Suspicious Farmer Hits Jo Hall, Auburn Heights, With Shotgun Slug

A 17-year-old Auburn Heights girl was wounded early today when an Oxford farmer fired a shotgun slug into the car in which she was riding with four other teenagers.

The girl, Jo Ellen Hall, was listed in fair condition with a back wound by Pontiac General Hospital authorities.

Stories of the shooting differed. Four of the youths and Seward Rossman, 45, of 3151 Lake George Rd., Oxford Township, were questioned by authorities today.

Rossman was released after making a statement at the prosecutor's office this morning. But the youths were retained for further questioning.

James Maybee, 18, of 2627 Frankson, Rochester, told Oakland County Deputy Sheriff Harry Jones and Detective Leo Hazen that he was driving the car and had "become lost" while riding around after skating last night on Silver Lake.

Maybee said he went to the Rossman farm at about 4 a.m. to ask directions. He said he got no response to his knocks, returned to the car and began driving away when the shot was fired.

Rossman told authorities that he heard a noise and looked out a rear window to see a car backed up to a 500-gallon gasoline tank in his yard.

He said gasoline had been taken previously from the tank so he got his 16 gauge shotgun and loaded it with a deer slug. When he returned to the rear door, he said, the car was driving off at a high rate of speed. He said he fired at the car's gasoline tank.

The slug passed through the car's trunk and seat, striking the girl in the back. She underwent surgery this morning.

Others in the car were Clement C. Berger, 18, 3035 John R., Birmingham; Edward Drogosh, 17, 2321 Longview, Rochester; and Sylvia Maybee, 16, James' sister.

They said they had driven to Utica, Mount Clemens and other places during the night.

Army Seeks Recruits for Pack Mule Outfits

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago recruiting office has issued a call for recruits for two mule-pack outfits at Camp Carson, Colo.

"All is not atomic in the Army," the office said. "The mule has more than proved its military worth in terrain that will turn back the much-touted jeep."

Nationalist Isle Falls to Invading Chinese Reds

20 Commie Warships Back Up Conquest of Tiny Outpost

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—A Communist invasion force backed by 20 warships struck strategic Yikiangshan today and apparently conquered the tiny Nationalist Chinese island outpost.

Reliable reports in the Nationalist capital said radio contact with the island was broken at 6 p. m. and it was presumed the Reds had completed their conquest.

An earlier Defense Ministry communique had prepared the public for the islands fall by announcing that Yikiangshan, a stepping stone to the important Tachen Islands, was garrisoned "by a few brave guerrillas" who late today "were still resisting bravely."

Unofficial quarters said they feared a full-scale invasion of the Tachens might come at any moment.

President Chiang Kai-shek called a conference of top level military leaders at Nationalist headquarters here tonight.

It was reliably reported the Reds shelled the Tachens this afternoon but made no attempt to land there.

Peiping radio said early Wednesday Chinese Communist amphibious forces Tuesday liberated Yikiangshan.

The Chinese language broadcast was monitored in Tokyo by Radio Press Agency.

Nationalist reports said the assault on Yikiangshan was delivered by 70 ships, including 20 warships, among them gunboats and torpedo boats.

Huge fires started on the island were clearly visible from the Tachens.

The U.S. 7th Fleet patrols the waters of the Formosa Strait, but there was no indications what steps—if any—the United States might take.

Help Rushed to Scots Isolated by Raging Storm

LONDON (INS)—Great Britain entered today the second week of its worst winter weather in eight years.

Reports of more snow, hailstorms, ice-covered roads, and floods came into London from the Scottish highlands to the channel coast.

More helicopters were sent to Caithness and Sutherland counties in northern Scotland to join those dispatched yesterday. The Royal Navy also ordered a frigate to proceed urgently to Wick, on the North Sea coast of Caithness.

The planes and ship were to aid in rescuing and supplying some 70,000 highlanders isolated by blizzards in towns and villages over a 3,700-square-male area.

All roads were blocked in the mountainous area and rail service was suspended. Food and other supplies were running short in many localities. Doctors have been unable to aid desperately ill persons.

Beauty and Utility Combined in Newest Pontiac

MAKES DEBUT AT MOTORAMA — Pontiac's Safari, the new Star Chief custom station wagon, combines the luxury of a fine passenger car with the utility of a station wagon. The two-door car, whose unique styling innovations and ultra-modern streamlining are shown in this rear view, is only 59 inches high. The Safari is being introduced at the General Motors Motorama in New York. Its customized interior is finished in hand-buffed leather which matches the exterior body colors.

Wilson, Radford Will Be Quizzed

Senate Armed Services Committee Seeks Facts on Defense Situation

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate Armed Services Committee decided today to call the nation's two highest defense officials for a secret briefing Thursday on the war-or-peace outlook around the world.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Gen. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will face sharp questioning on proposed military manpower cuts and Far East policies.

Committeemen said that the secretaries of Army, Navy and Air will be quizzed at later dates, along with their military chiefs.

The committee wants this general background before delving into new manpower legislation. President Eisenhower has asked continuation of the draft and a universal military training program for youths, plus an expanded reserve available for immediate call to active duty in an emergency.

Questioning of Wilson, Radford and the secretaries of the three military branches could lead to the review of overall foreign policy which various senators have been demanding.

Members of the Armed Services Committee feel that they, as much as the Foreign Relations Committee, have a responsibility to scrutinize global defense planning.

The Armed Services Committee holds an organization meeting today.

Ask Supreme Court Trial in Assassination

PANAMA (AP)—Supporters of ex-President Jose Ramon Guizado today pressed for the Supreme Court to take over from the National Assembly hearing of charges implicating Guizado in the murder of his predecessor in the presidential chair.

The drive got under way yesterday when Atty. Alejandro Pinango petitioned the court to assume the job on the grounds that the charges against Guizado resulted from actions allegedly taken while he was foreign minister. Under Panamanian law, only the Supreme Court can try Cabinet ministers while the Assembly has the power to try presidents.

Scheduled for Production Soon

New Pontiac Station Wagon Makes Bow

The Pontiac Safari, a new two-door station wagon, was announced by Pontiac Motor Division today. It will be one of the feature cars at the General Motors Motorama of 1955 opening Thursday in New York City. Only 59 inches high the sleek, powerful Safari is Pontiac engineers and designers interpretation of a family dream car.

In announcing the new two-door model, R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac general manager, said, "In the Safari, which is scheduled for production soon, we have combined the luxury and panoramic styling of our passenger cars with the utility of the station wagon.

"It is ideal for modern living where the family car must serve several purposes with the added assurance of having the finest looking motor car on the road."

Horizontal design lines across the roof accentuate the width of the Safari. Unique side window styling and moulding treatment gives added appeal. The traditional Pontiac Streak motif is featured on the Safari's front hood and rear tail fins.

A distinctively slanted rear compartment door is trimmed with verticle parallel chrome bars, and rear fins with fine chrome Silver Streaks maintain the Pontiac custom car motif.

Panoramic styling of the rear windows is another feature of the Safari.

The station wagon has chrome roof bows, genuine two-tone upholstering, and rich carpeting.

Exterior finish is in brilliant new firegold and turquoise colors, combined with white mist, in two-tone combinations.

Mounted on a 122 inch wheelbase, the Safari has an over-all length of 204.3 inches and is powered with Pontiac's 180 h. p. Strato-Streak V-8 engine. The Safari will list for $2,714.

Dulles to Hear Report on POWs

Denies Hammarskjold's Trip Into Red China Was a Failure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles announced today that he will get first-hand information here tomorrow from Dag Hammarskjold on the U.N. secretary general's mission to Red China seeking release of American airmen imprisoned as spies.

He rejected the contention of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that the mission had been a failure.

Dulles also told a news conference:

1. The United States would not object if the U.N. should undertake to arrange a cease-fire in the Formosa Straits between the Chinese Nationalists and the Communists.

2. The Tachen Islands about 200 miles north of Formosa are not in any sense essential to the defense of Formosa although one of them holds a radar outpost and may be militarily useful. This comment appeared to rule out any U.S. 7th Fleet defense of the Tachens. American policy in picking places to support the Chiang Kai-shek forces has been based on the essentiality of such spots to the defense of Formosa.

3. The island of Yikiangshan north of Tachens is without any particular importance and is not held by regular Chinese Nationalist forces.

4. The United States intends to put more emphasis on aid to the free nations of Asia. But Dulles again ruled out any great "Marshall Plan" type of program, saying this is unsuited to the underdeveloped countries.

Ancient Felt Hat Makes Unusual War Memorial

BUCHANAN (UP) — This Berrien County community's most unusual monument is an old felt hat that hangs in the Marble Planing Mill and Job Shop.

Thirty-seven years ago, Holmes Marble, owner of the shop, turned the business over to his brother, Clyde, when he enlisted in the Army at start of World War I.

Before he left, Marble hung his hat on a nail in the shop and commented, "I'll come back some day and pick it up."

But Marble didn't come back. He was killed at Argonne shortly before the war ended.

His hat, now gray with a 37-year accumulation of dust, still hangs in the shop. It has never been taken down.

Winter Shrieks Across Nation

California Coast Bears Brunt With Rain, Snow, Winds Up to 104 M.P.H.

By UNITED PRESS

Winter went on a coast-to-coast rampage today, striking hardest at the California coast with winds up to 104 miles an hour, torrential rains and heavy snows.

Across the nation, a cold wave gripped the Midwest, rain and snow fell from Texas to North Dakota, and frigid, snowy weather was predicted for parts of the Southeast.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued special warnings of from 3 to 6 inches of snow in the central and southern parts of Illinois and Indiana.

The western storm roared over most of northern California and forced a Japanese freighter, the Nichirei Maru, aground in Humboldt Bay.

The 6,684-ton vessel reported it was in no immediate danger, but a Coast Guard cutter was standing by. Meanwhile, two fishing boats were reported overdue at Eureka, Calif.

Winds up to 104 miles per hour were clocked at Blunt's Reef Lightship in the area and heavy snow in the California mountains made chains a necessity of transcontinental highways.

A rare thunderstorm hit San Francisco, while in Eureka, already shaken by an earthquake last month, the winds blew out more than a dozen heavy plate glass windows.

Eureka caught the brunt of the shrieking winds and heavy rain. The cross and the steeple were removed from the city's St. Joseph Catholic Church when the spire began listing. A giant redwood toppled over the main telephone cable between Eureka and San Francisco, cutting communications for a while.

A fast-moving snowstorm whipped over the Rockies and left an inch of snow at Denver, Colo.

In the East, temperatures in the middle 20s with possible snow were forecast for New York City, while snow was predicted for parts of Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The dirty weather yesterday contributed to plane crashes which apparently claimed 17 lives.

Armed Convicts Demanding Cars to Flee Prison

Bargain for Freedom While Holding Guards in Solitary Cellblock

BOSTON (AP) — Four dangerous Massachusetts State Prison convicts rebelled today, seized five guards at gunpoint and demanded a car to gain freedom from the 150-year-old, brick and granite bastille.

The desperadoes allowed the Rev. Edward Hartigan, Catholic chaplain, to go into an isolated solitary confinement cellblock, scene of the riot, to hear confessions of four of the guards. The fifth is not a Catholic.

Dep. Warden Perely S. Vance answered, "I won't comment," when asked directly if the desperate prisoners made any threats against the guard-hostages in bargaining for liberty.

A few minutes after 10 a.m., Vance told newsmen he talked by telephone with the revolters. He said the telephone was answered by Walter H. Balben, 37, one of the prisoners.

Vance said Balben let him talk to Warren L. Harrington, one of the hostage guards, and Harrington said they were "okay."

Theodore Teddy Green, 39 bank robber and escape artist, was described as ringleader of the rebels. Vance said Green and Balben both had pistols. Balben is serving a long term for murderous assault. He and Green were participants in a mass escape attempt Nov. 7, 1953.

The other two rebels, Vance said, were Fritz Swenson, 32, serving life for killing a police sergeant, who was involved in a riot at the prison in July of 1952, and Joseph Flaherty, serving a term for assault. Flaherty once was named Boston's public enemy No. 1.

Prison officials identified the guard hostages as Warren L. Harrington, Thomas Ryan, Gerald Kadlick, Martin S. Mulkerne and Eugene Wills.

First reports that an apparent wholesale delivery of the 600 inmates was being attempted brought some 200 heavily-armed Boston and state police to the scene.

They were withdrawn from their

Authority Rejects Plan for Alternate Route; Financing Ready

Michigan's first highspeed turnpike, between Flat Rock and Saginaw, is expected to pass south and east of Pontiac.

The Michigan Turnpike Authority announced yesterday afternoon that it had decided against any alternate route west of Pontiac, because such a route would add $6,000,000 to the cost, without producing sufficient additional revenue at toll gates.

The authority emphasized after a meeting in Ann Arbor that no exact route has been chosen for the turnpike, beginning south of Detroit at Flat Rock, and running to Saginaw, via Dearborn, Pontiac and Flint.

It said stake markers found along the route now are not route stakes, but were put up to facilitate an aerial survey.

Preliminary plans indicate the route, passing west of Detroit and Birmingham, will cross over somewhere between Birmingham and Pontiac to pass this city to the east.

The Turnpike Authority said today that Michigan and New York banks had agreed to advance $13,000,000 on promissory notes to finance surveying, planning and letting of contracts for a toll turnpike running from Flat Rock to Saginaw.

Such a scheme, the authority said, would save $3,109,200 in interest charges, because the notes would bear interest of only 1.7 per cent and would delay from next April to next January the issuance of $184,000,000 in 3½ per cent bonds to finance the project.

The authority decided at a meeting here yesterday to ask the Legislature to approve the plan whereby notes would be issued first and then bonds when construction is ready to begin.

Justin R. Whiting, an authority member, said banks had offered the note plan, without a state supreme court test of the turnpike law, because they considered the congested route "so potentially profitable."

Clark Adams Denies High Court Rumor

Pontiac attorney Clark J. Adams today denied a rumor that he would head the Michigan Democratic ticket as a candidate for Supreme Court justice in the spring election.

Reports stemming from a "high party official" at Grand Rapids listed Adams and Circuit Judge Stephen Roth of Flint as candidates for the high court.

Adams, a former Supreme Court justice, said today: "I haven't even been approached on the subject. I don't know how the rumor started."

Former legal adviser to Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Adams served 18 months in the Supreme Court in 1952 and 1953 after he was appointed to succeed the late Justice Walter H. North of Battle Creek.

Judge Clears Lattimore in New Perjury Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Judge Luther W. Youngdahl today threw out the government's new key charges in the Owen Lattimore perjury case.

Youngdahl ruled the accusation that the controversial Far Eastern affairs specialist swore falsely in denying he ever had been a follower of the Communist line or a promoter of Red interests was too vague to define an offense or outline a field for defense.

In different words Youngdahl attributed to the new charges the same faults he found in the government's first accusation that Lattimore perjured himself when he denied he had been a Communist sympathizer or a promoter of Red causes.

The original indictment, making the latter charge among others, was returned in December, 1952 as an outgrowth of Lattimore's 12 stormy days as a witness before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in its investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Youngdahl dismissed the principal count and three others, and expressed doubt that what he left standing was material.

The government appealed to the U. S. Court of Appeals, which ordered two of the lesser counts reinstated but upheld Youngdahl on the key charge.

Then in October the new indictment was obtained. In December Dist. Atty. Leo Rover called on Youngdahl to disqualify himself. Rover accused him of having shown "a fixed personal bias and prejudice" in favor of Lattimore.

Youngdahl refused to step aside

Speaker Challenges Pontiac Realtors to Sell People Homes Instead of Houses

Challenging the realtors of today to sell "homes not houses," Dr. Tennyson Guyer spoke before a packed audience in the Elks Temple Monday night marking the 39th banquet of the Pontiac Real Estate Board.

A weaver of homespun tales, Dr. Guyer is from Findlay, Ohio. He is a former teacher, circus performer, bell hop and church administrator and is now a news commentator and public relations director.

Choosing the topic, "There's No Place Like Home," Dr. Guyer said: "There's nothing wrong with the kids today that a good example can't cure . . . real things, like your home, are made when people have a mind to work . . . answer to world chaos is to reinstate our pride in our homes, our families . . . nicest thing you can save for your old age is yourself."

Serving as toastmaster for the occasion, Howard V. Heldenbrand introduced Josiah R. Hiltz and Cramer partridge, co-chairman for the banquet.

Retiring president, Will H. Knudsen was presented a gift from the board by Harcourt S. Patterson.

Others appearing on the evening program included Bruce Annett who spoke briefly as president of the Michigan Real Estate Board.

Phernam T. Smith of Rochester assumed the gavel as the new president for the coming year.

Invocation was given by the Rev. John H. Hoar, assistant pastor of Pontiac's St. Benedict Church. Mu-

Spirits' Advice Costly to Prof

U. of M. Educator Tells $14,000 Ghost Story to Circuit Judge

DETROIT (AP)—A University of Michigan history professor complains that the investment advice he got from the spirit world cost him $14,000.

Prof. Albert Hyma testified in Circuit Court yesterday that he lost the money on advice he got from departed souls through the medium of the Rev. Lillian Lee, pastor of the Interdenominational Church of Christ in Detroit.

The spirits of the departed, he said, talked to him through an aluminum trumpet held by Mrs. Lee while she was in a trance.

Hyma said that in 1937 he was advised against selling some $1,600 worth of stock he held in a company that shortly afterwards went bankrupt.

In 1947, he said, the spirits advised him to invest in an oil drilling venture. He lost $4,200 on that investment, he said.

Then, Hyma said, later that year he lost $8,500 on the so-called "Spanish prisoner" swindle. He said he mailed the money, on the advice of the departed, to ransom a man held prisoner in Mexico.

Hyma said he was advised by spirits that he would be rewarded upon the prisoner's release, but he wasn't.

The case, being heard by visiting Circuit Judge Philip Elliott of Flint, was previously thrown out of court.

The State Supreme Court ordered a rehearing.

Hearn Retrial Motion Postponed to Jan. 24

Arguments for a retrail of Robert Hearn, 19, sentenced to life imprisonment with three others in December 1952, will not be heard until Jan. 24.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty was scheduled to hold a hearing on the retrial petition yesterday, but the case was postponed to allow completion of another court matter.

The attorney seeking the retrial claims the court erred on eight points while instructing the jury. The quartet, all of Detroit, were convicted of the March 21, 1952 fatal stabbing of Alfred Jones, 27, a Ferndale gas station attendant.

Waterford School District Wants Land Vacated

The Waterford School District yesterday filed a petition to have 705 feet of Woodlawn avenue, in Waterford Township, vacated to complete a school site.

The plot is located in Lambert Shore Acres and has never been developed as a street, the school district states and there are no homes on it.

Portions of the undeveloped street bisect land bought for a school site, the board explains. A hearing has been set for Feb. 21 before Judge George B. Hartrick.

Child Struck by Car

Seven-year-old Sandra Page of 117 Cadillac Ave. suffered a concussion yesterday when she was struck by an auto driven by Gerald N. Trissell, 24, of 4880 Highland Rd., at Summit Ave. and Jefferson St., according to Pontiac Police. She is reported in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Patrolmen Howard Lenigan and Thomas Hereford quoted Trissell and two witnesses as saying the child ran out in front of the northbound auto from behind a parked truck.

Rescue of Tot From Dryer Narrowly Averts Tragedy

Although Mrs. Elizabeth Sears' two-year-old son avoided serious injury when he was locked inside the family automatic laundry dryer, the incident prompted her to air the matter so other families might avert tragedy.

Mrs. Sears said the tot, Michael, playing in the basement recreation room, apparently crawled into the front - loading dryer and was locked in by a brother, William, 5.

Moments later, William reported to his mother: "Mommie, Mike crawled into the dryer and I locked him in." The little adventurer was hurriedly removed.

"There he was, looking through the glass and laughing like the dickens," Mrs. Sears said. "Thank heavens Bill didn't turn on the dryer."

Mrs. Sears, whose husband, Rufus, is a General Motors Truck and Coach Division employe, has four other children and cares for two more. The home is at 252 W. Chicago Ave.

She said the other children were watching Saturday afternoon television programs and she was taking a moment out during a busy day to read the newspaper when the near - tragedy occurred.

"I thought my experience might help some other mother avoid a similar accident. Maybe some method of locking the door can be devised", she said.

GM to Increase Educational Aid

Scholarships, Grants to Colleges in New $2 Million Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors plans to add $2,000,000 a year to its support of higher education, according to Harlow H. Curtice, GM president. The program contemplates four-year scholarships to students and grants to 306 colleges and universities throughout the country.

Awards under the scholarships phase of the program will range up to $2,000 annually, depending upon "demonstrated need." In addition private colleges and universities will receive grants-in-aid equivalent on the average to some $500 to $800 annually per student.

Curtice said the first 350 students under the scholarship program will enroll as freshmen in the academic year starting next September.

When the program is fully operative in its fourth year, he added, the total of all General Motors' contributions to higher education will amount to $4,500,000 annually.

The program includes three phases:

A college plan under which 250 scholarships will be awarded by 107 private colleges and universities and 39 public institutions in 38 states.

(Michigan institutions awarding scholarships under the General Motors plan include Albion, Alma, Calvin, Hillsdale, Hope and Kalamazoo colleges and the University of Detroit.)

A national plan under which 100 additional scholarships will be awarded annually in a national competition.

A foundation plan, in which General Motors will make unrestricted grants of $10,000 each to foundations representing colleges in Indiana, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New England.

The united Negro college fund will receive a grant of $35,000 to be used for operating expenses of 31 Negro colleges.

Boston Felons Hold 5 Guards Hostage deployed positions about the ancient stone prison after officials determined that the revolt was confined to the isolated two story brick cell block known as the Cherry Hill section.

Prison guards found in the yard a crude ladder made of pieces of wood, wire, pieces of belting and a necktie.

Vance sai the prisoners first captured three guards before dawn. When those three failed to report on schedule, the other two went to check and were ambushed.

That prompted an alarm which brought police details, armed with riot guns.

Guards inside the cell block do not carry weapons.

The ancient prison is in an industrialized area of the Charlestown section, not far from Bunker Hill, scene of one of the first battles of America's fight for independence.

The Cherry Hill section is used for men held in solitary.

In the early morning hours between the time of the alarm and the isolation of the revolt there was much yammering and jeering by the desperadoes at police on guard in the old prison, scene of several riots and escapes in recent years.

Corrections Commissioner E. Lawrence Spurr visited the prison and then reported to Gov. Christian Herter who told reporters:

"It seems to be a mystery how the prisoners got the guards into the building. The outside door is steel, and it apparently still is locked from the outside, with the key in the guardroom."

The big brick and granite prison, built in 1803 is so antiquated it has been condemned by the state 31 times as unfit for humans.

The prison has no dining room. The prisoners march by a serving table with metal trays and eat meals in their small cells.

The cells have no toilet facilities.

The center of the prison is a huge rotunda, used as a visiting room. Multiple tier cellblocks branch out from the rotunda with the solitary confinement block farthest from the prison proper.

A new prison is nearly completed in Norfolk, 15 miles from Boston, and transfer of prisoners from Charlestown to the new structure is scheduled for next April.

Nationalist Island Falls to Commies tionalist offshore islands was invaded.

Yikiangshan is eight miles north of the Tachens and five miles south of Red-held Toumen Island. From Yikiangshan the Reds could hammer the Tachens with 155 mm guns, just as they have bombarded Yikiangshan from Toumen.

There are reported to be about 20,000 Nationalist troops and guerrillas on the Tachens, an important link in Chiang Kai-shek's chain of offshore islands.

Earlier today 60 Russian-built warplanes plastered Yikiangshan and the Tachens with more than 200 bombs in 22 minutes.

They followed this with a heavy artillery barrage on Yikiangshan from Toumen, apparently a prelude to invasion.

Tiny Yikiangshan has been subjected to repeated bombardments since Nov. 1 when the Reds reportedly fired more then 3,000 shells at it from Toumen Island.

Its capture would be both politically and militarily important for it would give the Communists a victory to tie in with their oftrepeated threats to liberate Formosa.

Lattimore Cleared in Perjury Charge

and struck Rover's affidavit from the record as "scandalous."

The government can appeal today's ruling as it did the first dismissal, but Atty. Gen. Brownell has refused to predict in advance what action would be taken in case the new charges were thrown out.

The five counts remaining after Youngdahl's order today accuse Lattimore of lying under oath when he denied that:

1. He was told Dr. Ch'ao Ting Chi, now reputed to be a high official of the Chinese Communist government, was a Communist.

2. He knew that "Asiaticus," who wrote for an Institute of Pacific Relations publication edited by Lattimore, was a Communist.

3. He published any articles by Communists, other than Russian contributors, when he was an IPR editor.

4. A meeting he had with Constantine Oumansky, at the time Soviet ambassador to this country, was held during the period of the Hitler-Stalin pact.

5. He handled correspondence for Lauchlin Currie, White House aide, while Currie was away from Washington.

Nautilus Due Back in Port Late Tonight

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Man was a full day into the era of nuclear transportation today as the submarine Nautilus, first of a proposed fleet of seven atomic powered undersea craft, remained at sea on her history making builder's trials.

A spokesman said these trials were to last 36 hours, and the Nautilus was not expected to return to her berth at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., here until "very late tonight."

In man's first successful effort to tame the atom to provide transportation, the $29,000,000 cigar-shaped giant eased smoothly from her dock here late yesterday morning under clear skies.

With an absence of fanfare, her skipper, Cmdr. Eugene P Wilkinson, San Diego, Calif., flashed a short message confirming his craft was under way on nuclear power, and moved the submarine into the trial area of Long Island Sound at 12 knots.

As the Nautilus glided on its maiden run, it passed a sister-ship, the Sea Wolf, second of the nation's atomic powered submarines under construction here. Two more such ships have been provided for and President Eisenhower, in his budget message to Congress yesterday, said three others are planned.

The Nautilus, built by the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., carried a crew of about 100 officers and men, along with 64 Navy and civilian technicians.

No diving operations were planned for her first run on builder's trials.

Keep Hubby Happy, He Won't Crack Up

BOSTON (AP)—An insurance executive says a hearty kiss can go a long way toward preventing highway accidents.

Charles Ray, vice president of Markel Service, Inc., which insures trucks and buses, said yesterday the difference between a good driver and a bad driver is marked by "a good breakfast, a happy home atmosphere and a hearty goodby kiss."

Ray also told a meeting of the New England Commercial Vehicle Assn. that a recent company survey showed that "unhappy home life caused by nagging over money, in-laws and behavior of children were the main factors behind a poor driving record."

Byrd Urges Ike to Pare Spending by 4 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) urged the Eisenhower administration today to pare its spending plans by 4 per cent and balance the federal budget.

A good place to start, Byrd said in an interview, would be on the $4,700,000,000 outlay for foreign aid proposed by President Eisenhower in the annual budget message he submitted to Congress yesterday.

This was one of the major items in a $62,408,000,000 spending budget Eisenhower recommended for the bookkeeping year starting next July 1.

Congress responded generally along partisan lines to his "first things first" message calling for increased air power and slimmed-down ground forces.

Democrats gibed at the President's failure thus far to keep his 1952 presidential campaign promises to balance the budget, criticized his "partnership" power development program and challenged his cut in farm outlays.

Republicans generally defended Eisenhower's figures as indicative of the hard realities of defense spending in an uncertain era, although a number said they were disappointed at the lack of a balanced budget. The President forecast a deficit of $2,408,000,000, about half the size of the one anticipated this year.

Byrd, new chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and long a critic of deficit spending under previous Democratic administrations, made it clear he doesn't think Congress will be very successful in saving money because of the large amount of funds previously appropriated and available for administration spending.

But he said if the administration would take it upon itself to cut back spending 4 per cent—about 2½ billion dollars—the government could operate in the black for the first time since 1951.

"It is time that the administration and the Congress face up to the realities of our fiscal situation," Byrd said in a statement.

"We are enjoying the greatest prosperity in our history. We are not in a war. If we cannot balance the budget now, I ask when can we balance it? Are we on a chronic deficit basis?"

Byrd said he favors cutting foreign economic aid drastically, but added there is a "10-billion-dollar backlog of former appropriations' in this field which Congress could reach only by rescinding previous appropriations.

Asks Examination in Rape Charge

Charged with assault with intent to rape, Laverne A. Johnson, 24, of 2677 Royal St., Berkley, demanded examination yesterday when arraigned before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. He furnished a $1,000 bond, pending the hearing Jan. 26.

Johnson, said Pontiac Police, illegally entered a room at the Hotel Pontiac Saturday night and threatening a young woman who had been sleeping. The woman's screams attracted several of the hotel's residents who chased Johnson and seized him in the basement of the building. They held him until police arrived.

Supervisor James L. Gardner, of Commerce Township, who is now first vice president, is expected to be elected president for 1955 at an election of officers Jan. 27.

School Building Aid Proposed

Broomfield Will Present Amendment Proposal to Raise $200 Million

Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) told the Pontiac Press today he plans to present a constitutional amendment, calling for a $200,000,000 bond issue for public school construction, to the Michigan Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

If approved by the Legislature, the proposal will go to the voters in the April election.

Senator Broomfield said the state - established loan would be reloaned to school districts which have exhausted their own financial resources.

Dr. Albert Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, said "the bond issue is a must" for Michigan schools.

"If we can't get the bond issue before the people this spring, we'll get it on the ballot in November 1956, through a referendum," said Dr. Phillips.

Dr. Phillips said public schools will need $750,000,000 for construction in the next five years or "face the prospect of half-day sessions for a whole lot of children."

"In some Wayne County districts, already there are some eighth graders who have never been to a full day of school in their lives," he said.

Senator Broomfield presented a special education bill to the Legislature last year which was unanimously approved in both the House and Senate.

"I hope my luck is as good with this bond issue bill, because I firmly believe in it," he said.

Injunction Hearing on Pickets Adjourned

Hearings were adjourned to Feb. 7 yesterday in an attempt by Simplex Industries, located on Twelve Mile road in Southfield Township, to get a permanent injunction limiting picketing of their plant by Local 157, UAW-CIO.

A temporary restraining order was issued Dec. 20 in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The company claims 30 of its 50 employes went on strike Dc. 14 without giving ten-days notice and taking a formal strike vote as required by law.

The strikers have been picketing the plant, the firm asserts, blocking the driveway so trucks can't enter and threatening injury to employes wishing to work.

The company asks an order limiting pickets to six at once, ruling out violence and restraining the strikers from blocking the driveway.

Doctor Traces Cancer With Geiger Counter

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Dr. Horace C. Jones, director of radiology at Bodgett Memorial Hospital, says a Geiger counter is being used to detect cancer in humans.

Dr. Jones said substances containing radioactive isotopes are swallowed by patients and these help physicians study disturbances of the thyroid gland, determine liver cancer and localize tumors in the brain and other parts of the body.

The patient, he said, takes a pellet containing radioactive iodine and the Geiger counter locates pockets where this substance accumulates, Dr. Jones said.

City Attorney to Prepare Resolution on Bond Issue

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — City Attorney Forbes Hascall was authorized at last night's city commission meeting to prepare the proper resolution for putting a recreation board-sponsored $110,000 revenue bond issue to a public vote in April.

It would pay for construction of an outdoor year-round facility at Eton Park—uppermost, an artificial ice skating rink which would be in operation next winter. During warmer months, the rink would double as a basketball court and two tennis courts.

Another resolution to go on the April voting ballot, to secure public approval for placing an off-street parking area on what is now Shain Park, will be modified and brought back to lawmakers next week.

Consumers Gas Boost Illegal

Attorney General Says Rate Hike Scheduled Without Hearing

LANSING (AP) — A rate increase scheduled by Consumers Power Co. to be effective Feb. 1 on natural gas customers was declared illegal today by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Kavanagh notified the state Public Service Commission that it could not approve escalator clauses in rate schedules which increase rates without notice and hearing.

His ruling referred to a recent Consumers Power statement that its rates would be increased approximately two per cent because of the higher cost of gas which it must purchase from wholesalers.

Consumers had been authorized by the commission May 6, 1954, to place in effect a new rate schedule containing a "purchased gas cost adjustment clause."

The order was issued by the commission without a hearing.

Kavanagh held also that the cost adjustment clause could not be incorporated in later rate schedules even after a public hearing, and said "no increase in the rates of a public utility may occur without prior notice and hearing."

According to Patrolmen John Lyons and Gene Felker, the driver, Christ Lauinger, 42, of 172 Dresden Ave., said he didn't see the woman until the accident. Lauinger, who was not held, said Mrs. Byrd walked out into the street from behind parked cars.

Admits Slaying of Sweetheart

Texan Faces as Little as 7 Years in Prison After Pleading Guilty

DALLAS (AP) — Keith Petersen, handsome son of a Dallas utility executive, faced as little as seven years in prison today after a surprise plea of guilty in the slaying of his sweetheart.

Petersen, 26, could have received death in the electric chair, or acquittal, for the 1949 slaying of pretty Carolyn Schofield. But his father said last night that he feared a "vicious" jury might assess the death penalty.

The elder Petersen and opposing attorneys told of a "swap - out" which resulted in the guilty plea and Judge Henry King's passing of a sentence of "life imprisonment."

Defense attorneys said they agreed to the guilty plea on the condition that the state drop its demand for a death penalty. They said they also asked—and received—agreement that Petersen's five years confinement in state mental hospitals would be counted as a part of his prison term.

This means in Texas that Petersen, once described by Dist. Atty. Henry Wade as a "pampered, egotistical boy guilty of a premeditated, cold-blooded murder," will be eligible for parole in seven or eight years.

On Sept. 2, 1949, Petersen, then 21, walked into an office building where Miss Schofield worked as a secretary, talked to her a few mintes, and then pumped five bullets into her body. She had spurned his love, he said, and intended to marry another man.

Minutes later, last night's brief testimony said, the Southern Methodist University journalism student handed a snub-nosed .38 revolver to Police Sgt. J.W. Kelly, the price tag still on the new gun.

Petersen was dragged kicking and screaming from court after the jury in his first trial ruled he was insane when tried, though sane at the time of the slaying. The second trial came after Petersen was released from mental hospitals and a jury ruled him sane. Determination of sanity in Texas is by jury trial.

Sam's Lawyer Calls In Expert

California Criminologist to Investigate Murder of Marilyn Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP) — Invited by counsel for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, a West Coast crime expert will come here next weekend to investigate the July 4 murder of Sheppard's wife Marilyn.

Sheppard, convicted of the crime, is appealing his sentence of life imprisonment.

Dr. Paul L. Kirk, 52, a professor of criminalistics at the University of California, said he holds "no opinion in the case" and would be "completely neutral . . . no matter whom it hurts."

Kirk was brought into the case by Sheppard's chief counsel William J. Corrigan. At a bail hearing yesterday before three appellate judges, Corrigan termed Kirk "the foremost criminologist in the United States."

In Berkeley, Calif., Kirk told newsmen he is interested only in the "physical and factual evidence . . . that can be studied in the laboratory."

At the hearing, the judges took under advisement Corrigan's request for the release of Sheppard on bail. Court attaches said they expected a decision within a few days.

However, the court granted another motion by Corrigan—that Sheppard's life imprisonment sentence be stayed, allowing the prisoner to remain in county jail instead of starting his term in the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus.

Many Adoption Bids for Homeless Lion

CHICAGO (AP)—A home has been found for Monty, a performing lion who grew two boisterous for a night club act and was given by his owner to the animal Welfare League.

The league reported astonishment last week when more than 100 persons or groups phoned or called at the league shelter seeking to adopt the 200-pound, 18-month-old lion. Most of the applicants said they planned to keep him in their garage or back yard.

The league announced it has decided to give the lion to the Racine, Wis., zoo and will deliver him there tomorrow.

Unstable Central America Seen as Red Danger Spot

BY REP. PATRICK J. HILLINGS (R-CALIF)
Written for INS

WASHINGTON—Central American politics are exploding, and the United States cannot afford to let the situation continue.

The current fighting in Costa Rica, the assassination of President Jose Remon in Panama and the dangerous condition in Honduras, where the Congress was recently dissolved, definitely spell trouble for the U.S., and the anti-Communist world.

Unstable governments are just what the Communists want. These countries, which are only minutes away from the U.S. by air, must be helped to solve their problems.

Last year a House subcommittee investigating Communist aggression in Latin America, which I chairmaned, warned that Central America was a potential danger spot.

The subcommittee outlined an intent by the Kremlin to infiltrate and control the entire Central American area. That plan was temporarily upset by the overthrow of the Red regime in Guatemala.

Today however, the subcommittee's predictions have unfortunately come to pass.

It is more than a coincidence that at least three Central American countries currently are gripped by tension and trouble.

Even Guatemala under an anti-Communist regime finds itself with serious economic and internal difficulties which the Reds predict will give them a chance to return to power.

The entire situation in Central America calls for the most careful attention on the part of the United States and the Organization of American States which is now investigating the present fighting in Costa Rica.

The consulate in Costa Rica is still too confused to make any clearcut analysis of possible Red involvement there.

From time to time it has been charged that President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica was friendly to the Communists. This charge has been consistantly denied by Figueres.

However, there is evidence that Guatemalan Communists were active in Costa Rica and several known Communist sympathizers from other Latin American and Central American nations have from time to time been included among Figuerers' advisers.

The personal feud between Figueres and President Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua further clouds and confuses the entire scene. In any event, conflict and instability in this vital area help the Reds.

The United States cannot afford to relax its vigilance over continuing efforts of the Kremlin to obtain a beachhead in the Western Hemisphere.

The trouble in Central American countries today indicates the ability of the Reds to shift to new areas and recover quickly from reverses such as occurred in Guatemala last year.

No longer can we afford to overlook the area which so many State Department officials have referred to in the past as "the land of the banana republics."

We must expedite the aid we have promised the struggling, pro-United States regime in Guatemala. Serious consideration should be given immediately to a reiteration of the Monroe Doctrine.

Dampens Drought Tour

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—They ha to postpone a three-county tour of northern Utah drought areas sponsored by the Utah State Agricultural College extension service yesterday. The reason: Too much snow.

Students have attributed some reports of fish and frogs falling with rain to waterspouts which may have sucked up the animals.

When carefree elephants are feeding in the forest the noise of breaking branches and trees crashing to the ground is ear-splitting. But let danger threaten, says the National Georgraphic Society, and the whole herd of massive beasts can slip quietly from the area with hardly a twig snapped.

Here's Relief So Different It Will Change All Your Ideas About Cough Syrups

Six Leading Cough Syrups Tested in Medical Center. Results Vital to You.

Here are Facts:

After testing six leading cough syrups on patients for two years, doctors reported that new Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup not only quickly relieved coughing spells and irritating throat dryness, but also cut the duration of the cough by as much as two full days.

Cetamium is the Answer

One reason for this, the report concluded, is that Vicks contains a new penetrating ingredient — Cetamium — that carries relief-bringing medicine right to the cough-irritated crevices of the throat — medicates as it penetrates. In addition, Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup also works through the system to help speed breaking up of the cough.

Doctors also learned that Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup does not upset stomach or appetite. This feature, plus its pleasant flavor, makes it ideal for children.

So spare your family days of suffering from coughs of colds. Use new Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup.

MEDICAL JOURNAL REPORTS:* Matched, point for point, against five other leading cough preparations, Vicks Cough Syrup:

1. Helped reduce the duration of the cough by 2 full days.

Queen Asked to Help

Lack of Dowries Making Spinsters of Greek Maids

ATHENS (INS) — A group of worried Greek fathers have sought royal intervention to save their daughters — now ripe young maidens—from the fate of sorrowful spinsterhood.

The problem—as they put it in a petition to Queen Frederika—is "that pernicious Greek custom . . . the dowry."

Signed by the unhappy papas of 17 mountain communities in northern Greece, the petition asks the Queen to lead a crusade against the dowry. It says in part:

"The problem of providing our daughters with dowries has become one of the acutest we have had to face since the end of the war.

"Young men do not taken into consideration a girl's qualities or her virtues. First they ask how much money she is endowed with (in gold sovereigns) and then they ask about the girl.

"The sad result of this attitude is that an alarming number of young girls remain on the sidelines of life, become spinsters and eventually die or wither away in lonesome desolation and unfulfilled desire."

The petition further suggests that if the dowry is abolished, young men will no longer worry about eventually having to provide their own daughters with one and will "gladly get married without claiming a dowry."

The 17 communities call upon Queen Frederika to take the initiative in whatever way she sees fit to abolish the dowry and "break the chains that bind Greek family life to this pernicious custom—the nightmarish dowry that has plunged thousands of Greek families into the darkest dispair."

Palace circles had no comment to make on whether Queen Frederika would undertake such a crusade.

Some Greek bachelors, though, have been quick to point out that too few Greek girls take up jobs to increase their incomes or go on working after marriage to supplement their husband's income.

"They just sit at home and wait for someone to come along and lead them to the altar," one of them complained.

The girls' reply to this is that most Greek men are still eqiupped with a medieval mentality. Most of them don't want to marry a working girl, they say, and if they do, they will forbid her to go on working for reasons of pride even if their income is so low they can hardly support themselves alone.

Meanwhile, Greek papas still diligently save up the gold sovereigns —those who can, that is—to give to the likely prospects who will take their daughters off their hands.

THIS BEAUTY SPEAKS FOR ITSELF— SO HERE ARE JUST THE FACTS

SERIES AND MODELS AVAILABLE—The 1955 Mercury is offered in 3 series, 10 models. At the top of the line, the entirely new Montclair Series: Available as a hardtop Coupe, Convertible, or Sun Valley with a transparent roof panel. The Monterey Series includes a 4-door Sedan, hardtop Coupe, and a Station Wagon with simulated wood paneling (4 door; seats 8). The lowest-cost Custom Series includes a 2-door Sedan, 4-door Sedan, hardtop Coupe, and an entirely new all-metal Station Wagon (4 door; seats 8).

COLOR CHOICE—You have a choice of 15 stunning new solid colors, 30 two-tone combinations—the widest selection in Mercury history. All finishes are of baked-on enamel, made by a process unique to Mercury in its field. Extra luster, smoothness, durability result.

UPHOLSTERY SELECTION—Instead of using standard upholsteries, Mercury stylists in most cases designed their own and had them made to order. You have an extremely wide choice of patterns, weaves, and colors in vinyl, nylon, and woven plastic—up to 10 combinations depending upon the model and series you select.

HORSEPOWER—You get a new super-compression, SUPER-TORQUE V-8 engine in every 1955 Mercury. 198 hp in the Montclair Series, 188 hp in the Monterey and Custom.

ENGINE DATA—Compression ratio: 8.5 to 1 on the Montclair; 7.6 to 1 on the Monterey and Custom. Displacement in both: 292 cu. in. Bore 3.75 in.; stroke 3.30. Torque: 286 lb-ft at 2500 rpm for Montclair; 274 lb-ft for Monterey and Custom.

ACCELERATION FIGURES—Mercury's pickup and passing power has been boosted in every speed range. Test-track comparisons of 1954 and 1955 models show average acceleration increases as follows: From 0 to 30 mph—30% greater; 0 to 60 mph—22% greater; under passing conditions (30 to 60 mph)—22.5% greater.

These increases are the direct results of Mercury's new SUPER-TORQUE V-8 engines and a new quicker-acting Merc-O-Matic Drive. (A new "kick-down" position on the accelerator automatically moves Merc-O-Matic Drive into "Lo" for fast starts. At cruising speeds you can "kick-down" from high to "intermediate" for extra passing power.)

GASOLINE ECONOMY—Tests under average driving conditions show Mercury's traditional economy is up again—15% over last year's models. This new economy is one of the benefits of Mercury's new SUPER-TORQUE V-8 design which permits lower engine speeds and axle ratios.

OPERATING ECONOMY—Mercury has a record as the lowest-cost car in its class to own. The reasons: low first cost, excellent gasoline economy, low maintenance cost (low engine speeds mean less engine wear, longer life) and, most important, high resale value.

DIMENSIONS—Wheelbase, 119 in. Over-all length, 206.3 in. with optional bumper guards. Height, loaded: Montclair Coupe, 58.6 in.; Monterey and Custom Coupes, 60.3 in. Station Wagon models: Wheelbase 118 in.; over-all length with optional bumper guards, 201.78 in. Over-all width all models, 76.4.

EXCLUSIVE MERCURY FEATURES—Only Mercury in its field has dual-exhaust systems as standard equipment (on Montclair and Monterey models), ball-joint front suspension for ease of handling and sureness in cornering, and a 4-barrel carburetor in every model in every series. It works on a unique vacuum principle to give you 4-barrel acceleration for pickup and passing, 2-barrel economy for normal driving.

OPTIONAL FEATURES—The 1955 Mercury offers you the widest choice of power features in its field: power steering, power brakes, a 4-way power seat, power window lifts, even power lubrication. Press a button under the dash and Mercury's new Multi-Luber system lubricates all vital parts automatically. You also have your choice of no-shift Merc-O-Matic Drive, Touch-O-Matic Overdrive, or standard transmission.

FUTURE RESALE VALUE—For the past three years Mercury has held the class championship for resale value according to independent market reports. It pays to own a Mercury. We invite you to stop in at our showrooms for a close-up look—and a drive.

George H. Putnam Does Good Job in School

Pontiac is very fortunate to have so capable a man as George H. Putnam as Director of Vocal Music in the school system.

Mr. Putnam commands the respect and admiration of the young people with whom he comes in contact and this is proving to be a huge and an increasing number. Nearly a quarter of the pupils in the high school are voice students of his in one way or another.

The results are superb.

The music is challenging.

However, another phase of the subject appeals to The Press beyond the significant scope of music. Mr. Putnam is a real and vital force in the lives of these young people. He is helping to guide and shape their destinies and their conceptions of life. High School students believe in him because he believes in them. Teachers usually get back what they give, and George H. Putnam gives unstintingly. He constitutes a magnificent bulwark against delinquency.

We feel that Pontiac has suffered less from wayward juveniles than many communities—some of which are very close—and to a considerable extent our success lies in the hands of sturdy men and women with Mr. Putnam's abilities.

Mr. Putnam, as an institution we should like to sing your praises.

15 Avoidable Deaths

There's a tragic warning for all owners and pilots of private planes in the air crash which cost 15 lives near Cincinnati.

Thirteen of the victims were the crew of three and 10 passengers on the TWA transport bound for Dayton and Cleveland. The other two were the pilot and co-pilot of the private plane owned by the National Carbon Coated Paper Co. of Sturgis, Mich.

Preliminary inquiries suggest that the fatal crash was avoidable. The facts seem to indicate that it occurred because of the private plane crew's failure to notify the control tower that it was in the vicinity of Cincinnati's airport.

As far as they knew, said a statement issued by the operator of the Civil Aeronautics Authority control tower at the airport, there was no other plane in the area. There was "no calls or flight plan to indicate any other plane was within miles."

This crash is the first domestic accident in which a TWA plane has been involved since December 1, 1944. Apparently it could have been avoided and the 15 lives lost could have been saved if the crew of the private plane had followed common sense safety practice.

Police Veteran Retires

Most anyone who has watched his career of 33 years in our Police Department will agree that the retirement of Lieut. Ira E. Herron is a distinct loss to that organization.

A veteran of World War I, he joined the department April 20, 1922. He soon became widely known and popular because of the unfailing and smiling courtesy with which he directed traffic at Saginaw and Huron Streets.

Formerly a desk lieutenant, he also had served as patrolman and detective. He was raised to his present rank in 1951 by former Director of Public Safety, Milton F. Cooney.

Lieut. Herron has served the city long and faithfully. To an unusual degree he has measured up to the good citizen's ideal of an efficient law officer.

May his well earned retirement years be many and happy.

Recognition for Michigan

In organizing the 84th Congress and assigning members to committees, both parties have recognized the importance of Michigan.

Republicans, especially, have shown their appreciation of the ability of our senior Senator, Charles E. Potter of Cheboygan. He has been assigned as a minority member of the important Appropriations and Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committees.

This widely known war hero won the only GOP seat vacant on the first named committee and was one of nine Republicans named to serve on the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee for 1956.

The Democratic leadership gave Michigan's junior Senator, Patrick V. McNamara, a place on the important Labor and Public Welfare Committee. He also was named to the Public Works Committee. In these posts Michigan's new member of the upper chamber will have ample opportunity to demonstrate to voters that their confidence in him was justified.

The Man About Town

Secretary 32 Years

Holds Position Ever Since Rotary Was Organized Here

Successful man: One who keeps on looking for work after he's found a job.

As Rotary International, now with 8,400 clubs, prepares to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its founding, it is interesting to note that has been secretary of the Pontiac Rotary Club ever since it was organized 32 years ago. It started with 25 members and today has 130. Mr. Smith also enjoys the distinction of having been connected with Pontiac's manufacture of vehicles of transportation in a nationally famous way, both in the horse and buggy and gasoline ages. He is a world traveler over a long period of years, but likes the home folks so well that he's spending this winter with them. And quite incidentally today he becomes eligible for mention in our verbal orchids, as will be seen at the bottom of this column.

SMITH

The residents of Franklin, Pontiac's beautiful suburb to the south, are really up in arms because one proposed route of that new toll highway bisects their community.

One of my special investigators dug up this tall story from an old copy of the Saginaw News, shortly after the turn of the century. It says that former Governor raised Angora goats which fed on small pine trees. Two of them, standing on a stump, bent down a sapling. The heavier one let go, but the other was pulled up into the air. However it continued to eat until it became heavy enough to bend the tree to the ground, so no harm was done.

Being celebrated from Jan. 16 to 22 is

Give Dog Warden Some Auxiliary Police Help During Rush Hours, Advises Reader

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like to contribute the following information and suggestions concerning the question, "What can be done to keep the dogs off the school grounds?'

The dog warden is a member of the police force detailed to this type of work. He must cover the entire city of Pontiac. Therefore, he must answer the calls of all 17 schools. Naturally, these calls all come at the opening sessions and recess periods.

How can one policeman efficiently answer these calls? Let's give him more auxiliary police help during "rush" hours similar to the auxiliaries assigned to traffic duty on heavy traffic weekends.

Then let's really enforce the stray dog ordinance. Most children of Webster School know the dogs by name. Nine times out of ten, the children can even supply the name of the owner of the unlicensed dog. Supplying this information could be part of their school safety program.

I believe this is the opportune time to collect those $50 fines; get rid of stray dogs; ask the people to keep their dogs under control and again restore the school playgrounds to the children.

I Never Get Lonesome, Says 'Jolly Old Codger'

I hear so many old codgers grumbling about their aches and pains and lonesomeness.

Well, I got aches and pains just like the rest but I never get lonesome as I sure have lots of company to entertain me.

They never desert me and if they did I would fly to some doctor and ask him how come that my company deserted me.

No, I never get lonesome.

Questions Growth of Pineapples

I am writing in regard to a recent article in the Press entitled, "Did You Know That Pineapples Grow on Plants?"

The only ones I've ever seen were grown underground and pulled.

Editor's Note—According to The World Encyclopedia, pineapples grow on plants. "Only one fruit is borne by any one stalk, but the same root may produce more than one fruiting stem."

Couple Wed 17 Years Before Husband Fell Ardently in Love With His Wife

Pamela's marriage was a complacent affair. She and her husband respected each other but he admitted he didn't love her. Then she sent for the bulletin named below. "And, bang!" she says. "A miracle happened in our home." Be grateful to your modern newspaper for thus helping insure happy marriage and prevent divorce.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-326: Pamela P., aged 37, has a very unusual story.

"Dr. Crane, I have been married for 17 years," she began, "but it was only three months ago that my husband actually fell ardently in love with me.

"Oh, he never beat me or mistreated me, and we have four wonderful children. But throughout the years I have known that my husband just wasn't in love with me.

"In fact, prior to the birth of our second child, he told me that he didn't love me but that he really wished that he could.

"He reassured me that he liked me and would never leave me or break up our home and that he would try to be a good husband and father.

"Many times I would feel very low in my morale, but then I would reassure myself by the thought that I wasn't a romantic school girl any more, so I should try to be happy.

"In our love making, I was the aggressor and he never rebuffed me.

"But I longed to have him give me a spontaneous kiss during the day or put his arms around me in an affectionate embrace.

"Then, bang! It happened! Three months ago I sent for your bulletin on 'Sex Problems in Marriage' by way of my newsaper.

"We don't know yet just what happened. But we were reading it together. I was sitting on the arm of his chair that evening.

"When I got up and walked across the room, his eyes followed me and that something hit him like a bolt from the blue.

"He says that it was the strangest feeling he had ever experienced in his entire life.

"I wasn't aware of this at the moment, for he didn't tell me about it till later.

"Apparently, he suddenly regarded me with the romantic, exciting gaze of a sweetheart instead of the placid, kindly attitude that he had felt throughout all those previous years of our marriage.

"We have now really discovered each other's personality for the first time.

"We have lain awake many nights talking and getting to know our inner thoughts. We have discussed our inner feelings and dreams, which we had never done in all the 17 years of our marriage.

"Dr. Crane, can't you realize what a thrilling experience this has been for both of us? Previously we had both been inhibited and had refrained from frank discussion.

"But your sex bulletin has changed our entire lives. We have found a happiness that we never knew existed."

Through such educational columns as this "Worry Clinic," newspapers simply expand their constructive service.

Newspapers thus are meeting the heart cries of millions of Americans, from teenagers to middle-aged married folks, who crave scientific counsel on how to lead happy lives and maintain a permanently successful marriage.

Divorce means marital bankruptcy. To prevent it, we must teach our fellow Americans the true medico-psychological facts.

"The truth shall set ye free," stated Jesus, and Christ meant it would set us free from divorce, ill health, war and other products of ignorance.

Send for my bulletin "Sex Problems in Marriage" enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime and you'll realize how modern newspapers are helping keep marriages permanently happy.

Childhood Leg Ache or Growing Pains Not as Serious as Some Doctors Think

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In this column Dec. 28 the doddering doc, talking about "growing pains," observed that many kids today grow fast and tall without pain and suggested that the quaint notion that it hurts to grow makes it easy for a doctor to cover his diagnostic incompetence.

There he goes again, snarled several former colleagues who were caught stringing customers along with the shopworn dodge, trying to destroy people's faith in the profession of which he was formerly . . .

In the talk I said that away back when Topsy was a colt (in my Penn Yan days, that is), "a few physicians who dared to think for themselves voiced the opinion that so-called 'growing pains' were perhaps premonitory of rheumatic fever." I quoted this statement from French's "Index of Differential Diagnosis," 3rd ed., 1917:

"There is no doubt that 'growing pains' occur in healthy children, quite independenetly of rheumatism; but any complaint of growing pains" (I wonder if any child ever complained of growing pains) "should lead to careful investigation of the patient's history and of the condition of his heart. A family history of past personal history of chorea" (St. Vitus's dance) "will often be made out; and not rarely examination of the heart will lead to the discovery of valvular disease."

Now comes a note in language which even I would not use in addressing a colleague, expressing satisfaction with the way I dated myself—citing an authority who may have had some weight forty or fifty years ago. Have I studied nothing published in the past few decades?

Yahbut, I have found nothing in current medical literature that throws more light on the question of "growing pains" than did the authority I cited.

Here I'd like to assure parents that in my opinion—and you must remember that I'm no authority but just a reformed horse and buggy doctor—French and numerous other recognized medical authorities of past and present days were and are trying to make a federal case of the familiar leg ache which in young children is called "growing pains."

I believe, and in any case it can do no harm to try the treatment I recommend for "growing pains," details of which you will find in the pamphlet "Adult Tetany and Growing Pains." Ask for it in writing (please do not use clipping) and inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters not more than one page or 150 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

David Lawrence Says:

Surplus in Cash Budget Likely at End of Fiscal '56

WASHINGTON — Has the Eisenhower administration learned a trick or two from the Roosevelt and Truman regimes — how to forecast a big deficit and then wind up with a much smaller one and make everybody feel there has been a great achievement on the fiscal front?

It begins to look that way as the President's message on financial affairs forecasts a deficit of $2.4 billions for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1955, which will wind up just about the time the presidential campaign begins in July 1956.

What makes the estimate of such a deficit unrealistic is the fact that everybody says business is beginning to boom and that we are in for an era of higher and higher national incomes in the next several years.

The year-end forecasts were rosier than they have been in a long time. Yet the Treasury solemnly predicts in the new budget that receipts from corporate taxes in fiscal 1956 will be less than either 1954 or 1955 and that individual income-tax receipts will not increase at all over 1954 in the fiscal year beginning next July.

But with reports coming in from all over the country about an increase in employment and a lengthening of the work week through overtime, and hence a bigger net to the wage earner after taxes, it is difficult to be as pessimistic as the Treasury is on the matter of income-tax receipts.

It is to be noted that there will be another budget message presented to Congress in January, 1956, forecasting the outlook for the new fiscal year, and it will not be surprising if Eisenhower is able to say then that, inasmuch as the first six months of the fiscal year 1956 have passed, there are clear indications the budget will be in balance, after all, by June 30, 1956.

It would be very important politically if the President is able to say something of that sort as the opening gun in the Republican campaign.

But as previous administrations have learned, it's better to be conservative in estimating receipts than to be rather liberal in forecasting what expenditures will be. One psychological advantage of such tactics is supposed to be the application of some degree of restraint on the spenders in Congress, to keep appropriations from going higher.

A look at the predictions of Democratic Presidents in the last 20 years shows a constant overestimating of the annual deficit. Truman, for example, in his message to Congress forecasting the probable outcome of the fiscal year 1952, estimated a deficit of $16.5 billions, and the year wound up actually with a deficit of only one-fourth of that amount. This was a 75 per cent mistake.

The next year Truman estimated a deficit of $14.4 billions and the actual result was just about $5 billions less.

What seemed most puzzling was Truman's estimate offered in January 1953 — just before the Eisenhower administration took over — of a 1954 deficit of $9.9 billions, which turned out on June 30, 1954, to be only $3.1 billions. The Eisenhower administration's own first forecast made in January 1954 of $3.3 billions came much closer.

There are, of course, some technical explanations for the variations in receipts. Thus, for instance, a tax reduction was granted last year and hence new receipts must be developed to offset that loss. Also, the system of paying corporation taxes has been gradually moved up to a pay-as-you-go basis, so that in the next year or so there is bound to be less income in a particular fiscal year than would have been the case under the old method of collections.

The key to everything, however, is the so-called cash budget which is the actual amount taken in, as compared with the actual amount spent, irrespective of the bookkeeping which must reflect appropriations made but not necessarily spent and other factors of that kind.

The Eisenhower administration brought the cash budget in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1954, to a deficit of only $232 millions, and now it is estimated in the President's new message that there will be a cash surplus of $558 millions in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956. This is the first cash surplus in a long, long while. The trend is indicative of the stability and soundness of the Treasury's position compared to previous years.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Moral rearmament is the neatest idea since they hemstitched shirttails.

But there seems to be something familiar about it like your face on the morning after.

The title moral rearmament oils an old click in memories. This writer sure has a leaning spindle of Pisa of those.

We filed back through the harks and came up with an article we wrote in 1939. Believe it or the marching Ripleys, the title of the piece was moral armament.

That's sixteen years ago as the crow flips in echelon cruises. And is finger-printed evidence that moral rearmament is moral armament, junior.

We are not sly-rapping the idea. But, like the case of Ormsby Terwilliger Prindle, the third, it's happened before.

Let's not forget 1939 was about the time Shickelgruber dropped the other shoe, Mussolini reversed theatrical procedure and made a stage out of the balcony and the Mikado was about to lay that egg at Pearl Harbor.

We're just trying to remind you that many a beautiful statue is modeled in soft soap.

But let's reconnoiter our article for 1939. "When you drag Utopia in by the ears don't forget it was a Quaker who turned the other cheek and got his lumps balanced.

"Moral armament is a beautiful dream. But the turtle outlives the oyster because you never saw six turtles on the half-shell.

"When the meek and the lowly inherit the earth there will be a lot of delinquent taxes to make up. Love and kindness will civilize the suburbs but a wise man joins the volunteer fire department."

In 1941 moral armament went behind the towel rack with the mop and the plunger. Now it is again filling its dance card for the hesitation waltz. Here's hoping it succeeds this time. When you live and learn you don't want a non-resident membership.

Bob Considine Says

Shy Editors Misjudged Value of Sheppard Case

NEW YORK (INS) — The bulletin of the American Society of Newspaper Editors says that the Sheppard murder case was the most overplayed story of 1954. The decision came out of a poll of member editors.

Well. . . .perhaps.

If so, why do more people who buy newspapers or subscribe to them still ask reporters who covered the trial "Do YOU think he was guilty?" then ask "Will Malenkov drop the H-bomb?" or "Will disease be cured?"

If I remember my journalism lessons from old George Washington U., Dr. Chase always insisted that news was just an intangible something the average bloke was interested in. . .though he warned us never to end a sentence that-a way.

Seems to me that people (and editors are people) were shy about reading the Sheppard case of accepting its newsworthiness. They were shy (and this is probably a terrible thing to write) because they could not accept the importance of a single death.

This is an age of multiple death. The big war with its A-bomb, the dirty and exhausting Korean War, and the Sunday supplement wars-to-come, have made individual life seem so mean that it was astonishing to learn a lot of people cared about the death of Mrailyn Sheppard.

I've seen a few dead people. Marilyn Sheppared was the most murdered person I've ever seen. I remember a chaplain at the Tokyo General Hospital, during the early stages of the Korean War, saying of the wounded that they were the most demolished human beings he had ever known . . .and he had been through World Wars One and Two.

It is not my intention to disturb you but any of us who saw the color slides taken at the autopsy of Marilyn Sheppared will swear that almost any other wound in our knowledge must be classed as a scratch by comparison.

The Sheppard trial had two weeks of jury - picking. It strung out longer than any trial in most memories, and involved some of the most intricate testimony ever heard. It was a murder case without a found weapon, or a witness to point a positive finger at the defendant. In its wake is a suicide, a heart attack. . .and a bewildered boy named Chip. It was covered by French and British reporters, and I'm afraid it was held up to Russian audiences as a mark of our depravity.

If that isn't newsworthy, I'll drink it.

Straight.

Sorry I missed the Nautilus as it took off, under atomic power. As Gen. MacArthur sometimes says, "The historian, in the quiet of his study, a thousand years hence, will say. . ." I saw the Nautilus slide down her ways a year ago, bereft of a uranium or plutonium nugget in her gizzard, yet even that was almost excessively thrilling. I called it the "first vessel of the fission fleet."

But the actual sailing, though it got less attention, was so much more important. Nautilus makes obsolete so many means of propulsion. We'll measure things from Nautilus.

The great American sculptor Haseltine's decision to mount Gen. Washington on the emage of Man O' War, in his new equestrian statute of the padre of the nation, suggests a perhaps impertinent question. Who gets on sysonby? Who spurs Colin? Which of our forebears deserves the incomparable exterminator? Which comes up to Zev, Black Gold, Twenty Grand, Gallant Fox, Omaha, Count Fleet, Assault, Citation, Native Dancer?

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

LET'S GO TO MARKET—2

Most grocery stores have carts for shoppers to use when they go marketing. Here's the one Junior Editors Judy and Jimmy used to help their mother gather the groceries.

1. Color all the objects in today's picture. Make the boxes and packages different bright colors like those you see on the grocers' shelves. Oranges in the bag at the upper left of today's picture should be colored orange. The grapefruit at the bottom of the basket should be yellow. Do you see other vegetables and fruit to be colored? The cart can be green, with red handle and wheels.

2. Paste the whole picture down on light cardboard before cutting out the parts carefully. Leave the tabs attached to the four small items. Cut around the wheels where indicated, and fold back side tabs along dotted lines to make the cart stand. Cut through the two dotted lines in the top of the basket. You can add two of the four separate items to the basket by slipping their tabs into the slots on the top of the basket.

Over Half Million Objects Added to Institution in 1954

WASHINGTON (INS) — More than a half million objects, from prehistoric times to the inaugural and wedding dresses of Mrs. Eisenhower, were added to the Smithsonian Institution in 1954.

Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the famous institution, told the annual meeting of the Board of Regents today that the additions will be of great help to the hundreds of scholars who visit the Smithsonian yearly.

The great majority of additions, Dr. Carmichael said, were for the zoological collection. These included such major items as 1,500 small mammals collected in Korea by the Army medical services; 3,500 skins of birds from Thailand and Cuba; 1,042 reptiles and amphibians from Egypt; 5,760 marine specimens from the Caroline Islands; and 100,000 mosquitoes from Thailand.

Botanical collections were increased by more than 24,000 specimens from the Fiji Islands—as well as many from Brazil, the Tyukyu Islands, the Isle of Pines, Mexico, Tonga and Malaya.

Dr. Carmichael said the collections in the Smithsonian make up the nation's "great biological and geological 'Bureau of Standards'" for U.S. scholars.

Added to geological collections were such items as a white and black opal from Australia and large crystals of little-recognized gem stones from Brazil and Lower California.

Major additions were made to fossil collections, Carmichael said, by such contributions as 500 mollusks from the Lower Cretaceous period, which was about 100 million years ago; 7,500 prehistoric monsters of the Devonian period (about 300 million years ago); and groups of starfish-like animals from Oklahoma and Ontario.

The Smithsonian obtained in Wyoming an outstanding collection of mammal fossils from the Eocene and Paleocene periods (the dawn ages of present-day life forms), Carmichael said.

Through an exchange, the institution acquired a series of 22 specimens and casts of primitive jawless fish, represented in fossils from rocks gathered in Norway and Spitsbergen.

Additions to the historical collections included a one-horse open sleigh with the date "1769," which was said to have been associated with George Washington's New Jersey campaign.

Dr. Carmichael said the most important costume additions were the inaugural and wedding dresses of the first lady.

During the year, the Smithsonian conducted explorations in Venezuela, the Fiji Islands, Arctic Islands and Mexico—as well as many localities in the U.S.

Friendship Ends Between Trooper, Pal Toting Booze

AFTON, Okla. (AP) — Friendship fades fast when one of your friends arrests you.

That's what happened to Russell Noland, 41-year-old farmer from Maud, Okla., when he was apprehended by State Trooper Bert George. Noland was transporting 22 cases of liquor from Missouri into Oklahoma—a dry state.

The state trooper stopped his neighbor as he was driving along U.S. Highway 66. "I just wanted to sit and visit a spell," the trooper said. But, when he noticed tire repair tools on the floor behind the front seat of Noland's car, he became suspicious.

"Why haven't you got that in the trunk?" the trooper asked. "What's in the trunk?"

Noland nervously replied, "Oh, nothing."

The trooper decided to have a look for himself.

In the trunk were 19 cases of whisky, a case of wine, a case of gin and a case of malt beer. They all bore Missouri license stamps. The friendship ended there.

Confederate Vet Hits 107 Today

Chestview, Fla., Man to Eat Favorite Meal, Appear on TV

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP) — William Allen Lundy, one of three surviving Confederate veterans, planned to observe his 107th birthday today by eating his favorite meal and making his first television appearance.

A radio birthday party, expanded this year to include 18 stations in Florida, Alabama and Georgia, will honor the old soldier.

Lundy's birthday dinner will consist of corn pone, fresh pork ham, turnip greens, baked hen with dressing and "tater" pie.

A special program over a Pensacola television station was scheduled for this afternoon.

Lundy, still rather spry with good eyesight and hearing, likes to hunt. On the opening day of the 1954 hunting season he bagged a 160-pound buck.

He says he wishes he had taken some shots at Yankees during the Civil War.

While guarding a bridge near Elba, Ala., as a member of the home guard company he was given orders not to fire unless Union soldiers tried to destroy the bridge.

"They did not," Uncle Bill recalls. "I have always been sorry I didn't shoot one or two of them."

Lundy said that now he is "not mad at anybody, not even a Yankee."

Picture on the Wall Brings Back Memories of a Wild Chariot Ride

By EDDIE CANTOR

Here I am, sitting at a desk in my den, trying to think of a column to write. It shouldn't be too difficult as I'm surrounded by pictures of people about whom I could write dozens of columns.

Here, for instance, is a man who looks every inch a Roman emperor. It's Edward Arnold in a toga. He played the emperor in "Roman Scandals," a film I made twenty years ago.

I remember the chariot chase. Arnold and I were in separate chariots, racing in towards a camera several hundred feet away. As we reached the camera, he was to go to the right and my chariot, left.

Something happened to the reins and we both smashed into the camera, breaking the jaw of the cameraman, knocking out some of his teeth, loosening the rest. The director called off shooting for the day.

The next morning I sent a radio to the injured cameraman. A few hours later I visited him in the hospital. He was laughing hysterically. I couldn't understand why until the nurse explained, "Mr. Cantor, you'll never believe this, but the very first song Mr. Campbell (the cameraman) heard on your radio was 'Swing Low, Sweet Chariot'."

That fine-looking athlete with an Apollo-like physique is Max Baer. He appeared on my radio program on many occasions. The first time was several days after being knocked out by Joe Louis. In discussing the fight I asked him if he had seen the pictures. He raised up beyond his six-feet-four, looked down at me and said, "Seen 'em? I was in 'em."

See that old faded picture on the wall, a kid sitting in front of a tent. That's me. It was taken fifty years ago at Surprise Lake Camp, Cold Springs, New York. For a dollar and fifty cents (the fare from Grand Central Station) I was sent up for a two-weeks' vacation.

It was a change from the hot sidewalks of the East Side. I had never seen so much green outside a poolroom in my life. At the campfire every night, I sang and clowned, and was held over. When the other kids left to go back home, this ham stayed three or four extra weeks.

The encouragement I received at Surprise Lake Camp sent me into show business. On my desk, while I'm writing this is a notice from the directors of Surprise Lake Camp telling me they are breaking ground in the next few days at Surprise Lake for the Eddie Cantor Theater. God bless America.

Killing False Alarm, Cops Happy to Find

HOUSTON (AP)—Said a convincing 5-year-old voice over the telephone:

"Elaine just killed Donnie."

Two policemen and a policewoman raced to the home of Charles M. Block, member of an accounting firm, while a clerk talked to the young caller about Santa Claus.

At the home, police found Donnie in good health, Elaine guiltless, and her 5-year-old twin—Buzzy Block—busy at a telephone. He had plugged in a wall instrument while a maid was in another room.

The fishermen also said the Reds had prevented at least 7,000 Catholics from leaving Northern Indochina for French-controlled South Vietnam.

Gilliland Lawyer Gets More Time

Wins Court Extension on Conspiracy Appeal in Eviction Fight

LAPEER—Attorney Leo Hoffman handling the appeal of Clayton C. Gilliland, 58, of Detroit, on a conviction of conspiring to obstruct justice, sought and was granted another extension yesterday in Lapeer Circuit Court.

Hoffman telephoned to say he could not appear at the scheduled meeting yesterday.

Judge Timothy C. Quinn said this would be the last extension made, and set the hearing for 1:30 p.m. Jan. 31.

Gilliland's attorney and the Lapeer County prosecutor's office must agree to a factual condensation of the original trial before the case can be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

Gilliland, advisor to farmers in the area engaged in a 20-year legal fight over the failure of the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Assn., was found guilty Dec. 24, 1953 by a circuit court jury of the conspiracy charge.

He was sentenced to 4½ to 5 years in prison, and has been freed since, on $5,000 bond, pending his appeal to the Supreme Court.

State May Speed Up Tree Planting Work

LANSING (UP) — The State Conservation Commission will consider speeding up its tree planting program at its Feb. 10-11 meeting.

The commission staff said increased revenues from the sale of timber off state forest lands could be used to finance the accelerated program. The department estimated more than 200,000 acres could be best used by planting trees.

Commissioner Robert F. Brevitz of Battle Creek said "I believe we should now give consideration to revising our reforestation policy with the thought of eccelerating our planting program. Now that wt have the money and know the acreage to be planted, I feel we should arange to get the job done within the next 10 years or less."

The department's reforestation fund reached $835,000 for the last fiscal year.

Planes' Arrival Stills Warfare

Costa Rican Battlefront Quiet as U.S. Aircraft Reach Scene

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The battlefront in Costa Rica's war against rebels quieted last night after the arrival of four U. S. fighter planes to bolster President Jose Figueres' forces.

Two of the three planes reportedly used by the insurgents promptly flew to Nicaragua and were seized by the Nicaraguan government.

Despite rebel claims of big victories, a general staff communique said no fights of any sort were reported yesterday in northwestern Costa Rica, the only previously active front.

Unofficial sources indicated that the government was getting ready for a big push in the Santa Rosa area, about 20 miles from the Nicaraguan frontier in the northwestern part of the country.

One eyewitness said loyalist reinforcements were moving up toward this sector.

The general staff communique contradicted claims of the rebel radio that insurgent troops defeated government forces in a pitched battle at Santa Rosa. The radio also claimed that former Costa Rican President Angel Calderon Guardia, "supreme commander" of the rebel forces, "is now at the gates of Liberia."

A key city on the Inter-American Highway, Liberia is about 20 miles south of Santa Rosa and 138 miles northwest of San Jose. It has been strafed several times by rebel planes.

Figueres appeared confident of final victory after greeting the American ferry pilots who landed the four World War II type F51D Mustang fighters at El Coco Airport, outside San Jose.

3,096 Ballot on City Status

Madison Heights Is New Name; Proposal Passes by 372 Lead

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—By a 372-vote margin, residents of a portion of Royal Oak Township yesterday approved the incorporation of the eastern section of the township as the city of Madison Heights.

The total vote cast was 3,096, with 1,734 approving the change, and 1,362 opposing it. Approximately three-fifths of the registered voter force of 5,202 took their opinions to the polls.

Also elected were nine charter commission members, who will draft a city charter for presentation to the voters at a later date.

The Madison Heights Civic Assn. with a membership of more than 400 residents spearheaded the incorporation move, which was opposed by many township officials.

The area incorporated includes 7.5 square miles, located east of Royal Oak city and north of Ten Mile Road.

Since the incorporation of the city of Royal Oak in 1921, the township's 36-square mile area has been decimated by nine incorporations.

The township board had expressed the feeling that incorporation forthe area should be delayed, pending the completion of certain litigation, and that the incorporation move would also stop the building in the area, since the new city could not install a water system.

The pro-incorporation group expressed fears of annexation by either Hazel Park or Royal Oak.

Named to the charter commission were Willie D. Pierce, Earl M. Anderson, Darrel K. Davis, Charles B. Edwards Jr., Theodore Krenn, John B. Michrina, George Sargent, Virginia M. Solberg, Stanley F. Weiss.

Shivers Breaks Texas Tradition

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Allan Shivers today became the first man in Texas history to take the office of governor for a third elective term.

Shivers flaunted Texas no-third-term tradition and beat down a heavy attack based on his decision to back Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in 1952 to win his third term.

He defeated Atty. Ralph Yarborough in last year's elections after a heated run-off primary and had only nominal opposition from the Republican candidate.

Shivers has held state office 20 years and has never been defeated.

He decided to run for a third term, he said, to help make sure that Texas sends a state's rights delegation to the 1956 Democratic presidential convention.

He describes his political philosophy as "Wilsonian liberal" or "middle-of-the-road." He has long been at odds with the national party leadership which he says is "dominated by Eastern big city bosses."

White Pine Mine Now Operating

Believe Copper Deposit One of Richest Tapped in North America

WHITE PINE (UP)—The White Pine Copper Mine, potentially one of the largest copper mines in North America, has started operations, the company said yesterday.

The deposit is estimated at 309,000,000 tons of ore, carrying 1.1 per cent copper.

Construction of the modern mine and plant, which has a rated capacity of 75,000,000 pounds of copper annually, was begun in March, 1952, and now is essentially completed along with construction of a townsite and all utility facilities, company officials said.

The town of White Pine, 12 miles from Ontonagon at the western end of the Upper Peninsula, already has a population of more than 1,000.

The project was financed by government loans totaling $67,000,000 and supplemented by $13,000,000 from the Copper Range Co., parent firm of the White Pine Copper Co. The company has a contract with the government for production and disposition of 550,000,000 pounds of refined copper under favorable conditions.

Baltimore Water Loss 2 Million Gallons Daily

BALTIMORE (AP)—As much as two million gallons of water is leaking out of the Baltimore water system every day but nothing can be done about it until 1956, says the city's acting chief water engineer.

Bernard L. Werner said contraction of the joints in a large tunnel carrying water to about half the city has caused leaks. Because the tunnel handles so much of the city's supply, Werner explained, it cannot be shut down for repairs until other major installations are completed. This will be in March 1956, or thereabouts.

Waterford High Student Wins Cherry Pie Contest

Fifteen-year-old Beth Lorraine Rose was declared winner Saturday of the annual Oakland County Cherry Pie Contest.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rose of North Cass Lake road, Waterford Township, Beth is a tenth grade student at Waterford High school and a member of the township's only 4-H club, the Junior Homemakers.

She will go to Grand Rapids in February to compete in the state cherry pie contest.

Second place went to 17-year-old Judy Vanderhoof of Milford, last year's county winner. Third place was won by 14-year-old Lorraine Hensel, also of Milford.

Before last Tuesday Lorraine had never baked a cherry pie; in the following five days she baked five, winning one of the coveted top honors in the contest with her fifth pie.

Judges for the event were Jean Hardy of the Detroit Edison company, Joan Fredericks of the Consumer Power company and Janet Odell, Food Editor of the Pontiac Press.

The contest is sponsored by the processors and growers of red sour cherries, with the cooperation of the Extension Department of Michigan State College and the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Would-Be Citizen First Saw America as a U.S. POW

By WILMA GREENWAY

A young German army vet who got his first look at America from behind the barbed wire fencing of a prisoner-of-war camp now thinks the United States is the "grandest country in the world," and Ortonville one of its finest small towns.

If you live in Ortonville, Clarkston or Drayton Plains, chances are you've met him. He's covered that territory pretty thoroughly — house-by-house, in fact—in his business of selling Fuller brushes to the housewives.

His name is Gerhard Treffehn, and he's 29 years old. He lives with his wife, Ilse, on a 10-acre farm at 1180 Granger Rd., Ortonville.

If he stopped at your door, you'll remember him by his pleasant manner, clipped German accent, and the fact that he usually has a good word to say for the country of his choice—America. Yet Treffehn, who was brought up during the Nazi regime in Germany, first knew this country as a prisoner of war.

A paratrooper with the Luftwaffe, he was trapped behind the lines when Patton made his drive into Germany during World War II. After four weeks of walking stealthily by night, hiding in the hedges by day, and subsisting chiefly on green apples, the only food available, Treffehn and a companion were taken captive.

He was sent to California, and for two years, in 1944 and 1945, he was held in prison camps in San Francisco, Los Angeles and other places in the West. When the war ended, he was shipped back to Germany.

But in spite of the hardships of prison life — an experience that, even now, he avoids talking about —something of the quality of America caught the young German's imagination. When the chance came in 1949 to return here as an exchange student to Michigan State College, Treffehn grabbed it.

Later he acquired his visa and returned to America for good, working for an Ortonville businessman, Jack H. Hamilton, who had befriended him during his student days.

GERHARD TREFFEHN

Treffehn sees America as a young, confident country—a little raw, a little brash, but filled with vigor and life.

"This is a country like new wine, still waiting the fulfillment of its spiritual and cultural development," says the former POW whose educational background includes a B. A. degree in economics, a master's degree from Giessen University, the study of law at the University of Frankfort and postgraduate work in psychology, sociology and economics at Michigan State College.

"In the past 50 years the United States has emphasized the material. It has shot forward industrially.

"Now I believe we are starting on an era of cultural and spiritual growth.

"America has been like a teenager—strong, forceful, often blundering. Now she is ready to become polished, mature.

"But it is a wonderful country—a big country. A place where a man can breathe."

What is the opinion of a young German, brought up in the pre-war era, with regard to Hitler?

Gehard Treffehn remembers Hitler as a man of magnetic speech, a man whose oratory swept the people and drew them to his cause.

"If Hitler had stopped in time, if he had not let the love for power run away with him, he would have been known as Germany's greatest statesman," Treffehn said. "In the beginning he did much for the country—created jobs, built roads and public housing, aided the farmers.

"But later, with his idea of a united Europe, he overrode even those who had put him in power. His generals were opposed to war, but Hitler would not be stopped."

Selling Fuller brushes is Gerhard's idea of the best way to know his new country. He says it gives him an "inside look" on the American family, and that the picture is a good one.

Some day, he says, he hopes to find a position where he can use the knowledge he has acquired through his broad education. (He believes America lags in the field of education—that it could learn much by studying European methods).

Meanwhile, despite language difficulties, he's sixth from the top among the 17 Fuller Brush men working out of the Pontiac office. He is building a home, meeting expenses, and even planning for a family. Someday he hopes to become an American citizen.

"I'm getting an education, also," he says, "for in selling my products I have the opportunity to meet all kinds of people in their home environment. I see how people in America behave, how their minds work.

"As a door-to-door salesman, I know I have discovered more about human nature than I ever could learn from books."

$40,000 Found in Bank Debris

$40,000 More Hunted in Building Shattered by Safecrackers

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Employes of the Farmers Bank, sifting the debris left by an explosion, have recovered about $40,000 of the bank's funds from the shattered bricks, mortar and crumbled concrete.

Burglars entered the building early yesterday. An explosion, believed to have been caused by nitroglycerin, ripped open the valut, damaged the two-story building extensively and tore holes in both walls of an adjoining structure.

The vault contained about $80,000, and the search for the remainder of the money was a painstaking job.

"We're finding a dollar here, a $20 bill there, and occasionally run across a bunch of bills containing $200 or $300," said R. D. Jeter, vice president and cashier.

Mixed among the bills, Jeter said, are promissory notes and other current records.

The FBI said it was possible that one or more of the safecrackers might be buried under the debris, but Jeter said that theory "is weakening."

The money retrieved so far was taken for safekeeping to the First National Bank, the town's only other bank.

Jeter said the First National also is allotting one of its windows for receiving deposits and cashing checks on his establishment.

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—Motorist Edward V. Beattie settled the matter of a minor collision with another motorist quickly and with little discussion, but he wishes he hadn't.

He showed his driver's license to the other fellow, he told police yesterday. The license was in his wallet. The other man handed back the wallet and left.

Then, Beattie said, he discovered the $100 he had in his wallet was gone, and he didn't have the other fellow's name, or auto license number.

3 Men Are Reappointed to Tax Allocation Board

Reappointed to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board yesterday by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore were James Thorburn of Royal Oak, Harcourt S. Patterson, of Pontiac and Howard Warner, of Farmington.

They will serve with County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks, Auditor Robert Y. Moore and Superintendent of Schools William J. Emerson who are members by virture of their office.

At its meetings beginning in April this year, the board will have the job of setting country, school district and township tax rates on state equalized property valuations.

This results from a ruling last year by former Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard, later upheld by the State Supreme Court, that counties with fractional school districts overlapping county boundaries mus assess local taxes on the state equalized valuation for those counties.

Oakland is one of these. The state has valued Oakland's property about 30 to 35 per cent higher than the county itself. Thus, if the county collected on the state equalized figure, the result would be increased tax bills to property owners.

The county rate last year under county equalization was 5.14 mills ($5.14 per $1,000 of property valuation). A rate of 4.22 mills under state equalization would have brought in an equal amount of taxes, according to Auditor Robert Y. Moore.

The tax board's job this year will be to set new rates under state-equalized figures which will bring in the needed amount of taxes.

"Each unit will tell us how much they need and it will be our job to decide if they need it and then set rates which will bring the necessary amount," Moore explained.

Scout Activity Increases Here

15 Per Cent Gain Noted in Both Enrollment and Units

A net gain of approximately 15 per cent in the number of Boy Scout units and boys enrolled in scouting programs during 1954 has been announced by Clinton Valley Council, which includes Oakland and Macomb counties.

Year-end figures for 1954 showed 5,972 cubs, scouts and explorers in 166 council units, 1,159 in the Pontiac District.

At the end of 1953, 5,211 scouts and 151 units comprised the council, with 1,033 in the Pontiac District.

The council executive board will meet Thursday at 6:45 p.m. in Rochester.

Edward Leland, council executive, announces a series of training courses for scout leaders beginning Thursday evening. Roundtable discussions of troop problems will be held in Brooklands and Union Lake schools each Thursday for six weeks.

Annual winter sports event for explorer scouts of Clinton Valley Council will be staged Jan. 29-30 at Kensington Park on U. S. 16.

Pontiac District Executive Van Braidwood announced the regular meeting of the district commissioners will be held tonight at the council offices on W. Huron street.

Port Huron Apt to Lose Buses

Public Transport Firm Asks Permission to Go Out of Business

PORT HURON (AP)—Port Huron, a city of 35,000, was faced today with possible termination of its only public transportation system.

Jack Paton, owner of the Port Huron Bus Co., asked the City Commission last night for permission to dissolve the company in 90 days. He contended the firm is operating at a 50 per cent loss.

Paton already has placed the bus company up for sale and on Jan. 1 was authorized by the City Commission to discontinue Sunday service except for four hours during church services.

The company, which owns 16 buses, now operates from 6 a.m. to midnight six days a week in addition to the four hours on Sunday.

Paton told the commission his firm is in the same economic straits as the Sarnia Bus Co., across the St. Clair River in Sarnia, Ont.

The Canadian firm recently boosted its fares from 10 to 12 cents, contending it had to increase its income by at least $16,000 annually to operate at a profit.

Paton, who also operates an oil distributorship, said the company never has earned a profit during its four years under his ownership.

IF YOU SUFFER FROM RHEUMATISM or ARTHRITIS THERE IS NOTHING THAT WILL HELP YOU AS MUCH AS O-JIB-WA BITTERS

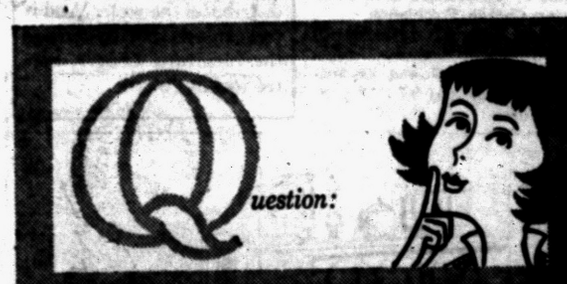

Typical of hundreds of thousands of satisfied customers is, Mrs. Edith Henry, 2083 E. Buder, Flint, who before using O-JIB-WA BITTERS, suffered off and on for over 30 years with rheumatism, arthritis and neuritis.

Mrs. Henry

"I am 72 years old now, and first suffered from rheumatism over 32 years ago, so think I know something about this painful and crippling condition. I had it so bad that it took both hands to lift a cup to my mouth. I used an herb medicine that overcame it completely, so two years ago when arthritis struck me in my right arm and shoulders, I remembered my experience with herb medicines before, and also took the advice of several of your customers and started taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I couldn't lift a dipper of water or a tea kettle. Pain killing tablets didn't help, so I was amazed after taking O-JIB-WA for about two weeks to find myself practically better. I took it about four months altogether and now highly recommend it to all sufferers. I have strength in my hands and arms again and my nerves have improved also. I recommend O-JIB-WA to my sister in Mt. Pleasant, and it helped her too, so its no wonder I have so much faith in O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

Girl Needs Friendliness From Gang

Bitterness Stops If One's Accepted Into Circle

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've a problem child in our freshman class. How can we become friendly with her? She's the prettiest girl in the class and well aware of it. She stares at us until we're uncomfortable and talks about us to the very homely girl she runs around with.

We don't speak to her at all hardly, but I for one would like to become friends with her. But I'm afraid I'd lose my other friends because she'd talk about them. We'd appreciate your help with this."

At the moment you and your girl friends aren't speaking to the problem child. And that's what's making her a problem. She resents being left out of all of your fun. She hates having only one girl friend out of the whole class. She'd like to be friendly with you, included in your fun, made to feel part of your gang. And so she stares at you out of her bitterness, and talks about you out of spite.

You aren't alone in wanting to change her status. You have some other girls all lined up to be friendly too. So why don't you all together ask her to join you when there's something going on?

Make her feel welcome and as though you're glad to have her along. She'll probably be so pleased to be included that she'll do her best to be pleasant and friendly. She won't talk about anyone else if you make it clear that you don't go in for that sort of thing.

Once she's on the inside, instead of looking on enviously from the outside, she's not likely to talk maliciously about the girls who are rapidly becoming her friends.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently when my brother came home on leave and while he was home, he never let me alone. He was always picking on me and making me feel like two cents in front of my friends.

"When he left I promised myself I wouldn't write to him or even talk to him any more! I'm asking your advice — should I break my promise to myself, or should I just forget about him?"

Is this antagonism between you and your brother someting new? Or have you always gotten in each other's hair? Was he nervous and upset about things in general while he was home, so that he took it out on you? Or were you particularly annoying this time?

This all may have been teasing which you took seriously. It might be big brother trying to straighten you out—which you resented. Whatever it was, it's a shame your fussing had to mar his leave.

When you figure out what caused the friction, you'll begin to get over your peeve. And when you've stopped being mad at him write and tell him so!

Carrying a plaid briefcase to match his suit, this model is showing the latest in men's fashion ideas. The designer feels that the average man's pockets are always bulging with papers, cards, combs, keys and, now and then, money. The pockets become bulky and overloaded. Thus, the matching briefcase is expected to carry all the paraphernalia for an average man's business day, leaving the pockets aesthetically empty.

Pros, Cons on Subject Are Presented

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The reaction of a volunteer worker to her job is a thing which fascinates me. Some volunteers give it all they have; others just grind through it as a necessary, if unpleasant chore. And their attitudes afterwards, when they look back on it, are just as varied.

For example, this from Mrs. J. S. in Michigan:

"I think you should talk about volunteer work more often," she says, "because it is such valuable experience, and it can lead to so much.

"I worked for the Red Cross as a volunteer for years and years. I loved the job, and it was right up my alley.

"Last year, when my youngest child got married, my husband and I decided that I might better get a paid job, so I could help him plan for retirement — financially that is.

When I told my boss at the Red Cross, she said how much they would miss me, and how valuable I had been, and the next thing I knew, they had found me a paid job right in the organization! Who would ever think that a volunteer job could lead to a paid job?"

But here is another letter, unfortunately just as typical, from a lady in New Jersey.

"Volunteer work is a waste of time," she announces. "For 11 years I ground my heart out for an organization, doing nasty jobs and getting nothing out of it. Now when I want to get a paid job employers just snort when I mention my volunteer work.

"What thanks do you get? None!"

The answer, it seems to me, is this:

If you select the right kind of volunteer work — the kind that satisfies your need to help, that uses your best skills and interests, and that you can perform with enthusiasm—then it does, indeed, lead to great things for you. It develops your skills and talents, and brings out the best in you.

And the woman who approaches her volunteer work in this manner, invariably finds that she is able, later, to get a paying job, if not for the same organization, then somewhere else, because she impresses the potential employer favorably, as a mature, hard-working and enthusiastic person.

But if your volunteer work is chosen without consideration for your own talents and enthusiasms, if it is done grudgingly from a sense of duty, or just to impress people with how noble you are, you will get nothing from it, and you will deserve nothing. Instead of developing you as a person, it will embitter you; you will do yourself no good, and the organization no good!

Invitations for Services Combined

Two Ceremonies Will Be Necessary for This Bride

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be tells me: "I am a Protestant and am marrying a man of the Jewish faith. In order to satisfy both families, we will have two services, one in my church for my family and friends and one in his church for his family and friends. Both services will take place on the same day and a large reception will be given later for everyone.

This being a rather unusual situation, I am completely at a loss as how to word my wedding invitations. Would two separate church invitations be sent out, one by my family and one by his, or would one invitation do, and if so, how should it be worded so as to include both ceremonies? Please help me solve this problem."

One invitation to both services would be best and guests could take their choice as to which service they would like to go to, and some may even like to go to both. The wording would be as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Greene request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Mary Elizabeth to
Mr. John Smith

Trinity Church and a second service at eleven o'clock
Temple Emanuel

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary, even for the sake of politeness, to write thank-you notes for the gifts brought personally to my baby for which I thanked each one at the time?

No. Not if you were able to look at these gifts when you said thank you.

Dear Mrs. Post: Are the wedding rings of the bride and the groom supposed to match? My fiance would like me to buy him a ring, but he prefers a plain yellow band to wear and I would like a white gold band set with tiny diamonds.

Your ring and his do not have to match.

Make Shoe Box Cradle

Some of you girls may have a new Christmas doll who is in need of a bed. How do you like this one?

I hope that you have a shoe box around so that you can make this doll bed. You boys may want to make one for your sister. Use the bottom of the box just like it is, but cut off one-fourth of the lid. This forms the foot of the cradle. Glue this in place at one end of the bottom of the box.

Hold the rest of the lid at the opposite end and fold the finished end over to form a little cover. Glue this in place. Cut two rockers from heavy cardboard so that they are two to three inches wider than the cradle. Notch them so that they slide up under the lids. The cradle can be used this way or be painted or covered with wall paper. Rock-A-Bye.

You girls may want to make a fancy cradle and glue on tape ruffles all around the sides. Or how about scraps of curtain trim?

Beth Lorraine Rose Wins First Place in Cherry Pie Contest

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

On Saturday we were one of the judges for the annual Cherry Pie Contest for teenage girls in Oakland County. Winner was Beth Rose, a fifteen year old student at Waterford High School. We think you will like to have Beth's recipe.

Beth has a wealth of interests. She has been in 4-H work for five years, working on cooking projects for the last three. Extra-curricular school activities which she enjoys are basketball and dramatics; she has a lovely speaking voice. At home she helps her mother with the cooking, sews and reads.

PRIZE WINNER'S PIE
By Beth Lorraine Rose

2 cups sifted flour
⅔ cup shortening
½ teaspoon salt
4-6 tablespoons cold water

Blend the shortening into the flour and salt, working until the mixture resembles fine cornmeal. Add the water a little at a time. Chill before rolling out.

For the filing:

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon almond extract
¼ teaspoon red food coloring
⅓ cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can sour cherries

Mix cherries, juice and sugar and cook over low heat until it boils. Remove from the heat and add the cornstarch mixed with water, cook until mixture is thick and transparent. Remove from stove and add butter or margarine, food coloring and flavoring. Pour into prepared pie crust. Bake 40-45 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Makes an 8-inch pie.

Joy of 'Bon Voyage' Lost as Boundaries Close In

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

"Joe Bemis is leaving tomorrow for London," reported a friend disapprovingly, 'and what do you think? He's not going to do a thing but take care of his business, then turn right round and fly home. He's not going to buy any presents, he's not going to look at anything. He's not even going to Paris!"

I tried to defend Joe who I know has to be back in the office (he's a lawyer) for an important case that is coming up, but I make no excuses for the hurried tourist who, if his feet hold out, hits Versaille and Fontainebleau, the Louvre, Notre Dame and the Eiffel Tower all on the same day.

The airplane, of course, is largely responsible for shrinking the world so that nowadays European Grand Tour, which was once a leisurely, expensive and elegant undertaking, can be compressed into a three-week vacation.

Such a trip used to be a once-in-a-lifetime experience, planned for and organized over a long period. Today, with so many people keeping their passports up to date for emergencies and London as close by plane as Chicago by train, something has been lost. Even that charming and cheerful old custom, the seeing-off party, is disappearing.

An old-fashioned woman, who still thinks travelers should be speeded on their way, reported sadly to me the other day that she and her husband were the only ones on two separate occasions who went down to the boat to see friends depart.

Gone are the champagne parties with dozens of exclaiming and envious pals examining every detail of your cabin, picking at the grapes in your bon voyage baskets, sampling the gift chocolates and cookies and just barely getting off in time when the last all-ashore sounds. Modern ships, constructed like floating cities, complete with shops and telephones which can be used to get in touch with the folks back home no matter where you are on the ocean, have made sailings today about as exciting as leaving for a weekend in the country.

It's even worse with air traveling. An airport does not lend itself to a going-away party at best and anyway most air passengers go about normal pursuits until amost plane time, then grab suitcases and quietly take their departures, unsung, uncheered, usually without even a corsage to make the occasion gala. And before you know it, they're back home again.

One of the values of going to other countries is to see the people, their homes, their way of life. The relaxed tourist has a chance to enjoy not only the treasures of other nations but their customs and their food.

I wouldn't take anything for the memory of leisurely months in pre-Mussolini Rome that gave me time to eat meals in the country restaurants, visit in homes that ranged from the simplest farm houses to real palaces, time even to fall midly in love and learn enough Italian to be able to read his love letters when I went on to Paris.

Electrical Appliances Need Care

By HUBBARD COBB

We just had a long sad talk with a man who bought his wife an automatic washing machine for Christmas and the motor on the fool thing went and burned out before they had a chance to use it more than a few times.

Our boy was pretty sore about the whole thing and especially so because he had just found out that the fault was not with the washing machine but with the wiring in his house.

He did not have, in short, enough voltage in that particular line to operate the machine and so the motor burned out.

That's the way it is with electric motors. Even if you don't give them all the juice they need the poor things will try their best and the harder they try the hotter they get. Pretty soon the wiring inside them gets so hot that it burns through and the motor is out.

Anything like an automatic washing machine, dishwasher or sink disposal unit should have its own private line to the fuse box and the line should be a No. 12 wire fused with a 20 amp fuse.

This type of circuit will insure the appliance getting all the juice it needs. If you go and plug one of these machines into any old outlet box that might be convenient you are asking for trouble unless you've had an electrician give the outlet a voltage check which has shown there is sufficient voltage there to run the equipment properly. And don't, please don't try adding extension cords onto the appliance cords so they will reach a particular outlet.

Bookshelves and Desk Combine in Small Space

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

There may be space after all in the room for bookshelves, and even for a desk. The right spot may be there, once it's recognized by an especially sharp designing eye.

It may be on a short wall that's now useless, and reach a short way on an adjoining wall like this. Build the shleves to your own custom measurements.

Plot the height of each one by exactly what's to go on it, one size of books here, another on the next level, the certain accessories to be displayed on the next. But locate one shelf at desk height.

Build it deeper than the rest so it forms a handy little ledge in front of the books, and extend it forward on the wall that's at right angle, to be used as a desk. This is a desk top area that's so easy to build, and that requires the least possible space.

Members of the Child Culture Club met recently at the Auburn road home of Mrs. Dale Swanson. Mrs. Stuart Williams was speaker of the evening, using as her topic, "Education at Home for the Handicapped Child."

The evening roll call question was, "What Is Your Opinion of Modern Education?"

Mrs. Williams is a homebound teacher, who visits the homes of handicapped children who are victims of muscular dystrophy, rheumatic fever, cerebral palsy and polio. Also included are children who have injuries from accidents.

Educating these children is in line with our democratic ideals, that each child is entitled to the same advantages. By educating these particular children they are given an opportunity to become independent and eventually self-sustaining in many instances.

Mrs. Williams said that one child who had been away from school four years lost only one year on his return to classes. These children look forward to their teacher's visits, and she in turn finds her work challenging and rewarding.

Pontiac Police List 1954 Accidents

Out of 2,207 motorists involved in Pontiac traffic accidents during 1954, according to an annual summary by Pontiac Police, 1,804 were male drivers and 283 were female motorists.

Five fatal mishaps, included in last year's 1,299 auto accidents here, all involved male motorists, according to the report which didn't specify the sex for 120 other drivers also involved in accidents.

The city's number of fatalities for last year is compared with eight the previous year when 1,400 auto accidents occurred.

Three of the five persons killed were in the age bracket 25 to 34, one in the 15 to 19 and another, 55 to 64. Only one of the five killed was a pedestrian who attempted to cross at a point other than an intersection.

The report shows that 125 persons ranging in age from 25 to 34 were hurt, the biggest number for any one age bracket. A total of 540 persons were injured in 1954 traffic accidents, as compared with 635 the previous year.

Last year 308 men were hurt and 232 were women. Pedestrian injuries numbered 59 for male and 49 for females.

The report notes that 20 injuries involved bicyclists,of which 17 were boys and three girls.

Most of last year's accidents, says the report, were caused by motorists who failed to yield the right of way, following too closely, failed to turn on their auto lights, and driving under the influence of liquor. There were 1,093 drivers who were found violating traffic rules when accidents occurred. That is almost half of the 2,207 drivers involved in mishaps last year.

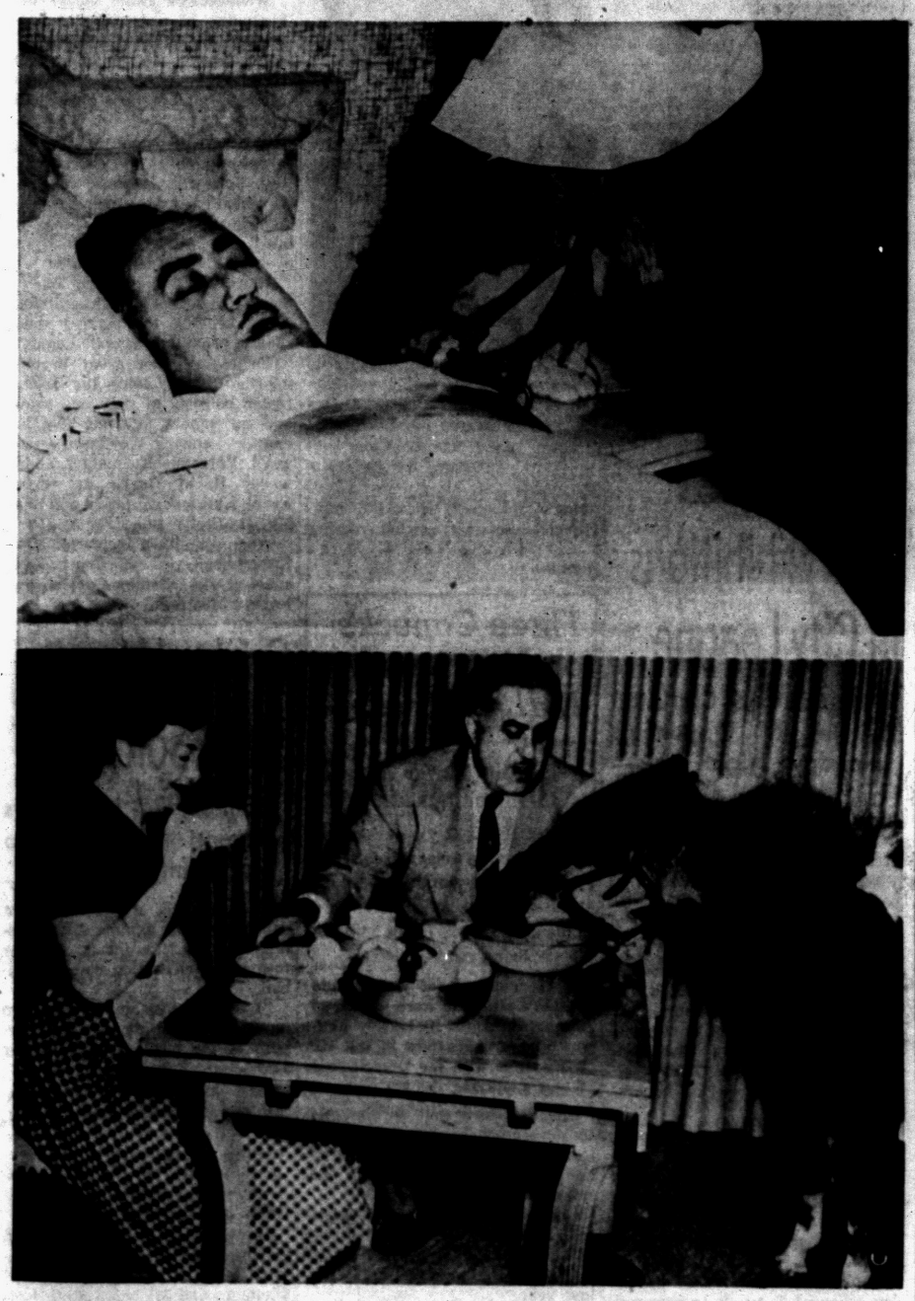

Forty-five of the 109 pedestrians hurt were not crossing at intersections. Other pedestrian violations were crossing against a red light, crossing from behind parked cars, children playing in streets and walking in the streets.

The majority of motorists who were involved in accidents were found driving at speeds from 21-30 and from 11-20. The report which shows that many of the accidents occur during the winter and rainy months, also notes the following types and number of vehicles were involved in accidents:

Passenger cars, 2,141; cars with trailers, 7, trucks, 118; truck and trailer, 9; truck tractor and semi-trailer, 3; other truck combinations, 11; taxicabs, 39; buses, 19; motorcycles, 23, other vehicles, 13; not stated, 46.

Of the 1,299 accidents, 603 were in residential areas and 458 occurred in business districts. Four of the fatalities occurred in accidents taking place in residential areas. Fifty of the mishaps occurred near schools and playgrounds and 143 were in industrial areas.

The report shows that a greater number of accidents occur from 3 to 11 p.m., with the greatest frequency on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Fewer accidents occurred on Wednesday and Thursday.

This Romeo Operates Without Help of Juliet

DETROIT (AP)—Calvin Watson, 40, asked and received court permission yesterday to change his name to Romeo because that was what many of his friends called him.

Asked whether his wife planned to change her name to Juliet, Watson replied:

"No, sir. We are divorced. I'm going to be a Romeo in name only."

LOOK, NO HANDS — Edward Novak, Pontiac district manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Co., demonstrates the new Model 500 desk set, which allows him to talk over the phone without holding the instrument. On the desk, just in front of the conventional base and receiver, is the loudspeaker-microphone which makes this "no-hands" telephoning possible.

In Pennsylvania

New Governor Takes Over With Shot at Republicans

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Youthful George M. Leader takes over today as Pennsylvania's first Democratic governor in 16 years, calling for a bipartisan solution to what he describes as a financial crisis in the Keystone State.

The lean, bespectacled poultry farmer from York County said in his prepared inaugural address that "a reckless fiscal policy" of successive Republican administrations has produced a situation verging on bankruptcy "that is even worse than we thought."

Democrats by the thousands poured into this central Pennsylvania capital city for the inaugural ceremonies, which included for the first time in 16 years a gala parade—an expression of pent-up Democratic victory joy. Leader is only the second Democrat since the Civil War to be elected governor of Pennsylvania.

By far the most pressing problem facing Leader—who was 37 yesterday—is the commonwealth's tax future.

Leader estimated his administration inherited a deficit of 86 million dollars from Republican Gov. John S. Fine and that Fine's figures "indicate the state's revenue would be more than 500 million dollars short of covering its expenditures" for the 1955-57 biennium.

I suggest to our Republican colleagues," he said in his address, "that, inasmuch as their party bears the responsibility for the state's fiscal crisis, they join with us in an honest, bipartisan, statesmanlike attempt to reach a meeting of the minds on a finance program which will make Pennsylvania solvent again."

Leader will have a split legislature. Republicans hold a slender 26-24 edge in the State Senate. Democrats rule the House 111-99.

A former state senator, Leader was a relative political unknown before his nomination on the Democratic ticket. He defeated Republican Lloyd Wood, outgoing lieutenant governor, by a quarter of a million votes in last November's election.

Leader has been prominently mentioned as a presidential or vice presidential possibility on the Democratic ticket in 1956. His administration will be watched closely by national party leaders.

Revenuers in Dresses Raid Moonshine Still

NEW DELHI (AP)—Revenuers in the dry Indian state of Bombay turned female impersonators recently to nab a band of moonshiners who had stationed lookouts high in coconut palms to watch for the law.

The lookouts sensed nothing amiss when a group of Gypsy women approached. The Gypsies' faces were veiled, children clung to their full swinging skirts and iron bangles jangled around their ankles.

Arriving at the still, the Gypsies suddenly identified themselves as police. They caught the bootleggers redhanded.

New Phone Unit Allows Freedom of Both Hands

A new telephone device available for installation in the Pontiac area allows the user to walk away from the phone and use both hands while conversing.

Bell Telephone's new Model 500, which went into quantity production this month, features a microphone-loudspeaker unit in addition to the usual square-based dial set.

When the phone speaker is turned on, it is possible to talk and hear clearly even when standing across the room from the unit.

Edward J. Novak, Pontiac District manager for Michigan Bell, said the unit was designed primarily for business use, but that it was also finding a large number of home applications.

In an office, the Model 500 makes possible conferences between distant callers and whole groups. By using the loudspeaker, employes can carry on conversations while checking through filing cabinets, performing maintenance work at the direction of the caller, or many other tasks which require moving about.

In the home, Novak said, the sets have proved ideal for families with sons or daughters away from home, since the distant caller can talk to the whole group at once.

Handicapped persons or invalids also find the Model 500 makes necessary calls much easier.

Court Quarrel Breaks Couple's 8-Year Silence

CHICAGO (AP) — A couple who shared a home for eight years without speaking broke their mutual silence in court yesterday—in a quarrel over who should claim their 18-year-old son as a dependant for income tax purposes.

Superior Judge Elmer N. Holmgren referred them to the Internal Revenue Service to settle the question. But he ordered Benjamin Micele, 46, to continue the $36 weekly payments he has made regularly to his wife Eleanore, 44, for spuport of their three minor children.

Norman Becker, Mrs. Micele's lawyer, told the court this story:

The Miceles since July 1946 have communicated only by notes on a bulletin board above the kitchen sink. Micele, a trucker, paid his wife $14 a week for his lodging and laundry and $36 a week for support of three minor children.

After their quarrel last week over who should claim the son, conducted by notes, Micele moved out and Mrs. Micele filed suit for divorce.

To Meet Family After 37 Years

Adopted in Her Infancy, Woman Finally Traces Own Relatives

CHICAGO (AP) — After 37 years a woman who was adopted as an infant will return to her natural family.

She is Mrs. Dorothy Moore of Hutchinson, Kan., the eighth child of Albert and Matilda Irving. Just after she was born in a Chicago hospital, her mother gave her to a woman friend whose own marriage was childless.

When she was 4 she was taken by her foster parents, Sophie and Peter Vosen, to California. She was 20 before she learned she was an adopted child. She promised then not to seek her real family while the Vosens lived.

Mrs. Vosen died recently and Mrs. Moore inserted a personal advertisement in a Chicago paper: "Daughter wishes to locate family — Albert and Matilda Irving. Advise Lt. J. R. Moore, Naval Air Station, Hutchinson, Kan."

A Mrs. Albert Irving read it. It turned out her husband was Dorothy's brother. The elder Irvings are dead. So are another brother and sister.

But Dorothy's seven other brothers and sisters are gathering Thursday for a family reunion.

Among them are a sister, Mrs. Eleanor Calife of Niles, Mich., and a brother, Roy Irving of Vandalia, Mich.

A tug put out from Civitavecchia and other rescue ships left Porto Santo Stefano and the island of Sardinia.

MEN SCORES A STRIKE—That's no tiny bowling pin held by 10-year-old Tommy Zielinski, of West Springfield, Mass. It's an odd-shaped egg found in the nest with the usual type. When opened, the shell contained a small yolk and a normal amount of albumen.

Felons Given New Polio Vaccine

NEW YORK (UP)—The half-hidden scientific controversy over the Salk polio vaccine which was injected into some 500,000 children last spring, came into the open today with the revelation that a vaccine made with "live" viruses had been injected into 25 inmates of the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, O.

It was the first known administration of a "live" virus vaccine against polio since 1935 when experiments had a tragic aftermath. Some of the human subjects contracted polio and six died. The new experiments, for which the prisoners volunteered, was a "live" virus vaccine developed by Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati which had been exhaustively tested for safety in laboratory animals.

The Salk vaccine uses "killed" viruses which, for that reason, cannot possibly give vaccinated persons polio. Its scientific critics —of whom Dr. Sabin is one—maintain that it can't give them a reliable or lasting immunity to polio either, because only "live" viruses can stimulate the body's blood chemistry into producing enough lasting antibodies of sufficient potency to do that.

The Sabin vaccine uses strains of viruses which have lost their power to cause polio, either by repeated "passages" through laboratory animals or by being the mutant progency of virulent viruses. Dr. Sabin, who is one of the oldest grantees of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in point of service, has been at work developing these strains for years.

Testing will continue for several months at Chillicothe and will involve more volunteers, the scientist said.

Dr. Sabin first conducted blood tests of 270 prisoners to find those whose blood streams showed no antibodies to type two polio viruses. Of the 270, 63 per cent had antibodies to all three types. The 25 volunteers came from the remainder who had no polio antibodies of any kind or antibodies only against types one or three. Dr. Sabin has developed vaccines against types one and three, too, but it was type two that he was testing.

The blood streams of the volunteer prisoners now will be closely studied over the next six weeks, to see how their blood chemistry manufacturers antibodies against type two viruses, in what quantity and potency. The expectation was that the antibodies will appear slowly but will reach immunizing levels and stay there, as the blood chemistry of all persons do when they're inoculated with cow pox viruses in order to give them antibodies against small pox viruses.

The public will have an excellent idea of the effectiveness of the Salk "killed" virus vaccine against all three types of polio viruses, around April 1, when the evaluation report on last spring's mass testing is due.

Kentucky 5 Extends Top Cage Position

PHS, Parochial 5's in Action

City high schools send their basketball teams into action tonight on three fronts.

Pontiac High's Chiefs go to Saginaw to meet Arthur Hill in a crucial Saginaw Valley contest, St. Michael plays host to Royal Oak St. Mary in Suburban Catholic League play and St. Frederick visits neighboring Orchard Lake St. Mary in another SCL game.

PHS-Arthur Hill tilt is the only Valley game listed, but Flint Central entertains Midland in non-league competition. Another SCL battle finds St. Clement at St. James.

Pontiac will be out to grab sole possession of Valley lead against the Lumberjacks. Chiefs have won three straight SVC starts, while Arthur Hill has a 4-0 record.

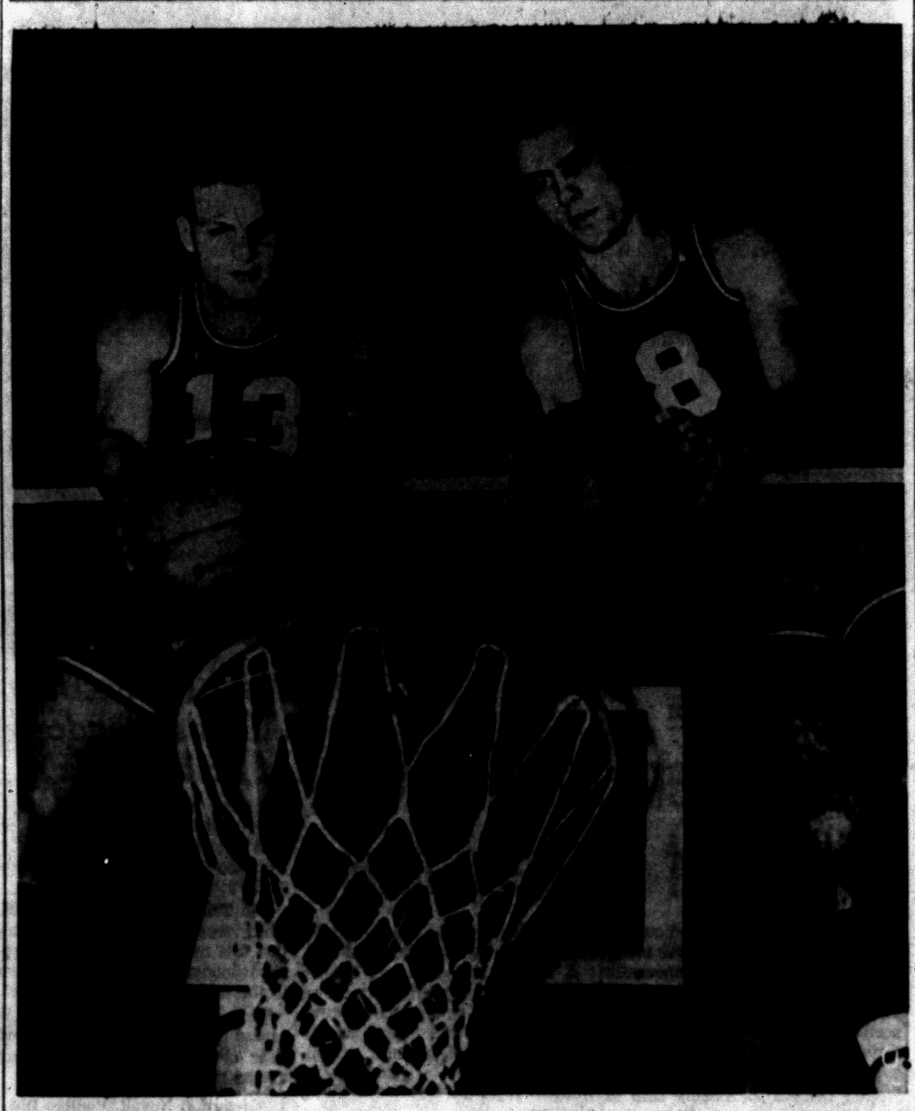

Coach Art Van Ryzin's squad is rated 9th in today's weekly United Press Class A rankings. 'Jacks are 10th.

Van Ryzin will leave intact the starting lineup that last Friday dumped Saginaw High, 54-45. John James and Walt King will go at forwards, Dick Blacklaw will be at center, and Bob Johnston and Walt Poe will handle the guard spots.

St. Michael will put its 4-1 league record on the line against the Royal Oak opponent here tonight. Mikes and Orchard Lake St. Mary currently are tied for 2nd place, a half-game back of undefeated St. Benedict.

St. Frederick can even its loop mark at 3-3 by upsetting the favored Eaglets.

Coach Des Boyce's PHS swimmers, boasting a 5-1 season record, entertain Highland Park here Tuesday afternoon in a non-conference meet to round out the busy mid-week schedule.

They will play with the West in tonight's game.

Saddler Sharp in KO Victory

Lulu Perez Battered by Feather Champ in Boston Bout

BOSTON (AP)—Only his home state of New York recognizes Sandy Saddler as featherweight king, but he looked like champ of all 48 Monday night as he blasted out Lulu Perez of Brooklyn in four rounds.

Lethargic at the start but lethal once Lulu made his one big mistake, Saddler looked like his old self as he turned up for a Feb. 25 title defense against Teddy (Red Top) Davis in New York.

The 28-year-old Saddler nailed Perez with a long left hook to the head early in the fourth round of their scheduled 10. Lulu staggered off the ropes into a two-fisted flurry of at least a dozen blows—all of them packed with power.

Perez sagged to the canvas on his haunches, bewildered. He was up just as the count passed 10. It was all over at 1:34 and he was Saddler's 98th knockout victim. Sandy has won 138, lost 12 and drawn 2.

Champion Rocky Marciano and light-heavy king, Archie Moore, refereed preliminary bouts to help swell the benefit fund for Mrs. Mary Sanders, widow of fighter Ed Sanders who died after a recent bout here.

Sam Fraser had 14 points for J. - A, which suffered its 7th straight loss.

Manny's led all the way in downing Poole Lumber, 66-43, to move within a half-game of second place Harry's Recreation. Jug McKay of Manny's and Dick Mineweaser of Poole's each collected 20 points.

Football Giants See Pro Prospects Among Canucks

NEW YORK (AP)—While Canadian officials continued to offer the olive branch today to end the three-year professional football war, at least one American bigwig decided to look to Canada for some U.S. talent.

This is a reversal on the long dispute between the National Football League and the Canadian Football League and the Canadian loops. Until now, it was the complaint of the NFL bigwigs that the two Canadian pro leagues were luring American players north of the border.

Wellington Mara, vice-president and secretary of the New York Giants, astounded one and all with his monumental decision.

"Canadian football is a great untapped source of talent for us," he said. "There is a popular theory that Canadian football players are not good enough to play down here. I think Canadians have an inferiority complex about their own players when they say we're not sincere about signing those boys."

Meanwhile, north of the border, the peace pipe was out.

Moe Liberman, president of the Edmonton Eskimos, said his club would ask the annual meeting of the Western Interprovincial Football Union meeting this weekend at Calgary to agree to honor NFL contracts and options.

Liberman said WGIU Commissioner Syd Halter discussed the matter with NFL Commissioner Bert Bell last year.

"But nothing final was arrived at," Liberman said. "The Eskimos again will ask Halter to arrange some sort of fair and honorable agreement with the NFL."

Freeman Maintains Big 10 Point Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Robin Freeman, Ohio State's sharp-shooting 5-foot-11 guard, maintained his Big Ten scoring lead this week with little chance of being overtaken.

Shooting at an amazing 34.9 clip, Freeman has canned 349 points in 10 games.

His closest pursuer remains Don Schlundt, Indiana's 6 foot 10 center. Schlundt has 332 points in 12 games for a 27.6 average.

Dick Garmaker of Minnesota took over 3rd place from Dick Cable of Wisconsin with a 24.7 average.

Nieman Is 26th Chisox Player to Sign Contract

CHICAGO (AP) — Outfielder Bob Nieman, 27, today became the 26th Chicago White Sox player to sign for the 1955 season.

Among others in the fold are pitcher Ted Gray and 1st baseman Walt Dropo. They and Nieman were obtained by the Sox from the Detroit Tigers last December in the Ferris Fain deal.

Best of Pro Basketball in East-West Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—A galaxy of National Basketball Assn. all-stars will be on display at Madison Square Garden tonight in the 5th annual East-West classic.

The East holds a 3-1 edge in the series and will rule a three-point choice to continue its division supremacy. Last season the East won 98-93 in overtime before a Garden turnout of 16,487 and another large crowd is expected tonight.

Outfielder Bob Cerv of the New York Yankees is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He received a B.S. degree in education.

Boxing Easier Than Show Business for Sugar Ray

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson finds boxing is easier work, and pays better, than being a song-and-dance man.

Although the former welterweight and middleweight titleholder is far from broke, he can use more money just like anybody else, according to Joe Glaser. And that's mainly why Robinson is attempting a comeback at the age of 34 to regain his 160-pound crown from Bobo Olson.

Glaser, a dapper, gray-haired little man who was a fight manager in his early Chicago days, is what you might call Robinson's personal business manager.

He is a well-to-do theatrical booking agent. He booked Sugar Ray on the night club-theater circuit during his 30 months retirement from the ring. Glaser got 10 per cent of Robinson's take then, and he gets the same now.

Glaser thinks fight fans will be pleasantly surprised to find Robinson is about the same magnificent boxer and puncher that he was several years ago when he is tested by Ralph "Tiger" Jones in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

The 10 rounder will be televised (CBS) starting at 10 p.m. EST and will give armchair fans their first look at Robinson in nearly three years.

'Unbalance' Cited

Accrediting Body Hits Terps' Athletic Policy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The University of Maryland athletic setup had a black mark today from a college accrediting group that singled out the 1953 national championship football squad for special criticism.

The report contended that Maryland had broken rules of the Atlantic Coast Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

It was prepared by a two-man commission of the Middle States Assn. of colleges and secondary schools. The association's study included every phase of the universoity's operation and pointed out other shortcomings, as well as some favorable comments.

The report was released in the Maryland General Assembly Monday night after Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the university, had forwarded it to the lawmakers when it became a subject of controversy.

Some of the examples cited in the 19 pages devoted to athletics in the 166-page report of the commission:

1. Unusual flexibility of academic rules for athletes.

2. Softer part-time job opportunities for athletes.

3. Scholarship aid which was heavily in favor of athletes.

As examples of "unbalance" in favor of sports participants, the two-man study group pointed out:

While 67 per cent of all students at the university in 1953 were Marylanders, only 27 per cent of the football players were.

Athletes totalled only eight per cent of the student body but received 78 per cent of the scholarship money.

Free throws actually decided the contest, with the winners hitting on 18 of 29 chances. GMC had 26 field goals to Clarkston's 24.

Polish Eagles to Fly Again on Hardwoods

St. Mary's to Oppose Cleary in Resumption of Sport, Tomorrow

By H. GUY MOATS

The Polish Eagles are flying once more.

After a lapse of more than six years St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, tomorrow night returns to collegiate basketball. The Eagles will oppose a reputedly strong Cleary College club from Ypsilanti, at 8 o'clock.

Wednesday's game marks the beginning of a tentative schedule for the Orchard Lake collegians, who a decade or so ago were very active in Southern Michigan and Ontario basketball circles.

As a sort of tuneup for the trial at resumption of the court game, Rev. John R. Gabalski, coach of the squad, says his club has been victorious in four exhibitions. Its latest appearance was a 69-51 win over Pontiac General Motors.

Rev. Gabalski, himself one of the Polish school's all-time athletic stars, believes the current squad shows promise. Says "Johnny"; "The team holds great promise for the future, since the 12-man roster consists of only one senior and no juniors. Starting five has captain Leonard Wojcinski at forward, Valentine Kurmaniak at forward, David Gryka at center, Frank Kaminski at guard and Stanley Krysztofik, guard."

Other squadmen include Casimir Karczewski, Edwin Balazy, Michael Maras, Stanley Gacioch and Robert Miklusak.

Crisler Warns State Solons

Cautions Legislators Against Going 'Too Much' Into TV Issue

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Fritz Crisler cautioned today against state legislatures going "too much" into the matter of telecasting college football.

"I think if they get into this too much, it would destroy the purpose of the whole thing," Crisler said.

The University of Michigan athletic director, a leader of the Big Ten's fight for regional telecasting as opposed to policies proposed by the NCAA, commented on proposals before the Ohio and Michigan legislatures.

In Michigan the legislature is being asked to set up a commission to regulate telecasting of Michigan and Michigan State football games. The proposal would keep the NCAA out of the picture entirely.

In Ohio a law was proposed which would direct Ohio State University to attempt to televise all its games for the next two seasons.

MSC, Illini Fall

No Such Thing as 'Upset' These Days in Frantic Big 10 Basketball Chase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The frantic scramble for the Big Ten basketball championship showed no signs of letting up today. no team has showed any marked superiority and it's getting so there is no such thing as an upset.

Last night, Illinois, which had become a cautious favorite, got licked by Iowa, one of the preseason favorites, 92-80, and Indiana, which had been counted out of the running last week after winning the title the last two years, powdered Michigan State 88-79.

The Iowa victory over Illinois, seventh-ranked team in this week's Associated Press poll, sent the Hawkeyes — ranked 19th — into a first-place tie with idle Minnesota, each with three victories and one defeat. Illinois now shows a 3-2 mark in fourth place. Indiana moved up to a tie for sixth place with a 2-3 record.

Northwestern took over undisputed possession of fourth place by whipping Purdue 93-88.

Iowa had a long haul to beat the Illini, overcoming a 16-point deficit in the second half. Two substitues, Bob George and Les Hawthorne, sparked the late Hawkeye rally, and with a little over seven minutes remaining they took over the lead for good.

The nation's No. 1 team, Kentucky, had a close call and had to fight right down to the wire to turn back Louisiana State 64-62. Late in the game LSU guards Norm Magee and Joe Fahey found the range and almost pulled to a tie. In fact, with only two seconds left LSU gained possession of the ball, but couldn't make the final two points.

Mississipi upset Vanderbilt 77-63 in another Southeastern Conference game. It was the Commodores' first defeat in league play and knocked them out of the lead.

Georgia Tech, which had lost three straight since upsetting Kentucky more than a week ago, was the master of Mississipi State 90-71.

In the Big Seven, Colorado remained in a tie for the lead with Missouri by whipping Oklahoma 91-82. Kansas, which hasn't been beaten on the Iowa State home court in six seasons, maintained its record at Ames by edging the Cyclones 73-72.

William and Mary halted Virginia Tech 75-69, and Wisconsin vanquished Butler 57-53 in other major games.

Ohio's Legislature Enters TV Rhubarb

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio legislature will be asked Today to direct Ohio State University to make every effort to televise its football games for the next two seasons.

The measure, in the form of a proposed law, would require the Ohio State trustees to seek the consent of each football opponent to televise home games. If the consent is received, the bill says, the television contract shall permit the viewing of the game by "the greatest number of the people of Ohio."

Giants Promote Only Nine Players From Minor Loops

NEW YORK (AP)—Quality rather than quantity is the thought behind the New York Giants' promotion of only nine hopefuls from their minor league farm organization.

The comparatively small group includes a home run and batting king in Bob Lennon, a strikeout leader in southpaw Joe Margeroni, a pair of robust .300 plus hitters in Eric Rodin and Boyd Harris and an infield gem in Forest Castleman.

In addition, there is a trio of promising young hurlers in lefties Pete Burnside and Jim Constable and righthander Ramon Monzant and a defensive standout in 2nd baseman Ronnie Samford.

The guy who probably will get most of the attention from newspapermen at Phoeniz, Ariz., as well as Manager Leo Durocher is Lennon, the 25-year-old Nashville blaster who led the Southern Association in six departments last year to easily win the circuit's most valuable player award.

He smashed all kinds of records by hammering 64 home runs, driving in 161 runs, scoring 139 runs, amassing 447 total bases, totaling 210 hits and leading the circuit with a .345 batting average. The powerful lefthanded hitter is only the 7th to hit 60 or more homers in organized baseball.

Bowling Clinic

CASE—Single Pin Error.

When you whiz past a single pin, you're the victim of either "tightness" or wrong angle.

And when you know that the size of the pin (body), plus the width of a bowling ball on either side of the pin as illustrated, amounts to a fraction less than half the width of a regulation alley, it means only that you've made a very poor shot.

Ordinarily tension doesn't enter into single pin spare shooting, but pressure does tell in a tight match, tournament, or league thriller. Especially in shooting the end Nos. 7 or 10 pins. Our tip is to be relaxed at all times.

Next, take as wide an angle as possible: To the extreme left of the alley to shoot the No. 10—and face it. To the right of alley center for the No. 7, and also face it. For both shots, follow-through. Reach out.

Patterson Is Winner on TKO

Gotham Light - Heavy Stops Grant Early in 5th Round

NEW YORK (INS)—Floyd Patterson is old enough to fight ten rounds but if the fast rising New York light-heavyweight keeps up his slam-bang pace, he may reach the top without going the distance.

The 20-year old Patterson was a virtual package of punching fury last night as he pummeled his way to a technical knockout victory over Don Grant of Los Angeles in 1:13 of the 5th round at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Patterson, ranked 4th in the division, won his 20th bout in 21 starts when referee Barney Felix halted the one-sided fight at the insistence of Grant's corner. The Californian, both eyes puffed and his nose bleeding, had been down for a compulsory eight count.

It was Patterson's 1st scheduled ten rounder, and it was only the 2nd loss in 18 starts for Grant.

Rochester, KH Seek to Check Losing Strings

Shamrocks Entertain RO Club, Rams Face Eaglet Five at Orchard Lake

Games in the Wayne-Oakland and Suburban Catholic Leagues and Keego Harbor's non-conference tussle with Rochester highlight tonight's 19-game prep basketball schedule in the Pontiac area.

Both Keego and Rochester will be trying to check skids as the Presidents have lost two of their last three and the Falcons have dropped three in a row.

In Wayne-Oakland games, league leading Clarkston goes to Northville, while Holly, upset-victor over Keego last Friday, travels to Brighton. Milford will be at Clarenceville on Wednesday night.

St. Mikes is at home to Royal Oak St. Mary, while St. Freds plays St. Mary at Orchard Lake. All other Pontiac area clubs are idle. The top games in outlying area send Utica and Shrine, the last of the undefeated teams, in action against Romeo and Lourdes.

The schedule:

TODAY

Pontiac at Arthur Hill; RO St. Mary at St. Michael; St. Frederick at OL St. Mary; Rochester at Keego Harbor; Clarkston at Northville; Holly at Brighton; Southfield at Dearborn Lowrey; Bentley at Farmington; Warren at Clawson; Madison at Harper-Woods; Eastland at Roseville; East Detroit at Hazel Park; Kingston at North Branch; Utica at Romeo; Kennedy at Cranbrook; Willow Run at South Lyon; Lourdes at Shrine; Lake Shore at Country Day; St. Clement at St. James.

WEDNESDAY

Milford at Clarenceville.

Mays Taking Temporary Rest From Baseball

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (AP) — Willie Mays, who plays the game to the hilt, is "tired of baseball—temporarily.

The New York Giants' star outfielder, bounced off an airliner here Monday night to begin a brief rest before returning to Puerto Rico for more winter baseball.

"I'm tired of baseball," he said. He has been playing almost steadily since his Army discharge last winter.

Hialeah Hopes High After Successful Opening Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Opening day records written into the books, Hialeah Park settled down today for 39 more days of thoroughbred racing with every indication that attendance and betting will exceed all expectations.

Officials predicted the track would equal last year's record figures but after the opening day crowd of 24,451 Monday—exceeded only by that of the 1946 inauguaral — poured $1,665,410 through the betting windows, all estimates took a jump.

Attendance was up 2.7 per cent over last year and betting was up 11.8.

It was the largest opening day handle in Hialeah's 28-year history and the finest collection of thoroughbreds Florida ever entertained assures top-notch racing all the way.

Maurice Sims' Blessbull got the meeting off to a sensational start when he skipped the six furlongs in 1:09 2-5 for a new track record in winning the $21,700 Hialeah Inaugural.

Woman Angler Assumes Lead in Fish Derby

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A New York woman who snared one of the biggest sailfish ever caught in the annual Silver Sailfish Derby today took the lead for the Rea Trophy.

Mrs. Gloria Carlson of Point Pleasant, N. Y., boated a sailfish measuring 8 feet, 4½ inches and weighing 63 pounds. She caught the prize fish on the third day of the four-week derby.

The trophy is awarded to the angler who catches the longest sailfish during the competition.

Only 2 Dodgers Left Unsigned for 1955

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers might not have won the National League pennant last year, but it looked today like they'll be first in the contract derby.

With the signing of second-baseman Junior Gilliam, the Brooks now have 21 contracts in the safe and only two regulars to go. They are first baseman Gil Hodges and outfielder Carl Furillo. Neither is expected to cause any trouble.

Gilliam, whose name has been bandied about in trade talk all winter, will get about $13,000, an increase of $2,000 over his figure of last season.

Moylan Wins His 3rd Straight Net Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., won his third straight tournament by defeating Al Harum, University of Miami (Fla.) team captain, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5, in the Florida West Coast Tennis championships Sunday.

Howe Advances on Point List

But Gordie Still Is Trailing Trio of Hot Montreal Scorers

MONTREAL (UP)—Montreal Canadiens' stronghold on the National Hockey League scoring derby loosened a bit today, but a trio of flying Frenchmen still set the pace.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion was 1st with 27 goals and 23 assists for 50 points. Jean Beliveau was three points behind with 24 goals and 23 assists while the old pro, Maurice Richard, doggedly tracked the youngsters with 23 goals and 18 assists for 41 points.

But there the picture changed, for Detroit's Gordie Howe jumped into a 4th place tie with Montreal's Bert Olmstead. Last week, for the 1st time in league history, five Canadiens led the scoring race but Howe vaulted over Ken Mosdell and into a deadlock with Olmstead with 39 points.

Toronto goalie Harry Lumley lowered his goals-gainst mark last week to 1.68. Detroit's Terry Sawchuk is the only other goalie under 2.00, with an average of 1.98.

Meadowlarks, formerly hunted as game birds, are not larks at all. They actually belong to the blackbird family.

Hoosier Rally Keeps Jinx on Spartans Alive

Schlundt Tallies 36 as MSC Blows Lead, Loses 88-79

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Indiana kept its Big Ten basketball superiority over Michigan State intact last night, coming from behind a 19-point deficit to whip the Spartans, 88-79.

The Hoosiers haven't lost a Big Ten basketball game to MSC in four years of competition. Spartans have defeated the Hoosiers only once in 13 games and that was before MSC entered conference basketball.

Spartans ran up a 51-35 halftime lead and expanded that margin to 19 points before the Hoosiers began to click.

Indiana All - America center Don Schlundt, helped by Wally Choice, Charley Hodson and Burke Scott, hit with deadly accuracy in the 2nd half to catch up with the Spartans, 68-68, with 7½ minutes remaining.

Schlundt dumped in 16 of 17 free throws and added 10 field goals to take top scoring with 36 points.

Al Ferrari collected 25 points for MSC, 13 of them on free throws and Julius McCoy added 19 points.

Victory was Indiana's 2nd in league play against three losses and left Michigan State with the same record.

No Tie Games

The Barons set up a new American Hockey League record in the 1954 season by playing without a single tie game.

Sheree 'Digs' Marilyn's Role

But for 20th Century, It's Just 1 Set of Curves Replacing Another

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Shapely Sheree North, who has just been named to replace Marilyn Monroe in a movie, was as excited as a kid today over her new assignment.

"This I dig!" she said in typical bebop fashion. "Let's get the show on the road."

It looks like Sheree might do just that, but originally it was Miss Monroe who was to show "how to be very, very popular" on the road.

But the picture changed and so did the cast when Hollywood's No. 1 blonde was suspended last Saturday after failing to show up for a scheduled conference with 20th Century-Fox executives.

Studio moguls waited six hours, thinking MM might be a trifle late, then deliberated a few minutes and announced that Miss North would replace Marilyn in the Nunnally Johnson film.

"We think Sheree will fill it out in the right places," one mogul commented, "and it's just one set of curves replacing another."

As for Sheree—the forgotten woman—she thinks it's about time she fills out something other than Marilyn Monroe's shadow and a size 10 dress.

She's been trotting in Marilyn's wake ever since she was signed by Fox nearly a year ago to replace the atom-blonde in "Pink Tights."

"Nothing happened," she grimaced. "I haven't done anything but a couple of TV shows and made a few personal appearances."

The dancer started rehearsing "Pink Tights" two weeks ago, but the film will be temporarily shelved for her new starrer, "How to Be Very, Very Popular." It is scheduled to get under way Feb. 14.

At this point, Sheree doesn't know whether she's pink or popular or both.

"I'm beginning to feel like Marilyn Monroe's alter ego," she admitted, "but as long as it's the one that gets paid, I suppose it's OK."

Sheree, a natural brunette, will have to go blonde for her "popular" role. She has been wearing a blonde wig.

"Everybody seems to think I ought to be light," she said, "but I think one blonde on the lot is enough."

Girl on Benny Show Just Opened Her Mouth

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Didst thee happen to see those Jack Benny TV shows when there was a girl on who looked like and had the same Mmmm as Marilyn Monroe?

Knowing you'd have a scholarly interest, I looked her up for you.

Now that the real Marilyn's battling with her studio, the near-Marilyns will all be warming up in their boudoirs—and Jack's already made this one a Big Name. .. ..

The Big Name was: "The girl who was on with Jack Benny."

"My own friends," said the young lady—Miss Leigh Snowden, 22, a bouncy blonde from Covington, Tenn.—"have said to me, 'Did you see the girl on the Benny show who looked like Marilyn? You look a little like her'."

LEIGH SNOWDEN

Miss Snowden just got a contract with Universal—due to a scout seeing her with Benny—and I happen to have her life story.

"Did Jack say anything when he selected you?" I asked her when we met at CBS in Hollywood.

"No," she shrugged. "He just patted me."

"He PATTED you!" I exclaimed, all aboil.

"On the shoulder." She opened her mouth like Marilyn does, and gave me an adenoidal glance.

"Well, one man said, 'For the Marilyn Monroe bit, we've got the greatest tomato in the world'."

Leigh's really a good, sincere girl. After two years at Lambuth College in Jackson, Tenn., she won a trip to San Francisco, modeled there for the House of Charm agency, got to Hollywood—and then one fateful day she happened to have her mouth open gaping at the new insurance building.

"I've got a short upper lip and a tendency to keep my mouth open," she told me.

An agent happened to see her with her mouth open and promptly discovered her. Next scene: Fame.

★ ★ ★ ★

The reason I said she's honest is that she voluntarily told me, "There's one thing Marilyn's got that I haven't."

She turned around and showed me what it was.

Leigh had one sad experience. Sidney Skolsky, the greatest living authority on Marilyn, heard of her supposed resemblance to Miss Monroe.

"Walk up and down for me," he commanded. She walked up and down.

"You don't look like her in the back," he decreed. "Furthermore," he added, "you don't look like her in the front!"

But she made it by NOT keeping her mouth shut!

6 GIs Sentenced to Seven Years for Disobedience

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP) — Six Army privates today were under sentence of seven years at hard labor for mutiny—refusing to obey the order of an officer to fall out for work at the Ft. Bragg stockade last Dec. 29.

A court-martial convicted them yesterday ater deliberating one hour. The sentence is subject to review by higher authority.

In addition, the soldiers—ranging from 18 to 21 years—were ordered to forfeit all pay and allowances and to be dishonorably discharged.

The Army said the soldiers were in the stockade either for insubordination or being absent without leave.

Prosecution and defense agreed the men created no disturbance going peaceably to the orderly room after refusing to go to the work detail.

The six were:

Henry J. Murphy Jr., Philadelphia; Michael de Angelo, Hoboken, N. J.; Richard J. Tkach, Wallington, N. J.; William C. Lapata Jr., Upper Darby, Pa.; Norman J. Morrison, Philadelphia, and Richard Cummings, East Hampton, Conn.

Jack Escapes Injury in Fall Off Beanstalk

MARGATE, England (AP) — Jack fell off the beanstalk last night, dropped 20 feet and escaped with cuts and bruises.

It occurred at the Hippodrome Theater, where Miss Noelle Austin is playing the lead in a musical play based on the old fairy story. She plunged through an open trap door on the stage, landing on stagehand Ted Holton, who went to the hospital with several broken ribs.

The airlift planes will fly regularly from New Zealand to a mile-long airstrip the group will set up in Little America. Demands of the expedition are expected to need a constant flow of air traffic.

Jane Russell to Get Million for 6 Pictures

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Let us consider Jane Russell and her fabulous deal with Howard Hughes.

The contract is certainly the longest and one of the juiciest in Hollywood history. It gives her a million dollars, to be paid over 20 years, for making six pictures in five years—three for Hughes and three for 20th Century-Fox.

I saw Jane on her return from making "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes" in Europe, and she didn't seem overly impressed with the deal. But then she is seldom impressed with anything concerning Jane Russell the movie star.

The thing that worried her was the three films she would have to make for Hughes. She has gotten into hot water over pictures like "The Outlaw" and "French Line."

Whose idea was the contract?

"Howard's," she replied. "He wanted to make the deal attractive enough so I would sign. And he succeeded."

I contemplated the success of Jane Russell as I observed her at the "Underwater!" premiere in Silver Springs, Fla., last week. She was the focus of all eyes, despite the other names that were present.

Her success is a puzzle, when you consider that she has made only two pictures that can be considered as really good. They were "Paleface" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." The others have been middling to lousy.

Quality of pictures isn't the only answer. Her game is partly a tribute to the Hughes publicity mill and the type of sexploitation films he has made.

Part of the credit must go to Jane herself. Not only because of her fabulous figure but the kind of girl she is—deeply religious despite the notoriety, down to earth and regular. Veteran reporters were amazed to see her don an aqualung and attend the underwater premiere on a chilly night. Not many stars of her stature would have done that.

Actor Tufts Pays $600 for Thigh Bite

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The court has approved a $600 settlement by actor Sonny Tufts for the bite he allegedly took on the right thigh of a 19-year-old dancer and swimmer, Margarie Von.

She sued Tufts for $26,000 damages, claiming the 44-year-old actor sank his teeth into her while she was reclining below deck aboard a yacht anchored off Balboa, Feb. 20, 1954. She claimed he inflicted a three-inch scar.

Crosby Hospitalized With Kidney Ailment

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Bing Crosby, who has been suffering from a kidney ailment, is in St. John's Hospital, where last night his general condition was reported "very good."

Last weekend while his annual golf tournament was in progress at Pebble Beach in northern California, the actor-crooner had to miss most of the affair, being confined at his home there because of the recurrent trouble.

'More Adult,' That's All

Franker Film Fare Fails to Disturb Movie Censor

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Movies appear to be getting sexier than ever, but the film industry's new censor denies he's relaxing his job—he thinks producers are getting "more adult.'

A scene in which Harry Belafonte dries Dorothy Dandridge's toenail polish sizzled the movie screens in "Carmen Jones." Recent preview audiences have buzzed about the sensual situations in a picture about Marines and their girl friends, "Battle Cry."

But the new censor at the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Geoffrey Shurlock, declared, "Producers are learning to handle more adult themes." He insists the code has not been changed since he succeeded Joseph Breen as censor.

"Basically motion pictures consist of emotional or psychological conflicts," he explained. "When you inject the problem of sin into a story you get a moral conflict—which is a third thread for a story."

The moral conflicts in "Battle Cry" involve illegitimacy, adultery and illicit love.

In one scene, sultry Dorothy Malone, playing a wife whose Navy officer husband is away at sea, tries to seduce a young Marine, Tab Hunter. Censor Shurlock says the script makes it clear the friendship is platonic, but some preview-goers got the opposite impression.

Another couple in the picture, Aldo Ray and Nancy Olson, live together without benefit of clergy. After she learns she is expecting a child, they marry. How did that get by the motion picture code?

Shurlock explains if sin is shown in a movie "there must be compensating moral values," or, in other words, the sinner has to "repent and reform."

Miss Dandridge properly expires in "Carmen Jones." But in "Battle Cry," Ray and Miss Olson live happily ever after and Hunter goes back to his childhood sweetheart, Mona Freeman. (In the book, "Battle Cry", the Ray character dies. Since he was a high-paid hero in the picture, however, he lives on celluloid.)

"There is one line in which Nancy Olson indicates she suffers for her sin," explained the censor. "Also, their relationship nearly causes a tragedy when Ray wants to desert. We do not think any soldier would follow his example."

Shurlock won't say, but some film experts think a worried Hollywood is trying to capture the adult audience that goes to frank foreign films.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A bachelor the last nine years, Gilbert Roland, 46, once the screen's No. 1 lover, has married a 29-year-old Mexico City woman, Guilermina Cantu. The wedding took place in Yuma, Ariz., last Dec. 12.

It was the second marriage for Roland. He was married to Constance Bennett, who bore him two children, Linda and Gyl. This marriage ended in divorce in 1945. Miss Cantu has not been married before.

Brooklyn Can't See Why Russians Aren't Allowed

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — There is no end of confusion in New York today regarding our stalwart suburb to the sout', known as Brooklyn.

The State Department has declared it among the places "off-limits" to Russians and the lovical question of the day is: "wha'?"

Now, over some poker tables, this ruling is considered to be a friendly move to promote peaceful Soviet - American relations. "Being warned off Brooklyn," this element declares, "is prolly the best thing ever happened to them jerks."

Another segment of New York society, on the other hand, believes the State Department has hereby drastically and finally severed relations with the Kremlin. Their attitude is that a man deprived of Coney Island and the Ebbets Field home of the Brooklyn Dodgers (a baseball team?) is a man who must inevitably turn et Russian roulette.

To get to the heart of things, we canvassed the employes of our own vast office building—this being a typical office, and it being cold outside.

Everyone agreed that the State Department had something up its sleeve when it imposed its travel ban on Brooklyn. But they disagreed violently on just what it was. . .

"It's sort of a shame if you ask me," said Jim Kilgallen, star INS reporter, a man who deposited his heart in Brooklyn when he moved to Manhattan some years ago. "Over in Brooklyn we had the reputation for taking on all-comers. Now it looks like we're being sissy."

But the greatest potential pity of it all, he shuddered, is the possibility that among the 415 Russians currently barred from Brooklyn there might be an effective left-fielder. (It should be noted here that Kilgallen has not only deposited his heart in Brooklyn, but also considerable cold cash in its ball club). "The Brooklyn Bums," he said, "have never before let prejudice come between them and the pennant. I hope they will not be forced to start now."

Bill Beeler is a young man from the Bronx. "There must be somthing going on over in Brooklyn that the government doesn't want the Russians to see, but I sure don't get it.

"My impression is that once you've seen Ebbets Field, Sis, you've seen everything."

Joe Johns is a Long Island man. "I have been to Brooklyn three times," he said, "each time from falling asleep on the subway. I have never been truly happy there. I believe we are giving unnecessary aid and comfort to the Russians."

Lillian Finely is a Manhattanite, and a cynic. "You ask me, Ill tell you," she said. "They had it coming."

"Who?"

"All of 'em."

The Brooklyn borough president, you would think, would have the straight dope. But John Cashmore admits that he wasnt consulted by the State Department before it imposed the ban on his fair community. Nor has he been approached since.

He personally believes, however, that the "Forbidden" sign may have been put up to safeguard certain World War II military installations, some important bridges and-or the Brooklun Navy Yard where a new carrier—the U.S.S. Saratoga—is now being built at a cost of 200 million dollars.

And Sid Ascher, president of the 900,000-member "Society for the prevention of Disparaging Remarks About Brooklyn," had this to say:

"Russians, Schmussians—we can take em or leave em."

There was absolutely no comment from the Soviet.

Wheat, Beans Move Upward

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and soybeans moved up under fairly aggressive demand on the Board of Trade today and their strength imparted a steady undertone to feed grains.

Some large professional traders, who sold wheat and soybeans yesterday, were buying these grains today.

What caused the change in opinion, if it was that, was not known. But overnight Chinese Red forces launched an all-out attack on an island near Formosa.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to 1 cent higher, March $2.28⅞, corn was ⅛ to ⅜ higher, March $1.54⅞, oats were ¼ to ⅜ higher, March 76, rye was ¼ lower to ½ higher, March $1.22, soybeans were ¾ to 4 cents higher, January $2.80½, and lard was 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $12.77.

UAW May Add Two Executives

Union Reportedly Plans to Double the Number of Vice Presidents

DETROIT (UP) — The CIO United Auto Workers Union reportedly is planning to add two new international vice presidencies.

One source said the union's international executive board adopted a proposal last week endorsing the change. The UAW officially declined comment on the report. The UAW constitution would have to be amended at the union's March convention in Cleveland.

The union now has two vice-presidents — John W. Livingston and Richard T. Gosser. Together with Presidents Walter P. Reuther and Secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey, they make up the UAW's top command.

Norman Matthews, the union's Chrysler director and executive board member, and Leonard Woodcock, director of the union's Northern Michigan Region, reportedly have top UAW backing for the proposed new posts.

A need for help to share the four top officers' work load was said to be the reason behind the move.

The vice presidents get $12,500 annually. As regional directors, Matthews and Woodcock now receive $10,000. Reuther unpaid president of the CIO, gets $18,000 from the UAW and Mazey is paid $14,000.

Market Rallies After Deep Cuts

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied smartly today after its severe break of yesterday.

Prices were lower at the opening, and then improvement began in the steels. Within a short time, prices were perking up all over the list.

In addition to the better showing in the steels, there was developing firmness in the railroads, aircrafts and chemicals.

Yesterday's market broke heavily with some deep price cuts running to around 5 points in key divisions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $3.10, greatest since the break of $3.40 on Jan. 5 after the Federal Reserve tightened credit for speculation on margin. The average fell yesterday to $149.20, well below the bottom of the Jan. 5-6 decline.

Higher were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Dow Chemical, New York Central, Union Pacific and Sunray Oil.

Lower were Armco Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Radio Corp., International Nickel, Westinghouse Electric and Baltimore & Ohio.

'Coondog' Name Just Too Much for 'Horsethief'

TOLEDO (UP) — Being called "Coondog" is a little provoking, Municipal Judge J. Parker Edwards conceded yesterday in finding Julius Lewallen, 41, guilty of threatening bodily harm and carrying a concealed weapon.

Lewallen was arrested after a fellow brakeman on the Nickel Plate Railroad, John D. May, of Brewster, Ohio, complained that Lewallen pulled a gun on him. Lewallen said May had called him "Coondog" several times.

Judge Edwards fined Lewallen $50 and costs, suspended a stentence totaling 45 days and placed him on probation for six months.

Probation Officer E. W. Hinkelman said Lewallen told him he was very provoked at being called "Coondog," and had repeatedly told May to call him "'Horsethief,' like the rest of the fellows do."

U.S. Lines Can Spend $20 Billion in 10 Years if Freight Increases

DETROIT (AP)—Arthur K. Atkinson, president of the Wabash Railroad, says the nation's railroads can spend 20 billion dollars in the next 10 years for improvements and replacements alone if freight volume is substantially increased.

Atkinson told the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Detroit last night that the 10 billion dollars U.S. railroads have spent on improvements since World War II is "only a good start."

Atkinson spoke at a dinner at which 19 Detroit railroad officials received graduation certificates from Wayne University in public relations courses.

He also said the government should "drastically change" its railroad transportation regulations.

He said "one of the most impelling reasons for drastic changes in regulatory policy is the obvious fact that the railroads have not been capable of meeting defense goals set for them in national planning."

Atkinson said:

"The 1954 decline in traffic caused the railroads to cut back on spending to the extent that fewer freight cars were installed than in any year since 1939. Freight car retirements exceeded acquisitions by nearly 40,000 cars."

Atkinson urged the elimination of federal excise taxes on freight and passenger transportation as restrictions which hamper railroads, trucks, buses and airlines.

Growing Family Leaves Trailer for 30-Seat Bus

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — The eight-member James family outgrew its old trailer but got tired of staying put. So they bought a bus and converted it for trips.

Robert F. James, a hardware store operator, bought the 33-passenger bus from a company that went out of business. He spent more than 100 hours installing bunk beds, a galley, a sink, chemical lavatory, shelves and closets.

In the rear storage compartment, James keeps the baggage, tools and four bicycles to be used for side trips.

James claims travel in the bus is much better than in a trailer, even though he averages only seven miles on a gallon of gas.

"The bus makes it a lot easier to go camping," he says, "and I'm an old camper."

So are his wife, mother-in-law, five daughters, and Mac, the dog.

Affirms Importance of Newspaper Ads

CHICAGO (AP) — The president of the Newspaper Advertising Executives Assn. said Monday that "newspapers were never more vital, never more necessary nor newspaper advertising more important to the economy of the nation."

In a prepared address, Donald M. Bernard, vice president and advertising director of the Washington (D.C.) Post & Times-Herald, made the statement at the opening of the association's annual convention.

More than 700 United States and Canadian newspaper advertising executives are attending the convention which closes Wednesday.

Bernard predicted a good year in 1955 for newspapers and announced a new tie-up with the advertising council. He said the NAEA will present the council with "an amazing and dramatic package of newspaper cooperation that will place our media where it belongs—way out in front.

Life in Old New England Must Have Been Tough

BETHLEHEM, N. H. (UP)—Life in this town is a lot better than it was 153 years ago.

Blue laws in 1801 stated that:

A man who strikes his wife shall be fined $10.

A woman who strikes her husband shall be punished as the law directs.

No woman shall alter her face or figure in any manner whatsoever which might bear false witness to a man.

Grand Trunk Names New General Attorney

DETROIT (INS) — Forbes B. Henderson today was appointed general attorney of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, succeeding Frederick V. Slocum, who retired after 32 years' service.

The announcement was made by H. V. Spike, general counsel, who also disclosed that James P. Tryand, formerly attorney in the law department, will join Robert L. Livesay as assistant general attorney of the railroad.

Just Didn't Know How Well Fixed He Already Was

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Police arrested Ed J. White, 22, just an hour after the Farmers State Bank at Republic, Mo., was robbed of $2,538 yesterday.

They found the full $2,538 in the car White was driving—but that wasn't all.

Officers said the car had been stolen the previous night from W. A. Sherman, assistant manager of a skating rink, shortly after the man had hidden $700 in it.

White, who didn't know about the $700, admitted holding up the bank and was charged with armed robbery. Told about the $700, he exclaimed:

"No kiddin'. And I had to go rob a bank."

Annual Wage Topic Discussed by Hoffa

DETROIT (AP)—AFL Teamsters union leader James R. Hoffa says he wants to "study the proposal closely" before endorsing a guaranteed annual wage.

The guaranteed wage has been announced as the major objective of the CIO United Auto Workers in contract negotiations with the auto industry next spring.

Hoffa, speaking before Motor City Traffic Club members last night, said about 75 per cent of the Teamsters already have a "guaranteeed wage."

"I'm referring," he said, "to the milk, bread, newspaper, meat and produce truck drivers who have to make trips throughout the year and are not laid off for long periods of time."

The other 25 per cent, he said, haul automobiles and other freight subject to seasonal demands.

"We know that employers must make a dollar in order to pay the wages of our truck drivers," he said. "When the trucks are standing still it follows that employers are not making the money to pay wages."

Sailor's Appendix Costs U.S. Navy Some $95,000

GAINESVILLE, Fla (UP) — A young sailor who used to own a $95,000 appendix plans to enter the University of Florida here this fall.

Joe Jarris, Jr., 23, of St. Petersburg, Fla., was a machinist's mate aboard the destroyer escort USS Hanna during the Korean War. Last Thanksgiving, while the Hanna was en route to Guam, Joe was striken with a severe appendicitis attack.

Planes tried to take the young sailor off the Hanna, but bad weather prevented this. The troop transport USS Breckinridge, steaming toward Formosa, turned around in mid-ocean and raced 430 miles to the Hanna's side.

Once aboard the Breckinridge, Harris' appendix was removed. Total cost to the navy—$95,000.

Vitamins on the Loose Make It Din Pan Alley

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Vitamins are the noisiest pills in Din Pan Alley here—and not just because they're so full of energy.

Din Pan Alley is the name employes of the Arner Co. have for their coating room, where millions of medicinal pills and tablets are processed in huge revolving pans. The noise made by rolling pills in the whirling metal containers sounds like the roar of Niagara Falls.

As many as 75,000 tablets may be in simultaneous motion in a single pan. Loudest are the vitamins because their long, oval shapes make them roll more than other types.

Lack Response From Audience

Working as an Emcee, Jan Fears Extinction of Great Funnymen

NEW YORK (AP) — Jan Murray expresses fear "the great comedians will be extinct 10 years from now" unless television gives them a better break on the studios in which they work.

Murray, a comic for most of his career but now master of ceremonies on ABC's Dollar a Second, says the comedian needs to be close to his studio audience to give his best performance.

But he contends that 90 per cent of TV studios are arranged so the audience gets a poor view of the comedian, and he receives little response by which to gauge his performance. No comedian, he declares, can be at his best without audience reaction.

One of the difficulties, Murray contends, is that enormous stages are constructed to give room for platoons of dancers, and when the comedian makes his appearance he's in a big open space and often far away from the studio audience.

Jan, meanwhile, considers himself fortunate to have a TV role in which he doesn't carry the whole load of the show and in which his humor is only incidental. He injects comedy into the quiz game but much of the appeal comes from the suspense as to whether the contestant will quit before he loses, and the humorous reaction of the contestant.

Contestants receive a dollar a second for every second they choose to remain on the air and suffer a stunt penalty for the wrong type answer. If a contestant picks the wrong one of five choices on the penalty he's eliminated but keeps all money won to that point. If he isn't eliminated he can elect to stay on for additional winnings but if some pre-selected outside event (like a knockout in a prize fight that may be in progress) happens first, he loses everything.

Godfrey Attempt to Reunite Pair Seems to Fizzle

NEW YORK (INS) — Arthur Godfrey was reported Monday to have tried unsuccessfully to play Cupid by reuniting singer Dorothy McGuire with her estranged soldier-husband.

Columnist Jack O'Brian, writing in the New York Journal-American, said Dorothy, a member of the McGuire sisters' trio, was unmoved by Godfrey's attempt to patch up her marriage, because she still loves singer Julius La Rosa.

La Rosa was fired publicly by Godfrey from his radio-TV "gang" in October of 1953, soon after his romance with Miss McGuire was disclosed.

According to O'Brian, Godfrey tried to bring Miss McGuire and her husband, Sgt. John H. Brown, together again during a weekend trip to Miami Beach in Godfrey's private plane.

Writing about the Miami weekend, O'Brian said:

"Friends of Dorothy and Julius among the Godfrey gang—strictly a secret underground circle—credited the invitation of Sgt. Brown by Godfrey to the CBS star's growing resentment toward the singer he publicly and officially fired—right on the air before more than 7,000,000 radio-TV fans."

The radio-TV columnist quoted Miss McGuire as denying that "anything like a reunion or a second honeymoon" was involved.

Cherry Tree Story Gets New Twist

HUGO, Okla (AP)—R. J. Brown, a license examiner for the Department of Public Safety, was driving home after giving his usual drivers' license tests. Suddenly, a motorist tore past him on the road, obviously going too fast. Thinking Brown was a highway patrol officer the motorist stopped and pulled alongside Brown's car.

"I don't often do it, but I was going too fast," the motorist confessed. "Here I am. Do whatever you want with me."

Brown, whose assigned duties do not include making arrests, said, "I didn't do anything."

Reveals Bitter Truth

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Judge Nicholas F. Rago may be "boss" in police court but not at home. When Joseph Gallo, 24, was brought before him on a breach of the peace charge resulting from a family squabble, Rago told him: "My wife bosses me around and I like it. You'll find that you will be happier having someone boss you." Rago nolled the charged.

Durante at Home

Video Brass Cool Heels as Jimmy Hosts Milkman

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A visit to Jimmy Durante's modest home in Beverly Hills is an experience not unlike trying to drive to the Rose Bowl 10 minutes before game time. The crush is terrific.

I've been to Durante's many times, and never have seen less than 10 people at any given time. Take the other day, just as an example.

A couple of NBC executives had called to talk over a business deal. I had dropped in for what might laughingly be called an interview. An electrician was working in the front room, oblivious to Eddie Jackson, Jules Buffano and a half dozen other members of the Durante entourage.

The network brass cornered Jimmy but not for long. He was at the piano with an apologetic nod to the executives: "I just tot of somethin'."

He played a few bars and yelled at Jackson: "Try singin' it dis way, Eddie." Jackson was into his famous strut and singing like he was the closing act at the Palace. Durante, cigar in his mouth, sang along without gestures. He stopped the music, said a word or two to me and rejoined the executives. But only for a minute. The doorbell rang and Jimmy answered it, in person.

It was a new milkman who didn't know he had Durante for a customer. Durante grabbed him by the arm and took him on a tour of the house. Again he apologized to the executives: "I wanted to show him de jernt so he wouldn't leave no sour milk."

The brass obviously was not used to such informal business conferences. It lasted a few minutes more and Jimmy yelled to the cook: "Hey, where's my breakfast?"

"It's been ready since noon," she yelled back twice as loud. It was now 4 p.m. He sat down and beckoned me and the executives to join him:

"When Durante eats, everybody eats." The executives had coffee and left. Jimmy disclosed they wanted him to stick more to a story line in his TV format.

"I told them okay. Dose writers got brains so I give 'em credit but don't forget Durante knows sometin' about laffs too. I'll stick to de story but I'm warnin', don't make it quiet. When people see Durante, they wanna hear lots of noise."

With that he sat down at the of the best barrelhouse piano I piano again and improvised some ever heard.

"How d'ya like dat? I don't even know what I'm playin'." Then he said, "here's a song I wrote." As he went into 'I Can Do Widdout Broadway But Can Broadway Do Widdout Me?" Eddie Jackson picked up a stray golf club instead of his cane, cocked a fedora instead of a top hat. It was showtime again and the two walked off in the famous Durante walkaway.

Two more people came in the front door. Jimmy greeted them in friendly fashion although it was obvious he couldn't remember their names. He yelled for the cook to fix some corn flakes.

"I got a millyun boxes of da stuff. I had a cornflakes sponsor last year. I ate da stuff for 30 years before it paid off."

Reluctantly I had to leave, Jimmy walked me to the door.

"Why don't you drop in sometime just for laffs?" he smiled. "Ya know, sometimes when you don't have to work at interviewin' me."

Three K. C. Councils Honor Protestant Girl

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — The three Grand Rapids councils of the Knights of Columbus will sponsor a unique birthday celebration for a Beaver Island girl who will be eight years old Jan. 28..

Susan Johnston, the only Protestant pupil in St. Johns public school on the island, 30 miles off Charlevoix in Lake Michigan, will be "Queen for Day" at the Shrine Circus in Grand Rapids.

Susan's teachers, who are all Catholic nuns, helped the three councils select the little girl for the honor.

A spokesman for the councils said Susan was chosen because the island afforded little chance for a young girl to see a circus.

Susan will be crowned and will reign with a court of older girls surrounding her.

Dancing Horses to Return Home

Vienna Will Welcome Classical Riding School After Long Exile

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Austria's famous dancing horses—those of the Spanish riding school of the Hapsburg emperors—will return to Vienna soon after long exile in the West.

Russian authorities in Austria have guaranteed they will not seize the stately white Lipizzaner stallions if they come back to their magnificent stables in the ancient imperial palace in Vienna.

The announcement of the return of the horses from Wels, in the American zone of Austria, was made by the Austrian Cabinet.

A government spokesman said the Russians had promised not to claim them as "German assets."

The riding school, the only one in the world which maintains the centuries-old classic tradition of horsemanship, was saved for Austria from the Russian army in 1945 by U.S. Gen. George S. Patton.

A keen horseman himself, Patton sent tanks to the forest in Czechoslovakia to which the horses had been removed to avoid the war and brought them to Wels.

Since 1945, the "dance of the white stallions" has delighted equestrians of many nations. The riding school has toured the United States, Canada and many countries of Europe.

The Austrian Cabinet said the great stables and sumptuous riding hall in the Hofburg, the winter palace of the Hapsburgs in central Vienna, would be put in order for the Lipizzaners' return.

The performances given by the Lipizzaners, generally ridden without stirrups, were one of the most interesting sights in Vienna before the war. The methods of training and riding date back to 1572 when Emperor Maxmilian founded the school.

The city of Venice, Italy, is built on about 120 small mud islands.

Detroit Opens Interchange Between Two Expressways

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit opens today the first three links in what its engineers describe as the only traffic interchange of its kind in the world.

It is no up-and-around cloverleaf. It is a 12-bridge network that covers the equivalent of 11 city blocks.

Direction, say from north to west, can be changed merely by moving into the left-hand (or third) lane and veering in a gentle curve. There are no stop signs or lights. The speed limit is 55 miles an hour.

The interchange, which will cost $15,300,000 when completed later this year, is at the junction of the north-south John C. Lodge Expressway and the east-west Edsel Ford Expressway. It was started in 1951.

The Lodge, to cost 75 million dollars, is due to be completed in 1956; the 120-million-dolar Ford in 1957. Lodge, from a downtown loop running by Detroit's rising multi-million-dollar civic center, will join James Couzens Highway to the northwest below the widely publicized Northland shoping center. Ford will run from the western city limits across Detroit, then veer northeast through Harper Woods and Grosse Pointe.

Both expressways have six lanes 12 feet wide, with center islands averaging about 14 feet in width.

"This type of interchange is the exact opposite of the cloverleaf so widely used in the East," said Alfred Berarducci, city expressway engineer.

"Knowing that the cloverleaf design cannot handle the heavy volumes of traffic our expressways will handle we had to invent a new type.

"This directional type of interchange is simplicity itself. The motorists do not have to learn anything new or fret over a complicated set of directions.

"As a driver approaches the interchange he merely stays to the left to turn left or to the right to turn right. There will be no stops to interfere with through traffic anywhere."

Wherever traffic merges there are four one-way lanes for more than 100 yards, the incoming one gradually blending into the others.

Man, 70, Dies Trying to Save Wife in Fire

BEAVER DAM, Wis. (AP) — An elderly man who returned to his flaming home last night to rescue his ailing wife died at her side as flames swept the dwelling.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ebert, both in their 70s. They had been married for more than 50 years.

Police said Ebert telephoned the fire department from a neighbor's home and then returned to his to rescue his wife, who had been recovering from a stroke. When firemen entered the house they found Mrs. Ebert's body in a chair. Her husband's body was found nearby. Officials said both died of suffocation.

Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Russian Views Manhattan as Rather Pleasant Place

MOSCOW (INS) — New York City through the eyes of a Moscow University professor looks slightly different than it does to the blase residents of that metropolis.

But readers of "Evening Moscow," the Soviet capital's afternoon paper, discovered recently that the big city is not all as black as it's usually tarred in the Soviet press.

Prof. Boris A. Rybakov, back from a Manhattan visit, reports in an interview that he found many pleasant surprises.

Rybakov, a historian, and botanist Andrei L. Kursanov represented Soviet scholars at the 200th anniversary jubilee of Columbia University in November.

Nearly two months after their return Rybakov's impressions appeared in the paper. Among them:

On the New York skyline: "To paraphrase an old Russian proverb, 'You can't see the city for the buildings'."

On New York skyscrapers in general: "It's impossible to keep from admiring these buildings, the tallest in the world. But, at the same time, you can't help being surprised at the lack of architectural taste." (He thinks they are too plain.)

Broadway: "Considerably less 'broad' than (Moscow's) Sadovaya or Meshchanskaya streets."

Times Square: "A gigantic fair where each advertisement tries to outshout every other one."

Noise: "Contrary to our expectations, New York didn't impress us as a noisy city. The reason is that the numerous vehicles do not sound their horns often."

Museum of Natural History: "Wonderful, excellent displays."

Museum of Modern Art: "We can't call these pictures anything but a mockery of art."

St. John's Cathedral: "As huge and uncozy as a railroad station."

Wall Street: "Streets resemble narrow gorges and the gloomiest of these is Wall Street."

Except for the speeches ("rather solemn and humdrum"), the professor seems to have enjoyed himself at the opening banquet of the Columbia festivities.

The Soviet visitors were surprised to learn that class attendance isn't compulsory for Columbia students. They were disappointed not to find any history books written by Soviet scholars in the library, and shocked to learn "American students study Soviet history from textbooks written by White (Russian) emigres."

The professor's report could hardly be called an unqualified endorsement of "the American way of life."

Lieutenant Governor Hart to Devote Full Time to Job

LANSING (UP)—The Democrats who took over the reins of state government Jan. 1 are planning to change some of the Republican methods of handling the state's legal, financial and public business.

Major changes apparently will be closer scrutiny by the auditor general's office of the way individual state departments handle their accounts, and ban on "informal, unrecorded" legal opinions out of the attorney general's office.

Some of the proposed changes now under consideration would be far-reaching. Others would be minor. Most would be gradual and made only after careful study. There will be no quick, wholesale shakeup of policy.

The new lieutenant governor, attorney general, state treasurer, state auditor and secretary of state —all of whom replaced Republican officials last November in the first Democratic election sweep in 18 years—have their own ideas about how the state's business should be run. But they will proceed slowly with their innovations.

They told the United Press they do not plan to make changes merely for the sake of changes.

Most of their duties and functions are regulated by law, and the changes will deal with ways to improve administration of these duties and functions, they said.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, 42, steps into the job which has been regarded rather lightly in the past. Hart will be the first lieutenant governor to devote full time to the post. He expects to spend a good share of his time carrying the gospel of the Democratic party and administration "wherever I am invited to speak."

The job, under Hart, probably will be a probing instrument and sounding board for the governor on what the people are thinking.

Hart said he plans to become an "extra hand" in the governor's office, taking some of the load off the busy chief executive.

While the final decisions on policy matters will rest in the hands of Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Hart said he expects to handle "preliminary and exploratory" work involving policy.

He will gather information, listen to ideas of private citizens and government officials and report back to the governor, he said.

Hart's biggest job now is filling the role of presiding officer of the State Senate. It's his first major parliamentary post, and he faces a Senate controlled by Republican veterans.

He will find himself involved in a lot of parliamentary maneuvering, but he has pledged to "do my best" and anticipates a "pleasant session."

He indicates a desire to remain in politics and government but would rather not talk about his political future. He shrugs off reports that he is being groomed for the governor's chair when Williams steps down. "There is no such a thing as a 'crown prince' as far as I am concerned," he said. "The matter of who sits in the governor's office is something for the people to decide."

Landlocked Whistles

His prize is a large chime whistle recovered from a wrecked ship in Lake Superior. Daniels has an air compressor that can operate his entire collection of whistles by simply pushing a button. Children come to his home every day "to hear the whistles toot."

The first kindergartens were set up in Germany in 1837.

Say Rhee-Meeting With Aides at Home

SEOUL (AP) — Informed sources said President Syngman Rhee met with a string of government officials today, including Vice President Ham Tai Yung and Foreign Minister Y. T. Pyun, at his home.

The 79-year-old president is now resting at his mansion after what sources close to him said was glandular operation last week. Rhee's official spokesman denied report of the operation.

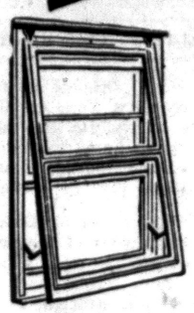

Rhee, however, did not attend a Cabinet meeting which began this morning at the main government building.

Lebanon Premier Mum on Mutual Aid Treaty

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanese Premier Sami Solh appears to be withholding a final answer on joining the Iraqi-Turkish mutual defense pact until after the Arab League prime ministers meet in Cairo Saturday.
