Wow-e-e-e, Anchors Aweigh!

ACADEMY STRIKES IT RICH—Capt. Slade Cutter, Annapolis athletic director, is amazed as he holds some of the $17,000 given to the academy's athletic association by an anonymous 62-year-old ex-sailor, now on government pension. The benefactor came 600 miles by bus to give the Navy his savings. The money will be used for prep school scholarships for academy-bound athletes. The soft-spoken ex-gob explained to Capt. Cutter that he is a bachelor who has lived frugally and wants to help deserving academy athletes. Then he took $23,000 in $100 bills from his pocket and gave them to the captain. Only at Cutter's insistence would the man take back $6,000 to use in case of emergency. He refused a receipt. The old salt asked but one favor. After Capt. Cutter took him on a tour of the Navy-Marine Memorial Stadium, now under construction, toward which the man had contributed $1,000, the captain asked, "Is there anything else I can do?" The former sailor asked hesitantly, "Would you mind driving me back to the bus station?"

Supervisors Sure to Give Hamlin Record 4th Term

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Oakland County supervisors in all probability next Tuesday will stick to the old axiom that its unwise "to change horses in the middle of the stream."

They are expected to heap an unprecedented honor on their chairman, Delos Hamlin, and re-elect him for a fourth consecutive year.

Hamlin said he would gladly accept the re-election "if that's what they want."

Chances are strong too that his running mate for the past four years, Supervisor Hiland M. Thatcher of West Bloomfield, will be re-elected to his fourth straight year as vice-chairman of the 83-member controlling body of Oakland County.

Opposition to the Hamlin-Thatcher team for re-election is practically non-existent, on the surface at least.

DON'T SEE ANYBODY

If there are other candidates for the two jobs, campaigners are remaining silent on them.

"I don't see anybody else in the field," said Royal Oak Supervisor Howard K. Kelley, who usually can be counted on to feel the pulse of southend Oakland supervisors.

Meanwhile, city councils and commissions throughout the county are busy renaming current supervisors or new ones whose names must be in the hands of County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. by Tuesday's annual organization-budget meeting.

Oakland's 24 townships took care of this task in Monday's election.

TWO NEW FACES

When supervisors settle in their leather chairs Tuesday they can count on meeting two new township supervisors.

They will be Curtis H. Hall, a Republican and a retired Farmington auto dealer who put Farmington Township back in the GOP column with his 1,086-vote defeat of Democratic incumbent Frank J. Stephenson.

The second new face will be Edward Cheyz, a Democrat, who will be taking over White Lake Township Republican Forest I. Brendel's seat. Brendel didn't seek re-election.

Incumbent supervisors in eight other townships where there were no contest Monday were all re-elected. Fourteen townships had no contests.

Township supervisors are chosen every two years in partisan spring elections like last Monday's, while city supervisors are picked on a non-partisan basis.

If Hamlin and Thatcher are re-

Area Man Mute in Wife's Death

Elmo Marshall Faces Manslaughter Charge After Shooting

Elmo Marshall, 47-year-old Commerce Township man whose wife died Monday, nearly two months after he allegedly shot her following a weekend drinking bout, stood mute to a charge of manslaughter yesterday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Justice Dieterle set a pre-trial hearing for Marshall at 2 p.m. April 28. He is free on $2,000 bond pending the hearing.

Marshall, of 1841 Point Dr., was picked up yesterday afternoon by Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives Leo Hazen and Harry Maur after manslaughter warrant was issued in the case.

Anthony Renne, assistant Oakland County prosecutor assigned to the case, said the order for the warrant was issued Friday after investigation showed that the woman's death resulted from the bullet wound inflicted Feb. 15.

Mrs. Mabel Marshall, 44, died at Pontiac General Hospital where she had been since the shooting. Cause of death was listed as meningitis.

Renne said another charge pressed against her unemployed husband, for careless use of firearms, will be dropped. He had stood mute to this charge and was awaiting a lower court examination.

The couple had been living with their daughter at the time of the shooting.

The daughter, Mrs. Hazel Fishell, 25, told deputies then that her father had been drinking and reported seeing him take a large quantity of sedatives for a bad heart about a half hour before the shooting.

The lower charge against Marshall was made by the Prosecutor's Office after Mrs. Marshall refused to sign a complaint against her husband, saying the shooting was accidental.

TELLS OF UNION PAY CUT — Mrs. Annie Mae Anderson, Detroit car washer, told the Senate Rackets Committee yesterday in Washington, D.C., she got a $10 a week pay cut when she joined the Detroit Teamsters Local 985. Mrs. Anderson told the senators she was told by her employer that the union contract just signed in her behalf called only for a $25 salary for a 70-hour week. She said she had been getting $35. "I quit," she said.

Teamster Will Read Statement Next Tuesday

Testimony Has Linked Him to 'Sweat Shops' in Detroit Car Washes

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — William Bufalino, Detroit teamster official linked by the Senate Rackets Committee to narcotics and substandard union contracts, has promised to come in fighting when he is called before the committee next Tuesday.

"Any attempt to connect me with narcotics or any present or past unlawful activity is a sinister attack on my character and reputation," Bufalino wired the committee.

"Are there no limits to the extent that you will permit your Mr. Robert Kennedy (committee counsel) to assassinate my character in his cowardly fashion behind the shield of congressional immunity?" he asked.

Bufalino is head of Detroit Teamster Local 985 and an associate of Teamster chieftain James R. Hoffa. In three days of testimony, the rackets committee has heard testimony that Bufalino:

1. Moved into the presidency of Local 985 from a business partnership with John (Poppa John) Priziola, alleged Mafia mobster and narcotics peddler.

IN STINK-BOMBING

2. Forced low-paid Detroit car washers into his union, then negotiated contracts with the employers that slashed their pay to as low as $25 for a seven-day, 70-hour work week.

3. Was connected with stink-bombing of taverns and smashing of jukeboxes in order to help his brother-in-law sell a competing line of jukeboxes. He was not accused of any specific act, however.

Bufalino asked the committee's permission to read an angry prepared statement when he is called as a witness. He is scheduled to appear Tuesday when the committee resumes hearings.

★ ★ ★

He said he would not waive any of his Constitutional rights by reading the statement. But his lawyer said Bufalino did not intend to invoke the fifth amendment, as so many witnesses have done already.

TELLS OF BLAST

In winding up its week's work yesterday, the committee heard a Detroit carwash operator testify his place of business was bombed and ruined because he refused to negotiate a contract with Bufalino's teamster local.

The witness, Gerald Duff, said he wanted nothing to do with "leeches living off the misery of the helpless."

The audience applauded when

Latest Suspect Cleared in Slaying of Car Dealer

State Police today eliminated their latest suspect in the Monday night killing of Parvin "Bill" Lassiter, Royal Oak car dealer.

He was identified by police as Leonard Borchman, 44, of 6339 McGraw, Detroit. He called police at 12:30 a.m. today.

After extensive questioning today, Borchman was cleared of any connection with the murder.

"The questioning and a lie detector test he submitted to late this morning failed to show he had anything to do with the case," said Lt. Howard A. Whaley of the Redford post.

Borchman was turned over to traffic court in connection with some old warrants charging him with traffic violations.

'KNEW YOU'D CALL'

Lassiter, owner of the Detroit Car Co., who lived at 19690 Beverly Rd., Beverly Hills, was shot to death, police believe, by a man who picked him up at Willow Run Airport Monday night offering him a ride home.

"I thought it best to turn myself in since I knew you'd call me anyway," Borchman told detectives. Whaley said the unemployed truck driver fitted the description and had scars or "pock marks" on his neck.

★ ★ ★

"Borchman said he saw the drawing, and that the written description, especially the mention of scars, fitted him so he came to us before we went to him," Whaley said.

Police said Borchman worked for Lassiter as a truck driver about four years ago.

Detroit Police said Borchman has a record of seven arrests and two convictions, one of them for carrying a concealed weapon.

The man told police he had been

GOP Picks Chicago; Morton Is Elected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans today picked Chicago for their 1960 national convention starting July 25.

The GOP National Committee acted speedily and without debate on the recommendation of a site committee that selected Chicago over five other cities.

Richard Cooper of New Hampshire, a member of the site committee, offered the resolution. It was seconded by Edward S. Shattuck of California.

THRUSTON B. MORTON

The GOP today also elected Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky as national chairman.

★ ★ ★

The 51-year-old Morton, a supporter of President Eisenhower and friend of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, was chosen without opposition to succeed the retiring Meade Alcorn of Connecticut.

The Democrats have picked Los Angeles for their national convention starting July 11.

Ray C. Bliss, Ohio state chairman and head of the Republican site committee, announced his group's selection of Chicago. He said the convention will meet in the International Amphitheater.

JULY WINS OUT

Bliss said there was some sentiment for an August convention, but the site group finally concluded that Chicago's auditorium and hotel facilities offset the date factor.

Chicago had limited its bid of $400,000 cash plus a free hall and other benefits to a July 25 meeting date because the amphitheater was committed to another convention in August.

Chicago won over Philadelphia, New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Miami Beach.

Bliss said the site group picked Chicago for several reasons. One, he said, is that Chicago is a "neutral area" as far as Republican presidential nomination possibilities are concerned.

He said the only other neutral areas among the bidders were Philadelphia and Miami Beach. Bliss said New York and the two California cities were not regarded as neutral areas because Vice President Richard M. Nixon of California and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller are prospective candidates for the nomination.

Chicago has been the site of more national political conventions of both major parties than any other city.

In the 26 presidential elections since the birth of the GOP the Republican nominee has been chosen in Chicago 13 times. The last Republican convention there was in 1952 when President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon were nominated for the first time.

Bliss noted that there also is some sentiment attached to going to Chicago because next year will be the 100th anniversary of the nomination there of Abraham Lincoln as Republican standard bearer.

An economic factor for delegates also was cited by Bliss as figuring in selection of centrally located Chicago. He said that by meeting there delegates could save in the aggregate $400,000 in transportation costs as against costs of traveling to a coastal city.

Rochester Plant Struck by Fire

Damage of $50,000 Reported at Paper Firm Last Night

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Paper Co. plant on Mill St. is temporarily shut down today after fire and water caused about $50,000 damages last night, according to owner Paul H. Travis, of Detroit and Romeo.

The blaze started in a tank containing flammable liquid and went through an oven used to dry papers.

The sprinkler system was activated by the excess heat and water was sprayed throughout the plant, causing more destruction than the fire itself.

The Rochester Fire Dept. fought the blaze for about an hour. Travis said the 100 employes were mopping up today and the plant should be back in operation late today or tomorrow.

Five Billion Paid to U.S. Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government's tax take from Michigan in the 1958 calendar year was $5,601,296,000.

This included $1,774,922,000 in corporation and income profits taxes; $2,530,993,000 in individual income and employment taxes and $1,295,381,000 in other taxes.

Excise taxes amounted to $12,808,000. Compared with the previous year, excise taxes fell off on luggage, jewelry and furs but they were up on toilet preparations in a recession year.

Alcohol tax collections totaled $101,176,000, with more than half coming from taxes on imported spirits.

Tobacco tax collections totaled $1,390,000.

In neighboring Ohio, Internal Revenue collections in 1958 totaled $5,208,127,000, in Indiana, $1,786,476,000; in Illinois, $6,417,895,000, and in Wisconsin $1,439,941,000.

New York led the states with receipts totaling $15,510,005,000.

Another Mishap Claims Oldster

Macomb Mother Dies as Car Hits Tree

A 21-year-old Washington mother of two children was killed last night when her car struck a tree in Macomb County.

Another Macomb County motorist died yesterday of injuries sustained in an earlier accident.

The woman was killed instantly at about 10:30 when she apparently lost control of her car after crossing a bridge and crashed into a tree.

The victim was Mrs. Edna Marie Stoddard who lived in the Washington Trailer Park, 60630 Van Dyke, Washington.

The accident occurred on Mt. Vernon road, one-quarter mile north of West road near the Macomb-Oakland county line.

★ ★ ★

Romeo State Police said Mrs. Stoddard's station wagon skidded about 60 feet before hitting the tree. The right side of the car was submerged in about three feet of water in a ditch.

A passing motorist discovered the accident and notified police.

The victim leaves her husband, Glenn G., and two small sons, 19-month-old Glenn and five-month-old David.

In the other accident, a 79-year-old motorist died in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, of injuries sustained when his car hit a tree, a half mile from his home in Ray Township.

Dead is Valentine Laskowski of Mount Clemens.

Macomb County sheriff's deputies said Laskowski never regained consciousness to tell them how the accident happened.

These two traffic fatalities bring the total to 14 in Macomb County for this year.

Motto for Tax Month

'Come On—Squeak Up'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Let's Have Better Mottoes Assn., noting that this is still income tax season, today unveiled its winning motto for April. The motto:

"Are you a man or a mouse? Come on—squeak up."

The motto followed a unilateral discussion in the association newsletter which was made up of five questions:

Why be timid when you send in your income tax return? Why trouble? Why shiver and shake? Why quail and quiver? Why fill out the form?

Also-rans for the month included:

"I don't do much, but I'm important."

"You want the facts, or do you want to keep feeling good?"

"I don't say anything — I just talk."

Test Hops Due for Spacemen

Will Warm Up for Orbit Shot

Redstone Will Propel Manned Capsule 20 to 25 Miles Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's seven Mercury astronauts will take comparatively short test hops to the edge of space before one of them is chosen for a shoot around the world.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday the test hops will shoot the men 20 to 25 miles up from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., rocket range.

Their capsules, propelled by Army Redstone rockets, will come down perhaps 100 miles away near the Bahama Islands. Plans call for the capsules to come down by parachute and be recovered by boats stationed in the landing area.

Only one man will be chosen for the first attempt at the big flight, which will shoot him into orbit around the earth at a height of 100 to 150 miles, possibly sometime in 1961. He'll complete a circuit of the earth about once every 90 minutes, orbiting at 18,000 miles an hour.

The reactions of the seven on the preliminary test flights may play a part in which man is selected. They all say they want to be first.

The Redstone rocket is 62 feet long and generates 75,000 pounds of thrust. Used as the first stage of the four-stage Jupiter-C rocket, it provided more than 98 per cent of the total thrust required to put the Explorer satellites in orbit.

In the three-stage Vanguard, the first stage shoves the rocket to a height of 38 miles in 2 minutes and 20 seconds, and accelerates it to 3,700 miles an hour. The Vanguard first stage travels about 275 miles before it returns to earth.

After the manned sub-orbital flights there will be some medium-range flights. Animals will be in the capsules rather than men. Thor and Jupiter type missiles will furnish propulsion.

The seven Astronauts, whose names were announced Thursday, all are veteran military test pilots. All are married and in their 30's. They were selected after rigorous physical and mental tests.

Only if all stages of Project Mercury are successful will one of the seven test pilots identified Thursday be allowed to undertake the nation's first actual space fight.

drinking for the last few days, but said he was home with his family the night of the slaying.

Detectives may have results from fingerprint tests on Lassiter's luggage from the State Police lab in East Lansing late today. The case may hinge on these reports.

Borchman was the latest of several men questioned by detectives.

Detectives said that drawings of the suspected slayer, published in newspapers throughout a four-state area Friday, had "paid off in a considerable number of phone calls."

The police drawing appeared in the Pontiac Press yesterday. The suspect, was described as "wearing work clothes, having a dirty appearance, with several fresh scars around the back of his neck.

State Police yesterday questioned Gordon Watson, 43, Lassiter's sales manager, for 10 hours as they sought a solution to the killing.

Watson took three lie detector tests, which police said were "inconclusive," possible because of a heart condition.

This Is Spring? Ask Residents Across Nation

By The Associated Press

This is spring?

That question probably was asked many times, in incredulous tones, in a wide area in the interior of the nation today.

Temperatures touched lows of 3 above in Big Piney, Wyo., 13 in Dickison, N.D., and the freezing 20s in dozens of cities, including Dubuque, Iowa, Columbia, Mo., Casper, Wyo., Denver, Duluth, Minn., Milwaukee, South Bend, Ind., and Grand Rapids.

Chicago's 27 was only two degrees above the record low for the date, 25 set in 1882.

Salt Lake City had a chilly 31.

Occasional snow fell in South Dakota, Minnesota, the Texas Panhandle and the mountains of Colorado and Wyoming.

Near-freezing temperatures, rain or snow gripped most of the nation today.

An irritating cold enveloped the midcontinent and rain harassed the East as the third week of spring ended.

Fresh snow on the heels of a midweek storm that smacked the Rockies, cast a thin blanket over parts of the Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley.

Only the Far West enjoyed fair climes.

Rain and drizzle prevailed from the Great Lakes into the Northeast and middle Atlantic region. It also dipped to the Gulf Coast.

Most notable rain was .42 inches during a 6-hour period at Washington, D.C. and Pensacola, Fla.

More snow fell in Wyoming and Colorado and as far south as Dalhart, Texas. Denver recorded an inch early today as did Lemmon, S.D.

Heaviest snow was at least 4 inches at Redwood Falls, Minn. Duluth, Minn., measured 2 inches Friday.

Snowfall postponed Friday's National League opener at Chicago.

A mercury plunge into the teens at many points, marked the early morning in the country's midsection.

Biting cold weather fastened a hold from Montana to the upper Great Lakes and into the central Rockies, Plains and mid-Mississippi Valley.

Hurler of Stone at Prince Held

Japanese Youth Hated Imperial Family, Once Threw Down Gauntlet

TOKYO (AP) — The unemployed commoner who stoned the royal wedding procession once wanted to challenge members of Japan's imperial family to a duel.

Police said a notebook found in the apartment of Kensetsu Nakayama, 19, carried the following notation addressed to members of the imperial family. "I challenge you to a duel on April 10." It was dated March 26.

★ ★ ★

Nakayama will be turned over to the Tokyo district prosecutor's office Sunday for indictment, police said. A charge of "committing violence," carrying a maximum penalty of two years imprisonment, will be recommended.

Nakayama hurled a stone at Crown Prince Akhito and Princess Michiko Friday as they left the Imperial Palace after their marriage to ride through cheering throngs in an open carriage.

The stone narrowly missed the prince. Police pounced on Nakayama seconds later as he vaulted onto the side of the moving coach in a lunge towards Akhito.

Last month, Nakayama sent the imperial household a letter in which he demanded to see the Emperor.

Police quoted him as saying he intended to disrupt the wedding by dragging the prince and princess out of the carriage, but that he did not want to hurt them.

★ ★ ★

"I have hated the Emperor and Empress ever since my primary school days when my teachers forced me to bow deeply in the direction of the Imperial Palace," police quoted the youth as saying.

"It was outrageous that the imperial family was using taxpayers money to build a palace for the crown prince when there are people like myself who are having such a difficult time."

Police investigation revealed that Nakayama recently failed entrance examinations to three Japanese universities.

Former News Carrier Paid Off With Interest

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP) —Ex-newspaper carrier Art Postlewaite said he received a $3 check from a former customer in Newburg, Ore.

Seventy-five cents was for a month's newspaper delivery. The other $2.25 was for 27 years interest.

No Time for Tickets, Says Police Chief

Waterford Township Police Chief Millard Pender said today the reason only three traffic tickets were issued in the township during March was because of extensive follow-up work being done by patrolmen after they report a crime.

Eight patrolmen issued 205 tickets in 1958 compared to the previous year when 16 men in the department issued 1,818.

The drop in number of traffic tickets was due mainly to the big cut in personnel last July when 12 officers were laid off for lack of salary funds.

Before the cutback, patrolmen merely reported a crime to the Police Department and two special investigation detectives would "take it from there," according to Pender.

At the present time, each patrolman on the force does most of his own follow-up work on each crime he reports, leaving less time to issue traffic tickets, Pender said.

"With only seven men working on break-ins, accidents, complaints and answering miscellaneous calls, we don't have enough men to assign special traffic patrol duty. We are also answering more calls than we were before the department was reduced," he said.

Waterford Township's eight-man police force answered 7,531 calls last year—even though the force was reduced—as compared to 7,514 calls answered by the 16-man force the year before, reports showed.

Policemen are working six full days a week at the present time. Not only are they on call 24 hours a day, besides their day off and vacation, but everyone works much more than 40 hours a week, Pender said.

In submitting his annual budget to the Township Board, the police chief has asked for five additional men so a regular five-day week schedule can be set up.

This would give the department a lieutenant, two sergeants, three detectives for general and juvenile investigation, two radio operator-typists, leaving seven officers to report crimes and patrol the highways.

The Township Board is waiting the decision of the Oakland County Allocation Board on how much funds will be allowed Waterford Township before taking action, Supervisor Elmer Johnson said.

Arizona Calls Flower Weed

Morning Glory Lovers, Arise!

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Morning glory lovers, hear this! The innocent-looking little flower you admire is a nasty old weed, a menace to agriculture and an outlaw.

That's official in Arizona. And few morning glory lovers in these parts are doing anything to change the official view.

The State Agriculture and Horticulture Commission classifies three varieties of morning glories as noxious — in the category of such lowly plant life as nut grass, horse nettle and Russian knapweed. It's illegal to sell seed of these varieties.

Now the commission wants also to ban 20 other species of morning glories.

"The noxious ones," said State Entomologist W. T. Mendenhall, "choke out cotton and make picking difficult. The ban will have to apply to all species because seed processors can't guarantee that any packet of morning glory seed doesn't contain some of the noxious species.

REPORTER PROTESTS

"Morning glories grown in the cities don't spread to the cotton fields. But how can you be sure city seed dealers won't sell to farmers?"

So far, the only finger openly lifted in protest has been that of a newspaper reporter, Jim Cooper's stories in the Tucson Daily Citizen have criticized the ban and blamed the cotton lobby in the Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Cotton is a major crop in Arizona. Morning glories don't have anything like the same monetary value. They have no lobbyists.

Mendenhall reports his office has received some objections as a result of Cooper's stories, but no great flood of opposition.

SET PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing on the subject will be held here April 15.

"We'll have representatives at the hearing," said Mrs. Barney Upchurch of the Valley Garden Center. "But we're just curious. We usually go along with the commission's regulations."

There's still a glimmer of hope for morning glories. The law has a loophole.

While sale of the seed is punishable by fines of up to $100 for the first offense and up to $500 for subsequent offenses, no penalty is provided for individuals who smuggle morning glory seed across the state line for their own use.

The Day in Birmingham

Chamber Members Voting to Fill Three Board Seats

BIRMINGHAM — Ballots for the annual Chamber of Commerce election were mailed this week to members with a request to return them promptly to Charles Mortensen, chamber manager.

Candidates for the three 3-year vacancies on the board of directors are John M. Farr, Robert A. Faulker, Harold Kalbfleisch, Harvey A. Kresge, Frank W. Whitson and William A. Wieland.

New directors will be announced at the annual dinner April 22 at Devon Gables. Mortensen said today Bud Guest, Detroit columnist, will be speaker.

Reservations for the 39th reunion breakfast for the Ruth Shain International Relations Class are being received by Mrs. Shain, 813 Pierce St. and Mrs. John Schramm 1235 Pilgrim Rd.

The breakfast and program will be held April 24 at the Orchard Lake County Country Club beginning at 9:45 a.m. Dr. James K. Pollock, authority on German history and politics, will speak.

The class is a department of the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women which Mrs. Shain helped to organize. As in the past, this year's breakfast invitations are extended to the husbands of members.

Kay Vedder of Pontiac will lead the Founder's Day program when the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham celebrates the national organization's 42nd birthday Monday.

Mrs. Millard Newcomb, president, said the dinner and program will be held at the Community House beginning at 7 p.m.

The Nellie Clizbe Guild of the First Presbyterian Church will serve a smorgasbord dinner in the social hall Tuesday beginning at 5:30 p.m. Reservations may be made at the church office.

Thursday is the day selected for the fashion show to be sponsored by St. Catherine's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church in the church undercroft.

Scheduled for 1:30 p.m., the show will feature the latest in spring sportswear for women and men.

Hamlin Sure Bet for Fourth Term

elected it would all but wash out an old practice, lately discarded, which alternates the chairmanship between a township and city supervisor every year.

"I don't see who the cities could put up," Birmingham Mayor Carl F. Ingraham said.

Although it is not uncommon to hear occasional wrangling between township and city supervisors over one or the other having two much voting power on the Board, Hamlin foresees the township versus city factions slowly becoming extinct.

"This rural-city division is fast dying. Our common goal on the Board is the betterment of Oakland County and its citizens," declared the 54-year-old owner of a Farmington bowling alley.

Because of his popularity and knowledge of county problems, Hamlin serves also as chairman of the six-county Supervisors Inter-County Committee, is chairman of the committee's aviation subcommittee, a director of the State Association of Supervisors, and a member of the Michigan State University Oakland Advisory Board.

Bufalino to Face Senators Tuesday

Duff challenged Congress to pass laws to stop labor racketeering.

CUT TO $25

Duff said the bombing cost him $10,000 more than he was insured for and put him out of business. There have been 11 other bombings in his neighborhood, he said, all following labor disputes. None of these bombings has been solved by Detroit police.

Two Negroes — one a woman — who work 70 hours a week washing cars in Detroit testified yesterday that their weekly wage was cut from $35 to $25 after their boss signed a Teamsters Union contract.

They told the senate rackets committee the union collects 15 cents a day in dues but provides them no benefits.

Mrs. Anne Anderson and Gus Richardson testified that they were making $35 for working 10 hours a day seven days a week before they signed up with Bufalino's local on a promise that they would get higher pay and shorter hours.

SALT MINES

But on the payday after the union contract went into effect in 1954, Mrs. Anderson said, "the boss said he was going to cut our pay $10 because the union only required $25 a week for 70 hours."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) described the plight of the two a throwback to the "sweat shops" and "salt mines" of old.

He said it was a "shocking thing to happen in the labor capital of America" and would provide ammunition for Communist propaganda.

Takes Car at Gunpoint

Ohio police today were holding a Royal Oak man who last night forced a Berkley youth and his girl friend to drive him in their car at gun point.

They jumped out of the car at 12-Mile and Southfield roads.

Joseph Patton, 20, of 4181 Cumberland Rd., told Southfield Police he was taking Sharon Corser, 20, of 19230 Curtis St., Detroit, to her home about 2:30 a.m.

He said they picked up a hitchhiker, Ronald Sandlin, 20, of 2318 Red Run Court, Royal Oak, in front of the Berkley Theater on 12 Mile road.

Soon after they started, Sandlin poked a gun in Sharon's back and told him, "Just keep driving and the girl won't get hurt", Patton told police.

When they arrived at 12 Mile and Southfield, Patton said he jammed on the brakes, grabbed Sharon, pulled her out of the car and ran. They called police from a nearby gas station.

Police said Sandlin admitted the incident after he was arrested nearly two hours later by police in Napoleon, Ohio, 100 miles away. The FBI had been alerted, police said.

Kathy Fiscus, 3, Was Victim

Well Rescue Try Recalled

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP) — It was a narrow hole, 14 inches wide, its top almost covered with weeds.

Three children played around it, one pleasant spring day a decade ago. Then, suddenly, only two children were there.

★ ★ ★

The hole was a 230-foot-deep abandoned well in a vacant lot. It had claimed Kathy Fiscus, age 3.

Kathy's cousin, Gus Lyon, then 5, heard her crying, and realized the sounds came from the ground. He ran for her mother.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. David Fiscus knelt by the hole. "Can you hear me, Kathy?" she asked.

Up came the faint reply: "Yes."

"Kathy, Kathy," cried her mother. "Are you standing up?"

"Yes," came the voice, "I am."

Mrs. Fiscus ran for help.

★ ★ ★

It was the beginning of one of the nation's greatest rescue operations—a futile one, almost from the first; an operation which the whole country watched.

On a warm Sunday, 52 hours later, the golden-haired child was brought from the well—dead. A nation wept.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said she apparently suffocated within two hours of her plunge into the well casing. She apprently slipped deeper into the hole after her last words to her mother.

A rescue worker—one of 132 who labored round-the-clock—found her 95 feet below ground. The rescuers had to cut a parallel shaft and then back their way through the well casing to reach her body.

★ ★ ★

The incident touched off a nationwide move to cap abandoned wells throughout the country. Contributions totaling $44,139 came from all over the world for the rescue workers.

Some of the workers gave their share to the Kathy Fiscus Memorial Fund, which turned over almost $4,000 to the Society for Crippled Children.

From the fund enough was diverted for this plaque, which is at Children's Hospital in Los Angeles:

"Kathy Fiscus—Aug. 12, 1945-April 3, 1949—in whose memory eternal vigilance in the field of child safety is hereby dedicated."

Money Now Foremost in Worries of French

PARIS (AP) — Money has replaced the Algerian rebellion as the average Frenchman's number one worry.

★ ★ ★

In a recent poll taken by the French Institute of Public Opinion, 61 per cent of those questioned said money problems were their biggest worry. Algeria was second with 14 per cent.

★ ★ ★

In a similar poll conducted last August, Algeria was the most critical problem in the minds of 40 per cent of those polled while financial problems ran second with 26 per cent.

It Seems to Me . . .

Population Increase in Years Ahead Will Be Staggering

Here are some statistics that are really startling and which leave you a bit breathless when the enormity of the situation sinks in.

They concern population.

Historians have established that this old planet of ours held one billion people for the first time in 1830. In other words, from the beginning of time, it took thousands of years to reach this round and impressive total.

But see what's happened since. We've really moved.

After that first billion, it only required a single century to reach the two billion mark — in other words, 1930. At the moment, the population stands somewhere in excess of two and a half billion and the experts agree that we'll hit the three billion level in 1965.

That's only six years away.

So, we spent thousands of years to acquire our first billion people, a mere century to build up the second and now we're speeding towards the third in a matter of a scant thirty-five years But — look what's ahead of that!

After we've amassed our three billion living souls, we'll leap to the fourth billion in only 25 years —or by 1980—and then the fifth and sixth billion pile in on us in twenty and ten years respectively.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, in the year 2,000, the world's population will be six billion, as against less than three billion at the moment. And the year 2,000 is merely a shade over 40 years away and a majority of the people who read these words will live to see it.

★ ★ ★

Some of this is the natural increase. But a considerably larger part is due to the advanced methods for preserving life. China and India today account for more than a third of the world's population and these countries have witnessed enormous death rates. Modern science is beginning to cut sharply into the dreadful circumstances of the past; and in the years ahead, these countries—and others—will begin to approximate the more civilized regions. The infant death rate in some places staggers the imagination and in the more desolate regions, it's positively tragic. But better days are ahead as soon as we find the means for financing today's knowledge.

★ ★ ★

Planned parenthood advocates foresee an increasing demand for their services or the Chinese and Indian situations could result in a wild population runaway.

★ ★ ★

Certainly it is interesting to know that while it took thousands of years to reach the first billion mark in population, since then, the advances show:

★ ★ ★

2nd billion	100 years
3rd billion	35 years
4th billion	25 years
5th billion	20 years
6th billion	10 years

The last few billion won't worry me appreciably. But they may affect you.

If you're around in the year 2,000 you'll have plenty of playmates.

Alsop Rebuffs Charge . . . . .

In the vacation mail was a letter from JOSEPH ALSOP who received a copy of my editorial comment on his exposition of the Russian position. Says the great Washington correspondent:

★ ★ ★

"Thank you so much for sending me 'The Pontiac Press' editorial page.

"Like most other human beings, I am always illogically pleased to see my name in the paper, especially in a paper I admire. But I do object to the term 'lugubrious.' I do not think I am either pessimistic or lugubrious. The facts we have to face are very ugly indeed. I think it is a duty to stress the facts when they are not being faced. But I consider that I am extremely optimistic, because, unlike a great many people who spend their lives shoving facts under the rug, I firmly believe this country will solve the present problem and any future problem it may have, if the facts are only faced.

"This is a viewpoint that seems to me considerably more hopeful and acceptable than the viewpoint of our President who keeps ladling out soothing syrup, but after every third spoonful of soothing syrup, always adds a little moan of doubt about whether free nations — even the richest free nation in history — can maintain their freedom and see to their security at the same time."

★ ★ ★

O.K., Sir.

The record is extended.

And in Conclusion . . .

We were discussing whether the top student in a class made the highest mark thereafter. A consensus of the group indicated they were usually outstripped by those near the top but not actually first. Howard B. Barker and I agreed that the Number One boy was often a big disappointment. "Does this apply to all?" asked C. E. Wilson. "Almost," replied Howard. "Then there's no chance for me," gloomily observed the former G. M. head and Defense Secretary. "I occupied that awful spot." (And Barker wasn't far away). Me? They gave me a diploma through pity and compassion . . . . . Juan Trippe, Pan Am boss is now talking about jets that will fly to London in two hours (1967). The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Down in Dallas, Texas, they call him Brother Bill, "The Sucker Preacher."

A rugged man with a rugged life as a boxer and barroom brawler behind him, the Rev. William Leo Harrod found a new life 25 years ago when, in his own words, he "quit honky-tonking to go preach for God."

Now with a box of food and clothing in one hand and a brace of lollypops in the other, he tours the slums of West Dallas bringing help and hope to the underprivileged.

"It's the Sucker Preacher," children cry when they see his huge powerful frame coming down the street.

Over the years, his congregation has grown from 63 to 500. A clinic, missions and other churches have grown up in the wake of this dynamic Baptist pastor who each Christmas stages a "shoe party" and distributes 2,000 pairs of shoes and mountains of clothing to the needy.

Brother Bill has been known to take off his coat and hand it to a derelict. "My faith," he says, "goes into action, but there's no lace on my handkerchief."

Days of All Faiths

Churches Will Stress Education

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

A century ago one out of every 740 Americans was a college student. Today the proportion is just about ten times as high; approximately one out of every 74 Americans attends college.

★ ★ ★

The student, too, is different from the student of 100 years ago, of even a generation ago. Today, 22 per cent of them are married and therefore much more serious and responsible than the coonskin-coated playboys of the 1920's or the mandolin players of the early 1900's. The caricature of the "collegiate" young moron is obsolete.

Today's student is conservative in his views—political, sociological and economic, as contrasted with the "parlor pinks" of the depression years and the Mencken cult of a decade earlier.

He is tired of being organized and resists regimentation both in student government and in the kind of stereotyped fun students used to engage in, all as alike as peas in a pod. There is more total drinking in colleges nowadays, but there are fewer heavy drinkers.

★ ★ ★

"Many of today's students," says one educator, "are cautious seekers after security in an outwardly insecure world."

If the student has changed, so also has the intellectual atmosphere in which he lives. A century ago the main problem was atheism. God is dead, said the advance guard liberals, and the task facing the Christian church in those days, and later, was to keep the college student from losing his faith.

Today the problem is that man is quite possibly on the brink of extinction. The task now is to correct man's image of himself rather than to convince him of the existence of God. And this, too, is a religious matter. No longer can colleges and church maintain a scholarly separation from each other. They face a common assignment to reconstruct the meaning and dignity of man's own life.

And according to the National Council of Churches, they have no option as to whether they will join in meeting a crisis that equally concerns them both.

★ ★ ★

Some independent colleges and universities try to ignore the fundamental place of religion in education, but these, says the Council, are not being realistic.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Rolled Somersaults at 74, Danced to the Happy End

". . . Visited us when she was 74 and rolled somersaults . . . poor old girl slipped away in her sleep one night when she was 82, after an evening out dancing!" (T. D. E.)

DR. BRADY

Answer — Old stiffs will think it is silly, but I believe rolling somersaults helps to keep one elastic and youthful. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the FREE pamphlet "Invitation to the Somersaultaqua" — or call it pamphlet on rolling, if the big word throws you.

★ ★ ★

"Daughter's four children have scurvy. The medicine she was told to get is very expensive." . . . (M. F.)

Answer—The cause of scurvy is deprivation or insufficient daily intake of vitamin C (ascorbic acid). Best sources of vitamin C are fresh fruit or fresh fruit juice, fresh green vegetables, especially raw vegetables (lettuce, cabbage, tomato, celery, onion, carrot, watercress, mint).

★ ★ ★

"If bits of tin or other metal get into food and are swallowed with the food will it cause poisoning or ulcers?" (J. A.)

Answer — No. If you accidently swallow a metallic article or bit of metal or if a child does so, eat or feed the child plenty of mashed or baked potato, banana, salad greens for the next two or three meals. This will form a coating or material around the object and facilitate natural passage through the bowel within the next two or three days. Do not take or give physic.

While the supply lasts, every reader who asks for either of these pamphlets, of course enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope, will receive the other two free of charge:

(1) The Red Blood Vitamin
(2) Calcium and Rheumatiz
(3) Stage Fright and Examination Jitters

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Incident Teaches Lesson for Life

Lorna asked how I first became interested in psychology, so be sure you read about my camping trip along the Wabash River. The Chicago girl who mired down in the quicksand taught me one of the basic laws of feminine psychology when I was only 10 years of age. There'd be few divorces if all men knew and applied this rule:

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B—406: Lorna D., aged 20, was one of my psychology students at Northwestern University.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, what made you interested in psychology in the first place," she asked in class one day.

"And did you plan to become a professor of psychology when you first entered college?"

JOHN'S STRATEGY

No, I didn't know I was going to study for my Ph. D. in psychology when I entered college.

Oh, I had an interest in the subject, partly because my mother had studied psychology in college and was a great devotee of William James.

In fact, she had his books in our library, so that may have influenced me more than I realized as a boy.

But I really got my eyes opened to psychology when I was about 10 years old.

Our family was camping along the Wabash River in western Indiana. I had a younger brother John, who was then 8 years of age.

And a friend of my mother's from Chicago came down for a weekend visit at the camp. She brought her 9-year-old daughter along.

The three of us kids decided to take a hike next morning. About a mile from camp we suddenly found ourselves mired down in quicksand.

I was able to throw myself toward a hanging wild grape vine and pull myself out.

But John and the Chicago girl were at least 30 feet away from solid ground.

★ ★ ★

So I decided I better run back for help, but I first threw out some brush so they could distribute their weight thereby and slow down their sinking into the quicksand.

The girl was screaming in terror and exclaiming that she didn't want to die.

I was so preoccupied getting brush to throw out to them that I didn't take time to talk to her. But my brother John reassured her and told her they'd soon get out O. K., etc.

A few hundred yards back toward camp, I encountered my uncle, who ran back with me to the quicksand and whittled a long strip of the grapevine, which he used in lieu of a rope.

He threw it out to John and the girl, after which he pulled them safely to solid ground.

This Chicago girl had a box of fancy chocolates which she presented to my brother John after they had arrived back at camp, explaining that he had saved her life.

Actually, I had done all the headwork and even the foot work in procuring my uncle's aid for their rescue.

All my brother John had done was talk to the girl and try to allay her terror with words.

★ ★ ★

If I hadn't used my head, they might soon have been dead. But the girl gave me no credit at all for the rescue and didn't even offer me a single chocolate!

★ ★ ★

That's when I began to realize that women want words! Bigger pay checks and costly gifts and silent devotion aren't enough.

Men, you gotta verbalize your feelings and use the "Compliment Club" technique and "say" your love, or some penniless salesman with a glib tongue may come along and win your sweetheart right out from under your nose!

★ ★ ★

So speak up! Tell her you love her! And even quote a little appropriate poetry, too, to make her realize you are a cultured male. Then she'll melt in your arms!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Candidate Would Abolish Non-Partisan Designation

Thank you for the kind words expressed by The Pontiac Press editorially April 8, concerning losers in the recent "non-partisan" election for Circuit Court Judge. I hope your newspaper will exercise the "power of the press" to abolish the designation of "non-partisan" for judicial candidates. It is a farce.

★ ★ ★

Supreme Court judges are nominated in state party conventions. How can a man secure nomination by a party at a state convention unless he's a party man? It takes little argument to convince anyone that he cannot suddenly become non-partisan after such nomination.

★ ★ ★

I was the only candidate without endorsement of any party. I requested my own party to drop my name from its list of candidates. As a result, I became an enemy of my own party, and they took it upon themselves to aid in my defeat. I make this statement in the face of any accusation that I'm a poor loser.

'Support Will Fold if That Keeps Up'

The NAACP wants to break up the Boston Red Sox and throw them out of town because they released a colored infielder.

★ ★ ★

If the NAACP want to lose all the support of all the white people, let it keep on with these cheap tactics. Suppose the Elks took the same action because the Yankees released an Elk, or the Baptist Church did because Cincinnati farmed out a nice Baptist? Where would we all end?

★ ★ ★

The NAACP has got to grow up and act like adults and not like little children or they'll find themselves a league of exclusively colored people battling stone walls. The NAACP has a lot of inside work to do in their own organization.

Would NAACP like it if all the white people demanded that Detroit kick the Tigers out of the city because a colored man is playing left field.

The King Fish

'Let's Not Be Fooled by Such Observation'

It never dawned on me so much expert knowledge could be gained from such long range observation of Michigan's financial crisis.

★ ★ ★

The letters and articles referred to in the Press editorial do not surprise me because so many self-alleged experts, representing big business rather than the small working man, have nothing to do but obtain a large expense account (which is deductible from someone's income tax that would otherwise go to the Treasury) and spread this gossip throughout the nation and foreign countries.

★ ★ ★

Michigan is in a bad financial state, but we Democrats must not be misled by these slanderous attempts to distract us as to why this wonderful and glorious state of ours is in this terrible condition. Eleven years of close ups, rather than long-distance observation, indicate Republicans are and have been in substantial control of Lansing, dictate the tax structure and are responsible for the absence of a prosperous and feasible tax system. They're criticizing their own program.

'Well, He Did Have Direction Right'

According to Mr. Reader, labor should back Williams all the way (to the White House?). Well, I'll agree with him on one thing—that would be the right direction for Soapy. Sunday Vesper at Sashabaw

Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church to Present Program

The Sashabaw Presbyterian Church will be host to Presbyterian churches of the area for a Sunday Vesper service at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow.

The Chancel Choir of First Presbyterian Church will present a choral program under the direction of Lyndon S. Salathiel.

Mrs. Michael Siano and Royce Everett will sing "Crucifix" by Faure.

Numbers by the choir will include "The 150th Psalm" by Frank; "Be Thou My Judge, O Lord" by Morgan, "Make a Joyful Sound" by Caen, "O Love, How Deep" by Litconib and "Out of the Depth" by James.

"The Beatitudes" by Evans, "Santus and Benedictus" by Gounod and "By Babyons Wave" by Gounod will also be offered.

Refreshments will be served following the program with the Adult Sunday School class in charge.

Sunny Vale Chapel Slates Conference

The annual missionary conference of Sunny Vale Chapel will begin Sunday with missionaries speaking at 8:30 and 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Services will begin each evening during the week at 7 p. m, and continue through April 19.

The Rev. Ralph Odman, former missionary to Haiti, will be the speaker at 7 each evening.

A commission service for Ronnie Combs of Sunny Vale Chapel, missionary candidate to South America, will be held Sunday evening.

Reports will be given by missionaries returned from the Far East, Africa, China, Peru and South America and pictures portraying life in the various countries will be shown.

State Group to Hear National Dental Chief

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The president of the American Dental Assn. will address the 102nd annual convention of the Michigan Dental Assn. here April 20-22.

A talk by Dr. Percy T. Phillips of New York will be among the highlights of the scientific meeting which is being held in Grand Rapids for the first time in 25 years. About 3,000 dentists, dental hygienists, dental assistants and laboratory technicians are expected to attend.

Other speakers include Dr. Paul H. Jeserich of Ann Arbor, president-elect of the American Dental Assn. and dean of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry; Dr. Harold Hillenbrand of Chicago, secretary of the national group, and Dr. Ray A. Hart of Saginaw, a trustee of the national association for Michigan and Wisconsin.

Pastor to Teach Joslyn Avenue Church Courses

A class for both adults and young people will begin Sunday at Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. The Rev. E. I. Watkins will teach the youth group at 9:30 a. m. and the adults at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

The courses will give instructions relative to the laws and rules of the church, and help each one to read and understand the Bible.

National Christian College Day will be observed at all services tomorrow.

Teachers and officers of the Sunday School will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday; youth choir practice is set for 6 p. m. Wednesday; and on Thursday, Bible Study Class is scheduled for 6:45 p. m. and adult choir practice at 7:45 p. m.

John Watkins, David Dewey and John Dunham are Junior Department ushers this month.

Bobcats Claw Cougars From Fur Style Parade

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Bobcat fur will be stylish on the continent next season, but cougar fur is passe.

The fashion note comes not from a couturier, but from Owen W. Morris, an agent of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

His office auctioned more than a thousand bobcat pelts Friday at $10.72 apiece. A lone cougar (mountain lion) skin brought $5.30.

The bobcat is considered a varmint in the West. So federal trappers take them by the hundreds and the government auctions them once a year.

Architect Dead at 89

Frank Lloyd Wright Stirs Uproar Over Museum

(Editor's Note—Frank Lloyd Wright died Friday. His body will be returned today to the Wisconsin hilly farm country where the world-famed architect was born 89 years ago. His most recent building which only now is nearing completion is the startling circular structure on New York's Fifth Avenue which will house the Guggenheim Museum.)

By HUGH MULLIGAN
AP Feature Writer

NEW YORK—That young whipper-snapper, Frank Lloyd Wright, has done it again with his new fangled ideas.

Sedate, fashionable Fifth Avenue, ancient stamping ground of the Vanderbilts, the Rockefellers, the Carnegies and the elephant herd in Central Park Zoo, is in an aesthetic uproar over his futuristic design for the new Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum.

Located between Andrew Carnegie's graying Georgian fortress and a brooding Victorian town house on upper Fifth Avenue, the vat-shaped, glass-domed museum sits across from the park like a giant ice cream cone gone astray from a vendor's cart.

Under construction for the last three years and still months away from completion, the new multimillion dollar home of the Guggenheim collection of priceless modern art has become a major Manhattan conversational piece.

Wright calls it an "archeseum," a word that hasn't even made the unabridged dictionaries yet. It means, according to him, "a building in which to see the highest."

But outraged neighbors have other words for it. They call it, variously, the concrete trash can, the upside down cake, the corkscrew, gourd of cheese, the "Queen Mary"—because its north wing resembles a ship—the poached egg and, inelegantly, "the great stone toilet bowl."

Residents of the apartment house directly behind the museum are about evenly divided pro and con, depending on whether they live on the upper or lower floors.

Those above are grateful that the new building replaces a 13-story apartment house, affording them an unobstructed view of the park. Those below are incensed at the two-story high concrete fence erected in front of their windows.

"It takes a long time to grow to love a building like this," says a fashionable dowager in one of the nearby fashionable brownstones. "I'm afraid I don't have that much time left."

Charter Sunday to Be Observed

Crescent Hills Baptist Members Complete Plans for New Church

Speaking at the 10 a.m. service tomorrow in Crescent Hills Baptist Church will be Dr. Arthur L. Farrell, executive secretary of the Michigan Baptist Convention.

The occasion is the observance of Charter Member Sunday. Certificates of membership and baptism will be presented and the charter memberships closed.

A scroll of the charter names will be placed in the cornerstone of the new church.

Organized on March 27, 1956 under the leadership of the present pastor, the Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn, as an American Baptist Convention Church, services have been conducted in the John Monteith Elementary School since that time.

Plans for a church building have been completed and land purchased for the construction of a first unit soon.

A covered dish dinner for church families will be served at noon Sunday followed by an informal fellowship hour.

Businessmen Will Ask

LANSING (AP)—The annual Michigan congressional dinner at Washington April 28 will feature an exchange of views between Michigan's business leaders and the state's congressmen. Robert H. Albert, president of the Association Executives of Michigan, says each member of the congressional delegation will be asked to answer a question on political affairs submitted by a businessman in the audience.

Breast Cancer Rise Blamed on Tension

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Breast cancer is becoming more common partly because of modern day tensions, says Dr. Frank E. Adair, executive officer for cancer for Memorial hospital, New York.

He told the Idaho Cancer Conference that there were 60,000 cases of breast cancer in the United States last year, twice as many cases as any other type of cancer in women.

"The reason for this great increase in breast cancer has as its basis the tensions and stress of living in this modern day," Adair said.

Off-Season Wyatt Earp Fast Man With Ball-Point

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The man behind the desk had no guns, no marshal's badge. He was dressed in sport clothes and his fast draw was limited to a ball-point pen.

This was Wyatt Earp in his off-season. From June to November, the slim, dark-clad fellow keeps peace in the streets of Dodge City. During the other seven months, he is Hugh O'Brian, entrepreneur, and he has proven just as sharp in a board of directors meeting as in a prairie shoot-out.

★ ★ ★

I corraled O'Brian in his Beverly Hills office between his world travels. The conversation was interrupted by secretaries and managers with details of his next trip: to New York for a telethon, Winnipeg for a circus, Cleveland to do a Bob Hope show, Chicago for a run in "The Rainmaker."

"Is it true, as I read recently, that you are making a half-million a year?" I inquired.

"Five hundred thousand?" he mused. "I'd say the report was conservative."

See what I mean? The half-million figure seemed large because O'Brian gets no percentage of the Wyatt Earp take. He works for a highly taxable salary, and this has long been a source of dispute with the producers.

★ ★ ★

"The TV show represents only 20 per cent of my earnings," he remarked. "The rest comes from investments and my activities the other seven months of the year. For example, I get from $3,000 to $5,000 for a personal appearance."

His investments include a construction company and the Palm Springs resort Whispering Waters, in which Dennis Weaver, Pat Conway, Carolyn Jones and Lloyd Bridges are also involved. But it isn't all income with Hugh. One of his prime interests is the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation.

"I put 20 per cent of my earnings in it—as much as the government will allow," he remarked. "There's so much destructive publicity about kids in trouble, I thought I would take a positive approach and reward youngsters who do good things."

★ ★ ★

Among the rewards would be a trip to the Hugh O'Brian dude ranch, a new enterprise he is scouting in his non-Wyatt months.

Urgent Need for Cargo Pushed Up Departure of Steamship

CHICAGO (UP) — The steamship Wilfred Sykes, flagship of the Inland Steel Co. fleet, yesterday became the first vessel to haul iron ore on the Great Lakes in 1959.

The vessel, with 16,000 tons of ore, cleared the lighthouse off Escanaba at 6 p.m.

The ship is due to arrive at the Indiana Harbor, Ind., works of Inland today.

The Sykes, which followed an ice breaker into Escanaba for loading, was scheduled for the earlier than usual spring trip because of the urgent need for iron ore, an Inland spokesman said. Capacity opegations have depleted ore stock piles, Riley O'Brien, Inland's fleet manager, said.

O'Brien said that ice conditions on the Great Lakes were the worst in 20 years, with ice sheets four feet thick in many places.

Escanaba, the only iron shipping port on Lake Michigan, is the only ore loading port open on the Great Lakes.

Lake Superior ports won't open until late April, O'Brien predicted.

Crime Task Force Moves Into Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special government task force against organized crime, having completed a year-long study of nationwide racketeering, is now moving into the action stage with an expanded staff.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said Friday "The full weight of federal law enforcement is now being concentrated on syndicated criminal operations." He indicated a sharp increase in prosecutions against top racketeers.

Rogers said his special group on organized crime, created last April "has successfully completed its temporary assignment" of coordinating information about top hoodlums from every source.

The group of 18, headed by Milton R. Wessel, a former New York prosecutor, now will be integrated into federal district attorneys' offices in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Miami, Rogers said.

The group seeks wage boosts.

The People's Choice!

The trucks you see operating over the streets and highways of Michigan are there because the people want the swift, dependable transportation service they provide. People who operate factories, run farms, own retail businesses — they rely on trucks to stock their enterprises and to ship their finished products. And the people who buy these products — their needs, too, are served for the most part by trucks. It's a service they've grown used to, a service which has become a vital part of the American way of life . . . Yes, motor transport is the people's choice, a service and convenience that serves them night and day!

Your Signature

Many difficulties would be avoided if persons would place a greater value on their signature. Given wisely, it can add greatly to your well being; given carelessly, it can cause distress and loss of money. Too many persons sign contracts without reading them, or read them without too much thought, depending on the verbal promises of the salesman. Your signature to a contract means that you understood the terms thereof and are willing to abide by all its terms and provisions.

Dads who sang in the Eastern Junior High School Boys' Glee Club are proud of their sons, who are carrying on the tradition. From left to right are William Travis, Jr. of Seneca street and his father William Travis, Richard Shafer and his dad, Chester Shafer of Moreland street. Seated at the piano, Leonard Griffin, director of the Boys' Glee Club at Eastern Junior High School, talks about the coming concert. On the far left is William Nichols, who used to sing in the glee club. He has not one, but two sons, who are following in his footsteps. Lywood, 15, next to his dad, and Don who is 13.

Art Exhibit Chairmen Announced

The Pontiac Society of Artists has announced its committee chairman for the annual exhibit on May 24.

At a meeting Friday evening at the Adah Shelley Library, the following were appointed: Mrs. Cecil Dumbrigue, general chairman; Mrs. Bernard Seiber, reception; Mrs. Paul Davison, hanging; Lola Strom, table decorations, Mrs. John Zoner, refreshments; Mrs. Arthur Buehre, pouring; and Joyce Merrifield, clean-up.

The exhibit will open with a reception at the Adah Shelley Library.

Marygrove Students Plan Family Fiesta

Several local girls are among the hundreds of Marygrove students helping with the seventh annual Family Fiesta. "Jazz — International" is the theme of the carnival-type affair, to be held April 18 on the Marygrove College campus.

The girls are Patricia Foster of Old Orchard Trail, Breda and Margant Reilly of Whittemore street, Sharon Talbot of South Marshall street and Ellen Schachern of Miami road.

Eastern Boys' Glee Club to Give 30th Concert

When the Boys Glee Club at Pontiac's Eastern Junior High School steps out on the stage at the spring concert this May, it will be for the thirtieth time.

★ ★ ★

This group first appeared in a concert in May, 1929. The organization is actually older than this, for it was organized during the 1925-6 school year by Mrs. Donald B. Hogue who now lives in Franklin Hills.

★ ★ ★

The school feels that this is an occasion requiring special observance. Since, during the past 33 years several hundred boys who sang in the glee club have made their homes in the Pontiac area, it has been decided to bring these people together again and possibly to have them appear at the concert this year.

★ ★ ★

There will be a meeting at Eastern Junior High School April 14 at 7:45 p.m. for the purpose of organizing this alumni glee club. Every former member, whether he graduated just last year, or has not sung in over twenty years, is asked to attend and meet with old friends.

Leonard Griffin, present director of the glee club, will be in charge of the group.

Know What You're Fighting — Abby

This Is Time for Strategy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband has been asking me for weeks if he can bring a divorced woman home for lunch who works where he works. She has been having problems with her 'ex.' He wants me to hear her story and give her my opinion. I told my husband a woman of her age, which is 30, should not have to ask me (I am 32) for advice.

ABBY

"I also told my husband I don't think it looks right for this divorced woman to be telling her troubles to him either. I am getting very upset over this whole thing as my husband has pestered me for months about meeting this woman. Am I right in telling him he shouldn't be so concerned with her troubles?"

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: You are correct but you'd be wise to let him bring her home for lunch. Listen to her story, give her your opinion and throw in a little extra "advice" about single women "avoiding the appearance of evil" by confining their friendships to single men.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am very much interested in joining the Waves and so are two of my girl friends, but we would like to know something first. Is it possible to join the Waves if you aren't a virgin? Please tell me where to find out as it will save us a lot of embarrassment."

WANTING TO JOIN

DEAR WANTING: Contact your local recruiting office. They will give you all the official information.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My mother said I could go to a show with this guy named Jerry. We double-dated with Laurie and Mike. We left the house at 7:30 and when we got in the car it turned out that Laurie had seen the show we were going to see, so we all went to Mike's house. We just popped corn and goofed around and played records and watched TV.

"We got interested in a movie on TV and forgot the time, so instead of being home at 12 sharp like I said, we got home at 12:45. My mother was having fits. I didn't lie to her, Abby. I told her we weren't at the show and she almost hit the ceiling. Now I can't go out for a month. Is this fair?"

CINDY

DEAR CINDY: Parents are not unreasonable when they insist on knowing where their children are. When you leave the house, go where you planned to go. Should the plans change, phone your parents to get their approval.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old boy and have a problem that is very confidential, so if you put this in the paper please don't use my name. Every time I kiss a girl nothing happens. My friends are always talking about how good certain girls can kiss. I take them out and when I kiss them, like I said, nothing happens. I know they are trying, too. I am very worried about it. Am I normal?"

JUST ME

DEAR JUST: It's a matter of elementary physics, Son. When the right irresistible force (she) meets the immovable object (you) something's got to give. Patience!

Watch Lights Too

Collar Line Adds Beauty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When thinking of ways in which to become more attractive women sometimes overlook two factors; the collar line and lighting.

For instance, the woman who has a short neck will look best in a V-shaped neckline which is cut low at the back. The round neckline is not so flattering. Many women who have a short neck have the collars of their suits and dresses cut down in the back. Otherwise, even with a short haircut the neck simply will not be there!

Of course the opposite is true of the woman who has a long, thin neck. A round collar is flattering and should be higher in the back.

Spring always brings forth a rash of white collars and bows as decoration for the darker shades of blue and brown and for black. These are generally becoming. The reflection of light which the white throws tends to minimize any lines, droops or shadows you may have.

One word of warning. If you have a double chin or a very wide jawline, you may look best in one of the light pastels which still reflect light flatteringly but with less glare.

LIGHTING

I am sure that all women have at times become aware of what a great difference lighting can make in the way they look. Some overhead lights in stores, homes and restaurants, make one look 15 years older than when in bright daylight.

While practically everyone has had this experience many women forget it when planning the lighting in their homes. In many bathrooms or at dressing tables it is impossible to tell how one really looks because of the type of lighting installed.

Then, too, the lights in our living rooms and bedrooms might just as well give us a boost in appearance rather than make us look years older than we are.

Wilson PTA Holds Annual Fathers Night

Go-Between Friend May Inquire

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am faced with a very ticklish situation. A friend of mine has recently moved to a new house and is having quite a large housewarming party. The invitations to this party have been sent out but I did not receive one and I can't imagine why. I'm sure there must be some mistake as she has talked about the party to me on several occasions and intimated that I was to be invited.

★ ★ ★

"Would it be proper for me to go on the assumption that the invitation was lost in the mail, or must I stay away. I was anxiously looking forward to seeing her new house."

Answer: Have one of your mutual friends who has been invited tell the hostess that she hears you have not received an invitation and are very disappointed not to see her new house.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married shortly. We have been informed by the bride's family that we are to limit our invitation list to twenty-five guests. We have many relatives and friends who will be very disappointed at not being invited to the wedding.

★ ★ ★

"I would like to give a reception at my house for these relatives and friends that same evening. The reception given by the bride's family will be from one to three. Will you please tell me if this would be proper."

Answer: It will be much better to give a reception for your son and his bride after they return from their wedding trip.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a very big public dinner where there is a speaker's table and smaller tables, when does a guest begin eating? Must the people at the small tables wait for someone at the speaker's table — perhaps the guest of honor, to begin eating?"

Answer: You pay no attention whatever to any table other than your own. You may begin to eat as soon as two or three others at your table have been served.

Antique Show to Feature Mrs. Smith's Dressing

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When the time comes for All Saints' Church to have its annual Antique Show, we like to get a recipe for our readers. The food served at the daily luncheons is always good.

★ ★ ★

This year we are featuring Mrs. Clarence Smith's Salad Dressing which will be used in several dishes next week. As a bride, Mrs. Smith learned to make this dressing from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Delbert Smith of South Lyon. It had been in the family for many years before that time.

SPECIAL SALAD DRESSING
By Mrs. Clarence Smith

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon dry mustard (if dressing is for vegetables fish or fowl)
OR
1 teaspoon dry mustard (if dressing is for fruit)
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 cup cider vinegar
2 well beaten egg yolks

Mix all ingredients except egg yolks and cook in double boiler until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Pour over egg yolks. Beat thoroughly and return to double boiler. Cook until thickened, again stirring constantly. Store in refrigerator until ready to use.

This is a rather thick mixture and must be thinned with coffee cream, whipped cream or fruit juice. Beat with electric mixture while gradually adding cream or juice.

This dressing makes an unusually good base for tartar sauce. Mrs. Smith says there are two secrets of this dressing. One is the use of the dry mustard; the other is lots of beating during the mixing, the cooking and before serving, while adding the thinning liquid.

American Families Are More Mature

By RUTH MILLETT

Maybe you haven't noticed, but there are a lot of changes in everyday living taking place that indicate that we Americans are growing up.

Stark, bleak, sometimes hideous "modern" is fast being replaced by a more graceful, luxurious, softer look in home decoration. Rumpus rooms have given way to family rooms featuring well-filled book shelves, good music and quiet reading corners. In fact, some architects are now calling family rooms "quiet rooms."

Women's clothes are being designed to flatter rather than to startle. Women's hair styles are being designed to emphasize their femininity.

Big, noisy, crowded parties aren't as popular as they once were. The success of a party is no longer measured by how noisy it gets and how late it lasts. Small dinners, for six or eight with good food and good conversation are replacing back-yard barbecues.

Parents are even beginning to seem more concerned over Sonny's marks in school than whether or not he is "adjusting t the group."

Fewer and fewer families are going in for big cars as a means of impressing their neighbors. In fact, many families seem to have wearied of trying to keep up with the Joneses.

There are many subtle changes taking place that seem to indicate that we are beginning to grow up and think for ourselves.

June Group Hears Talks on Education

Mrs. Asah Drury discussed Christian Education and Mrs. Bessie M. Brown, Social Education, at a meeting of the June Group of First Presbyterian Church Friday.

Mrs. M. A. Benson was luncheon hostess. Cohostesses were Mrs. W. Dean Thompson, Mrs. Gordon Hayter, Mrs. John Maginnis, and Mrs. M. L. Lamb.

Mrs. William Donaldson is in charge of a money making project to be observed May 14 at the church.

Mrs. Orrin Huntoon Jr. was welcomed as a new member.

The May 8 meeting will be held at the South Pemberton street home of Mrs. Charles Galloway.

Spadea's american designer pattern

Miss Martini concocts one of the prettiest cocktail and party dresses of the season. Meant to float on the dance floor, it should be made up in sheers, or clinging jersey.

The bodice of shirred bias drapery has a completely fitted lining underneath, and the shoulder straps are arranged to prevent them sliding off your shoulders. The gathered skirt might be single or double, depending on how diaphanous your fabric choice, but in any case, there is a full fitted slip for modesty and peace of mind.

Silk, rayon or cotton chiffon are suggested as well as matte or rayon jersey, bemberg sheers, voille, organza. From this size chart select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
8	33	24	34	15¾
10	34	25	35	16
12	35	26	36	16¼
14	36½	27½	37½	16½
16	38	29	39	16¾
18	40	31	41	17

Size 12 requires 4½ yards of 36 inch material for dress and 1⅞ yards of 42 inch material for lining. To order Pattern 1373, state size, send $1.00.

For Martini label, send 25c. For 96 page Pattern Book No. 15, send $1.00. Address Spadea, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. P6, New York 1, N.Y.

If paid by check, bank requires 4c handling charge.

IT SEEMS

In Proverbs 16:25 we have this statement, "There is a way that seemeth right unto man but the end thereof are the ways of death." In many instances individuals reach the conclusion a thing is right not because an established standard of authority states, teaches or affirms it but because to them "IT SEEMS RIGHT." But the people of the earth should come to realise that in religious matters, a way, an expression, a man may be ideal in man's estimation of things and inadequate in God's estimation of things. Man's ideas may be weighed in man's balances and found acceptable, and weighed in God's balances and found wanting. A realization of this becomes more apparent when we contemplate this expression of Isaiah, "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways by ways saith the Lord." Isa. 55:8,9.

Have you ever heard a man say when discussing the subject of Christianity, "it seems to me as if this should be so, or it seems to me as if that should be so." When discussing religious matters our statements should not consist of the phrase "IT SEEMS" but rather THE BIBLE TEACHES.

Having we hope challenged your thinking in this particular channel let us precede to consider a frequently made expression containing the phrase "IT SEEMS." Someone says "it seems to me as if a man should let his conscience be his guide." At first thought this seems plausible but let us notice what the Bible, the final authority says. THERE IS A WAY THAT SEEMS RIGHT"---- Proverbs 16:25.

In the Bible we have recorded a man who followed his conscience but was wrong. Acts 23:1. In following his good conscience, he dishonored his God and persecuted the church, (see Acts 26:9, Acts 9, Gal. 1:13). What this man did seemed right but it was wrong. So it is with many today, what they are doing religiously seems right to them, but that is not the question, IS IT RIGHT WITH GOD? The only way we can be sure is to study the Bible and notice if what we believe, what we teach, what we have obeyed as the plan of salvation concurs with it, for God's word is RIGHT AND CANNOT BE WRONG. Peter says, "----Hath given us all things that pertain unto life and godliness----. II Peter 1:3. Believest Thou This?

TO BE DEDICATED THURSDAY — The first unit of the Episcopal Church of the Advent will be dedicated at 8 p.m. Thursday with the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, officiating. Built of red brick and cement block, the church was founded in December 1955 by 15 families. Currently the membership consists of 150 families. Interior walls of the sanctuary near the altar are of brick. Side walls are off-white. The ceiling is cedar with prefabricated laminated fir beams. The off-white cotton jackets capping the chairs hold the red hymnals and prayer books. Sand-flecked beige tile is the floor covering.

Pontiac Press Photo

Episcopal Church of Advent Will Be Dedicated

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, will dedicate the first unit of The Episcopal Church of the Advent, located on Middle Belt just north of West Long Lake road at 8 p. m. Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Participating in the dedication will be the Rev. John French, dean of the Oakland Convocation, the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, rector of Christ Church Cranbrook; the Rev. John W. Wigle, vicar, and other visiting clergy.

The church was founded as a mission in December 1955 by 15 families headed by Rogers J. Marquis, chairman of the bishop's committee, and Archdeacon Ralph Parks who at that time was director of missionary efforts for the diocese.

The old Pine Lake School at the corner of Middle Belt and West Long Lake roads, was rented as a temporary meeting place, with the first service held on Dec. 4, 1955, the second Sunday in Advent. It was from this season that the church took its name.

Through the active support of its own members and a gift from Christ Church Cranbrook a full-time minister was called. The Rev. Mr. Wigle came to the church on July 1, 1956.

With the consent of the bishop, the church became a parochial mission of Christ Church.

LAND DONATED

Five acres of land were donated by the Girls' Friendly Society of this diocese. Architectural plans were designed by Stephen Page from the firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach.

Ground was broken in the early summer of 1958 and the congregation moved in, for the first service in the new church on March 15. The current membership consists of 150 families.

★ ★ ★

The altar wall of the sanctuary is of the same red brick as the exterior; the side walls of cement block are painted off-white.

The six Sunday School rooms on the first and second levels are painted off-white, green and yellow.

The Sunday School has an enrollment of 150, and about 20 young people are active in the youth group.

The new building, of split-level construction, provides seating capacity for 170 in the sanctuary.

★ ★ ★

Russell Meyer, chairman of the building committee, estimated the cost of the building to be near $100,000.

Sunday School is held during the 10 a. m. worship period. An active women's group, choir and Altar Society are also a part of the life of the church.

Education Day to Be Observed

Baptist Training School President to Speak at Bethany Tomorrow

Bethany Baptist Church will join with other American Baptist Convention churches in observing Education Day tomorrow.

American Baptists have more than 60 schools, colleges, universities and seminaries related to them, including Hillsdale College and Kalamazoo College in Michigan.

They are presently in a program of raising $7,800,000 during the next three years.

One of the national sponsors of the program, Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor, is a member of the committee on Christian Higher Education.

Guest speaker Sunday will be Miss Pearl Rosser, newly installed president of Baptist Missionary Training School in Chicago. "What We Sow Today We Reap Tomorrow" will be her subject.

A coffee hour will fellow the second service.

Terry LaFountain will assist the pastor at 8:45 a. m. and Betty Douglas at 11 a. m.

Exiled Archbishop Slated to Speak at St. Michael's

The Most Rev. Gaetano Pollio, exiled archbishop of Kaefing, China, will speak at a special hour Sunday at St. Michael Church. The service will begin at 2 p. m.

On leave from the SS. Peter and Paul missionary headquarters in Rome, the archbishop is currently on a speaking tour in the Detroit diocese.

★ ★ ★

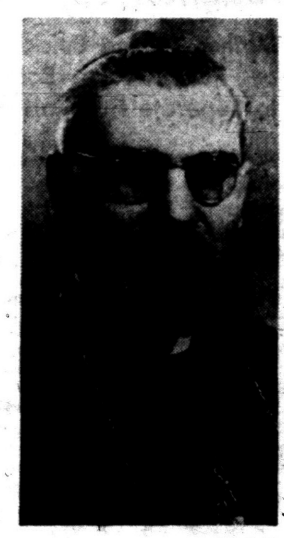

Often referred to as "the prisoner in cell 4," Archbishop Pollio endured the horrors of Red China imprisonment under the charges of being an "imperialistic spy."

After several trials he was finally exiled from China forever at the indulgence of the governor's court.

The holy hour will be conducted by the several priests of the SS. Peter and Paul Order who are accompanying the archbishop.

For the convenience of Italian-speaking people, confessions will be heard both in Italian and English after the devotions by the missionary priests.

A reception and brief program will be held in honor of the visiting clergy at the Italian-American Club at 60 N. Tilden Ave., later in the afternoon.

MOST REV. GAETANO POLLIO

Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it.

★ ★ ★

Young People Serving Sunday

Waterford Township Sixth Graders to Sing at Columbia Baptist

Young people of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church will serve in various services Sunday in the observance of youth week.

Harold Tate will act as youth training director; Albert Monroe, assistant director; and Beth Partain, general secretary; Sunday ushers will be James Wheatley, Bill Bone, Harvey Wilson, Terry Wilson and Albert Monroe.

Young people of Columbia will attend a meeting of the Clinton River Baptist Association at Madison Heights Baptist Church tonight.

At 7:30 p. m. Sunday the Waterford Elementary Schools' Glee Club will sing. It is composed of sixth grade pupils of the township.

The Rev. Marion F. Boyd's sermon tomorrow morning will be on "What Is Life" and "God's Poems" will be the topic of his evening sermon.

Body of Saint on Venice Trip

Pope Pius X, in Death, Keeps Promise Made Over 50 Years Ago

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Giuseppe Sarto, once the patriarch of Venice, today keeps a promise made half a century ago to return to his beloved city of canals.

He returns in death as the sainted Pope Pius X of the Roman Catholic Church.

His corpse, clothed in papal robes and wearing a silver mask, will travel out of the Vatican's own railroad station.

The body of Saint Pius X will lie in its artistic crystal casket, placed in a railroad coach that has been transformed into a chapel.

★ ★ ★

It will be accompanied by canons of St. Peter's Basilica, to which it eventually will be returned after the historic trip to Venice.

Before the train pulls out of the Vatican station Pope John XXIII will board the chapel coach to pray before the body of his sainted predecessor.

★ ★ ★

An ovation awaits the dead pontiff upon his arrival in Venice Sunday. The return of their former patriarch, even though in death and for only a brief period, has been eagerly sought by the Venetians ever since the pontiff was beautified and later canonized on May 30, 1954.

When Giuseppe Cardinal Sarto left Venice in 1903 to attend a papal conclave he assured his parishioners that he would return quickly.

None was more surprised than he when the conclave elected him Pope. He never returned to Venice.

He became known as the "Papa Santo" — the saintly Pope. Saddened by the outbreak of World War I, he died Aug. 20, 1914, the day the German army occupied Brussels.

★ ★ ★

Pope John XXIII, after he has briefly prayed before the body of St. Pius X will leave the coach and take his place on a temporary throne on the station platform.

Then, the special train will pull out of the station. It will make brief halts at Florence and Bologna and will arrive at Venice early Sunday.

No Trace Found of Missing Women

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Searchers have failed to find any trace of two local women missing since last Wednesday night.

Juanita Ferguson, 50, and Virginia Conley, 54, were last seen at a restaurant near Sutton, 72 miles south of here. They were coming home from a garden club meeting at Beckley.

★ ★ ★

Scores of volunteers and state troopers searched all roads between Beckley and Clarksburg Friday. Two helicopters also were used.

Some relatives feared they had been kidnaped, but there was nothing to indicate it.

Mrs. Ferguson is active in Clarksburg civic affairs and is head of the synodical of the First Presbyterian Church. She has three children.

★ ★ ★

E. G. Conley, husband of the other woman, said his wife had been especially anxious to return home Wednesday night.

Girls Will Never Know Whom He Was Flattering

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "You are very cute, but I am afraid I'll have to take all the money," said the note addressed to a bank teller.

But none of the girls at Bank of America's famed Powell & Market cable car corner knows who was being flattered.

The writer got cold feet and fled, leaving the note on the floor. A bank guard found it there.

Maj. de Seversky Has Heart Spasm

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Maj. Alexander de Seversky is a heart patient here after over-exerting himself on a Bahamas outing.

"I was fishing and swimming, and caught a 150-pound shark," the 64-year-old aviation authority said at a hospital. His doctor said De Seversky suffered a heart spasm and pulled a rib.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. De Seversky also was hospitalized—for observation. She recently had been a hospital patient elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

The De Seversky's were flown Friday to Miami from Andros Island in a U.S. Air Force plane sent from Palm Beach Air Force Base. They had been staying at a lighthouse on Andros, about 150 miles southeast of Miami.

In 1957, 4,250,000 automobiles were scrapped. According to 1956 figures, the average age of a scrapped car is 11.1 years. Live better by far with a brand new car.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

You'd Live Longer

Want a Year Off?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — How would you like to take a year off from your job and get paid to loaf or study?

A labor expert says that would "cut down the toll of pressure which makes widows of half of the nation's women."

★ ★ ★

The idea was advanced in an interview by Arthur Carstens, administrator of labor programs for the Institute of Industrial Relations at University of California at Los Angeles.

Leisure, says Carstens, should be distributed throughout a person's life — not concentrated in his youth and old age.

He proposes a system in which a person would be required to take off one year in every five or seven and spend the time in leisure or in study.

★ ★ ★

"My proposal would be designed to encourage continuing education and moves from one type of work to another," Carstens says.

He suggests that the worker's salary during his year off be paid half by the state and half by his employer.

Who would take up the slack left by these sabbaticals?

Carstens suggests that people of retirment age be retained and that young people get into the labor market earlier. He calls it "borrowed time."

★ ★ ★

Carstens says:

"We have bribed the old people with pensions to stay out of our way and have forced the young people out of the work market by keeping them in schools. We have packed all of a person's work into the middle third of his life."

Of the enforced retirment of older persons, Carstens asks:

"How do you tell a man when to stop thinking?"

Expect Bill Seeking State Port Authority

LANSING (UPI)—Legislation is expected in the House next week asking for a state port authority organization to be put under the Waterways Commission. It would handle distribution of federal funds in preparation for opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Rep. Edward Jeffries (D-Detroit) said that a bill was being drafted to create this state authority to permit coordination in planning for the seaway.

"It will be cheaper to ship goods directly from the tip of the Thumb area to overseas ports than to send them by land conveyance to Toledo," Jeffries said, "and water transportation to overseas markets from Michigan is the coming thing. Such a state authority will plan for ports and guide them. It won't dictate but will guide."

Deficiency Sum Asked

LANSING (AP) — The Senate has received a deficiency appropriation bill calling for 2½ million dollars with one million to go to the Crippled Children's Commission. The balance would be split among public safety and defense, game and fish protection, aeronautics, waterways, trunklines and veterans programs.

GOP Is Advised to Alter Name If Tenets Shifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Committee on Program and Progress was advised today to change the name of the Republican party if it discards GOP dogmas.

★ ★ ★

The advice was given to the committee by an old-guard congressman, Rep. Ben F. Jensen of Iowa, in response to a request for his observations on how to perk up the party.

"What, in your opinion, are the chief dogmas we must discard?" Jensen was asked.

"We have already discarded too many Republican dogmas," Jensen replied. "While those dogmas were operating, we built here the greatest nation on earth. We must recapture many of those lost Republican dogmas."

★ ★ ★

"If the basic dogmas on which the Republican party was built are discarded," Jensen added, "it would no longer be the Republican party and it ought to get a new name."

Widow Starves Daughter, 33

Mother Talking Suicide as Police Take Both to Separate Hospitals

BOSTON (AP) — A widow and her daughter were held at separate hospitals today after a priest and police discovered them in a cluttered, foodless apartment.

★ ★ ★

The mother had threatened suicide. Her emaciated 33-year-old daughter had been held prisoner in her own home, police said, for 16 years.

Police Lt. Chester A. Henchey said the situation was discovered by the Rev. Kenneth Murphy, a Catholic priest, who operates Rescue Inc., a nonsectarian service for potential suicides.

★ ★ ★

Father Murphy accompanied by police went to the home of Catherine Stearns, 59, Friday night after neighbors said she had threatened suicide. After taking Mrs. Stearns in hand, police searched for half an hour before they found her daughter, Mary, 33, under a pile of debris and blankets.

Henchey said the daughter was in such a wild state she had to be tied. She was calmed and taken to City Hospital where doctors began the process of building her up. The mother was taken to State Hospital.

A doctor said the daughter's thighs were "no thicker than a man's wrist." She weighed less than 60 pounds.

Father Murphy said neighbors told him Mrs. Stearns "used to sit from 7 in the morning until late in the afternoon on the doorstep muttering that she was going to commit suicide and that something terrible had happened to her daughter eating away at her own flesh."

The last reference, possible a reference to the daughter's wasting away, was not explained.

Republicans Will Issue Free Monthly Magazine

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee plans to publish 14 editions of a new monthly magazine between now and the 1960 election.

★ ★ ★

The magazine will be distributed free to 500,000 party workers and contributors, retiring GOP Chairman Meade Alcorn said Friday. The cost is guessed at $266,000.

The committee also is considering a permanent magazine, like the Democrats' "Democratic Digest," published by a separate corporation and sold to subscribers.

Despite Tax Cut, Britons Still Pay More Than We

WASHINGTON (AP)—The British income tax, by American standards, hits hard at the man in the street but gives a big break to the investor, the speculator and the gambler.

Even after the tax cut announced last Tuesday, the average Englishman will pay considerably more than his American cousin.

The investor or speculator, however, will retain complete freedom from taxes on profits made in the stock market or through real estate deals. And the gambler will continue to pay no tax on his winnings.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, most Englishmen who collect dividends on stocks will—as in the past—pay little or no tax on these.

Dividends, capital gains and gambling winnings are, of course, taxed in the United States.

Why haven't the British tapped these revenue sources?

In the case of dividends, the English take the position that a corporation — by paying income and profits taxes—in effect pays a dividend tax on behalf of its shareholders. To tax shareholders directly, they believe, would be unfair double taxation.

Many American stockholders take the same view and have agitated persistently, but without much success, for a similar concession.

As for capital gains and gambling winnings, these were not classed as taxable income under British tax law. The Labor party has long demanded they be taxed but hasn't mustered the votes to do so.

The New British tax change, which will go into effect at midyear, will lower the standard income tax rate to 38¾ per cent from 42½ per cent. Here's how the standard rate system works:

★ ★ ★

While an American taxpayer claims exemptions and deductions to lower his taxable income, the Englishman claims "reliefs" from the standard rate. He gets one relief of $336 for himself and a second for the same amount if he's married. He also can claim a relief of $238 for each of his dependents and can deduct modest amounts for insurance premiums he pays.

On the first $1,008 of income, he is taxed at rates far below the standard levy.

Take the case of a married man with two children who is paid $5,600 a year. An American who claims the standard deduction will pay an income tax of about $528. An Englishman in the same situation will pay about $853 under the new rate. The cut will save him about $43.

Incidentally, $5,600 is pretty good pay in England. A schoolteacher or pharmacist, for example, might make about $2,000.

Now let's give these married men a pay raise, to $9,020 a year. The American will then pay about $1,398 in taxes while the Britisher will pay $3,428. Under the old British rate, the tax would have ben about $182 higher.

★ ★ ★

British income taxes are markedly higher than U.S. levies at what an American would consider middle income levels. They also hit harder at married couples because, in England, you can't claim the tax-cutting advantage of splitting incomes on a joint return.

The British also have sales taxes —comparable to U.S. excise taxes —but these are much higher than here. The tax on a new auto, for example, is 60 per cent compared with 10 per cent in the United States.

Britain is lowering the sales tax on all luxuries except autos to 50 per cent from 60 per cent. Cameras, radios and jewelry are included in this category. In the United States, they carry an excise tax of 10 per cent.

Incidentally, the British pay a national gasoline tax of 35 cents a gallon compared with 3 cents here.

The British tax cuts drew this barb Friday from Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) during hearings by the Senate Appropriations Committee on a request by President Eisenhower for 225 million dollars for loans to underceveloped countries abroad:

★ ★ ★

"It makes me wonder why the American taxpayers don't march on Washington. We give lavishly to these people and they cut their taxes and balance their budgets." He added the United States will have a deficit of close to 13 billion dollars this fiscal year.

Great Britain owes the United States more than 4½ billion dollars on loans made in previous years.

The State Department said this week Great Britain is not now receiving any economic help from the United States. As is true with other U.S. allies in Europe and elsewhere, she is getting military assistance in undisclosed amounts.

Killer Circus Elephant to Be Publicly Executed

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Dorothy the doomed circus elephant will give her last performance Sunday. She is to be executed before scores of curious onlookers.

Officials of the Carson and Barnes Circus say Dorothy is too dangerous to let live. She has killed one trainer and injured another by crushing them under her head.

★ ★ ★

Last November near Port Arthur, Tex., she killed James Lloyd, 28, of New York, a trainer with Hagen Bros. Circus. Then two weeks ago she flipped over on Richard Shipley, elephant superintendent for Carson and Barnes.

Dorothy's speciality is a headstand on a barrel. She has performed before countless thousands in circus tents across the nation.

This talent was turned on Lloyd and Shipley.

After Dorothy did the headstand on Lloyd in Texas, she was sold to Carson and Barnes for $5,000.

Joe Sullivan, circus spokesman, said his firm hoped to rehabilitate Dorothy and put her back in the ring. For three months the big 25-year-old beast behaved, he said.

Then two weeks ago she turned on Shipley at the circus' winter quarters here.

Shipley, who was employed only recently, knelt to adjust a leg band while on an inspection tour of the elephant barn.

Dorothy went into a nosedive, pinning the trainer. Freddie Logan, a handler, tried vainly to drive her away. Then he gave the signal for the end of her act and she rolled clear.

★ ★ ★

Shipley was hospitalized with a broken collar bone and broken ribs.

Sullivan said the latest attack convinced the circus that Dorothy cannot be rehabilitated.

State highway patrolman Ed Vandergriff agreed to kill Dorothy with a deer rifle. Circus officials said the execution will be open to the public.

Roller Coaster Fall Kills Oregon Youth

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A teenage boy pitched out of a roller coaster car head-first here Friday night. The car then rolled over the youth, killing him outright.

Gary Seekins, 16, Orchards, Wash., died 50 feet in the air, on a section of elevated track at Jantzen Beach Amusement Park.

Sheriff's Deputy Jim Purcell said the high school student was riding in a front seat, and toppled onto the track as the car began a downward ride.

Purcell said Eryll Eugene Snow, 17, also of Orchards, also was riding in the front seat.

Deputies quoted Snow as saying he tried without success to grab Seekins.

Autobiography Relates Story of AP's Cooper

By DON WHITEHEAD

"Kent Cooper and The Associated Press," an autobiography published Monday by Random House. It was written by Kent Cooper, former general manager and executive director, at the request of AP's board of directors. He stipulated that all royalties go to AP.

It is the fascinating backstage story of a man who fought to break the European news monopolies which fed propaganda-tainted news to America; who spread AP operations around the world with only one iron-clad rule for reporters—the news must be truthful and unbiased; who linked the great and small newspapers of America by transcontinental wires; who established one of the earliest pension plans for his employes; who gambled his career on th success of a crazy, costly scheme for sending photographs by wire; and who turned a deaf ear on suppression of news—even when the request came from a President of the United States.

Cooper was 79 last March. He began newspaper work in his native Indiana in the mid-1890s and joined the AP as a traveling inspector in 1910.

Cooper established the traffic department and became its first chief. He was named an assistant general manager in 1920; became general manager in 1925, and held that post until 1948.

Holloway Ready Again

LANSING (AP)—Hugh H. Holloway of Sault Ste. Marie says he is ready to run for state superintendent of public instruction again if the Republican Party chooses him. Holloway, superintendent of schools at the Soo, was defeated for the state's top education post by Democrat Lynn M. Bartlett in Monday's election.

Nehru Raps Pakistan for Shooting of Jet

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today called the shooting down of an Indian air force bomber by a Pakistani jet fighter "most serious and distressing."

Several members of Parliment sought an immediate discussion of the incident, but Nehru stalled them off by saying Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon would make a statement later.

★ ★ ★

The Pakistan air force admitted shooting down the Indian twinengine Canberra jet bomber Friday. The two crewmen survived, but suffered broken legs.

Pakistan said the bomber was brought down about40 miles south of Pakistan's army headquarters at Rawalpindi after failing to obey an order to land.

★ ★ ★

SELLING SCOUTING AND COOKIES

J. L. VOORHEES

When Girl Scouts go selling cookies door-to-door they sell them for Camp Funds.

In most of the houses they don't just give them the money, they want to know where the money they pay is going, and what kind of group the Girl Scouts are. They ask more and more questions for they are interested.

M. E. SIPLE

The question asked most often is: "Where does the money for the cookies go?" The answer is: "We are selling Girl Scout Camping."

Icebreaker Will Open St. Marys in 3-4 Days

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The icebreaker Mackinac is scheduled to arrive in the St. Marys River in three or four days followed by the first Great Lakes vessel of the season, the Buckeye.

★ ★ ★

Cmdr. E. J. Bodenlos of the Coast Guard said yesterday he had received word from the Cleveland ice conference that the Mackinac is on her way across Lake Superior and the Buckeye is to follow immediately.

The dispatch also reported boats would be setting out from Duluth April 15, and Whitefish Bay would have a shipping route cleared by April 16.

The Buckeye will head for the Algoma Steel Corp. docks.

First ship through last year arrived on April 15.

All Those Hit Records and He Can't Even Sing

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I can't sing but I love to," Tab Hunter said.

He clumsily spooned his soup with his left hand because his right was in a sling. But when he spoke, the young TV, movie and recording star flashed me a look of absolute honesty. He can't sing — so he's a top record-seller. And he'll sing a duet with Jane Powell when she recreates the Judy Garland classic, "Meet Me in St. Louis," in a CBS two-hour TV spec April 26.

WILSON

"You admit you can't sing" I asked him.

"I can't" he nodded vigorously. "But when you stand in a recording booth and the orchestra starts, the music pulls something out of you. If it's a tender ballad, I close my eyes and try...

"I can't describe it, because musically I'm so square!" Tab returned comfortably to his soup.

HUNTER

And there you have a picture of a brilliant TV and movie success, darling of the teen-agers, well-liked by adults, who is, as they say nowadays, "basically insecure." He used the expression himself, having dinner and nursing the right arm that he dislocated at his home in Hollywood when he flung some garden hose aside as he rushed to answer a phone. He was describing how, at times, he became very, very impatients with the autograph fans.

"You're insecure enough," he said, "and then they tell you how they feel about you if you hesitate about signing.

"I hate the type of person who runs up and grabs your arm and swings you around and says 'SIGN THIS!'

★ ★ ★

"One day I was driving along in Hollywood late for an appointment when a girl pulled alongside me. She was cute, too, and had about four girl friends. She leaned out of her car and said, 'Sign this.' I said I didn't have time to stop. She said, 'You owe it to us to sign, because if it weren't for us, you wouldn't be working.'

"I said '——, I don't owe you anything!' and drove away."

Tab seems unimpressed by himself. Thrust into top movie roles because of his acting success on TV, he had a disappointment or two. In "Damn Yankees," he worked furiously perfecting a dance number with Gwen Verdon who coached him ever so patiently and made him very proud.

"It was my big moment — and they cut most of it out," he confessed.

He and George Abbott just didn't hit it off. And Abbott directed the movie.

"But how can you argue with success?" reasoned Tab. "Look at all the hits he's had!"

EARL'S PEARLS: Definition of a monologue: When a woman has a discussion with her husband.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A Hollywood starlet is a girl who goes job-hunting in a mink stole... That's earl, brother.

R. T. McElvenny Succeeds Tuttle

Elected President of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

DETROIT (AP) — Ralph T. McElvenny has been elected president of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. as successor to the late Henry Tuttle.

McElvenny, former Michigan Consolidated board chairman, will continue as president of the parent American Natural Gas Co. and as president of two other American Natural subsidiaries, the Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. and American Louisiana Pipe Line Co.

Michigan Consolidated is the largest of several subsidiaries of American Natural.

McElvenny, 52, had been chairman and chief executive officer of Michigan Consolidated since 1954. In choosing McElvenny, directors eliminated the office of chairman, consolidating it with the presidency.

McElvenny, former assistant director of the Securities Exchange Commission in Washington, joined American Natural in 1945 as financial vice president. He was elected a vice president of Michigan Consolidated in 1948.

★ ★ ★

Wilbur H. Mack, executive vice president and director of the Michigan Wisconsin and American Louisiana Pipe Line companies, was elected to the Michigan Consolidated Board of Directors to fill the vacancy left by Tuttle's death.

Churchill to Visit Ike at White House May 5

AUGUST, Ga. (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill will be President Eisenhower's guest in Washington for three days starting May 5.

Plans for the informal visit of the former Prime Minister of Britain were announced today at the President's vacation headquarters.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Churchill, a personal friend of Eisenhower since World War II days, will go to the British embassy in Washington after the three-day White House visit. He plans to spend the night of May 7 at the embassy.

Resolve Would Open Senate Payroll Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — Names and salaries of all Senate employes would be published under a resolution introduced by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

"Wherever taxpayers' money is being spent, the taxpayers have a right to know by whom, and for what. The only exception to that right that occurs to me is where national security is involved."

The move to make payrolls public stems from a series of recent disclosures of nepotism in Congress—the hiring of relatives.

Senate OKs Jobless Probe

Sen. Johnson's Bill Gets Unanimous Vote, House Approval Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has swung behind Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson's proposal to establish an 11-man commission to investigate unemployment. The vote was unanimous.

Johnson made his proposal Wednesday at a mass AFL-CIO rally here aimed at focusing attention on unemployment. The jobless total still tops four million in spite of improvements during March.

Johnson's close liaison with fellow-Texan Sam Rayburn, Democratic speaker of the House, indicates similar House approval. And it probably would be embarrassing for President Eisenhower to veto such a bill.

★ ★ ★

Johnson told the Senate his measure "seeks to bring before the Congress and public at the earliest possible moment the facts of unemployment. And since we must act upon those facts, there should be as little delay as possible in bringing them forth."

Johnson's resolution calls for three of the commission's 11 members to be named by the House speaker, three by the president of the Senate (Vice President Richard M. Nixon) and five by President Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

It directs the commission t go to centers of high unemployment, study conditions, and report back to Congress within two months.

"I look upon it as a prelude to action," Johnson said, rather than as "merely another 'study group.'"

Bounty on Wolves Passe, House Agrees

LANSING (UPI)—A House-approved bill to remove the bounty on wolves was advanced in the Senate yesterday after a 74-year-old lawmaker, with a twinkle in his eye, said "They're only a few grand old wolvse left."

"Why pay bounties," said Sen. Charles T. Prescott (R-Prescott), chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee. "Little Red Riding Hood doesn't visit grandmother's anymore."

Pontiac Club Hosts State Coin Collectors

The Pontiac Coin Club, sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Dept., is host to the Michigan State Numismatic Society with a two-day show today and Sunday.

It will be held at the Federal Savings and Loan building, 761 W. Huron St.

According to club secretary Albert Wilson, one million dollars in rare coins will be on display, some dating back 2,000 years.

The show will run from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Saturday, and from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Sunday.

Ribbon awards, including a grand award, will be given out.

Sen. Kennedy in Wisconsin

Denies He Will Enter April Primary There; Is on Speaking Tour

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) came to this center of Wisconsin Democratic strength today for a meeting with party people, still insisting he was not laying the groundwork for possible entry in next April's state presidential primary.

It was the third day of a Wisconsin tour and while Kennedy has repeatedly insisted he is not a candidate for the Democratic nomination, state party people see in his visit an indication he will make the run. The Massachusetts Senator winds up the tour with an address at Appleton tonight.

More than 700 persons crowded into a dinner meeting at which Kennedy spoke at Janesville Friday night honoring Rep. Gerald Flynn (D-Wis).

At the meeting, Kennedy predicted that a strong bill curbing labor and management abuses would be passed by the Senate this month.

At Beloit College, Kennedy said "a Democratic candidate does need the support of labor but here I mean the working men and women, not necessarily the political bosses behind the desks."

He remarked that Catholicism was no hindrance in a race for the presidency, adding "It has not been a hindrance to my political career to date."

Don't Try to Fool Them

By RAY HENRY

(Editor's Note: This is the third of three columns explaining the rules on how much income a person can have and still get social security.)

You should immediately notify your social security office if you're getting payments and you expect your earnings to go beyond the allowable limits.

Follow this rule: Tell the office about your earnings if they go above $100 a month and it appears that they'll total more than $1,200 a year.

Any social security office will give you some special post cards for this purpose. But, you can make your report in a letter, if you prefer.

After you make the report, your payments will be stopped. At the same time, you'll be sent instructions on when and how your payments may be started again.

PAYMENTS WITHHELD

Thus, your payments will be withheld while you're still working and earning money. What if you don't report that you expect your earnings to go above the limit? Chances are your social Security office will find out—eventually — that you received more payments than you should have.

★ ★ ★

Then, you'll have to refund some of your checks or have them withheld later when you may not be working.

The social security office has a number of ways to make sure you don't get more checks than are due you. And, it can penalize you for getting them.

For example: Suppose you collected social security checks for every month last year, but you shouldn't have because your earnings were over the allowable limits. It may take a little time, but the social security people will find out what you've done.

Trio Gets $250,000 in Krupp Jewels

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Three gunmen robbed Vera Krupp, ex-wife of German industrialist Alfred Krupp, of jewelry valued at $250,000 Friday night, the sheriff's office reported.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Krupp, about 32, told investigators the trio burst into her Spring Mountain ranch home, bound her with wire and handcuffed ranch worker Harold Brotherson. One of the gunmen, who wore a handkerchief over his face, addressed her by her first name, she said.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said Mrs. Krupp and Brotherson managed to struggle free of their bonds about two hours after the robbers drove away in a late model car.

Would Grant Oil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ernest Gruening (D-Alaska) today proposed legislation to grant oil and gas rights to Alaska homesteaders who occupied their land prior to the Kenai oil strike.

One million trucks in the United States are twelve years old or more. Live better by far with a brand new car.

To Base B52s at Wurtsmith by Mid-1960

OSCODA (AP)—The 40th Air Division of the Strategic Air Command will be activated at Wurtsmith Air Force Base here in July to make preparations for the arrival of a wing of B52 jet bombers and KC135 tankers in mid-1960.

★ ★ ★

The activation was announced here by Lt. Col. C. Hunter Smith and in Washington by Rep. Elfred Cederberg (R-Mich). Neither disclosed how many men or planes eventually will be involved.

The initial 40th Division headquarters will be composed of 10 officers, 12 airmen and three civilians. It will be under the Second Air Force at Barksdale Field, La.

★ ★ ★

The air wing to be located here will be the 4026th.

Wurtsmith and Kinross Air Force Base near Sault Ste. Marie, both now jet fighter bases, are being expanded to handle giant jet bombers capable of delivering hydrogen or atomic bombs.

Driver's License Plan

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County officials have suggested that every person driving a car in Michigan be required to display his operator's license — perhaps in a plastic envelope attached to the windshield. The proposal will be presented to state officials at a meeting in Lansing next week.

Dave Campanella Put on Probation

NEW YORK (AP)—David Campanella, 15-year-old stepson of famed catcher Roy Campanella, was placed on probation today for an indefinite period of years for breaking into a Queens drug store last February.

Domestic Relations Court Judge Sylvia Liese said the youth will have to attend a guidance clinic under probation supervision.

She said that David had admitted breaking open the door of the drug store on a dare but had denied under oath stealing anything.

"And I believe him," the judge said.

Detroit Building Soars

DETROIT (AP) — Contracts for construction of residential buildings in Metropolitan Detroit were up to 49 per cent in February, the F. W. Dodge Corp., reports. The construction news and marketing specialists said the dollar volume amounted to more than 14 million dollars.

CAN YOU WEAR CONTACT LENSES?

Here Are Important Facts About Kindy Contact Lenses!

"ARE CONTACT LENSES FOR ME?"

Yes, almost everyone can wear Kindy contact lenses. Our contact lens specialist carefully considers each case; if you can't wear contact lenses, you'll be told the truth. Our 50-year reputation for honesty and integrity is your protection.

"HOW LONG CAN I WEAR THEM?"

"ARE CONTACT LENSES EXPENSIVE?"

No. Although the initial investment is greater than glasses, the prescription rarely, if ever, changes. The cost per year is very reasonable when spread over the life of the lenses.

"ARE CONTACT LENSES INVISIBLE?"

Absolutely. No one will know you are wearing contact lenses.

Actual Size

"WHY SHOULD I CONSIDER KINDY CONTACT LENSES?"

We believe Kindy contact lenses to be the finest quality lenses available today. Their new "three-curve" interior design permits perfect contour fitting for maximum comfort.

"WHO CAN WEAR CONTACT LENSES?"

Men, women and children are wearing contact lenses for all purposes. For social appearance, for sports, for special visual problems. You can try them, privately, before you decide! Come in for a full demonstration or send the coupon below for advance information.

Your Neighbor's House

Messings Build on City Lot

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

In these days of half acre plots in Suburbia, a lot only 40 by 105 feet seems too small for a house. But the Sam Messings of Menominee road in Pontiac proved that it isn't. Bateman and Kampsen built them a five-room house that is wholly adequate for their needs.

★ ★ ★

For years the Messings lived in a terrace house. For that reason they appreciate even more their own yard.

★ ★ ★

Forty years ago the Messings came to America from Vienna on their honeymoon. They stayed a while in New York City. Mrs. Messing had a brother here in Pontiac which prompted their move farther west. They had two daughters, born in the East, who grew up in Pontiac. Both are now married and live away.

★ ★ ★

The little front vestibule is a step below the living room. It has the usual coat closet. Doors throughout the house are flush birch.

★ ★ ★

Walls in the living room are light gray. The cove ceiling is white. Carpeting is gray tweed. Semi sheer curtains are an off white.

★ ★ ★

The large sectional sofa is honey color with a silver thread in it. One chair is red, another green.

Tables are blond wood. The coffee table is especially interesting. Glass tops the mosaic design which is a gold star spray on a white background.

★ ★ ★

In a little alcove behind the vestibule an unusual picture hangs on the wall. There are two similar ones in the dining room. All are Gobelin work. Wool is used as in needlepoint, but the stitches are straight up and down instead of slanting. Mrs. Messing made these tapestry-like pictures before she came to this country.

★ ★ ★

The kitchen which opens off this little alcove is a model of modern efficiency. There is one exception. Mrs. Messing makes coffee in a new automatic brewer. Mr. Messing swears by an old fashioned percolator.

Cupboards, counter tops and walls are yellow. The spatter print linoleum has a beige background. On the soffit the paper has the same colors as the linoleum. Cupboard doors are natural birch. There is a green and white striped ruffle on the window.

The metal framed breakfast set is aqua with gold stars in the design. Fold-up stove units leave one whole counter free for work space. The wall oven has French doors.

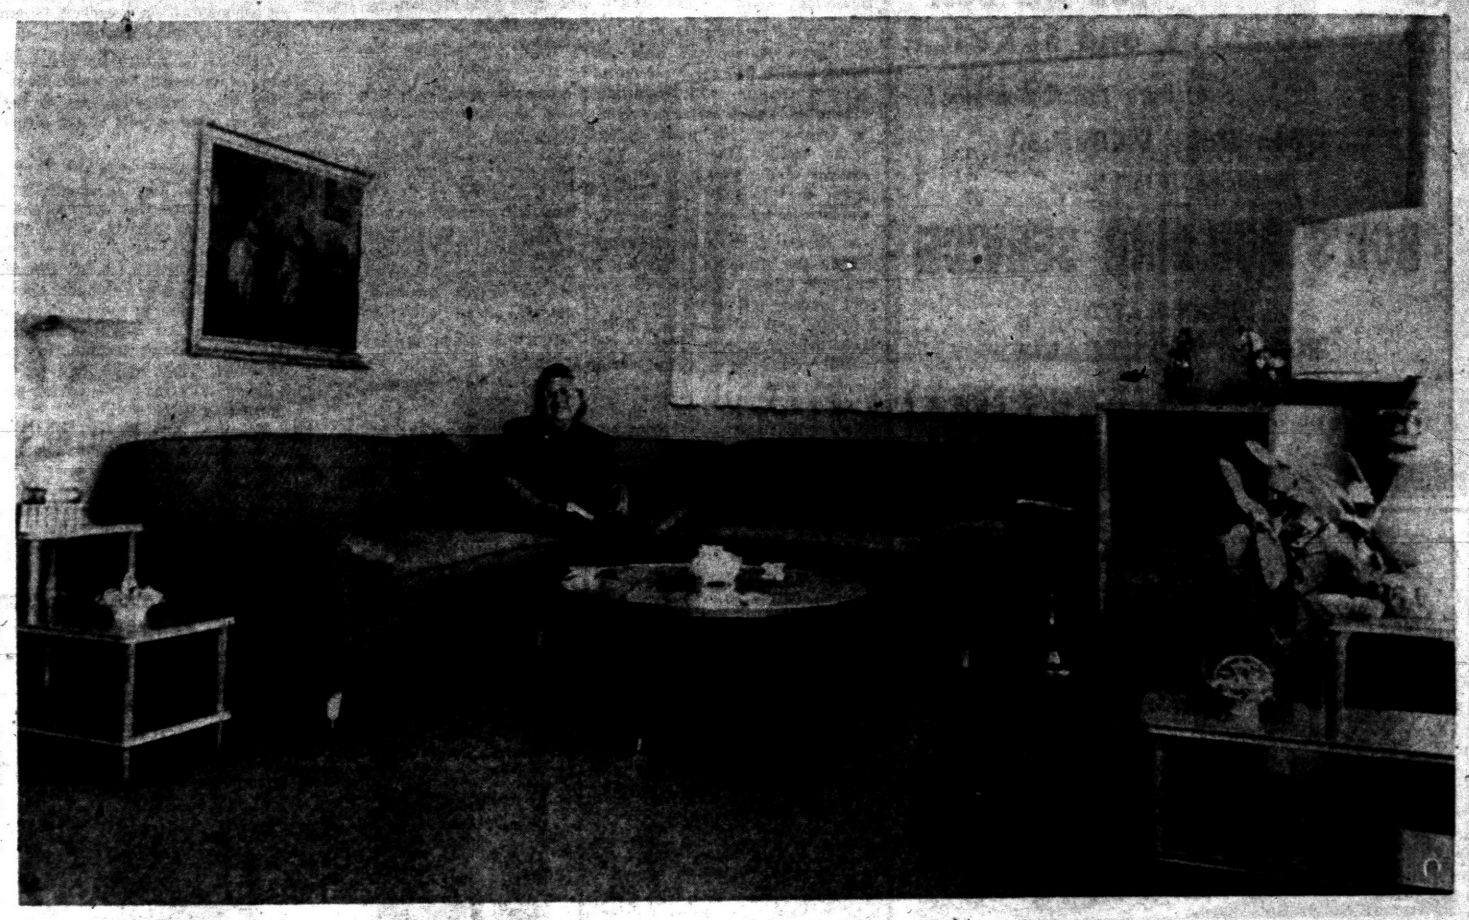

The first of the three bedrooms is used as a den. Here the walls are rose color. Draperies have a brown and rose stripe. The green sofa is placed for best viewing of the television set. The desk is placed under the windows.

The second bedroom the Messings have furnished as a dining room. Tailored curtains are pulled back to each side of the high windows. The room size rug is flowered. There are two more Gobelin pictures on these walls. Furniture is birch.

Soft green walls set the color scheme for the largest bedroom. The curtains which are oyster white match those in the dining room. Bedroom furniture is blond mahogany. The bedspread is honey color satin.

The Messings have been enjoying their new home since the first of last October.

COZY CORNER—Mrs. Messing relaxes comfortably on the large corner sectional sofa. The Messings have new furniture to fit into their new home. Walls and carpeting are gray; the curtains are off-white. The sofa is upholstered in a honey colored fabric with a gold thread in it. Tables are blond wood. The mosaic coffee table has a glass top.

Today's Homes Give More Dollar Value

CHICAGO (UPI) — The average home buyer's dream house has a deluxe bathroom with a built-in dressing table and mirrored walls and a kitchen equipped with the newest labor-saving devices.

But, housing authorities and builders agreed, most couples easily adjust their dreams to economic realities. The compromise offers far more value for the money than did new homes of 10 to 15 years ago, said James C. Moreland, difrector of the Federal Housing Authority office here.

The average home is a brick veneer and frame building, with three bedrooms and one-and-a-half bathrooms. It is a split level or ranch type, set in a yard wider and shallower than 15 years ago.

It has at least 50 per cent more closet space, Moreland said, and considerably larger bedrooms. Moreland, a home builder since 1918 until he took his present position five years ago, said builders used to figure on 120 square feet for the master bedroom. Now, he said, that figure is the minimum for any bedroom.

Most new homes have a "family room" in the basement and better use of space which always has been available. The kitchen has progressed from a minimum of cabinet space to built-in cabinets, refrigerators, and ovens, and double sinks.

Moreland said most moderately-priced homes include refrigerators and stoves in the purchase price, and one at $17,500 also provided a washing machine and dryer.

The living-dining room which was widespread immediately after World War II is giving way to specific "dining areas," usually the short leg of an L-shaped living room. Separate dining rooms seldom are found in homes selling for less than $35,000.

BETTER MATERIALS

Better construtcion materials also add up to a more comfortable home, Moreland said. Insulation, rarely found 25 years ago, now is commonplace, he said. Thermopane windows provide added comfort, and the average home can be equipped for air-conditioning during construction for $1,200 to $1,800 additional cost.

Bathroom fixtures are handsomer and more efficient. Bathroom and kitchen walls are papered with waterproof material, easeir to clean and more pleasing to the eye. Plastic tiles allow greater variety in design and color.

Lighting has been improved, said James L. Smith, chief underwriter for the FHA Chicago office. An equal amount of candle power is provided with less heat. The click of a light switch being turned on has been replaced by the silent mercury switch, cut in price in recent years from more than $4 to less than 80 cents.

Hard-to-clean frills are missing in modern homes. Builders applaud the disappearance of the once omnipresent picture window.

"It used to be you hardly could sell a house without a picture window, even if it overlooked the back alley," said Harry B. Carter, chief architect in the Chicago FHA office. "People are more intelligent about that now."

Nothing New Under Sun? Roofing Is Improved

The saying "there's nothing new under the sun" may still apply to many things, but it doesn't apply to roofs, according to roofing experts at Allied Chemical's Barrett Building Materials Division. Barrett, which has been helping homeowners and businessmen fight off the elements since 1854, says there are many new developments under the sun (and rain, too) as far as roofing is concerned. For instance:

—Dark colors are giving way to lighter shades on residential roofs, with snow-white shingles a particular favorite of new homeowners. These light colors not only reflect the taste of modern homeowners but also reflect the rays of the sun better and keep the house cooler in the summer.

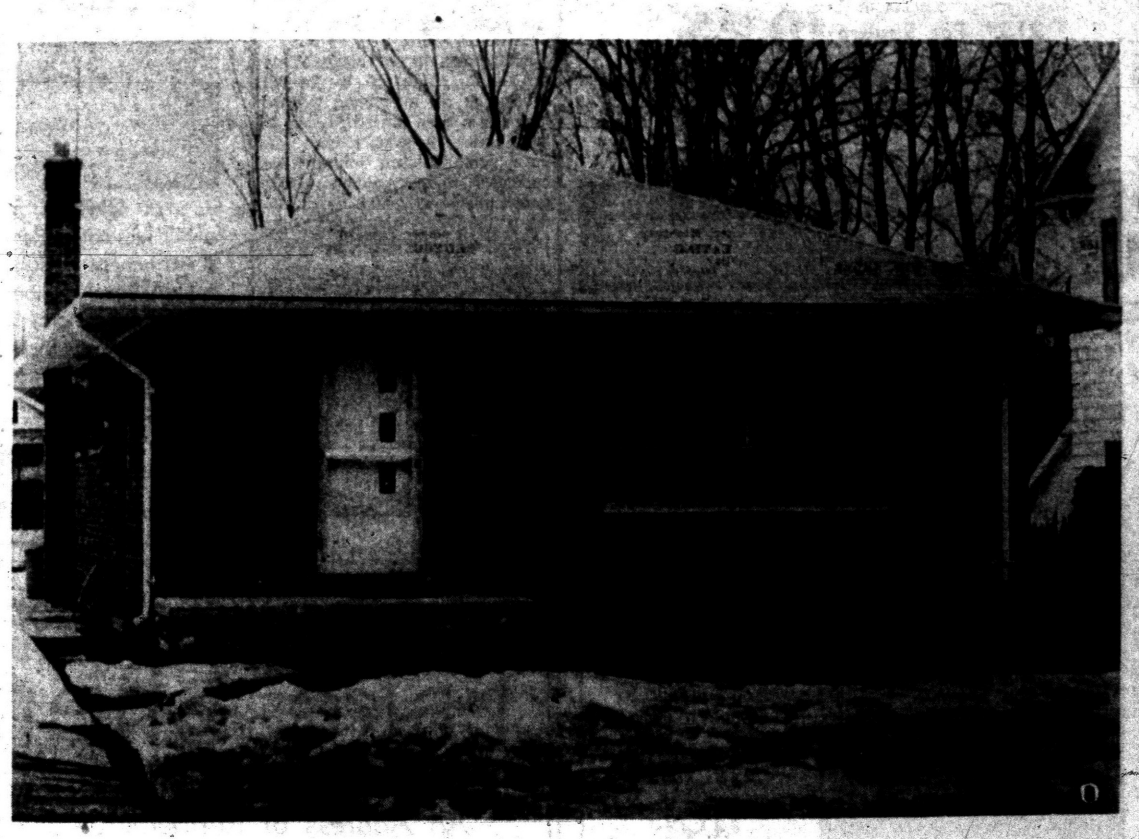

—The last word on what kind of shingle to use when a new roof is put on is being spoken more and more by the woman of the house. Barrett roofing specialist Clarence Hausmann reports that women are insisting on roof colors that conform with the color scheme of the rest of the house. As a result, a record number of shingle colors are now on the market, Hausmann says.

—Shingles are also being made to blend with the lines of a house. The new "Ranchline" shingle with 50 per cent wider tabs is designed to enhance the low, sweeping look of ranch homes and split-levels.

—Flat and low-incline roofs are being used more and more on private homes, with whole developments of flat-roofed homes going up.

—Shingle tabs aren't ripping off or flying away as they used to during a windstorm. A new shingle called the "Storm King" has hidden adhesive bands under each tab that seal the shingles down so effectively they will stay down even when battered by winds of hurricane force.

ON A NARROW LOT—The Sam Messings have a new home on Menominee road on a lot just 40 by 105 feet. Bateman and Kampsen built this red brick home which has living room, kitchen and three bedrooms. The Messings moved in last October.

BLOND BIRCH — Because they have no need for three bedrooms (but that many are needed for good resale value) the Messings use one of the bedrooms for a dining room. Tailored curtains can be pulled across the high windows. The rug is flowered. One advantage of using a bedroom like this is that the closet is handy for storage.

THIS ONE'S BETTER—Just a friendly little feud about which coffee pot makes the best coffee makes life interesting. Mr. Messing won out this time and served the brew from the old-fashioned percolator. The kitchen itself is thoroughly modern with fold-up stove units and the latest in wall ovens. Cupboard doors are natural birch. Walls, counter tops and cupboards are yellow. The spatter print linoleum has pink, blue, brown and yellow on beige.

Put Living Area at Rear of House

There's no law that says a home has to face the street.

So, about face, home owners!

Tell your builder to put your house as close as possible to the front lot line. But let the main living areas face the rear.

This unorthodox arrangement is especially practical on a small urban lot. It eliminates wasted frontage that's too exposed to the public glare, and also permits indoor-outdoor living in restricted areas where it would otherwise be impossible.

While the rectangular house is the most economical kind to build, it also has the least number of rooms with multiple exposures. This problem is solved by reorienting the main living areas toward the rear. The privacy of the backyard encourages the location of ample windows on this side of the house.

As for the view, a small garden outside the windows, roses on a trellis or simple shrubs will give your outdoor setting all the feeling it needs. And with the main living areas looking onto the scene, each room becomes, in effect, a part of the panorama.

For a warm blending with the outdoors that seems to stream into the rooms and for contrast with the large glass areas, Southern Pine paneled walls, finished natural, are ideal. An exposed plank-and-beam ceiling will provide a colorful canopy of wood.

With the house placed as close as possible to the front of the lot, the yard area is concentrated in the back, making the completely private patio much larger than it would ordinarily be.

And although your view and your vision are faced about to the rear, this needn't be interpreted as a snub to your neighbors. What faces the street can be inviting, albeit opaque. The textured look of boards-and-battens, brick and ceiling level clerestory windows will provide as warm and pretty a picture as one could want—without the ability to gaze beyond the frame.

Get Helpful Information on Painting Hardboard

Sliding doors on kitchen cabinets are often made of hardboard. Presenting an interesting texture to the eye, they can be painted to lend variety to your kitchen. A pure white kitchen might have cupboard doors painted bright lemon yellow to match the linoleum on the floor. Yellow and white striped curtains would be pretty at the windows.

You can receive helpful information on hardboard by writing to the National Paint, Varnish & Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D.C. for a copy of "Painting Hardboard." Enclose 10 cents in coin to cover postage and handling.

A high-pressure, paint-spraying mechanism has been devised which can spray 18 to 20 gallons of paint an hour.

Termites Come in Spring to Plague Humans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Spring brings the time of the termite and much distress to home owners.

Termites venture out on colonizing flights to new homes—possibly your home—as the weather turns warm, the National Geographic Society points out. It estimates that in this country alone they chomp up about $280,000 worth of damage a day.

The way to combat the pestiferous creatures, the experts say, is to reduce moisture around the house to a minimum. They thrive in damp, dark wooden places. So the drier your foundations, timbers and grounds are, the better prepared you are.

★ ★ ★

The Geographic Society notes that the termites' fame—or notoriety—is not limited. "They have chewed into Buddhist Temples in Japan, infiltrated the Vatican, gnawed at the homes of Americans stationed on Okinawa, revealed in the famed Latin Quarter of Paris, and traveled to the Pacific's lonely Pitcairn Island in an organ destined for a church.

What can the beleaguered householder do?

Soil poisoning is one counterattack, suggests John M. King, assistant Director of the Research Institute of The National Association of Home Builders. But the poison usually works only five years or so and then should be renewed.

King also recommends measures to reduce dampness. If you have a pipe that drips, fix it. The same applies to a rainspout which lets water pour onto the ground.

In the case of a crawl-space house, a plastic sheet or aluminum foil cover on the ground beneath the house will prevent water vapor from rising and condensing on the underside of the house, King said.

★ ★ ★

Even more effective, according to King, are anti-termite measures in the construction of a house. Many builders impregnate timbers of a house with a preservative and with a poisoning solution.

Shields can also be place on top of the foundation walls, blocking the termites' access to the upper, wooden part of the structure.

Termites avoid daylight. Hence, they gnaw from the inside out—but not all the way out. To check timbers and boards, try poking them with an ice pick. If it slips in easily after breaking through the surface, it's a danger signal.

Another clue to the presence of termites is the mud tunnels they lay over masonry and metal to get at wood. They build the earthen tunnels to carry darkness and dampness with them.

Termites are known as flying ants because some have wings.

Exactly 94.7 per cent of boilers sold during the first nine months of 1958 were automatically fired as compared with 28.9 per cent in 1945.

Economical Utility Core

NEW YORK (UPI)—To reduce construction costs, most new homes have a "utility core" — a central network of piping to serve kitchen, laundry and bath. Keeping bathing facilities as close as possible to this core minimizes installation costs.

Safer Windows Introduced

CHICAGO (UPI)—A new pivoting sash window can be cleaned on both sides from within the house with no danger of a person's falling out. It was introduced at the recent National Association of Home Builders convention.

★ ★ ★

The aluminum window (made by United States Window Corp., Indianapolis) looks and functions at first glance like any balanced double hung unit.

But the tilting sashes permit the housewife to wash both side of the glass without going outside. They slide up and down with ease, and afford an almost unlimited variety of indirect ventilation combinations, regardless of the weather, the manufacturer said.

Other windows shown featured expanded use of insulating glass, concealed balance systems for finger tip raising or lowering of sash, and quick removal of upper and lower sash for easier washing.

DEHUMIDIFYING COMPOUND — This new type of extra-absorbent dehumidifying compound is said to absorb up to 12 times its own weight in moisture from the air. Requiring no drying out, it remains active until the chemicals entirely disappear. For full details write Speco, Inc., 7308 Associate Avenue, Cleveland 9, Ohio.

Expand Home With Spring

Spring is for spreading.

Nature spreads her fragrant leaves and breezes over all. Families spread their doings to the outdoors. And, in keeping with the season, living areas can do some spreading of their own.

★ ★ ★

Kitchens, for instance, need not be couped up. And living rooms need not be limited. Through the use of a versatile flooring material, such as ceramic tile, homeowners can create a unity between indoors and outdoors that fits spring living perfectly—and literally transcends the seasons.

★ ★ ★

You can harmonize your home with the outdoors simply, economically and effectively by selecting one of many shades of ceramic floor tiles that blend well with your kitchen. Then, to create a really exciting effect, extend the same tile floor outdoors to form a patio.

★ ★ ★

This technique can be particularly effective if your home has large kitchen windows. Then, your kitchen and patio actually become one living area which can provide truly expanded pleasure for the warm spring summer and fall months. Living rooms can be similarly expanded. Your choice of where to put the patio would depend on easy exit, direction of the sun and your desire for seclusion.

★ ★ ★

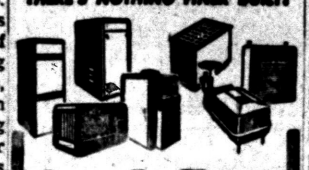

The advantages of using real ceramic tile for this dual purpose are its beauty, durability and ease of cleaning. There can be no scuffs or scratches indoors or out. And there are no wintertime worries, because tile is completely frost proof.

New Types of Flooring Blend With Any Style

Wood floors are always in style but these days the array of new flooring can please the most discriminating homemaker, particularly the woman who looks for something different in her new or remodeled home.

If you are designing a room in colonial motif, for instance, or your new home is to be 18th Century style, you may like your floors to simulate old floor boards, such as the new random-width flooring created with built-in pegs.

Then there are flooring "planks" with beveled edges, and floor sections in various width and lengths packaged that way to achieve a charm in floors that our ancestors realized of necessity by putting together roughhewn wood of different lengths.

Strip flooring is very popular in our ranch type homes. These narrow pieces permit a functional line whether you shine them to a satin gleam or paint them in decorator colors. Some ranch homes prefer the rugged look, utilizing random widths with built-in pegs.

Parquet floors are popular again, especially in herringbone and basketweave patterns. It is no longer a big job for the carpenter who labored furiously fitting the various lengths of wood into geometric designs.

IN SECTIONS

The floors are assembled in block sections for easier installation. Parquet floors are long lasting and many are lifted intact for reuse when an old house is razed.

If a floor is carpeted from wall to wall, wood floors are protected for the day when they may be exposed. But if area rugs are used or a wide border of floor is exposed to frame a carpet, floors may need frequent waxings or buffings to bring up the beauty of the grain.

It's a good idea to use a dry mop rather than an oily mop for daily brush-ups. The oily mop may attract and hold the dirt. But when floors are marked or stained, it is easier to use a wax-treated cleanser and occasionally floors will need rewaxing, especially if the area is heavily trafficked. This may entail a complete removal of wax with special cleanser.

Many people prefer to avoid soap and water floor scrubbings, but sometimes it is necessary to clean the floors in this way before a new waxing. The floors will not be harmed as long as all cleaner is removed and floors blotted immediately. Newspapers may be placed over the wet floor at once to help dry them. When floors are thoroughly dry you may begin a new wax treatment.

New Homes to Come

Ten years from now the U.S. will be building 1.5 million homes a year, report statisticians of Allied Chemical's Barrett Building Materials Division. These homes, the experts predict, will contain facilities not yet on the drawing boards and will feature greater use of quality building materials such as asphalt shingles and Barretone fibreboard ceiling tiles.

Even though you live in a rented apartment, you can secure an FHA loan to cover cost of redecorating and furnishing. Your bank can tell you how to go about it.

Custom Builders Your Plans or Ours

CHARMING CONTEMPORARY — This ranch home has three bedrooms, a huge living and dining room combination, cozy kitchen and family room and 2½ baths. The habitable area is 1,925 square feet.

BUSY FAMILY ROOM — Architect Herman York made the family room the hub of the service area, but gave it a size big enough to handle its assignment. Note interesting shape of foyer.

Large Family Room Keys Fine Spacious Home

The family room is put to work in this plan.

Architect Herman H. York has made it a traffic hub closely connected to the working area, where most mothers spend most of the time. This location means it will be one of the busiest rooms in the house, but it has the size and shape needed to handle its assignment.

X-53 in the House of the Week series also has an excellent division between its generous informal family area and the big living room-dining room combination that is 27 feet across the back of the "L" and 17 feet along its base.

The house also has a laundry just steps away from the kitchen, a lavatory near the family room, two additional full baths, and three bedrooms and a study or guest room.

Here are the details:

A wide main foyer carries the guest to the formal entertaining area, located in the rear of the house for privacy. One wall of this foyer is angled, putting space where space is needed and adding to apparent size of the living room.

★ ★ ★

Floor to ceiling glass windows and a sliding glass door take up practically the entire rear wall of the living and dining rooms. The huge glass area links the long outdoor terrace with the indoors.

A fireplace with clean, modern lines dominates the living room end of the entertaining area. The room directly behind this fireplace wall can be used either as a cozy private study or as a guest room.

The kitchen is the buffer between the formal rear side of the house and the informal front section. The kitchen is shielded from the dining room by a partition, but on the family room side it is completely open.

FAMILY ROAD

The family room is large enough to accommodate a big table for informal dining. Because of its size and location, it will tend to keep the formal areas of the house free from traffic.

The attached garage structure provides space in this section for a laundry and lavatory. There is easy access to the side terrace from kitchen and family room.

One of the unusual features of this house is the bedroom foyer at the end of the main hall. This sudden expansion in hall width eliminates any feeling of congestion at the point where bedroom doors are concentrated.

All of the bedrooms are liberally supplied with closets, and the master bedroom has a big walk-in closet. The main bath is split with one of its two lavatories in an outer section. The master bedroom has a private full bath.

The luxurious master suite also has a doorway to a private outdoor terrace screened from the main outdoor living area.

Although other materials could be substituted, the plans call for a brick exterior on all sides—lovely to look at and easy to maintain. For contrast, wood is used under the gable ends.

The home has a habitable area of 1,925 square feet, excluding laundry and garage. Over-all dimensions are 68' 4" wide by 48' 10" deep. There is a full basement. The garage could be expanded to make room for two cars, if desired.

WHAT WOULD X-53 COST?

Building costs vary widely, making it impossible to cite a cost figure for a given house on a particular lot. But you can easily find out what X-53 would cost you by ordering a 35-cent Study Plan and taking it to a local contractor. The Study Plan contains the information the contractor needs to make an estimate.

One Woman's Ingenuity

Although it is generally known that a good supply of putty is as necessary in doing a paint job as the paint itself, not everyone has the ingenuity exercised by a woman who used it to emulate wood. Part of the beading had disappeared in the top border of a chair rail in the old house this home-owner was restoring. She mixed the correct consistency in putty and, working it with her fingers, duplicated exactly the appearance of the lost carving. When thoroughly dried and painted, the result defied the casual eye.

Stairways Can Be Made Safe by Handyman

The basement stairway in many a house is a booby trap for both children and adults.

Typically, this stairway has a wide open space under the railing through which youngsters can tumble to the concrete floor below.

The stair treads are dangerous to toddlers and grown-ups alike if they're smooth.

One sturdy material — hardboard — can solve both of these stairway safety problems.

Nail a panel of this easy-to-work-with material to the railing posts and stringers to close up the space through which your children might fall. If you want a decorative effect, use perforated hardboard or one with an embossed pattern on its surface and paint it.

Eliminate the slippery step hazard by covering the tread with hardboard that is like canvas on one side. Nail it with smooth side down and screen side up to provide a firm foothold.

Mightiest Yet

Epoxy polymers, the new chemical hardeners called "the mightiest adhesive yet produced," are being used in compounds to fill joints in ceramic tile countertops for kitchens, bathrooms, family laundries and elsewhere. The compound is stain-proof, nonshrinking and as hard as rock after setting.

Economists estimate that Americans as a whole are spending as much for home modernization these days as they are for new home construction.

WATCH FOR RUST — In planning the battle against rust in the home, knowing where the enemy will most likely strike is the key to victory. According to the Rust-Oleum Corporation, world's largest producer of rust preventive coatings, the battle can be won through alliance with the tiny sardine. His oil, specially-processed, and combined with rust-preventive pigments, penetrates rust down to the bare, undamaged metal and forms a coating that lasts and lasts.

Take 'Rust Inventory' Then Apply Preventive

CHICAGO — Now that the mercury has begun to climb, it's time for homeowners to take a "rust inventory" to check on the damage done by winter's snow and sleet.

As you make your walk of inspection around your home, here are the nine points of vulnerability most frequently attacked by rust, according to the Rust-Oleum Corporation, Evanston, Illinois, world's largest producer of rust preventive coatings:

Gutters and downspouts.
Porch railings.
Metal window sashes and frames.
Basement pipes and fittings.
Fuel tanks and furnaces.
Metal screens.
Outdoor furniture and tools.
Garbage cans.
Wire fences.

The company points out hundreds of dollars can be saved by a timely check. Galvanized gutters and downspouts, for example, which are constantly attacked by rain and melting snow, rust out within three years in most climates. In an average six-room home, replacement cost for this one item is approximately $250. For less than $10 they can not only be rust-proofed inside and outside, but beautified as well.

Increasing popularity of ranch-style homes has added many feet of rustable metal to today's homes, the company added. Metal window frames and sashes also add to the homeowner's rust problem.

Rusted screens not only develop gaps to permit mosquitoes and other insects to enter, but also deposit unsightly rust stains on windowsills and curtains when wind drives rain through them.

Outdoor furniture is subject to double attack — from standing out in all weather when in use and from being stored in damp basements. If you have not rust-proofed your metal furniture before storing it, add protection now when you pretty it up for spring and summer. New this year is Spray Rust-Oleum, available in a full range of colors, which is perfect for such small touch-up jobs.

The ingredient that stops rust is provided by the tiny sardine. Specially-processed sardine oil, blended with rust-inhibiting pigments in the primer, penetrates rust to the bare undamaged metal, driving out the air and moisture that cause rust.

Where rust has already occurred, the company advises that the loose rust particles be removed by brushing lightly with a stiff wire brush. Then the primer coat should be applied, either by brushing or spraying, followed by the second coat containing the desired final color:

Soil's for Plants Not for Chairs

Soft spring earth is perfect for crocuses, tulips and other early-blooming flowers that beautify your lawn and beckon you and your family to the joys of outdoor living. It was meant for them.

★ ★ ★

But the same soil that nourishes and renews your plantings was not meant for the rigid legs of your lawn furniture or the increased foot traffic that leisurely outdoor hours entail. If you don't already have one, now would be a good time to plan and build that outdoor patio that you and your family deserve for the full enjoyment of nature's resurging and reassuring richness.

★ ★ ★

Here are some tips that will help you plan your patio with confidence that your satisfaction with the finished job will be complete.

If possible, plan the patio as part of the house. It should adjoin the living area of the house—or be convenient to it.

Make provision for the addition of an outdoor fireplace if you don't plan to include it in the original construction.

Also, make provision for a screened-in area. It'll be a blessing later in the summer when the insects arrive.

★ ★ ★

And, perhaps most important of all, build your patio out of a material that will be completely weather-proof, attractive to look at and easy to keep clean. There are many different kinds of ceramic tile that meet all these specifications, plus many more. A tile patio will assure you the utmost in utility, long life and beauty. And, that fireplace you have in mind can also be constructed with completely heat-resistant, lovely tile.

★ ★ ★

The full enjoyment of nature, like everything else, depends upon your point of view. Plan your point of view to harmonize with your fondest hopes for outdoor fun and carefree maintenance.

White Sox Win 14 Part Fantasy at Briggs Stadium, 9-7

Thrilling Game Is Marred by Loss, Weather

Nellie Fox' Home Run Brings Bitter End to Long Afternoon

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT—A fantasy in 14 parts, starring Nelson Fox, was presented at Briggs Stadium yesterday.

When the 4½ hour production ended, featuring 43 players, the Chicago White Sox had a 9-7 opening day victory over the Tigers tucked away.

Fox, who failed to hit a single homer all last season, connected with one of Don Mossi's southpaw pitches and parked it in the right field stands with Sam Esposito on base in the 14th inning.

The little second baseman, rated by many as "second best" behind Detroit's Frank Bolling, had five hits in seven trips for the marathon, which was the second longest opening day game in history of the Majors.

Longest opening day contest took place in 1926, when the Senators defeated the Athletics 1-0 in the 15th inning.

Another 30 degrees on the thermometer would have made it an ideal opener yesterday, because the game had everything one could ask for in the way of excitment and thrills.

Actually there were hardly 10,000 fans left in the stands to see the White Sox victory. A crowd of 38,332 with blankets and top coats was on hand at the starting time.

The Tigers had two great opportunities in the 9th and 10th innings to win the contest, but they left five men stranded on base in these two frames.

With the score tied at 7-7, Al Kaline singled with two out in the 9th. Gail Harris' single sent Kaline to third but Bolling grounded out.

★ ★ ★

In the 10th, with knuckleballer Gerald Staley pitching for Chicago, John Groth doubled, Rocky Bridges beat out a bunt and Lou Berberet was walked to load the bases.

Gus Zernial, batting for George Susce, hit the ball into the dirt and catcher Sherm Lollar made the putout at home plate. Eddie Yost then hit into a double play to end the inning.

Staley the former National League veteran, had the Tigers baffled the rest of the way with his knuckler. There were two outs in the 14th when Esposito singled and Fox delivered his 370 foot blast.

★ ★ ★

The Sox used 23 players, including seven pitchers, while the Tigers sent five hurlers to the mound among 20 players who saw action.

Al Kaline lifted the lid of the 1959 season with a first inning drive into the lower left field seats.

Chicago, with 15 men left on base, had numerous scoring chances in the third, fourth and fifth innings. One run in the 4th tied the score when Norm Cash and Al Smith singled, John Callison walked to load the bases, and Billy Pierce drove in a run on a grounder.

★ ★ ★

Jim Landis' two run homer in the 5th made it 3-1, but the Tigers made it 4-3 in the same frame on singles by Tom Morgan and Harvey Kuenn and doubles by Kaline and Yost.

With the bases loaded and two out in the 7th, Larry Doby dropped Billy Goodman's line drive for an error. Three runs scored, and Esposito, running for Goodman, later scored on Fox' single.

★ ★ ★

The lights went on in the 8th and pinch hitter Charley Maxwell blasted a long three-run homer into right centerfield to tie the score. That was it until the disastrous 14th inning.

Fans Watching Players — or Vise Versa?

For a few minutes at Briggs Stadium one could wonder who were the fans and who were the players.

It happened in the 8th inning when several youths ran out on the field to interrupt the game. At the same time several fights broke out in the bleachers.

While the game was held up for the fans to clear the field, all the players and umpires stood watching the boxing matches in the stands.

Spahn in Form, Blanks Pirates, 8-0

HAIL THE HERO! — Nellie Fox (left) Chicago White Sox second baseman was the hero of opening day yesterday in Detroit. Fox, who failed to hit a homer all last season, won it in the 14th inning with a home run with one mate aboard. Jim Landis who congratulates Fox did his share with a two run homer also.

Braves' Hurler Registers 44th Career Shutout

Indians Beat A's, 6-4 but Ace Pitcher Herb Score Is Wild

By The Associated Press

This may be a brand new season in the National League, but it was the same old established stars who did the work in the openers — guys like Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and Eddie Mathews, and the dueling Robin Roberts and Don Newcombe.

The lone exception was rookie George Anderson of the Phils who made his first major league hit a game-winning single in the eighth inning, giving Roberts a 2-1 decision over Newk last night. Robin gave up five hits, Newcombe but four, as 22,189 fans braved an early evening rain and low temperatures at Philadelphia.

Earlier, Spahnie hung up his 44th shutout, blanking the Pirates 8-0 after Mathews had started things with a two-run homer off Buc ace Bob Friend before a Pittsburgh crowd of 33,317, the NL's largest.

★ ★ ★

San Francisco's hopeful Giants outlasted the Cardinals 6-5, spoiling Solly Hemus' debut as Red Bird manager, with 20,988 in the stands at St. Louis last night.

Snow at Chicago postponed Los Angeles' opener against the Cubs and left the NL with a three-game attendance of 76,494. The American League, playing only two games, drew 60,962, for a joint total of 137,456.

Detroit had the biggest crowd, 38,332, but the Chicago White Sox beat the Tigers 9-7 on Nellie Fox's 14th-inning home run. Cleveland took a 6-4 decision at Kansas City in the other AL opener. Boston and New York were idled by rain. Baltimore and Washington weren't scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee's defending NL champs handed the optimistic Pirates their second defeat as Warren the Wonder, two weeks shy of his 38th birthday, allowed seven hits in his 247th victory. Spahn struck out six, walked but two and held the Bucs to two hits over the last six frames.

The Giants three times blew leads before a ninth-inning double by Jackie Brandt, the ex-Card, put it away. Al Worthington mopped up in the ninth to save the victory for southpaw starter Johnny Antonelli.

Bob Schmidt and Willie Kirkland homered for the Giants. Don Blasingame and Alex Grammas, each 3-for-4, and Gino Cimoli collected eight of the Cards' 10 hits. Jim Brosnan was the loser, giving up three runs in two innings after relieving starter Larry Jackson.

What hopes the Indians have of going any place but down from last year's fourth place finish in the pennant race are based on a comeback by the 25-year-old lefty Herb Score.

Since winning 20 games as a sophomore in 1956, Score has a 4-4 record, missing most of '57 after that line drive accident, and out most of last season because of arm trouble.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, after a slow pace in spring training, Score was waved in from the bullpen when the A's go the starter Gary Bell for their third run in the ninth.

With Score pitching, the A's scored again without swinging a bat. He walked the first man he faced on four pitches, wild pitched a run home and walked the second batter. He was 0-2 against the third man before Dick Brodowski replaced him and put it away.

SNOWED OUT—Chicago Cub pitcher Bobby Anderson (right) holds a snowball instead of a baseball for the glove of catcher Sammy Taylor at Wrigley Field yesterday where the opener was snowed out. The Cubs were to meet the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Bill Veeck Was Happy Because His Team Won

DETROIT — The near-freezing cold didn't bother Bill Veeck.

The thrill of owning a Major League club again was enough to warm the buoyant man who had grown up in baseball.

Veeck rejected all overtures by wellwishers who wanted to loan him a topcoat in Briggs Stadium's 37-degree weather yesterday It was his active re-entry into baseball's official family as majority stockholder of the Chicago White Sox.

"No, I'm not cold," said Veeck, the only person of 38,332 in the stands without any protection against the numbing chill. "I'm nervous. I'm always nervous at a game. I was even nervous when I had the St. Louis Browns and they lost 104."

Veeck, attired in a blue summer suit and his customary open-throated sportshirt, sat through four hours and 25 minutes of baseball. His Sox finally won a 14-inning marathon 9-7 over the Detroit Tigers on Nellie Fox's two-run homer.

★ ★ ★

"It's nice to be off the rolls of the unemployed," said Veeck, who'd been trying to return to baseball for several years.

Fellow American League owners forced him to dispose of the Browns in 1954 when they moved to Baltimore.

"What the Sox need is a little extra base hitting, a little power," said Veeck.

Veeck clapped his hands, bantered with fans around him, cheered the Sox.

★ ★ ★

Fox doubled in the first inning. Jim Landis followed with a smash that looked like a hit. Frank Bolling, Detroit's second baseman, snared it and converted it into a double play.

"That was a run," Veeck screamed. "Boom, boom. Tough way to get out of an inning."

The chatter carried on through the 14 innings as 43 players wore themselves out trying to keep warm. Veeck didn't shiver. He was glad to be back in baseball.

Tigers' Trainer Busy Trying to Keep Team Warm

Possibly the most imporant man in Briggs Stadium yesterday — to the Detroit Tigers players, anyway — was trainer Jack Homel.

He made a dozen or so trips between the clubhouse and the dugout, emptying the hot water bottles and refilling them so the players could keep warm between innings.

The players huddled beneath big blankets and stomped their feet on the cement to keep warm. Fitcher Jim Bunning wrapped his hands around a hot water bottle between innings so he could grip the baseball.

Doby Feels Badly About Poor Debut

DETROIT—Larry Doby won't be able to brag about his debut in a Detroit uniform, but no one feels worse about it than he.

He failed to hit safely in three official trips, but more than that, he dropped a line drive in the 7th inning with the bases loaded and two outs, allowing three runs to score.

★ ★ ★

It gave Chicago a 7-4 lead. The ball was hit to Doby's left and at first it appeared he was misjudging it. It was not a difficult fielding play, except the footing was slippery.

"You must remember Doby has played center field most of the time. Left field is different. He overran the ball," said Chicago manager Al Lopez.

★ ★ ★

The Tiger infield appeared in somewhat of a shock immediately afterward because when Doby finally threw into the infield, the ball rolled loosely as the third runner headed for home from first base.

Catcher Red Wilson finally got the ball as it passed Eddie Yost and Bridges but the third runner was by him and no one was covering the plate.

"I'm the sickest guy in the world, I've never felt so badly about anything," said dejected Doby in the locker room.

There are two other bits of irony which were big factors.

★ ★ ★

After the three runs scored, Billy Goodman, who hit the liner which Doby dropped, was on second. Nellie Fox then hit a short single to left and it seemed unlikely that Sam Esposito, running for Goodman, could get home on it.

But Doby, upset over the previous play, did not throw home. Instead he threw toward second where Bridges cut it off.

The other bit of irony was the fact that Charley Maxwell, who lost his regular job to Doby, was the one who erased the sting of the error by blasting a 3-run homer as a pinch hitter in the 8th.

★ ★ ★

Maxwell made it known all during spring camp he was going to aim for the fence this year, and he was unhappy about losing his job.

One could almost sense the fact that Maxwell was out to prove he was fighting for the job because it was a tremendous blast into right center.

"Well, there are 153 more to go," said manager Bill Norman afterward.

★ ★ ★

Norman was displeased with the booing Doby got from the crowd when he came to bat after the error. He indicated that Doby would be back in left field as a starter today despite what anyone thought or said.

"We had our chances to win and blew them, why blame anyone or make excuses," Norman added.

Spartans Start Drills Monday

Football Is Back Again

EAST LANSING (AP)—First look at the new look in Michigan State football is scheduled for Monday afternoon.

Twenty-two lettermen will report for the start of spring drills — holdovers from the team that finished last in the Big Ten last year with a 3-5-1 record.

The returnees will be outnumbered more than two to one by the sophomore hopefuls.

Coach Duffy Daugherty will install a new offense this spring — the double wing formation featuring a man in motion. Daugherty experimented with the system as head coach of the East in the East-West shrine game and it paid off with a defeat of the favored West.

Coaches won't get a look at the probable fall quarterback, senior Dean Look, currently busy with baseball. But eight other candidates will be tried out during the five-week workout.

Daugherty will hold a dressing room press conference at 3 p.m. Players will pose for pictures until four.

The real work of the session will start as soon as the photographers stop saying "just one more."

Fetchick Still 1st at Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Mike Fetchick slipped a stroke off his opening round with a second day 67 but it was good enough to add two strokes to his lead going into today's third round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

The 36-year-old Yonkers, N.Y., pro had a 133 total at the halfway mark, nine under par.

Sharing second place at 136, three shots away, were three very dangerous challengers.

The group included Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., new Masters champion and the top money winner of the year; Stan Leonard of Vancouver, British Columbia, who tied for fourth in the Masters and won here two years ago, and Dow Finisterwald of Tequesta, Fla., the reigning PGA titleholder.

The leaders:

Cold Weather, Drunks Mar 1959 Opener

Boo on the Majors! Shame on Detroit Fans!

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Major League baseball offers great entertainment to the sports fans, but it certainly lacks common sense in presenting its product.

In fact Major League baseball continues to loose prestige because of an inconsiderate and selfish attitude toward the fans who pay the freight.

Yesterday's opener at Briggs Stadium was a great game, but in view of the temperatures it was ridiculous even to schedule a game so early.

It got dark, making the lights necessary, and it rained late in the game. In Chicago it snowed. Other games were called because of cold and rain.

★ ★ ★

What makes it more silly is the fact that the coast teams, Los Angeles and San Francisco can play an earlier schedule at home, but instead they start here in the Midwest where inclement weather is almost certain at this time of the year.

★ ★ ★

The Majors, looking strictly at the dollar sign without regard for the fans, hope to gain financially by taking advantage of the weekend crowds instead of mid-week starts later in the month.

It was surprising to see even the 38,000 turn out yesterday, but even the most loyal can hardly take five hours of continuous exposure to 35-degree temperatures and 10 degrees colder in the stands.

★ ★ ★

By the 10th inning there were 25,000 in the stands. After the 12th inning it was estimated that 15,000 were still on hand. When Nellie Fox homered in the 14th he had less than 10,000 witnesses.

Much of the enjoyment for the spectators was lost by the uncomfort of the cold. The players have to be commended for putting on the performance they gave even at the risk of jeopardizing their careers with sore arms and ailments.

FANS IN ORNERY MOOD

The display put on by the spectators was shameful for Detroit.

Youths persistently interrupted the game by running across the outfield. When Al Kaline refused to honor their handshakes, the fans booed him.

★ ★ ★

Adults all over the park were drinking liquor and brawling. They cluttered the outfield with debris and a beer can struck White Sox outfielder John Callison in the head.

They booed everything and every one on the field, and cheered as fights were taking place in the bleachers, in reserved seats and even the box seats.

The public address announcer made it known that a city ordinance existed in Detroit whereas any person going onto a field of play in any city arena during a contest is subject to $500 fine or 90 days in jail.

Twelve were ticketed by stadium police, but several hundred others got away with their antics.

Those who ran out of bottled fuel, built fires in the stands. A few second tier box seat fans enjoyed themselves like idiots by emptying their beer cups on the people below.

The cold weather might have been the crowd's excuse for the liquor, but before scheduling such early games this might be something else the Majors should consider.

These were the fans of the "City of Champions." They resembled a drunken den of rowdies yesterday.

HOME AGAIN—The Detroit Tigers were home at Briggs Stadium for another season opener yesterday. Here they line the base line for the National Anthem. The home opener however was marred by the cold weather, the 9-7 defeat to Chicago and a "bush league" exhibition on the part of Detroit baseball fans.

Dinner Awards Go to SVC Champs

Honors Bestowed on Chiefs

The glory and prestige that go with winning the Saginaw Valley Conference basketball championship were re-lived by the Pontiac Central High School squad Friday night.

Under the sponsorship of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with The Pontiac Press, the Chiefs' many conquests on the hardwoods in the season recently concluded were recognized last night at a banquet in their honor in the PCH cafeteria.

Some stirring words by Forrest (Forddy) Anderson, head basketball coach of Michigan State University's Big Ten champions, climaxed the program which saw the presentation of awards to PCH players and coaches by the C. of C. and the Press.

The Chiefs compiled a truly distinguished and enviable record during the past season.

They won their second Saginaw Valley crown in three years with a 9-1 mark, finished the regular schedule with a 14-1 slate, captured district and regional titles in the annual prep tournament and reached the state semifinals before losing to Hamtramck to compile an overall 18-2 record, and received recognition as Michigan's No. 1 Class A quintet in the final AP and UPI news wire polls.

Bill Cornwell, Pontiac Press sports writer, presented the Press trophies while awards from the C. of C. were handed out by Richard Fisher, Clarence (Hud) Powers and George Petroff, team physician. John Hirlinger of the C. of C. was the toastmaster.

Miniature gold-filled hand-engraved basketballs were given by the Press to each member of the varsity squad as well as head coach Art Van Ryzin and assistant coach Fred Zittel.

In addition, the Press awarded the Oakland County Coach-of-the-Year trophy to Van Ryzin — the second time he has won the honor in three seasons — and individual All-County trophies to John Bandy, Harrison Munson and Charley Barge.

Bandy, Barge and Munson also received All-Valley recognition and All-State honors were accorded to Bandy.

★ ★ ★

Besides Bandy, Munson and Barge, team members receiving miniature basketballs were Bill Hayward, Phil Rabaja, Amos Bailey, George Fed, Bradell Pritchett; Jim Patterson, Dick McCauley, Fred Staley, Henry Robertson and Bill Roach.

A huge team trophy for the PCH showcase, symbolic of the Chiefs' Valley title and their No. 1 state rating, was awarded by Powers on behalf of the C. of C. and Dr. Petroff presented a novelty award to Barge, the star mid-year graduate.

The evening was topped off for Van Ryzin when Fisher handed him a wrist watch with the PCH mentor's name engraved on the back. Van Ryzin introduced Anderson, the principal speaker.

Flint Central Again Showing Track Strength

Defending Champion Flint Northern Takes Third Place

Four new meet records were set as Flint Central's track team edged out Pontiac Central in the 8th annual Central Michigan College indoor meet at Mt. Pleasant yesterday.

Flint Central with all four marks finished with 41 2/3 points with the Chiefs close behind at 37 ¼.

The two Flint teams, Central and Northern, were expected to run away with the meet, but PCH coaches were pleased with showing of several of Chief sophomores.

Ron Watkins of Flint Central set a record in the 60 yard dash with a time of :6.25, while teammate George Fredreichsen did the 880 in 2:02.9.

★ ★ ★

Flint Central's medley relay time of 6:03.8 was also a new mark as was Bill Milum's mile run in 4:38.7.

Fred Brooks of PCH won the high jump in 6-feet-1 inch, with Arzo Carson finishing in a tie for third.

Bob Finley of PCH tied for second in the pole vault at 11' 6" and Brooks also took second in the 60 yard dash behind Watkins.

★ ★ ★

Andrew Terry and Leon Prentis were third and fourth in the 65 yard high hurdles for the Chiefs with Jim Pretchett taking 4th in the 440 in 55 seconds.

★ ★ ★

Flint Central's medley relay won in 6:03.8, with Flint Northern second and PCH third at 6:20.8. The team is made up of Ken Byrd, Van LaCore, Bob Richards and Jim Nelson.

Monday the big dual meet of the season will take place at Wisner Stadium at 4:00 p.m. when Flint Central challenges Pontiac Central, the four-time state champion.

YESTERDAY'S TEAM RESULTS:
1. Flint Central 41⅔; 2. Pontiac Central, 37¼; 3. Flint Northern, 19¼; 4. Traverse City, 19; 5. Arthur Hill, 18 6/7; 6. Mt. Pleasant; 7. Bay City Central; 8. Lansing Eastern; 9. Midland; 10. Muskegon; 11. Saginaw, Bay City Handy, tie.

Canadiens, Leafs Clash Again Tonight

Toronto Coach Confident Series Will Be Tied

Montreal Host to 2nd Contest Still 6-1 Favorites

MONTREAL (AP) — Defiant Coach Punch Imlach throws his Toronto Maple Leafs against the Montreal Canadiens tonight convinced that when the game is over the National Hockey League's best-of-seven Stanley Cup final will be all square at 1-1.

His Leafs lost Thursday's opener 5-3, but that didn't shake Imlach's confidence or aplomb.

"That was only a skirmish," said Imlach. "That wasn't our club they saw out there Thursday. We are better than that. We were 25 to 50 per cent below par.

"Who was the guy who said, 'we haven't yet begun to fight'? Well, that's us. We'll be fighting out there and the Canadiens had better be a whole lot better than they were Thursday if they hope to win.

"I don't know how their play the other night compared with what they're supposed to be able to do. I don't care, either. I know we'll be better."

The odds-makers aren't as optimistic over the Leafs' chances.

Saying the odds may shorten, they quoted the Canadiens as 6-1 favorites to win the series. If you take the Leafs, you'd get 4-1.

If you want to take the Canadiens on tonight's game you'd have to give 6-5 and a goal and a half. Taking Toronto, you'd get even money and a goal and a half.

Happy Celts Split $25,000

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, ready to split up $25,000 in playoff money as the world champions of professional basketball, are happy for several reasons they beat Minneapolis four straight in the finals.

"That showed everybody these guys didn't take the Lakers' series as an anti-climax," Coach Red Auerbach said last night at the breakup banquet. Auerbach was referring to the intense, full seven-game battle with Syracuse in the semifinals.

"There were people who said we'd suffer a letdown, maybe even blow the title from overconfidence," Red added. "Instead the boys settled down to work and won four in a row. That's a champion for you."

★ ★ ★

Captain Bob Cousy commented: "The sweep ought to put an end to talk about the home court being a decisive factor in basketball. The way we handled the Lakers should halt that asinine 'home court' business."

★ ★ ★

Rebounder Bill Russel, Jim Loscutoff and reserve sparkplug Frank Ramsey drew special praise as did Gene Conley.

The Celts put together $25,000 from the National Basketball Assn. playoff pool as follows:

★ ★ ★

Participant, semi-final series—$7,000.

Top finisher, eastern division $5,000.

Highest percentage, final season standings—$1,000.

Skippers Whip PNH Thinclads

Waterford ruined Pontiac Northern's debut in dual track competition by romping to an 83-26 victory at chilly Wisner Stadium Friday afternoon. The meet was transferred from the PNH track which is under water from recent rains.

A sweep of the dashes by Larry Warner paced the Skippers with Barry Campbell and Mike Kaines among the other stars.

Mike Fedynik was the only Northern boy to win an event outright taking the pole vault. But Dennis Vincent tied Waterford's Darwin Baldwin in the high jump.

The summary:

High Hurdles—Meyers (W), Shields (P), Stigers (W), :19.5.
Sprint Medley Relay—Won by Waterford.
100—Warner, Underwood (W), Merwin (P), 10.9.
440-Harms (W), Weedon (W), Minewear (P), 59.0.
Low Hurdles—Stigers (W), Carter (W), Shields (P), 16.1.
220—Warner, Underwood (W), Merwin (P), 24.5.
880—Ewer (W), Gibson (W), Comas (W), 2:15.5.
Mile—Kaines, Montgomery (P), Traicoff (W), 4:52.3.
880 Relay—Won by Waterford.
High Jump—Vincent and Baldwin 1st, Hocking (P) 3rd, 5 feet, 5 inches.
Pole Vault—Fedynik, Lawrence (P) and White (W) tied for 2nd, 10 feet, one inch.
Broad Jump—Underwood (W), Hocking (P), White (W), 19 feet, 3 inches.
Shot Put—Campbell, Solden (W), Toth (P), 44 feet, 4¾ inches.

Laker Job May Go to Pollard

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jim Pollard and Vern Mikkelsen are in the running for the Minneapolis Laker coaching job vacated by the shift to Minnesota of Johnny Kundla.

"I'm definitely interested," said Pollard, the onetime Laker great who later put in three seasons as coach of LaSalle in Philadelphia.

Mikkelsen said he was willing to discuss the job with Laker President Bob Short and club directors if they show interest in him. "I don't know if I'd be considered," Mik said.

Kundla, clearly thrilled to be coaching at the school where he starred 20 years ago, will have a four-year contract at $12,000 a year.

Milford Trackmen Start Season Right

Milford got its track season off on a happy note yesterday despite 35 degree weather by defeating Walled Lake and Holly in a home triangular.

★ ★ ★

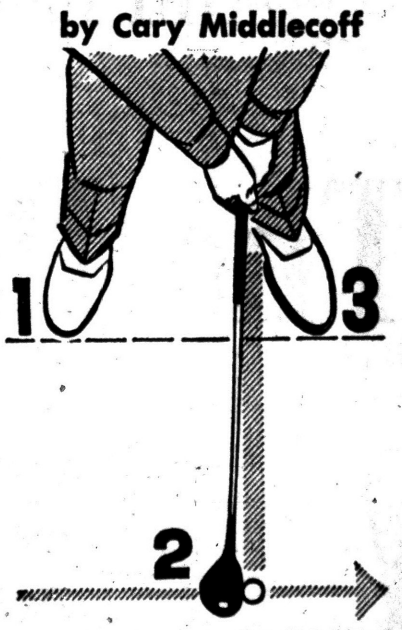

The Redskin outpointed the Vikings 64 to 59-two-thirds in the two-team battle. Holly had 13-one-third.

★ ★ ★

Milford's Gene Schuett took both hurdles and Frank Fink of Walled Lake won the 100-yard dash and pole vault to take individual honors. A 2:12 half mile run by Roy Danley, Tom Manley's 54.6 for the 440 a broad jump of 19 feet, 1½ inches by freshman Denny Munson highlighted the Milford cause.

Ted Nelson in the mile and Jim Hartwick in the shot captured other MHS 1sts. Tom Phelps took the 220 for Walled Lake. His teammate, Salo, and Zauel of Holly shared the high jump crown.

Americans Eager Too

Moscow Cooperates on U.S. Fair

WASHINGTON (AP)— The American exhibit soon to open in Moscow has turned in two of the strangest footnotes to the Cold War.

While Moscow and Washington rattled missiles at each other, struggled for the favor of uncommitted countries and maneuvered in the German crisis, here's what was happening on the U. S. Fair:

1. U. S. businessmen were standing deep in line with offers to show for free, sometimes at considerable expense to themselves, their choicest products in the capital of the country avowedly out to destroy capitalism.

2. The Soviets—before a barb in the press this week—not only were living up to an international agreement requiring "a high degree of mutual confidence and trust," but were going beyond the bargain to help the display expected to attract 5,000 Russian visitors an hour.

★ ★ ★

Russian helpfulness outside of the agreement included:

Allowing a restaurant to operate there now for the U. S. Fair staff; volunteer preparation of food at a nominal cost for the American staff; permission to move into Moscow tons of food supplies for the Americans, without duty; provision of an office.

Then the official Soviet news agency, Tass, got into the act this week. It said a home included in the U. S. exhibit would not be typical Americana. Don't be fooled by such hokem, it told the Russians.

Harold C. McClellan, manager of the American exhibition, is keeping his fingers crossed that the earlier lull in the Cold War storm will resume for the six weeks of the fair starting July 25.

AVOIDING ARGUMENT

McClellan still is arduously steering clear of anything he thinks could smack of the Cold War argument in Communist eyes.

For example, there'll be about 10,000 books in the U.S. exhibit, but no copies of the Soviet-banned Dr. Zhivago; there'll be playthings to show the tots, but no military toys.

McClellan insists the exhibition will convey neither propaganda nor a sales pitch.

That's where Tass disagreed. It said the "typical" American home won't be typical at all.

"Actually," said Tass, "there is no more truth in showing this as a typical home of the American worker than, say, in showing the Taj Mahal as the typical home of a Bombay textile worker."

Plans call for a $13,000 house with furnishings costing another $5,000. Exhibitors providing the house and furnishings stuck to their guns. They say a man earning about $100 a week could buy the house today.

The U. S.-Russian agreement provides also for a Soviet exhibition to be held in New York starting in June.

McClellan, 61, is a Los Angeles paint manufacturer who once headed the National Assn. of Manufacturers. If he professes some surprise at the Russians' preliminary helpfulness, he is downright astonished by the enthusiasm of American businessmen.

The exhibition will have maybe 1,500 types of products contributed by around 500 companies.

UNDERWRITES MILLIONS

U. S. private enterprise has underwritten more than a million dollars to help the fair. The federal government investment is limited to 3½ millions.

As a result, works of art, documentary films and the like will be accompanied by a great range of commercial products. Some examples:

RCA color TV, 22 cars and trucks from six American manufacturers, the disputed six-room ranch type house by All-State Propertries, Inc, of New York, a fish skinner from the Townsend Engineering Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, and a Maytag Corp. dryer from Newton, Iowa.

Strange-looking devices to the Russians will be four American voting machines, courtesy of the Shoup Voting Machine Corp. of New York. The estimated 3½ million visitors will get a chance to vote, not on whether to keep Nikita Khrushchev on as premier but on what they like best at the fair.

Claims Good Meals Enough

State Health Chief Says Vitamins, Supplements Can Hide Diseases

LANSING (UPI)—Dr. Albert E. Heustis, head of the Michigan Health Department, said today healthy people get all the vitamins, minerals and other food essential they need by eating good meals.

"People who rely only on vitamin pills and food supplements may be fooling themselves," Heustis said.

He recommended adequate diet and regular checkups by a doctor as the best way to good nutrition. Indiscriminate use of vitamins can hide such diseases as pernicious anemia, making them hard for the physician to diagnose, he said.

"The plain, unvarnished truth about nutrition and vitamins, based on latest scientific findings," Heustis said, "is that healthy persons get all the vitamins, minerals and other food essentials they need when they eat sufficient quantities of a good choice of foods."

Milk, meat, vegetables, fruits, breads and cereals eaten daily, plus other foods used by most people in rounding out their meals, furnish all the food essentials needed, Heustis said.

Nixon Would Like to Talk With Castro

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon wants to talk with Fidel Castro, and they may get together during the Cuban leader's visit here next week.

Castro's only scheduled visit with a U.S. government official so far is a luncheon in his honor arranged by Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

★ ★ ★

But reports are circulating here that a meeting between Castro and Nixon is certain. In Florida on vacation recently, Nixon told newsmen he is "looking forward to the opportunity to meet and talk with Fidel Castro."

★ ★ ★

It is considered likely that Castro will want to talk to other government officials while he is here. Castro will address the American Society of Newspaper Editors next Friday. His luncheon with Herter is set for Thursday.

More Gas Tax Due?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) said today he was confident the American people would support an increase in the federal gasoline tax to keep the superhighway program on schedule.

Nixon on Emmy Stage

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences announced today that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will present awards in the news and public service categories on the 11th annual Emmy Awards telecast May 6.

Vicar Named at Orion Church

GM Official Finishing Clerical Studies Will Serve St. Alfred's

REV. PLUMMER WHIPPLE

LAKE ORION — The Rev. Plummer Whipple of Rochester has been appointed vicar-in-charge of St. Alfred's Episcopal Mission at Lake Orion, the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan announced today. The appointment becomes effective immediately.

The Rev. Mr. Whipple succeeds Robert R. Reeves, lay-vicar-in-charge, who has become lay minister of the Otter Lake Episcopal Mission.

The new Lake Orion vicar, who has been assistant minister at St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Rochester, will serve St. Alfred's on a parttime basis. He is also on the staff of All Saints Episcopal Church, Detroit, which is assisting St. Alfred's as a parochial mission.

Mr. Whipple was ordained deacon last December and is continuing his studies for the priesthood in the School of Theology of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. He is one of a number of businessmen studying for Holy Orders in this school.

Until he becomes a priest, Mr. Whipple is on the personnel staff of General Motors Corp. in the Detroit Central office. From 1949 to 1953, he was in the advertising department of the Pontiac Motor Division.

Prior to his association with General Motors, Mr. Whipple was engaged in advertising and newspaper work.

Mr. Whipple's wife, Dorothy, is art consultant for the Rochester elementary schools. They have two daughters, Lynn, a senior at Rochester Community High School; and Judith, who works in New York City.

Arson Suspected in Dryden Blazes

DRYDEN — Two vacant houses, located about two miles apart on Lake George road near here, were destroyed by fire early this morning. Dryden Fire Chief Robert P. Weingartz said he suspects arson.

Both of the fires apparently started about the same time, he said, and were discovered about 6 a.m. A late model car was seen by two different witnesses near both houses at about 5 a.m.

The two houses were totally ablaze and no attempt was made to save them, said Weingartz.

No estimate of loss has yet been determined. Lapeer County sheriff's deputies are assisting with the investigation.

Thirty-three new tourist operations, including 21 motels, eight tourist camps, and four trailer parks, have been built or are under construction in Manitoba Province this year. They represent an investment of more than $3,000,000.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MICHael Vackaro who passed away 2 years ago today.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one we love,
From memory fade away.
Sadly missed by wife, children and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband Louis G. MacFarlane who passed away April 12, 1958. Today recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest, and those who think of him today are the ones who loved him best. Sadly missed by Kitty and all the family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Peter Adams, (Amanda), who passed away 1 yr. ago today, April 11th.
A wonderful wife, mother and aid;
One who was better God never made.
A wonderful worker, loyal & true,
One in a million, that, mother, was you.
Just in your judgement, always right,
Honest & liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends & all whom you knew;
A wonderful mother, that, mother, was you.
Sadly missed by her husband, Peter, children, Norma, Alfred, Harold, Harvey, Irene & Delzie and grandchildren.

Electras' Altimeters Revealed Faulty

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines says an altimeter on one of its Electras gave a faulty reading by about 600 feet as the turbojet craft was landing in Detroit 10 days ago.

★ ★ ★

The altimeter was the same kind as that used in the Electra that crashed into the East River here Feb. 3 with the loss of 65 lives. Surviving crewmen testified that the plane's two altimeters read about 500 feet a few seconds before the crash.

An American Airlines spokesman said Friday that since the Detroit incident — which was not under instrument conditions and involved no danger to passengers —the new altimeters have been removed from all Electras.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman also said that since the East River crash the questioned altimeters have been replaced by an older type, but the new type was allowed to remain for cross-checking purposes.

Polio This Year Shows Rise Over '58 Period

WASHINGTON (AP)—Polio has struck more victims so far this year than it did during the corresponding period in 1958.

The Public Health Service says there were 207 paralytic cases the week of April 4, as against 113 a year ago.

There have been 298 cases of all kinds of polio this year, compared with 205 last year.

License Plates Loose?

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare reports 1,215 vehicle owners lost their license plates last month — more than double the number who reported lost plates in March 1958. He suggests that all motorists make sure their plates are firmly bolted to their cars.

Hospital-Surgical Insurance for all Men and Women 65 and over
REGARDLESS OF PAST OR PRESENT HEALTH

Pays up to: 1) $10.00 a day hospital room and board for as long as 60 days. 2) $5.00 a day for care of the same condition in a licensed convalescent or nursing home. Convalescent period must immediately follow at least 5 days hospitalization. Total hospital-convalescent period cannot exceed 60 days. 3) A surgical schedule that pays from $4.50 to $225.00, according to the nature of the operation. 4) Up to $1,000 for additional medical expense. Plan pays 80% of the actual charges, in excess of $100, for specified hospital "extra" expenses such as Xrays and blood transfusions. 5) You receive immediate protection for accidents which occur, or sickness which originates after the issue date of your policy. 6) You are also protected for conditions you had before your policy was issued, provided the hospital confinement begins—surgical operation is performed—after your policy has been in force six months. 7) Covers both illness and injuries except: those caused by war, alcoholism or drug addiction; those covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employer's Liability Laws. Confinement in U. S. Government hospital or any state or county T. B. or mental institution is not covered.

Note: Enrollment period ends April 13, 1959. To be eligible, you must be 65 or over by April 15, 1959, the date the policy will be effective. Application may be sent either to Mutual of Omaha, Omaha, Nebraska, or to your local representative. Cost is only $8.50 a month.

Peiping Admits Fighting Still Rages

Anti-Red Chinese Join Tibet Rebels

TOKYO (AP) — Red China disclosed today that anti-Communist Chinese were fighting beside Tibetan rebels and admitted the revolt was still seething in the Himalayan kingdom.

★ ★ ★

Peiping Radio claimed only that the uprising had been crushed in the area of Lhasa, the Tibetan capital, and said Red troops were "now proceeding successfully to put down the armed rebellion in other places."

The Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa said about 100,000 Tibetan nomads — sword-wielding Goloks — had joined the revolt in the north.

The Peiping broadcast said the large quantity of arms seized in fighting the Tibetan rebels proved that they were helped by anti-Communist Chinese still fighting in the old Sikang province of China.

Sikang borders Tibet in the southwest along the Yangtze River — a wild, mountainous region which ranges surging sharply up to 24,900 feet and separated by canyon-like gorges.

The flight to India of the 23-year-old Dalai Lama, revered by Buddhists as "the Living Buddha," has stirred strong religious feelings in Asia against Red China.

In New Delhi, Indian foreign ministry sources said the Dalai Lama is expected to reach Bomdila in northeast India on Monday.

The royal Tibetan party of refugees traveling on horeback through wild Indian mountain country will be met there by Prime Minister Nehru's special envoy P. N. Menon — and a jeep.

State Tax Collections Up but Crisis Stays

LANSING (AP) — State Revenue Commissioner Louis M. Nims says the favorable trend of sales tax collections in the past three months does not indicate Michigan is pulling out of its cash crisis.

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) has called the crisis "a complete phony." Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) has expressed doubt that payless paydays are imminent.

However, Nims suggests there may be undue optimism stemming from the combined sales and use tax collections in March.

They totaled $23,876,583 — the largest March return on record and the third straight month in which returns were up over the corresponding month in 1958.

But, Nims points out, only one-sixth of sales and use taxes go to the general fund whose anemic condition is the source of the state's fiscal illness.

France Builds Fish City for Rare Ocean Dwellers

MONTE CARLO (AP) — A fish city is being built by France in the sea off Monte Carlo.

This was disclosed by Cmdr. Jacques-Yves Cousteau, one of France's top oceanographers.

Cousteau said the idea was to create a reserve for rare ocean dwellers where they could develop and be studied undisturbed.

Oust Wrong Ones

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP)—When Ann Snavely sought help to evict a skunk living beneath her home, Policeman Oran C. Campbell hurled a tear gas bomb at it. The skunk stayed on. Mrs. Snavely moved her children out. They couldn't stand the tear gas.

Hedy Lamarr Due in Court to Seek Alimony

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Hedy Lamarr goes to court next week to seek alimony from her estranged husband and she said she'd like to have back the eight years of married life she gave him.

Miss Lamarr said she still loves her fourth husband, oilman W. Howard Lee, and is divorcing him "because he asked for it." She said she will never marry again.

"I would like to have back those eight years of my married life with him. I didn't ask for the divorce — he did. I am hurt and still shocked. I am very unhappy and still in love with my husband."

She has been in a hospital for treatment of a swelling in her neck. She says it turned out to be not serious, and "must have been a combination of my hurt over the divorce and my son being hurt in an accident last December."

She has filed suit for $750 a month temporary alimony from Lee, and a hearing on the suit will be held Tuesday.

Charge 42 Yale Students in March Snowball Riot

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Forty-two Yale students, charged by police with participating in a riot that shook town-gown relations, appear in City Court today, charged with breach of peace.

The riots, which involved students, policemen and lots of snowballs, took place March 12 and 14.

Police said the students threw snowballs and shouted such terms as "gestapo" at them. Students said the police were brutal in their use of billy-sticks in putting down the riots.

10 Escape Injury as Plane Crashes

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A four-engined airliner from Settlle, attempting a landing at the Juneau Airport, crashed and burned Friday. The 10 persons aboard escaped serious injury.

The landing gear of the Pan American World Airways Stratocruiser collapsed when the wheels hit the runway, Pan AM officials said, and the plane skidded for 200 yards. One side of the airliner burst into flames.

The five passengers and three members of the five-man crew escaped through emergency hatches on the side opposite the fire.

Pilot John McDonald and copilot Bert Roswold, unable to beat their way through the flames in the main cabin, escaped through an emergency hatch in the cockpit.

In 1957 United States automotive exports totaled $1,465,000,000. Live better by far with a brand new car.

It's a Fact!

The blueness of the sky is due to the minute particles of dust suspended in the atmosphere. It is not space itself which is blue.
