Expectant Mother Rushed to Hospital During Fire

COOLEY LAKE — While their lakefront home at 8509 Cooley Beach Dr. went up in flames this morning, an expectant mother was rushed to the hospital by her anxious husband who feared the baby might arrive before the fire department could extinguish the blaze.

Mrs. Bonnie Morgan was packed into the family car in her nightclothes by her husband, Ray, and taken to Harper Hospital. The baby had not yet arrived at noon today.

The Morgans discovered the fire when they awoke about 6 a.m. and found the back porch ablaze. They paused only long enough to turn in the alarm, after Mrs. Morgan showed signs of shock.

White Lake Township Fire Chief Mark Ilton said his department, assisted by Union Lake Fire Department, fought the flames about one hour, but the fire was too advanced when they arrived. Firemen were hardpressed to save the house next door, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gregory, which suffered about $500 damage to paint and windows on one exterior wall, he said.

The Morgan home, including all its contents, was a total loss, Ilton said. The blaze was believed to have started in the pump house on the rear porch.

Besides loss of all the baby clothes, the Morgans are still searching for their two cats—one of which was also to be a mother in about two weeks.

Pontiac Area GOC Units to Attend Meet

Representatives of the Pontiac, Waterford, Milford, Clarkston and Farmington units of the Ground Observer Corps will attend a GOC conference at the CAI Building, Waterford Township, at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

In addition, representatives of area civic and patriotic organizations have been invited to attend, to spur membership in the civil defense agency.

Col. Russell Herre, military coordinator for the GOC in Michigan will present service medals to 10 members of the Pontiac post.

Also present will be Lewis C. Jarrendt, Oakland County CD director; Waterford Township Director Louis Dorman, Jr., and S. Sgt. Nicholas Chizewsky, area GOC liaison man.

State CD Director C. F. Van Blandensyne and Gov. G. Mennen Williams have also been invited.

Two Detroit Girls Die in Accident

Two Detroit teenagers were killed and three others injured seriously Sunday when their car crashed into a tree on Milford Road, a mile south of New Hudson.

Dead are: Frances Perkins, 19, Detroit, the driver, and Barbara Chittenden, 17, of Detroit.

Miss Perkins died instantly in the crash, and Miss Chittenden died in Mellus Hospital, Brighton, last night. All five of the accident victims were taken there.

Seriously injured were Mrs. Harold Davis, 17, and her sister Lorraine Hill, 15, both of Detroit, and Gwen Williamson, 15, also of Detroit.

More Than 500 Persons Visit New City Library

More than 500 persons visited the city's first new library in 56 years yesterday, when open house was held at the Adah Shelly Branch Library.

Named after veteran City Librarian Adah Shelly, the $75,000-plus unit is located at Glenwood and Russell Sts., and will serve Pontiac's north side.

Pleasant Lake Ice Used for Plane Landing

Ice on Pleasant Lake held up for two fliers forced to set their plane down yesterday when its motor failed on a Sunday afternoon flight.

Rhea William Gauthier, 29, of 595 S. Lake Rd., Walled Lake, and Robert Morris, 33, of 5000 Inkster Rd., West Bloomfield Township, were flying from Wayne Major Airport.

They had come down to 700 feet preparing to enter the traffic pattern for a landing at the Pontiac City Airport.

Gauthier, who was piloting the plane, said the motor suddenly died, and he immediately selected the lake for an emergency landing site.

"The rest of the terrain was rocky and full of stumps, so we gambled on a dunking and headed for the lake," he said.

Uninjured, the pair pushed the rented plane to the edge of the lake, and it was towed back to the Barber Flying Service at the airport.

Service they hoped to be able to get some women on this jury. The 25-year-old heir to a $3,500,000 fortune explained:

"A woman can spot a bad woman faster than any man."

Jelke, who has married blonde Sylvia Eder since his last trial, promised that the names of the most prominent men patrons of the $50-to-$500-a-night call girls will be made public.

His attorney, George Washington Herz, added:

"Names of several people in show business, some in the United Nations, and in the business world, will be brought out—plus a batch of new names."

Jelke predicted the admitted prostitutes would be "an awful lot of help" to him "if they will only tell the truth this time."

Herz said he hoped to get a jury "able to differentiate between living in a Bohemian atmosphere and living an immoral life. You can associate with prostitutes, you know, without being one."

Reason and History Prove Christ Divine

you did come, men would know you were a messenger from God?" "Christ, did anyone know of your coming, the circumstances of your life, where you would live?"

All are silent—but one. There were no predictions about Buddha, Confucius, Tao, Mohammed, or anyone else—except Christ. Others just came and said: "Here I am, believe me." They were, therefore, men among men, and not the divine in the human, which is the kind of leader we want for these hard times. Christ alone steps out of that line and answers: "My coming was foretold, even to the smallest detail."

He tells us to search the writings of the Jewish people and the correlated history of the Babylonians, Persians, Greeks and Romans, and for the moment, to regard their writings merely as historical documents, and not as inspired writings. The person of Christ in passing this test of reason and history speaks:

"About two thousand years before I was born, there appeared a man, Abraham, as the head of people in whom 'All the nations of the earth would be blessed.' About two thousand years before I was born, it was foretold, that he would be born among the people of Abraham, would be also the 'expected of the nations,' that is of the Gentiles as well as the Jews. About seven hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that I would be born in Bethlehem, and that even though born in time, I already had an eternal birth."

"Not only was my birthplace foretold, but about seven hundred years before, it was foretold, that I would be born of a virgin! 'A virgin shall conceive and bring forth a son, and his name shall be called Emmanuel.'"

"About seven hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that the kings of the East would bring gold and frankincense and myrrh, that I would sojourn in Egypt, and that I would live in Nazareth. About six hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that I would come within a set period after Cyrus gave out the order for rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. About five hundred years before I was born, it was foretold that my name would be Jesus or Saviour."

"Even the details of my character were preannounced, namely, that I would be kind, console the afflicted, be rejected by my own people. The details of my death were foretold: Centuries before, it was prophesied that there would be wounds in my hands and feet, that my enemies would shake dice for my garments, and yet in putting me to death, they would not break a bone of my body. A thousand years before, it was foretold that at my death I would be given vinegar and gall in my thirst."

"Six centuries before my birth, it was preannounced that I would ascend into heaven. So many prophecies were made concerning me that at the time of my coming, the ancient synagogues collected 456 distinct prophecies. But it was not only the people of Israel who expected me, but all the other peoples of the world."

We turn not to pagan testimony. Tacitus, speaking for the ancient Romans, says: "People were generally persuaded in the faith of the ancient prophecies, that the East was to prevail, and that from Judea was to come the master and ruler of the world."

Suetonius, in his life of Vespasian, recounting the Roman tradition also said: "It was an old and constant belief throughout the East, that by indubitable certain prophecies, the Jews were to attain the highest power." China had the same expectation, but because it was on the other side of the world, believed that the great wise man would be born in the west. The Annals of the Celestial Empire state: "In the 24th year of Tchao-Wang of the dynasty of the Tchou, on the 8th day of the 4th moon, a light appeared in the southwest which illumined the king's palace. The monarch, struck by its splendor, interrogated the

Expect Rezoning Request to Bring Hot Discussion

BIRMINGHAM — Routine matters will be taken up at tonight's City Commission meeting, with a lively discussion anticipated over the hearing to rezone property west of Woodward and south of Colonial Court. Six letters of objection are included in the agenda.

Other hearings will be held to consider paving Webster from U. S. 10 to Adams road and North street from U. S. 10 to a point north of Webster. The last is to approve creation of a special assessment district for construction of a water main on North street between Webster and Haynes.

Arrangements will be completed for revisions in the traffic signal system at Lincoln and 14 Mile roads.

An even dozen names have been placed on the city ballot for three city commission posts in the April 4 election.

Filing nomination acceptances with City Clerk Irene Hanley for the two three-year terms were Manley Bailey, Harry M. Denyes Jr., Donald K. Fill, Omar Hansen, C. Watts Wacker, and Vincent Watkins, incumbent.

Seeking the two-year term created when Commissioner Robert Navin resigned — he is moving — are Dr. Bernard A. O'Dell, John M. Rady, Frederick Fiessemann, Carl F. Ingraham, Atwell J. Smith and the only woman in the group, Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr. Sidney E. Sullivan did not turn in an acceptance.

crest would reach 60 feet here by Wednesday.

Hundreds of other families in West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana were driven from their homes as the river invaded areas in those states.

The flood waters flowed into some areas of Wheeling, Point Pleasant, Parkersburg and Huntington, W. Va., yesterday. Highway and slides blocked numerous roads including the multi-million dollar West Virginia turnpike. Part of Wheeling Island and part of Wheeling Downs race track were inundated. The Guyan River all but isolated Logan, W. Va., and at last reports was at 22 feet, two above flood stage. But the crest is moving downstream rapidly.

At Charleston, the Kanawha River was expected to crest at the 34-foot stage early today. At Williamson, W. Va., which was isolated by overflowing Tug and Big Sandy Rivers, storekeepers evacuated their merchandise. The area was hit by $100,000 damage in last week's flood.

In Indiana, at least 40 families were forced to flee their homes at Evansville, Madison, New Albany and other towns yesterday. In some instances, the water backed up in basements and seeped into living quarters.

sages. They showed him books in which this prodigy signified the appearance of the great saint of the West whose religion was to be introduced into their country."

The Greeks expected him, for Aeschylus in his "Prometheus," six centuries before Christ's coming, wrote: "Look not for any end moreover to this curse until God appears, to accept upon his head the pangs of thy own sins, vicarious."

How did the Magi of the East know of the Saviour's coming, if it was not from the many prophecies circulated through the world by the Jews and probably through the prophecy made to the Persians by Daniel more than five hundred years before Christ's Birth?

Says Exact Route As Yet Undetermined

Slaughter Defends Turnpike Plans

In a statement issued over the week end on behalf of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, William E. Slaughter, Jr., chairman of the authority, said many critics of the proposed turnpike are "shadow boxing with problems they will never face."

He urged those who have criticized what they believe to be the proposed route to withhold their objections until the exact route is determined and made public, anticipated about April 1.

He denied that the route would

"split cities in two and charged that much of the opposition to the turnpike is inspired by 'special interests.'"

Slaughter's statement came after an organized movement to abolish the turnpike authority developed. Opposition appears to have most support in the Dearborn, Bloomfield Township and Franklin areas.

In his statement Slaughter asserted that the turnpike, designed to serve heavy traffic must pass close to wherever the heavy traffic is found... which means near Detroit, Pontiac and Flint. He said shifting the route to the west of Pontiac would add more than $6 million to construction costs and deprive the turnpike of much of its anticipated patronage. The route must pass near Detroit, he said, because "82 per cent of the traffic will want to stop at Detroit."

No cities will be "split in two" because underpasses and overpasses will keep all existing roads and streets open, Slaughter asserted, and added the fenced-in right-of-way will protect children and jaywalkers from endangering their own safety on the high-speed road.

The proposed turnpike will not replace existing freeways, and the more traffic carried by the toll road, the sooner the bonds planned to finance its construction can be paid off. When these are paid the turnpike would become a freeway.

The turnpike is now planned would run between Rockwood and Saginaw. Replying to critics who have asked why the turnpike would cost $1,500,000 a mile as compared to $250,000 for the Monroe Expressway, Slaughter said the turnpike is estimated to cost $1,340,000 a mile (including all bridges, under and over passes, etc.) whereas the Monroe Expressway, with comparatively few of these will cost $952,000 a mile.

Engineers say that because the maximum grade on the proposed turnpike would be 3 per cent, and because of the absence of traffic-light stops such as are frequent on present highways, the turnpike would be far quieter than other types of highways.

The turnpike would be financed from an $184,500,000 revenue bond issue, with the bonds and interest as well as operating costs of the highway, being paid from toll charges against vehicles which use the route.

The statement by the authority points out that these bonds "are not guaranteed by the State of Michigan or any other body of government."

Hal Boyle Says:

Clothes Will Be More Comfortable in 2,000

NEW YORK (AP)—How will the well-dressed man look in the year 2,000?

If the toys for space-minded kids of today were the real portent of what the future holds, the average American would look with less than joy on the prospect of life in the 21st century. What adult yearns to go around with his head in a big plastic globe and yelling "blast off!" to any stranger who asks him: "What time does the next rocket leave for the moon?"

But be consoled, men. Oscar E. Schoeffler, a fashion authority, says clothing will be even more comfortable in 2,000 than it is now. You may be able to go to a store and have it sprayed on you. Yep, that's right—a custom-sprayed suit.

Here are a few apparel forecasts Schoeffler made in looking ahead 45 years:

"Style leadership will definitely pass from women to men. Men will again become the peacock."

"There will be a basic one-piece suit which will resemble a second skin, and other clothing will be worn over it or discarded, depending on the climate. The military services already are working on this theory of many light layers of clothing rather than one heavy suit."

"This basic suit will be one in which you can even sleep. It will have insulation that will permit your own natural body heat to keep you warm."

"But the suit won't make you look like a garage mechanic in overalls. It will be vibrantly colorful and have an endless variety of pattern. The suit may even be composed of new chemical fibers not even presently dreamed of, and actually sprayed on you to guarantee a perfect fit."

Shoes? They'll be light and glove-like. No worry over the laundry breaking off buttons. Buttons will disappear and be replaced by magnetic closures.

"Both the basic suit and outer garments will be feather light and carry out a decorative theme, such as some neckties do now," said Schoeffler.

For example, if you are a Republican (and even the most hopeful Democrats agree there will be at least a few Republicans left in the year 2,000), you might want to wear an elephant motif during an election year. But, supposing the Democrats carried the election, wouldn't that make your clothing look out of date?

"No problem," said Schoeffler, cheerfully. "Just throw the clothing away. It will be so inexpensive and then that wardrobe will be small because men will want to discard them every few weeks and get new patterns."

"Men will definitely set the basic styles for both sexes. Women already have adopted many male clothing styles, and the trend will continue."

What about women's hats? "Any man who tries to predict what a woman will wear on her head 45 minutes from now, let alone 45 years, is simply wasting his breath," Schoeffler observed. "But men will probably wear close-fitting headgear with a sun visor."

"In addition to their present jewelry, such as watches and rings, they also will probably carry barometers, thermometers, small flashlights, perhaps weapons, capsule food containers and radar gadgets. For travel from pole to pole or any other point on the globe will be so commonplace the ordinary businessman will need a survival kit for daily living."

All set for the dawn of year 2,000, men? Then what'll be in style next year?

"That's much more difficult to be sure about," smiled Schoeffler, who will lead discussion at the annual National Men's Fashion Forum show here next month.

"Men broke through the color barrier with pink shirts last year. Soft greens, yellow and rusty orange will also be popular next winter."

"The emphasis will remain on dark-colored single breasted suits with the natural shoulder. The double breasted suit will get even rarer, fancy vests will become more conservative."

The two-piece suit will make a comeback, but—don't cheer yet, fellows—one pair will be sawed off at the knees.

"Bermuda shorts will become widely accepted for office and street wear during the summer months," said Schoeffler flatly. "They are no longer merely a fad."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lendhorff, of Detroit, would have had to pay over $1,100 for recent hospital and doctor bills... IF they hadn't had Blue Cross - Blue Shield. They say, "On a $1,000 hospital bill, our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered us on all but $1.76! And Blue Shield sent our doctors a check for $140. You can't beat protection like this!"

Recently, Mrs. Frederick Filer, of Dearborn, was in the hospital for forty-nine days. The hospital bill was over $1,000. "Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered it all," say the Filers. "And Blue Shield paid $137 for medical services, too. Since we've had Blue Cross - Blue Shield, we've never had to borrow money for hospital and doctor bills!"

Mr. Emil Carlson, of Hazel Park, remembers the hard time he had paying a hospital bill before he had Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Recently, his Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered a $1,003.85 hospital bill... in full. AND, Blue Shield paid his doctors $200! Mr. and Mrs. Carlson agree, "We're completely sold on the way Blue Cross - Blue Shield helps you!"

A small rug on a slippery floor threw Mrs. Otene Hatmaker, of Detroit, for a leg fracture and a $591 hospital bill... and her Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered all of the cost! Blue Shield shouldered $185 in doctor bills, too. Says Mr. Hatmaker, "We didn't have to file any claims, or wait for any payments. It all happened automatically!"

So much...for so many!

Does your family have protection like this for hospital and doctor bills?

There's a 1 in 3 chance you will have a hospital bill in your family within a year

Blue Cross is the most successful idea ever devised to protect your family against hospital bills... even the big bills!

That's because Blue Cross gives you realistic coverage geared to meet the costs of today's hospital care. The primary aim of Blue Cross is to come as close as possible to paying your full hospital bill, as in most cases, it does. It's protection that truly meets your needs when you have to go to the hospital.

Over 3,000,000 people in Michigan have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor has it. Talk it over with him... see if he doesn't agree that for the little it costs, there is no finer protection.

Doctor Bill Protection

Blue Shield protection for doctor bills, backs up your Blue Cross protection for hospital bills. You need both! Blue Shield offers you protection against the cost of surgical and in-hospital medical care... by paying generous specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of procedures.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield are not commercial insurance plans. They are a joining together of friends and neighbors in your community on a non-profit, public service basis. Their boards of directors are made up of prominent community leaders, men and women who serve Blue Cross and Blue Shield without pay as a service to their community. This is one reason why only Blue Cross and Blue Shield are able to do so much, for so many in Michigan.

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can obtain low-cost group protection for your family. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Contact your local Blue Cross - Blue Shield representative.

Higher Rates Aim of War on U.S. Gas Regulation

The natural gas industry is waging a highly organized campaign against Federal Power Commission control of rates at the wellheads.

This campaign has received an assist in the report of the Cabinet Committee on fuels. It took the form of a recommendation that there be partial lifting of Federal controls over the natural gas industry.

Federal regulation has been the target of oil and gas interests ever since the Supreme Court decision of June 7, 1954. Our highest tribunal held then that the Federal Power Commission has the right to regulate gas prices from well-head to consumer.

The industry's campaign hasn't stopped at propaganda attacks on FPC regulations. Several bills to end it have been drawn and four were introduced in Congress on February 7 and 10 by two Texas Democratic Congressmen, Ickard and Rogers.

According to Congressional Quarterly, these bills would achieve the same goal as a bill introduced in 1950 by Sen. Kean, Democrat of Oklahoma. It was passed by the 80th Congress but vetoed by President Truman after opponents argued that it would cost gas consumers hundreds of millions a year.

Detroit's public utilities expert, Corporation Counsel JAMES H. LEE, called the proposal to relax Federal control the greatest giveaway ever dreamed up by the gas boys. It would enable the gas producers themselves to fix consumer rates without Federal interference. He added that if enacted into law, the end of control would cost consumers millions of dollars.

We are firm believers in free enterprise but we recognize that there must be protection for consumers in some effective regulation of public utilities.

The effort to end FPC control should be defeated.

Remagen Anniversary

Ten years ago today, March 7, 1945, occurred one of the most memorable events of World War II, the first American crossing of the Rhine at Remagen.

Hitler had come to consider March his lucky month. It was anything but that 10 years ago with four Allied armies poised along that historic river. In fact, the Hitler military machine already was cracking badly and the beginning of the end was at hand.

The capture of the Ludendorff bridge at Remagen, 15 miles south of Bonn, was the work of a little group of infantry, tanks and engineers from the Ninth Armored Division under General Hodges.

Writing to the Press, Dr. K. W. HICKLER of Washington, D.C. reminds us that this was no unopposed crossing. The first American troops had to fight to get across in the face of several explosions as the desperate German defenders tried to blow up the bridge.

In his words "not enough stress has been placed on the initiative, imagination and raw courage of the first officers and men who dared death in racing across the bridge."

Two months to a day after this first Rhine crossing, Hitler Germany capitulated. The following day, May 8, 1945, became V-E Day marking the end of the European phase of World War II.

Necessity of Unity Stressed at Bangkok

While many may think that little was accomplished at the SEATO meeting at Bangkok, there were solid achievements of understanding.

For example, the eight nations wisely decided to establish their SEATO secretariat in Thailand's capital city. This undoubtedly will have the effect of easing that country's concern over Red China's promotion of a Free Thai Movement in neighboring Yunnan province.

Important for all the free world as well as the SEATO nations was Secretary DULLES' explanation of the United States' position. Mr. DULLES emphasized that Southeast Asia is not the only area involved. The security of Asia and the free world also are dependent on implementation of commitments in other regions.

In expanding on this fact the Secretary of State told the conference that Southeast Asia would not be secure if Japan falls or might not even be defensible if Formosa falls.

The lesson here is that freedom's front must be held at all these points. In other words there no longer is any hope for a safe retreat into regional security.

If the free world is to defend its freedom, it must act in unity. Every division plays into the hands of our enemies.

Golly, Boss! You Didn't Speak a Minute Too Soon!

David Lawrence Says: Await High Court Ruling on Security Risk Firings

WASHINGTON—Some press dispatches within the last few days, in reporting the news about a new brief filed in the Supreme Court by the attorney general, have given a misleading impression to the American people by implying that President Eisenhower has been or is now at odds with the Department of Justice in the handling of security cases.

What has been quoted to support such an alleged divergence of view was a speech made by the President on Nov. 22, 1954, in which he said something about "the right to meet your accuser face to face." While this comment—which obviously referred to court proceedings and not to the discretionary powers exercised by the government in hiring and firing employees—was resurrected by some of the press associations, they neglected to point to the President's comments of a few days later explaining the real meaning of his speech.

At the press conference, which occurred on Dec. 2, 1954, Eisenhower, replying to a direct question about this same speech, said there was one point which he must make clear, namely that employment in the federal government is not a right of citizenship but a privilege.

He added that if there is real justifiable belief and conviction that a person is a security risk, you cannot keep him in a delicate position and in certain instances probably couldn't keep such persons at all.

The President emphasized that there is a difference between determining whether or not a man should work for the federal government and charging anyone with a heinous crime of any kind.

The issue as to the rights of the individual employee to convert a personnel inquiry into a court proceeding is coming up for decision soon in the Supreme Court of the United States. Already extensive briefs have been filed by both sides in a test case involving a college professor who was not cleared for service as a consultant to the government on account of alleged connections with Communists and was declared ineligible on security grounds. The case originated under the Truman loyalty program.

The Department of Justice has just filed a brief with the Supreme Court which points out that to grant to an individual a hearing within the government is a privilege bestowed by the government itself, that it really is under no legal obligation to furnish any reasons if it wants to fire an employee, and that the executive branch must determine for itself the scope of its personnel restrictions.

The Supreme Court of the United States ruled in the famous Myers case involving a postmaster dismissed obviously for political reasons that the chief executive could remove any employee at will in the executive departments unless Congress by law had enumerated specific causes for removal.

The late President Franklin Roosevelt removed a member of the Federal Trade Commission because "your mind doesn't go along with mine," but the Supreme Court held that Congress in creating the commission had specified grounds for removal and political compatibility wasn't one of them.

So the absolute right of removal resides in the executive branch until and unless Congress qualifies it in some way by law.

An attempt is being made by some of the defenders of the college professor in question to argue that the case hinges on a constitutional requirement which says a person shall not be deprived of life, liberty and property without "due process," namely a trial. Is he guaranteed by the Constitution, however, the "liberty" to undermine his own government from within? If so, it would mean that the government departments would have to submit to a court trial if they wanted to get rid of an incompetent employee or an indiscreet employee or if they just wanted to give the job to somebody else.

Voice of the People

'A. D. V.' Expresses Hope That Pontiac Will Never Be Serviced by DSR Buses

Letters will be continued when necessary because of lack of space. Put name, address and telephone number of the writer and address of the person to whom the letter is addressed in the left margin of the letter. The letter is critical in its nature.

I see that Mr. Baxter, one of the DSR commissioners, predicts that eventually, Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties will be served by one major transportation system. I hope it is not the DSR! Because the DSR can't take care of its own system in the City of Detroit.

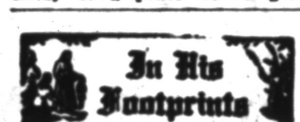

I would just feel sorry for a city like Pontiac if it had to depend on the DSR. Years ago, we had the inter-urban system (DUR), which was very dependable. Then later on the Greyhound buses.

And not very many years ago, the DSR still had streetcars running to Ferndale (in Oakland County) and Royal Oak (also Oakland County), but it must have lost money on that project, because it was discontinued on orders of the DSR executives; and now — they (evidently the DSR), plans to run again into the same counties.

We have a fairly good bus schedule on the Greyhound Lines. Besides, we have five or six commuters' trains going to Detroit mornings and the same amount returning in the late afternoon. Sometime later on we'll have a service here from Detroit and return that can't be beat, and I hope it isn't the DSR service! A. D. V.

'Welder' Is in Agreement; You Should Tell Facts

Mrs. W. C. Bordeaux chastises me in a very gentle and ladylike way and says the Voice of the People is for "sincere letters of fact and people's opinions." I believe that earnestly and completely. Therefore, why does Mrs. Bordeaux say "eight percent of the salary of a police officer goes

CHRIST'S RELIGION "Pure religion is this... to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Encourage Old People to Tell Stories; It Will Increase Their Mental Alertness

Grandma Bee lived to be 97, and it was partly due to the wise mixture of psychology and medicine which her talented physician employed every Saturday. Modern medicine realizes the powerful effect of the mind on the body, so keep your brain active and your body will be healthier.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE Case N-367: Dr. Dale Johnson, aged about 40, is a Hoosier physician who mixes psychology and humor with his medicine. He thus typifies the modern successful doctor.

One of his aged patients, then 95 years of age, was Grandma Bee. Each Saturday Dr. Johnson would stop at her home to give her a treatment of liver and iron.

"Doctor, I want you to give me such a big shot this time," Grandma Bee would invariably suggest, "so I'll go to sleep permanently. I've been on this earth too long already."

"Now, Grandma, you know I'd never do that," Dr. Johnson would immediately protest. "Besides, when the undertaker gets hold of you, then you'll be of no more value to me."

"Since I have two children to rear and put through school, I'll never let you die if I can prevent it!"

Whereupon Grandma Bee would chuckle delightedly. And this weekly exchange of kidding would perk up her mind while the liver and iron were also perking up her appetite, so she lived to be 97.

Modern physicians utilize a lot of psychology to supplement drugs and surgery, for the mind exerts a powerful effect on the body.

For example, you may be voraciously hungry due to an empty stomach that is gnawing. But even on a full stomach you can also develop an appetite chiefly from the mental stimulation of smelling savory viands or seeing the many colorful dishes that are on the dinner table.

Those of us who are fatter thus show the effect of such mental stimulation of our appetite. For it isn't a gnawing stomach that makes us eat the extra calories, but the fancy recipes and social towards his retirement." The truth is, it's five percent. Remember, these letters are to "tell facts."

'Did Not Misunderstand Letter' Says 'Reader'

Seems Mrs. Healy is very much mistaken in her opinion of some of the letters answering Mr. Ritter. Mine especially. I think she was more interested in defending Mr. Ritter than she was in what the letters contained.

Now if Mrs. Healy will just read Mr. Ritter's letter over again she will find that he states the boy's parents never took him to Sunday School or church.

Can you, or anyone, imagine how much of this boy would have understood when he could not get past the fourth grade in school?

His letter made it clear that Mr. Ritter felt that if they had taken their son by the hand and said, "Today is the day we go to worship," little Kathy would be alive today.

Now, I cannot agree with this. You see this "poor soul" did not misunderstand Mr. Ritter and staying away from church hasn't made me ill. Nor did I imply that if I did attend church it would do so.

I do not condemn churches or people who attend them, but living in a free country as we do, I just haven't chosen to attend.

'Is Smoking Worth It?' Asks Claud McCallum

In an editorial column of Feb. 10, 1955, we find these words, "On the average," says a physician, "smoking a pack of cigarettes shortens the smoker's life by six minutes."

Figuring 365 days in the year, that means lessening life by 2,190 minutes or 36 1/2 hours each year or slightly more than 30 days in 20 years.

Two packs a day would double that time and 40 years would double that amount, which means 120 days or about 1/3 of a year less of life.

Considering the expense involved in smoking one pack a day for 20 years, which requires the purchase of 7,300 packs or 730 cartons at approximately $2 a carton, which amounts to $1,460; two packs a day at $2.50; and for 40 years, $5,460—is it worth that enormous cost to engage in cigarette smoking? Friend, think it over! Claud McCallum 163 1/2 Clifford St.

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAKER (International News Service) Life and times of Senator Morse the three-party man. When Wayne comes to the aid of the party he brings along two proxies.

Wayne started out as a staunch Republican with an escape clause. Somewhere along the political line he derailed himself and emerged from the morose cocoon as an independent.

He was as independent as a one-cow dairy, as loose as a snake on a rock, as fearless as a fireman with two hats.

He wore no man's collar and laundered it himself. Then he discovered a lone wolf gathers no moss.

Meaning when the sap is running in the port barrel an independent's argosy never sails up Salt Creek.

Osler Would Never Revise His Ideas on Pneumonia

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

My copy of Osler is the sixth edition, published in 1906. It is battered, tattered, dog-eared and marred by marginal notes — notes? Heck, they are arguments, applause, sarcastic comments and rhetorical questions.

Whenever I consult Osler — who, 36 years after his demise, is still the world's greatest medical teacher—I wish I had not destroyed my copy of the third edition.

In the chapter on lobar pneumonia Osler said:

"As to the close association of pneumonia with exposure there can be no question. Cold has been for years regarded as an important etiological (medicase for causative) factor. The frequent occurrence of an initial chill has been one reason for this widespread belief. We see the disease occur either promptly after a wetting or a chilling due to some unusual exposure. Cold is now (that was about forty years ago) regarded simply as a factor in lowering resistance."

In the margin alongside I wrote: "And yet we see, at least as frequently, no illness follows such a wetting or chilling." And alongside the bunk about lowering resistance I wrote:

"We should say increasing instead of lowering." I can't remember whether I tried then to point out the difference between immunity, which is real and to a degree measurable, and "resistance," which is fanciful and purely hypothetical. That is, no physician can determine in any instance whether the individual has resistance, and certainly no physician knows whether cold, dampness, fatigue or other everyday "exposure" makes one more or less susceptible to respiratory disease.

Dr. Osler's statement to the contrary notwithstanding, there is, today, at any rate, considerable doubt about the association of pneumonia with exposure. In fact, the question must inevitably arise in the medical student's mind when he reads Osler. First, cold has been for years regarded as a factor. Then, the initial chill has been one reason for this belief. Next, pneumonia prevails equally in hot and cold countries, and yet Osler noted that in Montreal there were not so many cases in January, the coldest month of the year, as in other winter months, likewise in Munich and New York City.

"In no acute disease (no other acute disease, that is) is an initial chill so constant or so severe," said Osler, and added that "the temperature taken during the chill" (that is, at any moment in the course of the chill) "shows that the fever has already begun."

There you have it, doctors and folks, crystal clear, if you have anything besides fat above your auditory meatus. The early symptom of pneumonia, the chill, which the old timers mistook for an "etiological factor" is actually no more responsible for the illness than is any other symptom of the disease.

Unfortunately, Dr. Osler, 43 years old when the first edition of his "Practice of Medicine" was published, was stuck with his own opinion as expressed in the book and never mustered the resolution to revise it. Even at the onset of his last illness in Oxford, although he was only 70, the old gentleman complained that he had taken cold from exposure in a lecture hall which was not sufficiently heated.

Stated later, not more than one page of the book has been revised in personal health and hygiene, not to disease, discussed by Dr. William Brady M.D. is a stamped, self-addressed envelope to send to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich. (Copyright 1955)

Nine at Walled Lake Win Writing Awards

WALLED LAKE — Nine Walled Lake junior and senior high school students are winners of Scholastic Writing Awards of the Scholastic Magazine, it was announced today.

Marilee G. Clark, a 17-year-old senior, will receive the Key award for her lyric poetry. This is the first time a key award has been given to a Walled Lake student.

Jane Clark, 17, also a senior, won an honorable mention with her essay contribution. Commendations went to Sally Blake, 15, a sophomore, Norman Dierkes, 16, a junior, and Janice McPherson, 15, a sophomore, for sketches.

In the Junior High division, Mary Thibodeau, 15, a freshman, received an honorable mention for her essay. Commendations for short stories were made to Katherine Gugel, 14; Robert Moir, 14; and Timothy Westerdale, 13, all freshmen.

Troy Man Sent to Jail for Shooting 'Noisy' Dog

TROY TOWNSHIP—Claude Lincoln, 41, of 1827 Birchwood, was ordered to pay costs and serve two days in Oakland County Jail for shooting a neighbor's dog when he appeared before Troy Justice of the Peace Scott Delyea Saturday.

Oakland County Animal Welfare Society Officer Albert Sundell, who investigated, said Lincoln claimed the dog kept him awake. The officer said Lincoln shot the Cocker Spaniel, owned by Tony Jankowski of 1945 Chopin St. on Feb. 27.

Future Teachers Speak in Lake Orion Program

The Alpha Gamma Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, a professional Teachers group, has launched its own teacher recruitment program in the schools of Lake Orion, Oxford, Troy, Rochester and Clarkston.

At a recent joint meeting, members met at the Blanche Simms School in Lake Orion introducing young Future Teachers of America from each of their schools as their guests for the occasion.

Roy Vanette of Lake Orion served as moderator for a panel discussion carried on by these young FTA members.

Covering the following areas, the panel discussed:

- 1—What can be done to get more young people to enter the teaching profession.
- 2—Why I choose teaching as my career.
- 3—How limited is the field?
- 4—Qualifications of a good teacher.
- 5—How do the salary and retirement benefits rate with other professions?
- 6—Preparation necessary.
- 7—What are the comparative costs which face a teacher?
- 8—What role do the placement bureaus of the colleges play in obtaining good jobs for graduates?

At the conclusion of the open forum discussion period, the film, "What Greater Gift" was shown.

Future Teachers of America is an organization which was first started over a decade ago to interest prospective teachers in the profession.

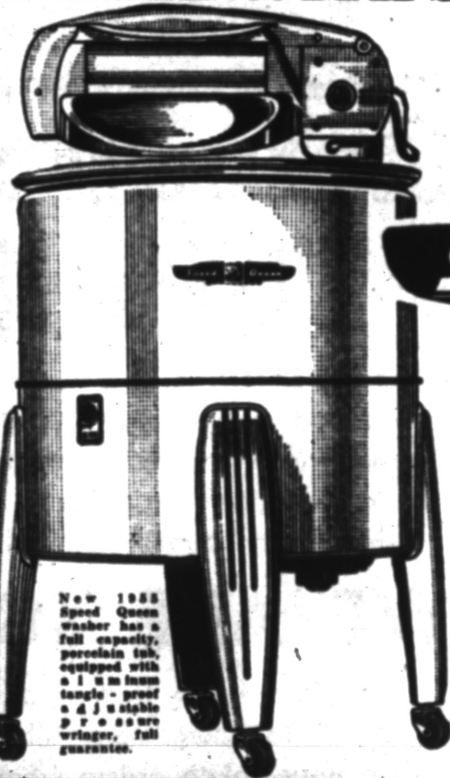

Schools operating such an FTA program encourage young people to work in the classrooms a few hours each week in order to become familiar with the work of a teacher. Many Oakland County schools are now conducting such a program.

"Bonanzagram"

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Press tiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. First solution will appear in the Press March 18.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 1 is published Friday, March 18. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 1

When Mr. Jones got home, late in the evening, he found that his wife had gone out, but had left a note for him on the kitchen table. She was always leaving him helpful notes with instructions and reminders. This one was her usual hasty scribble with many of the letters left out, but Mr. Jones managed to decipher it. He found the children and the pets in fairly good order and got himself a hearty supper. Can you, too, figure out what the note says?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated.

ated. Proper punctuation is one of the important keys to a correct solution.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and posted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.
2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. on the second Tuesday following publication of each new "Bonanzagram." Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight of the second Tuesday after first publication (March 15 for No. 1). Address: "Bonanzagram, Post Office Box 40, Pontiac, Mich."

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadline listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employees of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employee's household.)
2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.
3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly "Bonanzagram." If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize.
5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.
6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.
7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.
8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

River Just Rollin' Now,

Without Hot Rodders

LOS ANGELES (U) — The Los Angeles River is just rolling along today—without hot rods.

Police rounded up about 150 youngsters who were racing souped-up jalopies on the dry, paved river bottom yesterday. About 30 other cars left the police waiting on the levee and escaped up the San Fernando Road ramp.

Police made no arrests but explained to the youngsters that a river, even without water, is a river and not a race track.

Marble Makers Seek Protection

Claim Factories Here Suffer From Cheaper Import Product

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UP) — Things are still rolling at a local plant, and its veteran employees want the federal government to make sure they always will.

The firm (Vitro-Agate), one of the country's seven, manufactures those brightly colored marbles that clutter up Junior's pockets and find their way under adult footing at unexpected times.

The 60 employees at the local plant are concerned about competition from Japanese marble makers who, because of cheaper labor, can undersell the American product. At least one local worker decided to do something about it.

Mrs. Evelyn Dye, of Vienna, W. Va., wrote to Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-WVa) and asked his aid in revising present tariffs on imported marbles.

"I can't see taking jobs away from people in the United States for the sake of the Japanese," she wrote.

To emphasize her point, Mrs. Dye said that during peak years, the seven United States marble plants employed a total of 900 workers. Now, she said, the seven-plant employment is down to about 300.

She offered a suggestion to put American marbles on a competitive level again. Why not, she asked, require "made in Japan" labels on all marbles imported so the cost of labeling would necessitate higher prices.

Japanese marbles presently are shipped in bulk with only the container labeled. That way they also can be shipped as "ballast" from Japan to San Francisco for only $10 a ton.

Officials of the seven American marble firms—six of them are located in West Virginia and the seventh at Ottawa, Ill.—met here recently and asked U. S. Customs for some sort of relief.

Uncle Zaharatos, Uncle Sam Tops, Says Greek Pair

DETROIT (U) — Two Greek immigrants, whose homes were destroyed in the 1953 earthquakes, agreed today that "Uncle Sam and Uncle Zaharatos are the best friends we got."

Uncle Zaharatos is Nicholas E. Zaharatos, a retired Detroit restaurant owner. It was through his efforts that nephews Eleftherias, 20, and Nikolaos Zaharatos, 18, were able to come to this country.

The two brothers survived the earthquake that devastated their home in Cephalonia. But they and their parents were left destitute.

It was then they heard from Uncle Zaharatos and of his success in the new world. They wrote and asked him if he could help them get to this country and learn the restaurant business. He said he would, and he did.

When the brothers arrived they brought along Eleftheria Galataslou, 28, a cousin also left destitute by the earthquake.

"Maybe she can learn to be a good waitress," one of the boys said in his native tongue.

But the older Zaharatos says the first step is "citizenship papers."

"Then we'll get them started in the restaurant business," he said.

Policeman Wounded Quelling Family Row

DETROIT (UP) — Patrolman Lauren Sult, 27, was in serious condition at Receiving Hospital today with a rifle wound he suffered while helping quell a family row.

Sult and two other officers were called to the home of John Hale, 42, last night. While the other officers were wrestling with Hale for possession of the rifle, the weapon discharged.

Sult, who was standing in the doorway, was struck in the left arm and side. He was taken to the hospital in critical condition but doctors listed his condition as serious today.

Hale, who had threatened to use the rifle on his wife, was held for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder. Police said Hale was too drunk to allow questioning at the time of his arrest.

Losing Expectant Wife Rattles Frantic Hubby

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — Edward Van Houten's car stalled while he was rushing his expectant wife to Butterworth Hospital. He ran to a nearby house to call for assistance.

But when Van Houten returned to the car his wife was gone.

Turned out that a stranger drove her to the hospital where she gave birth to a six-pound girl. Mother and daughter are doing nicely. But dad still is in a whirl.

Bob Considine Asks

Airman Still Alive After 10 Years?

NEW YORK (INS)—From time to time, since the end of the big war, I've written about a fine old New York writer named Harry Lepelletier who will not take the word of the Defense Department that his son was killed on a photo-reconnaissance mission July 17, 1944.

Lepelletier has devoted a decade to the task of trying to prove that the form telegram which informed him and his wife of the death of their son was a mistake.

He has made a trip through Europe, has button-holed Air Force veterans at meetings, papered the walls of town halls and meeting places all over the world with a pathetic 1-sheet bearing his son's picture and headlined, "Have You Seen This Boy?"

The father has convinced himself that S. Sgt. Nathan L. Lepelletier is alive but suffering from amnesia. The A20 that crashed in the water near Regenville in France on the fateful day yielded only two of its three crew members. Nathan's body was not recovered.

The far-flung search for young Lepelletier, and the parents' determination to spend what little money they have for information about him, has flushed a number of ghouls, crackpots and sharpshooters, all intent upon selling their useless services or false information for personal gain. It is jarring to an unreconstructed optimist to read some of the mail sent to this yearning couple.

But after all this time and expense the Lepelletiers feel they cannot brush aside even the most blatant proposals or the dimmest clues. The father now tells me that a letter addressed to the son was received at the family home not long ago.

It was sent by one Katherine Ferring, a German girl, and was written in German. In the letter

Hepatitis Cases Up in State During '54

LANSING (U) — The number of reported cases of hepatitis — infection of the liver — has increased markedly in Michigan, but the state Health Department says it does not think the illness is on the increase.

The department said the number of reported cases increased from 48 in 1950 to 1,419 in 1954.

But Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of disease control, said the fact that the number of deaths from hepatitis remains fairly constant suggests the disease merely is being recognized and reported better, rather than that the disease is actually on the increase. About 25 deaths occur yearly.

Hepatitis is a virus infection of the liver causing fever, loss of appetite, vomiting, abdominal upset and often jaundice.

Buzzie Roosevelt Marries Writer on Magazine Staff

NEW YORK (U)—Army Pvt. Curtis Roosevelt—the "Buzzie" Dall who frequently visited the White House during the early years of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration — was married yesterday to Miss Ruth W. Sublette.

His grandmother, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, was among those who attended the ceremony at the Metropolitan-Duane Methodist church. Also present were his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Roosevelt.

The 24-year-old bridegroom is assigned to Ft. Dix, N.J.

The 27-year-old bride, a New York City resident formerly of Montgomery, Ala., is on the staff of Vogue Magazine. It was her first marriage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. James Addison Halstead of Los Angeles, the former Anna Roosevelt, and of Curtis B. Dall of Philadelphia.

He legally changed his name from Dall to Roosevelt in 1950. His marriage to the former Miss Robin Edwards, a model, ended in divorce.

About 12,000 ships use the Suez canal in an average year.

the girl wondered why young Lepelletier had not written to her "since leaving Germany." She wished him a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year and said, in passing, that the same wishes were being sent by his friend Jack Frowler of Philadelphia, Mississippi, which is the county seat (pop. 3,800) of Nebraska County.

Police questioned Miss Ferring but she couldn't remember when she had met Lepelletier. Now the elder Lepelletier is looking for Jack Frowler. A check with newspapers in that area could not produce anybody of that name.

Anybody know Jack Frowler? If so, the Lepelletiers live at 80

Van Cortlandt Park South, The Bronx 65, New York.

Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand ambassador, speaking at the Overseas Press Club.

"The Manila Treaty has made history in a number of respects. It is the first multilateral mutual defense treaty that includes both Asian and non-Asian members. It demonstrates the growing cooperation and trust among Asian and non-Asian countries which are determined to save themselves and their neighbors from Communist domination.

"The treaty has, for the first time other than in the Korean peninsula (whose strategic position is more insular than continental) involved the United States in a formal military commitment on the mainland of Asia.

"It serves as a stern warning to would-be aggressors that they can no longer hope to seize weaker countries one by one, but that they stand face to face with the combined strength of the treaty members."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or straining of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

OUR SALE OF 2x4's WAS TERRIFIC!

It was so terrific, that we had sold a complete carload of 2x4-8's by 10:00 a. m., Saturday morning! We would like to thank everyone for their wonderful response to our Friday advertisement announcing our Sale, and . . .

River Just Rollin' Now,

Without Hot Rodders

LOS ANGELES (U) — The Los Angeles River is just rolling along today—without hot rods.

Police rounded up about 150 youngsters who were racing souped-up jalopies on the dry, paved river bottom yesterday. About 30 other cars left the police waiting on the levee and escaped up the San Fernando Road ramp.

Police made no arrests but explained to the youngsters that a river, even without water, is a river and not a race track.

Says U. S. Can Defend Areas

Chief of Pacific Fleet Avoids Specific Mention of Offshore Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (U)—The boss of the U. S. Pacific Fleet, "If the United States is willing we can defend anything against the Communists."

But the statement left the Reds guessing.

Adm. Felix B. Stump was asked by newsmen whether his statement included the Communist-menaced Matsus Islands, 20 miles off the mainland.

He replied, "Anything."

However, top American officials have not specifically and publicly said what action would be taken in event of a Red assault on the Matsus or Quemoy, another Nationalist island across the Formosa Strait.

Stump visited the Matsus yesterday. He was here several days for conferences concerning Formosa's defense. He had a final talk this morning with President Chiang Kai-shek before going to Hong Kong.

Asked if there was a danger of war, Stump told newsmen, "It depends on the Communists. We are not the aggressors — they are."

The offshore island front has been quiet the past few days.

A Taipei newspaper credited the Defense Ministry with saying that speculation that the Nationalists will pull out from the Matsus is groundless and that the islands will "not be abandoned now or in the future without a bitter fight."

Stump said aid to the Nationalists would be speeded up and boosted. In that connection, 22 landing craft were turned over to the Nationalist navy by the United States today at Koahsiung in southern Formosa.

Widow Daughter of Gen. Bradley Plans to Remarry

LOS ANGELES (U)—Gen. and Mrs. Omar N. Bradley announced today the engagement of their daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Bradley Beukema to Benjamin Henry Dorsey Jr., son of Rear Adm. Benjamin H. Dorsey, USN ret., and Mrs. Dorsey, of Washington, D.C.

The Bradleys and their daughter will leave March 15 for the wedding planned for March 18 at St. Alban's Episcopal Church, Washington. Gen. Bradley is the former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Mrs. Beukema is the widow of Maj. Henry Shaw Beukema, Air Force flier killed in a jet plane crash in Virginia last year. She and her three children have been living with the Bradleys in their home here.

Dorsey is a partner in the Washington law firm of Brookhart and Dorsey. The couple will make their home in the capital.

Child Finds Holidays No Time to Celebrate

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (U)—Never ask 8-year-old Cheryl Ann Creech if she had a nice time over the holidays.

The Fourth of July in 1948 she contracted whooping cough. New Year's Day in 1951—a tonsillotomy. Her birthday, May 1, 1951—measles. Christmas Day, 1951—pneumonia.

This year Cheryl had flu on St. Valentine's Day and Lincoln's Birthday and had an appendectomy on Washington's Birthday.

Her mother, Mrs. Jesse J. Creech, gave her a big basket of eggs yesterday—for an early Easter celebration. She is recovering from the Washington's Birthday surgery.

Kidnaped Pair Tells of Ordeal

Crazed Thug Held Gun to Necks of Victims During Hour-Long Ride

ST. LOUIS (U)—A gunman who spoke of holding a human life "in the palm of your hand and having the wonderful feeling of killing someone" forced a restaurant owner and his wife to take him on an hour-long ride yesterday. "How would you like to die? Have you ever been shot? I love to hear a gun go off."

Dewey A. Yacovelli, 31, told police these were a few of the threatening remarks made to him and his wife by the man.

The gunman, a Negro, continually clicked the safety of the pistol which was pressed against one of their necks as he sat in the back seat of the car, Yacovelli related.

Yacovelli's wife Marie said they were ordered out of the car in an alley when he "told us he hadn't made up his mind whether to kill us or not."

"Dewey and I held hands and prayed," she said. "After a while he disappeared and we got back in the car and went to the police."

During the ride the couple, parents of four children, were robbed of $750 in cash and rings valued by Yacovelli at $1,150. He said the gunman was lying in wait in their car in front of their restaurant.

New Training Program Now Being Offered

High school seniors or recent graduates may now obtain a 48-page catalogue explaining the U. S. Army's new "Reserved for You" program, at the local recruiting station, 53½ W. Huron St.

Under this plan, young men and women may select courses from over 100 technical training schools. They are then assured of being enrolled in the class of their choice when a vacancy occurs, before even enlisting.

Selection of a career does not obligate a person to enlist. Classes range from atomic weapons and automotive repair to photography and wire maintenance.

Yes, they still kick the tires of used cars...

but the red OK Tag tells you more about them!

Sold only by an authorized Chevrolet Dealer

Even today, they still kick the tires of used cars. You can see them do it in any used-car place. When a used-car shopper kicks a tire, he's pausing and reflecting. He's asking himself some important questions about the car.

If he's at a Chevrolet dealer's lot, the red OK Tag on the windshield gives him a forthright answer. That's why the OK symbol is winning confidence and influencing buyers.

The OK Tag tells the buyer that this is one of the finest of many cars traded in on new Chevrolets. It tells him that the car has been thoroughly inspected and reconditioned for performance, safety and value. And most importantly, an OK Used Car is warranted in writing by the Chevrolet dealer. You can buy an OK Used Car with confidence.

Come in and look over the wide selection of makes and models traded in on new Chevrolets. They've got good tires for you to kick, if you like... and all the other good things that go along with the OK Tag!

Look for the red OK Tag and get a used car you can believe in

Herds of Hungry Moose
Take Over Alaskan City

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—Hundreds of hungry moose, tough and mean enough to charge oncoming locomotives, roamed residential streets here over the weekend and citizens tried to stay indoors.

The half-starved animals, some weighing more than half a ton, took over residential areas of Anchorage and nearby Palmer yesterday and made plenty of trouble.

Among other things, the moose: 1. Held the Palmer police chief at bay in his home, then raced after his car when he made a getaway.

2. Poked curiously into a bar and gave patrons a disdainful once-over before leaving.

3. Charged one unidentified but indignant woman up to the front door of her home.

4. Charged a school boy on his way to school and tumbled him into a snow bank.

5. Butted an amateur photographer who stumbled in the snow while trying to take a picture of one of the animals.

Palmer Police Chief Bernard Bowens had perhaps the most harrowing experience with the moose. He said he was held at bay in his home for more than an hour by an enraged moose which kept him pinned indoors as it policed both front and back doors.

"At the slightest movement the critter would charge," he said. "Once he was so close to me I could have reached out and touched his nose."

Eventually, Bowens fired a mild shotgun charge at the beast, dashed out and got into his car and drove off with the moose in hot pursuit.

Territorial police said the animals, singly and in herds of about a half dozen, were common sights in the downtown areas of both Anchorage and Palmer. They have been driven from the mountains by record-breaking snows.

Hunters are willing, but legally restrained, from aiding in the situation. Although the moose have taken over the towns, the hunting season is several months away.

Says Teenage Girls
Neglecting Breakfast

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UP)—Neglect of breakfast by teen-age girls was called the "single most dangerous spot" in the American nutritional picture today by public opinion analyst Elmo Roper.

A recent poll, Roper said, showed that only 56 per cent of the teen-age girls reported they had a good breakfast. Seventy per cent of men and boys polled reported they had a good morning meal.

He said women, who are most influential in deciding what their families eat, almost unanimously think selection of proper food is important to health.

Drummer Beats Out
57-Hour Marathon

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Roy Harte may not blow his own horn but he certainly believes in beating his own drum.

Harte, a 30-year-old radio and TV bandsman, put down his sticks at midnight Saturday after drumming for 57 consecutive hours.

During the marathon Roy was given haircuts and shaves, was fed steaks and orange juice without missing a beat. He even boarded a truck, and still playing rode to a night club where he sat in with Gene Krupa's band.

Roy had "a real last 12 hours sleep" yesterday, and doesn't think he'd like to do it again.

Students Seek Help in Ouster

Texas Group Will Ask
State to Intervene in Firing of Superintendent

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Students have called on the state to help settle a fight between the Irving School Board and fired Supt. John Beard.
The 53-year-old Dr. Beard is battling to keep his job. The board has stood fast on its decision to discharge him.

The fuss raged unabated today while a strike by some 200 teachers and other school employees who support Beard entered its second week. Volunteers and replacements are running the schools, which are under police guard because of the emotional pitch in this booming little city of some 23,000 near Dallas.

In the latest exchange, the board yesterday turned down Beard's suggestion the public vote on whether he or the board should quit. Beard fired back that the board is "dogmatic, unfair, undemocratic and biased."

As hot words flew, students were preparing a letter to State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar asking help. The idea of the letter originated with nine students, and they said there was no opposition to it from either side.

It said in part, "We, the students of the Irving school system, representing the rights of every American student, request the aid of state officials in Austin for investigation and improvement of the school situation during the present emergency."

There was no immediate comment from Edgar.
The board fired Beard Feb. 16 for what it called his "repeated failure to cooperate with the board on important policy matters . . ."
Beard blamed his discharge on a
"local political clique" and said he will appeal to Edgar.

Lariat, Horse
Help in Rescue of Surf Bather

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A patrolman used a horse and lariat to save Robert E. Malone from drowning off Ocean Beach yesterday after Malone had plunged to the aid of another distressed swimmer.

Carrying the rope, Patrolman
Arthur Hagstrom, 28, swam out to Malone, nearly unconscious in the surf from fighting an ebb tide underway.

Hagstrom pulled Malone, 35, Daly City accountant, toward shore until he was nearly exhausted. Nick Papasian rode his horse out to Hagstrom, who looped the lariat to Papasian's saddle.

The horse then pulled Malone to shore with Hagstrom holding his head out of water. Hagstrom is a former lifeguard.

Bruce McFarland, 28, whose wave for help Malone had answered, came safely to shore by himself. The ebb current's pull stopped, explained McFarland, "or I wouldn't be here."

She will speak at the opening session. Gertrude S. Carroway, president general of the national society of DAR will speak at the March 29 banquet.

American Home Well Dressed

CHICAGO (INS)—The American woman not only dresses herself but her home better than her European counterpart.

This opinion was voiced by Morris Futorian, a Chicago furniture manufacturer who recently returned from a trip to Europe. He said:

"The American housewife is much more conscious of trends in design and fabric for her home.

Despite the fact that there are many top designers in Europe, most women over there stick to dark colors and traditional furniture in their homes."

Futorian says there is a simple reason for the conservatism—most of the top designs in modern furniture are custom-made in Europe. He said:

"The women may want to bring their homes up to date but they simply can't afford it."

"The furniture budget of the American housewife stretches much further because of mass production."

Built Detergent Harmful to Skin

If your hands get rough and red after dishwashing with a detergent, the fault may be yours—not the detergent's.

It's possible that you are using a detergent designed for the family wash and other heavy laundry, rather than the kind made for dishes.

The heavy detergents are called "built" detergents and usually have an alkali added. However, alkali is hard on sensitive skin.

So use a mild detergent for the dishes. Just read the printing on the box—a "built" detergent says it's for general laundry work, a mild detergent is labeled "for dishes and light laundry."

New Swivel Chair Leaves Hands Free

CHICAGO (INS)—Substitute for a personal maid:

A long-handled mirror has been fitted into the back of a vanity chair so both hands can be free while a woman is checking and adjusting her hairdo.

The chair has a swivel mechanism which adjusts to viewing height and comes in fabric or plastic upholstery in off-white aqua or rose.

Patients in Hospital

Three residents of West Hopkins street are patients in Pontiac General Hospital. They are Robert W. Irwin, Guy Thomas and Trudy Cooper.

It's literally the year for the white collar newly shallow neckline. Lavishly edged in girl. Here's a bright white pique collar open-work embroidery it's a fresh accent that spreads shoulderwide to punctuate the for the season's favorite navy and neutrals.

'Italian' Influence Hits Men's Spring Sport Togs

NEW YORK (INS)—The "Italian" influence in sports clothes has spread to men's shoes.

Come spring, American males with enough nerve will be replacing their winter brogans with neat pale blue denim or yellow linen sports shoes!

It was Italian fashion ideas that put color as well as comfort into U.S. sports clothes—tapered pants for gals, for example, and pastel leather jackets.

CHRISTINE HARRISON

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harrison of East Mansfield avenue are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Christine, to A2C Richard McMahon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval McMahon of Third street. No date has been set for the wedding.

For men, the Italian influence has changed shoe fabrics. One firm is coming out with black and white checked gingham, khaki with white piping and cork-colored pigskin as part of its men's spring shoe styles.

The idea is to make a man's feet look as snappy as his Bermuda shorts.

Most of the gayer styles are in gondola or buckle moccasin sports shoe shapes. But there is also a new look in regular men's laced shoes.

For evenings this spring, a man no longer has to struggle with heavy leather. He can trip the light fantastic in soft light laced shoes of black linen.

And for day wear, the well-shod male can buy himself a two-tone leather shoe which combines a wrapped sole of reddish brown with a tan upper. If this isn't jazzy enough, there's something even snappier—woven leather in close or loose mesh weaves.

JoAnn McVicar Honored at Party

JoAnn McVicar was honored Friday evening at a birthday supper given by her mother, Mrs. Marvin McVicar of Raeburn street.

Helping JoAnn celebrate her fifth birthday were Debby and Tressa Guess, Gail Lundberg, Debby Hotra, Milton Conley, Jimmie Floyd, Larry Kasat and Junior and Gary Goetz of South Lyon.

PTA Activities

Longfellow Executive Board of Longfellow PTA will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Officers and committee chairmen are urged to attend.

Garden Group to Hear Talk

The Dirt Gardeners of Pontiac will have as their speaker Tuesday afternoon, Hazel P. Dunlop, Detroit, author and lecturer.

"The Fundamentals of Floral Arrangements" will be the theme of her discussion on design and color, with a demonstration in the art of floral arrangements.

Mrs. Dunlop stresses simplicity above all else and contends that learning the art of arranging flowers is an invitation to discover beauty in the most unexpected places.

The Tuesday lecture will be held at 2 p.m. in the YWCA on Franklin boulevard.

Family Expense to Stay Same

EAST LANSING (INS)—A Michigan State College home management specialist predicts that people probably will be paying more for haircuts and permanent waves this year but that overall family expenses are not likely to change.

Food costs probably will stay about where they are and housing costs can be expected to remain stable for the next two or three years.

Service costs, such as medical care, household services, barber and beauty shop services, probably will continue upward.

To Exhibit Work

Azalea Stuart Thorpe, a student at Cranbrook Academy of Art will show several original coat fabrics in the University of Illinois "American Craftsmen 1955", exhibition to be held March 13 through April 3.

MOMS Discuss Yearly Projects

Money making projects were discussed by MOMS of America, Unit Two when members met at the East Russell street home of Mrs. Amy Harp recently. Mrs. Grace Epley and Mrs. Everett Gibbs were accepted as new members.

Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind will open her home on South Johnson street to members for the March 15 meeting.

First Presbyterian Women Hear Talk

"Evangelism to Meet the Revival of Non-Christian Religions" was the topic discussed by the Rev. Edward D. Auchard before members of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church Friday afternoon.

The Rev. Mr. Auchard said, "From Christ to the present time covers a period of about 60 generations. Probably our forebears were out-right pagans for the first 20 of those 60 generations."

"We are the products of ancient foreign missions by which the people of western and northern Europe were converted."

"At first the Christianity of our ancestors was mixed with pagan elements. A long period of refinement came to a climax during the Puritan era, in an effort to reform Christianity according to the New Testament pattern."

"A similar process is going on today in which recent converts from non-Christian religions are trying to adjust to both their new-found faith and their historic cultures."

"Except for Europe and those areas settled by British and European peoples, most areas of the globe are historically non-Christian."

"The Christian faith has spread rapidly since William Carey went to India in 1792. However, the prestige of Western Culture in the eyes of the rest of the world has been greatly reduced by resentment against European colonialism, and the spectacle of two world wars in which factions within Christendom have ravaged each other."

"The twentieth century has seen the birth of many new nations, mostly in Asia. In all of these there is an intense patriotism, changing social patterns and a rediscovery of the value of ancient culture, including a revival within non-Christian religions."

"Nationalistic pressure, a lack of firm Christian roots and a reform within various pagan religions has resulted in some converts from Christianity to non-

Christian religion, although Christianity continues to be the largest and most rapidly growing of the world's nine or ten religious systems.

"Christian missions in our day must learn to appreciate other people's patriotism. Missions must be able to conserve positive elements in traditional cultures."

Christianity must strive to relieve and eradicate the injustice on which Communism grows and at the same time serve the deep spiritual hunger that underlies all religions. At the same time the Church must maintain the integrity of our Biblical faith that Christ is the Lord.

"We can nourish our own faith and religious understanding. We can give through the channels of our church to the cause of world-wide evangelism. We can pray, for God works in response to prayer to achieve some ends otherwise impossible."

The worship service conducted by Mrs. William DeRoo, included a solo by Mrs. B. B. Kimball. The September - October Group, served a luncheon.

They Learn to Live With Disease

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Edna Kaehele, who has survived a death sentence by more than nine years, has also managed to rise above pain, despair and hopelessness to a happy, positive formula for living.

More than that, she is the guiding spirit of a new, expanding organization called "Cancers Courageous," which, picking up where medicine must leave off, has helped to bring thousands like herself through many a crisis of fear and suffering.

"Treatments," she told me, "are not within the province of Cancers Courageous but you see some unexpected things happen when you work with people who are critically ill, who are badly frightened and who have no other hope than that which they can dredge up from deep within themselves."

The watchword of Cancers Courageous is "There is no hopeless disease in a hopeful body." The program of the group, firmly rooted in faith, may be summed up in six steps, each designed to help conquer fear and the awful sense of doomed loneliness that so many very sick people feel.

First, Cancers Courageous says, you must recognize that cancer, like arthritis or heart trouble is merely "dis-ease" of your physical body. ("There is really only ONE disease," says Edna briskly. "That is the absence of health, regardless of what is the manifestation. And sometimes whether a man lives or dies depends on some hitherto unrecognized something deep within him.")

The organization makes it easy for the frightened and lonely to meet with others in the same situation to talk out their problems. At the heart of the program is the necessity to admit the existence of a great force—most call it God—which is everywhere, all powerful. And then to become aware that if the force is everywhere, it is also deep within each human being.

The organization, now with branches in 20 states, supported meagerly by members and a few of their friends, has managed to get out some simple mimeographed pamphlets, one of which is called, "So You Have Cancer!"

"We who have cancer must remember always that the good life in the body is infinitely stronger than the bad life in the cancer because life has its roots in an inexhaustible source of supply, and the cancer does not," the booklet begins. "IT IS TO THIS GOOD LIFE WITHIN US THAT WE MUST LOOK IF WE WOULD BE WELL AGAIN. . . . We must BELIEVE that we can live, even with cancer. Then we must be willing to learn how."

Here's Assurance Teens Heed Parents' Example

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The attitude of parents toward alcoholic beverages becomes the attitude of their teen-age child.

If we drink excessively or frequently, so will our adolescent son and daughter. If we do not drink at all, our child, if he drinks at all, will drink most sparingly of any member of his age group.

This is the finding of research into the drinking habits of New York's Nassau County high school students. Made by Hofstra College's Bureau of Social Research, the study is the first of others planned by the Bureau's director, Dr. Matthew Chappell.

What delights me about the finding is its assurance that parental example is still the most potent influence upon the adolescent child. It is revolutionary news.

For years now, the news has been that Johnny's "group" wields the most potent influence upon him. We have been asked to feel sympathy for the poor boy's confusion when his "group's" influence conflicts with ours. We've been told to "understand" that to retain his "status" in it, he may have to permit it to control him.

We've been warned of the psychological damage he suffers if we deny him the late hours, driving speeds, sloppy clothing and other oddments that command the fetish worship of his age class. Now, this finding contradicts it all. It tells us that it is our behavior, not his "crowd's," that really controls Johnny.

I am grateful for it. For the talk about Johnny's preference for his "crowd's" example has given American parents the loveliest kind of alibi to evade giving him a good example of their own.

We have unconsciously figured, "All right, if Johnny's self-confidence depends on imitation of his friends' behavior, I'm relieved from the chore of checking on mine."

Thus, this talk has abetted lax conduct in parents—and encouraged us to relinquish the moral instruction and control of our adolescent child to his equally inexperienced friends.

There is no substitute for parental example in the discipline of children of any age.

Those of us who have always known this are not surprised by Dr. Chappell's confirmation. It will, however, hearten us to render more faithful obedience to the principles we live by, trusting that obedience to exert its old, immemorial control on the child we love.

There is nothing mystic about the influence of disciplined example of a teen-age child. Since the human race first emerged from the caves, we have been profoundly affected by the action of some respected teacher.

Bar Cookies Use Oats and Apricot Jam

Mrs. Williamson Has Simple Recipe for Layered Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When you can give your family a sweet that is both delicious and nutritious, you like that recipe. Mrs. Frank H. Williamson thinks her recipe for Apricot Bars is tops, so do we. And it's easy enough for youngsters to make.

Brought up in the city, Mrs. Williamson has lived on a farm ever since her marriage. She has a young son and a teenage daughter, both of whom are interested in 4-H work. Mrs. Williamson has also made this her interest. She helps with both cooking and sewing projects. In addition, she belongs to an Extension group, the Pontiac Junior Women's Club and the PTA. Mother and daughter enjoy sewing together.

APRICOT BARS
By Mrs. Frank H. Williamson

1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup brown sugar
1½ cups quick oats
1 cup butter or margarine
1-2 cups apricot jam

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in butter or margarine until the mixture is crumbly. Pat two-thirds of this mixture into a 13x9x2 pan. Spread with the jam. Cover with remaining crumb mixture, patting it down. Bake 35 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Cut into bars. Makes about 2 dozen.

Spring is coming and so is this crease. There's white and black piping trimming the resistant suit blouse in soft rayon linen. flattering bow neckline and down the front.

They Build Tool Benches for Juvenile Carpenters

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some friends of mine have a three-year-old son who is, as many little boys of that age are, tremendously interested in mechanics, carpentry, tools, and all the repair jobs which Daddy does.

Recently, when visiting them, I saw Billie's newest present, which was a charming small work bench, just like a real carpenter's work bench, sub built to scale for a young child.

You could see that Billie loved it; in fact, you could hardly lure him away.

His father and mother, beaming, told me that it had eliminated a great deal of trouble, because Billie no longer felt tempted to practice his handiwork on the walls and the woodwork!

"And," they told me, "it's made and sold by a young couple right in our town."

I made a call on the young couple, whom I shall call Mr. and Mrs. Y., and got the story.

"I used to be a secretary in advertising," Mrs. Y. told me. "Then after we got married, we had three boys, one right after another!"

"Whenever Jim did a repair job around the house, or went to work on his furniture repair and refinishing, which is his favorite hobby, the kids were always under foot. Finally, he hit on the idea of making them three tiny work benches, just like his. It made a great hit."

"Friends kept commenting on the work benches, and asking if we'd make them one. Jim got so he could turn them out pretty fast, although at first we just did them for friends, and for children's birthday presents."

When a fellow marries a dreamboat he pays plenty later on for the rigging.

When a fellow marries a dreamboat he pays plenty later on for the rigging.

But after awhile, we decided to go professional. I did the advertising; just a tiny ad in our local newspaper at first, but now we advertise quite a lot and get a great many orders.

"Jim still has his regular job, but he now has a part-time assistant to fill the orders. We'll never make a fortune at it, but it does bring in nice money, and it gives Jim a sense of accomplishment. Also, it gives me a chance to do some work I did before marriage, and to feel useful, too."

Behind many such success stories lies the same basic formula: People do something for their own enjoyment and to fill a need of their own.

Friends like it, and ask for the product, and there is a period of doing it "for free." Then, beginning in a small way, the hobby becomes a successful paying business.

Girl Friends May Share Milk Shake

Not Bad Manners Especially When They Are Large

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "The other evening on our way home from the moving pictures, two girl friends and myself stopped at the drugstore for a drink."

I felt like having a milk shake and so did one of the other girls. The milk shakes at this particular drugstore are very large and I could not drink a whole one so I asked my friend if she would like to share one with me. She said she would and so I ordered one milk shake and asked the clerk for an extra glass.

When we left the drugstore the third girl said we had embarrassed her by our very "bad manners." Was this such a terrible breach of etiquette?

Answer: As it is evident that neither you nor your friend wanted more than half a milk shake, and as all three of you were friends, asking for an extra glass and sharing one between you was not bad manners.

Dear Mrs. Post: Several months ago my niece was married secretly. After some time elapsed she announced it to the family. As of now, I have not been invited to her house nor have I met her husband.

My sister (the bride's mother) has asked me why I haven't gone to see her daughter. I think it is up to my niece to respect me by bringing her husband here to meet me, and then invite me to her house. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter.

Answer: Under the circumstances you describe, you are right, but why do you stand on ceremony and not make a friendly gesture and go to see them?

Dear Mrs. Post: Haven't you said that it is entirely proper to put a roll down on the tablecloth when there are no bread and butter plates? My husband says it belongs on the dinner plate and when breaking off a piece the rest should be put back on the plate and not on the tablecloth. He thinks I misunderstood your advice so will you please set us straight on this.

Answer: As long as the roll is dry it may be put on the tablecloth, but when buttered it should be put on your plate.

She Can Be Polite, but Indifferent to Put Point Across

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: About a week ago I started hanging around the local candy store—I was out to have a good time. While flirting with all the fellows there, I noticed one boy in particular who seemed to like me."

The next night while he was walking me home he asked me for a date, which at the last minute because of illness I had to cancel. I have since discovered that I no longer care for him.

My problem is how to tell him nicely. If I give him the slightest encouragement, he's going to think I like him.

If I go into the candy store, he sits beside me and gives the other boys the idea that I'm going with him and that I'm his property. You see, I have my eye on another fellow now."

One way to dispel the idea that you're his property would be to stay away from the candy store. If you just don't make an appearance—it's because you can live without him. He'll soon gather that you're not too dying to see him, since you know where he hangs out and don't bother to look him up.

It wouldn't take a very long vacation from your new hangout to get him back into neutral again. If you should see him later he'd probably be having other fish to fry by that time. And you can be polite but indifferent—and get away with it without having said a word.

Of course, staying away from the candy store won't give you much of a chance with the new lad you're eyeing. Unless there's a hope of running into him somewhere else. But, if he's a regular, he'll probably still be around should you take a slight vacation. If you're afraid that he'll fly away, if you're afraid to risk having him otherwise occupied when you do get around to him, then you'll have to take other measures toward hiding the first boy off while you draw the second one closer.

Take another girl with you when you go, so you won't be so completely get-at-able. She can run interference for you, she can sit in the seat he'll have to sit next to if he wants to be near you.

She can be your excuse for not being able to walk home with him. She can keep you from being monopolized by him. She can keep him talking while your eyes wander. She can anchor him down while you follow your eyes.

You needn't be cornered by him when it's so easy to change your seat, move around, and gravitate toward the boy you'd like to know better.

No matter how much he likes you, such maneuvers on your part will prove to everybody that you do not consider yourself a staked claim.

Florida Continues to Claim Local Vacationers as Spring Approaches

Auxiliary Slates May Banquet

Ladies auxiliary to Metropolitan Club, Spirit Six met recently to make plans for a mother and daughter banquet in May.

Hostesses for the meeting held in Malta Temple were Mrs. Clay Parrett, Mrs. W. A. Green and Mrs. George Hermoyan. Mrs. George Scott was welcomed into the group.

School Activities Keep City Young People Busy

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayner of Oneida road and Mrs. Russell Bassett of East Iroquois road will leave Tuesday for a motor trip to Florida. Mrs. Bassett will visit with the Edward Hallenbachers of Lake Worth, formerly of Pontiac.

Mr. Bassett will join Mrs. Bassett the first part of April and they will travel to Puerto Rico for a week's visit with their son, L. J. (J.G.) John R. Bassett, who is stationed at San Juan. The Bassetts will then return to the Hallenbachers home to visit until the end of April.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schram and Mrs. Catherine Fessant of Silver Lake road are vacationing at Deerfield Beach, Fla.

Janet Fairbanks, a student at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant, arrived home Friday evening to spend the weekend visiting her mother, Mrs. Orval G. Fairbanks of Niagara avenue. She was accompanied by her roommate from college, Mary Peterson, who makes her home in Edmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance O. Fultz have returned to their Ernest court home after enjoying a two week stay at their winter home in Punta Gorda, Fla. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tucker of Berkley.

Barbara Snover, daughter of the Paul M. Snovers of West Huron street, and Ruth Bauer, daughter of the Joseph Bauers of Clarence street, have been named Homemakers of Tomorrow.

These seniors at Pontiac High School received the highest scores at the school in written examination which tested their homemaking aptitudes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Wrightman of Oklahoma City, Okla., are announcing the birth of a son, Richard Wayne, on March 1. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Wrightman of Scott-wood avenue and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Seaman of Menominee road.

Announcing the Feb. 24 birth of a daughter, Susan Marie, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Koskela (nee Helen Harris), of Canley street. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Koskela of South Marshall street, William J. Harris of Wall street and Mrs. Ralph McAnelly of Stanley avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Porritt Jr. (nee Mary Ellen Nixon) of Washington street are announcing the Feb. 22 birth of a son, Matthew Nott, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Donald Porritt of Cherokee road is the paternal grandmother. The infant's mother is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Nixon of Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles of Ottawa drive are in Washington where Mr. Sekles will take part in the executive conference of the Supreme Lodge of the Order of Ahepa at its national headquarters there. He is the supreme treasurer of Ahepa. The Supreme Lodge was received by President Eisenhower at the White House today at noon. The Sekleses drove to the national capital making several stops en route.

Others joining the club include Mrs. Beecher Connell, Mrs. Ashton W. Emery, Barbara Amundson and Francis Kemper.

Emily Marina Holden, a member of the Pontiac club spoke for a recent meeting on Zonta Clubs in three eastern states where she has enjoyed memberships. Beginning with the Burlington, Vt. club, Miss Holden said that the club's first president, Consuelo Northrup Bailey, now is lieutenant governor of the state of Vermont. This group was organized in 1930. There are two clubs in the state of Vermont with each doing philanthropic work, which is the basis of all Zonta groups.

Lydia Earhart, an aunt of the famous Amelia Earhart, organized the Philadelphia club in 1929 and this city has entertained the district conference on two occasions.

Organized in 1921 with 15 members, the Zonta Club of Jamestown, N. Y. was the seventh Zonta organization in the country, and was the first in a city having a population of less than fifty thousand people, Miss Holden said.

Carmen R. Culiner Bride in Sunday Evening Rite

To reside on Ogden road are Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Rachwal. The bride is the former Carmen Rosalyn Culiner, daughter of Mrs. George Culiner of Flint and the late Mr. Culiner. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. David Rachwal of Ogden road and the late Mr. Rachwal.

Rabbi Phillip Keival performed the five o'clock ceremony Sunday evening in Congregation Beth Israel, Flint. The couple were married under a canopy covered with greens and gladioli. Baskets of flowers flanked the canopy.

Two hundred and fifty guests were present as the bride approached the altar wearing a floor length gown of lace and tulle. The bodice was fashioned with illusion neckline, bordered by sequins.

It featured a mandarin collar of lace and long sleeves ending in points over her wrists. A panel of accordion pleated tulle centered the front of the skirt. She carried a white Bible topped by white orchids.

The bride was given in marriage by Samuel M. Catsman of Flint and Mrs. Rachwal was escorted by Edgar Morris of Toronto.

Mrs. Sherwin Palmer of Flint attended her sister as matron of honor wearing a gown of blue crystalline, fashioned with V neckline and fitted bodice.

Mrs. Jerrold Armour of Detroit, Dorothy Morris of Toronto and Barbara Becker of Chicago were other attendants wearing shrimp-colored gowns styled identically to the honor matron's.

Sherwin Palmer of Flint served as best man and seating the guests were Lawrence Feinstein and Frank Alexander, both of Flint, and Alvin Jacobson.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of deep rose lace as she greeted 400 guests at the reception. Mrs. Rachwal chose a beige - rose street length dress.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in Chicago the bride was wearing a suit with navy skirt and blue and white tweed jacket. Navy accessories completed her ensemble. She attended Flint Junior College and Michigan State College.

Local Boys Pledge UM Fraternities

Council Election Results Announce Rick St. John VP

By SUE GILBERT
ANN ARBOR — Fraternities are in the spotlight this week. Results of the Interfraternity Council elections reveal that Rick St. John of West Iroquois road has topped the office of executive vice president.

The Interfraternity Council is the body which regulates relations among fraternities and represents them in campus administration. Rick is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity and a junior student in the school of business administration.

The final dinners are over and fraternity rushing, which has been going on for the past two weeks is at an end. Two local residents have joined the ranks of Sigma Nu. They are Fred Ross of East Iroquois road, and George Googasan, also of East Iroquois road.

All men pledged this semester will remain in their dormitory residences until next fall when they move into the fraternity houses as "active" members.

Paul Kers of Perry street also received pledge status. His fraternity is Alpha Tau Omega.

Gerry Cook of Dwight street has pledged Delta Tau Delta.

A Phi Sigma Kappa membership bid was taken by Duncan McVein of the State Hospital grounds.

Henry Baylis of Spence street, went through rushing period this semester as an old hand at the business. He was activated recently in Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, and Henry, by the way, is one of those students to be congratulated on an all-A record for last semester. His curriculum is pre-professional.

Malcolm Walker of Henderson street represented his dormitory house (Wentley House, West Quadrangle) in a campus swimming meet recently. Malcolm also swam in campus water polo competition last semester.

On the co-ed side of the picture, Nancy Turnbull of South Going street came to Ann Arbor to be the weekend guest of Valerie Darnen of South Marshall avenue, and her roommate, Virginia Haroutunian of Perry avenue.

Although we imagine there was plenty of time for her sessions, the girls did have a busy weekend. Nancy and Valerie attended the Assembly Ball Saturday evening.

Assembly Ball is the annual girl-bid dance for independent women. This year's theme was "Alice in Wonderland." Nancy's escort for the evening was Joe Frisinger of Ann Arbor, and Valerie's beau was Peter Ward also of Ann Arbor.

Friday evening Virginia heard the Anna Russell concert which was sponsored by the University.

Weekend plans of Bob Demberger of Oriole road, and his fiancée, Irene Jackman of Bellows Falls, Vt., centered around an informal dancing party held at his fraternity, Phi Sigma Kappa Saturday evening.

Garden Club Board Plans Dinner, Program

Alfred E. Runk of Ramsey, N. J. brings his program on "Planting to Attract Winter Birds" to Birmingham for a meeting of Birmingham Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden.

Social hall of First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham will be the setting for the March 14 meeting at 8 p.m.

Mr. Runk's program is one of a series of color motion pictures showing his bird sanctuary in the foothills of the Ramapo Mountains. He says that more than 170 species have sampled life there in the last few years.

Proceeds from the program will be turned over to a 4-H club project. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watt will preside at a dinner for executive board members at Fox and Hounds before the program.

Club Celebrates 4th Anniversary

A fourth anniversary party was enjoyed recently by members of the Sunset Club who gathered at Wilson School. The members each told why they joined the club. Tonette selections were given by Mrs. A. W. Neelands, Mrs. N. E. Armstrong and Mrs. Jennie Taylor.

Mrs. John Streit showed colored slides depicting past activities of the club. Alfred Gottschalk and A. W. Nixon of Walled Lake were guests of the group.

Probate Judge Outlines Program for Handling Juvenile Criminal Cases

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore today outlined a program for improving Michigan's system of handling youthful law violators.

The modern theory of criminology and the thinking behind juvenile courts is to design the process "to protect the public and do something for and about delinquents or criminals."

The modern concept also regards all youth as being trainable, at least until mature, Judge Moore stated.

Michigan has "gone a long way" toward these ends, Judge Moore said, but falls short of the goal "because it has no over-all plan and . . . inadequate facilities in the training of all youth that come in conflict with the law."

The state now has no correctional facilities "for the juvenile delinquent who becomes 17 soon after the offense," said the jurist.

"This makes it imperative for the juvenile court judge to waive jurisdiction over children who have committed serious offenses, so they can be tried as criminals, thus defeating the very philosophy which we strive for."

The case of Floyd Diamond, 16, who has confessed he killed 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin near her Farmington Township home Feb. 17, has pointed graphically to the need for immediate steps, said Judge Moore.

Moore waived jurisdiction over Diamond last Wednesday and the youth is charged with first degree murder under adult statutes.

The judge previously had committed Diamond to a home for the feeble minded at Lapeer, but said he was forced to waive jurisdiction because it would take possibly two years to get Diamond into Lapeer and the youth has to be given institutional care immediately.

Michigan needs both preventive and correctional programs for the public's protection and the reforming of juvenile character, the judge asserted.

"On the preventive side the public school systems are doing an excellent job in character training."

The schools would be aided by more public backing and "the right to withdraw children from bad home situations at an early age and place them in foster homes or in adoption . . ."

On the correctional side, he stated, two authorities are needed. One dealing with juveniles and non-criminal in character. The other, criminal, but not using punishment as its corrective force.

A boy or girl committing a serious offense while still under 17 years old would be placed under state jurisdiction and given "the proper care, training and education, if necessary until 21 or 25 years old, depending on the circumstances."

A counterpart to the juvenile system would operate in the criminal courts handling youths of 17 and over.

"It would operate much along the lines already advocated by Judge W. McKay Skillman, of Detroit. The youth violating the law could be tried in the criminal courts to determine the facts with a commitment to a state youth authority if found guilty."

This authority would have facilities for training the youth until he was at least 25 years old, said Judge Moore. But use corrective training, not punishment.

If at 25 the person still had not responded to treatment he could then be transferred to the state prison system.

Likewise, a youth under juvenile care could be transferred to the criminal division at some point before he reached 21 for further training, with a later commitment to prison if warranted.

In summing up his program, the judge asked "corrective facilities for care and training to handle the problem of every boy and girl or youth who becomes a law violator, until he becomes trained as a better citizen or ends in a state prison."

Cost of the program would be more than repaid in reduction of crime, he stated. A similar system is meeting success in California, Moore added.

"The main trouble with the problem of crime is that everybody talks about it and seldom is much done about it," he concluded.

Broadway Finds 'Cinderella'

Brooklyn Girl's Star Ascending

Patricia Marand Takes Over Lead in Bright Pajama Game

Cinderella really didn't leave for keeps. She just went away for a while and then came back named Patricia Marand.

Not so long ago, a very pretty and a very black haired, black-eyed Brooklyn miss turned down a college scholarship to study music. Shortly afterward, to her intense amazement, Broadway beckoned: And — hold your breath like she did — they asked her to sing as one of the nurses in South Pacific.

South Pacific is one of the great American stage classics, so Cinderella didn't open with a whistle stop.

A few weeks later she tried out for one of the leading roles in a new musical comedy and walked away with the part in Wish You Were Here. It played New York 17 consecutive months. Very, very few plays ever survive that long so Cinderella lived in New York City and also in absolute ecstasy at one and the same time. Well, wouldn't you, if you were only 18 and a nightly star in Gotham?

At the end of the engagement she returned to Brooklyn but the Great White Way called again and handed her the lead in the road company of Oklahoma and of course Oklahoma is one of the all-time greats of the stage. This ended shortly after the turn of the current year and Patricia was still only an astounding 20 years old.

Once more Brooklyn started to glory in her presence, but again she trooped back across Steve Brodie's favorite bridge and took a small part in The Pajama Game, understudying Janis Paige who played the lead.

Well, you know how it is with Cinderella. Miss Paige decided to take a vacation, so this week she plays the swaggering, rollicking lead in one of Broadway's two brightest musicals of the moment.

South Pacific, Wish You Were Here, Oklahoma, and now The Pajama Game sound like the triumphs of a well spent life but Miss Marand just turned 21.

Why, the little gal isn't even old enough to lose one of her slippers as she did in the original chimney corner production.

Hence, the Prince Charmings can assemble along with the movie scouts who join the sellout crowd this week to watch the lovely Patricia climbing another round in a ladder that points straight up.

Friend of the Court Believes Counselor Would Cut Divorces in Oakland County

"Ten per cent of the divorce cases handled by our office are reconciled and a full-time counselor on the staff could double that figure," W. Cadman Prout, Oakland County Friend of the Court, said today.

Prout heads the division which handles cases involving minor children. Of some 1,200 new cases which come to his office each year, he estimates one-fifth could be closed by reconciliation and many broken homes mended.

We get a case as soon as a bill of complaint is filed with the court," Prout explained. "An investigator from this office then interviews both parties and submits a report to assist the judge in deciding custody of children."

He emphasized that his investigators are merely fact-finders, and are not concerned with marriage counseling. "Even so," Prout said, "We manage to bring about reconciliations in about 10 to 15 per cent of the cases we handle."

Marital difficulties that lead to divorce suits are not usually insurmountable, Prout feels. As major causes of breakups, he listed money problems, in-law troubles, non-support and desertion, gambling and drinking, physical abuse and infidelity.

Many of these problems can be ironed out by a third party in separate and joint interviews with the estranged man and wife, he pointed out.

In reconciliation sessions conducted either by himself or a member of his staff, the first step is to determine the area of conflict and specific reasons for the breakup.

The interviewer then helps the couple arrive at a solution, generally based on a few simple rules that will help them avoid the things that caused their trouble in the first place.

Prout estimates at least half of the reunited couples remain together. He said a study is now underway to determine just how many of the reconciliations stick.

"If we had a full-time counselor to work on reconciliations," Prout says, "we could double the present number."

Waterways Director Quits; Cites 'Vacuum of Inactivity'

DETROIT (AP)—Describing Michigan as a "vacuum of inactivity," in its preparations for the St. Lawrence Seaway, Bert Robb has resigned as director of the state Waterways Commission.

Robb, a Detroit attorney and former Navy officer with extensive experience in shipping and cargo loading, has held the waterways director post since 1950. His resignation becomes effective March 31.

While many Great Lakes ports are planning or actually building multi-million dollar harbor improvement projects, Michigan "appears to be a vacuum of inactivity," Robb said.

His resignation parallels that of Max M. McCray, who last year quit his post as Detroit port director, charging the city had failed to plan any port facilities or give adequate power to the Port of Detroit Commission.

Robb also cited inadequate salary of the job of waterways director and the failure of the state Legislature to enact what he considers adequate marine safety laws as reasons for his resignation.

Moreover, he added, present state policies deny the Waterways Commission funds for planning and development in preparation for the seaway, which is expected to bring greatly increased shipping traffic to the Great Lakes.

Robb said present programming limited funds to development of recreational boating facilities and harbors. About $15,000 a year goes to the commission from tonnage taxes on Great Lakes freight and passenger ships, he said, but all of it is plowed back into recreational boating.

The post of waterways director calls for a naval engineer, Robb said, but the state has been unable to hire one for the $6,800 salary that goes with it.

He said he has had to continue a part-time law practice in order to retain the position.

Low salaries paid to draftsmen for the commission forced him to hire untrained personnel, Robb said. He also complained that his studies and recommendations to the legislature to marine safety have been "relegated to the waste basket." He added:

"I feel that my work as a harbor consultant and admiralty lawyer for cities and private industry will produce more results for Michigan than my present position."

Scientists Warn of H-Bomb Test Danger

NEW YORK (INS) — The Federation of American Scientists warned today that peacetime H-bomb tests may make "all the world a laboratory" and proposed a United Nations commission to study the danger to the human race.

The proposal was transmitted to the State Department and to U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge with suggestions that a study might lead to banning or limiting hydrogen explosions or to regulations that would assure safety.

The federation, which has 2,000 members, including many leading atomic scientists, said America must take the lead in urging controls because U.S. hydrogen explosions in the Pacific have stirred "antagonistic reactions" in Asia.

"Non-atomic nations are already clamoring for an H-bomb test ban," the 8-page proposal said, adding: "We must either persuade the Russians to join us in banning further tests, or hold them in another area, or persuade Asian nations the tests can be made in a manner not a threat to their peoples."

Citing the Atomic Energy Commission's Feb. 15 report that lethal radioactivity from an H-bomb could blanket an area nearly as large as New Jersey, the federation said "the detonation at Hiroshima is now dwarfed by the fury of the thermonuclear explosion."

A statement accompanying the proposal continued: "We may be approaching a point where we cannot be sure that we will not make all the world a laboratory and all living things the experimental object."

"We cannot forego another effort to do something about the mounting threats to all mankind caused by unrestrained continuance of the nuclear arms race . . . we cannot believe that mankind is unable to achieve limited cooperation in the face of the common danger . . ."

The initial U.N. commission would be authorized to establish a "danger threshold" for radioactivity. The federation said the commission's recommendation might lead to these steps:

1. Establishing an international agency to monitor radioactivity in the atmosphere and determine "the time, location, type and magnitude of atomic explosions anywhere in the world."
2. Limiting the total number of tests per year, or setting up safety precautions for tests of certain magnitudes.

The federation said more pressure might be sufficient for enforcement, and that "if it was necessary to use force to bring compliance, the policing actions would have the backing of world opinion."

If no action were necessary, the statement said, "a danger threshold would have been established that almost certainly would be exceeded in the event of a major atomic war.

"The nations would be well warned, and would be forced to take a more realistic attitude toward the consequences of atomic war and the necessity for armed limitations and control."

"At the very latest, the U.N. commission could restore the confidence of humanity that it need not drift uncontrolled, but can, through reason, at least set the limits to the processes which now appear to be inexorably setting the stage for self-destruction."

The federation mentioned a finding by the AEC that the radioactivity to which the average person has been exposed so far would not amount to as much as would be received from one chest X-ray, but said such assurances "seem to have been insufficient to convince" some people.

Although holding forth little hope for immediate Russian cooperation, the federation said the Soviets

"recent indication of willingness to join in a limited way in the atomic pool plan permits us to hope they might find further cooperation to their advantage."

The statement said: "If the Russians refuse to cooperate at the start and the commission is established by a majority of the other nations, then, when agreement is reached on the danger threshold, the Russians would be forced by world opinion to accept this conclusion."

The federation, which came into prominence several years ago by advocating civilian control of atomic energy, includes such atomic scientists as Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, N.J., Dr. Hans Bethe of Cornell University and Dr. Harold G. Urey of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Stanley Livingston of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is the federation's present chairman.

LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD—1
In the Woods

Once upon a time there was a girl called Little Red Riding Hood because she always wore a pretty red cape with a hood.

One day Little Red Riding Hood set out to see her sick grandmother who lived on the other side of the woods. She carried a basket filled with cookies. There were beautiful flowers in the dark green woods and Little Red Riding Hood picked some blossoms.

This is the first of a week-long series of cut-outs on this favorite story. Color the picture carefully, and remember to give the little girl her red cape and hood. Paste the picture on stiff paper and cut it out along the heavy outside lines.

Also cut along the dark lines on the top back part of Little Red Riding Hood's basket. Then you can slip the end of the flowers under the lid so she can carry them safely to her grandmother. Fold back the two side parts along the dotted lines and Red Riding Hood will stand up.

Tomorrow: Red Riding Hood meets the wolf.

Snake Charmer, Bitten by Cobra, Dies in Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Frieda Hoxter, 25-year-old German girl who came to the United States as the wife of a GI, died last night from the bite of one of the two cobras she used in her snake act.

The 25-year-old woman, who performed as "Princess Naja," was bitten on the left arm Friday night during a night club performance.

Mrs. Hoxter was separated from her husband, a corporal stationed at Ft. Meade, Md.

She had been bitten three times in less than three months, and had spent brief periods in St. Joseph's Hospital, the same institution in which she died.

Police Capt. Elmer Bowen ordered Mrs. Hoxter's two cobras and a python she used in her act taken from the club to the zoo, labeling them a "public menace."

Police officers in Italy and particularly in Rome are required to know and be able to speak at least one foreign language.

Woman, 3 Men Burn in Blaze at Cottage

WILMINGTON, Mass. (AP) — A woman and three men perished yesterday in a blaze which destroyed a converted six-room summer cottage near Silver Lake.

The victims were John Mead, 30; his wife Ruby, 35; John R. Stephens, 26, a boarder; and James R. Frotton, 50, a merchant seaman who visited the cottage Saturday night and decided to stay overnight. Cause of the blaze was not determined immediately.

Escalator Ride More Fun With Whole Family Along

By MARGARET LATHROP
Well, it sounded simple enough. "Go ahead," he said, packing for a long business trip. "Have some fun while I'm gone. Take the kids to town to see the ice show. Train ride, eating at an Automat, riding the subway—they would love it. And uh, there are lots of things you can do that will be fun—for them." Feeling tender and magnanimous, he left town. (The dirty bum!).

It's one thing to discuss such a plan for educational recreation of the young, in private. It's quite another to shoot off your trap within earshot of those about to be educated, bless them! — with only Mommy in charge of tickets, trains, coats, snow pants, chocolate sundaes, escalators and drinking fountains. And questions—of course, this indicates keen minds. (The big, dirty bum!).

Like she said, it sounded simple. Step up to the box office, early, and say "Three. Two children, one adult." Doesn't pay to reserve expensive tickets in advance, with the town full of measles. But every mother east of the Mississippi with two, four, ten—even twenty, had planned it the same way.

So all 4,000 of them were standing in line when the man announced the only seats left were under the stage where naught but daylight and darkness were determinable, where no popcorn vendor ventured, where the rest rooms were an hour away at brisk canter.

You know something? Wee ones can be very sharp on the uptake. In moments of crisis they can do sums faster than a bank teller. They weren't sitting under anything to see nothing, not at those prices.

So there was a pact. By subway to the big department store, up 10 floors via escalator, three laps around each toy counter and then just one little present, only a little one, instead of spending all that money on show tickets.

That, too, sounded logical, except that the same notion struck the entire ticketless multitude. To the great joy and consternation of a certain toy department.

And you know something else? That it's more darn fun riding escalators when you aren't going anywhere much but up and down? That there are more directions in stores than on compasses, with small fry working all points at a dead run? And that it's always wise to sit hard by the water cooler on any train whatsoever? Travel broadens some, but causes children to thirst.

(That big, sweet bum! — she thought. How could he know it would be so much fun? He's never tried it!)

Says Many New Gls Need Dental Repairs

KANSAS CITY (U) — Maj. Gen. Oscar P. Snyder, chief of the Army Dental Corps, says the percentage of young men entering the Army in need of a repair job on their teeth is the highest he can remember.

Snyder, here to speak today to the alumni of the University of Kansas City School of Dentistry, blames the bad teeth on World War II.

During the war, he said in an interview, a lot of dentists were in the armed forces. Father of young children were also in military service and many mothers held jobs. The result, he added, is fewer children received dental checkups.

Wolverine Athletes Win 2 Big 10 Titles

Michigan returned as an athletic power in the Big Ten over the weekend winning the track and wrestling championships and finishing a strong second in the conference swimming meet.

Bumpy Leading Swimmer in Big 10 Title Event

Wins 2 Events, Swims on Top Relay Team — OSU Grabs Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State, perennially a swimming power matched by few, had to go down to the wire to show its talent Saturday, but disappointed none of its fans.

When the 44th annual Western Conference swimming meet had ended, Ohio State emerged with 123 points. Michigan, which had been pressing throughout the meet, had 105½ — a worse showing than had been expected.

The victory was Ohio State's 7th in a row. Much of the victory can be attributed to the two diving events, which the teams split. There the Buckeyes got 31 to Michigan's 13.

Ohio State won 6 of the 14 events. Michigan took seven, including the high-point relays.

A dozen records fell as times were bettered in six events. Michigan's Jack Wardrop, one of the team's Scottish twins, set a 100-yard backstroke record of 56.5 seconds. Wolverine medley relay team's 2:49.3 was under the 2:50.7 record set by Ohio in 1952.

Michigan's Bumpy Jones, as was expected, won both breast-strokes and was on the 440-yard free-style team to lead with top honors.

Back of Michigan was Iowa with 33, Purdue 28, Michigan State 27½, Indiana 10, Wisconsin 10, and Illinois 7.

Osterman Wins Races

Final motorcycle races of the season on Walled Lake were held Sunday afternoon by the Liberty Motorcycle Club of Detroit with Jerry Osterman of Pontiac winning. Detroit cyclists took the next 3 positions, with Ronnie Moore of Pontiac finishing 5th among 20 entries.

NEW YORK — Bob Richards set a new Eastern record for the mile in 4:10.4, while the mile was won by the mile.

ARCADIA, Calif. — The 1000-mile race was won by St. Vincent. The 1000-mile race was won by St. Vincent.

lumbus, Illinois was stripped of two of its titles.

A well-balanced Michigan team ended Illinois' 4-year reign in indoor track at East Lansing by scoring in 13 of 15 events to pile up 67½ points. It was the Wolverines' first indoor track title in 10 years.

Michigan State, host team, finished 2nd with 46½ points and Illinois fell to 4th behind Indiana.

Michigan and Ohio State waged a great battle at Columbus but the Buckeyes managed to win their 7th straight swimming title.

Ohio State scored 123 points to 105½ for the Wolverines. Iowa was a poor 3rd with 33. Six new records were set with Ohio State swimmers establishing four of them.

'Muddy' Ruel Will Go Shopping for Reserve 2nd Baseman and Outfielder

LAKEHURST, Fla. (AP) — It's no secret here that general manager Herold (Muddy) Ruel of the Detroit Tigers plans to do some window shopping at other Florida baseball camps.

The Tigers stand in need of a reserve second baseman and may be a veteran utility outfielder — just in case.

The top Tiger brass is confident Fred Hatfield can fill Frank Bolling's shoes at second this season. But what happens if Freddy falls down and goes boom?

There's only one Reno Bertola, the 20-year-old bonus baby from Windsor, Ont.

And with that weighing heavily on his mind, Ruel will start camp crawling in about another week.

One stop — probably an early one — will be at West Palm Beach and the camp of the Kansas City Athletics. A good guess is that Ruel will make some kind of a pitch for shortstop Jack Littrell, a former Western Michigan College athlete; Joe Bevan, a utility infielder, or outfielder Gus Zernial.

Ruel says he's "not interested" in third baseman Jim Finnigan or pitcher Arnold Portocarrero. But if he isn't that makes him unique. Every other club in the league has been dickered for one, or both.

Hatfield, who is 30, hit .294 in 51 games as an infield handy man with the Tigers last season. And he is confident he can do as well this season. Bolling, who scotched Hatfield's chances for second last year, has gone into the service.

3rd Skating Tests End at Rolladium

Last race of the 3rd roller skating period at the Pontiac Rolladium was held Saturday. Finals for this period will be held March 12.

Sally Craig was the winner in Class A and Judy Greenhalp and Richard Smith taking honors in Class B. Class C victors were Nancy Morris and Gary Rehbine.

Motors Bowlers Pick Team for Big Tourney

Qualifications for General Motors Truck's entry in the National Industrial Bowling Tournament were held Saturday at Motor Inn Recreation with 45 GM bowlers participating.

The 5-man Pontiac team will participate in the NIBT at South Bend, Ind., March 26-27. Dick Carmichael paced the Coach delegation with 1158 pins in the 6 games. Other qualifiers included Earl Shoun (1102), Wally Bauman (1066) Jay Koprince (1056) and Bud Mathews (1056).

Michigan surprised the field in the wrestling championships at Minnesota by winning four titles and picking up 50 points to edge favored Iowa by a scant 4 points.

The Wolverines' point total in track was the highest in an indoor meet since the 1944 Michigan team compiled 75½ points.

Michigan won six individual championships and shared another. The Wolverine pace-setter was middle distance star Pete Gray, who captured the 880 and 1,000-yard runs.

Other double winners were Kevan Gosper and Edgar Brabham of Michigan State. Gosper doubled in the 440 and 600-yard runs, while Brabham won both the "99" and the broad jump.

Other UM winners were John Moule in the mile, Ron Wallingford in the 2-mile, Dave Owen in the shotput, Jim Love in the low hurdles and Mark Booth, tied for 1st in the high jump. Gosper's 1:11.3 in the 600-yard run broke a conference record, and Ralph Fessenden of Illinois tied his own mark in the 300.

County Dogs Capture Many Honors in Show

While the top show honors in the Detroit Kennel Club's annual exhibit at State Fair Coliseum Sunday, went to an Ohioan, Oakland County entries made a fine showing in the various breeds. Top dog was a Pomeranian, Eng. CH. Hadleigh Shining Gold of Davidson. He is owned by Dr. Donald Davidson and Robert Specian of Bath, Ohio.

County winners: Manchester Terriers—Sir Lancelot of Brader, Dr. E. S. Virgatus of Farmington; Longhaired Dachshunds—Gefengjagenheim Bengel, Gfengjagenheim Kennels, Birmingham; Schnauzers—Ch. The Montreal Canadiens and the Detroit Red Wings continue to streak along the National Hockey League trail today with the battle for 1st place still undecided.

Front-running Canadiens, hoping to end Detroit's six-year reign as champions, whipped the Chicago Black Hawks 4-2 last night, while the Wings kept pace with a 2-1 victory over the New York Rangers. The Boston Bruins pulled within two points of 2nd place Toronto by defeating the Leafs 2-1.

Montreal, leading the Wings by three points, has six games remaining while the Wings have only five to go.

Both teams boast lengthy unbeaten skews. Montreal has gone nine games without a setback, having won seven and tied two. Detroit has won five and tied two in its last seven starts.

Dickie Moore and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard scored in the last six minutes to provide Montreal's margin of victory. Butch Bouchard and Baldy McKay were the only Canadiens' marksmen, while Larry Wilson caged both of Chicago's goals.

Glen Skov's rebound with less than 2 minutes to go gave the Wings their victory. Alex Delvecchio had put Detroit ahead 1-0 in the 1st period on a fluke goal that took a weird bounce and caromed into the cage. Rookie defenseman Louie Fontinato of the Rangers collected his 1st NHL goal to tie the game in the 2nd stanza.

Gets Prison Term for Hunting Death

MARQUETTE (AP) — A Neagamee man has been sentenced to six months to two years in prison as the result of the deer hunting death of 17-year-old Richard Sexton, also of Neagamee, last Nov. 26.

Cyril A. Nocenti, 30, charged with reckless use of firearms, was sentenced Saturday by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson.

Jackson said Nocenti accidentally shot and killed the Sexton youth while deer hunting near Palmer.

Because Nocenti had no criminal record and had served in the armed forces during World War II, the judge said he was "very reluctant to sentence him to prison. But he added, "something has to be done to stop this careless use of firearms."

Hold Brother-in-Law in Shotgun Duel Death

YPSILANTI (AP) — Police today held Sam Washington, 39, of Ypsilanti, for investigation in the shotgun duel death of his brother-in-law, Norman Warren, 36, also of Ypsilanti.

Police said the gun battle Saturday night climaxed an argument between the two men. Washington was unhurt.

According to police the argument broke out in Washington's apartment. Warren left and returned minutes later with a shotgun. He fired a blast through the open apartment door at his brother-in-law but missed. Washington returned the fire and hit Warren in the chest.

First Columnist's Job Really Paid Big Money

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Do you remember your first job—and exact salary?

I can't honestly say I remember the very first. It was probably mowing some neighbor's lawn for a quarter.

But there's one job I do remember vividly—my "position" as a "boy columnist." My Beautiful Wife's always asking me to repeat the story.

I'm so tired of retelling it that I'm going to write it, then I'm going to get a lot of proof sheets printed up, and when the B.W. says, "Tell that story about your first job as a reporter," I'm going to whip out a proof and say: "Here. Read it."

Anyway, there I was, in the year 1921, or maybe '22, a freshman at Lima, O., Central High School... and a full-fledged newspaperman at 14.

I would cover football or basketball all week for the Lima Republican-Gazette—and then I would write "my column," as I called it, of high school news for the Sunday paper.

For this I received a stated salary every Friday at the cashier's window.

One Friday, I had a visitor: an older boy, a hero of mine, Bert Boyd.

Older? Four years older! He was a freshman at Ohio Wesleyan University. I wanted to impress him.

"How about going along to the Gazette while I drop off my column?" I casually asked him.

"O.K., Scoop," he said.

(I forgot to mention I had modestly given myself the nickname, "Scoop Wilson.")

I left him standing on the sidewalk while I ran in with "my column."

Then I went to the cashier's window.

Bert Boyd was standing outside looking in as I proudly pulled my salary envelope across the counter, opened it, and made sure I had it all.

"Yep, she's all there," I said, and sprang down the steps,—my salary tucked into my pants pocket.

"I'll never forget—though it's coming on 35 years ago—how Bert looked down his nose at me and said:

"How much do you get? About a dollar a week?"

"Ha Ha!" I laughed, being superior right back at him. Don't make me laugh." (That was the slang then.) "I get a LOT more salary than that."

And to prove to him that I was in the money, I bought him a chocolate malted at the first drug store we came to.

For I did get a lot more salary than $1 a week, I got $1.50 a week.

Mechanic Burned in Gasoline Blast

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Hadwin Mellor, 43, an automobile mechanic, suffered burns on his left hand and leg last night when a flash gasoline explosion wrecked the Hamlin Body Shop Garage near downtown Battle Creek.

The explosion touched off a fire which swept through the concrete block building, destroying seven automobiles parked inside, and causing damages estimated at $50,000.

Firemen battled the flames for an hour before bringing the blaze under control. Dense smoke blanketed the downtown area.

Mellor, who was alone in the garage at the time, told firemen he was draining gasoline from a car when the blast occurred.

Mind Own Business, Sailor Advises Son

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), in his weekly news letter today, said he received a note from a prospective mother-in-law asking why the Navy wouldn't let a sailor off his ship, in San Diego to marry her daughter.

The congressman contacted the ship and learned the young man hadn't asked for leave.

"Shortly thereafter I had a note from the sailor himself," Engle wrote. The note asked "why I didn't mind my own business."

3 Nations Seek Near East Pact

Saudi Arabia Joins Syria, Egypt in Plea for New Alliance

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia called last night for a new neutralist Arab military and economic alliance. It would replace the eight-nation Arab League set up after a near death blow by Iraq's recent defense pact with Turkey.

A joint Syrian-Egyptian communique said the two nations had reached "complete agreement" on principles of a pact to set up a joint military command and bar alliances with non-Arab nations.

Saudi Arabia's King Saud in Riyadh announced his governments' "full support" of the plan.

The three states said they would call a meeting of premiers and defense ministers of the Arab nations this month to work out details of the new pact. The other Arab nations are Lebanon, Jordan, Yemen, Libya and Iraq.

Syrian Foreign Minister Khaleel al Azem said in Damascus that Iraq would be invited to join in the new alliance only if she junked her pact with Turkey.

Egypt's drive for the new neutralist pact, seemingly doomed by Arab dissension less than a month ago, appeared to have received new life from the Israeli attack on the outskirts of Gaza a week ago.

The communique announcing the new alliance did not mention Israel by name, but a high Egyptian official said the proposed joint military command would "take strong measures against any new Israeli aggression."

Subway Passenger Waits for Nine Hours

LONDON (AP) — Walter Carr, 80-year-old owner of a hardware store, thought the service on the metropolitan subway line was unusually slow yesterday.

His train stayed in one place for nine hours.

Carr spent the wait dozing. He said later he figured there'd been a power failure or maybe an accident up ahead.

But by midnight he was becoming restive. He leaned out a window and asked a subway employee: "Are we going to be here all week?"

Only then did he learn he had missed the "all change" call at the Neasden station. The train was parked for the night on a siding.

Marlon Brando Decided to Be Actor Year Ago

By BOB THOMAS (First of three articles on Marlon Brando.)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marlon Brando plans to marry Josiane Mariani this summer.

He will attend the Academy awards—and in a tuxedo.

He didn't decide he wanted to be an actor until a year ago.

These are some of the facts uncovered in a unique interview with the muscular star, who is considered the kingpin in the acting field today. Nominated for an Oscar for the fourth year in a row. He's up for "On the Waterfront."

Brando is now preparing for his first musical, "Guys and Dolls." I met him in his dressing room at Samuel Goldwyn Studios, where he was going over the script with his co-star, Jean Simmons. Somewhat of a piker, he introduced her as Jean Herscholt.

Miss Simmons left and I started throwing questions at Brando. He dodged none of the queries, but answered them all. Sometimes a little too colorful for family newspapers.

What about his engagement to Miss Mariani, the daughter of a French fisherman?

"We plan to get married this summer," he replied. "I don't know exactly where the marriage will take place."

And the column reports that he was courting other girls?

"So much baloney."

Far from scoffing at the Academy awards, he plans to attend the March 30 event at the Hollywood Pantages Theater.

Does he hope to win?

"Well I'll tell you," he replied. "I think it's just as flattering to be nominated as it is to win. You are nominated by 13,000 people, your fellow actors. The final awards are voted by maybe 1,300 members of the Academy."

"Sure, it's an honor, and it's very pleasant to know that your work is appreciated. But I haven't thought much about winning or losing."

Brando, whose short hair swept forward over his classic forehead, wore a colorful outfit. Over the inevitable T-shirt was a light-colored sport coat and he had on harmonizing slacks and dark blue shoes and socks. A red silk muffler was wrapped around his neck and he wore dark glasses most of the time. He looked the role of the movie star.

What with owning tuxedos and hamburgers, it looked as though his dress habits have changed, I asked him about this.

"I'm not so much at odds with general conventions," he admitted. "If you're going to live in society, you have to make concessions. Even the wearing of clothes is a concession. You can't fight these things or people will beat you to death."

"And you can understand it. When you challenge their stand. You strike at the very heart of their existence. There's nothing to do but pay the price for living in society."

I asked if he could remember when he first wanted to be an actor.

"About a year ago," he replied. "That may sound ridiculous, but it's true. I fell into the acting business more or less by chance. I never really felt that it was what I wanted to do."

"But about a year ago, I thought that I had to do something in life. I knew the parlance of acting and I seemed to enjoy it. So I might as well be an actor."

Tomorrow — Brando reviews his hectic career in Hollywood.

Tax Cut Rapped by Dem Senator

Florida Solon Opposed to $20 Reduction OK'd by House

WASHINGTON (U.S. Sen. Holland (D-Fla.)) says he will oppose the $20-a-person income tax cut passed by House Democrats.

"We Senate Democrats were not consulted on the $20 reduction by our colleagues in the House," he said in a statement, "nor have we held any party conference on it, so the matter is not a party issue."

But pointing up its political significance, a Democrat who asked not to be named said he has no doubt that a "campaign document" is being prepared as the minority report of six Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee who supported the tax cut. He said it will be used in the 1936 campaign. Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and George (D-Ga.) voted seven Republicans on the committee to knock out the tax cut provision which the House had passed after a bitter partisan battle. Byrd said last week at least 10 Senate Democrats would support his stand on the Senate floor, but he declined to name them.

In addition to Holland, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said during the weekend he would oppose the cut on the ground resulting inflation might "result in our people actually losing money in the long run."

The tax cut would be effective on wages earned after next Jan. 1. House Democrats tacked it onto an administration bill to extend present corporation and excise tax rates, now due to drop April 1.

Sweden Gives Up; Plans to Lift Liquor Restrictions

STOCKHOLM, (U.S. Next Oct. 1 Swedes can walk into liquor stores and buy whatever they want and can afford—without restrictions of any kind.

They haven't been able to do that for 35 years. Authorities have discovered, however that making it legally difficult to drink does not necessarily curb drinking.

Sweden has never tried prohibition, but the rationing system of the past 35 years has been next to it. This complex system controlled by the government sets a theoretical limit to the quantity of liquor a Swede may drink and when.

Two-thirds of an ounce go with a restaurant meal. But the meal must be hot and cost at least 45 cents. Women get only half the men's liquor ration. The liquor stores are state-owned. To buy in them, a man over 25 must fill in a long questionnaire, obtain a certificate from the police and apply for a government permit allowing a maximum of three quarts a month. Married women get nothing at all while single women over 30 get a maximum of one quart a month.

The idea behind this system was that the rigorous control and the jungle of red tape should discourage buyers. But a six-year official investigation revealed that the restrictions have not curtailed drinking.

The restriction to three quarts a month caused people to buy and consume that amount if only to prove they could.

The investigation shows, moreover, that 1 Swede in 10 has been in conflict with the authorities for abusing the liquor legislation, and that drunkenness among teenagers has trebled in 20 years despite the fact that men under 25 and women under 30 cannot buy liquor legally. The numerous loopholes in the law make it easy for anybody to get hold of any amount of liquor—at any price.

Despite all this alcohol consumption per capita in Sweden has dropped by more than 50 per cent in the last 100 years. Today there is little alcoholism in the country-side.

Italian hotels are grouped into four classes, luxury, first, second and third classes. There are currently only about 40 establishments in the luxury bracket.

Homicidal Maniac Arrested as Drunk

PUEBLO, Colo. (INS) — A 39-year-old state hospital mental patient, described by authorities as a homicidal maniac, fled the institution early today and a short while later was unknowingly jailed by Pueblo police on a drunk and disorderly charge.

The patient, Robert A. Harding Jr., was admitted for the second time to the Pueblo institution on Dec. 30, 1932.

He was diagnosed as a victim of a "chronic brain syndrome"—a brain disorder which strikes the patient with painful head seizures usually leading to patterns of violent misbehavior.

Harding, who slipped away at 1:08 a.m., was picked up in a Pueblo tavern and jailed as a drunk. In his jail cell he apparently collapsed and struck his head.

When medical assistance was called in for him it became known he was a mental patient escapee.

MEN PAST 40

Troubled with GETTING UP NIGHTS
Pains in BACK, KNEES, LEGS
Thirstiness, LOSS OF VIGOR

If you are a victim of these symptoms then your troubles may be traced to Glandular Inflammation. Glandular Inflammation is a constitutional disease and medicines that give temporary relief will not remove the cause of your troubles. Neglect of Glandular Inflammation often leads to premature senility, and incurable malignancy. The past year men from 1,000 communities have been successfully treated here at the Excelsior Institute. They have found soothing relief and a new zest in life. The Excelsior Institute, devoted to the treatment of diseases peculiar to older men by NON-SURGICAL Methods, has a New FREE BOOK that tells how these troubles may be corrected by proven Non-Surgical treatments. This book may prove of utmost importance in your life. No obligation. Address Excelsior Institute, Dept. 5511 Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

Herriot Resigns as Lyons Mayor

Noted French Patriot,
Elder Statesman, Now
82, Seen Retiring

PARIS (INS)—France's 82-year-old elder statesman — stocky, pipe-smoking Edouard Herriot — has taken another step toward apparent political retirement. He resigned after nearly 50 years as mayor of Lyons.

Only a year ago he had resigned from the presidency of the French National Assembly.

Showered with honors, always strong and defiant in his stand for France above all, the ailing old man resigned in a typically Herriot protest against municipal political dissension.

He had been mayor of the large southeastern city through-out a great career as statesman, defier of Vichy, and beloved French leader.

He was first elected mayor of Lyons in 1905 at the age of 33. He had risen from humble birth to prove himself an able scholar and skilled enough writer to turn out a best-selling book — Madame Recamier and Her Friends — as a doctoral thesis.

Herriot was three times Premier of France — for less than a year in 1924, just one day in 1926 and in 1932 when he backed payment of the French war debt to the U. S. The act — which he later said gave him "the most beautiful day of my life" — turned French public opinion against his premiership.

He was a warm friend of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In 1940, when Marshal Henry-Philippe Petain signed the armistice with Hitler, he went into retirement. Two years later he signed a note of rebuke to the Vichy government. That act brought him and his wife prison in Germany.

Earlier in 1942, President Roosevelt, through secret channels, urged Herriot to escape and head the Free French abroad. Herriot refused, saying his place was with the French people.

Honors were shown upon him at the end of the occupation. He became president of the Radical Socialist (moderate) Party and a member of the Academie Française, France's "forty immortals."

About 38,000 Americans die annually in traffic accidents and three of five fatal crashes occur during night-time.

Woe Is Woo as Auto Crashes, Stork Lands

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A little woo that forgot to whoa is doing just fine today.

Eugene Woo, 25, was rushing his wife, Pui Chon Woo, 23, to the hospital yesterday for the birth of their second child when his car struck a parked auto. Amid the confusion the baby, a 6-pound, 15-ounce daughter, arrived.

Doctors from a nearby emergency hospital treated Mrs. Woo for a head cut and reported both mother, father and daughter in good condition.

Bacteria have no mouth parts and must take their food through their cell walls. Therefore it is impossible for them to develop without moisture.

Pier Angeli Recovering

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Hospital authorities said film actress Pier Angeli, injured in a plane accident, is in fine condition but they will not know for several days if she will lose her expected baby. The 22-year-old Italian-born actress suffered a fractured pelvis when she fell while aboard a plane Feb. 25. Her husband is singer Vic Damone.

California produces up to 65 per cent of all the asparagus packed in the U. S.
