City Jaycees Open 2nd Building Show

Armory Event Will Continue Through Sunday

35 Local Businesses Taking Part; Special Home on Exhibit

Pontiac's Junior Chamber of Commerce placed the welcome mat at the front door of the Armory on Water St. today as the second annual Greater Pontiac Home and Builders' Show opened with 35 local businesses participating.

Fifty-one booths are featuring the latest in home building and home furnishing materials with everything from the basic tools required for do-it-yourself projects to the finished product on display.

Show hours will be as follows: Today, 2 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday, 2 p.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Sunday, 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Added attraction of the Show is the specially constructed house which has been built directly across from the Armory.

This house has been designed to show the various steps of building process and insulation. Conventional plastering and contemporary dry wall sections will be left exposed for inspection.

Builders of this house, Fred Poole and John Benson, said their idea was to show people the raw materials going into home construction these days. Different types of windows, exterior finishes and floor finishes are displayed in this Show house.

The local banks will staff booths to explain about home construction and home improvement loans, builders will exhibit hundreds of different home plans as well as show materials available for construction today.

Many of the booths are displaying home improvement materials and giving information on how the home-owner can do his own work.

Other booths show everything from the most contemporary in floor covering to different types of wall treatments and clever window arrangements.

Serving as chairmen of the event this year are Fred Poole and Harry Zering. Dr. Donald Bergeron is publicity director and reports that proceeds from the show will go towards the youth projects conducted in this community by the Jaycees.

Certification Stalled

LANSING (AP)—The Board of State Canvassers has stalled certification of the April 4 election to permit central committees of both major parties to decide whether they want recounts in three close races. The board announced yesterday that it would not determine state ticket elections until about May 3.

Britons Catch Up on News

26-Day Vacuum Comes to End for 15 Million Readers

LONDON (AP)—A columnist in the Daily Sketch started off today: "When I was so rudely interrupted . . ."

The News Chronicle stoutly denied that it is dead. A Daily Express cartoon showed a gentleman in a bowler hat crawling around with a newspaper in his mouth while his wife explained to a neighbor: "He has to teach Rover—all over again—how to fetch our paper."

And the Daily Telegraph gave thanks that Britons now can stop trying to dig such Yankee jive as "Redwings rip Leafs as Canadians blank Bruins."

The great London newspaper strike was over.

After 26 days in a muzzel, the nationally distributed dailies, most of them in expanded editions, set out to tell their 15 million readers what they had missed.

Such chit-chat, for instance, as the retirement of Sir Winston Churchill and that a general election is coming up May 26.

Emulating its New York counterpart after Gotham's big strike, the Times carried a 12-page supplement which summarized the lost news day by day.

On the front page—where they always appear—were four solid columns of birth, death and marriage announcements. It was the first installment of a huge backlog.

The Telegraph published an eight-page supplement highlighting the

Stassen Warns Against One-Sided Disarmament

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's new disarmament expert warned today that the U. S. must never agree to disarm itself alone and accept "one-sided weakness" in its attempt to outlaw weapons of war.

Harold E. Stassen, special presidential assistant on disarmament problems, declared that unilateral action by the U. S. to give up its arsenal of atomic-hydrogen weapons "would be the trap door into the most horrible war and the most destructive century of struggle and slavery."

Sunny Skies Back, but Won't Remain

Sunny skies are back for a while, but weather forecasts say they won't last too long.

The outlook for tomorrow is partly cloudy with little change in temperature followed by more mild weather and scattered showers Saturday.

Tonight's low will be around 50 rising to a high of 64 to 68 tomorrow, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau. Tomorrow night's low will range from 46 to 50 degrees.

In downtown Pontiac Wednesday, temperatures ranged from a low of 46 to 56 at mid-afternoon, dropped to 33 and remained there most of the night. However, at about 7:30 this morning, the mercury started a sharp climb, hitting 66 at 10 a.m. and rising to 74 by 2 p.m.

Surprise Visit by U.S. Officials Worries Taipei

Formosa Believes Trip by Radford, Robertson Linked to Fate of Isles

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Official Taipei buzzed with worried conjecture today over the impending visit of Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson.

The reason for their visit is not clear here. Guesses range from an American decision to abandon the offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy to a decision to defend them.

In Washington, it was reported that Radford and Robertson, who left yesterday for Formosa only two hours after their trip was announced, were being sent to test Nationalist reaction to a cease-fire line down the middle of Formosa Strait.

The Nationalist and Chinese Communists alike have said they oppose such a cease-fire.

Radford and Robertson are expected to arrive Sunday.

Radford has always opposed withdrawals before Communist pressure, but Robertson, a State Department troubleshooter in the Far East, often has been the bearer of bad news to the Nationalists.

His visit last fall was followed by a coastal sanctuary ruling which stopped Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek from attacking the Reds from sea or air except when they attacked him first.

A Nationalist official told me today he was not surprised at the sudden alarm in Washington over the Communist buildup of airfields along the Formosa Strait.

He said, however, that he as well as most other Nationalist officials were stunned at the "fiendish" speed with which the Reds have advanced their building program.

This official, who asked that his name not be used, explained that he used the word "fiendish" purposely because the speed was possible only with impressed labor driven at breakneck speed.

It has resulted in completion or near-completion of airfields and logistic lines which had not been expected for months. Red jet aircraft either already are at both ends of Formosa Strait or soon will be.

This official, whose information on Communist capabilities and intentions always has been good, said peace now depends on the West meeting the Red buildup gun for gun and plane for plane.

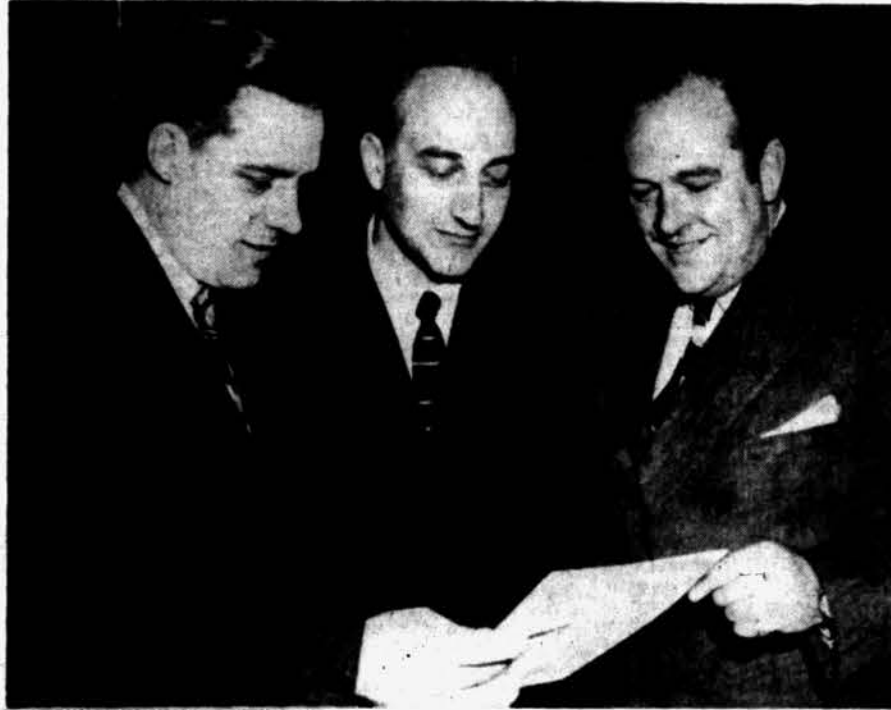

Offers King Farouk Job as Movie Actor

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Former King Farouk of Egypt, who is reported to be looking for a job, was offered work as a film star today by the Mayer Film Co. of Istanbul.

The company deposited a check for the equivalent of $18,000 with the Istanbul newspaper Milliyet as a guarantee.

An Italian newspaper reported recently that the former monarch is looking for work to support himself in exile, and not finding any.

DISCUSS TURNPIKE—Three Oakland County men active in efforts to abolish the Michigan Turnpike Authority discussed strategy before last night's public hearing on the issue in Lansing. Stover, chairman of the protective association's fact-finding committee.

Ike Foreign Aid Request Meets Rough Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's foreign aid program ran into stormy waters in Congress today, with Sens. Byrd (D-Va.) and Potter (R-Mich.) demanding elimination of direct economic assistance to U. S. Allies.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) proposed in a separate interview that the President's request for $3,530,000,000 in military and economic help for friendly nations be sliced below three billion dollars.

The vigor of objections and some obvious lack of enthusiasm by some administration supporters appeared to spell trouble for the program Eisenhower said would be directed primarily at Asia.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee showed disinclination to tackle the problem immediately. Each said he would let the other house act on it first.

Richards' proposal to delay final consideration of the measure until the Senate acts was supported by Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.) and Gordon (D-Ill.), members of the House committee.

Gordon said he thinks the Senate will make "deep cuts" and he wants to avoid a "wide gap" between House and Senate bills.

But Rep. Morano (R-Conn.), another committee member, said "we have an obligation to consider this measure, and we should go ahead with it, without waiting for the Senate."

Byrd, who long has urged government economy, said he is "opposed to starting another large program in Asia."

"In my judgment, the time has come to eliminate all economic aid to other countries except for a reasonable amount of 'point four' technical assistance to underdeveloped countries," he said.

F.D.R.'s Doctor Has Good Word for Ike's Golfing

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The personal physician to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt today championed President Eisenhower's golf-playing.

"He's got to do something to relax," Dr. Ross T. McIntire said. "I don't know why there's all this criticism for playing golf."

Dr. McIntire, a stocky, robust man of 67, was President Roosevelt's personal physician for 12 years. The doctor is here to address members of the Kentucky chapter of the International College of Surgeons.

Baby Goes Too as Guardsman Answers Alert

BOSTON (AP)—Anthony J. Saponaro, a Massachusetts National Guard staff sergeant, didn't let a baby-sitting problem interfere with his part in "Operation Minuteman."

His wife was out and he was baby-sitting with his year-old son Jan when the alert was sounded. So he took the baby with him.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Roland R. Wright knew he had to hurry to the air field when the National Guard alert was sounded yesterday evening.

He's a lieutenant colonel in the Air National Guard and commanding officer of the 191st Fighter-Bomber Squadron.

But when the practice alarm went off, he was putting down concrete in the driveway that leads to his garage. And in the garage was his car.

After some fast shoveling, he scooped away enough of the wet concrete so he could get out his car and drive to the air field.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—National Guard Maj. A. Kenneth Palmer found himself in the role of an American Revolutionary War minuteman yesterday.

When the "Operation Minuteman" test alert came, Palmer was behind a plow on his farm in Wapping.

His wife shouted across the field and, like a minuteman of the Revolution, Palmer left his plow and hurried off to join his unit.

DETROIT (INS) — New York salesman and National Guardsman Abraham Hiday, 25, caught in a downtown Detroit hotel, 750 miles from his unit, by last night's "operation minuteman," came through anyway.

Hiday, attached to headquarters company, 42nd Infantry Division of New York City but on a business trip, took a cab to Detroit's Piquette Street Armory, and reported for duty.

Surprised top brass put Hiday to work in the office and notified his New York unit.

1,500 Citizens Urge Abolishing Toll Road Body

Senate Highway Group to Take Matter Under Advisement

By BURDETT C. STODDARD
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

LANSING — More than 400 Oakland County residents were present last night to give voice against the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw toll road at the largest legislative hearing in Michigan's history.

Nearly 1,500 cheering and clapping turnpike opponents, from all communities along the 113-mile route, gathered in the Senate.

They called on the Senate Road Committee to endorse a bill abolishing the Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA) introduced by Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

After the meeting, Sen. Haskell Nichols, chairman of the Highway Committee, said his group would take the proposals "under advisement." The public hearing was arranged by Nichols at Broomfield's request.

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler displayed a map of a planned four-lane freeway which would parallel the proposed turnpike route through South Oakland County, but swing west of Pontiac rather than east as the turnpike would.

Answering charges by the MTA that the free road scheme was hatched only since turnpike opposition began, Ziegler said, "Plans and surveys were begun more than four years ago and have been published in most of the important newspapers on the route."

The Pontiac Press was first to publish the map on Nov. 3, 1951, he stated, with a detailed article explaining the project.

"On Nov. 8, 1951, the Pontiac Press also treated the announcement editorially saying it was 'good news for all motorists,'" the commissioner stated.

The free road would connect with the Detroit expressway system, then move north entering Oakland County at the southeast corner of Southfield Township.

From there it would span Southfield and Bloomfield Townships intersecting Telegraph road near the corner of Franklin road just south of Pontiac.

It would follow Telegraph road to near the Sylvan Lake city limits then swing northwest for about a mile on the general line of Voorhees road hitting Highland road and then running north by passing Drayton Plains and Waterford.

Senate Jumps Road Hurdles

Increases Truck Fee, Kills Fund Distribution Plag Favoring North

LANSING (AP)—The Senate hoped today it had removed two of the major obstacles to a legislative agreement on a new highway expansion program for Michigan.

Twice yesterday the Senate voted to overcome hurdles which had blocked the original Peltz highway bill in a House-Senate dispute.

First, the chamber voted 17-13 to impose a 10 per cent increase in truck license fees. The House, which originally voted for a 25 per cent increase, was angry because the Senate earlier rejected any increase.

Second, the Senate defeated the so-called Roy Amendment to the original Peltz bill.

This amendment would have taken highway funds away from 14 larger southern counties and given them to smaller counties, mostly in northern Michigan, by distributing the new money to counties on the basis of their primary road mileage.

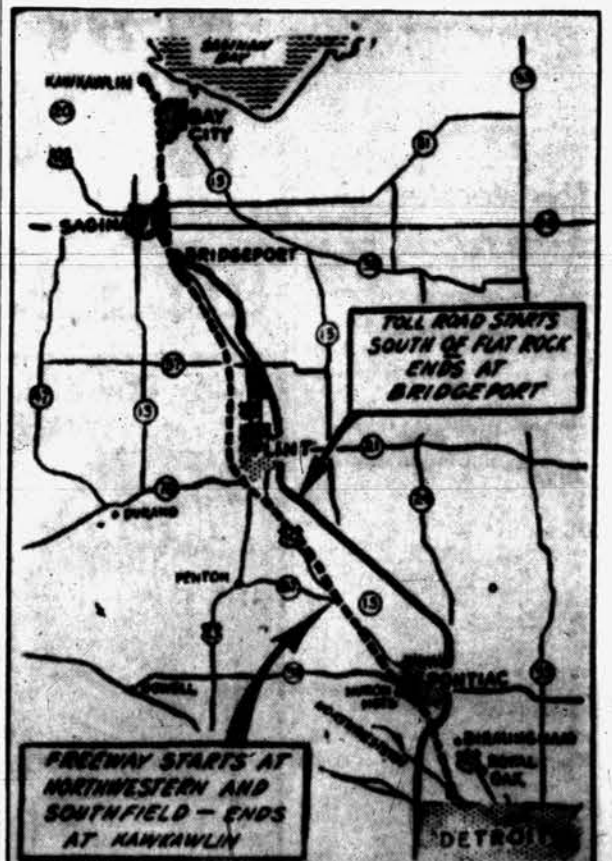

Counties now get their highway money on a formula including total county mileage, car registrations and population.

The bill, which may face a final vote today, provides a gasoline tax increase from 4½ cents a gallon to 6 cents.

Picket Violence Again Hits Plant

2 Hurt, Car Damaged at Strike-Bound Sperry Gyroscope Co.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (U)—Violence broke out today for the second day at the huge strike-bound plant of the Sperry Gyroscope Co.

Two men were reported injured and several automobiles were damaged as CIO electrical workers resumed mass picketing at the plant, closed since midnight Monday in a dispute over a new contract.

About 300 pickets took positions at the main entrances, rocked automobiles of nonstriking workers attempting to enter and rode radio aerials and rear-view mirrors off the cars.

A company spokesman said the Sperry labor lawyer, Jessie Friedman, was assaulted as he started through the picket lines. He managed to get through, but suffered a cut lip that required stitches to close. A policeman was reported to have suffered a bloody nose.

The company spokesman said the picketing was more effective than yesterday, when a nonstriker trying to enter the plant, collapsed and died of a heart attack. In yesterday's disturbance, a policeman received a fractured leg and a striker a broken arm.

The spokesman said fewer non-strikers entered the plant today. A number were said to have decided not to try to pass the lines of pickets. All production was stopped at the plant, which supplies electronics equipment for the armed forces.

Nassau County assigned 12 policemen, and Lake Success sent 10 police to the plant to attempt to maintain order, but the company spokesman said this force was insufficient to stop the disorders.

The company has a force of 90 security officers, working 12-hour shifts, but their chief job is to protect the plant.

Rail Unions Reject Plan to End Strike

ATLANTA (U)—Nonoperating unions of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad have rejected a proposal by Southern governors to end their 30-day walkout immediately. They say the strike would have to continue until any arbitration is completed.

But plans for a special governors' appeal to the Southern Bell Telephone Co. and the striking Communications Workers of America (CWA) to resolve their differences continued to move forward today.

Six governors and representatives of six others met in Nashville Tuesday to discuss the rail and telephone strikes. They called for an immediate end to the rail walkout, with arbitration to settle differences. The governors named a subcommittee composed of Govs. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, James Folsom of Alabama and Hugh White of Mississippi to meet with Southern Bell and union representatives Saturday morning in Atlanta in an effort to end the telephone strike.

Students Faint After Bus Ride

Authorities Today Seek Reason for Waterford Pupils Passing Out

Authorities today were attempting to determine what caused five Waterford Township students to pass out yesterday evening after alighting from a school bus at Marlington and Hatchery Roads.

A fire department inhalator crew administered first aid to the children who later were rushed to Pontiac General Hospital in three separate ambulances.

Hospital authorities said they were unable to find any cause which might explain the fainting spells. Police Chief Frank J. VanAtta said the school bus in which four of the students had been riding was checked for a possible carbon monoxide leak, but none was found.

The students, Glen Rabreau, 13, of 4704 Riverview, and his sister Delores, 14; Bruce Hensley, 14, of 2786 Marlinton St.; Linda Carol Teague, 13, of 2306 Pauline and her sister Sharon, 11, told VanAtta they were standing on the corner when Glen fainted first.

"It's beyond me," said VanAtta, "we can't trace it to carbon monoxide or mass hysteria. One fainted and the others followed."

Sharon, who had not been on the bus, passed out after she saw her sister faint. VanAtta said Sharon, a Pontiac Lake School student, said she may have passed out because of fright. The others attend Isaac Crary Junior High School.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Montgomery of 575 E. Mansfield Ave., she had been reported in critical condition. She is recovering in Pontiac General Hospital.

Fire Engine 'Chasers' in Violation of Laws

Motorists who follow fire engines within 500 feet during fire calls are in violation of a state law and city ordinance, Pontiac Police cautioned today.

Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the traffic and accident bureau, said the ruling also covers curiosity seekers who flock to the scene of fires and interfere with duties of firefighters.

Korean, who had been asked to make the warning by the fire department, said motorists violating the ruling may be cited with traffic tickets and brought to court. He added that motorists should use extra care in driving cars over fire hoses near fire scenes.

The Day in Birmingham 3-Month Report Shows Accident Rate Increase

BIRMINGHAM—“Overall accident picture for the first quarter of 1955 shows a serious increase over the same period in 1954,” said Chief of Police Ralph Moxley in releasing the March accident summary.

Of the total of 132 accidents in the quarter, 79 have resulted from three types of traffic violations, the chief reported.

If the violations of “following too closely,” “misuse of right of way” and “improper passing” had not been committed, he pointed out, 12 people would not have been injured and over $21,000 in property loss would have been prevented.

Moxley said, however, “a remarkable improvement over the February accident rate was shown in March.” Accidents in March totaled 31 as against February's 59. Estimated damage was $5,460 in March and $16,263 in the previous month.

Residents are being warned by the department that officers are instructed to watch particularly for the types of violations listed.

Prisoners Protest Closing of Railway

DARTMOOR PRISON, England—A protest against the closing of the Princetown - Plymouth branch railway line was sounded yesterday by all people—prisoners of Dartmoor.

going anywhere right now, they petitioned the British Railways System not to shut down the branch line, scheduled soon for economy reasons.

A prison official explained: "There is quite a sentimental attachment inside to what they call the 7:35 'Freedom Express'."

"That's the early morning train for which the men are given a free ticket when they are released."

Viet Nam Worried by Private Armies

DALLAS, Tex. (U)—Private armies, not communism, are his country's greatest problem, says the vice-governor of South Viet Nam.

Cao Thai Bao made no attempt to underestimate the Communist threat to his country, he said. But he pointed to gunplay in Saigon recently as a more immediate threat.

"There are 40,000 well-armed and trained fighting men in South Viet Nam belonging to three private armies," he said in the interview.

"Two containing 35,000 men are religious organizations. But the third is political. It's this army of 5,000 men under former regular army Gen. Le Van Vien that's attacking the administration," said Bao.

Monkey Hunter Enjoying Boom

Increases Demand and Prices in India

NEW DELHI (U)—Monkey hunting has become one of India's fastest growing enterprises, supplying raw material for polio vaccine.

Two weeks ago it looked as if monkey dealers, restrained by government action virtually banning Simian exports, were heading toward bankruptcy after a relatively short period of prosperity. Today their future appears brighter than ever. The government has relaxed its restrictions, and the Salk vaccine which is made with monkey kidneys has been declared a success — assuring India's monkey trade a steady market. One monkey can yield up to 2,500 vaccinations.

If anything worries monkey dealers, it is that the demand will spur competition and cut profits by forcing a steep rise in the price they pay hunters.

During 1953, when some 1,800 monkeys were exported, dealers here paid jungle hunters about $1.25 a monkey. Last year — the first year Salk vaccine was extensively tested — monkey exports rocketed to 6,400 and prices doubled. Now there are predictions the dealer may be forced to pay hunters $4, with the success of Salk vaccine expected to boost the annual demand 100,000 monkeys.

Girl, 14, Pens Love Note in Sand, Shoots Herself

RIPLEY, Ohio (U)—A 14-year-old girl penciled her message of love in the sand and then shot herself to death yesterday along the banks of the Ohio River, Brown County officials reported.

Authorities said Carolyn Riddle, an eighth grade pupil, wrote: "Can't live without you, Jerry, I love you so, I can't live."

Jurors Can Take Nip During Recess in Trial

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—The Oklahoma Criminal Court of Appeals has ruled that liquor drinking by jurors during a trial recess is not grounds for a mistrial unless they get drunk.

However, the court held that any drinking after the case has been submitted to jurors is grounds for a mistrial.

Oklahoma is constitutionally dry.

Molotov Makes Smart Move

Austrian Treaty Designed to Prevent Rearmament of Germany

By CHARLES W. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Russia's strategy, in its offer to sign a treaty restoring Austrian independence, is still not clear.

One thing is certain. The Soviet government has not, after all these years, suddenly become eager to free Austria.

It is obviously trying, by indirect means, to keep Austria's neighbor West Germany from arming and joining the Western alliance against Communist aggression.

On the surface it really does look as if the Kremlin has offered to sign a reasonable Austrian independence treaty, and to withdraw its occupation troops from the country by next December 31.

That, if it turns out to be true, is a most surprising development. The Soviet government does not customarily withdraw its troops voluntarily from any country in which it has managed to plant them.

That is one reason for suspicion as to the Kremlin's good faith.

Another reason, of course, is that the Kremlin seldom acts in good faith in its relations with the West anyway.

Hence there well may be a diplomatic sleeper in the Russian treaty offer.

When the time for negotiation comes, the United States, Great Britain and France may find that the Kremlin will wish on the troop withdrawal offer—that it will cite West German armament as a reason why it must keep troops in Austria.

Alternatively, it may be that the Russians will demand such drastic guarantees of Austrian neutrality as between East and West that Austrian sovereignty would not be restored.

In any event, it is generally agreed that Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov has made a smart move.

Molotov failed in his desperate attempt to prevent the negotiation and ratification of the treaties providing for West Germany's arming.

Now he is trying to sabotage the armament program by offering Austria its freedom.

Immediate suspicion was expressed in Washington of the good faith of the Russian offer.

But the reaction in Austria was enthusiastic. Austrians are quite willing to guarantee their neutrality if only they can get foreign troops out of their country.

The reaction in West Germany also was what Molotov must have hoped. Many Germans opposed bitterly, and still oppose, the idea of rearming and joining the West. They would like to keep out of the cold war—and of any hot war.

These Germans asked at once why, if Austria could get its freedom by promising neutrality, Germany could not do likewise.

Officials Declare Supply of Salk Vaccine Is Ample

With vaccination of Michigan's first and second grade school children against polio proceeding smoothly, there still is some bad news from Detroit.

According to reports from there the cherry red liquid expected to conquer polio eventually, is being sold on a gray market. Almost anyone with the right "connections" said one report, could obtain at least a three shot supply even before the vaccine began going to the first and second graders.

Dr. ALBERT E. HEUSTIS, State Health Commissioner, warns that there is no need to attempt purchase of the vaccine from unethical sources.

"We have sufficient vaccine on hand for all the State's first and second graders," he said, "and we understand that additional vaccine will be made available to those needing it most."

In fact the vaccine outlook is so favorable that plans now are afoot to provide it for all Michigan children of 10 years or younger. Pharmaceutical houses have told Dr. HEUSTIS that the State could obtain all the vaccine it needs in 60 days and at low cost—80 cents a dose.

State officials now are considering an idea first advanced by Dr. ROBERT H. BAKER of Pontiac, president of the Michigan State Medical Society. He proposed that vaccine left after the mass immunization be allocated to those age groups most susceptible and to pregnant women.

We cannot urge too strongly that anxious parents avoid contributing to a gray market in vaccine. Let's do everything we can to keep this fight against polio on the highest possible plane.

Judge Would Use TB San to House Feeble-Minded

Awaiting action in the Legislature are three resolutions growing out of a plan proposed by Probate Judge ARTHUR E. MOORE for housing feeble-minded juveniles.

One of the Senate resolutions would create an interim committee to study this proposal. Twin Senate and House resolutions would transfer control of the Howell Sanatorium from the Sanatorium commission to the State Mental Health Commission.

The Moore plan is based on the obvious fact that facilities for combatting the White Plague are not all being used. Under this plan all Howell patients would be transferred to other sanatoriums.

This would make room for the care of some 500 feeble minded persons now on the list of 769 awaiting admission to the Lapeer Home and Training School. Of the 500 Judge Moore suggests moving to Howell, 200 are nursery cases and 300 are custodial, hard to handle and bed cases.

In discussing his plan Judge MOORE made the very sensible suggestion that the transfer of control at Howell should not be permanent. His idea is that the facilities there should be used only until others are provided for the care of mental defectives.

There isn't any doubt about the need for additional facilities. Recent shocking crimes have emphasized it. Judge MOORE believes juvenile authorities must have jurisdiction over youthful offenders past the present 16 year age limit and possibly up to 25.

We are in complete agreement with Judge MOORE's opinion that all hearings on these resolutions should be open to the public. As he says, the problem of providing care of these mental defectives is one that can be solved only "by a combined effort of all citizens."

Certainly the Legislature owes it to the people of Michigan to give this proposal careful and sympathetic consideration.

Warren's Wise Stand

The Nation is fortunate in having as its Chief Justice a man who thoroughly understands the necessity of keeping our highest court free of political entanglements.

Chief Justice WARREN wisely made his position clear after a public opinion poll showed him the leading choice for the 1956 GOP nomination if President EISENHOWER should decide not to run. Twenty-five per cent of Republicans questioned and 31 per cent of the independents favored California's former governor.

There wasn't any quibbling in the Chief Justice's statement. He left no doubt about being through with politics. To emphasize the point he said he was increasingly happy in his work and that his decision is "irrevocable."

The danger of talk about drafting a Chief Justice to run for any political office can't be overemphasized. Such a precedent would bring men holding this post under suspicion of rendering decisions to advance their political ambitions.

Our Supreme Court must be kept free of politics.

The Man About Town

White Cane Week Causes Pontiac Club to Call Attention to Law Observance

Clothes: What make women and break men.

You may not have known it, but you were breaking a Michigan state law when you failed to stop your car when you saw a white cane in the upraised hand of a pedestrian about to cross the street. It means that person is blind. According to President John Zeunen of the Pontiac Lions Club, next week has been designated as White Cane Week, and the members of the local club will sell miniature white canes to be worn on your coat lapel. The proceeds will go to the club's fund for the securing of more leader dogs for the blind.

Batting averages of the five top players in the American League on Thursday morning are:

	AB	R	H	Per.
Kelce, Det.	22	4	14	.636
Nelson, Chi.	11	2	6	.545
Johnson, Bos.	22	9	10	.455
Fox, Chi.	22	2	10	.455
Swanson, N.Y.	22	5	12	.455

With evidence right in his own home of what it means, no wonder Oakland County's own

Philip A. Hart, Lieutenant Governor (and now Acting Governor) of Michigan, is such a relentless foe of polio. His lovely daughter now is convalescing from an attack suffered last year.

Watch your speedometer when driving through Killekat County in the State of Washington. On a recent visit there, Robert D. Long, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney of Oakland County, was made a deputy sheriff.

President of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association,

Lee O. Clark, says the battle isn't even half won, although the enemy is rapidly retreating. A serious counterattack will result, he says, if we give the slightest quarter or make even a minimum letup in the fight.

When he made a wager last Christmas with his cousin that he would be the first to go swimming this spring, Roger Beaumont of Pontiac Lake (and the cousin) were unaware that he might have some advantage. Roger took his first 1955 outdoor dip Tuesday, but the cousin whose family has since moved to the south shore of Lake Superior, writes that the ice is still piled "house high" on its shore.

Getting a little chesty about this turnpike argument is the architect of this column. It now appears that any big highway improvement in this area will follow the route given me in an exclusive interview with Charles M. Ziegler, State Highway Commissioner, and published in the Pontiac Press in 1953—the limited access highway to go west of Pontiac.

David Lawrence Says:

Presidency Badly in Need of Complete Revamping

WASHINGTON—When the White House announced the other day that a firm of management engineers had been employed "to make a thorough and objective study of the present and probable future space requirements of the presidency as an institution," it was doubtless assumed that only the physical problem of rearranging the scattered offices was involved.

But there's more to it than new buildings and wings to be added to present structures. The truth is that "the presidency as an institution" has grown bigger than any one man. No man can perform the duties of chief of state, with the countless audiences to greet visitors with scores of little speeches—delivered usually to satisfy congressional requests—and also carry on the policy-making function on both the administrative and legislative sides. There just isn't enough time and enough mental energy available for any one man to do what is required today by the presidency.

Having observed through several presidential terms the workings of the executive offices and having talked with the many secretaries who have handled the presidential office in preceding terms, this writer has witnessed a momentous evolution in the executive establishment during the last four decades.

The basic concept held by most people is that the President is a sort of general manager, which means he is held responsible for the important decisions in administering the vast departments and bureaus created by Congress. But he is also the policy-maker on both domestic and foreign questions and must make legislative recommendations besides. While all this is carried out in his name, the public is unaware of the many anonymous advisers who play a part in those fateful decisions.

Obviously the President needs assistants. They should not be technical men without a background of experience in national and international affairs, but good all-around men of national stature. The anomaly prevails today that "administrative assistants" or "special assistants" wield more power and influence than do Cabinet members. Eisenhower has been able to get some men to serve only because he has invited them to attend Cabinet meetings, thus giving them the feeling that they are part of the Cabinet team though not possessing any titles bestowed by Congress.

The problem is not new. Other Presidents have let persons outside the Cabinet come to Cabinet meetings and have given them broad authority in his name to formulate important policies. This is a loosely set up and in some respects, an invisible government. The public doesn't know who is or is not accountable for public policy, and the press is kept in the dark, too, because of the passion for anonymity which some administrative assistants cultivate as a means of avoiding public controversy.

The ideal situation for America would be to require that ten to twenty more Cabinet members be appointed at the discretion of a President, but with confirmation by the Senate stipulated. These men could be obliged to give their full time to the presidential office without any direct responsibility for any particular department. Departmental secretaries could be appointed, just as the secretaries of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force today operate these three big departments but do not sit in the Cabinet because the secretary of defense is there in their behalf.

A Cabinet committee of three could act in a supervisory capacity with respect not only to the government departments but to the executive agencies and independent commissions. The remaining members of the Cabinet would have the primary function of advising the President on everything. What has messed up the picture in the past has been the intersection of advice to a President from the outside—by persons who have no responsibility to the public or the Congress but who enjoy a telephone friendship with a President.

Such an irregular and irresponsible activity would not be tolerated if a Cabinet council were set up with full responsibility alongside the President. It could screen outside suggestions and evaluate them in full discussion with the President.

Eisenhower recently gave unofficial status of Cabinet rank to Harold Stassen to handle the all-important problem of disarmament. Yet this is an international question and belongs theoretically at least in the Department of State. What would have made this unnecessary would have been the creation inside the State Department of a council of seven men of national prestige who could give their full time to policy-making. They could advise the secretary of state just as a Cabinet advises a President.

There's need for more personnel, advisers, more assistants for the chief executive on both the administrative and policy-making sides, but it is desirable that the whole institution of the presidency be reorganized on a more systematic and orderly plan rather than be left to the haphazard basis on which a President operates today. The Congress, moreover, should provide by law for the new establishment instead of letting it drift along as at present without coordination or, indeed, responsibility directly to Congress or the people.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Scolding Husband Who Has Strayed Will Only Drive Him Further Away

Note how Alice started fighting fire with fire. Soon her husband's paramour began to nag and scold, which of course made him stay away from her and remain with Alice. You can prevent divorces by using the proper psychological techniques, so use this scientific column as insurance for a happy home.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case 0-310: Alice W., aged 33, is the crestfallen wife whom I mentioned yesterday as having learned her husband was infatuated with a girl who worked at the same factory with him.

So I offered her the standard psychological advice: "Fight fire with fire."

I also gave her that diet booklet by which she lost 18 pounds in the first 18 days. Then she shifted to the second diet plan described therein and lost another 3 pounds per week.

Inside of 10 weeks, she had regained her bridal weight of 123 lbs. so she no longer looked like a fat, motherly old soul. Meanwhile, I had urged her never to mention the other girl to her husband.

And never scold your mate or make a scene whenever he comes in the house, unless you really want a divorce instead of a restored happy home.

For there is a law in psychology which you married folks, both wives and husbands, should paste on your bathroom mirror so you can read it afresh every morning it says:

"Neither man nor the lower animals will voluntarily return to a person or a place where he has previously been pained."

And pain among human beings includes such psychological things as a belittled ego from scolding, reprimands, tongue-lashings, etc. "But he deserves to be scolded."

'New Dog Ordinance Shouldn't Irritate Owners Who Think Enough of Pets'

Letters will be condemned when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters and these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

May I reply to "On Looker" and "H.L." by saying their arguments just don't make sense to me. Some people bellyache about all laws that are passed for the good of the majority.

They speak of the things a poor dog has to go through not stopping to think that they are not compelled to keep one. So the law will not bother the people who keep a dog, think enough of it, and do not allow the animal to bother other people.

I wonder if they know that a farmer who owns no stock does not have to put up fences; but if his neighbor does the neighbor must build the fences and not allow his animals to molest others. If he doesn't he must pay the damages caused by them, if any.

Anyone who knows the habits of dogs knows that they do cause damage summer or winter. I didn't say I loved them, just said I didn't hate them.

Cats Next

I read with interest what "Dog Lover" and "Another Dog Lover" wrote in this column. All I can say is that there must be a lot of people who do not like their dogs, as recently there were four dogs in my backyard and they all had a license tag.

Maybe dog lovers think that a license gives the dogs the right to run anywhere. I think our City Commission did a good deed and I don't think you would get very many fair minded people who would sign a petition to get it canceled.

I like dogs but not on my lawn or around my shrubbery.

Love of My Neighbor's Rights

I don't know how the dog tax dollar is spent, but it seems to me some should be spent to help a little.

the dog that has been taken from his house and tied out to take the weather as it comes.

He can see his house but he can't get into it as he is too far from it. He just sits and looks at the house hoping someone will either move him closer to his house or bring the house closer to him.

If children are not taught to love and care for their pets, how can we expect them to have any love for their playmates? If dog is man's best friend, then who is dog's best friend? Certainly not the owners of this little dog.

One Who Cares

We have had dog and cat complaints, now let's have roosters. Maybe dogs and cats are all over your lawn but have you ever listened to roosters crowing from daylight until I don't know when as it is 6:30 a.m. and they are still crowing.

Just thought one more complaint wouldn't hurt. Polio shots are wonderful.

Proposes Hospitals for Sex Deviates

This is to "Eye for an Eye" and all who feel that capital punishment is our solution. How about a county mental hospital for sex deviates only? Such a hospital could be built and supported by the people of each county in every county in Michigan.

Yes, this would be a great expense but "many hands make less work," or in this case, many helping hands make less crime! With the support of every person in each and every county, it would be the simplest and the most effective way to a solution.

How much do you value the lives of your own children in terms of money? I'm sure you couldn't put a price tag on them. Therefore, wouldn't it be worth your very own happiness to contribute a few dollars a year toward protecting your own child and helping someone else's?

What sort of punishment would you suggest for little 12-year-old Terry? Would you really want this boy executed? After all, he has committed the very crime for which you are asking capital punishment!

She praised him by verbal compliments and melted into his arms with fervor when he kissed her. And her slender waist line made him feel young and kittenish again, so he began to stay home.

This made the paramour angry, and she started scolding and criticizing, so he found it even more comfortable to remain with his wife.

Divorces are easily avoided if you employ good psychology. Start now! If you are fat, send for the dieting bulletin mentioned yesterday.

And to get up-to-date on marital technique, send for the booklet, "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Pieces of Throat Muscle Often Taken With Tonsils

By WILLIAM BRADY
 I doubt whether any doctor who finds a child's tonsils enlarged at this time of year can foretell that the tonsils will not shrink to "normal" size by the end of summer if the child gets a fair break in the way of outdoor play for hours every day.

The ever-ready operator who attempts to "get every bit of tonsil" doesn't always know just what he is getting, for he must work more or less blindly because of the blood covered field.

Examination of what was removed in 1,000 tonsillectomies showed, besides tonsil and adenoid (lymphoid) tissue, portions of throat muscle in several instances. Good surgeons and throat specialists had performed the operations and a pathologist of standing made the microscopic examinations. The revealing report, which appeared in JAMA, should make any person who uses his or her voice professionally hesitate to submit to tonsillectomy.

After all, it is understandable that even a good surgeon, dissecting away in a gory field, should occasionally remove a piece of throat muscle in his eagerness to "get every bit of tonsil."

If you think about the tonsil problem it is important to distinguish as clearly as possible infected tonsils from enlarged tonsils.

No matter what you do, you can't bring back what has been taken from you. Let's forget revenge and start giving help! The greatness in a man is his willingness to forgive. What about that hospital?

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
 (International News Service)

They've developed solar energy at New York University by turning the spotlight on basketball activities.

Sunlight energy falling on one city block on an April day is equivalent to 2,000 tons of coal. And the waste paper to start it off.

When I lived with Runyon on Hibiscus Island he had a solar plant in his roof. It furnished enough hot water for a bird bath.

It was supposed to develop blister-power for cooking. But we never had to wear amber-glasses to field a hard-boiled egg.

Now NYU has complicated a sky-rocket service for the prismatic diathermy of refracted waffles. Your next cook must be able to play the sun field.

When the chef asks you if you want your steak cloudy or sun-burned you give him a circular nod and tell him to put it away for a rainy day.

Experiment with a radiated bungalow has been successful in Massachusetts. The family spends the winters in Florida.

The main trouble with a diathermic sun-burn in the kitchen stove is you have to take the rain for gravy.

The sun is more economical than coal. But they can't back it up and dump it in your cellar.

You're never going to use a weather report for a cook book.

You don't need solar fermentation in July when you can fry an egg on the sidewalk. And who wants freckled pancakes?

Heating with solar rays is in its infancy. But our janitor isn't. And we don't want him to get a sunstroke.

An agricultural expert received an inquiry from an amateur poultry-keeper, who asked: "How long should a fowl be allowed to sit on its eggs?"

The expert replied: "Three weeks for chickens; four weeks for ducks."

A month went by, and the poultry-keeper sent another letter: "I let the hen sit on the eggs for three weeks," he said, "and no ducks, so I took her off the nest and sold the eggs."

Falling for Years,
but Still Not Afraid

HOLYOKE, Mass. (UP)—Albert A. Quenneville has been falling for 40 years, but he still has no sign of hypophobia.

The sturdy, 51-year-old citizen had his first and most memorable tumble at the age of 11. He

At the age of 27 he was flying an airplane at 1,200 feet when it plummeted into an apple orchard. The shattered cockpit scratched his nose.

And 15 years ago he was repairing a house when the staging began to sway dangerously.

Quenneville did the safest thing—jumped two stories to the ground. Not a scratch.

Asked if he had developed hypophobia, or fear of high places, he answered simply: "I don't mind heights."

Carving of Initials
Common in College

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Students at the university level haven't outgrown the urge to carve their initials on school desks, according to John Ponti, carpenter shop supervisor at the University of Wisconsin.

Ponti and his 21 helpers, who keep busy repairing chairs and classroom furniture at the university, have found that students do most of their chair-busting in the toughest courses and during examinations.

"The students get restless and shift about," Ponti said. Ponti said that long-term residents of dormitories seem to take the best care of their furniture, and that women students are easier on furniture than the males.

Airport Runway to Go
Across Railroad Track

STOCKHOLM (UP)—This summer will be hotter than ever for traffic officers at Visby Airport. They have to guide planes down safely as usual, but at the same time they must look out for trains crossing the runways.

only town on the Gotland Island in the Baltic. Another runway is to be built to take care of DC-8 ships, but it must cross an already existing railroad. Five times a day officials will have to stop trains at this unique railroad-runway junction before giving landing planes the green light.

State Lawyer Rewrites War

Errors in Encyclopedia Corrected by Grandson of 2 Confederate Vets

LUDINGTON — Attorney Edward E. Barthel, whose collection of Civil War literature is believed the largest in Michigan, is revising the Encyclopedia Britannica section devoted to the classic struggle.

Barthel says he was asked to rework the Civil War section after he criticized some of its history as recorded in the encyclopedia.

His first check from the publishing company, dated May 1954, decorated the entrance to his law offices.

Most of the encyclopedia's Civil War coverage was compiled by English professors, before official records of the "war of the rebellion" were released by Congress, Barthel says.

Army records were published in 1904 and Navy records were completed in 1927, according to the Ludington attorney.

He says his grandfathers both fought as members of the Confederate army.

Barthel, born in Tennessee, believes he has an unbiased opinion of the war. He has resided in the North, in Chicago a great part of the time, since 1915.

He claims he was "raised on the battlefields at Nashville and picked up spent bullets as a boy."

Barthel began his enthusiastic study of the Civil War about 10 years ago while convalescing from surgery. He termed it "purely intellectual exercise."

His library collection of Civil War material totals more than 1,000 books, including copies of official Army and Navy records. Barthel says his interest in the subject is sustained through correspondence with other Civil War students throughout the nation.

Meanwhile, for diversion, Barthel's hobbies include music composition and the study of Greek mythology.

Water Surgery Saves Bat Ray From Blindness

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. — It took an underwater eye operation to save "charlie" from being blind as a bat ray.

Charlie, a bat ray by nature and an actor by profession, was bumping into the sides of the big aquarium where he and a host of other finny denizens live. A doctor diagnosed his troubles as damaged corneas.

Since Charlie was a favorite with divers and spectators at the Marineland of the Pacific, a delicate corneal transplant was decided on to restore the 3-year-old, 50-pound bat ray's sight.

Dr. H. George Blasdel, attending eye surgeon at the Los Angeles General Hospital, osteopathic unit, performed the operation yesterday—in 22 feet of water. Dr. Blasdel thought Charlie would survive it better under normal pressure in his natural habitat.

Both the doctor and a diver who acted as his assistant were diving masks during the 23-minute operation, in which a cornea from a "donor" bat ray was transplanted to Charlie's eye. The donor didn't volunteer. He was caught at sea, just as Charlie was originally.

After the operation the donor fish was destroyed to prevent it from suffering. Charlie, under only a local anesthetic, was released from his operating pallet and was soon swimming friskily about.

Another operation may be performed later to fix his other eye, which is failing.

There are 44.5 million bathtubs in residences in the United States, and at least one-third of them have equipment which is 40 or more years old.

Firemen Rescue Girl Dangling From Tree

DETROIT — Ten-year-old Charlene Webb, usually adept at swinging through trees, caught her foot between two branches.

She hung on like a monkey. Her father unsuccessfully tried to free her. He called the police. They couldn't do it either.

They called the fire department. Ladder group 19 clanged to the scene. The firemen had the answer.

Out came a hydraulic jack. The branches were split apart and Charlene climbed down.

Accused Actress Is Declared Insane

CHICAGO — A criminal court jury yesterday found insane an actress who was accused of killing her 3-year-old daughter with sleeping pills. A psychiatrist testified she had a "five year history of drug addiction."

The actress, Mrs. Lola Kathryn DeWitt, 26, was accused of causing the death of the child, Fancy Stewart, by giving her an overdose of sleeping pills last February.

Mrs. DeWitt played in "Pajama Tops" in its recent Chicago run. Dr. William H. Haines, director of the Cook County Behavior Clinic, said Mrs. DeWitt was addicted to dope and was committable to the state mental hospital.

Ascension Isle Eyed by U.S.

Lonely South Atlantic Outpost Would Be Used as Missile Terminal

WASHINGTON — Ascension, a bleak South Atlantic island that once was actually manned as a warship, may regain its former stature as a place of military vantage.

The United States and Great Britain have been negotiating for the use of Ascension as the terminus of a 5,000-mile guided missile range starting at Florida. The British-owned island lies less than eight degrees below the Equator, about midway between Brazil and Africa.

Twice before in history military forces have occupied the desolate crest of rust-red volcanic rock simply because of its strategic location, the National Geographic Society says. During World War II Ascension-bound pilots were sent on their way with this jest: "You'll find it. Can't miss it—ain't nothing else nowhere near it."

The island covers only 34 square miles, half the area of the District of Columbia. Born of a volcano, its soilless surface is pimpled with 40 fire-scared cones, its back ribbed with broken lava flows and ashy rubble.

An early traveler called it a "blot on the fair surface of this earth." In truth, the island's one scenic spot is a tiny oasis atop the highest elevation, 2,817-foot, Green Mountain.

The lonely mid-ocean speck was discovered by the Portuguese Jono da Nova on Ascension Day, 1501. He quickly left.

Ascension remained unoccupied until Napoleon was exiled to equally remote St. Helena, 800 miles to the southeast, in 1815. Fearing that Ascension might be used as the base for a rescue attempt, the British took possession. Warships patrolled the island until Napoleon died in 1821.

From then until 1922, the British governed the island, keeping a "crew" of 65 permanently garrisoned there. It was designated "His Majesty's Ship Ascension" and rated a sloop of war. Ascension babies were considered to have been born at sea and registered at the port of London, some 4,000 miles away.

Meanwhile, a British communications firm established a submarine cable station on Ascension. The cable was extended to St. Helena and then to Cape Town, South Africa, forming an ocean-long link with London.

Then, as now, man shared Ascension with nature's regular invaders. Sooty terns winged in to nest. Huge sea turtles waddled onto the beaches to lay eggs.

Amid great secrecy, the United States Army blasted an airport from Ascension's volcanic hide in 1942. The base played a tremendous wartime role because few bombers could fly from Brazil to West Africa without a refueling stop. After the GIs left in 1947, the British Colonial Office observed:

"The population of Ascension then sank to some 170 souls, all of whom, except for the two police constables, were employees of Cable and Wireless Limited together with their wives and families. This handful of men and women endeavor to improve their adopted home from year to year keeping their capital Georgetown clean, neat and tidy."

New Instrument Helps in Search for Natural Gas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—A new instrument that helps to find natural gas hidden deep in the earth has been unveiled in Ohio.

Experts think the new device will boost oil and gas production, particularly in the Appalachian region.

The instrument records man-made vibrations in the earth which are "read" by scientists. They claim that extremely accurate charts of underground formations can be made.

This is how the device works: Dynamite is exploded in a drilled hole. The blast sets up vibrations going down as far as 1½ miles into the earth.

"Echoes" from the vibrations are picked up on the sensitive instrument, recorded on film and then interpreted.

An initial test of the device was recently held in northern Ohio near Medina.

Big Museums Doomed by Increasing Costs

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Dr. Karl With of the University of California in Los Angeles believes that rising construction and maintenance costs will make operation of giant museums financially impossible eventually.

Exhibition halls of the future, With said, will be relatively small, flexible museums equipped for traveling shows and exhibiting only the cream of permanent collections.

The unused parts of permanent collections will be stored in large warehouse buildings where scholars and art-lovers can view them.

Learns to Fly in Hurry

LINCOLN CENTER, Me. (UP)—In a hurry to fly on business and fishing trips, Earl Doring, 38, bought a pontoon-equipped light plane. The following Thursday Doring took two hours of flight instruction, the next day an hour. On what the MTA planned to do, said Ziegler. Opposition to the toll road made it necessary to revise the plan, he stated.

Foes of Turnpike Seek to End MTA

"As a free road the same traffic facilities can be provided with less mileage of construction and at a substantial saving to the people of Michigan."

The commissioner got a standing ovation when he said the north-south freeway could be built for about 75 million dollars, compared to $150 million for the turnpike.

Sections of the route, which traffic congestion demanded be built, already are nearing completion in the Flint, Saginaw and Detroit areas, Ziegler explained.

Of the $78 million cost, 60 per cent could be expected from federal matching funds, he added.

A final link in the freeway chain would be supplied through a planned 60-million-dollar extension of Southfield to tie into the freeway coming up from the Ohio line through Monroe and Rockwood.

He answered six questions asked him Tuesday in "An Open Letter to the People of the State of Michigan" released by four members of the MTA.

Answers showing the free route could be financed and built rapidly "would influence the Turnpike Authority to reconsider our plans for a toll road," it stated.

Legislative authorization for additional sale of bonds by the Highway Department "is all that is necessary to make funds available for the work on the interstate route," said Ziegler.

The department feels right-of-way can be obtained, he asserted, but, like the MTA, can not define an exact date when construction could be started.

The route could be built as fast as a toll road with the advantage of not having to provide "toll gates, certain grade separations and other facilities necessary to toll road operation."

The project would not "take precedent over other needed freeway projects of equal or comparable importance."

The proposed north-south freeway route could be moved two or three miles either way to prevent disruption of communities, said Ziegler.

Next witness was the president of a group founded by Bloomfield Township and Franklin residents to oppose the toll road, Robert VanderKloot, of the Citizens Protective Assn. of Michigan, said the group was concerned originally over property values, but after study decided to oppose the MTA completely.

"We were shocked to learn that the toll road program in Michigan as well as many other states, is being pushed by an eastern investment banking firm. It seems criminal to permit eastern interests to drain millions from the pockets of Michigan's motorists just because there is an acute need for better highways here in our state. There are other ways of getting roads."

Attorney John B. Poole, of Bloomfield Hills, charged the turnpike would disrupt planning and zoning of all communities it passes through.

It was not the Legislature's intent, he asserted, to allow the MTA to build a road through populous areas "without permission of the communities involved and without apparent concern for the disruption of local municipal services and resultant damage to planned and zoned residential areas."

Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson said the city commission here maintains that local communities should have a "large voice in the final route determination."

In his own opinion, Donaldson said, elected public officials should be relied upon to produce a good road system. "All they have needed is adequate financing."

Dearborn Plan Commission Irving ImOberst said his community originally favored a turnpike west of the city, but now stands against toll roads in general.

Other speakers, all opposing the toll road, included Glenn C. Richards, Detroit DPW commissioner; Harold A. Roseberry and J. R. Mitchell, of Berkley; and Frank Nievelt, of Berkley.

Groups displayed signs indicating they attended from Holly, Southfield Township, Wing Lake, Franklin Village, Pontiac, Dearborn, Allen Park, Detroit, Flint and Saginaw.

Meanwhile, the Michigan Petroleum Assn. endorsed the bill dissolving the MTA. "Toll roads are not needed because pending highway legislation will supply the wherewithal to build adequate roads available for the use of rich and poor persons alike," it said.

Alger F. Malo, Detroit director of streets and traffic, yesterday condemned the toll road as "a colossal mistake," at a meeting with turnpike officials.

The route would cut through both Rouge Park and Eliza Howell Park in Detroit's west side.

"I am completely surprised that you're planning an elevated highway through our parks and residential areas. The city's policy for many years has been to have depressed highways through such areas, allowing elevated roads only through industrial districts."

MSC Will Help South Viet Nam Run Smoothly

WASHINGTON (U)—The Foreign Operations Administration said today Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College, has signed a two year contract with South Vietnam for improvement of government administration.

FOA is financing the $1,800,000 program.

The contract involves establishing a National Institute of Public Administration in Saigon. It will study and recommend improvements in all aspects of government activities including modernization of the police force and fiscal policies.

Michigan State will send 30 professors and government specialists to Vietnam and bring an unspecified number of trainees to the college for specialized work.

Emphasis will be given to obtain results as quickly as possible in what FOA called an "impact program."

Conservatives Approve Eden

Prime Minister Picked Party Chief as May 26 General Election Nears

LONDON (U)—Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden was formally elected leader of the Conservative party today, succeeding Sir Winston Churchill. Conservative and Labor machines began drawing battle lines for the general election May 26.

The choice of Eden, 57-year-old former foreign secretary, was a foregone conclusion, following the retirement of Churchill April 5.

Conservative members of Parliament, Conservative and allied election candidates and the party Executive Committee held a closed 55-minute meeting at Church House.

With the formality of his selection out of the way, Eden addressed the gathering. Observers said they felt it was mainly a campaign pep talk. Stewards kept outsiders away.

Executives of the Labor party met only a few blocks away to start drafting an election manifesto expected to be approved finally next week.

Clement Attlee, 72-year-old party leader, dashed into the meeting after flying overnight from Montreal. He cut short a Canadian lecture tour to plunge into the campaign.

"It is going to be a good fight," Attlee told newsmen.

ing an atomic world war can eventually be achieved.

He declared: "It is abundantly clear, but should be explained again and again to all who cherish freedom, that the answer must never be our unilateral disarmament or one-sided weakness."

"The consequences of any isolated impotency on our part would be particularly disastrous at a time when the opposing ideology carried with it the obliteration of freedom, the denial of God, and the ruthless rule of the state over the individual human personality."

Stassen said that the "most dangerous arms buildup in the history of mankind" has intensified since the outbreak of the Korean War and "it is continuing today."

Thieves Get Equipment in Golf Club Breakin

An estimated $500 worth of golf equipment was reported taken from the Twin Lakes Golf Club clubhouse, Oakland County Sheriff's detectives said today.

The break-in was reported Wednesday morning by Mrs. Burl Wright, an employee, when she opened the clubhouse at 991 Williams Lake Rd. She said golf balls, bags, clubs, gloves and cigarettes were taken. About $100 in cash was missing from a cash register, she said.

Detectives Donald Francis and John Davis said entrance was gained by breaking a rear door glass.

No One Challenges Chicken Eater Title

DETROIT (U)—Everybody agreed that Phillip Yazdzik must be the world's champion chicken eater.

The stocky, 200-pound coal miner, visiting Detroit for a special eating demonstration yesterday, devoured 31 orders of fried chicken at a single sitting to claim a world record. No one disputed him.

Distaining knives and forks "because they slow me down," Yazdzik ate steadily from 9:30 a.m. to 2:50 p.m., when he finished, all that remained was a huge pile of bones — the remains of 15½ ten-ounce chickens.

And to round out the meal he polished off 16 fourteen-ounce glasses of pop.

In Chicago the day before, Yazdzik downed 77 hamburgers with 24 glasses of milk and 6 bottles of pop as a chaser. This too, he said, was a world record.

Senate Endorses Drive for Free Polio Vaccine

LANSING (U)—With Senate backing, a group of state employees started a drive today to collect $1,000,000 in dime contributions from Michigan citizens for free polio vaccinations for the children of the state.

The Senate adopted a resolution endorsing the month of May as "victory dimes fund month" and recommended that the Michigan State Employees Association, an independent union of state employees, take the initiative in raising the money.

Goldwyn Gets Best of Mary Pickford

LOS ANGELES (U)—Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart" of the silent films, couldn't beat producer Samuel Goldwyn in the financial battle for an old Hollywood studio.

The 10-acre United Artists plant went on the auction block in Superior Court yesterday and Miss Pickford started bidding at $1,525,000.

Goldwyn's final—and winning—bid was $1,920,000. Miss Pickford said she wasn't angry with Goldwyn.

"I feel he is a logical man to handle the property," she said. She and Goldwyn have shared ownership of the studio for years, but have engaged recently in a partition suit. She will receive about a million dollars from the sale.

Judges Considering Union Case Motion

The three Oakland County Circuit judges yesterday took under advisement a motion to dismiss a suit charging improper practices in the trusteeship of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 (AFL).

Union members filed the suit last year alleging the trusteeship of James R. Hoffa, international teamsters official, had mismanaged funds and refused to allow an election of new officers.

Hoffa's attorneys yesterday contended the case should be dismissed because the insurgent members had not used all steps available to them under the international constitution before attempting court action.

Attorneys for both sides will submit opinions for consideration by the judges. No date has been set for future hearings.

2 State Men to Be Cited for Bennington Bravery

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (UP)—Two Michigan men will be among 22 crew members of the aircraft carrier Bennington who will be cited for bravery tomorrow.

William J. Lewis, Detroit, and Ralph D. Clingenpeel, Port Huron, will be cited for their part in helping battle explosions and fires that ripped the big carrier May 26, 1954, killing or injuring 300 men.

Quotes Dulles as Finding No Disloyalty in Records

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) quoted Secretary of State Dulles today as having testified he has found no evidence of disloyalty by any U.S. representative at the Yalta conference.

Some Republicans have made much of Alger Hiss' presence at the World War II Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meeting. Hiss has served a prison term for perjury in connection with his denial that he ever passed State Department secrets to a Communist courier.

Fulbright said in an interview he had statements about Hiss in mind when he questioned Dulles at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Monday.

"I asked the secretary if he had found any evidence that any of the American representatives at the meeting were disloyal to this country," Fulbright said. "His answer was 'No.' It was a much more direct and flat answer than he gave to many other questions."

Told of Fulbright's statement, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said Dulles did not attend the Yalta meeting and thus had only the available records from it on which to judge.

"Certainly, if there was espionage at the conference, the records are not going to show it," Knowland said.

At the time of the 1945 Yalta meeting, Hiss was deputy director of the office of special political

Reports 4th Bidder for State Jet Base

GRAND RAPIDS (U)—A fourth bidder apparently has stepped into the market for the proposed northern Michigan jet interceptor base.

The Grand Rapids Press Washington correspondent said today a Manistee County delegation visited Air Force authorities yesterday with a proposal that the base be located near Copenish.

The site is about six miles from the Benzle County location which was announced last year as the original selection. Since that time, however, the Air Force switched its decision and awarded the base to Cadillac in Wexford County.

Copenish is more than 15 miles from the National Music Camp at Interlochen. The story noted the Manistee group emphasized the congressional subcommittee has ruled the base must be at least 15 miles from Interlochen.

Medics Suggest $2 for Each Polio Shot

LANSING (UP)—The Michigan State Medical Society said today $2 would be an "equitable charge for inoculating children with Salk polio vaccine while it is temporarily in short supply."

The society said the "special fee" of $6 for administration of the three Salk doses "represents less than the cost of operation for giving such shots."

Society President Dr. Robert H. Baker, Pontiac, said the society will view "with strong disfavor" any doctors who charge more than $2 per shot but said the society has no authority to set fees for its 6,000 members.

Bullet Misses Child

IONIA (U)—A .22-caliber rifle bullet crashed through a window and missed 4-year-old Vicki Sallee by inches. Police said Floyd Brooks apparently fired the bullet while he was target shooting a half mile away along the Grand River. He was not held.

2 Detroit Convicts Flee in Guard's Automobile

DETROIT (U)—Two convicts who fled the Detroit House of Correction in a guard's automobile were sought by police today.

Sought are Robert S. Wight, 25, of Hillsdale, serving one to five years for larceny, and Raymond A. Ocon, 35, of Detroit, serving a similar term for auto theft.

The pair walked away from their prison jobs yesterday. Shortly afterward guard Walter M. Nichols reported his car missing. Nichols said he had left the ignition key in the switch.

Women Fall in Love With Heels

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK (INS)—It's one of those ironies of life that men, women and psychiatrists have got to face . . . ladies fall in love with heels.

(The slang term "heel" is a variation of a Greek word meaning the abode of evil spirits.)

There are some people who say that this inclination to fall for males who house evil spirits is a sign that women are basically masochists who love to suffer. Others claim it is a sign that women want to feel superior, morally and spiritually, to their mates. Still others claim it is a sign that a good man nowadays is hard to find.

Nonsense, say I. It is habit, and nothing but.

The thing started small, back in the caveman day when a guy conveyed his woman around the local quarries and ice-slips by slinging her over his shoulder without so much as a "Lady, do you mind?" This was more of a safety precaution than a maneuver in etiquette, on account of the constant dangers from dinosaurs, falling rocks and so forth, and was accepted with gratitude by the cavegirls.

It became a female habit, and the habit persisted, to be pushed around by men. The Greeks had it, the Romans had it, the pioneers in the old West had it, and now the tradition is so firmly established that men the world over are afraid to send flowers to their ladies. With this one gesture, they might get the pitiable reputation for being "good men"—an appellation that leads to respect, but rarely to rapture.

Does this look to you like a hopeless situation?

Well, it is not at all. The heel habit can be cured, just like any other habit. With the same amount of willpower she would employ in overcoming the marijuana habit, say, or the bargain-hunting habit—a lady can break herself of this odious tendency and fall for a real nice peachy-type man. This little advertisement may help:

Ladies . . . have a heartache? Get rid of it now, today, with a economical, handy, family-size "good man."

Compare this new type man with all other men you have tried. Yes, even the imported ones. You will find that he brings more relief to strained nerves and upset stomach, is more convenient, easier to handle and—with proper care—lasts longer than any other man on the market.

Your women friends will be green with envy. Your male friends will rave. Your pets and your parents will be better fed.

The "good man" does not come with a lifetime guarantee, things being rough all over, but psychiatric tests prove that unless subjected to extremes of heat or cold, he will endure longer than the men you are currently being used by.

So throw away your old men today, and get a "good man." You'll never (well, hardly ever) want to change back.

Washington University Gadget Solves Secrets of Atom Nucleus

WASHINGTON (UP)—It's never later than you think to Dr. Zoltan Bay, a nuclear physicist who is lifting clock - watching to new heights.

Bay and a small corps of scientists at George Washington University have a "clock" originated by him that is ticking off tomorrow as it solves the secrets of an atom nucleus.

Their piece of scientific wizardry doesn't measure minutes and hours. It tells time at the rate of one one-hundred-billionth of a second.

That's as fast as the speed of light, fastest traveler known to man. (It takes light only about one second to get from earth to the moon.)

The measurement also is "10 times less time" than can be clocked by any other gadget—as small a part of a second as one second is to 10,000 years.

The one-of-a-kind "clock," under Navy contract, enables scientists to chart the mysterious energy changes of a nucleus from an "excited" or higher-than-normal state to the "ground" state and to note the time spent in that step.

Gamma rays emitted during the change give off electric shocks which the clock is triggered to count.

If that sounds simple, remember that billions of nuclei would find plenty of elbow room in a dot the size of this period—. Also remember there is a lot more to it.

Aussies Given Jungle Training

Troops Will Be Ready if Ordered to Malaya to Fight Reds

SYDNEY (UP) — A new jungle warfare school set up in tropical Queensland will sharpen the fighting prowess of any Australian soldiers likely to be sent to Malaya.

Although Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies made no definite commitments about Australian forces for Malaya, such a move is strongly tipped by authoritative sources in Canberra.

Defense authorities feel that jungle training will be invaluable, whether Australian forces be required in Malaya or any other tropical battlefield.

The army's jungle training center is located at Canungra, 48 miles southwest of Brisbane. Lt. Col. George Warfe, chief instructor at the center, conducts rigid training designed to form a nucleus of tough, "jungle-wise" fighters.

That includes how to cope with snakes, beetles, spiders, leeches, typhoid; how to be comfortable in steaming heat, roaring rivers, torrential rains; how to camouflage and how to escape a jungle ambush.

Warfe, popularly known as "Jungle George," recently returned from four months in Malaya.

He admitted that Communist guerillas terrorizing the jungle there are "astounding" fighters. But whether Australian troops would be used in this internal struggle, or to help guard against external attack only, is a question Warfe declined to answer.

Regardless of the decision — which would be a matter of high policy — the army's training program at Canungra moves along at a back-breaking pace.

Warfe is quick to emphasize that "the ambush in Malaya today is one of the most dangerous and damaging forms of guerilla attack on the British. The Communists hide out in high spots overlooking a road, then, when a truck comes past, they soak it with machine-gun fire."

To familiarize Australians with this danger, Canungra has an "anti-ambush trainer" — a gorge 500 feet high, with a stony, wash-board road running through the bottom.

Day after day Australian troops wend their way along the road, practicing Warfe's jungle-learned methods for escaping the ambush.

One rule that Warfe stresses is that troops should never travel in a completely tarpaulined truck. He says the sides should be left open so troops may escape from the opposite side to the ambush.

Don't Sample Raw Pork, Expert Warns Farmers

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UP)—Specialists of the Agricultural Extension Service at West Virginia University have warned farmers that they're risking their lives when they taste raw sausage to check the amount of seasoning. "Eating—even tasting—raw pork can cause serious illness and possible death," the specialists said. An average of 350 persons become ill and 13 die each year from trichinosis, a disease that comes from eating pork raw or only partially cooked, they said.

Dog Bites Boy Running Away From Bumblebee

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—To bee or not to bee stung was the only question for 12-year-old Ronald Krigbaum of nearby Lyncourt. So, when he and his pals spotted a bumblebee, he made a beeline for parts far away.

But he didn't see a dog that blocked his flight. The dog objected to being run over by biting Ronald's abdomen.

Frisco to Mark U.N. Birthday

To Roll Out Red Carpet for Tenth Anniversary of International Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —The U.N. has been assured in glowing terms that San Francisco will roll out "the red carpet" for the 10th anniversary celebration slated to begin in the Golden Gate city June 20.

The assurances were given to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and executive U.N. assistant Andrew Cordier by Robert R. Gros, chairman of the San Francisco committee on arrangements.

Gros said "literally hundreds of our citizens" as individuals and as representatives of major organizations in California have offered their cooperation in staging a program. In pointing to the critical world situation and the importance of making the U.N. anniversary "a resounding demonstration to the entire world that all peoples are united in the search for peace," Gros added:

"We Westerners see in this anniversary a shining opportunity to renew the fervor and spirit we felt at the signing of the U.N. charter a decade ago. That is the essential purpose of our urging that the highest possible level of diplomatic representation be arranged for the session."

Hammarskjöld has received a number of replies to his invitation to the 60 foreign ministers of U.N. member governments to attend the San Francisco event. Among the acceptances are those of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and several from Latin America. There is as yet no indication whether Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will attend.

Only 3 Mourn Famed Beauty of Ziegfeld Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Lillian Lorraine, whose beauty once attracted the acclaim of thousands, had three mourners when she was laid to rest yesterday.

More than 40 years ago, showman Flo Ziegfeld called her "the most beautiful actress in the world."

But the fame of the actress, whose real name was Mary Ann Brennan, was fleeting.

She was one of the highest paid musical comedy stars when she married Frederick Greshamer in 1913. In divorcing him later, she charged Greshamer with keeping her a "prisoner" for nearly a year and stealing $8,000 worth of jewelry from her.

Soon afterward she broke her spine while getting out of a taxi. Then she lost $30,000 in a bad investment. She never returned to good health.

Last Sunday, at the age of 63, she died in her sleep.

Rivals Split 6 Saloons in Town Between 'Em

CHESHAM, England (AP)—Reginald W. Dunton and Herbert S. Stratford, who don't get along with each other very well, have agreed to divide Chesham's six saloons between them.

Dunton pledged he would not enter the three pubs reserved for Stratford and Stratford ceded the other three to Dunton.

Their pact was made under oath in a magistrate's court where they appeared yesterday to answer charges of assault, each accusing the other.

REMEMBERS GETTYSBURG — This unusual photo-study shows Ed Baugher, of Kinsley, Kans., as he smoked and reminisced on his recent 100th birthday. Said Ed: "It's too bad we have to get so old so young." He was born March 16, 1855, in the Pennsylvania Dutch settlement of East Berlin, Pa. He was a lad of eight when the battle of Gettysburg was fought a scant 15 miles northeast of his home. About all he recalls is the thunder of the battle and the sight of Yankee and Confederate soldiers running about the countryside. After marriage in Pennsylvania, he settled in Kinsley in 1878 and for forty years was the village blacksmith. He retired from the smithy in 1922 to a life of gardening, chopping firewood for his wife Kathie and fishing. The lively old-timer, a scant 5-foot, 3 inches of less than 100 pounds, says he has foregone milk since his infancy and has smoked for 88 years. Kinsley townfolk gave Ed a birthday party, with 100-candle cake, old-time music and square dancing. He didn't dance. "I reckon it's about time I started acting my age," he explained.

Religious Films Help Children

But Teachers, Pastors Remain Vital to Church Education

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Religious movies help children more than teachers to learn about religion, but the job of teachers and ministers is as important as it always was, according to the Yale Divinity School.

The Rev. Everett C. Parker, lecturer in religious radio and television at Yale, said this was revealed by research which took samplings of opinion from several thousand New Haven homes.

Parker said the study, part of a three-year survey of mass communication media used by churches, showed that children who watch religious films at Sunday School are better informed than those who must rely solely on teachers and the printed word.

He said movies open doors to children and make them receptive to religious ideas.

However, he emphasized that researchers found churches still must rely on person-to-person contact to develop in children a sense of Christian dedication and service.

The only drawback in using movies was the quality of the films themselves, he said.

"Too many," he said, "suffer from poor scripts, lack of good direction and mediocre performance."

"In some cases Biblical stories are distorted and too often apostles and prophets made to appear as aged characters, instead of portraying them as they were—vigorous, active human beings. "Christ is made to appear effeminate and artificial, and therefore, to today's children, unconvincing in what he says and does."

Old Folks' Home Peaceful Again as Spot Returns

WASHINGTON (UP)—Spot is back, and calm has been restored at Washington's Home for the Aged.

Spot is a shaggy, black and white dog, unofficial mascot of the home for over 12 years.

He has his own private quarters in the sun parlor of the men's dormitory and has proved his claim to be part rat terrier by keeping the home free of rats.

Recently an official decided that Spot had distemper. The Animal Rescue League came and took Spot away.

The word spread quickly through the home and the 70 residents drew up a strongly worded petition demanding Spot's return.

It was signed by nearly all of the old folks and hurriedly presented to the superintendent, Donald D. Brewer.

Brewer was surprised at the vehemence of the petition.

"I had no idea everybody was so fond of Spot," he said. "They were pretty upset about it."

Meanwhile the Animal Rescue League reported that Spot didn't actually have distemper. He was just getting old.

Brewer quickly had Spot brought back to the dormitory.

"After all, it is an old folks' home."

Advance Made in Cement Pipe

New Process Creates Connections That Are Leak-Proof

WATERLOO, Iowa (UP)—A strange-looking device invented here 46 years ago was the first to make possible the machine-production of cement pipe—from 4 inches to 3 feet in diameter.

Now, the firm which makes this apparatus has come up with a process to make cement pipe connections leak-proof, particularly important when a sewer line goes near water supplies or the oil swimming hole and provides danger of pollution.

Also, the new type of pipe, which can be made up to 6 to 8 inches in diameter, reduces the amount of pumping at the treatment plant which usually is required to remove water that has seeped into such pipe.

J. N. Schenck and J. W. Stewart, the partner founders of the Zeidler Concrete Machinery Products Co. here, first exhibited their new idea in the old industry of concrete pipe-making back in 1908.

The huge machine principally is a big arm that whirls around and packs cement inside a cylindrical mold. Prior to the invention, all pipe had to be cast in molds, just as sizes larger than 3 feet are now.

The company's newest process calls for one end of a piece of pipe to be pressed into the bell of another where a rubber gasket seals the joint and prevents leaks, the bugaboo of the pipe industry.

Zoning Troubles Result From Modern Building

CHICAGO (UP)—Modern architecture has created several zoning problems, according to the American Society of Planning Officials.

The society said modern "projections" such as the cantilever beam and the extended roof overhang, fixed awnings made of metal or fiber glass, and external steel or aluminum venetian blinds did not exist when most zoning ordinances were written.

These currently popular devices have created zoning problems, according to the society. So has the minimal house, whose inadequate storage space tempts the owner to wall in his carport and use it for storage, or to enclose his porch or terrace and make it an extra room.

The society said most zoning laws permit projections which do not interfere with a neighboring structure's sun, light and air.

In general, the society said, if a projection or extension is greater than the ordinance permits, the building must be further from the lot line.

Hawthorne Documents Turn Up Mysteriously

ARLINGTON, Va. (UP)—A set of Nathaniel Hawthorne documents found by an Arlington, Va., housewife was returned to the General Accounting Office with an air of mystery surrounding them.

The mystery puzzling GAO investigators is how the papers, neatly tied with red ribbon, found their way to a residential section of Arlington.

The papers signed by the American novelist were "misplaced" some time ago by the GAO pending transfer to the National Archives in Washington, D. C.

Care to Challenge Her Claim to Fame?

DALLAS, Ore. (UP)—Mrs. R. T. Newton, who was born 65 years ago in Coquille, Ore., lays claim to being the youngest great-grandmother in the United States.

Mrs. Newton married Edward Loring when she was 14. She was a mother at 16, a grandmother at 32 and a great-grandmother at 49. She became a great-great-grandmother last May.

Her offspring have maintained the tradition. The first-born, now Mrs. Loyce McAnally of Bog Lake, Tex., was married at 15 and became a grandmother at 32.

Mrs. McAnally's daughter, Mrs. Victor Julian of Inkster, Mich., became a grandmother when her daughter, Mrs. Robert Galloway of Long Beach, Calif., gave birth to a son last May.

Now We Know Right Where We're Located

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Ohio State University radio astronomers say they have located the exact center of our universe, or Milky Way system.

The position, long sought by optical astronomers, has been hidden by clouds of interstellar dust.

Radio waves from the hub around which the sun and billions of other stars revolve, however, have been recorded by radio telescopes.

The position, say the Ohio State astronomers, is a galactic longitude of 327.79 degrees and a latitude of -1.39 degrees, based on an average of observations recently made with the telescope here and one at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C.

The determination, an average of all the individual observations, is estimated to be accurate within 100th of one degree. Earlier estimates, the astronomers say, were not much closer than the nearest degree.

Iowa University Caters to Child Dental Patients

IOWA CITY (UP)—The University of Iowa has developed a special clinic to treat youngsters who have a deep-seated fear of dentists.

The clinic features pint-sized dental chairs from which the tiny patients can look out across a soothingly quiet landscaped hillside. Most of the equipment is done in divertingly bright colors.

Dr. Kenneth E. Wessels, head of the special clinic, said that "preparation from an emotional standpoint is especially important for these children, and we take as much time as is necessary before starting treatment."

National Guard Surprise Mobilization Draws Praise

Pontiac's National Guard units last night proved they are ready for instant mobilization in event of national emergency.

The local units, Company M, 125th Infantry Regiment, and the 107th Ordnance Company, joined with guardsmen in more than 2,000 communities from Florida to Alaska in "Operation Minuteman" to show what they could do should war break out.

Within seconds after the national alert went out from the Pentagon in Washington, local guardsmen were rushing to assembly points at the Armory here.

Two hours after the alert at 6:30 p. m. the Pontiac minutemen were at near full operating strength.

Security guards were thrown around strategic installations in and around the city. Sentinels were posted at the railway station, court house and radio stations and a roving patrol covered the city by jeep. Bridges in the area were guarded until the early morning hours.

Both Capt. Carl G. Yarling, Ordnance Company commander, and Capt. A. J. Largent, Company M's commander, praised their men for "outstanding work and cooperation."

Maj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, said preliminary reports gave "conclusive proof" that the Army and Air Guard can be assembled by the state governors in a "rapid and efficient manner for service in any state and national emergency."

The alert caught guardsmen going fishing, plowing their fields, returning from honeymoons, getting married and some were ill.

S. F. C. Ashton Fitzgerald, a World War II Navy veteran, went home from work because of illness yesterday. But he was at his post when the alert sounded.

In Orlando, Fla., David Long reported to his outfit in a full dress suit. He was excused from taking part when he explained it was his wedding night.

At Wapping, Conn., Maj. A. Kenneth Palmer was out plowing when his wife ran to bring him the news. Palmer dropped his plow and reported for duty, just as Revolutionary War hero Israel Putnam answered the call for the original minutemen.

A National Guard Major General, A. G. Paxton, was on a fishing trip and had just dropped his bait in the water when the alert came.

His wife raced four miles in a car to tell him to get back to headquarters at Greenville, Miss.

Cpl. Kenneth Roberts of Norwood, Mass., was returning with his bride from their honeymoon. He heard the alert as they passed through Springfield, Mass., and like a true soldier, reported for duty.

In Pontiac, employers and manufacturers cooperated with the alert by allowing guardsmen working night shifts to take part.

Most of the men were alerted by telephone while others heard the signal for mobilization over commercial radio stations.

It may be days before reports are in from the many guard units listed to take part in the big test. But the National Guard Bureau estimated early this morning that 280,000 men were at their battle stations or assembly points within two hours of the zero hour which was known in advance to only a handful of officers.

This turnout represented 8 out of every 10 citizen soldiers who were on the "alarm" lists prepared by the state guard organizations for this first continent-wide mobilization test in peace-time history. Officials stressed that it was a test only, with no cause for alarm.

Some 50,000 of the guard's current total strength of about 400,000 men were excluded from the alert because their units are undergoing reorganization.

Units were advised several weeks ago there would be a test, but the date and time remained a closely held secret. Not until about 6 p. m. last night did the Pentagon planners give the word, for an alert to start a half-hour later in the East and at staggered times in other time zones.

The new concept for the guard is to have them ready to fight, here and now, if war starts with little or no warning.

Thus, within minutes after the alert was sounded, National Guard-piloted fighter-interceptors were in the air ready to meet enemy aircraft that can reach the American continent with lethal bombs.

Army Guardsmen manned the antiaircraft guns which ring many American cities. Elsewhere, Guard units rushed to protect isolated stretches of the coastline where an enemy might attempt to land from submarines or be parachuted from the skies.

No serious accidents were reported in the giant operation, although the crash landing of a civilian plane temporarily halted air guard activity in Birmingham, Ala. At Duluth, Minn., eight planes stayed on the ground because of storms raging over the state.

GOP Proposes Higher Jobless Benefits

Plan Catches Dems Off Guard

Would Hike Maximum Payments From $42 to $54 Weekly

LANSING (AP)—Republican legislators caught Democrats off guard today with a surprise plan to liberalize workmen's unemployment compensation laws by hiking maximum benefits from $42 to $54 weekly.

Party leaders announced the plan after a caucus called yesterday before debate on a bill to effect administrative changes in the present law.

Most Democrats had seen little chance for any change in the rate schedule at all this year, concentrating on other features of the law.

Republicans said their proposals would bring Michigan's law into line with the recommendation of President Eisenhower that unemployed workers receive at least half of their average weekly earnings.

Although the maximum rate for single men would remain at $30 a week under the Republican proposal, benefits for workers with dependents would be hiked from $1 to $12 weekly.

Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader, said Democrats would accept the Republican rate schedule "reluctantly."

"It's not as much as we wanted, but it's better than nothing," he said. "I think an unemployed worker should receive 50 per cent of his gross wages."

Democrats said the Republican proposal would probably give workers with dependents 50 per cent of their earnings, but would fall short of that figure for single workers.

As debate began on the bill, Republicans defeated two Democratic amendments, but offered a counter-proposal to one.

This is the so-called "death penalty," which provides that when a worker is fired or quits a job he cannot receive benefits and automatically loses credits built up for the benefits.

Workers can accumulate up to 26 weeks credits after 39 weeks of employment.

Democrats asked for an amendment to delete the "death penalty" altogether. Republicans offered to change the law so that a worker may keep his credit only if he quits to take another job.

With only a few votes to spare, Republicans defeated another Democratic amendment to eliminate the "waiting week."

Under the present law, a worker laid off for eight weeks would receive only seven weeks' benefits. The "waiting week" was designed to allow time for processing claims.

Any of the proposed amendments could be tacked on when the bill comes up for a final vote, probably next week.

Democrats did manage to push through one amendment during yesterday's debate. It would allow retired workers to receive full unemployment benefits plus any pensions they are due.

The revised rates were based on living costs for various-sized families.

A U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics table estimates the weekly cost of living for a family of six persons at $54.90, and at $43.27 for a family of four persons.

Under the Republican plan, a family of six or more members could receive up to $54 weekly. A four-member family could receive up to $42 weekly.

School Election Set

IONIA (AP)—The city school board rushed tentative preparations Wednesday for a special election May 9. The voters will determine whether to approve a $350,000 bond issue for school construction and renovation. A $3.50 special tax would be levied to finance the bonds.

Reserves Seek Recruits

In an effort to strengthen their units, Pontiac's Army Reserve organizations are currently conducting a recruiting drive.

The two units, the 703rd Tank Bn. and the 307th Ordnance Bn., are planning to bring their ranks to full strength in preparation for their annual summer training encampments.

The recruitment drive will be held in conjunction with the local showing of the movie "Battle Cry" at a local theater.

Members of both units are readying displays of their equipment in the theater lobby and on Saginaw street in front of the theater.

One of the 703rd unit's tanks will be parked in front of the theater for inspection.

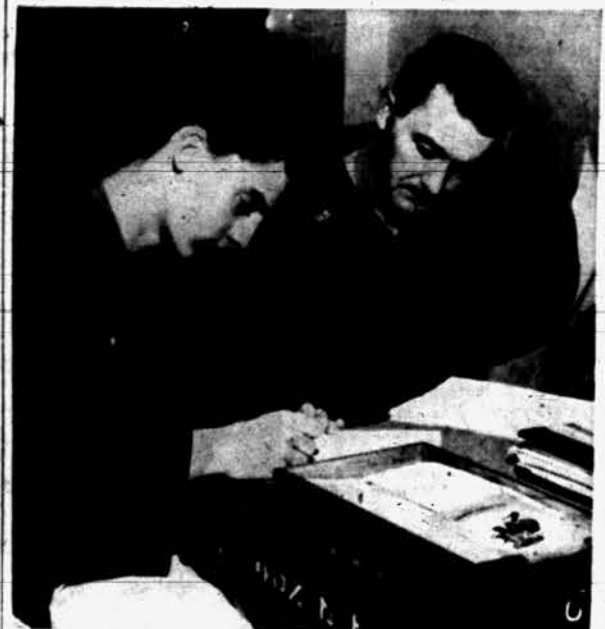

Commanded by Lt. Col. Lloyd A. Gabler, the 703rd is scheduled to take their summer training at Ft. Knox, Ky. The ordinance unit, under the command of Maj. William Lacy, is scheduled to train at Camp McCoy, Wis.

Members of the organizations attend weekly training sessions at their headquarters at 37 W. Lawrence St. and receive full Army pay for the 2-hour periods. The men draw full pay for their two-week summer training.

Ordinance unit personnel learn maintenance of Army equipment both during the training sessions here and at summer camp.

Tank unit members learn maintenance of their vehicles plus gunnery and tank driving.

Both units currently have openings for enlisted men and officers, according to Col. Gabler and Lacy.

High 'Spendable' Incomes Shown for Area Families

A bigger proportion of Oakland County families are in the "have more" category and a smaller percentage in the "have less" group than in most parts of the United States.

That is the conclusion made evident by a break-down of incomes in each of the 3,970 counties of the country. The copy-righted study, made by Sales Management, shows the percentage of families falling into various income brackets.

It shows whether the reported "average income" for each county represents a combination of a small number of families in the very high income class together with a large number with depressed incomes, or whether the average represents incomes more evenly distributed throughout.

In Oakland County the latter situation exists. Over 69 per cent of the local families have spendable income, after payment of taxes, of $4,000 or more.

This compares favorably with the situation in other parts of the nation, where families in that earnings class comprise 43.7 per cent. In the east north central states, they constitute 51.6 per cent.

The local picture makes for better living generally. The average family can afford better food, better clothes, more luxuries and more vacations.

The combined buying of a large segment of the population having middle-income earnings or better, as in this case, means more business and a more prosperous and vital community than that produced by a marked high-low combination.

In Oakland County there are 23.5 per cent of the families in the over-$7,000 bracket.

Those who have from $2,500 to $4,000 after taxes represent 16.7 per cent of the families and 9.2 per cent of the general income, 2,204 (up 44).

Driver Contest Scheduled Here

Pontiac Area Motorists Will Be Rewarded for Highway Courtesy

The Pontiac Police Officers Assn. today announced a "Be a Courteous Driver" contest will start here May 1.

According to the contest rules, one motorist will be selected each week as the most courteous driver in Pontiac from letters received by the association.

Letters will be submitted by motorists who observe courteous driving gestures by other motorists. Letters should state what the motorist did and time and place of the courteous act. If unable to obtain the motorist's name, state whether it was a man or woman and the license plate number of the auto.

The association will announce in the Press the name of a winner and sponsor each week. An award of two tickets to a local theater and a dinner for two will be presented to the courteous driver each week.

"We hope that through this contest," said Hugh Stinson, association president, "we can promote more thoughtfulness among drivers in Pontiac."

"Police officers also will be on the close lookout for courteous drivers, both on and off duty. We hope Pontiac motorists will give us their best cooperation in the contest."

All letters should be addressed to Pontiac Police Officers Assn., Box 777, Pontiac.

Minnesota Boy Admits Trying to Extort $12,500

ROCHESTER, Minn. (INS)—A 13-year-old boy, arrested trying to hold up a candy store with a toy pistol, has confessed that he also attempted to extort $12,500 from five prominent residents of Rochester, Minn.

The youth said he got the idea from comic books and radio and television plays, and planned to use the money for a vacation in Florida.

The boy, who was not identified, was arrested yesterday fleeing from a candy store he attempted to rob.

Presidential Veto Threatens House Bill Hiking Pay of 500,000 Postal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The likelihood of a presidential veto today overhung a House vote to boost the pay of the nation's 500,000 postal workers an average of 8.2 per cent. President Eisenhower last year refused to sign a 7 per cent postal pay increase voted by Congress on the ground it was not accompanied by a revenue-raising hike in postal rates. His veto came after Congress adjourned and there was no opportunity to vote on overriding it.

The Senate last month flouted the President's implied threat to veto any postal pay hike of over 7.6 per cent, voting for 10 per cent. The House yesterday followed suit and approved an 8.2 per cent increase which would cost some 171 million dollars a year. The Senate bill is estimated to cost 220 millions.

The 224-189 House vote for the most part followed party lines, with Republicans lining up behind the President and the Democrats behind the mailmen. Seventeen Democrats and 22 Republicans split company with their party colleagues.

The vote was 52 short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto if the President fires one back at Congress.

Unless the Senate accepts the House figure, which appears unlikely, the measure will go to a conference committee for compromise somewhere between the two figures.

Republican leader Halleck of Indiana told the House approval of the 8.2 per cent figure was "more than risky" and a "tremendous compromise" with the administration's original proposal of 5 per cent.

The House bill, changed on the floor to make the increase retroactive to March 1, would create 21 job-salary grades fashioned after job schedules already in effect for civil service workers.

Community Service Lecture Tonight

Mental patients will be the topic of the fourth in a series of lectures on community services available in this area set for 7:30 p.m. today at the Red Cross chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd.

Two Pontiac State Hospital staff members, Richard Arthaud and Mrs. Marion Fisk, will show a film on mental hospitals and discuss the "work-convallescent status program," family care and the "psycho-drama."

Sponsored by the Oakland County CIO Council, the Pontiac-Area United Fund and the American Assn. of Social Workers, the lecture is open to the public.

Queen Turns 29 Today, Celebration Due in June

LONDON (INS)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth turned 29 today, but the official celebration won't be held until June.

The monarch's birthday traditionally is observed at home and abroad at a date in June selected by the palace.

Clinic on Cerebral Palsy Slated Here May 23-24

Parents of cerebral palsied children who want to learn the proper treatment for their children will have the opportunity May 23-24 when one of the country's six specialists conducts a clinic here.

A diagnostic clinic, free to the parents, it will be conducted by Dr. Meyer A. Perlestein of Chicago on the scheduled dates, Monday and Tuesday, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Stevens Hall in All Saints Episcopal Church has been set as the clinic center.

Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, the Easter Seal Agency, in cooperation with The Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Disabled Adults will sponsor the clinic.

Any child in the county is welcome, but parents must have a written request or referral from their family doctor in order to undergo examination.

Examinations will be by appointment only. Applications are being taken daily at the Society headquarters at 152 West Lawrence Street, until May 16.

Mrs. Hazel Elliott, retired Oakland County nurse is stationed at the headquarters presently, where she is voluntarily taking the reservations.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kirby, executive director for the Crippled Children's Society here, has announced that she will arrange transportation to the clinic for those who need it. However, she reminded, persons must call and make arrangements for this before the deadline date, May 16.

Dr. Perlestein, the cerebral palsy specialist, only recently returned from a lecture tour in Europe, where he participated in the Sixth World Congress for the Welfare of the Crippled in Copenhagen, Denmark.

He is a charter member and was first secretary in the Academy for Cerebral Palsy; is a member of the Medical Advisory Council on Cerebral Palsy to the National Cerebral Palsy Society; a consultant to the Division of Services for Crippled Children at the University of Illinois.

He also is chairman of the Medical Committee of the Michael Reese Cerebral Palsy Therapeutic Nursery; chairman of the medical advisory board of the Illinois Hospital School; medical director of the Children's Neurological Clinic of Cook County and on the pediatrics staff of Northwestern University.

Good Care of Scalp Held Only Hope for Baldness

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Dr. B. Rees of the University of California's medical school has had news for bald-headed men. He said 95 per cent of all baldness is hereditary and cannot be cured. Dr. Rees said most of those persons who get their hair back after using hair restorers would have gotten it back anyway because they have a rare type of baldness that is not permanent. However, Dr. Rees said, a man who notices his hair thinning can slow the process by taking good care of his scalp.

Muskegon Gets Complaints Through Special Office

MUSKEGON (UP) — Let's say you're a resident of Muskegon and you don't like that big hole in the street out in front of your home. You're mad because you think the city has taken too long to do something about it and want to let someone know about it. You grab the telephone directory and look for the City Hall number and you find it listed under "City of Muskegon." As you're glancing at all of the offices listed under "City of Muskegon," you see one listing that says, "complaints." Mrs. Alice Lawie, who answers all complaint calls—refers the callers to various city departments or makes notes on the complaint if it has been previously reported. Mrs. Lawie said most of the calls are about holes in the street, deep snow in front of driveways left by snow plows, dust, barking dogs, water spots, and leaves in the fall. City officials, who contend they don't get any more criticism from Muskegon residents than officials in any other city this size, believe the complaint listing in the telephone directory has its merits. "If anything, it cuts down on the number of complaints we receive because when some people see the listing, they are amused and before they know it, have forgotten all about their complaint," one city official said.

BRITAIN'S INDUSTRY ROOMS — This huge, horn-like spiral casing in London, England, will house plenty when filled with a 73,000-horsepower water turbine and shipped to Portugal. Clocks Change Sunday

Half of U.S. to Lose Hour in Switch to Daylight Time

By UNITED PRESS

About half the nation's population will lose an hour, and farmers, travelers, and timetable authors will have their annual day of confusion and frustration next Sunday.

That's when daylight saving time replaces standard time for an estimated 69,779,806 Americans in most of the nation's major cities and throughout at least nine states.

The big switch will come at 2 a.m. local time. Or, to be more exact, 2 a.m. will never arrive. Instead, official clocks will be turned to three o'clock in the morning.

The change-over generally results in suburbanites missing their trains, employees turning up late for work, and farmers grumbling because their cow-milking schedules are out of step with the clock.

This year, however, may bring even more confusion.

Many eastern states have decided, or are on the point of deciding, to extend DST an extra month until the last Sunday in October.

This will put them out of step with the rest of the nation, where DST traditionally ends on the last Sunday of September.

Meanwhile, an increasing number of cities thumbed their noses at state laws which insist on standard time the year round.

Indiana law, for instance, requires standard time. But Indianapolis and most other cities except in a southeast area were going to switch to DST. To make things even more confusing, some northeast areas had already switched from central to eastern standard time. By making no change Sunday, they will automatically move from EST to central daylight saving time.

Across the nation, nine states will switch officially to daylight-time and the change will be made on an optional basis in 15 others. In the remaining 24 states, some will be standard through and through and some will allow pockets of daylight time.

Finally Wins Stripes

BROOKING, S. D. (UP)—Richard Wakeman finally earned his stripes here after nearly two years of drilling with the Army ROTC cadet regiment at South Dakota State College. Special order No. 3 made Richard an honorary cadet master sergeant. The nine-year-old sergeant is the regiment's mascot.

More than a million Americans have been killed in auto traffic crashes.

Truck Driver Makes Toll Dodge Pay Up

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. (UP)—Truck driver Bruce Bell believes in fair play — and will go to extremes to see that it's carried out. While Bell stopped at the toll bridge here, a car crossed the bridge, whizzed around the opposite side of the toll house and kept going. Bell slammed his truck into gear, passed the car and then blocked the highway in front of the car. Bell told the motorist, "I paid my bill. Now you get back and pay yours."

GE Scientists Perfect Silicon Crystal Making

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — General Electric Company research scientists have reached a new level of perfection in the production of pure silicon crystals, a material useful for transistors, those tiny electronic devices that can be made to do the work of vacuum tubes. Silicon, as contained in common sand, is one of the most abundant elements. But in its pure state it is a rare and invaluable material. The GE scientists have learned to produce sizeable amounts of the crystals of near-perfect purity. They expect it may perform better in certain transistors than the more common germanium. A large modern food store carries more than 3,000 packaged consumer items.

All-American Measles

MANCHESTER, Conn. (UP) — Little Richard Bell was positive the measles he had were not German measles. Explained the lad, "there are no Germans in my class at school."

Bob Considine Says:

National Guard on Alert

NEW YORK (INS)—The largest peacetime mobilization in American history—upwards of 350,000—may have taken place before you read this. Or it could come in the next hour.

Months in preparation, Operation Minuteman was designed to test the speed and efficiency with which the Army and Air National Guard units of the states and territories could be pressed into service in the event of a national emergency. A secondary purpose was to give the American public an opportunity to see the National Guard in training and action.

The "word" was expected from the Pentagon on Monday, anniversary of the ride of Paul Revere; then Tuesday, anniversary of the Battle of Lexington; then Wednesday, the Battle of Concord's date. Instructions to national guardsmen were sharp and to the point:

If summoned by radio or TV flashes, or by announcement in factories, offices, etc., they were not to break their necks getting to their assigned posts at armories, airfields, power plants, bridges, water works, armament factories and so forth. They were not to dally but also not to run down the innocent bystanders. There would be no air raid alerts.

We can be proud of our National Guard, though it has lacked the glamor and certainly the publicity of other military units. By June of this year it will have a strength of 375,000 on the ground—22 infantry divisions, five armored divisions, nine regimental combat teams, nine armored cavalry regiments, 123 anti-aircraft artillery battalions, and 74 field artillery battalions.

The Air National Guard is the first-line reserve component of the Air Force. It is manned 100 per cent by citizen airmen, equipped and instructed by the Air Force. There are more than 700 such units organized into 37 combat wings which include 57 fighter, light bomber and tactical reconnaissance squadrons. Of the Air Guard's 57,000 officers and airmen, many are veterans of World War II and the Korean War.

The mission of ANG is up for test in Operation Minuteman. It is this: "To furnish immediately its fully trained and equipped units as operational forces for use in the air defense of the United States; and in all types of operations, including the offensive, either in the U.S. or abroad." The squadrons of the ANG, based at 84 flying fields strategically located in the U.S. and its off-shore territories are now on a 24-hour a day, 7-day-a-week duty call.

Jet-equipped units of the Air Guard are prepared to go into action immediately in case of emergency, with pilots prepared to be airborne and combat-ready within five minutes after the gong sounds. In the near future, the last of the propeller-driven fighters will be replaced by jets.

The Guard is the nation's oldest military organization, emerging as it does from the militia of colonial times. Its duties range from protecting reservoirs against hypothetical bacteria bombs to defending the locks at Sault Ste. Marie with jets.

The biggest break the movement has had in generations came in 1950 when Congress authorized for the first time the use of federal funds for armory construction. Since the funds became available in 1952, 156 armories have been built at a cost of $10,500,000, another 282 are under construction and 384 more have been approved for construction.

The Guard is no out-of-step fit, forced to get along with hand-me-downs. To meet considerably higher standards set by the Army and Air Force, the postwar guard is required to undertake much more intensified training. Qualifications for promotions are set at a higher level and military schooling is a prerequisite for the promotion of officers.

Prior to World War II, Army schools accepted 400 guardsmen a year. This year 12,537 officers and enlisted men in the Army National Guard will attend Army schools in all branches, and 6,332 airmen and officers of the Air National Guard will have Air Force schooling.

Who said patriotism is on the wane?

Electronic Device Guards Polio Virus

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—An array of weather-sensitive robot devices is working round-the-clock here to speed stockpiling of Salk polio vaccine.

Production of the ruby red vaccine is a highly complex and technical operation. Scientists at Cutter Laboratories here report that it takes from three to four months to produce the vaccine.

One of the critical production periods is during the incubation of the virus. During this seven-day incubation period temperatures must be precisely maintained or the culture will be ruined.

To guard against the slightest change in temperatures, electronic instruments have been harnessed to automatically monitor temperatures 24 hours a day.

More Small Colleges Advocated by Educator

HAVERFORD, Pa. (UP)—More small colleges in more communities instead of enlarging present institutions to take care of swelling enrollments was called for by Dr. Gilbert F. White, president of Haverford College, in his annual report.

"A complex organization of personnel, counselors, psychiatrists and deans" is no substitute for the "understanding and affectionate acceptance" of a small college where individual problems are widely recognized and shared, he concluded.

Long Time No Catch

TORRINGTON, Conn. (UP)—After first saying he'd left his automobile license in his other trousers, Rhoderick K. Clinton finally admitted, according to police, that he'd been driving for 16 years without one.

About 9 per cent of U.S. children from 1 to 14 and about 14 per cent of those from 15 to 17 are orphans.

Of the 3,700 Red Cross chapters in the United States, one of three is staffed wholly by volunteers.

Ancient Fire Engine Going Back Home

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—The Lansingburgh fire engine—"pride of the bucket brigade days of 1791"—is going home.

The 164-year-old pumper is still in working condition but hardly the type to cope with a bad fire these days.

It was retired many years ago and taken over by the State Museum in Albany because the city of Troy had no room to house the venerable machine.

Recently the Board of Regents granted permission to have the red-painted wooden vehicle returned to Troy when the city found a place in the Cluett Mansion.

The fire engine—4 feet wide, 9 feet long and 5 feet high—was donated to the State Museum in 1937 by the John S. Fiske Hook and Ladder Co. of Troy.

His Luck at Hunting

Enough to Stump You

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Jackson Fleckenstein of Ionia claims to have a "magic" hunting stump. He shot his fourth deer in four years while seated on the same stump.

Fleckenstein's friends have suggested he sell tickets to his "magic" stump in Osceola County during next year's deer season.

But Fleckenstein's wife doesn't need a bewitched stump. She shot a 125-pound buck the day before he did this year. And her buck had eight points; her husband's had only six.

Women Jockeys Needed

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK (INS)—The French Sport Society has just announced that starting May 1, it will permit lady jockeys to compete on French racetracks — A decision which should win the sports some sort of Croix des Mutuels.

As I see it, the French are now elevated above their old status as mere wine and love makers. Today, they are also making sense. I have long said—in the presence of such as E. Arcaro, the jockey, N. Dancer, the horse, and M. Cohen, the prominent $2 show window aficionado — that women should not only be allowed, they should be welcomed as jockeys.

They have more courage and grace than men, not to mention that they would look very tasty indeed in racing silks, and thus increase sharply the hunch-betting business.

It also figures that, just as there is a woman behind every successful man, there might well be a woman behind the successful horse.

Without so much as a whip, a lady consistently prods her man to fortune and renown. What heights could she not attain with the legal right to dig in her heels and prod a horse or two?

Considering all this, I have asked, "Why can't America have women jockeys?"

The answers to this question have varied widely, and most will not be recounted here because they are inconsistent with the policies of family newspapers. But the consensus in the local paddocks is this: Women are too stupid, incompetent, sensitive, moody, weak, selfish, vain, money-hungry and fearful of dying to make good jockeys.

"They also would cause," a track publicity man remarked, "a complex situation in the jockey rooms."

Well obviously, all these are excuses.

"BARE-DO"—This bunny costume, with tufts of hair shaped into rabbit ears, and diamond "leaves," was worn at pre-Easter ball in Paris by Yvonne de Mon-laure.

King, Queen, Jack, Spade and Diamond are names of U.S. towns.

The real story is that women have invaded every other field of racing which men considered theirs, all theirs, and the boys are holding out for one last all-stag tradition. Some of the most prominent horse-owners, trainers, exercise "boys" and bettors are girls. And that is enough. Lady jockeys, they realize, would not only endanger the financial, but also the physical, security of the male.

Thus, when mild-mannered Ted Atkinson, horse-booter, says to me, "I just don't feel women are suited for my type of work, Miss," I can see right through him. He is really thinking, "If they do get in—it's every guy's neck!"

Literally, this could be true. Judging from the compact little women I know, it is easy to visualize a male jock plumed to the rail by a defiant dame who knows her own mind. I also foresee the best of Thoroughbreds being throw off-stride by a feminine squeal to the right, and a whiff of arpege to the left.

And, of course, women jockeys can run in any fashion. They are naturally equipped by nature to set the pace in front. But when riding a slow-starter, they still needn't worry because as anyone with horse sense knows, there's no such thing as getting ahead of a lady in the stretch when she's out for money.

I feel sorry for the jockeys, bewildered for the horses and destitute on behalf of the bettors. But progress is progress, and girls will be jockeys, and it's too bad the French had to jump the "They're off" on brave new America.

119th Anniversary of San Jacinto Battle

Mexico Lost Her Empire to Texans Because Gen. Santa Anna Took Siesta

SAN JACINTO MONUMENT.—One afternoon 119 years ago today a general took a siesta and Mexico lost an empire. A band of Texans jumped the general and whipped his army. The story should interest not only Texans. It's important to folks in Arizona, New Mexico, California, Nevada, Utah and Colorado. Their states became part of these United States, because of the battle of San Jacinto.

Things had gone badly for Texas that spring of 1836 in its fight for independence from Mexico. On March 6 the garrison at Alamo Mission in San Antonio had been massacred by the legions of Gen. Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna. Santa Anna, the "Napoleon of the West," swept east and camped at the junction of the San Jacinto River and Buffalo Bayou—22 miles east of Houston.

On the afternoon of April 21, as Santa Anna took his siesta and his force of 1,600 squatted confidently behind their breastworks, General Sam Houston's army—outnumbered 2 to 1—charged.

It must rank with history's most vicious and surprising attacks. Shrieking "Remember the Alamo!" the Texans routed the Mexicans in 18 minutes—killing some 630, wounding 280 and capturing 730. Texan casualties: Two dead, 23 wounded.

Santa Anna was captured. Texas had independence, and nine years later joined the union. But the annexation of Texas touched off the U. S.-Mexican War. Mexico broke off relations with the United States and laid a claim to Texas. The United States won the war, and in a treaty signed Feb. 2,

Blaze in Home Takes 5 Lives

3 Young Children and Their 2 Grandfathers Perish in Illinois

CHICAGO (U-P)—Three young children and their two grandfathers were killed in a fire which spread swiftly through a frame house in suburban Blue Island today.

The mother of the children, Marilyn Weisman, 35, rescued her two youngest children, Ronald, 2, and Lark, 5-month-old daughter. She bundled them into a baby carriage and escaped through the flames and smoke and out a side door. Her husband, Robert, 35, was not home.

Killed were the Weismans' three children, Robert, 7, Richard, 5, and Lynda, 8, and Jacob Weisman, 60, and Stanley Reynolds, 63.

Firemen were hampered in putting out the blaze by a second floor ceiling which caved in as flames swept through the house.

Fire Chief William Barzycki was overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital. His condition was not serious.

Red Nations Face Bible Bombardment

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (U-P)—A Bible bombardment of Iron Curtain countries will get under way Monday, a group of American evangelists say.

At that time, the first of 100,000 hydrogen-filled balloons—each carrying five Bible booklets—will be launched from a secret site near the Czech-German frontier "to strike a blow for religious freedom," the evangelists told a news conference here last night. The booklets are written in Czech, Polish, Russian or German.

Son Finds Dad's Billfold

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U-P)—Tommy Burk's father lost his wallet while plowing a field, and his son unearthed it the next day.

The Market Basket

Prime Ribs and Pot Roast Best Weekend Bargains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—Housewives will find plenty of variety in the specials being offered in the meat departments of the nation's food stores this weekend.

Prime ribs of beef will be a feature in many markets. Another favorite will be pot roast. Round steak or roast also will be on sale in some areas.

Pork loins and pork chops will be the advertised specials of a good number of stores. Here and there, lower prices will be available on pork butts and smoked picnic. A few markets plan price cuts on legs of lamb and lamb shoulder roasts.

Frying chickens generally will be cheaper than a week ago. One chain is dropping prices two cents a pound in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, four cents in Los Angeles, six cents in Boston and Pittsburgh and 10 cents in Detroit. In some cases, roasting chickens will be lower, too.

1848, Mexico ceded that part of the present United States west of Texas and the Louisiana Purchase and south of Oregon. The United States paid Mexico 15 million dollars.

Simple ceremonies today marked the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto. The crowd was expected to outnumber the 700 to 800 men responsible for the holiday—who awakened a sleeping general.

Plan Conference on Waste Lands, Shortage of Food

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U-P)—Scientists from 18 states gather here next week to seek answers to the basic problems of growing deserts and declining world food supplies.

They will lay the groundwork for a two pronged attack on the world's arid lands—the marginal deserts and plains which make up almost a third of the earth's surface.

Prongs of the attack are generally speaking a compromise with nature, by breeding plants and animals which can survive provide food, and attempts to change the deserts through control of nature by making rain and large scale de-salting of water.

Two groups will be represented at next week's meetings in New Mexico, in the heart of America's drought hit Southwest. They are the advisory committee on arid lands of UNESCO—The U. N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization—and the international symposium on arid lands sponsored by the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

At Least 5 Perish in Greece 'Quake

ATHENS, Greece (U-P)—A disastrous new quake struck shattered Volos today, leveling many of the port city's remaining buildings. Five bodies were dug from the rubble and officials feared the death toll would run much higher.

Police headquarters said witnesses telephoned from the stricken area that nearly every building in the city of 51,000 persons, about 100 miles northwest of Athens, had been partially or completely destroyed by the latest shock.

Teachers' Pay Raised

BENTON HARBOR (U-P)—Teachers' salaries in Benton Harbor will be raised $300 to $450 next week under a budget approved by the Board of Education. The increase will affect some 200 teachers. It will boost minimums to $5,500 for those with bachelor's degrees and $5,700 for those with master's degrees.

Many lizards have tails that can be regrown if they are removed.

Illegal Parker Jailed

DETROIT (U-P)—Herman Washington, 20, is serving a five-day jail sentence for parking cars without an attendant's license. Washington was arrested for parking cars in a lot, then parking them in alleys. As a result, the car owners were fined and the cars were towed away.

U. S. margarine production totaled 426 million pounds in 1942 and rose to about 1,364 million pounds in 1954.

Cowboys Have Graced U.S. Scene 300 Years

CHICAGO (UP)—The 300th anniversary of the American cowboy is celebrated this year. The cowboy usually is regarded as a symbol of the West of the past century.

The first organized cattle drive in the United States took place along Old Bay Path between Springfield and Boston, Mass. That first cattle drive was in 1655, under the direction of John Pynchon, son of the first American meat packer.

Telephone Nerves

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Unemployment compensation was granted to a woman who resigned after 12 days as a telephone solicitor because continued verbal abuse made her nervous. Unemployment

Commissioner Harold Strauch extended "considerable sympathy to the busy housewife who is interrupted at a crucial moment by a telephone call," but added that "two wrongs don't make a right."

The poison in poison ivy is an oily resin substance.

Survey Unmasks Fears of Women Driving Critics

What is it that sometimes makes wives nervous and irritable when they are driving with their husbands? What is it that makes them unconsciously seem to press a hole in the floorboards looking for a brake pedal that isn't there? To get the answers to these questions Better Homes & Gardens magazine asked 300 wives to say, frankly, what makes them nervous. Their answers are reported in a recent issue of the magazine. What the answers amount to is a list of ways driver husbands can make things easier for their wives.

Sudden stops and irritated husbands led the list of objections by wives. Nearly one out of four surveyed, about 70 wives, complained about husbands who get irritated in traffic jams and sound off about the other driver to anyone who may or may not be listening.

Sixty wives reported their husbands still had the old habit of zipping up to a stopped car ahead, then slamming on the brakes at the last moment. The husband may know that his brakes—and his reflexes—are in first class condition, but his wife may not be so sure. One out of five women questioned said that the speed their husbands drive makes them nervous. A few said that slow driving gives them the fidgets.

Fourth in the list of objections was driving late at night, especially when the husband appears tired or sleepy. One out of six wives was bothered by husbands trying to make up time in fast traffic. A surprising number of wives were worried about the risk of being arrested.

These add up to what some husbands might call the "back seat driver reaction." Wives are frightened by things they can do nothing about. To avoid ridicule some wives may not say anything; yet, many a husband can discover—and prevent—nervousness if he simply asks his wife, "Is the speed all right?" or "Comfortable?"

Pleasant conversation can help surprisingly to take the edge off nervousness. When they don't take attention from safe driving, word games or guessing games can help. Many wives indicated their husbands should make more "rest stops." It helps relieve nervous tension to get out of the car every 60 or 100 miles.

Clinton Valley Council's Boy Scouts to Clean Oakland and Murphy Parks

More than 125 Boy Scouts will take to the woods Saturday morning for a clean-up jamboree. The woods, in this case, will be located in Oakland and Murphy parks. The scouts, all from the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council's Pontiac district, will rake leaves, spade shrubby beds and pick up rocks, paper, glass and other refuse dumped on park picnic grounds during the winter. Assisting wholeheartedly in the venture will be the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. The department, glad to get a hand in giving the parks an early clean-up, will furnish the tools, plus foremen and trucks to haul away the debris. The clean-up campaign is slated to run from 9 a.m. to noon, with at least 75 scouts participating at Murphy Park and 50 at Oakland Park. "We anticipate this will stimulate interest in the Junior Chamber of Commerce's clean-up drive set to start May 7," said David R. Ewalt, department director. "We hope that seeing the scouts and our men cleaning up the parks will interest people in cleaning up their yards and property." This is the first time any such cooperative venture has been undertaken and Ewalt hopes it will become a yearly event. Edward Leland, scout council executive, said the six or seven troops taking part will get "good turn" ribbons for their troop flags. In addition to the clean-up activities, Ewalt said, if time permits, the scouts will set out trash barrels, picnic tables and benches stored in comfort stations at the parks. "There's no use in cleaning up if you don't provide some facilities for the early-comers," he said. The city's parks open officially April 30.

Lydia Circle Takes Tour Via Talks

European Nations Are Described by Guest Speakers

A European flavor filled the air as members of the Lydia Circle of First Christian Church became armchair travelers this week. Gathering at the church on Tuesday, they were transported, via the vivid first-hand accounts of guests from the citizenship class, to Italy, Poland, France and Norway.

Janice Antona, chairman of the class, introduced Mrs. Flora Grimaldi who started the first lap of the tour with a discussion on Italy, particularly her native town of Cosenza.

Soon to become an American citizen, Cecily Dubis told of her experiences as a refugee. She was born in Glink, Poland, but spent the war years in a concentration camp in Russia.

Contrasts of the duties of French and American housewives were pointed out by Helen Schwetta, also soon to be naturalized.

Inger Madsen, who will soon return to her home in Bergen, Norway, ended the travel talks with comments on her native land.

Other guests were the Elizabeth, Martha-Mary and Naomi Circles.

Kermit Helms, Art Petar Take Top Roles Tonight

You're mistaken if you think you know all the square dances there are to know, according to members of the "Young Adult Club."

For visual proof they've invited everyone to attend tonight's dance at the Pontiac YMCA, when from 9 p.m. to midnight Kermit Helms, a past master on the subject, will prove otherwise.

Helms, three-time winner of the North Carolina square dance championship, will teach square dancing, a la southern style.

Not to be outdone, localite Art Petar will also be on hand with some calls of his own. Extra instructors will assist those interested in learning any of the dances.

Student Council Discusses Role of Good Citizen

A ten-point program entitled, "What is a Good Citizen?" was given Wednesday afternoon by the Student Council of Hawthorne School.

Council members told the PTA gathering that they based these points on the fact that "since the children of today are to be the citizens of tomorrow, they should be good citizens."

Representatives of each room, and captains and lieutenants of the safety patrol and service squads comprise the council.

They discussed these qualities as being characteristic of what they are striving for as their good citizen goal:

A good citizen should show by his actions, his love for God, people and his country.

He should take responsibility, doing his share of the work to be done.

At all times he should be neat and clean.

This same cleanliness is applied to actions and words.

It is again brought out in maintaining beauty in his home, his city, his country.

The laws and rules of his family, school, city and country should be obeyed.

A good citizen should be a friendly and helpful neighbor.

A sense of fair-mindedness should prevail in his work and play.

He should be helpful, not harmful, in his endeavors.

Last, it should be his duty to help in making the rules that govern his home, school and country.

In conclusion the council lauded the efforts of such groups as the Bluebirds, Campfire Girls, Cub Scouts, Boy and Girl Scouts, Boys' Club and Junior Optimist club.

Mrs. Lester Stanley and Mrs. Alton Madden presided at the refreshment table.

Boy Keeps Pestering for Dates

Girl Ought to Give Ex-Beau a Break Now and Then

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I used to like this boy in my class, but I don't any more. I've explained to him hundreds of times but he doesn't seem to understand.

"He says he still likes me and wants a date with me. I see him every day and it's hard for me to tell him no. I try to be nice to him, but he gets to be pesty. Please tell me what to do?"

It's obvious that this boy's affection is lost on you. You want no part of him these days now that your own flame for him has burned out.

You wish he'd leave you alone instead of continually teasing you for a date. You wish he'd understand that you don't want him hanging around at all.

He understands all too well that your feelings for him have changed. It's obvious in what you say and how you act. But it doesn't make any difference to him.

He wants to be with you, he wants to go on liking you. He can't help himself.

If you'd just give him what he asks for—a date—it would be easier on both of you. He'd act satisfied and would cut out the pesty teasing. And that would make him easier to take. One date now and then won't hurt you.

The movie will be just as good whether you're with him or you're not. You only have to talk to him politely part of the time. So give in. If he has something to look forward to he may leave you alone the rest of the time.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Eight months ago I met a very wonderful guy. We went out together for about a month then we had a misunderstanding and stopped seeing each other.

"At the time it really didn't bother me much because I didn't think I really loved him. But I can't avoid seeing him because he lives right next door!

"Two months after our breakup, I began to realize how much I really do like him. My girl friend suggested I write and tell him so, and I did.

"That night he called and from the way he spoke I could tell he still cared, but he said he didn't believe I still loved him. I tried in the following weeks to convince him, but it hasn't worked.

"My girl friend suggested that I stop paying so much attention to him. I even tried going out with other boys. It doesn't work. I can't go with anybody but him. I want him back so very much.

"Please give me some advice before next Sunday as I walk home with him every Sunday after church."

It could be that you're hankering for something just because you can't have it. Your romance with the boy next door flared briefly, then fizzled out. Neither of you cared too much until you suddenly decided that it would be fun and convenient to start it up again. And his "I don't believe you still care" is one way of putting you off. Try telling yourself that for a change. It will make it easier to demote him from hero to boy-next-door. In his new role you can have just as much fun with him.

Colored Pills Turn Pastel

BUFFALO, N. Y. (INS)—The best-dressed medical tablets are wearing the gayest colors this season. Paris has nothing to do with the trend, but coated medicaments are now being produced in a variety of pastel shades. Conventional darker colors are being supplanted by pastel greens, blues and yellows. Despite the current emphasis on pink as a fashion and decorator color, reds and maroons are more popular shades in tablets.

Wash ashtrays often in hot soaps to remove those stale tobacco odors.

February Group Meets at Silver Lake

The February Group of First Presbyterian Church met for a cooperative luncheon at the church recently. Members worked on quilts during the afternoon for the Warren Wilson School in South Carolina.

Couple Succeeds Despite Tragedies

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some people think they have a good reason for bitterness, failure, and total inactivity in life just because they never had the opportunity to go to college, or because their sister was prettier than they, or because they got out of school during the depression.

But other people, with really big problems, manage to sail through and have rich, rewarding and happy lives. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gillespie are that kind of people.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie own and operate a successful snack shop in Austin, Tex. It is a cheerful, friendly place, and business is good.

Mr. Gillespie is blind, but he manages his life, and his business, effectively and cheerfully.

Blindness, you might think, would be a terrible tragedy, and sufficient to give the Gillespies an excuse for bemoaning their fate forever.

But you'd be very wrong. Mrs. Gillespie is a cheerful woman. She is active in the store, as well as handling all her household duties.

"How brave she is," people might say, "carrying on two jobs at once, and still managing to be so warm and friendly!"

But Mrs. Gillespie herself is no stranger to trouble. Her belief in happy ending came from real experience. Six years ago, Mrs. Gillespie had cancer of the leg.

It was detected in time, and she was treated with X-ray and surgery. She is now a well woman, leading a happy and useful life, and she and her husband together are an unbeatable pair.

The longer I live, the more sure I know that people really write their own ticket in life. If you want to be a failure and a loafer and a malcontent, life will hand you plenty of opportunities, plenty of good excuses.

But if you want to be a busy and happy success, there's not an obstacle in the world that you can't surmount.

Next time you find yourself alibing or engaging in self-pity, remember the Gillespies, and see if maybe you can't pull yourself together and make a fresh start.

Bride Trying to Choose Between Color Schemes

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Mrs. G. F., a new bride, has two ideas for her living room color scheme, both good.

The one thing she has to start is maroon wall-to-wall carpeting, which she says is a subdued shade with almost a brown cast.

"Which is better?" she asks. "Champagne walls, a light toast tweed sofa, two turquoise with gold metallic tweed chairs, and patterned draperies with toast and turquoise on a champagne background?"

"Or light plum, almost lilac mauve walls, turquoise chairs, and an off-white or champagne sofa and white background draperies with plum and turquoise pattern?"

Your own preference should guide your choice, Mrs. F., because both schemes would work out nicely.

There might be an advantage in the second scheme because the plum somewhat echoes the carpet color, but you could add maroon to the drapery pattern colors in the first scheme to help tie it in.

Mrs. F. also asks if the same drapery should cover permanently closed French doors in the room, or if plain color to match the walls should be chosen instead.

Make it the drapery fabric, Mrs. F., to match the door to the windows.

Mrs. D. C. "Our living room floor is painted brown, and no matter what cleaning I do, it never looks clean. Sanding it down is out of the question because it's soft wood and we don't know how many times it has been painted."

"We don't want to invest in expensive carpeting, so do you think the floor should be tiled to look better around the edges of a rug, or what would you suggest?"

Yes, tile would create an attractive new floor, and it's so fashionable now, particularly the sturdy vinyls.

Another idea is fiber carpeting in a tweedy design. The kind seen most often in rugs also can be bought by the yard to carpet a floor, and it is inexpensive.

Mrs. M. J. M. "I am making bedspreads and have completed tailored tops in a quilted plain chintz. I bought enough patterned chintz to make dust ruffles, but I'm wondering now if the tops aren't too tailored for ruffles."

"Do you think they are when the tops are made plain with kick pleats at the corners?" Usually ruffles go well with this type of top, but if you have a feeling against ruffles it may also be because they aren't entirely appropriate to the style of the room.

Household Tasks Topic of Booklet

NEW YORK (INS)—Women work too hard—and they don't have to, says the American Heart Association.

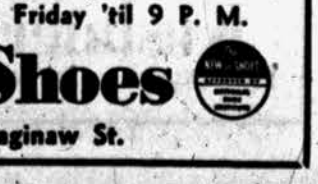

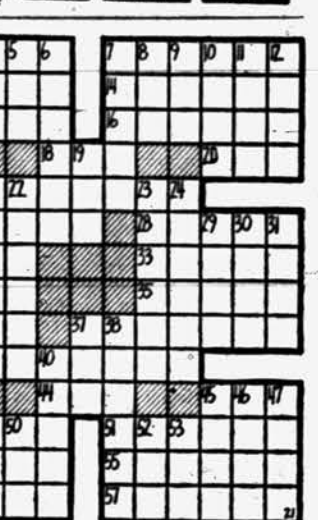

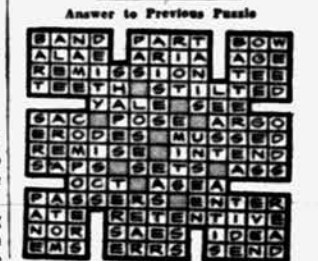

The Heart people have put out a pamphlet designed to ease the housework duties of a cardiac, but claim people with normal hearts can learn something from the booklet, too.

The booklet starts out with basics—how to sit, stand, walk, lift and climb in the easiest fashion. It goes on to tip off housewives on how to plan and arrange their work areas—particularly the kitchen—so there is the least amount of extra work.

The booklet is called "The Heart of the Home," and is on sale for ten cents.

And it's a good idea for housewives to keep in mind the first question asked on the motion study check list included in the pamphlet:

"Why is it necessary that this job be done at all?"

Guest Fails to Appear for Dinner

Hostess Wonders if She Should Have Sent Reminder

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "Two weeks ago while at a bridge party at a friend's house, I met an acquaintance whom I hadn't seen for a long time and asked if she would dine with me the following week. I said nothing further and took it for granted that she would come. However, she never turned up and I haven't heard from her since. A friend of mine tells me that I should have sent her a reminder card a day or so before the dinner."

"Will you please tell me what a reminder card is and when it is used. Also, was I at fault for not confirming the invitation?"

Answer: If the day and hour of your dinner had been definitely set, your friend should have come with no further word from you.

Because people do sometimes forget engagements they make when they are away from home and cannot write them down immediately, many hostesses follow such an invitation by sending a reminder card, which may be a visiting card with "To remind you, you are dining with me on Wednesday, the 10th at 7:30." Others telephone the day before (or morning of) the dinner.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's cousin is to be married soon and we intend to give her money for a wedding present. Several other relatives are giving her money, too, which they intend to present to her at the reception. Is this proper?

I have seen guests at other weddings do this but it never seemed right to me. I would very much like your opinion on the correct way of presenting this to her.

Answer: Correctly, you send a check to the bride soon after the wedding invitations have been sent out. To hand her money at the reception would be unthinkable except with special excuse (such as absence from home until the wedding day).

Dear Mrs. Post: When one is served ice cream, pudding, etc., on a dessert dish, with a somewhat larger plate underneath it, should the spoon be left in the dish or on the plate when one is finished eating?

Answer: It is left in the dish unless the dish is so small that there is danger of the spoon falling off. In this case it should be put on the plate underneath.

DISCOP-GRACER

Readers' Letters Are Stimulating

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

My favorite reading matter is your response to what I say here. For example, this from K. H. of Davis, Calif., written after the column on how to avoid self-consciousness at gatherings.

"Just before leaving for a party, I empty my mind of all thoughts except what things or people weigh, starting with the host and hostess, their baby or even their dog. As the door opens I can accept greetings with a self-possession smile for I am still thinking about weights."

"Is John nearer 150 pounds than the 120 I had estimated? Has Elizabeth gained two pounds since I last saw her? I keep smiling and shaking hands—but underneath I'm guessing weights. Pretty soon someone seems interested in telling me something and then I find it fun to be a good listener."

"My weight-guessing has left me relaxed and receptive, and I have avoided the shy person's nervous mistake of talking too much."

As a result of our column on the high cost of dating for teenagers, Mrs. H. I. Strasbourger of Cleveland, concerned about the social life of the young, turned her house into a canteen for her 16-year-old girl and 17-year-old boy.

"The youngsters, 12 in number, played games that were popular 30 years ago, good wholesome games," she wrote. "Of course there was dancing to 1955 tunes, followed by the usual soft drinks, sandwiches, potato chips and such. We set the oven-timer for 9:30 but it was 10 p. m. when the gang hustled out."

"Everyone asked for more. So Friday we are doing it again and this time expect around 20 youngsters."

A column on winter memories reminded Carrie Belle of Kansas City of her farm days. She remembers, as I do, sounds of morning firemaking and the mingled smell of coal-oil and smoke.

"Then there was the noise of milk pails as someone got them out, and the slam of the back porch door and, if the wind was right, you might even catch the plink of the milk hitting tin pails," she recalls.

"I can still hear the stamping of cattle, and of winter morning, smell that wonderful, steaming aroma that comes from the stalls in the barn. Keeps you warm while you are milking. Modern milkers in modern dairies miss this."

A young California mother of three, Laverne Rison defiantly faces down those who maintain that civilization is on its death bed and that "we're taking our last feeble gasp before we die."

"Even if they are right and I were given the power to look around and behind me," she maintains, "I'd choose to be me, born in 20th Century America—because I'm confident my life is better than mankind has ever known."

"Machines do most of the physical labor so that I have time to enjoy the beauties and pleasure that God and man have provided and even a little left over to do some thinking and creating on my own."

"No one—and especially no woman—out of the past ever had the advantages that I was lucky enough to be born with. And if I should die tomorrow—I would still have had a rich, full life. And if my civilization should disappear tomorrow, it would still have been the greatest that has yet existed."

Who doesn't love the shirtwaist dress? It's the ultimate in understatement in silk surah with coin dots. Long cuffed sleeves and a white calfskin belt complete the look that is a classic for any age.

Repair Burn Spots With Stick Shellac

There isn't much of a trick to learning to smoke but it appears there is a trick to learning how to smoke without burning holes through the finish on furniture. At least that's what we've observed from the number of pieces of furniture we've seen with nasty looking burns on them.

Naturally, it's easier to burn a hole in the finish of furniture than it is to patch things up after the damage has been done, but the damage can be repaired. What you need to do a first rate job is something called stick shellac, some linseed oil, powdered rottenstone or powdered pumice stone, a piece of felt, sandpaper and some time and effort. Stick shellac is something like sealing wax but it comes in a range of colors so you can usually get a piece that pretty well matches up with the finish you want to repair.

First, use a sharp chisel and sandpaper to remove the damaged finish and wood. Next, warm the blade of a thin knife and then melt some of the stick shellac off onto the blade. Work the softened shellac into the hole and let it come a little higher than the surface of the wood finish. When the shellac is hard, take a razor blade and carefully cut away the excess at the top so that the patch is flush with the rest of the finish. Now the patch has to be polished. Take the piece of felt, dip it into the linseed oil and then into a saucer filled with the powdered pumice or rottenstone. Polish over the patch and keep working in the same direction of the wood grain around the patch. When the patch is polished, wipe off the surface and then apply wax or furniture polish.

If you ask a friend to call another friend of yours when he visits a distant city, put your request in such a way that he won't feel embarrassed if he doesn't get around to it.

If he really is busy or in no mood for chatting with someone he doesn't know, an out will be appreciated.

Until today you might as well have been putting your expensive creams on glass!

MAX FACTOR's new discovery, SECRET KEY throws open the barrier in your skin that's been holding back your creams and lotions!

"WHY is it that women with dry skin—women with oily skin—and women with the problems of blackheads and blemishes, never seem to get the help they long for—even when the strictest beauty routine is followed with expensive treatment preparations?"

For years, we at Max Factor searched for the answer to this puzzling question. And this search revealed the startling fact that there is a chemical barrier in the skin itself that keeps creams and lotions "on the outside looking in"—as though they were smoothed on glass!

This barrier develops when skin lacks correct pH* balance. Meaning, it is either too acid or too alkaline. And very few women do have correct skin balance.

We set out to discover a way to break through the barrier—to enable creams and lotions to get through to bring needed help to parched or oil-clogged skin cells.

We found the way—discovered the SECRET KEY—a remarkable liquid formulation which returns the skin to correct acidity-alkalinity balance... and by so doing opens the way through for creams and lotions to do their beautifying work.

We followed with exactly the right corrective treatment groups for the dry, the oily, the disturbed and the normal skin... Each group formulated to follow right behind the Secret Key and help the skin to help itself.

With the Secret Key and your corrective treatment group—suddenly you will begin to notice a real improvement!

Today, I am happy to be able to turn over to you the Secret Key that can open the way to the skin beauty you have longed for.

Clara Barton—The Girl Who Wanted to Be a Nurse

Most little girls like to play nurse.

But when Clara Barton was only 11, she really was a nurse and helped her older brother through a long, serious illness. She was a timid girl, but when she helped someone in pain she would forget her shyness.

Born in 1821 in Oxford, Mass., Clara first studied to be a teacher. When the Civil War began she volunteered as a nurse and risked her life many times to aid the wounded. People soon called her the "Angel of the Battlefield." After the war she helped search the hospitals, prisons and battlefields for missing soldiers.

As a nurse she helped out also during the Franco-Prussian War in Europe. There she saw the work of the International Red Cross. She was so impressed that she decided her country, too, must join it. In 1882 the American Red Cross was founded and Clara Barton became its first president. She died in 1912.

This is the fourth in a week-long series on American pioneers. Color this picture carefully so you will have your own collection of famous Americans.

Bookkeeper Strings Along With Beads for Quick Job

OGDEN, Utah (UP)—Did you like to play with beads when you were a child?

Well, Joe T. Shimamura did. And now he does it for a living.

Only the beads Joe "plays with" now are strung on a frame called an abacus, and the lightning fast mathematical calculations he can do with this apparently simple device are far from child's play.

Joe probably is the only bookkeeper in the nation who tabulates his accounts on an abacus, device as old as the early civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome.

What's more, Joe and his "bead board" can figure answers to mathematical problems more rapidly than electrical computing machines.

Joe has a battery of electrical adding machines in his office at an Ogden jewelry firm, but he rarely uses them. They're too slow.

Instead, Joe relies on his soroban, the Japanese version of the abacus. He's so fast that he can come up with an answer—multiplying, dividing, adding or subtracting—as soon as he gets the last number in a problem.

Such rapidity is not unusual. In 1946, the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, conducted tests in Tokyo between abacus operators and operators of the most up-to-date electrical calculating machines.

The abacus won easily.

Shimamura said he uses the abacus because with it he is sure of himself and isn't under constant mental strain from worrying over possible mistakes on complicated electrical calculators.

The bead-covered boards, which sell for $1.50 to $5, are used widely in banks, accounting and other business firms throughout Japan. In fact, Shimamura said, even Japanese grammar school students learn how to use the abacus.

Shimamura, himself, learned how to use the centuries-old device while a student in Japan. In 1924, he came to the United States and settled in California, where he went to work for an importing firm.

Joe was a salesman, but he also had to figure the cost of foreign-made goods, ocean freight, duty and other costs.

Since the abacus is small and easy to carry, Joe used it to figure these costs while on the road as a salesman—and the novel device fascinated his customers so much that some of them gave him extra orders.

That was good enough for Joe. Since then he's shunned electrical computers and stuck to the device that his ancestors were using in the 14th Century.

Choose Right Place for a Big Blowup

SCARBOROUGH, Me. (UP)—Scout executive Joseph Snow and Robert Googins gave this explanation for the singed eyebrows on their red faces:

At the windup of Boy Scout medal-awarding ceremonies, they smelled gas and decided to investigate. Snow started testing the burners of one gas stove with a match.

Just then Googins opened the oven door of a second stove, and—boom. The blast tore off the oven door and knocked both to the floor.

The incident occurred at the fire station.

High Fidelity the Greatest

By MARGARET LATROBE
"Hi-Fi" is in no sense a greeting of a pal named Philo. The "tweeters and woofers" ailment bears no resemblance to the hoof and mouth disease. "Coaxial speaker" does not refer to the gent chatting over the cable of the same name. AVC is no government agency.

The whole new lingo simply means that somebody is listening to the phonograph. And making a production of it!
High fidelity can be an expensive means of enjoying recorded music, just as fishing can be done with a bit of string and a bent pin. But once that first fish is caught, it gives a man ideas about what some real tackle would fetch from the briny.

Once a person is exposed to hi-fi, recordings on a modestly priced set-out come the carpenter tools, the better to chop out the wall; out goes the money, the better to purchase low impedance cathode followers, binocular systems and pre-amplifiers.

And by the time the folks are permitted to hear some music, there is some question as to whether it mightn't have been cheaper just to send for the whole Philharmonic Orchestra, in person.

For the "in person" idea is the desired goal of the whole thing. High fidelity music means that it's the nearest thing to sitting in the band, hearing the sounds as they originated. And the funny thing is that men who are now Rachmaninoffs-come-lately, busy with their ear phones and high priced gadgets, wouldn't be caught dead at an actual symphony concert.

It reminds me of the brontosaurus era when everybody had an untuned upright piano for the small fry to practice "Old Oaken Bucket" and "Fifth Nocturne." The days when a curly maple bedroom suite and a horned table model phonograph were items no real home could be without.

Galli-Curci and Caruso scratchily soared in arias from "Lucia," "Meditation" from "Thais" and the "Wang Wang Blues" gave the record collection a bit of the old zip. About the only fidelity lurking nearby was a small child stationed handily near the machine to shove the tone arm past dust clots and congenial defects in the records, faithfully changing from soprano to fiddler to Sousa's band. Nobody ever heard of an entire symphony at one sitting. Too monotonous, eh?

"Isn't high fidelity the greatest? Except for a touch of azimuth misalignment, our set is perfect!"

Dried Beans Are Big Business in State

High Quality Navies Top List

Michigan Farms Grow 90 Pct. of All Pea Beans Eaten in United States

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

In the shelter of a small tent pitched in the wastes of the frozen Arctic the explorer makes tea and warms a pot of beans. Weary from his day's search for mid-twentieth century treasure, the uranium prospector builds a tiny fire to warm his can of baked beans. In camps all over this vast country of ours young campers cook their beans in a bean hole.

Beans cooked and eaten in any number of different places—and over ninety per cent of them probably came from our own state of Michigan.

Michigan leads the country in the production of navy or pea beans, supplying from 92 per cent to 96 per cent of all grown in the United States. The Thumb area and the Saginaw Valley are the big producing areas. There the combination of soil and the lake breezes give Michigan beans their unusual fine flavor.

Although the origin of the bean is lost in antiquity, it is believed to have been cultivated first by the South American Indians who had developed many varieties by the time of Columbus. Unlike other vegetables, beans keep well for long periods of time and are the perfect food for sailors, explorers, native labor crews, lumberjacks, cowpunchers or armies. One authority has stated that this country was won, civilized and populated on a diet of beans.

Oakland county readers may be surprised to know that prior to 1900 beans were harvested in parts of this and neighboring southern counties. One of our farmers visiting relatives in New York State, just after the Civil War, brought samples back with him to see if they would prosper in Michigan. From that inauspicious beginning has come Michigan's No. 1 agricultural product — in a good crop year a 55 million dollar business.

To many who see the hard little dry beans on the grocery shelves they are mainly an economy food. It is true that they pack a lot of nourishment in a small space. Their importance as a staple article of diet and supplier of essential proteins and other nutrients cannot be over looked. Nutritionists tell us that beans are 90 per cent digestible, more digestible than bread, peas, corn or rice.

During May the farmers are busy cultivating the soil in preparation for early-June plantings. Thousands and thousands of acres will be planted to one or more of the seventeen kinds of beans that are grown in Michigan. Pea beans will take up the most acreage.

While we were collecting information on this article we talked with one of the librarians at the City Library, Florence Wells. Her father, a farmer in Tuscola County, devotes about thirty-five acres each year to navy beans. Florence knows the story of bean cultivation and harvest well and willingly shared her knowledge.

When the beans have ripened and dried to the proper stage, mechanical pickers go down the fields, chopping off two rows of plants at once and piling them together. Then the combine follows, gathering up two of these larger rows and threshing the beans as it travels. In order to prevent the brittle pods from spilling their precious cargo the beans are harvested early in the day, before the dew is off.

Leaving the chaff in the fields where it has been blown, the farmer takes the shelled beans to the barn. Some sell directly to the consumer from their own barns; others truck their crop to large bean elevators. The culls are returned to them and may be used as sheep food.

Beans go to the elevators in trucks. They leave the elevators in smaller hundred pound bags or in the familiar clear plastic one and two pound containers. Canneries take 50 per cent or more of Michigan's crop, while 40 per cent ends up on the grocer's shelves for Mrs. America to take home. The remainder is sold in bulk to hotels, restaurants and institutions.

Canners prefer Michigan pea beans because they are the only variety that doesn't lose its shape in the cooking and canning process; the flavor is excellent; and these beans have the usual high food value possessed by all dried beans.

Some of the larger bean elevators are equipped to handle several carloads of beans a day. However, there are a great many much smaller elevators scattered throughout the Thumb and Saginaw Valley areas.

As soon as the farmer's beans reach the elevator they are cleaned. Then they are graded, since grade determines the basic price. Choice hand-picked beans bring a premium, and the farmer who brings in a high-grade, clean load of beans gets the best price.

A small amount of beans is drawn from the farmer's load. From this sample dirt and pebbles and discolored, frosted, broken damp and misshapen beans are picked out and weighed. The ratio of the weight of these culls to the weight of the whole sample is taken as the ratio of culls to good beans in the load, and the farmer is paid accordingly.

After this "picking" process the beans are sorted, either in the same elevator or at a terminal one. As shown in the above picture a complicated electric machine mechanically takes the bad beans from the good ones. The term "hand-picked" is a relic of early days when women actually did sort the beans by hand.

Now comes the part of the process that is not wholly mechanical. Girls must oversee the packing of the retail bags. The bags are weighed and heat sealed by mechanical means, but there is some human labor involved.

This is one food industry where processing is reasonably simple. The story of bean canning is another chapter. But for the beans destined to end in the home bean pot this is the final stop before the food store. With more than 50,000 of our state's farmers and 225 shippers in the bean business, it plays a large part in the economic life of the state. It pays in Michigan to "know beans."

Combine Beef, Rice, Dry Milk

Take three plentiful foods—beef, rice and instant nonfat dry milk—and see how many interesting, economical variations you can make with this trio of penny-wise foods. A famous test kitchen follows a colorful and good eating theme with Spanish Beef and Rice Special.

Spanish Beef and Rice Special is an easily prepared and hearty dish for a budget-saving meal. And speaking of budget helpers, instant nonfat dry milk is a real bargain for it offers homemakers high nutrition at low cost.

It is a valuable source of the "big three" nutrients—protein, calcium, riboflavin and lactose. This economy star, Spanish Beef and Rice Special, covers up its penny-wise qualities with nourishing and tasty appeal.

Spanish Beef and Rice Special
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 medium-size onion, chopped
 1-3 cup chopped green pepper
 2 tablespoons chopped plantains
 1 pound lean beef, cut in 1 inch cubes
 1-3 cup instant nonfat dry milk
 1-3 cup rice
 1-3 cup tomato sauce
 1-3 cup oregano
 1-3 cup salt
 1-3 cup (4 oz.) can tomato sauce
 Melt butter in large skillet; saute onions, pepper and beef until onions are tender and beef is browned on all sides. Combine vinegar and water; stir into beef mixture.
 Cover. Cook over low heat about 20 minutes or until beef is tender. Stir in rice, liquefied instant nonfat dry milk, oregano and salt.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, about 10 minutes. Just before serving, stir in tomato sauce. Makes four-six servings.

Oldsters Need Meat

Scientists have concluded that a diet poor in proteins hastens the aging process. Meat, a yardstick of protein foods, is very important to older people. Sometimes this is not realized as evidenced by the weakened older people who are brought to hospitals as a result of so-called "light" diets, such as tea and toast.

There these victims of fallacies concerning food are placed on gradually increasing high protein diets, and they make wonderful recoveries.

Canned sweet cherries are just about the easiest fruit to serve, for they require practically no preparation and are economical because there's no waste.

AFTER-SCHOOL SNACK—No better formula than cookies and milk to soothe the savage appetites after school. As a special reward, or just for fun, deck

Satisfy Young Appetites With Fancied-Up Cookies

Fancy cookies are fun to make, easy too when packaged cookies start you off. Use the ones your children like the best. The circumstances and your fancy will take it from there.

In the picture above there are three shown which we think you will enjoy trying.

The "school's out" clock cookie is made from spicy-crisp old-fashioned gingersnaps, with butter cream frosting forced through the narrow tip of a pastry tube or paper cone to form the face.

A small mound of frosting in the middle of a vanilla wafer, surrounded by almond halves, brings a flower to life.

Strictly for fun, try topping a gingersnap with frosting and chocolate sprinkles. Then set in a favorite Mickey Mouse cookie character.

Just be sure to have plenty of all these cookies on hand—your proud youngster will probably bring some friends.

Butter Cream Frosting
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
 2 tablespoons sweet or sour cream
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream the butter or margarine and gradually work in one-half cup of the sugar, beating well, then add the remaining sugar alternately with the cream, still beating constantly. Add the vanilla last.

For tomato juice cocktail, heat one can (12 1/2 ounces) tomato juice and one beef bouillon cube.

LETTUCE COUNTRY-STYLE—A brand new vinegar just on the market is the secret of the dressing on this salad. Chopped hard-cooked eggs lend color, but it is the new Salad Vinegar that provides the tang. This vinegar is a blend of several vinegars.

Full-Bodied New Vinegar Created for Salad Making

You know the ditty, "For want of a nail, the shoe was lost; for want of a shoe, the horse was lost; for want of a horse, the race was lost..."

Our modern paraphrase is this: "For want of a fine vinegar, the dressing was lost; for want of a dressing, the salad was lost; for want of a salad, the dinner was lost..."

The salad is a mighty important part of the meal; but without a beautifully blended dressing, it can hardly be a success. The success of the dressing, in turn, depends most often upon the quality of vinegar used.

Fine vinegar costs so little for salads, makes such a remarkable difference in the results, that it seems senseless to settle for less than the best.

We've had this fact confirmed again this week. We've must sampled a new Salad Vinegar ready for marketing in this area by the world's largest producer of fine vinegars.

A blend of fine distilled and fermented vinegars, it is rich and full-bodied with a mellow fruit-fragrance close akin to cider. It has the same sparkling clarity, the same pleasing aroma as the other vinegars of this same processor.

Like the others—distilled white, cider, malt and tarragon—it is flash-pasteurized and stabilized to a 5 per cent acidity. Every bottle is absolutely pure, absolutely uniform.

Bacon-Avocado Dip

NEW YORK (UP)—Crisp bacon and avocado make a tasty combination for cocktail dip or spread. Crumble three strips of crisp bacon and mix with one mashed avocado, 1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice, three-fourths teaspoon of salt and 1 teaspoon grated onion. Garnish with chopped fresh parsley and paprika.

Corn Muffin Variation

NEW YORK (UP)—Corn muffin tip: Make the batter from a mix according to package directions, folding in a can of whole kernel corn. Spread in a greased square pan and dot the top with half spoonfuls of deviled ham. Bake as directed. Cut in squares and serve hot or cold.

RED DEVIL TRICKS—Youngsters love party-wiches are served. The "teen trick" is to letter on-a-plate, especially when tasty deviled ham sandwich names in mustard on the cheese slice. Lots of fun.

Meat Mixture Fills Hard Rolls

Have you ever heard of baking a sandwich? The next time you entertain in the evening you might make up these filled rolls ahead of time.

Twenty to 25 minutes in a moderate oven will have them piping hot and delicious.

Crusty Meat-Filled Rolls
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup quick rolled oats
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup tomato juice
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
6 slices sharp processed cheese
6 oblong hard rolls
Cut off the top crust of each hard roll. Hollow out the inside to make a shell.

Combine all ingredients for meat filling except cheese. Divide the filling in six portions; put each portion into a hard roll shell.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 20 minutes.

Top each meat-filled roll with slice of cheese and continue baking 2 or 3 minutes until cheese softens. Makes six servings.

Test Cake Doneness
To be well-baked, all a cake asks of a cook is this little attention: Press its top surface lightly with your finger before removing it from the oven. If the crust springs back without imprint, your cake's ready to meet its public.

Party-on-a-Plate Menus Will Win Teen Applause

Party-on-a-plate. Even if there is no occasion, youngsters still enjoy having their meals with a gala flare. These deviled ham and cheese sandwiches look like a wonderful treat.

The tray is garnished with crunchy vegetable relishes and pickles. For that special "teen touch," serve sandwiches open and write names in mustard on the cheese slice. Use a wooden pick, match end or spoon handle for writing.

And did you notice how the pretzels are served? The trick is to stick a slender-handled fork firmly in piece of fruit (non-juicy kinds are best); string pretzels or small doughnuts on fork handles.

To vary the deviled ham-and-cheese "combo," make up a mixture of deviled ham, cream cheese and minced cooked prunes or chopped apple or mashed banana.

Another favorite for youngsters is deviled ham mixed with cottage cheese, finely minced carrot, pepper and onion, and a little mayonnaise.

For a hot trick, spread toast with deviled ham, sprinkle generously with grated cheese, broil for just a few moments. Cut in finger pieces for easy eating.

Red Devil Cheese Spread
To make a tasty, tangy spread for crackers, toast or plain bread, try this combination: Deviled ham, 5-ounce jar smoky cheese spread, 1 package cream cheese, teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and a tablespoon minced parsley. Blend all ingredients until smooth. Chill. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Devil Fingers
Combine deviled ham with chive cheese and spread on thin slices of white bread from which crusts have been removed. Cut into fingers by cutting bread slice in half and then cutting each half in three pieces. Garnish with slices of stuffed olive.

Sauce Just Bursts With Spring Color
Cranberry Pineapple Sauce just bursts with spring color and luscious flavor and is so easy to make.

The cranberry sauce comes right from the can; pineapple and spice take seconds to add.

Cranberry Pineapple Sauce for Baked Ham
1 pound can whole cranberry sauce
1/2 cup crushed drained pineapple
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
Combine ingredients and heat until spicy hot. Serve as sauce on a thick slice of baked ham. Or let each family member spoon his own from a sauce dish. Makes 2 cups sauce.

To add color and flavor to your salad, add chopped green pepper, grated onion and salt to cottage cheese.

Serve Chicken Hash

What to do about chicken that's leftover after it's been roasted and served once? Here's something that you might like to try: Cut chicken into small pieces and make a hash, to which you add a little fine-minced orange and lemon rind, and a little nutmeg. Serve the hash hot with sliced, hard-cooked eggs.

Cauliflower, whether you serve it with a butter or a cream sauce, benefits from a dusting of paprika.

ASPARAGUS HOLLANDAISE—There's no doubt spring is here when fresh Asparagus Hollandaise appears on the dinner table. Serve the asparagus with roast chicken and parsley buttered carrots.

The next time you serve creamed spinach try adding a small amount of prepared horseradish to step up the flavor.

Crisp rye wafers, buttered and toasted, and a glass of chilled tomato juice make a refreshing mid-afternoon snack.

Top Asparagus With Hot Sauce

Fresh asparagus with hollandaise sauce is a treat folks look forward to when spring arrives, and fresh asparagus from California is in local markets again.

Asparagus Hollandaise is a dish which gives the simplest meal an elegant touch, and can always be depended upon for the best in good eating. Enjoy it often while fresh asparagus is plentiful.

Asparagus Hollandaise
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup heavy cream
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
3 1/2 pounds asparagus, cooked and drained

Combine eggs, cream, lemon juice, rind, salt and paprika in top of double boiler. Beat until well blended.

Cook over hot, not boiling, water until thickened, stirring occasionally. Serve over asparagus. Makes four servings.

Grind Own Nutmeg

Most of the nutmeg brought into the United States is sold in the ground form. However, whole nutmegs are also available. Many hostesses are featuring streamlined versions of old-fashioned nutmeg grinders on their dinner tables. They have discovered the flavor treat of freshly grated nutmeg as a topping for vanilla ice cream. It is equally delicious sprinkled over a fruit compote.

Try Ring Sundae Made of Doughnuts

You'll want the makings for quick desserts on hand this month for Sunday evening treats. One that's fun to serve and fun to eat is Double Wedding Ring Sundae, a pretty figure-eight made with cake doughnuts and your favorite ice cream.

Use doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. These are good cake batter, and snow white with confectioner's sugar.

To make Double Wedding Ring Sundaes, allow one doughnut per serving. Split doughnuts crosswise, and place halves, cut side down, on serving plates. Top with ice cream, and add sundae sauce if you like.

When beef was first "corned," in lumps or "corns," and that is the salt for the processing came how corned beef got its name.

MSC Furnishes Recipe for Beef Cooked in Wine

A brisk trend toward use of more beef is evidenced at the meat counters. "Chuck-full of flavor" is as economical eating as an aromatic pot roast.

According to marketing and consumer information agents of Michigan State College either the blade or round chuck cut serves about two persons per pound, and the blade cuts sell for about 10 cents less per pound. Other reasonably priced beef cuts to check include round steak, English cuts, and standing rib roasts.

Many pork cuts continue in good supply and at low cost. Boston butts, loin roasts and picnic are favorites for roasts. Special on bacon and sausage fit every shopper's pocketbook.

Fresh Lake Erie fish is in bigger supply and better quality. Shoppers will find smelt, white bass, herring, perch and pickerel among their choices.

A more adequate supply has caused stewers to be more favorably priced than fryers. The best birds are rock hens, weighing 4-5 pounds.

Eggs offer high quality protein at very reasonable prices for this time of year. The supply of grade A large eggs is moderate and barely ample with small amounts of jumbo, extra large and medium sizes in the market.

Spring greens and yellows high-light vegetable counters. Michigan globe onions are more reasonably priced than the new flat, white Texas onions. Increased shipments of green beans from Florida and asparagus from California have helped to reduce prices slightly for food shoppers.

Recent cold weather in the South has damaged potato crops, causing fluctuations and immediate increasing prices. Lettuce is improving in size and quality and prices are reasonable.

Florida white and pink grapefruit and Valencia oranges are at seasonal peaks of quality and flavor.

Ripen avocados at room temperature for several days to develop their creamy buttery texture. This pear-shaped fruit will add an ultra touch to any salad.

Both bananas and apples are reasonably priced fruits. With Michigan Northern Spy and Delicious and Washington Winesaps practically the only varieties on the counters—the Spy offers a better choice for all-purpose use.

Beef in Wine Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or fat
2 onions, sliced
2 pounds beef chuck
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 cup boiling water
1 beef bouillon cube
1/4 cup dry red wine
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/4 teaspoon marjoram
1/4 pound mushrooms
1/4 cup butter or margarine
Melt fat in skillet. Add onions and cook until yellow. Remove onions from pan. Trim excess fat from meat and cut into strips about an inch wide, 2 inches long and about 1/2-inch thick. Add meat to drippings in skillet. Sprinkle with flour and cook over medium heat until meat is well browned.

Combine water and bouillon cube and stir until cube is dissolved. Stir in wine, and add 1/2 of wine mixture to meat in skillet with seasoning. Cover skillet and simmer over very low heat for about 2 hours, adding small amounts of remaining wine mixture from time to time, until all is used.

Meanwhile, slice the mushrooms lengthwise and saute in butter. Add mushrooms and onions to meat mixture. Continue cooking for 20 to 30 minutes, until meat is very tender. Makes about six servings.

Cake Flavored by Two Fruits

When your teenager looks for a recipe to make all by herself, suggest that she might try this one.

This festive cake is very easy to do (it uses prepared cake mix) and makes an impressive finale to luncheon or dinner. It tastes equally good when made with a spice cake mix—takes on fruitcake glamor.

Two-Fruit Upside-Down Cake
1 package white cake mix
No. 1 can whole cranberry sauce, drained (approximately 1/2 cup)
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup bite-size orange pieces (2 medium-sized oranges)

Prepare cake mix according to directions on package. Drain cranberry sauce, and cut oranges into bite-size pieces. Combine cranberries, oranges and pecans and line bottom of 8 x 8 2-inch baking dish with the mixture.

Spoon cake batter carefully over orange-cranberry mixture. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 40 to 50 minutes.

When removing cake from oven, leave cake in pan for 30 minutes. Then invert on platter and serve with whipped cream. Serves eight.

Add Juice to Meringue

Meringue recipes sometimes call for a little lemon juice because the juice not only gives flavor to the meringue when it is used as a pie topping, but it helps the cutting quality. Add the lemon juice to the egg whites just before beating.

Colorful Peach Salad

Cream cheese and deviled ham, mixed with chopped nuts, fits nice into a peach half to serve as a colorful salad. Garnish each salad with a small bunch green grapes and a spoonful mayonnaise.

Cheese Sparks Fish Fillet Rolls

Fillet of sole can be a very attractive, festive dish if treated with proper respect. Try dressing it up by rolling each piece and serving with a sauce of tomato and tangy American blue cheese.

The blue-green veined marbled blue cheese not only adds a delicately piquant flavor to the fish but, used as a garnish, makes it very tempting looking.

Serve the rolled fillet with green string beans and baked potatoes and you'll have a meal your family or guests will enjoy heartily.

For another vegetable suggestion try stewed tomatoes with blue cheese.

Blue Cheese Rolled Fillet

1 1/2 pounds fillets of sole
Salt and pepper
2 10 1/2-ounce cans condensed tomato soup
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

Sprinkle fillets with salt and pepper. Roll up jelly-roll fashion and place in shallow greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Combine remaining ingredients. Mix well and pour over fillets.

Bake in slow oven (325) 35 to 40 minutes, or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Makes six servings.

BLUE CHEESE ROLLED FILLETS—Fillet of sole you cannot or do not wish to use sole, use the kind of fillets your family prefers. Baked potatoes tomato and tangy American blue cheese sauce. If make an excellent accomplishment.

TROPICAL APPETIZER—A cheese and pineapple dip goes into its own pineapple shell for pretty serving. Surround this unusual container with several kinds of crisp crackers and you have the perfect first course for the living room.

Pineapple Dip. Served in Shell

This tangy pineapple dip is served in its own scalloped bowl—the pineapple shell itself. If you have to provide the first course for a potluck dinner, this is an ideal one, for it travels well.

Cut the top from a very ripe pineapple, following the scallops of the shell. Hollow out pulp with a grapefruit knife and chop fine.

Combine one-half-pound cream cheese and one-fourth-pound bleu cheese; mix in 1 1/2 cups pineapple, 1 tablespoon chopped chives and a few grains salt. Blend well and return to pineapple shell.

If pineapple bowl is to be carried, put on its own top. When ready to serve, surround with your choice of crisp crackers.

Oven Eggs Mean Easy Preparation

Oven Eggs
For each serving, butter an individual heat-resistant glass pie plate (6 inches in diameter and 1 inch deep). Break an egg into each buttered plate.

Place in moderate (350 degrees) oven until entire white of egg is set—about eight minutes. Serve with salt and pepper.

Frozen Potatoes Offer Convenience

Potatoes, still one of the basic foods in most homes, offer excellent freezing possibilities for the housewife looking for convenience and speed in her meal preparation.

Whether bought in the store or prepared at home, cooked potatoes, both white and sweet, rate high today on the list of vegetables well suited for freezing, reports

Mrs. Sara Walls, home economics director for a freezer company.

Frozen potatoes are available commercially in varieties ranging from the well known French-fried potatoes to the more recent potato pancakes, blintzes, diced potatoes, potato puffs, whipped potatoes and candied sweets. These require only heating before serving.

Airline Launched on $400 Celebrating 36th Birthday

NEW YORK (UP)—The oldest airline on this side of the Atlantic has just started its 36th year, and it is worth somewhat more than the approximately $400 used to found it.

AVIANCA—which stands for Aerovias Nacionales de Colombia—is the second oldest airline anywhere. It was started Dec. 5, 1919, just 58 days after Holland's KLM line became the first.

AVIANCA was a creation of necessity after World War I had ended because Colombia experienced a business boom, and its many mountains and rivers and few highways made transportation of goods a tremendous problem.

Eight men chipped in about $50 each to provide capital for an airline that they hoped would solve this problem.

During its first year, AVIANCA linked only three Colombian cities—Barranquilla, Medellin and Bogota.

The firm had one seaplane which transported 12 passengers and 850 kilos of freight that first year.

The original line was SCADTA, which was combined in 1940 with the SACO line and became AVIANCA.

Now AVIANCA services more than 60 cities in Colombia, has eight through flights a week from that country to New York and four

Communities Use TV for Public Information

CHICAGO (UP)—At least 14 communities are using television to acquaint the public with local affairs, according to the International City Managers' Association. The latest addition is Bangor, Maine, which has begun a 15-minute weekly TV program.

Other places using TV to inform citizens are Cincinnati, Peoria, Ill.; Kansas City, Mo.; Chico and Butte County, Calif.; Los Angeles County, Phoenix, Philadelphia, Des Moines, Greensboro, N. C.; Toledo and Dayton, Ohio; Milwaukee.

St. Petersburg, Fla., has its own TV station and uses some of the broadcasting time to program municipal interest shows.

New York City has a permit to build a TV station, and Jacksonville, Fla., has filed an application for permission to build its own station.

Human Fly Nets $3

Pope Pius Tells Criteria for Art at Palace Show

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Pope Pius XII warned sternly today against forms of art which "deform the design of the creator" or "excite the more vulgar passions."

He spoke nearly 25 minutes, formally opening an exhibit in the Vatican Palace of the works of Fra Angelico, famed 15th Century Florentine painter of angels and saints.

An ideal world of angel-like men "which would be realized in the future when over a new earth and in the new sky there shall triumph the final justice."

The Pope said: "If the artistic expression turns instead to a false, empty and unclear spirit which deforms the design of the creator, it should incite the more vulgar passions, it might find acclaim or acceptance by some, even if only because of novelty which is not always of merit."

"But such art would degrade itself, denying its own principal and essential aspect, and would be neither universal nor perpetual as is the spirit of man to which it is addressed."

Some of the Dominican friar's most noted paintings were sent here from Houston, Tex., San Francisco, Calif., and Princeton, N.J.

Spelling Floors Printer

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Nebraska legislators are having trouble with a bill to permit fluoridation of water in some Nebraskan cities. Seems the printer is holding up the show. Four times the bill has reached the clerk's office, with a

Scientist Bares Island Oddities

Animal Expert Spends Five Months on Isolated Isle Off Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—If your idea of paradise is an isolated, peaceful island criss-crossed by streams teeming with trout, you might think of going north and getting a look at tiny St. Matthew Island.

This answer to a hermit's prayer is 20 miles long, three to five miles wide and is situated about 200 miles north of the Pribilof Islands.

Currently the only animal inhabitants of the island are the reindeer, which are overly abundant. Arctic foxes and field mice.

Dr. Robert Rausch, chief of the animal disease branch of the Arctic Health Research Center, spent five weeks leading a Robinson Crusoe-like existence on the island last summer.

On his return to Anchorage, he reported some unusual facts about St. Matthew.

For one thing, the polar bear population of the island has disappeared for some unknown reason. They were once abundant. A number of bear skulls are strewn around, but these gave no clue as to how their owners met their end.

The field mice at St. Matthew, similar to both Alaskan and Asian mice, have a peculiar habit of sitting on their burrows and squeaking. Dr. Rausch said.

Another odd thing about St. Matthew Island is the amazing abundance of reindeer. A herd of 30 planted on the island in 1942 has multiplied until there are now between 500 and 600. The reindeer are devouring all the vegetation, and Dr. Rausch believes that unless some of the animals are removed in a few years, they will have eaten themselves out of existence.

"The cause of this unbalance in nature on the island is the fact that there exists on St. Matthew no creatures capable of consuming reindeer in quantity," Dr. Rausch said.

The scientist noted one major difference in the biological life on St. Matthew as compared with the life of similar species elsewhere. On St. Matthew, the wasps have lost their wings. Nobody seems to know why.

Warns U.S. Troops Good Old Days Over

MUNICH, Germany (UP)—Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe has warned American servicemen in Germany that their living conditions would become "more austere" after West German sovereignty.

The U.S. Army's European commander said last night in a recorded broadcast over the American forces network that there would be many cuts in services for Army families when Allied forces switch from occupation status to being "guests of the German federal republic."

Son Dogs Dad's Steps

DURHAM, N. H. (UP)—Ed Roy, University of New Hampshire track captain, may not be following his dad's footsteps exactly, but he's doing well. The elder Roy, now a teacher at Amesbury, (Mass.) High School, starred at UNH in football and boxing in the late 1920's. His son recently set new college records in the 16-pound shot and the discus.

Lucky Peg Leg

BOSTON (UP)—When George Skibbas, 35, tumbled into the "train pit" at Park Street subway station, his left leg felt across the deadly third rail. However, that's his wooden leg and his sole injury was a cut on the forehead.

Lamprey Traps Posing Danger

State People Warned to Steer Clear of Electric Fields Set Up for Eels

MARQUETTE, Mich. (U-P) — People are being warned to watch out for the electric barriers set up to kill the evil sea lamprey.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service told the public to be cautious about fishing and smelt dipping near the electro-mechanical barriers that have been set up near the mouths of Upper Peninsula streams emptying into Lakes Superior and Michigan.

The barriers, erected to control the sea lamprey, have enough of an electrical charge to constitute a danger for persons who walk into their electrical fields, conservation men said.

The barriers are fenced off and are posted with warning signs. But parents of small children especially were cautioned to make sure their youngsters do not stray inside the fenced areas.

The eel-like lamprey, a parasite, has destroyed the lake trout fishing business in Lakes Huron and Michigan and caused serious damage to other varieties.

In the control program, joined by the United States and Canada, electrode screens are installed across known lamprey streams. The devices produce an electrically charged field in the water, diverting lampreys and fish into traps. These are inspected daily by wildlife crews who release the fish and destroy the lampreys.

96-Year-Old Lauds Graham as Speaker

GLASGOW, Scotland (U-P) — Billy Graham won tribute last night from a 96-year-old Sunday school teacher who rated him a more powerful preacher than Dwight Moody, famed 19th century evangelist.

The plaudits came from John Morrison, venerable mayor of Stevenson, Ayrshire, who heard Moody some 60 years ago. Morrison was one of 17,000 persons who jammed Glasgow's Kelvin Hall as Graham's religious crusade neared the end of its fifth week.

"Billy is a much more powerful preacher than Moody, who was quiet-spoken," Morrison told reporters. "Billy has a distinctive personality and there is no doubt he has had a moving influence on his hearers. I say that without disparagement to Moody."

Lost Birds Blat Family Secrets to Outside World

DETROIT (U-P) — With spring in the air, parakeets, loaded with the most intimate family information, are escaping from their cages in the Detroit area.

For instance, the William Wrathell family wants Joey back. He is a loud green and is fond of saying, "Well, I'll be a dirty bird!"

At Mrs. Mildred Phipps' home, Chichi has disappeared. Chichi says, "Chichi is a bad boy," and knows just how to prove it.

Tippy is missing from the Charles Johnson home. He's a lover not a fighter and screams, "Hello baby!"

But the Clifford Jakust family is looking the hardest for Skippy. He can best be recognized for his thirsty request: "Make mine a short beer!"

About a third of all cancer deaths in the United States could have been avoided if the cancer had been located and treatment begun before it started to spread.

Portrait of Shy Genius

Einstein Didn't Talk Till He Was 3

PRINCETON, N. J. (U-P) — Albert Einstein, intellectual adventurer, said he had a "kind of faith that helped me through my whole life—not to become hopeless in the great difficulties of investigation."

This man, who died Monday, overturned the most traditional notions of physics.

He was the son of middle class South German Jews. From his father, Hermann, an electrical engineer, he first learned about science. His mother, Pauline Koch, gave him his love of music and art.

Einstein didn't speak a word until he was 3 years old, but by the time he was 14 he had taught himself algebra, analytical geometry and integral and differential calculus. None of this had yet been taught him in school. He was also deeply interested in philosophy.

He intended to follow his father's profession and took entrance examinations at the Polytechnic Academy in Zurich, Switzerland. His knowledge and understanding of mathematics and physics amazed his professors.

The young scientist, however, was mainly occupied with physics. He said he early learned to study only what led to the fundamentals and "to turn aside from everything else."

Einstein, who always was passionately proud of his Jewish cultural and spiritual traditions, was married in 1903 at the age of 24 to a Serbian Catholic, Mileva Maric, whom he met in a mathematics class. They had two sons, Hans Albert, born in 1904, and Edward, born in 1909.

Hans became a professor of hydraulics at the University of California and a consultant on soil erosion for the U. S. government. Edward remained in Zurich, and little was known here of his activities.

Einstein's first marriage ended in divorce.

When he went to Berlin in 1914 to accept a post as professor of the Prussian Academy of Science, he met again his first cousin, Elsa Einstein, with whom he had grown up. They were married a year later.

Also divorced, she had two daughters.

At the time of his second marriage, Einstein had achieved great stature in the scientific world and was beginning to feel the pressure of public acclaim.

Elsa Einstein became her husband's buffer against the world. A woman of culture, she also was practical and had sound business judgment. She took over the management of all of her husband's affairs and there was a saying in Berlin that:

"If you would know Herr Albert, first know Frau Elsa."

Einstein, who cared little for money and rejected offers of large sums for articles and testimonials, was perfectly satisfied to let his wife guide his personal and private life.

"They make such demands on his time," she once said, "he must have peace in which to think."

She died in Princeton in 1936 at the age of 58.

But, with all his love of seclusion, he was often unpredictable. People who didn't know him expected him to be some sort of super-being. They were astonished on one occasion when he visited downtown Princeton. A small group gathered to watch. He bought a newspaper, then went into a 5 and 10 cent store for a comb and a cake of soap.

Apparently he read all his mail and answered a good deal of it himself, including requests from puzzled high school students.

And there was the occasion when one got by the front door. A 14-year-old pupil at Princeton Country Day School, he was so puzzled over an examination problem he decided to ask Einstein for a solution.

The boy said he thought that two consecutive odd numbers, the difference of whose squares is 56, may be negative as well as positive.

"You're right," said Einstein. It is not recorded that anyone challenged the young scholar's answer at school the next day. It would have been interesting if someone had.

For, in his way, he had the same last word which for years guided top ranking scientists the world over.

Test to Show How Fast City Block Can Be Paved

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (U-P) — A test to see how fast a contractor can pave the equivalent of a city block with asphalt will be one of the attractions at the dedication of the Asphalt Institute's new headquarters.

The Corson-Gruman Co. of Washington will make the attempt May 5. It will have two asphalt spreaders, two rollers, and 14 eight-ton trucks ready to spread asphalt in a 1½-inch layer over a street in front of the new building on the University of Maryland campus.

The company has said it expects to pave it in less than an hour.

Helium was first liquefied and solidified in 1908.

Formosa Strait Tension Swings Spotlight on U.S. Fortress on Guam

ANDERSON AIRFORCE BASE
Guam (INS)—Guam today is the home of the big punch of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) in the Pacific.

The tension in Formosa Strait makes Anderson Air Force Base on the island America's prime offensive counter-punch in the case of an attack by the Chinese Reds which would involve U. S. forces.

For at Anderson, SAC bases long range, intercontinental B-36 bomb units on a rotational basis.

And when Vice President Richard M. Nixon last month said that atomic weapons were available to U. S. forces in the Pacific, immediate speculation sprang up that these lethal devices were hidden on Guam.

No Air Force or Navy officer on the island will even speculate on the matter, but Guam appeared eminently suitable for several reasons:

Bombers to carry these devices are stationed on the island almost continuously, although individual squadrons are rotated to the U. S. after 90-day tours.

The island is U. S. territory, and there is no need to worry about the reaction of foreign population.

Yankee, Rebel Wildlife Trading Places in U.S.

CONCORD, N. H. (UP)—Animals with a southern drawl are going north and those with a Yankee twang are moving southward.

New Hampshire's fish and game department reported the opossum, common in Dixie, is gradually invading New Hampshire.

One opossum was trapped in the northern section of the snow-capped White Mountain region.

On the other hand, the department said that fishers, once rare and found mostly in northern New Hampshire, are increasing and spreading southward.

such as would be the case if atomic weapons were stored at Okinawa, or in Japan, or even the friendly Philippines.

Security on Guam is almost air tight. SAC runs the base with its traditional security consciousness. Armed airmen patrol the air base constantly, and challenge all visitors. Special permission must be obtained each time a person wishes to visit the flight line for any reason.

Guam is far enough removed from the Asian mainland to allow adequate warning from forward bases such as Okinawa if a sneak air attack is on the way.

The ten-engined B-36 could carry its death dealing load 10,000 miles, hit mainland industrial targets and fly on to other SAC bases in Europe.

The fifth strategic reconnaissance wing, which completed a tour at Guam this month, is a good example of the men, and material on which SAC depends.

Wing commander Col. E. G. Simenson, of Valley City, N. D., said:

"If the Soviets hit our bases first, it would be our job to get back into action in a hurry."

"The path to survival in the first 72 hours (after an attack) depends on the rapid redeployment of our forces."

Pheasant Not Willing to Be Dealt Into Game

GRESHAM, Neb. (UP)—A cock pheasant started a group of card players in Ralph's Place by flying through the plate glass window of the establishment.

One man, rather to take advantage of the opportunity, leaped at the dazed bird with skill.

But the pheasant took off like a shot, reversed its flight, and went right through the opening it had broken in the window.

We said that this would develop into a sort of game like musical chairs, with SAC bombers "flying attack missions from their original bases and landing on others perhaps thousands of miles away."

"We of SAC," he explained, "are operating on the assumption that the war could start today, or if not today, then at least tomorrow, and we must be ready."

And it is from Guam, 30-miles long, and America's westernmost Pacific possession, that the overhead counterpunch presumably would come.

Luxury for Chicks

WAYNESVILLE, N. C. (UP)—Chicks tired of featherbeds can now have foam rubber mattresses in hen houses. The mats aren't meant for nesting, however. They're to line egg containers as protection against breakage, reports the manufacturer.

They Never Had It So Good

Druggist Raps Patrons Who Complain About 'High Cost' of Medicine Today

DETROIT (UP)—Sick people never had it so good when it comes to low medical expenses, a suburban Detroit pharmacist said today.

But many people who never blink at paying $10 for a bottle of liquor complain loudly when charged the same price for a bottle of pills that could save their lives.

James Tottis, a pharmacist for one of suburban Allen Park's leading drug stores, said he has even heard customers complain over the prospect of paying $6 to have their children inoculated against polio.

Then they shell out the same price for a fifth of whisky or a box of cigars without a murmur.

"Jokes about the high cost of medical and dental fees have become standard fare in American homes," Tottis said in an interview, "and now the pharmacist has been added to the list."

"When people have to pay $10 for a small bottle of pills they become upset over the price. They think the smaller an item is the less it's worth."

"They seldom stop to think just how lucky they really are."

The pharmacist cited a recent medical report showing that a case of pneumococcal pneumonia 15 years ago cost the average patient more than $800 and a long period of suffering before he could be up and around again on his wobbly legs.

It might have even cost him his life, as it did 30 of every 100 patients.

Because of new drugs, new treatment and the growing popularity of medical insurance, today's pneumococcal pneumonia patient may be back on the job a few days after he is stricken.

What's more, the ailment is seldom fatal these days. And the total cost of the patient, besides the loss of a few days of work, might be $10 for pills—or even nothing at all.

According to minimum estimate of expenses, the man who became ill in 1940 would have spent at least $435 in doctor, hospital and special nurse fees, faced a possible $300 loss in pay, and spent $100 for medicine. He would also have spent two weeks or more in the hospital and another two weeks or more of rest at home before he could return to work.

However, today's pneumonia victim may spend only $200 before he returns to work—and in the majority of cases this will be covered by his medical insurance policy.

New methods of treatment may even allow him to remain at home without incurring hospital expense, and his $50 doctor fee may be handled by the health insurance firm.

He may be asked to pay only $10 to have a prescription filled. "The truth is," Tottis said, "the customer is getting one of the biggest bargains in the world when he has a prescription filled."

Main diet of the sparrow hawk, despite its name, consists of grasshoppers.

Crop Unprofitable

State Sugar Beet Factory Will Close After 52 Years

ST. LOUIS, Mich. (UP)—For the first time in more than half a century the big Lake Shore Sugar Co. plant is going to be standing idle next fall.

A shift in fortunes of the sugar beet industry is responsible. It won't be profitable to operate the plant this fall, Lake Shore management says.

Except for its sudden shutdown last fall after bad weather reduced sugar content yields, the St. Louis plant has been doing business for 52 uninterrupted years.

But this Gratiot County plant, like other factories of the Michigan sugar beet country, had to face up to changing conditions.

Farmers have been reluctant in recent years to grow beets. They haven't liked the price. They have turned their lands to other crops.

Sugar making plants in other cities—including Alma, Mt. Pleasant, Lansing, Mt. Clemens, Holland and elsewhere—have closed down.

Efforts were made to find a local operator to keep the Lake Shore plant going. However, this was futile.

Insofar as St. Louis is concerned, this will be an end to a chapter in history.

The wagons and trucks of farmers rolled to Lake Shore for more than five decades from nine counties. The railroads also brought in the beetloads.

Presently there are only five sugar manufacturing plants in Michigan. The Michigan Sugar Co. has four of them—at Carrollton, Croswell, Caro and Sebawaing. The fifth is the Monitor Sugar Co.'s plant at Bay City.

The plant here was built in 1902-03. At that time the sugar industry was growing fast in the Saginaw Valley.

The depression caused the failure of the original owners, Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co., and Lake Shore acquired the factory.

Lake Shore operates a processing plant in Illinois and has interests in the Great Lakes Sugar Co. The latter firm has a factory in Ohio. Lake Shore also deals in sugar brokerage and handling and sales of sugar.

Management said the plant here probably will be used as a warehouse. It has approximately 20,000 square feet of floor space.

Blames Auto Horns for LA Accidents

LOS ANGELES (UP)—This city's drivers have been told that if they'd shut up, they'd live longer.

A Memphis physician, Dr. Duane Carr, estimated that Los Angeles traffic deaths could be cut 50 per cent by outlawing the sounding of auto horns.

Addressing a one-day symposium on clinical medicine and surgery yesterday, Dr. Carr added:

"In Memphis we passed such an ordinance some 15 years ago, and our traffic accidents dropped 50 per cent in no time. The lack of horns means that we have to look where we are going, and not pass another car unless we know it is safe."

Military Sells Varied Surplus

Stocks Made Available to Public by Offices in Many Localities

WASHINGTON (UP) — If you have need for an airplane fuselage or two, several miles of railroad track or an assortment of bags, barrels, baskets or egg crates, you should notify your Uncle Sam.

Chances are he can find them for you among his stocks of military surplus.

These stocks, which become surplus as a result of wear and tear and changing military needs, are made available to the public by the armed service through property disposal offices located at various military installations in 25 states, the District of Columbia and overseas.

The Department of Defense continuously reviews its scattered assets to assure that only property needed now or in the foreseeable future is kept on hand.

Surpluses are catalogued by the disposal offices and information as to their nature is forwarded to prospective civilian buyers.

Military surplus is classified as usable and salvage or scrap and waste. A buyer, however, may consider these stocks differently than the armed services.

Many usable items are to be found in both classifications, and those in the first are graded according to a condition code.

A prospective buyer who is listed with the disposal offices is informed of the types and condition of surpluses to be made available in advance of sale in his area. He also is notified of the time and place of sale, and invited to submit a bid, if bidding is to be the procedure used.

In any case, whether disposal is to be undertaken through bidding, auction or retail sale, he is mailed a descriptive catalogue giving him full information.

A person wishing to get on property disposal bidders' lists simply writes to a military disposal office in his geographical area, giving his name and address and listing the types of surplus he would like to buy.

A list of the location of all disposal offices may be obtained from any armed services installation or by writing to the Department of Defense, Washington, D. C.

New Badge for Scouts

NEW YORK (UP) — The Boy Scouts of America have added a merit badge for "railroading" to their list of awards. To win this badge Scouts must fulfill eight requirements which include giving a description of the growth and development of railroads in the United States, naming railroads that serve their community, explaining how locomotives develop power and identifying examples, models or pictures of different kinds of rolling stock and different locomotive types.

$49 Billion Distributed Through Foreign Aid

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON — America's foreign aid program is approaching another milestone.

Within the next few weeks, Congress will have to decide who is going to be in charge of delivering overseas any aid the legislators decide to approve this year. Under the law, the present aid agency—the Foreign Operations Administration—draws its last breath on June 30.

The death of FOA will leave the United States, for the first time in almost a decade, without a special agency set-up to oversee the flow of U. S. money to the countries of the world.

Nearly a half-dozen of them have been in existence for short or long periods since the war, and up to the end of 1954 they doled out a grand total of 49 billion dollars.

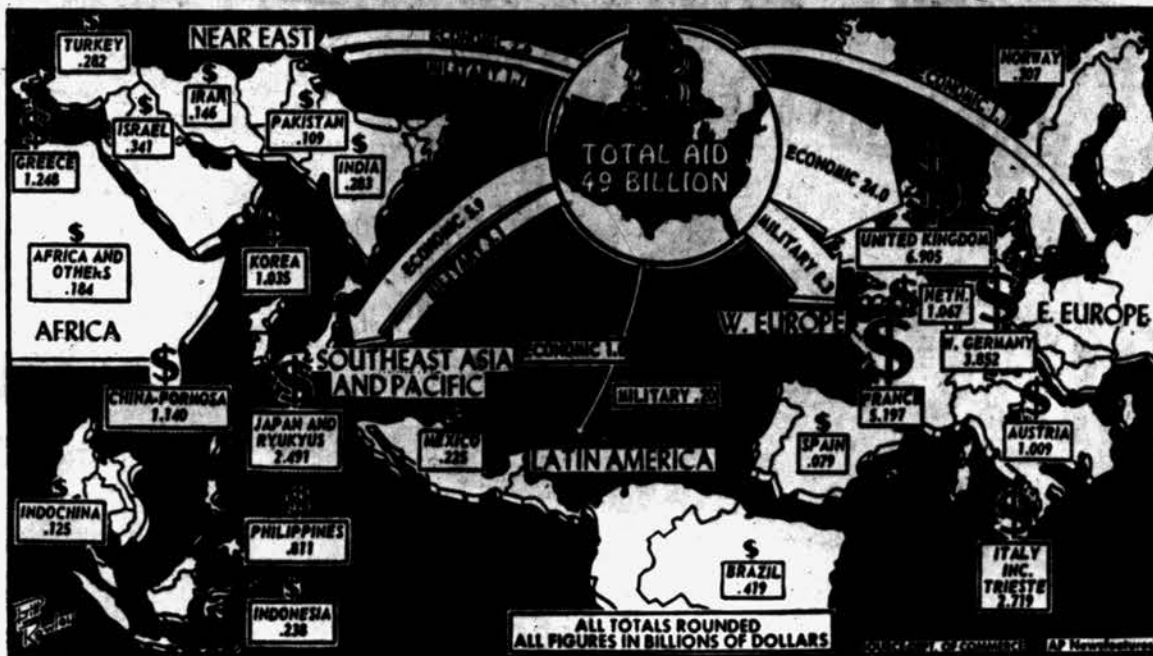

As the accompanying map shows, most of this bonanza was sent overseas as economic aid. The total for that category is 35½ billion. Military aid came to 13½ billion.

The Defense Department has never permitted country-by-country breakdowns of military aid, for security reasons, but area totals show Western Europe got the biggest share.

Western Europe also received the biggest chunk of economic aid—24 billion out of the 35½ billion total. Britain and France received the most help in this famous "pump priming" experiment, given credit for bringing about economic recovery in an area where seven years ago the prospects for chaos and a Communist takeover of some countries were high.

In recent years, the accent on foreign aid has shifted to the East. The principal beneficiaries have been Japan, the Nationalist Chinese and South Korea. South America also has benefited, but not in anything like the amounts granted to other areas.

The long history of foreign aid started modestly. The idea was born before the United States entered World War II in the old "good neighbor policy" toward South America. Under a 1939 law, U. S. government agencies were authorized by Congress to give technical help to nations below the border. That aid grew when South American products were needed desperately during the war and the Institute of Inter-American Affairs was set up to administer it.

As the end of the war approached, leaders of the Allied nations began to prepare for the chaos and hunger they expected in devastated areas by setting up the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. UNRRA poured aid into Europe and Russia as the Allied armies cracked the Nazi lines. The biggest part of the bill was picked up by the U. S. and it was during this period the more than a billion American dollars went to countries of eastern Europe.

The UNRRA program was renewed once, and then played out. But Europe was still unable to meet its bills. So Congress voted an "interim aid" purse of around half a billion dollars which covered a period in which the U. S. government, under President Truman, tried to figure out what to do.

By this time it was obvious that Moscow was hoping for a European economic breakdown which would enable the Communists to grab one government after another.

On June 5, 1947 Gen. George C. Marshall, then the secretary of state, spoke at Harvard University's commencement exercises, where he proposed "co-operative measures" to speed the economic recovery of Europe. He said the program's purpose "would be the revival of a working economy in the world so as to permit the emergence of political and social conditions in which free institutions can exist."

By April 2, 1948 the "Marshall Plan" was ready to go as the "Economic Co-operation Administration." But new needs soon were recognized and in 1950 ECA was joined by the Technical Co-operation Administration, set up to finance the spread of American "know how" to backward nations.

By this time machinery was becoming cumbersome. Although TCA took in the Institute of Inter-American Affairs (the original aid agency for South America) it had to stay out of those Far Eastern nations where the Marshall Plan was already working.

The Truman administration then decided that economic aid was proving insufficient in many parts of the world and proposed that military aid be added.

In October 1951 Congress set up the Mutual Security Agency. Although ECA slipped out of the picture, economic aid continued to be given along side the military aid.

Soon after he arrived in office President Eisenhower recognized that the foreign aid program had developed into a "patchwork of statutes." In June of 1953, he sent to Congress a re-organization plan to place all foreign assistance programs under one agency. The Foreign Operations Administration took over the functions of the Mutual Security Agency, the Institute of Inter-American Affairs, and the Technical Co-operation Administration.

FOA also took over supervision of aid sent abroad by voluntary private organizations.

By President Eisenhower's order the FOA director—Harold Stassen—attended all Cabinet meetings.

But meanwhile various members of Congress began to grow restive. They claimed there seemed to be no end in sight for foreign requests for American help.

Last year a Senate-House conference committee concluded that there is "a certain danger in maintaining a separate agency concerned exclusively with the administration of foreign aid. There is inevitably a tendency for such an agency to regard the supply of aid to foreign nations as a normal, continuing process."

On Aug. 28, 1954, Congress decided that the Foreign Operations Administration shall cease to exist after June 30, 1955.

But the "cold war" continues. Communists continue to press in various areas of the world. President Eisenhower's budget for this year contains an item of 3½ billion dollars in foreign aid. Early discussions on some new way to administer foreign aid revolved around ideas of blanketing the aid into various regular departments of the government—as for example, putting foreign agricultural aid into the Department of Agriculture.

It will be some weeks—maybe even months—before the Senate and the House will decide on whatever new turn the flow of American aid abroad will take.

Government Securities Bringing in Big Profits

CHICAGO (UP) — Cities are making handsome profits out of investing their idle funds in U. S. government securities.

The Municipal Finance Officers Association reports that Dallas, Tex., netted $451,000 on its temporary investments in 1953 and $419,000 in 1954.

Interest collected on surplus cash invested by Fort Worth, Tex., in 91-day treasury bills for the fiscal year ended last Sept. 30 totaled a neat $104,909.

In May, 1953, Nassau County, N.Y., began investing the proceeds of a $14,000,000 bond issue not immediately needed to pay for construction. Earnings to Aug. 15, 1954, from interest and profits on the sale of U. S. securities totaled $434,937, or nearly $1,000 a day.

Retired Officer Chafing; Favorite Quarry Out Soon

WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—Police Capt. Floyd R. Gunsaulus has retired, but his favorite quarry, William (Three-Gun) Howell, is still trying to unretire himself from prison.

Howell launched 68 court actions from his cell, all intended to shorten a 10-year stretch for jail breaking. Then he took to the law for the 69th time trying to prove he shouldn't be handed over to the federales on graduating from Nebraska penitentiary.

Now Three-Gun is doing time at Leavenworth on a stolen car rap. He got his name after a lone, unarmed cop nabbed him with three guns on his person. Howell, now 44, was twice shot in the same embarrassing spot by Gunsaulus. The two men also were principals in a coo-robbler chase by plane in the 1930's. Howell was fleeing in a stolen automobile after being peppered in the rear by the officer's revolver.

Gunsaulus, in a plane, overtook his quarry, had the pilot swoop low and opened fire through a trap door, used for aerial photographs. Three-Gun quit.

Some years later Gunsaulus, patrolling the downtown streets, came upon Three-Gun stealing tires from an auto firm. Again Howell fled and Gunsaulus fired, scoring a bull's eye. Howell went to jail and for some time ate his meals standing up.

Musing over new accounts of Howell's latest failure to win release, Gunsaulus said:

"Well, he's only got four years

Takes Drivers Test After 50,000 Miles

BOSTON (UP)—A 66-year-old dishwasher, who has driven approximately 50,000 miles in 25 years, was called upon recently to take a driving test.

The exam was routine for James Bryson, a man who managed 2,500 miles per year without a license to operate.

Now that Bryson has his license, he's going to continue driving—he wants to be a cabbie.

GLENNIE, Mich. (UP)—A Varied Thrush, native songbird to Alaska and the Pacific Coast, has been identified as a visitor to northern Michigan. The brightly colored bird was observed for the first time by Eugene Kenaga, a research entomologist.

Dodgers Must Beat Roberts for Record 10th Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
So now the Brooklyn have won themselves nine straight games. And all they have to do to take No. 10—the one that would set a modern major league record for consecutive victories at season's start—is beat a gent named Robin Roberts today.

The streak has been getting tougher and tougher for the Dodgers and this afternoon's game at Ebbets Field may be the toughest yet. Roberts, the best right-hander in baseball, hasn't had too much success against the Brooklyn in the past, but this time the Philadelphia ace is off to his best start in four years.

Robin is 2-0 thus far, beating the world champion New York Giants twice—no hitting them for 8 1-3 innings opening day and hanging on for 11 innings Sunday. That sort of a push-off in his bid for a sixth straight season of 20 or more victories may turn the tide for Roberts against the Brooklyn. Despite his brilliance, Robin is only 17-21 lifetime vs. the Dodgers.

For a time last night, it looked like the Brooklyn wouldn't have any streak for Roberts to challenge. They were shut out on one hit by Steve Riddick for 7 2-3 innings. But then he tired and walked in a run that sent the Dodgers off on a three-run inning and a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

It was pitching weakness by the opposition, too, that snapped a string yesterday. The Baltimore Orioles made the best of Bob Grim's wildness and a two-run homer by Hal Smith to beat the New York Yankees 6-3 and win their first decision of the American League season. They had lost six.

In the only other AL game, league-leading Boston beat Washington 1-0 on Willard Nixon's five-hitter. The Chicago at Detroit game was rained out.

In the National, St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 3-0 and Milwaukee clipped Chicago 9-5. Winless Pittsburgh was leading the Giants 3-0 when rain halted play after three innings.

The Dodgers, who had to scramble to beat the Phils and extend the streak Tuesday night, made the most of Riddick's wildness in the seventh. The right-hander loaded the bases by walking Roy Campanella and pinchhitter George Shuba and hitting Jackie Robinson. When he walked, Duke Snyder to force in the run, Lynn Loven-tugh was called in to relieve, and Gil Hodges swatted a single up the middle for two runs and the ball game.

The Brooklyn finished with just three hits, while Billy Lee, who beat the Phils for the sixth straight time, gave up six—including a Smokey Burgess homer—before leaving for Brooklyn's first pinch hitter of the season in the seventh.

That tied the 1955 Brooklyn with the 1918 Giants, 1940 Dodgers and 1944 St. Louis Browns, who shared the record of nine straight victories at the start of a season. Only the Browns, incidentally, went on to win the pennant.

Baltimore made the most of their winter deals to break into the win column. Irv Palica and Ray Moore, ex-Dodgers, combined to six-hit the Yankees while Billy Cox, another former Brooklyn, got one hit and scored twice. Gene Woodling, who like Smith went to the Orioles in the deal that sent Bob Turley to the Yankees, drove in one run and singled before Smith swatted his homer. And Willie Miranda, another ex-Yankee, came up with several great plays at shortstop to stop New York rallies.

Nixon had the Senators in hand all the way, although he had to bear down in the ninth after Mickey Vernon opened with a double. Norm Zaichin, rookie first baseman, singled home the lone run with a pop single to center in the fourth—his first hit in 16 trips. That was all the Red Sox needed for their sixth victory in seven starts.

Milwaukee got its big push from Bobby Thomson, who smacked his second major league grand slammer in the second and later singled home another run. Lew Burdette was touched for 13 hits by the Cubs, with homers by Harry Chitt and Don Fonyda among them, but had the victory wrapped up by rookie Umberto Robinson.

SSSSS! IT'S A SECRET — Walter F. Strader, says ssssh! to photographers at Los Angeles, yesterday, as he tells them no pictures allowed of his secretly developed engine. Strader has entered his racer in the coming 500-mile Indianapolis speed test and says it's fitted with an engine having neither cylinders nor pistons, and a 137 cubic inch displacement.

Phils' Manager Still Thinks NL Flag Race Is Wide Open

BROOKLYN — Although the seven other clubs have practically been left at the post by Brooklyn's sensational nine game winning streak, Manager Mayo Smith of the Philadelphia Phils still thinks its anybody's race in the National League.

Smith's Phils three times have been victims in the Dodgers' record-tying spurt that began on Opening Day. On the other hand, Philadelphia has taken three out of four from New York. So it came as a mild surprise when the fresh-man pilot predicted the Giants were every bit as good as the Dodgers.

There's little to choose between the two clubs," Smith said following last night's 3-2 loss to Brooklyn. "Brooklyn has been getting great pitching along with good hitting. The Giants haven't done any hitting to speak of and their pitching hasn't been good either.

"But the Giants should start to hit soon. Maybe they're not the fence busters the Dodgers are but they're a good hitting team. And they've got the pitchers. A great deal, of course, depends upon Sal Maglie. He's been the guy who's won the big games for them. If he can't do it this year, then I'd say they're in a bad way.

"The Dodgers still have to prove to me they have the pitching, despite what they've done so far. We all know they can hit. They could always do that. Let's wait awhile before we hand them the pennant. The season has just begun.

The Phils have split their first eight games. While not particularly proud of the 500 rating, Smith isn't too despondent over it either. He pointed out that his team has done as well as expected considering the opposition (all but one game was played against the Dodgers and Giants). The Phils also have been handicapped by injuries to outfielders Richie Ashburn and Del Ennis and southpaw Curt Simmons' arm ailment.

"Simmons is beginning to come around," Smith said. "He pitched an inning Tuesday night and didn't look bad despite throwing a home run ball to Don Zimmer."

Duffy Has a Good Reason for Change

EAST LANSING (AP) — Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State College football coach, says he knows of another reason why the legislature was right in renaming MSC Michigan State University.

"I'm sure," he said, "that everyone will understand that a brand new university can't be expected to produce a winning football team overnight. That takes time—several years at least."

Bujack Takes All Events Lead in ABC Tourney

Pfeiffer's Star Also 2nd in Singles; Therm Gibson Scores Well

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Two Detroit bowlers who helped their team take 1st place in the American Bowling Congress tournament were the big stars in yesterday's competition.

Fred Bujack, one of the big guns in putting the Pfeiffer's Beer team into 1st place Tuesday with a 3,136 total, took over 1st place in the all-events and moved into the runner-up spot in the singles.

His teammate, Therm Gibson, shot into 4th place in the all-events.

Bujack fired a 631 in the doubles and a big 735 in the singles to add to his 627 in team competition to take 1st place in the all-events with 1,995. He held a 33 pin bulge over Ed Markula of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, the previous leader. Bujack's singles games were 278, 218 and 244, and he missed taking the lead by four pins. In 1st place is Eddie Gergine of Milwaukee with 738.

Gibson fired a 1,935 in the all-events. In addition to his 680 in team competition, he rolled a 600 in doubles yesterday and added 665 in singles.

Another change took place in the singles last night. Bill Ugras, of Seattle, Wash., shot games of 221, 247 and 225 for 693 and 7th place.

Pfeiffer's, seeking their 3rd ABC title, leaving won in 1952 and 1953 head the 2nd place 620 Club of Minneapolis by 89 pins. Eight other teams have 3,000 or better. There were no changes yesterday.

League Champs Still Strong

Waterford, Clarkston Track Teams Look Like Title Material Again This Season

The track teams at Waterford and Clarkston High Schools, league champions a year ago, have fielded strong entries again this spring.

Waterford went to Ferndale for its first meet Wednesday and routed Ferndale High, 79-30. Clarkston had a much tougher time, but defeated the always capable Oxford outfit, 57-32.

Despite the loss of the brilliant Kerry Keating and Ray Campbell from last year's powerhouse, Slipper coach Jack Hackett is molding another fine club around senior Laine Hetherington and some promising underclassmen.

Hetherington, only returning member of last year's "Big Three," was the high hurdler Wednesday, but was forced out in the 100 yd. sophomore hurdle race. Stan Jones, Gary Williams, another of the few seniors in key roles, won both dashes. He posted times of 10.8 in the 100 and 20.9 in the 200 on the muddy track and ran a winning 880-yard relay leg as well. Waterford took 10 firsts and tied for another.

Clarkston trailed Oxford by 2 points with everything completed but the broad jump. Gordon Cascarden and Vern Carman came through with 1-2 finish in that event to give Dom Mauti's Wolves the victory.

Oxford's Mike Benedict was the top individual in the meet with firsts in the low hurdles and high jump, a 2nd in the high hurdles and high jump, a 2nd in the high hurdles and 3rd in the broad jump. Wildcat sprinter Clyde Groves won both races in his specialties.

Cascarden added the half-mile to his broad jump win, and Gordon Campbell won the high hurdles, tied for first in the pole vault, took 2nd in the low hurdles and tied for 2nd in the high jump.

Oxford claimed 8 of 13 firsts, but Clarkston grabbed 10 2nds and exerted superiority in the field events. A slam in the pole vault gave the Wolves vital points.

Berkley felt before a strong Mt. Clemens team, 82-31, with the Batthers' Joe Thomas winning 2 events and running a relay leg. Berkley's lone moments to cheer came when Jerry Meyer won the low hurdles in 22 seconds, and Dave Larivee tied for first in the high jump at 5-11.

Rochester finished 3rd in a triangular as Center Line scored 51½ to 45½ for Fitzgerald and 41½ for the Falcons. Buss DeBaene in the shot, Jim Purdom in the 880 and Phil Richmond in the vault won outright firsts for Rochester, and Dave Peters tied for first in the high jump.

The Romeo-Van Dyke meet was rained out as was a golf match between Milford and Brighton.

PHS Linksmen Sharpen Play

With Waterford High School's good squad ahead, Friday, at Pontiac's Municipal course, Pontiac High Chiefs will try to strengthen themselves for the contest by holding an intra-squad match today.

Coach John Majuro will choose his personnel for the Waterford meet from the intra-squad dueling. Bill Martin, Jerry Richards, Art Scott and Dick Singleton will oppose Walt Larson, Tom Jacobson, Tom Cross and Truman Hammett, with the five best shotmakers getting the call against Waterford.

Pontiac lost its only meet of the season to defending champion Art Hill. Waterford's Skippers have gained one victory while losing two. Their ace linksmen is Jack Reynolds.

'M' Wins Golf Start

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan's golf team defeated Michigan State, 25½-10½, yesterday in the 1st Big Ten match of the season for both teams.

Happy Yankee Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—Hal Smith finally made the Yankee Stadium where he once dreamed of catching but he was wearing a Baltimore uniform.

A key man in the 18-player swap that brought Bob Turley to the Yankees, the 24-year-old rookie caught his first game at the stadium yesterday and hit a two-run homer, driving in half of Baltimore's runs in their first victory of the season. It was a big day for Smith.

Punching the Umps!

Hutchinson Does 'It Daily' — With Dummy

SEATTLE (AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Pacific Coast League Seattle Rainiers takes a poke at an umpire every time he loses a home game.

And it doesn't cost him a thing in fines — or cause a suspension.

Hanging in the home team locker room at Sick's Stadium is a punching bag decorated with the leering likeness of everybody's enemy, the ump.

The bag is no gag. The former boss of the Detroit Tigers, back home now with the team which sent him up to the majors, builds a splendid fury during a losing game.

When his athletes drop a decision, Fred is apt to stalk into the dressing room without bothering to open the door and then kick a couple pounds of concrete off the wall. Soriano winces at the thought of a maimed or limping Hutchinson.

He winces even more when Hutch hauls off and busts in a locker or some other item of club property. His main problem now is keeping the pilot's anger channeled on the bag.

The tempestuous Hutchinson provided an innovation of his own to impress his laborers with the seriousness of this baseball business. He removed the protective railing from the Seattle dugout and his reserves scatter like fluffed quail when a line foul comes screaming into the third base sector.

"Nobody," says big Fred, "sleeps on my bench."

Nobody sleeps in the field, either. The hustling Seattle players are all on Soriano's side in wanting to keep Hutch sound of toe and temper.

His whole attitude toward the game was summed up by boss Fred when a fan mentioned the excellence of a tussle which Seattle lost 1-0 on a squeeze punt in the final inning.

"There's no such thing as a good game," Hutch growled, "if you lose it."

Louis in Hospital

CHICAGO (INS)—Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis entered Billings Hospital in Chicago Wednesday for a minor operation. Surgeons said a growth will be removed from Louis' left shoulder and that he will be confined only a few days.

"I was very happy to be traded," he said before the game. "I am grateful to the Yankees for giving me a chance to play. I knew Yogi (Berra) had the job. I knew the score."

"The Yankees treated me very nice. They taught me a lot and then gave me a chance to play some place else. I'd rather be catching with Baltimore than sitting on the bench with the Yankees."

Smith spent six years bumping around the Yankee chain since 1949 before he was included in the Turley deal on the insistence of Paul Richards, Baltimore manager-manager. A brilliant 350 season at Columbus where he led the American Assn. in batting attracted Richards' attention. Smith had been optioned to Columbus, a St. Louis card farm in 1954, as part of the Enos Slaughter deal.

"This is the second game I ever saw here," he said. "I was sick last spring when I came home with the Yankees and I sat on the bench during one game with Boston. I didn't pay much attention because I could hardly raise my head and I already knew I was going out to Columbus."

Smith played baseball around Detroit as long as he can remember. His father, an amateur ball player, always wanted him to become a pro.

Richards, a former catcher, believes he really has come up with something in Smith. However, he doesn't want to put too much pressure on him.

"Once he finds his way around up here, he'll show them a few things," said Richards.

Better Than Gold

BOSTON (INS)—Hideo Hamamura, the little Japanese runner who smashed all records when he won the Boston Athletic Association marathon, was deluged Wednesday with congratulatory telegrams.

They came from well-wishers everywhere, but the most important was from premier of Japan, Ichiro Hatoyama.

Chief Netters Seek First Win at Cranbrook

Pontiac High School's tennis team, still seeking its initial victory of the season, takes on the rugged Cranbrook squad today on the latter's court. Cranbrook, coached by Art Palmer, boasts a veteran crew that will make the Chiefs' task of winning their 1st match extremely difficult.

Vic Lindquist, Pontiac mentor, will string along with the same boys who thus far have dropped decisions to Flint Northern and defending titlist Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Eddie Macadace, Kent Mills, Ted Wiersma, Gary Thomas, Kurt Lauchner, Bill Bonner, Bob Egan, John Harrington and Paul Kamper will carry the Chiefs' colors at Cranbrook this afternoon.

Badger, Spartan Games Highlight Big 10 Baseball

Top Contenders Meet in Opening Feature at East Lansing

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten baseball pennant chase will get a fast start tomorrow with a key game involving two prime title contenders, Wisconsin and Michigan State.

Michigan State won the championship last year, taking a doubleheader from Ohio State on the final day to finish a half-game ahead of Wisconsin.

The featured 1955 opener sends the Badgers to Michigan State, Northwestern, another likely first division club, opens at Michigan and Purdue is at Iowa, Ohio State at Indiana and Illinois at Minnesota.

Michigan and Ohio State are expected to press the favorites for the pennant. They shared third place last year.

After tomorrow's opening round, a series of doubleheaders is on tap Saturday. Illinois is at Iowa, Wisconsin at Michigan, Northwestern at Michigan State and Purdue at Minnesota.

Wisconsin includes three 300 hitters in a veteran lineup, center-fielder Ron Locklin, catcher Carl Wagner and third baseman Dick Hrelivich. Right-handers Sheldon Rusch and Bill Robichaud, who combined for seven league victories in 1954 without defeat, head a solid Badger pitching staff.

Spartans have good balance although losing some key sluggers who supported a team batting average of .317 last season. Also missing is pitcher Bud Erickson who won five straight games.

Topping Michigan State's mound corps is Ed Hobaugh, a junior of Ford City, Pa. He will probably go against Wisconsin with Dick Izkowski and Walt Godfrey set for the doubleheader with Northwestern.

BROOKLYN (AP)—Here's how the Brooklyn Dodgers put together their nine straight victories at the start of the season in the modern major league record with the date, opponent, winning pitcher and score.

April 13, Pittsburgh, Carl Erskine, 6-1; April 14, New York, Don Newcombe, 10-0; April 15, New York, Billy Lee, 6-3; April 16, Pittsburgh, Russ Meyer, 6-0; April 17, Pittsburgh, Johnny Pate, 10-3; April 18, Philadelphia, Stan Lohse, 3-1; April 19, Philadelphia, Newcombe, 7-6; April 20, Philadelphia, Lee, 3-2.

Harry Guggenheim Grooming Flying Fury, Racing Fool Along Path Dark Star Took to Derby Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, Long Island Millionaire sportsman, has two candidates for the Kentucky Derby and they're following the same path that led to Dark Star's brilliant victory in the 1953 Louisville classic.

Whether Flying Fury or Racing Fool grab the guaranteed $100,000 to the winner or not, Guggenheim believes in following a definite pattern leading up to the glamour gallop. It paid off with Dark Star.

Zulueta Upsets Jimmy Carter in Non-Title Bout

Cuban Lightweight Gets Split Decision in TV Bout From Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—"For the championship, I take him easy," Cuba's Orlando Zulueta said today after winning a 10-round split decision from Lightweight champion Jimmy Carter last night.

Carter, whose title wasn't at stake in the nationally televised bout, didn't have a word to say. But his manager, Willie Ketchum, made up for it. "What a lousy decision," Ketchum howled. "Jimmy beat him. He beat him good."

It was the old story of a puncher, Carter, against a boxer, Zulueta. Jabbing with consistency, Zulueta frequently showed contempt for Carter, the heavier hitter, and actually was outslugging him at the final bell.

"I know it is too late for him to knock me out," Zulueta said with a grin. "So I slug with him and give the crowd a show."

The crowd of 1,000, including a contingent from the Washington Cuban colony, whooped it up for Zulueta and the Cuban ambassador, Miguel Angel Campa, who hopped into the ring to shake hands when it was over.

Both fighters were over the lightweight limit. Carter at 137½, but the Cuban said he was confident he could win the title at the legal limit.

"When I get up yesterday, I weigh 133," Zulueta said. "So I eat steak all day to get over the limit. Next time I don't have to do that."

Promoter Goldie Ahearn had announced before the fight that if Zulueta won or showed well, the two would be rematched for the title here in June, but that apparently won't happen.

"Sure we'll fight him again," Ketchum said. "But not in this place. I want a real decision next time."

Here's how the fight was scored: Referee Harry Volkman, 96-93 for Zulueta; Judge Joe Busa 97-94 for Zulueta; Judge Benny Alperstein 97-93 for Carter.

Nationals' Site Moved

NEW YORK (AP)—When you pass a motion by 66-60 to nothing it goes through.

So the National tennis championships will be held at Forest Hills on Sept. 2-11 instead of Aug. 29-Sept. 5 as originally scheduled.

Lucky Opening Day

The luckiest opening day of the Cincinnati Redlegs was in 1945 when they beat the Pirates 7-6 in 11 innings. A homer by Jim Russell of the Pirates was disallowed because a runner had called time before the pitch was delivered.

Trim Golf Teachers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There are three female pros on staffs of major California golf courses—Helen Detweiler at Thunderbird, Palm Springs; Barbara Ransom, Sacramento; and Shirley Sprok at Fox Hills Country Club, Culver City.

Harper Favorite for Cavalier Tourney

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Stylist Chandler Harper, a familiar figure on the professional golf scene for years, appeared a pretty fair bet today to win the third annual $17,500 Virginia Beach Open Portsmouth, Va., is no stranger to the par 69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course. The slender star with brilliant iron shots and deadly putting has played the course many times and knows every inch of the level 6,065-yard layout.

He's played two rounds to get ready for the tourney. Harper fashioned a 63 Monday and came back with a 64 yesterday in the pro-amateur curtain raiser to the main event. He sank seven birdies.

Harper, now playing out of Chattanooga, Tenn., expected to have his hands full, though, since most of golf's leading professionals except Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff hope to pick up the $2,400 top money.

Singled out as likely to give Harper the most trouble were Doug Ford of Klamath Lake, N.Y., and chunky Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C. Ford won the title here in 1953 and finished two strokes off the pace a year ago when his drive on the final hole tumbled in the bay flanking the 200-yard 18th green.

Souchak currently is the hottest golfer on the tournament trail and is the top money winner for 1955.

A host of other leading golfers also had their eye on taking home the crown, among them Bob Toski, Johnny Palmer, Jim Turnesa, Dave Douglas, Dick Mayer, Wally Ulrich, Jack Burke, Ed Oliver and 33-year-old Gene Sarazen.

Sarazen, the pride of Germantown, N.Y., opened defense of his title in the Senior Division — for players over 45. He won the crown in 1953. A special purse of $2,500, with the winner taking $1,000, has been set aside in the Senior Division which was not held last year. Pete Cooper, the 1954 Virginia Beach Open winner, was not around to defend his title. The field numbered 143.

Souchak and four other pros divided $500 in yesterday's pro-amateur. The others were Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., Max Evans of Utica, Mich., Marty Furgol of LaMont, Ill., and Walter Inman of Augusta, Ga. All toured the course with amateurs, playing with handicaps, who carved 58s. Inman posted a 64.

Autograph Sales Boost Campaign for Ball Glove

DETROIT (AP)—Talk about enterprise . . .

In the locker room of the Detroit Tigers yesterday Jim Deling gave Harvey Kuenn a blank card and asked him to sign it.

"Some kid wrote me a letter asking for autographs," Deling said. "He says he sells 'em to his friends. He says he's going to use the money to buy himself a fielder's glove."

Kuenn signed.

Junior Track Postponed

The opening of the junior high school track season in Pontiac was postponed because of Wednesday's rain. The meets, matching Lincoln and Jefferson, and Washington and Eastern, will be held on the Winner Field track today.

Trabert Meets Texas Soph in Net Tourney Feature

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Seven seeded players and Brazil's No. 1 Davis Cup star met today in the quarter-finals of the 21st annual River Oaks tennis tournament.

Favored to move into the semi-finals were the nation's three top-ranked players — Victor Seixas, Tony Trabert and Hamilton Richardson—and defending champion Dick Savitt, the former Wimbledon winner.

Trabert, seeded first and seeking his ninth straight tournament title, probably drew the day's toughest assignment in Sammy Giammalva, a nationally ranked 20-year-old who normally plays his best tennis before his hometown fans.

It was a rematch of a 1954 fourth round match in which Giammalva grabbed the first set before bowing.

Giammalva, University of Texas sophomore, yesterday needed only 27 minutes in eliminating Jerry DeWitt, former Air Force champion from San Francisco, 6-0, 6-1.

Trabert continued his victory string with an easy 6-1, 6-2 decision over Seymour Greenberg, Chicago veteran.

Hornet Frosh Star Paces Kalamazoo Win

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A versatile performance by Dave Koeze, 190-pound freshman from Grand Rapids, led Kalamazoo College to a decisive victory over Olivet and Adrian in an MIAA triangular track meet yesterday.

Kalamazoo tallied 91 points to 38½ for Adrian and 32½ for Olivet.

Koeze captured 1st in the high and low hurdle events, tied for 1st in the pole vault and added 4th in the shot and discus competition.

6-Week Net Clinic Planned for Adults

A tennis clinic for adults will begin Tuesday, May 3, at 7 p.m. at Washington Junior High school gymnasium. Sponsored by the parks and recreation department, it will run for six weeks.

When weather permits, classes will move outdoors to the tennis courts. Anyone interested in learning or improving themselves in the game should register with the parks and recreation department, FE 3-7131.

Don Grothe of Birmingham will be the class instructor. Students should bring their own racquets and must wear tennis shoes.

Heavy Weekend for Champions

MSC's Big 10 Diamond Campaign Lists Three Tilts Last of Week

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State, defending Big Ten baseball champion, will start its conference season with three home games over the weekend.

The Spartans pick up where they left off with a single game against Wisconsin Friday. MSC edged out Wisconsin by half a game for the 1954 Big Ten title.

Northwestern will be on hand for a double-header Saturday afternoon.

In the non-conference opener of the regular season last Saturday, Michigan State walloped the University of Detroit 14-4. Spartans showed some heavy hitting but shaky pitching as Ed Hobaugh, Dick Idzkowski and Walt Godfrey gave up a total of 13 hits.

Hobaugh is scheduled to start against Wisconsin and Idzkowski and Godfrey will go against Northwestern.

Wisconsin will come to East Lansing handicapped by the loss of centerfielder Ron Locklin, also a football end, out with a sprained ankle. Locklin hit .375 last season.

The Badgers still have a mostly veteran lineup, however, and a choice of two starting pitchers in Sheldon Rusch and Bill Robinchaud who won seven games between them last year.

Northwestern has 13 lettermen returning and also must be figured in the Big Ten race this season.

Ex-Red Wing Prystai Given 'Victory' Watch

DETROIT (AP)—Although he played with the last-place Chicago Black Hawks, forward Metro Prystai has received a watch inscribed: "Metro Prystai, Detroit Red Wings, Stanley Cup Champions, 1955."

Prystai, who was traded by the Wings to the Hawks in a controversial "help-the-poor" deal last Nov. 9, was presented with the watch at a victory dinner for the Wings.

Wing, Capt. Ted Lindsay turned the watch over to Prystai, saying: "This goes to a player who helped us win four National Hockey League championships and two Stanley Cups. He was right here cheering for us all through the Montreal series and we're happy he is with us at this celebration."

Mosconi Has Lead in Billiard Tiff

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The world's pocket billiards championship tournament has settled into a contest between unbeaten Willie Mosconi and Irving Crane.

With two matches left in the six match round robin series, Mosconi's record is 4-0 and Crane's 3-1. Mosconi defeated Erwin Rudolph (0-4) last night 15-0-75 and Crane defeated Jimmy Caras (1-3) 15-0-85.

Spartans' Savoldi Is Rated
Real Rival for Jim Podoley

EAST LANSING (U)—Jim Podoley of Central Michigan College has been grabbing numerous sports headlines during the past few years.

He's noted as a one-man gang in football for the Chippewas and last year drew national attention by winning the decathlon with borrowed equipment at the Kansas City Relays.

Podoley will be defending his title this Friday and Saturday at Lawrence, Kansas.

The muscle-straining round of 10 track and field events will be closely watched as a Midwestern proving ground for Olympic contenders.

Among his challengers will be the potentially great son of a great father, Joe Savoldi the 3rd of Michigan State College.

Young Joe is the son of "Jumpin' Joe" Savoldi, the former Notre Dame football star. He's attracted some attention in Big Ten track meets but this is his 1st bid for more than regional honors.

MSC track coach Karl Schlade-mann thinks his entry can give Podoley a run for the title at Kansas.

Podoley, 21, is six feet two inches tall and weighs a solid 185 pounds. Savoldi, 20, is six feet three inches tall and weighs 210. Both are juniors.

Podoley has more experience in the event. Last year he set a record-breaking 6,128 points in winning the relays decathlon. He was running ahead of the field in the Nationals at Atlantic City last year but had to withdraw when he pulled a leg muscle.

In addition to training for track, playing football in season and studying, Podoley, from Mt. Morris, Mich., also works from 10 to 25 hours a week in the Central Michigan fieldhouse and goes home weekends to help take care of the family farm.

Savoldi, from Three Oaks, Mich., showed great potential in basketball and football at St. Joseph High but has concentrated on track at Michigan State—with his sights set on the Olympic decathlon.

On the basis of past performances, Podoley figures to beat out Savoldi in the broad jump, 100 meter run, 400 meter run and pole vault.

Savoldi has better records in the shot put, high jump, 110 meter high hurdles, discus and javelin.

Coach Schlade-mann thinks young Savoldi can beat his better-known rival.

Here is a table of the comparative records of the two:

Event	Podoley	Savoldi	Winner
Broad jump	23-4 1/2	22-5	Podoley
Shot put	42-8	48-1	Savoldi
100 meter run	1:08.5	1:11.0	Podoley
High jump	6-1 1/4	6-5 1/4	Savoldi
400 meter run	1:09.3	1:13.0	Podoley
100 meter Ht	15.8	14.4	Savoldi
Discus	110	130	Savoldi
Pole vault	12-8	10-6	Podoley
Javelin	145	150-6	Savoldi
1500 meter run	8:10.0	8:10.0	?

Repulski Doing Good Job in Clean-Up Role

CINCINNATI (U)—They said the St. Louis Cardinals would be hurtin' for a cleanup batter when they traded Ray Jablonski to Cincinnati, but Rip Repulski so far is adequately filling the important spot.

In eight games, Repulski has collected 14 hits in 38 at bats for a .368 batting average. He's had 5 doubles, 2 homers and has batted in 9 runs.

Rip had 2 safeties in 4 trips and drove in a run last night as the Cards blanked the Redlegs 3-0.

Nixon Likes Senators

WASHINGTON (U)—Righthander Willard Nixon of the Boston Red Sox apparently likes picking on the Washington Senators' for his first shutout of the season.

Nixon came through with his first blanking of 1953 last night, 1-0, as he held Washington to five hits.

Last year, Nixon did not have a shutout until July 5 when he held the Nats scoreless in a 1-0 triumph.

CHICAGO — Billy Pierce of the White Sox has won 79, lost 79 pitching assignments.

Former Hurricane Ace to Join Cardinals' 11

CHICAGO (U)—Ronnie Morris, former University of Tulsa quarterback, has been discharged from the service and signed by the Chicago Cardinals, the pro football club's managing director, Walter Wolfner, announced today.

Morris, who played for Tulsa through 1952, had a three-year record of completing 220 out of 406 passes for a total of 3,731 yards and 38 touchdowns. He also scored 13 times running with the ball.

Pitches Home Run
Balls; Still Wins

MILWAUKEE (U)—At the rate he's grooving 'em, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette is a cinch to wind up as the major league's gopher ball leader.

er has given up six home runs in his two appearances this season, but he's won both games.

Burdette gave up homers to the Cubs' Dee Fondy and Harry Chitt in Milwaukee's 9-5 victory yesterday.

Thomson Offers Convincing 'Rebuttal' for Braves

MILWAUKEE (U)—Bobby Thomson, declaring himself off to the fastest spring start of his career, is hammering out the "other" side of the argument in the trade that brought him to the Milwaukee Braves.

He belted a bases loaded home run and just missed another in Chicago yesterday, to write the biggest rebuttal chapter, as the Braves took their third straight from the Cubs, 9-5.

"The Flying Scot" turned aside the hero's honors saying "I didn't do much." He did say that this spring is the best start he's had, "by far."

The prize homer, in the second inning, came off Cub starter Sam Jones and sailed, high over the center field wall. It was his second grand slam. The first came against the Cards June 16, 1952. His second smash yesterday, in the sixth inning, took off in the same direction, but failed by inch to clear the wall. The homer was number 185 for Bobby. In the eight games the Braves have played Thomson has driven in 15 runs, five of them yesterday. He leads the Braves. He's hitting at a .333 clip from his cleanup spot, one of four Braves over .300. He's knocked out two

Thomson treated the hometown fans to two great field plays this week. The first came Monday against the Cubs when he reached over the seven foot wall at County Stadium and with his mitt turned up like a basket, gathered in Hank Sauer's out of the park blast. The next day, against the Cubs again, he legged it full steam from left field to the third base neighborhood to pull in a pop foul. Bobby came to Milwaukee in the 1954 winter deal that sent Johnny Antonelli to the Giants. Bobby broke his ankle in spring drills and saw only limited action in the shag end of the season. Antonelli won 21 games as the Giants ran down the National League pennant and won the World Series. The debate was that Thomson looked like the goat. The situation turned worse at the end of spring training when Bobby came down with a sore shoulder that threatened to keep him on the bench Opening Day. He was determined to play the first date, and he made it. He not only played, he's been showing the way ever since.

Devette to Return as Coach at Hope

ORONO, Maine (U)—Russ Devette has resigned as basketball coach at the University of Maine to become head football and basketball coach at Hope College, Holland, Mich.

Devette, whose resignation was announced yesterday by the university, is a 1947 graduate of Hope. His home is in Muskegon. Besides coaching the Maine bas-kettball squad, Devette was assistant football coach in charge of the backfield. He came to Maine last fall succeeding Dr. Rome Rankin.

With an inexperienced squad of sophomores and juniors, Devette's cagers at Maine chalked up a record of four wins against three defeats.

MSC-Titan Grid Game Clouded

Rep. Blundy Says It Is 'All Set,' but Biggie Isn't So Sure

LANSING (AP) — Possibility of Michigan State College renewing football relations with the University of Detroit was clouded today despite a Democratic senator's statement that it was all set.

Sen. Charles B. Blundy (D-Detroit) said Dr. John A. Hannah, MSC President, had told him MSC had its schedules completed for the next four years but would play U. of D. then.

In a press statement, Biggie Munn, MSC athletic director, was not so positive.

Munn said MSC is prevented by Big Ten regulations from meeting more than one non-conference team a season.

"Naturally," Munn said, "we would like to continue our fine rivalry with Notre Dame."

"This means, as I see it," Munn said, "that the University of Detroit and Michigan State cannot make any specific schedule arrangements until such time as the Big Ten sets its 1959 schedules. I repeat, however, that as far as Michigan State is concerned the possibilities of meeting the University of Detroit in football appear favorable."

Tatum Through With Trotters

CHICAGO (U)—Abe Saperstein, owner-coach of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, has given Reece "Goose" Tatum, the team's veteran clowning center, his unconditional release.

"Tatum was a suspended last month because of repeated violations of team rules and regulations," Saperstein said in a statement yesterday.

"This was climaxed by his unauthorized absence from the squad through a series of seven advertised and scheduled appearances. Tatum has not been in touch with me since I suspended him. I will not take up my option on his contract for next season. This means he is unconditionally released and will not be with the Globetrotters again."

Saperstein's decision ends 14 years of association between him and the loose, long-armed Tatum, who reportedly, was being paid $53,000 annually for his services.

"I am aware that Tatum made many valuable contributions to the popularity of the Globetrotters," said Saperstein. "But I am just as aware that the Globetrotter organization has done at least as much for Tatum in building him up to the highest salaried player in the history of the game."

Mamie, Ray Anthony Vacationing in Hawaii
HOLLYWOOD — Actress Mamie Van Doren and bandleader Ray Anthony left by plane last night for a Honolulu vacation—but no marriage, says the blonde actress.
The two have been dating steadily nearly a year.
"We're just going over for fun and to soak up a little sunshine," Mamie told a reporter.

Chidlaw Tells of Air Tactics

Thunderbolt Geometry Now Used to Down Enemy Planes

NEW YORK — Airplanes that travel more than 1,000 feet a second and pilots versed in "thunderbolt geometry" will confront any aggressor attacking the United States.

That was the word today from Gen. B. W. Chidlaw, commander in chief, Continental Air Defense Command, with headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The new technique being practiced by the Air Force was described by Chidlaw in an address prepared for a luncheon of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

"We use the term 'thunderbolt geometry' advisedly," Chidlaw said.

"We no longer swing in on our targets in line, or with the pursuit curve; we come at him from right angles, which is the reason we refer to it as 'geometry'."

The reason we add 'thunderbolt' to our description is that the planes have the capability of coming in on the target at 1,000 feet or more per second, and that rate of closure is so fast the plane must be lined up on the object and combat action started as much as 30 miles off.

Plane-borne radar, ground radar and electronic computers enable the pilots to engage in air-to-air rocket-firing at these speeds, he said.

"It is untried in combat and I pray to God that it never becomes necessary that we have to try it," Chidlaw said.

"But should we have to, any potential aggressor who would move against these pilots and radar observers would—I promise you—meet some of the finest of the generation of men who have defended this country in other ways, past and present."

"They would be meeting men who have been taught that they have one shot—and that that shot must be a good one."

The "thunderbolt geometry" is being practiced, he said, at Air Force weapons training centers at Yuma, Ariz., and Moody Air Force Base, near Valdosta, Ga.

Even Polio Victims Need Salk Vaccine
NEW YORK — Even if your child has had polio, he should be inoculated with the Salk vaccine, a spokesman for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said today.

Assuming a child has had one type of polio, and now is immune to that type, an inoculation will guard him against contracting either or both of the other two types.

There have been cases in which a person has had polio more than once.

Sophie Tucker Spoofs Her Age and Poundage

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — I'll always admire Sophie Tucker because, at 70 or thereabouts, she spoofs herself. Opening at the Latin Quarter, she was at her best as she kidded about her age and weight.

"I had a beautiful Hawaiian skirt flown over," she announced.

"On one plane?" explained Ted Shapiro, her accompanist.

"Wait'll you get a load of this," said Sophie.

"It'll be a load, all right," said Shapiro.

Then Sophie said Lou Walters says she can still be working there when she's 103 . . . and that won't be very long.

The Don Ameche's daughter Bonnie, 10, looking at a picture of an Italian beauty in a bikini, suddenly said: "Mother, dear, get a load of this babe in the Zucchini bathing suit."

Herb Shriner said his uncle back home hated to see Arthur Godfrey drop all those people "because it was the best all-fired cast he ever saw."

Stop the presses! Somebody connected with a Godfrey show got a contract renewed. Marion Marlowe's fiancé, Larry Puck, co-producer of "Talent Scouts," reportedly was recently given a new 5-year contract by CBS to handle that show. Miss Marlowe's fitting up her new apartment for their anticipated marriage in a month or two.

"The Mariners"—lately of the Godfrey show—just signed the Wm. Morris Co. as their agents—and they had a business meeting. As Tom Lockard started to leave the house, his daughter, Paula, 7, called out, "Daddy, where you going? You were fired!"

Golf Champ Cary Middlecoff told me after playing President Eisenhower, "If he could putt, he could break 80." In fact, after like missed one, he said, "My lunch'd have been so much better if I had made that one!" More interesting was Middlecoff's analysis of victory in a discussion with Jockey Eddie Arcaro. "Sometimes it's a kind of superhuman effort," he said. "It's when something comes out of you that you haven't even got."

George Jessel's excellent new book, "This Way, Miss," credits me with naming him "Toastmaster General." I thank him kindly, but really believe I swiped it from somebody else. If the victim'll step forward, I'll confess the burglary.

The Stage Coach Inn cancelled Pat Ward's singing debut there—too much pressure from civic groups and the state liquor board . . . Darleen Guidry's new hit record is tagged "Honey Babe."

Marisa Pavan Gets Started in Film Career

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — What's it like to have a famous twin?
"It was hard at first," says Marisa Pavan, who wanted to be an actress. "At first there was a lot of resistance from producers, who thought I looked like my sister. But when they found out that we are entirely different, I had more luck."

Lovely, brown-haired Marisa is the nonidentical twin of Pier Angeli, who is also lovely and brown-haired. But there the resemblance ends. They are entirely different types. It has been Marisa's chore to convince producers of that.

She has pretty well succeeded. After a slow start—she was signed, then dropped by 20th-Fox—her career is getting off the ground. She did some TV films, then landed a good role as an Indian maid in "Drum Beat." That was followed by a prize part in "The Rose Tattoo" with Anna Magnani and Burt Lancaster.

She did a Studio One drama with

Ralph Meeker, "Dominique," which was well received. Now she's at her sister's home lot, MGM, for "Diane" with Lana Turner.

Does she get mistaken for her sister on the MGM lot?
"No, I don't think that would happen. Pier has a short haircut, is walking with a limp and is pregnant. I don't think people would mistake me for her."

Hollywood has had a number of feuding sisters, notably Olivia De Havilland and Joan Fontaine. Though lately at peace, the two have battled in the past. This has been attributed to their vastly different natures—Olivia being the quiet, introspective type and Joan vivacious and extroverted.

Marisa was asked if she ever fights with Pier.
"Oh, no," she replied. "We have different opinions on matters and we can get quite loud about it. But we never have any real fights."

Cadets Ruled Out in Commie Debate

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UP)—The annual West Point national invitational debate—minus a cadet team—starts today with student debaters from 34 colleges taking part.

Two student debaters and a coach represent each school in the three-day tourney culminating in the finals Saturday.

For the first time the West Point cadets will not be represented in the competition because of the debate subject, recognition of Communist China.

Officials of the U. S. Military and Naval Academies ruled that cadets could not debate that subject.

Doubts Theory of Polynesians

Expert Doesn't Believe Islands Were Peopled by Peruvians

HONOLULU (UP) — A scientific expert on Polynesia says neither the William Willis nor the Kon-Tiki raft voyages have proved that the Pacific islands were peopled by migrants from Peru or North America.

Dr. Kenneth P. Emory of Honolulu's Bishop Museum, one of the world's most eminent ethnologists, said that despite the success of the two raft voyages all concrete evidence still points to Malaysia as the spawning ground of the native populations of the Pacific.

He listed these reasons for rejecting the South American or North American theory:

1. The languages of Polynesia have been identified by anthropologists as having roots in the west from Malaysia, Micronesia and Melanesia.
2. Polynesian out-rigger (double-hulled) canoes are similar to those found in Malaysia and are not found in the Americas.
3. The big balsa rafts copied by Willis and the Kon-Tiki expedition probably originated with the Inca empire period after Polynesia had been settled. Evidence indicates that Hawaii, the last of the Polynesian chain to be settled, got its first people 1,000 years ago.
4. The religious, social and material cultures of Polynesia all point west to Malaysia and not to Peru.

Dr. Emory said Peruvian sweet potatoes and stone work may have been brought to Polynesia, but only after it had been settled from the west.

He said it may even be that Polynesians did the sailing to Peru and brought back plants and masonry. In support of that theory he recalled his work during World War II teaching the American troops the facts of survival when stranded in the Pacific.

"We found that a man lost at sea generally survived not more than four days," Dr. Emory said. "If he had no hope of reaching land. If Peruvians had started out to the west they would not have known there was land, such as Samoa, ahead. This journey on the current takes several months."

Owl Crashes Party After-Losing Its Home

MUSKEGON (UP) — Police had to be called to evict an unwelcome owl that came to dinner at the Marvin Brown home.

While eight guests attempted to eat and ignore the party-crasher, the indignant owl flew about the Browns' living room, dirtied up the wall and finally perched on the window drapes until the police nabbed it.

The owl had been nesting in the Browns' chimney. It apparently became offended and flew out when Mrs. Brown lit a fire in the grate during the party.

Post Office Plans Garage

Maintenance Building Will Be Erected Here by Government

A new service garage and parking lot to serve Pontiac Post Office trucks will be built on the north side of West Pike street, between Exchange and Front streets.

The Post Office Department in Washington has just let the contract for the facilities, it was reported today by Rep. George A. Dondero's office.

To be of one-story concrete and brick construction, the garage will have 2,500 square feet of floor space and will be used for repairing and servicing the truck fleet.

Adjoining the garage will be a 10,000-square-foot parking area. It will be blacktopped, flood-lighted and fenced.

The government is taking a 10-year lease on the facilities from owner Matt D. Shelton.

Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said the facilities should be ready for use before winter.

The Pontiac Post Office now stores and services its 23-truck fleet at a temporary location on Chase street.

Prior to an auto dealer's fire last year in which several mail trucks were burned, the Post Office formerly leased space in commercial garages and contracted the repair work to the garages, Dean said.

Now, a four-man post office crew does the maintenance work.

Four more trucks are on order for Pontiac, Dean said.

State Lawmaker Bolts From GOP on Liberal Issue

LANSING (AP) — A young Republican legislator made a bold break from his party yesterday with a heated charge that it has no room for liberals and that it cost him his job.

Rep. Leonard E. Wood (R-Detroit) said he would move over to the Democratic side of the aisle if "they will invite me."

Rising to his feet on a point of personal privilege, the 38-year-old lawmaker said:

"A member has approached me to protest my voting with Democrats on unemployment compensation amendments. He asked me why I don't leave the Republican party and join the Democrats."

"This attitude is an eloquent demonstration of what's wrong with the Republican party. Instead of making room for liberal as well as conservative and sometimes reactionary viewpoints, Republicans are doing their level best to drive away anyone who dares express their own convictions."

"I will probably register as a Democrat before the next election and I won't be going to any more Republican caucuses," Wood said. "I will vote independently according to the merits of each bill."

Two Waive Examination on Charges of Breakin

Robert Pate, 24, and Robert Conway, 19, both of Royal Oak, waived examination on break-in charges and were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday by Royal Oak Judge Fletcher Renton.

Held in the county jail under $1,000 bonds each, they are scheduled for arraignment May 2. The pair was arrested yesterday morning by Royal Oak Patrolman William J. Linville, who said he saw Pate and Conway breaking into a grocery store.

Union Lake Man Hurt When Auto Overturns

Norman R. Wilson, 26, of Union Lake, was reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today with a broken knee, sustained when his car overturned last night on Cooley Lake road near Williams Lake road.

Although Wilson was unable to give Oakland County Sheriff's deputies a statement, they said the car left the road, struck a concrete culvert abutment and rolled over into a ditch.

Ward's Stockholders to Jam 'Mosque' in Chicago for Wolfson-Avery Title Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — The eyes of American business will be focused tomorrow on a structure that looks like an old-world mosque.

It's the Medina Temple at 600 N. Wabash Ave. The four-story brick building is distinguished from its near North Side neighbors by two plump, round domes.

The theater-type temple was built by the Masonic Fraternity. It has been used for such occasional activities as circuses and conventions.

Tomorrow it will house the annual meeting of Montgomery Ward & Co. stockholders. Their chief business will be to decide whether the $21 million dollar firm will remain under the control of Sewell L. Avery or shift to the command of Louis E. Wolfson.

The battle of these titans of industry will be witnessed by hundreds. There are seats for 4,500 on the main floor and in the balcony. There will be accommodations for an additional 2,000 in the basement. The shareholders can listen—or speak—via a public address system, equipped with mobile microphones.

Chairman Avery and other Ward officers and top executives—18 or 20, in all—will occupy the stage.

Other members of the management team and its candidates for places as directors will be seated on the left side of the main floor. Wolfson and the other members of his squad, including their nominees for the directorate, will be seated on the right side of the main floor.

Polls will be opened in the rear of the house. Most of the 68,000 stockholders have mailed in their proxies. But those who want to vote in person or cast a ballot that will supersede a previously mailed proxy will walk to a parlor containing eight voting tables.

The next item on the program is "questions and discussions."

But the place on the agenda of this item already has drawn a protest from Wolfson.

He has demanded "free and open discussion before the votes are cast."

John Barr, Ward vice president and secretary, rejoined:

"There will be a full opportunity for asking any questions. No stockholder will be forced to vote before he's ready to vote."

At the end of the session, the meeting will be adjourned—probably for three weeks, Barr estimated it would take that long to check and count the ballots.

Representatives of both sides will watch the proceedings.

Property Value Hiked

IONIA (AP) — Property valuation in Ionia has been assessed at $6,491,500, an increase of $33,000 over 1954. The county valuation was equalized at $35,633,837, an increase of $307,250 over last year.

Ceylon Chief Denounces 'Communist Colonialism'

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP) — Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala of Ceylon denounced "Communist colonialism" at the Asian-African conference today. Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, obviously disturbed, immediately demanded time to make a reply.

Sir John, appearing before a closed session of the Political Committee, demanded that the conference declare itself against all forms of colonialism, including Communist domination of satellite states in Central and Eastern Europe.

Delegates said that as Sir John finished Chou leaped to his feet and demanded that the Ceylon premier's statement be circulated to all delegates of the 29-nation conference so Chou could reply to it at tomorrow's committee session.

In earlier debate the committee heard Chou express the opinion that peaceful coexistence between nations of different systems was possible.

Sir John proposed that the conference call upon all powers still possessing dependencies on these two continents to set a 10-year target for granting them all full independence.

He proposed also that the freed colonies should have collective guarantees for defense for the first 25 years of their independence.

"I am not so naive as to suppose that the relinquishment of their colonies by the Western powers can be effected without difficulty."

"Foreign settlers and investors will have to be adequately compensated for any concrete rights they may have to forego when the transfer of power takes effect."

CHICAGO (INS) — A photograph is not only worth a thousand words but $500 to a Chicago taxpayer.

The taxpayer submitted the photo of himself sitting on a table in his water-filled basement to Ernest J. Sauber, Chicago district director of the Internal Revenue Service.

Sauber said the picture indicated the taxpayer's claim for a $500 income tax reduction for flood damage was justified.

The Globetrotters won 423 out of 430 games in 1953-54.

The district thus will be saved $1,160 a year in interest from now until the bonds would have come out, officials said, or an average of eight years interest. This interest in turn will be sufficient to retire another nine, or ten of the bonds.

TV Boosts George Burns Into His Own

Gracie's Faithful Foil Steps Out of Character for Audience Chats

HOLLYWOOD — After more than a quarter-century as pin-boy for his wife, George Burns has finally found a chance to do some bowling on his own.

Through the years, Burns of Burns and Allen has built a reputation in vaudeville, radio and motion pictures as the greatest "straight man" in the comedy business. But so far as the public was concerned he was merely the man who set up situations and lines for Gracie to scatter like nine pins.

Now, with television, George is coming into his own as a funnyman. In the weekly show he does a couple of turns as a sort of Greek chorus, addressing the audience directly, explaining what's going on and throwing in a few solo jokes.

"The monologue makes partners of the audience," he explained earnestly and almost apologetically for stepping out of his time-tested role of long-suffering husband.

Burns works a seven-day week, 40 weeks a year, turning out TV shows. There's no phase of the program, except possibly the sponsor's commercials, which doesn't bear the strong imprint of his veteran skills.

A thorough-going extrovert, Burns obviously is as stage-struck today as he was more than 32 years ago when he teamed up with the San Francisco girl named Gracie Allen.

Watching the show, you'd think Gracie was the extrovert. But off camera, she's shy and retiring. George, on the other hand, is an uncomplicated comic who goes on with a routine even when the audience is only a stranger with whom he is having lunch.

"I've been working on a book all winter," he said at the conclusion of one comedy monologue. "I don't know why I wrote a book, except that Hope wrote one and Crosby wrote one and I didn't want to feel left out of things."

Burns at rehearsal is another fellow entirely. He's serious and watches every detail.

Rose Officially Named New York's Flower

ALBANY, N. Y. — It's official now. The rose is the New York State flower.

Gov. Averell Harriman signed a bill yesterday giving status to the rose "in any color or combination of colors common to it."

It has been considered the state flower unofficially since 1891 when it was chosen by school children.

Jap. Prince Teaches

TOKYO. — Prince Mikasa, younger brother of Emperor Hirohito, today began as part-time lecturer in ancient Oriental history at Tokyo Women's University.

University officials said his salary would be $6.40 a month.

Sees Russia Joining U.S. to Fight China

BONN, Germany — A theory that the United States and Soviet Russia may one day fight side by side against China is attracting attention in West Germany.

The theory is expounded in "The Limits of Soviet Power," a best seller by a physician who spent nine years in Russian work camps.

The author, Dr. Wilhelm Starlinger, says Red China's population soon will be expanding at the rate of 20 million a year. By official Communist figures, the population is nearly 600 millions today.

The only outlet for her population is northern Asia—and Russia will face the alternative of giving up this area to China or fighting, Starlinger writes.

He says the cornerstone of West German policy must be the closest possible partnership with America. He envisages a vast "Atlantic empire" headed by the United States, whose superior power would "bring Soviet Russia to reason and enable serious negotiations that might lead to a durable understanding."

Fish Have Shifty Eyes

Flatfish—flounder, sole, halibut and dab—hatch with eyes on each side of the head and swim freely about, back upright, near the sea's surface. As the small fish grow, one eye begins to shift, gradually moving across the head until it reaches a position near the eye of the opposite side. From then on the fish usually rest flat on the sea bottom with both eyes in a position to watch the approach of food.

Their Credit's Good

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—Columnist John Kottend of the Omaha World-Herald reported to his readers that the dollar bill still is good. Noting that the bill is only a promissory note, Kottend mailed
