JFK Feels Need of Test Ban

Officials Hoping K Will Accept West Proposal

Outlook Is Dim That Khrushchev Will Take to Nuclear Ban

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials said today they have some hope Soviet Premier Khrushchev may alter his course and accept a U.S.-British proposal for a ban on nuclear weapons tests in the earth's atmosphere. But the outlook was admittedly dim.

For the same officials who profess hope of a favorable response from Moscow also say that the Soviet nuclear explosion announced by the White House Friday is believed to be the first of a carefully planned series of aerial bursts. They say it would require a major change in plans for Khrushchev to agree that all future tests should either go underground or be fired in outer space.

Furthermore, the United States has already charged the Soviet Union with using the resumption of nuclear testing as a form of "atomic blackmail" in an effort to frighten other countries into accepting his demands, especially on Berlin and Germany. Many officials here feel he intends to continue brandishing his nuclear power for some time longer.

Diplomatic observers in Moscow said it was unlikely that Khrushchev would accept Western proposals for banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

NO REPORT

As of early today, there was no public report in Moscow of the joint message to Khrushchev from President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan.

★ ★ ★

The Western appeal to lessen the dangers of radioactivity followed a White House claim last week that the Soviet Union had conducted a nuclear test in Central Asia. There has been no mention of such a test here.

★ ★ ★

On a broader front, Italy emerged in the role of East-West mediator by relaying a message from Khrushchev that he is ready to examine Western proposals on the time and place for talks with the West.

ANSA said Khrushchev told Fanfani in the latest note that he was "disposed to examine Western proposals without any prejudice."

At Belgrade, a sharp clash developed among the self-proclaimed nonaligned nations meeting over whether they should devote their attention to the danger of world war or colonialism.

★ ★ ★

The final communique will emphasize both the danger of world war and problems of colonialism.

Call on Nikita for Quick Halt to Bomb Blasts

Challenge Is Hurled by Kennedy, Macmillan to Soviet Premier

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy is understood to feel an early international ban on nuclear tests in the earth's atmosphere is vital to humanity.

This was the primary motive, administration sources believe, for the challenge Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have thrown to the Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The Cape Cod White House announced that Kennedy and Macmillan called on Khrushchev Sunday to accept an immediate ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere which produces radioactive fallout.

Kennedy's objective was said to go beyond the propaganda effect on governments and people the world over who were shocked by the Soviet Union's renewal of nuclear tests. He was described as hopeful that a three-power pledge could lead to a global agreement outlawing tests that spew radioactive particles into the atmosphere.

The Soviet test last Friday, after nearly three years of presumed nuclear silence, occurred over Central Asia. Atomic explosions in the atmosphere unleash radioactivity, contaminating dust and spreading it with the winds. In great density, fallout can be deadly.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy and Macmillan called on Khrushchev for an answer by next Saturday.

"Their aim in this proposal is to protect mankind from the increasing hazards from atmosphere pollution and to contribute to the reduction of international tensions," the White House statement said.

SETS STAGE

By its language, the challenge set the stage for the United States to resume underground tests if the U.S.S.R. persists in blighting the air with fallout.

Acting press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher added these views of the President: quick action is essential, for the chances of agreement decrease as the number of nations with atomic ability increases.

On the Communist side, Red China may shortly develop atom-

Pick Dorothy Bilbrey Peach Queen of 1961

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

A medieval throne room provided the setting Saturday evening for the coronation of Dorothy Jean Bilbrey, 18, of Davison, as Romeo Peach Queen of 1961.

The ceremony highlighted opening day of the 29th annual Romeo Peach Festival which ends tonight.

Because of the threat of rain, the event, traditionally held in Romeo's Memorial Stadium, was moved into the Junior High School auditorium.

The queen's seven attendants preceded her up the aisle as she approached the stage escorted by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica.

★ ★ ★

Television personality Toby David, dubbed honorary king of Pantsyland, placed the crown on the lovely queen's head.

Before presenting the sceptre to her successor, Jo Ellen Schaefer of Rochester, the 1960 peach queen, sang a parody of "Thanks for the Memory," describing her experiences during the past year.

★ ★ ★

A coronation in miniature featured a future queen, Ann Spencer, 7, a future princess, Pamela Manahan, 5, and their attendants. Doing the honors was another children's TV favorite, Jingles, serving as honorary court jester.

Musical background was furnished by the Romeo High School Band with vocal selections by Mrs. Fred Scheuneman and Fred Davis.

Yesterday the queen led the grand entry at the 3rd annual Rotary Horse Show, the main attraction of the Sunday Festival program.

PARADE WINNERS

The satirical and humorous Mummers' Parade at 8 p.m. also drew large crowds along Romeo's Main Street. Winning entry in the motorized division was the Romeo State Police Post's 1932 vintage Lincoln filled with appropriately attired "Untouchables."

Top honors in the walking category went to Frederick Schlack of 300 W. St. Clair St. and his daughter Bobbie, who pulled her father on a rubber raft. They

GM Workers Alert for Strike

Ready to Close Down 128 Plants if Agreement Is Absent Wednesday

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp.'s hourly workers are spending their paid Labor Day holiday getting ready to close down GM's plants in the event the company and the United Auto Workers fail to have a contract settlement in sight by strike deadline—12 a.m. Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Some 305,000 UAW members and 24,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) were on strike alert at all but one of GM's 129 plants in 71 U.S. cities. The two unions are conducting parallel negotiations with GM, the UAW withheld a strike threat at a Milwaukee plant which makes missile parts for the government.

Union members were told not to go on vacation, under penalty of being refused strike benefits from union funds. They were advised to start making picket signs and to start setting up soup kitchens.

Speculation centered on whether GM would make a new offer as UAW President Walter P. Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton went into a Labor Day bargaining session.

NEITHER OPTIMISTIC

Neither appeared optimistic following a five-hour Sunday session.

★ ★ ★

Reuther modified his demands on GM Sunday by withdrawing the profit-sharing demand he submitted Saturday. He offered to settle for a contract that matched the extra benefits provided in the recent settlement with American Motors Corp., which included a profit-sharing plan.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Divers today searched the wreckage of a coastal trading ship which went down in shark-infested waters off Buenaventura Sunday night carrying an estimated 150 persons to death.

More than 60 bodies have been recovered from the ship, the Vencedor, which was carrying between 900 and 300 persons home from an outing when she sank off the Pacific Coast port.

Troops, police and firemen were mobilized for the rescue efforts, and 20 vessels scoured the area in search of survivors.

The Vencedor had been chartered for an excursion to a fiesta in Bocana.

4-Inch Fall Sets Record

Denver Is Snowed Under

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Snow and cold, snapping all kinds of records, ruined the Labor Day weekend in the Rockies for campers, fishermen, golfers, boaters and others who revel under sunny skies.

The storm, sloshing four inches of wet, fast-melting snow on Denver, stranded briefly thousands of travelers in mountain areas where the snowfall measured up to two feet. There were no reports of severe hardships.

Loveland Pass, the U.S. 6 route which crosses the Continental Divide at 11,992 feet west of Denver, was blocked for a short time. Trail Ridge Road, another divide crossing in northern Colorado, also was closed.

★ ★ ★

The early storm slowed hundreds of tourists hurrying home from late summer vacations.

PLANE DISAPPEARS

The same storm, sweeping across Montana late Friday, was blamed for the disappearance of a light plane carrying three men. Searchers said hope was waning for their survival through three nights of frigid weather.

★ ★ ★

Denver weather records fell with the snowflakes. The snow was the earliest recorded at the Colorado capital since the Weather Bureau began keeping track in 1872. The average date for the first snow is Oct. 7. The 33-degree minimum Sunday morning was a record low for the date. The high of 46 degrees was the lowest maximum for the date.

Clearing weather was forecast today with Denver's high expected to approach 60 to 65. A light rain washed away all traces of the snow in Denver late Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Hotels and motels in mountain areas were overcrowded Saturday night by motorists who sought shelter rather than travel on the snow-slickened highways.

At Fairplay, a small town 110 miles southwest of Denver at an elevation of 9,964 feet, public rooms of the town's principal hotel were crowded by more than 50 travelers who spent the night on cots and lounges.

"It was a startling experience," said Mrs. Chuck Powell of Alhambra, Calif. She and her husband stopped at the hotel after covering only 21 miles in two hours driving on U.S. 285 near Fairplay.

Another Day of Wet Weather Is Forecast

Don't put away your rain togs, for more showers are on the way!

The weatherman predicts mostly cloudy and cooler through Tuesday with scattered showers or thundershowers tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures will register 60 to 66 tonight and climb to 72 to 78 Tuesday.

Partly cloudy and a little warmer is the outlook for Wednesday.

Morning northwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become northeasterly at 8 to 15 m.p.h. by evening. From 8:30 Saturday morning until the same hour today 1 of an inch in rain fell on the Pontiac downtown area.

Sixty-nine was the lowest temperature before 8 a.m. The recording at noon was 74.

Labor Day Just That for Many Americans

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — They call it Labor Day, when the nation takes a holiday and honors work by abstaining from it.

Labor Day?

It's just another day on the job for the bus drivers, the sailor at sea, bartenders, airplane pilots and hostesses, chefs, waitresses, night club singers and strip-tease dancers.

★ ★ ★

Labor Day?

It doesn't mean a thing to watchmen, circus elephants, the cop on the beat, railroad engineers and conductors, the men who pull switches in electric power plants, and the fellows who watch the unpushed alarm button that could launch atomic world war.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Labor Day?

It's just business as usual to the lion in the zoo, radio and TV announcers, musicians, druggists, caddies and cabbies, telephone operators, bellhops, movie ushers, busboys, and the men who ring church bells.

Labor Day?

What does it mean to race-horses, jockeys, baseball players, hotel desk clerks, forest rangers, bookies, long distance truck drivers, filling station attendants, dairy farmers, people who operate dog kennels, and fellows who wheel around little white carts and sell ice cream sticks to children? It means nothing but the same old daily grind.

★ ★ ★

Labor Day?

It means even more work for many housewives, traffic cops, lifeguards, ambulance drivers, hospital nurses and doctors on emergency duty, morgue employes, bridge and highway toll collectors, amusement park workers—and pickpockets.

Labor Day?

When you get right down to it, who does get a real rest from toil on Labor Day?

Well, anyway, here's to you—and me.

Aren't we the lucky ones?

Fear New Wave of Forest Fires

1,000 Men Appear to Be Winning Over 165 Blazes in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Grime-covered fire fighters were warned today to be prepared for a new wave of explosive brush and timber fires which already have burned 142,000 acres in California and resulted in three deaths.

More than 1,000 men on fire lines from the famed Mother Lode mining country in the north to San Diego near the Mexican border appeared to be gaining the upper hand in the 165 fires reported since Saturday.

But a state division of forestry spokesman said high temperatures and low humidity combined with severe drought conditions and a swarm of Labor Day vacationers put the danger of new fires at a critical level.

Early today at least 12 major fires were burning out of control. The state spokesman said, "our over-all situation is nip and tuck."

The biggest fire covered 25,000 acres in the Sierra near the gold rush towns of Sutter Creek, Amador City, Volcano and Fiddletown. At last word it was 80 per cent controlled and burning toward an uninhabited wilderness area 100 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Potentially one of the most dangerous fires roared out of control near Lakeside 15 miles northeast of San Diego. More than a dozen homes were threatened and several were evacuated.

Residents said the fire sent up a mushroom of smoke that looked like the cloud from a nuclear blast when planes dumped borate solution on it.

Civil War Threat Eases in Brazil

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The threat of civil war in Brazil appeared ended today as the nation's three military chiefs dropped their opposition to leftist Joao Goulart and agreed to let him become a figurehead president.

★ ★ ★

The 42-year-old vice president, whose leftist leaning led the military to denounce him as a security risk, indicated he would go along with the constitutional amendment approved by Congress that sets up a parliamentary system and vests the real power in a premier.

★ ★ ★

Congress devised the compromise to appease War Minister Odylio Denys and his fellow service chiefs who opposed giving Goulart full presidential powers.

Goulart is slated to leave his southern stronghold of Porto Alegre Tuesday and fly to Brasilia for the inauguration. Congress is leaving the time and date of the ceremony up to him.

A terse announcement from the Presidential Palace saying the service chiefs had recommended that all commands respect the peared to ease the crisis.

Navy headquarters in Rio de Janeiro ordered federal forces in the southern coastal state of Santa Catarina to pull back to avoid a clash with pro-Goulart forces.

Airline offices in Rio said flights would resume today to Brasilia. The airport has been shut down over the tense weekend with oil drums blocking the runway.

There was no sign of demobilization, however, by the military which has kept close watch over political developments since Janio Quadros quit as president Aug. 25.

News that the deadlock between Congress and the military had been broken touched off a scramble for the key post of premier.

Front runners in the race are:

1. Francisco Santiago Dantas, a member of Goulart's Labor party whom Quadros named Brazil's chief delegate to the United Nations.

2. Gov. Juracy Magalhaes of the oil-rich state of Bahia, a conservative who has the respect of many political factions.

3. Ernani Amaral Peixoto of the Social Democrats, former ambassador to Washington.

4. Social Democrat Auro Moura Andrade, president of the Senate.

5. Tancredo Neves, also a Social Democrat, who is credited with winning agreement from the military leaders.

U.S. Traffic Toll Nears Forecast

Labor Day Deaths on Road Keeping Pace With Estimate of 430

HOLIDAY DEATHS

Traffic	302
Drownings	44

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths since the start of the long Labor Day weekend today appeared keeping pace with the grim preholiday estimate of 420.

★ ★ ★

Over 300 persons have lost their lives in traffic accidents since 6 p.m. Friday, with the heaviest travel of the three-day holiday weekend expected today.

At least 12 persons were dead in Michigan traffic. In addition, there were two drownings and one miscellaneous death.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the traffic death toll of 420 and some 17,000 injured, cautioned motorists that traffic in the closing hours of the long weekend holiday "not only is heavy but dangerous."

★ ★ ★

"It must be offset with a great patience and constant regard for the safety and welfare of everyone on the road," the council said.

During last year's three-day Labor Day weekend, traffic accidents killed 415 persons. The record toll set in 1951.

Threatens Troops to Berlin After Peace Treaty Signed

BERLIN (UPI)—Gerhart Eisler, top East German propagandist, said today that after a German peace treaty is signed the United States will need Communist permission to reinforce its Berlin garrison.

★ ★ ★

Eisler said East Germany allowed the U.S. Army to send 1,500 reinforcements to the isolated city on Aug. 20 only to keep the international situation from becoming more tense.

"It would have been easy to block their march to West Berlin," he wrote in the Communist youth newspaper Young World.

Eisler said that after a German peace treaty is signed, the Western allies will have to reach agreement with the East German government to use traffic routes to Berlin "on the land, water and in the air."

★ ★ ★

The bail-jumping fugitive from American justice made his statements in reply to the question as to why the East Germans permitted the transport of the U.S. troops through 110 miles of the Communist zone to West Berlin.

The United States, meanwhile, is expected to reply quickly rejecting a new Russian note accusing the West of misusing the Berlin air corridors.

Acting presidential news secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said Sunday at Hyannis Port, Mass., where President Kennedy is spending the weekend, that there would be no immediate White House comment on the note.

GM Director Fisher Dies

Auto Pioneer Helped Found Body Company Bearing Family Name

DETROIT (AP)—Lawrence P. Fisher, 72, who started as an apprentice carriage-maker at the age of 14 and rose to a directorship of General Motors Corp., died in Harper Hospital Sunday after a long illness.

Fisher was one of seven brothers who pioneered in the auto industry and had extensive holdings in other businesses.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, Oct. 19, 1888, he went to work in 1901 for C. R. Wilson Body Co., and later joined his older brothers, who, with an uncle, Albert Fisher, founded the Fisher Body Co.

General Motors purchased an interest in the firm in 1919 and in 1926 Fisher Body Co. became a division of GM. Fisher was made a vice president of GM in 1925 and was placed in charge of the firm's Cadillac division.

Fisher introduced the LaSalle as a companion car to the Cadillac in 1927 and in 1930 introduced America's first 16-cylinder car, the Cadillac V-16. Later in the year, he introduced a Cadillac V-12.

Fisher, a GM director since 1924, became vice president in charge of the body division in 1941.

In 1944, Fisher and three of his brothers who held GM executive positions resigned from their posts. No reason ever was given. Lawrence and his brother Edward, however, continued as directors.

The elder Kennedy came back to Cape Cod Sunday after vacationing on the French Riviera. At Barnstable Airport, he was greeted by Ethel Kennedy, wife of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and five of their seven children.

The former ambassador to Great Britain observes his 73rd birthday Wednesday. Ethel Kennedy also is marking a birthday this weekend.

The construction plans are the result of a resolution adopted by the commission June 12 in which it was decided to build new tennis courts at West Lincoln and Lachlea streets and in Crestview Park.

The plans call for putting two courts at the south end of Crestview Park so there will be space available for the addition of two more courts at a later date, according to Killeen.

The courts on the south side of West Lincoln will be built on the old water well site between Westchester and Larchlea streets, he said.

Two Astronauts Spend Weekend at Selfridge

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—America's first two men in space, taking the routine flight practice required of all military pilots—flew into Selfridge Air Force Base over the weekend.

The Houston Post said in a copyright story Sunday night that the engine of the jet the men were flying broke a rotor blade.

Grissom and Shepherd, who left Sunday, were secretive about their weekend activities. Only a few men on base knew they were there.

Confirm Nomination of Rep. Machrowicz

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed the nomination of Rep. Thaddeus M. Machrowicz, D-Mich., to be a federal judge for the Eastern District of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The Senate acted Friday only a few hours after the nomination was approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The Polish-born congressman from Hamtramck was nominated by President Kennedy just a week ago to succeed Judge Frank Picard, who recently retired from the federal bench at Detroit.

The blue mold that gives Roquefort cheese its distinctive flavor is penicillium roqueforti, which is similar to the mold that produces penicillin.

JFK to Push Medical Care for Aged in '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says he will give a strong push next year to his program of medical care for the aged, bypassed by Congress this year.

In reply to a letter from Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., chairman of a Senate Special Committee on the Aged, Kennedy wrote:

"I consider the proposal to provide health insurance for the aged under Social Security one of the most important measures I have advocated.

"I intend to recommend that this legislation be given the highest priority at the next session of Congress."

There are about 7,000 hospitals in the U.S.

Vetoes Pan Am Plan to Dispose of Stock

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) has informed Pan American World Airways that its plan to dispose of stock held in National Airlines is unsatisfactory.

Pan Am had proposed that a trustee hold its shares in National under a trust agreement until they were sold.

The CAB said this could result in Pan Am holding the stock indefinitely. It gave Pan Am 20 days to come up with a new disposal plan, but added that it would consider a two-year limit on a trust agreement.

The total cost of all United States airline jet-powered aircraft now in use and on order is about $3.5 billion.

Free Press Pickets Still Under Restraint

DETROIT (AP) — A temporary order barring picketing of the Detroit Free Press by striking Miami Herald pressmen will remain in effect until a ruling is made on a National Labor Relations Board request for a permanent injunction.

Chief U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin said Friday that he would allow 10 days for preparation of federal court records of the hearing on the NLRB request for a permanent injunction. The hearing ended at noon today.

The temporary injunction barring picketing was issued by Levin Aug. 24 after the NLRB said the picketing was a secondary boycott and therefore illegal.

East Berlin Air Waves Hot Inside Cold War Tension

By BOB CONSIDINE

BERLIN—If there is ever a war over Berlin, a conventional war that does not immediately blast everybody to bits, it will be the first military conflict in history on live television.

And with ratings involved, too. West and East Berlin television stations battle as enthusiastically for audiences as NBC and CBS once fought with Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan.

Both sides of this divided city are superbly equipped electronically.

The two channels—number five for the Communists and number seven for the West Berliners—constantly vie for the viewer's attention. The American visitor who is bored by the channel of freedom finds himself uneasily switching to the channel of infamy.

We drew our blinds at the "Comrade" Hilton the other day during an Emil Jannings revival of the early early show, searched all closets and under beds, looked furtively from side to side, then turned on channel five.

We expected that the man in the raincoat and porkpie hat from the CIA would knock on the door immediately. He didn't.

* * *

Channel five was having a station break. Then some East German bum came on and sang "Swanee River" in English. He followed it with "Old Man River." Very good, too. Then he put a rap on Adenauer.

* * *

In World War II and in probably every other war in history, except the miserable business in Korea, the enemy tried to reach the ear or eye of the defender or invader or whatever he was, in the hope of reducing him to jelly by means of music he understood, by sweet talk, or by telling him how badly he was being treated at the front while his wife or his girl back home was galavanting around with some oily haired black marketeer.

In the big war we had all this and more from Gertie from Bizerte, Axis Sally, Tokyo Rose, and some bum named Lord Haw Haw. Our guys listened to the babes, mostly to hear the good records they played. And for laughs.

One of the big laughs of the otherwise grim Pacific war was the broadcast Tokyo Rose made the morning after the tough night a detachment of Sea-Bees hacked a secret landing field in the jungle of some forlorn island on the road to the Japanese mainland.

As they threw themselves on their blankets at dawn, completely pooped, Rose came on the air and cooed:

STRIP IS SHOWING

"Don't look now, boys, but your strip is showing."

Capt. Jack Maloney of Port Jervis, N.Y., a Korean combat veteran who runs Berlin's fine Armed Forces Network radio outlet, let us hear today a sample of what the East German radio is beaming at the troops we have assembled here since Walter Ulbricht became warden of a city prison with one million inmates Aug. 13.

The voice was soft, southern and as American as bounty grits. It came on OPS—Berlin, the East Berlin radio, after a somewhat surprising theme song, "Don't Fence Me In."

It said, "This is the real voice of information and education," paraphrasing justly proud the motto of AFN.

It introduced a corn-pone type named "Mr. Stringbean" who told a disgusting barnyard story that would bring about the cancelation of any American station's license. He spoke the news, too, beamed—he said—"to you unlucky guys patrolling the border." It sympathized with them because "you're caught in the walled up city of West Berlin."

The only walled up city is, of course, East Berlin.

OPS—Berlin has made special broadcasts to West Berlin husbands, too, stating that "Texas Rangers" among the new American troops have boasted they will seduce all young West Berlin wives and frauleins.

* * *

It further charged, the other night, that the West Berlin government had hired stripteasers from local honky tonks to stand near the wall, peel, and entice otherwise noble East Berliners to attempt to vault over. The West Berlin radio and TV blasts back, with more decorum to be sure, but just as vigorously.

And so it goes, a hot war within appoint. Phil Silvers is an interim cold war. United Nations should mediary.

$90,000 to Oak Park for Carver Tuition

"A check in the amount of $90,000 has been mailed to the Oak Park School District Board of Education. It is a grant to settle tuition claims owed the Detroit School System incurred by the now nonexistant Carver School District," announced Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

The Carver School District was annexed to the Oak Park School District on Nov. 10, 1960.

Last year the board of education of the Carver School District, without a high school for its students and no place to send them, resigned. The county superintendent was then required by law to hold an election to elect another board of education.

The citizens of the Carver School District found themselves in the unusual situation of an election being called with no candidates. No votes were cast. Immediately after, the county superintendent and the Oakland County Board of Education, ordered the Carver School District attached in whole to the Oak Park School District.

SPECIAL APPROPRIATION

Dr. Bartlett said, "We realized at the time the many difficulties that would ensue, not the least of which were the debts that had been incurred by the Carver School District. In an attempt to alleviate some of the problems facing the Oak Park School District in this situation, we asked for a special appropriation of $150,000 by the Legislature.

"This would include supplemental appropriations to certain state agencies and special purposes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

"The Legislature approved a grant to the Oak Park School District to settle tuition claims for the education of children from the Carver School District prior to annexation to the Oak Park School District by the Oakland County Board of Education action. The amount of the grant is $90,000.

College English Is Criticized

Liberal Arts Schools Told to Clamp Down on Future Instructors

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Liberal arts colleges have been told they must turn out teachers better prepared to teach English in high schools.

The advice came from Harold C. Martin of Harvard University, chairman of the commission of English of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB).

Dr. Warner G. Rice of the University of Michigan, chairman of the commission's summer institute subcommittee, said, "The training of teachers in the English departments of the liberal arts colleges receives little attention."

IMMEDIATE GOAL

Improvement of high school English teaching is the immediate goal of the commission but the ultimate target is the liberal arts colleges which turn out 70 per cent of the nation's high school English teachers.

The colleges, which have been free with their criticism of the high school product, were criticized, in turn, by top officials of the commission.

Tucked away in the CEEB's program to improve high school English instruction is a financial item for taxpayers.

* * *

One of the aims is to reduce the teaching load for English teachers from 150 students a day (which is fairly normal) to 100 students a day.

To do this would mean a 50 per cent increase in the number of English teachers in a high school.

Medical Man Traces Stealing to Ergophobia

NORWICH, England (AP) — The cause of stealing among youth, the British Institution for the Advancement of Science was told, is just plain and simple ergophobia — a loathing for work.

Dr. C. B. R. Pollock, medical officer of Portland Borstal Institution (reform school for young men) told the organization's psychology section he studied 300 thieves and found 208 had been unemployed, 14 irregularly employed and only 78 in paid work.

Grandma Moses Won't Hold Still, Even at Age 101

HOOSICK FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Grandma Moses, who will be 101 Thursday, is playing tricks on her doctor.

She hid his stethoscope because he would not let her paint while she is in a rest home.

COMPLETE REST

"You take me back to Eagle Bridge (Grandma's home) and you'll get back your stethoscope," Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses insisted.

Dr. Clayton E. Shaw barred the paints while Grandma is in Hoosick Falls Health Center. The doctor said if she had them, the renowned primitive artist would use them but "She's going to get a complete rest."

Grandma gave back the stethoscope.

As Our Nation Has Advanced, So Has Organized Labor

(In keeping with our policy of running guest editorials from time to time, our Labor Day message has been written by Cecil C. Mullinix, president of Pontiac Motor Local 653, UAW-CIO.)

By CECIL C. MULLINIX

During the lifetime of many readers of this column, we have seen man progress in the area of aerial flight from a brief 12 second period at Kitty Hawk, N.C., to a 25 hour journey into outer space. We have seen the advent of talking movies, television, a vaccine for polio, and many lesser items.

MULLINIX

We have also seen the labor movement grow from a struggling infant to a strong healthy giant using its strength for the best interests of the people it represents.

Today marks the 79th anniversary of Labor Day when the old Knights of Labor in 1882 set aside the first Monday in September to pay tribute to those who work for a living. Since that day American labor has blazed a long trail with many victories despite many disappointments. Organized labor's advance has been tremendous considering the powerful economic and political forces which opposed it in the early stages and up to three decades ago. Today it has a membership of some 15 million.

★ ★ ★

Labor Day 1961 marks another important year of progress. As this is written, the United Automobile Workers have just concluded a contract with one of the auto makers that includes sharing of company profits and other economic advantages which will become an anchor for further progress in the labor movement.

★ ★ ★

That future holds many problems, only the misinformed and reactionary will deny. Literally speaking, the world is on fire. Communism, working to defeat democracy, is our greatest threat. If democracy is ever threatened in America, organized labor will be a formidable bulwark in its defense because without democracy there is no labor movement. Free labor working in a free society will never allow the hammer and sickle to fly over the great American Labor Force.

★ ★ ★

On this Labor Day 1961, we should be thankful that we live in a country which guarantees the rights of labor as well as the rights of management. Each year we see more of the tremendous advantages of the democratic way of life, and, while almost every individual has differences of opinion on various political, religious, and social issues, let us thank God that, as a part of our American heritage, we have a Constitution which gives us the privilege to publicly express our views.

The Peach Crop

Is a Good One and the Quality is Excellent

September: What's generally called an autumn month, although officially only about one-third in that season.

Some samples of Michigan Fair Haven peaches, exhibited by distributor of consumer marketing information, settle one thing. They prove that our state raises this delicious fruit in a manner that exceeds anything shipped in from that so-called "Peach State," down Dixie way, or from any other of the 50 states, or from Canada or any foreign country.

Mrs. Josephine Lawyer,

Mrs. Lawyer says our crop is somewhat larger than last year, the quality excellent, and that during the next few days will be the best time to secure peaches for canning.

The Old Farmer's Almanac promises a mixed weather for the Pontiac area this week:

"Sunny days; showers and haze."

From the current issue of that very interesting GMC News, of which is editor, I learn that in 1910 there were 799 trucks and 58,114 horse drawn vehicles in Chicago. Now the horses are practically gone, and the number of trucks is above all calculation—and a large portion of them were made in Pontiac.

I like that caption on the stationery of Davison, that enterprising Genesee County city:

Sports Cars Causing Hazardous Driving

Pontiac has an especial stake in everything pertaining to automobiles. Hence, we read with unusual interest an editorial in the Los Angeles Times that pertains to a serious traffic situation.

The Times is concerned over these tiny midget cars that can't be seen normally, either on the road or in parking lots. The editorial says:

"Nearly everybody has swung around a dawdling car in a freeway and, turning into the space ahead, found with embarrassment and some peril that it was already occupied by one of those diminutive automobiles he couldn't see because of all the surrounding iron.

★ ★ ★

"People who maneuver into parking lots—and parking lot attendants—complain that they swing into an apparently open space and collide, or nearly collide, with things so small they can't be seen in the higher surrounding automotive scenery.

★ ★ ★

"On the seas there are international rules requiring vessels to indicate their size and description by their lights. Why wouldn't it be a good thing if the owners and competitors of the small cars arrived at some identification arrangements?

★ ★ ★

"An indignant citizen in a North Hollywood municipal court made this suggestion the other day when he was brought to the bar on the charge he had violated the right of way of a little bug he couldn't see. He told the judge such cars as the one he almost ran down should be required to carry flags on suitable staffs. The judge seemed to think well of the suggestion; he suspended the plaintiff's $15 fine.

★ ★ ★

"It's not a bad idea. The little sports cars, or whatever you call them, ought to be seen as well as driven, if not for their own protection for the safety of those who don't want to run over them and be brought to court for their honest mistake."

Correspondent Traces Berlin Barrier

'Wall of Shame' Follows Long Path

Editor's Note: West Berliners call it "the Chinese wall" or "the wall of shame." It is the barrier built across Berlin to keep East Germans at home. AP correspondent Lynn Heinzerling followed the barrier along from beginning to end. Here is his description of the wall, goes and what happens along it.

By LYNN HEINZERLING

BERLIN (AP) — The little yellow streetcar marked Rudow bumps along the Waltersdorfer Chaussee until it reaches the barbed wire across the road. It is usually empty except for the motorman. This is the end of the line, the southern end of West Berlin, the end of freedom.

The barbed wire is the border with the Soviet zone of Germany. Just a little beyond Waltersdorfer Chaussee, another line of barbed wire hung on eight-foot concrete poles threads north through the green pastures of Rudow.

This is the beginning of the wall that divides Berlin, the closely guarded line of concrete and rusty barbed wire with which the Communists pen in 1.2 million East Berliners.

Bushes and trees east of the wire have been cleared to give the people's police, the Vopos, a good field of fire against anyone bold enough to try climbing the wire. Fruit trees were cut down. Even the small home of a widow too near the line was destroyed.

★ ★ ★

A mile north through the rolling countryside and the stacked wheatfields, the barbed wire comes up to Koepenickerstrasse. A six-foot concrete wall topped with barbed wire stretches across the road. Then the line of barbed wire posts follows the Teltow Canal.

For a while, the canal is framed by small gardens. Dahlias, roses, petunias are in brilliant bloom. Small boys play along the western side of the canal. Two old German men look across to the Vopos on the east side.

'LIKE OLD DAYS'

"It's like the old days with Adolf," one says.

"Ja, but when it gets tough 80 per cent of the Vopos will come over to our side.

Not far away the Vopos shot and killed a man trying to swim to freedom.

At the end of Stubenrauchstrasse, a little bridge over the canal is blocked by a concrete wall. As American weapons carrier driven up to the bridge and a sergeant raises his binoculars.

"There are three of them over there," he says. The Reds are putting in a second line of concrete posts and barbed wire along their side here.

★ ★ ★

Every road leading up to the canal from the east is blocked with a wall. Children on bicycles ride up to the barbed wire across the canal and stare at the West. They ride away when Red patrols appear.

For several miles the barbed wire winds through green countryside. Then it crosses Sonnenallee, one of seven official breaks in the wall. West Berliners stand in the street, waving handkerchiefs to friends and relatives on the other side. Some West Berliners bring binoculars.

FOLLOWS RAILWAY

There are more gardens nearby, but the line is now getting into the thickly populated part of Berlin. Still barbed wire with a wall across every street, then more wall than wire.

The line follows the S Bahn (Berlin Railway) briefly, then makes a sharp turn to swallow up large blocks of apartments in East Berlin.

It returns to the S Bahn again. Stations where West Berliners caught trains into the city now are fenced off.

Soon the 25-mile barrier of concrete and wire is out among the wheatfields and cabbage patches again. You drive up to the concrete wall across the Blankenfelder Chaussee in Luebars.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Harmless Drafts Blamed for Virus-Spread Colds

Q—You contended recently there is no harm in drafts," writes one gentle critic. "You are wrong. I'm just now suffering a disagreeable experience from a draft. At a Washington function, I was seated in a draft. I had on a low-neck dress and was without a scarf. Protocol seated me where I was and I couldn't move. In less than a week I had a chill and am just now recovering from pneumonia. And you say drafts are harmless?"

A—Were you alone at this function? Isn't it just possible that you were seated near someone who was harboring infective organisms in her upper respiratory passages? And couldn't your pneumonia have been the result of the transfer of those organisms to you when your neighbor coughed or sneezed in your general direction?

Q—"I resent your satirical comments about drafts. Let me remind you that plants, as well as people, suffer from drafts. A steady draft can kill a plant. But perhaps you don't number any hypochondriac plants among your acquaintances?"

A—It's true that I have no hypochondriac plants among my friends and acquaintances. But, for years, we've had plants in our entrance hall where they must have had draft exposure every time the front door was opened or closed. And they thrived. And I wasn't Grucho Fields' "biggest aspidistra in the land" situated right next to the old hat rack, just behind the entrance door?

"The frankness you display in your column is most refreshing," writes another. "Keeping the public in the dark seems to be the order of the day in most services and professions. So it is with distinct admiration that I salute columns such as yours on acetylsalicylic acid and the more expensive preparation in which aspirin is the important ingredient. Thanks to you I'm going to have cheaper headaches from now on."

★ ★

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

★ ★ ★

Q. My baby was a premature and had to be placed in an incubator right after birth.

When I first saw her, I was sure she was perfectly normal. I am positive I saw her move both legs as babies do. But when I got her home, she was unable to move her left leg.

I don't know what could have happened to her and I don't care so long as she isn't going to be lame all her life.

Is there anything I can do right now to save her from being a cripple?

A. Prematures are very susceptible to infection and it is the custom in most hospitals to protect them with injections of antibiotics.

When these injections are given in the buttocks, there is a chance of injuring a branch of the sciatic nerve.

This could be what happened to your baby. In a recent hospital, satisfactory recovery was noted in 9 of 10 children who suffered this unfortunate accident.

If you have not already done so before publication of this response, you should consult an orthopedic surgeon immediately, for recovery will be speeded and perhaps assured by skillful use of splints and perhaps surgery.

'Help Americans Before Foreigners'

The United States is trying to buy friends. I read that we added a country, and it insisted upon gold. It would not take American bills. If this was kept up, our gold supply would be drained.

We aided Laos and when we refused to give them more they turned to the Soviet Union. We thought we alone had gained a friend, the Soviet Union had also gained another friend.

★ ★ ★

I feel sorry for those without money for food and clothing, but to give them money to build military strength they might use against us is silly.

Last summer I traveled along the back roads of the United States. I was ashamed of the homes supported on barrels, washing machines and davenports on the front porches, no painted houses, not to mention what might have been inside.

★ ★ ★

Let's aid the United States first. Then when we have something to be proud of, aid those in other countries.

Oversupply of Sugar in Cuba at Present

A Cuban arrival tells me Cuba is suffering from a glut of sugar. Estimates vary, but the concensus is that over 4.5 million tons of sugar are bursting the seams of warehouses. In the interior, the storage situation has become so serious that churches and schools are being used to store sugar.

Inexperienced cane cutters have ruined sugar fields for the 1962 crop by cutting the cane too short. Russians demand that sugar be shipped in top quality jute bags, available only in India, and payable only in dollars. Russian ports are not prepared to handle bulk sugar shipments.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Triangle' Helps Correct Stuttering

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-485: Donnie B., aged 11, is very unhappy.

"Dr. Crane," his jittery mother began, "Donnie stutters terribly.

"It began in his second year of school. I've tried to correct him and his Daddy also scolds him, but he is even worse than ever.

"Donnie used to be left handed. Could the fact we converted him into using the right hand, have caused his stuttering?

DR. CRANE

"And is there anything else we can do to help him?"

WHY STUTTER

Stuttering is a first cousin to blushing, stage fright, spastic colitis and other nuisance habits.

Reassure the victim that he is not a freak. Tell him about the many famous men who stuttered, including Moses and Demosthenes, the former king of England and millions of others.

But remind him that Demosthenes overcame his stuttering and became the world's foremost orator.

★ ★ ★

Changing a left-handed child into a right-handed should have no effect on causing him to stutter, unless you yell at him chronically and make him self-conscious.

For stuttering is a specific habit that fastens upon the muscles functioning at the very moment we may be socially embarrassed or ashamed.

If a child thus mispronounces a word in school and is laughed at, his nervous tension may fasten upon his throat muscles.

★ ★ ★

You can best understand stuttering by looking at the "Stutter Triangle." For stuttering usually develops as follows:

(1) While we are using normal conversational tones.
(2) And our native language (English in the U.S.A.).
(3) As we are talking to human beings.

We can break our slavery to the "Stutter Triangle" just by changing any corner thereof.

IMITATE DEMOSTHENES

Change the tones as at (1) by singing. Or imitate Charlie McCarthy and try to be a ventriloquist, for then the stutterer will be free from his bondage.

Demosthenes altered the situation at (1) by placing pebbles in his mouth, for then the "normal conversational tones" were changed.

After (2), as by speaking in a foreign language, and the stutterer again will converse smoothly.

I knew a New Yorker who stuttered terribly in English. But when he telephoned his French sweetheart, he could speak fluently in French, for his stutter habit had originated while he spoke English.

Change (3), as by speaking to dogs or horses or even the waves of the ocean, as Demosthenes did, and again you have smashed another corner of your "Stutter Triangle," so you will become free.

One of the quickest devices I have used to help stuttering patients is to have them bite down on one side of their tongue with their back teeth muscles.

Then, holding the tongue imprisoned, they can now talk freely, for this bizarre situation immediately alters the corner at (1), like the use of pebbles in his mouth by Demosthenes.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Con-Con Delegates' Facilities Will Be Like Miniature U.N.

LANSING (AP) — Delegates to the constitutional convention which opens Oct. 3 will have quarters befitting the importance of their task of revising or rewriting Michigan's 53-year-old basic document.

In fact, their working space at Lansing's impressive and virtually new civic center will be reminiscent of the United Nations.

"The architects didn't have the constitutional convention in mind when they designed the civic center," said Howard J. Stoddard, Lansing, chairman of the governor's con-con commission.

★ ★ ★

"But they could hardly have done a better job if they had planned it especially for con-con."

The convention will occupy a self-contained wing at the Southeast corner of the sparkling white building.

Quarters will include the so-called small auditorium, which also is called the ballroom, a large lounge and offices on the first floor.

LARGE DINING ROOM

On the basement level, delegates will occupy a large dining room, another lounge, a snack bar and meeting rooms.

Soundproofed partitions will convert the dining room into several large committee rooms.

In the auditorium, the 144 delegates will be seated in a pattern similar to the one used at the United Nations building. The auditorium will be revamped so the delegates, seated at their curving desks, will face a new rostrum along the north side of the room.

★ ★ ★

At each end of the long auditorium will sit non-delegates. Reporters will be on the stage at the west end and, at the east end, about 140 spectators will be able to watch from seats raised above floor level. A glass panel six or eight feet high will be placed in front of the spectators.

Overflow spectators will be able to watch on closed circuit television from a nearby lounge, said Secretary of State James M. Hare, a con-con commission member and head of a group preparing alteration plans.

The convention may last as long as six or seven months. Much of the time will be spent in committee hearings rather than in general sessions.

CAN HANDLE HUNDREDS

"The committee rooms can handle several hundred spectators without any trouble," said Hare.

The converted dining room will handle some of the larger committee hearings and the auditorium itself may be pressed into service.

"Skeet" is an old Scandinavian word for "shoot" but skeet shooting is an American invention of about 1910.

Young People Working During Summer Told Education Means Jobs

DETROIT (UPI)—The director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission has some strong advice for Michigan young people wondering whether to return to school or stay with the jobs they got during the summer.

★ ★ ★

The advice: "Go back to school."

Director Max M. Horton said surveys clearly show that more education means better jobs and more money.

Young people who drop out of school "face a tremendous handicap in their future lives," Horton said. By dropping out of school they place a voluntary limit upon the amount of money they can earn, upon the place in this competitive world to which they may aspire."

★ ★ ★

Advances in technology require more and more skill of workers and when jobs are hard to get, it is the unskilled and uneducated who are put out of work, Horton said.

★ ★ ★

Nearly one and a half million persons will become 18 years old in Michigan in the present decade, Horton said, and competition in the labor market will be stiff.

Find Skeleton of Boy, 8; Died 30,000 Years Ago

VERONA, Italy (UPI) — The skeleton of a 7-or 8-year-old boy who died 30,000 years ago has been found in a cave alongside a waterfall in the mountains near Verona.

It was the first human skeleton ever found in Paleolithic Era cave burials in this section of Italy.

Giovanni Solinas, Verona archeologist who found the skeleton, said the child has been prepared for burial by bending the knees up under the stomach and placing the hands over the face.

★ ★ ★

The Verona Museum of Natural Sciences has ordered further excavation in the cave.

Name Civil Engineer Mayor of Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Moscow Soviet Saturday elected Nikolay Dygay the city's new mayor, Tass reported.

★ ★ ★

Dygay, 53, one-time boiler maker, is a civil engineer by profession, the news agency said.

It described him as "one of the most prominent Soviet organizers of capital construction" who lately served as first deputy minister of transport construction.

Moscow's former mayor, Nikolay Bobrovnikov, has been named deputy chairman of the State Science and Economics Council.

Link Birth Month to Mental Illness

Individuals Born Early in Year More Sensitive, Researchers Claim

CHICAGO (AP)—Persons born the first four months of the year are more likely to suffer mental illness than persons born at other times, two researchers report.

Persons born in the second third of the year, May-August, are least likely to be numbered among the mentally ill, they say.

★ ★ ★

The researchers, Herbert Barry III of New Haven, Conn., and Herbert Barry Jr. of Boston analyzed the birth dates of 30,000 mental patients identified in seven studies.

Their findings, reported in the Archives of Psychiatry, indicate that the season of birth has "important implications in psychiatric illness."

SEASON INFLUENCES

The Barrys wrote, "a certain season of the year is likely to have permanent pathological effects upon mental development when that season coincides with a certain critical stage of the baby's development either before or after birth."

★ ★ ★

But they said most babies are born healthy, no matter when they arrive, and that their observations have no predictive value to be helpful in any individual case.

Cancer strikes at an average of two out of three American families.

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim, during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 30 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

All's Fair in Love, Tennis

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I met a certain boy at a party about three weeks ago, and we liked each other right away. He called me up and asked me if I would like to play tennis with him. I had to turn him down because I don't know how to play tennis, but I didn't tell him that was the reason. I pretended I had already made plans to do something else. I would like to see him again, but what shall I do if he calls and asks me to play tennis again?

IRISH EYES

ABBY

DEAR IRISH: Accept—then ask him to teach you. You might net yourself a boy friend. It's an old racket.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: This is a request for help. My sister-in-law reads your column daily, and maybe she will take the hint and please leave me alone.

She comes to my place, and holds me up on my work. She sees that I am busy, but she talks while I try to get my work done. She gabs about people I don't know, and runs down the people I like. Have you any hints on how I can keep her away?

DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: Yes. Tell her you can't enjoy her company when you are working, so please telephone before she comes over. And when she telephones, tell her you are busy.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have seen so many brides get duplicate gifts for shower and wedding gifts. They can't possibly use three toasters and four coffeemakers, so, of course, they have to go to all that trouble of taking them back for an exchange. I think the best gift for a bride is money. That way she can put it to good use for something she hasn't got. Don't you think it would be all right to add at the bottom of a wedding invitation, "No gift, please. Money preferred."?

TO BE WED

DEAR TO BE WED: No, dear. Nothing goes on the wedding invitation but the postage stamp.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO ART: Don't expect others to forgive you for a sin they are dying to commit themselves.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to The Pontiac Press.

Give Gentle Care

Summer sports and the outdoor life are fine for figures but are sometimes rough on skin. Many a girl who has been a good sport has the black and blue marks to prove it. Bumps and bruises should be treated by pressing with cold compresses of good quality witch hazel. After applying the astringent the discoloration can often be camouflaged by an artful covering with cosmetics.

The word "carat" used to measure jewels comes from a small orinetal bean which was known as the "carob."

Victory for Organized Labor

Minimum Wage Boost Now Reality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor chalked up a long cherished goal on this Labor Day weekend—a boost in the amount and scope of the federal minimum wage.

Legislation adopted by Congress earlier this year went into effect Sunday raising the wage floor for 24 million workers already covered by the law from $1 to $1.15 an hour, and fixing a $1 minimum for 3.6-million workers previously exempt.

★ ★ ★

For regularly covered workers the required minimum pay level will go to $1.25 an hour in 1963. For the newly covered group it will go to $1.15 in 1964 and to $1.25 in 1965.

President Kennedy's Labor Day message said the minimum wage changes should be a source of satisfaction to the nation, along with housing, social security, area redevelopment and other economic aid measures recently adopted by Congress.

TYRANNY DEPRIVES

Kennedy said that again on Labor Day there was a clear distinction between opposing ways of life in the modern world—between freedom and tyranny.

★ ★ ★

"We look upon man's toil as an expression of individual personality and will—not a commodity to be exploited for the benefit of a state or ruling party," the President said. "Tyranny deprives a man of the freedom and joy of his work."

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg counted these blessings on Labor Day 1961:

More than 68.5-million Americans at work, average factory earnings at a record $94 a week, average per person income after taxes at $1,974 a year, highest in the world personal income at $420 billion and national output at $515 billion, both at record highs.

Goldberg counted as shortcomings, however, the more than 5.5 million unemployed and the fact many industries are operating below full capacity.

PUBLIC WELFARE

"I am confident that both free labor and free management will respond with renewed purpose to their responsibilities," Goldberg said, "They will need to accommodate their own interests to the over-riding interest of the public welfare."

George Meany, America's top labor union leader as president of the AFL-CIO said it was too bad that only on the Labor Day weekend once a year was there a pause in what he said was an otherwise constant "barrage of criticism and attack" against unions in publications and broadcasts.

"American labor wants to be treated with respect and fairness not only on Labor Day, but throughout the year," Meany said. "It deserves nothing less."

About 2.5-million workers will get pay raises worth well over $500 million a year beginning next week because of the minimum wage law changes.

The world's largest capacitator is being completed at the Los Alamo Scientific Laboratory. Called Zeus, after the thunderbolt-hurtling god, the device can deliver a 40-million-ampere bolt—equal to the entire electrical output of the United States—for a period of 10 microseconds.

The heaviest known materials are usually metals, but some metals are also among the lightest in weight.

Greece Rejects Criticism of NATO

ATHENS (AP) — Greece has rejected a protest by Communist Bulgaria against NATO maneuvers to be held in the Alexandroupolis area Sept. 14-17.

The Bulgarians charged the maneuvers "can be considered as an immediate preparation for aggression against our country."

The area is on the Aegean sea about 30 miles south of the Bulgarian border.

Monetary Justice Dealt by Open-Handed Judge

ALBANY (AP) — Stanley W. Forsack, Long Beach, N.Y., has reason to believe there's generosity as well as majesty in the law.

When traffic recorder John E. Holt-Harris Jr. fined him $135 for speeding and passing a red light, Forsack said he didn't have that much. The judge made it $30.

Forsack emptied his wallet — $29.

Judge Holt-Harris dug into his pocket and lent Forsack the extra $1.

Are Beaten Tigers Dead, or Just Temporarily Tamed?

Scheffing Gives Credit to Yanks After 8-5 Loss

3rd Consecutive Defeat Puts Detroit 4½ Behind in AL Flag Race

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Detroit Tigers aren't dead, they seem at least thoroughly tamed after yesterday's game at Yankee Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Some were still smiling in the visiting clubhouse after absorbing their third straight defeat at the hands of the New York Yankees but it seemed too put on.

"That Yankee luck," a veteran Tiger growled. "How can you beat it? I've been trying for 10 years and I still haven't come close."

Tiger manager Bob Scheffing was much more charitable — and more realistic.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know about their being lucky," he said soberly, still shaken by the ninth inning 8-5 defeat which dumped Detroit 4½ games behind the American League leaders.

"I do know they are good—darn good. You can't take anything away from them. We gave them our best shot and it wasn't good enough.

★ ★ ★

"We just can't seem to get them out in this ball park. Every time we get a run ahead, they come up with two more runs."

That's what happened yesterday.

The Tigers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning against Bill Stafford but Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra homered in the bottom of the half to put the Yankees ahead, 3-1.

★ ★ ★

Detroit finally regained the lead with two runs in the top of the ninth, 5-4. Mantle, first batter to face Gerry Staley, smashed his second homer and 50th of the season to tie the score. Minutes later, Elston Howard hit a three-run homer off Ronnie Kline to give the Yanks a sweep of the three-game set.

★ ★ ★

"Those Yankees have a monopoly on everything but bad luck," said Tom Ferrick, the Tigers' pitching coach. "They've just got too many horses. They're especially tough in the late innings."

Scheffing, who had hoped to win at least two out of three games here, couldn't conceal his disappointment.

"You've still got four games with them in Detroit," a fellow suggested, referring to the Sept. 14-18 series at Tiger Stadium.

"Yeah," he replied, "but we've got to win our games before then if we're to get back into the race."

"Maybe we can battle back," said Ferrick. "We did it before. I hope we can stay within reach of them. If we can get another shot at first place, maybe things will go our way. It doesn't hurt to try."

Goldsmith's Pontiac Wins 100-Mile Race

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores posted a record time of one hour, 10 minutes and 15 seconds yesterday and won the 100-mile $15,000 stock car race at the Du Quoin State fair.

His share of the purse will be about $5,000.

The old record was one hour, 11 minutes and 15 seconds, set last year by Norm Nelson of Racine, Wis.

Goldsmith also broke the one-mile track record of 42.48 seconds with a time of 41.07 seconds.

Goldsmith, driving a 1961 Pontiac, moved ahead of the 31-car field to stay after the 64th mile.

Mantle's Mates Give Him a New Nickname

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle's teammates on the New York Yankees have a new nickname for him. They call him "B and G." The letters stand for "blood and guts."

Mantle, who has a long history of ailments run true to his nickname Sunday. Playing when he shouldn't have, Mickey slammed two home runs—his 49th and 50th of the season—to help the Yankees to an 8-5 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Mantle strained a muscle in his left forearm while batting in the sixth inning of Saturday's game. He stayed in although he could not swing without excruciating pain. In his one remaining time at bat, he bunted for a single.

Mantle was not expected to play Sunday. Manager Ralph Houk left his name off the pre-game lineup. Cold compresses applied overnight softened the knot in the injured arm but failed to stop the swelling. "It feels like a charley horse," explained Mantle before the game. "The arm hurts when I try to straighten it."

Nevertheless, Mantle insisted on playing. He told Houk the arm didn't hurt.

"I knew he wasn't telling me the truth," Houk said, and I told him, 'now Mick, stop giving me the bull. The arm's all swollen. I frankly don't see how you can swing a bit.'

"So what does the guy do but go out there and hit two into the right field stands during batting practice.

"You see, I'm all right,' he says to me, so I put him in the lineup. I don't figure he'll do much hitting for me but he's still valuable even if only defensively."

Houk was only half right. Mantle was a standout defensively, all right, but offensively...wow.

In the first inning, Mantle smashed a line drive homer into the right field stands. The 49th homer came after Roger Maris had singled with two out off Jim Bunning.

In the ninth, after the Tigers had gone ahead 5-4, Mickey—leading off—hit the second pitch from relief pitcher Gerry Staley into the right field bleachers for his 50th homer. A few minutes later, with two out and two on, Elston Howard came through with a game-winning homer.

WELCOME FOR CASH—Norm Cash presented a few happy moments yesterday when he hit his 33rd homer of the season in the 6th inning at Yankee Stadium. He is welcomed at the plate by the bat boy and shortstop Dick McAuliffe. Cash's homer didn't stop the Tigers from losing 8-5.

GOODBYE BALL!—This was the 50th baseball to go into the stands off the bat of Yankee Mickey Mantle. The New York slugger hit numbers 49 and 50 yesterday and helped wreck the Tigers, 8-5. The 50th came in the 9th inning to tie the score at 5-5.

CROSSED UP TIGERS—Elston Howard (left) and Mickey Mantle did a good job with their bats in crossing up the Detroit Tigers Sunday. Howard hit a three-run homer in the 9th after Mantle tied the score at 5-5 earlier in the inning with his second blast of the game. There were two out when Howard hit his homer.

Webb Suffers Back Injury in Win Over Cards

Lions Have 1 Fullback Left

DETROIT — Detroit Lion fullback Ken Webb will be out of action for a month to six weeks with a back injury suffered in an exhibition game Saturday night, the Lions learned yesterday.

Webb suffered three fractured vertebrae when two St. Louis Cardinal players landed on top of him as he tried to recover a fumble. And the play already had been whistled dead when Webb landed on the ball.

The Lions went on to win, 20-7.

The Lions now face the opening of their National Football season Sept. 16 with only one fullback, Nick Pietrosante. They have one more exhibition game, a rematch in Cleveland with the Browns Friday night.

The Lions broke loose for 10 points within five minutes during the second period Saturday night and dominated play the rest of the way.

Detroit scored on a 50-yard field goal by Jim Martin and quarterback Earl Morrall's dive from the one.

The Cardinals came back with Charlie Johnson's 27-yard scoring pass but make the half time score 10-7.

Detroit put the game away in the fourth quarter on Jim Ninowski's five-yard touchdown pass to Danny Lewis and a 32-yard field goal by Martin.

★ ★ ★

Both the Lions and Browns now stand 3-1 for the exhibition season. Cleveland's lone loss was the opening exhibition against Detroit.

The Browns, however, are regarded as a strong choice to dethrone the Eagles for the Eastern Division title, and are favored for Friday's encounter.

Senators Lose 17 of Last 18

Chisox Pick on Lowly Nats

The Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from Washington Sunday 5-4 and 4-1 to close out their season's schedule against the Senators with 13 victories in 18 meetings.

Juan Pizarro, 24-year-old southpaw set the Senators down on five hits in the second game. Pizarro won his 12th against five losses and was backed up by an 11-hit attack, including three singles by J. C. Martin.

Pinch hitter Billy Goodman rapped a two-run double down the left field line in the ninth inning to win the first game. Billy Pierce, third of four Chicago pitchers, got the victory, his eighth against eight losses.

The White Sox now have won 10 of their last 12 games, while the Senators have lost 17 of 18.

★ ★ ★

Boston took advantage of two key Minnesota errors to score five runs Sunday and then coasted to an 8-6 victory over the Twins.

Two runs scored in the Red Sox third when losing pitcher Camilio Pascual (12-14) threw an attempted sacrifice bunt into left field.

After another trio scored in the fourth, two when winner Tracy Stallard (9-4) hit into a fielder's choice, the Bosox counted three more runs the next inning after Jim Lemon dropped a line drive with two men on base.

Harmon Killebrew clouted a three-run homer, his 38th, for the Twins in the sixth and Lemon and Earl Battey hit solo shots in the eighth.

In other American League games the third place Baltimore Orioles blanked the Cleveland Indians 1-0 in 11 innings behind Steve Barber and the scheduled Los Angeles at Kansas City game was washed out by rain.

Barber gave the Indians five singles, only one of which went out of the infield, in hanging up his 16th victory. He leads the majors in shutouts with seven. The Indians' Gary Bell also was effective, yielding only four hits in his 10 innings on the mound.

But Bob Allen took over in the 11th and issued two walks. He was replaced by Frank Funk, who was greeted by a game-winning single by Ronnie Hansen.

Host Pro Leads at Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Earl Stewart is all set to win the $30,000 Dallas Open today and if he does he will be hailed enthusiastically by the home golf pros everywhere.

Stewart Sunday came from three strokes back into first place at 54 holes with 207 while Arnold Palmer, the great winner, was faltering with a string of bogeys, one a double. Palmer fell into second at 208.

★ ★ ★

If Stewart comes through he'll be the first pro to ever win a PGA tour tournament at his own course. "It is my intentionto do it," he said grimly after his round of 2-under-par 68 that gave him the lead.

Palmer, whose putting fell apart, had other ideas, however. After he had 72 he went out to the putting green and worked a long time. "I believe I now have it in the best shape ever," he said with a grin.

The 32-year-old Stewart was putting well Sunday but he said he actually should have sunk five birdie putts that went by the hole. "I would have made it in nothing if I'd been putting like I did in the first round," he said. Then he went around the 6,800-yard Oak Cliff Country Club in 33 putts.

Cleveland-Detroit Nines Reach Federation Finals

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland eliminated Chicago from the National Amateur baseball federation tournament last night by a 6-3 score and will take on unbeaten Detroit for the championship today.

If once-beaten Cleveland wins over the Motor City nine, a second game will follow to decide the title of the double-elimination tourney.

Earlier yesterday, Cleveland eliminated Dayton, 7-4, and Memphis, Tenn., 7-6; Dayton ousted Flint, Mich., 14-2, and Detroit beat Chicago 9-6.

Cleveland teams have won the tournament 14 times, and Detroit teams have won it eight times since it became an annual affair in 1914.

Browns Now Figure to Dethrone Eagles

The Cleveland Browns, primed to end a three-year draught that has kept them from adding to a bulging bag of titles, are reaching peak performance as the National Football League exhibition season draws to a close.

Losers of their first pre-season test, the Browns won their third in a row Saturday night by overwhelming the Pittsburgh Steelers 28-6 in a rout started on the first play from scrimmage when Jim-my Brown barreled 71 yards for a touchdown.

★ ★ ★

The Browns, who entered the NFL in 1950, won titles seven of the first eight years. The last three seasons they've finished in the runner-up spot, but are given strong support to unseat Philadelphia in the Eastern Conference during the 1961 campaign.

The league champion Eagles kept their record unblemished, winning No. 3 with a 17-10 triumph over Washington, and Chicago trounced Minnesota 30-7.

After Brown's long jaunt, the Steelers (2-2) scored on a 44-yard pass from Bobby Layne to Buddy Dial, but the try for the extra point failed and that was it. Cleveland immediately put the game out of reach as Milt Plum pitched a 20-yard TD strike to Rich Kreitling, then followed with a nine-yard scoring flip to Bobby Mitchell.

★ ★ ★

Two touchdown passes by Sonny Jurgensen, a 45-yarder to fleet Tommy McDonald and a 44-yarder to Pete Retzlaff, powered the Eagles to their triumph against the Redskins (0-4). The lone Washington touchdown came on a 56-yard pass from Ralph Guglielmi to Dick James in the second quarter.

The Bears (2-2) clipped the Vikings (0-4) with three long TD jaunts in the second half. Willie Galimore galloped 61 yards for the first, Roosevelt Taylor lugged a punt 71 yards for another and Charlie Bivins wound up the spree with a 30-yard blast. Minnesota's TD came on Fran Tarkenton's nine-yard bolt.

American Golfers Win Trophy for 17th Time in 18 Attempts

SEATTLE (AP)—Fingerprints on the Walker Cup will be American for two more years.

The gleaming silver trophy, emblematic of amateur golf supremacy between Great Britain and the United States, went to the U. S. Saturday for the 17th time in 18 clashes dating back to 1922.

★ ★ ★

Known best for their power golf, the Americans won with deadly approaching and consistent putting. They swept the four Scots foursome matches Friday and won seven of the eight singles matches Saturday for an 11-1 triumph, matching the all-time record.

The United States won by the same margin in 1928 and by 9-0 in 1936. The winner of each match gets a point. A halved match is not counted.

★ ★ ★

Martin Christmas, 21-year-old rookie, saved the British from a shutout. Playing one-over-par golf for 27 holes and cossting home, he defeated Charles Smith of Gastonia, N. C., 3 and 2.

The invaders' other youngster, 22-year-old Ronald Shade, chased Bob Gardner of New York to the 36th and final hole before succumbing. Shade led at the 18-hole turn, 1 up.

All other American victories were one-sided affairs.

Closed NBA Meeting

Discuss Patterson's Status

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The National Boxing Association's executive committee scheduled a meeting today to consider the status of heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Advance indications were that these two questions would be major topics at the closed-door meeting:

* * *

(1). Should the NBA recognize Patterson's scheduled No. 13 title defense in Boston against Tom McNeely Jr., who doesn't even rank among the NBA's 10 top contenders?

(2). Should Patterson be reprimanded — or perhaps even stripped of his title—for what some NBA people feel has been a violation of the association's year-old regulation governing defense of titles.

A source close to the 14-member executive group said before the meeting that he considered chances of Patterson losing the title "at this time" rather remote.

* * *

However, he said he expected that the committee would issue a stern warning to the champion and his manager, Cus D'Amato, to defend the heavyweight crown within a specified period or give it up.

Patterson's last defense was March 13 when he stopped Sweden's Ingemar Johnsson in Miami, Fla.

* * *

The source, who declined to be identified, said "there is a strong feeling on the part of a lot of people that McNeely isn't a suitable contender as required by the NBA."

* * *

The Maryland State Athletic Commission was expected to propose a resolution urging that the Saturday night fight telecasts originate from scattered sections of the country instead of mostly from New York.

The association's nominating committee has chosen Dr. Charles P. Larsen, a Tacoma, Wash., physician, for its president on a slate of new officers to be submitted at the convention. David Ott of Cleveland is the outgoing president.

Retains Water Ski Title

Twenty-one-year-old Jimmy Jackson Sunday successfully defended his crown as the North American over-all water ski champion.

Jackson, of Cyprus Point, Fla., was first in Sunday's jumping competition — netting a North American record of 134 feet. The old record was 128 feet. He was second in the slaiom and second in the tricks.

The slalom was won by Warren Witherell, 26, of Lake Placid. Al Hill, 28, of Webster, Mass., won the tricks event.

Phils Quit Playing 'Cousins' to Reds

By The Associated Press

The patented, foolproof hex that the Cincinnati Reds have held over the Philadelphia Phillies all season suddenly has conked out and it couldn't have happened at a worse time.

The Reds figured that if they ever went into a slide the good old Phillies would pull them out of it in a hurry. Until Sunday they had won 17 games from them without a defeat this season.

* * *

But something went awry. Instead of meekly succumbing, as the previous scripts called for, the Phillies up and nipped the Reds 3-2.

To make matters worse for the Reds, their chief rivals, the Los Angeles Dodgers, edged the San Francisco Giants, 5-4. So today Cincinnati's league lead stands at a mere 2½ games.

* * *

Elsewhere in the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates dumped the St. Louis Cardinals 8-1, and the Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves split a double-header. The Cubs won the first 6-5 and the Braves the second, curtailed by darkness after six innings, 4-2.

The Phillies scored the winning run in the eighth inning when pinch hitter Wes Covington singled home Bobby Malkmus, running for Charlie Smith who had doubled.

* * *

Jim Owens held the Reds to eight hits, including three by Vada Pinson, and pulled out of a dangerous situation in the ninth when it appeared that the Reds might have made repairs to the hex.

Meanwhile, veteran Gil Hodges drove in two runs—one on a homer—to lead the Dodgers to their triumph over the Giants. Johnny Podres recorded his 18th victory and 100th 'of his National League career, although he wasn't around at the end.

The Dodgers had all their runs in the bag before the Giants chased Podres on Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer. Dick Farrell finished up, and survived rough going in the last two innings, retiring Willie Mays with the bases loaded in the ninth.

* * *

Bob Friend had an easy assignment for the Pirates. He was given a seven-run bulge in the first two innings and coasted all the way. Don Hoak hit a bases-loaded double in the first and Roberto Clemente chipped in with a two-run homer in the second.

The Cubs slugged the Braves in the opener on George Altman's triple with the bases loaded in the eighth. But the Braves turned on the muscle in the second game and won it on Joe Adcock's three-run homer.

WARM BIRDIE—Birdie Tebbetts the new manager of the Milwaukee Braves mops his brow in the dressing room at Wrigley Field in Chicago yesterday after defeating the Cubs, 4-2, in the second game. Tebbetts stepped down as Braves' executive vice president to succeed Charlie Dressen who was fired.

Rain, Kramer Blamed for Tennis 'Recession'

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The low state into which amateur tennis has fallen has been accented by the meager crowds at the national championships—and the main blame is being leveled at Jack Kramer and the weather.

* * *

"We are disappointed with our crowds so far," said Augie Milang, the tournament chairman, "but we hope for an improvement later in the week.

* * *

"The weather has been atrocious. And it's quite true we are being hurt by the absence of the big name personalities. Jack Kramer keeps looping off the cream of the talent before players can establish themselves."

On the Labor Day week-end, here are the round attendance figures for the first three days of the tournament at the West Side Tennis Club, America's court capital:

Friday—2,500.
Saturday—3,500.
Sunday—4,500.

In past years, week - end matches have drawn between 7,000 and 10,000 patrons, with as many as 13,000 jamming the big concrete horseshoe for the finals.

* * *

Kramer's raids on the amateurs certainly have robbed the big amateur tournaments of their glamour. No big name players are left to attract the crowds.

* * *

Top-seeded in the tournament is the bow-legged little southpaw from Queensland, Rod Laver, holder of the Wimbledon championship. America's best bet for the title is Chuck McKinley, a stubby collegian from St. Louis.

Today in the third round, Laver plays Andy Lloyd of Shreveport, La., and McKinley faces Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., a soft-balling giant killer, in what may be the day's best match.

* *

Two other good matches send seventh-seeded Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., against Vic Seixas, 38-year-old former champion, and eighth-seeded Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn against Martin Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill.

* *

But none of the matches has the appeal of the battles of a few years ago involving the Hoads, Rosewalls, Traberts and Seixases.

Things have come to such a pass, in fact, that there is no assurance that the Nationals will be held here next year. There is a strong movement to take them to the West Coast.

'Lone Wolf' Tebbetts Confers With Braves

CHICAGO (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, who replaced Chuck Dressen as field boss of the Milwaukee Braves, has told his players he is a "lone wolf" guy and had better not bump into them after curfew.

"I've had a talk with the players, told them the kind of guy I was and what they could expect from me," said Tebbetts, who stepped out of the club's front office into the job of manager when Dressen was fired Saturday.

* * *

"The players themselves will set their curfew hours and other training regulations," he continued. "I told them I've always been pretty much of a lone wolf and that I might show up anywhere. If I should run into any of them after the curfew they have set themselves, it will be just hard luck. The discipline under the circumstances will be self-imposed.

"The primary emphasis will be on winning, and that, of course includes good condition."

The Chicago Sun-Times said it learned that friction between Dressen and veteran Brave players was a main factor in his removal.

* * *

The newspaper quoted "one of the observers close to the club" as saying: "Dressen was too much of an egotist insofar as baseball was concerned. He never gave anybody else any credit for knowing anything about baseball. He even tried to tell Warren Spahn how to pitch and fellows like Ed Mathews how to hit."

Tebbetts said he was very happy to return to the field.

"Baseball's my life and as vice president of the club my duties weren't even close to it," he said. "I checked the concessions one minute, helped the police detail check out a report the next, and then rushed to the office to handle something else completely foreign to baseball.

"Unless it was a very unusual day, I would have all my work done in three or four hours and was free to go downtown and play bridge at the club. I like bridge but I love baseball.

Complicated Tasks Lie Ahead

Con-Con Delegates--Will They Measure Up?

LANSING (UPI) — Delegates to the 1961 constitutional convention in Michigan who are yet unnamed will have three complicated projects ahead of them starting Oct. 3.

Educating themselves, making intelligent decisions and informing the general public would not appear to be insurmountable problems, but they loom large for the 144 delegates to be elected Sept. 12.

Capitol observers of the legislatures in past years are now speculating whether the con-con delegates will measure up to the task ahead.

★ ★ ★

"One of the first things most of them will have to do will be to read the constitution," said a veteran observer of the Lansing political scene. He said many con-con candidates he has spoken to "are obviously not aware" of what is in the present document.

Michigan's constitution is some 50 pages long in the finely printed copy generally distributed to the public.

Many organizations are fast becoming expert cooks in the already crowded kitchen of advisers awaiting the opportunity to educate the delegates in the ways of concocting a new basic law for Michigan.

MANY ORGANIZATIONS

The Governor's Constitutional Convention Preparatory Commission, the conglomerate "Coordinating Committee for Con-Con," the State Bar and several other organizations have teams of men dissecting the constitution article by article.

Several of these are planning to present the con-con with proposals for rules of conduct and procedure, a model constitution, committee structure and organization and means of presenting the convention's product to the public.

From the sound of the many plans and viewpoints which will face the delegates on Oct. 3, it will be no great problem to accomplish the first project — educating the delegates.

The only problem will be one similar to that faced by each legislature—finding and taking time to read the many papers and plans submitted.

Presumably each candidate is seeking election as a delegate because he feels he is best suited to accomplish the second project —making intelligent decisions.

Pressure to be brought on delegates to consider every question thoroughly is indicated in one rule recommended by the Coordinating Committee for Con-Con, a composite organization of members of the several groups which worked to call the convention.

NO ABSTENTIONS

"No member shall be entitled to abstain from voting on any roll call unless he shall have stated his intention to abstain before the voting starts," the group recommended. "Upon any announcement of intention to abstain, the delegate . . . upon request of five delegates, may be required to state his reasons."

This requirement that a delegate vote on every question is unknown in the state legislature, although it has been suggested several times.

If approved as a convention rule, this would appear to require conscientious study of each and every question if the delegate was to support his "intelligent decision."

★ ★ ★

The third problem poses the most serious concern for the success of the convention—informing the general public.

Lack of information or understanding of the seven months or more of convention work could easily mean failure, regardless of the education of the delegates or the wisdom of their decisions.

It can only be hoped that if the first two projects are accomplished with satisfaction, the public will be kept informed that the delegates are educated and are making intelligent decisions and the public will appreciate the value of the two-way street which the convention poses.

Some of the ancient Greek ships were built with very light framework. They achieved strength through the dovetailing of their planks — a job for skilled cabinetmakers.

Yale Turns the Tables; Loans Money to the City

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — In most communities, local institutions of higher learning often tap town fathers or the alumni for money to finance one project or another, but not so in the elm city.

Yale University has agreed to make a $4.5 million investment loan to aid the city's redevelopment project.

'High Living' Red Youths Get 12 Years for Stealing

MOSCOW (UP) — A Moscow court recently imposed prison sentences of up to 12 years on 11 youths convicted of stealing historic icons for sale to Western tourists.

The newspaper Soviet Culture said the youths sold the stolen museum pieces for dollars and other hard currencies and spent the money on high living.

Yes, Young Man, Draft Calls Are Being Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Young men throughout America are wondering how the Berlin crisis will affect their personal prospects for military service.

Some of their questions are answered below. The answers come from Selective Service and defense officials, and are based on present plans for expansion of the armed forces by about 250,000 men. Any major revision of these plans, in the direction of a larger mobilization of manpower, would of course alter the whole outlook.

Q. Are draft calls being stepped up?

★ ★ ★

A. Yes. The August call was increased from 8,000 to 13,000 men, and the September call has been set at 25,000. It is expected that about 20,000 will be drafted in October. All draftees are being assigned to the Army, which has been authorized to expand from 870,000 men to about 1,000,000.

★ ★ ★

Q. Will deferments be harder to get?

A. No. Selective Service officials anticipate no tightening of the liberal deferment policies which have prevailed in recent years. Nor is there any intention of lowering the high mental and physical fitness standards for military service, which eliminate approximately half of the young men in the draft age group. The principal effect of larger draft calls will be to lower, by a few months, the average age at which men are inducted.

Q. What age is that?

A. It has been about 22, but larger draft calls for the next few months could bring it down to 22½. There is little prospect of anyone being inducted below the age of 22.

Q. How does the draft machinery work?

A. Every young man is required to register with his local Selective Service board within 5 days of his 18th birthday. Unless there is some obvious reason why he is ineligible (for example, if he is already in uniform) he will be given a routine preliminary classification of 1-A, which means available for induction. But this initial classification doesn't mean much. When the local board begins to eye him as an actual prospect for a draft quota—in present circumstances, some time after his 22nd birthday — he will be called in for mental and physical examinations. On the basis of these examinations, about 50 per cent are reclassified 4-F, which means unqualified for military service.

★ ★ ★

Q. How are fathers classified?

A. They are technically classified as 1-A, but under present regulations they cannot be inducted until all eligible nonfathers have been drafted. The practical effect is to exempt fathers, since there is no likelihood of exhausting the nonfather manpower pool short of an all-out mobilization.

Q. What other draft classifications are there?

★ ★ ★

A. 1-AO for conscientious objectors willing to perform non-combatant duty; 1-O for those who have religious scruples against any kind of service in uniform; 1-C for men on active duty; 1-D for members of National Guard or reserve units; 1-S for students granted an automatic temporary deferment, to complete an academic term; 2-S for students who have passed Selective Service mental tests and have been granted indefinite deferments as long as they maintain satisfactory grades in school; 2-A for men granted occupational deferments because they are performing essential jobs in critical defense-supporting industries; 2-C for essential farm workers granted agricultural deferments at the discretion of local boards;

3-A for those whose induction would cause "extreme hardship" to dependents;

4-A for veterans who have fulfilled their military obligation; 4-B for certain elected public officials; 4-C for aliens who are exempt by reason of diplomatic immunity; 4-D for ministers and divinity students; and 5-A for those who are past 26 (the normal cut-off age for draft-eligibility) but who are still technically liable for the draft because they received deferments previously. Under present rules, only 1-As are actually inducted.

Q. What happens to a 1-A when the draft board taps him to fill a quota?

★ ★ ★

A. He is inducted, sent to a basic training center for eight weeks, and then to an advanced training center for another eight weeks, or to a special military school. He serves for two years, wherever the Army sends him, and then is discharged.

★ ★ ★

Q. Can a man classified 1-A beat the draft to the punch by enlisting?

A. Yes, at any time prior to his actual induction notice.

Q. Are there advantages to doing this?

A. The armed forces say there are very substantial advantages to voluntary enlistment. Within limits of military necessity, enlistees are allowed to choose the service (and thereby prepare for a skilled civilian job later), and in some cases can choose where they will be stationed. They also get better breaks on promotions and selection for officer candidate schools.

★ ★ ★

Q. What's the rub?

A. The minimum hitch for voluntary enlistment is 3 years in the Army, 4 years in the other services.

★ ★ ★

Q. Can a man fulfill his military obligation in the National Guard or organized reserves?

A. It's possible, but it is getting fairly hard to do. Men who are accepted for direct enlistment in guard or reserve units spend six months in basic training, and 5½ years in reserve status. Most of those in "ready reserve" units are required to attend weekly drill sessions, and to spend two weeks each summer at a training camp.

To sign up in a guard or reserve unit, a man must find a specific unit which has a vacancy for him, and join that unit.

The number of vacancies is quite limited these days; preference is given to men with prior military service; and no nonveteran over the age of 20 is being accepted directly in the reserves. This latter policy was laid down by the Pentagon recently to insure that guard and reserve units do not become havens for draftdodgers.

★ ★ ★

Q. Where can a man obtain more information about reserve and guard openings?

A. Inquire at his local National Guard Armory or reserve center.

Two Governors Plan to Meet N. Y. Leader to Discuss Program

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — At least two other governors will meet with New York State Chief Executive Nelson A. Rockefeller Sept. 17 in Washington to discuss a coordinated program of civil defense on federal, state and local levels.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, who is chairman of the civil defense committee of The National Governors' Conference, called the special meeting Friday "in view of international developments."

Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida said he will attend.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, another of those who informed Rockefeller that he will attend, said through a spokesman that he is in favor of playing down the urgency of civil defense measures to avoid a scare.

He added, however, that a study of shelter potentialities in state, local and big private office buildings should get under way as quickly as possible.

The office of West Virginia Gov. W. W. Barron said he would send a representative if he cannot rearrange his schedule.

Gov. John A. Notte Jr. of Rhode Island, who has a full schedule of appointments that day, suggested to Rockefeller that he send John M. McGreevey, director of the state council of defense, in his place.

Gov. John Volpe of Massachusetts, who has another commitment, said Rockefeller told him that the date could be changed if enough members of the committee could not attend Sept. 17.

Rockefeller, in making his announcement, said Stuart L. Pittman, assistant secretary of defense, would meet with the committee.

Michigan Tourist Council Airs Problem

Study Cure for Billboard, Bottle Eyesore

By ART UNDERWOOD
United Press International

Gov. John B. Swainson has been circulating memos to all state agencies seeking their ideas on needed legislation or present legislation which should be changed.

This matter came up before the Michigan Tourist Council at its regular meeting in Detroit during the past week.

The points which drew the most attention of the tourist council were of great interest to Michigan outdoorsmen and deserve more consideration than they have apparently received from unorganized sportsmen.

The pesky matter of the one-way beer bottle was one such matter.

Aurey Stropeul, Grand Rapids, a tourist council member, described the no-deposit litter as a hazardous eyesore. That could be an understatement.

The trout fisherman who has stepped on a moss-covered bottle while cautiously working his way into position to cast to a rise might like to use stronger language.

BILLBOARD LAW

Then there is the somewhat related problem of whether Michigan should have a law regulating billboards.

The billboard matter was touched off when the federal government dangled a $5 million check in front of state highway men if the state would pass anti-billboard legislation covering the interstate highway system.

Committees of the legislature began investigating the matter and apparently now have decided that the $5 million one time wouldn't offset repeated tourist dollars which might be lost through lack of advertising.

In the process of the investigation, however, some shoddy billboard practices have come to the attention of the lawmakers which obviously need action.

Some tourist traps in the northern part of lower Michigan have in the past couple of years decided that the thing to do was set up a gaudy, sensational sign advertising their attractions (such as they are) every 20 feet or so for several miles on either side of their establishments.

This hardly comes under the heading of responsible use of some of the state's more attractive real estate.

MANY EYESORES

Admittedly there are many eyesores along Michigan highways ranging from junkyards to gin mills but each of these has some esthetic value in the eyes of some people. Poets have found a kind of beauty in the rusting hulks of cars.

And what do the poets say of billboards? One, Ogden Nash, paraphrased Joyce Kilmer's famous "Tree" thus:

"'I think that I shall never see, a billboard lovely as a tree.

"Perhaps, unless the billboards fall, I'll never see a tree at all."

'Connie,' Queen of the Air, Has Both Beauty, Brawn

By ROBERT J. SERLING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Lockheed Constellation was one of the two "queens" of the nation's postwar air fleet.

It shared with the DC8 the honor of bringing pressurized high-speed, high-altitude flight to millions of passengers. Known as "Connie" to the men who fly it, the Constellation is considered the most beautiful commercial airliner yet built.

The Constellation's eye-catching triple tail and shark like fuselage make it about the easiest plane to identify. But underneath the beauty is brawn; aeronautical engineers rate the Connie as one of the most structurally powerful transports flying.

★ ★ ★

Lockheed built 500 Constellations between 1945 and 1957, with Trans World Airlines taking delivery on the first in November, 1945. There have been four separate models — the 649 (the type that crashed Friday near Chicago), 079, 1049 and 1649.

The first two are recognizable by their round windows. The larger 1049 (also known as the Super-G) and the 1649 have square windows. The 1649, which TWA calls the Jetstream, has the longest range of any airliner flying, including the jets.

TWA and Eastern operate most of the Connies still used by U.S. airlines. But at one time the plane flew about 90 per cent of overseas traffic and 25 per cent of domestic traffic.

★ ★ ★

It pioneered the development of postwar overseas routes for both TWA and Pan American and also was and is widely used by foreign airlines.

Court Stays Out of City Hall Fight

LANSING (AP)—The State Supreme Court has refused to intervene in the fight to save Detroit's old city hall.

The court denied a writ of mandamus asked by Joseph Kadans, a Detroit attorney who said he represented 50,000 Detroiters who signed petitions siding to preserve the building.

★ ★ ★

Kadans asked for an order to compel Wayne County Circuit Judge John M. Wise to hear his arguments on a proposal that the issue be put on the Nov. 7 Detroit election ballot.

The city elections clerk rejected a similar request and the refusal was upheld by the Circuit Court.

Urges Michigan Participate in Business Exhibit

LANSING (AP)—The State Chamber of Commerce Sunday urged Michigan businesses and local chambers of commerce to take part in the central states business opportunities exhibit.

★ ★ ★

"Participation in this type of exhibit has proved to some companies to be worth millions of dollars in government contracts," said Harry R. Hall, executive vice president of the state chamber.

The exhibit, to be held Oct. 24-26 in Columbus, Ohio, "gives small business an opportunity to discover and explore subcontracting possibilities for their firms as well as other on-the-spot opportunities of learning how to sell the federal government and its contractors and exchanging technical, research, production and sales ideas," he added.

To Open Hearing on Gas Rate Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The power commission will open a hearing here Sept. 21 on four rate increases proposed by two Detroit subsidiaries of the American Natural Gas Co.

The subsidiaries are Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. and American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. The increases would affect about 23 wholesale customers in Michigan, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin.

All the increases have been put into effect subject to refund, with the first having become effective Sept. 15, 1957, for about $2,768,000 a year.

CAB Asks Airline to Halt Two Routes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bureau of the Civil Aeronautics Board has recommended that two of North Central Airlines' east-west routes — Nos. 9 and 10— be eliminated.

★ ★ ★

Route 9 extends from Duluth, Minn.-Superior, Wis., through Ironwood, Hancock-Houghton and Marquette to Sault Ste. Marie.

Route 10 is between Milwaukee and Minneapolis-St. Paul by way of Appleton, Marshfield and Eau Claire, Wis.

Driver Training, Music Ousted From Schools

MACKINAW CITY (AP)—Driver training and elementary school music programs will be eliminated this fall at Mackinaw City schools, Supt. Willard Davidson has announced.

In other economy moves, Davidson said, first grade pupils will attend half-day sessions and students will be charged a fee for textbooks.

In June, voters rejected a proposed 5-mill tax increase that would have run three years.

Detroiter Hurt Diving Into 2 Feet of Water

A 45-year-old Detroit man who suffered severe neck injuries when he dived into 2 feet of water in Lakeville Lake last night was reported in serious condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Thomas Balmowski was playing volley ball with three other men in front of a rented cottage at 70 Annsdale Road when he suddenly ran out on the dock and dived in, according to witnesses.

The victim didn't know there was only 2 feet of water off the dock, said Edward Pytlac of Detroit, who had rented the cottage for the weekend.

Balmowski may have suffered a broken neck.

Hurricane Betsy Not Dangerous Now

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bearing no danger to land areas at present, Hurricane Betsy early this morning was well out in the Atlantic Ocean, moving to the northwest at 20 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

Forecasters at the Miami Hurricane Center said the season's second tropical storm picked up a little speed during the night but showed no intensification.

At 5 a.m. the hurricane was about 1,000 statute miles east of San Juan, P. R., and 2,000 miles east-southeast of Miami.

Mrs. Vandercook Dies

DELHI, N. Y. (AP) — Iris Vandercook, 37, wife of John W. Vandercook, radio news commentator, was killed Friday in a fall at their summer home in Delhi. Mrs. Vandercook, a well-known painter, was descending a staircase when she fell, authorities reported.

U.S. Image Distorted by Women in Slacks

Freedom Is Fading for School Children

LANSING (AP) — This has been the last long weekend of freedom for most of Michigan's school children.

The majority of the state's public schools will open the day after Labor Day, reports the State Department of Public Instruction.

About 1.75 million children are expected to enroll in the state's public elementary and secondary schools. The enrollment count during the last school year was 1,676,543 and an increase of 50,000 is expected.

A few rural schools started classes during the last week in August. The early start in agricultural areas allows farm youths be released earlier in the spring to help with the planting.

★ ★ ★

One of the latest school openings dates in the state is scheduled for Sept. 11 at East Lansing. The delay is because so many of the pupils are children of employes of Michigan State University where fall classes do not start until later in the month.

Local school boards have the authority to set their own dates for the school year as long as the required number of instruction days is met.

In addition to the public school attendance, more than 300,000 youngsters will be enrolled in private and parochial schools to bring the classroom count to more than 2 million.

Sixteen junior colleges also will be operating in the state. Newest will be Delta College, taking over the operation of Bay City Junior College in a new plant at University Center. At least five others are in the planning stage.

An increase is expected in the junior college enrollment of 27,690 last year.

Absentee Ballot Deadline Nears

Must Get Application by Saturday to Vote in Sept. 12 Con-Con

Saturday is the last day to apply for absentee ballots for the Sept. 12 constitutional convention election.

Applications must be made by 2 p. m. at the voter's township or city clerk's office, and not the county clerk's office in the courthouse, said Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

Voters who will be out of town, ill or unable to vote because of the tenets of their religion are authorized by county election officials or spokesmen for both political parties to apply for their absentee ballot.

The ballots can be received either in person or through the mail. They must be in the hands of the clerk no later than the closing of the polls election night.

Oakland voters will pick seven con-con delegates from 14 nominees.

Waterford Twp. Voters to Hear Issues Discussed

Waterford Township voters tomorrow night will get the inside story on two major issues confronting them Sept. 12 — the proposed charter township proposition and election of a constitutional convention delegate.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Greater Waterford Community Council, a public forum will be held at 8 p.m. at the John D Pierce Junior High School on Hatchery road to air the pros and cons behind converting the township into a city-type form of government.

Democrat John S. Coleman and Republican Richard D. Kuhn will be there to put in their bids for votes to represent the township and the rest of Oakland's 1st legislative district in the forthcoming convention in Lansing.

Sounds Warning on School Aid

Sen. McNamara May Block Stopgap Action by Program's Foes

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A supporter of President Kennedy's general aid-to-education program threatened today to block passage of stopgap school bills as Congress rounds into the final stretch.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., said he isn't going to sit still and let opponents of school construction and teacher salary aid whisk through bills limited to continuing federal help for so-called impacted areas and for student loans.

'WORKS BOTH WAYS'

"If Congress is not willing to pass a full-fledged aid to education bill, then let the boys who are against it go home emptyhanded and face the music," he said. "That filibuster business works both ways."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in a separate interview he is aware of the position of McNamara and some others. But Mansfield predicted both houses will pass this week measures continuing public school aid in areas with a heavy influx of federal workers and extending the National Defense Education Act with its loan program.

Rae-Vens Tough Competitors at VFW Convention

The Rae-Vens, an all-girl precision drill team, were in the thick of the competition at the Veteran of Foreign Wars recent national convention at Miami Beach, Fla.

★ ★ ★

In early stages of the competition, the Rae-Vens attained the second highest score, tied only by two Massachusetts drill teams, which tied for the high score. Run-offs dropped the Pontiac group into third place.

Competing for the first time in color guard competition, the Rae-Vens contingent placed 14th among 29 teams.

Jackie Rae Voorhees, director of the Rae-Vens, won a national championship in the ladies senior strutting division. Team mascot Carol Sisko won second place honors in the juvenile strutting category.

The Rae-Vens carried the City of Pontiac official flag in the convention parade. They represented VFW Pontiac Post 1370.

Education Lag Called 'Suicide'

Swainson Stresses the Need for Adequate Schooling for All Youth

DETROIT (AP)—The United States "is courting national suicide" if it questions the need of adequate education for its young people, Gov. Swainson said Sunday.

"It is just as dangerous to deny a thorough education to all who seek it on the grounds that we cannot afford it," he said, "as it would be to deny the members of our armed forces proper weapons in the name of economy."

The governor spoke at the 42nd annual convention of the 32nd Division, more widely known as Red Arrow Division that won fame for Michigan and Wisconsin infantrymen through World Wars I and II.

★ ★ ★

"We want democracy to work, at home and abroad," Swainson said. "We want peace in our time."

"If the Communist rulers are convinced that we are as strong as they are — or stronger — there will be no war," he said. "If they are convinced that Americans value their freedom and are willing to defend it, there will be no war."

The governor noted that men of the Red Arrow Division have won six Congressional Medals of Honor, 133 Distinguished Service Crosses, 49 Legions of Merit, 845 silver stars, 1,945 bronze stars, 98 air medals, 78 soldier's medals and 11,500 Purple hearts.

"The story of the 32nd is truly written in blood, sweat and tears," he said.

SITE OF NEW WING—Bulldozers and large earthmovers are plowing through tons of dirt on the west side of the new county courthouse to make way for the west administrative wing. The $1.4-million addition, to house those offices now in the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., will be three stories high and attached to the end of the six-story judicial building. The entrance shown in this picture and the facing will be removed to make way for the wing, expected to be completed in 18 months by Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac.

34 New Programs Bow

TV Season Schedules Early Premiers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The 1961-62 television season, with 34 new programs making their debuts on the three major networks, is experimenting with early curtains this year.

In past seasons, new shows started moving onto the home screens in late September, and continued until late October. This year they will start in the middle of this month, and by the first week in October premiere performances will reach a peak, often with three or more premieres and season premieres on the same evening.

★ ★ ★

First new program of the season will be NBC's "International Showtime," on Sept. 15. The following night, CBS' "The Defenders" will move into the Saturday night schedule. ABC's "Follow the Sun" and CBS' "Car 54, Where are You?" will turn up for the first time on the night of the 17th. And after that the pile-up of premieres really begins.

NOODLING AROUND

All three networks have been noodling around with their line-ups, and the viewers are in for a period of readjusting their viewing habits. Among the many shows which will turn up at new times are "National Velvet," "The Price is Right," "The Untouchables," "Checkmate," "Sing Along with Mitch," "Tales of Wells Fargo" and Dinah Shore. Robert Taylor's "Detectives" moves from ABC to NBC and will be an hour-long show. NBC's "Bachelor Father" moves to ABC.

★ ★ ★

Some interesting experiments in audience surfeit involve star Robert Young and the "Gunsmoke" series.

Young will be seen weekly on two different evening shows: His new "Window on Main Street" and re-runs of "Father Knows Best." Some inattentive viewers may find themselves extremely confused by the two different characters with the same form and face.

"Gunsmoke" will be an hour-long program this season and will compete with itself. Re-runs of old half-hour shows will be seen on another week-day night.

GOOD RERUNS

One of the most interesting aspects of the past summer's television has been the success of the CBS "Playhouse 90" re-runs. The repeats have raked up big audiences and the series has been fully sponsored. The original series died from lack of audience and sponsor interest. If the re-runs were an experiment, it was a good one and perhaps demonstrates that the TV audience is now ready for some meaty, creative dramatic shows.

Earth Will Be Desert One Day

It'll Take a Billion Years to Get That Way, Astronomer Reports

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The earth is continually losing its water and some day will turn into a desert, an astronomer said Saturday after study of a vast hydrogen cloud surrounding this planet.

★ ★ ★

But don't lose any sleep over this grim prospect — the water loss is so slow that a billion years may pass before men get really thirsty.

The hydrogen cloud, 860,000 miles in diameter with a comet-like tail four-million-miles long, was discovered by rockets fired from, White Sands, N.M., by the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory.

The rockets carried devices to measure the hydrogen in the thin upper reaches of the atmosphere. With these measurements Dr. John C. Brandt, a National Science Foundation astronomer working at the Mount Wilson and Palomar observatories, charted the probable extent of the hydrogen cloud.

Hydrogen is the stuff of which the most powerful nuclear bombs are made.

E. Berlin Director Defects to West

ULM, Germany, (AP) — The director of the East Berlin theater, founded by the late German playwright Berthold Brecht, announced here Saturday he will not return to Communist territory.

Peter Palitzsch, direct of the "Berliner Ensemble" Theater, issued a statement to this effect which gave no reason for not returning.

★ ★ ★

He came to Ulm to direct a play on loan from the Reds shortly before they erected their barricades in Berlin Aug. 13.

Men Most Mistreated Says French Woman

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Now at Labor Day time, it might be wise—and again it might not—to bring up the discovery just made in Paris that the laboring group most mistreated and exploited is . . . the husband.

WILSON

We're all slaves to our wives, fellows . . . wives are cruel tyrants . . . we should demand our liberation.

We may be pretty bossy at the factory or the pool room or the jute mill, or wherever we work, but when we get home, we're just lackies to the babe that hooked us.

Just when we thought that the male shortage was making men more important, this bad news "leaked out" in headlines in the "Paris-Presse." A woman writer, Daniele Lord, turning traitor against her sex, claims that all wives think their husbands are idiots and imbeciles.

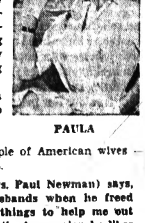
"Naturally, they wouldn't change them for the world — because if they changed them, then their husbands wouldn't be imbeciles who slave for their loafing wives," claims the French lady.

"We imbecile husbands not only carry in the coal and lug out the garbage, sprain our backs moving furniture, and kill ourselves providing security for our wives — but we pay them a handsome salary for allowing us to do it.

"Man was born free and equal with woman. How did he allow himself to be reduced to slavery?"

The answer is, they got married.

Daniele gets support from a couple of American wives — Joanne Woodward and Paula Stewart.



PAULA

"I guess it's true," Joanne (Mrs. Paul Newman) says, "that Abraham Lincoln forgot husbands when he freed the slaves. Paul does do a lot of things to help me out around the house, but I always get the impression he likes to do it.

"Of course, he's a good actor . . ."

★ ★ ★

And Paula, wife of comic Jack Carter, told me, "I agree, in a lot of ways. Some wives come in like Gangbusters, and it's wrong—that's the best way to lose a husband."

I have also consulted several American men and they agree with me that this "revelation" is no revelation to American husbands. They may never have admitted it to anybody —they dislike admitting it even to themselves — but they have always known that they are in chains.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: This might be a lot different sort of world if a man had to have a license to hunt for trouble.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A lot of men who proposed on bended knee still haven't gotten back on their feet . . . That's earl brother.

Freeways to Shed Slower Vehicles

LANSING (AP)—Certain slow-moving vehicles won't be allowed on Michigan freeways starting Sept. 8.

★ ★ ★

The restriction is part of the law raising the freeway speed limit to 70 miles an hour during the day and 60 miles an hour at night.

Barred from the freeways next week will be farm tractors, self-propelled farm implements, motor bikes and motorcycles and motor scooters with less than 5 horsepower.

Halt Road Numbering

LANSING (AP) — Highway numbering changes scheduled to be put in effect in the Grand Rapids area last week will be delayed until construction of interstate 96 Freeway around Grand Rapids is completed, the State Highway Department reports.

SHE'S OUR SISTER — Dorothy Jean Bilbrey, 18, of Davison, receives enthusiastic congratulations following her coronation Saturday evening as 1961 Romeo Peach Queen. Her two brothers, Dan, 12 (left), and Jerry, 14 (right), planted big kisses on each cheek after Dorothy Jean was crowned by television star Toby David. The boys think she's a peach, too.

Pick Dorothy Bilbrey Peach Queen of 1961

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

A medieval throne room provided the setting Saturday evening for the coronation of Dorothy Jean Bilbrey, 18, of Davison, as Romeo Peach Queen of 1961.

The ceremony highlighted opening day of the 29th annual Romeo Peach Festival which ends tonight.

Because of the threat of rain, the event, traditionally held in Romeo's Memorial Stadium, was moved into the Junior High School auditorium.

The queen's seven attendants preceded her up the aisle as she approached the stage escorted by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica.

Television personality Toby David, dubbed honorary king of Fantasyland, placed the crown on the lovely queen's head.

Before presenting the sceptre to her successor, Jo Ellen Schueter of Rochester, the 1960 peach queen, sang a parody of "Thanks for the Memory," describing her experiences during the past year.

More than 66 bodies have been recovered from the ship, the Venecedor, which was carrying between 200 and 300 persons home from an outing when she sank off the Pacific Coast port.

Troops, police and firemen were mobilized for the rescue efforts and 20 vessels scoured the area in search of survivors.

The Venecdor had been chartered for an excursion to a fiesta in Bocana.

GM Workers Alert for Strike

Ready to Close Down 128 Plants if Agreement Is Absent Wednesday

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp.'s hourly workers are spending their paid Labor Day holiday getting ready to close down GM's plants in the event the company and the United Auto Workers fail to have a contract settlement in sight by strike deadline—10 a.m. Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Some 305,000 UAW members and 24,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) were on strike alert at all but one of GM's 129 plants in 71 U.S. cities. The two unions are conducting parallel negotiations with GM, the UAW withheld a strike threat at a Milwaukee plant which makes missile parts for the government.

Union members were told not to go on vacation, under penalty of being refused strike benefits from union funds. They were advised to start making picket signs and to start setting up soup kitchens.

Speculation centered on whether GM would make a new offer as UAW President Walter P. Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton went into a Labor Day bargaining session.

NEITHER OPTIMISTIC

Neither appeared optimistic following a five-hour Sunday session.

Reuther modified his demands on GM Sunday by withdrawing the profit sharing demand he submitted Saturday. He offered to settle for a contract that matched the extra benefits provided in the recent settlement with American Motors Corp., which included a profit-sharing plan.

March on Red Embassy

LONDON (AP) — About 5,000 Britons staged a "march of shame" on the Soviet Embassy Sunday to protest the Soviet Union's resumption of nuclear tests.

Officials Hoping K Will Accept West Proposal

Outlook Is Dim That Khrushchev Will Take to Nuclear Ban

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — U.S. officials said today they have some hope Soviet Premier Khrushchev may alter his course and accept a U.S.-British proposal for a ban on nuclear weapons tests in the earth's atmosphere. But the outlook was admittedly dim.

For the same officials who profess hope of a favorable response from Moscow also say that the Soviet nuclear explosion announced by the White House Friday is believed to be the first of a carefully planned series of aerial bursts. They say it would require a major change in plans for Khrushchev to agree that all future tests should either go underground or be fired in outer space.

Furthermore, the United States has already charged the Soviet Union with using the resumption of nuclear testing as a form of "atomic blackmail" in an effort to frighten other countries into accepting his demands, especially on Berlin and Germany. Many officials here feel he intends to continue brandishing his nuclear power for some time longer.

Diplomatic observers in Moscow said it was unlikely that Khrushchev would accept Western proposals for banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

NO REPORT

As of early today, there was no public report in Moscow of the joint message to Khrushchev from President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Western appeal to lessen the dangers of radioactivity followed a White House claim last week that the Soviet Union had conducted a nuclear test in Central Asia. There has been no mention of such a test here.

★ ★ ★

On a broader front, Italy emergedin the role of East-West mediator by relaying a message from Khrushchev that he is ready to examine Western proposals on the time and place for talks with the West.

ANSA said Khrushchev told Fanfani in the latest note that he was "disposed to examine Western proposals without any prejudice."

At Belgrade, a sharp clash developed among the self-proclaimed nonaligned nations meeting over whether they should devote their attention to the danger of world war or colonialism.

★ ★ ★

The final communique will emphasize both the danger of world war and problems of colonialism.

Summer in the Rockies

AP Photofax

WINTER LIKE CHORE — Al Ressell of Denver sets about the unpleasant summer chore of removing snow from his windshield. A sudden storm slopped 4 inches of wet snow on the Mile High city Sunday in 33-degree weather, ruining the Labor Day weekend for many campers and sportsmen.

4-Inch Fall Sets Record

Denver Is Snowed Under

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Snow and cold, snapping all kinds of records, ruined the Labor Day weekend in the Rockies for campers, fishermen, golfers, boaters and others who revel under sunny skies.

The storm, sloshing four inches of wet, fast-melting snow on Denver, stranded briefly thousands of travelers in mountain areas where the snowfall measured up to two feet. There were no reports of severe hardships.

Loveland Pass, the U.S. 6 route which crosses the Continental Divide at 11,992 feet west of Denver, was blocked for a short time. Trail Ridge Road, another divide crossing in northern Colorado, also was closed.

★ ★ ★

The early storm slowed hundreds of tourists hurrying home from late summer vacations.

PLANE DISAPPEARS

The same storm, sweeping across Montana late Friday, was blamed for the disappearance of a light plane carrying three men. Searchers said hope was waning for their survival through three nights of frigid weather.

★ ★ ★

Denver weather's records fell with the snowflakes. The snow was the earliest recorded at the Colorado capital since the Weather Bureau began keeping track in 1872. The average date for the first snow is Oct. 7. The 32-degree minimum Sunday morning was a record low for the date. The high of 46 degrees was the lowest maximum for the date.

Clearing weather was forecast today with Denver's high expected to approach 80 to 85. A light rain washed away all traces of the snow in Denver late Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Hotels and motels in mountain areas were overcrowded Saturday night by motorists who sought shelter rather than travel on the snow-slickened highways.

At Fairplay, a small town 110 miles southwest of Denver at an elevation of 9,964 feet, public rooms of the town's principal hotel were crowded by more than 50 travelers who spent the night on cots and lounges.

"It was a startling experience," said Mrs. Chuck Powell of Alhambra, Calif. She and her husband stopped at the hotel after covering only 21 miles in two hours driving on U.S. 285 near Fairplay.

Another Day of Wet Weather Is Forecast

Don't put away your rain togs, for more showers are on the way.

The weatherman predicts mostly cloudy and cooler through Tuesday with scattered showers or thundershowers tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures will register 60 to 66 tonight and climb to 72 to 74 Tuesday.

Partly cloudy and a little warmer is the outlook for Wednesday.

Morning northwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become northeasterly at 8 to 15 m.p.h. by evening. From 8:30 Saturday morning until the same hour today 1 of an inch of rain fell on the Pontiac downtown area.

Sixty-nine was the lowest temperature before 8 a.m. The recording at noon was 71.

Traffic has been light in Oakland County during the Labor Day weekend, with no fatalities recorded by Labor Day morning, according to Pontiac state police.

Dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital in Bay City were Alvin E. Wedge, 62, and his wife Dorothy, 60, of 229 Marion St. and Mrs. Amelia Hudson, 82, of Inkster.

Bay City state police said the Wedge car failed to slow in time when a driver ahead braked to avoid another car cutting in front of them. The Wedge car also was hit in the rear.

Mr. and Mrs. Wedge and Mrs. Hudson were headed north. There was no one else in the car.

COUNTY INJURIES

Two persons were injured in separate traffic accidents in Oakland County since Saturday.

Both Mrs. Lorraine Davis, 41, of the Palmvilla Apartments, 347 Auburn Ave., and David W. Abbott, 16, of 8380 Dartmouth Road, Independence Township, suffered facial cuts and bruises. They were admitted at Pontiac General Hospital.

Call on Nikita for Quick Halt to Bomb Blasts

Challenge Is Hurled by Kennedy, Macmillan to Soviet Premier

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy is understood to feel an early international ban on nuclear tests in the earth's atmosphere is vital to humanity.

This was the primary motive, administration sources believe, for the challenge Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have thrown to the Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The Cape Cod White House announced that Kennedy and Macmillan called on Khrushchev Sunday to accept an immediate ban on nuclear tests in the atmosphere which produces radioactive fallout.

Kennedy's objective was said to go beyond the propaganda effect on governments and people the world over who were shocked by the Soviet Union's renewal of nuclear tests. He was described as hopeful that a three-power pledge could lead to a global agreement outlawing tests that spew radioactive particles into the atmosphere.

The Soviet test last Friday, after nearly three years of presumed nuclear silence, occurred over Central Asia. Atomic explosions in the atmosphere unleash radioactivity, contaminating dust and spreading it with the winds. In great density, fallout can be deadly.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy and Macmillan called on Khrushchev for an answer by next Saturday.

"Their aim in this proposal is to protect mankind from the increasing hazards from atmosphere pollution and to contribute to the reduction of international tensions," the White House statement said.

SETS STAGE

By its language, the challenge set the stage for the United States to resume underground tests if the U.S.S.R. persists in blighting the air with fallout.

Acting press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher added these views of the President: quick action is essential, for the chances of agreement decrease as the number of nations with atomic ability increases.

On the Communist side, Red China may shortly develop atom

Labor Day Just That for Many Americans

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) They call it Labor Day, when the nation takes a holiday and honors work by abstaining from it.

Labor Day?

It's just another day on the job for the bus drivers, the sailor at sea, bartenders, airplane pilots and hostesses, chefs, waitresses, night club singers and strip-tease dancers.

★ ★ ★

Labor Day?

It doesn't mean a thing to watchmen, circus elephants, the cop on the beat, railroad engineers and conductors, the men who pull switches in electric power plants, and the fellows who watch the unpushed alarm button that could launch atomic world war.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Labor Day?

It's just business as usual to the lion in the zoo, radio and TV announcers, musicians, druggists, caddies and cabbies, telephone operators, bellhops, movie ushers, busboys and the men who ring church bells.

Labor Day?

What does it mean to race-horses, jockeys, baseball players, hotel desk clerks, forest rangers, bookies, long distance truck drivers, filling station attendants, dairy farmers, people who operate dog kennels, and fellows who wheel around little white carts and sell ice cream sticks to children? It means nothing but the same old daily grind.

★ ★ ★

Labor Day?

It means even more work for many housewives, traffic cops, lifeguards, ambulance drivers, hospital nurses and doctors on emergency duty, morgue employes, bridge and highway toll collectors, amusement park workers—and pickpockets.

Labor Day?

When you get right down to it, who does get a real rest from toil on Labor Day?

Well, anyway, here's to you and me. Aren't we the lucky ones?

Fear New Wave of Forest Fires

1,000 Men Appear to Be Winning Over 165 Blazes in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Grime-covered fire fighters were warned today to be prepared for a new wave of explosive brush and timber fires which already have burned 142,000 acres in California and resulted in three deaths.

More than 1,000 men on fire lines from the famed Mother Lode mining country in the north to San Diego near the Mexican border appeared to be gaining the upper hand in the 165 fires reported since Saturday.

But a state division of forestry spokesman said high temperatures and low humidity combined with severe drought conditions and a swarm of Labor Day vacationers put the danger of new fires at a critical level.

Early today at least 12 major fires were burning out of control. The state spokesman said, "our over-all situation is nip and tuck."

The biggest fire covered 25,000 acres in the Sierra near the gold rush towns of Sutter Creek, Amador City, Volcano and Fiddletown. At last word it was 80 per cent controlled and burning toward an uninhabited wilderness area 100 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Potentially one of the most dangerous fires roared out of control near Lakeside 15 miles northeast of San Diego. More than a dozen homes were threatened and several were evacuated.

Residents said the fire sent up a mushroom of smoke that looked like the cloud from a nuclear blast when planes dumped borate solution on it.

Civil War Threat Eases in Brazil

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — The threat of civil war in Brazil appeared ended today as the nation's three military chiefs dropped their opposition to leftist Joao Goulart and agreed to let him become a figurehead president.

* * *

The 42-year-old vice president, whose leftist leaning led the military to denounce him as a security risk, indicated he would go along with the constitutional amendment approved by Congress that sets up a parliamentary system and vests the real power in a premier.

* * *

Congress devised the compromise to appease War Minister Odylio Denys and his fellow service chiefs who opposed giving Goulart full presidential powers.

Goulart is slated to leave his southern stronghold of Porto Alegre Tuesday and fly to Brasilia for the inauguration. Congress is leaving the time and date of the ceremony up to him.

A terse announcement from the Presidential Palace saying the service chiefs had recommended that all commands respect the peared to ease the crisis.

Navy headquarters in Rio de Janeiro ordered federal forces in the southern coastal state of Santa Catarina to pull back to avoid a clash with pro-Goulart forces.

Airline offices in Rio said flights would resume today to Brasilia. The airport has been shut down over the tense weekend with oil drums blocking the runway.

There was no sign of demobilization, however, by the military which has kept close watch over political developments since Janio Quadros quit as president Aug. 25.

News that the deadlock between Congress and the military had been broken touched off a scramble for the key post of premier.

Front runners in the race are:

1. Francisco Santiago Dantas, a member of Goulart's Labor party whom Quadros named Brazil's chief delegate to the United Nations.

2. Gov. Juracy Magalhaes of the oil-rich state of Bahia, a conservative who has the respect of many political factions.

3. Ernani Amaral Peixoto of the Social Democrats, former ambassador to Washington.

4. Social Democrat Auro Moura Andrade, president of the Senate.

5. Tancredo Neves, also a Social Democrat, who is credited with winning agreement from the military leaders.

U.S. Traffic Toll Nears Forecast

Labor Day Deaths on Road Keeping Pace With Estimate of 430

HOLIDAY DEATHS

Traffic	302
Drownings	44
Boating	5

Total	386

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths since the start of the long Labor Day weekend today appeared keeping pace with the grim preholiday estimate of 420.

* * *

Over 300 persons have lost their lives in traffic accidents since 6 p.m. Friday, with the heaviest travel of the three-day holiday weekend expected today.

At least 12 persons were dead in Michigan traffic. In addition, there were two drownings and one miscellaneous death.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the traffic death toll of 420 and some 17,000 injured, cautioned motorists that traffic in the closing hours of the long weekend holiday "not only is heavy but dangerous."

* * *

"It must be offset with a great patience and constant regard for the safety and welfare of everyone on the road," the council said.

During last year's three-day Labor Day weekend, traffic accidents killed 415 persons. The record toll on any Labor Day weekend is 461, set in 1951.

Threatens Troops to Berlin After Peace Treaty Signed

BERLIN (UPI)—Gerhart Eisler, top East German propagandist, said today that after a German peace treaty is signed the United States will need Communist permission to reinforce its Berlin garrison.

* * *

Eisler said East Germany allowed the U.S. Army to send 1,500 reinforcements to the isolated city on Aug. 20 only to keep the international situation from becoming more tense.

"It would have been easy to block their march to West Berlin," he wrote in the Communist youth newspaper Young World.

Eisler said that after a German peace treaty is signed, the Western allies will have to reach agreement with the East German government to use traffic routes to Berlin "on the land, water and in the air."

* * *

The bail-jumping fugitive from American justice made his statements in reply to the question as to why the East Germans permitted the transport of the U.S. troops through 110 miles of the Communist zone to West Berlin.

EXPECT FAST REPLY

The United States, meanwhile, is expected to reply quickly rejecting a new Russian note accusing the West of misusing the Berlin air corridors.

Acting presidential news secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said Sunday at Hyannis Port, Miss., where President Kennedy is spending the weekend, that there would be no immediate White House comment on the note.

GM Director Fisher Dies

Auto Pioneer Helped Found Body Company Bearing Family Name

DETROIT (AP)—Lawrence P. Fisher, 72, who started as an apprentice carriage-maker at the age of 14 and rose to a directorship of General Motors Corp., died in Harper Hospital Sunday after a long illness.

Fisher was one of seven brothers who pioneered in the auto industry and had extensive holdings in other businesses.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, Oct. 19, 1888, he went to work in 1901 for C. R. Wilson Body Co., and later joined his older brothers, who, with an uncle, Albert Fisher, founded the Fisher Body Co.

General Motors purchased an interest in the firm in 1919 and in 1926 Fisher Body Co. became a division of GM. Fisher was made a vice president of GM in 1925 and was placed in charge of the firm's Cadillac division.

Fisher introduced the LaSalle as a companion car to the Cadillac in 1927 and in 1930 introduced America's first 16-cylinder car, the Cadillac V-16. Later in the year, he introduced a Cadillac V-12.

Fisher, a GM director since 1924, became vice president in charge of the body division in 1941.

In 1944, Fisher and three of his brothers who held GM executive positions resigned from their posts. No reason ever was given. Lawrence and his brother Edward, however, continued as directors.

Joseph Kennedy Comes Back to Birthday Party

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy and his family combined the Labor Day holiday with a homecoming and birthday festivities today as the chief executive spent his 10th summer weekend on Cape Cod.

The outlook was good for another cruise on Nantucket Sound, and the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was on hand to enjoy the family fun.

The elder Kennedy came back to Cape Cod Sunday after vacationing on the French Riviera. At Barnstable Airport, he was greeted by Ethel Kennedy, wife of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and five of their seven children.

The former ambassador to Great Britain observes his 73rd birthday Wednesday. Ethel Kennedy also is marking a birthday this weekend.

Plans for 4 Tennis Courts to Be Presented to City

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for construction of four new public tennis courts at an estimated $21,700 will be presented to the City Commission tomorrow night by City Engineer William T. Killeen.

The commission meeting scheduled for today will be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow because of Labor Day.

The construction plans are the result of a resolution adopted by the commission June 12 in which it was decided to build new tennis courts at West Lincoln and Lachlea streets and in Crestview Park.

The plans call for putting two courts at the south end of Crestview Park so there will be space available for the addition of two more courts at a later date, according to Killeen.

The courts on the south side of West Lincoln will be built on the old water well site between Westchester and Larchlea streets, he said.

Two Astronauts Spend Weekend at Selfridge

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—America's first two men in space, taking the routine flight practice required of all military pilots, flew into Selfridge Air Force Base over the weekend.

An Air Force spokesman said their T33 jet required "minor corrections" after Navy Commander Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Air Force Maj. Virgil Gus Grissom landed. He said he did not know what the nature of the repairs were but added "they were minor and not serious."

The Houston Post said in a copyright story Sunday night that the engine of the jet the men were flying broke a rotor blade.

Grissom and Shepherd, who left Sunday, were secretive about their weekend activities. Only a few men on base knew they were there.
