GMC Factories Resume Normal Production Here

Local Issues Causing Walkouts Now Reported Being Settled

Normal production was resumed at the three local General Motors divisions today following unauthorized walkouts yesterday which idled 18,000 workers.

The local issues which caused work stoppages at Pontiac Motor Division, Fisher Body Division and GMC Truck & Coach Division are reportedly settled or in negotiation stages.

Harold A. Grant, president of Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO) said a negotiation session between union and management yesterday ended in agreement.

Today, GMC Truck Local 594 and GM men were huddling in an attempt to thrash out disagreements. And tomorrow representatives of Pontiac Motor Local 653 will meet with employer agents.

Pontiac local President Charles S. Currie, who declined to elaborate, said:

"We do have some local issues. We have a meeting scheduled for tomorrow morning to negotiate them. . . . We are going to make every effort possible to settle the disputes peaceably."

Currie said negotiations have been going on for 60 days, with the last meeting held Sunday night, while the deadline was approaching for signing of a nationwide UAW-GM agreement in Detroit.

Among the "local issues" settled at Fisher Body were a one- and two-cent an hour pay increase for 521 women employes, seniority agreements and fringe benefits, Grant said.

Currie said the Pontiac local has authority from its members to strike, but that sanction would be needed from the union's international headquarters.

Fair and Warmer Weather Outlook

Fair and warmer weather predicted for tomorrow will end the unseasonable cool, rainy spell which has plagued Pontiac most of the month.

But more scattered light showers and cool temperatures will precede the nicer weather. That's the weather bureau forecast for tonight. The low is expected to range from 46-50 degrees.

A high of 72-78 is forecast for tomorrow. Yesterday's high was 54, low 48.

Downtown thermometer reading at 8 a.m. was 56 degrees. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 64.

UAW, AM Start Sessions Today

Bargaining With First of 'Little Three' Will Include GAW Demand

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers planned to ask American Motors Corp. today to follow the lead of Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. in granting jobless pay benefits.

The union scheduled the opening of bargaining talks on a new contract with the makers of Nash and Hudson cars. The talks will continue through tomorrow at the Veterans Memorial Building with additional meetings to be decided on later.

Leonard Woodcock, director of the union's American Motors Department, indicated yesterday what the UAW expected of American Motors.

"We will go in with the union's original guaranteed annual wage proposals," he said. "Then we will sit down and listen to what the company has to say and bargain from there."

Woodcock said the union demands will include improved pensions, vacations, holiday pay and insurance as well as wage increases.

WILL RESIST

George Romney, president of American Motors, has indicated his company will resist demands for a guaranteed wage. He urged the union last week to bargain "on the facts of American Motors, and not of Ford or General Motors."

The company has three contracts with the UAW. All have been extended to expire simultaneously Aug. 12.

American Motors was formed last year from consolidation of Nash-Kelvinator Corp and the Hudson Motor Car Co. and took over the contracts of each. Nash and Kelvinator had separate agreements with the union.

American Motors employs 20,000 UAW members. It reported a net loss of $654,390 for the first quarter of this year.

Menon Confers With Ike, Holds Out Hope for Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Indian Diplomat V. K. Krishna Menon said after a conference with President Eisenhower today that he thought the release of some airmen by Red China had "opened the door" to the possibility of freedom for others held there.

Krishna Menon met with Eisenhower 45 minutes.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty announced that at the President's suggestion the Indian diplomat would meet later today with Secretary of State Dulles.

He also said that Krishna Menon would probably see the President again before he leaves the country in July.

Krishna Menon would not discuss any specific subject he had talked about with Eisenhower and Dulles during the meeting in the President's office.

He was asked whether, apart from his report to the President, he could state his feeling about the possibility of release of 11 American airmen acknowledged by Red China to be imprisoned there. Four fliers were released about two weeks ago after Krishna Menon had visited Peiping.

* * *

In reply to the question, the Indian envoy said:

"Well, apart from my meeting with the President, I have said before in India that the release of the four fliers opened the door."

Krishna Menon said he was sure there could be a "lowering of tensions" between the United States and Red China "if we all make an effort."

Settlement Reached in British Rail Strike

LONDON (AP)—Britain's 17-day-old railway strike ended today.

Big Jim Campbell, leader of the nonstriking National Union of Railwaymen (NUR) who took part in all-day conferences at the Ministry of Labor, told newsmen:

"A settlement has now been reached."

Flash Floods Dim Las Vegas

Damage in Gaudy City Expected to Run Over $100,000

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Flash floods unleashed by torrential desert cloudbursts hit Nevada last night, blacking out this city of bright lights and derailing a passenger train in the northern part of the state.

There were no injuries reported but the damage in Las Vegas was expected to run over $100,000, and perhaps as high as a half million.

While power was quickly restored in most sections, an estimated 80 per cent of all telephones remained out of order early today.

Mayor C. D. Baker said there was a strong possibility he would declare a state of emergency and ask for federal flood control aid. It was the worst storm here in 30 years, he said.

Meanwhile, the Western Pacific Railroad's California Zephyr was bogged down 58 miles west of Winnemucca. The engine and 10 cars went off the track when the flood-softened roadbed gave way.

The railroad said it would take at least 12 hours to clear the track and get the train and its 300 passengers moving again.

The cloudburst here lasted an hour, depositing between two and three inches of rain and hail on the downtown area. Scores of shops and homes were flooded and hundreds of cars were stalled in water which swirled a foot deep on main streets.

Power Commission OKs Gas Pipeline Financing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission has approved an American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. plan to finance its proposed Louisiana-to-Michigan natural gas pipeline.

The action cleared the way for the company to start construction of the southern end of the system if it chooses. Hearings still must be held on the company's marketing plans.

Ike Names Dem to Assist Wilson

Educator Gordon Gray Formally Nominated to Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower sent to the Senate today the formal nomination of Gordon Gray, president of the University of North Carolina, to be an assistant secretary of defense.

The President's plan to appoint Gray, a former secretary of the Army, was announced last Friday. Gray, a Democrat, will succeed H. Struve Hensel, who resigned.

Asked how it happened a Democrat was being brought into the Eisenhower administration, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty replied:

"He's a very good man."

Asked further whether the selection of the 46 year old Gray was a gesture of bipartisanship, Hagerty replied with a smile:

"I haven't any answer to that."

The White House also announced the Army will name Maj. Gen. Robert Nicholas Young as commanding general of the Sixth Army which has headquarters in San Francisco. Young will succeed Lt. Gen. Willard G. Wyman, July 1. Wyman is to become deputy commanding general of the Continental Army Command.

Eisenhower asked the Senate to raise Young to three star rank.

Widening Project Scheduled for M24

The Michigan Highway Department's schedule now calls for work to start on the widening from two to four lanes of M24 from Opdyke road to Lake Orion about July 17, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today.

Bids will be taken in Lansing June 22 on the $1,000,000 project. The contract will be awarded about two weeks later and work started within another two weeks, Ziegler explained.

Plans are for a divided highway with strips 22 feet wide on each side. Each strip will be divided into two lanes. Most of the existing pavement will be ripped out, said Ziegler.

Win Four-Year Terms on City Education Board

Light Turnout Marks Pontiac District Voting Yesterday

Veteran school board member Monroe Osmun and newcomer Rev. J. Allen Parker were the popular choices of Pontiac school district electors Monday when 3,459 citizens went to the polls to cast their votes.

Rev. Parker took the top vote with final count showing 1,658 ballots marked in his favor.

Osmun garnered the other 4-year term with 1,515 endorsements.

Less than 10 per cent of the 42,000 qualified school electors in the Pontiac school district turned out. In 1954, the vote stood at 4,860.

Osmun served on the Pontiac Board of Education from 1946 to 1954 and, after a year's absence from the board, announced his candidacy again this year for one of the two 4-year posts.

A Pontiac business man, Osmun is well known for his interest in civic affairs. One of the drafters of the pay-as-you-go financing plan for the Pontiac schools, he has served the board as president for two years. He is the father of two daughters, one in Pontiac High School and the other in college.

Although new to community politics, Rev. Parker has been active in civic movements since he came to Pontiac in 1943.

Rev. Parker has a background in education, having taught in a high school in Orlando, Fla., prior to coming to Detroit to serve as pastor of the local A. M. E. Church.

He is the father of four children, three of whom are in school.

Osmun and Rev. Parker will be sworn in July 13.

The other two contenders for the board this year were Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr., and Theron T. Stickle. Dr. Allen was third highest in the running with 1,470 votes and Stickle received 907. (Complete tabulation, precinct-by-precinct, is listed on page 2.)

Vote $2 Billion for Military Use

Construction Tops List of Public Works Plan Okayed by House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee today approved a bill to authorize military public works estimated to cost $2,368,698,000.

The amoun is $14,345,700 more than originally sought by the Defense Department.

The Army, which requested a total of $543,365,000, was authorized to spend $551,105,000. This included a last-minute addition of about eight million dollars for construction of a 500-bed Army hospital at Ft. Jackson, S.C.

The Navy's original request of $581,197,300 was boosted to $596,140,000. Contributing largely to the hike was another late action by the committee in approving $11,285,000 for expansion of the naval academy's Bancroft Hall by filling the Dewey-Santee basin of the Severn River. The fill is expected to add about 32 acres to the academy's grounds.

The committee, in approving this naval academy item, revised an action of yesterday when it struck about 15 million dollars proposed for the purpose.

The Air Force's original total of $1,173,790 was reduced to $1,165,453,000.

The Central Intelligence Agency was voted $56,000,000 for new headquarters.

Waterford Tot Drowning Victim

Three-Year-Old Boy's Body Found Floating in Maceday Lake

A 3-year-old Waterford Township boy drowned last night in Maceday Lake about two blocks from his home. He had apparently slipped into deep water while wading.

The youngster, Randy Greshem, of 4007 Maiden Dr., was found floating about 15 feet from shore by a neighbor, Ivan Norgrove, of 3826 Maiden.

His efforts to revive the boy with artificial respiration failed. A Waterford Township Fire Department resuscitator also was used in vain. The boy was pronounced dead by Deputy Coroner Dr. John Naz at about 7:55.

Waterford Patrolmen William Stokes and Orval Archer said the boy apparently lost his balance while wading in shallow water near the lake shore.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greshem, said they saw the tot only minutes before playing near home with several other neighborhood children.

Besides the parents, three other children survive: Sandra 13, David, 12, and Cathy 9.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Sharpe Funeral Home, Clarkston. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery there.

Only 24 Units Still Shut Down as Strikes Fade

Local Grievances and Some Discontent Over Contract Are Blamed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All but 24 of General Motors' 119 plants from coast to coast were back in operation today after widespread walkouts Monday.

A midmorning check by the corporation showed 63,400 employes idle because of work stoppages and resulting shutdowns. General Motors has some 350,000 hourly rated workers in all.

The walkouts idled more than 134,000 workers at 44 plants at the peak Monday afternoon.

Local grievances and some dissatisfaction with the new General Motors-CIO United Auto Workers agreement reached Monday were blamed for the disruptions.

The international union threw its support behind the back-to-work movement. UAW Vice President John W. Livingston wired all GM local union officials, ordering them to instruct their members to report for work.

Eleven of the 24 plants still closed were Fisher Body factories.

In Flint, where GM has its heaviest concentration of workers, a total of 23,000 at four Chevrolet plants and the AC Spark Plug Division were off the job at one time Monday.

But by nightfall pickets were withdrawn at all but the Chevrolet frame plant. A union spokesman said all five plants would be operating by today.

8,300 GO BACK

At the Detroit transmission plant at Willow Run, 8,300 workers went back to their jobs after Local 735 officials received a back-to-work telegram from the UAW international.

But many locals failed to heed the international's order.

In Detroit, the Cadillac plant was picketed, keeping 41,900 workers off the job. Union spokesmen said the men wouldn't go back until local issues were settled.

German Neutrality Ruled Out by Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer formally declared today that "the concept of neutrality" cannot be applied to Germany.

The President and the chancellor issued a joint statement after a half-hour White House conference.

It spoke throughout of agreement between the two heads of government in the whole field of relations between the Soviet Union and Germany, and the Soviets and the West generally.

"As a result of their discussions they are reassured that there is a very broad field of understanding between them," the joint statement said.

It took up specifically the latest Soviet moves which for a time led some observers to think that a powerful appeal to germany to accept neutralization in return for reunification might be imminent.

French Suspend Auto Races; Wait New Safety Code

PARIS (AP)—The French government has suspended all auto races throughout France until a new safety code can be formulated.

The semiofficial French Press Agency reported last night, however, that the new regulations are expected to be ready in time for the next major race, the Grand Prix de Reims July 2.

The ban followed the smashup Saturday during the 24-hour sports car race at Le Mans, in which a driver and 78 spectators were killed. It was the worst tragedy in the history of racing.

Mass funeral services for the victims were scheduled today in the Le Mans Cathedral.

Laborite Parties in Argentina Rallying in 'Support Peron' National Strike

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — President Juan Peron's massive labor following rallied for a nine-hour nationwide strike today to demonstrate their loyalty to their leader in his feud with the Roman Catholic Church.

Peron appealed to the people to be "calm . . . alert and vigilant" in the wake of a three-day wave of clashes and demonstrations.

Attacking the clergy as "a wolf in sheep's clothing," he threatened in a nationwide broadcast last night to crack down with all his might on future outbreaks.

Shortly before he spoke, fresh fighting erupted in the Plaza de Mayo in downtown Bueno Aires. Church supporters hurled back a crowd of Peron adherents who charged the Metropolitan Cathedral and the adjoining Archbishop's Palace in an effort to mount an Argentine flag on the palace. The Peronistas shouted "Peron yes! Priests no!" as they rushed the building.

There were no reports of any injuries. Twenty-nine persons were injured Sunday in rioting around the cathedral. Some 470 persons were arrested over the weekend, most of them Catholic faithful who took refuge in the Episcopal Palace when the rioting broke out.

Reports circulating today said the Argentine government may recall its ambassador to the Vatican today in the church-state controversy.

LABOR CALLS STRIKE

The nationwide strike demonstration was called by the General Confederation of Labor (CGT), whose six million members constitute one of the strongest pillars of the Peronista movement. It was welded together by Peron and his wife Eva during the last years of her life.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby today attacked as "unnecessary" a Democratic proposal to provide Salk polio vaccine free to all of the nation's children.

Mrs. Hobby told the Senate Labor and Welfare Committee that "most families can afford the cost of vaccinating their children."

At the same time, she testified that the administration has increased from 28 million to 35 million dollars its own proposal to provide free anti-polio shots only for children in needy families.

Approval Seen on Tariff Cutting

Both Houses Expected to Give Ike Power to Reduce Levies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise bill to give President Eisenhower new tariff-cutting powers was headed for final congressional action, perhaps today.

House leaders expected little opposition in that chamber. The Senate was expected to follow suit quickly—possibly sometime late today and send the bill to the President.

The compromise bill, giving Eisenhower most of what he sought, would extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for three years. It would allow him to cut tariffs up to 15 per cent — 5 per cent each year.

It also would let him slice to 50 per cent of value any import duty now above that rate. Such reductions would be in return for like concessions from other nations.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the tariff-writing House Ways and Means Committee and Rep. Mills of Arkansas, a senior committee Democrat, both prepared speeches saying they reluctantly" were going along with the compromise.

They objected to Senate-written amendments aimed at giving added safeguards to American producers who fear competition from cheaper foreign products.

Cooper and Mills centered their criticism on Senate amendments that would:

1. Give the President new power to impose higher tariffs or quotas when he finds that import "threatens to impair the national security."

2. Stiffen the "escape clause" procedure under which an industry can ask the Tariff Commission to recommend withdrawal or modification of a trade agreement on grounds the duty reduction involved has caused it "substantial"

Okay Pay Boost for One Million Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—An across-the-board pay increase of 7½ per cent for the government's million civil service workers was approved today by the House Civil Service Committee.

The committee action came after a proposed 8 per cent pay raise was turned down by what members reported was a tie vote.

The 7½ per cent increase, approved by a 16-4 vote, still faces a fight on the floor of the House where Rep. Moss (D-Calif) served notice an attempt will be made to boost it to the 8 per cent figure.

* * *

The committee still must work out additional provisions, including a retroactivity date and extension of the raise to employes of the legislative and judicial branches. They will be decided tomorrow.

Congress previously had voted 500,000 postal workers an average 8 per cent pay boost, retroactive to March 1.

A seventh, piloted by Eleanor Davis, of Arlington, Va., returned to Key West after the takeoff for Havana yesterday.

Miss Trimble's copilot was Joan Rhubec, Cleveland, Ohio.

The next five finishers, in the order of their standing, were Frances Bera, Los Angeles; Ruth Thomas, Knoxville, Tenn.; Laurien Griffin, Merriam, Kan.; Louise Smith, High Point, N.C.; and Barbara Jenison, Paris, Ill.

No time was announced for any contestant.

The race is sponsored by the 99'ers, an organization of women flying enthusiasts.

Landslide Vote Approves $5,500,000 for Schools

BIRMINGHAM — Property owners yesterday approved a $5,500,000 bond issue to finance a school expansion program in the Birmingham School District.

The vote in favor of the proposal was 1,823 to 365. It boosted to more than $15,000,000 the amount the district has approved in school construction bond issues since 1948.

The latest proposal will provide funds for 82 new classrooms, construction of swimming pools at Birmingham High and Derby Junior High and modernization of facilities at Adams, Barnum, Pierce, Quarton, Bloomfield Village and Walnut Lake Schools.

Most of the 82 new classrooms—the number that will be needed by 1957—will be contained in five new elementary schools.

Tentative plans of the school board call for locating one of the schools in the northeast corner of the district, one in the southeast corner, another at Lahser and 14 Mile Rd., one near Walnut Lake and the fifth at the northeast corner of the high school property.

Voters also filled two vacancies on the school board. Incumbent Amos F. Gregory, 1216 Dorchester, was re-elected by a vote of 1,619. Mrs. Peter B. Loomis, 1648 Dorchester, a former board member, was elected with 1,755 votes. Each was elected to a four-year term.

At Bloomfield Hills, Karl Scott and Robert Hoffman were the only candidates for two vacancies on the Hills' Board of Education

Plan Aid for Kin of Slain Officers

JACKSON (AP) — New security for families of officers injured or killed in line of duty is assured in a bill ready for his signature, Gov. Williams told the Fraternal Order of Police yesterday.

Under the measure, an officer disabled while performing his official duties is "eligible to receive state compensation to supplement whatever compensation his department provides up to $5,000," Williams said.

Previously such compensation was provided by the state only if the disability or death occurred while the officer was enforcing the law outside his own local area.

Under the new act, the governor said, "Every officer, whether state trooper or sheriff's deputy, or city policeman, is protected no matter where the crime is committed. His family is at least assured of some degree of security."

LOOK, NO WINGS — Charles Pritchard, assistant railroad gang foreman, makes one of eight unsuccessful attempts to get his unconventional plane into the air at Emporia, Va. The ship features short, stubby fins instead of wings, and Pritchard, who has no formal training in aerodynamics, says he'll make "repairs" and try again.

Juvenile Home Riot Laid to Crowding

DETROIT (AP)—Probate Judge Nathan J. Kaufman said today a minor disturbance yesterday at Detroit's Juvenile Detention Home was a sympton of serious and basic trouble.

Fourteen juvenile inmates became involved after two boys, one 13 and one 14, got into a fight in the mess hall. Tables were overturned and a bench broken. Twelve policemen quelled the distrubance and no one suffered more than minor hurts.

Judge Kaufman said trouble had been expected for some time because of inability to send more seriously disturbed inmates to special institutions to which they had been ordered committed.

"We have been releasing many of the more minor cases in order to keep the total population down," Kaufman said. "As a result, there is a higher average than normal of serious cases."

* * *

She received her bachelor's degree in education yesterday at Northwestern's commencement.

In the audience were her husband, vice president of the Grain Processing Corp. in Muscatine, and six of their youngsters: Linda, 13; Judy, 11, Terry, 10, Tommy, 7, Susan 5, and Sarah, 3.

The other child, Cathy, 2, stayed at home.

Mrs. Kautz, 37, now plans to remain a housewife. She said she hopes her achievement will be a "stimulus" to the scholarship of her children.

Pleads Not Guilty to Forging Checks

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Mrs. Wilma Plichta, 33 pleaded innocent in municipal court yesterday to a charge of forgery in the embezzlement of $33,489 from the National Sanitation Foundation. She is employed as a secretary in the foundation's office.

Mrs. Plichta was released under $4,000 bond pending an examining trial Thursday.

Police said Mrs. Plichta, who was arrested yesterday, told them she wrote foundation checks to obtain money to pay a blackmailer who has been hounding her since 1949. Police said they have not found the blackmailer.

The National Sanitation Foundation, which has offices at the University of Michigan, is financed by private industry to do research into sanitation.

Diem Shelves Plan for Talks

Viet Nam Premier Will Send Envoys to Meet Western Leaders

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem was reported today to have shelved his idea of a Saigon conference with the Western Big Three on major problems facing South Viet Nam.

Reliable sources said instead the Premier would send trusted advisers to Paris, London and Washington for bilaterial talks on such questions as the unification elections due next year, withdrawal of the French expeditionary corps and ways to counter the Communist Vietminh government in North Viet Nam.

* * *

Diem proposed May 21 that the Big Three foreign ministers come to South Viet Nam. Already facing a summer crowded with international conferences, they indicated they would have to be represented by their ambassadors to Saigon.

It was believed here the chief spokesmen for Diem in the talks abroad would be his brother and No. 1 confidant Ngo Dinh Nhu, and Nguyen Huu Chau, another close asociate. Nhu leaves Saigon tonight for Europe and ultimately Washington. Chau is already in Paris for conferences with top French officials.

Balloting Light in 13 Area School Elections

Poole Wins by Big Margin in Waterford District Race

Light balloting was the general rule in school district elections held in 13 areas yesterday.

Cold breezes and a generally gloomy day did not lengthen lines at the polls, and some areas reported the smallest turnout in several years.

Waterford Township

In one of the area's lightest ballotings, Frederick J. Poole won the single three-year term by a margin of almost two-to-one over James Donaldson Jr., incumbent.

Poole tallied 287 votes, and Donaldson 136. Seven votes were cast for John W. Bell, who withdrew from the race because he is moving outside the school district.

Poole led in all five precincts.

Rochester

One incumbent was returned to office, but another was bumped from his board post as six candidates scrambled for two three-year terms on the Rochester board of education.

Incumbent A. R. Musson retained his position, but Leonard J. Harding, a board member for six years and currently president lost to Henry L. Purdy.

Musson rolled up 292 votes, and Purdy followed with 265. Next in the running were William I. McClelland, 218; Harding, 210; Walter T. DeBaene, 194; George R. Madden, 66.

West Bloomfield

By more than a 3-1 margin, West Bloomfield voters approved changing the use of 3.5 tax mills they voted last year. The millage was formerly for the building and equipment fund of the new high school, but will now be used for the general operating fund.

Length of the taxing was increased from three to five years. The voting was 534 yes, and 150 no.

Incumbents Richard H. McClurg and John C. Hall were returned to office with comfortable 2-1 margins. They polled 465 and 458, respectively, compared to 225 for Sam G. Warwick, and Katherine M. Baker, 220.

Walled Lake

Placing the teachers under the state teacher tenure act was approved at the polls yesterday by a wide majority. The act, which governs the hiring, work conditions and firing of teachers, was approved 158 to 68.

Incumbent board president Walter Horstman was unopposed in seeking another term. He received 206 votes.

Milford

In an advisory ballot on the name of the new high school, voters in the 100 square mile Huron Valley school district favored retaining the "Milford High" name, 185 to 129, over those favoring "Huron Valley High School."

Board members Henry Longfield and J. William Aspinall were unopposed, and polled 259 and 247. There were 35 write-in votes for other residents.

The school board has called a special meeting for June 23 to study the results of the advisory ballot on the high school name. MORE

Avondale

The board of education received approval by the voters yesterday to sell a 26 acre portion of the 80 acre former Fisher farm it will not be using in future building plans.

Incumbents Armand Farrand and Edward Turner were placed back in office, with votes of 76 and 83. Candidate Herman Lamb was unsuccessful in seeking to oust either of them, polling 60 votes.

Troy Township

With four candidates after two open spots on the school board, Arthur Lovejoy and George Baril won the seats. Lovejoy netted 148 votes, and Baril 128, with Dorothy Reed getting 97 and Lloyd Stage 80.

Holly

White Lake resident Clare Voorheis was named to another three year term. Unopposed, he received 42 of the 43 votes cast.

Southfield

Incumbent Mark Rehbine led the slate in the Southfield District, with 407 votes. It guaranteed him a place on the board, along with Ernst Coverdill, who had 387. Stanley Veighey had 142 votes, and Elizabeth Molnar had 107.

Clarenceville

Fred Bailey defeated Edwin L. Johnson for the single post open on the board, by a 133-62 measure.

South Lyon

Newcomer Robert Eckert dropped incumbent O. R. McGary from the board yesterday, Eckert and incumbent Robert F. McCrory were elected, 104 and 106, with David G. Taylor polling 82, McGary 98 and Sam Bailo, 50.

Voters approved the school board's leasing property for gas or oil drilling, 123 to 98.

Farmington

A 2.5 mill tax to create a sinking fund for financing the purchase of a school site was approved, 88 to 60.

Elizabeth G. Downing and Douglas P. Hammial were unopposed in returning to office. They had 138 and 133 votes, respectively.

Romeo

Philip A. Berthiaume handily defeated Mrs. David Pettibone at the ballot boxes yesterday, 270 to 155 in a very light vote.

The 150 spectators heard attorney Harry H. Young's plea to have all charges against the pair dismissed by the township three-member civil service board.

The dismissal of the officers allegedly was the result of their publically criticizing the township fire department for not using the township ambulance to carry a Madison Heights woman to the hospital.

The hearing was continued until July 1.

Flexible Props. on Wheat Hit

Low Prices Scored; 100 Per Cent Parity Receives Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for wheat growers today told senators a flexible price support system is not the answer to the wheat problem.

Kenneth Kendrick of Stretford, Tex., president of the National Association of Wheat Growers, said lower prices will not reduce production and will not increase consumption.

He supported proposals for a two price system now under study by the Senate Agriculture Subcommittee. This provides for 100 per cent of parity price supports for wheat used for human consumption in this country and a lower price for other wheat sold here or for export.

Lowering the present price support for wheat of 82½ per cent of parity to 75 per cent is not the answer, Kendrick said.

"The theory of flexibility no doubt is sound when applied to some crops and some areas, particularly those for shich price has a definite influence on production and consumption," he said.

"Such is not the case for wheat as lower prices will not reduce production in the commercial areas where most of the wheat is produced and certainly would not increase consumption."

'Couriers' to Operate in Romeo CD Alert

ROMEO — A "courier service" has been organized under the direction of Communications Chief Louis V. Errellen to function during the all-out village civil defense alert set for tomororw night.

Acting as couriers are 18 Boy Scout and Explorer Scout volunteers. They will be used when there is no other form of communication available.

At a briefing held last night in the fire hall, defense chief Maurice Foltz stressed the need for this branch of the civil defense program.

He stated that often Communications is the first facility lost in case of disaster, natural, or manmade.

Foltz explained to Volunteers that Wednesday night's alert is scheduled to train civil defense personnel as well as the local citizenry.

The alert is set for 7:30 p.m., when a steady tone on the fire whistle will be sounded. Fifteen or 20 minutes later a simulated disaster will be staged somewhere within the village limits.

The town has been divided into four areas, with district headquarters set up in each sector.

As soon as the location of the "disaster" is determined, all district and block wardens and alerted volunteers will be called, either through two-way radio or by courier.

No all clear signal will be sounded in this first all-out test. Personnel will be dispersed when their duties in the disaster area are completed.

UAW-CIO Makes Great Strides in Settlement

Discounting local and unauthorized wildcat strikes, industrial peace has settled over General Motors.

Final evaluation of the terms may require the passage of time, but some features seem to stand out.

★ ★ ★

Certainly Walter Reuther has emerged with a big bite of cake. He didn't come up with his guaranteed annual wage, but he did take a notable stride in that direction. The union should be very happy with the settlement which he won for his men.

General Motors and the union were practically committed to an acceptance of the Ford contract in substance. The union could not demand greater things from GM than it did from Ford. Conversely, General Motors could not expect preferential treatment from the union.

The new agreement does not contain a "guaranteed annual wage." Walter Reuther started out with this phrase etched on his banner, and some are determined to read it into everything that has been done. Actually it's a 26 week supplemental payment running between sixty and sixty-five per cent including state unemployment compensation. Liability ceases with the exhaustion of a fund which GM officials estimate will exceed a hundred million dollars.

★ ★ ★

All commerce and all unions in America have been watching these negotiations closely. They were a national topic of conversation. The highest employment of all times and a solid era of nation wide prosperity really hung in the balance. Were these gigantic automotive plants to close, America would be limping in short order.

The green light flashes.

The track ahead is clear.

During the first half of 1955, in spite of increasing business, living costs held level. We have had no inflation. The Press believes the union has made notable progress. It believes GM and Ford management are facing a challenge. But it believes they have managerial capacity to resolve the situation as it unfolds. The cost of a strike would have been tremendous to both sides and to the whole general economy. The price of peace may be great but the future will probably prove it was worth it.

U. S. Expects Adenauer Will Stay Loyal to West

Interest in West German Chancellor Adenauer's visit to Washington is heightened by the fact that he has been invited to visit Moscow.

The manner and timing of the Kremlin's bid at first seemed suprising. Actually, however, such strategy not only had been forecast by some observers, but is a logical development of Russian policy. No one ever should forget that the paramount objective of that policy is to detach our Allies one by one.

Happily there are no signs that it is succeeding. In fact such developments as the final ratifications of German rearmament, the Austrian peace treaty and the fiasco of the Russians' visit to Yugoslavia indicate just the opposite. But the invitation to Chancellor Adenauer emphasizes the fact that the Kremlin still is pushing its policy.

So far the Bonn government has done no more than formally acknowledge receipt of the Russian invitation. It is expected, however, that the Chancellor will make the trip after the top level Big Four conference at Geneva in July.

That he will be under heavy pressure at Moscow there can be no doubt. Obviously the Russians are in a position to offer some tempting concessions in the matters of reunification, territory and release of prisoners, and will make the most of it.

Nonetheless Adenauer is expected to remain a loyal ally of the West. President Eisenhower holds this view and has said he trusts the Cancellor completely to stand by his friends. Certainly the President is fully capable of assaying the situation accurately.

Billy Admits His Latest Will Be Truly Colossal

Billy Rose is out again.

He heads up the operating company that will run a new combined world's fair and merchandise mart in what will be the world's biggest building atop the Pennsylvania Railroad Station in mid-New York.

★ ★ ★

Billy is an ideal man for this job. He is a promoter and a producer. He has won top rating in many different fields; such divergent ones for example as the theater, stenography, restaurants and newspaper writing.

★ ★ ★

The building alone will cost one hundred million dollars, according to Billy Rose. It will contain some seventy million cubic feet more than the Pentagon Building, and some three times the space in the Empire State Building. Even modest Billy, long trained in the art of understatement, admits it's colossal.

Element of Surprise

David Lawrence Says:

Trojan Horse Treachery Holds a Moral for Allies

WASHINGTON — Surveying the many puzzling developments in the world situation today — the moves by the Soviets looking toward disarmament and the coming four-power conference "at the summit"—this is the time to tell over again the legend of ancient Troy.

* * *

History relates that they once had a "cold war" between the Greeks and the Trojans. At least there had been no fighting for ten years. Then all of a sudden the Greeks withdrew their army and their fleet and pretended to be abandoning the siege of Troy.

The Greeks had built a large wooden horse which they brought to the gates of Troy. Of course, it excited great curiosity. It was described by the Greeks as a "peace offering."

The gullible Trojans finally were persuaded that peaceful coexistence was possible, and they let the horse be drawn inside their wall. Then during the night when the Trojans were asleep the Greek troops who had been concealed inside the horse stole out, opened the city gates to the Greek army which rushed into Troy. They slaughtered the surprised Trojans, who were easily conquered.

TROOP WITHDRAWAL

Today the big move is on to get the troops of the United States to withdraw from Europe under the pretense that the Soviet armies will also be withdrawn from the occupied areas. The Red armies can move back just a few hundred miles and be outside of every satellite state.

* * *

But once American divisions have been withdrawn 3,000 miles away to the United States, and the Western countries have agreed to a disarmament plan, the Soviets can come back quickly from their hiding places into the middle of Europe and conquer.

The fact is there is no sure way to enforce any disarmament plan. In the period immediately after World War I, Germany was disarmed by a written treaty.

GOOD FAITH LACKING

No plan that offers to reduce armament on both sides today is worth the paper it is written on because there is no way to guarantee the good faith of the rulers in the Kremlin.

* * *

The latest Russian plan to be sure concedes that huge centers of military concentration in their area will be open to international inspection. But this is only a ruse to conceal by other means the manner of distributing troops and weapons.

Military men of the West have examined the latest Russian porposals and find them deceptive. Alongside the plan for disarmament, moreover, the Russians are preparing a political disarmament scheme.

They have proposed a "neutral" belt across eastern Europe so that Germany and Austria and the satellite states, ranging from the Mediterranean to the Baltic, would be politically neutral.

LOCAL ARMAMENT

This means that if the smaller countries raise armies it must be done on a local basis without any integration with the western defense and only for internal police purposes.

The Western Allies for the moment are confronted with the political strategy of the Soviet. The four-power conference idea is but one of many aspects of the Russian peace offensive. Public opinion in the Western countries is so determined to have peace that widespread support has been given to the four-power conference theme and related proposals. It is argued that the talks will ease tension and bring forth some plan to deal with Russian aggressors.

* * *

But no war is needed to establish superiority, because the Russians today are weak both from a military and an economic standpoint. Naturally, they want to catch up industrially, so they are seeking more trade with the West, especially in strategic foods.

BREATHING SPELL

They are anxious to get inside the Western wall by peace talks so that at the end of a few years of a so-called breathing spell, the West will be standing still in the armament race while the Russians will have closed the gap and placed themselves in a position to resume at any time their aggression, especially in Europe.

To disarm the West militarily and politically, the Soviets are planning to offer what will look like concessions. Military men everywhere on the Western side are disturbed. The policy-making civilians are cautious, but public opinion is being crystallized in favor of more and more concessions without any corresponding evidence of good faith.

There is only one way the world can be safe for democracy—and that is by getting rid of autocratic and dictatorial governments. This can be done by holding firm on the present front line and encouraging the oppressed peoples, including the Russian people, to overthrow the rulers who menace the peace of the world. Disarmament, therefore, is a dangerous game, and the legend of Troy applies more today than it has at any time since ancient days.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Students Organize a 'Compliment Club,' Write Essays on How It Benefits Them

Sister Benita decided to enroll all of her pupils in the "Compliment Club" project. Notice the interesting results. When you pay a compliment, you are simply putting Christ's Golden Rule into effective action, so get your Sunday school class or office co-workers to join at once.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-356: Sister M. Benita, O.S.B., launched the "Compliment Club" among her students at St. Marys Parochial School at St. Marys, Pa.

Her pupils faithfully followed the rules and paid three honest compliments per day for 30 consecutive days.

Then they wrote a little essay on the changes they had noted in their own personalities, as well as in the new friends which resulted.

When I received the neatly written reports from the entire class, I knew that some thoughtful teacher must have been the psychological "sparkplug" for this project.

* * *

I signed a flock of diplomas for the class, for everybody who fulfills the 30-day requirement of 3 compliments per day, is then eligible for membership.

"Dr. Crane, you certainly are doing a noble work," Sister Benita said, "in trying to get people to look for the good in their neighbors.

"My new class is also trying to acquire certificates in the 'Compliment Club,' and they are very enthusiastic about it.

"May God bless you and your noble work."

SPREAD JOY

It was very gracious of Sister Benita to write me such a nice letter, but she deserves a sincere compliment herself for thus encouraging her students to take Christ's positive outlook.

When Jesus gave us the Golden Rule, he phrased it in a positive way. He said: "Do unto others what you'd have them do unto you."

Confucius, who was born over 500 years before Christ, had uttered a somewhat similar bit of advice, but Confucius stated it in the negative.

* * *

"That which you would not have others do unto you, do not do unto them," was the way Confucius put it.

So the admonition of Confucius did not catch fire with human beings as did Christ's positive utterance.

Moses, too, stressed the negative viewpoint when he gave us the various Commandments, such as "Thou shalt not steal; Thou shalt not kill; Thou shalt not bear false witness; Thou shalt not commit adultery, etc."

In contrast, Christ gave us positive commands, such as 'Feed the hungry; Heal the sick; Give drink to the thirsty; Go into all the world and preach."

SOUL TONICS

Your soul needs a tonic just as much as your body. So indulge in the positive emotional calisthenics every day of looking for good things in your neighbors, instead of indulging in mean, nasty bits of gossip.

Then resolutely phrase a compliment for your neighbor. And if you are timid, rehearse your proposed compliment the night before so you will be able to utter it smoothly.

And if you dislike somebody or have an enemy, the best way to destroy that enemy, said Abraham Lincoln, is to make him your friend.

Grit your teeth and force yourself to pay an honest compliment to your former foe. You can do so sincerely, for nobody is totally without merits.

FORGET PREJUDICE

Divorce yourself from your former bias or prejudice; then you will find something worthy of praising. Despite the universal tendency to dislike saying anything good about our foes, clench your teeth and utter your compliment, anyway.

* * *

Soon your enemy will think you have good judgement and begin to offer you a return compliment.

"You cannot think ill of anybody who has shown that he thinks well of you," runs an axiom of psychology, so your former foe will begin to like you.

Send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Nelse Knudsen Backs Judge Finnegan's Demand for Change in Bonding Methods

Letters will be condensed when necessary, address and telephone number of writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

I think Judge Finnegan made a fine suggestion and I endorse his contention that something should be done to end the present method of handling bonds at the Oakland County Jail.

Everyone should be placed on the same basis in this regard. Anyone who is arrested for a minor offense should have an opportunity to post a modest bond guaranteeing his appearance in court.

In many states the police or sheriff's officer who is in charge of the desk when a prisoner is brought in has the authority to issue such a bond, and the amount of the bond required for each offense is specified, so there is no discrimination or favoritism.

The arrested person is permitted to telephone a friend or relative who comes in and posts the cash amount or signs the bond guaranteeing to pay if the person does not appear in court. Needless to say, this arrangement does not apply to major crimes.

This arrangement eliminates the necessity for professional bondsmen and puts everyone on the same basis. A change in the present setup here is long overdue, but some change in the laws may be needed.

'Puzzle Fan' Says Gripers Are Mostly Sour Grapes

I'm getting tired of hearing people suggest that the Bonanzagram puzzle may be crooked. Just because no one has found all the correct answers is no reason to go blaming it on someone else.

After all, what would the paper have to gain by running a crooked puzzle. They don't gain anything by having no winners.

Sounds to me like the ones who are doing all the complaining are just sour grapes.

Mama Sells 'That Old Barn' After 34 Years, 5 Children

KANSAS CITY (AP)— Mama has sold "that old barn" at last.

"That old barn" is what she calls the big old-fashioned 10-room white house in which she has lived for more than 34 years. During that time Mama raised five children, and saw most of them fly away, one by one.

But always they have come back to the old white house. It has remained the family center.

Mama's feud with the house began the day she moved in. She threatened to move right out, and she's been threatening to do so every year since

"Who wants to rattle around in an old barn like this?" she has said a thousand times. "It's just too much trouble to keep up.

"I'll sell it and move into a one-room apartment with a hotplate—and be perfectly happy."

At other times Mama has decided to turn the house into a duplex and rent out the second floor. She never quite got around to it.

She never has liked the idea of having strangers around since, years back during hard times, she briefly rented two rooms to a couple Dad knew. Dad did know some odd people. In this case the husband, a robust fellow in a 10-gallon hat, turned out to be a snake oil salesman, and Mama learned to her horror he was keeping jars of embalmed rattlesnakes in his quarters. The couple moved out very soon after that.

* * *

In recent years my sister, Dolores, her husband, Don Newton, and their two children have shared the old home with Mama. But this spring they bought a newer house out south and asked Mama to come with them.

So, after all her long years of quarreling with "that old barn," she had to make up her mind whether to stay on in it, rent it, or dispose of it. Mama decided to make a clean break with the past. She put the old house on the market. She was startled—perhaps a little dismayed—at the speed with which it was sold. A young veteran bought it.

Before turning it over to him, Mama and I went back to the house to clean out some boxes of boyhood belongings of mine that had lain mouldering in the basement for 20 to 30 years.

* * *

Mama, who likes to sit in the cool basement on hot summer days, rested on a chair while I sifted through the boxes, re-living my childhood as I did so.

"Why don't you throw away all that old junk?" she asked. "You always were like a crow, collecting everything you saw."

To keep her from getting restive, I let her read some of my old love letters, and she settled back, contented. Mama always did enjoy reading her children's love letters.

I asked Mama if she remembered the time when Dad, who was a bit farm crazy, bought a calf and brought it home. Mama had been very angry at first, but she had been born on a farm in Ireland herself, and she fell in love with the calf, named it "Sugar" and weaned it herself there in the basement. After Dad moved it out to a farm, she visited it regularly for years.

* * *

"Poor Sugar," said Mama, laughing and sighing. "She must be dead now. I haven't thought of her in a long time."

When we went back upstairs, Mama paused in the empty living room—the room from which Dad was buried more than 17 years ago—and said reflectively:

"Well, there's been a lot of living here."

We stepped out on the porch. An elm tree in the front yard, as slender as Mama had been when we first moved in, had grown so stout you couldn't put both arms around it. So had Mama.

She turned the key in the lock, and it made a lonely sound. We got in the car and drove away, and Mama never looked back.

* * *

"I don't see any reason to feel sentimental about that old barn," she said firmly. "I'm glad to leave it at last."

Perhaps she really is. But nobody in the family really believes it. You can't feud with something for 34 years—and not fall in love with it.

Calcium Shortage in Diet May Result in Pyorrhea

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The preceding pieces about pyorrhea gave (1) a definition of pyorrhea by a recognized dental authority: "A group of complex pathological manifestations which arise primarily from a functional atrophy of the alveolar process."

* * *

(2) My own definition "Atrophy of the alveolar process means the part of the jawbone containing the tooth sockets wastes away."

(3) The suggestion: the need for an adequate daily intake of vitamins A, B, C and D; the periodic application of a dilute Talbot's solution under the dentist's supervision; and the continuing cooperation of physician and dentist in the care of the patient.

(4) The opinion of a reformed horse-and-buggy doctor who admits he is certainly no authority, that once atrophy or physical degeneration of the alveolar process, jaw bone, teeth and gums has advanced far enough to be called pyorrhea, it's a little late, though not impossible, to retard, arrest, or even reverse the process.

Reverse degeneration and you have regeneration.

TICKLISH SITUATION

Now we have reached a ticklish situation and I've a good mind to drop the whole business right here and go over bowling. I'm afraid that (a) casual readers won't understand we're talking about nutrition and not medicine or dentistry; (b) an essential paragraph or two may be deleted to make this piece fit the available space; (c) medical and dental critics, who are legion, will pounce on some statement which, quoted out of context, will make what purports to be Brady's advice seem pretty silly.

If you have little lesson No. 16, the 7 Keys to Vite, you'll find in it an outine of the basic health diet, a model or pattern on which to build your own everyday diet.

As it stands it is a corrective, protective, regeneration, rejuvenation, or reduction diet. If you haven't the "7 Keys" you had better send me 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for it, whether you are particularly interested in pyorrhea or not.

If you are interested in pyorrhea, it can do you no harm to study also Little Lesson No. 1, Save Your Teeth, for which inclose 25 cents in addition.

The diet as is includes not less than four glasses (a quart) of milk daily. That alone would yield the optimal nutritional requirement of calcium for a growing child or an athletic adult, plus at least part of the vitamin D (in milk fat) which is essential for metabolism and utilization of calcum.

SUN SUPPLIES REST

Exposure of naked skin to sunshine or skyshine (daylight) would manufacture the remainder of the vitamin D requirement.

* * *

To the best of my knowledge, which isn't great, and I'll be happy to hear from any one who knows better, shortage of calcium in the diet of most Americans, from early childhood to the present moment, is a common contributing factor of the physical degeneration (atrophy) of jaw structures known as pyorrhea alveolaris.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Photographer With a Mission

'Family of Man' Crowns 10 Years of Labor

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Nearly 10 years ago Edward Steichen, "the world's greatest photographer" by critics' decree, abruptly stopped taking pictures and stored away his cameras.

* * *

Like a bride who wistfully folds her gown in blue tissue and gets on with the realities of marriage, Steichen had a bigger, more selfless job to do.

For the white-haired, 74-year-old perfectionist, who once spent an entire summer photographing a single cup and saucer, it was a gargantuan task, both emotionally and artistically. What he wanted to do was to collect a great exhibit of photographs from the world over—pictures that would show that no matter which of God's countries you enter, the people think and feel and act alike.

"Maybe being in two wars made me feel it so deeply. Who knows?" said Steichen today. "But I have to prove that there is an essential goodness, optimism and dignity in all men; that everyone has the same capacity for laughter and tears. 'Something,' I thought, 'has to explain man to man.' "

3 MILLION PHOTOGRAPHS

It took a long time. For nearly a year Steichen has lived, worked, suffered and been inspired in a loft, above a Manhattan night club, while he judged three-million photographs submitted for his exhibit from all over the world.

* * *

Most successful New Yorkers commute into the city from their suburban residences, but Steichen commuted out to his Connecticut home about once a week. Many nights were spent on a cot, where visions of negatives danced through his head.

The result of his work is finally being shown and has been internationally acclaimed.

The finished photographic product, the "Family of Man" exhibit, drew and held rapt more than 300,000 New Yorkers in a two week stand at the Museum of Modern Art, and the collection of 503 photographs made by 286 cameramen in 68 countries is about to be sent on a United States tour, beginning June 30 in Washington, D.C.

"And then?" says Steichen. "The world." (Because "Family of Man" was so acclaimed and beloved in New York, there have been requests from many countries for a glimpse of this photoramic one-ness of mankind. A paperbacked book, reproducing the photographs, was sold out of its 130,000 first printing in three weeks.)

RARE OPERATION — Recuperating in the Toronto, Ontario, Hospital for Sick Children is 11-month-old Mona Parson of Minto, N. B., following a rare heart operation. During the operation, performed on May 26, the lungs of a dead monkey were used to divert the flow of her blood. Mona is pictured with nurse Margaret Calbery.

BASIC EMOTIONS

"I cannot, of course, describe the pictures in my exhibit," says Steichen, "for they show all of man's basic emotions, from birth to death. But I can tell you that there are 13 separate studies of 13 different countries where the children are playing 'ring around the rosy'—and their faces are the same. Full of wonderful delight.

* * *

"There are women giving birth, and theirs are the same feelings; and men dying, and couples loving and crowds laughing. You can look at any of them, taken anywhere, and feel that you would not be a stranger with these people. . . ."

Just as Steichen finds it hard to describe his exhibit, so does a writer find it hard to describe him.

He began painting when he was young and quit to become a photographer when, "taking stock of myself, I found that as a painter I was producing a high grade wallpaper with a gold frame around it."

He was an almost immediate success in America but left, suddenly, because: "It became the proper thing to have a Steichen photograph made. I found that I was unconsciously making the kind of pictures they wanted."

HUMBLE IN FAME

He has been acclaimed for studies of dewdrops on petals, as well as for portraits of the famed people of the world and for capturing vivid instants in war. But all the time, as he has quietly accepted his laurels, he has felt they were still undeserved. In 1929, his brother-in-law, Carl Sandburg, quoted him as saying . . . "But I am only beginning. I don't expect to be any good until I am 65 or 70."

Now Steichen is of the age. When he has all his traveling exhibits of "Family of Man" on their way around the world, he will return to taking pictures, "and when I start again," he says, "it will be just like always—hook, bait and sinker. The dilettante can play around with picture taking and have a wonderful time," he sighed. "I'm one of these fellows who takes everything seriously."

General Dischargees Okayed for Bonus

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanaugh held yesterday that approximately 5,000 Michigan veterans of the Korean War who received general discharges from service are entitled to the state Korean War bonus.

Previously, the adjutant general's office had declined to pay the bonus to this classification on the grounds that the bonus law restricts it to men with honorable discharges.

Kavanagh said that it was his belief that the Legislature intended the bonus to be paid to all those who were not dishonorably discharged or who were discharged under conditions other than honorable.

Kavanagh held that a general discharge may be considered an honorable discharge for the purposes of the bonus law.

The United States has gained more than 20 million persons in the past eight years, and is running far ahead of previous population estimates.

GETS NEW POST — Malcolm MacDonald, Great Britain's top ranking diplomat in southeast Asia since 1946, has been appointed British High Commissioner in India.

U.N. Chief Sees New Obligation

Johns Hopkins Class Is Told of International Duty by Hammarskjold

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold said today there has arisen a "duty to what I shall call international service, with a claim on our lives equal to that of the duty to serve" family, neighbor, country and creed.

It was spawned, he said, by technological and economic developments which "have, as never before, brought us together as members of one human family, unified beyond race or creed on a shrinking globe, in the face of dangers of our own making."

* * *

Hammarskjold, secretary general of the United Nations, addressed more than 300 graduates of Johns Hopkins University and received the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

International service, he said, "requires that we should be true to none other than our ideals and interests—but these should be such as we can fully endorse after having opened our minds, with great honesty, to the many voices of the world."

* * *

He denied that service to an international organization splits a person's loyalties.

"The international civil servant who works for an organization with members of different ideologies and interests," he said, "remains under the obligation that applies to all of us—to be faithful to truth as he understands it. In doing so he is loyal—both in relation to the organization and to his country."

Sub-Killing Navy Ship Loaned to Japanese

BOSTON (AP)—Less than 24 hours before the Germans surrendered in World War II, the U.S. Navy destroyer escort Atherton sank the German submarine U835 off Block Island, R.I.

The Atherton thus was credited with being the last American vessel to sink a German sub.

Today, the Atherton becomes the loaned property of another former enemy, the Japanese government.

The Atherton and the USS Amick, also a Navy destroyer escort, were the latest vessels assigned to Japan under the mutual defense assistance program.

13 Are Killed by Terrorists

French Troops Ready in North Africa Area as Unrest Grows

PARIS (AP)—Ten persons were reported killed in eastern Algeria yesterday and three in Morocco as the terrorist campaign against French rule continued.

The Algerian dead included nine rebels and one French soldier, killed in three of the small skirmishes.

In Morocco, six natives also were wounded, including a 6-year-old child.

French troops in the Big Moroccan port of Casablanca stood by in their barracks as tension was reported increasing among the population due to a month-long shopkeepers' strike.

The tension was further heightened in Morocco by the search for the murderers of Jacques Lemaigre - Dubreuil, a Casablanca newspaper publisher and business magnate who had favored more self - government for the North African protectorate.

There is evidence that polo was played many centuries ago in China, Japan, Persia, and Tibet.

Worn Searchers Find Lost Youth in Better Shape

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Twelve-year-old George Arthur Marston, lost in the Mexican border badlands since Saturday, was found last night—safe and apparently sound after 52 hours without food.

In fact, rescuers reported, the lad seemed in much better shape than many of the searchers who combed the rugged desert-mountain terrain for him.

A search party found him at the base of the jagged, 5,000-foot Sierra de Juarez Mountains in Lower California.

* * *

Meantime, another group of 17 searchers got itself trapped on a ledge high above the desert floor and huddled down for the night with food and blankets dropped by a U.S. Coast Guard plane.

Sheriff's forces planned to attempt a rescue in the daylight hours.

The youngster was reunited with his father Hamilton Marston, who had been with the main body of searchers. Mrs. Marston had returned to her home in Bonita, Calif., with her three other children from the family campsite 30 miles south of the American border.

Red Plans to Appeal Again on Conviction

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Steve Nelson, Western Pennsylvania Communist leader, today prepared an appeal of a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling upholding his conviction under the federal Smith Act.

The Appellate Court for the 3rd Circuit yesterday upheld 5-2 the conviction of Nelson and four other Communist party members, ruling they "were not convicted because of (Communist) membership or the holding of party office (but) their guilt was shown to be personal and individual."

* * *

Nelson, William Albertson, Benjamin Lowell Careathers, James H. Dolsen and Irving Weissman were convicted in federal court in Pittsburgh and sentenced to five years each on charges of violating the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to teach or advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

All are free now under bail.

Singapore Taxi Drivers Strike

City Without Wheels as Cabbies Join Bus Operators in Walkout

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore's 2,000 taxicabs disappeared from the British colony's streets today as drivers joined in a Communist-backed general strike protesting the arrest of six Chinese union officials.

About 80 factories and firms were closed.

The taxi walkout left thousands stranded. All 13 bus lines were shut down Sunday when 6,000 employes walked out.

The general strike so far has only partially effective. The government estimated about 17,000 workers were idle of 70,000 ordered out by leaders of 36 unions.

* * *

The union leaders said the rest of their members would join the walkout shortly. This threat came after Singapore's Labor government turned down a union offer to call off the strike in exchange for the release of the six union officials arrested Sunday under emergency regulations.

No major violence was reported so far but authorities kept a sharp lookout for any outbreaks. Strike-sparked riots last month cost the lives of four persons, including Gene D. Symonds, an American correspondent for United Press.

* * *

Police said "intimidators" forced the taxi drivers to join the strike. Cabs did a roaring trade yesterday with the bus lines out.

Housewives jammed the stores yesterday to lay in emergency supplies when rumors spread that all store employes planned to go on strike. A smiliar rumor caused a run on filling stations.

Study Summer Shots

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has called a meeting of polio experts here Saturday to discuss whether it is safe to inoculate against the disease during its summer peak.

Safe Burglars Return, Cart Off Strongbox

DENVER (AP)—Safe burglars who missed the boat a week ago returned to the Santa Fe Finance Co. and met with success.

Clayton Sites, firm manager, said burglars entered the establishment June 5 and ruined a safe while attempting to break into it. Sites replaced the safe with a new 500-pound model Saturday.

When Sites arrived at the office yesterday he found the safe carted away. It contained only petty cash and checks.

Watch Flames in Sky, Return Home to Ruins

CORINTH, Miss. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cochran were watching a drive-in movie last night when flames shot across the sky.

For nearly half an hour they divided their attention between the screen and the fire.

Then they learned it was at their woodworking plant, the Douglas Cochran Co.

Firemen brought the blaze under control after a three-hour battle. Damages were estimated at $25,000.

No Fast Shuffles, Nationalists Warn

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A semi-official group today warned the Big Three Western Powers that Nationalist China will not recognize any decision damaging to her interests reached at the "summit" meeting with Soviet Russia.

The National Assemblymen's Assn. sent the notice to President Eisenhower, Britain Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure through the Nationalist Foreign Office.

The Nationalists include among possible decisions they won't recognize any cease-fire agreement which would involve giving up the offshore islands they hold near the Red China coast.

Arrest Couple Bent on Suicide in Italian Town

TORTONA, Italy (AP) — Gerardo Grandin, 63, and his wife Guiseppina, 61, embraced and stretched out on the railroad tracks to await death.

Villagers tried in vain to pull them aside, then called police. An officer got them off the rails with the false report, "No train today. There's a strike on."

A short time later another officer grabbed them as they were about to jump in front of a truck.

Police took the couple in custody. They said family troubles had led them to seek suicide.

DAR Concerned at Ignorance of Public Over Proper Respect for American Flag

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today is Flag Day, and the Daughters of the American Revolution are ready.

Their worry is, are you?

"I don't know why," Gertrude S. Carraway, DAR president general, said yesterday, "but people simply don't know how to show their respect for the flag. Go to any parade, and you'll see what I mean."

Miss Carraway gloomily recalled a recent meeting she attended.

* * *

"There must have been 1,000 women there," she said. "Every last one of those women were patriotic—I'm sure of that. Yet when the Marine band played 'The Star Spangled Banner,' instead of facing the flag on the other side of the room, as they should have, they all looked at the Marines in those beautiful uniforms."

Miss Carraway's point is: Since everyone wants to show respect for the flag, and since the rules are simple, why not be right?

So whenever the national anthem is played (1) stand at attention, facing the flag, and (2) place your right hand over your heart. The exception, of course, is the military man or woman in uniform, who salutes.

* * *

Okay. Is citizenship class over now, Miss Carraway?

The answer is no. This is where the trouble starts.

Miss C. says many women don't know what it means to stand at attention. "They lean this way or that," she said. "They loll."

Furthermore, since many women lug around enough bundles and baggage for a three-day primitive camping trip, they have a tough time dropping their left hands at their sides.

Miss Carraway has some firm advice on this. Put those bundles down, girls, so that the left hand is burdened with no more than a purse.

* * *

A couple of other Flag Day reminders: On a speaker's platform, the flag must be displayed either behind the speaker, or flown from a staff to his right. And don't use the flag as a table cover or for decoration. If you hanker to be patriotic there, use bunting.

Final note: The DAR is patriotic right down to its address.

For years its headquarters, in famed Constitution Hall, carried the simple address, 1720 D St., Northwest.

But during remodeling five years ago one of the daughters, Mrs. Donald Bennett Adams, had an inspiration.

* * *

Now when you drop in on the DAR you almost feel like standing at attention and putting your right hand over your heart.

For, thanks to Mrs. Adams and her great idea, above the door is the magic number:

1776.

OUR BIRD FRIENDS

The Robin

Best known and loved bird in a large part of the United States and Canada is the robin.

There probably are more robins in the country today then when Columbus discovered America. That's because they learned to get along with people and because laws were passed against shooting them and other small birds. Originally a shy forest dweller, the robin loves now to nest in dooryards in the northern and eastern portions of the country.

Although the full grown robin has a fine red breast to go with his slate grey back, young ones have spotted breasts, showing that they really belong to the thrush family.

Mount this picture on cereal box cardboard. Cut out the separate wings and Mr. Robin himself, leaving the background attached. Fold the side pieces back and the foreground frontwards to make him stand up. Slip Tab A into a slot cut on the dotted line of the robin's shoulder, and paste the tab behind the bird's head. Paste Tab B behind the head also but on the other side of the picture. When the paste is dry, spread the wings a little as in the small drawing. Now you have a robin to stand on your desk.

Anti-Decollette Drive Growing

Catholic Units Claim Support Spreading for Less-Revealing Gowns

BARTELSO, Ill., June 13 (AP)—Campaigns by two Roman Catholic groups in Illinois against such women's fashions as the strapless evening gown and the bared midriff are gaining momentum throughout the nation, their leaders reported today.

The Rev. Bernard A. Kunkel, who two years ago started one of the drives, named 'The Purity Crusade of May Immaculate,' said it's now possible for women to buy modest formals 'in a majority of the states in the nation.' The campaigns are conducted largely by mail.

* * *

Father Kunkel said he started his camaign because 'It was almost impossible to purchase formals or bridal gowns with any sort of top to them.' He is pastor of the Catholic Church in this southern Illinois town of 300.

Circulars urging school girls to write to manufacturers and dress shops to "register the demand for modest dresses" were sent to 8,000 Catholic schools in 1953 by volunteer workers here.

"The girls merely asked them to make more modest dresses with tags indicating our standards," Father Kunkel said, "and to write is if they wished to cooperate."

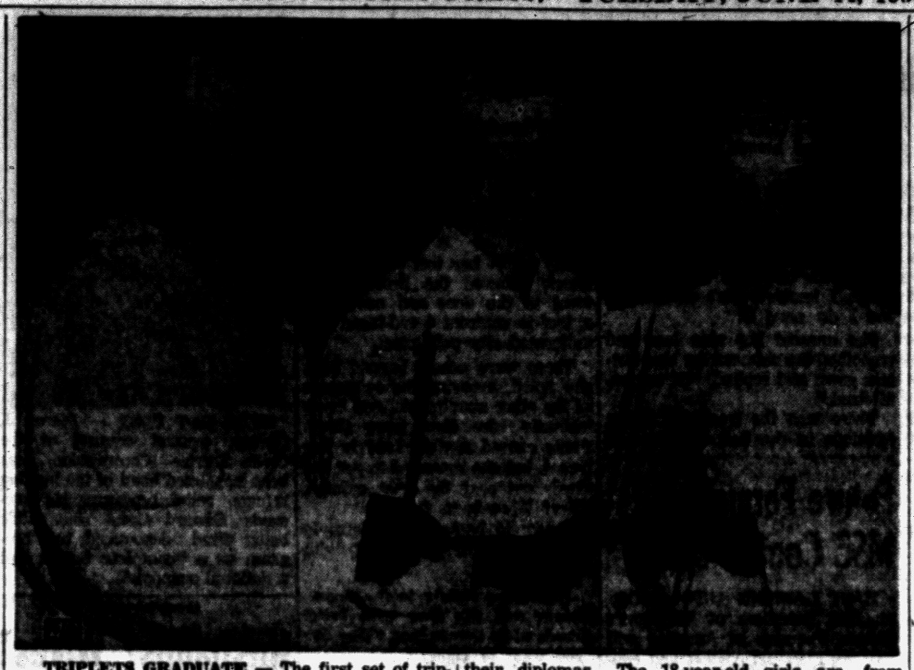

He said 'several' manufacturers and a great many stores said they wanted to meet the demand, although many others didn't reply.

* * *

Catholic women's organizations tag suitable dresses in shops where the owners consent, while several manufacturers tag formals in their factories. The drive also is catching on in Canada and Hawaii, Father Kunkel said.

How to Handle Your Money:

Margin Buying an Error for Average Investors

Following is the eighth installment of a ten-part interview with Benjamin Graham, security analyst and Columbia University professor, who answers questions on the how's why's and when's of investing your money.

Q—What is your opinion of an individual buying stocks on margin?

A—I would say the average member of the public, who does not make a business of buying and selling securities, makes an error in buying securities on margin—most of the time. It would only be under exceptional circumstances that he would be justified in doing so.

Q—Such as?

A—Such as the conviction on his part that the market level is unusually low.

Q—Should the man who has considerable money to put into investments, and who has been doing so, should he perhaps compromise at this point and continue buying more carefully?

A—No. I think if you take the man you are talking about—he's already been in the market and has a considerable stake in common stocks now—it would be sounder for him to start a selling policy at this stage. It could be on an upward scale, involving small amounts at present, or it he really feels apprehensive, he should sell larger amounts. Nobody can tell him how fast to sell.

Q—What does he do when he sells—put his money into government bonds until the market goes down?

A—I imagine that's what he ought to do. He may wait a year, decide he was wrong, and then go back in the market on a dollar-averaging basis again. At least he could say he was wrong intelligently.

Cadillac

First of Its Happy Owners!

The Cadillac you see in the picture has just started out on Mission Number One: to make its first owner and his family members of the happiest motoring fraternity in the world—for as long as they wish.

And then it will be ready for Mission Number Two: to do the same thing for its second owner. And so on, in turn, for its third owner and its fourth—and, mayhap, for an almost indefinite number of others.

The years and miles rest so lightly on a Cadillac that it can continue to serve well nigh beyond computation. We have heard of Cadillac cars which have actually approached a full million miles of service.

In fact, a Cadillac just about refuses to give up, if it is treated fairly and driven with common sense. Even after the body has ceased to exist, the heart of a Cadillac often beats on.

You can see those tough old engines and chassis everywhere. Maybe you'll see one supplying the power for a country sawmill . . . or pulling a plow . . . or serving as a truck, with an improvised body. Give it regular, decent care—and a Cadillac chassis is all but indestructible from normal usage.

Of course, as the purchaser of a new Cadillac, you would not expect to utilize more than a minor portion of this ability to serve. You would look forward to changing models from time to time, in order to enjoy the benefits of styling and engineering advancements.

But what carefree and satisfying performance this quality foretells for the period during which you would expect to keep the car! It is the world's best guarantee of the first owner's satisfaction.

All this, of course, is just one more solid reason for owning a Cadillac—in addition to such obvious reasons as beauty and luxury and pride of ownership.

Better come in today—and be the first of a Cadillac's proud and happy owners.

Death Has Three Lives---a New Michael Shayne Story by Brett Halliday

By BRETT HALLIDAY

THE STORY: Suffering from a bullet wound, Jack Bristow seeks refuge in the apartment of Lucy Hamilton, secretary and girl friend of Private Detective Michael Shayne. When he learns Shayne is expected, Bristow threatens the girl.

II

The rangy redhead was in a pleasantly relaxed mood when he appeared at the top of the stairs in front of Lucy's door. He sailed his wide-brimmed Panama over her head into the center of the rug and grinned down at her, putting one big hand at each armpit and lifting her from the floor to kiss her lips lightly.

She was flushed and confused when he set her down, trying to distinguish in her own mind between the sudden rush of passion that had drawn her briefly toward Jack Bristow a short time previously and the very real affection she felt for Shayne.

Misinterpreting her blushing confusion, Shayne slid one arm over her shoulders and turned her back into the apartment. "A person would think that was the first time I ever kissed you, Angel. You ought to be used to it by now."

"That's just it, Michael. You've been doing it for years now and I'm beginning to wonder if it means anything to you at all."

She hadn't known she was going to say that. She could have bitten off her tongue after hearing the words if that would have recalled them. Long ago, when she first entered the relationship of secretary and favorite female friend of Michael Shayne, she had sworn to herself that she would accept from him only what he freely offered of himself and would never seek anything more. She gazed up at him in stricken silence as he stopped abruptly and his arm tightened about her shoulders.

LUCY SMILES

"I don't believe you really wonder, do you, Lucy?" Michael Shayne's voice was curiously gentle. "I think you know just about how I feel."

She smiled wretchedly and nodded her brown head, eeling away from his encircling arm and avoiding his questioning eyes. "Skip it, Michael." She made her voice light with an effort. "That just slipped out. I guess I've been sitting here alone too long wondering whether you were coming tonight or not. Do you want a drink tonight, Mr. Shayne?"

* * *

He nodded. "As usual. Plenty of ice water on the side." He spoke abstractedly, continuing to study her with speculative eyes while his left hand went up mechanically to roll the lobe of his ear between thumb and forefinger.

Lucy knew that look and that gesture by heart. Just as she knew every one of Michael Shayne's looks and gestures He was troubled and thinking deeply, sorting things out in his mind with that damnable logic of his which sometimes frightened her and often infuriated her.

Lucy sighed and turned to the kitchen. Somehow, the opportunity to tell Shayne about Jack Bristow in the bedroom had vanished. Why had she made that crack about sitting there alone wondering if he were coming? And why had she, tonight of all nights, done something to force the issue between them?

Shayne was sprawled back at one end of the divan with long legs stretched out in front of him. His red hair was rumpled and his tie slightly askew, the gauntness of his features softened and lessened somewhat by the indirect light from a floor lamp and the comfortable feeling he always had when alone with Lucy.

He watched her without speaking and without moving while she leaned forward to set the tray on a low coffee table close to him and then seated herself on the other side of it.

SIPS COGNAC

He lifted the cognac glass with knobby fingers and sipped meditatively for a moment, then said: "Give me a little more time, Lucy. I know I don't deserve it, but I do need it."

She crossed her nice legs and smoothed the shimmering blue hostess gown and replied, "Of course, Michael."

There was the tramp of heavy footsteps in the hall outside, and a loud knock on her door. Shayne lifted busy red brows questioningly at her, and Lucy shrugged her shoulders to indicate she expected no visitors and had no idea who was there.

* * *

She got to her feet as a second knock followed the first swiftly, went to the door and opened it a foot to confront a red-faced and uniformed city policeman.

There were others beyond him, she noted, arousing the occupants of the other apartments, and knew instantly why they were there. Panic caused a tight knot in her throat, but she managed to get her words out past the knot calmly: "Yes? What is it, Officer?"

"Sorry to bother you, Mam. Is anyone in your apartment with you?"

She clung tightly to the doorframe and the door with both hands while demanding, "Why do you want to know?"

"We're looking for a man," the cop explained impatiently. "Traced him into this apartment house in the last hour and we've got to ask your permission to search your place for him."

"Do you suspect me of harboring a fugitive?" she asked hotly.

"No need to get nasty about it. Maybe you are at that." The bluecoated policeman pushed forward with a leer. "If I was on the lam I'd not want a nicer place to hide."

Wilson Affirms Power of Words

'Can't Stop Ideas With Bullets,' Defense Chief Tells War College

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said today money and great military strength "will not give us the peace and security that we desire if we are not successful in countering the Communist effort to capture men's minds."

Wilson advanced his idea that "you cannot stop ideas with bullets" in an address prepared for the graduating class of the National War College. The college is composed of senior officers of all services who study national policies, strategy and other related political and military programs.

* * *

Wilson said he is confident that "we can and will continue to provide for adequate forces on a qualitative as well as quantitative basis without any detriment to the stability of our economy." He said also that "we must maintain great military strength for as long as this threat" of Communist aggression remains.

"World opinion, as well as our own sincere beliefs, is important in this struggle, and it is perhaps in this area that we face one of our most difficult problems," he said. "We must compete with clever propagandists who do not hesitate to promise much in material things to so many of the people in the world who have little or nothing and who may have never known what it is to be completely free."

* * *

He declared that hope "for maintaining peace abroad and freedom at home cannot depend on arms and arms alone," adding:

"We must understand the importance of making an extra effort to get along with the other people of the free world and with their governments. We want them—even the people behind the Iron Curtain—to understand us better and to realize that our country has no ambition to dominate any additional land areas nor any desire to impose our will or our institutions upon others."

Future Farmers Set MSC Contest Dates

EAST LANSING (UP) — Outstanding members of Michigan's Future Farmers of America will hold their annual contest and educational session at Michigan State College Friday and Saturday, MSC officials said today.

About 400 high school age farmers will compete in dairy, livestock, poultry and land judging contests and also will vie for honors in farm mechanics and farm management.

The program, sponsored by MSC and the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, includes sessions with MSC staff members on the latest developments in agriculture.

U.N. Censures Egypt for Gaza Violation

GAZA, Egyptian-Held Palestine (AP) — The U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission censured Egypt last night for the 17th time since the Feb. 28 clash with Israel in the Gaza strip. In the same period the commission has found Israel guilty of 12 violations of the 1948 armistice.

* * *

Last night's decision, reached after a nine-hour session, upheld Israel's contention that the Egyptians had attacked an Israeli truck with mortars near Al Auga, about 60 miles southeast of Gaza, on May 18.

The commission also found that Egyptian troops opened fire on a team of U. N. observers which investigated the incident. The Egyptians claimed the U. N. men had not identified themselves properly.

The dragon fly's compound eye is composed of nearly 30,000 units, permitting vision in almost all directions.

GETS HOT POST — Pierce J. Gerety, general counsel of the Civil Service Commission, has been appointed head of the lagging refugee relief program. He succeeds Edward Corsi who, after being fired, denounced the program as a "complete failure and a national scandal."

Dr. A. J. Carlson and other biologists recognize, of course, that there are certain physical and mental changes associated with aging. The most important ones are—less tissue elasticity, slowing down of cell growth and reproduction, decreasing speed, strength and endurance of skeletal muscles, less cardiac reserve, decline in vision and hearing and weakening of memory.

But there is some scientific evidence for the saying: "You're as young as you feel." Dr. Carlson, for example, dispassionately estimates his own physiological age between 60 and 70 because he has followed a regimen based on his studies.

Dr. Robert Havighurst, chairman of the Committee on Human Development at the University of Chicago and a specialist on the problems and prospects of old age, says:

"Retirement is the greatest man-made problem in the lives of most of us." He added:

"Even though we may have a good pension to live on comfortably, retirement is still a problem because work is so much more than a way of earning a living."

MEANINGS OF WORK

As a result of his research into the various "meanings of work" Dr. Havighurst suggests these additional meanings:

"A source of prestige and recognition, a basis for self-respect, a place for social participation (being with others), a source of creative self expression and a way of making time pass."

H. C. Bills, vice president in charge of industrial relations at Acme Steel Company, makes this estimate of the older worker:

"We find the older worker is more stable and responsible and that his attendance record is better than the young employes.

"His production is equally good and he has less accidents. He is a safer worker."

RESERVOIR OF POWER

To these qualities, Dr. Havighurst would add loyalty, skill, experience, wisdom and a lower rate of turnover.

These older workers are a vast reservoir of potential labor. The 1950 census showed 8.2 per cent of the American population was over 65, double the proportion of over 65 persons in 1900.

* * *

In the same period, however, the number of men over 65 gainfully employed has declined from 68 per cent to 42 per cent as America shifted from a rural to an urban economy.

Today there are an estimated 50 million men and women 45 and over, and close to 15 million over 65. Over 3,000,000 men in the over 65 group are not at work. Some are physically unable to work, but Prof. Sumner Slichter of Harvard University has proposed that at least 1,500,000 of the fit be re-employed.

Many economists are on record as favoring such re-employment as America's economy continues to expand.

If there are little objective advantages to compulsory retirement at 65, how or why was the magic number picked?

BISMARCK'S IDEA

Mrs. Elizabeth Breckinridge, consultant on aging to private industry and the Illinois Public Aid Commission, says:

"The fabulous figure of 65 at which we are supposed to stop economic activity was developed by German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck in the 1880s when he was looking for something to boost his public relations program and cement his empire."

According to Mrs. Breckinridge, Bismarck's advisers invented the pension plan and picked the age 65 because "at that point very few people were alive and the program wouldn't cost much money."

Today, 75 years after the birth of the scheme by Chancellor Bismarck neither condition holds. Millions of people live past 65 and the Social Security program and pension plans cost billions of dollars.

INCONSISTENCY

Virigil Martin, vice president and general manager of Carson, Pirie, Scott and Co., Chicago department store, put the issue squarely. He points to "our present inconsistency in spending vast amounts of money and scientific ingenuity to lengthen our physical lives on the one hand and of arbitrarily cutting short our social and economic lives on the other."

* * *

More and more industry leaders are recognizing the inconsistency." Together with a new appreciation of the older worker, new programs of joint retirement planning between company and individual have developed.

They feature flexible or "gradual" retirement as opposed to compulsory retirement. Two of the most interesting are the DCM-DCF plan and the Wrigley plan.

"DCM means "Don't Come Monday." At a certain age agreed on by the company and the employer, a worker becomes eligible for the "DCM club" and doesn't come to work on Mondays. Then, a few years later, the individual is eligible for the DCF or "Don't Come Friday" club.

By this time he or she is only working three days a week in a gradual adjustment away from work and towards retirement.

The retirement program at the William Wrigley Jr. Co., makers of chewing gum, is an ingenious variation on this idea.

GRADUAL RETIREMENT

It is a program of gradual retirement for all employes from the most modest job to executive positions. Here is how it works:

At age 65, the individual is given one month leave of absence in addition to his regular paid vacation. The next year he gets two months, the next year three months and so on until he does not come into the office at all.

This plan, coupled with the company's own retirement income program and the federal Social Security benefits due the employe, results in a comfortable adjustment to retirement. Company spokesmen list these advantages:

1. The employe gets adjusted to living with more leisure each year, adapts himself to being away from the office and to a new pace in life with new activities and new interests.

2. At the same time younger men within the organization have an opportunity gradually to take on more responsibility and the company has the chance to observe how they handle it.

3. Last, but not least, the company is able to retain the skill and judgment of the older worker for several years.

There are other retirement variations — half-time work, a year's leave of absence while the worker tries out retirement to see how he likes it—all with the same feature in common: Recognition that there is no magic to the number 65 and that retirement should be gradual.

Help Child to Overcome His Fears

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Years ago when my daughter was a small girl, I read her Rudyard Kipling's story of a jungle treasure guarded by an evil White Cobra.

Not long afterwards, this improbable creature took up nightly residence in her bedroom. I could not get rid of him. I found an atlas to demonstrate the thousands of miles he'd have to travel to get to Massachusetts.

Every night, I opened bureau drawers, closets, shook out bedclothes. I hugged, I kissed, I got interminable glasses of water. I bought a nightlamp.

I got nowhere. No sooner would I reach the bottom of the stairs than the cry, "Mother!" would come — and back in despair I would go to resume the Battle of the Cobra.

One night, we won it.

TRIED NEW TACTICS

Returning to the haunted room, I lay down beside my child—and told her another Kipling story.

"Once upon a time," I said, "a little boy named Kim was traveling through the Land of Cobras with an old holy man called a lama.

"One afternoon, as the old lama felt tired, they sat down under a tree to rest. Suddenly, under the leaves of a nearby bush, Kim caught a glimpse of movement—and the coiling body of a snake.

"He cried out, 'Cobra! Run, oh, holy one!' But his lama didn't run. What he did was to stretch out his hand to the cobra and say, 'Come, lie in peace with me in the sun, little brother.' And that's just what the cobra did."

Then I said, "Let us stretch out our hands to our White Cobra, darling. He's come to us to be loved, poor lonely thing. Let's ask him to come and curl up beside us while you fall asleep."

That was the end of our Battle of the Cobra.

COMMENDS RESULTS

I have never felt apologetic to Mr. Kipling for my elaboration of his incident, as it was in the spirit of Kim's lama.

And I commend its results to other parents, baffled by the failure of reason to exterminate the lions, witches, ghosts, bogeymen and other malevolent fauna that sometimes haunt the bedtime darkness of little children.

As they are not created by reason, they do not respond to it. To deal with these evil visitors, we have to know them as symbols of the child's terror of his own "badness."

If we can convince him that they have come, not to destroy him, but to seek his kindness, we still this terror.

To do this, we have to speak their symbolic language with them. We have to accept the reality of the lion, witch or ghost, removing their threat, not by denying their existence but by teaching the child to say, "Lie down in peace with me, my sins."

Girl Graduates Will Like a Lively Party

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: As part of the graduation activities, our Women's Club is entertaining the girls of the senior class at a luncheon.

"I'm afraid girls think this sort of thing is pretty stuffy, and, though most of our plans are made I wonder if you could give me some suggestions that would make the party lively?

"Our club is quite a young group but most of us are married, and we'd like to make them feel a part of us."

Answer: You could make little boutonnieres for the girls to wear, complete with their names so they can all be addressed by name.

Make them of the simplest garden flowers—geranium blossoms, daisies, pansies, rambler roses—each one just a bit different. And let your club members wear identical flowers with their name tags. "Serve!" them on two large trays as a get-acquainted stunt.

After the dessert your club president undoubtedly will make a little speech of welcome. She could call on someone else to explain the purpose of the club and why you like to entertain the seniors. And allow the girls to speak for themselves.

A spokesman can make a gracious speech of thanks to you all. In fact, various representative girls could make brief reports on athletics, social activities, college plans, school problems, etc.

TEST YOUR WITS

Then, if there's a wit among you, make a terrific presentation of special awards to various seniors. (A private conference with one of them beforehand will help you hit the mark.)

Have toy silver trophy cups, elaborate blue ribbons, or silly prizes—offered with appropriate words of congratulation for outstanding achievements.

Some "awards" could be for flagpole sitting, diving for buried treasure, six-day bike riding, marathon dancing, raising the tallest beanstalk, sewing the longest seam—utterly ridiculous things that deserve your praises and rewards.

KEEP PARTY MOVING

Then get everybody on their feet for a scrambled personality game. Scramble the letters of famous peoples' names and write them on slips of paper—one for each guest.

Equip them all with paper and pencil and start them off trying to unscramble the names and find out who's who. Each guest obviously will have to speak with each of the others in an effort to get the longest list of correct guesses.

The winner really deserves a nice prize (but be sure a senior wins it). Such a stunt will get everybody up and stirring after all that lunch and speech-making, and should make for a very informal quarter of an hour or more.

This should take up all the time you've allotted for the party and should make an afternoon for the girls that's far from stuffy.

MRS. WALLACE MURRAY JR.

Phyllis Louise Fisler became the bride of Wallace R. Murray Jr., Saturday at Central Methodist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fisler of Thorpe street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Murray of Long Island, N. Y.

Intermission Cigarette Is Proper

Don't Overdo It if Wife or Date Haven't Habit

By EMILY POST

A man asks the following question: "When going to the theater with a woman who does not smoke, is it proper for the man with whom she is with, to go out into the lobby for a cigarette during intermission and leave her sitting alone in her seat, or must he forgo smoking unless she goes out with him?"

Answer: If she does not wish to accompany him, it would not be improper for him to leave her briefly at the end of one act, or should the play have more than three acts, he might go out for two of the three or more intermissions.

Of course, it depends somewhat upon whom he is with.

He could leave his wife more often than others, which does not mean he should leave her at each curtain-call to sit alone until the house is darkened for the curtain's rise.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How, on a plain mailing post card could we invite many, many friends to come to Mass and then in the afternoon to an 'at home' at our house, the occasion being our silver wedding anniversary.

"Will you please suggest some wording—as little to write as possible."

Answer:

Our 25th Anniversary
Mass 9 A.M. St. Mary's Church
At Home 2 to 5 o'clock
John and Mary Jones

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a wedding announcement in today's mail in which was enclosed an at home card. I am not familiar with such a card and would like to know what it means, and what I am expected to do. Am I supposed to go to see the bride?"

Answer: The at home card tells you where the young couple will live when they return from their wedding trip. You should call on the bride when she gets back.

Kathryn Elsie Ernst became the bride of Mark Lee Beltz on Saturday afternoon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ernst of Scott Lake road. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Beltz of Cottage street.

The bride's gown was of Chantilly-type lace and pleated nylon tulle, with a large taffeta bow complementing the long torso. A matching lace headpiece secured her veil of French illusion. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink roses.

Matron of honor for her sister-in-law was Mrs. Stephan Ernst Jr. Frieda Ernst, her sister, Gayle Brown and Joanne Doyle were bridesmaids. The attendants' dresses were fashioned on princess lines with empire waistlines and trimmed with French velvet bows.

A dinner at the Bader home was followed by an evening reception at the Amvets Hall on Oakland avenue. There the bride's mother greeted guests wearing navy blue marquisette with white accessories. White accessories accented the pink and white polka dot dress selected by the bridegroom's mother.

When the couple left for a motor trip through the South, the bride was wearing a black cotton suit with polka dot trim, and black and white accessories.

Homemade Rye Bread Is Delicious

Round Lake Cook Bakes Own Bread Every Week

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

She hates to cook, but she makes all her own bread! Mrs. Lee R. Lamphere does enjoy making rounded, sweet-smelling loaves for her family. They're so spoiled that they don't want any other kind of bread. We think you'll like this rye bread recipe.

Mrs. Lamphere lives on Round Lake. She's very fond of working with her lawn and her flower garden, although keeping them nice is hard with a small son and a dog to run over them. She says she's not socially minded, would rather be at home. Sewing and keeping house keep her quite contented.

RYE BREAD
By Mrs. Lee R. Lamphere

1 cup scalded milk
2 tablespoons shortening
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons dark molasses
½ cup cold water
1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
4½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ cups unsifted rye flour
1 egg white, blended with 1 tablespoon cold water

Combine scalded milk, shortening, salt and molasses. Add cold water. Soften yeast in lukewarm water and add. Blend in all-purpose flour, then add rye flour. Knead dough on a floured board until it is smooth and has a fine grain. This is very important and takes from 7-10 minutes. Place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise in a warm place until it is double in bulk. Punch down, turn over and let rise another half hour.

Turn out on a floured board, divide into 2 parts and cover closely. Let stand 15 minutes. Form into loaves and place on greased cookie sheet or in greased bread pans. Cover and let rise until double, about 1 hour. Brush with egg-white mixture. Cut through the top of the loaves diagonally three times. Bake about 45 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Makes two loaves.

Pontiac Zonta Club Meets

Mrs. S. B. Wattles shared the experiences of her recent European trip with the General Motors Girls' Club when she addressed the Zonta Club as guest speaker.

* * *

Mrs. Russell Evans opened her Lake Angelus home to the group for a dinner and business meeting.

Starting with her flight to Europe and from there by chartered buses, Mrs. Wattles told the group of her visits to such historic spots as London's fishing ports, the bulb-growing areas of Holland and the art galleries of Belgium.

A high point of her stop in Germany came when she visited Jutta Forwerk, the German girl who came to Pontiac as an interchange student under the sponsorship of the Zonta Club. Other points of interest included stops at Paris, and Switzerland.

In other business at the recent meeting the group voted to sponsor a theater party and will attend a September performance of "Sabrina Fair" at the Will-O-Way Playhouse.

Annual reports showed that the club has given a nursing scholarship, equipment for the Pontiac Day Nursery, furnishings for the YWCA, a contribution to Leader Dogs for the Blind in Rochester and to the endowment fund of the city auditorium.

Presiding over the business meeting was Mrs. Fotis Takis, new president.

'Gibson Girl' Movie Relives Past

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—On a rich, elegant movie set actress Joan Collins is portraying the fabulous Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the "Gibson Girl" of the gay '90s over whose love millionaire Harry K. Thaw shot playboy Stanford White.

Twenty miles across town from the movie fantasy at 20th Century-Fox, the real Evelyn sat quietly in her simple art studio today.

* * *

Forty-nine years ago next week—June 25, 1906—Evelyn's husband killed White in a fit of jealousy at the Madison Square Garden Supper Club, and the beautiful showgirl became a national figure.

Mrs. Thaw, now 70, moved here six years ago from New York to teach sculpting.

Instead of diamonds and velvet, she usually wears an artist's smock. In her small studio, on the edge of bustling downtown Los Angeles, are several statues of female nudes she has sculpted.

The only signs of her glittering past hang in the bedroom—drawings of her by famed Charles Dana Gibson, when she was 16 and the toast of Broadway in "Flora Dora" and "The Wild Rose."

But friendly, frank Evelyn has no yearning for her past glory.

MISCAST IN LIFE

"I wish I'd never gone into show business," she said. "I never belonged in it. I was miscast in life. I really belonged in the art world. I could risen to heights as a sculptress.

"Most of my life I've been dressed in fancy clothes like a horse. I like to wear just a thing and sandals now. I lived in highly decorated homes. I'm surfeited with that."

* * *

Evelyn at 14 became an artist's model in Philadelphia, a shocking profession then. At 16 she was a Broadway beauty and the object of rivalry between Thaw and White who was not hampered by having a wife at home.

White entertained beautiful Evelyn in lavish style. In his upstairs private room at one club was a red velvet swing. His lady love would ride, "higher and higher, until White pulled a string and my feet would crash through a huge, paper parasol."

Fox titled the movie of her life, "The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing."

TWO YEARS OF TRIAL

Evelyn married Thaw in 1905. After the shooting, she suffered two years of trials. Thaw, now dead, was sentenced to a mental hospital. Evelyn launched a nightclub career to support their son, now a jet pilot in Los Angeles.

Evelyn Nesbit has kept the beauty that brought her both fame and tragedy. She still wears her long, graying hair in that gay '90s pompadour. Her eyes are beautiful and there's scarcely a wrinkle on her face and neck.

"They had to change the movie script because of censors," she laughed.

"One thing I told them. They had Stanford serving potato salad at a party. Why, he never served anything but partridge and quail. Oh, my dear, the way we ate in those days."

HE CAN'T EVEN SHIFT FOR HIMSELF — Michael Bird swears he's not guilty of any traffic violation. The two-and-a-half-month-old boy, who lives with his parents in Salt Lake City, Utah, got a letter charging him with juvenile delinquency arising from a driving citation. The letter warned his mother, Mrs. James M. Bird, shown above, that if she didn't bring Michael into court within two weeks he would get 30 days—which is almost half his age.

Ike Will Lead Evacuation of Capital in Test Alert

By DOUGLASS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower goes back to war on a simulated basis Wednesday to lead 15,000 top-bracket government officials and employes in an unprecedented partial evacuation of the national capital.

With two hours warning at best, atom or hydrogen weapons supposedly will blast Washington and 48 other selected target cities in the nation, along with six more in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone.

Sirens shortly after noon, Eastern Daylight Time, Wednesday will signal the start of Operation Alert 1955, to test government action as well as civil defense plans around the nation.

* * *

Eisenhower, the Cabinet, military chiefs and other key leaders will scramble into cars, planes and buses and head for secret retreats to start running the government on a war crisis basis. Secretary of Defense Wilson will use a helicopter.

Then, for three days, the carefully picked core of essential people from 31 federal departments and agencies will operate from secret relocation sites spread out as far as 300 miles northwest, west and southwest of Washington. They will handle some of the normal routine of government. But mainly they will take on the burden of solving the vast maze of problems that would descend on them in the first 30 days of a nuclear war.

* * *

Some of the evacuated workers will live in hotels, motels and boarding houses for the three-day test. But 600 will occupy floorless tents without plumbing.

Congress and the courts aren't taking part. All 227,000 Washington employes of the executive branch of government, however, will evacuate their offices on a token basis.

New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and points in between will be "bombed." Cities that produce planes, munitions, cars, chemicals, power, electronics equipment, steel, aluminum, ships, machine tools and other important war goods are on the target list.

Airline Worker Has 30 Years Service

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—United Air Lines today will honor Charles T. Wrightson, reported to be the nation's oldest airline employe in years of service.

He will be given a 30-year diamond set service pin—the only one in existence — by UAL President W. A. Patterson.

Wrightson, UAL ground service manager at Fresno, started with the old Varney Air Lines which flew from Pasco, Wash., to Elko, Nev., and later was incorporated into UAL.

Widow Pistol-Whipped in Grocery Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Two disguised gunmen pistol-whipped Mrs. Anne Emmett, 69-year-old widow, and robbed her of $800 last night at her tiny neighborhood grocery store in the Mission district.

Mrs. Emmett fought so hard that she pulled the false nose off one robber. She said they hit her with a revolver and threatened to kill her when she refused to give them her money.

She was treated for lacerations of the head and hands.

Michigan Solon Waylaid by Holdup Men in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Don Hayworth (D-Mich) reported he was waylaid last night by three masked holdup men in a park bordering the Capitol. Police said the bandits got nothing since Hayworth was carrying no money. Hayworth, 57, told police the armed leader of the gang ordered him, "Get down on the grass or I'll blow your brains out." Hayworth said he complied.

Before 1930, the United States produced more raw materials than it consumed in most years, but since that time the nation has imported more of such materials than it has exported.

Tradiiton has it that red barns became an American institution when some farmers painted their barns red, their houses white and with blue skies, established a patriotic symbol.

Here's How Ford, GM Contracts Compare

DETROIT (AP)—Here is a comparison of major provisions in the CIO United Auto Workers' contracts with Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp.:

Contract Duration

Both contracts are for three years. The Ford contract expires May 31, 1958. The GM pact ends May 29, 1958.

Supplemental Pay

Both Ford and GM contracts provide cash benefits up to $25 a week for laid off workers for a maximum of 26 weeks in any year. The money will supplement state unemployment payments to give laid off workers 65 per cent of their weekly take-home pay for the first four weeks, and 60 per cent for 22 weeks.

Annual Improvement Factor

Under both contracts the annual improvement factor will be increased to 2½ per cent of a worker's base pay, or 6 cents an hour, whichever is higher, for the next three years.

Cost-of-Living Allowances

Under both contracts the cost-of-living allowance goes up or down one cent an hour every time the cost-of-living index (based on the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics consumer price index) increases or decreases half a point. The current allowance is six cents an hour.

Wage Increase for Skilled Workers

The GM contract provides an increase of eight cents an hour for all skilled trades employes. The Ford contract provides a five to 10 cent hourly increase for skilled workers.

Overtime and Premium Pay

The GM contract boosts premium pay for midnight shift workers from the current 7½ per cent of base pay to 10 per cent of base pay. Premium pay for Ford midnight shift workers remains at 7½ per cent.

The GM contract provides time and a half for Saturday work. The Ford contract provides time and a half for Saturday work only if the Saturday is the sixth day in an employes' work week.

Both contracts provide triple time for holiday work. Both contracts give workers a new paid holiday, consisting of a half day on Christmas Eve and a half day on New Year's Eve.

Union Shop

The General Motors contract provides for a full union shop instead of a modified union shop. The full union shop already is in effect at Ford.

Pensions

Both contracts provide identical increases of from $1.75 a month per year of service to $2.25 in company-paid pensions for eligible employes who have retired or who will retire.

Under both contracts employes who are totally and permanently disabled and who have 15 years of service will receive monthly pension benefits of $4.50 a month per year of service.

Under the new contracts, workers 40 years old or older with 10 years or more of service can retire at or after age 40 and receive payments based on the rate of $2.25 a month per year of service when they reach 65 years of age.

Group Insurance

General Motors will increase group life insurance coverage to amounts ranging from a minimum of $3,500 to a maximum of $7,500. Ford will increase its coverage to amounts ranging from $3,200 to $6,400.

Medical Benefits

The Ford contract alone includes the employe's wife and dependent children for in-hospital medical benefits. Both contracts provide for companies to share in the cost of hospital and surgical insurance plans.

Vacations

Both contracts increase vacations from two to 2½ weeks for 10-15 year employes.

Local Wage Adjustments

The GM pact established a 2-cent-an-hour fund to adjust wage inequities on local levels.

The Ford contract provided for such adjustments only in four plants.

City Parking Lot Taxes Among Issues Decided Upon by State

LANSING (AP) — An attorney general's opinion held today that municipal parking facilities are subject to property taxes if parts of them are leased for other purposes and if parking fees are charged.

The opinion was requested by Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit).

Another opinion held that the state cannot enforce a law requiring garbage to be cooked before it is fed to swine at Ft. Custer.

The opinion, requested by the State Department of Agriculture, said the state could not enforce the law on federal property.

A third opinion told Ottawa County that the only way it can employ independent appraisers to determine the true cash value of real estate would be to ask the Legislature to change existing law.

OUTSIDE APPRAISALS

The opinion, requested by Pros. Atty. James W. Bussard, said the State Supreme Court has held that county boards of supervisors could not hire outside appraisers.

Bussard said he was asked by his county board what method could be used to accomplish the same purpose, but the attorney general's opinion said a county could not do by subterfuge what it was forbidden to do directly.

Frank Gannett Improves After Injury to Vertebra

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Publisher Frank Gannett, 78, hospitalized since he suffered a broken vertebra in a fall April 25, today was reported sufficiently improved to leave his bed twice daily.

A Gannett Co. bulletin said he was able to walk a bit about his room, but that he could not return to his home "for at least two weeks."

Gannett, president of Gannett Newspapers, suffered "a slight cerebral hemorrhage" after his fall, doctors said.

NO, YOU DON'T—"Spike" is only two months old, but he's sure got a grip on things—1-year-old Tommy Warrick of Columbia Mo., can's go too far wrong with ideas of straying from home. Spike is part collie and part Labrador retriever. Tommy is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Warrick of Columbia.

13 Details Outlined

General Motors Contract Very Similar to One Negotiated at Ford Motor Co.

DETROIT (INS) — The General Motors contract negotiated today is similar to the United Auto Workers' pact with the Ford Motor Company and strengthens the pattern for a modified guaranteed wage in the auto industry.

The three-year contract, in addition to a jobless pay plan, contained wage, pension, insurance, holiday and vacation gains for workers. Its terms included:

1. Continuation of the cost of living formula with the annual improvement factor increased from five to six cents per hour or 2½ percent, whichever is higher.

2. Establishment of a fund of as much as two cents per hour on a total hourly payroll of employes to eliminate local wage rate inequities.

3. An increase of eight cents an hour in wages for all skilled trades employes, in addition to basic increases.

4. A 28 per cent increase in the pension plan, upping the maximum to $250 a month.

5. An increase of $500 for each employe in group life insurance coverage.

MEDICAL PLAN

6. An improved medical expense insurance program.

7. An increase in overnight differential from 7½ to 10 per cent.

8. Time-and-a-half pay for hours worked on Saturday as such.

9. Triple time for holiday work.

10. Additional holiday pay — half day each for Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

11. An increase from two to 2½ weeks of vacation for employes with 10 to 15 years service.

12. Establishment of a union shop instead of the heretofore modified union shop.

13 A supplemental unemployment plan guaranteeing from 60 to 65 per cent of the employes take home pay for as long as 26 weeks. Effective June 1, 1955, General Motors will contribute five cents per hour worked to a $150 million trust fund from which weekly benefits supplementing state unemployment benefits will be paid.

Payment of benefits will begin June 1, 1956, provided required governmental approval is obtained.

The amount and duration of the supplemental benefits will depend on the total amount in the fund, the employe's seniority and pay rate, his dependents, the amount of the state benefits, and the number of weeks he works after the plan is in effect.

Old Dem Feud Blazes in Texas

Chairman Butler Starts 6-Day 'Peace Tour' to Calm Party Members

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texas' old Democratic party feud blazed high wide and angry today as Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler started his six-day Texas "peace tour."

Butler tried to calm the snarling party members last night soon after arrival from Portland, Ore. He said he would meet Gov. Allan Shivers "or any other state officials" in any of the Texas cities on his tour.

* * *

Earlier, Shivers said Butler's rejection of a luncheon invitation for Austin June 20 was "regrettable for the future of the Democratic party."

Shivers in 1952 led the party machinery in Texas—with its votes—into the Dwight D. Eisenhower camp. Texas went Republican for the second time since the Civil War. And Texas Democrats have been divided sharply since.

* * *

Shivers last night accused the Texas Democratic Advisory Council, sponsoring Butler's trip, of trying to keep the national chairman from hearing both sides of the party fuss. Shivers, State Democratic Chairman George Sandlin and Mrs. Hilda Weinert, Texas' national committeewoman, already had said they would attend none of the Butler meetings.

* * *

Butler said at a press conference he already had talked twice with Shivers concerning the party split, once at the Democratic governor's conference in Washington and the next day at a breakfast honoring Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex). Of the June 20 luncheon he said, "It was impossible for me to accept" due to a two-week-old schedule.

* * *

Mrs. Weinert said she was staying away from the meetings because of the way Chairman James Sewell of the advisory council had handled invitations. It was she whom Speaker Rayburn had asked to help Sewell with the Butler tour. Sewell apologized after Mrs. Weinert called him "ungallant and rude" and Butler said he intended to see her while in Texas. "She's an old friend," he said.

* * *

To Sandlin's statement that the trip was sponsored by the "anti-Shivers Democratic advisory council." Butler said he didn't think that the council was "anti-Shivers" and that he would have come to Texas at the invitation of Sandlin and the pro-Shivers State Democratic Executive Committee had they invited him.

1st Red China Auto Plant Turns Out Spare Parts

HONG KONG (AP)— The official New China News Agency reported today Red China's first automobile factory at Changchun had turned out its first batch of automobile spare parts.

They were rear bumpers, front axles, steering whels and "rotating axles."

"A total of 34 factories all over China are coordinating their efforts to supply the automobile factory with necessary machines and equipment for producing automobiles," the Communist agency said.

History Cast in Rubber – Then Lost

Bandits in the wastelands of southern Arabia may be wearing as boot patches fragments of priceless records collected by an American exploratory expedition. Rubber latex squeezings of inscriptions were taken from newly discovered ruins. They were abandoned when representatives of the "American Foundation for the Study of Man" fled for their lives. Wendell Philips, leader of the expedition, recently revealed the details in his book, "Qataban and Sheba." Liquid rubber from Akron, Ohio, was spread on the inscriptions, backed up with cheesecloth. When hardened, it contained every detail of the lettering.

Ignorant government guards and supervisors saw the excitement of the scientists as they pulled the latex squeezes from temple inscriptions. They thought they were more valuable than gold. The situation grew so tense scientists had to leave.

This rubber copy mentions the purchase and dedication of the house on which it stood. Misled on value, the king of Yemen demanded duplicates of all squeezes. Later ordered all work halted.

Philips, here, holds statue fragment. He decided on run for their lives leaving $200,000 of equipment behind. They barely made it.

Park Activities in High Gear

Summer activities are swinging into high gear in the parks operated by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford now has ultra-modern bathhouse and food bar buildings at both its Kent Lake Beaches, picnic areas have been improved and enlarged, and a new free launching ramp and docking space is in use.

Only 20 miles from Pontiac, Kensington covers 4,500 rolling, wooded acres, with 1,200-acre Kent Lake as the focal point of activity.

Two park naturalists are available to conduct organized groups on nature hikes when arrangements are made in advance with the H-C-M-A Detroit office, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit. Guides to the park's labeled nature trails, a park map, a large map of all parks in the 5-county area served by the Authority, and Huron River canoeing guides are all available free on request.

Kensington is staging its second annual fishing contest, starting Saturday. Twenty-four trophies will be given to adults and youngsters for largemouth and smallmouth bass, panfish and northern pike.

The Martindale and Maple Maple Beach bathhouses on Kent Lake are open daily.

Closest Huron-Clinton installation to Pontiac is Marshbank Metropolitan Park, 110 acres fronting on Cass and Orchard Lakes. Picnic grounds are well-equipped and there are swings and slides.

The approach road has been paved cooperatively by the Huron-Clinton Authority and the Oakland County Road Commission and the entrance has been re-landscaped.

More distant but worth the trip is Metropolitan Beach, the world's largest freshwater beach, on Lake St. Clair just south and east of Mt. Clemens. The 55-acre sand beach stretches more than a mile along Lake St. Clair. Inland are a wide variety of recreation facilities.

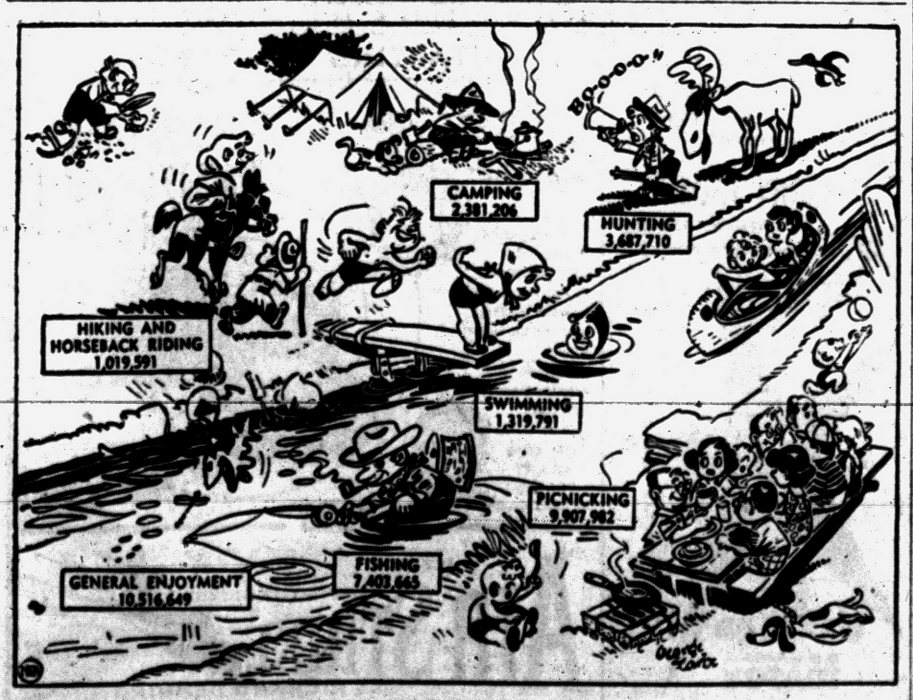

New this year are an 18-hole golf course covering 15 acres, a 14-target archery range and a terrazzo-floored roller rink with space for 1,500 skaters at one time.

The 6,000-locker bathhouse and the golf course are open now. Golf hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tournaments and clinics are planned.

The roller rink includes 17,000 square feet for one-direction skating and an inner rink has 6,500 square feet for fancy skating.

The park will begin full-scale operation, including the free, supervised kindergarten area, shuffleboard, daily water ski shows and other activities Saturday, when a summer festival will be held.

A beauty queen, Miss Metropolitan Beach, will be crowned at that time.

IT'S OUTING TIME And the Agriculture Department's Forest Service this year is expecting a record crop of guests in its 151 national forests. More than 40 million persons used the forests as recreation areas in 1954, more than double the pre-war high set in 1941. Sketch shows a breakdown of 1954 forest visits by purpose. Separate figures for canoeing, scientific study and wilderness travel are not available. The parks, which cover more than 180 million acres in Alaska and the United States, are free, except for specially equipped areas. Guests are asked only to leave places as they would like to find them—trash taken care of and equipment in good condition.

Informed sources said today Hillary cabled his acceptance to C. M. Bowden, chairman of the Ross Sea Committee organizing the expedition.

The water's fine for swimming. The fish are biting, and the mountain laurel is in fullest bloom. It's camping season, and about 4,500,000 camp-bound American kids are straining at the leash.

* * *

This week and next they'll be kissing mom and pop goodby in railroad and bus stations and on front doorsteps in every U.S. city. More than 13,000 resident and day camps, a figure that is rising faster than camping associations can keep track of it, are waiting to welcome them.

About 250,000 will go from New York City. Chicago will disgorge more than 60,000 into 315 camps in Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Minnesota and northern Illinois. The mountains of California and the Pacific Northwest will absorb hundreds of thousands from West Coast cities.

Young Davy Crocketts from well-to-do families will go to the gold coast of the juvenile world—camps where the fee runs as high as $800 to $1,000 for an eight-week season. Waifs from the slums will be scooped off their asphalt playgrounds and sent to charity camps where the fee is nothing.

TO CAMP ON SITKA

Fifteen teenagers will spend two weeks camping out on the island of Sitka off the Alaskan coast. Their fee is $600 each. One hundred diabetic children will spend two weeks at a camp in California where no children but those with diabetes are allowed. The cost: $50.

The American Camping Association says there has been a phenomenal rise in camping since 1950, especially in day camps on the outskirts of major cities.

"Practically everyone who owns a station wagon is starting a day camp these days," said an official of a Chicago department store where the sale of camping equipment has been spiralling every year.

The camping association made an effort toward a census of camps and campers in 1953 and came up with an estimate that there were 12,680 organized residents and day camps in the United States, and at least 4,000,000 persons had an organized camping experience each year.

"SCHOOL CAMPS"

The number of resident camps has increased about 10 per cent, meanwhile, while day camps have seen a 20 per cent rise.

"School camps" are gaining popularity in some parts of the country. More than 13,000 school children went camping on school time in California this spring. San Diego alone sent 4,000 sixth-graders into the country for a week of classes in natural lore, handicrafts and physical education.

* * *

A camp at Elkhart, Wis., offers visitors a combination of outdoor living and training in dramatic arts. There are camps for musicians, painters, sculptors and writers. Some camps accommodate only crippled children or the blind.

By far the greatest number of boys and girls attend organizational camps—under sponsorship of the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the YMAC and YWCA, and a multitude of other religions and civic groups.

* * *

While camping is predominantly a pastime of the younger generation, there is hope for mom and dad: Camps are springing up where no one is admitted who is under 65.

Travelers Offer Suggestions on Vacation Time Diets

By EARL WILSON

LONDON AIRPORT — I arrived here, on Conrad Hilton's flying-carpet-to-Turkey, just loaded—with facts, that is—on how to keep slim while traveling or vacationing.

★ ★ ★ ★

While we were skipping along the London runway—about 6 a.m. after a nighttime Atlantic crossing—beautiful singer Mimi Benzell was saying:

MIMI

"I use the one-bite method!"

"What's that?" I asked. Our two plane loads of Hollywood and Broadway folks cavorting to the opening of the Hilton Istanbul Hotel are being overfed aboard with such belt-busters to come as the famous "Turkish delight."

"Just remember that one bite's enough — all the other bites taste the same," Mimi mimied.

"You quit after one or two bites of each exotic dish."

"You said one!" I corrected her.

★ ★ ★ ★

"One, two, even three." Her shrug was eloquent. "Control your hunger, sneak away later and eat steak, a roast . . . or a delicious hard-boiled egg."

So you can have your fancy dishes but not really have them. After we'd left Gander in our Pan-Am Stratocruiser, Merle Oberon, a "skinny," quoted Norma Shearer's line to discourage gluttony:

"A moment on the lip—a lifetime on the hip."

Diana Lynn's escorted by Ed Pauley Jr., Nickie Hilton is Mona Freeman's guy. Sonja Henie, my seatmate, forgot something. Nothing vital—her skates.

In the London dawn we travelers-to-Turkey picked up Carol Channing, Variety Editor Abel Green—and . . . how forgetful of me . . . my wife, an East St. Louis, Omaha, Kansas City and Wilkes-Barre gal.

By the way, she's the author of that pungent thought, "The hardest part of a diet is the first day—because by the second day you're not on it any more."

★ ★ ★ ★

She joined in twitting me about my weight, knowing that I, "a fatty," love the Turkish beans we're sure to find.

"Gorge on salads and roasts . . . drink light wine instead of heavy wine . . . remember a fatty is like an 'alky'—once he's put on two or three pounds, he's off on a food binge," Dr. Leonid Kitkin had warned me in N.Y.

So, you Turkish confectioners, we're sorry to disappoint you about the "Turkish delight" and other sweets that you wish to stuff into us. Nope, you can't entice us. Who's got room from the Turkish beans?

★ ★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Joan Crawford had her $25,000 Rolls Royce shipped here from H'wood—with two chauffeurs . . . Hildegarde's being booked to sing with symphony orchestras.

Wally Cox will star in a revue at the Dunes Hotel in Las Vegas this summer . . . TV author Paddy ("Marty") Chayefsky's asking price for a movie script has zoomed to $100,000 . . . Singer Lee Kane was picked to film a new singing TV commercial.

CBS dropped its proposed Orson Bean-Mitch Miller-Jill Corey TV'er . . . James Dean, the Brando-ish movie star, long distances Marilyn Morrison (Johnnie Ray's ex) from Texas daily.

★ ★ ★ ★

The musical, "Fanny," is showing a 20G weekly profit; "South Pacific," at its height, netted only $10,500 a week . . . Lana Turner will sing on the screen for the first time in "Sea Chase" . . . The current Esquire has a photo layout of Ava Norring, the beautiful Hungarian malaprop champ.

LEE KANE

Chicago's Chez Paree gave Nat "King" Cole a Jaguar for busting its all-time record . . . "The Benny Goodman Story" (with Steve Allen) will be filmed entirely in H'wood, instead of partly in Chicago, as planned.

EARL'S PEARLS: Congressman Omar Burleson of Texas told a graduating class of the fellow who couldn't keep a job: "He spent his life looking for a boss as smart as he was."

Widmark Bucks Trend by Refusal To Incorporate

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Richard Widmark is not joining the scramble by top stars to incorporate. His reasons give some insight on the man and the financial situation in Hollywood.

Such names as Burt Lancaster, Jane Russell, Rita Hayworth, Frank Sinatra, Henry Fonda and Kirk Douglas are now corporative bodies with the intention of producing pictures for themselves. The advantage is obvious; money. If they can produce money-making films, the stars will profit more and over a longer time than if they worked on straight salary.

* * *

Widmark goes against the trend.

"Sure, I've had offers to incorporate," he said. "But I've turned them down.

"Why should I tie myself down to an office? If I had been interested in business, I would have gone into the business world instead of becoming an actor.

"Sure, I might make more money. But how much money can you use? After you've got clothes and food, a house and a car, what more do you need?"

The problem, he said, was with the tax laws. In order for the deal to be legit, a star has to make several films with his own company. The federals long ago got hep to the gimmick of making one or two films, then dissolving the corporation and collecting the loot on a capital gains basis.

"You've got to put out several pictures," Widmark explained. "And you just can't find enough good scripts.

Married Monks Cause of Hunger Strike in Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Seven Buddhist monks and three nuns fainted and were hospitalized today as their hunger strike against married monks went into its sixth day.

They are among the 200 unmarried monks and nuns who have vowed to fast "until the government takes positive action to rid the temples of all married monks or until we all die as martyrs."

* * *

The celibates are fasting at Chogesa Temple, an ancient shrine in downtown Seoul which they took by force some months ago.

The married monks still control around a thousand temples and have announced they will defy President Syngman Rhee's order that they vacate by the end of this month. They say the order violates freedom of religion. They insist they are upholding separation of church and state.

Rhee says the married monks are pro-Japanese. The unmarried monks say they are too worldly.

Tigers Open 4-Week Road Trip in New York

Kaline Holds Big Lead in Batting Derby

Young Tiger Belting Ball at .383; Kuenn's .341 Is Second

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers has opened up a commanding lead over teammate Harvey Kuenn in the American League batting race.

Only six points ahead of Kuenn a week ago, the surging Kaline bolted to a .383 average as Kuenn slumped to .341. The 20-year-old outfielder went 9-for-18 during the week to gain 11 points. Kuenn, meanwhile, collected only four hits in 24 trips and lost 25 points.

* * *

Vic Power of Kansas City remains third at .324.

Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phils continues to head the National League batting parade with a .351 mark. The blond speedster batted only 10 official times last week, making three hits. His average dipping four points.

Big Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs advanced from fourth to second with a .335 average.

Pittsburgh's Dale Long moved to third at .328.

* * *

Gus Zernial of the Kansas City A's and the New York Yanks' Mickey Mantle are tied for American League home run supremacy with 14 apiece and Kaline has batted in the most runs, 44.

Duke Snider and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn head the National League home run derby with 19 each and Snider is tops in RBI production with 60.

Pacer in 4th Straight Win at Hazel Park

DETROIT (AP) — Castle Harbor, unbeaten in three previous starts, won the two-year-old pace in 2:11 2/5 at Hazel Park last night. He paid $2.80.

Fashion Frisco finished second. Golden Blade was third.

Castle Harbor, owned by Keith Gardner of Jackson, was driven by Gene Riegle.

'Fattened' Dodgers in West

By the Associated Press

Those frolicking Brooklyn Dodgers, fattened up again on home cooking, started a second swing through the West today determined to look more like the National League leaders this trip.

It was only their fantastic get away at the start of the season that kept the Brooklyns comfortable on the last tour of the West.

The Dodgers dropped five of nine, yet never were in danger of losing their lead.

* * *

And what little was trimmed off their first-place margin, the Dodgers got back at home. They won 13 of 16 in the last Ebbets Field stand.

Brooklyn is at Cincinnati tonight, opening a 12-game road trip with a 10½-game edge over the runnerup Chicago Cubs. The Bruins are 3½ ahead of the New York Giants, who have a three-game stay in Chicago following a stinging charge of complacency by Manager Leo Durocher.

Milwaukee, falling back to .500 in a 6-4 defeat at Cincinnati in the only major league game scheduled last night, is home to Philadelphia, with Pittsburgh at St.Louis amid reports the Cardinals are up for sale.

* * *

Home runs marked the game at Cincinnati. Three were swatted by the Redlegs, including Ted Kluszewski's 18th and a three-run blast by Ray Jablonski in the fifth that put the Braves behind to stay. Ed Mathews got his 13th homer for Milwaukee, but Jackie Collum, who relieved Gerry Staley in the fourth, kept the Braves scoreless as the Redlegs replaced St.Louis in sixth place.

* * *

In the American League, the eastern teams are back home again and the picture isn't much changed from when they took off for the West two weeks ago. The New York Yankees still lead by 2½, but the Bombers now know for sure the Cleveland Indians aren't dead.

The Yanks also now are more convinced than ever that they need a No. 4 starting pitcher — and with the trading deadline looming up at midnight tomorrow.

* * *

The Clevelands, back to within a game of the second place Chicago White Sox, have an opportunity to get quick revenge on the two second-division clubs that slapped them down six-out-of-seven last week.

HE SLIPPED! — Ludwick Lightburn of British Honduras, hits the canvas after slipping in the 6th round of a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night with Cuba's Isaac Logart. The Cuban took a split 10-round decision over Lightburn, for his 2nd victory over the British Honduran fighter in 5 weeks. The crowd of 1,700 booed the decision lustily.

Detroit Faces Uphill Battle in Bid for Olympic Games

PARIS (AP)—Four Americans were learning today what it is like to fight a continent.

They're fighting all Europe to get the 1960 Games for Detroit. The International Olympic Committee, meeting here this week, will award the Games Thursday and Detroit's chances appear sim.

The big reason is that Europeans want the games for Europe.

* * *

"We keep hearing that Rome is the front-running city for the 1960 Games," said Fred Matthaei, chief of the Detroit delegation, which also includes Jack Tompkins, Doug Roby and Dick Ross.

"We also understand these people over here think Lausanne Switzerland is a strong contender," Matthaei continued. "But we have not given up by any means. We have been trying to get the Games since 1939 and we'll keep trying for a century if necessary.

"Detroit is wonderfully suited and outfitted to hold the Olympics and the United States certainly deserves the Games more than it gets them."

But there's an unwritten rule of thumb in the IOC that the summer games should be held in Europe at least two-thirds of the time. The 1956 Games are to be held in Australia and that, said several influential members of the IOC, should take care of staging them outside Europe for another 12 or 16 years.

* * *

The one big hope the Detroiters have is that Rome and Lausanne will get locked in a power fight and counteract each other. With this in mind, Matthaei and his group are wooing all the delegates they can buttonhole.

In addition to Lausanne and Detroit, Brussels, Budapest, Tokyo and Mexico City all are trying to get the summer Games, while Innsbruck, Austria; Squaw Valley, Calif.; Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany, and St.Moritz, Switzerland, all are in line for the winter Games.

Peek Leading in Trans-Miss

New Yorker Has First Day 70 in Tourney at Des Moines

DES MOINES (AP) — Walter R. Peek, a handsome 28-year-old salesman from New Rochelle, N.Y., with an option on medalist honors in the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament, hoped to complete the deal today.

The Easterner, a former Cornell University champion and the winner of the Army and Navy title back in 1945, had a two-stroke lead going into the final 18 qualifying holes.

Peek's first-round score was 70, two-under par for the hilly, 6,586-yard Wakonda Club course. It came at late day just when everyone was virtually convinced that George Clark, a 21-year-old from Ottumwa, Iowa, and Rodney Bliss, the 42-year-old Des Moines veteran, would share the first-day front spot with 72's.

But Peek, who covers the Midwest for a paper company, came up out of a valley to the 18th green to shoot his third straight birdie and the lead.

Peek's performance gave an added Cornell touch to the first-day activities because Bliss, six-time Nebraska amateur champion and 1951 Iowa ruler, went to the final of the National Collegiate as a Cornell representative in 1933.

Bliss got his par-equaling 72 by notching a birdie 3 on the 18th hole for a one-under par 35 after a 37 out nine. Clark, a member of the North Texas State team, reversed those figures or his 72 as he got top-flight results from his putter on the first nine.

Andrews' Weight Too Much for Duke Harris

SAGINAW (AP)—Al Andrews of St. Paul, Minn., making effective use of a 10½ pound weight advantage, won a close decision over Duke Harris of Detroit last night.

Andrews, weighing 158, was the aggressor throughout the 10-round bout. A crowd of 3,415 saw the fight at St. Andrews athletic field.

Judge Harold Anderson, Flint, called it a draw at 98 points each; Judge Harold Otto, Saginaw, scored it 98-92, and referee Elmer Brissette, Bay City, scored it 96-94.

Broncos Now Listed as Top Team in NCAA

OMAHA (UP) — Western Michigan moved into the favorite's role today as the NCAA college World Series went into its semifinal round.

The Michigan club pounded Wake Forest, 9-0, Monday night to remain unbeaten in the double elimination tournament. Wake Forest and the other two teams still in the running, Oaklahoma A&M and Arizona, each have one defeat.

Western plays Wake Forest again tonight while Arizona tackles the Aggies. Western pounded Wake Forest pitching for 12 hits while Bronco hurlers Jim Smith and Jerry Sposito collaborated for a three-hitter.

Champ's Weight Secret

SUMMIT, N. J. (UP) —Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore still is keeping his weight a secret, but he reportedly scaled "about 180" yesterday following another workout for his title defense against Bobo Olson next Wednesday night.

Trabert Top-Seeded

LONDON (AP) — American Davis Cup ace Tony Trabert of Cincinnati has been seeded No. 1 for the Wimbledon tennis tournament which opens next Monday. Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., was ranked No. 1 in the women's seedings, announced last night.

Logart Scores Early, Gets Decision Over Lightburn

NEW YORK (AP)—Isaac Logart, a bolo puncher from Cuba, has been trying to imitate his stablemate, Kid Gavilan and he's been developing slow but sure.

He'll probably never become another "Keed" but when he connects with his bolo he can hurt his opponent.

* * *

Last night, in St. Nicholas Arena, Ludwick Lightburn of British Honduras, who advertises himself as the welterweight champion of the Caribbean, stepped into the ring with Logart for the second time in five weeks and the result was the same. Logart won the decision.

It was close both times, but by now Lightburn must be convinced he can't beat Isaac. The second battle was close. In fact, the officials couldn't see eye to eye. Referee Barney Felix had Logart the winner 5-4-1. Judge Leo Binbaum saw it even in rounds, but Logart the winner on points, 5-4, while Judge Artie Aidela called Lightburn the winner, 5-4-1. The Associated Press agreed with Aidela.

* * *

It was that close. Had they stopped it after five rounds, there would have been no question that Logart was the winner. He was sharp in the first half. But if they had scored it on the last half, Lightburn would have come out on top with ease.

Drug 9 Gains 1st Place Tie

Boe Hurls Drayton Club to Top on Shutout of Dick-Wes Outfit

Drayton Drug pulled into a 1st place tie with Dick & Wes Sports in the Waterford Recreation Softball League Monday night by dumping the previously unbeaten Sports nine, 2-0.

Gary Boe hurled the 2-hit shutout for the Druggists as he outpitched Fred Konchis, who gave only 4 hits, 2 to Stu Hutchinson. The two teams now share the league lead on 6-1 records.

Despite Boe's fine pitching, Drug had to scrape for its winning runs. One came in the 1st inning when Hutchinson walked and advanced on a stolen base, passed ball and an error.

The other marker came in the 3rd frame on a hit batsman, passed ball, sacrifice and another passed ball. Gidley Electric and Sylvan Center play tonight at 8:30.

1954 Trotting Champion Removed From Feature

WESTBURY, N. Y. (INS) — Katie Key, 1954's national trotting champion, has been withdrawn from Thursday night's $25,000 American trotting championship at Roosevelt Raceway.

The mare, owned by the Pat Tuccio stable, has been troubled for the past two months by a bursitis condition and trainer-driver Clint Hodgins decided yesterday to take her out of Thursday's race.

Ace at Silver Lake

First ace of the season at Silver Lake Golf Club was registered over the weekend as Les Hammond dunked his tee shot on the 8th hole with a 7-iron. He had a 47 for the round. Hammond was playing with Dale Hannon.

Bengals Hope Early Showing Is No Fluke

Detroit Team in Good Shape for Long Grind; Hoeft to Hurl Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—With one of the best mid-June records in recent years under their belts, the Detroit Tigers today begin a four-week road test that could easily decide whether they'll stay in contention for the American League pennant this year.

By the time the Bengals return to Briggs Stadium for their next home stand, the traditional Fourth of July halfway point will be two days post. Traditionally by then the men have been separated from the boys in the yearly scramble for the pennant.

So far Detroit has made a commendable showing even against the New York Yankees, Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians, who were tabbed last spring for a three-way scramble for the AL flag.

Those three powers currently head the league in that order, but the Tigers, with a 30-24 record, are firmly entrenched in a respectable fourth place spot, only six games out of first place.

The road trip beginning today, 23 games in seven cities, will put the young dark horse club from Detroit to its sternest test of the season. Performing on alien fields and before "hostile" crowds, compelled to hit the road every few days, eating in restaurants, sleeping in hotels, bunched with all the other disadvantages of play away from home are tough on veterans and rookies alike.

To make matters worse, the Tigers open tonight against the mighty New York Yankees, who have won near two of every three games.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft, who has staged some of his finest pitching performances against the New Yorkers, will go to the mound for Detroit in the opener of their three-game series.

He will oppose either Tommy Byrne or Johnny Kucks in going after his sixth conquest of the season.

Physically, the Tigers aren't in bad shape at all. Shortstop Harvey Kuenn, though still favoring an ailing leg, is gradually returing to form. Pitcher Steve Gromek is back into shape, although manager Bucky Harris won't play the veteran hurler against the Yankees. Ned Garver and Frank Lary will pitch after Hoeft.

Ray Boone still is troubled by a pulled leg muscle and Jack Phillips is recovering from an injured knee.

Two newcomers expected to join the Bengal fold in the next couple of days are Jim Brady, 19-year-old pitcher freshman at Notre Dame, and Jim Small, 18-year-old outfielder from San Jose, Calif. The Tigers signed them for bonuses of $35,000 each.

Belt Surprise Homers to Hand Barons Win

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two unexpected home runs helped the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Assn. defeat Nashville 8-4 in a 10-inning game. The homers were hit by Baron pitchers.

Starting hurler John Gabler hit one early in the game. In the 10th inning relief pitcher Ken Beardslee belted a homer with the bases loaded to win the game.

Lions Face Giants on Grid, Sept. 18

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Lions will meet the New York Giants in an exhibition football game at Briggs Stadium Sept. 18 with proceeds going to Detroit's underprivileged children, it was announced today by Lions general manager Nick Kerbawy.

It will be the final tuneup game for the Detroit squad before the 1955 National Football League season gets under way and also the team's only pre-season appearance in Detroit.

Plan Baseball Workouts

Metropolitan Club of Pontiac will hold baseball practices Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday, at 5 p.m., on the north diamond at Columbia-Joslyn. All players interested in trying out are welcome to attend.

CHICAGO (UP) — The Chicago Cubs today acquired utility infielder Owen Friend from Louisville Friend opened the season with the Boston Red Sox but later was shipped to Louisville, where he hit only .156 in 23 games.

Tigers Flag-Conscious

Young Bengal Hurlers Pitch 28 Full Games

NEW YORK (UP)—Any schoolboy can tell you that today is Flag Day, but a schoolboy named Rowe could make it a flag year for the Detroit Tigers.

Even though they are in 4th place, six games behind the leading Yankees with whom they open an eastern road swing tonight, the Tigers are as flag-conscious as Betsy Ross when she scissored and sewed together the original "Old Glory" during the Revolution.

The reason for the optimism is top-flight pitching. In one important respect the Tigers lead every other club in the majors and that is in complete games.

With the old pitching hero of the Tigers, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, directing operations, the Detroit staff has turned in 28 complete games to date—eight more than any other team in either league.

"We've got young strong kids working for us and when the weather gets hot and some of the older pitchers begin to fade a little we ought to be right at our peak," Rowe said.

Rowe thinks much of the trouble involving pitchers these days is that the starters wear themselves out warming up. He works carefully with the Detroit youngsters emphasizing to them that the warm-up period should be mainly to get them loose.

The Tiger pitchers obviously have been following his advice. Led by rookie Frank Lary, who has seven complete games, the Tiger total of 28 is rounded out by six apiece for Steve Gromek and Ned Garver, five for Billy Hoeft and four for rookie Duke Maas.

That makes the Tiger pitching about as hot an item for the Motor City as the guaranteed annual wage and even though three clubs are ahead of them in the standings, they think the youth of the staff will make them solid contenders all the way.

Banks Passes Braves' Logan

Zernial Ahead of Minnie Minoso, Musial Leads Kluszewski in Poll

CHICAGO (AP) — Shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs jumped into first place in the All Star baseball poll today moving ahead of Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves. Banks topped Logan by 232 votes in one of two changes among the leaders in the National League.

Gus Zernial, Kansas City, passed Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox in the race for left field in the American League. Zernial polled 3,188 votes to 3,006 for Minoso.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals overtook Ted Kluszewski of the Cincinnati Redlegs in the battle for the first base spot in the National League. Musial had 3,417 votes to 3,153 for the Cincinnati slugger.

Aother change saw Cleveland's Bobby Avila move ahead of Nelson Fox of Chicago in the American League battle for second base. Avila polled 3,281 votes and Fox had 3,147.

Lothery's Mound Job Tops Auburn

Jets Edge Merchants, 1-0, at Wisner Field, in Pitching Battle

Auburn Merchants' Ken Campbell and Russ Lothery of the L. C. Anderson Jets locked horns in a fine pitchers battle Monday night at Wisner field in a Class A city league baseball game. When hostilities ceased, Lothery and his Anderson teammates had a 1-0 victory.

The game's only run was scored in the bottom half of the 1st stanza and without benefit of a safe blow. Shortstop Louie Seay, leading off, was hit by a pitched ball.

He stole 2nd base and scored on an error by third baseman Santa Cruz. That proved to be the ball game.

Lothery spaced five hits, struck out nine Auburn hitters, fanning the side out in the 1st and 3rd innings, and walked not a man. Campbell permitted only four safeties, whiffed six and walked one. Jets' second baseman Fletcher Davis made an outstanding fielding play in support of Lothery in the final inning.

Conrad, Patton Co-Favorites in Southern Meet

200 Golfers to Bid for Amateur Title at Linville, N. C.

LINVILLE, N.C. (AP)—A field of close to 200 of the South's finest amateur golfers set out today to dethrone Texan Joe Conrad as Southern Golf Assn. champion.

Conrad, the Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio, who 10 days ago won the British Amateur tournament, was exempt from the 36-hole qualifying test today and tomorrow over the 6,634-yard Linville Golf Club course. He won last year and the year before, only man in 40 years to win two in a row.

His challengers scrambled for the 31 remaining places in championship match play which begins Thursday and ends with the 36-hole finals Saturday.

One of the most artful scramblers was Billy Joe Patton, the lusty-swinging lumber dealer from nearby Morganton, recent Walker Cup match winner and British Amateur semifinalist.

Although Conrad and Patton were co-favorites, the remainder of the field was dotted with top-notch players capable of going all the way in this 49th staging of the 14-state event.

Memphis, Tenn., has such stalwarts as Jim Wittenburg, last year's National Collegiate champion, and Mason Rudolph, 1950 U.S. Golf Assn. junior king.

Georgia threats include Arnold Blum of Macon, George Hamer of Columbus, Tommy Barnes and Gene Dahlbender, both of Atlanta, and Lester Kelly, who won the Southern Collegiate crown last month while playing for the University of Georgia.

Along with Patton, Tar Heel hopes rode on such strong players as Dave Smith of Gastonia and Ray Taylor Jr. of Greensboro.

Dwight, Iceberg Lead Publinx Golf Prelims

The metropolitan area's public links golfers found Franklin Hills Country Club a mighty rugged layout Monday in a preliminary qualifying round for the National Publinx tourney.

It took only a score of 87 (15 over par) to quality for the final trials next Monday on the same course. Pontiac's Roy Iceberg was right among the leaders, tied for 2nd on a 39-36—75.

Claude Dwight of Sunnybrook led the way with a 74. The 98 preliminary qualifiers will bid for 14 spots in the national tourney at Indianapolis.

Among the other Pontiac and Oakland County-area players who passed the 1st test included Wally Smith (77), Tex Ellison (76), Sam Kocsis (78), Mike Andonian (78), Joe Kocsis (78), Jay Law (79), Joe Burgdorf (85), Butler Cooper (86), Stan Savage (87), Dick Dewling (87) and Charley Barker (87).

Olson Spars 83 Rounds Preparing for Archie

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (UP) — Bobo Olson has now sparred 83 rounds in preparation for his attempt to take the light heavyweight crown from Archie Moore at New York, June 22.

Sid Flagherty, manager of the middleweight king, claims "Bobo is at his perfect fighting weight and he's ready now for Moore."

Coach Fits Jigsaw Puzzle

Pennsylvania's 'Rags-to-Riches' Crew Seek Win in 53rd IRA Championship

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Take six men from crews that finished seventh, eighth and seventh in last year's Intercollegiate Rowing Assn., championships, add two subs, and what have you got?

Why, the Eastern sprint champions and the only undefeated crew in the 53rd I.R.A. championships.

Simple, isn't it?

* * *

But that's the fantastic story of the rags to riches climb of Pennsylvania's hotshot crew, the eight that snapped Navy's record streak at 31 races and the boatload most feared by every other coach for Saturday's three-mile classic on Onondaga Lake.

* * *

Only a year ago, the Quakers' varsity finished seventh in the 11-crew field, the jayvees were a dead last eighth, and the freshmen were seventh out of nine.

What did Coach Joe Burk do to weld a winning unit out of the remnants of three well beaten crews?

"The pieces are working in this year," said Burk. "It's like fitting a jigsaw puzzle. All the pieces seem to be fitting in. The crew is shorter and lighter. And this crew has more speed and more endurance than last year's. In almost all of our races this year we've been pulling away from the others at a distance. They're an eager and determined bunch."

* * *

It went that way on Cayuga Lake last Friday when Burk's smooth-stroking sweepswingers overhauled Cornell and won going away by a length in a 2 1-3-mile race, the longest distance either crew had traveled this season.

Match Race Between Nashua, Swaps Unlikely; Woodward Declines to Ship His Colt to Coast

NEW YORK (AP)—If Swaps and Nashua—the two top 3-year-olds of the year—are going to meet, it will be in the midde of August, and indications today were that they probably would not get together again as 3-year-olds.

* * *

Nashua's owner, William Woodward admitted he had talked to Rex Ellsworth, Swaps' boss, by telephone last week, but that the conversation had been "misinterpreted."

"Nashua positively will not be shipped to California for a match race with Swaps," Woodward said in a statement. "I had no intention of indicating that we would ship Nashua to California."

Ellsworth said after Swaps won the $100,000 Californian and Nashua captured the Belmont last Saturday, that Woodward told him he was interested in a match race and planned a trip to California. Hollywood Park then offered to put up $100,000 for the winner-take-all race.

* * *

"Although I am very much in favor of a meeting between the two horses, which the public demands," Woodward said, "it is my belief that it would be unfair to Nashua and the public if we shipped him 3,000 miles at this time.

"...You will recall that several years ago, the same kind of interest was generated over the respective merits of Assault and Armed and it led to a match race because the public demand was so great. When the two horses finally met, Assault was unfit and it was a race in name only. It proved nothing.

"I would prefer not to consider a meeting between the two horses until approximately August 1. If at that time both horses are fit to run, it should take place within a few weeks after both owners accept."

Caroline May Quit Grid Due to Book Trouble

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (INS) — J. C. Caroline, Illinois' All-America halfback in 1953, may quit school because of scholastic difficulties.

University athletic director Doug Mills disclosed yesterday that Caroline, who still has one year of playing eligibility, "is undecided about returning to school."

The 21-year-old Columbia, S. C., flash, who broke Red Grange's all-time Big Ten rushing record during his sophomore season, withdrew from school last April 26th when his grandfather died, with the permission of the university.

Amateur Harvie Ward Rated Open Threat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National Open golf championship hasn't had an amateur winner in 22 years but this brassy Pacific Coast city is excited over the chances of one of its simon-pure sons, Harvie Ward Jr.

* * *

"I'm not predicting Harvie Ward will win but I feel he has as good a chance as anybody," said Byron Nelson today, commenting on the tournament opening Thursday. "He's playing wonderfully well. I'd certainly call him a threat."

Frank Stranahan, a former high-ranking amateur who has turned pro within the past year, said he's heard more talk of Ward since his arrival here than of any other entrant, including Ben Hogan and Sam Snead.

* * *

"San Francisco money is flooding the place, all of it on Harvie Ward," Stranahan said. "You can get five dollars or a thousand on anybody you'd like to take against Harvie."

One prominent pro has wagered heavily that Ward will score better than a number of leading professionals, including Gene Littler, Mike Souchak, Cary Middlecoff and PGA champion Chick Harbert.

The last amateur winner of this blue-ribbon event was Johnny Goodman in 1933—a real dark-horse. Not since the days of Bobby Jones, who retired in 1930, has an amateur been given even passing consideration.

* * *

Ward, 29-year-old Walker Cup ace who attended the University of North Carolina, passed up the British Amateur, which he formerly won, to qualify and shoot for the Open crown. Golfers, both pro and amateur, rate him the best of the present amateur crop. San Francisco, where he now sells automobiles, has adopted him.

"Shucks, I've got as much a chance of winning the Open as I have of flying," the blond, good-looking Southerner said.

* * *

"But I'm driving well and this is a driver's course. Also it's not too long and I think if I can just keep 'em straight as I've been doing, I should do all right," he added.

Ward had consecutive rounds over the weekend of 69, 70 and 71. All the pros concede that if he could approach these figures in actual tournament play he'd be a strong title contender.

Only Snead, the slammer who has never won this big one, has approached those scores on consistency. Sam has had consecutive rounds of 70, 71, 71 and 68—a total of 280. "If I could just put that on the wall I'd sit back and relax," he drawled.

Hogan, the four-time winner, complained, "I play one good round and one bad one. My best has been a 70 and I've also had a 77 and an 80, if I'd kept score."

Hogan Gives Recipe for Win in U.S. Open

Long, Straight Driver Has Best Chance at San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A long, straight hitter off the tee will win the 1955 U. S. National Open golf tournament.

That's what Ben Hogan, who has accomplished the feat four times, said today after looking over the fog-soaked fairways that limit ball roll to a very few feet.

In the field of 162 who will tee off in the big event on Thursday, there are only a half dozen long, straight hitters. Fellow professionals consider Mike Souchak, Sam Snead, Hogan, Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Ed Furgol and Byron Nelson in that class.

If Hogan's prediction holds true, that will limit the men who have possibilities of winning.

"To win this one," said Hogan, "it will take a long, straight hitter off the tee. That's where the championship will be won—off the tee."

Young Al Mengert, playing out of Mamaroneck, N. Y., who qualified automatically because he finished high up in last year's competition, amplified Hogan's statement.

"There isn't a possible chance of a scrambler winning this tournament," he said. "Every little mistake costs at least a stroke on this course."

The Olympic Club course measures only 6700 yards long, but it plays longer than most 7200-yard courses, because there is no chance for more than a few feet of roll. The perpetual fog keeps the course wet.

There are quite a few straight hitters in the field, who may have trouble getting enough distance to have accuracy on their approach shots.

These include amateur Harvie Ward, Gene Littler and Billy Maxwell.

Maxim Tabs Moore to Defeat 'Bobo'

CLEVELAND (UP)—Joey Maxim picked Archie Moore today to beat Bobo Olson on June 22. Joey fought both.

Maxim, who lost the light heavyweight crown to Moore on Dec. 17, 1952, said, "I like Moore to win the New York fight because he is a savage, belting son-of-a-gun. He hits a lot harder than Olson. He's always dangerous, and Bobo has nothing to keep him off."

Lightest Heavyweight

NEW YORK — When he won the heavyweight championship, Bob Fitzsimmons left a record that still stands. His 158 pounds is the lightest a heavy champ ever weighed.

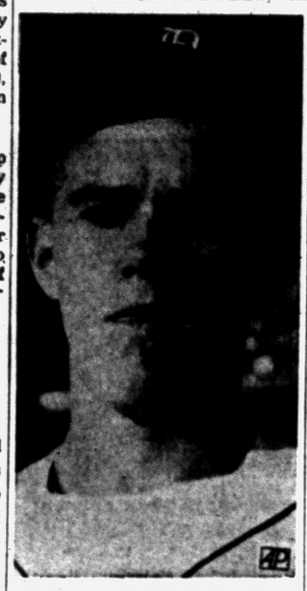

Six Buc Players Bat in Cleanup, None Can Hit

PITTSBURGH — Manager Fred Haney of the Pittsburgh Pirates called on six different players to bat in the cleanup spot in his first 36 games and not one was able to produce.

Frank Thomas started out but was just a .129 hitter. Ramon Mejias followed and failed to get a hit in two games. Back went Thomas.

But the 25-year-old outfielder was sidelined with the flu and up came Jack Shepard, who was hitting .350. Shepard hit only .150 in the No. 4 spot.

Haney then decided on Dale Long. He produced only two hits in three games. Next was George Freese and finally Preston Ward.

BONUS BABY—One of 2 bonus rookies signed over last weekend by the Detroit Tigers is James J. Brady (above). The 19-year-old pitcher from Jersey City, N. J., was signed for a reported $35,000 by the Tiger management. He is a left hander and will join the team on its current eastern road trip.

Mihay Wins Mound Duel in City Softball League

Knights of Columbus nosed out the Elks, 2-1, at Northside Park, in Monday night city league softball action.

KC's Pete Mihay and the Elks' Don Hill engaged in a pitching duel, each being touched for only four hits. Mihay struck out 11 and walked one while Hill fanned eight, walked one, and hit two batters.

KC took the lead in the 2nd inning and never lost it. An error, hit batsman, and single scored once to break the ice. A pair of doubles in the 4th frame accounted for the eventual winning run. A triple, and sacrifice fly scored the Elks' lone run in the 5th.

Riteway Softwater club chased five runs across in the 1st two stanzas to defeat Ashland Flying Octane, 5-3, at Beaudette. Roger Reynolds hurled for the winners and effectively scattered five hits.

Ashland put together two singles and an outfield error to bring home two in the 9th, but Reynolds disposed of the next three hitters to cut short the rally.

In the opener at Beaudette, Drive-In Cleaners, thumped Pontiac & Opdyke, 7-3, behind the five-hit pitching of Orr. The P-O squad jumped off to a 3-0 advantage, but it was short-lived.

Drive-In narrowed the margin with a run in the 3rd, then utilized three hits and an error to tally four in the 5th inning. Two singles and a walk accounted for two more in the 6th.

Avondale's girls made their city league debut an auspicious one by trouncing Gingellville, 16-4, at Northside. The Avon crew displayed a solid 17-hit offense and tucked away the victory with 10 runs in the 3rd inning.

Lesser Picked in College Test

Seattle Golfer Favored to Retain Women's Links Championship

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP)—Pat Lesser, of Seattle, Wash., is a strong favorite to regain her title in the 11th annual National Women's Intercollegiate golf tournament which opens today.

Forty eight coeds representing 38 schools and 17 states have entered the tournament and only 16 will qualify for match play which begins tomorrow. The 18-hole title match will be held Saturday.

Miss Lesser, 1953 champion, took the role of favorite when Nancy Reed of Peabody, (Tenn.) College decided not to compete. Miss Reed won the title last year.

Five former Western Junior champions are expected to give Miss Lesser stiff competition.

They are Virginia Dennehy, representing the Chicago Art Institute; Charlene Cross, Kentucky amateur champion; Anne Richardson and Barbara McIntire, Rollins College, and Berridge Long of Huntington, W.Va.

Mountaineers Gain 3 Titles Same Year

RICHMOND, Va.—West Virginia University is the first school in the long history of the Southern Conference to win conference championships in football, basketball and baseball during the same school year.

West Virginia won the football crown behind fine quarterbacking by Freddy Wyant. Hot Rod Hundley led the Mountaineer basketballers to the top. Jim Heise, a right-hander, won 10 games and lost only one for West Virginia in baseball and was the collegiate strikeout king of the nation with 104 strikeouts.

St. Louis Cardinals Are Reported Up for Sale

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals were reported up for sale today because the baseball club had not provided a profitable return for its brewery bosses.

Club President August A. (Gussie) Busch Jr., however, vigorously denied the report, which was published in a copyrighted story, under the byline of Sports Editor Bob Cooke in today's editions of the New York Herald-Tribune.

Cooke said the Cardinals were on the block "because the poor showing of the club, and certain deals which the club has made, are believed not to have been an asset to the sale of Budweiser beer."

* * *

The beer is the major product of Anheuser-Busch Inc., one of the nation's largest breweries, which has its main plant in St. Louis.

Cooke said Busch and other brewery officials are "willing to sell the ball club and the ball park for what they put into it or, failing that, even to take a loss."

* * *

Anheuser-Busch purchased the National League club and its extensive minor league holdings for 3¾ million dollars in 1953 from Fred Saigh, who was forced to sell after being convicted of income tax evasion. The ball park—formerly Sportsman's Park but rechristened Busch Stadium—was purchased for $800,000 from Bill Veeck, then owner of the old St. Louis Browns.

Busch termed the report "perfectly ridiculous" and added: "There's no more truth to it than there is a man in the moon."

Cooke also reported that the Cardinals, who stated they lost $700,000 in 1953, "had operated at a loss of 1 million dollars" last season.

* * *

That was denied by a Cardinal spokesman, who said "we practically broke even. We did spend some money for players—nothing like a million dollars—but you can hardly consider that a loss."

* * *

Cooke did not reveal his source in the report of the sale—which followed a weekend series by the Cardinals against the Giants—but said it had been confirmed by baseball officials in both major leagues.

He quoted one unnamed baseball executive as saying "Busch wants to get out, because baseball is such a controversial business. You can't run a ball club like you do an industry. It's everybody's business . . . that's why the Cardinals want out."

Duke, 'Huskers Net $144,717

Orange Bowl Football Game Proves Profitable Final Audit Shows

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A final audit showed that Duke and Nebraska each will get $144,717.34 for their participation in the 1955 Orange Bowl football game.

* * *

Gross gate for the New Year's Day game, the Orange Bowl Committee was told yesterday, amounted to $460,835.75, of which $81,250 came from television and radio rights. The city of Miami was paid $51,675 for use of the Orange Bowl stadium.

The Orange Bowl Committee showed a profit of $586.16 for the game, in contrast to a deficit of $1,200 in the 1954 game and attendant events.

* * *

Teams competing in the 1956 game will get even more, the committee reported, with the stadium seating capacity raised by about 10,000 to 78,000. In addition to 75 per cent of the gate receipts, the teams will get 75 per cent of the $285,000 in a new radio and television contract.

Nelson in Open, Denies Thoughts of Comeback

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Golfing great Byron Nelson said today he has "no thoughts" of making a comeback just because he will play in the United States and British Open tournaments this year.

"Lord Byron," in San Francisco for the U.S. Open which starts Thursday, said he figured this was the year to play in the British Open "for two good reasons."

The former Open champion, now a Roanoke, Texas, rancher explained:

"Reason number one is that it is being played at Scotland's famed St. Andrews, the shrine of golf. I've never played there and want to.

"The other reason is that I have worked on my game for this bid for the National Open championship and since the British event follows it closely, I feel my game will be at a peak for my bid at St. Andrews."

IN STATE TOURNEY—Two of the outstanding polo players competing in the current Michigan championship tournament are these 2 Oakland residents. At left is Roy Pulver, captain of the Pontiac Chiefs, with Wendell Smith, captain of Franklin Hills. Tourney games are played each Wednesday and Friday night at the Ivory Polo Field, Lahser and 8-Mile Roads. Pulver lives at 2360 Greenlawn, Pontiac, while Smith lives at 26680 Carol Drive, Franklin Hills.

Rangers' Polo Team Tops; State Tourney Continues

Ivory Rangers polo team, boasting a record of 79 wins, one tie, and only nine losses over a three-year span, seek to add new laurels every Sunday afternoon on the grass field at the Ivory Polo grounds, Lahser and 8-Mile Roads, and on the indoor field there each Wednesday night.

Three key men, a family combine, are largely responsible for the Rangers unprecedented success.

Captain Jack Ivory, Mac Stefani, and Jack Stefani, Mac's son, comprise the trio whose fine teamwork has resulted in so many victories. Ivory is Mac Stefani's brother-in-law and Jack's uncle.

Jack broke into the Ranger lineup in 1951 as a replacement for the elder Stefani, shelved with an injury. After Mac's return to action, an inseparable trio was formed.

Lew Smith, 9-goal ace from East Aurora, N. Y., and Al Holman, former Ohio State football star, are the other outstanding members of the Ranger squad.

Michigan's polo tournament, hampered by rain and wet grounds, resumes with single games on Wednesday evenings and double-headers on Friday nights. Wednesday night tourney contests are preliminaries to Ranger games.

After four rounds of tournament play, the Birmingham Ramblers lead with four wins in as many starts. Franklin Hills (2-1), Detroit Majors (2-2), Rochester Polo Club (1-2), Pontiac Chiefs (1-2), and the Toledo Polo Club (0-3) complete the present standings.

Immediate plans call for 10 tourney games to determine Michigan's 1st post-war champion.

Same Old Roberts – Still Finishing What He Starts

NEW YORK (AP)—Reliable Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils usually finishes what he starts — as his complete-game pitching record for the past few seasons will attest.

The sturdy righthander has topped the National League in hurling complete games three straight years and he's doing it again this season. Roberts has started 14 games and has completed 11 — most in the majors. During the 1954 campaign he pitched 29 complete games.

When Roberts takes the mound, the Phils' bullpen brigade doesn't figure to see action. He has gone the route his last seven starts, having won six times. The rest of the Philadelphia mound staff has accounted for only seven other complete efforts.

Gene Conley of the Milwaukee Braves is runnerup to Roberts in the National League with seven.

Frank Lary of the Detroit Tigers is the leader in the American League with eight in 11 starts. The rookie righthander pitched for Buffalo of the International League in 1954 and went the distance 13 times.

* * *

Teammate Ned Garver and the New York Yankees' Bob Turley have produced seven route-going performances apiece to rank behind Lary.

Sparked by Lary, the Detroit pitching staff has accounted for the most complete games, 28—half as many as the Tiger moundsmen compiled in 1954. The Brooklyn Dodger staff heads the National League with 21 complete games.

High Gun Stays Home

NEW YORK (AP)—High Gun won't go to England for the King George and Queen Elizabeth stakes, owner Robert J. Kleberg decided today. He had been toying with the idea of sending the colt across the Atlantic, but he pointed out that there would be only four or five days to get him ready after his arrival.

Seniors Test Starts

RYE, N. Y. (AP) — Another big group of old-timers, 160 strong, tee off in the U. S. Seniors golf championship. S. W. Creedmore of Fort Smith, Ark., and Frank D. Ross of West Hartford, Conn., each shot a 153 to tie for the lead in the first group which played yesterday.

Power, unless under absolute control doesn't pay off. Play every shot for placement. Pick out the spot on fairway or green, where you want your ball to come to rest.

Then play a little private game with yourself to see how near you can come to placing the ball where you want it.

You'll be surprised how quickly you acquire control. Never sacrifice accuracy to power in golf. The best shots with wood have a faint hook at the far end of the flight.

This is due to the slight spin given the ball when you hit it, as you should, from slightly inside-out across the direction line. A ball so hit also receives just a bit of counter-clockwise spin.

And so at the far end of its flight the spin causes the ball to hook gently and roll perhaps ten controlled yards farther than it would have gone without such spin. And that yardage can make a real difference in your score.

Weekly Papers Set to Appeal on Libel

DETROIT (AP)—Three northwest Detroit weekly newspapers were under circuit court order today to pay $20,000 damages for libel to Kennedy Lawrence, former deputy superintendent of police.

Counsel for the Weekly Community Newspapers, Inc., published by Floyd E. McGriff, said it will "undoubtedly" appeal the jury verdict, terming it "excessive."

Lawrence had sought $500,000 damages for articles appearing in the McGriff papers in connection with a grand jury investigation of the Society of Good Neighbors and its head, Morrison T. Wade.

Wade and his wife, Bessie Lou, were convicted of conspiracy to defraud in connection with the charity group they operated. Her sentence was suspended. Wade is out on bond pending appeal of his prison sentence.

"Okay, so you lost something. Daddy will help you find it later!"

Grain Market Holding Steady

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain held fairly close to previous closing levels during today's Board of Trade session.

A little profit-taking entered rye following the previous day's steep runup.

Soybeans advanced at the opening more than a cent, but then backed up somewhat as profit-taking entered as a trading factor. Lard held strong with the steady trade in hogs.

Toward the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ cent higher to ⅜ lower, July $2.00¼; corn was ¼ to ⅜ lower, July $1.43⅜; oats were unchanged to ½ lower, July 66⅝, and rye was ¼ to 1 cent lower, July $1.07. Soybeans were unchanged to ¾ lower, July $2.44½, and lard was 3 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.70.

Wheat was a little uneasy in the pulling and hauling of various influences. Nearby contracts continued to look good because of more heavy rainfall over night in sections of the winter wheat harvest land of the Southwest.

On the weather bureau's five-day forecast still more rain appeared to be in prospect for the weekend. It was to be scattered showers and thunderstorms extending over parts of the Southwest, the Middlewestern corn and soybean territory and the spring wheat areas of the Northern Plains.

Metals Industry Strike Next Week

DENVER (AP)—June 20-22 has been set for a nationwide strike vote among workers in the nonferrous metals industry by the independent International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers.

The union said last night six weeks of negotiations with the industry's Big Four—Anaconda, Kennecott, Phelps-Dodge and American Smelting & Refining—has produced nothing more than "piddling offers."

Mine-Mill is demanding a 20-cent hourly wage increase; lost-time pay to protect the worker who is forced off the job by accident, illness or layoff so that his income continues at no less than $60 a week; and other benefits.

Reuther Hints at Plan to Organize Offices

NEW YORK (AP)—CIO President Walter Reuther says white collar workers are "the forgotten men and women of modern industry" and are due for an intensive union organizing campaign.

In a statement sent to the annual convention of the AFL Office Employes International Union, Reuther promised a drive amorg white collar workers as soon as the AFL-CIO merger is completed.

Referring to tasks that face the united labor organization once it is formed, Reuther said:

"We must immediately begin the important task of organizing workers into unions which best serve their interests . . ."

Europe's Car Output Up More Than U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. reported yesterday that automobile production last year fell 11 per cent in the United States and Canada while rising almost 27 per cent in Western Europe.

Its monthly statistical bulletin for June said the net result was that world production, Communist countries excluded, dropped 3 per cent to 9,644,000 vehicles, against a 1950 high of more than 10 million.

West Germany boosted its output nearly 40 per cent in 1954; ousted France from third place in automobile manufacture, and displaced the U. S. as second largest exporter of passenger cars, behind Britain.

Industry Assessing Effects of Ford, GM Layoff Plans

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The first shock over, businessmen today are reassessing the effects to industry as a whole of the General Motors and Ford layoff plans.

The long-term effects are being sized up this way:

If the layoff pay plan spreads through industry it's going to be tough for the small struggling company. It's going to be harder to start up a new company in a competitive field, if the men you hire become permanent payroll members before you've tested your sales potential.

* * *

Companies big and small are going to take a long, hard look at their labor policies. As labor costs go up, the urge to invest in labor-saving machinery—the trend toward the automatic factory—will grow stronger.

Work schedules will be planned more carefully to avoid expensive layoffs. Rather than hire a new man in times of extra business activity—and thus add him permanently to work rolls—corporations will pay present workers more overtime.

Many state laws will have to be changed if the General Motors and Ford layoff pay plans are to work. Present laws in many states don't provide for supplemental pay to state unemployment benefits.

* * *

Pressure is likely to build up to get the states to pay more liberal jobless benefits—the higher the state payments the less of a drain on any one corporation.

The auto industry's labor settlement is also expected to have an effect on this summer's negotiations in other industries. Steel union leaders are reported raising their sights now for higher pay—they won't be asking for layoff pay until next year.

The plan, however, is expected to be an issue this year in talks between the unions and the farm machinery makers, the electric equipment companies, rubber and meat-packing industries.

* * *

Some lines of business are expecting to profit by the trend toward pay for laid-off workers.

Machine tool makers see a shot-in-the-arm for the movement toward automation, which means selling more of their products.

The construction industry expects more modern factories to be in greater demand.

Advertising men say that corporations will have to try hard to get customers to shift their buying habits and make them less seasonal.

Makers of office machinery say that lay-off pay will mean much more paper work. Computing the benefits will add headaches to corporate accounting offices — and should enlarge the market for mechanical brains.

* * *

Merchants in factory towns see in the new trend a leveling off of the peaks and valleys of buying. Laid-off auto workers will have tidy sums to spend and store sales won't plummet when factories close down for a time.

UAW Will Fuss on Automation

Union Official Reveals Mechanization Will Be Big Issue in Future

DETROIT (AP) — A CIO United Auto Workers spokesman says the union is going to "make a fuss" at bargaining tables in the future about automation—replacement of machine operators with automatic controls.

James Stern, economist for the UAW committee on automation, said the union "is in favor of automation, more efficiency and higher production, but not at the expense of the worker."

He told the Special Libraries Assn. that workers who lose their jobs to an automatic device should be given preferential hiring status throughout the auto industry and that companies shifting to automation should set up retraining programs to fit laid-off workers for equal or better jobs.

Speaking for management, Howard N. Maynard, president of the Snyder Tool & Engineering Co., which makes automation equipment, objected to what he said was organized labor's "bogeyman" approach to automation.

"It is not new, not revolutionary and not a monster," Maynard said.

Without technological advances in machinery and efficiency for greater production, Maynard said the jobless pay principle which the UAW has obtained from General Motors and Ford would not have been possible.

James E. Myers, manager of the methods and procedures division of the Burroughs Corp., said a 20-hour week resulting from automation may be a long time in coming, if ever.

Draws 90 Days for Work Hoax at Resort Hotel

ELLENVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — A carnival hoax, which lured scores of Broadway entertainers to this resort area and left them stranded, has landed a New York City man in jail on charges of defrauding a local resort hotel.

Emilio Spano, 37, Manhattan, pleaded guilty to the fraud charge and was sentenced yesterday to 90 days in the Ulster County Jail.

* * *

Police said Spano was responsible for getting the entertainers to stay at the Wayside Inn when they came here under the impression they would get jobs in a summer show.

After three days it was discovered that no show was being planned and the actors were left without money to pay their hotel bills. They were finally shipped back to New York in buses chartered by local businessmen.

On June 4, Ray Cyrs, 31, of Ellenville, pleaded guilty to similar charges in the same case and was sentenced to six months in jail.

Adds 3.5 Million to Base Funds

Controversy Over Jet Field at Cadillac Now Seems Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)— Controversy over the site of an Air Force jet base in northwestern Michigan appeared ended today with addition of $3,513,000 to the $8,635,000 authorized for the base at Cadillac.

* * *

The House Armed Services Committee yesterday earmarked the additional funds, in effect catching up for the delay of over a year caused by the site controversy.

The extra money includes $1,881,000 for air field pavements, fuel dispensing, operational training, personnel, administrative and shop facilities.

The original choice for the base at Homestead was blocked by objections that it was too close to the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

Congress last year appropriated $8,635,000 to build the jet base as a link in the nation's continental defense system.

GWKR BLOCKED

The House Appropriations Committee blocked start of construction, however, because of a dispute over the site.

Choice of the Cadillac site was reaffirmed last week by Secretary of the Air Force Talbott. The appropriations group is expected to release the money later this week.

* * *

Items increasing the authorized cost were removed from a military construction bill by the Armed Services Committee during the dispute. The addition to the authorized cost restored these items.

Their car collided with one being driven by Edsel D. Violette, 24, a Flushing salesman. He told deputies he was looking for a house when his car struck the Butler car at the crest of a hill. Violette was not injured.

New Temple Beth Jacob's Open House Draws 500

More than 500 friends called at Temple Beth Jacob Sunday afternoon during the Open House from 2 to 5 p. m.

The Sunday affair was a part of weekend dedication festivities.

Members of the congregation, with Irving Stenman chairman, were hosts for the afternoon and escorted the guests on a tour of the Temple.

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein's office, the first room on the right, is adjacent to the Sanctuary.

Besides the class rooms, the Sunday School wing contains a well stocked library with many reference books for teachers and students.

The kindergartner room, a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goldstein, was given by their daughters. Mrs. Goldstein and Mrs. Joseph Barnett, who is now living in Detroit, started the Sunday Schools years ago.

The room will be used through the week as a nursery school. Just outside and fenced in, is a play area for the youngsters.

Seen on the walls of the corridor were historical documents relating to the history of the American Jews. The display was loaned by the American Jewish Archives of the Hebrew Union College—Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, Ohio.

A glass case, showing ritual objects used in the synagogue, were also on display.

Another memorial is the chapel dedicated to Ida Kovinsky. The Scrolls of the law were on display in the Arc and shown by the hosts.

The Sisterhood of the congregation was responsible for the stainless steel kitchen. It was the result of 11 years work and savings.

The walls of the social hall where refreshments were served are a light gray with pink antique satin drapes at the windows and matching velour curtains on the fully equipped stage.

Charles Wilson, minister of music, and Mrs. Jack Warner played selections on the organ throughout the afternoon.

Pink geraniums in the class rooms and arrangements of pink and white roses, peonies, daisies and delphiniums added to the beauty of the Temple.

Dem Polio Plan Defeat Is Seen

Ives Says Proposal to Give Allocation Power to Ike Appears Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-NY) said today a Democratic proposal to give President Eisenhower standby allocation powers over Salk polio vaccine "would appear to be dead."

Ives, one of the few Republicans to speak kindly of the plan, spoke out in advance of two days of testimony before the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee on rival proposals to supply free vaccine to children.

* * *

A measure sponsored by Committee Chairman Hill (D-Ala) goes a good deal beyond a companion Eisenhower administration proposal which would limit free vaccine to children whose parents can't afford it. Eisenhower has asked 28 million dollars for his plan. Hill's proposal would give free vaccine to all children through the age of 19, regardless of ability to pay. This would cost about 125 millions.

Ives said he had not decided which he would support. However, he said another Democratic-sponsored proposal for standby control powers appears "dead." The administration argues such powers are not needed.

* * *

Hill's proposal would permit the federal government to buy up vaccine and turn it over to states which had distribution plans and could guarantee free inoculations to any child wanting them.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis indicated it has slight hope of completing its program calling for two vaccine shots for all first and second-graders before this school term ends. In many places, school already has let out for the summer.

* * *

But a spokesman said the foundation is banking on giving second shots to many youngsters at clinics during the vacation period.

In the meantime, the Public Health Service announced yesterday it was abandoning the practice of issuing daily reports on postinoculation polio cases. From now on, the service said, it would put out weekly summaries on Thursday.

* * *

Up to last Thursday, health service records showed 146 confirmed cases among about six million children who had been given vaccine. Six of those stricken died.

The service's announcement indicated a decline in the incidence of polio cases possibly traceable to defective vaccine. It said:

"In few of the recently reported accepted (confirmed) cases has the time interval between vaccination and the onset of the disease been short enough for a possible implication of the vaccine."

Ma Ferguson, 80, Ex-Texas Leader, Marks Birthday

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Ma Ferguson blew out the one big candle on her birthday cake last night and wished for 80 more years as happy as the last 80.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, twice governor of Texas and like her late husband, ex-Gov. James E. (Farmer Jim) Ferguson, was a highly controversial figure for 25 years in Texas politics.

Nearly 300 government officials, state and national, relatives and friends gathered for her birthday dinner last night. Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said he would have traveled 16,000 miles instead 1,600 to attend.

President Eisenhower wired his congratulations.

Fired Flower Is Consultant

Says Job Arranging Parties Sells Hawaii, as on Godfrey Show

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Haleloke, the Hawaiian dancer who dropped abruptly from the sight of television viewers when Arthur Godfrey fired her last April, is a businesswoman now.

She hasn't danced since that fateful morning on April 15 when she changed from her flowered holoku to street clothes after the regular morning TV show, and answered a summons to Godfrey's office. She listened, along with Marion Marlowe and the Mariners Quartet, to Godfrey read a statement that she was fired.

Unlike the others, who left immediately for other singing engagements and zooming careers, Haleloke kept to herself, refused to say anything about her firing — and didn't dance the hula for anybody.

"I didn't collapse, as they said," the smiling, friendly dancer from Hawaii said when she finally made her first public appearance in her new job. "I have been in and out of town trying to decide whether to do this or that. I'm not too crazy about publicity. I never was, even when I was on Mr. Godfrey's show. I sort of minded my own business on the show."

Now she has accepted a job as special consultant to an organization called Orchids of Hawaii, Inc., which just opened a separate division to organize Hawaiian parties for anyone in the United States who requests (and pays for) the service.

A prospective party-giver in Kansas City, for instance, could write in for the $9.95 packaged party, which provides instructions, leis, coconut chips and Hawaiian records. Or he could go all out and spend a four-figure sum and get everything from personal catering service by Hawaiian experts flown in for the purpose to native Hula dancers to entertain.

So far Haleloke is not available as a party entertainer at any price.

"I took this job because it has to do with my people. This is really the sort of thing I used to do on the Godfrey show — sell Hawaii. I have nothing to say against Mr. Godfrey. He was very good to me and he did a great deal for my people."

Haleloke still gets fan mail, which is forwarded to her by the Godfrey office, but she hasn't seen her former boss or any of the other performers fired with her since she left.

"I want to concentrate on this business now," she said. She was wearing a blue and white flowered holoku, one of a wardrobe of 50 she used to wear on Godfrey's shows. A Hawaiian orchestra played on one side of the room, and two girls dressed in sarongs danced to the music.

Charge Reds Break Armistice

Parks Repeats Claim of Wanton Murder in ROK Soldier Killing

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The senior general of the United Nations Command today accused the Communists of shooting two South Korean soldiers "in the back" in the demilitarized zone June 2.

Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks made the charge before newsmen immediately after a three-hour meeting of the Military Armistice Commission.

* * *

He said he repeated his earlier charge that Communists had "tampered with and faked evidence" to cover up a case of wanton murder.

Parks said a party of six was sent to recover an airplane engine on the Allied side of the demarcation line. The Communists fired at them and tampered with the evidence, he said.

He rejected the Communist assertion there had been an exchange of fire, and that they shot in self-defense.

* * *

He said the work party's truck, which had been in a U.N. Command safelane, had been moved by the Communists about 15 feet to the north. He said the two bodies were dragged further north to the Communist side. He said the Communists also removed proper markings from one of the bodies and placed a .45-caliber pistol in its hand.

He said slides of the pistols were in a forward position, the hammers were cocked and the magazines empty. He said if the bullets were emptied by firing the slides and hammers would not be that way.

Dems OK Rules for Convention

Seeking to Prevent Another Loyalty Oath Dispute in 1956

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee has approved proposed rules designed to avoid a repetition next year of the "loyalty oath" dispute that rocked the party's 1952 convention.

Committee members will act at their next meeting on the suggested rules, designed to assure convention harmony and get the party's presidential nominee on all state ballots.

The proposals, approved by Butler yesterday, would:

1. Make state Democratic committees responsible for getting the convention's nominees on state ballots under the Democratic label.

2. Urge enactment of state laws requiring that nominees of the major parties appear on ballots "under the names and emblems of the political parties whose nominees they are."

In addition, the rules would declare it the "duty" of every national committee member to support the convention nominees. Members failing to do so would face loss of their seats "after notice and opportunity for hearing."

* * *

Demands that 1952 convention delegates pledge support of the party selections arose from the failure of the Truman-Barkley ticket to get on the Alabama ballot in 1948. Under a compromise statement, delegates gave assurances they would work toward getting the 1952 national ticket on state ballots.

The proposed 1956 rules were framed by a special 80-member advisory committee headed by former National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) and former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia.

Police Quiz Suspect in Attack on Singer

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) —A bus boy admirer of band vocalist Alice Lon may be subjected to a lie detector test today in connection with the sadistic attack on the singer, her husband and her mother.

Police booked Joseph M. Cannon, 25, on suspicion of robbery. Miss Lon, 27, identified him as one of her fan club members who has taken pictures of her at the ballroom where she sings with Lawrence Welk's orchestra.

But officers said a camera roll found in Cannon's room contained no pictures of the singer. The hooded three-man gang, breaking into her home Sunday, took 120 pieces of costume jewelry and forced her to pose nude while they photographed her.

* * *

They kicked and beat her husband Robert M. Waterman and her mother Mrs. Mary Wyche. Her three children were not harmed.

Cannon claims he was in San Bernardino at the time. Officers say they found he was in that city Saturday and later Sunday afternoon, but have not yet verified his whereabouts during the early Sunday hours the singer was terrorized.

Tot's Screams Save Boy in Refrigerator

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — Because 18-month-old Lloyd Odom Jr. has a healthy set of lungs, his 4-year-old brother Jimmy is recovering from a close call in an abandoned refrigerator.

Mrs. Odom rushed into the yard yesterday when she heard Junior's screams.

She noticed the door on the old refrigerator was closed. Jerking the door open, she found Jimmy soaked with sweat, his eyes bulging. He was barely able to talk.

He had bitten his arm in several places, apparently in agony.

Jimmy will be all right, a doctor said, after a day's rest, but a few minutes more and it might have been a different story.

Belgian House Cuts Catholic School Aid

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The Belgian House of Representatives last night voted 111-1 to approve the controversial government bill to cut state aid to Roman Catholic schools by about 5½ per cent.

The chamber's 95 Catholic (Social Christian) party members boycotted the ballot and walked out in protest.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where the Socialist-Liberal government coalition also has a majority.

* * *

Between 60,000 and 100,000 Catholics marched on Brussels last March to protest the legislation. The government banned the demonstration and in the ensuing clashes between the police and demonstrators, about 40 persons were injured and 64 were jailed briefly.

After the Catholic walkout yesterday, Socialist Premier Achille Van Acker denied that the bill was intended as an attack on the church. The Socialists contend that the 1950-54 Social Christian government increased aid to church schools disproportionately.

James H. Bobo, committee counsel, said that the three-day inquiry will delve into the influence on youth of sex and violence in motion pictures, pornographic literature and pictures.
