Woman Fatally Shot

Berkley Mother Slays Bride of Four Months

Met Death Today

MRS. WYVONA D. CRENSHAW

A Berkley mother of one shot and killed the wife of the man that spurned her love in a quiet Independence Township neighborhood near Clarkston this morning, according to Oakland County sheriff detectives.

Dead is Mrs. Wyvona Delores Crenshaw, 33, of 6230 Snow Apple Dr., a bride since January.

Being held prisoner at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for investigation of murder is Mrs. Wayne (Sue) Lawrence, of 2652 Oxford St., Berkley. She is the mother of a nine-year-old son, Wayne.

According to Mrs. Bessie L. Singleton, the victim's mother, Mrs. Lawrence had dated her son-in-law before the Crenshaws were married.

Mrs. Lawrence, according to a caretaker at their Berkley home, left home this morning about 9:30, saying she was going to the dentist. Lawrence, part owner of the B and L Collision Shop, 15110 Schaefer Ave., Detroit, was at work.

A sobbing Mrs. Singleton told sheriff detectives that at about 11 a.m. her daughter's son by a previous marriage, Ronald J., 9, heard the door bell ring.

He went to the door followed closely behind by Mrs. Singleton. Mrs. Lawrence was quoted as saying very calmly: "I want to talk to your daughter alone" to Mrs. Singleton.

Ronald and his grandmother both called Mrs. Crenshaw from a back room in the one-story, ranch-style home owned by Mrs. Singleton, a 54-year-old widow.

Mrs. Singleton said she then went into her bedroom to get dressed when she saw her daughter and the woman go into the kitchen.

Mrs. Singleton continued: "I suddenly heard a bang, bang and at first I thought my grandson was playing with paper caps."

Mrs. Crenshaw's husband, Donald, 26, was at work with the Goodyear Service Store, 30 S. Cass Ave., Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Hearing the shot, Mrs. Singleton told detectives and State Police that she ran into the kitchen, from where the noise appeared to have come from, and met Ronald standing and pointing his finger at Mrs. Lawrence.

"You shot my mother," Mrs.

Rescue 16 Hostages in Montana Prison

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — Fifty heavily armed National Guardsmen stormed the Montana State Prison under cover of bazooka, machinegun, and rifle fire early today to smash a rebellion and rescue 16 hostage guards.

Three other die-hard inmates who holded up with their ringleaders surrendered to the helmeted troops who surged into the compound. Their surrender marked an end to the furious pitched battle.

TWO WOUNDED

Two National Guardsmen were wounded. Lt. Francis Pulliam of Missoula, Mont., was shot in the right hip and the right leg. His condition was not serious. The other guardsman was wounded but did not require hospitalization.

Warden Floyd Powell said Jerry Myles, about 50, and Lee Smart, 19, had placed the muzzles of their rifles to their heads and pulled the triggers.

Myles was a burglar with a long criminal record. Smart was convicted of murdering a Colorado salesman.

They and three others had retreated to the northwest tower when the guardsmen made their spectacular assault at 3:45 a.m.

FIRED BAZOOKA

Guardsmen called on them to surrender. Three convicts came out with their hands up. The troops again called on Myles and Smart to surrender. When they got no response, they fired a bazooka shot at the tower.

★ ★ ★

The bodies of the two holdout convicts were found when the guardsmen moved into the smoking ruins.

★ ★ ★

The troops poured a withering barrage of fire into the cellblocks where the convicts centered their resistance earlier. There was a spattering of return fire which quickly ended.

Floodlights came on. The 36-hour rebellion was over.

In its wake, the prison's deputy warden was dead. He was shot to death when the convicts seized control at the dinner hour Thursday. A guard was stabbed and later freed.

STRUCK IN FACE

Weekend Forecast Cloudy and Cooler

Partly cloudy and cooler is the weather outlook for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be about 44.

Sunday and Monday are expected to be mostly cloudy and continued cool with a chance of a few showers. Tomorrow's high will reach 55.

Winds west to northwest at 14-20 miles an hour today will diminish tonight and tomorrow.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 60 degrees. The mercury rose to 72 at 2 p.m.

Orders Ferndale School Principal Be Reinstated

Tenure Commission Votes to Place Street Back in Job

Dr. Scott W. Street, whose demotion to visiting teacher status Feb. 2 set off a barrage of protests from Ferndale residents has been ordered reinstated to his former job as principal of the Paul L. Best School in Ferndale.

The 42-year-old educator had appealed his demotion by the Ferndale School Board. The demotion, by a 5 to 1 vote, came the night after Street was honored at a party given him by 400 friends.

The three-member commission ruled Street should be protected from arbitrary dismissal, "during the contract period even when the provision excludes tenure," said Juste A. Rosati, commission chairman.

"The Tenure Act does not contemplate dismissal of administrators in midstream without just and reasonable cause," Rosati explained. The ruling is expected to have far reaching effects if upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Elton Mavon, school board president, said the ruling would be appealed to the high court. Street was accused of actively campaigning for "progressive education" by the "conservative" board.

Street was ordered reinstated until his contract expires June 30, but Mavon said Street would no doubt continue as a visiting teacher until the Supreme Court rules on the new appeal. The ruling was not expected before the expiration of Street's contract.

Pontiac Central Defending Title at Mansfield

By H. GUY MOATS

MANSFIELD, Ohio — The 28th annual Mansfield Relays, one of the nation's top prep track events, got underway this morning under the threat of rain.

Qualifying began at 10:00 a.m. and one of the first highlights took place in the high hurdles event in which Warren Cawley of Farmington set a new Mansfield record.

He took the 120 yard high hurdles in :14.2. The former mark was :14.3.

Pontiac Central, which was the first non-Ohio school ever to win the Mansfield Relays in 1956, also won the title again last year.

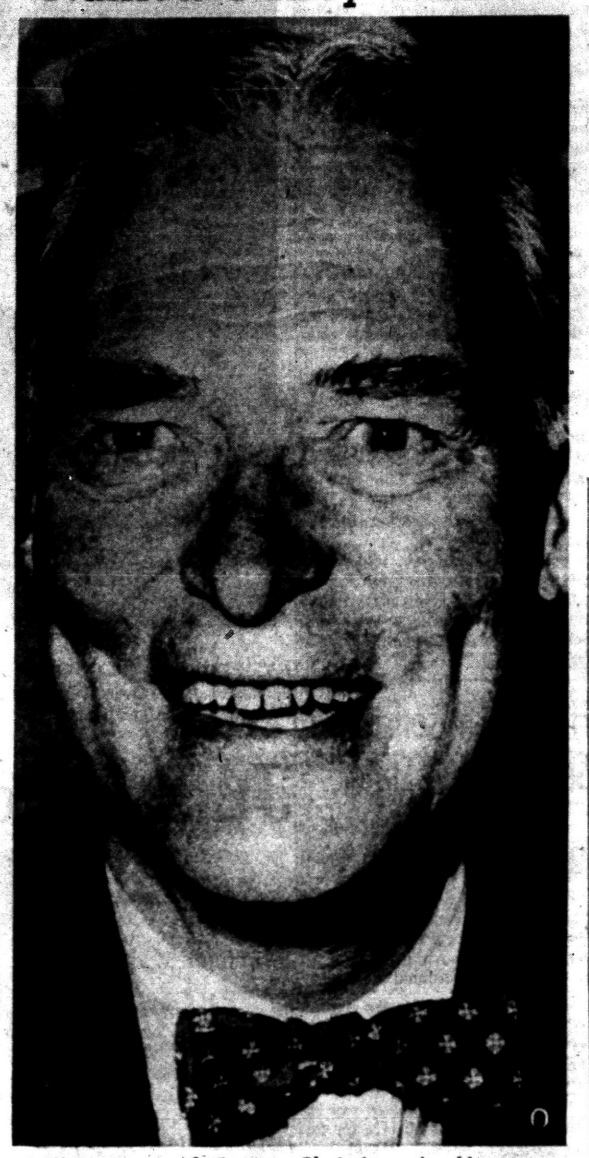

The defending champion Chiefs have a 14 man squad entered this year but during the morning events not a single PCH tracksman qualified as yet.

Bill Ratcliffe tossed the shot put 50 feet 6 inches and Charley Brown tossed it 49-feet-9½, but the two distances may not hold up for qualifications.

A total of 130 schools with 1,639 tracksmen started the preliminaries last night. The finals will be held late this afternoon.

Kentucky Guard Officer Tours Troubled Coal Fields

WHITESBURG, Ky (AP) — Adj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams of the Kentucky National Guard begins a tour of strikebound coalfields today with guardsmen ready to move at his call.

Gov. A. B. Chandler said Williams would visit trouble spots in seven counties of eastern Kentucky where two men have been killed at nonunion coal mines.

Chandler mobilized two National Guard battalions after the death Thursday night of James Otis Adams, 41, a coal truck driver and part time mine guard.

The union said before the guard was alerted that it was abandoning a peace agreement made with operators last Saturday.

Carson Hibbits, president of UMW District 30, charged the operators did not act in good faith when the agreement was signed. In turn, operator Stamper Collins of Hazard said, "We were not taken in by the treaty."

Chandler said Williams has full authority to move the troops into the area if he feels it necessary. He said meanwhile the two battalions totaling more than 600 men will stay in readiness.

Two other battalions have orders to stand by.

The governor had put the Guard on alert last month after pickets reportedly threatened to rush a loading ramp in Letcher County.

Adams' death followed by 16 days that of nonunion coal operator Woodrow Smith. Smith was shot down near his small mine in Knox County. Five UMW members have been indicted for murder in the death and two others charged as accessories.

★ ★ ★

The strike began March 9 after operators of truck mines and coal loading ramps refused to sign a new UMW contract. It calls for a $2 a day wage raise to $24.25 and a protective wage clause prohibiting the buying of coal produced at less than union pay.

More than 7,000 miners have been idled.

Prince Akihito, Bride Bow to Shinto Gods

ISE, Japan (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito and his commoner-born bride Princess Michiko bowed low before Shinto's highest gods today to report their marriage under towering cedars at Ise Grand shrine.

★ ★ ★

White robed priests and imperial attendants stood nearby as the imperial newlyweds paid homage first to the goddess of food; Toyouke Okami, and later to the sun goddess Amaterasu.

★ ★ ★

Rolls of silk cloth and other offerings were in place on the altars as the prince and princess went through the 26 century-old rites clad in western attire.

Akihito, 25, wore striped pants and tails, and Michiko, 24, an ankle-length white dress and hat.

This major formalities of the marriage will be completed Sunday.

Will Keep Same Team to Promote U.S. Peace

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Christian A. Herter today was named by President Eisenhower to be the new secretary of state.

Herter is being elevated to the Cabinet to succeed cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles, who resigned last Wednesday.

The President announced his intention to send Herter's nomination to the Senate next week. Swift confirmation has been predicted.

Herter was asked whether he plans any change in U.S. foreign policy.

He replied with a smile he does not want to get into that matter until he has been confirmed.

The new secretary, 64, also declined to speculate on who will succeed him as undersecretary.

TO USE SAME TEAM

He added, however, that he believes it is "a reasonable assumption that the same team will carry on."

Herter formally announced that at Eisenhower's personal request, put to him last Monday, he had undergone a complete physical checkup at Johns Hopkins University Hospital at Baltimore, Md.

Herter said he had not been informed yet regarding the results, but White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty chimed in that the medical results were satisfactory in every way.

"Everything is fine," Hagerty said.

Herter has suffered from arthritis of the hips for the last several years. There has been some concern as to whether he would be up to standing the grueling burden of the office.

Herter was flown to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters this morning by helicopter from his plantation at Green Pond, S. C. Herter arrived there Friday from

Fire Damages Dryden Stores

Loss Set at $60,000 Following Five-Alarm Blaze Yesterday

DRYDEN—Five fire departments fought a blaze in the heart of this small Lapeer County community early last night which caused between $60,000 and $70,000 damages to three businesses on East Main street.

Dryden Fire Chief Robert Weingartz said the fire apparently started near the back entrance of Muir Brothers Funeral Home at 5514 E. Main St. The flames gained considerable headway before they were discovered coming from an upstairs window, he said.

The upstairs of the two-story brick funeral home which housed furniture, was gutted and considerable damage was caused downstairs due to smoke and water.

There was extensive damage also in an adjacent building, the Masonic Temple above Reynolds Market at 5508 E. Main St. The market was also damaged by smoke and water.

Part of the wall of the funeral home fell on the roof of Faulds Confectionary store at 5518 E. Main St. Records of the Post Office, next to Faulds store were removed by Postmaster Carl Sterner, and the building was vacated at the height of the fire.

Harvey Meirow, a volunteer fireman, suffered electric shock while training water on a burning building before the power company turned off the current. He was taken to Almont Community Hospital for treatment of burns and shock.

Assisting the Dryden department were fire-fighting units from Metamora, Attica, Almont and Imlay City. The fire, which started at 5:30 p.m., was brought under control in about two hours. Dryden firemen stayed all night to see that it did not start again.

Cause of the blaze had not been determined, Weingartz said.

Orion Woman Killed by Car

Steps Into Path of Auto From Curb; Driver, 17, Not Held

A Lake Orion woman was killed instantly last night when struck by a car near her home on Broadway street at Converse court.

Oakland Highway Toll in '59 15

Lake Orion Police said Mrs. Mattie Berger, 68, of 416 Broadway St., stepped from the curb into the path of an auto driven by Katherine Sheldon, 17, of 87 Highland Rd., Lake Orion.

The car was traveling at a normal rate of speed in the 35-mile-an-hour speed zone and the girl had no chance to stop in time to avoid the accident, police said. Mrs. Berger was pronounced dead at the scene by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. E. Arthur Calkins.

The accident occurred at 7:40 p.m.

Mrs. Berger had been a linotype operator for the Oxford Leader and the Orion Review.

Jobless Bill Faces Defeat

State Dems Order GOP Measure Killed, Plan New Version

LANSING (AP)—House Democratic leaders say they will order quick death next week for a new Senate-approved version of a bill to extend temporary unemployment compensation.

The amended bill, the product of nine days of negotiations by a House-Senate conference committee, is scheduled for a vote Monday night in the House. Democrats are virtually certain to reject it.

"Then we'll start all over again asking for a simple extension of TUC benefits for 13 weeks," said Rep. Joseph V. Kowalski (D-Detroit), House Democratic leader.

While Republicans and Democrats haggle over the new proposal, some 28,700 jobless workers whose benefits ran out earlier this month, stand helplessly on the sidelines. They'll be eligible for continued benefits once the bill is enacted.

★ ★ ★

In a related development, Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) said he would seek assurance from Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, that "organized labor does not intend to make use of the unemployment insurance funds for strike subsidies."

Regarding the income tax program, Gov. Williams today faced a mass attack by Republican leaders accusing him of ducking out on his own plan.

The blast followed introduction of a graduated income tax bill yesterday by Rep. Sallade, maverick Republican. Rep. Walter H. Nill (D-Muskegon) was a co-signer.

Except for different rates and exemptions, it was virtually the same tax program proposed by the Democratic governor on a statewide telecast Jan. 30.

Plainly miffed by Sallade's move, which removed the necessity for Williams to come up with a bill, GOP spokesmen rushed to disclaim any support and to accuse the governor of shying away from his own program.

Herter Qualified for Dulles' Job by Brilliant Achievement Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Christian A. Herter, now the new secretary of state, is a Paris-born Bostonian with a bow tie who believes the United States must pursue "a positive approach which accepts competition and danger as elements of survival."

The 64-year-old Herter sounded this theme at West Point, N.Y., on Dec. 3, in his last major speech before taking over in February as acting secretary for the cancer-stricken secretary, John Foster Dulles.

Herter, a lanky six-and-a-half-footer who is hobbled by arthritis, has been accumulating stature for his new job since he began a successful diplomatic-political career at age 22 in World War I.

In the 43 years since he became an attache at the U. S. Embassy in Berlin in 1916, Herter:

—was accused momentarily by German officers in World War I of being an American spy. He diplomatically talked his way out of the misunderstanding.

SAW RED DANGER

—after the 1918 armistice, detected and relayed to the State Department evidence that beaten Germany was on the verge of going Communist. His report opened the door for emergency shipments of food to the German people that ended that danger.

★ ★ ★

—helped Herbert Hoover as secretary of the American Peace Mission and later served as Hoover's personal assistant when the ex-president was commerce secretary in the Coolidge cabinet.

★ ★ ★

—was speaker of the Massachusetts State Legislature, then served in the U. S. House of Representatives from 1944 through 1952.

—served two terms as governor of Massachusetts.

—became the embarrassed subject of an unwanted "Stop Nixon" vice presidential boom launched in 1956 by Harold E. Stassen before the Republican National Convention. Herter disavowed Stassen's drive to win him the vice presidential nomination and personally nominated Nixon as Eisenhower's running mate.

He was born in Paris on March 28, 1895, just next to the Luxembourg Gardens in Paris. His parents were expatriate artists of the Henry James type with wealthy backgrounds.

His German immigrant grandfather, who came here in 1848, had established himself in Texas and New York rather than the Back Bay country.

When he was 9, Herter was brought to this country by his uncle, head of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons. Eleven years later, he was graduated from Harvard, cum laude, and had ambitions to be an architect.

A friend sold him on diplomacy

What Happens 'Inside' When Convicts Riot?

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — What goes on inside a prison where armed convicts are in command?

Some break things. Some go into strange orgies of hate. Some eat and drink anything they can lay hands on. And some just stare at the outside world that symbolizes their wants.

As night fell on the riot-torn Montana State Prison, lights came on inside the cellblocks behind the 20-foot-high walls.

Silhouetted against the windows, heads appeared, sometimes singly, sometimes in groups. These were convicts, as curious about activities outside as prison officials and newsmen were curious about activities inside.

DANCE OF DERISION

★ ★ ★

"Shoot me, you — — — I dare you to shoot me!"

Then he dances away.

The red-haired warden, Floyd Powell, sleepless through 48 hours, is asked if the inmates have access to narcotics.

"No, not narcotics. Some medication taken from a cabinet in the deputy's warden's office. There were cold tablets, pills and the like there, but no narcotics."

★ ★ ★

Powell said there is a possibility the convicts may have made a batch of home-made brew from materials found in the prison kitchen.

CHAPLAIN BARRED

Father Gerald Lynam, the prison chaplain, asked twice Friday to enter the prison. Each time the warden refused.

"The mood they're in, no one would be safe in there, father," Powell told the chaplain.

How long will it last?

Do you plan to use force to break the rebellion?

Singleton said she heard Ronald yelling at Mrs. Lawrence.

Then a scuffle ensued, Mrs. Singleton said, between her and Mrs. Lawrence when the Berkley mother is believed to have shot herself in the leg with the same .25 caliber automatic Colt pistol she is accused of using in the shooting of Mrs. Crenshaw.

Mrs. Lawrence was being treated for this shot in the leg at a Pontiac hospital.

Mrs. Singleton said Mrs. Crenshaw "had been bothered" lately from calls from Mrs. Lawrence, and that Crenshaw had told his wife of four months "not to worry about the other woman."

After the scuffle with Mrs. Singleton, in which Mrs. Singleton said she couldn't remember hearing the pistol going off, Mrs. Lawrence ran out of the house, got into her car, and drove off fast.

Dick Griffin of 4360 Marcus St., Waterford Township, said she spotted the woman drive up to the gas station where he was working this morning, at the corner of M15 and Dixie Highway, and she asked to use the phone.

"She appeared very upset and kept repeating over and over, 'I've got to use the phone and call a doctor!'" Griffin said. He said he didn't notice whether she had been shot.

Griffin said the woman said, "I've shot somebody," and then collapsed.

Griffin and another station attendant, James Law, carried the woman across the street to the Clarkston Medical Center where she was treated for the wound by Deputy Oakland County Coroner Dr. R. W. Bullard of Clarkston.

Police were then called and Mrs. Lawrence was transported to the Pontiac hospital.

A worker at the Detroit collision shop where Lawrence worked said Lawrence had been notified by detectives to come to Pontiac immediately to the hospital.

A neighbor girl living across the street from the Singleton home, Karen Highlen, 13, of 6235 Snow Apple Dr., said she was playing in the yard when she spotted Mrs. Lawrence drive up in front of the Singleton home.

"While I was there I heard Mrs. Singleton screaming for my mother to come and help. My mother wasn't home so I ran over to see what was the matter," Karen said.

"She said her daughter had been shot," Karen told a reporter.

Mrs. Singleton, who said her daughter and son-in-law were "so much in love," said that during her scuffle with Mrs. Lawrence she said, "Let go of me and call the police."

"I told her to let go of that gun first," Mrs. Singleton said. "She was fighting like a tiger."

She said she was expected back home about 1 p.m.

Guardsmen Quell Revolt at Prison

as Backman, was struck in the face by a rifle butt.

Held with them during the rebellion were five convicts described as "stool pigeons" because they had informed prison officials on their fellow convicts. Their fate was not determined.

Four bazooka shots were fired. Their booming explosions rocked the entire area in the early morning darkness.

The bazookas, normally an anti-tank weapon in warfare, shelled a gaping hole in the south wall of the north cellblock where the hostages were held.

National Guardsmen stormed into the compound and quickly took control of the scene. Floodlights bathed the area as the sporadic firing waned and died. Clouds of tear gas climbed into the crisp air.

Guard Laurence Cozzens, one of the hostages, said they were concerned by convict threats to douse them with naphtha and turn them into human torches in the event an armed assaul: was attempted.

"We heard the convicts yell, 'They're coming in,'" he said.

"We got mattresses and held them up to the bars of the cells to keep them from throwing in the naphtha. We heard the bazooka shots, then some running.

"We were still holding up the mattresses when we saw a National Guardsman. He told us to get them out of the way. He opened the cell, and we left on the dead run. We ran through the main cellblock and out through the woman's quarters."

Herter Chosen to Be Secretary of State

Herter walked into the room without the lightweight metal crutches he frequently uses, but he had left them in a nearby office.

"I just want to announce my intention to nominate Mr. Herter for secretary of state," Eisenhower said on arrival.

Then the President added that the nomination will go to the Senate early next week.

Herter's first major assignment will be attendance at the conference of Western foreign ministers to be held in Paris starting April 29. He will go on from there to Geneva for that same group's meeting commencing May 11 with the Soviet Union's foreign minister.

Herter said the main purpose of the Paris conference will be to coordinate the position of the Western powers in advance of the Geneva meeting.

Hatcher Lauds Soviet Teaching in English Field

MOSCOW (AP)—Touring University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher spent his first week in Russia going to school.

He likes what he has seen. Hatcher and the rest of those in his group have visited several Soviet higher education institutions. They have attended classes as observers at Moscow University and reviewed teaching at the Pedagogical Institute.

"I am amazed and gratified at the high standards of their English instruction," said Hatcher.

The Michigan president was once an English professor at Ohio State University.

Among those from the University of Michigan touring Russia with Hatcher are William Dewey, a Russian language expert and Lyle Nelson, vice president for public relations and a journalism professor. William Pine, Ford Motor Co. scholarship director, also is on the tour.

The party plans to visit Leningrad next week and return to Moscow in time for May Day celebrations. Hatcher will be in the U.S.S.R. for a month.

Burning of Leaves or Rubbish Banned

A ban on burning leaves or rubbish was put into effect at 2 p.m. yesterday by the Michigan State Conservation Department.

No burning permits will be issued until further notice, said Marvin Hartwig, forest fire officer for the department.

"Until there is a good soaking rain, anyone who sets fire to an open field, lawn, or debris may be subject to a fine up to $100 or face 90 days in jail," he said.

Within the last two weeks, there have been approximately 300 grass fires in Oakland County, mostly due to careless burning of rubbish, Hartwig said.

Broomfield Says He's Opposed to Nepotism

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) charged today that House Democrats were only giving "lip service" to legislation to prevent congressmen from having relatives on their government payrolls.

"I will definitely support any anti-Nepotism legislation," Broomfield said, "but I doubt anything will be done by this Democratic-controlled Congress."

The measures they've introduced only scratch the surface, he said.

"I've never had any relatives on my payroll," Broomfield said. "It is open to inspection."

Not only should payrolls of congressmen be open to public inspection, but those of senators, too, he said.

Judge Dondero Can Still Blow a Mean Trumpet

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

During the depression days of the early 1930s, the Royal Oak High School set was bouncing madly to the lindy hop and music of Lloyd Gabler's Hi-Hatters.

"We were the talk of the town," recalls newly elected Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dondero, a trumpeter with the 9-piece dance band.

Twenty-five years later and a little rustier, eight of the original "Hi-Hatters" are back at it, much to the dismay of some wives.

"I take a dim view of the whole thing," Mrs. Dondero interjected from the kitchen where she was preparing dinner for her lawyer husband and their three children.

PHOTO FORBIDDEN

Jokingly, Dondero teased his attractive bride of 18 years that he planned on having the revived "Hi-Hatters" play at the swearing-in ceremony next Jan. 1 when he will lay aside his trumpet and take his oath as circuit judge of Oakland County.

Dondero pulled a picture from behind the living room couch to prove the old high school gang was back together again. Irma Dondero apparently won't let her husband hang the picture in the Dondero home at 1504 Vinsetta Blvd., Royal Oak.

"It all started up again a year or so ago when a brother of one of the members suggested it might be a clever idea to reorganize and play for the reunion of the 1935 Royal Oak High School class," Dondero said.

"I told him he was nuts, for I hadn't played the horn in 20 years," he said.

Now about once a month Dondero and the others get together and just toot for the fun of it. "We nearly laugh ourselves sick between numbers," Dondero said.

He got the idea for the original dance band and earning "a little pocket money" while he was a member of the Royal Oak High School orchestra.

"I was too small for anything but scrub football so I got with the band and stayed with it," Dondero, a 1933 graduate, said.

But Royal Oak and county residents know him more for his performance before a judge than for razz-a-ma-tazz on his trumpet.

The entrance of the native-born Royal Oak Dondero into the legal profession in 1941 is a typical like-father-like-son relationship.

"I always felt that I wanted to become an attorney like my father," he remarked. His father, George A. Dondero, Oakland County's congressman for 24 years and Royal Oak's first attorney.

TAKE ANY CASE

In private practice since 1946, Dondero, who resembles his father in looks, describes himself as an attorney who will "take any two dollar job that comes along."

However, through his 13 years of practice out of an office he shares with his father in the Washington Square Building, Dondero has handled mostly probate, corporation and property cases.

He loves to recall the Julius Herring case of 1947 in which he won the first zoning case ever filed against Royal Oak. He won out also in an appeal of the case to the State Supreme Court.

When he closes up shop in the evenings he enjoys the role of a typical family man. The Donderos are a closely-knit family of five (six including Gretel the family's pet Dachshund).

Come winter, he and his wife, Irma, Mary, 16, Margaret, 12, and Jimmy, 7, journey up to the Otsego Ski Club near Gaylord and spend leisurely weekends on the snow-covered slopes. All ski together.

However, Dondero himself had to stay off the skis this past winter. He was too busy campaigning for a spot on the Circuit Court bench.

LIKES GOLF TOO

Then, too, there's some dispute about who beats who—husband or wife—on the golf links on the Red Run Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Although Dondero left the politicking to his 75-year-old father some of his father's success in being re-elected 11 times to the U.S. House of Representatives showed in the younger Dondero winning his new position.

But he likes to feel it was more attributable to his record as an attorney rather than being a Dondero.

For the 43-year-old University of Kentucky and University of Michigan Law School graduate, it represents his first elected position.

"Politics was never for me," he says. "Some Republicans once approached me to see if I wouldn't succeed my father, but I quickly turned them down."

★ ★ ★

He looked back on the times as a youngster when he would tag along with his attorney father, before he became a congressman, when the older Dondero came to Pontiac for motion day in Circuit Court on Mondays.

"I guess I used to drive dad crazy with all my questions about law so he decided I should see for myself," he said.

Besides this, he recalls, when he was six years old he would walk the two blocks to his father's old office "and watch everything my dad would do in a case."

"Can you see now," he asked "why law is the only thing I can remember since I was a little tot."

During those trips with his father on Mondays, he was introduced to such past Oakland judges as Glenn C. Gillespie, Frank Covert, James Lynch, and Att. Clint McGee — "who dad told me knew more about the law of evidence than any lawyer in Oakland County."

★ ★ ★

"It was big doings in those days, as I guess it is now, for a youngster to meet the judge," the new judge-to-be recalled.

Congressman Dondero returned especially from his duties in Washington in September 1941 to move his oldest son's admission to the Bar.

BROTHER AND SISTER

Stanton has a brother, Robert 36, a Royal Oak sash and screen businessman, and an older sister, Mrs. Glenn (Marian) Wilson of Grand Blanc, wife of a Buick Motor Co. official living in Grand Blanc.

Dondero got the taste of what goes on in a courtroom by serving as court clerk for the late Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick just before and after his admission to the bar. He was admitted before Judge Hartrick.

He had just opened his practice in Royal Oak in 1942 when he accepted the position as city attorney for Hazel Park soon after it became a city.

★ ★ ★

However, World War II interrupted this job. In May 1943 he entered the Navy and was commissioned. He saw more than a year of combat in the Pacific as a communications officer while assigned to the flagship of a bombardment cruiser division.

★ ★ ★

Discharge papers were handed Lt. (j.g.) Dondero Jan. 13, 1946. It didn't take him long to put his uniform in moth balls and return to the business of searching out clients back in Royal Oak.

Today he holds the reserve rank of lieutenant commander.

When he's sworn in the first of next year, beside him will be an old college roommate, legal fraternity brother, and graduate of the same 1941 Michigan law class. His name: Frederick C. Ziem, another of Oakland's newest judges.

BOY IS PROUD

★ ★ ★

Jimmy, who with the aid of a junior printing press turned out campaign material on his dad to the neighborhood and schoolmates, thought all his efforts were in vain the morning after the election.

★ ★ ★

"I heard him wailing, moaning, and carrying on in his room early that morning," his father said.

"He'd seen some incomplete returns and thought I had lost," Dondero remarked. "He and I both felt a lot better when I called and found I had made it."

The Day in Birmingham

Traffic Accidents, Injuries Trending Upward Here

BIRMINGHAM — The traffic picture in Birmingham shows a constant upward trend in accidents, injuries and property damages this year.

Police Chief Ralph Moxley reported 52 accidents last month resulted in $21,570 property damages. This is almost three times the number reported the same month last year.

Last month 10 persons were injured in nine accidents.

The quarterly report shows 185 accidents and $53,270 in property damages. There were no fatal accidents.

The first quarter of 1958 had a total of 132 accidents and $36,700 in property damages.

Moxley said it is quite apparent that both greater caution and courtesy must become common practice for local drivers. He added that right-of-way violations and following too close have been consistent leaders in accident causes.

James L. Pratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Pratt of 16162 Wetherby St. has received one of the Rockefeller Doctoral Fellowships in religion. He is presently attending the Department of Religion at Yale Graduate School.

The 40 awards are given to graduate students studying religion throughout the United States and Canada. They are planned to permit students to devote their full time to studies as they prepare of seminary teaching.

Mrs. Henry M. Stahl will be installed as president of the local Alpha Omicron Pi chapter at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Kreasky, 1867 Raymond Place, Bloomfield Hills.

Other officers being installed are Mrs. John Kaatz, vice president; Mrs. Charles Starr, treasurer; Mrs. Rupert Wells, secretary.

Plans for a May 2 party honoring their husbands will be completed. The group also will discuss preparations to assist a summer camp program for the Muscular Distrophy Foundation.

Birmingham Democratic Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Community House. The public is invited to hear a talk on future planning of the city by Herbert Herzberg, city planner.

WILFORD JOHNSTON

Service for Wilford Johnston, 53, a former Franklin resident, will be held at 1 p.m. Monday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will follow in Franklin Cemetery, Franklin.

Mr. Johnston died Tuesday at the Veteran's Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz. following a long illness.

Surviving are his wife, Suzanna; two daughters, Mrs. Walter Johnston of Franklin and Mrs. B. Bertrand of Detroit and a brother, Wellington Johnston of Franklin.

Herter Earned Job by Fine Record

at a 1916 class reunion and his career of government service was under way.

It was interrupted in the 1920s when he helped edit a journal once edited by Theodore Roosevelt and a swank magazine called The Sportsman. He also lectured on international affairs at Harvard.

ENTERED POLITICS

In 1930, Herter entered politics. He ws elected to the State Legislature from the blue-stocking Ward 5 of Boston. As speaker of the chamber, he has been described as "one of the three smartest men ever to sit on the rostrum."

Benefitting from a newly gerrymandered district, Herter went to Congress and in a five-term career won the reputation as being the "Vandenberg of the House."

His major accomplishment came when, in the 80th Congress, which was still strongly tinged with isolationism, he led a special congressional delegation to postwar Europe which led to acceptance of the Marshall Plan.

It was mainly because of this that Herter was named the Outstanding House Member of the Year by a national publication.

★ ★ ★

He was tapped to run for governor of Massachusetts in 1952. As an early Eisenhower backer, he won handily and then increased his margin two years later when other GOP candidates were losing in the off-year elections.

★ ★ ★

Stassen, unsolicited and unasked, came out for Herter to replace Nixon on the 1956 national ticket. Herter won political praise for the equanimity he showed in politely but firmly letting Stassen sink on his own.

In February 1957, he succeeded Herbert Hoover Jr., son of his old boss, as undersecretary of state.

HAD PROBLEMS

GM Announces Pay Cuts at Top

Corporation Executives Had Salary or Bonus Reductions in 1958

DETROIT (AP) — Fourteen of General Motors Corp.'s top executives received cuts in salaries and bonuses last year, the automobile firm announced yesterday.

The slashes continued a trend toward reductions for top officials started four years ago. All 14 executives are directors of the corporation.

The figures were released in a proxy statement to the firm's more than 740,000 shareholders of common stock. A stockholders meeting has been scheduled for May 22 at Wilmington, Del.

Frederic G. Donner, who became board chairman at mid-1958, received $174,758 in salaries and fees. He also received a cash bonus payable in five yearly installments of $198,750 in 1958.

President John F. Gordon received $141,200 in salaries and fees and a bonus of $172,500.

The statement showed GM paid 63 directors and officers a total of $4,344,735 in cash bonuses for 1958 and $4,138,759 in salaries and fees. The salary figure was about the same as 1958 but the bonus total was down.

All figures were before federal or state income taxes.

Confirmation Assured

Herter Appointment Hailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators today praised the appointment of Christian Herter as secretary of state and predicted prompt Senate confirmation.

★ ★ ★

"I hope we will confirm this appointment quickly and settle the matter once and for all," said Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant Democratic leader and a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"I think he is an excellent appointment and will carry out his responsibilities with candor and courage," Mansfeld said.

Mansfield and Herter both came to the House in 1943 and have worked together on many public matters.

★ ★ ★

Herter has had strong backing in Congress for the appointment.

His selection to succeed the ailing John Foster Dulles had been expected for several weeks.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass), a longtime friend and political associate of Herter who is a former governor of Massachusetts, said Herter "has the complete confidence of the President and the Congress.

"I know he will make an effective leader of the State Department."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), a member of the Foreign Relations Committee which normally must act first on the nomination, said Herter's selection "is the logical one since he had been named to head the U.S. delegation to the foreign ministers' conference."

"I think he will perform the job well," Aiken said.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said Herter "will provide the nation with astute, well-qualified standard bearer of our foreign policy."

Herter as under secretary of state, Wiley said, has acquired an intimate knowledge of the principles of the nation's foreign policy and "the basic issues that are 'on the line' in the free world struggle against Communism."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky), former ambassador to India, said "I am confident that Mr. Herter, by reason of his experience in the field of foreign affairs, his good judgment and his fine intellectual ability, will make a great secretary of state."

★ ★ ★

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said Eisenhower was to be commended for his wise choice.

Morgan added that Herter's public service "has all been of a nature to give him outstanding qualifications for this extremely important post at this period in world affairs."

Air Reserve Pioneers 'Home' Training

"What we hope to do in the future is take the "tour" out of what we've always called our active duty tour," explains Capt. Dodge G. Melkonian, the unit's information services officer.

The two-week active duty tour is a compulsory training period each year for ready reservists. It is not required of stand-by reservists.

This is the first time any reserve members have served their two-week training period at home. Before they had to leave their families for the two weeks of training at an air base or training school somewhere in the Midwest, possibly several hundred miles away.

THREE GOALS

"Our goal is three-fold," says Lt. Col. John L. Underwood, squadron commander. "First we hope to establish a program of hometown men serving in their hometown.

"Secondly, we hope to recruit more men, raising our present personnel of 70 to 100. And last, we feel it is more important to our own unit to have the men training here, learning skills while working for the local squadron."

The two-week training period, which began April 6, ends this weekend. So far, according to officers, the plan has worked out admirably.

★ ★ ★

Other Officers in the training group are Capt. Fred J. Donaldson, administrative officer, and Capt. Thomas H. Williams, assistant training officer.

GMC EXECUTIVE

Lt. Col. Underwood, who lives at 4935 Paton St., Drayton Plains, is busy with supervisory duties setting up training plans, calling staff meetings, working on schedules and coordinating activities at the center.

★ ★ ★

He is taking time off from his civilian job as supervisor of the GMC Truck and Coach Division parts and accessories merchandising department.

Capt. Donaldson, who lives at 3100 W. Long Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township, has been busy filling out many forms, strength reports, the unit's military payroll and keeping higher headquarters informed of the civilian and military progress of squadron members.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Melkonian is putting in his two weeks training in the many phases of public relations, contacting newspapers, radio stations, and other news and publicity media.

Melkonian, of 354 Ascot St., Waterford Township, is assistant advertising manager for the Federal Department Stores.

Capt. Williams, of 885 Romeo Rd. Leonard, is production engineer at the Chevrolet Division Plant, Warren, when not in uniform.

He has been making out plans and outlines of the training schedule during the coming year. His duties include the ordering of training manuals, examination forms, reservists and arranging for proper correspondence courses.

BENEFITS CITY TOO

As an example of local benefits of the "at home" training, Underwood pointed to one of Melkonian's jobs.

Earlier this week Melkonian went to Selfridge Air Force Base to arrange for a jet "flyover" during the coming Memorial Day Parade in Pontiac. "This is a good example of how the program is benefiting Pontiac and our own squadron."

20 Race Horses Killed in Blaze at Leamington

LEAMINGTON, Ont., (AP) — Twenty valuable standard bred horses were destroyed in a $200,000 fire which swept stables at the Fairgrounds here this morning.

There was no indication of how the blaze started.

This Essex County town has become a winter mecca for harness horse activities in recent years.

More than 130 horses wintered here this year. It had been expected that several hundred would return after this summer. Several strings had been removed out in the past few days, trimming the possible loss.

Michigan Airman, Other Killed in Cycle Crash

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A motorcycle went out of control, crashed into a rock wall and brought death to two young airmen from Michigan and Iowa yesterday.

Orville E. Robey, 21, Des Moines, and Edward J. McPherson, also 21, of Montrose, were the victims.

CAN YOU WEAR CONTACT LENSES?

Here Are Important Facts About Kindy Contact Lenses!

"ARE CONTACT LENSES FOR ME?"
Yes, almost everyone can wear contact lenses. Our contact lens specialist carefully considers each case; if you can't wear contact lenses, you'll be told the truth! What's more, you actually have the opportunity to testwear contact lenses before you make up your mind.

It Seems to Me . . .

Peripatetic Reporter Spanked on Various Subjects by Readers

Would you be interested in some of the mail that kicks me around? Here are a few excerpts.

"Lay off, Williams, stupid. He's ten times as bright as you are and ten times as important. Start snapping at some little nincompoop your own size." (If the writer had appended his name, I could have gone to work on him.)

I think Williams might be a lovely companion on a fishing trip, or in a bridge game, but I can't stomach his political shenanigans.

Another group of letters, many of which read a lot alike, said in effect: "Why do you contribute to the delinquency of the nation by running advertisements for liquor? This is a sin in the sight of God and liquor is at the bottom of most crime, most evil, most divorces and most misery."

I don't make the laws.

Liquor is legal and I guess the boys that sell it have as much right to buy advertising as the Elks Lodge or a candidate for the Circuit Bench. If the entire world could be made dry overnight and remain dry forever, I'd vote "yes."

★ ★ ★

I got a post card that kidded me for saying STUART and DOROTHY WHITFIELD had held their wedding day weights and figures as well as any pair I knew. The writer was just plain out of sorts (and I'll bet 40 pounds overweight). He told me to "grow up."

Two letters in one mail said virtually:

"You still blame things on Franklin D. Roosevelt. Why don't you catch on to the fact he's dead and leave him alone. Everyone has respect for those that have passed along. Most of what you say about him is untrue anyway."

Well, FDR did so much wrong, you couldn't really get it all down during his life and it takes a little extra time to complete the record. But I promise to try and restrain myself. Eleanor's around still (at least she's around) and I can't think of an easier target. And then there's that son of hers that wants to abolish the Committee on UnAmerican Activities.

Periodically, readers say something like this: "I'm sick and tired of reading about murders, rape, arson, burglaries, dope peddlers and crooked union leaders. Why doesn't The Pontiac PRESS print clean, wholesome news, especially on page one? If you filled every issue with stories of scientific discoveries and world advances, your readers would appreciate the fact and your circulation would double."

And what a field day the murderers, burglars, etc., etc. would enjoy if they could be sure they'd never face their sins in print.

ALSO — and this is VERY IMPORTANT — only approximately three per cent of the total news is about crime.

People consistently overlook that fact. It's true of all newspapers and has been proven time and time again.

And don't misunderstand. I get a flock of friendly letters, too. Several weeks ago I wrote a short editorial about the late Mrs. OLIVER L. BEAUDETTE and received more than a dozen epistles from absolute strangers who liked it — to say nothing of phone calls and personal messages.

There's another highly controversial local subject on which I've heard the cheers and jeers. Some phone calls, letters and personal conversations have suggested The Press was "leaning hard toward Straley." And then conversely, we are criticized because our accounts have been "hostiie to his cause." When the day's testimony was in his favor, we printed it. When it was critical, we printed it. Every hearing didn't produce evidence on both sides.

★ ★ ★

If anyone wants one man's opinion of the STRALEY matter in one sentence, here it is:

STRALEY is a skilled technician, a well trained and essentially competent police chief who fails all too frequently in his personal contacts.

If that's cause for dismissal — out. If it isn't — keep him.

The three Commissioners say "out." Now we await the Circuit Court review of the evidence.

If I get in your hair, sound off in a letter.

I'll cringe a bit while the lash is falling, but I'll come back for more. And when you say something pleasant, I go around giving things away for hours.

If you can't write—wire.

And in Conclusion.....

One of the penalties that EDDIE FISHER is paying for his loose living lies in the unanimity with which the public has turned against him. His TV show was dropped and in personal appearances he faces pickets and threats of girl pickets repeatedly. Las Vegas hotels had a rough time when he was booked. I wish we could get LIZ and EDDIE off the front pages for — well, say, two centuries..... ....If RICKI CORVETTE ever appears in this area, I hope someone tells me so I can catch a quick eyeful. They tell me she's a very talented night club dancer — at six feet eight.

★ ★ ★

D. B. Varner, Chancellor of MSUO, says East Lansing has lost some valuable men because of the Michigan financial situation. They're moving to locations with less storm and strife. .....Oakland County's own "Ernie" Jones is authority for the statement that 80 per cent of the population has never flown. .....You hear about the fabulous success so many recordings make, yet the cold facts show there were 5,249 single records produced in 1958 and only 289 made a thin dime.

★ ★ ★

Purely personal nomination for an especially high class all around citizen: ESTHER WHITMER..... Why don't all big league baseball teams switch from Florida to Arizona for their spring training? Last year Florida froze them to death and this year they were drowned with weeks of rain.....It's here — the gas engine golf cart.

★ ★ ★

Chicago finds herself facing the immediate prospect of spending an additional 120 million dollars to keep up with these oncoming jets..... Overheard at Northern High: "He got three letters his sophomore year: track, basketball and phone booth packing."..... One of Pontiac's steadiest, good scoring golfers over a span of years: Chester Reynolds.....Earl Kehoe (brother of Pontiac's well known Jerry and once a resident here himself), says Lincoln Road in Miami Beach will be ripped asunder. The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

In the steaming mountains of Luzon, in the Philippines, Lt. Clay Conner found faith.

It was hardly a time for a man to think about anything but his own skin. For it was 1942 and the Japs were pouring through our lines. Rather than surrender, Conner fled to the jungles. He was knotted with fear and sick with malaria, but in his pocket was a copy of the New Testament, the chance farewell gift of a fellow officer.

Hiding out among friendly Filipinos, Conner bided his time until the fever left him by reading from the gift book. "I was freed from consuming fear," he lived to report, "and my budding faith strengthened me."

Armed with the courage of his reading, he formed a guerilla band of GIs, Filipino scouts and sympathetic natives. A scout brought an American flag, and though constantly harassed by Jap patrols, they kept it flying throughout the entire occupation.

Now Clay Conner is an Indianapolis insurance man. He repays the gift of courage that faith brought him by working actively in community affairs.

Days of All Faiths

Jews Begin Passover Celebration

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Thursday the Jews begin their eight-day Passover celebration, commemorating the world's first revolt (about 1440 B.C.) against slavery. The story is a familiar one not only to Jews but to every Christian who ever attended Sunday School.

The Jews, long enslaved by the Egyptians, made a break for freedom under the leadership of Moses. Helped by divine intervention, they escaped from Egypt and the pursuing armies, and after long years of wandering came to a land of their own, the "Promised Land" of Canaan.

There they settled down for more than 1,000 years of turbulent but glorious history as a nation. The whole story of their escape and wanderings is written in the book of Exodus.

During this eight-day observance Jews will, of course, give thanks to the Power that delivered their ancestors from the Egyptian tyranny and molded them into a nation, but the main emphasis at Passover is never on the backward look.

Rabbis in their sermons will stress man's eternal need for the leadership of a Moses, a man who will stir people to face the hardships required to win freedom. Such men are needed in every age. Freedom is never finally won; it must continually be fought for. Its price, as a great American has said, is "eternal vigilance."

A special concern among Jews today is the struggle of their brethren who are settling the new country of Israel, reviving the same land where those ancient Israelites made their first permanent home so many centuries ago.

Throughout the year, but especially at this significant season, Jews pray that the new state may know the same divine protection the ancient one had.

Passover, the feast of freedom, is traditionally a home festival. It is ushered in by an elaborate ceremonial meal, known as the Seder (seder means order—the order of the ceremony) at which family, friends and relatives gather round a richly laden table.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Try Psychosomatic Advice at a Down-to-Earth Price

"From many years of reading I have received the impression that you do not subscribe wholeheartedly to the precepts and doctrines of psychiatry or what has lately come to be recognized as psychosomatic medicine. Yet in your booklet "Save Your Skin," you say, in reference to cancer: 'If the physician finds no sign of malignancy, that is, cancerous degeneration or 'growth', the reassurance such a diagnosis gives the patient is in itself a powerful curative factor; just as worry or fear retards or prevents recovery.' Are you perhaps getting less cocksure and more liberal minded, Doctor?" (H. J.)

Answer — I hope so. Is THAT psychology, psychiatric or psychosomatic medicine? Then it is true what they say about the rapid strides medicine is making nowadays — about all there is left for us practitioners is vaccination and filling out disability claims — and, by gum, the little doctors (overtrained nurses) are taking over these tasks too.

Yeah, I believe in psychology, psychiatry and psychosomatic symptoms and treatments but, my dear sophomore, must one stop and attach a big red label to such teaching so that all sophomores will know it is psychological? For the booklet 'Save Your Skin' send 35c and stamped self-addressed envelope. This is not psychosomatic. It's highway robbery.

"Please give your opinion of the statement that too much milk can cause . . . " (A.G.)

Answer — Too much water "can" drown man. Infants get along well on an exclusive milk diet. The less milk adults take the more likely they are to have arteriosclerosis, rheumatiz ("arthritis" to you, fathead) and general breakdown. The "specialist" doesn't say "too much" whatever it is has this or that effect. He merely gets the free advertising and leaves it to fathead readers to infer he has said so.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Strip Religion of Outmoded Ritual

Prof. McNair challenges all church folks with his terse indictment of business firms. If we could get rid of outmoded tradition and "encrusted habits," maybe we could do some "fresh thinking" and win the Russians away from their atheistic outlook. "Truth marches on" and so should dynamic religion. Discuss this case at Sunday School tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. CRANE

"Plans, systems and concepts, have a rate of obsolescence just as does a piece of machinery.

"Originally serving fully appropriate purposes, they tend to become encrusted with habit and tradition to a point where they actually become deterrents to fresh thinking."

Professor McNair's efficiency engineering might also be applied to schools and churches, as well as to business improvement.

When Christ was thus asked to give the essence of religion, he replied it consisted of two principles:

★ ★ ★

"Love the Lord thy God with all thine heart and thy neighbor as thyself."

That is the real fundamentalism of the Christian religion and likewise the essence of Judaism.

Professor McNair's wise advice should thus be used by all church folks, and especially by clergymen.

For a lot of church ritual that may once have met a definite need, has since been carried along by the inertia of ancient habits, so it clutters up "fresh thinking."

If you have religion, it should be contagious and your comrades should catch it from you.

Do they? If not, why not? Are you a poor salesman for the superior ethical system to which you pledge allegiance on the Sabbath?

★ ★ ★

Maybe it would be well for all of us to follow Professor McNair's suggestions and streamline our ethical thinking.

For example, do we waste too much time on Sunday morning chanting old-fashioned ritual that is almost meaningless to modern people?

Do we sing hymns that depict God as an "Almighty King" or an arbitrary dictator, when the modern concept of any male parent is a loving dad?

Recently I got a rise out of many older church folks by pointing out the slogan above a Cincinnati church school which read:

"Come children and I shall teach you the fear of the Lord."

★ ★ ★

But suppose a modern young mother should call her youngsters around her knee and say to them:

"Come, children, I want to teach you to be afraid of your daddy."

Wouldn't that seem out of place when we modern psychologists are trying to teach parents and children to love each other, instead of cowering in abject terror?

And if our concept in Child Psychology is to stress love, then why should churches still carry on outmoded idea that God is a terrifying dictator, gleely waiting to strike us down with a strike of lightning if we deviate an iota from the straight and narrow way?

That notion was typical of such

Scandinavian deities as Woden and Thor, but should we carry along such obsolete concepts in our modern churches?

Discuss these questions in Sunday School tomorrow, for ethics is advancing, just as medicine and other fields of science, so we should do a housecleaning of "encrusted habit", as Professor McNair recommends.

"Fresh thinking" is what he urges for business. Why not also for church leaders and even us parents? Think on thees things:.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

She Suggests State-Wide Collection to Aid Michigan

Does Michigan mean enough for you to go bat for, to reach down into your jeans, your stocking, bank, yes, even your piggy bank, to help her out of present difficulties? Regardless of who's to blame or what party is in, can you say "Michigan is my home, I'm proud I live here and I'm proud of Michigan?"

★ ★ ★

It means that much to me. I've lived here 50 years as did my parents and their parents. Let's rally round and show the nation what we do when our state is in trouble. Let's contribute of our worldly goods as we do to other worthy causes. Let's have a Help Our State Week and every citizen have a share, whether you're rich or poor, young or old.

★ ★ ★

Do we want the funds that belong to men and boys who fought to keep our state and country a better place in which to live? No. We're the ones to do the bailing out, so let's get the ball rolling.

Pontiac Press Photo

The past two weeks were filled with excitement and reminiscing for Mrs. John Parent, left, of Genes drive; her sister, Mrs. Winifred Wilson, center; and her niece, Judith. Mrs. Wilson and her daughter came to the United States from London, England, to see Mrs. Parent for the first visit in 10 years.

English Kin Visit Mrs. Parent After 10 Years

Pontiac War Bride, Sister Meet Again

By MARGARET BROWN

A real "canteen romance" paved the way for the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John Parent of Pontiac back, in 1946. The couple — Mrs. Parent a British service woman, and Mr. Parent, a U.S. soldier—met in a London, England, canteen. Soon after the English miss became Mrs. Parent and sailed from her homeland to assume wifely duties in the United States. They make their home on Genes drive.

Mrs. Parent returned to England once for a visit (in 1949) and most of her immediate family was able to make the trip for a visit here. But for 10 years she did not see her sister, Mrs. Winfred Wilson.

ARRIVE BY PLANE

The long separaton ended when Mrs. Wilson and her 16-year-old daughter, Judith arrived in this country by plane for their very first visit.

"Winnie," as Mrs. Parent affectionately addressed her sister during our interview, holds the unique vocation (for a woman, that is) of a draftswoman for the London County Council. A former student of Rutherford College at Newcastle-on-Tyne, she also has two sons in England.

Her schooling completed at 16, Judith, a reflective girl who seemed wise beyond her years, is a typist with London's International Air Radio. "Your teenagers have so many activities," she exclaimed.

Judith could speak from experience on this point, for Pontiac teener Carolyn Cummings of Woodstock street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cummings, friends of the Parents, graciously introduced her to many local young people. They escorted her to parties and favorite teen hanuts.

"Your fellows are more friendly in general than ours," she said. "London is so big that everyone is very formal."

★ ★ ★

"All of our friends certainly have put their best foot forward to show Judith and Winnie a fine time," said Mrs. Parent. There have been numerous dinner parties and a trip to Niagara Falls, and to Canada, which the Wilsons found to be much similar to England.

Observing a session of the House of Representatives at Lansing Mrs. Wilson remarked enthusiastically, " . . . was so interesting, I could have stayed all day."

LIKES OUR LAKES

"And how we love your many lakes here," she smiled, commenting on a trip north. "In England we have to go to the sea for such sights."

★ ★ ★

Like many visitors to this country, the British twosome was most impressed by the standard of living.

"In England we take buses or trains everywhere," they explained. "Here, often the husband goes to work in one car, and his wife has the other all day."

Trips to several expansive shopping centers were particularly relished by the visitors. "Your houses too, are so well heated here," they commented. "In England it's quite damp and many homes have only a fireplace."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Parent, mother of a 12-year-old daughter, Christine, and son, John, 8, told us it was "work to shelter and shelter to work" in her country during the war. One night German planes dropped incendiary bombs right in their backyard. "You should have seen us running around with pails of dirt putting out all the little fires," she recalled.

HEAD FOR HOME

Like all good things, the joyful reunion of the family must come to an end. Today "Winnie" and Judith will return to England," . . . where the daffodils and pear trees are already in blossom."

But this time the separation may not be for so long, for Mrs. Wilson and her daughter hope to make their home here one day. "We've investigated job possibilities," they said, "and certainly want to return."

Dear Abby . . .

Husband OK, but Oh, Woe! Those Know-It-All Sisters!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is I married a man with too many sisters. I held a good position before I was married and didn't exactly come out of the hills, but my husband's sisters think they know everything and are very free with their advice. One tells me how to dress, another one tells me how to wear my hair and another tells me how to arrange my furniture. I have heard from all of them that I am not "the type" they expected their brother to marry. (What could they mean by this?) Is there any way I can be friendly with them without letting them run my life?"

ABBY

TOO MUCH ADVICE

DEAR TOO: Be friendly, agreeable and willing to listen to their advice—and then do exactly as you please.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a housekeeper in a Catholic Rectory. I have always spoken of the kitchen there as 'my' kitchen and when I speak to others I always refer to the parish as 'my' parish. I was told by a friend that I should not refer to the kitchen as 'my' kitchen or the parish as 'my' parish. Am I right or wrong?"

CRITICIZED

DEAR CRITICIZED: You certainly have a right to refer to the kitchen as yours, and those who merely belong to a parish refer to it as "my" parish. Your critic had to dig pretty deep to find something to criticize. Ignore it.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Four years ago I married a widow. I bought a home, furnished it completely with new gas furnace, automatic washer, dryer, electric range, refrigerator and TV. I have to give her my check uncashed or she storms. On my day off I scrub and wax the floors and woodwork, I wash the Venetian blinds, vacuum rugs and polish furniture.

"I take care of the lawn and garden. I own a car, but she never lets me drive it. I carry my lunch and walk to work. I get $3 a week allowance for gum and cigarettes. You hear about rights for women. Are there no rights for men? I wish you could help me."

NO RIGHTS

DEAR NO: There are "rights" for men . . . but only for those who are man enough to demand them. A little less "wishbone" and a little more backbone.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I have a problem with my boy friend. We go to the same school and he brings me home when school is out. I like him a lot but when we get home I have trouble getting him to leave. I'm afraid people will start talking about us if he keeps coming in and staying so long. Please tell me how to tell him to leave without making him mad."

WHAT TO SAY

DEAR WHAT: It isn't necessary to tell him to go—simply say, "I wish you could stay longer but I have so much to do that I must start now."

SaShay Club Names Heads of Committees

Committee chairmen for next year were appointed at the last dance of the season held by Sashay-Quadrille Club Friday evening at Elks Temple.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Denham, registration; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Daniels, membership; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haring, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Denham, publicity and Robert Webb, program.

Burnell McAllister, new president, was master of ceremonies for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kaines of Merry Mixers Club were guests.

'Friends' Are Imposing on Your Spouse

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Won't you please write something in your column about those persons who tactlessly ask their friends in business to get them something 'wholesale'? My husband works for a large company which makes all sorts of electrical appliances. He is entitled to 25 per cent discount on anything he buys.

"My friends—still more mere acquaintances—are constantly asking me to ask my husband to get this, that or the other thing for them. I didn't mind this at first, but now it has become a real nuisance. Can you tell me, please what I can do about putting a stop to this without causing hard feelings?"

Answer: Explain that the discount your husband's company allows him is on articles he buys for his own use, and that he is afraid he will lose it if they learn that the things he buys are for others.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to the wedding and reception of a friend. When we were married six months ago this friend gave me a check for twenty-five dollars as a wedding present. I would like to know if it is necessary for us to give her the same amount in return?"

Answer: A present of about that price would be in much better taste than a check for twenty-five dollars.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct reply to make when someone says, "Thank you for coming" or "It was so nice to see you" after a short visit in their house? I am always at a loss as to what to answer."

Answer: There is no set reply. You can say, "I loved seeing you"; "I had such a nice talk"; "I was glad to come" or "It was so nice to see you, too."

Dear Mrs. Post: When a husband and wife are both doctors, what is the proper way to introduce them? Would it be Dr. and Mrs., or Dr. John and Dr. Jane?"

Fashion Your Figure Club of Pontiac held its seventh annual banquet Thursday evening at Old Mill Tavern. Mrs. Charles Ruggles was toastmistress and chairman for the banquet. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Goines.

A quartet made up of Mrs. R. M. Baker, Mrs. Wallace Rauch, Mrs. Dorthea Campbell and Mrs. Archie Hunt entertained. Mrs. Robert Bunce also took part.

Luau to Fete Engaged Couple

BIRMINGHAM — Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Shile with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Scott, have been busy all week making leis and green tablecloths for the "luau" they will give this evening for Frannie Dawson and her fiance, Robert N. Woodruff Jr.

Frances Ann Dawson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Dawson, and May 9 is the date for her wedding in Christ Church Cranbrook.

The clever decorations will include bouquets of red anthurium and the green linen cloths will be sprinkled with tea leaves to simulate grass on the low tables where typical Hawaiian food will be served.

A huge ice block, carved out to form a punch bowl, will contain a punch known as "scorpions" and dozens of real gardenias will be floated in the drink.

Some Wives Do

Who Picks Men's Clothes?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Having in mind the week I write each year especially for the men who read "Why Grow Old?" I have been doing a little research. I have been asking men if they like to have their wives go with them when they shop for clothes.

I honestly do not know what this all adds up to or what the highly individualist responses mean, but I think you might enjoy hearing a few of them.

One young husband said, "We had to give that up almost immediately. It wasn't so much shopping together for my clothes, but my wife would be downtown alone and see a $12 shirt she thought would look good on me—and charge it. We cannot afford $12 shirts."

Another young man said, "It pleases me when I wear clothes my wife finds attractive as much as it pleases her when I like the things she wears. However, you see we have a couple of kids and my wife really cannot get away from home very often. If she had time, I would love to have her go with me."

Another reaction: "Don't get me wrong. I love my wife, but does she go shopping with me when I go to buy my clothes? — NO! We disagree about enough things without adding that to the list! We already argue about everything from the Civil War to how many angels can dance on a pinpoint."

Another: "I think that some people have clothes sense just like others have card sense. You either have it or you don't, and there is not much you can do about it. My wife does have excellent taste in clothes and I request and rely on her judgment."

Another: "My wife is just naturally more extravagant than I am and also less realistic about our financial situation. She has a hard time controlling herself when she shops for clothes for herself. If she went with me, it would be like double indemnity—in reverse."

The opposite viewpoint: "My wife, like everyone else, has the vices of her virtues. She is a wonderful manager of the budget. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate her thriftiness in running our home attractively and still being able to save money. However, let's face it, she is a little tight.

"I suppose she has to be in order to accomplish what she does. I am not complaining but I spend only a moderate amount on my clothes. Once in a while I feel it is worthwhile to spend 20 dollars more on a suit or buy a three dollar tie instead of one I do not like which costs one dollar. If she were with me this would lead to unhappiness."

Ho Hum! It would be fun if the men who read this would write in and tell me how they feel about it all.

If the man in the house is overweight and would like to have my Tubby Hubby reducing diet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

If You Act This Way Spring Has Sprung

By RUTH MILLETT

It's a sure sign of spring when a woman—

Thinks everything in her closet looks drab and unappealing, and finds herself letting the housework slide so that she can work in the yard.

Decides she is sick and tired of her hairdo and is ready to try something entirely different.

Starts figuring out how many pounds she ought to lose before she goes shopping for a swim suit.

Decides that the kitchen or the breakfast room furniture needs a new coat of paint and can't wait to tackle the job herself.

Sees a fine, warm day as the perfect time for hanging all the winter clothes on the line before getting them out of sight for the next few months.

Keeps interrupting her housework to go to the window to watch the birds feeding, or to check to see if the just-budded leaves on the trees are a deeper green than they were yesterday or if a flower has begun to open.

Feels younger than her years.

Starts dreaming of a family vacation trip that isn't going to be like others in the past.

Digs in the garden as happily as a child making mud pies, subtly conscious of the warmth of the sun, the smell of the earth and the pleasure of being alive.

When a woman thinks and feels and acts like that it's spring.

7th Day Adventists to Fast, Pray Today

In all Seventh-day Adventist Churches, today has been designated as a day of fasting and prayer, according to Elder J. O. Cunnington Jr., local pastor.

Special prayers are being offered for Christian work in Communist China. Though Adventist mission work has been forbidden there for many years, native pastors have been active, Elder Cunnington said.

Confident Living

Setbacks Are Often Best Things That Can Happen

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I spent a month in England last summer and enjoyed reading British newspapers. Among the features in the papers that interested me were the weather forecasts.

PEALE

I think English weather forecasts have it somewhat over our own. Ours are quite matter-of-fact. They just tell the plain facts.

As you may know, the weather in England usually isn't too good, except for limited periods of time. It rains a lot and it's often cold even in the summertime. So the forecasts cannot possibly be too hopeful. But they must be written by positive thinkers for they always contain a hopeful note.

Here is a typical forecast from an English newspaper dated August 7, 1958. You would think the weather would be fine the first of August, but this is what it says:

"A trough of low pressure will move eastwards across the British Isles. In all districts the weather will be cool and mostly cloudy with occasional rain or showers, which will be heavy in places. But there will also be bright intervals."

And here is another forecast for Scotland:

"Wind west, increasing to strong, vary north west. Fresh, mostly cloudy with occasional rain or showers, which will become heavy at times. But bright intervals."

I hope you have noticed how each of these concludes with a "but" followed by "bright intervals." How typical this is of the British character! It reminds us of the way that character displayed itself during the dark years of World War II, through the ups and downs of Dunkirk, the bombings and many other disasters.

The people of that great country never seem to lose sight of the bright intervals and they never stop believing that bright intervals will come. And history tells us that the bright some bright intervals."

In individual life also, the bright intervals are there if we look for them. The thing to do when difficulty comes along is always to try looking upon the bright side of things.

It is always worth remembering, too, that sometimes hard difficulty or a bad setback may possibly be the best thing that can happen to you, because it stops you from following one course and gets you into position to do something else which may be to your best interests.

My mother used to tell me, "Norman, sometimes the Lord will shut a door against you. This will disappoint and distress you. But if you take it humbly as His will, then, after a while, you will have cause to thank the Lord that He shut one door in order to open a better one for you. Think of disappointment as His appointment."

To many of us have a tendency to see things through dark glasses. The old saying that behind every cloud there is a silver lining is absolutely true.

Don't take your dark clouds as final. Look for the bright intervals. Things are always better than you think . . . and if you think so, you can often make them even better.

136th Annual Meeting Slated

Rev. Galen E. Hershey to Conduct Instruction Class at Presbyterian

For 136 years members have been meeting annually to discuss affairs and finances of First Presbyterian Church.

Following the 1959 dinner Wednesday evening, reports will be presented once again, a budget adopted, and elders, trustees and deacons elected.

Dinner hosts and hostesses will include Mr. and Mrs. Asa Drury, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carlson, the Basil Kimballs, the Robert Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mehlberg and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Koelln Jr.

Others will be Dr. and Mrs. Dana Whitmer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Abbott.

★ ★ ★

At 9:30 a.m. Sunday, the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor, will conduct the membership instruction class and Dr. William H. Marbach will preach at the early service held at the same time. His subject will be "Prayer That is Effective."

Mrs. Michael Siano and Richard Griffith will sing "God Will Make All Things Right."

At 11 a.m. the Rev. Mr. Hershey will preach on "Measuring Our Maturity." The choir will sing "Make a Joyful Noise."

Junior high young people will meet Sunday evening to see and discuss the film, "Honor Thy Family." In charge of the evening will be Clark Lemaux, Darlene Gray and April Davis.

The senior high youth will review the same film with David Minthorn, Roger Rifley, David and Marty Everett taking part in the program.

Members to Plan Vacation School

Members of Donelson Baptist Church interested in teaching at the Vacation Bible School this summer have been asked by the pastor, the Rev. Lee A. LaLone, to meet at the church at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

The Fellowship Bible class has taken the remodeling of the pastor's study as its project.

Men of the church who would like to go smelt fishing on April 25 near Hale may report to the Rev. Mr. LaLone.

Regular Sunday services are: Church School at 10 a. m.; worship, 11 a. m.; young people's group, 6:30 p. m., and evening worship, 7:30.

Soloist Slated at Zion Church

The Rev. Leslie McKay of Ferndale is conducting special meetings at the Zion Church of the Nazarene every night this week at 7:30 including Sunday.

Leading the singing and presenting solo work is Helen Greenlee of Rumeston, Iowa, who, for the past five years has been in the field of song evangelism and children's work in Nazarene Churches.

A graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, she also attended the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, majoring in voice.

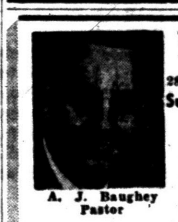

In 1954 she was awarded the honor of appearing in the world-wide publication of "Who's Who in Music."

IT SEEMS

In this article, we shall continue to discuss with you prevalent expressions containing the phrase, "IT SEEMS". Our discussion finds its basic in the words of the inspired writer who said, "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man but the end thereof are the ways of death." Those who believe the Bible and trust implicitly in the word of God now know that one cannot rely on the way something seems. I am confident you are familiar with the expression, "appearances can be deceiving." We know that appearances not only can be, but very frequently are deceiving.

Jesus said, in Matt. 23:27-28 that some appear beautiful outwardly, but inwardly were unclean. We therefore cannot rely on the way things seem. Let us now proceed to examine a very prevalent statement, says one, "IT SEEMS TO ME THAT A MAN SHOULD CHOOSE HIS FAITH AND WALK IN IT OR TAKE THE FAITH OF HIS CHOOSING." Man seemingly is more concerned with his faith than he is with God's faith. God informs us in his word that there is no such thing as faiths, for he says in Eph. 4:5 "THERE IS ONE FAITH." There is therefore no choice between faiths, for the only choice man must make is WILL I ACCEPT IT OR REJECT IT. This one faith is the gospel. Compare Gal. 1:23 and 1 Cor. 15:1-4.

The facts of the gospel, according to Paul, 1 Cor. 15:1-4 the death, the burial, and resurrection of Christ. Some will insist that they believe implicitly in the facts of the gospel but will not become submissive to the commands of the gospel. One command of the faith or gospel is to believe, Acts. 15:7; another to repent, Acts. 2:38; others to confess and be baptized, Rom. 10:9-10, Mk. 16:16. There are those who will not submit to this plan of God and if you were to ask them why, they no doubt would reply "IT SEEMS TO ME - - - ". Friends, it may very well seem a certain way to you but you must remember it is God who says what is and what is not right in religion, and we must be obedient to his word in order to maintain salvation. Heb. 5:8-9. Remember the words of the wise man, THERE IS A WAY WHICH SEEMS RIGHT. Pro. 16:25, BELIEVETH THOU THIS?

46th Consecutive Son Spoils $5,000 Bonanza

NEW YORK (AP) — Another male was born to the Pitofsky clan Friday night. The infant, born to Mrs. Robert L. Pitofsky, was described as the 46th consecutive son born in the family over seven generations.

Pitofsky is one of three sons. He now has two of his own. The latest still leaves him shy of a $5,000 bond set aside by his father, Jacob.

Predicting Seaway Traffic Jam by 1975

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — A University of Western Ontario professor of geography predicts need of further expansion of the St. Lawrence Seaway within 20 years.

Dr. E. G. Pleva said in a speech here:

"The Welland Canal will be the greatest problem in later years of seaway traffic, and by 1975 the canal will be overtaxed.

"An estimated 60 million tons is expected to pass through this canal's facilities and if this estimate is correct, the canal's facilities will have to be doubled."

Space for enlargement of the Welland and International Rapids Canals has been reserved and in the next generation the entire seaway should be made 35 feet deep, he said.

New Extension Asked

LANSING (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has asked the State Supreme Court for a new extension of its order staying jobless pay benefits the court awarded 11,000 Detroit area Ford workers in January.

William T. Gossett, Ford counsel, sought the delay in a motion asking reconsideration of an extension the court granted yesterday. This extension expires April 23.

Gossett asked that the new extension run until the U. S. Supreme Court disposes of a Ford appeal from the January decision.

Prison Warden Wins His Point

Montana Penitentiary Riot Was Challenge for New Head

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP)—If red-haired Floyd Powell didn't like a challenge, he wouldn't have accepted an offer to head Montana's 90-year-old state penitentiary last August.

But Powell did, despite the warning of another candidate for the job: "Now that I've been here and seen the prison and the situation, I wouldn't take this job for $100,000."

The 46-year-old Powell, a 200-pounder, proved Thursday he can meet a critical situation with calm and firmness. For nearly three hours rioting prisoners of the penitentiary here held him hostage at gunpoint after killing a deputy warden.

After telling the convicts their riot would fail, Powell walked to freedom with an inmate who stood up for the warden when he was threatened with death.

"It's this type of challenge that makes a job like this worthwhile," the frosty-eyed Powell commented a few months ago.

His penal career started in 1940 as a guard at the Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun. Eight years later he was appointed assistant to the deputy warden and later became administrative aide to the warden, resigning last summer.

As a youth Powell worked on a farm at La Valle, Wis., and later was a logger in lumber camps and was a general construction laborer. He worked 4½ years with the Civilian Conservation Corps before joining the Wisconsin prison staff.

His wife and daughter accompanied him to Deer Lodge last August.

Finds Boy Blameless in Principal's Death

DETROIT (AP)—Juvenile Judge Nathan T. Kaufman has found a 12-year-old seventh grader blameless in the death of a school principal who suffered a fatal heart attack while scuffling with the boy.

Judge Kaufman said he did not believe the youth was responsible for the death of Sherman T. Cross, principal of a Detroit elementary school.

Cross, 66, died Thursday when he tried to discipline the boy. A post mortem showed Cross has been suffering from a heart condition.

Arrangements were made by Detroit school authorities to have the boy enter a special class at another school.

Store Owner Forgives Debts; $80,000 Worth

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Jack Tinkle has cleared the books of more than $80,000 in unpaid accounts at his hardware and furniture store.

Tossing the bills into an incinerator, Tinkle said:

★ ★ ★

"I'm forgiving these people their debts to me, and I hope I'll be forgiven too. I figure a lot of people who have been staying away from my stores because of being delinquent in their accounts will come in when they know the've been forgiven."

★ ★ ★

First Manned Rocket to Get Gliding Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The first aircraft designed to fly in the uppermost reaches of the earth's atmosphere will make its first gliding flights — without fuel or power — within one to two weeks.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

After the plane proves its ability to glide satisfactorily, the X15 will make its first powered flight. The K15 already has been aloft as a passenger beneath a B52 mother ship.

Ex-Chief Has Other Job

LUSK, Wyo. (AP)—Frank Bozart has resigned as police chief here to devote more time to his other job — pastor of the Lusk Open Bible Church.

The art of getting along with a woman is understanding all the things she doesn't say . . . The man who successfully keeps his wife guessing is probably dancing with her . . . If Iowa's the corn belt and Alabama is the cotton belt, then obviously Texas is the money belt. —Earl Wilson.

Well, They Say Entire World Loves a Lover

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — "I'd much rather live my life than play somebody else's," Liz Taylor told me on recent evening.

★ ★ ★

In that eloquent sentence, she announced her plans to retire — once more — from gainful employment. "I have taken a couple million-dollar bets I would be retired and be a hausfrau by the time I'm 30 — and I was 27 my last birthday," she added, firmly.

WILSON

And at this point Eddie Fisher entered the little anteroom at the new Las Vegas silver dollar-shaped auditorium, and we didn't get much further with that party of the interview.

★ ★ ★

For before he came in, we had been discussing the fact that Eddie is again a colossal singer in these parts, and in the Show Biz markets of the whole world. There were some who attributed this miracle to Liz' devoted attention — and attendance — when he opened here.

"It has nothing to do with me," Liz insisted.

LIZ

"It's not as though Eddie had been a no-talent kid. He's a great talent! He's matured greatly. He has a wonderful presence. I don't think our relationship has anything to do with the fact that he's a smash. I don't think I'm speaking as one who's prejudiced when I say Eddie is one of our finest performers today!"

Liz did not care to say just what it was that she saw in Eddie — this was the only question she balked at, that being too personal — but on other points I found her frank and articulate.

★ ★ ★

"You said you would like to travel together. Where, for example?"

"I'd like to go to Israel," Liz answered. "Eddie's been there but I have never been. Eddie's never been to Moscow — and I have been."

Most vividly I remembered when Liz and Mike Todd had taken off for Russia and returned — it seemed such a short time ago, too.

The one thing that impressed me about her relationship with Eddie was the actually wide-eyed looks of adoration she kept giving him.

And the fact that she liked his hair long and almost bushy at the peak was a point in it. If a girl said to be one of the most beautiful in the world tells you you should not get a haircut because you look divine with your hair long, you are probably not going to get a haircut.

★ ★ ★

A boyish dimple broke out in Eddie's 30-year-old face when she ran her fingers through his hair. He wagged his head with pretended weariness and said:

"These wives!"

Even he sort of gasped at having said it so prematurely.

Liz permitted Eddie to have a slight neck trim for the Academy Award show but Eddie announced afterward, "I'm going to let it grow back again. Just call me 'Longhair.'"

There's No Magic in the word 'Guarantee'

Contrary to public belief the mere fact that something is advertised as "guaranteed" is not particularly important. Here's what is important:

1. WHO IS THE GUARANTOR?
2. WHAT ARE THE TERMS OF THE GUARANTEE?

A guarantee is no stronger than the guarantor. A guarantee, in spite of its name, may not in fact be of any protection whatever. It depends upon its terms.

25,000-Pound Moons Soon

2 or 3 Years Off, Says U.S. Agency; Powered by Rocket Clusters

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The United States plans to be able to launch 25,000-pound satellites within two to three years, and 200,000-pounders in about five years.

Rear Adm. John E. Clark, ARPA deputy director, said in a prepared talk that the combining of current rocket boosters into clusters will be advanced to the point of flight testing by autumn of 1960. This program will provide a gain of two years over other approaches to obtain the tremendous thrust and at about half the cost, Clark said.

The clustered engines will be used with a new high-energy upper-stage rocket — a combination known as Project Saturn—to place more than 25,000 pounds of useful payload into an orbit about 340 miles above the earth.

The Air Force also is developing a single-chambered engine that can be mounted in clusters to provide six million pounds of thrust, sufficient to launch 200,000 pounds into orbit or to give the necessary propulsion to operate maneuverable space vehicles in defense of the free world, he said.

A truly maneuverable and recoverable space vehicle called "Mrs. V" is being developed, he said.

'Miss Brooks' Popular With Fans at Ishpeming

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP)—The personality who attracts the most attention from people watching the filming of "Anatomy of a Murder" is tall, wry Eve Arden.

The reason is simple: television.

Fans and visitors at the Mather Inn where the movie troupe is quartered often pass up players who work only in films. They want to know all about Eve and often ask, "Why aren't you making 'Our Miss Brooks' any more?"

★ ★ ★

This is heartening to our Miss Arden, who hasn't done the Brooks series for three years. Yet it continues to play and play, bringing her added fame, if no more money. She sold out her interest for a healthy chunk that will be coming in over a period of years.

The question at this point in her career is: What next? She and husband Brooks West are in "Anatomy," her first theatrical film in seven years. We won't count a full-length version of "Our Miss Brooks" which failed to break any box office records.

Will she try another TV series?

"I don't think so, not for another year, anyway," she said. "I've had offers, but I think it is too soon to return. I got bitten by the play bug when I did 'Auntie Mame' on the Coast last year. I'd like to go back to Broadway for a year.

★ ★ ★

"I was originally supposed to do 'Marriage-Go-Round,' but I got tied up in another series. Now Leslie Stevens is writing another play, and if it turns out well, I may do it."

She did a staggering 154 chapters of the Brooks saga. When it faded off the network, she was enlisted to try another series, in which she played a lady lecturer. It lasted only 26 weeks.

U.S., Canada Release Seaway Stamp Design

WASHINGTON (AP) — Designs for the St. Lawrence Seaway commemorative postage stamps to be issued jointly by the United States and Canada have been released.

Stamps for both nations will be printed in red and blue on white paper. The Great Lakes and connecting links will be outlined in blue, with captions in red.

The U.S. stamps will be of four cent denomination, the Canadian stamp a five center. They will go on sale next June 26, the date of seaway opening ceremonies.

Heart Surgery Advance Told

New Method of Body Cooling Sets No Time Limit on Operation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new method of body cooling which makes possible prolonged surgery inside the heart was announced today by the Veterans Administration.

In contrast to previous methods that allow the surgeon only six to eight minutes to work inside the heart, VA said the new technique sets not time limit for the surgeon. It said the procedure assures greater safety for the patient and provides an opportunity for much better repair of intricate heart defects.

Devised by Dr. Frank Gollan of the VA Hospital in Nashville, Tenn., the method involves circulation of oxygenated and refrigerated blood through the main arteries by use of a heart-lung machine which Gollan developed.

Hypothermia, or reduction of body temperature, is used in heart surgery to slow heart action and blood circulation.

The general method of lowering body temperature for heart surgery is to place the patient in a tub of cold water or in a rubber blanket through which ice water circulates.

Such external methods permit only a short period of interrupted blood circulation and thus give the surgeon only six to eight minutes to work on the heart.

Gollan said external methods cool the skin first and are accompanied by disturbances of blood flow while his method cools the internal organs first and at the same time supplies an adequate flow of blood to fill the needs of vital organs.

The new method permits the surgeon to operate inside the heart while the heart is beating. He can then se as well as test the functions of the heart values.

VA said that surgeons at Duke University and the Mayo Clinic recently have used the new technique.

Yep! Tiger Story Is Still the Same

Narleski Again Handed Defeat by Chisox, 6-5

Chicago Winning Runs Scored as Short Fly Drops Safely

CHICAGO (UPI)—Yep, again.

The Tigers—who seem to have losing down to a science—added a novel twist in yesterday's 6-5 loss to the Chicago White Sox, their sixth straight defeat. For the first time in 46 innings—since opening day a week ago—Detroit held a lead.

It was only one run but it was a lead and the Tigers had one twice.

Then the roof fell in on Ray Narleski who hasn't been the ace the Tigers thought they were getting. Narleski, who must be getting arm-weary after appearing in all but one of the setbacks and being charged with half of them, lost it in the eighth on a fluke fly.

Chicago routed starter Frank Lary in the sixth after tying the count 4-4. Tom Morgan, Detroit's most effective reliefer to date, put out the fire but was lifted for an unsuccessful pitch hitter in the top of the eighth.

★ ★ ★

Narleski walked speed-merchant Jim Landis on four pitches and Landis promptly stole second. He fanned dangerous Sherman Lollar and then intentionally passed Norm Cash who had belted a three-run homer to dead center off Lary in the fourth.

Narleski then got Al Smith on strikes but Jim Rivera sent a short fly to left center. Larry Doby, Harvey Kuenn and Rocky Bridges all raced for the ball while Landis and Cash sped toward the plate.

The ball dropped between the three Tigers despite a diving attempt by Kuenn and Chicago grabbed a 6-4 lead. Narleski fanned Bubba Phillips for his third strikeout of the inning but it was too late.

The defeat had all the ingredients of the others. Detroit blasted starter Dick Donovan and his successors, Rudy Arias and Turk Lown, for 13 hits while the Sox had only seven. Detroit had at least one man on base in every inning but the first and stranded 10.

Detroit went ahead 1-0 in the second when Gail Harris walked and Al Kaline, who had three safeties, singled him to third. Rocky Bridges bounced to Nellie Fox who tried to start a double-play but the throw to first was too late to get Bridges and Harris scored. Frank Bolling singled Bridges to third but then Lou Barbert fanned and Larry grounded out.

★ ★ ★

In the third Eddie Yost singled and was out trying to make third when Kuenn followed with a hit and run single. In the fourth Kaline led off with a single but was erased by a doubleplay. The Sox went up 3-1 in their half of the fourth on a double by Landis, a walk to Lollar and Cash's homer—his second of the year and both off Lary.

★ ★ ★

Yost cracked a two-run homer in the fifth to even it up and Kaline rapped the 100th home run of his career to start the sixth for a 4-3 edge. Kuenn opened the seventh with a double but Doby struck out, and Harris and Kaline grounded out. Chicago made better use of its chances. Landis singled in the sixth, went to second on an infield out and scored on Earl Torgeson's pinch single to make it 4-4.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, which is finding more ways not to score with men on first and third and one out, did it again in the eighth. Bridges singled but was forced at second by Bolling. Lou Berberet singled Bolling to third. Then hitless Gus Zernial took a mighty swing and popped to short. Yost grounded out to end the inning. The Tigers narrowed the final outcome with a run in the ninth on singles by Kuenn and pinch hitter Johnny Groth and Harris' infield out.

Castoff Pitcher Shines in Relief

Indians Still Unbeaten in AL

By The Associated Press

It begins to look as though the Boston Red Sox not only brought up Dick Brodowski to soon, but that they also gave up on him too soon.

At the moment, the big right-hander has saved two of Cleveland's five victories and has claimed one for himself. He's done it with three hitless relief jobs for the Injuns, who remain unbeaten while everyone else in the American League has lost at least twice.

Now 26, Brodowski was hoisted from class D by the Red Sox in 1953 and had a 5-5 record. Back from service in 1955, he was 1-0 and peddled to Washington. The Senators let him go after an 0-4 showing, but the Indians brought him back again last season after a two-year, 26-16 record in the minors.

Combining his five appearances of last year with his 4 1-3 innings of work this season, Brodowski now has an improbable 0.00 earned run average for 14 1-3 consecutive innings of relief, in which he has given up just three hits.

He stretched that string with two innings of perfect relief last night as the Indians beat Kansas City 4-3 for a one-game lead over Chicago. The White Sox twisted the Tigers' tail again with a 6-5 decision over winless Detroit. Boston blanked New York 4-0 on Tom Brewer's two-hit pitching, and Baltimore defeated Washington 4-3.

A double error by A's third baseman Hal Smith on Minnie Minoso's ground ball gave the Indians the tie-breaking run with two-out in the ninth at Cleveland.

JOB BACK—Charley Maxwell got his left field job back today as Tiger manager Bill Norman shuffled the lineup in an effort to get Detroit a victory. Norman benched Larry Doby and first baseman Gail Harris.

All of Kansas City's runs came on homers — first-of-the-season shots by Whitey Herzog, Roger Maris and Smith-off Gary Bell, who beat the A's opening day with Brodowski's relief help.

Vic Power's first homer gave a second inning run to the Indians, who counted their others on a passed ball and a bases-loaded walk, Bud Daley was the loser in relief.

Brewer, who was beaten in Boston's opener by Bob Turley's two-hitter, beat the Yankee ace in a return match for the Red Sox' first shutout against New York since Aug. 7, 1956, when Willard Nixon beat the champs 1-0 in 11 innings.

Pete Runnels 3-for-3 and Gene Stephens 2-for-3 doubled in succession for a first-inning run off Turley, then paired singles to get the Sox started in a three-run fifth.

Mickey Mantle's single in the fourth and Andy Carey's single in the fifth were the only hits allowed by Brewer, who retired the last 15 in order. It was only the fourth victory for the right-hander in 17 decisions against the Yankees.

Doby, Harris Pulled

Maxwell Back in Lineup

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Bill Norman dips into the Detroit Tigers' bench strength today, still looking for the key to victory.

First baseman Gail Harris and left fielder Larry Doby will take their places in the dugout. Norman will send rookie Larry Osborne to first and Charlie Maxwell back to left against the Chicago White Sox.

"I'm trying to find a player with a hot bat who'll get us started," said the manager of the winless Tigers. "I'm not set on any lineup yet. We'll keep trying until we find the right combination."

Harris has been a sharp disappointment after his surprising performance last season. He is hitting a puny .115. He numbers only one home run in his three hits.

Doby, who with Harris was expected to provide most of the Tigers' home run punch, is hitting .125. The veteran has only two hits, a double and a triple.

Mizell Puts Stopper on Frisco Bats, 4-1

By The Associated Press

The way he mowed down the San Francisco Giants on four hits last night, maybe Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell has seen the errors of his ways.

★ ★ ★

Big Wilmer, a 6-3 southpaw, has been a star character in the St. Louis Cardinals' "home movie" scheme, in which they film their pitchers and batters in action to discover flaws. The Cards have developed a lot of film, but Mizell never has developed into the pitcher he was expected to be when he won 23 games in his first two seasons with the Red Birds, back in 1952-53.

Now in two starts, he's put together two complete games. He finished what he started only eight times last season, when he was 10-14.

His first try this season brought a 6-3 defeat as the Giants swept a three-game set at St. Louis. But while giving up 13 hits, he gave up only four earned runs.

Last night he didn't give up a run at all for 8⅓ innings, finally coming off with a 4-1 victory at San Francisco. Orlando Cepeda, who had two of the Giants' hits, jumked the shutout with his fourth home run of the season in the ninth.

In other National League games, unbeaten Milwaukee and winless Pittsburgh played a 2-2 tie halted by rain after nine innings. The Chicago Cubs bombed Los Angeles 9-4 and took second place as Cincinnati slipped to third with a 5-1 defeat by Philadelphia.

The Cardinals chased young Mike McCormick (0-1) with a two-run first inning when the first four men hit safely. Stan Musial's single and a double by Ken Boyer produced the runs. Ha. Smith's home run made it 3-0 in the fourth off Stu Miller, who pitched five-innings of one-hit relief.

Solo home runs by Lee Walls and Ernie Banks and a two-run shot by Walt Moryn powered the Cubs at Los Angeles. Walls' sacrifice fly capped a three-run seventh that gave the Cubs a 4-all tie. Three more runs in the eighth put it away, with rookie George Altman's single counting the clincher ahead of Moryn's 400-foot homer over the right-field screen. Bill Henry (1-0) was the winner in relief, with Clem Labine (0-1) the losing reliever.

Ruben Gomez, who gave up one hit in a scoreless 2⅔ innings before he wrenched a knee, and winning reliever Ray Semproch (1-0) set down the Reds on three hits. Harry Anderson and Willie Jones hit bases-empty homers for the Phils, who scored all their runs off Brooks Lawrence in the first three frames. Lawrence (0-1) now has failed in his last nine starts since blanking Milwaukee 1-0 on four hits last July 2. It was his third loss in a row to the Phils.

Titans Down Alma

Michigan Belts Hurons

By The Associated Press

Michigan erupted from a spring-long hitting slump by pounding out 13 hits Friday for a 12-0 baseball triumph over Eastern Michigan.

Southpaws Nick Liakonis and Bob Marcereau combined to pitch the shutout while Dave Brown had three straight hits and drove in three of Michigan's runs. Eastern was held to five hits as Michigan won its third game in 10 starts.

The University of Detroit posted its fourth straight victory with an 8-5 win over Alma. The Titans won with a five-run rally in the eighth that cost Alma a five-game winning streak.

Western Michigan opened its Mid-American Conference season with a 9-0 victory over Bowling Green. Bill Topp held Bowling Green to two hits in the game curtailed by rain after seven innings.

Fred Loesekam's ninth-inning two-run homer provided Southern Illinois with a 7-5 Interstate Conference victory over Central Michigan.

Montreal Can End It All Tonight

Toronto Needs All Breaks to Unseat Champs

Canadiens in Driver's Seat to Win 4th Cup in Row

MONTREAL (AP) — The talent-loaded Montreal Canadiens — even without the services of two of their stars—are heavy choices to lick the upstart Toronto Maple Leafs tonight and win an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup championship,

The Canadiens already have piled up a 3-1 advantage in the National Hockey League final playoff series and even coach Toe Blake, who has a long-standing reputation as a pessimist admitted:

The Canadiens have been deprived of the services of big Jean Beliveau, who is out with a spinal injury. And 37-year-old Maurice (The Rocket) Richard has been practically of no use.

Beliveau definitely won't play and Blake reported that he would not make up his mind whether to use Richard, who is suffering a groin injury, until just before gametime.

"But," said Blake, "the Rocket told me he's still not 100 per cent."

Meanwhile, coach Punch Imlach of the Maple Leafs, who came from behind to eliminate the Boston Bruins in the semifinal, refused to concede defeat.

"With a couple of breaks, we still can win this series," he proclaimed.

"The Leafs won't quit, you can be sure of that," Blake agreed. "All the games have been close and we're taking nothing for granted. The fellows are confident but definitely not cocky."

Rawls, Suggs Tied in Dallas Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The two top women golfers of the year—Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C. and Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., were locked in a tie for first place in the $10,000 Dallas Women's Open today.

★ ★ ★

Tied at 143 for 36 holes they enter the third round with the best records and the most money won this year. Miss Rawls has won three tournaments and finished second three times in 10 tries. Miss Suggs has won two and finished second thrice.

Annual Relays Has 130 Teams

Mansfield Prep Hub Today

By H. GUY MOATS
Staff Writer, Pontiac Press

MANSFIELD, Ohio—Young athletes by the bus-load, by automobile and train began crowding into this central Ohio industrial community Friday for the 28th annual Mansfield Relays.

Heading a big Michigan delegation was Pontiac Central High's 14-man squad. The Chiefs are defending champions, and have won the big title twice.

However, among the coaches and teams already here, the four-time Michigan champions are not regarded too strongly as a title threat, as the big event got under way this morning.

Relay's officials said this morning that more than 130 schools are entered. The squads represent some 1,639 individual athletes. They come from four states, with 42 teams from outside Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Michigan has a dozen or more, headed by the Chiefs and including the strong favorite Flint Central, Flint Northern, Birmingham and Farmington.

The opinion was generally expressed here, however, that the event is wide open and any one of a dozen outstanding squads could emerge on top, late this afternoon.

It's like veteran meet director Harry Mehock said yesterday afternoon: "This thing gets bigger and better each year. There are so many fine young athletes coming in that it becomes more and more difficult to even try and figure out a winner."

Akron won the only event run Friday, the four-mile relay, from which all Michigan teams were excluded, including the Maples and Flint Central, who had expected to be top threats.

Observers here figure Birmingham's Bill Alcorn as a sure thing for the pole vault. The clever Michigan prep champion was runnerup last year, and with a good day could snap a 20-year standing record of 13-5½ feet. He has cleared 13 feet several times this spring.

Warren Cawley, Farmington's great hurdler, is also mentioned as a probable winner and record breaker.

Preliminaries got under way at 10 a.m. and first finals were scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

Tourney in Last 9 Days

Lubanski Keeps ABC Lead

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Only nine days remain in the 72-day American Bowling Congress Tournament, but it's still too early for some of the minor events leaders to relax.

For example, Ed Lubanski of Detroit seemed virtually assured of winning the singles championship with the big 764 series he rolled nearly two months ago.

But Fred (Foo) Potter had other ideas. The 41-year-old Erie, Pa., bowling alley operator lashed out games of 253, 228 and 279 for a 760 series yesterday to fall short of overtaking Lubanski by only four pins.

Had he produced a better start, Potter might have given Lubanski a battle for the all-events title too. Although his team event score of 621 and his doubles set of 667 bloated his nine-game aggregate to 2,048, he was far off the 2,116 pace set by Lubanski.

Potter got a bit of a challenge himself. Fred Eastwood of Los Angeles got off to a brilliant start with a 660 series in the team event and 708 in the doubles. He subsided to a 625 in the singles, however, and his 1,993 total for the whole route landed him third behind Potter in the all-events column.

New York Women Seize WIBC Lead

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — What appears to be a short-lived bid for honors was registered last night when the Market Baskets of Olean rolled a 2253 team total in Division 1 in the 42nd annual Women's International Bowling Congress.

The Olean five, led by Frances Briggs' 527, took a 42-pin advance over another Olean entry, the Miller's Diamonds.

But, WIBC officials forcast an early upseating for both Olean teams. Most team titles have been in the bracket around 3,000 pins, they said.

The Rossney Plumbing team from Rochester was in third place with a total pin splattering of 2209.

Prizes totaling $139,557 have attracted 4,491 six-women teams, 6,016 doubles and 12,032 singles to the event which ends May 31.

Betters Prep Discus Mark

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Karl Johnstone, a 17-year-old North Phoenix High School senior, spun the discus 185 feet, 2 inches last night, bettering the national prep discus record by a foot.

If the record is confirmed, Johnstone will become the third national prep champion coached by North Phoenix' Verne Wolfe in the past three years.

'500' Field Completed With 61 Cars

Three Entries Get in Before Deadline Time

Mount Clemens Entry Submitted for 43rd Annual Classic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Four more delayed entries for the 500-mile auto race May 30 apparently completed the field at 61 cars Friday.

Tony Hulman, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, said any more entries postmarked before the Wednesday midnight deadline will be accepted, but he doubted any more would come in.

The latest nominations gave the 43rd annual race its biggest field since 65 cars entered in 1954. They will be whittled down to 33 starters in time trials beginning May 16.

Three of the delayed entries were from Roy McKay of Youngstown, Ohio. The other was submitted by Leonard G. Smith of Mount Clemens, Mich.

Eddie Russo of Kansas City, driver in two previous 500-mile events, was named to handle one of the McKay cars. Drivers for the team's two other cars have not been selected.

A rookie in the Memorial Day classic, Russell Congdon of Puyallup, Wash., will drive the Smith car. Congdon finished ninth last year in the Midwest midget car standings.

Burdette Mentioned Again

Newcombe and Wynn Face Spit Ball Charges

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1959 major league baseball season is only a week old but already the spit ball controversy is back in the news, this time with new names—Don Newcombe of Cincinnati and Early Wynn of the Chicago White Sox.

Newcombe and Wynn were linked with using the illegal pitch by Dave Philley, the pinch hitter superb of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Furthermore, Philley said in an interview yesterday, plenty of pitchers use the spit ball and the umpires take no action to stop it.

Philley also renewed accusations that Lew Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves pitches the spitter.

Referring to a pinch-hit double he banged off Burdette earlier this week, Philley said:

"He threw me a spitter. I's nothing new. Willie Jones and Richie Ashburn had been complaining all day about the spitter. The umps will never do anything about it.

"Plenty of pitchers use it. Don Newcombe has one. Early Wynn has a beauty. Burdette throws it at least once every two pitches."

Philley, a 38-year-old outfielder, said he studies and memorizes pitchers' throwing habits.

"When I first came to the Phils after 15 years in the American League, I didn't get a hit my first 12 times at bat," Philley recalled, adding:

"Know why? I hadn't begun to read the pitchers in this league. Now I have my own book on plenty of them, I can read them clear as a comic strip."

★ ★ ★

"Rudy York taught me," he explained. "There are tipoffs you look for—how a pitcher holds the ball, the wrist motion he uses at the start of the windup, and how he swings his arms over his head."

Did Philey read Burdette when he banged out the double?

"I can't tell you," he answered. Then he grinned and added:

"I will say the pitch was where I wanted it—and friend, it was as wet as a bottle of beer."

Lane Renews Bid for Title

Muskegon Lightweight Defeats Busso in 6th on National TV

The Muskegon, Mich. challenger said he thought he earned another chance at the venerable Brown off his sixth-round technical knock out last night over another ranking lightweight, Johnny Busso of New York.

The 26-year-old Michigan boxer started the trouble in the first round and had Busso's left eye closed by the third. The fight was stopped a second or two after the bell sounded for the sixth round.

Referee Mushy Callahan, under the 10 points-per-round scoring, had Lane in front 49-45; Judges George Latka and Frankie Van had it 50-46, as did The Associated Press.

Busso fought gamely but was half blind for the last three rounds.

Palmer, Haas Head Field

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Freddie Haas and Arnold Palmer, owners of 10-under-par 134s, led the field by one stroke today as 70 pros and five amateurs began the third round of the $30,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Haas, a 43-year-old veteran who now handpicks his tournaments, fired a 33-33—66 yesterday on a rain swept Memorial Park course to catch Palmer, the first round leader and golf's biggest money winner of 1958. Arnold had a 32-36—68 after a first round 66.

Playing only his third 72-hole tournament of the year, Haas opened with a 68 and built his second round 66 with a new putter that dropped birdie putts of 3, 1, 7, 8, 9 and 5 feet.

In 36 holes, both Has and Palmer have placed 11 birdies against only one bogie.

Burke matched Haas' 66 for the best second round scores and was happy with his 9-under 135 despite missing birdie putts on the last three holes.

The starting field of 126 was cut to the low 70 pros for today's round and a 147—three over par—was needed to qualify. Another cut to the low 50 will follow the round.

Victims of the 36-hole cut included Johnny Palmer, who won the Houston Open with a record 272 in 1949 at Brae Brun Country Club. Others failing to qualify included Ed Furgol, Antonio Cerda of Mexico City, Dick Mayer, Mike Fetchick, and George Bayer.

Trout Season Week Away

ALL OUTDOORS, Mich. (UPI) — All roads lead north next weekend. It's that time again when wives must be understanding.

Trout season opens Saturday, April 25 — the most important date on many a fisherman's calendar when more than a million anglers will hit the state's more than 11,000 lakes and 33,000 miles of streams.

Some wives are very understanding, too, says Homer Circle of Dowagiac. Homer said he knew a woman who observed her husband fishing in the bathtub, and said: "I'd take him to a psychiatrist, but we need the fish!"

The Chinese had a saying to describe fishing that went something like; "Get married and be happy for three days; kill your pig and eat it and be happy for a week; or learn to fish and be happy for a lifetime."

Hintz Will Leave Clarkston High

Clarkston High School athletic director Edward Hintz will leave that post to accept a position as principal at Byron High following the close of the current school year.

No decision has been made as yet by the Clarkston Board of Education concerning the coming vacancy on the sports staff.

The popular Hintz has been both athletic director and football coach but graduating Albion great Tom Taylor was selected early this year to take over the grid reins next fall.

PNH Shines in 2 Sports

Pontiac Northern gained its first baseball triumph and finished 2nd in a triangular track meet in a combined impressive home showing yesterday.

Dick Lamphere struck out 15, including five in a row in one spree, while allowing five hits in beating Waterford 5-4.

Lee Shoup won both dashes as Orion turned in five 1sts. Mike Fedynik was the big gun for the Huskies. He reached 11 feet to take pole vault honors and tied two teammates for 1st in the high jump.

Doctoring Your Golf

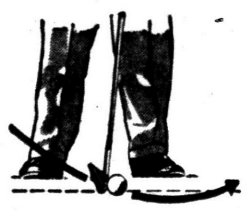

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Slow rounding into form.

DIAGNOSIS: Misplaced emphasis.

Treatment: Early spring is the time when many golfers like to experiment. This is all to the good, because it indicates a desire for improvement through learning more about the game.

However, if you experiment, it's important to avoid any neglect of the fundamental principles of the game. The idea is to keep the golf swing as simple and uncomplicated as possible so as to achieve consistency.

One fundamental principle frequently ignored is that the center of the clubface should be brought into contact with the center of the ball, with the clubhead moving straight through the ball toward the objective.

This is an excellent point to concentrate on as you address the ball in preparation for the shot. Get the picture firmly in mind of delivering a SOLID blow, with the clubface coming in to the ball square with the line of flight — then moving on through the ball in a straight line for 12 inches or more.

Of course, to meet the ball properly with a solid blow, you need a good grip and swing. When using irons, remember, you need left arm control.

Airport Development Program Faces Jet-Age Crisis

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The transition to the jet age is causing some of the nation's major cities a stack of headaches.

Important cities know that if their airports can't or won't handle jets, they'll be bypassed in tomorrow's flying. But the jets require two-mile-long runways. And they need cleared areas beyond the runways, so that the roar of their powerful engines will not annoy the public.

Right now the Senate and House are in disagreement, and a conference on their differences is expected soon. Here is where they stand:

On Feb. 6, the Senate passed a bill providing 100 million dollars a year for each of four years, along with 65 million immediately available for adequate development of airports with especially urgent needs.

It specifically excluded "bars, cocktail lounges, night clubs, theaters, private clubs, garages, hotel room, commercial offices or game rooms or such other use which is not essential to the welfare and safety of those persons using airports for public aviation purposes."

Later the House passed a bill that provides for only 63 million a year for each of four years with an additional 45 million available later—20 million in 1961, 15 million in 1962 and 10 million in 1963.

The House action, which cut the Senate bill by 33 per cent, would ban the use of federal funds for terminal buildings except for control towers, weather services and a few other areas used exclusively by the government.

NEED IS URGENT

This bill "seriously jeopardizes airport development urgently needed for the national economy, the national transportation system and the national defense," says a joint statement of the American Municipal Assn., United States Conference of Mayors, the National Assn. of County Officials and other interested agencies.

"Airports and terminal buildings now under construction will either go unfinished or delays will add considerably to their cost and inconvenience to the public.

The Airline Pilots Assn. says New York's Idlewild Airport, recently expanded, is already overcrowded and can no longer take the full delivery rate of the airways currently in use.

The pilots say the new Washington, D.C., international airport under construction at Chantilly, Va., is already a minimum field, since its main runway will be only 10,000 feet long.

★ ★ ★

Typical of the appeals to Congress for airport assistance was that from the Oakland, Calif., airport administration.

The Oakland representatives said cities were first told that the new jet planes would use existing runways, taxiways and terminal buildings. Then it became known:

1. They would be much larger, throwing greater demands on the passenger terminal.

2. Most runways would have to be lengthened to handle them.

3. Costly special lighting and special construction of runways and taxiways would be required.

4. Fueling facilities of "fantastic" capacities must be installed.

"All of these things are reflected in greater costs, costs which the cities cannot hope to undertake without help," the Oakland appeal said.

MORE PASSENGERS

Meanwhile, advocates of federal aid to airports point out that in the 10 years from 1947 to 1957, airline passengers increased in number from 12½ million to nearly 44½ million. The FAA has forecast a total of 66 million passengers by 1960, 93 million by 1965, and 118 million by 1970.

Air cargo quadrupled in volume from 1946 to 1957 to a total of 261 million ton miles. The FAA estimates it will increase to 600 million ton miles by 1960, a billion by 1965, and one and six-tenths billions by 1970.

Meanwhile the general aviation or non-airline fleet, now totaling more than 65,000 planes, is expected to increase to almost 89,000 by 1965 and 107,000 by 1970.

The airline industry, with $1,160,000,000 worth of property and equipment at the end of 1957, now has about $2,400,000,00 of jet equipment on order.

These jets, more than 400 in number, will be big, heavy and fast. They will carry as many as 180 passengers at speeds upwards of 550 miles an hour.

Sell UP and Solve Crisis

Detroit Solon Offers Proposal to Put End to Money Problem

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit senator has dreamed up a simple solution for Michigan's money problem—sell the Upper Peninsula to Wisconsin for 500 million dollars.

Sen. Basil W. Brown (D-Detroit) displayed to newsmen a resolution to that effect in the spirit of fun and merriment.

"Sen. Brown shows a definite lack of business acumen," said Rep. Clayton T. Morrison (R-Pickford). "He belongs to the 'giveaway' party, however, so his action is understandable."

The Upper Peninsula, Morrison declared, has two thirds of Michigan's natural resources and 500 billion dollars would be a more reasonable asking price.

Brown's resolution suggested that the sole solution to the problems now confronting the state was to:

"Sell, convey, assign and deliver in perpetuity that semi-foreign portion of her shores known (under favorable circumstances) as the Upper Peninsula to the state of Wisconsin."

He suggested the price tag of 500 million "hit upon as a good round figure hopefully designed to assist the lower peninsula through her current monetary crisis."

★ ★ ★

Brown noted in his resolution that the Upper Peninsula is ethnologically, culturally and socially in closer communion with the state of Wisconsin than with the lower peninsula.

He said the sale would be better than giving it back to the Indians.

Overloading Caused Todd Plane to Crash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The private plane in which showman Mike Todd was killed last year was overloaded, the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) said today.

The board attributed the March 20, 1958, crash in which Todd and three others died near Grants, N.M., to a combination of the overloading and engine failure.

With its overload and also burdened by icing, the CAB said, the two-engine plane could not be kept under control when its right engine conked out.

Gov. Williams Gets State Health Merger

LANSING (AP) — A house-approved bill to merge the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium Commission into the State Health Department advanced to the Governor today following Senate endorsement.

The bill passed the Senate yesterday, 29 to 3 with negative votes recorded for Sens. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), Clarence F. Graebner (R-Saginaw and Paul Younger (R-Lansing).

It was the fourth of seven executive reorganization proposals originated by Gov. Williams to complete the legislative route.

Last year replacement parts and accessory sales in the United States was over $2,040,000,000.

BOOKS ENDURE

I met a man, a financial wizard, rich in worldly goods and destitute in the realm of literature; he didn't have time to read the wealth of material found between the pages of books.

In books we find the sum total of human intelligence. Man left his foot prints leading up from the mire, past his struggles and victories, his race to escape the Dinosaur, evolving into the Engineer who builds a city. In books we live vicariously, climb the highest mountains, sail the seas, fly faster than sound, circle the globe in hours, endure the miseries of a love-story hero and rejoice in his victory. Books are the heartbeats of mankind. Youth uses books as a springboard, leaps out into space to find fame and fortune. Books unlock the doors of a Ft. Knox where all the wealth of knowledge is at our finger tips.

M. E. SIPLE

Untold wealth, mental health and fabulous entertainment is ours, between the pages of books. Books turn back the pages of the ages. They endure.

background for LIVING

LIVING ROOM — This room has deep cream walls and textured rose beige carpeting. The draperies are white with a flowered design. Cushions covered with the same material are used on the green sofa. The platform rocker near the television set is beige. Just a bit of the Hammond organ Mr. Marsh plays is shown at the left. From the living room windows the Marshes have a pleasant view of an orchard.

IN FARMINGTON — Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marsh moved into this tri-level home on Halstead road in January. The lower levels are built of red brick with white trim. The upper level is white aluminum siding with maroon shutters. Mr. Marsh designed and drew plans for his house. William Anderson of Southfield was the builder. The Marshes have five acres.

Your Neighbor's House

Love of Horses Dictated Home Site

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Althought the calendar said it was almost the first day of Spring, there was still snow on the ground and a chill in the air. But the sun shone warmly as we drove up the driveway to the Guy Marsh home on Halsted road in Farmington.

Because Mrs. Marsh owns a five-gaited horse, loves to ride and wants her children to grow up with horses, the family had to find acreage where they could keep a horse. They previously lived in a subdivision on Ten Mile road.

Now they have a new house with five acres of land. The week before we took these pictures a colt was born in their barn. Both five-year-old Jayne Elizabeth and her two-year-old brother, Richard, were excited about the colt.

The house which Mr. Marsh designed and drew plans for has four levels. All the lower one contains is the utility room. The first ground level has the family room and Mr. Marsh's den. Living room, dining dining room and kitchen occupy the middle level, while there are three bedrooms and a bath on the top level.

We went first of all to the family room. This opens out into the back yard. On one wall there's a red brick fireplace with bookcases and louvered door storage next to it.

Walls are pale cream color except the inside wall at the end which is papered in yellow and white. Draperies at either side of the door are beige. At the smaller windows there are little shutters.

A large multi-colored braided rug covers much of the corktone tile floor. There is both a regular sofa and a bamboo couch for relaxation. In one corner is a bamboo card table.

Both sets of stairs are carpeted in the same rose beige as the carpeting in the living room and dining room. Walls are deep cream with a white coved ceiling. Draperies are white with pink, blue and lavender flowers.

PLANTER LIGHTED

Above the planter wall next to the vestibule there is a ceiling spotlight. Lamps on the mahogany tables are white.

Furniture includes a green sofa with matching lounge chair; a brown chair upholstered in nubby material and a beige tapestry platform rocker. Against one wall is a Hammond organ (Mr. Marsh's hobby is playing the organ.)

In the dining room which has the same walls, draperies and carpeting as the living room, Duncan Phyfe furniture is used. The lyre back chairs have gold and beige satin striped seat covers. At the door to the back porch there is a Venetian shade. All woodwork in the house is light walnut.

Beige pebble linoleum covers the kitchen floor. Here also the walls are cream. The cupboards are solid maple with a fruitwood finish and copper hardware. Work counters and the splash boards are peach ceramic tile.

At the windows there are white organdy cafe curtains and matching ruffle. These are trimmed in deep peach.

Upstairs the front bedroom belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Marsh. Walls are pale green to contrast with the deep green rug. Curtains are white.

The white embroidered organdy spread is put over a pale green underskirt. In one corner of the room is a green chaise longue with rust and green flowered top. Furniture is mahogany.

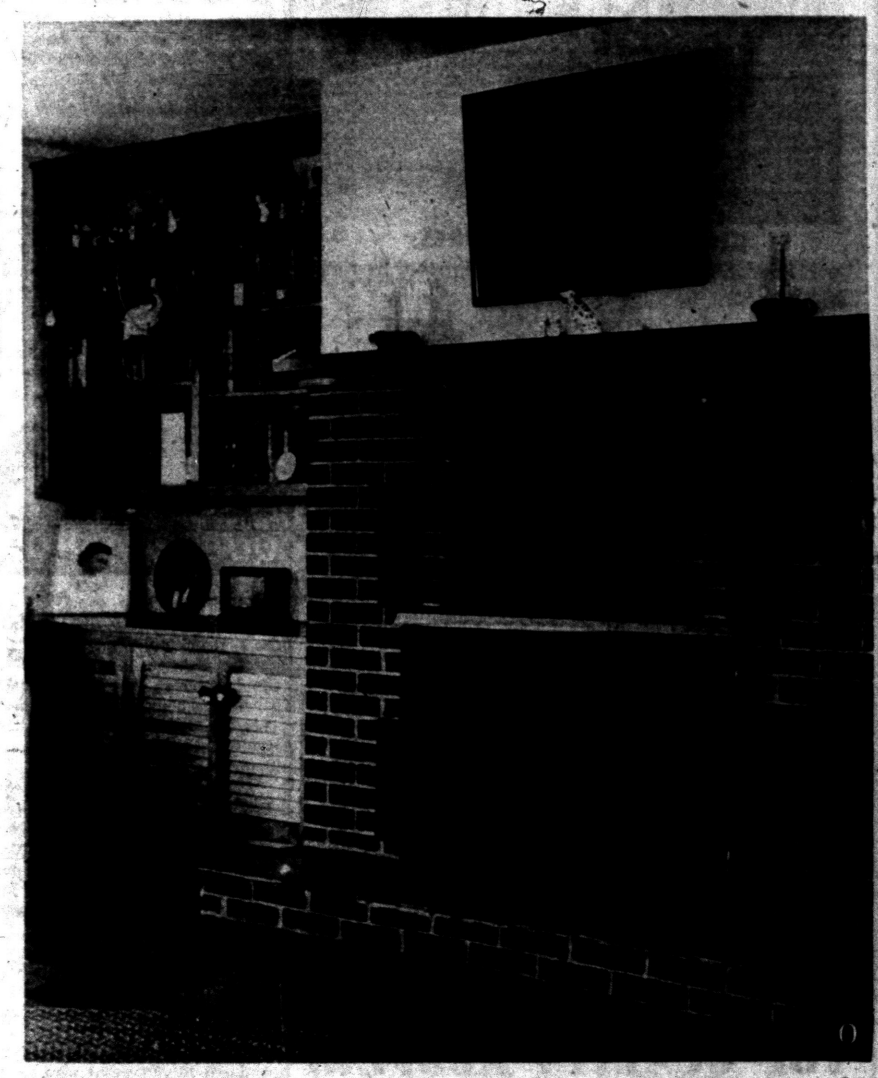

Jayne has a pink room. She has four poster twin beds with pink spreads and ruffles. There is a crisp looking green and white striped chair. Curtains are white embroidered organdy.

This very feminine little girl has a dainty dressing table. The ruffled skirt is white organdy over pink. Clusters of pastel flowers and ribbon bows ornament it. Lamp shades are also organdy.

We laughed when we went into Richard's room. He still sleeps in a crib. It was neatly made up with a dainty pillow case and a baby blanket. But at the foot of the bed was a large toy gun! The modern child's mascot.

There is also a full size bed in Richard's room. The spread and curtains are a matching cotton print in white, black and yellow. A tall white chest holds his clothes.

Now that the Marshes have lived in their country home since January they are looking forward to this spring and summer when they can get their yard in order.

Here's the Answer

By ANDREW C. LANG
AP Newsfeatures

QUESTION: Planning on making a concrete walk in front of our house. Is it necessary to make joints along the walk? If so, why?

ANSWER: Concrete contracts in cold weather. The joints allow the concrete to pull apart slightly without any damage to the solid pieces. If it were not for the joints, the concrete would crack in many places.

QUESTION: I want to cut down on the noise in our den. I figure that a new, dropped ceiling, about 6 inches below the original one, will be effective soundproofing. What kind of material should I use for the new ceiling?

ANSWER: The dropped ceiling always helps in cutting down noise. But it is recommended that some of the area between the old and new ceiling be filled with insulation. Also, use a porous material, such as fiberboard or acoustic tile, for the ceiling itself.

QUESTION: I keep getting confused by the differences between the designated sizes of lumber and the actual sizes. Can you tell me something about this?

ANSWER: Lumber is cut to specific sizes at the sawmill. It is those sizes which serve as identifications even though the wood later is cut down by planing and sanding operations. Thus, a 2 by 4 is 2 by 4 when it emerges as rough lumber from the sawmill.

After it is "dressed," it is 1⅝ by 3⅝. In the same way, a piece of lumber said to be one inch thick is actually 25/32 of an inch. And a 12-inch board measures only 11½ inches in width. You won't run into any trouble in working with the lumber unless you fail to take these differences into consideration.

QUESTION: A couple of years ago I made an outdoor shed for storing the lawn mower and other garden tools. I used a plywood door, the type known as a hollow-core. This door now has warped considerably. What caused this and how can I fix it?

ANSWER: This warping was caused by moisture entering the door, either through the surface pores of the wood or through the edges of the plywood. It may be that you painted the door when you put it up, but neglected to paint the edges.

Or perhaps you neglected to finish it at all. Any any case, place the door across two sawhorses and then put a weight on it at the point where the warp is. Be sure the bowed-side is facing upwards. Since you say the warp is considerable, the weight should be about 50 pounds.

You will have to keep a close eye on the door—about twice daily. As soon as you see that the weight has caused the door to flatten out, remove it and give the door at least two coats of paint or exterior varnish, covering the edges and ends as well as both sides. Do not leave the weight on after the door has flattened out, otherwise you'll have a warp opposite to the present one.

COPPER AND BEIGE — Maple cupboard doors have a fruitwood finish. The ceramic tile counter tops are peach as is the trim on the white curtains. Range, oven and sink are coppertone. The pebble design floor is beige.

NEVER TOO YOUNG — A little girl is never too young to start training in good grooming. Five-year-old Jayne Elizabeth has her own dressing table with all the necessary tools for smallfry beauty. The dressing table has white embroidered organdy skirts over a pink underskirt. Lamps have ruffled shades of the same organdy.

Waterproof Top

The Small Homes Council recommends a spacious countertop be installed in the family laundry for sorting, dampening and stacking clothes. A countertop of ceramic tile is perfect for this purpose, because it can't soak up water, stays bright and fresh — and is easy to keep clean.

Paneling for Teener's Room

Just as the young child deserves a room all his own, the adolescent needs to have certain features incorporated in his room's decor. What's more, families sometimes find that they can re-vamp the outgrown room with paneling in such a way as to help the youngster learn good study habits and a general sense of order and discipline.

★ ★ ★

An excellent reason for using paneling in a teenager's room is that it is as good for creating built-ins as it is for walls. It can serve as the material for building a study area and more and different kinds of storage space.

A really well-designed desk unit helps to make study more palatable, and adequate cupboards, cabinets and closets help a sloppy or careless child to learn neatness and order. Therefore, the sooner you start planning your project the better it is for the whole family.

A spacious built-in-desk that runs the length of one wall, for example, will afford a large surface area for reading and writing and for laying out school projects. This is particularly appreciated when a student has to spread out a number of reference books.

Drawers below can hold small school supplies and the many loose-leaf binders that don't look very orderly on open shelves. If a dresser is built as an adjunct to the desk unit, its drawers will naturally hold clothes.

Cabinets can also hold many things that don't fit easily into drawers. These can be used to break up a solid front of drawers and can hold football helmets, fishing tackle, an atlas too big for a bookcase, or a hundred and one other items collected by boys and girls.

The walls of your old room may well need some drastic overhauling. A popular choice is paneling from the western pine region. There are ten species of wood from this area and all come in clear or knotty grades. A boy might choose the informal masculinity of a knotty paneling with a clear finish, and a girl might prefer a clear grade, finished with one of the many commercial stains or home-made effects that can make a room any color of the rainbow.

Q—Our bedroom is above the garage. I've noticed that the bedroom floor is warmer when the garage door is kept closed in winter, though it's never really warm, particularly on bare feet. This has led me to wonder about insulating the garage ceiling. Would this help?

A—Yes, it would—to the extent that you'd honestly be delighted with the result. As it is, closing the garage door helps a little, but the uninsulated floor is not even as much protection from the cold as an ordinary outside wall.

Insulate with 3-inch-thick mineral wool batts or blankets, applying them between garage ceiling joints with the vapor barrier up. Ceilings or porches with rooms above and exposed crawl spaces should be insulated in the same way.

Q—I'm having difficulty getting a smooth, invisible seam on a taped and plastered point between gypsum board wall panels. Any suggestions?

A—Smooth the joint as well as you can with heavy-duty sandpaper, then go over it repeatedly with a damp sponge.

Q—What weight hammer is recommended for erecting 2 x 4 wall framing? Mine weighs 13 ounces.

HERE'S PROOF — Here is dramatic proof that genuine lath and plaster has well earned its Underwriters' Laboratories one-hour fire rating. The ceiling in this picture was covered with an acoustical material, which had been placed over lath and plaster. The fire, which gutted the room and its contents, completely destroyed the acoustical covering, but left the lath and plaster intact. When the lath and plaster were removed, the wood studs of the ceiling were found to be undamaged.

Fireproof Walls Demanded

A nationwide drive to require that all wall and ceiling materials used in school construction meet underwriter standards for a minimum fire rating of one hour, was called for recently by Joe M. Baker, Executive Director of the National Bureau for Lathing and Plastering.

"Materials for both walls and ceilings should be able to withstand the spread of flames for 60 minutes if we are to achieve some semblance of fire protection for school children," asserted Baker. "To assume that children can be organized and escorted from a blazing building in an orderly manner is to credit them with a level of self control that is not even generally present among adults," he pointed out.

Baker said that while a fire rating of one hour, according to American Fire Underwriting Standards, will not serve as complete fireproofing, it will nevertheless confine a fire to its place of origin long enough to allow evacuation of the rest of the building without panic.

"Emphasis must be placed on the need for fire-rated materials for both walls and ceilings," said Baker. "Ceilings that are constructed of inflammable materials can be regarded as especially dangerous since once penetrated by flames, an ensuing updraft causes a flash-fire reaction much the same as the recent school-fire tragedy in Chicago that took 93 lives."

Do-It-Yourself Carport

A low price aluminum carport for the do-it-yourself market has been introduced by Bridgeport Brass Co. It has supports for free-standing installation or can be attached to an existing structure. The shelter is 10 feet by 20. Interlocking aluminum panels slide together to form a weathertight roof. The finish is white enamel with green trim.

Old Playing Cards

Those with a yen to make their homes different often decorate with oddities. Although not an addity, an incomplete deck of playing cards can be useful. For example, rejuvenate and old metal wastebasket with them. Glue them to the basket surface smoothly and cover with shellac.

Not a Job for Amateurs, Call Expert

No, says the Oil-Heat Institute of America and in this statement there is complete concurrence by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

Adjustments of the oil burner cannot be done properly without using the correct instruments. It is, therefore, the job of a trained service man.

It is advisable for every owner of an oil burner to have a more or less permanent arrangement with a heating contractor, an oil burner dealer, or a fuel oil supplier for regular servicing of the burner, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau suggests.

Every oil burner, the bureau says, should be checked and serviced at least once a year, preferably in the spring or summer.

If a room is too light, dark paint will soak up the excess light. This gives a muted look to the room On the other hand, light paints serve as reflectors.

Please Mom With New Counter Tops

Home handymen can score a "hit" with Mom by installing new kitchen countertops, which can be both colorful and easy-to-clean if covered with a flexible plastic sheeting material.

The sink and old countertop should be removed first so that a base of Masonite ¼" Presdwood or Underlayment can be fitted accurately. Hardboard is recommended because it is smooth, grainless and free of any imperfections that might mirror through the plastic sheeting.

Also, nails or staples used to attach the hardboard to the counter can be driven flush so that the plastic sheeting will fit smoothly. The shape of the counter area can be traced on a piece of heavy building paper, and then transferred to the Underlayment and flexible counter surfacing material.

The surfacing material is secured to the underlayment with a latex-type adhesive, which should be applied with a notched spreader. Hand pressure should be used to secure a strong bond.

To insure a neat job, excess material should be trimmed before the sink is replaced and the metal edging strip attached. Plastic cut from the sink well and leftover material can be used for shelf and drawer linings, surfacing for stools or as a covering for cabinet doors.

SYMBOL OF AMERICA — Millions of Russians will walk through this example of the American ranch-style home this summer. The house has six rooms and overall measurements of 44 by 30 feet. Crated parts have already arrived in Moscow. It's part of the American National Exhibition in the city's Sokolnild Park, the first U. S. showing there in 44 years.

Don't Let Car Hog Whole Area

In the average household the car occupies the garage only a few hours of the day. Why not build your garage to accommodate the family, too? The additional cost will only be a small part of the total investment.

Your garage can be made to serve many purposes. For example, if you want to take full advantage of this additional living space, you can make it do duty as a sort of pavillion for your backyard parties in the summer.

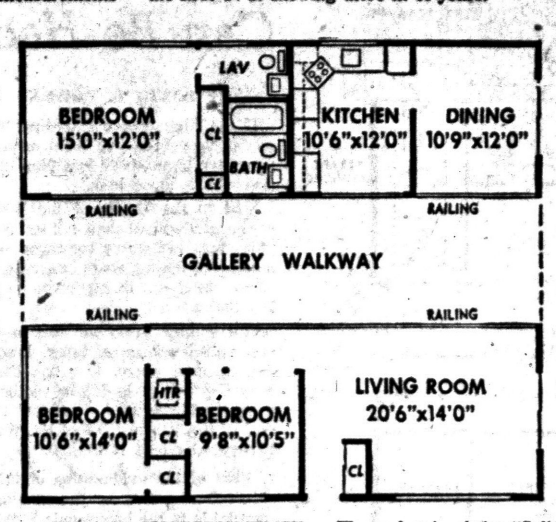

With a few chairs and tables, it makes the perfect spot for rest, refreshment and refuge from the sun. Ceramic tile on the walls will give it a real touch of elegance. You can keep the walls as clean and fresh as your bathroom with an occasional dousing with the garden hose.

It's also an ideal rainy-day playground for the kids. There's room enough for active games, and there's no worry about getting under mother's feet or cluttering up newly cleaned rooms.

And don't forget that the garage, with little planning, is one of your most useful storage places. Even if your car makes a snug fit, you can always find shelf space above the car roof or even over the hood.

List the things you'd like your garage to be in addition to a mere car shelter and talk it over with your architect. That extra room you've been wanting could emerge in your backyard.

AVERAGE AMERICAN HOME — Floor plan is of the "Splitnik," the U. S. home designed to sell for about $11,000. It'll be on display in Moscow beginning July 4. Precut in the United States, the house will be completely furnished and equipped. Walkway is built in house for viewers.

A GOOD SIGN that makes your name and house number clear will lend distinction to your home. Pattern 328, which gives actual-size cutting guides for a complete block alphabet and numerals as well as the attractive frames shown, is 25c. This pattern also is one of five different projects in the Home Improvement Packet 29 for $1. Orders under $1 add 10c service charge.

Honor Family Bride With New Paint Job

On learning that the eldest daughter in the family was coming home to be married, a family living in the country decided to do over the entire house before the event. It took the father, mother, two sons and a teenage daughter only ten days to spray new color on the walls, wood-work and ceilings of an eight-room house and to have everything back in shipshape condition by the time the bride-to-be arrived on the scene.

One room was done completely in shades of pink in honor of the bride. The living room, dining room, hall and sun porch were all in the same shade of pale aquamarine, with new white slip covers and flowered chintz hangings.

The old tub or pail will make a handy reel for the hose when bolted through the bottom to a plank nailed horizontally to a couple of garage wall studs.

It's best to use an electric drill to make the bolt holes in the bottom of the pail or tub, rather than punching the holes, because drilled holes are neater and don't weaken the metal area as does punching with nails or other pointed objects.

Too, the electric drill will give you quick, clean holes in the plank so long bolts can be used to properly anchor the hose reel.

The outward-tapering edges of the tub keep the hose from slipping off and the curved sides prevent kinking or bending, conditions which can permanently damage a hose. You'll find that keeping the hose off the garage floor also will avoid damage from car wheels and from corrosive effects of grease and oil spots.

In bathrooms, especially where built-in tubs are installed below tiled walls, built-in hand grips should be provided within convenient reach of the bather, according to the American Public Health Association's Committee on the Hygiene of Housing.

Contractor Can Zone House for Comfort, Savings

With zoning, even though you have only one heating plant, you can have two, three, or more different temperatures in various areas of the house. Thus you can have a temperature of 72 degrees in the living room, 68 in the game room, and 65 in the bedrooms.

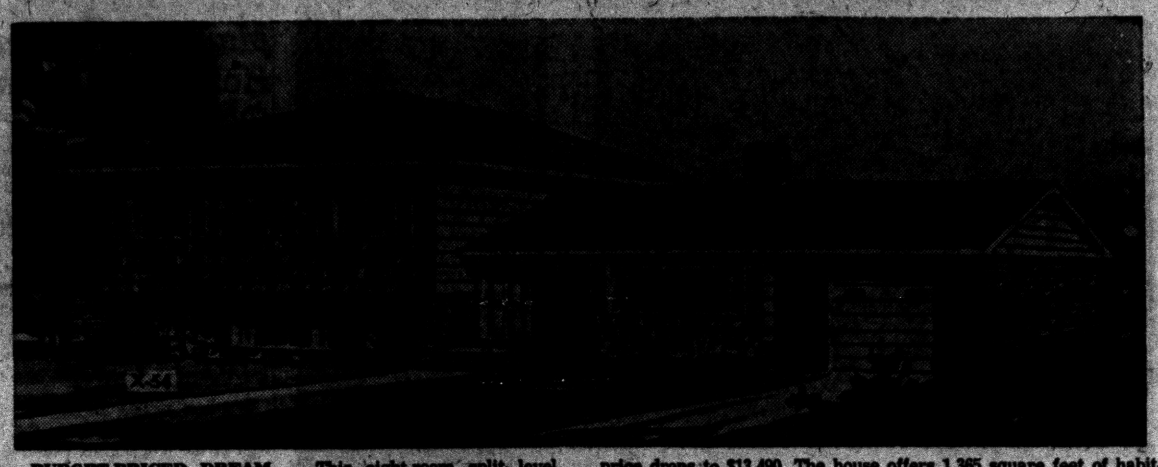

This means, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, that temperatures are maintained to suit the functions of each area of the home.

Heating and plumbing contractor will be glad to explain how, by means of separate thermostats and pumps, and hydronic or hot water heating system may be divided up into as many comfort zones as may be desired. Zoning can be applied to any existing system as well as to a heating plant in a new house. The important thing in new construction is to talk things over with the heating and plumbing contractor before the plans for the house reach the final blueprint stage.

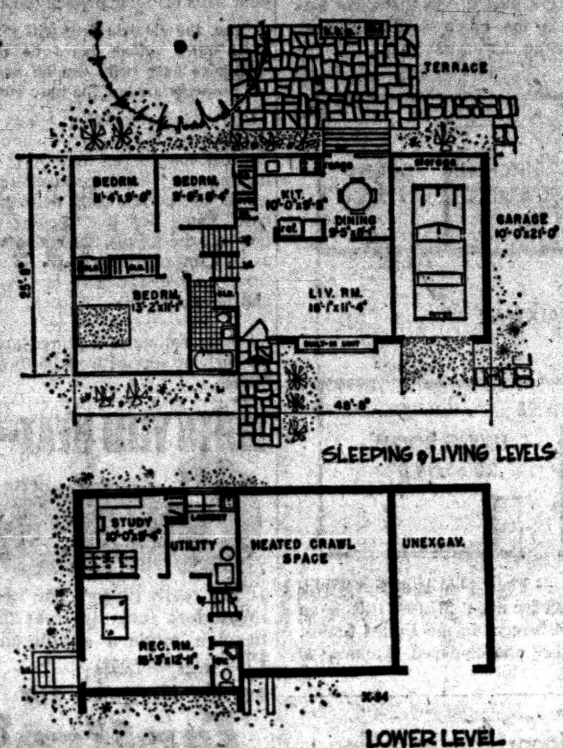

Tables published by U.S. Department of Agriculture show Southern Pine is the strongest of structural woods.

BUDGET-PRICED DREAM — This eight-room split level, which has four bedrooms and 1½ baths, sells for $14,100 in Babylon, Long Island, N. Y., including cost of land. Without the garage the price drops to $13,490. The house offers 1,365 square feet of habitable area.

DESIGN EFFICIENCY — All available space is put to work in X-54. Note the generous size of the master bedroom and main bath. The utility room on the lower level is large enough to contain small workshop, and if counted as room runs the total to nine.

Eight Rooms in Tri Level Can Be Had for $14,100

By DAVID L. BOWEN

X-54 in the House of the Week series of distinguished homes provides four bedrooms (or three and a study), dining room, recreation room, kitchen, living room, and 1½ baths.

The selling price for this modern split-level is a Long Island development about 45 miles from New York City is $13,490 without garage. This price includes the cost of the 100 by 100 foot lot. With garage, the cost is $14,100.

Part of the explanation of this attractive price is the saving available to the large-scale builder who has built and sold more than 200 houses of this type. However, X-54 was designed for economy.

No matter how custom-building costs in your city compare to mass production in Long Island, you should get a lot of house for the money with X-54. The way to find out what the price would be is to write for a "baby blueprint." Study Plan and take it to a local contractor for an estimate. The Study Plan contains the information he will need.

1,365 SQUARE FEET

X-54 was designed by Architect Samuel Paul and contains 1,365 square feet of livable space on its three levels. Entry is on the middle living level, which is divided between living room at the front of the house and kitchen and dining room at the rear.

The living room is 18 feet long and a bit over 11 feet deep, with a picture window in a projecting bay giving interest to both interior and exterior. Space beneath the window is available for a built-in TV set, HI-FI, or low book cases.

Kitchen and dining room are connected so that each gains the illusion of larger size. The kitchen is efficiently laid out, and even has a broom closet—a storage blessing many luxury homes do not provide.

TERRACE IN REAR

A large and always useful recreation room is the main feature of the basement level which also contains a study which could serve just as easily as a fourth bedroom. The utility room is surprisingly big for this size house and contains space for a complete laundry unit, heating equipment plus extra space for storage.

The bedroom wing has three sleeping rooms, with generous closet space in each. The comfortably large bath has a linen closet which sits atop what is a coat closet on the living room level, a good example of ingenious use of every available cubic foot of space.

The exterior of X-54 is finished in brick veneer and asphalt shingles, with an asphalt shingle hip and gable roof contrasting in color with the exterior walls.

The one-car garage joined to the middle level may easily be enlarged to accommodate two cars, if budget and lot restrictions permit.

Dimensions with one-car garage are 48'8" wide by 25'8" deep. The entry and bedroom levels combined offer 897 square feet of space, and an additional 468 square feet of space, and an additional 468 square feet are provided in the basement level. Garage covers 210 square feet.

Hiding Television Is Newest Game

Fond as they are of their evenings of televsiion, most folks readily admit that the glassy stare of a blank television screen is not the most decorative addition to a living room or family room. Cures are being found for the situation, however, and the favorite is to incorporate the TV set into a wall of builtin storage units where it can be disbuised when not in use.

Another clever idea of getting a lot of attention calls for building the television right into a wall in much the same way that a wall safe is constructed. In this case, the wall is usually paneled in one of the handsome, easily tailored softwoods like western red cedar, and a viewing "window" is cut into the wall for the screen. When the TV set is silent, a painting, mounted on a hinged door, swings over to hide it.

Canada's employment situation has improved to the extent that in July Canadians holdings jobs totaled 5,934,000—only 15,000 below the high level reached in 1957 and 145,000 more than in July 1956.

Paint Chemists Keep Busy Formulating Removers

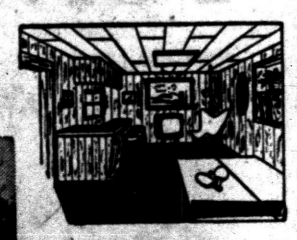

Chemical experts in the paint industry, with backgrounds of long experience in the field, are able to formulate efficient removers which keep up with the newest paints. There are two broad types of paint remover: the alkaline type and the solvent type.

Because the alkaline type is generally a strong aqueous solution of caustic soda which might damage wood, the solution must be quick-acting. Such alkaline solutions may also be used to remove paint on iron, steel, brass and copper, but must not be used on aluminum or zinc.

WALLS WORK — Smart homeowners will look to the walls to gain added storage space. The wall separating this dining room from the kitchen was successfully designed with built-in cabinets of mellow champagne west coast hemlock for a buffet unit. Portion of cabinets was extended out to form a serving counter, and jalousie shutters are used to close off pass through.

Rock Granules Make Asphalt Roof Tough

These granules also act as an opaque coating to keep the drying rays of the sun out of the delecate oils in the asphalt.

Modern Bathroom Plans

A total of 34 plans for bathrooms and powder rooms carefully drawn to scale are shown in a booklet "Modern Bathroom Plans" published by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois. Price of the booklet is 10 cents. Illustrated are several widespread arrangements for bathrooms and powder rooms as well as layouts that are recommended.

Blunting the point of a nail with your hammer will help prevent wood from splitting when you drive the nail home.

SLICK SEWING — Need a sewing center? Smart homemaker can convert a closet to sewing needs by adding shelving and drawers of tough Douglas fir lumber. Sewing machine mounted on table can be wheeled out for working. Double doors of Douglas fir, one mounted with mirror, another with rack for spools of thread, close unit off when not in use.

Vertical Lines Add Interest to Your Walls

It can be used to cover all the exterior walls if you'd like a complete change from horizontal siding, or it can be used to contrast with horizontal siding on the same house.

The fashionable up-and-down line can be achieved with durable hardboard siding that's available in various grooved patterns, or with smooth-surfaced hardboard covered by vertical strips called Hardboard siding panels are rigid and equally strong in length and width. They are denser than ordinary wood and have no knots, splits or other surface imperfections, so they offer a tough protective surface that is both attractive and long-lasting.

The smooth surface of hardboard won't crack or check the paint, and it's strong enough to resist dents, bumps and scuffs—an important quality to any family with lively youngsters.

Used in a vertical pattern, it will add eye-pleasing individuality to any home whether it's new or remodeled.

Simple Modern Homes Can Take Bright Colors

One of the reasons for the great vogue for vibrant colored houses is undoubtedly due to the current architecture. The ginger-bread style of building used in the gay nineties would have been unbearable in the coppers, magentas and ruby reds of today's exterior decor. The geometric planes and straight lines characteristic of contemporary houses are enhanced by bright and contrasting hues.

One house uses yellow on wood panels under the windows, slate blue on the frame, and a warm tan on the exposed roof overhang. Roof masonry panels, either painted or unfinished, provide an interesting contrast to the texture of the wood. There is no end to the combinations which will result in pleasing harmony.

Double Hung Window Opens Awning Style

A new type of window — one that looks like the traditional double-hung style, yet which opens by swinging up and outward like a awning window — now is available from building material dealers.

This new stock window of ponderosa pine makes it possible for a home to have the grace and tradition of a double-hung window, plus the advantages of modern operation.

Mothproof Storage

Paint the outside of a galvanized garbage can an appropriate color and put a large decal on the center of one side and use it to store unused garments or blankets in it. This is mouse proof and mothproof with the addition of a few moth crystals. This may be stored safely in either basement or attic. There is no need to decorate the can unless you really wish to do so.

PLUMBER'S HELPERS — Plumber's friend (A), drain cleaner (B), and plumber's snake (C) are helpers the handy man should get to know well.

Handy Man Is Candidate for Plumbing Ritual

WHAT YOU WILL NEED: A plumber's friend (a stiff rubber cup with a wooden broomsticklike handle).

The cup is about five inches in diameter, usually. Larger or smaller sizes are available.

The plunger can be used to remedy either a partially or completely clogged drain. There must be enough water in the fixture to cover the bottom part of the rubber cup. With a damp rag plug the overflow drain of sink or toilet.

Work the handle up and down slowly and evenly. The obstruction in the pipe will be broken by the alternate suction and compression. Continue the operation until the pipe is clear. Rinse the pipes clean with boiling water.

In such case, you will have to resort to a drain cleaner. There are many brands in the market. They should all be used WITH EXTREME CARE, as they usually contain a caustic substance.

FOLLOW DIRECTIONS carefully. The dry chemical is generally poured directly into the drain and water is added. The addition of the water causes the mixture to boil and bubble.

A totally clogged drain may not respond to the plumber's friend, and a large accumulation of water may make the drain cleaner impossible to use without siphoning or bailing out the water.

Place a pail beneath the trap—the U-shaped pipe under the fixture. If the trap has a plug, remove it. It's threaded and comes off easily with a wrench.

If you don't have a smooth-jaw wrench, wrap plated fitting with electrician's tape to protect it.

If there is no plug, you will have to remove the trap. Remove the fittings and lift off the pipe.

THE SPRING SNAKE can also be used through the drain opening in the sink, but not as easily. Turn the handle as you work the snake through the pipe. A special snake, called a "closet auger," is used to clean toilet bowls.

Frequent cleaning plus a little caution about what goes down the drain should prevent trouble. Allow nothing but water to enter the drain. Instill a strainer in the kitchen sink to prevent food particules from entering the pipes. Keep hair and lint out of the bathroom sink.

Boiling water poured into a drain will often help to dissolve some of the soap that coats the sides and builds up in thickness.

How to Build Work Bench for Home Handyman

Before he can carry on any home repairs, the handyman will need a suitable workbench. A temporary one can be an old table. Even if rickety, it can be made usuable by nailing triangles of hardwood at the junctions between legs and apron. Also use this tough, splinter-free panel for a new top.

If a low-cost conventional workbench is wanted, write to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., for free plan No. AE-312.

Women Weary of Flat Roofs

Delegates to the 1958 Women's Conference on Housing indicated a strong dislike for flat roofs on homes, and a particular preference for light colors in roofing, according to the National Association of Home Builders, sponsors of the latest Housing Congress.

Observers at the gathering, which consisted of 80 housewives representing a cross-section of home makers from all over the country, said the women's feelings are certain to influence architects and builders who, in the past have been "forcing flat roofs and drab, colorless roofing material down the public's throat."

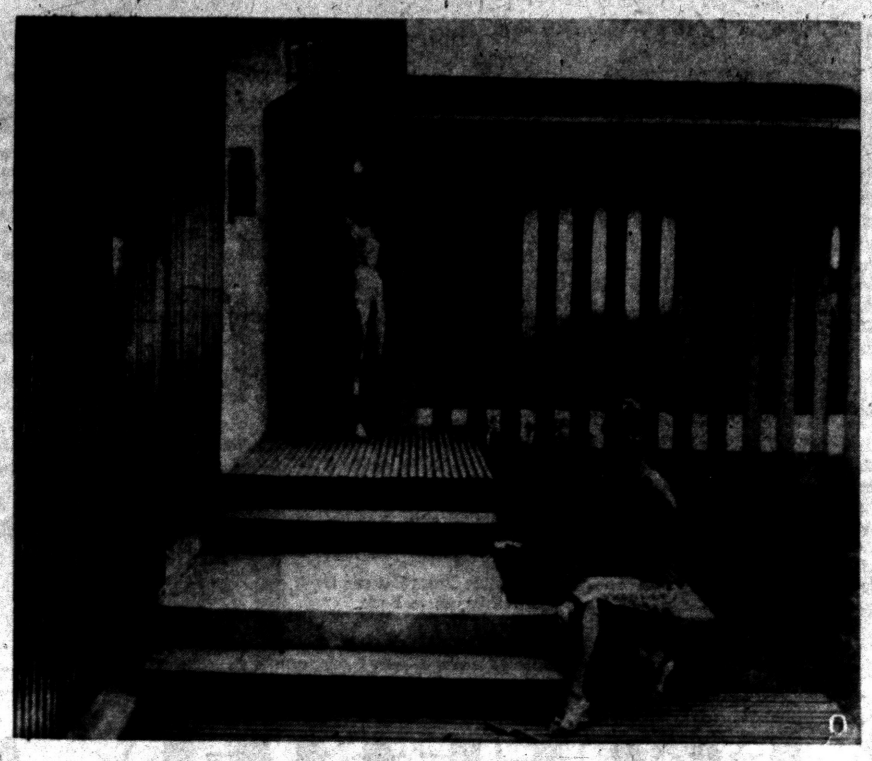

Preliminary reports on the Congress indicated the housewives' opinions about roofs were similar to those of previous Congresses. These included:

1. No attic space under a flat roof, and not enough ventilation. Even under a low-pitched roof, space for storage is available, and summer heat can be more readily ventilated away.

2. Light colors in roofing, such as the pastels and whites available in asphalt shingles, make a house modern in appearance, yet do away with the "cowering" look of the flat tops. In addition, color on the roof gives a house individuality, making it stand out among its neighbors.

3. A pitched roof in a light color, because it is visible from the street, gives a small house the appearance of greater height and size.

EYE-CATCHING ENTRANCE — There are more ways than one to make a visitor feel welcome, and a friendly entrance is a good starter. Here the architect has cleverly designed a front walk which draws you to the door. Rather than prosaic concrete steps, steps of 4x8 Douglas fir timbers have been alternated with concrete and miniature decks of fir 2x4s set on edge. Step-down screen at left of 1x1 slats hides carport from view. Pattern of alternating fir mullions and translucent glass screening inner entryway and gaily painted front door provide bonus eye-interest.

Kitchen Doldrums May Be Lifted With Paint

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Have you got a good case of the kitchen blues?

Reach for a decorating book. It may be that you aren't bored being a family chef and chief bottle washer, your doldrums may be due to "kitchinitis," an old-fashioned condition curable by a large dose of spring tonic containing one or more of the following: paint, wallpaper, tiles, new culinary tools or other kitchen equipment.

The kitchen often is neglected because it is not part of the grand tour when guests are being paraded through the house. But the average homemaker spends the best part of her working day in that quarter so it should be revitalized, if needed, to spare her the miseries of domesticity.

Kitchens should be bright and cheery. Walls may be painted turquoise, aqua, pale green, blue, cooler colors that are easier to live with than hot yellows, brilliant oranges, deep pinks and reds. Warm shades of yellow and red are likely to increase the feeling that cooking in the kitchen is a fireman's job.

Look at the cabinets. Do they need painting, too? If the kitchen is small, cabinets should be painted the same color as the walls to give the illusion of more space. If the kitchen is large, cabinets can be painted almost any color.

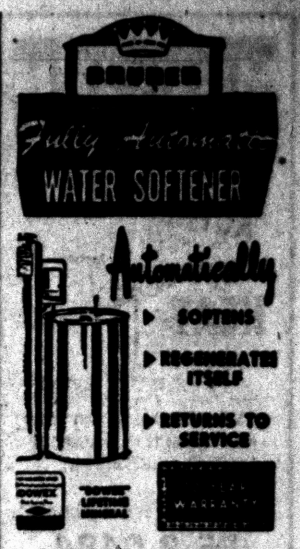

Some homemakers prefer a lighter tint of the color of the wall or a contrasting shade of ivory, beige, sand, pale yellow or a light, soft gray. Semi-gloss or gloss enamel is considered best for kitchens as it may be washed easily, and will not show fingermarks.

There are many ways you can perk up your kitchen. Large oversized prints of fruit or vegetables can lend a lift to walls. One small wall may be devoted to wallpaper or colored food pictures and menus pasted at odd angles. Or put wallboard up on a wall, paint it and hang from it copper-bottom pots, French aluminum or ceramic cooking ware on hooks.

A string of red onions, a bunch of herbs and a string of dried mushrooms are decorative assets to wallboard. It's the place, too, for your clock, wire salad basket, bread basket, calendar, and bracket for paper towels and other wrappings.

It's a good idea to keep an all-over busy pattern in wallpaper out of the kitchen. There are some charming small scale patterns that may be used effectively in the kitchen, perhaps on one wall or on a backsplash or even on the ceiling. These are treated usually so that stains may be removed easily with soap and water.

If your husband is a do-it-yourselfer, perhaps you can talk him into some new counter tops, ceramic tile backsplashes, new floor covering. If he isn't, perhaps he'll crack open the coffee jar and hire a man to do the work.

PATIO TRICK—For patio entertaining, what could be handier than a pass-through from kitchen to patio? Here, a pass-through was cut into exterior kitchen wall and is fitted with service shelves on kitchen side. Door is of stout Douglas fir tongue-and-groove panels, identical to fir siding used for home's exterior. Pass-through closes snugly, becomes extra storage spot during winter months.

If you expect the usual bird visitors in your yard, you must paint your bird houses. Gay surroundings attract birds. Remember this, however, wrens reject yellow. They like reds, light greys, pinks, blues and greens.

Battle of Basements Never Is Settled

The battle of the basements—or, should modern homes have a basement?—may reach feuding intensity in the building industry.

★ ★ ★

One leading home magazine claims a survey shows basements cost almost as much to build per square foot as comparable floor space in the main part of the home.

But, says Arthur W. Priaulx, western lumber official and home design authority, the basementless house is like a car without a luggage compartment.

Basements are a part of American living tradition, says Priaulx, who points out that the basementless home can't offer a family full living. "Where," he asks, "can Dad have his workbench and shop? Where can you store garden furniture, baby's crib during unused periods, outdated furniture against the time that just-married daughter claims it for her home?"

Basements, traditionally, have been a place for extra activities, Priaulx points out, which the family doesn't care to have in the living portion of the home. The laundry, for instance, belongs in the basement, as many a housewife will aver who has lint and laundry smells mixed in with her cooking in some of the "compact" homes where laundry and kitchen blend into one.

★ ★ ★

"I may be old fashioned," Priaulx says, "but it always seems to me that the furnace belongs in the basement. You get a warmer house. Experts claim you get better walking with a wood floor set on sturdy wood joists which has some spring and resilience, and you certainly can have a wood floor if you have a home with a basement."

Call is nostalgia or what you will, Priaulx continued, but a man without his own private lair where he can work on a motor, conjure up a stray piece of furniture, repair the endless things that seem to get broken around a family, is a lonesome man. Give him a basement with a corner for a workbench and he's happy as a clam at high tide.

There is no economy in leaving out a basement, Priaulx stated flatly. You either provide the equivalent space at more cost on the ground level, or you build a basement.

Homes with basements usually have better resale value, Priaulx cautioned, because too many of the slab floor homes have not proven satisfactory. Seepage, broken water lines and electric cables cast into the concrete, sinking and cracking are all common occurrences in slab floors.

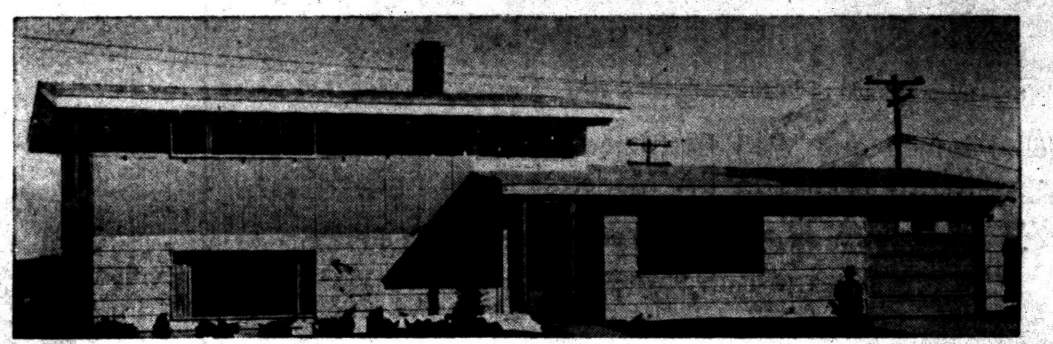

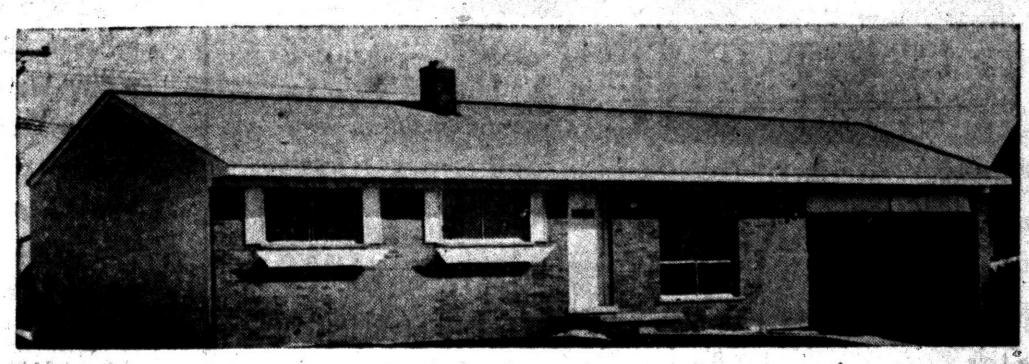

Buyers can see what they are getting when their prospective home has a basement. You can see the quality of good lumber used for floor joists, subflooring and flooring, and that is what impresses a buyer most.

Putty Is Best Friend

There is perhaps no commodity more often used around the house than putty. Therefore it is a good idea to keep a supply on hand ready to use at a moment's notice. Almost any painting job you can think of requires an intelligent use of correctly mixed putty.

Before you paint you fill all nail-holes with it. You replenish it where it's needed around the window panes. Let it dry, smooth it down and paint over it. Putty is the painter's best friend.

Don't Rush the Job

Caution! If you lay hardwood flooring during spring, summer and early fall, when relative humidities are running high, it is suggested by the Maple Flooring Mfrs. Assn., that an acclimatization period of two to three weeks be allowed after the floor has been nailed in place and before sanding or finishing is started. In other words, don't rush the sanding and finishing job, says MFMA.

MAKE A CUPOLA to lend distinction to your garage or breezeway. The whole job, right up to setting it in place, may be done right on your work bench. Pattern 407, which shows every step including a device for shaping the bottom to follow your roof line, is 25 cents. The weather vane shown here is made with Pattern 241 which is also 25 cents. Add 10 cents service charge.

Packages of Gum Add Color to Easter Baskets

The small, brightly colored packages of chewing gum fit right in with the Easter basket idea. And gum is always a welcome favorite with the children. So add this practical, yet inexpensive touch to their Easter baskets as more and more modern mothers all over the country are doing. Your children can have so much more enjoyment when they discover their Easter baskets if you remember to get a good supply of any popular brand of chewing gum the next time you go shopping.

New Finishes for Floors Are Quicker, Better

One bothersome feature in old-fashioned methods of floor finishing was the length of time needed for the varnish to dry. As much as 18 to 24 hours was required between coats. The temptation was always present, therefore, to sacrifice the superior wearing qualities of varnish by using fast-drying shellac, to avoid having the room out of use for days at a time.

The new synthetic resin floor finishes available today combine outstanding durability with fast-drying. Some dry even faster than shellac . . . dust-free in only 15 minutes, ready for the second and final coat in one hour. These new finishes, one of which actually served its apprenticeship on bowling alleys, offer other important advantanges.

They provide a coating hard and tough enough to withstand punishment equal to the brutal battering a bowling alley takes, yet without the brittleness that results in chipping and peeling. In addition, they produce a surface so impervious to wear, dirt and stains that the needs for floor-waxing and scrubbing—the bane of the housewife's existence—is eliminated.

A paint, hardware or lumber store now carrying these new synthetic-type resin finishes can be found in almost any neighborhood. These stores have become one-stop headquarters for the latest information and advice on floor finishing.

They provide free step-by-step instruction manuals and they supply all of the materials and equipment needed to do a first-class job. For example, modern floor sanders . . . easier to operate and fitted with dustproof bags to collect the dust created during the sanding operation . . . are available at low rental rates.

Good Psychology

Because so many observers feel they must try it for themselves in spite of a bold "Wet Paint" sign, one man recently thought up the clever device of putting below the sign a separate board with its own swatch of paint. Above it he lettered "Try here."

Cheers Greet End of Mill Strike

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — A sudden, mighty cheer rose from scores of throats. Bitter tensions evaporated in a giddy whirl of joy. Henderson's violence-wracked five-month textile mill strike was ended.

This industrial city of 16,000 heard the news Friday night from a conference hall where white-haired Gov. Luther Hodges, an ex-industrialist, reached an agreement with officials of the Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills and the striking Textile Workers Union of America in 3½ hours of negotiations.

It is an agreement, union leader Boyd Payton asserted, "we can live under." But, he told a crowd assembled in the bright moonlight outside the company's main office, "Everybody is not going to work Monday morning."

★ ★ ★

What it did mean, according to Payton's remarks, is that strikers will make up the second and third shifts that Presiden John D. Cooper Jr. of the company plans soon to resume. About 400 nonstrikers, who faced verbal abuse and occasional barrages of pop bottles and rocks from the picket lines, will keep their jobs on the first shift, which has been operating since Feb. 16.

★ ★ ★

Wages were not an issue. Cooper's objection to renewing the contract that expired last year was a clause that all work disputes had to be decided by a third party. After the two mills reopened on a limited basis, the rights of nonstrikers and the union dues checkoff also became issues. Under the agreement, the arbitration issue was compromised.

Cooper, who said he would have liquidated the business "before I gave in to them," declined comment on the agreement. It must be ratified at a union meeting Sunday but the membership had given its negotiating committee full powers to act.

For most of the 1,200 union members the agreement meant the end of five months without pay. "You don't know how good we feel," said one. "I feel like a freight train has been lifted off me."

★ ★ ★

Payton said nonstrikers would hold their rights only on the job they were on when the strike ended. "If they are removed from those jobs for inefficiency or any other reason, those jobs will immediately revert to the persons on the job when the strike began," he added.

Payton also made these points:

On arbitration, the issue which caused the srike:

"For all disputes having to do with disciplinary action, the old contract provision will apply. All other matters are subject to arbitration by mutual consent with the union having the unrestricted right to strike in the event the company refuses to arbitrate."

On dues checkoff:

"There will be no checkoff of union dues under the contract, but the company has agreed to erect dues collecting booths at each mill."

Service Daily for 17 Years

'Stripes' Marks Birthday

DARMSTADT, Germany (UPI)— The Stars and Stripes, the American serviceman's hometown newspaper away from home, today marks its 17th anniversary.

★ ★ ★

A four-edition, 150,000 circulation daily, "Stripes" was first printed as a daily in London on April 18, 1942.

From London, the newspaper followed advancing U.S. troops through North Africa and Europe, making use of any printing materials that could be found.

Sometimes the paper was printed in up to 12 different locations to get editions into the hands of fighting men on scattered points.

★ ★ ★

Now settled in a modern printing plant in Darmstadt, near Frankfurt "Stripes" provides 24 pages of daily news to servicemen and their families stationed anywhere from Scotland to Turkey, North Africa to Iceland for only five cents.

★ ★ ★

To avoid losing money due to the paper's low cost, "Stripes" operates about 500 newsstands which sell books and periodicals.

Profits go to the Armed Forces Welfare Fund.

Present chief editor is Air Force Col. John D. Nottingham, a former Texas newspaperman. Assistant editor in chief is Army Lt. Col. T. J. Cunningham.

The main source of news comes from the American wire services, plus additional items mainly of military interest from "Stripes" own bureaus in Washington, New York, London, Paris, Athens, Madrid and Stuttgart.

The present Stars and Stripes can trace its ancestry back to Civil War days, when Union forces issued occasional news-sheets under the same name.

★ ★ ★

There was also the famed World War I weekly edition.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

More than 60 Americans are employed in the paper's editorial section. Fifty Americans are further employed in the production section and foreign personnel numbers over 180.

Suspect Is Shown Sight of Murder

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (AP) —"I've been in jail three days and I want to call a lawyer."

The body of Isabelle F. Steele, 53, was found Thursday by the couple's son, Ralph Jr., 18, at a bungalow court which Mrs. Steele was awarded in a 1954 divorce settlement.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

He denied attacking Aarons and has refused to comment on his wife's death. Aarons was not seriously injured.

Crescent Hills Pastor and Wife, Members of Staff at Proud Lake

Color slides of the Lake Louise Baptist Camp will be shown at the 8 p. m. service Sunday at Crescent Hills Baptist Church by Dr. Floyd Norton, director of Christian education for Michigan Baptist Convention.

A number of Crescent Hills campers will attend Proud Lake during the week of July 19. The Rev. and Mrs. Beujamin A. Bohn will be on the staff at this time.

Might Lose 6 Tots Due to Filthy Home

The six children., ranging in age from one to 8, were removed from the house and taken to the Oakland County Children's Home pending a hearing in Probate Court.

The home at 89½ S. Parke St. is "within the shadow of City Hall," Ockerman said.

★ ★ ★

The youngest two children were found drinking sour cold milk from baby bottles. Two others were asleep with their heads next to an open window, with cold air blowing across their faces.

HAD PNEUMONIA

The one-year-old had just returned home from the hospital where he had been treated for pneumonia, officers said.

"The parents would eat out of tin cans and throw both the remains and the cans on the floor," Ockerman said. "It was just about as filthy a place as I'd ever been in."

"You'll clean up," she was told, "before you can stay there. The children's future will be up to the judge."

Officers said the waitress was "neat as a pin" dressed in a spotless white uniform and white shoes.

★ ★ ★

What puzzled police was that the family has a sizable income.

"They've cleaned the house up since we were there," Ockerman said. "But it's still a mess—I don't know how it could be made livable for humans."

Ragsdale Out as Buick Head

Rollert Replaces Him; Division's Sales Off Past Several Years

Rollert has been general manager of the Harrison Radiator Division of General Motors at Lockport, N. Y., since February 1955.

Buick's 1959 models have not shared in a general auto sales increase this year, despite drastic styling changes and new names and lines.

As recently as 1955 Buick was the third biggest seller in the auto industry. The past two years it has slipped sharply.

A tabulation of new car registrations for January — the latest complete month — showed Buick running seventh. Ahead of it were Chevrolet, Ford, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Plymouth and Rambler.

Father Shot by Angry Son

Rose Township Man Wounds Parent During Violent Argument

A Rose Township man is being held by Pontiac State Police today for questioning in connection with the shooting of his father this morning.

Troopers said Arnold Greer Jr., 21, of 1000 Davisburg Rd., shot his father, Arnold Sr., 46, of 5239 Vinewood, Detroit, in the leg during an argument shortly after 9:30 a.m.

The elder Greer was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of the wound. He was shot with a .22 caliber rifle in the thigh, police reported.

According to reports from troopers, the son and father were at the son's home and became engaged in an argument in the yard.

The son told police his father threatened him with a hatchet and he ran inside to get the gun. He returned to the yard and shot at his father, police said.

Cuban Chief Visits Shrines Today

Castro's Goal: Hit Reds by Wiping Out Poverty

Compared with Friday's meeting with the American Society of Newspaper Editors during which he outlined his country's needs, it will be a day of relaxation for the bearded Cuban revolutionary leader.

Speaking at length on Cuban economic problems, he said his country needs a "just treaty of commerce" with the United States to get money for building factories and reforming agriculture.

He also appealed for American tourist trade.

With his usual flair for flamboyance, Castro appeared before a packed meeting of 1,000 editors and guests in his standard attire—greenish fatigue uniform, shirt open at the neck.

He stuck gamely to English through his talk in which he said:

NO RED CONTROL

1. His government is not Communist. But he did not give a direct answer when asked if Cuba would remain neutral in any war between the United States and the Soviet Union.

2. His country will maintain its membership in the 21-nation Western Hemisphere defense alliance. He added Cuba will continue to give refuge to Latin Americans who hope to overthrow dictatorships in their own countries. But Cuba, he said, will maintain a policy of nonintervention in the affairs of other Caribbean republics.

3. He is not a dictator and believes in a free press.

4. At this time Cuba has no intention of throwing out the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Castro scheduled a visit to the Lincoln Memorial, Mount Vernon, the Jefferson Memorial and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends, neighbors and relatives for their cards of sympathy, floral offerings and acts of kindness during our recent bereavement. Special thanks to the Rev. C. Warren Wilson and the members of the Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church, Huntoon Funeral Home, palbearers, Masonic Lodge, The Ernest V. Norberg family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF George C. Graham who passed away April 19, 1956
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much I miss you yet.

Space Capsule 'Escape' Works

Good News for Pilots Due to Attempt Orbit of Earth in '61

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Here's good news for seven astronauts assigned to ride space capsules two years hence:

The Project Mercury "escape mechanism" has been given its first test—and it works.

The successful test was disclosed today by Dr. Robert Gilruth, director of the project. He said small auxiliary rockets designed to provide emergency escape from the capsule were test-fired successfully last week at the Wallops Island, Va., experimental center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

★ ★ ★

The escape rockets hurled an unmanned dummy space capsule 2,000 feet into the air, Gilruth told the World Congress of Flight. Then a parachute lowered the capsule into the Atlantic half a mile offshore at 30 feet a second—a rate of descent that both the capsule and the man can withstand.

★ ★ ★

These are to be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., starting in 1961.

Gilruth said initial plans call for launchings northeast from Cape Canaveral. The Mercury capsule might go into orbit 100-150 miles above the earth near Bermuda, at a speed of about 18,000 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

The Mercury pilot will go around the earth twice on the initial flights, taking about two hours for each circuit and on the third time around he will fire reverse thrust rockets that will slow him sufficiently to begin the descent.

Students to Stage Rally for Integration at Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of students converge on the nation's capital today to appeal to the White House and Congress for speedier action in integrating America's public schools.

★ ★ ★

Sponsors said both white and Negro students from high schools and colleges in many parts of the nation will be on hand for the rally. A similar youth march was staged here last October.

A delegation of two white and two Negro honor students arranged a noontime visit to the White House to confer with one of President Eisenhower's assistants.

Ragsdale Is Out as Buick Manager

Rollert has been general manager of the Harrison Radiator Division of General Motors at Lockport, N. Y., since February 1955.

REV. THEODORE R. ALLEBACH

Fellowship Rally Set at Oakland Church

Speaking at the Oakland Youth Fellowship Rally at 7:30 tonight in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church where he is pastor will be the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach.

A graduate of Sterling College and Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, the speaker also attended Moody Bible Institute.

An attendance award will be given the largest youth group present.

'Missions' Topic for Rev. Auchard at Orchard Lake

"The Reasons for Missions" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor, at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, at the morning worship services tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The Chancel Choir will sing at 9 a. m. and the Cherub Choir, composed of children 4, 5 and 6 years of age, will sing at the 11 a. m. worship hour. Fred Fuller will present "Repent Ye" by Scott at both services.

★ ★ ★

William Duckwitz will be in charge of the evangelism committee meeting Tuesday evening. The Board of Deacons will meet at 1 p. m. Wednesday under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ross Reeves.

Cherub Choir graduation is scheduled for Friday evening. More than 50 children are enrolled in the musical organization.

Authorities Disagree on Prison for Addicts

"I don't think it is in the nature of the American public to pander to any vice," White said. He is with the Narcotics Bureau in San Francisco.

News Editors Hit Government

Charge Suppression of Military Facts Prevents Intelligent Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — A committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors charges that suppression of military information is preventing the American people from making intelligent decisions on national defense.

The report of the society's Freedom of Information Committee was slated to be made by its chairman Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford (Conn) Courant.

In the freedom of information report prepared for delivery to the convention, Brucker criticized congressional committees for closing a high percentage of their hearings to the press. He also deplored what he described as a similar tendency in the executive branch.

"The practice can be justified to a degree in the executive agencies, especially in defense matters," Brucker said, "but it is carried so far that it must constantly be resisted."

★ ★ ★

At this moment, he said, the American people have insufficient information to make intelligent decisions bearing on national security.

Showing Movie on Glen Miller at Area Church

CLARKSTON — Women of the First Methodist Church here are again sponsoring a Hollywood movie for Clarkston area children and adults at 7:30 p. m. today at the church.

After all religious material has been removed from the sanctuary, "The Glenn Miller Story" will be presented.

Because there is no theater in or around Clarkston, the Martha Richard's Circle has assumed the responsibility of bringing movies to the town, particularly for Saturday night dates of teenagers according to Mrs. Richard Funk, Chairman.

People of all faiths are welcome to attend the non-religious movie program. A minimum fee will be charged to cover expenses.

The group hopes that if the project is successful, a bi-monthly program can be worked out, Mrs. Funk said.

Blames High Schools for Poor College Work

Hall told the Citizens Advisory Committee Friday that lack of proper guidance in high school, "which has not prepared them to function well in a college situation," is chiefly to blame.

Thanks to Endowment Fund

Students at Kalamazoo Study in Foreign Lands

Through the generosity of Dr. S. R. Light, a former vice president of Kalamazoo's huge Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo College has received a $1,500,000 grant to its endowment fund designed specifically to send its top students overseas each summer.

The grant, announced today, is an outgrowth of an experimental program begun in the summer of 1958. At that time, an initial grant of $400,000 was made to the college from the S. Rudolph Light trust to send 25 Kalamazoo College students abroad on $500 scholarships.

The first group of students, most of whom had just completed their freshman year at the college, went to Europe to undertake extensive foreign language study in German at the University of Bohn, in French at the University of Caen, and in Spanish at the University of Madrid.

The results of last summer's experiment were so satisfactory that the entire $1,500,000 S. R. Light trust has been turned over to the college with the stipulation that income from the fund go to the expansion of the unique foreign study program.

"Those young people who studied in Germany, France and Spain came under the influence of the intensive European teaching methods, learned to live with people of their host nations and understand their political and cultural backgrounds and certainly gained in independence while living as students abroad," he says.

Dr. Light, who is also a former Mayor of Kalamazoo, was a trustee of the college for many years. Now 82, he lives in retirement.

A summer study group has already been assembled for the 1959 vacation period. Only change involved is a switch from the University of Madrid to the University of the Andes in Bogota, Colombia, for the Spanish language students.

The effect of the additional grant from the Light trust will not be felt in the program until the summer of 1960. But, with the majority of the future travelers coming from the freshman and sophomore classes, college officials expect that within a few years nearly half of each Kalamazoo College graduating class will have had the benefit of a summer abroad.

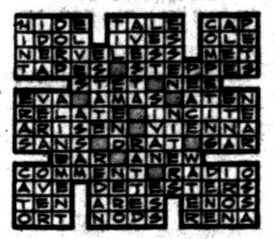

Singer Herb Jeffries Wins Mexican Divorce

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Singer Herb Jeffries has been awarded a divorce in Juarez, Mexico, clearing the way for him to marry dancer Tempest Storm.

Jeffries, 44, filed petition for divorce Wednesday from his wife, Elizabeth A. Ball. Jeffries was awarded the custody of the couple's two children. The singer and Miss Storm have set no date for the wedding. He returned to Hollywood Thursday.
