Rescuers Prepare to Enter Devastated Du Pont Plant

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Rescue workers prepared today to enter a devastated Du Pont chemical plant where explosions and fire killed at least six persons, left five others missing and presumed dead and injured 30 more.

Nearly 200 area residents evacuated from their homes as a safety precaution awaited an all-clear signal to return.

"We don't think there is any additional danger," a Du Pont official said.

Several fires continued to burn inside the ravaged complex, but they were considered minor.

Eight persons were hospitalized, one in critical condition, as a result of the devastation. The explosions caused an estimated $5 million to $10 million in damage. Cause of the blasts was not known.

Another person was added to the list of presumed dead today. He was a bricklayer doing contract work for Du Pont inside the plant.

The coroner and public health officials entered the blast site today to survey the area where six bodies lay. They said workers would go in to remove the bodies only when the area is "completely secured" and there no longer is a possibility of explosions.

CLEAN CHEMICALS

Water and inert nitrogen gas was pumped through the plant's pipelines this morning to clean out the chemicals.

The explosions, 26 in all, began at 9:25 a.m. (Pontiac time) yesterday. The last three came at nightfall after an all-clear had been sounded and a rescue party went back into the blast area.

CAUGHT UNAWARE

Three firemen and four policemen were caught unaware by the last explosions and suffered minor injuries. The officers found six bodies in the basement of the main building, but had to retreat.

Authorities today set up a mobile morgue at the plant site.

Company employes were told to report for work to help restore the plant's electrical and water systems. Production at the plant probably will not resume for some time, a Du Pont spokesman said.

Kathy Leach Develops Pneumonia

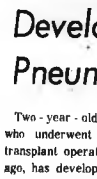
Two-year-old Kathy Leach, who underwent a rare liver transplant operation two weeks ago, has developed pneumonia.

★ ★ ★

However, there has been no change in her condition, according to her grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Leach Jr. of 25 Detroit, Lake Orion.

Kathy has been listed in serious condition since her operation 16 days ago at the University of Minnesota Hospital.

Mrs. Leach said Kathy was given blood last night to counteract internal bleeding.



KATHY

She said she has also been running a temperature but that it has dropped to about a degree above normal.

Kathy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leach of 12 Indianside, Lake Orion, had been at the hospital since April waiting for another child to die so she could receive a healthy liver.

The eight-hour operation was performed Aug. 10, almost two years to the day from the time her condition was discovered. She suffers from extra-hepatic biliary atresia.

When she was admitted to the hospital, she was given two to 12 months to live without the operation.

★ ★ ★

The big question surrounding the operation is whether her body will accept or reject the new liver. An operation of this type has never been successful because the body rejects foreign tissues.

★ ★ ★

The cost of the operation, about $18,000, as well as hospital expenses has been covered by donations from groups and individuals from all over the country.

More Showers Predicted for Pontiac Area

Showers developing late this afternoon will continue occasionally through the night and tomorrow.

Temperatures falling into the low 60s will rise to 72 to 78 tomorrow and continue just a little cooler. Fair and slightly cooler is the weatherman's forecast for Saturday.

Morning winds variable at 5 to 15 miles per hour will be briefly higher during thundershowers.

A mild 63 was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The temperature at 2 p.m. was 81.

Trial Date Postponed in Slaying of Coeds

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A district court judge set an Oct. 11 trial date for James C. Cross, a University of Texas student accused of murdering two coeds, but prosecution and defense agreed to postponement at least until January.

Cross, who signed a statement admitting he strangled Susan Rigsby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21 and from Dallas, July 18, made his first public appearance since he was arrested Aug. 6.

LBJ Prods Steel Talk Negotiators

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson talked by telephone with the chief negotiators in the steel wage dispute today and prodded them for a settlement.

The President told newsmen at the White House that he had talked with both R. Conrad Cooper, the chief negotiator for the industry, and I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers union.

He said he pointed out to them his news conference statements of yesterday in which he urged a settlement and asked Cooper and Abel to read and review what he had said.

Both told him they had already read it, he said.

Johnson said he told Cooper and Abel:

● He relied upon them for a "responsible and decent settlement."

● He regarded both management and labor as his friends.

● That he didn't want to try to dictate terms of the settlement; it was a matter for collective bargaining.

But, Johnson said, he also stressed that as President, and in the public interest, he had a right to ask their complete cooperation and expected to get it.

Earlier today, government's top mediator called his first joint meeting with steel negotiators after the steelworkers rejected an industry offer to raise wages and benefits 40.6 cents an hour over the next three years.

City Schools Ask $550,000 in U.S. Funds

The Pontiac School District will ask for nearly $550,000 in federal funds to renew, expand and add to current programs under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Dr. Lee Haslinger, director of the school's community action programs, told the board of education last night he was not optimistic about receiving all the funds to be requested.

The money will be used for three programs scheduled to expire Nov. 30. These are the school community action programs and expanded remedial reading and counseling services.

Haslinger said that if the funds were received the school also has plans to establish child development centers.

Teen Killed, 8 Others Hurt in Ride Mishap on Bob-Lo

WINDSOR, Ont., (AP)—A boy was killed and eight youngsters were injured last night when an amusement ride car in which they were riding left the track and plunged to the ground.

★ ★ ★

The accident took place at Bob-Lo Island, an amusement center which lies at the mouth of the Detroit River at the entrance to Lake Erie.

The dead youth was identified as Thomas C. Minidis, 17, of Detroit. He was dead on arrival at a hospital he Windsor, across the river from Detroit, is about 35 miles from Bob-Lo.

★ ★ ★

The four girls and five boys, all members of a Detroit church youth group, were in one car of a ride called the "Bug" when the accident occurred.

ROLLER-COASTER STYLE

W. B. Browning, general manager of the park, said the "Bug" moves about on a low, roller-coaster style of track.

He said he was at a loss to explain the accident, adding "I don't know how this could have happened."

His brother, L. B. Browning, vice president of Bob-Lo Amusement Co., said a "leaf spring" on the car apparently collapsed.

The youngsters, all from Detroit, went to the island as part of a going-away party for one of their members who was leaving to attend college.

Kathy Malloy, 17, said she and the others were sitting in the car when "it started and tossed us all around. It went around four or five times and then we were flying all over each other.

"I don't remember what happened, but we went through a fence and then I was lying there and I couldn't believe it.

Gemini 5 Craft Is Soaring On Toward Goal

Minor Problems Not Expected to Shorten Cooper-Conrad Flight

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. today broke the world space endurance record held by a Soviet cosmonaut, and soared on toward their eight-day goal.

The historic moment came at 8:06 a.m. EST. The astronauts then had been in space 119 hours and six minutes, just shy of five days.

But mingled with congratulatory messages from the ground was some serious talk about several problems, none serious, which began plaguing the spacecraft.

Asked if the problems endangered the astronauts, flight controller John Hodge said: "We're not in any danger whatsoever."

★ ★ ★

Hodge also said there was "no problem for the length of the mission."

Like an aging automobile, Gemini 5 has been building up small, pesky problems. Command pilot Cooper reported this morning that he had lost use of two of his 32 jet control thrusters.

★ ★ ★

The mission control center suspected valve clogging, and engineers were devising a series of tests for the astronauts to run later.

MANEUVERING FUEL

In an attempt to make the jets work, Cooper used up three to four pounds of maneuvering fuel, leaving the craft with 17 pounds, slightly below the desired amount.

So flight director Christopher C. Kraft directed him not to use the thrusters again and drift through space until a possible solution was worked out on the ground.

This meant the astronauts had to cancel several photographic and other experiments which require maneuvering.

★ ★ ★

The ground also indicated some concern about the buildup of water in the fuel cell power system. The water is produced as the hydrogen and oxygen combine in the cells to create electricity.

CONSERVE POWER

To conserve power, Cooper and Conrad were told to shut off all but critical systems.

Conrad may have won a dollar from his wife as a result of the new space record.

In a pass over the control center, the conversation with capsule communicator James A. McDivitt went like this:

Conrad: "Say, Jim, will you pass my wife a message? Tell her she owes me a dollar."

McDivitt. "I'll tell her that. You want to collect it yourself or do you want me to mail it to you?"

★ ★ ★

There was no explanation for the dollar bet, but there was speculation it might have concerned breaking the Soviet record.

CONGRATULATIONS

Kraft offered the astronauts congratulations on the new record and asked: "How does it

'Lost America' Bill Is Signed

Aims $3.25 Billion at Economic Decay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson signed into law today a bill to pump $3.25 billion of federal money into lost America — cities and towns dying from economic decay.

Signing the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965, the President said the legislation would help save many communities and create work for jobless men.

He said he hoped and believed this and other acts would result in such economic uplift that future historians will describe the 1960s as "the decade of opportunity."

The economic aid package, part of the administration's broad drive on poverty, is designed to raise living standards in the nation's pockets of poverty.

★ ★ ★

The $3.25 billion, spread over five years in most parts of the program, will be used to provide public works grants, create development centers, provide loans to private business venturing into distressed areas, and encourage multistate development programs similar to the 11-state Appalachia project.

For District Residents

Fees Cut for Night Classes

Under a new school plan, Pontiac School District residents who take high school credit night school classes here will not have to pay an enrollment fee.

The plan was discussed last night at the meeting of the Pontiac School Board and received the approval of all board members.

Prior to the new plan both resident and nonresident students have been charged an enrollment fee of $20 for 60 hours of instruction during a 10-week period in a course yielding ½ unit of credit.

Last year, however, the Michigan Department of Public Instruction indicated that students who are enrolled in a high school class and working toward a diploma may be counted in membership for state aid purposes.

Administration officials said last night they felt the adult education and evening school could still be operated on a self-supporting basis if the student fees were dropped and the school district accepted the state aid.

NEW PROVISION

At present the new provision only applies to a resident student.

However, school administrators said they were working on a plan whereby nonresident students could be included also.

Board members expressed hope that under the new system, many more persons would take advantage of the night school program to earn their high school diploma.

Last year 50 Pontiac residents were enrolled in evening courses for high school credit.

Ends Viet Search for Brother

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Don Dawson's search is over. The Viet Cong lectured him for his foolhardiness, then told him they would tend his brother's grave and give back his remains when the war was over.

They gave him the flying vest they said his brother wore the day his U.S. Army spotter plane crashed into the jungles of Zone D.

DONALD C. DAWSON

Then, after four months of captivity when his own life hung in the balance, they told him to go.

For Donald Charles Dawson, a 28-year-old tuna fisherman from Costa Mesa, Calif., it was the end of the road.

★ ★ ★

"Do you think there is any more I can do?" he asked today as he recovered from a gruelling three-day hike back to government territory.

PICK UP THREADS

"They said if Dan was alive they would take me to him, but that he was dead. I want to go home now, tell Dan's wife Arlene and the kids that I did all I could, and then pick up the threads of my life."

Dawson's 27-year-old brother, Lt. Daniel Dawson, disappeared on a mission over the Communist-controlled jungle north of Bien Hoa on Nov. 6. Donald came to Viet Nam last December to find his brother or recover his body.

For months he littered the jungle with leaflets offering rewards for information. Hitting dead end after dead end, he decided on one last desperate gamble — to penetrate the Viet Cong heartland, throw himself on the mercy of the guerrillas and find the answer.

★ ★ ★

A pretty 21-year-old Vietnamese-French college girl, Colette Emberger, went along as his interpreter. She also was imprisoned but was released and returned with Dawson. She was ill and was hospitalized here.

CONG FURIOUS

The Viet Cong were furious with Dawson.

"They demanded to know why I dared enter their territory without permission," Dawson recalled. A tall, red-haired man, he was pale from months in his jungle prison and thin from the walk back but otherwise well.

"I told them my story and gave them my papers, including letters from my wife and my brother (Danny's) wife. They hardly glanced at them. They said they had their own methods of checking my story," Dawson said.

"When they blindfolded us and led us off into that thick jungle, and then days later revealed to us their hidden little prison, my heart sank," he said.

"I thought, would all I had done end up there, in that little hut where there was never any sun? Would I have to wait there until the war was over?"

The Viet Cong hardly spoke to Miss Emberger. When she fell ill with fever soon after they reached the prison, a doctor and a nurse tended her 24 hours a day, but they weren't friendly.

"They distrusted her," said Dawson, "and distrusted her motives, just as they distrusted me. They told me that I was probably playing some kind of trick."

He noticed that in addition to his own prison hut and two

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Two passenger launches collided in Rangoon harbor Wednesday night and both sank in minutes. Police said 58 persons were picked up promptly by sampans, but seven persons perished and 20 are missing.

Mail Burns When Truck Catches Fire

A large semitrailer truck carrying U.S. mail from Detroit to Flint caught fire and burned early this morning on Dixie Highway near Grange Hall in Groveland Township.

★ ★ ★

The cab, the front end of the trailer and a large number of mail sacks were completely burned. The driver, Harold Ward of Flint, was uninjured.

Postal officials said that only second, third and fourth class mail was destroyed or burned. The first class mail in the rear of the trailer was undamaged.

There was no local mail on board the truck, according to Clarence Smith, superintendent of mail at the Pontiac post office.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the fire apparently started when a piece of scrap metal was thrown by a tire and punctured the fuel tank on the truck.

Deputies and Holly firemen were at the scene for more than three hours.

adjoining it occupied by a dozen South Vietnamese soldiers, there were several others through the tangled shrubs.

YANK PRISONERS

He eventually discovered these were occupied by three American prisoners. He saw them a few times in the distance, sometimes wearing their Army uniforms, other times in black Viet Cong pajamas.

They were moved after two months, and Dawson said he never got to speak with them. They looked fit to him, he said.

The Vietnamese prisoners were fed three meals a day like he was. Sometimes a guard came back with a deer shot in the jungles, another time a snake, he said.

Dawson often asked for more food and got it.

ATE TOO MUCH

"I developed an embarrassing pot belly because I ate too much," he said.

A Vietnamese captain was brought in one day, and the Viet Cong made him write long documents, Dawson said. Several weeks later, they led him off without a blindfold.

"I guess he had had it," Dawson said. "I guess he would never get to tell about the things he saw."

* * *

Dawson said the region was constantly shaking from bombs dropped by U.S. jets and Vietnamese Skyraiders.

NO DIRECT HITS

Sometimes, I could see the bombs spilling out of the bomb bays as the planes came in, but they never did register a direct hit," he reported.

The prisoners were herded into shelters in the ground when the bombers came over, he said, but the guards remained above ground, casually puffing on their cigarettes.

Dawson said he worked as much as possible around the camp, digging trenches and patching buildings, to overcome loneliness.

* * *

PAID FOR WORK

"That was really something, getting paid by the Viet Cong," he said, laughing. "I think the American prisoners were also paid for their work. Our food was free."

As the weeks wore on, the Viet Cong gradually unfolded the story of his brother.

They said his plane had been shot down in the region of the camp, and the wreckage had been used to make weapons and kitchen utensils.

* * *

His brother had died in the crash, and had been properly buried, he was told.

HATE LEADERS

"We do note hate American soldiers, or the American people," Dawson said he was told repeatedly. "We hate your leaders because they are misleading you."

Eventually they brought Dawson the flying vest which they said his brother had worn.

Everyone in the camp had malaria, including himself, Dawson said.

He was nursed back to health, but his interpreter remained ill.

JUNGLE FENCE

Dawson said "There was no fence around me, only that impenetrable jungle. I knew that to escape would either be to be caught again or to perish."

Then he and Colette were told they could go free.

Several guards were assigned to them, they were blindfolded and left their jungle prison after four months of captivity.

"The prisoners cheered as I left," he said, "and I waved back at them."

Dawson said the Viet Cong did not mistreat him or even cross-examine him.

The small group had one chilling experience before reaching the friendly village of Thai Hung.

A U.S. Air Force spotter plane swooped over them as they ran along a track and into the underbrush.

* * *

In a few minutes, several Skyraider bombers zeroed in on the place the group had been and dropped bombs.

MIXED FEELINGS

"I had mixed feelings about that," Dawson said.

Villagers at Thai Hung welcomed Dawson enthusiastically. They had befriended him in the months before he was captured.

He bade them farewell and rode a bus to Bien Hoa.

In Costa Mesa, Dawson's wife said yesterday:

"It's so great. I'm so happy. The children are so thrilled."

NO LETTERS

She said she had "no letters, not a word from him" since April.

"The children are waiting for him to come home right now. Every time an airplane flies over, they say, 'Is that daddy?'"

The children are Curtis, 10, Cheryl, 8, Linda, 7 and George, 4.

16,038 Pupils Due Back; 650-Student Hike Seen

BIRMINGHAM — Some 16,038 students are expected to head back to school here Sept. 9 and 10.

The first day of classes for most students will be Sept. 9, with kindergarten pupils welcomed the next day.

A summer increase of some 650 students is predicted for the district, which has seen enrollment jump 3,301 students since 1961.

Projected enrollment breakdown indicates there will be 8,840 elementary students, 7,105 in secondary and 93 in special education.

* * *

Students enrolling in Birmingham public schools for the first time are to register at their respective schools as soon as possible.

REGISTRATION

Hours for registration at all buildings are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. weekdays.

The 835 members of the professional staff include 321 elementary classroom teachers and 372 secondary.

Bus routes for Birmingham public and non-public school students will remain basically the same as last year.

* * *

AT BUS STOPS

On the first day of school, elementary pupils should be at their bus stops by 8:20 a.m.

Report Says 'Head Start' Is Successful

Project "Head Start" ended its first phase of operation in the Pontiac School District Friday and was declared a success by all persons involved in the program.

* * *

Dr. Lee Haslinger, director of the school's community action programs, presented a report to the board of education last night on the success of the project.

Haslinger said that 553 children took part in the program, which was designed to simulate a middle-class environment for impoverished preschool children.

The theory behind the plan is that simulation of this environment for even seven weeks will give the children a better opportunity to take advantage of their first year of school.

* * *

Haslinger said the highlight of the Head Start program, however, was the fact that 239 volunteers turned out to assist the school district without pay.

The school official told board members that although it is too early to accurately evaluate the effects of the program, the large number of participants and volunteers made the first phase a success.

* * *

The school board members passed a resolution following the report which expressed their appreciation to the volunteer adults and teen-agers.

Nix Airline Bid as Premature

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) yesterday ruled that a request by North Central Airlines (NCA) for added federal subsidy was premature.

* * *

NCA sought an additional $168,328 in annual subsidy to offset mail service losses in connection with the pending deletion of air service to Pontiac and Cadillac-Reed City.

The board said the request was premature because these cities have sought a judicial review of the original CAB decision to delete the air service.

That decision was based on the inability of Pontiac to generate enough airline patronage to support NCA service at the local airport.

* * *

The CAB has stayed its original order pending completion of the court proceedings.

However, CAB yesterday did grant NCA an increase of $61,623 in its subsidy to alleviate the economic impact of deleting service to Port Huron.

Tongue Cut Out of Dixie Negro

Reportedly Criticized Rights Demonstrators

GREENSBORO, Ala. (AP) — An elderly Negro who reportedly had criticized civil rights demonstrators lay near death today — his tongue cut out — and two Negroes were held for questioning.

David Holloway, Hale County deputy sheriff, said one of the Negroes being questioned was among a group of civil rights volunteers arrested here late in July when they gathered at a street corner barricade and refused to disperse.

No charges were filed immediately against the two men held for questioning.

Holloway said the injured Negro, 87-year-old Perry Smaw, was found crumpled in the doorway of his house Sunday. His tongue had been cut out and his head battered.

* * *

The officer said he was told that Smaw had publicly criticized demonstrators who sought to march to the county courthouse and picketed downtown stores protesting alleged job discrimination.

SHOTGUN

Holloway said he had not ruled out the possibility of robbery as a motive for the attack on Smaw, but added, "I don't understand why they didn't kill him if they wanted to. There was a shotgun there."

Neither the Rev. A. T. Days, president of the Hale County Improvement Association, nor other civil rights leaders were available for comment.

Gov. George Wallace offered a $1,000 reward — the highest the state can offer — yesterday for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the attack.

Smaw, who lived alone, was discovered by a daughter who arrived at the farm about midmorning, according to Holloway. The deputy sheriff said the Negro apparently had been attacked early Saturday night.

Exam Sept. 1 in Shooting of City Officer

A Pontiac man accused of shooting a police officer on Aug. 16 will face examination in Municipal Court Sept. 1 on charges of felonious assault and assault with intent to commit murder.

Obie Peeples, 29, of 249 Orchard Lake was arraigned yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court following his release from Pontiac General Hospital.

Peeples is charged in connection with the shooting of Pontiac patrolman Robert Rowland, 40.

Peeples was also wounded during the gun battle in which the officer was injured.

Rowland is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police Raid Youth Party on Long Island

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Past the glow of the Japanese lanterns on the sloping lawn of the old farmhouse, 40 policemen waited in the shadows, while inside 300 youths whooped it up in an end-of-the-summer bash.

At 1:30 a.m. the cops crashed the party.

★ ★ ★

Some girls screamed and a few giggled, but the party was over. Police said the party was "hell-bent for booze, dope, sex and abandon."

Police hauled 21 of the youths to jail following the raid Wednesday. They booked 11 on narcotics charges and 10 for disorderly conduct.

MOTEL RAID

Earlier, police raided a motel at nearby Riverhead and charged five persons with supplying narcotics to the party.

This resort area near the end of Long Island was shaken again. Two years ago, youths wrecked a home at the coming out party of debutante Fernanda Wanamaker Wetherill.

★ ★ ★

Some at the Wednesday party were high on dope and liquor, police said, but most were not. Apparently only a small number were even aware of the presence of the narcotics, which included the hallucinatory drug LSD.

Police took the youngest merrymakers — many of them high school students — to the station house for their parents to be called.

SEVERE LECTURE

The parents and youngsters were given tongue-lashings at 5 a.m. by East Hampton Supervisor Edward V. Ecker and Capt. Donald F. Schmidt, who directed the raid.

"We all felt that this problem couldn't touch us in eastern Suffolk, (County)" said Ecker. "I strongly suggest that all parents take another long look at the activities of their children."

Said one officer: "Most of them seemed like nice enough kids, but there were some real crummy, beatnik types."

The house was rented for the summer by Emmett E. Boone III, a 27-year-old guitar player. He was charged with selling narcotics.

CHILD'S SWING

A half dozen or so people lived in the house, a neighbor said. Beside the house is a sprawling elm tree with an automobile tire hanging from it on a rope.

"It was the damnedest thing to see that kid's swing these last couple of months with one of those bearded guys swinging in it," the neighbor said.

Capt. Schmidt said narcotics activities in the area had been under investigation for months.

Reuther Urges Modernization of Benefits Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the AFL-CIO industrial union department, urged Congress Wednesday to modernize what he called "the horse and buggy" unemployment compensation law.

Testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee considering legislation to revise the law, Reuther said a pending administration-backed bill "aims a lethal blow at poverty in the land."

Reuther said six out of every 10 unemployed workers are not drawing unemployment compensation, and one out of every four workers will exhaust his right to benefits before finding another job.

Escaped Convict Who Fled to State Seeks Pardon

WARREN (AP)—A man who fled a Georgia prison camp and came to Michigan where he has led an exemplary life for more than two years has asked Georgia Gov. Carl E. Sanders for a pardon.

Attorneys for Jack Howard, 23, said they sent the request for a pardon to Sanders Wednesday.

Howard, whose real name is Jackie Lee Ford, said he fled a prison camp at Warm Springs, Ga., on Feb. 4, 1963, after other prisoners threatened him in the mistaken belief he had told authorities who had stabbed an inmate to death. Howard had been serving a burglary sentence.

He and his wife, Linda, 20, live in this Detroit suburb and expect their first child in October.

The city of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, celebrates its 400th anniversary this year.

Singapore Crushes Plot to Kill

SINGAPORE (AP) — Security police here have uncovered and smashed a Communist-Indonesian plot to assassinate government ministers and create violence and political trouble in this newly independent state, the government announced today.

One of the main aims of the plot was the assassination of Singapore's prime minister, Lee Kuan Yew, the announcement said. The Singapore organizer and 20 of his agents have been arrested, the government said. The leader was identified as Sim Siew Lin.

★ ★ ★

The statement said the plotting organization was called the People's Revolutionary party and claimed it has the backing of the Barisan Sosialis, a political party which has several members in Parliament.

It said Sim personally tried to blow up the entrance of the U.S. consulate here July 31 by placing a time bomb on a bicycle near the front of the building. The bomb was discovered and defused.

A few days after Singapore's separation from the Federation of Malaysia—Aug. 9—security police received information that the group was expecting a large consignment of guns, hand grenades and explosives from Indonesia at any moment, the government statement said.

GEMINI 5 BOOSTER RECOVERED — The first stage of the Titan II rocket that boosted the Gemini 5 astronauts into orbit is hoisted aboard the Navy destroyer USS Dupont yesterday. The booster, first U.S. man-in-space rocket to return to earth intact and be recovered, was spotted 640 miles southwest of Bermuda after Saturday's launch.

Johnson Soft-Pedals MOL War Potential

Some Astronauts May Be Switched to Military Space Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military may reclaim some of its astronauts from the civilian space program to fly its own Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) spacecraft.

That is one of the possibilities of the $1.5- billion project President Johnson has directed the Pentagon to put into full development.

* * *

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has been at pains to de-emphasize the fact that the larger part of its stable of astronauts are men who still hold commissions in the armed forces.

In a news briefing Wednesday by defense officials, newsmen asked if NASA astronauts might be used on some of the five flights of two-man crews to be conducted under the military's MOL program.

WAS CONCEIVABLE

An official replied that this was conceivable, adding that a number of the NASA astronauts are "professional military people."

The Johnson administration is wary about talking too much of the military aspects of the new space program.

* * *

Johnson, in announcing he had ordered Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to go forward with the MOL project, insisted that the "American dream for outer space is a dream of peace and a dream of friendly cooperation among all the nations of the earth."

He said, too, that this country intends to live up to the United Nations agreement not to orbit weapons of mass destruction.

EXISTING SYSTEMS

In this he had the immediate backing of Pentagon military scientists. Looking at the question of a purely tactical military viewpoint, some experts contend that mass destruction could be dealt out better with existing weapons systems.

Ballistic missiles, possessed by both the United States and the Soviet Union, can hit any point on earth with megaton warheads and with precision. There is no reason to believe nuclear weapons launched from expensive and comparatively vulnerable orbiting vehicles could do any better.

* * *

The aim of the MOL program, in which crews will fly about 30 days, is to find out what military man might be able to do in space that can't be done by the robot mechanisms of unmanned space vehicles. Experiments will include observations of earth or space objects.

The first unmanned test flights are scheduled to begin late next year or early in 1968 and the first of five scheduled test flights in 1968.

RED TERRITORY

Launches of the manned orbiting laboratories will be from both coasts, some at Cape Kennedy, Fla., and some at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

At the latter, the direction of launch will be at an angle which could take some of the passes over Soviet and Red Chinese territory. But Pentagon spokesmen noted that Soviet manned — and presumably unmanned — satellites overfly the United States and therefore any objection by the Soviet Union would be without basis.

* * *

Wednesday's announcement by Johnson at a White House news conference put a program which had been held to a mere study stage for at least two years into full operation. McNamara had recommended a go-ahead for the program.

The Air Force will carry out the program for the Defense Department.

French Plan to Test Experimental Train

PARIS (AP) — France's experimental aerotrain — a high-speed passenger carrier borne on an air cushion — will be tested before the end of the year by its French builders.

The first working model, built to half-size, will be put through its paces on a stretch of track outside Paris. Engineer Jean Bertin, who is designing the train, said the working model would be capable of 124 miles an hour.

Experimental Forecasts to Be Made Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau will make copies of its fall experimental forecasts available to anyone requesting them, says Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. They are due about the first week in September.

* * *

Kennedy has requested the bureau to make the forecasts available to provide as much information as possible about conditions affecting water supplies and drought control measures in the Northeast.

Hirohito Recalls MacArthur

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito, recalling the past 20 years since Japan's surrender Aug. 15, 1965, says one of the deepest impressions he has of the postwar years was his meetings with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme commander for the Allied powers.

★ ★ ★

"I met Field Marshal MacArthur 10 times and found him to be well-versed on Oriental thinking," the emperor, 64, said in reply to a question by Japanese reporters yesterday at his summer villa in Nasu.

★ ★ ★

"I found him to be a man who never forgot a promise and a man who always observed fidelity.

★ ★ ★

"It was most fortunate," the emperor said, "that such a man came to Japan."

Congressional Reform Bucks 2-Strike Edge

In the midst of one of the most crowded schedules of any peacetime Congress, that body found time to begin a major examination of its organization and operation — the first in 20 years and only the second in its history.

Like its counterpart in 1945, the committee established is expected to come up with a list of much-needed reforms. None of them, however, according to one lawmaker, will be very fundamental or far-reaching.

★ ★ ★

The reason is that the committee is laboring under the same prohibition of its predecessor: It may not recommend reforms regarding the rules, parliamentary procedures, practices or precedents of either house.

"Trying to reform Congress without revising and modernizing its rules and procedures," says Pennsylvania's Democratic Senator JOSEPH S. CLARK, "is like trying to cure a patient ill with appendicitis without operating. It can't be done."

The senator sees a worldwide historic trend, marked by the progressive gravitation of governmental power and initiative away from legislative into executive branches.

★ ★ ★

The American development of this trend has witnessed the increasingly negative role of Congress and the impairment of its power to act positively.

At the present time, the productivity of Congress is so high that we tend to ignore the creakings and groanings in its internal machinery, he says.

But this good record is due chiefly to two factors: A President whose skills in dealing with Congress are unprecedented, and the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both houses.

★ ★ ★

In CLARK's view, it is precisely because of these two factors that the time for congressional reform is now, lest the legislative branch decline into being nothing more than a rubber stamp or, at the opposite extreme, a roadblock.

Schools Finish First in N. H. Sweepstakes

Though the widespread acceptance of the New Hampshire (pop. 606,921) Sweepstakes may run counter to the general conception of New England puritanism, it coincides neatly with a basic trait of human nature, to wit, that a man would rather lay a bet than pay a tax.

As the date nears for the second running of the sweeps, the results of last year's participation by the State in horse racing provides interesting food for thought as well as disclosure of substantial rewards for a multitude of bettors.

The state-controlled lottery was legalized last year in lieu of an increase in school taxes to bolster a sagging state educational system.

According to a report, after deduction for prizes, Federal tax and operational expenses, the state's educational fund received 48.2 per cent of the $5.7 million ($2.3 million) realized from the sale of lottery tickets.

Enactment of the sweepstakes law in 1963 was in itself as much an upset as any that might be experienced at the track.

★ ★ ★

Advocated by nongambling Gov. John W. King, the first Democrat to hold the office in 40 years, the bill was passed by a Republican - dominated Legislature. Yet King was re-elected last fall, two months after the first sweepstakes was run, by the largest landslide ever (67 per cent of the vote) in the normally Republican state.

Obviously, one of the hazards of such a large-scale gambling enterprise would be its allure for the professional gambling and racketeering elements eager to move in on a good thing.

To guard against such penetration as well as political graft and corruption, which would inevitably doom the venture to public distrust and ultimate failure, a redoubtable former FBI agent with autocratic powers was entrusted with safeguarding the legitimacy of the sweepstakes.

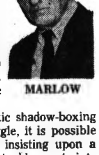
With virtually every state in the Union scraping the bottom of treasuries for operating funds, the incubation of the New Hampshire lottery was watched with keen interest across the Country.

Now that the hatch of dollars for the first year's operations has proved so bountiful, what has been passive interest may well flower into active promotion by other commonwealths of New Hampshire's plan of sugar-coated taxation.

Peace Prospects Still Dim for Viet

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — After U.S. Marines shattered the Viet Cong at Chu Lai last week the Johnson administration reportedly had hopes the North Vietnamese might now like to talk peace. The prospect still looks dismal.



MARLOW

In Moscow Tuesday the North Vietnamese Embassy laid down a condition that the United States must agree to a troop withdrawal from Viet Nam before there can be any negotiations.

Because of the diplomatic shadow-boxing on both sides in this struggle, it is possible the Communists were not insisting upon a troop withdrawal before talks got into negotiations.

That seems beside the point since the North Vietnamese contended they had not switched from the four points they laid down last April for any peace talks. The United States had rejected those conditions.

A timetable shows how the Viet Nam peace train has been running in a circle.

★ ★ ★

After President Johnson last Feb. 7 ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam the White House issued a statement:

KEY TO SITUATION

"The key to the situation remains the cessation of infiltration from North Viet Nam and the clear indication from the Hanoi regime that it is prepared to cease aggression against its neighbors."

Pressure built up on Johnson to say more. The pressure doubled when 17 nonaligned nations on April 1 called for immediate negotiations "without any precondition" for a solution.

Then on April 7 at Baltimore, Johnson made a speech in which the only precondition for peacetalks was that there be no conditions:

"There may be ways to find peace . . . we remain ready . . . for unconditional discussions."

On April 13 the North Vietnamese Reds produced their own program as a basis for negotiations.

Translated, this said the South Vietnamese must accept the Viet Cong as boss. South Viet Nam's refusal to do so is what the war is all about.

U. S. WILL STAY

And on April 17, Johnson said the United States intended to stay in Viet Nam "until independence is secure."

Ever since, while the war gets worse, not better, Johnson has been awaiting the word. What the North Vietnamese Embassy in Moscow said Tuesday is hardly the word.

LA Riots Show Double Standard

WASHINGTON — The federal government is failing to recognize that the right to live and to be free from injury to one's body or property is a "civil right" of both whites and Negroes in Los Angeles and elsewhere.

LAWRENCE

The U. S. attorney general now brushes off the recent riots as regrettable, but as having nothing to do with "civil rights."

The President has appointed a commission to "study" the sociological problems and recommend measures of correction.

But the fact remains that, if the riots had happened anywhere in the South, there would have been federal troops on the job as well as hundreds of FBI agents to run down the criminals and the instigators of the disturbances.

There would have been a massive utilization of the federal machinery of investigation and prosecution.

★ ★ ★

But now that National Guard units have been ordered into active service in California and several other non-Southern states, the Negro organizations have shifted the emphasis to the police chiefs, whose removal from command they have been demanding in various cities, including Los Angeles.

Was what happened in Los Angeles entirely a spontaneous affair, or were there malcontents who had something to do with preparing and directing the steps leading to the riots?

What has been done since to deter any future outbursts in that same area or in other parts of the United States?

Excuses and alibis on sociological grounds have been offered. Commissions have been appointed by the state as well as the federal government.

★ ★ ★

But what deterrent influences have actually been set in motion to warn hoodlums and demonstrators throughout the country that, if they commit crimes, they will be arrested and punished?

MANIPULATED

Many of the participants in the riots were, indeed, manipulated, if not directed, by outside organizations, some of the Communist type, as has been mentioned in several speeches in the Senate.

The major question still is whether the instigators of all this crime are to go free—the persons and organizations behind the riots who helped to fan the flames.

It is in this respect that the federal government has failed. If this had been in Mississippi or Alabama and a crime against a Negro or a "civil rights" worker had been committed, there would have been no hesitancy in using to the fullest extent the federal power of investigation and prosecution.

A great deal of rationalization about the power of the federal government to use the "interstate commerce" clause of the Constitution to protect civil rights has been heard in recent months.

Yet, in Los Angeles, where the property damage runs into the tens of millions, little is being done by the federal government to detect and prosecute those who inflicted severe damage on businesses in California engaged in interstate commerce.

Evidently there is discrimination in law enforcement, too, and the federal power is being used on a selective or arbitrary basis.

Bob Considine Says:

Koufax Took a Chance in Giant-Dodger Fracas

NEW YORK — Sandy Koufax, the greatest pitcher in baseball, exhibited commendable esprit de corps when he rushed up to home plate to intervene in that duel being waged by Juan Marichal's bat and John Roseboro's skull.

CONSIDINE

Koufax might have been badly hurt by the deranged Marichal. If he had been, National League President Warren Giles surely would have thrown the book at Marichal.

As it was, Giles fined him $1,750 and suspended him for eight days for his attack or counterattack on Roseboro. If Koufax also had been skulled, the fine might have run 'way up there around $2,000 and as much as 10 days suspension.

Actually nothing much ever comes of baseball fights. Ballplayers have too keen a commercial sense to engage in such nonprofitable physical endeavors.

★ ★ ★

It is not so much they lack guts, but ordinarily they stop far short of massive mayhem because they realize they might injure a hand, elbow, shoulder, knee or foot—and by doing so cast a smog over their future earnings.

The Giants-Dodgers mix was the liveliest rhubarb the big leagues have seen in years. Total damage: three stitches.

Fie on the stuffed shirt who decided not to let the wives of astronauts Cooper and Conrad gab with their husbands in space.

Nothing humanized the astronaut clan more than the delightful repartee between the McDivitts and the Whites during the Gemini 4 shot.

Mrs. McDivitt's admonition to her husband, "You be good," as he steered the $5-million spacecraft high over Texas at 17,500 miles per hour must rank among the great exchanges between man and wife.

★ ★ ★

(Sample: "What happened, Ginsberg?" Estelle Taylor wept as her husband Jack Dempsey, just beaten and battered by Gene Tunney for the championship of the world, returned to their Philadelphia hotel suite. Jack said, "Honey, I forgot to duck.")

During the Korean War Miss Louise Gordon of Brooklyn (N. Y.) wrote a 3,200-foot letter to her boyfriend Pvt. Don Reiss. It was written on an adding machine roll that stretched out six-tenths of a mile. Uncle Sam paid the postage.

You'd think he could at least now permit Mesdames Cooper and Conrad to say on the pipe, "Hello, Baby, how's the weather up there?"

Voice of the People:

Good Samaritans Aided Auto Accident Victims

Earlier this year there was considerable comment regarding accidents when passersby refused assistance to those in need. There have also been reports of inept emergency treatment in hospitals, and police bunglings.

★ ★ ★

We were recently involved in a three-car collision and have only praise and heartfelt thanks for the passerby who quickly came to help; the Bloomfield Township Police who responded promptly with alert, most considerate assistance; the ambulance crews who were also prompt and obliging; the tow car drivers; and finally, the emergency personnel at Pontiac General Hospital who functioned as a well-trained, well-equipped, efficient team and at the same time were pleasant and considerate.

We think the public should know of the Good Samaritans who still help their fellowman.

More Comments on Streamlining Religion

Mr. Bordern seeks to have religion streamlined and brought up to date. The church is not a place to which we go for a two-minute injection of Christianity; nor is it an assembly line operation. Faith is not something that can be automated and timed.

Religion has given so many so much, why not return the time and thought that it deserves. Leave the split-second schedules to factories.

C. ROWE
LAKE ORION

I am sure Mr. Borden's letter must have been written in jest. God Himself commanded us to keep the Sabbath Day holy. As far as religion being out of date, I read in my Bible that Jesus is the same yesterday, today and forever. We who know His matchless love do not feel that He requires too much of our time for He is the main purpose of our lives.

DOROTHY McGINNIS
235 HIGH

What makes Mr. Borden believe a streamlined religion would attract any more people to church services? More good can be wrought by good example and regular conscientious church attendance than by printed prayers, never read; "canned" music; quickie, unmeaningful services; and (heaven forbid) payroll deductions.

'Enemies Within Are Part of a Conspiracy'

Democracy keeps throwing us back a little farther each year upon the necessity of intelligent public opinion as the chief agent of social reconstruction and social control.

All thinking Americans, along with the peoples of the world, must realize that enemies within are part of a conspiracy that has been operating for a long time. Sanctity of human life seems to be a thing of past power-hungry, dead pagans.

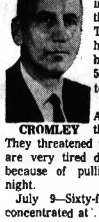
Diary Tells V. C. Hamlet Tactics

BY RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—These are excerpts from a diary kept by the chief of a Viet Nam hamlet in government territory. The entries illustrate one man's day-to-day frustrations in dealing with the Viet Cong. There are 150 houses in the hamlet, in three 50-home clusters."



CROMLEY

July 7 — Around 9 p.m. the V.C. came. They threatened the people. We are very tired during the day because of pulling guard at night.

July 9—Sixty-four V.C. are concentrated at . . . to sabotage our hamlet. They have two armed platoons and some unarmed Peoples Forces who put barricades on the road. They have warned us they will destroy our hamlet.

July 11—It has been several days since the V.C. last infiltrated. This is due to our placing day and night ambushes at weak points. The local people have been giving us good intelligence so we could know three hours before a V.C. attack or infiltration. But V.C. threats continue.

July 12—Yesterday the V.C. went through the rice field in the back of our village to destroy the school, but we discovered them in time.

July 14—Two V.C. political action men, one with white clothes, one with a white shirt and black trousers, entered the hamlet at eight last night and left at five this morning. We could not find where they hid.

July 16—We have been broadcasting for V.C. to give themselves up. We use the name of the man who has left his family and followed the V.C. We go right to his family and ask his mother, wife or father to call him back to live with his family.

July 17—The V.C. are again sending political cadres to housing cluster No. 3.

July 19—The V.C. are organizing (hamlet) children in a liaison net. There children use a hand toy gun made of wood to signal the V.C. when our troops are in the vicinity. At night the children use signal lights while pretending to catch frogs.

★ ★ ★

July 21—(out of 50 families) in housing cluster No. 3, seven have decided to join our side. Sixteen families have relatives in the V.C. Five have members working as V.C. informants and liaison agents; we watch their homes at night.

Have recruited six people for intelligence work. School boys have been organized. They give good information. We continue to set ambushes.

July 22—Around 3 a.m. the V.C. infiltrated, gave bundles of leaflets to their liaison men . . . and placed a flag in the hamlet. The V.C. threatened to attack in 10 days.

July 23—Wives of four of the 10 five-family group chiefs in housing cluster No. 3 brought in their husband's resignations. They said the V.C. came during the night and threatened them about working for the authorities. Persuaded the four to reconsider.

During the early morning the V.C. came again.

July 26—Our intelligence men report some people in the hamlet are drawing a sketch of the combat youth's positions and the administration office for the V.C. so they could study attack techniques . . .

Our hamlet has organized 12 combat youths. We need more guns to arm these men.

July 28—People from housing cluster No. 3 still listen to the V.C. They pass out leaflets for the V.C. They continue to make contact with the V.C. They do not work for us.

July 30—At about nine last night a V.C. infiltrated into the hamlet to murder (hamlet officials). He shot at Mr. . . . and Mr. . . . .During the past week, (we were) twice informed the V.C. would attack along the back fence.

July 31—We were informed that 15 V.C. agents were building a post on the back end of the hamlet. We told the pacification security forces and loaned them a boat. They captured several V.C. dressed as farmers.

Aug. 3—A V.C. platoon is camped in the foliage at the end of the hamlet.

Again to Air Land Costs by Capitol

LANSING (AP)—A legislative hearing into the high cost of state-acquired property near the Capitol was to resume today.

The hearing followed disclosure that the $1,010,875 price of 45 parcels in the two-block area adjacent to the Capitol was about $160,000 higher than the appraised price.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State James Hare said only 14 of the 45 parcels involved were acquired for the value fixed by professional appraisers.

The land is being used for construction of state buildings. The state administrative board worked out price settlements to avoid a lengthy court battle over condemnation.

INFLATES PRICES

Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, head of the investigating committee, said the procedure of "splitting the difference" with property owners inflates land prices and is unfair to property owners who settle with the state at the appraised price.

★ ★ ★

State Controller Glenn Allen, who negotiated the final four parcel purchases for $56,900 above the appraisals, was to testify today.

★ ★ ★

Allen had followed precedent set earlier by the administrative board in seeking compromise. The board had approved two purchases at more than 60 per cent above appraisal and two others at more than 40 per cent above.

State Treasurer Sanford Brown said the negotiated settlement pattern was also followed seven years ago in earlier acquisition of Capitol area property.

Ask Evidence Be Excluded

Say Accused Slayer Was Not Protected

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Defense attorneys are seeking to suppress two statements by a small college football star and other evidence gathered by government agents in connection with the bloodiest bank robbery of modern times.

Duane E. Pope, 22, of rural Roxbury, Kan., has pleaded innocent in U. S. District Court here.

He is charged in federal grand jury indictments with the June 4 robbery and triple slaying at the Farmers State Bank of Big Springs, Neb.

Pope's court-appointed lawyers, former Nebraska Gov. Robert Crosby and University of Nebraska law professor Wallace Rudolph, said in a motion yesterday that Pope was "incapable of making a free and voluntary statement" on June 12-13, the days federal officers took their statements.

* * *

Rudolph, who signed the motion, also asked that a Derringer, a high-powered rifle, and a 22-caliber revolver with a silencer belonging to Pope be excluded from court evidence.

ITEMS LISTED

Also listed in the request for suppression were a sport coat, trousers, and other clothing of Pope's and "an iron plate cut from a dozer blade."

"All the various items . . . were obtained by the government agents because of information supplied them by the defendant and are the fruits of illegal interrogation and involuntary statements," the motion said.

"The failure of the government agents to provide counsel or to obtain for him the advice of family or friends before questioning him about a crime carrying the death penalty was in violation of his right to counsel and his right against self-incrimination," the motion said.

* * *

Pope, a June graduate of McPherson (Kan.) College where he was a football star, surrendered to police in Kansas City, Mo., after telephoning his college president, Dr. D. W. Bittinger.

Rudolph asked for a Sept. 3 hearing on yesterday's motion. The same day has been set by U. S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt for arguments on a defense motion that persons opposed to the death penalty be allowed to serve on the Pope jury.

Romney, Legislators Meet Today to View Tax Plans

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney and legislators may be whipping a dead issue today when they meet in efforts to agree on a new revenue program that would include a state income tax.

Reports are that there is scant legislative support for passage of any tax or fiscal reform program when the legislature reconvenes Sept. 14.

Even Romney had admitted it would be "a miracle" if such a program passes.

Nevertheless, Romney and about 20 legislators hope to draft one tax program from two pending proposals and then submit it to party caucuses.

★ ★ ★

The agreed-on plan would raise about $200 million in new revenue by June 1968 to offset increased state costs that Romney claims will soon erase the current cash surplus.

Among the decisions to be made today were whether the tax package should call for:

- A 2 or 3 per cent state income tax;
- A 3 or 4 per cent corporate tax;
- A 10 per cent income tax credit as property tax relief;
- A use tax;
- A liberalization of the intangibles tax;

Legislators said both plans called for a 3-cent-per-package increase in the state cigarette tax and a $12 income tax credit for each member of the family in lieu of a repeal of the sales tax on food and drugs.

The income tax would carry exemptions for each family member of either $500 to $1,000, they said.

Romney and the legislators, who were selected by party leaders, were to study the city income taxes in effect in Detroit, Flint, Hamtramck and Saginaw. Some refund to these communities would be called for in the event of a statewide income tax.

CHANGE CONSTITUTION

Senate Majority Leader Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, expressed doubt about the need for new taxes, particularly in view of the estimated $127 million surplus in the state treasury.

"I think with cool heads and cool spending and fiscal responsibility, we could stave off new taxes for a number of years," he said.

Many other legislators, even some of those who attended tax reform conferences with Romney on Mackinac Island earlier this month, have expressed the same feeling.

Many Democrats reportedly favor proposing a constitutional change to allow a graduated state income tax and a chance to read the public sentiment from the results of a vote on the proposal.

PARTY MEMBERS

Both Dzendzel and House Speaker Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, have promised to let party members decide independently on revenue programs submitted by the conferees.

But Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the House General Taxation Committee, said "both Kowalski and Dzendzel are under considerable pressure from party members who don't want to take action this year."

Montgomery, one of the leaders among the tax plan conferees, said he was "not committed" to support or reject any proposals even though he is an avowed "tax reformist."

He added, "I don't see where there is a great deal of concession to the Democratic viewpoint" in current proposals.

Sen. George S. Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe, chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, has said the constitution must be amended to permit a graduated income tax before an "equitable income tax would be possible."

Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, one of the leading advocates of tax reform, tacitly admitted a lack of support when he suggested the possibility of a "flip-flop" in legislative feeling before the upcoming session.

Feared Riot in N.J. Ends Peacefully

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Police rushed reinforcements into the predominently Negro section of Elizabethport early today after several carloads of Negro youths drove through hurling gasoline bombs, stones and bottles.

Fire bombs were tossed through about four store windows, but the flaming gasoline was quickly extinguished. Fire engines responding to the scene were stoned, police said.

Two policemen suffered minor burns in putting out one of the fires and were released after treatment. No other injuries were reported, police said.

The section, near the waterfront in the New York harbor area, was the scene of three nights of serious racial disturbances last summer.

★ ★ ★

The situation today eased at about 2 a.m. when a crowd of some 200 persons quietly cleared off the streets. "We were keeping our fingers crossed," a police lieutenant said. "We had some tense moments there."

NO ARRESTS

There were no arrests, he said.

The disturbances began shortly after 10 last night when several cars sped through the area.

People later clustered in small groups along a seven-block stretch of First Street, the main business district of Elizabethport. Patrol cars and foot patrolmen made no efforts to disperse the groups.

★ ★ ★

The night shift of the Second Precinct — which covers the area — was held over and patrol cars from other sections of the city were ordered into Elizabethport.

A police official said the incidents were "like a hit-and-run affair. There were no leaders or organization."

Immigration Bill Faces Tougher Test in Senate After House OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would end the controversial immigration policy based on national origins has sailed through the House but faces tougher going in the Senate.

The House passed the bill Wednesday night by a 318-95 vote after beating back a Republican-led attempt to limit immigration from the Western Hemisphere.

* * *

The Republicans won a brief victory when their amendment to hold immigration from North and South America to 115,000 a year was adopted by a non-record vote of 156 to 154. Democratic stragglers were quickly rounded up, however, and the action was reversed by a roll call vote of 218 to 189.

The bill is expected to increase present immigration, which averages about 300,000 a year, by an estimated total of 50,000.

PROMPT ACTION

A Senate subcommittee headed by opponents of the measure is due to meet today to consider a course of action. President Johnson has urged prompt action this session and Wednesday summoned Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to the White House for a discussion that reportedly dealt mainly with the bill.

Johnson has called "shameful" the present system that seeks to preserve the population balance of the United States 45 years ago by assigning quotas to nations based on the number of U.S. citizens in 1920 who could trace their national origins to that country. England and Germany get more than half the 158,000 total visas now authorized.

* * *

Much of the immigration that makes up the present total is not subject to quota restriction. On the other hand, many quota spaces go unused year after year because they are allocated to countries whose residents are not immigrating in large numbers. At the same time, other countries have long waiting lists for the relatively small quotas allocated to them.

In place of the individual national quotas, the bill would authorize, starting July 1, 1968, a total of 170,000 visas a year, to be distributed among all nations on a first-come, first-served basis, according to guidelines that favor close relatives of U.S. citizens.

* * *

A limit of 20,000 would be imposed on each nation, which will mean a cutback for England and Germany. England, with an annual quota of 65,000, sends about 26,000 of its natives each year to the United States. Germany's average is about 25,000 a year, which is its quota.

PRESENT LAW

Both the present law and the proposed one exempt Western Hemisphere nations from any quotas, and the GOP attempt to alter that policy led to the only real fight on the bill.

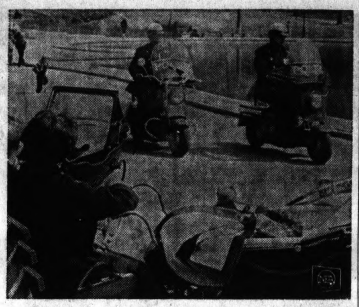
Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., offered the amendment to fix a 115,000 limit and won the nearly solid support of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

* * *

He said permitting unrestricted immigration from the Western Hemisphere while imposing a 20,000 limit on England and Germany would continue the discrimination against nations that the bill was designed to end.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., leading the fight for the bill, said MacGregor's amendment would undercut U.S. foreign policy and cost the United States friends at a time of national peril.

Australia is almost exactly the same size as mainland United States.



SCOOTER PATROL — Latest additions to the New York City Police Department's war on crime are these one-cylinder motor scooters, used to patrol Central Park. Officials feel the scooters, which enable police to get around the park faster, are an effective deterrent to crime in the area.

Disc Jockey Confined, Deputies Hunt Keys

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Steve Stone, a radio disc jockey, was touring the new Summit County jail with a group. He wandered into a cell — and the automatic-locking door slammed shut.

Stone was confined for more than three hours while deputies hunted for keys for the new — and until then — unused cells.

Meeting Marks Start of Ashland Grange

GRANT, Mich. (UPI) — The Ashland Grange turned back the clock to celebrate its founding 90 years ago.

At a meeting marking the group's start in 1875, oil lamps lit the table for the potluck supper and members wore old-fashioned garb.

Bits of Grange history gleaned from minutes of long-ago meetings were read.

The program ended with square dancing.

SPARED SANCTUARY — Adams County, Ind., farmer Menno Eicher's miniature church holds a Bible which the devout Mennonite reads while resting from work in the fields. On returning to his home after a tornado, he found church and Bible had come through unscathed though large trees were shattered in the surrounding grove.

Field Worker on Wrong Job

PRETTY PRAIRIE, Kan. (AP) — Cecil Siebert went to his field to sow wheat and found the job already taken.

Eric Zacharias told Siebert he had been hired to sow the wheat.

★ ★ ★

After further conversation it developed that Zacharias was working in the wrong field. Siebert hadn't hired anyone.

The number of people in the United States who die as a result of motor vehicle accidents each year — about 44,000, is roughly the same as the lung-cancer toll.

Russia Unlikely to Accept Invitation to Launch

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union has not been inclined to cooperate closely with the United States in space.

So, U.S. diplomats in Moscow say, it is unlikely a Russian representative will accept President Johnson's invitation to observe the Gemini 6 launching in October.

★ ★ ★

Johnson said at a news conference Wednesday in Washington that the United States would invite the Soviet Academy of Science "to send a very high-level representative to observe the launching of Gemini 6."

Christopher C. Kraft, Gemini flight director, said he would welcome a Russian scientist to follow the course of the flight. Kraft also said he'd give anything for a chance to observe a Russian flight.

KEPT SECRET

Diplomats in Moscow noted that Soviet correspondents in the United States decline invitations to Cape Kennedy.

The reason apparently is reluctance to be put in the position of having to return the favor by inviting Americans to observe Russian space launchings, which are kept secret until after the spacecraft are launched.

AP Photofax

FLYING FAMILY — Cam Cooper, 16-year-old daughter of astronaut L. Gordon Cooper, sits in the cockpit of the private plane she is learning to fly. Her lesson yesterday was called off due to rain in Houston, Tex. She has been flying only a short time and has not had her solo flight.

The United States and Russia have cooperated in only two limited fields in space. They have traded information from weather satellites, and last year scientists of the two nations bounced radio signals off the Echo 2 communications satellite.

The Soviets have been releasing, in recent months, more information to the world about their man-in-space flights, especially medical results.

MILITARY SECRECY

The United States has opened the books to everyone with results of its manned flights and unmanned scientific satellites, but maintains secrecy over its military satellites.

Russian scientists began last year sending larger delegations to international space meetings.

The Soviets have used the international gatherings to attack a pet peeve. The Communications Satellite Corp., a consortium of more than 50 countries headed by the United States.

Comsat, as the group is called, has launched one satellite and hopes to have a global network within a few years.

Moscow doesn't like the idea of the United States having the controlling say in a corporation which, in effect, will have a monopoly on the most efficient international communications system devised by man.

Some Comsat nonmembers, primarily the Afro-Asian group, advocate control by the United Nations or the International Telecommunications Union.

EMBROILED IN POLITICS

The United States wants to keep space issues out of the United Nations where it would become embroiled in politics. It feels they should be in the hands of international scientific unions.

★ ★ ★

The United States and Russia, however, were prime supporters of a U.N. resolution passed in 1963 which states that exploration of outer space should be for the benefit of all mankind; outer space and celestial bodies are free for use by all states and not subject to appropriation by any one state, and space activities shall be governed by international law.

★ ★ ★

The United Nations also serves as a clearing house for space information gathered by satellites and probes.

U.S. and Soviet scientists have made close contact at international conferences. During a meeting at Warsaw last year, they joined with representatives of several other countries to propose a joint moon base laboratory manned by many nationalities.

★ ★ ★

Even then, there was a bit of American-Russian discord. The United States wants to build the base on the surface and the Soviets want it buried.

They plan to discuss it further at next month's International Astronautical Congress in Greece.

Taylor: Viet Victory Is a Matter of Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Our victory in Viet Nam is just a matter of playing out the game," Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said here Wednesday. "We have the forces; our resources are vastly superior. Time is with us."

As the former ambassador to South Viet Nam spoke before the Commonwealth Club, about 50 pickets marched outside the Fairmont Hotel with signs attacking U.S. military policy in Viet Nam.

CAR-BUILDING ACCIDENT — Three persons lost their apartment above a drug store in St. Paul, Minn., yesterday when the building was hit by a car. The auto skidded on rain-slicked pavement, clipped off a street light and struck the store. Two women driving the car were hurt by falling debris. Three occupants of the apartment were minus a wall and had to move.

In Pakistani Kashmir

Indians Deepen Penetration

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian forces have advanced deeper into the Pakistani sector of Kashmir in their drive to cut off guerrillas infiltrating the Indian-held part of the Himalayan state, an informed source said today.

"We are not after territory," the source said. "Our sole objective is to cut off the infiltration of guerrillas."

* * *

The informant said the advance took place in the Tithwal sector, just a few miles from Muzaffarabad, capital of the Pakistani sector of Kashmir.

* * *

The Indian government radio claimed the initial drive across the cease-fire line Tuesday had created panic in some villages on the Pakistani side and some of them were being evacuated.

TWO POSITIONS

The Indians said they had seized two positions a mile and 300 yards inside Pakistani territory. One position overlooks the Lipa Valley, which India claims has been a primary route for the guerrillas.

* * *

The Indians first advanced across the cease- fire line Aug. 15 when they took Pakistani positions in the Kargil sector. New Delhi said then it was a move to protect the supply routes to Indian troops facing the Red Chinese in Ladakh.

* * *

Official reports in Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital, said about 1,000 Indian soldiers supported by artillery attacked two isolated Pakistani posts in the Tithwal sector Wednesday morning. The Pakistani forces evacuated the positions and moved to alternate positions, the reports said.

* * *

The Kashmiri guerrilla radio claimed Wednesday night that guerrillas had killed 195 Indian soldiers during the previous 24 hours in their biggest attack since the fighting started.

GUERRILLA CLAIM

The guerrillas killed 120 Indians when they ambushed an army convoy and destroyed 25 trucks, the radio claimed.

Pakistan claims it has nothing to do with the guerrillas, whom it describes as "Kashmiri Moslems revolting against Hindu India."

* * *

Kashmir is divided between India and Pakistan along a U.N. cease-fire line established in 1949. Both countries claim all of the state.

Guerrilla fighting erupted Aug. 5 and regular army attacks and artillery duels started Aug. 15.

* * *

U.N. observers were virtually chased off the battlefield months ago by both sides. They number only 45 and had been unable to stall the fighting.

The chief observer, Lt. Gen. R. H. Nimmo of Australia, left Kashmir Wednesday to report to U.N. Secretary General U Thant in New York.

Hearing Slated on Hike Sought by Blue Cross

LANSING (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Allen Mayerson has announced a public hearing in Detroit Sept. 8 on a 5.75 per cent rate increase asked by Blue Cross.

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a. m. in the City-County Building.

Mayerson said the hearing will be open to the public, but asked that those wishing to make formal presentations apply to his office in writing for a time allotment.

The proposed increase would affect about 650,000 subscribers of Blue Cross. Contracts held by senior citizens would not be affected.

World Attorneys' Parley to Campaign for Peace Through Law

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We have got to live together or we are going to die together."

That's the basic idea behind a world conference of lawyers, meeting here Sept. 12-18, as worded by the chief promoter of the meeting, Charles S. Rhyne.

* * *

Rhyne, 53, a Washington lawyer who was the youngest president the American Bar Association has had, expects 2,000 lawyers and judges from more than 100 nations.

There was a similar, but smaller, meeting in Athens, Greece, in 1963. It helped lay the basis for this year's drive for the acceptance of world law as a substitute for world war.

GREAT ADVENTURE

Rhyne put the purpose this way:

"We must substitute court dockets for death-dealing rockets, briefs for bombs, words for warheads, and court decisions for bloody devastation of the battlefield.

"This great adventure is primarily a lawyer's job. Either we do the major work or it will not be done at all.

* * *

"It is not primarily a job for engineers, scientists or ministers of the gospel, even though law is crystallized public opinion and we need public support.

"Divorce lawyers, criminal lawyers, corporate lawyers, tort lawyers, tax lawyers, every type of lawyer in small towns and big cities are now engaged in this joint enterprise."

FIRST MOBILIZATION

And Rhyne added to an interviewer:

"I really believe it's the first such mobilization ever. I feel encouraged from previous meetings. They built up a sort of dialogue on a worldwide basis, a kind of reservoir of friendship.

"When we started grinding out concrete proposals like the low-level courts, arbitration tribunals, lawyers around the world began to see we were not just using words."

The low-level courts would be set up by two or more neighboring nations. Their judges would be men familiar with the particular area, and the courts would be easily accessible for quick settlement of cases.

Experience with such courts, Rhyne said, could foster "the knowledge and confidence for further expansion and refinement of a truly world system of courts."

OFFICIAL NAME

The official name of the 1965 meeting is the "Washington World Conference on World Peace Through Law." Rhyne is chairman and Chief Justice Earl Warren is honorary chairman.

Those taking part will include some from behind the Iron Curtain but probably none from the Soviet Union.

* * *

The delegates, while many of them are the top justices in their countries, will attend in private, rather than official, capacities.

The conference, aided by U.S. foundations, corporations and contributions from individual lawyers, is putting up $465,000 for expenses.

The chairman of World Law Day is Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota. The honorary chairman is the chief justice of Japan, Kisaburo Yokota.

"Now is a good time to meet," Rhyne told a reporter. "I believe more thinking is going on now than ever before on this one subject: How can we live together and avoid war?

"The answer is: Law does it within nations, it can do it in the whole world community.

"The old saying 'There ought to be a law' is being said more and more internationally."

* * *

Rhyne stresses that he and his fellow lawyers are not advocating a world legislature to make law, but are striving for international agreements.

IN 20 YEARS

The United Nations, he said, has generated more law in 20 years than had been generated in the whole earlier history of man.

Rhyne is a pleasant, persuasive man, born in North Carolina and educated in law at George Washington University after undergraduate study at Duke University.

His crisp, curly gray hair falling over his forehead and his finger pointing in traditional court room style, Rhyne rebutted arguments that the United States would be giving up sovereignty by agreeing to go along with world law.

"When it comes to international agreements," he said, "it is not a question of giving up sovereignty.

USE SOVEREIGNTY

"You don't give it up. You use it to get something you don't have.

* * *

"The United States belongs to 1,432 treaties. One is the postal convention, through which you can send a letter any place. When we signed up we didn't give up our sovereignty. We used it to get the right to send letters in other countries, so we got something. We could, of course, quit tomorrow. Our letters would stay home."

The movement for world peace through law began with a report by a special committee of the American Bar Association in 1958, of which former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was chairman. Rhyne, becoming president of the ABA that year, made the planning for this movement his principal project.

Here is the broad field of subjects now up for discussion:

The World Court, lower-level courts, arbitration tribunals, international law in domestic courts, international communications, space law, laws affecting human rights, international judicial cooperation, disarmament, protection of patents, trademarks and copyrights, and problems peculiar to corporations which operate in several nations.

Another major item is where to locate the permanent headquarters of the movement. Rome, Vienna and The Hague are among the most talked-of possibilities.

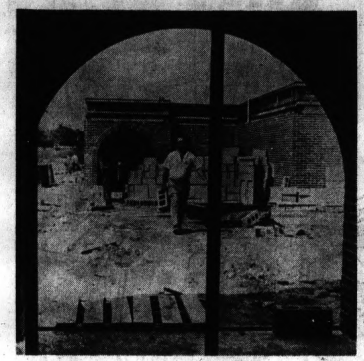
School Features Unique Architecture



FARMINGTON — A glance will tell you that Larkshire Elementary School's kitchen is not its only unique feature.

Now that the building actually has taken shape on Tuck Road, the wing which will house a kitchen serving five schools is hardly noticeable.

The kitchen will provide hot lunches for about 700 youngsters.

That's a first.

★ ★ ★

But the feature of the school which attracts the eye is the extensive use of arches.

DESIGNED BUILDING

William Demiene, architect with Linn Smith Associates, Inc., of Birmingham, designed the building.

He said the school exemplifies the current trend away from the use of large amounts of glass, through which comes natural light that is "very difficult to control."

The arches extend four feet out from five-by-eight windows.

★ ★ ★

The roofed-over area provides a form of sun protection and cuts glare on blackboards.

FRAMING VIEW

"Essentially what we were doing is framing the view," Demiene said. "As you look out, the arch gives you something to relate to between you and the ourdoors."

The arch, he noted, is a "classic method of building an opening and, aesthetically, a beautiful form."

The basic problem the architect faced was to design corridors with rooms on both sides and yet not include any courtyards.

The result of his work is an H-shaped building, plus the kitchen wing, with eight-foot ceilings in the classrooms and corridors and 15-foot ceilings in the central portion.

IN CROSSBAR

In the crossbar of the H are the multipurpose room, library and cafeteria.

For the classrooms, the best arrangement is to put the window in the middle of the wall to eliminate glare, Demiene said.

With an artificial light source, the light can be controlled. In Larkshire, it will be aided by off-white walls.

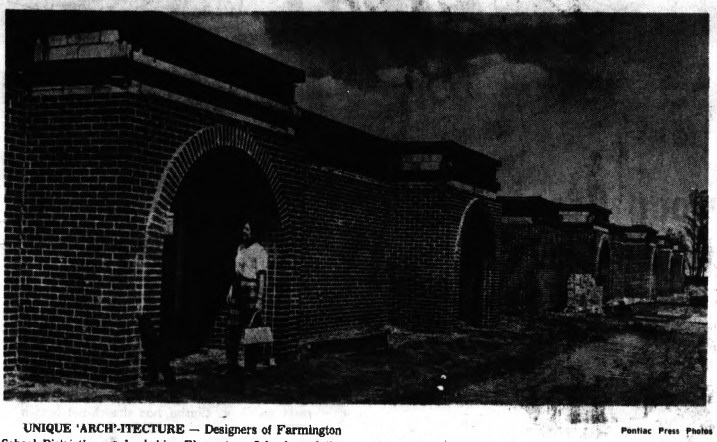
Control of light was one of the central factors in turning the trend away from large expanses of glass.

"We found that the teachers turn the lights on and leave them on all day anyway," Demiene said. "The window at this time has become merely something to look out of to see what the weather's like."



Pontiac Press Photos

UNIQUE 'ARCH'-ITECTURE — Designers of Farmington School District's new Larkshire Elementary School used the classic arch as a distinctive feature on the exterior of the building. Mrs. Harry Seliers, 28760 Omenwood, Farmington Township, gets a close-up preview of the building in which she will teach third grade classes. She stands at the front of the school which faces Tuck Road. The top photo is a view from the interior of the building, now being completed by construction workers.

Builder Finances Paving of Street

TROY — The Biltmore Development Co. has agreed to advance the city money required to expedite the paving of Coolidge from Derby to Big Beaver.

Biltmore wants the city to take bids on the project as soon as possible so that work can be completed this year.

Norman Cohen of the Development firm has agreed that his company will loan money to the city to pay a contractor, if the money is needed before bonds are sold.

City Manager Paul York said the total cost of the project will be about $88,000 to be paid by special assessment.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission has authorized York to advertise for bids.

Avon May Qualify for Federal Funds Under 702 Program

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board was informed last night that upon proper application it may qualify for funds under the 702 A or C program for construction of water and sewer projects.

The township has been conducting preliminary studies of water and sewer projects under the 702 plan, which is a program for advancing loans to municipalities for public works planning of a specific project.

The amount of funds needed will be determined when Supervisor Cyril E. Miller receives the guidelines from the Chicago office.

In other action last night, the board received a petition from 21 families near York Street protesting the "ugly mess" between Dunning and Woodcrest roads.

They object to the old box car which has been used in the past for living quarters by numerous families who move in and out without the township's knowledge.

TO TAKE ACTION

Miller was instructed to take proper action after he receives a recommendation from the building inspector.

A petition was also received from residents of Rochdale who object to the rezoning of the Frankel property on the west side of Livernois south of Rochester High School.

Rezoning of the 27 acres from general farm to multiple residence is being sought.

The Township Board filed the objection until it receives a recommendation from the Township Zoning Board.

RECOMMEND DENIAL

The regional planning commission recommended denial of the request Tuesday night.

The request is scheduled to come before the Township Zoning Board on Sept. 15.

In Rochester

Planning Funds OK'd

ROCHESTER — The 701 regional planning program was assured continuity by the Village Council's recent approval of its share in the joint program between Avon Township and Rochester.

The 701 program authorizes the federal government to grant monies to municipalities for development planning, with the government's share amounting to two-thirds of the total and the municipality putting up one-third.

Rochester's share of the $13,810 program is $1,732.70. The Township's share, 33,217-30, was approved by the township board last month.

The study consists of three phases:

- An educational phase to acquaint residents with the program.
- Setting up an over-all plan involving detailed site plans, offstreet parking and other renovations.
- Updating and revising township zoning.

To Introduce New Teacher

CLARKSTON — Taras Hubicki, newly appointed instructor of violin at the Clarkston Conservatory of Music, will be introduced to the community at a concert Sunday afternoon.

The garden concert will be held at "The Spillway," Clarkston home of Mrs. Frank Lambert, 43 N. Main, beginning at 4 p.m.

Hubicki is honorary representative of the Royal Academy of Music, London, England, and licentiate of the Royal Schools of Music.

He is affiliated with the Meadow Brook School of Music and serves as instructor at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music.

★ ★ ★

As a violist with the Detroit Symphony, Hubicki's accomplishments have made him a leading personage in the musical field.

175 County Youths Will Attend Annual State 4-H Show at MSU

More than 175 Oakland County 4-H youngsters will participate in the 50th annual State 4-H Show Aug. 30 - Sept. 2 at Michigan State University.

More than 5,000 club members from throughout the state are expected to take part in the affair, which marks the climax of 4-H activities for the year.

About 3,000 will be housed on campus during the four-day program.

Oakland County 4-H members won the right to participate in the state show during the spring achievement program in March and the recent county 4-H fair.

The MSU program will include a wide variety of activities, summarized as follows:

- "Action" exhibits in which the member shows and/or tells an audience what he has done in a 4-H project.
- "Static" exhibit, a display of the 4-H'er's work.
- Demonstrations in which a member teaches a simple skill, idea or practice to an audience.
- Contests — nearly two dozen will be conducted for 4-H members during the show.
- Tours — 16 will be conducted around the campus for members, leaders and parents.
- Evaluations — individual conferences will be conducted for about 4,000 participants to discuss progress and development.
- Educational meetings — 21 training meetings will be held for leaders, members and parents.
- Evening programs featuring 4-H talent and recognition of state show participants and friends of 4-H.

ONLY ONE

The state show is the only one of its kind in this country that is held on a university campus.

The first one was held in 1915 as a part of the State Fair. It was moved to the MSU campus when World War II forced cancellation of the State Fair.

Fashion shows, modern bands, folk singing, special acts, and career talks will be featured on Avenue A-Go-Go, the Michigan State Fair's new feature designed especially for the teenagers. The fair opens Aug. 27 and runs through Sept. 6.

Rebellious Youth Red Problem, Too

NEW YORK (NEA)—The Communist press has been forced to admit after years of silence that rebellious youth is as baffling a problem in the closed Red society as it is in the West.

The conflict of generations — that head-on clash between old and new when youth steps over the threshold of maturity —has brought consternation to the Red leaders.

The Marxist-Leninist dogma did not prepare them to meet the challenge of youth.

The Communist doctrine always insisted that the conflict between the old and young simply would not exist in the "new Socialist society."

★ ★ ★

All generations were to be united in the great goal of building a new "Soviet man." Father and son were to work together in harmony for the benefit of all.

PIPE DREAM

Like much of Red propaganda this also turned out to be a pipe dream.

After almost 50 years of communism Lenin's new man and woman—who were to have developed with unique mental, moral and physical qualities — are nowhere in sight.

Red officialdom is discovering to its dismay that young Ivan born and reared under communism, retains many traits of capitalist Johnny; that the dreams and hopes of Red-bred Tamara are, after all, not so different from those of her young sisters in "decadent" America.

★ ★ ★

As revealed in the daily press or in youth and school journals, young people behind the Iron Curtain are no longer concerned about such traditional touchtones of loyalty to Communist doctrine as the dictatorship of the proletariat or the primacy of the Communist party.

FAST BUCK

They care more about making a fast buck (or ruble) today than about the promises of Marxism-Leninism.

Alcoholism, prostitution, unwed mothers and what the Reds call "a cynical search for an easy life" are on the increase in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and other Red-dominated countries.

However, it is not the spread of juvenile delinquency or the youngsters "infected by the Beatles and the Beats" that really worries the Red rulers.

★ ★ ★

They are much more concerned with the intellectual—even the Communist — youth who are becoming rebellious to an ever increasing extent.

VITAL POINT

A vital point of dissension between the Communist youth and the older generation of Reds still centers on the question of Stalinism. It is much like the conflict going on in West Germany over the Nazi era.

Just as young Germans are questioning their parents' role under Hitler, young Communists ask older Communists how they could have looked on and condoned, or even encouraged, the brutality and mass murders of Stalin's regime.

★ ★ ★

Thus, despite several generations of Communist indoctrination, the young people behind the Iron Curtain increasingly scorn the "cherished values of their great Marxist-Leninist heritage."

★ ★ ★

In articles, stories and poems, printed and distributed legally or illegally, they ask embarrassing questions of their rulers. They chafe at the restraints regimented Red society imposes.

BIG QUESTION

The big question is: What will happen when the time comes for the younger generation to move into positions of power?

Young people behind the Iron Curtain are already playing the role of catalysts in a process of change which is causing many long-cherished doctrines to be challenged.

When they assume power it is likely that they will give further encouragement to the growth of at least a less dogmatic brand of communism.

East or West, modern society has spawned a class of teen-agers who are in rebellion against the adult world around them. Their ways and ideas are remarkably similar whether they live under communism or capitalism.

Gas-Ejecting Pens Illegal in Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP)—Fountain pens that squirt gas are illegal in Michigan, State Police have warned.

Police said the warning was prompted by reports that some of the trick pens are being sold at county fairs.

It is unlawful, police said, for private individuals to possess or carry such gas-ejecting devices for protection purposes.

★

Conviction for violation of the state's concealed weapons law is punishable by fine up to $2,500 or a jail term of up to five years.

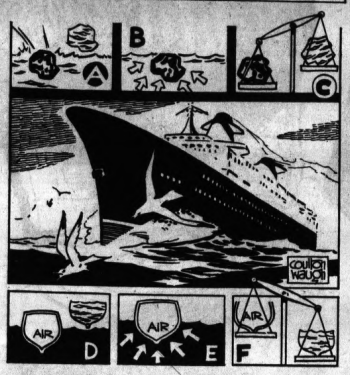
A Junior Editors Quiz About FLOATING METAL



QUESTION: A rock sinks in water, but a metal ship floats. Why?

ANSWER: Any object put in water displaces, or pushes aside, an amount of water equal to its size. In (A) we see a rock being thrown into a pond, with the amount of water it is displacing shown above.

Any object in water has a force, called a buoyant force (B), trying to hold it up. The strength of this force equals the weight of the water being displaced.

The chunk of water being displaced by the rock is quite heavy, but the rock itself is heavier still. Since the rock outweighs the displaced water (C), it overcomes the buoyant force and so sinks down.

With a metal ship, the case is different. In the cross section (D), you see that the ship is only a shell of metal, filled with air inside, which is a lighter substance than metal or water. Like the rock, the ship displaces a chunk of water.

In (E) you see the buoyant force (arrows) equal to weight of water being displaced, pushing up. This force keeps the ship floating because (F) it is heavier than the hollow ship filled with air.

Anything with a large amount of air inside it will float. A wooden log floats because it has air inside its cells.

FOR YOU TO DO: Put an empty metal pan on top of a basin full of water and notice that it floats, like the metal ship, and for the same reason. Then put a small stone in it; it will sink down a bit. Add more stones and your basin ship will sink to the bottom. The weight of the stones has overcome the buoyant force.

Current Books

NEVER CALL RETREAT (Centennial History of the Civil War: Vol. 3). By Bruce Catton. Doubleday. $7.50.

Bruce Catton's artistry as a historian never was more evident than in this third and final volume of his Centennial History of the Civil War.

"Never Call Retreat" covers the last years of the war, from December 1862 to May 1865, from Fredericksburg to Appomattox.

The true value of the book lies in the depth of its narrative, the skill with which events are fitted into the framework of history's stream and made to contribute to a unified whole.

No new nuggets of knowledge are offered. The distinction lies in the freshness and depth of interpretation.

* * *

For example, Catton's treatment of Appomattox and his emphasis on Robert E. Lee's role in fostering the Lost Cause legend and contributing to enduring romance of the war is at once bold and authentic.

THE SEAT OF POWER, by James D. Horan (Crown $5.95); Although it could apply to any American metropolis, this long, exciting and crisply written novel is especially timely with a New York City mayoralty election coming up.

* * *

The author can write with authority on the theme of a crusading newspaperman out to break up a crime ring and expose the political and financial bigwigs behind it.

Horan, now assistant managing editor, Sunday editor and special events editor of the New York Journal-American, has been a racket-busting reporter on his own.

Policy also is the target of Duke Malloy, the protagonist in the novel. In this tale of the rise and fall of a political "king maker," one has the feeling he is reading more fact than fiction as Malloy digs into the racket, the Mafia allegedly running it and the corrupt police, judges and city officials protecting it.

REMEMBER THE WIND, by William McK. Chapman (Lippincott $5.95): This prairie memoir represents the recollections and experiences of three years among the Sioux at Standing Rock Reservation, South Dakota.

* * *

Chapman and his wife Ann were invited to run the St. Elizabeth's School on the reservation and found themselves in the midst of an engimatic culture and the descendants of a once proud and mighty nation who had been ground down to a miserable state by the invader from the east.

* * *

Chapman's story, giving as it does a day-to-day insight into the lives of the present-day Sioux and intimate anecdotes about his friends among them and their relation to the great days of not so long ago, is a sympathetic and fascinating account.

Clarification of Job Injury Law Asked

LANSING (AP)—Michigan insurance agents asked the legislature Wednesday to clarify the broadened workmen's compensation law concerning domestic workers.

The legislation is to take effect Sept. 1, 1965, and brings certain domestic employes under its coverage.

* * *

The Michigan Association of Insurance Agents said the law is unclear as to whether a domestic worker, such as a cleaning woman who works for a different employer each day of the week, is covered.

Secretary-Manager W. O. Hildebrand of the insurance organization said, at one point, the law indicates the domestic would have to be employed for 35 hours or more a week by one employer but, at another point, indicates the hours could be split among several employers.

Hildebrand said one interpretation might force a householder, who employs a maid for a half day every other week, to purchase workmen's compensation liability insurance to protect the householder in case the maid were injured on the job.

The attorney general's office said it is studying the entire bill.

Say Cuba Guerrillas Killed 5 Militiamen

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Five Fidel Castro militiamen were killed in a recent skirmish with guerrillas in eastern Cuba, refugees report.

"Three anti-Castro fighters were captured," said Esteban Gutierrez, 38-year-old salesman, one of 20 registering Wednesday at the Cuban refugee center.

His party sailed to Fargo Lbo, a British possession north of Cuba, then waited nine days before being picked up by a British coast guard vessel.

The college is scheduled to open its doors to the first 300 students in 1967. Its charter campaign recently passed a million dollars.

Borneo States Unlikely to Break Away

By PATRICK J. KILLEN

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — Notwithstanding some injured pride, the Borneo states of Sabah and Sarawak are expected to remain in Malaysia.

The two former British colonies had some serious second thoughts this month when their federation partner, Singapore, reluctantly declared her independence.

The move jolted many politicians in Borneo who, after some initial doubts, had pumped hard for the formation of Malaysia.

They gravely noted that before Malaysia, their ties had been closer to Singapore than to Malaya, the federation's senior partner.

* * *

What really annoyed the Borneans was Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman's decision not to consult them before he separated Singapore. Borneo cabinet ministers and members of Parliament got the word only a few hours in advance of the public announcement.

TOO SMALL

Just the same, Sabah and Sarawak are too small for brave talk and independent thoughts.

Sarawak is a 50,000-square mile slab in northern Borneo stretching from a 450-mile coastline southeasterly inland to sawtooth mountains bordering on Indonesia.

Economically depressed, Sarawak's 780,000 people need all the help they can get from the outside.

The population includes 243,000 Chinese, at least some of whom are hard-core Communists.

NORTHEASTERN PART

Sabah, called British North Borneo until it joined Malaysia, is Sarawak's neighbor and forms the northeastern part of the big island shared with Indonesia.

It is a vast, underpopulated (475,000) land of potential wealth. American demand for Japanese plywood has made Saban timber a coveted commodity, but it is still undeveloped and suffers from a chronic labor shortage.

Hanging together or separately, Sabah and Sarawak would find the going tough.

* * *

Suggestions that they form a federation with their wealthy but tiny northcoast neighbor, the British-protected sultanate of Brunei, make geographical sense but do not change perceptibly the economic picture.

COUNTERBALANCE

Prime Minisdter Tengku Abdul Rahman included Sarawak and Sabah in his concept of Malaysia as a counterbalance to Singapore's predominant Chinese population.

The idea was the Malays and the native peoples of the Borneo states would give Malaysia a racial balance between the immigrant Chinese and the indigenous races.

It made sense for Sabah and Sarawak because Malaya and Singapore promised to help in the badly needed development projects which the British were slow to implement.

* * *

For all the good sense, some peoples of the two states disliked being a convenience or a racial pennyweight. Moreover, most civil servants from Kuala Lumpur were not popular in Borneo, before or after Malaysia.

SERIOUSLY OBJECTED

The opposition Sarawak United Peoples Party, (SUPP), a predominantly Chinese group which the prime minister incautiously labels Communists, seriously objected to Malaysian membership in 1963 and stoned a United Nations survey team.

The opposition has now flared again with Singapore's surprise separation.

In Sabah, one of the state's leading politicians, federal Cabinet Minister Donald Stephens, resigned because of differences with Tengku over the Singapore issue.

* * *

Stephens said, however, his party would remain in the ruling alliance.

Self-interest dictates the Borneo states should stay with Malaysia and take advantage of the development program which the federal government has already earmarked.

If self-interest is not enough, Tengku made it amply plain there would be no more secession.

Anyone advocating such a move by force or other methods, would be branded a traitor and treated as such, he said.

LOAD ON HIS FEET — Former Presidential Press Secretary George E. Reedy, with both feet in casts, rests on the porch of his Washington home last night. He had just returned from a Rochester, Minn., hospital and an operation for a foot ailment known as hammertoes. Until the casts are removed, hopefully in October, Reedy will have to use a cane in getting around.

Reedy Returns to Washington After Foot Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — George E. Reedy, President Johnson's former press secretary, has returned to Washington after a series of operations for a painful foot ailment.

He came home with a good-natured grin, a cane and two plaster casts that reach up to his knees.

★ ★ ★

"I'm feeling very good," the 47-year-old Reedy said after his return Wednesday, "but I miss being able to move around. It's a very annoying thing to have to move with heavy casts on each leg."

Reedy underwent nearly 2½ hours of surgery Aug. 11 at Methodist Hospital in Rochester, Minn. for a chronic foot ailment, known as hammertoes, that causes the toes to curl under the feet.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

He took what was described as a leave of absence from the White House on July 8 and has been in and out of hospitals since then. He was replaced by Bill D. Moyers, then a presidential assistant.

★ ★ ★

Since Moyers took over, there has been widespread speculation that Reedy would not return to his old job.

One sign of his future White House role — if there is to be one — came three weeks ago when Moyers announced that Reedy was assisting the President in negotiating for settlement of the maritime strike.

Asked about his future, Reedy said, "I'm not going to make any plans until I know what my condition will be. I'm just going to wait and see."

PERSONAL PLANS

Although reluctant to discuss his personal plans, the former press secretary was quite willing to tell about his operation.

"They had to straighten six little toes, four in the right foot and two in the left, by removing skin and scraping away some bone growths. The bones are held together by little pins until they grow together again." His big toes also were straightened during surgery, Reedy said.

To help him get around, the casts were tipped with rubber pegs. "I have to balance on the pegs," he said, "and I have very little balance."

Doctors expect to remove the casts Oct. 8 and after that, Reedy said, he should have fair mobility.

FISHING BUFF

Always a fishing buff, Reedy has scheduled a trip to Ocean City, Md., Sept. 8.

"I don't have any other plans at all," he said. "It's quite a wonderful thing to be home."

Segregation: South vs. North

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Recently the Milwaukee Journal and Spartanburg (S.C.) Herald exchanged reporters to study the racial situation in each other's area. Each wrote a series for his newspaper. Following are condensed versions of their reports written for the Associated Press.)

By FRANK A. AUKOFER
Of The Milwaukee Journal

Spartanburg is the home town of the grand dragon of the South Carolina Ku Klux Klan.

But it also is a city that can go all out to defend a Negro accused of raping a white girl.

* * *

Frank Cannon was his name, a 22-year-old Negro rubbish collector, and he was on trial for his life, charged with beating and raping a 14-year-old white girl who was baby sitting in the home of a city councilman. Conviction meant death in the electric chair.

Cannon was convicted, but not for lack of a proper defense.

WHITE ATTORNEYS

Two white, court-appointed defense attorneys used every legal method at their disposal to give Cannon a defense that would have cost someone of financial means thousands of dollars.

At one point before the case finally went to trial, the attorneys had the indictment dismissed after contending that the county's jury lists were improperly drawn and that Negroes had been excluded from service on the grand jury. They also attacked pretrial publicity by local news media.

* * *

And when Cannon went on trial, there was no red-necked racists murmuring angrily in the courtroom. On the contrary, an integrated group of spectators — about 5 per cent Negro — quietly watched the proceedings.

The Cannon case was an indication that the South of today is not necessarily the south of Selma, Ala.; Bogalusa, La., or Philadelphia, Miss.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM

I was in the South for two weeks on an exchange program with the Spartanburg Herald. The idea was to find out why South Carolina, a Deep South state and the birthplace of the Civil War, had not experienced the racial violence that had flared in other Southern states.

The main reasons were these: A recognition of the inevitability of desegregation; a determination to maintain law and order at all costs; fear of civil rights demonstrations that might lead to violence, and an industrial revolution of sorts led by businessmen who count the dollar-costs of racial unrest.

* * *

Spartanburg, while it may not be typical of the entire state, is an example. White Spartans, who comprise about 78 per cent of the population in their county, are not at all elated about integration.

On the contrary, they would prefer the old segregated way of life. They are States Righters who resent an "outsider" — the federal government, in this case — telling them what to do.

USURPED RIGHTS

They are convinced that the federal government has usurped their states' rights, and they don't want it usurping any more. So they are determined to maintain law and order themselves. Part of the determination comes from a tradition of gentility and responsibility.

Spartanburg is a prosperous place. Some 50 industries have arrived in the last 10 years, creating 10,000 new jobs. This progress is the main point of pride in the city and it has resulted in an unemployment rate down around 1½ per cent.

* * *

With things so comfortable, Spartanburg's business leaders, who hold the reins of power, were not about to have the community applecart upset by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., or some other civil rights leader. So the city desegregated.

The "white" and "colored" signs are down, but the Negro still occupies an inferior position — as he does in many areas, North and South. Whites still are doing for the Negro, instead of with him.

GRUDGING PROGRESS

Whether out of a fear of demonstrations, with the resultant loss of money and reputation, or out of a genuine sense of justice, Spartanburg and South Carolina have made grudging progress and intend to stay ahead of the game.

And they aim to keep it peaceable.

By FRED RIGSBEE
Of The Spartanburg Herald

Negroes in Milwaukee, and apparently in other Northern cities, where de facto segregation exists, are shadowboxing in their fight for integration.

Either through design or accident, an estimated 88 per cent of Milwaukee's 78,000 Negro population lives within a two-square mile area near the city's heart.

* * *

Consequently, Negroes who make less than 10 per cent of the city's total population, are isolated into what some call the "black island" but which is more commonly known as the Inner Core.

As a result of this de facto housing segregation, Negro students, because of the city's neighborhood school attendance policy, find themselves in segregated schools.

COMMERCIAL LIFE

De facto segregation doesn't end with housing and education. Even the Negroes' commercial life is segregated to a large extent. They trade in areas which, by and large, are segregated.

Labor unions have thrown up barriers to prevent Negroes from coming in, civil rights leaders say. This is especially true in trade unions, they add.

* * *

As one civil rights observer put it: "There are more Negro Ph. D.'s in Milwaukee than Negro plumbers — and you know this isn't right."

They are up against a sophisticated barrier. This barrier, when put under enough stress, will give like a toll gate letting one Negro at a time slip through. It then locks securely once again, preventing a flood of integration.

UNWRITTEN LAW

This barrier is the unwritten law.

Northerners are reluctant to admit they have a race problem, Negro leaders say.

* * *

Wesley L. Scott, Negro executive director of the Milwaukee Urban League, accused Milwaukeeans of feeling the pulse of the South in racial matters to tell how sick Milwaukee is.

"Wisconsin's whole racial policy is based on hypocrisy and lies. The white leaders talk one way and do another," attorney Lloyd A. Barbee, a Milwaukeean and Wisconsin's only Negro assemblyman, asserted.

2 PER CENT NEGRO

About 2 per cent of Wisconsin's population is Negro.

Talk to self-professed liberals who live in all-white suburban residential areas and ask: "Would you object to a Negro moving into your neighborhood?"

* * *

Most will tell you they wouldn't object for prejudicial reasons but that if a Negro family moves in it will depreciate their property value. It would be a financial objection, they explain.

When you talk to a white suburbanite about a Negro moving into his neighborhood, he'll also tell you that "If the Negro has a good job. If he has a good education. If

ANTICIPATES WORST

He fills his acceptances with qualifiers. The implication is he anticipates the worst.

Some Negroes describe the process of slipping past the racial barrier as "escaping the net."

They may pass through one barrier only to face another later.

Escapes are more-or-less on an individual basis.

SUCCESSFUL ACCUSED

Negroes who have made good — professional people and businessmen — often are accused of abandoning other members of their race to a fate of segregation while they themselves are accepted as quasi-whites.

Civil rights leaders hurl the contemptuous title of Uncle Tom at these ex-patriots of the dark world.

Within the Negro social structure there is a wide latitude between the haves and have-nots. There are the rich, prosperous, well-educated Negroes. Then, there is the broad base of poor, ignorant Negroes.

Between the two extremes is the sparse Negro middle-class which is conspicuous because of its absence, says Scott.

MIDDLE-CLASS GROUP

But, it is within this middle-class group that Negroes feel they will find the leadership eventually to break the segregation net.

Segregation exists in the North as well as in the South.

* * *

The approaches to this system are taken by different avenues in the two sections —but the goal is reached by both routes.

In the South the approach is direct, hard, rude.

IN THE NORTH

In the North it is subtle, sophisticated, smooth.

In the South, civil righters find a fire-breathing dragon they can attack.

* * *

In the North they must content themselves with battling an ectoplasmic creature called de facto segregation.

"I am convinced that integration will be accomplished in the South before it is in the North," says Edward Blackwell, a Negro who is a Milwaukee Journal newsman and who has lived all his life in the north.

The body of Mrs. Kooyman, 36, was found by her husband, Joseph Peter Kooyman, in their home here Tuesday.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell, died aboard their yacht at Newport Beach. It was destroyed in a dynamite blast.

Johnson Sending Riot Task Force to LA

AP Photofax

RUSSIAN SPACE MOVIE — In stills from a new Soviet movie, "Man Steps Into Space," cosmonaut Andrian Mikolaev (top) is shown leaving a space ship after landing. Woman cosmonaut Valentine Tereshkova (bottom) is also shown after her landing. The movie is soon to be released in Russia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential task force plans to fly to Los Angeles today to explore a possible federal role in healing the wounds and causes of that city's recent Negro riots.

Headed by 37-year-old Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, the task force includes representatives of several government agencies.

* * *

Informed sources said it may expand as the federal government's inventory of remedies is weighed against the needs of the Southern California metropolis, where riots earlier this month laid waste to sections of the Negro district of Watts.

First word of formation of the task force came at a news conference Wednesday when President Johnson was asked if he had in mind "any further action which might avert further tension."

ACTION PLANNED

"Yes, sir," the chief executive said, "we have detailed action planned that we worked on until late in the evening last night." We are appointing a top-flight task force headed by the deputy attorney general, Ramsey Clark, and they will proceed to Los Angeles at a very early date and the details of their work and their program will be announced as soon as they are available."

It was understood that the handful of men accompanying Clark on his initial journey might include representatives of service agencies like the public health and housing agencies, the Office of Economic Opportunity and the Labor Department.

* * *

Clark is the son of Associate Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark. A former assistant attorney general in charge of the lands division, he became deputy attorney general — the No. 2 post in the Justice Department — when Nicholas Katzenbach became attorney general.

Well-known to the President since childhood, the tall, laconic Texan has served as a special assistant at the White House on loan from the Justice Department. When civil rights demonstrators marched in Alabama last March, Clark was sent to head the team of government observers on the scene. And while he was present at other historic racial crises — Oxford, Miss., and Birmingham, Ala., — he is believed to be anxious to avoid comparisons of his role then to his new assignment.

3 REASONS

It is understood Clark was chosen to head the Los Angeles task force for three reasons. One is Johnson's knowledge of his ability. The second is that the task force will be required to coordinate several government services, and a representative of a detached agency would be the best man to handle that coordination. Finally, a top-flight lawyer, the administration felt, could deal best with the delicate problem of making federal, state and city agencies work in harmony.

Clark, who came to his office in the predawn hours of Aug. 14 and stayed through the weekend to keep tabs on the riots — has kept himself fully informed about the Los Angeles situation ever since.

In Los Angeles, Mayor Samuel W. Yorthy said he welcomed creation of the task force, adding: "I am very happy about this response."

Yorty said he conferred by telephone with Washington officials shortly after Johnson announced the task force and he was assured "every effort will be made by the federal government to give us the same help to which we would be entitled if the area were declared a disaster area."

Clark has assured friends that "I'm not just going out there to shake hands and say 'Howdy.'"

The task force was expected to meet with state and city officials as well as Negroes.

TENTATIVE PLAN

One government source indicated a very tentative, three-phase plan for the task force:

1. Ensuring that the short-range needs of the area — such as health, shelter, food and housing—are fully met, to avert the possibility of an epidemic or another outburst of riots triggered by hunger.

2. Dealing with longer-range problems of Los Angeles Negroes such as employment and housing.

3. Coming up with long-range recommendations on how the federal government, working with state and local agencies, can reduce the possibility of such eruptions in other metropolitan areas.

Cyclist Ticketed After Ride Through Soo Bar

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— A 23-year-old Sault Ste. Marie man was ticketed for reckless driving Wednesday after, police said, he rode a motorcycle through a downtown bar.

Police said George Matheson was apprehended after he allegedly entered the back door of Shore's Bar, drove through the bar, out the front door and crashed into a parked car outside.

Huge Topaz Stolen in San Francisco Store

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 200-year-old topaz "as big as a man's fist" has been stolen from the downtown San Francisco office of P&-Orient Lines.

The gem, which weighs three pounds, was reported missing Wednesday from a scarf on a Scottish - costumed mannequin in the office.

The topaz was insured for $10,000, a spokesman said.

Tennessee Crash Kills Two Flint Residents

GATES, Tenn. (AP) — Two Flint, Mich., persons were killed and four others seriously hurt when their car left Highway 51 near here Wednesday and struck a house.

Killed were Jesse E. Trotter, 18, and the 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Matilda MaGee. Hospitalized at Memphis and Ripley, Tenn., are Mrs. MaGee, her sons, Max, 8, and Stanley, 7, and Mae Etta Love.

'White Paper' Is Not Political, Say House Republican Authors

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans say their "White Paper" on Viet Nam is not intended as a political document.

But their House leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, said at a news conference Wednesday, "We shouldn't be muzzled. We shouldn't be smothered."

* * *

Ford also said "We are not questioning a firm policy in Southeast Asia" and Republicans are not out "to label this as anyone's war."

The "White Paper" traced U.S. involvement in Viet Nam back to the Democratic administration of President Harry S Truman and hit U.S. policies in Viet Nam several years ago rather than President Johnson's present actions.

IKE COMMITMENT

Johnson, in his public statements and a pamphlet issued ahead of the Republican document, has been citing a Viet Nam commitment in 1954 by Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The administration pamphlet caused a speedup in the release of the "White Paper," and then Johnson held a news conference ahead of the conference Republicans had scheduled to present their views. In his news conference statements, Johnson emphasized the "excellent cooperation" he has received from leaders of both parties in the Viet Nam crisis, with special mention of Eisenhower.

Ford and other Republicans, commenting later, said they support firm action by Johnson but that the opposition has a responsibility to make suggestions and ask questions. Ford said he has questioned whether the United States is overcommitted on the ground—but that this is ultimately a problem for the President and his advisers.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., head of the committee that produced the "White Paper," described it as "a work of scholarship" rather than a politial document.

Asked Party After Funeral

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — An unusual request — for a party after his funeral — was set forth in the will of Glenn M. Larsen, who died in a hospital here.

Larsen stipulated that one per cent of his distributable estate should be used for a party after his funeral. The item was to be considered part of the funeral expense, the will specified.

The estate was valued at approximately $30,000 in personal property and $6,000 in real estate.

Murder Charge Eyed in Killing

Self-Defense Claimed in Love Triangle Case

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (UPI)—A first-degree murder warrant may be sought today against a car salesman who claims he shot and killed a doctor Tuesday in self-defense when the doctor invaded his motel room.

Keith Jacobs, 36, the car salesman, admitted he killed Dr. Jagdish (Jack) Kumar when the doctor shot him twice with a 22-caliber rifle while he was in a motel room with Kumar's wife.

Kumar shot Jacobs twice in the buttocks from a window before trying to enter the motel room through a door, the auto salesman told police.

Jacobs said he got his shotgun and fired at Kumar as he and his wife struggled with the rifle in the doorway.

★ ★ ★

Police earlier believed Kumar was killed accidentally by a blast from his rifle while struggling with Mrs. Kumar.

'STORMY LIFE'

Mrs. Kumar told police yesterday she and her husband, a native of India, had led a "stormy married life."

Wayne County Asst. Prosecutor John Mowatt took statements from Jacobs and Mrs. Kumar yesterday.

Jacobs said the shooting was done in self-defense.

★ ★ ★

Kumar, who lived in the Detroit area for about 10 years, went to the motel armed with two rifles and a pistol.

His daughter, Ileana, 8, accompanied her father to the motel and witnessed the shooting.

New Girdle Is Labeled Unpatriotic

NEW YORK (AP) — A panty girdle called "Stars 'n' Stripes" has been removed from the market after the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) objected to its name and flag-like decorations.

The DAR called the girdle a "shocking caricature" of the national flag in a letter to the manufacturer.

(The manufacturer is Treo Co., Inc., of New York.)

"We will burn the damn things or send them to some foreign country where our flag isn't involved," said a spokesman for the manufacturer Wednesday. He said about 3,000 had been distributed to stores across the country, but he did not know how many had been sold.

POP PANTS

The "Stars 'n' Stripes" girdle was one of four decorated garments called pop pants brought out by the firm last Wednesday. Others in the line are "Crying Eyes," "The Big Zip," and "Hamburger 'n' Soda Pop."

A newspaper advertisement for the pop pants was spotted by Mrs. W. Carl Crittenden of Freeport, L.I., national chairman of the DAR's Flag of the United States of America Committee.

★ ★ ★

"The name was our biggest objection," said Mrs. Crittenden. "It was just too close to the stars and stripes name we call our flag."

The girdle has red and white stripes and blue stars on a white background.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Crittenden said she was pleased by the "immediate and gracious" response of the company.

Long Illness Claims Head of Steel Empire

STRAUBING, Germany (AP) — Amelie Thyssen, head of the Thyssen steel empire and one of the world's richest women, died Wednesday at her estate near here after a long illness, friends announced today.

She was 87 and the widow of Fritz Thyssen, the German steel king who helped shape the face of Germany's industrial Ruhr Valley.

South Korean Army Is Moved Into Seoul to Check Student Rioting

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — A combat division moved into Seoul today as students demonstrations against the treaty normalizing relations with Japan continued for the sixth day.

Defense Minister Kim Sung said the government was not considering proclaiming martial law at present — as it did in June 1964 to quell antigovernment rioting. But he said stronger measures would be taken if necessary.

★ ★ ★

President Chung Hee Park's government called in the 6th Army Division from the west-central sector of the Korean War armistice line after demonstrations Wednesday turned into the worst riot in the capital since June 1964.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Gen. Dwight Beach, commander of U.N. forces in Korea, concurred in the decision to move the front-line troops into the capital. As U.N. commander he has technical control of them.

DISPERSE CROWD

As the troops entered the city, two other army battalions and police used tear gas to disperse about 2,000 demonstrators near three campuses in eastern Seoul.

Soldiers chased fleeing students into alleys and beat those they caught with shovel handles. Scores of demonstrators were arrested.

The students regrouped and threw hundreds of stones at the helmeted police but they were pushed back into the Seoul National University campus where other students joined them in throwing rocks.

Another 3,000 students held rallies denouncing the government for "sellout diplomacy" and the rough treatment they received from the troops.

PROFS PLEAD

About 1,000 students from Korea University were persuaded from storming the streets by 50 professors who sat down in front of the university gate.

The demonstrations were smaller than Wednesday, when more than 10,000 students took to the streets. Police said charges were filed against 18 of the 839 persons arrested. The others were fined or released. More than 150 soldiers and policemen were injured.

The students, the opposition Minjung political party and other groups claim that the government, in the treaty with Japan, surrendered such vital national interests as fishing rights and opened the way for the country's economic subjugation by her former colonial master.

They are demanding dissolution of the National Assembly and new elections, claiming that the treaty was illegally ratified last month. All opposition deputies resigned before the vote.

COOL RIDE — Keeping cool is no problem if you're sitting on a block of ice. But staying on it while sliding down a hill is another matter. These Fort Wayne, Ind., girls show the proper form for the sport that originated in California. If the sport catches on, an ice shortage may take place at local ice houses.

District of Columbia Home Rule Bill Gets LBJ Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The drive to force an early House vote on home rule for the District of Columbia has picked up strength.

In advance of today's House meeting, 154 of its members had signed a petition to wrest the bill from the district committee and bring it directly to the floor. That's 64 short of the required 218, a majority of the House.

* * *

On the heels of two appeals by President Johnson, 54 members signed up Wednesday.

Unless 218 sign by the end of the week, the bill's chances for passage will dim in a rush toward adjournment.

EARLIEST DATE

Even if the discharge drive succeeds this week, the earliest the bill can be brought to House vote is Sept. 13.

* * *

Approved already by the Senate, the measure would give residents of the capital an elected mayor and city council. The city's affairs now are managed by the three appointed commissioners, the Senate and House District Committees and the two chambers' appropriations committees.

* * *

Johnson tried to spark action on the administration bill Tuesday at a White House breakfast with Democratic leaders. Speaker John W. McCormack, D.-Mass., then openly supported the discharge drive — an unprecedented action.

At his news conference Wednesday, Johnson said the bill should come before the House very shortly.

ONLY MEANS

He said, "No one doubts the outcome once that bill finally gets to the floor of the House and members are permitted to vote on it."

The President urged members of both parties to push the discharge petition drive — "the only practical means of getting the bill to the floor."

* * *

"It is an irony and a disgrace that somehow some people seem to be afraid to trust almost a million American citizens with the management of their own affairs here in the District of Columbia," he said.

The chairman of the House District Committee, Rep. John L. McMillan, D-S.C., said last week in letters to all House members that he considers home rule unconstitutional. He cited Article 1, Section 8 of the U.S. Constitution, which gives Congress exclusive legislative power over the district.

Washington residents elected various local officials from 1802, when the district government was established, until 1874, when the municipal government collapsed financially. Congress then substituted appointive commissioners.

Romney, Kelley to Discuss Ticket Case

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney is scheduled to meet with Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today for a progress report on the Wayne County Prosecutor's office investigation into alleged wholesale traffic ticket fixing.

Romney, who stated Monday he felt the investigation was "wholly inadequate," has urged a grand jury investigation of the matter.

* * *

Wayne County's circuit judges emerged from a closed-door meeting Wednesday and declined to initiate an investigation into possible involvement of justices of the peace.

One judge, who declined to be identified, said:

* * *

"If there is evidence of wrong-doing in the justice courts then certainly the attorney general or the prosecutor should bring it to the attention of the court.

NO EVIDENCE

"But I want it clearly understood that we don't have evidence of wrong-doing at this time."

* * *

Another judge commented he was reluctant to investigate the justices for fear of compromising the role of the bench in future cases.

* * *

The chairman of the county's board of auditors, Charles F. Edgecomb, estimated $14,000 has been lost to the county because of the alleged ticket fixing.

Giving Away Milk Is Barred by Court

BOSTON (AP) — Cumberland Farms Dairy has been barred by court order from distributing free milk to contest winners until the courts rule on a suit brought by the State Milk Control Board.

* * *

The board suit contends that giving milk away is a violation of a Massachusetts law forbidding sale of milk below cost.

Kenya School Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A loan of $550,000 to help build facilities to double the enrollment in Kenya Polytechnic Institute, Nairobi, has been announced by the U.S. Agency for International Development.

FATHER 'SENTENCES' SON—Judge Peter L. Melius (left) of Waukegan, Ill., ordered driving privileges suspended for his son, Michael, 17, who rolled up nine traffic violations. The "sentencing" took place in the Melius' home. When the case reaches traffic court, the judges have been urged to be impartial.

3 Swimmers, Lifeguard Fail

Teen Saves Boy Drifting in Toy Boat

REVERE, Mass. (AP) — James Manganiello, 19, battled wind and tide in a half-hour swim to rescue Charles Jackson, 7, after a lifeguard in a leaky boat and three other swimmers failed to reach the boy adrift at sea in a toy plastic dinghy.

"I was never in trouble and I just took my time," Manganiello said after the rescue, "but when I reached Charlie he seemed more worried that he'd been a bad boy than that he might have drowned."

* * *

The youngster's grandmother, Mrs. Charles S. Savoia, said she took him to the beach Wednesday and when she noticed him drifting she tried to swim after him but became exhausted. A friend, Edward DiLorenzo, 32, took up the chase.

"I'd make 10 yards and he'd go out 15. It's awful when you see someone at your fingertips and you can't reach him. Oh, my God, I felt, this is awful, I have to leave him."

* * *

Pulled farther and farther from shore, the boy shouted, "Save me, please, Eddie! Don't leave!"

LIFEBOAT LAUNCHED

Lifeguard Andrew Bisignani launched a lifeboat but discovered vandals had broken eight seams in the bottom and it began leaking fast.

Di Lorenzo swam back to the boat, climbed in and bailed with a plastic pail. "But still we were half in the water, it leaked so badly," he said.

* * *

Manganiello's brother, Edward, 32, described by DiLorenzo as a "tremendous swimmer," suffered a leg cramp and had to turn back.

Then it was up to James, a second-year, premedical student at Boston University.

NO TIME

"I never stopped to think about whether I could make it," he said. "There was no time and if I had by then it would have been a moot point anyway."

He put on rubber fins and reached the boy about a quarter-mile off shore. He said he calmed Charlie, turned him around and began pushing him slowly back toward the still-struggling lifeboat.

* * *

But when they reached it, the men dared not transfer the boy.

"I was afraid to touch the kid in the boat because it was in better shape than our own," DiLorenzo said.

So Manganiello pushed him to shore aboard the toy dinghy.

N. Dakota Probing Sleeping Sickness

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — The North Dakota Health Department has begun an investigation of a possible spread of sleeping sickness (encephalitis) in humans. One death has been attributed to the disease and two other cases have been confirmed.

Dr. James R. Amos, state health officer, said the outbreak is not considered an epidemic. He said the disease probably is Western equine encephalitis and is transmitted from horses to humans by mosquitoes.

Average personal income after taxes at the end of last year totaled $2,288, an increase of 17.5 per cent in five years.

Cool Molded Salads Look Pretty

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Molded salads can look cool and refreshing. They're the perfect answer to the company luncheon in summer.

Make your salad early and you've nothing to do about the meal until just before serving time. Add some form of bread or crackers and a simple dessert.

Nectarines get bigger and better every year. Use them in this interesting eye - catcher salad.

Cheese-Filled Nectarine Salad

2 packages (3 oz. each) lemon gelatin
2 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
1 tablespoon blue cheese
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
3 fresh nectarines
Pecan halves

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and lemon rind and juice. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon. Blend cheeses and mayonnaise.

Cut nectarines into halves, remove pits and spoon in cheese mixture. Garnish with pecans.

Arrange nectarines in 8-inch square pan. Pour gelatin over fruit and chill until firm. Cut into rectangles to serve. Makes 6 servings.

This next salad makes use of two convenience foods — chicken spread and cranberry-orange relish. They go into a colorful two-layer salad that will bring you compliments.

Chicken-Cranberry Salad Loaf
Cranberry Layer

1 envelope plain gelatine
½ cup cold water
1 jar cranberry-orange relish

Soak gelatine in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Stir in cranberry-orange relish. Pour into loaf pan. Chill until set.

Chicken Layer

1 envelope plain gelatine
1 can (1½ cups) chicken broth heated
2 4¾ oz. cans chicken spread (in yellow-wrapped can)
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup chopped celery

Soak gelatine in ½ cup cold water. Dissolve in hot chicken broth. Cool. Combine chicken spread, mayonnaise, walnuts, celery. Stir into broth. Chill until partially set.

Gently pour over firm cranberry layer. Refrigerate until set. Unmold.

Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs. Slice and serve on crisp lettuce. Serves 8 generously.

A third colorful molded salad is Salmon Chiffon Salad. Chilled in a round mold, it comes to the table garnished with thin slices of cucumbers. Pink and green are the newest color combination in clothes — why not in food?

Salmon Chiffon Salad

1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water or salmon liquid from can ½ cup boiling water
A 1-pound can salmon
1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill or 1 teaspoon dry dill weed
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¾ cup mayonnaise
1 cup cream, whipped
2 cucumbers, thinly sliced

Soften gelatin in the cold water or salmon liquid. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Flake salmon into mixing bowl and add dill, lemon juice and mayonnaise.

Beat until well blended and gradually beat in the dissolved gelatin. Fold in whipped cream and spoon mixture into a 6-cup timbale mold. Chill until set. Unmold and garnish with sliced cucumbers.

SALMON CHIFFON SALAD

CHICKEN-CRANBERRY SALAD

Dixie Charm in Ham Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Ham salad held no lure for us until we tried this recipe from a Southern friend. It's chunky with ham and celery, bright with scarlet pimiento and green pepper, spiced with sweet pickle relish and mustard.

★ ★ ★

Now we're as enthusiastic as our donor is about it.

"Just the thing," she says, "to stuff inside a biscuit."

Southern Ham Salad

¾ cup mayonnaise dressing
2 tablespoons yellow mustard
1 tablespoon finely grated onion, pulp and juice
Salt to taste
¼ teaspoon white pepper
4 cups cooked diced ham, ½-inch cubes
1 cup sliced celery
1 cup diced green pepper
½ cup India-type sweet pickle relish, undrained
1 can or jar (7 ounces) pimientos, drained and diced
Garnishes

★ ★ ★

In a mixing bowl, stir together the mayonnaise, mustard, onion, salt and pepper. Add ham, celery, green pepper, pickle relish and pimiento; mix well.

★ ★ ★

Serve at once or refrigerate for a short time before serving. Garnish with salad greens and hard-cooked eggs. Makes 6 servings.

Catfish Goes Hawaiian

In this kitchen tested recipe, Home Economists of the United States Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries have cleverly blended golden pineapple with popular catfish; the result—easy elegance!

ISLAND FRIED CATFISH

2 pounds skinned catfish fillets or other skinned fish fillets, fresh or frozen
¼ cup soy sauce
½ cup cornstarch
½ cup flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup water
1 egg, beaten
Pineapple Sauce

Thaw frozen fillets. Cut fillets into strips, approximately 1 x 2 inches. Place fish in a shallow baking dish. Pour soy sauce over fish and let stand for 30 minutes, turning once.

Sift dry ingredients together. Combine water and egg; blend into flour mixture. Dip fish in batter. Fry immediately in deep fat, 350 degrees for 5 to 6 minutes or until brown and fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Drain on absorbent paper. Keep warm. Pour Pineapple Sauce on a warm platter. Place fish on top. Serves 6.

PINEAPPLE SAUCE

1 can (1 pound 4½ ounces) pineapple tidbits
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup cold water

Heat pineapple and juice. Dissolve cornstarch in water. Add gradually to pineapple and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Keep warm. Makes approximately 2 cups of sauce.

Bake and Store Waffles for Easy Morning Meal

Is breakfast a problem on summer Sundays? If you have different members of the family or weekend guests coming down to eat at various times, give up trying to assemble them all for one big, sit-down breakfast or brunch.

Turn it into a do-it-yourself meal with a minimum of work for you, the cook and hostess.

One appealing brunch or breakfast menu is built around Make Ahead Waffles. They're not packaged ones, but home made waffles you bake in advance and freeze or refrigerate in plastic wrap.

The trick is to mix up a batch some day when you're not busy, and bake them then for future use. Make several batches for a crowd.

Wrapped and then frozen or refrigerated, they're ready to reheat in the toaster with the heat set low. Keep an array of jams, syrups, fresh or frozen fruits on hand for accompaniments.

Be sure there's also plenty of butter. Dairy sour cream slightly sweetened makes a delicious topping over fruit.

Have grapefruit halves in the refrigerator and a pitcher of milk ready to pour; then breakfast's ready and you're not spending all morning getting breakfast for the sleepy heads.

Make Ahead Waffles

¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter
¼ cup sugar
4 eggs
1½ cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
2 teaspoons rum flavoring

In a mixing bowl cream together butter and sugar; add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together flour, baking powder, cinnamon and salt; add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients; add rum flavoring.

Bake in a preheated waffle iron until light brown. Waffles can be cooled, wrapped in plastic covering and refrigerated or frozen until needed.

To serve, toast in toaster on low setting and serve with syrup, jams, or fresh or frozen fruits topped with slightly sweetened dairy sour cream, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Challenge Gave Men Chance to Rise, Shine

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Some of the breadwinners in this town are bread makers too.

When Ralph Colburn challenged on his morning radio program: "Can any man in Decatur bake a loaf of bread?" he got some fragrant answers.

★ ★ ★

Six different types of bread were judged by Thurman McDavid, owner of a local bakery.

★ ★ ★

Winner in the raisin bread category was Vern Thistlewaite, a biology teacher whose scientific interest in yeast led him to a hobby of baking.

★ ★ ★

Other winners included Dr. Robert Fleege, a dentist, for whole wheat; Dr. George Waller, white popoy seed; William Cannon, executive secretary of a savings and loan company, white chicken fat bread; Harvey Sellers Jr., manufacturing executive, sour dough; and Kingsley Langenberg, tractor company supervisor, rye bread.

Fruit Salad Glows With Emerald Hue

Varigated green fruit salad oozes with nature's juices.

California Summer Salad

1 honeydew melon
½ pound seeded green grapes
2 limes
Lettuce
Sour cream

★ ★ ★

Cut melon lengthwise and remove seeds. Use half for cutting out melon balls. Put a bed of lettuce on a cold glass plate. Cut the other melon half in quarters.

★ ★ ★

Decorate the center with green grapes and put melon balls on the sides. Garnish with a dollop of sour cream and a dash of cinnamon.

Don't beat egg whites in an aluminum mixing bowl; if you do your whites may have a grayish cast.

Cantaloupe Pickles Are Good, Easy to Make

"Sugar and spice, and everything nice; That's what little girls are made of". Only we aren't thinking about little girls, but sugar and spices that combine with melon to make delicious pickles.

Pickled melon rinds, flesh and other fruits are considered truly an American condiment for serving with roast meats.

Fresh spices, quality fruit and good glass jars that will seal correctly are important for making pickled fruits or vegetables. Spices are usually tied in square of cheesecloth so they can be removed easily from the hot pickling solution.

Spices that remain in the syrup during the mellowing period can become too strong or change flavor. This characteristic of herbs and spices is one of the reasons why they are usually removed before sealing.

"Easy Cantaloupe Pickles" require less time than most pickling recipes, but still have a good texture and pickled flavor.

Easy Cantaloupe Pickles

2 medium firm cantaloupe
2 cups water
1 quart white vinegar, (5-6 per cent) acidity
½ teaspoon mace
2 sticks cinnamon
15 whole cloves
4 cups sugar

Remove the rind and seeds from the cantaloupe. Cut the flesh into 1" by 2-3" chunks.

Bring the vinegar and water to a rolling boil. Break the sticks of cinnamon and put the spices into a cheesecloth bag and add to solution. Pour over chunks of cantaloupe. Let stand overnight in the refrigerator.

Next day drain the solution from the chunks and bring to a rolling boil. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add cantaloupe chunks and boil gently until cantaloupe chunks are transparent about 20-30 minutes. Remove bag of spices.

Pack into sterilized jars to within ½ inch of top. Add boiling hot syrup to ½ inch of top and seal while boiling hot. Makes 3½ pints.

False Weight Notions Fattening if Followed

Two popular notions concerning weight control — that calories don't count, that with the right kind of diet you can eat all you want and not gain an ounce—are pure hogwash, states a Harvard nutritionist.

To lose weight, says Dr. Jean Mayer, the caloric intake must be less than the amount of calories expended by exercise. No other formula works. And calorie burning exercise is an important part of the formula.

CANTALOUPE PICKLES — When wintry winds make you glad to be indoors, you'll appreciate this reminder of hot summer days. This type of pickle is the kind you pay a premium price for in specialty food stores.

Ready Meat for Carving

Roasts and other meat cuts, such as those stuffed and rolled which have been tied with string or secured with skewers, should have these removed before they are brought to the table.

If the meat cut is a large one which may come apart during the carving, one or two strings might be left around the meat, during carving, to help the carver.

Generally, however, strings and skewers slow him down because he has to remove them before cutting and serving.

Wafer Recipe Challenging

These wafers are a little tricky to make, but they are worth the effort.

Giant Candy Wafers

¼ cup dark corn syrup
¼ cup butter
¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
½ cup unsifted regular flour
⅔ cup flaked coconut, spooned lightly into measure

In a round-bottom metal medium-size mixing bowl, bring the corn syrup to a boil; reduce heat to very low and quickly add the butter and brown sugar, stirring vigorously to blend; remove speedily from heat.

Add flour and coconut; mix well, drop level tablespoonfuls of mixture several inches apart onto a buttered cookie sheet — no more than 6 to a large sheet.

Bake in a slow (300 degrees) oven until wafers have spread thin, bubble and brown — 12 to 15 minutes. Cool from 30 to 60 seconds and remove at once with a wide spatula to a wire rack.

If cookies harden before you can remove them, soften them in the oven. Makes 15.

PEASANT MUSTARD DRESSING — Even with all the interesting fresh vegetables available for salads, asparagus is a welcome food. Chill the canned variety thoroughly and serve with an interesting dressing.

New Recipe for Dressing

Although the recipe is modernized we think you'll agree that Peasant Dressing does great things for chilled asparagus spears nestled on a frilly bed of lettuce.

* * *

The asparagus is the convenient canned variety that comes ready to use right from a nineteen ounce can. Have you ever seen such luscious whole green spears? For an added touch, we suggest an array of help-yourself toppings for this gracious salad.

Peasant Mustard Dressing

2 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
¼ cup finely chopped celery
One 19-oz. can green asparagus spears, chilled and drained
Salad greens
Pimiento strips
Chopped hard-cooked egg
Chopped onion
Chopped beets
Capers

Blend mustard and mayonnaise or salad dressing into slightly beaten egg yolk. Stir in chopped celery. Spoon over drained canned asparagus spears on salad greens. Garnish with pimiento strips. Serve with side dishes of chopped condiments and capers. Yield: 4 servings.

Marinated Squares of Liver Threaded on Kabob Skewer

Have you ever thought of using liver for kabobs? In this recipe you'll see a new version of liver and bacon. Cook in the broiler or out on the grill.

Calves Liver-Kabobs

1 pound fresh calves liver, cut ½ to ¾-inch thick
½ cup salad oil
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
½ cup fresh lemon juice
¼ teaspoon dried thyme leaves, crushed
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon sugar
¼-pound bacon (6 to 7 slices)—cut in 1 inch pieces
1 6-ounce can broiled mushroom crowns, drained
4 medium tomatoes, quartered

Wipe calves liver with damp paper towels. Cut into 1-inch squares. Combine salad oil, grated lemon peel and juice, thyme, salt, pepper and sugar, blending well. Spoon enough marinade over liver to cover. Refrigerate for an hour or longer.

Drain, reserving marinade.

Thread liver on skewers, alternately with bacon, mushrooms and tomato quarters. Place on broiler pan, or on grill over hot coals; brush well with marinade.

Broil or grill 3 to 4 minutes on each side, brushing frequently with marinade. Makes 8 servings.

To Curl Chocolate

When you want to make chocolate curls to use as a garnish on a dessert, a swivel-blade vegetable peeler will do the trick. See that the chocolate you use is neither too hard nor too soft!

Gelatin Possesses Touch of Elegance

It's a sophisticated dessert, but an easy, pleasant ending to a meal that any bride can prepare.

Wine Gelatin With Strawberries

1 package fruit-flavored gelatin dessert (pink or red color)
1 cup boiling water
1 cup dry white wine
1 pint strawberries
Whipped cream, if desired

Dissolve the gelatin in the boiling water. Add wine and mix well. Turn into 4 half-cup molds; chill. At serving time, unmold and serve with strawberries and, if used, a garnish of whipped cream.

Strawberries may be served whole with caps on with superfine sugar for dipping. Makes 4 servings.

Potato Salad Molded in Loaf With Bologna

On those summer evenings when it's just too hot to cook, why not serve meat 'n' potato salad loaf made with bologna and served with hot cheese sticks and a cool beverage. It's so simple and you can make it in the cool morning hours.

Just make your favorite potato salad, lightly oil loaf pan 9x5x3, fit four bologna slices along each side of pan, trim to fit, dice trimmings and remaining bologna slices into potato salad.

Pack firmly into prepared pan, chill several hours, or until firm enough to cut.

Loosen salad around edges with spatula, invert onto platter, garnish with hard cooked eggs and parsley if desired.

Here you have a nourishing, cool, quick-to-fix supper, or if you have a family that raids the refrigerator late at night, they'll certainly appreciate finding this tasty loaf ready to slice and eat to fill that hungry spot.

You can usually count on a large lime yielding two tablespoons of juice.

Anchovies Accent the Hors d'Oeuvre

This one's a sophisticated hors d'oeuvre.

Pimientos with Anchovies

1 jar (4 ounces) pimientos
1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons olive oil
¼ teaspoon salt
3 peppercorns
1 small clove garlic, peeled and halved
1 can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets.
Chicory or watercress

* * *

Drain pimientos. Into a jar that is a little larger than the pimiento jar, turn the vinegar, oil, salt, peppercorns and garlic; beat with a fork to blend. Add pimientos, pressing them down so they are covered with the marinade; cover tightly and refrigerate overnight.

* * *

At serving time, cross 2 anchovy fillets over each pimiento; garnish with chicory. (Remaining anchovies can be covered tightly, refrigerated and used next day.)

* * *

Marinade from pimientos may be used over chicory. Makes 4 servings.

SEA SHELL — Wrecks of ships dot the Outer Banks of North Carolina in a record of the sea's force along the stretch of lonely islands. This is the wreckage of the Laura Barnes, a four-masted schooner which went aground in a fog June 21, 1921, on Bodie Island. There are approximately 650 known shipwrecks off the Banks.

Lone Ranger's Horses Are Put Out to Pasture

DETROIT (AP) — Silver, the Lone Ranger's great white horse with the thundering hooves and the speed of light, has been turned out to pasture.

Mrs. Brace Beemer, widow of the man who played the original Lone Ranger on radio, offered two horses to the Detroit police, the Detroit Department of Recreation or the Detroit Zoo. The horses, one 27-year-old and the other 14, portrayed Silver in the Lone Ranger television series.

Mrs. Beemer offer was rejected by the city, the zoo and the police. The recreation department said the horses might be dangerous to children; the zoo said it prefers wild animals, and the police don't think it right to put Silver on a beat.

So Mrs. Beemer will keep the horses on her Oxford farm.

"They have earned their keep, and they have a home here as long as they live," she said.

America the Beautiful—3

N.C. Outer Banks: a Land of Mystery

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Outer Banks of North Carolina are a land of sunsets and shipwrecks, fish and memories, ghost islands and smoking beaches; so peaceful the natives forget what "toyme" it is. They are also the land of Sir Walter Rawleigh, Virginia Dare and the Wright brothers. The third in a series on America the Beautiful.)

By HUGE A. MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

PORTSMOUTH ISLAND, N.C. (AP) — A couple of tourists from Dayton, Ohio, once asked the weather bureau to suggest a barren stretch of beach with no trees and brisk breezes, where a fellow could do pretty much what he wanted.

The boys with the barometers and the aerometers thought a bit and calculated a bit and came up with the Outer Banks of North Carolina, a barrier chain of sand islands stretching down the coast from the Virginia line to Cape Lookout and extending as far as 50 miles into the Atlantic Ocean.

The choice delighted the two petitioners.

"The sunsets here are the most beautiful I have seen anywhere," Orville Wright wrote home to his sister, while brother Wilbur busied himself patching up "Flyer," their experimental flying machine, which one of those "brisk breezes" had suddenly upended.

That was back in 1903, but the Outer Banks are still worth writing home about.

* * *

They are still a windswept wilderness of long, lonely beaches, dotted here and there with the bones of broken-up ships and sparsely inhabited by wild ponies, wild boars and a mild-mannered people who speak a curious remnant of Elizabethan English that makes them say "toyme" instead of time, "foyne" instead of fine.

CURIOUS TONE

The sunsets, gleaming in the green and turquoise pools that the ocean makes as it washes over the reefs and turning to gold the granite specks in the 100-foot high sand dunes, are as lovely as ever.

The breezes, sweeping in off Cape Hatteras, where the cold Labrador current meets the warm gulf stream, are still fresh with the intoxicating fragrance of the sea, although at a whim they can churn up into spectacular storms and pound the beach with thunderous breakers.

Setting off a jeep tour of the Banks involves preparations only a shade less elaborate than crossing the Sahara.

* * *

Dennis McGinnis, supervisory engineer technician for the National Park Service, loaded up the radio - equipped, four-wheel drive station wagon with extra gasoline and water, a shovel for digging out of the sand, an air pump for blowing up the tires, which have to be deflated when tire wheels bog down; a tow cable, warm jackets, a flashlight and similar emergency gear.

ON THE BEACH

In 10 years on the Banks, Dennis has been stranded overnight on the beach several times and has no desire to repeat the experience.

From Nags Head, a pleasant local resort that the Washington crowd lately has discovered, to Kitty Hawk, the Wright Brothers monument, the road north led past a colorful row of weathered beach cottages and small resort hotels.

At Ducks, just beyond a terse sign warning, "State Maintenance Ends," the road vanished into a thicket of gnarled trees and blackberry bushes, suddenly turned to dirt, then died altogether at the edge of a sand dune.

* * *

Here in the great wintering ground for the Canadian snow goose, huge flights of birds delayed on their northward journey by a lingering cold spell took flight at our coming.

ALL SILENT

Save for their honking flights and the ceaseless spilling of the surf, the Banks seemed strangely silent, vast and remote. The day was sunny and brisk, the sky piled high with huge billows of grey and white clouds that made deep shadows on the glistening ocean.

Ahead of us, the sand blew up in whirling eddies, endlessly busy at its ageless profession of building dunes and burying vegetation.

All the way to the Virginia line, along nearly 30 miles of broad, beautiful beach, we encountered only three people: A pair of bronzed fishermen pulling in a dory loaded with sea trout and blue fish and a sleepy, unshaved sailor standing on a rickety wooden tower that bore an ominous sign: "Danger — Navy Gunnery Range."

* * *

Travis Williams, a commercial fisheries inspector for North Carolina, took us in his 75-horsepower outboard runabout, the same one he uses to catch oyster pirates and chase off-season clammers.

THE MAILMAN

On the way into the shallow, choppy harbor, we met Maultsby Bragg, the Marine mailman, on the way out. He was making his regular call at the island, every third day, just as always.

At the suggestion of Roy Wilder, we brought some snuff for Miss Elma Dickson and a six pack of soft drinks for Henry Pigott. Henry lives in a neat little frame house on one side of Doctor's Creek and Miss Dickson lives in a slightly larger house on the other side.

Next door, just across the flower garden, live her sister, Mrs. Lillian Babb, and Mrs. Babb's grown-up daughter, Miss Lillian Babb.

* * *

All of them, the mulatto man and the three white women, have lived on the island all their lives. Every day, Henry poles his skiff across the creek to see if the ladies want any "fetchin" done or if maybe they'd like some of the drum and large mouth bass he's caught in the sound.

PUNCTUAL MAN

Henry is a punctual man who prefers order and precision in his life. There hasn't been regular church services on Portsmouth Island in 20 years, but every Sunday, promptly at 10 o'clock, Henry rings the bell in the little Methodist Church, same as always.

"It used to be we had services here every second Sunday; but about the toyme they stopped paying the preacher, that was the toyme he stopped coming," Miss Dickson told us in the most pronounced accent we had heard on the Banks.

She received us in her cozy parlor, bade us draw up rocking chairs and apologized profusely for being in dungarees.

* * *

"You caught me in a mighty bad rig. If I'd of known you were coming, I'd have toydied up a bit."

NOTHING REAL

Nothing seemed real about Portsmouth Island. Even the clock ticking metallically on the parlor wall seemed to be tapping out a different kind of time. Where had everyone gone?

"Afraid of storms, I guess, so they all left," Miss Dickson said. "I'm afraid of them too. It makes bad about that here, but I don't see no need of troying to run from them. I feel loyke when our toyme comes to go, we a'going."

The last big storm, three years ago, it was Henry Pigott's sister's time to go, and Portsmouth Island lost its fifth inhabitant.

* * *

North Carolina calls the Outer Banks a "land of beginnings" because Sir Walter Raleigh's colonists founded the first English settlement here on Roanoke Island and because Virginia Dare, the first child of English parents in the new world, was born here, and the Wright brothers made their first flights here and Billy Mitchell launched modern aerial warfare by sinking the battleships New Jersey and Virginia off Diamond Shoals

LAND OF ENDINGS

But the Banks are also a land of "endings": more than 650 known shipwrecks have taken place off the Banks since Verazzano first stopped by here, including at least 100 allied ships sunk by German mines and submarines in the first year of World War Two.

Few Americans realize the war came this close to their shores, few lived as close to torpedo junction as the Portsmouth islanders.

"They were bombing all the toyme out there," recalled Miss Marion Babb. "It rattled our doors and windows so some time you'd think the roof was falling in. At noyght the burning ships were someto yme s so close offshore we could see the men running around the decks and jumping into the sea."

* * *

So many ships were sunk off the Banks in the opening months of World War Two that a few of the gift shops still carry dolls that the women stuffed with kapok from the life jackets of drowned sailors.

A SERENE STAY

But except for the navy gunnery exercises, all was quiet and enchantingly serene on the Banks during our stay.

Glance Into the Past Is Good Refresher

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Living in the past is the only real way you can keep young.

A journey back in time refreshes both mind and spirit. If you have a good memory you may bore others with it, but who worries about them? The main thing about your memory is that it never bores you yourself.

BOYLE

You've got a pretty good power of recollection if you can look back across the gathering mists of years and remember when—

One of the chores of childhood was going to the grocery store to get a can of coal oil.

HORSES MAINLY

Exercise was regarded as something good for horses rather than people.

The first thing a fellow did on payday was to put his money in his shoe, so he wouldn't lose it to a robber on the way home.

★ ★ ★

A child's biggest problem on awakening in the morning was trying to remember where he had parked the wad of chewing gum the night before. It had to be put where mother wouldn't find it.

★ ★ ★

Everybody in the house was thrown into a panic when the phone rang and the long-distance operator came on the line. It was felt for sure that some loved relative must be ill or in trouble, because if it was good news it would come by mail.

HIDE THE TEARS

When a boy put on his first pair of long pants, his mother had to hide her tears, but his father smiled and said, "Well, Son, don't forget one thing—where your dad nits is still the head of the table."

It was a sign of gentility in the home to have a bowl of waxed fruit in the parlor.

★ ★ ★

No woman of responsibility would think of sending her white curtains to the laundry. They were too precious to be washed by hands other than hers.

You hated to sit in church next to someone who was going to drop a quarter in the basket when all you had to give was a dime.

WAKING HOURS

The average dog spent most of his waking hours scratching himself.

A body never felt he really knew his new next door neighbors until they sent one of their kids over with a cup to borrow something.

★ ★ ★

A rich child was one who took the streetcar to high school instead of walking.

More families in the United States owned two horses than two cars.

CHECKER FUN

You knew a fellow was stuck on a girl when he started letting her beat him at checkers.

Parents hated to have a daughter reach marriageable age, because it meant they no longer could cool off on summer evenings by sitting in the front porch swing.

★ ★ ★

It didn't help your reputation in the community if you were seen coming out of a pool hall twice in the same month.

Dragonflies Swarm In; 'Should Be Welcome'

NEW YORK (AP) — Swarms of dragonflies alarmed residents of Long Island's Rockaway section. An official of the city's pest control department said they should be "thankful, not alarmed." He explained dragonflies, identified by long net-veined wings, do not bite or sting but destroy mosquitos, houseflies, beetles and moths.

Rate of Auto Theft Soaring in Nation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Almost a million automobiles worth $872 million will be stolen in 1970" if the present auto theft trend continues, the president of the National Automobile Theft Bureau says.

"Auto theft has one of the highest rates of increase of all crime," said Michael J. Murphy, former New york City police commissioner who became head of the bureau July 1. "The ratio is now 1 theft to every 153 registrations," he told a news conference Wednesday.

Crime costs Britain 225 million pounds ($630 million) a year.

The marriage of elegant contemporary furniture with Victorian pieces creates a very personal decorating scheme in this living-dining area. Bassett Furniture Industries' richly endowed Persian walnut-finished OUTLOOK collection forms the nucleus of the setting. Its rounded geometric motifs are echoed in the bands of the tufted Victorian upholstered pieces and the metal stripped segments of the Tiffany-styled hanging lamp. The scalloped turn-of-the-century outlines are a pleasing contrast to the clean-lined contemporary silhouettes. Furniture available locally.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Perhaps a bench can be your accent piece in a room that needs an uplift. Check your favorite furniture store for similar styles. Upper left, a rose-covered tufted bench in French Provincial; upper right, deep-tone velvet tufting covers a little bench in Italian Provincial design. Center foreground, a true Victorian style in solid Honduras mahogany with rose motif carving.

Furniture a Fad?

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Unless you have your own private mint, you can't change the decoration of your home as often as you do your wardrobe.

So what do you do about the new trends that come along?

★ ★ ★

An interior designer who works for a company manufacturing accessories, Mary Ann Wills, has this to say:

"Magazines, store windows and TV commercials are constant reminders of what is new in furniture styles and decorating colors.

"Even some of the best designers often have trouble distinguishing between fads and trends, the avant-garde and the way-out."

She goes on to say that only if you can afford lots of trial-and-error buying, can you adopt every new idea.

EXPERIMENT

The average homemaker must do things on a smaller scale. She can experiment with accessories to see if she likes the new styles.

Then, after living with the style for a time, she can decide to discard it or go further and redo a room.

★ ★ ★

Furniture fashions are somewhat like clothes fashions. The very new is heralded widely and loudly, but often proves to be a flash in the pan and doesn't last.

If the homemaker sees a new style and likes it, she can follow a wait-and-see policy. If it lasts and she still likes it, then is the time to buy.

STYLES CHANGE

"Some (styles), says Miss Wills, may disappear altogether within a year. Others may develop into important trends like the Spanish look which now appears destined for a long and happy future.

"But it took time, Miss Wills observed. "Nobody was entirely certain Spanish would survive more than a couple of years; today we consider it an established classic."

Another problem that bothers homemakers is whether to mix periods of furniture in decorating a room.

It seems obvious that a room will look awkward if you try to combine heavy Jacobean pieces with frivolous French antiques of the Louis period. But other mixtures live together happily.

★ ★ ★

So much depends on what you like, what sort of family you have and the individual articles of furniture.

Note the picture accompanying this article. In it are blended two entirely different kinds of furniture. But the result is pleasing.

★ ★ ★

Everything is in scale and the contrasts make the room more interesting.

NEED ROOTS

Furthermore, often older pieces of furniture speak of our past and provide a timeliness to our living. We all need roots and it's a mistake to throw out everything.

Let's not be like the woman who told the decorator she didn't care what period her room was done in. She had no special likes and dislikes.

"All I want is that when my friends walk in, they should drop dead."

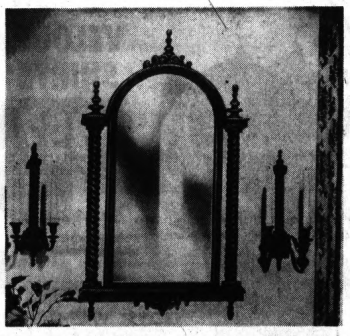
Let's have our homes tell people what we're like. Let's not be afraid to use some favorite item because it's not the right period. It may be just the thing to make the room warm and human.

Accessories can be bought specifically as such; or they can be cherished heirlooms, parts of a hobby collection, mementoes from trips — anything that makes the room in question belong to the people who live in it.

TOO MUCH

One warning comes from designers. If you use collections, don't let them become overpowering. Display a few of the best items and change them from time to time.

Whatever style you choose — how many times you redecorate — keep your house personal so that when your friends walk in, they won't think they've entered a beautifully furnished, but cold, impersonal motel room.



Created as the finishing touch for a formal Spanish decorating scheme, this new Alhambra wall mirror by Arabesque of Traverse City is reproduced from a hand-carved original. Comes with matching sconces. Available by early fall in area stores.

Habits Are Annoying to Others

By The Emily Post Institute

If there is one thing worse than the horrible post-mortem, it is the incessant repetition of some jarring habit by one particular card player.

A common offense is that of snapping down a card as played, or picking it up and trotting it up and down on the table.

Other pet offenses are drumming on the table with one's fingers, making various clicking, whistling, or humming sounds, massaging one's face, scratching one's chin with the cards, or holding the card one is going to play aloft in the air in smart aleck fashion as though shouting, "I know what you are going to play! And my card is ready!"

All mannerisms that attract attention are unpleasant and annoying to one's companions and must be avoided like the plague.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Check That Charter Flight Bargain

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Charter flights for vacationing groups have grown into a pretty big business in this country — and a good way to get a real bargain for your money. Economy tours allow a lot of us to get places and see things we couldn't otherwise afford.

MARY FEELEY

But keep this in mind — no trip is a bargain unless you actually get a chance to take it.

While there are hundreds of reputable, financially secure travel agents, or group tour promoters, around the country, there's always the rotten apple in the barrel that gives the good ones a bad name.

For example, just recently an unethical travel agent in New York State was charged with misappropriating $124,000 which had been advanced by a group of teachers for a charter flight to Europe. The charter flight just never materialized — and the teachers lost their vacation money.

This sad story is cited by New York's attorney general, Louis J. Lefkowitz, who gets vocal about the need for licensing travel agents and requiring them to post a bond for the protection of the would-be tourists who put their cash on the line. Says the attorney general:

"It is unfortunate that so many individuals are defrauded by some travel agents who give an economic black eye to the entire industry."

Since more of us would like to enjoy the thrill and time-saving features of flying where we want to go, I'd just like to list here some of the suggestions attorney general Lefkowitz offers for the vacationer's protection:

- Deal with one of the hundreds of reputable, financially secure travel agents or group tour promoters. If you are not sure about someone you're dealing with, check with the Better Business Bureau or the American Society of Travel Agents.
- Be sure your contract for passage states that you can get a refund of your money if the flight is canceled for any reason.
- Beware of clauses in the agreement which permit the promoter or agent to keep any of your money in the event of cancellation through no fault of your own.
- Ask the agent whether he has complied with all federal regulations, especially those of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Level With Unattached Male and Then Leave It to Him

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is a bachelor (more appropriately, a recent widower) who is enjoying a burst of popularity as the "extra man" on the guest list of many hostesses in our town.

ABBY

Since the number of extra women outnumbers the men, when he is invited to a dinner party, the hostess usually has a partner in mind for him.

This man accepts willingly, and then adds, "Do you mind if I bring my own lady?" Of course, no proper hostess will say she minds, even if she does.

Invariably his "lady" is much younger than the other ladies present, and she doesn't fit in very well.

How can this situation be tactfully handled?

ONE HOSTESS

DEAR ONE: Are you inviting this man because he is your friend and you want to entertain him? If so, let him bring whom he will.

But if you want only a "male" to fill out your table, or hope to "mate" him with one of your unattached female friends, level with him and see what happens.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend's mother is really too much! She's only 32 years old, but she looks 20. She has a fabulous figure and long red hair and she had to get married. You know the type. She's divorced and loves to run around with young kids.

I think it's swell for mothers to be young and all that, but this one should act her age. She goes around the house in stretch pants, short shorts or a Bikini. (Anything to show off her figure.)

Once when I was there with a bunch of kids she yelled, "CLOSE YOUR EYES, I'M COMING THROUGH," and she walked through the room with only her bra and panties on! Everybody almost died. I don't know what she's trying to prove.

I am not jealous of her, I am only disgusted. What is your opinion of a mother like this?

GREEN EYES

DEAR GREEN: Her conduct would hardly qualify her for "Mother Of The Year," but if you find her disgusting don't go to her home and you won't have to put up with her.

* * *

DAR ABBY: I am probably old enough to be your mother but I am seeking advice on a problem that is almost too silly for words.

On our block is a woman known as "The Visitor." She stops at your house with a bunch of flowers from her garden, or some "goodies" she has baked. Anything, just to get into your house.

Once she's in, your day is shot. She stays until your husband comes home for supper. The only way I have been able to get rid of her is to tell her that I have an appointment (doctor, dentist, a meeting).

Then I have to get all dressed up and actually drive off in my car.

My husband says I am a ninny to go to all this bother, But, Abby, I can't hurt this lady's feelings, as some others have, by telling her I haven't time for her.

But how on earth do I get rid of her? She's not a bad soul and she is very sensitive.

SOFT-HEARTED

DEAR SOFT: Your neighbor is "sensitive" only to her OWN feelings, which in plain English is selfishness.

Quit going through the motions of keeping an appointment you don't have and tell The Visitor (as gently as possible) that you don't have as much free time to visit as she.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. G. IN CHARLOTTE: It isn't enough for a gardener to love flowers. He must also hate weeds.

Look Forward to Fall

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Commuting to their summer home at Harbor Beach this summer has been Ivan Ludington Jr. whose family returns this week to their home in Bloomfield Village.

* * *

Susan, Ivan III, Dana and David are all in different local schools and there are appointments to attend to before school begins.

NEW POOL

This summer has been especially busy for the Ludington family since its 150-foot swimming pool came into being. Relatives and friends stop by to enjoy it and there is quite a group if some 30 cousins should get together all at once.

* * *

Susan and Ivan III have also spent a good deal of time on the tennis courts with their cousins, Scott and Kathy Kennedy whose parents are the John Kennedys of Rochester. Mrs. Kennedy's mother is Mrs. Basil Conley, a sister of the senior Ivan Ludington, whose home nearby is the center of many family gatherings and civic activities.

BENEFIT TEA

Last week Mrs. Ludington opened her home for a tea benefiting the Harbor Beach hospital and following morning service at St. Margarets' Mission on Sunday there was a coffee hour for the congregation. St. Margarets' Chapel stands on the Ludington property.

Other relatives from Rochester were the Robert Truesdells and children, Cynthia, Robert and Russell who are visiting Mrs. Truesdell's mother, Mrs. Conley.

Fix Garden Hose

One coat of pliable roof paint applied on a leaky garden hose will restore it to use.

She Offsets an 'Aura of Luxury'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Womens Editor

ROME (UPI) — Children of ambassadors grow up with many advantages other children do not have — and with some disadvantages, too.

Mrs. Frederick Reinhardt, wife of the U.S. Ambassador to Italy, tried to insure that her four youngsters aged eight to 13 have a happy balance.

"This," said Lilliam Reinhardt, "is so grand."

The West Virginia born woman referred to the setting and the services at the Villa Taverna, an aged three-story brick structure which once was the home of an Italian Count and since the end of World War II has been the U.S. ambassadorial residence.

Growing up in an "Aura of luxury" needs to be offset, she said, so the two older children, Fred, 13, and Aurelia, 11, are spending the summer in Swiss Camps where the children do all the work — the laundry, the dinner dishes, the making of beds.

* * *

"Here," said Mrs. Reinhardt, "we started out trying to let the children do some chores like other children do. But the servants don't like. . . I think they'd rather polish the children's shoes themselves than clean up later."

* * *

The other two children are Harry, 9, and Catherine, 8.

Two other members of the household are Banjo, a lady dachshund Reinhardt acquired in Egypt where he formerly was ambassador, and Banjo's offspring, Hans.

Mrs. Reinhardt talked of embassy life as we sat on the terrace which she said had been a gift to the residence by former Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce.

"Every ambassador has added something," she said. "Unfortunately, no one has left a swimming pool."

Mrs. Reinhardt said she wasn't complaining, understand, but a major problem in bringing up children in a diplomatic environment was in finding time to be with them — "For them to get to see their parents. They eat at normal hours . . . we often are entertaining and dine much later, or are out for the evening."

ELEGANCE AWES

But the advantages are many. "Great for their manners," she laughed. "At the beginning, there were screams about dressing properly for dinner. But that stopped when they saw the elegance around them.

* * *

They're also becoming linguists — they started learning French when the Reinhardts were stationed in Viet Nam and are continuing it at French Schools they attend here.

* * *

Mrs. Reinhardt, called "Solie" by her friends, was born in Bethany, V.Va., where her ancestors founded Bethany College. Her husband, whom she married 16 years ago, is from San Francisco and has been with the state department 25 years.

CHIC IN CHIGNON

The wife of the ambassador is a very attractive woman with blonde-brown hair worn plied high in a chignon, with fair skin and a sprinkling of freckles, blue eyes and the figure to wear the simply-styled clothing she prefers.

Melon Queen Sets Record at University

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Students at the newly-opened University of California San Diego campus felt they should establish some "traditions" for future classes to carry on.

PICKED QUEEN

They elected pretty Elizabeth Heller, 19, of Pasadena, Calif. as "watermelon queen." She was taken to the roof of a seven-story classroom building and handed a 20-pound melon which she tossed to the patio below.

RECORD 'SPLAT'

The rind, black seeds and pulp scattered over a distance of 91 feet — a record for future watermelon queens to attempt to better.

Stamp Collector?

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) —Mrs. Jean Gillis slipped a quarter in the post office stamp machine one night to get five 5-cent stamps. The five stamps came out but so did 483 4-cent stamps and 146 pennies. Then a red light flashed "out of order."

* * *

The surprised Mrs. Gillis kept her five stamps and returned the "windfall."

Feminine Logic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — On an accident form which asked what the other driver might have done to prevent the accident, a woman who had just dented a man's fender wrote:

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Hardening of Arteries Hinder the Brain

BRANDSTADT

Q—My brother has hardening of the arteries of the brain. He is taking Cyclospasmol and Taractan. What are they for? How does this disease progress?

A — Cyclandelate (Cyclospasmol) is given to dilate the blood vessels in the brain and thus improve its circulation. Taractan, a thioxanthine, is a tranquilizer.

This combination is highly recommended for this deisease. There is no set pattern for the progress of cerebral hardening of the arteries.

The commonest symptoms are forgetfulness and easy fatigability. As the disease progresses there may be a series of minor strokes or a major stroke with paralysis of one side of the body.

Q—An elderly woman in our neighborhood goes around telling everybody that people are following her and won't leave her alone.

She begs for help from friends and high officials. Her son says she has hardening of the arteries in the brain. Could this be true?

A—Cerebral hardening of the arteries may cause a wide variety of strange behavior in elderly persons.

If your neighbor has shown no signs of mental disease earlier in life, hardening of the cerebral arteries would certainly be the most likely explanation for her actions.

Q—What would cause a man to fall without any warning such as lightheadedness or clouded vision? As soon as he hits the ground he comes to. He does not have a high blood pressure.

A—Repeated attacks of this kind would suggest brief epileptic seizures (petit mal) or momentary periods of heart block.

In any case the victim should have a thorough examination to discover the cause because, if such an attack occurred while he was getting off or on a bus, at the top of a flight of stairs or while driving an automobile a serious injury could result.

Q—I read that the U. S. Pharmacopoeia (USP) has dropped Miltown, which I have been taking. My doctor says the National Formulary, a government publication, still includes it and that I should keep on taking it. Why did the USP drop it?

A — Meprobamate (Miltown) when taken in doses only slightly higher than the recommended level may be habit forming.

It was dropped from the USP, which was revised in May, because the consultant committee believes that it is a sedative rather than a tranquilizer and that other sedatives are preferable because they are less likely to produce undesirable side effects.

Howard Cushing of Newport, R.I., claims to be the living prototype of the man who sits East in all bridge articles and is continually defending unsuccessfully against his opponent's game and slam contracts.

Sometimes Howard defends successfully as may be seen from this hand played recently in a rubber bridge game.

Even though both sides had part scores Howard felt that his four small diamonds and general lack of high cards made an immediate overcall of North's diamond opening inadvisable. But after South responded one spade and North raised to two Howard decided to fly the flag and made a second round takeout double since he was prepared for both hearts and clubs.

Then after his partner bid three and four hearts Howard flew the flag once more and went on to five hearts. He felt that four spades would make easily and that five hearts would not be hurt severely. It wouldn't have since West would have lost three diamonds and the ace of hearts for a 300 point setback.

Of course, Howard did not have any great hope of setting five spades, but once in a while things work out well for East and West.

West studied his opening lead carefully and decided that a heart lead would do him no good and that Howard was marked with some strength in clubs. Hence, West opened the seven of clubs.

Howard won with the ace and returned the suit. South rose with the queen in hope of a miracle but this was not a day for miracles and East and West showed a 50 point profit.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	Pass	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	2 ♥	Pass	3 ♥
Pass	4 ♣	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 8 7 ♥ K J 6 5 ♦ Q 9 4 3 2
What do you do?

A—Bid five clubs. Your partner is making some sort of belated slam try and you might as well show that you really are void of clubs.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two hearts your partner bids two no-trump over your two-club bid. What do you do now?

Famed Warriors Still Proud

Restless Sikhs Are Pressing for Independence From India

By CONRAD FINK

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — SPECIAL REPORT

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — The Sikhs, those storied warriors of old, are getting restless.

Here in the holiest city of the Sikh religion, Sikh men — turbanned, bearded and armed with swords and daggers — meet to map strategy which, if carried to its logical end, means Sikh secession from India.

* * *

The immediate demand is "Punjabi Suba" a Punjabi-speaking state formed on linguistic lines from territory now in Punjab and Rajasthan states. But the Sikhs, as proud and independent as they once were warlike, are thinking far beyond that.

Leaders of the two major factions in Sikh politics are bidding for an independent Sikh state for their estimated 10 million people.

NO HESITATION

Sant Fteh Singh, 53, most powerful Sikh leader, warns "If some sacrifices are needed in whatsoever number, we will never hesitate."

He said last week he plans to give Prime Minister Lia Bahadur Shastri 25 days to move toward rearranging northwest India. If Shastri does not comply, Sant Fateh Singh said, he will fast for 15 days. If he is still alive then, he added, his followers will burn him alive.

Master Traa Singh, 82, his rival, calls for an "autonomous region" and threatens to meet Shastri "on the field" if Sikh demands are not satisfied.

Both add they don't want to destroy the Indian union and that they favor peaceful struggle. But there is no telling how they have stirred the martial strain that has raked the 500-year-old Sikh religion.

NUMEROUS WOES

Shastri's government already is hard-pressed to placate or suppress other separatist tendencies, regional unrest and, in some areas, near anarchy.

Shastri made a special reference to this in a nationwide broadcast:

"I might also urge the brave Sikh people in particular to keep up their old tradition of keeping the country above everything else. I do fervently hope they will not think in terms of any agitation or protest."

* * *

Linguistic states were formed years ago. Many Indians regard this as major error by the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru. Language quarrels have hardened until some scholars say 480 million Indians form several linguistic nations.

TAKE TO SWORD

Sikhs, more than other Indians, are noted for fighting abilities coupled with a tendency to take with the sword what others merely argue for. They once controlled Punjab and Kashmir but lost to the British in the Sikh wars.

The Sikh fear is the same of other minorites in India — that they will be swamped by the overwhelming Hindu majority and that their religion and history will disappear in an ocean of Hinduism.

* * *

Already, Sikh leaders say, the government discriminates against Sikhs in such things as selection of officers for the armed forces and civil service.

One Sikh, reminded that many of his people rank highly in the armed forces, replied:

"Yes, but representation still does not match our ability. You see we are better than the others in everything."

PLAY DIVISIONS

Shastri's strategy in combatting this thinking is to play upon divisions within Sikh politics — not difficult because Sikh politicians at times appear more interested in winning local elections that give them control of temples and temple funds.

Shastri, in a meeting with Sant Fateh Singh in New Delhi, agreed to consider Sikh grievances. But he did not answer the question of forming a new state.

The Sikh leader, surrounded by swordsmen here in his Amritsar headquarters, made clear he intends to keep the question open.

The DRC Story

CONFESSIONS OF A RACE TRACK OWNER

I Want To Give You A Tip.

It is NOT on a horse, but rather on PEOPLE.

The horses are running at the Detroit Race Course (nine races Monday through Friday, with a post parade at 3:20 P.M. and a big 10 race program on Saturdays starting at 2 P.M.).

The thoroughbreds are competing for the biggest purses in our 17-year history and the caliber of racing is high. I am proud of this, but prouder still of the fans who are turning out in record numbers to see our new, modernized plant that makes the Detroit Race Course one of the finest sports facilities in the United States.

A year ago, we inaugurated a V.I.F. Program.

V.I.F. stands for Very Important Fan.

I said at the time, I regard each person who passes through our gates as a Very Important Fan. I mean it sincerely.

As a result of the VIF Program, I have had an opportunity to meet and talk each week with fans selected at random to represent all our patrons.

It has been one of the most pleasant and rewarding experiences of my many years in racing.

The Fans have given me a multitude of TIPS . . . tips on the things they like and dislike about our operation and on their views on racing in general.

Our VIFS have shown themselves to be informed and understanding. Their views have been sound and well presented. I have welcomed their comments, whether critical or favorable.

When I say YOUR PLEASURE IS OUR BUSINESS, I am not merely voicing a slogan. This is the key to our entire operational philosophy. We want you to enjoy the thrills and excitement of top racing in pleasant surroundings and a congenial "It's-fun-to-be-here" atmosphere.

The response to our VIF Program last season was overwhelming. In order that more fans may have the opportunity of being selected as VIFS, we have enlarged the scope of the plan this season.

It is simple to become a participant. Merely fill out a coupon in the daily racing program and drop it in one of the VIF boxes, which are located conveniently throughout the grandstand and clubhouse areas.

If you are selected . . . and I hope you are . . . I think you will find the racing experience ahead a memorable one.

So enthusiastic was the support of our VIFS last season, we are forming a VIF Alumni Club this year so we may continue our pleasant association.

Take a tip from me . . . DRC fans are tops. Why not join their ranks and get in on the fun? Come out soon and see us.

Ex-Local Prep Foes in Browns-Lions Tilt

IN LIONS' DEN—Former Pontiac Central gridder Walter Beach will be in the starting lineup for the Cleveland Browns Sunday when they face the Detroit Lions at Tiger Stadium. Beach will be on opposite sides of another ex-PCH gridder Jerry Rush, rookie defensive tackle with the Lions.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

They may not have the occasion to block or tackle each other, but a trio of former Saginaw Valley grid stars, two from Pontiac Central will be on opposite sides when the Detroit Lions and Cleveland Browns face each other Sunday afternoon at Tiger Stadium.

All three players on the defensive units of their respective teams, Walt Beach a defensive back and Jim Kanicki a defensive tackle are with the Browns. Jerry Rush at defensive tackle will be on the Detroit side of the field.

Beach and Rush, both Pontiac Central alumni, were on opposite sides when the Cleveland Browns defeated the College All-Stars in Chicago, August 6th.

Kanicki, a third-year player from Bay City Central, was a big factor in the Browns' 27-0 rout of the Baltimore Colts in the NFL championship game last winter.

BIG 10 HONORS

Kanicki and Rush played against each other during their high school days in the Saginaw Valley and both went onto Michigan State to attain Big 10 and All-American honors.

Kanicki was a year ahead of Rush in high school and two years ahead of the PCH gridder at MSU, since Rush sat out a year before joining the Spartans.

Beach was an All-SVC choice in 1951, entered the service and took little All-America honors at Central Michigan in 1958.

SPORTS

Kanicki at 6-4 and 270 pounds will be starting for the Browns at defensive tackle. He moved into the spot when veteran Bob Gain broke his leg last year and he won the praises of Cleveland coaches for containing big all-pro offensive tackle Jim Parker of the Colts in the championship game.

Rush had some playing time against the Colts last week, playing the defensive tackle spot behind Alex Karras and he is expected to play considerably against the Browns.

HELPS VICTORY

Beach played one of his finest games of the 1964 season against the Lions in Cleveland when the Browns won a 37-21 verdict before 83,000 fans.

He intercepted two passes returning the second one 65 yards at the final gun for his first NFL touchdown.

It was Cleveland's first victory over the Lions ever in regular season play and since the Browns won the Eastern Division title by only a half game, the triumph against nemesis Detroit was one of the biggest of the season.

Milt Plum, who quarterbacked the Browns for five years, will start for the Lions with Tom Myers getting the backup call.

The Browns will be without the services of guard John Wooten for the game because of a leg injury and also without Paul Warfield sensational rookie pass receiver last year who was hurt in the All-Star game. He will be out for six more weeks after a shoulder operation.

The Browns yesterday released former University of Michigan gridder, star of the Rose Bowl game, Mel Anthony.

They also announced the acquisition of Ozzie Clay, a flanker and kickoff specialist from the Washington Redskins.

Kickoff time Sunday is 1:00 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

TRADITIONAL APPROACH — Before beginning his turn at bat, Takayuki Saito, Tokyo, greets umpire Terry Gramling in the traditional Japanese manner. Tokyo team then went on to lose to Jeffersonville, Ind., in the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa. The game yesterday was the third game this week in the annual championships at the Little League headquarters.

Steeler QB Doubtful

Giants Lose Linebacker

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Tom Scott, 35-year-old linebacker for the New York Giants of the National Football League, announced his retirement as an active player Wednesday and was signed by the Giants as an assistant coach.

Scott will work under defensive coach Frank (Pop) Ivy.

Scott is a veteran of 12 NFL seasons. He played with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1953-58 before joining the Giants in 1959.

KINGSTON, R. I. (AP) — Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Bill Nelson's chances of starting in the game against the Baltimore Colts in Atlanta Saturday are doubtful, a Steeler spokesman said Wednesday.

Nelson strained a knee ligament in the first quarter of the Steelers' game with the New York Giants last Sunday.

★ ★ ★

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles, with all three quarterbacks participating, went through a heavy passing drill Wednesday in preparation for their exhibition game Saturday against the New York Giants at Princeton, N. J.

Norm Snead, King Hill and Jack Concannon tossed the passes, mainly to flanker back Ronnie Goodwin, who made several good grabs.

Coach Joe Kuharich said some of the Eagles' veterans who haven't played in the three preceding exhibition games will see action Saturday.

DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Packers defensive Capt. Hank Gremminger was given the go-ahead Wednesday to play in Saturday night's pro-season National Football League contest with the Cowboys at Dallas after missing two previous exhibition contests with a knee injury.

Hoosiers Rip Japanese '9' for 18 Runs

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — The Jeffersonville, Ind., All-Star team set a Little League World Series record Wednesday against an outmanned Japanese team.

The Hoosiers pounded Tokyo, Japan, 18-0, as Greg Morrison tossed one-hitter and struck out 12. He lost his no-hitter on a fourth-inning single by Shinji Todokoro.

★ ★ ★

Morrison also helped pace Jeffersonville's 18-hit attack with three singles and a double. Teammate Grenshaw Owens banged out three singles and a double and drove in five runs.

Fumiteru Yanagawa had to pitch the entire game because the Japanese team had only 10 players. Four boys became ill just before the team left for the United States and stayed at home.

FIRST TIME

Stoney Creek, Ont., became the first Canadian team to get past the opening round of a Little League World Series by blanking Rota, Spain, 6-0.

The Canadians got good pitching from right-hander Joe Polango, who struck out 12 and was never in serious trouble after his team gave him a five-run cushion in the second inning.

★ ★ ★

Ritch Perkins was the starting pitcher for Rota and caused his own downfall in the second inning when he dropped a pop fly with two out and nobody on base. The miscue led to four unearned runs and from then on, it was all Stoney Creek.

Detroit Halted on 6-Hitter

Bonus Baby Hunter Baffles Bengals

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — No matter what his nickname is, there was nothing "fishy" about the way Jim "Catfish" Hunter pitched for the Kansas City As Wednesday night.

The 19-year-old right-hander from Hartford, North Carolina, had the Detroit Tigers "fishing" in vain, as the lowly Athletics clipped the Tigers.

Until the current series began, Kansas City had managed to win only two of 14 games with Detroit.

The As have won two of the first three games of their four-game series with the Tigers.

Until the eighth inning, Kansas City's $75,000 bonus baby kept the Tigers handcuffed on four harmless singles.

Willie Horton then hit a single and Don Demeter doubled. Horton was thrown out trying to score on the hit and the Tigers couldn't threaten again.

Kansas City pegged Detroit starter Joe Sparma with the loss by scoring single runs in the first and second innings and sending him to the showers with a two-run rally in the third.

LEAD OFF TRIPLE

Campy Campeneris led off the game with a triple and scored on Wayne Causey's ground out.

Johnny Blanchard homered in the second inning for the A's second run.

Then after Jose Tartabull opened the third with a single, Dave Wickersham replaced Sparma. Ed Charles met Wickersham with a single and Jim Landis walked, setting up a two-run single by Ken Harrelson.

★ ★ ★

Wickersham hit Campaneris with a pitch and gave up a double to Causey in the fourth inning before Ron Nischwitz entered the game and put the rally down.

The Tigers will try to salvage a split of the four-game series in a single game this afternoon.

Sox Patsies for Pappas

Oriole Tames Chicago

By United Press International

For relaxation Milt Pappas enjoys bowling and the Chicago White Sox.

Bowling is a hobby for the 26-year-old Baltimore righthander and the White Sox are supposed to be work but Pappas has been mowing them down like 10 pins ever since he won his first American League game in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Pappas has beaten Chicago 17 times in his career, losing only four decisions and this season he has whipped his favorite patsies three times and registered both his shutouts against them.

The White Sox were particularly welcomed sights to Pappas Wednesday night, because he had labored more than a month without a victory.

And Chicago, eager to please their old tormentor, bothered Pappas for only four hits and donated an earned run for the winning tally in Baltimore's 2-1 triumph.

TWINS UP LEAD

Minnesota increased its AL lead to 7½ games by edging New York 5-4, Cleveland swept two games from Los Angeles 6-3 and 8-2, Kansas City blanked Detroit 5-0 and Boston outslugged Washington 8-3.

★ ★ ★

The triumph for Pappas was his 11th against six defeats and his first victory since July 21.

Gary Peters allowed just five hits in eight innings of work for the White Sox but took his 11th loss compared to eight victories. The Chicago run came in the first when Don Buford led off with a triple and raced home on Floyd Robinson's infield pop-up to second baseman Bob Johnson.

STRIKES OUT TWO

Al Worthington struck out Hector Lopez and Ray Barker to end the game and preserve Minnesota rookie Jim Merritt's fourth win in five decisions. Merritt had allowed only two hits until the ninth when Elston Howard's two-run homer kayoed him.

★ ★ ★

Knuckle ball pitcher Bob Tiefenauer pitched two hitless innings of relief in each game for the Indians to preserve victories for Steve Hargan 1-2 in the first game and Ralph Terry 11-4 in the nightcap.

Fred Whitfield and Duke Sims homered in the opener for Cleveland and Leon Wagner connected in the nightcap, driving in three Indian tallies.

★ ★ ★

Eight home runs soared out of Fenway Park in Boston. Carl Yastrzemski, Tony Conigliaro, Rico Petrocelli, Felix Mantilla, and Bob Tillman homered for the Red Sox and Ken Mullen, Jim King and Frank Howard connected for Washington. Earl Wilson evened his record at 10-10 for the Red Sox, fanning 13 and scattering seven hits. Mike McCormick absorbed the defeat.

300 Bowl '9' in Title Contest

Pontiac's 300 Bowl softball squad will be bidding for a Class B regional crown when it takes on a Port Huron team this evening at 7:30 at Whaley Park in Flint.

300 Bowl has a 2-0 record in the regional play and one win over Port Huron will wrap it up. If Port Huron (1-1) wins the 7:30 game, the two will take a short break and return for a second game to determine the title.

In Class D action in Flint last night, Pontiac's Merchants were eliminated after dropping a 15-0 verdict to Dryden.

Kansas City Hooked a Winning 'Catfish'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jim (Catfish) Hunter is a 19-year-old rookie pitcher with 14 shotgun pellets in his right foot, $75,000 of Charles O. Finley's money in his pocket and two big victories for the Kansas City A's in the last 10 days.

The young right-hander from Hertford, N.C. shut put the Detroit Tigers on six hits Wednesday night, 5-0, just 10 days after a four-hit 4-1 victory over the Yankees in New York.

"He has made remarkable progress," said Manager Haywood Sullivan. "If he keeps this up, he'll help us a lot next year. We had been keeping him on the roster only to protect him from the other clubs.

"The thing that amazes me is the way he throws those strikes with the count 3-and-2. He threw 118 pitches today — not bad for a rookie."

AVERAGE

Hunter has a 5-4 won-lost record and 3.97 earned run average.

"I pitched better in the victory over the Yankees," Hunter said, "but this was a good one. I'm learning to keep my arm high all the time. When I drop it to three-quarter I'm in trouble."

Catfish acquired his nickname at the age of six when he ran away from home and his parents found him fishing in the Perquimans River. He already had caught two catfish and had a third on the hook.

He was shot in the foot in a hunting accident Thanksgiving Day, 1963. More than 40 shotgun pellets have been removed, the last 14 at the Mayo Clinic a week before the A's outbid 17 clubs for his signature.

"We were worried about him in the Winter League because he didn't look fast," said Ed Lopat, A's pitching coach. "But he's getting stronger and faster with more work.

"We changed his grip from cross-seam to with the seam," Lopat said. "Now he's sneaky fast and the ball tails and sinks.

"He is a fine competitor, learns fast, works at his trade, has a keen mind and the maturity of a man 23 or 24. He gets his change-up over the plate and isn't afraid to challenge them with it."

Three Share Lead in Golf Tournament

DETROIT (AP) — Three golfers were tied for the lead today in the professional division of the United Golfers Association Tournament.

Following second round action Wednesday, Howard Brown, Detroit, Calvin Tanner, Chicago, and Carver Thorte, Winston-Salem, N.C., all had 139s.

Three other golfers were tied for second in the pro division at 140. They were Chick Griffith, Chicago, Lee Elder, Los Angeles, and Cliff Brown, Nashville, Tenn.

Hydro Driver Escapes Injury

DETROIT (AP) — Powerboat racer Chuck Thompson escaped injury Wednesday when his hydroplane Tahoe Miss caught fire on the Detroit River during qualifying runs for Sunday's Spirit of Detroit race.

Thompson was midway through his third practice lap when he was forced to leap ashore as his craft burst into flames and began to sink. A Coast Guard patrol boat towed the $100,000 racer to the dock where pumps kept it from going down.

Meanwhile, three more boats qualified for the race. They were Miss Bardahl, driven by Ron Munson of Seattle, with 113.564 mph; Savair's Probe, with Red Loomis of Detroit, 102.175 mph; and Mariner II, with Warner Gardner of Detroit, 101.694.

Final trials for the 12 berths will be held Thursday and Friday.

Water Sprite Pointmaker at Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Cathy Cole, a 14-year-old water sprite from Florida, figures to go from the silver to gold standard today in the seventh World Maccabiah Games.

Little Cathy, who looks like she would be swallowed up by the first big wave off her North Miami Beach home, has bagged three swimming silver medals in the first two days of the Games, known as the Jewish Olympics.

The 5-foot-1, 99-pound high school sophomore earned her third silver medal by finishing second to Olympic silver medalist Marilyn Ramenofsky of Phoenix in the 400-meter freestyle final Wednesday.

AFTER GOLD

Today Cathy is a virtual cinch to get a gold medal as the leading member of the heavily-favored American 400-meter freestyle relay team.

Other swimming winners Wednesday were Dick Abrahams of Savannah, Ga., in the 100-meter freestyle, 56.2; Spitz, of Santa Clara, Calif., in the 400-meter individual medley, 5:02.0; Israel's Gershon Sheffa in the men's 200-meter breaststroke, 3:41.1, and 12-year-old Shlomit Nir, a tiny Israeli from a kibbutz in the Galilee, in 3:02.3.

State Senior in Golf Win

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (AP) — George Haggarty of Grosse Pointe defeated Leon Sikes of Palm Beach, Fla., 1-up on the 19th hole of the World Seniors Golf Tournament Wednesday. He meets Jack Barkel of Sydney, Australia in a quarter-final match today.

Ed Titus of Grand Blanc won a non-championship flight match, defeating Arch Hallas of Grenfel, Australia, 1-up.

Net Officials Find Hope in California Teen-Agers

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — U.S. tennis officials looking for Davis Cup team prospects trained their sights on a couple of kids from Southern California today in the 85th National Doubles Championships at Longwood.

Teen-agers Stan Smith of Pasadena and Bob Lutz of Los Angeles continued their almost disrespectful dash through the tournament Wednesday by eliminating top-seeded foreigners Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox before a crowd of 4,100.

Smith, 19, and Lutz, who will be 18 Sunday, knocked off the Mexican Davis Cuppers, who won the U.S. Doubles crown in 1962 and were runners-up the next two years, 6-1, 9-11, 6-4, 6-4.

STUNNING UPSET

The unseeded kids pulled off the tournament's most stunning upset after they had eliminated Roger Taylor and Mark Cox of England in straight sets Tuesday. Taylor and Cox were the fifth-seeded foreign entry.

Australia's Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle, rated by most as the world's top doubles team, were the only foreign seed able to advance to the quarter-final round.

Emerson and Stolle were extended for two hours before defeating stubborn Dave Power of Fort Collins, Colo., and Indiana University, and John Pickens of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Rice Institute, 11-13, 6-4, 6-2, 12-10.

★ ★ ★

American Davis Cup teammates Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., the No. 1 U.S. seed, romped over New Zeland Davis Cup members Lew Gerrard and Ian Crookenden 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of St. Louis, the defending champions, moved into the women's quarter-finals by whipping Mrs. Q.A.S. McKean of Hamilton, Mass., and Mrs. Richard Buck of Manchester, Mass., 6-2, 6-1.

In a quarter-final match, Julie Heldman of New York and Tory Fretz of Los Angeles upset, the No. 5 seed, Mary Ann Eisel and Justina Bricka of St. Louis, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

122 Pairs Enter Golf Invitational at Orchard Lake

A field of 122 two-man teams will tee off tomorrow morning in the first round of the Blue Coast Invitational golf tournament at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Members are paired with guests for the match play tourney which is conducted on a handicap basis. Second and third rounds are scheduled for Saturday and finals are slated for Sunday.

Among teams in the field are Walter Hagen Jr. of Detroit, son of the famed Walter Hagen who will be playing with Orchard Lake's Jack Strait; and Pete Green of Orchard Lake will team with John Collinson of Midland.

Wings Unveil '65 Slate

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-home schedule, featuring 17 Sunday games, was announced Wednesday by the defending National Hockey League champion Detroit Red Wings.

* * *

The Red Wings will open their home season against the Toronto Maple Leafs, Oct. 24. Four Saturday games on the card are divided into two matinee games, against New York, Jan. 15, and Chicago, Feb. 26, and evening games against Chicago, Dec. 18, and Boston, Feb. 19.

* * *

The traditional New Year's Eve contest will be played against the Chicago Black Hawks.

Oriole Hopefuls to Play City Champs

Already assured the city men's title and a berth in the state recreation association championships, Huron - Airway will play one of its biggest games here Saturday night.

That will be an exhibition game against a special Baltimore Oriole team of young prospects in Pontiac at the invitation of the organization's scouts and officials.

The nine-inning game will begin at 7:30 p.m. under the Jaycee Park lights.

The reason the game is so important is money. The H-A nine will play at least two games and possibly more in the state competition next week at Battle Creek. Its first game is Thursday night and the second one Saturday during the day.

A special drawing held during the season by the Class A managers to cover post-season tournament expense raised enough money to cover the team's expenses for approximately two days.

BENEFIT GAME

The game here Saturday also is held to add to the fund since the state tourney could cover a five-day period should Huron-Airway reach the final game. That could cost more than $700.

Thus, it is hoped Saturday's contest will attract enough fan contributions to defray more of the team's state tournament expenses.

The city recreation department, while not contributing directly to the fund, has donated the use of the field, lights and park manager for the exhibition game.

Baltimore and Huron-Airway are supplying the equipment and paying the umpires and scorekeeper.

What monies aren't raised to cover the tournament expenses will have to be covered by private contributions, by the sponsor or by the players themselves (many of whom will be taking off work in order to represent the city at Battle Creek).

Last year, Pontiac was eliminated on the next to last day. Close to $300 was spent by the players and club officials out of their own pocket. At that time, there was no Class A managers' fund.

In addition to the exhibition game Saturday night, Baltimore is also holding a tryout camp for drafted players and others it has invited for two days of scrutiny at Jaycee Park.

The workouts will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday and Sunday mornings, and the public is invited to watch at no charge.

West Coast Golfer Bids for 4th Women's Crown

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Three-time champion Mrs. Anne Quast Welts of Seattle, Wash., says she wants to win the current U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship "just as badly as I did the first time back in 1958."

She showed that Wednesday with a 3 and 2 victory over Bridgette Varangot, the French champion, in the first round, then turned in a smashing 8 and 7 triumph over Lesley Milliken of Bartow, Fla., in the second round.

Patti Shook of Saginaw was defeated 3 and 1 by Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., in a first round match.

* * *

Barbara McIntire, defending champion from Colorado Springs, copped her first match 3 and 1 from Gecky Glasscock, Little Rock, Ark., and edged Marcella Rose, Jefferson City, Mo. 3 and 2.

State Man Given Post

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Peter R. Miller of Plymouth, Mich., was named Wednesday as general manager of Louisville Downs, Inc., which will inaugurate night harness racing next July.

Miller will retain his post as general manager of Jackson Harness Raceway at Jackson, Mich., a post he has held since 1962.

Golfers Start Minus Tuneup

Rain Halts Practice for $100,000 Classic

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Players who like to study every blade of grass on the course will have to hit it blind, so to speak, in today's opening round of the $100,000 American Golf Classic.

When last weekend's Carling World Tournament in Sutton, Mass., was extended through Monday because of rain, only a handful of golfers had a chance to test the Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yard, par-70 layout Tuesday.

Most of the touring pros had banked on practicing Wednesday, but a heavy afternoon deluge washed out their plans. This left the course heavy for the opening round of the 72-hole tournament which runs through Sunday. The final four holes Sunday will be televised (ABC-TV) from 3:30 to 5 p.m., EST.

One of the television announcers will be Ken Venturi, who won the classic last year with a record five-under-par 275, finishing five strokes ahead of Mason Rudolph. Venturi has not completely recovered from an operation on his ailing hands.

Also missing from the scene will be PGA champion Dave Marr and rookie sensation Homero Blancas.

Pistons Complete Sked for Pre-Season Games

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons Wednesday scheduled four more exhibition games, bringing their completed pre-season schedule to a record 14 contests.

The Pistons scheduled two more games with Baltimore, on September 25 at Columbus, Ind., and Sept. 26, at Kendallville, Ind., and single encounters with St. Louis on Sept. 23, at Springfield, Ill., and with Philadelphia, on Oct. 31, at Canton, Ohio.

Massachusetts Sailor in Race Series Lead

SEATTLE (AP) — William Widnall of Cambridge, Mass., moved into first place Wednesday in the O'Day Cup Single-Handed sailing championships on Lake Washington.

Widnall took a second in the fourth race of the series, the only one held on the second day of racing. The day's schedule was delayed for 3½ hours by capricious winds.

Braves' Ace Also 'Soaked'

Shower Slows Giants' Drive

By The Associated Press

It rained all over Herman Franks' parade but the shower was nothing compared to the bath Billy O'Dell has been taking.

Franks had his Giants marching towards second place in the hectic National League pennant race Wednesday night, leading 5-3 against Pittsburgh with one out in the bottom of the 10th inning.

The Forbes Field scoreboard already had Los Angeles' 7-5 loss at New York and Cincinnati's 7-4 triumph over Milwaukee posted and the Giants were set to move past the Braves into second place, just one percentage point back of the front-running Dodgers.

But Mother Nature, who apparently isn't a Giant fan, had other plans, the Heavens opened up and time was called. The umpires, recognizing the importance of the game in the pennant picture, waited for the storm to let up.

LONG WAIT

They waited for an hour and 46 minutes before finally calling the game. Because the Pirates had been unable to complete their final turn at bat, the score reverted to the last complete inning and instead of a 5-3 victory, San Francisco had a 3-3 tie.

* * *

That left the Giants in third place, a full game back of Los Angeles, which dropped its second straight to the Mets, and one half game behind the Braves, whose ace reliever, O'Dell, was struck with ninth inning thunder by Cincinnati for the second straight night. The fourth place Reds, meanwhile, closed within 1½ games of the lead. Only 10 percentage points separate the first four teams.

O'Dell, who was beaten by Tommy Harper's two-out, two-run homer in the ninth Tuesday night, came on in relief of Dan Osinski as Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan tried to counter Cincinnati skipper Dick Sisler's righty-lefty strategy.

With the score tied 4-4, two on and two out in the ninth, Sisler sent up Gordy Coleman, a left-handed hitter, against righty Osinski. Bragan countered with O'Dell, a southpaw, but Sisler came right back with rookie Tony Perez, a right-handed swinger.

Perez, who sat out the Tuesday game with a bad leg, smacked a three-run homer and limped around the bases while Bragan brooded.

"A surprise entry," the Braves' skipper said sadly.

The Dodgers dropped their second straight to the Mets as Joe Christopher whacked three hits, including a two-run homer, and Gordon Richardson pitched 6 2-3 innings of airtight relief.

Houston edged Philadelphia 7-6 and Chicago topped St. Louis 6-3 in other National League games.

Eddie Mthews' eighth inning single scored Hank Aaron with the tying run for the Braves before Perez connected. Frank Robinson also homered for the Reds, who scored two runs on Milwaukee mental lapses.

Denis Menke, who made three errors, bobbled a bases-loaded grounder in the seventh and then belatedly ran to second for an attempted force although Frank Bolin was standing on the base, waiting for a throw.

In the sixth, pitcher Denny Lemaster fielded Sammy Ellis' bases-loaded bunt a few steps from the home plate, but instead of tagging the plate, or throwing to first, Lemaster held onto the ball as the run scored.

* * *

Richardson allowed just four hits — two of them with two out in the ninth — as the Mets whipped the Dodgers.

U.S. Winning for Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The big confrontation between the United States and Russia in the World Student Games comes tonight when their towering, sharp-shooting basketball teams clash in the semifinals.

Hungarian fans, anticipating an American victory, have their lungs ripe and pocket whistles handy.

The so-called Universiade, a competition of students, has become, like the Olympics, a two-nation battle between the two powerful sports nations.

So far the Americans, outnumbered 170 to 41 in the size of their athletic squad, have more than held their own — and basketball is expected to add another gold medal to the gleaming laurel wreath.

CHEER U.S.

The Hungarians are delighted. They live in the shadow of the Soviet's hammer and sickle. Communist officials try to keep the proud people of this Eastern European country under their thumbs.

But the Hungarian, who fought Russian tanks in their streets and lost in the uprising of 1956, leave no doubt where their allegiance lies. They whoop it up for the Stars and Stripes — and let the Russians like it and lump it.

The United States' trim, handsome swimmers dominated the water events, completed Tuesday night.

Wednesday Allen Fox of Los Angeles and Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., beat the strong Russian pair of Tomas Lejus and Sergei Likacsev for the men's doubles crown in tennis. The score was 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

The gallery was openly pro-American. The fans protested loudly once when the umpire called a replay of a point after the Americans had won a game.

The Yanks drew first blood in track and field when big Randy Matson won the shot put with a heave of 66 feet, 7¾ inches.

The basketball game is crucial.

Giving the Americans a big edge is the presence of All America Bill Bradley of Princeton and the two Van Arsdale twins, Dick and Tom, of Indiana University.

"We have to win," says Bradley. "We can't let these Hungarian people down."

Fairly Active Trading

Market Shows Mixed Pattern

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market absorbed some profit taking in the morning and displayed a mixed pattern early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Some of the recent high flyers skidded in the first hour or two and the market showed a slightly lower tendency. By midday, however, there was enough recovery to even things up.

Brokers noted that during the summer there has been a disposition to do considerable preweekend selling on Thursdays. After two days of advance, the market handled this kind of selling routinely.

Some, but not all, of the previously rallying airline issues declined or stalled. Aerospace issues, however, continued in the upgrade and most electronics were a bit higher.

Steels were mostly lower as doubts continued about prospects for a steel labor settlement by the Sept. 1 strike deadline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 331.6 with industrials up .2, rails unchanged and utilities off .2.

* * *

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .39 at 891.24.

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U. S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Britain Checks Ford Cutback

Union Blames Politics for Company's Action

LONDON (AP) — George Brown, Minister for Economic Affairs, announced today that he had ordered an urgent investigation into charges that Ford Motor Co. of England was cutting production for political reasons.

The No. 2 man in the labor government directed the Board of Trade to investigate Ford's decision to reduce the work week at two main plants from five to four days a week because of dwindling orders.

* * *

Union leaders charged the move was dictated by Ford's parent company in Detroit to diminish competition in the export field. Shop stewards of six main unions operating at Ford charged in a statement that the Ford decision was an attempt "to sabotage the Labor government."

T. N. Beckett, director of the car division of Ford of England, denied both allegations in an interview with the Financial Times.

DOWNTURN IN SALES

He said the curtailment was made necessary by a seasonal downturn in sales which he said had been aggravated by the government's restrictions on credit buying. Registrations of new Fords between July 1 and Sept. 30 will be 35,000 fewer than the corresponding period of last year, he predicted.

* * *

Beckett said Ford of England will have a surplus of 14,000 vehicles in the home market over the next six weeks. He said his company was doing everything possible to increase exports but the surplus could not simply be dumped on the export market.

He denied that there was any market-sharing agreement between Ford of England, Ford of West Germany and Ford of the United States.

In addition to the shorter workweek, production at Ford's big Halewood plant at Liverpool was threatened by a week-long wildcat strike of delivery drivers. The drivers went out wen one of their mates was fired following a conviction on charges of dangerous driving.

COMPANY SPOKESMAN

A Ford of England spokesman said of Brown's statement:

"It is particularly unfortunate that the charges should be leveled against a company which has invested nearly 200 million pounds ($560 million) in five years to increase exports and, as the nation's top exporter for many years, has done more than any other to sustain the pound."

After Rough Year

Strike Is Hurting AMC

AP Business News Writer

DETROIT—If there was one thing American Motors didn't need, it was the strike that hit its auto assembly plants Monday.

AMC had a rough year in the marketplace as its sales trailed its 1964 pace at a time when other auto companies were making sales gains. Its stock dividends declined while other companies held firm or increased their return to their stockholders.

AMC President Roy Abernethy said much of his firm's trouble was that its pre-1965 mixture of cars was not quite what he wanted, that too many people thought of AMC as the maker of plain Jane compacts.

Abernethy added convertibles and hardtops to AMC's line in its 1965 model run and will unveil soon the sportiest line of cars American Motors ever has built. He is confident that the 1966 model run will have much happier results for AMC.

'66 MODELS

AMC was just about the first auto maker to start production of its 1966 models as an estimated 10,000 of the new cars had rolled off the two assembly lines in Kenosha, Wis., before labor trouble halted the line.

It got production under way Aug. 9, well ahead of the startup timetable for Chrysler and General Motors' 1966 production run. Ford began some building about the same time.

AMC's sales for the 1965 fiscal year, which practically overlaps the model year, totaled about 440,000 units, including 80,000 cars sold overseas. That performance represented an increase over the 72,000 cars AMC sold abroad in 1964 but was down over the over-all total of 455,273 for the 1964 year.

Many auto industry observers, who shared Abernethy's hopes that better things were ahead for the upcoming model year, were dismayed when AMC ran afoul of labor trouble this week.

All indications were that the issues were not ripe for a quick solution. From statements by AMC, the United Auto Workers and federal mediators, it appeared the issues that caused the Kenosha strike and subsequent layoffs at AMC's Milwaukee body plant were real toughies.

According to AMC's formal statement, the strike involved the "issue of who is to run the plants, the union or the management."

* * *

Officials of Local 72 of the UAW countered that the company had "twisted the issues" and added, "We wish to make it emphatic that in no way do we wish to manage the company."

Ironically, the AMC strike came almost at the time that one of the leading auto publications, Ward's Automotive Reports, issued an analysis of the 1965 model run which indicated that AMC had achieved considerable progress in 1965 in upgrading its product.

SIGNIFICANT GAINS

Ward's said, AMC "made significant gains in producing and selling a richer model mix in 1965."

That supported Abernethy's theory that AMC would do better as soon as the buying public came to realize that American Motors offered as many sporty cars and just as many options as any other auto maker.

His problem now is to get the strike settled and get back to the business of building the cars so the public may see for themselves.

Successful Investing

Q) "I am curious as to why you and other financial advisers rarely, if ever, recommend Granite City Steel. In the last ten years, I have been in and out of this stock at least four times, in every case making a profit. At the average price I paid (22-24) this issue seemed a bargain. Don't you agree?" J.M.

A) I'm sorry to say I do not. Granite City Steel is a good, relatively small company in its field, but it is — like all steels — highly subject to cyclical changes. The range you mention for the shares is correct for 1963-65, but an investor could — and many did — pay as high as 49 in 1962 and 52 in 1961. There has been no growth in earnings for many years and my estimate of $2.75 a share for 1965 is well below the 1956 level of $3.52.

The steels face a possible strike or a decline in sales following the recent big inventory buildup. You had a measure of luck, or had good knowledge or guidance, to buy near the low and get out with a profit; but for the average investor cyclical stocks represent a hazard that, in my opinion, they should not assume.

B52s Make Third Strike in Suspected Cong Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Guam-based B52 jet bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command struck today at a suspected Viet Cong installation 30 miles northeast of Saigon in the Zone D jungle, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

This was the 11th raid of the war by the big eight-engine craft. The spokesman said it was their third strike within the zone, a Communist-infested territory of about 600 square miles stretching from a point north of Saigon eastward toward the South China Sea.

Under new security regulations, no further details were released.

Two South Vietnamese planes dropped 88,000 newspapers on three North Vietnamese cities during the night, the spokesman said.

* * *

The newspapers were reproductions of Nhan Dan, a publication banned in North Viet Nam nine years ago because of its criticism of the Communist regime. The North Vietnamese Communists have since taken over the name — which means human knowledge — for their official newspaper in Hanoi.

FIRST OF KIND

Thousands of leaflets have been dropped over North Viet Nam, but this was the first time a propaganda raid was made with newspapers. The spokesman said thousands more would be dropped soon.

In a bombing mission, 16 U.S. F105 Thunderchiefs flew within 35 miles of the Chinese border yesterday destroying a railroad bridge 115 miles northwest of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

* * *

He reported that American planes in six other missions today damaged bridges, trucks and truck parking areas, barracks and a radar site in areas from near the frontier between North and South Viet Nam to the region around Thanh Hoa.

Pontiac School Affairs

Full Teacher Staff Ready for Fall Classes

When Pontiac school children begin classes in about two weeks, a full elementary and secondary teaching staff will be on hand to greet them.

This report was presented to the school board at their regular meeting last night by Lewis A. Crew, director of instructional personnel services.

Crew told the board that all instructional posts had been filled, with three exceptions—and these are all special education teachers.

Still, needed is a physical therapist, a teacher for the acoustically handicapped and a teacher for the mentally handicapped.

* * *

Crew said he was quite certain he will have hired the therapist by the time school opens, and was optimistic about filling the remaining two posts after school begins.

SHORT DELAY

These two posts are new this year in the Pontiac school system and the delay in finding qualified staff will merely delay the biginning of the two new programs.

In other action last night the board heard a report that most new construction in the school district slated for occupancy in September should be ready for the opening of school.

The lone exception is a six-room addition at Alcott Elementary School. Administrators said they were hoping two rooms would be ready for the first day of school.

Arrangements have been made to house students on the premises in other rooms.

SALARY SCHEDULE

A new salary schedule for athletic coaches was approved last night by unanimous board action.

The coaches salaries are based on a percentage differential, applied to the basic teacher's salary schedule.

The plan was developed in the 1957-58 school year and since that time, the 1957-58 salary schedule has been used for a base.

* * *

Action last night changed this provision and from now on the percentage differential will be applied to the current salary schedule.

In some cases in the new schedule, percentage differentials were also changed to bring salaries more in line with those in comparable school districts.

The additional cost of changing this salary schedule will be about $10,000 for this school year.

Board member Russell L. Brown brought two matters to the board's attention and it was agreed to review the matters for later consideration.

Brown questioned the school district's policy on mandatory retirement for teachers at age 65.

LOSING TEACHERS

He said the school was losing a lot of valuable people because of the foreced retirement.

Brown also brought up the question of "moonlighting" by teachers.

This term is used in describing a second job held by a teacher or any person.

Brown said this was not just school problem or a local problem, but one which is experienced throughout the nation.

He contended, however, that a teacher could not do a good job in school, if he or she was up most of the night working a second job.

The school system currently has no policy on "moonlighting," but administration officials agreed it was occurring on a fairly large scale.

Teacher organizations will also be contacted on these two matters for reactions and suggestions.

The board also approved a new salary schedule for food service employes.

The new plan calls for a raise in pay and increased employe benefits.

Elderly Nuns May Leave Church Order

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — The controversial Mother Cecilia Mary disclosed Wednesday that she and five other elderly nuns who run the Good Shepherd shelter for abandoned animals, may separate from St. Mary's Priory in nearby Colwood.

* * *

The six nuns who have denied a demand by the Roman Catholic Church to turn the shelter over to a lay agency or abandon their religious vows, said they were considering the possibility of setting up a separate religious order.

* * *

An order Monday from Archbishop Sergio Pigenedoli of Ottawa, the Vatican's apostolic delegate in Canada, directed the six to give up the shelter and "dedicate themselves to the work given to them by their superiors."

* * *

Ignoring the order, Mother Cecilia said, "We shall just go right on. There will be no changes. This fight just increases my determination."

WORK OF MERCY

The 76-year-old nun said "our order says 'any work of mercy' and we consider this a work of mercy."

* * *

She said plans to ensure continuation of the shelter were under way. A lawyer is drawing up papers for a society with her as president to run the shelter. A board of directors would take some of the work load off her and continue in the event of her death or disability.

* * *

The shelter, which houses about 100 animals, was started by the aged nun five years ago with approval from the sisters at St. Mary's Priory and the blessing of the late Bishop James Hill of Victoria.

Milford Driver Hurt as Auto Hits Tree

A Milford man was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital following an auto accident yesterday afternoon in White Lake Township.

* * *

Edmund D. Scherer, 38, of 966 Panorama told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies that the car he was driving skidded on wet pavement and struck a tree.

The mishap occurred on Ormond near Highland Road at 12:45 p.m.

Wealthy Prisoner Bids for Freedom

HUTTONSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — William Hollie Griffith had $2 when he entered prison 50 years ago. Now, with $26,000 accumulated behind bars, he can buy anything he wants except freedom.

Griffith, 73, will make his 16th appearance before the West Virginia Board of Probation and Parole Sept. 14.

* * *

Prison officials think he should be released. They point to Griffith's good record and ability to support himself. He has earned the money by operating a penitentiary tailor shop.

A group of West Virginia businessmen recently asked Gov. Hulett C. Smith to release Griffith so he can use his money and experience to establish a garment factory at Grantsville, in one of the state's more depressed areas.

NO ACTION

Smith has taken no action but has expressed interest in the proposed plant which would provide about 30 jobs.

"I don't see why Hollie couldn't make a go of the plant," said Leo Callison, deputy warden of the state's medium security prison here. "His behavior has been outstanding during the 35 years I've known him. I can't see why he's not out now."

* * *

Fifty years ago, Griffith was chased across the state by a posse after shooting a law officer in a gun battle.

Griffith was sentenced to life in the state penitentiary. Six years later he escaped. During three weeks of freedom, he killed two more men.

SOLITARY CONFINEMENT

Given two additional life sentences in 1921, Griffith spent the next 57 months in solitary confinement. Upon his release from solitary, he began working in the prison tailor shop. Twelve years later he bought the dry cleaning and pressing equipment from the man who held the penitentiory contract.

* * *

Griffith, now prison librarian, has two brothers and four sisters who visit him occasionally. He hasn't seen his wife or two children for 50 years.

* * *

"My daughter was only two years old and my son was 18 months when I was convicted," he said. "I have never allowed them to see me in prison. They could only have stayed for a few minutes each time and it would have hurt worse than if they hadn't come at all."

Concerning his chances for parole, he said: "I've been up before the board so blamed many times I try not to think about it any more. If you don't get your hopes up, then you can't be too disappointed.

"I'll admit, though, it hurts when they turn you down. A man always wants out no matter how long he's been in prison."

3rd Yank Held in East Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist police arrested an American tourist in East Berlin three months ago, informed sources said today. He is the third American known to be in Communist captivity.

The sources identified the American as William Wyot Lovett of San Francisco. They said he was involved in a traffic accident last May in East Berlin when an East German was injured. No other details were disclosed.

Western officials disclosed yesterday the arrest in East Berlin of an American and two Britons. The American was identified as Benjamin F. Whitehill III, 21, of Tulsa, Okla.

He was arrested Aug. 12 with Briton John Thwaites, a 19-year-old student.

A third American, John Van Altena of Milton Junction, Wis., was sentenced to eight years imprisonment in January for allegedly trying to help refugees escape.

* * *

The other Briton being held was Arthur Wilbraham, 29, of England, who was arrested in East Berlin on undisclosed charges last Friday.

Jury Indicts Klansman on Firearms Act

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A federal grand jury has returned a firearms act violation indictment against Eugene Thomas of Bessemer, one of three Ku Klux Klansmen charged with murdering a Detroit white civil rights worker.

The indictment accuses Thomas, 42, of possessing an illegal firearm—a double barrel shotgun—last March 26, the day after Mrs. Viola Liuzzo was shot to death near Lowndesboro, Ala.

The formal charge was possessing "an illegal firearm without paying special tax as required by federal law."

Thomas posted a $500 bond when taken before a federal commissioner Wednesday. He was represented by Arthur Haines, a former Birmingham mayor.

OTHERS CHARGED

Charged in the Liuzzo slaying with Thomas are Collie Leroy Wilkins and William O. Eaton, also of the Birmingham area.

Mrs. Liuzzo was killed by pistol fire from a passing car the night of March 25 as she was returning to Montgomery for another load of Selma residents who had participated in the Selma to Montgomery voter rights march.

Wilkins was tried by a white Lowndes County jury last May. The jurors could not agree on a verdict, voting 10-2 for a manslaughter conviction, and the case was reset for September.

Frontier Doctor in 'Stagecoach'

Bing Doing 1st Character Role

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Visitors to the "Stagecoach" set have to take a second look at the scruffy fellow with unmowed chin and unkempt toupee.

"That's Bing Crosby?" they ask incredulously.

THOMAS

Yep, that's Bing Crosby opening up a whole new can of peas in his long, fabulous career. He is playing an out-and-out character role for the first time. Down-and-out, too.

* * *

The film is "Stagecoach." Bing is replaying the role of the bibulous frontier doctor, which the late Thomas Mitchell parlayed to a supporting-actor Oscar in the 1939 original. Bing sings nary a note, and his usual sunshiny personality is submerged in vintage firewater. He stepped out of the coach one afternoon to chat.

ONE OF BETTER DAYS

"You think I look bad now?" he grinned. "This is one of my better days — only a one-day growth of beard. You should see me when I haven't shaved for a week."

Who got the notion for him to play the role?

* * *

"It was George Rosenberg's idea," Bing replied, referring to his trusty agent. "He said the part was there if I wanted it, and it sounded fine to me. Gives me a chance to do a real character part.

"I've played drunks before. Did one in 'Country Girl' and another in 'Man on Fire.' But this is the first time I've been drunk through most of the picture. The ole doc never falls down or anything; he just maintains a pleasant glow. Until he has to deliver the baby. Then he has to sober up."

HASN'T SEEN

Bing said he hadn't seen the John Ford classic since its original release, so his characterization won't be influenced by the Mitchell performance. The role is much the same, although some comedic bits have been added for Bing and Red Buttons, who took the role originated by Donald Meek.

Bing appears to be enjoying the new assignment immensely. Contrary to the Crosby image, he likes to work. But he admits that work can be carried too far, as happened last year when he attempted a television series.

* * *

"Never again," he declared. "It's just too much. I was working from 7:30 to 7:30 every day for five months. And I mean working. When you're not in front of the camera, you're making a change; I changed clothes about 12 times a day. That kind of a routine doesn't even give you time to visit on the set."

EMCEEING SHOW

This season he will be emceeing "Hollywood Palace" for 10 shows with an occasional guest shot. In between he will travel to England to see his horse Meadow Court run in the St. Leger race. Bing hopes to return to Europe later if the horse makes the Arc de Triomphe sweepstakes in France. After that, he plans some hunting in Spain.

Spanish Voters OK'd

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Harold M. Mulvey has ruled that Puerto Ricans who are literate in Spanish but not in English should be eligible to vote in Connecticut. His ruling apparently resolved a conflict between state and federal provisions regarding literacy tests.

French Health Fund Falling Behind Costs

PARIS (AP) — The Labor Ministry says collections from employers and employes for the national health service in the first three months of 1965 were up 9.2 per cent over the first quarter of 1964. But expenditures — covering costs of hospitalization, medicines and doctors' visits — grew by 15.2 per cent.

Tree Section Shows History

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)— When local nurseryman Harold Parnham had to cut down a 90-foot burr oak on his property to make way for a flood-control project, he decided to turn a slab of the giant tree into a showcase of the history through which it had lived.

He spent many hours studying the section of trunk and determined by counting the rings that it was 130 years old.

* * *

It has been preserved with a coat of plastic and now stands in a wooden cradle near his nursery, with important events marked at the ring formed during the year they occurred.

Near the center are such dates as Iowa Statehood in 1846, when the tree was just a sapling; farther out are the Civil war of 1861 and World War I in 1914. Closer to the bark is noted the bombing of Pearl Harbor in 1941.

Bird for Sale With Varied Vocabulary

LONDON (UPI) — Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon wants to sell her pet parrot, Oscar. The bird swears, cries, laughs, whistles, sings and barks. The noise is too much for Mrs. Gordon.

Oscar has to go, Mrs. Gordon decided yesterday, and she placed the following ad in the London Times:

"Parrot, varied vocabulary, unsuitable for vicarage. Any offers?"

Mrs. Gordon explained that Oscar is in the habit of saying "mummy" at the top of its voice.

* * *

"With five young children in the house, I never know whether it is Oscar or one of the children," Mrs. Gordon said. "He has an enormous vocabulary and can outdo the children."

HAS REPERTOIRE

Mrs. Gordon said the parrot "swears moderately, whistles like a boy after a girl or warbles in a falsetto."

"But the barking is a most terrible noise," she said. "He barks like a dachshund. He once stayed two weeks with someone who had a dog, but he ate a picture frame so he wasn't invited again."

Several old ladies and at least one clergyman have offered to buy the bird.

* * *

"Oscar needs someone to devote full time to him," Mrs. Gordon said. "But I think he would shock an old lady."

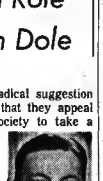
Sees Drinking Set in Role of Helping Those on Dole

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I wish to make a wildly radical suggestion to President Johnson and Sargent Shriver . . . that they appeal to the Cocktail Party Crowd and to Saloon Society to take a slight pause during the evening's drinking and make a cash contribution to anti-poverty.

Now this is a serious proposal, folks.

Make it gay, make it a gag, but get some money, out of that which is being flung away, for those who need it more.



WILSON

"Wilson's flipped," I suppose some will say. "What kinda idiocy is he preaching this time?"

No! It's my first and only brilliant idea. I suggest it after the wonderful response of some of my wonderful readers to a couple of paragraphs about a poor arthritic Negro woman in St. Clairsville, O., who was trying to rebuild a home after a fire.

She was living on one meal a day, saving $1 at a time, carrying the lumber herself, as she hobbled on a cane, with an injured spine. Her income, which was her welfare check, required her to live on coffee the last week of every month. Oh, those letters!

"I want to send $25 . . . Here's a check for $50 . . . Enclosed $2 for that woman in St. Clairsville . . . I'm a hard-boiled newspaperman but I want to send something . . .

"I'd like to send a few bucks and so would some of the other guys I hang out with. As jaded as we are, we were very touched . . ."

Now . . .!

On County School Boards

Districting Briefs Deadline Set

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A panel of three federal judges Wednesday gave attorneys for both sides until Sept. 7 to file briefs in a controversy over apportionment of county boards of education.

The development followed conclusion of oral arguments in the case before Judges Clifford O'Sullivan, W. Wallace Kent and Noel P. Fox.

* * *

Court spokesmen indicated all the judges would participate in a written opinion to decide the question.

The Grand Rapids Board of Education and six individuals claim county boards of education are not apportioned on a population basis. They further contend that property transfer powers of the Kent County Intermediate School District board violate due process of law.

* * *

The controversy arose more than two years ago when the Kent County Board de-annexed $4.5 million in property from the Grand Rapids School District and transferred it back to the Kentwood School District. The disputd property had come into Grand Rapids through annexation. The Kent board's action later was upheld by the State Board of Education.

8 Hurt in Bob-Lo 'Bug'

Teen Killed in Ride Mishap

WINDSOR, Ont., (AP)—A boy was killed and eight youngsters were injured last night when an amusement ride car in which they were riding left the track and plunged to the ground.

The accident took place at Bob-Lo Island, an amusement center which lies at the mouth of the Detroit River at the entrance to Lake Erie.

The dead youth was identified as Thomas C. Minidis, 17, of Detroit. He was dead on arrival at a hospital he Windsor, across the river from Detroit, is about 35 miles from Bob-Lo.

The four girls and five boys, all members of a Detroit church youth group, were in one car of a ride called the "Bug" when the accident occurred.

ROLLER-COASTER STYLE

W. B. Browning, general manager of the park, said the "Bug" moves about on a low, roller-coaster style of track.

He said he was at a loss to explain the accident, adding "I don't know how this could have happened."

His brother, L. B. Browning, vice president of Bob-Lo Amusement Co., said a "leaf spring" on the car apparently collapsed.

The youngsters, all from Detroit, went to the island as part of a going-away party for one of their members who was leaving to attend college.

'FLYING ALL OVER'

Kathy Malloy, 17, said she and the others were sitting in the car when "it started and tossed us all around. It went around four or five times and then we were flying all over each other.

★ ★ ★

"I don't remember what happened, but we went through a fence and then I was lying there and I couldn't believe it.

"I just lay there yelling, 'Oh, God, oh, God' until they carried me away on a stretcher."

CHARLES CONRAD

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. today smashed the world space endurance record held by the Soviet Union.

The historic moment came at 8:06 a.m. EST.

Flight director Christopher C. Kraft offered his congratulations and asked: "How does it feel for the United States to be a record holder?"

"At last, huh?" Cooper replied.

★ ★ ★

Sitting at his control console in Gemini control a few minutes earlier, Kraft watched the second hand on the clock as it passed the record mark. When it did, he smiled and said, "Zap!"

SOVIET MARK

The Soviet record for a single flight — broken by Gemini 5 — was 119 hours, six minutes, set by cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky in June 1963.

The Gemini 5 spacecraft hurtled on toward a new mark of eight days in orbit.

At 9:53 a.m. EST the Gemini 5 had completed 76 orbits.

★ ★ ★

Before the day is out, the United States will have still another record.

At 1:01 p.m. EST, the U.S. astronaut corps will have logged more man-hours in space than all the Soviet cosmonauts.

Cooper and Conrad will have 124 hours in Gemini 5 at that point, putting the American total over the Soviet log of 507 hours, 16 minutes.

Trouble developed through the night with two of the maneuvering jets. They stuck period.

★ ★ ★

For a time, a number of other jets spilled out "big blobs" of liquid," — probably fuel.

RAPID REDUCTION

They caused a rapid reduction in the amount of maneuvering fuel left, and flight officials decided to sharply curtail those experiments that require maneuvering.

The problem was not expected to endanger the eight-day goal of the flight.

In the early morning, the Gemini 5 spacecraft flashed past the two-million-mile mark — nearly two-thirds of the way home in its orbital ordeal.

"Gemini's 'go' up here," was the word from the astronauts.

DAILY ROUTINE

For the astronauts, there was a daily routine of picture-taking, observations and experiments — but they could sit back and let the spacecraft clock set a record for them every passing second.

They were given a go-ahead for a sixth day in space.

The hours preceding the record setting were mostly quiet as the astronauts slept on and off, and the spacecraft sped on toward the goal of 3.12 million miles.

★ ★ ★

"Guess you know, you got about three hours to go yet before a big event," Gemini Control said in the early hours before the record was broken.

'DIDN'T KNOW'

"Is that what it is?" Conrad asked. "We didn't know exactly what time it was."

He asked for, and got, the exact time the record would be broken.

Control suggested a way to celebrate the moment: "Do a couple of rolls and a loop."

"We haven't got the fuel," said Conrad.

Then the sleepy voice of Cooper chimed in, "That's all we can do is rolling and rolling and rolling."

The astronauts also seemed to think they had been up quite a while. It prompted this exchange with control:

Conrad: "Gordon and I figure we've been up long enough now we will have to have a SIM (Simulation Training Exercise) on reentry to get bounced up."

Control: "We'll see if we can't work one in for you."

L. GORDON COOPER

Cooper: "You mean this is the real thing. I thought we were in the simulator all along."

There seemed to be some small concern on the ground about the buildup of water in the fuel cell system.

The system which joins hydrogen and oxygen to harvest electrical current produces water as a byproduct and it is stored in tanks. The tanks are filling up.

Conrad was told that the "tightest constraint" from here out in the flight would be the storage space for the water.

B52s Bomb Area in Jungle

Make Third Strike in Suspected Cong Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Guam-based B52 jet bombers of the U.S. Strategic Air Command struck today at a suspected Viet Cong installation 30 miles northeast of Saigon in the Zone D jungle, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

This was the 11th raid of the war by the big eight-engine craft. The spokesman said it was their third strike within the zone, a Communist-infested territory of about 600 square miles stretching from a point north of Saigon eastward toward the South China Sea.

Under new security regulations, no further details were released.

Two South Vietnamese planes dropped 88,000 newspapers on three North Vietnamese cities during the night, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The newspapers were reproductions of Nhan Dan, a publication banned in North Viet Nam nine years ago because of its criticism of the Communist regime. The North Vietnamese Communists have since taken over the name — which means human knowledge — for their official newspaper in Hanoi.

FIRST OF KIND

Thousands of leaflets have been dropped over North Viet Nam, but this was the first time a propaganda raid was made with newspapers. The spokesman said thousands more would be dropped soon.

In a bombing mission, 16 U.S. F105 Thunderchiefs flew within 35 miles of the Chinese border yesterday destroying a railroad bridge 115 miles northwest of Hanoi, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

He reported that American planes in six other missions today damaged bridges, trucks and truck parking areas, barracks and a radar site in areas from near the frontier between North and South Viet Nam to the region around Thanh Hoa.

Kathy Leach Develops Pneumonia

Two-year-old Kathy Leach, who underwent a rare liver transplant operation two weeks ago, has developed pneumonia.

However, there has been no change in her condition, according to her grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Leach Jr. of 25 Detroit, Lake Orion.

Kathy has been listed in serious condition since her operation 16 days ago at the University of Minnesota Hospital.

Mrs. Leach said Kathy was given blood last night to counteract internal bleeding.

KATHY

She said she has also been running a temperature but that it has dropped to about a degree above normal.

Kathy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leach of 12 Indianside, Lake Orion, had been at the hospital since April waiting for another child to die so she could receive a healthy liver.

The eight-hour operation was performed Aug. 10, almost two years to the day from the time her condition was discovered. She suffers

Rescuers Prepare to Enter Devastated Du Pont Plant

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Rescue workers prepared today to enter a devastated Du Pont chemical plant where explosions and fire killed at least six persons, left five others missing and presumed dead and injured 30 more.

Nearly 200 area residents evacuated from their homes as a safety precaution awaited an all-clear signal to return.

"We don't think there is any additional danger," a Du Pont official said.

Several fires continued to burn inside the ravaged complex, but they were considered minor.

Eight persons were hospitalized, one in critical condition, as a result of the devastation. The explosions caused an estimated $5 million to $10 million in damage. Cause of the blasts was not known.

Another person was added to the list of presumed dead today. He was a bricklayer doing contract work for Du Pont inside the plant.

The explosions, 25 in all, began at 9:25 a.m. (Pontiac time) yesterday. The last three came at nightfall after an all-clear had been sounded and a rescue party went back into the blast area.

CAUGHT UNAWARE

Three firemen and four policemen were caught unaware by the last explosions and suffered minor injuries. The officers found six bodies in the basement of the main building, but had to retreat.

Authorities today set up a mobile morgue at the plant site.

Company employes were told to report for work to help restore the plant's electrical and water systems. Production at the plant probably will not resume for some time, a Du Pont spokesman said.

Police and national guardsmen ordered residents within a sparsely settled two-mile radius to evacuate their homes yesterday when it was feared a huge tank of volatile chemicals would explode.

About 90 of the evacuees spent the night in a makeshift shelter at Louisville's Butler High School. Others were put up by relatives and friends.

Several small "pops" were heard within the blast area after midnight, but officials said they probably were small oil drums exploding. More than a dozen fires burned through the night, but a morning rain extinguished most of them.

Joint Steel Talk Called by Mediator

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The government's top mediator called his first joint meeting with steel negotiators today after the United Steelworkers Union rejected an industry offer to raise wages and benefits 40.6 cents an hour over the next three years.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service who is trying for the second time in four months to help avert a nationwide steel strike, invited negotiators to an afternoon meeting.

He was to meet separately with both sides before.

"The differences that now exist between the two parties should not be minimized, but enough time remains for settlement before the Sept. 1 deadline," Siwkin said after the union rejected yesterday what the industry called its "last ditch effort to avert a steel strike."

★ ★ ★

If no settlement is reached, 450,000 workers can strike the nation's mills at midnight Tuesday, shutting off 80 per cent of steel output.

I. W. Abel, Steelworkers president, estimated the industry package at less than 40 cents and said 16 cents separates the two sides.

Chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said the package would have increased employment costs by 3 per cent a year.

Mail Burns When Truck Catches Fire

A large semitrailer truck carrying U.S. mail from Detroit to Flint caught fire and burned early this morning on Dixie Highway near Grange Hall in Groveland Township.

★ ★ ★

The cab, the front end of the trailer and a large number of mail sacks were completely burned. The driver, Harold Ward of Flint, was uninjured.

Postal officials said that only second, third and fourth class mail was destroyed or burned. The first class mail in the rear of the trailer was undamaged.

There was no local mail on board the truck, according to Clarence Smith, superintendent of mail at the Pontiac post office.

★ ★ ★

Morning winds variable at 5 to 15 miles per hour will be briefly higher during thundershowers.

Cut Night High School Charge

Pontiac District Fees to Residents Dropped

Under a new school plan, Pontiac School District residents who take high school credit night school classes here will not have to pay an enrollment fee.

The plan was discussed last night at the meeting of the Pontiac School Board and received the approval of all board members.

Prior to the new plan both resident and nonresident students have been charged an enrollment fee of $20 for 60 hours of instruction during a 10-week period in a course yielding ½ unit of credit.

Last year, however, the Michigan Department of Public Instruction indicated that students who are enrolled in a high school class and working toward a diploma may be counted in membership for state aid purposes.

★ ★ ★

Administration officials said last night they felt the adult education and evening school could still be operated on a self-supporting basis if the student fees were dropped and the school district accepted the state aid.

NEW PROVISION

At present the new provision only applies to a resident student.

However, school administrators said they were working on a plan whereby nonresident students could be included also.

Board members expressed hope that under the new system, many more persons would take advantage of the night school program to earn their high school diploma.

Last year 50 Pontiac residents were enrolled in evening courses for high school credit.

City Schools Ask $550,000 in U.S. Funds

The Pontiac School District will ask for nearly $550,000 in federal funds to renew, expand and add to current programs under the Economic Opportunity Act, of 1964.

Dr. Lee Haslinger, director of the school's community action programs, told the board of education last night he was not optimistic about receiving all the funds to be requested.

The money will be used for three programs scheduled to expire Nov. 30. These are the school community action programs and expanded remedial reading and counseling services.

Haslinger said that if the funds were received the school also has plans to establish child development centers.

Ends Viet Search for Brother

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Don Dawson's search is over. The Viet Cong lectured him for his foolhardiness, then told him they would tend his brother's grave and give back his remains when the war was over.

DONALD C. DAWSON

They gave him the flying vest they said his brother wore the day his U.S. Army spotter plane crashed into the jungles of Zone D.

Then, after four months of captivity when his own life hung in the balance, they told him to go.

For Donald Charles Dawson, a 28-year-old tuna fisherman from Costa Mesa, Calif., it was the end of the road.

★ ★ ★

"Do you think there is any more I can do?" he asked today as he recovered from a grueling three-day hike back to government territory.

PICK UP THREADS

"They said if Dan was alive they would take me to him, but that he was dead. I want to go home now, tell Dan's wife Arlene and the kids that I did all I could, and then pick up the threads of my life."

Dawson's 27-year-old brother, Lt. Daniel Dawson, disappeared on a mission over the Communist-controlled jungle north of Bien Hoa on Nov. 6. Donald came to Viet Nam last December to find his brother or recover his body.

For months he littered the jungle with leaflets offering rewards for information. Hitting dead end after dead end, he decided on one last desperate gamble — to penetrate the Viet Cong heartland, throw himself on the mercy of the guerrillas and find the answer.

★ ★ ★

A pretty 21-year-old Vietnamese-French college girl, Colette Emberger, went along as his interpreter. She also was imprisoned but was released and returned with Dawson. She was ill and was hospitalized here.

CONG FURIOUS

The Viet Cong were furious with Dawson.

"They demanded to know why I dared enter their territory without permission," Dawson recalled. A tall, red-haired man, he was pale from months in his jungle prison and thin from the walk back but otherwise well.

"I told them my story and gave them my papers, including letters from my wife and my brother (Danny's) wife. They hardly glanced at them. They said they had their own methods of checking my story," Dawson said.

"When they blindfolded us and led us off into that thick jungle, and then days later re-

Johnson Warns of Possible Race Trouble in D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, signing a public works bill he said may help prevent another racial situation like that in Los Angeles, warned today that "the clock is ticking, time is running" toward possible violence in the District of Columbia.

Johnson said that something can and must be done for the national capital and big cities where 80 per cent of the people will be concentrated by the year 2000.

★ ★ ★

He said "we should and must ask ourselves every night when we go home if we are doing all we can" for the capital and these cities.

Johnson spoke at a ceremony in the White House East Room where he signed into law a $3.3-billion public works and economic development bill.

RECONSTRUCTION — Work crews from the Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the city are working on this railroad crossing on West Huron, west of Wide Track. West Huron has been closed since Monday for the week-long project. City crews are patching street pavement at the crossing while new track is laid by the railroad.

vealed to us their hidden little prison, my heart sank," he said.

VISUALIZED END

"I thought, would all I had done end up there, in that little hut where there was never any sun? Would I have to wait there until the war was over?"

The Viet Cong hardly spoke to Miss Emberger. When she fell ill with fever soon after they reached the prison, a doctor and a nurse tended her 24 hours a day, but they weren't friendly.

"They distrusted her," said Dawson, "and distrusted her motives, just as they distrusted me. They told me that I was probably playing some kind of trick."

* * *

He noticed that in addition to his own prison hut and two adjoining it occupied by a dozen South Vietnamese soldiers, there were several others through the tangled shrubs.

YANK PRISONERS

He eventually discovered these were occupied by three American prisoners. He saw them a few times in the distance, sometimes wearing their Army uniforms, other times in black Viet Cong pajamas.

They were moved after two months, and Dawson said he never got to speak with them. They looked fit to him, he said.

The Vietnamese prisoners were fed three meals a day like he was. Sometimes a guard came back with a deer shot in the jungles, another time a snake, he said.

Dawson often asked for more food and got it.

ATE TOO MUCH

"I developed an embarrassing pot belly because I ate too much," he said.

A Vietnamese captain was brought in one day, and the Viet Cong made him write long documents, Dawson said. Several weeks later, they led him off without a blindfold.

"I guess he had had it," Dawson said. "I guess he would never get to tell about the things he saw."

* * *

Dawson said the region was constantly shaking from bombs dropped by U.S. jets and Vietnamese Skyraiders.

NO DIRECT HITS

Sometimes, I could see the bombs spilling out of the bomb bays as the planes came in, but they never did register a direct hit," he reported.

The prisoners were herded into shelters in the ground when the bombers came over, he said, but the guards remained above ground, casually puffing on their cigarettes.

Dawson said he worked as much as possible around the camp, digging trenches and patching buildings, to overcome loneliness.

* * *

The Viet Cong paid him fifteen piasters (about 20 cents) a month for his work, Dawson said, enough to buy tobacco and an occasional sweet.

PAID FOR WORK

"That was really something, getting paid by the Viet Cong," he said, laughing. "I think the American prisoners were also paid for their work. Our food was free."

As the weeks wore on, the Viet Cong gradually unfolded the story of his brother.

They said his plane had been shot down in the region of the camp, and the wreckage had been used to make weapons and kitchen utensils.

* * *

His brother had died in the crash, and had been properly buried, he was told.

HATE LEADERS

"We do note hate American soldiers, or the American people," Dawson said he was told repeatedly. "We hate your leaders because they are misleading you."

Eventually they brought Dawson the flying vest which they said his brother had worn.

Everyone in the camp had malaria, including himself, Dawson said.

* * *

He was nursed back to health, but his interpreter remained ill.

JUNGLE FENCE

Dawson said "There was no fence around me, only that impenetrable jungle. I knew that to escape would either be to be caught again or to perish."

Then he and Colette were told they could go free.

Several guards were assigned to them, they were blindfoled and left their jungle prison after four months of captivity.

* * *

"The prisoners cheered as I left," he said, "and I waved back at them."

Dawson said the Viet Cong did not mistreat him or even cross-examine him.

The small group had one chilling experience before reaching the friendly village of Thai Hung.

A U.S. Air Force spotter plane swooped over them as they ran along a track and into the underbrush.

* * *

In a few minutes, several Skyraider bombers zeroed in on the place the group had been and dropped bombs.

MIXED FEELINGS

"I had mixed feelings about that," Dawson said.

Villagers at Thai Hung welcomed Dawson enthusiastically. They had befriended him in the months before he was captured.

He bade them farewell and rode a bus to Bien Hoa.

In Costa Mesa, Dawson's wife said yesterday:

"It's so great. I'm so happy. The children are so thrilled."

NO LETTERS

She said she had "no letters, not a word from him" since April.

* * *

"The children are waiting for him to come home right now. Every time an airplane flies over, they say, 'Is that daddy'?"

The children are Curtis, 10, Cheryl, 8, Linda, 7 and George, 4.

Report Says 'Head Start' Is Successful

Project "Head Start" ended its first phase of operation in the Pontiac School District Friday and was declared a success by all persons involved in the program.

Dr. Lee Haslinger, director of the school's community action programs, presented a report to the board of education last night on the success of the project.

Haslinger said that 553 children took part in the program, which was designed to simulate a middle-class environment for impoverished preschool children.

The theory behind the plan is that simulation of this environment for even seven weeks will give the children a better opportunity to take advantage of their first year of school.

Haslinger said the highlight of the Head Start program, however, was the fact that 239 volunteers turned out to assist the school district without pay.

The school official told board members that although it is too early to accurately evaluate the effects of the program, the large number of participants and volunteers made the first phase a success.

Nix Airline Bid as Premature

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) yesterday ruled that a request by North Central Airlines (NCA) for added federal subsidy was premature.

NCA sought an additional $168,328 in annual subsidy to offset mail service losses in connection with the pending deletion of air service to Pontiac and Cadillac-Reed City.

The board said the request was premature because these cities have sought a judicial review of the original CAB decision to delete the air service.

That decision was based on the inability of Pontiac to generate enough airline patronage to support NCA service at the local airport.

The CAB has stayed its original order pending completion of the court proceedings.

However, CAB yesterday did grant NCA an increase of $61,623 in its subsidy to alleviate the economic impact of deleting service to Port Huron.

When she was admitted to the hospital, she was given two to 12 months to live without the operation.

The big question surrounding the operation is whether her body will accept or reject the new liver. An operation of this type has never been successful because the body rejects foreign tissues.

The cost of the operation, about $18,000, as well as hospital expenses has been covered by donations from groups and individuals from all over the country.

Tongue Cut Out of Dixie Negro

Reportedly Criticized Rights Demonstrators

GREENSBORO, Ala. (AP) — An elderly Negro who reportedly had criticized civil rights demonstrators lay near death today — his tongue cut out — and two Negroes were held for questioning.

David Holloway, Hale County deputy sheriff, said one of the Negroes being questioned was among a group of civil rights volunteers arrested here late in July when they gathered at a street corner barricade and refused to disperse.

No charges were filed immediately against the two men held for questioning.

Holloway said the injured Negro, 67-year-old Perry Smaw, was found crumpled in the doorway of his house Sunday. His tongue had been cut out and his head battered.

* * *

The officer said he was told that Smaw had publicly criticized demonstrators who sought to march to the county courthouse and picketed downtown stores protesting alleged job discrimination.

SHOTGUN

Holloway said he had not ruled out the possibility of robbery as a motive for the attack on Smaw, but added, "I don't understand why they didn't kill him if they wanted to. There was a shotgun there."

Neither the Rev. A. T. Days, president of the Hale County Improvement Association, nor other civil rights leaders were available for comment.

Gov. George Wallace offered a $1,000 reward — the highest the state can offer — yesterday for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the attack.

Smaw, who lived alone, was discovered by a daughter who arrived at the farm about midmorning, according to Holloway. The deputy sheriff said the Negro apparently had been attacked early Saturday night.

Exam Sept. 1 in Shooting of City Officer

A Pontiac man accused of shooting a police officer on Aug. 16 will face examination in Municipal Court Sept. 1 on charges of felonious assault and assault with intent to commit murder.

Obie Peeples, 29, of 249 Orchard Lake was arraigned yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court following his release from Pontiac General Hospital.

Peeples is charged in connection with the shooting of Pontiac patrolman Robert Rowland, 40.

Peeples was also wounded during the gun battle in which the officer was injured.

Rowland is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Peeples failed to furnish $65,000 bond and was being held at the Oakland County Jail.

COOL RIDE — Keeping cool is no problem if you're sitting on a block of ice. But staying on it while sliding down a hill is another matter. District of Columbia Home Rule Bill Gets LBJ Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The drive to force an early House vote on home rule for the District of Columbia has picked up strength.

In advance of today's House meeting, 154 of its members had signed a petition to wrest the bill from the district committee and bring it directly to the floor. That's 64 short of the required 218, a majority of the House.

* * *

On the heels of two appeals by President Johnson, 54 members signed up Wednesday.

Unless 218 sign by the end of the week, the bill's chances for passage will dim in a rush toward adjournment.

EARLIEST DATE

Even if the discharge drive succeeds this week, the earliest the bill can be brought to House vote is Sept. 13.

* * *

Approved already by the Senate, the measure would give residents of the capital an elected mayor and city council. The city's affairs now are managed by the three appointed commissioners, the Senate and House District Committees and the two chambers' appropriations committees.

* * *

Johnson tried to spark action on the administration bill Tuesday at a White House breakfast with Democratic leaders. Speaker John W. McCormack, D.-Mass., then openly supported the discharge drive — an unprecedented action.

At his news conference Wednesday, Johnson said the bill should come before the House very shortly.

ONLY MEANS

He said, "No one doubts the outcome once that bill finally gets to the floor of the House and members are permitted to vote on it."

The President urged members of both parties to push the discharge petition drive — "the only practical means of getting the bill to the floor."

* * *

"It is an irony and a disgrace that somehow some people seem to be afraid to trust almost a million American citizens with the management of their own affairs here in the District of Columbia," he said.

The chairman of the House District Committee, Rep. John L. McMillan, D-S.C., said last week in letters to all House members that he considers home rule unconstitutional. He cited Article 1, Section 8 of the U.S. Constitution, which gives Congress exclusive legislative power over the district.

Washington residents elected various local officials from 1802, when the district government was established, until 1874, when the municipal government collapsed financially. Congress then substituted appointive commissioners.

Romney, Kelley to Discuss Ticket Case

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney is scheduled to meet with Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today for a progress report on the Wayne County Prosecutor's office investigation into alleged wholesale traffic ticket fixing.

Romney, who stated Monday he felt the investigation was "wholly inadequate," has urged a grand jury investigation of the matter.

* * *

Wayne County's circuit judges emerged from a closed-door meeting Wednesday and declined to initiate an investigation into possible involvement of justices of the peace.

One judge, who declined to be identified, said:

* * *

"If there is evidence of wrong-doing in the justice courts then certainly the attorney general or the prosecutor should bring it to the attention of the court.

NO EVIDENCE

"But I want it clearly understood that we don't have evidence of wrong-doing at this time."

* * *

Another judge commented he was reluctant to investigate the justices for fear of compromising the role of the bench in future cases.

* * *

The chairman of the county's board of auditors, Charles F. Edgecomb, estimated $14,000 has been lost to the county because of the alleged ticket fixing.

Giving Away Milk Is Barred by Court

BOSTON (AP) — Cumberland Farms Dairy has been barred by court order from distributing free milk to contest winners until the courts rule on a suit brought by the State Milk Control Board.

The board suit contends that giving milk away is a violation of a Massachusetts law forbidding sale of milk below cost.

3 Swimmers, Lifeguard Fail

Teen Saves Boy Drifting in Toy Boat

REVERE, Mass. (AP) — James Manganiello, 19, battled wind and tide in a half-hour swim to rescue Charles Jackson, 7, after a lifeguard in a leaky boat and three other swimmers failed to reach the boy adrift at sea in a toy plastic dinghy.

"I was never in trouble and I just took my time," Manganiello said after the rescue, "but when I reached Charlie he seemed more worried that he'd been a bad boy than that he might have drowned."

* * *

The youngster's grandmother, Mrs. Charles S. Savoia, said she took him to the beach Wednesday and when she noticed him drifting she tried to swim after him but became exhausted. A friend, Edward DiLorenzo, 32, took up the chase.

"I'd make 10 yards and he'd go out 15. It's awful when you see someone at your fingertips and you can't reach him. Oh, my God, I felt, this is awful, I have to leave him."

* * *

Pulled farther and farther from shore, the boy shouted, "Save me, please, Eddie! Don't leave!"

LIFEBOAT LAUNCHED

Lifeguard Andrew Bisignani launched a lifeboat but discovered vandals had broken eight seams in the bottom and it began leaking fast.

Di Lorenzo swam back to the boat, climbed in and bailed with a plastic pail. "But still we were half in the water, it leaked so badly," he said.

* * *

Manganiello's brother, Edward, 32, described by DiLorenzo as a "tremendous swimmer," suffered a leg cramp and had to turn back.

Then it was up to James, a second-year, premedical student at Boston University.

NO TIME

"I never stopped to think about whether I could make it," he said. "There was no time and if I had by then it would have been a moot point anyway."

He put on rubber fins and reached the boy about a quarter-mile off shore. He said he calmed Charlie, turned him around and began pushing him slowly back toward the still-struggling lifeboat.

* * *

But when they reached it, the men dared not transfer the boy.

"I was afraid to touch the kid in the boat because it was in better shape than our own," DiLorenzo said.

So Manganiello pushed him to shore aboard the toy dinghy.

N. Dakota Probing Sleeping Sickness

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — The North Dakota Health Department has begun an investigation of a possible spread of sleeping sickness (encephalitis) in humans. One death has been attributed to the disease and two other cases have been confirmed.

Dr. James R. Amos, state health officer, said the outbreak is not considered an epidemic. He said the disease probably is Western equine encephalitis and is transmitted from horses to humans by mosquitoes.

She Offsets an 'Aura of Luxury'

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Womens Editor

ROME (UPI) — Children of ambassadors grow up with many advantages other children do not have — and with some disadvantages, too.

Mrs. Frederick Reinhardt, wife of the U.S. Ambassador to Italy, tried to insure that her four youngsters aged eight to 13 have a happy balance.

"This," said Lilliam Reinhardt, "is so grand."

The West Virginia born woman referred to the setting and the services at the Villa Taverna, an aged three-story brick structure which once was the home of an Italian Count and since the end of World War II has been the U.S. ambassadorial residence.

Growing up in an "Aura of luxury" needs to be offset, she said, so the two older children, Fred, 13, and Aurelia, 11, are spending the summer in Swiss Camps where the children do all the work — the laundry, the dinner dishes, the making of beds.

* * *

"Here," said Mrs. Reinhardt, "we started out trying to let the children do some chores like other children do. But the servants don't like. . . I think they'd rather polish the children's shoes themselves than clean up later."

* * *

The other two children are Harry, 9, and Catherine, 8.

Two other members of the household are Banjo, a lady dachshund Reinhardt acquired in Egypt where he formerly was ambassador, and Banjo's offspring, Hans.

Mrs. Reinhardt talked of embassy life as we sat on the terrace which she said had been a gift to the residence by former Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce.

"Every ambassador has added something," she said. "Unfortunately, no one has left a swimming pool."

Mrs. Reinhardt said she wasn't complaining, understand, but a major problem in bringing up children in a diplomatic environment was in finding time to be with them — "For them to get to see their parents. They eat at normal hours . . . we often are entertaining and dine much later, or are out for the evening."

ELEGANCE AWES

But the advantages are many. "Great for their manners," she laughed. "At the beginning, there were screams about dressing properly for dinner. But that stopped when they saw the elegance around them.

* * *

They're also becoming linguists — they started learning French when the Reinhardts were stationed in Viet Nam and are continuing it at French Schools they attend here.

* * *

Mrs. Reinhardt, called "Solie" by her friends, was born in Bethany, V.Va., where her ancestors founded Bethany College. Her husband, whom she married 16 years ago, is from San Francisco and has been with the state department 25 years.

CHIC IN CHIGNON

The wife of the ambassador is a very attractive woman with blonde-brown hair worn piled high in a chignon, with fair skin and a sprinkling of freckles, blue eyes and the figure to wear the simply-styled clothing she prefers.

Ex-Local Prep Foes in Browns-Lions Tilt

IN LIONS' DEN—Former Pontiac Central gridder Walter Beach will be in the starting lineup for the Cleveland Browns Sunday when they face the Detroit Lions at Tiger Stadium. Beach will be on opposite sides of another ex-PCH gridder Jerry Rush, rookie defensive tackle with the Lions.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

They may not have the occasion to block or tackle each other, but a trio of former Saginaw Valley grid stars, two from Pontiac Central will be on opposite sides when the Detroit Lions and Cleveland Browns face each other Sunday afternoon at Tiger Stadium.

All three players on the defensive units of their respective teams, Walt Beach a defensive back and Jim Kanicki a defensive tackle are with the Browns. Jerry Rush at defensive tackle will be on the Detroit side of the field.

Beach and Rush, both Pontiac Central alumni, were on opposite sides when the Cleveland Browns defeated the College All-Stars in Chicago, August 6th.

Kanicki, a third-year player from Bay City Central, was a big factor in the Browns' 27-0 rout of the Baltimore Colts in the NFL championship game last winter.

BIG 10 HONORS

Kanicki and Rush played against each other during their high school days in the Saginaw Valley and both went onto Michigan State to attain Big 10 and All-American honors.

Kanicki was a year ahead of Rush in high school and two years ahead of the PCH gridder at MSU, since Rush sat out a year before joining the Spartans.

Beach was an All-SVC choice in 1951, entered the service and took little All-America honors at Central Michigan in 1958.

SPORTS

Kanicki at 6-4 and 270 pounds will be starting for the Browns at defensive tackle. He moved into the spot when veteran Bob Gain broke his leg last year and he won the praises of Cleveland coaches for containing big all-pro offensive tackle Jim Parker of the Colts in the championship game.

Rush had some playing time against the Colts last week, playing the defensive tackle spot behind Alex Karras and he is expected to play considerably against the Browns.

HELPS VICTORY

Beach played one of his finest games of the 1964 season against the Lions in Cleveland when the Browns won a 37-21 verdict before 83,000 fans.

He intercepted two passes returning the second one 65 yards at the final gun for his first NFL touchdown.

It was Cleveland's first victory over the Lions ever in regular season play and since the Browns won the Eastern Division title by only a half game, the triumph against nemesis Detroit was one of the biggest of the season.

Milt Plum, who quarterbacked the Browns for five years, will start for the Lions with Tom Myers getting the backup call.

The Browns will be without the services of guard John Wooten for the game because of a leg injury and also without Paul Warfield sensational rookie pass receiver last year who was hurt in the All-Star game. He will be out for six more weeks after a shoulder operation.

The Browns yesterday released former University of Michigan gridder, star of the Rose Bowl game, Mel Anthony.

They also announced the acquisition of Ozzie Clay, a flanker and kickoff specialist from the Washington Redskins.

Kickoff time Sunday is 1:00 p.m. at Tiger Stadium.

TRADITIONAL APPROACH — Before beginning his turn at bat, Takayuki Saito, Tokyo, greets umpire Terry Gramling in the traditional Japanese manner. Tokyo team then went on to lose to Jeffersonville, Ind., in the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa. The game yesterday was the third game this week in the annual championships at the Little League headquarters.

Steeler QB Doubtful

Giants Lose Linebacker

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Tom Scott, 35-year-old linebacker for the New York Giants of the National Football League, announced his retirement as an active player Wednesday and was signed by the Giants as an assistant coach.

Scott will work under defensive coach Frank (Pop) Ivy.

Scott is a veteran of 12 NFL seasons. He played with the Philadelphia Eagles from 1953-58 before joining the Giants in 1959.

★ ★ ★

KINGSTON, R. I. (AP) — Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Bill Nelson's chances of starting in the game against the Baltimore Colts in Atlanta Saturday are doubtful, a Steeler spokesman said Wednesday.

Nelson strained a knee ligament in the first quarter of the Steelers' game with the New York Giants last Sunday.

★ ★ ★

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles, with all three quarterbacks participating, went through a heavy passing drill Wednesday in preparation for their exhibition game Saturday against the New York Giants at Princeton, N. J.

Norm Snead, King Hill and Jack Concannon tossed the passes, mainly to flanker back Ronnie Goodwin, who made several good grabs.

Coach Joe Kuharich said some of the Eagles' veterans who haven't played in the three preceding exhibition games will see action Saturday.

★ ★ ★

DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Packers defensive Capt. Hank Gremminger was given the go-ahead Wednesday to play in Saturday night's pro-season National Football League contest with the Cowboys at Dallas after missing two previous exhibition contests with a knee injury.

Water Sprite Pointmaker at Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Cathy Cole, a 14-year-old water sprite from Florida, figures to go from the silver to gold standard today in the seventh World Maccabiah Games.

Little Cathy, who looks like she would be swallowed up by the first big wave off her North Miami Beach home, has bagged three swimming silver medals in the first two days of the Games, known as the Jewish Olympics.

The 5-foot-1, 99-pound high school sophomore earned her third silver medal by finishing second to Olympic silver medalist Marilyn Ramenofsky of Phoenix in the 400-meter freestyle final Wednesday.

AFTER GOLD

Today Cathy is a virtual cinch to get a gold medal as the leading member of the heavily-favored American 400-meter freestyle relay team.

Other swimming winners Wednesday were Dick Abrahams of Savannah, Ga., in the 100-meter freestyle, 56.2; Spitz, of Santa Clara, Calif., in the 400-meter individual medley, 5:02.0; Israel's Gershon Sheffa in the men's 200-meter breaststroke, 3:41.1, and 12-year-old Shlomit Nir, a tiny Israeli from a kibbutz in the Galilee, in 3:02.3.

Hoosiers Rip Japanese '9' for 18 Runs

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. — The Jeffersonville, Ind., All-Star team set a Little League World Series record Wednesday against an outmanned Japanese team.

The Hoosiers pounded Tokyo, Japan, 18-0, as Greg Morrison tossed one-hitter and struck out 12. He lost his no-hitter on a fourth-inning single by Shinji Todokoro.

★ ★ ★

Morrison also helped pace Jeffersonville's 16-hit attack with three singles and a double. Teammate Grenshaw Owens banged out three singles and a double and drove in five runs.

Fumiteru Yanagawa had to pitch the entire game because the Japanese team had only 10 players. Four boys became ill just before the team left for the United States and stayed at home.

FIRST TIME

Stoney Creek, Ont., became the first Canadian team to get past the opening round of a Little League World Series by blanking Rota, Spain, 6-0.

The Canadians got good pitching from right-hander Joe Polango, who struck out 12 and was never in serious trouble after his team gave him a five-run cushion in the second inning.

★ ★ ★

Ritch Perkins was the starting pitcher for Rota and caused his own downfall in the second inning when he dropped a pop fly with two out and nobody on base. The miscue led to four unearned runs and from then on, it was all Stoney Creek.

A's Rookie Hurler Blanks Tigers, 5-0

Detroit Halted on 6-Hitter, 5-0

Bonus Baby Hunter Baffles Bengals

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — No matter what his nickname is, there was nothing "fishy" about the way Jim "Catfish" Hunter pitched for the Kansas City As Wednesday night.

The 19-year-old right-hander from Hartford, North Carolina, had the Detroit Tigers "fishing" in vain, as the lowly Athletics clipped the Tigers, 5-0.

Until the current series began, Kansas City had managed to win only two of 14 games with Detroit.

The As have won two of the first three games of their four-game series with the Tigers.

Until the eighth inning, Kansas City's $75,000 bonus baby kept the Tigers handcuffed on four harmless singles.

Willie Horton then hit a single and Don Demeter doubled. Horton was thrown out trying to score on the hit and the Tigers couldn't threaten again.

Kansas City pegged Detroit starter Joe Sparma with the loss by scoring single runs in the first and second innings and sending him to the showers with a two-run rally in the third.

LEAD OFF TRIPLE

Campy Campeneris led off the game with a triple and scored on Wayne Causey's ground out.

Johnny Blanchard homered in the second inning for the A's second run.

Then after Jose Tartabull opened the third with a single, Dave Wickersham replaced Sparma. Ed Charles met Wickersham with a single and Jim Landis walked, setting up a two-run single by Ken Harrelson.

★ ★ ★

Wickersham hit Campaneris with a pitch and gave up a double to Causey in the fourth inning before Ron Nischwitz entered the game and put the rally down.

The Tigers will try to salvage a split of the four-game series in a single game this afternoon.

Sox Patsies for Pappas

Oriole Tames Chicago

By United Press International

For relaxation Milt Pappas enjoys bowling and the Chicago White Sox.

Bowling is a hobby for the 26-year-old Baltimore righthander and the White Sox are supposed to be work but Pappas has been mowing them down like 10 pins ever since he won his first American League game in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Pappas has beaten Chicago 17 times in his career, losing only four decisions and this season he has whipped his favorite patsies three times and registered both his shutouts against them.

The White Sox were particularly welcomed sights to Pappas Wednesday night, because he had labored more than a month without a victory.

And Chicago, eager to please their old tormentor, bothered Pappas for only four hits and donated an earned run for the winning tally in Baltimore's 2-1 triumph.

TWINS UP LEAD

Minnesota increased its AL lead to 7½ games by edging New York 5-4, Cleveland swept two games from Los Angeles 6-3 and 8-2, Kansas City blanked Detroit 5-0 and Boston outslugged Washington 8-3.

★ ★ ★

The triumph for Pappas was his 11th against six defeats and his first victory since July 21.

Gary Peters allowed just five hits in eight innings of work for the White Sox but took his 11th loss compared to eight victories. The Chicago run came in the first when Don Buford led off with a triple and raced home on Floyd Robinson's infield pop-up to second baseman Bob Johnson.

STRIKES OUT TWO

Al Worthington struck out Hector Lopez and Ray Barker to end the game and preserve Minnesota rookie Jim Merritt's fourth win in five decisions. Merritt had allowed only two hits until the ninth when Elston Howard's two-run homer kayoed him.

★ ★ ★

Knuckle ball pitcher Bob Tiefenauer pitched two hitless innings of relief in each game for the Indians to preserve victories for Steve Hargan 1-2 in the first game and Ralph Terry 11-4 in the nightcap.

Fred Whitfield and Duke Sims homered in the opener for Cleveland and Leon Wagner connected in the nightcap, driving in three Indian tallies.

★ ★ ★

Hydro Driver Escapes Injury

DETROIT (AP) — Powerboat racer Chuck Thompson escaped injury Wednesday when his hydroplane Tahoe Miss caught fire on the Detroit River during qualifying runs for Sunday's Spirit of Detroit race.

Thompson was midway through his third practice lap when he was forced to leap ashore as his craft burst into flames and began to sink. A Coast Guard patrol boat towed the $100,000 racer to the dock where pumps kept it from going down.

Meanwhile, three more boats qualified for the race. They were Miss Bardahl, driven by Ron Munson of Seattle, with 113.564 mph; Savair's Probe, with Red Loomis of Detroit, 102.175 mph; and Mariner II, with Warner Gardner of Detroit, 101.694.

Final trials for the 12 berths will be held Thursday and Friday.

Kansas City Hooked a Winning 'Catfish'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jim (Catfish) Hunter is a 19-year-old rookie pitcher with 14 shotgun pellets in his right foot, $75,000 of Charles O. Finley's money in his pocket and two big victories for the Kansas City A's in the last 10 days.

The young right-hander from Hertford, N.C. shut out the Detroit Tigers on six hits Wednesday night, 5-0, just 10 days after a four-hit 4-1 victory over the Yankees in New York.

"He has made remarkable progress," said Manager Haywood Sullivan. "If he keeps this up, he'll help us a lot next year. We had been keeping him on the roster only to protect him from the other clubs.

"The thing that amazes me is the way he throws those strikes with the count 3-and-2. He threw 118 pitches today — not bad for a rookie."

AVERAGE

Hunter has a 5-4 won-lost record and 3.97 earned run average.

"I pitched better in the victory over the Yankees," Hunter said, "but this was a good one. I'm learning to keep my arm high all the time. When I drop it to three-quarter I'm in trouble."

Catfish acquired his nickname at the age of six when he ran away from home and his parents found him fishing in the Perquimans River. He already had caught two catfish and had a third on the hook.

He was shot in the foot in a hunting accident Thanksgiving Day, 1963. More than 40 shotgun pellets have been removed, the last 14 at the Mayo Clinic a week before the A's outbid 17 clubs for his signature.

"We were worried about him in the Winter League because he didn't look fast," said Ed Lopat, A's pitching coach. "But he's getting stronger and faster with more work.

"We changed his grip from cross-seam to with the seam," Lopat said. "Now he's sneaky fast and the ball tails and sinks.

"He is a fine competitor, learns fast, works at his trade, has a keen mind and the maturity of a man 23 or 24...He gets his change-up over the plate and isn't afraid to challenge them with it."

300 Bowl '9' in Title Contest

Pontiac's 300 Bowl softball squad will be bidding for a Class B regional crown when it takes on a Port Huron team this evening at 7:30 at Whaley Park in Flint.

300 Bowl has a 2-0 record in the regional play and one win over Port Huron will wrap it up. If Port Huron (1-1) wins the 7:30 game, the two will take a short break and return for a second game to determine the title.

In Class D action in Flint last night, Pontiac's Merchants were eliminated after dropping a 15-0 verdict to Dryden.

Three Share Lead in Golf Tournament

DETROIT (AP) — Three golfers were tied for the lead today in the professional division of the United Golfers Association Tournament.

Following second round action Wednesday, Howard Brown, Detroit, Calvin Tanner, Chicago, and Carver Thorte, Winston-Salem, N.C., all had 139s.

Three other golfers were tied for second in the pro division at 140. They were Chick Griffith, Chicago, Lee Elder, Los Angeles, and Cliff Brown, Nashville, Tenn.

State Senior in Golf Win

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — George Haggarty of Grosse Pointe defeated Leon Sikes of Palm Beach, Fla., 1-up on the 19th hole of the World Seniors Golf Tournament Wednesday. He meets Jack Barkel of Sydney, Australia in a quarter-final match today.

Ed Titus of Grand Blanc won a non-championship flight match, defeating Arch Hallas of Grenfel, Australia, 1-up.

Net Officials Find Hope in California Teen-Agers

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — U.S. tennis officials looking for Davis Cup team prospects trained their sights on a couple of kids from Southern California today in the 85th National Doubles Championships at Longwood.

Teen-agers Stan Smith of Pasadena and Bob Lutz of Los Angeles continued their almost disrespectful dash through the tournament Wednesday by eliminating top-seeded foreigners Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox before a crowd of 4,100.

Smith, 19, and Lutz, who will be 18 Sunday, knocked off the Mexican Davis Cuppers, who won the U.S. Doubles crown in 1962 and were runners-up the next two years, 6-1, 9-11, 6-4, 6-4.

STUNNING UPSET

The unseeded kids pulled off the tournament's most stunning upset after they had eliminated Roger Taylor and Mark Cox of England in straight sets Tuesday. Taylor and Cox were the fifth-seeded foreign entry.

Australia's Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle, rated by most as the world's top doubles team, were the only foreign seed able to advance to the quarter-final round.

Emerson and Stolle were extended for two hours before defeating stubborn Dave Power of Fort Collins, Colo., and Indiana University, and John Pickens of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Rice Institute, 11-13, 6-4, 6-2, 12-10.

★ ★ ★

American Davis Cup teammates Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., the No. 1 U.S. seed, romped over New Zeland Davis Cup members Lew Gerrard and Ian Crookenden 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of St. Louis, the defending champions, moved into the women's quarter-finals by whipping Mrs. Q.A.S. McKean of Hamilton, Mass., and Mrs. Richard Buck of Manchester, Mass., 6-2, 6-1.

In a quarter-final match, Julie Heldman of New York and Tory Fretz of Los Angeles upset, the No. 5 seed, Mary Ann Eisel and Justina Bricka of St. Louis, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

Britain Checks Ford Cutback

Union Blames Politics for Company's Action

LONDON (AP) — George Brown, Minister for Economic Affairs, announced today that he had ordered an urgent investigation into charges that Ford Motor Co. of England was cutting production for political reasons.

The No. 2 man in the labor government directed the Board of Trade to investigate Ford's decision to reduce the work week at two main plants from five to four days a week because of dwindling orders.

★ ★ ★

Union leaders charged the move was dictated by Ford's parent company in Detroit to diminish competition in the export field. Shop stewards of six main unions operating at Ford charged in a statement that the Ford decision was an attempt "to sabotage the Labor government."

T. N. Beckett, director of the car division of Ford of England, denied both allegations in an interview with the Financial Times.

DOWNTURN IN SALES

He said the curtailment was made necessary by a seasonal downturn in sales which he said had been aggravated by the government's restrictions on credit buying. Registrations of new Fords between July 1 and Sept. 30 will be 35,000 fewer than the corresponding period of last year, he predicted.

★ ★ ★

Beckett said Ford of England will have a surplus of 14,000 vehicles in the home market over the next six weeks. He said his company was doing everything possible to increase exports but the surplus could not simply be dumped on the export market.

He denied that there was any market-sharing agreement between Ford of England, Ford of West Germany and Ford of the United States.

In addition to the shorter workweek, production at Ford's big Halewood plant at Liverpool was threatened by a week-long wildcat strike of delivery drivers. The drivers went out wen one of their mates was fired following a conviction on charges of dangerous driving.

COMPANY SPOKESMAN

A Ford of England spokesman said of Brown's statement:

"It is particularly unfortunate that the charges should be leveled against a company which has invested nearly 200 million pounds ($560 million) in five years to increase exports and, as the nation's top exporter for many years, has done more than any other to sustain the pound."

Grain Future Prices Little Firmer Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices were mostly a little firmer at the opening today of the board of trade.

Wheat was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel higher, September $1.51½; corn ¼ to ¾ higher, September $1.21⅝-¾; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, September 66-66⅛ cents; soybeans ½ higher to ⅛ lower, September $2.49½-¾.

News in Brief

Waterford Township police are investigating the theft of $40 in cash yesterday from Compparoni's Shell Service, 3235 W. Walton.

Leon Hubbard told Pontiac police yesterday that his law office at 83½ Bagley had been broken into and $45 cash plus equipment valued at $700 is missing.

After Rough Year

Strike Is Hurting AMC

AP Business News Writer

DETROIT—If there was one thing American Motors didn't need, it was the strike that hit its auto assembly plants Monday.

AMC had a rough year in the marketplace as its sales trailed its 1964 pace at a time when other auto companies were making sales gains. Its stock dividends declined while other companies held firm or increased their return to their stockholders.

AMC President Roy Abernethy said much of his firm's trouble was that its pre-1965 mixture of cars was not quite what he wanted, that too many people thought of AMC as the maker of plain Jane compacts.

Abernethy added convertibles and hardtops to AMC's line in its 1965 model run and will unveil soon the sportiest line of cars American Motors ever has built. He is confident that the 1966 model run will have much happier results for AMC.

'66 MODELS

AMC was just about the first auto maker to start production of its 1966 models as an estimated 10,000 of the new cars had rolled off the two assembly lines in Kenosha, Wis., before labor trouble halted the line.

It got production under way Aug. 9, well ahead of the startup timetable for Chrysler and General Motors' 1966 production run. Ford began some building about the same time.

AMC's sales for the 1965 fiscal year, which practically overlaps the model year, totaled about 440,000 units, including 80,000 cars sold overseas. That performance represented an increase over the 72,000 cars AMC sold abroad in 1964 but was down over the over-all total of 455,273 for the 1964 year.

Many auto industry observers, who shared Abernethy's hopes that better things were ahead for the upcoming model year, were dismayed when AMC ran afoul of labor trouble this week.

QUICK SOLUTION

All indications were that the issues were not ripe for a quick solution. From statements by AMC, the United Auto Workers and federal mediators, it appeared the issues that caused the Kenosha strike and subsequent layoffs at AMC's Milwaukee body plant were real toughies.

According to AMC's formal statement, the strike involved the "issue of who is to run the plants, the union or the management."

Officials of Local 72 of the UAW countered that the company had "twisted the issues" and added, "We wish to make it emphatic that in no way do we wish to manage the company."

Ironically, the AMC strike came almost at the time that one of the leading auto publications, Ward's Automotive Reports, issued an analysis of the 1965 model run which indicated that AMC had achieved considerable progress in 1965 in upgrading its product.

SIGNIFICANT GAINS

Ward's said, AMC "made significant gains in producing and selling a richer model mix in 1965."

That supported Abernethy's theory that AMC would do better as soon as the buying public came to realize that American Motors offered as many sporty cars and just as many options as any other auto maker.

His problem now is to get the strike settled and get back to the business of building the cars so the public may see for themselves.

Successful Investing

Q) "I am curious as to why you and other financial advisers rarely, if ever, recommend Granite City Steel. In the last ten years, I have been in and out of this stock at least four times, in every case making a profit. At the average price I paid (22-24) this issue seemed a bargain. Don't you agree?" J.M.

A) I'm sorry to say I do not. Granite City Steel is a good, relatively small company in its field, but it is — like all steels — highly subject to cyclical changes. The range you mention for the shares is correct for 1963-65, but an investor could — and many did — pay as high as 49 in 1962 and 52 in 1961. There has been no growth in earnings for many years and my estimate of $2.75 a share for 1965 is well below the 1956 level of $3.52.

The steels face a possible strike or a decline in sales following the recent big inventory buildup. You had a measure of luck, or had good knowledge or guidance, to buy near the low and get out with a profit; but for the average investor cyclical stocks represent a hazard that, in my opinion, they should not assume.

Q) "My husband is retired and I am 60. Our income is $350 a month from savings, blue chip stocks and Social Security. My father died recently, leaving me a $50,000 legacy. I favor real estate investment, but my husband says no, at our age. Any advice?" G.B.

A) I think I must agree with your husband. Investment-type real estate requires knowledge and hard work if it is going to prove profitable. If you have adequate savings, I suggest you add stocks to your list from among the many recommended here.

If you include some growth stocks, these will help to protect you against probable future inflation by increasing in value over the years faster than the dollar depreciates in buying power.

Reds Charge U.S. Is Using Hong Kong as War Base

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong's Communist newspapers warned today that Red China may take action if the British colony's government continues to allow U.S. military ships and planes to use its harbor and airport.

★ ★ ★

"If Hong Kong continues to tolerate these activities by the American aggressors, others may not tolerate it," said Ta Kung Pao, sister newspaper of the official Ta Kung Pao in Peking.

Two other Communist papers, Wen Wei Pao and Hsing Wan Pao, carried similar warnings.

All said use of Hong Kong's facilities was aiding the American war against the Communist Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

The newspaper warnings followed reports that Peking had passed the word indirectly to Britain that China's Red rulers are politically and diplomatically embarrassed by the presence of American forces in Hong Kong at a time when the United States is stepping up its war effort in South Viet Nam.

'AMERICAN WAR BASE'

Although the U.S. Navy says its ships call at Hong Kong to give their crews rest and relaxation, the Red newspapers charged the British colony on the South China coast is being used as an American war base.

Meanwhile, scores of boats searched Hong Kong Bay today for the bodies of nine American servicemen still missing from the crash Tuesday of a U. S. Marine transport plane.

The plane crashed just after it took off from Kaitak Airport with 69 Marines and two U.S. Navy men returning to Viet Nam after a brief leave in Hong Kong.

There were 13 survivors, and 49 bodies were recovered, 29 from the fuselage and 20 from the waters of the bay. A government spokesman said there were no more bodies in the wreckage.

A U.S. spokesman said one survivor was in critical condition and the condition of another was very poor. Three others were reported in fair condition.
