Yes, "April showers bring May flowers."

But this time they're bringing something a lot more exciting.

Welcome, Miss Front Page for April, in the person of Genevieve Dovre, 1200 Jay Street, Waterford Township.

Who wants to look at a bucket of rain or even some shining drops in transit when you can glimpse Miss Genevieve?

This comely blonde is a senior in Waterford High and she's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dovre. Her daddy's employed at the Stainless Ware Company in Walled Lake.

A passing shower or a torrential rain wouldn't phase Miss Genevieve, anyway. Swimming and water sports are her favorite activities.

She's majoring in stenography and after graduation in June she plans to find work along those lines. (Prospective employes will form on the left and no crowding at the back, please.)

Cheerio, Genevieve. We're happy to nod in your direction for April.

In Southeastern Iran

Troops Close In on Desert Killers

TEHRAN (INS)—Hundreds of Iranian troops were reported tightening the ring today around the fierce desert outlaws who murdered pretty Anita Carroll.

Discovery of the 35-year-old American woman's body yesterday in the southeastern desert wastes of Iran served to intensify the hunt for the killers.

Meanwhile, an inquest and a scheduled news conference in the U.S. embassy in Tehran were expected to disclose the untold facts—so far as they are known—in the bizarre "Arabian Nights" case.

Mrs. Carroll's body was found just seven miles from the spot where her husband, Kevin, and another American aid official, Brewster Wilson, were slain in an ambush on March 24.

The tragic ending to the story came after a week-long hunt for the bandit tribe that was thought to have taken Anita alive and to have planned to sell her in the Arabian slave markets.

The U. S. Embassy said Mrs. Carroll, of Issaquah, Wash., apparently had been killed the same day as her husband. The spokesman, Charles R. Payne, said the woman had been shot but that she apparently had not been raped or tortured.

The woman's body was flown to Tehran last night and a special service was held for her in the American chapel. More than 500 persons attended, including several cabinet ministers.

In Issaquah, Wash., the parents of Mrs. Carroll went into seclusion today after being officially informed that their daughter's body had been found.

Plainly stunned by the tragic news, Mr. and Mrs. John Huovar refused to see anyone other than members of the family at the motel they operate in Issaquah.

Up until the body was found by

Bus Pay Raise, 'Can't Be Done'

Say 20-Cent Hour Hike Would Put City Line Out of Business

A 20-cents hourly pay increase being asked by Pontiac City Bus Line drivers would force the company "out of business," E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent, said this morning.

He said 40 drivers, members of Local 1079 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Bus and Streetcar Operators, AFL, are asking for the hike during negotiations for a new contract. The old two-year contract expired yesterday.

Drivers are operating on a mutual day-by-day basis under which both union and the company have agreed to give 48-hour notice if they wish to terminate the tentative agreement.

"The requested pay boost would just put us out of business," Dreasher said. "The money just isn't there."

He cited increasing expenses and lessening customer patronage as reasons why the increase couldn't be granted.

Drivers are presently receiving $1.65 an hour for a 48-hour week, Dreasher said. He commented that most other city bus firms in this area were granting from 4 to 6 cents hourly hike for drivers.

John Sytsma, president of Local 1079, was unavailable for comment.

Iran's Ala to Resign

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Sources close to the Iranian government said today Prime Minister Hussein Ala has told associates he will resign as result of the desert bandit massacre of three Americans.

Example in Democracy

PRIORITY NO. 1 TODAY — Mrs. Pete Mihay, of 98 Parkdale Ave., is shown here casting her ballot at Pontiac's Precinct 15, this morning. City and county election officials have predicted an average turnout for today's biennial spring balloting. Polls will be open until 8 p. m.

Dampen Hopes for Big Turnout in Spring Vote

Highway, Court Posts at Stake; City to Decide on Trial Board

Rain today threatened voting in Oakland County as well as most of lower Michigan.

Scattered showers this afternoon and tonight were expected to dampen hopes of a heavier than normal spring vote.

In the Upper Peninsula, there were predictions of snow.

County voting ranged from light to normal as polls opened at 7 a.m. They will stay open until 8 p.m., and everyone in line at that time will be able to vote.

At stake are seven of the state's top highway and educational posts, plus three seats on the Supreme Court.

Pontiac voters are faced with these contests, plus one local issue — whether policemen should be governed by civil service rather than by the present trial board authority. The policemen favor the change.

BELOW AVERAGE

During the morning hours, there was a slightly below average turnout of the city's 37,600 registered voters.

Countywise, the heaviest balloting was being registered in several townships where hard political campaigns were waged for local offices.

A pessimistic forecast came from the office of the state election supervisor. About 1,000,000 votes were expected, in contrast to 3,073,000 in the November election.

The top state contest is for the office of highway commissioner. The Democratic candidate is John G. Mackie; the Republican, George M. Foster.

Other contests:

Superintendent of Public Instruction—Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett (D); Dr. Edgar L. Harden (R).

State Board of Education—Chris Magnusson (D); George W. Dean (R).

University of Michigan Regents (two)—Carl Brablec (D); Mrs. Irene E. Murphy (D); Alfred B. Connable (R); Mrs. Ethel J. Watt (R).

On the non-partisan ballot for the short (six-year) term on the Supreme Court—Joseph A. Moynihan and John D. Voelker (incumbent).

For the full eight-year term (two)—Robert E. Childs; Thomas M. Kavanagh, Michael D. O'Hara and Talbot Smith (incumbent).

Election Returns

Returns from today's election will be available at The Pontiac Press by phone, starting at 9 p.m. As polls are open until 8 o'clock it is not expected any results will be tabulated before 9. Phone number is FE 2-8181.

Gross Fees Led County

Salaries Favored by 2 Top Justices

Allen C. Ingle, Farmington Township justice of the peace who last year grossed $29,146 on a fee basis, says he is for straight salaries instead.

Ingle, whose wages as justice were the second highest in the county, criticized the free system that makes income dependent on a big volume of police cases.

"I would rather be on a salary," said Ingle, "and I think most of the justices in the state would like to get away from fees."

As president of the Oakland County Judicial Association, which represents most of the county's justices, Ingle said he believed the change generally is favored locally, also.

"It probably would mean more taxes," he warned, "and would have to be set up by the state on a flexible bases for the benefit of justices in highly-populated areas."

The county's top money-making justice, Willis D. Lefurgy, also calls for "serious consideration of a change-over to salaries."

$33,000 GROSS

Lefurgy, Waterford Township justice who grossed $33,202 from township ordinance cases last year, said, "I know it sounds funny for

Showers Predicted, Mercury to Climb

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts occasional rain this evening, with a low of 36 to 40.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with a few showers and cooler, with a high of 40 to 45. The mercury was expected to reach 54 to 58 degrees today, and at 2 p.m. the temperature was 50.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 39.

$68,000 to Boost Pontiac Airport

Pontiac Municipal Airport's intensified improvement plans received a big shot in the arm today when Congressman William S. Broomfield announced that the Commerce Department had allocated $68,000 for projects at the local field next year.

Biggest chunk of the federal aid, which will be matched by state and city funds, will go toward construction of an administration building and control tower.

According to an airport official, another proposed project would be the addition of another 1,000 feet at the western end of the new 4,000 foot runway completed last October.

Homer C. Hoskins, manager of the field, was not available to confirm the slated projects.

Other funds will be used for construction of more taxi strips to increased T-hanger facilities at the field, the official said.

Fencing and paving of certain hanger areas are included also.

Officials are presently striving for the addition of commercial airline service as another big step in the airport's building plans.

Farmington Dem Denies Choking Parade Opponent

Farmington Township Democratic candidate for supervisor Frank J. Stephenson today denied he choked a Republican in a political parade incident yesterday.

A warrant charging assault was issued by Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Allan C. Ingle, on the complaint of Frank J. Williams, 20.

According to Stephenson, Williams kept bumping the truck he was riding in in the course of the parade which Republicans started and Democrats joined.

Stephenson said he went back to the driver, Williams, and shook his finger under Williams' nose, but did not touch him.

Stephenson is accused of ripping a Republican banner off Williams' truck, and then choking him.

Medical Testimony Goes Against Adams

LONDON (AP) — A prosecution medical expert testified today the heroin injection Dr. John Bodkin Adams gave a wealthy patient two days before she died was "35 times the normal maximum dose."

Dr. Arthur Douthwaite again firmly insisted the 58-year-old Adams gave drugs to Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell with "murderous intent."

Adams is accused of murdering the 81-year-old widow in November 1950 to gain a chest of silver and Rolls-Royce car from her $400,000 estate. The trial is entering its third week.

Lansing Votes Bus Plan

LANSING (AP)—Lansing is voting today between private or public ownership of the city's bus system. With the bus system going steadily into the red, the council said, "The people should be informed that regardless of what choice they make it will require money from the local tax dollar."

Control Delivery of Food, Milk, Clothes

Teamsters Hold Grip on U. S. Trucks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically everything you own and use — your furniture, bread, milk, laundry, clothes, beer, even the hearse that takes you on that final ride—is handled by a member of the Teamsters Union.

It's an organization with 1½ million members, mainly truck drivers and chauffeurs, but also production workers in various fields.

Nearly one out of every hundred people in the nation belongs and pays dues to the Teamsters Union.

It collects about 100 million dollars a year in dues and controls welfare funds several times that amount.

CONTROL SYSTEM

The teamsters hold quite a grip on the nation's transportation system, which is not to say that in itself is a bad thing. The union has cooperated to the hilt with truck operators to develop the industry into a valuable American asset.

The statistics furnish an inkling of the inherent economic power of the giant labor union which, for more than a month, has been the main target of Senate rackets investigators.

When James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Midwest kingpin and vice president, was arrested here on charges of bribing an investigator for the rackets committee, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said Hoffa "controls the nation's transportation system, except for railroads from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Ocean."

This left out the Far West, but there Frank W. Brewster, another union vice president, wields similar influence.

Over them, nominally at least, stands Dave Beck, the Teamsters Union general president. Beck has refused to tell McClellan's committee under oath—invoking the Fifth Amendment—what he has proclaimed publicly away from the committee; that he borrowed some $300,000 to $400,000 in union funds, but repaid it.

The Teamsters Union has been on the American scene a long time. Originally the teamsters were all wagon drivers.

The exact title of the union to-

U.S. Suspends Work Under Point 4 in Iran

TEHRAN (AP)—The United States today announced that the Point Four program in southeast Iran, where nomad bandits murdered three Americans, has been suspended until the killers are caught.

Clark S. Gegory, director of the Point Four program in Iran, announced the suspension after an on-the-scene investigation into the slaying of pretty Mrs. Anita Carroll, her husband and another U.S. aid official, and two Iranians.

Seek Meeting in Oil Walkout

Federal Mediators Try to Set Up New Talks in Month-Old Tie-Up

Attempts were being made today by state and federal mediators to set up new meetings between striking gasoline workers and eight major gas and fuel oil distributors.

As the strike moved into its second month, officials of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn. reported neither the Detroit or Pontiac areas feeling the pinch of lack of supplies.

Independent deliveries apparently are keeping the tanks of the dealers full, officials reported.

Struck companies include Socony Mobil, Standard, Sinclair, Gulf, Shell, Pure, Texaco, and Aurora, independent supplier for Speedway 79.

A breakdown in negotiations occurred last week when the union rejected a 12 cent pay hike from Socony. The union is asking 25 cents.

Top Income Justices Favor Straight Pay me to criticize a system that was so profitable.

"Just the same, there are a lot of civic advantages to straight salaries that should be considered."

Both justices agreed that all was not pure profit last year. After expenses of maintaining justice courts and staff workers, Ingle figured he netted only about $9,000, and Lefurgy estimated his net income at about $17,000.

HITS PROFITS

Another issue, which hits not at justices' profits but at profits gained by townships, will be brought up before the judicial association April 10, Ingle said.

This has to do with charging lawbreakers a greater proportion of their total penalty as costs than the actual costs of prosecution were.

The excess in costs is returned to the townships for use, generally, in supporting local police departments.

Criticism of this practice, condoned by the county in 1953, last week was strengthened by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem's siding with an attorney general's opinion.

ZIEM ADVISES

Ziem advised justices to follow the attorney general's opinion that costs should be limited to actual expenses of prosecution, until the law is changed or a court rules in favor of the local practice.

Supporters of the practice claim elimination of it means either an increase in local taxes or abandonment of "home rule" law enforcement.

Ingle pointed out there has been "substantial" compliance since the attorney general's opinion in January. A flat $10 in costs has been charged locally, no matter what the total penalty, he said.

But if the attorney general's opinion were followed "to the letter," as Ziem advised, this would mean costs in the overwhelming number of cases would be limited to the $4.30 justice fee set by statute, with nothing left over for the township, Ingle added.

School Ransacked

Burglars stole an undetermined amount of money yesterday from the Commerce Elementary School in Commerce Township, according to the Sheriff's Department, after breaking into the place through a side window. The thieves ransacked classrooms, offices and a storeroom, detectives said.

Members Display Club's Achievement

1,500 Jam County 4-H Exhibit

More than 1,500 members, leaders and parents jammed Lincoln Junior High's gym Saturday to view the exhibits on display for Oakland County 4-H Achievement Day.

Hundreds of county youngsters were represented and many carried off blue, red or white ribbons.

Five outstanding older 4-H members put up achievement booths which detailed their club careers in graphic form.

In the evening a special program was held highlighted by a "dress review" in which Judy Crawford, of Milford, was selected the winner among the 200 girls who modeled clothing they made.

WINS CUP, TRIP

Judy showed a rose and gold sheath dress with a rose colored duster. She won a cup and a trip to Chicago and she will represent Oakland County during 4-H week competition with girls from all parts of the state at Michigan State University in July.

Three state winners from last year told of their New York trip. They were Janet Long, of Milford, and Bill Meddleton and Frank Lessiter, of Lake Orion.

Both Judy and Bill Middleton also won awards for their achievement booths and will enter them in 4-H Week contests.

Among the hundred of exhibiters, the top 10 per cent were chosen for the County Honor Roll on the basis of their exhibits and attitudes toward club work. They were recognized at the program.

The kinds of displays and the number of each was as follows:

Clothing 282; foods, 110; knitting, 30; junior leadership, 16; miscellaneous exhibits, 16; conservation, 17; handicraft, 65; leathercraft, 38; electrical, 81; education, 58; photography, 50 albums.

IN THE FAMILY — The pleasant task of awarding her own daughter a gold cup fell to Mrs. Carlton Crawford, Milford 4-H Club leader. Her daughter, Judy, won top rating in the Dress Review at Oakland County 4-H Achievement Day Saturday. She was chosen over 200 girls while wearing a gold and rose sheath dress and a rose duster which she designed and made. She is wearing her winning creation above.

Missouri Boy 'Suddenly Went Crazy'

Lad, 14, Shoots Family; 4 Die, Girl Critically Hurt

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—"How are they? Are they going to live?"

Chief of Detectives Verne Starmer answered the telephone at the Ossie Woolridge home.

Woolridge, 57-year-old plumbing and heating installer, was dead. So was Mrs. Woolridge, 45; Delores, 11, youngest of their two daughters; and Paul, 6, youngest of their four sons. Doris, 12, was shot through the neck and side, critically wounded.

"You better give yourself up," Starmer told the voice on the phone — a "Mr. Smith." it was a young voice. Starmer recognized it despite the disguise.

So the police picked up 14-year-old Daniel Woolridge at a theater where remorse had overtaken him as he watched "The Wrong Man," an Alfred Hitchcock detective thriller.

Prosecutor Frank Connett Jr. said the sobbing boy signed a statement saying he "suddenly went crazy."

A quiet Sunday dinner at the Woolridge home, after Sunday school at the Riverside Presbyterian Church, had erupted in a fuss between Daniel and his parents.

Daniel wanted to go for a ride. His father said it was too cold. Daniel stormed out of the house but returned in a few minutes. He asked his mother to give back the hunting knife she had taken away from him. She said she had thrown it away.

Daniel sat down for a moment. Then he got a pump action .22 rifle.

Woolridge was shot in the head while napping on a living room couch. Mrs. Woolridge ran in the kitchen and was shot in the face. Little Paul tried to scurry out of the house and was cut down. The two girls were felled in the living room. It was about 1:30 p.m.

Joseph Woolridge, 18, found the carnage when he came home at 6:50 from a date in Kansas City. He called police and an ambulance.

One of the ambulance crew was Milton Woolridge, oldest son of the family. He tried to help Doris and drove her to the hospital.

The call from "Mr. Smith" came at 7:50.

Investigators said the boy had no police record. He has been in the eighth grade at South Park School and a regular at Sunday school.

Daniel is in jail. No charge was filed immediately, pending determination of his status as a juvenile.

News Flashes

WATERLOO, Ia. (INS) — A Waterloo, Ia., housewife went berserk early today and slashed the throats of her two young daughters and her husband. She then slashed her own throat. The two daughters, two-year-old Francis Jean and nine-months-old Sherryl, were dead on arrival at a Waterloo Hospital. Police reported the woman, 26-year-old Francis Waterman, and her 30-year-old husband, Harry, will recover.

CHICAGO (AP)—Leon Marcus, a prime figure in the Orville Hodge scandal, carried more than $300,000 in cash and checks when he was slain, police reported today. Refuses British Currency for Toll

Egypt Blocks First Ship

CAIRO (INS)—A squabble over payment kept the first ship flying the British flag from entering the Suez Canal today at Port Suez.

Egyptian informants said this was the first demonstration of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's determination to reopen the 103-mile waterway on a "take it or leave it basis" despite Western objections.

Held up at the canal's southern entrance was the Greek-owned freighter "Maria Vittoria" flying the British red ensign, after what an Egyptian canal official said was "a disagreement" over the captain's offer to pay British pounds instead of dollars.

A canal spokesman repeated Nasser's statement that Israeli ships are barred from the canal.

"(An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman in Jerusalem was quoted yesterday as saying that Egyptian interference with Israeli shipping in the Suez Canal, or in the Gulf of Aqaba, "would be an act of war.")

28 PAY, PASS

All 28 ships which have entered the canal since Friday's reopening to vessels of 28½ feet draft have been assured passage by payments in dollars, Swiss francs or German marks, according to Egyptian specifications.

Ten ships flying the flags of Italy, Greece, Norway, Spain, Egypt, Panama, and Germany paid dollars and started through the canal early today. The first Norwegian ship went through yesterday.

There was some speculation that the captain of the stalled Maria Vittoria would pay dollars to permit passage by tomorrow.

Today's traffic included four north-bound and six south-bound ships.

Whether American and British shippers will be willing to abide by the semi-boycott urged by their governments for very long appears to be doubtful in view of the tremendous cost of sending ships around Africa.

It appeared that the Egyptians either were going to ignore American objections to Nasser's plan or deal with them through the United Nations, instead of singly or through the Suez Canal Users Association, which Nasser refuses to recognize.

Iranians Intensify Search for Outlaws

one of the patrols yesterday, Iranian and U. S. authorities had hoped the woman might be alive. Rumors persistently circulated that she was alive.

The last came Saturday when a Dadshah tribesman was reported to have offered to return the woman alive if guaranteed amnesty. Rewards totaling more than $70,000 had been posted for Mrs. Carooll's safe return.

Every rumor, no matter how fantastic, was traced down by the searchers.

PARTY WARNED

The American party had been warned not to venture into the remote area, Iranian government authorities declared, for fear they would be killed by the brutal and primitive tribesmen.

But they decided to make the trip anyway. Carrying only side arms, they left by jeep.

When attacked, officials said, the two Americans and the two Iranians in their party apparently fought until their ammunition was expended.

Then the bandits swarmed in, killing the Iranians and the Americans. Mrs. Carroll, the officials speculated, was either taken prisoner then or tried to escape by running away.

If she ran away, they tracked her down and murdered her. More likely, the authorities theorized, she was taken prisoner and the bandits shortly became fearful she would hold up their escape. So they killed her and left her body in the desert.

There was some speculation that the tribesmen did not know they were attacking Americans when they launched their ambush.

ARAB SLAVE TRAFFIC

This tragic story has focused the spotlight on the illicit but still flourishing Arabian slave traffic.

For a week authorities believed that Mrs. Carroll might be destined for one of the slave markets along the Persian Gulf or Gulf of Oman.

The slave trade has been prohibited throughout Iran since 1929. Anyone caught assisting traders is liable to three years in prison in solitary confinement.

But slave trading has been flourishing ever since World War II, when the Iranian government's powers were weakened by the occupation.

The area where Mrs. Carroll, her husband Kevin and William Brewster died, is undoubtedly the most backward in Iran.

Watercourses are extremely rare in Iranian Baluchistan, and those that exist remain dry most of the year. The tribes in the area have waged relentless war against each other for generations.

Zahedan is the chief town of Baluchistan province. It is a railroad terminus and has an airport. The rest of the towns, including Iranshahr, from where the search for the killers is being coordinated, are little more than groups of huts.

Even Alexander the Great feared to make the trip through Baluchistan, which before the fourth century was already known widely as a treacherous area.

28,000 Swarm Olympia Stadium to Greet Elvis

DETROIT (INS)—Some 28,000 screaming, mad Elvis Presley fans swarmed over Olympia Stadium in Detroit yesterday and that's no April Fools Day joke.

"Elvis is the most," according to the wild teenagers who nearly climbed over some 175 "sideburn detail" policemen.

One reporter commented that Elvis, in his two performances "gave off more electricity than the Detroit Edison Co."

At both performances, Elvis dashed out onto the stage in his gold jacket, gold shoes and a gold string tie to face hysterical shrieks from his loyal fans.

There was a single chant from the mob—"Elvis, Elvis, Elvis, Elvis."

One young girl with an "I hate Elvis" button was forced to remove it by teenagers before she was allowed to sit down.

Indian Currency Will Be Changed to Decimal Way

NEW DELHI (AP)—India switched its currency to the decimal system today in what Prime Minister Nehru called a "silent but far-reaching revolution."

The rupee, worth about 20 cents, remains the unit money. But now it is divided into 100 "naya paise" — new coins — instead of 16 annas of 12 pies each.

India changes to the metric system of weights and measures next Jan. 1. The previous systems were a legacy from British rule.

Nehru said in making the changes India is "going back to something which was originally a product of the Indian genius."

"India," he explained, "gave to the world long ago the great discovery of zero and numerals, and later the beginnings of what was subsequently known as the metric system saw the light through the Indian genius. So we go back to our own."

Rackets Probe to Recall Beck

McClellan Plans Later Hearing, Urges Laws to Curb Fund Misuse

WASHINGTON (INS) — Possible criminal prosecution faced Dave Beck today as congressional support mushroomed for new laws to prevent misuse of funds or other misdeeds by union officers.

Testimony given in the Senate probe of labor racketeering has convinced many congressmen, administration officials and even some labor leaders that laws must be strengthened to insure that union members get a proper accounting of how their dues are used.

However, most of the advocates of legislation want first to give the labor organizations a chance to clean up their own houses.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the special Senate committee investigating labor-management practices, said yesterday the hearings concerning the Teamsters union "clearly indicates to me now there should be federal legislation to insure the democratic processes in unions."

He also said Congress should act to "insure the security" of union funds "so they can not be dissipated or misapprioriated or stolen or diverted to any other purpose than union purposes, except for the purpose of safe investment."

McClellan indicated the committee has more evidence against Beck and said Beck would be recalled by the committee later.

In the meantime, he said, the committee is ready to start new hearings within two weeks in any one of four cities—New York, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Scanton, Pa.

Sen. Irving Ives (R-N. Y.), vice chairman of the committee, said flatly there will be new laws passed to prevent some union leaders from abusing their power. But he said such legislation will not be framed until the committee hearings have gone deeper into the matter.

Manistee Forest Loses 100 Acres in Sunday's Fire

NEWAYGO (INS) — A 100-acre plot of the Manistee National Forest stands blackened and charred today after a wind-fanned forest fire was brought under control late yesterday.

Southerly winds of 25 miles per hour saved the resort areas of Hess and Brooks Lakes from being burned out. The wind directed the flames southward to the banks of the Muskegon River, five miles southeast of Newaygo.

At a time during the blaze some 350 cottages and year-round residences were endangered.

About 50 residents and tourists aided firemen and forest rangers from White Cloud and other communities in battling the blaze.

City Gets New Manager for Social Security Office

Pontiac's Federal Social Security office has a new manager, William E. LaRock, who comes here from Traverse City.

The manager's post has been vacant since Jan. 7 when L. Wesley Dorr was transferred to the Central Office in Washington.

LaRock, 44, has 21 years experience with the Social Security Agency. A native of Sault Ste. Marie, he graduated from the University of Michigan and started his career with the Central Office.

He held the managership of several midwest offices before being sent to Traverse City in 1941. Except for military service, he was there until his transfer to Pontiac.

Gilbert Gallivan continues as assistant manager in Pontiac.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Pilate Off to Jerusalem

(No. 23 in a Lenten Series)

Anxiously, Claudia followed her husband, Pilate, out of the room.

"What do you mean by saying that trouble is coming closer?" she asked.

Pilate put his hand on her arm affectionately.

"Never mind," he said. "There's no use bothering your head about it."

"But I want to know."

"Go tell the servants to pack for us," Pilate said. "You'll find it all out quickly enough."

"Pack? But you said you couldn't get away for a trip just now."

"I can get away for this one. I am going to Jerusalem to be there over the feast days. We'll take several companies of soldiers."

Claudia looked at her husband shrewdly.

"This is a religious feast," she reminded him. "It's not a Roman Saturnalia with the slaves all getting drunk."

"Just the same," Pilate replied, "we'll take along some extra soldiers."

Then he sat down and dictated a note to one of the slaves for Caesar. It read:

August Emperor — My next report to you will come from Jerusalem. I am going there now with my household and a retinue of the military. Junius is to meet me there and I shall perhaps have news of two kinds — from him and from personal observation.

The people of Jerusalem are getting ready to celebrate their great annual feast and my wife is informed (via the servants) that this Nazarene preacher, Jesus, may be going into the capital for the occasion.

The situation seems to demand some first-hand attention. . . .

He put his signature and seal to the paper and went out to summon the captain of the guard.

The Day in Birmingham

Consider Maple Widening on Light Agenda Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — A very light agenda will come before City Commissioners this evening in deference to the spring election.

A single item of importance to be considered is the proposed widening of East Maple avenue.

City Engineer G. R. Seresbets has prepared a breakdown of costs included in the $80,000 estimated total.

City Manager Harold K. Schone will ask officials to set a date for the hearing of necessity.

Schone said he expected to have tabulations on municipal building alterations ready for study. Bids are being received at 2 p.m. today. They have been prepared on a plan that will permit the city to contract for work in parcels rather than as a whole.

The effectiveness of inter-department police cooperation was highlighted Saturday evening with a call originating in Bloomfield Hills.

Police Chief Stanley Kevern said that 17 minutes after a motorist reported seeing a group of boys stripping an automobile, the five were arrested in Birmingham.

Kevern said the alarm was put on the air by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department immediately.

Held for investigation are:

Robert Yuno, 19; Edward Lee Harb, 20; Michael John Thelan, 18; and two juveniles, all of Detroit.

Kevern said one of the juveniles admitted having stolen the car in Royal Oak.

Pythian Sister Temple No 94 will entertain its grand chief, Dorothy Wishcher, at the 8 p.m. meeting in the community hall tomorrow.

A project of dolls and toys for crippled children will see its climax when the gifts are turned over to Mrs. Wishcher. Distribution of them, however, will be made to local youngsters whose names have been elected by Nurse Anyce Gillette.

Birmingham Kiwanis members, with their wives, will visit the Baptist Children's Home, at 13 Mile and Southfield roads for their meeting tomorrow night.

Annual entertainment of children at the home is part of the regular Kiwanis program.

Macmillan Says 'No Secret Pact'

Solution Impossible for All Problems; Found Better Understanding

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons today he did not enter into any secret engagements in his Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower.

There had been some whispers within Macmillan's own Conservative party that he "sold out" Britain to the United States in exchange for guided missiles to cut British defense expenditures.

"It would be absurd to suppose that in a few days we would find solutions to all the immense problems that confronted us," Macmillan said in opening a debate on the Bermuda meeting.

"But we covered much ground and we did reach agreements on certain matters set out in the communique. I want to make it clear that there were no secret engagements.

"There were some matters on which we were not in agreement."

Without elaborating, he cautioned against placing too much importance on the disagreements. He declared that, as a result of the talks, Britain and the United States "understood each other better."

"I made plain our view that just trusting to the U. N. is no substitute for a foreign policy," he said.

He clearly implied that he pressed for lifting of Western restrictions on trade with Red China.

Check Passer, Bandit Flee Jackson Prison

A Royal Oak bandit and a Detroit check passer last night escaped from Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson, officials said this morning.

Sought are Ernest J. Johnson Jr., of 316 W. Hudson St., sentenced last year to 2-10 years for the armed robbery of a Troy Township grocery store, and D. A. Blackburn, 28, sentenced in Detroit in 1952 for uttering and publishing.

Wills Fund for Crippled

DETROIT (AP)—Most of an estate valued at some $200,000 has been left by the late Dr. Raymond L. Clark to the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine to maintain its hospitals for crippled children. Dr. Clark died March 24 at the age of 77. He left $10,000 to Michigan State University for agricultural scholarships; $5,000 to Wayne State University for loans to medical students and $5,000 to the Salvation Army.

Watch Taylor Election

TAYLOR TOWNSHIP (INS) — Officials from the Secretary of State's office were on hand this morning as Taylor Township voters lined up at the polls. The state officials said they were there "to insure a fair election in that political hotbed."

Teamsters Control Trucking in U.S.

The union grew and grew under the late President Dan Tobin, a Boston Irishman. Tobin called the shots on the old AFL council and, in frequent jurisdictional squabbles with other unions, generally won.

The result was that the Teamsters grabbed off jurisdiction—and members — in a lot of industries in which other unions claimed organizing rights. After World War II the Teamstern really began to expand on a big scale into other fields.

Beck replaced the aging Tobin in 1952. While Beck's financial deals, largely and admittedly with borrowed union funds, are now raising the nation's eyebrows, he has done a job for his union.

Membership now is at least 250,000 greater than it was when he took over. Contracts generally rank with the best in the country from the worker's standpoint.

The Teamsters Union is divided up into city, state and area duchies, each with its own set of bosses. Generally speaking they have by tradition operated as they saw fit.

Beck and Hoffa have changed this quite a bit in the past few years. Beck, having welded together an 11-state organization into the Western Conference of Teamsters, carried the plan further after becoming national president. He established similar Eastern, Central States, and Southern Teamsters conferences.

The result has been that where Teamsters previously barganied for city or regional areas, they now bargain on conference scope with contracts that are largely identical.

It's a move toward national bargaining. It also has meant bigger powers for a few union officials, including Beck and Hoffa.

The numerous trucking operators have never centralized as much as the Teamsters. So in recent years at least, they have been unable to put up a very strong fight against so powerful a union.

The Teamsters have more than 800 local unions scattered from coast to coast, from Canada to the Gulf (some, by the way, in Canada too). There are 44 joint councils, which are sometimes statewide and sometimes community-wide, such as the Chicago or Boston areas. California, for example, has three joint councils.

Who are the Teamsters? They are the truck drivers, the guy with the big square van ahead of you on the road.

These are the over-the-road drivers, the long-haul boys jockeying freight across country.

But there are thousands and thousands of other Teamsters driving local delivery trucks, taxicabs, ambulances and practically every other type of vehicle.

The union also represents production workers in milk plants, breweries, canneries, all sorts of fruit and vegetable processing workers and handlers, race track employes, warehouse employes, and pinball and vending machine servicemen.

Former Red Slave Relates Horrors of Soviet Prison

WASHINGTON (INS) — A former slave laborer has told the Senate internal security subcommittee that women are tossed together with men in Soviet prison camps as a scheme to raise the birth rate.

The witness, who spent 10 years in 60 different Soviet concentration camps, also related how three of his colleagues, tortured by systematic starvation, killed and ate a fellow prisoner.

The chilling account of life in Red forced-labor prisons was related by a 41-year-old Hungarian army captain who used the assumed name of "George Batori" to protect his relatives in Hungary.

Batori estimated that there are 20 million persons in Red concentration camps and 30 per cent are women. He said women are forced to live in the same barracks as men in order to hike the birth rate, which dropped off sharply during World War II.

"The women," the witness related, "are at the mercy of the guards and other prisoners so that if any of them are good looking, they cannot escape."

Testifying through an interpreter, Batori said babies were taken away from the camps after two or three months and "the mothers never knew what happened to them."

The refugee said that his Red captors never furnished enough food. "It is hard to believe," he said, "what it means to live for years in hunger and during that time, one almost becomes an animal."

He said he was a witness in 1946 against three of his fellow prisoners charged with cannibalism. The three men, he said, killed an elderly man with an ax. "They cooked him and ate him and when they could not eat, they buried him," he told the subcommittee.

The witness said Soviet economy is "facing collapse" and that of her 200 million population, 190 million are "simply slaves" for the Red elite.

Home Accidents Take 866 Lives

1956 Statistics Show Industry Safer by Far; Total Drops 10 Per Cent

LANSING (AP) — Accidents in the home killed 11 times as many people as industrial accidents in Michigan last year, the State Health Department reported.

Provisional 1956 vital statistics released today by the department showed that 866 persons died in home accidents in 1956 and 73 in industrial accidents.

The department described 1956 as a typical year for distribution of accidental deaths between the home and industry.

Among persons in the 20-65 age bracket, which includes most industrial workers, home accidents last year caused 216 deaths, slightly more than three times the 71 deaths caused by industrial accidents.

Deaths from industrial accidents dropped from 79 in 1955 to 73 last year despite an increase in the industrial work force. In the same years, deaths from home accidents rose from 856 to 866.

The very young and the very old were most prone to home accidents, statistics showed, as 581, or 68 per cent, of the home accident victims were under five or over 64 years of age.

A breakdown of home accident causes showed falls accounted for 423 deaths; fires and explosions, 912; suffocation, 106; poisoning, 48; firearms, 25; drowning, 12, and other causes, 60.

The department said that accidental deaths from all causes dropped from 4,213 in 1955 to 3,817 last year. Farm accidents took 89 lives last year, one more than the previous year.

Senate Bill Proposes Farm Surplus Barter

The Senate Agriculture Committee has unanimously approved an Administration bill to permit barter of farm surpluses with countries of Eastern Europe on a selective basis.

This action could have the effect of opening the door for immediate aid to Poland and any other satellite regime which shows signs of wanting a measure of independence. Poland has requested $200 million in farm surpluses and $100 million loan to buy machinery.

The bill not only would reduce surpluses piled up in Government warehouses but, more important, it would bolster countries which are beginning to win control of their own affairs.

Most of the $3 billion worth of farm surpluses earmarked for sale to friendly nations in return for their currency has been disposed of. Extension of this authority would help peoples in need of food and could demonstrate to the Soviet Union that in aiding Communist countries on its border, we have no intention of drawing them into defensive alliances.

Aid must be used with great care in dealing with the delicate political situations in such countries. Refusal of aid might drive the satellites back under full Russian control.

Shorter Week or Longer Life?

Talk of a shorter week in place of the current 5-day, 40-hour package continues to fascinate workers and give employers bigger ulcers.

A short week, even down to one of 30-hours, presents some basic problems that must be solved before such a plan could be made, with safety, a national standard.

Organized labor naturally assumes that a shorter week can be had without cutting the workers' pay. In other words, the same pay for 30 hours that formerly was possible for a longer week.

Important, however, is not the number of hours of operation, but the amount of saleable product made in these hours.

If production in a shorter week does not fall off because of the shorter week, workers' income need not fall. But if production decreases, the employer, and eventually the worker, will suffer.

Only goods produced and sold can maintain wages.

There is no other source for either pay checks or dividends.

If the 30-hour week means that both management and labor must further step up the tempo of their work days to produce more goods in the limited time, in order to make the short week economically possible, it may not be as desirable as many believe.

Perhaps a shorter week is not the most important need in American industry and business.

Ways to reduce the pressure and tensions of earning a living may be much more valuable than the number of hours on the job.

Forty hours at a reasonable pace might be far better than 30 hours of the man-killing tension that seems to be needed in many industries and offices.

Ike Asks for Report on Monetary Policy

In his State of the Union message President Eisenhower declared that the time had come for an inquiry into the nature, performance and adequacy of our financial system.

He asked that Congress authorize the creation of a commission of able and qualified citizens to undertake the inquiry. As a result Republicans now are battling for a new independent commission on monetary policy. House Democrats want the inquiry made by the Banking and Currency Committee. They argue that too much money already is being spent on independent studies.

Last year the President set up his own commission to study foreign aid policy although Congress held that this was a proper function of its own committees on foreign affairs. The Senate appropriated $300,000 for a comprehensive investigation by its Foreign Relations Committee.

As of March 1, the 85th Congress has earmarked $5.3 million for investigations spending by Senate and House committees, excluding appropriations committees. These expenses do not cover costs of routine actions on bills and resolutions.

Investigations and studies are proper and necessary functions of our Government. But duplication of effort and resulting waste of money should be avoided.

Asks Questions Concerning Pontiac's Financial Status

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Your editorial, "Van Doren Case was very interesting. In 1954 we were debt fee in Pontiac, and now our city is in debt three million dollars. Why? Following are a few subjects that would be of interest to taxpayers.

1. Why are Pontiac taxpayers being bonded for a hospital when 51 per cent of the occupants are from outside Pontiac?

2. Why did the city fathers start a 4.5 million dollar hospital when the tax payers voted only three million?

3. Why and how much is the hospital deficit each year? How much will this deficit increase with the new hospital and who pays it?

4. Why, after 30 years, have our Commissioners raised their salary 500 per cent? Are they now buying their own steak dinners and paying their own expenses to conventions?

5. Why do we pay more for a City Manager than the City of Toledo, a city four times the size of ours?

7. Why is the Grand Trunk Railroad allowed to clutter up our streets when there is a "Belt Line Right of Way" around the town?

8. Why are assessments and rates (taxes) raised when the taxpayers' income is declining? Why isn't the budget adjusted to meet the taxpayers ability to pay?

9. Why does the City refuse to annex taxpaying shopping areas when at the same time they annex tax exempt church property?

These are just a few questions that would bear frank discussion. Unless the taxpayers are aroused we will again find ourselves saddled with confiscatory taxes and debt. If our local officials can be made to realize there is a bottom in the taxpayers' pocket, it will do a lot to make our senators and congressmen realize our national tax scandal must be stopped. Let's start economy at home and save our City from confiscatory taxation.

Patients Praises Hospital Annex

I am anxious to inform the public how nice it is at the General Hospital annex. I was in an eight-bed ward in a nicely decorated room with windows the full length of two walls, providing a view of miles of countryside. After spending three days and nights in a hall at General, you can imagine how much this was appreciated.

It was very quiet, the only noise being that of the patients themselves. The food was very good and each day I was given a menu for the following day and allowed a choice. I could also say whether I wanted small, medium or large portions. The nurses were pleasant and service fine. Parking facilities were perfect for my family and friends.

This is not a criticism of General Hospital, as I couldn't have received better treatment. I not only feel sorry for the people who are so ill, but the doctors, nurses and all help who work there under the present conditions. This is primarily to tell you how comfortable you can be at the Annex and relieve the pressure at the downtown hospital.

Wants Increase in 'Yield' Signs

Those signs saying to yield the right of way at certain intersections are very helpful to traffic. First, they establish who has the right of way. Next, they don't require a full stop when it isn't at all necessary. These should be substituted frequently for "stop" signs.

By JAMES J. METCALFE

Aloneness is that circumstance . . . Of being all alone . . . While loneliness is longing for . . . The loved ones we have known . . . Our loneliness is sadness that . . . We cannot toss aside . . . It is a feeling genuine . . . And difficult to hide . . . And so we have good reason for . . . Our loneliness sincere . . . But never for aloneness, as . . . Our neighbors are so near . . . Aloneness is the foolish choice . . . Of locking every door . . . When we could have companionship . . . And friendships by the score . . . Our loneliness is normal, and . . . It has its own excuse . . . Aloneness shuts us out, so we . . . Can be of little use.

The Man About Town

The Prize Is $250

1957 Baseball Contest Is Opening. Want to Win It?

Baseball: A disease that will soon assume its annual epidemic proportions.

The Man About Town annual baseball contest starts today, with $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds as the prize. Do you want it?

The prize will be won by the person who submits the nearest correct answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Friday, April 26, and what will be his batting average?

It costs nothing to enter the contest, and every member of your family is eligible to compete, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper. Employes of The Pontiac Press and members of their immediate families are not eligible to enter the contest.

All that is necessary is to pick out your favorite player. You do not have to clip a coupon, answer any other questions, write an essay or take part in a quiz. The $250 may be yours, in exchange for about one minute of your time.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Saturday, April 13.

Every entrant agrees to abide by the decision of the judges, which will be final. Your chance is as good as that of the experts, many of whom have been poor guessers in past contests.

Last year the $250 prize went to

of 275 Starr Ave. In 1955,

Mrs. Clifton Hicks

of 224 West Longfellow Ave. was the winner. In 1954 it was divided between

Robert I. McCormick

of 76½ Newberry St., and

Mrs. Bernice G. Jozwik

of Drayton Plains. In 1953 it went to

Miss Betty Whitson

of 495 Harper Ave. The 1952 winner was

Miss Joyce McQuaid

of 129 Osceola Drive. In 1951

Mrs. Loretta Stricklin

of 2500 Silver Drive, got the bonds, and

Mrs. E. J. Peterman

of 38 Murphy Ave., won in 1950. In 1949

Donald Jo Lovse

of 142 Cadillac Ave., was the winner, and in 1948

Mrs. Marie Eggert

of 437 North Saginaw St., got the $250. In 1957 will it be YOU?

David Lawrence Says:

Newsmen Need Road Escort, Too

WASHINGTON — Presidential caravans or motorcades always travel too fast and because of it there have been bad accidents in the past. Maybe the latest incident will focus attention on a reform that has long been overdue—how to protect the newspapermen who must travel with a president.

LAWRENCE

For the risk in fast travel is not with the President. He usually has a motorcycle escort to clear the traffic with a siren but often the newsmen who are in the autos behind are not given the needed escort of motorcycles to travel alongside their cars.

The U.S. Secret Service usually has a good reason for exceeding the speed limit with a presidential car. Sometimes it is related to the desire to get quickly through city streets which have been blocked off and where all traffic has been temporarily halted. Sometimes it has to do with fears that a crank may take a potshot at the procession, and fast moving cars are harder to hit.

Sometimes presidential chauffeurs must travel fast when it is really necessary and they form a habit which sticks to them even when it isn't necessary. The Secret Service car sometimes leads the procession or provides a driver who sets the pace. All the other cars feel they must keep up with the leading car.

TOUGH PROBLEM

The problem of the Secret Service to protect the life of a president is no easy one. It has many ramifications and all that the public knows is that two presidents — Garfield and McKinley — have been assassinated and a third case —President Truman—the attempt was defeated by brave Secret Service men who returned the fire of would-be assassins.

Also just after Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected a bullet intended for him at Miami, Fla., killed Mayor Cermak of Chicago. Theodore Roosevelt, campaigning in 1912, was attacked by an assailant as he left a theater.

Letters from cranks are received regularly and the Secret Service take all kinds of precautions—sometimes too many. Fast driving may be one of them.

OPEN CAR WORRY

Presidential campaigns on the other hand are particularly worrisome for the Secret Service since the slow ride in open automobiles has become a custom even in big cities.

When President Wilson was on his trip in September, 1919, advocating American entry into the League of Nations, he stopped at Denver, Colo., to make a speech. Certain cars were made available to the press for a trip outside the city.

COULDN'T GO

This correspondent who was assigned to a car with two other newsmen couldn't go along on that ride, staying behind to investigate a delay in one of his dispatches at the telegraph office. The car was demolished a few minutes later and Ben F. Allen, correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer was killed and Stanley Reynolds of the Baltimore Sun was severely injured.

On that same news assignment just a week later at Portland, Ore., another accident occurred as cars carrying newsmen just behind President Wilson were caught in a bad collision. Robert T. Small, who won fame for the Associated Press as one of its best writers, was injured and had a narrow escape from death. In both the Denver and Portland incidents the motor procession was exceeding the speed limits.

But automobiles aren't the only risks. In 1912 when Wilson was a presidential candidate someone decided to run at a speed of 90 miles an hour the special train to which his private car with newsmen aboard was attached at Harrisburg, Pa., on the way to Trenton, N.J. —and the cars in those days were wooden, too.

The answer to the problem is simple. Seventy miles an hour on a road that has been cleared is not risky in a modern automobile. But whenever a president travels there should be a motorcycle escort to clear the way ahead with police assigned to ride alongside the entire motorcade so the newsmen too will be protected.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Palsy Sufferers Advised to Keep Active and Busy

A Massachusetts correspondent says my pamphlet, Parkinson's Tremor (sometimes called paralysis agitans or shaking palsy) seemed an answer to her prayer.

"My daughter," she wrote, "has shaking hands, halting walk, body inclined forward, bent elbows—all to keep her balance, I suppose. Last fall her 9-year-old daughter asked: 'Grandma, did Mommy cry a lot when she was a little girl?' I said, 'No, Doris.' She said, 'Well, she does now.'

BRADY

"My daughter is probably under a nervous strain because of her husband's illness, though she does not show it. One thing in her favor, as your pamphlet says, is that she is very active around her home, never one to sit idling . . ."

Anyone with Parkinson's tremor should keep very active around the house and never sit idle for any length of time. For just vegetating, so to speak, favors "freezing," the steady increase of rigidity and consequent disability. Instead of sitting idle, knit, sew, fat, always have something to do.

I have known a number of men and women with Parkinson's tremor who derived a good deal of enjoyment and improvement of their trouble from lawn bowling. Putting, pitching horseshoes, archery, or roque might also be good.

MAKE 'FACES'

If there is a mask-like facial expression, sit before your mirror and practice expressing various emotions for so many minutes daily or until your face gets a little tired.

For a copy of my free pamphlet, Parkinson's Tremor, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

LI'L ONES

"Do me a favor, Pop—please stop referring to me as a shining example!"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Reduce to Lower Blood Pressure

Wives, take a lesson from the former world champion wrestler, Strangler Lewis. You can also lower your husband's blood pressure by following the methods described below. And you can prevent your romance from degenerating into a platonic affair. So send for this booklet and insure a more romantic marriage.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-343: When Strangler Lewis, famous wrestler of the last generation, was 51 years old, he was sitting in the audience, watching a match at Los Angeles.

At the last minute, one of the two contestants failed to show up. The crowd was clamoring for the show to go on. The promoter of the event was on the spot.

CRANE

Frantically his eyes roved over the audience 'til he happened to see Mr. Lewis, the former world champion and veteran of over 6,000 professional bouts.

Strangler Lewis had retired five years earlier and had then gone into the restaurant business.

But he was still a great enthusiast for wrestling and appreciated the dilemma facing the promoter.

So he agreed to wrestle that night, though he was obviously out of condition and weighed 350 pounds, which was 100 more than his former wrestling weight.

FIGHTING HEART

Moreover, his blood pressure was 210 at the time. But he squeezed into a pair of borrowed trunks and in 18 minutes had thrown the famous wrestler opposing him.

And please remember that this was in the days prior to the sham wrestling of modern TV.

I have told you this true case to illustrate three major points.

First, champions usually have a fighting heart and courage.

Second, the skill and experience of a former champ often are enough to offset the physical fitness of a younger opponent, at least for a short conflict.

FAT RAISES PRESSURE

Third, obesity tends to raise your blood pressure, even if you have no significant hardening of the arteries.

To prove this point, notice what happened after the wrestling bout just mentioned.

Strangler Lewis decided to sell his chain of restaurants and go back into the wrestling game.

So he began to train in earnest. And within 6 months, he had shed 80 pounds. His weight dropped from 350 to 270.

Meanwhile, please notice what happened to his blood pressure!

It dropped from the former figure of 210 right down to 132. In other words, when he reduced 80 pounds his blood pressure dropped 78 points:

If any of you readers have high blood pressure, please get on the scales and see if you are at all overweight.

Even if you are only 25 pounds heavier than when you were 21 years old, you will probably find that your blood pressure will drop 10 to 20 points by dieting.

SPELLS PLATONIC MATES

But even more demoralizing to many men past 40, is the fact that obesity tends to make them platonic.

Furthermore, fat wives also lose much of their seductive allure. So analyze yourself carefully. Does your husband ignore you a great deal?

If he kisses you perfunctorily, offering a dignified little peck on the cheek instead of a thriller-diller kiss, maybe you have checked his ardor by your rotund figure.

Besides, you can't feel like a sports roadster with the chassis of a truck. So slenderize if you want to feel kittenish again.

Send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It is ideal insurance for lifelong romance, as well as lowered blood pressure.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Farm Would Beckon Soldier

Harding May Step Down From Top Post on Cyprus

By International News Service

Ramrod straight Sir John Harding—the British officer cursed by the Greek Cypriot underground as the "man with nine lives"—may be nearing the end of a frustrating mission.

The mustachioed, battle-marked field marshal stands as the symbol of the determined and harsh—but never completely successful—military and civil action aimed at wiping out the terror-inspiring campaign of the Eoka.

The relaxing of the British government's previously unyielding position on Cyprus by freeing Archibishop Makarios from exile could mean replacement of the "symbol" who led the British in the shadow war with the underground fighting for union with Greece.

If he does leave Cyprus, Harding likely will head for England and a life opposite in the extreme from the one he has known as a warrior in the African desert, Korea and on the British defense bastion of Cyprus. He plans simply to live as a retired country-gentleman on his cattle farm in Dorset.

CHEATS DEATH

Harding's campaign to break the Eoka cost him an officially admitted four of his nine lives, but each time he cheated the assassination planned for him. One night he slept on a bed wired with a time bomb, observing when the charge was discovered the next day that "I must say, I slept remarkably well."

Hardings, admittedly "tough assignment" on Cyprus hasn't been the first that has almost cost him his life. Picked by Field Marshal Montgomery to build a panzer army to "knock the Germans" into the North African sand during World War II, Harding came up with a plan within four hours that won him command of the British Seventh Armored Division.

But the slight, five-foot-five one-time post office clerk exercised his belief in "front line leadership" to such an extent he almost was killed. He rode his fast, personal tank into the thick of battle outside Tripoli and was ripped out of the turret by a German shell.

The blast tore three fingers from his left hand. He still has a tendency to hide the hand when meeting strangers, but as he talks and gains confidence, he leaves his shell of shyness and soon is using the two remaining fingers to smooth his bristling mustache.

The slim, impeccably dressed Britisher, who didn't let a humble beginning prevent him from rising to chief of the imperial general staff, has always preferred the open tactics of the battlefield to the maneuvering of the conference chamber.

Perhaps he wouldn't mind missing out on the conference table battles which seem to be shaping up to solve the Cyprus dispute.

Let Technicians Test as Engineers Create

EAST LANSING (AP) — Top flight engineering brains are being wasted washing test tubes and shuffling papers, a New York industrialist has complained.

Alfred A. Iddles told some 200 Michigan engineers and executives attending a conference on effective utilization of engineering personnel at Michigan State University that more technicians should be used to help release engineers from trivial jobs.

Technicians, he said, could do more testing, laboratory work and drafting to release trained engineers for creative work.

Wider employment of women and easing of compulsory retirement rules also would help solve the shortage of trained engineers, Iddles said.

"There are a lot of capable engineers basking in the sun in Florida after retirement, and not by choice," Iddles said.

California led the United States in the issuance of licenses to new physicians during 1955, with 2,018; New York was second with 1,367 and Ohio third with 1,015. Nevada gave only 20 new licenses.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Another Crisis Faces Argentina

Air Force Leaders Call for General Elections, Postponed by Aramburu

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A sharp dispute with air force leaders and younger officers today shook Provisional President Pedro Aramburu's regime.

Observers wondered how many more of the recurrent crises his government could survive.

Aramburu struggled to keep control over the defiant air officers, angered over the President's postponement of a general election to pick a constitutional government and his dismissal of Commodore Julio Cesar Krause, the air minister. The resulting crisis was considered the gravest since Aramburu's government assumed power Nov. 13, 1955.

The air officers' objection to the change in the election date and their demand for Krause's reinstatement have now been subordinated to their defense of the air force's tender pride. The airmen themselves appeared split, with the older officers inclined to a compromise and the younger ones trying to make a big issue of their differences with Aramburu.

Aramburu was understood to be striving for a compromise to assure continued support of his regime by all three armed services. A majority of the army and virtually all the navy support his election plan.

Aramburu told Argentina Saturday the election would be held Feb. 23, 1958. The government had said previously it expected to fix the date for next fall, but the President said it was impossible to hold the voting that soon. He said the new government would take office May 1 instead of June 20 as previously planned.

Aramburu has survived other storms within his administration, but they have brought the regime under increasing fire.

Ggsoline Causes Fire in Storm Sewer Lines

GLENOLDEN, Pa. (AP)— Gasoline, washed into a creek as a safety measure after a leak developed in a service station tank, caught fire as it flowed through storm sewers yesterday.

Manhole covers were blown into the air as the gasoline was ignited in the sewer lines. The gasoline was discovered seeping to the surface in the station operated by Harvey Krouse in this Philadelphia suburb. Firemen washed it into a creek behind the station.

As the gasoline ignited, firemen were able to trace the blaze by the smoke billowing from culverts. They called for help from nearby communities and put out the flames with a chemical extinguisher. No one was injured.

Sales Tax Collection Falls Off in March

LANSING (AP) — State sales tax collections in March on February business totaled $22,167,983, according to the state revenue department.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy commissioner, said the collections represented a two per cent increase over the previous month "but still were disappointing."

Auto sales were up some, but still not enough to make up for an earlier slump, Lock said.

Lock said if collections continue to follow the present trend, the fiscal year total probably would be between $312,000,000 and $315,000,000.

The 1956 legislature had figured on a sales tax total of $350,000,000 as the basis for supporting school aid of $190 a pupil, leaving an apparent shortage of around $35,000,000.

Their Silly Behavior Isn't Confined to One Occasion

Adults Miss Joy of April Fool's Day

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It is April Fool's Day again, but in the air is no sound of fiendish laughter. In the toothpaste tube, no shaving cream. On the photograph of a loved one, no artfully crayoned mustache.

Where are the yaks of yore? When did foolishness stop being fun? Is it age that gives you this feeling that April 1 is just another brisk spring day, or is the whole tired world suffering from creeping sobriety?

In your 11th year, a giggly time, the custom was to ring doorbells on April Fool's Day.

Maybe foolishness stopped being fun then, on that night when your skirt caught in a rosebush 50 feet from a doorbell you had just punched and fled—and the owner of bell and bush had thundered out to berate, loudly to the entire neighborhood that "at your age" you should stop being silly. It was a humbling experience.

Or did you stop being an April fool on the day when you told your best girl friend that her best boy friend had invited her worst enemy to go to the movies—that day when you lied so supremely that she cried before you could wish her a happy All-Fools' Day?

Maybe that was when the realization came that life is real, and fun can frighten the soberer students of it.

Then there was the dull and distressing morning about 1935 when father sat down at the head of the breakfast table, bestowed a bored glance at his officious offspring, and remarked—as he deliberately, slowly picked up a pinch of salt from the sugar bowl—"I hope you haven't tried that tired old trick again."

Of course, you had. And probably that was the real end of the giddy effort to be young and foolerish.

For to every adolescent must come the sulking time when he realizes, or is told, that he now is too old to hang up a Christmas stocking, too big to cry over spilt sassafrass, to mature to play the childish fool.

For a fool—the genuine, dyed-in-the-dunce-cap kind — is a person who pulls the same gag, or makes the same mistake, once to often.

So, at some point or other, you grew up in the practical joke department and resolve to put to put away your firecrackers and to will your loud guffaws to the younger generation.

At this stage, April 1st begins to take on new meaning for you: It is the day thoroughbred racing opens in New York, the day on which you can count two weeks till income tax time, the day spring starts to sprout.

ADULT FOOLISHNESS

It also is the day when, if you are of a philosophical turn, you will recognize the possibility that you're about to throw away some more money on that thoroughbred racing (a fool's trick), to wait till midnight April 15 to file your return (an often-repeated ulcerous condition) and to get too busy to notice the softening weather (a foolish oversight).

The difference between child fools and adult fools is that the former operate joyously and seasonally—while the latter unsmilingly repeat their mistakes on a year-round schedule.

Today's typical first-year teacher is 23¾ years old.

Bermuda Confab Draws Russian Threat

Warns Reprisal on Britain

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia has accused President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan of planning atomic war at their Bermuda conference and warned of massive Red retaliation.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry charged last night that the two Western leaders made decisions which tended to increase international tension and the danger of new conflict.

The statement — first official Soviet comment on the Bermuda parley — was clearly aimed at arousing British fear of nuclear bomb reprisals from the East in case of war.

The statement said the American promise to give long-range guided missiles to Britain would turn that island into "a springboard for rockets" and an "atomic bridgehead for the United States."

"The British government places the English people under the fatal danger of inevitable atomic retaliation," it said.

The statement warned both the United States and Britain the course they are following could "lead to catastrophe for those who are trying to unleash such a war on other nations."

Secretaries Hold First Workshop

Oakland Unit Meets in Pontiac

Luncheon, Program Spark 1-Day Session of Pontioak Chapter

Secretaries from all over Oakland County attended the first annual secretarial workshop sponsored by the Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International, Saturday at the Elk's Temple.

Presiding at the opening of the morning session was Mrs. John Duncan. Greetings were extended by the chapter president, Edythe Perry, and the welcome given by Mayor William M. Donaldson.

"Professional Secretarial Characteristics' was the subject by Dr. Mary Virginia Moore, assistant professor, Department of Business Educational and Secretarial Studies, Michigan State University, and newly appointed Educational Consultant of NSA. She gave a "baker's dozen" qualifications that every good secretary should possess.

Also speaking at the morning session was Dr. William G. Savage, School of Business Educational Studies, Wayne State University, whose topic was "What's Your Business Writing IQ?" Dr. Savage spoke on the "seven C's" of letter writing as well as conducting a written business letter writing quiz.

MAKES INTRODUCTIONS

Presiding at the luncheon and introducing guests and committee members was Mary Eleanor Lockman. The invocation was given by Hope G. Scott.

Rosetta Braden, secretary of the Michigan association of NSA, gave a brief history of NSA and CPS. NSA was organized in 1942 and is non-profit, non-union, nonpartisan and nonsectarian.

It is the world's largest association for business women in one profession and has approximately 400 chapters—over 15,000 secretaries — not only in the United States, but also in Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. National headquarters is in Kansas City.

STANDARDS SET

NSA has established the Certified Professional Secretary award which is given to all secretaries passing a comprehensive two-day examination in the areas of personal adjustment and human relations, business law and administration, secretarial accounting, skills and procedures. The first exam was given in 1951 and today there are 983 CPS holders. This program is open to all secretaries.

Assisting Mrs. William Robinson with the reservations were Mrs. Warren Trevethan, Mrs. Michael Kerensky and Louhelen Eggleston, with Mrs. Russell Brackett handling publicity.

Introducing the "Ask the Experts" panel was Mrs. Trevethan. Byron Chapin of the Pontiac Business Institute served as moderator, with the panel consisting of Marilyn Smith, personnel department of Pontiac Motor Division, William John Beer, Pontiac attorney; Judith Clemence, women's editor of the Pontiac Press; and John P. Kent of Flint, manager of International Business Machines, Southeastern Michigan. The program included numerous displays of secretarial skills, procedures and office equipment.

Edythe Perry, president of the Pontioak chapter of the National Secretaries Association, is shown with Mrs. John Duncan, workshop chairman. The workshop included an "Ask the Experts" panel.

Male Style Forecast

Men's sock forecast for spring: There'll be more color, more patterns, more life in sock styles this year than in a long time. The one-size stretch socks continue to gain . . . this year, they'll be available in many new blends—nylon-and-silk, for example. New also are stretch socks in calf and knee length, for wearing with walk shorts. But the big news is the return of bold petterns—overalls, checks, fancy clocks, blazer stripes.

Gladys Owen Marries Robert Beach

Gladys Lorraine Owen became the bride of Robert George Beach Saturday at Bethany Baptist Church. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was performed by Dr. Nelson W. Dalenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Owen of Camley street are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Beach Jr. of Exmoore street are Robert's parents.

The bridal gown was fashioned of white Skinner satin with a full skirt extending into a chapel train. The Sabrina neckline of Alencon lace was re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and the long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists.

A fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls and sequins. The bride carried a crescent bouquet of white moth orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Harry Long was her sister's matron of honor. Mrs. Hugh Mair of Royal Oak and Vera Murphy also attended the bride. They wore violet-toned Italian Dupioni silk gowns, princess style, and their flowers were colonial bouquets of pink carnations centered with sweetheart roses and violets.

FLOWER GIRL IN WHITE

Alicia McRath wore a white floor length frock of nylon chiffon for her duties as flower girl. She carried a basket of pink sweetheart roses.

Hugh Mair of Royal Oak served as Robert's best man. Ushers for the service were Harry Long and Harold Ward. Timothy Dean Long, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Owen chose a hyacinth blue dress of Italian Dupioni silk with pink and navy accessories. Her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Beach chose a navy silk shantung with navy and white accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

For traveling through the southern states and Florida, the bride changed to a beige suit with brown accessories and the white orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside on East Pike street on their return.

Gladys Lorraine Owen became the bride of Robert George Beach Saturday. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Owen of Camley street and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Beach of Exmoore road.

Elevator in Bath

Among the contemplated luxuries of future bathing is a bathtub elevator—a platform to lower and raise the bather in and out of the suds.

While it's hardly what most of the world is waiting for, this "invention" might indeed be a godsend to the handicapped and aged, who are sometimes deprived of the soothing refreshment of an all-over bath.

Two Are Guests of Story League

Mrs. Roger D. Cuneo and Mrs John Clark were guests at the Thursday evening meeting of Pontiac Story League. Mrs. Oscar Schmidt was hostess to the group at the YWCA.

Mrs. J. R. Shaffer discussed the art of story telling. Presenting stories during the evening were Grace Clark, who told a story of Abraham Lincoln, "Walking on the Ceiling," and "The Shoemaker's Dream," by Tolstoy.

Laura Cobb told of "Great-Grandfather and the Honey Tree" by Sam and Zoa Swayne. Evaluator for the evening program was Mrs. Elmer Hutson.

Sense of Humor Vital to Success

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In making a list of the qualities which they think they need in order to be successful, people are all too prone to think of a sense of humor as being frivolous and not particularly important. Yet without it, almost nobody can get to the top.

A sense of humor is really a sense of proportion. It's knowing what is really important and what is not.

It's being able to brush off the vicissitudes of life, instead of letting them make you miserable.

A sense of humor is also invaluable if we're to be able to take criticism well, and learning to take criticism is an essential in all success.

ANXIOUS TO SUCCEED

She was a secretary, and was very anxious to be promoted to an executive secretarial post. For several years she worked hard, but promotions never seemed to come her way.

Determined to discover why this was so, she had an interview with the personnel director and was told, rather harshly, that her voice was so grating and unpleasant that it was standing in her way.

Here was a man who pulled no punches, and the girl was quite disturbed.

But next day, at lunch hour, she went to a voice coach and signed up for lessons. She came back glowing and grinning.

"You know," she told me, "he made a recording of my voice and played it back. And do you know what I sound like? A crow with laryngitis, that's what I sound like!

PICTURE OF CROW

"The coach told me a trick which would help to correct it—if I can just remember. So," and here she got out a small picture of a crow, and attached it, with a piece of tape, to the wall above her desk, "I'm going to keep this in front of me—as a reminder!"

It wasn't long before her voice became more pleasing and eventually she was promoted.

Through the years that I've known her, she has moved onward and upward both professionally and personally.

And the reason is that her sense of humor always comes to her aid. Instead of being shattered by criticism, she has learned how to use it.

Next time somebody tells you something "for your own good," don't be irritated or get dramatic about it.

Keep in mind the distinct possibility that they may be right — and then take it with a grin!

Child of Divorce Needs Reminder

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. Agnew, the divorced mother of 10-year-old Frank, is a happily married wife.

Yesterday was an anniversary of her wedding to Frank's father. Remembering this as she washed his stepfather's breakfast cup, she told herself that regrets were over and done with long ago.

Frank's father had simply had no sense of responsibility; and she'd had too much. Why, the very car he'd driven her off in on their wedding day had been reclaimed by the finance company later!

Yet—that had also been the day that he had said, "I'm your date every night for the rest of your life." The unforgettable words. He hadn't meant one of them.

And with this thought, Frank's mother felt the old pain again break through the barriers of reason she'd carefully built against it. It darkened the rest of her day with depression—and in the evening made her snap at the new husband she wouldn't have changed for anyone else in the world.

THE OLD HURT

Next week the same thing will happen to her child. As he leaves a Scout meeting, another boy will ask, "Are you going to bring your stepfather to our father-son tournament?"

When Frank gets home, the old hurt in him will burst out in the cry, "Nothing's the matter with me! Can't I even wish I had my own father for once?"

His mother will not be too distressed if she will remember how her own pain has had to be stilled again and again.

A child of our divorce can keep us very unhappy if we allow his backward yearnings to make us feel guilty.

Frank's wish for his own father does not mean he's dissatisfied with his stepfather any more than his mother's regret for lost love means she wants it back again. It just means that hurts as deep as those we and a child suffer when our marriage is wrenched apart take a long time healing.

We will work over them and over them until we're sure no bitterness is left. Then one day a chance occurrence will suddenly remind us of the lost husband, the absent father—and we will respond with pain that forces us to struggle back to the truths that have led us to acceptance and peace before.

At these times of relapse, what the child of divorce needs is not our guilt but reminders of good in his present life. He needs what we need ourselves at such times.

CAROL HENNIN

Willard H. Hennin of Midvale street announces the engagement of his daughter, Carol, to Cordell Tompkins, son of Cordell Tompkins of Devondale avenue. An August wedding is planned.

A pin or ring that you wear a great deal often benefits from being reset from time to time. It keeps you (and other people) from getting bored with it. And it keeps you from looking dated.

Sue Vermette, Bill Tison Wed in Gingellville Rite

A gown of nylon lace and net, fashioned with a portrait neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points at the wrist, was worn by Sue Vermette for her marriage Saturday to Bill Tison.

A tiara of seed pearls secured her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

The ceremony was performed in Gingellville Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m.

Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Vermette of North East boulevard. Mrs. Leonard Gidcumb of Monterey avenue and Truman Tison of Baldwin avenue are Bill's parents.

Bonnie Borum served as the bride's honor attendant. Karen Heaver was the bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in ballerina-length dresses of nylon chiffon, in aqua and yellow respectively. Each carried an arrangement of carnations on a white prayer book.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Frederick Drake performed the duties of best man. Seating the guests were Jerald Moore, Donald Raymond and Roger Vaughan.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Vermette greeted her guests wearing a sheath dress of white lace over beige. Her corsage was of white carnations and pink roses.

Mrs. Gidcumb chose a navy blue sheath dress with matching accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also of white carnations and pink roses.

The newlyweds are honeymooning at Niagara Falls. On their return they will reside in Pontiac.

Check Washer Load

Overloading your automatic washer gives poor washing results and is hard on the motor. You will get better results with a pound or two less than the capacity which the manufacturer lists. The clothes should move freely through the water, so mix small and large pieces and not more than two sheets to a load.

Chat Delays Scheduled Card Game

Friends Engage in Conversation With Hostess' Parents

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter explains: "The other night I invited several friends in to play cards. When they arrived they went into the living room to greet my parents whom they all knew.

"They became engrossed in conversation with them and, thinking it would be rude to interrupt, I said nothing about our game. As a result we didn't get started playing cards until quite late. Was it up to me to say something to them? I would like to know how this situation should have been handled?"

Answer: As soon as there was a pause in the conversation, it was your place as hostess to say, "I'm sure Mother and Father will excuse us so that we may begin our card game."

"Dear Mrs. Post: last Saturday night I ran into several friends while I was out with a date. The girl was on my right, which put her on the curbside.

"When I saw these friends the next night they criticized me for permitting the girl to be on the outside. We argued the point for some time and finally decided the thing to do would be to write you and have you settle it."

Answer: The pioneer exaction which placed a man on the curbside to protect the woman is out of date, and on his right is still the position of respect. Therefore, you were right.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I go to one house frequently and never at any time does the wife offer so much as a crust of bread. Isn't this attitude lacking in hospitality?"

Answer: Some people always offer refreshments, but many others never do. If the family is not in the habit of drinking afternoon tea or of eating between meals it would not be discourteous to offer nothing to visitors.

The cropped jacket is not so slimming as the open bolero suit. The latter flatters and minimizes large bust and hips.

The jacket shortened to halt at the widest part of the hips focuses attention there. The waist-length bolero acts like an axbloused back over a well-fitted belt and so minimizes the hip area and worn open it minimizes bosom expanse.

Spareribs Enhanced With Sauce

Mrs. Rogers Lets Meat Simmer and Serves on Spaghetti

By JANET ODELL

While many spaghetti recipes call for ground beef, the one printed today suggests using spareribs. It carries the seal of approval of three husky boys, the Rogers' boys, so it must have great merit.

Mrs. Carl A. Rogers who does the cooking for her three sons and one tiny daughter is still finding things to do in her new home. The Rogers' entertain a great deal. She is active in church work.

SPARERIBS AND SPAGHETTI
By Mrs. Carl A. Rogers

- 1½ pounds spareribs or 1 pound ground beef
- 2 cans (No. 2½) tomatoes
- 1 can tomato paste
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1 tablespoon fresh or ½ tablespoon powdered oregano
- 1 chopped onion
- 1 clove minced garlic
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons olive oil

Brown meat in olive oil. Saute chopped onion until golden, add garlic and tomatoes. Simmer one and a half hours. Add tomato paste and sugar. Simmer another half hour.

Remove meat when it is tender, letting sauce simmer its full two hours. Serve with one pound spaghetti. Makes 6 servings.

Don't Gamble Your Life Away With Neglect

Always Watch for Cancer Danger Signals

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The American Cancer Society crusades all year against that dread disease. It crusades constantly by alerting the public against the danger signals of cancer, and also through brilliant and dedicated research.

It begs you to investigate any symptoms such as any unusual discharge or bleeding, a persistent cough or hoarseness, any unexplained lumps, persistent indigestion, a sore that does not heal or a mole or wart that changes in appearance, or any change in bowel or bladder habits.

Not so long ago I printed in this column the rewarding percentages of cancer cures which were effected because of early diagnosis and treatment. That makes all the difference!

I know it is frightening to investigate a symptom which could come from cancer, but it would be much more frightening to find that you have done so too late. Usually the symptoms are due to some other condition, but do not gamble your life away because of neglect!

During April the American Cancer Society makes a special effort to bring essential information to the public. We never think of cancer as a hazard for young folks. Actually, percentage-wise, it isn't. However we, the public, are beginning to realize that cancer is not confined to older age groups but can and does strike the very young.

LIFE PROLONGED

Leukemia is one of the most usual forms of cancer in children and young people. It seems to be an aftermath of an acute infectious illness. In the past, leukemia was swiftly fatal. Today certain treatments and drugs can bring relief and prolong life, although there is not yet a cure.

Although cancer is rare in children it happens often enough to warrant parental education concerning it.

The American Cancer Society has given me permission to offer my readers its booklet "Cancer in Children" free of charge.

If you would like to have this booklet, send your name and address with your request for it to the American Cancer Society, 521 West 57th St., New York 19, N.Y. Remember, too, that any donation you may send will help finance further research which may save thousands of lives.

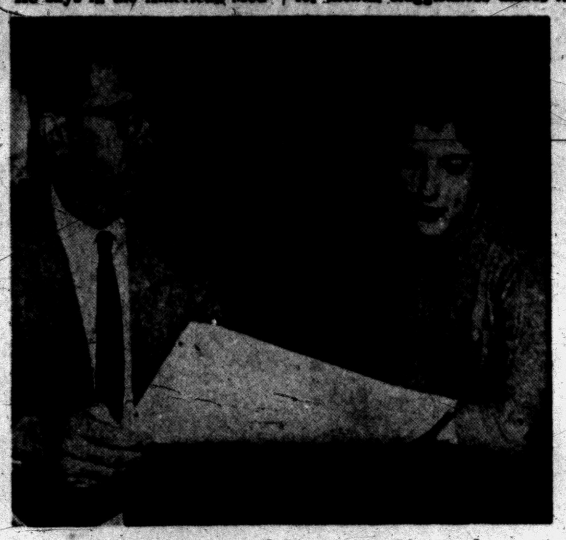

OLDER PEOPLE, TOO CAN BE FASCINATING

As refreshing as a breeze on a mountain top to those of us who have been graduated from the teenage set, comes word that all is not yet lost. As a matter of fact we are supposed to have the capacity for being right bright.

Dr. Hugh Cabot, sociologist and executive director of Age Center of men and women are cranky in later years they were that way in their youth.

He says in the American Medical Association's magazine "Today's Health," "The same goes for mental sluggishness unless it is caused by disease. Many teenagers show sluggish thinking if their environment bores them. This would be laid to old age if they were 40 years older."

Don't gamble your life away. If you have any unusual symptoms, see your doctor.

Hear! While I like young people very much I have known some teenagers who seem pretty dumb and I know some folks a lot older than I who are fascinating.

You, too, must have had the same experience unless your viewpoint is distorted by age consciousness. That malady causes one to think in terms of years rather than in terms of fun and accomplishment and happiness.

PERSONALITY GROWS

My readers know that I often have written in this column that I believe that personality characteristics become intensified with age. If a woman has a sweet disposition, a sense of humor, charm and understanding as a young person, she will be even more lovable as she grows older.

If she was hard to live with in her youth, send out the lifeguards to rescue her companions in her older years!

One of the best ways to prepare for older age is to forget about it. Only remember that we cannot go along being critical and hectic and dour for years and then suddenly change into charming individuals.

If we are not lovable and loved, gay and humorous, perceptive and kind in youth, we certainly will not be in later years when we aer handicapped by the infirmities of age and limited in activity.

The idea that we can learn only in youthful years, and that study and romance are for the young only, is as outmoded as high button shoes.

This is the day of opportunity for the mature man and woman whose youthful vigor is seasoned with taste and perception, whose horizons should be expanding rather than closing in. Now physical aging can be delayed for years longer than in the past.

Woman Should Be More Than Reflection of Hubby

Her First Duty Is to Make the Most of Opportunities for Self-Development

By RUTH MILLETT

A woman is something more than the reflection she sees of herself in her husband's eyes.

Most of the advice written for her overlooks that fact. She is forever being told to "keep up with her husband." But she is rarely told to develop her own potentialities to the utmost simply because doing so will enable her to lead a full and happy life.

She is warned that she must not let herself go or her husband may turn to some other woman. She is rarely told that staying as attractive as she possibly can will add immeasurably to her own self-esteem. And also keeps her from feeling unhappy and dissatisfied with herself.

She is told over and over to share her husband's hobbies. But the importance of having enjoyable hobbies for their own sake and not just to make her companionable is hardly ever stressed.

She is often warned that her husband and children might suffer if she combines homemaking with a full-time job. But who bothers to tell her that she may be cheating herself by spreading herself so thin she never can do either job to her entire satisfaction?

She is taught a lot of tricks for holding onto a man instead of being encouraged to be the kind of woman that a man wouldn't want to lose.

What is so often overlooked in the advice given women is that a woman is a person. And that being so, her first duty is to make the most of her potentialities and opportunities, not just for the sake of husband and children, but for her own sake.

She is important, too.

Happy Malady Infects Tourists

'Polynesian Paralysis' Sets Hawaiian Visitors to Idling on Beaches

HONOLULU, (INS) — Visitors to Hawaii must beware a strange and pleasant "disease" known as "Polynesian paralysis."

Even the local people aren't sure just what brings on this malady—it might be the huge oriental tree centered in the Moana's Banyan Court; perhaps the rooftop view of Hawaii from the Princess Kaiulani induces it; perhaps it is the sound of the breakers along Waikiki Beach; or it might be the palm court of the Royal Hawaiian; or the beach boys strumming ukuleles.

The basic symptom is the sudden loss of "git-up-and-go." Tourists with huge itineraries never get to see the pineapple fields, the old, native Iolani palace, the upsidedown falls or Punchbowl crater.

Instead the combination of ukuleles, pounding surf, massive Diamond Head and surf, sun and palm fronds leave them lying helpless and happy on the beaches.

You can tell who has this disease by the way people dress — muumuus and aloha shirts are sure signs of the infected. Both are garments that a sensible married couple wouldn't be seen dead in, but continually parade around Hawaii in.

The muumuu is a combination tent and New England nightie, sack-like from neck to toes, in flowered cotton, costing from $6.98 to $19.98. The alaha shirt is a wild Hawaiian print sports shirt in the loudest colors you can find.

The muumuu (pronounced moo-moo) was introduced by the first New England missionary wives when they glanced at the half naked natives wearing smiles and leis instead of blouses.

Noted Lawyer Dies of Cancer

Slocum Led in Fight for Freedom of Press on Philadelphia Paper

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Richard W. Slocum, 55, lawyer turned newspaperman who became executive vice president of the Philadelphia Bulletin and a leading voice for freedom of the press, died yesterday of cancer in University Hospital.

He had entered the hospital March 4.

A tall, impressively built man, Slocum began his association with the Bulletin in 1938 as general manager. He came to the attention of Publisher Robert McLean while representing the afternoon newspaper in a labor relations case.

His early newspaper interests included work of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and its bureau of advertising. He became vice chairman of the bureau in 1945 and chairman in 1947. Slocum also served as secretary, director and vice president of the ANPA and became president of the organization in 1954, serving through 1955.

He was a constant advocate of a strong and unfettered press, free of any type of censorship.

William Dwight, present president of the ANPA and publisher of the Holyoke (Mass.) Transcript-Telegram, issued a statement praising Slocum for inspiring "us to press forward in" a crusade for the "precious right of the American people to know, a right that is fundamental to a free society."

"He gave unsparingly of his talents, his wisdom and his energy to this and to other causes pertaining to service to the American people," Dwight said.

Vice President Nixon expressed his "deepest sympathy" to the family over the death of Slocum, whom he called "a close personal friend."

He is survived by his wife, the former Catherine Luden of Reading, and two sons and six daughters.

Funeral services will be held here Wednesday.

BORDER GUARDS—Two Israeli settlers look down from a high sentry tower as they talk with an armed guard along the Gaza Strip. Since the restoration of the Strip to Egyptian administration, the Israelis have complained of raids into their settlements from the Arabian side of the border, bringing resumption of 24-hour patrols.

Truck Driver Held; Detroit Tot Injured in Fall Downstairs

DETROIT (AP)—A 28-year-old truck driver was held for questioning today after a 2-year-old girl with whom he was baby sitting was found to be injured critically.

Detective Melvin Backman of the homicide bureau said Lifford Sova of Detroit told him the child, Kathleen Solomon, was injured in a fall down a 20-step stair flight.

Children's hospital authorities said Kathleen suffered a severe concussion, internal bleeding, numerous bruises and a possible skull fracture.

Sova is an acquaintance of the child's mother, Mrs. Stella Solomon, 25. Mrs. Soloman said she left Kathleen and her brother David, 5, in Sova's care while she went shopping Saturday.

Sova told homicide detectives he took the children to his apartment where he planned to shave before taking them to visit his relatives. He said he sent the boy to the attic to sleep and told Kathleen to nap on a sofa.

The trucker told detectives the child refused to obey him and began playing on the dirty floor. He said he spanked her.

After shaving, Sova said, he and Kathleen went to the attic and awakened David. He said as the three came down the stairs Kathleen refused to hold either his hand or David's. She fell and tumbled down the stairs, Sova said.

Sova said he took the children to their own home and put them to bed and then searched for the mother. He found her in the back yard.

He told police Mrs. Solomon became hysterical when he told her of Kathleen's fall. Frightened, Sova said, he drove to Toledo and spent the night there before returning yesterday and calling an attorney who advised him to surrender to police.

He was picked up while preparing to give himself up, his attorney, John Gillis, said.

Police said Sova's account of Kathleen's fall was supported partially by David's account of the day's activities.

Los Angeles Sees Boom in Back Yard Oil Drilling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A back yard oil boom is sprouting here.

In this deal the oil man calls and pays you say $10 or more just to sign your name to the papers. Then if the company gets oil you get one-sixth royalty or more. How can you lose?

Oil companies are leasing up large residential areas within the city limits. If the City Council approves, the companies will start slant drilling under the homes from a removed, or even secluded, drill site.

Oil men say this current activity probably was set off by the successful drilling on the lot of 20th Century-Fox film studio, which is within the city limits and immediately adjacent to Beverly Hills. Also, the rate of oil production in California has been declining and oil men are sniffing around for new fields. Eleven electrically powered wells on the 20th Century-Fox lot are producing about 3,000 barrels a day.

Last Friday the City Council approved a 35-square-block oil-drilling district adjoining 20th Century-Fox studio. Universal Consolidated Oil Co. was granted permission to slant drill from the studio site under the nearby residences. Owners of approximately 2,000 homes have been signed in this deal.

Union Oil Co. and other firms are leasing a large residential area southeast of the Hollywood business district. It takes 51 per cent of the property owners in any district to give a company drilling rights.

If oil is found how much can the owner of an average 50-by-150-foot lot expect to receive? Some sources estimate $30 a month might be reasonable, depending on production.

Dig for 6 Workers in Japanese Slide

OBIHIRO, Japan (AP) — Rescue workers dug through 30 feet of snow today in search of six men missing after avalanches crumpled a group of construction sheds. Twelve men were killed and 10 others injured.

A snowstorm hampered rescue work by more than 200 soldiers, police and villagers.

Two slides — caused by rising temperatures and weekend rains —rambled down the mountainside yesterday, cutting a 33-foot swath. The first smashed two wooden office buildings and a bunkhouse. The second crushed two bunkhouses occupied by 68 workers.

Forty men got out unhurt.

Festival Opens in James River

State of Virginia Marks Year of First Settlement

JAMESTOWN, Va. (AP) — The state of Virginia opens an eight-month historical festival today on this tiny James River island where, 3½ centuries ago, the new world was born.

A nearly perfect replica of the first permanent settlement in the new world has been built.

Offshore lie duplicates of the three flaxen-sailed ships which, in 1607, brought the 105 colonists from England — the Susan Constant, the Godspeed and the Discovery.

There are duplicates too of the palisaded fort built by the settlers for protection from the Indians; of Powhatan's lodge, home of the famed Indian chief; and of the glasshouse, where the colonists manufactured glass.

Real Indians in authentic costumes will staff Powhatan's lodge.

The festival opens officially with a brief address by Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley at the "Court of Welcome" on Glasshouse Point. Participating also are Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Viscount Hailsham, British minister of education and leader of a British good will mission to the festival.

Virginia hopes that by the end of the year, more than three million visitors will tour the festival park. Among expected guests: Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain and President Eisenhower.

INDIAN RELIC — Fred A. Proffitt, of Pontiac, holds the Indian tool he found recently during a stroll near Clarkston. The stone has been identified as dating back before the white man and was probably used as the blade of a hoe or adze.

Relic of Indian Civilization

Pontiac Man Uncovers Sharp-Edged Stone Tool

A large, heavy stone implement, still bearing sharp edges after centuries, has been uncovered by a Pontiac resident in some woods near Clarkston.

Fred A. Proffitt, of 213 Parkdale Ave., found the relic while taking a stroll Saturday, March 24.

He showed it to Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of the Cranbrook Institute of Science, who said it is an Indian tool, probably used as a hoe or adze blade.

Dr. Hatt told Proffitt the tool undoubtedly was used before the white man came to Michigan. He said he had seen similar ones found in Illinois, but not as large.

There is no way to determine just how old it is, Dr. Hatt said, but the Indian who made it apparently did not finish the job.

About a foot long and made of flint or limestone, the implement has sharp cutting edges on both sides. It is tapered at one end toward what may have been a point and is notched at the other as if to receive a shaft.

Proffitt, a Pontiac Motors employe, says he will keep it as a curio.

Bruins Go 1-Up in Stanley Cup Semis

Detroit Rally Erased by Cal Gardener, 4-3

His Late Goal Brings Boston 2-1 Lead Over Wings in Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins, "a bunch of guys who have fought back all season," have the edge on Detroit in the semifinal Stanley Cup hockey playoff series but realize their task has only begun.

"It's half of what we want here," Coach Milt Schmidt said last night after the Bruins defeated Detroit 4-3 to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series.

"Now we have to win our second game here (at home tomorrow night)," Schmidt added. "We can't afford to lose that one."

The teams split the first two contests in Detroit.

The Bruins made mistakes which cost them a 3-1 lead but came back to win on veteran Cal Gardner's 20-foot shot at 13:28 of the third period.

Gardner scored the deciding goal in the final game of the 1948-49 Stanley Cup playoffs as Toronto defeated Detroit 3-1.

"I took a pass from Vic Stasiuk and picked out the lower corner," explained "iron man" Cal who now has played in 447 consecutive NHL games as part of his 11-year service.

"I wasn't rushed too much and found the opening," Gardner added. "It felt great to see that puck go in."

"It just shows once again what guts these fellows have," Schmidt said of the team. "They just don't know the word quit. They're a bunch of guys who have fought back all season. . .

"Simmons (rookie goalie Don Simmons) played a darn good game for us.

"Mistakes cost us the last two Detroit goals. Fleming Mackell made a bad mistake on the first when he cut in front of the net. Then another defensive lapse cost us the second goal."

With Boston leading 3-1, Detroit scored twice early in the third period as Gordie Howe and rookie Billy Dea did the honors.

Capt. Fernie Flaman, No. 1 Boston defenseman, came out of the game with a twisted ankle, a recurrence of an old injury. He hopes to be fit for tomorrow. Otherwise the team survived in good shape.

Favored Montreal, leading 2-1, meets New York at home tomorrow night following its 8-3 conquest of the Rangers Saturday night.

PHS 3rd; Ray Sets High Jump Mark

Maples Top Relays at Ypsi

Pontiac's All-County basketball star Hudson Ray made the rapid switch to the track in easy fashion Saturday as he set an unofficial state high jump record of six feet, five and seven-eighths inches in the highlight of the 2nd annual Huron Relays held at Eastern Michigan College.

Ray easily bested the state record of six feet, four but cannot be considered the all-time leader unless he breaks the mark in the state meet at the end of the season. The leap also was a new high for the meet, the fieldhouse and PHS.

Birmingham and Flint Northern were rated the outstanding teams in the 18-school event with the Maples given a 36-35 edge in the unofficial totals. Pontiac ranked 3rd, Berkley 7th, Waterford 9th, and Royal Oak 15th. The Chiefs had 27 points.

Walled Lake was the only area school represented in Class B with two 3rds by Larry Hughes and a 2nd in the pole vault by Frank Fink pacing the Vikings.

Jim Hawkins was the only other PHS entry to gain a 1st. His leap of 20 feet 13 and ¼ inches won the broad jump.

A record-setting performance by Tom Segal and an impressive triumph in the two mile relay paced Birmingham to victory.

Segal vaulted 12 feet, six and ¾ inches to establish a new meet and school mark. Dick Boyd, Phil Ingraham, Gary Schack and Lynn Benn also set a record taking the two mile relay in 8:47.7.

The Maples also had seconds in the 880-yard and medley relays and Bob Stephenson with ex-Chief Gene Lawson of Highland Park deadlocked for runnerup in the high jump. Pat Barry had a 4th in the 60-yard dash.

Pontiac's shuttle relay team gained a 2nd in that event as did Roger Coates in the mile. Bill Cole and Stan Jones had 4ths for Waterford in the hurdle races. The Skipper shuttle hurdle team ranked 3rd.

Jerry Meyers sparked Berkley with two runnerup finishes, while Bob Walsh of Royal Oak also had a 2nd place.

Pontiac shot putter Mike Hardiman set a new PHS record of 48 feet, 11 inches to rank 4th. He hurled the shot 51 feet during the meet but it was nullified by a foul.

Gonzales Plans to Quit Troupe After May 26

MONTREAL (AP) — Big Pancho Gonzales, the king of professional tennis, today decided to quit Jack Kramer's professional troupe after its last American match on May 26.

Plagued by a cyst on his racket hand, Gonzales, who has taken on and licked all comers since he began playing for Kramer, said:

"I need a rest. I've been playing continously for 18 months and I want to give my hand a chance to heal."

He is leading Ken Rosewall, 28-12, in their 100-match series. But the series won't go that long. Thirty more, and Gonzales is pulling out.

Rosewall won the last match in nearby Sherbrooke, 6-4, 6-1, Saturday night.

Palmer Takes Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Although he outshot only four of the 24 other money winners in the Azalea Open golf tournament's final round, Arnold Palmer's 54-hole lead stood up and he eased out with a one-stroke victory that added $1,700 to his earnings.

The 27-year-old Latrobe, Pa., professional finished yesterday with a lack-lustre 75, three over par on the 6,800 Cape Fear Country Club Course, but it was good enough for a winning 282 total, one shot less than runner-up Dow Finsterwald of Jupiter, Fla., needed.

Palmer's score, on rounds of 70-67-70-75, was the highest posted in nine years of Azalea Open play. As a matter of fact, three years ago, while still an amateur playing out of Wake Forest College, he tied for seventh here with a 280.

Palmer, who went on to win the National amateur title that year, is the No. 2 money winner this year with official earnings just under $12,000.

Palmer headed for Augusta, Ga., and the Masters tournament today.

Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., won his biggest prize of the tour, $1,100, with a 72 finish for 287 and third place.

The decision  of Arthur Maxwell

There once was an intelligent young man named Arthur Maxwell. He thought he would like to "step up" to a "medium-priced" car. So he went and looked at a model just "a few dollars more" than a Ford. At first glance it looked good. But when he got inside he exclaimed, "No radio? No heater? No automatic transmission? You call this Luxury??" He soon saw that a MEDIUM-PRICED car with equipment he wanted became a HIGH-priced car. So, being an intelligent young man he dashed off to his Ford Dealer and bought a Ford Fairlane 500—the true luxury car in the low-price field—with all the equipment he wanted for less money than the stripped-down model he had thought he wanted.

Why don't you do as Arthur did?

Hoosier City Seeking Dupas-Martinez Bout

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Ralph Dupas-Vince Martinez lightweight fight, center of a controversy, may be held in Indianapolis May 29 if it is barred here.

Lee Farb, Indianapolis promoter, last night offered Heard Regas, local sponsor of the fight, to co-promote the bout in Indianapolis if he cannot stage it here next Monday night.

Farb telephoned Regas that the fight between Dupas, fourth-ranking lightweight from New Orleans, and his Paterson, N.J., opponent "is the top ring attraction in the country at present and Indianapolis would be honored to present it as such."

The controversy arose when the Louisiana State Athletic Commission opened a stormy hearing last Friday night on the racial background of the New Orleans lightweight. The commission reached no descision and recessed until tomorrow night.

Then City Judge Rene Viosca scheduled a hearing for tomorrow morning on an injunction requested by Regas that could stop the commission from continuing its inquiry on Dupas.

Dupas, who was called a Negro, vigorously denied he had Negro parents. Louisiana law bars athletic contests between white and Negro opponents. Martinez is white.

Farb estimated the fight, in Indianapolis on the eve of the Memorial Day Speedway Classic, would draw $50,000 to $100,000.

Farmhands Beat Tigers, 8-2

Charleston Is Conqueror of 'Parent' Team

Woodeshick, Simmons Get Blasted in Early Innings

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP)—Manager Jack Tighe's plans call for Tiger pitchers to start going the route—all nine innings—but there are bound to be days the opposition will make that a tough assignment.

Little Duke Maas, a righthander who worked in 26 games with the Tigers last season without finding a single victory, is getting the nod as the first pitcher to go all the way in a spring exhibition game.

And if the Tigers' opponents for today act like they usually do, Tighe's plans could be altered on short notice.

Maas will face the New York Yankees.

Considerably less than the Yankees played havoc with Tighe's strategy yesterday. The Charleston Senators, the Tiger farm club in the American Association, rolled over a lineup of Detroit second stringers for an 8-2 victory.

Tighe sent his regulars home before the first pitch and Charleston promptly chased across three runs in the second inning—all that was needed for victory in the end—and added three in the third and two in the ninth for good measure.

Hal Woodeshick and Max Simmons took the brunt of the Charleston attack. Woodeshick started the game and gave way to Simmons in the third, Chuck Daniels, who moved to the mound in the fourth inning, held Charleston scoreless until the ninth.

After the game Tighe announced that catcher Charley Lau, a product of Romulus, Mich., is going back to Charleston. The change cut the Tiger roster to 33 players.

Divers Lead Way in NCAA

'M' Tankers Champs

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — Michigan stood at the top of national collegiate swimming teams today thanks to its divers, a great medley relay team and Yale's failure to qualify more men.

Yale was unable to send as many men into the finals as veteran Coach Bob Kiphuth anticipated, and Michigan came from behind to win the 1957 NCAA crown here Saturday night.

The stirring rally by Michigan, which trailed Yale 61-57 going into the final event, climaxed a record-breaking meet that saw Yale's Tim Jecko emerge as the individual star.

Jecko, 19-year-old sophomore of Bethesda, Md., won three events for 21 points to become the first triple titleholder since 1951. He won the 200-yard individual medley and set meet records in the 200-yard butterfly, 2:09.5, and in the 100-yard butterfly, :54.6.

Michigan's medley relay team finished in a dead heat with Michigan State for first place in the 400-yard race to grab 12 points and the team championship, 69-61.

Michigan State was third with 52 points. Other teams scoring were: Indiana 48, Harvard 27, North Carolina 24, Oklahoma 23, Iowa 15, Northwestern 12, Southern Methodist 10, Amherst 9, Miami of Ohio 7, Army, Illinois and Bowdoin 5 each, Syracuse and Wisconsin 4, California, Purdue and Texas 3, Denver 2, and Knox and Stanford 1 each.

Led by Dick Kimball, Michigan pulled down 24 points in the diving. Kimball won the low board and high board diving.

Other double winners were North Carolina's Charlie Krepp, in the 100 and 200-yard backstroke, and Indiana's Bill Woolsey of Hawaii, who retained titles in the 220 and 440-yard freestyle events.

Meyer Succumbs at 65

Former Buc Manager Dies

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Death has claimed baseball's William Adam (Billy) Meyer, major league "Manager of the Year" with the underdog Pittsburgh Pirates in 1948. He died in a hospital yesterday.

The 65-year-old veteran of 46 years as player, manager, scout, and "trouble shooter" died of a heart and kidney ailment after a prolonged illness. He retired in 1955 after a stroke left him partly paralyzed in the left side.

Services for Meyer will be held here tomorrow afternoon. He is survived by his wife; two brothers, and three sisters, all of Knoxville.

Meyer managed the Pirates four years, beginning in 1948, the year he piloted the National League underdogs to fourth place while many predicted the cellar for them.

Before going to Pittsburgh, he won several pennants in the minor leagues and became known as a developer of youngsters during 16 years in the New York Yankee organization. He is given most of the credit for developing such stars as Phil Rizzuto, Eddie Joost, Gerry Priddy, and Eddie Miller.

Meyer's baseball career started when he signed with his hometown Knoxville club in 1909. He had a brief trial as catcher for the Chicago White Stockings in 1913, and played with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916 and 1917.

Beginning in 1918, he played for eight years with the Louisville Colonels of the American Assn., where he was roommate of Manager Joe McCarthy. He succeeded McCarthy as manager of the Colonels and won a pennant his first year.

McCarthy, who has since managed world championship Yankee teams, commented yesterday in Buffalo: "Billy was a great little manager, a great little catcher, a great little guy. We were very good friends."

After leaving Louisville, Meyer managed several teams in the Yankee farm system and turned down offers to manage the Cleveland Indians, Boston Braves, and Chicago Cubs before taking the Pittsburgh post.

He said at the time, "I waited a long time, but I know I made the right move. This outfit has the real romance of baseball."

Meyer became a scout and "trouble shooter" for the Pirates in 1952 and retired three years later because of his health.

MEYER DIES—William Adam (Billy) Meyer, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, died in a Knoxville, Tenn., hospital yesterday of a heart and kidney ailment. He was 65.

Denver Winner of Ski Crown

Takes NCAA Title in Utah Test; Dartmouth Ace Top Performer

SNOW BASIN, Utah (AP)—Denver University won its fourth straight National Collegiate (NCAA) ski championship yesterday but Dartmouth's Ralph Miller, 23-year-old pre-medical student, was the individual star.

Miller got the Skimeister award for his showings in all four events of the three-day meet in which 20 colleges competed. He won the downhill, was third in the slalom, 11th in jumping and 12th in cross country.

But the Pioneers of the Rocky Mountains, featuring some Norwegian stars, piled up 577.95 team points as Afl Vincelette of Highland Park, N.Y., won yesterday's jumping and Peder Pytte of Kongsberg, Norway, was second.

D.U.'s Henning Arstal of Moss, Norway, was fourth in the downhill yesterday and second in Saturday's slalom.

Vincelette won the jumping with leaps of 128 and 104 feet. Pytte made the longest jump of the day —129 feet. But the event is judged both on form and distance.

Favor Duke for Kentucky Derby

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Horse racing in New York, site of the next important test for 3-year olds with designs on the May 4 running of the Kentucky Derby, swung into action on two fronts today with Gen. Duke's thrilling victory over Bold Ruler in Saturday's $123,600 Florida Derby still a live conversation piece.

As "two buck Benny" and his richer cohorts headed toward Jamaica for the opening of the flat racing season while others waited for the inauguration of the trotting campaign at Yonkers tonight, they talked of what they saw on Saturday's television screen.

They saw Gen. Duke from Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm establish himself as the favorite for the Kentucky Derby in a race run so fast that all five entries bettered the track record. The Brown son of Bull Lea, with Willie Hartack handling the reins, hit the finish line in 1:46 2-5 to equal the world record.

Atlanta Peke Wins Best of Show Honor

CHICAGO (AP) — Ch. Chik T'Sun, a Pekinese who was runner-up in the toy group last year, won "best in show" honors last night in the 17th annual International Kennel Club all-breed dog show.

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Venable of Atlanta, Ga., and handled by Clara Alford, the champion picked up his 22nd best in show trophy and his 10th since January 13.

Matthews-Hargreaves Hits Century Mark in Tourney

Matthews-Hargreaves passed the century mark with a 104-42 victory over Keego Harbor and Philgas, Boys Club and General Motors were other 1st round winners Sunday in the Gold Medal basketball tournament at St. Frederick.

Six players hit double figures for Matthews-Hargreaves, led by Gary Shore and Jerry Bradley with 20 points apiece. The winners had a 54-26 lead at halftime. John Wassel scored 21 for Keego.

Ken Titheridge tallied 15, Mel Taylor 14 and Cy Simpson 13 as General Motors dumped Griff's Grill, 61-44. Chet Woodmore with 13 and Felix Brooks with 10 were tops for Griff's.

Marv Caswell scored 12 points to lead the Boys Club to a 45-40 triumph over the Pontiac Merchants. Bill Buck and Jack Bailey each made 13 for the losers.

Philgas defeated the 6th & Woodbine quintet from Redford Township, 40-21. Mort Kluesner and Gerry O'Shaughnessy led Philgas with 12 and 11 respectively.

The tourney resumes Tuesday night with Drayton Drug meeting Booth Homes at 7 o'clock and the St. Fred Alumni playing Stadium Inn at 8:30. Yesterday's winners clash Wednesday, with the tourney windup slated Saturday and Sunday.

Milwaukee Bowlers Take ABC Spotlight

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Two guys from Milwaukee stole the spotlight yesterday in the American bowling Congress tournament.

Little Jimmy (Moe) Miller, 26, one of the smallest bowlers in the big time ranks at 5-6 and 115 pounds, moved into second place in the singles standings, missing by a single pin a tie for the lead.

Miller missed the 6 pin in his 10th frame, foiling his chance to overtake Dean Overholser of Chicago. Overholser holds the singles lead with his 708 posted March 17.

Townships Approve Budgets and Annual Reports

Most Meetings Held Saturday

Commerce, Pontiac, Orion, Independence Boards Convene

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Residents of Commerce Township Saturday approved a proposed budget of $89,754.68 at the annual meeting held in the Township Hall.

A breakdown of the budget follows:

Salaries and wages, $22,000; fire department, $19,500; township building maintenance, $2,500; street lights, $1,200; contribution to county fund for extra Sheriff's deputies for night patrol, $9,304.68, election costs, $1,000; car allowances for supervisor, fire chief, township building inspector and township assessor, $2,000; bonding and insurance, $800; legal and auditing, $2,000; postage, printing and tax statements, $1,200; zoning, $2,500; miscellaneous, $1,000; deficiency road maintenance, $18,000; office machines (tax spreading machine and calculator, $5,000; payments on purchase of Oakley Park fire station, $1,750.

Pontiac Township

Three motions were passed at the annual township meeting held Saturday, before adjournment ended the meeting after one-half hour.

The township's clerk report for the past year was accepted and approved. Establishments of a two-mill tax levy to support the township fire department was approved, and a one mill tax levy for general operation of the township was also approved.

Orion Township

Keeping in mind the fact that township growth in the past 10 years had increased tax rolls from $105,000 to $407,000 here, township officials Saturday allocated funds for general purposes and raised the clerk's salary.

Board voted approval of the raise from $1,800 to $3,000 when it was pointed out that a fulltime clerk would reduce the amount for two part-time assistants who receive $2,524. Supervisors' salary was approved at $4,800 and treasurer, $4,200.

Funds set aside this year include: $6,000 toward needed Township Police Dept.; $2,000 sewers; $2,000 future fire hall, and $2,000 garbage disposal site on Kern road.

Independence Township

The budget for the coming fiscal year has been set for $53,655. The salaries of the supervisor, clerk and treasurer were raised by a unanimous vote. The supervisor will get $8,000, clerk $5,500 and the treasurer $6,500. Floyd Andrews stated that plans were under way to hire two assessors to set up a card system on the 8,800-acre parcel of land in the township. This system has proved to end 80 per cent of disagreements over tax assessments. It would be based on cubic content of buildings which is a much fairer form of assessment than the system now in use.

Hal Boyle Says:

Dorothy Collins to Shed 'Hit Parade' Cocoon

NEW YORK (AP) — After living seven years in a "gold coffin," Dorothy Collins feels right now like an emerging butterfly that has stayed overlong in its cocoon.

"I want to stretch my wings and see how far I can fly on my own," she said. "I want to show people what I can do."

The "gold coffin' in her case has been "Your Hit Parade," the durable NBC radio show that also invaded video in 1950 and for most of the time since then has been among the top 15 TV programs.

Although it is a wonderful showcase for talent, such a program is known in the entertainment world as "a gold coffin." The reason: It pays too good to leave, but in time it becomes a kind of straitjacket to a performer.

This season will be the last for bandleader Raymond Scott, Miss Collins (his wife) and the other three singers—Gisele MacKenzie, Snooky Lanson and Russell Arms.

Next year the sponsors will continue the program under the same format with a new crew of faces. This decision implies no criticism of the five who are departing. As a matter of fact they have remained on the show far longer than any other similar group in its 23-year history.

It has been a policy of "Hit Parade" over the years to change its singers almost as often as its tunes.

Among earlier stars who have twinkled on the show and gone on to other things are Dinah Shore, Frank Sinatra, Lawrence Tibbett, Dorothy Kirsten, Doris Day and Georgia Gibbs.

Miss Collins and Snooky Lanson, teamed on the show since it started its TV career seven years ago, hold the longevity record.

Dorothy doesn't mind admitting it is a real wrench to leave "Hit Parade,' but she is realistic about it.

"It has been my life for so long," she said, "I turned down all outside offers to stay with it, and I'll always be eternally grateful for the break it gave me.

"But it really is time to move on to something new. You have to grow up. You have to leave school sometime."

Dorothy, a cute blonde whose trademarks were a blouse and a velvet ribbon bow tie, started by singing the commercial jingle on the show, quickly graduated to stellar rank.

To cure a tendency toward lisping, she spent years hissing practically every word in the English language containing the letter "S."

Today nothing annoys her more than people who think she still lisps.

"I don't," she said. "But people don't really hear what you say. They look at my lips as I sing and think they hear a lisp—but the lisp is only in their mind. It isn't in my voice."

This is actually true. Dorothy can say "Mississippi" endlessly and never lisp once.

Vital Question Facing Congress

Is Foreign Aid Doing Its Job?

(Editor's Note: Bitter congressional hearings are brewing over President Eisenhower's request for foreign aid. This is the first of five articles which present a searching study of U.S. foreign aid programs as a background for the coming debate.)

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Take a $20 bill, three singles, a nickel and two pennies.

This is what the United States foreign aid programs cost you last year. It is the "per capita" figure. In effect, it means that helping other nations took from every American — man, woman and child — $23.07.

Did you get your money's worth?

Did the dollars hit the targets overseas? Merely nick the edges? Or miss completely?

Will the same portion of your taxes be taken this year and sent abroad?

How long does this have to go on? Indefinitely? Or can Congress cut back now, and eventually stop the programs entirely?

Big questions.

Meanwhile, teams of analysts, specialists, business heads and military men have put the intricate problems under microscopes.

Most of them say, "Don't cut back now." Some recommend, "Step up the pace."

President Eisenhower's own view: "I believe it is one of the cheapest ways we have of insuring the position in the world we want to maintain."

He has asked for $4,400,000,000 for foreign aid programs for the coming fiscal year.

At this moment, the mood of Congress appears to be for a cut in the $4,400,000,000. Perhaps to the bone.

Some argue that the program hasn't attained its goals. Others say the present approach is outdated. Still others believe it's a good thing as it stands. In short; there are very mixed feelings about it today on Capitol Hill.

"Insofar as winning friends or battling the Russians, our foreign aid program has been an abysmal failure," says Sen. Ellender (D-La). He traveled in 28 countries last year and submitted a 525-page report to the Senate.

"It's a good program," says Sen. Cooper (R-Ky), former ambassador to India. "Nations in the Middle East and Asia that have recently become independent, and are trying to establish a stable economy, have great needs. We can't determine where they're going to land. But if we're trying to establish the right kind of feeling, we must help them."

Forced Off Highway, Gets Leg Fracture

TROY — William Dale Richardson, 34, of Detroit was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak about 1:30 this morning for treatment of a fractured right leg and bruises sustained in an accident on Stevenson Hwy. just south of E. Maple road.

Police said an approaching car forced Richardson from the highway after which his automobile turned over twice.

Youth Dominant Theme in 'Down Payment' Roles

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Youth, youth, youth is the predominant note in "Down Payment." Producer Jerry Wald nabbed Dana Wynter for the top femme role as soon as she returned from New York, and Jerry tells me that this will give the beautiful Dana her best chance.

Then he said that he has signed Jeffrey Hunter for the male lead. I told him he must have seen the enthusiastic reception Jeff received when he walked into the theater at the "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison" premiere. The fans went wild.

The John McPartland story, "Down Payment," is about four young people who live in the same apartment building and what happens to them. Jerry is also talking to Joanne Woodward, and he'll have Marty Ritt, young genius brought here from New York by Buddy Adler, at the helm.

The role Laurence Oliviers tepped out of in "Separate Tables" David Niven steps into, that of Major Pollock. Don't tell me that "Around the World in 80 Days" hasn't helped my friend David, who has more jobs offered him than he can accept.

He goes to Europe for "Bonjour Tristesse" to play opposite Deborah Kerr, then they return here to join Burt Lancaster and Rita Hayworth in "Separate Tables." I'd heard that Deborah was out of the cast of the latter picture since Laurence Olivier refused it. But I'm told now that she has not notified Hecht-Hill-Lancaster to that effect.

Shelley Winters and Anthony Franciosa are looking at the late Bert Friedlob's house with an eye to buying it if the price is not too high. Shelley says she and Tony plan to be married in June, and that all the other dates given are wrong.

Franciosa gets a top role in Hal Wallis' "Obsessed" with Anna Magnani and Academy winner Anthony Quinn. He plays the lover, Tony Quinn the husband.

"It was funny," Shelley told me. "I introduced my Tony to Anna. She started talking Italian a mile a minute, and it was difficult for him to understand her because he is an American-born Italian.

Ingrid's Paradise Secure? Yul's Star Still Ascending

(Here is the final article in a series on Yul Brynner, who won an "Oscar" for his role in "The King and I." This article tells how a bald-headed man who hates love scenes nevertheless is a cinch for a long reign as a matinee idol.)

By CLYDE TUSSEY

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — It might seem that a bald-headed, 41-year-old man who hates to play love scenes would be the poorest bet to win the acclaim of millions of giggling females for their favorite matinee idol.

But such is not the case — at least with virile Yul Brynner.

It appears that his academy award for portraying the Siamese Monarch in "The King and I," plus his animal magnetism and almost hypnotic appeal have established him for a long reign as "King of Hollywood."

Perhaps even a more important factor in his meteoric rise as a film star and firm claim to fame as a top name in Hollywood is his sincrely artistic approach to the profession to which he has devoted his life.

He says, "I will do anything a part requires."

And when he was handed the golden "Oscar" last Wednesday night he exclaimed:

"It came up so fast it scared me. It took four years on the stage, six months making the film and 20 years to prepare for all that. "I wouldn't even let the Oscar out of my sight to be engraved."

But he balks at emoting in a love scene, explaining:

"I don't like lovers. They are weak and dismal. A character lead is more interesting, the motivation clearer. Writers get obscure when it comes to lovers."

Despite his tremendous appeal —he has been called "the sexiest man in the world"—his feeling toward his acting roles is strictly professional.

"You never see me on the screen," he says. "You see a character I am portraying . . .

Nor is Brynner a dashing man-about-Hollywood in the common mold. He has a handsome home in Hollywood where he lives with his pretty wife, the former Broadway actress Virginia Gilmore, and their 11-year-old son, Yul Jr., nicknamed Rocky. Among his many activities, Yul Sr., also is a Cub Scout father.

Brynner now has four new movies lined up to maintain the ascendancy of his star on the Hollywood scene.

His next will be the classic "Brothers Karamozov," in which he will again display his famous trademark, the utterly hairless scalp.

But he will don a wig for the swashbuckling part of Jean La-Fitte in "The Buccaneer." This will be followed by two more films tentatively entitled "The Journey" and "Two Different Worlds."

(Here is the final article in a series on Academy Award-winning Ingrid Bergman, star of "Anastasia." This article tells how her life changed radically when she embarked on her love idyll with Italian director Roberto Rossellini and how she weathered her series of emotional storms.)

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Roberto Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman met in Hollywood in 1948. A few months later she accepted his invitation to go to Italy to star in "Stromboli."

It was then that one life ended for Ingrid and another began.

Soon the whole world knew of her romance with the fiery Italian director. Reporters and photographers watching them hold hands on the volcanic island of Stromboli eagerly snapped photos by telescopic lens and dispatched them around the globe.

This was the love affair of the decade—the screen's greatest actress and Italy's most talented director!

While Bergman and Rossellini lived their love idyll undisturbed on an isolated patch of petrified lava off the coast of Italy, the public speculated on events to come.

"What about her husband?" they said, "will he give her a divorce? And what about her daughter Pia? What will become of her?

When the picture was finished Ingrid and Roberto returned to Rome. Then came the catastrophic news that Ingrid was expecting a baby.

The famous child, named Robertino, arrived Feb. 1, 1950, months before Ingrid obtained a final divorce decree from Doctor Lindstrom.

The story caused an international sensation and the actress said she would retire to home and fireside and never again make another motion picture. But as Ingrid herself said recently:

"Time takes care of everything. The wind blows this way and that and you have to take what life gives you."

And then she added:

"I am grateful for everything that has happened to me."

Today, the 5-foot, 8-inch tall actress admits that her one regret is her daughter Pia, now 17, whom she has not seen in eight years.

Since her love affair with Rossellini and the ensuing birth of Robertino burst like a bombshell across two continents, Ingrid has given birth to twin girls, Isabella and Ingrid. But her great concern is Pia.

"I don't think she has ever really forgiven me," she recently told a reporter. But Pia declared:

"I am very proud of my mother. To me, she's a fine and talented woman and I love her."

The actress' life with Rossellini seems, on the surface, to be ideal. The pair naturally were bound together by their love and later were literally spliced together after being fricassed by certain Roman and Hollywood hatcheteers.

Ingrid repeatedly is denying rifts in the Rossellini paradise. Her husband is now in India producing a documentary film.

"We are separated only by distance," Miss Bergman declared.

$120 Dividend per Share Too Good to Be True

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For a while, Kenny Green, 10, thought the stock market was too good to be true. And, alas, it was.

Kenney, who lives in suburban Elkins Park, saved up $100 earned by doing errands, shoveling snow and other chores. Through his father, he invested the money, buying five shares of stock in the Sperry-Rand Corp.

Saturday, his first dividend check arrived. It was for $120. One of the company's check-writing machines apparently goofed since the dividend should have been just one dollar.

Today the young financier is mailing back the check.

Smaller Payments Set for Home Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Builders and housing officials were cheered today by President Eisenhower's restoration of 5 per cent down payments on home purchases financed by government - insured mortgages.

But they predicted stronger medicine will be needed to cure the housing slump of the past 18 months.

Eisenhower yesterday ordered the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) to cut the down payment from 7 to 5 per cent on the first $9,000 of the value of a new or old home bought with an FHA-insured mortgage, and from 27 to 25 per cent on the balance up to $20,000.

He also moved to relax a restriction on home mortgages by savings and loan associations.

Wheat Futures Remain Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — The May wheat futures contract was firm in early board of trade dealings today but the new crop deliveries faltered a bit in fairly active trading.

Export news caused buying in the nearby delivery, but the distant contracts were sold because of continued favorable reports on the condition of southwestern winter wheat.

Corn was slightly weak at the start on heavy receipts here, but the market showed a tendency to firm somewhat. Oats showed little change and soybeans were mixed with only fractional changes in early dealings.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅜ higher to ⅜ lower, May $2.246, corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.31¼, oats ⅛ lower, May 71⅞, rye was ¼ to ⅝ lower, May $1.28½, soybeans were ½ lower to ⅝ higher, May $2.42¾, and lard was unchanged to 3 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $14.32.

Red Cross Plans Instructor Class in Water Safety

A preliminary instructor course in water safety will be offered for the first time in two years by the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross.

P. Mark Smith, chairman of water safety, will teach the course each Thursday, from 8 to 10 p.m. at Lincoln High School, Ferndale. The first session will be April 4 and the last May 23.

This course is a preliminary to the regular instructor training course which will be offered by Daniel M. Stango, safety service representative of the Michigan Red Cross, June 3 through 7 at Lincoln High.

To take the preliminary course, a person must have passed the senior life test.

The preliminary course is not required to take the final course if a person is an authorized swimming teacher.

Lansing Milk Salesman Makes 1-Wheel Landing

LANSING (AP) — While firemen and an ambulance stood by, a Lansing milk salesman made a perfect one-wheel landing in a single-engine trainer plane yesterday after it lost the other wheel on the take-off.

The pilot, Dick Moulton, 27, was logging time for a flight instructor's license, which he hopes to receive this week. With him was a passenger, Pat Asker of St. Johns.

Both men walked away from the slightly damaged plane without a scratch.

Moulton circled the Capitol City Airport for half an hour, receiving instructions from the control tower, before making the landing.

Air Force Deserter Arrested in Rochester

The Detroit FBI office announced today the arrest in Rochester of Ralph Leo Bullard, 25, as a desserter from Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S.C.

Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit office, said Bullard left the base Jan. 18.

He was living with relatives who did not know he had desserted, Brown said.

His condition is reported "fine—very satisfactory." His nurse added that he's in such good spirits "he's been flirting with all of us."

His doctor said he should be able to return to his home at Laurel Hill, Fla., in about a week.

Took Name Literally

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Owners of the shoe store here are thinking about changing its name. It's now called Thieves Market. Burglars apparently believe in signs, for one entered the store through a skylight, stole a pair of shoes, took $19 in cash, and left his old shoes.

Boy Ditch-Diggers to Appear in Court

Four juvenile boys were released to their parents yesterday after they were arrested on charges of malicious destruction of property.

The youths are specifically charged with digging an 8-foot trench from a refuse pond to a drainage pit causing the drainage pit to flood.

Warren Dubay, superintendent of the Pontiac Sewage Disposal Plant, 254 East Boulevard, North, reported the boys. He estimated the damage to be between $200 and $300.

The boys were ordered to appear in court Saturday.

2 Boys on Motorcycle Injured in Accident

Two teenage boys, riding a motorcycle, were injured at Elizabeth Lake road and Pinegrove avenue in Waterford Township at 4 p.m. yesterday.

Schwartz and his riding companion, Charles D. Farren, 17, of 2962 Brisbane, Walled Lake, suffered leg injuries and were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Stock Market Slips Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market tended lower early this afternoon after a slight show of firmness at the start.

Metals, chemicals and motors were mixed. Utilities mostly scored small gains. Most steels, aircrafts, rubbers and rails lost small fractions.

Following a mild opening flurry trading settled down to the routine pace which has prevailed for several weeks.

Actually the market started the second 1957 quarter acting very much as it had during much of the first quarter—deadlocked, lacking incentive for any large scale buying or selling.

Scattered worker lay-offs in the home appliance and aircraft industries, plus a strike at nine Goodrich plants, discouraged demand for securities.

Counts Chickens Before Hatching; Makes It Pay

NEWARK, N. J. (INS) — A large New Jersey hatchery is ignoring one of the oldest adages in the business—"don't count your chickens before they hatch."

They're not only counting them before they hatch but hatching them to fit airplane schedules.

Garrison Hatcheries of Bridgetown ships about a million chicks a year from Newark Airport to chicken farms in Puerto Rico, Jamaica and the British West Indies.

The only time the chicks can be sent down without the necessity of feeding enroute is during the first 72 hours of life, and the only way they can be sent down is by air.

The hatchery has made arrangements with Air Express International for shipping some 20,000 chicks a week through the next six months.

In other words, the hatchery is committed to ship on certain dates chicks as yet unborn of eggs as yet unlaid of roosters and hens as yet unacquainted.

The 65-year-old man unleashed the dog and struck the man with the chain, knocking him to the sidewalk. The culprit then scrambled to his feet and escaped.

Now You Just Pick a Number for Pot-O-Gold

Here's another of the new, easier Pot-O-Gold puzzles for you to try. Just select the right words and write the numbers in the appropriate blanks. If your entry has all the right numbers you will win at least $100 and possibly $200. It's as simple as that. How about getting busy?

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Figured in Hodge Scandal

Ex-Chicago Bank Official Shot to Death, Robbed

CHICAGO (AP) — A former high official of a bank prominent in the Orville Hodge financial scandal which rocked Illinois last year was kidnaped and shot to death last night on the South Side.

Police reported Leon Marcus, 61, former board chairman of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., was seized and dragged into an auto as he left a friend's home.

His body was discovered in a nearby vacant lot a short time later, a .45-caliber bullet wound in the head. Police said the body apparently was hurled from the car.

Marcus, his brother Hyman, 50, an attorney, and Marcus' son-in-law Martin J. Rosene, 36, were under federal indictments charging misapplication of bank funds and making false entries in bank records. They were scheduled to face trial Sept. 23.

The Southmoor bank is where former Republican State Auditor Hodge cashed more than $600,000 in fraudulent state checks.

Hodge, former Southmoor President Edward A. Hintz and Edward A. Epping, former office manager for the high state official, are serving prison terms in connection with Hodge's theft of nearly two million dollars in state funds.

The indictments against the Marcus brothers and Rosene alleged unlawful diversion of bank money from real estate loans.

Alfred Rado, owner of the Lavine Lumber Co., told police Marcus was leaving his apartment over the lumber firm's office after Sunday dinner. Five or six men grabbed him as he was about to enter his car. Rado said the victim shouted:

"Leave me alone and I'll give you anything I got."

Rado told police Marcus had $8,000 in cash when he was seized. Police said they found no money on his body. His trouser pocket was ripped open.

Marcus was thrust into a dark Chevrolet, Rado related, and the auto drove off.

Meanwhile, Rado's wife Joyce, who was upstairs, called police.

Richard Hehl, 19, a dock worker, said he was watching television and heard a gunshot. Hehl told police he went to the door and saw a black Ford roar away from a vacant lot. He went to the lot and found Marcus' body.

Ralph Ferone, 14, told officers he saw five or six men scuffling in front of the Rado home about six blocks from the lot where Marcus was found. The men got into a car and drove west, the boy said.

The alleged misapplications by Marcus, his brother and son-in-law took place before the Hodge scandal. The indictments charged they diverted funds between Jan. 1, 1953, and March 28, 1956.

The government contended some of this money was commissions paid by building contractors to the bank for granting loans on projects. Evidence of the alleged misapplications came to light during the Hodge probe.

Frank J. McGarr, assistant U.S. attorney, said at the time of the indictments that Leon Marcus repaid $156,543 to the bank on June 26, 1956.

Dog Scares Off Thieves; Only $1 Is Stolen

Skipper, the part-terrier mongrel dog of the Francis Thompsons, 399 Midway St., was one reason why thieves only escaped with a piggy bank containing one dollar in change and Thompson's trousers.

Thompson told Pontiac Police the thieves entered his home about 3 a.m. Saturday. Skipper chased them out of the house before the thieves could continue their work.

Ike Keeps Speed Limit on Return to Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was back at the White House today after a comparatively slow-paced drive from Gettysburg, Pa.

Child of Lana Turner Found in Los Angeles

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lana Turner's 13-year-old daughter reported missing by her father, broker Stephen Crane, was located by police early today in Los Angeles.

Crane reported the tall, brown-eyed girl, Cheryl Christina Crane, missing shortly before midnight.

Miss Turner and Crane were divorced in 1944.

Plane Forced to Land on Area Golf Course

DETROIT (AP) — It's enough to jangle the steel nerves of Ben Hogan.

A red and silver four-passenger plane landed near the fourth hole at Franklin Hills Country Club on the outskirts of Detroit yesterday.

An unidentified man stepped out, said he landed because of throttle trouble, and he took off again after 10 minutes.

Sentence Utica Youth

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A 20-year-old Utica youth, Wayne W. Kaufman, was sentenced to 1 to 15 years in prison after he admitted a series of 11 church burglaries in East Detroit and St. Clair Shores. A companion, Watson E. Baker, was placed on five years probation by Circuit Judge James E. Spier.

Cinderella Story Wins Applause as TV Musical

NEW YORK (AP) — "Cinderella," the first television musical by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, was given an opulent 90-minute production on CBS-TV last night.

New York TV critics said the famed Broadway showmen were generally successful with their folktale fantasy of the drab kitchen maid who became the beautiful princess of the ball.

Julie Andrews, star of Broadway's "My Fair Lady," won praise for her performance as Cinderella.

Charles Mercer, TV critic for The Associated Press, termed the $380,000 show "pleasant entertainment" with "interesting music and lyrics." But he said it is doubtful "Cinderella" could have opened "on Broadway with much hope that it would last many weeks longer than would a Victor Herbert show today."

Jack Gould of the New York Times said the show was "a love story of often enormous charm" and was produced "with characteristic skill, dexterity and lilt."

He added, however, that the musical was "wanting in some respects — call it that elusive quality of fragile spirit that makes a fairy tale universally loved."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LEONA Maria Manigold, who passed away one year ago March 31, 1956.
Her love and courage will be forever in our hearts.
Sadly missed by her Mother and Sister.

IN MEMORY OF MY WIFE, Gladys Ellen Skarritt, who passed away April 1, 1952
There is a husband who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went.
And I think of you daily and hourly,
And I try to be brave and content
But the tears I shed in silence,
And breathe a sigh of regret,
For you were mine and I remember
Though all the world forget.
Kim Skarritt.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY mother, Arvilla M. Shaver, who passed away April 1, 1955.
Sadly missed by her family and all who knew and lover her.
Barbara Conibear.

THE ENVY OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

DESION R234—Here is another large, brick veneer ranch home. It has an exceptionally nice living-dining area with an L-shaped arrangement, which takes in the entire end of the house. For convenient traffic circulation, the angular front entrance hall will lead you into either the living area or directly to the kitchen or bedroom area, an enchanting fireplace, open on 2 sides, serves both the dining and living areas. If you will closely inspect our plan, you will notice how this arrangement lends itself to good furniture placement. You will also observe the 2 entrances from the terrace. You will be able to visualize the beauty of your rear lawn and garden area as seen through the rear windows of this spacious living area, or a look through the front picture windows will show you a unique ledge-rock planter with its vertical trellis arrangement extending to the roof. All this built on your lot or ours for the low price of $15,800.

NO MORE MARRIAGE — Jack Webb claims that he's through with marriage now that his second matrimonial venture has collapsed. Although he's unlucky in love, Webb has hit the jackpot in show business. In addition to starring in "Dragnet" Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. over NBC-TV, Jack is now producing and playing the lead in "DI," a movie expose of the Marine Corps.

Accidents Kill 15 in Michigan

Three in Detroit Family Die in Crash to Boost Weekend Total

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of three persons in one family in Detroit Sunday night boosted the Michigan weekend accident death toll to 15.

Thirteen persons died in highway crashes—12 of them Sunday when the first touch of spring weather lured motorists to highways. In addition, a man died in a farm accident and a woman died in a home fire.

The three killed in the Detroit accident were Mrs. Rosaria Palomba, 72, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lilinane Palomba, 21, and the younger woman's son, Anthony, 3, all from Detroit. Their car struck a tree on the city's north side. The driver of the car, Mrs. Rosaria Palomba's son, Corrado, escaped injury.

The body of a 64-year-old woman Mrs. Nellie Slabas, a widow, was found inside the burned remains of her home in Decatur Sunday.

CAR OVERTURNS

Joseph A. Nardi, 29, of Ishpeming, died at Ishpeming Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday when his car left the road near Humboldt and overturned.

Two Detroit pedestrians, Erwin Kendrick, 34, and William Wacasey, 53, were struck and killed by a car early Sunday in downtown Detroit.

A motorist was killed early Sunday when his car blew a tire on the Lodge Expressway in Detroit and flipped over. He was identified as Felipe Hinojosa of Detroit.

Two Lansing men, Ralph Barnes, 24, and Richard Dickenson, 21, were killed Sunday when their car smashed into a tree near Coldwater.

John Horton, 20, of Comstock, died in a Kalamazoo hospital Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday night when a car in which he was riding overturned near Plainwell.

Gerald T. Eldridge, 54, of Jackson, was injured fatally Saturday when his car crashed into a tree near Vandercook Lake.

Dick Kent, 66, of Bellevue, was killed Saturday when the blade of a circular power saw he was using broke loose and hit him in the chest.

Edgar L. Knowles, 74, of Birch Run, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision near Saginaw.

John Meyers, 87, of Detroit, was injured fatally when hit by a truck while crossing a Detroit street Sunday.

Alumni Week Slated

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The annual Alumni University Week at the University of Michigan will be held from June 9 to 14, the week preceding commencement.

Como Gets Treatment From Razzing Friars

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Perry Como's a guy you could never get into a tux.

But he climbed into a new one to face the kidding the Friars club gave him at a "Man of the Year" dinner. A lot of us who cry sort of easy got misty-eyed when Broadway and Madison Avenue quit needling him and poured out their love for "Per." "Speedy," Phil Silvers, the m.c., called him.

He accepted the invitation to the Friars dinner because he thought the Friars were a branch of the church," Phil said. (It's a theatrical men's club.)

"Sleepy Time Guy, You've Turned Your Naps Into Pay," said Ray Bolger. Somebody claimed he starts his rehearsals with a half-hour coffee break.

That's part of the customary spoofing by the Friars and was gentle compared to what's been said about others in past years. It amused his wife of almost 25 years, huddled with him on the dais.

Spellbinder Danny Thomas wound up with some Toledo, O., philisophy, saying, "Perry, I tell you have been touched by the hand of God. May you always feel that touch."

DANNY

After which Perry arose, crumpled a paper bearing some jokes, and, in a few sober words, said "Thanks." The dinner was held on a Tuesday instead of the usual Sunday because Perry always spends Sundays at home in the country with his family, and he wouldn't give up that Sunday even to be "Man of the Year."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Sid Caesar's refusing NBC's offer to do one show a month next year. Wants more. . . . Actors' Equity's investigating the charge that tall showgal Julie Newmar kicked and scratched when the "Li'l Abner" stage mgr. barred her from her dressing room for "habitual tardiness." . . . Gagsters claim the next Frank Sinatra song'll be titled, "Honest, I Stayed in the Car" . . . Supper-singer Tony Bennett's building a $90,000 Japanese-style home in Tenafly, N. J. . . . Hedy Lamarr's temperament warmed the "Story of Mankind" movie set. . . . Billy Eckstine and Sarah Vaughan are a long distance phone romance . . . Tab Hunter walked out on "Darby's Rangers" . . . Bill O'Dwyer's in town . . . Mary Martin taking ballet lessons for her next B'way show.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . A local man says his home town was so dull it didn't even have a depot: "We used to have one, but there was nothing else to do, so we whittled it down."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A guy complained his little green sports car is a problem. Every time he stops at a corner someone drops a letter in it . . . That's earl, brother.

Boost Educational Radio

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Educational Television and Radio Center announced Friday the report of $300,000 in grants for a three-year program of educational radio production. The project will be launched this year with the center providing funds to accredited educational institutions for the development of radio programs which can be recorded for national distribution. The program will be cosponsored by the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters.

Urges U. S. License for All-State Fishing

NEW YORK, (INS) — An Ohio jurist—coming to the aid of the nation's 21-million fishermen—has called for the creation of a license to allow anglers to fish anywhere in the country.

In a magazine article, Justice James F. Bell, of London, Ohio, asks:

"Wouldn't it be preposterous today if a motorist were required to stop at each state line and buy a new license plate before driving from on state to another. Is it any less preposterous to require the holder of a fishing license in one state to buy one in another before fishing?"

Bell, associate justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, urges in Fisherman Magazine that state fish and game officeals hold a national conference to facilitate proposed fishing reciprocity.

Texas Quadruplets, 18, Receive Deed to Home

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Budgett quadruplets today were official owners of their home and the adjoining property, a gift from their fellow citizens.

The quads — Joan, Joyce, Jeanette and Jeraldine — yesterday received a deed to the property. The deed had been held in trust under an agreement with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis Budgett, until they reached 18. They were born Feb. 1, 1939.

The home was built in 1941 by community contributions.

But His Career Keeps Thriving

Famous TV Detective Now Concentrating on Marine Corps Film

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Jack Webb, the popular TV detective who seems able to solve everything but his marital problems, said today he is through with marriage.

"I hope I have better sense than to ever try it again," he declared emphatically and then added:

"And I think I have."

TV's "Joe Friday" is a fugitive from two busted marriages, the first to singer Julie London and the second to blonde Dorothy Towne, his ex-secretary, who walked out on him last month after two years of matrimony.

The staccato-talking TV star may be unlucky in love, but businesswise, he continues to hit the Webb jackpot with "Dragnet."

Right now he is readying one of the most ambitious projects of his career—a full-length motion picture expose of Marine Corps boot training at Parris Island, S.C.

THE FACTS, MA'M

Webb is all "het up" about getting the facts on film and so desirous of authenticity that he hauled 70 Marines over from South Carolina to act in the picture and a handful of officers to give him the lowdown on technicalities.

Webb, who for years has not spoken above his famous detective monotone, plays the title role of the roaring, charging, purple-faced "DI" (drill instructor) who bellows his trainees into proper military obedience ("put that left hand on the pelvis, Elvis!")

"I was so hoarse after the first week of shooting," Webb confessed, "that I could hardly talk."

With the release of "DI," the actor hopes to correct some wrong ideas held by the public since the Sgt. Matthew McKeon "death march" incident.

"I do not endorse the incident," Webb said, "but by the same token I do not close my mind to the Marine Corps. The Marine is the true American foot soldier and I think it is shameful and disgraceful to attack the corps."

PLUSH APARTMENT

Since the marital crackup with Dorothy, the dark-haired actor has been living in a plush pine-paneled apartment on the Republic Studio lot.

His bachelor quarters, situated next to a beautifully appointed office, boasts a king-sized bed, a built-in bar, TV set and hi-fi plus a collection of 3,000 records and an efficient Filipino cook named Fred.

As a pal of Jack's remarked:

"Everything's built-in here except Fred!"

Man Declared Legally Dead Now Found Alive

ST. PETERS, Mo. (AP) — Frank Schulte is legally dead but actually alive, his brother Henry says.

Henry lives in St. Peters. He said Frank was declared legally dead four years ago after efforts to trace him failed. Relatives were given $3,500 he had in a bank.

But Frank, now 82, has turned up alive, employed as a farm hand near Teere Haute, Ind., Henry said yesterday.

And Frank will get his money back. When the court declared him dead it ordered the posting of $6,000 bond to assure the money's return in case he turned up.

Death Takes Gene Lockhart

Veteran Actor Noted for Character Roles in Movies

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Gene Lockhart, a versatile performer who was seen or heard in half a dozen entertainment mediums during his 60-year career, died of a heart seizure yesterday.

The pudgy - faced actor, director, author and composer was perhaps best known for his character roles in the movies. He appeared in more than 300 films.

Lockhart, 66, had been hospitalized here Saturday night after complaining of severe pains. He had not been in apparent bad health and was working on a television show.

With him at his death were his wife of 33 years, Kathleen, and his actress daughter, June Lockhart.

Lockhart was born in London, Ont. He began his career with the Kilties Band of Canada when he was 6 and played in sketches with Beatrice Lillie at the age of 15.

At various later stages of his career, he was a writer of Broadway shows, a composer, a newspaper columnist and a singer.

He appeared on Broadway in "Death of a Salesman" and "Ah Wilderness" and directed a number of plays, including "The Warrior's Husband" and "sumurun."

His motion picture career included roles in "Carousel," "Man in the Gray Flannel Suit," "The House on 92nd Street," "Leave Her to Heaven," "Foxes of Harrow," "Miracle on 34th Street" and "Vanishing American."

Builders Institute Set

ANN ARBOR (AP) — This year's Institute for Building Officials is scheduled for the University of Michigan on April 25 and 26.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

SPRING IS HERE

1. April Fool's Day

When spring comes at last in the northern states after a long, hard winter, everyone is happy, for it means more outside fun.

One of the first occasions after the beginning of spring is April Fool's Day. April First has long been known as a time to play jokes and tricks on others, to send them on fool's errands or to snatch treasures away from them mysteriously. In Scotland, the false search is called "hunting the Gowk" (cuckoo). In France, the one fooled is a "poisson d'Ayril" (an April fish, easily hooked.)

Here is Jane, who is walking quietly along a street when suddenly she spies a well-filled purse. She reaches down to pick it up — and in a flash it disappears. No one seems to be in sight, but there is a little sound of laughter from the bushes.

Color the picture and paste it on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Make a slit in the walk near Jane's feet. Fasten the top of Jane to her skirt with a brass fastener. Slip a purse from the back through the slit at Jane's feet. As she stands upright, paste the end by the scarf under her left elbow as in small sketch. Fold the left panel back and the right one forward on the dotted lines and the figure will stand. Bend Jane forward to pick up the purse and it will disappear through the slit.

(Wandelle Fender of Lafayette, Colo., won $10 for this idea. Send your suggestions in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Air travel is very popular in Alaska. Small bush planes are nearly as common as taxis, and Alaskans use them as such. Nearly any point in Alaska can be reached by small plane.

Makarios, Chief Spokesman for EOKA

Ready to Renew Crusade?

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

It is quite possible that, one day soon, a handsome bearded man in flowing black robes and a curious kind of headpiece will be getting off a plane in New York.

He may be coming to plead the cause of his people with the United States and United Nations.

Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus, whose release from exile was announced Thursday by Britain, has not yet made public his plans. But he cannot go back to his native Cyprus—the British will not allow it—and probably will go to Greece before making up his mind on his next step.

To his Greek Orthodox flock, Makarios III, the leading spirit of Cyprus' union-with-Greece movement, is the personification of that troubled island. For the past seven years he has been the rallying point of the Nationalist movement.

The British say he was even more. They say the 43-year-old prelate was in full sympathy with the wave of violence launched by Eoka, the Greek Cypriot underground. It was for that reason that Makarios was banished.

In his place of exile, the remote Seychelles Island, the Archbishop marked time for the past year, except for a brief hunger strike last May.

But now that he is free he is expected to take up the crusade again. In the years before his exile he visited Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Britain and the United States in the cause of Cyprus' union with Greece. He even was an unofficial delegate to the 1955 Bandung conference of Afro-Asian nations.

Makarios studied in Boston following his ordination in 1946. He was serving in Greek Orthodox churches in New England when he was elected Bishop of Kition—a stepping-stone to the Archbishopric—and returned to Cyprus.

Tall and vigorous, Makarios is a capable spokesman for his cause. He is soft-spoken but seldom smiles or reveals his emotions.

In negotiation, he has shown many of the qualities of the legendary British diplomat—which may be one good reason why Makarios seems to be a match for them at their own game.

Election Delays Meeting

The regular meeting of the Waterford Township board has been postponed from Monday night to Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., due to the biennial election, according to Ray Harrington, acting clerk.
