U.S. Tries Catch of Capsule in Air

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Air Force Flying Boxcars have left from Hawaiian runways to try to make a flying catch today of the falling space capsule of Discoverer XIV.

The latest Discoverer satellite, launched Thursday, is circling the globe every 94 1/2 minutes, whirling toward what the Air Force hopes will be a new space-age first.

Last week the capsule of Discoverer XIII was plucked from the sea near Hawaii by the Navy for the first recovery of an item from orbit.

Russians Shoot Dogs Into Space

Say They Will Attempt to Bring Strelka and Belka Back Alive

MOSCOW (AP)—A "space ship" carrying experimental animals has been fired into orbit by the Soviet Union, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

"The main purpose of the launching is the further development of a system to support man's life in space, security of his flight and return to earth," Tass said.

It added that the animals aboard included two dogs and that the satellite was orbiting at 330 kilometers (198.8 miles).

The dogs, Tass said, are named Strelka and Belka.

A top Soviet rocket expert said today that Russia will attempt to recover the dogs.

"The two dogs are to be brought back to earth, but I cannot say where or when this will happen," Prof. Anatole Blagoderov told a news conference at the International Astronautical Congress in Stockholm.

The earth's first artificial satellite with a living thing aboard—the dog Laika—was fired into orbit by the U.S.S.R. in November 1957.

No attempt was made to bring Laika back through the atmosphere to a landing on the earth's surface. The dog whirled around the globe from Nov. 3 until Nov. 10, then died.

The United States so far has not orbited any living thing in space. U.S. scientists have, however, recovered alive two monkeys which were rocketed to the outer reaches of the atmosphere.

Ike Promises GOP Plenty of Vote Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower promised today to make an election eve TV appearance in behalf of the Republicans and to put in other political appearances where the party feels it would help.

This was reported by Republican National Chairman Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky after a 45-minute White House call to report on GOP campaign progress.

Morton said he is satisfied with the President's announced program, as a questioner put it, of making mostly "nonpolitical" appearances during the campaign.

Hurricane Cleo Considerate, Stays Off Shore

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo, third tropical storm of the season, moved up the Atlantic today without posing any immediate threat to the mainland.

The Weather Bureau in 5 a.m. advisory located the storm near latitude 22.0 north, longitude 83.8 west or about 200 miles east of Charleston, S.C. It was moving in a north-northeast direction at 20 miles an hour.

The advisory said the direction of movement and speed should continue the same for the next 18 hours. "This course would keep the hurricane well off the U.S. coast during this period," the Weather Bureau said.

READS VERDICT — Soviet Gen. Victor Borisoglebsky, chairman of the three-man military court that tried U2 pilot Francis Powers, reads the verdict today sentencing the flier to 10 years "detention" in the Soviet Union. Borisoglebsky is standing on the stage of Moscow's Hall of Columns where the trial was held.

Bend School Bus Policy

A precedent of no school busman for the association Donald W. Porter of 3837 Mariner Dr., told the board that unless it took action on a problem water hole on the Schoolcraft school property was awarded to the Northwest Contractors, Inc. A time limit will be set and there will be a $50 a day penalty clause.

The Board of Education's attorney Marshall E. Smith was authorized to institute condemnations proceedings against Harold Featherlight of 3850 Aspen St. for enlargement of the David Grayson school property.

There is no appeal provided for in the Soviet law, but Powers' wife has indicated her intention to carry a personal plea to Premier Nikita Khrushchev if she can see him.

The handsome Virginian showed no emotion when he heard the sentence. He stood with arms folded as he heard an English translation of this outcome of his three-day trial, a trial in which the Soviets tried to condemn the whole foreign policy of the United States in the cold war.

Will Spend Only Three in Jail; Rest Uncertain

Some Diplomats Say
Expulsion Is Possible
After Prison Term

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union tonight sentenced Francis Gary Powers to a 10-year sentence for espionage, but modified that by specifying only three years are to be spent in prison.

A military court gave the 31-year-old American pilot a 10-year sentence for espionage, but modified that by specifying only three years are to be spent in prison.

The rest of the sentence is covered by "deprivation of liberty." That may mean assignment to a special colony with other prisoners, or possibly expulsion.

It is entirely conceivable that Powers may be sent out of the Soviet Union when his prison term is finished.

There was nothing official on this, but the feeling among some diplomats and correspondents in Moscow is that the Soviet Union at this stage has no special desire to keep Powers after the excitement about him subsides.

The Soviet Union's top penalty for espionage is death by shooting. Prosecutor Roman A. Rudenko asked for a 15-year sentence to carry a personal plea to Premier Nikita Khrushchev if she can see him.

The handsome Virginian showed no emotion when he heard the sentence. He stood with arms folded as he heard an English translation of this outcome of his three-day trial, a trial in which the Soviets tried to condemn the whole foreign policy of the United States in the cold war.

Ike Regrets Severity of the U2 Sentence

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today expressed "regrets" over "the severity of the sentence" against U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers. The White House said the President will not drop his interest in the case.

Powers was sentenced to 10 years loss of liberty but it was specified only the first three will be served in prison. State Department and other officials planned an immediate series of conferences on what can be done.

An informal committee was named to begin considering possible steps. It apparently included state, defense and CIA officials.

Several congressmen predicted that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would either pardon Powers or lighten his sentence in an effort to rack up a Russian propaganda triumph.

"Now that they've milked this of all propaganda value, an attempt will be made to show they are nice people by having Khrushchev tell Powers' parents the sentence will be reduced," Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) said.

Rep. Daniel Flood (D-Pa.) said that the Communist boss might liberate Powers for propaganda reasons.

Rep. Charles O. Porter (D-Ore.) said he felt the sentence was "very excessive" but also predicted Powers would not serve more than a third of his sentence.

Eisenhower's feeling about the sentence, and the broad implication that the U.S. government will press Powers for better treatment of Powers were contained in this statement issued by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty:

"The President has been informed of the sentence imposed on Mr. Powers by the Soviet court.

"He deplores the Soviet propaganda activity in connection with the entire episode beginning last May and regrets the severity of the sentence.

"He extends his sincere sympathy to the members of the Powers family."

U.S. authorities indicated a decision on just what further move the United States might make in Powers' behalf must await further information about the developments in Moscow.

But highly placed authorities made plain they fully intend to push further in the case.

"They spoke of seeking a reduction of the sentence, or release immediately or eventually, of the U.S. flier."

Also, they noted that despite repeated U.S. requests, no American has been in showrooms since he was captured May 1, except at the trial.

Presumably, a U.S. demand for access to Powers would be an initial step.

Temperatures for the next five days will average near or a little above the normal high of 81 and normal low of 61. Tonight's low will be about 68.

Precipitation for the period will total one half to three quarters inches in showers tonight, Saturday and Sunday.

Morning winds southeasterly at eight miles an hour will become east to southeast at 10-20 miles. The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 54 degrees. At 2 p.m. the reading was 58.

The weather for prospective Echo-watchers is not promising for tonight. Considerably cloudy skies and scattered showers are forecast. However, if the skies are clear enough, here are the times the satellite will pass over the Pontiac area tonight: 7:58, 9:30 and 11:41.

The Echo satellite which has been drawing many chins into the air this week seems to be in trouble. Observers have detected a satellite that could mean the balloon has suffered a puncture in its paper-thin covering.

This not-so-little Sir Echo also may be headed for other problems. Beginning Sunday night it will be hidden from the sun rays by the earth for brief periods of time that will gradually increase until the sphere will speed up to 90 per cent of its orbit in darkness.

Scientists fear the balloon's gases will cool at these times and may cause the covering to collapse.

Wage Bill Wins in Senate 62-34

Kennedy Hopeful House
Will Okay but Others
Expect Hurdles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed the Kennedy minimum wage bill 62-34 Thursday night with its major provisions largely intact, but the legislation faces uncertain House prospects.

Sen. John F. Kennedy told a reporter he was quite hopeful the bill would agree to most of the Senate provisions. But experience on differences between the two branches involving labor legislation in 1958 and 1959 cast doubt on this.

The Democratic presidential nominee was named to head the seven Senate conferees on the bill. He was chief sponsor of the Senate version.

The Senate bill would increase the present $1 wage floor to $1.25 an hour and would bring under the fair labor standards act about 1.4 million workers not now covered.

The much less comprehensive House bill would fix a $1.15 minimum and cover about 1,400,000 additional employees.

Kennedy headed Senate conferees who deal with House delegations on a pension and welfare control measure in 1958 and the broad labor regulation bill last year. In both cases it proved difficult for the senators to get the House to do any compromising.

Since then he has been chosen as the Democratic presidential nominee, a status which may or may not affect House members' attitude toward his requests.

The House Rules Committee also may be a hurdle to any compromise.

Angry at Note From U.N. Chief

Security Council Asked to Reconsider Activities in the Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba accused U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld today of "blackmail."

Lumumba told a news conference, angrily he had received a note from Hammarskjöld this morning delivered by Undersecretary Ralph J. Bunche.

He said the note asserted Hammarskjöld would be obliged to ask the Security Council to reconsider its activities in the Congo in the light of recent events and incidents here.

"This blackmail by the secretary-general does not impress us," Lumumba said.

He charged Hammarskjöld de-

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Security Council will meet Monday at 11:30 a.m. EST on the explosive Congo crisis. The call was made today by the Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, warning the Congo government the Council might be asked to withdraw all U.N. forces if attacks continue on U.N. forces in the Congo.

Exaggerated Thursday's incident here in which Canadian U. N. soldiers were assaulted by Congolese forces. The premier demanded immediate withdrawal of white soldiers responsible for recent incidents.

Lumumba also demanded the Security Council send a group of observers from neutral nations to the Congo to study the situation here. He asked that 14 African-Asian nations be mentioned in the group.

KNOCKED OUT

Congolese soldiers attacked Canadian soldiers of the U.N. force at Leopoldville airport Thursday and knocked a captain unconscious with a rifle butt.

Bunche told a radio audience last night the airport incident was "an affront to the United Nations" and "needless and senseless provocation."

THE airport is firmly under United Nations control today. There were no more attacks on Congolese soldiers at the airport and in the streets of Leopoldville, fewer soldiers were in evidence. It appeared the firm action of the United Nations in sending the airport and raising the United Nations flag after the affair had gone some effect.

MORE TALKS

In a determined bid to keep the Congo situation from collapsing altogether, Hammarskjöld called in the chief U.N. representatives of the four major world powers Thursday. He reported stress to them that Big Four unanimity was vital to avert complete chaos in the African republic.

The Soviet Union has sharply disputed Hammarskjöld's interpretation of his powers under the council resolutions that created the U.N. force. It has called for complete withdrawal of all Belgian troops.

Scheduling of the council meeting awaited arrival of Lumumba's delegation, delayed in London overnight after their Soviet jet. There was denied permission to land at Idlewild Airport because it had not passed noise test requirements. The State Department finally persuaded the New York Port Authority to admit the plane, and it was expected today.

BARUCH IS 90 — Bernard Baruch, adviser to presidents, celebrates his 90th birthday today at his New York home. He told newsmen that inflation is "the single greatest peril to our national health." He repeatedly declined to reveal who he favors in the presidential race.

Income Tax Plan to Be Timesaver

The U. S. Internal Revenue Service has announced a newly revised procedure designed to save taxpayers time, trouble and money in coming to an agreement with respect to disputed items arising from the examination of federal income tax returns.

An informal conference method will be used to settle differences at the earliest audit level, eliminating the lengthy and more costly administrative and court appeals process.

Each of the nation's 61 district offices will be provided with a full-time conference coordinator who will confer with taxpayers to handle individual cases.

What this means to the taxpayer is simply that if he has disputed items on his tax return, he may request a conference or, alternatively, a conference in an attempt to settle the matter quickly rather than becoming entangled in a long process of legal and administrative red tape.

Senator Denounces Rumors About Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) has denounced what he called "scurrilous and vicious rumors," that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is anti-semitic.

Javits took Senate floor yesterday to call attention to an editorial in the Bronx Brith Messenger, a Long Beach Weekly.

The editorial rejected such charges against Nixon and appealed for a halt to all religious bias in the election campaign.

Bobby Driscoll Guilty

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Bobby Driscoll, former child actor, pleaded guilty Thursday to disturbing the peace. He was accused of striking a man in the face with a pistol.

Laurie S. Mauro, 22, complained that Driscoll, 21, inflicted a two-inch gash beside his nose.

Driscoll said he was washing his girl friend's car when Mauro and a friend, parked nearby, made insulting remarks. He was originally charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Sept. 15 was set for probation hearing and sentence.

Justice Black Bids It to Pull Out

'State Supreme Court Deep in Politics'

MACKINAC ISLAND (UPI) — Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black Thursday lambasted the nomination of justices by political parties as a "cancer" on the state's judicial system.

He said the Supreme Court itself does not have the "right" to demand political independence and is concerned about "partisan reprisals."

Black of Port Huron made his blunt attack in a speech to the Midwest convention of attorneys general.

He said that "prior to 1965 when a Democratic-nominated lawyer was first elected to a court dominated for many years by Republicans nominees, the guarded, cynical word of lawyers and politicians throughout the state was the Supreme Court opens and closes on motion of General Motors."

Now, he said, with a Democratic majority on the court, "word moved in the opposite direction — the Supreme Court opens and closes on motion of the CIO."

He said Michigan has everything it needs for a top judicial system "except a top court freed of politics."

He said, "Right now I cannot tell myself to the fact that Michigan is being sold as a state that new industry should shut in because the court climate is bad for industry whereas last five years ago the word was out that the court 'always favors corporations and insurance companies.'"

Black said there were two reasons the legislature had not moved the nomination of justices from politics. One, he said, was that the court did not have "the political guts" to insist on it. The second was that "professional commanders" in the two political parties are "devoted to maintaining partisan control of the court."

To cure the situation he criticized, Black called for:

— A constitutional convention to "revolve the Supreme Court of every vendage and every trace of partisanship."

— Twelve-year terms for justices instead of eight years, with justices to be elected on a nonpartisan ballot.

Withhold Plans for Negro Aides

Jack's Campaign Help Won't Talk of Advisers Going Along Into South

WASHINGTON (U) — Campaign aides of Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy Thursday declined to disclose what will be done about taking Negro advisers along on trips into Southern states.

At a news briefing, Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, was questioned about planned Southern trips.

Specifically, Salinger was reminded that Kennedy had named Frank Reeves, Negro national Democratic committeeman from the District of Columbia, as a special assistant and had announced Reeves would accompany him on all campaign trips.

"Is he going to take Reeves with him into the South and what will he do about hotels and eating places which still are segregated by state law?" Salinger was asked by a reporter representing southern newspapers.

"Our course will become evident when we travel South," was Salinger's only reply.

Upon being pressed, Salinger said he would take up the question with Kennedy.

Former Miss Denmark Pays Traffic Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Greta Thynsen, once Miss Denmark of the Miss Universe contest, paid a $25 fine Thursday when a judge gave her the choice of the fine or five days in jail for a traffic offense.

She was found guilty of violating the right of way of a pedestrian.

2nd High-Altitude Parachute Jump Tentatively Set

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (U) — Another high-altitude parachute jump from a balloon gondola has been scheduled tentatively for Tuesday.

The air force announced today that M.Sgt. George A. Post will make a parachute drop similar to the 10,000 foot jump made by Capt. Joseph Kittinger last Tuesday.

Post's jump originally was scheduled for today but was postponed. No reason was given.

Both Sgt. Post and Capt. Kittinger are assigned to the Aero Space Medical Division at Wright Air Development Division in Ohio.

Dutch Give Sukarno Diplomatic Tit for Tat

THE HAGUE, Holland (UPI) — The Dutch government yesterday ordered the Indonesian diplomatic delegation to quit the Netherlands by the end of August.

The 42-man Indonesian mission here will be given "exactly the same treatment" as is being given the Dutch mission in Jakarta, a Dutch spokesman said.

Indonesian President Sukarno broke off diplomatic relations Wednesday because of the dispute over Dutch New Guinea, which Indonesia claims.

Pay Famine Finally Over for Hamtramck Employees

HAMTRAMCK (UPI) — The 376 city employees in Hamtramck will be paid today for the first time in 10 weeks.

City councilmen approved a $355,370 annual budget ending weeks of dispute over the financial situation the suburb found itself in.

The budget calls for a tax increase of about 10 for each $1,000 of valuation. The plan as adopted was recommended in mid-June by the city budget board but two councilmen managed to block action.

Five days ago Circuit Judge George E. Bowles ordered the five-member council to adopt a budget and end the stalemate.

Under the budget adopted, the Detroit suburb will end the fiscal year with an estimated deficit of $385,000. This would not allow any new city employees to be hired and would not allow for replacement of any that quit.

The money problems began in the city when the State Tax Commission granted Chrysler Corp. a $20-million reduction in tax assessment at the Dodge Main plant.

STONE SPEAKS — Ben Stone, accused by Chrysler Corp. of fraud and conspiracy in dealings with the company as a supplier, firm denies charges to newsmen Thursday. Stone, of 19 Merrimac Ct., Bloomfield Hills, also traced the formation of Chrysler supplier companies set up with former President William C. Newberg.

Newberg Friend Denies Fraud

Ben Stone Claims His Chrysler Deals Were Mutually Profitable

DETROIT (U) — Detroit industrialist Ben Stone denied Thursday Chrysler Corp.'s allegations of "fraud and conspiracy" in his profitable business partnership with former Chrysler President William C. Newberg.

Stone, a Bloomfield Hills resident, told a news conference his relationship with Chrysler "over the years has been friendly, pleasant and mutually profitable" and that he had been instrumental in saving the auto maker millions of dollars.

Chrysler sued Stone, his wife Ruth, and their Sango Co. in Wayne (Detroit) County Circuit Court Wednesday for "profits and other gains" it said they made in dealings with Chrysler while Newberg was their partner.

Newberg has agreed to repay Chrysler $450,000 as his share of the profits in two companies in which he and Stone were 50-percent partners — Press Products, Inc., and Bonan Co., both former Chrysler suppliers but neither in business since 1958.

Newberg has denied any wrongdoing, and Stone said in a statement that Newberg "has been a valued friend and I am sure that he did not knowingly violate any trust of his employer or associates."

"I deny most emphatically," Stone's statement continued, "that I used his friendship or association in any improper manner and I am sure that the people at Chrysler with whom I dealt confirm that statement."

Stone said he and Newberg had had no business connection since June of 1959, when Stone bought out Newberg's interest in Sango Co., a non-manufacturing successor to Bonan.

ADD TO ARMY IN KOREA — WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) says the army has strengthened the two U.S. Divisions in Korea with an additional 3,000 troops.

Solon Urges Compacts for Embassies Abroad

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. A. S. pointed out that the matter was (Mike) Monroney, D-Okla., has under consideration and it had urged the State Department to buy been found that there would be American compact cars for U.S. embassies and military bases abroad.

Monroney suggested at a meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee that the move might help offset the current trade deficit.

He said most European countries couldn't afford what he called the "big tall fin jobs" now being used by many American officials abroad.

He added that if he could get a loan, is becoming a tourist favorite. Interest might be aroused enough. More than 50,000 people have so that this country could set up a substantial export market.

Marseille is the oldest town in France. It was founded by Greeks. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon said it was a good idea but in 600 B. C.

Abdel Kassem Honor Guest at Graduation

BAGHDAD, Iraq (U)—The honor guest at the graduation ceremony was Prime Minister Abdel Karim Kassem, the army general who two years ago led a violent revolution that threatened to wipe Western influence out of Iraq.

It was the first commencement of Al Hikma University, the American University in Baghdad.

Kassem's personal appearance at the graduation put the final stamp of approval on the University, which has blossomed into full four-year academic status during the two years following the revolution. In a country which veered close to the Communist bloc last year, this American institution is the only foreign university in Iraq.

The school is operated by Jesuit fathers from New England, headed by the Rev. John Banks of Boston.

NEW CHIEF — Gen. George Henry Decker was named Thursday by President Eisenhower to be chief of staff of the Army. He succeeds Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, Decker is 58. He holds many decorations.

It Hangs on His Office Wall

Ike Defends Picture of Lee

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee was one of the supremely gifted men produced in this nation in the opinion of President Eisenhower, and for that reason Lee's picture hangs on the wall of the President's office. This was disclosed by an exchange of letters between the President and Leon W. Scott, a New Rochelle, N.Y., dentist.

Ralph McGill, publisher and columnist of the Atlanta Constitution, made the letters public. He said he obtained copies from the White House.

Scott asked the President why

Lee's picture was included with others of George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and Abraham Lincoln. The President had mentioned them in his speech at the Republican convention and said he considered them all great Americans.

NOT TO BE EMULATED

Scott wrote the President: "I do not understand how any American can include Robert E. Lee as a person to be emulated, and why the President of the United States of America should do so is certainly beyond me."

"The most outstanding thing that Robert E. Lee did, was to devote his best efforts to the destruction of the United States government, and I am sure that you do not say that a person who tries to destroy our government is worthy of being hailed as one of our heroes."

The President replied: "Gen. Robert E. Lee was, in my estimation, one of the supremely gifted men produced by our nation. He believed unwaveringly in the constitutional validity of his cause which until 1865 was still an arguable question in America; he was a poised and inspiring leader, true to the high trust reposed in him by millions of his fellow citizens; he was thoughtful yet demanding of his officers and men; forbearing with captured enemies but ingenious, unrelenting and personally courageous in battle, and never disheartened by reverse or obstacle. Through all his many trials, he remained selfless almost to a fault and unflinching in his faith in God. Taken together, he was noble as a leader youth will strive to emulate his painstaking efforts to help heal the nation's wounds once the bitter struggle was over, we, in our own time of danger in a divided world, will be strengthened and our love of freedom sustained. Such are the reasons I proudly display the picture of the great American on my office wall."

ROME — When Elagabalus entered ancient Rome as its new emperor the streets along which he marched were sprinkled with gold dust.

Connecticut has thousands of homes dating back more than 150 years and more than two dozen Colonial homes restored and opened to the public.

Breakey to Try for High Court

Expects to Be Named at GOP State Meeting in Detroit Aug. 27

ANN ARBOR 4P — Washtenaw County Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr., Thursday announced himself a candidate for the state Supreme Court.

The announcement came after a citizens committee was organized here to urge Breakey's nomination at the Republican State Convention at Detroit Aug. 27.

Breakey, if nominated, will seek the post vacated last year by Democrat John Voelker. The Democrats are expected to nominate Justice Theodore Souris of Detroit who was appointed by Gov. Williams to replace Voelker until the election.

Breakey, 60, is a veteran trial judge of 15 years experience and a leader in Washtenaw County Republican affairs.

MSU Radio Spot Marks Its 38th Anniversary

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University's radio station, the third oldest in the state, marked its 38th anniversary Thursday.

WKAR started as an experiment on the top floor of a building on the MSU campus in 1922 when it was granted its first federal license.

The station's present plant and equipment are valued at $225,000. MSU officials said, and the operation has expanded to include both AM and FM facilities.

Former employees of WKAR currently are scattered in positions on some 50 radio and television stations in Michigan. During a week of programming, WKAR's typical schedule includes 61 per cent of its broadcast hours dedicated to news, education and information. The remaining 38 per cent is comprised of classical, semi-classical and standard music.

English Model Rates South Americans Tops

LONDON (AP) — South American men are wonderful, in the opinion of one of Britain's most glamorous models.

Said Lynn Peters after a cocktail party given for 30 Brazilian middlemen visiting London on a training course. "South Americans are fabulous. They know how to live. Englishmen are too reserved."

Nixon's Favored 2 to 1 in 3 S.D. Papers' Poll

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon is currently favored nearly two to one over Sen. John Kennedy for the presidency in a poll which three South Dakota newspapers conduct on a regular basis.

The poll listed 61.4 per cent for the Nixon-Lodge Republican ticket, 31.7 per cent for the Kennedy-Johnson Democratic ticket and 6.9 per cent undecided.

Prior to the convention, the poll's sampling listed 46.2 per cent for Nixon, 41.7 per cent for Kennedy and 12.1 per cent undecided.

Nixon and Lodge were ahead in the count 58.5 to 31.7 among farmers polled and 64.1 to 30.8 per cent in cities.

The poll has been conducted for several years by the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, the Aberdeen American-News and the Watertown Public Opinion.

The sponsoring papers do not disclose the number of persons polled on any question but have said the count is sufficient to give cross-section representation of the state's citizens.

White Briton Hanged for Murdering Negro

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Peter Richard Poole, 39, a Briton, was hanged Thursday night—the first white man to be executed in this British East African colony for killing a Negro.

Poole was convicted by an all-white jury of shooting down his African houseboy, who enraged him by throwing stones at Poole's dog.

Five persons have committed suicide since 1949 by jumping off the 152-foot-high Arc de Triomphe.

Deaths in Pontiac and Nearby Areas

MARY CATHERINE ELLIS—Prayers were offered at Mt. Hope Cemetery this morning for Mary C. Ellis, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Ellis of 221 Onondia Rd.

Arrangements were by Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Surviving besides the parents are a sister and two brothers, Patricia, Michael and John, all at home.

The baby was dead at birth.

MRS. OSCAR GOODMAN—Mrs. Oscar (Elizabeth S.) Goodman, 71, of 101 General St. died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital after a brief illness.

Survivors include three sons, Doyle of Pontiac, Ralph of St. Louis, Mo. and Ois of Harrisville; three grandchildren; a sister and a brother.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Melvin A. Schmitt Funeral Home with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

ANTHONY D. OWENS—Graveside service was held today at Perry Mount Park Cemetery for Anthony D. Owens, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Owens of 86 S. Marshall St. Arrangements were by the Purley Funeral Home.

The parents survive.

The baby was born Tuesday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and died there Wednesday.

MRS. HARRY CRIM—WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Service for Mrs. Harry (Sally) Crim, 74, of 218 S. Eastern St. will be 1 p.m. Saturday at Van Valkenburg Funeral Home, Detroit.

Burial will be in Parkview Cemetery, Livonia.

Mrs. Crim died Thursday at her residence after a long illness.

Surviving are her daughter Mrs. Doris Foster of White Lake Township, son Lawrence, six grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

ARTHUR J. LAMBERT—WEST BLOOMFIELD—Service for Arthur J. Lambert, 82, of 1559 Perotolia St., will be 10 a.m. Monday at St. Patrick Catholic Church, White Lake.

Burial will be in St. Ann Cemetery, Livewood.

A rosary will be recited at 8 a.m. Sunday.

Deaths Elsewhere

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles H. Buford, 74, of St. Petersburg, Fla., retired president of the Chicago, Milwaukee St. Paul & Pacific Railroad Co., died Wednesday.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles W. Ryder, 68, (Ret.), a veteran of both world wars and former commander at West Point, died Wednesday. He was born in Topeka, Kan.

PHILIP J. HENRY—Service for Philip J. Henry, 52, of 601 E. Maple St., will be 2 p.m. Saturday at Dryer Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berklely.

Mr. Henry was a member of Holy's First Presbyterian Church, former chairman of the Oakland County Citizens League and the Holy Planning Commission.

He died unexpectedly Thursday of a heart attack at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Surviving besides his wife Marcelle are sons Philip J. Jr. at home and William of Holly, daughters Mary Kay and Linda Faith, both at home, brother William J. of Holly and sisters Mrs. Guy Littlejohn of Clariston, Mrs. John P. Hawkins of Birmingham and Mrs. Robert B. Neal of Ludington.

HONOLULU, Hawaii (UPI)—There's a small-scale dispute going on here over whether the British or the Spanish first sighted Hawaii.

Spain gets the credit in a book called "Hawaiian Oddities" compiled by Mike Jay, a former Honolulu newspaperman.

It points out that while Britain's Capt. Cook landed on the island in 1778, it was Juan Gastano who first sighted them in 1555.

Gastano mapped them and named them La Mesa, La Descartada and Las Manajas.

Residents of the 50th state hope that historians and researchers will launch a project to establish once and for all who first sighted their homeland.

NEWSPAPERS in Japan now use monotype machines with about 1,850 of the most commonly used ideographs, instead of the former 10,000 different character type faces.

Hangover Cause Is 'Congenetics,' Dealer Asserts

NEW YORK (UPI)—What causes a hangover? "Congenetics," says Jack Poust, who has waged a long campaign against these "residual impurities" in liquor.

Poust, a dealer in Italian brandy and vermouth, says one reason the Russians can apparently drink so much vodka without any ill effect is the fact that "good vodka, which goes through more refining processes than any other distilled spirits, has been almost completely purified of congenetics in the process."

Long Rhee's Foe, He's S. Korea Prexy

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—John M. Chang, long a political foe of Syngman Rhee, was elected premier of South Korea today by the National Assembly. He faces a tough job of knitting the warring factions of his party together to carry out his promises of economic reform.

Chang, 60, a Roman Catholic who served as Rhee's vice president, now assumes much of the power once held by Rhee.

After the student-led revolution in April, Rhee resigned as president and a new constitution gave for a second mill.

Cuba Takes Over Big U.S. Cement Facility

HAVANA (AP)—A government-appointed interventor today took over properties of the American-owned Cuban Portland Cement Co., which has an estimated replacement value of $27 million.

The company, a subsidiary of Low Star Cement Co. of New York City, has been operating a cement plant in suburban Mariel since 1918 and had purchased land for a second mill.

Pretty City Rises Up Out of Dust and Mud

Blacktopping Starts at Sylvan Lake

By DICK SAUNDERS

The 2,001 residents of a little hamlet just west of Pontiac are putting the frosting on a 30-year-old cake this week.

The City of Sylvan Lake is pulling itself out of the mud and dust.

A three-year $100,000 blacktopping program began Monday.

When completed, every street in the residential community will be paved.

This is the finishing touch on a story of planning and development that spans about 30 years.

PAVED AT LAST

The ideal planning structure for any community calls for sewage systems, a water system, then surface work such as paved streets. Many communities make the mistake of building paved roads and later installing or enlarging a sewer system which requires pavement to be ripped up, a waste of thousands of dollars.

Sylvan did things the right way.

In 1929 people started talking about sanitary sewer system. Red tape and limitations in the town-village charter, plus the setbacks of depression years, wrecked plans.

But 10 years later the same talk and planning emerged with renewed vigor and after 15 years of delay, a $125,000 sanitary sewer system was approved in 1944.

At that election the then slightly more than 1,000 residents voted to make their village a city.

It held the distinction of being a tie-breaker among Oakland County's 24 cities and villages.

The second big planning step came in 1944 when the residents again voted by a wide margin to approve a $225,000 municipal water system for their growing city.

The water system was completed in December 1950.

Last year, after 38 years of dirt and gravel roads, high maintenance costs, dust in the summer and mud in the rainy seasons, the City Council decided it was time for the long-needed paved streets.

Previous to January 1958, the city budget had been operating in the red for several years.

But early last year the city hired David E. Firestone as city manager and Firestone succeeded in putting the city back on sound financial footing.

Then he went to work on the blacktop program. Firestone and councilmen worked many late hours laying the groundwork.

Residents responded with a steady flow of petitions requesting blacktopping on their streets.

The project was formally approved by a Council vote last February, was approved by the Michigan State Highway Commission in March, and financing was approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission in June.

Last month the council issued $25,000 in Motor vehicle highway fund bonds to get the work started.

The contract for this year's work was awarded to A & A Asphalt Co. of Birmingham when bids were tabulated July 25.

Consulting engineers for the project Giffels & Webster Engineering Co. of Royal Oak.

The entire project will be financed by special property assessments with the city paying for intersections, paving of streets bordering city-owned property and for street preparation.

Several storm sewers were installed earlier this year to avoid problems which might occur after the blacktop was laid.

This week work began on the $44,995 program for 1960.

Currently moving up and out of the dust are residents on Inverness, Pontiac drive, Garland, Avondale, James K. Dick, Pioneer, Tilden and Cheltenham streets.

By the end of 1962, if all goes well, all of Sylvan Lake's eight miles of street surface will be blacktopped.

Last month, Firestone left Sylvan Lake to become city manager of Troy.

But he came back this week to see the dream of paved roads in this quiet little city begin to come true.

Also there was the recently named acting city manager Stanley Filkins, a long-time resident who can well remember the hardships this community went through in its early days.

Mayor William B. Taylor and the Council estimate the new program will save the city some $7,000 annually in street maintenance and repair alone.

But our main aim is to bring Sylvan up out of the dust and mud," said Taylor.

The planning and accomplishments of past councils made our job free of major problems. Before long the "prettiest little city in Michigan will be even prettier," he said.

To Play Between Halves at Wisner

'Lamplighters' to Brighten Ball Game

Tonight will be a star-studded one at Wisner Stadium, with star footballers and star musicians.

When the Oakland County All-Star Football Game takes time out, the famous Lamplighters Drum and Bugle Corps of Detroit's Thomas A. Edison American Legion Post No. 157 will take time in.

The corps was first formed as a parade unit in 1922.

They have been state champions in legion competition every year since 1949 with the exception of one, 1951.

The unit was among the top 10 of its kind nationally in 1956 and 1959. In addition last year they entered the Veterans of Foreign Wars state competition and took the championship which they successfully defended this year.

Their colorful and varied programs have been seen all over the United States and Canada and tonight's crowd should find the Lamplighters an all-star attraction.

Remote Arab Tribesman Literally Captures Bride

CAIRO (U)—In Egypt's western desert, a tribesman has to kidnap the girl he wants to marry.

At least, he has to pretend he is kidnapping her. On the wedding night, the bridegroom rides into the village, seizes the girl and rides away with her. The men of her family grab their guns and blaze away but all the bullets are wide of the mark.

This kind of marriage is traditional among the Awlad Aly tribe that lives near Mersa Matruh 200 miles from Cairo.

In centuries past, a man had to prove his worth by capturing a wife from a hostile tribe. Today, it's all as set, but it symbolizes the tribesman's bravery and the family's reluctance to give up their daughter.

The gunfight-marriage is only one of the weird customs retained by the isolated Awlad Aly tribe over the centuries.

The Nasser government tries to bring some modern benefits to the area. By drilling new wells and rebuilding Roman wells, the government hopes the barren land can be cultivated.

So far, the Awlad Aly tribesmen prefer poverty and near-starvation to working on the land. Grazing is so bad that cattle are scrawny, and they can eat meat only on special holidays and at funerals when wealthy tribesmen slaughter animals and distribute the meat.

The law courts of the Awlad Aly consist of a gathering of tribal elders to administer the "haq Arab" — Arab justice. Decisions of the "haq Arab" are final.

Women of the Awlad Aly move about freely, but they are covered from head to foot and never unveil publicly. A prospective bridegroom rarely knows what his bride will look like. But there is a unique tribal device that gives him some idea of the girl's worth in hard cash.

Called the "borkel," it is a heavy veil covered with coins. A girl who wears many gold coins on her "borkel" has a big dowry. The poor girls only wear copper coins.

Seeking Compromise on Methods to Democratize Trujillo Regime

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The Inter-American Foreign Ministers Conference today sought agreement on a compromise formula to bring democracy to the Dominican Republic.

The precedent-making plan would involve the use of sanctions—or at least the threat of them.

Sanctions have been considered by diplomats in many disputes during the past generation but rarely applied.

After a bitter debate Thursday in the Western Hemisphere to make a government more democratic. The basic idea behind sanctions is to quarantine a government by cutting off diplomatic relations and setting up an economic boycott.

After a bitter debate Thursday between Cuba and the United States, the foreign ministers began their third straight day of backstage talks in a tense atmosphere. They were considering three specific proposals:

1. Venezuela's demand that diplomatic and economic sanctions be applied against the Dominican Republic promptly and without conditions.

2. A U.S. suggestion that a special observation committee be sent to the Dominican Republic to assure free elections there. Sanctions would be applied later if free elections were not held.

3. A Colombian plan to apply sanctions first and send an observation committee afterwards.

But a compromise was also being discussed. Under this plan the foreign ministers would approve sanctions, then suspend them pending free elections in the Caribbean dictatorship ruled for more than 30 years by Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo.

GRACE PERIOD

Diplomatic sources said the compromise would give Trujillo a six-month grace period to hold elections. The sanctions would go into effect if he refused.

The question remained whether the Trujillo regime would accept an Inter-American observation committee. Sanctions would require a two-thirds vote by the foreign ministers and might result in a Dominican appeal to the U.N. Security Council.

The U.S. plan was presented to the conference Thursday by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. He said the conference should vote a clear condemnation of the conduct of Trujillo's regime.

But he added that any action should be aimed at creating a situation for the Dominican Republic to be "brought back into respected membership in the American community and its citizenship."

Minister Takes to Air Barber's Last Free Customer to Retire

GLASSBORO, N.J. (AP)—At the start of World War II George Amico, 47, a barber, was rejected for military service.

Amico wanted to make some kind of contribution so he decided he would give free haircuts to any youths entering the armed forces from Glassboro as long as they were a uniform.

One of those called up in 1941 was Robert C. Bobb, now a major living in Tacoma, Wash. Every time Bobb visited his family here he dropped in Amico's barber shop and claimed his free haircut.

Bobb will retire Jan. 1. He is the last of the youths from Glassboro during World War II to doff his uniform.

STAFFORD, England (AP)—Stafford Castle, one of Britain's ancient monuments, began crumbling Tuesday night and crushed an 18-year-old boy under hundreds of tons of masonry and rotting timbers.

Firemen and police recovered the body of Sidney Pickering from the ruins of the castle, which has been unoccupied for years.

'Faith Alone' Tenet Doubted by Young Lutherans

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—A Lutheran minister told 2,000 delegates to the Luther League Convention last night that many young members do not believe in the basic doctrine of their church.

The Rev. Gordon Smedstad of Minneapolis, associate youth director of the Luther League, said that although the church's young members go along with other church beliefs, most of them show complete lack of faith in the church's laystone principle, "salvation through faith rather than good works."

He added "it would not be strict justice to condemn Trujillo if the father of the creature is not also condemned."

Wage Bill?... Here Are the Answers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Here in question and answer form is an explanation of the minimum wage bill approved by the Senate Thursday night.

Q.—How many workers now are covered under the Wage-Hour Act of the Fair Labor Standards Act?

A.—About 23.7 million. There are about 22 million employees not now covered.

Q.—How many new workers would be brought in under the Senate bill.

A.—An estimated 4,000,000. The bulk of these—nearly 3 million—would be in retail industries such as chain grocery, variety and department stores.

Q.—What would be the new minimum hourly wage?

A.—$1.25 an hour, reached in annual steps. The present minimum is $1 an hour.

Q.—How does the step-up work?

A.—The approximately four million newly covered workers would get a wage floor of $1 in 1961 with an overtime provision, $1.05 in 1962 with overtime starting after 44 hours a week, $1.15 in 1963 with overtime after 40 hours, and the top at $1.25 in 1964 with overtime beginning after 40 hours a week, same as for presently covered workers.

The rates for currently covered workers would be stepped up over three years instead of four—$1.15 in 1961, $1.20 in 1962 and $1.25 in 1963. All increases would be effective Jan. 1 of each year.

Q.—When was the last increase?

A.—In 1956 when Congress raised the minimum from 75 cents to $1 an hour.

Q.—Would small so-called "mom and pop" grocery and variety stores be covered?

A.—No, only retail enterprises which have annual gross sales of one million dollars or more would be required to pay their employees the new minimums.

Thus, more than 97 per cent of all retail enterprises with a total of more than four million employees would continue to be exempt. Large chain operations, including gasoline station enterprises, would supply the bulk of newly covered workers.

Q.—What are some of the new categories covered?

A.—About 150,000 laundry workers. Also an estimated 107,000 employees of local transit firms, 100,000 seamen, and about 32,000 fish processing workers would be brought under the wage rates, but with no overtime coverage.

Q.—What major group of workers was eliminated from the Senate bill just before the final vote?

A.—About 860,000 hotel, motel and restaurant workers.

HOTTER WATER AND PLENTY OF IT. Only an electric water heater can regularly deliver 160° water without burning out. Really hot water goes farther and gets clothes cleaner.

An electric water heater needs no fire because there is no flame. That makes it the only water heater you can put any place you want. Right next to your washer, for example, to eliminate a long, heat-wasting pipe run. There are also electric water heaters which fit under kitchen counters.

A WONDERFUL WORK-SAVING TEAM—YOUR WASHER AND DRYER. It's simplest and most satisfactory to make your automatic washer and dryer a matched pair—both electric. It is more than a matter of look-alikes for it takes an electric dryer to keep white clothes white; to preserve the sparkling new look in colored and patterned fabrics. Electric drying is so clean because there is no flame, no products of combustion.

BRIGHTEN WASHDAYS WITH GOOD LIGHTING. When you plan your electric laundry center, be sure to get expert advice on adequate lighting. Especially important are the sorting and folding table, mending and ironing area. You'll be surprised at how well-planned lighting can reduce fatigue.

Herter to Explain Reversal Decision?

African Scholarships Under Senate Eye

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William J. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today he hopes to avoid formal hearings on a turnaround decision to offer government money for an African student project.

But the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee demanded a full report on the matter "not later than next Monday" from Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

The State Department first refused, then later agreed, to provide $100,000 of government funds to transport 250 African students to the United States to study under scholarships.

Fulbright said in a letter to Herter he understood the department reversed an earlier unfavorable decision because of what he called intervention by James Shepley, a campaign aide in Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign.

"I hope the State Department can clarify the situation," Fulbright told a reporter. "I don't wish to make a public inquiry into a matter of this sort."

"I hope the department will furnish an adequate report, however, since the situation carries the implication that the administration of our foreign policy has been influenced by outside political pressures."

By the time Fulbright's letter was made public, the State Department already had issued a statement, Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said an earlier decision was reversed after the student program was revised to meet State Department objections.

For one thing, he said, the initial request involved only students from Kenya. Others from Uganda and Tanganyika were added later, he said.

The case of the 250 African students has become an issue in the presidential race between Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy of the foundation's name would not be disclosed as the donor.

Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., a Michigan Negro and a Democrat, said the State Department "showed interest in the matter only when their inaction was about to prove embarrassing to the Republican party."

He said the department earlier had "repeatedly turned a cold shoulder" to the program.

Hart, McNamara Voted for New Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara and Philip Hart voted for Sen. John F. Kennedy's minimum wage bill which was passed by the Senate Thursday night by a 62-31 roll call vote.

Earlier in the evening, Hart and McNamara joined with other senators in defeating two limiting amendments to the bill.

Opening Monday at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren is the fifth annual General Motors Conference for High School Science and Mathematics Teachers.

The five-day conference will be attended by 29 teachers from Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Illinois, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Those attending from Oakland County area schools include Howard E. Mink, Rochester Senior High; George Montle, Birmingham Seaborn High; Charles A. Kaldman and Stephen M. Velkoff, Bloomfield Hills High; Patricia L. Sargenti, Birmingham-Groves High; and Robert C. Wellevor, Frisco High.

Thirty-three of the teachers have summer employment in GM divisions or central offices to give them technical information and work experience helpful in their teaching.

They were selected by the GM divisions and staffs in consultation with local school administrators.

Mink was sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division.

The teachers will see various lab experiments, demonstrations and discuss GM personnel, educational training, public relations, and scholarship programs aimed at aiding both student and teacher education.

City Teachers Attend Parley of Federation

Several Pontiac area teachers are taking part in a conference this week and others will be attending a second conference next week.

Currently in session is the 44th annual convention of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers.

Buller is president of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers.

Present evidence shows that booster shots every three to four years are adequate to protect against diphtheria and tetanus.

Births and Trips

Ann L. Hamilton, daughter of the Kenneth M. Hamilton of Hilldale drive leaves Monday for Washington, D.C. to attend the Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority's national convention. She is the delegate from Beta chapter of Central Michigan University and was recently elected president of this group.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bishop of West Hopkins street are announcing the birth of a daughter, Lanel Grace, August 14, in Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are the D. Persons of Overton, street, Waterford Township and the Ross Bishops of Court drive.

Worley H. Smith Jr. son of the Worley H. Smith of McKinley drive who is majoring in forestry at Michigan State University has been working this summer at the Parkdale Ranger Station, Parkdale, Ore.

Exhausted from fighting forest fires in Idaho, the staff took a "breather" and hiked up Mount Hood. With the ground temperature 198 degrees in the fire area, an air-conditioned lunch among the icecaps and glaciers was a welcome experience.

Dangling as the last man on a rope line over the icy vastness, Smith said he felt like the "last man on a totem pole."

Mr. and Mrs. William Ulrich of Mathews street have returned from a vacation in New York State and New England. They spent some time with friends in Rochester, N.Y.

Mrs. Amelia Ball has returned to her home on Seminole avenue after a two-week motor trip through the East with her son and daughter-in-law, the Charles N. Ball of Highland Park drive. Relatives were visited in Connecticut.

Col. and Mrs. Vincent Gottschalk of Cherry Point, N.C., with their sons Frederick, Eric and Patrick, have been visiting his parents, the Frederick H. Gottschalks of Thorpe street.

During their stay, the Richard Jacksons arrived from Hamilton, Ohio, with their sons Richard and Gregory, and Mrs. Gottschalk's sister, Mrs. Guy Haskell came down from Webberville.

Seven women who attended Stirlingham Grade School, Washington Junior High and Pontiac High together dined off school memories Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Janet A. Ringer on Cruse drive, Waterford Township.

Together for the first time in 12 years, were Mrs. Leo Janka of Robinwood avenue, with Jeannine, Marlene and Jimmy; Mrs. Charles T. Hoffman of North Cass Lake road, Waterford Township, and daughter Ann; Mrs. Bruce Reeves of Wallick Lake, with daughters Ann and Kathy.

Mrs. William Humphreys came from Clarkston with her children, Mike, Pat, Tim and Kathy.

Mrs. Lee F. Forrest of Wananaker street, Waterford Township, with Janet, Kenneth and Bennett, also joined the group. They will be moving to Jackson where Mr. Forrest has accepted a teaching position.

Stanley and Lowe Smith came from Dearborn with their mother, Mrs. Stanley Smith. The Smiths will move to Lexington, Mass., in October.

City Commissioner and Mrs. Robert Landry of Center street will observe their silver wedding anniversary at a high Mass at 11 a.m. Saturday, in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

A breakfast for the immediate family at the Knights of Columbus Hall will follow. Friends and relatives will be received at the hall in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Schulze (Gwen Sherrod) of East Southdown boulevard, Birmingham, are announcing the birth of a daughter, Cheryl Lynn, August 8, in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schoensee of Center Line, and the Clarence Byrnes of Kansas City, Mo.

Garden Club Pine Lake Club Gathers for Tennis Gal Luncheon

Thirty-five members and guests of the Better Home and Garden Club met for a luncheon Thursday at the Hammond Lake home of Mrs. Charles Conat.

Mrs. Keith Willoughby of Farmington, District 1 chairman, spoke to the group about gardening and announced this District 1 meeting Oct. 5 in Farmington.

After welcoming Mrs. Marie Parker, membership chairman, the club contributed funds for a silver communion service to be used at the Oakland County Medical Center Facility.

Guests were Mrs. S. C. Keville of London, England, Mrs. Russell Grinnell, Mrs. S. W. Clement, Mrs. A. O. Warner and Mrs. Edith McKee.

Mrs. Harry Winkley was chairman for the day, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Todd, Mrs. Ernest Blumka, Mrs. John Armstrong and Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler.

Mrs. Alex Nield was named trophy winner for this week. Runner-up was Mrs. George McElchaine.

Mrs. Harold Miller, Patricia Horton and Mrs. Thomas Lewis were welcomed as new members. Guests were Mrs. George Green, Janet Ellis and Diane Baker.

Next week members will meet at the home of Mrs. Albert Post for their annual picnic.

Child Care Is Big Problem

With the number of working mothers at an all-time high—there are close to 7½ million women in the "labor force" of 12, reports the Institute of Life Insurance. Beyond this age children presumably begin to acquire enough self-reliance and independence to need a baby sitter less often.

The latest survey by the U.S. Children's Bureau shows that almost 3 million mothers working full time have children under 12—a matter of 5 million boys and girls who have to be cared for.

Fortunately for them, a very large majority receive care right in their own homes while their mothers are at work. Many are placed in the charge of relatives, perhaps a grandchild living with the family, or who has her own home nearby.

There is a feeling in some quarters that a relative who takes care of a youngster on a more or less permanent basis should be paid for his work—and work it is.

But this is something that families will want to decide for themselves. In some instances an elderly relative can well use the extra income, but on the other hand many a grandmother would not accept pay for this kind of work.

As for other arrangements for child care, there are several hundred thousand young children, whose mothers work full time, who are cared for in the homes of people not related to them. Beyond this, only a handful of children, relatively speaking, are so far being taken care of in nursery schools, play groups or day care centers while their mothers work, while 400,000 children are left on their own, to care for themselves while their mothers are on the job. Practically all are over 6; most, presumably, are close to the age of 12.

BUREAU CONCERNED

To alert mothers to make the best possible arrangements for children, the U.S. Children's Bureau has expressed some concern about the quality of care that some children receive while mothers work.

"We know that in many communities services of good quality are lacking," says Katherine B. Oettinger, who heads the bureau. "Despite gains made by states in licensing day care facilities, the best that can be said is that their number is increasing but that certainly both in quantity and quality and supply lags far behind the need."

Miss Oettinger adds that "we have known for a long time that, as a country, we have long since passed the stage when regardless of the pros and cons it is realistic to inquire whether or not mothers should work. Financial pressure is a major factor in a mother's decision to work."

The mother of a child or children under three, who is thinking about employment, may be able to arrange for care by friends or relatives in family homes, as happens in most instances. Miss Oettinger suggests, however, it is important that a youngster receive care comparable with what he gets at home, including considerations of health, safety and emotional environment.

For children between three and five, where home care is not available, group care may provide an answer for a working mother. But, Miss Oettinger says, "in most communities there is no way she can refuse the second man without being rude."

Answer: No, she can only hope the one she likes cuts in soon again.

NEW YORK — The man-of-the-house who can be prevailed upon to mow the lawn only when he wants to practice his golf putting can be stimulated to regular mowing habits with the promise of a "Luau" (pronounced loo-oo) as a reward.

There may still be a few Americans who have not heard of a Luau since Hawaii put the 50th star on the flag, but this festive form of barbecue picnic has spread throughout the forty-eight older states and even crops up in Alaska when it is not too cold. And it has a good appeal, either as a family outdoor meal or an interesting and unusual way of entertaining.

The backyard has come into its own as a result of the Hawaiian influence on American living, although architects have been stressing outdoor living for years. Among the many advantages of the Luau is that it can be conducted on a scale to suit all requirements. It can be elaborate or simple, and even on the former scale is inexpensive. Most of the props are available at the Five-and-Dime.

Just as food is an important part of any Hawaiian ceremony, the American form of Luau stresses the menu. Although easy to prepare, the Luau menu so blends the meats, sauces and fruits that even the simple dishes take on an exotic flavor.

Although Americans have been taking an increasing interest in the Luau, few are aware of its origin. As Hawaiian history is not written down, but passed from father to son, the actual age of the ceremonial feast is obscure. The term "Luau," refers to the leaf of the taro plant as well as to the gala ceremonial, once religious in nature.

In the Islands, a Luau is usually held to celebrate an anniversary, birthday or some personal accomplishment. The guests, on arriving at the grove where the feast is to be held, first say a prayer for the honored guests, then draw a present into a large basket which is made available.

This present may be meat, fruit, fish, an item of clothing or a trinket. At the conclusion of the Luau the guest of honor takes the basket home. Great care is taken by the Hawaiians to insure the beauty of the Luau site, which first has the grass trimmed smooth, then decorated with leaves and flowers. ## Abby Says: Be a Samaritan

Go Talk With Boy's Mother; Plenty to Gain, Little to Lose

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There is in my neighborhood a 13-year-old boy who is all else a young man as you would care to meet. He comes to "talk things over" with me because his father died when he was small.

(I am a 52-year-old man.) Abby, this boy's mother is a fine, intelligent woman (an executive secretary) but she is raising her son's life. She tells him he is "the man of the house." She still picks out all his clothes. She cuts him off from all young people—especially girls. He once asked her why she didn't try to find a nice man and remarry and she told him she was devoting her life to him and she didn't need a husband.

This boy is bright, mannerly and handsome. He years to be a normal 13-year-old boy but is cast in the role of his mother's private property. Would you, if you were I, talk to his mother about it?

JUST A NEIGHBOR DEAR NEIGHBOR: I would, if she is "fine and intelligent," she'll hear you out. Otherwise, she'll throw you out. You've nothing to lose and the boy has so much to gain. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: What would you think if every time you went to visit a certain friend, she put up her ironing board when you got there and said, "I'll iron while we visit." Don't you think it is rude to treat a friend like that?

TIED OF IT DEAR TIED: Your friend isn't ironing for the fun of it. Obviously her ironing is a pressing matter. A "close" friend wouldn't complain. She'd help.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 22 I started dating a married man. We fell in love. I stuck with him for 16 years because I always had the feeling he would divorce his wife. He never did. I am now 38.

I have no friends and no outside interests. My own family won't have anything to do with me.

Please, Abby, tell those nice little single girls for me that if a married man shows an interest in them to run the other way! All I have for my sixteen years is a broken heart, broken promises and a few presents.

TOO LATE DEAR TOO: I will print your letter with the hope that some young woman will read it and profit from your very expensive lesson. It's here for the price of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY: May we say a word in defense of the girls who get a bad reputation because the boys they date stay out almost all night? The parents of these boys should check and find out if their sons are staying out with the girls they date.

Quite Okay to Correct Mistakes

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine was married recently and I sent her a very beautiful silver tray. I received a note from her this morning thanking me for the "lovely cigarette box." I sent her. I made a special effort to send her an especially nice present because of the many favors she has done for me. Evidently the cards were mixed in some way.

Since I strained my budget to buy her such an expensive present, I would like her to at least know about it and not have someone else get credit for it. Would it be proper for me to write the bride and tell her what I sent or should I just let it go?

Answer: It will be quite proper to write or telephone, to the bride and say that some mistake has been made in listing the wedding presents because you have been thanked for a cigarette box instead of the silver tray you sent her.

Dear Mrs. Post: If a man cuts in on a girl when she is dancing with someone she likes very much and with whom she would prefer to keep on dancing, is there any way she can refuse the second man without being rude?

Answer: No, she can only hope the one she likes cuts in soon again.

Who? Louella's Daughter Harriet

Producer to Suffer Opening Night

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—On Nov. 2, along about 7:30 p.m., a diminutive, dark-eyed woman named Harriet Parsons is destined to feel suddenly miserable.

To suffer. Probably to wish, fleetingly and broodingly, she'd never seen New York.

Clairvoyance? Nonsense. Common sense.

"For 20 years I have been producing movies," explains Harriet who, at the moment, feels dandy. "I've suffered through every preview of every picture. Now I am co-producing my first Broadway play—something I've had a year to do for at least a quarter of a century."

"I'm putting whatever talent I have into it. I'm gambling whatever reputation I've earned. Somehow I know when the curtain goes up Nov. 2, I will not be looking at the situation lightly."

Harriet is the daughter of famous Louella Parsons, and a formidable talent in her own right. She has been associated with movie-making since she was four years of age and precocious: "I starred in two movies as 'Baby Parsons'."

"Remembering what a terrible actress I was, I have never been able to criticize an actor."

Yes, despite her lifetime love affair with Hollywood—like her mother, she has written for films, has produced many and has loyally boosted the industry—Harriet loved Broadway.

"Since I was 12, I've seen every play I could get a ticket for. I'd come to New York to publicize one of my pictures and see 21 plays in three weeks. I yearned to produce a play—there is nothing more exciting than a curtain going up—but for the last 20 years I've always been under contract to one studio or another."

This winter she found herself free of commitments, came to New York with an option on a play called "Billy." While she was making preliminary plans for "Billy," someone showed her the script for a Benn W. Levy comedy called "The Rape of the Belt," a sophisticated satire laced with farce, on the battle of the sexes. It setting, the Mythical land of the Amazons. It had run successfully in England for almost a year. And Harriet, who still abhors decorum for enthusiasm when she thinks of it, "flipped."

The male romantic lead, still unofficially cast, will be an unknown, in keeping with a Parsons tradition of discovering fresh, new talent. In her film production of "I Remember Mama," for example, she boosted a script girl to leading lady.

She also found new stars for such Parsons' productions as "The Enchanted Cottage" and "Susan Slept Here."

"One of the greatest joys of producing," she believes, "is finding promising up-and-coming stars. If you can discover a new face, and bring it off, it's great."

Whatever the critics or public say of "The Rape of the Belt," Harriet Parsons will return to Hollywood after the opening of her first play.

"Hollywood isn't the same, you know," she explains. "It's lost a great deal of its glamor, the glamor it had when Hollywood was the dream factory of the world. There is no mysterious legend of Garbo any more. Girls like Lana Turner aren't being discovered in drug stores."

"A lot of very intelligent and articulate people have come into Hollywood. Solid citizens. When a leading man paces the plaza in church on Sunday, that doesn't make for glamorous newspaper copy. But it makes for a much finer place to live."

Another potential producer had an option on the comedy, but Harriet waited, discarded, finally won the property. Scheduled to star in it are such talents as Constance Cummings, who led the London cast; Joyce Redman, Peggy Wood, John Emory, Joe Bova

Trouble May Disappear

Has Perspiration Problem

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q "I am a teen-ager. My hands perspire so much that it is a problem. It is quite embarrassing when I am dancing with a boy. Please tell me what to do."

A. This may come from nervousness. Perhaps you have not been going to dances for long and your difficulty will disappear when you feel more at ease. However an application of Burrows powder added to water will help. Follow directions.

Q "Should a woman wear her bra to bed?"

A. It does not sound very comfortable to me and I suppose it might be irritating in positions assumed during sleep. I suggest that you do not do so.

Q "Could you publish a set of exercises which will tone up a sagging colon?"

A. Sometimes when the abdominal muscles are weak and sagging, internal organs also sag. This would be true of the intestinal tract. Therefore abdominal exercise might be helpful. If you are any of my readers would like to have my abdominal exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Q "Would you please tell me of a really good exercise which will develop the bust? I don't just the exercise in the bust? Is there any food that will develop the bust? I actually have no bust at all but am plenty heavy every place else."

A. The bust has no muscles and therefore we cannot develop them. However the chest muscles which lie underneath the bust can be in-layed.

Q "Does riding a bicycle reduce the thighs?"

A. No, I do not think so, except that all exercise burns up energy and is therefore helpful in a general reduction of weight.

Q "Three years ago I had a baby and did not exercise afterwards. Now I have a large abdomen. It isn't so awfully large but big enough so that I don't like to wear a flat tummy without wearing a girdle? I can't stand them!"

A. Yes, if you are overweight lose the extra pounds and take abdominal exercises faithfully every day.

Lake Cottage Means Lots of Extra Work

By RUTH MILLETT

The next step after the second car for American families will be the purchase of a second home. That's the prediction of the acting president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Before we women start packing up for a second home, maybe we ought to consider the disadvantages of two homes as well as the social prestige of being able to talk about our town house and our lake house or mountain lodge or seaside cottage.

Being responsible for the care and running of two homes, however rustic and sophisticated the second home may be, puts a lot of strain on women—aside from the financial burden it places on papa's shoulders.

There's not only the job of furnishing the second home, from kitchen to family room; there's always the job of getting it ready for occupancy each time it is used. Even having to stock two kitchens with food is a chore. And so is trying to keep clothes for the family at both places.

On top of that, owners of second homes usually find themselves doing more entertaining at their hide-away than they anticipated. Mama and papa feel the need of having adult friends around to keep the week ends lively.

The kids, especially the teenagers, want their friends to visit. So before she knows what has hit her, everybody but mama has time to enjoy the second home.

Mama, herself, is busy cooking for a crowd, looking after not only her own children but their friends, chaperoning, and trying to keep the overrun cottage in some semblance of order.

The second car frees mama from being tied to the house all day. But the second home all too often just means that mama is tied to two houses instead of one.

Miss Reed will wed James I.

If Romans Roamed, Wives Had a Cure

NEW YORK (UPI) — When a housewife in ancient Rome suspected that her husband was two-timing her, she may have made tracks to her lawyer's office. Chances are greater, however, that she beat a path to her local jewelry store.

Roman wives believed that the quickest cure for roaming husbands was to wear an amethyst, a gem reputed to restore domestic bliss in the household of the wearer's family.

VFW Group to Meet at Convention

The 47th national convention of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars will begin Sunday at Detroit's Staller-Hilton Hotel, running through Friday.

Mrs. Beanie Hanken, convention director and past national auxiliary president, has arrived in Detroit to set up activities at convention headquarters.

The convention, sponsored directed by Mrs. Hanken and 37th who has attended as a delegate, will center around the VFW National Home at Easton Rapids for the children of deceased or disabled veterans.

Mrs. Hanken, who holds the keys to 88 American cities, is the only auxiliary officer who has been awarded the VFW's Meritorious Medal for Outstanding Service, an honor usually reserved for U. S. senators and members of the President's Cabinet.

The auxiliary has announced the opening of its 26th annual National High School Writing Contest. This year's theme is "Law and the Free Citizen."

Students in all public, private and parochial schools are eligible to compete for the $2,000 in national awards and additional prizes offered by local and state auxiliary units.

Soft Creamy Candy Can Have Varied Flavorings

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We got acquainted with Mrs. Jennie Pityn over the telephone when she called to ask if we had a recipe for cookies with baking ammonia in them. We finally found one for her and asked her for a recipe in return.

She was most obliging with a choice of several. But she was extremely reticent about giving us any details about herself. So here's her recipe for candy.

CHOCOLATE CREAM CANDY
By Mrs. Jennie Pityn

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 squares cooking chocolate

Melt butter or margarine, add sugar and milk. Heat to boiling and add chocolate. Stir constantly until chocolate melts. Boil for exactly 13 minutes.

Remove from heat, add vanilla and beat until creamy and the mixture sugars slightly around the edge of the pan. Pour into a buttered pan. Cool and mark into squares. This is a creamier, softer candy than fudge. Mrs. Pityn says.

An interesting variation of this candy is to omit the vanilla and add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon to the mixture while it cooks. Mrs. Pityn has also used wintergreen instead of vanilla.

Pride Is an Enemy for Parents to Fight

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

"Should we force our 22-month-old boy to play with other children? He is so dependent on us he embarrasses me. Where other children of his age are outgoing and venturesome Morgan has to cling to our hand when we go out. It worries us."

"As teachers we both have professional experience with children. Yet now we feel hopelessly inadequate . . ."

Are you secretly afraid that you've damaged him emotionally? If so, face the fear. Get yourself the reassurance of a child psychiatrist.

In the meantime, please ponder the idea that parents with "protesting" experience of other people's children can give themselves a very rough time with their own. Not only must they struggle with the usual parental craving for credit-reflection behavior but also feel obliged to prove that their child-raising competence is superior to everyone else's.

This is the pride that is so "embarrassed" that this small boy's uncertainty and shyness challenges your image of what you think you ought to have made of him.

This pride then is the enemy if you can stop being so scared of what you actually are — uncertain, inadequate, not knowing everything but able to wait to discover more — Morgan's uncertainty and shyness will cease to be a humiliation in which you are resentfully involved.

He'll become your small companion in uncertainty. In his reach for your supporting hands, you will see not shameful dependence but the same honest confession of weakness that inspired your letter to me.

His shyness toward other children will not longer appear strange and unwholesome because in it you've recognized your own fear of disappointing people. In place of the mysteriously difficult child who threatens your pride in superior, all-knowing child-raising competence, there'll be a human like yourself.

Because you have learned how to give yourself time to develop instead of wanting all your development accomplished right now, you'll be able to give this baby boy time to develop, too.

Pride is evil because it won't

Rochester Miss Is '60 Romeo Peach Queen

Jody Schafer, 17, Wins Over 10 Titleholders

By LEE WINBORN

ROME—An aspiring young actress and singer, Jody Schafer, 17, of Rochester, last night was named Romeo Peach Queen of 1960.

She was picked over 10 other attractive titleholders in competition staged in the Romeo Junior High School auditorium.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Schafer of 224 W. Auburn Rd., Jo Ellen was the Rochester Kiwanis Club's Independence Day Queen on July 4.

Finally, after over half an hour, their decision was announced.

The new queen is a brunette with hazel eyes whose ambition is to enter show business.

She will take the first step in that direction Sept. 12, when she goes to New York City to polish up her acting with Lee Strasberg, head of the Actors Studio there.

Then she will travel to Hollywood for a screen test at Columbia Studios.

To display her talent last night Jo Ellen, or Jody as she is called, sang "I Can't Say No" from "Pal Joey."

A standing-room-only crowd of over 700 cheered the judges' decision.

Second maid of honor was Barbara Witzke, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Witzke of 308 Auburn Rd., Ypsilanti, Miss Witzke of 1960, she played the accordion.

The contest opened with a brief speech of welcome by Peach Festival Association President George Tuck, after which the girls appeared one at a time to display their talent.

During the competition, they were identified by the names of the judges.

Only after the judges picked the winners were the girls introduced by their proper names.

Following a short intermission, all the candidates returned to the stage in formal attire.

Picked up by spotlights as they entered at the rear of the auditorium.

Then each drew a question from a bowl and answered extemporaneously.

Presiding during both phases of competition was Donald B. Chubb of Romeo.

WAIT BREATHLESSLY

The crowd waited breathlessly as the girls sat on stage, while the judges deliberated.

They were renowned sculptor Marshall Fredericks of Birmingham; Bette Bahr, television's Miss Des Moines; a Detroit newspaper editor Clyde B. Davis; Thomas Marker, landscape painter from Birmingham; and Maurice A. Vincent, Mount Clemens newspaper reporter.

center. She is flanked by her two maids of honor, Barbara Coe, 19, Miss Waterford Township, and Barbara Witzke, 17, Miss Utica. The queen and her court will reign over the 38th annual Peach Festival celebration Sept. 25 in Romeo.

1 Killed, 3 Hurt Newlyweds on Trip in Car Accident to Rocky Mountains

Flint Resident Loses Control of Automobile West of Lapeer

LAPEER—One man was killed and three persons injured, two critically, when the car in which they were riding left the road and hit a tree just west of here yesterday.

Dead was Everett Sides, 50, of Flint, who was a passenger in the car driven by 19-year-old Darlene Sutherland. All the accident victims were Flint residents.

Miss Sutherland and Harold Little, 19, were critically injured, but both were reported in satisfactory condition today at Lapeer County General Hospital.

Less seriously hurt was Sides' wife, Kathleen, 42, who also was hospitalized following the accident.

Witnesses told Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies that Miss Sutherland apparently lost control of the car as she attempted to pass another vehicle on M21 just east of Napeesing Lake road.

Oxford Man Found Dead at Residence

OXFORD—William Cooper of 9 Lakeville Rd. was found dead of a gunshot wound at his home Thursday by Oxford police.

A 12-gauge shotgun was found by the body.

Neighbors who called the police to the home said Cooper had been ill for some time.

BROOKLANDS—Now honeymooning in Denver, Colo., are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Kottmeier who recently exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony at Gettysburg Lutheran Church.

The bride is the former Sharon Sue Doshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Doshman of 2714 Gravel Ridge Rd. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kottmeier of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

For her wedding, the bride chose a Chantilly lace gown accented with seed pearls, sequins and insets of silk illusion. The flowing skirt tapered into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was held in place with a tiera of aurora borealis and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley and pink orchids on a white Bible.

Nancy Jean Dahline of Rochester was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane Demko of Clare, Beverly Meiers of Rochester, Peggy Schmitt of Royal Oak, all cousins of the bride, and Roberta Eldridge of Rochester.

David Hase of Colby, Wis., was best man. Ushers were Peter and Timothy Gray of Rochester. Jerry Hansen of Washington and Herbert Ischopp of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A reception for approximately 60 guests was held at the American Legion Hall, Auburn Heights, following the Saturday afternoon ceremony.

The Kottmeiers will live on Livernois road in Avon Township when they return.

MRS. L. A. VOLBERDING JR.

Newlyweds to Live in Dearborn

CLARKSTON—Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy A. Volberding Jr. plan to make their home in Dearborn after returning from a honeymoon tour of the Smoky Mountains and Florida.

The Volberdings exchanged vows Saturday in a candlelight ceremony at Dearborn Baptist Church. A reception for about 300 guests was held later in the church parlors.

The bride is the former Alfredda Smith, daughter of Dearborn residents Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy A. Volberding Sr. of 7130 Deer Lake Rd., Clarkston.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown of embroidered nylon tulle over satin with a scalloped neckline accented by seed pearls and crystals.

The fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a seed pearl and crystal crown. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade of phalaenopsis.

Mary Bazy was maid of honor and Mrs. Dale Dellman was bridesmaid. Both are from Dearborn.

Former Clarkston resident Lee Perry was best man. The bride's brothers, Ronald and Patrick Smith of Dearborn, were the ushers.

Will Shoot the Works for Armada Farm Fair

ARMADA—An old fashioned carnival, a high-stepping parade of 4-H horses and a gigantic fireworks display will kick off the 88th annual Armada Agricultural Fair here Thursday.

Beginning at 1 p.m. and continuing until the following Sunday night, the fair will offer plenty of entertainment for all age groups.

The more serious business of judging cattle and exhibits will start at 9 a.m. Friday.

Later that afternoon a Little League all-star baseball game will be played followed in the evening by a band concert and a 4-H talent show.

Weekend entertainment includes appearances by Johnny Rivers, Golden Horse Ranch Thrill Show, the WLS Barn Dance troupe from Chicago and the Macomb County Black and White Show.

NOBILITY DUE—There will be plenty of royalty on hand for the festivities too. Reigning nobility includes the fair's king and queen, Richard Moeckle, 18, of Mount Clemens and Delphine Browarski, 18, of 3335 W. 32-Mile Road, Romeo.

Jo Ellen Schafer of Rochester, newly chosen Romeo Peach Queen, will be accompanied by her court of lovelies on a visit to the fair Sunday, Aug. 28.

A $13,000 corrugated steel building designed to house 4-H exhibits will be a new addition this year at the fairgrounds, located on Fair street just north of East Main street.

Following is a complete schedule of Armada Fair activities:

May Vote on Street Plan

MILFORD—Approval of a $130,000 street improvement program may be asked of voters here in the November election.

An attempt to prepare all legal details for the proposed sale of general obligation bonds is being made by Village Manager Oliver Taylor.

Approximately $113,000 of the total project will be financed by general obligation bonds.

Property owners would pay for curbs and gutters fronting their homes and would share the cost of the blacktop with property owners across the street.

Cost estimates for individual property owners have yet to be announced, but it is estimated that the project and gutter construction would average $2.75 a running foot.

Sections of 16 streets and two major storm sewers are included in the proposed project.

Cost to the village has been estimated at about $130,000 but a cash payment of $23,000 could be made by next year, officials said.

This would leave only the $107,000 to be financed in general obligation bonds.

The bonds would be spread over a 15-year period and could be retired without the village taxes being increased.

Should the proposal be approved, it is expected that the entire project could be completed sometime late next year.

Almont Begins Homecoming

Queen Patricia Harris to Be Crowned Tonight; Ball Game Follows

ALMONT—Village boy scouts raised a flag at Memorial Park here today to signal the start of the annual Almont homecoming festivities which will continue through Sunday.

Highlight of today's activity will be the crowning of Patricia Harris as Almont's 1960 homecoming queen at 7:30 p.m.

In the queen's court are Nancy Herr, Diane Kuhn, Susan Laurent and Teresa Herr.

Following the ceremony, a Babe Ruth league baseball game will be played under the lights at the park.

The homecoming parade is the feature of Saturday's schedule. It is slated for 2 p.m.

Old grads will meet on the high school lawn for a reunion of alumni and former teachers after the parade.

Two baseball games, one at 4 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m., will be part of the entertainment which also includes the appearance of a carnival at the village parking lot for the entire weekend.

Modern and old time dancing will be held at the town hall, starting at 8:30 p.m.

Burdette Gets Even With His Toughest Foe

Braves' Hurler Beats Phillies With No-Hitter

Only One Player Gets to First Base but Is Out on Doubleplay

Outside of the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers, no club has been tougher for Lew Burdette than the Philadelphia Phillies in his 10-year National League career.

Yet it was against the Phillies that the lanky Milwaukee right-hander pitched his first no-hitter Thursday night, winning 1-0 and coming within one pitch of a fifth-inning slider that was just a little too close of a perfect game.

That slider, an inside pitch that was too far inside, hit Tony Gonzalez on the shoulder with one out in the fifth, making the Phila rookie the only man to reach base. A strange doubleplay then nailed Gonzalez and Burdette, who struck out three, faced the minimum 27 batters.

It was Burdette, too, who scored the run, getting a double in the eighth inning and scoring on Billy Bruton's two-bagger that beat ex-Brave Gene Cooley.

Despite Burdette's near-perfect performance, the second place Braves remained 7½ games behind front-running Pittsburgh.

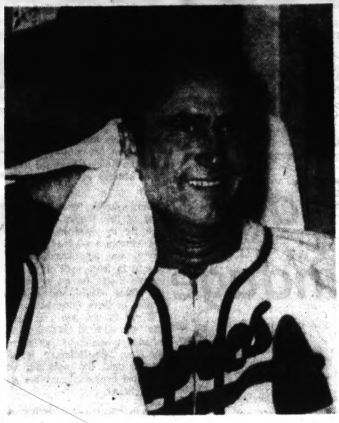

Burdette, finding the no-hitter just a shade less of a thrill than his clinching third victory over the New York Yankees in the seventh game of the 1957 World Series, now has a record of 14 victories and 89 defeats. Nineteen of those losses came against the Phils, a second division club for all but three of his 10 years in the NL.

Only the Dodgers, constant contenders in that spot, hold more decisions over Burdette, winning 30 of 36.

And of his two one-hitters in the majors, one was a 1-0 loss to the Phillies, June 18, 1957, on a misjudged fly ball. The other was a 5-1 victory over the Dodgers, May 12, 1954.

This time, Burdette, 33, had the last place Phils chasing his all-time career, curves, screwballs and occasional fast balls into the ground. Only four were hit to the outfield as he extended his shutout string, losing his 10th against seven batters. The Phils were the ball to come down, was nailed on Joe Adcock's peg to shortstop Johnny Logan as he attempted to make third.

Burdette, 147, and Bruton each had two of Milwaukee's 10 hits off Cooley, who like Burdette, didn't walk a man. The left-hand-hurler, losing his 10th against seven batters, struck out five and had the Braves blanked on eight singles for seven frames.

STUNNED BUT HAPPY — Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves was a stunned but happy pitcher in the dressing room last night after beating the Phillies, 1-0, on a no-hitter. One batter reached first as a hit batsman but he was eliminated with a double play.

Burdette Left Stunned but Still Wisecracker

From Our Wire Services

Lew Burdette, the guy with a constant wise crack, knows today what it takes to leave him stunned and speechless — his first no-hitter.

The 33-year-old right-hander from Nitro, West Va., circled aimlessly and bumped into people in the Milwaukee Braves' dressing room after beating the Phillies, 1-0, with a no-hitter last night.

"I never thought I'd ever do it," he repeated over and over again. He finished talking about the no-hitter when the Braves' treasurer Fran Leary made an appearance to congratulate him.

"Be sure to make those checks bigger from now on," he laughed to Leary.

Burdette faced the minimum of 27 batters but lost his bid for a perfect game on a misfired slider which nicked the left-handed swinging Tony Gonzalez on the right shoulder with one out in the fifth inning. Gonzalez then was erased on a double play.

"I tried to throw Gonzalez inside — but I got it a little too far inside," Burdette said. "With the count 1-1, I definitely wasn't trying to give him a bad ball."

Although noted for his witty asides on the mound, Burdette is a control artist who rarely hits a batter or surrenders many walks. However, when his control is a fraction off, he often allows many hits — even while winning.

"It was different out there tonight," Burdette said while accepting congratulations from clubhouse visitors. "I was mixing up sliders, screwballs, curves and an occasional fast ball. The big thing was that I was putting the ball where I wanted — hitting Del Crandall's target."

He admitted that it has to rank as his second greatest thrill since being obtained by the Braves from the New York Yankees' organization late in 1951.

"This isn't quite the same as the feeling I had when I got that final out in the seventh game of the World Series against the Yankees in 1957," the native Del Virginian said.

Burdette referred to his 5-0 shutout which brought Milwaukee its first and only world title. In that series, Lew defeated the Yanks three times.

Asked if he was worried as his no-hitter went along in the late innings, Burdette said:

"I never thought it could happen to me, so I didn't worry about it. But I was thinking about it — and I wanted it."

Late in the game, Lew had an other thought.

"I thought of Harvey Haddix when he pitched those 12 perfect innings against me last year — and then lost," he said. "I don't know how he could stand it, going all the way and not getting a win to win."

Haddix' 12 perfect innings against the Braves May 26, 1959, was baseball's all-time great pitching performance. However, he lost in the 13th when the Braves scored on Joe Adcock's homer.

Pete Burnside, fighting wildness all the way, listed until the Athletics scored three runs in the sixth, Dave Sider pitched the rest of the way and yielded three more scores in the eighth.

Kalene and Chico Fernandez accounted for almost half of the Tigers' 15 hits. Fernandez tacked three singles onto Kalene's four-hit performance — his first four-hit day of the year — and between them they scored five runs.

The Tigers, who have won six of their last eight, send Bill Fischer out tonight against the Cleveland Indians.

It will be the Indians' first trip to the Stadium since the teams swapped managers — Jimmie Dykes going to Cleveland and Joe Dyer coming to the Tigers. Dykes is undecided on a pitching choice as he returns to Detroit.

He said that either Barry Latham or Bobby Loe would open the four-game series that closes out the Tigers' home stand.

Colavito may miss the game. He was struck on the left elbow by one of Daley's pitches in the fifth inning and will leave the game.

Colavito said he would be all right by tonight, but trainer Jack Homel wasn't so sure. Chisley will have to rest in right field if Colavito has to sit it out.

The two teams will play a single game Saturday and a doubleheader on Sunday — and the Tigers could go over the one million mark in home attendance during the weekend.

"They're certain to top that mark for the 15th time in the last 16 years. The home total stands at 949,618 after 55 home games."

At the Stadium, the Indians' 1959 record was 100-54. The Tigers' 1959 record was 95-59. The Indians' 1958 record was 100-54. The Tigers' 1958 record was 95-59.

AERIAL WHIZ — All-state quarterback Ron Bishop who set a phenomenal passing record for Royal Oak Shrine last year, will be the South team's big weapon in the Oakland County High School All-Star game tonight at Winder Stadium. Bishop passed for 10 touchdowns, five extra points and completed 82 passes in 140 attempts for 1,292 yards at Shrine last season.

Wrestler Flattens Archie

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Archie, the "tag team title of the world," was nearly 15,000 fans roared as Moore leaped into the ring to break up a scuffle and knocked down Roy Shire with three punches in the first round. It was then that brother Ray broke into the act and tagged Archie.

Jack (Doc) Kearns, Moore's wily manager, shouted that Shire had used brass knuckles. Kearns then offered $10,000 if either of the Nick Bockwinkel and Joe Blum-ring three rounds with Moore.

Suddenly Tigers Go on Hit Spree

DETROIT (AP)—Home runs, doubles, triples — those rare gems that the Detroit Tigers only read about for the first four months of the season — finally have become an official part of the game at Briggs Stadium.

The Tigers tagged out eight extra base blows yesterday in dealing the Kansas City Athletics their eighth straight loss. The score was 11-6.

Al Kaline had his best hitting of the season, with two singles, a double and his 12th home run.

Lion's Coach Wants Defense to Nab QB's

The quarterback slot isn't the only question that is puzzling Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson. He is also wondering whether the Lions "have the right guys to knock down a few quarterbacks this year."

In Saturday's game against the Cleveland Browns, the Detroit defensive backfield gave a poor performance, throwing quarterback

Mike Plum for a short nine yards in losses on pass plays.

The Lions coach is determined this outcrop will be increased against the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday night in Toledo, Wilson put the entire defensive backfield to work this week in "operation Reddog," a drill designed to stiffen Detroit's pass protection.

So far, Bill Glass, the 25-year-old linebacker from Baylor, seems to have caught Wilson's eye as a "most consistent" of the Lions' pass rushers. Another 25-year-old tackle, Alex Karras, also has shown promise.

In addition to Glass and Karras, there are veteran end Gil Mains, 36, who is having one of the best starts physically; Jim Weatherall, Sam Williams and 265-pound Roger Brown.

However, the Lions' backfield this year has less experience than at any time in recent years. Two defensive halfbacks were lost by converting Terry Barr to offense and letting Jim Davis go to a coaching job with the Los Angeles Rams.

As a result, of nine defensive backs only Yale Lary, Gary Lowe and Dave Whitfield have more than one year in the National Football League. Whitfield is starting only his third season.

Two of the hardest-hitting tacklers on the squad are second year men Jimmy Steffen and veteran Joe Schmidt. Dick LeBeau is Steffen's counterpart on the left side of the field and behind them are two rookies — Ted Acersman, a rugged Indiana project, and Bruce Mather, a speedster from the University of Detroit.

And back of Lowe at left safety is Jim Norton, a rookie from Idaho, and Warren Rabb, who was switched from quarterback. Whitfield now backs up Lary at right safety.

Whether this combination is the right one should be determined in part tomorrow when the Lions and the Cardinals meet in the University of Toledo's Glass Bowl.

Upper Oakland Team Favored by Six Points

College Scoring Rules Gives South Advantage With Bishop Passing

The North Oakland County All-Star team, with little better depth and balance, has been given the favorites' role in the football classic tonight against the South Oakland County All-Stars at Winder Stadium.

Playing under the free substitution rules will be to the North's advantage. However, the game will adhere to the college scoring rules which will allow two points for passing and running after a touchdown.

With quarterback Ron Bishop of Shrine guiding the South's aerial attack, the scoring rules should favor the lower county schools.

Bishop is a dewdney with his aerials and the South has the receivers with four big ones, John Meadows, 6-5, of Dondero, Fred Wain, 6-7, of Kimball, Gary Wain, 6-7, of Kimball and Paul Bayer, 6-2, of Shrine.

The North is poised with the problem of stopping Bishop's passing. Meadows as receiver and much of his will depend on two of the top linemen in the county, all-star Charlie Brown of Pontiac Central at guard and Jerry Hush at tackle.

Both teams will be using some play book ways. Hush is expected to see two-way duties, as will Bob Christian, one of the North's best backs who is an outstanding defensive player.

Starting quarterback role for the North has been assigned to West Bloomfield's Denis Ali, a good signal caller with average passing arm.

In the starting backfield with Bishop will be LeZotte at left halfback, Mike Glynn of Shrine at right half and Harold Boast big 180-pound fullback from South Lyon.

Glynn, a 170-pounder, resides in Pontiac, but spent his high school years at West Bloomfield.

The South will use Bishop and fullback LeRoy Hill to do the punting and place kicking and Norm Parker of Hazel Park for the kickoffs.

Lew Hart has chosen Denis Ali at quarterback for the North team along with Sam Reeves of Birmingham at fullback, Doug West of Oxford at right half and George Forrest of Birmingham at left half.

This constitutes the North's "Moose" backfield. Isaac Jones, Bob Christian and Bob Hocking make up the "lightening" backfield.

The North suffered the loss of guard Glen McCullen yesterday. The coach who was slated for starting defensive guard position, smashed his foot in ward early in the afternoon and will not be in uniform tonight.

At ends, the North will have John Cline of West Bloomfield and Dick Gentry of Clarkston, and at tackles Jerry Hush of Pontiac Central and Dean Allison of Lake Orion. Jim Tedy of Walled Lake and Charles Brown of Pontiac Central will be the starting offensive guards, and Ken Johnson is set for center.

On defense the North will have Pontiac Northern's George Graves at left half and Walled Lake's Bob Christian at right half, both a pair of top county defensive players.

Many coaches from Midwest and Michigan colleges will be in attendance at the game.

The Most Valuable Player, chosen by the sportswriters and broadcasters, will be donated an award by The Press. Awards to the outstanding player on each team will be made by Michigan Beauty Queen Nancy Fleming immediately after the game.

Kickoff is 8:00 p.m. and the game will be played in 15 minute quarters.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. GARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Never a decent shot from an uphill lie."

DIAGNOSIS: Underclubbing.

TREATMENT: We have already noted that the stance should be changed for a shot from an uphill lie; putting extra weight over on the left side to start with facilitates the weight shift at the start of the downswing.

For many, however, this doesn't solve the problem. More advice is needed about club selection for this kind of shot.

From an uphill lie, you will naturally hit the ball higher and shorter with a given club than you will from a level lie. Nearly all golfers realize this, but not many realize it fully enough.

Even from a slight uphill lie, you should take at least one lower-numbered club than you would for a level lie. If, for instance, the distance calls for a 5-iron, take a 4-iron.

If it is a pronounced uphill lie, take a 3-iron for a shot of normal 5-iron distance. If it is a steep uphill lie, you should take a 3-iron for the same distance shot.

Remember, there is a great tendency to underclub on this shot.

In Women's Sector

Some Job, Street Cleaner

ROME (AP)—Out of Rome's 1,000,000 able-bodied men, only two at any time can enter the guarded gates of the women's section of the Olympic village.

They are:
One doctor. One street cleaner.
"And up to now," explained Hannu Chiba, Lebanese press officer for the village, "only the cleaner has gone in."

Chiba said there had been no serious illnesses among the 280 girls and women currently sleeping behind the eight-foot high steel fence.

He explained that no single doctor had been given the assignment of male physician to the ladies' compound.

"We have a list of about 25," he added, "and if an emergency arises and one has to go through the gates, he will be picked from the top of the list."

When and if a second emergency arises, then Doc. No. 2 will get the nod.

When the games start, on Aug. 25, the female population should reach 800.

The street cleaner—hired by Rome's city fathers—on a rotation system, too.
The charmed pavement-messenger on Thursday's shift was Ugo Longobardi, a married man with five children.

He entered the women's compound shortly before breakfast, gave the few streets a once-over lightly, and went away.

As he left he told an Olympic official that this morning's work was little different than any other.

He said he didn't see any of the lady Olympic athletes and he didn't think any of them saw him.
He said he was unaware and unmoved that millions of men all over the world might envy him his job.

Philosophical Longobardi: "Just ask any of them if they ever cleaned streets."

Knights Clinch Class A Baseball Championship

Rally to Beat Jets by 5-3; 1500 at Game

Second Auburn Team Takes District Crown as Waterford Bows

Coming from behind in the 6th inning, the Knights of Columbus baseballers clinched the Class A city playoff championship at Waver Field last night on a 5-3 verdict over the Jets.

A crowd of over 1,500, the largest in several years here, saw the KC nine combine singles by Bud Thompson, Bob Rabeja and Jim Berg with three errors to pull out the verdict.

The Jets had won the opener of a best two-out-of-three series but the Knights bounced back to pull out the others in late innings.

Berg's double, Tom McCormick's first of two singles and a sacrifice fly by John Burkhardt gave the winners a 1-0 lead in the first but it was short-lived. The Jets roared in front with three in the second inning on an error, walk, Ed Estes' single and a two-run double by Dave Simmons.

K. of C. got one run back in the 4th when Al Barkeley moved around on singles by Burkhardt and the Rev. John Rakocy. It stayed at 3-1 until the wild hit which included heated arguments and a near brawl.

The Jets tried to bounce back in the 7th as pinch-hitter Mike McGilgus and Gene Cox laced out singles sandwiched around an out. But center-fielder McCormick made a running grab of Jones John Lacadem's liner and caught a high fly to end play.

Jerry Taylor, the last of three pitchers, was the winner. Simmons made the field play of the night. The shortstop made a backhanded stop and throw to third for a force-out on an apparent hit. The champions received a large trophy from the Pontiac Gladiators and an award from the Quaker Oats Company. Each player also got a trophy.

In junior baseball, district play came to a close here yesterday with Auburn defeating Saginaw 10-4 in Class F and Roseville in "B" winning.

Roger Hayward and Darrell Thorpe combined to pitch Auburn to a 4-3 triumph over Saginaw totaling 15 strikeouts. Hayward was the winner. Thorpe fanned seven, hurling shutout ball the last three innings. Roseville defeated Waterford 9-4.

Auburn teams will represent the district in state play at Jackson Monday morning with the "D" boys in action at 10 and Class F playing at 11 at Ellis State Park.

NEW YORK (AP)—The final contingent of American Olympic athletes departed for Europe Thursday on the 10th of a series of chartered planes.

The plane carried the basketball squad and part of the track and field team. The athletes are due to arrive in Zurich, Switzerland, shortly after noon Friday, and then proceed to Rome for a week of practice before continuing to Rome.

John Thomas of Boston, who cleared 7 feet 3 and 3/4 inches in the high jump at the Olympic trials July 1, was informed when he boarded the plane that the Soviet track and field coach had conceded him the gold medal in the high jump.

"I think that's a nice gesture," Thomas said, "but actually no one knows who will take first place until the time comes."

Pete Newell, coach of the basketball squad, said his players were making progress in handling the smaller international ball with its more slippery leather cover.

Newell said the team probably will play two practice games in Switzerland to adjust to the way European officials work. He explained the American play generally is more rugged than that of foreign teams.

Among the officials in the St.

member group was Dan Ferris, honorary secretary of the National AAU who is transportation chairman of the American Olympic team. A sixth plane, carrying AAU officials who will help officiate at Rome, will leave Sunday.

In Rome, five hundred Olympic athletes were taken back 24 years Thursday night to the Berlin Olympic Games and treated them with a mixture of catcalls, laughter and shocked silence.

The present day stars turned up for an outdoor movie at the Olympic village. They saw a documentary film of the 1936 Berlin Olympic Games and treated them with a mixture of catcalls, laughter and shocked silence.

As a close-up of Adolf Hitler flashed onto the screen for the first time, a total silence fell on the young audience. Then there were catcalls, laughter and a buzz of discussion.

Members of the joint East and West German team watched without cracking a smile or speaking a word.

"I'm glad to see they're keeping politics out of the Olympics," an American girl said as the camera swept across a sea of arms raised in the Nazi salute.

A while now Olympic generation had a chance to see the great Jesse Owens in action.

When he first appeared on the screen, there was scattered hand clapping from Americans in the audience. By the time Jesse finished winning his fourth gold medal, many in the audience were applauding and shaking their heads in admiration.

Arro Plays Tonight

Langdon's Wins, CIO District Loser

Langdon's Boat Livery won its way into the Class D district softball semifinals last night as CIO was dropping a tough 1-0 verdict in the "B" series.

Langdon's won 32 over Howell at Beaudette Park after being blanked on two hits for six innings.

Bill Lipon started the successful uprising with a single and advanced on a single base prior to the second out. Jerry Langdon ended it all with his second hit.

Norm Tick, who batted one-hit, struck out the first three innings, was the loser. Ray White scored twice for Waterford after a double and walk.

Langdon's returns to action tonight at 7 against Pontiac Boys Club of the Rochester League.

Ferdale and Howell meet at 8:30. The title will be settled Sunday.

CIO goes into the loser's brackets

In Class B at Highland Park hoping to stay alive.

Floyd Hicks fired a two-hitter and struck out 14 yet lost Thursday. A triple and error in the 3rd was all winner Don Webber needed. He also allowed just two singles.

CIO left five runners on base in the last three innings.

Pontiac's Class A representative

Arro Really goes back into action tonight at Mt. Clemens hoping to make up for an opening setback.

3 U.S. Boats in Harmsworth Race

Invade Foreign Waters 1st Time in Many Years

Record-Breaking Runs Loom Today at Picton, Ont. in Famed Event

PICTON, Ont. (AP) — The United States makes its first invasion of foreign waters in 20 years today in quest of the treasured Harmsworth trophy, top prize in international powerboat racing.

An American team of three unlimited hydroplanes is set to challenge the lone Canadian defender, Miss Superst III, at speeds of more than 100 m.p.h.

Superst, with Bob Hayward steering, ended the American hold on the famed bronze plaque a year ago when she upset Maverick in the best-of-three races in Detroit. Hayward drove Superst at an average of 98.98 m.p.h. over the three 4-mile heats at Detroit and in one lap on the three-mile course averaged 109.324.

But all expectations are for wholesale record shattering on the five-mile bay of Quinte course in a Ford of Lake Ontario.

Each of the three American entries—Gale V, Nitrogen and Nitrogen Too — has exceeded Superst's lap record in trials on the Bay of Quinte layout. The five-mile course here has two 2 1/2-mile straightaways and is tailor-made for speed. Gale reached 170 m.p.h. in a trial and experts predict an average speed of 120 m.p.h. may be needed to win the trophy.

As usual, the Harmsworth is a best-of-three event. The second race will be held tomorrow and the third, if needed, Monday. Each race will be nine laps—4 1/2 miles—around the course which is protected from heavy winds by high bluffs along the two straightaways.

The U.S. will recapture the trophy if it wins two of the races, even if different boats win. Gale V, owned by Joe Schoenich of Detroit, will be driven by Wild Bill Cantrell, racing in his second Harmsworth. Sam Dupont of Wilmington, Del., owns the two Nitrogens. Norm Evans will steer Nitrogen and Russ Musson drives Nitrogen Too. Hayward again will drive Miss Superst.

If Gale and one of the Nitrogens win races, bringing the U.S. the trophy, a race off will be held to determine which American owner's club would hold the plaque.

From The PRESS BOX

Jim Piersall of Cleveland was ejected from a game Thursday night for the 8th time this season after arguing over a called third strike.

Defending champion Joyce Patenwak of Hamtramck was beaten yesterday in the women's division of the National Public Parks tennis tournament. Phyllis Saganski of Hamtramck also bowed Thursday. Gerry Dube of the same city is in the men's semifinals Saturday.

Boxing and water polo will be the first sports held on the opening day of the Olympic Games Aug. 25 at Rome.

Two Detroiters won Thursday in the American Tennis Association tourney. They were Gwen McEvans, women's defending champ, and Darnella Everson.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two determined young golfers tee off over the Oaks Country Club course today in an 18-hole match to decide the National Junior girls championship of the United States Golf Assn.

Battling for the crown are Sharon Fladous of Dubuque, Iowa, and Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., both women's champions of their respective states.

Respect Private Lands, Waltons Advise Hunters

FIELD AND STREAM, Mich. persons other than hunters. The UPI—This is a plug, pure but not so simple, for a campaign being conducted by the Izaak Walton League of America.

For the fourth year the league is sponsoring the "Hunt America Time" program which has as its theme, "respect private property — save public hunting."

Hunters in Michigan last year found more land posted than ever before. This year they will find much the same situation.

In addition, a periodic survey recently completed by the conservation department showed that more land is being fenced. Land in the public domain is being transformed into recreational areas for game range is shrinking whether the thought is of it or not.

America is a nation of hunters, from the boy who takes pot shots at pigeons with his sling shot to the "I reload, my own shotgun shells," crank.

An estimated 80 per cent of all hunting in the nation is done on private land. This is a privilege, not a right and the boorish "blobs" who emulate the Huns, sacking and plundering as they go, forfeit the privilege for those who follow.

Basically, the "Hunt America Time" program is a hunter — education program, just one of many being undertaken by a number of agencies including, in some degree, the Michigan Department of conservation.

As if Burdette would be given a bonus in the form of a new contract, Executive Vice President Eddie Tobbits replied: "What for? We're still 7 1/2 games behind Pittsburgh. He was great—pitched himself a terrific ball game. But we're still in need of a place."

A crowd of 80,000 jammed the dockside of this ancient city which once was the Greek colony of Syracuse.

Sicilian and Italian officials made speeches. And then the flame, still burning strongly after its five-day sea voyage, was entrusted to the first 1,147 Italian runners who will carry it up the coasts of Sicily and the Italian mainland to Rome.

The torch is due at Rome's Campidoglio Palace Aug. 24, the day before the Games open.

The first meeting between two big horses from the east and west — Sword Dancer and Dotted Swiss, scheduled for the $30,000-added Arlington Handicap over the grass course Saturday at Chicago.

Look Ahead to Wintertime

If you haven't yet succumbed to the lure of bringing the outdoors indoors, a visit to a plant store should convince you that now is the time to try.

There are literally hundreds of rewarding plants for indoor growing; the chief problem is to pick out the best one for your decorative purposes depending on available light and heat.

Philodendrons are the most widely sold house plants, coming in both vine and potted types. They need a warm, humid atmosphere with north or west light.

If you have a sunny, warm room try a schefflera, rubber plant, or cactus; for a cool room with an east exposure, try fuchsia or ivy.

Hybrid gloxinias are an effective flowering plant and do well in heated homes, provided humidity is high enough. They also need several hours of strong daylight.

For proper humidity, place plants in large shallow metal trays spread evenly with vermiculite, sphagnum moss or pebbles. Keep this material damp — not soggy — and moisture will evaporate into the air around plants.

The highest elevation on the Atlantic Coast is Mount Cadillac, Maine.

Beautify Your Garden With Stone Wall

Homeowners have two reasons for building stone retaining walls. One is, to solve a practical problem, such as preventing soil erosion; the other is, for beautification. Whichever the reason, consider yourself assured that YOU can build a very satisfactory stone wall without calling in a stone mason.

By far the easiest to construct are the dry flagstone walls—dry, because they are built without mortar. As such, they require no footing.

There are other advantages to the dry-stone method. While lack of adequate drainage can wreck a mortared wall within a few years, walls built of loose flagstones automatically provide drainage through the joints.

Also, dry walls are flexible enough to move with the soil as it freezes and thaws, while solid walls will often crack or split apart at the seams. Although portions of dry stone walls may be in place in winter, mending in the spring is a simple matter.

Flagstone was mentioned above actually, natural building stone or any quarried stone is suitable for retaining walls. Your local stone company will sell you waste cuttings, reject building stone broken from quarries, or first-class building stone. The price of the last depends on transportation charges from the quarry.

Preparation and planning are important to successful completion tion of a stone wall. Without it, many hours of hard work may go for naught.

RETAINING WALLS — Erected without mortar or footings, dry flagstone walls are sturdy yet flexible, practical yet handsome.

To determine the height and thickness required of a retaining wall, take into account the pressure that will be exerted on it by the earth behind the wall, generally spreading, the steeper the to glass cutting, and one your stone dealer will be glad to demonstrate for you.

Start by laying the stones on a level bed of well-tamped earth, rather than on loose fill, which will settle. The base course will eventually bear all the weight, so make it firm and a little wider than successive courses.

If you use stones of relatively equal thickness, it will simplify keeping each course level. For variation, though, a few stones the thickness of two or three courses may be placed in the wall at random.

It's good practice to insert bonding stones in all dry stone walls. These stones are usually twice the thickness of the wall and set so that they penetrate the earth behind the wall, firmly anchoring it. Bonding stones should be inserted every four feet or so, and in every third or fourth course of stone.

Joints between stones in any course should be bridged by the stones of the course above. It is also best to lay the stones either level or at a slight forward pitch for better drainage. Insert stone clips under base-course stones that tend to wobble or not lie flat.

Spread soil over stones in each course to provide a "seed" for succeeding courses. Rock garden plants will take root and spread in this soil, but they should be planted as soon as the wall is built.

Besides beautifying the wall, the plants will help keep soil from washing out of the cracks during a heavy rain. There is always the possibility, however, that a heavy rain will wash them out before they take hold.

Take a Gardener's Quiz

Q — Why is agricultural lime recommended for soil improvement?

A — Lime furnishes calcium needed for root development and for formation of protoplasm and proteins. It counteracts acidity and hastens decomposition of organic matter. Be sure to mix it thoroughly with the soil.

Q — Why do the blue hydrangeas fail to bloom despite good foliage?

A — Factors determining bloom include the following: An acid soil enriched with a fertilizer strong in phosphorus. A sunny well-drained location. Pruning of only dead wood in spring. Winter injury of flower buds and overfertilization with a mixture strong in nitrogen are also factors that affect flowering.

Q — Several varieties of our old-fashioned mums bloom so late that the first real frost ruins their flowering? What can be done to hasten their flowering?

A — Discard late bloomers and replace with earlier varieties.

Q — How much sulfate of ammonia should be added to increase the acidity of the soil about rhododendrons and azaleas?

A — ALUMINUM sulfate, not ammonium sulfate, is used to increase the acidity of the soil. The usual recommendation is two to three pounds per 100 square feet of the bed area. To improve the soil mix the aluminum with five times its bulk of cottonseed or soy bean meal.

Q — Have two pyramid planters filled with strawberry plants. Since this is our first venture with strawberries would appreciate advice as to how to protect them from the winter.

A — Other than making certain that the soil is mulched before

EMPHASIZE BEAUTY SPOTS—When lighting a garden at night, the homeowner should concentrate on points of interest. Flood lighting the entire garden gives it a flat appearance. Here statuary and tree, a flowering shrub and a bed of blossoms are accented, using bell shaped, mushroom and flood light fixtures. (Home of Mr. and Mrs. James Fenn, 731 Pleasant, Birmingham.)

Show Off Garden Beauty at Night With Lights

Almost a misnomer because it "Mushroom" type fixtures, for has so many different uses, the example, are excellent for lighting term "garden lighting" is used to denote flower beds. With the reflector describe that group of fixtures whose primary function is to emphasize the beauty of yards and garden into the night-time hours. However, they do provide a good measure of safety and protection, too, when they are used along walk edges, on terraces or patios, or in flower beds near the house.

There are fixtures for every purpose, in shapes and sizes to fit into a display of just about every kind of flower, shrub or tree. Some are disguised to look like large daisies, others look like umbrellas, bird houses, or bells, still others have the appearance of Hawaiian luau torches, or Chinese lanterns.

Mrs. Homeowner can really let herself go in selecting fixtures. They should be used to bring out points of interest. Flood lighting the entire garden is not recommended as it gives a "flat" monotonous appearance. Because night lighting can accent features which are not prominent in daylight it doubles enjoyment and seems to make two gardens grow where only one grow before.

culit protected by a fuse or circuit breaker. Garden lighting fixtures usually use 50 watt lamp bulbs.

Booklets are available with information and suggestions on outdoor lighting of gardens, flowers, shrubs and trees. One may be had free of charge by calling the Home Service Adviser at the local Detroit Edition Office.

Named Deputy Chief of New Target Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Edward N. Parker, a much decorated destroyer commander in World War I, took over the post today of deputy director of the new Strategic Target Office.

The office, with headquarters in Omaha, will select targets behind the iron curtain and decide which weapons would be used against them in the event of nuclear war.

Its director, named Wednesday, is Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander of the Strategic Air Force. He also will continue his SAC duties.

Parker, named by the Defense Department Thursday, is chief of the Defense Atomic Support Agency, a unit specializing in nuclear tests and weapons.

Russia Making Hay With Spy Trial

'Good Red Propaganda,' Say U.S. Editors

By The Associated Press

The Powers trial is viewed by many U.S. newspapers as an all-out Soviet propaganda attempt to sway world opinion against the United States.

The Louisville Times terms the trial a "propaganda sounding board" used by the Soviets to divert attention from their own spying.

The Washington Post: "It is pretty clear that the (defense attorney) had been given leave to build up a good case for leniency or even clemency, in case the Kremlin should decide that either would better serve its propaganda interests."

The Chicago Tribune: "One thing it will not prove is the fairness for (lack of it) in a Soviet propaganda trial."

New York Mirror: "The Soviet Union may not be milking as much propaganda profit as had been hoped for... The world public is capable of separating the propaganda from the truth."

NO VILLAIN!

New York Herald Tribune: "The pattern appeared to be one of presenting Powers as a man exploited by his government, rather than as a villain in his own right."

Philadelphia Inquirer: "Young Powers was condemned long ago. (The Soviets) may not yet have made up their minds as to the course that will reap the greatest propaganda advantage."

Wilmington (Del.) Journal-Evening: "Little by little we can expect to see him (Powers) pictured as an innocent pawn in the imperialist chess game."

Atlanta Constitution: "The Russian heritage of justice is so scant that most Soviet citizens today probably could not understand our horror at what is happening."

Miami Herald: "The (trial's) purpose is double. Half is to make propaganda against the United States... The other object is to make propaganda for the Communists by the way they handle Mr. Powers."

Miami News: "No matter how we justify spying... We still cannot deny the right of the Soviet Union to try him. All of us are standing in the dock with Powers."

Atlanta Journal: "The Russians have us in a bad corner and know it. If Washington has a defense other than blustering indignation, it has yet to reveal it."

Washington Evening Star: "At this stage... the proceedings, when all the circumstances are considered, have been marked by relative fairness and restraint."

Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch: "The Kremlin propagandists slanted the script of this melodrama to appeal... to intellectuals in potentially neutral nations... The mummery of this trial is transparent."

Worcester (Mass.) Telegram: "Moscow propagandist... effect is minimized by the fact that the United States had the courage to admit its ties to Powers..."

New York Journal American: "The main target was international: to exploit him (Powers) as the naive tool of the aggressive intentions of the United States."

NEARING COMPLETION — The outside of the $500,000 Pontiac Public Library building is finished as its September opening date approaches. It'll take about two weeks to move books into Pontiac's newest public building after it is turned over to the city Sept. 15. The library fronts on Pike street (right) and sides on Parke street (left) in the Civic Center.

Russian Legal Expert Predicts

Powers May Go to Labor Camp

LONDON (U.P.) — A Soviet legal expert said today Francis Gary Powers may get a remission of sentence — add in any case will spend the greater part of it in a "modern and pleasant" labor camp.

Lev Smirnov, deputy chairman of the Soviet Supreme Court, gave reporters at a London news conference a description of Soviet camp far less stark than that reported by former inmates.

He noted that Powers was sentenced to 10 years — 3 years in prison and 7 years deprivation of liberty. He added:

"Deprivation of liberty means that a prisoner lives in a place just like an English open prison. There are sports grounds, chess shows, and workshops where a man can go on doing

"Imprisonment as a punishment is of course more severe. The man has much less liberty."

Smirnov had with him a copy of the Soviet legal code. He thumbed through it to Article 44.

"Under this," he said, "a prisoner has to serve not less than two thirds of a sentence."

Prof. B. S. Nikitrov, professor of criminal law at Moscow University, said if Powers works honestly and well, remission will bring his sentence down to 6 1/2 years.

"A lenient sentence, I would say," he commented.

He, too, insisted that labor camps are like the open prisons which Britain set up 10 years ago for long term prisoners.

These open prisons have their own factories and in some cases prisoners take ordinary employment outside the gates.

The two Soviet jurists are attending a U.N. Crime Congress in London.

School Millage for Operation Only in Waterford

Waterford Township School Board members were informed last night by Supt. William A. Shunk that one-quarter of a mill of five mills for school operation approved by voters last year could not be used for anything but school operation.

The previous board had decided to put aside the one-quarter mill — or $18,000 — for school debt retirement. However, the state turned thumbs down on such procedure, and the board reached the resolution.

Several bids for next year's school operational facilities were awarded, and two new teachers hired for the high schools.

Enlarged Big Rapids Hospital Accredited

BIG RAPIDS (U.P.) — Community Hospital, recently enlarged with a 24-bed addition financed by a $250,000 gift from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taggart plus a matching amount in a bond issue, has been accredited for one year by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The new wing was opened last Sept. 8 and remodeling of the original structure followed.

Kennedy in Detroit Next Week — If . . .

DETROIT (U.P.) — Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy has accepted an invitation to appear at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Convention here next week — if he can.

Louis G. Feldmann, VFW commander-in-chief, said Kennedy accepted the invitation by telegram yesterday "subject to the possibilities that my presence may be required in the Senate for a roll call or pressing legislative business."

Vice President Richard Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, is scheduled to address the VFW next Wednesday.

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

How much time does a veterinarian have to spend on his education? Neal Berth of Rosedale, N. Y.

A. Technically, the formal requirements for a DVM (doctor of veterinary medicine) degree is two years of pre-veterinary college followed by four years of veterinary medical education.

In reality, the answer is: a lifetime. It is necessary to study professional journals and attend meetings, such as the 5th annual meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Assn., being held in Denver, Colo. this summer.

Many young people express interest in our profession, but only those who are prepared to go on studying, reading, and learning will derive the personal satisfaction of knowing they are doing their best toward healing God's helpless creatures.

The next time you're near a veterinarian's office, go in and read the veterinarian card. You'll find it informative and interesting.

Senate Gets Plea for Foreign Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two urgent administration requests in the foreign policy field come up for Senate action today.

One would authorize a major economic development program for Latin America, pegged to improving living standards.

The other would increase from 150 million to 250 million the amount authorized for President Eisenhower's foreign aid contingency fund. He asked the increase to help meet crises in the Congo and elsewhere.

Undercurrents Indicate Stock Upturn Soon

NEW YORK (UPI)—Convincing evidence of a turn in the economy may be lacking but the underlying behavior of the stock market suggests that a change for the better is expected, according to L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co.

He notes that more stocks have advanced on the New York Stock Exchange than have declined for 20 consecutive sessions; that there has been a consistent plurality of new highs over new lows; and that individual stocks are responding more easily to good news than to bad.

After Labor day attitudes could be influenced considerably by the issue of the stock market during the next two weeks, Hooper says.

Clark, Dodge & Co. says that despite the lack of support from dynamic elements in the business area, the technical indicators all strongly point toward a recovery into the 540-600 area in the next two weeks.

Increased activity in the lower priced issues is also indicated, it said.

Mo. Judge Rules Wearing Shorts in Public Is OK

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Circuit Court Judge John H. Lucas ruled Thursday a woman is entitled to wear shorts in public and it is improper for a man to make comments about it.

His ruling was made in the case of David Ogeltree, 25, who was fined $50 and assessed court costs on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Edna G. Slaughter testified Ogeltree made a remark about the Bermuda shorts she was wearing when she entered a shop with three women companions.

She said the man slapped her around after she had threatened to call police about the remark. Ogeltree denied hitting the woman and testified she had asked a shop handle and chased him from the shop.

Going as Fast as TB Hospital Space Available

Mental Patient Transfer in Full Swing

LANSING (UPI)—The transfer of mental patients to tuberculosis hospitals in the state is proceeding "as fast as the TB people can accept them," Dr. William H. Kelley said today.

Kelley, state mental hygiene division chief, said 307 of about 500 mental patients scheduled to be transferred to available facilities in TB units in the state are now in the TB hospitals at Gaylord, Hancock, Howell and Kalamazoo.

"We have run into only one problem in the transfer," Kelley said. "The staff pattern in the TB institutions is a little different than the pattern used with mentally ill patients."

Most patients involved in the transfer are bed-ridden and don't require a lot of psychiatric care, Kelley said.

"Where necessary, our employees are providing psychiatric consultation to the staffs in the TB units, but in the case of Hancock the consultation is limited because of the great distance from Newberry State Hospital," he said.

First estimates of the number of patients involved in the transfer called for 500 mental patients to be sent to Howell, 100 to Gaylord, 100 to Kalamazoo and about 50 to Hancock.

Latest reports indicated Howell has accepted 71 patients, 105 are at Gaylord, 83 at Kalamazoo and 81 at Hancock, Kelley said. The mental patients formerly were at institutions at Kalamazoo, LaSalle, Newberry and Mount Pleasant.

"Many of the transfer patients are elderly persons who have no relatives," Kelley said, "but others have posed the problem of concern by relatives who are inconvenienced by the distances involved in the transfer."

Increasing population in the chain continues to keep the waiting list for commitment to mental institutions at a high rate, Kelley said.

Currently, there are 1,231 persons classified as epileptic and retarded awaiting commitment. Another 506 mentally ill adults and 164 children are on waiting lists for the institutions.

"One of the greatest problems at the present time, however," Kelley said, "is the waiting list for space at the Iowa State Hospital for the criminally insane."

"I have a note on my desk right now involving a person ordered committed to Iowa four months ago. He is still in jail."

Like Father, Like Son?

MINNEOLA, N. Y. (UPI)—Richard Noethiger, 36, was charged yesterday with forging five checks totaling $300 to bail his son out of jail. The son, Eric, 18, was under arrest for forgery.

Archeologists Dig
What Will They Find?

WASHINGTON—In the remote southwest corner of Colorado, archeologists are digging into the history of early cliff-dwelling Indians who flourished for centuries, then mysteriously vanished.

The site is Wetherill Mesa, one of the free-studded, canyon-carved hills in 80-square-mile Mesa Verde National Park.

There, through the joint efforts of the National Park Service and the National Geographic Society, a year's work in exploring and retreating cliffside ruins has just been completed.

The first major settlement to be studied and rehabilitated in Long House Park officials plan eventually to open it as an alternate attraction for the floods of visitors now literally wearing out the ruins at nearby Chapin Mesa.

Puzzles Remain
Park Service archeologist Carroll A. Burroughs reveals a wealth of detail on everyday life in stone villages laboriously built into the caves and under sheltering ledges.

But still tantalizingly out of reach are the answers to basic questions raised by the findings.

From about A.D. 600 to 1100, most Indians living in small farming villages on lower elevations moved up into large, complex communities on the mesa top.

What happened in what happened next? The Indians moved again in about 1200 to caves that reached deep into canyon walls. The building problems must have been enormous, Mr. Burroughs points out.

"Just to terrace some of the steeply pitched cave floors must have cost as much labor as building a good-sized village on the mesa top."

In all, some 100 caves have been found—proof of a prodigious investment in time and labor. Yet by 1300 these homes, too, had been abandoned. Their inhabitants mysteriously right off the pages of history.

For centuries, the vast settlements of the Mesa Verde remained undiscovered. Then in 1888, a rancher named Wheeler discovered one of the huge cliff villages while chasing stray cattle.

Soon state corridors echoed to the crash of sightseers' feet. Sovereign hunters and commercial prospectors scoured the ruins for artifacts.

A Swedish archeologist dug entered some of the caves, gathered a large and valuable collection destined eventually to wind up in the National Museum at Helsinki, Finland.

The end of the treasure hunt came in 1906, when Congress created Mesa Verde National Park to give the area federal protection.

The current Park Service-National Geographic undertaking is a major scientific drive to solve mesa mysteries. The job is expected to take five or six years, with still more time needed to evaluate the finds.

From bits of pottery, bones, and animal remains, information on the "Indian" way of life is gradually emerging. Studies of pollen and soil hint at the kind and extent of farming carried on. Hunting apparently went on steadily to supplement a diet of corn, beans and squash.

Of special interest are burial sites uncovered near Long House. "Such discoveries," says Burroughs, "will provide new clues to the customs of the people who once lived here, and may help link them historically with the Present Southwestern Pueblo."

TV News and Reviews

Silent Jekyll-Hyde Adds to Tube's Violent Streak

By DON QUIGO

NEW YORK (UPI)—All right, they're finally doing it. Television came up last night with an adventure show devoted not only to blood, guts, sadism, drug addiction, delirium tremens, the loathsome, life, evil as an end unto itself, howling-mad, sex, nicely dapper, hallucinations, an opium den, loose ladies in a setting where a bottle of wine or a woman can be bought for the same price, but also to:

—One of the most brutal murders, in which the murderer with a club beats and beats, and beats and glows, and grins, and licks over his handwork, and then gives the corpse a final whack in sheer fun.

—A philosophy dealing with "the pleasure of yielding to every temptation."

—A suicide movie.

—A whopper of a land grab, as least five in diameter, crisscrossing around a bedroom where the hero sleeps.

—Johnny Barrymore made up, at one stage, into the most famous profile of the American stage looks like a sickly cross between the faces of Lillian and J. Fred Muggs.

It was a rather dull half hour, but probably a nice one for historians of the American motion picture. The movie was made in 1920, a year which I always had regarded as docile up to now.

But the story was written back in the good old Victorian days. It was first published in 1886, titled "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," by Robert Louis Stevenson.

I'm not sure whether juvenile delinquency waxed or waned in the 1880's, but I don't think Stevenson was blamed one way or another.

SLASHED DOWN

The return of the Great Profile's version of the story was the ABC "Silent Parade" program, which each week takes one of the classics of the silent screen, slashes it down to half an hour, and delivers it with a bit of narration to replace the old caption lines.

Not all the captions were edited out of last night's opus. They left some of them in just for spice. One of which I am particularly fond, goes with a shot of a guy writhing with the DT's. "He thinks he's covered with red ants," it explains.

The silent movie "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" was introduced to last night's audience as "the first great American horror film," and I presume that is correct.

The first horror picture, and reputedly the most important one, shown in this country was "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," produced by Deutsches-Bioscope in Germany in 1919. Traces of it are to be found in all subsequent horror films, according to a book upon my shelf, written by Deems Taylor.

During Barrymore's changes on screen from the noble Dr. Jekyll into the evil Mr. Hyde, he looked several times like his brother Lionel made up for one of his more grotesque roles.

Once he looked something like Frederick March's Mr. Hyde, a role which was March the 1933 Oscar.

Barrymore got more calisthenics into the change scenes than March, though. Whenever he took the first gulp of the potion, he did a gymnastic that would make a blackmailed whip sign a breeze.

And when he got into the open, he traveled the darkling Soho streets at a fast pounce. However, even in the scene with the imposed land grab, he lay abed with the best side of his profile—the left—in audience.

I saw the dog first and then I trembled with anticipation as I lifted my eyes toward the beautiful female who owned it.

Now how did that happen? The owner was a man... and the only one on Fifth Avenue that day in shirt sleeves and work pants.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Ariane Dahl, arriving from L.A., rented two Rolls Royces—one for her luggage... Bobs Rockefeller's having her portrait painted by Salvador Dali... Pretty Yvette Mimieux will be featured in MGM's "Where the Boys Are"... Who said Army experience doesn't come in handy? Elvis Presley does his own tank driving in "GI Blues"...

Talkies Bankhead's wearing a huge Kennedy button as a brooch... Kx-King Farouk ordered an Italian sports car, then had to return it; he couldn't slide behind the wheel... Jane Russell's planning a singing tour of South America... John Wayne of the American Shakespeare Festival claims the show has affected everybody in Stratford, Conn.: "A cop stopped my car and asked, 'Whither goest thou in such haste?'"

Wise I'd said: "That's it: It's during the second month of matrimony that a man starts wishing he'd married the good cooker instead of the good looker... That's Earl, Brother."

We love our West End Avenue apartment... but that neighborhood hasn't been exclusive or fashionable since Roosevelt was President—Teddy Roosevelt.

I picked a Sabbath when the wife was weak from dieting and couldn't go along...

"Men with dogs are always striking up interesting friendships with beautiful women with expensive dogs on Fifth Ave.," I thought to myself.

"Heaven knows what kind of adventure I might have!"

"You're the only dog in town that was taken to his walk today by taxi," I informed him. He shrugged and pretended to be unimpressed, but I could tell as he thrust out his chest and shot to the first flower box that I had gotten through to him.

"Bring on the girl!" I was thinking—and Sammy looked up and down the broad avenue with the same idea.

Sammy and I strolled and strolled. We paused in front of Tiffany's, and then in front of Cartier's, thinking naturally that the beautiful women would come there admiring the gems. We didn't see one dog.

Well, frankly, we were getting discouraged, when it happened. Sammy found a friend. A little bulldog just his size.

I saw the dog first and then I trembled with anticipation as I lifted my eyes toward the beautiful female who owned it.

We love our West End Avenue apartment... but that neighborhood hasn't been exclusive or fashionable since Roosevelt was President—Teddy Roosevelt.

I picked a Sabbath when the wife was weak from dieting and couldn't go along...

"Men with dogs are always striking up interesting friendships with beautiful women with expensive dogs on Fifth Ave.," I thought to myself.

"Heaven knows what kind of adventure I might have!"

"You're the only dog in town that was taken to his walk today by taxi," I informed him. He shrugged and pretended to be unimpressed, but I could tell as he thrust out his chest and shot to the first flower box that I had gotten through to him.

"Bring on the girl!" I was thinking—and Sammy looked up and down the broad avenue with the same idea.

Sammy and I strolled and strolled. We paused in front of Tiffany's, and then in front of Cartier's, thinking naturally that the beautiful women would come there admiring the gems. We didn't see one dog.

Well, frankly, we were getting discouraged, when it happened. Sammy found a friend. A little bulldog just his size.

I saw the dog first and then I trembled with anticipation as I lifted my eyes toward the beautiful female who owned it.

Now how did that happen? The owner was a man... and the only one on Fifth Avenue that day in shirt sleeves and work pants.

Attempt Flying Catch of Falling Satellite Capsule

Leave Hawaii Runway to Secure Space Pill of Discoverer XIV

VANDENBERG AIR
FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Air Force Flying Boxcars left from Hawaiian runways today to try to make a flying catch of the falling space capsule of Discoverer XIV.

The latest Discoverer satellite, launched Thursday, is circling the globe every 94½ minutes, whirling toward what the Air Force hopes will be a new space-age first.

Last week the capsule of Discoverer XIII was picked from the sea near Hawaii by the Navy for the first recovery of an item from orbit.

Today the Air Force hopes to make the first aerial recovery of such an object. The transportation capsule-like rig—tried and failed to land—was the capsule of Discoverer XIII.

They lost it, like baseball outfielders with the man in the eye, because they couldn't get a radio fix on the capsule's beeping transmitters.

As before, the capsule will pop loose from the orbiting rocket on its 17th pass across the North Pole. Forward-driving rockets will slow the falling capsule and then, once in the atmosphere, a parachute is to lower it toward the target area in Hawaiian waters.

Nothing alive

There are only instruments in the capsule—nothing alive. Air Force officials have mentioned possibility of putting a monkey in an early Discoverer shot.

"We don't know if it will go in the next one, or the next one after it, or the next one after that," said an Air Force spokesman. "It all depends on how this shot goes."

Some of the instruments aboard the new satellite are so secret the Air Force won't talk about them. Some, it said, are to provide information to help two upcoming series of surveillance satellites. Others are to gather data for the Navy's anti-submarine tracking of the newest Discoverer.

It was fired here at 12:57 p.m. Thursday—15 minutes behind schedule because of a space traffic jam. The rocket from Discoverer XIII was overhead at about the same time, and the Air Force used it to hurdle past so it wouldn't interfere with tracking of the newest Discoverer.

Reds Rocket Two Dogs Into Space

MOSCOW (AP)—A "space ship" carrying experimental animals has been fired into orbit by the Soviet Union, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

The main purpose of the launching is the further development of a system to support man's life in space, security of his flight and return to earth.

Tass said it added that the animals aboard included two dogs and that the satellite was orbiting at 320 kilometers (199 miles).

The dogs, Tass said, are named Strelka and Belka.

The earth's first artificial satellite with a living thing aboard—the dog Laika—was fired into orbit by the U.S.S.R. in November 1957.

Meet Our First Gal Astronaut

JERRIE COBB

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Jerrie Cobb once said, "I'd be standing in line" for a chance to probe outer space. She may get her wish.

The trim, blonde pilot was named Thursday as the first of 12 women volunteers to pass the rugged tests that America's seven male astronauts passed more than a year ago.

The announcement came in Stockholm, Sweden, from Dr. Randolph Lovelace, the top medical expert in Project Mercury, designed to send a pilot into outer space—and get him back again.

He said in a lecture to the Space and Naval Medicine Congress that the first female into space is still far away.

But he added: "We are convinced that women in due time will take part in space travels and we have already started to compare the test results of prospective female space pilots with those of the men."

"We are already in a position to say that certain qualities of the female space pilot are preferable to those of her male colleague."

For Children in Oakland Heights

Bend School Bus Policy

A precedent of no school bus service for children living within a one-mile radius of a Waterford Township school was temporarily set aside by the Board of Education last night.

The exception to the bus policy was made because of children living in the Lake Oakland Heights subdivision, who would be compelled to walk along busy Walton boulevard to the new David Grayson school.

The action was a result of protests from parents of the 250 pupils living in the subdivision. Schoolmen in the division, led by Superintendent Donald W. Porter of 3577 Mariner Dr., told the board that unless it took action at last night's meeting, that there would be at least 600 protesting residents at the next meeting.

A bus will be scheduled to make several runs into the subdivision to transport the children. This was approved by the board as a temporary stop-gap while continuing proceedings are begun for sidewalks on the north side of Walton.

School districts receive state aid reduced its transportation radius for transporting children who live outside one-and-a-half mile radius of a school.

The board received numerous complaints last year when the state

As a result, the Waterford Board decided to underwrite the cost of the half-mile radius formerly paid for by the state.

Preliminary plans presented by architects Smith & Smith for two additional elementary schools to cost a total of more than one-half million dollars was approved and construction bids will be received September 30. The new schools will be located in the Williams Lake and Ellsbeth Lake roads area, and on Harper Drive near Laine Lake.

A low bid of $7,383 for excavation work on a problem water hole on the Schoolcraft school property was awarded to the Northwest Contractors, Inc. A time limit will be set and there will be a $50 a day penalty clause.

The Board of Education's attorney Marshall E. Smith was authorized to institute condemnations proceedings against Harold Feathergrill of 3850 Aspen St., for enlargement of the David Grayson school property.

Wage Bill Wins in Senate 62-34

Kennedy Hopeful House
Will Okay but Others
Expect Hurdles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed the Kennedy minimum wages bill 62-34 Thursday night with its major provisions largely intact, but the legislation faces uncertain House prospects.

Sen. John F. Kennedy told a reporter he was quite hopeful the House will agree to most of the Senate provisions. But experience on differences between the two branches involving labor legislation in 1958 and 1959 cast doubt on this.

The Democratic presidential nominee was named to head the seven Senate conferees on the bill. He was chief sponsor of the Senate version.

The Senate bill would increase the present $1 wage floor to $1.25 an hour and would bring under fair labor standards act about four million workers not now covered.

The much less comprehensive House bill would fix a $1.15 minimum and cover about 1,400,000 additional employees.

Kennedy headed Senate conferees who dealt with House delegation on a pension and welfare control measure in 1958 and the broad labor regulation bill last year. In both cases it proved difficult for the senators to get the House to do any compromising.

Since then he has been chosen as the Democratic presidential nominee, a status which may or may not affect House members attitude toward his requests.

The House Rules Committee also may be a hurdle to any compromise.

Only 3 to Be Spent in Jail; Expulsion Eyed

Pilot Is Reunited With Wife Briefly Following Passage of Sentence

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union tonight sentenced Francis Gary Powers to prison and then permitted him to see his tearful wife behind the scenes at the courtroom where he was tried for his U2 spy flight.

A military court gave the 31-year-old American pilot a 10-year sentence for espionage but modified that by specifying only three years are to be spent in prison.

The rest of the sentence is covered by "deprivation of liberty." That may mean assignment to a special colony with other prisoners, or possibly expulsion.

It is entirely conceivable that Powers may be sent out of the Soviet Union, where his prison term is finished.

There was nothing official on this, but the feeling among some

Related Stories, Pictures on Pages Two, Thirty

diplomats and correspondents in Moscow is that the Soviet Union at this stage has no special desire to keep Powers after the excitement about him subsides.

The Soviet Union's top penalty for espionage is death by shooting. Prosecutor Roman A. Rudenko asked for a 15-year sentence. Powers' Soviet attorney, poet Mikhail I. Gorkov, asked for less, without specifying the years.

There is no appeal provided for in the Soviet law, but Powers' wife has indicated her intention to carry a personal plea to Premier Nikita Khrushchev if she can see him.

The handsome Virginian showed no emotion when he heard the sentence. He stood with arms folded as he heard an English translation of this outcome of his three-day trial, a trial in which the Soviets tried to condemn the whole foreign policy of the United States in the cold war.

Powers was downed on a May 1 flight which carried him into the Soviet Union at 68,000 feet. The incident led to wrecking of the summit conference and cancellation of the Soviet Union's invitation to President Eisenhower to visit the Soviet Union.

FRANCIS GARY POWERS

Ike Regrets Severity of the U2 Sentence

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today expressed "regrets" over "the severity of the sentence" against U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers. The White House said the President will not drop his interest in the case. Powers was sentenced to 10 years loss of liberty but it was specified only the first three will be served in prison. Eisenhower's feeling about the sentence, and the broad implication that the U.S. government will press Soviets for better treatment of Powers were contained in this statement issued by Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

"The President" has been informed of the sentence imposed on Mr. Powers by the Soviet court.

"He deplores the Soviet propaganda activity in connection with the sentence," the statement said.

"He extends his sincere sympathy to the members of the Powers family."

Hagerty told newsmen: "I think you could add to this that the President and the secretary of state as well as the State Department have been following the trial case very closely and do not intend to drop their continued interest."

U.S. authorities indicated a decision on just what further move the United States might make in Powers' behalf must await further information about the developments in Moscow.

But highly placed authorities made plain they fully intend to push their case to the end.

Downtown Merchants Map 3-Day Fall Festival

A three-day Downtown Fall Festival featuring forecasts of next year's centennial celebration was enthusiastically plotted last night by the Downtown Merchants Association.

The third annual festival is scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 15 through 17. Downtown Fall Days, which has come a little later in the fall the past two years, will be part of the festival this year.

Last night's meeting was the first of its magnitude in fall festival history.

Merchants, led by their legislative committee, adopted initial plans and began developing a program for fall downtown participation, including entertainment and dozens of special events.

"I have never seen this group so enthused," said Norman L. Patterson, festival chairman.

Though bigger and better than last year, next month's festival will have the same serious purpose, he said.

FOR GOOD WILL

"We want to build up good will for downtown because we believe that a better downtown will result in a better Pontiac."

Carnival rides, sidewalk bazaars, displays of farm produce and band music, strolling musicians, amateur stage shows, bands and costumes are traditional fall features planned again this year.

But the merchants are hoping to go all out in special events. They plan to serve a free breakfast of scrambled eggs, pancakes and coffee every morning to 1,000 people.

Nixon's Favored 2 to 1 in 3 S.D. Papers' Poll

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. — Richard M. Nixon is currently favored nearly two to one over Sen. John Kennedy for the presidency in a poll which three South Dakota newspapers conduct on a regular basis.

The poll listed 61.4 per cent for the Nixon-Lodge Republican ticket, 31.7 per cent for the Kennedy-Johnson Democratic ticket and 6.9 per cent undecided. Prior to the conventions, the poll's sampling listed 45.3 per cent for Nixon, 41.7 per cent for Kennedy and 13.1 per cent undecided.

Nixon and Lodge were ahead in the count 58.5 to 31.7 among farmers polled and 64.1 to 30.8 per cent in cities.

The poll has been conducted for several years by the Sioux Falls Argus Leader, the Aberdeen American-News and the Watertown Public Opinion.

The sponsoring papers do not disclose the number of persons polled on any question but have said the count is sufficient to give cross-section representation of the state's citizens.

GM High School Teacher Conference Set at Warren

Opening Monday at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren is the fifth annual General Motors Conference for High School Science and Mathematics Teachers.

The five-day conference will be attended by 39 teachers from Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, New York, Ohio, Illinois, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Those attending from Oakland County area schools include Howard R. Mink, Rochester Senior High; George Montle, Birmingham-Seabolt High; Charles A. Robinson and Nephos M. Volkoff, Bloomfield Hills High; Patricia L. Sargeant, Birmingham-Groves High; and Robert C. Wellever, Fenton High.

Thirty-three of the teachers have summer employment in GM divisions or central offices to give them technical information and work experience helpful in their teaching.

They were selected by the GM divisions and staffs in consultation with local school administrators.

Mink was sponsored by Pontiac Motor Division.

The teachers will see various lab experiments, demonstrations and discuss GM personnel, educational, training, public relations and scholarship programs aimed at aiding both student and teacher education.

Soft Creamy-Candy Can Have Varied Flavorings

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We got acquainted with Mrs. Jennie Pityn over the telephone when she called to ask if we had a recipe for cookies with baking ammonia in them. We finally found one for her and asked her for a recipe in return.

She was most obliging with a choice of several. But she was extremely reticent about giving us any details about herself. So here's her recipe for candy.

CHOCOLATE CREAM CANDY

By Mrs. Jennie Pityn

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup milk or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares cooking chocolate

Melt butter or margarine, add sugar and milk. Heat to boiling and add chocolate. Stir constantly until chocolate melts. Boil for exactly 13 minutes.

Remove from heat, add vanilla and beat until creamy and the mixture sugars slightly around the edge of the pan. Pour into a buttered pan. Cool and mark into squares. This is a creamer, softer candy than fudge, Mrs. Pityn says.

An interesting variation of this candy is to omit the vanilla and add 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. The mixture while it cooks, Mrs. Pityn has also used wintergreen instead of vanilla.

Pride Is an Enemy for Parents to Fight

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

"Should we force our 23-month-old boy to play with other children? He is so dependent on us he embarrasses me. Where other children of his age are outgoing and venturesome Morgan has to cling to our hand when we go out. It worries us.

"As teachers we both have professional experience with children. Yet now we feel hopelessly inadequate."

Answer—Just like Morgan when he clings to your hand. Are you secretly afraid that you've damaged him emotionally? If so, face the fear. Get yourself the reassurance of a child psychiatrist.

In the meantime, please ponder the idea that parents with "professional" experience of other people's children can give themselves a very rough time with their own.

Not only must they struggle with the usual parental craving for credit-reflecting behavior but also feel obliged to prove that their child-raising competence is superior to everyone else's.

This is the pride that is so "embarrassing" when this small boy's uncertainty and shyness challenges your image of what you think you ought to have made of him.

This pride then is the enemy. If you can stop being so scared of what you actually are — uncertain, inadequate, not knowing everything but able to wait to discover more — Morgan's uncertainty and shyness will cease to be a humiliation in which you are resentfully involved.

He'll become your small companion in uncertainty. In his reach for your supporting hands, you will see not shameful dependence but the same honest confession of weakness that inspired your letter to me.

His shyness toward other children will not longer appear strange and unwholesome because in it you've recognized your own fear of disappointing people. In place of the mysteriously difficult child who threatens your pride in superior, all-knowing child-raising competence, there'll be a human like yourself.

Because you have learned how to give yourself time to develop instead of wanting all your development accomplished right now, you'll be able to give this baby boy time to develop, too.

Pride is evil because it won't ever allow us Process. It always insists we must be at the top of the mountain, bypassing the step-by-step Process that takes us there. It's parents' great enemy.

NEW YORK (AP)—The final contingent of American Olympic athletes departed for Europe Thursday on the fifth of a series of chartered planes.

The plane carried the basketball squad and part of the track and field team. The athletes are due to arrive in Zurich, Switzerland, shortly after noon Friday, and then proceed to Bern for a week of practice before continuing to Rome.

John Thomas of Boston, who cleared 7 feet 3 and 3/4 inches in the high jump at the Olympic trials July 1, was informed when he boarded the plane that the Soviet track and field head coach had conceded him the gold medal in the high jump.

"I think that's a nice gesture," Thomas said, "but actually no one knows who will take first place until the time comes."

Pete Newell, coach of the basketball squad, said his players were making progress in handling the smaller international ball with its more slippery leather cover.

Newell said the team probably will play two practice games in Switzerland to adjust itself to the way European officials work. He explained the American play generally is more rugged than that of foreign teams.

Among the officials in the member group was Dan Ferris, honorary secretary of the National AAU who is transportation chairman of the American Olympic team. A sixth plane, carrying AAU officials who will help officiate at Rome, will leave Sunday.

In Rome five hundred Olympic athletes were taken back 24 years Thursday night to the Berlin Olympic Games and treated them with a mixture of ecstacy, laughter and shocked silence.

The present day stars turned up for an outdoor movie at the Olympic village. They saw a documentary film of the 1936 Berlin Olympic Games taken before many of them were born.

As a close-up of Adolf Hitler flashed onto the screen for the first time, a total silence fell on the young audience. Then there were ecstacy, laughter and a buzz of discussion.

Members of the Joint East and West German team watched without cracking a smile or speaking a word.

"I'm glad to see they're keeping politics out of the Olympics," an American girl said as the camera swept across a sea of arms raised in the Nazi salute.

A while new Olympic generation had a chance to see the great Jesse Owens in action.

When he first appeared on the screen, there was scattered hand-clapping from Americans in the audience. By the time Jesse finished winning his fourth gold medal, many in the audience were applauding and shaking their heads in admiration.

Arro Plays Tonight

Langdon's Wins, CIO District Loser

Langdon's Boat Livery won its way into the Class D district softball semifinals last night as CIO was dropping a tough 1-0 verdict in the "B" semis.

Langdon's returns to action tonight at 7 against Pontiac Boys Club of the Rochester league.

Fernandez and Howell met at 8:30. The title will be settled Sunday.

Norm Tick, who hurled one-hit, shutout ball the first three innings, was the loser. Ray White scored twice for Waterford after a double and walk.

Langdon's returns to action tonight at 7 against Pontiac Boys Club of the Rochester league.

Fernandez and Howell met at 8:30. The title will be settled Sunday.

In Class B at Highland Park hoping to stay alive.

Floyd Hicks fired a two-hitter and struck out 14 yet lost Thursday. A triple and error in the 3rd was all winner Don Wetbeck needed. He also allowed just two singles.

CIO left five runners on base in the last three innings.

Pontiac's Class A representative Arroyo really goes back into action tonight at Mt. Clemens hoping to make up for an opening setback.

3 U.S. Boats in Harmsworth Race

Invade Foreign Waters 1st Time in Many Years

Record-Breaking Runs Loom Today at Picton, Ont. in Famed Event

PICTON, Ont. (AP) — The United States makes its first invasion of foreign waters in 39 years today in quest of the treasured Harmsworth trophy, top prize in international powerboating.

An American team of three unlimited hydroplaners is set to challenge the lone Canadian defender, Miss Superstreak III, at speeds of more than 100 m.p.h.

Superstreak, with Bob Hayward steering, ended the American hold on the famed bronze plaque a year ago when she upset Max Erick in the best-of-three races in Detroit. Hayward drove Superstreak at an average of 99.76 m.p.h. over the three 45-mile heats at Detroit and in one lap on the three-mile course averaged 109.34.

But all expectations are for wholesale record shattering on the five-mile bay of Quinte course in a Ford of Lake Ontario.

Each of the three American entries—Gale V. Nitrogen and Nitrogen Too — has exceeded Superstreak's lap record in trials on the Bay of Quinte layout. The five-mile course here has two 24-mile straightaways and is tailor-made for speed. Gale reached 170 m.p.h. in a trial and experts predict an average speed of 120 m.p.h. may be needed to win the trophy.

As usual, the Harmsworth is a best-of-three event. The second race will be held tomorrow and the third, if needed, Monday. Each race will be nine laps—45 miles—around the course which is protected from heavy winds by high bluffs along the two straightaways.

The U.S. will recapture the trophy if it wins two of the races, even if different boats win. Gale V., owned by Joe Schoenheit of Detroit, will be driven by Wild Bill Cantrell, racing in his second Harmsworth. Sam Dupont of Wilmington, Del., owns the two Nitrogens. Norm Evans will steer Nitrogen and Russ Musson drives Nitrogen Too. Hayward again will drive Miss Superstreak.

If Gale and one of the Nitrogens win races, bringing the U.S. the trophy, a race 60 will be held to determine which American owner's club would hold the plaque.

Jim Piersall of Cleveland was ejected from a game Thursday night for the 8th time this season after arguing over a called third strike.

Defending champion Joyce Palewski of Hanover was beaten yesterday in the women's division of the National Public Parks tennis tournament. Phyllis Saganaki of Hanover also bowed Thursday. Gerry Doble of the same city is in the men's semifinals Saturday.

Boxing and water polo will be the first sports held on the opening day of the Olympic Games Aug. 25 at Rome.

Two Detroiters won Thursday in the American Tennis Association journey. They were Gwen McEvans, women's defending champ, and Darnella Eversen.

Iowa, Wisconsin Girls in Junior Title Test

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two determined young golfers test off over the Oaks Country Club course today in an 18-hole match to decide the National Junior girls' championship of the United States Golf Assn.

Battling for the crown are Sharon Fladoos of Dubuque, Iowa, and Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., both women's champions of their respective states.

Respect Private Lands, Waltons Advise Hunters

FIELD AND STREAM, Mich. (UPI)—This is a plug, pure but not so simple, for a campaign being conducted by the Isaac Walton League of America.

For the fourth year the league is sponsoring the "Hunt America Time" program which has as its theme, "respect private property — save public hunting."

Hunters in Michigan last year found more land posted than ever before. This year they will find much the same situation.

In addition, a periodic survey recently completed by the conservation department showed that more land is being fenced. Land in the public domain is being transformed into recreational areas for persons other than hunters. The game range is shrinking whether we think so or not.

America is a nation of hunters, from the boy who takes pot shots at pigeons with his sling shot to the "I relaxed my own shotgun shells," crank.

An estimated 80 per cent of all hunting in the nation is done on private land. It is a privilege, not a right and the booby shot who emulate the Huns, sacking and plundering as they go, forfeit the privilege for those who follow.

Basically, the "Hunt America Time" program is a hunter education program, just one of many being undertaken by a number of agencies including its wing degree, the Michigan Department of conservation.

Burdette's 1-0 No-Hitter Is No Bonus Effort

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Braves right-hander Lew Burdette, who pitched a 14, no-hit victory over the Philadelphia Phils Thursday night, probably won't get any extra money for his effort.

Asked if Burdette would be given a bonus in the form of a new contract, Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbetts replied: "What for? We're still 7½ games behind Pittsburgh. He was great—pitched himself a terrific ball game. But we're still in second place."

Dancer and Swiss Meet in Arlington Handicap

The first meeting between two big horses from the east and west—Sword Dancer and Dotted Swiss—is scheduled for the $30,000-added Arlington Handicap over the grass course Saturday at Chicago.

60,000 Greet Olympic Flame

SIRACUSA, Italy (AP) — The Olympic flame arrived in Italy Thursday night for next week's games.

The sailing vessel Amerigo Vesputti, an Italian navy cadet training ship, sailed into this Sicilian port with the torch that was lighted at Olympia, Greece, last Friday.

A crowd of 60,000 jammed the dockside of this ancient city, which once was the Greek colony of Syracuse.

Sicilian and Italian officials made speeches. And then the flame, still burning strongly after its five-day sea voyage, was entrusted to the first of 1,187 Italian runners who will carry it up the coast of Sicily and the Italian mainland to Rome.

The torch is due at Rome's Campidoglio Palace Aug. 24, the day before the Games open.

Mental Patients Aided by Pictures of Selves

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—A University of Oklahoma associate professor of psychology believes photography may be the key to opening the door to reality for many mental patients.

Dr. Floyd S. Cornelison Jr. says pictures of themselves help patients to take the first step toward self-knowledge, considered valuable for mental health since ancient times.

Dr. Cornelison hopes to justify his theory with a project financed by a $15,000 grant from the National Association for Mental Health.

His controlled and expanded study will involve healthy subjects as well as mental patients who consent to cooperate in the project. A pilot study performed by Dr. Cornelison and colleagues at Boston State Hospital before he joined the Oklahoma medical faculty in 1958 is the basis for the present project.

The professor said every mentally ill person he showed a personal photograph to recognized himself. Even catatonic patients who were mute and rigid "perceived these self-images and had feelings about them," Dr. Cornelison said.

Patients who subsequently showed improvement talked about the pictures. One catatonic man, when he finally spoke, said that previously he had thought about how he felt when viewing his pictures and had wanted to speak, but couldn't.

A woman, photographed when she was deluded, disheveled and incoherent, tore up the picture and later said her husband she didn't want to be like that. Within a few days she was noticeably improved.

In the new project, color motion pictures with sound, will be taken to get a more realistic presentation. The OU researcher says sound movies pack much more "wallop" than still pictures.

Just how much help the project will give is still a mystery, but the fact that patients tend to focus their attention something for a moment is, in itself, a major accomplishment, Dr. Cornelison said.

Red Brown Bear Joins Landlubbers

LONDON (UPI)—A Russian brown bear will end his seafaring career as a mascot and go to the Moscow zoo at the end of the current voyage of the Soviet freighter Angares, its crew said yesterday.

"The bear is not dangerous, but he has eaten all our toothpaste and climbed over the fresh paint," one ship's officer said.

CHINA DOLL.—Not much larger than a resident of fictional Lilliput, this tiny little girl is undergoing an examination at the University Hospital in Taipei, Formosa. She is 8 years old, but just 2 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs a mere 13 pounds. She was found in the city seeking aid and support her ailing mother. Dr. Hwang Fe-yue demonstrates that his hand is larger than the girl's head.

Resort Owners Giving More Than They Receive

PIEDMONT, S.D. (UPI)—Forty-four years ago, John and Marie Honerkamp started a tourist camp here with three tarpaper-covered shacks and a hothouse.

Their motto: "Whatever you take out of life, just put a little more back."

The Honerkamps' Covered Wagon Resort in this Black Hills community, 15 miles north of Rapid City is now big enough to have its own heated swimming pool. It's growing larger all the time. And so is its proprietors' circle of friends.

But of all their friends, John and Marie are particularly proud of those who are blond members of the Sioux Indian tribe. The Honerkamps are adopted members of the tribe, too, because most of that "little more" that they have "put back" has gone to help the Sioux.

Like many other South Dakota residents of German descent, some are still missionaries on reservations. John Honerkamp had long been interested in the Sioux Indians.

So, as he tells the story, it was only natural that he should invite some of them to come to his resort during the tourist season and exhibit their tribal dances for visitors.

Members of the tribe, like Paul Apple, now 42, were happy to accept the invitation because, according to Apple, "Johnny has always been our friend."

Around the campfire at the resort, or around the fireplace in the big lodge that Honerkamp built himself from pine logs on his own land, the Indians dance every other night.

SHOW NOT ENOUGH.—But, in keeping with his motto, Honerkamp wasn't content with just "putting up a show."

Each dance night, the lanky, ever-smiling host tells his guests the story of the Indians in this area—how the "Lakota" branch of the Sioux had a century ago been driven by the advancing whites from their rich lands in Wisconsin and Minnesota to the less-desirable country of western South Dakota.

He recalls the slaughter of the buffalo, the discovery of gold on Indian land in the Black Hills, the march of American troops and the uprising that led to Custer's Last Stand in Montana.

And then Honerkamp brings the story down to the present—telling about the 14,000 Sioux who survive out of the 75,000 of pre-Civil War days who are concentrated on the Pine Ridge Reservation. Most are jobless, existing on meager crops and a government dole.

"This is not their fault," John tells the enthralled guests. "It's ours."

The Honerkamps help by passing the hat after the dances—and by the "Christmas Project." This project involves asking his motel guests to send him any surplus clothing "found around the house in the fall when the kids start back to school."

IT HELPS.—"We'll sort it and a trucker friend will take it to the reservation," the host explains. "It makes me and Marie feel better at Christmas, and it will you, too."

Last Christmas, seven tons of clothing were sent to the Honerkamps at Piedmont. This year, they hope to get double this amount.

Apple and his fellow Sioux appreciate the mittens, socks, shirts and pants that find their way to Pine Ridge by way of the Covered Wagon Resort.

"The old folks who remember what happened years ago are still bitter about the whites," Apple said. "They don't like their grandchildren to go to the white man's schools. But support like we get from Johnny is helping smooth things over."

Most of the clothing is distributed on the reservation through the privately-operated, self-supporting Holy Rosary Mission, a boarding school at Pine Ridge, S.D., operated by the Rev. Lawrence Edwards, S.J.

"We feel that through these means we are showing our love and affection for our fellow men," concludes John Honerkamp. "I've got a lot of life. And I'm proud to put that 'little bit back.'"

Enlarged Big Rapids Hospital Accredited

BIG RAPIDS 45.—Community Hospital, recently enlarged with a 24-bed addition financed by a $250,000 gift from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taggart plus a matching amount in a bond issue, has been accredited for one year by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The new wing was opened last Sept. 8 and remodeling of the original structure followed.

Catholic Priest, 52, Dies in Mountain Accident

DACHAU, Germany (AP)—Father Leonard Roth, Roman Catholic priest who ministered many thousands tortured in the Nazi Dachau concentration camp, died in a mountain accident in Vorarlberg, Austria, Aug. 15, friends said Thursday. He was 52.

Details of the death were not immediately known here.

Father Roth was imprisoned by the Nazis in 1941. As camp priest, he not only gave spiritual comfort to Catholics but to many other prisoners.

Although Vermont is an agricultural state, Springfield, Vt., is a major manufacturing center which has lent its machinery and equipment to the war effort.

Prosecutor Near End of His Case

Finch Retrial Logs Its 8th Week; Defense IsAwaiting Turn

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution today called witnesses to tell about Carole Treggio's arrest several weeks after her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, was jailed on charges of murdering his wife.

With the eighth week of the murder trial of the couple ending today, Chief Prosecutor Clifford C. Crall launched the final part of his case.

Crall had only to call Las Vegas, Nev., police officers and several other witnesses to explain how authorities slowly came to believe Carole, 33, was a co-conspirator with Finch.

Finch was arrested the day after the shooting in the Las Vegas apartment he had rented the previous month for Carole. The red-haired former model was not arrested until she had testified at Finch's preliminary hearing weeks after the July 18, 1959, slaying of Mrs. Barbara Jean Finch.

Crall said he hoped to end up his case by the end of next week.

The defense then would open its case, with the 43-year-old Finch expected to be the first witness.

New Party Qualifies

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A group calling itself the National States Rights Party qualified with the Alabama secretary of state Thursday to put a list of 11 presidential electors on the Alabama ballot in November.
