty of government representatives will, we have always maintained, compare most favorably with any other cross section of American citizenry. But no laws, written or to be written, will ever breed honor in a character where none exists.

Since President JOHNSON and his wife are both independently wealthy and easily able to provide themselves with necessities and luxuries without limit, we think that in this particular case the introduction of a stereo set as a political cause celebre hits a new high —or low—in partisan naivete.

Daylight Saving Time Is 'Seasonal Insanity'

Tinkering is by no means confined to the handiwork of handymen or the creativity of do-it-yourself devotees. It can be seen in unexpected places — like, say, the State's legislative halls.

Currently, there has been introduced a bill to tinker with Michigan's clock. The would-be tinkerer, Rep. Joseph A. Gillis Jr. of Detroit, would, come summer, put us on Daylight Saving Time.

We thought this particular form of seasonal insanity had been laid to rest, once and for all. The last abortive effort to outwit the sun was in 1948 when Detroit set its clocks ahead—and most everything else back — as some outstate communities followed its lead while others had no time for it.

★ ★ ★

Back in 1883, Congress established four U. S. time zones, based on common sense and equitable longitudinal progression from Greenwich zero. But in 1918, Washington solons found time hanging heavy on their hands and passed a Daylight Saving Time law for the whole Country.

★ ★ ★

But it was given such a hard time by so many segments of the populace that a year later the law was repealed. Particularly irked were the farmers who, getting at their crops an hour earlier by the sun, found them still dew-covered and unworkable. Confusion was rampant as transportation systems and various government and private agencies with inflexible hours for routine commitments struggled to make adaptation.

The truth of the matter is that under the original act establishing the four time divisions, Michigan falls within the central time zone. But in 1931, motivated by a fatuous desire to accommodate the State to Eastern hours of commerce, the legislature changed the time from Central to Eastern.

★ ★ ★

The present move to gain more daylight by moving the clocks still another hour ahead is about as pointless as giving PERRY COMO a sedative.

Woman Senator Meets Challenge

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — When a lady tosses her bonnet in the presidential ring, she does it gingerly — almost teasingly—as if loath to let go of such a nice new hat.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

As a matter of fact, "The Perils of Pauline" had nothing on the cliff-hanging suspense with which Sen. Margaret Chase Smith built up to her declared candidacy at a Women's National Press Club luncheon Monday.

The long-awaited announcement began with a prepared speech in which the gentlewoman from Maine firmly blocked off the middle of the road for herself, citing her own voting record and discreetly suggesting that her GOP rivals were too liberal or too conservative.

The white-haired, 66-year-old solon next listed all the arguments why she should run — and then all the reasons why she shouldn't. Having done so, she declared.

"The reasons against my running are far more compelling. I am confronted by a lack of money, a lack of organization, and a lack of time because of the requirements of my job in Washington, plus the very heavy odds against me."

★ ★ ★

So she wasn't going to run! A murmur of surprise escaped her listeners, but Maggie Smith was not through. Smiling roguishly, she added: "So because of these very impelling reasons for not running, I have decided that I shall.

MET CHALLENGE

"I shall enter the New Hampshire preferential primary and the Illinois primary, for I accept the reasons advanced against my running as a challenge—a challenge which I met in 1948 when I first ran for the Senate, and was told that the Senate was no place for a woman."

Not a reporter in the room believed that the senator actually has her sights set higher than the vice presidency, but when asked if she would "accept second place," she replied deadpan: "I will be a candidate for president, and I have no further comment."

Asked whom she would like for her vice presidential running mate, she grinned: "None of the announced candidates have indicated any desire . . ."

Queried as to which candidate she favors for president if she can't land the nomination herself, she said suavely: "I'm a candidate for president, and I'm not supporting anyone else."

Sen. Smith admits to the novelty of her upcoming campaign. She says she won't have a campaign headquarters, or a paid staff; she has no campaign and she'll woo votes only when the Senate is not in session.

Having achieved the Senate's all-time attendance record by answering 1,590 consecutive roll calls, she is not about to change her ways.

The lady from Maine made a pretty good case for her candidacy by appealing to both sides of the political aisle. She said liberals called her a traitor when she voted for the late Robert A. Taft rather than Henry Cabot Lodge for Senate Republican leader in 1949, and conservatives called her a traitor because of her "declaration of conscience" against the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

She reminded that she has held public office longer than any of her GOP presidential rivals — declared or undeclared.

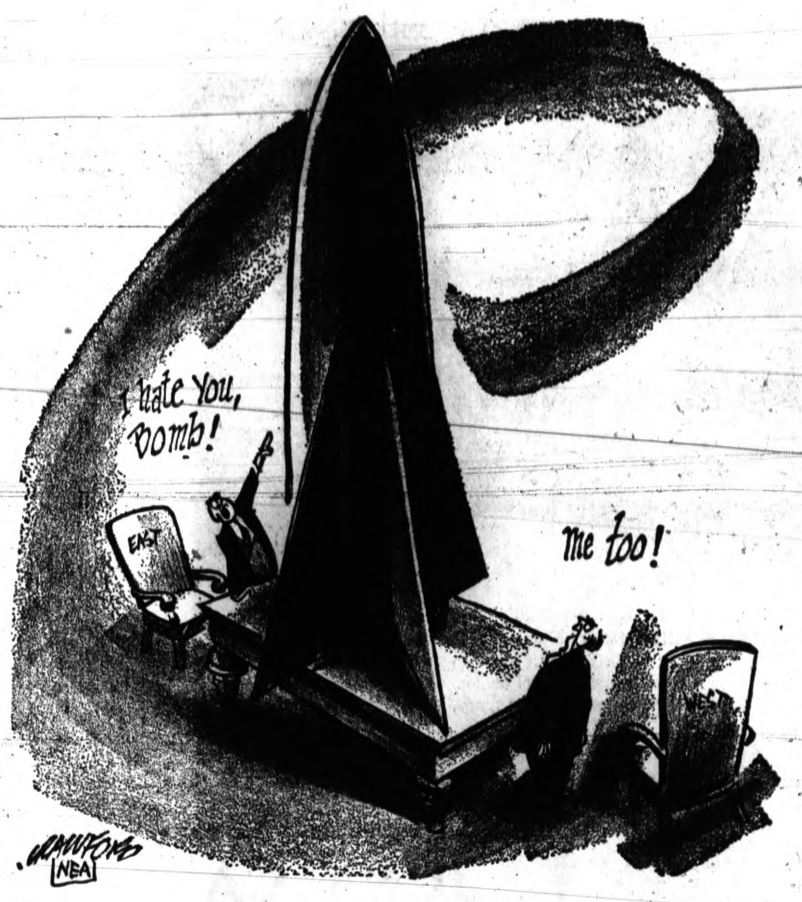

TOSS OF LOCKS

With a brave toss of her silvery locks, she added that she would like to destroy the political bigotry against women, just as President Kennedy "broke the political barrier on religion."

★ ★ ★

Voters traditionally prefer a married presidential candidate who can offer them a first lady. Would it seem like the White House without a husband around the House?

The Latest Word On Disarmament

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Me-Tooers Aiding LBJ

WASHINGTON — Maybe all those would-be nominees for the presidency in the Republican party who believe in "me-tooism" had better announce themselves for the election of President Johnson and call it a day.

LAWRENCE

They have failed to tell the country in a comprehensive manner what's wrong with the Democratic administration and have preferred instead to espouse some of the same vague doctrines of utopianism championed by President Johnson himself.

With the exception of Sen. Goldwater — who has been floundering somewhat lately —the Republican aspirants are ignoring the most significant factor in American presidential elections, namely, the emphasis on the grievances and discontent of the voters.

Theoreticians imagine that presidential campaigns are won by the specific programs which the candidate outlines in his speeches or by his personal popularity, such as is supposedly derived nowadays from television appearances.

★ ★ ★

But not a single presidential campaign in 50 years has been won on that basis.

CORRUPT, INEFFICIENT

Victory has come primarily by convincing the voters that the incumbent administration is either corrupt or inefficient or weak-kneed or just plainly incompetent to deal with economic troubles that may prevail.

Only when the voters are persuaded that they had better get rid of the administration or party in power and take a chance on a new leadership is there a change in the White House.

If the party in power cannot be proved as bad as the spokesmen of the other party claim, then all the arguments and personal appeal of the opposition nominee will be of no avail and the incumbent party will win out anyhow.

Sen. Goldwater's position deviates from the general rule. He started off with a spectacular series of attacks and won widespread support.

GOP ENTRANTS

Then Republican "me-tooers" began to enter the race—stimulated by the applause of the Democrats, who welcome with perceptible enthusiasm every new entry into the race for the Republican nomination.

Now the Arizona senator, who is almost alone in his militancy on the opposition front, has made the mistake of trying to tell what he would do if elected.

No candidates with political acumen does any more than promise utopia and a balanced budget and prosperity and peace.

★ ★ ★

In the last several weeks, Lyndon Johnson has given a good example of how a politician can promise everything and yet not tell how he intends to achieve his goals.

OPPOSITION CASE

There is, to be sure, an opposition case. Secretary of Defense McNamara has revealed to a House committee that "There is now solid evidence that weapons also are being sent from Cuba to dissident groups in other Latin-American countries."

★ ★ ★

Judging by the way the Republican presidential campaign is going today, it might be thought that victory can be won only by "me-tooism," though millions of voters doubtless would like to have at least one candidate articulate the mistakes in the foreign and domestic policies of the incumbent administration during the last three years.

Bob Considine Says:

Missionary Has Learned South Africa's Problems

NEW YORK — "When I went out to South Africa from Ireland, these seven years ago, I tell you my heart was filled with pain for all that I had heard and read about the poor downtrodden blacks," mused a big strapping missionary named Joe White, of the Sacred Heart Fathers.

"The feeling is still there, but the picture is different," he continued.

"I'm no apologist for apartheid, for the love of God, but I've at least learned a bit more about the white man's problem in that land.

"The whites number about three and a half million to maybe twelve million blacks.

"The whites have been in South Africa almost as long as they have been in America, but immeasurably more isolated.

"If South Africa became 'independent' tomorrow, in the manner of other new African states, there would be no place for the whites to go — except into the Indian Ocean. South Africa is the only home they know.

"It's a marvelous country with incredible riches in its earth and mines. There's more than enough for everybody, if he deserves his share."

★ ★ ★

CIVIL DUTIES

"I believe in civil rights, certainly," he told us. "But I believe just as strongly in civil duties, a sense of pride and belief in the nobility of man.

"Through better housing, schooling, hygiene and example, I'd say the majority of the whites out there are doing as much or more to lift the standard of living among the natives than in other countries I might name—America, for example.

"Where are your Indians? What about your Harlems? Where are the Aborigines of Australia? Where are the natives of New Zealand?"

ACCEPT DUTY

Father Joe feels that the only hope of Africans obtaining proper recognition and equal opportunities is for them to face the difficult task of accepting education opportunities offered and accepting "duty" along with "right."

'Can No Longer Afford Foreign Aid'

During the past 14 years four Presidents have appointed ten committees to study foreign aid. Each has proposed changes to make foreign handouts more palatable. Meantime American taxpayers' opposition to aid has increased enormously. The reason is simple. Foreign aid effort is unsound. And efficient administration cannot make an unsound concept succeed.

★ ★ ★

Foreign aid is dangerously damaging. Our gold reserve has dropped from $24.6 billion to $15.5 billion. Foreigners have amassed $27 billion in short term credits redeemable in gold. The fate of the dollar lies in foreign hands! Confiscatory taxes have lessened our foreign competitive position. The American people deeply resent the foreign handout program. It is an expenditure which we cannot afford.

Harry Barbour

'Overseas Expenditures Cause Deficits'

Concern over U. S. budget deficits prompts this letter on behalf of the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee. This committee is composed of distinguished citizens whose interests are worldwide.

Our committee has found that U. S. overseas expenditures are the major cause of our deficits and the chronic deficits in our balance of international payments. Foreign aid has undermined our economy. This is evidenced by the outflow of gold, the weakness of the dollar and the competitive debility among our strongest industries such as textile and steel.

Our aid has failed to establish stable regimes, economic viability and firm ties with Brazil, Bolivia, Argentina, Cuba, Turkey, Laos, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and South Korea. Since 1946, total foreign aid cost, not including billions in aid funneled through international agencies, has exceeded $6 billion annually.

★ ★ ★

Systems Similar

The Monroe Evening News

Pontiac voters recently decided on a new method of electing their seven city commissioners by a better than two to one vote. Each commissioner must reside in the precinct he represents, but is elected by the entire community. Although there are some differences in the Pontiac system, it is very like Monroe's.

In the usual precinct form of city government, which Pontiac has had in the past and Monroe had until the early 1930s each commissioner is elected from his own precinct and elected only by the voters in that precinct.

The system all too frequently results in abuses of patronage, special treatment for a few and worst of all, a disregard of the progress of a community as a whole.

Usually when this has happened, communities have gone the full route in the other direction, electing commissioners at large by vote of the entire community.

But this too, has its evils, for as can and does happen, the elected officials of a community can all live in the same neighborhood, lead the same kind of lives and be oblivious of or at least insensitive to problems peculiar to other neighborhoods.

Monroe was one of the first cities in the country to hit upon the happy compromise of combining ward representation with the requirement of electing ward nominees by vote of the city at large.

The charter change here, we recall, won the attention, and with it the approval, of one of Michigan's best-known students of government, Dr. James Pollock of the University of Michigan faculty.

Monroe's election formula has served its purpose well. Nominations from the wards have assured a balanced representation from all parts of the city.

Election by the city at large has given a proper advantage to those candidates who are best known and best credentialed as citizens beyond the confines of their home areas. Consistently the system has produced a legislative and policy-making body well representative of the people as a whole.

We extend the right hand of fellowship to Pontiac for its adoption of a similar plan and trust that our Oakland County neighbors will experience similar benefits from their charter amendment.

The Americans should remember that the real enemy is not communism, but the empty bellies which produce it. We must remember that we are all part of one world. Even though World War III almost started in Cuba, we still do not realize how involved with each other we are. Latin American poverty is America's problem and ours, too.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA SHELLS

QUESTION: How do sea shells grow?

ANSWER: We all love sea shells, but the animal which once lived inside each empty shell is also very interesting.

These animals belong to a large group called "mollusks." Remove the shell from a "gastropod"—a mollusk with single shell—and it would look as in (1).

The soft body spirals around inside the shell and has a heart, stomach, gills, primitive brain, eyes and mouth.

The body is covered with a kind of cape called a "mantle," and it is this which secrets the hard lime substance which makes the shell.

As the animal grows, it keeps twisting around the center and getting larger, with the mantle adding new shell all the time. Crawling on its flat "foot," the animal holds the shell above it (2). When alarmed the mollusk pulls into the shell and closes the opening (3) with the horny "operculum" (white arrows).

At first, the animal is a free swimming "veliger" with a tiny partly coiled body (4). Coon the veliger sinks to the bottom and covers its body with shell (5).

The large shell is the extremely rare "Glory of the Seas" which comes from the East. It's value may be over a thousand dollars.

Rocky Swings at Extremists

California Campaign Aimed at Progressives

★ ★ ★

He and his wife traveled to Los Angeles on an overnight train to continue a three-day tour after a full day in San Francisco.

Rockefeller's jabs were directed at Sen. Barry Goldwater, who intends to oppose him in the California presidential primary; at extremists of both the right and the left, and at President Johnson.

HANDSHAKES FOR ALL

The handshake was for anyone within reach, and the turnouts brought smiles to the Republican candidate.

The manager of the Peacock Gap Country Club in Marin County, across the Golden Gate Bridge, estimated that 4,000 showed up for a reception Tuesday night.

Rockefeller throughout his San Francisco area appearances emphasized that he and his newly named California chairman, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, intend to stage a fighting campaign.

OFFERS CHOICE

"I feel," he told a news conference, "that as we go from one end of the state to the other . . . discussing the nature of progressive, forward - looking Republican principles . . . the people of this state will have the opportunity of a choice."

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, while designating Kuchel as chairman of both his California drive and of his proposed slate of delegates, said it was too early to speculate whether the senator would be his choice for vice president.

★ ★ ★

Widespread Reappraisal of Policies

Antismoking Campaign Picking Up Steam

(EDITOR'S NOTE — "We do not sell cigarettes," said the hospital sign. "We love you too much." Extent of the anticigarette movement is examined in the following story.)

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Officials of several states have banned the sale of cigarettes in some government buildings, including hospitals.

They cite reports by the U.S. surgeon general, and private research, on the health hazards of smoking cigarettes.

Some private hospitals also have ordered cigarette vending machines removed.

Miriam Hospital in Providence, R.I., put up signs saying: "We do not sell cigarettes. We love you too much."

STRICT ENFORCEMENT

In many areas, public officials ordered strict enforcement of laws, some decades old, against selling cigarettes to minors.

One of New York City's most successful independent radio stations, WMCA, says it will drop all cigarette advertising during its 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. disc jockey show, which is aimed primarily at teen-agers. It is aired Mondays through Saturdays.

★ ★ ★

The action came as the National Association of Broadcasters met in Florida. The government-licensed industry is expected to amend its code of self-regulation to forbid programs or commercials that might tend to encourage young persons to smoke.

The major television and radio networks have said they are reviewing their policies on commercials.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGNS

A survey by the Associated Press indicated today that efforts by government officials to discourage smoking by educational campaigns are fairly widespread. Outright bans of cigarette sales are less prevalent.

★ ★ ★

Public health hospitals in Massachusetts have been ordered to discontinue sales of cigarettes in canteens and to remove vending machines.

Pennsylvania banned cigarette sales in its four hospitals for tuberculosis and is considering banning them in the state's general and mental hospitals.

★ ★ ★

MACHINES BANNED

The University of Minnesota's hospitals and the Rochester (N.Y.) Institute of Technology have banned cigarette machines.

Binghamton (N.Y.) General Hospital turned down a proposed ban, but decided to post signs warning of the hazards to health.

★ ★ ★

An official at the National Jewish Hospital in Denver, which treats respiratory diseases, said vending machines have been moved "to less accessible places" in the hospital.

★ ★ ★

The National Automatic Merchandising Association, trade organization for the $3-billion vending industry, announced last fall its program to keep minors from buying cigarettes from machines. It urged the display of signs: "Sales of cigarettes to minors are forbidden."

REMIND OF REPORT

The University of Rhode Island and other organizations planned to post signs reminding smokers of the surgeon general's report.

New York State and California are among the states that plan to tell school children about the hazards of smoking.

Airlines Dropping Pipe, Cigar Ban

By ROBERT J. STERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

But they insist that relaxation of the old "cigarettes only" rule has nothing to do with the recent surgeon general's report on the health dangers of cigarette smoking.

The majority of airlines polled by United Press International already are allowing pipes and cigars to be smoked at least in lounge sections, which are blocked off from the main passenger areas by partitions.

★ ★ ★

But American said it would institute a new policy permitting pipes and cigars to be smoked in main cabins. American is eliminating lounges in its jets for installation of additional first class seats.

MORE AIR CONDITIONING

"To accommodate these passengers," an American spokesman said, "we are installing additional air-conditioning ducts which we hope will take care of the increased smoke and odors."

"We'd better call this an experiment,'" he added hastily. "We'll have to see whether the new policy is accepted by the public."

United said it had allowed pipe and cigar smoking in the cabins of all its jets for some time, without getting too many complaints.

★ ★ ★

TWA, which once frowned on any pipe or cigar puffing, recently relaxed the rule to permit it in jet lounges and also in main cabins provided no other passengers object.

SO MUCH SWITCHING

"We decided on the new policy because so many persons were switching to pipes and cigars," a TWA official said.

"We made the decision prior to the surgeon general's report, and as far as the main cabins are concerned, we've told our hostesses to play each case by ear. If people complain about the smoke or odors, the girls will politely ask the smokers to stop."

Northwest said it has a "flexible'" rule — if a plane is not too full and passengers do not object, pipe and cigar smoking is permitted.

★ ★ ★

National said it contemplated no change in its cigarettes — only policy.

FIRST CLASS

Continental said it allows pipes and cigars in first class lounges but not in main cabins.

Northeast said it was an industry matter and indicated it would go along with a general relaxation.

Braniff said it planned no change in its rules permitting cigars and pipes only in lounges.

★ ★ ★

Western and Continental both said they would stick by the "cigarettes only" rule in main cabins.

Pontiac City Affairs

Reineck Heads CD

Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck was officially appointed civil defense director for the city last night by the City Commission.

The assistant manager has traditionally held that post.

When Reineck succeeded former Assistant Manager David S. Teel last September, he was not formally named to the civil defense position.

ACTION DEFERRED

Also last night, a change in personnel rules regarding sick days for firemen, recommended by City Manager Robert A. Carter, was deferred until Thursday night when a special meeting is slated for 7 p.m.

In other action Commissioner Dick M. Kirby offered a new ordinance to regulate, control and require adequately maintained fire exists, fire doors and sprinkler systems in some apartment buildings.

It updates existing fire regulations.

The ordinance was introduced for first reading and will be subject to second reading and final approval at a future meeting.

Commissioners also granted final approval of a request to transfer the Bicmar Inn, formerly on West Huron near Cass, to a new location on the perimeter road just north of W. Huron.

Airline Employe Likes Unlimited Travel Pass

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Darryl D. Holzfield, stock clerk at O'Hare Airport, really took advantage of the unlimited vacation travel to which his job with American Airlines entitles him.

Using his all-points pass on a 14-day vacation, he visited 29 cities, flew coast-to-coast three times and chalked up 26,875 miles during the two weeks.

Press Cooking School Starts

On a stage full of prizes to be given away during The Pontiac Press cooking school, Susan Lowe holds the interest of her audience as she demonstrates a new recipe. Two gas ranges, a washer, dryer, sewing machine and radio are among the grand prizes to be awarded on Friday.

Regulars at The Press cooking school are the Price brothers. Talking with Janet Odell, Pontiac Press women's editor are (center) Jasper Price, East Colgate Avenue and Charles Price, Washington Street. Mrs. Charles Price is at the far right.

Little Ann Marie Beedle, Crane Street, was highly amused when The Press photographer asked her to pry off the cap of the giant Coke bottle onstage.

Mrs. Blanche O'Hara, Union Lake, was the first person seated at the cooking school Tuesday. She doesn't do too much cooking anymore, but she enjoys the demonstrations.

Backstage, there's always work to be done—and under a handicap (all water has to be carried in pails). But Mrs. Delore St. Dennis (left) Lakeview Street and Mrs. Walter Summers, Lanette Street, take it all in good humor. Mrs. St. Dennis has helped at The Press cooking school every year.

Mrs. Eva Mosher, State Street, receives an orchid corsage from Bernard Salvatore, promotion manager of The Pontiac Press. At 84, she was the oldest member of the cooking school audience Tuesday.

OES Initiates Members

Mrs. Harvey Wideman and Mrs. Maurice Wideman were initiated in the Pontiac Chapter No. 228, Order of the Eastern Star, at the Monday evening meeting.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. George McDonald was installed as the chapter's organist.

★ ★ ★

Among the guests introduced by the Norvill Vincents were Mrs. Mary Erickson, chaplain of the Oakland County association, and past matrons and patrons.

The chapter will hold a benefit chicken dinner on Feb. 10 in the Lawrence Street Temple.

Cleanse and Tone Skin at Same Time

Here's how to cleanse and tone the skin at the same time. After applying cleasing cream, splash witch hazel over the face and massage well into skin. Use light, upward strokes. This is an ideal bedtime refresher because it not only removes grime and stale makeup, it leaves the skin dewy soft and stimulated.

Pontiac Symphony

Concert Well Received

By ERIC W. ALLEN

Pontiac Symphony develops greater sensitiveness with each performance.

Monday evening's concert featured no guest artist; rather, it was an instrumental presentation that displayed ability of various sections of the orchestra, as well as individual musicians.

★ ★ ★

Compliments must again be paid the string section, which increases in ability with each concert.

With exception of a few splattered notes, the brasses showed excellent control, never overpowering other sections as in earlier concerts.

★ ★ ★

The horns, especially, have developed into a truly exceptional amateur section, playing with all the full-bodied richness so difficult to attain and blend with this instrument.

CLIMAX

★ ★ ★

This colorful and difficult work requires extreme control, especially from the brasses, who open the work with a pyramid fanfare . . . first trumpets, then horns, followed by trombones and the full orchestra.

Orchestra members were at ease in Chabrier's rhapsodic Espana, a Spanish fantasia of song and dance tunes set to fiery Latin rhythms.

The trombones had some difficulty counting in one passage, but Mr. Resnick's forceful baton maintained the intricate timing.

Second half of the program was traditional program music, opening with Johann Strauss' Overture to Die Fledermaus.

★ ★ ★

Last night's was a light concert in the sense that no standard symphonic work was performed.

Self Defense at 'Y'

The Pontiac YMCA will again offer an eight week course in self defense. Opening class will be Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the 'Y.' Interested women should phone the YMCA before Tuesday evening.

Musical Evenings Currently Popular

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Tuesday evening, members of Cranbrook Music Guild and their friends came to Cranbrook House to hear the University of Michigan Woodwind Quintet.

Beautiful flower arrangements are always in evidence, and fireplaces are lit. The many books in the library and works of art throughout the house are a joy to view.

Following the program, tea was served. Hosts and hostesses assisting were the Benjamin Brewsters, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lewis, Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp, the Whiting Raymonds, Edmund Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Miller Jr.

Among those in attendance were: the Edwin Beresfords, Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, Mrs. Angus McLean, Mrs. Margaret Rice, the Henry S. Booths, the Carl Bartons, the Benjamin Micous, Mesdames: Vernon Venman, William Graham, Eric Bergishagen, Paul Penfield and Frank Klingensmith.

ORGAN PARTY

Saturday evening, the Floyd W. Bunts gave one of their organ recital parties which so many anticipate.

Mr. Bunt has installed in their home on Faculty Road a large organ which orginally belonged to a Toledo theater. It has become quite a conversation piece in the community and the Bunts have had a series of evening organ recitals for their friends.

Among those present were the James Schneiders, the Richard Chapmans, the Carleton Pattersons, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Ole B. Foerch and the Lew Betterlys.

★ ★ ★

The Frank J. Perrons will entertain at cocktails and supper Sunday in their home on Falmouth Road.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bagby have a party scheduled for Feb. 15th.

The Kenneth McGregors of Wing Lake Road are back after a trip to California and Dr. and Mrs. Torsten Althin have been in Washington, D.C. for a few days attending scientific meetings.

Parties Honor Christine Carson

A series of parties will honor Christine Carson, whose engagement to William Bruner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix F. Bruner of Bloomfield Hills was recently announced.

★ ★ ★

Miss Carson, daughter of the John H. Carsons of Rocky River, Ohio, will be a guest of the Bruners between semesters of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio where she and their son are seniors.

Mrs. Earl Bramblett and Mrs. George Jacoby will share hostess honors at a luncheon and linen shower Thursday in the former's Bloomfieled Hills home.

LUNCHEON

Luncheon will be served at an 'around - the - clock' shower on Friday in the home of Mrs. John Hedrick of Lauren Court.

On Saturday, the Bruners will introduce Miss Carson to a group of friends at cocktails and dinner in their home. Among the guests will be the bride-elect's parents, also the Raymond Bruners of Toledo, uncle and aunt of William.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Douglass of Bloomfield Hills will host a brunch and "his-and-hers" shower Sunday in the Bloomfield Hills Country Club. The parents of the honoree will be among the guests.

Planning an August wedding are Lois Jean Deaton, daughter of the Everett Deatons of Edison Street, and Donald Edwin Wright, son of the Harold R. Wrights of Farmington. He is a junior at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Blue, White Theme Chosen for Rites

★ ★ ★

She is the daughter of Mrs. Jonathan G. McBee of North Saginaw Street and the late Mr. McBee. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hughes, are of Argyle Avenue.

An overlay of sequined Chantilly lace highlighted the bride's gown of white silk organza over taffeta which swept into a chapel train.

VEIL, FLOWERS

With matron of honor, Mrs. Charles D. Braun, were bridesmaids, Carol Putnam and Mary Irene Delano. The honor attendant wore a sheath gown of royal blue satin. The bridesmaids' gowns were Lucerne blue.

★ ★ ★

Latin America Topic for Next in Series

Dr. Carlos Manuel Teran of Michigan State University will lecture on Latin America in the third and fourth in a series on "History in the Making."

★ ★ ★

Cosponsored by the Village Woman's Club and the Division of Continuing Education, Oakland University, the first lecture will be presented Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Born at Quito, Ecuador, Dr. Teran did his undergraduate work in Bogota, Colombia and came to this country for his Ph. D. work at the University of California.

SECOND LECTURE

Dr. Teran brings a first hand knowledge of Latin America to the participant in this series. He will lecture again on Latin America Feb. 6.

There is an admission charge to these lectures, which are open to the public.

All sessions of this series, now in its fourth year, will be moderated by Mrs. Walter Jackson of Oakland University. A question period follows the presentation at each of the sessions.

Philosophy Is on Agenda

"Discourse on Method" by the French philosopher Rene Descartes will be discussed by the Waterford Great Books group at 8 p.m. Friday at the CAI building.

Perc Lowery will present information on the life and times of Descartes.

Key Rector, leader, will be assisted by Bill Ott.

Change Table Into Soft Stool

The cushion is equipped with a belt that clips to the underside of the table with fingertip ease—and it's amazing how comfortable a table top becomes when it's padded with three inches of foam rubber!

Fashionettes Hear Lecture on First Aid

"First Aid Emergencies in the Home" were discussed by the Fashionette Club meeting Tuesday in the Adah Shelly library.

★ ★ ★

He emphasized the fear facet saying: "Fear paralyzes reasonable action and constitutes a primary inaction in an emergency situation.

★ ★ ★

"To allow a first aid emergency situation to be aggravated by your own fears will only increase the victim's anxieties and can compound the serverity of the injury . . ."

"Reassurance by the first aider that he is in control of the emergency . . . (is) among the first steps to recovery."

Presbyterian Women Hear Annual Reports

A noon luncheon was served by the July-August circle for the Tuesday meeting of the Womens Association of the First Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. H. H. Pattison and Mrs. Richard Wright presented a memorial service and the business meeting highlighted coming events.

The Presbyterial Society meeting will be held Feb. 5 in the Detroit Littlefield Church. A week of dedication activities will be held later in the month.

30 Up Club Announces Dance Class

A new dance class for members of the 30 Up Club and their associates will begin Thursday evening at the Amvets hall. John DePaul will be the instructor.

Officers have been announced for the new organization. Leading the group will be Marion Richter, president.

Other officers include Howard Muscik, vice president; Ethel Jacoby, second vice president; Bill Slater, secretary; Mary Curtis, assistant secretary; Bea Rockwell, treasurer; and Gladys Danielson, assistant treasurer.

Regular group meetings are Friday evenings from 8:30 p.m. to 12 midnight at the Pontiac YMCA. The club is to be affiliated with the National Council of Senior Citizens, Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

Soroptimists See Painting

A talk on "The Renaissance of China Painting" highlighted a dinner meeting of the Soroptimist Club of Pontiac Monday in the Waldron Hotel.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Philip J. Wargelin, former art teacher who has her own china-painting studio, decorated several articles before her audience.

Mrs. Rex Smith was a guest.

HACKER-PRIEST

MRS. C. J. HACKER

Daughter of the John Priests of Arcadia Park, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta, styled with hoop skirt and chapel train.

Mrs. Jack McPeake, wearing pink nylon organza over taffeta, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids Joyce Greer and Bonnie Johnson, were in aquamarine.

TINTED BOUQUETS

The bridegroom, son of the Clifford Hackers of Gassaway, W. Va., had the bride's brother Dalton for best man. Duane Priest and Robert Hamm, also her brothers, were ushers.

The couple will live in Pontiac on their return from a northern Michigan honeymoon.

DUNAJ-REICHERT

MRS. R. J. DUNAJ

Our Lady of the Lakes Church was the setting for the recent vows of Linda Louise Reichert and Richard James Dunaj pledged before Rev. John Phalen.

★ ★ ★

The Frank Reicherts of Clarence Street honored their son-in-law and daughter at an evening home reception.

GRAVES-MILLER

MRS. H. D. GRAVES

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Harold Darwin Graves (Judy Gay Miller) left for a Chicago honeymoon following their recent wedding and reception in Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Donald R. Kreuger performed the candlelight ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Milton Miller of Weaverton Street and the late Mr. Miller, also Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Graves of Frankson Street.

LACE AND TAFFETA

With her gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta styled with chapel sweep, the bride wore an illusion veil with pearl tiara. She carried white orchids and carnations.

Mrs. John Westveer of Rochester was matron of honor. Shirley Bratcher, Troy; Ann Gibson, Rochester; Janet Esckelson and Mrs. Arthur Robertson both of Oxford, were bridesmaids.

★ ★ ★

Gary Rouse of Rochester was best man. Seating guests were William Emory, William Miller and James Basch, all of Rochester, and Melvin Miller.

The couple will reside on Shimmons Road.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reynolds of Elizabeth Lake Road have as houseguests the Neil Brackstones of Lansing. Mrs. Reynolds and Mr. Brackstone are sister and brother.

★ ★ ★

Dr. and Mrs. Leroy C. Johnson, daughters Mary Ann and Carol Sue and son Thomas of Illinois Avenue were in Rolling Prairie, Indiana over the weekend.

They attended ceremonies during which their son and brother, Richard L. Johnson received the habit as a novice brother of Holy Cross.

Hopes Bright for Court Bill

Measure Wins Okay of House Committee

Prospects were bright in Lansing today for early approval by legislators of a new appellate court system having three districts of three judges each.

The appeals court bill moved briskly out of one House committee into another, clipping along with a smoothness it did not enjoy when House insistence on single-judge districts scuttled it last month in the special legislative session.

The measure became the first major piece of legislation to win a favorable committee report in the young 1964 regular session when it emerged from the House Judiciary Committee.

It went immediately to the House Ways and Means Committee, its next hurdle before reaching the House floor.

LOOKS GOOD

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, said the bill's chances appear good in the Senate.

"It doesn't look like we have to worry about a deadlock over districting" Roberts said.

The bill conforms to an opinion spelled out by a Supreme Court letter last week that any plan except three districts of three judges each would not be constitutional.

Roberts has introduced a similar bill in the Senate that is now before the judiciary committee which he heads.

He said chances are good that the bill will also win immediate effect in both houses, which requires a two-thirds approval.

Immediate effect is necessary to insure the election of appellate judges this year. Otherwise, the bill would take effect too late to have the posts on the ballot for the Aug. 4 primary.

However, House members held out for single-judge districts, which resulted in no legislation on the topic at all.

Roberts said his committee will wait for the current House bill rather than put his into circulation at the same time.

Under the multijudge plan, Oakland County would be in a district with 16 or 17 other southeastern Michigan counties.

Netherlands Princess Becomes a Catholic

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Princess Irene, second daughter of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard who are both Protestant, has become a Roman Catholic, it was officially announced today.

Dutch rulers have been traditionally Protestant. Princess Irene now is in Spain, and two days ago denied rumors that she was romantically linked with a young Spanish nobleman.

Water Line Set to Hike Lake Level

Waterford Township has installed a water line between Williams and Maceday lakes in a move to boost the low level of Williams Lake this spring.

The plan would divert excess water from the Clinton River to Williams Lake when the river reaches a flood stage, probably early in April.

A gate valve installed with the 12-inch water pipe in a culvert between the two lakes will regulate flow.

★ ★ ★

If no flood stage develops in the river this spring, no water will be diverted, according to Waterford Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

Seeterlin said the water diversion plan will not affect the Maceday Lake level.

"The level of this lake is being gauged and will be maintained," he said.

OU to Select Snow Queen at Carnival

Oakland University will stage its traditional Snow Carnival Friday and Saturday.

The two-day carnival will begin Friday evening with selection of a Snow Queen.

Program Advisor Gary Beeman said 4 coeds had been entered in the annual contest so far.

Swimming, skiing and skating contests are planned for Saturday. In addition, a tug-of-war on ice and a dog sled race will also entertain student participants.

SNOW STATUES

The tradltional snow statues will be judged on Saturday morning.

★ ★ ★

Honor Students Named at OU

Twenty-nine Pontiac residents were among the 192 students earning honors last term.

OTHER SCHOLARS

Other University Scholars include Frederick Clegg, a junior of 1161 Stanley, Birmingham; Mrs. Samuel Henderson, a senior, of 4341 W. Orchard Hill, also Birmingham.

Court Admits Dodge's Will

DETROIT (AP) — Auto heir Horace E. Dodge Jr.'s 1962 will, one of several written by the millionaire playboy-sportsman, was admitted to probate Tuesday over objections of his widow, former showgirl Gregg Sherwood.

Counsel for blonde Miss Sherwood, Dodge's fifth wife, contended in vain that a prior 1958 will leaving her the entire estimated $2 million estate should prevail.

Probate Judge Ernest C. Boehm held in favor of the March 14, 1962, will, finding this was Dodge's expressed desire in the document.

Court aides said this meant that Dodge's estate would be distributed as though he had died without leaving a will, with Miss Sherwood to receive a widow's one-third share.

STIPULATION

Dodge, who died last Dec. 22 at 65, stipulated in the 1962 will that if he died before his mother the will was to be declared null and void. A following clause said that in such event his estate should be distributed as if he had died without a will.

Dodge's lawyer, Douglas L. Paterson, said Dodge made a prenuptial agreement with Miss Sherwood under which she was to receive $1 million if she were living with him at the time of his death.

Dodge and Gregg, many years his junior, were in the divorce court when Dodge died. He charged her with extravagance.

ATTORNEYS PRESENT

Miss Sherwood was not present at Tuesday's proceedings. She was represented by attorneys Milton J. Miller and David K. Page. She is in California.

Paterson estimated Dodge's estate at $2 million. He said that if Dodge had survived his mother the estate would have been about $65 million.

Ypsilanti Boy Dies of Injury

Hurt in Crash That Took Father's Life

A 6-year-old Ypsilanti boy died yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday in a two-car crash that killed his father in Milford Township.

Edward G. Old died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. His father, Edward O., 23, died shortly after the 5 p.m. accident. The family is formerly from Highland Township.

Old's wife, Carrie Jo, and 4-year-old daughter, Jamie Lynn, were injured in the crash on South Milford Road, just north of West Maple.

The driver of the other car, George C. Killackey, 43, of 832 Duke, Milford, and his wife, Kathryn, 45, were treated for injuries.

The youngster is survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bischoff of Milford and Mrs. Eltha Old of Pontiac, and great-grandmother, Mrs. George Brown of Milford.

Service for the boy was set for 10 a.m. today at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Milford. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

A warrant has been issued charging eight persons with fraudulently obtaining money through a photographic studio conspiracy.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department detectives Charles Whitlock and Herbert Dolby said 16 complaints have been received from area residents against the Schaefer Studio, 450 Brainard, Detroit.

Police said neither the studio nor the address exist.

Whitlock said in several cases, large sums of money have been given to salesmen from the studio but no pictures have ever been received.

OTHER COUNTIES

The studio also has been operating in Macomb and Livingston counties, he said.

Whitlock said residents are approached and told they can get a portrait special for $2.95. Later, when the proofs are returned by the salesman, orders are taken for additional photos.

None of these additional pictures has been delivered, Whitlock said.

Expect Tito to Confer With Egypt's Nasser

CAIRO (AP)—Informed sources said today that President Tito of Yugoslavia is expected to visit Cairo next month to confer with President Nasser on preparations for a second conference of nonaligned nations.

The sources said Cairo, Belgrade and New Delhi had agreed that ambassadors to Cairo of nonaligned countries would draw up working papers and list invitations to the conference. There was no indication when the conference would be held, but Cairo is expected to be the site

Something Rotten in Oakland?

Political Parties Are Getting Chummy

By JIM DYGERT

It's alarming the way Democrats and Republicans in Oakland County have been waxing bipartisan lately.

They're talking now about a joint program for informing voters about the issues.

★ ★ ★

SHOULDN'T AGREE

In the two-party democratic system, the two parties are not supposed to agree on anything.

It can't help but foul up the system's machinery, which could suffer an embarrassing breakdown without the partisan conflict on which it was designed to run.

SOMETHING'S FISHY

Besides, something really rotten must be going on if both parties are willing to keep mum about it when they're supposed to be checking each other's closets for skeletons.

It looks bad.

However, a moment of calm reflection turns off the alarm.

How could anyone forget that bipartisan agreement is but an illusion?

Parties can never be anything but partisan. They wouldn't be caught dead in bipartisanship unless they have something partisan to gain, or at least nothing to lose.

★ ★ ★

Democrats who proposed the bipartisan program for getting more information to voters no doubt hoped to get it primarily to more Republicans than they could otherwise reach.

Republicans could no more oppose the idea than come out against our country or motherhood.

Who will dispute that a well-informed electorate is essential to democracy's survival?

★ ★ ★

The kind of "fully informed" public a party means, of course, is one others would describe as fully half informed, fully informed superficially or fully misinformed.

IN RIGHT MIND

No party in its right mind would want the public to know everything it thinks and does.

It naturally would want to limit the public's information to that which looks good and wins votes for itself.

So, what change does a bipartisan program make? Does the public get full information by receiving both halves? Does one side's misinformation merely cancel out the other's?

★ ★ ★

Hardly.

What we'd have would be a joint, bipartisan bombardment of voters with partisan propaganda from both sides at once, and in unprecedented quantities at that.

BACK TO NORMAL

And that is most encouraging. There would be more partisan discord than ever — mostly over which side was most to blame for the suddenly rising level of voter misinformation.

★ ★ ★

Confusion would likewise reach a new high, which should spur both sides to greater heights of partisanship as they seek to exploit it.

★ ★ ★

So, there's really nothing to worry about. That most necessary of all element in a democratic system — partisan competition — is in no danger whatsoever.

Hearings Set for 3 in Brawl

Hearings have been scheduled in Municipal Court for three men arrested Saturday morning following a fight at a dance at Pontiac Armory.

Charged with felonious assault are Claudell Turner, 29, of 439 Howard McNeill and Bobbie E. Graves, 21, of 79 Iowa. Turner is to appear in court Feb. 5 and Graves Feb. 19.

Graves was first arrested there for supposedly using profane language and then pulled the knife when he tried to escape, police said.

Robert Anderson Jr., 24, 323 Howard McNeill, was charged with a breach of the peace. Police said he attempted to interfere with the arresting of Graves. Anderson is to have a hearing tomorrow.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

PANAMA (AP)—To a schoolchild in the United States, Balboa is the man who discovered the Pacific Ocean. In Panama, Balboa means a U.S. naval station and town, the hub of the present crisis between the United States and Panama.

To U.S. citizens living in the Canal Zone, Balboa is a lovely tropical home they would hate to give up. It is a home made possible by their country's vital interest in maintaining the canal.

★ ★ ★

In the wake of bloody rioting, Panama President Roberto Chiari's official stance is that the United States must agree to negotiate a new Canal Zone treaty before Panama will restore diplomatic relations with Washington. Panama wants the new treaty to provide for an eventual takeover by Panama of the 50-mile-long, 10-mile-wide zone and its canal.

No matter how unpopular they are with Panamanians, Balboa and the Canal Zone and the U.S. role there are vitally important to the immediate existence of Panama itself.

PANAMA BENEFITS

Every year $85 million flows into the Panamanian economy from the zone and its residents. There are many smaller — but real — benefits to the Panamanian.

What would happen if the present concept of the Canal Zone disappeared as most Panamanians hope will happen soon?

★ ★ ★

Even before the eggs have been laid, Panamanians are counting their chickens. It seems most have not measured the consequences of a change nor care to.

"Just get the Gringes out. We will take over from there," is a popular consensus.

ANOTHER VIEW

But there is another view held by some Panamanians who also are anxious to see the zone's status changed.

★ ★ ★

Banker Ruben D. Carles says: "There are great opportunities —and graver problems—in returning the canal to us. One would be finding the sources to replace the $70 million to $180 million income from the zone and their accompanying effect on employment, commerce, industry and balance of payments."

★ ★ ★

He advocates a wide range of U.S. compensations for rights over the canal, and he wants Panama to have use of Canal Zone port facilities. Panama City, the capital, has none. Huge machine shops and drydock installations there have lain idle since World War II.

He says the $1.9 million annuity the United States now pays Panama for the canal is a paltry sum.

Juan de Arco Galinda, 52, an engineer educated at Gerogia Tech and a leading candidate for president in the May elections, has called for specific objectives.

His proposals include: Establishment of a time limit on U.S. rights over the canal that are now held in perpetuity; an equal role with the United States in setting tolls and an equal share in revenues, and preference for Panamanians in the assignment of key jobs so they could learn how to run the canal.

Dr. Victor F. Goytia, a jurist-diplomat, advances the theory that Panama is to the United States what Cuba is to the Soviet Union — an economically controlled and militarily dominated satellite in Latin America. He says the United States should dissolve this relationship with Panama as proof of its anti-Communist stand.

Some Panamanians fear the United States will only pull out of Panama after it has developed a new canal elsewhere across the Central American isthmus, leaving Panama in effect with a big, empty ditch.

DAYS PAST

But many, including Panamanian nationalists, believe the day is over when the United States could go into just any country and build canals.

A question among a few Panamanians and some Americans in the zone is whether the current tumult is sincere patriotic expression or mostly political demagoguery.

In the tradition of most Latin-American countries, a firmly entrenched oligarchy has administered the country largely for its own benefit.

In the past three years, Panama has been booming. In 1962 the gross national product rose to $470.8 million, a boost of 10 per cent over 1961, but per capita income is still only approaching $400 annually with a legal wage minimum of 60 cents an hour.

★ ★ ★

If the difference between life in an American Canal Zone and the lower Panamanian classes is startling, the gulf separating the Panamanian poor from the wealthy is appalling.

Oppose NATO as Cyprus Unit

Greeks Prefer U. N. to Maintain Peace

LONDON (AP)—Greek Cypriots indicated today that they want a United Nations force to keep peace on the Mediterranean island and not the North Atlantic Treaty Organization contingent Britain has been trying to muster.

Zenon Rossides, Cyprus' delegate to the United Nations, told Secretary-General U Thant in New York Tuesday a U.N. peace-keeping force would be acceptable on his territory. Thant appealed to Cyprus, Greece and Turkey for "the utmost restraint" in handling the explosive situation.

On the island, Greek Cypriot newspaper assailed the United States and other Western nations expected to take a hand in the crisis and asked that the case be placed before the U.N. Security Council.

American and British diplomats strove to keep the lid on tempers in Athens, Ankara and Nicosia as signs mounted that U.S. troops might be assigned to help keep Turkish and Greek cypriots from each other's throats.

TROOP MOVEMENTS

The London Daily Sketch reported that U.S. 6th Fleet ships with combat Marines aboard had been ordered to "within striking distance of Cyprus as fears of a Turkish invasion swept the island."

The paper said American destroyers "moved towards a strategic position west of the island and close to the shores of Greece and Turkey."

★ ★ ★

A Defense Department spokesman said in Washington that, since the 6th Fleet is normally stationed in the Mediterranean, it would not be unusual for its ships to appear in the vicinity of Cyprus. The spokesman said Washington knew of no unusual moves by the fleet.

Britain, whose military reserve has been drained by trouble in Cyprus, East Africa and Malaysia, has suggested that the United States provide some help.

Congo Up for Grabs by Russ, Chinese

By PHIL NEWSOM

Last Nov. 19, the Congo government seized and reportedly beat two Soviet diplomats returning to Leopoldville from Brazzaville across the Congo River.

NEWSOM

Two days later, the Congolese summarily expelled the entire 100-member staff of the Soviet Embassy in Leopoldville.

The charges were that the Russians were trying to undermine the regime of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

By coincidence or not, it it marked the beginning of a Communist upsurge on the dark continent which in recent days and weeks has seen a leftist revolt succeed in Zanzibar, violspread to Tanganyika, Uganda, Kenya and Libya, and the tightening of so-called Marxist rule in Ghana.

In the Congo itself, terrorism at the hands of half-naked painted youths under Communist leadership has spread to three southern provinces, with death to at least three Belgian priests and to an American woman missionary.

The sad trek of white refugees seeking escape from black African violence is an all-too familiar story in the Congo.

The thin veneer of civilization and the long way to go before there can be any hope of orderly development among many of the emerging new African nations is one thought to be drawn from the current wave of violence.

JOINTLY SUBVERSIVE

Another is the further illustration that no matter what may be the differences between the Soviet and Red China, the graduates of their schools of subversion and violence work well together.

In Kwilu, Kwango and Kasai provinces of the Congo, the terrorists are said to be led by one Pierre Mulele, one-time ambassador to Cairo for the deposed leftist secessionist government of Antoine Gizenga.

Government raids on guerrilla training camps have turned up an odd mixture of Chinese Communist literature and explosives along with Russian clothing and Soviet-made cameras.

The terrorism which began in Kwilu, an agriculturally rich province some 400 miles southeast of Leopoldville, has been described as a textbook version of Communist rebellion.

The terrorists feed not only on tribal unrest but also upon local dislike of troops loyal to the central government.

The history of the Communist effort in the Congo goes back to the early days of Congo independence in July 1960 and the hectic and short rule of the slain Patrice Lumumba.

The United Nations presence and the emergence of an anti-Communist government in Leopold slowed but did not halt that drive.

Reduced U.N. forces continue to be the protectors of what stability there is in the Congo, but they are scheduled to depart early next summer.

Meanwhile, the Congo's own vast size, its agricultural and mineral riches and its accompanying lack of communications and any real cohesive force make it a natural target for Communist subdivision.

When the U.N. departs it will be up for grabs, with the Soviet Union and the Red Chinese among the foremost competitors.

Since 1945, France, Great Britain and Italy have received the greatest total military and economic assistance from the United States.

Plan Concert in Memory of Composer

The body of Blitzstein, who died in Martinique last week after an alleged robbery-beating was cremated Tuesday in accordance with his wishes, she said, adding that the ashes were buried privately without religious services.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Davis said the special memorial concert will probably be held March 29.

The 58-year-old composer had gone to the French-owned island to work on a new opera for the Metropolitan Opera Company.

KNIFE WOUNDS

French officials said Blitzstein died of knife wounds and other injuries, but that circumstances of the attack were not clear. Three sailors have been arrested and jailed.

Blitzstein's works included the adaptation of "The Three Penny Opera" which played off-Broadway more than six years.

Theft Twins Sent to Prison

Three pairs of sunglasses, two packs of cigarettes, a set of screwdrivers and a flashlight.

Those were the items stolen from a car in Keego Harbor Nov. 16.

For stealing them, a pair of 21-year-old twins was sent to prison yesterday by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Rappuhn of 7669 Eston, Independence Township, received a 2½- to 5-year term in Jackson State Prison. His brother, Gary J. of the same address, was given a 1½- to 5-year term.

PLEADED GUILTY

Jerry previously served time in prison for burglary and was on parole at the time of the Keego Harbor theft. Gary was on probation for an auto theft conviction.

Under Illinois law, a member of the immediate family may inherit as much as $20,000 tax free from a deceased member.

Flint Boy, 1, Still Serious From Vaccine

DENVER (AP)— One-year-old John Rozier Jr. of Flint, Mich. so far has failed to respond to treatment given to try to offset a reaction to a smallpox vaccination.

The baby was reported in serious condition at Colorado General Hospital, where he was flown last Friday.

"This doesn't mean that the treatment won't continue," a hospital spokesman said. "He might respond to it at any time."

Two types of medication have been given the infant at the hospital.

The ailment from which the baby is suffering is known as vaccina. Body lesions are among the symptoms. He was taken to a hospital at Flint before Christmas for treatment of a high fever.

Indian totem poles served as coats of arms, banners, storybooks even as notices of unpaid debts. Totem carving became a fine art when Europeans gave northwest coastal Indians their first steel tools.

Minutes After Birth

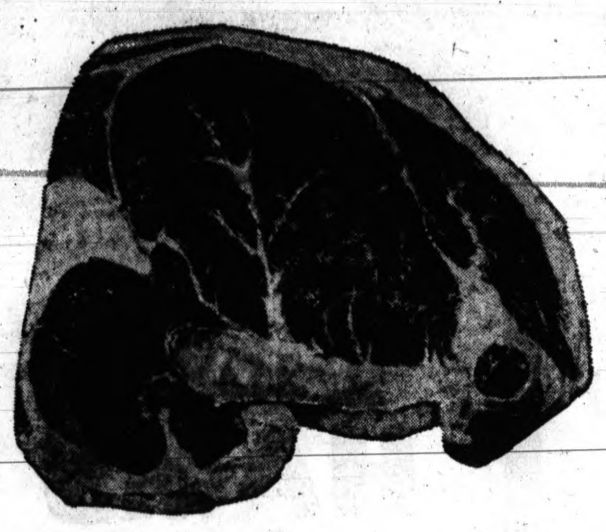

Whale Drowns Offspring

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A 1,300-pound pilot whale, captured in coastal waters only last Friday, gave birth yesterday in a tank at the sea world oceanarium — but a few minutes later went into a frenzy and drowned her 100-pound offspring.

Kent Burgess, who is in charge of training at the oceanarium, said he was in the tank helping the infant to swim when the 13-foot whale suddenly began threshing about.

Burgess scrambled out of the water and watched the big creature seize the calf by a fin, holding the young whale beneath the surface until it was dead.

Veterinarian Robert M. Stader said it was not unusual for animals in captivity to destroy their young.

In Assessment Controversy

Milford to Seek Romney Support

MILFORD — Village officials are looking to Gov. Romney for support in the controversy over special assessments.

They will ask that the governor withhold from the March 9 ballot a proposal that would require special assessment districts to be approved at elections of the property owners involved.

Village President Wilbur Johnson and Manager Donald G. Weidner plan to go to Lansing Monday afternoon to talk to the governor's chief legal assistant, Marjorie McGowan.

★ ★ ★

STREET PROGRAM

The issue arose when the village began planning for a $213,000 street improvement program to be started this spring.

Estimated cost to owners of property on residential streets is $5.50 a lineal foot, with the village at large paying half the bill.

OBJECTS TO METHOD

He gathered 135 signatures on a petition to have the charter amendment placed on the ballot.

The proposal would alter that section of the charter which allows the Village Council to determine the need for and financing of public improvements.

★ ★ ★

According to Weidner the village's objection to the proposal is due to "the cumbersome process in which the decision would be made by the people as to whether they'd be assessed or not."

EXPENSIVE PROCESS

The process also would be an expensive one, the manager noted, commenting that a general or primary election in the village costs between $500 and $600.

Weidner labeled "grossly unfair" the portion of the proposed amendment which would limt the elections to property owners living on their property.

He said that of the 250 property owners to be affected by the street program about 150 would qualify to vote under the proposal.

"The effects of this far outreach the street on which Mr. Plotzer lives," Weidner said.

URGES WITHDRAWAL

The manager said he suggested that the petition be withdrawn and that the petitioners work to amend the special assessment ordinance in another manner.

If 51 per cent of the property owners involved object to paying for a public improvement, it can be established only by a five-sevenths vote of the council.

Weidner said the ordinance could be altered so that 51 per cent of the property owners could just stop the project, regardless of the council's feeling.

★ ★ ★

"This is the way we would like to see it worked if Mr. Plotzer insists on taking the authority away from the council," Weidner said. "But we don't agree with him in theory or principle."

"A handful of citizens can stymie any project," he said. "It's been demonstrated time and time again that the negative vote is always the one that turns out for a special election."

SHARON KAY GRIFFIN

Mr. and Mrs. Rheuben Griffin, 165 W. Elmwood, Leonard, announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Kay to David Kenneth Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz, 15265 30 Mile, Washington Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

Growth Report Precedes Rochester YMCA Drive

ROCHESTER — On the eve of the organization's annual membership drive, officials of Rochester YMCA today issued a report of the "Y's" growth during recent years.

Now in its fifth year of operation, the association has more than doubled the number of activites offered.

Under leadership of executive secretary Jack Zahn, Rochester "Y" is now sponsoring 36 programs, as compared with 15 in 1959.

This past year, total attendance has climbed to 27,580.

Swimming continues as most popular "Y" activity.

In the 1959-1960 "Y" year, annual spending was listed at $8,989. This too reached a peak last year, when the budget was set at $20,040.

Memberships accounted for more than $8,000, the Community Chest contributed $5,700 and program activity income totaled $4,753.

Almont Hospital Is Accredited for Three Years

ALMONT — The Community Hospital has been awarded full hospital accreditation for the next three years, it was announced today.

The achievement was the result of a Dec. 4 evaluation study of the hospital undertaken by field representatives of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Three years is the maximum for which hospitals in the United States can be accredited.

James Hough, hospital board president, pointed out that only 22.6 per cent of United States hospitals with under 50 beds have an accredited status. The local hospital has 49 beds.

SANDRA L. DUNSTAN

The engagement and August wedding plans of Sandra L. Dunstan and George W. Curtis have been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dunstan of Royal Oak. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leonard Curtis of 9196 Little Farm, White Lake Township, and the late Mr. Curtis.

Submits Plat for Home Area

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A plat for a proposed 27-house development between Dixie Highway and Green Lake was submitted last night to the Township Board by developer Bernard Lytell of Waterford Township.

The plat will be referred to the township's engineers for a recommendation.

Designated Waterford Hill Golf Estates No. 1, the proposed development is situated northwest of Waterford Hill Country Club.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night, the board renewed an annual agreement with the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for police service.

No Milford Primary as Only Three File

MILFORD — With three candidates running for two vacancies on the village council, there will be no primary election here before the general March 9 balloting.

Seeking the two three-year terms are incumbent Vernon Rounds, mayor pro tem; incumbent Calvin Lawrence and Ralph Wiese, 674 Sweetbriar. A former councilman, Wiese was defeated in his bid for reelection last year by Mrs. JoAnn Colton.

★ ★ ★

Special Balloting in Oxford Seeks Sewer System View

This time, instead of being asked to raise their hand at a public hearing, as they were last week, they'll be asked to check the ballot of a special referendum Feb. 24.

Last night, the Village Council voted unanimously to set the special election, in an effort to determine the exact number of village residents favoring and opposing the system.

★ ★ ★

"This is to be a special advisory ballot, for all adult residents," Village President Allen E. Valentine said today.

ALL TO VOTE

Valentine said all adult residents, including those not registered to vote, will have a chance to indicate their feelings on the issue.

"The council will take a look at the results of the balloting and make a decision based on them," Valentine added.

He said because it is not required that the voters be registered, about 1,100 can cast ballots in the unofficial election. Only about 500 Oxford residents are registered to vote.

"The council members felt the people should have a definite voice in this decision, for one reason because Oxford hasn't been cited by the state yet," Valentine said.

$916,460 OPINION

In the Feb. 24 balloting, which is one week after the primary election here, voters will register their opinion on the proposed $916,460 construction project.

The system would provide sewage facilities to all village residents at an average annual cost estimated at $125.50 for 12 years and $78 for the next 18 per unit.

A unique spray irrigation plant would handle sewage for 12 to 15 years. Ultimate plans call for it to be piped into a county system.

Last week, a crowd numbering more than 175 heard a panel of experts explain why Oxford needs the facility.

HEALTH VIEWPOINT

Dr. Hugh Wilson, village health officer, said Oxford has been lucky "not to have had any serious outbreaks of typhoid, dysentery or hepatitis."

Looking at the cost factor, Louis Schimmel, director of the Michigan Municipal Advisory Council, told the audience that the proposed system is "never going to cost any less."

Current plans call for the project to be financed and supervised by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Schimmel has said that the county DPW could finance construction of the system from "25 to 45 per cent cheaper" than the village could.

Clarkston Women Start Story Series

CLARKSTON — Members of the Clarkston Women's Club will launch a children's story hour series tomorrow at 10:15 a. m. at the Independence Township Library.

Teens Oust Officers, but Just for Day

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Officeholders in the township slid over today to make room for North Farmington High School students participating in the first student government day.

Supervisor Curtis H. Hall watched Phil Cooper take over his job. Marlea Welton assumed the duties of Clerk Floyd A. Cairns and Lynn Smith moved in on Treasurer Elise P. Avery.

DINNER PLANNERS

★ ★ ★

After dinner they will hear a talk by Hal Newhouser of the Cleveland Indians.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Free Fire Hazard Check for Rochester Merchants

ROCHESTER — Merchants of Rochester are going to be asked to open their doors — in their own interest—to a team of fire inspectors coming to the village.

The Michigan State Fire Prevention Association is working with the Rochester Kiwanis club to provide the free check for all mercantile establishments and public buildings.

On Feb. 4 a working committee meeting will be held in the village's Municipal Building, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The inspectors, field representatives of stock insurance companies, will work with boy scouts on March 17, the day set for the fire check.

RED TAGS

Owners or tenants of the buildings will be given booklets describing the hazard and recommendations for corrections.

The fire prevention association is a division of the Michigan Capital Stock Insurance Association. Its services will be offered without charge.

★ ★ ★

Lloyd Christensen, chairman of the Rochester Kiwanis Club's business and public relations committee, said the inspections are made only with owner approval, and will not affect insurance rates or policies in any way.

COMMERCIAL BUILDINGS

Churches, stores and schools are included on the list of buildings to be visited.

"The inspections are made not to be critical, but to be helpful," Village Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan said.

Buchanan pointed out that 85 per cent of all fires are started from common hazards which the inspections would uncover.

Three Seek Two-Town Vote League

Thus far it's unorganized, unchartered and unregistered, but the three founders are determined to bring about their goal of organizing a Lake Orion-Oxford Chapter of the League of Women Voters.

"We feel that the mothers and wives of future political leaders should also take part," explained Mrs. Charles Robbins, 622 Detroit, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Robbins is working with another Lake Orion woman, Mrs. Robert Thomas, 305 Flint, and also Mrs. Richard Collins, 823 Henford, Orion Township.

★ ★ ★

The trio is looking for more women in the Oxford Lake Orion area who could attend the once-a-month regular meetings.

NATIONAL GOALS

"We'll work along with the national goals," Mrs. Robbins explained.

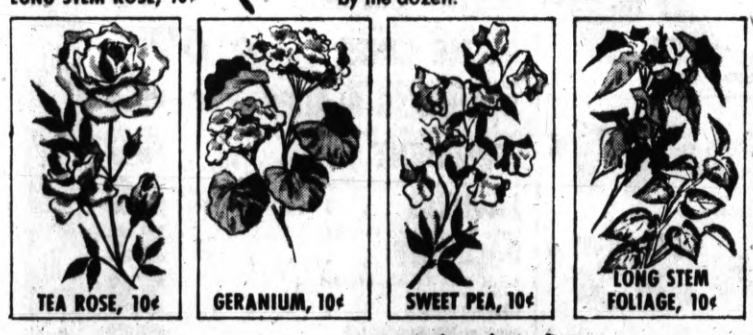

"Our aim is to create a sense of responsibility for government in as many citizens as possible."

Kennedy Aide Resigns

Believe Schlesinger Last to Go

ARTHUR SCHLESINGER JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sources close to President Johnson said today they think the resignation of Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. will be the last from the White House staff of key advisers of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Schlesinger's resignation as special assistant to the President, announced yesterday and effective March 1, followed that of Theodore C. Sorensen, White House special counsel. Like Sorenson, Schlesinger plans to write a book about Kennedy.

Schlesinger is a former Harvard professor. At the White House, he assists in writing speeches and is a specialist on Latin American affairs.

★ ★ ★

Persons in a position to know said the other principal presidential assistants during Kennedy's White House days have assured Johnson that they will stay on indefinitely.

THOSE INCLUDED

O'Brien is the chief White House liaison man on Capitol Hill. O'Donnell is appointments secretary with varied other chores.

Bundy's field is national security affairs which puts him in the middle of decision-making in foreign affairs. Salinger continued on as press secretary.

★ ★ ★

Johnson and Salinger, however, appear to hit it off well and talk of Salinger leaving in the near future has died down.

PULITZER WINNER

In his letter of resignation, Schlesinger said the transition in government has been so effectively and successfully concluded that he felt "the moment has arrived for me to leave the White House."

Later, he told newsmen that he had decided even before Kennedy's death to leave the White House staff after the next election.

★ ★ ★

He said his departure was hastened by his desire to write a book centered on Kennedy's presidential years.

NOTES, MEMORANDA

He said he kept no systematic diary, only notes and memoranda.

The book, he said, will deal with "the character and quality of President Kennedy in his few short years in the White House."

He said his book would in no sense be in competition with Sorensen's book, which will cover a longer period—his 11 years with Kennedy as a senator and as president.

Princeton's Prof. Eric Frederic Goldman, another historian, is being mentioned as a White House replacement for Schlesinger.

Sixty Now Chapter to Elect Officers

Sixty Now, Inc., the movement with strong labor union support seeking the amendment of social security laws, will elect officers of its Oakland County unit Sunday.

Fred V. Haggard, AFL-CIO Oakland Council president, said Sixty Now is a nonprofit organization chartered under the laws of Ohio and dedicated to lowering the retirement age from 65, with greater benefits.

The 2 p.m. meeting at Pontiac Motor Division UAW Local 653 Hall, 386 Kennett, is open to the public.

★ ★ ★

Speaker will be James Kalmis, state representative to the national organization

The Sixty Now program was endorsed last year by the three Pontiac General Motors UAW locals. Haggard said the newly formed county chapter has about 300 members.

As Culture Comes

Father and Daughter Go See Mummy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — As culture must to all mankind, it has come to our family.

"You never take me to a museum" remarked our 10-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, whose usual enthusiasms are ice skating and trying to unwire the teeth we pay her orthodontist to wire.

BOYLE

"Well, well," I said, stung to the backbone of parental pride. "What museum would you like to see? The Guggenheim?"

"Is that the one where you go up in an elevator and then unwind and unwind and unwind as you go downstairs?"

"Maybe."

MUMMY PREFERRED

"Is that where the mummy lives?"

"Well, yes, they do have a department of Egyptology there."

"That's the place, replied my daughter. "That's where the mummy lives."

We walked up the grand staircase of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and, as always, I was suffocated by the knowing that the next step would take me into the seeing of great products of previous lives.

LOST SPLENDOR

"I think the mummies are this way," said Tracy confidently. We went by an array of stone emptinesses, dilapidated cat goddesses and leering amputees of lost splendor.

Then we got lost ourselves and wandered into the armor area where knights in steel bestrode horses also metal-bordered. Tracy enjoyed this form of humanitarianism.

★ ★ ★

"Did cats wear armor too then so dogs couldn't bite them?" she joked.

We went down and hit the snack place for a sandwich and a drink. Tracy insisted on waiting outside when I went through the American wing.

When I emerged, she steered me back to the Egyptian area. This time she pawed me successfully to a glass case containing the remnants of a fellow wrapped in Thebes a long time ago. To an outsider he had an air of decrepitude.

"That's a mummy in there," said my daughter learnedly. "You know how long he has been in there? He was put in there before Jesus Christ was born and" — her face wore a look of complete feminine triumph—"he never has got out.

★ ★ ★

"What do you think of that, Daddy?"

I thought it was a good time to go home. The way I figure culture, you can only take so much of it at a time — in our family.

Capital punishment in England was widespread as late as the 1800's when 200 crimes were punishable by death.

High School Guard Is Doubled

DETROIT (UPI)—The principal of Pershing High School said yesterday two teachers and 16 students, double the normal amount, would be on duty on the first floor of the school each day, in the wake of the stabbing of a student by a gang of toughs who invaded the school.

The student was stabbed in an extortion attempt by the youths. A 14-year-old student suspended from another school has admitted the stabbing.

Yesterday marked the start of the new semester at the school, and students attended for only two hours.

Pershing High School Principal Franklin E. Frey said the short day was held to forestall any confusion in the corridors when students at the school returned for classes during the break.

Normally there would have been a two-hour organizational period followed by students attending brief class sessions.

Teachers have complained that most of the problems at the school are created by school dropouts or youths from other schools.

Auto, Truck Sales Boom Boosts Area Pay Checks

In only a few months have more wages been paid by local plants. The all-time high of $19,529,624 was August 1955.

BANK DEBITS JUMP

December, with the boost of Christmas spending, also saw bank debits to customer accounts take a big jump upward from a year ago.

Last month debits stood at $114,594,585, second highest in local business history, just under the $118,802,838 mark posted in October. In December 1962, debits amounted to $101,895,069.

They represent a dollar value of $510,189, near the 1962 level but a big drop from November when 98 applications showed $3,297,586 in new building.

POSTAL RECEIPTS

December's postal receipts hit $295,364, nearly double November's total, and almost $70,000 more than a year ago.

Bus patronage declined from the same month a year ago, while outbound commercial air travelers from Pontiac Municipal Airport numbered 43, one more than December 1962.

Statistics on business trends are supplied by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Post Office, city water and inspection departments, Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Near-Record Output Last Year

Continued Steel Recovery Firms Economic Muscle

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — A recovery in the steel industry that began last year is gathering momentum. It promises to impart important strength to the nation's economy.

Improved profit reports on 1963 are flowing in from all major producers. Some reflect dramatic gains. The mills, working steadily faster, are turning out steel at a near-record rate of 115 million tons a year.

Modernized plants with new tools and technology are increasing efficiency, helping to lower costs and boost earnings.

Last year's modest price increases are augmenting profits and providing funds for further modernization. Also contributing to funds for improved facilities are federal depreciation rules, which were liberalized in 1962.

FIRMS SPURT

Some leading steel companies spurted higher on the stock market again Tuesday after Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. proposed a 3-for-1 stock split and just before U.S. Steel Corp. reported sharply higher earnings.

U.S. Steel, posting the best results since 1960, reported earnings of $202.9 million or $3.28 a share, up from $163.7 million or $2.56 a share from 1962. "Big Steel" profits, however, were less than half 1957's record level.

★ ★ ★

With only Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. among the top eight producers to be heard from, net income for the others came to $483 million, up nearly one-third from the $365.1 million they reported in 1962.

★ ★ ★

National Steel Corp., the fourth ranking company, set a record pace last year. Profit reached $63.8 million to eclipse its previous high, $57.8 million in 1950.

OTHER GAINERS

Other strong gainers included Republic Steel Corp., Armco Steel Corp. and Inland Steel Co. Steel output cracked a five-year slump in 1963, zooming to 109 million tons for its first over-100 year since 1957.

Roger M. Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, gave chief credit for "Big Steel's" better showing to increased operating efficiency, rising volume and price increases that averaged about one per cent.

★ ★ ★

Industrywide production last week made its fourth consecutive advance and 19th in the last 23 weeks. Output was about 20 per cent ahead of the comparable 1963 week, although roughly only 70 per cent of capacity.

For 1963 as a whole, employment averaged 187,719 persons, down from an annual average of 194,044 in 1962. U.S. Steel employment dropped to 180,534 for the three months ended Dec. 31. In 1960, the company's average payroll was over 225,000.

Asked about the reduction, Blough said, "We have been trying to do things better." He declined any estimate of the proportion accounted for by white collar staff shrinkage in the firm's cost-cutting drive.

Integrated School Says Officials Stall

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A bombed, racially integrated church school charged yesterday it was unable to reopen its facilities because local authorities had not issued a repair permit.

The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New Orleans announced the school had been repaired, but would remain closed until the permit was obtained from Plaquemines Parish (county) authorities.

Detroit Raises Teachers' Pay

All Levels to Receive $100 Salary Boost

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit teachers got an across - the-board $100 annual pay raise yesterday from the board of education.

In addition, those teachers who have reached the top pay scale will get an additional $300.

The move brings the minimum salary for a beginning 40-week teacher to $5,100. The minimum for a beginner with a master's degree was hiked from $5,400 to $5,400.

★ ★ ★

Also added was an 11th step to the present salary schedule which calls for a yearly progression of $300. Previously, it provided for 10 steps, ending at $7,800 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and $8,100 for one with a master's.

TOP GRADES

The 11th step raises the top grades to $8,200 and $8,500, respectively.

School Superintendent Samuel Brownell, in recommending the raises, said they were necessary if Detroit is to compete with other school systems.

Brownell said they would add about $3.3 million to the school budget for next year — the first full year they will be in effect.

Shrimp Filling in Tortillas Less Spicy Than Peppers

So—if you are intrigued by tortillas but hesitate to build the usual fire around them, try them filled this way.

Pink, plump canned shrimp, added at the last, give this sauce instant elegance and lift it 'way up and out of the ordinary. This makes a delightful luncheon or late supper dish.

Shrimp Enchiladas

2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp
4 tablespoons butter
1 small garlic clove, cut fine
4 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne
6 wedges Gruyere cheese, grated coarsely
12 tortillas

Drain and rinse shrimp. Melt butter, add garlic and saute just a little. Blend in flour; add milk, seasonings, and cheese. Cook and stir until thick and smooth. Combine with shrimp.

To prepare tortillas, fold each like a pocketbook and grasp edges with kitchen tongs. Dip quickly, one at a time, in and out of deep hot fat. Or dip them one side at a time into an inch or two of hot fat in a skillet. Remove the instant they begin to sizzle and drain, still folded, on absorbent paper.

★ ★ ★

Spicy Pumpkin Flavors Dessert

Pumpkin Pudding

1½ cups canned pumpkin
¼ cup firmly - packed light brown sugar
¾ teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1 cup cold milk
1 package (2¼ ounces) custard-flavor dessert mix

Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat the pumpkin, brown sugar and pie spice until very hot — about 10 minutes. Off heat, gradually stir in the milk, keeping smooth. Add the dessert mix and stir in well.

★ ★ ★

Bring to a boil over moderate heat; boil for 3 minutes. Spoon into six 5-ounce custard cups; chill until firm. Top with vanilla ice cream. Makes six servings.

Offer a Baked Pudding After Light Dinner

On cold days, when an oven dinner is such a cozy idea, try baking a Vanilla Rice Pudding along with the rest of the meal. It's an old fashioned trick and a dish with the delicious flavor of real vanilla in it.

Vanilla Rice Pudding

2 cup uncooked long - grained rice
2 cups hot milk
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated leom peel
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
2 large egg yolks, beaten

Lemon Meringue

Cook rice and milk 20 minutes or until rice is tender in the top of double boiler over hot water. Mix the next 6 ingredients and add gradually to hot rice. Turn into a buttered 1-quart casserole.

Bake in a pan hot water in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour or until pudding is soft-firm and lightly browned.

Lemon Meringue:

1-16 teaspoon salt
2 large egg whites
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

Add salt to egg whites and beat until they stand in soft, stiff peaks. Gradually beat in sugar. Beat in pure vanilla extract and lemon juice. Spread over Vanilla Rice Pudding. Yield: 6 servings.

Reverse Cereal and Fruit for Breakfast Treat

Crunchy Baked Grapefruit is a new and cheery variation on the cereal-and-fruit theme. Reversing the usual situation, cereal tops the fruit.

Combine brown sugar, butter and ready-to-eat high protein cereal. Spread the mixture over halved grapefruit, then bake until bubbly. The tempting result is a novel opener at breakfast.

Crunchy Baked Grapefruit

4 grapefruit
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1 cup ready-to-eat high protein cereal

Cut grapefruit crosswise into halves. Cut around each section. Place halves cut-side up in shallow baking pan. Mix sugar and butter until crumbly; add cereal and mix lightly.

Sprinkle about 2 tablespoons mixture over each grapefruit half. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 12 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 8 servings.

Sauerkraut Has Its Week

BY JANET ODELL

All right, so you don't care for sauerkraut! Some of us do and get hungry for it every once in a while.

Someone has declared Jan. 30-Feb. 8 National Kraut and Frankfurter week. Let those of us who like the fermented cabbage enjoy it thoroughly.

Kraut and Franks With Singapore Sauce

2 cups kraut, undrained
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound frankfurters
⅓ cup chili sauce
⅓ cup catchup
¼ cup firmly-packed sugar

Combine kraut and onion. Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Drain. Meanwhile, melt butter. Add frankfurters and cook over low heat 10 minutes, turning occasionally.

Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, 5 minutes. Arrange kraut on serving dish. Top with frankfurters and sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Or how about biscuit and franks roll-ups with kraut?

Kraut and Frankfurter Roll-UP

½ package (10 ounce size) pie crust mix
¼ cup grated Cheddar cheese
8 frankfurters
½ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3½ cups undrained sauerkraut

In bowl, mix together pie crust mix and cheese; prepare according to package directions. Roll out to 8x8-inch square; cut into eight 1-inch wide strips.

Wrap strips around frankfurters in spiral fashion, securing at either end. Bake on ungreased cooky sheet in 425 degree (hot) oven 10 to 15 minutes or until pastry is lightly browned.

Meanwhile cook green pepper and onion in butter until crisp-tender, about 3 minutes. Stir in seasonings. Wash kraut; drain well. Add to onion mixture. Heat to serving temperature. Makes 6-8 servings.

You can even use kraut to make relish or slaw.

Kraut Relish

1 1-pound can sauerkraut, drained and cut in short lengths.
½ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup canned pimientos, cut in strips
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Chill. Serve with fried chicken, if desired. Make 4-6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Kraut-Bacon Slaw

1 1-pound 11-ounce can sauerkraut, drained
1 cup crumbled crisp, cooked bacon
1 teaspoon celery seed
3 tablespoons mayonnaise

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Chill. Makes 6-8 servings.

Canned Pimiento Is Bright Garnish

Why not take a tip from hotel and restaurant meals. Attention is given to the appearance of the food on the plate. To give color a sprig of green may be added.

Or, another favorite garnish is a strip or a cutout of canned pimiento. Pimiento atop a serving of chicken or broiled fish is especially attractive.

★ ★ ★

Dress up penny-saver meals with colorful canned pimiento, also. Macaroni and cheese or scalloped potatoes and ham are made more tasty and dressy when pimientos are added.

A four-ounce can or jar is just right for either of these dishes to serve four or six. Cut the pimientos in pieces about a half-inch in size.

Christian Unity Movement Reaching Smallest Hamlet

(EDITOR'S NOTE — It's happening more often than ever before — Catholic priests addressing Protestant groups, joint services conducted by clergymen of various denominations. Evangelist Billy Graham says this ecumenical movement is "so fantastic it could change all of Christendom.")

NEW YORK (AP)—An Episcopal minister, a Roman Catholic Priest and a Presbyterian clergyman jointly conducted the Thanksgiving Eve service in the village hall of Irvington, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

The service last November was the first interfaith Christian worship service ever in the village, a Hudson River community that was the scene of Revolutionary War activity, and the locale of Washington Irving's fiction.

The service exemplifies the growing popularity of the movement toward Christian unity within the United States and the world.

This ecumenical movement has involved prelates and evangelists, the clergy and the laity, big cities and hamlets, dioceses and individual churches.

"This is the beginning of something so fantastic it could change all of Christendom and will affect you, your children and their children," the evangelist said.

★ ★ ★

So far, there has been little, if any, actual exchange of pulpits across the walls of Catholicism, Eastern Orthodoxy and Protestantism. But there has been an opening of dialogue on religious levels ranging from the churchgoer to Catholic cardinal.

ADDRESSED PROTESTANTS

Tuesday, by invitation, a Catholic theologian addressed a group of Protestant clergymen in Philadelphia. Today a Catholic clergyman—professor speaks to the Ohio Council of Churches in Columbus. It will be the first appearance by a Catholic churchman before this Protestant body in its 45-year history.

The movement's increased popularity flows from many founts—the unifying work of the National and World Council of Churches, the election of John F. Kennedy as the first U. S. president of Roman Catholic faith, the Vatican Council in Rome.

When the late Pope John XXIII opened the Vatican Council in October 1962, he spoke of unity for the entire Christian family and set the keynote for deliberations, continued by his successor, Pope Paul VI.

The Rev. Wiliam A. Norgren, an Episcopal minister in New York City who heads the Department of Faith and Order Studies of the National Council of Churches, remarked:

"The charitable atttitude of Pope John toward non-Catholics has had a great deal to do with the relaxation of barriers between Christians generally."

Albert Cardinal Meyer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, addressed the 33rd annual ministers' week at Chicago Theological Seminary, a Protestant institution. He said both Catholics and Protestants believe the unity movement cannot be securely founded without a clear statement of religious liberty.

★ ★ ★

The cardinal said he looked for further developmenet from the Vatican Council of Pope John's encyclical which said:

"Every human being has the right to honor God according to the dictates of an upright conscience and the right to profess his religion privately and publicly."

N. Viet Nam Court Convicts 'U. S. Spies'

TOKYO (AP)—A North Viet Nam military court has convicted six men of spying for the United States and given them sentences ranging from 4 to 15 years in prison, the New China News Agency reported today.

★ ★ ★

NCNA said the agents — who were not identified — were the 12th group of spies tried by North Viet Nam military courts since last June.

5,320 State Drivers Appealed to Boards

LANSING (AP) — License appeal boards handled 5,320 cases of appeals of driver license revocations or suspensions last year, reports the Secretary of State's office.

Of the total, 836 persons had their licenses restored, 855 were allowed to drive on restricted licenses and 403 had suspensions or revocations modified.

REACH SAFETY—Youngsters were airlifted to safety from the terror-stricken area in southwest Congo yesterday. They are helped off the plane on arrival at Leopoldville. United Nations aircraft and missionary planes continued efforts to rescue other missionaries threatened by rebel guerrillas.

U. N. Copters Dispatched for Congo Missionaries

By United Press International

LEOPOLDVILLE — A United Nations helicopter rescue team was dispatched today to rescue five American missionaries and five of their children from an area threatened by Communist-led Congolese terrorists.

One American missionary, Miss Irene Ferrel, 42, of Jerome, Idaho, was killed by a terrorist arrow last week in Kwilu Province, where bands led by Communist-trained former Cabinet Minister Pierre Mulule have been raiding both missionary stations and Congolese towns.

They said 100 administrators and other civil servants have been killed by the "Mulelist hordes" and the situation is now out of control.

SEEN FROM AIR

The 10 Americans to be rescued are in the Kwilu Province town of Kintshua, where razed houses have been sighted from the air.

They were not immediately identified. Other missionaries in the province also have appealed for help.

The Congo situation was by far the most serious outbreak of violence in Africa, but trouble was reported in other nations from the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean.

In the North African kingdom of Libya, six rioters were reported killed in scattered clashes with police.

FOREIGNERS STONED

They were protesting the slaying of two students killed in a demonstration for Arab Unity two weeks ago.

Foreign Minister Oscar Kambona said that British troops who put down an African troop mutiny Saturday would remain as long as the government wants them.

PLOT CHARGED

Nyerere charged Monday that "a number of people" had plotted to overthrow his two-year regime when troops mutinied to demand more pay and to oust their British officers.

In Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, police yesterday opened fire on a crowd of rock-hurling Africans protesting the six-month jail sentence given African nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo.

Two Africans were reported killed.

EMERGENCY MOVES

But Secretary General Thant said last night before leaving New York for a tour that will include the Congo that no decision has been made on the use of U.N. troops in Kwilu Province.

Pontiac Men Plead Innocent to Theft

Innocent pleas were entered in Circuit Court Monday for two Pontiac men accused of robbing a policeman at knife point.

Major Finley, 19, of 59 Chapman and James Gibson, 23, of 520 Franklin were ordered by Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt to stand trial. No trial date was set.

Finley and Gibson are charged with armed robbery of Norman Kilmer, 23, who was stopped by three men while driving in the Bagley Wessen area. The trio took his wallet and fled.

★ ★ ★

PLEADED GUILTY

Frank Miles, 23, of 506 S. Paddock stopped. Miles later pleaded guilty and will be sentenced Feb. 4.

Finley and Gibson were arrested later. Both are being held in the county jail for trial. They were unable to furnish $5,000 bond each.

Three-Fourth Women

Many Suicides Want to Be Rescued

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third of five dispatches on suicide by United Press International. It deals with the persons who try suicide and fail.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A man drove his automobile to the middle of a bridge near Fort Lee, N.J., climbed to the rail and prepared to leap to his death. A police car drove up, an officer got out and shouted to the man:

"Come down from there or I'll shoot."

The man came down, got into his car and drove away. Nobody knows for sure how many Americans attempt suicide every year, but the best expert guess is around 150,000.

★ ★ ★

Many of them, like the man on the bridge, don't really want to die but feel compelled to take the preliminary steps toward self-destruction. They hope somebody will catch them in time.

WOMEN IN MAJORITY

Three-fourths of the Americans who attempt suicide and fail are women. A majority of them are under 35 years of age.

A firm clue as to whether they really want to die can be found in the method they choose. Almost none of them uses a gun or leaps from a high place because those methods are the most likely to succeed.

Instead, they cut their wrists or take barbiturates.

★ ★ ★

What is the motive? A study by the Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles and published by the National Institute of Mental Health discusses it this way:

COMMUNICATION

"Sometimes, the motive behind a suicide attempt is to communicate some message to another person or to change the behavior of other people . . . a suicide attempt may be made in an effort to make a spouse or parent or sweetheart change his actions in some way.

"Or it may be an angry effort to strike back at someone or to persuade him not to take an unwanted action, such as divorce or separation.

"The individual whose private life is so unhappy that he thinks of suicide as a way out usually does not recognize that such behavior increases his difficulties by arousing guilt and hostile feelings in those closest to him.

★ ★ ★

"Even though a suicidal attempt may frighten or persuade a loved one into a temporary change of behavior, it does not correct the basic difficulties.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH

"A person making an apparent suicide attempt (but not really planning to die) is gambling with death. Something may go wrong with his plans for being rescued.

"In many cases, the person making the attempt could not reach his would-be rescuer by phone. Someone did not come home at the proper time.

"The trip to the hospital was delayed, or some other unforeseen event occurred.

★ ★ ★

"There are also cases where a mild dosage of sleeping pills or some other medication proved fatal because of some unusual physical reaction. What was meant to be merely a communication became, instead, an actual suicidal death."

★ ★ ★

There seem to be thousands of persons who have an unconscious desire to kill themselves and manifest it by having numerous accidents.

★ ★ ★

The National Safety Council notes that some persons have as many as seven automobile accidents and the significant thing is that there is a strong tendency for them to repeat the same type of accident.

In his book "Man Against Himself," Dr. Karl Menninger cites the case of a man who spent almost all of his adult life getting involved in accidents:

"This man had been struck by lightning three times. He had been buried alive in a coal mine; he had been blown through the air by a cannon, suffering the loss of an arm and an eye.

"He had been buried alive under two tons of clay. Next he fell 30 feet off a cliff and still later was thrown by a horse and dragged through a barbed wire fence.

Then he fell from a speeding bobsled, fracturing his skull. At 80, he recovered from double pneumonia. At 81 he had a paralytic stroke.

At 82 he was run over by a horse and wagon. At 83 he was run over by an automobile. The same year he slipped on the ice and fractured his hip."

DEFINITE RELATIONSHIP

A person repeatedly involved in accidents usually denies with great heat that he has an unconscious desire to die, but psychiatrists see a definite relationship.

The odds against a person having seven automobile accidents, for instance, are about 9,000 to one.

The odds against repeating the same type of accident are astronomical. The inevitable conclusion by the experts is this: Thousands of accidents don't happen; they are caused deliberately.

There is no guarantee that a person who has been unsuccessful in a suicide attempt will not try again. Nor is there any certain cure for suicidal tendencies as psychiatrists well know.

There are hundreds of cases of persons who have undergone treatment, are presumed to be cured and released. They promptly go home and kill themselves.

SELF PRESERVATION

The greatest factor against suicide and suicide attempts is the law of self preservation. Nobody can possibly measure the number of persons who have loaded a revolver, put it to their heads and then changed their minds.

And, as internes in every emergency hospital in the nation well know, even people who have really tried to kill themselves frequently beg for help to live as they are wheeled in on a stretcher.

Tomorrow: Methods of committing suicide.

U. N. to Eye Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council will meet Monday to consider once more the dispute between Pakistan and India over Kashmir. Pakistan has accused India of stirring up new tensions that threaten world peace. India denies it.

Teen-Ager's Potential Is Hard to Realize

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

The careers planned by young people often make their parents shudder. Why is it so difficult for parents to help teen-agers map out adequate futures?

DR. NASON

There is no simple answer to this question.

But a major fault lies is the inability of either parent or teenager to follow the thinking of the other.

It is impossible for a successful adult to view the future through the eyes of a younger, less successful person.

The adult sees only the potential of the youth. The youth feels only his inadequacies. Neither can understand the "reasoning" of the other.

Take the case of Mary, a high school senior. Mary's parents can well afford to send her to college — any college. They are anxious, practically demanding that she continue her education.

Mary is including some shorthand, typing and bookkeeping in her high school courses; she plans to drop out of school at graduation, get a job and, as soon as she is 18, move into an apartment of her own.

Her decision to solve life's problems in this manner appears to an adult to be doing things the hard way, because she will be starting out on her own with a minimum of educational training.

Why do teen-agers such as Mary choose such a struggle rather than remain in school, supported by their parents, until they are better prepared to cope with life?

SAME QUESTION

Mary's parents are not alone in this quandary. Everyone working with young people finds this a difficult question to answer.

A line of attack that may help one teen-ager adopt more rational goals fails to work for the next one. As in all behavior, the causes are many and tangled.

To be successful in helping teen-agers, look for a pattern of circumstances, rather than a simple overpowering reason for their actions.

Look for a combination of factors which, can occur when:

1. Teen-ager lacks vocational goals. His parents have erroneously assumed he would suddenly grow up and choose one. Satisfactory goals are not sudden choices.

2. Teen-ager avoids consideration of goals. He feels inadequate for the educational and vocational goals his parents urge him to adopt.

3. The gap between what the parent knows the child should do, and what the child feels he can do, is wider than the parent realizes.

4. Communication is difficult. Parents are thinking in terms of an adequate future. Teen-agers' minds are filled with plans for the immediate present.

5. Parents attempt to tell teen-agers which goals to choose. Mere telling cannot change a teen-ager's feelings about himself.

6. A teen-ager naturally struggles for independence. His desire to get free from parental controls affects his judgment. While the parent thinks he is helping, the teen-ager feels he is being pushed around.

In bridge language an "echo" bears no resemblance to what an echo really is. The word is applied to any conventional play of an unnecessarily high card followed by a play of a lower card in the same suit.

JACOBY

To make things even harder for the student, every little echo has a meaning of its own. Some echoes are used to show strength in a suit, others to show number.

Except for the trump echo, most of them show a doubleton or occasionally four or six cards in the suit. The trump echo shows an odd number and almost always three.

It is used by a player who wants to tell his partner that he can ruff something after he has had to part with two trumps.

East took his ace of diamonds and returned the queen. West ruffed South's king with the seven of trumps and shifted to the five of hearts.

Dummy won the ace and a trump was led. East hopped right up with the ace and West played the five spot.

This completed the trump echo and told East that West was ready to ruff a third diamond.

East was tempted to try to cash a heart, but instead he resisted that temptation and led another diamond whereupon West was able to take the setting trick.

How did East know that West could beat dummy's nine of spades? Easy! There is no rule requiring a player to echo and West would not have bothered to show three trumps if he could not beat dummy's nine.

For Thursday

ARIES (Mar. 21—Apr. 19): Conditions "steady." You can see direction of path you are traveling. Organize your affairs. Think through a DEFINITE PROGRAM. Applies to personal as well as professional life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Have fun, but remember responsibilities. Day when COMMON SENSE must be given full reign. Tendency is to go to extremes. Overcome it. Be wise; practice self-discipline.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): Associate who promised much . . . may have to confess he did not have all facts. Be gracious. But don't take on extra burdens. Refuse where lending money is concerned.

CANCER (June 22-July 21): Financial pressure due to lift. You are better able to make decisions. Chance for greater independence indicated. Spotlight flair for original approach concerning HOME PROJECTS.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 21): Self doubts may exist. But they are temporary, unfounded. Make basic decisions—stick to them. Money question needs attention—but not as critical as you might believe.

VIRGO (Aug. 22-Sept. 22): You can now obtain answers. Cycle high. Your influence spreads. You can gain more with a smile than with a club. Applies especially in connection with work, fellow employes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Added responsibilities are good . . . up to a point! Then you must put your foot down, insist on a fair share. Find out whether you are obtaining what's rightfully your own.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Surprise due. Involves friends, members of opposite sex. Outcome is PLEASANT. Know this—act accordingly. Be ready for changes. Agree to program which requires CREATIVE EFFORT.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Slow down so you can "catch up." Advice may appear contradictory. Think it over—you may have been skipping over essential details. Stress SYSTEMATIC APPROACH.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 20): Broaden horizons. Don't be bogged down with routine. Try new methods. Be willing to admit past mistakes. Don't permit false pride to cost you hard-earned money.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19): If you weigh yourself down with emotional problems—you could have difficulty making loved ones happy. Don't defeat your own, basic purposes. Be a little selfish today!

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20): Finish projects. Don't be in too much of a hurry where new plans are concerned. Think over goals, aspirations. Obtain hint from GEMINI message. Be receptive.

Ex-Tax Commissioner Advises Senate Unit

LANSING (AP) — The former chairman of the State Tax Commission has accepted a two-month appointment as consultant to the Senate Tax Committee.

Florida Resort Uses Numbers on Traffic Lights

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — This resort town on Florida's "Gold Coast" has added to the trend for mechanization — such as direct dialing of telephones and zip codes for mail — by using a numbering system for its traffic lights.

Each light is numbered so that visitors, particularly motorists, need only instructions to turn right at, say, Light No. 11, without any reference to street names or landmarks.

The innovation was suggested by the local chamber of commerce and has been approved by both police and highway agencies.

Lost? Ask an Officer! He Probably Is Too

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A newsman driving through Miami's Golden Glades interchange, notorious as a confusing maze, asked a parked State Trooper if many people got lost in the cloverleaf.

★ ★ ★

"Neighbor, I sure don't know," the trooper replied. "Every time I get down here off State Road 9, I get lost. I stay out of this part of Dade County as much as possible."

Birds' Tails May Get Longer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma City Lincoln Park Zoo will experiment on increasing the length of the tails of some of its peacocks.

Dr. Warren Thomas, zoo director, said the plan grew out of a casual conversation with Dr. Allen Stanley, professor of physiology at the University of Oklahoma Medical School here.

Stanley has experimented with hormonal alterations in chickens and said Japanese long-tailed fowl are produced by suppressing thyroid production at a certain stage of development.

Thomas said: "It may not work at all. The Japanese long tails are chickens. Peacocks are related to the pheasant family."

Philanthropist Dies

Budget Cut: Weigh It!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evidence arrived yesterday that President Johnson really did cut the federal budget.

The Budget Bureau released the "appendix" to Johnson's fiscal 1965 budget message. The book is 1,165 pages long, a saving of 30 pages from a year ago.

The appendix is, in fact, the budget — the annual blueprint for every dollar of estimated government income and spending. This one weighs over five pounds.

Washington is nearer to Moscow than to Buenos Aires.

Robert Kennedy 'Not Interested' in Ticket Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says he is not thinking about running for vice president now, only about doing a good job as attorney general.

Kennedy, just returned from a trouble-shooting mission to Southeast Asia, was asked at a White House news conference Tuesday to comment on the action of the Erie County (N.Y.) Democratic Association in endorsing him for vice president.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not interested in any of those matters at this time," he said. "I have decided only that I am going to be attorney general and not look beyond that."

$33 Million to Be Spent on Road Improvements

ROYAL OAK (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John Mackie told the Royal Oak Safety Council Tuesday night the highway department will spend $33.8 million for highway safety and improvement this year.

Mackie said 285 miles of state highway are scheduled for improvement in 53 counties. The work will include paving, widening, rebuilding of shoulders and intersectional betterment projects.

Tuberculin Test Shows Immunity Degree

DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Q — Does the tuberculin test show whether the tubercle bacillus is present anywhere in the body?

BRANDSTADT

A — The tuberculin test shows whether or not a person has had enough contact with the tubercle bacillus to build up an immunity to it.

If a person's test is positive, it may mean that he has some active tuberculosis, but is in the process of overcoming it.

Far more often, it means that the battle has been won and all the soldiers have gone back to their families.

In medical school we used to say, "Give us this day our daily tubercle bacillus." Mild exposure, if repeated often, is the best way to keep up the body's resistance to the disease.

But even the resistant person can get the disease as a result of an overwhelming exposure. Fortunately, we now have effective antituberculosis drugs that greatly facilitate the treatment of this disease.

Q — What would cause me to continue to have a sour stomach even after surgical removal of part of my stomach?

★ ★ ★

A — Unless you have a peptic ulcer, in which case the acid-forming glands in the stomach would put out too much acid, an overabundance of acid in itself would not cause any symptoms.

On the other hand, if you regurgitate sour stomach contents after meals, this would taste sour even if the concentration of the acid were normal.

The cause of such regurgitation may be eating too fast, worry or nervous tension, failure to chew your food thoroughly or an allergy to one of the foods eaten.

There are many antacids that you can take for temporary relief. If you have a great deal of trouble, you should have your doctor determine steps to eliminate it.

Traditional Splendor Prevails as 9th Winter Olympics Opens

Lack of Snow, Deaths Mar Atmosphere

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Russia's hard-skating hockey forces wore down injured U.S. goalie Tom Yurkovich and overwhelmed the defending champion Americans 5-1 today in the opening competition of the Winter Olympics.

Yurkovich turned aside shot after shot in the struggle, despite a knee injury suffered when he fell heavily to the ice near the end of the first period.

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The ninth Winter Olympic Games, plagued by lack of snow and under the shadow of two tragic training deaths, opened today in traditional splendor.

★ ★ ★

The 1,260 athletes from 35 nations paraded at the base of the spectacular Berg Isel ski jump and dipped the national colors as Paul Aste, Austrian bobsledder, took the Olympic oath of amateurism and sportsmanship on behalf of all competitors.

The torch that burns until the Games end Feb. 9 was lit by Josl Rieder, a former Austrian world ski champion.

RUSSIA FAVORED

The big Russian team is expected to dominate these Games just as it did those at Squaw Valley, California, four years ago when the Soviets won seven gold medals, five silver and nine bronze. Strong competition will come from Germany, Norway and Austria.

The United States, which won three firsts at Squaw Valley, is pinning most of its hopes on Jean Saubert, the sturdy Oregon girl who is among the world's best in the slalom and downhill ski races.

Hockey competition is already under way and tonight the first championship of the Games will be settled — the pairs figure skating.

Thursday there will be the men's 30 kilometer cross country race, women's 500 meter speedskating, and the men's downhill ski race.

The opening ceremonies followed rigid Olympic protocol.

On hand were Dr. Adolf Scharf, President of Austria; Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee; Prof. Friedl Wolfgang, secretary general of these Games, and international sports officials.

FLAGS FLYING

Flags of the 35 competing nations were run up as the Austrian national anthem was played. The white Olympic flag with the five interlocking circles that flew at Squaw Valley was ceremoniously brought in and presented to Dr. Alois Lugger, mayor of Innsbruck.

Only on the jagged peaks of the Tyrolean Alps that ring Innsbruck can snow be seen in abundance, but enough has been brought in by Austrian soldiers to provide an adequate surface for the ski and jumping events on the lower slopes.

Harassed Austrian officials fear that if the white stuff does start falling now it will only complicate matters.

Never before has tragedy struck the Games so early and so hard. Ross Milne, Australian skiier, and Kazimierz Kay-Skrzypecki, a Pole who became a British citizen and took up bobsledding, were both killed in pre-Olympic training here. A dozen or so others have been injured, some seriously.

Many fear that the hard-packed and icy snow brought here for the Games will produce further mishaps.

LIMITED PROGRAM

The opening day's program was limited to give most competitors a chance to participate in the traditional inaugural ceremonies but it was a program likely to please the fans.

The first gold medal of the games was at stake in the pairs figure skating tonight, and world champions Marika Kilius and Hans-Juergen Baeumler of Germany were the favorites.

Olympic Small Talk Rings Familiar Bell

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—You're always reading about the baseball manager who says: "We'll surprise a lot of people, if we get some pitching."

And the football coach who says: "We're going to play them one game at a time."

★ ★ ★

It turns out that winter sports athletes and coaches talk the same way. With the Winter Olympic Games under way here you can expect to read the same comments again and again.

SKI STAR

He really means: "I don't know who some of these foreigners are, but after watching them I'm surprised they let them get out on the course. They look like they bought their first pair of skis last week. From what I've seen so far, they couldn't beat me if I carried an anvil down the slalom."

She means: "I enjoy racing against her because I've beaten her 22 straight times. She's a good loser. She should be, she's had so much practice."

From the coach of a country that has never won an Olympic medal: "We have an outside chance."

Translation: "We couldn't win if the other fellows left their skis behind and slid down the hill on their stretch pants. But we got a free trip to Europe and we're all having a ball."

★ ★ ★

From the winner: "The course was unfair and the gates were placed improperly. You don't need technique on this course, just blind luck."

Which means: "I guess I'd better go home and practice some more."

From the first string skier, talking about the second string skier: "I don't care which one of us wins, as long as we get a medal for our country."

IT MEANS

And that means: "I don't know why they bothered to bring this bum along. He just clutters up the snow for the good skiers and gives our country a bad name."

From the second string skier, talking about the first string skier: "We're very good friends."

Translation: "I'd be the happiest guy in Innsbruck if he'd sprain an ankle and give me a chance for a change."

From the head man of an Olympic team: "Our athletes feel that the important thing in the Olympics to take part."

That means: "We'd like to win, but we haven't got the chance of a snowball in the Congo. And if you can't win, try sportsmanship."

Police Quintet Still in Rut

City Rec Cage Team Misses Upset Bid

The only unbeaten team and the only winless team in the city recreation department's National League met last night and the result was inevitable.

At least, the Pontiac Police team probably thinks so today. It led the undefeated Wilson All Stars, 37-32 entering the final period, but finished with loss No. 4 when the latter rallied for a 50-49 victory.

Other action saw Beckers win its fourth in five starts, 62-55, over Messiah Baptist Church in the National League; and Class D results gave Cotton Billiards and Minute Lunch wins.

Cotton triumphed over the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 65-53, and Minute Lunch was a 37-27 winner over St. Luke's Methodist.

Reds Remove Press Barrier

For the first time the Soviets have issued a press book — standard practice for all the Western nations. It is in Russian and German, with thumbnail sketches of all the athletes.

Says Nikita Khruschev in a prefatory note:

"In these days when the main sorry of mankind is to obtain peace and to secure it, sportsmen must take an honorable place in the solution of this highly important task. Meetings of sportsmen of different countires are favorable for the coming together and the mutual understanding of the people. They play an important role in the securing of peace."

Pistons Halt Losing Streak in 93-92 Win

Jones Nets Winning Markers as Detroit Tops Lakers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons cracked their five-game losing streak by nosing out the Los Angeles Lakers 93-92 on two baskets and a free throw by Willie Jones in the final 52 seconds Tuesday night.

The Pistons did it the hard way, blowing a 14-point lead on the Western Division leaders before finally winning for the first time in nine games at home.

Jones hit on a 25-footer to give Detroit a 90-89 lead. Elgin Baylor tied it for the Lakers with a free throw. Jones cinched it with another from 18 feet with 30 seconds to go and shot a free throw 14 seconds later. Jim Krebs scored for Los Angeles at the buzzer.

OTHER GAMES

In other National Basketball Association games the New York Knickerbockers beat the Boston Celtics 133-127 at New York and the San Francisco Warriors dumped the Philadelphia 76'ers 139-117 at Philadelphia with the help of Wilt Chamberlain's 59 points, tying his best for the season.

The Pistons got a lot of help from rookie Reggie Harding. A team member for only 10 days, Harding collected 16 points while grabbing 16 rebounds. It was largely because of Harding that Detroit built up a 74-60 lead in the third period.

Los Angeles played without star guard Jerry West, out with a broken thumb. He may be lost for three weeks.

Baylor led both teams in scoring with 25 points. Harding and Bailey Howell had 16 each for Detroit.

Irish Wear Parochial Crown

RO Squad Wins Tenth Loop Game

While tight prep battles rage in many county basketball leagues, the Northwest Catholic League can boast of the first 1963-64 coronation today.

★ ★ ★

The crowning site was Royal Oak Tuesday night with the home team, RO St. Mary, taking the honors, 71-44, at the expense of St. Michael.

Other Catholic league action saw St. Frederick romp past Detroit St. Agatha, 70-52, and Orchard Lake St. Mary slipped past Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, 58-49.

A 15-5 spurt in the second period boosted ROSM to a 28-16 lead at halftime and St. Michael couldn't get back in the game. The winners hit 31 of 63 shots from the floor while St. Mike only had 15 of 61.

★ ★ ★

The win gave the Irish at least a share of the title for the past three seasons. Don Wells' 16 points for St. Mary led all scorers.

SHARP SHOOTING

St. Frederick also had a hot shooting night and coasted to its sixth league win. The Rams hit 57 per cent of their shots in dumping St. Agatha.

★ ★ ★

They led, 33-17, at halftime. Leading the St. Fred attack was Mike Dean with 19 points and Lowrey Holland added 15.

Waterford Our Lady's Bill Brandt hit 28 points, including 13 field goals, against OL St. Mary's zone defense, but it wasn't enough to overcome the balanced attack of the home team.

Orchard Lake tied St. Michael for second place in the loop with its sixth win in 10 starts by taking an early lead and holding it all the way.

Lake Orion Fails to Pass Cage Test

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Lake Orion flunked an important Oakland A League test last night, dropping a loosely-played contest to Troy, 43-31.

But bad passes, numerous violations and a poor shooting percentage added up to a failing score.

The win kept Troy a game back of Fitzgerald, a 67-28 winner over Madison, and in the third game on the O-A slate, Warren Cousino surprised Clawson, 70-53.

The performance for the Dragons was their worst of the season.

POOR SHOOTING

They connected on only 11 of 62 field goal attempts, 17 per cent, for their lowest scoring output of the season.

Troy, running its season mark to 7-1, jumped off to an 18-10 first - quarter lead and was never headed.

The winners held a 26-16 halftime lead and outscored the Dragons, 17-15, in a dull second half.

The Colts' shooting wasn't spectacular — 28 per cent — but their defense forced the Dragons to shoot from outside and it paid off.

The Dragons held the Colts' high - scoring ace Ted Bauer to 10 markers, but Chris Beacham, a 6-3 forward, took up the scoring slack and poured in 19 points.

Bruce Fritz provided part of the scoring answers for the Dragons with 16 points, but Jon Cucksey and Dave Phillips, who entered the contest averaging more than 15 points a game, collected only four and five, respectively.

Lake Orion stormed back in the fourth quarter to narrow the deficit to 37-31, but the club failed to score a point in the remaining four minutes.

Fitzgerald's Spartans ran their league record to 8-0 with the easy conquest of Madison (2-7).

Counsino romped to a 39-27 halftime advantage and coasted to the easy win over Clawson.

The win moved Cousino into a tie with the Trojans for fourth pace in the loop race. Both have 4-4 records.

Ex-Detroiter Howie Young in Black Hawk Doghouse

Young missed practice Tuesday and apparently left the Hawks in a position where there is a possibility he may be sent back to the minors.

Young, 26, came to the Hawks from Detroit early this season. The Hawks felt they could mold him into their pattern, but Young has failed to succeed.

The Hawks conceded Young missed practice Tuesday and it is known that this is not the first time he has been absent without permission.

OUT 5 GAMES

Young, obtained by the Hawks from Detroit for goalie Roger Crozier, recently was suspended by the National Hockey League for five games by president Clarence Campbell for his misconduct in a game at Toronto.

Since his return, Young has been used sparingly and has not been impressive. The Hawks now have six defensemen, including Young, and General Manager Tommy Ivan must draw the line — meaning someone has to go. Young has been playing second fiddle to defenseman Aut Erickson in recent games and Ivan has praised Erickson's play.

Jim Norris, co-owner of the Hawks, made the deal getting Young from Detroit, which is oned by Norris' half brother, Bruce Norris.

Currently the Hawks are tied with Montreal for the league lead. They never have won the National Hockey League title.

OUT OF REACH?—It would seem Dryden's Tony Sisson (41) and Emmanuel Christian's John Lauckner (34) are reaching for a ball that is beyond their grasp but actually Sisson has just won the center tip in last night's contest in Pontiac. Waiting for the ball to come down is Dryden's Tom Sterner (10).

Saginaw Upset Victim

Lancers, Milford Lose

Emmanuel Christian, Milford and Imlay City all took on more than they could handle on the area high school basketball front Tuesday night.

Emmanuel was dumped by Dryden, 74-61, Highland Park belted Milford, 83-45, and Imlay City was a 77-63 victim of Marlette.

In a full slate of Saginaw Valley Conference games that excluded Pontiac Central, Flint Southwestern pulled the top upset of the season to date by dumping Saginaw, 83-63.

Other scores saw Flint Central take over sole control of the lead with a 90-59 romp past Bay City Handy, Saginaw Arthur Hill topped Midland, 64-56, and Flint Northern whipped Bay City Central, 84-72.

Completing the area prep cage card, highly regarded Sandusky defeated Deckerville, 78-64, North Branch whipped Peck, 75-56, and Livonia Bentley walloped city rival Franklin, 64-43.

ARRIVE LATE

Dryden's quintet was delayed an hour by transportation problems but it wasn't slow in starting after the initial tipoff.

The visiting Cardinals built an early 14-point lead over a cold-shooting Emmanuel five. The Lancers pecked away, however, and trimmed the deficit to 52-51 early in the final session.

But Dryden then went on another tear that produced 16 straight points and sewed up the ball game. The losing Lancers only connected on 33 per cent of their shots.

The outside shooting of Ron Faulds (22) and Ken Kitchenmaster (21) more than offset Emmanuel's leading shooter, Ralph Wingate, who hit 25 points.

Highland Park had four players in twin figures and dominated the backboards as it whipped Milford for the second time. Of the winners 16 baskets in the first half, 11 came on tip-ins.

The home team Redskins trailed, 17-6, after one quarter and 39-19 at intermission. Tim Barnes' 12 points were tops for the losers.

Ed Lomerson scored 31 points for Imlay City but it was not enough to avoid the Chiefs' third loss in 11 games this season.

Marlette won its eighth in 10 tries aided by a 22-7 first quarter, and 26-16 final period after Imlay had come within five markers.

Sandusky won its 10th straight despite falling behind 21-10 to Deckerville in the first quarter. The winners led 36-32 at halftime and stayed in command, although Bob Parrott had 29 for the losers.

North Branch led all the way against Peck as Glen Jamison hit 12 field goals and 26 points and Wayne DeGrow added 16. The winners connected on 42 per cent of their shots.

Five were in double figures as Flint Southwestern dumped Saginaw. The Colts trailed 52-47 with 10 minutes to play but went on a four period rampage. They hit 27 of 36 foul shots.

Flint Northern hit 20 of 30 first half shots, Art Gelow had 27 points for Arthur Hill, and Flint Central led all the way in the other SVC victories.

Palm Springs Golf Marathon Opens Today

Top Names Bidding for Piece of Purse in 90-Hole Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus and more than 500 other golfers were here today to start the tournament that doesn't know when to quit.

Actually, it's a very ordinary golf tournament, except that it runs five days and is the only 90-hole event on the PGA tour—and that it is played on four different courses simultaneously—and that it is really 18 tournaments in one.

The nearly 11 dozen professionals entered will compete for about $100,000 in prize money. Of this, $50,000 will be distributed Sunday to leading scorers in the 90-hole tournament proper. The winner will get $7,500.

The rest will be divided up a little at a time, during the 17-part pro-amateur event that runs through Saturday.

In addition, an insurance company promises a $10,000 bonus to any pro who makes a hole-in-one. Tournament sponsors offered a $50,000 hole-in-one prize in previous years. But they had to take out a $50,000 insurance policy to cover themselves and, after a few payoffs, the premium got so high they decided to drop the gimmick.

This is the fifth PGA tournament of the year and winners of three of the previous four are here. They are Art Wall Jr., who won the San Diego open; Tony Lema, winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, and Chi Chi Rodriguez, who won the Lucky Invitational at San Francisco, defeating Don January in a playoff Monday.

Arnold Palmer, who won the first Palm Springs Classic in 1960 and repeated in 1962, is back again. So is Billy Maxwell, the 1961 winner.

NFL Team Rosters to Have 40 Players

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —The prosperous National Football League, riding high with a new $28.2 million television contract and a record attendance of 4,163,643, has boosted its player limit to 40 men in a move that should cut down on taxi or reserve squads.

★ ★ ★

The league acted to stabilize squads Tuesday by increasing the player limit from 37 to 40 players, who must come from a 560-man pool remaining after the final cutdown.

"The spirit of the new rule is to stop shuttling players on and off the active list," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

ABOVE LIMIT

Most of the pro teams carry reserves who are members of a so-called taxi squad, over and above the player limit. Normally they can be brought up to the active list when a regular is injured.

Under the new rule the only replacements for the list of men, remaining after the final cutdown on the last Tuesday before the season opens, must come from the master list of 560 players. The list represents the 40 players retained by each of the 14 clubs.

Rozelle said a special exception had been made in case four men are injured and rendered inactive for the rest of the season. In that case, one outsider could be added who was not on the list of 560. Of course, the usual deals and waiver transactions can be made.

★ ★ ★

The NFL also approved closed circuit television of the home games of any club in its local blackout area, normally 75 miles. Each club is permitted to make its own deal, with the proceeds included in normal gate receipts and divided 60 per cent to the home team and 40 per cent to the visitors.

TITLE PAYOFF

The league office announced a financial breakdown of the title game. Each winning share of the Bears was worth $5,899.77 and each losing share of the Giants was $4,218.51. Both were records.

The Bears got 49½ shares, the Giants 45½. Green Bay players got $577.50 each and Cleveland Browns $521.97 from the pool for conference second place teams.

A motion to count tie games as one-half victory and one-half defeat was withdrawn after a sample of sentiment showed most clubs were against it. The visiting club will be permitted to wear its distinctive colored uniforms in 1964 if the home club agrees to wear the white shirts.

PNH Matmen Whip Kettering for 9th Win

Pontiac Northern's mat team ran its record to 9-0 Tuesday evening with a 31-11 decision over Kettering.

The Huskies won nine of 12 events in handing the Captains their third loss of the season.

BOWLING

The leaders in the Huron Bowl Wednesday Night "A" League will clash tonight with the third-fifth place teams hoping to take advantage of the situation.

The Wolverine Entertainers will meet Tony's Tigers with only one game separating the two teams. Ten Pin Barber Shop, Drewry's Beer and 300 Bowl are hoping the two will split.

Last week Ivan Craycraft's 656 topped the list of six 600 series, and Don Wood's 266 was best among the 43 games of 200 or better.

The 3185 pinfall by the Gridiron Bar team at Huron Bowl last week in the Pontiac Motor Tuesday Morning League is a new season high for the circuit.

Orv Warren's 218-237 — 672 and Herm Bishop's 223-220 — 641 led the barmen. League secretary Ray Senk had an all-spare game.

Friday at Huron the Ladies Matinee League posted a 227 for Charlotte Bishop, and 204—525 for Ruby Burnett. Mary O'Brien had 522.

Carol Arnold (201—511) and Donna Contor (201—507) were best in the Pontiac Housewives League at West Side Lanes Thursday morning.

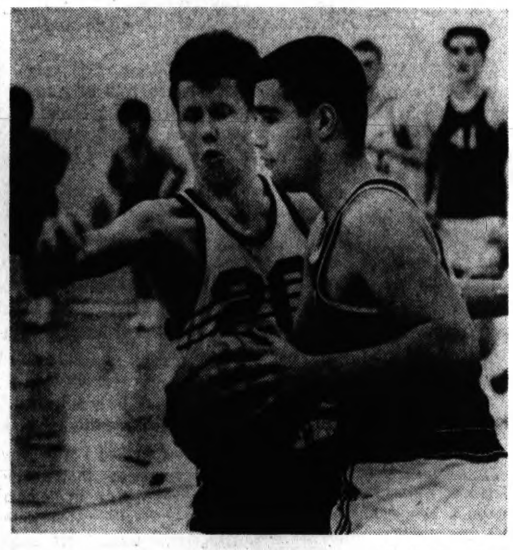

Howe's Lanes Bucks & Does League last week recorded a 212 game for Gail Huntley in his first year of bowling. The Spikehorns have opened a four and a half point lead on the other five teams.

Marion Biron had a 224 game in the Airway Angels League last week to take over high game with handicap honors (278). Doris Burgis had 222-208—579 and Dorothy Dyker 224—545 were other top scorers at Airway Lanes.

Marbara Childress (204—583) and Betzi Waisanen (221—582) had a close battle for individual scoring honors in the Airway Lanes Ladies Major Classic.

The Airway First League last week was topped by Ottille Dobski with 209-203—548 and Lilah Liskey with 232—532. Judy Nichols had 203—524 despite a 127 average.

NO HELP OFFERED—Emmanuel Christian's Glenn Holman (20) is not about to offer any help to Dryden's George Couzens on this play, although the Cardinal player is holding something that Holman would like to have. Action occurred during first half of game last night which the visiting Dryden team won, 74-61.

Three Tigers Sign Baseball Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — The number of Detroit Tigers under contract for the coming season rose to 22 Tuesday when signed pacts were received from infielder Don Wert and outfielders Willie Horton and George Thomas.

Wert, expected to start at third base for the Tigers, appeared in 78 games last season, hitting seven home runs and posting a .259 average.

Horton hit .333 at Knoxville in the South Atlantic League and turned in a .326 average with the Tigers in 15 games in September.

Thomas hit .211 in 53 games for the Los Angeles Angels and .239 in 49 games for Detroit.

Northwood Five Wins

MIDLAND (AP)—Jerry Pettway's 47 points led Northwood Institute to a 112-97 basketball victory over Davenport Institute Tuesday night. Northwood was never behind. Ed Rusticus led Davenport with 22 points.

Texas Aggies Eye Conference Title

By The Associated Press

For the first time in 40 years the surprising Texas Aggies are in a good position to win the undisputed basketball championship of the Southwest Conference.

Despite a 73-65 defeat by independent Houston Tuesday night the Aggies are 3-0 in league competition, including a victory over defending champion Texas, and figure to go all the way in Shelby Metcalf's first year as head coach.

"Our foes took us too lightly the first half of the season said Metcalf. "It won't be that way the rest of the season. Everyone will be pointing for us now that we're on top and the team to beat."

Still Metcalf added that his team, sparked by all-conference Bennie Lenox, "has not yet hit its peak." Lenox was the 14th highest scorer in the nation last season as a junior and flipped in 53 against Wyoming in December. The Aggies have won eight of 13 games with all five of their defeats in non-league tests against Utah State, Utah, Oklahoma City, Wichita and Houston.

LONG BOMBS

Tuesday's defeat by the Cougars was the first game since Jan. 11 for the Aggies and it took some nifty long-range shooting by Chet Oliver, Jack Margenthaler and Benny Neumann to win for Houston.

The trio combined for 44 points as the Cougars won their eighth in a row before a delighted Houston turnout of 7,700. Sophomore John Beasley with 17 points and Lenox with 11 led the Aggies.

★ ★ ★

The game helped highlight another slim national program on the college hardwoods. Fifth-ranked Vanderbilt, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, romped against Arkansas State 108-73.

Wisconsin beat Marquette 72-68, Providence whipped Santa Clara 82-71, Auburn nipped Florida State 63-59, Drake upended Iowa State 63-53, Xavier, Ohio, downed Canisius 104-84, George Washington drubbed Centenary 88-69, Arizona State defeated Los Angeles Loyola 82-64, Miami, Fla. rolled over Rollins 127-85 and Washington nipped Oregon 69-67 in two overtimes.

Joe Kruszewski pumped in 28 points to lead a Virginia Military rally as the Cadets beat East Carolina 86-78. Soph Clyde Lee also scored 28 in Vandy's triumph.

College Five Will Welcome Phantom Foe

MARS HILL, N.C. (AP) — Coach Harold Woods knows one thing for certain but not two things for sure.

He knows his Mars Hill College Lions will play a basketball game on their home court at 8 p.m. Thursday but Wood hasn't the faintest idea as to what team they'll be facing.

★ ★ ★

Wood received a telephone call from a Kentucky college coach last week in which the coach told Wood he was taking his team to Georgia on a tour. The coach said he wanted a game en route back home and wondered if Wood would fill the date at Mars Hill.

Wood agreed. Now he can't remember the name of the coach or the school, so he is booking the game as Mars Holl vs. the Kentucky Phantoms.

Sports Show on Saturday at Cobo Hall

Exhibits to Display Wide Line of Wares for Recreation

The second annual Michigan Boat, Sports & Vacation Show will open Saturday and continue through Sunday, Feb. 9, in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

More than 100 exhibitors in cruisers, sailboats, outboards, runabouts, campers, tent-trailers, resorts and sporting goods manufacturers will present their wares to the public in the nine-day show. Show hours are from noon until 11 p.m. each day.

"This will be a complete sports exhibition," said Milt Hopwood, the show's chairman, "one in which there will be something for everybody with a sports hobby—be it in boating, camping, outdoor living, fishing, hunting or golf and skin diving."

Local and national manufacturers will display the 1964 models of watercraft from 40-foot cruisers to canoes.

Campers and tent-trailers, along with a variety of outdoor living features, also will be exhibited. These include Champion, Explorer, Emperor, Pontiac, Dodge, Chevrolet and Airstream.

★ ★ ★

Various states and areas will present their tourist attractions. New York, Washington, Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Quebec, Alabama and lodges from Saskatchewan, the Northwest Territories and Ontario also have displays.

Special free shows will be offered at 8 p.m. each day of the show at 4 p.m.

GUN SAFETY

The National Rifle Association will conduct gun safety classes with Forrest Bunker, chairman of junior gun training, in charge.

A fishing clinic and bait casting tournament will be held with Charles Wilcox, secretary of the Detroit Bait and Fly-casting Association, managing the tournament which will pit Toledo casters against several Detroit organizations.

Conservation education will be one of the show's features and will be conducted by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, with Lou Michalski, MUCC director, who will exhibit live birds and animals—including a record 43-pound live raccoon.

Boating safety will be the theme of the U.S. Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary exhibit and those in attendance may register their boats for 1964 in a special Secretary of State's booth.

There also will be a trout stream for children to fish.

Reloading Clinic Scheduled Feb. 8

Scheduled to appear are Fred Huntington, RCBS; George Fairchild, Cascade Cartridge Inc. (CCI primers); and Raymond Speer, of Speer Products (bullets).

Also on the program which will run from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 a. m. are officials from Pacific Gun Sight Co.

The general principles of reloading will be discussed and then demonstrations given showing how rifle, handgun and shotgun ammunition can be made at home.

★ ★ ★

Trapping on Decline Among State Youths

LANSING (UPI) — The young trapper who arises early each frosty winter morning to run his trapline and collect muskrat, mink and raccoon pelts for the nation's fur market is a declining figure in Michigan today.

★ ★ ★

Dave Jenkins, a game biologist for the Michigan Conservation Department highlights the dramatic decline in Michigan trappers by comparing the current interest with post-World War II figures.

"Right after the war we had about 35,000 trappers in the state and now we have declined to 6,000 to 7,000 trappers," Jenkins said.

"Price is one of the main reasons for the decline in mink, muskrat and raccoon trapping," he said, "but there has also been a change in the interest of today's youth.

"Kids are more interested in cars, television and listening to records than they are in getting up early in the morning for the sport of trapping," he said.

BIG GAME

Jenkins said, he felt this accounted for the general steadiness in the number of beaver trappers in the state — 3,500 to 5,000.

"It's still a big game. In the north where the people are closer to the land the interest holds up," Jenkins said.

Pelt prices have crashed for all furs since the 1948 prices, Jenkins said.

"After the war a prime beaver pelt could bring from $60 to $70 and now it is worth about $20. A muskrat pelt used to be worth $2.50 to $3 and now it's worth about $1 and mink pelts now sell for from $10 to $15 and used to be worth twice that."

Part of the decline in prices is the increased cost of labor, less demand for the furs and ranch mink, Jenkins said.

"However, the muskrat is still the most important fur bearer in North America," he said. "A lot of people think of mink coats but many more muskrats are trapped and sold."

Although trapping interest dates back to the early days of American colonization, the typical trapper in today's depleted force is a rural youngster who manages to earn some extra money with his early morning excursions into the cold.

"Of course there are still a few old trappers around who have been at it for years and years," Jenkins said, "but the number is steadily declining."

TRAPPERS' PRIZE CATCH — Dates and bag limits have been set for the spring beaver and otter trapping. More beaver are taken, but the otter, such as the one shown above, bring much better prices. About $30 for a good pelt.

Deer Win First Round of Annual Winter Bout

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's deer herd has won the first important few rounds in the annual winter battle for survival.

Although it already is past mid - January, deer are not yet confined to yards in either peninsula.

Snow depth reports in the Upper Peninsula range up to more than two feet. Some crusting is reported, but the snow mostly is light enough so deer can get about without difficulty.

The deer still are ranging out of yards for food in all areas of the Upper Peninsula, Conservation Department game men report.

SNOW DEPTH

Similar depths of up to two feet are reported in the snow belt region of the northern Lower Peninsula, particularly in the Kalkaska area. Depths in other sections of the northern Lower Peninsula range upward from as little as six inches.

The deer are reported only loosely yarded in the Gaylord and Traverse City districts. The herd still is ranging widely in other parts of the area.

The whitetails have been able to take advantage of cuttings by the Conservation Department and commercial loggers to supplement natural browse.

They also have not yet been forced to concentrate on food available in the restricted areas of the yards — generally located in thick fir-spruce stands where the deer huddle more for protection against wind and cold than because of the browse available.

NO STARVATION

There have been no starvation reports as yet. Also, there have been no reports of dog packs running the deer.

"So far the winter has been very good for deer," observed F. W. Stuewer of the Conservation Department Game Division. "The snow has been loose enough so they have been able to move around."

Although there has been some bitter cold weather, this doesn't hurt the deer.

"They can get along as long as they can get food to replace the energy they burn up," Stuewer explained. "Cold doesn't bother them as long as there is enough to eat."

It is estimated Michigan had a deer herd of about 650,000 animals going into the winter. The count this spring will have a lot to do with the hunting regulations in the fall.

Fishermen Warned to Mark Ice Holes

Ice fishermen were reminded today by Lt. Donald Kratt, head of the Oakland County Water Safety Division, to plainly mark abandoned holes in the ice.

Kratt said a woman skater fell through an unmarked hole on Van Norman Lake in Waterford Township Sunday, and only escaped drowning when two friends came to her rescue.

"Brush, or better yet, a Christmas tree makes an ideal safety marker," Kratt said.

Kratt said failure to set up a marker could lead to a criminal charge if someone was injured or killed because of an ice hole.

Beaver Season Set for Oakland County

The beaver trapping season in Oakland, Lapeer and Tuscola Counties will be March 20 to April 5.

Season limit is eight beavers and additional regulations can be obtained from area conservation officers.

Costly Hen Pheasant

George Townsend of Ypsilanti pleaded guilty Monday in West Bloomfield Justice Elmer Dieterle's court to shooting and possessing a hen pheasant during the closed season. He was fined $100 and $8 costs. Conservation officers arrested Townsend in the Proud Lake State Recreation Area.

PROUD ANGLER—Mrs. Richard DeShetler, 3532 Lakewood, Waterford Township, showed the men how to land a big one during her first deep sea fishing trip. Fishing out of Acupulco, Mexico, earlier this month, Mrs. DeShetler battled the 130-pound, 8-foot sailfish for an hour before it was brought to gaff.

Husbands Take Back Seat

Two area ladies rubbed a little salt water into the vanity of their husbands during a fishing trip earlier this month off Acupulco, Mexico.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Richard DeShetler, 3532 Lakewood, Waterford Township, brought a 130-pound sailfish to gaff. Her husband settled for a 120-pounder that was released.

David DeShetler, 2541 Tackles, Richard's brother, failed to land a fish in two days on the Pacific, but his wife, Charlotte, was quite pleased with her two dolphin.

It was the first deep sea fishing trip for the couple aboard a charter boat.

Judith DeShetler, Richard's wife, said:

"It was fun, but I was very tired when the fish was finally landed. "I wanted my husband to take over about halfway through. The captain wouldn't let him. So, I just kept reeling.

Richard took the chair occupied by his wife and 20 minutes after her fish had been gaffed, he hooked and landed a sail.

"We had to release it because a boat can only dock with one sailfish," said Richard.

Charlotte's two dolphin actually stirred the most interest when the boat landed.

"I was very excited when I caught them," she commented. "They are so beautiful.

"When we docked I was even prouder. It seems that everyone had been trying for dolphin and all they could catch were sailfish. We went after sails and I caught the dolphin."

★ ★ ★

Richard DeShetler said the couple had 15 strikes from sails the first day, but drew a blank on the second.

David did return with the usual story.

"He hooked and lost the biggest sailfish," reported his wife, who has done considerable fresh water angling. Judith has done very little.

Married Lady Anglers Target of Lawmaker

LANSING (UPI) — Married lady fishermen, who are entitled to a free license under Michigan law, are once again the target of at least one state legislator.

State Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, is the sponsor of this year's bill to take the free license privilege away from the married ladies.

His bill to make them cough up $2 just like everyone else over 17 has drawn support from Sens. Harold Hughes, R-Clare, and Sen. Thomas Schwigert, R-Petoskey, the head of the Senate conservation committee.

However, a state conservation official who has seen the simple proposal go down to defeat six to eight years, holds little hope for the measure passing both bodies of the legislature.

"Women are obviously too political an issue," said the spokesman, who preferred to remain anonymous to be protected from a lobbying wife.

While the bet is on in the conservation offices that the department - backed bill on lady fishermen will fail, another legislator has introduced a measure to give free licenses to persons over 65.

The free licenses for senior citizens bill, sponsored by Rep. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, is opposed by department officials because of its possible reduction in revenues.

However, Mack labels them "shortsighted and more interested in immediate mercantile benefits than in the long - run possibilities of the move" while stoutly defending his proposal.

"In my judgment this will not cost the conservation department any money," Mack said.

Moderate Trading

Mart Adjusts to Profit Taking

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly lower in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks fell from fractions to a point or more.

Profits were being taken both on speculative issues and blue chips as the market slipped from the peak reached through a succession of historic new highs.

STEELS DOWN

U.S. Steel's financial report was apparently not as good as some Wall Streeters expected and the stock fell more than a point. Other leading steels were lower on balance.

Airlines were off sharply. Rails kept a gain on balance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5 at 291.7 with industrials off .9, rails up .2 and utilities off .5.

The market declined the face of bullish economic news. The consumer price index for December was reported at a record. A spurt in machine tool orders were reported for last year and further gains were predicted. Price increases were predicted for heavy construction equipment.

Triumph in 'La Traviate' by Former TV Pitchgirl

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Mary Costa made it to the Met this month, and the critics hailed her as an overnight success.

That brought a wry smile to the beauteous soprano, who strated training eight years ago for her debut in America's most prestigious opera house.

THOMAS

You may remember Mary. She was the girl with Bill Lundigan who sold cars on the "Climax" television show for three years. She started studying serious singing during those times, and her friends thought it was nice that Mary had a hobby. Only she and a few others realized it was more than that.

"I knew I had a natural voice," she said, "but I also knew it would take a great deal of training."

BID TO THE MET

Train she did, to the loss of her career as a pitchgirl and actress. Five years ago, folks were surprised to learn that Mary's hobby had led to roles with the San Francisco Opera. Later the Metropolitan put in a bid.

She held off making the big plunge until she felt she and the time were ready.

★ ★ ★

Finally, impresario Rudolph Bing offered her the starring role in "La Traviate" and told her: "You would be very capricious to turn me down this time, since it is a role with which you are completely familiar."

★ ★ ★

So Mary took the assignment —and found that time did not allow a rehearsal onstage.

PROPER MOVES

"That's where I think my television training came in handy. I wasn't at all nervous about hitting the right marks on the stage. And the people in the chorus were darling about helping me. When there was a pause in the music, they'd whisper, 'now move to your right about 10 feet,' and so forth.

She faced another unforeseen hazard: singing with a baritone with whom she had never rehearsed.

"They had me rehearse with a substitute baritone because the one who had been scheduled appeared too sick to go on," she said. "When the baritone came onstage, I saw that he wasn't the man in rehearsals at all. The original man had gone on."

Despite such matters, Mary won enormous acclaim. She'll return to the Met in "La Traviata" again this season, and her operatic future looks golden. This week she was back at her home base to appear on ABC's "Hollywood Palace" show which will appear Saturday night.

SEPARATION

One thing marred Mary's triumph. Shortly after she returned from the Met, she announced the parting from her husband, film director Frank Tashlin, who helped and encouraged her in the years of training. Her frequent absences and the divergence of their careers was given as the reason. No divorce plans have been made, and there is hope that their problems may work out.

Flood of Proposals Likely

Differences Pop Up on Home Rule Bill

By DICK HANSON

The State Legislature, in attempting to draft an enabling act for county home rule this session, is almost certain to be bombarded with a number of different proposals.

A major difference already has cropped up between a proposal originating in Wayne County and the act recommended by the governor's study committee yesterday.

The difference is over how much power a home-rule county will have over its municipalities in deciding which public services will be provided by the county.

★ ★ ★

According to Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and a member of the governor's committee, the committee's plan would leave it up to the discretion of each municipality whether or not it wanted the county to take over a local service.

SIMPLE MAJORITY

In the Wayne County proposal, a simple majority vote in the county would decide whether or not a service such as police and fire protection, garbage disposal and other public works would be provided at the county level.

★ ★ ★

This means an objecting municipality could lose its prerogative to the majority, explained Hamlin.

He said that according to the committee's plan each municipality could decide whether it wants to contract with the county for any particular service.

★ ★ ★

However, the committee recommends legislation which would enable a home-rule county to take over a service where the local community failed to meet minimum standards set by law or in the county charter.

NOT IN AGREEMENT

Brake objected mainly to the minimum standards of service provision, the intent of home rule to give counties broad powers, and leaving it up to county voters to decide whether county officials should be elected or appointed and, if elected, either on a partisan or nonpartisan ticket.

★ ★ ★

Hamlin said that while he approved the report, he agreed with Brake that county officials should be elected on a partisan ticket.

GUIDELINE

"I'm sure this will be provided for by the legislature," said Hamlin.

"After all, the committee's report is a guideline for legislation and not a bill," he said.

Another part of the report that is apt to be quite controversial, said Hamlin, concerns taxation.

★ ★ ★

Under the committee's recommendation what is now referred to as county taxes could be increased from 15 to 20 mills.

OWN LEVY

The county no longer would share the present 15-mill allocation for county, townships and schools, but could agree to levy up to 10 mills on its own.

★ ★ ★

The 15 mills then would be reduced to 10 to be split between townships and schools.

In accepting the report, Gov. Romney described home rule as "the key to strengthening local government."

Waterford Board to Vote on Grant

Waterford Township Board members will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. to act on acceptance of a $30,000 federal grant.

Formal notification of the grant for construction of a new township library facility was received by the township yesterday from the Community Facilities Administration.

The governmental agency requested the township to notify its Chicago office by Friday that the grant had been accepted.

★ ★ ★

Cab Driver Robbed by Passenger

Yellow Cab driver Richard Berry, 27, of 319 Liberty told sheriff's deputies he was returning from Utica when a young man waved him down on Auburn Road in Auburn Heights.

Berry said he was directed to Churchill Road. Near I-75, Berry said the road was blocked by a car and just then his fare pulled a switchblade knife and told him to hand over his money. He and the man began to fight and Berry was overpowered.

★ ★ ★

The bandit jumped out of the car and into the car in the middle of the road. It drove east on Churchill.

★ ★ ★

Teen Bound Over in Traffic Death of Pontiac Girl

Dennis Thomas, 17, of 573 Pearsall has been bound over to Circuit Court on a manslaughter charge in connection with the 19 traffic death of a Pontiac girl.

Laverne Williams, 14, of 500½ S. Paddock was killed in the accident on Woodward in Bloomfield Hills.

Weary Cosmonette Ends Africa Tour Early

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Soviet spacewoman Valentina Tereshkova, weary from an African tour and a three-day visit to Lebanon, left Beirut four hours ahead of schedule for Moscow.

Son of Immigrants Holds Naturalization Ceremony

A Circuit Court judge whose parents became naturalized citizens many years ago presided as 10 county residents were administered the oath of American citizenship yesterday in a county courthouse naturalization ceremony.

The other judge appointed by Romney, James S. Thorburn, whose parents also were naturalized Americans handed the citizenship certificates to the 10.

★ ★ ★

Judges at the ceremony almost outnumbered the new citizens. It was the first time since the county's Circuit Court bench was increased last year that all seven judges were on hand for a naturalization ceremony, Judge Pratt said.

"There are usually about 50 new citizens," he said. "But even if there were only one, it's important."

The new citizens passed tests on American government and political principles administered by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

A married couple and an Irish nun were among the 10, whose names are:

Ilie G. Hentes, 694 Melrose; Irene Wardell, 6140 Borowy, Commerce Township; Sister James Catherine, 521 N. Hickory, Milford; Joan E. Larkins, 2405 LaFay, West Bloomfield Township; Harry M. Luxon, 40 Murphy; Edith E. Gow, 913 Royal, Royal Oak; Cecelia M. Evans, 8059 Flagstaff, Union Lake; Mr. and Mrs. George Craven, 8555 Clement, Springfield Township; and John F. Stutterheim, 24445 Sherman, Oak Park.

GOP Goes Into Training

Oakland County Republicans are currently engrossed in a series of training meetings designed to translate energy into victory at the polls in 1964.

County GOP Chairman Charles L. Lyle said the training sessions are being conducted by campaign directors and precinct captains in cities and townships throughout the county.

The meetings are designed to assist volunteers in party recruiting, canvassing for GOP voters, organizing local GOP strength and preparing for election day procedures, he said.

★ ★ ★

"We canvassed almost the entire county in 1962, and now have the organization ready to do it again in May," Lyle said.

APRIL RALLY

The county GOP has scheduled an April 18 rally to launch its voter identification program to determine the allegiance of county voters and, specifically, pinpoint the location of Republican voters.

Lyle said this program has been responsible for the success in 1963 of the GOP's neighbor-to-neighbor fund drive and for the large turnout of Republican voters in previous elections.

New and Used Cars 106

1963 CROWN IMPERIAL "CONvertible" most luxurious of all Chrysler Built sports cars. Soft riding! Easy handling! Powerful performance! Take the wheel and feel the thrill of being "King of the Highway." Tops in styling too, as the Classic lines of this prestige car attract glances of admiration where ever you go. Cars such as these are not often available and will be especially scarce come spring. They'll cost more too! Make your choice now of either a jet black one or a light glazier blue. Both have white tops and white wall tires. The interiors are fully carpeted and are beautifully tailored with soft genuine leather. Equipped with full power, automatic transmission, radio, tinted glass and many other accessories. We can arrange payments to fit your budget using low new car terms. And our winter discount price is only $3,777.

Service for Ex-Officer

DETROIT (AP) — Funeral service was to be held today for Joseph M. Sheridan, who headed the state police investigation into the 1948 shooting of United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther. Sheridan, 70, died Sunday. He served 38 years with the state police and retired in 1958 with the rank of lieutenant.

SECRET GOT OUT — Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton arrived in Toronto yesterday and were greeted by a small crowd of about 400 persons. Burton is in Toronto to begin rehearsal for 'Hamlet.' The couple made elaborate plans to arrive quietly in the city, but word spread rapidly, and their fans braved the cold to get a look.

7,481 Complaints

'63 Waterford Police Calls Up

Waterford Township police received a total of 7,481 complaints last year, 950 more than the 6,531 handled in 1962.

There were 1,093 larceny complaints last year compared to 757 in 1962. Malicious destruction of property complaints rose from 1,265 in 1962 to 1,626 last year.

ACCIDENTS UP

A total of 952 accidents were handled by township police last year compared to 894 in 1962.

Of the 1963 total, eight accidents were fatal, 417 involved personal injury and the remaining 512 were property damage accidents.

Eight persons were killed during 1962 also. A total of 374 injury accidents and 512 property damage accidents were recorded that year.

★ ★ ★

JUVENILE ARRESTS

Arrests last year rose to 754 from 556 in 1962. During 1963 a total of 327 juveniles were apprehended compared to 259 in 1962.

TRAFFIC TICKETS

The dog warden handled 1,727 complaints last year compared to 1,835 during 1962.

During 1962 police vehicles were driven 273,113 miles. A total of 259,055 was accumulated in 1963.

Kenya, the British East African colony set for independence December 1963, was named after its glacier-topped Mount Kenya. "Kenya" comes from the Bantu word "Kilinyaa," which means the "white mountain."

NEW YORK—So here's a warning to Carroll Baker, Jane Fonda, Jayne Mansfield, Natalie Wood and all those other Hollywood chicks.

Barbara (Candy) Loden is so good as Marilyn Monroe in Arthur Miller's "After The Fall" that she has officially tossed her pajama tops into the ring to be the new American Sex Symbol . . . and she deserves it, for she's had a tough, 10-year struggle to get her talents recognized.

"Barbara is a wonderful actress who has developed," Edie Adams said the other morning in Sardi's, "and I should know . . ."

Miss Loden's first big job after her arrival from Asheville, N.C., was on the Ernie Kovacs show about 1954. She had briefly been a chorus gal at the Copacabana.

"Ernie was always figuring out crazy things for her to do," Edie remembered. "Practically every morning she would come out on camera rolled up in a rug. She was always getting a pie in her face or something like that."

Miss Loden (who married Producer Larry Joachim) was in three flop shows, then "Compulsion," then did two Hollywood movies for Elia Kazen, before stealing the show at the new Repertory Theater.

"She really is like Marilyn Monroe," a chap said backstage. "When she looked up at Arthur Miller, she thrust out her bosom, and gasped, and batted her eyes, like Marilyn used to do."

Liz, Burton Greeted by Toronto Crowd

TORONTO (AP) — Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor, traveling without luggage under assumed names, wound up a transcontinental flight to Toronto Tuesday night in all the secrecy of a Hollywood premiere.

★ ★ ★

Despite elaborate precautions —a hidden limousine, secluded customs inspection, and side-door entrances — hundreds of fans mobbed the couple at the airport and at their downtown hotel.

★ ★ ★

Burton took one look at the largely teen-age airport crowd and said, "I hope they're all going to see Hamlet."

The Welsh actor begins rehearsals Thursday for a modern dress version of Shakespeare's tragedy.

BROUGHT SWEATERS

Miss Taylor, bundled in a fawn coat, kept repeating, "It's cold." She said she brought six heavy sweaters.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

They left the airport through a special exit to a hidden limousine, but about half of the crowd of 400 got wind of the maneuver and got a glimpse of the departing twosome.

Burton's secretary, Jim Benton, arrived on a later plane with 15 pieces of luggage and two dogs.

SPECIAL ELEVATOR

The management of Toronto's King Edward Hotel held a special elevator for them for an hour at a said entrance. Several hundred fans found them there, too.

★ ★ ★

Seven luxury suites were available, depending on the size of Burton's party, a hotel spokesman said. The choice of accommodations was kept secret, but it was believed to be the vice-regal suite, a five-room, $65-a-day apartment furnished with Louis XV antiques.

The hotel spokesman said the security force had been augmented, but that no other special arrangements had been made.

"This hotel has been in business for 60 years and we're not doing anything different," she said.

Explosion Levels Summer Residence

FAIR HAVEN (AP) —An explosion in an unoccupied summer home shot flames into two neighboring homes, forcing their occupants to flee into 15-degree temperatures today. No one was injured.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

Husband "too tired" for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

• What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients helpful to good health and youthful vigor!

• Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

• Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

• GUARANTEE— (1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is one of the most healthful foods known; (2) Your family will like its nut-like flavor. If not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carrollton, Mich., for full refund.

U.S. Asks Russia: Where Is Plane?

From City Commission

Milton Henry Resigns

Nearing the end of his sixth year as District 1 City Commissioner, Milton R. Henry last night resigned from the commission in a move that caught even fellow commissioners by surprise.

After accepting his resignation, commissioners unanimously appointed Samuel J. Whiters, 50, of 453 Harvey to serve the remainder of Henry's term.

MILTON R. HENRY

SAMUEL J. WHITERS

Henry had recommended Whiters as his successor.

All current city commission terms expire in April.

★ ★ ★

ISSUES STATEMENT

Henry, in a statement often marked with bitterness toward his critics, said he wanted to devote his talents to "working for the Freedom Now party."

The newly formed party, for which Henry is cochairman in Michigan, is devoted to "independent political action for black people all over the United States," Henry said.

He indicated he might be a candidate for a high state office on the Freedom Now party ticket.

★ ★ ★

Henry, 43, a Pontiac attorney, first ran for the City Commission in 1958 and won. He was reelected in 1960 and 1962.

WIDE MARGINS

He was elected by wide margins, winning by 657 votes in 1958 and 784 votes in 1962. Henry was unopposed in 1960.

He said he was resigning "because I don't feel I can be of service to my people any longer in this capacity.

"I must move on to other fields where my talents can be used as God wants."

★ ★ ★

He recommended Whiters to succeed him "because he polled the largest number of votes of any of my opponents."

VOTE TALLY

Whiters polled 893 votes in 1956 when he lost to Dr. Roy V. Cooley, and 702 votes in losing to Henry in 1958.

Commissioners generally expressed regret at Henry's decision to leave.

Commissioner William H. Taylor said he respected Henry as a "well-educated and dedicated commissioner, even if I have not agreed with him on many occasions."

★ ★ ★

LANDRY SPEAKS

Landry struck out at public criticism of the commission and himself, charging that such ac-

Pontiac Loses Out on Site for Osteopathic Hospital

Local promoters of Pontiac as the site for a proposed $42-million osteopathic hospital today registered surprise and disappointment upon learning that the Lansing area was chosen.

The selection of a site near Lansing was announced yesterday by Dr. Alan M. Potts, chairman of the site committee of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Inc.

"I felt certain Pontiac would be the ideal spot," Whitlow said.

"I still think we have the best site for it," said Adams.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Potts said "Pontiac did a wonderful job" in making a pitch to bring the college here.

LACK OF LAND

He said the primary reason it failed was because of the association's concern over whether sufficient property at the proposed site would become available.

"Lansing was chosen," he said, "because they had their site and many other facilities available to us immediately."

The actual 105-acre building siet, about three miles south of Michigan State University and east of Holt, was donated by Daniel and Virginia Holloway of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Last night, Mayor Robert A. Landry said "We are very disappointed that the osteopaths didn't choose to locate their college in Pontiac.

MORE SUPPORT

"However, Lansing had more land to give them and more financial support to offer in the form of both private and governmental grants."

"We just didn't have that kind of land available. Even through an urban renewal project we would have had to sell them the land.

"We did all we could in bidding for the college and I want to thank everyone who took part in the program."

★ ★ ★

Lansing's location, said Dr. Potts, is central "to 90 per cent of the state's population.

POPULATION DENSITY

"The density of population will provide an impressive number of clinical patients.

★ ★ ★

Warming Trend for Next 5 Days; Rain Saturday

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts temperatures will climb to highs of 43 and drop to lows of about 30 during the next five days.

Precipitation will total less than .2 of an inch in snow flurries early tomorrow and showers Saturday.

Temperatures will dip to near 20 tonight and rise to 32 tomorrow.

A frosty 9 degrees greeted Pontiac downtown residents early this morning. The thermometer reading was 28 at 1 p.m.

Russia Downs U.S. in Hockey

5-1 Victory Starts Olympic Competition

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Russia's crack hockey team defeated the defending champion Americans 5-1 as competition began in the ninth Winter Olympics.

The Soviets leading 1-0 after a period of play, capitalized on an injury to U.S. goalie Tom Yurkovich and broke the game open with two goals in an 8½-minute stretch of the second period.

★ ★ ★

He finished the game, however, after being treated.

MOMENT OF SILENCE

The games opened with a moment of silence for two athletes killed while training here and a parade of more than 4,000 competitors and officials from 35 nations.

★ ★ ★

The traditional ceremonies in the Bergisel Ski Jump Stadium marked the start of 12 days of competition by the world's greatest skiers and skaters for the most coveted titles in winter sports.

American Jet Vanishes Over East Germany

Air Force Refuses to Confirm Report Trainer Shot Down

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — The United States asked the Russians for information today about an American jet trainer missing in East Germany with three officers aboard.

The U.S. Air Force refused to confirm a report the plane had been shot down, although a radar track of the plane's flight into East Germany showed two other blips just before the trainer disappeared from the screen.

The blips could have been caused by Communist fighters or antiaircraft shells. There was the possibility, however, the American plane had landed safely on the orders of the Communist fighters.

The United States puts its request for information to the Russians at the four-power Berlin Air Safety Center and at Soviet military headquarters outside East Berlin.

★ ★ ★

There was no immediate reply.

TRACKED TRAINER

The T39 trainer, with a lieutenant colonel and two captains aboard, was tracked by Air Force radars for 11 minutes yesterday heading into East Germany at about 450-500 miles an hour.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was not authorized to cross the Iron Curtain and could not be reached by radio.

He said the Air Force didn't consider there was "the slightest possibility" that the three officers were defecting.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force said the officers aboard the plane were Lt. Col. Gerald K. Hannaford, 41; Capt. John F. Lorrane Jr., 34, and Capt. Donald G. Millard, 33.

TRAINING FLIGHT

The Air Force said the three officers set out from Wiesbaden about 2 p.m. on a training flight. Their jet had a 1,500-mile range and could have carried them well into Red territory, but their flight plan called for them to stay well away from the border.

★ ★ ★

Weather was poor with light snow in the uplands and a drizzle in the valleys, but the trainer climbed above it. At 2:36 p.m. it checked in near Frankfurt at 26,000 feet.

Dozens Win Cook Prizes

Pontiac Press School Lasts Through Friday

Dozens of Pontiac area women happily carried home prizes from the first session of The Pontiac Press cooking school yesterday.

The food prepared on stage, bags of groceries, cartons of soft drinks, flight bags, merchandise certificates, trading stamps and kitchen utensils were among items given away.

On stage, a complete kitchen with three ranges and two refrigerators is set up.

Also on display are the washer-dryer, radio and sewing machine to be awarded as grand prizes on Friday.

Many of the audience have attended every session of each cooking school in the previous four years. As usual, there was a sprinkling of men, mostly retirees.

There were several dozen vacant seats at Pontiac Central Tuesday after everyone had been admitted.

By DICK SAUNDERS

All seven agreed that Carter, 47, is innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Commissioner William H. Taylor, however, was the lone commissioner to suggest that "The manager might gain more respect and support in the community if he voluntarily suspended himself until this case is cleared up."

The other six commissioners said they wouldn't suspend him or ask for a voluntary suspension or resignation on the basis that "he has only been charged with something; he hasn't been found guilty."

★ ★ ★

Mayor Robert A. Landry said no action would be required by the commission at any time.

AWAIT DECISION

"If an adverse decision is rendered in court, Mr. Carter has assured us he will resign immediately," he said.

"Dedication to the common good of our people," the mayor continued, entails strict adherence to basic principles. One of this nation's basic principles is that a man is innocent until proven guilty.

"Mr. Carter came to us highly recommended, even by a Circuit Court judge in Genesee ty.

Discusses the Events Prior to Jury Probe

City Manager Robert A. Carter stopped at the end of a busy day yesterday to reflect on his side of a controversial land deal that took place while he was city manager of Flint.

The purchase has been subject to a one-man grand jury investigation since Dec. 6 and yesterday resulted in Carter's arrest on charges of conspiracy to fraudulently obtain city money under false pretenses.

He has staunchly maintained he is innocent, both legally and morally.

"We reached a point in the Flint-Lake Huron water supply project where we had to hire someone to buy land for the city," Carter began.

CHOICE OF THREE

"I explained this to the Flint City Commission and gave them three alternate methods of doing it.

"I told them they could openly appoint an agent, appoint someone in an executive or closed - door session, or authorize me to appoint a man secretly.

"They chose the last method. "I was authorized to select and appoint a special real estate agent to purchase the necessary land for a pumping station.

KEPT SECRET

"It was agreed that neither the news media nor the commission itself would be told who the purchasing agent was," Carter said.

"This secrecy was intended to protect the city's best in-

GOP Applies More Pressure in Baker Probe

Senators May Call President's Aide to Talk to Investigators

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Senate investigation of Robert G. Baker—sweeping up a tangle of names, dates and deals—came under growing Republican pressure today to dig deeper and resolve a dispute involving presidential aide Walter Jenkins.

The possibility that Jenkins, a long-time assistant to President Johnson, may be asked to testify arose as Republicans, brandishing a campaign issue, raised a cry of "possible perjury."

Special counsel L. P. McLendon of the Senate Rules Committee said he didn't know whether the White House assistant would be questioned about his disputed role in the sale of advertising time on the Johnson family television station in Austin, Tex., to an insurance man.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller demanded that the committee develop fully what Miller called a "direct conflict" in sworn statements by Jenkins and insurance man Don B. Reynolds, a witness in the Baker hearings.

★ ★ ★

He said there is "a clear is sue of possible perjury" which should be followed through.

BUSINESS DEALS

The committee, in recess today, is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire on Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Reynolds, a local insurance agent with whom Baker was associated has testified that at Jenkins' suggestion he agreed to buy the advertising time in connection with his sale of $100,000 in insurance on Johnson's life.

At the time Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate. Later, after Johnson had become vice president, the insurance was increased to $200,000.

CAREFULLY CHECKED

"As mayor, I've been under pressure before without buckling. I assure you I won't buckle this time."

Carter decided late yesterday to attend last night's meeting.

★ ★ ★

He appeared a bit tired, but otherwise cool and collected as he puffed his way through three pipes he customarily carries to all meetings.

CHANGED MIND

Carter said he had intended to voluntarily suspend himself, but changed his mind.

"I felt it would constitute some admission that I had done something legally or morally wrong," he explained.

LEDFORD VIEW

Commissioner Loy L. Ledford said, "If the man says he's not guilty, who am I to say he is?"

Commissioner Milton R. Henry objected to anyone giving an opinion about the indictment.

"As a lawyer, I see no good in passing judgment now. Let the law follow its course. Then, maybe I would express an opinion on the outcome."

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom said he was "behind Carter 100 per cent until such time as he's proven guilty.

"We discussed this at the time we hired him and he assured us he had no part in anything that was illegal."

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby felt that "most people misunderstand the meaning of an indictment. They think it indicates a man is guilty.

"Only a jury can make a man guilty. Let's wait and see what the jury's decision is."

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon said, "I only hope this can be cleared up in a hurry. The city can't afford to wait long for a decision."

"I have nothing against Mr. Carter personally. I wasn't completely sold on him when he was hired, and I'm not entirely satisfied now, but I always like to give a man a fair chance."

Taylor abstained from voting when Carter was hired by a 6-0 commission vote last November.

Judges Ponder Redistricting

PORT HURON (AP) — The fate of Michigan's contested new formula for redistricting the legislature was being pondered by three federal judges today. But the job of drawing up new districts appeared headed for the State Supreme Court.

The three-judge panel in U.S. District Court at Port Huron took under advisement Tuesday a labor union suit contending that the formula gives rural voters a better shake than urban residents on representation in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Former Republican Gov. Wilber M. Brucker, cochairman of the bipartisan State Apportionment Commission, advised Gov. George Romney that "chances are dim" that the commission could reach agreement on a reapportionment plan by Friday.

The Supreme Court had said it will take charge of the redistricting task if the eight-member commission fails to reach an accord by Friday.

SOME HOPE

Brucker said, "We've got hopes we can agree, but I am not optimistic."

He said the apportionment commissioners would hold a dinner meeting at Lansing Thursday. Brucker planned to meet earlier Thursday with cochairman Richard Austin, a Detroit Democrat.

★ ★ ★

The federal judges did not indicate Tuesday how soon they would issue a ruling on the suit brought by August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, and four other leaders of the union.

After hearing two days of pro and con testimony, the jurists instructed opposing lawyers to file additional briefs. Attorney Theodore Sachs, representing the union officials, asked for three weeks time to prepare his document.

UNION'S VIEW

Sachs contended in the lawsuit that the apportionment formula established in the new State Constitution would take four Senate seats away from urban areas.

The new formula calls for Senate districts to be formulated on the basis of 80 per cent population and 20 per cent area. House districts would be revamped almost entirely on population.

★ ★ ★

Sachs also argued that by following county lines in reapportioning the legislature—one of the new constitution's provisions — it would be impossible to carve out new districts on a basis of population only.

R. William Rogers, one of the lawyers defending the new formula, asserted that "certain economic interests" in the northern part of the state would become victims of "purposeful discrimination" if the 80-20 formula is ruled invalid.

By PAT McCARTY

Completing a year of operation which produced a number of favorable statistics, the division now is launching a campaign to educate student safety patrols.

Cpl. Richard Reuther, head of the division, compared the township's traffic accident increase of 2.6 per cent during the year to the 20 and 30 per cent increases in other area communities. The county average, he noted, was in the neighborhood of 19 per cent.

CAMPAIGN EFFECTIVE

"This illustrates that our safety campaign with increased enforcement has proven to be considerably effective," he commented.

Reuther was assigned to the traffic safety job last February and was joined by two patrolmen, Edward Quintal and Robert Cleland, in September.

All three have been trained at Oakland University's accident investigation school. They provide a 16-hour vigil seven days a week.

★ ★ ★

TICKET ISSUED

Besides covering 380 personal injury and 549 property damage accidents, the department issued a total of 2,541 tickets for violations in 1963. This marks a 149 per cent increase over the 1,052 issued in 1962.

Their work has been aided by the installation of a radar unit in one patrol car last fall.

Reuther estimates that about half of the division's work is concerned with preventing accidents.

★ ★ ★

The men have studied high-accident intersections in an attempt to correlate locations with causes.

WORST CORNER

Their figures for the year indicate that Telgraph and Maple was the worst corner with 66 accidents, followed closely by Square Lake and Woodward with 63.

Other high tallies were at Telegraph and Miracle Mile, 41; Quarton and Woodward, 36; and Maple and Lahser, 32.

With statistics in hand, they have made recommendations to clear up problem areas.

★ ★ ★

CROSSOVERS

About 200 students participated in a vehicle safety check at Bloomfield Hills High School last spring. The division set up the program with the help of school officials and upperclassmen.

"We hope to make the check township - wide this spring," Reuther said.

★ ★ ★

The policemen also have cooperated with school officials in setting up their newest program, designed to educate children who serve as safety patrols on school buses.

HELP PROGRAM

Ward Rowden, transportation supervisor for the Bloomfield Hills School District, has worked directly with the officers in the program.

Reuther began this week to visit each of the elementary schools in the district, showing the students exactly what is expected of them.

He takes with him a 14-minute film, bus patrol handbooks and other literature from the Automobile Club of Michigan, along with his own list of regulations.

Police Chief Norman Dehnke summed up his feeling about the new traffic division in a single statement: "They're doing a good job," he said.

Supervisors to Meet for Grant Approval

A special meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has been called for Friday morning in order to save a $375,000 federal grant for sewer construction in Farmington Township.

County Public Works Director R. J. Alexander received word yesterday that the grant was approved.

Later in the day, he received a phone call from federal authorities saying that the board of supervisors must formally accept the grant no later than Friday — or lose it.

★ ★ ★

Normally the board has 30 days to act after receiving notice of approval from Washington.

SURPRISED OFFICIALS

Alexander said yesterday's late phone call surprised county officials.

Normally, the board of supervisors is only summoned to meet after members have received at least 10 days prior notice, according to its by-laws.

This limitation can only be overcome upon petition for a meeting by at least a third of the supervisors.

Alexander said his staff succeeded in getting 49 signatures from among the total 85 members of the board.

The meeting is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the Courthouse Auditorium. Only the federal grant matter will be taken up.

Birmingham Death Probe

Psychiatrist Sees Teen Held in Slaying

A Pontiac psychiatrist confirmed today that he has talked with the 15-year-old boy held in the slaying of Nancy Jean Jones at the request of the youth's defense attorneys.

Dr. Abraham Tauber said he visited the boy at the county jail before the youth was transferred Monday to the county Children's Center.

Dr. Tauber said he could not disclose any details of his conversation with the boy, however.

★ ★ ★

The boy, Daniel Lovaas of 1042 Smith, Birmingham, has denied knowing the 14-year-old victim of the fatal stabbing Friday morning in Birmingham.

NOT IN AREA

He also denied being near the area where Nancy was slain on her way to school in a dense fog.

Walter R. Denison of Birmingham, one of the boy's attorneys, said "No comment," to whether the boy had been examined by a psychiatrist or if he planned to arrange such an examination.

Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard said no arrangements have been made yet for the boy to be examined by Juvenile Court psychologists.

★ ★ ★

Daniel faces a Juvenile Court hearing tomorrow to determine whether there are sufficient grounds to continue holding him in the case.

POLICE TESTIMONY

A preliminary lab report showed blood on a knife a witness said Daniel gave him Friday morning, but it was not clear whether it was of the same type as the victim's.

Also being investigated were fibers of material found on the knife. The victim's coat was sent to the crime lab for comparison.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Robert Schaule of the Birmingham police said there is still no evidence that Daniel ever knew Nancy, although they both had been seen at the dances, parties and other youth activities.

PROBE CONTINUES

Lt. Schaule said police are continuing to investigate the case.

★ ★ ★

The boy's father, Frederick Lovaas Jr., said yesterday, "I know he didn't do it. I know in my heart that he couldn't have done it. I knew him too well and know he couldn't have."

terests by avoiding any sudden hike in property costs that might be created by publicizing our plans."

Carter chose Claude O. Darby, a prominent Flint real estate man (now retired) who at that time was president of Darby and Son, Inc., a Flint realty firm.

★ ★ ★

"He was highly respected with many years of experience," Carter noted.

SECRET KNOWN

"Even though his identity was supposed to be a secret, Darby was seen at City Hall so often that I'm sure there were some commissioners who knew he was the man I'd appointed."

Carter said Darby then proceeded to locate the land north of Port Huron and close the deal. The city paid $75,000 for the parcel.

"The city auditors, Price-Waterhouse, Inc., later discovered there was a discrepancy in figures regarding the land purchase while running their annual audit on city accounts," Carter related. (Auditors said the land had sold for $42,000.)

★ ★ ★

"It came as a surprise to all of us. I think it was the city finance director who called Darby in.

MATTER SETTLED

"We (Carter, the finance director and city attorney) talked to Darby and he agreed to settle the matter, paying the difference to the city.

"That was the end of it," Carter concluded.

Milton Henry Quits as Commissioner

"We teach our children to respect authority. People should not allow city officials to be subjected to insults."

"The individual is unimportant but the position is," he asserted, referring to the office of mayor.

★ ★ ★

MOTION OFFERED

Whiters, a Pontiac resident for 45 years, is married and has 11 children.

★ ★ ★

He is active in youth and school groups, currently as a member of the Pontiac District Boy Scouts advancement committee and as president of the Jefferson Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association.

Whiters is also a member of Macedonia Baptist Church and the Rema Club of Pontiac.

City Delays Okay for '64 Budget

Pontiac's proposed $6.8-million 1964 city budget will have to wait until tomorrow for adoption.

After approving the budget at a public hearing last week, and ordering it prepared in the form of an appropriation ordinance for passage at this week's meeting, commissioners decided last night to delay final action.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon offered the motion to defer adoption to a special meeting slated for 7 p.m. at City Hall tomorrow.

Harmon said he wanted time to study the budget ordinance. It must be adopted by midnight Friday under the City Charter.

ALLOCATION OBJECTIONS

Commissioner William H. Taylor added that he objected to the proposed budgets for the legal, building inspection, plumbing inspection, community relations, police and garbage collection and disposal departments.

However, both Harmon and Taylor indicated they would vote for the overall budget ordinance if action couldn't be delayed.

There were no objections voiced to Harmon's motion.

Candidate Lineup Change Possible in 19th Race

By JIM DYGERT

Although the Republican contest for congressional nomination in the new 19th District this year may well end up a three-man affair as it currently appears, the three may not be the same by the time the Aug. 4 primary rolls around.

★ ★ ★

There were signs today that a fourth candidate was preparing to enter the race in the person of Ferndale auto dealer and former state Sen. George N. Higgins.

News Analysis

At the same time, there was speculation that State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, one of three announced candidates, may return instead to previous plans of running for a seat on the new state court of appeals.

★ ★ ★

This would cut back the field to three even if Higgins were to flip his politically experienced hat into the ring.

As for County Prosecutor Geroge F. Taylor, also considered a possible candidate for the new congressional district, indications are he is not joining the crowd.

At present, sources close to Taylor indicate he probably will choose between running for Circuit Court and retiring from politics.

★ ★ ★

The other two announced candidates — James Dickerson, assistant to the chancellor of Oakland University, and Richard D. Kuhn, Pontiac attorney and businessman — have said they are in the race to stay.

ANNOUNCEMENT DUE

Friends of Higgins, currently chairman of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, (MESC) say the 63-year-old auto dealer's announcement of candidacy is imminent.

Higgins, who owns a farm near Clarkston but currently resides in Ferndale, is reportedly waiting only for assurance that he would not have to surrender his post on the MESC if he became a candidate.

Roberts' plans apparently have been affected once again by a change in the outlook for establishment of the new state appellate court.

Then he switched his ambitions to Congress when the State Legislature failed to pass a bill setting up the court last month because of a disagreement over the manner of districting.

But the State Supreme Court last week straightened out that matter with advice to legislators that only one districting plan — three 3-judge districts — would be constitutional.

As a result, approval of the new court has changed from doubtful to almost certain and Roberts, insiders say, is reconsidering.

Of the five candidates mentioned — three announced and two possible — only Roberts and Kuhn live in the new 19th District, which Michigan received as a result of the 1960 census.

The State Legislature last year put northern and western Oakland County, including Pontiac, into the new district along with all of Livingston County.

City to Seek a Lease on Parking Lot

The City Commission last night unanimously approved a resolution authorizing City Manager Robert A. Carter to negotiate with Oakland County for a lease of the old courthouse site to the city.

It has been unused since a lease to Outdoor Parking Co. expired and was not renewed at the end of 1963.

Last night's action authorizes Carter to offer the county rent in the amount of about $500 a month for the property.

TOTAL COST

Commissioners okayed a total cost of $8,850 to rent, improve and maintain the lot for the coming year. Carter said that $6,000 of this would be rent.

The rest would go toward surfacing the lot, and installing parking bumpers and meters. The city has meters available, he said.

Carter estimated that the income from meters would be about $10,482 in a year.

"It would give us a little profit and should greatly aid our downtown businessmen, Carter said.

Rocky Swings at Extremists

California Campaign Aimed at Progressives

★ ★ ★

He and his wife traveled to Los Angeles on an overnight train to continue a three-day tour after a full day in San Francisco.

Rockefeller's jabs were directed at Sen. Barry Goldwater, who intends to oppose him in the California presidential primary; at extremists of both the right and the left, and at President Johnson.

HANDSHAKES FOR ALL

The handshake was for anyone within reach, and the turnouts brought smiles to the Republican candidate.

★ ★ ★

The manager of the Peacock Gap Country Club in Marin County, across the Golden Gate Bridge, estimated that 4,000 showed up for a reception Tuesday night.

Rockefeller throughout his San Francisco area appearances emphasized that he and his newly named California chairman, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, intend to stage a fighting campaign.

OFFERS CHOICE

"I feel," he told a news conference, "that as we go from one end of the state to the other . . . discussing the nature of progressive, forward - looking Republican principles . . . the people of this state will have the opportunity of a choice."

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, while designating Kuchel as chairman of both his California drive and of his proposed slate of delegates, said it was too early to speculate whether the senator would be his choice for vice president.

★ ★ ★

Widespread Reappraisal of Policies

Antismoking Campaign Picking Up Steam

(EDITOR'S NOTE — "We do not sell cigarettes," said the hospital sign. "We love you too much." Extent of the anticigarette movement is examined in the following story.)

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Officials of several states have banned the sale of cigarettes in some government buildings, including hospitals.

They cite reports by the U.S. surgeon general, and private research, on the health hazards of smoking cigarettes.

Some private hospitals also have ordered cigarette vending machines removed.

Miriam Hospital in Providence, R.I., put up signs saying: "We do not sell cigarettes. We love you too much."

STRICT ENFORCEMENT

In many areas, public officials ordered strict enforcement of laws, some decades old, against selling cigarettes to minors.

One of New York City's most successful independent radio stations, WMCA, says it will drop all cigarette advertising during its 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. disc jockey show, which is aimed primarily at teen-agers. It is aired Mondays through Saturdays.

★ ★ ★

The action came as the National Association of Broadcasters met in Florida. The government-licensed industry is expected to amend its code of self-regulation to forbid programs or commercials that might tend to encourage young persons to smoke.

The major television and radio networks have said they are reviewing their policies on commercials.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGNS

A survey by the Associated Press indicated today that efforts by government officials to discourage smoking by educational campaigns are fairly widespread. Outright bans of cigarette sales are less prevalent.

★ ★ ★

Public health hospitals in Massachusetts have been ordered to discontinue sales of cigarettes in canteens and to remove vending machines.

Pennsylvania banned cigarette sales in its four hospitals for tuberculosis and is considering banning them in the state's general and mental hospitals.

★ ★ ★

MACHINES BANNED

The University of Minnesota's hospitals and the Rochester (N.Y.) Institute of Technology have banned cigarette machines.

Binghamton (N.Y.) General Hospital turned down a proposed ban, but decided to post signs warning of the hazards to health.

★ ★ ★

An official at the National Jewish Hospital in Denver, which treats respiratory diseases, said vending machines have been moved "to less accessible places" in the hospital.

★ ★ ★

The National Automatic Merchandising Association, trade organization for the $3-billion vending industry, announced last fall its program to keep minors from buying cigarettes from machines. It urged the display of signs: "Sales of cigarettes to minors are forbidden."

REMIND OF REPORT

The University of Rhode Island and other organizations planned to post signs reminding smokers of the surgeon general's report.

New York State and California are among the states that plan to tell school children about the hazards of smoking.

★ ★ ★

Airlines Dropping Pipe, Cigar Ban

By ROBERT J. STERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

But they insist that relaxation of the old "cigarettes only" rule has nothing to do with the recent surgeon general's report on the health dangers of cigarette smoking.

The majority of airlines polled by United Press International already are allowing pipes and cigars to be smoked at least in lounge sections, which are blocked off from the main passenger areas by partitions.

★ ★ ★

But American said it would institute a new policy permitting pipes and cigars to be smoked in main cabins. American is eliminating lounges in its jets for installation of additional first class seats.

MORE AIR CONDITIONING

"To accommodate these passengers," an American spokesman said, "we are installing additional air-conditioning ducts which we hope will take care of the increased smoke and odors."

"We'd better call this an experiment,'" he added hastily. "We'll have to see whether the new policy is accepted by the public."

United said it had allowed pipe and cigar smoking in the cabins of all its jets for some time, without getting too many complaints.

★ ★ ★

TWA, which once frowned on any pipe or cigar puffing, recently relaxed the rule to permit it in jet lounges and also in main cabins provided no other passengers object.

SO MUCH SWITCHING

"We decided on the new policy because so many persons were switching to pipes and cigars," a TWA official said.

"We made the decision prior to the surgeon general's report, and as far as the main cabins are concerned, we've told our hostesses to play each case by ear. If people complain about the smoke or odors, the girls will politely ask the smokers to stop."

Northwest said it has a "flexible'" rule — if a plane is not too full and passengers do not object, pipe and cigar smoking is permitted.

★ ★ ★

National said it contemplated no change in its cigarettes — only policy.

FIRST CLASS

Continental said it allows pipes and cigars in first class lounges but not in main cabins.

Northeast said it was an industry matter and indicated it would go along with a general relaxation.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac City Affairs

Reineck Heads CD

Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck was officially appointed civil defense director for the city last night by the City Commission.

The assistant manager has traditionally held that post.

When Reineck succeeded former Assistant Manager David S. Teel last September, he was not formally named to the civil defense position.

ACTION DEFERRED

Also last night, a change in personnel rules regarding sick days for firemen, recommended by City Manager Robert A. Carter, was deferred until Thursday night when a special meeting is slated for 7 p.m.

In other action Commissioner Dick M. Kirby offered a new ordinance to regulate, control and require adequately maintained fire exists, fire doors and sprinkler systems in some apartment buildings.

It updates existing fire regulations.

The ordinance was introduced for first reading and will be subject to second reading and final approval at a future meeting.

Commissioners also granted final approval of a request to transfer the Bicmar Inn, formerly on West Huron near Cass, to a new location on the perimeter road just north of W. Huron.

Hopes Bright for Court Bill

Measure Wins Okay of House Committee

Prospects were bright in Lansing today for early approval by legislators of a new appellate court system having three districts of three judges each.

The appeals court bill moved briskly out of one House committee into another, clipping along with a smoothness it did not enjoy when House insistence on single-judge districts scuttled it last month in the special legislative session.

The measure became the first major piece of legislation to win a favorable committee report in the young 1964 regular session when it emerged from the effect in both houses, which requires a two-thirds approval.

He said chances are good that the bill will also win immediate House Judiciary Committee.

It went immediately to the House Ways and Means Committee, its next hurdle before reaching the House floor.

LOOKS GOOD

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, said the bill's chances appear good in the Senate.

"It doesn't look like we have to worry about a deadlock over districting" Roberts said.

The bill conforms to an opinion spelled out by a Supreme Court letter last week that any plan except three districts of three judges each would not be constitutional.

Roberts has introduced a similar bill in the Senate that is now before the judiciary committee which he heads.

Immediate effect is necessary to insure the election of appellate judges this year. Otherwise, the bill would take effect too late to have the posts on the ballot for the Aug. 4 primary.

However, House members held out for single-judge districts, which resulted in no legislation on the topic at all.

Roberts said his committee will wait for the current House bill rather than put his into circulation at the same time.

Under the multijudge plan, Oakland County would be in a district with 16 or 17 other southeastern Michigan counties.

Netherlands Princess Becomes a Catholic

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Princess Irene, second daughter of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard who are both Protestant, has become a Roman Catholic, it was officially announced today.

Dutch rulers have been traditionally Protestant. Princess Irene now is in Spain, and two days ago denied rumors that she was romantically linked with a young Spanish nobleman.

Water Line Set to Hike Lake Level

Waterford Township has installed a water line between Williams and Maceday lakes in a move to boost the low level of Williams Lake this spring.

The plan would divert excess water from the Clinton River to Williams Lake when the river reaches a flood stage, probably early in April.

A gate valve installed with the 12-inch water pipe in a culvert between the two lakes will regulate flow.

★ ★ ★

If no flood stage develops in the river this spring, no water will be diverted, according to Waterford Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

Seeterlin said the water diversion plan will not affect the Maceday Lake level.

"The level of this lake is being gauged and will be maintained," he said.

OU to Select Snow Queen at Carnival

Oakland University will stage its traditional Snow Carnival Friday and Saturday.

The two-day carnival will begin Friday evening with selection of a Snow Queen.

Program Advisor Gary Beeman said 4 coeds had been entered in the annual contest so far.

Swimming, skiing and skating contests are planned for Saturday. In addition, a tug-of-war on ice and a dog sled race will also entertain student participants.

SNOW STATUES

The traditional snow statues will be judged on Saturday morning.

★ ★ ★

The annual carnival will be topped Saturday evening with the Sno-Ball dance in the Oakland Center's Gold Room.

Honor Students Named at OU

Twenty-nine Pontiac residents were among the 192 students earning honors last term.

OTHER SCHOLARS

Other University Scholars include Frederick Clegg, a junior of 1161 Stanley, Birmingham; Mrs. Samuel Henderson, a senior, of 4341 W. Orchard Hill, also Birmingham.

Court Admits Dodge's Will

DETROIT (AP) — Auto heir Horace E. Dodge Jr.'s 1962 will, one of several written by the millionaire playboy-sportsman, was admitted to probate Tuesday over objections of his widow, former showgirl Gregg Sherwood.

Counsel for blonde Miss Sherwood, Dodge's fifth wife, contended in vain that a prior 1958 will leaving her the entire estimated $2 million estate should prevail.

★ ★ ★

Probate Judge Ernest C. Boehm held in favor of the March 14, 1962, will, finding this was Dodge's expressed desire in the document.

Court aides said this meant that Dodge's estate would be distributed as though he had died without leaving a will, with Miss Sherwood to receive a widow's one-third share.

STIPULATION

Dodge, who died last Dec. 22 at 65, stipulated in the 1962 will that if he died before his mother the will was to be declared null and void. A following clause said that in such event his estate should be distributed as if he had died without a will.

Dodge's mother, Mrs. Anna Thomson Dodge, still lives. She is 94. She is now at her Florida winter home.

★ ★ ★

Dodge's lawyer, Douglas L. Paterson, said Dodge made a prenuptial agreement with Miss Sherwood under which she was to receive $1 million if she were living with him at the time of his death.

Dodge and Gregg, many years his junior, were in the divorce court when Dodge died. He charged her with extravagance.

ATTORNEYS PRESENT

Miss Sherwood was not present at Tuesday's proceedings. She was represented by attorneys Milton J. Miller and David K. Page. She is in California.

Paterson estimated Dodge's estate at $2 million. He said that if Dodge had survived his mother the estate would have been about $65 million.

Ypsilanti Boy Dies of Injury

Hurt in Crash That Took Father's Life

A 6-year-old Ypsilanti boy died yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday in a two-car crash that killed his father in Milford Township.

Edward G. Old died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. His father, Edward O., 23, died shortly after the 5 p.m. accident. The family is formerly from Highland Township.

The driver of the other car, George C. Killackey, 43, of 832 Duke, Milford, and his wife, Kathryn, 45, were treated for injuries.

The youngster is survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bischoff of Milford and Mrs. Eltha Old of Pontiac, and great-grandmother, Mrs. George Brown of Milford.

Service for the boy was set for 10 a.m. today at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Milford. Burial was in Highland Cemetery.

A warrant has been issued charging eight persons with fraudulently obtaining money through a photographic studio conspiracy.

Oakland County Sheriff's Department detectives Charles Whitlock and Herbert Dolby said 16 complaints have been received from area residents against the Schaefer Studio, 450 Brainard, Detroit.

Police said neither the studio nor the address exist.

Whitlock said in several cases, large sums of money have been given to salesmen from the studio but no pictures have ever been received.

OTHER COUNTIES

The studio also has been operating in Macomb and Livingston counties, he said.

Whitlock said residents are approached and told they can get a portrait special for $2.95. Later, when the proofs are returned by the salesman, orders are taken for additional photos.

None of these additional pictures has been delivered, Whitlock said.

Expect Tito to Confer With Egypt's Nasser

CAIRO (AP)—Informed sources said today that President Tito of Yugoslavia is expected to visit Cairo next month to confer with President Nasser on preparations for a second conference of nonaligned nations.

The sources said Cairo, Belgrade and New Delhi had agreed that ambassadors to Cairo of nonaligned countries would draw up working papers and list invitations to the conference. There was no indication when the conference would be held, but Cairo is expected to be the site

Something Rotten in Oakland?

Political Parties Are Getting Chummy

By JIM DYGERT

It's alarming the way Democrats and Republicans in Oakland County have been waxing bipartisan lately.

They're talking now about a joint program for informing voters about the issues.

Coming so soon after bipartisan accord on civil rights and legislative reapportionment here, it points up an unnatural trend.

★ ★ ★

It's scary, this threat to the American way of politics.

SHOULDN'T AGREE

In the two-party democratic system, the two parties are not supposed to agree on anything.

It can't help but foul up the system's machinery, which could suffer an embarrassing breakdown without the partisan conflict on which it was designed to run.

SOMETHING'S FISHY

Besides, something really rotten must be going on if both parties are willing to keep mum about it when they're supposed to be checking each other's closets for skeletons.

It looks bad.

However, a moment of calm reflection turns off the alarm.

How could anyone forget that bipartisan agreement is but an illusion?

Parties can never be anything but partisan. They wouldn't be caught dead in bipartisanship unless they have something partisan to gain, or at least nothing to lose.

★ ★ ★

Democrats who proposed the bipartisan program for getting more information to voters no doubt hoped to get it primarily to more Republicans than they could otherwise reach.

Republicans could no more oppose the idea than come out against our country or motherhood.

Who will dispute that a well-informed electorate is essential to democracy's survival?

★ ★ ★

The kind of "fully informed" public a party means, of course, is one others would describe as fully half informed, fully informed superficially or fully misinformed.

IN RIGHT MIND

No party in its right mind would want the public to know everything it thinks and does.

It naturally would want to limit the public's information to that which looks good and wins votes for itself.

So, what change does a bipartisan program make? Does the public get full information by receiving both halves? Does one side's misinformation merely cancel out the other's?

★ ★ ★

Hardly.

What we'd have would be a joint, bipartisan bombardment of voters with partisan propaganda from both sides at once, and in unprecedented quantities at that.

BACK TO NORMAL

And that is most encouraging. There would be more partisan discord than ever — mostly over which side was most to blame for the suddenly rising level of voter misinformation.

★ ★ ★

Confusion would likewise reach a new high, which should spur both sides to greater heights of partisanship as they seek to exploit it.

★ ★ ★

So, there's really nothing to worry about. That most necessary of all element in a democratic system — partisan competition — is in no danger whatsoever.

Hearings Set for 3 in Brawl

Hearings have been scheduled in Municipal Court for three men arrested Saturday morning following a fight at a dance at Pontiac Armory.

Charged with felonious assault are Claudell Turner, 29, of 439 Howard McNeill and Bobbie E. Graves, 21, of 79 Iowa. Turner is to appear in court Feb. 5 and Graves Feb. 19.

Graves was first arrested there for supposedly using profane language and then pulled the knife when he tried to escape, police said.

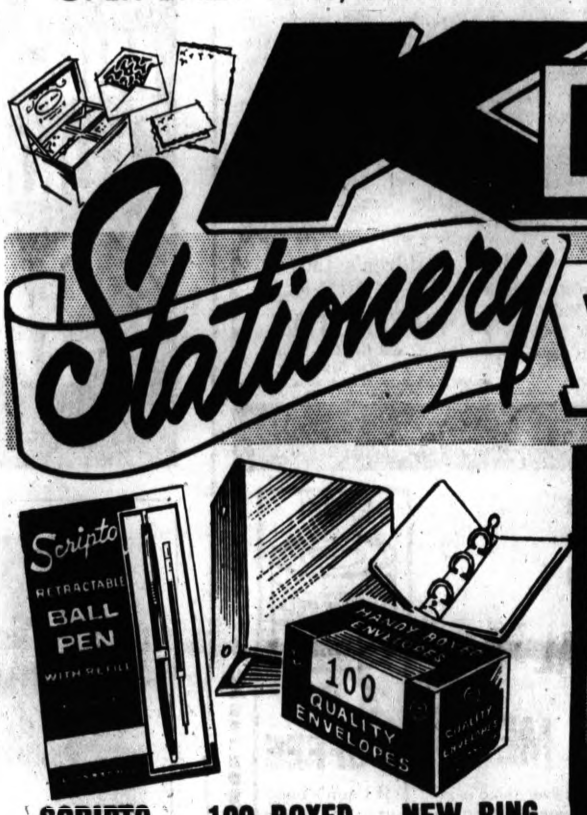

Robert Anderson Jr., 24, 323 Howard McNeill, was charged with a breach of the peace. Police said he attempted to interfere with the arresting of Graves. Anderson is to have a hearing tomorrow.

Plan Concert in Memory of Composer

The body of Blitzstein, who died in Martinique last week after an alleged robbery-beating was cremated Tuesday in accordance with his wishes, she said, adding that the ashes were buried privately without religious services.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Davis said the special memorial concert will probably be held March 29.

The 58-year-old composer had gone to the French-owned island to work on a new opera for the Metropolitan Opera Company.

KNIFE WOUNDS

French officials said Blitzstein died of knife wounds and other injuries, but that circumstances of the attack were not clear. Three sailors have been arrested and jailed.

Blitzstein's works included the adaptation of "The Three Penny Opera" which played off-Broadway more than six years.

Burglar Twins Sent to Prison

Three pairs of sunglasses, two packs of cigarettes, a set of screwdrivers and a flashlight.

Those were the items stolen from a car in Keego Harbor Nov. 16.

For stealing them, a pair of 21-year-old twins was sent to prison yesterday by Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Rappuhn of 7669 Eston, Independence Township, received a 2½- to 5-year term in Jackson State Prison. His brother, Gary J. of the same address, was given a 1½- to 5-year term.

PLEADED GUILTY

Jerry previously served time in prison for burglary and was on parole at the time of the Keego Harbor theft. Gary was on probation for an auto theft conviction.

Under Illinois law, a member of the immediate family may inherit as much as $20,000 tax free from a deceased member.

Flint Boy, 1, Still Serious From Vaccine

DENVER (AP)— One-year-old John Rozier Jr. of Flint, Mich. so far has failed to respond to treatment given to try to offset a reaction to a smallpox vaccination.

The baby was reported in serious condition at Colorado General Hospital, where he was flown last Friday.

"This doesn't mean that the treatment won't continue," a hospital spokesman said. "He might respond to it at any time."

Two types of medication have been given the infant at the hospital.

The ailment from which the baby is suffering is known as vaccina. Body lesions are among the symptoms. He was taken to a hospital at Flint before Christmas for treatment of a high fever.

Minutes After Birth

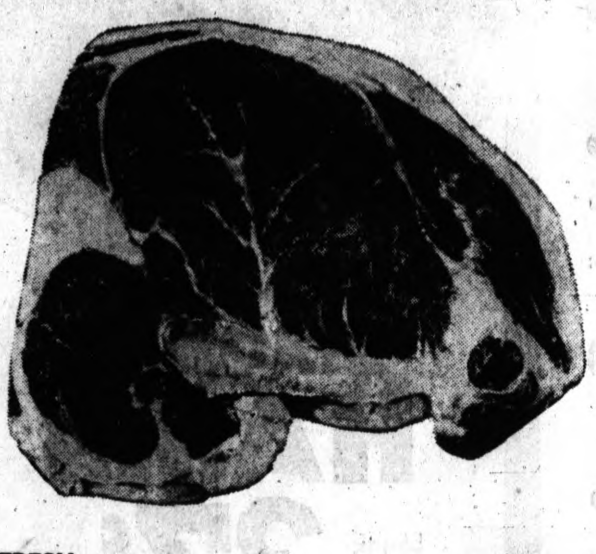

Whale Drowns Offspring

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A 1,300-pound pilot whale, captured in coastal waters only last Friday, gave birth yesterday in a tank at the sea world oceanarium — but a few minutes later went into a frenzy and drowned her 100-pound offspring.

Kent Burgess, who is in charge of training at the oceanarium, said he was in the tank helping the infant to swim when the 13-foot whale suddenly began threshing about.

Burgess scrambled out of the water and watched the big creature seize the calf by a fin, holding the young whale beneath the surface until it was dead.

Veterinarian Robert M. Stader said it was not unusual for animals in captivity to destroy their young.

Near-Record Output Last Year

Continued Steel Recovery Firms Economic Muscle

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — A recovery in the steel industry that began last year is gathering momentum. It promises to impart important strength to the nation's economy.

Improved profit reports on 1963 are flowing in from all major producers. Some reflect dramatic gains. The mills, working steadily faster, are turning out steel at a near-record rate of 115 million tons a year.

★ ★ ★

Modernized plants with new tools and technology are increasing efficiency, helping to lower costs and boost earnings.

Last year's modest price increases are augmenting profits and providing funds for further modernization. Also contributing to funds for improved facilities are federal depreciation rules, which were liberalized in 1962.

FIRMS SPURT

Some leading steel companies spurted higher on the stock market again Tuesday after Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. proposed a 3-for-1 stock split and just before U.S. Steel Corp. reported sharply higher earnings.

U.S. Steel, posting the best results since 1960, reported earnings of $202.9 million or $3.28 a share, up from $163.7 million or $2.56 a share from 1962. "Big Steel" profits, however, were less than half 1957's record level.

★ ★ ★

With only Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. among the top eight producers to be heard from, net income for the others came to $483 million, up nearly one-third from the $365.1 million they reported in 1962.

★ ★ ★

National Steel Corp., the fourth ranking company, set a record pace last year. Profit reached $63.8 million to eclipse its previous high, $57.8 million in 1950.

OTHER GAINERS

Other strong gainers included Republic Steel Corp., Armco Steel Corp. and Inland Steel Co. Steel output cracked a five-year slump in 1963, zooming to 109 million tons for its first over-100 year since 1957.

Roger M. Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, gave chief credit for "Big Steel's" better showing to increased operating efficiency, rising volume and price increases that averaged about one per cent.

★ ★ ★

Industrywide production last week made its fourth consecutive advance and 19th in the last 23 weeks. Output was about 20 per cent ahead of the comparable 1963 week, although roughly only 70 per cent of capacity.

For 1963 as a whole, employment averaged 187,719 persons, down from an annual average of 194,044 in 1962: U.S. Steel employment dropped to 180,534 for the three months ended Dec. 31. In 1960, the company's average payroll was over 225,000.

Asked about the reduction, Blough said, "We have been trying to do things better." He declined any estimate of the proportion accounted for by white collar staff shrinkage in the firm's cost-cutting drive.

Detroit Raises Teachers' Pay

All Levels to Receive $100 Salary Boost

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit teachers got an across-the-board $100 annual pay raise yesterday from the board of education.

In addition, those teachers who have reached the top pay scale will get an additional $300.

The move brings the minimum salary for a beginning 40-week teacher to $5,100. The minimum for a beginner with a master's degree was hiked from $5,400 to $5,400.

★ ★ ★

Also added was an 11th step to the present salary schedule which calls for a yearly progression of $300. Previously, it provided for 10 steps, ending at $7,800 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and $8,100 for one with a master's.

TOP GRADES

The 11th step raises the top grades to $8,200 and $8,500, respectively.

School Superintendent Samuel Brownell, in recommending the raises, said they were necessary if Detroit is to compete with other school systems.

★ ★ ★

Brownell said they would add about $3.3 million to the school budget for next year — the first full year they will be in effect.

Integrated School Says Officials Stall

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A bombed, racially integrated church school charged yesterday it was unable to reopen its facilities because local authorities had not issued a repair permit.

The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New Orleans announced the school had been repaired, but would remain closed until the permit was obtained from Plaquemines Parish (county) authorities.

Pontiac Men Plead Innocent to Theft

Innocent pleas were entered in Circuit Court Monday for two Pontiac men accused of robbing a policeman at knife point.

Major Finley, 19, of 59 Chapman and James Gibson, 23, of 520 Franklin were ordered by Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt to stand trial. No trial date was set.

Finley and Gibson are charged with armed robbery of Norman Kilmer, 23, who was stopped by three men while driving in the Bagley Wessen area. The trio took his wallet and fled.

★ ★ ★

PLEADED GUILTY

Frank Miles, 23, of 506 S. Paddock stopped. Miles later pleaded guilty and will be sentenced Feb. 4.

Finley and Gibson were arrested later. Both are being held in the county jail for trial. They were unable to furnish $5,000 bond each.

Three-Fourth Women

Many Suicides Want to Be Rescued

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third of five dispatches on suicide by United Press International. It deals with the persons who try suicide and fail.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A man drove his automobile to the middle of a bridge near Fort Lee, N.J., climbed to the rail and prepared to leap to his death. A police car drove up, an officer got out and shouted to the man:

"Come down from there or I'll shoot."

The man came down, got into his car and drove away. Nobody knows for sure how many Americans attempt suicide every year, but the best expert guess is around 150,000.

★ ★ ★

Many of them, like the man on the bridge, don't really want to die but feel compelled to take the preliminary steps toward self-destruction. They hope somebody will catch them in time.

WOMEN IN MAJORITY

Three-fourths of the Americans who attempt suicide and fail are women. A majority of them are under 35 years of age.

A firm clue as to whether they really want to die can be found in the method they choose. Almost none of them uses a gun or leaps from a high place because those methods are the most likely to succeed.

Instead, they cut their wrists or take barbiturates.

★ ★ ★

What is the motive? A study by the Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles and published by the National Institute of Mental Health discusses it this way:

COMMUNICATION

"Sometimes, the motive behind a suicide attempt is to communicate some message to another person or to change the behavior of other people . . . a suicide attempt may be made in an effort to make a spouse or parent or sweetheart change his actions in some way.

"Or it may be an angry effort to strike back at someone or to persuade him not to take an unwanted action, such as divorce or separation.

"The individual whose private life is so unhappy that he thinks of suicide as a way out usually does not recognize that such behavior increases his difficulties by arousing guilt and hostile feelings in those closest to him.

★ ★ ★

"Even though a suicidal attempt may frighten or persuade a loved one into a temporary change of behavior, it does not correct the basic difficulties.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH

"A person making an apparent suicide attempt (but not really planning to die) is gambling with death. Something may go wrong with his plans for being rescued.

"In many cases, the person making the attempt could not reach his would-be rescuer by phone. Someone did not come home at the proper time.

"The trip to the hospital was delayed, or some other unforeseen event occurred.

★ ★ ★

"There are also cases where a mild dosage of sleeping pills or some other medication proved fatal because of some unusual physical reaction. What was meant to be merely a communication became, instead, an actual suicidal death."

★ ★ ★

There seem to be thousands of persons who have an unconscious desire to kill themselves and manifest it by having numerous accidents.

★ ★ ★

The National Safety Council notes that some persons have as many as seven automobile accidents and the significant thing is that there is a strong tendency for them to repeat the same type of accident.

In his book "Man Against Himself," Dr. Karl Menninger cites the case of a man who spent almost all of his adult life getting involved in accidents:

"This man had been struck by lightning three times. He had been buried alive in a coal mine; he had been blown through the air by a cannon, suffering the loss of an arm and an eye.

"He had been buried alive under two tons of clay. Next he fell 30 feet off a cliff and still later was thrown by a horse and dragged through a barbed wire fence.

Then he fell from a speeding bobsled, fracturing his skull. At 80, he recovered from double pneumonia. At 81 he had a paralytic stroke.

★ ★ ★

At 82 he was run over by a horse and wagon. At 83 he was run over by an automobile. The same year he slipped on the ice and fractured his hip."

DEFINITE RELATIONSHIP

A person repeatedly involved in accidents usually denies with great heat that he has an unconscious desire to die, but psychiatrists see a definite relationship.

The odds against a person having seven automobile accidents, for instance, are about 9,000 to one.

The odds against repeating the same type of accident are astronomical. The inevitable conclusion by the experts is this: Thousands of accidents don't happen; they are caused deliberately.

★ ★ ★

There is no guarantee that a person who has been unsuccessful in a suicide attempt will not try again. Nor is there any certain cure for suicidal tendencies as psychiatrists well know.

There are hundreds of cases of persons who have undergone treatment, are presumed to be cured and released. They promptly go home and kill themselves.

SELF PRESERVATION

The greatest factor against suicide and suicide attempts is the law of self preservation. Nobody can possibly measure the number of persons who have loaded a revolver, put it to their heads and then changed their minds.

And, as internes in every emergency hospital in the nation well know, even people who have really tried to kill themselves frequently beg for help to live as they are wheeled in on a stretcher.

OUT OF REACH?—It would seem Dryden's Tony Sisson (41) and Emmanuel Christian's John Lauckner (34) are reaching for a ball that is beyond their grasp but actually Sisson has just won the center tip in last night's contest in Pontiac. Waiting for the ball to come down is Dryden's Tom Sterner (10).

Saginaw Upset Victim

Lancers, Milford Lose

Emmanuel Christian, Milford and Imlay City all took on more than they could handle on the area high school basketball front Tuesday night.

Emmanuel was dumped by Dryden, 74-61, Highland Park belted Milford, 83-45, and Imlay City was a 77-63 victim of Marlette.

In a full slate of Saginaw Valley Conference games that excluded Pontiac Central, Flint Southwestern pulled the top upset of the season to date by dumping Saginaw, 83-63.

Other scores saw Flint Central take over sole control of the lead with a 90-59 romp past Bay City Handy, Saginaw Arthur Hill topped Midland, 64-56, and Flint Northern whipped Bay City Central, 84-72.

Completing the area prep cage card, highly regarded Sandusky defeated Deckerville, 78-64, North Branch whipped Peck, 75-56, and Livonia Bentley walloped city rival Franklin, 64-43.

ARRIVE LATE

Dryden's quintet was delayed an hour by transportation problems but it wasn't slow in starting after the initial tipoff.

The visiting Cardinals built an early 14-point lead over a cold-shooting Emmanuel five. The Lancers pecked away, however, and trimmed the deficit to 52-51 early in the final session.

But Dryden then went on another tear that produced 16 straight points and sewed up the ball game. The losing Lancers only connected on 33 per cent of their shots.

The outside shooting of Ron Faulds (22) and Ken Kitchenmaster (21) more than offset Emmanuel's leading shooter, Ralph Wingate, who hit 25 points.

Highland Park had four players in twin figures and dominated the backboards as it whipped Milford for the second time. Of the winners 16 baskets in the first half, 11 came on tip-ins.

The home team Redskins trailed, 17-6, after one quarter and 39-19 at intermission. Tim Barnes' 12 points were tops for the losers.

Ed Lomerson scored 31 points for Imlay City but it was not enough to avoid the Chiefs' third loss in 11 games this season.

Marlette won its eighth in 10 tries aided by a 22-7 first quarter, and 26-16 final period after Imlay had come within five markers.

Sandusky won its 10th straight despite falling behind 21-10 to Deckerville in the first quarter. The winers led 36-32 at halftime and stayed in command, although Bob Parrott had 29 for the losers.

North Branch led all the way against Peck as Glen Jamison hit 12 field goals and 26 points and Wayne DeGrow added 16. The winners connected on 42 per cent of their shots.

Livonia Bentley was too tall for struggling Livonia Franklin which had 21-point effort by Larry Duffield. Four players hit twin figures for the winners.

Five were in double figures as Flint Southwestern dumped Saginaw. The Colts trailed 52-47 with 10 minutes to play but went on a four period rampage. They hit 27 of 36 foul shots.

Flint Northern hit 20 of 30 first half shots, Art Gelow had 27 points for Arthur Hill, and Flint Central led all the way in the other SVC victories.

Palm Springs Golf Marathon Opens Today

Top Names Bidding for Piece of Purse in 90-Hole Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus and more than 500 other golfers were here today to start the tournament that doesn't know when to quit.

Actually, it's a very ordinary golf tournament, except that it runs five days and is the only 90-hole event on the PGA tour—and that it is played on four different courses simultaneously—and that it is really 18 tournaments in one.

The nearly 11 dozen professionals entered will compete for about $100,000 in prize money. Of this, $50,000 will be distributed Sunday to leading scorers in the 90-hole tournament proper. The winner will get $7,500.

The rest will be divided up a little at a time, during the 17-part pro-amateur event that runs through Saturday.

In addition, an insurance company promises a $10,000 bonus to any pro who makes a hole-in-one. Tournament sponsors offered a $50,000 hole-in-one prize in previous years. But they had to take out a $50,000 insurance policy to cover themselves and, after a few payoffs, the premium got so high they decided to drop the gimmick.

This is the fifth PGA tournament of the year and winners of three of the previous four are here. They are Art Wall Jr., who won the San Diego open; Tony Lema, winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, and Chi Chi Rodriguez, who won the Lucky Invitational at San Francisco, defeating Don January in a playoff Monday.

Arnold Palmer, who won the first Palm Springs Classic in 1960 and repeated in 1962, is back again. So is Billy Maxwell, the 1961 winner.

NFL Team Rosters to Have 40 Players

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —The prosperous National Football League, riding high with a new $28.2 million television contract and a record attendance of 4,163,643, has boosted its player limit to 40 men in a move that should cut down on taxi or reserve squads.

★ ★ ★

The league acted to stabilize squads Tuesday by increasing the player limit from 37 to 40 players, who must come from a 560-man pool remaining after the final cutdown.

"The spirit of the new rule is to stop shuttling players on and off the active list," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

ABOVE LIMIT

Most of the pro teams carry reserves who are members of a so-called taxi squad, over and above the player limit. Normally they can be brought up to the active list when a regular is injured.

Under the new rule the only replacements for the list of men, remaining after the final cutdown on the last Tuesday before the season opens, must come from the master list of 560 players. The list represents the 40 players retained by each of the 14 clubs.

Rozelle said a special exception had been made in case four men are injured and rendered inactive for the rest of the season. In that case, one outsider could be added who was not on the list of 560. Of course, the usual deals and waiver transactions can be made.

★ ★ ★

The NFL also approved closed circuit television of the home games of any club in its local blackout area, normally 75 miles. Each club is permitted to make its own deal, with the proceeds included in normal gate receipts and divided 60 per cent to the home team and 40 per cent to the visitors.

TITLE PAYOFF

The league office announced a financial breakdown of the title game. Each winning share of the Bears was worth $5,899.77 and each losing share of the Giants was $4,218.51. Both were records.

The Bears got 49½ shares, the Giants 45½. Green Bay players got $577.50 each and Cleveland Browns $521.97 from the pool for conference second place teams.

A motion to count tie games as one-half victory and one-half defeat was withdrawn after a sample of sentiment showed most clubs were against it. The visiting club will be permitted to wear its distinctive colored uniforms in 1964 if the home club agrees to wear the white shirts.

Dog Training Opens at Waterford CAI

First lessons in the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club's dog classes at the Waterford CAI Building will start tonight at 8 o'clock.

Registrations will be accepted before the session gets under way. The dog training demonstration at Walled Lake is scheduled for next Tuesday at the high school.

PNH Matmen Whip Kettering for 9th Win

Pontiac Northern's mat team ran its record to 9-0 Tuesday evening with a 31-11 decision over Kettering.

The Huskies won nine of 12 events in handing the Captains their third loss of the season.

BOWLING

The leaders in the Huron Bowl Wednesday Night "A" League will clash tonight with the third-fifth place teams hoping to take advantage of the situation.

The Wolverine Entertainers will meet Tony's Tigers with only one game separating the two teams. Ten Pin Barber Shop, Drewry's Beer and 300 Bowl are hoping the two will split.

Last week Ivan Craycraft's 656 topped the list of six 600 series, and Don Wood's 266 was best among the 43 games of 200 or better.

The 3185 pinfall by the Gridiron Bar team at Huron Bowl last week in the Pontiac Motor Tuesday Morning League is a new season high for the circuit.

Orv Warren's 218-237 — 672 and Herm Bishop's 223-220 — 641 led the barmen. League secretary Ray Senk had an all-spare game.

Friday at Huron the Ladies Matinee League posted a 227 for Charlotte Bishop, and 204—525 for Ruby Burnett. Mary O'Brien had 522.

Carol Arnold (201—511) and Donna Contor (201—507) were best in the Pontiac Housewives League at West Side Lanes Thursday morning.

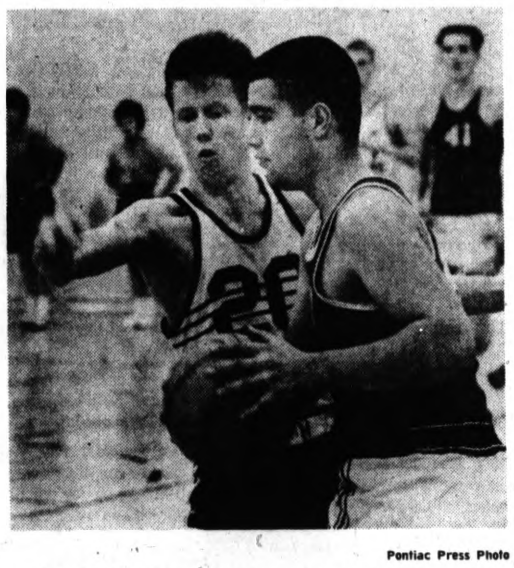

Howe's Lanes Bucks & Does League last week recorded a 212 game for Gail Huntley in his first year of bowling. The Spikehorns have opened a four and a half point lead on the other five teams.

Marion Biron had a 224 game in the Airway Angels League last week to take over high game with handicap honors (278). Doris Burgis had 222-208—579 and Dorothy Dyker 224—545 were other top scorers at Airway Lanes.

Marbara Childress (204—583) and Betzi Waisanen (221—582) had a close battle for individual scoring honors in the Airway Lanes Ladies Major Classic.

The Airway First League last week was topped by Ottille Dobski with 209-203—548 and Lilah Liskey with 232—532. Judy Nichols had 203—524 despite a 127 average.

NO HELP OFFERED—Emmanuel Christian's Glenn Holman (20) is not about to offer any help to Dryden's George Couzens on this play, although the Cardinal player is holding something that Holman would like to have. Action occurred during first half of game last night which the visiting Dryden team won, 74-61.

Three Tigers Sign Baseball Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — The number of Detroit Tigers under contract for the coming season rose to 22 Tuesday when signed pacts were received from infielder Don Wert and outfielders Willie Horton and George Thomas.

Wert, expected to start at third base for the Tigers, appeared in 78 games last season, hitting seven home runs and posting a .259 average.

Horton hit .333 at Knoxville in the South Atlantic League and turned in a .326 average with the Tigers in 15 games in September.

Thomas hit .211 in 53 games for the Los Angeles Angels and .239 in 49 games for Detroit.

Northwood Five Wins

MIDLAND (AP)—Jerry Pettway's 47 points led Northwood Institute to a 112-97 basketball victory over Davenport Institute Tuesday night. Northwood was never behind. Ed Rusticus led Davenport with 22 points.

Texas Aggies Eye Conference Title

By The Associated Press

For the first time in 40 years the surprising Texas Aggies are in a good position to win the undisputed basketball championship of the Southwest Conference.

Despite a 73-65 defeat by independent Houston Tuesday night the Aggies are 3-0 in league competition, including a victory over defending champion Texas, and figure to go all the way in Shelby Metcalf's first year as head coach.

★ ★ ★

"Our foes took us too lightly the first half of the season said Metcalf. "It won't be that way the rest of the season. Everyone will be pointing for us now that we're on top and the team to beat."

Still Metcalf added that his team, sparked by all-conference Bennie Lenox, "has not yet hit its peak." Lenox was the 14th highest scorer in the nation last season as a junior and flipped in 53 against Wyoming in December. The Aggies have won eight of 13 games with all five of their defeats in non-league tests against Utah State, Utah, Oklahoma City, Wichita and Houston.

LONG BOMBS

Tuesday's defeat by the Cougars was the first game since Jan. 11 for the Aggies and it took some nifty long-range shooting by Chet Oliver, Jack Margenthaler and Benny Neumann to win for Houston.

The trio combined for 44 points as the Cougars won their eighth in a row before a delighted Houston turnout of 7,700. Sophomore John Beasley with 17 points and Lenox with 11 led the Aggies.

The game helped highlight another slim national program on the college hardwoods. Fifth-ranked Vanderbilt, the only team in The Associatel Press Top Ten to see action, romped against Arkansas State 108-73.

Wisconsin beat Marquette 72-68, Providence whipped Santa Clara 82-71, Auburn nipped Florida State 63-59, Drake upended Iowa State 63-53, Xavier, Ohio, downed Canisius 104-84, George Washington drubbed Centenary 88-69, Arizona State defeated Los Angeles Loyola 82-64, Miami, Fla. rolled over Rollins 127-85 and Washington nipped Oregon 69-67 in two overtimes.

Joe Kruszewski pumped in 28 points to lead a Virginia Military rally as the Cadets beat East Carolina 86-78. Soph Clyde Lee also scored 28 in Vandy's triumph.

College Five Will Welcome Phantom Foe

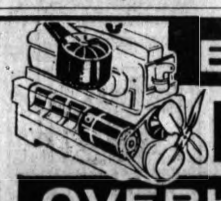

MARS HILL, N.C. (AP) — Coach Harold Woods knows one thing for certain but not two things for sure.

He knows his Mars Hill College Lions will play a basketball game on their home court at 8 p.m. Thursday but Wood hasn't the faintest idea as to what team they'll be facing.

★ ★ ★

Wood received a telephone call from a Kentucky college coach last week in which the coach told Wood he was taking his team to Georgia on a tour. The coach said he wanted a game en route back home and wondered if Wood would fill the date at Mars Hill.

Wood agreed. Now he can't remember the name of the coach or the school, so he is booking the game as Mars Holl vs. the Kentucky Phantoms.

Mart Moves Irregularly Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly higher today in active trading.

* * *

American Tobacco advanced a full point following its surprise dividend boost. Other cigarette stocks also rose at this expression of confidence, despite the government report on cigarette smoking. The other issues rose fractionally.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Wall Street seemed disappointed at U.S. Steel's financial report issued after the market close Tuesday. The stock fell more than a point in further response to its 3-for-1 stock split. Other leading steels were narrowly mixed.

* * *

Tuesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .4 to 292.2, a new high.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Data-Control Systems, Aerojet-General and New Jersey Zinc. Among losers were Draper, Tampa Electric and Technicolor.
