They Lined Up For Sugar At Glenwood Shopping Center

Antipolio Cube Drive Is Overwhelming Success

The first phase of Operation Sugar Cube, a mass polio immunization program throughout Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties yesterday, was termed an overwhelming success by medical society officials.

In Oakland County, over 500,000 persons, or an estimated 80 per cent of the population, received the serum-soaked sugar cubes at 95 stations set up in schools, shopping centers and other community locations.

Entire families lined up at the stations to get the cubes from volunteer workers.

Officials were particularly pleased with the large number of children treated.

There was no delay. The lines moved quickly.

"The response was excellent," according to Dr. Worth Henderson, who headed the society's program in Oakland County.

"Naturally, we would have liked a 100 per cent turnout, but this is never possible."

2ND CUBE NECESSARY

He cautioned that the single dosage received yesterday is not in itself immunization against polio, and must be followed by a second serum-treated cube anytime after eight weeks.

The medical society plans to repeat Operation Sugar Cube June 14. Dr. Henderson urged those who haven't received the first dosage of the serum to get it from their doctors now.

The operation in Oakland County was set up so well that no real problems were encountered, he said. Several stations in Wayne County ran out of serum for short periods.

There was no such delay caused here, as volunteer runners kept the stations adequately supplied. Their efforts were coordinated by Civil Defense radio units which remained in contact with each station.

An estimated 1.7 million persons in Wayne County, or about 65 per cent of the population, got the oral vaccine.

Johnson, K Disclose Plans

Substantial Reduction Over 4-Year Period

NEW YORK (U) — The United States and Soviet Russia announced today a cutback in production of nuclear explosive materials.

President Johnson disclosed the plans of the United States for the "substantial reduction" in the output of enriched uranium to be carried out over a four-year period.

The President made the announcement in a speech prepared for the Associated Press luncheon in New York.

At the same time, in Moscow, Premier Khrushchev made the announcement for the Soviet Union.

The announcement by the Tass news agency said Khrushchev stated:

"An opportunity for improving mutual understanding with other states on the necessity of avoiding a nuclear war had now arisen in connection with the question of the manufacture of fissionable materials for nuclear weapons."

OVERALL REDUCTION

Johnson said that together with other reductions, the new cut means "an overall decrease in the production of plutonium by 20 per cent and of enriched uranium by 40 per cent."

"We reduce tension while maintaining all necessary power," the President stated.

In a wideranging foreign policy speech, Johnson said:

1. The U.S. policy of trying to "isolate Cuba" from the rest of the Western Hemisphere, and defeat its efforts to spread communism "is working." Johnson said "we will continue this policy with every peaceful means at our command."

INSTRUCTS CIA

2. He has instructed the Central Intelligence Agency and the State and Defense departments "to be ready to provide major candidates" in the presidential election campaign with "all possible information helpful to their discussion of American policy." Johnson said such discussion must be responsible and in protecting U.S. security "partisan politics must yield to national need."

Board OKs '65 Budget; Awaits Cut

The record budget calls for some $2 million more than the budget finally adopted in 1963 for the current year.

The amount sought now is about $1 million more than the figure approved by the board of supervisors at this time last year.

County auditors have termed the proposed increase necessary to handle a greater workload demanded by a growing population.

Major areas hiked in the budget for next year are for 87 proposed new employees, possible small pay raises, expanded juvenile care and for the establishment of a new community mental health program.

Noon Turnout Indicates Push to 50 Per Cent

Commission Polling Draws Public Despite Early Morning Chill

A spot check of city voting precincts at noon today indicated Pontiac may be rolling up one of the heaviest voter turnouts for a spring general election in years.

Voters braved chilly, damp weather early this morning to vote for a new City Commission.

As the temperature warmed up, so did the turnout.

Election officials had estimated that better than 40 per cent of the city's 30,231 registered voters would cast ballots.

The turnout by noon indicated it may go well over 50 per cent.

Polling places opened at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m. Persons waiting in line to vote at 8 p.m. will be allowed to do so.

Voters will choose seven city commissioners and vote on two ballot proposals.

There are 16 candidates. Of them, 14 were nominated at the March primary and are listed on the ballot, while two who lost nomination by a slim margin are campaigning as write-in candidates.

VOTES ALLOWED

Whether they cast a machine vote for someone on the printed ballot (voting levers) or cast a write-in vote (write-in slots above voting levers), each elector may cast only one vote in each of the seven district races.

Thus, every voter in every district will be casting seven votes for commission candidates for the first time.

In past years, an elector could vote only for one of the two candidates running in his own district.

It may be a long night for election officials in view of the new at-large voting procedure and because a heavy write-in vote is possible.

FAST PROCEDURE

In the past, election workers at any given precinct polling place had only to tabulate and report votes for two candidates, since electors voted only for those seeking election in their own district.

Tonight, each precinct will be tabulating votes for 16 candidates except where no write-in votes are cast.

Returns which are normally complete within three hours after the polls close, could take (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Warming Trend, Precipitation Due Rest of Week

Today's gray day, a hangover from the weekend, is a Monday sample of what will be a warmer—but wet—week.

Temperatures will average about 5 to 7 degrees above the normal high of 60 and low of 42.

The warming trends will first be felt tomorrow.

Precipitation will total 1 to 1½ inches in showers at the beginning and the end of the week.

The temperature dragged its feet at 38 before 8 this morning, and by 2 p.m. it had crawled to 47.

Idea of 'C' University Gets Backing of OU Speaker

A tall Texan gave a boost to the idea of a "C" university for average students Saturday.

Dr. Logan Wilson, commencement speaker at Oakland University, said in an interview that there ought to be certain institutions for "C" students.

"You can make a fetish out of excellence," commented the president of the American Council on Education.

Attempts to avoid the church-state controversy by granting federal funds on a scholarship basis directly to students was called "an easy way out" by Wilson.

CHURCH-STATE RIFT

The top priority should be to help institutions themselves he said. There is no shortage of students, but of buildings and facilities.

Wilson added that scholarships would not help this bottleneck. He said that it would take a "tremendous" amount of money to get any impact nationally with just scholarships.

According to the OU visitor, Wilson said that he knew of only one institution in the country that openly advertises for the average or below average student.

"I think we have to remember that not everybody is a Phi Beta Kappa," he added.

He pointed out that some eastern institutions have backed off from relying on sheer intellectual power. Wilson said that there is a need for a reasonable mixing of the different caliber of students.

Speaking with a slight Texas drawl, the gray-haired educator spoke of federal aid for all institutions of higher learning, the need for wider distribution of federally supported research and the rising costs for a college education.

GRADUATING IN THE RAIN — It was raining Saturday when 25,000 Oakland University students headed toward the university's Intramural Building in a line, but that was not about to keep them from a ceremony they had worked toward so hard—their graduation from college. It was the university's second formal commencement.

has any of three purposes because words reveal; words conceal; words deceive. You have to be on much closer guard against language than the sword.

If you'll be honest for a moment, you'll admit that many a time you used a word to conceal the truth or to deceive someone, possibly when you were on the carpet for being late or absent.

Let's take a look at biased words or "loaded language." Try yourself on this gem.

"This was a peaceful hamlet until those rabble-rousing dictators of the labor monopoly invaded our peace and tranquility. No bleatings and wailings against social injustices were heard on our corners until these foreigners began to agitate among our loyal labor forces."

"Are we now, as a fair-minded citizenry, to tolerate the question to which our civic-minded businessmen must be subjected because of economic wrongs, now imagined, but never hitherto known?"

It can work the other way, too.

"The age of the robber barons is not gone. Ill-fated families dot the countryside, victims of Hitlerian and McCarthyite methods to ensure the economic stranglehold of the worker."

HAVE A GRIPE

The only really clear thing in these two imaginary comments is that two people have a gripe.

In this dispute you can be sure that some people will line themselves up with the opinion (?) of the businessmen; others will be persuaded by the logic (?) of the working force.

What opinion? What logic? Both sides engaged in name-calling; both used no evidence; both used labels instead of language.

Consider some of the trickery in the first editorial. "Peaceful" could well mean a downtrodden labor force too frightened to speak out. No noise; therefore everyone's happy? Nonsense, it doesn't follow.

INSULT WORKER

"Rabble-rousing dictators" insult the worker by regarding him as rabble and implies that union organizers are simply power-mad troublemakers, ignoring that there might well be injustice.

"Bleatings and wailings" is meant to make expression against injustice equivalent to animal sounds. And notice what a foot the "fair-minded citizenry" would be if it disagreed with this editorial.

If the writer had a case, he would not have to use language to conceal and deceive.

Now, pick out the loaded vocabulary in the second piece. "Robber barons" is an old favorite, and the writer doesn't say whether the ill-fated families are the result of drunken fathers who won't work.

POOR SUBSTITUTES

"Thraldom," "super-patriots," "Fascistic"—all these are poor substitutes for logic. We could have included "book-burners," "radical," "extremists," "leftists," "rightists," "ultra," and others from the long list of words meant to convey bias, not opinion, meant to deceive, not reveal.

Watch their language! Watch the labels on those words!

Child Seeks Stone; Plunges to Death

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A girl, attracted by a sparkling stone, plunged to her death from a cliff Sunday while walking with her mother.

Darlene Ann Nicholas, 10, of nearby Girard, died of a fractured skull and internal injuries after falling 200 feet to a creek bed. The cliff is about 10 miles west of Erie.

Marie Nicholas, 36, told police the girl was attracted to the edge by the stone. She slipped and clung for a moment to some moss. Mrs. Nicholas grabbed her ankle but Darlene Ann's shoe slipped off.

Auburn Heights Boys' Club Cited

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Auburn Heights Boys' Club, a second home for more than 200 area youths, is about to take a giant organizational step forward.

Another milestone in the seven-year-old association's career will soon be reached when it attains official recognition by the Boys' Clubs of America as a "mainline" club.

This new status means a full-time professional director will make his headquarters in the two-story building at 220 S. Squirrel.

From there he will help fulfill the Boys' Club goals. He'll work to develop youths physically, socially, vocationally, and educationally, as well as instill good character traits in them.

How will this be done? Included in the visible ways are sports, such as bowling, football, horseshoes and basketball.

OTHER FIELDS
The organization also works in other fields, by striving to keep prospective dropouts in school and giving guidance and counsel to troubled youths.

Chartered in 1957, the Auburn Heights Association found a home in 1962, thanks to the contribution of the former Auburn Heights Community Club.

With the aid of liberal donations and hard-working community hands, the building now provides excellent facilities for the boys on the main floor and in a rentable hall upstairs.

Under guidance of the current Director Sam Sheehy, the present attendance figure has been reached, with a projected mark of 320 anticipated by the end of the current enrollment "roundup."

WSU GRAD

Sheehy, a graduate of Wayne State University, majored in physical education. He attended school on a Boys' Club scholarship and studied partially under direction of club personnel.

Now he leads the boys as they exercise their way through a physical fitness program, table tennis tournaments and other activities.

Current projects include sponsoring of a community supervised dance, restricted to Avondale students in grades 9-12.

Twice a month, on Friday, the boys' club is converted into "Club 220." Local car dealer E. J. Barnosky also changes roles then, when he becomes the kids' favorite disc jockey.

Another program in progress is equipping of the newly refurbished games and workshop room in the basement. Members of the club board are seeking furniture, table tennis tables, pool tables, hand tools, power tools and decorative pieces.

OTHER OFFICERS

Holding the supervisory reins of the organization is Board President Dr. E. D. Barrett. Other officers are Vice President Harold Davis, Secretary Ben Douglas and Treasurer John Eldon Jr.

Club programs are financed through the generosity of community organizations and private citizens.

"Help is something we haven't refused yet," Sheehy said.

Among those who have contributed to the club's projects are the Auburn Heights Lions and Rotary Clubs; Hill-Gazette Post 143, American Legion; Youth Activities Fund (Fisher Foundation); and the Pontiac Optimists Club.

Other donors include the Pontiac Area United Fund, Avon Community Chest, and private citizens who have given of their time and money.

And it's obvious that the investments have paid off. All it takes to see the dividends is a visit to the Boys' Club.

"LIKE THAT MOVE?" — Ricky Wood, 11, (left) makes his initial move in a match against his brother Ted, 10. Ted seems to approve as does kibitzer Mark Thompson, 12.

Discovered in Ditch; Boy Was Suffocated

TROY — The body of an infant boy, wrapped in a bath towel and inside a brown paper bag, was found in a ditch along Rochester Road Saturday.

Deputy Oakland County Coroner Dr. Karl F. Koerner said the baby has been dead about 12 hours. His autopsy showed the child was suffocated with the towel a few minutes after birth.

It was found in the ditch between 19 and 20 Mile roads by a youngster playing beside the highway.

Troy police issued an alert to area hospitals to be on the lookout for any woman seeking treatment who had recently given birth.

Hamlin, Board of Supervisors Merit Warm Congratulations

Oakland County's big Board of Supervisors just reelected DELOS F. HAMLIN as chairman for his ninth consecutive term.

All things considered, a governing board of a single county that numbers 85 men could be considered too large and even unwieldy. In fact, county home rule legislation is designed for the few districts that have grown so rapidly they possess a huge population confined within precisely the same square miles.

Oakland County is fortunate. Over an extended period of years, we have been in capable and competent hands. By and large, the supervisors are men of fine standing in their home communities and they have commanded respect from their fellow associates and from the County as a whole. Certainly the administrative group has consistently been strong and trustworthy. Further, these active heads have possessed the ability to analyze the never-ending problems that are constantly presented by a county that grows as rapidly as Oakland and which reaches our proportions.

In the not too distant future, Oakland County's population will pass the million mark. Surely we are more than three-quarters of the way there now. This means our county here in Southeastern Michigan has more population than a half dozen whole states.

Delos Hamlin is to be congratulated warmly on the fine leadership he has shown. A shrewd, conservative administration has successfully met and faced new problems as they arose and solved them promptly and efficiently. Obviously there have been a few controversial matters, but in these cases the leaders have never indicated any disposition to thrust things down their compatriots' throats or play the parts of dictators.

County home rule is probably just over the immediate horizon, despite its setback in the legislature and we can enter that new phase of government with the satisfaction and knowledge of a good job well done under the old plan which sufficed for a small community but which is rather antiquated in the light of today's developments here.

We have warm praise for Mr. HAMLIN and the balance of his fine board.

Harmful Actions . . .

Integration has made so much fine progress many people regret the actions of the extremists who are actually turning friends into enemies and discrediting much of the move.

One of these unfortunate cults advocates raising the Negroes to the top of every heap there is, irrespective of conditions and abilities. And secondly, the exhibitionists do even more harm by advocating violence and unnecessary disruption just as a means of attracting attention. They certainly succeed in commanding the center of the stage, but it's in a damaging manner and costs them support and assistance.

Political students are still analyzing that Wisconsin vote and offering conflicting theories on its racial significance. Each extreme reads "victory" into the results. But the analysts who occupy the center of the road read it as a protest against the radicals who are now advised to follow orderly procedures and abandon wanton methods.

Surely the Negro's progress in the last few years is considerable and it strikes a sympathetic chord in the Nation's breast. The average man and woman stand with the Negroes in their further emancipation, but the excited rabble rousers have canceled some of the gains and are a menace to the true cause.

Today's the Day . . .

Vote today.

All previous work goes for naught if the people don't visit the polls and indicate their personal choices. This is a democracy and the majority rules. Don't allow a minority to dominate.

The PRESS indicated its own choices in the editorial columns on Friday.

Vote!
It's a privilege and a duty.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A doctor in Sweden ended the life of an incurable 88-year-old patient and a furor is raging as he is assaulted and defended. . . . Some shrewd observers in the D. of C. predict a food shortage in Russia this spring. The farm program is still a washout. . . . Overheard: "Crime is increasing four times faster than the population and the crooks had better slow down or they'll run out of people." . . . Credit this to RICHARD M. NIXON: "The new international dart game is to hang up a world map and then try and hit a spot where the U.S. hasn't been insulted, kicked around, blackmailed or threatened."

Eddie Fisher is reputed to have been "taken" — but good — in Las Vegas and he's in no shape to stand it as his personal appeal is dwindling almost as fast as it ought to. . . . A scout names Lydia Allen as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . I read again that Procter and Gamble's TV commercials are the corniest and most irritating on the air. . . . Poor Alaska. Her tourist trade has ceased and the Cooper River which produces $2 million in salmon has dried up. . . . Oakland County farmers tell me the soil is in much better shape than it was a year ago now.

Overheard: "You've reached middle age when your wife tells you to pull in your stomach and you already have." . . . According to Insider's Newsletter, trading stamps are fading. Authorities say they cost the stores two or three percent and the buyers prefer to have prices cut that amount. An official of the National Association of Food Chains says "It's a gimmick that's lost its effectiveness." . . . CAROL MANN is attracting attention on the feminine golf circuit. She stands a shade under six feet three and has a beautiful swing which is producing results. . . . Overheard: "Old age really means someone that's 15 years older than you

David Lawrence Asks:

Will Rights Bill Force Slavery?

WASHINGTON — Strange as it may seem, "involuntary servitude" — as slavery is defined in the Thirteenth Amendment of the Constitution — may again be an issue in America, though this time it could mostly concern white persons.

Such is the conclusion reached by Alfred Avins, formerly special deputy attorney general of the State of New York and a well-known professor of constitutional law, who has just presented his argument in a comprehensive article in the "Law Quarterly" of Cornell University.

If the pending "civil rights" bill is adopted, serious questions will be raised in the courts as to whether persons working in barber shops or beauty parlors, or even in restaurants, may be forced out of their jobs against their will because they do not choose to serve certain kinds of customers.

Supporters of the "civil rights" legislation contend that only those barber shops or beauty parlors which are part of a hotel or motel establishment will be affected.

Thus, a barber shop in a hotel would be required to serve Negroes, but a barber shop across the street could lawfully refuse to do so.

DEPRIVED OF JOB

But if there are no jobs available across the street or elsewhere, the worker could argue that he was being deprived of an employment opportunity because of his beliefs.

"Making and serving someone else a hamburger is not work for the government, for one's family, or for a party one has joined. Nor is cutting another's hair, carrying his luggage, shining his shoes, or performing other personal services for him, says Avins.

The Thirteenth Amendment gives every person the right to refrain from working for any other person.

"It protects barbers, hotel clerks, shoe-shine men, sales clerks, waiters and waitresses, just as much as it protects coat-pickers, field hands or farm laborers . . .

RIGHT TO REFRAIN

"The Thirteenth Amendment guarantees the right to refrain from work, from all work, from some work, or from work for some person.

"To coerce personal service is to impose involuntary servitude.

are yourself." . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—SIDNEY POITIER; the J's—the boring dreary Oscar Awards program.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

"Where a barber or waiter is permanently barred from earning a living in his occupation unless he serves all who apply, the reality of the situation is that he is being punished for refusing service."

"The exclusion from his calling is a particularly severe sort of punishment."

"To force him to serve on pain of such exclusion constitutes involuntary servitude."

"Even, however, were the alternative to serving everyone without discrimination of going out of business or leaving one's occupation not deemed, strictly speaking, punishment, nevertheless, this alternative constitutes such a degree of coercion as to make the service involuntary."

The obligation, as a condition of employment, to cut the hair or massage the bodies of certain individuals in personal-service occupations may, therefore, open up a new controversy over the meaning of "involuntary servitude."

Capital Letter:

Johnson Puts LBJ Brand on the Role of President

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY WASHINGTON — It is doubtful whether any man has ever enjoyed the role of president as much as Lyndon Baines Johnson does.

The irrepressible Texan who will have held that office five months next Wednesday has at last hit his stride.

Reluctant at first to deviate from the Ken-MONTGOMERY needy mold, he is now giving his own folksiness free rein, and in doing so has indelibly stamped his LBJ brand on the country.

President Johnson, despite his extroverted gregariousness, is inclined to be introspective.

It is this latter quality which causes him to worry when anyone is against him, and to seek to be all things to all people.

This trait manifested itself at the reception in his honor hosted by the visiting king of Jordan.

After standing sedately beside King Hussein to greet ambassadors of the diplomatic corps and their wives, the President was supposed to leave, so that a thousand other invited guests, queued up in the Mayflower hotel corridors, could greet the Arab monarch.

Instead, with the same zest with which he plunges into crowds to greet dusty camel drivers or U.S. tourists, he headed into the throng of martini-sippers at the party.

Immediately encased in massed humanity, he began shaking dozens of outstretched hands.

The same folksy informality that has charmed men in the street from Iceland to Pakistan was also unleashed on visiting editors who attended LBJ's biggest press conference to date.

Kidding himself in his opening remarks, the President said: "I did not drive myself over here. But I did have to cancel an informal meeting with some tourists at the gate."

Asked for comment on a poll of newspaper editors "who all agreed that you would win" re-election, he quipped:

"I hope that they feel in November as they do in April. If LBJ keeps up the wooing, it's a cinch that they will."

A 'De Gaulle' for Brazil

Chicago's American

Brazil's new president, Gen. Humberto Castelo Branco, takes over the shake-up government armed with the most sweeping powers ever given to a Brazilian chief executive. The powers themselves could fairly be called dictatorial; whether Castelo Branco, the army chief of staff, uses them dictatorially or wisely seems to be up to him.

Before it elected Castelo Branco as interim president, Gen. Humberto Castello Branco passed the so-called institutional act, a set of rules that will stay in effect until an elected president takes office in 1966. The act gives the interim president wide powers, largely independent of congress, to straighten out Brazil's groggy economy and to purge Communists in its government.

Castelo Branco will need congress' approval to enact a law; if a bill he submits is not voted on within 30 days, it becomes a law automatically.

The revolutionary government expelled 40 members of congress on grounds of pro-Communism or extremist activity. It suspended their political rights

Voice of the People:

Rap 'Outraged Parent' for Book Condemnation

"An Outraged Parent" complained about the required reading for senior government classes at Milford High. As a senior there, I was shocked by this parent's immaturity and narrow-mindedness. Those two pages, out of some 800, are telling no one anything new. "A Shade of Difference" and "Advice and Consent" are both required reading and give a clear picture of what goes on in Washington.

Why should we miss this excellent learning experience because of two minor pages?

Milford

Parents who condemn whole books after reading two pages outrage me. They condemn books, yet send little "Johnny" to the movies no matter what's on and let him watch the late, late movies. They are far more detrimental to the moral upbringing of children than two pages in "A Shade of Difference."

If "An Outraged Parent" would keep up with the times and stop pulling the mane, juvenile trill of pulling things out of context and condemning the whole book, then not only would the school system be free of an uninformed, narrow-minded parent, but the parent would be more in tune with what's happening.

This letter is aimed not only at "An Outraged Parent," but to all "outraged parents" who believe they know best for their children regarding literature assigned by instructors.

The pages in "A Shade of Difference" are far more innocent than the pages of other pocketbook novels. It seems as if "An Outraged Parent" has thumbed through pages of good, informative, creative literature in order to find one cursory word, one scene that might possibly be shady.

Censorship would result in a destructive process. Students would be denied the privilege of learning and they would go out of their way to procure novels in question and interpret them as they see fit.

Ignorance breeds decadence — a state from which we are not too distant.

Complains About Smoke in Factory

I go along with the letter "561-B" wrote about smoke in our plant. With all the money the company is spending on expansion, why couldn't some of the older employees get better working conditions. We have been wearing safety glasses for years, but what about protection for our lungs?

561-B

Examines Causes for 'School Corruption'

Doubtless, all were impressed with Mr. A. F. Humphrey's complex and thoroughly contemplated statement: "There is so much corruption in the world because uniformitarianism and evolution are being taught in our schools as truths."

Mr. Humphrey must have examined the cause for "all the corruption" in schools. Surely, the 3 per cent of the students who can be classified as juvenile delinquents commit vandalism because of that theory of evolution. Parents are no factor because parents are the only good examples poor misguided adolescents have. The obscenity found on book shelves is no factor, teen-agers are too well informed to follow themselves to such trash.

Everyone knows that such evil, corrupting forces as communism took root because their leaders read Darwin instead of Genesis.

'Attend Church, Even if Infrequently'

Recently The Press carried an editorial about people attending church. I believe no one is making a mistake regardless of how infrequently he attends. When people attend only once or twice, there is always the possibility that they may receive something that might cause them to become a regular. If we who attend would arrive to greet those who fail to attend regularly, we would feel better and have no time to criticize.

I still hold your splendid paper in high esteem.

British Troops

The London Times

British troops should not be asked much longer to submit to the treatment they are undergoing in Cyprus. It is the Government's duty to satisfy itself that the international force has the necessary powers to carry out its task and that British troops are treated in the same ways as other members of the force.

Unless British troops can be assured of a useful and dignified role in keeping the island's peace, they should be withdrawn to the sovereign base, Cyprus. It is enough to ask soldiers to risk their lives in this apparently thankless operation without asking them to endure public humiliation while doing so.

News From Around the World

Indonesia, Red North Korea to Establish Diplomatic Relations

TOKYO (AP)—Indonesia and Communist North Korea have agreed to establish diplomatic relations and exchange ambassadors, Radio Pyongyang announced today.

A broadcast heard here said North Korean Prime Minister Kim Il Sang had called Indonesian President Sukarno: "I am convinced that the anti-Malaysia struggle waged by the Indonesian people under your leadership will be greatly conducive to the preservation of peace."

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Extinction is threatening a race of hairy humans in the Gobi Desert, according to Mongolian scientist B. Rinchen, a member of the International Committee for the Study of Hairy Humans.

Writing in the Czechoslovak magazine "Nature and Society," Dr. Rinchen expressed doubt that the primitive Almas can survive. He said they live in an area of about 385 square miles where many travelers and scientists have had "strange encounters" with them.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Soviet submarine threat in the Pacific is "real and quite serious," the U.S. Pacific Fleet's antisubmarine warfare commander said today.

Vice Adm. John T. Hayward warned that the Soviets "in the not distant future" would be regularly deploying submarines particularly missile launchers, off Australia's coast as well as America's.

Hayward said the United States will have Polaris submarines in the Pacific within the next two years.

MOSCOW (AP)—A 25-passenger gas turbine helicopter has covered 1,530 miles in 12 hours, 3 minutes, 34 seconds, the Communist party newspaper Pravda reported today.

It claimed the flight Sunday of the V8, set world records for distance and speed. The average speed on the closed-circuit flight in the Moscow area was 128 miles an hour.

Pravda said the old distance record for closed-circuit helicopter flight was 119 miles and for a straight line was 1,215 miles. Both records were held in the United States.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda claimed today members of the Soviet bloc have given the Kremlin complete support in its clash with Peking.

The editorial did not mention that some East European countries have withheld approval of the Soviet proposal for a world Communist meeting on the Chinese-Soviet dispute.

TOKYO (AP)—A leading Red Chinese said today Peking would not take the initiative in breaking diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

But Liao Cheng-chih, a member of the ruling Communist Central Committee, said Red China could not predict what action Soviet Premier Khrushchev would take.

Khrushchev has said he would not break off relations with the Chinese.

Liao, interviewed by Japanese newsmen in Peking, also said the situation between China and the United States should not remain frozen and "we are hoping to improve it."

BERLIN (AP)—A young East German border guard helped two teen-age nurses through barbed wire border obstacles today and escaped with them to West Berlin, police said.

The 21-year-old guard was in uniform but left his weapons behind. The nurses, 16 and 17, came from Thuringia, about 100 miles southwest of Berlin.

Committee for Counsel, Advice

State Mayors Plan Civil Rights Self-Help

CADILLAC (AP)—Michigan's mayors plan to give each other a helping hand in dealing with problems that come up in connection with civil rights demonstrations or other civil rights affairs.

The aid is to come from a committee of the Michigan Conference of Mayors to be composed of mayors who have experienced such problems.

Mayor Willard I. Bowerman Jr. of Lansing, conference president, announced the plan Sunday as an outgrowth of the conference meeting here Saturday.

The conference of mayors of 80 cities reportedly discussed sit-ins, school boycotts and traffic stalling as well as other forms of demonstrations.

ONLY SIT-INS

Michigan has had civil rights sit-ins but has experienced no school boycotts or traffic stalling, tactics used by demonstrators in other states.

Officials of the mayors conference, including Bowerman, said the group took no formal action with respect to such tactics.

Without elaborating, however, Bowerman said "there are areas which local governments have to face up to. We must recognize that if they are not current now they are going to be."

LBJ Orders Review of Draft Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has ordered the Pentagon to review the military draft with "the possibility of meeting our requirements on an entirely voluntary basis in the next decade."

Johnson made the announcement at a news conference Saturday and conceded that there are inequities in the conscription system. The President regretted that he had helped legislate the first peacetime draft in 1949 and said:

"I continue to be firmly convinced of the soundness of its basic principle, namely, that the obligations and privileges of service must be shared equally in accordance with a fair and just system."

"I am concerned . . . with the recent indications that in application the system may have drifted from this concept."

About 9 million men of draft age — 18 to 26 — are in the draft "pool" but only about half of them are likely to see service because of deferment and other factors. Monthly draft calls this year have ranged from 12,000 to 16,000.

Bowerman said the conference committee, which he will name, will be available to mayors on request. He said the group would give "counsel and advice on any given situation."

SOME MISTAKES

"Some mistakes have been made in the past," he said, "and we do not want to repeat these."

Mayor Herbert A. Smith of Madison Heights, conference secretary, said the consensus of the Saturday meeting was that civil rights progress "should be accomplished without illegal acts." He said he had in mind school boycotts, sit-ins and traffic stoppages. He said these tactics serve to hold back civil rights progress.

Bowerman and Smith said the mayors conference in its Battle Creek policy resolution of Dec. 7 had expressed its position in support of civil rights.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit deplored what he called "a steady erosion of the principle of home rule."

"Perhaps this is not the time to be unduly optimistic in view of the events transpiring in Lansing," Cavanagh said in a speech.

IGNORES ROMNEY

The Detroit mayor did not mention Gov. George W. Romney or the legislature. He has crossed swords with both on home rule. He has fought proposals by both to restrict cities in the levying of income and other taxes.

"Home rule is not an empty phrase," Cavanagh said. "It has real meaning to those of us who are engaged in the daily administration of municipal affairs. There is a difference between mouthing pious platitudes about local independence and putting into action the means to provide for responsible local action."

Bowerman was reelected president Saturday night. Also elected were Robert Jacobs, Sault Ste. Marie, vice president; Smith as secretary, and Gordon Thomas of East Lansing, treasurer.

Elected directors were Virgil L. Eller of Garden City, I. T. Wedin of Cadillac, Cecil O. Creal of Ann Arbor, G. Stewart Francke of Saginaw, and Wilbert F. Smith of Benton Harbor.

Army Shoes Necessary?

Little Ol' Wine-Tester, Me

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON QPS—The first thing I do when I get home in the evening is ask my wife if we are having wine with dinner.

If she says that we are, I go to the closet and get out my Army shoes.

The shoes are the only part of my World War II uniform that still fits. Thank goodness I don't have fat feet.

If I had allowed myself to become obese at the arches, the way so many ex-service-men have, I would be unable to avail myself of an opportunity that has just come my way.

I have been offered a commission in the Order of Military Wine Tasters, a group of active, reserve and retired members of the armed forces who are devotees of gracious living.

The commission does not necessarily require that I wear Army shoes while drinking wine. But if I am going to do a thing, I believe in doing it right.

CORRECT BEHAVIOR

Correct behavior is, as you know, vitally important where wine is concerned. One must have the right glass for the right wine and the right wine for the right dish.

Wine must be stored in a certain way, opened in a certain way and poured in a certain way. Some must be chilled and some not. And so on.

This explains, I think, why wine consumption in this country is not greater than it is.

A chap gets so thirsty before he finishes the ritual that he is likely to say "the hell with it" and open a beer instead.

Some people have been known to rebel against tradition. I once knew a couple who had a devil-may-care attitude toward wine that was positively shocking.

Late at night, when they were fairly certain they were not under surveillance, they would lower all of the blinds, dim the lights and drink red wine out of paper cups over ice cubes.

Another couple of my acquaintance go to the opposite extreme. They have a little dinner party routine that is simply enchanting.

Shortly before the guests go to the table, the hostess will say to her husband "you had better open the wine now, dear, and let it breathe a bit before dinner."

I would be willing to swear, so help me Order of Military Wine Tasters, that when he removes the cork I can hear the wine gasping for breath.

British Aide Predicts Closer Russia-West Ties

NEW YORK (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler predicts that while the next decade will be laden with cold war tension, the Soviet-Chinese dispute will impel the Russians "to take more interest in an understanding with the West."

Butler presented his views on world affairs in an interview with AP correspondent Eddy Gilmore, filmed in London for showing today at the annual meeting of The Associated Press.

The 61-year-old foreign secretary, in a wide-ranging commentary, said he is convinced the myth of Communist world solidarity has been destroyed by the Moscow-Peking squabble. He predicted the Soviet Union and the West would find common ground in some areas, notably disarmament.

Butler said that for the next 10 years the main areas of tension in the world would be in South Asia, South Africa and Latin America.

RELATIONS CLOSE

He declared with a broad smile that British-American relations were "very close" and that the two nations were shoulder-to-shoulder on world issues.

"We do look to the future with hope," he said, "because we can work together with the United States of America and that is what gives us the hope and our strength."

Touching on one point of irritation in U.S.-British relations, Butler defended the recent sale of British buses to Communist Cuba, saying British trade with Cuba today is less than that between Americans and Cuba.

Butler dwelt at length on disruption of the Communist world in the wake of the Soviet-Chinese dispute which he said "in simple English means Chinese-Soviet rivalry." The quarrel, he said, is occupying much of Moscow's time "and that in itself is probably quite a good thing."

"We know," said Butler, "there is Chinese-Russian rivalry in Asia, and now they are both choosing to extend it to Africa, and I think they are going to find a great degree of competition between them in the new African states. I think it will only lead to further tension between these two nations."

The Moscow-Peking battle does not mean an end to the West's troubles, Butler cautioned, since "the Soviet Union and China can and still do pursue policies which are unfriendly to our interests, even if they do so independently."

OTHER QUESTIONS

But he said it was a "good thing that other Communist parties are being made to think for themselves—and I think it is a good thing for the Soviet Union to realize that there are other questions besides simply the one of tension with the West."

On prospects of East-West agreement, Butler called attention to such accords as the limited nuclear test ban, the Washington-Moscow "hot line" and the U.S.-Soviet agreement not to put weapons in outer space.

"All are valuable in themselves," he said, "and they showed that the East and West can reach agreement based on common interest. We are trying to work forward from here. We have been discussing the question of the use of fissile material for military purposes with Mr. Khrushchev, and we have many other subjects which we are discussing with him."

"I think we should find some common ground, particularly in the field of disarmament."

Butler said that Chinese ambitions in Asia and the possibility of Red China's achieving a primitive nuclear capability are "likely to make tensions inevitable, particularly in the Indo-China area where we know there are so many tensions for both our countries at the present time."

General's 1st Wife: Kin Hurt Marriage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first Mrs. Douglas MacArthur says, "It was an interfering another-in-law who eventually succeeded in disrupting our married life."

And, she says that before she was married to the late general in 1922, Gen. John H. Pershing, Army Chief of Staff, "told me if I married him he would send MacArthur to the Philippines and there was a terrible climate there and I wouldn't like it."

Pershing was then widowed, she said, and sent her love letters.

Mrs. Louis Cromwell Helberg, whose eight-year marriage to MacArthur ended in divorce, gave this account to Betty Beale, a columnist for The Washington Star. Miss Beale said Mrs. Helberg is trying to write her memoirs while confined to her Georgetown house by illness.

MacArthur fell in love with her the first time they met, and proposed to her the second time, Mrs. Helberg said. "If he hadn't, I would have proposed to him," she said. "He was the handsomest man I had ever met."

'IDEAL WIFE'

In blaming her mother-in-law for the disruption of their marriage, Mrs. Helberg gave no details. At the same time she described the general's second wife, Jean, as "an ideal wife" for him "in every way."

Mrs. Helberg labeled as untrue reports that she divorced the general because he wouldn't resign from the Army and go into business.

She said he was offered the presidency of the University of Pennsylvania after leaving the superintendency of West Point, but she urged him not to give up his career in the Army.

Before her marriage to MacArthur, Mrs. Helberg was married to Walter Brooks Jr. They were divorced. After the divorce from MacArthur she was married to Alf Helberg. This marriage ended in divorce about a year ago. Mrs. Helberg also was married at one time to Lionel Atwill, a British actor who died in 1946.

Plane Is Only Toy

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Six policemen searched a wooded area of Swope Park Saturday evening after Carl Phillips reported seeing a light plane apparently headed down for a crash near his home.

The police finally gave up, shaking their heads.

Phillips was vindicated yesterday, however, when four youths found a radio-controlled model plane in a tree. The plane had a seven-foot wingspread.

Detroit Safety Boy

Honored for Lifesaving

WASHINGTON (AP)—Steven Childs, 11, of Detroit's Parke School, is among five safety patrol boy heroes who will be honored by the American Automobile Association at White House ceremonies May 7. The boys, cited for saving the life of a schoolmate in a traffic accident, will receive AAA gold lifesaver medals from President Johnson.

Stand Mute in Fraud Case

Enter Innocent Pleas for Carter, Catsman

Former Pontiac City Manager Robert A. Carter and Samuel M. Catsman, prominent Flint businessman, stood mute today at their arraignment in Genesee County Circuit Court on charges of conspiracy to defraud the city of Flint.

Pleas of innocent were entered for them and Judge Steven Newblatt released both on their own recognizance. No trial date was set.

The charges stemmed from a one-man grand jury investigation into alleged irregularities involving land purchases and contracts awarded for work in connection with the Lake Huron to Flint water pipeline project.

The irregularities were alleged to have taken place while Carter was Flint city manager, a post he held for four years before resigning under commission pressure a year ago.

Carter was hired to the post in Pontiac last November and resigned in February.

Both he and Catsman have maintained they are innocent.

A separate charge against Catsman of obtaining $35,000 from Flint under false pretenses was dismissed by a Flint Municipal Court Judge April 10.

Say De Gaulle Is Recovering

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle "continues to recover in a satisfactory way" from a prostate operation, a bulletin issued by Cochin Hospital in Paris said today.

The 73-year-old president underwent surgery last Friday.

At Chartres, Gaston Defferre, Socialist mayor of Marseille and a candidate for president, said he wants de Gaulle to run again.

De Gaulle hasn't said whether he'll run in the election, to be held late in 1965.

"If Gen. de Gaulle should retire . . . the electoral competition would be less clear, and would even run the danger of becoming a sort of confused fray which would not assure the victor the same possibilities for action as a man who had won over de Gaulle," said Defferre.

3-Day Fact-Finding Visit Ends

Rusk Leaves Saigon After Pledging U.S. Aid

SAIGON, Viet Nam (U.S. Press) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk ended a three-day fact-finding visit to South Viet Nam today, pledging U.S. help until peace returns to the embattled country.

Rusk departed a few hours after the Communists gave a major show of strength, including a daylight attack on an outpost 14 miles from Saigon.

Two companies of Viet Cong fired mortars and heavy weapons at the suburban post while Rusk was winding up his talks in the city yesterday. Rusk was never close to the action.

Tight security prevailed as his plane took off for home today.

In an airport statement, Rusk said:

"We shall remain at your side until the aggression from the north has been defeated, until it has been completely rooted out and this land enjoys the peace which it deserves."

ADDED SUPPORT

Rusk said he discussed with Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the premier "various ways in which our assistance might be strengthened," but gave no details.

"So let us move on together to victory, a secure peace and a better life for the Vietnamese people," Rusk added.

While his plane made a 28-minute refueling stop at Taipei, Formosa, Rusk conferred again with Nationalist Chinese Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan and Adm. Jerauld Wright, the U.S. ambassador. Shen told reporters Rusk had described the Vietnamese situation as "quite satisfactory."

Rusk's plane was scheduled to make additional stops in Tokyo and Anchorage, Alaska, en route to Washington.

OTHER RED ACTION

In addition to the assault in the Saigon suburb, the Communists slipped within 800 yards of a U.S. military compound at My Tho, 50 miles southwest of the Capital. Another Viet Cong company attacked Tan Hoa on the main highway between Saigon and Can Tho, 100 miles to the southwest.

Communist units apparently inflicted their heaviest toll in simultaneous attacks on five outposts in Kien Hoa province in the Mekong delta. At Hai Tay, 25 miles from My Tho, 14 self-defense corpsmen were reported killed and 28 missing.

The government claimed more than 100 Viet Cong casualties as it struck back with artillery and aircraft.

By nightfall, U.S.-backed government forces halted all the assaults. Except for the losses at Hai Tay, officials gave no casualty figures.

There were no reports of any Americans killed or injured.

U.S. military advisers said the Communist attacks may indicate a Red buildup as May Day, a major holiday for communism, approaches.

Sources close to Rusk described him as convinced of ultimate victory and hopeful it can be achieved without a major expansion of the war. But, they added, he is determined to win even if victory requires wider fighting. They said the United States has ruled out any political settlement at this time.

At the airport, Rusk said: "I am very much impressed by the military, economic and social programs instituted by General Khanh."

"The economic potentialities of this country are immense. are the industriousness and intelligence of your people."

Georgia Police Get First Clue

Find Prints on Guns Linked to Murders

LAWRENCEVILLE, Georgia (UPI) — Authorities said last night that fingerprints have been found on two service revolvers turned up in an investigation in the woodlands execution-type slaying of three policemen.

Maj. Barney Ragsdale of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation also said that ballistic tests confirmed that the three officers were slain by their own guns.

The two service revolvers and a flashlight were found yesterday along the shoulder of a country road about a mile from the pine thicket where the three officers were found manacled together with their own handcuffs and murdered by a band of auto thieves they apparently caught red-handed.

The revolvers and flashlight were rushed to the State Crime Laboratory at Atlanta, some 25 miles away, and authorities ran the tests.

Ragsdale declined to elaborate on the laboratory findings.

FIRST BREAK

Their discovery was considered the first real break in the case which is being investigated by the FBI, state authorities and local law enforcement officers.

Two of the slain officers were buried yesterday. The services were for Ralph K. Davis, 49, and Marvin Jesse Gravitt, 52. The funeral for the third officer, Jerry R. Everett, 23, was scheduled for today.

Authorities said that approximately 300 persons, many with records of car theft, have been questioned in the investigation of the triple slayings.

The three officers had been shot a total of 15 times, with most of the shots in the back of the head.

Authorities believe the executions were the work of at least three men and that the shots may have been fired simultaneously.

Man Killed in Fire

YPSILANTI (AP) — Alfred Duckett, 72, died Saturday in a fire at his home here. Fire Department officials said the blaze apparently was set off by an electric hot plate, which ignited a wooden partition. Duckett was found dead in his bed.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Two Killed as Truck Slams Bus

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A jack-knifing chemical tank truck slammed into a Greyhound bus in nearby East Pittsburgh Sunday killing two women and injuring at least 20 other persons.

Police Chief Vince Berkeleick said the truck either skidded or its brakes locked on the rain-slick approach to Westinghouse Memorial Bridge, which carries Route 30 over a valley about 10 miles east of the city.

PATH OF BUS

Its empty tank swung across the roadway into the path of the consuming bus. It ripped open the front left side of the bus over a five-seat area.

Killed were Julia Salada, 59, of Washington, D.C. and Mrs. Chester Henry, 75, of Suburban Penn Hills. Mrs. Henry was en route to Washington for a convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution as were many of the other 31 passengers.

SERIOUS CONDITION

Seventeen persons were detained at hospitals. Fourteen were examined or treated for minor injuries and released.

The bus driver, Samuel Weist of suburban Gleneshaw was admitted to a hospital in serious condition.

2 Turk Shepherds Killed on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Two Turkish Cypriot shepherds were killed today by Greek Cypriot National Guardsmen between the Greek village of Voumo and the Turkish village of Hamid Man-dra, four miles north of Nicosia.

The Greek Cypriot police claimed "three Turkish gunmen hiding in a flock of sheep started firing at security forces" who returned the fire. Canadian troops of the United Nations force rushed to the scene to prevent the trouble spreading. Turkish Cypriot sources in Nicosia said the only information they had was that two shepherds had been killed by "Greek terrorists."

An astronaut's aluminized nylon and rubber space suit weighs about 20 pounds and consists of more than 1,600 parts.

Mrs. Delbert Parks of East Tennyson Avenue, professionally known as Vera Parks, is a good example of why there's a week set aside to honor secretaries. Mrs. Parks has worked for the Pontiac Police Department since 1957 and is presently a stenographer in the Records Bureau under Capt. George T. Scott and Sgt. Frederick Wirth. Local secretaries will observe Secretaries' Day on Wednesday.

Mary Hubarth's bright smile is one reason why "better secretaries mean better business," this year's theme for Secretaries Week. Miss Hubarth of Warren Drive is secretary to J. C. Schaeffer of the Pontiac branch, National Cash Register Co. A veteran of five years, she currently prepares equipment for and assists at shows and demonstrations and helps with personnel training.

Girl Too Fresh for Frosh

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a college freshman. While I was home for Easter vacation, my mother asked me to take out the 17-year-old daughter of some friends who had just moved to our town.

She told me the girl had a great personality and was real sharp. Not having any special girl, I thought, "Why not?"

ABBY

Well, I took this girl out and I practically had to beat her off. She didn't want to go anywhere. All she wanted to do was park.

She told me a couple of jokes that were dirtier than those I would tell a fellow. She was so fast I honestly couldn't control her.

I never took her out again. My mother asked me what was wrong with her and I said, "Nothing. I have studying to do."

I know when I get home this summer, I'll have this girl shoved at me again. I can't tell my parents what kind of girl she is.

What excuse can I use? Her folks and mine are a constant foursome.

AAUW Branch to Hear Judge

Judge Phillip Pratt will discuss "A View From the Bench—The Family in the Courts" at today's meeting of the Pontiac Branch, American Association of University Women.

One of seven circuit court judges for Oakland County, Judge Pratt was assistant prosecutor of OC prior to his appointment.

Delegates attending the AAUW convention in Indianapolis next weekend include Mrs. Ervin Bartel, Mrs. Philip Lockhart, Mrs. Donald McMillen from the Pontiac branch and Mrs. Carmel Odell of the Union Lake branch.

NEW OFFICERS

The AAUW officers for 1964-65 include: Mrs. Lockhart, president; Mrs. Daniel Carmichael, first vice president and Mrs. Ray Allen, recording secretary.

Final plans are being made for the used book sale at the Pontiac Mall April 30, May 1 and 2. Proceeds will go to the fellowship fund of AAUW.

Members are accepting book donations and anyone caring to contribute books may contact Mrs. William Moorhouse.

Study group meetings scheduled for the future include: Foreign culture and cuisine, April 28. Costesses for a French dinner will be Mrs. Lockhart, Mrs. Francis McDowell and Mrs. Donald LaVire.

Arts and crafts, May 12,

Mrs. LaVire will be hostess for a meeting on silk screening.

Books of our times, May 14; Cora Krueger will speak on the Bible and Mrs. George Chas will be hostess.

Social chairman for the evening meeting in the community services building is Mrs. Carmichael.

She is being assisted by Maible Double, Mary Gibbs, Mrs. M. M. Jones, Hester Polk, Mrs. Thomas Reese, Olga Silvert, Mrs. Olin Thomas, Mrs. Stephen Velkoff and Dorcas Wolf.

Pontiac Couple Weds

At home on Ogemaw Road are the Brian Gordon Woolcocks (Vicki Sue McLaughlin) who chose Bethany Baptist Church for their Saturday wedding and reception.

The former Vicki Sue McLaughlin is the daughter of the Charles J. McLaughlins and her husband's parents are the H. G. Woolcocks. All are of Mohawk Road.

Dr. Emil Kontz performed the candlelight ceremony.

FLOWER CASCADE
A cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and ivy complemented the bride's gown of white silk organza over peau de soie. Lace motifs accented the bodice and bell skirt, with detachable train.

Her silk illusion veil fell from a pearl tiara.

Mary Lou McLaughlin was her sister's maid of honor. Attending their former college roommate as bridesmaids were Helen Hicks, Royal Oak, Patricia Swift and Kay Kunitser both of Saginaw, along with the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Glenn Nichols.

Ronald Newman was best man. Seating some 300 guests were Glenn Nichols, Gerald Powers, Robert Doering, Mt. Pleasant, and Larry Hummel, Rochester.

Don't Ask Switch of Choice Seat

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: A friend and I took a one-day bus tour. The seats were not reserved.

When we arrived there were no double seats left so we took two single seats, one behind the other. When we made our first rest stop, I asked the man who was seated next to me (he was alone) if he would mind changing seats with my friend so that we could sit together.

I overheard one of the women on the bus remark that I had a lot of nerve asking him to give up his seat (which incidentally was a window one, that makes a difference). Will you please tell me if such a request was out of order?

A: The window seat does make all the difference, and you should not have asked him to give up a choice seat that he had a right to as a reward for boarding the bus early.

Q: When invited to dinner in someone's house, may a guest ask the hostess for mustard or catsup?

I like these condiments on certain meats. My wife says it is not good manners to ask the hostess for anything that is not on the table.

A: At a formal dinner or when dining with acquaintances, you should not ask the hostess for these condiments.

But when dining informally with intimate friends, it would be all right to ask the hostess if she has any mustard, or catsup.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Jr. Musicians Hear Pianists

James Kuhlman of Herbell Drive was host to the Pontiac Junior Musicians Saturday afternoon. Members responded to roll call by naming notes and symbols.

Seven members presented a program of piano solos and studies.

Debbie Leopold was welcomed as a new member.

The May 16 meeting will be in the home of Susie Garfield on Mohawk Road.

See Degrees Exemplified at Amaranth Meeting

Esther Court No. 13, Order of the Amaranth, marked its 13th birthday at a dinner meeting, Friday in Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Bert Weddle gave the invocation and Mrs. Robert Hulett welcomed the assembly.

The degrees were exemplified by past officers, Mrs. L. E. Lacy and William Pfahler.

Assisting them were Mrs. Pfahler, Mrs. Alexander McVean, the Pierre Shavers, the Roy Wiltons, Mrs. J. C. Norton, Mrs. E. A. Pearson, and Mrs. John Balch.

Also helping were Mrs. Francis Huot, Lansing; Allan Schmidt, Dennis Fisher, Albert Kugler, Marquis Sartell, Ira Inwood; Mrs. Harvey Whetzel, Mrs. Lloyd Watt, Oxford, and Mrs. Jodie Spence of Detroit.

Mrs. James Barnes received the degrees of the order.

Women

Vicki Sue McLaughlin and Brian Gordon Woolcock were wed Saturday in Bethany Baptist Church. Their parents are the Charles J. McLaughlins and the H. G. Woolcocks, all of Mohawk Road.

SONIE ANN BOSWORTH

Marriage Changes Parent-Child Status

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Apron strings don't untie automatically just because the children are grown and gone to shape their own lives.

Parents hold on, sometimes unconsciously, by using the checkbook as a weapon, by outright domination, by gifts that obligate, by use of illness as an excuse for not letting go.

And, there are also the self-sacrificing parents who proclaim "I saved and struggled and gave up my life for them and now they don't even have time for me."

NONSENSE

Nonsense to that self-sacrificial role, says a new publication on parent-child relationships. "Few parents truly struggle and give up their lives for their children. A parent gives out of love, duty or custom. He gives only that which he wants to give and for the satisfaction he derives from it."

The relationship of friendship between the two generations is discussed in "Young Adults and Their Parents," published by the Public Affairs Committee.

The committee is a non-profit education organization founded in 1935. Writer of the work is Harry Mill of the National Association for Mental Health.

"A parent who truly wants to hold a child close to him can best do so by setting him free, by letting him know there are no debts, no duties, no obligations other than to be a decent, honest human being, making his way in the world with dignity, integrity, and self-respect, and respect and consideration for others," says Mill.

LETTING GO

When should the letting go begin? Mill says by the time the average person is 18 or 19 he or she is ready to live his own life.

The author says parent-child relationships are two-way streets.

"A child becomes a man," he says, "when he is able to stop taking and start giving."

"Without giving in to the parent's every wish, there need still not be a pitched battle over every suggestion." He advocates greater understanding, tolerance and flexibility as the road to acceptance and love. But no matter what the demands and social pressures on young families today, he adds, there is no excuse for neglect of parents.

Afternoon Ceremony for Paul Carrigers

The Paul David Carrigers (Corinne Eliza Small) who chose the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church for their Saturday wedding and reception are honeymooning in Williamsburg, Va.

Their parents are the Theodore F. Smalls of Rowley Drive and the Allen R. Carrigers of Sylvan Lake. Alencon lace motifs enhanced the bride's gown of white slipper satin styled with bateau neckline and Watteau train. A satin rose held her silk illusion veil.

GIFT PENDANT

The bridegroom's pearl and diamond gift pendant, and a French streamered bouquet of white carnations, roses and Stephanotis completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Glennis McKay was honor matron and only attendant.

On the esquire side were Robert E. Brown, best man, and Orrin P. Shoemaker of Romeo who acted as the groom's best man. Rev. Dennis G. Dusek performed the double-ring candle-light ceremony.

Mr. Carriger, who attends Oakland University, and his bride, will reside in Pontiac.

MRS. R. E. MAPLEY

Miss Jilbert, Mr. Mapley Say Vows

After exchanging vows Saturday in the First Methodist Church, the Ronald Edward Mapleys (Marion Patricia Jilbert) left for a honeymoon trip to New York City.

Their parents are the James A. Jilberts of Markle Avenue and the Francis E. Mapleys of Sylvan Lake.

The bride's gown of white silk organza and tulle over tulle featured a French lace bodice studded with over 2,500 seed pearls. A crown of pearls and cut crystals caught her illusion veil.

WHITE ROSEBUDS

She carried white rosebuds, feathered carnations and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Joseph Carter of Davidsburg was honor matron along with bridesmaids Mrs. Edward Smith, and Barbara Everett. Lori Murphy was flower girl and James Jilbert, ringbearer.

Best man was Robert Murphy. Charles Hartley and Gordon Mapley, ushered. A reception in the church parlors followed the mid-afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. Carl Adams.

Mr. Mapley is a senior at Oakland University and a Pontiac Press scholarship student.

Greener Grass

Meeting Tuesday

Mrs. John Waterbury, David K Drive, will be hostess Tuesday for the Professional Homemakers Extension Study group. Election of officers and a white elephant sale will highlight the 6 p.m. meeting.

White silk bombazine and Chantilly lace fashioned a gown for Mary Jane Willard who became Mrs. Gary O. Hayward, Saturday, in the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

The bouffant skirt was styled with lace-edged tiers which cascaded into a chapel sweep. Her illusion veil was capped by a jeweled lace headpiece. White orchids centered her bouquet of cascading white carnations.

Nancy Willard attended her sister as bridesmaid. They are the daughters of the Franklin Willards of East Beverly Avenue. Susan Sparks was maid of honor.

Albert Hayward stood as best man for his brother with William and Roger Hayward seating the guests. They are the sons of the Orville Haywards of First Avenue.

The couple left for northern Michigan after the church reception. They will reside in Pontiac.

White orchids centered her bouquet of white carnations and Stephanotis.

With Mrs. Roland H. Zilka, her sister's honor matron, were Mrs. Adrian E. Gilboe, Cynthia Overstreet and Jerry Dean who were bridesmaids.

Flower-girls Wendy Ann Zilka and Brooke Mittleford are nieces of the bride couple who will spend a week in Miami before returning to his home on Knollywood Avenue.

With best man Darrell Duncan, were the ushers James Rice, William Black and William LaFay.

Parents of the couple are the junior James Donaldsons of Preston Avenue and Rev. and Mrs. James M. Johnson of South Pine Grove Avenue.

Rev. Chalmer Mastin who officiated, was assisted by the bridegroom's father.

3 Ships to Meet in Mediterranean

Navy Will Form All-Nuclear Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, the Navy is about to turn all U.S. nuclear-powered surface warships into a single carrier task group, it was learned today.

No other nation, so far as is known, is capable of sending as much an all-atomic naval striking force.

HEAD FOR MEDITERRANEAN

The Navy told the Associated Press, in response to questions, that the guided missile cruiser Long Beach and the frigate Bainbridge will head for the Mediterranean late this month.

Once in the Mediterranean, these two atomic-propelled warships will join the 85,000 ton carrier Enterprise, already with the U.S. 6th Fleet in these waters.

Together, these three vessels represent a construction cost of nearly $1 billion. Operating in the relatively restricted Mediterranean probably won't permit a full test of the capabilities of a carrier task force run entirely on atomic power.

LONG ENDURANCE

These features are great speed over great distances, and very long endurance because nuclear ships are free of refueling vessels and shore bases.

Certain Navy leaders would like to put an all-atomic task group through its paces in the wide expanses of the Pacific or the Indian Ocean.

The 14,200-ton Long Beach is at Portsmouth, Va., and the Bainbridge is at Charleston, S.C. The Navy said the 7,000-ton Bainbridge and the Enterprise have teamed up before, and so have the Enterprise and the Long Beach, "but never all three together."

The only other U.S. nuclear surface warship under construction is the frigate Truxtun, which is to be launched in October.

The Navy has submitted strong arguments for construction of more atomic warships, but so far the high cost has stood in the way.

The first three American nuclear warships were completed after their costs spiraled. The Enterprise cost $474 million, the Long Beach nearly $330 million and the Bainbridge more than $160 million.

HIGH PRICES

Part of these high prices were attributable to the three ships being the first of their kind under atomic power.

However, there have been significant advances in atomic ship technology promising smaller, more powerful nuclear engines with longer-lived atomic fuel.

Maple Leafs Even Series With 4-2 Win

Red Wings Move to Toronto for 5th Game of Playoffs

By JERE CRAIG
DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings depart for Toronto today with coach Sid Abel vowing no changes following the 4-2 Olympia Stadium defeat Saturday that ended the Stanley Cup final series at 2-2.

The comment very likely could apply to the entire unpredictable series which has seen the favorite's role move back and forth almost after each period of play.

The Maple Leafs now bear the mantle of probable cup champions but another strong showing by Detroit on the foreign ice would change the picture again.

"We've played well at Toronto before and there's no reason why we can't do it, again," Abel commented in the Detroit dressing room following his club's defeat Saturday.

Indeed, the general feeling was the Red Wings outskated Toronto in splitting the first two finals games at Toronto. They didn't continue the pressure at home, however.

Thursday's win came on a last minute goal by Alex Delvecchio — the only third period score by Detroit in the finals — after the Maple Leafs had overcame a two-goal deficit.

Toronto came right back Saturday night with a strong first period and the Red Wings were fortunate to trail only 1-0 entering the second session.

The third line — Bruce MacGregor, Andre Pronovost and Pit Martin and Eddie Joyal (who split ice time) — overcame their first period ineffective-ness to spark a two-goal effort in the second 20 minutes.

MacGregor scored first on a Joyal pass; and later Gord Howe beat Toronto goalie Johnny Bower in goal. Dave Keon's second score tied it for the visitors, however.

Then the Maple Leafs came on strong in the third period, although they didn't take charge until the final 10 minutes of play.

Larry Jeffrey somehow missed an open corner of the net on a slick pass from Norm Ullman with the score still tied, 2-2. This was the play Abel most lamented afterwards.

"I thought Jeffrey had scored," the coach said. "If he had, it would have taken the steam out of them like (Andy) Bathgate's did to us."

BREAKAWAY GOAL
The Leafs' late season acquisition from the New York Rangers best Terry Sawchuk with a breakaway shot at 10:55 just inside the upper right-hand corner of the goal.

In the closing minutes Detroit had five forwards on the ice in an effort to force an overtime period, but Toronto's Ron Stewart fared Bob Pulford on a two-man break.

Sawchuk managed to block Pulford's close in shot and Stewart was ridden off the rebound; but no one checked Frank Mahovlich and the "Big

M" lifted the loose puck over the sprawled netminder for the clinching score.

The Maple Leafs held a definite shot advantage throughout the game and finished with a 35-27 margin.

Now the series is a best-of-three affair with two games in Toronto, if necessary. Following tomorrow's fifth game at Maple Leaf Garden, the teams return to Olympia Thursday night.

The seventh game would be Saturday night.

Tigers Salvage Split by 'Wickershaming' Minnesota

New Hurler Continues Twins Hex

DETROIT (AP)—Dave Wickersham doesn't know why he is able to beat the powerful Minnesota Twins with such regularity.

But as long as he keeps beating them, the tall Detroit pitcher doesn't care what his secret is.

Wickersham set the Twins down on four hits as Detroit salvaged the second game of the doubleheader Sunday, 3-1. He became the first Tiger pitcher to complete a game this season.

The Twins blasted 18 hits, including a pair of two-run homers by Harmon Killebrew, in racing to a 12-3 triumph in the opener.

Wickersham's victory was his eighth in 11 decisions against Minnesota. Ed Rakow, who came to the Tigers along with Wickersham in the trade with Kansas City, has beaten the Twins four times. But no other pitcher on the Detroit staff has recorded more than three victories over them.

George Thomas, who hit a pinch-homer in the first game, played centerfield in the nightcap.

He hit another home run in the fifth inning and sent Willie Horton home with a sacrifice fly in the seventh. The other Detroit run scored on a balk by Minnesota starter Jim Roland.

Thomas got his chance to start when Don Demeter was hit on the right ankle by a foul ball in the first game. An X-ray showed there was no bone damage and Demeter should be able to play when the Tigers open their longest road trip of the season in Los Angeles Tuesday night.

Dressen said, however, that he may rest Demeter anyway and play Billy Branton in the opener.

FREEMAN OUT

Bill Freeman reported Sunday with a swollen right hand. He said he banged the hand while sliding into second base Saturday. He thought nothing of it until it started to swell Saturday night. He may be ready for action Tuesday.

Wickersham struck out nine and walked six in his first outing as a Tiger. He was especially pleased that he was able to retire Twins' third baseman Rich Rollins.

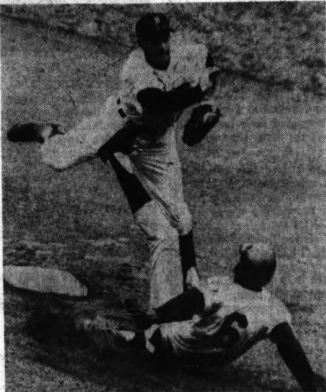

"He always gave me fits," Wickersham said. Rollins grounded out twice and popped up twice before reaching base in the ninth on an error by Dick McAuliffe. It was the second error of the inning for the Tigers and put Wickersham in a jam. He got rookie Tony Oliva on a fly to tie to end the game.

While Dressen got a good look at one pitcher in the second game, he used the first to test his bullpen after the Twins got six hits and three runs off Phil Regan in the first three innings.

Ace at Bald Mountain

Always one of the first courses to report a hole in one, Bald Mountain chalked up its first grounded out yesterday when Joe Hayes of Royal Oak aces the 155 yard 8th hole with a 5-iron.

Last year, Hayes scored a hole in one at Red Run.

JUST KICKING AROUND — Detroit shortstop Dick McAuliffe gives a kick while getting a throw away from first base too late to complete a double play in the first inning of the opening game of a doubleheader with Minnesota yesterday at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. Doing some kicking of his own is Twins' outfielder Tony Oliva who was forced out at second base. Twins won the opener, 12-3, but Tigers bounced back to take the nightcap, 3-1.

Yankees' Berra Finally Gets Taste of Victory

By The Associated Press
Rookie Manager Yogi Berra finally tasted the fruits of victory as the New York Yankees won their first game of the season Sunday after three straight extra inning defeats.

A fellow with an entirely different taste in his mouth today must be Chuck Hinton, brilliant but erratic Washington outfielder and the goat of a 5-1 defeat by Kansas City.

fly with one out and the bases headed for the dugout, thinking it was the third out. Nelson Matthews scored from third and Ed Charles from second as Hinton trotted towards the dugout, ball in hand.

Manager Gil Hodges, who frowns on sleeping on the ball field, replaced Hinton in left field with Ken Hunt in the next inning.

FIRST LOSS

The Yankees handed Baltimore its first defeat in five games, 5-3, but the Orioles retained their hold on first place as the second place Minnesota Twins split a doubleheader with Detroit.

The Chicago White Sox blanked Boston 6-0. A scheduled doubleheader between Los Angeles and the Indians in Cleveland was postponed because of rain.

Sunday's defeat was the fourth in six games for the Senators but it is doubtful any of the previous losses ranked Hodges more. He had vowed the Senators would cut down their mental mistakes.

Hinton can comfort himself in the knowledge that Joe DiMaggio was once guilty of a similar bender. In a game with Detroit, Joe caught a fly ball and, thinking it was the third out, trotted toward the Yankee dugout. It was the second out and George Kell scored from second.

TWO-HITTER

Orlando Pena permitted only two hits—triples to Don Blasingame and Ed Brinkman—in the rain-shortened first game of a scheduled doubleheader, Kansas City's first victory of the season.

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — Michigan State's AAU long distance swimming champion Edward Glick and Douglas Webster of Royal Oak finished 1:2 Sunday in the Barbados water marathon. Glick, of Huntington, Ind., covered the 3 1/2 miles in 1 hour, 20 minutes. Webster, a Kimball high school student, finished two minutes behind.

Souchak 18th Champ of PGA Tourney Trail

HOUSTON (AP) — The PGA golf tour has its 18th champion in as many tournaments and has a new leading money winner for 1964.

Big Mike Souchak won $7,500 and his second Houston Classic championship Sunday and Jack Nicklaus, with $4,000 as runner-up, took over first place in the 1964 money race from the idle Arnold Palmer.

Souchak's one-stroke decision with a 71-66-66-70—278—six under par—broke his own victory drought that extended back to the Greensboro Open in 1961.

Nicklaus, in his third near miss at Houston in as many years, bogeyed the 17th hole of the final round to miss a tie, but his second-place earnings for his 76-66-66-71—279 boosted his 1964 tournament income to $34,150, compared to Palmer's $33,488.25.

Souchak and Nicklaus began the final round on the 7,233-yard par-71 Sharpshooters Country Club course with identical 208s. The deadlock was not broken with finality until Nicklaus two-putted from 18 feet for a bogey four on the 195-yard, par 3 17th hole.

Nicklaus went eight-under-par with birdies on three of the first four holes but they were the only birdies he could collect on the final round. He bogeyed the fifth and eighth holes to make the turn only one stroke ahead of a new contender — Chi Chi Rodriguez — and two in front of Souchak, who had lost strokes for Nos. 7 and 9.

Rodriguez, who had started the day four strokes off the pace, birdied the 10th to tie Nicklaus for the lead. Souchak also birdied the 570-yard par 5 hole and was only one stroke behind.

Souchak then pulled even with Nicklaus with what he called "a tough seven-foot putt" for a birdie four on the 575-yard 15th. Rodriguez meanwhile had dropped out of contention by losing strokes at Nos. 13 and 15.

Giant Outfielder Has Best Start

Mays Hits 6th Homer, 13th RBI

By The Associated Press
Willie Mays never sized so much even in his stickball days on the steaming streets of New York.

The San Francisco slugger socked his sixth home run in six games Sunday and drove in three runs for a total of 13 in the Giants' 13-4 romp over Cincinnati. His three hits increased his batting average to .391.

The skyrocketing start is the best for the 32-year-old center-fielder since he joined the Giants in 1951, the year he also started playing stickball with the kids in Harlem.

TOTAL BASES

Mays' slugging percentage shows how phenomenal his performance in the first week of the season has been. With 27 total bases—he has three singles to go with his home runs—in 23 times at bat, his slugging mark is 1.174. Compare this with Mays' career percentage of .588, the all-time high in the National League.

Mays, in fact, has a better record than the Los Angeles Dodgers as a team. The world champions have hit four homers and have scored 13 runs in compiling their worst start since arriving in Los Angeles in 1958.

The Dodgers dropped their fifth straight game Sunday, losing 3-2 to Milwaukee in 12 innings. Elsewhere in the league the New York Mets stopped Pittsburgh 6-0 for their worst start after four defeats, Philadelphia trounced Chicago 8-1 behind the hitting of rookie Richie Allen and St. Louis whipped Houston 6-1 as Bob Gibson hurled a four-hitter.

The Dodgers, who haven't won since Sandy Koufax beat St. Louis in the opener, lost when Felipe Alou singled and Ed Mathews doubled him home in the 12th. Don Drysdale pitched perfect ball until the sixth and kept the Braves hitless through 6 1-3 innings. At that point Hank Aaron ignited a two-run rally with a double.

LAST PLACE

Los Angeles, now in the cellar, has scored only two runs in the last 23 innings.

Even the Mets are ahead of the Dodgers. They got there mainly through the pitching of Al Jackson, who scattered six hits against the Pirates. Ron Hunt and Rod Kanehl each drove across two runs as the Mets enjoyed their latest hitting of the young season.

Allen blasted two solo home runs against the Cubs, bringing his total to three. He also batted in a run with a single as he raised his average to .429. Phillies' starter Dennis Bennett allowed 12 hits but got tight each time Chicago threatened. The victory was the fourth in five games for the Phils.

MSU 9 Trims Chips Twice

By The Associated Press

Superior pitching carried Michigan State to a pair of victories over Central Michigan Saturday and pushed the Spartans' baseball record to 12 wins in 15 starts.

Rain postponed Michigan's scheduled doubleheader against Eastern Michigan at Ann Arbor, but MIAA teams and independents got their links in despite cloudy skies and high winds.

The Spartans' Jack Krasner outduelled the Chippewas' Doug VanderWall 1-0 in the opener. State won the nightcap 5-1 behind John Ellwood's four-hitter. Joe Bosworth fired a one-hitter as Hope blanked Albion 1-0; Calvin shut out Olivet in a twin bill by scores of 8-0 and 3-0; Adrian took a doubleheader from Kalamazoo 7-0 and 2-1; and Hillsdale split a non-league twillbill with Ferris State. The Dales won the opener 7-2 and lost the nightcap 6-4.

TWO-RUN HOMER

Michigan State won the opening at Mount Pleasant on an error by pitcher VanderWall. Dick Billings' two-run homer wrapped up the nightcap for the Spartans.

Hope's Bosworth turned in the best performance in the MIAA. He fanned 13 and didn't walk a man in the 10-inning affair. Lower Jay Colburn of Albion fanned 12 on a seven-hitter. Hope won on Clare Van Wier's two-out, run-scoring double in the 10th.

The victory gave Hope a 2-1 league record, and the upper hand in this year's championship race. Hope and Albion, now 1-2, shared the MIAA crown last year.

Calvin boosted its MIAA mark to 2-1 behind shutout pitching from Dan Veldman and Jim Fredericks. Veldman had a three-hitter in the opener, and Fredericks held Olivet to one hit in the second game. Bill Greengood sparked the Calvin attack with four hits in eight trips for the day. Olivet is now 1-3.

HAPPY RUT

Pitchers Chris Gotshall and Bill Reel each tossed three hits in Adrian's double victory over Kalamazoo. Adrian's Dick Goodrich had three hits to back medley relay, Hugh Wilder, Carl Cascadden, Skip Ervin and Mike Landers finished second in 1:50.5, while another Pontiac team was 4th.

Northwest Aquatic Club of Detroit won the meet with 154½ points, while Pontiac Swim Club had 94½ and Birmingham's Maple Swim Club took third with 79 points.

Top performance was the 200 medley relay of boys 13-14 made up of Mike Staab, Frank Yedlin, John Mason and Steve Yedlin. The old record was broken by three seconds as the team came in at 1:55.

Pontiac also took 6th in this event.

Another first and sixth were won in the 12 and under boys division with Steve Ashmead, Bruce Featherstone, Jeff Bisanz and Dave Hardenberg winning in 2:00.4.

In boys 15-17 division of the medley relay, Hugh Wilder, Carl Cascadden, Skip Ervin and Mike Landers finished second in 1:50.5, while another Pontiac team was 4th.

GIRL EVENTS

Kathy and Linda Ebbert scored points for the Pontiac girls with 8th and 6th places in the breaststroke and butterfly and they also teamed with Lorraine King and Debbie Cort for a 6th in the medley relay.

For boys 8-under, Jim Daw was 6th, while Dave Hardenberg took second in the 11-12 group of the 50 freestyle.

Kalamazoo swimmer took three firsts in the boys 9-10 division in the 50 free, 50 backstroke and 50 breaststroke.

In the 13-14 year old division, John Mason won the 100 backstroke and was 2nd in the 100 freestyle in 55.6, while Steve Yedlin finished in a tie for third with Ron Miller of Fitzgerald.

Swimmers placed in the 15-17 age group were second in the 100 backstroke in 1:08.8 and 100 yard butterfly in 1:01.1.

A total of 22 swim clubs participated with more than 750 swimmers competing in all the day meet.

Carter Faces Test in ABC Masters

OAKLAND (AP)—Don Carter faced a do-or-die situation today in the American Bowling Congress masters match-play tournament. The great St. Louis pro was dropped into the loser's bracket of the masters by Bill Aziz, El Paso, Texas, Sunday.

Another loss would mean elimination for Carter.

Aziz pined up 897 pins for the four game block to 855 for Carter.

Lions Pick Talent Scout

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions have named former defensive end Gene Cronin as a player talent scout. Cronin, 30, is an eight year veteran of the National Football League. He was a Lions' draft choice in 1956 and played with Detroit four seasons before being sold to the Dallas Cowboys in 1960.

PRETTY WINNER — Barbara McAlister Talmage of Phoenix, Ariz., is all smiles after winning her second AAU crown in the National women's diving championships held at Pittsburgh, Pa. Barbara scored 383.3 while competing in Pittsburgh's Trees Pool to win the three-meter crown. She won the one-meter title last Thursday.

Miss deVarona Reigns as Queen of Swimmers

From Our News Wires

PITTSBURGH — If there are any doubts as to whether Donna deVarona is the queen of America's female swimmers, just check the results of the 1964 national AAU Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

The star of Coach George Haines' powerful Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club won the 200-yard and 400-yard individual medleys, the 400-yard butterfly and was runner-up by one-fifth of a second in the 100-yard butterfly.

If Miss deVarona is the queen then there are several princesses as can be noted by the fact that during the four-day meet last week American and championships records were set in each of the 14 swimming events.

This was the first time American marks were established in all of the events.

A member of the 1960 Olympic team and America's greatest swimming hope in the upcoming Games, Miss deVarona scored 26 points and also was a member of both winning relay teams in this year's meet. She will be 17 years old in the near future.

The average age of the approximately 250 entrants was 15½.

TEAM CHAMPION

The Santa Clara Club won the team championship for the third straight year with 130 points.

The Golden Lions Swim Club of Detroit was seventh with 12 points.

Mrs. Barbara Talmage of Phoenix, Ariz., won all three diving events—the one-meter, three-meter and platform.

Mike King of Pontiac, competing for the Ann Arbor Swim Club, was fifth in the three-meter event.

Cathy Ferguson of Los Angeles bettered the old mark of 1:02.1 in the 100-yard backstroke with a mark of 1:01.5.

Celts Picked in 2nd Game of Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — Alex Hannum, San Francisco Warrior coach, says his team will be much tougher tonight. The Celtics agree.

But Bill Russell and his Boston mates remain a 10-point favorite to make it two straight over Wilt Chamberlain and company in the best-of-seven final series of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Celtics beat San Francisco 108-96 Saturday night opening their bid for a sixth straight world title and seventh in eight years.

"We're tired and not aggressive in the opener. And remember, that was only the first of a seven game series.

Junior Editors Quiz on METEORS

QUESTION: What is the difference between a meteor and a meteorite?
ANSWER: We have all seen occasional long brilliant streaks in the night sky, as if a star had suddenly shot away from its secure position; they are often called "shooting stars."

Actually, these are true visitors from outer space, called "meteors," composed of metal or stone. Astronomers say that as many as 200 million enter the earth's atmosphere every day, pulled down by the force of gravity.

One may wonder why the earth's surface is not littered with meteors. It would be, and many of us would be killed by them, if it were not for the fortunate fact that these dangerous visitors become heated by the friction of the air in the atmosphere.

At first (upper right) they are hardly affected; then they get so hot they begin to glow and we see a rapidly moving light in the night sky.

Then the meteor becomes white hot and we see its light brilliantly. At last the heat breaks it up into small pieces which usually burn up before reaching the earth.

Occasionally, however, an extra large bit of a meteor may strike the earth before it is destroyed. There is an enormous crater in Arizona believed to have been caused in this way and a number of actual pieces have been preserved.

Such a piece, striking the earth, is called a "meteorite." FOR YOU TO DO: Keep your eyes open, at night, for the thrilling spectacle of a shooting star. Meteors are thought to be fragments of comets, but many are small — no larger than a grain of sand. The earth passes through clouds of such meteors every November.

Legendary Film Era

Silent Screen Star Recalls Past

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—She is a familiar sight as she hurries down the street, her corn-silk hair tucked under a large hat, her tiny frame wrapped in a bulky coat. She takes short steps in heels so high as to seem precarious, yet she moves with a dancer's grace.

Maie Murray is a legend of the early era of Hollywood's '20s, when stars lived above the crowd and married princes.

Six weeks ago police found her wandering in St. Louis. Friends brought her back to the apartment where she has lived for the past year and where she gave an interview.

Miss Murray remains a handsome woman, stylishly dressed with makeup expertly applied, her lips less bee-stung than in her heyday on the screen. That was during the period of silent films, although she made eight talkies, including one in 1951.

IN AND OUT

"But you don't have to keep making films to remain a star," she said. "You can go in and out."

Her most famous role was as "The Merry Widow" to John Gilbert's dashing prince in the 1925 version of the operetta classic. She remembers it fondly.

"It was silent, you know," she said, "but it didn't need words. The story just told itself, as the great pictures did in those days. There is talk of rereleasing it."

She still loves to dance, and she sometimes goes out with friends to the night spots in town. But she doesn't like what she sees. She told of a recent visit to a Sunset Strip spot that specializes in the wild Watusi and the Twist.

"SHOCKING"

"I am not sure about the morality of those places," she said. "I think the dances are shocking — and so lacking in grace and beauty. Ah, the waltz, the rumba, the tango — those are what I call the basic dances, the ones that are lovely to watch. I do so wish we could get back to them."

In 1926 she figured her worth at $3 million. Ten years later it was gone. She was asked if she had any regrets.

"No, none at all," she replied. "I spent a great deal of money, but I spent it well. I enjoyed every bit of it."

Foreign News Commentary

France Worried About Tourism

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

The French government is worried that sky-high prices may keep tourists, particularly Americans, away from France this summer. The high cost of tourism in France already has been attacked sharply in parliament and the French press.

Foreign tourist agencies reportedly are urging would-be travelers to save money by giving France a miss.

UNDER FIRE

The French Parliament also is expected to have considerable to say about President de Gaulle's go-it-alone foreign policies in this week's three-day foreign affairs debate.

Under particularly heavy fire are the huge sums de Gaulle is spending on foreign aid, especially in Africa. The large sums being spent on de Gaulle's independent nuclear program also are being criticized.

REDS TRY AGAIN

Western officials in Berlin expect the Communist East Germans to try again for direct negotiations with West Germany and the West Berlin government, by-passing the Western allies.

Successful agreements even on such minor points as sharing reconstruction work on a border bridge or issuing passes to West Berliners for trips east would be considered by the East Germans as progress toward international recognition.

TRADE TALKS

British businessmen are closely watching the outcome of the present round of Anglo-Soviet trade talks.

If these turn out successful, as is confidently predicted, British salesmen are expected to train their big guns on the Russian market and go all out for big business there. Especially attractive to the Russians would be the long-term credits the British are willing to give.

COMPETITION

Foreign businessmen are concerned over the steady inroads Japanese business is making in Singapore. These businessmen claim the Japanese are accepting terms which other competitors cannot afford and that non-Japanese investors may be forced to look for opportunities elsewhere.

NO PEACE

Federation of Malaysia leaders feel there is little hope for settlement of their quarrel with Indonesia so long as President Sukarno remains in power.

These officials say they are willing to go to the bargaining table with Sukarno but first they must be convinced such talks would be worthwhile.

One dramatic gesture on Sukarno's part would be an order from Sukarno to his guerrillas to withdraw from Malaysian Borneo. However, no such order is anticipated now.

According to an estimate by the World Health Organization, there are still 10 million cases of leprosy in existence over a globe.

Police Say Husband Shot Wife, Killed Self
SARANAC (AP)—Mrs. Marie

Jacobs, 20-year-old mother of two children, was reported in fair condition at Belling Hospital in Belling today from a gunshot wound reportedly inflicted by her husband.

Police said the husband, Jerome Jacobs, 25, shot his wife with a .22 caliber rifle in an argument Saturday night and then killed himself with the gun at their home here.

Griffin: Dunes Park Bill Likely to Die in House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said today there is no indication that the House Interior Committee will consider proposed legislation this year to create a Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in northwestern Michigan. The Senate last Dec. 22 passed a scaled-down version sponsored by Sens. Philip A. Hart and Pat McNamara, Michigan Democrats. This differs materially from the lakeshore bill introduced by Griffin.

Some time ago, Griffin said, he wrote Chairman Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., of the House Interior Committee urging that the committee hold hearings on the various Sleeping Bear Dunes proposals before it.

In addition, Griffin said, he had urged that a subcommittee visit the area on the edge of Lake Michigan during the past Easter season, but this did not materialize.

NOT LIKELY
"It is not likely that the committee will report out a bill without making an inspection of the area first," Griffin said. "Also, it does not look as though the administration has assigned a high priority to the Sleeping Bear Dunes. There is no indication that the committee will take the legislation up this year."

If the House does not act before Congress adjourns, the legislation would have to start anew next year because the Senate-passed bill would die.

Asked if he would reintroduce his bill next year if Congress fails to complete action this year, Griffin said he is not sure.

CLOUD OF UNCERTAINTY

"The state of Michigan, prior to 1961, had plans to expand its state parks," Griffin said. "I do not know how long the people in the area affected want to be under this cloud of uncertainty. Congress should try to resolve it this year. I would have to look over the situation if Congress does not complete it this year."

Sen. Hart said he has been pressing informally for House action "and I expect the bill to go through."

"I hope that the House committee will give a hearing to my bill and the Griffin bill as well," Hart said. "Everyone is agreed that this should be resolved in an orderly way. The sooner they resolve it the better."

The committee also has a bill before it by Rep. Neil Staeble, D-Mich., which is similar to the original Hart-McNamara proposal.

NATIONAL LAKESHORE

The Hart-McNamara bill originally called for a national lakeshore fronting on Lake Michigan to include some 77,000 acres. The Senate, however, cut this to approximately 47,000 acres, including 42,300 acres from the mainland and 5,300 acres on South Manitou Island. The Griffin bill would create a national park of about 37,000 much of the controversy over the proposal. Griffin's position, however, is that the Senate bill still contains serious defects.

Senate Leaders Hoping for First Test on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders are hoping for a first vote on the civil rights bill late this week.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager for the House-passed measure, wants a test on some of the 35 amendments on file.

SEVENTH WEEK

"We've got a sit-in in the Senate by the filibusters," he said in an interview as the Senate headed into a seventh week of debate. "We should ask them to help conduct business in the proper and responsible manner we want demonstrators to follow."

Humphrey said he expects some voting Friday or Saturday.

There is no sign, though, that the 19 Southern senators opposed to the bill are ready to let up on their verbal protests against it.

For its 35th consecutive session on civil rights, the Senate was called in two hours early and expected to meet into the night, as was the case last week.

MARATHON SESSIONS

Humphrey hinted at round-the-clock sessions last week but made no advance effort to extend hours today. Both Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen have said they don't favor marathon sessions.

So far, debate has been at a monotonous pace most days with a cheerful exchange of courtesies between opposing camps.

For example, Mississippi's two senators, Democrats John Stennis and James O. Eastland, alone were able to dispose of the Friday and Saturday sessions.

CONSENT TO YIELD

Technically, Stennis held the floor for more than 12 hours Friday simply by getting unanimous consent to yield to 50 other senators for speeches of varying lengths. Quorum calls occupied part of the time.

Eastland used the same tactics for a session of slightly more than five hours Saturday. Most of Saturday fewer than six senators were on hand as Eastland read a long speech. Learning at times on a stand on his desk, he talked slowly in tones so soft it was difficult to hear him from the galleries.

NUMEROUS AMENDMENTS
Outside the chamber, Humphrey and other Senate supporters of the bill conferred at length with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and a group of Justice Department and White House aides about the numerous amendments on file.

Food Poisoning Traced to Tomato Grafting

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Health officials have traced an outbreak of food poisoning in Hawkins County, Tenn., to the grafting of tomato plants to Jimson weed.

The Atlanta Communicable Disease Center said a Tennessee tomato grower attempted the grafting to produce a larger tomato more resistant to cold. It said all parts of the weed are poisonous.

For a while, rumors flew that Kennedy might favor dropping the fair employment opportunity section of the bill if this could quicken Senate passage.

An aide of the attorney general later reported Kennedy supported the antidiscrimination job section inserted months ago in the House.

While the Senate wrestles with civil rights, House leaders plan to seek passage Tuesday or Wednesday of a bill providing more than $46 billion in annual funds for the Defense Department.

mittee will begin hearings Wednesday on 148 resolutions which propose a constitutional amendment to legalize prayers and Bible reading in schools.

It doesn't matter where the king is or what happens after the king wins. A heart lead automatically gives declarer a heart trick, a diamond or club allows him to ruff in one hand and discard from the other.

The American Bridge Teachers Assn. Quarterly really has a lot of instructive hands in it. There is one contributed by Art Platt of Chicago. Art has been a top bridge player for at least 25 years and has just started teaching the game. JACOBY South arrives at reasonable your spouse contract. West opens the queen of clubs.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You still hold the same hand. West passes his partner's diamond opening and your partner bids one spade. What do you do?

At this point many players would try the diamond finesse. East would win the trick with the king and return the suit.

Eventually declarer would have to lead hearts and assuming the defenders didn't drop

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

4-20 J. R. WILLIAMS

Death Ends Life Wish

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—While an audience of 800 applauded, Joseph Perko, 69, received a plaque last night honoring him for 50 years as a Mummer.

"Thank God I was here to receive it," said Perko, a founder of one of the groups of Mummers, which traditionally salute New Year's Day with a colorful parade in Philadelphia. "I hope I will be here for 50 more years."

Then Perko collapsed and died, apparently of a heart attack.

Sunday Flight Ends in Death

CAMAS, Wash. (AP)—A plane, piloted by a young father who was taking his four children and one of their friends for a plane ride, crashed yesterday, killing all six.

The victims were Lee Roggenkamp, 28, Camas, his two daughters, Robbie, 4, and Ronnie, 8; two sons, Rusty, 7, and Ryan, 2, and a neighbor girl, Jean Marie Vandenberghe, 8.

The single-engine aircraft circled the Roggenkamp home and then went behind a hill where it crashed.

Mrs. Roggenkamp found out about the accident when a neighbor boy came to use her telephone to report the crash. The Roggenkamps have the only telephone in the rural neighborhood.

Witnesses said Roggenkamp may have been attempting to land on a rough airstrip he had hacked out of the brush near his home.

He was the owner of the plane, a four-place Stinson, and had been flying for about a year.

UAW Presents $1-Million Offer to Help the Poor

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union offers to give $1 million to a public program to help poor people.

The union, proposing a cooperative movement among citizens groups, the church, labor, industry, the farmer, veterans, and civil rights groups, made its offer in calling for a national conference on poverty.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he has sent a letter to hundreds of prominent Americans asking if they would be willing to take part in such a conference with a view to developing a "national citizens crusade against poverty."

Reuther said that in addition to the $1 million offer, the UAW would donate $100,000 to get the drive started.

Boycott Urged in Jacksonville

Negroes Told to Use Economic Powers

By United Press International
Negroes at Jacksonville, Fla., were urged yesterday to use economic power as a means to ward ending segregation.

"Wear rags, but wear your rags in dignity," integration leader Rutledge Pearson told a church rally. "Buy only food and medicine... and as little food as possible."

Rutledge, one of 12 Negroes to resign over the weekend from Jacksonville's biracial committee that was set up to help end racial tension following bloody violence of three weeks ago, warned that a "boycott of rags" could break out in Jacksonville at any moment.

Dr. Martin Luther King, one of the top integration leaders in the South, called Jacksonville "a real problem" as he flew across the state at Tallahassee.

He said new efforts will be made to end segregation in Florida this summer.

Elsewhere:
Cleveland, Ohio: Civil rights leaders called today about 75,000 Negro children to boycott schools in protest against alleged de facto segregation.

VOTERS REGISTERED
Savannah, Ga.: More than 3,000 voters registered Sunday in an unprecedented Sunday drive. There was no breakdown between whites and Negroes but integration leader Hosea Williams said the number of Negroes registered to vote in the county has climbed from less than 10,000 to more than 17,000 in the last six months.

Richmond, Va.: A spokesman for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Sunday the Justice Department may be asked to continue the Prince Edward, Va., free schools for another year.

Queen Elizabeth Names New Son Prince Edward

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II named her infant son Prince Edward, Buckingham Palace said he would be known as Prince Edward.

Edward is the name of the queen's uncle, the Duke of Windsor. The name of the prince's mother would not be discussed whether the baby had been named for the former King Edward VIII.

Anthony is the name of the queen's brother-in-law, Anthony Armstrong-Jones, Lord Snowdon. The baby was previously named Louis for Lord Mountbatten, Prince Philip's uncle, who raised him.

The baby was born March 10.

Royalty Won't Attend Wedding

Rift Grows Wider Over Princess Irene's Romance

PARIS (AP) — Dutch Queen Juliana has washed her hands of the long-shot pretender to the throne of Spain.

The family of the bridegroom-to-be, Prince Carlos of Bourbon-Parma, announced in Paris

Sunday that the couple would marry in a Roman Catholic ceremony in the Italian capital on April 2.

The site of the wedding has been a center of contention. The Bourbon-Parma reportedly wanted a glittering ceremony in the Netherlands with a full-dress turnout of European royalty. The Dutch government refused to sanction anything that might indicate involvement in the question of royal succession in Spain.

Complaining that the Dutch royal family was told of the arrangements just before the newspapers got the news, the queen's secretary announced in the Hague that Juliana and Prince Bernhard would not attend.

A spokesman for the Bourbon-Parma family admitted that relations between the two families were severely strained. He blamed the Dutch government.

POLITICAL CIRCLES

"We regret that certain political circles which have not succeeded in breaking the engagement have at least managed to lessen the good understanding between the two royal families which separates them from the time being, to their great regret," the spokesman said.

"There is a disagreement between the Queen of Holland and Princess Irene, but there has never been any disagreement between mother and daughter. In Holland, the crown, the queen and the government are linked and the sovereign cannot go against the government without raising a grave problem."

The Dutch government is determined to prevent any linking of Queen Juliana to Prince Carlos' campaign for the Spanish throne.

The wedding will be held at the Basilica of St. Mary Major, a pontifical basilica.

PAPAL DELEGATE

"The nuptial benediction will be given in the name of His Holiness Pope Paul VI by His Eminence Paul Cardinal Gobel, specially delegated by the Holy Father for this occasion," the Paris announcement said. Irene was converted to Catholicism last year, abandoning the traditional Protestant faith of the House of Orange. She and Prince Carlos were received at the Vatican earlier this month by Pope Paul.

Rumors circulated later that both Queen Juliana and the pontiff were distressed at the audience. The queen was said to have been hurt because Irene slipped off to Rome without her knowledge. Pope Paul reportedly understood that he was receiving the couple at the re-

CHASE ENDS — Charles E. Dean, 27, of Omaha is handcuffed by police officers after being caught following a prison break by Dean and four others. He was hiding with cohort Dale D. Carstens. The pair were flushed from hiding place in rocks and piling along the Missouri River. All five were free less than 20 hours.

After Massive Search

Posse Captures 5 Nebraska Escapees

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Five convicts who tunneled their way from prison only to be flushed from a fog-shrouded game refuge by a gun-bristling posse, today were back in their cells.

The five were captured yesterday afternoon near Plattsmouth, Neb., after a massive search by police, shotgun-toting farmers, a helicopter and barking police dogs.

for auto theft and escape: Richard Rahr, 35, Omaha, serving 10 years for manslaughter; Charles Dean, 27, Omaha, serving 20 years for rape and attempted escape; and Frank Hancock, 34, Lincoln, serving 5 years for burglary and escape.

All were taken into custody with no resistance. Carstens kicked photographers and newsmen at the scene of his capture and when he was returned to the penitentiary.

Prisoners in the east cell block at the prison began making noise when the captives arrived.

were brought in, but order was quickly restored.

TUNNEL ROUTE

The five escaped through a 6½ foot tunnel dug with a chisel, hammer and screwdriver. The tunnel led from the closet of a clothing store room to the outside and, probably took two or three weeks to complete, warden Maurice Sigler said.

The manhunt for the five narrowed down when a Plattsmouth police officer, who didn't know of the prison break, saw a suspicious car and gave chase. The driver, patrolman Frank Savick, said the car sped down a dead end street and crashed over the curb and part-way down a 50-foot embankment.

Savick saw two of the men fleeing and called for help. Three prison cars were found by the car and a package of cigarettes with a prison label on them inside the car.

A posse of law enforcement officials and area citizens soon sealed off the area. Police dogs and helicopters were brought in to aid in the search. Lavender and Rahr were captured first, after being spotted from across the Missouri River by Iowa sheriff's officers. A state patrolman in a helicopter made the capture.

Carstens and Dean were taken into custody a short time later when a shotgun-carrying farmer and a prison guard found the two hiding under a log by the bank of the river. Carstens pleaded with the farmer not to shoot.

Hancock was captured by two Army reserve members in brush by the river.

During the search for Hancock, an Army National Guard helicopter developed a engine trouble and crashed-landed in the brush. No one was injured.

Pay TV Ready to Show
---It's $25-Million Gamble

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES — A base-bag game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Philadelphia Phillies on the night of July 1 ordinarily would not interrupt your plans to watch the wallpaper that particular evening.

But this may be a night, if not a game, sports fans around the nation will remember.

It's when pay television spreads its little expensive wings and tries to fly.

Fly, mind you, in a race against its tough, old-established rival, free television. And with obstacles ahead including an initiative aimed at outlawing pay TV in California.

IT'S A GAMBLE

It's the night, and a game, that launches a $25-million gamble by Subscriber Television, Inc., in the long predicted, oft-discussed subject of pay TV as against the commercial variety.

The Dodgers and their California allies in the pay TV venture, the San Francisco Giants, will form the base of the STV sports programs as screened in the two cities.

There will be companion programs, of course, starting July 1, on the other two of the three STV channels. Select movie premieres, rodeos, New York stage productions.

STV officials, with $25 million behind them, are confident of success but won't predict how long it will take success to arrive.

'SELECTOR BOX'

In the pay TV plan, a subscriber will pay $10 to have a "selector box" installed on his regular set, a minimum of $1 a week and $1.50 to tune in a Dodger or Giant ball game.

Prices for the other attractions will be comparable. A big selling point is no commercials.

STV by July 1 must have at least 20,000 subscribers in the Los Angeles area. Spokesmen politely decline to reveal the number to date.

This year the Dodgers will telecast, commercially, nine games in San Francisco back to Los Angeles. The Giants will do the same when here for their fans back home.

Homicide Charged in Boating Deaths

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Boat owner Gerald O'Haver, 29, of Swayzee, Ind., was to be arraigned on a negligent homicide charge today in a capsizing on Lake Michigan Saturday in which two companions drowned.

Police said O'Haver, owner and operator of the 14-foot fiber glass runabout, would be brought into Municipal Court. He was held in the Berrien County jail over the weekend.

Lost when the boat capsized 100 feet from shore were Coleman Woodcock, 29, of Matthews, Ind., and Ronnie Dobson, 23, of Swayzee.

Aerospace Firm Taking Hard Look at Weapons of the Future

By RALPH DIGHTON
Associated Press Science Writer
LOS ANGELES — A major aerospace company is spending thousands of man hours taking a hard look at what's likely to happen if either the Soviet Union or the United States develops a good defense against intercontinental missiles.

The Russians claim they have a missile defense, but give no details. The United States is experimenting with its controversial Nike Zeus antimissile and is pushing work on a faster one, called Sprint.

Going on the assumption that one or both powers will perfect a defense against ground-launched missiles within a few years, North American Aviation, Inc., has assigned several weapons-planning experts to devise countermeasures against what may be the next generation of space weapons: nuclear bombardment satellites.

Their concepts so far range from a system they say could be operational in a matter of weeks: an X15 rocket plane armed with satellite-destroying warheads to a 1975 supersonic transport carrying piggy-back an X20 Dyna-Soar type or orbital vehicle capable of capturing and boarding mysterious space craft.

"National objectives and the political climate would have to be assessed, of course, before any such concepts could be put in production," T. R. Parsons, North America's chief of operations analysis, said in an exclusive interview.

"But we want to be ready if the need arises."

Parsons said that if U.S. ground tracking stations should detect a Russian satellite suspected of taking spy pictures—as does our own Samos variety—an X15 rocket plane could handle the situation in either of two ways:

● 1. Launched as usual from a B58 bomber, the X15 could streak to an altitude of 300,000 feet and fire a nuclear-tipped rocket at any target up to 300 miles high.

● 2. Instead of a warhead, the X15 could fire a bottle of paint that on impact would splatter the lenses of downward-aimed cameras.

That may sound funny, but Parsons wasn't joking.

"There might be men in the Russian satellite," he said. "It might be better politically to make them look silly than to kill them."

USE COMPUTERS

Parsons' team is using computers to calculate the cost and effectiveness of all kinds of defenses against all expected kinds of satellites.

"One big question, of course, is whether we would want to launch our anti-satellite satellites vertically, with rockets like the Titan or Saturn, or horizontally with aircraft like the B58 or the upcoming supersonic transports," Parsons said.

"We won't conclude our study until this summer, but right now we tend to favor horizontal launch because both the booster and the orbital second stage are recoverable. And this type of second stage would be more maneuverable for interception in space than a rocket boosted capsule."

Parsons said the X15 study was made only to be ready in event of an emergency—such as the United States waking up some morning to find nuclear bombardment satellites already in the sky.

Given more time, his team envisions a 2,000-to-6,000-mile-an-hour transport with a smaller Delta wing vehicle in its nose or on its back. The smaller craft, launched 15 to 20 miles high, would be capable of going into orbit, rendezvousing with suspicious vehicles for inspection and if necessary destruction, then returning to earth.

Up to $6 Million Donated for New U. of M. Hospital

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Charles Stewart Mott Foundation has donated up to $6 million to the University of Michigan for construction of a children's hospital, U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher announced today.

Planning and construction of the Charles Stewart Mott Children's Hospital in the University Medical Center will proceed as rapidly as possible, he said.

C. S. Mott of Flint, foundation president, said proposed work of the new hospital will be closely allied to the work of the Flint Children's Center, and will benefit Flint as well as the university.

Infection Fells Freighter Crew

Typhoid-Like Illness Strikes Norway Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — The Norwegian freighter Margarita steamed toward Quebec, Canada, today with at least 10 crewmen ailing with what was believed to be a typhoid-like infection. The ship's carpenter was reported dead.

The liner France, with a doctor aboard, diverted from its eastbound course and met the Margarita yesterday in the North Atlantic, where it took aboard a critically ill deck boy, 17-year-old Karl Henrik Henriksen, the Coast Guard here said.

The France also transferred medical supplies to the 516-foot cargo ship. The Coast Guard said the liner messaged that the crewmen had a paratyphoid infection.

The captain and apparently also the chief engineer, were among the ill, the Coast Guard said.

DEAD NOT IDENTIFIED

The identity of the Margarita's dead crewman was not known here. His age was given as 60.

Paratyphoid engrosses a number of typhoid-like infections that often are caused by eating contaminated food.

The freighter, which was about 1,600 miles northeast of New York, was bound for St. Lawrence Seaway ports with its first stop Quebec, the Coast Guard said, estimating it would take several days to reach there.

The ship's agent in Montreal guessed that the freighter's crew numbered between 30 and 40. The agent was asked by the Coast Guard to find out by radio if there are sufficient able-bodied seamen aboard to get her to port.

The Margarita sailed from Rotterdam, where the deck boy was examined last Monday and found to have had "flu," the Coast Guard said.

Envoy's Wife Expires

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Ellis Bunker, 65, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the Organization of the American States, died Saturday. She was the former Harriet Allen Butler of Yonkers, N.Y.

Picketing Blocks Invitation to Shriver

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas Chamber of Commerce has withdrawn an invitation to Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director, to speak at its annual convention tonight.

Paul Kitch, a chamber official in Wichita, said the action was taken to avoid embarrassment over a union picket line around the Lassen Hotel where the meeting will be held.

The hotel has been picketed since last December in a dispute over union recognition for its employees.

Operation Sugar Cube Big Success

City Voters Brave Damp, Chill

Pontiac voters braved chilly, damp weather this morning to vote for a new City Commission.

A good turnout of Pontiac's 30,231 registered voters is estimated. Election officials estimate that better than 40 per cent of those registered will cast ballots before the polls close.

Polling places opened at 7 a.m. and will close at 8 p.m.

Persons waiting in line to vote at 8 p.m. will be allowed to do so.

Voters will choose seven city commissioners and vote on two ballot proposals.

There are 16 candidates. Of them, 14 were nominated at the March primary and are listed on the ballot, while two who lost nomination by a slim margin are campaigning as write-in candidates.

VOTES ALLOWED

Whether they cast a machine vote for someone on the printed ballot (voting levers) or cast a write-in vote (writing slots above voting levers), each elector may cast only one vote in each of the seven district races.

Thus, every voter in every district will be casting seven votes for commission candidates for the first time.

In past years, an elector could only vote for one of the two candidates running in his own district.

It may be a long night for (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

80 Per Cent in County Get Antipolio Pill

Wayne and Macomb Also Take Part in First Program Phase

The first phase of Operation Sugar Cube, a mass polio immunization program throughout Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties Sunday, was termed an overwhelming success by medical society officials.

In Oakland County, over 500,000 persons, or an estimated 80 per cent of the population, received the serum-soaked sugar cubes at 85 stations set up in schools, shopping centers and other community locations.

Entire families lined up at the stations to get the cubes from volunteer workers.

Officials were particularly pleased with the large number of children treated.

There was no delay. The lines moved quickly.

"The response was excellent," according to Dr. Worth Henderson, who headed the society's program in Oakland County. "Naturally, we would have liked a 100 per cent turnout, but this is never possible."

2ND CUBE NECESSARY

He cautioned that the single dosage received yesterday is not in itself immunization against polio, and must be followed by a second serum-treated cube anytime after eight weeks.

The medical society plans to repeat Operation Sugar Cube June 14. Dr. Henderson urged those who haven't received the first dosage of the serum to get it from their doctors now.

The operation in Oakland County was set up so well that no real problems were encountered, he said. Several stations in Wayne County ran out of serum for short periods.

There was no such delay caused here, as volunteer runners kept the stations adequately supplied. Their efforts were coordinated by Civil Defense radio units which remained in contact with each station.

An estimated 1.7 million persons in Wayne County, or about 65 per cent of the population, got the oral vaccine.

Laotian Coup Collapses After Opposition by U.S.

LBJ Told Rail Talks Gain Some

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. diplomatic sources said today the right-wing army coup in Laos had collapsed after one day. U.S. opposition to the coup apparently was a major factor.

"The situation is back where it was 36 hours ago," said an American diplomat who had been in contact with the U.S. Embassy in Vientiane, the Laotian capital.

He said reports were still sketchy, but that diplomatic dispatches from Vientiane said neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma had been released from house arrest and leaders of the coup had apologized for their attempt to topple the coalition government.

The dispatches said the rebel leaders also apologized to Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, right-wing leader in Laos, who was not linked to the coup.

There was no immediate information on the whereabouts of Souvanna, but he was believed in Vientiane, which was reported calm.

"The situation in Vientiane appears to be gradually reverting to what it was before," an American diplomat said.

REPEAT STATEMENTS

In Bangkok, however, the newspaper Thai Rath said that after the report of the coup's collapse, Vientiane radio repeated yesterday's communiqués from the military committee which staged the pre-dawn coup.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who had been visiting South Viet Nam, said before leaving for Washington that the United States disapproved of the coup and feared it might upset the Geneva accord of 1962 which set up a coalition government for Laos.

Britain and France also came out in opposition to the coup.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today federal mediators have reported to President Johnson "some definite gains" in emergency railroad bargaining talks aimed at averting a nationwide strike.

"However," said White House Press Secretary George Reedy, "there are some very difficult issues that still remain."

Reedy said one of the mediators told him that the talks have now reached a stage "where to gain an inch is as difficult as it was to gain a foot a week ago."

Reedy said intensive talks will continue, with Johnson maintaining very close liaison with the mediators.

Asked whether Johnson was satisfied with the report, made at about 10 p.m. EST last night, Reedy said:

ONLY ANSWER

"Obviously, the only thing that would be satisfactory is a settlement."

He said Johnson commended both sides "for the pains they have made, and urged them to redouble their efforts" to settle the five-year-long work rules dispute.

Johnson reportedly met with federal mediators and negotiators for both sides last night for a report on the 10-day-old talks, which he hopes will avert a nationwide strike Saturday.

He had called for a report by today, but apparently last night's session covered the ground.

Johnson reportedly pleaded with both sides again to consider the national interest and reach a voluntary agreement to avoid a strike which could virtually cripple the nation.

Barry Is Personal Choice

Poll Says Nixon for GOP

NEW YORK (AP) — A nationwide poll of Republican county chairmen and other party leaders named former Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the most likely winner of the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, however, was far ahead as the personal preference of the 1,606 persons participating.

The survey was the third such poll taken by the Associated Press.

In the survey, which began April 1, correspondents in 50 states and the District of Columbia questioned more than 3,000 county chairmen, vice chairmen, town leaders and other party officials.

There were two parts in the questionnaire: "Who is your personal preference to be the nominee?" and "Whom do you think the convention will nominate?"

OU Speaker Boosts 'C' University Idea

A tall Texan gave a boost to the idea of a "C" university for average students Saturday.

Dr. Logan Wilson, commencement speaker at Oakland University, said in an interview that there ought to be certain institutions for "C" students.

"You can make a fetish out of excellence," he commented, "but the president of the American Council on Education

Wilson said that he knew of only one institution in the country that openly advertises for the average or below average student.

"I think we have to remember that not everybody is a Phi Beta Kappa," he added.

He pointed out that some eastern institutions have backed off from relying on sheer intellectual power. Wilson said that there is a need for a reasonable mixing of the different caliber of students.

Speaking with a slight Texas drawl, the gray-haired educator spoke of federal aid for all institutions of higher learning, the need for wider distribution of federally supported research and the rising costs for a college education.

CHURCH-STATE RIFT

Attempts to avoid the church-state controversy by granting federal funds on a scholarship basis directly to students was called "an easy way out" by Wilson.

The top priority should be to help institutions themselves, he said. There is no shortage of students, but of buildings and facilities.

Wilson added that scholarships would not help this bottleneck. He said that it would take a "tremendous" amount of money to get any impact nationally with just scholarships.

According to the OU visitor, one of the hottest arguments in and beyond the scenes is the wider distribution of government-financed research projects.

EAST, WEST COAST

Complaints have been registered that such projects, notably defense contracts, are concentrated on the east and west coasts.

Wilson gave a qualified answer to the question.

"There is a need for wider distribution, but I would be against just narrow slices of the pie."

Some colleges just are not equipped. He said some other institutions could handle research. How to pick them would be politically but not objectively difficult.

County Board Passes Budget

Total Is $2 Million Over '64 Allocation

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today gave a unanimous okay to an ambitious $18.4-million budget to meet the needs of county government next year, but probably will see the figure trimmed by the county's tax allocation board in June.

The record figure is some $2 million more than the one approved at this time last year for 1964.

Approval came on a voice vote in which no "nays" were heard from any of the 74 supervisors present for the meeting of the 85-member board.

The decision also was reached without discussion, which Board Chairman Delos Hamlin termed "very unusual."

The budget would require a tax levy of 5.9 mills, considerably higher than the 5.19 mills allocated for county government last year by the tax allocation board.

Many supervisors expect to have to re-examine and curtail the budget after the tax allocation board completes its deliberations in June, since a 5.9-mill allocation is unlikely.

Major reasons for the increased budget figure are proposals for hiring 87 new county employees and granting some pay raises, additional funds for juvenile care, and establishment of a new mental health program.

Fair Protest Plans Widen

Castro Charges That U.S. Violated Cuba Air Space

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro charged the United States with violations of Cuban air space last night and called on his armed forces to speed up preparations for use of new anti-aircraft missiles.

He also accused American Marines of unfriendly acts toward Cuba and said he would protest to the United Nations.

In a speech marking the third anniversary of the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion, Castro said in reference to the United States that "if it want war, we are not afraid of it."

Castro said Cuba is not intimidated by blackmail or display of power.

He said he will not tolerate aggression by Marines at the U.S. Guantanamo Naval Base against Cuban sentries or incursions into Cuban air space by American planes.

READY ROCKETS

The revolution leader told his audience, most of whom were armed forces officers, to quicken their training and get the country's ground-to-air rockets ready.

(With the assistance of Russian troops and technicians, the Cubans are believed to have installed several anti-aircraft missile bases with rockets capable of hitting the high altitude U.S. reconnaissance jets which regularly fly over Cuba.)

In his speech, Castro charged that Marines from Guantanamo had committed 10 "provocations" along the base border late Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

He said several Marines crossed the border, threw rocks at Cuban sentries, broke two doors on a small guard shack, untied the rope on a Cuban flag post, and stole a water hose.

"The United States government is playing with the lives of those provocateurs," he said.

Castro said the United States "will suffer new defeats in our land" like the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion by Cuban exiles. He singled out President Johnson and Undersecretary of State for Latin America Thomas Mann for special criticism.

Referring to the Johnson administration, he said that "if those that attacked us were reactionary, then those now in the United States government are more reactionary."

The U.S.-supported invasion, which was carried out shortly after the late President Kennedy took office, was crushed in three days with heavy casualties. More than 1,000 invaders were taken prisoner.

"They Bay of Pigs was the first defeat of Yankee imperialism in Latin America," Castro said, "and as Comrade (Industry Minister Ernesto) Guevara recently said, it was the first, but not the last."

"The imperialists will suffer new defeats. They will suffer in our land and they will suffer them in other lands at the hands of other people which they enslave."

Romney, Wife Will Lead Rally in Birmingham

Gov. and Mrs. George Romney will get some heavy hail when they greet Republican workers at a big party rally in Birmingham Saturday.

A 600-pound elephant will be there with them to welcome volunteers to the kickoff of the GOP's 1964 Voter Identification Program to canvass 200,000 Oakland County homes.

The Romneys are scheduled to lead the 10 a.m. rally at Birmingham Community House, according to Arthur W. Saltzman, chairman of the GOP special events committee.

Car caravans are expected to bring Republicans from throughout the county to the meeting.

The program includes music by a band and the "Jills from the Hills," a group of female vocalists, along with pep talks by Republican party officials and elected officeholders.

De Gaulle Aide Defends France's Foreign Policy

NEW YORK (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's policies in Asia and Latin America in the long run can help the United Nations defend those areas from communism, declares French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The foreign minister offered what he called "clarifications of French foreign policy" in an interview filmed in Paris for presentation at the annual meeting of the Associated Press today.

Couve de Murville seemed puzzled by American criticisms of de Gaulle's recognition of China, his espousal of neutrality for embattled Viet Nam and his activities in Latin America. In a painstaking explanation, the foreign minister made these points:

—Red China: "The future will tell."

—Viet Nam: It is "completely ridiculous" to say French activities in Southeast Asia are related to anti-Americanism. France wants Southeast Asia to "remain as he has been—free—not fall under Communist domination."

—Latin America: French policy can help diminish anti-Americanism by providing an alternative — Europe — for those who now feel they must choose between the United States and the Communist world.

Couve de Murville, interviewed by the Paris AP bureau chief, Richard K. O'Malley, waved his hand in a gesture of impatience as he brushed away the idea that de Gaulle's recommendation of neutrality for Viet Nam smacked of anti-Americanism. The United States, with 17,000 military personnel in South Viet Nam, is deeply committed to defending the anti-Communist regime against Communist guerrilla war.

AP Healthiest in Its History

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of the Associated Press told the membership today that the AP is "in the healthiest condition in its history."

The directors' annual report, noting a gain of 814 members and subscribers in the past year, was read at the AP annual meeting prior to a luncheon addressed by President Johnson.

Changes have to be made in many areas to improve service and increase efficiency of the worldwide news cooperative, the report said.

"A good deal of emphasis was placed on technological advancements, but the management and the board are aware that it is still the cooperative structure of the Associated Press which accounts for some of the AP's greatest successes," the directors said.

3,000 Soviets to Go Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials expect 3,000 Soviet troops to be withdrawn from Cuba in the next two or three weeks, reducing the Soviet military contingent on the island to a 600 to 800-man advisory and training mission.

The Russians have been methodically reducing their forces while steadily building up Cuba's, and Washington understands the Soviets will turn out to the Cubans operation of 24 anti-aircraft missile bases.

2 Men Take $300 in Station Robbery

Two holdup men netted about $300 in an armed robbery at a Bloomfield Township gasoline station Saturday night.

The men struck at Springer's Shell Station, 1415 S. Telegraph, shortly after 10 p.m.

Attendant Ernest Powell, 1577 Cypress, Pontiac, told police the men stole his wallet, locked him in a back room and emptied the cash register.

Powell said both men were Negro, and one carried a revolver, believed to be a .38 caliber, according to police.

The attendant said one of the men was about 6 feet tall, wore a patch over one eye and had a thin mustache. The other, he said, was shorter and wore a woman's stocking over his hair.

WRITE-IN VOTES

For the purpose of write-in votes, a paper roll is placed inside the machine behind the write-in slots. There is a line on the paper.

The roll is installed so that the line is matched with a mark on the machine. When machines are opened after the polls close, officials check the roll.

If the line and the mark don't match, they know that one or more write-in votes have been cast. The paper roll automatically moves up one notch every time one or more write-ins are cast on a voter's ballot.

When a paper roll has moved, election officials must remove it and count the votes written on it.

Officials feel the easiest way will be to merely unroll it on the floor, get down on hands and knees and start counting. This will take time.

City Voters Brave Chill

City Clerk Olga Barkeley expects a turnout of 12,000 to 14,000 at the polls, maybe more.

In the Jan. 13 special election, 41 per cent of the city's registered voters cast ballots.

In the March 2 primary, 40 per cent of those registered in six districts went to the polls (there was no primary runoff in one district).

CURRENT FORCE

Of the current voter force, a turnout of 12,000 would be required to hit the 40 per cent mark.

The new system of voting, the fact that there are two preposals on the ballot and the interest in write-in votes is expected to draw better than 40 per cent.

Professional Men Meet in First Home Visit Day

BIRMINGHAM — About 45 persons from the Birmingham Unitarian Church — doctors, lawyers and teachers — held frank discussions with other doctors, lawyers and teachers yesterday afternoon.

The Sunday-afternoon callers were welcomed to the living rooms of their hosts, where an informal atmosphere encouraged the exchange of ideas.

There was nothing unusual in the situation except that a color line had been crossed.

Those from the all-white church traveled to Detroit to participate in the first National Home Visit Day, sponsored in an effort to improve race relations.

The 45 representatives from the suburbs divided into groups of six or seven, visiting seven homes.

They spent some time chatting about various topics, including the one concerning all of them.

For some, it was the first opportunity to hold an informal discussion with a Negro family of comparable background.

The Birmingham group was among some 500 participants in the program started by the Presbyterian and Catholic inter-racial councils.

Robert E. Vandenberg of 1280 Lakeside, chairman of the church's social action committee, said he was hopeful of a better understanding of the civil rights question as a result of the visits.

OPEN DISCUSSIONS

"The discussions were quite open," he said. "They tried to match similar interests. People in our group visited other professionals — two doctors, teachers and an attorney or two."

Vandenberg reported that others he had talked to had been pleased with the atmosphere of the visits.

"We were happy with the general level of discussion," he said. "No one was embarrassed by sensitive questions and we were able to learn how the Negro feels."

Vandenberg reported that others he had talked to had been pleased with the atmosphere of the visits.

"We were happy with the general level of discussion," he said. "No one was embarrassed by sensitive questions and we were able to learn how the Negro feels."

The Sunday-afternoon callers were welcomed to the living rooms of their hosts, where an informal atmosphere encouraged the exchange of ideas.

There was nothing unusual in the situation except that a color line had been crossed.

Those from the all-white church traveled to Detroit to participate in the first National Home Visit Day, sponsored in an effort to improve race relations.

The 45 representatives from the suburbs divided into groups of six or seven, visiting seven homes.

They spent some time chatting about various topics, including the one concerning all of them.

For some, it was the first opportunity to hold an informal discussion with a Negro family of comparable background.

The Birmingham group was among some 500 participants in the program started by the Presbyterian and Catholic inter-racial councils.

Robert E. Vandenberg of 1280 Lakeside, chairman of the church's social action committee, said he was hopeful of a better understanding of the civil rights question as a result of the visits.

"The discussions were quite open," he said. "They tried to match similar interests. People in our group visited other professionals — two doctors, teachers and an attorney or two."

Organizational Split for More Efficiency

A preliminary hearing in Justice Court is scheduled April 28 for a Pontiac Township man charged with assault to do great bodily harm in the stabbing of his wife.

Elmo W. Lynch, 39, of 3000 Shimmans demanded, the termination at his arraignment Saturday afternoon before Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanback. Lynch was released later on $5,000 bond.

He is accused of stabbing his wife, Winifred, 37, during a fight in their home Friday evening.

Mrs. Lynch is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital. She suffered chest wounds and a cut on the forehead.

"The main reason," said Lyle, "is geography. The First District contains 14 townships and one city, making it unmanageable due to size."

Under the new arrangement, the west district includes the townships of Brandon, Independence, Waterford, White Lake, Springfield, Groveland, Holly, Rose, and Highland and the City of Sylvan Lake.

The east district has the townships of Oxford, Addison, Orion, Oakland and Pontiac.

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE

Another advantage of the split, according to Lyle, will be "an opportunity to develop additional leadership" in the county GOP.

Mrs. Charles Campbell, who has been district director for two years, now takes over the east half, and "will be able to devote more intensive efforts to the Republican State Central Committee of which she is a member," Lyle said.

Named by Lyle to head GOP efforts in the west half was Leon Grogg, 4461 Parnell, Waterford Township, who has been GOP director for his township.

Lyle said he was considering similar organizational divisions in other legislative districts of the county because of the large size of some districts.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — National police reported today that 11 persons were killed and another was missing in floods and landslides caused by a week of rain across the country.

Troy Flier Escapes Bad Crash Injuries

A Troy man escaped serious injury yesterday when his single engine plane crashed on landing at Allen Airport in Orion Township.

Student pilot Ray Lloyd Jr., 32, of 2101 Isabel suffered only facial lacerations in the 1:05 p.m. accident.

Flying his Cessna 180A, Lloyd, with 27 hours' experience in the air, was approaching the field when rough winds caused the plane to drop and snap utility wires alongside Giddings Road.

The aircraft went out of control and flipped down on the airfield, totally damaging the plane.
