City Hospital Trustees Bar Dr. Sullenberger

Harold Euler to Head Pontiac General

Administration Reorganized by Trustee Board

Medical Director Post Created and Ordered Filled Immediately

The administration of Pontiac General Hospital was reorganized last night and Harold B. Euler, a trustee, was named to the top executive job by the board of trustees.

Euler, who has been temporarily in charge of the hospital's administration the past three months, was appointed to the newly-created post of administrator, with a salary of $15,000 a year.

Euler resigned from the board in order to accept the new job.

The board also created the post of medical director, and ordered Euler to take steps to fill it.

Board chairman Willis M. Brewer said the hospital administrator's duties will be "essentially the same" as those of hospital director, a post that has been vacant since former director Carl I. Flath was fired May 21.

The medical director's job, Brewer said, will be under the administrator's. The salary has not been set.

"Hiring of a medical director will fill a need at Pontiac General that continues to grow as the hospital increases in size," Brewer said.

"The medical director will administrate the medical training programs and maintain liaison between the medical staff and the administration."

Euler, 53, has acted as the board's liaison officer with the hospital since Flath's dismissal.

Since then, he has received much praise from other board members for his efforts to complete the hospital expansion program and

'Torch Death' Probe Stalled as 2 Go Free

Judge Holland Orders Release of Harrelson, Herman Kierdorf

The Frank Kierdorf torch death investigation had slowed today, after authorities experienced two courtroom upsets.

Two men authorities wanted to hold for questioning were ordered freed yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

They were Leaun Harrelson, President of Pontiac Teamster Local 614, and Herman Kierdorf, uncle of Frank and a former Detroit teamsters official.

Both were arrested on the surprise statement of Mrs. Iris Harrelson, former wife of Leaun, and held for investigation of arson.

★ ★ ★

They were freed after Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said in a habeas corpus hearing that he was not prepared to file charges against them.

★ ★ ★

A few hours before they were ordered set free, Judge Holland refused to be rushed into approving a petition for a grand jury probe of Kierdorf's fatal burning and the possible arson and racketeering related to it.

He told Adams, who sought the grand jury, that the four circuit judges of Oakland County would take the petition under advisement and try to make a decision Wednesday.

"This thing was dropped in our laps," he said. "We don't want to make a snap decision."

Adams, obviously disappointed, said:

"Right now the investigation has come to a halt. We have questioned all the witnesses we know. We await Wednesday's decision hopefully."

Strikes Slow '59 Car Output

New Walkouts Close Chrysler Plant, Halt Buick Assembly

DETROIT (UP)—Production of 1959 model cars was slowed today by wildcat strikes that idled some 18,000 auto workers.

New walkouts closed the Chrysler Corp. Imperial plant in Detroit and halted final assembly of new Buicks at Flint.

Pickets from Local 227 of the United Auto Workers Union showed up at the Imperial plant today and 700 hourly workers refused to cross the lines.

At Flint, 900 Buick final assembly men were sent home after two hours work. A walkout in the Buick Dynaflow plant has closed nine other Buick factories in Flint idling more than 5,000.

General Motors and union traded sharp words over the series of walkouts. GM Vice president Louis G. Seaton accused the union of "hit-run guerrilla warfare" in efforts to get a new contract.

In reply, UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock accused GM of deliberately inciting the strikes by management tactics.

Five GM plants were hit yesterday by walkouts. One at Elyria, Ohio, and another at Grand Rapids, Mich., resumed production today. Other GM plants still closed were at Hamilton, Ohio, Flint and Grand Rapids.

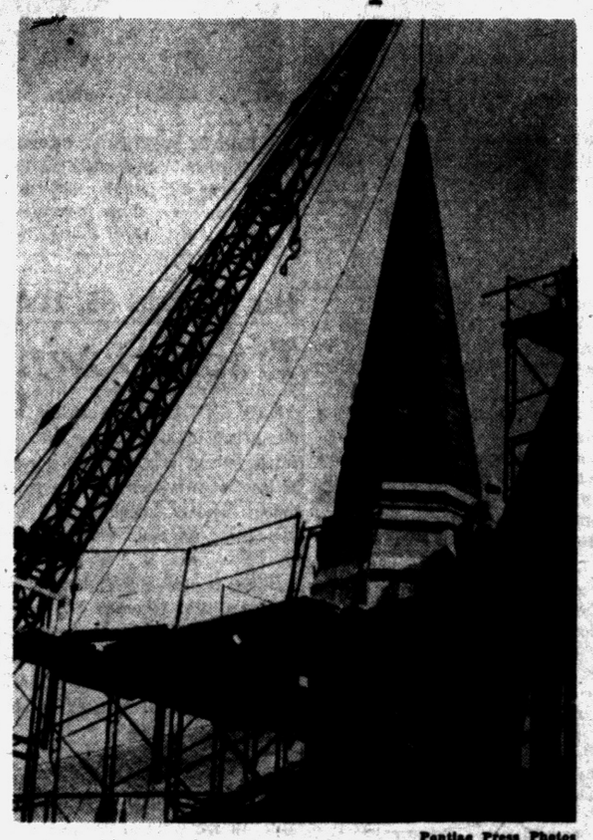

The walkouts forced the shutdown of a Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant in Kansas City, Kan., because of shortgage of material brought on by the other work stoppages.

Pontiac Still Closed

The strike which has kept some 5,000 Pontiac Motor Division workers from their jobs since Tuesday morning continued today as management and union negotiators continued to meet behind closed doors. Talks resumed at 9 a.m. today after continuing until midnight Thursday. No statement as to status of the talks was available.

ASSEMBLY JOB — A tall crane was assembled at First Congregational Church, Mill and East Huron St., to hoist the steeple to the top of the new stone tower under construction. Left picture shows the steeple suspended in the air. At right it settles into position. The stone and brick tower, gable and steeple, another unit in the church, are being completed this summer at a cost of $59,000. Chrome plated cap will top the steeple, with a three-foot cross.

Charges Upheld on Misconduct in 7 to 1 Vote

Surgeon Will Appeal Earlier Court Ruling to Supreme Court

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger today was permanently barred from Pontiac General Hospital by its board of trustees.

The basis of the suspension, board chairman Willis M. Brewer said, were the 11 charges of personal misconduct which the staff leveled against Dr. Sullenberger at a hearing earlier this summer on his temporary suspension last Nov. 13.

Trustees last night found Sullenberger guilty of all 11 charges and added another of their own. They charged him with refusing to return hospital records that he had taken without permission.

The verdict specified that Dr. Sullenberger was not found guilty of any charges of professional misconduct. The staff had expressly tried to keep such charges out of the hearing.

The vote, taken at a special meeting, was seven to one in favor of suspension. Three trustees were absent.

Voting for suspension were Brewer, William P. Babcock, James Clarkson, Harold B. Euler, Mrs. Edna B. Roush, Isaac Smoot and Charles Yeager. Opposing it was Cecil J. Cosgrove. Absent were Rev. Theodore Allebach, Harold S. Goldberg and Edward P. Barrett.

Notified of his ouster this morning, Dr. Sullenberger was determined to carry his fight for reinstatement to the State Supreme Court. He also said that he intends to open his own clinic near the hospital next week.

It found him guilty of outbursts of temper, in which he swore at fellow employes, carried on "long and violent tirades" against them, and sometimes threatened "physical violence."

Faubus Keeps Legislature on Call

High Court Delays Racial Ruling

By The Associated Press

The U. S. Supreme Court has delayed for two weeks decision on the school integration crisis at Little Rock, Ark.

The court, in a rare emergency session, listened intently to three hours of arguments yesterday. Then, after a recess, it called for more arguments Sept. 11.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus kept the Arkansas Legislature on call until Jan. 10, a move designed to keep his ammunition against integration out of reach of court action until he needs to use it.

Faubus this morning signed a legislative resolution extending the session.

The lawmakers plan to go home later today, but technically the historic special session will not end until Jan. 10 when a regular session begins.

A Supreme Court decision on whether Little Rock must remain integrated or get a 2½-year delay will not be handed down until after Sept. 11.

Faubus is holding anti-integration bills which he would have to sign within five days or let die if the session ended. But by keeping the lawmakers technically in session he will not have to sign the measures until Jan. 15—sooner if he needs them.

★ ★ ★

If he signed them into law now, presumably they would be subject to attack in the courts by an interested group like the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

★ ★ ★

Included in the package which cleared the Legislature were bills permitting the governor to close forcibly integrated public schools; giving him authority to set up segregated classes within an integrated school; providing aid for any student displaced in an integration dispute and a bill postponing the opening of Central High School in Little Rock until Sept. 15. The school board had already postponed the opening date from Sept. 2 to Sept. 8.

Chief Justice Earl Warren said the Supreme Court delayed its decision because Central High would not open until Sept. 15.

Faubus, however, must sign the bill or the school board must act to delay the opening until that date.

Thus Central High could open before the court decision. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People hopes to have Negro children in the school when the fall terms opens.

Space Dogs Return Alive, Reds Claim

LONDON (UP)—Moscow radio said tonight two dogs have been landed safely from a space rocket that reached an altitude of 281 miles.

★ ★ ★

The broadcast said the dogs were aboard a one stage geophysical rocket launched in the Soviet Union Aug. 27.

The dogs were enclosed in a special hermetically sealed cabin.

★ ★ ★

The rocket flight was part of experiments in the program for the International Geophysical Year. Apparatus for the study of the upper layers of atmosphere was installed in the rocket.

They've Got to Have 'It'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Bernard J. Geisheker, superintendent of the city bureau of garbage collection, has asked for better pay for garbage men who: ". . . Must have an even temperament, well-rounded personality, adequate power of expression, physical stamina, fair educational background and be oblivious to odors."

Union Makes Statement Regarding Strike Issues

In a prepared statement today, the executive board and the shop committee of Pontiac Local 653-UAW assert "the Press doubts the Union charges that management fails to bargain in good faith and expressed faith in the character of the men running Pontiac Motor Division.

★ ★ ★

"The character of the Union Committee is not to be doubted in this instance in which The Press showed a biased opinion about this serious problem. It is not up to management to decide whether a grievance is to be bargained or not. If this was the prerogative of management there would be no bargaining at all.

★ ★ ★

"Therefore, the Press opinion that when there is cause for bargaining management will bargain, only sustains our position that management is not bargaining in good faith.

"The Pontiac Press not only carried the quotations of Pontiac official George Watson, but also prompted a question to Local 653 Union officials about the strike.

"In evaluating the strike issues, The Pontiac Press was quite generous with column inches for Pontiac Motor to state their case, but made no effort to contact the local union concerning its position.

★ ★ ★

"In response to the editor's question, Local 653 as well as the UAW International Union prefer to work, than walk the picket line. This strike is the result of a stubborn management position in not settling legitimate demands and grievances which precipitated the strike. Moral responsibility for this strike rests squarely on the shoulders of Pontiac Motor.

★ ★ ★

"It is not difficult for the Press to point out the economic loss involved in strikes, but seldom does it portray the economic loss suffered by layoffs and put the blame where it belongs. Instead, the paper has tried to blame the unions for this, too, when the public knows that price rigging caused inflation and a depression.

★ ★ ★

"We are sure the Press which is far removed from the problems in the plants is getting only one side of this story and evidently makes no effort to get the other side. Instead of condemning, it should be its moral obligation to seek out both sides of the question or remain silent.

★ ★ ★

"In respect to George Watson's charges, he too has apparently disregarded a moral obligation by not giving the true facts regarding overtime.

"He states that there are a few skilled workers who work over-

Olds Head Sees Upswing in '59

Wolfram Serves Notice Line Intends to Capture 8 Pct. of Auto Market

DETROIT (UP)—Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of General Motors' Oldsmobile Division, believes there will be a broad upturn in the general economy next year.

Wolfram told newsmen at a press review of the 1959 models yesterday that he expects the auto industry to sell 5½ million units in the new season. Sales of 1958 models are expected to total 4,300,000 units.

Wolfram served notice on the auto industry that Oldsmobile plans to capture at least eight per cent of the 1959 market. This compares with 7.1 per cent of this year's sales volume over the January to June period.

He said Olds has taken first place in the medium price class in 1958 and intends to keep that position.

Wolfram revealed that Oldsmobile will introduce two completely new body styles in its 1959 line. They are the Holiday Sport Sedan — a sporty four-door family-size car — and the two-door Holiday SceniCoupe which has an entirely new silhouette, a snappy appearance and exceptional visibility in all directions.

Expect Five Days of Warm Weather

Partly cloudy and warm with 6 - 12 mile an hour southerly winds is the forecast of the weatherman for tonight and tomorrow. Partly cloudy with a chance of scattered showers is predicted for tomorrow night.

For the next five days residents may expect temperatures slightly above the normal high of 80 and normal low of near 60. Precipitation will total one-fourth to one-half inch in scattered showers possible Saturday night, Sunday, and again Wednesday.

Sixty-six was the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. At 2 p.m. the recording was 86.

Road Patrols Will Be Increased

Record Traffic Expected Over Labor Day

Area law enforcement officials voiced a warning to weekend drivers today as the nation prepared for the last big outdoor fling of the summer, the Labor Day holiday.

Oakland County Undersheriff Elmer McQuern warned that county roads will be heavily traveled over the three-day period.

Sheriff's Deputies will be working a full schedule with all available cars on the highway. Plainclothes detectives will handle some desk jobs to free deputies for road patrol.

State Police Posts at Pontiac and Redford will be working their usual 10-hour holiday shifts. National Guardsmen will aid troopers in an effort to get as many patrol cars as possible out on the road.

"We will use two guardsmen to augment the regular staff," said Sgt. Charles Mulick, Pontiac Post commander.

"Drivers must watch their speeds at all times. The crowded highways will present us with many more potential accident situations than on a normal weekend and speed is the killer in this type of a situation," he said.

For the coming holiday, state authorities have set a goal of beating the 1957 record performance in which only 13 lives were lost during a 78-hour Labor Day period.

Sheriffs and state police throughout Michigan will be reinforced by about 225 National Guardsmen assigned to traffic duty.

Of the three summer holidays, Labor Day perennially spurs the largest volume of travel. Labor Day always falls on a Monday, assuring a three-day weekend.

Many Americans use it as the weekend for closing cottages and summer homes. Others drive their older children to colleges. Many simply look upon the weekend as a last chance to visit beaches, fishing spots and other outdoor attractions.

The National Safety Council has estimated that 45 million cars will crowd the nation's highways.

As many as 420 persons may be killed during the three-day vacation beginning at 6 p.m. tonight, it is estimated.

The holiday will also see an estimated 12,000 persons suffer disabling injuries. Last year a total of 443 persons were killed across the nation on Labor Day weekend.

★ ★ ★

The blackest Labor Day weekends in Michigan occurred in 1952 and 1953. Thirty-two deaths were recorded in each year. The best Labor Day mark prior to last year was in 1951 when 14 died.

★ ★ ★

Stores, Offices to Close Here on Labor Day

Banks, stores, city and county offices will maintain their regular weekend schedules, with all being closed Monday for the Labor Day observance. All will open at their regular time Tuesday morning.

Most Pontiac downtown stores will remain open Tuesday night until 9, according to Norman Pattison, president of the Downtown Merchants Assn.

Shops in the Miracle Mile Shopping Center will keep their regular 9 p.m. closing time Tuesday, while most stores in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center will stay open until this time also Tuesday.

Navy Orders Huge Carrier to Periled Formosa Area

The move brings to six the number of carriers operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Far Pacific.

★ ★ ★

The Navy said the carrier force will be maintained at this strength for at least "another week or two."

Reinforcement of the Seventh Fleet in the face of Red China's menacing activities in the Formosa Straits brings its total strength to 53 combat ships.

The Navy announcement said: "The aircraft carrier Midway and heavy cruisers Los Angeles have been ordered to join the Seventh Fleet in the West Pacific. Midway departed San Francisco August 16 and Pearl Harbor on August 28. The U.S.S. Los Angeles departed Long Beach (Calif.) on August 27."

The Navy did not say how many airplanes were aboard the Midway. The 45,000-ton carrier is able to handle up to 100 aircraft.

Authoritative sources reported meantime that U.S. Pacific forces have given their jet pilots permission to pursue attacking Red planes across most of the Formosa Straits.

The Communists opened a "very ferocious" pre-invasion bombardment of the Quemoy Islands today and the Nationalists began evacuating government offices from Taipei as a precaution against Communist air raids.

The Central News Agency and the Military Information Service, both official agencies, predicted extremely heavy shelling of Tatan in the Quemoy Islands for three to five days followed by an invasion attempt.

Almost immediately the defense ministry said Communist artillery opened a "very ferocious" bombardment of big Quemoy Island that overshadowed a 7,100-round bombardment of Tatan and nearby Ehrtan Islands earlier in the day. The two islands control the entrance to the Communist port of Amoy.

There were these other major developments:

—Premier Chen Cherig called on the nation today to "prepare for any crisis" including the bombing of Taipei.

—The Nationalists defied round-the-clock Communist demands it surrender the offshore islands and rounded up Communist agents during the night in a sudden, five-hour clampdown on emergency martial law.

—A typhoon howling out of the Pacific pushed rainstorms into the Formosa Strait today and sent cloud blankets over the Quemoy and Matsu Islands, reducing observation of Communist activities — and hampering possible Red troop movements by sea.

—Radio Moscow accused "U. S. aggressive circles" of pushing Chiang Kai-shek toward "new armed provocations" against Red China.

Fixing Charge Denied by '21'

One Contestant Says He Was Told to Lose to Van Doren

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. and producers of the Twenty-one television quiz show deny charges by a contestant that the program was rigged.

Herbert Stempel, who won $50,000 on the show, contended he was coached on the answers before he went on the air and then was told to miss a question which enabled Charles Van Doren to eliminate him.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan confirmed that Stemple's testimony brought the show into the TV quiz program probe, touched off by a complaint of a contestant on the Dotto show.

NBC issued a statement simultaneously, terming the accusations "utterly baseless and untrue." The network said it learned of them over a year ago and an investigation turned up nothing to substantiate them.

Later Pharmaceuticals, Inc., makers of Geritol, sponsor of the show, said it had not been aware of any complaints made about the program.

Edward Kletter, a vice president, said: "We have implicit confidence in the integrity of Jack Barry and Dan Enright. We have been associated with them for eight years. Our present contract has another year to go."

Hogan, nominated for the U.S. Senate this week at the Democratic State Convention in Buffalo, said his investigation of TV quiz shows has uncovered nothing thus far to warrant grand jury action.

"I am convinced that we have a lot more digging before we can suggest anything serious here," he said, adding: "I won't think in dimensions not etched out in evidence."

★ ★ ★

Hogan did not disclose what Stempel told him. But the latter has been quoted in newspaper stories as saying, after he won $50,000, he was ordered to miss a question "any schoolboy could answer."

★ ★ ★

Van Doren, who went on to win $129,000 after beating Stempel, said: "I'm sad and I'm shocked. I don't know what to say except that I thought I won honestly."

At no time, Van Doren said, was he coached or tutored or was any pressure put upon him.

'Torch' Suspects Ordered Freed

his release, was handed a subpoena to appear Sept. 5 before the Senate Rackets Committee in its investigation of possible ties between organized labor and organized crime. Herman was subpoenaed earlier.

★ ★ ★

Adams, who had hoped to obtain grand jury subpoenas against both men before the habeus corpus hearing, was pleased at this development.

"The Washington subpoena came at a fortunate time," he said, "since it will enable us to keep tab on Harrelson."

Harrelson, after his release yesterday, called the Kierdorf investigation "a comedy of errors. They ought to put these guys in the circus.

"They're trying to capitalize on a teamster connection for political purposes and I don't think they know how to handle it.

"They've got all chiefs and no Indians. Adams is not the prosecuting attorney in Oakland County."

"They're more interested in how many suits of clothes I have and my private life than they are in solving the case."

★ ★ ★

Harrelson steadfastly refused to take a lie detector test. He said they are not admissible in court anyway and the results are "inconclusive."

Adams admitted it was a case of going "back to the drawing boards" in the investigation.

The attorney general admitted the reason he petitioned for a grand jury was because he and other investigators had proceeded as far as possible, had no new witnesses to question and they could do no more without a grand jury.

A 24-hour police guard would be continued over Mrs. Harrelson, Adams said. The attorney general earlier said her 45-page statement had given them their first big break in the case.

Mrs. Harrelson told police her ex-husband knew Frank had been made a human torch before he staggered into a Pontiac hospital with burns over 84 per cent of his body.

She said Harrelson learned of Frank's burning in a telephone call from Herman about midnight Aug. 3 — one hour before Frank appeared at the hospital and almost 12 hours before he was identified.

Harrelson left the house, she said, and stayed out until 5 a.m. When he returned he told her he had been with Herman and that Frank had been burned.

Herman already is charged with possessing a pistol silencer. He was free on $25,000 bond when taken into custody again after Mrs. Harrelson made her statement to police.

His Mother, 85, Helped Career Along

Track Down Lonely Hearts Crook

BAD AXE (UPI) — Police today sought to unravel the complicated web of crime woven across at least eight states by a paunchy lonely hearts swindler and his 85-year-old mother.

★ ★ ★

Huron County Sheriff Merritt R. McBride said Thomas H. Smith of Danbury, Conn., admits spending 20 of his 54 years in prisons and is probably guilty of bigamy besides an untold number of larcenies by conversion.

★ ★ ★

His last three victims were Mrs. Sarah Meyers, 58, Bad Axe; Mrs. Madge West of Battle Creek, and Mrs. Amanda Parcher, 73, St. Louis, Mich. McBride said Smith got about $22,500 from the three widows.

★ ★ ★

Smith admits marrying at least five times, McBride said, and had only one Mexican mail-order divorce in his possession when arrested Wednesday night.

He had notebooks filled with about 1,000 names taken from lonely hearts club lists and used addresses in Danbury, Conn.; Miami and Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Battle Creek; New York City; North and South Carolina; Ohio; Indiana, and Maine.

"As near as I can make out, he's been at it since he last got out of Sing Sing (prison in Ossining, N.Y.) about 1950. As soon as his picture hits the papers we expect to have complaints from coast to coast," said McBride. He has called in the FBI to untangle Smith's record.

Smith's mother, Mrs. Anna E. Smith, helped him in his swindles and is held with Smith on a larceny-by-conversion warrant for bilking Mrs. Parcher. "She's a spry old lady and she says if the women were foolish enough to give him the money then he had a right to take it," McBride said.

"They would both move in with a woman after they had softened her up with Smith's letters. His mother would play the sweet old lady and talk about what a fine boy her son was," McBride said.

He arrested the pair at a road block near Imlay City as the Smiths drove off with Mrs. Meyers. A neighbor of the widow had become suspicious and phoned McBride.

Mrs. Meyers stepped from the car and told the sheriff she had sold her home and its furnishings and gave the $8,500 to Smith. She said they were on their way to Florida to get married.

"Smith had the $8,500 in a brief case and told me he had planned to abandon Mrs. Meyers along the way," McBride said.

Smith got Mrs. Parcher's life savings of $4,361 by promising to marry her and then disappeared last March 31, McBride said.

"He washed the dishes and went to church with me and never smoked or took a drink," Mrs. Meyers said. "He was a grand man."

★ ★ ★

McBride said Smith admitted serving a breaking and entering sentence in the Cheshire Reformatory in Connecticut from 1920 to 1924. He also admitted going to Sing Sing on a 7½ to 15 year armed robbery sentence, escaping and then being returned for an added five year sentence. He got out in 1940 and then did six months in 1949 on a morals charge.

Union Makes Strike Statement

time when journeymen are laid-off and the total was so small it couldn't be any part of the reason for a strike. This statement is not true or George Watson doesn't know what is going on in the Pontiac plant.

★ ★ ★

"On Aug. 21, a notice was posted in sheet metal departments scheduling the work day to nine hours per day beginning Monday, Aug. 25. In these departments alone, there are approximately 500 production employes working overtime which would provide a full day's work for 90 or more people laid off, if overtime was not worked. Some production employes are working overtime in other parts of the plant also. This is being done in face of the fact that over 7,000 employes are still laid off.

"While some skilled trades are working six and seven days per week at 10 or more hours per day, there are over 175 skilled journeymen laid off who could fill everyone of these jobs that are working overtime.

★ ★ ★

"There are both moral and economic issues involved in this strike and the union is prepared at any time to meet its full share of obligations in settling these issues. This is not a one-way street."

I'm a Moderate—Faubus

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Gov. Orval Faubus, in commenting on his position in the Central High School integration case, says: "You know, I suppose 90 per cent of the people in the north think I am the most rabid segregationist in the south. The fact is that I am one of the most moderate men on the subject of any of the officials in southern states holding comparable positions."

GOP Expected to Fill Out Ticket With New Faces

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Republicans gathered today to complete a party facelifting and otherwise blueprint of a fall campaign that will put them back on the victory track.

Ailing financially and driven from all but one full time, statewide elective office, the GOP was expected to round out its state ticket — after a scramble — with four newcomers to the statewide political lists.

The climax was due Saturday afternoon with balloting to nominate candidates for secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and state treasurer, all to oppose Democratic incumbents.

The voting was to follow adoption of a biennial platform and a keynote speech by Fred Seaton, secretary of the interior.

Already assured ballot berths in the Aug. 5 primary were Paul D. Bagwell, running for governor; U.S. Sen. Charles E. Potter, for another Senate term, and Rep. Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak, for lieutenant governor.

It was the first full dress, statewide Republican conclave since just before the disastrous 1957 spring election when Democrats captured the offices of state highway commissioner and superintendent of public instruction and swept eight other nominees into office.

Delegates were braced for a gloomy report on 1958 campaign financing from Don E. Ahrens, GOP money raising chief. He reportedly would advise that less than $150,000 will be available for publicity and advertising.

Bagwell and other leaders were among early arrivals yesterday along with a sizable turnout of incumbent and aspiring legislators who attended a campaign school.

The GOP is confident of retaining state senate control and a big edge in the Michigan congressional delegation but sought to tighten its lines against an expected strong Democratic assault on the House.

For only the second time in a generation—repeating 1956 — the convention had before it not a single incumbent whose renomination was a foregone conclusion.

Some, but probably not all the nomination contests, seemed likely to be headed for practical decisions in tonight's jockeying among candidates and district caucuses.

However, Mark Zarbock, 33, with the 40-member Kalamazoo delegation pledged to his support, vowed a vigorous fight, and other names were heard—including that of Donald F. Welday Sr. of Detroit.

There was some speculation that the countenance of Mrs. Mary Coleman of Battle Creek, attractive attorney and wife of former State Sen. Creighton R. Coleman, might find favor as an answer to sentiment for new faces.

Two other possibilities mentioned frequently were Allen Weatherwax, Jackson druggist, campaigning for the state treasurer nomination, and Francis B. Cruqui, Newberry lawyer.

New England Watch Called Off

Daisy Threat Lessening

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The threat of Hurricane Daisy to the mainland lessened today as it moved more to the northeast at 25 miles per hour.

Coastal areas for southern New England and Long Island were taken off the hurricane watch.

However, the possibility of difficulties later in the region of Newport, R.I., caused the White House to delay President Eisenhower's plans to fly to Newport for a vacation until 3 p.m.

The Day in Birmingham

Registrations Accepted by Community House

BIRMINGHAM—Registration for the craft and hobby classes at the Birmingham Community House are being taken now by Miss Myra Showman, director.

All groups are limited in size and enrollments will be accepted in the order they are received, Miss Showman said. Information on fees and class times may be obtained at the Community House.

Starting the week of Sept. 15 will be four classes in bridge, two in creative pottery, three in painting, three in sculpturing, two in sewing, and one each in design, floral arrangement and photography. Most of the classes last 10 weeks.

The four classes in silverwork will include enameling for those who request it.

Scheduled later are two classes in millinery, beginning Sept. 29 and 30. Ballroom dancing for adults and interior decorating courses start on Oct. 6.

A standard American Red Cross first aid group will train for five weeks, beginning Sept. 15. Advanced first aid training will begin Oct. 20, also for five weeks.

A special youth program will include four classes in painting and drawing, beginning Sept. 15. Three are late afternoon projects with the fourth to be held Saturday morning.

Birmingham's annual traffic inventory will be reviewed Thursday at 2:30 p.m. by representatives of the National Safety Council at the commission room of the Municipal Building.

State officials concerned with public instruction and traffic safety also will attend, according to Ralph W. Moxley, police chief.

The analysis of the report compiled by local police will be the basis for further traffic safety measures adopted by the department.

Dr. Emil Kontz, pastor of Birmingham's First Baptist Church, has been scheduled for two appearances on the "Laymen's Hour," a national religious radio program.

Thorn Kuhl of 1935 Holland Ave. has been named director of public relations for the Young and Rubicam, Inc., office in Detroit. He has been with the company since 1953 and in his new position will be responsible for the coordination and execution of public relations between the agency and its Detroit clients.

Bomb Salute Opens Fair With Bang

The three-mile long marching extravaganza included some 3,500 persons and 320 animals.

It took some time for the mammouth column to wind through downtown Detroit. All eyes were glued on the parade.

Little tots were sitting on the curbs with saucer-sized eyes, as the clowns and animals passed by.

There was a bevy of 40 gorgeous beauty queens — a wonderful sight.

Not as pretty — but still an attraction — was Gov. Williams and his motorcade of Detroit Police and the United States Marine groups.

Then came 20 Michigan city floats, intermingled with 30 colorful marching units, including 21 bands. There were ten precision drill teams and an equal number of equestrian units.

Following official ribbon cutting ceremonies, the 10-day celebration really began to blossom out with the judging of farm animals. The Midway at the Fairgrounds is a hub of activity.

Tomorrow is a day for the veterans. There will be demonstrations and exhibitions, the largest military service group swearing-in ceremony ever held in the nation. All veterans will be admitted free.

★ ★ ★

Then with Sunday, another story will be in the spotlight. During Church Day, thousands will crowd the music shell for the early sunrise service, presented by the Detroit Council of Churches. After the state major and majorette contest, there will be weaving demonstrations and band concerts.

H. B. Euler to Head Pontiac General

A trustee since 1953, Euler in private life is a consultant in estate management. A native of Durand, he has lived in Pontiac since 1927.

He and his wife live at 133 Ottawa Dr. They have two married children and two grandchildren.

The board recognized that Euler has often put in 50- and 60-hour weeks at the hospital this summer without compensation. They made his new salary retroactive to May 21.

Besides abolishing the job of hospital director, trustees also put an end to the position of assistant director, a spot that was left vacant July 23 with the resignation of Warren Simonds.

Brewer also announced that he and another trustee, Charles Yeager, are prepared to resign from the board.

The board chairman said he would ask the City Commission to appoint his successor on the board by Sept. 19.

Brewer said that although his term on the board was supposed to end July 1, he had stayed on until a hospital administrator was hired and the Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger case was completed.

Yeager's term was not up, but he moved outside the city limits, and thus was ineligible to stay on the board.

★ ★ ★

Traffic Death Toll in Nation Decreases

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths for the first seven months this year totaled 19,380, a decrease of 7 per cent for the comparable period in 1957. The toll was 20,750 in the first seven months last year.

The National Safety Council said the July toll of 3,140 was 3 per cent lower than last year and the decline was the 11th in the last 11 months and the 19th in the last 20 months.

The council estimated that 650,000 persons have been disabled by traffic accidents this year compared with 700,000 for the same period in 1957.

Mother Jailed Second Time in Custody Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—For the second time this month a Chicago mother yesterday was sent to jail for refusing to bring her daughter to a court hearing on a change of custody.

Mrs. Angeline Carey Flaherty, 30, appeared in a Circuit Court without her daughter Patricia Carey, 9, and demanded that the custody hearing be held.

"Unless you produce the child, I have no alternative but to send you to jail for contempt of an order of the count," said Judge John Pavlik.

Mrs. Flaherty refused and was taken to jail. Her attorneys said she has refused to return the child to her ex-husband William B. Carey, 45, a toolmaker.

They were divorced in 1952 and Mrs. Carey, who later remarried, got custody of the child. However, Carey regained custody in court in 1953. Two weeks ago Carey gave her permission to take the child to visit Mrs. Flaherty's mother but she failed to return Patricia.

★ ★ ★

Earlier this month, Mrs. Patricia Van Etten Karam, 26, spent 13 days in jail before she agreed to return her daughter to the paternal grandmother, who has custody.

President OKs Bill on Mexican Labor

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed a bill extending the Mexican farm labor program for two years, until June 30, 1961.

The legislation continues authority for recruitment and temporary employment of farm workers from Mexico when adequate domestic labor is not available in the United States.

The program requires American farm employers to pay contract costs for Mexican nationals recruited under agreement with Mexico. The number of workers exceeded 400,000 during the fiscal year that ended July 1.

Missile Test Success

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—A second Regulus II missile has been successfully fired from Point Mugu, near this seacoast city, into the Nevada desert. The missile landed safely on its retractable landing gear 450 miles away at the inland range near Tonopah, Nev.

Girl, 13, Must Lose Her Legs in Order to Walk

But there are things a mother cannot decide.

"How can you make a decision like that? Mrs. Queeney asked.

"If I make the wrong decision, she is the one who will suffer for the rest of her life."

So Mrs. Queeney and her husband put it up to the child, Karleen.

The little girl knew what she wanted. She had been present when doctors at the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in Philadelphia first mentioned the possibility that her legs could be amputated and replaced with artificial ones.

Karleen has been in plaster casts and braces since she was 5½ months old, when a spinal abnormality left her paralyzed from the knees down.

Two operations and one treatment after another have failed to improve her condition. And three years ago she even had to take the braces off because they caused pressure sores on her feet which are still not completely healed.

"What do you want to do?" she was asked yesterday.

There was no hesitation in Karleen's answer: "I want to dance."

Airliner Crash Being Probed

14 Remain Hospitalized After 58 Scrape With Death in Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Investigators today probed the charred wreckage for clues to what caused a Northwest Orient Airlines plane to crash and burn on takeoff early yesterday.

The 58 passengers and 4 crew aboard all escaped after the big DC6B bounced and skidded nearly a mile to a flaming stop in a farmyard near the airport.

Fourteen remained hospitalized, all but two in good condition. Albert Conrad, 60, Waukesha, Wis., was listed as poor and Mrs. Anna Urbanik, 69, Ambridge, Pa., fair.

President Donald Nyrop of the airline said it probably would require at least a month of study to determine what caused the smashup.

Nyrop said the weight was well under regulations as the plane was rated for 76 occupants, 14 more than were aboard.

He said the Civil Aeronautics Administration was bringing in several men trained for crash inquiries.

Nyrop praised the crew and male passengers who carried out evacuation of the plane.

He had a special word for R. E. Mielke, Minneapolis, flight engineer, for making a last-minute check of the cabin to insure all were out while flames were sweeping the wreckage.

Nyrop said statements would be taken from the crew members after they are released from a hospital where they are being treated for shock. In addition to Mielke, they are Capt. James Wilkinson, 38, the pilot, and Verner J. McGinnis, 37, the co-pilot, both of Seattle, and stewardess Margaret Gallagher, 23, Minneapolis.

Petition High Court in Sedition Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John W. Powell and his wife Sylvia are asking the U.S. Supreme Court to halt their trial on charges of sedition. The trial is scheduled to start Sept. 22 in federal court here.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Doris Brin Walker, Powell attorney, said a petition asking a writ of mandamus or prohibition had been dispatched to the court's clerk in Washington and to Justice William O. Douglas.

The Powells are charged with printing false reports that U.S. forces made germ warfare attacks on Communist China during the Korean War. They published the China Review in Shanghai.

Mrs. Walker said the petition contends the sedition charge is without basis since the Korean conflict was fought without a declaration of war by Congress.

Police Report Actress Strangled in Hotel Room

The nude body of the 50-year-old woman was discovered Wednesday in her room in a Hollywood hotel. Police believe a prowler entered the room through a broken window.

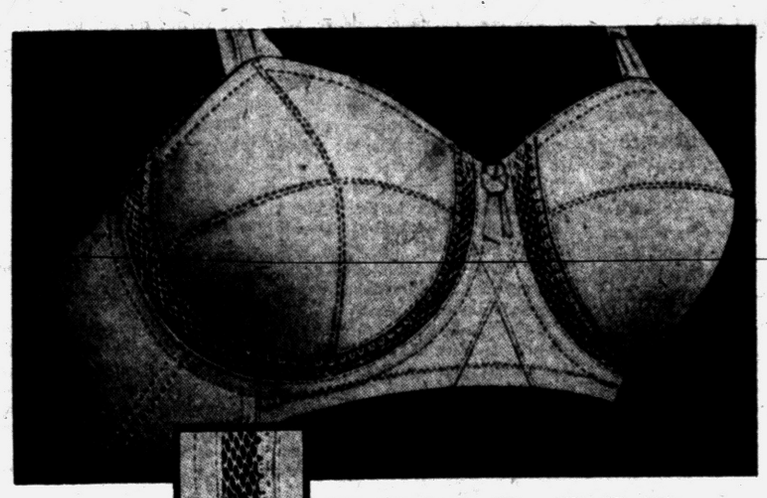

Her estranged husband, character actor Edwin J. Jerome, found the body after a room clerk reported her phone off the hook. An autopsy was performed yesterday.

Toll Rates on Seaway Should Be Reasonable

No major changes are likely in the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway tolls as a result of hearings in Washington and Ottawa.

Fees were recommended on June 18 by the Tolls Committees of the Seaway Corporation which is building the U.S. part of the project, and Canada's Seaway Authority. A good case can be made for a free waterway. Tradiitional American policy on inland and coastal waters is for no tolls at all and Canada is inclined to that idea despite the fact that Seaway cost to that country is double the amount we are investing.

Tolls for a self-liquidating seaway was the argument that got the act passed, the first Federal project in our history providing self-liquidation. But the high toll charges advocated by Eastern Coast shipping interests would price Great Lake Ports out of foreign markets to the advantage of Atlantic seaports.

★ ★ ★

The New York Herald Tribune says that "New York's vital interest is to fight unfair competition from St. Lawrence tolls that are not completely self supporting. Not only would this port lose precious business but New York and New Jersey taxpayers would be making up seaway deficits. That's an outrageous irony to contemplate and it isn't at all out of the bounds of possibility."

★ ★ ★

Let's look back a little. The taxpayers of the whole country already have paid $419 million to help develop seaports along the Atlantic coast. A 1956 report by the Chief of Army Engineers states this amount has been expended for capital improvement in New England, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. To this must be added some $200 million for maintenance.

With our greatly expanding economy and enormous population growth there should be enough business for the St. Lawrence ports and the Eastern Seaboard.

U.N. Secretary General Working on Arab Plan

In accordance with the unanimously adopted Arab Plan, U.N. Secretary General HAMMARSKJOLD has gone to the Middle East to discuss early troop withdrawals by the United States and Britain.

The Secretary hopes to make practical arrangements whereby Lebanon and Jordan can be protected from outside dangers so the Western countries can make a face saving withdrawal of their troops. Political observers believe that the United Arab Republic (UAR) will meet with Lebanon and Jordan in September with a view to resuming normal relations.

Key feature of the Arab proposal is that the 10 sponsoring countries refrain from meddling in each other's domestic affairs and respect each other's sovereignty and territory. Since the present crisis was brought on by interference of the UAR with its neighbors, the resolution may do some good.

That it was proposed by the Arab states is surprising and implies a considerable change in NASSER'S tactics. In fact the major role in preparing the formula for peace was played by Egypt's foreign minister, Dr. MAHMOUD FAWZI.

★ ★ ★

Ever since President EISENHOWER gave the U.N. his plan for bringing peace to the Middle East, the vitriolic UAR controlled press and radio have been calling it new evidence of American imperialist colonialism. However, three of the President's proposals are embodied in the Arab resolution.

★ ★ ★

The question now is can leaders of the Arab states control hot-headed revolutionists who have been whipped up to fever pitch against the West, Lebanon and Jordan by agitators and subversive elements. While passage of the resolution is quite an achievement for the U.N., its implementation depends on how well the Arabs live up to it. To make it effective there must be continuing efforts toward peaceful solutions.

David Lawrence Says:

Integration Is Proceeding Illegally

WASHINGTON — Thoughts that came to mind as the Supreme Court of the United States was hearing in extraordinary session arguments on whether or not to postpone its decree on "integration" of schools at Little Rock:

LAWRENCE

Could the nine justices really be unmindful of the illegal manner by which the Fourteenth Amendment itself was inserted in the Constitution and nevertheless order now that schools be "integrated" lest they be "violating" that amendment?

Could the nine justices be unaware that men equally conscientious — justices like Oliver Wendell Holmes and Louis Brandeis and Charles Evans Hughes and William Howard Taft, who sat on the high court — had again and again refused to rule that the Fourteenth Amendment covered any Federal authority to say who shall or shall not attend public schools and instead ruled that the states themselves could set up their own regulations for admission to educational institutions?

Could the nine justices ever justify to themselves why the Supreme Court for 90 years has persistently refused to rule in any case brought before it that the Fourteenth Amendment had been legally adopted in 1868, preferring instead to take refuge in the evasive comment that this was a "political" question?

Wouldn't it be more in keeping with American tradition of freedom to submit such an amendment now to the people of all the states and let them determine whether they want the Federal government to be supreme in education and thus deprive the states of the powers they thought they had all along reserved to themselves when they ratified the Tenth Amendment?

These points today have been forgotten by many people in the north, but they are ingrained in the minds of many people in the south, who were taught from 1868 to 1954 that the following doctrine —expressed by the Supreme Court of the United States in a 7-to-1 ruling — had been proclaimed as the "law of the land":

"The object of the (Fourteenth) Amendment was undoubtedly to enforce the absolute equality of the two races before the law, but in the nature of things it could not have been intended to abolish distinctions based upon color, or to enforce social, as distinguished from political, equality, or a commingling of the two races upon terms unsatisfactory to either.

"Laws permitting and even requiring their separation in places where they are liable to be brought into contact do not necessarily imply the inferiority of either race to the other, and have been generally, if not universally, recognized as within the competency of the state legislatures in the exercise of their police power. The most common instance of this is connected with the establishment of separate schools for white and colored children, which have been held to be a valid exercise of the legislative power even by courts of states where the political rights of the colored race have been longest and most earnestly enforced . . .

"In determining the question of reasonableness, it (the state) is at liberty to act with reference to the established usages, customs and traditions of the people, and within a view to the promotion of their comfort, and the preservation of the public peace and good order . . .

"The argument also assumes that social prejudices may be overcome by legislation, and that equal rights cannot be secured to the Negro except by an enforced commingling of the two races. We cannot accept this proposition. If the two races are to meet on terms of social equality, it must be the result of natural affinities, a mutual appreciation of each other's merits and a voluntary consent of individuals . . ."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol, Sugar Diabetes Are Dangerous Mixture

In a fine little book, Diabetes as a Way of Life, published by Coward-McCann, Inc., New York, the author, T. S. Danowski, M. D., discusses the problem of alcoholic beverages. He points out that the alcohol, the fruit and the sugar in cocktail or other alcoholic beverage must be counted as a food and its caloric value subtracted from the diabetic's food allowance.

DR. BRADY

Then Dr. Danowski refers to the loss of judgment which accompanies drinking, and which may cause errors in regulating the diabetes. Or, if insulin shock or other catastrophe should occur, it would be logical for any Samaritan to infer from the odor of alcohol on the person's breath that he or she has had one too many and just needs to sleep it off.

Finally the author makes a plea which seems a sad commentary on American morals and manners:

"Probably it is best for the diabetic to avoid alcohol altogether, but in any case great care and judgment should be exercised in its use. Your friends will accept and respect your attitude when the reasons for avoiding alcohol are made apparent."

I'M CONFUSED

Now I must acknowledge I'm confused by all this. Just when is the diabetic to exercise judgment about drinking? It would have to be before the first drink, for everyone but the drinker recognizes that judgment is lost with drinking. And if everybody has already had one or more drinks, nobody will have retained enough good judgment to recognize that somebody else has lost his.

If "your friends" have to hear your reason for not drinking before they will accept and respect your attitude, you must have queer friends.

If you do not choose to eat ham on Friday, pork on Saturday or any kind of meat any day in the year, would it be polite for your friends to demand an explanation of your way of life?

How would they like it if you asked them to tell everybody present just why they must indulge in a narcotic on such an occasion? Can't they enjoy a sociable hour without benumbing their faculties?

The author gives the most recent observations on the use of the oral substitute for insulin, called Orinase. For most diabetics past 40, one, two or three tablets a day, by mouth, will control the sugar level and free patients from the burdensome daily injection of insulin. In 5 to 10 per cent of cases, however, neither Orinase nor the other oral substitute for insulin, called Carbutamide, has proved entirely satisfactory.

In my opinion an optimal daily ration of vitamin B is essential for every child or adult with diabetes —no matter what treatment may be used.

Opinions Differ Concerning Page One Strike Editorial

Your front page editorial in regard to the strike made me disgusted, not with management, not the union, but the editor and the paper.

★ ★ ★

The editorial was biased to the degree of the union paper itself. I can understand why the union paper comes out with radical editorials, but it is a limited publication for members that expect to read exactly that kind of material. Such should not be the case with a daily paper that reaches all modes of life in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

I'm a salaried employe of Pontiac Motor Division and definitely lean toward management, but that doesn't shut out completely my ability to reason and formulate opinions from same.

Wouldn't it be more practical to present such an editorial on the editorial page, or if on the front page, in such a manner that all facts would be noted and opinions could be made by the reader. Editorials are usually one man's opinion but front page and highlighted such as the one that stood out on Wednesday (even though 99 per cent true) was very poor ethics.

Marlin (Guy) Marshall

Oxford

---

The ideas put forth in the Wednesday editorial certainly reflect the feelings of the majority of Pontiac people. The strike situation comes from just a few people and it's too bad so many must suffer as a result.

M.C.G.

I wish to express my sympathy to the editor of this paper for being placed in a situation where he is forced to suppress the whole truth on the strike at Pontiac Motor Division.

J. N. Gazette

Rochester

---

I'm writing concerning the statement in Wednesday's editorial that if the people of Pontiac Motor could cast a secret ballot, there wouldn't be any strike.

★ ★ ★

I, for one, would like to know how we could cast that secret ballot. I believe I'm speaking for a good many people. I don't want a strike. I want a pay day and I need every pay and I think all the other people do, too. We were told the other laid off people were to start coming back to work on Wednesday, so there was no reason to strike.

★ ★ ★

I hope we hear from a lot of people who are off work in regard to this, so we can get back to work.

W. O.

The strike is a result of a few would-be big shots trying to look important. They can really feel like big men if they can throw a monkey wrench into the works just as production on the new models is supposed to start. Of course, they don't stop to think they're hurting many thousands of other people by trying to make themselves look so powerful. We were supposed to go back to work and now we don't know when it will be.

The editorial was right in saying that most people don't want a strike. All we want is steady work and regular paychecks.

Dish Breaking Problem Plagues Restaurants

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—If you take your wife out to dinner you can get out of helping with the dishes — unless you forget your billfold.

But the dish washing and dish breaking problem is still there. It's one of today's big headaches for those in the restaurant and hotel business.

They report replacing as much as 85 per cent of their cups and 47 per cent of their saucers annually. The toll of the butterfingered varies widely among eating places. Some say they replace less than 15 per cent of all their tableware stocks annually and a few report replacing up to 150 per cent.

This can eat into profits.

Those who cater to the public's hunger have tried many ways of cutting this cost. Some of the larger ones report that dishwashing machines have cut their breakage costs by a fourth to a half. A few say they can see little difference in this respect between the mechanical and the human washer.

Some have turned to plastic tableware and report spending considerably less of their annual gross dollar volume now for replacements. A few have turned to metal tableware and find breakage a small item with the chief worries dents, scratches or polishing.

To look into trends in the commercial feeding field, a trade publication, Restaurant Equipment Dealer, has tabulated replies from some 300 restaurants and hotels queried about their problems.

The majority say that breakage cost is a major item in their budget but that quality and style and customer preference still is high on their list of considerations when choosing tablewear.

The higher priced the menu the fancier the customers expect the place settings to be.

The survey shows 87 per cent of the concerns sticking exclusively to chinaware, 11 per cent using part china and part plastic tableware, and 2 per cent using all plastic or other types, such as tempered glass.

Those using chinaware exclusively spend an average of 2.47 per cent of their annual gross dollar volume for replacements. Those using plasticware exclusively spend an average of 1.72 per cent of their gross.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Mind Has Great Power Over Body

Fred's case is a classic so scrapbook it at once. I have not exaggerated an iota. It shows the power of the mind. It is often the ritual of taking pills rather than the drugs therein, which soothes the insomnia patient and the neurotic with spastic colitis. That's why health fads and various types of "tea" can produce such apparent cures.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 305: Fred L., aged 65, was a very successful banker.

He complained of excruciating pain in the stump of his leg, which had been amputated.

★ ★ ★

When I stopped in his room, it was 3:45, and he was due for a shot of morphine at 4 p.m.

DR. CRANE

Fred was so jittery and restless that he fidgeted in bed. His hands shook so badly he spilled the water when he took a drink.

And at 3:55, he began ringing for his nurse and railing at her delay.

"I can't stand this pain any longer," he moaned. "It is driving me crazy!"

The nurse arrived promptly at 4 o'clock and gave him his expected injection.

Immediately Fred relaxed. In fact, he became so sleepy that he failed to keep up his end of our conversation.

Soon his head slumped on his chest and by 4:15 he was snoring.

"Isn't morphine wonderful?" you may exclaim, and that is true.

But Fred had been tricked. The nurse hadn't injected morphine at all! She had simply used a small salt tablet, which she dutifully dissolved and injected in lieu of the expected morphine.

Please remember that Fred was a brilliant college graduate and a successful banker.

Furthermore, I might tell you that he had been given actual morphine shots before, on previous visits to the hospital.

But now he was being tricked because it was felt his pain was largely psychological and thus capable of being handled by psychotherapy.

DRUG ADDICTS

★ ★ ★

"It isn't the chemical need for morphine or heroin that drives them almost crazy with desire for the drug.

"No, it is a BELIEF that they need the drug. Substitute a salt tablet and you could trick most of them."

Well, we students thought he was exaggerating greatly. But many later cases like this one of Fred today, suggest that he may have been partly right.

For example, it isn't the nicotine in tobacco which makes cigarette smokers such addicts. For an experiment was conducted in which the nicotine was reduced to 2 per cent.

The smokers weren't informed of this fact. But their family and co-workers were "in" on the experiment and asked to notice if these human "guinea pigs" showed any signs of less interest in their cigarettes.

All but two showed no evidence they noted any difference. Two were heard to indict substitute (ersatz) items, for this was during the last war, but even these two smoked with just as great eagerness as formerly.

So it wasn't certain whether they had actually noticed any change in the taste of the cigarettes or had just lumped them with other ersatz products of the war vintage.

We also know that it is the muscle "hunger" to wave an arm around and expend energy which is the primary desire of the smoker. Give him something to occupy his hands and he can break the cigarette habit easily.

People soon sell themselves on certain so-called needs and thereafter insist they are addicts of cigarettes, coffee, soft drinks or whatnot.

Yet it may not be nicotine or caffeine at all but just a desire to break monotony or stall via a coffee break.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bus Transportation Subsidy Continued

The Pontiac Board of Education last night agreed to continue for one more year its policy of subsidizing the bus transportation of youngsters from the Washington Park area to Whitfield School.

The board agreed that in the absence of sidewalks and with traffic heavier than ever on Telegraph road, it was a matter of safety to have the children take buses. The cost to the board is $1,800 a year.

The board warned parents, however, that the policy was for just the one year and they would have to find a permanent solution on their own.

Doctors Report Trends Changing in Hospital Care

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Trends in hospital care are changing, University of Michigan doctors reported today.

They said patients now take more medicine, have fewer surgical operations, go home sooner and have more babies.

Their conclusions were based on a report of activities at the university's medical center for the fiscal year ended June 30.

Average stay at the hospital during the year was 11.8 days, a new low, said Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowske, director of the medical center. Last year the average patient was bed-ridden for 12.2 days.

They are believed to have been helped by winds across the 1,770 miles of ocean between Africa and South America. Establishing a new home in British Guiana and Surinam, they spread to the United States and have now colonized the southeastern seaboard. Individuals have ventured as far north as Newfoundland.

Big Cactus Creates Big Space Problem

The company ornaments its main lobby in suburban Evanston with a cactus that has been growing at an amazing rate for the past four years.

Due to an increase in business, the firm has had to move to larger facilities three times during the past four years. Each move came in the nick of time for the cactus, which had also outgrown its location.

If the plant keeps on growing the way it has, it should touch the 10-foot lobby ceiling of the present headquarters in about four years. The firm is practically resigned to moving in 1962.

Prelude to Presidential Race?

New York Conventions Reveal Power Struggles

(The author of the following dispatch is the veteran manager of the UPI bureau at Albany and has been an expert on New York politics since the days of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey).

By KIRTLAND I. KING

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — The struggle for power which preceded selection of the Republican and Democratic New York state ticket this week might play an important role in the 1960 presidential race.

The most important political development was the open split between Gov. Averell Harriman and Carmine De Sapio, boss of Tammany Hall. Harriman teamed with Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, in battling De Sapio over a candidate for U. S. senator but the Tammany leader had the votes and put over his man—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, of New York.

On the Republican side, a group of newcomers, led by millionaire Nelson A. Rockefeller, took over. Rockefeller licked some party pros in his successful bid for the GOP gubernatorial race, but it was Vice President Richard M. Nixon who broke up a stalemate on the designation of a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

The vice president, backed by President Eisenhower, stepped in and brought about the nomination of Rep. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester.

Rockefeller is believed to have his eyes on the White House but has to overcome many "ifs" before he makes the bid. Nixon, however, got his foot in the door for New York's big delegation two years from now when he personally helped Rockefeller line up his running mate. He also has promised to take an active part in the Republican state campaign this year—if GOP leaders want him.

Harriman is in a different position. He is 67 and if he is going to try again for the Democratic presidentiail nomination 1960 is the year. Wagner also might like a spot on the party's national ticket. Two years ago he was mentioned for vice president.

Some of Harriman's political advisers have urged that he close ranks with De Sapio for the state elections, but others feel he could join with Wagner in pinching Tammany's lifeline—patronage. A strong stand against De Sapio now could win him greater national standing, they said.

Those favoring a Harriman-Wagner control of the state Democratic organization recall similar action by a former governor who went on to become president—the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In 1932 Roosevelt struck out against Tammany by forcing the late Mayor James J. Walker from office. Some thought Roosevelt was committing political suicide by fighting the powerful Tammany organization, but he was looking for a chance to become president and some thought his action put the clincher on winning the presidential nomination.

Harriman and Wagner lack the issue F.D.R. used, but they control most of the Democratic patronage in the state. De Sapio, or any party leader, would find the going rough without the jobs for the faithful.

The governor, like Rockefeller, is a multi-millionaire. He said after the party's turbulent convention in Buffalo that he was satisfied with Hogan and that he wasn't "mad at anyone." Yet, it was noted he called the Tammany leader "Mr. De Sapio." He usually refers to him as "Carmine."

"Mr. De Sapio and I have a common objective—to have the ticket win in November," the governor said after the convention.

He said Hogan was a man of "high character" but that he had figured Thomas K. Finletter, former Air Force secretary, or Thomas Murray, former atomic energy commissioner, had more experience in dealing with international problems.

The Liberal Party, which casts between 200,000 and 400,000 votes in New York state, figured prominently in the Harriman-De Sapio struggle. The Liberal Party liked Finletter and Murray but were willing to go along with Hogan. Their first choice was Finletter and the Liberal Party was so strong for the ex-Air Force secretary that at the last minute, Wagner withdrew from placing Murray's name in nomination. The mayor did not want to be put in the position of sponsoring Murray after the Liberal Party had approved Finletter.

The struggle between the Harriman forces and Tammany for power may smoulder until after the ballots are cast in November.

And on the Republican side the success or failure of the Rockefeller slate may determine how the state's delegation to the next GOP national convention will go.

Greece Refuses to Take Part in NATO Exercise

ATHENS (AP) — The Athens Daily Post reported today a NATO exercise scheduled to take place along the Greek-Turkish border in mid-September has been canceled.

Port Huron Couple Injured in Explosion

PORT HURON (AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed a Port Huron home today and brought serious injury to a man and his wife.

Peter and Margaret Reno were taken to Mercy Hospital. Both suffered burns and received injuries in jumping from a second-story window.

Their two-story west side home was left in ruins by the explosion between 6:30 and 6:45 a.m.

Cause of the blast wasn't determined immediately, but authorities said Reno told them there were two capped natural gas wells near his home. The home itself was heated by an oil furnace.

Rneo was getting up when the explosion happened, blowing off the roof and starting a furious fire. Reno and his wife, who was in bed when the blast came, jumped from a window. Witnesses said Reno's shirt was aflame.

Driver Appeals Decision to Circuit Court Here

Roy F. Harmon Sr., 49, of 263 Cottage St., was found guilty yesterday of reckless driving by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

He was fined $100 or 20 days in jail and appealed, the case to Oakland County Circuit Court. He was released on $300 bond pending arraignment Sept. 8.

Schools Report to Court Today

Authorities in Norfolk Ordered to Reconsider Negro Applicants

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The next skirmish in Virginia's complex and confusing fight to preserve segregated schools takes place here today as Norfolk school authorities report to federal court on their reconsideration of Negro applicants to white schools.

The report comes less than 24 hours after another integration-threatened city — Charlottesville—sought more time to find a solution to the problem by postponing the opening of public schools from Sept. 2 to Sept. 15.

Only Burley High School for Negroes will open Sept. 2 in Charlottesville. The exception was made because Burley is operated jointly by the city and adjacent Albemarle County.

Today's hearing here was ordered by Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman after the Norfolk school board turned down the applications of all 151 Negroes who wanted to enter white schools. Hoffman directed the school board to reconsider its action, and to pay particular attention to the applications of 16 Negroes who in achievement tests and interviews showed themselves academically qualified for admission.

John S. Battle Jr., Charlottesville city attorney and chief draftsman of that city's local pupil assignment plan, hinted last night that city authorities still are worried some schools will be closed by state law.

You're Lucky If Grass Is Green

By WAYNE B. SEIFERT
County Horticultural Agent

If your grass isn't brown, I think you are a pretty lucky fellow. We have just experienced a modest drouth and where sandy soil is common, so is brown grass. Plenty of times it is just a matter of water. But, have you got enough water to revive your grass?

Most of our lawn grasses have a built-in protective device so they can survive dry weather. They just stop growing and go dormant until the fall rains. This means we should either let it get brown and play the waiting game, or be prepared to give grass enough water to carry it all the way through. The answer is deep soaking once a week.

Too often lawns are watered by light sprinklings every few days which causes serious damage. In most cases new roots develop near the surface and are killed between each watering because it is too dry.

Tall cutting of Bluegrass and Fescue lawns seems most important where drouth is common. This means cutting at least 2½ inches tall. This tall cutting aids survival during dry summers by shading the soil and assisting in development of a deeper root system. It also helps to crowd out crab grass but this doesn't have anything to do with dry lawns.

When the grass begins to grow again one close cut will remove much of the dead grass leaves and allow new leaves to show up fresh and green.

Rambler roses need summer pruning. Just a little help each year transforms this plant into three weeks of glowing beauty during June and July. But like the maternal salmon, they bloom but once and then are finished.

PRUNE ROSE CANES

The old canes of these plants must be pruned out promptly after flowering to permit the young shoots to fully develop for next year. Not only do these old canes prevent adequate shoot development but make a shelter for spider mites, black spot and borers.

★ ★ ★

Flies seem so loaded with curiosity, you would like to hit them with a club. We know of a lot bigger club to use in DDT. In spite of all the talk about resistant flies and how they thrive on it, DDT still works. A weekly spraying on walls, furniture and floors of patios, porches and open breezeways can make outdoor living a real joy. And once it dries, it is harmless to pets and children.

DESTROY ANTS

Ants are the scourge of the pantry. One of these days these eager-beavers are going to find out that raiding the kitchen doesn't pay . . . and Chlordane is going to help this education. As a spray or dust around doorways, the foundations, and on known ant hills, this chemical will completely destroy an ant colony. It is easily obtained at local feed and supply houses.

Tomato rot again is pretty common in many home and truck gardens. Although lots of things cause the fruits to rot, blossom end rot is still most common. A dark sunken spot where the blossom remains often is the beginning of blossom end rot. As the fruits enlarge, this retarded spot causes the tomato to be odd shaped and undesirable. Many times this sunken retarded area begins to rot as the tomato ripens.

Probably more often some fungus disease gets started in this sheltered, weakened area, destroying not only that one, but any it may touch.

The cause is clearly known. Drouth where the fruits are small seems a common cause. During this dry season when vines are in full bloom, an occasional heavy watering will do much to prevent blossom end rot and set more fruit.

List Helpful Power Mower Safety Rules

Safety experts state that power mowers are no more dangerous than any other household gadget if they are handled properly. They point out that the more than 12,000,000 persons using power mowers this summer can reduce accident risks by following several basic safety tips.

Power mowers should be used only during daylight because sticks, stones and other debris cannot be seen at night. Youngsters or pets should not be allowed around the mower, even when it is in the garage.

Gasoline should be kept in steel fuel cans to prevent fires and explosions. These rust-resistant cans have convenient pouring spouts and tight-fitting caps to lock in dangerous fumes.

The pouring spout should come into contact with the tank when filling the mower. This serves to ground the spout and prevents the formation of static electricity, which might ignite the fuel.

The operator should have his feet planted in a safe spot when starting the engine of a power mower, and should always be sure of his footing when mowing on an incline. Hills and banks should be cut sideways instead of up and down to prevent a fall.

The machine should not be refueled when the mower is running or still hot from use. The mower should be shut off when moving it from one level to another or for minor repairs or adjustment.

Lay Groundwork for Better Lawns During Autumn

Autumn months offer opportunity to lay the groundwork for better lawn areas. Grass seed and fertilizer used in the next few weeks result in next year's tight sodded, beautiful lawns.

To develop a fine lawn, use a good quality grass seed.

The bolsters thin sods and upgrades turfs of lesser grasses. The seed will become husky low rosettes until spring when shoots reach for the sky. About two pounds of grass seed per thousand square feet is sufficient for thorough coverage.

Fertilization goes hand in hand with quality seed. Lawn grass fertilizers need to be high in nitrogen with lesser quantities of phosphorus and potassium. A suitable ratio is about a 3-2-1 proportion.

It is nearly impossible to overfeed during autumn. Ten to 20 pounds of fertilizer for each 1,000 square feet of lawn will have an excellent effect. Fertilizers not absorbed by the grass will remain in the soil, a stockpile held for future use.

Whitney Buys Herald Tribune

U.S. Envoy to Britain Closes New York Deal With Reid Family

NEW YORK (AP) — John Hay Whitney, U.S. ambassador to Britain and a New York City financier has acquired control of the New York Herald Tribune from the Reid family.

★ ★ ★

Ogden R. Reid, president and editor of the newspaper, announced yesterday that Whitney had acquired it and its European edition published in Paris.

The Herald Tribune and Whitney announced last September that he had invested an undisclosed sum in the newspaper.

Yesterday's announcement by Reid said in part: The Reid family will retain a substantial interest in the Herald Tribune. At Whitney's request, Reid will continue as editor and chief executive officer until Whitney has had an opportunity to determine future management.

A statement by Whitney, released here, said in part that he proposes to preserve the newspaper's character "and to build upon its great traditions as an independent Republican newspaper."

Whitney said he intends to continue as ambassador "so long as the President desires."

"I cannot at this time, however, take part in its daily publication, but I will follow its progress closely and consult from time to time on long-range policy and plans for its expansion. At a later date I will devote my major attention to the New York Herald Tribune."

★ ★ ★

Reid said present officers of the newspaper will remain, and indicated there would be no staff changes except for additions to the staff.

About Farm Ponds

A farm pond can be a delightful addition to the landscape and provide much family fun such as swimming and boating—or it can be a death trap. All too often it is the latter. Drownings rank second only to machinery as a cause of accidential farm deaths, according to safety oficials.

Good for Farms

A white roof on farm buildings will reflect sun rays and lower the temperature inside the building by as much as 10 degrees.

Short Skirts, Empire Midriffs Add Up to High Fashion Here

This dress curves to the hipline in worsted mohair and nylon. By David Crystal, the colorful dress comes in sage-green, royal, red or teal blue. This shape is fashion's latest dictate.

David Crystal designed this three-way dress to wear with a belt, half-belted or beltless. It is in soft wool and angora tweed jersey, and has the new soft, fluid shape.

A grosgrain banded empire midriff is a feature of this dress by Mr. Mort. The printed wool jersey is excellent for wear under furs. The bateau neckline, three-quarter sleeves and short skirt add up to high fashion.

Find Another Fishing Spot!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 29 who is in a predicament. I am in love with two women. They are mother and daughter. The daughter is 17 and her mother is 35. Actually I prefer the mother. She is only six years older than me while I am 12 years older than the daughter.

ABBY

"Please don't tell me I should have my head examined but I know I could be happy with either one of them. They are both very much in love with me and I can't seem to make up my mind. Which one should I choose?"

FISHERMAN BILL

DEAR BILL: Marrying one and being related to the other could present problems you didn't count on. Change your location and fish off another dock.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old and am in love with the most wonderful boy in the world. He gets out in two years. My parents fight with me all the time because they don't want me to wait for him. They try to get me to go out with other boys, but, Abby, I am IN LOVE with this guy and I don't want to date anybody else.

"I sleep with his picture under my pillow and I think about him all the time. Do you think my parents have a right to keep after me? How can I get them to leave me alone?

VERY MUCH IN LOVE

DEAR VERY: One of my readers has the answer for you and here it is:

"DEAR ABBY: I am just 16 and for the past year I thought I was 'in love' and now that it is all over I can see if I had listened to my mother I would have been going out and enjoying life and dating a lot of people and having fun like a 16-year-old girl should.

"All these girls 14, 15 and 16 think their folks are unfair because they want them to go with lots of boys, and not see too much of any one. They had better slow down and remember that their folks know a lot more about life than they do and God would not have given us parents if we were able to get along without them."

A TEENAGER

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I've been intimate with my boss for some time. Now I am going to have a baby. I'm 22 and should have known better. He said when I have the baby he and his wife will adopt it and give me $500 in addition to paying all my expenses. His wife agrees to this because she can't have any children of her own. Do you think I should go through with this?"

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: Absolutely not! Get in touch with your FAMILY SERVICE ASSOCIATION.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Whenever I try to discipline our children, the wife steps in and tells me I am wrong. When I criticize the children for anything, the wife gets into the act and tries to make me look small. She thinks she is winning the children over but I think she is mixing them up.

"She says she is the one who has to stay home with them all day and if I make them mean they take it out on her. How do you live with a wife like that?"

MAN OR MOUSE

DEAR MAN: Your wife should stay out of the act—even when she thinks you are wrong. A woman who causes a man to wonder whether he is a man or mouse shouldn't be surprised if he turns into a rat.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My girl friend and I are having an argument. Which is worn first on the finger, the wedding band or the engagement ring? And why, please?"

JOSIE AND FLORA

DEAR GIRLS: The wedding band is slipped on first, and then the engagement ring. I don't know why, and no one whom I have asked knows why, either.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I had a date for a barn dance one night in a small town near here. On the way back I ran out of gas. We found ourselves (my girl and I) in the middle of nowhere. My date said she would wait in the car for me while I hitchhiked to the nearest service station. I disagreed and made her hitchhike with me. What is the correct thing for a fellow to do in a case like this?"

OUT OF GAS

DEAR OUT: You used excellent judgment. The walk couldn't hurt her, but the dangers of a girl sitting alone in a deserted automobile "in the middle of nowhere" are too terrible to contemplate. Good for you!

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOODLE: It's a little early for a "snow job." Change your technique.

Make a Joke of Paying

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have invited a boy to a Sadie Hawkins dance (girl asks boy) and I would like to know if I am supposed to provide transportation to and from the dance or is the boy expected to do so. Also, tickets cannot be obtained beforehand. Admission is paid at the door. Will you please tell me how this can be handled without embarrassment to him?"

Answer: The boy can be expected to furnish the transportation for both of you to and from the dance, but you must pay admission. Since he has accepted your invitation to a Sadie Hawkins dance he must expect you to pay for the tickets and he should not be embarrassed when he sees you do so. You might even make a joke out of it by saying, "This time the shoe is on the other foot, and you might just as well enjoy the sight of me paying instead of you."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please comment on the use of slip covers for the protection of leather luggage while traveling? Are they in good taste?"

Answer: Yes—perfectly. Although one is apt to wonder why when you have beautiful luggage, you want to hide it. The covers are taken off when you arrive and the fresh unspoiled luggage stands in your hotel room. With this care it remains a beautiful possession for many years. (Uncovered leather, unless it is given meticulous care, all too soon becomes dull and ugly.)

Filipino Dress Given to Mamie

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower has received a Filipino "butterfly" dress as a gift from Mrs. Carlos P. Garcia, wife of the Philippines president.

The long, pale green gown was made especially for Mrs. Eisenhower after she expressed admiration for the elaborately embroidered, puff-sleeved Filipino dresses during the Garcias' state visit last June.

Called a "terno," it is made of translucent cloth called kusi.

Mrs. Carlos P. Romulo, wife of the Philippines' ambassador, presented the gift during a visit at the White House.

Mats Save Sinks

Many of today's efficient homemakers place a rubber mat in the bottom of the kitchen sink, knowing that this is a guard against scraping heavy or rough bottomed utensils across the glossy porcelain enameled surface.

No Directions Come With the Baby

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the last of six excerpts that will appear during her absence from "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child" by Hilde Bruch, M.D., copyright 1952 by Hilde Bruch. Used by permission of the publisher, Farrar, Straus & Cudahy, Inc.)

It is the whole attitude of "mastering" the task of parenthood that has seduced people into an inordinate reverence for science.

The quasi-religious belief in science per se has produced submission to the "expert."

The very people who claim as progress the denial of the traditional concepts will accept as unchallengeable truths the pronouncements of an expert, even though on closer appraisal, perception and reason may disclose them to be illusions. It is the "scientific methods" or "scientific evidence" that are credited with producing the magic key to all problems.

or have been taught to expect the same type of cut-and-dried prescription for child care which they receive with their new washing machine or TV set.

A modern mother may feel just as guilty if she does not follow the norm as if she had been told that she had committed a "sin" in the good old-fashioned style. Words like "average" or "expected" have just as much of a punitive, intimidating meaning for the modern mother who is overawed by "scientific facts" as "sin" had for her unenlightened orthodox ancestor.

It is because of this assumption that there is such a thing as a "scientific" normal way of raising a child that modern young mothers consult the expert. Even love is administered on prescription as a necessary ingredient toward building up the child's mental health.

It is only when parents stop being afraid of their own past that they can truly integrate the vast and meaningful insights of modern psychiatry and child psychology into useful knowledge for their own roles as parents.

In order to give proper early training, parents must have an inner sense of their own value and worthwhileness. It is at this point that "parent education" has committed the most grievous faults, namely that of not respecting the fundamental needs of parents.

★ ★ ★

Magic solutions can only be offered by fake authorities. My intent in writing my book is to set in motion independent, genuine thoughts and feelings that will permit parents to recognize their own inner resources and capacity for judgment.

Preserve Beets, Cabbage in Hot Spicy Relish

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Preserving vegetables and fruits for more interesting winter meals is the thought of many homemakers these days. Mrs. Myrtle Wierenga, a teacher who lives in Walled Lake, called us to give us several of her favorite pickle recipes.

BEET RELISH
By Mrs. Myrtle Wierenga

4 cups beets
4 cups cabbage
1 cup strong horseradish
2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon red pepper
Vinegar

Cook and skin beets. Put through a food grinder with the cabbage. Mix with all ingredients except vinegar. Just cover with vinegar, but do not let vegetables swim in it. This can be eaten at once or canned for the winter.

EASY SWEET PICKLES

300 small cucumbers
⅔ cup coarse salt (not iodized)
2 quarts cider vinegar
4 tablespoons mixed pickling spice
4 tablespoons salt
4 tablespoons sugar
3 pounds sugar

Pour salt over cucumbers that have been washed and dried. Cover with boiling water and let stand overnight. Rinse and drain. Put in a crock.

Mix vinegar, spices, salt and smaller amount of sugar and pour mixture over cucumbers. Every day add ½ cup sugar until the three pounds are gone.

These may be made with any size cucumbers. Cut large ones into chunks.

Don't Slump!

Tall Girls Are Most Fashionable

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I have a complex about my height. I am 5 feet 10 inches tall. I have a pretty face (they tell me) and a good figure, but feel so unattractive because of my height."

A. DON'T! Many of today's most beautiful women are tall. Models, remember, are much taller than average. The important thing is not to allow this feeling of yours to make you slump. You can be stunning-looking if you carry yourself well. You also can lessen the impression of height with clothes. Use horizontal lines, belts of a different color from your outfit, and color contrasting skirts and tops.

Q. "People always mention my laugh. They say it sounds terrible. Is there an exercise or any way I can change it? I get so tickled."

A. You did not say what is wrong with your laugh. Since you say you become very amused I guess that you have a great big guffaw. While this is not considered attractive in a woman, still it has its points. You might quiet it down a little please but do not lose its contagion. I have an idea your friends really enjoy it or they would not kid you about it.

Q. "My legs, arms, face and neck are a deep suntan. I do not think this will be flattering with winter clothes. How can I get rid of it without taking too long?"

A. Suntan just has to have time to fade out. There are products on the market which are mild bleaches. Cucumber juice and lemon juice are also. Unless your skin is very oily you should dilute the lemon juice before applying it.

Q. "I am 27 years old and want to know if I can straighten my back at my age. Are there exercises which would do this?"

A. It would have been easier when younger but you can make a lot of improvement, and, just as important, you can keep the condition from progressing. It will with age unless you take measures now. Your chest muscles probably have shortened and your back muscles weakened. Therefore do not become discouraged. Your muscles will feel tired at first from exercise and from the effort to hold yourself correctly.

Do the following two exercises. Stand tall with your arms at your sides. Raise the arms forward, shoulder height and shoulder width apart. Do this in a relaxed manner. Now fling the arms sideward backward was far as comfortable. Feel the pull? Return arms to forward position. Continue.

Another: Take the end of a small rope in each hand, rope behind the body. Put the rope over a bedpost with your back toward the bed. Hold firmly to the rope as you let your body fall forward, knees stiff. Remain in this position for a short time. Bend your knees and stand erect. Continue.

Q. "I used to have lovely blonde hair. Now mine is turning dark, or much darker. Is this natural? I am 45 years old."

A. Yes, all hair turns darker as one grows older. You might use a vegetable rinse to brighten it up.

Tomorrow: "We've Come A Long Way Since Days of First Bath."

Save Evening a Week for Beauty Tasks

This is one of those things that no man will understand and every woman will grasp immediately. That's the need that a woman has to spend one evening a week happily puttering away at beauty tasks.

★ ★ ★

This may include shampoo and set, fresh manicure, electric message and the washing out of nylon dainties. She may press a dress or two, mend some gloves or turn up a hem.

★ ★ ★

If she's efficient, she probably has a list of things waiting to be done. Knowing that she has time to herself in which to do them can make her face the balance of the week with a relaxed and serene feeling.

Deputies to Stand By at School Integration

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Deputy sheriffs will stand by during enrollment today at the Springer and Graham schools in Carter County, where Negro students will be admitted for the first time.

Officials predicted there would be no violence, but an incident in the Springer community 10 miles north of here Aug. 4 caused Sheriff Enoch Watterson some anxiety.

An argument over integration erupted during a Springer school board meeting. Fisticuffs followed and two members of the school board were injured.

Six school patrons were arrested and charged later with rioting. They are free on bond.

Bob Considine Says:

Here's Integration Case With Happy Ending

NEW YORK — Here's how one integration case made out. It has nothing to do with Little Rock, Virginia or Oklahoma. It has a happy ending, which is something of a rarity these days.

A year or so ago I received a letter from a Mrs. Edith Taylor of Waltham, Mass. Her husband had flown to Okinawa some time previously to take a construction job. The plan was for the happily married woman to follow when he had things settled out there.

In time he wrote astounding news. En route to Okinawa he had obtained a Mexican divorce, then had married a Japanese girl named Aiko, had made out a new will in which he would leave the majority of his little estate to the former wife if she would raise, and educate, the two little girls he had had by Aiko. He was dying of cancer.

Mrs. Taylor took a deep, good-hearted breath and sent for the children. A correspondent who witnessed their tearful departure by plane for the States wrote me of the heartbreak of the young mother (who felt it was better for the children to be raised in America) and of her threats to do away with herself. Taylor was dead by now.

HEART WAS TOUCHED

The letter from Mrs. Taylor related that she knew of the anguish of the girl, years her junior, who had succeeded her as Mrs. Taylor. Could I do anything about getting her a visa to come to the United States?

Most of what I did was to turn the matter over to the Boston Record. Crack reporter Jean Cole was assigned to the job.

The children arrived and the elder of the two Mrs. Taylors made a wonderful home for them, supporting them by working for the Raytheon Corp.

Then, through many combined efforts, the younger Mrs. Taylor was admitted to the United States. Penniless, with only a few words of English, the Japanese girl was taken in and supported cheerfully by the other Mrs. Taylor.

Then a long dissolve, and no news. But now Jean Cole sends me a happy interim report. The Japanese Mrs. Taylor as a child had worked briefly for the Japanese Red Cross. The American Mrs. Taylor and friends obtained work for her in Waltham Hospital. She's a nurse's aide now, her English has improved immensely, she'T become a full-fledged nurse one of these days.

Aniko works the 2 p. m. to midnight shift, hires the sitter for her little girls when the American Mrs. Taylor cannot be at home. She's been taken into everybody's heart.

Maria Taylor, 7, is a beautiful child, is the smartest girl in the second grade at Banks School. Helen, 5, enters kindergarten after Labor Day. They call their Okinawa mother "Mummy." They have another wonderful name for the American Mrs. Taylor. They call her "Mother."

Poets and lovers from time without reckoning have put the moon to work. Now it's the sun's turn. Curtiss-Wright and New York University announced yesterday the establishment of a solar research lab at Princeton, N. J. Its Sun Court includes a solar heated house, swimming pool, furnaces, batteries, solar stills (Ed Note: How's that again, Buster?), driers, cooking equipment, radios and solar food processing equipment.

The solar boys have figured that the amount of sunshine falling on one New York city acre in a year is the equivalent of the energy from 850 tons of coal valued at $8,500. An acre-year of sunshine in Reno equals 1,300 tons of coal, or $13,000. You'd need every penny of that in Reno, you understand.

From now on it will be a race between two determined fields of science. Which will be invented first, the ghastly Sun Bomb or the equally unnerving Sunburger?

What happened to all those Alaskans who told us two weeks ago they were going to vote against statehood? Well, they didn't. And now they've shouldered all the imposing burdens they were so recently complaining about: Operation of the Alaskan Railroad, care and feeding of a governor, lt. governor, 60-seat legislature, dozens of courts, plus harbors, roads, Eskimo benefits, etc. It was that etc. they were especially worried about. Most folks are.

Peerless Park, Though Small, Has Big Worry

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Peerless Park, a suburban community of 120 population which soon will be cut in half, has discovered it has two chairmen of the Board of Trustees and a property tax.

Henry Dennis, who claims he is board chairman, said yesterday he had approved the tax. Joseph Dennis, his brother, who also says he is board chairman, said he wasn't aware the tax rate of 25 cents per $100 had been approved.

Joseph said Peerless Park doesn't need the money—it has police protection and being two by four blocks in size doesn't need street funds. Soon it will be cut in two by a new dual lane stretch of U. S. Highway 66.

★ ★ ★

But Henry said Joseph can't be board chairman. He no longer lives in Peerless Park.

Constable Won't Deny He's Teamster Goon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Barney Dandridge, who refused to answer questions of the Senate Rackets Committee, probably never again will be hired as a special deputy constable, a city official says.

The 6-foot, 335-pound Dandridge, 36, accused by investigators of serving on a Teamsters Union goon squad here, resorted to the Fifth Amendment.

Jean Lavelle, district deputy constable, said Dandridge was hired several times as a special deputy to act as watchman over attached property.

Still Saddled With Wife, as Divorce Is Ruled Void

Sally Ann Rainey told Superior Judge Aylett Cotton yesterday she (1) never had been served with notice of Rainey's divorce suit, (2) didn't know he had been granted an interlocutory divorce and (3) first learned of the October 1957 decree when she was given some of their community property.

Judge Cotton accepted that and voided the divorce decree, reinstated the Raineys' marital status.

Nazis Imprisoned for Slaying Jews

ULM, Germany (AP)—A West German court today sentenced 10 wartime Nazi SS officers and men to prison terms of from 3 to 15 years for the murder of 5,202 Lithuanian Jews in 1941.

The mass murder occurred in the German-Lithuanian border area during the beginning of the Nazi invasion of the Soviet Union.

The trial lasted four months. More than 180 witnesses were heard.

The 15-year terms were given to two SS majors, Hans-Joachim Boehme, 49, head of the Gestapo in Tilsit, East Prussia, and Werner Hershmann, 53, district leader of the security police in Tilsit.

Witnesses testified that the victims were slain by firing squads which divided them into groups of 300. The younger targets had to dig ditches in which all were buried after the mass killings.

The prosecution said that other men who belonged to the execution squads were either dead or untraceable.

Lithuanian Scouts Camping in Milford Area Park

Pontiac Press Photos

REFUGEES REUNITED — Vida Janulevicius (left) and Linda Cesna, both 19, met yesterday afternoon at National Lithuanian Scout Camp for the first time since they were fourth grade pupils together in a displaced persons camp in Kempton, Germany. Linda, in her scout uniform, was acting as a guide for Pontiac Press correspondent when she first recognized Vida. The big surprise came when they learned they live only six blocks apart in Chicago. In background is a replica of castle ruins in the Lithuanian capital, Vilna.

By LAOMA SANFORD
Press Correspondent

Although their nation has been taken from them by the Russians, some 700 Lithuanian refugees from all parts of the United States and Canada are managing to preserve many of their native customs and traditions while practicing the international goals of scouting.

They have set up one of the most elaborate camps ever seen at the Highland State Park Recreation Area in Milford Township, according to Department of Conservation officers there.

The national camp was set up Aug. 15. It will close Saturday.

As a finale, the campers this evening will celebrate their departure with ceremonies open to the public.

At 6 flags will be lowered, followed by a dress parade at 8 and combined girls and boys camp fire at 8:45.

Lithuanian and English are not the only languages heard at the camp, however. Polish, Ukrainian, Latvian and Hungarian refugee scout groups were invited, in addition to an American troop from Avon Lake, Ohio.

All have set up individual camps in their native customs.

Seen are flags, emblems and symbols of the many nations. Among the most noticeable are the crosses. Also exhibited are several hand-carved shrines, miniatures of those found in the homelands of the refugees.

Each day begins with flag-raising ceremonies. After breakfast, there are 1½-hour classes on scouting and Lithuanian customs, as well as those of the other nations represented.

Similar classes are held in the afternoon, and in the evening there are camp fires, dancing and singing.

Commemorating its 40th anniversary, the Lithuanian Scout Assn. is again reaffirming its pledge to seek a world brotherhood of peoples, with justice and freedom for all nations and races. Dr. Vytautas K. Cepas, association president, declared. "And with the help of the Almighty this shall come to pass."

Oakland 4-Hers Win 12 Awards

Compete Among 2,000 State Show Entrants at Michigan State

Oakland County 4-H members walked off with 12 awards this week in the State 4-H Club Show held on the campus of Michigan State University, East Lansing.

One of the top honors went to James Smith of South Lyon. He received $414 for his 1,035-pound Angus, named Reserve Champion Steer of the show.

The East Orion 4-H Club won the model business demonstration team contest for the second time in three years, according to Jack Worthington, Oakland County 4-H agent.

Other winners were: Carolyn Bowers of Milford, second place in Angus steer; Jimmy Anderson of Lake Orion, blue ribbon and first place in third-year vegetable basket and Cordree Heard of Milford, third place in demonstration of child care.

Worthington announced this morning that three firsts and one fourth place were awarded to Oakland County 4-H members who entered the western saddle and pleasure horse classes.

More than 2,000 Michigan 4-H members are attending the 43rd annual five day show which ends today. Today is the final day of judging of some of the 4,300 exhibits which were entered in the show. More than $30,000 in premiums and awards will be presented during the show.

'THE PIRATE' — Lithuanian Sea Scouts set up their camp to resemble a ship. Shown here is Skipper Liudas Slenys, 25, of Chicago, who last year won the Penguin class sailing championship at Custer, Mich., in competition with craft from seven U. S. cities and Canada.

Brandon Residents to Vote on Two School Proposals

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Residents in Brandon Township School District will go to the polls in a special election Thursday to vote on a land sale proposal and a five-mill tax increase for school operating expenses.

The Board of Education is asking permission to sell three parcels of land, the most important of which is the four-acre former baseball field site north of Ball and Narrin streets.

On the ballot again is the tax increase proposal, which was defeated in the annual school election in July. It would be in effect for three years.

If approved, the tax hike would provide an additional $33,000 and make the district eligible for about $19,000 in state aid, Supt. E. J. Hungerford said.

This additional assistance is available to districts operating on a tax basis of 20 mills or more, he pointed out.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the former band room behind the Brandon High School.

Music in the Round

SAUNDERS

Columbia has come up with a tasty batch of pop and jazz releases this month as evidenced by a half-dozen current albums.

"My Heart Sings" (CL 1171) by TV Emmy winner Polly Bergen is an LP which explores the lighter side of love with a crop of standards tastefully arranged and conducted by Luther Henderson.

Two other top notch LPs dishing out vocals on the romantic side are "Torchin'" (CL 1176) by Frankie Laine and "Long Ago and Far Away" (CL 1186) by Tony Bennett. Orchestra and chorus fans will go for Ray Coniff's latest contribution, "Concert In Rhythm" (CL 1163).

Jazzwise, Columbia offers LPs by several recent Down Beat Poll winners. For fans of modern jazz concert recordings, they offer "J. J. In Person" (CL 1161) by the J. J. Johnson Quintet in recent concert appearances. J. J. was voted best trombone man of 1958.

An incomparable duo, Duke Ellington & Mahalia aJckson, team up to do the Duke's composition "Black, Brown and Beige" (CL-1162). The composition itself, with Mahalia singing the "Come Sunday" theme, is a milestone in jazz, but the finale is too much.

Duke asked Mahalia to bring her Bible. She did. For the finale he asked her to open to the 23rd Psalm. He hit a chord, and with his able backing, Mahalia improvised what must go down as the most fantastic gospel rendition ever recorded. Don't miss it.

FIVE ACES: While "Little Star" by The Elegants still retains a slim lead for first place, it is beginning to look as if Domenico Modugno is taking the lead in his battle with Dean Martin over "Nel Blu Di Pinto Di Blu."

The tune fell off our top five list last week but has jumped back strong and is only an eyelash out of first spot. (In fact, if you were to take the sales of both versions lumped together it would be well ahead of the entire pack).

In third spot are The Everly Brothers with their disc of "Devoted to You"-"Bird Dog." The former side, now falling off in sales, is being outsold by the latter side. It's real double dynamite for the boys.

Fourth spot is inhabited by "Just A Dream" by Jim Clinton and fifth place goes to "Rockin' Robin" by Bobby Day. Watch out for this one, it looks like a solid seller.

Also showing signs of edging into the big time are "You Cheated" by The Shields; "Tears On My Pillow" by The Imperials; "La Do Dada" by Dale Hawkins; "Stupid Cupid" by Bobby Darin; and "Itchy Twitchy Feeling" by Bobby Hendricks.

BARBARA ANN BOENEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Boeneman of 2850 Lansdowne Dr., Williams Lake, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Terrence L. Kaines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kaines of 2881 Lansdowne, Williams Lake. The prospective bridegroom is a student at General Motors Institute. No date has been set for the wedding.

Boxer Chuck Spieser to Appear

Annual Labor Day Festival Scheduled

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Demonstrations by Chuck Spieser of Detroit, nationally known fighter, and George Marks, local archer, will highlight the third annual Labor Day festival at Pointe Park, Lower Straits Lake.

Plans for the event were completed last night by officers of the Maple Pointe Beach Improvement Club, Inc. who met in the home of Mrs. Bernard Conrad, 3260 Royal St.

The festival will be continuous from noon until 9 p.m. Monday.

Games of all types for persons of all ages will take place in the early afternoon. Tom Shull will conduct an amateur show for children and teenagers late in the afternoon.

Skill games will be featured at several booths and refreshments will be available throughout the program.

The Maple Pointe club has made several improvements in the community already this year. It has erected stop and speed limit signs throughout the area, put up a fence at the park and paid for the grading of roads.

The club also hired a gate guard for the park this summer, eliminating the need for local residents to man the gate.

H. R. Rubritius, club president, is general chairman of the festival. Norman Nickerson is in charge of tickets and prizes, Hershel Mahle is chairman of the cleanup committee, Mrs. Paul Gritter, the food committee and Mrs. Carlo Serra, advertising committee.

MR. AND MRS C. H. ALDEN

Open house will be held tomorrow at Mountain View Club honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Alden of Maceday Lake, Waterford Township, on their golden wedding anniversary. They were married Aug. 29, 1908. Feting them at the party will be their 5 children, 15 grandchildren, and 10 great-grandchildren.

Lion Vets Must Regain Stature Tonight

Rookies Making Strong Bids in Backfield Race

Detroit Aerial Attack Must Counter Giants' Running Power

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

At least three rookies may be wearing the Honolulu Blue and White colors of the Detroit Lions tonight for the last time in the game at Briggs Stadium against the New York Giants.

★ ★ ★

But even a veteran or two may have to use this game to regain some stature lost to younger players who have been fighting for their jobs.

The line is pretty well secure for veterans, but the battle will be keen in both the offensive and defensive backfield units.

Rookie halfbacks Danny Lewis and Ken Webb have refused to wilt and another rookie, Ralph Pfeifer of Kansas State, is also still in contention for a berth on the squad.

This puts Tom Tracy and Gene Gedman, a pair of veterans, on guard for their jobs, and if coach George Wilson stands by his philosophy of "keeping the team young," then one of the two vets may be in trouble.

Barr has been starter in the two exhibition games played thus far and appears secure at his job. Lowe had also done a fine job but has been hampered by an injury.

It brings to head the question as to whether Christiansen, David or Karilivacz may be sacrificed to add the younger Whitsell to the squad. Lary is invaluable because he also handles the punting chores.

The Giants, who have trained in Salem, Oregon, are playing this game as part of a trip back to New York. They trained on the West Coast because the first two exhibitions were against the San Francisco 49ers and the Los Angeles Rams.

In other NFL games tonight, the Rams meet the Browns in Los Angeles and the Baltimore Colts play host to the Washington Redskins.

The Chicago Bears, winner of two pre-season games, play the Steelers at Pittsburgh Sunday and the 49ers entertain the Chicago Cards.

The kickoff is 8:15 p.m. and ticket boss Maurie Schubot advises that tickets in all price ranges are available at the windows.

The Lions will not be back at Briggs Stadium for six weeks after tonight. It will not be until the third regular season game against the Rams, October 12th.

Norman Not Talking About 1959 Yet

Detroit at Chicago Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Bill Norman has a contract for the 1959 baseball season but claims he is trying not to think about next year.

The Detroit Tigers returned home for a one-day rest yesterday, and Norman was scheduled to sit down and discuss 1959 and Tiger personnel with general manager John McHale.

Norman conferred with McHale and other Tiger brass but turned aside any talk about 1959.

"We have 30 more games to go in 1958," he explained, "so we'll finish those off before we talk about next year. Anyway, we're just a game out of the first division and there's a lot to think about."

"I make no promises," he said. "You gotta watch guys who talk outa both sides of their mouth. I've always said I'm no Einstein. I'll win as many as I lose, and, if I'm lucky, I'll win a few more than the next guy."

The veteran of many Minor League jobs, Norman was a surprise choice when Tighe was let out last June 10. Under his leadership the Tigers — though still in the second division—have won 39 and lost 36 and Norman has accepted his victories and his defeats with the same quote for newsmen:

"You win some, you lose some, and some days it rains."

He admitted he was a little surprised, but very elated, when McHale offered him a chance to run the Tigers for a full season.

"Let's see what it's like to start fresh," he said. "I have some ideas and plans, we have some guys who can hum that seed and we have some guys who can hit a little.

Tonight, the Tigers take on the second-place Chicago White Sox in the Windy City.

Tiger hurler Herb Moford will be seeking his fourth win in 10 games against Chicagoan Dick Donovan, who has a 10-12 record.

Detroit will play a three-game series with the White Sox, with Frank Lary slated to start Saturday and Jim Bunning Sunday. Monday they move to Kansas City for a double header followed by a single game Tuesday.

Currently in fifth place, 17½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, the Tigers are only one game behind fourth-place Baltimore.

ANOTHER RECORD — Herb Elliott of Australia is still shattering track records. The Aussie won the 1,500 meter run at Goteborg, Sweden in 3:36.0 to shatter the world mark for the distance. This is equivalent to 3:53 in the mile. Just a couple weeks ago he ran the fastest mile ever in 3:54.6.

Aussie Breaks World Record for 1,500 Meters

How Fast Can Elliott Run?

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — How fast can Herb Elliott run? That was the question track experts asked today following a world smashing 3:36 for 1,500 meters by the lanky, 20-year-old Australian.

Many even refused to venture a guess as he preceded his almost incredible 1,500 with a 3:54.5 mile at Dublin Aug. 6.

Some believe that Elliott will be the first to better 3:50 for the mile. He has been under four minutes on eight occasions since bursting into the limelight late last January with a 3:59.4 mile at Melbourne.

"No man must set a limit on his capabilities," he said of himself. "Nobody must be limited by what's around him."

Dr. Roger Bannister, first man to break the four-minute barrier, and John Landy, who lowered the mile record to 3:58, called his 3:54.5 at Dublin "absolutely incredible." But his metric time yesterday was even better. It was equivalent to a mile between 3:53 and 3:54.

"He is the greatest runner I ever saw," said Sweden's Dan Waern, silver medal winner in the recent European games. "He is able to do the impossible and you can expect everything from him. This was not the last time he will set a world record."

The youthful Australian, whose method of training belies all accepted programs, gave credit to the fans in the stands for his record.

"They inspired me," he said. "Their cheers carried me along a fine track. I didn't think about a time table. I ran to win, not to set a world record."

Percy Cerutty, Elliott's coach, said his protege "followed a schedule we had worked out for the race with only one exception. Herb ran the final lap more than a second faster than we planned."

Elliott, laying back for the first half of the race, whipped through the first 400 meters in :56, the 800 meters in 1:57.5 and 1,200 meters in 2:55. He burned up the track in the last 300 meters with a 40:5 clocking.

The smashing finish carried him across the finish line 20 meters ahead of Czechoslovakia's Stanislav Jungwirth, who holds the listed world record of 3:38.1. Jungwirth was timed in 3:39 as the first five ran the equivalent of better than four minutes for the mile.

Elliott's next appearance will be in a mile race at Malmo in southern Sweden today. It is doubtful if he'll go all out in view of his performances yesterday.

All Archers Invited

OCSC Test Is Wide Open

An archery event believed unique in this metropolitan area, Oakland County Sportsmen's Club's first Archery Fair, may have 500 or more entries. Starting Saturday morning, the fair's competition will provide contests in all five regularly shot events, the first time such an arrangement has been effected, at least as far as fair officials have been able to discover (all at one site, at same time).

If this event proves successful, OCSC archery club officials said today it will become an annual tournament.

Competition begins at 8 a.m. each day, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, over the ranges and courses at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. Contests will include field, hunter, flint rounds, target and clout shooting. All ages men, women and juniors are eligible.

There is no charge for admission and the public is invited.

Demonstrations of archery equipment, include the new "double-barreled" bow devised by a pair of Troy archers. Ken Crowder and Dale Paes have developed the new bow which automatically places a 2nd arrow in place when the first is released. Both will demonstrate the rig each day of the fair.

No advance entries are required, but many OCSC archers including record-holding Al Orr of Davisburg, veteran bow-hunter, have signified their intentions of getting into the competition. Orr has taken 12 deer in 13 seasons with the bow.

Other OCSC entries include OCSC's field champion in 1957 and a consistent winner this year, Anne Knox of Milford. Penny Kuder of Waterford, who shot with the OCSC outdoor flint-round team, and the club's junior champion, Jack Herneisen, are also already in line.

Civilian Gains Opening Victory in Rifle Meet

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Ammon Bell, 41, a civilian shooter from Hummelstown, Pa., topped more than 2,100 of the nation's finest .30-caliber marksmen Thursday to win the President's Cup.

He scored 149 out of 150. It was the opening event of the national high powered rifle championships.

Army Specialist Walter Kline of Tulsa, Okla., placed second, also with a 149, but he could not match the "V" ring hits of 16 by Bell.

The "V" ring is a smaller circle within the bulls-eye used to break ties. The most Kline could manage out of his 30 shots was 11.

DOING FINE JOB — Terry Barr, former University of Michigan back, has earned a starting position in the Lions' defensive backfield in his second season on the team. ## Griffith Delays Vote on Senators Transfer

★ ★ ★

Just when it seemed the Senators were on the verge of seeking a transfer to the Minnesota city, President Calvin Griffith stepped in last night and said it wasn't so.

Griffith said the club's board of directors would make no move toward Minneapolis at a meeting today.

"There definitely will not be any vote taken on moving the franchise," said Griffith.

His statement came in the face of widespread reports that action would be taken on two fronts today to pave the way for Washington to try for relocation in Minneapolis.

The Minneapolis City Council is expected to approve at a meeting today a nine million dollar bond issue to finance an expansion of the city's stadium from 21,000 to 42,000 seating capacity.

Mayor P. Kenneth Peterson said he understood there was to be simultaneous approval at both ends —the okaying of the bond program in Minneapolis and a favorable decision by the Senators' board on the transfer proposal.

But Griffith said such wouldn't be the case.

"If they're saying my announcement that the ball club will move will be simultaneous with the approval of their bond issue, they're wrong," he said.

"We've simply decided not to vote on any shift at this time."

And then, in what seemed to be new caution on Griffith's part toward any moving plans, the Nats' president declared:

"There may be some discussion about Minneapolis, but I repeat that we're still in Washington and we're not voting to move out."

Griffith said enough had been said about moving his American League franchise to Minneapolis and the time had come for the board to mull things over. He said again—as he has before — that the club would give serious consideration to any concrete proposition from Minneapolis.

The transfer talk has aroused the ire of several members of Congress who don't like the idea of any switch possibly taking place while the legislators aren't in session.

★ ★ ★

Sen Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said last night he plans to introduce legislation to protect fans and players from "the unregulated whim of the club owners."

Canadians Begin Battle on Eels

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—An international effort to curb the fish-killing lamprey eel began 50 miles north of here on the Canadian Lake Superior shore yesterday as thousands of gallons of larvicide were poured into the Pancake River.

Biologists of the Canadian Fisheries Research Board and the United States Fish and Wildlife Division are cooperating in the operation.

The larvicide, which kills lamprey eggs, has proven successful in experiments conducted by the U.S. biologists. It is the first use of the chemical on the Canadian side of the lake.

Pittsburgh Plans Grid Stadium

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A seven-member committee Thursday recommended that a proposed 23 million dollar municipal stadium be built in on the North Side section in an area known as Monument Hill.

The recommendation was made to Mayor David L. Lawrence and Allegheny County commissioners.

The committee suggested 1960 as the target date for start of construction. However, the committee said the stadium should not be built unless long term commitments are secured from the two professional sports teams, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers.

The committee also suggested that the University of Pittsburgh football team use the stadium.

The new municapal stadium would be on a 90-acre site, of which 33 are now under public ownership. Parking space would be provided for about 12,000 cars. It was estimated that about 10 million dollars would be needed to acquire the site and 13 million to erect the stadium.

Ex-Champion Wins in Comeback Bout

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles won a 10-round decision over back-pedaling Johnny Harper of Steubenville, Ohio, before an estimated 3,100 boxing fans Thursday night.

Charles weighed 198, the 25-year-old Harper 203. The bout launched a second comeback effort for Charles, who lists his age at 37 and who was heavyweight champion in 1949-51.

Pirates Invade Milwaukee for 3-Game Series

Bucs Have 7 Contests Against Braves in 10 Days, Trail by 7½

By The Associated Press

Pittsburgh's persistent Pirates thunder into 10 telling days in the National League pennant chase tonight, opening a three-game series at Milwaukee with the first place Braves.

★ ★ ★

The next 10 days could be thrillers or chillers for the no-longer bungling Bucs. At the moment, they're in second place, 7½ games behind the Braves. They stand 7-8 against the Braves with seven games remaining in the season series.

All seven are scheduled for the next 10 days—three at Milwaukee this weekend, four at Pittsburgh next weekend.

The Bucs, only a 32-37 club on the road compared to 35-22 at home, have won nine of 16 thus far on a 19-game tour since sweeping a pair from the Braves at Pittsburgh Aug. 11-12. Yet they've lost 2½ games to the champs in that span.

They lost a half game yesterday, but had nothing to say about it. Milwaukee wrapped up a 4-1 series at San Francisco by smacking the third place Giants 3-0 behind Bob Rush's 10-hit pitching in the only game scheduled in either league.

It was Rush's seventh victory in 12 decisions—his first success since June 29, when he beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-6. And it was his first complete game since May 25, when he took a 5-2 decision from the Chicago Cubs—the club that traded Rush to the Braves last winter and was ribbed for the "goof."

Rush walked but one, struck out seven while giving up eight singles plus a triple and double to Orlando Cepeda.

The Braves had only six hits—four of 'em by Red Schoendienst, who doubled home the second run—off loser Johnny Antonelli, now 14-11. Del Crandall's walk and stolen base, triggering errors by catcher Bob Schmidt and center fielder Willie Mays, gave the Braves the run they needed to push the Giants nine games back in the fifth inning.

The Pirates send right-hander Bob Friend against southpaw Warren Spahn, the NL's top winners with 17, tonight. Friend, who has lost 13, is 3-1 against the Braves this season, splitting two duels with Spahnie.

Warren the Wonder, who has lost nine, is 2-1 against the Pirates.

Friend never has won 18 in one season (his best was 17-17 in 1956). Spahn is shooting for his ninth season of 20 or more victories, a record number for southpaws in the majors.

The Giants are home to the fourth place Dodgers, with Paul Giel (4-3) opposing Don Drysdale (9-11). In the rest of the all night game schedule, it's Chicago (Glen Hobbie, 9-6) at St. Louis (Sam Jones, 11-10), and Philadelphia (Don Cardwell, 2-2) at Cincinnati (Bob Purkey, 14-8).

8 Optioned Players Recalled by Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eight players who had been optioned to minor league clubs were recalled by the Cleveland Indians Thursday.

They are catchers Allen Jones and Hal Naragon, infielders Earl Averill and Larry Raines and outfielder Carroll Hardy from San Diego; infielder Clarence Moore from Indianapolis, and pitcher Stan Pitula from Mobile.

An Indian spokesman said that only Raines and Naragon will rejoin the Tribe this season. They will report to Cleveland following the conclusion of the Pacific Coast League season on Sept. 7.

Indians Purchase 2 San Diego Players

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today announced the purchase of pitcher Dick Brodowski and outfielder Rod Graber from their San Diego club in the Pacific Coast League.

Both players will join the Tribe when San Diego concudes its season, Sept. 7.

Inspect Pan-American Sites

CHICAGO (AP) — The executive committee of the Pan American Games Sports Organization today inspected sites in the Chicago area where the games will be held next year starting Aug. 27.

Enrique C. Aguirre of Mexico headed a group which looked over the proposed sites for track and field, swimming, rowing, football, volleyball, fencing and the other sports on the program.

Tomorrow the committee will return to the city council chambers to wrestle with the problems of bringing Chicago's sports facilities up to Olympic stature by this time in 1959.

Among the sites the committee members hoped to get around to today were Soldier Field, a proposed rowing course on the Sag Canal; housing facilities at the University of Chicago and a rifle range north of Chicago. Twenty sports events are on the program. Rules for each of the 20 events will be formulated tomorrow.

At yesterday's session the delegates from Uruguay, Cuba, Venezuela, the United States, Mexico, Guatemala, Argentina and Panama decided to work toward bringing into the group the four Pan American nations not now represented in the organization—Ecuador, Dutch Guiana, Nicaragua and Haiti.

Avery Brundage president of the International Olympic Committee, said every citizen and individual in Chicago "should get behind Mayor Richard Daley and his committee and put this thing over." He added:

"We can't tolerate failure. It would be a disgrace to the city and a blow to inter-hemisphere goodwill."

Brundage said Rome will spend 30 million dollars getting ready for the Olympics and Melbourne spent 18 millions. Chicago only now is starting to raise an estimated five million dollars for the games.

"They're a little late," Brundage said. "They should have started this a year ago. If the city doesn't get behind the mayor, he's in trouble."

Carl Stockholm, chairman of the games organizing committee, told the committee members he plans to try to have introduced in Congress a bill which would authorize the financing of an airlift to bring athletes from competing nations to Chicago at American expense. The bill, which would appropriate a half million dollars for the purpose, was passed by the House of Representatives but failed to get out of committee in the Senate.

Pee-Wee Footballers in Exhibition Saturday

Race Can End Mathematically for Senators

New York to Start Elimination Process Against Nats

By The Associated Press

The New York Yankees should finally get around to making Washington the first victim of the inevitable in the American League pennant "race" this weekend.

The champs' magic number for officially eliminating the last place Senators is three. Any combination of Yankee victories or Washington defeats totaling three does the job.

But if the Senators are doomed to be the first to go, they won't be alone very long. The number is 17 for the Yankee pennant clinching over the second place Chicago White Sox.

Boston, 16; Baltimore, 13; Detroit, 12; Cleveland and Kansas City, 9.

By comparison, Milwaukee's pennant number in the National League is 21 after rapping third place San Francisco 3-0 in the only game scheduled in either league yesterday. That gave the Braves a 7½ game lead over second place Pittsburgh, with the Pirates opening a three-game series at Milwaukee tonight.

All that looms ahead for the Yankees, who have been in first place since April 18, the fifth day of the season, is a job of getting their pitching back on beam for the World Series. Which is an incredible thing, as Casey Stengel would say, when you figure his guys are 11½ games out front.

Fact is, the Yankees have a staff that has produced 48 complete games this season second only to Milwaukee's 57 in the majors, yet they've managed but four in their last 20 games over the past three weeks.

Bob Turley, the majors' top winner with 19, has managed two of those complete games. Art Ditmar and Bobby Shantz, who got his first in almost four months last weekend, share the other pair.

With relief ace Ryne Duren apparently ready to go again for the first time in a month, the Yankees' big problems are southpaw ace Whitey Ford and Don Larsen 8-6 who has won only one in two months. Ford 14-7, who goes tonight against Pete Ramos 11-13, has finished only one of his last six starts since July 25, when he pitched his third consecutive shutout. His only victory in that time was a 2-0, three-hitter against Boston August 8.

Since then, Ford has lost two in a row. He never has lost three straight in the majors.

As National Net Tourney Begins

MacKay Seeded Fifth

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The national tennis championships got under way today with all sorts of questions to be answered.

Among them:

Has Barry MacKay improved sufficiently under Jack Kramer's tutelage to make a serious fight for the title?

Has Ham Richardson, the only U.S. player who has demonstrated he can beat the Australians, decided to make a serious bid for the Davis Cup team.

How about national collegiate champion Alex Olmedo? He is a citizen of Peru, but is eligible for the U.S. Cup team because he has lived here so long. The question is whether he'll be selected.

Has defending champion Mal Anderson of Australia come along to the extent that he has no worries other than his teammate, Ashley Cooper?

★ ★ ★

The answers all will be known a week from Sunday when the championships end. No doubt about it, Anderson, son of a wealthy cattle rancher, should be favored.

★ ★ ★

Then, in order, comes MacKay, Olmedo, Kurt Nielsen of Denmark and Dick Savitt, probably the top player in the United States if he decided to take the game seriously. But he has a job, so that's that.

★ ★ ★

The Davis Cup brass, including Capt. Perry Jones, will be keeping close tabs on MacKay. Barry has been tutored by Kramer, and the bigwigs hope he has come along enough to make them look good when he is picked for the Davis Cut team.

So far this season, Barry has been very unsteady. He has looked like a world beater on occasions and a busher in other matches. Jones, Kramer & Co. know just what Richardson can do, so they have no worries on that count.

Both MacKay and Richardson are involved in top opening day matches. MacKay faces Jim Shakespeare of Hollywood, Fla., and Richardsong oes against Tony Vincent of New York.

Sally Sharp, Mrs. Gawne in District Golf Finals

Mrs. Sam Gawne, who sharpens up her putting game on a practice green in the backyard of her Franklin home, is Sally's surprise foe in the match play finals of the Women's District Golf Association tournament.

Women's club champion at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, Mrs. Gawne moved into the final round with a 3-2 victory over Mrs. F. L. Thompson Jr. yesterday at Knollwood C.C.

Miss Sharp, the pre-tourney favorite, eked out a 1 up triumph over Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair in her semifinal match yesterday to qualify for a shot at the "triple."

Not since 1931 has a golfer won the Michigan Amateur and WDGA medal and match titles in the same year. Sally has already claimed the first two and now she is setting her sights on a clean sweep.

Only Mrs. Gawne stands in her way and the way she played Thursday, she could give Sally plenty of trouble. She fired four birdies on the front nine while carding a one-over-par 39 and was still just one stroke above regulation when the match ended on the 16th hole.

Sally and Mrs. LeClair waged a brilliant match. The MSU senior who plays from Forest Lake gained a 2 up edge on the 11th hole and Mrs. LeClair never caught up.

Miss Sharp shot a one-under-par 76 in the playoff which went all the way to the 18th green where the Ann Arbor housewife's bid for a match-tying birdie putt went awry. Mrs. LeClair was even par 77 for the distance.

Today's championship battle was scheduled for an 18-hole route.

Former Buckeye Star Gets Rookie Honors

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP)—Green Bay's Frank Howard was named outstanding rookie of the Class B Three I League today. He won the league's most valuable player award yesterday.

The 22-year-old former Ohio State basketball and baseball player received 19 of the 20 first place votes cast for the rookie award. Bob Hendley, Cedar Rapids pitcher, got the other first place vote and finished second in the balloting. Dick Howser, Winona shortstop, was third.

Defends Saber Crown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jerzy Pawlowski of Poland, one of the few who have kept Hungary from sweeping every individual title since 1935, opens defense of his world saber championship today without the threat of three Hungarian aces.

California After Sugar Ray

May Pressure Champion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California will put pressure on the National Boxing Assn. to make Sugar Ray Robinson either defend his world middleweight crown or give it up.

The plan is to get a top contender through an elimination tournament, then give a "fight or quit" ultimatum to Robinson.

Harry W. Falk Jr., a vice president of the NBA and a member of the state athletic commission, said he'd make the proposal at the NBA's Sept. 7 meeting in Las Vegas, Nev.

"It's a crime to permit a man to defend once a year against a man of his choice," Falk said yesterday. "Some of these other boys should be given a chance."

He concurred with matchmaker Bennie Ford's suggestion that the winner of a Sept. 25 San Francisco fight between No. 3 contender Joey Giardello and Holly Mims, No. 6, be one of the elimination matches.

Another, Ford said, could be the Sept. 11 bout in West Jordan, Utah between Gene Fullmer, the No. 2 contender, and No. 7 ranked Spider Webb.

Swedish Athlete Killed by Javelin

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A Swedish athlete was killed in a javelin accident at a track and field meet Thursday night.

Bo Larsson, 22, taking part in a competition on the Johanneshov Stadium in South Stockholm, died almost immediately after pulling out the javelin with his own hands. The javelin pierced his chest.

Larsson, a bank official, was preparing himself for a relay race and was warming up on the grass field at the side of the track when he came in the way of a flying javelin.

He fell to the grass, but rose on his knees and pulled out the steel point. He then lost his consciousness.

Ben Hogan Will Speak at State PGA Meeting

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan PGA has scheduled veteran Golfer Ben Hogan to be the guest speaker at its annual fall meeting, Sept. 29.

Warren Orlick, president of the group, said Hogan will take part in the teaching and educational phase of the meeting.

Two award winners will be announced — the "professional golfer of the year" and the "golf professional of the year." The first award goes to the pro who compiles the best competitive record in Michigan tournaments, while the other award is for the pro who has contributed the most to golf.

Cowboys, Marines Gain in Tourney

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The Alpine, Tex., Cowboys moved into the fifth round of the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament last night with a 12-0 victory over Cherokee, Okla.

The victory was Alpine's second straight by a 12-0 score. The Texans are undefeated. The loss was Cherokee's first in the double elimination tournament.

Semipro Upsetters

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The Drain, Ore. Black Sox, the surprise team of the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament Thursday night pulled an upset victory over Casa Grande, Ariz., 4-2 in a fourth round game.

The Glenview, Ill. Woodchucks staved off a ninth-inning rally to defeat the Kellogg, Iowa, Cardinals, 2-1 in the other game.

Final Reminder; Three Days Left of 'Fish Derby'

With only a big Labor Day weekend ahead, prospective contenders for the 1958 Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby" were given a final reminder today that the tournament winds up Monday.

All entries must be in not later than 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, Sept. 2. Entries must be filed at the Press sports department, and only full-time Oakland County residents are eligible. Winners of the three divisions (bass, northern pike and bluegills) will receive $50 U.S. Savings bonds.

No entries will be taken after 12 noon, Saturday, none on Sunday or Monday, but all contending fish taken over the weekend must be entered by Tuesday noon.

Present leaders:

BASS—6-pounds 8½-ounces.

PIKE—11½-pounds

BLUEGILLS—One-pound.

Trinity Baptist Wins Church Playoff Title

Trinity Baptist romped over First Baptist 11 to 4 to win the Pontiac Church League playoff championship last night in a game called in the 5th inning due to darkness. The winners led 11-0 until First Baptist broke the spell in its last time at bat. Taylor was the batting star with three hits, including a three-run homer.

An All Star team from the loop will meet the Waterford Church League stars Saturday at 8 p.m. at Drayton Plains.

Hunting Dates Completed for Migratory Waterfowl

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hunting dates selected by the states for 1958-59 shooting of migratory waterfowl were announced today.

★ ★ ★

The Interior Department thus completed the annual hunting regulations for duck, geese, coots, brant, wilson's snipe and other waterfowl.

★ ★ ★

The department announced on Aug. 12 the basic regulations fixing bag and possession limits, shooting hours and dates for states to select open seasons.

A cut of 10 days in the season was ordered for Atlantic flyway states for waterfowl and coots.

As an experiment, Central flyway states were offered an option of continuing with a 75-day season for ducks and coots or extending the season by 15 days with an accompanying reduction of one bird in the daily bag and two in the possession limit.

★ ★ ★

The final regulations announced today give Alabama, upon recommendation of that state's game department, a season from Nov. 7 through Jan. 15 for rails and gallinules. This is to run concurrently with the season on ducks, geese and coots. The daily bag and possession limit on rails and gallinules, except coots, is 15 and for sora 25.

★ ★ ★

In Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, and Rhode Island the season for taking scoters, eider and old-squaw ducks beyond outer harbor lines will be from Oct. 1 to Jan. 15, inclusive. In other areas in those states such species may be taken only during the open season for other ducks.

Belle Acton Wins Trans-America Pace

DETROIT (AP) — Belle Acton, the all-time leading money winner among pacers, won the Trans-america Pace at Wolverine Harness Raceway last night in record time.

The queen of the harness horses came from third place in the middle of the back stretch and crossed the finish line in a time of 2:00—a fifth of a second better than the record she set a year ago in the same event.

Pontiac Track Ace Returns From European Tour

Fast Rise From Wisner for Hayes Jones

By CHUCK ABAIR

From Wisner Stadium to the major arenas of Europe in four short years. That tells in part the phenomenal rise of Pontiac's Hayes Jones as a track star.

How far he can go in the future only time will tell. The 1959 Pan-American Games and the 1960 Olympics are the big goals the former Chief star will be aiming at during the next two years. He later may take a crack at the national decathlon.

TRACK TOURIST — Hayes Jones, Pontiac's youthful track ace from Eastern Michigan College, had his hands full of awards from the three-week tour of five European countries with the American track team. Jones is now home in Pontiac before returning to school. The Russian Cossack hat is a souvenir of Moscow.

Hayes recently returned from a three-week tour of Europe as a member of the United States team which competed in Russia, Poland, Hungary and Greece and visited in London, Ireland and Canada.

The 20-year-old high hurdle specialist, who failed to make the Pontiac high school team as a sophomore in 1954, brought home two trophies and various medals for his achievements in the hurdles and relay meets.

Hayes boosted his Olympic stock considerably by posting firsts in Hungary and Greece in the hurdles and close seconds at Moscow and Poland. Teammate Ancel Robinson had the other firsts. The two have a personal duel going with Jones holding a 3-2 edge due to his win at the AAU trials before the trip overseas.

"My biggest thrill in Europe was my 13.6 time in the hurdles in Hungary. I was down in the dumps after losing twice while being over 14. My coaches later told me I was missing the count and coming out of the starting block too slow when I lost."

"The 13.6 bettered the European record although it was not counted as a record because it was not a European meet," said Hayes.

Competing in Europe was not exactly new for him. He was a member of a team which went on a short tour and raced in France, Switzerland and Belgium last year. "This trip was a much bigger one and more fun because we had the women's team along with us," commented a smiling Mr. J.

The fact that such "name" athletes as Rafer Johnson, Glenn Davis and Parry O'Brien were on the same team with Hayes indicates the honor it was for him to just be a member. "I got to know most of the fellows. They treated me swell," he recalled.

Russia and the U.S. have already agreed to hold a dual meet at Philadelphia for which the Eastern Michigan star hopes to qualify.

Every member of the Yankee team is anxious for another shot at the Reds feeling sure they can get even with them for some of the sly tactics they pulled in gaining a close victory at Moscow.

The host team's stronger women turned the tide under the combined scoring plan set up by Russia after previous plans had called for separate scoring for men and women.

"They abided by their own rules instead of the International AAU wherever they thought they could win. They won't be able to do that when they come over here."

"They got nine points in three relays on a 5-3 basis. International rules follow a 5-0 scoring system."

"One of our distance runners got disqualified at Moscow because he walked a few yards and then started running again. One of our coaches said he had heard of a walker being disqualified for running but never heard of runner being disqualified for walking," stated Jones in explaining some of the problems the Americans had to contend with in the Kremlin.

"Everything was planned out for us most of the time. They took us sightseeing at night due to our daily workouts and meets so we could not see very well how some of the people live. Many of them still live primitively. They don't have the facilities we have here and prices are high," he said.

The American athletes saw the Kremlin, Red Square and many other places and were introduced to the American ambassadors in each country. Tourists from the U.S. were on hand to cheer for them on some occasions.

One of the highlights of the trip for Hayes was a banquet and dance held in Moscow following the meet there. "They gave us big books on Russian sports and had girls there to dance with us."

"They had a band playing American jazz and fast music and even had Louis Armstrong records. The Russian girls are good dancers although not too smooth. They didn't try to get us to do any of their dances. I wouldn't attempt to do a cossack dance anyway," said Jones.

Hayes hopes to concentrate more on the high hurdles in college competition this year and will participate in other events only when needed. He plans to enter several major meets around the country as he did in his freshmen and sophomore years when he defeated Olympic stars Milt Campbell and Lee Calhoun and many others.

Rural Setting Preserved for Hambletonian

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP)—The Hambletonian, trotting classic for 3-year-olds, will be held through 1962 at Duquoin State Fairgrounds preserving the race's rural setting over Eastern bidders with open check books.

That was the decision by a 9-7 vote of the Hambletonian Society directors yesterday after a 2½-hour session in which strong bids were made by three Eastern tracks to dress up the classic with commercial appeal.

City Baseball Champs Play Tourney Openers Today

The Pontiac Jets and the Boys Club, city Class A and Class B baseball champions respectively, wade into state tournament action today against a strong array of amateur foes.

The Jets will be one of 16 talented teams competing in the Michigan Baseball Recreation Association tourney at Battle Creek over the Labor Day weekend.

Saginaw is the first round opponent for the Jets and the game is scheduled at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Battle Creek stadium. Win or lose, the Jets play again Saturday at 10 a.m.

The winner of the Battle Creek tourney represents Michigan in the eastern division of the American Amateur Baseball Congress tournament. The "amateur world series" begins Sept. 5 in Battle Creek.

Boys Club clashes with Ypsilanti tonight in the opening round of the Michigan Recreation Association tourney. Game time is 8 o'clock at Detroit's Butzel Field.

Terry Hoy and Jim Berg of Griff's Grill, Jim Addis of the CIO and John Flesser, Don Pieman and Herman Bishop have been added to the Jet roster for the trip to Battle Creek. Marv Holler, Greg Meadows and Leroy Nicholas have joined the Boys Club.

Wyandotte won last year's state championship at Battle Creek and advanced to the national finals before losing to Birmingham, Ala. The Dottes are returning to defend their honors.

4 P. M. Games
Muskegon vs. Inter-City League Champion.
Upper Peninsula Champion vs. Detroit.
Kalamazoo vs. Jackson.
Wyandotte vs. Dearborn.
Lansing vs. Lincoln Park.
River Rouge vs. Grand Rapids.
Saginaw vs. Pontiac.
8 P. M. Game

4 Golfers Share Centennial Lead

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Four golfers—two of them Canadians—shared the lead as the $42,000 British Columbia Centennial golf tournament entered its second round today.

The international quartet sharing the honors after yesterday's 18 holes was composed of Jerry Magee and Al Balding of Toronto, Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Koichi Ono from Yokohama, Japan. They all had four-under par 68s in the opening round.

Some of the big names in tournament golf were breathing down the leaders' necks. Among the 11 who posted 69s yesterday were Dow Finsterwald, Gene Littler, Mike Fetchick, Jim Ferree, Doug Sanders, Porky Oliver, Frank Stranahan, Howie Johnson, Mike Souchak, Art Wall and Don Whitt.

Ten golfers were two strokes back at 70 and 13 had 71 going into Friday's second round. In all, 50 of the starting field of 116 broke or equalled the 72 par on the 6,505-yard Point Grey course.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(11)—Re-entry

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) As if the spaceman did not already have enough to contend with, the absence of a protective blanket of air in space will pose yet another problem — that of intense heat and cold. In orbit about the Earth, the side of a ship toward the Sun will be heated to hundreds of degrees; the side in shadow will feel intense subzero cold.

Permanent space stations may solve this problem by rotating, thus presenting each side briefly to the Sun, or by a system of light shutters, or by strips of light reflecting and/or absorbing paint. Adequate insulation and temperature controls in the interior will be a necessity. Information gained from the first satellites, the Vanguard and Explorer, show that livable interior temperatures were successfully maintained.

(2) Perhaps even more difficult than escaping the Earth is the task of returning to it. Traveling at an orbital velocity of some 18,000 miles per hour, a spaceship would burn up from friction upon entering the atmosphere. Ships like the X-15, due to be flown next year, will investigate, among other things, ways of safely returning to Earth.

Inset shows two miniature nose cones, before and after a heat test. Nose at right shows the destructive effects of extreme atmospheric friction generated at a speed of 4,500 miles per hour in a wind tunnel. The Army has announced that tests with its Thor missile have solved the re-entry problem, at least for a mouse passenger.

(3) Returning a satellite to Earth may involve a series of dips in and out of the atmosphere, gradually slowing the craft's speed. The ship would "skip glide" around the Earth on top of the atmosphere, alternately gliding into it at a shallow angle, pulling out into space to cool off, then entering it again. It would finally land as a high-speed glider.

Here's a Case of Beer at Bar

Muskegon Judge Gets Sample in Court, With Justice as Object

MUSKEGON (AP) — It was a case of beer at the bar—first sampled by a policeman, then taken under advisement by Municipal Judge William T. Caughey.

The evidence — one quart and three 12-ounce bottles — was carried in a portable cooler into court yesterday for the trial of George Hurst and Lulu Brown, both 59. They are charged with illegal manufacture and illegal sales of beer.

Police Lt. Martin Carlson took the stand to testify that the bottled liquid marked as evidence was beer. He said the bottles confiscated July 1 had been placed in a police locker but were transferred to refrigerated storage after one exploded.

Carlson did. "It's beer," he said, "A little strong and not worth the 80 cents a quart they were selling it for."

John Klosterman of the state crime laboratory at East Lansing, testified the brew had a 14 per cent alcohol content. "If defense counsel wishes," Judge Caughey offered, "He can sample the beer."

Attorney Arthur Rude declined, but moved to quash the case on grounds that manufacture and sale of beer was not specifically made illegal in Michigan.

Judge Caughey took the motion under advisement, ordering Rude and Cavanaugh to file briefs in the case.

Gary Cooper Ridin' High After 100 Films

After 30 years of stardom, the veteran actor still seems as fresh and ageless as the sagebrush he has ridden through so often in making more than 100 major films.

What is the secret of his durability? Cooper said it was very simple. He just had to learn when to stop saying "giddyap" and start saying "whoa!"

Two bouts of illness, he said, taught him this lesson. One came in 1931, when a siege of jaundice, after years of overwork, almost ended his career. The other was an ulcer attack in 1949. The two experiences taught him the value of relaxing.

In 1931, a doctor warned him he had to quit for a while if he wanted to stay alive. Gary had been working on pictures night and day, and his weight had dropped from 180 to 147 pounds.

"I dropped everything, broke my contract, went to Africa and did nothing but loaf and hunt for six months," he recalled. "It was one of the happiest times of my life."

Cooper is still somewhat annoyed at himself for letting an ulcer get him down in 1949. And he's determined he'll never let himself get another.

"Try to keep from making boneheads. Then you won't have so much to worry about.

He sees acting as a satisfying career in itself, and has no deep urge to become an active director-producer, although he picks his own roles.

Leaning his lanky frame back after polishing off a plate of rare chopped beef, Cooper pulled out several toothpicks and passed them around the table.

"Actors are happier now than when everybody in the movie business was riding a great big gravy boat," he observed.

"You know, one studio in its offices here had an executive dining room that cost it $8,000 a month. That kind of thing is all over now.

★ ★ ★

"But actors are happier than in the old days because they have more independence. They don't have to do everything everybody tells them. They have more of a choice in their lives.

"But the movies are really a wonderful business. In politics a man often has to step on other people. To get elected he may have to make so many promises that when he finally does get into office he can't move.

"I am very proud of the movie business, and I respect it. You don't have to double-cross anybody to get ahead in it, you don't have to attack people, or put the squeeze on them.

★ ★ ★

"You do have to stand up and fight for your own ideas, but isn't that good for anybody?"

Seeks to Divorce Wanda Hendrix

RENO (AP)—A legal notice appearing in a Reno newspaper today disclosed that wealthy sportsman James L. Stack Jr. has filed divorce action against movie actress Wanda Hendrix.

Miss Hendrix and Stack, brother of actor Robert Stack, were married in June 1954.

Stack's divorce action was secretly filed Aug. 15. Two days before, his wife was taken to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital at Los Angeles after a collapse her attorney said was caused by an attempted reconciliation with Stack.

Actress on 'Dragnet' Testifies for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Marjie Millar, 28, an actress on TV's Dragnet series, has divorced the husband she says "showed me no love or affection for more than a year."

The blonde actress testified yesterday she and TV director John Florea, 42, separated last May. They were married in Tacoma, Wash., in 1955. A property settlement approved in Superior Court gives her $400 monthly alimony.

Armageddon is an ancient road junction where, according to the Bible (Revelation XVI. 16), a great battle will be fought in the last days of the world. It lies in northern Israel near the border of Jordan. Its modern name is Megiddo.

Preparing Big 'Eye' to See Everywhere

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —A U. S. congressman reported today that the United States has developed electronic equipment which can use the moon to "tell what is going on" on the entire surface of the earth.

★ ★ ★

"We can monitor the whole world," Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa) told newsmen after referring publicly to the moon system at the meeting here of the International Astronautical Federation.

"This equipment now is being installed," he declared. "It uses the moon as an artificial satellite. It is startling. It is a great breakthrough."

Fulton hinted that the system could detect instantaneously the launching of intercontinental ballistic missiles or nuclear explosions.

Algerians Set Fire to Rouen Storage Tanks

PARIS (AP) — Four gasoline storage tanks went up in flames at Rouen today in another raid by Algerian saboteurs.

About 3,000 were arrested. Police hinted that the raid was only the first of a series.

Hollywood Headlines

Producer Playing Cupid Between Ray and Mamie

By DOROTHY MANNERS
For Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Even movie producers can get sentimental (sometimes) and attempt to play cupid. Which is what Al Zugsmith obviously is doing in putting bandleader Ray Anthony and his batlin' wife, Mamie Van Doren, in "The Beat Generation" at MGM.

Zugsmith, a friend of the family, would like to see them back together. To add to the try, the warring couple will play husband and wife.

At the moment, Mamie is in Rome finishing her Italian comedy and sitting out this trial separation from Ray. But she has plenty of time to be back for "Beat Generation." It isn't scheduled until after Zugsmith's current drama with Julie London, "Night of the Quarter Moon."

Vittorio Gassman admits to being still in love with Anna Maria Ferrero, the young Italian whose "Juliet" to his "Romeo" was so realistic on the Italian stage it made up Shelley Winters' mind to divorce him. (Poor Shelley certainly has her troubles when one of her husbands hits Rome!)

Gassman would like to marry Anna Maria, but with the Italian attitude about divorce being what it is they haven't had too much luck with either a religious or legal sanction.

One thing—when he returns to Italy following "The Miracle" at Warners, he'll star his girl-friend in the French musical, "Erma, the Sweet" which he plans to direct and produce.

After three years of living in retirement with her husband and baby, Joan Evans picks up her career again as Audie Murphy's leading lady in "Stranger From Nowhere," at U-I. Maybe you remember when Sam Goldwin signed Joan about six years ago to the tune of much tom-tom beating of the publicity drums.

She was hailed as another Elizabeth Taylor and she might have been—if love hadn't come along. When Joan met Kirby Weatherly, young businessman who had no particular interest in Hollywood, she gave up films to be a housewife.

She and Kirby are still very happy—but that old career urge has cropped up again for Joan and she's very pleased that producer Robert Arthur has selected her for such a good role with Audie.

★ ★ ★

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS:

Katy Jurado and Ernie Borgnine plan to slip off quietly to Mexico now his divorce is a matter of record.

Tired but happy, Ann Sheridan wound up her summer stock tour in the East and on her first night back in Hollywood stepped out with Jacques Mapes to hear jazz man Wild Bill Davison at Astors in the valley.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Milkman's Girl Wedged Inside 10-Gallon Can

He sped the seven miles from his home to a local milk plant, carrying a single 10-gallon can. Firmly wedged inside—feet first—was McCain's 4-year-old daughter, Deborah Faye.

She stepped into the can an hour and a half earlier while playing on the truck. She was able to get her head—but not her shoulders—above the neck of the can.

"She was plenty scared until I got her an ice cream cone," McCain said.

Nixes Support for Segregation

National Student Group Defeats Resolution of Southern University

The measure, originally planned to be a desegregation resolution, was renamed. It was presented by the five-member delegation from the University of South Carolina.

The five-page resolution said that where the Supreme Court's decision to integrate schools has been enforced, the result has been the disruption of educational processes.

It further stated that the decision has created disunity in the United States, at a time when unity is critically needed, and has destroyed racial friendship in the South.

Other Southern delegations, however, did not go along with the resolution.

In a debate before the vote, Dan Ellis of Tennessee asked if the racial amity (friendship) meant that one race was too good to associate with another.

Don Furtado of the University of North Carolina said the congress was not held to argue constitutional points. He said that in 1902 a North Carolina governor called for integration and that the actual achievement of that desire is coming 56 years later.

The leader of the South Carolina group, Fred LeClerq, however, termed his delegation's resolution "a realistic document." He said, "Only when the South submits will you integrate."

Judicial Group Rushes to Defense of Youth

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A group of judges say they don't believe "the younger generation is going to the dogs."

The Advisory Council of Judges of the National Probation and Parole Assn. yesterday adopted a resolution criticizing comments of FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover on juvenile delinquency.

"We must not have America accept the notion that it is a crime to be young," said the judges' resolution.

It quoted Hoover as saying juvenile courts have to cope with a breakdown of law and order among youth, and said he advocated a "get tough" policy in a speech before the American Bar Assn.

Second Straight Success

Atlas Strikes Bull's-Eye

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The prestige of the United States in the intercontinental ballistic missile field has been given a big boost by the latest successful launching of a mighty Atlas.

★ ★ ★

The 100-ton ICBM, the nation's most potent war weapon, blasted 3,000 miles through space after a beautiful liftoff last night and hit right on target.

The second straight success with a fully powered Atlas was a major stride toward the Air Force's goal of developing an operational ICBM within the next two years.

The 85-foot "Big A" rose aloft atop a huge ball of white flame with a tremendous roar. Because the night was clear, the missile's flaming exhaust was seen in the sky for more than four minutes.

The Atlas, which is powered by twin booster rockets and a sustainer engine generating a total of about 350,000 pounds of thrust, was equipped with a radio-command guidance system for the first time.

Otherwise, the rocket was essentially the same as the one that soared 3,000 miles on a successful space journey Aug. 1. The first attempt to launch a three-engine Atlas failed July 19 when the missile burst apart violently 45 seconds after it took off.

General Electric, developers of the nonjammable guidance system, announced that the Atlas blazed "right down the rifle barrel onto the bull's-eye, a predetermined target position in the south Atlantic."

The command guidance assures greater on-target accuracy and permits continuous ground control during the powered phase of the flight. If signals indicate the missile has strayed from its programed flight pattern, an immediate automatic correction is applied.

★ ★ ★

The latest success came 13 months after the U. S. ICBM development program began. During the period, six Atlas tests have been considered successful and five ended in blowups shortly after launching.

The first orange tree in the United States was grown from seed brought by the Spanish settlers to St. Augustine, Fla., in the 16th century.

Few People Can Have Landlady Like This

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Trying to stop Eva Gabor from talking long enough to get a straight answer from her about anything, is like attempting to dry up Niagara with a washrag. I was just dumb enough to try it while probing the fact that Eva is one of New York's chicest landladies.

WILSON

"Darling," she gushed, when I mentioned her 10-apartment building on 5th Avenue, "I have an apartment for rent. I am looking for a bachelor. He can be right under me!"

"May he come to call on the landlady once in a while?"

"Included in the rent, yes, if he's good-looking!" squealed Eva. "I fixed the elevator once ven the man was off—I'm a very good cleaner-upper too, darling."

"Eva, who briefly sublet her own apartment in the building to Jim Backus of TV, explained that . . . "Yesterday was very funny. Jim vas in his pajamas and I had to talk to Magda. I said, 'Jim, get dressed, get hal out of apartment, because I need it.' Jim got hal out."

Though Zsa Zsa is supposed to be the rich one, Eva has a new home in Bel-Air, Cal., which she was closing up to move into her own building while she does a play, "Lulu," on Broadway.

★ ★ ★

"'Vot's the matter?'" she echoed. "You mean I'm slipping? Vot a question. I vas vaiting for it!"

EVA

"Darling, ve're not the marrying Gabors like everybody says. I haf only had 2½ husbands.

"Ve're so many in the same family, vich is vy it seems like so many husbands. You take Lana Turner or Rita Hayworth, dey had four or five times as many husbands. And Tommy Manville, he gave me a look the other night and I vas afraid to look back. I might be his another notch on his belt. Darling, you think he gets his marriage licenses wholesale?"

Insisting that there's no rivalry between the sisters, Eva granted though, "I'm sick of people saying to me on the street, 'Vich are you?' The vorst part is Zsa Zsa and I are looking more and more alike."

I'd told her I'd noticed it.

"Vot are ve going to do? Ve are both blondes. I vas even born blondes, then I got dark, then I got blonde again" . . . Eva paused . . . "by grace of the bottle."

Eva suddenly said to a friend with her, "Vot efer happened to that acting avard I got this year for my pictures?

★ ★ ★

"I vas not supposed to mention it. Vel, I am mentioning it. It is the Laurel Avard by the magazine, 'Motion Picture Exhibitor,' darling, and it is supposed to be as good as the Academy Avard!"

Soviet Empire 'Myth' Rapped

Madame Chiang Denies New Untapped Market Beckons West

The wife of the Chinese Nationalist leader, speaking at the American Bar Assn. annual dinner last night, termed a mistaken belief the theory that "in the new Russian empire lies a great new untapped market."

★ ★ ★

The Chinese Communists, she said, "would certainly buy only capital goods or raw materials which Russia for the moment cannot supply.

★ ★ ★

"Only as long as the Soviet world finds the goods indispensable."

Mme. Chiang also referred to current Communist moves.

"At this moment," she said, "the Chinese Communists under the order of the Kremlin are continuing military action against Quemoy and Matsu as a deliberate and direct answer to President Eisenhower's efforts to have world peace."

★ ★ ★

GIs, Families Felled by Sleeping Sickness

SEOUL (AP) — Dread sleeping sickness sweeping Japan and Korea has spread to U.S. servicemen and their dependents. One American died today. Seven others were hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

Among Koreans, the sleeping sickness death toll stood at 589 by the latest count and the total number of cases was officially placed at 2,809. Only 120 Korean cases are known to have recovered to date.

Grains Weaken in Fast Switch

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market made a rapid reversal from general strength to general weakness in early dealings today on the Board of Trade.

Prices were mostly steady to strong in the first very few minutes during which soybeans moved up as much as a cent a bushel or more and some grains into major fractions.

★ ★ ★

But at the higher prices, offerings poured into the pits and most of the advances were quickly wiped out. Dealers said profit-taking for the long holiday weekend appeared to be the prime factor in the selling.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ cent a bushel lower, September $1.86⅝; corn ¼ to ⅝ lower, September $1.26⅜; oats unchanged to ½ lower, September 61⅞; rye ¼ to 1 cent lower, September $1.25¾; soybeans ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, September $2.25½; lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $12.90.

★ ★ ★

Export business through the government subsidy program continues at a good rate on corn with occasional additions in fair volume of other grains. The Department of Agriculture said it has accepted subsidy bids of 12 to 19 cents a bushel on 627,000 bushels of corn mostly for October and November shipment; bids of 10 to 11 cents a bushel on 1,149,693 bushels of barley; bids of 11 to 13 cents on 368,000 bushels of oats, and bids of 30 cents on 100,000 bushels of rye.

Hospital Bars Dr. Sullenberger

misconduct, the board's verdict did state that the surgeon's behavior tended to "obstruct and disrupt the orderly procedures for the safety of patients during operations."

It further found that his actions tended to "jeopardize" the hospital's training program and the hospital's chances of getting and keeping interns and house physicians.

In general, the verdict stated, Dr. Sullenberger's presence "prevented the hospital, its staff and employes from effectively performing their respective duties and discharging their obligations towards patients of the hospital and the citizens of the community."

Roused from sleep this morning when a Pontiac police detective delivered the board's verdict, Dr. Sullenberger expressed surprise at the outcome.

"I'm sure I did well in defending myself against these charges. Anyway, I don't see anything so serious about them," said the surgeon, who has freely admitted that he loses his temper easily.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The surgeon immediately telephoned his attorney, Harry N. Dell, to proceed with a supreme court appeal and announced that work on his new clinic would be completed after Labor Day. The clinic is in a remodeled home at 494 W. Huron St.

In his appeal, the surgeon is asking the state supreme court to reverse the April dismissal of his Circuit Court suit for reinstatement at the hospital and $250,000 damages.

The suit was filed last December, after the board temporarily suspended Dr. Sullenberger on recommendation of the staff.

In answer to the suit, former hospital director Carl I. Flath charged the surgeon with violating professional medical standards in 25 cases, in six of which the patient died.

Before these charges could be aired in court, however, Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn dismissed the suit on grounds Dr. Sullenberger had not first appeared before the board to appeal the suspension.

Judge Quinn did uphold the hospital on the main legal issue involved in the controversy. He ruled that the hospital has a right to make its own rules and regulations regarding professional medical standards. Dr. Sullenberger claimed it didn't.

The supreme court ruling will be on this issue.

As a result of Judge Quinn's decision, Dr. Sullenberger requested the appeal hearing, which took place in five sessions between June 23 and July 9.

Few Bookworms on Today's Campus

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—A study by Lester Asheim, dean of the University of Chicago's Graduate Library School, showed that 15 per cent of all college students do not borrow any books from the campus library during the school year.

Half of the books circulated by college libraries, he found, are taken out by about 20 per cent of the student body.

Bawth or Bath It's All the Same Language (?)

GALIEN (UPI) — Svante Wahlby studied English for eight years in school at Eskilstuna, Sweden, before coming to this country as an exchange student a month ago.

But it was "pure" English.

It took the Boslers a little while to understand what he was saying and then they showed him where the bathtub was located.

"After a month, we're able to understand Svante very well," Mrs. Bosler said. "The only trouble is that we're now calling it 'bawth' and he says 'bath.'"

Sally Sharp Wins Title

Says Small Business to Receive Boost

HILLSDALE (UPI) — Development of small, diversified business in Michigan will be getting a boost under a new federal law and action of the State Economic Development Department, Gov. G. Mennen Williams said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Williams told the Hillsdale Rotary Club that a small business venture based on a new idea has been having trouble getting financing.

"Business men with new ideas today often find it as difficult to get capital as Henry Ford did to finance a horseless carriage fifty years ago," he said.

The small business investment act recently approved by Congress provides for such investments with the government supplying half the capital of $300,000, Williams said.

★ ★ ★

Williams designated the State Economic Development Department to make surveys and studies for creation of such corporations. Williams said he would submit a bill in the next legislative session, changing the banking laws so state banks will be able to take part in small business investment pools.

Fish Peddlers Defended

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Judge Walter A. Page tossed out an "anti fish peddling" ordinance yesterday and agreed with two accused violators that fish mongering is "an old and honored profession."

Ike Signs Several Bills

SS Benefits Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill increasing Social Security benefits and taxes.

The new law will provide bigger checks starting next February for 12 million retired workers and survivors. The increase will be 7 per cent with a minimum of $3 a month.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill permitting reductions in some farm price supports and forestalling scheduled acreage cutbacks for cotton and rice next year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower signed today a bill arming him with $2,298,092,500 in new military and economic assistance money to bolster the economies and defenses of friendly nations.

It brought to $52,291,092,500 the amount Congress has appropriated since April 3, 1948, when it set up the old Economic Cooperation Administration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed, but criticized, legislation requiring administrators of employe welfare and pension funds to disclose how they handle the money.

He said that if the law is to be effective it will require extensive amendment.

Probe Why 7 Florida Unionists Swung Ballot in St. Louis Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers seek new information today about an election allegedly rigged to keep Harold Gibbons in command of the hoodlum-infested St. Louis area Teamsters Union.

The Senate committee received testimony yesterday that seven officers of a carnival workers Teamster local in Tampa, Fla., were brought in to cast the votes that swung the election to Gibbons last January.

MADE HIM PRESIDENT

The election made Gibbons president of Joint Council 13 comprising Teamster locals in the St. Louis area. Until then, Gibbons was top man in the region by appointment from the union's international hierarchy.

The committee wants to know why Gibbons permitted Local 447, which was chartered out of St. Louis to operate in Tampa, to cast the seven votes that gave Gibbons a 76-70 victory in the election.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said testimony from Gibbons, who had been scheduled to appear today, will be postponed at least until Tuesday.

AIDE INVOKES FIFTH

Harry Karsh, a top lieutenant to Gibbons and actual boss of the Tampa local, invoked the Fifth Amendment yesterday in refusing to answer questions about Gibbon's election.

Korhn said he then hand-picked the other six officers of the local and all seven went to St. Louis at Karsh's expense to vote for Gibbons.

He said he knew nothing about Teamster affairs in St. Louis and to this day hasn't seen any of Local 447's official records.

Most of the hearing dealt with Karsh's efforts to engineer labor contracts with circuses and carnivals, including the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus. There was considerable mention of violence in those organizing efforts.

Mercury Completes '58 Model Output

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s Mercury Division completed production yesterday of its 1958 line of cars. It announced a complete retooling operation will start next week for 1959 model assemblies.

The new models will have greatly increased glass areas, windshield and rear window sweeping up into the roof line as well as farther around the side.

Mercury has built approximately 86,000 cars so far this year compared with about 213,000 in the like 1957 period. Retail sales for the first half of 1958 numbered approximately 71,000 compared with 144,300 in the same 1957 period.

What Happens Daily in Nation's Bathtubs

The Baking Soda Institute said a survey showed popcorn, peanuts and candy contribute to the happiness of Americans while they're soaking in the suds.

The report said 12 per cent of the nation's smokers enjoy a cigarette in the tub. Two out of five persons listen to music ranging from operatic arias to rock 'n' roll as they bathe.

Nearly a quarter of all bathers read in the tub and one out of 18 women manicure their nails.

GM Will Furnish Requested Papers

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors has agreed to produce certain documents requested by a federal grand jury in its probe of alleged "price-packing" in the auto industry.

GM attorneys earlier had requested that U.S. District Judge Clifford O'Sullivan quash subpoenas ordering the company to submit records to the grand jury.

The company complained that the subpoenas were "vague and indefinite" and that 70 filing cabinets full of records would have to be brought in to satisfy the demands.

★ ★ ★

Under the agreement reached with Judge O'Sullivan, GM will produce within 30 days documents dealing with dealer contract reports; Chevrolet Motor Division ledgers for 1954-57; certain 1957 Chevrolet dealer monthly financial statements; files on dealer complaints against each other, and some other records.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Carlton Utley who died Aug. 29, 1933 and Carl Utley who died Aug. 29, 1946.
As we loved them, so we miss them, in our memory, they are near. Loved, remembered, longed for always;
Bringing many a silent tear.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Edward Thrasher who passed away 1943, August 28.
Surrounded by friends, I am lonesome,
In the midst of my joys I am blue;
With a smile on my face, I've a heartache,
Longing, dear husband, for you.

Singer Ignored Como's Advice

He's Subbing for Perry in Attempt to Escape From Daytime TV

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI) — The fact that Bob Crosby first met Perry Como years ago while both were working for now-forgotten orchestras and before either meant more than a bag of shucks to the public had nothing to do with NBC's summer replacement for "The Perry Como Show" being "The Bob Crosby Show."

"But I'll never forget the first time I met Perry," Crosby said. "I was just a kid trying to find my way as a singer. After we were through working one night, Perry invited me over to his place. Said he wanted me to listen to some records.

"So we sat there and he played them — all of them recordings made by brother Bing. 'That,' Perry told me, 'is the style you ought to use.'

"However, I figured I had to find a style of my own. But you know, thinking back on it, who's to say Perry was wrong?"

That's as it may be. The record shows that brother Bob has managed to hold his own place in the radio-TV sun over a long period of years with well-heeled sponsors always at hand to sign the checks, that his "Bobcats" band has a highly respected place in the annals of Dixieland jazz even when inactive, and it's obvious that he isn't in his current enviable spot because he's Bing's brother or because Como once gave him some untaken advice.

The one thing Bob has in common with Bing and Perry is a relaxed, easy-going, humorous way of talking. It's an important element in establishing personality, and Bob hasn't been shortchanged.

What irked Bob in recent years was that his contracted network, CBS, seemed to have the idea that he invented daytime teleyision because that was where he was anchored season after season. He yearned to get away from the five-a-week afternoon stints, no matter how lucrative.

"When this offer to fill in for the Como show came along," said Crosby, "it was an opportunity I couldn't turn down. Of course, it meant that, in order to move to NBC, I had to sacrifice a sizeable sum for not working which CBS would have had to pay me on the balance of my contract with them. But I was happy to do it to get the right sort of night-time exposure."

Mexico Readies Its New Symbol of Freedom

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Mexico's 14,000-pound gold-plated symbol of liberty, shattered last year during a violent earthquake, will be dedicated for a second time in September.

Called the Angel of Independence, the statue is a 26-foot winged figure holding a laurel wreath in one hand. To the Mexican, it is what the Statue of Liberty is to an American and the Arc de Triomphe to a Frenchman.

The Angel, first unveiled by President Porfirio Diaz in 1910, fell 120 feet from its platform atop a stone column during the earthquake of July 28, 1957.

The government has spent one million pesos—about $80,000—to repair the statue. One of Mexico's finest sculptors, Jose M. Fernandez Urbina, has devoted 10 months to making certain the figure will be identical to the one dedicated 48 years ago.

The rededication will be the highlight of Mexican Independence Day ceremonies on Sept. 15.

Aim New Medicines at Diseases of Aged

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The next "flood" of new medicines on the market will be those designed to alleviate diseases of the aged, a Michigan State University microbiologist predicted.

The diseases he listed were high blood pressure, heart diseases, hardening of the arteries, rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and liver diseases and certain allergies.

Williams Accepts TV Debate Offer

LANSING (AP)—Paul D. Bagwell's persistence paid off.

After two refusals, Gov. Williams agreed yesterday to meet his Republican rival in face-to-face debate Oct. 23 on a Detroit television station (WWJ-TV).

Bagwell had challenged the Democratic governor repeatedly to accept the station's offer of four free half-hour debates between the two candidates. Williams turned a cold shoulder, saying they would amount to little more than "political medicine shows."

The governor agreed to only one of the proposed dates for what he called "a discussion of campaign issues."

In a letter to station manager Edwin K. Wheeler, he suggested Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, meet Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) Oct. 9 and 13 and Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Plymouth) tangle with Rep. Donald A. Brown (R-Royal Oak) in a meeting of the lieutenant governor candidates Oct. 30.

Top Taxman Quits Position

Claims Biggest Task Is Hiring Right People, Not Collecting Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russell C. Harrington said today the biggest task in being internal revenue commissioner is not squeezing money out of reluctant taxpayers, but hiring the right people and promoting good relations with the public.

Harrington spoke in an interview after deciding to end nearly three years as the nation's chief tax collector.

The 67-year-old Rhode Islander handed his resignation to President Eisenhower yesterday. The President regretfully accepted it, effective Sept. 30, and started looking for a new commissioner. Harrington said he doesn't know who his successor might be.

In a letter to the outgoing commissioner, Eisenhower spoke of the personal sacrifice he said often accompanies service like Harrington's. The revenue post pays $21,000 a year—not a high salary for a successful businessman who maintains two homes—in Providence and Washington—and likes to take his wife along on travels about the country.

Harrington said he plans to stay in Washington, working for his old accounting firm of Ernst & Ernst.

An aide said the retiring commissioner would serve his company as a contact man with federal agencies—all agencies, that is, except the Internal Revenue Service.

Reflecting on his experiences as revenue chief, Harrington said "this is fundamentally an administrative and public relations job," adding: "The job of the commissioner is to see that he has a good organization of top people. He has frequent meetings and reports and he has to meet congressmen, and taxpayers and make speeches to various organizations throughout the country."

What he termed the technical aspects of tax collecting, Harrington said, are handled by career revenue service men. He said the commissioner doesn't have to pass on these technical questions too often.

It's Grab Bag Affair

How to Name Missiles

Armed forces spokesmen admit it's all pretty much a grab-bag affair, to the extent that one service even christened a missile "after a guy who shot a fair game of craps."

Confronted with an aircraft industry survey which showed two out of three Americans just don't know their missiles, the spokesmen agreed there is little rhyme or reason in the hodge-podge of names to help anyone connect a missile with the right service.

True, the army could be expected to use such solid, no-nonsense names as Honet John (the crap shooter, according to the unofficial story), Sergeant, Redstone and Corporal, and there is little chance of making a mistake about the Pershing.

But the Army also goes for mythology with Jupiter, Plato and Nike. And Nike, goddess of victory, has further complicated matters, being married three times in matches of Nike-Ajax (a swift Greek hero), Nike-Hercules (a strong Greek hero) and Nike-Zeus (the chief Greek god).

Although the Army is famous for its K-9 Corps, it has passed up dogs completely in naming its missiles, letting the Navy get away with Bullpup and Terrier. The Air Force snapped up Hound Dog (although the Army picked off (Elvis).

The Air Force claims space as its rightful domain but doesn't have a single star in its galaxy of missiles. The Navy is the one with Polaris, Regulus I and II and Corvus.

The Navy also grabbed off birds from the birdmen—Sparrow I, II and III and Petrel. The Air Force has Falcon, but its other birds sound chancy, though imaginative — Bull Goose and the Green Quail.

Meanwhile, back in the mythology division, the Air Force has Atlas, Thor and Titan (an inventor slain by his jealous uncle).

Elsewhere, there's Genie and Rascal (Air Force) and Sidewinder and Tartar (Navy).
