Ike Puts Payments on Debt Ahead of Tax Cuts

Congress Gets Money Request to Combat Reds

Ike's Foreign Aid Plan for Asia, Middle East Could Total $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to provide new long-range economic weapons to fight communism in South Asia and the Middle East.

Under the plan, the United States could commit itself to a total of one billion dollars foreign economic spending in any area over a 10-year period, with a maximum outlay of 100 million dollars for such projects in any one year.

The request is due for a critical inspection on Capitol Hill, where many members have been urging (A) an end to all purely economic help abroad, and (B) a drastic scaling down of the administration's request for nearly five billion dollars in new foreign aid funds.

Rep. Richards (D-SC), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, told an interviewer the administration's plan to seek $4,900,000,000 in foreign aid appropriations—compared with the $2,700,000,000 Congress voted last year—will get "full consideration."

"I'm keeping an open mind," he said, "but I want to see the basis, the grounds for which they want this increase."

Secretary of State Dulles has said the appropriations stepup is needed mainly to build up the backlog so aid shipments can be kept flowing. He said actual spending next year will be about 200 millions above the estimated $4,200,000,000 this year.

Under the long-range formula, the government would be able to pledge assistance up to a maximum of 10 years. It would have to go to Congress for annual appropriations, however, which would give Congress the power of review or veto.

Gov. Williams Will Bow to Draft for Presidency

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan indicated yesterday he would accept the Democratic nomination for President if drafted.

But he later added "I'm not concerning myself with my own or anybody else's candidacy" for the presidential nomination.

Williams told a news conference in Los Angeles that "if the convention should choose to draft him, there is no American who could refuse to accept it."

Asked about the vice-presidency he replied:

"I don't quite know what I would do about the vice-presidency."

City Needs More Parking, Residents of Area Claim

In a random survey taken yesterday in downtown Pontiac, citizens of the city and its suburbs voiced a strong need for additional municipal parking lots in the city.

On Nov. 22 the City Commission adopted an ordinance for a $600,000 revenue bond municipal parking lot program which would provide for 624 5-cent-an-hour parking stalls in the city.

Action has been taken by a group opposing the program, to force a referendum election on the issue.

SNIDER

Ward Snider, 255 State: "Yes, we sure do need more municipal parking. I live on State street but have to park on West Huron many times because of lack of a closer space. We need at least one more big municipal lot like we have. There's a lot of people in Pontiac shopping out of the city because they can't find a place to park in the city."

McARTHUR

Leonard McArthur, of Oxford: "I work in the city and we definitely need more municipal lots. It was terrific around Christmas time to find a space. Right today I find it is almost impossible to find a spot."

Mrs. Clarence Hardenburg, of Sylvan Lake: "We certainly do need more lots, and I shop in the city many times a week. I am strongly in favor of more municipal lots because the expense of parking in privately operated lots is too high."

Mrs. Hardenburg

MEHLBERG

Henry Mehlberg, of Waterford Township: "We sure do need more parking lots especially if they can be put closer into the center of the city."

Mrs. Mae Oshel, 153 Michigan: "You hardly ever can find a place in the city to park, so I would say I would like to see more municipal lots. I gave up shopping in the city during Christmas because I couldn't find a place to park."

MRS. OSHEL

Irving J. Gordon, 37 Bloomfield Terrace: "We definitely need more city lots. It would help both business and shoppers and everybody else concerned coming into the city. My wife experienced great difficulty in finding a parking space during Christmas and she often gave up and came home."

GM's Aerotrain Arrives in Detroit on Trial Run

NEW YORK (AP)—The revolutionary, new, lightweight "Aerotrain" built by General Motors Corp. makes its formal debut today on two railroads.

A thousand miles apart, two separate units of the train, heralded by GM President Harlow H. Curtice as a "new concept" in railroading, appear on demonstration runs.

The New York Central Railroad will show one unit on the 283.5-mile trip from Chicago to Detroit. In the afternoon, the Pennsylvania Railroad puts the other unit through its paces on a run of 216.8 miles from Washington, D.C., to Newark, N.J.

The latter train will stop 10 miles short of New York because a city ordinance prevents diesel engines from using the river tunnels.

The GM train—a sleek, 10-coach job of aluminum and steel pulled by a jut-nosed diesel especially styled for it—is the latest entry in the field of lightweight trains.

Michigan Youth Is First Colorado Traffic Fatality

LIMON, Colo. (AP)—A 17-year-old Howell, Mich., youth was Colorado's first traffic fatality of the new year.

Edwin R. Baldwin died yesterday in a Simla hospital shortly after an automobile driven by his brother, Peter, 20, skidded off U.S. 4 about six miles west of Limon and overturned. The brother was not seriously hurt.

The Baldwins were returning from the Rose Bowl football game.

Navy Requests Atom Powered Surface Ship

Construction Bill Placed Before Solons to Speed Nuclear Age Progress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is being asked to authorize building of the first atom-driven surface warship and in other ways to speed the Navy's progress into the nuclear age.

A Navy ship construction bill introduced Tuesday by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee includes authority for:

1. A light cruiser, nuclear-propelled and intended to be used as a guided missiles launcher.

2. Six more atomic submarines. The one the Navy has in service and the second under construction for it are, so far as is known, the only atomic vessels in the world today.

3. Plans and designs for an atomic power plant to drive an aircraft carrier equivalent to the Forrestal, the biggest in the present fleet.

The bill also would authorize building one more conventionally powered carrier of the Forrestal class.

The authorization bill calls also for extensive construction of landing and patrol craft and modernization of a number of existing ships.

The Vinson bill was reported to be closely tailored to Defense Department plans for the Navy this year. It contained no expenditure figures, but unofficial estimates were that these would total in the same range as last year's program—about $1,300,000,000.

Contempt Charge by Ex-School Red Dropped by Judge

BOSTON (AP)—Leon J. Kamin, 27, former research assistant at Harvard University, was acquitted today by Federal Judge Bailey Aldrich of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions about Communist affiliations.

At a public hearing here two years ago, Kamin, now connected with Queens University, Kingston, Ont., refused to answer questions of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (D-Wis), sitting as a one-man subcommittee of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

Kamin had admitted being a Communist party member between 1945 and 1950.

The return was an increase of 15 cents per share over dividends paid June 30, 1955, Girard said. The stock has a par value of $10.

The bank will conduct its annual meeting of stockholders Jan. 17 at 10 a.m.

Bandit Takes a Loan

TILL EMPTIED — Beneficial Finance Co. clerks (l-r) Frieda Sleep, 18, of Milford, and Mrs. Janet Killian, 20, of Ortonville, examine the firm's empty cash drawer after a bandit held up the office yesterday afternoon, and made off with $150. Miss Sleep said the bandit had been in the office earlier, inquiring about a loan on furniture. The firm is located on the second floor at 7 W. Lawrence St.

Lone Gunman Takes $150 in Holdup of Loan Office

A mid-afternoon robbery in downtown Pontiac yesterday netted an armed bandit $150 in cash, Pontiac Police said.

The lone bandit held four employes at gun point at 2:15 p.m. in the second floor office of the Beneficial Finance Company, 7 W. Lawrence St. No customers were present.

Police said he is still at large, after escaping through the office front door.

The $150 was handed over after the man pulled a revolver on Assistant Manager Donald Dubats, 1695 Rockwell Ave., and showed him a note demanding money from the office safe, police said.

Dubats told Detectives James H. Laponsie and Robert A. Emery that he took all the bills in the office cash drawer and handed them over. Manager of the store, Gerald Harvey, of Drayton Plains, said the sum amounted to $150.

Another employe said the bandit then demanded money from the office safe, but Dubats told him there was no safe located in the office.

Clerks in the office at the time were Frieda Sleep, 18, of Milford, and Mrs. Janet Killian, 20, of Ortonville. Mrs. Killian said the bandit had visited the office earlier in the day, inquiring about a loan on some furniture.

"He said he would return later to talk to the manager," she added. The unshaven holdup man left with a warning that he would shoot anyone who left the office during the next three minutes.

Talks in Florida After Congress Hears Message

Expects That Budget Will Be Balanced This Year and Next

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

KEY WEST, Fla.—President Eisenhower told the nation today he will oppose any tax cuts until the federal budget is balanced and a start is made toward paying off the national debt.

Appearing before television and newsreel cameras in Key West to discuss his 1956 legislative program, Eisenhower used somewhat stronger language than in his formal State of the Union message read to Congress this noon.

He said he had "every expectation" that the budget will be balanced by June 30 and that he plans to send Congress a balanced budget for the next fiscal year.

But the President added:

"In this connection, I should mention our enormous national debt.

"We must begin to make some payments on it if we are to avoid passing on to our children an impossible burden of debt.

"And we will not talk about any reductions of any other kind until we have begun to make some modest payments on that."

Eisenhower also was more blunt in his televised remarks on the subject of cold war relations with the Soviet Union.

He said:

"We of course must be very careful in watching the tactics of the Communists. At times they smile, and at times they seem to threaten.

"Our own purpose is to remain steadfast in the pursuit of a world peace based on justice and not to be hysterical under their threats or to be beguiled too much by their smiles."

The President spoke from his office on the Key West Naval Base after a hurried breakfast with visiting President-elect Juscelino Kubitschen of Brazil.

He covered the highlights of the State of the Union message, speaking for about seven minutes.

Eisenhower listed the fact that the world is at peace as the outstanding accomplishment of his three years in office.

The State of the Union document contained no major surprises, but elaborated on the legislative program the President outlined for congressional leaders in December conferences at the White House.

It gives the impression that Eisenhower may be planning to spend another four years in the White House, but avoids any direct reference to his political future.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson was flying to Key West late today for a Friday conference with the President on the special

State of the Union Message Delivered This Afternoon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following is the text of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message to Congress today:

To the Congress of the United States:

The opening of this new year must arouse in us all grateful thanks to a kind Providence whose protection has been ever present and whose bounty has been manifold and abundant.

The state of the Union today demonstrates what can be accomplished under God by a free people; by their vision, their understanding of national problems, their initiative, their self-reliance, their capacity for work—and by their willingness to sacrifice whenever sacrifice is needed.

In the past three years, responding to what our people want their government to do, the Congress and the executive have done much in building a stronger, better America. There has been broad progress in fostering the energies of our people, in providing greater opportunity for the satisfaction of their needs and in fulfulling their demands for the strength and security of the republic.

Our country is at peace, our security posture commands respect. A spiritual vigor marks our national life. Our economy, approaching the $400 billion mark, is at an unparalleled level of prosperity. The national income is more widely and fairly distributed than ever before.

The number of Americans at work has reached an all-time high. As a people, we are achieving ever higher standards of living—earning more, producing more, consuming more, building more and investing more than ever before.

Virtually all sectors of our society are sharing in these good times. Our farm families, if we act wisely, imaginatively and promptly to strengthen our present farm programs, can also look forward to sharing equitably in the prosperity they have helped to create.

War in Korea ended two and a half years ago. The collective security system has been powerfully strengthened. Our defenses have been reinforced at sharply reduced costs. Programs to expand world trade and to harness the atom for the betterment of mankind have been carried forward. Our economy has been freed from governmental wage and price controls. Inflation has been halted; the cost of living stabilized.

Spending Cut

Government spending has been cut by more than ten billion dollars. Nearly three hundred thousand positions have been eliminated from the federal payroll.

Taxes have been substantially reduced. A balanced budget is in prospect.

Social security has been extended to ten million more Americans and unemployment insurance to four million more. Unprecedented advances in civil rights have been made. The long-standing and deep-seated problems of agriculture have been forthrightly attacked.

This record of progress has been accomplished with a self-imposed caution against unnecessary and unwise interference in the private affairs of our people, of their communities and of the several states.

If we of the executive and legislative branches, keeping this caution ever in mind, address ourselves to the business of the year before us—and to the unfinished business of last year—with resolution, the outlook is bright with promise.

Many measures of great national importance recommended last year to the Congress still demand immediate attention — legislation for school and highway construction; health and immigration legislation; water resources legislation; legislation to complete the implementation of our foreign economic policy; such labor legislation as amendments of the Labor-Management Relations Act; extension of the Fair Labor Standards Act to additional groups not now covered, and occupational safety legislation; and legislation for construction of an atomic-powered exhibit vessel.

Many new items of business likewise require our attention—measures that will further promote the release of the energies of our people; that will broaden opportunity for all of them; that will advance the Republic in its leadership toward a just peace; measures, in short, that are essential to the building of an ever-stronger, ever-better America.

Every political and economic guide supports a valid confidence that wise effort will be rewarded by an even more plentiful harvest of human benefit than we now enjoy.

Our resources are too many, our principles too dynamic, our purposes too worthy and the issues at stake too immense for us to entertain doubt or fear.

But our responsibilities require that we approach this year's business with a sober humility.

A heedless pride in our present strength and position would blind us to the facts of the past, to the pitfalls of the future. We must walk ever in the knowledge that we are enriched by a heritage earned in the labor and sacrifice of our forebears; that, for our children's children, we are trustees of a great Republic and a time-tested political system; that we prosper as a cooperating member of the family of nations.

In this light, the administration has continued work on its program for the Republic, begun three years ago. Because the vast spread of national and human interests is involved within it, I shall not in this message attempt its detailed delineation. Instead, from time to time during this session, there will be submitted to the Congress specific recommendations, within specific fields. In the comprehensive survey required for their preparation, the administration is guided by enduring objectives. The first is: The discharge of our world responsibility.

Our world policy and our actions are dedicated to the achievement of peace with justice for all nations.

With this purpose, we move in a wide variety of ways and through many agencies to remove the pall of fear; to strengthen the ties with our partners and to improve the cooperative cohesion of the free world; to reduce the burden of armaments, and to stimulate and inspire action among all nations for a world of justice and prosperity and peace. These national objectives are fully supported by both our political parties.

In the past year, our search for a more stable and just peace has taken varied forms. Among the most important were the two conferences at Geneva, in July and in the fall of last year. We explored the possibilities of agreement on critical issues that jeopardize the peace.

The July meeting of heads of government held out promise to the world of moderation in the bitterness, of word and action, which tends to generate conflict and war.

Continued Threat

All were in agreement that a nuclear war would be an intolerable disaster which must not be permitted to occur. But in October, when the foreign ministers met again, the results demonstrated conclusively that the Soviet leaders are not yet willing to create the indispensable conditions for a secure and lasting peace.

Nevertheless, it is clear that the conflict between international communism and freedom has taken on a new complexion.

We know the Communist leaders have often practiced the tactics of retreat and zigzag. We know that Soviet and Chinese communism still poses a serious threat to the free world. And in the Middle East recent Soviet moves are hardly

Senator Denies Probe of 'Times'

Feud Emerges as Paper Employes Testify Before Investigators in Capital

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate internal security subcommittee called another New York Times employe for questioning today as a feud erupted between the newspaper and the investigators over the inquiry.

Otto Albertson, described by a subcommittee aide as a proofreader, was to be the day's first witness and the fourth man from the Times to be questioned in two days.

Of four other witnesses quizzed yesterday in the Senate group's investigation of Communism all but one had worked for the Times in the past.

However, subcommittee chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) described as "bunk" a Times editorial charging that the influential newspaper had been "singled out" for attack.

ANGRY EDITORIAL

The newspaper charged that it was being hit because of its opposition to "many of the things" for which the committee leadership stands. It named Eastland, Sen. William Jenner (R-Ind.) subcommittee member, and the group's counsel.

U. S. Fails to End Westinghouse Strike

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Efforts by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service to end the stormy 12-week-old strike at plants of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. failed yesterday in Philadelphia.

After all-day talks between representatives of the company and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, Joseph F. Finnegan, head of the federal agency, issued a statement of failure to settle the issues.

He couples this, however, with an appeal to both parties to submit their differences to an impartial fact-finding board.

Union officials immediately offered to have the 45,000 strikers return to their jobs on condition that Westinghouse agrees to be bound by the findings of the board and not discriminate against any striker.

In Pittsburgh, Westinghouse issued this statement on the proposal:

"We would like to study it. And also the qualifications that Mr. Carey has placed on it. These qualifications change the original proposal so substantially that he has in effect rejected it."

In Mansfield, Ohio another 300 strikers milled around the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant today, shouting insults at retturning workers, overturning a car and reportedly throwing rocks and punches.

Goodrich Family Receiving Help Following Fire

Many families are coming to the aid of the Truman Smith family of Goodrich who lost their home and its contents in a $20,000 fire New Year's Day.

The former owner of the destroyed home at 4673 Shifman Rd., Mrs. Jack Johnson, of 109 Green St., Pontiac, said today that nine families had donated clothing for the Smiths' 15 children.

"We still need clothing for the 4-year-old boy and the 5-year-old girl, plus more bedding and milk for the kids," said Mrs. Johnson.

When the fire Sunday leveled the Smiths' 10-room farm home, it marked the second time in months that tragedy had struck the large family. In October, their barn with cattle and riding horses trapped inside, was destroyed by fire.

The family is presently living with Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Roy Baker, of 5610 Croswell, Pontiac.

C. F. DICK

Named Assistant Sales Manager

Coach Division Promotes C. F. Dick to Top Post; Representative Picked

The promotion of C. F. Dick to the post of assistant general sales manager of the Coach Division of GMC Truck & Coach Division was announced today by E. P. Crenshaw, division general sales manager.

Dick will move to Pontiac from Los Angeles, Calif., where he has served as regional manager on the West Coast for the past five years.

A 32-year veteran of the bus industry, Dick joined the company in 1923 when the original firm, the Yellow Cab Manufacturing Co., had its headquarters in Chicago. He was advanced to assistant sales manager of taxicabs when Yellow Cab became part of Gentral Motors.

Dick joined the Coach Sales Dept. after taxicab production ceased, becoming distribution manager in 1944 and executive assistant to the sales manager in 1946.

In another appointment, the division named Mitchell A. Samuelson coach representative for the territory comprising Arizona, Nevada and Southern California.

County Asks Release of Murder Suspect

Local authorities, faced with lack of evidence, today requested Chicago police to lift a hold placed on a 70-year-old suspect in a 1928 poker game murder case here.

As a result, Judge James A. Geroulis of Chicago Jury Court reduced a $10,000 bond to $500 and ordered the man, known in Chicago as "Will Marshall," to appear Jan. 20 on charges of gambling and carrying a concealed weapon.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George B. Taylor said he requested the hold be lifted after four weeks of investigation here failed to turn up sufficient evidence to extradite the man to Michigan.

Jail Gets Praise From Inspector Following Tour

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons' renovated jail was praised yesterday by State jail inspector W. H. Nestle in a letter to Floyd Andrews, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Nestle, who inspected the jail recently, commented:

"Sheriff Irons and his staff are to be commended on the outstanding supervision they are giving this jail."

A cleanup program of painting and alterations recently was completed in the jail.

Nestle recommended for the consideration of the board of supervisors the employment of two additional turnkeys, adding that with this improvement "the Oakland County Jail could become one of the finest in the country."

New officers were installed when the Pontiac League for the Blind held its first meeting of 1956 last night at 152 W. Lawrence St.

Ike Outlines Plans for Home, Abroad agriculture message which will be sent to Congress Monday.

To meet the Russian threat, he called, among other things, for a stepped-up foreign aid program and asked Congress "to grant limited authority to make longer term commitments for assistance to such projects, to be fulfilled from appropriations to be made in future fiscal years."

Eisenhower's legislative program also called for:

1. A 25-billion-dollar program of federal aid to highways such as Congress failed to approve at the last session. Eisenhower suggested merely "an adequate plan of financing," rather than insisting on the long-term borrowing program which caused the highway plan to bog down last year.

2. Farm legislation, including a soil bank program as part of "a many-sided assault on the stubborn problems of surpluses, prices, costs and markets." The program will be detailed in a special message next week.

3. A five-year program of federal aid to school building. This, too, will be outlined in greater detail in a later message.

4. A two-year slum clearance program calling for 35,000 public housing units in each of the two years.

5. Creation of a bipartisan commission to investigate charges that in some localities Negroes are being denied the right to vote.

6. Statehood for Hawaii — something the President has repeatedly asked and Congress has refused to approve. Eisenhower said he hoped "progress toward statehood" for Alaska also could be made at this session.

7. Revision of the immigration law so the number of persons admitted to this country each year could be based on the 1950 census rather than that of 1920. Eisenhower also asked amendment of the 1953 Refugee Relief Act so more immigrants can come from Greece and Italy and from the ranks of Iron Curtain escapees.

Clearing House for Draper Aid Is Established

Offers of assistance for the family of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Draper are now being accepted at the offices of the Urban League of Pontiac, 28 Orchard Lake Ave., officials announced today.

A fire last week gutted their home at 86 Gillespie St., and 8 of the 10 children are currently being housed in the Oakland County Children's Home.

Two of the youngsters are with their mother, Mrs. Lois Draper, who is staying with relatives. No one was injured in the blaze. Draper is employed at Pontiac Motor Division.

Donations of money, clothing or furniture will be welcome, according to league officials.

Publishers, Unions Weigh New Offers

DETROIT (AP) — New proposals have been made by both sides in a jurisdictional dispute that has been snagging a settlement of the Detroit newspaper strike, which entered its sixth week today.

The latest proposals were placed on the bargaining table last night by the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Assn. and the Printers Union, one of three unions on strike.

Negotiations then were recessed to give both sides time to study the offers.

Earlier yesterday the publishers held a session with five other newspaper craft unions to present management's side of the knotty jurisdictional matter.

The issue involves union jurisdiction over a number of new printing processes, although none is yet in operation at any of the three papers — the morning Free Press and the afternoon Times and News.

Bargaining meetings were scheduled for today between the Detroit News and Times and the Photo-Engravers Union; between the News and the Newspaper Guild, which represents only maintenance workers at that newspaper, and between the Free Press and Guild, which represents editorial and business office employes there.

Examination Demanded by Suspect in Stabbing

Suspected of stabbing the 18-year-old son of his landlady, Jonathan P. Messer, 27, of 34 Bellevue St., demanded examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Tuesday.

Finnegan freed Messer on $100 bond and set examination for Jan. 18. Police accused Messer of stabbing Donald McClan Dec. 30, when the youth complained of a noisy party in Messer's upstairs apartment.

Asks for New Trial

DETROIT (AP)—Charles R. Morley, 19, of Grosse Pointe Farms, has appealed for a new trial after receiving a year's jail sentence for aggravated assault. He was convicted of the unprovoked beating of 16-year-old Robert Demrose, who suffered three facial fractures and other injuries. Morley was released under $500 bond pending disposition of his appeal.

The Day in Birmingham

Two Films to Point Up Warning to City Children

BIRMINGHAM — A threatening danger to local children will be pointed up in two films to be previewed by Adams Parent-Teacher Assn. at its Monday meeting, and later will be shown to all the city's school children.

"The safety of our children in relation to the rising number of sex perverts occasionally operating in the Birmingham area" is the topic announced by the PTA for its meeting. The two films are "Dangerous Stranger," pertaining to elementary school children, and "Name Unknown" dealing with teenage safety. Both stress precautions children should take when accosted by strangers.

The meeting will also feature an interview between a police official and a Detroit newspaperman on children's safety, according to Program Chairman Don Parry.

The program comes as a follow-up to the PTA council's committee meeting held in October that decided on actions to protect children attending Birmingham theaters during Saturday afternoon cartoon shows. These cartoons attract an occasional deviate seeking an excuse to get near the children, according to the council.

Two fathers have volunteered to be present at each Saturday showing to help patrol the theaters, as a result of the council meeting.

That meeting was attended by Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley, Adams Principal Noah Blosser, and Vice President Bob Ellerby, and parents from other schools.

The two films were made available by Chief Moxley and the Detroit Public Library, and will be shown to children during class time. Four local service clubs which have purchased the pictures are the Exchange, Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs.

United Church Women will install Mrs. Newell Allen as president at their annual meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the First Baptist Church. Vice presidents are Mrs. Charles Breitmeyer, first; Mrs. Fraser Pomeroy, second; and Mrs. Donald Tracy, third.

Other officers are Mrs. Stewart Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Paul McNutt, recording secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Norton, corresponding secretary. Nominating committee for the recent election includes Mrs. George H. Coleman, Mrs. Richard Fowler and Mrs. Harry Martin.

Changing plans Tuesday evening just before installation, Pythian Sisters Temple No. 94 installed Mrs. Forest Moyer as most excellent chief to lead their group instead of Mrs. Holland Gowans. Mrs. Gowans, elected two weeks ago, declined the post because of sudden illness of her daughter, and took the manager's post instead.

Holy Name PTA will meet Monday night, with classroom conference set for 7 p.m. and business at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

A Junior High schoolers' youth program is slated for tomorrow from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Community House, with dancing, games, and light refreshments planned.

Sponsors of the event are the Birmingham Youth Committee, the Community House and the Ferndale-Pleasant Ridge Community Center. Peter Lewandowksi, staff adviser of the latter, is directing the event and Dr. and Mrs. William Squires and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zimmer will be greeting the guests, from the Birmingham school district. Four comittees of youngsters have planned the event.

Mrs. Gladys LaCross of Royal Oak, an employee at Beck Cleaners, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, yesterday morning, after a fall at work in which she broke her arm.

Two Streets Get New Lighting

Fluorescent Equipment Placed on Parke, Pike as Experiment

A new fluorescent street light system has been installed on two streets bordering the City Hall, John W. Emerson, city electrical superintendent announced.

Six of the lights are located on Parke street while four are on Pike street. Emerson said the remaining four of the planned 14 will be installed this spring.

The lights, which have twice the light output of standard lamps, were installed and are being operated under a Consumer Power Co. experiment.

Pontiac is the first Michigan city to test the use of this kind of equipment under the Consumers Power system, Edward L. Karkau, Consumers district manager said.

Each light has four six-foot fluorescent lamps housed under a protective plastic cover. The poles stand 30 feet while the standard lights measure 25 feet.

The lighting project is an experiment to determine whether a city street can be lighted sufficiently from one side, Emerson said.

Male Chorus Set to Sing Locally on February 11

An inter-city male chorus sing Feb. 11 in Pontiac High School gymnasium will be co-sponsored by the MacDowell Male Chorus of Pontiac and the Pontiac Exchange Club, officials announced yesterday.

Over 300 members of eastern Michigan male chours clubs, members of the Michigan Male Chorus Association, will sing in the joint concert.

Participating clubs are from Ann Arbor, Detroit, Flint, Midland, Port Huron, Pontiac, and Wyandotte. The Pontiac High School Boy's Glee Club also will participate.

Exchange Club president Leslie Ware said tickets are available from club members and members of the MacDowell Chorus.

New Circuit Judge Starts With a Rush

Oakland County's new circuit judge, Clark J. Adams, put in a busy first session yesterday.

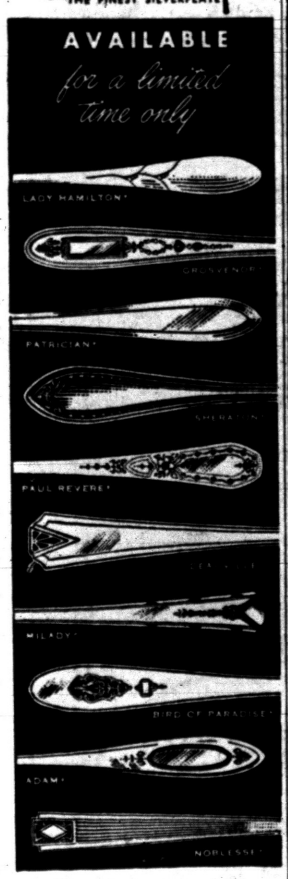

Judge Adams' initial full-day appearance on the bench saw him dispose of four civil cases. He was installed Tuesday.

Massachusetts Faces Gas Hike

Governor Asks Highway Bond Issue Financed by 6 Cent Tax Jump

BOSTON (AP) — Republican Gov. Herter has asked the Massachusetts Legislature to vote a 200-million-dollar highway bond issue—and finance it with a sixth cent in gasoline taxes.

The highway proposal was one of the things the legislators left undone last year, should complete during the coming session, the governor said in his fourth annual message.

MAJOR PROPOSALS

Major proposals in his 1956 program included:

1. Amendment of unemployment compensation to bring benefits more in line with wages earned.
2. State support for federal insurance.
3. Amendment of the constitution to provide for 4-year terms instead of two for governors and for reduction of the voting age to 18.
4. Creation of a Massachusetts port authority to take over port and other travel operations in Greater Boston.
6. Support for a coordinated program on the Greater Boston commuting problem.
7. Another 15 - million - dollar housing program for the elderly.
8. Adoption of an atomic energy licensing act to pave the way for development of the industry in this state.

The governor said "I greatly regret" the failure of the Legislature last year to increase unemployment benefits from the present $25 weekly to $30 weekly. The governor's proposal was defeated when organized labor and the Democratic House insisted on a $35 weekly benefit level.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—State Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) wants prompt legislative action to authorize a 237-mile turnpike from the Ohio border to the Straits of Mackinac. He told a civic club Tuesday that such a toll road "could well be the most important development in Michigan in many years."

Beef, Pork, Lamb Return as Meat Counter Specials

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are getting back to normal this week in the nation's food stores; the old standbys, beef, pork and lamb, again head specials at the meat counters.

Now the family has had its holiday turkey and ham, the housewife will find various types of beef roasts and steaks featured. Beef prices remain unchanged. One major chain offers pot roast and boneless chuck at four to six cents a pound below last week's prices.

Little change in prices of loin veal chops and leg of lamb, is seen. One chain has upped prices on loin pork chops. Frying chickens also will cost from two to 10 cents a pound more. Eggs are generally higher.

The Department of Agriculture calls beef "one of the leading foods on the list of plentifuls for January." It says beef production reached a record 13,600,000,000 pounds in 1955.

In the vegetable market, potatoes edged up a bit during the past week. Canadian turnips and iceberg lettuce also jumped.

Listed as good buys are onions, cabbage, bunched carrots, cauliflower, cucumbers, peppers, sweet potatoes and bunched beets.

Best values in fruits are apples, limes, oranges, grapefruit and tangerines.

Archbishop of York Named by Elizabeth

LONDON (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Arthur Michael Ramsey, Bishop of Durham since 1952, today was named Archbishop of York.

Queen Elizabeth appointed the 51-year-old bishop as second ranking prelate of the Church of England to succeed the late Dr. Cyril Garbett, who died Saturday.

Dr. Garbett's ashes were interred yesterday in York Minster, the Saxon-Norman cathedral of the Archbishops of York.

Uruguay President Freed of Part in Duel

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — A court of honor has decided Chief of State Luis Batlle Berres doesn't have to fight a duel with publisher Washington Guadalupe because of an editorial the President's paper wrote about the publisher.

Guadalupe's El Nacional accused the President of protecting private interests and serving as a financial editor for the editor of Batlle Berres' paper, Accion. Accion replied that the critics must be "low - minded" with "dirty souls." Then Guadalupe issued his challenge.

Dueling is legal in Uruguay only after a court of honor rules there is no other way of settling the dispute. The special tribunal decided Batlle Berres and Guadalupe had no cause for bloodletting.

2 Reserve Units Ask Training Sites Here

Two proposals for making Pontiac more efficient militarily, and a third for making it more beautiful are coming in for timely discussion.

The first two are of special interest to Pontiac's military reserve units. From Fifth Army Headquarters has come a request to the City Commission that five acres of the City owned dump on Orchard Lake Ave. be set aside for military purposes.

At the same time City Manager WILLMAN revealed that the Michigan National Guard had asked for an adjacent 10 acre plot. This presumably would be the site of a new National Guard Armory.

The Fifth Army communication pointed to the possibility of an Army Reserve training center being built on the five acre plot in 1957.

Such a possibility was strengthened by the announcement from Major GROTELUESCHEN, unit advisor on all Pontiac reserve activities. He said that under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 it will be necessary to add a fourth unit in the Pontiac area. Quarters now being used for training of reservists are wholly inadequate.

If Pontiac is going to give its reserve units the kind of cooperation they need, these two requests deserve sympathetic consideration.

The third proposal is born of the fact that Pontiac's old City Hall has been razed and that later, when a new National Guard Armory is built on the proposed Orchard Lake site, the present National Guard Armory on Water Street will also be razed.

Ultimately, the old City Hall and the adjacent Armory sites will become part of a public park in the downtown area. Such a development obviously in years to come would add greatly to the beauty of the entire new City Hall property.

Kalkaska Base Okayed

People all over Michigan should be relieved by news that the last legal obstacle to construction of the Air Force's jet base at Kalkaska has been removed.

This came when the State Administrative Board approved lease of the property for the base. Under terms accepted by Kalkaska and Grand Traverse Counties, the Air Force will have 99 year possession of the site.

The two counties won't be able to collect taxes on the property. But they and a large area of outstate Michigan will benefit economically from construction of the base. The original expenditures planned will approximate $25,000,000. Ultimately, however, a total of $75,000,000 may be spent.

The great benefit to the whole area, of course, will come from the payrolls of the 5,000 Air Force and civilian personnel eventually to be housed there. For the people of the entire State, however, the important thing will be the resulting improvement in our air defense of the Soo Locks and other strategic points.

The political fight over this base has been long and stormy. At first a site in Benzie County was chosen. Later Cadillac was favored until the Kalkaska-Grand Traverse property finally was accepted.

It is good to know that at long last this vital defense issue has been resolved.

State Figures Prove Care Does Save Lives

Motorists of Michigan proved again what two national Safe Driving Days already had proved—that careful driving does save lives.

The payoff was a New Year weekend traffic toll of only 23 dead. This was in relieving contrast to the shocking slaughter which cost 40 lives in Michigan during the Christmas weekend.

The same can be said nationally. New Year weekend fatalities numbering 356 fell 64 below the predicted 420. This was an almost magical improvement over the Yule weekend when 609 Americans, or 49 more than predicted, lost their lives in traffic.

Perhaps the snow which began falling Monday made drivers more careful. Perhaps it was the memory of the terrible Christmas weekend. Whatever the cause it should remind all motorists again to make every day of the year Safe Driving Day.

ASKED if he believed Friday is an unlucky day, the Old Sorehead replied, "Yes; I don't know no reason to consider it an exception."

The Man About Town

Welcome, Clark

Oakland County's Fourth Circuit Judge Installed

Optimist: Anybody who tries every method he hears to cure a cold.

The architect of this column wishes to add his personal congratulations to

and Oakland County on his donning of the toga. When a boy we ran cattle for his grandfather, a country stock buyer. Our acquaintance with his family, covering nearly three-quarters of a century, runs through five generations, with Clark in the middle position. At his installation, speaking for the older members of the bar,

Glenn C. Gillespie

did his usual good job, and

giving the welcome for the young disciples of Blackstone, surely gave evidence that he's a comer among Oakland County attorneys.

Frankly admitting that he has a system that many of us might emulate, to take off the excess weight gathered during the holiday feasting, of Clarkston now is on his annual January starve, which he asserts is the only way to do it.

Jack Fessenden

According to Executive Secretary, of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, receipts on the seal sale have passed the $50,000 mark, and are running considerably ahead of last year.

Alva R. Musson

Oakland County's oldest twins,

Mrs. Ellen Hallett and Mrs. Sarah Langdon, both of 4380 Green Lake Road, are preparing to celebrate their eighty-fourth birthday on Jan. 13.

A phone call from

of Pontiac Lake says: "You cannot be too strenuous in warning people to keep off the ice on any lake in the vicinity of the place where a stream enters or leaves it. They're all death traps, even in the coldest weather."

A solution to the garbage question was offered at a meeting of the Keego Harbor council this week:

Eat out.

It is a rare winter, according to

Lee O. Brooks,

Chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission, when the snow plows are not given some healthy workouts before the coming of the new year. They're still in moth balls this winter.

In charge of that work at

Pontiac Motor Division

it surely is no wonder that

W. J. Malinowski

went poetic in making some of the recent suggestion awards.

The Only Alternative

David Lawrence Says:

'Fund for Republic' Would Serve Nation by Printing Senate Data on Communism

WASHINGTON—There's a chance for "The Fund for the Republic" to redeem itself and meet the argument of its critics that the $14,000,000 fund originally donated to it by the Ford Foundation for "education" on American principles of government has not been used for that purpose.

Heretofore the money has been spent to distribute various books and pamphlets and to support projects on one side of the controversy about the Communist Party in the United States. Only materials that tend to show the Communist Party is merely a political party—not a conspiracy directed by a foreign government—and also booklets that tend to minimize the problem of "security risks" have thus far been distributed with the Ford money.

Now, however, the subcommittee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary which has been investigating the whole internal security problem has issued a 100-page "Handbook for Americans." It tells how the Communist Party works. This pamphlet can hardly have a wide circulation, as there is no fund in Congress to send out millions of copies to the citizens.

But, if "The Fund for the Republic" wishes to prove its impartiality and disinterestedness, the booklets can be obtained by it at cost from the Government Printing Office and sent to every school and college and to every member of every university faculty and to every writer, every schoolteacher and every clergymen in the country as well as to members of all civic and fraternal organizations.

FEW WOULD FALL

The booklet was authorized by the senate subcommittee and, in its foreword, is the following statement:

"We earnestly believe that, given a more accurate knowledge of the Communist conspiracy, fewer Americans will fall victim to its wiles."

But Robert M. Hutchins, former president of the University of Chicago, now president of "The Fund for the Republic," gives the impression that he believes the Communist Party is just another political party and hence is being persecuted.

PECULIAR PROCEDURE

One of the Hutchins projects calls for payment to a prominent Communist for information on the workings of the Communist Party, but with the understanding that he is not to be questioned on the conspiratorial phases of the Communist Party's work. This is a strange way to get information from a Communist agitator who refuses to tell what he knows to the government of the United States, yet asks that same government to give him protection under the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution.

If it is so necessary to pay Ford money to Communist witnesses, why wouldn't it be better to let the American people read copies of the testimony sworn to under oath by Communists and ex-Communists who know the full story of all phases of the Communist Party activity in America? The new handbook touches only the high spots, but there have been extensive hearings on these same subjects which have been printed by Congress. These are also available for distribution by "The Fund for the Republic" if it really wishes to be impartial and present "both sides."

The new handbook says the Communist Party is not a true political party and differs fundamentally from all political parties in this country. It is in fact a Russian-inspired, Moscow-dominated, anti-American, quasi-military conspiracy against our government, our ideals, and our freedoms.

Surely detailed proofs and arguments to support the foregoing might be expected to be part of the educational task of "The Fund for the Republic."

Persons Should Determine Clothes Type, Not Climate

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

To the point and long remembered is this testimonial from an Alabama lady:

Thank you for relieving me of the task of bundling our kids in the winter. They get their coats or other extra covers when they want them. I wish people were not so thick headed . . .

(Mrs. ——)

And, I hope, the kids go without coats, hats, chest protectors, mufflers, earlaps and the like whenever these things may be uncomfortable or a nuisance.

From the allusion to thick headed people I infer that the fishwives in the neighborhood have been going to town about the way the lady neglects her children.

COMMON INFECTIONS

In Little Lesson No. 5, Call it CRI, about the common respiratory infections which give doctors most of their work, yet are preventable I quote Dr. Leonard Hill, an English physiologist who is an authority on ventilation:

"It is absurd to put on an overcoat when going out for a walk. It is good to go out and be braced by feeling cold and so be impelled to take vigorous exercise."

Utah lady says:

My neighbors consider me crazy or maybe just coldhearted and careless because I let our kids go with or without coats, hats, sweaters, mufflers just as they please, in any kind of weather.

But I cannot help noticing that our doctor bills are lower than our neighbors' the year around. Just luck, eh?

(Mrs. J. N. L.)

Yes, in a way it is lucky for your children that their mother somehow received a good education, health education.

Let no casual reader infer that I harbor a freak notion that it is better for any one to be uncomfortably cold or wet than it is to be comfortably dry or warm.

On the other hand, when anyone feels more comfortable without a coat, hat, muffler, pants or other conventional garments than he does with 'em, the individual's personal preference should determine what to wear or leave off.

We are talking about the health of ordinary folk. If your charge is feeble-minded you may have to tell him when to button up his overcoat or take off his hat.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

William R. Herb Praises Participants of Carol Sing

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will no be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

In the Bible we have the story of how Jesus healed ten lepers and that only one came back to thank him for it.

I would like to be one of those to thank the schools and groups who participated in the carol sings during the Christmas season at the Pontiac State Bank.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the bank for making available the facilities for holding such a carol sing, and also the instructors and other persons responsible for such a great undertaking. Just think of the wonderful service they perform for this community.

So let's take our hats off to them and thank them for what they have done for us and I hope they may continue with the carol sings for many years to come.

Hal Boyle Says:

Girls Need Right Snares to Bring 'Em Back Alive

NEW YORK (AP) — The war between the sexes always reaches a crisis during leap year.

The old saying that "love will find a way" doesn't hold true this year. There are only 17 million possible husbands available for 20 million possible wives.

In this mathematical dilemma neither Congress nor television can dream up a giveaway program that will award every young and old maid what she wants — a real live mate.

It's a time when every smart girl becomes her own kangaroo, and leaps "thar fustest with the mostest." But in seeking a husband she must beware her tactics don't boomerang.

The only real rule of the matrimonial chase is "catch as catch can." But as some overanxious ladies have already learned to their regret, some lures work better with the wild male beast than others. And some don't work at all.

What is the best way? There is no one best way. It depends on the prey — if I should use such a word.

As I see it, the market divides itself roughly into four general classes: (1) elderly childless widowers; (2) middle-aged widowers with children; (3) veteran, professional bachelors; and (4) young amateur bachelors.

It is a well-known fact that elderly widowers tend to turn their hearts to widows. Any girl interested in reaping one of these gaffers, therefore, should first become a widow herself. There are several techniques in how this can be done, but each woman is on her own and in this problem will get no help from me. I'm a married man myself.

To win a middle-aged widower with offspring you must do two things. First, write the U. S. Children's Bureau for a pamphlet on how to get along with children. Apply this knowledge to his kids. Give them a firm kindness and love. Once they want to have you around, he'll have to have you around. The second thing you have to do is to handle him. Treat him kindly, so that he'll feel like one of the children, too. But also bawl him out occasionally — so that he won't get too lonesome for his first wife.

The veteran, professional bachelor is a tougher nut to crack. He is full of bad habits, wary of women, thinks he knows what he wants out of life and is sure it isn't marriage.

To try to reform a pro bachelor is to become his victim. The right approach is to encourage him in his bad habits until he breaks down with an ulcer or a heart attack — then he is wide open for marriage. Wifehood in this case, of course, generally is also nursehood, and I am eternally amazed at the number of wonderful women who seek to marry this type of man and seem happy in their fate. The answer lies in the unplumbed well of woman's everlasting mystery.

There is no set, sure way to win bachelors. You have to improvise the fourth type — the amateur with young fellows today. They get more difficult every year.

But here are a few general tips that should stand up:

If he catches a common cold, try to avoid coming down with pneumonia yourself. A man is afraid of a woman who can always outdo him.

If he invites you up to a home-cooked meal in his apartment, don't complain about how he burned the canned spaghetti. Remember, after you're married, you can bring in good well-cooked spaghetti from the nearest delicatessen.

Cry once on his shoulder during a sentimental movie, but only once. Every man likes to know his wife has a soft heart, but no man ever married Niagara Falls.

If your boy friend borrows your car and you feel sure it's to take out another girl on a date, don't hide in the back seat to try to overhear what they say.

If you are paying for a night out on the town, don't give him the money in public. Just slip him your wallet and murmur, "Honey, let's you and me and the pocketbook go as far as we can together."

To boil it all down, all normal young bachelors are lonely and uncomfortable, but hate to admit it openly. Your problem is simply to show him in feminine ways how he could have a much better life hitched with you — but not so much better a life that he becomes frightened with the thought it will change him too much.

So, young lady, if you would lead a young man over the hurdle of matrimony, lead him gently. Don't shove — he may balk.

Remember, you're not fooling with one guy out of a million. He's one out of 17 million — and there are 19,999,999 other single American ladies who might be looking for a chance to snare him.

"Oh, I read all your arguments about how boys try to make girls think everybody else is doing such things

"And I know you warned us that the boys often fib about how much they love us, and only tell us that to break down our objections.

"But I went ahead and did it just because I was so infatuated I felt I couldn't live without this boy.

"I was putty in his hands, even though I have always been taught what is right, and am not a bad girl normally.

"I also knew that he was a ladies man and the roving kind. But I hoped against hope that I could change him. However, it didn't work. He has already cast me aside for another coed.

"It breaks my heart and I have no interest in living. I even swallowed a lot of sleeping tablets last week, but I didn't die. So why did I go ahead and give in to him?"

INTOXICATION

Intoxication with love can make one almost as stupid as when it results from imbibing ethyl alcohol.

Most readers have had at least one or two mad infatuations. I had one in kindergarten, and was enamoured of the girl for several years. Once in the second grade I had a fight with another boy over this same girl.

But by the time I was in high school, I had lost all my interest in this early romance and had become fascinated by another girl.

And that pattern is typical of most people of normal social adjustments. But while we are madly in love, we do feel as if life would be wormwood and gall if we had to give up our present torrid romance.

But we must use our brain and realize that such a romance has happened to us before, so it could at least conceivably occur again a few years later.

So we must imitate baseball managers and play the batting averages. Pick 'em by our heads instead of relying just on sex appeal or heart throbs.

BATTING AVERAGES

That which does the most good for the most people for the longest period of time is moral and right.

Since we are just the middle link of a 3-link human chain, consisting of parents, ourselves and our children, we are obligated to our parents as well as to our future unborn babies.

Illicit sexual affairs are thus wrong because they bring sorrow and shame to our loyal parents who have supported us and gloried in our attainments all through our childhood years.

And immorality starts out babies of unwed mothers with one strike against them, which is obviously unfair. Furthermore, the girl herself loses her greatest charm in the eyes of boys, which is spunk or independence of spirit.

The Bible says such women are "humbled", thus indicating this dire psychological result to her pride and spirit.

So play the game of courtship according to Hoyle. We have definite rules for romance, just as for baseball.

It is a sign of selfish egotism or juvenility to break the rules and try to re-make them to fit our own desires.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Meet Konrad Adenauer

He Rules Bonn With Strong Reins

By TOM AGOSTON
(Last of a series of three articles.)

BONN (INS) — Konrad Adenauer, whose government career started 50 years ago, has never enjoyed higher prestige at home or abroad than he does today, on his 80th birthday.

Like a predecessor, "Iron Chancellor" Otto Von Bismarck, Adenauer until his recent illness has failed to train independent minds as a precaution against the disintegration of a governing coalition.

The question which for years has sent a chill down the spines of Western statesmen is this — would Germany after Adenauer's passing from the political scene make a deal with Russia?

The danger, the chancellor himself realizes, lies in Germany's traditional relations with Russia, dating back to the days of Charlemagne.

WARNED THE WEST

On the eve of the second Geneva conference, and newly back from Moscow, he discounted the "Geneva Spirit," when he declared:

"You just cannot talk of the cold war having ended, or that there has been any relaxation of tensions."

He made it clear he was pessimistic about the Russians giving up control of Eastern Germany in the near future.

Top-ranking allied diplomats agree that so long as Adenauer and von Brentano control west German policy, the Western alliance never will be scarificed, to deal with the Russians to buy unification.

HIS SUCCESSORS?

Adenauer's closest friends believe he will bend to the inevitable and agree to delegate some of his powers to Vice Chancellor Franz Bluecher and a small group of intimates in coming months.

Possible candidates to succeed Adenauer aside from von Brentano, 51, are Karl Arnold, 54, Dapper Catholic premier of the Ruhr state of North Rhine Westphalia; and Kurt Kiesenger, 51, parliamentary chairman of the foreign affairs committee.

Meanwhile, he lives a full life, mixing statesmanship with music, art and other interests.

One has to be pretty close to him before he bares one of his choice souvenirs, consisting of two identidal greenfolders, one obviously of recent vintage, the other faded with age. Both bear the heading dismissals.

DISMISSAL DOSSIERS

The first, marked "Dismissal — by Liberators," holds his notice of ouster from his post as Cologne lord mayor at the hands of the British military governor Gen. Barraclough, on grounds of "inefficiency" in 1945.

The second similarly marked in German script and headed "Dismissal — by Nazis" holds his dismissal notice from the same post 22 years before, by Hitler.

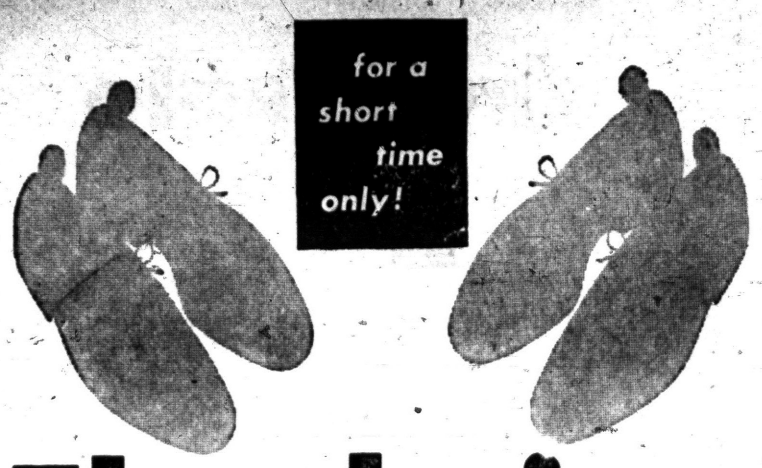

A natural born gadgeteer, who has filled the house with self-designed or inspired labor saving devices, Adenauer can also lay claim to having invented the world's first illuminated darning egg.

As he was watching his wife battling with a darning needle in bad light, he said, "surely there must be a better way of doing this," and soon came up with a combination flashlight-darning egg.

U.S. Tourists Asked to Avoid East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Casual travel by Americans into Communist East Berlin is being discouraged by U.S. authorities.

Soldiers are under new orders to notif ytheir commanding officers if they plan to visit East Berlin. Visitors are informed that the U.S. command discourages visits to the Soviet sector except on regular guided tours conducted three times a week.

The move is designed to prevent incidents that might serve Communist propagandists. Two recent East Berlin encounters between U.S. servicemen and the Reds set off a flurry of attacks in the Communist press.

NEW YORK (AP) — A London-like fog which blanketed the metropolitan area for two days moved out to sea last night and released its murky stranglehold on air, harbor and highway traffic.

By midnight the city's major airports—LaGuardia and Idlewild—were open. The liner Queen Mary, more than 13 hours behind schedule, sailed at 1:15 a.m.

Lion Mauls Tamer

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Lion tamer Mitsuo Ando stumbled today and an 8-year-old lion leaped on him from behind. Attendants twisted the lion's tail and held him off with poles while they dragged Ando from the caged ring amid the screams of 600 spectators. Ando was seriously injured from a bite on the neck and clawmarks on the back of his head.

President's Message to Congress

compatible with the reduction of international tension.

Yet communist tactics against the free nations have shifted in emphasis from reliance on violence and the threat of violence to reliance on division, enticement and duplicity.

We must be well prepared to meet the current tactics which pose a dangerous though less obvious threat. At the same time, our policy must be dynamic as well as flexible, designed primarily to forward the achievement of our own objectives rather than to meet each shift and change on the communist front. We must act in the firm assurance that the fruits of freedom are more attractive and desirable to mankind in the pursuit of happiness than the record of communism.

In the face of communist military power, we must, of course, continue to maintain an effective system of collective security. This involves two things—a system which gives clear warning that armed aggression will be met by joint action of the free nations, and deterrent military power to make that warning effective.

Moreover, the awesome power of the atom must be made to serve as a guardian of the free community and of the peace.

In the last year, the free world has seen major gains for the system of collective security: The accession to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and Western European Union of the sovereign federal German Republic; the developing cooperation under the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty; and the formation in the Middle East of the Baghdad Pact among Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and the United Kingdom.

In our own hemisphere, the inter-American system has continued to show its vitality in maintaining peace and a common approach to world problems. We now have security pacts with more than 40 other nations.

In the pursuit of our national purposes, we have been steadfast in our support of the United Nations, now entering its second decade with a wider membership and ever-increasing influence and usefulness.

In the release of our fifteen fliers from communist China, an essential prelude was the world opinion mobilized by the General Assembly which condemned their imprisonment and demanded their liberation. The successful atomic energy conference held in Geneva under United Nations auspices and our atoms for peace program have been practical steps toward the world-wide use of this new energy source. Our sponsorship of such use has benefited our relations with other countries. Active negotiations are now in progress to create an international agency to foster peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Disarmament Crucial Problem

During the past year the crucial problem of disarmament has moved to the forefront of practical endeavor. At Geneva, I declared the readiness of the United States to exchange blueprints of the military establishments of our nation and the USSR, to be confirmed by reciprocal aerial reconnaissance. By this means, I felt mutual suspicions could be allayed and an atmosphere developed in which negotiations looking toward limitation of arms would have improved chances of success.

In the United Nations subcommittee on disarmament last fall, this proposal was explored and the United States also declared itself willing to include reciprocal ground inspection of key points. By the overwhelming vote of 56 to 7, the United Nations on Dec. 16 endorsed these proposals and gave them a top priority. Thereby, the issue is placed squarely before the bar of world opinion.

We shall persevere in seeking a general reduction of armaments under effective inspection and control which are essental safeguards to ensure reciprocity and protect the security of all.

In the coming year much remains to be done.

While maintaining our military deterrent, we must intensify our efforts to achieve a just peace. In Asia we shall continue to give help to nations struggling to maintain their freedom against the threat of communist coercion or subversion. In Europe, we shall endeavor to increase not only the military strength of the North Atlantic Alliance but also its political cohesion and unity of purpose. We shall give such assistance as is feasible to the recently renewed effort of Western European nations to achieve a greater measure of integration, such as in the field of peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Seeks Peace for Near East

In the Near East we shall spare no effort in seeking to promote a fair solution of the tragic dispute between the Arab states and Israel, all of whom we want as our friends. The United States is ready to do its part to assure enduring peace in that area. We hope that both sides will make the contributions necessary to achieve that purpose.

In Latin America, we shall continue to cooperate vigorously in trade and other measures designed to assist economic progress in the area.

Strong economic ties are an essential element in our free world partnership. Increasing trade and investment help all of us prosper together. Gratifying progress has been made in this direction, most recently by the three-year extension of our trade agreements legislation.

I most earnestly request that the Congress approve our membership in the organization for trade cooperation which would assist the carrying out of the general agreement on tariffs and trade to which we have been a party since 1948.

Our membership in the OTC will provide the most effective and expeditious means for removing discriminations and restrictions against American exports and in making our trade agreements truly reciprocal. United States membership in the organization will evidence our continuing desire to cooperate in promotng an expanded trade among the free nations. Thus the organization, as proposed, is admirably suited to our own interests and to those of like-minded nations in working for steady expansion of trade and closer economic cooperation. Being strictly an administration entity, the organization for trade cooperation cannot, of course, alter the control by Congress of the tariff, import, and customs policies of the United States.

We need to encourage investment overseas by avoiding unfair tax duplications, and to foster foreign trade by further simplification and improvement of our customs legislation.

We must sustain and fortify our mutual security program. Because the conditions of poverty and unrest in less developed areas make their people a special target of international communism, there is a need to help them achieve the economic growth and stability necessary to preserve their independence against Communist threats and enticements.

In order that our friends may better achieve the greater strength that is our common goal, they need assurance of continuity in economic assistance for development projects and programs which we approve and which require a period of years for planning and completion.

Foreign Aid on Long-Time Basis

Accordingly, I ask Congress to grant limited authority to make longer-term commitments for assistance to such projects, to be fulfilled from appropriations to be made in future fiscal years.

These various steps will powerfully strengthen the economic foundation of our foreign policy. Together with constructive action abroad, they will maintain the present momentum toward general economic progress and vitality of the free world.

In all this, change is the inexorable law of life. In much of the world the ferment of change is working strongly; but grave injustices are still uncorrected. We must not, by any sanction of ours, help to perpetuate these wrongs. I have particularly in mind the oppressive division of the German people, the bondage of millions elsewhere, and the exclusion of

Bob Considine Says:

Hague Interview Rates as Jewel of Brevity

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . things . . .

Frank Hague grew ever and ever grumpier with newsmen as his years stretched. But I claim being recipient of the shortest interview the old line Jersey politician ever gave.

It happened years ago, just before the announcement that racing would return to Jersey. Hague was watching the races at Belmont one day when a fellow who claimed to know him better than a brother suggested to me that I could get a good story out of him on the racing situation in Hagueville.

I walked a couple of leagues to Hague's box, listening to the fellow saying how well he knew Hague.

At last, there squatted the great man, derby clamped at an angle, staring dyspeptically at the track.

His great friend, my liaison officer, stopped in his tracks 10 feet from his highship and actually took off his hat and held it on his chest, like a man listening to the Star Spangled Banner.

"Mr. Mayor, I want you should meet Bob Considine," he said with a nervous cough.

"No," Hague said.

SPORTY SCIENTIST

Dr. Joseph Kaplan, one of the top men in the creation of our fantastically complicated space satellite, is an enthusiastic football fan who serves his alma mater, UCLA, as an adviser on the sport.

He flew to the Rose Bowl game and mourned the loss by his team to Michigan State in the last seven seconds of the contest.

"I can't understand my colleagues' strange attachment to card-playing as a means of relaxation," Dr. Kaplan amiably complained to his plane seatmate, Mel Allen. "I wish I could get them interested in football. Cards are too complicated, I don't understand card games.

"But I guess a lot of people can't understand football, either. I live at the Cosmos Club (one of Washington's and the nation's oldest) and you should have seen the looks the members gave me one Saturday afternoon this year when I switched on a football game."

An ancient tomb containing the dust of Thomas Walsingham, patron of Christopher Marlowe, will be pried open in a dramatic effort to prove that Marlowe ghosted the plays of William Shakespeare.

Marloweites through the centuries have come to believe that Walsingham concocted a mammoth plot which enabled the brilliant dramatist to continue writing after the crown sought his head for treason.

Marlowe was reported dead in a pub brawl but it was, in truth, a simple plowman who was done in and buried under the playwright's name. Secluded under Walsingham's wing, Marlowe is then supposed to have written "Hamlet," "Romeo and Juliet," "King Lear" and all the others, and Walsingham paid a semi-illiterate Shakespeare, whose wife could neither read nor write, to act as front man—author and producer.

The Marloweites say that Walsingham, with estates at stake, must have taken some of Marlowe's unpublished "Shakespeare" to his grave. They have now won the right to make sure.

But where does that leave the Baconites? Will they dig up and frisk the man they say wrote Shakespeare's stuff?

It should be quickly mentioned that many people believe Shakespeare wrote his own. Their scorn for these other claims was best expressed, perhaps, by Jimmy Isiminger, late great sportswriter for the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Jimmy, noting wryly that a Notre Dame backfield man named Bill Shakespeare had punted a football 89 yards, wrote, "That's one the Baconites can't claim!"

Surest mark of success for a Miami Beach hotel is that it is the butt of stories. None ever reaped such a harvest as the tremendous new Fontainebleu, where they have ball point quills on the desks in the suites.

The latest: The Fontainebleu is so exclusive that its room service has an unlisted number.

Worst Fire Losses

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Fire Chief Henry Hoebeke said the city suffered its worst fire loss record in years during 1955 with damages placed at $436,102. The biggest fire of the year was a September blaze that destroyed one-third of the Camfield Manufacturing Co., with losses placed at $400,000.

Sir Seymour Howard, Lord Mayor of London, returned from Canada proud of his new title, "Chief Weaselhead." An Indian tribe so named him.

Road Legislation Dispute Likely

Financial Distribution to States Poses Big Debate, Says Sen. Gore

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) has said the 1956 Congress may get snarled up in a dispute over how a big chunk of new highway construction money should be distributed among the states.

He told a reporter he is confident Congress eventually will enact a highway bill somewhat along the lines of his measure which the Senate approved last May.

However, he said a difference of opinion on how to allocate funds for the interstate system creates added hazards for the legislation.

The interstate system, a 40,000-mile network of key roads, would get the bulk of the new funds under all the major highway aid plans pending in Congress.

GORE PROPOSALL

The Gore bill called for about 18 billion dollars in federal - state spending for highways over a five-year period. Since new taxes must originate in the house, it did not provide any new financing.

The House Public Works Committee then drafted a bill calling for about 50 billion in federal-state outlays over the next 13 years. It included 12½ billion in new federal taxes over that period to help pay for Uncle Sam's share.

However, the full House voted down this measure. Neither the Senate nor House accepted President Eisenhower's plan, which provided a bond issue to finance a big new road program.

An average American eats less than six pounds of rice a year. In Louisiana the average is 100 pounds.

'Flip-in-My-Head' Makes Teenager Kill Parakeets

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy who said he hated birds was held for a mental examination after a third parakeet was found slain at a nearby elementary school.

One bird was drowned. The other two were decapitated.

The Fountain Dale Elementary School was broken into three times in two months. After each foray a parakeet was found dead. The last one was found yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Claude Cline said the boy told him he particularly hated parakeets, that something would "flip in my head" and he got the urge to kill birds.

Cline said the boy told him he "enjoyed" killing birds ever since he once killed some chickens for his mother. He said he once attended the school and knew it kept a parakeet.

Juvenile Court Magistrate Evan Crosley said he would seek a mental examination for the boy.

Speeding Freight Train Smashes Into Landslide

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A speeding Union Pacific freight train smashed into a landslide in the Columbia gorge last night, tossing five boxcars from the rails. No one was injured.

Engineer Leo Tracy said the big seven-unit diesel engine cut through the slide and traveled half a mile before coming to a stop. He said he didn't see the slide, which had been loosened by heavy rains the past two days, until "we were right on top of it."

Hot Tamale Man Hot Over Customers' Bargain

DALLAS (AP)—H. E. Huges told police that two men stopped his hot tamales cart last night, gave him a new bill for two dozen tamales and drove off.

He discovered too late the bill was a Mexican peso note, worth about 8 cents. Huges said he's pretty hot about it.

UM Research Scientists Amazed at Progress in '55

ANN ARBOR (AP) — At year's end when most of us look back to see what we've accomplished for the year, we're usually surprised. University of Michigan engineers and scientists are amazed.

Dr. Richard G. Folsom, director of the university's engineering research institute, had headed 408 research projects in the past year, totaling more than $8,600,000.

The institute, which works for private, industrial and governmental sources, had an 8 per cent increase in research money over the previous year. Some of the projects included:

A cooperative effort to solve the secret of hay fever by meteorologists, public health experts, botanists, engineers and doctors.

HEADLIGHTS, TOO

An attack on highway visibility by a station wagon loaded with instruments to determine how much light is deflected by fog and other hampering conditions and how headlights can be perfected.

An atomic bubble bath that allows scientists to trace the path of atoms and nuclear particles, studying their eccentricities by watching the trail of little bubbles they leave while speeding through a water chamber.

Development of rockets only eight feet long that can explore the upper atmosphere for a fraction of the cost of previous models.

The U.S. plans to launch about 40 of the "baby" rockets during the international geophysical year, 1957-58.

Alaskan Dems Pick Delegates

To Hold Meeting and Be 1st to Name Members to Presidential Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alaska Democrats will hold a convention this weekend to pick the first delegates in either party to the presidential nominating conventions of 1956.

The territorial convention Jan. 7-8 will choose a six-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention starting in Chicago Aug. 13.

The first delegation to the Republican National Convention opening in San Francisco Aug. 20 will be completed in an Oklahoma convention set for Feb. 6.

The first delegate picking by the primary method will be in New Hampshire March 13.

Alaska also holds its first presidential preference primary this year, on April 24, results will be advisory only.

FAVOR KEFAUVER

Alaska Democrats sent an uninstructed delegation to the 1952 Democratic national convention. The six votes on all three ballots were cast for Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Kefauver supporters say they are considering entering the senator's name in the April 24 primary.

The Oklahoma Republican convention Feb. 6 will complete selection of 22 delegates to the GOP National Convention. There will be 10 delegates at large and 12 district delegates. Four years ago, Oklahoma Republicans split their national convention votes among President Eisenhower, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Eighteen states, Alaska and the District of Columbia will hold two-party presidential primaries this year. Three of the states, Indiana, Maryland and Montana, actually pick delegates in conventions, as does Alaska. A 19th state, Alabama, holds a presidential primary only among Democrats.

The rest of the states choose their delegates in state and district conventions. A few select by party committees.

The authorized strength of the West Point corps is 2,496 cadets.

Topic of King's address will be "The Changing American Selling Market." Part of his speech will be devoted to predictions of the business outlook in the Pontiac area, according to Robert St. Clair.

Among the meeting's highlights will be the induction of 1956 officers and directors.

Centenarian Is First Louisville Fatal of '56

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John Long, a retired farmer believed to be more than 100 years old, became Louisville's first 1956 traffic fatality yesterday.

Police said Long was hit by two cars while crossing a street. James W. Lucas, 26, was charged with manslaughter and reckless driving. Officers said Lucas' car knocked Long into the path of another car.

Mrs. Louise Head, a niece with whom Long lived, said he left Logan County, Ky., in 1953 and "the way he talked he must have been over a hundred years old when he came here."

Antarctica Is Sighted

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio reported today that the leading ship of the Soviet Union's expedition to the South Polar regions had sighted the Antarctic continent.

The Soviet expedition is one of a number from various countries preparing Antarctic bases for scientific observations during the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year. A U.S. Navy force already has established bases at McMurdo Sound and on the Ross Sea ice shelf.

WINTER FUN—4

Tom and Toni Toboggan

Have you ever seen a toboggan? It is a long, low-slung sled built something like a very wide ski. The toboggan, made of strips of wood carefuly fitted together and curved in front, is used in heavy snow or on special toboggan slides.

You can make a toboggan like this one of Tom and Toni very easily. Get a piece of thin cardboard, cut out a narrow oblong and paste bright red paper on the back. When you curl up the front end as pictured above it will show a cheerful color against the snow. Weight the rear end of the toboggan with two pennies pasted to the under side with gummed tape. Then color Tom and Toni, paste the picture on thin cardboard and cut out the figures. Fold each figure forward at the hip line back at the knees and forward again at the ankles.

Since Tom will sit in front of the toboggan, paste his feet to the floor. Make holes in his mittens and also in front of the toboggan. Then thread a string through the toboggan and his hands so he can steer.

Toni, sitting in the rear, should have her hands and feet pasted to the floor.

And away they go!

Train-Blocked Road Delays to Be Investigated

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS)—A retired employe of the Chicago and Illinois Midland Railway who had the vice president of the road served with a warrant when a train blocked a highway much longer than the eight minutes Springfield law allows has achieved results.

A police magistrate who heard the case looked at a protesting letter from another complainant which read: "The engineers laugh at us from the cabs of the trains." He ordered a full investigation.

Begging on Corner Can Be Big Business

DALLAS (AP)—Bea Shaw, glamorous television actress of WFAA-TV, Dallas, used makeup and expert costuming to transform herself into a greying, penniless woman.

Then she got a metal pan and began begging on a busy downtown corner. A hidden TV camera, watched while Miss Shaw tried to determine whether men or women are more responsive to a woman beggar.

Eleven men and two women contributed $2 which Miss Shaw turned over to charity.

"Two dollars every 20 minutes would be $48 for an eight-hour-day," Miss Shaw said. "I think begging might pay better than television!"

McCarthy Will Speak for Candidates if Asked

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) says he will take the stump this year for any GOP senatorial candidate who is facing a close contest and asks him to speak.

He made it plain that he will support only part of the Eisenhower administration's record and will stress the Communists-in-government theme in opposing Democratic candidates.

Report Indians on the Warpath

Tribes Seek Payments of Vast Areas Gained by Swindling Settlers

WASHINGTON (INS)—A government attorney reported today the Indians are on the warpath again. This time, they want more wampum.

Assistant Attorney General Perry W. Morton said Indian tribes are asking the government for "a staggering sum"—payment on almost 70 per cent of the total land area of the U.S.

The tribes are demanding that Washington pay a "fair and honorable" price for vast areas that were won by the early settlers through firearms, fast talk and firewater, but very little money.

But though payment was short, Indian memories are long. Now, in 250 pending cases, the Redskins lay claim an estimated 1,300,000,000 acres of the present U.S., a "very substantial part" of the country's 1,905,000,000 acres.

COURT FAVORS INDIANS

The Justice Department official said a recent court of claims decision in favor of the Indians, which the Supreme Court refused to review, poses a problem of "formidable proportions" and might eventually cost the government several billion dollars.

Morton said under the court ruling "it appears that the Indians are given unique rights and privileges not enjoyed by any other citizens."

In a news statement, he explained:

"The great majority of such claims are based upon contentions that in the early days westward expansion and development of the country, the United States paid the Indians unconscionably little for some of the land which they occupied, over which they roamed, hunted and fished.

"The difficulty of the problem will be appreciated when it is understood that the considerations originally given the Indians and now being reviewed were made long ago, in one claim in 1795."

Morton observed that the Indians have already won 25 such cases before the Indian Claims Commission under a 1946 statute.

Awards in these cases are now averaging one million dollars each.

Summing up the problem Morton declared: "Allowing for considerable overlapping of these claims, the potential liabilities can only be estimated but could run to a staggering total of several billion dollars."

Oraibi, Arizona, in the Hopi Indian reservation, is said to be the oldest continuously inhabited community in the United States.

U.S. to Donate Pavilion to Government of India

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian government sources said today the United States is giving India the 100,000 square-foot American pavilion at the Indian Industries Fair. The U.S. building, largest at the fair, cost several hundred thousand dollars to build. The exhibition closed Sunday.

The sources said also that Red China had "suggested" it might like to give its 55,000-square-foot exhibit hall to India if the government would accept it.

Traditional Fish in Japan Piles Up Woe for Grocers

TOKYO (AP)—All is woe in herring roe.

Grocers' shelves are piled high with dried roe cakes, traditional New Year's Day fare in Japan. The delicacy is called "kazunoko" (little children) and is thought to promote fertility.

Lately the herring have deserted Japanese fishing grounds for more northern waters, near Soviet territory.

The catch of herring roe has fallen off—a third of the 1954 catch and a 33rd of the bumper harvests of the 1920s.

The demand was considered so strong and the supply so short that prices spiraled. Thousands of Japanese went without this New Year's.

Their boycott brought the price down from the level of caviar to fish meal. The nation's leading economic paper said Tokyo grocers alone are stuck with 83,000 pounds, enough to furnish about half the tables in the metropolis.

"New Year's is over; we don't need it," one housewife said.

Said another, "I never liked the taste anyway."

India expects soon to be manufacturing 2,400 windmills a year.

Doctor Freed on Charge of Murder in Wife's Death

CHICAGO (AP)—A suburban Skokie physician was freed yesterday on a murder charge in the sleeping drug death of his wife.

Harry Sullivan, Skokie justice of the peace, dismissed the charge against Dr. Hobart H. Todd, 43, after a coroner's jury was unable to determine whether the death of Mrs. Hazel Todd, 37, was accidental or intentional.

Mrs. Todd's body was found in the bedroom of their home Dec. 3. Coroner Walter McCarron said a chemical analysis showed she died of barbiturate poisoning.

Meet Mrs. Indira Gandhi

Nehru's Daughter Looms as Potential Political Force

By R. SATAKOPAN

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru's daughter Mrs. Indira Gandhi is rapidly moving from a life as her father's official hostess to a political life of her own.

Mrs. Gandhi, 38, takes after her father in many ways—in facial appearance, in sophisticated mental makeup, in sudden bursts of temper, in her manner before large, adoring crowds.

As a Nehru, she draws these crowds wherever she goes. The Nehru family long has been identified with the Indian independence movement, and with the Congress party which led the fight.

Mrs. Gandhi's initiation to public life was in this movement.

STUDIED ABROAD

Her interest in independence never subsided as she traveled from Indian schools to Swiss academies and then to Britain's Oxford, where she studied history.

Back in India in 1942 she married a young lawyer, Feroz Gandhi. He is no relation to the late leader of the Indian independence movement, Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Mrs. Gandhi—with her two sons, Rijiv, now 11, and Sanjay, now 9—moved in to become her widowed father's official hostess when he became prime minister in 1947. Her husband, a newspaper executive and member of Parliament, remained close but appeared to take a back seat.

Early this year she stepped fully on the political stage. She was selected to the 21-member Congress Working Committee, the high command of the Congress, India's biggest party.

Her political emergence was confirmed by two later developments:

She received more votes than any other candidate elected to the Congress party's 11-member Central Elections Committee, which will pick candidates and plan strategy for the 1957 elections.

She acted as chairman for a special government committee which arranged the reception for Soviet Russia's two visiting leaders, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev.

There is talk her father is grooming her to be his chief aide. There is talk she perhaps holds ideas to the left of her father's. Many observers disagree with these viewpoints, but all concede she is becoming a political force in India.

$25 Down, $75 Later for Ike Dinner Tickets

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Republican leaders planning a "salute to Eisenhower" dinner are aware the Jan. 20 date comes on the heels of Christmas—financially speaking.

And with tax time rolling around, they figure, it might be tough getting a crowd for the $100-a-plate dinner.

The solution?

Tickets will be sold on a time plan: $25 down, monthly installments of $25 each.

GOP Dinner Planned

MUSKEGON (AP)—Ninth District Republicans, with Fifth District Republicans from Grand Haven, will hold a $100-a-plate dinner Jan. 20, coinciding with a series of "Salute to Ike" dinners across the nation.

A-Energy Seen as Cancer Cure

Tiny A-Bombs Set Off in Brain Prolong Lives, Says Ex-AEC Medic

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A former medical director of the Atomic Energy Commission reports that miniature atomic bombs set off in the human brain have prolonged the lives of certain cancer victims.

Dr. John Bugher, now a medical and health education director for the Rockefeller Foundation of the Los Angeles County Medical Assn. told about the new cancer weapon at the physicians' midwinter convention yesterday.

Dr. Bugher was careful to point out that although the new atomic medicine treatment for cancer holds much promise, it has not resulted in cures but has only prolonged the useful life of patients who otherwise would be bedridden until death.

He said the treatment of 23 persons so far by the new technique began with injecting a combination of boron and borax into a vein. The boron has a mild attachment to cancer tissue. So it is taken up by malignant cells in the brain. The boron settles on cancerous cells in twice the number it attaches to normal cells. Then the patient is exposed to a beam of neutrons—the atom splitting agents—from a nuclear reactor.

The neutrons hit the boron atoms and split them, creating a miniature explosion. The boron atoms are divided into two particles and release energy at the rate of 2,400,000 million electron volts.

But the great energy is so localized that it serves effectively only to destroy the cancer cells and not the normal ones.

Britain has an estimated 2,500,000 cats.

It All Started in an Unused Cellar of a Gas Station

BUCHANAN (AP) — A business started by two youths in an unused coal celler of a filling station, back in the '20s, is giving employment to 500 in this southwestern Michigan city of 5,300, west of Niles.

Riding the crest of the "Hi-Fi" wave, Electro-Voice, Inc., is supplying speakers and other units to that rapidly growing band of hobbyists who seek high fidelity reproduction of music by phonograph and radio. This branch of electro-voice business has doubled in unit sales each year since 1949, and is an outstanding postwar industrial success.

Electro-Voice was originally noted for its microphones. During World War II it made one million of them for the Armed Forces.

The military market dropped with the armistice, but Electro-Voice now has developed enough new markets to build up its working force to a point above its wartime peak. Since moving from South Bend, Ind., to Buchanan in 1946, the company has added 500 new jobs.

From 70,000 square feet of plant space, products now go around the world. They go to TV and radio stations, to manufacturers of public address systems and tape recorders, and to churches, schools, police, air lines and individuals.

FOR AUDIOPHILES

They also go to those "Hi-Fi" enthusiasts — Audiophiles — who comprise a wholly new market. Entering this field practically at its birth in 1950, Electro-Voice got off to a head start. Its officials believe it is the nation's largest supplier of "true" high-fidelity components.

This new market has resulted from the demand for musical reproduction that sounds like the original in every detail, from the oompah of the tuba to the tweet of the piccolo. To obtain life-like reproduction, ordinary radio and phonograph equipment is not adequate. It reproduces only a limited range of sound — from approximately 120 to 7,500 cycles. High fidelity broadens this to a range from 20 (pipe organ bass) to nearly 16,000 cycles (so high as to be on the verge of inaudibility.)

The products of this company have been developed by a group of specialists, each known in his own field. At the head of the team is Albert R. Kahn, 49, Electro-Voice president.

A NEOPHYTE—HAM

In his boyhood, Kahn was one of that clan of radio "hams" who spent wakeful nights tickling a radio wireless key, blinking sleepily through classes at school the next day. His dots and dashes on the home-made wireless sending set interfered with neighbors' reception and got him a reputation as a neighborhood nuisance.

But he appeased the folks by repairing their sets when they failed to work, and got himself in the radio repair business. With a friend, Louis Burroughs, he set up shop in the basement of a filling station.

At this time Kahn got interested in microphones, then made exclusively by one of the biggest manufacturers of electrical products. He designed one of his own, made it by hand, and sold it. While Louis improved the design, Al looked after sales and built up a thriving business.

COMPANY EXPANDS

World War II cut off civilian microphone markets almost overnight, but the small company weathered the crisis. At war's end Louis Burroughs received a citation from the secretary of war for his work in developing a noise cancelling microphone.

Since moving to Michigan in 1946, Electro-Voice has expanded every year, employing more and more local people. When the company held open house last spring, practically the entire community came to the party.

Kahn lives in a 100-year-old house in Buchanan with his wife, Anne, and three young daughters, Sally, Carol and Kathy. Since moving into the house, he has built a small addition.

It's a sound-proof "ham shack" where he operates his sending set and talks to fellow "hams" all over the world. Kahn is prouder of the fact that he has "worked" (two-way conversations confirmed by post-cards) with radio amateurs throughout the world than he is of the success of his company. That, he says, is the achievement of a highly competent team.

To Conduct Survey at Pontiac General

A firm of hospital consultants will begin to conduct a survey at General Hospital of organization and management and an audit of operations in departmental service, William P. Babcock, chairman of board of trustees announced yesterday.

The survey will be conducted by the firm of James A. Hamilton Associates of Minneapolis, Minn.

Hamilton has been a hospital consultant since 1936 and is a director of a hospital administration course at the University of Minnesota.

Babcock said he expected the study to take 60 days and 30 days for the firm to compile a report. A completion date has been set for May 1.

On Nov. 23, hospital trustee Harold B. Euler requested the survey to "confirm in my mind whether reported inefficiency at the hospital does exist."

Railroads Agree to Cut Citrus Shipping Rates

ATLANTA (AP)—Southern railroads have agreed to a cut of approximately 20 per cent in Florida citrus shipping rates to Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit.

But to become effective the adjustment must also be approved by Eastern railroads. It has been submitted to them by the Southern Freight Assn. (SFA), which today announced that its members have given their approval in a mail vote.

Wives: Here Are Grounds for Divorce in Colorado

DENVER (AP) — Wives: If your mate has forced the family to move 17 times during four years of married life because he failed to pay the rent and if he has had 23 different jobs during that period, you have grounds for divorce.

So ruled Domestic Judge Joseph E. Cook yesterday upon hearing a petition presented by Mrs. Sandra M. Herdine, 21.

Judge Cook ruled the alleged actions by her husband Marvin, 23, constituted "extreme and repeated acts of cruelty." He granted her an interlocutory decree of divorce and custody of their three children.

Grace, Mrs. Paley Tie for Best-Dressed Honors

A new "youth movement" has swept the ranks of the world's best-dressed women.

The official 1956 list, issued today by the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute following its annual poll of more than 1,000 fashion experts and other authorities, shows four hardy perennials of the voting, the Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. William Paley, Mrs Byron Foy and Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, tied with, young women new to the honor.

On the other hand, making her debut on the list is the elderly but still elegant Mme. Jacques Balsan, former Consuelo Vanderbilt and Duchess of Marlborough.

Four ties in the balloting brought this year's list to 14 names instead of the customary 10, as follows:

Mrs. William Paley, New York
and
Miss Grace Kelly, Hollywood, Philadelphia and New York

(Tied for first place)

The Duchess of Windsor,
and
Princess Margaret Rose of Great Britain

(tied for second place)

Mrs. Byron Foy, New York
and
Countess Rodolfo Crespi, Rome

(tied for third place)

Mrs. Winston Guest, New York and Palm Beach
Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr., New York
Mme. Jacques Balsan, New York and Palm Beach
Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, New York

(tied for 10th place)

Mrs. Henry Ford II, Detroit
Mme. Arturo Lopez-Willshaw, Paris
The Countess of Quintanilla, Madrid
and
Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Houston, Texas

(tied for 10th place)

The Couture Group also issued a supplementary list of 10 women identified with the fashion world who received enough votes to place them at the top rank, but whose professional affiliation with fashion barred them from the official list. It includes:

Mrs. Adam Gimbel (Sophie, New York fashion designer)
Mme. Simonetta Fabiani (Italian fashion designer)
Mme. Genevieve Fath (Parisian couturiere, widow of Jacques Fath)
Mrs. Stanley Marcus (wife of the Dallas, Tex., department store head)
Mrs. George Schlee (Valentina, New York fashion designer)
Mrs. T. Reed Vreeland (fashion editor, Harper's Bazaar)
Mrs. Carmel Snow (editor of Harper's Bazaar)
Mrs. Anne Fogarty (New York designer of junior fashions)
Mrs. Digby Morton (wife of the London designer)
Mrs. Andrew Goodman (wife of the head of Bergdorf-Goodman)

Nine out of the first 14 women listed are under 35 years of age, further upsetting a fashion tradition of the fashion world which has long regarded perfectionist taste in dress as a development of the later years of a woman's life, after long training.

Aside from the selection of Grace Kelly, the stage, screen and television were meagerly represented in the voting, according to the Couture Groupe announcement, but a number of well-known stars were cited—again with the accent on youth.

Lauren Bacall, Lady Olivier (Vivian Leigh), Audrey Hepburn, Gene Tierney and Elizabeth Taylor received a large number of votes, as did the previously prominent Rosalind Russell, Claudette Colbert, Anita Loos, Mary Martin, Lily Pons, Mrs. Leland Hayward, Maggi McNellis (Mrs. Clyde Newhouse), Sally de Marco, Jinx Falkenburg McCrary, Jennifer Jones (Mrs. David Selznick), Faye Emerson, Dorothy Kilgallen (Mrs. Richard Kollmar) and Mrs. Gary Cooper.

In commenting on the poll, which has been conducted since 1940 by the Dress Insitute, and previously by the couturiers of Paris, the Dress Institute spokesman said:

"The title of best-dressed woman is in no sense a synonym for wealth or extravagance in dress, but a symbol of contemporary good taste, and a bow of recognition to each woman's personal application of the art of fashion to her own way of life.

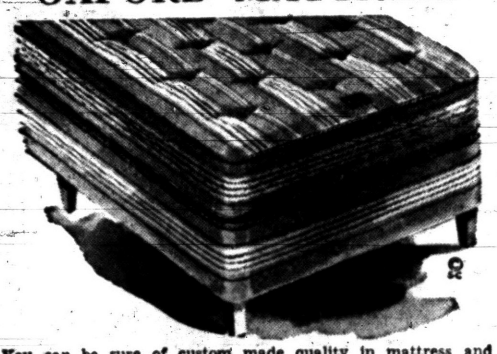

"A number of the women on this year's list, while certainly able to afford large wardrobes, are known to choose only a few new costumes each year. Taste, not money, is the criterion on which the voters are asked to cast their votes."

New coif lines are doing away with the careless, casual look. Emphasized is the elegance of clean swept lines, with a definite feminine appeal. These hairdos hint that girls are girls again and that 1956 will leave no room for tomboys. The trend also is toward the longer coif which is seen to good advantage in the side view.

Emphasize Feminine Charm

Sleek Hairdos Replace Casualness

Looking for a really exciting change in hairdos? The experts have come up with some of the most sensationally fresh ideas we've seen in many a year.

And for once the styles are simple, easy to care for, and fashion-right for any and all occasions. In a word, they'll make a new portrait of you that you'll love, and the men in your life will add their cheers at the change.

The new coif lines sound the death knell on careless casualness. They chart a slightly longer look, emphasize the elegance of clean-swept lines and the grace of a bird in flight. Best of all, they add an aura of womanliness, of charm. And that's a change for the good, we say.

There's a whisper of the "Oriental Look" in one of the new hair styles . . . which makes it more generally acceptable to the American scene and typical American girls than many top-to-toe fashions that have appeared in recent months.

With this coif adaptation you can add a touch of Far Eastern mystery and still stay your own sweet self. None of the sophisticated, exotic overtones that are incongruous on most of us.

The brunette charmer sporting the "Oriental Look" rates rave notices. Even her severest critics will agree that the coif is eminently ladylike. The bang has a whimsical air because of the unorthodox line it creates across the forehead. And the sides, fanning out in butterfly fashion as they do, suggest an altogether new feeling in short hair.

The waves which form the bang and sweep the hair upward at the sides are beautifully directed to give accent without being artificial. The head-hugging crown hair sleeks down and into the nape, and the ends fall softly over the neckline with just the faintest upturn.

From the back, the "Oriental Look" continues the illusion of wings in flight, its utter simplicity casting the spell of loveliness for all to admire.

Or choose the "Harlequin" for your entrance into the spring and summer season. Here, again, is uncluttered beauty that one could put into poetry. This coif interpretation is currently the rage of the continent.

The smartest of the smart ones know that the sheer rhythm of its lines and the chic silhouette are perfect foils for their natural beauty of face and whatever precious gems they choose to display.

And if you're wise, girls, you, too, will stick by the coif that "sets you off" instead of holding out for hair styles that make bids for attention for their own detailed designs alone.

Profile-wise, "Harlequin," too, features a nipped in napeline with the ends waved across the neck and clinging to the contours.

There is a remarkable resemblance to the back of the "Oriental Look" in the "Harlequin" back. This time, however, the wave is stronger and its imprint swirls upward to the right and left.

Yes, girls, these hairdos are our idea of what our new look should be. We see a happy, popular future for them . . . and for you once you give 'em a try.

GERALDINE GOLLEY

The engagement of Geraldine Golley of Newberry street to Robert Stanley is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Golley of Holly. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Stanley of Rochester. The couple has set no date for the wedding.

Iraq Caldron Meets Wednesday Night

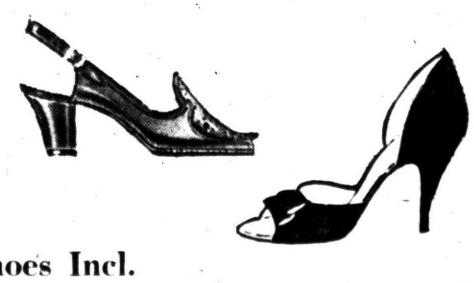

The Iraq Caldron 70, Daughters of Mokanna, met at the VFW Hall on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Fred Crossman, mighty chosen one, appointed the ceremonial cast and scheduled a practice. Plans were completed for a money making project to be held on Jan. 14 and a card party in the spring.

News From Bloomfield Hills

Snow Forms Background for Both Hunting, Skiing

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Up in ski country, localities are finding snow just the right depth for slaloming and shussing, but here the shallow depths appeal to horseback riders as picturesque background for fox hunting.

Bloomfield Open Hunt had about 15 riding after hounds and foxes in their New Year's hunt last weekend, with the 3-hour winter ride watched by many members from parked automobiles around the wooded course.

Going to northern Michigan for skiing this weekend are many residents. The Russell Stricklands of Country Club drive will be going to Otsego Ski Club, first of the winter's almost weekly trips for the parents and their three youngsters, Kent, John and Sherry.

Also going up this weekend are their neighbors, the David Lees of Pembroke road and their two boys, David and Tom.

The entire Strickland family just returned from a week at Mount Tremblant in the Laurentian Mountains of Canada.

With the James K. Campbells of West Maple road, the Frank Audettes of Detroit and two Grosse Pointe families, the Ray Whytes with sons, Peter and Tom, and the Sterling Dacksons with daughter, Pat, they stayed at the Tremblant Club. It was third year for all but the Audettes, on their initial ski visit to the Laurentians.

ENTERTAIN AT RESORT

The Arthur Hagmans of Cottontail lane, Bloomfield Township, entertained 30 Detroit area friends at their year-old resort 12 miles west of Grayling last weekend.

Among guests at Lake Valley resort were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Clark, Miss Pat Key and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Frost, all of Birmingham.

The Hagmans and their daughter, Sandra, entertained at buffet luncheon, moonlight tobogganing, and dancing at the Kalkaska Hotel on New Year's Eve.

The party marked the coming of Fred Bocks, former Cadillac Chamber of Commerce manager, to Lake Valley. He will manage the resort for Hagman.

A buffet dinner tonight will be given by the Don Millers of Bloomfield Township for their son, Don, and daughter, Clair, and 40 friends at Bloomfield Open Hut Club.

Red and white checked cloths and candles will be on the tables where guests will eat the buffet dinner, and an orchestra will play for dancing.

TO REPRESENT CLUB

Going to New York next week to represent the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, which sponsors the Detroit Horse Show each year, at the American Horse Show Assn. meeting are Irving J. Duffy, the local show's chairman, and D. C. McIntyre, manager of the club and its show.

Mr. Duffy's son, Frank, will be leaving late this month to take his place with other Olympic riders in tryouts at Tryon, N.C.

Frank, 18, already has passed tryouts, but his horses, which are being sent to Tryon tomorrow, will be judged and 2 of 4 will accompany him to Sweden next spring for the Olympic horse events.

Maj. Robert Borg is here with two of his own horses, and will take the Irving horses and his own to Tryon. Maj. Borg will train the U.S. team for the 3-day events, including dressage, cross-country, and stadium jumping.

In Washington, D.C., Mrs. William Dowling was missing for two hours after her horse threw her from its back and ran away.

Mrs. Dowling, who with her husband belongs to the Hunt Club here, and moved to the capital when he was appointed to a Commerce Department administrative post by President Eisenhower last fall, suffered a broken hip in the fall.

She lay in the wood for several hours before searchers found her. Their son and daughter are living in their home in Bloomfield Hills.

Luncheon guests of Mrs. Sidney J. Sabourin of Golfview, Bloomfield Village, Wednesday noon were neighbors, Mrs. D. J. Orth, Mrs. L. P. Lucia and Mrs. Victor Ketlar.

Blind Date Leads to Engagement

Julius Picks Ava's Type

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Julius LaRosa, fired by Arthur Godfrey into a $500,000 income in 1955, is engaged — to Perry Como's beautiful, Ava Gardner-like secretary, Rosemary Meyer.

Called "Rory" since she was 6 months old, Miss Meyer met Julius last February on a blind date when the ex-Godfrey singer "couldn't think of anyone" to escort to a performance of another Godfrey gang graduate, Marion Marlowe.

That conventional date — preceded by proper introductions arranged by a friend and business associate — was followed by almost a year in which Julius hardly looked at any other young woman.

Outside of one date with movie star Dorothy Malone, "it has been Rory all the time," his friends tell us.

Rory is a beautiful 24-year old native of Manitowoc, Wis. Julius was 26 on Monday.

She came to New York four years ago to study psychology and liberal arts at Columbia University. After some months at Columbia, the business world seemed to offer better opportunities quicker. She held several jobs before becoming Perry Como's private secretary.

STEP UPWARD

Two years ago when Perry's previous aide got married, Rory was with United Air Lines but sought the job with Como as a larger step upward in a secretarial career.

A familiar beautiful face to many persons in show business, because of Como's prominence in radio, TV, records, music publishing and other phases of entertainment Rory usually is described as "a ladylike Ava Gardner."

The similarity was emphasized more than a year ago when Ava's movie "The Barefoot Contessa" opened and a contest was held to find a "double for Ava Gardner." Someone in her office sent in Rory's photograph and she won first prize.

Reluctant to accept the honor, she finally went through with it, but emphatically turned down movie tests from MGM, United Artists and other major studios after scouts saw her pictures in the newspapers.

The brown-eyed brunette, strikingly good-looking Miss Meyer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Meyer of Manitowoc. Her father is an architect and draftsman.

Julius is the only son of Salvatore and Lucy LaRosa of Mount Vernon, N. Y., formerly of Brooklyn, where the elder LaRosa was in the radio-TV repair business.

NEW YORK HOME

Julius didn't know today where the nuptials would take place, although Manitowoc seemed most likely. The couple will live in New York.

Julius' highly publicized romance with 27-year-old Dorothy McGuire of the singing McGuire trio had presented a religious hurdle impossible to surmount. Julius is a Roman Catholic, Dorothy a Protestant who was separated at the time from her husband, Army Sgt., John Brown.

Rory Meyer is a devout Roman Catholic as is Julius, and now no religious problems exist at all.

The Dorothy-Julius complications were erased by Dorothy herself just one year ago when she surprised everyone — mostly Julius — by reuniting with her estranged husband after a cupid-type weekend flight to Miami Beach with Arthur Godfrey.

The estrangement of Dorothy and Sgt. Brown, which had been so definite that Dorothy even sent him a "Dear John" letter in Korea asking for a divorce, promptly ended.

They were reunited last January and were separated again only a couple of months later. Sgt. Brown immediately re-enlisted in the Army and after being assigned to Florida filed suit for divorce Aug. 16 charging cruelty.

When this news came to Dorothy's attention she filed a countersuit two weeks later. She also charged cruelty, asking not only her divorce, but court costs and alimony from her sergeant-husband.

Having passed the half-million bracket several weeks before Christmas, Julius decided to take the holiday season for vacation and a final campaign to win Rory's hand, knowing that he would be leaving New York on another nationwide tour starting next Monday in Houston, Tex.

Late Guest Ruins Lunch for Others

Hostess Need Not Wait Longer Than 15 Minutes

By EMILY POST

A woman writes me: "Just recently I gave a luncheon for eight at my house. One of the guests arrived 25 minutes after the hour set for lunch. I waited, thinking any minute she would arrive, and as a result the menu I had planned was spoiled.

"When she finally arrived she made some sort of an excuse, but I think the least she could have done was to telephone me that she would be detained.

"In the meantime, the other guests grew restless and my whole lunch party was ruined. Isn't it inconsiderate and rude to be late to a luncheon or dinner?"

Answer: To be deliberately late for lunch or dinner is inexcusably rude. Furthermore, a hostess is not expected to wait longer than 15 minutes for a late guest, and if your menu is one that cannot stand, you do not allow the food to spoil for all of your other guests because of a delinquent one.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am to have a very simple wedding in church, after which my family is giving a supper for just the immediate families and half a dozen friends. Must we invite the clergyman to the house afterward? And what about inviting his wife whom we hardly know?"

Answer: You would not include the clergyman unless he is one of the half-dozen dearest friends you mention. But you would invite him — and his wife also — should you decide after all to ask many more people.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was given a set of sterling silver flatware by my mother-in-law for a wedding present. Instead of tablespoons I received round-bowled soup spoons.

"As I do not serve soup very often, I have very little use for this type spoon and was wondering if they may be used for anything other than soup."

Answer: They could be used for cereal and for certain desserts, such as ice cream, stewed fruits and soft puddings.

Look 'Em Over

Advance inspection of table linen, silverware, china, glassware and extra equipment, will reveal things that require attention before Christmas, thus helping to eliminate possible embarrassment or a last-minute "rush" job when you should be concentrating on cooking the Christmas dinner.

F. FAY WESTERMAN

The engagement of their daughter, Fay Westerman, to Clifford H. Mullikin is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Westerman of Wall street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mullikin of Denmark, Tenn. A December wedding is planned.

Decorate Closet to Be as Pretty as Room Itself

NEW YORK (INS)—Don't close the door on your closets when it comes time to decorate them.

Instead, remember that occasionally outsiders do look inside—and it might give you a lift if you had a good-looking closet to peek into.

An added reason for keeping closets looking well is that a pretty one is likely to influence the youngster in the house to keep neat.

If you have a spacious closet, erect two clothes bars. The back one can come in very handy for storing summer clothes in the winter, and winter clothes in hot weather.

Curtain off the storage section from the front for appearance's sake, preferably with a gay curtain that blends in well with your color scheme.

Remember that the inside of a closet looks well painted the same color as the room. If you have some leftover wallpaper, you might try papering at least the top half for a gay effect.

Then, making something special of your hangers—either cover them with cloth or paint them a bright color. For a really extra touch, sew some brilliants or rhinestones to the cloth covering.

Tack a trim of chintz or oilcloth along the edges of the shelves for a final, restive touch.

Smooth as suede — that's the name for a new suede jacket. Cut on straight lines and featuring deep pockets, it's ideal for casual wear on "in-between" days, when it's too warm for winter clothes and too cool for lighter duds.

Just Become Too, Too Busy to See Him

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going with him for two months. He's a nice boy, but I don't like him well enough to go steady.

"My friends tell me just to go right up to him and tell him, but it seems I lose my nerve when I start to. I'm 15 and think I'm too young to go steady, anyway. Could you please help me?"

Answer: So you're just plain sick and tired of him after two months? He's no longer an exciting mystery? You know everything he's going to say before he says it? You're fed up with the way he looks, thinks and acts? And you want to cut loose?

Maybe it's because he was the wrong choice in the first place. There wasn't anyone else particularly eligible, and he talked you into it. Maybe now that you've gotten to know him it's obvious that you aren't congenial really.

Or maybe you've got your eye on someone else. And with him you haven't a chance while you're encumbered with a steady beau.

You want to get rid of the ball and chain without too much commotion, don't you? Well, the one thing you can't do is tell him you don't like him enough. That puts all the blame on him. And it's not his fault that he's the way he is and your interest isn't enough.

Nor can you tell him with any hope that you don't want it to be steady any more, just now and then. Only the doormat type will take that. A red-blooded he-man will rear back and tell you that if you position as top lady in his life isn't giving you any pleasure, you can count him out.

A good, old-fashioned fight would fix things for you. You can start in pointing out one of his faults after another. You can blame him for a lot of things he never did. And all of this in gradually rising tones.

You can snap back, make critical cracks, and wind up without a steady beau—but with a permanent enemy. But life can be grim enough without manufacturing opposition.

Your best out is to become suddenly unavailable. For a month be completely un-get-at-able, with reasonable excuses for not being able to see him.

Drum up a lot of babysitting jobs—you just have to earn a flock of dough to buy something your parents won't get you. Or get terribly involved in play practice, or visits to your grandmother for the weekend, or family dinner parties.

Line up a lot of activities you just can't get out of, and be breathlessly busy — too busy for dates.

It may take longer than a month to discourage him completely. But when his calls become fewer—if any — make a point of being seen in public with somebody else.

You will be rid of your ball and chain without having made any explanations to anybody.

Latest Skiing Vogue

Very wide leather belts, built like a narrow waist-cinching corselet, are the latest thing to wear with a skiing outfit.

One charming Paris creation is such a corselet belt in red leather with jingle-bells all around the lower edge. It looks and sounds amusing and is smart over a black skiing outfit for a wasp-waisted girl.

Working Grandma Says: Keep Busy, Look Young

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The way to stay young and look your best is to keep busy, says Margaret Rudkin, a glamorous red-haired grandmother whose latest honor is the award of the medallion of honor from the Women's International Exposition.

Mrs. Rudkin, who started with a loaf of home-baked bread and built an international business, says:

"My own grandmother had retired to her shawl and her rocking chair at my age, and wore her bonnet and best black silk dress only on Sundays."

Mrs. Rudkin, on the other hand, is given to frivolous Paris hats and spike heels, keeps up with the latest in art and literature and manages a far-flung business empire with accomplished ease.

Despite her fantastic success, however, she knows every employe at her Pepperidge Farms in Norwalk, Conn., and personally supervises the old-fashioned ingredients and hand processes that go into her bread.

Mrs. Rudkin has a granddaughter Margaret Rudkin, aged 10 months, daughter of her son Henry J. Says grandma:

"She's simply wonderful, has red hair just like me, and I'm going to see to it that she has a career. I'd like to see her go to Harvard Business School."

Mrs. Rudkin feels that the world's happiest women as well as some of the most glamorous get that way from keeping busy, not growing bored, having more than they can do most of the time. Says she:

"When you're in business you have to be on your toes, look your best, but spend less time at it. When you have to do these things, you do them, and manage to be efficient about it.

"I think women's worst enemy is boredom, which comes of not having enough to do. I might add that I never have had that trouble."

The choice of Mrs. Rudkin as recipient of the current "award to industry" of the Women's International Exposition was made in recognition of:

1. Her outstanding business success in an area of special interest to women (namely, bread).

2. The job opportunities she has provided through the years for women.

3. Her encouragement to women in the field of economics by the establishment of annual scholarships at Connecticut College for Women, at Howard University and to the Lucy Stone League, to be awarded by the league to a worthy student.

4. Her keen interest in art and her financial support of many worthwhile causes of benefit to women.

5. Her policy of giving her employes, both men and women, a sense of personal participation in her own ventures.

When notified of the new honor, Mrs. Rudkin exclaimed happily: "I suppose I should say I don't deserve it, but let me have it quick!"

Elegant Meal Wins Male Hearts

CORNISH GAME HENS — Guideposts along the route to a man's heart are delectable Mushroom and Rice Dressing and Herb Gravy accompanying Roast Cornish Game Hens. P. S. to career girl cooks: Using instant nonfat dry milk powder in the Herb Gravy recipe makes it a "no-lump" gravy.

¼ teaspoon powdered thyme
½ teaspoon black pepper

Melt butter in large skillet; add onions and mushrooms; saute until onions are lightly browned and tender. Add rice, instant nonfat dry milk powder and seasonings. Mix lightly with a fork.

Place in greased small baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (350) about 20 minutes until stuffing is hot. Serve with Roast Cornish Game Hens. Serves two.

Herb Gravy

¼ cup drippings
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon whole basil, crushed
¼ teaspoon powdered marjoram
2½ cups water

Place drippings in roasting pan or saucepan. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder, flour and seasonings over water. Beat with rotary beater until just blended.

Pour into drippings; blend well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve hot. Serves two.

Elegant Bread Pudding Made With Pineapple

One of the most practical and best ways to use leftover bread still is the bread pudding. This old-fashioned dessert with smooth custard may be made in endless variety. With the addition of pineapple, it becomes elegant enough for company occasions.

To make: Combine 1 cup of well-drained pineapple tidbits with the bread cubes when making your favorite custard bread pudding. It bakes to the same custardy texture, but has a juicy, tart flavor.

To Cut Oblong Cake

Here's how to cut an oblong sheet cake. First slice the cake in half lengthwise. Then cut diagonally, starting at once corner.

Bowl of Hot Soup Ideal to Combat Chill of January

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cold weather is hot soup weather. It's good for lunch when the children dash in at noon. It's delightful for a first course for dinner. Serve it in the living room for the rest of the family while you put the finishing touches on the meal (you can sip yours in the kitchen).

Don't overlook the between-meal uses of hot soup. If the children spend a couple of hours after school skating or coasting, they'll be cold when they come in. A cup of their favorite hot soup will soon warm them up.

Soup in the evening is fine in cold weather. One of our favorite late-evening snacks is soup and popcorn. We like the combination of canned tomato and canned cream of pea soup blended together with added milk. Experiment with your own combinations.

One of the newer ideas in the food world is adding a pat of butter to a cup of soup. This kind of soup also tastes good with a sandwich or a salad. Another good topping for cream soups is a small spoonful of whipped cream. Sprinkle chopped nuts or paprika over the cream.

Hearty soups are whole-meal soups. Here's one we've had around our desk for some months, just waiting for the right time to use it. It combines chicken stock with fine egg noodles and vegetables.

Chowder

1 quart chicken stock
6 slices bacon, diced
3 medium-sized carrots, sliced
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onions
8 ounces fine egg noodles (about 4 cups)
5 cups milk
1 cup cooked peas
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine stock, bacon, carrots, celery and onions. Heat to boiling point. Cover and cook over medium heat until vegetables are tender, about 25 minutes. Gradually add noodles so that stock mixture continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until noodles are tender, about 15 to 20 minutes. Add milk, peas and salt and pepper to taste; heat to serving temperature.

Exotic Curried Dish Brings East to West

East meets West in this exotic curry dish. Prepare plenty of quick-cooking rice and keep hot.

Meanwhile, heat one can condensed onion soup, stir in one-fourth cup raisins and one-fourth cup chopped nutmeats; add curry powder and other seasoning to taste. Heat until slightly thickened, then stir in contents one family-size can of deviled ham.

To serve, spoon curry sauce over rice and accompany with side dish of chilled drained pineapple tidbits.

Meat loaf will bake faster in a tube cake pan than in a loaf pan.

Turkey Patties Boast Glamor

Nourishing and tasty are these turkey rice patties for they are enriched with economical and versatile instant nonfat dry milk powder.

The cheese almond sauce made with liquefied instant nonfat dry milk turns this leftover turkey dish into something really special.

Turkey Rice Patties

2 cups diced cooked turkey
1 cup cooked rice
1 (3-ounce can) diced or sliced mushrooms with liquid
1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning
2 tablespoons butter

Combine all ingredients except butter. Stir until well blended. Shape into 12 patties. Melt butter in large skillet. Add patties; brown on both sides.

Place patties on serving dish. Pour Cheese Almond Sauce over patties. Serve hot. Makes six servings.

Cheese Almond Sauce

2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
6 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon poultry seasoning
3 (1 ounce) portions process Gruyere cheese, shredded (one-third cup)
½ cup blanched, toasted almonds, slivered

Pour liquefied instant nonfat dry milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle flour and seasonings over surface. Beat with rotary beater until well blended.

Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened, about 15 minutes. Add cheese; stir until melted and well blended. Stir in almonds. Pour over Turkey Rice Patties. Makes about three cups.

For a specially nutritious breakfast, serve a poached egg on a bed of bite-size shredded wheat biscuits.

Canned Apples Make Cooking Quick 'n' Easy

These recipes call for apple products in cans and jars. So, there is no peeling, coring or slicing. The dishes are easy and quick of preparation.

Individual Meat Loaves

½ cup minced onion
1 pound ground beef chuck
½ pound ground lean pork
1½ teaspoons sage
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups canned applesauce
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Combine onion, beef, pork, sage, Worcestershire sauce and salt; mix well. Add applesauce and crumbs; mix well. Pack into large greased muffin pans.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 30-40 minutes. Yields six servings. Serve with seasoned rice, carrots and peas.

Apple Crisp

2½ cups (1 can) sliced apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup all-purpose flour
¾ cup brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
6 tablespoons butter

Place apples in 9x9x2-inch pan, reserving several for garnish; sprinkle with lemon juice. Combine flour, brown sugar, salt and cinnamon. Cut in butter with two knives or pastry blender. Sprinkle on apples. Garnish with remaining apple slices and maraschino cherry.

Bake in moderately hot oven, 375, 30 minutes, or until crumbs are light brown. Serve hot or cold with or without cream. Yields six servings.

Glorify Canned Soup

Canned vegetable soup is transformed into something Grandma herself might have made when you add fresh lemon juice and a little chopped parsley just before serving. Try it and be pleasantly surprised.

Japan from United Nations membership.

We shall keep these injustices in the forefront of human consciousness and seek to maintain the pressure of world opinion to right these vast wrongs in the interest both of justice and secure peace.

Injustice thrives on ignorance. Because an understanding of the truth about America is one of our most powerful forces, I am recommending a substantial increase in budgetary support of the United States information agency.

The sum of our international effort should be this: The waging of peace, with as much resourcefulness, with as great a sense of dedication and urgency, as we have ever mustered in defense of our country in time of war. In this effort, our weapon is not force. Our weapons are the principles and ideas embodied in our historic traditions, applied with the same vigor that in the past made America a living promise of freedom for all mankind.

To accomplish these vital tasks, all of us should be concerned with the strength, effectiveness and morale of our state department and our foreign service.

Improvement of National Security

Another guide in the preparation of the administration's program is the constant improvement of our national security.

Because peace is the keystone of our national policy, our defense program emphasizes an effective flexible type of power calculated to deter or repulse any aggression and to preserve the peace. Short of war, we have never had military strength better adapted to our needs with improved readiness for emergency use. The maintenance of this strong military capability for the indefinite future will continue to call for a large share of our national budget. Our military programs must meet the needs of today. To build less would expose the nation to aggression. To build excessively, under the influence of fear, could defeat our purposes and impair or destroy the very freedom and economic system our military defenses are designed to protect.

Newest Weapons Bolster Defenses

We have improved the effectiveness and combat readiness of our forces by developing and making operational new weapons and by integrating the latest scientific developments, including new atomic weapons, into our military plans. We continue to push the production of the most modern military aircraft.

The development of long-range missiles has been on an accelerated basis for some time. We are moving as rapidly as practicable towards nuclear-powered aircraft and ships. Combat capability, especially in terms of fire-power, has been substantially increased.

We have made the adjustments in personnel permitted by the cessation of the Korean War, the build-up of our allies and the introduction of new weapons. The services are all planning realistically on a long-term basis.

To strengthen our continental defenses the United States and Canada, in the closest cooperation, have substantially augmented early warning networks

Great progress is being made in extending surveillance of the Arctic, the Atlantic and the Pacific approaches to North America.

In the last analysis our real strength lies in the calibre of the men and women in our armed forces, active and reserve. Much has been done to attract and hold capable military personnel, but more needs to be done.

This year, I renew my request of last year for legislation to provide proper medical care for military dependents and a more equitable survivors' benefit program. The administration will prepare additional recommendations designed to achieve the same objectives, including career incentives for medical and dental officers and nurses, and increases in the proportion of regular officers.

Closely related to the mission of the defense department is the task of the Federal Civil Defense Administration. A particular point of relationship arises from the fact that the key to civil defense is the expanded continental defense program, including the distant early warning system. Our federal civil defense authorities have made progress in their program, and now comprehensive studies are being conducted jointly by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, the states, and critical target cities to determine the best procedures that can be adopted in case of an atomic attack.

We must strengthen federal assistance to the states and cities in devising the most effective common defense.

We have a broad and diversified mobilization base. We have the facilities, materials, skills and knowledge rapidly to expand the production of things we need for our defense whenever they are required. But mobilization base requirements change with changing technology and strategy. We must maintain flexibility to meet new requirements.

I am requesting, therefore, that the Congress once again extend the Defense Production Act.

Of great importance to our nation's security is a continuing alertness to internal subversive activity within or without our government. This administration will not relax its efforts to deal forthrightly and vigorously in protection of this government and its citizens against subversion, at the same time fully protecting the constitutional rights of all citizens.

Fiscal Integrity Third Objective

A third objective of the administration is fiscal integrity.

A public office is, indeed, a public trust. None of its aspects is more demanding than the proper management of the public finances. I refer now not only to the indispensable virtues of plain honesty and trustworthiness but also to the prudent, effective and conscientious use of tax money. I refer also to the attitude of mind that makes efficient and economical service to the people a watchword in our government.

Over the long term, a balanced budget is a sure index to thrifty management—in a home, in a business or in the federal government.

When achievement of a balanced budget is for long put off in a business or home, bankruptcy is the result. But in similar circumstances a government resorts to inflation of the money supply.

This inevitably results in depreciation of the value of the money, and an increase in the cost of living. Every investment in personal security is threatened by this process of inflation, and the real values of the people's savings whether in the form of insurance, bonds, pension and retirement funds or savings accounts are thereby shriveled.

We have made long strides these past three years in bringing our federal finances under control. The deficit for fiscal year 1953 was almost 9½ billion dollars. Larger deficits seemed certain—deficits which would have depreciated the value of the dollar and pushed the cost of living still higher.

But government waste and extravagance were searched out. Nonessential activities were dropped. Government expenses were carefully scrutinized.

Total spending was cut by 14 billion dollars below the amount planned by the previous administration for the fiscal year 1954.

This made possible—and it was appropriate in the existing circumstances of transition to a peacetime economy—the largest tax cut in any year in our history. Almost 7½ billion dollars were released and every taxpayer in the country benefited. Almost two-thirds of the savings went directly to individuals. This tax cut also helped to build up the economy, to make jobs in industry and to increase the production of the many things desired to improve the scale of living for the great majority of Americans.

Balanced Budget in Sight in '56

The strong expansion of the economy, coupled with a constant care for efficiency in government brought us to a prospective balance between income and expenditure. This is being done while we continue to strengthen our military security.

I expect the budget to be in balance during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1956.

I shall propose a balanced budget for the next fiscal year ending June 30, 1957.

But the balance we are seeking cannot be accomplished without the continuing every-day effort of the executive and legislative branches to keep expenditures under control. It will also be necessary to continue all of the present excise taxes without any reduction and the corporation income taxes at their present rates for another year beyond next April 1.

It is unquestionably true that our present tax level is very burdensome and, in the interest of long term and continuous economic growth, should be reduced when we prudently can. It is essential, in the sound management of the government's finances, that we be mindful of our enormous national debt and of the obligation we have toward future Americans to reduce that debt whenever we can appropriately do so. Under conditions of high peacetime prosperity, such as now exist, we can never justify going further into debt to give ourselves a tax cut at the expense of our children.

So, in the present state of our financial affairs, I earnestly believe that a tax cut can be deemed justifiable only when it will not unbalance the budget, a budget which makes provision for some reduction, even though modest, in our national debt. In this way we can best maintain fiscal integrity.

Free Enterprise

A fourth aim of our program is: to foster a strong economy.

Our competitive enterprise system depends on the energy of free human beings, limited by prudent restraints in law, using free markets to plan, organize and distribute production, and spurred by the prospect of reward for successful effort. This sytem has developed

WARMING TREAT — After plenty of exercise in the open air, the youngsters will welcome a tempting, warming treat of Hot Spiced Chocolate Eggnog and Cherry Top Hat Cupcakes. These easy-to-make snacks will revive youthful spirits and energy.

Grapefruit Refresher

Prepare a halved grapefruit as usual, cutting out the sections. Top with a scoop of fresh orange sherbet. Pour diced fresh tangerine sections mixed with orange juice and a little honey over all. As refreshing as a sea breeze.

Know how to bread fish fillets? Beat an egg with a couple of tablespoons of cold water. Dip the fillets into the egg, then into fine dry bread crumbs.

Fry Strips of Liver

Cut calf's liver into finger-length strips. Toss the liver strips into flour seasoned with salt, pepper, dry mustard and paprika. Fry in butter. Make a thin brown sauce from the drippings in the pan and bouillon and serve over the liver.

You can bake pork sausage in a shallow pan in a hot (400 degrees) oven. Turn the sausage once to brown on both sides and leave it in the oven at least 20 minutes.

Peppy Sauce for Fish

Diced fresh orange and grapefruit sections heated with a little fresh lemon juice make a tart and peppy sauce for fish. It makes a nice change from the usual tartar sauce.

Buttered Soup Can Use Dips

Hot buttered soup is a new idea in soup serving — a delicious treat that you can make easily and quickly. Use any canned soup —tomato, consomme, cream soups are all good — and heat to boiling.

Pour into large, comfortable mugs and top each portion of soup with a pat of butter. The flavor combination is a particularly appealing and satisfying one, and this drink will answer the need for something hot and hearty on all sorts of occasions.

Mugs of hot buttered soup for those who ordinarily skip breakfast-can help alleviate the mid-morning feeling of emptiness. Hot buttered soup at noontime with a salad and sandwich makes a ready-in-a-hurry lunch for busy mothers.

Serve it as a mid-aftermoon snack when your next-door neighbor drops in, as a before-bedtime drink for the children and for informal parties. (If you haven't tried combining two soups, you'll be delighted at the many new and subtle flavors that are possible.)

Why not try serving hot buttered soup this weekend, along with a tray of assorted crackers and this good cheese dip?

Zippy Cheese Dip

2 3-ounce packages chive cream cheese
1 3-ounce wedge blue cheese
⅓ cup sour cream
(approximate measurement)

Blend chive cream cheese with blue cheese, using a fork. Add about one-half cup sour cream, or enough to make dip of spreading consistency. Serve at room temperature for more full - bodied flavor.

Here's another dip to add variety to the party — and to provide more dip for the dunking!

Devil Dip

1 can (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
½ cup creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 teaspoon minced parsley
Cayenne pepper to taste

Combine ingredients and whip until creamy. Add only enough cayenne for tangy flavor.

Molasses and Cereal

Here's a sweet and simple way to give that morning bowl of hot cereal "sweet tooth" appeal. Simply add a spoonful of real New Orleans molasses for each serving. Or mash one-half banana with molasses and add to out meal. A wonderful iron-rich starter for a youngster's active day, and yours too, come to think of it.

Macaroni and cheese casseroles can be dressed up with a generous amount of chopped chives in the cheese sauce.

Kids Need Hearty Snack After Outdoor Exercising

Ever have a group of tired, hungry youngsters roll into the kitchen with loud demands for refreshments? A few hours of arduous exercise in the wintry air make hands and feet cold, sharpen appetities and bring energy to a low ebb.

If you are wondering what to serve, here's the answer: Piping hot mugs of Hot Spiced Chocolate Eggnog and Cherry Top Hat Cupcakes to top off hearty sandwiches. Have plenty of food on hand . . . seconds will be called for as spirits revive.

Chocolate milk gives quick energy and is in excellent source of calcium, essential for growth and development in children. Remember to have it often.

You'll find it is invaluable in encouraging children to drink their daily milk quota. The chocolate flavor of chocolate milk puts the beverage into the "treat" category, and youngsters need no persuasion to drink it. All-year-round versatility make it an important staple for your refrigerator.

Hot Spiced Chocolate Eggnog

1 quart chocolate milk
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 sticks cinnamon
2 eggs, beaten
Marshmallows

Combine chocolate milk, nutmeg and cinnamon. Heat to boiling point. Reduce heat and cook 10 minutes. Remove cinnamon sticks. Add a little of hot mixture to eggs and mix well.

Gradually add egg mixture to remaining hot milk mixture and cook, stirring constantly, five minutes. Serve topped with marshmallows. Makes four to six servings.

Cherry Top Hat Cupcakes

1 1-pound 4-ounce package devil's food cake mix
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained (about 15 cherries)
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 3-ounce package cream cheese softened
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Prepare cake mix according to package directions. Add cherries and mix well. Pour into greased and floured 2½-inch cup cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (350) about 25 minutes, or until cakes test done. Cool.

Combine remaining ingredients and blend. Cut out cone-shaped piece from center of cupcakes; fill cupcakes with cream mixture. Top with cutout cone. Makes about 18 cupcakes.

Lemon Kills Odors

Here's a way to take lingering odors out of your garbage disposal unit—the kind that come from grinding strong vegetables or other foods with a heavy odor. After disposing of all garbage, put in half a lemon or the peel from fresh lemons and all will be pleasant again:

Give applesauce good flavor by adding sugar to taste, dash of salt, lemon rind and lemon juice, a suspicion of nutmeg. Tastes wonderful over vanilla ice cream.

Pearadise Pie Has Spicy Top

For a dessert that's as exciting as it is easy to make, try this Dutch Pearadise Pie. It's made with versatile, spicy canned Bartlett pears; is truly a new taste sensation and best of all, from the housewife's viewpoint, it's quick and easy to make.

The crust requires no rolling, the filling requires no pre-cooking, yet the final product is pretty as a picture and so delicious eevryone will demand second servings.

Dutch Pearadise Pie

6 to 8 canned Bartlett pear halves, drained
1⅓ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons sugar
½ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons milk

Mix and sift flour, salt and sugar into baking dish (8x8x2 inches). Combine oil and milk in measuring cup. Whip with fork. Pour all at once over flour mixture. Mix with fork until dampened.

Press evenly and firmly with fingers to cover bottom of pan and push dough up along sides to depth of about one inch. Arrange pears, cut side up, over pastry.

Spread topping over fruit. Bake in hot oven (425) 35 minutes or until edges of pastry are well-browned. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Topping

Mix ⅝ cup light brown sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind in mixing bowl.

Cut in 2 tablespoons butter or with pastry blender or fork until crumbly. Stir in 1 slightly beaten egg.

DUTCH PEARADISE PIE — Serve this open-face pie for a family desesrt or to please your guests next time you entertain. The canned pears have a spicy topping in place of a regular crust. You may garnish each pear half with maraschino cherries.

Diet Can Be Rescued by Mid-Morning Soup

Many would-be weight losers give up the fight when energy ebbs in mid-morning, with dispositions and productivity following the tide. Too bad, when the battle can be saved with an invigorating cup of soup to reinforce them until luncheon.

A low calorie, protein-rich clear soup such as bouillon or consomme takes the weariness out of the morning and holds the dieter's hunger in check until lunch.

Easy Sardine Canape

Here's a good canape to prepare in a jiffy. Drain one can Maine sardines. Roll in one-fourth cup grated Parmesan cheese. Toast bread strips on one side and spread other side with prepared mustard. Place sardines on top and broil till light brown. Serve very hot. Serves six.

Serve Inexpensive Meats to Balance Food Budget

Pontiac Press Home Editor

After the flurry of the holidays has passed, homemakers begin to think about the food budget again and attempt to get it in balance during January. Since meat is the most expensive food in our market basket, that is the place we start to economize.

Inexpensive meat does not mean poor meat nor tough meat. It does mean that we have to use our ingenuity and be willing to try out some new cuts of meat.

With the invention of meat tenderizers, any meat can be fork-tender after cooking. You have your choice of flavored or unflavored tenderizers. Now there is a low-sodium tenderizer for those people who must restrict salt in their diets.

Gaynor Maddox, a national food writer, gives these simple procedures for tenderizing any meat.

1. Sprinkle tenderizer generally over all surfaces.
2. Pierce meat generally on all sides with a long-tined fork.
3. Allow to stand at room temperature for one hour (30-40 minutes for thin steaks or chops); or you may cover the meat lightly and leave in refrigerator overnight.
4. Broil just like any steak.

Whenever anyone talks about inexpensive meat cuts, we are apt to think of ground beef. As a change from the usual hamburgers or meat patties, try this recipe for Swedish Meat Balls. It comes from the chef of the Swedish American liner, the Kungsholm.

Swedish Meat Balls

¾ pound ground round steak
¼ pound boneless pork
¼ cup finely minced onion
½ cup soft bread crumbs
Fat
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 egg
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon allspice

Have round steak and pork ground together twice. Brown minced onion in a small amount of fat or shortening. Combine meat, browned onion, bread crumbs, seasonings, egg and milk. Mix well and form into small balls; fry slowly in hot fat until well browned. Remove from skillet and serve hot. If desired, gravy may be made in meat drippings. Makes four to five servings.

Since pork is on the inexpensive meat list at the present time, you can serve spareribs without stretching the budget. For a change, bake them Chinatown-style with a sweet-sour sauce in combination with chunks of golden pineapple.

Chinatown Spareribs

2-3 pounds pork spareribs
Salt and pepper
¾ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green peppers
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon soy sauce
¾ cup pineapple syrup
1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks, drained

Have spareribs cut into 3-rib sections. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Arrange meaty side up in shallow pan. Place in preheated hot oven, 450 degrees, 20 minutes. Meanwhile, cook onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until softened but not browned, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Sprinkle with cornstarch and brown sugar; mix well. Stir in combined liquids and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened, about 2 minutes. Pour off excess fat from roasting pan, then pour pineapple sauce and pineapple chunks over spareribs. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and continue baking, covered, 1½ hours or until meat is well browned and tender. Makes four to six servings.

Commercial butter is graded for flavor, body, texture, color, salt and packaging.

Blue Cheese Sparks Pizzas

Sometime during this winter season you may be called upon as a good hostess to prepare a "something-different" dish at a moment's notice. Nothing is easier to make than our old friend the pizza, or tomato pie.

For the special twist, add American blue cheese and the pizza emerges as a bright new treat. American blue cheese has a delightfully piquant flavor and creamy texture especially good with this type of dish.

And the pie may be made, baked and served hot in about a half hour. For extra zip, try adding blue cheese to some of your other family favorites such as pork chops which are currently a surplus food.

BLUE CHEESE PIZZA — Blue Cheese Pizza is an easy-to-prepare dish for unexpected guests. Serve coffee in small glasses in true Italian style.

Blue Cheese Pizzas

2 cups biscuit mix
3-3 cup milk
8-ounce can tomato sauce
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ pound Mozzarella cheese sliced

Combine biscuit mix and milk; mix well. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently 10 times.

Divide dough in four portions. Roll out each portion to one-fourth-inch thickness, about 5-½ inches in diameter. Place on baking sheet.

Spread tomato sauce on biscuit dough, sprinkle with one-half cup blue cheese and seasonings. Top with Mozzarella cheese and sprinkle with remaining one-fourth cup blue cheese.

Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes, or until cheese is bubbly. Serves four.

You save time by using biscuit mix for the base of the pizzas.

Use Bite-Size Cereal

Why go to all the trouble of cutting bread into cubes, for croutons, stuffing, salads, puddings, etc? Instead, try your favorite "bite-size" shredded wheat biscuits. They're perfect for the job.

Southfield Pays Tribute to Clerk Fannie Adams

By LILLIAN BLACKLAW
Southfield Correspondent

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Milton (Fannie) Adams will be honored at a public dinner at Devon Gables Jan. 31 for 25 years service to this township in her capacity of clerk.

Mrs. Adams started in the township's employ in 1931 as clerk to the treasurer. In April the same year, she ran as a "sticker" candidate and won a two-year term as treasurer.

In 1933 she was hired by Elmer Haack, township supervisor, as his clerk and in April, 1934 she was appointed clerk. In this position Mrs. Adams spread the taxes for the supervisor, using only a typewriter and adding machine. The first machine to simplify the work was purchased in 1941.

Mrs. Adams recalls many changes during the past 25 years and relates several. The first township office was a rented second floor room in the southwest corner of Southfield 10 School. The township hall was remodeled in 1932 and progressed steadily from then on.

Mrs. Adams laughingly reports having dashed across the field many times with fire extinguishers and brooms for neighbors of the township hall to use in fighting brush and field fires.

The clerk's desk has been the recipient of all types of requests over the years. Many people have asked and received aid of "their Fannie" who has served them as township clerk for the past 25 years.

REV. WILLIAM HAMM

To Elect Vestry at First Meeting

St. Mary's-in-the-Hills to Hold Annual Event at Indianwood

Friday, the first annual meeting of the Parish of St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal church will be held at Indianwood Country Club at 7 p.m. The meeting will be conducted by the vicar, the Rev. William C. Hamm, who has guided the mission since its early days.

Highlight of the meeting will be the election of the first vestry of the parish, in compliance with the canon law of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Michigan.

The mission started as a parochial mission of All Saints Church in Pontiac on June 19, 1952. Due to its rapid growth and spiritual progress it was able to become a diocesan mission in 1953 and as further evidence of its growth, is assuming parochial status this year.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in Lansing by George S. Hodges, warden, of Birmingham; Dr. Daniel S. McGeen, secretary, of Lake Angelus; George Titus, treasurer, Oxford; H. W. Robinson, Lake Orion, and Arthur R. Dodge of Lake Angelus along with the Rev. Mr. Hamm.

The church is located on the former Scripps estate five miles north of Pontiac on Joslyn road. The former Scripps Stone School has been remodeled by the parishioners and plans are being made for an addition to the building to accommodate the growing congregation.

St. Mary's congregation of 100 families and 150 communicants, is composed from a wide area including Lake Orion, Oxford, Lake Angelus, Pontiac, Waterford, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Rochester and Detroit.

The Rev. Mr. Hamm assumed leadership of the church in 1952 after serving as Rector of St. Joseph Episcopal Church of Detroit for ten years. Previous to that he was assistant rector of Christ Church Cranbrook.

Construction of a $30,000,000 petroleum refinery plant is now underway at Mamonal, on Cartagena Bay, Colombia.

C. E. Wilson Gets Cartoon With Career Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson has a cartoon panel of his life, done by his daughter, Mrs. Jean Wilson Hargreaves.

The secretary returned Wednesday from a trip which included a holiday visit to his Bloomfield Hills, Mich., home. Mrs. Hargreaves included the cartoon panel among his Christmas presents there.

On it she inscribed in minute, colored sketches, some famous and some little known happenings in the secretary's career.

There is one picture of Wilson surrounded by dogs—the kind he talked about with unhappy results during the political campaign of 1954.

Wilson in offhand news conference remarks about an unemployment situation said he liked "bird dogs rather than kennel-fed dogs" and explained he meant "one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell." He spent some time explaining he was merely praising initiative and intended no "invidious comparisons."

Another picture shows the former General Motors president driving to the capitol upon his arrival in Washintgon.

Mrs. Hargreaves depicts her father motoring up Pennsylvania Avenue throwing sheaves of GM stock from his car. He divested himself of security holdings before winning Senate confirmation as secretary.

Then there is a drawing of the crowned king of Geneal Motors surrounded by heraldic devices of the GM cars.

Another lampoons his unsuccessful attempt at water skiing, in which he broke a rib.

There is a companion item showing him hitting hard upon the ice when he was skating — which brought a broken hip.

Fungi and insects take their toll in this country—$7 billion a year, says the Department of Agriculture.

Errol Flynn's Opinion of Living in Hollywood

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Errol Flynn met Publisher Bob Harrison of "Confidential," whom he's suing for $1,000,000, in El Morocco the other night . . . and for a while everybody thought Flynn might mop up the place and also Harrison.

For they used to say that Flynn "wouldn't fight any place but El Morocco"—but on this trip from Spain to do a Martha Raye TV show, he's milder, for he called across to Harrison at the next table:

"You know I've got you! How about settling for $100,000 right now? I happen to have a check with me, good on any bank."

For reply, Publisher Harrison hopped over to Flynn's table and kissed him on the forehead, crying, "I love you!"

"Isn't that assault?" asked Flynn. "Can't I sue for some more?"

Harrison's lawyer, Dan Ross, accompanying him, said to Flynn, "It would be very nice if you two could have a talk while you're here." Flynn sat down with him and complained that the controversial article told of alleged incidents on his honeymoon with Patricia Wymore, "in Hollywood."

"Actually, we were married in Monte Carlo, not Hollywood," shouted Flynn.

"The locations are bungled," asknowledged the lawyer. "The whole article's bungled and you'll pay," insisted Flynn.

ENDS WITHOUT A BRAWL

It ended there, without fisticuffs, but Flynn said later that since he's living in Palma, Mallorca, he's leading a life of "contemplation."

"I've given up motion picture acting," he said. "I believe my future is in litigation."

"You won't be going back to Hollywood?" I asked him.

"I can imagine nothing as abhorent as going back to Hollywood," he replied. "When you've been away for a while you look back in amazement that you were able to spend almost 20 years in such a silly place. I hate the hypocrisy of the town and even with the climate you've still got Jack Warner.

Flynn said he'd gone there for 3 months, "but on a boat I met a girl—Lili Damita," and that he hasn't been able to get even with the alimony since. He claimed that some lawyers—whom he fictitiously labeled as "Smith, Smith, Screwdriver and Smith"—have kept him paying, paying, paying since.

"Mallorca is such a wonderful place," Flynn said enthusiastically. "It has no movie actors and practically no lawyers. I think that's why it's such a wonderful place. There's nobody there," he added, "but a lot of 'squares'—and nice people."

Fuss Made Over Climactic Rose Bowl Finish

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Controversy and confusion continued today, but the record books will still say the final score of the 1956 Rose Bowl game was Michigan State 17, UCLA 14.

Not since 1949 and the disputed touchdown by Northwestern's Art Murakowski, when the Wildcats beat California 20-14, has there been such a post-game ruckus. Strangely, few disputed the fact Michigan State should have won its game.

A newspaper here kept the arguments going yesterday with a story claiming the winning field goal by Dave Kaiser in the final 7 seconds might not have been kicked if MSU had been penalized 15 yards for coaching from the sidelines by illegally throwing in the kicking tee.

A Pacific Coast Conference spokesman said there was no reason for a 15-yard penalty since time was out when the tee came onto the field. He said both coaches had been schooled before the game that if the clock was stopped, the tee could be sent in without a penalty for coaching from the sidelines.

This backed up the statement by MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty immediately after the game.

The confusion began after 58 minutes and 26 seconds of the contest were history. Then, with UCLA on its 20, the Bruins were penalized 15 yards for coaching from the sidelines. The call was against Line Coach Jim Myers for waving his arms indicating "try a pass!"

The rule book bears out this penalty although some claimed it almost never is called. There were unofficial intimations that such signals are often used. UCLA Head Coach Red Sanders made no complaint on the penalty call.

A second successive penalty against UCLA sent the Bruins back to the 1 and brought almost a nation-wide storm of protest. Ronnie Knox tried a pass from his end zone after Michigan State put on a good rush.

Referee Ross Dean gave an arm signal for a penalty for intentionally grounding the pass. He stepped off the penalty. Critics, who had watched on TV, pointed out that if the pass was grounded, UCLA should have been charged with a safety and Michigan State given 2 points. That would have made the score 16-14.

Yesterday Commissioners K. L. (Tug) Wilson of the Big 10 and Victor O. Schmidt of the PCC said the arm signal had been in error and the penalty was for having an ineligible receiver downfield.

In Chicago, Bill Reed, assistant to Wilson, said Dean got the wrong signal originally from another official. He did not identify him.

Young Knox' stepfather, Harvey, had some comments to make, which is not unusual.

He didn't think Coach Sanders used Ronnie enough or at the proper time. He said the coach kept Sam Brown in until the running attack had been stopped and MSU easily readjusted itself for a desperation passing game. He didn't approve of the officiating either.

Young Knox, a star passer, had suffered a broken bone in his ankle on Nov. 12 against Washington. It wasn't known how effective he would be in the bowl game, but he set up the second UCLA touchdown.

One point on which there has been no controversy — Kaiser's placement, the first of his career, traveled 41 yards from the point of the kick to the goal posts and was good.

Eager Golfers Shoot Winter Round Sunday

Dick Robertson's 69 Plus Eagle 3 Sparks Foursome at PCC

A rugged Pontiac foursome toured the Pontiac Country Club's 18-hole layout Sunday afternoon for a brisk wintry round. The January swingers all posted respectable scores over the winter-hardened terrain.

Dick Robertson, who lives at 20 Euclid, spearheaded the group with 34-35—69, five under par. Included in Robertson's impressive round was an eagle three on the 475-yard 1st hole. Dick displayed mid-season form as he reached the green in two shots and dropped a six-foot putt.

Completing Sunday's quartet of golf-lovers were Joe Bergdorf who fired 75, Glen Harding who carded 76, and anchorman Chuck Whipple who shot 78.

Five Thousand Meet Team at Airport

Victorious Spartans Given Triumphant Welcome

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football fans, still elated over the Spartans' dramatic 17-14 victory over UCLA in the Rose Bowl, gave their team a roaring welcome last night when it made a triumphant return from a 2-week stay in California.

As the chartered plane bearing the team touched down at the Lansing Capitol City Airport at 8:07 p.m., a crowd estimated by police at between 4,000 and 5,000 erupted into sustained cheering.

Flares formed a block "S" on the field to guide in the plane.

As the big airliner slowed to a stop, police had to hold back the swarming rooters before the doors could be opened. First to appear was sophomore end Dave Kaiser of Alpena, who won the game with his 34-yard field goal in the last seven seconds.

Kaiser touched off another cheer. Someone pushed a huge bouquet of roses into his arms. Then, as he grinned broadly, official greetings were extended by Ralph Crego and Max Carruthers, mayors respectively of Lansing and East Lansing, who had proclaimed Jan. 4 as "Dave Kaiser Day."

Team members appeared travel weary after a cross-country flight of more than seven hours. Leaving California in sunny weather, they returned to find Lansing shivering in 27 degree temperatures.

Freshman coach Don Mason was the only coach aboard. The others remained on the West Coast for meetings of the National Coaches Assn. Head coach Duffy Daugherty, who is resting up at the desert spa of Palm Springs, also plans to attend a "Coach-of-the-Year" dinner in his honor.

The Spartan team was paraded in an auto cavalcade through Lansing and East Lansing and was hailed along the route by the blare of honking horns, flashing porch lights and cheers from groups of students and townspeople along the streets.

The cavalcade wound up at the MSU campus for another demonstration and welcome. Then the team said goodnight to the crowd and scattered to join their families or return to their dormitories.

3rd Ranked Dayton Tops Tonight's Cage Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven-foot Bill Uhl and his Dayton Flyers return to action after a week's vacation tonight against tough Duquesne in an effort to extend their undefeated string to 10 games.

Dayton is No. 3 in the Associated Press poll, ranking behind San Francisco and North Carolina State.

After tonight's game, the Flyers must tangle with Duquesne again at the tail end of the season. Next month they play Memphis State, incidentally, has gone over 100 points four times this season. It vanquished Miami (Fla.) 79-71 in the Senior Bowl semifinal last night and will meet Spring Hill for the title tonight.

Lloyd Aubrey made Notre Dame history last night when he broke the Irish field house scoring record with a 43-point binge in an 83-69 victory over Butler. The Irish zipped to a 43-34 halftime lead.

Other noteworthy events last night:

Biggest upset—Belmont Abbey's 84-82 over Richmond.

Undefeated—Temple won No. 7, turning back Lehigh 81-48.

Streaks — St. Bonaventure won 59th in a row at home, whipping Le Moyne 80-70.

Seton Hall, practically always a power, made a fresh bid to get in the top 20 by setting down Loyola of Baltimore 69-54 for its ninth victory in 10 starts.

Oklahoma City polished off Tulsa 58-50 to reverse a result of last week, while Kansas State smothered College of the Pacific 67-36.

Written Arguments Sought in Loop Row

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Counsel for Little League, Inc., and its deposed commissioner, Carl E. Stotz, submit brief written summations in their dispute to Federal Judge Frederick V. Follmer today.

Follmer called for the summations yesterday after hearing final oral arguments in the league's suit for a permanent injunction barring Stotz from setting up a rival organization.

Follmer will issue his finding tomorrow, he said.

Stotz was removed as commissioner after filing a breach of contract suit against the league. He has announced his intention to set up a rival league but has been prohibited from doing so by a temporary injunction.

Ex-Wolverine Signs With Pro Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Lowell Perry, former University of Michigan football star, today signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Steelers for 1956. He is the first player to reach terms with the club for next season.

Perry, a 195-pounder from Ypsilanti, Mich., was a Steeler draft choice in 1953. He has been in the Army, serving at Bolling Field, Washington. He is scheduled to be discharged in April.

Perry has been playing halfback, offensive end and safetyman for the Bolling Generals, one of the nation's leading service teams.

Red Wings Lose 5-4 After 3-0 Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings must be wondering what they have to do to win a National Hockey League game at New York.

Last night, before 10,380 Madison Square Garden fans, the Wings built what appeared an almost insurmountable 3-0 lead in the first two periods. But New York staged a third-period rally as only it has been able to do this season to score five goals and win 5-4.

The Rangers' splurge was the second time this season they have scored five times in one period. They're the only team to fire that many in one stanza and on each occasion the Wings were the victims.

The last time the defending NHL champions visited New York, the Rangers broke a 2-2 tie that existed at the end of the second period to win 7-3.

Rookie left winger Andy Hebenton sparked the Rangers with a pair of goals, one minute and 29 seconds apart. Defenseman Jackie Evans, Larry Popein and Wally Hergesheimer were the other blueshirt marksmen.

Red Kelly scored twice for Detroit with Earl Reibel and Metro Prystai getting the others.

The Wings took a 2-0 lead in the first period on Kelly's first marker while the Rangers were a man short. Reibel and Prystal made it 3-0 in the middle frame.

The Rangers, who have scored 25 goals against Wings in seven meetings this season — the same number as they fired in the 14 contests between the two clubs in 1954-55—moved seven points ahead of third-place Detroit.

They trail the leading Montreal Canadiens by 11 points.

The Canadiens, who entertain Detroit in the only game tonight, have 55 points.

Greyhound racing was off to a strong start late in 1955. The first night of racing drew a crowd of 12,180 who wagered a total of $309,064 to set a new record in Florida.

Broncs Even Score With Bowling Green

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan's basketball team evened the score with Bowling Green last night, whipping its Mid-American Conference rival 82-63 for its 2nd league triumph in four starts.

The victory avenged the Broncos' loss to Bowling Green earlier this season, 93-89 in a double overtime.

Forwards Bob Diment of Saginaw and Jack Smith of Grosse Pointe led the Western Michigan offensive, scoring 25 and 24 points respectively.

Major league baseball bases will be of new material for the 1956 campaign. They are filled with sponge rubber and covered by plastic.

Top Field Entered in Pro-Amateur Celebrity Round Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1956 golf campaign gets underway in a light mood today but the seasoned tournament professionals get down to serious work tomorrow in the first round of the $30,000 Los Angeles Open.

The Rancho Municipal Golf Course was the setting for today's prelude, a $2,500 pro-amateur celebrity round, and featured in the field were Ben Hogan and the young man who beat him out of his fifth U.S. Open crown, Jack Fleck.

The two were not in the same foursome, however, and Hogan will not continue in the 72-hole tournament proper.

Hogan, his pal Jimmy Demaret, actor Dennis O'Keefe and the tournament co-sponsor, Bill McDonald Jr., made up one foursome.

Fleck, Doug Ford, comedian Phil Harris and baseball's Del Webb were in another group.

Par for the Rancho course is 36-35—71, and most observers think that par 284 for the four rounds will not prove too difficult for the better golfers.

Gene Littler won the 1955 local open and is a decided threat in this one.

Entry Blanks Available for ABC Matches

Entry blanks for teams or individuals wishing to bowl in the 1956 American Bowling Congress championships can be obtained by calling Lou Koprince, FE 5-6032.

The Championships will be held in Rochester, N.Y. between March 3 and May 16th, but all entries must be in by January 17th. Blanks are available for open or booster bowling teams.

Bee Stings Only Once

A bee can sting only once, because it loses its stinger on the first stab. Wasps, hornets and yellow jackets are equipped for repeat performances.

Landy Plans Comeback; Trains for Olympic Tests

MELBOURNE, (INS) — Australian world record miler John Landy, inactive over the past year, will make a comeback and go into intensive training immediately for the November Olympics at Melbourne.

That's what the slender school teacher told a cheering throng of 8,000 yesterday after he reeled off the fastest time of his career only to lose to Lon Spurrier of Delano, Calif., by inches in a scorching 880-yard duel.

Landy led on the rain-soaked cinder track at Olympic Park until about a yard from the tape, when Spurrier lungedl ahead with a terrific finishing kick.

Both were timed in 1:58.8 but after lengthy consultation among the judges, Spurrier — who holds the world 880 record of 1:47.5— was adjudged the winner "officially by inches."

Landy, who set the world mile mark of 3:58 flat at Turku, Finland, in the summer of 1954, declared after the race that he was all the more serious now about a comeback and would go into intensive training for the quadrennial games.

He immediately planned competition at his mile specialty distance and said he would enter a race at the Olympic Park in about three weeks.

Dispersal Sale May Hit Record

Yearlings, Mares of Woodward Stable on Auction Block

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Segula, carrying a full brother or sister to Nashua, went on the auction block today along with 38 other thoroughbreds purchased from the estate of William Woodward Jr.

With horsemen figuring a possible American record auction price for a mare on Segula, the total sale take was estimated at a possible $500,000 to $700,000.

The 16 yearlings and 23 mares—plus the 22-year-old mare Dancing Dora, which was not sold today—were purchased for a reported $410,000 by Miss Mildred Woolwine of White Oaks Farm, Lexington; Edward Potter, Nashville; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Middendorf, Boston. They announced the dispersal the day after purchasing the horses from the estate.

Speculation on the 14-year-old dark bay Segula, in foal to Nasrullah, ranged from $90,000 to $150,000. The American record for a mare is $105,000 for Masaka, which the Aga Khan sold a year ago at Keeneland.

Willie Mays set a 1955 record with nine home runs in Brooklyn's park.

Share of 2nd Place in SVC Victors' Award

Bay City's Experience Offset by Home-Floor Edge for Chiefs

With the encounter itself rated a tossup by Pontiac's mentor, PHS basketball Chiefs Friday night shoot for their 2nd Valley win and a share of the circuit's 2nd place.

Bay City's Art Paddy brings his aggregation of experienced cagers here for resumption of the season's holiday-interrupted schedule. He figured the game much like Art Van Ryzin, Chiefs' coach, that it would turn out to be a close, hard-fought scrap.

The two top-tied conference clubs, Northern and Central, collide Friday and one will have to share the 2nd spot with either PHS or Bay City. And Van Ryzin today was hopeful that his club would be the chosen one. Each has won one and lost one in Valley play. Vikings and Indians are unbeaten to this point.

"I think Bay City may have a little advantage on us in the matter of experience," Van Ryzin said this morning. "But maybe that will be offset by the 'home-floor advantage' we will have."

Van Ryzin pointed out that the Wolves showed to better advantage against Central's Indians than did Pontiac. But Paddy didn't think that was a reasonable measure of the PHS club's ability. "I can't believe there was that much difference," says Paddy. "Central probably had one of those once-in-a-long-time hot streaks, and Pontiac was there to take the brunt of it."

Chiefs' starters will go as indicated Thursday, with Hudson Ray getting the starting call at the pivot over Jim Skinner. However, Jim's height makes him a good bet for a guard spot some time during the tilt, if that need becomes apparent, the coach said.

Friday's game is the 3rd of the SVC season for PHS, which has won over Arthur Hill and lost to Central. Chiefs' overall mark, however, is four wins against the single defeat.

Varsity game at 8 p.m. Friday will be preceded by a hot scrap between capable Pontiac and Bay City reserve squads.

Vardon Trophy Goes to Snead for 4th Time

Slammer's Average of 69.86 Strokes in 63 Rounds Brings Award

CHICAGO (AP)—Sam Snead, whose back miseries have plagued him for a number of years, created one of the big surprises of the 1955 golf tour by winning the Vardon Trophy based on average low scoring.

The 41-year-old veteran averaged 69.86 strokes in 63 tournament rounds to win the trophy for the fourth time, the PGA announced yesterday. He won it in 1938, 1949 and 1950 when his 69.23 average set a record low that still stands.

Snead picked up $23,464 to place seventh on the money-winning list which was topped by Julius Boros with $63,121. Boros' $50,000 prize for taking the "world championship" in August assured him the money-winning title.

Cary Middlecoff was second with $39,567 and Doug Ford third with $33,503.

Ford was second to Snead in the Vardon Trophy race with a 70.12 average in 128 rounds. Middlecoff was third with 70.16 in 76.

Ford headed the Ryder Cup leaders for the year with 135 points, followed by Tommy Bolt with 126 5-6 and Snead with 112.

Cornell Record Set

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Little 5-6 Chuck Rolles has set a new Cornell four-year basketball scoring record. He scored 23 against Syracuse last night to boost his Cornell total to 1,314 points. Starting the game he had been tied with Jack Sheehy, who graduated last June, at 1,291.

Pro Rivalry in Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)— The natural rivalry of Paul Brown and Buddy Parker was never more apparent than today as they went about preparing opposing squads for Saturday's Senior Bowl game.

Both had the air of men with the will to win.

Both have virtually dominated pro football during the past six years.

Brown's Cleveland Browns have won six straight divisional titles and three world championships. Parker, although his Detroit Lions fell from the peak this past season, won three divisional championships in five years and two world titles.

Both go about their coaching duties in much the same manner. Brown is famed for his business-like demeanor, but Parker is little behind him in that respect.

The major difference noted in their coaching of the Senior Bowlers was that Brown devoted most of the early practice to individual tutoring of the players while Parker turned more to drills featuring team play.

Brown worked his South quarterbacks, Bob Hardy of Kentucky and George Herring of Mississippi Southern, repeatedly on a handoff or pitchout, Parker put his offensive and defensive units together early and turned loose his quarterbacks, Jerry Reichow of Iowa and Jim Haluska of Wisconsin.

Brown worked on polishing the play of each man before putting the team together in a unit. Parker concentrated more on working his men as a unit from the start.

Both coaches turned largely to pass patterns in yesterday's workout and Reichow and Haluska looked a bit more effective than Hardy and Herring on their aerials. The two Big 10 quarterbacks both had total offensive gains of more than 1,000 yards last season to rank among the top 10 in the nation.

Brown ordered one major change. He shifted Fob James, Auburn back who led the Southeastern Conference in rushing with 879 yards on 123 carries last year, from the defensive unit to the offensive backfield. Henry Moore, Arkansas fullback, was moved to James' place on defense.

Both squads are in excellent condition. All except 4 of the 50 played in major bowl or post season all-star games.

Pioneer Swimmers Offer Powerful Team Balance

Generally rated the state's top prep aquatic squad, at this time, Ann Arbor High bases its power on all-around balance. That's the word from Paul Clifford, Pioneers' coach. Pontiac High School Chief splashers engage the Ann Arbor outfit in the Slauson Junior High pool, Ann Arbor, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Chiefs' mentor, Robert (Des) Boyce figures the Pioneers "the hardest competition we will have this year." Pontiac is unbeaten in two duels.

Clifford had not decided early today on his starters in the key relay events. He said he would send Ron Clark against Chiefs' Bob Keavy for what should be a fine breaststroke battle. Clark, free styler Pete Gale, senior, and Bert Root in the distance events (300 and 400 yards) and three very good divers combine for the Pioneer scoring balance.

Alvero Gaxiola, Mexican, and a senior, is the top diver. "He's a real top performer," says Boyce. Junior Tee Francis, son of Dr. Jonas Francis of Salk vaccine fame, and sophomore Ted Norris, are other good springboard performers, Clifford reports.

Current record for the Ann Arbor team is the best in Pioneers' history, Clifford says. It includes dual wins over Adrian 70-17 and AA University High, 64-35, plus the Cereal Bowl (Battle Creek) relays, usually rated a state title preview. Pioneers also had three winners in the state AAU meet, in Gaxiola, Francis and Gaxiola's brother Alex (a diver), not yet eligible for prep competition, because of a residence rule.

Boyce will announce his starters tomorrow.

New Title Bout in the Making

Rocky May Be Sent Against Patterson in September Test

NEW YORK (AP)—A Floyd Patterson-Rocky Marciano match for the world heavyweight title in Los Angeles is in the making for next September.

Marciano may box Archie Moore, Bob Baker or Bob Satterfield in June before he meets the 1952 Olympic 165-pound champion who has been a sensation since he turned pro.

Although the Brooklyn Negro, who celebrated his 21st birthday yesterday, weighed less than 165 during the Olympics he came in at 178½ for his latest start, a seventh - round technical knockout over Jimmy Slade, Dec. 8 at Los Angeles.

* * *

Marciano, who said yesterday in Los Angeles he didn't know when or where he will return to action, weighed 188¼ for his most recent start against Archie Moore in September.

40 Rinks Enter Curling Event

Detroit Club Host to Seventieth International Bonspiel, Today

DETROIT (AP)—Forty rinks from the United States and Canada will vie for honors in the 70th annual International Bonspiel opening today at the Detroit Curling Club.

Today's competition will be for the J. A. Ahearn trophy, to be awarded to Canada or the U. S. on the basis of the combined point total of the 20 rinks from each country in the opening day tests. Canada won it last year.

The defending champion Wauwatosa Curling Club from the suburbs of Milwaukee, under Skip Lew Collins, will face Montreal St. George Curling Club in its first test.

Chicago, with five rinks, has the most entrants among eight U.S. cities represented. The Canadian entries include 17 rinks from Ontario and three from Quebec.

The bonspiel continues through Sunday.

State Studies Land Purchases

Fishing Sites, Game Areas Considered by Conservation Body

LANSING (AP) — The state conservation commission will consider purchasing three public fishing sites and 734 acres of game lands at its Jan. 12-13 meeting.

The fishing sites are on Sheffer Lake in Allegan County, Lee Lake in Calhoun County and Wilson Lake in Antrim county.

Largest land purchase is a 360-acre tract adjoining the Chippewa River State Forest in Midland. Crossed by the Sturgeon river, the tract is nine miles Northwest of Midland in a high hunting pressure area.

The commission will consider buying 374 acres with federal funds, including 160 acres adding to the Crane Pond Game Area, 80 acres in addition to the Middleville Game Area, 76 more acres for the Lapeer Game Area and 458 acres more for the Gratiot-Saginaw Game Area.

Philgas Wins in Sudden Death Play

Two free throws by Jim Batchelor in the sudden death overtime gave Philgas a 69-67 win over Waterford Merchants in the Waterford Recreation League last night.

The game was tied 63-63 at the end of regulation play and in the first overtime Tex Klaus sunk a basket for Philgas in the last 15 seconds to send the contest into the sudden death.

Klaus led the scoring for the winners with 24 points. Phil Runkel had 27 for Waterford, which at one time in the 3rd period has a 15 point lead.

In the other game of the evening Poole defeated Beattie 66-58 behind Jerry Bradley's 27 points.

City Hoop Action Marked by Lopsided Competition

With the exception of one game it was strictly a case of no competition in Pontiac's city basketball league action, which resumed Wednesday night after a two-week holiday recess.

In adult play at Pontiac High's gym Stone Front trounced Stadium Inn, 56-38, and the Lakeside Royals poured it on the Keego Merchants, 69-33.

Last night's evenly-matched affair took place at Lincoln Junor High where Pulver Tire nosed out the Blue Devils, 50-48, in a Class D National loop struggle. Oliver Buick crushed the Lakesiders, 64-39, in an American league 'D' contest.

Stadium's Maurice Stack tallied 16 points but his efforts were not enough to overcome Stone Front's balanced attack. J. Long led the winners with 11 points.

Four Royals scored in double figures, headed by W. King's 20 points, during Lakeside's easy win over the Merchants. The Royals held a commanding 37-17 halftime lead.

The Pulver Tire-Blue Devils battle was nip-and-tuck all the way. Pulver trailed by a 20-18 count at intermission but enjoyed a prosperour 14-point 3rd quarter while the losers slumped to six. The winners fought off a last-period rally to preserve their edge. Arly Day and Mickey Gonzales paced Pulver with 17 and 16 points while Earl Neeb with 18 and Ken Buckley's 14 topped the losers.

Jim Treece collected 21 points to spark Oliver Buick's overwhelming decision over the Lakesiders. Oliver's held a 30-13 halftime margin. Mike Coffee scored 15 points to lead a futile cause.

Only two games are scheduled tonight, both adult scraps at Pontiac High. Phil's Inn meets the Independents in the National division opener at 7 o'clock and Sun Life faces GMC in the American league at 8:30 p.m. Class D squads are idle until next Monday, Jan. 9.

Brown Pace-Setter in Tartar Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Clarence Straughn, Wayne's top scorer, faltered, but center George Brown stepped in to fill the gap and the Tarters defeated Michigan Normal, 86-65, last night for their 6th basketball victory in seven starts.

Straughn was held to nine points, but Brown, a center, collected 30 to pace the Wayne attack.

The Tarters led 39-31 at the intermission and put the game away with a scoring surge to open the second half.

Top Prep Pointmakers Listed

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Top pointmakers in county area prep circles will get their scoring abilities tested within the next few weeks as most teams get into the thick of their basketball campaigns.

In current totals for at least four games, Jim Simer, 6 foot senior forward from Madison High School, leads the vast area in-and-around Oakland county in scoring with a sizzling 27.5 average.

The Eagle star has pushed through 110 points in four games, hitting for 35 points on two occasions.

Simer moved Almont's Larry Kersten out of the lead over the holidays. Kersten who has now played in six games dropped to 6th spot with a total of 134 points for a 22.3 average.

Larry Dorow, Imlay City's classy guard, and Frank Rogers of West Bloomfield continue among the top three although each dropped slightly in averages.

Dorow actually has the highest number of points scored among the 26 players on the list with 140 but has played in two more games than Simer and thus carries a lower average.

Last year's area scoring champion Jim Davidson of Milford is again back among the leaders. He has scored 95 points in four games for a 23.7 average.

Conspicuous among the top scorers are players from Class A teams in the area.

Only unbeaten Lapeer has representation on the list from the top bracket high schools. Tom Wilson, 6 foot junior center for Lapeer is hitting at a 22.6 clip in 5th position, while team mate Roger Flanigan, lower on the list, boasts a 15.2 average.

Newcomer who has jumped up among the top ten is Capac's Jim Chernenko whose 78 points has netted him an average of 19.5 in four games.

The Inter-Lakes League has found itself short in number of high scorers.

Only Larry Hughes of league leading Walled Lake is on the list after the drop of Waterford's Chuck Gillis who fell below the 13 point average mark.

The Wayne - Oakland circuit, which early in the season gave indication of staging one of the hottest title races, holds the majority of top scorers from any single league.

Eight Wayne - Oakland league players are in the group, headed by two each from Milford and Brighton.

Friday night the heaviest action of the prep season gets into swing with top games in each league.

Fullmer Wins in Split Decision

Disagreement Results in Bloody, Televised 10-Rounder

CLEVELAND (AP)—At last, a victorious fighter who doesn't want to take on the champion next:

Brawler Gene Fullmer, winner of a split decision over Rocky Castellani last night in a blood-splashed 10-rounder at Cleveland Arena, says he'd much prefer another crack at Argentina's Eduardo Lausse to a middleweight title fight with Sugar Ray Robinson. Fullmer dropped a decision to Lausse last November.

Last night's nationally televised bout left many of the 1,487 arena spectators, as well as the judges, in disagreement as to which fighter should have won.

Castellani, despite blood streaming from a deep cut over his right eye from the sixth round on, was fresh at the finish and appeared to have Fullmer in trouble the last two rounds.

Fullmer, however, was willing to take the best Castellani could offer. Bleeding himself from a gash across his hairline, he kept driving in to the end on legs that steadily lost steam after the eighth round.

Judge Herb Williams scored it 96-92 for Fullmer, Referee Lou Parker saw it 97-94 for Fullmer and Judge Charley Bill dissented with a 95-92 vote for Castellani. The AP card had it 97-93 for Castellani.

PROUD WINNERS — Captains of the championship teams in the YMCA's holiday Gang Basketball Tournament accept their trophies from Ed Adler, Kiwanis vice president at a luncheon yesterday. Hank Way, (left) 805 Ludlow street, Rochester was captain of the Falcons whose ages were from 10 to 12. Captain of the Pulver Tire team which was made up of 13 and 14 year-olds was Larry Lacky, 637 Balboa Club Ave., Pontiac.

Flint JC Collects 3rd Loop Win in Row

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Powerful Flint rolled to its 4th consecutive basketball victory in the Michigan Junior College Conference last night, breezing past Muskegon, 90-66.

Charles Teaberry took scoring honors for Flint with 22 points, but Muskegon's Charles Vriesman was high with 23.

Bow Teams Sought in Waterford Loop

Three more teams are wanted for the archery league in Waterford Township, according to recreation director, Thomas Belton.

Seven teams reported for a meeting held this week at the Community Center.

Interested teams can register by calling the recreation office.

Archery instruction for beginners will continue every Tuesday from 6-8 p.m. for all ages.

President's Annual Message Read to Congress

our resources. It has marvelously expanded our productive capacity.

Against the record of all other economic systems devised through the ages, this competitive system has proved the most creative user of human skills in the development of physical resources, and the richest rewarder of human effort.

This is still true in this era when improved living standards and rising national requirements are accompanied by swift advances in technology and rapid obsolescence in machines and methods. Typical of these are the strides made in construction of plants to produce electrical energy from atomic power and of laboratories and installations for the application of this new force in industry, agriculture and the healing arts. These developments make it imperative — to assure effective functioning of our enterprise system—that the federal government concern itself with certain broad areas of our economic life. Most important of these is agriculture.

Declining Income Hits Farm Groups

Our farm people are not sharing as they should in the general prosperity. They alone of all major groups have seen their incomes decline rather than rise. They are caught between two millstones—rising production costs and declining prices. Such harm to a part of the national economy so vitally important to everyone is of great concern to us all. No other resource is so indispensable as the land that feeds and clothes us. No group is more fundamental to our national life than our farmers.

In successful prosecution of the war, the nation called for the utmost of its farmers. Their response was superb, their contribution unsurpassed. Farmers are not now to be blamed for the mountainous, price - depressing surpluses produced in response to wartime policies and laws that were too long continued. War markets are not the markets of peacetime.

Failure to recognize that basic fact by a timely adjustment of wartime legislation brought its inevitable result in peacetime — surpluses, lower prices and lower incomes for our farmers.

The dimensions of government responsibility are as broad and complex as the farm problem itself. We are here concerned not only with our essential continuing supplies of food and fiber, but also with a way of life. Both are indispensable to the well-being and strength of the nation. Consideration of these matters must be above and beyond politics. Our national farm policy, so vital to the welfare of farm people and all of us, must not become a field for political warfare. Too much is at stake.

Our farm people expect of us, who have responsibility for their government, understanding of their problems and the will to help solve them. Our objective must be to help bring production into balance with existing and new markets, at prices that yield farmers a return for their work in line with what other Americans get.

To reach this goal, deep-seated problems must be subjected to a stepped-up attack. There is no single easy solution. Rather, there must be a many-sided assault on the stubborn problems of surpluses, prices, costs, and markets; and a steady, persistent, imaginative advance in the relationship between farmers and their government.

Special Message on Farm Program

In a few days, by special message, I shall lay before the Congress my detailed recommendations for new steps that should be taken promptly to speed the transition in agriculture and thus assist our farmers to achieve their fair share of the national income.

Basic to this program will be a new attack on the surplus problem —for even the best-conceived farm program cannot work under a multi-billion dollar weight of accumulated stocks.

I shall urge authorization of a soil bank program to alleviate the problem of diverted acres and an overexpanded agricultural plant. This will include an acreage reserve to reduce current and accumulated surpluses of crops in most serious difficulty, and a conservation reserve to achieve other needed adjustments in the use of agricultural resources. I shall urge measures to strengthen our surplus disposal activities.

I shall propose measures to strengthen individual commodity programs, to remove controls where possible, to reduce carryovers, and to stop further accumulations of surpluses.

I shall ask the congress to provide substantial new funds for an expanded drive on the research front, to develop new marksts, new crops, and new uses. The rural development program to better the lot of low-income farm families deserves full congressional support. The Great Plains program must go forward vigorously. Advances on these and other fronts will pull down the price-depressing surpluses and raise farm income.

In this time of testing in agriculture, we should all together, regardless of party, carry forward resolutely with a sound and forward looking program on which farm people may confidently depend, now and for years to come.

I shall briefly mention four other subjects directly related to the well-being of the economy, preliminary to their fuller discussion in the economic report and later communications.

Conservation of Resources

I wish to re-emphasize the critical importance of the wise use and conservation of our great natural resources of land, forests, minerals and water, and their long-range development consistent with our agricultural policy.

Water in particular now plays an increasing role in industrial processes, in the irrigation of land, in electric power, as well as in domestic uses. At the same time, it has the potential of damage and disaster.

A comprehensive legislative program for water conservation will be submitted to the congress during the session. The development of our water resources cannot be accomplished overnight. The need is such that we must make faster progress and without delay.

Therefore, I strongly recommend that action be taken at this session on such wholly federal projects as the Colorado River storage project and the crying Pan-Arkansas project; on the John Day partnership project, and other projects which provide for cooperative action between the federal government and non-federal interests; and on legislation, which makes provision for federal participation in small projects under the primary sponsorship of agencies of state and local government.

During the past year the areas of our national parks have been expanded, and new wildlife refuges have been created. The visits of our people to the parks have increased much more rapidly than have the facilities to care for them. The administration will submit recommendations to provide more adequate facilities to keep abreast of the increasing interest of our people in the great outdoors.

Disaster Aid

A modern community is a complex combination of skills, specialized buildings, machines, communications and homes. Most importantly it involves human lives. Disaster in many forms — by flood, frost, high winds, for instance—can destroy on a massive scale in a few hours the labor of many years.

Through the past three years, the administration has repeatedly moved into action wherever disaster struck. The extent of state participation in relief activities, however, has been far from uniform and, in many cases, has been either inadequate or non-existent. Disaster assistance legislation requires overhauling and an experimental program of flood-damage indemnities should be undertaken. The administration will make detailed recommendations on these subjects.

Area Development

We must help deal with the pockets of chronic unemployment that here and there mar the nation's general industrial prosperity. Economic changes in recent years have been often so rapid and far-reaching that areas committed to a single local resource or industrial activity have found themselves temporarily deprived of their markets and their livelihood.

Such conditions mean severe hardship for thousands of people as the slow process of adaptation to new circumstances goes on. This process can be speeded up. Last year I authorized a major study of the problem to find additional steps to supplement existing programs for the redevelopment of areas of chronic unemployment. Recommendations will be submitted, designed to supplement with federal technical and loan assistance local efforts to get on with this vital job. Improving such communities must, of course, remain the primary responsibility of the people living there and of their states. But a soundly conceived federal partnership program can be of real assistance to them in their efforts.

Highway Legislation

Legislation to provide a modern, interstate highway system is even more urgent this year than last, for twelve months have now passed in which we have fallen further behind in road construction needed for the personal safety, the general prosperity, the national security of the American people.

During the year, the number of motor vehicles has increased from 58 to 61 million. During the past year over 38,000 persons lost their lives in highway accidents, while the fearful toll of injuries and property damage has gone on unabated.

In my message of Feb. 22, 1955, I urged that measures be taken to complete the vital 40,000 mile interstate system over a period of 10 years at an estimated federal cost of approximately 25 billion dollars. No program was adopted.

If we are ever to solve our mounting traffic problem, the whole interstate system must be authorized as one project, to be completed approximately within the specified time. Only in this way can industry efficiently gear itself to the job ahead. Only in this way can the required planning and engineering be accomplished without the confusion and waste unavoidable in a piecemeal approach.

I recommend the continuation of the federal aid highway program.

Small Business Vital to Economy

Aside from agriculture and the four subjects specifically mentioned, an integral part of our efforts to foster a strong and expanding free economy is keeping open the door of opportunity to new and small enterprises, checking monopoly, and preserving a competitive environment.

In this past year the steady improvement in the economic health of small business has reinforced the vitality of our competitive economy. We shall continue to help small business concerns to obtain access to adequate financing and to competent counsel on management, production and marketing problems.

Through measures already taken, opportunities for small business participation in government procurement programs, including military procurement, are greatly improved. The effectiveness of these measures will become increasingly apparent. We shall continue to make certain that small business has a fair opportunity to compete and has an economic environment in which it may prosper.

In my message last year, I referred to the appointment of an advisory committee to appraise and report to me on the deficiencies as well as the effectiveness of existing federal transportation policies. I have recommended the fundamental purposes and objectives of the committee's report. I earnestly recommend that the Congress give prompt attention to the committee's proposals.

Essential to a prosperous economic environment for all business, small and large—for agriculture and industry and commerce—is efficiency in government. To that end, exhaustive studies of the entire governmental structure were made by the commission on intergovernmental relations and the commission on the organization of the executive branch of the government—the reports of these commissions are now under intensive review and already in the process of implementation in important areas.

One specific and most vital governmental function merits study and action by the Congress.

As part of our program of promoting efficiency in government and getting the fiscal situation in hand, the post office department in the past three years has been overhauled.

Nearly one thousand new post offices have been provided. Financial practices have been modernized and transportation and operating methods are being constantly improved. A new wage and incentive plan for the half million postal employes has been established. Never before has the postal system handled so much mail so quickly and so economically.

Postal Problems

The post office department faces two serious problems. First, much of its physical plant—post offices and other buildings — is obsolete and inadequate. Many new buildings and the modernization of present ones are essential if we are to have improved mail service. The second problem is the department's fiscal plight. It now faces an annual deficit of one-half billion dollars.

Recommendations on postal facilities and on additional postal revenues will be submitted to the Congress.

A final consideration in our program planning is: The response to human concerns.

A fudamental belief shines forth in this Republic. We believe in the worth and dignity of the individual. We know that if we are to govern ourselves wisely — in the tradition of America—we must have the opportunity to develop our individual capacities to the utmost.

To fulfill the individual's aspirations in the American way of life, good education is fundamental. Good education is the outgrowth of good homes, good communities, good churches, and good schools. Today our schools face pressing problems—problems which will not yield to swift and easy solutions, or to any single action. They will yeild only to a continuing, active, informed effort by the people toward achieving better schools.

This kind of effort has been spurred by the thousands of conferences held in recent months by half a million citizens and educators in all parts of the country, culminating in the White House Conference on Education. In that conference, some two thousand delegates, broadly representative of the nation, studied together the problems of the nation's schools.

Federal Aid to Education

They concluded that the people of the United States must make a greater effort through their local, state, and federal governments to improve the education of our youth. This expression from the people must now be translated into action at all levels of government.

So far as the federal share of responsibility is concerned, I urge that the Congress move promptly to enact an effective program of federal assistance to help erase the existing deficit of school classrooms. Such a program, which should be limited to a five-year period, must operate to increase rather than decrease local and state support of schools and to give the greatest help to the states and localities with the least financial resources. Federal aid should in no way jeopardize the freedom of local school systems. There will be presented to the Congress a recommended program of federal assistance for school construction.

Such a program should be accompanied by action to increase services to the nation's schools by the Office of Education and by legislation to provide continuation of payments to school districts where federal activities have impaired the ability of those districts to provide adequate schools.

Under the 1954 amendments to the old-age and survivors' insurance program, protection was extended to some 10 million additional workers and benefits were increased. The system now helps protect 9 out of 10 American workers and their families against loss of income in old age or on the death of the breadwinner. The system is sound. It must be kept so.

In developing improvements in the system, we must give the most careful consideration to population and social trends, and to fiscal requirements. With these considerations in mind, the administration will present its recommendations for further expansion of coverage and other steps which can be taken wisely at this time.

Other needs in the area of social welfare include increased child welfare services, extension of the program of aid to dependent children, intensified attack on juvenile delinquency, and special attention to the problems of mentally retarded children.

The training of more skilled workers for these fields and the quest for new knowledge through research in social welfare are essential. Similarly the problems of our aged people need our attention.

The nation has made dramatic progress in conquering disease—progress of profound human significance which can be greatly accelerated by an intensified effort in medical research. A well-supported, well-balanced program of research, including basic research, can open new frontiers of knowledge, prevent and relieve suffering, and prolong life. Accordingly I shall recommend a substantial increase in federal funds for the support of such a program.

As an integral part of this effort, I shall recommend a new plan to aid construction of non-federal medical research and teaching facilities and to help provide more adequate support for the training of medical research manpower.

Health Insurance Extension Sought

Finally, we must aid in cushioning the heavy and rising costs of illness and hospitalization to individuals and families. Provision should be made, by federal reinsurance or otherwise, to foster extension of voluntary health insurance coverage to many more persons, especially older persons and those in rural areas. Plans should be evolved to improve protection against the costs of prolonged or severe illness. These measures will help reduce the dollar barirer between many Americans and the benefits of modern medical care.

The administration health program will be submitted to the Congress in detail.

The response of government to human concerns embraces, of course, other measures of broad public interest, and of special interest to our working men and women. The need still exists for improvement of the Labor Management Relations Act. The recommendations I submitted to the Congress last year take into account not only the interests of labor and management but also the public welfare. The needed amendments should be enacted without further delay.

We must also carry forward the job of improving the wage-hour law. Last year I requested the Congress to broaden the coverage of the minimum wage. I repeat that recommendation and I pledge the full resources of the executive branch to assist the Congress in finding ways to attain this goal.

Moreover, as requested last year, legislation should be passed to clarify and strengthen the eight-hour laws for the benefit of workers who are subject to federal wage standards on federal and federally-assisted construction and other public works.

The administration will shortly propose legislation to assure adequate disclosure of the financial affairs of each employe pension and welfare plan and to afford substantial protection to their beneficiaries in accordance with the objectives outlined in my message of Jan. 11, 1954.

Occupational safety still demands attention, as I pointed out last year, and legislation to improve the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act is still needed.

The improvement of the District of Columbia Unemployment Insurance Law and legislation to provide employes in the District with non-occupational disability insurance are no less necessary now than twelve months ago. Legislation to apply the principle of equal pay for equal work without discrimination because of sex is a matter of simple justice. I earnestly urge the Congress to move swiftly to implement these needed labor measures.

Must Carry On Housing Program

In the field of human needs, we must carry forward the housing program which is contributing so greatly to the well-being of our people and the prosperity of our economy. Home ownership is now advanced to the point where almost three of every five families in our cities, towns, and suburbs own the houses they live in.

For the housing program, most of the legislative authority already exists. However, a firm program of public housing is essential until the private building industry has found ways to provide more adequate housing for low-income families. The administration will propose authority to contract for 35 thousand additional public housing units in each of the next two fiscal years for communities which will participate in an integrated attack on slums and blight.

To meet the needs of the growing number of older people, several amendments to the National Housing Act will be proposed to assist the private homebuilding industry as well as charitable and non-profit organizations.

With so large a number of the American people desiring to modernize and improve existing dwellings, I recommend that the title I program for permanent improvements in the home be liberalized.

I recommend increases in the general FHA Mortgage Insurance Authority; the extension of the FHA military housnig program; an increase in the authorization for urban planning grants; in the special assistace authority of the Federal National Mortgage Association; and continued support of the college housing program in a way that will not discourage private capital from helping to meet the needs of our colleges.

The legislation I have recommended for workers in private industry should be accompanied by a parallel effort for the welfare of government employes. We have accomplished much in this field, including a contributory life insurance program; equitable pay increases and a fringe benefits program, covering many needed personnel policy changes, from improved premium pay to meaningful incentive awards program.

Additional personnel management legislation is needed in this session. As I stated last year, an executive pay increase is essential to efficient governmental management. Such an increase, together with needed adjustments in the pay for the top career positions, is also necessary to the equitable completion of the federal pay program initiated last year.

All of us share a continuing concern for those who have served this nation in the armed forces. The Commission on Veterans Pensions is at this time conducting a study of the entire field of veterans' benefits and will soon submit proposed improvements.

We are proud of the progress our people have made in the field of civil rights. In executive branch operations throughout the nation, elimination of discrimination and segregation is all but completed.

Progress is also being made among contractors engaged in furnishing government services and requirements. Every citizen now has the opportunity to fit himself for and to hold a position of responsibility in the service of his country. In the District of Columbia, through the voluntary cooperation of the people, discrimination and segregation are disappearing from hotels, theaters, restaurants and other facilities.

Suggests Study of Segregation

It is disturbing that in some localities allegations persist that Negro citizens are being deprived of their right to vote and are likewise being subjected to unwarranted economic pressures.

I recommend that the substance of these charges be thoroughly examined by a bi-partisan commission created by the Congress. It is hoped that such a commission will be established promptly so that it may arrive at findings which can receive early consideration.

The nature of our leadership in the free world has increased through the past three years because we have made more progress than ever before in a similar period to assure our citizens equality in justice, in opportunity and in civil rights. We must expand this effort on every front. We must strive to have every person judged and measured by what he is, rather than by his color, race or religion. There will soon be recommended to the Congress a program further to advance the efforts of the government, within the area of federal responsibility, to accomplish these objectives.

Statehood for Alaska, Hawaii

One particular challenge confronts us. In the Hawaiian Islands, East meets West. To the Islands, Asia and Europe and the Western Hemisphere, all the continents, have contributed their peoples and their cultures to display a unique example of a community that is a successful laboratory in human brotherhood.

Statehood, supported by the repeatedly expressed desire of the Islands' people and by our traditions, would be a shining example of the American way to the entire earth. Consequently, I urgently request this Congress to grant statehood for Hawaii. Also, in harmony with the provisions I last year communicated to the Senate and House Committees on Interior and Insular Affairs, I trust that Congress toward statehood for Alaska can be made in this session.

Progress is constant toward full integration of our Indian citizens into normal community life. During the past two years the administration has provided school facilities for thousands of Indian children previously denied this opportunity. We must continue to meet the needs of increased numbers of Indian children. Provision should also be made for the education of adult Indians whose schooling in earlier years was neglected.

In keeping with our responsibility and in our own self interest, I again point out to the Congress the urgent need for revision of the immigration and nationality laws. Our nation has always welcomed immigrants to our shore. The wisdom of such a policy is clearly shown by the fact that America has been built by immigrants and descendants of immigrants. That policy must be continued realistically with present day conditions in mind.

I recommend that the number of persons admitted to this country annually be based not on the 1920 census but on the latest, the 1950 census.

Provision should be made to allow for greater flexibility in the use of quotas so if one country does not use its share, the vacancies may be made available for the use of qualified individuals from other countries.

The law should be amended to permit the secretary of state and the attorney general to waive the requirements of fingerprinting on a reciprocal basis for persons coming to this country for temporary visits. This and other changes in the law are long overdue and should be taken care of promptly. Detailed recommendations for revision of the immigration laws will be submitted to the Congress.

I am happy to report substantial progress in the flow of immigrants under the refugee relief act of 1953; however, I again request this Congress to approve without further delay the urgently needed amendments to that act which I submitted in the last session. Because of the high prosperity in Germany and Austria, the number of emigrants from those countries will be reduced. This will make available thousands of unfilled openings which I recommend be distributed to Greece and Italy and to escapees from behind the Iron Curtain.

Once again I ask the Congress to join with me in demonstrating our belief in the right of suffrage. I renew my request that the principle of self-government be extended and the right of suffrage granted to the citizens of the District of Columbia.

To conclude: The vista before us is bright. The march of science, the expanding economy, the advance in collective security toward a just peace—in this threefold movement our people are creating new standards by which the future of the Republic may be judged.

Progress, however, will be realized only as it is more than matched by a continuing growth in the spiritual strength of the nation. Our dedication to moral values must be complete in our dealings abroad and in our relationship among ourselves.

We have single-minded devotion to the common good of America. Never must we forget that this means the well-being, the prosperity, the security of all Americans in every walk of life.

To the attainment of these objectives, I pledge full energies of the administration, as in the session ahead, it works on a program for submission to you, the Congress of the United States.

Hollywood Headlines

Paul Newman Is Termed Most Likely to Succeed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The actor most likely to succeed in 1956 is a handsome, brooding Ohioan named Paul Newman.

The guy can't miss. He has a sensitive yet rugged face that gives an impression of emotional depth. He can act. He is one of most accomplished students of that star factory, the Actor's Studio.

He is, in fact, just what Hollywood needs: A good-looking young leading man who can fit credibly into the variety of realistic themes the movies are tackling these days.

At present he's starring in "The Rack," story of a brainwashed American soldier. And he was given the plum role of Rocky Graziano in "Somebody Up There Likes Me." Both are being made by MGM, although Newman is under contract to Warners.

Oddly enough, only one of his notable roles in the last two years has been for his parent company. Warners lifted him out of the second male lead in "Picnic" and put him in the Biblical epic, "The Silver Chalice."

After that, he returned to Broadway as the killer in "The Desperate Hours." This year he has been seen in two notable TV shows. He was the boy opposite Eva Marie Saint in "Our Town" and the punchdrunk fighter in Ernest Hemingway's "The Battlers."

What about Newman? He's 30, born and reared in Cleveland, went to Kenyon College, took time out for the Navy, returned to graduate from Kenyon, studied dramatics at Yale. He's married, has three kids, lives on Long island.

"The greatest influence in my career was the Actor's Studio," he remarked, referring to the New York school directed by Lee Strasberg. "It's a great thing for an actor to have a place where he can keep up in his work. Even when you're in a show, you become stagnant in a part after the first six or seven months.

"The important thing is to keep acting; that's the only way you can grow. I go to the studio twice a week when I'm in New York."

Among the current and past students at the studio: Marlon Brando, James Dean, Marilyn Monroe, Julie Harris, Shelly Winters, Rod Steiger, etc.

French Artist, Mistinguett Dies

Famed Dancer, Age 82, Succumbs After Short Illness Near Paris

PARIS (AP) — Mistinguett, French music hall star for half a century whose legs were once among the world's most famous, died today after a two-week illness. She was 82.

The noted entertainer died in her sleep at her brother's home in suburban Bougival. She suffered a paralytic stroke while spending the Christmas holiday there and subsequently developed pneumonia.

Her last days were spent in an oxygen tent.

Mistinguett had been a symbol of the gay life of the French music hall for longer than most present theatergoers can remember. She admitted herself that she was never beautiful, except for her fabulous legs. Even in operettas she was more personality than singer.

Mistinguett had a long series of young men as dancing and singing partners, of whom the most famous was Maurice Chevalier. They tossed her about the stage, making it prudent to insure those famous legs for astronomical sums said to range up to three million dollars.

One of Mistinguett's most famous songs was "Mon Homme." Translated as "My Man," it became a popular vehicle for Fanny Brice in the United States.

The end of her career did not bring want. She had held on to her big earnings and was said to have increased them by shrewd investments.

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department said additional traffic movements now are possible at the Woodward - Eight Mile Road grade separation at the north Detroit city limits.

Eastbound traffic on Eight-Mile Road may now turn north on Woodward Avenue and southbound traffic from both Woodward and Hilton Street may now turn east on Eight-Mile Road.

Westbound Eight-Mile Road traffic through the grade separation is now using the underpass below Woodward and eastbound Eight-Mile Raod traffic temporarily is using a grade level roadway, which will be used for turning after the interchange is completed.

MSU Extension Slated to Deal With Problems of Course Members

A Michigan State University extension course, "Guidance Practices in the Schools," will be held at Washington Junior High School, starting at 7 p.m. next Wednesday.

Dr. Carl M. Horn, MSU professor of Administrative and Education Services, will conduct the course, which carries three term hours of college credit. Teachers and other interested persons may register at the first class session.

The course will be geared to deal with problems presented by members of the class. There will be opportunity for groups of teachers to develop plans for the improvement of guidance services for the respective school systems.

Emphasis will be placed on analysis and use of guidance techniques such as keeping and interpreting records, counseling pupils and parents, providing educational and occupational information through classes. Major areas of guidance will be reviewed.

MSU is expanding its off-campus courses throughout the state to provide educational service to residents. The extension courses taught by many colleges on the campus are coordinated through the Continuing Education Service, Kellogg Center, East Lansing.

Marilyn and 20th Sign 7-Year Pact Worth $8 Million

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After a year-long squabble, Marilyn Monroe returns to 20th Century-Fox Studio next month with a seven-year contract estimated to be worth more than eight million dollars.

The deal, announced yetserday, ended one of the most publicized walkouts in film history.

The actress was reported dissatisfied with her salary. She said she was making less than $500 a week when she first appeared in the list of the movies' top 10 box office stars.

The contract, with Marilyn Monroe Productions, Inc., calls for four pictures in the seven years on a profit-sharing basis. The studio would not comment on the deal, one of the most solid victories for a star fighting a studio.

Williams Blasts GOP on Unemployment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams charges that the Eisenhower administration has failed to prepare a program to meet unemployment problems arising from the "push-button, automated, electronic and solar-energized age."

Williams, who says he will go to this year's Democratic national convention as the favorite son candidate from his state, told the press and Union League Club last night:

"The pushbutton age . . . is here.

"We will convert it to our use . . . or we will be converted to its use in an intolerable and violent era of the worst maldistribution and maladjustment ever seen."

He recommended that President Eisenhower name a committee representing labor, management and government to study the problem of workers displaced by automation.

Find Teenage Blonde Murdered in Montana

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—The body of a 16-year-old blonde, a bullet through her head, was found in a rocky ravine yesterday, eight miles from the lovers' lane where her Air Force sweetheart was slain.

Pretty Patricia Kalitzke's fully clothed body lay at the foot of a 20-foot embankment off a highway six miles northwest of this central Montana city.

The girl's escort, S.2.C. Lloyd Duane Bogle, 18, of Waco, Tex., was found face down beside his parked car Tuesday morning. His hands were bound behind his back. He also had been shot in the head.

* * *

Sheriff D. J. Leeper said there was little doubt the same person killed both.

The sheriff ruled out both sex and robbery as possible motives.

Daughter, 17, Gets Bulk of $2 Million Ham Fisher Will

Fisher's will, filed for probate yesterday, left the legal minimum to his second wife Marilyn, whom he married in April 1954. No child has been born to them.

The widow was left $2,500 in cash and the income from one third of his estate for the rest of her life—the minimum under New York state law.

Wendy is attending high school and living with Mrs. Catherine Jones, a schoolteacher in the late cartoonist's home town of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Fisher, 54, committed suicide in a friend's Manhattan studio Dec. 27. He left notes which spoke of failing eyesight and diabetes.

No Injurious A-Effects Recorded on Badges

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission's final report on radiation-recording film badges says there was no injurious fall-out last spring from the Nevada nuclear test series.

"No community was exposed to fall-out radiation which could have affected people's health," said Joe B. Sanders, AEC branch manager after a study of badges worn by 171 persons or posted in 284 locations within a 50,000-square-mile area.

The data was recorded and analyzed by the U.S. Public Health Service. It showed a high reading of 3.9 roentgens for a populated area, accumulated on a badge at Elgin, Nev. This is the standard offsite safety level set by the AEC for one year. One film badge posted 15 miles south of Alamo on the desert.

Wheat and Corn Lead Grain Rush

CHICAGO (AP)— Grains forged ahead in another quite active session on the Board of Trade today, wheat and corn leading the advance.

Political developments again stimulated demand for grains as the trade awaited a special farm program message to congress from President Eisenhower Monday. Public interest in the market has quickened and activity this week has contrasted sharply with recent slow markets.

Wheat and corn firmed from the start. Oats and rye were steady early, scoring small gains as trading progressed. Soybeans displayed some irregularity, the January contract dropping a cent at the opening. Later, beans also rallied.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to 1 cent higher, March $2.12⅞; corn ¾ to 1⅛ higher, March $1.31; oats ⅝ to 1½ higher, March 67¼; rye unchanged to ¾ higher, March $1.25½; soybeans ¼ to 1½ higher, January $2.41½, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $10.95.

The Life Insurance Company of Virginia Promotes Three Local Representatives

JOHN H. STEWART

ROBERT J. VANCE

A. L. BRANDENBURG

Louis Pohl, manager of The Life Insurance Company of Virginia's local district office, announces the following promotions in his organization: John H. Stewart, from associate manager to field training supervisor; Arthur L. Brandenburg and Robert J. Vance, from agents to associate managers.

In his new assignment Mr. Stewart will be in charge of his company's agency training program in part of Michigan and in Northern Ohio; he will, however, continue to maintain his residence in Pontiac. He is a Navy veteran and a member of B. P. O. E.

Mr. Brandenburg will succeed Mr. Stewart as associate manager and will assume charge of a group of agents whose past-records rank them among this company's national leaders. Brandenburg is a graduate of the Salvation Army Training College of New York City and for 16 years he was engaged in religious, social and youth activities. He was also active in Rotary International and Boy Scout work for the past 14 years.

As associate manager Mr. Vance will be in charge of a new staff of agents that is being created to expand his company's services in this community. A veteran of World War II, he has made an outstanding record in sales and in service to his policyowners.

All three of these men are members of the local, state and national Associations of Life Underwriters and are graduates of a course in life insurance underwriting at Michigan State University. All of them have either completed or are pursuing the two-year training course sponsored by the Life Underwriters Training Council.

This progressive 85-year-old company offers capable and ambitious young men excellent opportunity for advancement and unlimited earnings.

Lacks Sparkle of Marx Show

Dinah and Perry Due to Exchange Visits on Their Programs

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Edgar Bergen's TV comback, "Do You Trust Your Wife," arrived on CBS-TV this week somewhat short of good.

It bears a vivid physical resemblance to Groucho Marx's quiz but it lacks sparkle, impudence — and let's face it — Groucho . . .

Small talk . . . Edgar Bergen's mouth moves as much as ever when Charlie, Mort, & Co. supposedly are chattering . . .

The gimmick Bergen used to dramatize his dummies on the recent Jack Benny TV show was far funnier . . .

No one hinted to us that tonight's "Climax" might contain a parallel to the Woodward gunmanship but Bill Lundigan wrote us to say there really wasn't any intended, so now we'll be looking for it. It's called "The Prowler."

SINGING SWAP

Perry Como and Dinah Shore will exchange small fortunes and tall talents on Dinah's Jan. 17 show. Dinah will return the cash-and-croon favor on an imminent Comocast . . .

"Stage Show" hopes the Crew Cuts will help fight off Perry Como this Saturday . . .

Dorothy Kilgallen and hubby Dick Kollmar will show off their beautiful Manhattan town house (opulent is the word — a real mansion) on "Person-to Person" Jan. 20 . . .

Can't say the Alcoa Hour is crimping on budgets for stars: Its Sunday drama, "Man on a Tiger," will have Melvyn Douglas, Keenan Wynn, Tony Randall, Polly Rowles and Paul McGrath in the expensive cast . . .

The play has its feet firmly planted in a realistic TV problem: The adman who discovers a TV star and instead of gratitude starts taking abuse and demands that turn him into a stooge, a situation repeated several times in actual current TV fact, with no very happy ending — for the star.

MORE IN SUMMER

"The $64,000 Q." had far more viewers — about 17,000,000 more — in the summer, when experts say the TV slump is on, than in December, when it's supposed to be high. No. 1 both times, though.

Capt. McCutchen's recipes won the year's biggest audiences, says ARB: 58,980,000 . . .

Janis Paige finishes her season of "It's Always Jan" TV films in April and goes right into Las Vegas' New Frontier for a big-money month . . .

Greer Garson took the General Electric TV film offer because she'll own the film after its first TV run . . .

Universal scouts saw Morty Gunty on the Perry Como show and will test the young comic.

STORIES BOUGHT

The Mark Hellinger stories have been bought again for a filmed TV series . . .

The Robert Cummings show is one of the most improved nut shops on TV . . . It started out in a shallow giddy mood but now is a very funny show. . .

Claudette Colbert may give in to a TV series a la Jane Wyman.

Imogene Coco may do "Pinocchio" for "Omnibus." . . .

Counterfeit Checks Turning Up in Cities

Counterfeit checks, made to resemble those issued by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., have turned up in Flint, Grand Rapids and Pontiac, according to State Police Det. Jack Wooley, of the Seven Mile Road Post.

All are made out for $91.65 and drawn on the National Bank of Detroit. The name, Robert H. Mills, is used as payee and the checks are signed George Tompkins.

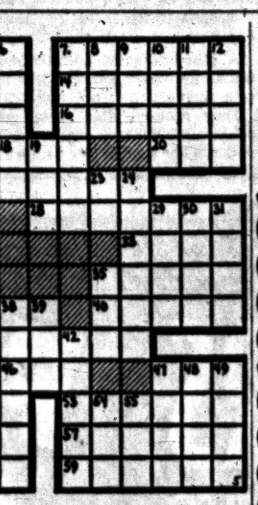

"The checks are green and of good paper stock," said Wooley, "and are probably made on a printing press."

Dies as Car Hits Tree

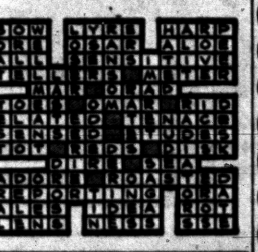

SANDUSKY (AP)—Serge Kvetko, 60, of Carsonville was killed Tuesday when a car in which he was riding struck a tree off M-19, three miles south of Sandusky. Kvetko was a Sanilac County farm hand.

Hospital Insurance Decision Expected

LANSING (AP)—A decision is expected before the end of the week on the request of Michigan Blue Cross for a 23 per cent rate increase.

Joseph A. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, said a hearing on the rate increase request was wound up Tuesday.

Blue Cross officials testified that unless the rate increase is granted they will be unable to meet costs of hospitalization charged by member hospitals.

A group of union officials present at the hearing maintained the rate increase was not necessary.

They accused Blue Cross hospitals and doctors of failure to patients are sent to hospitals when their cases could be handled in doctors' offices, they said.

Navarre said he could give no indication what his decision on the rate increase reuest would be. He said he had a stack of telegrams from hospitals during approval of the request.

The Panama canal was granted to the U.S. by the Republic of Panama in a treaty signed February 26, 1904.

Civil Service OKs Longevity Pay Plan

LANSING (INS)—The State Civil Service Commission has adopted a longevity pay plan designed to give Michigan's 26,000 merit employes extra compensation for their years of service.

Each employe qualifying under the plan will receive a special check ranging from $120 to $360 every Dec. 1.

The plan will affect 10,000 to 11,000 present employes who have been in state service for more than six years. It goes into effect next Dec. 1.

Money to finance the plan, the initial cost of which is estimated at about $1.8 million annually, and also a $7.5 million pay increase ordered by the commission last November, will be sought from the Legislature which convenes next Wednesday. The pay increase is effective Feb. 5.

Train of the Future on Inaugural Run

AP Wirephoto

ENTERING ANN ARBOR — New York Central's new 100-mile-an-hour Aerotrain flashes into Ann Arbor yesterday afternoon on its maiden run from Chicago to Detroit. Here it is running beneath the Huron Valley bridge at the city's northern limits.

Prepare Child Care Sites

Built by GMC Truck Divison

Aerotrains in Initial Runs

Two lower - cost, lightweight trains made inaugural runs in the East and Midwest yesterday, presenting "trains of the future" which rail officials hope will solve some passenger train financial headaches.

The pair of "aerotrains"—sleek, 10-coach units made of aluminum and steel and built by General Motors Corp.—streaked nonstop between Chicago and Detroit and between Washington and Philadelphia.

Considerable part of the sleek new trains is the product of the General Motors Truck & Coach Division here, and a group of GMTC officials, headed by P. J. Monaghan, general manager of the division, was aboard on the Chicago to Detroit trip.

In the party from the GMC Truck division, in addition to Monaghan, were C. V. Crockett, chief engineer; Everett Allen, an assistant chief engineer; F. A. Franklin, W. A. Strong and H. E. Fox, coach engineers; Carl Rogers, superintendent of truck and coach production, and B. W. Crandall, public relations department.

General Motors developed its revolutionary Aerotrain as a contribution which it hopes will help American railroads during a period "when transportation will become a vastly bigger job than it is today," President Harlow H. Curtice said.

He spoke at a luncheon in Detroit following the inaugural run from Chicago to Detroit and return. Luncheon hosts were Robert E. Young, chairman of the board, and Alfred E. Perlman, president, of New York Central.

C. R. Osborn, vice president of General Motors in charge of the engine group, spoke last night at a dinner given by James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, for guests on that railroad's inaugural run of an Aerotrain from Washington, D. C., to Philadelphia and return.

The first official maiden trip went to the New York Central Railroad with the Chicago-Detroit run, which ended nearly 2½ hours before the Pennsylvania Railroad's run left the nation's capital.

The 283-mile midwest trip was made in 3 hours and 59 minutes.

Banning Alcohol, Tobacco and Men Will Bring $300

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two women will receive $300 a month for life if they can do without three things: alcohol, tobacco and men.

This strange condition was part of a will left by Percy T. Martin, a wealthy real estate developer. He died in 1952 leaving an estate of $448,946.

Mrs. Helen Dill, 53, a widow now living in Owensville, Ind., and Miss Frances Miller, 51, friends of Martin, were each left $300 a month if they do not indulge in alcohol, tobacco or become engaged or married.

The will was approved yesterday in Superior Court. Each woman was awarded a retroactive payment of $8,700. Both had filed affidavits attesting that they were meeting conditions of the bequest.

Rayburn Celebrates 74th Birthday Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) turned 74 today, looking and acting younger than many colleagues much his junior.

Wires and telephone calls reached his capitol office congratulating him. He has served as speaker longer than any other person in history—11 years, 3 months and 20 days.

Just before the House recessed yesterday for the weekend, members of both political parties eulogized Rayburn, who has been a member of that body since March 4, 1913. It was noted that he has served longer than any other present House member.

Sears Dropping Trading Stamps Following Trial

CHICAGO — Sears Roebuck & Co., is in the process of terminating its trading stamp plan, begun last year in five Illinois cities.

"It hasn't worked out as well as the company had anticipated," was the only comment Sears officials would make in explaining their action.

Pistol Misfires During Dispute

Faulty Bullet Prevents Shooting Over Payment of Towing Charge

Pontiac Police say a faulty cartridge saved Maurice Swan, of 39 Camley St., from injury yesterday.

They are holding Ross Little, 45, of 461 Bartlett St., for investigation of attempted murder, after a dispute over a towing charge of $3.30.

Swan told police Little and his son, Leroy, 23, entered Schroeder's Service station at 440 N. Paddock St. last night and demanded the keys to Little's car. It was being held for a towing fee.

When he refused, Swan said, an argument developed and Little pulled a .25 calibre automatic pistol. Aiming at him, Little pulled the trigger, Swan said, but the cartridge failed to explode.

Leroy Little persuaded his father to leave the gas station, Swan added.

Pontiac Detective Inspector Clark Wheaton said today the bullet in the chamber of the impounded gun shows the mark of the firing pin which failed to explode it.

28,726 Families Hit by Christmas Floods

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Red Cross said today 28,726 families were affected by the Christmas floods in California, Oregon and Nevada.

Cecil H. Davis, relief director, said the Red Cross plans to spend eight million dollars for relief. He predicted 10,000 families would register for long-term help.

In the three states, Davis said, 1,037 homes were destroyed and 14,424 damaged, 624 other buildings were destroyed and 2,432 damaged.

The floods, which covered a million acres, caused damage estimated at 150 million dollars.

Bridge to Open in 1957

NEW YORK (AP) — Builders of Michigan's 100 million dollar Mackinac Bridge say it will be open to traffic in November, 1957, as originally scheduled, despite cold weather that has hampered construction.

Fog Smothers Southern Britain

Worst Haze in 3 Years Blankets London; Halts All Air Travel

LONDON (AP) — Slight northeast winds today broke up the worst fog Britain has had in three years. But the weatherman said relief was only temporary.

The forecast was for another choking night of the smoke-laden pall that has gripped southern England for the past 48 hours, halting all air service to and from London.

Into the swirling mists, millions of chimneys funneled soot, sulphur dioxide and other coal by-products.

Scientific teams analyzing the dense black vapor during the night said it was even more poisonous than the great smog of 1952 which claimed 4,000 lives.

A spokesman for the British Oxygen Co. said more emergency calls for oxygen were received yesterday than ever before.

PATIENTS INCREASING

"The number of patients with chest diseases has greatly increased in the hospitals since the smog descended and numerous hospitals have asked for oxygen tanks to meet the emergency," he said.

Police said the last 24 hours had been the hospitals' busiest of the winter, and scores of people collapsed on the streets.

The great darkness was attributed officially to a layer of still, warm air overlying a ground layer of cold, moist air.

For the third straight day, the giant London air terminal was deserted with international flying traffic out of the airport at a standstill.

Need for Engineers Told by Robert M. Critchfield

Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, told Pontiac Rotarians yesterday at their weekly luncheon of the increased need for college engineering graduates in industry.

He said a recent survey conducted by General Motors showed that of the 23,000 college graduates employed by GM, only 9,600 were engineering graduates.

Critchfield also spoke of the big reception that the 1956 Pontiac automobile was receiving across the country.

"We feel that it is going to be a very good [illegible] and that Pontiac will make its [illegible]k," he added.

He urged Re[illegible]ns to give support to Presid[illegible] Eisenhower's highway program, further assure its success.

Anti-Reds Blast Coalition Plan for French Rule

Socialist Leaders Seek Republican-Type Front Without Joining Others

PARIS (INS)—Outgoing Premier Edgar Faure's proposal for a broad centrist coalition to govern France encountered growing opposition today within the anti-Red leftist republican front.

The moderate leftists, led by Socialist Guy Mollet and former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, want to establish a basically republican front government without joining a formal coalition.

They do, however, accept the necessity of including in the next cabinet certain individuals from other parties to help solve such pressing problems as Algeria.

Mollet and Mendes-France lunched together yesterday. Afterwards, the Socialist Party leader announced:

"We shall not lend ourselves to the effort to confuse the issue by talking of a 'national union'."

The radical Socialist leader endorsed that statement.

Faure, who led a group of moderate, right of center parties in Monday's election, had called for a national union government to "save" the republic.

Neither moderate bloc won a majority in the new assembly which convenes on Jan. 19.

More than 150 Communists will sit on the left in the chamber and 52 rightist supporters of Pierre "anti-tax" Poujade will be on the other side.

This morning, L'Express, the daily newspaper which supports Mendes-France, editorially called for the invalidation of the election of the 52 "Poujadists."

The paper said the deputies had publicly pledged never to vote without the previous agreement of the Poujadist National Committee.

L'Express said this violated the terms of an 1875 law forbidding deputies from making pledges that prevent them from exercising their own judgment in legislation.

Weather Prediction Says Snow, Colder

The weatherman says that it will be windy and colder with snow flurries tonight and tomorrow.

The low tonight will be around 20. The high tomorrow will range from 24 to 28 degrees.

The five-day Michigan weather prediction foresees temperatures averaging from 3 to 5 degrees below normal. There will be little change in the temperature through Wednesday with the exception of a warmer spell about Monday.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 28 degrees. The thermometer registered 42 at 2 p.m.

Leap Year Lamentation

Seems Like Sad Start, Boys, Girls Torn Apart

Then hey, for home and hearth, lad,
Or, round the world . . . get-away;
You've got to run the course, lad,
Or let bachelorhood lose sway.
(Apologies to the poet, Charles Kingsley)

By BURT STODDARD

Why these furtive meetings in the dells and clandestine gatherings in the highlands?

BURT

Why is the wily bachelor bounding from burrow to hassock with watchful eye and palpitating heart?

Why did the Better - Dead-Than - Wed Alliance meet in emergency session last week.

Why—for Pete's sake, ask me why. You ask why? All right, I'll tell you.

The female phalanxes are forming.

They are donning red coats and starving their hounds.

Hair dyes are dyeing . . . Dryers are drying . . . J. P.'s are waiting . . . Expecting more dating . .

Sirening classes have tripled enrollment. Reducing salons are reaping rich returns. The female ranks are rife with figure analyzers.

"Every month this year is June, my dear," is the cry.

That cry rings out . . . The girls all shout . . . Leap year! Leap Year! Leap Year!

Yes, O' sheiks of single status, the sad fact is—it's Leap Year. Blame it all on Julius Caesar. The Roman emperor invented it when he found each year actually has 365¼ days. So Old Jules decided he'd add a day every four years to make things even.

Just how and when the girls decided they'd blow up the extra day into 12 months of man-hunting is obscure. But they did and 1956 will be M-Day all year long.

Word has it that the girls have formed a Gonna-Getta-Man Corp.

Statisticians have been hired to catalogue the physical characteristics of all eligible men, such as height, weight and eyes blue, eyes brown or eyes bloodshot.

No appealing wile is being ignored in the corporation's training program. All points are stressed, from good cookery to good lookery.

"Stop," you say, "this is indeed frightening. What can the beleaguered bachelor do to protect himself?"

Well, he might try staying home at night with a good book. And when he does go out, keep company with several other steadfast single men.

Also try wearing a picture of a rattlesnake on your chest with the words, "Don't Tread on Me," and run when you see the whites of their eyes.

The bounders are bounding
The girls they are hounding;
Let the wolves whistle and wink
We're less gullible than they think.
(Our apologies to no one)

By JUDY CLEMENCE

Beware, gals, it's Leap Year! And don't, don't let that man — smug in the thought that he can just sit back and wait — trap you.

He's been chuckling all year as he's watched you — watched you come out of the beauty parlor, observed that trimmer, slimmer figure, and he's even seen that special glint in your eye.

JUDY

But how is he to know you've been planning that trip abroad, a new job or some such venture?

He couldn't possibly understand, he's been too busy gloating—he's sure you've wanted him all along, just waiting for Leap Year to snatch him away.

The audacity of the current male mouse is deplorable.

These days it so often happens that said male plucks the efficient office doll from her desk, carrying her over the marital threshold to dump her into a scene similar to this:

Mopping floors and stirring stew, scouring pans and scrubbing too. Broiling steaks and laundering shirts, shopping, sewing, pinching pennies till it hurts.

Clean the car and wash the dog, dust and bake and feed the hog.

Stoke the furnace, rock the child, paint the woodwork and don't get riled. Budge the budget, make the tea, and keep it quiet for Dad's TV.

Oh, we could go on and on.

And all the time he's planning to give you all of this and Heaven too, what has he been doing?

He's been dodging responsibili-

County Hospital to Have Space for 150 Retarded

State Launches Plans to Provide Care Clinics at Three Locations

Equipment is being moved out of the Farmington Children's Hospital which the state plans to lease for use by 150 mentally-retarded children, Gov. Williams said today.

Work also started today to remodel the Fort Custer Station Hospital expected to accommodate another 800 children.

The State Mental Health Department said it could not determine how soon it could move defectives into the Farmington hospital until the owners have progressed with their own moving.

The program is designed to make care facilities available for the large backlog of mental defectives committed for institutional care, but remaining at home for lack of space.

Oakland County's backlog of "emergency" cases now numbers nearly 100, Probate Court officials reported.

Gov. Williams also said the state believes it can start moving children into a new 220-bed unit at the Mt. Pleasant State Home and Training School within 10 days.

Williams said the Federal Defense Dept. had authorized the state to send workmen into the Fort Custer Hospital to start preparations for state use, although Michigan's 42-month lease with the government has not been finalized.

Work crews will start immediately, he stated, to put the idle power plant back in operation, install power, light and telephone lines, remove stored U. S. Army equipment and do similar tasks.

The mental health department has estimated four to six months will be needed to remodel the Fort Custer buildings for child use. Bids on the remodeling will be taken Jan. 10.

Political Leaders Have Their Say on Ike's Address

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political skirmishing was on in Congress today with Democrats challenging President Eisenhower on foreign, farm, tax and other major election-year issues.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas signaled the attack, saying the state of the union and the world is not nearly so rosy as Eisenhower pictured it in his annual message to Congress yesterday.

Commenting on Eisenhower's call for payments on the national debt before tax cuts, Johnson said the Republicans had been bragging for months about reducing taxes 7½ billion dollars in a period of deficit spending.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va), of the Senate Finance Committee backed Eisenhower's statement that in a time of prosperity the nation could not afford to go further in debt to cut taxes.

Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the assistant GOP leader, remarked he doesn't believe Eisenhower gave the "slightest hint of whether he intends to run."

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), found Eisenhower "more concerned with the responsibilities of the presidency than with the rhetoric of the candidate."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa), said Eisenhower's message sounded like the statement of a candidate." Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss) called it "an announcement for re-election," adding that it was "the most patently political document in years."

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader who is expected to seek his party's presidential nomination if Eisenhower doesn't run, shrugged off questions about any political import of the message.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) demanded that Eisenhower "keep the promises" he made to agriculture in 1952.

TO RUN INTO MONEY

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said in an interview that any "crash program" such as he thought the Eisenhower administration is likely to suggest "could require appropriations running into the billions."

He referred particularly to proposals for a soil bank, under which farmers would be paid in cash or surplus crops for taking some land out of production.

He also said he is "not quite as optimistic as he (Eisenhower) is as to the adequacy of our defenses."

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) stood by his comment: "I am not happy about our foreign relations as things stand. The general situation in the world is not good."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) asserted that "only the blindly partisan will challenge the President's conclusions that America's position in world leadership and her economic health were never stronger."

Hospital Insurance Decision Expected

LANSING (AP)—A decision is expected before the end of the week on the request of Michigan Blue Cross for a 23 per cent rate increase.

Joseph A. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, said a hearing on the rate increase request was wound up Tuesday.

Blue Cross officials testified that unless the rate increase is granted they will be unable to meet costs of hospitalization charged by member hospitals.

A group of union officials present at the hearing maintained the rate increase was not necessary.

They accused Blue Cross hospitals and doctors of failure to patients are sent to hospitals when their cases could be handled in doctors' offices, they said.

Navarre said he could give no indication what his decision on the rate increase reuest would be. He said he had a stack of telegrams from hospitals during approval of the request.

Civil Service OKs Longevity Pay Plan

LANSING (INS)—The State Civil Service Commission has adopted a longevity pay plan designed to give Michigan's 26,000 merit employes extra compensation for their years of service.

Each employe qualifying under the plan will receive a special check ranging from $120 to $360 every Dec. 1.

The plan will affect 10,000 to 11,000 present employes who have been in state service for more than six years. It goes into effect next Dec. 1.

Money to finance the plan, the initial cost of which is estimated at about $1.3 million annually, and also a $7.5 million pay increase ordered by the commission last November, will be sought from the Legislature which convenes next Wednesday. The pay increase is effective Feb. 5.
