Red Leaders Disband After Pledging Unity

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet satellite leaders headed home today after a weekend meeting with Premier Khrushchev, apparently called to renew support for him in his worsening dispute with Communist China.

Italian Crowds Thin for JFK

Joins Leaders for Talk of U.S.-Europe Unity

ROME (AP)—The United States is filing a protest with the Italian government about alleged manhandling and mistreatment of members of President Kennedy's official party, informed sources said.

ROME (AP)—President Kennedy arrived in Rome today to a sparse reception by Italian standards and promptly went into a conference with Italian leaders in his drive to build stronger unity between the United States and Western Europe.

Kennedy told an airport reception of Italian leaders and Americans that he had come to seek ways to the United States and its allies to maintain their 15-year-old alliance. He was expected to find the Italian officials receptive. Tomorrow he will meet Pope Paul VI.

On his drive from the airport, the President rode past Rome's ancient splendor.

A turnout of only tens of thousands of Romans, was a contrast to the throngs who flocked to see the President in Germany and Ireland.

It was a scorching hot day, with the temperature in the 90s, and the traditional start of vacation time for Italians. Kennedy's motorcade from the airport was held up 10 minutes by heavy traffic on the road to the sea resorts.

One presidential aide, asked to estimate the turnout for Kennedy, told a newsmen, "It isn't worth estimating."

Pontiff Arrives for Coronation

Pontiff Dedicates Reign to Peace, Christian Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII dedicated his reign to Pope Paul, the former Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini of Lodi, Italy, as he said: "Receive this tiara, adorned with three crowns, and know that you are the father of princes and kings, guide of the world and vicar on earth of Christ Jesus our Savior."

The new spiritual ruler of a half-billion Roman Catholics opened his personal quest in the cause of peace tomorrow in a historic meeting with President Kennedy, first Roman Catholic chief executive of the United States.

If Pope Paul continues changes instituted by Pope John in Vatican relations with Communist countries, eventually he may also receive Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Russia Suspected of Holding N-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says it has inconclusive evidence of possible recent Soviet nuclear tests of very low yield.

"The evidence remains inconclusive and it is expected that more definite conclusions must await further evidence and analysis," an AEC spokesman said in a brief announcement prompted by published speculation of such tests.

An informed source said a Soviet test in the range of one kiloton apparently did take place June 12, two days after President Kennedy announced the halt of any further atmospheric tests provided other nuclear nations also refrained.

However, the prevailing guess among Washington officials was that if the Soviets did conduct a test, it was an underground rather than an atmospheric explosion.

Their opinion was based on the very low explosive force picked up by monitors and the lack of detectable radiation.

Thus, informants said, the reports would not charge Kennedy's plans to send Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman to Moscow for the reopening of U.S.-Soviet test ban talks, scheduled to start July 16.

The AEC spokesman made no details on the evidence indicating the possibility of Soviet nuclear tests.

CIA Believed to Be Involved With Diplomat

Official Unidentified in Mystery Action Linked With Spying

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered a Soviet diplomat to leave the country on security charges believed to involve the Central Intelligence Agency.

The identity of the diplomat, a member of the Soviet Embassy here, was not immediately disclosed.

The ranking Soviet diplomat here, Georgi M. Kornienko, counselor and presently charge d'affaires, was summoned to the office of Richard H. Davis, acting assistant secretary of state for European affairs, and informed of the action.

Kornienko stayed in Davis' office less than five minutes. He told newsmen afterwards that he had no comment at this time.

Kornienko is charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, now vacationing in Russia.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey declined comment for the time being. He said an announcement is expected later today, but declined to say what it would be.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the diplomat was declared "persona non grata"—or unwelcome by the United States.

An informed source said the case involved dealings between the Russian diplomat, and a person connected with the Central Intelligence Agency.

Under normal procedure, the diplomat would be given a reasonable time to leave the country. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

2 Motorcyclists Killed in Crash

Oak Park Residents Collide With Car

Oakland County's traffic death toll moved up to 69 with the deaths of two motorcyclists early Sunday.

Killed when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into a car at 3:35 a.m. on Opdyke at Walton, Pontiac Township, were Jon Olsen, 23, of 2424 Majestic, and William Wool Jr., of 10150 Oak Park Blvd., both of Oak Park.

Driver of the car, Charles Hays, 21, of 18735 Fenmore, Detroit, is scheduled to make a statement at the prosecutor's office today. He was not held.

Hays, who heading north on Opdyke, said he entered the intersection after waiting for the light to change. He told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that "something" then struck the front of his car.

Both Olsen, who was driving, and Wool, were tossed several feet from the southbound cycle. They were dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Neither Hays nor his passenger, Cathy Marano, 19, of 1600 Giddings, was injured.

Heat Sufferers! Relief in Sight for Pontiac

Temperature to Drop; Showers Forecast This Evening.

Downtown Temperatures
6 a.m. 74 11 a.m. 92
8 a.m. 82 Noon 95
9 a.m. 87 1 p.m. 95
10 a.m. 91 2 p.m. 97

Relief is in sight for Pontiac area residents who sweltered in 97 degree temperatures today. It's supposed to be only 85 tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts a low of 70 tonight, with partly cloudy skies to accompany the cooler weather tomorrow.

Helping to break up the heat wave, which has kept the thermometer at 90 and above since last Tuesday, will be showers and thunderstorms tonight, the weathermen predict.

If it does rain tonight, it will be the first sizable precipitation in Pontiac since June 9 when two inches fell. Only other recorded precipitation since then was a scant .05 inches last Thursday.

Today's 97-degree temperature tied the record set in June, 1956. The light precipitation—about one-quarter of an inch predicted for tomorrow and again on Friday—won't help Pontiac's water level much, which at 192.2 feet below ground level stands at an all-time low.

The Baldwin Ave. tank measured 14.5 feet.

The weather picture for Wednesday is fair and continued cool. But alas, warmer weather will return again for the remainder of the week. Temperatures are expected to average from four to five degrees above normal for the next five days.

The normal high and low for this time of year is 83 and 63 degrees respectively.

A high of 95 was recorded in downtown Pontiac yesterday, while the high recording in Miami Beach, Fla., was a mere 88.

Winds today are southerly at 10 to 15 m.p.h. They will become westerly at 10 to 15 m.p.h. tomorrow.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac—preceding 8 a.m. was 73. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at a sweltering 97.

Weather's No Sweat to These Cool Guys

While the rest of Oakland County sweaters in 90-95 degree heat, more than a dozen employees of the City Product Corp., 106 N. Paddock, work sweat-free at comfortable temperatures.

These envied individuals labor under midwinter conditions manufacturing tons of ice every day.

Instead of wearing shirts and paper-thin shirts like the rest of the perspiring populace, the lucky employees of Pontiac's only licensed ice maker don gloves, long-sleeved shirts, and wool trousers to package 100 tons of ice daily.

The winterized workers package ice in a huge refrigerator-like storage area called, of course, the cold room. Temperatures are kept a chilly 26 to 35 degrees.

The plant has averaged 100 tons a day, but turned out 114 tons during one 24-hour period last week.

Les English, 240 S. East Blvd., who is the head ice man, said the plant has averaged 100 tons a day, but turned out 114 tons during one 24-hour period last week.

Naturally, the current hot spell has increased the output of the 35-year-old ice plant.

Sunday Swim Fatal to Area Man, 24

A swim in Sylvan Lake Sunday night claimed the life of Ferris Randolph, 24, of 1990 Maddy Lane, Keego Harbor.

Randolph and his wife Barbara had been swimming with friends. The couple was swimming back to shore about 9:30 p.m. when Mrs. Randolph told Oakland County sheriff's deputies she noticed he was not with her.

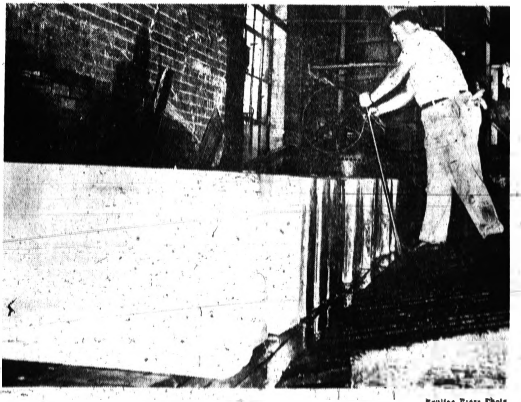

His body was recovered an hour later by skin divers.

U.S. Agency Aiding India

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) announced today an $80-million loan to help India build a 350,000-kilowatt nuclear power station.

The plant, to be located at Tarapur, would meet mounting power requirements for industry and be one of the largest nuclear generating facilities in the world.

David E. Bell, AID administrator, announced the 18-year loan, repayable in dollars.

Britain, Russia Fail in Attempts to Restore Laotian Peace

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today its joint effort with the Soviet Union to restore peace to troubled Laos has collapsed. The British blamed the Russians for the failure.

NOT A SUGGESTION
The Foreign Office said the Russians wanted to put the blame for the failure to restore peace to the South-east Asian situation on the United States and right-wing elements. The British said the pro-Communist Pathet Lao is responsible. Since the two countries could not agree, the British said they would not attempt to reach agreement.

only course was to hand the problem back to the 15 national co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos. Among them were Communist China and the United States.

Announcing the development at a news conference, the Foreign Office said Foreign Secretary Lord Home wrote to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko June 27 expressing regret that they had been unable to agree. "Since we do not seem able to reach agreement, I suggest that the best thing is for us to submit the whole question to the judgment of the signatories of the Geneva agreement and of public opinion," Home wrote.

Gromyko's message would have had most of the blame for the collapse of the Laotian peace efforts on the Laotian rightists, the United States and members of the eight-nation Southeast Asian Treaty Organization.

The Western view is that Laotian Leos have been created by pro-Communist Pathet Lao attacks on positions held by neutral forces. The Russians deny this. In his suggestion that the signatories of the Geneva agreement be allowed to judge the matter, Home did not make any proposals for further steps.

Gromyko had asked Home to put his name to a report which made these main assertions: Right-wing Laotian forces have brought the country to the brink of civil war by military actions and should be ordered at once to stop their operations.

Laos, assigned to supervise the Geneva agreement.

These reports showed a basic split between the Communist Polish representative and the Indian and Canadian members. In one of the letters to Gromyko, Home said that he could not accept the assertions of the Polish commander and he expressed regret at what he called the Polish commissioner's unwillingness to cooperate with his fellow members.

The SEATO countries have been conducting massive military maneuvers on the frontiers of Laos and should be ordered to stop.

The massive correspondence documents made public by the British included several situation reports submitted to the co-chairmen by the Indian-Canadian-Polish-Thai-Commissioners.

Third Member Is Named in British Espionage Case

LONDON (AP) — A government minister disclosed today that a third member of the former British diplomat Harold Philby was the third man in the notorious Maclean-Burgess case, had spied for the Russians while in the foreign office and now is believed to be behind the Iron Curtain.

Edward Heath, deputy foreign minister, told the House of Commons Philby warned Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess, two other foreign office men, that British security services were about to arrest them. As a result, the two fled to Russia in June, 1951.

Philby quit the foreign service in 1955, turned newspaperman and vanished from his post in Beirut, Lebanon, as correspondent for the London Observer last March.

Heath said messages purporting to come from Philby had been received by his wife from behind the Iron Curtain. He did not name the country. Heath told the House of Commons: "Since Mr. Philby resigned from the foreign service in July 1955, he has not had access to any kind of official information."

Heath recalled that Lord Avon (formerly Sir Anthony Eden) told Parliament in 1955 when he was prime minister that Philby had been a Communist spy.

Avon then said Philby had been asked to quit the foreign service and did.

Service Planned for Member of Pioneer Family

Service for a member of a pioneer Pontiac family will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the St. Francis Funeral Home with burial in Oakhill Cemetery.

Mrs. Irving S. (Grace W.) Corwin, 82, of 77 Franklin Blvd., died Saturday after a short illness.

Mrs. Corwin's husband was a local coal and lumber dealer for many years.

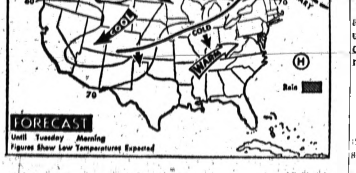

She was a member of the First Methodist Church and the Tuesday Mosaic.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Robert Greenhalgh of Pontiac; a son, James C. Corwin of Bloomfield Hills; and six grandchildren.

A full-grown bush elephant, 12 feet tall and weighing six tons, almost never lies down. It sleeps standing up.

"VIVA, VIVA" — Flanked by motorcycle escort, President Kennedy is cheered by crowds as he is driven from the airport to the Quirinal Palace for talks with Italian leaders. Thousands of posters proclaimed "Viva the Americans" and "Viva Kennedy."

Small Italy Crowds Greet JFK

15 hours earlier than originally planned. Salinger said the presidential plane would depart from Naples at 7 p.m. tomorrow after Kennedy visited North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters.

Originally, Kennedy planned to return to Rome after his Naples visit, spend the night and leave for Washington at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Kennedy arrived in Rome after a night's rest in the cool lake country of northern Italy.

OFFICIALS MEET
President Antonio Segni and Premier Giovanni Leone met him at the airport and about an hour later sat down with him and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk for a review of world problems.

It took an hour to drive the 20 miles into Rome from Leonardo da Vinci Airport.

In the city, Romans lined a good part of Kennedy's route from the Colosseum to the great Piazza Venezia and up the Quirinal Hill to the ancient Quirinal Palace—a distance of about two miles. The talks were held at the Quirinal, the Italian presidential residence.

At some points, chiefly in the big piazzas the crowds were thick. At other areas of the route people stood only one or two deep, applauding and waving.

Kennedy appeared to enjoy the ride through the city past the Colosseum, the Roman Forum and the Venetian palace that was Benito Mussolini's office. He smiled continuously.

He had much to see although he had seen Italy twice previously before he became President.

But while the sights of Rome may have been an experience for Kennedy, the crowds must have been something of a disappointment.

The exodus of Romans on vacation may have been a factor holding down the crowds. An Italian state television commentator said another factor probably was the fact that Kennedy's visit was not a state affair and lacked the crowd-catching trappings of state visits, such as flags and bands.

A spokesman for the Italian president said Segni and Kennedy met alone at first while Leone, Rusk and Foreign Minister Amintore Piccoli conferred in another room.

Segni and Kennedy talked for thirty minutes in the Italian president's private study.

Trieste Halts Search for Sub

Heads Back to Port for Needed Overhaul

ABOARD THE USS FORST
SNELLING AT SEA (UPI) — The bathyscaphe Trieste headed back to port today, defeated by equipment failure in its search for the ill-fated nuclear attack submarine Thresher.

The Trieste made five dives in the 4,000-foot ocean bottom. Officials said it found "encouraging evidence," including a yellow plastic slipper worn aboard nuclear subs. It also found other debris and two crates possibly dug by the sunken $45 million craft.

But it failed in its main objective: to find the Thresher.

The Atlantic with its tricky underwater currents, retained its secret as to the watery grave of the sub.

LAST IN SERIES
Yesterday's dive was the last in a series since Trieste was in need of an extensive overhaul on the mainland. The bathyscaphe, a float with a gondola attached, was designed for research dives with from a week to two weeks between each descent.

The daily diving in the Thresher search placed a heavy strain on Trieste, the Navy said.

Officials did not indicate whether the Trieste would again join the search 220 miles off the New England coast once it underwent a complete overhaul on the mainland.

Trieste, with a three-man crew aboard, was forced to cut short its dive yesterday because of a gyrocompass failure and trouble with the starboard propulsion motor.

The bathyscaphe was on the ocean floor two hours 45 minutes instead of the scheduled four hours. Results of the fifth dive were "completely negative," officials said.

Russian fishing ships, which have been harassing the search operations, were not sighted yesterday.

Waterford Twp. House

Fire of undetermined origin yesterday at 7:28 a.m. caused an estimated $1,500 damage to the house of Helen Connick, 518 Oakleaf, Waterford Township, and an additional $500 damage to contents.

Firemen and three trucks fought the blaze in the one-story cement block building for 55 minutes.

Kennedy said it was hard to say that anything was more important than voting or education. Other parts of the administration program are aimed at eliminating discrimination in these and other fields, but they are not before the Commerce Committee.

Kennedy bowed down hard on the thesis that racial discrimination in privately-owned places of public accommodation is not only "legally" insupportable, economically wasteful but above all is morally wrong.

City Expected to OK Money for Golf Course

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission is expected to allocate $151,300 tonight for development of a golf course at 14-Mile and Cranbrook roads.

Plans for the nine-hole course have been approved tentatively by the commission.

The 3,200 yard layout provides both more length and greater room between fairways than the city's 2,700 yard Springdale course.

A portable ski tow would make the 57-acre site a year-round recreation area.

Estimated cost of the development includes a picnic area, club house, watering system, fencing and other equipment.

City Manager L. R. Gars noted that one of the strongest points in favor of the new course is that it would be self-supporting, something that few recreational functions are.

Gars reported that Springdale Golf Course has more than paid for its costs for the last seven years, "despite the fact that the fees charged at Springdale are the lowest in the metropolitan area."

W. Bruce Matthews of Newaygo has prepared preliminary plans for the course during the past year.

Commissioners tonight will be asked to approve a $5,000 contract with Matthews for supervision of the golf course construction.

A 1963-64 operating budget of $700,000 above last year's figure will be considered by a new board of education at its organizational meeting tonight.

The instructional portion accounts for $5,707,350 of the board's corporate budget.

bus and train terminals would be subject to the act. This also would be true of beauty shops, he said.

Kennedy said he didn't think the bill would apply to bowling alleys or pool halls, nor to laundries and dry cleaning establishments except under unusual circumstances. He said it would not apply to doctors, lawyers or others providing professional services.

While Kennedy described passage of the bill as imperative, he demurred when Cotton asked him if he considered it "the keystone of all the civil rights proposals" submitted to Congress.

Kennedy said it was hard to say that anything was more important than voting or education. Other parts of the administration program are aimed at eliminating discrimination in these and other fields, but they are not before the Commerce Committee.

Starts Job as Clerk for Supervisors

A former Oakland County Drain Commission employee, Anthony Guyer, 51, assumed duties today as clerk of committees for the County Board of Supervisors.

The appointment was made Friday by Board Chairman Delos Hamlin, effective today.

Guyer succeeds Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard to the committee clerk's post. The position remained vacant since February when Barnard was appointed to the bench.

Barnard also served as the county's corporate counsel while clerk of committees.

The positions were split by the board of supervisors to allow the committee clerk more time to handle public relations for the county in an expanded program yet to be developed.

As administrative assistant to Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry for the past two and a half years, Guyer coordinated a and kept the minutes for various county and inter-county drainage meetings.

His duties will be similar for the board of supervisors as clerk of its various committees.

Guyer's salary has been raised from $6,800 to $8,000 annually.

Before joining the drain commission, Guyer had worked as a car salesman and radio broadcaster.

He is married, lives at 1928 Cragin, Bloomfield Township, and has a son, Robert, 22.

County Gets Bridge Funds

A $212,000 federal grant to help finance construction of 10 new bridges in Oakland County was among $1.8 million in grants for Michigan communities announced today under the federal government's accelerated public works program.

The funds were sought by the County Road Commission to go with $232,000 in county money to replace 10 county bridges too narrow to carry more than one car at a time.

Bridge locations for replacement are located on Hamlin, Avon and Washington in Avon Township; Dutton on the Avon-Oakland Township line; Burns and a Dawson-Milford Township; Squirrel in Pontiac Township; Bridge Lake Road in Springfield Township; Lakeater Road in Bloomfield Township; and Pontiac Lake Road in Waterford Township.

Announcement of the grants was made through Michigan's U.S. senators, Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart.

Lake Orion Residents Ready Parade, Flares

LAKE ORION — Villagers will pay tribute to our country's founders here Thursday with festivities to begin with a gala parade and close with the lighting of scores of flares around the lake.

Several baseball games, a square-dance in the street and a teen-age dance at youth center will also highlight Lake Orion's Fourth of July celebration.

Detroit Joins Windsor for Celebration

DETROIT (AP) — A celebration of freedom by Detroit and Windsor, Canada, ranged up and down the Detroit River today in the two cities' annual Freedom Festival.

Detroit's Civic Center and Windsor's Jacks Park were focal points of the celebration. A fireworks display on the river to night was expected to attract more than half a million spectators.

Thousands of persons attended festivities on Detroit's side of the river yesterday, including a commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation at Ford Auditorium.

Windsor's celebration of Canada's Dominion Day today includes a downtown parade to night.

W. Willard Wirtz, secretary of labor, told the Ford Auditorium audience that economic rights must not be overlooked in the enforcement of equal rights for Negroes.

"Until there are decent jobs at decent wages for the seven million Negro workers in America, their freedom will still be incomplete," Wirtz said.

Wirtz urged a fair employment practices law to cover private employment.

Other speakers included Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., and Roy Wilkins, Executive Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Area Man Hurt in Crash; Fell Asleep at Wheel

Wed at St. Colman

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — An outdoor reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the wedding Saturday morning of Ruth Denzelle Alix and John Warren Porter in St. Colman Catholic Church, Farmington.

Rev. Edward Kompha performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noree D. Alix, 5548 W. Maple. She chose a floor-length gown of embroidered tulle with a scoop neckline and a short train for her wedding.

Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion was attached to a circlet of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley entwined with ivy.

Maid of honor was Carolyn Hubel of Detroit (Lillian LaCelle and S. B. A. Alix attended their sister's bridesmaids.

William Porter was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mrs. Norma A. Porter of Dearborn and the late Mr. Porter.

The next event scheduled on the day's agenda is a teen-age dance at the youth center from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

'ALL JOIN HANDS'

An hour after the youth dance starts, members of the Merry Makers Square Dance Club will swing their partners on North Broadway, which will be closed off to traffic.

Fourth of July festivities will be closed out at 10 p.m., when villagers gather on the lakeshore and light flares sold to them by the local Rotary Club.

The Rotarians will be selling flares downtown, and use profits of the sale for community service projects.

This is the 17th year that the club has sponsored the sale in conjunction with the July 4th celebration.

To Hear Case on Housing in Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Ann Arbor Board of Realtors was expected to appear before the City Council tonight in another round over a proposed fair housing ordinance.

The board said it feels the ordinance—which prohibits racial discrimination in housing under certain circumstances—is unfair to property owners.

The ordinance has passed first reading, and is being studied by a council committee before being brought up for second and final reading.

The Ann Arbor Area Fair Housing Association, an affiliate of the Congress of Racial Equality, has picketed the council meetings—asking for faster action and a stronger ordinance—the past four Monday nights. The group said it will picket again today.

The guests were seated by Denise and Stephen Alix, brothers of the bride.

Upon their return from a northern Michigan honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside in Livonia.

MRS. JOHN W. PORTER

CITIZENSHIP AWARD — Harry S. Beaumont, founder of Seven Harbors subdivision, chats with Clarence Reading, who presented a citizenship award to him Saturday in behalf of the White Lake Citizens League. ## Ground Is Broken for Church in Romeo ROMEO — Ground-breaking ceremonies yesterday marked the first step toward construction of new St. Paul Episcopal Church in Romeo.

The new edifice will replace the old stone church which was destroyed by fire just after Christmas in 1960.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rt. Rev. Archie H. Crowley, suffragan bishop of Michigan. Others taking part included Rev. Fletcher Plant, administrative assistant to the bishop, and Miss Grace McKay, oldest member of the congregation.

The new Early American-style church will be erected on a 12-acre site on West St. Clair, across from Romeo High School.

Donors of the property were parishioners Mr. and Mrs. Alex M. Galloway, 8756 W. St. Clair. Their daughter, Janet, also turned a shovel of dirt as a representative of the Sunday School.

Plans for the new church were drafted free of charge by architect Jack K. Burns, A.I.A.

UAW Battles 'Dallas Rates'

MISSILE FIRM OFFERING Lower Salary Scale

A United Auto Workers representative says the pay will be about $1 an hour less than Chrysler Corp. paid its workers when Chrysler operated the plant.

A spokesman for Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., of Dallas, says the company is offering "Dallas rates" in order to maintain a competitive position in aerospace-electronics.

Ling-Temco-Vought got the Lance contract last fall on condition that it do the work in Michigan. Chrysler's own missile contract at the suburban plant had run out and workers lost jobs.

Joe Grieshaber, a UAW committee member for Chrysler missile workers, said job offers were being turned down because of the Texas management's pay rates.

UAW headquarters said contract eventually would be negotiated with Ling-Temco-Vought to protect Detroit area wage levels.

Road Toll Hits 767

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 767 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll on this date a year ago was 689.

Filling out the afternoon will be a merchants' softball game at 2 p.m., a horse show at 4 p.m. and band concert at 5 p.m.

A 7 p.m. dance on the tennis courts will precede the traditional fireworks display, tentatively scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Plan Water Battle Before 4th Display

AUBURN HEIGHTS — A fire department water battle and fire demonstration will precede the annual fireworks display here Thursday.

Gets Report on Waterfront

DETROIT (AP) — A report on future development of the Detroit waterfront, calling on private and public sectors of Detroit and Wayne County to join forces, was received Saturday by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

The blueprint is composed of two studies and outlines how Detroit should prepare for expanded business development during the next four decades and how the present use of riverfront property should be re-charted.

Included among proposals for the future were a mile-long port terminal east of the Ambassador Bridge, a port authority to oversee water commerce, an international trade center, an industrial park west of the Rouge River and a river-related parkway.

Government Will Insure Loan for Royal Oak Twp. Housing

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A $2.5-million loan for construction of 183 housing units here will be insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Sen. Philip A. Hart made the announcement Saturday during a ceremony at the Royal Oak Township Hall.

The project represents the first phase of the proposed development of nearly 300 units to be constructed on urban renewal land in the all-Negro township.

Goal of the undertaking is to make available to families in the low- and moderate-income brackets attractive, well-designed dwellings owned on a cooperative basis.

The development will be known as the Oakdale Residents Cooperative. It will be composed of both row units and individual one- and two-story homes, with one to four bedrooms each.

Activity facilities will be offered in a centrally located community building.

The development will be built by the American Redevelopment Corp., which has planned five similar projects throughout the state.

Sen. Hart said he was "delighted that final action has now been taken to permit us to move forward in providing decent housing for the members of Oakdale Cooperative and the community."

The township was developed in 1945 as a wartime housing community.

Hart noted that the ceremony Saturday climaxed five years of "dedicated" effort by those concerned with the project.

"The members of the community have shown extraordinary patience in standing by while all the many problems were worked out," he said. "It will be a joyous day when we can see them in new homes."

DARLENE K. THOMPSON

A Sept. 28 wedding is being planned by Francis Mary Zemcik and Bernard Peter Burczak. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Zemcik of 128 Longspur, Union Lake, and Frank W. Zemcik, 128 Penn Hill, Watford Lake. Her fiancé's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burczak of Detroit.

Police were told he hurt himself in a swimming accident in a private pool.

Plan Reorganization

To Alter Red Press

MOSCOW (UPI)—A massive reorganization of the Soviet press is about to take place under the direction of Alexei Adzhubel, non-leader of Premier Nikita Khrushchev and editor of the government newspaper, Izvestia, in the Soviet press said today.

The overhaul was laid down in a decree of the Communist party's central committee, plenum of June 21 which described the press, radio, television and movies as "the assault forces of the ideological front."

Moscow's 30 national and focal newspapers will be reduced to half. Mass circulation papers such as the Communist party's Pravda, Izvestia and the youth organ Komsomolskaya Pravda will be boosted from their present six pages to 20 pages.

The bolstered papers will have special sections devoted to arts, sciences, sports and economics. They also will cover the field of specialized dailies and organs of various ministries and sports institutions which are being phased down under the reorganization.

Under the new set-up, Adzhubel is expected to become, in effect, the Soviet press czar.

He is a member of the central committee's commission on ideology which is headed by party secretary and chief ideologist Leonid Brezhnev, a former editor of Pravda and Izvestia.

The reorganization has been under discussion for several months, the sources said. A key point is that it will give the Communist party tighter control than ever over the press and other media of mass information.

Killed as Car Hits Pole

BROWN CITY (AP)—Harry McLarty, 47, of Brown City was killed Monday when the car he was driving ran off M90 eight miles east of here in Sanilac County. The car hit a utility pole and rolled over several times.

Royal Picnic Probably Not for Charlie

LOSSIEMOUTH, Scotland, (AP)—Prince Charles had a picnic lunch with his parents yesterday and probably a royal lecture about darning the glass of cherry brandy in a public bar.

Charles was driven by detectives from Gordonstoun School to a nearby naval air station where Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip arrived from Edinburgh.

After picnicking at an undisclosed spot, the royal family went to Innes House for tea with Capt. Iain and Lady Margaret Tennant, who is Prince Charles' sister-in-law. Also at tea was Robert Chew, Gordonstoun's headmaster who has had a talk with the 14-year-old Prince about the brandy incident.

Is Prince Father of Her Child?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Nigerian prince wed here Saturday was accused Sunday by another girl of fathering her six-month-old daughter.

June Cotwright, 19, a business college student, charged that Prince Oluoke Paddy Njaka, 22, a Loyola University student, killed her to wed the former Linda Faye Lee, 20. Both girls are Negroes.

Miss Cotwright, who lives with her mother, said her lawyer had filed a paternity suit Friday, a day before the wedding, naming the prince as the father.

Italian Police Discover WWII Arms in Cemetery

Americans Feel U.N. Mustn't 'Carry' Russia Much Longer

Along with 180 million other Americans, I'm really burned up at the free ride accorded members — many of them undesirable — in the United Nations.

Shall we continue Russia and her satellites with full voting rights when they refuse to pay their nominal shares because the league isn't run precisely to suit them? Most of the people in this country unite on one simple action if they persist: Give 'em the pitch. They've earned the bums' rush.

Personally, I'm convinced that if the sniveling KHRUSHCHEV discovers the Soviets and their minions will be summarily dropped from the roster, he'll creep in with the full dues under his arm and an apologetic smile on that bloody Russian countenance. And if he doesn't — well, that may constitute a better break for mankind than his small packet of rubles. We can drop him in the ash can.

Russia wants a veto on necessary expenditures in the Congo and Middle East. The U.N. says "no."
So, Russia pouts.
It's time she puts up or shuts up. No one much cares which.

Some Salvage . . .

President JOHN F. KENNEDY was widely criticized at the timing of his European trip.

I was one of this vocal army.

But candor and honesty compel the assertion that he is doing a bang-up job in international relationships with people in general. There's no way of evaluating whether he is accomplishing any constructive work in the primary objection — the diplomatic relationships between nations. But the man is winning the hearts of the common folks.

He's a past master at this.

Men and women are automatically drawn to JOHN F. KENNEDY. With all our racial disturbance, the current U.S. image in Europe is a pretty tattered and dismal spectacle. The Communists and other enemies are capitalizing on everything to the utmost and are amazed and delighted at the unexpected ammunition we provide. Hence, good will among the people of Europe just in itself is more important than it has ever been in the past.

Another Holiday . . .

Thursday is the Fourth of July. Once this day signalled an unprecedented detonation of firecrackers and kindred noisemakers, and of course, just incidentally, some suddenly remembered we were celebrating our Independence.

Oh, there were a few speeches, parades, and some desultory civic celebrations in the park, but by and large the "observance" rested in igniting another fistful of lethal noisemakers. The list of those burned, injured, maimed and killed by amateurish handling of dynamite and gunpowder was simply appalling.

In fact it was no disgraceful that The Chicago Tribune began a one-man fight for sanity and common sense. Each July 5, "The Trib" run columns and columns of victims' names. The early response was negligible, but The Tribune was not deterred and ultimately 'hows' of newspapers clear across the Country followed the leader.

The dawn came slowly. But it came.

Mass indignation promoted legislation until fireworks were made illegal. The Press earnestly hopes that any local violators will be hauled into court and dealt with summarily.

All honor to The TRIBUNE.
The lives this great newspaper has saved is incalculable, to say nothing of the millions of burns, wounds and injuries that have been prevented.

More Pigeons . . .

BEN RONAN sends a clipping from San Francisco which indicates the Golden Gate is having troubles with — hold me back, someone — those pesky pigeons.

'Frisco, we have news for you. Pontiac's filth is reduced materially. It hasn't been eliminated and the Presbyterian entrance was an unholy spectacle one day last week.
But Ben can tell 'Frisco we're improving.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

The Las Vegas gamblers have made SONNY LISTON such a top heavy favorite there will be little professional betting on the PATTERSON bout . . .

David Lawrence Says:

Policy Must Emphasize Peace

WASHINGTON — Making world policy is neither easier nor more difficult for the United States now than it has been in the past. But the emphasis today is in the wrong place. It is directed against America's allies abroad rather than to her adversaries.

President Kennedy's trip to Europe had a laudable objective — to convince the Western allies that the United States stands firm behind them and that unity is everybody's responsibility.

But a critical examination of what is happening in Europe, and particularly in the Soviet Union, will point up the fact that the West, due to its internal quarrels, has lost sight of the main issue — how to transform the Soviet Union into a sincere partner in peace.

It is not just a ban on nuclear tests which is needed but a decision by the Soviets as well as ourselves to turn away from the possible use of nuclear weapons.

The starting of a war by Russia has become as unlikely, if not as impossible, as the initiation of such a holocaust by any Western power.

The President had a wonderful opportunity to get the debate back on its fundamental basis, but he found himself preoccupied instead with the rivalries inside the Western alliance.

The fundamental problem, however, in the world today is how to develop a true democracy and get a really free government in the Soviet Union. Also, and not less important, is how to emancipate the so-called "Communist bloc" countries in Eastern Europe, most of which won their independence after the first World War.

The people, moreover, in Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia, as well as Hungary, together with the people of Estonia, Lithuania, Latvia, East Germany and Albania, read with despair of the hypocritical slogans of "independence" and "anticolonialism" which are voiced in the halls of a faltering United Nations by the new African countries, while the Soviet Union continues to pose as their champion. But meanwhile the order and much better educated citizenry of the Eastern European states — experienced in self-government — are neglected and forsaken.

Time was when an American President rose above the petty internal quarrels of our allies and spoke to the whole world of the importance of encouraging democratic peoples under the yoke of a dictator to seek ways to disengage themselves from an autocratic government.

It is time for the United States not to try to tell allied governments what policies they should make in their relations with each other but to persuade the peoples of these countries to fasten their eyes on the true enemies of mankind — the capricious rulers who suddenly could pull the trigger of war.

It is, as is being reported so often because of United States government, "doesn't want to offend Moscow." Reports from diplomatic circles refer to such an attitude again and again on the part of the state department, despite official denials.

There seems to have grown up lately, nevertheless, a belief that the American government must undergo some kind of self-imposed lockjaw while Moscow's press and radio continue to scare the Russian people into thinking the United States and the West really are planning a nuclear war.

Sooner or later, the United States government will have to take a leaf out of the history books which tell of Woodrow Wilson's famous crusade for international freedom. His words echoed and re-echoed throughout the world.

Congress Shows Little for First Six Months

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress completed the first six months of what may be a year-long session by taking a week off for Independence Day flag-waving and oratory.

After a half year of sporadic labors, it has little to show except a stack of unfinished business.

The official "status of major legislation" reads like the line score of the Washington Senators in an American League baseball game. It lists the enactment of four public laws, one extending the draft law, one authorizing procurement of aircraft, missiles and naval vessels, and two appropriations bills.

The seeming snail's pace does not appear to alarm congressional leaders.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the Democratic House whip, summed up their sentiment with these words:

"We've got pretty much done and we're going to do lots more. The year is only half gone. We are paid for a year's work and we can stay here all year if we have to."

Congress might do just that if some of the big bills jelling in committees are to be considered. Members already are talking about a long recess over Labor Day. They are resigned to a long session.

The 1963 legislative slowdown hardly can be blamed on the usually balky Rules Committee headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va.

Smith's group has cooperated more than usual with the House leadership. It even has held back some controversial bills in a spirit of leadership cooperation.

Two big administration measures already passed by the Senate probably could be killed in a hurry if Smith sent them to the House floor. They provide for federal aid for mass transportation systems and for creation of a youth conservation corps. The administration just doesn't have the House votes to pass them now.

OTHERS BEATEN

Two other administration-supported measures have been defeated by the House. They provide for broadening of the area redevelopment program and extension of the Mexican farm labor program.

Since the House defeat of the former bill, the Senate has passed a companion measure as another attempt at getting the redevelopment program broadened. Its prospects in the House are far from bright.

There's no certainty now that a tax revision bill requested by President Kennedy will be passed this year by the House. It has become entangled with the President's broad civil rights program which is overshadowing everything else on Capitol Hill.

Because of the prospects for a long and bitter fight over both taxes and civil rights, leaders may concentrate during the next few months on disposing of the necessary appropriation bills and some relatively non-controversial measures.

Except for the Treasury and Post Office Departments, all federal agencies started operating today on emergency financing that will carry them through the first two months of the new fiscal year.

Once the money bills are out of the way, the decks will be cleared for the big battles, involving civil rights, taxes, foreign aid and general aid for education.

Forced Housing

The Realtor's Headlines (Washington, D.C.)

"As citizens and realtors we deplore the inequality which exists in this country in many areas and sympathize with the desires and efforts to solve the problem, but we reiterate it cannot be accomplished with laws for forced housing." Daniel F. Sheehan Sr., St. Louis, NAREB president, declared last week.

He spoke at the convention of the Maryland Association of Real Estate Boards at Ocean City, Md.

"I am referring, of course, to the numerous state and municipal laws and proposals which would force an owner — regardless of his desires and intentions and regardless of any other factors — to sell or rent his real property to anyone who merely has enough money," he explained.

"Regardless of how we feel personally about the means of achieving better opportunities for minorities, I think we can all agree that in tackling the problems of any group or individual it is folly to abrogate by laws or decrees traditional rights which have been the basis on which this country built its strength. We cannot gain one freedom by destroying another."

He went on to point out that the individual's right to own property is a human right, inseparable from other basic human rights. Once these rights are erased, he

There is Need for Consistency

In response to our editor's comments on the decision to ban Bible reading and prayers in schools, that the place of greatest influence should be the home and church will be agreed to by all.

This does not eliminate the fact that children spend more hours under the direction of our schools than either home or church and to eliminate the basis for our moral principles from the schools is shooting at the wrong "enemy."

If on the basis of the First Amendment, this ruling is upheld, then I believe it to be consistent that President Kennedy be advised that it is unconstitutional for him as a representative of our government to visit the Vatican for an audience with Pope Paul VI.

This official visit to the head of a religious-political system that teaches the separation of church and state is wrong, which is held up as the basis of the First Amendment, leaves me with but one haunting question: Who is calling the strangely-timed music we march to? I go on record as protesting this government act of recognition as inconsistent with the Supreme Court ruling.

is worth, in dollars and cents, in today's world. The research-ers compiled annual income for men 25 to 64 years old and applied that income against the schooling these men had received. At the top of the heap are college graduates, as might be expected. Their earnings run more than 56 per cent above the earnings of high school graduates.

Those of you who are still in high school should bear the following in mind:

The man who finishes high school can expect to earn about $75 a month more than the man who drops out of high school during his junior year. That high school diploma, makes that much difference. It's a great deal of money, $75 a month. It is the difference between driving an old jalopy and a good car. The difference between renting a room in a shabby apartment and owning your own home. It means the difference between getting and keeping a good job and taking what is offered. That's what that high school diploma means.

Musk rats a Menace or Asset?

WASHINGTON — The muskrat is a public enemy in Holland and a nuisance in much of the United States. But in Louisiana the little rodent is a major asset.

Though a native of North America, the tenacious animal easily adapts to new countries. The muskrat prefers marshland, but makes itself at home anywhere that grassy vegetation meets fresh water.

Introduced into Bohemia in 1905, the muskrat (Ondatra zibethica) spread rapidly over most of central Europe, Holland, Belgium and eastern France, the National Geographic Society says.

The Dutch have put a price on the muskrat's head because its burrowing undermines their vital dikes. In Belgium, muskrats bored holes in the banks of a major ship canal. The water drained, leaving 25 vessels stranded in mud.

The muskrat's relentless digging also endangers railroad embankments, earth dams, farm ponds, irrigation projects, and fish hatcheries.

The little creatures caused widespread highway damage in Iowa by digging around drainage culverts. Roadways sank into the muskrat dens.

Wire screening and planks around the outlets failed to discourage the rodents.

Musk rats thwarted a major 19th century effort to reclaim the vast New Jersey marshland opposite New York City. They tunneled through and under the dikes.

Musk rats usually stay close to their marsh sanctuaries, but when food is scarce they may venture out to sample crops. During the mating season, fidgety males also have invaded cities and bitten startled pedestrians.

The flesh of the muskrat is dark but fine-grained, and it takes only a minimum of cooking to make it tender.

The flavor usually is compared to wild duck and terrapin, but it has a distinctive gamy taste.

Cancer Wins Out in Lung Transplant

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A convict whose life sentence for murder was commuted after he underwent an historic lung transplant, has died from a kidney disorder.

John Richard Russell, believed to have been the first lung transplant patient, died Saturday—18 days after his cancerous left lung was replaced.

A University Hospital spokesman said the transplanted lung, from an unrelated donor — functioned well but cancer had progressed too far in the 58-year-old convict.

Admit Coeds to Dartmouth

HANOVER, N. H. (AP)—Dartmouth College, 194 years old, opened its doors to women undergraduates for the first time today. Dartmouth announced 148 women students and 153 men have registered for the eight-week summer term.

Dartmouth will not grant degrees to the women students. Credits they earn will be transferred to the institutions they regularly attend.

JFK Signs Extension of War Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has signed legislation extending for the 10th time the corporation income and major excise tax rates originally imposed during the Korean War.

They retain $12 billion in annual revenue for the federal government.

The President acted on the bill in Europe where he is in the latter stages of a 10-day, four-nation tour.

The legislation, which was flown to Kennedy by courier, had to be signed into law this week to prevent an automatic drop in the rates on July 1. They were first levied to help finance U.S. participation in the Korean hostilities. Today's extension is for a year.

Levies involved include the 52 per cent corporation tax, and excise rates on whisky, beer, wines, cigarettes, automobiles, auto parts and accessories, air travel and telephone service.

American homeowners average about $100 per family each year on home improvements.

Quotable Notes; Bits of Boyled Information

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
It seems that the less Americans eat the more they grow. As a people we are taller and heavier than we were 50 years ago, but individually we eat about 100 pounds a year less food.
Incidentally, if you want to stay sweet-tempered, don't cut down on your calories too drastically. Hunger makes you irritable and angry.
One tradition says that a gift of pearls to a bride will bring her happiness. Another tradition holds that a bride's pearls "represent the tears she will shed in her married life."

Fifteen per cent of U.S. children now need glasses before reaching the age of 6, according to the Better Vision Institute.
Some people claim they can read from 2,000 to 8,000 words a minute. But tests show that anyone who reads faster than 1,450 words a minute is actually skimming.
Our quotable notables: "There was never yet a philosopher that could endure the toothache patiently"—William Shakespeare.

Oldtime vaudevillians were among the most superstitious of performers. They thought it brought bad luck to whistle in a dressing room, to throw a hat on a bed, or get a No. 13 train berth. Many also thought it was courting disaster to deliver the last line of an act during a rehearsal, or to rub on cheek rouge with a powder puff instead of a rabbit's foot.
In Kentucky, it once was a criminal offense to fire a gun that wasn't loaded.
When you take your wife out to eat, if you pay more than $2.20 for her meal you're doing better than the average husband.

Worth remembering: "The best solution for dandruff is a tweed suit"—Arnold H. Glasgow.
The heat created in the sun is equal to the energy produced by one billion hydrogen bombs exploding every second.
Zoo gorillas are often fed raw meat, but in the wild they are strictly vegetarians. The erroneous idea that ostriches stupidly try to hide their head in the sand when threatened probably arises from the fact that these birds, when resting, often squat down and stretch their neck out flat on the ground.
The Catholic Digest offers this holiday safety slogan: "To be safe on the 4th, don't buy a fifth on the 3rd!"
It was Elbert Hubbard who observed, "The world is moving so fast these days that the man who says it can't be done is generally interrupted by someone doing it."

Booby-Trap Blasts* Kill Nine in Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Nine persons were killed over the weekend in booby-trap explosions that may have been set by warring gang lords of the Sicilian Mafia.
The booby-traps were TNT-laden cars. The victims were two garage workers and seven policemen. Both explosions took place in a Palermo suburb regarded as a Mafia prowling ground.
Palermo police suspect that two factions are engaged in a struggle for control of the underworld in this Sicilian capital. The bomb-rigged cars apparently were meant to wipe out opponents, with the other deaths happening accidentally.
Banks in ancient Rome issued what it can't be done is generally interrupted by someone doing it."

NEA Speaker Cites Failure

Links Race Woe, Education Lag

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
DETROIT — "The race issue that is convulsing every part of the nation is a striking instance of the failure of higher education," a speaker told delegates to the National Education Association (NEA) convention today.
W. H. Ferry, vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, in Santa Barbara, Calif., said this "may turn out to be our lasting education goof."
"An educational system geared to the preparation of individual careers has left us without the practical wisdom to cope with the collective needs of our times," Ferry said in a prepared speech.
Ferry said that measured against the real needs of the country "the American college is a bad investment. Judged by its output of practical wisdom and independent criticism, the college is a resounding flop."
"COMMON KNOWLEDGE"
He told NEA delegates "the Bill of Rights and the ideals of equality have been with us for a long while. The degraded situation of Negroes throughout the country has been common knowledge for generations."

But, he said, the colleges and universities failed to live up to their responsibilities, and now that the cataclysm is upon us "we don't know what to think about it."
Ferry's speech was the highlight of a convention day in which most of the corridor talk was devoted to two thorny issues: racial segregation within the ranks of the NEA, and the use of sanctions as a weapon for teachers trying to secure better salaries and working conditions.
A demand that the NEA segregate its state affiliates in 11 southern states was made Sunday by Peter Goudis, a history teacher from Nassau County, N.Y. The Department of Classroom Teachers of the NEA is expected to consider his proposed resolution today.
"CAN'T BE FORCED"
While teachers from the South oppose it, saying such integration cannot be forced.
Goudis also plans to bring the issue before the full NEA delegate assembly.
The 11 states with separate white and Negro affiliates are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

forces in the past decade are Maryland, the District of Columbia, Oklahoma, Kentucky and West Virginia.
There are about 50,000 Negroes in the 860,000-member NEA. No Negro has ever held an executive position in the NEA, although some have served on commissions and committees.

Farmers, Police Get in Jam Due to Sour Grapes

PERPIGNAN, France (AP)—Riot police saw red Sunday when they tried to stop a farmers' protest parade.
About 2,000 fruit and vegetable growers joined in the demonstration protesting low prices and poor sales.
When police barred the route to the district government offices, farmers pulled up two truckloads of tomatoes and started bombarding the officers. Police retaliated with tear gas.
The farmers also dumped several tons of tomatoes and apricots on the road leading toward Spain. Traffic soon produced a slippery mixture and it took police three hours to sort out the resulting traffic jam.

Man Jailed for Bus Theft

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP)—Police spotted John B. Cicrossta, 23, driving an empty Greyhound bus stolen from Springfield, Mass., and gave chase Sunday.
One police car was forced off the road as it tried to cut off the bus. Another also was forced off as it approached from another direction.
Police finally stopped the bus in the center of Rocky Hill.
Cicrossta was unable to say where he was going or what he was doing in the bus, police reported. He was jailed.

3 Beaten by Guards of Nyasaland Chief

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—An Austrian and two Portuguese teen-agers were reportedly beaten up by Nyasaland Prime Minister Hastings Banda's bodyguard Sunday when they failed to get their car out of Banda's way fast enough.
The Austrian was identified as Joseph Kneil, 27. The names of the Portuguese were not learned.
The South African Press Association said all three were taken to a hospital in Blantyre, capital of Nyasaland.

Temperamental Tenor Tunes Out on Judge

LEAMINGTON, England (UPI)—A judge at a music festival here last weekend gave each competitor a note with his opinion of his singing at the end of his performance. One singer gave it right back.
Bob Welford, a 28-year-old tenor, took his note, scanned it, then tore it to pieces, and threw it in the judge's face.

But Khrushchev Is Unhappy

Ulbricht Clings to Power in E. Germany

BERLIN (AP)—"Look into his eyes and you will see how scheming and dishonest he is. Woe to Germany if this man gains power."

Germany's famous woman Communist, the late Clara Zetkin, was talking about Walter Ulbricht when she made the statement in the 1930s.

Ulbricht had just completed his first hatchet job for Stalin. Germany's Communist party had become too big and independent. Ulbricht chopped it into cells which Moscow could control easily and so earned the name "Comrade Cell."

Since those turbulent days, Ulbricht has done many hatchet jobs and survived numerous purges and upheavals.

He was in exile in the Soviet Union during the Nazi era. Stalin sent him back to Germany in 1949 in the uniform of a Soviet army colonel.

GAINS POWER

Since then, the spade-bearded former cabinetmaker has risen to become the boss of the East German Communist party, and the dictator of East Germany.

Sunday, Ulbricht celebrates his 70th birthday and Khrushchev will be in East Berlin for the event. At least the Communists say that is the purpose of Khrushchev's visit.

It is no secret in the West that Khrushchev is more than unhappy with Ulbricht, who rules 17 million Germans with the terror tactics of Stalin.

Soviet diplomats, in unguarded moments, condemn Ulbricht for failure to turn East Germany into a valuable satellite.

Since 1953, when the East Germans revolted unsuccessfully and surged through the country crying "death to the spade beard," the Ulbricht regime has registered nothing but failures. Heavy industry was built rapidly but production never reached government goals. Collectivized farms have failed to provide enough food to do away with rationing.

K's REASONING

Khrushchev may fear that grumbling among East Germans could become something more serious because of President Kennedy's visit to West Berlin. That, last 10 years, he has destroyed systematically all who dared to voice opposition. At least 11 former cronies were kicked out of the party. One shot himself and at least one other was jailed.

The Soviets know full well that Ulbricht is incapable of ruling East Germany without Soviet guns. But they also know he will blindly follow Kremlin orders.

Ulbricht has insured himself against such a possibility. For the not do so readily.

Many of the more elegant boutiques in the smarter shopping districts carry such names as "charming" and "pretty." Householders flock to the new American-style supermarkets.

And in bars many a native will order a whiskey while the English-speaking tourist next to him will insist on a strictly Italian drink.

Italy Becomes Americanized

ROME (AP)—In the prosperous Italy of today, things English and American have become status symbols.

The Soviets know full well that Ulbricht is incapable of ruling East Germany without Soviet guns. But they also know he will blindly follow Kremlin orders.

Ulbricht has insured himself against such a possibility. For the not do so readily.

Quiet Students Excel

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Quiet students did the best work in a test project at the University of California — and couldn't believe it. The most vocal students performed the poorest work, yet thought that they were doing the best.

Farm Dangers Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Summer and early fall are the times of danger on the farm, say Ohio State University extension specialists. The accidental death rate in these times in Ohio has been 42 per cent higher than during the other times of the year.

Employment in banking in the United States is expected to reach one million by 1975.

GIGGLING GERTRUDE

Hatbox Unites U.S. Tourists

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A pink hatbox from a local store brought about a meeting of 25 St. Petersburg women thousands of miles from home.

Liz Morrison spied a familiar-looking box in a hotel lobby in Cologne, Germany.

Tracking down its owner, she found it belonged to Lorna Carroll, who was also touring Europe on vacation.

City's Relics Remain

WICKLIFF, Ky. (AP)—Within sight of the point where the Mississippi and the Ohio rivers join is the remains of a city created by prehistoric Indians. The buried city is on a high bluff and is open to the public.

Better Lay It on the Line

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 30, married and nothing special to look at. I've been called the "wholesome" type. Last week my husband and I were playing bridge in the home of another couple.

My husband went out to our car to get something, and the other woman went into the kitchen and, without warning, the husband grabbed me, held me close and tried to kiss me! I was shocked but managed to cover up without making a scene. I thought I made it plain that I did not go in for that sort of thing. Last night we four went to a movie.

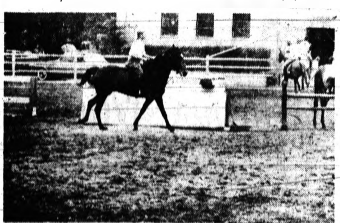

While walking down the dark aisle, I felt someone pinch me — but good! I thought it was my husband at first, but soon discovered it was this man again. I did not invite these advances and don't like it.

How can I let him know how I feel without hurting his wife?

THE WHOLESOME TYPE
DEAR WHOLESOME: He knows how you FEEL—you have to let him know how you THINK. When you have about 20 seconds alone with him tell him if he doesn't cut out the monkey business you'll tell his wife. And if your husband is bigger than he is—tell him you'll tell your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Last week

There are knights on horseback on the chessboard and people on horseback in the background. Members of the Oakland University Chess Club challenged visitors at the Detroit Horse Show to a game as a money-raising project for the scholarship fund. Karen Rouse, Center Line, and Dick Jackson, Ruskob Avenue, concentrate on their game, oblivious to the riders near them.

my 17-year-old son went to a doctor because of a skin condition. He is supposed to go again next week, but he refuses.

My husband finally got it out of him. It seems that the doctor wanted him to have a lamp treatment. He had to lie under some lamps for about ten minutes without any clothes on at all. The nurse was in the room the whole time.

He was terribly embarrassed by this because the nurse was about 25. So that's why he refuses to go back. I think we should call the doctor and ask him if he can't give the treatment himself from now on.

My husband says our son is just being stubborn and we should make him go. He said the doctor will think we are crazy if we call and ask him to change the way he does things in his office. We three have been fighting over this all week. What do you think?

A YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Call the doctor and explain. He'll understand.

Guests Pay to See Film of Vacation

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My husband and I have just recently returned home from a trip around the world. During this trip, my husband took some excellent color moving pictures.

Many of our friends have expressed a wish to see them. Since I am very much interested in a boy's club here, the thought occurred to me that perhaps it would be a good idea to ask all of our friends and neighbors to come in on a certain afternoon, or evening, and charge admission—the proceeds to go to the boy's club. Before going ahead with the idea, I would like to know whether or not you think it would be proper.

A: If it is possible to show the moving pictures at the club and have one of the boys receive the admissions at the door, it would be entirely proper to do so. But even for such a worthy cause, it would be in poor taste to charge admission in your own house.

Q: The wife of the superintendent of our building recently had a baby. As they do not have too much money, one of the tenants suggested that we all contribute a sum of money and give it to her as a gift with which to buy something for the baby. All the tenants are in accord with the idea but before giving it, we would like to know if it would be proper.

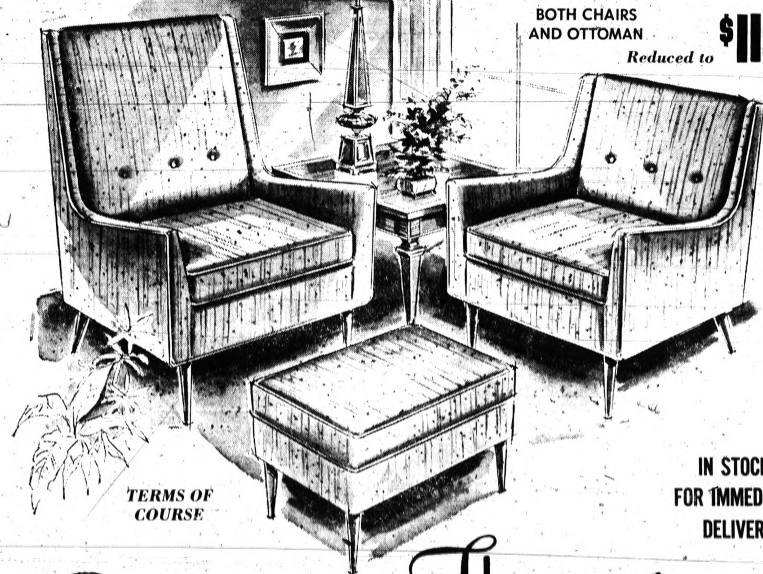

A: It will be entirely proper.

You Can Make Own Place Mat Pads

BY KAY SHERWOOD

Table linens are cherished in the bride's hope chest, and are the pride of the homemaker's linen closet. Paper is great, plastic is practical, but there are occasions when neither will do; linen (or organdy or fine cotton or lace) is required to set the table with a flourish.

A quick glance at the new and exciting shapes of fabric

PAUL C. MALONEY

Paul C. Maloney, son of the Harold Maloney, Carter Street, was recently graduated from the University of Michigan with a masters degree in Near Eastern Studies. He will begin teaching at Vennard College, University Park, Iowa, in the fall.

place mats is enough to convince the doubter that substitutes and synthetics have not prolonged natural fiber. (After prolonged use of the "wipe-clean" place mats, it is a positive pleasure to use mats that can be tossed in the washer and sundried clean.)

The bride or homemaker replenishing her linens may try leaf-shaped mats, wedge-shaped, scalloped, oval, or fruit or flower-shaped mats. There are those with fine cut-work and embroidery or colorful appliques. Many of us stitch our own from interesting fabrics bought by the yard.

I like to pad place mats as well as tablecloths, to cut down clutter and to protect the table surface. But an undepared for the unusually shaped mat is hard to find—I would say impossible, from personal experience.

Recently I ran across an easy solution. This is a urethane foam, dinette-size table pad (54 x 54 inches), with a plasticized top. About 12 individual place mat pads may be cut from this sheet because it is flexible and unbound.

The best method for making the pads is to draw a brown paper pattern of the table mat. Trim it to about 1/4-inch less than the true mat dimensions. Outline pattern on plastic side of the urethane foam-backed pad, and cut out.

For mats with organdy borders or openwork edges, size the pad small enough so that wood graining of the table shows through.

A folding raincoat is not a sassy bag. Tiny accordion pleats skillfully add texture in motion and help this Bonnie Cashin nylon taffeta all-weather coat fold into a handy travel size. About $35. Available locally.

Vacation? Protect Home

What comes to your mind when you think of summer: soaring temperatures, children home from school? Talk to Pontiac Police Capt. George T. Scott, and you'll get an entirely different picture.

Summer is the time for burglaries and thefts, according to Scott. He credits the increase of these crimes to summer vacationers who get so wrapped up in their plans that they forget to take a few simple safety precautions.

The promise of exciting places added to the hustle and bustle of vacation planning are often enough to cause even the most conscientious homeowner to neglect what would otherwise be commonplace safeguards, he said.

Scott advised a safety checklist for homeowners planning vacation trips and suggested that the first item be a call to the local police station.

Tell them when you are leaving and how long you'll be gone so that a checker watch may be made on your home during this time.

The most obvious precautions are the ones most often neglected, so a special warning was issued asking homeowners to securely lock all windows and doors, especially those in the basement and garage.

TRUST FRIENDS

Leave home and garage keys with a trusted friend or neighbor. Give this person a detailed outline of your vacation schedule and advise how you may be reached in an emergency. This same information—and the name and address of the neighbor—should be given to police.

"Never, never leave any keys on the porch or under a mat," Scott warned. "Burglars and other intruders are smart — they'll search around, find the key and then they're in business."

The use of a light or two in an empty house is also a good idea, since a continually unlit home draws attention. An automatic timer is especially convenient and may be purchased at local stores for under $10. The location of each light should be given to police.

If you're lucky enough to take an extended trip and arrange for someone to cut and water the lawn weekly. Newspapers and dairy orders should be discontinued and the postal department advised to hold your mail.

It might also be wise to have your phone disconnected and, while you're at it, have your furnace checked up. Be certain, too, that no packages will be delivered to your home, or ask a neighbor to hold any until your return.

Window shades and blinds should be left in their normal position. A house that appears closed up for any length of time looks suspicious.

And, says Scott, don't ask someone to check your home or make repairs while you're away without first notifying the police. "Sometimes, vacationers arrange to have their homes painted at this time, but forget to tell us about it."

"First thing you know, we pick up the man as an intruder and bring him down to the station for questioning. A lot of unnecessary embarrassment can be avoided if we just know beforehand that someone will be coming in."

Scott summed up by saying: "Make sure the house looks lived in. A week's collection of newspapers, milk bottles and other debris are signs that attract burglars."

The Michigan Animal Rescue League adds a final note: Don't forget about your pets when you go on vacation. The kindest thing to do, according to a league spokesman, is to board the animal out in a recognized and licensed kennel.

Although this is more expensive than leaving your dog or cat with a neighbor — boarding costs average $1.50 per day — it is cheaper in the long run because "at least then you can be certain that your pet is being given supervised and knowledgeable care every day."

Animals are creatures of habit, says the league, and their routines should not be broken. It may be better to leave an animal in its own environment, but only if a responsible person is left in charge.

Can Fashionable House Bring Happiness?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: We have a chance to move from a very modest little house in an average neighborhood to a lovely furnished home in a very fashionable part of the city. That doesn't sound like a problem, does it? But I'm wondering if it might be.

MARY FEELEY

My husband's uncle owns the house, but doesn't live there. He has generously offered it to us for the same rent we're paying now. However, I'm wondering what such a move will do to our finances. Even though the rent will be the same, we won't be able to keep up with the Joneses!

We can't afford to join the country club most of the neighbors belong to. I'm worried that our two children, ages 7 and 10, will be unhappy because they won't have the things the other children have.

And, I'm wondering if I'll be tempted to splurge on clothes to compete with my new neighbors! Do you think such a move is advisable?

Mrs. R. D., Dallas

Dear Mrs. D.: I think you're afraid of money. Don't be. The dollar difference between you and your prospective neighbors is making you timid. Why should it?

Look at it this way: a beautiful home in attractive surroundings will be emotionally satisfying to the whole family. Your rent is due to your own housework, as many an affluent woman does these days just because she prefers to. Your food bill will stay within its present limits.

Your children can be dressed simply in inexpensive washables — the only proper way to dress children under any circumstances. You dress accordingly. Simply styled washables are high fashion today. An outfit that's well fitted and spanking fresh can compete anywhere. And if your well-dressed neighbors put you on your mettle about keeping meticulously groomed, then hooray for them.

As for feeling you have to join the expensive club, you don't. Did you know many wealthy people don't join clubs simply because they don't enjoy rolling around the clubhouse or walking the golf course? As for entertaining in your new home, you'll be able to do that too. Just do it simply.

Probably your most expensive departure from the present budget would be the cost of liquor. So you'll have to save a bit for the pleasure of giving a party.

The important change such a move will involve, Mrs. D., is a change in your attitude. If you can't make that adjustment, then don't attempt the move. Talk it over with your husband, but don't make a flurry about it before the children.

Let them move from one happy home into another. And it won't harm them to learn early in life that they don't need to have everything some other child has in order to be happy.

Caldwell-Lowes

Couple Speaks Vows

Rev. Arnold Hashman officiated at the marriage of Paula May Lowes to Jerry Charles Caldwell Saturday evening in the First Assembly of God Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Lowes, Gingell Court, and the Joseph Caldwell of Cheeseman Street.

White Chantilly lace over satin fashioned the bride's floor-length gown worn with silk tulle veil. She held white roses and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Carrie McInnis, matron of honor, donned blue-tipped white corsage and wore blue chiffon as did the bride's sister Paty and Susan McNulty, South Lyon, bridesmaids. They held pink and white carnations. Pandora Lowes was flower girl.

Best man was Larry Appleton. The bride's uncle, Carl Lowes, ushered with Raymond Horton. John Ellison and Robert Spivey assisted.

After the reception in First Federal Savings of Oakland Club rooms, the couple left for Niagara Falls, Ont.

Furniture for Oldster
in Demand

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grandparents need more furniture exclusively designed for them.

Contemporary chairs, beds and tables are likely to be designed for eye appeal to a younger generation. Many do not meet the special needs of older people for comfort and utility, said Julius Greengoss, president of Morton Textiles and Furniture, a firm specializing in furnishing nursing homes for the aged.

The demand for such furniture is substantial, since there are 21 million Americans over 62 and 400,000 more who move into that age group every year.

In furnishing nursing homes one of the biggest headaches is finding useful and cheerful furniture "since nursing homes are designed not as hospitals but as places for oldsters to live," Greengoss said.

"It's easy to find decorative chairs, but next to impossible to find comfortable chairs that oldsters can get in and out of with ease," he said.

The older group does not have "the strength or agility of younger men and women," Greengoss said, but is expected "to climb in and out of low lounge chairs whose contours are a challenge to an athlete."

The need is for a comfortable lounge chair, one that is not too low and whose seat tilts down to provide a ready footrest. Arms ought to be substantial enough for leverage, he said, and the chair should have a high enough back for adequate support.

 Summer time is salad time. Today's recipe is for a molded Waldorf salad.

With modern methods of storage, we have apples the year around.

Mrs. Daniel L. Carmichael is today's cook. Our thanks to her for sending in her recipe.

CREAM WALDORF SALAD

By Mrs. Daniel L. Carmichael

1 package lemon gelatin
 1 cup boiling water
 1/4 cup lemon juice

1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 cup chopped nuts
 1 cup evaporated milk
 1/2 cup chopped celery
 1 cup chopped unpeeled apple

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Cool. Stir in milk, lemon juice and salt. When mixture is slightly thickened add celery, apples and nuts. Chill until firm.

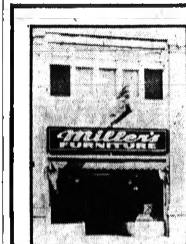

This is especially colorful if deep green pascal celery and dark red apples are used. Bits of maraschino cherries can be added for more color. Serves six.

Hertel-Rosenberry
 Rev. and Mrs. William A. Hertel, wed recently in the Edgerton Methodist Church, Edgerton, Ohio, will live in Allen, Mich., following a Kentucky honeymoon.

They exchanged vows before Rev. James Deeg of Pontiac and Rev. Robert Ash of Edgerton.

The former Janet Ann Rosenberry is the daughter of the Wayne A. Rosenberys of Edgerton. Her husband's parents are the Hugo Hertels, North Perry Street.

The bride's princess-line gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace over tulle swept into a chapel train. She wore an illusion veil with pearls and carried white carnations and Stephanotis with her Rainbow Maid.

SISTER IS HONOR MAID

Pink carnations complemented lavender brocaded tulle dresses for Karen Rosenberry, her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids Elaine Hertel, the bridegroom's sister, and Elaine Norzger, Archbold, Ohio.

The bride's twin cousins Beth Ann and Ruth Ann Alexander were flower girls and Shirley Kimpel lit the candles.

John Waller, Lafayette, Ind., was best man and Carl Houserman and Lavon Kerner, ushered.

The couple are graduates of Adrian College. Rev. Hertel is attending Garrett Theological Seminary and is pastor of the Allen Methodist Church.

State Negro Bears Witness to His Discontent

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Who speaks for Michigan's Negroes? Will the massive Negro demonstration in Detroit a week ago have a lasting impact? The following sketches the background of the personalities and organizations bidding for the allegiance of the 9.7 per cent of Michigan's population who are Negro.)

By The Associated Press
A new, first wave of racial demonstrations is sweeping southern lower Michigan.

From Port Huron on the east to Muskegon on the west, the wave has drawn into its ranks the poor and the powerful.

Saturday, though uninvited, Gov. George Romney lent his stature to the movement in sweat-soaked shirtsleeves alongside political enemies in a protest against what Negroes consider housing discrimination in Detroit's opulent suburbs.

Of the more than 717,000 Negroes living in Michigan, nearly one in five has felt moved in the past two weeks to get out into the streets and bear witness to his own discontent or his sympathy with his racial counterparts in the Deep South.

Most of these Negroes look first for leadership either to their own upper classes or to their churches. The former is symbolized in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The Detroit Council for Human Relations is the strongest voice of the latter.

Michigan's NAACP, with about 35,000 paid members in the state, has a years-long record of steady, methodical achievement. Its appeal is to reason and its basic approach is through law. Its leader is an attorney.

The Detroit Council, whose uncounted supporters have as yet no regular dues scheme or organizational structure, was born in a church last spring.

Its appeal is to the hearts of the masses, especially the young. Its leader is a preacher.

PRODUCTS OF SOUTH

These two men are products of the South. Detroit attorney Edward M. Turner was born 56 years ago in Little Rock, the son of a pharmacist. The Rev. C. L. Franklin, 45, was born on Mississippi farmland, the son of a sharecropper.

Turner sprang into prominence in the early 1930's when he won from an all-white jury one of the first convictions under the Michigan Public Accommodation Law. He has been president of the Detroit NAACP for 13 years, state president for 12 years and last fall was elected to the NAACP national board.

The Rev. Mr. Franklin gained popularity among Negroes on a regional scale when, 10 years ago, a Nashville radio station began beaming his sermons into 20 states. The broadcasts now claim an audience of millions of loyal listeners.

Turner, light-skinned, calm and tireless, waited tables for white diners to earn his way through the University of Michigan and the Detroit College of Law.

The Rev. Mr. Franklin, dark-skinned, an evangelist, earned a high school diploma in Mississippi and studied, mostly theology, at several college-level institutions.

The long-standing NAACP attack on discrimination in all forms of social life has not changed in direction, but has taken on a new vigor, due in part to the intensification of the South's racial crisis and possibly in part to the council's challenge to established Negro leadership.

UNKNOWN PROGRAM

The council's program is unknown today. The Rev. Mr. Franklin has announced only that the "walk to freedom" will be an annual affair. In last month's "walk," Rev. Mr. Franklin knows he holds a powerful hand.

He asked Negroes to march down Woodward Avenue in Detroit, and 120,000 answered the call in the biggest demonstration of its kind in the nation's history.

Unlike the self-disciplined NAACP parades, sometimes on unfriendly streets with out-pulse consent, the council's "walk" June 23 relied in part on police for discipline.

In one case, a marcher refused to obey a council official and a policeman intervened to get the demonstrator to destroy an inflammatory picket sign.

The Rev. Mr. Franklin considers the "walk" turnout as a

Soapy Officially Opens U. S. Embassy in Africa

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Former Michigan Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams officially opened the new U.S. Embassy building in this Central African republic yesterday. William S. U.S. under secretary of state for African affairs, is on a tour of Africa.

Attending the ceremony were President Leon M'Ba and many other high-ranking officials of Gabon, which formerly was a part of French Equatorial Africa.

"mandate from the masses." After a week's drafting, he intends to present a plan of action in his new Bethel Baptist church tomorrow night.

The NAACP has publicized its contempt for the Black Muslim movement, which took form in Detroit more than 30 years ago. The NAACP's ideals of equality and integration cannot coexist with Muslim black supremacy and the Muslim dream of an American Negro nation.

The Rev. Mr. Franklin says the council "shares some of the beliefs of the Black Muslims, but not their nationalism. I do not believe in black supremacy any more than I believe in white supremacy."

Other effective Negro interest groups include the Urban League, a professional social service agency; the Congress of Racial Equality, which recruits mostly collegeians; the Trade Union Leadership Council, which concentrates on employment reform; and the black clubs, fraternal, social and professional organizations.

But it appears competition for interaction between the chief fountainheads of Negro leadership, the council and the NAACP, will give emphasis and direction to the Michigan Negro's new mood of discontent.

Rights Group 'Will Be Ready'

Comes Into Being
With Constitution

GROSSE POINTE (AP)—Gov. George Romney says Michigan's new Civil Rights Commission will be ready to operate as soon as the state's new constitution takes effect next Jan. 1.

Romney made the promise to antidiscrimination marches here Saturday — he was one of the marchers — in calling the constitution's civil rights clause the "clearest, strongest and completest" of any in the United States.

"The elimination of human inequalities and injustices is our most urgent and critical domestic problem," Romney said.

He is now in the process of selecting members of the commission. Romney deplored housing discrimination. He said it has been "excessive." He said "some of it practiced in this particular part of the state is particularly reprehensible."

A "points system" used by some real estate interests in grading prospective home buyers in the Pontiac communities on the basis of race, color, nationality, family background and other factors has been a subject of controversy.

An attorney general's ruling to outlaw the practice was thrown out by the state supreme court on technical grounds. The court held this to be a legislative matter outside jurisdiction of a state agency.

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Nepal today suspended all internal airline flights for the duration of the rainy season—three months—because of four flooded airfields.

Fifty villages have been flooded in the south foothills of the Himalayas and more than 6,000 persons have had to abandon their homes.

Magnate Found Dead

UDDEVALLA, Sweden (AP)—Gustaf Thorden, 69, former Swedish shipping magnate, was found dead Sunday in water off this west coast town. The Swedish News Agency said Thorden had been on a sailing trip with three friends and dropped anchor for the night near the fishing village of Grönby. When the friends awakened Sunday morning Thorden was missing.

The Scottish Blackface Highland sheep was once called the "col," and it's believed that the name was passed on to the colts dogs which were used to herd the flocks.

Through Suburbs

Plan More Marches

DETROIT (UPI)—Negro leaders laid plans today for another integration march through the Detroit suburbs like the one Gov. George Romney led last Saturday.

An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said he didn't know if Romney would attend the next march through Redford Township Saturday but admitted "we'd like to have him again."

Romney led a bi-racial parade of demonstrators through the streets of the plush suburbs of Grosse Pointe and Grosse Pointe Farms last Saturday.

Romney, who had been censured by Negro leaders for not attending a giant June 23 "walk to freedom" that drew 125,000 persons in protest of discrimination, made a surprise appearance at the demonstration in the Pointes.

The Detroit Council on Human Rights, which sponsored the large demonstration, said last week it would unveil to the public tomorrow night a blueprint for future action by the recently formed group.

At the rally that followed the DCHR demonstration, two personal representatives of the governor were soundly booed when they tried to read his message. Romney was absent because his ironclad religious beliefs preclude appearances at anything but functions of his church on Sundays.

At Saturday's demonstration, Romney told the crowd that the racial issue was one of the most vital facing the nation.

"Until it is eliminated," he said, "our words will have a hollow and hypocritical sound to the people of the world."

Edward Turner, president of the Detroit Chapter of the NAACP, said his organization was gratified by the governor's surprise visit.

TO HIT REDFORD
Abraham Ulmer, chairman of the NAACP housing committee, pegged Redford as the third target of the marchers who the week before demonstrated in Dearborn.

He said he had intended to ask

July 4 Traffic Likely to Take Lives of 650

CHICAGO (UPI)—Within four days, the bloody slaughter of the Fourth of July weekend begins and the National Safety Council estimates that 550 to 650 persons will be killed in traffic accidents.

The 102-hour holiday weekend, begins at 6 a.m. local time July 3 and ends at midnight July 7.

"With the Fourth of July historically more dangerous," Safety Council President Howard Pyle said, "it calls for extra caution by all of us to hold the number of fatalities to the lower side of the estimate."

He noted the Memorial Day weekend toll of 525 killed last month set a record for a 102-hour holiday period.

The previous high for a 102-hour Independence Day holiday period was in 1961 when 509 persons were killed in traffic and 415 lost their lives in other types of accidents.

The worst holiday toll in history was the "Black Christmas" of 1956 when 706 persons died.

Pyle said drunk driving, speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road and failure to yield the right-of-way account for nearly three-fourths of all traffic accidents.

Science Today

New Term Sought for Mental Health

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — Social scientists greatly need a truly descriptive term for mental health now that most of them describe mental illness as mental health.

This confuses both scientists and the public, said Prof. Andie L. Knutson of the University of California, Berkeley, in calling for a new scientific effort to find out precisely what mental health is. Social sciences have yet to define it in terms acceptable to all scientists.

"The term 'mental health' is rapidly replacing 'mental illness' in lay and professional vocabularies," he said.

"We include among the mental health professions those concerned with mental disorders, and refer to resources available to those with mental or emotional problems as mental health clinics as mental health facilities.

"One sees reference to 'the problems of mental health' and even to 'the prevention of mental health' by outstanding experts who get their words jumbled. Many of us have difficulty avoiding such slips."

There is now no truly satisfactory term with which to describe the absence of illness or the goal of good health, said Dr. Knutson. The phrase, "positive mental health" which was initially used to refer to the development of creativity and self-actualization, is now being employed as a synonym for mental health," he continued.

But it also is used to mean prevention of mental illness and to cover techniques to cut down on the number of people with mental disorders.

"The public implications of this switch in technical jargon are most interesting. It would be folly, for example, to assume that mental health clinics serve, or can effectively serve as primary public resources for persons who seek assistance in developing their creative potentialities."

The social sciences need both a descriptive term of the goal of such persons and the knowledge with which to help them to reach the goal, he said in appealing through a technical organ of the American Psychological Association for large-scale research.

"Many people want and seek counseling, evaluation or guidance for themselves or their children not because they are concerned with illness or potential illness, but because they wish to enjoy a more abundant life," he said.

BOUND BY TERMS

Psychologists and other social scientists are bound in their creative research by the old terms, such as "positive mental health," and a new term would liberate them for an imaginative search for ways of advancing human creativity and self-realization.

The new term for mental health should "at once retain the good will and enthusiastic participation of members of the mental health profession and their medical, health and welfare, colleagues, and yet effectively elicit the involvement of members of other social sciences, the humanities, education, religion and philosophy."

He confessed that his "own level of creativity" was not high enough for the task. He reminded that a truly descriptive term had been invented eight years ago but failed to attract any professional acceptance. The term is "interpersonal competence." Clearly psychologists will have to improve on that, he said.

Guard Convoys to Invade Area

Oakland County will be "invaded" next Saturday when Michigan National Guard convoys rumble through on the way to Camp Grayling for two weeks of summer training.

Area motorists are advised to be especially careful during the hours of the troop movement, a.m. until 3 p.m.

Trucks and jeeps will pass through cities and villages almost bumper to bumper while police hold up traffic. Vehicles will spread apart on the open highway, but civilian motorists should exercise caution in passing or changing lanes.

Convoys will pass through the Pontiac area on highways M-150, M-59, Interstate-96 and US-10.

Pontiac's own Company A, Second Battalion, 125th Infantry, will be part of the movement. Its 126 men, commanded by Capt. Robert G. Garland, form the largest rifle company in the state guard.

Company A will depart from its armory at Water and Mill. Return of the more than 2,000 Detroit-area Guardsmen will be during the same hours on July 20, following the two weeks annual training.

Wants FBI Men to Lay Off

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sam (Mooney) Giancana, a balding international playboy considered a top dog in the Chicago crime syndicate, had to shrug his shoulders today and accept his entourage of G-men as an occupation hazard.

Giancana's attorney begged Federal District Court Judge Richard B. Austin to call off the unwelcome string of Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) agents who follow Giancana around.

Austin refused, despite an impassioned plea that the G-Men were ruining Giancana's social life, making his golf game go to pot and ridiculing him in front of friends and neighbors in suburban Oak Park.

"How would you like it if you were on the 10th hole trying to sink a putt and there were six FBI agents watching you?" attorney George N. Leighton asked.

JUDGE ONLY HAD FOUR

Austin, who once was Democratic candidate for governor and had police guard, said, "I don't know — I only had four watching me."

Leighton said Giancana was being denied the right of "simple living in the privacy of his home, the most sacred right on God's earth."

Cars of FBI agents clog the street in front of Giancana's home, Leighton said, and visitors are scolded about associating with the reputed syndicate kingpin.

Things have sunk so low, the attorney said, that Giancana has had to hire professional cameramen to take pictures of FBI cameramen who are taking pictures of Giancana.

Leighton said the agents told Giancana "you're going to have us with you forever."

WON'T INTERFERE

"There will never be a time when I will interfere with a federal officer in the performance of duty," he said.

But he said he would give the FBI until July 12 to decide whether it positively had to follow Giancana around day and night.

Giancana's civil rights suit named FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover and chief Chicago agent Martin W. Johnson as defendants.

It was the first time in memory that a Chicago mobster asked the federal courts to make federal agents lay off.

The Mirror Cracked

Marina Won't Explain Look of Fear

STORY BY FAN — Marina Gregg, beautiful woman and stage star, said her husband, Jason, had been a "bad boy" when they first met. She said she had been a "bad girl" when they first met. She said she had been a "bad girl" when they first met. She said she had been a "bad girl" when they first met.

A joke that had somehow gone wrong, that had proved dangerous, done by a person who never dreamed that it would be dangerous.

There was a slight question in his voice, then he shook his head. "No. I see that idea doesn't appeal to you."

"There's one more thing I should like to ask you," said Dermot Craddock. "You remember Mr. and Mrs. Badcock's arrival, of course. They came immediately after the Vicar."

"You greeted them, I understand, Miss Gregg, in the same charming way as you have received all your guests? But I am told by an eye witness that immediately after greeting them you looked over Mrs. Badcock's shoulder and that you saw something which seemed to alarm you. Is that true, and if so, what was it?"

DENIES ALARM Marina said quickly, "of course it isn't true. Alarm me? What should have alarmed me?"

"That's what we want to know," said Dermot Craddock. "My witness is very insistent on the point, you know."

"Who was your witness? What did he or she say they saw?" "You are looking at the staircase," said Dermot Craddock. "There were people coming up that staircase."

"There was a journalist, there was Mr. Grice and his wife, elderly residents in this place, there was Mr. Ardwyck Fenn who had just arrived from the states, and there was Miss Lola Brewster."

"Was it the sight of one of those people that upset you, Miss Gregg?"

"I tell you I wasn't upset. She almost barked the words. "And yet your attention was attracted from greeting Mrs. Badcock. She had said something to you which you left unanswered because you were staring past her at something else."

Marina Gregg took a hold on

"Just tiredness," said Dermot Craddock slowly. "You insist on that, Miss Gregg?"

"Yes I do. I can't see why you don't believe me."

Dermot Craddock turned towards Jason Rudd. "Mr. Rudd," he said, "I think you're more likely to understand my meaning than your wife is."

"I am concerned, very much concerned for your wife's safety. There has been an attempt on her life, there have been threatening letters."

"That means, doesn't it, that there is someone who has been on the day of the fete and possibly is still here, someone in very close touch with this house and what goes on in it."

"That person, whoever it is, may be slightly insane. It's not just a question of threats."

"That's the same goes for women. But whoever it was didn't stop at threats."

"A deliberate attempt was made to poison Miss Gregg. Don't you see in the whole nature of things, that the attempt is bound to be repeated?"

"There's only one way to achieve safety. That is to give me all the clues you possibly can. I don't say that you know who that person is, but I think that you must be able to give a guess or to have a vague idea. Won't you tell me the truth? Or if, which is possible you yourself do not know the truth, won't you urge your wife to do so."

"It's in the interests of her own safety that I'm asking you."

Jason Rudd turned his head slowly. "You hear what inspector Craddock says, Marina," he said.

"It's possible, as he says, that you may know something that I do not. If so, for God's sake, don't be foolish about it. If you've got the faintest suspicion of anyone, tell it to us now."

"But I haven't." Her voice rose in a wail. "You must believe me."

Planners Will Meet on Monday

The July meeting of the Pontiac Planning Commission will be held two days earlier than usual due to the July 4 holiday.

Planners will meet at 8 p.m. today in the City Commission meeting chambers at City Hall. Normally, planning commission meetings are the first Wednesday of each month.

Five items are scheduled for action on tonight's agenda. A public hearing will be held on a request to manufacturing an area 300 feet north of 986 Oakland for an auto parts establishment.

Planners will also consider requests to vacate an alley north of West Huron from Lincoln to Thorpwood and delete part of Anson Perry Park from the land marked for park purposes in Pontiac's General Development Plan.

Two ordinances will be given final approval by planners prior to public hearings scheduled for them at City Commission meetings the next week.

One would create a civic-center zoning district and the other would rezone to commercial three residential lots on East Columbia.

Storms Hit Japan, Kill 18, Injure 28

TOKYO (AP) — The death toll from a weekend wave of landslides and rainstorms in southern Japan has mounted to 18, with 28 injured and 14 missing, National Police said today.

Downpours yesterday flooded 31,670 homes in two southern states alone, police said, causing 233 landslides and huge crop destruction. Property damage was estimated in tens of millions of dollars.

59 Collegians Travel to Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — Fifty-nine American college students, dying a U.S. ban on travel to Cuba, flew here from Czechoslovakia yesterday in hopes of meeting Premier Fidel Castro.

They ignored State Department warnings of possible five-year prison sentences and up to $5,000 fines and went more than 8,000 miles out of their way to make the trip.

Group leader Levi Laub, of Columbia University, said the students will spend a month in Cuba as guests of the Cuban Institute for Friendship Among Peoples (ICAP).

He said they had no political motives for the trip and merely wanted to "see what's taking place on this island." He said the students are not carrying any money, and they are not carrying any weapons, and they are not carrying any other items.

The students arrived aboard a Cubana Airlines plane from Prague for the visit, which is being paid for by the Cuban government.

They were welcomed at the airport by student union leaders of Havana University and Robert Williams, former official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), currently a fugitive from a kidnapping charge stemming from a racial clash in Monroe, N.C.

Most of the students are from New York and the San Francisco Bay area. They flew to Prague in two separate flights via London and Amsterdam.

The U.S. State Department issued formal warnings of the students in London and Amsterdam, that they face possible prosecution on return to the United States.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Both routes of early westward expansion in the United States passed through Kentucky. One was the flatboat route down the Ohio River. The other was the Wilderness Road path through Cumberland Gap in southeastern Kentucky.

Junior Editors Quiz on WOOD

QUESTION: Why is balsa wood so light?

ANSWER: The balsa tree grows in southern Mexico and South America (A). When first cut the logs are heavy with sap, but as it dries out the wood becomes extremely light, twice as light as cork. This is because air fills the cells when dry.

A man can carry an amazing amount of this dried out balsa on his shoulder (2). Also because of the air in its cells balsa is extremely buoyant. We show the famous raft Kon Tiki (3) made of balsa logs, which drifted from the coast of Chile to the South Seas.

Balsa is a wonderful material for making model airplanes and boats because it cuts so easily and is so smooth. Billy has made a simple, but good looking, plane from strips of balsa which he cut out according to a plan he bought. He has cemented the balsa pieces together.

As he gets more expert, he will cover the balsa with light but tough tissue paper, sprinkled with water to dry out the wrinkles. Then he'll apply two coats of the quick drying liquid called "dope," giving a very realistic surface.

Try making a balsa wood plane or boat. You can get fine kits including the materials. Be sure you follow the directions carefully. Take your time and you'll get a better result.

FOR YOU TO DO: The voyage of the "Kon Tiki" was one of the strangest passages every made. You'll enjoy reading about it in the book "Kon Tiki" by Thor Heyerdahl.

Missile System Helps Avert Accidents

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—For eight horrible seconds the sleek, white rocket — instead of arching harmlessly over the Atlantic — veered sharply over the heart of the cape and aimed death and destruction toward the mainland.

At the end of those eight seconds, which seemed much longer, a range safety officer triggered a pair of "destruct" switches which blew the Minuteman "instant ICBM" into hundreds of fiery fragments, including tons of volatile solid propellant, into a "safety area," keeping damage at a minimum.

There were no injuries in the spectacular accident here last October.

A year and a half earlier an Atlas missile knifed into the sky in the first effort to orbit an unmanned space capsule.

"She looks like a good one," an observer remarked. Others thought so, too.

But an Air Force officer intently watching electronic indicators on an instrument panel knew better. The indicators told him the rocket was off course.

He felt the missile rise for a few more seconds, then triggered the switches which sent an electric impulse to an explosive package inside the Atlas.

Instantly, the mighty missile erupted in a ball of fire 15,000 feet in the air. Chunks of flaming debris showered to the ground, some falling on the blockhouse which protected missilemen at the launch site.

The space capsule was blasted free by a rocket escape system and was dropped undamaged into the ocean by parachute. There were no injuries.

That these two unsuccessful launchings were not further marred by deaths or injuries can be attributed in large measure to what scientists here call the prediction system.

The complex system provides the range safety officer, the man who must trigger the "destruct" switches if necessary, with information on where the missile would impact if fuel were to be cut off during powered flight.

The system also enables recovery forces to be on the way to the scene even before the nose cone impacts.

As the nation's pioneer launching site, the spaceport here helps train safety officers from other bases and scores of missilemen from operational bases and military schools pass through here for observation and training.

Safety officers work closely with the launch agencies. The launchers indicate what they would like to attain and then it is determined what can be done safely.

Charts are drawn covering the entire course of a planned launch. The charts show such things as distances from populated areas, islands along the route and emergency procedure.

Highway Toll Still on Rise

Eight Die in Crash of Bus and Two Cars

By United Press International
Eight persons were killed in a New Jersey accident in the worst of a series of weekend traffic accidents.

Four persons died in each of three different accidents. Six persons lost their lives in two others.

In the New Jersey accident, a bus and two cars collided on rain-swept Route 3 at Rutherford early Saturday. The bus was en route from the Port Authority Terminal in New York City to Paterson, N.J. Its driver, Wilbur Parker, 30, had been driving for the bus lines only two days.

Yesterday morning on Route 15 at Wharton, N.J., two cars collided, killing four persons. One car carried seven persons and four of them were killed.

Four young people were killed late Saturday night on an interstate highway near Indianapolis, Ind., when their speeding compact car slammed against a bridge rail and ended up in almost unrecognizable shape.

A pickup truck crashed into the rear of a large truck-trailer east of Baker, Calif., on "Notorious Baker Grade" Saturday and killed four persons.

Three members of one family died in a three-car crash near Salome, Ariz., Saturday when their car apparently crossed the center-line, collided head-on with a second car which then struck a third auto.

A drag race between two cars on Chicago's Dan Ryan Expressway ended in death for three persons, one an expectant mother.

Yugoslav Leaders Give Tito 4th Term

Yugoslavia's Communist Parliament has unanimously re-elected 71-year-old Marshal Tito president of Yugoslavia for a fourth and unlimited term.

The nation's new constitution allows Tito to serve for life unless he decides to step aside.

Troubles Ride With Boone's 'Frontiersmen'

BOONE, N. C. (UPI) — A 24-unit wagon train following Daniel Boone's trail through the Appalachian Mountains as part of a frontiersman celebration was busked this weekend. A gang of men fired rifles into the air and caused a near-stampede among the oxen and horses used to haul the wagons when the group halted for the night Saturday. Later a car roared through the camp, and two men jumped out and set two horses free.

The "frontiersmen," who took 52 hours to travel the 32 miles from Ferguson to Boone, sent out an emergency call for highway patrolmen, but the troublemakers had fled.

Kill Guerrillas in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (U) — President Ngo Dinh Diem's forces claimed they killed 172 Communist guerrillas in weekend ground and air strikes in the Mekong River Delta.

American military authorities said they had not made an on-the-spot count but believed the figure was correct.

Vietnamese officers said 110 Reds were killed yesterday when an armored column struck at guerrillas in Kien Phong province on the Plain of Reeds.

Fighter plane strikes Saturday killed 82 guerrillas, American sources said. Newsmen who flew to the area beside the Mekong River said they saw 20 bodies charred by napalm.

McAuliffe's Blast Wrecks Dressen's Strategy

Bengals Post 5-4 Triumph Over Angels

Bruton, Cash Also Connect for Homers; Regan Wins in Relief

DETROIT (AP)—Charlie Dressen, more than any recent Tiger manager, likes to play around with old-fashioned strategy — squeeze plays, the hit and run, stolen bases.

"Now you know the squeeze play sign, don't you?" Dressen said to Dick McAuliffe as the ninth inning started yesterday in a 5-4 game with the Los Angeles Angels.

"Sure," nodded McAuliffe and he grabbed his bat and headed for the plate.

"I just wanted to make sure because he'd be the front man on this," Dressen related later.

He was planning ahead. If McAuliffe gets on, he's a good bet to get to third with Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito coming up.

"Then we squeeze Mac in with the winning run," thought Dressen.

WHEELS SPIN

As the wheels were spinning, Julio Navarro loaded up and McAuliffe unloaded. He lined a homer off the facing of the upper deck in right and the Tigers were 5-4 winners before getting a chance to try Dressen's strategy.

"Yeah, I guess Navarro threw me a splitter," said McAuliffe. "They say he throws them. As the pitcher came in everyone on the bench was yelling at me to be loaded that one up. But I wasn't going to stand around and complain about it."

The victory was a good morale booster for the sagging Tigers. "It's like Christmas when we win one," said one Tiger and there was some noise in the clubhouse for a change.

The Tigers went into the game losers of 16 of 20 — 6 of their last 7 — and by the fourth were behind 4-0.

TIE SCORE

But with home run power and help from the Angel outfield that otherwise was performing miracles, the Tigers tied it up by the sixth.

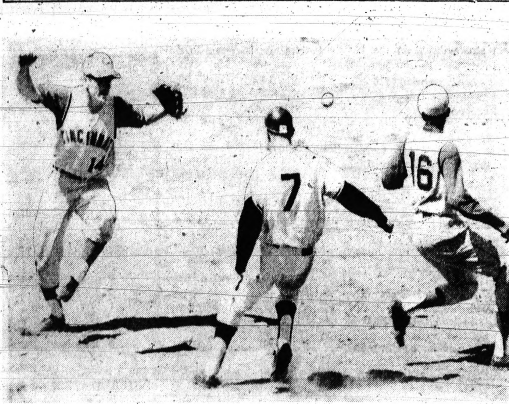

Norm Cash lofted a two-run homer in the fourth, cutting the Angels' lead to 4-2.

NO RELIEF

A walk, a ground out, and then reliever Dick Hall served a two-run single to Doc Edwards. The 3-1 loss was pinned on Roberts. The Orioles struggled 12 innings in the second game to win 4-3. The Yankees posted the Red Sox twice, 4-2 and 11-4, and may have buried any pennant hopes that lurked in the Boston breast. The double win gave the Yankees a two game American League lead, and dropped the Red Sox to second place.

The second place Chicago White Sox split, dropping the opener to the Cleveland Indians 8-4 for their third straight loss, before winning the second game 4-2.

The Minnesota Twins won their

ON WARPATH — San Francisco third baseman Harvey Kuenn (7) pulls a delayed steal of second on the Cincinnati Reds yesterday. The dirt around second looks like a warpath as Cincinnati's Pete Rose (14) and Leo Cardenas watch a high throw from catcher John Edwards' call into centerfield. The Giants won, 7-3.

Yankees' Lead Grows

Bosox Learn Lesson

By the Associated Press

If Robin Roberts will stop bobbing softly over in the corner, we will discuss what the Boston Red Sox learned over the weekend about how to beat the New York Yankees.

First, they learned that Yogi Berra's 186 batting average does not indicate that he can't hit any more.

Then they learned that you do not give the Yankees four outs in an inning. And you definitely do not give them five.

And Robin's problem? Well, Roberts has pitched in 373 major league games but the one he is likely to remember in the wee hours of the morning when sleep comes hard, is the first game of Sunday's Baltimore-Kansas City doubleheader.

Roberts went 13-13 in his 14th, a runner on second and the scored tied 1-1. Meanwhile, his Oriole mates had left 13 men on base.

A walk, a ground out, and then reliever Dick Hall served a two-run single to Doc Edwards. The 3-1 loss was pinned on Roberts. The Orioles struggled 12 innings in the second game to win 4-3.

The Yankees posted the Red Sox twice, 4-2 and 11-4, and may have buried any pennant hopes that lurked in the Boston breast. The double win gave the Yankees a two game American League lead, and dropped the Red Sox to second place.

The second place Chicago White Sox split, dropping the opener to the Cleveland Indians 8-4 for their third straight loss, before winning the second game 4-2.

The Minnesota Twins won their seventh straight, 6-2 over Washington, and Detroit trimmed the Los Angeles Angels 6-5.

Old Yogi, now 38 and used mostly as a coach and pinch hitter since the season, suggested a three-run homer in the first inning off Red Sox starter Bill Monbouquette for all the runs the Yankees needed.

The Red Sox got nine hits off Whiteford—who won his 12th and ninth straight decision—and reliever Hal Bessie who came on in the seventh. Monbouquette, who had won nine straight, and Arnold Earley held the Yanks to five.

Although the Red Sox stranded nine men in the first four innings of the second game, they had a 2-1 lead in the Yankee fourth. With the bases loaded, Boston first baseman Dick Stuart let Tony Kubek's two-out grounder go through his legs for a three-run, three-base error.

In the seventh, the Red Sox messed up a foul pop by Roger Maris, who promptly singled, and then Chuck Schilling made his second error of the season on a two-out grounder. Four runs followed.

The Yankees got seven unearned runs in the nightcap, while two-run homers by Max Alvis, MINNESOTA HELD ON TO THIRD SPOT, 2½ games back, as Camilo Pascual and Mike Fornieles teamed for the victory. Pascual left after three innings when his arm stiffened. He had not pitched since June 12 because of a muscle strain in his right shoulder, but he fanned five of the 10 batters he faced before he left. Jimmie Hall's three-run homer was the big blow. The Nats didn't get a hit until the seventh.

'Palmer' Rally Wins Tourney

Kathy Whitworth Nabs Ladies' Carvel Open

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Kathy Whitworth stole a page from Arnold Palmer and won the $10,000 Ladies PGA Carvel Open Golf Tournament by wiping out a seven stroke deficit in the last round Saturday. Palmer is noted for his come-from-behind finishes.

The 23-year-old lass from Jalisco, N.M., capped her garrison finish by sinking a four-foot putt for a par four on the last hole in the final round of the 54-hole tourney over the Tam O'Shanter Club course.

That gave her a one-under-par 71 for a 217 total to edge Marilyn Smith, of Tequesta, Fla., by one stroke for the first prize money of $1,350. Miss Smith had a final round 77.

Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa, leader after Friday's second round, still lead at 178 after 45 holes, but took a five-over-par 41 on the last nine for a final round of 80. That dropped her to third at 219.

Mickey Wright, the tour's top money winner from Dallas shot a 75 and finished in a tie for fourth at 220 with Marlene Hagge of Del Ray Beach, Fla., who posted a 74.

Pontiac Runner Wins Twice at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—A Detroit high school miss and a Central Michigan University collegian dominated the first in a series of summer track meets sponsored by the Michigan track and field federation.

Ivan La Cour, the CMU student from Pontiac, won the 120-yard high hurdles and the senior 220-yard dash. La Cour's time in the hurdles was :14.7 and in the 220-yard dash was :25.5.

Billie White, the Detroit high schooler competing for the Detroit Varsity Club, won the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the girls division.

Miss White, tutored by Pontiac's Hayes Jones, had a time of :27.3 in the 100-yard dash and :27.3 in the 220-yard dash.

The only other double winner Saturday, in the junior division (for boys 17 and under), was George Hooy of the Flint Track Club, who copped both the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He had a :10.9 in the 100 and a :24.1 in the 220.

Kabob Meat

It's usually best to have meat cut-in at least ¼-in. or 2-in. chunks if the meat is to be threaded on skewers and broiled. If the meat is given a marinade, it is perfectly safe to allow it to stand (in the refrigerator) overnight or even for a couple of days.

Chinese Green Makes a Salad

Bite-size pieces of Chinese cabbage, slices of celery and diced pimiento are tossed with a most distinctive dressing for refreshing "Chinese Tossed Salad." The dressing is assembled in no time, thanks to such convenience products as instant minced onion — the field-fresh onion which requires no messy peeling, slicing and chopping.

Chinese Tossed Salad
1 small head Chinese cabbage or 1 head lettuce
2 outer stalks celery
¼ cup diced pimiento
¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon celery seed

Remove core from cabbage; tear outer leaves into bite-size pieces. (Save crisp heart of cabbage to shred for another salad.) Cut celery crosswise into very thin slices; add to cabbage. Drain pimiento well.

Combine all remaining ingredients in covered jar; shake thoroughly. Toss pimiento, celery and cabbage with dressing and serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Lots of Ideas for Serving Ice Cream

Blend a pint of soft vanilla ice cream with a quart of chocolate milk and keep the youngsters happy. A nutritious beverage too!

If you are storing cartons of ice cream in the freezer for any length of time, you may want to give them an over-wrap of moisture-vapor-proof material.

Crème de menthe makes a party sauce for vanilla ice cream; just pour the liqueur into your best decanter and let guests help themselves.

Ever team cream soda with orange sherbet for homemade sodas?

Bake a graham-cracker crust and fill with ice cream, wrap and freeze. Have an ice-cream sauce ready in the refrigerator so you can use this dessert when time is short or when you have unexpected guests.

Any mint flavoring in the house? Flavor chocolate milk with it, add scoops of chocolate ice cream and you'll have a dream offering for teen-agers or oldsters. Small fry will probably prefer this refreshing beverage without the mint flavoring, and may prefer to have vanilla rather than chocolate ice cream in the chocolate-flavored milk.

Tangy Vegetable Juice

For a tangy, refreshing beverage, combine 1 (12 ounce) can of vegetable juice cocktail with ¼ cup of sweet pickle liquid, 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, ½ teaspoon of prepared mustard and ½ teaspoon of pepper. Mix well. Chill. Stir before serving. Garnish each of 4 servings with 1 lengthwise slice of sweet gherkin.

Bouquet Garni
The bouquet garni so often used in French cooking is a combination of parsley, thyme and bay leaf. If fresh, these are tied with a big piece of string to form a "bouquet" and retrieved at the end of the cooking period. If dried herbs are used, tie them in a square of cheesecloth.

Ever use the liquid from a cooked corned beef for cooking dried beans?

Treat Asparagus Right
Preserve the delicate flavor of fresh asparagus by washing and handling properly. Trim off white butt, wash in hot (110 degree) water while agitating gently (heads will relax and shed any sand). Rinse thoroughly in cold water, let soak for ten minutes. Wrap in plastic bag and store in refrigerator until ready to use.

New Taste Treat Found in Grilled Lobster
Rock lobster can be cooked on the hibachi over wood charcoal briquets. Silt the underside of the shell with scissors. Cook until inner meat is firm and flaky. Anoint with melted butter and lemon juice combined. These are excellent when served with either brown or wild rice and a green salad.

For Sunday Brunch
One of the most popular meals of the week in many families is Sunday brunch. And one of the favorite brunch items, coast to coast, is fresh chicken liver. Broil or saute them as the main course, or whip up a chicken liver omelette... but be prepared to serve "seconds".

Ever slice cauliflowerets par-thin and add them to a salad?

Reporter Tells Events Leading to Battle of Gettysburg

By TOM HENSHAW

GETTYSBURG, July 1, 1863 (AP)—Advance units of the Union Confederate armies clashed by accident around this small South-Central Pennsylvania town today.

The outnumbered Federal forces were driven back into defensive positions on high ground south of Gettysburg, a town of 2,400 some 65 miles north of Washington.

A major battle was forecast for tomorrow as Maj. Gen. George G. Meade, the new commander of the Army of the Potomac, ordered most of his 88,000 men into the battlefield.

AVAILABLE STRENGTH

The top available strength of the Confederate Army of Northern Virginia, under the command of Gen. Robert E. Lee, is reported to be some 75,000 men.

An estimated 36,000 Union troops and 45,000 Confederates took part in today's fighting, which raged until early evening through the streets of Gettysburg and across ridges and wheat fields west of town.

Losses were high, particularly on the Federal side. The Union 1st and 11th Corps were reported decimated. The Iron Brigade lost 1,200 of 1,800 men. The 24th Michigan suffered 80 per cent casualties.

Maj. Gen. John F. Reynolds, 42, of Lancaster, Pa., commander of the Union forces in the field, was killed by a sniper. Brig. Gen. James J. Archer, 46, a Maryland man serving in the Southern army, was captured.

FORAGING FOR SHOES

The fighting began about 8:30 a.m. when the 13th Alabama regiment, advancing on Gettysburg from the west to forage for shoes, ran into a picket post of Brig. Gen. John Buford's Union Cavalry Division.

Buford's cavalry, fighting on foot, held off the Confederate infantry division of Maj. Gen. Henry Heth on a ridge a mile west of town until Reynolds' 1st Corps

Union arrived and charged into the fray.

Union artilleryman Augustus Buell described the fighting like this: "Up and down the line men were reeling and falling; splinters flying from wheels and axles where bullets hit; in rear, horses leaping and plunging, drivers yelling, shells bursting, shots shrieking overhead, howling about our ears or throwing up great clouds of dust where they struck.

"But not a man or boy flinched or faltered."

Shortly after noon, Maj. Gen. Oliver O. Howard's 11th Army Corps marched in from the south and was immediately engaged by the first units of Lt. Gen. Richard S. Ewell's Confederate corps coming from the north.

Howard's corps, the smallest in the Army of the Potomac with less than 10,000 men, broke after heavy fighting and fled through the town. A Union officer gave a graphic account of the scene.

"The confusion was great," he said. "The Confederates poured volley after volley into the compass (of fleeing men). After defensive positions on Cemetery Ridge, south of town.

The Union rout was stemmed by the arrival of Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock, 39, of Montgomery Square, Pa., who was sent by Meade to take command in the field after the death of Reynolds.

"The enemy was emerging from the streets of the town below and forming lines as if to charge and drive us from our position," reported Lt. Sidney G. Cooke, who watched from Cemetery Hill.

"Every man knew how hopeless resistance would be, but Hancock sat on his horse, superb and calm as on review, imperturbable. It almost led us to doubt whether there had been cause for retreat at all.

MOVE A BRIGADE

"To Gen. Doubleday, who sat on his horse by his side, Hancock said: 'General, move a brigade to the hill across the road on the right.'"

"But, general," Doubleday replied, "I have no brigade."

"Then take the first thousand men here. Never mind where they belong."

"No excitement in voice or manner; only cool, concise and positive directions, given in a steady voice and a conversational tone."

Tonight, as the two great armies gather for the impending battle, the Union defensive line resembled a fishhook with its shaft running along Cemetery Ridge, its hook turning around Cemetery Hill, where the shattered remnants of Howard's corps awaits reinforcement.

Across a graceful valley, on a ridge called Seminary, Lee is massing his army for the assault.

N. Y. Abolishes Execution Edict

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The mandatory death penalty for persons convicted of premeditated murder was abolished in New York State today.

Under a law effective today, the penalty for premeditated murder will be life imprisonment unless the jury, meeting in a separate session after returning a verdict, agrees unanimously on the death penalty.

New York thus became the last state in the nation to eliminate the mandatory death sentence in convictions for premeditated murder.

ENDS DISTINCTION

In the change, the state also has eliminated a long-standing distinction between first-degree murders — premeditated and felony. "Felony murder" is the designation for a slaying committed during a crime, such as robbery or arson, and not necessarily premeditated. All persons who participate in the crime are subject to charges of first-degree murder, regardless of which one did the actual killing.

Previously, a life sentence was possible for those convicted in a felony murder if recommended by the jury and agreed to by the judge. The death penalty was not mandated in every conviction, as in the case of premeditated murder.

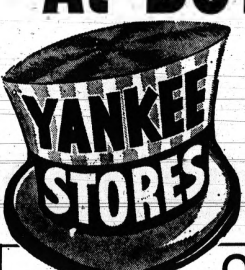

Henceforth, there will be no distinction in first-degree murder cases in setting the penalty. It will be life imprisonment unless the jury recommends death.

President Replaced in Soviet Ukraine

MOSCOW (AP) — Vladimir Shcherbitsky, president of the Soviet Ukraine since 1961, has been replaced by Ivan Kuznetsov, Tass announced Saturday.

Tass said Shcherbitsky has been "transferred to another post" but did not reveal what it might be. This usually means the person involved has been sharply downgraded.

The new president has been a second secretary of the Ukraine's Communist party since 1960.

Nation's Bells to Toll for 4th's Freedom

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bells will peal across the country on the Fourth of July in a new burst of enthusiasm for American freedom.

But the most famous bell in the country, the very symbol of freedom, will be mute. It has been since 1835.

It was then, legend has it, that the Liberty Bell, tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall, developed its famous crack.

This year's bell-ringing is inspired by Eric Hatch and Eric Sloane, New England writers eager to revive an Independence Day custom of the nation's early years.

Others joined in the prompting and soon governors, mayors and state legislators were saying, in substance, "That is a fine idea."

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania was among the first to call upon citizens to join the let-freedom-ring celebrations.

So it seems certain on the Fourth that Americans will hear a rousing orchestration from church steeples, old-fashioned schoolhouses, courthouses and even from farm houses where back porch bells are used to summon men from the fields.

The ploy is that the Liberty Bell will not be heard. Neither will its stand-in, a hefty bell installed in 1874, a hundred years after the placement of the original.

That bell reposes in the tower of Independence Hall. In recent months work crews have been reinforcing the tower but the work is not far enough advanced to take chances on ringing the bell.

An official of the National Park Service, which has custody of Independence Hall, said that for want of something more historical, "We'll have to use a recording of bells ringing."

"Better than nothing," he said.

Detroit Symphony Faces Cancellation of Season

DETROIT (UPI) — A dispute over how much musicians will be paid could result in cancellation of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1963-64 season.

Robert B. Semple, president of the symphony's board of trustees, told musicians they face the loss of their jobs if they don't accept the organization's wage offer.

The orchestra members, represented by the Detroit Federation of Musicians, rejected the symphony society's last wage proposal by a 65-10 margin.

Semple sent letters to the musicians urging them to reconsider and vote again. The letter said:

"The executive committee has decided that if the orchestra does not take another vote on our offer, or if it does and the offer is not accepted, then it will call a special meeting of the board of directors.

At this meeting, all of the facts will be laid before the board with a recommendation from the executive committee that next season be canceled."

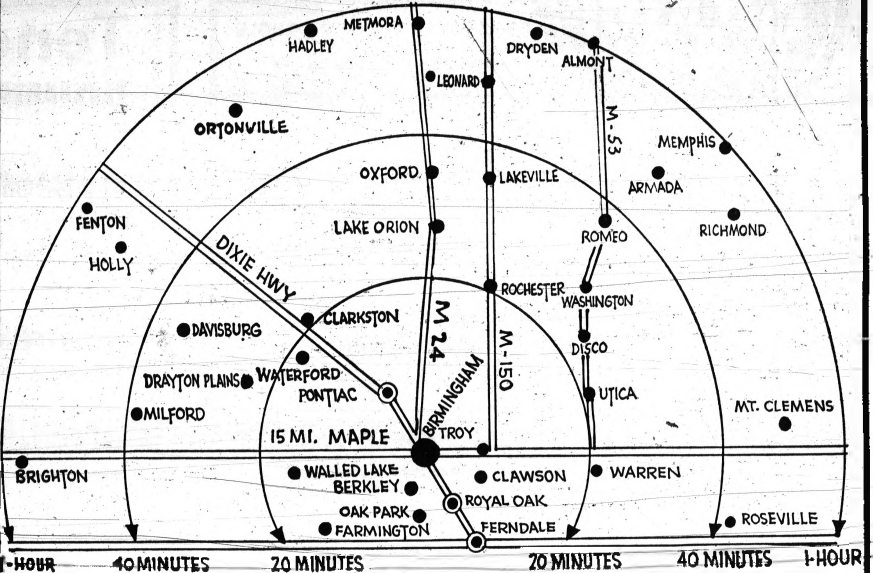

Semple gave the orchestra members two weeks to make up their minds.

"In order to minimize our liabilities, a decision one way or another must be reached by the middle of July," he said.

Negotiations for next season have been going on since January.

A spokesman for the musicians asked for a $7,000 a year guarantee, but have now dropped to $5,000 a year. They also asked for some fringe benefits.

The orchestra leaders have offered a three-year contract which would include a $10-a-week raise for a guaranteed 28-week season is not accepted, then it will call the first year.

Monorail Gets Hearing in LA

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — This megalopolis has a king-size transit headache but a monorail system, costing a relatively modest $123 million, could provide relief, according to an industrialist.

Sixteen Holmquist, president of the Wegemetic Corp., asserts his firm could build a monorail which could be financed out of the fare box — without a tax subsidy.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority (MTA), a public agency which operates major bus lines in this area, has shown interest in Holmquist's plan.

Holmquist's claim that a monorail system would not require any tax support is calculated to meet with the approval of property owners and others interested in fighting tax increases.

Some MTA engineers are skeptical about Holmquist's plan but they don't want to commit themselves publicly as being against it.

U.S. Concerned Over Guiana

Warns British Must Intercede in Strife

LONDON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has reportedly expressed concern over the crisis in British Guiana, warning that strife is approaching the point at which the British government must take decisive action.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk talked last weekend with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home about the situation in Britain's only South American colony where the leftist government of Premier Cheddi Jagan is threatened.

Informants said the Americans expressed concern over the political situation in the colony. A nine-week old general strike there threatens to touch off a civil war between the colony's Negroes and persons of East Indian descent who support Jagan.

The United States is said to be worried also by indications that the Marxist premier is beginning to lean more and more on Cuba and to turn to the Soviet Union for economic support.

SHARES CONCERN

The Macmillan government shares Washington's concern. For several weeks it has been considering suspending the colony's constitution and empowering the British governor to rule directly with the backing of British troops.

Jagan indicated to newsmen in Georgetown he will continue trading with Cuba and the Soviet bloc.

"What is my country to do?" he demanded. "We've tried to get help from all Western countries, including the United States, but have received none."

Jagan said he had received no reply to a letter he sent to Kennedy in April outlining British Guiana's needs and requesting aid. He said the letter underlined his government's determination to carry out reforms recommended by the Alliance for Progress.

Jagan also revealed he had asked the United States for permission to use Atkinson Field, a U.S. military base in a deep coma as World War II U.S. air base, to the result of a wasp sting on the store (Gulf gasoline and diesel fuel).

British Guiana's recent attempt to use the facilities drew a sharp U.S. protest.

it until he has had a full hearing. Holmquist made his announcement on the matter shortly after the MTA fell flat on its face when it suggested that a special property tax be levied to finance a 58-mile combination subway and surface train system costing $649 million.

The MTA wanted the state legislature to earmark 15 cents as a maximum on each $100 assessed valuation to provide the cash. Property owners howled and the MTA withdrew its proposal, calling it a "mistake."

As a result, Holmquist received pleasant reception when he offered his tax-free $123 million monorail plan. He said a monorail is less expensive to construct than a subway or a double-track elevated line.

Holmquist says a monorail's construction cost is $3 million a mile, compared with the MTA's surface-subway system cost of $11 million. And he says he has financing available through a Wall Street investment firm.

Out of the estimated $123 million cost for the monorail, Holmquist said, about $14 million would be used to purchase rights-of-way. The system would link the Civic Center with the west Los Angeles area, with El Monte to the east and with the San Fernando Valley to the north.

TO PAY DEBTS Holmquist also said his group would submit a plan to pay off the MTA's current indebtedness of approximately $44 million.

The monorail concept is not new to southern California. Walt Disney has one operating in his famed amusement park. The Disney monorail is one of the most popular and useful attractions at Disneyland, according to park engineer John Wise. Advantages of the monorail cited by both Wise and Disney are that it is noiseless, it operates on electricity and spews no smelly exhaust fumes. And absence of exhaust fumes would be a boon to smog-ridden Los Angeles.

Religious Sect in Second Day of Convention

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Nearly 30,000 members of the Jehovah's Witness sect proclaimed "everlasting good news" today in the second day of their eight-day convention.

The large crowd, which is expected to swell to 50,000 before the end of the session, gathered in Milwaukee County Stadium yesterday for the start of the convention.

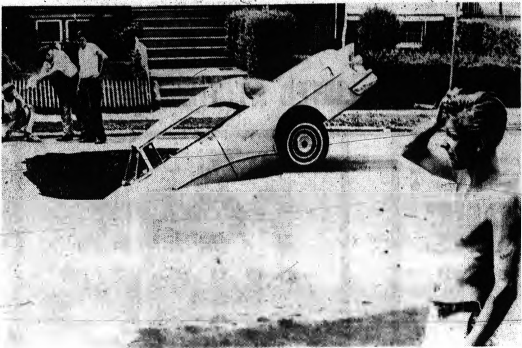

The Milwaukee Braves baseball infield was transformed into a huge floor display and a sprawling speaker's platform was centered over second base.

W. S. Hartley, Modesto, Calif., the first speaker to greet the convention, said Jesus Christ "did not ask men to believe he was more than the son of God."

Texan Stung by Wasp; Deep Coma Results

HOUSTON (UPI) — A Nederland, Tex., man has been sent to the Houston Veterans Administration Hospital in a deep coma as a result of a wasp sting on the face.

C. W. Goff, 47, was stung June 25 while working in his yard. He is in a critical condition in the Port Arthur Hospital ever since.

IN A HOLE — Vernon Cox, 23, was driving along a Philadelphia street when his car passed over what appeared to be a small hole. Next thing he knew, his car was in a quite large hole, probably caused by a water main leak, according to street officials.

2 Dem Leaders See Success in State Election

OWOSSO (AP)—Democrats Zolton Ferency and Billie S. Farnum declare Michigan will elect a Democratic governor next year no matter who runs for the Republicans.

The party's state chairman and the auditor general said so at a Shiawassee County Democratic picnic yesterday at Easton, a community 12 miles northeast of here.

Ferency said Farnum would make a good candidate. Farnum said the Democrats were fortunate in having many good candidates.

Ferency attacked this year's record of the legislature. "It challenge anyone to point out one single bill that this year's Republican controlled legislature has passed during the last six months that has done anything named Cape Cod for the cod fish good for the state," Ferency said.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Veterans' Official Dies
NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Charles W. Arbery, 76, national secretary of the 40 and 5, veterans' fun society for 42 years, died Sunday of a cerebral hemorrhage. Arbery, a retired army colonel, was a veteran of both world wars.

Guards Harass West-Germans

BERLIN (AP)—Weekend visitors from West Germany to Communist East Berlin were harassed by Red border guards, West police reported today.

West-Germans who had day permits for visits with friends or relatives were questioned for up to five hours, the police said. Some were required to give a minute-by-minute account of their visit. They had to say what relatives or friends they had in East Berlin, list people they had met and name restaurants they patronized. Communist authorities made no special difficulties for people entering East Berlin. The trouble started when the visitors began streaming back to the West.

Pianist Joanne Castle Gives Birth to Girl

In Two Current Attractions

Hollywood Sex Preoccupation Illustrated

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood's post-censorship preoccupation with sex is illustrated with two current attractions:

"The Thrill of It All" argues that marriage can be sexy and wins the argument hilariously. "Irma La Douce" is advertised as "a story of passion, bloodshed, desire and death — everything in fact that make life worth living." In reality, it is about pimps and prostitutes and it is neither worthwhile nor funny.

With virtually all the shackles of restraint removed, producers have been exploring sex from virtually every angle, seeming to be making up for the best time of the Will Hays era. The results have been mixed. Some dramas are obviously improved by their ability to treat vital relationships with frankness. Alas, many are simply sordid.

"The Thrill of It All" and "Irma La Douce" investigate the comedy aspects of sex, which was proved funny as early as "Lysistrata" in 411 B.C. But it requires a deft touch.

"The Thrill of It All" has it. The film has come out of the Universal fun factory, which has had immense success with the sex comedy. The ingredients are deceptively simple: opulent production values in ravishing color, plus a boy-chase-girl plot, the girl being Doris Day.

This time Miss Day is married to an obstetrician, disarmingly played by James Garner. But that doesn't alter the basic plot. She becomes a television pitchwoman, and he spends most of the film trying to get her to return to romance.

"What takes 'The Thrill of It All' out of the usual run of such films is the original script by Carl Reiner. Using gags the network censor wouldn't permit on 'The Dick Van Dyke Show,' he has turned out an amusing spot of modern American institutions.

It is painful for this reviewer to report that "Irma La Douce" seemed a total disaster. The pain is caused by affection for the talents of director Billy Wilder, his writing collaborator I.A.L. Diamond, and Jack Lemmon and Shirley Maclaine.

IT ISN'T FUNNY
"Irma" is dedicated to the proposition that prostitution is hilarious. It isn't. Or at least it does not turn out that way in the tasteless, merciless, overdone mishmash that is neither French nor funny.

This opinion is not puritanism raising its lily-white head. The stage musical "Irma La Douce" concerned the same subject and it was light-hearted and engaging. A great deal of its charm stemmed from the rolicky scene and the fact that Irma was the only woman in the cast.

But Wilder saw fit to discard the songs into the oblivion of background music. He also proliferated the prostitutes into an industrial force, depicting their lives with the zeal of a maker of a Soviet documentary about collective farms.

There are moments when Wilder's wicked way with sex comedy ("Some Like It Hot," "Seven Year Itch") shines through. But then the sparkle vanishes. The jokes are double-edged and dull on both sides.

U. S. Plans Changes in Ambassadors

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Several U. S. ambassadorial posts are expected to change hands soon, informed sources reported Saturday.

Charles W. Yost, deputy U. S. representative to the United Nations security council, is reported in line to replace George F. Keenan as ambassador to Yugoslavia. Keenan is returning to academic life at Harvard. William Altwood, ambassador to Guinea, is reported being moved to Bolivia. Henry A. Byrd, a senior official of the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, is to be ambassador to Burma.

Lester Pearson OK

Following Operation

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, returned home Sunday after an operation for removal of an obstructed salivary gland from the right side of his neck.

"The doctor says all is well," said an aide. "The prime minister feels very well. He's in good spirits."

JFK Speech Praised by Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI)—President Josip Broz Tito said yesterday recent statements by President Kennedy offer "hope for decreasing world tension."

Tito singled out Kennedy's June 10 speech at American University in Washington as being encouraging for future international relations.

"Yugoslav policy is to maintain good relations with both East and West," Tito told the Federal Assembly. But he cited Communist China and Albania as exceptions to his nation's normal or friendly ties with virtually every country in the world.

The Yugoslavian President said there were grounds for hope that the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union could reach a nuclear test ban agreement at their scheduled July 15 Moscow talks.

Congolese Celebrate Independence Day

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI)—The Congo celebrated the third anniversary of its independence yesterday with massive army parades in Leopoldville and other cities.

Despite the boisterous crowds of the beer-drinking revelry, no violence was reported. United Nations troops were permitted to carry loaded rifles as a precaution in Elisabethville, capital of secession-torn Katanga Province.

Recommends Probe of Meredith Words

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi State Sovereignty Commission recommended Saturday an investigation be made into statements by Negro James H. Meredith which may have violated a University of Mississippi directive.

The commission, state segregation watchdog, adopted a resolution recommending "punitive action be taken immediately" against Meredith if the investigation proved a violation had taken place.

Chancellor J. D. Williams issued a directive January 31 banning students giving press media statements "which appear likely to create disorder or impair the effectiveness of the educational program" of the university.

The ban by Williams was aimed at "every member of our faculty, our staff, and our student body."

Quiet Children Can Be Special Problem

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
The "quiet" child due to enter Junior High School next fall may have a special problem.

If years speak in a low voice, blushing, easily and cries readily, watch out. He is about to be thrown into a new situation, and new situations worry the best of us. DR. NASON frightening for the timid.

Such a youngster often is picked on by other children. He gets nervous when he takes tests, and he tends to withdraw from himself. Quite likely his teachers have told you in the past that his grades are good because of the excellence of his written work, even though he rarely volunteers to recite.

Already timid about volunteering in a room where he was with the same children and the same teacher all day, he is about to enter a strange school where he will face a new teacher every hour, and where new faces appear every hour also among his fellow pupils. So for him, the situation is just that much worse.

Summertime is a good time for parents to help such a child gain confidence.

Give him minor responsibilities at home, and plenty of encouragement with each success or even partial success. Praise him whenever he deserves it. Security and confidence at home will carry over to school.

During the vacation period when both of you will have the time, make a point of talking over with him the new situations that he will encounter. If you learn about such things as gym classes, community showers, luncheon periods and other changes in routine, and explain them to the youngster, it will do much to remove any apprehension.

If possible see to it that he has one good friend who will be going to the school with him. And it's a good thing to have an older boy or girl who knows the ropes talk to him also about the new situations he will meet.

Planning will help also in schoolwork.

If you can get in touch with one of his teachers, perhaps the home room teacher, and arrange for your youngster to receive some minor appointment at school, that may be very worthwhile. Teachers are ready and willing to cooperate with parents, and consistent support from both home and school can work wonders.

Much can be done now about the lessons themselves.

A child who is timid about reciting will gain confidence if he thinks up questions the teacher may ask and plans his answers. Then he can raise his hand with assurance when the teacher asks one of those questions. And if the teacher has been forewarned, she will watch for this signal and give the child an opportunity to succeed.

If tests are his trouble, help him figure out precisely how he is going to proceed in thinking out the answers. With a little extra preparation when the time comes, and with his mind filled with carefully laid plans, his stresses and tensions will diminish.

Thinking and planning courageously leads to courageous behavior.

You can obtain Dr. Nason's booklet on "How to Help Your Child Succeed in School" by sending $1 to Help Your Child, Box 1277, General Post Office, New York.

A player who uses Blackwood takes full charge of the hand with one exception. That exception occurs when he follows up his bid of four no-trump with a further bid of five no-trump.

The five no-trump bid guarantees that the partnership holds all the aces and if partner can now see 13 sure tricks there is no reason for him to stay out of the grand slam.

He can also put the grand slam in no-trump if he counts to 13 without ruffing power. A no-trump contract is always safer than one in a suit.

North's hand illustrates these points thoroughly. When his partner bids four no-trump North just shows his ace, but when South follows up with five no-trump North takes full charge. He counts four spade tricks, one heart, two diamonds and six clubs for a total of 13 and bids the grand slam. Furthermore, he bids it in no-trump. South may have some other high cards besides his three aces and even though North holds good spades there just may be a loser in that suit.

This happens to be the case. If North bids seven spades he will be complaining about his bad luck, but he will also have made that bad luck himself.

Begin Another Deficit Year

Indications Are U. S. Fiscal Health Worsens

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The federal government headed today into its fourth consecutive year of deficit financing and indications are that the fiscal situation will worsen before it gets better.

The 1963 fiscal year ended last night with the government in the red between $7 billion and $8 billion. The actual figure won't be available for about two weeks.

The government is expected to go much deeper into the hole in the next 12 months. President Kennedy's $8.8-billion budget for fiscal 1964 projects a $11.9 billion deficit, second highest in peacetime. Only the $12.4 billion Eisenhower deficit in 1959 would top it.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has predicted that the 1964 deficit may be about $10 billion, or more.

however, because the government is taking in more revenue than expected.

Government officials feel that the United States must be prepared for at least three more deficit years before there is hope of a balanced budget.

What finally happens in the next 12 months will be affected by variables which make forecasting a sticky business.

It will depend on the international situation, how the national economy fares and the mood of Congress toward various administration spending programs.

Job security, to the worker, is preventing layoffs when new machines are bought. To management it may mean featherbedding or retaining workers who don't do much work any more. The hassle over firemen on diesel locomotives is a much publicized current example. Or job security can mean to workers shorter weeks, while management might prefer to vary as much as 3 cents a bushel and soybeans almost.

Mutual Suspicious Confuse Bargaining

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Getting the boss and employee to talk the same language—and believe what the other says—is being attacked on several fronts.

Mutual suspicion and seemingly irreconcilable aims are stalling blocks in this year's testing of the collective bargaining technique.

One approach is the continuing negotiating committee such as has just scored a success in the steel industry—a labor pact without the shadow of a strike dead line.

Another is the public mediator—the third man who listens to both sides' conflicting views of the other's demands and goals and seeks to reconcile them in the public's interest.

And still another, tried with notable success in at least one instance in Britain, is for an outsider to talk to workers individually and in groups, and to company executives.

change old notions of what's what and explain how new rules will profit each side in today's changing business climate.

A leading problem is that union leaders and members are convinced executives are reactionaries, while management thinks labor is only bent on making trouble and grabbing all it can.

Productivity, for example, means one thing to management and another to most employees. For the boss, greater productivity means turning out more goods at lower per-unit cost. To most workers it means firing someone or cutting off well-aid overtime.

Job security, to the worker, is preventing layoffs when new machines are bought. To management it may mean featherbedding or retaining workers who don't do much work any more. The hassle over firemen on diesel locomotives is a much publicized current example. Or job security can mean to workers shorter weeks, while management might prefer to vary as much as 3 cents a bushel and soybeans almost.

Pontiac to Ask School Funds

Money Will Help Buy Supplies, Equipment

Pontiac will apply for $42,134 in National Defense Education Act (NDEA) funds to help purchase new supplies and equipment.

Last week, the Board of Education authorized filing for funds under two NDEA plans, title III and title V-A.

Under title III, the school district will receive about 46 per cent reimbursement on new supplies and equipment for science, mathematics, and foreign language instruction.

William J. Lacy, assistant superintendent, for instruction and pupil personnel, said the total cost of the title III programs using federal funds would be $65,750. The school district would pay $34,387 of the total, while the federal funds would total $31,363.

The second plan, title V-A, would boost the school district's guidance and counseling services. Total cost of this program would be $71,813. Local funds would amount to $61,641, while federal money would total $10,171.

Lacy told the school board that the amount of reimbursement under title V-A would be about 15 per cent.

Title V-A funds would be used for counselor and secretarial salaries, supplies and materials, and office equipment.

3 Men Questioned in $1,260 Robbery

Three men are being held for questioning today in the reported $1,260 robbery of Trojan Bar, 74 Auburn, early Sunday.

Owner Gus Bakcalukos, 45, of 20 N. East Blvd., said the money was put in the bar's safe after closing time, but was missing at 2:55 a.m.

Detectives say three men who visited the bar earlier are being held for investigation. There was no sign of forcible entry to the building or safe.

Playgirl Attracts Crowd as She Flies From London

LONDON (UPI) — An 18-year-old playgirl — key witness in Britain's sex-and-security scandal — drew a crowd of hundreds at London airport today.

Airlines personnel, travelers and tourists gathered for a look at Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies when she arrived for a holiday flight to Majorca.

Her flight was delayed 30 minutes while she posed for news photographers and tourists.

Some of them thought she was royalty as she was escorted to her plane by airport police.

As Miss Rice-Davies was being escorted to the plane, she was told that a Scotland Yard chief inspector wanted to see her. A police sergeant took her to a private room.

She reappeared grim-faced 10 minutes later.

"It was nothing — just some confidential," she said. "There was a confidential secretary of someone very important with the inspector. He gave me a letter from that person."

"Who is this nice young lady?" an unidentified American tourist asked.

"I'm notorious," Miss Rice-Davies replied. "I shall go down in history as another."

She left, however, aboard her original flight under bond to return to testify anew if necessary in the trial of society osteopath Stephen Ward.

A London newspaper said today two women identified only as "Miss M" and "Miss W" will testify in Britain's sensational vice case that Ward helped perform abortions on them.

Ward's pretrial hearing on vice charges, which already has produced lurid testimony implicating prominent figures in government and society, resumes Wednesday following a three-day recess.

Tablets Tell if Teeth Get the Brushoff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A little red tablet has brought drama to the dentist's chair.

Some dentists are now using a harmless food coloring dye to show their patients the ineffectiveness of their tooth-brushing exercise.

The dye is contained in a red tablet (on the market as x-pose tablets).

You pop the tablet into your mouth, chew for 30 seconds, open your mouth and see your teeth and gums stained red wherever your toothbrush missed.

Brother, if you see red, you had better do more than stop.

What you may think is last night's nightmare is really transparent mucilaginous material—or what dentists refer to as dental plaques.

By selectively staining the bacterial plaques, the tablet shows you where your brush is failing. Bacteria thrives within the plaques. And where there's bacteria, dentist bills aren't too far behind.

TOOTH DAMAGE

Soluble sugars from food and drink (soft and hard) easily eat through dental plaques.

Within seconds, acid forms on the plaque and the tooth gradually dissolves—first the enamel softens and then a hole or cavity forms.

Use of the tell-tale dye has also changed many dentists' thinking about dental hygiene.

A few feel the routine should even be prolonged by massaging of the gums with match-like sticks enclosed in a match-like box.

Paris Considers Routing Traffic Underground

PARIS (AP)—Subterranean streets and parking garages are the only solution to Paris' pressing traffic problem.

Other important problems of Paris are lodging and water supply. Only 50,000 lodging units are being constructed each year, he said, but 75,000 additional units are needed annually.

Water problems are becoming serious, and a project to take water from the Loire River region has been advocated.

Railman Pens Copy of Bible

FORT MADISON, Iowa, (UPI)—A handwritten copy of the King James version of the Bible has been completed by H. Scott Spradling of Roanoke, Va., after 4,223 hours of painstaking labor.

Working approximately three hours per day and using the same fountain pen all the way, he finished the task in slightly less than three years, the 47-year-old railroad traffic control man said.

He undertook the project early in 1966 during his convalescence from a serious illness.

In copying the 826 chapters of the Old Testament and 270 chapters of the New Testament—plus the names of each chapter and numbers of each chapter and verse—he filled 16 standard-size ledger books with a total of 780,113 words and numerals.

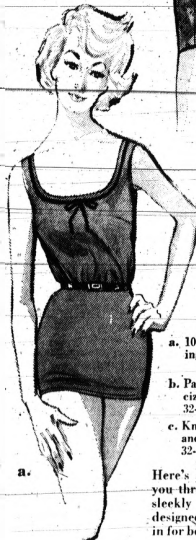

By the time he finished the job, Spradling's tally indicated he had penned a total of 3,628,345 letters and figures.

COOL JOB—Robert English, 181 Ogema, has the top job in town these hot, humid days. English works for the City Product Corp., 106 N. Paddock, where ice making cools the air.

Ice is manufactured in five-foot slabs. The slabs are blocked, chipped, and crushed for packaging in a cold room with a temperature of 28 degrees.

Like Cool, Man

No Sweat for These Workers

While the rest of Oakland County sweaters in 90-95 degree heat, more than a dozen employees of the City Product Corp., 106 N. Paddock, work sweat-free at comfortable temperatures.

These envied individuals labor under midwinter conditions manufacturing tons of ice every day.

Instead of wearing shorts and paperthin shirts like the rest of the perspiring populace, the lucky employees of Pontiac's only licensed ice maker don gloves, long-sleeved shirts, and wool trousers to package 100 tons of ice daily.

The winterized workers package ice in a huge refrigerator-like storage area called, of course, the cold room. Temperatures are kept a chilly 28 to 35 degrees.

40-YEAR VETERAN
Fred Matthews, 49 Oak Hill, is a veteran of the cold room. Matthews, who claims forty years in the ice business, seems to enjoy the mid-December weather.

Like the rest of Pontiac's sweating citizens, he reports only one disadvantage to his distinctive occupation. Matthews needs the aid of a powerful air conditioner to sleep at night.

The ice house, a branch of the Detroit City Ice Division, may be the coolest spot in town, but employees have to work at a "feverish" pace to keep up with the demand.

Housed in a giant two-story building, the ice plant was built in 1928. With its activities limited by the advent of home freezers and the decline in ice boxes, the plant will have to move sometime in the next five years.

Located on North Paddock just south of M. Clemens, the ice house stands in the way of the proposed expansion of M-39.

The ice is primarily used for commercial purposes, but some packaged and block ice is sold.

Sparse Crowds Observe JFK Arrival in Italy

Goes Into Conference in Continued Drive for U.S.-Europe Unity

ROME (AP)—President Kennedy arrived in Rome today to a sparse reception by Italian standards and promptly went into a conference with Italian leaders in his drive to build stronger unity between the United States and Western Europe.

Kennedy told an airport reception of Italian leaders and Americans that he had come to seek ways for the United States and its allies to maintain their 15-year-old alliance. He was expected to find the Italian officials receptive. Tomorrow he will meet Pope Paul VI.

On his drive from the airport, the President rode past Rome's ancient splendor.

A turnout of only tens of thousands of Romans was a contrast to the throngs who flocked to see the President in Germany and Ireland.

It was a searing hot day, with the temperature in the 90s, and the traditional start of vacation time for Italians. Kennedy's motorcade from the airport was held up 10 minutes by heavy traffic on the road to the sea resorts.

One presidential aide, asked to estimate the turnout for Kennedy, told a newsman, "It isn't worth estimating."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, announced that Kennedy would leave Italy for Washington tomorrow night instead of Wednesday morning, ending his European trip about 15 hours earlier than originally planned.

Salinger said the presidential plane would depart from Naples at 7 p.m. tomorrow after Kennedy visited North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters.

Originally, Kennedy planned to return to Rome after his Naples visit, spend the night, and leave for Washington at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Pontiff Arrives for Coronation

Pope Devotes Reign to Peace

Quarter of a Million Watch Coronation

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI dedicated his reign to world peace and Christian unity last night, stressing the universality of his pledge with a coronation address in nine languages.

A quarter of a million spectators, the greatest throng ever to witness a papal coronation, jammed St. Peter's Square to see Paul VI crown amid ritual splendor.

Speaking first in Latin and then in eight modern languages, the 262nd supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church dedicated his reign to the twin goals of his world-acclaimed predecessor, Pope John XXIII.

He appealed for sacrifice in the interest of world peace and acknowledged the "gravity of the obligations" on the road to Christian unity. He warned that neither goal can be reached easily.

In the highlight of the 2½ hour ceremony, Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani placed a new lightweight beehive crown on the head of Pope Paul, the former Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini of Milan.

As he did so, he said: "Receive this tiara, adorned with three crowns, and know that you are the father of princes and kings, guide of the world and vicar on earth of Christ Jesus our Savior."

TO SEE JFK

The new spiritual ruler of a half billion Roman Catholics opens his personal quest in the cause of peace tomorrow in a historic meeting with President Kennedy, first Roman Catholic chief executive of the United States.

If Pope Paul continues changes instituted by Pope John in Vatican relations with Communist countries, eventually he may also receive Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The unusual coronation ceremony was seen by millions throughout Europe via a television hookup. A communication satellite relayed the ceremony to the United States.

About 2,800 invited guests, including special missions from 82 nations and nine international organizations, watched from special seats on the raised portion of the square.

Romania Head Shunning Top Party Meeting

China Says Dispute With Russia More Than Ideological

BERLIN (AP)—A possible new break in the Communist facade has appeared. Romania's veteran Red leader, George Gheorghiu-Dej, is shunning the top level talks Soviet Premier Khrushchev is holding in East Berlin with his European allies.

Khrushchev told an East German audience Sunday night that communism stands "as firm as granite." But the gap in the ranks of the European Reds standing glowingly around him underlined the growing crisis in the world Communist movement.

Also absent—as expected—was Albania which has supported Communist China in its dispute with the Soviet Union.

Red China declared today that its quarrel with the Soviet Union had grown from an ideological dispute to a question of government relations.

It said it intends to send a seven-man delegation to Moscow to discuss differences but emphasized that it will hold its tough line.

SERIOUS STEP
A Chinese Communist party statement charged that the Soviet expulsion of five Chinese from the Soviet Union last week constituted a "serious step in further worsening of Chinese-Soviet relations and in manufacturing a split in the international Communist movement."

Peking followed this with another blistering statement accusing Russians of smashing a display case in front of the Chinese Embassy in Moscow in a "planned act of sabotage."

The official Chinese News Agency accused four Russians of smashing the case and said Soviet authorities tried to cover up by saying the four were foreigners and drunk.

"They were very sober, talked intelligently, behaved in a normal manner, and showed no sign of being drunk," it said.

Satellites Promise to Back K

BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up a brief Communist summit get-together today with pledges of support from his European satellites in his quarrel with Red China.

The Soviet leader will climax his visit to East Berlin with a major speech to a mass meeting tomorrow afternoon, Communist authorities announced.

Western officials assumed Khrushchev would use the speech for a foreign policy statement, possibly on the Berlin situation and Moscow's stand in the ideological and political dispute with the Communist Chinese.

It was not disclosed when Khrushchev would return to Moscow, but it was assumed he would depart soon after the East Berlin rally tomorrow. He arrived in East Berlin last Friday, just two days after President Kennedy received his tumultuous welcome in West Berlin.

The rally will be held in East Berlin's Werner Seelenbinder Hall, which holds 6,000 persons. East German Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht also will speak.

There was speculation that Khrushchev consulted his satellite leaders on the possibility of calling off the Moscow talks in view of the widening breach in recent days. The talks are scheduled to begin Friday.

Oak Park Residents Collide With Car

Oakland County's traffic death toll moved up to 69 with the deaths of two motorcyclists early Sunday.

Killed when the motorcycle they were riding crashed into a car at 3:35 a.m. on Opdyke at Walton, Pontiac.

Driver of the car, Charles Hays, 21, of 18703 Fenmore, Detroit, is scheduled to make a statement at the prosecutor's office today. He was not held.

Hays, who heading north on Opdyke, said he entered the intersection after waiting for the light to change. He told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that "something" then struck the front of his car.

Both Olson, who was driving, and Woolf, were tossed several feet from the southbound cycle. They were dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Neither Hays or his passenger, Cathy Muraw, 18, of 1609 Oldings, were injured.

AEC Cites Evidence

Red N-Tests Suspected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission says it has inconclusive evidence of possible recent Soviet nuclear tests of very low yield.

"The evidence remains inconclusive and it is expected that more definite conclusions must await further evidence and analysis," an AEC spokesman said in a brief announcement prompted by published speculation of such tests.

An informed source said a Soviet test in the range of one kiloton apparently did take place June 12, two days after President Kennedy announced the halt of any further atmospheric tests provided other nuclear nations also refrained.

However, the prevailing guess among Washington officials was that if the Soviets did conduct a test, it was an underground rather than an atmospheric explosion.

Their opinion was based on the very low explosive force picked up by monitors and the lack of detectable radiation.

Thus, informants said, the reports would not change Kennedy's plans to send Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman to Moscow for the reopening of U.S.-Soviet test ban talks, scheduled to start July 16.

The AEC spokesman would give no details on the evidence indicating the possibility of Soviet nuclear tests.

British-Russ Disagreement Collapses Laos Peace Effort

LONDON (AP) — The British government today disclosed the collapse of its efforts with the Soviet Union to consolidate the shaky international peace settlement in troubled Laos.

The British threw the whole problem of its disagreement with the Russians back to the countries that signed the 14-nation peace settlement of Laos in Geneva last year.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Laotian peace setup and in that capacity have had a special responsibility to see that terms of the settlement are fulfilled.

Announcing the development at a news conference, the Foreign Office said Foreign Secretary Lord Home wrote to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko June 27 expressing regret that they had been unable to agree.

"Since we do not seem able to reach agreement, I suggest that the best thing is for us to submit the whole question to the judgment of the signatories of the Geneva agreement and of public opinion," Home wrote.

The documents in question were transmitted to all the interested countries today.

RUSSIAN NOTE

Home's action followed the receipt of a message from Gromyko June 25, in which the Russian proposed that a British-Soviet message be sent to all the signatory states.

Gromyko's message would have laid most of the blame for the collapse of the Laotian peace efforts on the Laotian rightists, the United States and members of the eight-nation Southeast Asian Treaty Organization.

The Western view is that tension in Laos has been created by pro-Communist Pathet Lao attacks on positions held by neutral forces. The Russians deny this.

In his suggestion that the signatories of the Geneva agreement be allowed to judge the matter, Home did not make any proposals for further steps.

Gromyko had asked Home to put his name to a report which made these main assertions:

Right-wing Laotian forces have brought the country to the brink of civil war by military attacks and should be ordered at once to stop their operations.

The United States has been sending military supplies into Laos in violation of the peace treaty and should be ordered at once to quit doing so.

The SEATO countries have been conducting massive military maneuvers on the frontiers of Laos and should be ordered to stop.

The massive correspondence and documents made public by the British included several situation reports submitted to the co-chairmen by the Indian-Canadian-Polish truce commission in Geneva.

These reports showed a basic split between its Communist Polish representative and the Indian and Canadian members.

In one of the letters to Gromyko, Home said that he could not accept the assertions of the Polish commander and he expressed regret at what he called the Polish commissioner's unwillingness to cooperate with his fellow members.

The Polish member in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, refused to join the other two members in an investigation of charges that the Pathet Lao had attacked neutral forces in the Plain des Jarres.

The Pathet Lao, neutralists and rightists make up the coalition government set up with the approval of the Geneva conference. It was designed to be neutral and to remove the Asian kingdom from the arena of the cold war.

Fighting broke out earlier this year between the Pathet Lao and the neutralists in the plain area of east-central Laos and has continued sporadically despite numerous attempts to arrange a truce.

Third Member Is Named in British Espionage Case

LONDON (AP) — A government minister disclosed today that a third man had been named in the British espionage case involving the Russians before 1946 — while he was former British diplomat Harold Philby was the third man in the notorious Maclean-Burgess case, had spied for the Russians while in the foreign office and now is believed to be behind the Iron Curtain.

Edward Heath, deputy foreign minister, told the House of Commons Philby warned Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess, two other foreign office men, that British security services were about to arrest them. As a result, the two fled to Russia in June, 1951.

Philby quit the foreign service in 1951, turned newspaperman and vanished from his post in Beirut, Lebanon, as correspondent for the London Observer last March.

Heath said Philby had admitted to British security officials he

Trieste Halts Search for Sub

ABOARD THE USS FORT SNELLING AT SEA WPA — The bathyscaphe Trieste headed back to port today, defeated by equipment failure in its search for the ill-fated nuclear attack submarine Thresher.

The Trieste made five dives to the 8,400-foot ocean bottom. Officials said it found "encouraging evidence," including a yellow plastic slipper worn aboard nuclear subs. It also found other debris and two crates possibly dug by the sunken 455 million craft.

But it failed in its main objective: to find the Thresher.

The Atlantic with its tricky underwater currents, retained its secret as to the watery grave of the sub.

LAST IN SERIES

Yesterday's dive was the last in this series since Trieste was in need of an extensive overhaul on the mainland. The bathyscaphe, designed for research dives with from a week to two weeks between each descent.

The daily driving in the Thresher search placed a heavy strain on Trieste, the Navy said.

Officials did not indicate whether the Trieste would again join the search 200 miles off the New England coast once it underwent a complete overhaul on the mainland.

Trieste, with a three-man crew aboard, was forced to cut short its dive yesterday because of a gyrocompass failure and trouble with the starboard propulsion motor.

The bathyscaphe was on the ocean floor two hours 45 minutes instead of the scheduled four hours. Results of the fifth dive were "completely negative," officials said.

Recent fishing ships, which have been harassing the search operations, were not sighted yesterday.

Rubber Firm, Union Settle Before Strike

Negotiators from Baldwin Rubber and Local 125 of the United Rubber Workers reached agreement early this morning on a new contract governing some 525 hourly-rated workers at the 366 E. South Blvd. plant.

The settlement was obtained in an all-night session only 20 minutes before the old contract was due to expire: seven o'clock this morning.

Union leaders had threatened to strike if its demands were not met.

A ratification vote on the new contract by union members is scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Strategy for Moscow Talks

LONDON (UPI) — President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have approved a three-way strategy for the nuclear test ban negotiations in Moscow later this month, diplomatic sources said today.

A comprehensive test ban of all tests, including hard-to-detect underground explosions, with adequate control provisions and on-site inspections to police the agreement.

A partial test ban on atmospheric, underwater and surface nuclear explosions, to be controlled by national control systems and robot recorders in the three nuclear countries.

This would leave the question of underground tests open. The allies are not prepared to agree to an indefinite moratorium on such tests.

An offer to Russia to prove its claim that its scientific detection methods are sufficiently advanced to identify safely any suspicious explosion.

Kennedy, Mac Set N-Ban Plan

The sources said the three-way nuclear strategy for the Moscow talks provide for these courses:

A comprehensive test ban of all tests, including hard-to-detect underground explosions, with adequate control provisions and on-site inspections to police the agreement.

A partial test ban on atmospheric, underwater and surface nuclear explosions, to be controlled by national control systems and robot recorders in the three nuclear countries.

Birmingham Area News City Expected to OK Money for Golf Course

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission is expected to allocate $151,500 tonight for development of a golf course at 14-Mile and Cranbrook roads.

Plans for the nine-hole course have been approved tentatively by the commission.

The 3,200 yard layout provides both more length and greater room between fairways than the city's 2,700 yard Springdale course.

A portable sink would make the 37-acre site a year-round recreation area.

Estimated cost of the development includes a picnic area, club house, watering system, fencing and other equipment.

City Manager L. R. Gare noted that one of the strongest points in favor of the new course is that it would be self-supporting, something that few recreational facilities do.

Gare reported that Springdale Golf Course has more than paid for its costs for the last seven years, "despite the fact that it is charged at Springdale as the lowest in the metropolitan area."

W. Bruce Matthews of Newyoga has prepared preliminary plans for the course during the past year.

Commissioners tonight will be asked to approve a $6,000 contract with Matthews for supervision of the golf course construction.

A 1963-64 operating budget of $700,000 above last year's figure will be considered by a new board of education at its organizational meeting tonight.

The instructional portion accounts for $5,757,353 of the $7,825,000 budget, and also for the largest increases.

Administrative costs are up $25,000, totaling $227,502. Special services were hiked $21,000 to a figure of $180,245. A $49,000 increase plants plant maintenance at $238,185.

A $76,000 increase brought the plant operation figure to $1,976,576.

The two decreases, each for $10,000, were noted in the fixed charges and capital outlay portions of the budget, which now amount to $49,462 and $76,000 respectively.

Starts Job as Clerk for Supervisors

A former Oakland County Drain Commissioner employee, Anthony Guyer, 51, assumed duties today as clerk of committees for the County Board of Supervisors.

The appointment was made Friday by Board Chairman DeLoe Hamlin, effective today.

Guyer succeeds Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard to the committee clerk's post. The position remained vacant since February when Barnard was appointed to the bench.

Barnard also served as the county's corporation counsel while clerk of committees.

The positions were split by the board of supervisors to allow the committee clerk more time to handle public relations for the county in an expanded program yet to be developed.

As administrative assistant to Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry for the past two and a half years, Guyer coordinated and kept the minutes for various county and inter-county drainage meetings.

His duties will be similar for the board of supervisors as clerk of its various committees.

Guyer's salary has been raised from $8,800 to $9,000 annually.

Before joining the drain commission, Guyer had worked as a car salesman and radio broadcaster.

He is married, lives at 1926 Cragin, Bloomfield Township, and has a son, Robert, 22.

you're a citizen of Mississippi and we can't help you."

The attorney general said that recent racial demonstrations in Jackson, Birmingham, Ala.; Savannah, Ga.; Danville, Va.; Cambridge, Md., "are vivid evidence that this bill is needed."

"Our whole economy suffers from business discrimination but first, above all, the question is one of morals, he said.

"The United States is dominated by white people, politically and economically. The question is whether we, in this position of dominance, are going to have not the charity but the wisdom to stop penalizing our fellow citizens whose only fault or sin is that they were born."

Kennedy also replied to critics of Negro demonstrations.

"Repression on one side often produces violence on the other," he said in recalling that workmen in trying to form labor unions before the federal government stepped in with the Wagner Act.

"I say that any discussion of this problem which dwells solely on the demonstrations and not on the causes of those demonstrations is not going to solve anything."

Kennedy noted that the administration relied primarily on the commerce clause of the Constitution in offering the public accommodations bill.

● In Kansas City, Kan., between 700 and 800 Negroes marched in downtown Kansas City yesterday in memory of the slain Evers of Mississippi.

New York Man Named Army General Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance named 35-year-old Joseph A. Callano Jr. today as Army general counsel.

Callano, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., succeeds Powell Pierpont who has resigned to return to private law practice in New York City. Pierpont had been general counsel since the early days of the Kennedy administration.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
It seems that the less Americans eat the more they grow. As a people we are taller and heavier than we were 50 years ago, but individually we eat about 100 pounds a year less food.
Incidentally, if you want to stay sweet-tempered, don't cut down on your calories too drastically. Hunger makes you irritable and angry.
One tradition says that a gift of pearls to a bride will bring her happiness. Another tradition holds that a bride's pearls "represent the tears she will shed in her married life."

Fifteen per cent of U.S. children now need glasses before reaching the age of 6, according to the Better Vision Institute.
Some people claim they can read from 2,000 to 8,000 words a minute. But tests show that anyone who reads faster than 1,450 words a minute is actually skimming.
Our quotable notables: "There was never yet a philosopher that could endure the toothache patiently"—William Shakespeare.

Oldtime vaudevillians were among the most superstitious of performers. They thought it brought bad luck to whistle in a dressing room, to throw a hat on a bed, or get a No. 13 train berth. Many also thought it was courting disaster to deliver the last line of an act during a rehearsal, or to rub on cheek rouge with a powder puff instead of a rabbit's foot.
In Kentucky, it once was a criminal offense to fire a gun that wasn't loaded.

Zoo gorillas are often fed raw meat, but in the wild they are strictly vegetarians. The erroneous idea that ostriches stupidly try to hide their head in the sand when threatened probably arises from the fact that these birds, when resting, often squat down and stretch their neck out flat on the ground.
The Catholic Digest offers this holiday safety slogan: "To be safe on the 4th, don't buy a fifth on the 3rd!"

Booby-Trap Blasts Kill Nine in Sicily

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Nine persons were killed over the weekend in booby-trap explosions that may have been set by warring gang lords of the Sicilian Mafia.
The booby-traps were TNT-loaded cars. The victims were two garage workers and seven policemen. Both explosions took place in a Palermo suburb regarded as a Mafia prowling ground.
Palermo police suspect that two factions are engaged in a struggle for control of the underworld in this Sicilian capital. The bombings of cars apparently were meant to wipe out opponents, with the other deaths happening accidentally.

NEA Speaker Cites Failure

Links Race Woe, Education Lag

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer
DETROIT — "The race issue that is convulsing every part of the nation is a striking instance of the failure of higher education," a speaker told delegates to the National Education Association (NEA) convention today.
W. H. Ferry, vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, in Santa Barbara, Calif., said this "may turn out to be our lasting educational goal."

has been common knowledge for generations."
But, he said, the colleges and universities failed to live up to their responsibilities, and now that the cataclysm is upon us "we don't know what to think about it."

Ferry's speech was the highlight of a convention day in which most of the corridor talk was devoted to two thorny issues: racial segregation within the ranks of the NEA, and the use of sanctions as a weapon for teachers trying to secure better salaries and working conditions.
A demand that the NEA desegregate its state affiliates in 11 Southern states was made Sunday by Peter Goudis, a history teacher from Nassau County, N.Y. The Department of Classroom Teachers of the NEA is expected to consider his proposed resolution today.

CAN'T BE FORCED
White teachers from the South oppose it, saying such integration cannot be forced.
Goudis also plans to bring the issue before the full NEA delegate assembly.
The 11 states with separate white and Negro affiliates are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Previously segregated state organizations which have joined forces in the past decade are Maryland, the District of Columbia, Oklahoma, Kentucky and West Virginia.

There are about 50,000 Negroes in the 680,000-member NEA. No Negro has ever held an executive position in the NEA, although some have served on commissions and committees.

Farmers, Police Get in Jam Due to Sour Grapes

PERPIGNAN, France (AP)—Riot police saw red Sunday when they tried to stop a farmers' protest parade.

About 2,000 fruit and vegetable growers joined in the demonstration protesting low prices and poor sales.
When police barred the route to the district government offices, farmers pulled up two truckloads of tomatoes and started bombarding the officers. Police retaliated with tear gas.

The farmers also dumped several tons of tomatoes and apricots on the road leading toward Spain. Traffic soon produced a slippery mixture and it took police three hours to sort out the resulting traffic jam.

Man Jailed for Bus Theft

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP)—Police spotted John R. Circo, 23, driving an empty Greyhound bus stolen from Springfield, Mass., and gave chase Sunday.

One police car was forced off the road as it tried to cut off the bus. Another also was forced off as it approached from another direction.

Police finally stopped the bus in the center of Rocky Hill.
Circo was unable to say where he was going or what he was doing in the bus, police reported. He was jailed.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—An Austrian and two Portuguese teen-agers were reported beaten up by Nyasaland Prime Minister Hastings Banda's bodyguard Sunday when they failed to get their car out of Banda's way fast enough.

The Austrian was identified as Joseph Kniel, 27. The names of the Portuguese were not learned.
The South African Press Association said all three were taken to a hospital in Blantyre, capital of Nyasaland.

To Friend's Husband

Better Lay It on the Line

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 30, married and nothing special to look at. I've been called the "wholesome" type. Last week my husband and I were playing bridge in the home of another couple.

My husband went out to our car to get something, and the other woman went into the kitchen and, without warning, the husband grabbed me, held me close and tried to kiss me!

I was shocked but managed to cover up without making a scene. I thought I made it plain that I did not go in for that sort of thing. Last night we four went to a movie.

While walking down the dark aisle, I felt someone pinch me — but good! I thought it was my husband at first, but soon discovered it was this man again. I did not invite these advances and don't like it.

How can I let him know how I feel without hurting his wife?

THE WHOLESOME TYPE DEAR WHOLESOME: He knows how you FEEL—you have to let him know how you THINK. When you have about 20 seconds alone with him tell him if he doesn't cut out the monkey business you'll tell his wife. And if your husband is bigger than he is—tell him you'll tell your husband.

DEAR ABBY: Last week

my 17-year-old son went to a doctor because of a skin condition. He is supposed to get again next week, but he refuses.

My husband finally got it out of him. It seems that the doctor wanted him to have a lamp treatment. He had to be under some lamps for about ten minutes without any clothes on at all. The nurse was in the room the whole time.

He was terribly embarrassed by this because the nurse was about 25. So that's why he refuses to go back. I think we should call the doctor and ask him if he can't give the treatment himself from now on.

My husband says our son is just being stubborn and we should make him go. He said the doctor will think we are crazy if we call and ask him to change the way he does things in his office. We three have been fighting over this all week. What do you think?

A YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: Call the doctor and explain. He'll understand.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Opens Nursery Gifts at Lunch Meeting

Mrs. Theodore R. Allebach of Ottawa Drive opened nursery gifts Thursday at a luncheon meeting of the Ladies Guild of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Hostess for the affair was Mrs. Percy Blynn of Lyle Drive, with Mrs. Elnor Lloyd and Mrs. Ralph Osborn assisting.

Mrs. Oscar Williamson of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. was a guest.

There are knights on horseback on the chessboard and people on horseback in the background. Members of the Oakland University Chess Club challenged visitors at the Detroit Horse Show to a game as a money-raising project for the scholarship fund. Karen Russo, Center Line, and Dick Jackson, Ruskob Avenue, concentrate on their game, oblivious to the riders near them.

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I have just recently returned home from a trip around the world. During this trip my husband took some excellent color moving pictures.

Many of our friends have expressed a wish to see them. Since I am very much interested in a boy's club here, the thought occurred to me that perhaps it would be a good idea to ask all of our friends and neighbors to come in on a certain afternoon, or evening, and charge admission—the proceeds to go to the boy's club. Before going ahead with the idea, I would like to know whether or not you think it would be proper.

A: If it is possible to show the moving pictures at the club and have one of the boys receive the admissions at the door, it would be entirely proper to do so. But even for such a worthy cause, it would be in poor taste to charge admission in your own house.

Q: The wife of the superintendent of our building recently had a baby. As they do not have too much money, one of the tenants suggested that we all contribute a sum of money and give it to her as a gift with which to buy something for the baby. All the tenants are in accord with the idea but before giving it, we would like to know if it would be proper?

A: It will be entirely proper.

Rights Group 'Will Be Ready'

Comes Into Being
With Constitution

GROSSE POINTE (AP)—Gov. George Romney says Michigan's new Civil Rights Commission will be ready to operate as soon as the state's new constitution takes effect next Jan. 1.

Romney made the promise to antidiscrimination marches here Saturday — he was one of the marchers — in calling the constitution's civil rights clause the "clearest, strongest and complete" of any in the United States.

"The elimination of human inequalities and injustices is our most urgent and critical domestic problem," Romney said.

He is now in the process of selecting members of the commission.

Romney deplored housing discrimination. He said it has been "excessive." He said "some of it practiced in this particular part of the state is particularly reprehensible."

A "points system" used by some real estate interests in grading prospective home buyers in the Pointes communities on the basis of race, color, nationality, family background and other factors has been a subject of controversy.

An attorney general's ruling to outlaw the practice was thrown out by the state supreme court on technical grounds. The court held this to be a legislative matter outside jurisdiction of a state agency.

Rains Suspend Flights, Flood Towns in Nepal

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Nepal today suspended all internal airline flights for the duration of the rainy season—three months—because of four flooded airfields.

Fifty villages have been flooded in the south foothills of the Himalayas and more than 6,000 persons have had to abandon their homes.

Magnate Found Dead

UDDEVALLA, Sweden (AP)—Gustaf Thorden, 69, former Swedish shipping magnate, was found dead Sunday in water off this west coast town. The Swedish News Agency said Thorden had been on a sailing trip with three friends and dropped anchor for the night near the fishing village of Gravarne. When the friends awakened Sunday morning Thorden was missing.

The Scottish Blackface Highland sheep was once called the "col," and it's believed that the name was passed on to the collie dogs which were used to herd the flocks.

MORE ON WAY — Housestrailer nomads from all sections of the nation converged on Bemidji, Minn., this weekend for their annual rally and convention. When all are in camp, 2,000 trailers and 7,000 are expected for this week's temporary residence.

Through Suburbs

Plan More Marches

DETROIT (UPI)—Negro leaders laid plans today for another integration march through the Detroit suburbs like the one Gov. George Romney led last Saturday.

An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said he didn't know if Romney would attend the next march through Redford Township Saturday but admitted "we'd like to have him again."

Romney led a bi-racial parade of demonstrators through the streets of the plush suburbs of Grosse Pointe and Grosse Pointe Farms last Saturday.

Romney, who had been censured by Negro leaders for not attending a giant June 23 "walk to freedom" that drew 125,000 persons in protest of discrimination, made a surprise appearance at the demonstration in the Pointes.

The Detroit Council on Human Rights, which sponsored the large demonstration, said last week it would unveil to the public tomorrow night a blueprint for future action by the recently formed group.

REPS BOOED

At the rally that followed the DCHR demonstration, two personal representatives of the governor were soundly booed when they tried to read his message. Romney was absent because his ironclad religious beliefs preclude appearances at anything but functions of his church on Sundays.

At Saturday's demonstration, Romney told the crowd that the racial issue was one of the most vital facing the nation.

"Until it is eliminated," he said, "our words will have a hollow and hypocritical sound to the people of the world."

TO HIT REDFORD

Abraham Ulmer, chairman of the NAACP housing committee, pegged Redford as the third target of the marchers who the week before demonstrated in Dearborn.

He said he had intended to ask

Romney to call meetings with mayors of Detroit suburbs for action on the segregation question, especially the housing aspects of 1,194 calls for an eight-member Civil Rights Commission which Romney said that he would handle such issues.

July 4 Traffic Likely to Take Lives of 650

CHICAGO (UPI)—Within four days, the bloody slaughter of the Fourth of July weekend begins and the National Safety Council estimates that 550 to 650 persons will be killed in traffic accidents.

The 102-hour holiday weekend begins at 6 p.m. local time July 3 and ends at midnight July 7.

"With the Fourth of July historically more dangerous," Safety Council President Howard Pyle said, "it calls for extra caution by all of us to hold the number of fatalities to the lower side of the estimate."

He noted the Memorial Day weekend toll of 525 killed last month set a record for a 102-hour holiday period.

The previous high for a 102-hour Independence Day holiday period was in 1961 when 509 persons were killed in traffic and 415 lost their lives in other types of accidents.

The worst holiday toll in history was the "Black Christmas" of 1956 when 706 persons died.

Pyle said drunk driving, speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road and failure to yield the right-of-way account for nearly three-fourths of all traffic accidents.

KRAUT ROUND DOGS — A dazzling sandwich... combining the good taste of juicy frankfurters, plump kraut and Swedish ham-burgers... is always appropriate to serve at any informal summer occasion. Some crunchy pickles, a strawberry lime sparkler, pretty paper table service... and you're all set for a party.

Hot Dogs Curled Into Shape of Buns

Let the refreshments fit the strawberries; mix well. Chill time... that's the object of thoroughly. Add carbonated water, clever menu planning. The timer just before serving. Makes men, of course, is the sum about 1 1/2 quarts.

when entertaining, whether it be a family holiday party, a bridal shower for the girls, or a teenage get-together, is on the upswing... and tempting food informally served is the order of the day.

A superb sandwich is always a fitting dish for all these summer activities... and Kraut Round Dogs on Swedish Hamburgers is an easy-to-make and impressive choice.

Savory frankfurters, a delicious kraut mixture with a hint of dill, meat patties, done in Swedish style, make a capital combination that places this sandwich in the top... favorite class. The frankfurters, slit so they curl into circles when cooked, sit right atop the hamburgers — on buns and the centers are filled with the crisp, refreshing kraut mixture.

Round Dogs, they're called, and if you haven't tried this delightful way of serving before, try them now.

A Strawberry Lime Sparkler is a cherry cooler to serve along with kraut round dogs... and for a whimsical garnish, slip a juicy fresh strawberry on each drinking straw.

Kraut Round Dogs

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 small onion, grated
1 egg
1/2 cup seasoned bread crumbs
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon pepper
12 frankfurters
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 teaspoon dill weed
6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

Drain kraut, reserving 1/4 cup juice. Lightly mix together meat, onion, egg, bread crumbs, parsley, kraut juice, salt, nutmeg and pepper; shape into 12 patties.

Cut about 10 deep slits in each frankfurter, without cutting all the way through; form into a round and fasten with small skewer or pick. Set round dogs on meat patties and cook 3 to 4 inches from source of heat, or grill on outdoor grill, 5 minutes on each side, or until desired degree of doneness.

Mix together and heat kraut, sour cream and dill; arrange some on buns. Top with patties, round dogs and remaining kraut. Makes 12 Round Dogs.

Strawberry Lime Sparkler

1 jar (12 ounces) mint-flavored apple jelly
3 1/2 cups boiling water
1 can (8 ounces) frozen pineapple juice concentrate 1 can (8 ounces) frozen limeade concentrate
1 pint fresh strawberries, crushed
1 pint carbonated water, chilled
Add jelly to boiling water; stir until dissolved. Add pineapple juice and limeade concentrate

Kabob Meat

It's usually best to have meat cut in at least 1 1/2- or 2-inch chunks if the meat is to be threaded on skewers and broiled. If the meat is given a marinade, it is perfectly safe to allow it to stand (in the refrigerator) overnight or even for a couple of

Chinese Green Makes a Salad

Bite-size pieces of Chinese cabbage, slices of celery and diced pimiento are tossed with a most distinctive dressing for refreshing "Chinese Tossed Salad." The dressing is assembled in no time, thanks to such convenience products as instant minced onion — the field-fresh onion which requires no messy peeling, slicing and chopping.

Chinese Tossed Salad
1 small head Chinese cabbage or 1 head lettuce
2 outer stalks celery
1/2 cup diced pimiento
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon celery seed

Remove core from cabbage; tear outer leaves into bite-size pieces. (Save crisp heart of cabbage to shred for another salad.) Cut celery crosswise into very thin slices; add to cabbage. Drain pimiento well.

Combine all remaining ingredients in covered jar; shake thoroughly. Toss pimiento, celery and cabbage with dressing and serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Lots of Ideas for Serving Ice Cream

Blend a pint of soft vanilla ice cream with a quart of chocolate milk and keep the youngsters happy. A nutritious beverage too!

If you are storing cartons of ice cream in the freezer for any length of time, you may want to give them an over-wrap of moisture-vapor-proof material.

Crepe de menthe makes a party sauce for vanilla ice cream; just pour the liqueur into help themselves.

Ever team cream soda with orange sherbet for homemade sodas?

Bake a graham-cracker crust and fill with ice cream, wrap and freeze. Have an ice-cream sauce ready in the refrigerator so you can use this dessert when time is short or when your have unexpected guests.

Any mint flavoring in the house? Flavor chocolate milk with it, add scoops of chocolate ice cream and you'll have a dream offering for teen-agers or oldersters. Small fry will probably prefer this refreshing beverage without the mint flavoring, and may prefer to have vanilla rather than chocolate ice cream in the chocolate-flavored milk.

Tangy Vegetable Juice

For a tangy, refreshing beverage, combine 1 (12 ounce) can of vegetable juice cocktail with 1/2 cup of sweet pickle liquid, 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon of prepared mustard and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper. Mix well. Chill. Stir before serving. Garnish each of 4 servings with 1 lengthwise slice of sweet gherkin. Makes 6 servings.

Nation's Bells to Toll for 4th's Freedom

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bells will peal across the country on the Fourth of July in a new burst of enthusiasm for American freedom.

But the most famous bell in the country, the very symbol of freedom, will be mute. It has been since 1835.

It was then, legend has it, that the Liberty Bell, tolling for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall, developed its famous crack.

This year's bell-ringing is inspired by Eric Hatch and Eric Sloane, New England writers

eager to revive an Independence Day custom of the nation's early years.

Others joined in the prompting and soon governors, mayors and state legislators were saying, in substance, "That is a fine idea."

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania was among the first to call upon citizens to join the let-freedom-ring celebrations.

So it seems certain on the Fourth that Americans will hear a rousing orchestration from church steeples, old-fashioned schoolhouses, courthouses and even from farm houses where back porch bells are used to summon men from the fields.

The ploy is that the Liberty Bell will not be heard. Neither will its stand-in, a hefty bell installed in 1876, a hundred years after the placement of the original.

That bell reposes in the tower of Independence Hall. In recent months work crews have been reinforcing the tower but the work is not far enough advanced to take chances on ringing the bell.

An official of the National Park Service, which has custody of Independence Hall, said that for want of something more historical, "We'll have to use a recording of bells ringing."

"Better than nothing," he said.

Detroit Symphony Faces Cancellation of Season

over how much musicians will be paid could result in cancellation of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's 1963-64 season.

Robert B. Semple, president of the symphony's board of trustees, told musicians they face the loss of their jobs if they don't accept the organization's wage offer.

The orchestra members, represented by the Detroit Federation of Musicians, rejected the symphony society's last wage proposal by a 68-10 margin.

Semple sent letters to the musicians urging them to reconsider and vote again. The letter said:

"The executive committee has decided that if the orchestra does not take another vote on our offer, or if it does and the offer is not accepted, then it will call a special meeting of the board of directors.

"At this meeting, all of the facts will be laid before the board with a recommendation that next season be canceled."

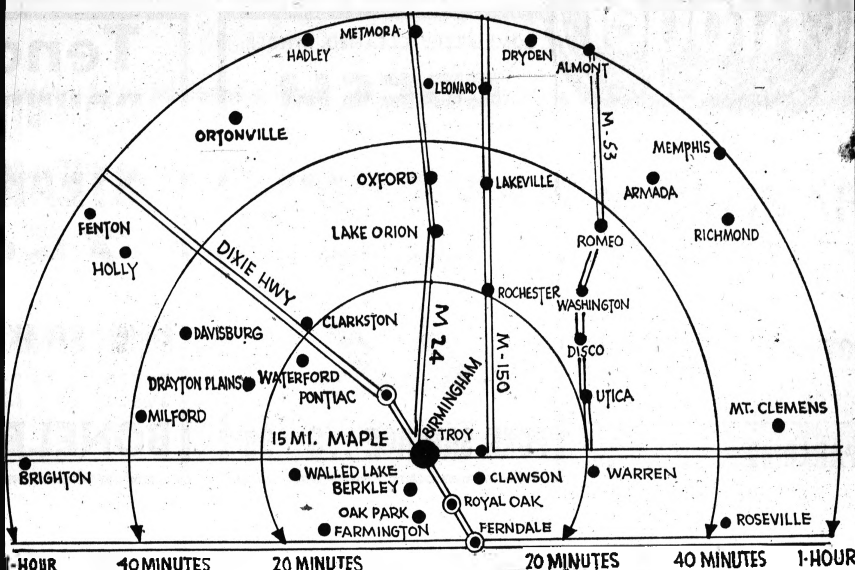

Semple gave the orchestra members two weeks to make up their minds.

"In order to minimize our liabilities, a decision one way or another must be reached by the middle of July," he said.

A spokesman for the musicians asked for a $7,000 a year guarantee, but have now dropped to $6,000 a year. They also asked for some fringe benefits.

The orchestra leaders have offered a three-year contract which would include a $10-a-week raise for a guaranteed 28-week season the first year.
