CONG SUSPECTS — A group of captured Viet Cong suspects was forced to lie on the ground awaiting evacuation to an interrogation camp from the La Tinh Valley in South Viet Nam. Soldiers of the 1st Cavalry Division are in the process of tying the hands of the suspects. Scores were rounded up by a battalion of the 7th Cavalry Regiment that was helicoptered into the valley for a sweep operation. The valley is 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

FINE FRIENDS — Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Bragassa of Raleigh, N.C., returned home yesterday from their honeymoon to find their bedroom literally filled with newspapers. Friends had stuffed papers into the bedroom so tightly that Bragassa couldn't get in the door. He had accumulated this pile of papers after only a few minutes work. His car was too small to haul the papers, so he had to hire a truck. The same friends filled the bathtub with balloons and the refrigerator with wood.

U.S. Continues to Hold Off Air Strikes in North

Washington Declines to Comment on New Cong Truce Offer

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong tonight announced a four-day cease-fire in its war against South Vietnamese forces during the lunar New Year celebration next month.

Meanwhile, the United States extended the moratorium on its air war against North Viet Nam for a fourth day.

A broadcast of the Communist Liberation Front radio said the Viet Cong would "stop attacking the puppet armed forces and government" from 12:01 a.m. Jan. 20 to midnight Jan. 23.

The four-day festival, known as Tet, is celebrated as a national holiday in Viet Nam.

The broadcast did not mention U.S. and other foreign forces fighting alongside the South Vietnamese.

MILITARY ACTIONS

But conceivably it could apply to them since their military actions are coordinated with those of the Vietnamese troops even when they are not joint operations.

In Washington there was an evident inclination to treat the maneuver as something to be dealt with by the military command on the spot.

U.S. officials had taken that line throughout in connection with the brief and often-broken Christmas cease-fire.

★ ★ ★

A State Department spokesman declined comment of any nature on the new Viet Cong move.

NO REACTION

There was no immediate reaction from American or Vietnamese officials to the Viet Cong broadcast.

There also was no indication how long the American air pause would last or whether the Viet Cong announcement signified a peace reaction to the American moratorium.

The guerrillas have suspended hostilities in the past during the Tet celebration.

★ ★ ★

The Saigon government in the past has dismissed Communist offers of a truce for Tet as propaganda. Nevertheless, a lull has usually developed on both sides during the holiday.

ENJOY FESTIVAL

The Viet Cong broadcast said the offer would allow their "compatriots" to enjoy the Tet festival, and allow "military men and personnel of the puppet government to return to their villages, worship their ancesters and visit their family tombs."

The broadcast added an unexplained qualification to the offer.

It said that "soldiers, officers and personnel of the puppet government who return to their villages must comply with the practical regulation set fourth by the Liberation Front military command."

★ ★ ★

These "practical regulations" were not detailed.

CHRISTMAS TRUCE

When they offered a 12-hour Christmas truce, the Viet Cong said "enemy" troops must not carry weapons and must refrain from any spying.

In what appeared to be an escalation of the U.S. peace offensive, a U.S. spokesman said the United States also had suspended B52 raids on suspected Viet Nam and cut

View Budget, Viet

President, McNamara Confer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara conferred today at the LBJ Ranch about the new Pentagon budget and developments in Viet Nam.

McNamara flew to the ranch for dinner last night, talked with Johnson until after midnight and began a new round of conferences about 7 a.m. over breakfast, acting press secretary Joseph Laitin reported.

The President is pushing final plans for a guns-and-butter federal budget for the 1966 Congress.

Normally the budget would be due by Jan. 25 but Laitin said an extension of the deadline might be sought "because of new hard looks at possible new economies."

★ ★ ★

In addition to meetings with McNamara, Johnson conferred by telephone this morning with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George W. Ball, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

Laitin said Johnson and McNamara talked about the budget, the Christmas cease-fire in Viet Nam, material and manpower needs and "the general Vietnamese situation."

He said the two men also reviewed reports forwarded from Viet Nam by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff.

Laitin reported, too, that they discussed medical assistance and land reform in Viet Nam.

Asked if the White House had any reaction to the Viet Cong announcement of a four-day cease-fire coinciding with next month's lunar New Year celebration, Laitin said he understood this announcement was directed at the South Vietnamese government which was studying it. He said the United States is not involved.

Federal spending this fiscal year under the Johnson administration is expected to reach an all-time high of between $105-billion and $107 billion. Next year's figure is expected to be higher, with increased spending on the Viet Nam war.

The Texas White House said today no final decisions have been made yet on the spending blueprint for the 1967 fiscal year that begins next July 1 — the period covering by the forthcoming budget.

Sources disclosed, however, that Johnson would be having budget conferences this week with a number of top Washington officials at his ranch home near Johnson City. At least some final decisions were expected to emerge from these sessions.

Cosmos 102 and 103 Launched by Soviets

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched two more satellites in its mysterious Cosmos series—Cosmos 102 and 103, the Soviet News Agency Tass reported.

The agency reported the launching of Cosmos 103 only two hours after reporting the launching of Cosmos 102. Tass said equipment on both satellites was functioning normally.

State Surplus---$136 Million

Income Tax Unlikely

LANSING (UPI) — The possibility of any push for an income tax at the next session of the state legislature grew even more remote yesterday with word from fiscal experts that Michigan would have a surplus of about $136 million at the end of the fiscal year.

Some lawmakers, trying to heed words from Gov. George Romney that the state faced financial problems unless it passed new taxes, tried to get tax reform measures passed during the fall session of the legislature but failed.

Most legislators believed the state's $136 million surplus would hold up under the pressure of increased public money demands.

Elliot G. Ballard, House Ways and Means Committee budget analyst, said yesterday he believed the state would maintain its surplus by the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

"I wouldn't be greatly surprised if it wasn't diminished one whit by June 30, assuming a strong economy and a more or less standard budget," he said.

★ ★ ★

Several organizations, including both political parties still are clamoring for the legislature to adopt some means of fiscal reform.

UNCONCERNED

However, such action continues to be the least of the lawmakers concerns as they head into an election year reluctant to change any money policies which might mean more taxes.

The state passed a record $829 million budget for the current fiscal year and expectations are it will take $893 million during the next fiscal year to maintain the same programs.

Increased expenditures for mental health and education and other programs are expected to eat heavily into the surplus.

But state lawmakers, particularly Democrats, mindful of increased costs, believe the state's economy will continue to flourish and are not interested in raising the unpopular question of additional taxes.

Pay raises for state employes and the cost of providing tax relief for elderly home owners also are among the areas which will take more state money during the next fiscal year.

Numerous Gifts for 1st '66 Baby

Contest Sponsored by Pontiac Press, C. of C.

Gifts galore are waiting for the winner of the First Baby of 1966 Contest, sponsored by The Pontiac Press in cooperation with the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Money, clothes and furniture are among the numerous items that will go to the Pontiac area's first arrival of the new year.

The proud parents haven't been forgotten either by the 25 merchants and businessmen donating the gifts.

To be eligible, a baby must be born to married parents living north of 14 Mile in Oakland County.

Entries must be made through a family doctor by 5 p.m. Jan. 4 to the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in the Riker Building, listing the exact time and date of birth, sex, weight and name of baby and the names and address of the parents.

GIFTS FOR WINNER

The gifts include a sweater, bonnet and booties from Waite's Department Store; crib and mattress from World Wide Furniture; bathinette and high chair from Montgomery Wards; scale from Fitzpatrick Pharmacy; walker-stroller from K mart; two cases of baby formula from the A. J. Stark Pharmacy; and one case of evaporated milk from Foodtown Market.

Gathering of Fords at Prewedding Fete

NEW YORK (AP) — Watch the Fords go by was the game played in the Delmonico Hotel lobby last night as more than 400 well-heeled and well-known persons made their way to 24-year-old Anne Ford's prewedding party.

Early in the evening, the father of the bride-to-be, Henry Ford II, led the parade.

Accompanying him was the mother of the bride-to-be, Anne McDonnell Ford, from whom he was divorced last year after 23 years of marriage.

There also was vivacious, blonde Cristina, whom he married in February. Along too, was the bridegroom, Giancarlo Uzielli.

The couple will be married in a civil ceremony this afternoon at Mrs. McDonnell Ford's Fifth Avenue apartment.

★ ★ ★

The family shied away from photographers and raced for the elevators. Twelve security men were assigned to protect the privacy of the party — one of the most heavily guarded parties in the hotel's history.

★ ★ ★

Among the Fords present besides Henry II, were Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford; William C. Ford; Walter Buhl Ford II and Walter Buhl Ford III; Miss Eleanor Clay Ford; Miss Josephine Ford; Mrs. Marnie Ford; Alfred Ford; Edsel Ford, Henry's son.

Congressman Will Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., who was named to a federal judgeship last August, announced today he will resign from Congress and take the new post next Feb. 3.

Among other things he will be leaving the chairmanship of the House Commerce Committee, which handles legislation dealing with all forms of transportation, radio and television broadcasting and public utilities.

Plan Key Steps Next Year for Osteopathic College

With a successful countdown nearly complete, final preparations will be made in 1966 for the launching of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM).

Vital groundwork is planned for the new year. Two major financial steps are to be undertaken.

- Osteopaths will seek passage of a state bill leading to state operating funds.
- A bid for federal funds will be submitted.

On the first step, the osteopaths are halfway home.

The State Senate has approved a bill to set up a 10-member authority to govern the projected medical school.

★ ★ ★

The bill, which no longer contains a provision for any state financial assistance, is to be revived in the January session of the House.

IN COMMITTEE

Now in the House State Affairs Committee, the bill, if passed, would probably be followed by an appropriations measure.

This latter bill would provide state operating and maintenance funds for the MCOM.

The second financial step is the request for some $16 million in federal funds. College supporters plan to make application for federal aid early in 1966.

★ ★ ★

Other MCOM activity will include moving into the first building on the 164-acre campus at Auburn and Opdyke.

Brain Tumor Claims Girl, 5

Marked Yule Early Because of Illness

Diane VanKleek — the five-year-old girl who got an early Christmas visit from Santa and cards and letters from as far away as Viet Nam — died at Pontiac General Hospital last night.

Death — termed imminent by doctors since discovery of a brain tumor last July — came to the girl just before 11 p.m.

The end followed weeks of hospitalization, during which the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Kleek of 3184 Warren, Waterford Township suffered paralysis and almost constant pain.

In recent days, a respiratory ailment had also struck the child.

Diane became the object of servicemen's letters and Christmas baskets from classmates after her parents made plans for an early holiday observance.

DOCTORS UNCERTAIN

At that time—about the first week in December — doctors were uncertain the little girl would live until Christmas Day.

While cheered by the gifts, including dolls and a teddy bear, Diane was unable to take solid food and depended on milk for nourishment.

On Christmas Day, she did not feel well enough for a visit from her three sisters, brought to the hospital by the VanKleeks.

Funeral service will be 1 p. m. Friday at the Coats Funeral Home, Waterford Township.

Youth Falls to Death

DETROIT (AP) — Police sought to identify a youth, about 17, who fell to his death from an overpass onto the John Lodge Freeway today. The youth was struck by several autos after he hurtled to the pavement.

Mission Is Unauthorized

'New Left' Prof, 2 Others Said in Hanoi

NEW YORK (AP) — Staughton Lynd, a Yale professor and a spokesman for the "new left," is reported in Hanoi to talk with leaders of Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

Lynd, accompanied by two other Americans, is on an unauthorized mission that could result in stiff federal penalties.

The trip is sponsored by the magazine Viet Report "in an effort to clarify the position of the National Liberation Front, (Viet Cong) and the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam," said John McDermott, associate editor of the magazine.

McDermott said the magazine is not paying any money for the trip, and in fact "pays for very few articles." He said Lynd carries papers identifying him as the magazine's correspondent in Viet Nam.

McDermott said an afternoon news conference would be held today to elaborate on the trip and its purposes.

The other two men on the trip are Thomas Hayden of Royal Oak, Mich., a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, and Herbert Aptheker, a reputed Communist theoretician.

Hayden, 1961 graduate of the University of Michigan, was editor in 1960-61 of the Michigan Daily, student newspaper at the school.

Lynd's wife, reached at her home in New Haven, Conn., Monday night, said: "He is going because of his concern for peace."

The three left New York Dec. 19 and flew to Brussels, Prague, Moscow, Peking and then to North Viet Nam by way of Cambodia, said McDermott.

He said the magazine had not yet heard from Lynd, "but we expect to hear from him shortly." He did not explain how this would be done.

FOR 'CLARIFICATION'

McDermott said the magazine is sponsoring the mission because "reports that appear in the American press purportedly describing or attributing positions to the National Liberation Front and the DRV conflict with their reports of their position. The purpose of the trip is to clear this up."

Lynd, 36, an assistant professor of history at Yale University, has a long identification with pacifist activities. He is regarded as a leading spokesman for the "new left" — the ad hoc committees, student groups, and the lonely rebels and revolutionaries.

* * *

The mission represents the bringing together of a number of critics of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Lynd has demonstrated against the war in Viet Nam, and the magazine Viet Report is a frequent critic of American policy there. The Students for a Democratic Society has been an organizing force in the antiwar demonstrations.

The three men could face a $5,000 fine, five years in prison, or both for visiting North Viet Nam without permission from the State Department.

Hayden, 26, is an organizer for the New Community Union project in Newark, N.J., which seeks to organize the poor on issues such as housing, unemployment and welfare.

* * *

Aptheker, director of the American Institute for Marxist Studies in New York, is a historian and author of two books, "A Documentary History of the Negro People in the U. S." and "American Negro Slave Revolts." In 1953 the State Department ordered his works removed from U.S. overseas libraries.

Mrs. Lynd said her husband had discussed the trip with several persons in the Yale community before leaving, including Louis Pollak, dean of the Yale Law School. The school was not told formally of his leaving.

4-Day Truce Offered

off air reconnaissance of the Communist north.

North Viet Nam charged yesterday that U.S. reconnaissance planes and warships intruded into its air space and territorial waters on Christmas Day despite the allied truce.

* * *

The spokesman said early tonight that Washington had not yet given the order to resume strikes against the north.

REFUSED COMMENT

He refused to comment further on the longest interruption in the air attacks since a five-day suspension in May.

The last air attack on the north was at 5:45 p.m. Christmas Eve, 15 minutes before the American 30-hour cease-fire for Christmas.

Although American planes stayed out of the northern skies, U.S. and South Vietnamese pilots flew 286 combat sorties against the Viet Cong in the south in the past 24 hours, spokesmen said.

They dropped 299 tons of bombs and claimed to have destroyed 44 Viet Cong buildings, damaged 272 more, and sunk 15 sampans. They also said they broke up numerous Communist bunkers, tunnels and caves.

KEY ROLE

Fighter-bombers played a key role in repulsing two predawn attacks by 500 guerrillas on the mountain militia post of Bu Prang, 30 miles northwest of Gia Nghia and 110 miles northeast of Saigon.

A flare ship lighted the sector, and the air support roared in while an outnumbered Vietnamese regional force company held off the attackers.

Fifty Viet Cong were reported killed. Government casualties were described as light.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, airmobile, began a search and destroy operation 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon, 260 miles up the coast from Saigon.

15 KILLED

As the flying horsemen hunted in multibattalion strength for Viet Cong concentrations, they killed 15 guerrillas and captured 5, spokesmen said.

South Korea's Capital Division, operating in the same area, killed 36 Viet Cong and found 10 tons of rice yesterday, spokesmen added.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said he was unable to say whether the suspension in the attacks by the eight-engine Superfortresses was linked with the air lull in the north. The bombers last flew in from Guam Friday morning.

* * *

The big jets had been dropping their 750-pound bombs almost daily on jungle targets, some only a few miles from Saigon, since June 17. The fighter-bomber raids on North Viet Nam began Feb. 7.

* * *

Officials here and in the United States deliberately avoided any discussion of the air war moratorium, which was generally interpreted as a new effort to draw North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh's regime to the conference table and to show the world the United States is ready to talk peace even if the Communists are not.

The Viet Cong apparently expected an easy time when they attacked Bu Prang because of recent unrest among the Montagnard tribesmen in the area.

The mountain people are grumbling about Saigon's rule and want autonomy although they are anti-Communist.

Humphrey Asks Japan's Advice

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Tokyo tonight on the first leg of a brief Asian tour and appealed to Japan for help and advice in "our common endeavors."

Humphrey planned an 18-hour stopover, en route to the inauguration of Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos. During his Asian swing he will talk to leaders about Viet Nam but won't go there.

* * *

Met by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina, the vice president delivered an arrival statement which appeared to anticipate Japanese calls for no-holds-barred discussion of U.S. policy in Viet Nam, a touchy subject in Japan.

"The brevity of my stay should not obscure the importance we in the United States attach to frequent and frank consultation with your leaders,"

GOALS ARE SAME

"Our goals and aspirations are much the same. We share the same deep commitments to peace, liberty and the prosperity of all peoples. We value your friendship, we look for your advice, we need your help in our common endeavors."

* * *

This last sentence could have been a veiled reference to the fact that the Japanese, though still pro-American, are reluctant allies where Viet Nam is concerned.

* * *

About an hour before Humphrey arrived, police cleared some 200 Communist students from the airport's viewing ramp.

Shortly before he landed some 2,500 leftists demonstrated for 40 minutes in downtown Tokyo. They shouted "War maker Humphrey go home." Police said the march was noisy but orderly.

HAVE POLICE GUARD

Police guarded an intersection leading to the U.S. Embassy and kept the demonstrators from heading in that direction.

* * *

The march followed a rally at a downtown park where the Communists adopted a resolution accusing the United States of "trying to organize an Asian military alliance among the Philippines, Nationalist China, South Korea and Japan" by sending Humphrey to Asia.

The Japanese Communists announced plans to mobilize 10,000 persons to march in front of the U. S. Embassy in protest against Humphrey's visit.

Humphrey is the first vice president to visit Japan since 1958, when Richard M. Nixon came here.

TALKS WITH HIROHITO

Humphrey will be received by Emperor Hirohito and will have a two-hour talk with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

Humphrey goes to Manila Wednesday to represent the United States at the inauguration Thursday of Philippine President-elect Ferdinand E. Marcos.

The U. S. vice president also is scheduled to meet with President Chung Hee Park of South Korea in Seoul and with President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China on Formosa. He returns to Washington Jan. 2.

Northwest Hit by Rain, Snow

Cold, Strong Winds Prevail Along Coast

By The Associated Press

Strong winds, heavy rain and snow struck sections of the Pacific Northwest today.

Below-zero temperatures were reported in many areas, mostly along the northern border states.

Cape Blanco, in southern Oregon, reported nearly seven inches of rain in the last 24 hours. At Brookings, Ore., the rainfall in the same period totaled nearly six inches.

* * *

At Crescent City, on California's northern coast, more than two inches of rain fell in six hours.

The northern California and southern Oregon areas were the scenes of damaging floods a year ago.

GALE WARNINGS

Strong winds buffeted many sections along with the rain. Gale warnings were posted from northern California to Puget Sound.

* * *

Two large barges, with no one aboard, were torn loose from a tug and wallowed in stormy seas 30 to 40 miles off the central Oregon coast. An oil company's drilling platform, 200 feet square, rode out 45-foot waves 25 miles off the northern Oregon coast. Some 40 men were on the barge-like platform. Winds at the time were reported at 105 m.p.h.

* * *

A blizzard struck in the Blue Mountains of northeastern Oregon and blizzards closed Interstate 5 in southern Oregon and U.S. 97 in northern California. Dust storms at Baker and La Grande, in eastern Oregon, changed into snow storms.

Wet, heavy snow fell in western Washington and there was much drifting in some areas. More than a foot of snow covered areas in central and northeastern Washington. Power was restored in largely rural Mason County Monday afternoon, ending a 13-hour countywide blackout.

Contaminated Swamp Empty

Polluted Water Taken Into the Clinton River

A 7,500-square-foot swamp, termed polluted and unsafe by residents of Drayton Woods Subdivision, has been drained into the Clinton River. Waterford Township Board members learned last night.

E. R. Lawson, director of inspections, reported that the Oakland County Road Commission has drained approximately 90 per cent of the swamp through a tube under Highfield into a ditch running alongside Midrow to the river.

Tests taken of samples from the swamp bore out residents' contentions that the water was polluted, according to Lawson, who observed that one section of the swamp was highly-contaminated.

However, he stressed that the water discharged from the swamp was less polluted than some of the township's lakes.

Lawson said it is obvious that raw sewage entered the swamp and that one home owner in Watkins Hills Subdivision has been warned by county health officials to take preventive measures immediately.

The county also will check other residences, noted Lawson.

SEWAGE DILUTED

Storm drainage flowing into the swamp diluted the sewage, accounting for lower pollution content in some spots, according to Lawson.

Measures were taken when Drayton Woods residents complained that storm drainage and raw sewage were allowed to flow downhill, thus creating a contaminated water hole.

Sun helmets worn by United States naval officers in the Pacific's Palau Islands became status symbols after the Americans left. The chiefs forbade storekeepers to sell them to commoners.

Family Sifts Garbage Pile for Valuables

NEW YORK (AP) — A Chinese family searched through seven tons of garbage today for a paper bag that was placed for safekeeping in a trash container. They say the bag contains $6,700 in money and jewelry.

Miss Kwan Lee, a Queens laundry operator, said she hid the valuables Sunday when she went out because she was afraid of robbers.

But she forgot to retrieve them later and the garbage was picked up Monday by a sanitation department truck. The refuse was traced to a garbage-laden barge and she and relatives were given permission to sift through the contents when it arrived.

Critics Rap Peace Feeler Role

Italian Resigns Foreign Minister Post

AMINTORE FANFANI

The resignation of the fiery little foreign minister came only a week before a special session of the Foreign Affairs Commission of the Chamber of Deputies called to question his part as middleman in the purported peace maneuver.

* * *

Fanfani made it clear he still wants to face the commission and answer its questions.

He asked that his resignation become effective Jan. 6, one day after the extraordinary commission hearing, so that he can appear before his critics while still foreign minister.

WILL REFUSE

Some here expressed the opinion that Premier Aldo Moro would refuse to accept the resignation as a sign of solidarity with Fanfani, who is of his same Christian Democrat party but who often has been his political opponent.

In his letter of resignation Fanfani indicated that he still was convinced of the good faith of former Florence Mayor Giorgio la Pira who passed on to him the purported Hanoi peace feeler which Fanfani passed to President Johnson.

* * *

Over the past weekend a far-right magazine, Borghese, published what it called an interview with La Pira, quoting him as criticizing Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Moro, and saying communism no longer exists and Red China has only eight million bicycles. That was a reference to the late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini's brag that he had eight million bayonets.

The purposed interview raised a storm of criticism. La Pira said he had been quoted out of context on remarks he made half in jest and half in paradox at a private party.

IN FANFANI'S HOME

Borghese said that party was held in Fanfani's home.

Fanfani said in his letter of resignation that he did not agree with the criticism of La Pira. He said however, he felt it necessary to eliminate any doubts as to the sincerity of Italy's actions on an international level.

Thieves Show Food Appeal

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A thief who broke into the home of Mrs. Goldie Sutherland when she was at work not only helped himself to food while he was in the house, but carried provisions away with him.

Mrs. Sutherland reported to police that the intruder cooked and ate five eggs during his stay, then stole five dozen doughnuts, cookies, two jars of gelatine, two pounds of butter —and a 22-caliber pistol.

Lecture, Film Programs Scheduled at Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Lecture and film programs for Cranbrook Institute of Science members and guests have been scheduled for eight evenings during the first quarter of 1966.

* * *

Members' film programs held at the institute on Thursdays and Fridays are designed for most of the family.

Members' lectures, usually held in Cranbrook School Auditorium, are intended principally for adults and older children.

Reports of the institute's staff scientists are made on Wednesdays and are directed at adults and children over 15.

* * *

Guest tickets are sold when seats are available.

The first staff report, "Wings Over the Gulf," will be made by Walter P. Nickell at 8:30 p.m. Jan. 19.

NESTING GROUNDS

Nickell will summarize information about northern migratory birds that travel to their nesting grounds in the north each spring and return each fall to their winter quarters in the tropics, across the Gulf of Mexico.

Nature photographer Cleveland Grant will present a program on the African elephant at 8:15 p.m. Feb. 11.

Also captured by his camera are the zebra, kudu, gemsbok, tawny and martial eagles.

Dr. Maynard M. Miller, director of the glaciological institute at Michigan State University, will speak on the "Mount Kennedy Expedition" at 8:15 p.m., Feb. 23.

FIELD TEAM

Dr. Miller led a field team in glaciology, geology and mapping studies after Sen. Robert Kennedy's much-publicized climb.

"A Review of the Recent New Evidence on Human Evolution" will be presented at 8:15 p.m. March 25 by L.S.B. Leakey, of the Centre for Prehistory and Paleontology of Nairobi, Kenya.

A film entitled "World Without Sun," dealing with the sea, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. April 14 and 15.

* * *

The bat's ability to intercept airborn targets by use of its own "radar" will be discussed by Frederic A. Webster at 8:15 p.m. April 27.

DELIVER LECTURE

Webster, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will deliver a lecture entitled "The Bat and the Worm Gun."

"Mildred and the Medicine Men" is the title of the lecture to be delivered at 8:15 p.m. May 11.

Dr. Mildred E. Mathias will tell of her study of primitive medicines as botanical consultant to the University of California's pharmacology department.

Arraignment Set for Man Charged in Fatal Shooting

Jay D. Mead — charged with the fatal shooting of an Avon Township man Oct. 22 — was bound over to Circuit Court this afternoon for arraignment Jan. 11 on a charge of first-degree murder.

Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green ordered the 27-year-old Mead held without bond at the Oakland County Jail.

Mead was arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies following the gunshot death of Eugene W. Franzel, 24, during a tavern argument.

Injuries Claim 7th Victim in Ski Lift Mishap

CLERMONT- FERRAND, France (AP)—A 16-year-old girl, Genevieve Pieuchot, died Monday night, bringing to seven the number of persons fatally injured in a Christmas Day ski lift accident.

Eleven other persons were hurt when the cable car going up the Puy de Sancy mountain split open and hurled some of the passengers onto an ice-covered slope.

Claude Robert, leader of a group of youngsters on a ski holiday, was cited for the "Order of the Nation" for saving several of his charges from falling through the gaping hole in the cable car. Robert himself slipped through the hole and was killed.

8 Still Missing From Oil Rig

5 Men Known Dead in North Sea Tragedy

GRIMSBY, England (UPI) — Ships and helicopters searched the North Sea today with fading hopes of finding more survivors of the collapse of an oil drilling platform in which 13 men were feared dead.

A British ship and a helicopter rescued 19 survivors when the $7 million oil rig "Sea Gem" disappeared beneath 20-foot waves in high winds Monday.

Five men were known dead and eight were still missing, with little hope held for their survival.

Eyewitnesses said two of the rig's 10 legs buckled — "like a horror movie in slow motion"— when something went wrong during the process of floating the platform off the sea bed in preparation for moving site.

* * *

Four of the survivors were injured, but not seriously. Fourteen other crewmen escaped the disaster because they were ashore on Christmas leave.

42 MILES OUT

Ships searched throughout the night with flares at the Sea Gem's position, 42 miles offshore from Grimsby on the east coast.

Helicopters joined in at dawn. But survival chances were low in the bitter North Sea in winter time. Countless seamen died in it in World War II.

Divers were expected to go down later today, weather and tide conditions permitting, to see if the rig is recoverable and to determine the cause of the disaster.

* * *

The 5,600-ton rig stood on 10 steel legs on the sea bed and when disaster struck it was being jacked down into the water so it would float — it was to have been towed today to a new drilling site two miles away.

Survivor Larry Burton, a 23-year-old driller, said, "The waves were enormous and it was sleeting and blowing a gale.

"Men were being thrown into the sea or hanging on for dear life. It was obvious we were going down. Within a couple of minutes the waves were washing right over the rig and pounding it.

* * *

"I jumped and an enormous wave washed me away. I was lucky because I found a raft from the rig and hung on until I was picked up."

Take Rights Initiative, Agencies Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agencies have been urged to take the initiative in enforcing Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act — the provision that forbids racial discrimination in federally assisted programs and permits the government to cut off funds where discrimination exists.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach told 21 agencies that the government should seek out illegal discrimination and try to end it rather than wait for complaints before acting.

* * *

In the first formal guidelines on the application of Title VI, Katzenbach said "Title VI must and will be enforced. We cannot rely solely — or even primarily — on the filing of complaints by those who are the subject of Title VI violations. Ultimate success will, in large measure, depend on how effectively the respective departments and agencies actually monitor compliance in the field."

The attorney general said the guidelines will apply to all federally aided projects, including schools, highways, hospitals and farms.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Nam war would prove costly not only to President Johnson's Great Society program but also to his heavy Democratic majorities in Congress, a nonpartisan citizens group said today.

A report of the National Committee for an Effective Congress said the Democrats' hopes for holding the gains they made in the House in the 1964 elections are "gravely jeopardized by the Viet Nam war."

* * *

Continuing escalation in Viet Nam, the committee said, will have an impact on the administration's domestic legislative program by placing "a new and sharper knife in the hand of the economy bloc."

The committee, which supports what it regards as qualified candidates of both parties for the Senate and the House, said its chief criterion in 1964 was to reduce "Goldwaterism as a significant factor in American politics."

'NO PROBLEM'

In the Senate, the committee said, next year's elections pose no problem for the Democrats because they outnumber the Republicans 68-32 and only a third of the seats will be at stake. It would take three successive landslides for the Republicans to regain control, the report said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation enters its sixth year of boom in a few days and the National Planning Association estimates that national output in 1966 will soar to $716 billion, a $44-billion gain over 1965 production.

The actual rise could vary by as much as $10 billion, officials of the group said, because of the uncertain estimates for military spending.

The NPA's forecast is several billion dollars higher than most fiscal experts believed possible a few weeks ago, but many estimates now run $720 billion or more.

The association's report suggested, however, that the administration's main problem will be finding and pursuing an economic policy of "equally continued growth on the one hand and preventing an inflationary price rise on the other."

If a $44-billion gain is realized in 1966, it would amount to a real gain in output of about 4.2 per cent compared with 4.9 per cent last year. The estimate is reached after allowing for probable price increases.

EASINGTON COLLIERY, England (UPI) — "I thought it was backache," said Mrs. Linda Coates, 41, yesterday after doctors surprised her by delivering a bouncing baby girl.

Ellerhorst, 2 Cohorts Convicted

DETROIT (AP) — Contractor Lester C. Ellerhorst of Garden City and his two codefendants were convicted Monday of plotting extortion and murder.

A Recorder's (Criminal) Court jury of eight men and four women returned the verdict after 3½ hours of deliberation interrupted by a Christmas weekend recess.

* * *

Ellerhorst, 61, once wealthy builder, heard the verdict in apparent calm.

Two men described by police as Florida ex-convicts—Edward Szeles, 34, and James Clark, 46—were convicted with Ellerhorst of conspiring extortion and murder against Detroit attorney Arthur Bichan last spring.

STATE LEGISLATOR

The prosecution said the three defendants also plotted to shake down and kill former Garden City Mayor James Tierney, now a state legislator, and Municipal Judge Russell Swarthout of Garden City, associates of Bichan.

The formal charge named only Bichan as the target of the plot.

* * *

A $150,000 damage judgement is standing against Ellerhorst in connection with his felonious assault conviction for shooting and wounding Tierney in 1957 in a dispute over a Garden City building job. Tierney says he never has been able to collect on the judgment.

Bichan was Tierney's lawyer in the damage suit against Ellerhorst.

STATE HOSPITAL

In 1959, Ellerhorst was committed to Northville State Hospital. He left twice without authorization. The trial prosecution said Ellerhorst met Szeles and Clark in Florida on his last absence from the hospital.

The prosecution, directed by John W. Coury, chief trial lawyer for the Wayne County prosecutor's office, said the three defendants plotted to lure Swarthout and Tierney to Bichan's home and take their lives.

Ellerhorst engineered the plot, the prosecution said, in an attempt to collect money he claimed was due him.

Fireman Saves Doll, Then Tot

NEW YORK (UPI)—A fireman had to battle through smoke and flames twice yesterday to rescue a 3-month-old boy. In his first attempt he unknowingly picked up a life-sized doll.

"There's a baby trapped up there," screamed Mrs. Viola Goodwin, the child's grandmother, as firemen arrived at the flaming Bronx apartment.

Fireman Frank Cartica, 35, a father of five, dashed up four flights of stairs and smashed down the locked apartment door.

Heat drove him back and he went into an adjoining apartment, out on the fire escape and broke a window in the burning apartment.

* * *

Wearing thick gloves, he stumbled blindly through the smoke to a bed and picked up what he thought was an infant. At the window he saw he had a doll. He dropped it, then went back and found the unconscious child.

* * *

Cartica revived Darrow Brown with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in an ambulance en route to a hospital. Doctors said the infant would live.

Milk Producers Association to Mark 50th Anniversary

Michigan Milk Producers Association will celebrate its 50th anniversary in 1966. The general theme of the year-long observance will be "Strength Through Unity."

* * *

Members in 94 locals of MMPA will honor longtime members. The 12 districts in Michigan will also observe the golden anniversary with appropriate activities. Statewide honors will be conferred at the 1966 annual meeting scheduled for March 22 at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Site of the meeting is especially appropriate since it was at MSU (then Michigan Agricultural College) that a group of farmers from the Howell area who were producing milk for the Detroit market got together to form MMPA in 1916.

Of the original group, two men remain. They are Jay Tooley, of Howell, and James G. Hays, of East Lansing. Honors for the two are planned for the 1966 annual meeting.

* * *

While MMPA's half - century of service to Michigan dairy farmers will receive major attention during 1966, the future will not be neglected.

REAL TURNING POINT

"It seems as if we're always on some sort of threshhold, but I believe that 1965 has marked a real turning point in the business of dairy farming and milk marketing," said MMPA President Glenn Lake of North Branch.

In terms of milk not needed for bottling and processed into dairy products by MMPA plants, the 1965 reduction was more than 15 per cent. There were fewer MMPA farmers producing milk for the market in 1965 compared with 1964 (about 10,000 this year, 11,000 last), but production per farmer — and consequently income per farm — was up.

Average member income from milk increased $1,193 to $12,639, but production costs on the farm were higher.

* * *

Other significant MMPA marketing facts of 1965:

- There was continued increasing demand for milk picked up in tanker trucks at farms and hauled directly to Detroit for bottling or processing by dairies.

* * *

- Ease of transporting milk over longer distances signalled the end to "country receiving stations," which for years were the mainstays of the milk business.

At year's end, MMPA still had only one receiving station not slated for closing (at Bad Axe), but it is sure to close within a few months, officials say.

- MMPA's growing united bargaining strength enabled a price to dairies of $5.10 per hundredweight of milk, starting Aug. 1. The price was the highest in several years and the highest in midwestern states.

* * *

- The bargaining principles upon which MMPA operates again withstood efforts of those inside and outside the farm community to weaken farmer cooperatives in general and MMPA in particular.

CHANGES IN MARKETING

Michigan Milk Producers Association General Manager Jack W. Barnes said the changes in milk marketing in 1965 and the anticipated changes in 1966 are further proof that realistic bargaining by a recognized, responsible cooperative is the mainstay of dairy farmer welfare.

"While bargaining for price and guaranteeing a market for member milk is and always will be our most important activity, the many other services performed by MMPA have again demonstrated the advantages of belonging to the association," Barnes said.

An example, he said, is the more than $85,000 in direct payments to farmers hit by destructive fire or windstorm during 1965.

* * *

MMPA disaster protection enables farmers hit by misfortune to return to milk production without crippling loss of income. The most dramatic example of this came after the Palm Sunday tornadoes which hit many MMPA farmers hard.

$45,000 PAID

Another $45,000 was paid out by MMPA to members under the association's "guarantee of payment."

* * *

MMPA also provides a wide variety of testing, quality control and informational services to member farmers. The importance of these advantages will surely grow in 1966, Barnes said.

* * *

"We know that changes in milk marketing and changes in MMPA operations will take place in 1966," he said. "We also know that our members recognize these facts, and that they will decide, through their elected leaders in MMPA, what steps are best."

Earnings in 1965 Highest on Record

Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) members will receive more money for milk sold in 1965 than in any previous year, according to the organization's annual year-end report.

* * *

Members will be paid a total of $127 million for 3,006,630,000 pounds of milk this year, compared to $126 million received for 18 million more pounds sold in 1964.

* * *

Premiums negotiated by MMPA over and above Michigan Federal Order prices will total about $19 million in 1965, according to the report.

"These premiums could not have been obtained without the bargaining strength which united dairy farmers have," the report says.

Site Selected for Junior High

FARMINGTON — The board of education last night decided to build Farmington School District's fourth junior high school in the southern portion of Farmington Township.

* * *

Site for the unit will be approximately 20 acres of property adjacent to the Gill Road Elementary School site on the west side.

* * *

Architects at Linn Smith Associates Inc. of Birmingham now are designing the school, which is scheduled to open in September, 1967.

The construction will be financed by funds from a $5 million bond issue approved by district property owners in 1963.

Certain young animals play games that are favorites with children. Lambs and gibbons like to play "follow the leader." Young otters and deer enjoy "hide and seek." Badgers prefer "king of the castle."

In 9 Area Villages

January Filing Deadlines Near

Candidates in six area villages have until 4 p.m. Jan. 3 to file nominating petitions for vacant offices.

In Rochester and Milford, the deadline is Jan. 29. In Lake Orion, those seeking a position on the charter commission have until Jan. 24 to file nominating petitions.

Where a sufficient number of candidates file, a primary election will be held Feb. 21. The general election is scheduled March 14.

In Novi, which holds no primary election, candidates must file by 4 p.m. Feb. 23 to run for office in the March 8 election.

Romeo

The terms of president, clerk, treasurer, assessor and three trustees are expiring.

Expiring terms are those of President Byron Nichols, Clerk Norman Engel, Treasurer Mrs. Elaine Hosner, Assessor Fred Ebeling and trustees Martin Durham, Thomas Raymond and James Burke.

The trustee posts are all two-year terms. No petitions have been filed.

Oxford

The Village Council tonight will have to decide the official filing deadline. The state law sets Jan. 3 as the deadline while the village charter says no later than noon of the fourth Saturday prior to the primary.

Only one petition has been taken out for the three posts to be vacated.

* * *

Rochester

Jan. 29 is the last day for filing petitions with the village clerk. If more than eight persons file for the four expiring positions, a primary will have to be held. So far no petitions have been taken out.

Expiring two-year terms are those of councilmen Roy Rewold, Burdette Lewis and John Lowes. Harold Milton's one-year term is also up.

Leonard

Seven positions will be open. They are the terms of President Lawson Sheik, Clerk Mrs. Calvin Scheall, Treasurer Mrs. Mary Vore and Assessor Dwight Patterson.

Two-year council terms open are those of David Ferguson, Kenneth Peas and Donald Strong.

Lake Orion

In addition to seven positions to be filled, voters will be asked to elect five members to a charter commission.

Terms expiring are those of President Clarence Rossman, Treasurer Geraldine J. Campbell, Clerk Mary Parkinson, Assessor Robert Swem (or Albert Rhodes) and councilmen Lewie Rossman, Fred Cole and Robert Stokes.

Petitions for the charter commission must be filed by Jan. 24.

So far 15 petitions have been taken out for the charter commission and 35 for the seven expiring terms.

Holly

Eight village offices will be filled in the March 14 election here.

Officers whose one-year terms are expiring are appointee President Lott Everly, Clerk Betty Oliver, Treasurer Hulda Anderson and Assessor Grant H. Hulet.

The two-year council terms of John Ramm, Leo Oberhelm and John VanDeusen also are expiring.

Also to be filled is the year remaining in Everly's unexpired term. Everly was appointed president when John F. Oldani resigned in November.

Milford

Candidates have until Jan. 29 to file petitions to run for two three-year terms available on the Village Council.

Expiring terms are those of JoAnn Colton and appointee Hugh Davies, who was named to serve on the council when John Dodd resigned in April.

Novi

Three councilmen will be elected in the March 8 balloting here.

The two candidates pulling the highest number of votes will serve for four years and the next highest vote getter for two years.

Expiring terms are those of Ray D. Harrison, Dean H. Lenheiser and Donald C. Young Jr.

At Imlay City

Council Nominees Awaited

IMLAY CITY — Nominations for a vacant council position will be submitted to the Village Council at its next meeting Jan. 4, according to Village Manager Harvey Weatherwax.

The council recently declared the seat of Councilman Neil Wheeler vacated because he has been absent from eight of 12 regular meetings since the fiscal year began July 1.

An interstate truck driver, Wheeler informed the council by letter that he was changing jobs and would be able to attend meetings. However, the council refused to excuse his latest absence.

The village charter provides that the council shall vacate the seat of a councilman who has four unexcused absences in a row, or who is absent from 25 per cent of the meetings in any fiscal year.

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY. 80 PROOF. IMPORTED IN ORIGINAL CASKS BY McMASTER IMPORT CO., DETROIT, MICH.

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?
What's the gimmick?

Here it is:

One fine day the McMaster's people discovered that, simply by importing their Scotch whisky in barrels instead of bottles, they paid a lower tax—and saved their customers money.

Big tax savings, that's the reason McMaster's comes to America only in barrels.

You'd expect to pay $7.00 for an imported Scotch with the flavor and mellowness of McMaster's. But we save on taxes and other costs—so you pay only $4.97 a fifth, only $2.50 a tenth (tax included).

Now available in a new ½-gallon size for just $12.95. Sorry, they won't let us sell it by the barrel.

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?
Sure. McMaster's gives you the same big tax savings on its fine imported Canadian whisky, too. (Tax included.) Also available in ½ gallons at only $11.95.

Flying Earth Spies Detect Crop Defects

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. — Two miles high, the airplane raced over a field of wheat.

Looking down, a special spying eye detected the beginning of a serious crop disease, two weeks sooner than a human expert could have spotted the trouble on the ground. Steps to control the disease were taken that much earlier.

* * *

This is one example of a new, expanding kind of spying to pry out valuable earth secrets — how crops and forests are faring, where hidden minerals or oil may lie, to fight fires, to find clues to coming changes in climate and weather, to learn what man by his actions is doing to his own planet.

Earth scientists call this remote sensing of the environment. It is aided now by a whole family of new sensing devices developed largely for military uses and now being taken off the secret list.

SPOTS DISEASE

The spying eye over the wheat field was an infrared device which detects heat waves. A darker image from part of the field marked the beginning of black stem rust disease.

Dr. Robert N. Colwell, professor of forestry at the University of California, cited this instance of helpful spying today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

* * *

Combined use of infrared and ultraviolet devices, radar, regular and color photography, and other means, is capable of telling one kind of vegetation from another, how healthy the vegetation is, and even why it is becoming sick, Dr. Colwell said.

The devices can pick up information to help "predict weeks, months or years in advance what a yield will be" in crops, or orchards or timberland, he said.

COUNTS RAYS

Devices that count gamma rays — a form of X ray — emanating from uranium and other elements in rocks are proving helpful in studying geologic formations and compositions of soils, said Dr. Jack Van Lopik of Texas Instruments Inc., Dallas, Tex.

Dr. John Place of the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D.C., told of studies, assisted by the Navy, by University of Wisconsin scientists using special airborne devices to locate lakes in northern Canada that are the first to thaw or the first to freeze.

* * *

He said this can help in determining the "cold pole" of the North American continent, with significance in predicting weather and perhaps climatic changes.

Scientists now are learning how best to use the keen new eyes and to interpret the findings, said Dr. Charles E. Olson Jr., of the University of Michigan.

ALL-INCLUSIVE

Infrared and other kinds of peeking can even spot differences in cultivation practices, he said.

An infrared eye found the difference between two stands of corn, of exactly the same variety, fertilized the same way, in Minnesota. One had a darker tone.

The reason turned out to be that one field earlier had been planted to Alfalfa for three years while the other had been kept in corn for five years. The darker field contained more nitrogen and more moisture with deeper roots reflecting more heat, Dr. Olson said.

* * *

Vast areas of land could be surveyed to pinpoint better land practices to increase food yields for a hungry world, he said.

Earth satellites with special sensors promise further to advance man's knowledge of his own planet, and what is happening to it "in detail and in the turmoil" taking place on its surface, said Dr. James Latham, professor of geography at Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton, Fla.

Cubans to Celebrate Fidel Win, New Year

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than 50,000 Cubans are expected to attend a fiesta in Havana's Palace of the Revolution Friday night to celebrate both New Year's Eve and the eve of Fidel Castro's 1959 revolutionary victory, Havana radio says.

if Santa came down the wrong chimney . . .

and brought you a 58-Long when you wear a 32-Short, or an orange sweater that goes very nicely with nothing you own, or a shirt that was obviously intended for the Giant next door, you're in luck if it came from HHS. Just bundle it up and bring it back, and we'll be happy to exchange it for something more fitting. Please remember, though, that all Christmas exchanges MUST be made by January 4.

Auto Man Marks Rise With Pontiac Division

No one more fully merits the fine recognition recently given him by the Pontiac Motor Division than its general sales manager, E. R. (PAT) PETTENGILL.

PETTENGILL

The occasion was the 40th anniversary of the sales executive's career with the division, known as the Oakland Motor Car Co., when his name first appeared on the payroll. It preceded by a month the introduction of the Pontiac nameplate that in six years was to consign the Oakland product to the limbo of automobile dropouts.

★ ★ ★

Pat's steady rise in the Pontiac organization through a succession of central office and field assignments is a real-life testimonial to the efficacy of the Horatio Alger doctrine that by doing every job well you are inevitably led to bigger and better ones.

Appointed to the post in February 1965, the Pontiac sales boss saw an all-time sales record established for the year now ending. And 1966 model sales are running well ahead of comparable 1965 periods.

★ ★ ★

On his noteworthy record of service and brilliant progress in the automotive field we render a hearty salute to our good friend and neighbor—the home-town boy who made good in the home town.

Post Office Wallows in a Sea of Ink-Red

It is more or less axiomatic in business that more of it you do, the better off you are.

The axiom breaks down, however, when applied to the Federal postal service. The more mail it handles, the bigger the deficit.

And the Post Office Dept. is currently struggling with a mail explosion comparable to the population explosion which everybody has heard about.

The total of letters, cards, catalogs and packages handled by the Department during 1965 is estimated to hit 73 billion pieces (more than 8 billion in this month alone), an average of 375 per person.

★ ★ ★

In a single day an average of 200 million pieces of mail are delivered in our country, a volume almost as great as all the mail delivered in all the rest of the world.

But handling costs keep mounting faster than the volume of mail, and fiscal 1965's postal deficit of $791 million is seen increasing to $873 million for the 1966 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

So brace yourself for another hike in postal rates, likely before the end of next year, along with still more streamlining of service.

What with the rising cost of mailing, letter writers may one day find it cheaper to "say it with flowers."

Man vs. Machine Feud Nears Showdown Stage

One of the hilarious aspects of American life is the continuing war that goes on day to day between "we" the humans and "they" the machines.

It is largely undercover, waged in the office and in the home. Only once in a while does it get into print.

★ ★ ★

Marie Daerr, a Cleveland Press reporter, reached the end of the road when the income tax people, who had been sending her two tax forms with her name spelled differently on each, speared her with a third that had yet another variation of her name.

She struck back fearlessly. She returned a computer card not only FOLDED and STAPLED, but also PINNED with a straight pin.

A group of "guerrillas" in Houston, Tex., got into the spotlight briefly. The water bills all arrived with a delinquency fee added on. The machines won this battle.

★ ★ ★

The water company explained that their computer was late getting out the statements and had automatically added on the penalty. The customers would have to pay because there was nothing the water people could do about it without jamming up the whole electronic operation.

The machines had better beware, however. There's a new note of determination in this inscription found scrawled on a broken-down drink dispenser at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio:

"YOU FIX IT OR WE WILL."

Honeymoon Over for LBJ, Labor

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

(James Marlow is on vacation, and his column will be written by other AP staff members in his absence.)

WASHINGTON — Despite all the sweet talk at the AFL-CIO convention, the honeymoon between President Johnson and organized labor appears to be over.

There's no real threat of divorce, but there is a distinct chance of separate maintenance if the Democrats don't make good in January on their chief premarital pledge to the labor unions.

The promise was to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which permits the states to outlaw union shop contracts requiring all employes to join a union.

Johnson couldn't — or didn't — make Congress deliver the pledge this year to the politically powerful labor movement with its millions of votes.

★ ★ ★

AFL-CIO President George Meany, who once could dictate high Labor Department appointments, now can't even get an audience with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

JUST ONE QUESTION

With just two weeks left until Congress convenes, all Meany wants to know is when Mansfield plans to bring up 14B in the Senate and how hard he would fight to break another Republican filibuster like the one that blocked the repeal bill this year.

Is Mansfield avoiding Meany perhaps with the tacit agreement of Johnson, who at best has been lukewarm in his support of the repeal bill?

"Draw your own conclusions" grumbles the unhappy Meany, who months ago warned that the federation may have to take a hard new look at its relationships with both major political parties.

★ ★ ★

Labor, pledging all-out 1966 political support to protect some freshmen liberal House Democrats who voted to repeal 14B before the Senate filibuster blocked its final passage, really has no choice now but to string along with the administration.

CLOSE POCKETBOOK

But should Johnson, Mansfield and other Democrats fail to deliver on 14B early next year, organized labor might well zip shut its pocketbook in the 1968 presidential election year.

"We put a lot of muscle, manpower and money into Johnson's 1964 victory and Johnson knows it well," said the federation spokesman in confidently predicting repeal of 14B early next year.

But many labor leaders believe less in the chances of repeal than they do in Santa Claus.

★ ★ ★

What, then, can the labor chieftains do—if finally disenchanted with Johnson and the Democratic party — in future elections?

Said one high spokesman for the federation:

"We can stay home" on Election Day.

David Lawrence Says:

Letter States Case for Rhodesia

WASHINGTON — What's "Rhodesia" all about? Why should anybody in the United States worry about events in that country in central Africa? Can the realistic situation be summed up and simplified so that the average American understands it.

LAWRENCE

This correspondent has just received from an American businessman a letter that had come to him from a well-informed man of financial and business background in Rhodesia, who penned it primarily for the eyes of his close friend in the United States. It reads as follows:

"Having sold my business interests in Britain, I came here with my wife and two children in 1958. At that time there were three territories—namely, Rhodesia, Zambia and Malawi — federated in one unit under the British government.

"Unfortunately, the spirit of African nationalism which demanded immediate power became rampant, and in the face of nationalist demands, the British government broke up this federal unit and returned all of the territories to their constituent parts.

"The most advanced territory in every respect was that of Rhodesia, and it had enjoyed internal self-government since 1925 and was a remarkably well-managed country.

IS AFRICANS

"The Parliament consisted of fifty European members and fifteen African members who were elected entirely on a non-racial basis and on a qualitative franchise. That is to say, the principle of 'one man, one vote' did not apply, but individuals of all races could obtain their vote by showing that they had some measure of educational or property qualification.

"In the case of what are known as the 'B Roll' voters, these qualifications were minimal and resulted in the fifteen African seats in Parliament.

"Over a number of years, however, it was predictable that the African representation would increase as more of them qualified for the vote, and in anything between ten and fifteen years the control of government would pass into black hands.

"I have no doubt whatsoever that the principle of 'one man, one vote' is totally opposed to the interests of the people — and I mean all the people —of Rhodesia.

NO DOUBT

"There is no doubt that this country is today what it is as a result of the initiative, skill and capital of the white man. He is prepared to accept the African in government over a period as he becomes qualified to govern but not to hand over instantly.

"There is no doubt that this country could exist and take its place as an honourable member of the nations of the world if it were left to itself. But the British and American governments have put their heads together to destroy Rhodesia.

"It seems to me the utmost folly that this damaging policy should be pursued. There is an international effort being made to ruin this peaceful and delightful country which has been well-governed for many years and which is a threat to no other nation in the world.

"It is, in fact, one of the best bastions against communism in central Africa, and we cannot understand why America fights against communism in Viet Nam but is doing everything possible to ruin the opponents of communism in central Africa.

"We sincerely believe this policy is not only misguided but completely wrong in its conception.

Bob Considine Says:

Peace in Viet Headlines My Predictions for 1966

NEW YORK — Can't wait for 1966 to begin. It's going to be a year you'll never forget.

Just consider what's in store for you:

CONSIDINE

It's going to be the year the war in Viet Nam ends and we begin rebuilding everything we and the South Vietnamese knocked down in North as well as South Viet Nam.

It's to be the year when a lot of our young people shave and bathe again, what with peace reigning supreme and no further immediate threat that they might be drafted. Hence the return to a norm in dress and decorum, and a putting away of their makeups of immunity until the next emergency pops up.

The historian of the distant future will remember 1966 as the year the United Nations voted Red China into the club.

★ ★ ★

It's going to be the year the stock market shows how hard it has been praying for peace by sagging alarmingly when peace breaks out. One week later, it will be on the rise again.

GREAT RECEPTION

A.D. 1966 will see the Pope fly to Warsaw for a great reception from the people and no reception at all from the government. It will be a year for clarification of the church's attitude toward "the pill," meat on Friday and interfaith marriages.

It should be the year people begin to tire of color television and buy one of those dandy new color radios.

Somebody will invent a new dance that calls for immolation at the end, and the children will instantly adopt it, rendering the Frug, Watusi, Monkey, etc. etc., as obsolete as the Lambeth Walk.

★ ★ ★

This year could see Mickey Mantle yield to multiple aches and pains and chuck his $100,000 a year job with the Yankees, and Whitey Ford begin taking lessons (from Dizzy Dean and Joe Garagiola) pending his retirement from baseball to broadcasting.

Casey Stengel, out of earshot of the baseball writers, will start speaking English.

A fight manager will come up with an Israeli heavyweight and challenge Muhammed Ali.

We'll have a real scare on at least one of the remaining five Gemini shots, and, to everybody's surprise, the $33-million Surveyor, boosted by a $50-million rocket, will make a soft landing on the moon.

★ ★ ★

If you don't believe any of the above, well, go ahead and sue. To be sure everything was in order, I shook hands today with Ruth Montgomery, who has no peers among our seers.

Voice of the People:

'Present Administration Is Best Since Roosevelt'

In answer to disgusted Americans who cut down the give-away administration, I think it's the best we've had since the days of Roosevelt. It isn't our fault the Communists are in South Viet Nam but it is our duty to help their people hold up the flag of victory and freedom. South Vietnamese people want freedom and peace as does the United States. We have no choice but to fight the Communists.

★ ★ ★

Parents who write about their sons in Viet Nam should let them speak for themselves and then the truth will be heard. Chances are those sons are proud to know they are fighting for the purpose of freedom. Don't forget, this country stands for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness and that is what this administration is trying to provide.

Comments on Release of Cuban Refugees

Have you wondered why Castro has released large numbers of refugees to our shores, since this is so different than refugees in other countries planning escape and risking severe punishment if caught? These refugees are from the former capitalistic Cuba and if allowed to stay would ruin his program. He cannot kill them at the risk of our anger, so under the cloak of humanity he hopes to gain de facto diplomatic recognition for the Cuban regime. In our eagerness to aid the refugees we have fallen into a clever plan to strengthen Castro's movement to Latin America. He must be chuckling under that big black beard.

ANTI-COMMUNIST

Disagrees With Some Teaching by Clergy

How much longer do the clergy expect to continue telling the people that the star led the wise men to the manger where the baby Jesus lay? Luke 2:21 shows Jesus was taken to Jerusalem for circumcising when eight days old. Again when 40 days old (Luke 2:22-24) He was taken to the temple in Jerusalem according to the Mosaic law given in Leviticus 12:1-6.

★ ★ ★

The baby was not taken back to Bethlehem to be found close to two years later by wise men. No, Matthew 2:11 says he was living in a house. We could not be so misled if we would study our Bible. It does not lie. Check also Jeremiah 10:1-5.

Defends Appointment by County Treasurer

After seeing nothing but complaints in this column concerning the appointment of Shane Murphy, I thought it was about time someone took the other side of the issue. Since when isn't it customary in politics, from presidents on down, to fill positions with friends and relatives? Has anyone considered the fact that young Murphy might do a splendid job? No more than the job pays, I'm sure he won't have to make any earth-shattering decisions on his own. I get tired of hearing about the huge salary he will receive.

'Teen-Ager Did Kind and Thoughtful Deed'

We read many news items connecting our teen-agers with some sort of crime and at this time of year I think it would be nice to hear of some good deeds. Recently a 17-year-old boy found a purse and after finding out who it belonged to, returned it. I think this was an especially kind, thoughtful and honest gesture on the boy's part. Some people would have thought it so much easier to take the money and throw the purse away.

In Washington:

'66 Will Be Hard Ordeal for LBJ

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Some men in President Johnson's top circle believe 1966 will be by far the toughest year he has yet known in the White House.

It could be the hardest ordeal any Democratic chief executive has endured since Harry Truman suffered the political effects of the Korean war. In Johnson's case, of course, the war in Viet Nam is the key danger element.

BIOSSAT

Far more than with Korea, this complex struggle in Southeast Asia is made to order for political controversy. The lack of clear battle lines, the maddening elusiveness of the enemy, the greater elusiveness of either victory or a satisfactory settlement — these all contribute heavily to the President's dilemma.

Nevertheless, it is not plain that a Republican party thirsting for a comeback to power will benefit materially at the polls next year from the Viet Nam issue or its still ill-defined but possibly major domestic side effects.

Naturally, there is no way of knowing what principal posture the Republicans will adopt toward Viet Nam by campaign time. Much, obviously, depends on the course of the war, the roster of casualties, the predicted enlargement of the fighting.

But GOP spokesmen already are considerably handicapped in their quest for the winning side of the Viet Nam matter.

The party's congressional chiefs, and such other leaders as Richard M. Nixon, make hawk-like sounds too persistently to be accepted easily by the voters as prime advocates of the "peace side" of the issue. To try for that would call for a wrenching reversal.

By voting time in 1966, the GOP may indeed have found the handle on the Viet Nam issue. Or the party may simply benefit from the sort of public puzzlement and disgruntlement which helped it elect Dwight Eisenhower in the Korean war.

Still, there are some men of prominence (a handful of governors included) in the Republican fold who have begun to think that — at the national level — their party is not very adept at finding handles.

One of these Republicans recently offered this brutal assessment:

"The trouble with our party is we just don't have enough brains."

It is not the first time this reporter has heard such a comment from within the party. The argument is simply that, by and large, the party that is winning office consistently is the one that attracts the best qualified manpower.

As for those stalwarts who have managed to survive despite the long skein of party defeats, it is contended that their infrequent contact with real power has rendered them rusty in the knowledge of its uses.

Republicans thus may be caught in a wicked circle. The longer they are out of the power centers, the less plausible do they seem to many voters as "governing instruments." They are in a continuing crisis of confidence.

Now and then some discouraged Republican talks of the imminent death of his party. But before 1932, the Democrats existed for most of 75 years as a fairly bedraggled minority and still kept alive to grab the main chance and ascend to majority status after that turning point.

The historian tells us nothing to suggest that in their long minority twilight the Democrats were any better than the Republicans are today at finding winning issues and truly effective ways to oppose.

The year 1966, with all the difficulties it seems to promise for Lyndon Johnson, surely will provide the country fresh evidence as to just how far down the spectrum of frailty the modern Republican party has slipped.

NO TRAFFIC — Shoppers stroll through normally busy Piazza di Spagna in downtown Rome, Italy, yesterday as traffic was sealed off in a large section of the city's shopping district. The experiment to ease traffic will continue until Jan. 6. Shopkeepers held an emergency meeting and charged the municipality with turning the city into a Necropolis (city of the dead).

Districting Efforts to Resume

LANSING (AP) — The Legislative Apportionment Commission, facing a New Year's Eve deadline and standoff following political bickering, returns to work Wednesday.

After a Christmas layoff, the bipartisan commission finds itself with three days to agree on Senate and House districting plans about which it has argued for most of two months.

* * *

The reactivated commission is under State Supreme Court order to produce by the first stroke of 1966 a realignment of the present districting, adopted only 18 months ago.

Present districts follow the one-man, one-vote mandate of the U.S. Supreme Court, but commissioners are working to see if other factors such as unity and shape of districts can be improved upon.

GOP ARGUMENT

Republicans, after introducing plans which brought closer population equality than in some of the present districts, have argued that a controlled population spread would be desirable if unity and shape can be bettered.

Even if the commission produces plans to submit to the high court, the threat of lawsuits to void such action is on the horizon.

Democratic elections expert Tom Downs has questioned whether the Supreme Court could order the commission back to work.

U.S. to Take Hand in Zambian Oil Airlift

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, anxious to protect Zambia from the backlash of sanctions against the rebel regime in neighboring Rhodesia, plans next week to begin an oil airlift to the landlocked nation.

* * *

Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed the move yesterday following a meeting with Zambian Foreign Minister Simon Kapwepe and other officials of the African country.

Rusk also said the United States is willing to take further steps to protect Zambia against such sanctions as the oil embargo declared against Rhodesia by Great Britain.

Zambia has already been affected by the embargo.

* * *

U.S. officials indicated the further steps mentioned by Rusk would include development of a new land route from Zambia to the Tanzanian port of Dar es Salaam.

BACK BRITAIN

The United States is supporting British economic sanctions against the Rhodesian regime of Premier Ian Smith, which illegally declared itself independent from Britain last month.

Rusk reiterated to Kapwepe at yesterday's meeting the United States was ready to couple its opposition to Smith's white minority regime with measures to help Zambia.

The nation now must have virtually all its imports shipped through Rhodesia.

* * *

A joint communique issued following the meeting said that "both sides agreed that the undemocratic regime now installed in Rhodesia was a threat to human rights."

* * *

The United States is arranging to charter civilian planes to supplement a British airlift of oil into Zambia. One objective would be to enable the nation to end oil rationing.

TRAPPED IN TRUCK CAB — James Savage of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is trapped in the cab of his gasoline truck near Miami yesterday as an unidentified rescuer attempts to reach and free him. Savage, 24, was pinned unside-down for more than an hour while the 5,600 gallons of gas trickled around him. He said he hit a soft shoulder and pulled away too fast. He suffered a little cut near his right ear.

'Indigestion' Is Catch-All Word for Problem Affecting Millions

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles submitted by the Oakland County Medical Society.)

Do you have to pay for a delicious meal with the distress of heartburn, stomach cramps or an uncomfortable bloated feeling?

* * *

If so, you belong to an undistinguished club of millions who suffer that complex problem known as "indigestion."

Medically speaking, indigestion has no precise meaning. It's merely a catch-all word used to label the unfortunate consequences of eating too much or too fast, drinking to excess or allowing your emotions to get the best of you.

A bloated, puffed-up feeling may occur when your stomach's digestive activity slows down.

* * *

You probably associate this feeling with gas, but usually it's caused by air swallowed with food, or by rich fatty foods (40 per cent of the American diet) that take longer to digest than proteins or carbohydrates.

MORE GAS

Contrary to popular belief, alkalies such as sodium bicarbonate won't relieve this puffed-up feeling.

In fact, alkalies really produce more gas, thus adding to your discomfort.

Heartburn — which actually has nothing to do with the heart — is a burning sensation that occurs when your stomach works too fast.

The result? Excessive digestive juices or food back up, stretching the lining of the esophagus, a tube which leads from the mouth into the stomach.

OVERACTIVE STOMACH

Cramps or knots are also caused by an overactive stomach.

When your stomach churns too hard, its muscles may contract resulting in cramps.

Cramps may also occur from excess digestive juices which cause irritation.

* * *

A sour taste may be caused by a food or stomach juice that travels back into the throat or mouth.

NOT SYMPTOM

However, bad taste usually is not a sympton of indigestion, but a condition caused by bad teeth or infection in the throat, nose or sinuses.

* * *

If these symptoms trouble you only on occasion and pass quickly, they can be legitimate signs of indigestion.

But if one of them brings you frequent or severe discomfort, it could indicate any one of a number of serious conditions such as heart ailment, food allergy, ulcers, gallstones or a serious and fatal disease.

Droves of donors must solve this college problem

Our colleges may have to turn away promising applicants.

And that creates a problem.

The colleges need additional funds to maintain enough classrooms, facilities and teachers to educate these potential leaders.

Yet we need college-educated leaders, in increasing numbers. They make wise use of our resources, manpower and human skills.

If our leadership falls behind, what will happen to our economy—our jobs, opportunities and living standards?

This is everybody's problem—and everybody's chance. Are you a donor to the college of your choice?

Protests From Allies, Neutrals, Reds

U.S. Escalation of War Began World Debate

(EDITOR'S NOTE: As the Viet Nam war intensifies, so does the debate concerning it. Critics ask: Are we defending a real national interest there? The administration's answer is yes. In this second of four articles on America's role in Viet Nam, the controversy and its background are explored.)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson's decision to start bombing North Viet Nam last Feburary and begin a big buildup of U.S. troops in the South touched off a great world debate.

There were protests from friendly and neutral nations as well as the Communist bloc.

* * *

At home, some members of Congress and other public figures questioned the President's right to take such steps without a declaration of war.

Other critics on the home front wanted to know why the United States was fighting in Viet Nam at all.

Administration officials took the position that as commander in chief of the armed forces the President's authority was vested in his office. They also pointed out that both the Senate and House have given the Viet Nam venture massive support.

In August 1964, the two branches of Congress by combined votes of 512-2 asserted in a resolution this country's readiness to use force if necessary to help South Viet Nam "In defense of its freedom."

* * *

Last May both houses approved a $700 million appropriation for military costs in Viet Nam. The President had stated in advance that favorable action would be a vote "to persist in our efforts to halt Communist aggression in South Viet Nam."

The resolution went through the House 408-7 and through the Senate 88-3.

IMPOSSIBLE ODDS

A main argument against U.S. participation in the war in Viet Nam has been that this country is fighting the wrong enemy in a remote place under almost impossible conditions.

Critics say the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong guerrilla forces represent only a peripheral power in the Communist world and that their defeat would not prove anything to the big Communist nations.

* * *

In addition the critics have argued that for the Vietnamese Reds the conflict is essentially a patriotic war for the homelands and that South Viet Nam continues to exist under an anti-Communist regime only because the United States is propping it up.

Administration spokesmen argue to the contrary that very high American interests are at stake in the struggle.

INTEGRITY AT STAKE

Secretary of State Dean Rusk contends that "What is at stake in Viet Nam is the integrity of the American commitment all over the world."

He asserts that neither European nor other allies would feel sure they could trust U.S. defense pledges if this country, having undertaken to defend South Viet Nam, should then abandon it.

* * *

Other spporters of the U.S. role say that the fight against Communist conquest in the Southeast Asian country is a fight in defense of all backward free countries — in Asia, Africa and Latin America — where similar Communist guerrilla tactics might be used.

IN CONNECTION

The State Department cites in this connection a statement made by North Viet Nam's defense minister, Gen. Vo Nguyeh Giap, in July 1964:

"South Viet Nam is the model of the national liberation movement in our time. If the special warfare that the United States imperialists are testing in South Viet Nam is overcome, this means that it can be defeated anywhere in the world."

How did the Vietnamese involvement begin and how did the United States become so deeply involved in it?

* * *

France lost control of Indochina in 1954. A conference of Western, Communist and Asian powers at Geneva established in a series of agreements the independence of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, which were supposed to be treated as strictly neutral in the cold war.

* * *

The Geneva agreement recognized a temporary division of Viet Nam between the Communist North and the anti-Communist South. The United States did not sign but promised to support the Geneva accords.

* * *

Provisions to merge North and South Viet Nam were never fulfilled.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower made the first U.S. commitments which provided a basis for the present conflict. He extended economic help and limited military aid to South Viet Nam.

It was during the Eisenhower administration also that the United States negotiated and signed the Southeast Asian Devense treaty — SEATO — which the Senate approved by a vote of 82-1.

* * *

At that time, having just come through the Korean War, the United States made known its determination not to allow Southeast Asia to fall under Communist control.

The United States supplied Communist North Viet Nam, under the leadership of Ho Chi Minh, with violating the provisions of the Geneva agreements.

TERRORISTS

Specifically the Reds were accused of maintaining several thousand regular troops in Laos and assisting Viet Cong guerrillas who gradually developed a terror campaign in South Viet Nam.

* * *

In 1961 with the Saigon regime of president Ngo Dinh Diem under growing Communist pressure, President John F. Kennedy made the decision to send U.S. military advisers in relatively large numbers to assist the Diem regime.

* * *

In 1964 North Viet Nam began sending its own regular army troops to reinforce the guerrillas in the South. There were attacks on U.S. installations and even, in August 1964, on U.S. destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The United States struck back with bombing of torpedo boat bases on the northern coast but otherwise stayed its hand.

LBJ DECISION

It was against the background of these events that President Johnson made his decision of last February.

Administration officials then hoped that such a demonstration would convince the Communists they could not win and would persuade them to negotiate.

* * *

Some now think it is possible that when the Communist forces have been damaged badly enough they may simply ease off from the fighting and go into hiding, perhaps withdrawing in some cases to North Viet Nam.

Working against such an outcome as well as against a negotiated settlement is Red China's apparent interest in keeping the conflict going.

KOREA EXAMPLE

Those who think the conflict will end in negotiation cite the example of the Korean conflict in which the Chinese became directly involved after American forces approached the Yalu River border.

In the view of many U.S. officials, however, the two wars are essentially different in nature.

* * *

The Korean War was a conflict between organized armies fighting not only to destroy each other but also to gain and hold territory. The Vietnamese war is mainly a guerrilla struggle fought between small groups in the midst of a civilian population loyal sometimes to one side and sometimes to the other.

Peace could be made in Korea by drawing a line between the armies and recognizing the respective control of the territories on either side.

* * *

But in South Viet Nam no one has ever figured out how any such division could be made or how indeed the guerrillas can be sorted out from the civilian population.

Bet System Is Outlined in Science Study

By Science Service

PHILADELPHIA — A betting system for never going broke in such gambling games as blackjack, or in the game of life, is outlined here in a scientific journal not likely to become a best-seller.

* * *

One problem with the system is that a person has to be very rich to begin with for the method to work best. He also has to be interested only in survival. When these two factors hold, then the way to make money — slowly, but surely and steadily— is to gamble conservatively.

Although most of the betting system is highly mathematical, Dr. Thomas S. Ferguson of the University of California at Los Angeles, has drawn this and other implications from his studies on "the probability of ruin."

As a hypothetical example of a conservative gambler, Dr. Ferguson cites a rich man who pays a dollar a day to live — the fixed price for playing the game of life — and who each day has a chance to make an even-money wager on a gamble offering him a two-thirds chance of winning money.

* * *

If this rich man is interested only in survival, he should bet approximately $5.89 each day and he would make money slowly but steadily.

Another implication he drew from his studies is: "If you are poor and interested only in survival, be bold" in your gambling.

gas line freeze
(before it stops you cold!)
"My advice, sir - get De-Icer!"
Here we go again. Wintertime driving is here and with it, those built-in problems that make life miserable. Like a frozen gas line. When moisture collects in your gas line, then freezes, the supply of fuel to the engine is choked off. You're stopped cold. But you can avoid the tow truck trip—just use American, Regular or American, Super-Premium Gasoline. Each contains the real thing—DE-ICER—to prevent gas line freeze down to 40° below. At Standard Oil Dealers, "It's like Summertime driving all Winter long!" You expect more from Standard and you get it!*

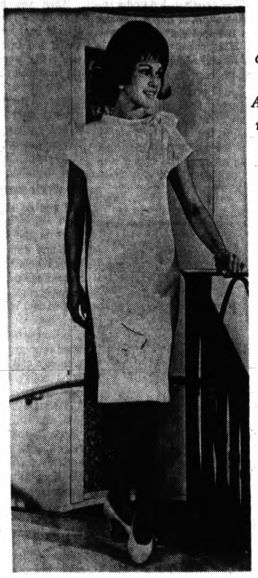
Dress Up for New Year's Eve

This majestic, full-length coat seems to suggest miles of mink went into its workmanship. Actually, it takes about 185 Canada Majestic mink pelts to make a coat this sumptuous! Designed by Selwyn Furs, of New York, it has a lavish, broad, roll-collar that tapers off into the vertical line of the coat. The wide sleeves are turned back into generous cuffs, but may be worn straight. The color is pale beige, perfect over light wools or short evening crepes.



The glow of pebble crepe in soft candlelight. A wonderfully narrow dress has an easy bow perching on the shoulder and the slightest stand-up collar. Two diagonal stitched bands break the bodice and skim the dress downward. About $25. By R and K on order locally.

Home Vows for Couple on Monday

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Donna Lynne Helmkamp and Werner Hoffmeister, Monday, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Helmkamp on Ogemaw Road.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Don Gabler, pastor of the Bethel United Church of Christ, and the bride's uncle, Rev. Paul Grabowski of Chelsea, officiated at the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Spenser Havlick of Ann Arbor attended her cousin as matron of honor and Fred Love of Providence, R.I. served as best man.

★ ★ ★

After a wedding dinner in Rotunda Country Inn, the couple left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan. They will make their home in Providence, R.I.

Christopher's Here

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Pickell (Marjorie Challis) of Allen Park, announce the birth of a son, Christopher James, on Dec. 22. Grandparents are Mrs. Samuel P. Challis of Ottawa Drive and the Darwin Pickells of Dearborn.

MRS. JAMES R. FLEMING

Mary Catherine Marzelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Marzelli of Fairmont Hill Court, and Lt. James Robert Fleming, son of the John J. Flemings of Dumont, N. J. were wed Monday in St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church.

Miss Marzelli Weds Lt. James R. Fleming

Leaving St. Hugo of the Hills Church beneath an arch of swords Monday, were the newlywed Lt. James Robert Fleming and his bride, the former Mary Catherine Marzelli.

A reception in the Kingsley Inn ballroom followed the six o'clock nuptial Mass offered by Rev. Gerald Flanigan.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. Richard Marzelli of Fairmont Hill Court and the John J. Flemings of Dumont, N.J.

COURT TRAIN

Ivory silk crepe fashioned the bride's Empire gown and court train, embroidered with Alencon lace on bodice and hemline. A matching lace pillbox held her bouffant veil of imported illusion.

She carried a cascade bouquet of Stephanotis for the double-ring ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Honor attendant was the bride's sister, Jane Ann Marzelli, with bridesmaids May Louis of Ann Arbor and Carol Schlehner, Dumont, N.J.

With Lt. John P. Fleming of Harrisburg, Pa., his brother's best man, were the ushers Lt. John F. Kelleher Jr. and Lt. Kenneth Way, both of Kincheloe AFB, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where the bridegroom is stationed.

The couple left for a week's honeymoon in Chicago. She is an alumna of the University of Michigan and her husband is a graduate of Georgetown University.

Church Unit Starts Year

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook will resume their weekly meetings next Tuesday at 10 a.m. The morning segment will involve regular sewing workshops.

Following the noon luncheon, the Rev. Mr. Walter Neds of the Christ Church clergy staff will give an introduction of the book "The Secular City" authored by Harvey Cox.

Rev. Neds and his family came here from Lima, Ohio last summer.

Don't Nag Son, Mother, Just Give Him a Push

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old son is good-looking, well-behaved and popular. He's a good student, good athlete and a good dancer, but he NEVER asks a girl for a date.

ABBY

He's not afraid of girls. He'll go around with a bunch of boys and they'll "meet up" with girls, but when it comes to calling a girl and making a date, he won't do it.

Girls ask him to girl-ask-boy dances, and he goes and has a great time. He can use our car, his Dad will give him money, and many mothers of girls have hinted to me that their daughters would like to date our son.

When a big affair comes up (like a prom), he waits around until the last minute and then decides it's too late to call anybody. What's wrong with him? I could wring his beautiful neck!

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Believe it or not, even good-looking bright and popular boys can feel inadequate when it comes to girls. They don't ask because they are afraid they might be turned down. (I know, I get letters from boys, too.)

Keep "reminding" your son to get a date for these social events. If he's insecure, it will provide the extra push he needs: If he's just immature, he won't call until he's good and ready.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My child plays with a child her age who lives in our apartment building with her mother and father. We rarely see the mother as she is a stewardess with an airline.

I know that this airline will not allow their stewardesses to continue to fly after they marry. Yet this young woman calls herself "MRS." How can this be?

How do I go about finding out if this woman is just living with this man or if they are really married?

NOSEY

DEAR NOSEY: You answered your own question with your own signature: you're too "nosey" for your own good.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Last summer a friend and I took a motor trip and agreed to share expenses. We were stopped for speeding on the outskirts of a small town. (She was driving.) The fine was $10.

After the trip our friendship cooled. I later found out that my friend thought I should have paid half the fine since we had agreed to share expenses. Do you think a speeding ticket is a legitimate expense?

NOT CHEAP

DEAR NOT: No. It's an illegitimate expense. But your friend violated the law herself, and should have expected no help from you in paying the fine.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and have just started going to boy-girl parties. At some of these parties, the kids play spin-the-bottle, but so far I have always sat out these games because I haven't had my first "real" kiss yet, and I don't want it at a spin-the-bottle game.

Many of my friends think I am a poor sport. How do you feel about my ideas?

OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD: You've got the right idea. Hang onto it. A kiss should be a sincere expression of affection from a boy who kisses you because he has selected YOU.

Kissing becomes cheap and meaningless (and leads to other cheap and meaningless acts) when it is "lost" or "won" in a game of chance.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Why do parents let their small children, who don't even talk plainly enough to be understood, answer the telephone?

I know people who, although sitting right near the phone when it rings, let the little ones answer it just to keep them amused.

Maybe I'm a coward, because I won't sign my name and I won't tell my friends who are guilty that this gripes me no end. If you think there are others who would also like to get this message across, please put it in your column.

NOT ENOUGH NERVE

DEAR ABBY: My great-grandson is with the Peace Corps at an oasis in the Sahara Desert. Mail arrives by CAMEL three times a year.

If he is to get his Christmas presents in December, they must reach Algiers before the caravan sets out in AUGUST!

So please tell the merchants that if they want to start promoting Christmas around the Fourth of July, it's all right with me.

E. McVEIGH: CHICAGO

"Art Treasures from Japan" and "Contemporary Japanese Painting" will remain on exhibition at the museum through Jan. 16.

Going Down the Aisle at Movies

By The Emily Post Institute

How one goes down the aisle in a movie theater — a man and girl, for example — is not a fixed custom.

Usually, because they look for their own seats, they go down the aisle together. Either one, seeing seats that are pleasing, says, "There are two — shall we take those?"

The other agrees or proposes two farther down.

If you come in after the movie has started, wait at the rear until your eyes have become adjusted to the darkness.

By doing this, you may avoid stumbling into the center of a row only to find that there are not the necessary vacant seats, having to back out, and tripping over unsympathetic spectators.

★ ★ ★

INVITATION TO FRIEND

Q: When addressing a wedding invitation to a friend and her fiance, would it be proper to include both their names on the mailing envelope as follows:

Miss Mary Jones
Mr. Henry Bowers

and send it to her address?

A: Correctly, each should be sent a separate invitation. If, however, only one invitation is sent, the mailing envelope should be addressed to her alone and his name included on the inner envelope.

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Baby Oil Fine for Mother's Hair

Oil treamtents for dry strawlike hair are easy to do at home. Just heat some baby oil, section your hair and massage the warm oil into the scalp. Wrap your head in a hot towel.

Wear this turban for about 15 minutes and then follow with a shampoo designed for dry hair. Continue the oil treatments every two weeks until your hair returns to a supple, gleaming condition.

Pour hot water over a garlic clove to ease the chore of slipping off its tight skin.

Be Prepared to Be Scared

Gal Drivers: 'Think Winter'

Winter driving scare you?

If you admit it, you're probably a woman, one of 35 million women drivers in the country. But don't feel self-conscious over facing a bad-weather morning with a bit of apprehension. Men really do have good sense enough to be apprehensive, too — they just don't like to say so out loud. At least to you.

* * *

So ignore all the bad jokes, and winterize your thoughts about driving right along with winterizing your car.

Now comes the first bleak day. Ice. Snow. Sleet. Bitter cold. Everything in the book.

If you've had to leave the car parked outdoors, you're up against problem number one, right off the bat: getting into the blasted thing. Elementary as it may sound to your husband, keep an extra can of spray de-icer in the house for use on frozen locks.

Next with de-icer in hand clear away snow and ice from the windows — all the windows. Don't forget to clear the sideview mirror, head and taillights. And brush away hood snow so it won't blow back on the windshield.

Another elementary point to remember: always let your car engine warm up for about a minute or two in winter.

TAKE IT EASY

Once you're ready to go, take it easy. If you're parked on ice, a light foot on the gas is your best chance of making it. If the car just won't move forward, try reverse. If the car just won't move, period, you can try a trick dear to the hearts of all men — "rocking." But again, keep a light foot.

In second gear or drive, give the engine gas — ever so gently. Quickly shift into reverse. Gas — ever so gently. Repeat the process — ever so gently.

* * *

This method builds up momentum to carry the car off the spot you're stuck on—or is supposed to. Men swear by it, and seldom give up trying to "rock her out."

You'll probably be tempted to swear at it, and try something else. Like dumping sand against the rear tires if you've had the wit to stock the trunk with a bag or two (along with a small shovel.) Or very sensibly calling for help — from a man.

* * *

When you and or a man have finally managed to swing the old boat into action—don't, swing too fast, that is. Caution's the word for the day. On snowy, icy roads, go slowly. And if you're in traffic, go slower. Anticipate stops—with a pumping brake action. Don't forget the car ahead of you, behind you, beside you — give him room. Somebody could skid, including you.

GO WITH SKID

If you do skid, don't panic, don't slam on the brakes. Steer in the direction of the skid and ride it out. Scary? Sure. But better than tragedy. Slamming on brakes on an icy highway puts the car out of control and in line for a nasty accident.

As you proceed, try to adopt what your grandmother would probably call the "walking on eggs" policy. Remember there may be ice under what looks like a snow dusted road. Test first, and still be wary.

Steer around ruts, holes, ridges. Stay off untraveled or uncleared side roads if possible. Keep in mind that bridges get slicker quicker.

PARKING SPACE

Once there, if you have any choice of parking space, choose a level one, with a minimum of ice and a maximum of maneuvering room. Short of that Utopia — and you'll be short of it more times than not — make the best of any parking haven whatsoever, but don't forget to give the engine an extra swig of gas before shutting it off. You'll both be happier next time you're ready to go.

* * *

Oh, yes, and what if you just barely got beyond that unfreezing-the-lock stage of your journey? What if the darned thing never started in the first place?

Well, now, there are all sorts of things you can do in a situation like that. But if you've had enough coffee and couldn't find a man. . . wear flats.

Late June vows are being planned by Carol Sue Martin, daughter of the Harry J. Martins of Saline Drive and Thomas Ross Thrift, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester R. Thrift of Oak Vista Drive.

August vows are being planned by Antoinette Jean Trim, daughter of the Cecil B. Trims of South Newman Road, Orion Township, and Spec. 4 Leslie F. Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin L. Pierce of West Clarkston Road, Orion Township. He is stationed with the U.S. Army, in Paris, France.

Anyone for Salted Eel?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Antone stocks all the things you need and don't have when you start to try to cook "something different."

In Jalal Antone's grocery store, squids pickled in their own ink, octopus, sliced conch and salted eels are commonplace items. So are live snails in baskets, 53 varieties of pasta, 100 types of cheese, 50 kinds of sausage.

It's very seldom that anyone asks for an unusual item he can't supply. One woman even called for pomegranate syrup and got her order promptly.

Routs Rust

If you have rust stains on your sink, try sprinkling them with a few drops of vinegar and letting it remain there for a few minutes. Scour them in the usual manner.

Reverse Process

Turn Fear Into Anger

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X-479: Tad B., aged 12, is in Junior High.

"Dr. Crane," he timidly confessed, "I am a 'fraidy cat!'

DR. CRANE

"The other kids don't seen to realize it, but I am a coward.

"Many times I am scared, but I haven't let my pals know it thus far.

"But won't they find out about me before long? So how can a boy change from a coward to a brave person?"

COWARDLY OR BRAVE

Both the coward as well as the brave man are afraid!

For courage presupposes great fear that the victim refuses to admit publicly or surrender to.

At the outset, therefore, the coward and the courageous persons are both terrified, scared or trembling with terror.

So what's the big difference between them?

Well, the coward runs or admits his fear.

But the brave boy makes himself keep on doing the right action, in spite of his pounding heart, breathlessness and knocking knees!

Actually, therefore, Tad is not a coward at all, for he has refused to surrender to his emotion of fear.

Remember, just because you may feel panicky inside and fearful, does not make you a coward!

* * *

It's only when you surrender to your emotion that you become chicken.

So enshrine your brain as the captain and never let your emotions mutiny against it!

The coward is also excessively introvertive. That means he is concerned chiefly with himself.

But the brave person is more extroverted so he is thinking of others or his family reputation, etc.

During the Spring, several robins made nests around our farm home down in Indiana.

Normally, robins are rather shy, timid birds, afraid of squirrels and bluejays.

PROTECTIVE INSTINCT

But when the mother robins made nests and hatched their young, I often saw a robin chasing a squirrel out of the tree where her nest was located.

She'd fly at his face and peck at him as she swooped past.

She even chased him out of one tree and another till he was 100 yards away, before she finally quit.

Another robin grew indignant at a marauding bluejay that came too close to her nest, so she flew at that bluejay and drove him off.

What made these naturally timid robins show such courage?

Simply the fact that they were now so concerned with their young that they forgot self! They were extroverted 100 per cent and thus unselfish!

It is thoughts of self which make us fearful! Thinking about others changes us into courageous souls.

When St. Peter was worrying about his own neck, he deserted Christ and merely watched the Crucifixion from afar.

* * *

But when he remembered Christ's destiny, he boldly went to his death, even requesting to be crucified upside down, saying he was unworthy to die in the same manner as Jesus.

To help banish social fears and mob pressure, extrovert your attention, as by growing angry at being "sheep" who merely follow the dictates of clever liquor and tobacco advertisers.

* * *

For anger is the opposite of fear! So work up your ire and you will no longer suffer such terror!

Dream House Plan Wants Foresight

If your "dream house" is still on paper, put a lot of thought into modern devices and designs that will cut the cost, effort, and time in housecleaning.

Washable paints and wallpapers, sudsable working surfaces, and curved corners in cabinets will save a lot of labor once the house becomes a reality.

Late February vows are planned by Laura Lee Butzke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Butzke of Golfers Drive, Highland Township and Gareth David Laszko, son of Edward Laszko of Hamtramck and Mrs. Eleanor Laszko of Detroit.

William J. Warnecke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Warnecke, Windiate Park Drive, has been graduated from Western Michigan University with a bachelor's degree in business administration. While in college, he was a member of the Marketing Club and resident hall council president.

Thoughtful Host

It is a unique mark of hospitality to keep a one-size-fits-all terrycloth robe on hand for the convenience of house guests. This extra evidence of welcome will be appreciated every time your guest bundles into this terry "blotter" after a bath or shower. And the sturdy robe can be machine-laundered repeatedly for future visitors.

Waterford Wants 2-Program Proposal Altered

Waterford Township Board members aren't satisfied with the terms of a tentative agreement regarding transfer of the Community School and Recreation Department programs to the board of education.

* * *

Last night they called for modification of the proposal.

Concurring with advice offered by Township Attorney Paul Mandel, board members will seek to gain more strength in decision-making for the two programs.

Responsibility for the programs recently was shifted to the board of education on a one-year trial basis upon approval of both boards. However, the financial burden will continue to be shared equally by the township and school system.

* * *

The current recreation department budget is $42,306, while the Community School expenditure is $20,000.

RECENT RULING

The change stemmed from a recent ruling by the Michigan Public School Employee's Retirement Board and Social Security Contribution Fund, calling for employes of both departments to be placed on the school payroll.

Previously, the recreation board — comprised of two members each from the township and school boards and three at-large delegates—governed the two programs.

The recreation board will be retained under the new arrangement, but only in an advisory capacity. All seven members are slated to be appointed by the board of education.

* * *

Township trustees feel they should be entitled to appoint three members. Under the tentative contract, a provision allows only for the Township Board to nominate three persons.

CERTAIN SAFEGUARDS

Mandel insisted that the township should be assured certain safeguards to protect its financial interests in purchase of equipment for the programs, especially in the event it wishes to establish its own recreation setup.

Mandel also suggested that it be mandatory for at least one Township Board member to favor a recreation board recommendation before it is submitted to the board of education, for action.

Also last night, bids were awarded for purchase of seven new township vehicles and for a two-year gasoline contract.

John McAuliffe Ford, Inc. outbid six other dealers with an offer of $11,508 for three vehicles for the building department and four police cars.

The gasoline contract was awarded to Sinclair Oil Co. with a low bid of 13 cents a gallon for regular gasoline and 15 cents for premium.

City Center Is Training Needed Practical Nurses

Standing at the edge of Pontiac's urban renewal area, the Hubbard Building, 16 S. Perry, is a hollow, deserted structure — except for the third floor.

There, a professional teaching staff puts in a 40-hour workweek training urgently need practical nurses at the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center.

Twice a year, the center pumps between 30 and 50 graduates into the medical lifestream of understaffed hospitals — primarily Pontiac General, St. Joseph Mercy and Pontiac Osteopathic.

Mrs. Ralph Sherrod, a registered nurse and director of the center, holds a graduate degree in nursing and was formerly director of nursing education for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She cited two figures which indicate the center's services are badly needed:

- Of 110 women to graduate from the center since 1963, 109 have been hired as practical nurses.
- Each person who's graduated has had at least six job opportunities.

* * *

Mrs. Sherrod is soft-spoken, but seriously concerned about the shortage of nursing help and determined that the center — a federal manpower project—turn out quality nursing personnel.

CRITICALLY ILL

"We have to get our students ready to take care of patients — some of them critically ill," she said.

The center's ten instructors, all professional nurses, twice annually start a new class of some 50 candidates on the 48-week course.

About one of three will drop out at some point, despite a stringent preentry screening program which includes educational, aptitude and psychological tests.

* * *

HOSPITAL WORK

The second half of the course consists of full-time hospital work under the personal supervision of the instructors.

The students are routed through the gamut of hospital services learning to assist doctors and professional nurses.

Upon graduation, nurses from the center find themselves the objects of recruiting from hospitals as far away as Ann Arbor and Detroit.

* * *

Most, however, accept positions with area institutions.

DEFINITELY NEEDED

"We definitely need these people," said Mary Owens, director of nursing service at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

"This is the only source of qualified practical nurses in the Pontiac area. They fill most of the vacancies on our staff."

In the sense that it is dependent on federal funds and subject to annual review, the center is a temporary program.

* * *

Mrs. Sherrod, however—foreseeing a sharp rise in the need for nurses in the next ten years — hopes for permanent establishment of the center.

PERMANENT CENTER

Maurice C. Prottengeier, director of vocational education for the Pontiac school district under which the center is administered, is enthusiastic about the center becoming permanent.

"We've been here 2½ years," he said, "and we're improving all the time.

"Talking to people around the state, I find our program is looked on as one of the finest in Michigan."

Reagan Due in California Race Jan. 4

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Hollywood actor Ronald Reagan is expected to formally announce his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at a news conference on Jan. 4.

Reagan announced the conference Monday, and the Los Angeles Times reported that Reagan will make the long expected announcement.

Reagan would be the third candidate for the nomination. George Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco, and Laughlin E. Waters, a former U.S. attorney for Southern California, already have decided to run.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown is expected to seek his third term on the Democratic ticket.

College Enrollment Hits All-Time High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A crop of college freshmen 18 per cent higher than last year has pushed college enrollment to a record 5.9 million.

* * *

The figure, announced Monday by the U.S. Office of Education, was 12 per cent higher last fall than in 1964. It more than doubles college enrollment of 10 years ago.

* * *

The Education Office said the increase in college freshmen was a 17 per cent increase over 1963. It said the trend reflected the continued impact of the postwar baby boom on education.

The English phrase "64/64ths" means full ownership of a boat. It applies equally to a rowboat or line the size of the Queen Elizabeth.

STOP DISEASE BEFORE IT STARTS

Just a few generations ago, virtually the only disease that doctors could prevent with a drug was smallpox. Today, many maladies are almost unknown—maladies that once took countless lives. These maladies—diphtheria, typhoid, lockjaw, polio, nutritional deficiencies—have been conquered by modern drugs, which stop the diseases before they can get started. That's why we say

Soviet Policy Holds Key to Viet Talk Chances

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The shape of Soviet world policy in 1966 will have important bearing on chances for negotiation in Viet Nam. By spring, the world may have a better idea of those chances.

All signs indicate Soviety policy is being retooled to fit new situations, including fading prospects for any reconciliation with Red China.

Soviet aims seem concerned with security and insurance: security to pursue internal economic goals, and insurance against involvement against its will in direct conflict with the United States.

* * *

Soviet policy now is zeroing in on Western Europe, suggesting that Moscow wants to make friends with its Western neighbors, expand economic and cultural contacts and reap long-range benefits. A Soviet-British summit meeting is in prospect for February, and President Charles de Gaulle may drop in for a Soviet-French summit.

SEEK INSURANCE

In this, Moscow appears to seek insurance in the form of some sort of settlement of West Germany's role in Atlantic nuclear defenses. It is capitalizing on lack of enthusiasm among America's allies for West German participation, and also on de Gaulle's opposition to stepped-up NATO integration and to the West German nuclear role.

* * *

While the Kremlin appears to subordinate Viet Nam to European policy, it also can be expected to seek a form of insurance in Asia, too. This is manifest in persistent Soviet efforts to implant strong influence in North Viet Nam, to provide a decisive voice in future developments there. The Soviet leaders likely will discuss Viet Nam with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson in February.

* * *

Significantly, the Chinese have been accusing Moscow of pursuing its own "special aims" in Viet Nam. In turn, European Communists, reflecting the Moscow view, accuse Peking of wanting to stand by, amused, while the United States and the U.S.S.R. get involved in military conflict.

* * *

Next spring could produce meaningful developments, possibly including a purposeful and practical Soviet policy tailored to the needs for security and insurance. The Soviet Communist party opens its 23rd congress March 29.

RULING BODY

The congress theoretically is the ruling body which meets once in four years to approve guidelines for the next four. It likely will reaffirm policies laid down by the 20th congress in 1956 and the 22nd in 1961. Those two were the fountainheads of the Soviet-Chinese dispute. A reaffirmation of the Soviet stand could mean much with regard to Viet Nam. If the Russians establish a strong presence there, a situation could develop in which their weight could contribute to isolating the Chinese and possibly create conditions for negotiations.

* * *

Deteriorating Moscow-Peking relations apparently play a dominating role in the shaping of Soviet policy. The Soviet-Chinese mutual assitance pact of 1950 seems to be dead, since China says Moscow contradicts Peking on "all fundamental questions."

The conflict is on two levels — government and party. One hears no more from Moscow that an attack on China would be an attack on the Soviet Union.

But Moscow has new and difficult problems, probably involving a thorough study of the future of a Communist movement divided, as the Chinese freely admit, along organizational and ideological lines. Moscow seems almost wholly resigned to this.

LEADERSHIP CLAIM

The Kremlin is not surrendering its claim to leadership of world revolution but rather seems preparing to assert that there are safer ways of promoting it than risking world nuclear conflict.

Moscow's authoritative journal Kommunist stresses that the lines of the 20th and 22nd congresses will continue in the U.S.S.R., and that Russia's "clear and consistent foreign policy" will continue as follows: "Developing and strengthening the position of world socialism. . . support of national liberation movements. . . preservation of peace and peaceful coexistence."

* * *

It says the foundation of this policy is "building communism at home and helping the cause of revolution in the whole world." "Building communism at home" is placed first. To do this, the Chinese have loudly complained, the Russians are tinkering with capitalistic methods and are turning toward capitalism.

The Soviet theory is that the stronger the Soviet Union becomes economically, the better the chances later on to support those "national liberation movements" which are revolutions against established authorities in non-Communist nations. But obviously, Soviet national interests now come first.

Newborn Girl, Found in Bag, Listed as Good

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An infant girl was found upside down in a paper sack wedged between an alley wall and a smokestack behind the Texas State Hotel Monday.

Raymond Prince, a cook in the hotel's kitchen, heard her cries.

* * *

The umbilical cord was still attached to her naked body. She was rushed to a local hospital and found to be in "good health."

* * *

Doctors said she appeared to be about five days old.

Traffic Safety Hints:

No. 10. When the front wheels of a car lock and skid, the driver loses all steering control. As a result, the vehicle slides over the road's surface in a straight line. The driver should counter-steer by turning the car's wheels straight (into the direction that he wants to go); declutch when using standard transmission (automatic shift, leave the vehicle in drive); not to apply power and above all, not to jam on the brakes thus locking the wheels. The driver should slow down by pumping the brakes.

'Plan Future Space Goals'

By Science Service

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — The United States should plan now for its space goals in 1985, the American Physical Society meeting was told here.

* * *

Plans for putting a man on the moon, Project Apollo, are complete and much of the equipment for the scheduled 1969 lunar landing is already being built.

However, very little has been done concerning programs following Apollo, Dr. Gordon J. F. MacDonald of the University of California's Institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics charged.

Such a Martian mission does not contribute to solving any of the "rich variety of problems for which space probes could so profitably be used."

* * *

Dr. MacDonald urged that the delivery system and the spacecraft be designed for specific space experiments, rather than regarding experiments as "necessary nuisances" to be added after the system and vehicle are designed.

The space program, Dr. MacDonald said, sets the image for basic science in the U.S. If such glamorous technological achievements as placing a man on the moon are confused with fundamental science, then the latter will suffer both in terms of long-range public support and in its ability to attract gifted individuals.

Dr. MacDonald reported that there are three principal areas of science to which the space program can make major contributions. These are the physics of the lower atmosphere, such as involved in weather and auroras, the origin and evolution of the solar system and the nature of the universe.

Gov. Romney's Fortunes Blew Hot and Cold in 1965

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer

LANSING — Take eight dozen Democratic legislators and stir up thoroughly, beating occasionally.

Liberally sprinkle with national scent.

Add foreign seasoning imported personally from Europe and Asia.

Garnish with green stuff—the kind now found in the Michigan State Treasury but said to be in future short supply.

* * *

Cook for 365 days at varying temperatures and you've got a recipe outline of Gov. George Romney's year 1965.

THE YEAR

It was the year the Republican governor:

- Learned what it's like to have the opposition control the Legislature.
- Discarded his 1964 campaign rules against talking on national issues.
- Led Michigan businessmen on a trade-hunting trip to Europe, then went with other governors to Viet Nam for a look at the United States' No. 1 problem.
- Found his insistent call for fiscal reform muffled by greater-than-expected economic growth and treasury surplus.

Sometimes the governor's fortunes blew hot — as when he knocked $42 million off potential state spending or unexpectedly settled the lengthy Wyandotte Chemical Corp. strike one night.

He was cold other times — as when trying to drum up tax support or remove tolls from the Mackinac Bridge.

But for all his activities in 1965, the one thing Romney did not do was announce whether he'll run for governor or U.S. senator in 1966.

REFUSES TO SPECULATE

The governor refuses to even speculate about 1968—the year many say he should be a principal contender for the Republican presidential nomination. Certainly his decision about 1966 and those election results will help determine whether he retains his present strong position in the presidential derby future book.

In 1965 the governor did much which could firm his foundation for national consideration. He turned down hundreds of speaking requests but accepted many, traveling to more than a score of states.

At numerous Republican fund-raising affairs he preached against over-centralization of government, chided Democrats on economic policies and called for more individualism.

* * *

This was sure-fire GOP fare from a man who was criticized by some in the party for refusing to support the Republican presidential nominee in 1964.

WON SUPPORT

Such grass roots speaking won Richard Nixon and Barry Goldwater support for their respective nomination drives of 1960 and 1964.

Romney said his speaking and prominent work in the Republican Governors Conference and National GOP coordinating committee was aimed at broadening and unifying the party.

Often he warned that the two-party system was in danger unless the Republican party surged back from its 1964 disaster.

* * *

The governor's most noted foreign policy exploration was Viet Nam — where his four-day visit tended to diminish the feeling in some quarters that his International affairs background was thin.

MORALLY RIGHT

He returned in November declaring that "what we are doing is morally right and necessary." But a few weeks later he helped the GOP coordinating committee criticize other aspects of the administration's Viet Nam policy.

With the war growing in size and as a political issue, it was likely Romney's stand would be subject to close scrutiny by party leaders.

Romney's year in Michigan was built around tax reform and tax reform did not come.

* * *

The governor finally induced some tax-conscious Democrats and Republicans to draft a program which included an income tax. But the Democratic-controlled House refused in the autumn to even consider the plan.

TAX APPEAL

Romney based his tax appeal on the premise that the treasury surplus would be exhausted within two years. Even as revenues soared and Democrats spent $32 million more than Romney asked, he stuck to his forecast.

Tax inaction helped bring on the major confrontation between Romney and Democratic legislators. It was their December fight over expansion of veterans' homestead tax benefits.

Democrats fought to override Romney's veto of a benefit bill but they failed when the governor corralled all Republicans to his side after most had voted for the original measure.

Threats of vetoes led to the most significant compromises of the year. A Workmen's Compensation revision was even recalled from the governor's desk to rework the figures to everyone's satisfaction. And in the state budget homestretch, some $42 million was lopped off to bring spending down to $820 million.

CONGRATULATES SOLONS

After harsh words earlier, the governor finally congratulated the legislature for "a job well done under new and difficult circumstances." He figured he'd batted 70 to 75 per cent in getting administration bills enacted.

Perhaps most unexpected were the last-minute negotiations which brought Constitutional-dictated government reorganization.

Romney probably didn't have a more frustrating task all year than conducting his hearing for adjutant general Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald. Romney fired McDonald in 1964 because of alleged land and money irregularities in the National Guard.

* * *

The firing didn't stick without a hearing, however. So Romney had to personally devote scores of hours to listening to whys and wherefores of land deals near Grayling. He wound up firing McDonald again but as the year ended, the general was still in court trying to get his job back.

And Romney was trying to decide whether he wanted his governor's job enough to seek a third term.

Spanish to Revive 'Pieces of Eight'

MADRID, Spain (AP) — The Spanish mint is preparing to produce a modern version of the famed old Spanish "pieces of eight" silver coins as soon as the legislature gives a go-ahead, mint officials say.

The new silver coin will have a value of 100 pesetas, or $1.66. The antique Spanish "duro" or "Spanish dollar" as it was known internationally, created by the Roman Catholic kings of Spain, was valued at five pesetas or one "duro," and was used throughout the world for trading.

Spain now has nickel coins of five, 25, and 50 pesetas, but no silver coins. Current exchange rate is approximately 60 pesetas to one U.S. dollar.

Twisted Wreckage Tells Grim Tale of Fatal Crash

SUBLETTE, Kan. (AP) — When Sheriff Paul Blackmore arrived, he could see only one car, grotesquely twisted out of shape.

"I asked a man if anyone was hurt and he said yes and that many were dead.

★ ★ ★

"And when he pointed, I could see the other car down from the road a little, in a shallow place. Then I could hear children and women screaming. Nobody in the first car made a sound. They were all dead or unconscious."

Seven persons died in the collision. Seven others — including four children — escaped with their lives but must spend months in casts because all have one or more broken bones.

The accident occurred Sunday at the intersection of two U.S. highways in the flattest county in Kansas. Visibility across the wheat and alfalfa fields was excellent. The road was dry, the sky was only slightly overcast. It was midafternoon.

In the car Sheriff Blackmore saw first —a new station wagon — were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Blakely and Mr. and Mrs. James Simmons and their 8-months-old son, Todd. Only Blakely, 24, was alive.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Blakely and Mrs. Simmons (Dana, 22, and Pauline, 27,) were sisters —two of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Gales of Satanta, Kan. They were en route from their homes in Dodge City, Kan., an hour's drive away, for a Christmas holiday gathering at the Gales' home. Mrs. Simmons was expecting another child.

The adults in the other car were Mrs. Dora G. Saldivar, 27, and her mother, Mrs. Sabena Gonzales, 57. There also were Mrs. Saldivar's six children and her sister, Susan Gonzales, 14.

3 KILLED

Mrs. Gonzales, 4-year-old Nettie Saldivar and 1-year-old Cindy Saldivar, were killed.

They had come from a Christmas visit to Post, Tex., where Mrs. Saldivar's father-in-law lives. Mrs. Saldivar is estranged from her husband. She moved with her mother and children to Leoti, Kan., a few months ago for the farm work available in the area. The accident was 70 miles from there.

★ ★ ★

The grieving members of the Gales family were unable to talk about the accident. The Saldivar family had not made many acquaintances in Leoti.

At Trinity Hospital in Dodge City where the injured were taken, the hospital switchboard was flooded with calls from people offering help.

OFFER HELP

"They offer blood or anything they can do for the family," said Mrs. Bernice Cox, the superintendent. "I've had so many calls I can't count them all."

Blakely, Marjorie Saldivar, 8, and Mrs. Saldivar were most seriously hurt. Blakely had a ruptured spleen, a broken arm and broken ribs.

★ ★ ★

Marjorie's chest was crushed and her right leg broken. Both of Mrs. Saldivar's legs and arms were broken.

Roger Saldivar, 11, had two broken arms and a fractured pelvis. Gilbert Saldivar, 9, had a fractured left ankle. Gary Saldivar, 7, had a fractured right clavicle and possibly a broken leg. Susan Gonzales suffered severe cuts and possible fractures.

MARRIED 4 MONTHS

The Blakelys had been married only four months. Mrs. Blakely was born in Belpre, Kan., about 50 miles from Dodge City, but was reared in Satanta where her parents moved when she was a year old. She quit Dodge City Junior College when she married Blakely. He operates a sound recording studio in Dodge City.

Simmons, 25, was born in Spearville, also near Dodge City. The Simmonses were married on June 1, 1963 and he worked for Hy-Plains Dressed Beef in Dodge. He also came from a large family — seven children.

★ ★ ★

Highway Patrolman Gall Rathbun said the car driven by Blakely was proceeding west on U.S. 56. Mrs. Saldivar was driving north on U.S. 83.

The crash "knocked the Saldivar car about 200 feet and the Blakely car about 75 feet," Rathbun said.

★ ★ ★

"It was the worst I've seen," said Sheriff Blackmore.

There were no witnesses to the accident. No charges have been filed.

Traffic Deaths Climb to 720 for Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 720 persons over the three-day Christmas weekend, the highest number ever counted for any holiday period.

The National Safety Council termed the toll a national disaster.

The figure smashed the record of 706 for a 102-hour, four-day holiday weekend that had stood for nine years.

The previous record also was for a Christmas observance — in 1956.

ESTIMATED TOLL

The council had estimated a death tool of between 560 and 660.

The record for a three-day holiday was 609 during the 1955 Christmas period.

Christmas 1964, also a three-day observance, brought 578 traffic deaths.

The Associated Press made a survey of traffic fatalities in a nonholiday weekend for comparison purposes.

From 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, through midnight Sunday, Dec. 12, 420 traffic deaths were counted.

Drowns Under Tractor in Flooded River Bed

BUCKEYE, Ariz. (AP) — Ruby Angton, 55, a worker on the King farm, drove a tractor often across the dry, dusty bed of the Hassayampa River at the Narramore road crossing.

Monday there was unusual flooding in the river when Angton tried to cross, and the tractor overturned, drowning him underneath.

Fighting GIs in Viet Nam Rate 'Man of Year' Honors

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There isn't much trouble in picking America's "Man of the Year" for 1965.

He is our Man in Viet Nam, the nation's No. 1 pinup lad.

BOYLE

Actually, he isn't just one man. He is a plural figure. He is all of the 175,000 or so U.S. men fighting for political freedom in a land some of them had hardly heard of before they were sent there.

At the start of 1965 our Man in Viet Nam was a rather forlorn figure. He was a far away pioneer in a war which puzzled most of his countrymen and one in which, it is true to say, most took only a casual interest.

They felt it didn't involve them much personally.

That is all changed. While some puzzlement as to the nature of the war still exists, few now fail to realize that the conflict is affecting their lives more and more deeply.

Neither they nor any member of their family may be of draft age. But they do hold jobs and pay taxes—and the war has grown to be a major economic as well as military and political factor.

To be named "Man of the Year," a fellow should show some growth during the twelve months growth in purpose and influence.

Our Man in Viet Nam certainly has done that.

EASY TO SUCCUMB

It would have been easy for him to succumb to the indulgence of self-pity, to feel that he was a forgotten man while other fellows his age were living the life of Riley back home or lighting their cigarettes with their draft cards.

It would have been easy for him to hate the land he was sent to fight in and the people—so different from his own in some ways — he was sent to protect.

But that hasn't happened.

Our Man in Vet Nam is truly a man, and he has conducted himself like a man. He has learned to adapt himself to a climate and a landscape and a way of fighting that test him to the utmost.

At first he fainted on the torrid humid hills and in the steaming jungles. Now he is hardened to heat and torrential rains.

Like his ancestors who fought Indians in the wilderness, he has learned to fight jungle ambushes — and to reply with ambushes of his own. He has developed skill in old and new arts of warfare. He can fight with a rifle or a helicopter, a bayonet or a 750-pound bomb.

* * *

At the start of the year he thought the battle would be easier than it has turned out to be. Now he has more respect — and more hate — for his enemy. No matter what the war requires of him he is determined to come home a winner.

Our Man in Viet Nam, by and large, is convinced he is doing a worthwhile job there, even though a small minority protest both his presence and purpose in Southeast Asia. His morale is high.

As one pilot remarked drily: "Sometimes you're not sure exactly what you're fighting over here — but you always feel it is necessary to fight it."

As 1965 draws to a close, the prestige of our Man in Viet Nam is at its peak. The nation has recognized him with warm testimonials and showered him with hundreds of tons of gifts and hundreds of thousands of appreciative letters.

The "Man of the Year," our Man in Viet Nam, is also the hero of the hour — and probably will remain so for many hours to come.

Americans' Installment Debt No Joke

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a three-part series by UPI national reporter Harry Ferguson, delving into money matters — including statistics on how the average American consumer disposes of a dollar; installment buying practices and tips on what to watch for when you put your name on the dotted line.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In the last century, Artemus Ward wrote: "Let us all be happy and live within our means even if we have to borrow money to do it."

Ward was a humorist and the nation responded with laughter. Here we are now, 80 years later, and it's not a joke. This year the installment debt in the United States passed $60 billion, or $316 for every man, woman and child in the country. It had gone up $19 billion since 1961.

It was rising much faster than the total income of American families. In the last 10 years total income rose 40 per cent; the installment debt increased by almost 100 per cent.

Is this good or bad?

It depends on who you happen to be talking to at the moment. To a man who is falling behind on his payments on a car and a television set, installment buying is a plot hatched by the devil to plague honest men.

To the automobile manufacturers in Detroit, it is oil that keeps their business spinning. In the last four years credit extended to purchase automobiles has increased by $8.5 billion.

There are all sorts of ways that people can live on credit. They can charge things at department stores and have a month to pay.

One of the newest developments is the credit card, which has enjoyed a phenomenal rise in popularity and now accounts for 12 per cent of the total in the charge account classification. Ten years ago, credit cards were only 5 per cent of the total.

If installment buying were halted tomorrow, the American economy would go into a tailspin, and there would be a panic in the New York Stock Exchange. So merchants keep expanding installment credit and the consumers keep eating it up.

The risks for the merchant are surprisingly small. There are no accurate figures, but the Associated Credit Bureaus of America estimates the defaulters about 1½ per cent, with 2 per cent as the absolute maximum.

They are known to credit men as "won't pays", in other words they have no intention of making the payments when they sign the sales contract.

If you are going to buy something on the installment plan, be prepared for a rigorous investigation. It is likely that your employer, your bank, your landlord and even your neighbors will be questioned.

If you have been convicted of drunken driving or too many traffic offenses, things are going to be tougher for you. If you and your wife have had a spat and separated even for a brief time, the credit man is likely to look at you with a jaundiced eye.

Your drinking habits weigh heavily. So will any extracurricular amorous activity.

If you pass all these tests successfully, then the following factors will determine whether you get credit:

- How long have you been in your present job? The longer the better.
- What is your record for meeting payments in the past?
- How do the amount of the payments fit into your total income? What installment obligations do you have to other stores?
- How big a down payment are you prepared to make? The bigger the better.
- How many months do you want the installment contract to run? The fewer the better.
- How long have you lived in your present residence? Do you own it and, if so, is it mortgaged? If you rent, how much rent do you pay? How long is your lease?

The best thing you can have is a regular checking account which has maintained a fair-sized balance over several years.

The worst thing you can be is a "transient worker", moving frequently from job to job and city to city.

Some credit bureaus classify taxicab drivers, longshoremen and bartenders as "transient workers," although there must be thousands of men in all those jobs who are buying on the installment plan and meeting their payments promptly.

Women who have been divorced or separated generally are looked upon with suspicion unless they can prove their financial responsibility. Alimony seems to be considered a precarious source of income.

Families with incomes of between $5,000 and $8,000 a year appear to be the most likely ones to indulge in installment buying. Farmers, as a class, do less of it than other categories of citizens.

Whatever his class and income, a person who goes in heavily for installment buying inevitably comes to be in agreement with this rueful couplet by Ogden Nash:

"O money, money, money, I am not necessarily one of those who think thee holy,

"But I often stop to wonder who thou canst go out so fast and when thou comest in so slowly."

(NEXT: Do merchants gyp you?)

Wins Jim Thorpe Trophy Third Time

Pro Football's Highest Honor Goes to Jimmy Brown

NEW YORK (NEA) — Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns — you might as well be saying John Jacob Astor of the New York Astors, Football-wise.

The incomparable fullback of the defending champions of the National Football League today was named the winner of the 11th annual Jim Thorpe Trophy by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

The award symbolizes the most valuable player in the league and is voted by his peers, the men on the active rosters of the 14 NFL teams. This is the third time Brown has been named to the high honor in a record-filled career that now spans nine years.

Brown first gained the pinnacle of the players' esteem in 1958 and again in 1963, when he tied for the trophy with Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants.

The trophy presentation will be made to Jimmy on a special one-half hour telecast over the Columbia Broadcasting System preceding the championship game on Jan. 2. The program will also feature this year's NEA All-Players All-Pro team.

In the voting, the Cleveland fullback more than doubled the total of his nearest competitor, injured John Unitas of Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

"Everyone besides Brown is in a different league," noted kicking specialist Jim Bakken of the St. Louis Cardinals.

★ ★ ★

Although the players are prohibited from voting for their own teammates, linebacker Jim Huston of the Browns couldn't refrain from commenting, "There is really only one man to consider — Jim Brown!"

He is the irreplaceable man of the top team in the Eastern Division of the NFL. Never injured, indestructible, at the age of 29 he thrives in the benevolent climate brought to the Browns three years ago by head coach Blanton Collier.

With option blocking, giving Jimmy the choice of running to daylight, he stretched his NFL rushing record to 12,312 yards (almost seven miles) in a typical campaign in which he gained 1,544 yards. Versatile Jimmy was also on the catching end of 34 passes and scored a career high of 21 touchdowns.

It looks as though he gets up more slowly than he ever did and walks back to the huddle in that painful shuffle, but when he's turned loose with the ball, there's no difference in Jimmy Brown.

With remarkable balance, a quick burst of speed and a lunge of brute power, he awes all of football. In a showing of NFL film highlights, the virtuosity of Brown brings applause from the most sophisticated audiences.

Unitas, a past winner of the Jim Thorpe Trophy, also drew support because it was evident how much he meant to the Baltimore Colts when they toppled out of the Western Division lead after he injured his knee.

John Brodie, San Francisco quarterback, was a surprise third. "With the help of some running backs," wrote Monte Clark of the Cleveland Browns, "John showed what he always has had." Namely, a precision passing arm.

Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears, already recipient of the Bert Bell Trophy as the rookie of the year, was the only first-year man who attracted a voting bloc. He was a solid fourth.

A fine season for Pete Retzlaff, the 33-year-old tight end of the Philadelphia Eagles, received merited attention.

"I know he is a teammate," said quarterback Norm Snead, who brackets Pete as his favorite target, "but he is a fantastic football player and had a great year."

There was one final fillip which should be noted.

Paul Wiggin, Cleveland's defensive end, made a pitch for Leo Murphy. Leo didn't get into a single play this year.

"He's the Browns' trainer," explained Wiggin, "and deserves it — for keeping us in one piece."

Grid Security Tops; Duffy's Locked Out

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The rival Rose Bowl football coaches could have made a good game of matching frustrations Monday.

Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty was locked out of his own secret practice field for more than half an hour.

UCLA assistant coach Ron Siegrist reported the Bruins "had a bad workout."

POLISHING UP

"This was supposed to be polish week," he said. "There was no polish. Tommy Prothro head coach wasn't pleased at all."

Siegrist, accused by Daugherty of being "a professional pessimist," in a telephone conversation with Daugherty, said quarterback Gary Behan "was passing poorly."

★ ★ ★

"You wouldn't want them to be ready on a Monday," Daugherty consoled Siegrist.

The conversation came during the daily telephone exchange between coaches which newsmen listened into at the Rose Bowl press headquarters.

Daugherty had to attend a luncheon before heading for the afternoon MSU workout. All gates were locked when he arrived at the playing field.

The head man walked halfway around the field, then circled in his car before he was able to attract attention by blowing on his coach's whistle. A gatekeeper finally was located to let Daugherty into his own practice field.

"When I ask for security, I sure get it," said Daugherty, who from now on is banning all visitors to practices except working newsmen.

★ ★ ★

One visitor allowed Monday was Tommy Kaulukukui, the former University of Hawaii head coach who steered such stars as kicker Dick Kenny and fullback Bob Apisa to Michigan State. Kaulukukui reported that more than 100 islanders will be flying to watch the Rose Bowl game.

Thw Michigan State team will recieve baskets of papayas, pineapples and floral leis at its Pasadena hotel today.

The fruits and flowers, native to Hawaii, are being forwarded by Sheraton Hotels in the islands to honor Michigan State's three Hawaii team members—Apisa, Kenney and Charlie Wedemeyer.

17th Contest in City Series

Expect Sellout Crowd at Central Court

Pontiac Northern's Huskies have a lot of catching up to do in their basketball series with Pontiac Central, a series the two quintets will renew tonight on the PCH floor.

Some 2,000 fans — a sellout— are expected to be on hand for the encounter which will get under way at 8 o'clock. A junior varsity game is scheduled for 6:30.

★ ★ ★

Officials at PCH said that only 200 tickets were available as of 5 p.m. Monday. They said these would be sold at the high school office today until 5 p.m. No tickets will be sold at the gate tonight.

LONG STREAK

The Chiefs of PCH will go into tonight's scrap with a six-game winning streak in the series and with a commanding 14-2 edge in the series which opened back in 1958-59.

Northern captured both of its victories in the 1962-63 campaign, downing PCH once during the regular season and taking the second in post season tournament action.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs, paced by 6-2½ center Jessie Evans and forward Ross Ludwick (6-1), have been impressive in rolling up a 4-0 record and the team is a heavy favorite to pick up its fifth win against the PNH crew.

Kicker Chandler in Line for Pro Gridiron Honor

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Among the wires that poured into Don Chandler's home after his field goal heroics in Sunday's sudden death football game was a message from Wel Mara, his old boss at New York.

★ ★ ★

"It was real nice of Wel," said the Green Bay place kicker. "I appreciated it."

Nobody paid much attention to Chandler in the year-end polls for comeback of the year, but the veteran deserved a high rank. His tying and winning kicks for a 13-10 victory against Baltimore Sunday made it 19 out of 29 field goal attempts and a total of 95 points.

★ ★ ★

Last year he made nine out of 20 for the giants. Ironically, the Giants had troubles with field goals and made only 4 of 25 this season.

"I guess the Giants did me a favor when they traded me to Green Bay," said Chandler. "It was a tremendous challenge to me and a most satisfying ending.

★ ★ ★

"Last summer I practiced kicking back home in Tulsa for about six weeks before I went to camp. I kicked 15 or 16 a day at the high school field. It helped me get ready for camp because I felt I had to make the ball club. Ordinarily it takes me 10 days to get ready but this time I figured I should be ready to go from the start."

MAKES GOOD

Chandler tied Sunday's playoff game for the National Football League's Western Conference crown with less than two minutes to go when he made good on a 22-yard boot.

Informed that Lou Michaels, Baltimore kicker and defensive end, said the kick was not good, Chandler commented:

"All I have to say is that there were two officials there, one on each side of the posts, and one official behind me. Maybe they (Colts) should have paid more attention to rushing."

The winning field goal at 13:39 of the sudden death overtime almost came a play earlier. Both Coach Vince Lombardi and Chandler confirmed the story Monday.

★ ★ ★

"I almost sent him in on third down," said Lombardi. "I yelled, 'field goal,' and the field goal team all got up and started taking off their robes. But I changed my mind. Imagine, if we had fumbled, I would be kicking myself all over Green Bay."

Aussie Netters Humble Spain in Cup Action

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The sun blazed down on center court at 114 degrees, and John Newcombe and Tony Roche blazed over it with the same intensity today as Australia retained the Davis Cup with an easy doubles triumph over the flamboyant Spanish team of Manuel Santana and Luis Arilla.

The Aussies' 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 triumph over the gallant Spaniards gave the boys from Down Under an insurmountable 3-0 lead in the best-of-5 series and kept the big silver cup, emblematic of world amateur tennis supremacy, in Australia for the 13th time in the last 20 years.

MSU Quintet Moves Ahead

HONOLULU (AP) — The Michigan State Spartans roared to 10 straight points after intermission to break up a tight duel and went on to rout the defending champions Hawaii Marines 84-53 in the first game of the second annual Rainbow Classic Basketball Tournament in Honolulu Monday night.

The Spartans jumped to a 7-0 lead early in the game and trailed only once in the first half when Bill Jeffries hit two free throws to give the Marines a 23-22 advantage. But a basket and free throw by Stan Washington put MSU in front to stay.

The halftime margin was only 36-35, but the 10-point spurt, led by Washington and Steve Rymal, made it 46-35 and the Spartans gradually moved away.

Williams Near Baseball Honor

Expect Ted to Enter Hall of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, one of the greatest hitters in baseball history, appears a sure bet for election to the hall of fame in his first year of eligible former players announced Monday by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The tall slugger compiled a .344 batting average and hit 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Boston Red Sox despite time out for service in both World War II and the Korean War. He also is the most recent of baseball's .400 hitters, batting a majestic .406 in 1941.

To earn election to the Hall of Fame in the writers' voting, a player must be named on 75 per cent of ballots cast.

Papa Halas Pulls Out of Money Derby

CHICAGO (UPI)—Owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears announced today the team was withdrawing from pro football's "money derby" and offered rights to the club's No. 1 draft selection to any National Football League team.

Halas said the negotiating rights to Louisiana State tackle George Rice were available to any team "which might be interested."

"The Bears are withdrawing from the money derby, which is getting ridiculous and is not conducive to good squad morale," he said.

Halas said the Bears "found out what the other fellow (Houston) was offering and it's beyond reason."

Royals Keep Hex on Knicks

By The Associated Press

It has been three years since the New York Knickerbockers last won a National Basketball Association game at Cincinnati Gardens. The way the Royals played Monday night, it could be three more years before the Knicks break the string.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati opened up a 12-point first period lead and steadily added to it, whacking New York 138-116. In the only other NBA game played, Los Angeles downed St. Louis 108-100 at Memphis, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

Oscar Robertson was the Royals' big gun, scoring 36 points and tacking on 17 assists. Adrian Smith, Oscar's running mate in the Royals' backcourt, added 26 and Jerry Lucas had 25.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati shot a sizzling 59 per cent on 58 for 102 from the floor with Robertson connecting on 15 of 25. Dick Barnett led New York with 29.

★ ★ ★

The Royals have beaten New York 16 straight times at home, last losing in Cincinnati in December, 1962.

Bob Boozer and Jerry West paced Los Angeles' comeback as the Lakers wiped out a 13-point halftime deficit and overtook St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Boozer spun off a nine-point string in the third period and West duplicated it in the final 90 seconds as the Western Division leaders outscored the Hawks 34-15 in the final 12 minutes.

West led the Lakers with 24 and Boozer finished with 23. Player-Coach Richie Guerin led St. Louis with 25.

Scheffing in N.Y.

Ex-Tiger Joins Mets

DETROIT (AP)—Former Detroit Tiger Manager Bob Scheffing has resigned his position as a Tiger scout to accept a job with the New York Mets of the National League.

James A. Campbell, executive vice president and general manager of the American League Tigers, said Monday that Scheffing would succeed Eddie Stanky as director of player development with the Mets. Stanky recently was named manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Scheffing was a Natonal League catcher, coach and manager before he joined Detroit in 1961.

Scheffing, now 52, led Detroit to a second place finish with a 101-61 record in the 1961 American League pennant race. But the following season the Tigers finished fourth and they were in eighth place when Chuck Dressen replaced Scheffing as manager on June 18, 1963.

★ ★ ★

Scheffing spent the 1964 season announcing the play-by-play for the Tigers, then turned to scouting during the past season.

Scheffing's playing career began in 1935. He spent seven years in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system and then 10 years in the National League with Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

He served three seasons as a coach for the St. Louis Browns, Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves and three as manager of the Cubs in addition to his term with Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers said that while Scheffing would continue to make his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., one of his first jobs with the Mets would be to direct the club's minor league training operations at Homestead, Fla.

Wolverines Slip in West Classic by 89-87 Count

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Surprising Arizona State knocked third-ranked Michigan out of the running Monday night in the first round of the Far West Clsssic basketball tournament, 89-87.

Oregon State met Air Force in the second game.

It was the fourth consecutive victory for Arizona State, which now has a 6-3 record this season. Faltering Michigan, runnerup for the national title last season, now is 4-4.

★ ★ ★

Freddy Lewis, a six-foot speedster, led Arizona State to victory in a game in which the score was tied 15 times. Lewis had 24 points.

It was not until little more than 10 minutes remained that Arizona state finally took the lead for keeps. With five minutes remaining the winners had their biggest margin, 77-70.

Despite a 35-point performance by All-America Cazzie Russel, Michigan could not close the gap.

No Diamond for Ford II

DETROIT (UPI)—Auto magnate Henry Ford II said Monday he was recently offered a chance to purchase the New York Yankees.

"We got a call. Somebody asked us if we wanted to buy the baseball team. I asked them "What the hell do we know about baseball," added Ford.

Ford, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., said the offer was a "firm" one and he turned it down.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has 80 per cent of the controlling interest in the Yankees.

ACHING GRIDDERS—Green Bay Packer halfback Paul Hornung winces as he talks of his chest and leg injuries with quarterback Bart Starr, who also was injured in Sunday's playoff against Baltimore. Hornung would probably play in the NFL championship against Cleveland Sunday, but Starr, who suffered a back injury in the 13-10 win over the Colts, is a doubtful starter.

Titans Produce 83-63 Triumph

William & Mary Halts Eastern Kentucky

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit's tall and sizzling Titans clash with the deliberate, steady William and Mary team tonight in the finals of the Motor City Basketball Tournament.

★ ★ ★

The Titans have failed to make the championship round just once in this, their home tournament, in its 14 years.

Detroit outshot Harvard, 44 per cent to 35 per cent, and outrebounded them 61-38 Monday night, to grab an 83-63 victory.

★ ★ ★

William & Mary took an early lead and paced its way to a 76-64 victory over Eastern Kentucky in the other first round game.

DOUBLE FIGURES

All five Detroit starters scored in the double figures. Jim Boyce scored 19 points, Dorie Murrey 18, Bruce Rodwan 15 and Lou Hyatt and Larry Salci 12 each. Rodwan snared 22 rebounds and Murrey 12.

Keith Sedlacek, a 6-1 Harvard forward, whipped in 27 points to lead all scorers for the night.

★ ★ ★

Walt Wenk scored 22 points for William & Mary and got help from Ron Panneton with 15 and Tim Walter with 11. Eddie Bodkin tossed in 22 points and was helped by Fred Johnson's 13, but Eastern Kentucky started cold and never could catch up.

Titan Coach Bob Calihan said he expected to use a full-court press tonight in an effort to offset the deliberate, paced William & Mary attack.

★ ★ ★

The Virginia school picked off 42 rebounds to 41 for Eastern Kentucky, but sank 46 per cent of its shots, compared with 38.6 per cent for its foe.

Harvard and Eastern Kentucky will play the consolation game tonight, followed by the championship match.

Horse Show Set at BOH

State's Top Hunters Entered in Event

Over 140 of the top hunting horses in Michigan have been entered in Wednesday's sixth annual Bloomfield Open Hunt Holiday Indoor Show.

Competition will get under way at 9 a.m. and end about 6 p.m. The jumping classes will compete shortly after noon.

★ ★ ★

Two changes have been made in the show's format. There will be beginners classes for both children and adults and three jumper classes. Jumpers will compete in junior, green and open classes.

There is a possibility that Red Yount, one of the top three green open hunters in the nation, will compete. The horse is stabled at BOH.

★ ★ ★

Two more shows — Jan. 20 and March 20—will complete the winter program at the Bloomfield Hills club.

Michigan State senior middle guard Harold Lucas scored the first touchdown of his career against Purdue in 1964. He caught a ball in the air and stepped three yards to the end zone after teammate Charlie Thornhill blocked a punt.

BOWLING

Two more 700s were recorded last week in the North Hill Lanes Classic League Wednesday night.

Bill Johns, Actuals' Invitational champion in the recently concluded Pontiac Open Tournament, hit 256-237-213—706 to lead all the scoring and raise his average to 210.

Close behind was Bill Ash who gave a consistently strong 237-233-231—701 showing. The night's top game was stroked by Howard Buzzell with a 279 in a 683. Dave Carpenter had 694 and Art Pearson 685.

The first-half race will conclude Wednesday night and the top eight teams currently are only separated by two and a half points.

Owen Collins gave one of the brightest performances of the season in the Lakewood Lanes Pinspillers loop Sunday night with a 213-246—660 effort. Frank Meador had 219, Wally Johnson 214, Marge O'Brien 204 and Helen Fry 521 among the others.

LA Lakers' Jerry West Heads All-Star Quintet

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West must wonder what a guy has to do to be a unanimous All-Star selection in the National Basketball Association.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles' Mr. Everything was one of eight NBA players named to the West squad for the league's annual All-Star Game at Cincinnati, January 11.

★ ★ ★

West was named on all but one of the 67 ballots cast by sports writers and broadcasters in the nine NBA cities. West is the NBA's leading scorer with 1,228 points, one of three NBA players to pass the 1,000-point plateau this season, and the only one in the West.

★ ★ ★

The West team did have one unanimous selection. He's Nate Thurmond, the 6-foot-10 San Francisco center who took over in the Warriors' pivot spot after Wilt Chamberlain was traded to Philadelphia.

LONE ROOKIE

The only rookie on the team is Rick Barry of the Warriors, who is averaging better than 21 points per game.

★ ★ ★

Others chosen were San Francisco's Guy Rodgers, Don Ohl and Bailey Howell of Baltimore, Zelmo Beaty of St. Louis and Rudy LaRusso of Los Angeles.

The East's first eight stars will be announced Thursday and then NBA coaches will pick two more players for each 10-man squad.

★ ★ ★

One of the additional West players will come from Detroit, the only club in the division without a player among the first eight chosen.

Boston Downs Michigan Six in Ice Action

BOSTON (AP) — Junior Jim Quinn scored a pair of goals Monday night to lead Boston University to a 7-2 victory over defending champion Michigan in the opening round of the Christmas Hockey Tournament at Boston Arena.

* * *

Defending NCAA champion Michigan Tech beat Northeastern 8-5 with Steve Yoshino and Bob Toothill leading the way.

Quinn's first goal, opening the scoring at 7:58 0f the first period, was his third of the season. The Terriers were short-handed at the time.

* * *

Quinn had one of three BU goals in the opening period and one of the three that wrapped up the victory in the finale. Other BU goals were scored by Brian Gilmour, Jim Wood, Jack Parker, Pete McLachlan, and Fred Bassi.

* * *

The Martilla brothers, Lee and Mike, accounted for the Michigan scoring.

Walled Lake, Farmington Fall in Tourney Play

Walled Lake and Farmington tumbled into the losers' bracket last night but Southfield managed to stay alive in the Northwest Suburban Christmas Tournament.

Southfield knocked Walled Lake out of action with an 80-56 victory, while Farmington fell by the wayside after absorbing a 76-69 setback at the hands of Ypsilanti.

In the other first - round games, Bentley downed Wayne, and Berkley held off Redford Union, 59-55.

Tonight at Farmington in the losers' division, Walled Lake meets Wayne at 7 p.m. with Redford Union and Farmington taking the floor at 8:30.

Tomorrow night, also at Farmington, Bentley meets Southfield at 7 p.m. and Berkley takes on Ypsilanti at 8:30. Winners of thest two games will meet Thursday at 9:15 p.m. at Farmington.

PULLS AWAY

Southfield, leading 30-24 at half time, poured in 50 points in the second half to run away from Walled Lake, Ted Simmons sparked the winners with 24 points. John Huebler picked up 25 for the losers.

Al Hagland tossed in 21 points to lead Berkley's attack. Leland Bjerke collected 22 for Redford Union.

Detroit Thurston and Northville were first-round winners in the River Rouge Invitational.

Thurston led all the way in a 77-64 win over Taylor Center, while Northville trimmed Monroe in a low-scoring affair, 45-27.

John Jameson and Jerry Imsland scored 12 points apiece for Northville.

Los Angeles Riot Ranks Second

AP Lists Viet Nam War Top News Story of Year

By AP Newsfeatures

The growing war in Viet Nam has been voted by AP member newspapers and radio and TV stations as the top news story of 1965.

* * *

Other big stories of the year, as they were ranked by editors, were: 2. Riots in Los Angeles. 3. LBJ's legislative program. 4. Northeastern power failure. 5. Space flights and probes. 6. Selma march. 7. Dominican Republic crisis. 8. Winston Churchill's death. 9. Pope Paul VI visits New York. 10. India-Pakistan fighting.

Calling the U. S. "guardians at the gate" and hopeful that a display of American power would hasten a negotiated settlement, President Lyndon Johnson set this country's policy in Viet Nam as an increase in U. S. troop commitments.

In February, after the third major attack on Americans in Viet Nam in three months at Pleiku, Johnson ordered jet fighters to bomb a staging area in North Viet Nam.

* * *

By March, South Vietnamese and American planes were making regular bombing runs over North Viet Nam. In June, big B52 bombers of the Strategic Air Command flew missions for the first time.

GROUND FIGHTING

At the same time, ground fighting also stepped up. U. S. troops in South Viet Nam increased from 25,000 in January to 165,000 in December, with prospects of doubling in 1966.

The draft call went from 3,000 a month in February to 17,000 for September. A presidential order stepped that up to 35,000. In January, 65,000 tons of military equipment reached South Viet Nam by sea. In November, 750,000 tons arrived.

Rather than hastening a negotiated settlement, the increased U. S. effort brought heavier casualties. Estimates are that 1965 would have left 27,000 North Vietnamese, 11,000 South Vietnamese and 1,000 Americans dead in battle.

* * *

In the U. S., polls showed a high percentage of public approval of LBJ's Viet Nam policy. However, there were "get out of Viet Nam" demonstrations throughout the year, largely by college students and faculty.

TEACH-IN AT U-M

There was an all-night teach-in at the University of Michigan, a sit-in at the San Francisco State ROTC office and thousands picketed in Washington the week before Easter and again in November.

The Justice Department decided to investigate possible Communist involvement.

The rioting in Los Angeles began on the hot, smoggy evening of Wednesday, Aug. 11, in the Watts District, after a Highway Patrol officer arrested a young Negro on suspicion of drunken driving.

* * *

The crowd which collected became a mob, first throwing rocks, then beating white motorists, smashing stores and looting.

MOB FORMS

The mob was dispersed, formed again the next evening, dispersed and formed again to throw fire bombs, attack firemen, loot and shoot guns.

At the riot's peak, an estimated 7,000 rioters faced 900 policemen and 14,000 National Guardsmen.

When it was over, 34 persons had died, 898 been injured, more than 1,000 buildings were damaged, 209 beyond repair, more than 4,200 people were arrested and damage was estimated at $50 million.

* * *

The No. 3 story was LBJ's 1965 legislative record. Congress passed 86 major pieces of Great Society legislation including $1.3 billion Aid to Education; the Voting Rights Bill; an omnibus Housing Bill, which included a rent subsidy; medical care for the aged under Social Security; a $1.1 billion Appalachia Aid Bill; a liberalized Immigration Bill, a bill creating a Department of Housing and Urban Development.

AP's Top 10

1. Viet Nam war escalates
2. Riots in Los Angeles
3. LBJ's legislative program
4. Northeastern power failure
5. Space flights and probes—U. S. and U. S. S. R.
6. Selma march
7. Dominican Republic crisis
8. Winston Churchill's death
9. Pope Paul VI visits New York
10. India-Pakistan fighting

S. VIET WOMAN WEEPS — A South Vietnamese woman cradles a baby and weeps as government soldiers pass in the village of Ba Gia July 17. The village had been hit by Viet Cong bombs, rockets and cannon fire in a three-day siege.

LIGHTS GO OUT

4. The lights went out over most of the Northeastern United States and part of Ontario, Canada, during the afternoon rush hour Nov. 9. They stayed out most of the night in New York.

Thirty million persons, 800,000 of them in New York subways, were in the dark because of a malfunctioning relay—an automatic switching device—in a Canadian power plant four miles from Niagara Falls.

The power leak was too fast to be isolated and automatic devices shut down the vast network, one of the country's five power grids of interlocking utilities. A Federal Power Commission report said it could happen again.

5. A Russian cosmonaut, Alexei Leonov, walked outside his spacecraft for 10 minutes March 18 and an American, Edward White, took a 21-minute walk out of Gemini 4 three months later.

UP NEARLY 8 DAYS

Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad were up nearly eight days in August in Gemini 5. Underwear astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell blasted off Dec. 4 in Gemini 7 toward a rendezvous later with Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford in Gemini 6.

In other space milestones: The U. S. Ranger 9 crashed on the moon 2.76 miles off target March 24.

The first commercial satellite, Early Bird, relayed 11¾ hours of television between Europe and North America on its first day of operation May 3. Mariner 4 radioed back the first close-up pictures of a lifeless Mars July 14.

* * *

6. A march from Selma, Ala., 50 miles to Montgomery, to protest vote discrimination, was started by 600 March 7 and turned back by tear gas.

CLUBBED TO DEATH

March 9, the Rev. James Reeb of Boston was clubbed to death as he left a Selma restaurant. On March 21, with protection of a court permit to march and the Alabama National Guard, 300 marchers set off, arriving in Montgomery Thursday morning.

One of the whites at the march, Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, Detroit mother of five, was shot to death Thursday as she drove to Montgomery to pick up marchers and return them to Selma.

On April 24, a coup overthrew Dominican Republic President Donald Reid Cabral. He fled, army rebels handed out weapons to civilians, and four months of fighting began.

On April 28, Johnson sent U.S. troops—at one time there were some 24,000. The Organization of American States sent a military force, of which the Americans became part.

A three-man OAS delegation forged a settlement and Hector Garcia-Godoy took office as head of a provisional government Sept. 3.

8. Sir Winston Churchill, 90, died Jan. 24 at his London home, two weeks after suffering a stroke. Churchill was best remembered as Britain's wartime leader who mobilized England and the English language and sent them into battle.

His body lay in state three days in the Hall of Kings at the Palace of Westminster and after a somber and majestic state funeral was buried in the village of Blaydon, beside his parents.

* * *

9. Pope Paul VI became the first reigning Pope in history to visit the United States, making the longest papal voyage ever—4,066 miles—to spend 13 hours in New York.

WAR NEVER AGAIN

He drove through Spanish Harlem, addressed the United Nations pleading "war never again," appeared in St. Patrick's Cathedral and Holy Family Church.

He met with leaders of other churches, U Thant and President Johnson and offered a Mass for peace before 90,000 in Yankee Stadium.

10. In August, Pakistan and India sent armed men across the 1949 ceasefire line in Kashmir. Indians seized Pakistani positions in northern Kashmir.

* * *

Pakistan moved men and tanks into southwest Kashmir. India began an invasion of Pakistan itself. With the U. S., England and the U.S.S.R. calling for peace, both sides accepted U Thant's ceasefire proposals Sept. 23.

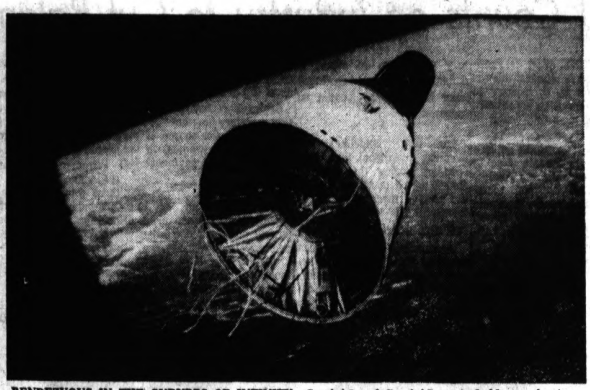
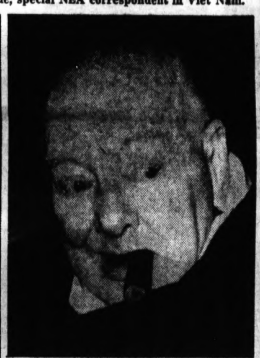
FOCUS ON EVENTFUL 1965

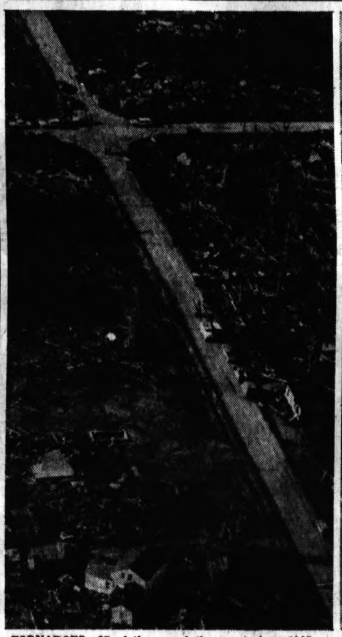


RENDEZVOUS IN THE SUBURBS OF INFINITY—Gemini-6 and Gemini-7 wrote bold new chapters into the book of U. S. space accomplishments when they maneuvered within 10 feet of each other in an unprecedented space meeting. With earth as a background, Gemini-6 pilots trained their cameras on Gemini-7 (above), whose crew splashed down safely in the Atlantic after a two-weeks journey on which they gave America most of the major manned space flight records. No less amazing was astronaut Edward White's 20-minute "stroll" in space outside his capsule on a Gemini-4 flight (below).

ESCALATION IN U.S. MANPOWER—and casualties—marked the fierce jungle war in South Viet Nam. Ground forces grappled with an elusive Red army specializing in hit-and-run tactics, terrorism and ambushes. U. S. air strikes wrecked enemy bridges, rail lines, vital supply depots. At home, draft quotas were greatly increased as Defense Secretary McNamara foresaw the prospect of a long, bitter war. Top photo is by Tom Tiede, special NEA correspondent in Viet Nam.



GREAT AND SMALL paid homage to the towering contributions Sir Winston Churchill, 90, made to the world. He was accorded a state funeral rivaling a king's.



CASCADE OF POWER FAILURES threw 30 million people in an 80,000-square-mile area of the Northeast into darkness and confusion. Public services, transportation systems halted; standby generators came into play to power iron lungs, police radios and to perform no-delay operations.

TORNADOES—37 of them and the worst since 1925—swirled across Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, killing 250 persons. The village of Pittsfield, Ohio, (above) was wiped out. Midwest floods added destruction and desolation.

MEDICARE, War on Poverty, voting rights —milestones for the "Great Society" envisioned by President Johnson, only slightly slowed up by removal of his gall bladder.

POPE PAUL VI made a historic, one-day peace pilgrimage to the United States. He addressed the United Nations, conferred with President Johnson, celebrated an unprecedented, outdoor Papal Mass for Peace in jam-packed Yankee Stadium and visited the Vatican exhibit at the World's Fair.

"WE SHALL OVERCOME" spurred the 54-mile Selma-to-Montgomery civil rights march by a horde of Alabama Negroes and whites led by Dr. Martin Luther King.

AN UPRISING AGAINST the Dominican Republic's rulers led to intervention by American troops (above), to evacuate Americans endangered by fighting in Santo Domingo. When Reds infiltrated the rebels' effort, President Johnson poured in 20,000 Yanks "to prevent another Communist state in this hemisphere." They preserved peace of sorts as a solution was sought to the leadership dilemma.

LBJ Counts on Industry to Cut Balance of Payments Deficit

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's administration is counting on U. S. industry to chop $1 billion from the nation's balance of payments deficit in 1966.

That would bring the nation's international accounts close to the balance point, said Andrew F. Brimmer, assistant secretary of Commerce for Economic Affairs, in an address prepared for delivery to the American Finance Association.

* * *

Brimmer said that target is the reason the so-called voluntary restrictions on export of dollars for overseas investment have been clearly focused on industry.

* * *

The 1966 "guidelines" on overseas investment limit such spending during the two-year 1965-66 period to 90 per cent of the level of investments in the three-year 1962-64 period.

EXPORT BOOST

Corporations also have been asked to boost exports and report quarterly on foreign transactions. The number of corporations to report quarterly will be more than 900, compared with about 500 in 1965.

Brimmer contended that the 1965 voluntary program "is likely to be a major source of the substantial improvement in the U. S. balance of payments for 1965."

* * *

That came about, he said, through increased expansion of exports and the repatriation of income earned overseas.

"On the other hand, the continued high rate of direct investment has dampened the over-all improvement," Brimmer added.

Consequently, in the face of the possibility of more of the same in 1966, the guidelines were redrawn to attack the investment situation.

Brimmer said that at the time the guidelines were redrawn, there was expectation that the 1966 balance of payments would deteriorate mainly because of "the acceleration of military activity in Viet Nam and the continued high rate of direct investment abroad by U.S. corporations."

"While every effort will be made to minimize the military impact, it was evident that the focus of the 1966 balance of payments program had to be on direct investment," said Brimmer.

* * *

The voluntary program was inaugurated last February after the U. S. payments deficit soared over $3 billion in 1964. The deficit was the 14th in 15 years.

* * *

The voluntary program is divided into two main parts. The Treasury and Federal Reserve supervise financial institutions; the Commerce Department supervises industry.

Prosecutors Renew Appeal for Help

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office yesterday renewed its plea for more personnel to meet what it terms an ever-increasing work load.

Asst. Prosecutors James R. Stelt and Thomas G. Plunkett, representing Prosecutor S. Jerome Bromson who is vacationing in Florida, made the appeal before the salaries committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

The assistant prosecutors asked that two additional attorneys and a stenographer be authorized immediately.

They pointed out that the appellate work load has increased substantially and that 70 appeals now are pending.

Other arguments for more staff were that one assistant prosecutor is assigned full time to a grand jury investigation and two others devote part time to it.

QUESTIONS NEED

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Boards of Auditors, questioned the needs of the prosecutor's office stating that there is no great backlog of pending circuit cases.

Bronson and Murphy have been at odds over the personnel needs of the prosecutor's office for several months.

Bronson periodically asks for funds to hire more personnel and Murphy contends that the prosecutor's office has no greater needs than any other county department.

* * *

After hearing the new plea, the salaries committee voted to study the matter further.

* * *

Formal sessions of the salaries committee in preparation of the 1967 county budget will begin in February.

Traffic Safety Hints:

No. 9 Too many people do not fully realize the distance required to stop a car at various speeds even on dry concrete under ideal conditions. At 20 mph, it required approximately 70 square feet to stop the car; at 40 mph, approximately 180 feet; at 60 mph approximately 360 feet. Add wet or slippery pavement and your stopping distance may double, triple or quadruple according to the degree of slickness.

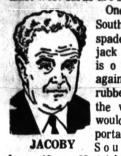
Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

Today's hand is a trifle different from yesterday's and the East-West cards are shown.



JACOBY

Once more South is in six spades and the jack of hearts is opened against him. In rubber bridge the whole play would be unimportant because South would have 12 or 13 tricks in front of him, but this time the game is match-point duplicate.

South notes that six no-trump is just as easy to make as six spades and that if West holds the king of diamonds, the hand will spread for a grand slam provided South takes the diamond finesse.

South wins the heart lead with the queen in dummy and pulls trumps. Meanwhile he has noted that he has a play at his disposal that may get him a very good score if the king of diamonds is in the East hand.

	NORTH (D)	28
	♠ Q J 10 5
	♥ A Q
	♦ A Q 10 9 5
	♣ 5 4
WEST		EAST
♠ 9 3		♠ 6
♥ J 10 9 7 6		♥ 5 4 3 2
♦ 8 2		♦ K 6 4 3
♣ K J 8 3		♣ 10 9 7 2
	SOUTH
	♠ A K 8 7 4 2
	♥ K 8
	♦ J 7
	♣ A Q 6

Both vulnerable

West	North	East	South
	1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	5 N.T.
Pass	6 ♣	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♥ J

South leads a diamond to dummy's ace and returns a low diamond toward his own hand.

East has the king and a moment of decision. Probably he should go right up with the king on the theory that if South really has a singleton diamond it won't do him any good to hold off, but then East does not have our advantages. He sees only his own cards and dummy.

So East is likely to duck. North manages to make an overtrick at his slam contract.

Also, since the game is duplicate, that overtrick gives him the top score he is looking for.

♠♣ CARD Sense ♦♥

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
			1 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 N.T.
Pass	5 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A K 10 9 4 ♥ A K 10 9 4 ♦ K 5 ♣ 2
What do you do?

A—Just bid seven spades. There is no way to find out if your partner holds three small hearts but the odds are that he will be short in that suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding seven spades, you decide to bid five no-trump and your partner responds six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

Farmer Quits CORE to Head New Program

NEW YORK (UPI) — James Farmer confirmed Monday that he is quitting as national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) to head a new $50 million program to provide education and job training for the poor.

Farmer's resignation, effective March 1, was disclosed during the weekend.

* * *

The new organization, Center for Community Action Education, Inc., will be based in Washington and will include on its board of directors Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.; Dr. John Morsell, associate director of the NAACP; and John Lewis, chairman of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

A Soldier Finds Time for Thanks

LANSING (AP)—With a little luck, Sgt. Leonard J. Panek's thank you note from Viet Nam may find its way to Mrs. Glover.

The note was for a Christmas card which accompanied one of the "operation Michigan Christmas in Viet Nam" packages sent to Michigan fighting men last week.

* * *

Panek of Traverse City didn't know Mrs. Glover or where she lives, so his letter was sent in care of Gov. George Romney's office.

He also sent two other notes—one to Diane Bobrowski, also care of Romney's office, and one to Romney's staff.

THANKS!

More than 40 thank you notes have come in thus far, most addressed to the "People of Michigan" or to Romney.

* * *

John Byington, Romney's assistant press secretary, said a secretary would come in to check over the list of contributors in an effort to pass on any notes addressed to individuals.

* * *

"You have not only brought cheer into my heart, but into the hearts of nine other men in my tent (not from Michigan)," Panek wrote in his notes. "We all enjoyed your Christmas equally as much."

More than 7,000 Michigan gift packages were sent to Michigan fighting men in Viet Nam.

Policeman Is Spanked With His Pants Down

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A red-faced policeman told his superiors early yesterday that revelers at a late-night party took down his trousers and gave him an old-fashioned spanking when he told them to tone down their juke box.

The party crowd overpowered the policeman and his partner and held them while the spanking was administered. When the two policemen returned to the house with reinforcements a few minutes later, there was no one there.

Peace Corps, VISTA Men Eligible for Deferments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young men who join the Peace Corps or sign on as volunteers in the war on poverty are eligible for occupational deferment from the draft, a Selective Service official said today.

But youths on the receiving end of federal job training programs are eligible for induction, if they meet the physical and mental standards set for draftees.

★ ★ ★

"As far as we are concerned," said Capt. William S. Pascoe, public information officer for the Selective Service System, "if a person is in the Job Corps, there is no reason for us to defer them."

They are not eligible for student deferments because Job Corps camps are not considered to be full-time, recognized institutions of learning.

NOT UP TO PAR

In practice, Capt. Pascoe said, few Job Corps trainees are likely to be drafted — because they are too young, or because they do not meet induction standards.

But their Job Corps status does not alter their standing in the draft. The same is true of the neighborhood Job Corps, Capt. Pascoe said.

There are now more than 17,000 young men, between 16 and 21, in Job Corps camps.

Peace Corps volunteers are considered to be in an occupation vital to the national interest. The same is true of young men who join the Volunteers in Service to America — VISTA, domestic counterparts of the Peace Corps.

AGES 18½ TO 26

There are 4,840 draft-age men serving overseas with the Peace Corps now, 526 serving in VISTA. Draft age is 18½ to 26.

"There is no such thing as a blanket deferment," Capt. Pascoe said. "Every case is handled on its own merits."

★ ★ ★

The decision is made by the local draft board. But Capt. Pascoe said the VISTA and Peace Corps volunteers are eligible for 2A classification, which means deferment because of an occupation vital to the national health, safety or interest.

Deferments are granted on a year-to-year basis. The young man involved would be deferred only during the period of his service with the Peace Corps or with VISTA.

Once a man has been deferred, his draft liability is extended until he is 35.

Los Angeles Music Center Big Success in First Year

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES — The Music Center celebrates its first birthday this month, marking a spectacular success for Los Angeles' bigtime venture into the arts.

THOMAS

During its 122-month history, the white and gold pavilion atop Bunker Hill attracted 1,232,000 customers to 401 performances of everything from "Hello Dolly!" to Andres Segovia. Now building are two companion theaters: a 1,833-seat legitimate theater and a 730-seat forum for the intimate productions, lectures, chamber music, etc.

★ ★ ★

But theaters are useless without attractions to fill their stages. That is the present concern of Mrs. Norman Chandler, who led the remarkable drive for $13 million in public subscription to build the Music Center. The rest of the $25 million came from a bond issue by Los Angeles County, which contributed seven acres in Civic Center.

Although the two new theaters will not open until 1967, Mrs. Chandler already is working on a campaign to support a resident repertory company.

BRICKS MORTAR

"Before, we were asking people to invest in bricks and mortar — something they could see," Mrs. Chandler said.

"Now we are asking for a second investment in the first one. Our prospects must understand the philosophy and objectives of the drive. If they know what we are trying to do, then they might contribute."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Chandler has consulted operators of other repertory companies, principally the Tyrone Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis, Minn. They have told her the first step is to gather a competent staff; two years of organizing was recommended before the first play is produced.

"I purposely haven't set a goal for the campaign," said Mrs. Chandler, "but we will need at least a million dollars a year for five years to get the repertory company under way."

Norman Chandler is board chairman of the Los Angeles Times.

SALESWOMEN

Mrs. Chandler has a knack for raising money. Such is her fame as a fund-raiser — she prefers "saleswoman"—that she was recently invited to address the National Association of Manufacturers on the subject.

★ ★ ★

Among her pointers:

1. Make the donation request startlingly high; donors appreciate the compliment.

2. Give the campaign prestige; donors like to be associated with important people and organizations.

★ ★ ★

3. Personalize the gift; emphasize what the donor can get out of it for himself, his prestige, his employes.

4. Be patient; never apply pressure, but return to a prospect everal times if necessary.

5. Listen to what people have to say; "I let them tell me what they don't like about the Los Angeles Times."

★ ★ ★

6. If you lose a contact, write it off and go on to another; don't waste time on someone who won't be convinced.

Oppose Name of JFK School

Group Is Seeking to Restore Former Title

MARLBORO, Mass. (AP) — Last week the Marlboro School Committee voted to name the town's new $5-million high school the John F. Kennedy Memorial High School.

Now they have a petition to rescind the vote and to restore the old title, Marlboro High School.

★ ★ ★

The building was opened for the first time in September 1963, two months before President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

Townspeople are loath to talk about the controversy.

NOTHING POLITICAL

Raymond C. Richer, superintendent of schools, said he has been "keeping out of this." But he emphasized there "is nothing political in the opposition to the Kennedy name."

Marlboro voted better than 2-1 for President Kennedy in the 1960 election. His brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., carried Marlboro 8,200 to 1,974 over his Republican opponent in 1964.

★ ★ ★

The petition asking for restoration of the city's name to the school said that so many schools and other public buildings had been given the late president's name that it was "almost farcical."

In the weeks that followed President Kennedy's death, some 700 persons signed the petition to give the new school his name.

NAME VOTED

The school committee voted on the name last week after technicalities involving title to the structure were completed.

The new petition, signed by about 300 residents, comes before the committee Thursday night.

Francis J. Kane, a committee member, says he plans to propose that the high school keep its original name and that the school auditorium or some other building be given Kennedy's name.

'Family Tax' Game Under Way in Italy

ROME (AP) — Actor Marcello Mastroianni says he made $48,000 in 1965, but Rome's tax assessors insist he earned $160,000.

It's all part of the "family tax" game played each year in Italy.

The tax office throws out a figure, the citizen swears it's ridiculously high, then they negotiate a settlement somewhere in between.

The tax rate runs from 10 to 15 per cent of income.

Sophia Loren earned $560,000, according to the Rome tax office. She reportedly declared a smaller amount.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CATS' WHISKERS

QUESTION: Why do cats have whiskers?

ANSWER: As an animal moves about to find food or escape from other animals, it needs to have its senses highly developed. Its life often depends on how these senses are.

But different animals have developed some senses more than others, beacuse they are especially useful in a particular way of life. An eagle needs extremely keen eyesight because he sails so far up in the air.

Dogs and wolves have long muzzles which give them remarkable power of scent so they can track down other animals by smell. One of these useful senses is that of touch.

Although all animals have some sense of touch, some use this sense more than others. Insects can often escape from danger because tiny bristles on their body, sensitive to touch, warn them of danger.

Many have long feelers on their heads which work in the same way. Whiskers are a kind of feeler found on many higher animals.

They are particularly developed in the cat family because these animals hunt at night.

The whiskers let them feel their way around in the dark. There are nerve cells which surround each whisker and tell the animal at once if it has touched something.

FOR YOU TO DO: Close your eyes and run the tips of your fingers carefully over the objects surrounding you. Notice how amazingly well your sensitive fingers will report how things feel — the subtle difference between paper and wood, for example.

Bob Hope Cast

Stars See Touch of War

ABOARD THE USS TICONDEROGA OFF VIET NAM (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope and his cast of luscious lovelies watched in horror yesterday as a U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk missed the recovery cable on the carrier deck, plunged into the darkened South China Sea and exploded in a ball of flame.

They saw the pilot eject from the plane and his parachute open. But for 30 suspense-filled minutes they were afraid that another American had been lost as the carrier and it's two escort destroyers, the USS Turner Joy and the USS Swanson, scoured the black waters.

"It was frightening, it was frightening," said actress Joey Heatherton. She had screamed when the plane exploded with a blinding sheet of flame.

"I could see him coming, and then he pulled back and hit his engine and then there was this big sheet of flame. I knew something was going to happen. We were all stunned. This really brings the war home to you," she said.

★ ★ ★

A few minutes later, the cast cheered as the pilot, Lt. (jg) William (Bill) Brocker of Newark, Ohio, was pulled from the water.

BIG KISS

Miss Heatherton ran into his arms and planted a big kiss on his cheek.

Brocker grinned.

"It was almost worth it," he said.

Hope and his cast had boarded the carrier late Sunday after performing for U.S. servicemen at Camp Rahn Bay Capt R. N. Miller welcomed him aboard.

SAT ON DECK

After dinner, the group of entertainers sat on the flight deck and watched jets roar off into the sunset for strikes against Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

"This is the biggest treat of the trip," Hope said. The girls with him shouted "whoopee!" and "boy-oh-boy!" as the jets thundered down the deck and leaped into the air.

Young Caller Gives Tip on Stolen Bonds

ALIQUIPPA, Pa. (AP) — The telephone rang in the Aliquippa police station at 3:02 p.m.

The voice on the other end sounded like that of a young man.

He said that if police went to the end of Independence Road and looked under a barbed wire fence at the edge of Racoon Creek, they would find a pillow case containing stolen bonds.

Aided by a fur trapper who knew the area, police and FBI agents went to the spot Monday and recovered $74,000 in negotiable municipal bonds, part of the life savings of Dr. B.T. Owens, a general practitioner of nearby Hopewell Twp.

THEFT REPORTED

Dr. Owens reported to police last Friday that $346,600 in cash and securities was stolen from his 12-room house while he was making house calls.

The FBI said $257,000 in bonds was discovered still in the house Christmas Day. They apparently had been abandoned by the thieves.

Still missing is $15,600 in cash and checks.

Panama Asks: Return Suspect

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The government of Panama officially asked the United States Monday to extradite Roberto Ramirez, 35, for trial on charges that he murdered five shipmates aboard the banana boat Seven Seas.

U.S. officials have delayed prosecution of the case pending the Panamanian extradition petition. Ramirez is charged by U.S. officials with the Aug. 7 murder of the Seven Seas' captain, its first mate, the second engineer and a seaman.

He is also charged with the murder of the ship's cook who is believed to have drowned after he jumped overboard in terror. A charge of piracy also has been filed against him.

ONE WITNESS

The only survivor of the high seas drama was Burywaise Elwin, 17, a seaman who hid in a chain locker. He testified against Ramirez during a hearing here in which Ramirez was ordered held without bail.

★ ★ ★

No date has been set for the extradition hearing. Ramirez' court-appointed attorney, Gino P. Negretti, has filed a petition seeking the Cuban's release since he has not been indicted.

A hearing on this request has been set for Jan. 3.

Give Family the Bird in Unusual and Tasty Dishes

GOBBLER'S REWARD CASSEROLE

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Leftover turkey makes wonderful sandwiches, but there's a limit to how many you want to eat. Of course, if you have to fill lunchboxes, you'll be glad to store a packet of sandwiches in the freezer.

There are other interesting ways to use the holiday bird.

★ ★ ★

First of all, here's a real gourmet's treat. It's creamed turkey with a difference. Orange slices, slivered almonds and sour cream add distinctive touches.

GOBBLER'S REWARD CASSEROLE

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 garlic clove, crushed
½ cup orange juice
1 cup (½ pint) sour cream
½ cup sherry
2 cups cooked parslied rice
2 oranges, peeled and sliced
4 cups chopped cooked turkey
½ cup slivered almonds

In medium saucepan melt butter, stir in flour until smooth. Slowly add milk a little at a time until smooth and thickened. Do not boil.

Add garlic, orange juice and sour cream. Remove from heat. Stir in sherry. Reserve.

Arrange rice in 6-cup casserole; cover with layer of orange slices; add turkey. Pour sauce over all. Garnish with remaining orange slices. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Turkey salad takes on a new look too. This one includes fruit and nuts. It's just the thing for a late supper in front of the fireplace.

TURKEY FRUIT SALAD

4 cups chopped cooked turkey
1 cup seedless grapes
4 pineapple spears, halved
1 cup chopped apple
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
1½ cups mayonnaise

Combine turkey with grapes, pineapple, apple; walnuts and grapefruit. Toss with mayonnaise until evenly coated. Serve on lettuce and garnish with walnut halves. Makes 8 servings.

When there are only small bits and pieces of turkey left, you can still have some appetizing dishes. One is a baked turkey loaf.

MINCED TURKEY LOAF

3 cups minced cooked turkey
½ cup chicken liver pate
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
¼ cup diced pimiento
3 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups milk
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning

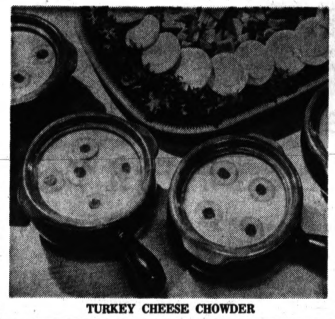
Combine turkey with remaining ingredients in medium bowl. Place in greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Set in pan of hot water about 1 inch deep. Bake in 350-degree oven about 1 hour or until firm. Turn out on serving platter; serve with creamed peas. Yield: 6 servings.

Finally, cook the bones to make turkey stock and for a grand finale serve Turkey Cheese Chowder.

TURKEY CHEESE CHOWDER

1½ cups turkey stock
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped carrots
½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 quart milk
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
2 cups grated Cheddar cheese (about ½ pound)
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Dash cayenne pepper
2 cups diced cooked turkey

Combine turkey stock, onions, celery and carrots. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender. Add olives and 3½ cups milk. Heat to boiling point over medium heat. Combine flour and remaining milk. Mix until blended and add to olive mixture. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and remaining ingredients. Stir until cheese is melted. Heat to serving temperature, stirring frequently. Garnish with additional sliced olives. Makes about 2 quarts.



TURKEY CHEESE CHOWDER

Different Pot Roast Is Barbecued Version

Add barbecue flavor to ordinary pot roast to make a delicious dinner treat. The trick is easy. All it takes are a delightful combination of seasonings and long, slow cooking in moist heat to make the meat tender and bring out the full flavor.

The pot roast is simmered in the seasonings, to which potatoes and carrots can be added at the final stage to make a complete meal. And don't forget, the seasoned meat juices make excellent gravy.

Try this hearty recipe the next time you want to provide a substantial meal for your family and friends. The men especially will appreciate it.

Barbecued Pot Roast

3 pounds chuck pot roast
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons fat
½ cup water
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
3 medium onions, sliced
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup catsup
¼ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons flour

Rub meat with salt and pepper; brown in hot fat. Add water, tomato sauce, sliced onions, and minced garlic. Cover and cook over low heat 1½ hours.

Combine brown sugar, dry mustard, lemon juice, catsup, vinegar and Worcestershire sauce, and pour over meat. Cover and continue cooking 1 hour or until tender. Remove meat to hot platter.

Skim most of fat from gravy. Dilute gravy with water to suit taste, then thicken with 2 tablespoons flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little water. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Garlic and Butter Season Pecans

Try seasoned peacans with spiced tea or eggnog; they're delicious and can be readied quickly. Keep a plentiful supply of pecans on hand — you'll need the halves for this snack.

★ ★ ★

To 2 cups pecan halves, add ¼ cup melted butter and 1 tablespoon garlic salt; heat in a 350 degree oven for 20 minutes, tossing occasionally. Dandy nibbling!

Honey Crumb Crust Bakes on Apples

The old expression about "an apple a day keeping the doctor away," has no real scientific basis, but we do know that baked apples like these WILL make everyone, from the doctor to sister Sue, happy! There's no better dessert to serve to the family.

The apples bake tender and juicy, but it's the very unusual filling and crusty shell that folks will really talk about.

Dates and pecans — delicately flavored with honey and lemon — baked inside the apples, are the wonderful surprise awaiting you with your first spoonful. The outside of each apple is generously coated with graham cracker crumbs and butter and then more butter and honey are spooned atop the fruit before it's ready for the oven.

This crumb crust forms a crispy topping on the apples that, when basted with the velvety-smooth honey, tastes just like a nut candy.

Honey adds a dandy taste to other baked fruits as well.

Try this idea as an alternate dessert sometime soon: Choose a variety of canned fruits, perhaps pears, cherries and peach slices, and drain well. Arrange in a baking dish and drizzle with honey and lemon juice. Bake for about thirty minutes at 350 degrees.

Serve the fruits right from the oven in a pretty compote or individual dishes topped with dollops of dairy sour cream. Good!

Honey-Crust Apples

¼ cup chopped dates
¼ cup honey
2 tablespoons chopped pecans
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
½ cup graham cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
6 baking apples
⅓ cup melted butter
¾ to 1 cup honey

Combine dates, ¼ cup honey, pecans and lemon peel. Combine graham cracker crumbs and cinnamon. Core apples and peel the top third of each. Brush with melted butter and roll apples in cracker crumbs.

Place apples in a 10x6x2-inch baking dish. Spoon date mixture into center hole; pour remaining around apples.

Bake in a 400 degree oven for 30 minutes or until done. Spoon honey over apples every 10 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

HONEY-CRUST APPLES — These date-filled baked apples have honey drizzled over them as they cook. Top with a scoop of ice cream as they come from the oven. They're a fine treat for youngsters as they come trooping home from school.

Ham Casserole Has Apple Top

The Deep-Dish Ham 'N Apples tops a layer of onion-and-mustard-seasoned ground ham with fresh apple slices. Simply prepared, it's important enough for company serving.

Deep-Dish Ham 'N Apples

3 cups ground, cooked ham
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 egg
½ cup milk
1 cup soft bread crumbs
3 apples, peeled and cored
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Mix ham, mustard, onion, egg, milk, and bread crumbs together and turn into a greased baking dish. Slice apples about ½-inch thick and arrange over ham mixture, overlapping slices around edge of dish. Sprinkle apples with brown sugar and melted butter or margarine.

Bake uncovered in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 40 minutes, or until apple slices are brown and tender. Serves 6.

Grease Cooking Pot

Grease the inside of the pan before boiling sweet potatoes in it. The grease will keep a gummy ring from forming on the inside of the pan, something that often occurs when sweet potatoes are boiled.

Market's Worst Losses Cut

Air, Space Issues Drop Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and aerospace issues took sharp losses today but the overall stock market cut its worst losses early this afternoon. Trading slackened after a heavy pace in the morning.

Aerospace defense issues came under selling pressure as the result of the newest cease-fire proposal in Viet Nam.

Airlines took steep losses on publication of a newspaper article which predicted the Civil Aeronautics Board will prod airlines to cut fares in 1966.

Other major stock groups retreated on a broad front but losses reached their worst by the first hour. Thereafter many groups sold above their lows although airlines were still down very sharply.

60 STOCKS DOWN

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.2 at 354.3 with industrials off 1.9, rails off .9 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.28 at 958.51 after showing a loss of as much as 4.78 at the end of the first hour.

BIG LINES LOSE

Northwest Airlines, one of the higher-priced issues in its group, was down about 7½ points.

Prices declined in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntext lost 3. Down 2 or so were TWA warrants, Walter Kidde, PneymoDynamics and Conductron.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds continued to rise.

Army Readies Reserve Force

Faces Possible Call to Viet Nam Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new Army reserve force totaling 150,000 men could be ready to go to Viet Nam by July 1.

Officials said yesterday the selected Army National Guard and Reserve now has been built up to 135,000 men since its creation last Sept. 30. They expect it to reach the 150,000 mark before next August.

The timing of the select force buildup to 100 per cent combat strength indicates that it is intended to be ready for mobilization next summer, or possibly sooner, if the Viet Nam war should make that necessary.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered the select force to be created "in the shortest period of time." It will have three divisions, six brigades, and 976 smaller units.

★ ★ ★

The Administration decided on a 340,000-man increase in the regular armed forces last summer because of the war but decided against a Reserve call up.

NO ACTIVE DUTY

Rather than call up National Guardsmen for a year and then release them, it was decided to create the select force and bring it to full strength without a call to active duty.

Should it be necessary to increase the number of troops in Viet Nam by a very large number, thereby depleting the Army's strategic reserves at home, the select force of Army National Guard and organized Reserve units could be called up to fill the void.

Firm to Offer City Building

City Commissioners tonight are scheduled to receive a proposal from Consumers Power Co. for the sale of the latter's service building on Wessen.

The utility company is expected to offer the service building to the city.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren has slated a report on the proposal.

In other business on the brief agenda, the 1966 budget for Pontiac General Hospital is to be presented to the commission.

★ ★ ★

A record $8.3 million operating budget has been proposed for the city-run hospital for the coming year.

REQUESTS MEETING

Also, a report is expected on a request for a meeting with the mayor and city manager by a representative of the housing committee of the Pontiac Area Urban League.

According to the commission agenda, Mrs. Lora A. Carey of the Urban League has requested such a meeting.

Wiring Blamed in Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Fire Department officials listed defective wiring as the cause of the fire in a Christmas tree on the sixth floor of Detroit Edison Co.'s general offices Monday. A spokesman for the electric firm, however, insisted the cause was unknown.

'66 May End Industry's Recession

Housing Upturn Seen

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Home builders are hoping that 1966 will see an end to the industry's private recession. A marked pickup is reported in contracts let in November for future construction of residential units. And lenders say that demand for mortgages is picking up.

DAWSON

The government chimes in with reports that housing starts have increased in the closing weeks of the year. And the Department of Commerce adds the prediction that construction spending of all types, including homes, will hit a record pace of $72.7 billion in 1966, compared with $68.5 billion in 1965.

★ ★ ★

Despite all these hopeful tidings, the home building industry is closing out a year which in many sections of the country trailed 1964 activity in almost every month-to-month comparison.

Total starts in 1965 will be around 1,490,000 residential units, against 1,557,000 last year. And the pace at year-end, though picking up, is well below the high point reached in the opening weeks of 1964.

HIGHER PRICED HOMES

The story on a money basis is better than on a tally by units. The industry says this is because new owners were buying more expensive homes this year than last.

Contracts let for residential building in the first 11 months of 1965 were 3 per cent higher than in the like period of 1964, F.W. Dodge Co. reports today. The construction industry information specialists put the 1965 figure at $19,866,649,000, up from $19,287,763,000 in the first 11 months of 1964.

Builders note happily that a flashy 14 per cent improvement was reported in November. Residential building contracts rose to $1.7 billion in this latest report, from $1.5 billion in November 1964.

The lending fraternity also has cheerful news this week. Although fretting over the general rise in intrest rates triggered by Federal Reserve Board action, savings and loan associations report mortgage lending at the year-end was on the upturn. And so was the savings inflow into these institutions after a period of sluggishness.

NOVEMBER UP

The United States Savings & Loan League reports that member associations closed $1.9 billion in mortgage loans this November, up 4 per cent from last year. But for the first 11 months of 1965 the total of $21.9 billion trailed 1964 by $600 million.

Savers added $2.5 billion to their accounts last month and withdrew $1.7 billion. Both figures topped November 1964 when the inflow was $2.4 billion and withdrawals $1.5 billion.

★ ★ ★

It's the prospect for increased activity which F.W. Dodge hails as "especially welcome after the six-month lull." Contracts for future construction of single family housing was up 13 per cent from last year in the latest figures, and apartment contracts up 15 per cent. Dormitories and other nonhousekeeping residential buildings shows a Novembr-to-November gain of 26 per cent.

Q) "Acting on advice, I bought 50 Alberto-Culver at 17¼. Actually I was told to buy it when it was 32. It is now 17 and I am advised to buy more stock at current levels. What is your opinion?"

C. C.

A) Alberto-Culver is a relatively small company in the field of toiletries. Its major operation is in hair care products —a field which is highly competitive. Rising promotional costs resulted in an 84 per cent drop in net income in the first 10 months of this fiscal year, which ended Nov. 30.

Bristol-Myers pretty well dominates the field of hair care, and is a very tough company to compete with. Alberto-Culver is well-managed but the near-term prospects for the shares has dimmed and the dividend is not considered secure. In your place, I would switch the stock into Bristol-Myers which is strong and well-diversified; it should show a 20 per cent gain in earnings in 1965.

★ ★ ★

Q) "I have several Israel bonds being retired. I want to put the proceeds into stocks for my son's college education in three years. What would you advise?"

S. B.

(A) I advise very strong growth stocks that can increase your capital in the years ahead. Since education costs have been rising steadily, you need issues capable of keeping abreast of the rise and perhaps surpassing it. I suggest FMC Corp., a diversified company in chemicals, cellophane, food machinery, and defense work. Earnings this year should be up over 20 per cent.

Another is American Hospital Supply, which leads an industry expected to gain importantly from Medicare. Even without this potential lift, earnings gain this year may also exceed 20 per cent.

'Army Faces Tough Fight Proving GIs Aided Cong'

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — A top civilian lawyer experienced in dozens of court-martials said today the military would have a difficult time proving two U.S. Army sergeants aided an "enemy" during their two years of imprisonment by the Viet Cong.

The two men, Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W.Va., and Sgt. Claude McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn., have been charged with "aiding the enemy" while captives of the Communist guerrillas.

They were released last month by the Viet Cong in honor of anti-war demonstrations in the United States.

At a news conference in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Nov. 30 they said they would quit the Army and join the campaign against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam when they got home.

★ ★ ★

Howard B. McClellan of Clayton, N.M., who has served as defense counsel in dozens of court-martials, told UPI he believed the Army would have trouble proving the two aided an "enemy" since there has been no declaration of war in Viet Nam by the United States.

'UNUSUAL'

McClellan also commented that in his experience it was extremely unusual for the Army to state that the men have been charged before an order convening a court martial was issued.

The army announced yesterday that a preliminary investigation into the conduct of the two men warranted the charges that they prepared, furnished and delivered to the Viet Cong certain documents, statements and writings inimical to the interest of the United States.

However, it remains up to the commanding officer here — Lt. Gen. Albert E. Watson — to decide whether there is enough evidence to bring the charges to trial.

★ ★ ★

McClellan said it appeared that the sergeants' case was now in a military legal state akin to that of a preliminary hearing in civilian courts.

REFUSES COMMENT

Meantime, the Army has refused further comment on the status of the case or the whereabouts of the sergeants. They were whisked to this island base from Korat, Thailand, on Dec. 7.

The Army also said the men have been provided with legal counsel, but would not identify the lawyers.

If the pair are tried and convicted of aiding the enemy they could face the death penalty under Article 104 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. But a long series of reviews, including presidential approval, would be necessary before they could be executed.

Blue Shield Tells of Rate Reductions

LANSING (AP) — Some 1.7 million of its subscribers have received rate reductions in the past six months, Michigan Blue Shield told the state today.

Nearly 200,000 others have had rates increased under terms of a new merit rating program, the doctor insurance organization added at a hearing before Insurance Commissioner Allen Mayerson.

The hearing is a routine quarterly look by Mayerson at Blue Cross and Blue Shield operations. Neither insurer asked for rate changes.

The merit plan was approved by the state May 17. It permitted premiums to be set partially on use as well as geographical location.

RATE REDUCTIONS

Marvin Novick, Blue Shield actuarial director, said the rate reductions ranged to 20 per cent for members in 113 groups. Rates were hiked for 104 groups.

Rates were unchanged for 151,000 nongroup members, 242,000 group conversion members and 24,000 persons over 65.

Blue Cross actuary John F. Schonenberg Jr. said annual increases in benefits paid per subscriber have diminished from between 9 and 11 per cent a year to a recent-months rate of about 7 per cent.

He said the state's expanding economy and attraction into the work force of younger persons who require fewer services is apparently a factor in this decrease.

11 Millionth Vehicle Today

DETROIT (AP) — The U. S. auto industry writes a long-awaited page in its record book today when the 11 millionth car or truck of calendar 1965 rolls off an assembly line.

It marks the first time the figure has been reached and compares with last year's total car-truck output of 9.3 million units.

American Motors assembly lines are down until Jan. 17, but the Big Three — General Motors, Chrysler and Ford—continued their car and truck build in the final days of 1965.

Indications were that the calendar year would wind up with a build of about 9,340,000 cars, a new high. The old mark of 7,940,125 was set in 1955.

Red Collective Farms Will Get Bank Credit

MOSCOW (AP) — In the latest of its capitalist-style economic moves, the Soviet government has decided to extend direct bank credit to collective farms.

The new system, aimed at helping the farms finance operations and meet their payrolls, will start in 1966 and will be fully introduced over the next few years, the official Soviet news agency Tass announced.

Waterford Pension Plans Tabled, Over Opposition

Despite strong opposition, Waterford Township Board last night tabled for a maximum of 30 days a proposed pension plan for township employes.

★ ★ ★

Treasurer James Schell, Clerk Elmer Fangboner and Trustee Rudy Mansfield objected to the delay since the plan tentatively was scheduled to take effect Jan. 1.

The tabling action, approved by a 4-3 vote, came after E. R. Lawson, director of inspections, told board members that he and employes of his department had not had time to study the proposed plan.

A comparative study with a previous plan, scrapped earlier this year, and a similiar program currently offered to township policemen and firemen was called for.

★ ★ ★

Township officials also will ask Ronald Smith of A. J. Gabriel and Company, consulting actuaries who drew up the plan, to explain provisions to employes.

FIVE PER CENT PLAN

Under terms of the plan, five per cent of a township employe's earnings would be deducted. The pension proposal specified a township contribution of 15.56 per cent of the annual payroll.

Supervisor Dorothy Olson estimated that the township's contribution for the first year of the plan would be $40,596.

Fangboner disclosed that a survey conducted recently shows that 25 employes favor the current plan with nine opposed. Approximately 40 township employes — excluding policemen and firemen — would benefit from the retirement proposal.

★ ★ ★

The last plan failed despite an extensive study, allegedly because it offered no consideration for past service of township employes.

It also was called inferior to the plan offered police and fire personnel by former Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

Republican Trustee Loren Anderson said the former plan was scrapped "due to a lack of communication."

"Let's develop a sense of direction and adopt a plan we can live with," he said.

Anderson has gone on record as opposing a provision of the plan offering the same benefits for elected township officials, thus adding to the cost of the program.

Auto Mishap Injures Youth

A 16-year-old Waterford Township youth is listed in fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following an automobile accident yesterday afternoon on Elizabeth Lake near Cruse.

Township police reported that the vehicle, driven by Robert J. Aldrich of 131 N. Tilden, rammed into a tree after the youth lost control on a curve.

A passenger, Judy Kems, 16, of 4675 Motorway, Waterford Township, was treated and released from the hospital.

Waterford Again Nixes Zoning Bid

The Waterford Township Board last night stood firm on a recent decision by unanimously rejecting a plea to reconsider a defeated rezoning request.

Russell L. Harris, a co-owner of the property at Telegraph and Haddrill, has sought to have the land rezoned from restricted office use to commercial.

The rezoning was to have been for a drive-in type restaurant, operated by an Ohio-based chain known as Mr. S.

Thieves Hit 2 Eagle Lodges

The Fraternal Order of Eagles was a primary target for burglars yesterday as lodges in Pontiac and Waterford Township were looted.

The break-ins were similar in pattern, according to police reports.

Vending machines were jimmied open at both buildings— 289 Montcalm and 4671 M59, Waterford Township.

Two safes were pried open at the Pontiac lodge. Burglars, however, were less successful at the township lodge, although they did manage to knock the dial off the safe.

★ ★ ★

An undetermined amount of money was taken from each place. In addition, whisky and beer was stolen from the M59 site.

Entry was gained at both places through a door.

Met by Chance —Died Together

LONDON (AP) — The younger brothers of a convicted killer and his victim met by chance during the Christmas holidays. Today, both were dead.

David Kent, 19, and seven other teen-agers were given a ride in a truck on Christmas Eve. Philip Ramage, 18, was among a group of teen-agers already in the truck.

Philip and David nodded knowingly as they were introduced, but they did not shake hands.

On Aug. 2, 1964, Philip's elder brother, Robert Ramage, had an argument with Derek Kent, the elder brother of David Kent. Derek, who was 19 at the time, died of a gunshot wound. Robert was tried and sentenced to three years in prison for manslaughter.

Although the two younger brothers knew one another by sight, they had never met until chance brought them together in the truck. Shortly after, the truck was in an accident. David Kent and Philip Ramge were critically injured and both died without regaining consciousness.

German 'GI' Sneaks Friends to W. Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — An intrepid West German disguised himself in a U.S. Army uniform with upside-down sergeant's stripes and sneaked two East German friends to freedom in a car bearing bogus American military license plates, it was disclosed today.

The West Berliner was identified as Karl Heinz B. He organized the escape of Warner W., a 26-year-old locksmith, and Kaethe P., A 26-year-old druggist's assistant, during the Christmas weekend.

The woman hid in the trunk of the automobile and the man identified as Werner wore only an army raincoat and garrison hat. Karl Heinz B. then simply drove past an East German Communist checkpoint into West Berlin.

Such an escape is possible because East German border guards do not check Western allied soldiers in uniform as they pass through the Friedrich Strasse crossing point for foreigners.

* * *

The story was first revealed by the mass circulation newspaper Bild Zeitung and later confirmed by the Western allies. Western authorities had hoped news of the escape would not leak out because it could cause future Communist interference with allied traffic through the wall.

COMPLETE UNIFORM

Karl Heinz was saidto have fashioned a complete U.S. Army uniform for himself along with the American military license plate for his car. He said a border guard became suspicious — perhaps because his stripes were upside-down — and called an officer. The officer waved the vehicle on, however.

Karl Heinz then raced across the border, not stopping at the U.S. Army's checkpoint Charlie as American automobiles are supposed to do.

The Bild Zeitung today published photographs showing the "sergeant" helping the young woman out of the trunk. Another showed him in his uniform in front of a poster advertising the latest James Bond movie, "Thunderball."

* * *

Four years ago, an East German strolled across the border in a homemade American uniform. Two years ago, two other refugees made it to the West by posing as Russian officers.

Western police meanwhile today reported three persons were stopped by border guards at the wall Monday night. And the Western allies met with Mayor Willy Brandt to discuss the fatal border shooting which took place at the wall early Sunday.

Battling Emma Felled by Car

ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — "Big-Hearted Emma" was a battler by any man's standards. She sparred with boxer Two-Ton Tony Galento, once wrestled a bear to the ground and even offered her services to help fight the Japanese during World War II.

"The Army doesn't have a man too big for me to carry under one arm," she boasted in 1942 when she asked then Gov. Charles Edison to help her at least get an assignment driving an ambulance. But her first choice was a tank.

* * *

Over the years she worked as a street car conductor, a taxi cab driver and a news dealer.

Her physical prowess was legendary, but the "big hearted" tag stemmed from her generosity. Born Emma Cantore, she took on the task of raising seven brothers and sisters when her mother died in 1916.

WEIGHED 195

A long-time friend of Galento's, Miss Cantore frequently sparred with the heavyweight fighter. Her weight in 1942 was about 195. Galento tipped the scale at over 200.

Sunday night, "Big-Hearted Emma," 67 years old, was crossing Main and Day streets in the heart of town when she was struck by an auto. The car didn't stop. She died early Monday.

Gunfire Fells 2 at Hospital

Police Nab Laborer at Bellevue in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — A doctor and a maternity patient were critically wounded in a wild barrage of gunfire at Bellevue Hospital Monday night before police overpowered the fleeing gunman.

* * *

Early today, their conditions remained unchanged.

Detectives said the assailant was Navidad Serrano Medina, 42, a laborer who had lived with the woman, Gloria Santiago, 23, for six years. Police said he opened fire when she spurned his attempt at a reconciliation.

The woman gave birth to a girl on Christmas Day. Police said the couple, who have three older children, parted eight months ago.

POLICE ACCOUNT

Detectives gave this account: Serrano came to New York Monday from Hollywood, Fla., where he works, to seek a reconciliation with Miss Santiago, who had been living in Manhattan.

He met her in a corridor outside a maternity ward, and created a disturbance when she refused him. A nurse made Serrano leave the hospital.

* * *

Serrano returned to the hospital Monday night and confronted Miss Santiago in the presence of Dr. Jerome Seiler, 27, and Madeline Olson, the night nursing supervisor.

Serrano pulled out an automatic pistol, and Seiler stepped between him and Miss Santiago. Serrano shot the doctor in the chest, then fired again, shooting Miss Santiago in the neck. Serrano fired a third bullet, which went through Mrs. Olson's nurse's cap, and two other shots which went wild.

SEEN RUNNING

Serrano fled from the third-floor corridor. Three policemen, who had responded to an alarm, spotted him running on the ground floor of the hospital.

Serrano whirled around and pointed his gun at the policemen but they overpowered him before he could fire.

Serrano was booked by police on charges of felonious assault and violation of the antiweapons law.

NY's Old Hot Spots Feel Chill of New Cool Ones

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Youth is taking over in the nation—and youth is interested in electronics and amplified voices . . . and sounds. . . ."

WILSON

Billy Reed, closing his famous Little Club on E. 55th St., after 18 years of struggle that began when Doris Day opened there as an unknown, said today that "the desire for amplified sounds" by youth contributed to the death of his own spot . . . and to this year's demise of so many others . . . the Stork, Birdland, International, Empire Room, Harwyn, Caprice, Viennese Lantern, Lou Black's and Embers.

"Kids used to learn everything by reading," said Reed.

"Now they have earphones for everything. It's all by ear. They hear a regular singer in my place . . . he's not amplified . . . they don't like him."

Thus it is that Arthur, Ondine, L'Intrigue, Shepheard's, Our Place, the Disc A-Go-Go, Dudes 'N' Dolls, the Ginza, the Downtown, the Embers West, Trude Heller's, Harlow's and The Scene are the greatest places in the country now and the guideposts to everything interesting.

★ ★ ★

They're part of the "New Noise" and let's don't knock it. It appears that we'll be hearing about this New Noise till we're very old.

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Roger Smith and Ann-Margret made a New Year's reservation at Arthur . . . Jan Sterling said at a "Girl Talk" TV-taping she'll convert to Judaism. (In preparation for marriage?) . . . Tony Bennett going through the divorce miseries, says glumly, "If anybody asks you what it's like, I don't recommend it" . . . Sammy Davis gave a party at Danny's for the casts of his three productions: "Golden Boy," "Man Named Adam," and his TV show.

Hopeful's Son Admits Thefts

Father a Candidate for Georgia Governor

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — The son of Georgia gubernatorial candidate Lester Maddox Sr. was free on $6,000 bond today after being charged here with two counts of burglarizing an appliance store.

Lester Maddox Jr., 21, was found hiding inside a television and appliance store early Sunday, police said. They said he admitted burglarizing the same store Nov. 5.

★ ★ ★

Cobb County chief deputy Harold Griggs said that when arrested, Maddox was advised of his right to counsel, but that he refused an attorney because he "wanted to tell us everything."

"He said he knew he had done wrong and he wanted to try to do everything to get it straightened out," Griggs said.

FINANCIAL JAM

Griggs quoted the youth as saying his father had set him up in the service station business several months ago and, since then, he had gotten into a financial jam.

The elder Maddox is a former Atlanta restaurant owner who leased his place of business rather than serve Negroes. He now operates an Atlanta furniture store.

★ ★ ★

Maddox Sr. was adjudged in civil contempt by a U.S. District Court judge for his action last February and was ordered to pay a $200 fine each day his cafeteria practiced racial discrimination.

The case has been appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

The elder Maddox said, "My son has committed a crime and for that he has been justly jailed. I thank God for the police. I thank God they caught my son."

He said there was no excuse for his son's actions, but he felt the cafeteria events indirectly affected Lester Jr.

Insurance Pays Two 'Betsy' Sinking Claims

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A settlement of $18,037,141 has been paid by a group of American and English underwriters for two ships sunk during Hurricane Betsy last Sept. 9.

★ ★ ★

The ships, under construction for Lykes Steamship Co., Inc., of New Orleans, sank in the Mississippi River when they were ripped from their moorings. The settlement was announced by Winkler & Co., insurance brokers for Avondale Shipyards, Inc., builder of the vessels.

Customer Finds Himself Alone in Florida Bank

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Larry Hanson walked into a suburban Jacksonville bank intending to cash a check yesterday — and found himself alone. It was closed and supposedly locked.

He tiptoed out, being careful not to set off any alarms, and called police.

Patrolman D. J. Crews, who investigated, reported that apparently the front door had been unlocked since Friday but that nothing seemed to be disturbed.

Crews said a bank official told him that the employe who usually locks the door left early Friday.

A $400,000 Gift Mistake

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "You think your wife gives nice Christmas presents?" said Joseph F. McLaughlin when he arrived at the office yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Look what my wife did."

Then McLaughlin displayed for co-workers at U.S. Steel Corp. a gift certificate from Gimbels department store for $400,010.

The certificate was a mistake. Mrs. McLaughlin had bought a $10 certificate and had discovered the error too late to turn it in before the weekend.

★ ★ ★

McLaughlin notified Gimbels and a grateful management later presented him with a $100 certificate.

It also let him keep the $400,010 certificate — but marked it void.

State Surplus Dims Chances for Income Tax

LANSING (UPI) — The possibility of any push for an income tax at the next session of the state legislature grew even more remote yesterday with word from fiscal experts that Michigan would have a surplus of about $136 million at the end of the fiscal year.

Some lawmakers, trying to heed words from Gov. George Romney that the state faced financial problems unless it passed new taxes, tried to get tax reform measures passed during the fall session of the legislature but failed.

Most legislators believed the state's $136 million surplus would hold up under the pressure of increased public money demands.

Elliot G. Ballard, House Ways and Means Committee budget analyst, said yesterday he believed the state would maintain its surplus by the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

"I wouldn't be greatly surprised if it wasn't diminished one whit by June 30, assuming a strong economy and a more or less standard budget," he said.

★ ★ ★

Several organizations, including both political parties still are clamoring for the legislature to adopt some means of fiscal reform.

LAWMAKERS UNCONCERNED

However, such action continues to be the least of the lawmakers concerns as they head into an election year reluctant to change any money policies which might mean more taxes.

The state passed a record $820 million budget for the current fiscal year and expectations are it will take $893 million during the next fiscal year to maintain the same programs.

Increased expenditures for mental health and education and other programs are expected to eat heavily into the surplus.

★ ★ ★

But state lawmakers, particularly Democrats, mindful of increased costs, believe the state's economy will continue to flourish and are not interested in raising the unpopular question of additional taxes.

★ ★ ★

Pay raises for state employes and the cost of providing tax relief for elderly home owners also are among the areas which will take more state money during the next fiscal year.

9 Still Missing From Oil Rig

Hopes for Men Dim in North Sea Hunt

GRIMSBY, England (UPI) — Ships and helicopters searched the grim North Sea today with fading hopes of finding anyone else alive in the icy waters where a giant British oil rig collapsed in a Christmas holiday disaster.

A British ship and a helicopter rescued 19 survivors when the $7-million drilling platform Sea Gem disappeared beneath 20-foot waves in high winds yesterday.

Four men died — three of them after rescue — and little hope was held for nine men still missing.

Eyewitnesses said two of the rig's 10 legs buckled — "like a horror movie in slow motion" — when something went wrong during the process of floating the platform off the sea bed in preparation for moving site.

★ ★ ★

Four of the survivors were injured, but not seriously. Fourteen other crewmen escaped the disaster because they were ashore on Christmas leave.

42 MILES OUT

Ships searched throughout the night with flares at the Sea Gem's position, 42 miles offshore from Grimsby on the east coast.

Helicopters joined in at dawn. But survivial chances were low in the bitter North Sea in winter time. Countless seamen died in it in World War II.

Divers were expected to go down later today, weather and tide conditions permitting, to see if the rig is recoverable and to determine the cause of the disaster.

★ ★ ★

The 5,600-ton rig stood on 10 steel legs on the sea bed and when disaster struck it was being jacked down into the water so it would float — it was to have been towed today to a new drilling site two miles away.

Survivor Larry Burton, a 23-year-old driller, said, "The waves were enormous and it was sleeting and blowing a gale.

Men were being thrown into the sea or hanging on for dear life. It was obvious we were going down. Within a couple of minutes the waves were washing right over the rig and pounding it.

Cong Offer Four-Day Truce

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong tonight announced a four-day cease-fire in its war against South Vietnamese forces during the lunar New Year celebration next month.

Meanwhile, the United States extended the moratorium on its air war against North Viet Nam for a fourth day.

A broadcast of the Communist Liberation Front radio said the Viet Cong would "stop attacking the puppet armed forces and government" from 12:01 a.m. Jan. 29 to midnight Jan. 23.

The four-day festival, known as Tet, is celebrated as a national holiday in Viet Nam.

The broadcast did not mention U.S. and other foreign forces fighting alonside the South Vietnamese.

MILITARY ACTIONS

But conceivably it could apply to them since their military actions are coordinated with those of the Vietnamese troops even when they are not joint operations.

In Washington there was an evident inclination to treat the maneuver as something to be dealt with by the military command on the spot.

U.S. officials had taken that line throughout in connection with the brief and often-broken Christmas cease-fire.

★ ★ ★

A State Department spokesman declined comment of any nature on the new Viet Cong move.

NO REACTION

There was no immediate reaction from American or Vietnamese officials to the Viet Cong broadcast.

There also was no indication how long the American air pause would last or whether the Viet Cong announcement signified a peace reaction to the American moratorium.

The guerrillas have suspended hostilities in the past during the Tet celebration.

★ ★ ★

The Saigon government in the past has dismissed Communist offers of a truce for Tet as propaganda. Nevertheless, a lull has usually developed on both sides during the holiday.

ENJOY FESTIVAL

The Viet Cong broadcast said the offer would allow their "compatriots" to enjoy the Tet festival, and allow "military men and personnel of the puppet government to return to their villages, worship their ancesters and visit their family tombs."

The broadcast added an unexplained qualification to the offer.

It said that "soldiers, officers and personnel of the puppet government who return to their villages must comply with the practical regulation set fourth by the Liberation Front military command."

★ ★ ★

These "practical regulations" were not detailed.

CHRISTMAS TRUCE

When they offered a 12-hour Christmas truce, the Viet Cong said "enemy" troops must not carry weapons and must refrain from any spying.

In what appeared to be an escalation of the U.S. peace offensive, a U. S. spokesman said the United States also had suspended B52 raids on suspected Viet Nam and cut off air reconnaissance of the Communist north.

North Viet Nam charged yesterday that U.S. reconnaissance planes and warships intruded into its air space and territorial waters on Christmas Day despite the allied truce.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said early tonight that Washington had not yet given the order to resume strikes against the north.

REFUSED COMMENT

He refused to comment further on the longest interruption in the air attacks since a five-day suspension in May.

The last air attack on the north was at 5:45 p.m. Christmas Eve, 15 minutes before

CONG SUSPECTS — A group of captured Viet Cong suspects was forced to lie on the ground awaiting evacuation to an interrogation camp from the La Tinh Valley in South Viet Nam. Soldiers of the 1st Cavalry Division are in the process of tying the hands of the suspects. Scores were rounded up by a battalion of the 7th Cavalry Regiment that was helicoptered into the valley for a sweep operation. The valley is 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

Brain Tumor Claims Girl, 5

Marked Yule Early Because of Illness

Diane VanKleek — the five-year-old girl who got an early Christmas visit from Santa and cards and letters from as far away as Viet Nam — died at Pontiac General Hospital last night.

★ ★ ★

Death — termed imminent by doctors since discovery of a brain tumor last July — came to the girl just before 11 p.m.

The end followed weeks of hospitalization, during which the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Kleek of 3184 Warren, Waterford Township suffered paralysis and almost constant pain.

In recent days, a respiratory ailment had also struck the child.

★ ★ ★

DOCTORS UNCERTAIN

At that time—about the first week in December — doctors were uncertain the little girl would live until Christmas Day.

While cheered by the gifts, including dolls and a teddy bear, Diane was unable to take solid food and depended on milk for nourishment.

On Christmas Day, she did not feel well enough for a visit from her three sisters, brought to the hospital by the Van-Kleeks.

★ ★ ★

Funeral service will be 1 p. m. Friday at the Coats Funeral Home, Waterford Township.

Gathering of Fords at Prewedding Fete

NEW YORK (AP) — Watch the Fords go by was the game played in the Delmonico Hotel lobby last night as more than 400 well-heeled and well-known persons made their way to 24-year-old Anne Ford's prewedding party.

Early in the evening, the father of the bride-to-be, Henry Ford II, led the parade.

Accompanying him was the mother of the bride-to-be, Anne McDonnell Ford, from whom he was divorced last year after 23 years of marriage.

There also was vivacious, blonde Cristina, whom he married in February. Along too, was the bridegroom, Giancarlo Uzielli.

The couple will be married in a civil ceremony this afternoon at Mrs. McDonnell Ford's Fifth Avenue apartment.

The family shied away from photographers and raced for the elevators. Twelve security men were assigned to protect the privacy of the party — one of the most heavily guarded parties in the hotel's history.

RECEIVING LINE

The engaged couple and parents of Anne formed a receiving line at the bottom of a stairway leading into the grand ballroom. All in all, 14 other members of the Ford family and 12 McDonnells passed through the receiving line.

The late night supper celebration was preceded by a number of small dinner parties given by friends.

Among the Fords present besides Henry II, were Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford; William C. Ford; Water Buhl Ford II and Walter Buhl Ford III; Miss Eleanor Clay Ford; Miss Josephine Ford; Mrs. Marnie Ford; Alfred Ford; Edsel Ford, Henry's son.

Guns-and-Butter Plan

LBJ, McNamara View Budget

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara have gotten together once again to push final preparation of a guns-and-butter federal budget for the 1966 Congress.

The Texas White House announced early today that McNamara flew to the Johnson ranch last night for a lengthy discussion of the new defense budget that will encompass mounting outlays for the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara made an overnight stop at the LBJ ranch on his way back to Washington from a skiing vacation at Aspen, Colo.

He had met at the ranch with the President on the same subject earlier this month.

★ ★ ★

Johnson will be focusing much of his attention in the next few days on drafting of the new budget.

Federal spending this fiscal year under the Johnson administration is expected to reach an all-time high of between $105-billion and $107 billion. Next year's figure is expected to be higher, with increased spending on the Viet Nam war.

The Texas White House said today no final decisions have been made yet on the spending blueprint for the 1967 fiscal year that begins next July 1 — the period covering by the forthcoming budget.

Sources disclosed, however, that Johnson would be having budget conferences this week with a number of top Washington officials at his ranch home near Johnson City. At least some final decisions were expected to emerge from these sessions.

★ ★ ★

Even as he began a final round of budget preparations, Johnson reportedly was keeping in touch with efforts to promote a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam war.

POPE'S APPEAL

The White House announced last night that the apostolic delegate to Washington, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, had sent a letter to a White House aide asking that Johnson be advised that Pope Paul VI "had received with great pleasure the news that a Christmas truce was ordered by the armed forces in Viet Nam." The Pope now is urging a New Year's cease-fire.

Joseph Laitin, acting White House press secretary, also announced a planned change in the ranks of Johnson's key advisers on economic and fiscal matters.

Plan Key Steps Next Year for Osteopathic College

With a successful countdown nearly complete, final preparations will be made in 1966 for the launching of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM).

Vital groundwork is planned for the new year. Two major financial steps are to be undertaken.

- Osteopaths will seek passage of a state bill leading to state operating funds.
- A bid for federal funds will be submitted.

On the first step, the osteopaths are halfway home.

The State Senate has approved a bill to set up a 10-member authority to govern the projected medical school.

★ ★ ★

The bill, which no longer contains a provision for any state financial assistance, is to be revived in the January session of the House.

IN COMMITTEE

Now in the House State Affairs Committee, the bill, if passed, would probably be followed by an appropriations measure.

This latter bill would provide state operating and maintenance funds for the MCOM.

The second financial step is the request for some $16 million in federal funds. College supporters plan to make application for federal aid early in 1966.

★ ★ ★

Other MCOM activity will include moving into the first building on the 164-acre campus at Auburn and Opdyke.

A single-story administration building—MCOM Development Center—has been erected to house part of the college's initial staff.

Mostly Cloudy, Warmer Forecast Next Few Days

Skies will be mostly cloudy for the next few days.

The weatherman reports temperatures will become a little warmer tomorrow with highs in the 20s.

Lows will dip to 12 to 18 tonight.

Considerable cloudiness and warmer is Thursday's prediction.

A low of 19 was the recording at 7 a.m. today. By 1 p.m. the mercury had edged up to 28.

'Mission Is Unauthorized'

'New Left' Prof, 2 Others Said in Hanoi

NEW YORK (AP) — Staughton Lynd, a Yale professor and a spokesman for the "new left," is reported in Hanoi to talk with leaders of Communist North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

Lynd, accompanied by two other Americans, is on an unauthorized mission that could result in stiff federal penalties.

★ ★ ★

The trip is sponsored by the magazine Viet Report "in an effort to clarify the position of the National Liberation Front, (Viet Cong) and the Democratic Republic of (North) Viet Nam," said John McDermott, associate editor of the magazine.

McDermott said the magazine is not paying any money for the trip, and in fact "pays for very few articles." He said Lynd carries papers identifying him as the magazine's correspondent in Viet Nam.

McDermott said an afternoon news conference would be held today to elaborate on the trip and its purposes.

LEFTISTS ON TRIP

The other two men on the trip are Thomas Hayden, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society, and Herbert Aptheker, a reputed Communist theoretician.

Lynd's wife, reached at her home in New Haven, Conn., Monday night, said: "He is going because of his concern for peace."

★ ★ ★

The three left New York Dec. 19 and flew to Brussels, Prague, Moscow, Peking and then to North Viet Nam by way of Cambodia, said McDermott.

He said the magazine had not yet heard from Lynd, "but we expect to hear from him shortly." He did not explain how this would be done.

FOR 'CLARIFICATION'

McDermott said the magazine is sponsoring the mission because "reports that appear in the American press purportedly describing or attributing positions to the National Liberation Front and the DRV conflict with their reports of their position. The purpose of the trip is to clear this up."

Lynd, 36, an assistant professor of history at Yale University, has a long identification with pacifist activities. He is regarded as a leading spokesman for the "new left" — the ad hoc committees, student groups, and the lonely rebels and revolutionaries.

★ ★ ★

The mission represents the bringing together of a number of critics of U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Lynd has demonstrated against the war in Viet Nam, and the magazine Viet Report is a frequent critic of American policy there. The Students for a Democratic Society has been an organizing force in the antiwar demonstrations.

STIFF PENALTIES

The three men could face a $5,000 fine, five years in prison, or both for visiting North Viet Nam without permission from the State Department.

Hayden, 26, is an organizer for the New Community Union project in Newark, N.J., which seeks to organize the poor on issues such as housing, unemployment and welfare.

★ ★ ★

Aptheker, director of the American Institute for Marxist Studies in New York, is a historian and author of two books, "A Documentary History of the Negro People in the U. S." and "American Negro Slave Revolts." In 1953 the State Department ordered his works removed from U.S. overseas libraries.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lynd said her husband had discussed the trip with several persons in the Yale community before leaving, including Louis Pollak, dean of the Yale Law School. The school was not told formally of his leaving.

4-Day Truce Offered

the American 30-hour cease-fire for Christmas.

Although American planes stayed out of the northern skies, U.S. and South Vietnamese pilots flew 286 combat sorties against the Viet Cong in the south in the past 24 hours, spokesmen said.

★ ★ ★

They dropped 299 tons of bombs and claimed to have destroyed 44 Viet Cong buildings, damaged 272 more, and sunk 15 sampans. They also said they broke up numerous Communist bunkers, tunnels and caves.

KEY ROLE

Fighter-bombers played a key role in repulsing two predawn attacks by 500 guerrillas on the mountain militia post of Bu Prang, 30 miles northwest of Gia Nghia and 110 miles northeast of Saigon.

A flare ship lighted the sector, and the air support roared in while an outnumbered Vietnamese regional force company held off the attackers.

Fifty Viet Cong were reported killed. Government casualties were described as light.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, airmobile, began a search and destroy operation 15 miles northwest of Qui Nhon, 260 miles up the coast from Saigon.

15 KILLED

As the flying horsemen hunted in multibattalion strength for Viet Cong concentrations, they killed 15 guerrillas and captured 5, spokesmen said.

South Korea's Capital Division, operating in the same area, killed 36 Viet Cong and found 10 tons of rice yesterday, spokesmen added.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said he was unable to say whether the suspension in the attacks by the eight-engine Superfortresses was linked with the air lull in the north. The bombers last flew in from Guam Friday morning.

★ ★ ★

The big jets had been dropping their 750-pound bombs almost daily on jungle targets, some only a few miles from Saigon, since June 17. The fighter-bomber raids on North Viet Nam began Feb. 7.

★ ★ ★

Officials here and in the United States deliberately avoided any discussion of the air war moratorium, which was generally interpreted as a new effort to draw North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh's regime to the conference table and to show the world the United States is ready to talk peace even if the Communists are not.

The Viet Cong apparently expected an easy time when they attacked Bu Prang because of recent unrest among the Montagnard tribesmen in the area.

The mountain people are grumbling about Saigon's rule and want autonomy although they are anti-Communist.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen more Montagnard leaders were convicted by a government tribunal in Pleiku for their part in an abortive revolt 11 days ago.

They were sentenced to terms ranging from one month to 20 years in prison. Four others were acquitted on charges of breaching the security of the state.

Four Montagnards sentenced to death yesterday filed a plea for clemency. Thirty-five Vietnamese officers and civilians were killed in the Dec. 17-18 uprising, the second revolt among the tribesmen in 15 months.

Humphrey Asks Japan's Advice

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Tokyo tonight on the first leg of a brief Asian tour and appealed to Japan for help and advice in "our common endeavors."

Humphrey planned an 18-hour stopover, en route to the inauguration of Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos. During his Asian swing he will talk to leaders about Viet Nam but won't go there.

★ ★ ★

Met by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina, the vice president delivered an arrival statement which appeared to anticipate Japanese calls for no-holds-barred discussion of U.S. policy in Viet Nam, a touchy subject in Japan.

"The brevity of my stay should not obscure the importance we in the United States attach to frequent and frank consultation with your leaders,"

GOALS ARE SAME

"Our goals and aspirations are much the same. We share the same deep commitments to peace, liberty and the prosperity of all peoples. We value your friendship, we look for your advice, we need your help in our common endeavors."

★ ★ ★

This last sentence could have been a veiled reference to the fact that the Japanese, though still pro-American, are reluctant allies where Viet Nam is concerned.

★ ★ ★

About an hour before Humphrey arrived, police cleared some 200 Communist students from the airport's viewing ramp.

Shortly before he landed some 2,500 leftists demonstrated for 40 minutes in downtown Tokyo. They shouted "War maker Humphrey go home." Police said the march was noisy but orderly.

HAVE POLICE GUARD

Police guarded an intersection leading to the U.S. Embassy and kept the demonstrators from heading in that direction.

★ ★ ★

The march followed a rally at a downtown park where the Communists adopted a resolution accusing the United States of "trying to organize an Asian military alliance among the Philippines, Nationalist China, South Korea and Japan" by sending Humphrey to Asia.

The Japanese Communists announced plans to mobilize 10,000 persons to march in front of the U. S. Embassy in protest against Humphrey's visit.

Humphrey is the first vice president to visit Japan since 1958, when Richard M. Nixon came here.

TALKS WITH HIROHITO

Humphrey will be received by Emperor Hirohito and will have a two-hour talk with Prime Minister Eisaku Sato.

Humphrey goes to Manila Wednesday to represent the United States at the inauguration Thursday of Philippine President-elect Ferdinand E. Marcos.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. vice president also is scheduled to meet with President Chung Hee Park of South Korea in Seoul and with President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China on Formosa. He returns to Washington Jan. 2.

Injuries Claim 7th Victim in Ski Lift Mishap

CLERMONT-FERRAND, France (AP)—A 16-year-old girl, Genevieve Pieuchot, died Monday night, bringing to seven the number of persons fatally injured in a Christmas Day ski lift accident.

Eleven other persons were hurt when the cable car going up the Puy de Sancy mountain split open and hurled some of the passengers onto an ice-covered slope.

Claude Robert, leader of a group of youngsters on a ski holiday, was cited for the "Order of the Nation" for saving several of his charges from falling through the gaping hole in the cable car. Robert himself slipped through the hole and was killed.

Northwest Hit by Rain, Snow

California, Oregon Feel Brunt of Storm

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather, with strong winds and heavy rain and snow, pounded broad sections of the Pacific Northwest today.

Gale warnings were posted by the Weather Bureau from northern California to Puget Sound.

★ ★ ★

Heavy rain, with winds of 50 m.p.h. and higher, swept coastal sections, with biggest amounts in northern California and southern Oregon which were hit by the damaging floods last December.

In other parts of the nation, severe cold stung wide areas from Colorado and Montana to the Great Lakes region and in northern Maine.

HEAVY RAINFALL

Nearly six inches of rain splashed Cape Blanco, Ore., and more than three inches fell in a six-hour period in Brookings, Ore., Monday night. The Weather Bureau said heavy rain was expected to continue in northwestern California through Wednesday.

Two large barges, with no one aboard, were torn loose from a tug and wallowed in stormy seas 30 to 40 miles off the central Oregon coast. An oil company's drilling plaftorm, 200 feet square, rode out 45-foot waves 25 miles off the northern Oregon coast. Some 40 men were on the barge-like platform. Winds at the time were reported at 105 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

A blizzard struck in the Blue Mountains of northeastern Oregon and blizzards closed Interstate 5 in southern Oregon and U.S. 97 in northern California. Dust storms at Baker and La Grande, in eastern Oregon, changed into snow storms.

Wet, heavy snow fell in western Washington and there was much drifting in some areas. More than a foot of snow covered areas in central and northeastern Washington. Power was restored in largely rural Mason County Monday afternoon, ending a 13-hour countywide blackout.

"Mildred and the Medicine Men" is the title of the lecture to be delivered at 8:15 p.m. May 11.

Dr. Mildred E. Mathias will tell of her study of primitive medicines as botanical consultant to the University of California's pharmacology department.

Coordinator Is Sought for Coroner Plan

A search for an administrator to coordinate the function of Oakland County's coroner system was launched yesterday after establishment of the new position was authorized by county officials.

★ ★ ★

The new job was proposed last week to strengthen the present coroner system and approved yesterday in a joint meeting of the ways and means and salaries committees of the County Board of Supervisors.

No salary was set but County Personnel Director John Witherup was instructed to begin a search for qualified personnel.

The main requirement for the job is an extensive background in homicide investigation. Primary duties will be to work with area police departments and as liaison with the prosecutor's office in cases of unusual deaths.

★ ★ ★

Witherup indicated that the experience requirements for the job probably would mean that the man hired be, or have been, a homicide specialist with a large police department.

★ ★ ★

Hiring of the administrator would relieve Oakland County Health Director Dr. Bernard D. Berman of day-to-day duties of administering the coroner system in addition to his health department responsibilities.

Survivor Tells of Death Camp

Testifies in Frankfurt Against 3 Ex-Nazis

FRANKFURT (UPI) — A survivor of the Auschwitz death camp now living in New York City related today how a Gestapo officer calmly munched an apple as he selected Jews for the gas chambers at Hitler's death camp in occupied Poland.

The witness, Norbert Wollheim, 52, an accountant, was summoned to Frankfurt to testify for the prosecution against three ex-Nazis who helped run Auschwitz during World War II.

They are Gerhard Neubert, 56, Joseph Erber, 68, and Wilhelm Burger, 61.

Wollheim, his wife and son were arrested in Berlin during March of 1943 and packed in cattle cars with 1,000 other Jews bound for Poland. He never saw his wife or son again.

★ ★ ★

He told the court today he and fellow prisoners watched Neubert pick victims for the gas chambers which snuffed out an estimated 2.5 to 4 million lives.

GOOD MOOD

"The funny part of it was that Neubert really seemed in a good mood," Wollheim related. "He was eating an apple. After that, a lot of us referred to Neubert as the 'hangman with the apple.'"

Neubert squirmed during the testimony, crossing his legs and unfolding his hands.

A judge told Wollheim that Neubert now claims to have been only "a little man" at Auschwitz.

"Please forgive my bitterness," the New Yorker replied. "But the only thing missing here is Neubert claiming that the prisoners gassed themselves.

'NOT TRUE'

"He had the authority and it was his responsibility. Since 1945 I have heard nothing except how innocent these SS officers were. It's simply not true."

★ ★ ★

Prosecutors picked Wollheim as their first witness in the two-week-old trial expected to last up to four months.

Contaminated Swamp Empty

Polluted Water Taken Into the Clinton River

A 7,500-square-foot swamp, termed polluted and unsafe by residents of Drayton Woods Subdivision, has been drained into the Clinton River, Waterford Township Board members learned last night.

E. R. Lawson, director of inspections, reported that the Oakland County Road Commission has drained approximately 90 per cent of the swamp through a tube under Highfield into a ditch running alongside Midrow to the river.

Tests taken of samples from the swamp bore out residents' polluted, according to Lawson, who observed that one section of the swamp was highly-contaminated.

However, he stressed that the water discharged from the swamp was less polluted than some of the township's lakes.

★ ★ ★

Lawson said it is obvious that raw sewage entered the swamp and that one home owner in Watkins Hills Subdivision has been warned by county health officials to take preventive measures immediately.

The county also will check other residences, noted Lawson.

SEWAGE DILUTED

Storm drainage flowing into the swamp diluted the sewage, accounting for lower pollution content in some spots, according to Lawson.

Measures were taken when Drayton Woods residents complained that storm drainage and raw sewage were allowed to flow downhill, thus creating a contaminated water hole.

Sun helmets worn by United States naval officers in the Pacific's Palau Islands became status symbols after the Americans left. The chiefs forbade storekeepers to sell them to commoners.

Critics Rap Peace Feeler Role

Italian Resigns Foreign Minister Role

AMINTORE FANFANI

The resignation of the fiery little foreign minister came only a week before a special session of the Foreign Affairs Commission of the Chamber of Deputies called to question his part as middleman in the purported peace maneuver.

★ ★ ★

Fanfani made it clear he still wants to face the commission and answer its questions.

He asked that his resignation become effective Jan. 6, one day after the extraordinary commission hearing, so that he can appear before his critics while still foreign minister.

WILL REFUSE

Some here expressed the opinion that Premier Aldo Moro would refuse to accept the resignation as a sign of solidarity with Fanfani, who is of his same Christian Democrat party but who often has been his political opponent.

In his letter of resignation Fanfani indicated that he still was convinced of the good faith of former Florence Mayor Giorgio la Pira who passed on to him the purported Hanoi peace feeler which Fanfani passed to President Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Over the past weekend a far-right magazine, Borghese, published what it called an interview with La Pira, quoting him as criticizing Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Moro, and saying communism no longer exists and Red China has only eight million bicycles. That was a reference to the late Italian dictator Benito Mussolini's brag that he had eight million bayonets.

The purposed interview raised a storm of criticism. La Pira said he had been quoted out of context on remarks he made half in jest and half in paradox at a private party.

IN FANFANI'S HOME

Borghese said that party was held in Fanfani's home.

Fanfani said in his letter of resignation that he did not agree with the criticism of La Pira. He said however, he felt it necessary to eliminate any doubts as to the sincerity of Italy's actions on an international level.

Thieves Show Food Appeal

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A thief who broke into the home of Mrs. Goldie Sutherland when she was at work not only helped himself to food while he was in the house, but carried provisions away with him.

Mrs. Sutherland reported to police that the intruder cooked and ate five eggs during his stay, then stole five dozen doughnuts, cookies, two jars of gelatine, two pounds of butter —and a 22-caliber pistol.

Unmanned Cosmos 102 Launched by Russians

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched the 102nd in its mystery-shrouded series of unmanned Cosmos satellites, the news agency Tass reported.

Tass said the satellite carried scientific instruments to further the exploration of space. Cosmos 102 also carried a radio transmitter and a radio system for precise measurement of orbital elements, among other scientific instruments, Tass said.

In 9 Area Villages

January Filing Deadlines Near

Candidates in six area villages have until 4 p.m. Jan. 3 to file nominating petitions for vacant offices.

In Rochester and Milford, the deadline is Jan. 29. In Lake Orion, those seeking a position on the charter commission have until Jan. 24 to file nominating petitions.

Where a sufficient number of candidates file, a primary election will be held Feb. 21. The general election is scheduled March 14.

In Novi, which holds no primary election, candidates must file by 4 p.m. Feb. 23 to run for office in the March 8 election.

Romeo

The terms of president, clerk, treasurer, assessor and three trustees are expiring.

Expiring terms are those of President Byron Nichols, Clerk Norman Engel, Treasurer Mrs. Elaine Hosner, Assessor Fred Ebeling and trustees Martin Durham, Thomas Raymond and James Burke.

★ ★ ★

The trustee posts are all two-year terms. No petitions have been filed.

Oxford

The Village Council tonight will have to decide the official filing deadline. The state law sets Jan. 3 as the deadline while the village charter says no later than noon of the fourth Saturday prior to the primary.

Only one petition has been taken out for the three posts to be vacated.

★ ★ ★

Terms expiring are those of president Edmond Unger and councilmen John Flumerfelt and Homer Hight.

Rochester

Jan. 29 is the last day for filing petitions with the village clerk. If more than eight persons file for the four expiring positions, a primary will have to be held. So far no petitions have been taken out.

Expiring two-year terms are those of councilmen Roy Rewold, Burdette Lewis and John Lowes. Harold Milton's one-year term is also up.

Leonard

Seven positions will be open. They are the terms of President Lawson Sheik, Clerk Mrs. Calvin Scheall, Treasurer Mrs. Mary Vore and Assessor Dwight Patterson.

★ ★ ★

Two-year council terms open are those of David Ferguson, Kenneth Peas and Donald Strong.

Lake Orion

In addition to seven positions to be filled, voters will be asked to elect five members to a charter commission.

Terms expiring are those of President Clarence Rossman, Treasurer Geraldine J. Campbell, Clerk Mary Parkinson, Assessor Robert Swem (or Albert Rhodes) and councilmen Lewie Rossman, Fred Cole and Robert Stokes.

★ ★ ★

Petitions for the charter commission must be filed by Jan. 24.

So far 15 petitions have been taken out for the charter commission and 35 for the seven expiring terms.

Imlay City

Four council positions are expiring this year. They are the four-year terms of John Folk, Keith Clark and Alfred Schwerin, and the two-year term held until recently by Neil Wheeler.

Two persons must file for each office to necessitate a primary. Last year only one petition was filed for the vacant positions and the council had to appoint candidates to run in the election.

Holly

Eight village offices will be filled in the March 14 election here.

Officers whose one-year terms are expiring are appointee President Lott Everly, Clerk Betty Oliver, Treasurer Hulda Anderson and Assessor Grant H. Hulet.

The two-year council terms of John Ramm, Leo Oberheim and John VanDeusen also are expiring.

Also to be filled is the year remaining in Everly's unexpired term. Everly was appointed president when John F. Oldani resigned in November.

Milford

Candidates have until Jan. 29 to file petitions to run for two three-year terms available on the Village Council.

Expiring terms are those of JoAnn Colton and appointee Hugh Davies, who was named to serve on the council when John Dodd resigned in April.

Novi

Three councilmen will be elected in the March 8 balloting here.

The two candidates pulling the highest number of votes will serve for four years and the next highest vote getter for two years.

Expiring terms are those of Ray D. Harrison, Dean H. Lenheiser and Donald C. Young Jr.

Study Group Is Reactivated

IMLAY CITY — The recently reactivated School Study Committee will meet with the board of education Jan. 10 to discuss school matters.

The committee was reactivated to study classroom needs, curriculum and other educational matters.

The board of education will continue student activities in spite of a teachers boycott of noncontractural duties after 4 p.m.

The teachers voted to boycott all extracurricular activities after the board denied their request for a $500 raise this year.

Milk Producers Association to Mark 50th Anniversary

Michigan Milk Producers Association will celebrate its 50th anniversary in 1966. The general theme of the year-long observance will be "Strength Through Unity."

★ ★ ★

Members in 94 locals of MMPA will honor longtime members. The 12 districts in Michigan will also observe the golden anniversary with appropriate activities. Statewide honors will be conferred at the 1966 annual meeting scheduled for March 22 at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Site of the meeting is especially appropriate since it was at MSU (then Michigan Agricultural College) that a group of farmers from the Howell area who were producing milk for the Detroit market got together to form MMPA in 1916.

Of the original group, two men remain. They are Jay Tooley, of Howell, and James G. Hays, of East Lansing. Honors for the two are planned for the 1966 annual meeting.

★ ★ ★

While MMPA's half - century of service to Michigan dairy farmers will receive major attention during 1966, the future will not be neglected.

REAL TURNING POINT

"It seems as if we're always on some sort of threshhold, but I believe that 1965 has marked a real turning point in the business of dairy farming and milk marketing," said MMPA President Glenn Lake of North Branch.

In terms of milk not needed for bottling and processed into dairy products by MMPA plants, the 1965 reduction was more than 15 per cent. There were fewer MMPA farmers producing milk for the market in 1965 compared with 1964 (about 10,000 this year, 11,000 last), but production per farmer — and consequently income per farm — was up.

Average member income from milk increased $1,193 to $12,639, but production costs on the farm were higher.

★ ★ ★

Other significant MMPA marketing facts of 1965:

- There was continued increasing demand for milk picked up in tanker trucks at farms and hauled directly to Detroit for bottling or processing by dairies.

★ ★ ★

- Ease of transporting milk over longer distances signalled the end to "country receiving stations," which for years were the mainstays of the milk business.

At year's end, MMPA still had only one receiving station not slated for closing (at Bad Axe), but it is sure to close within a few months, officials say.

- MMPA's growing united bargaining strength enabled a price to dairies of $5.10 per hundredweight of milk, starting Aug. 1. The price was the highest in several years and the highest in midwestern states.

★ ★ ★

- The bargaining principles upon which MMPA operates again withstood efforts of those inside and outside the farm community to weaken farmer cooperatives in general and MMPA in particular.

CHANGES IN MARKETING

Michigan Milk Producers Association General Manager Jack W. Barnes said the changes in milk marketing in 1965 and the anticipated changes in 1966 are further proof that realistic bargaining by a recognized, responsible cooperative is the mainstay of dairy farmer welfare.

"While bargaining for price and guaranteeing a market for member milk is and always will be our most important activity, the many other services performed by MMPA have again demonstrated the advantages of belonging to the association," Barnes said.

★ ★ ★

Earnings in 1965 Highest on Record

Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA) members will receive more money for milk sold in 1965 than in any previous year, according to the organization's annual year-end report.

★ ★ ★

Members will be paid a total of $127 million for 3,006,630,000 pounds of milk this year, compared to $126 million received for 18 million more pounds sold in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Premiums negotiated by MMPA over and above Michigan Federal Order prices will total about $19 million in 1965, according to the report.

"These premiums could not have been obtained without the bargaining strength which united dairy farmers have," the report says.

An example, he said, is the more than $85,000 in direct payments to farmers hit by destructive fire or windstorm during 1965.

★ ★ ★

MMPA disaster protection enables farmers hit by misfortune to return to milk production without crippling loss of income. The most dramatic example of this came after the Palm Sunday tornadoes which hit many MMPA farmers hard.

$45,000 PAID

Another $45,000 was paid out by MMPA to members under the association's "guarantee of payment."

★ ★ ★

MMPA also provides a wide variety of testing, quality control and informational services to member farmers. The importance of these advantages will surely grow in 1966, Barnes said.

★ ★ ★

"We know that changes in milk marketing and changes in MMPA operations will take place in 1966," he said. "We also know that our members recognize these facts, and that they will decide, through their elected leaders in MMPA, what steps are best."

Site Selected for Junior High

FARMINGTON — The board of education last night decided to build Farmington School District's fourth junior high school in the southern portion of Farmington Township.

★ ★ ★

Site for the unit will be approximately 20 acres of property adjacent to the Gill Road Elementary School site on the west side.

★ ★ ★

Architects at Linn Smith Associates Inc. of Birmingham now are designing the school, which is scheduled to open in September, 1967.

The construction will be financed by funds from a $5 million bond issue approved by district property owners in 1963.

Certain young animals play games that are favorites with children. Lambs and gibbons like to play "follow the leader." Young otters and deer enjoy "hide and seek." Badgers prefer "king of the castle."

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY. 80 PROOF. IMPORTED IN ORIGINAL CASKS BY McMASTER IMPORT CO., DETROIT, MICH.

A $7.00 Scotch for only $4.97?
What's the gimmick?

Here it is:

One fine day the McMaster's people discovered that, simply by importing their Scotch whisky in barrels instead of bottles, they paid a lower tax—and saved their customers money.

Big tax savings, that's the reason McMaster's comes to America only in barrels.

You'd expect to pay $7.00 for an imported Scotch with the flavor and mellowness of McMaster's. But we save on taxes and other costs—so you pay only $4.97 a fifth, only $2.50 a tenth (tax included).

Now available in a new ½-gallon size for just $12.95. Sorry, they won't let us sell it by the barrel.

A $6.50 Canadian for only $4.80?
Sure. McMaster's gives you the same big tax savings on its fine imported Canadian whisky, too. (Tax included.) Also available in ½ gallons at only $11.95.

Waterford Wants 2-Program Proposal Altered

Waterford Township Board members aren't satisfied with the terms of a tentative agreement regarding transfer of the Community School and Recreation Department programs to the board of education.

★ ★ ★

Last night they called for modification of the proposal.

Concurring with advice offered by Township Attorney Paul Mandel, board members will seek to gain more strength in decision-making for the two programs.

Responsibility for the programs recently was shifted to the board of education on a one-year trial basis upon approval of both boards. However, the financial burden will continue to be shared equally by the township and school system.

★ ★ ★

The current recreation department budget is $42,306, while the Community School expenditure is $20,000.

RECENT RULING

The change stemmed from a recent ruling by the Michigan Public School Employee's Retirement Board and Social Security Contribution Fund, calling for employes of both departments to be placed on the school payroll.

Previously, the recreation board — comprised of two members each from the township and school boards and three at-large delegates—governed the two programs.

The recreation board will be retained under the new arrangement, but only in an advisory capacity. All seven members are slated to be appointed by the board of education.

★ ★ ★

Township trustees feel they should be entitled to appoint three members. Under the tentative contract, a provision allows only for the Township Board to nominate three persons.

CERTAIN SAFEGUARDS

Mandel insisted that the township should be assured certain safeguards to protect its financial interests in purchase of equipment for the programs, especially in the event it wishes to establish its own recreation setup.

Mandel also suggested that it be mandatory for at least one Township Board member to favor a recreation board recommendation before it is submitted to the board of education, for action.

Also last night, bids were awarded for purchase of seven new township vehicles and for a two-year gasoline contract.

John McAuliffe Ford, Inc. outbid six other dealers with an offer of $11,508 for three vehicles for the building department and four police cars.

The gasoline contract was awarded to Sinclair Oil Co. with a low bid of 13 cents a gallon for regular gasoline and 15 cents for premium.

City Center Is Training Needed Practical Nurses

Standing at the edge of Pontiac's urban renewal area, the Hubbard Building, 16 S. Perry, is a hollow, deserted structure — except for the third floor.

There, a professional teaching staff puts in a 40-hour workweek training urgently need practical nurses at the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center.

Twice a year, the center pumps between 30 and 50 graduates into the medical lifestream of understaffed hospitals — primarily Pontiac General, St. Joseph Mercy and Pontiac Osteopathic.

Mrs. John Sherrod, a registered nurse and director of the center, holds a graduate degree in nursing and was formerly director of nursing education for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She cited two figures which indicate the center's services are badly needed:

- Of 110 women to graduate from the center since 1963, 109 have been hired as practical nurses.
- Each person who's graduated has had at least six job opportunities.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sherrod is soft-spoken, but seriously concerned about the shortage of nursing help and determined that the center — a federal manpower project—turn out quality nursing personnel.

CRITICALLY ILL

"We have to get our students ready to take care of patients — some of them critically ill," she said.

The center's ten instructors, all professional nurses, twice annually start a new class of some 50 candidates on the 48-week course.

About one of three will drop out at some point, despite a stringent preentry screening program which includes educational, aptitude and psychological tests.

★ ★ ★

The first six months are devoted to "preclinical" training — including classwork in basic nursing theory and regular patient contact.

HOSPITAL WORK

The second half of the course consists of full-time hospital work under the personal supervision of the instructors.

The students are routed through the gamut of hospital services learning to assist doctors and professional nurses.

Upon graduation, nurses from the center find themselves the objects of recruiting from hospitals as far away as Ann Arbor and Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Most, however, accept positions with area institutions.

DEFINITELY NEEDED

"We definitely need these people," said Mary Owens, director of nursing service at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

"This is the only source of qualified practical nurses in the Pontiac area. They fill most of the vacancies on our staff."

In the sense that it is dependent on federal funds and subject to annual review, the center is a temporary program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Sherrod, however—foreseeing a sharp rise in the need for nurses in the next ten years — hopes for permanent establishment of the center.

PERMANENT CENTER

Maurice C. Prottengeier, director of vocational education for the Pontiac school district under which the center is administered, is enthusiastic about the center becoming permanent.

"We've been here 2½ years," he said, "and we're improving all the time.

"Talking to people around the state, I find our program is looked on as one of the finest in Michigan."

'Reagan Due in California Race Jan. 4

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Hollywood actor Ronald Reagan is expected to formally announce his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at a news conference on Jan. 4.

Reagan announced the conference Monday, and the Los Angeles Times reported that Reagan will make the long expected announcement.

Reagan would be the third candidate for the nomination. George Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco, and Laughlin E. Waters, a former U.S. attorney for Southern California, already have decided to run.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown is expected to seek his third term on the Democratic ticket.

College Enrollment Hits All-Time High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A crop of college freshmen 18 per cent higher than last year has pushed college enrollment to a record 5.9 million.

★ ★ ★

The figure, announced Monday by the U.S. Office of Education, was 12 per cent higher last fall than in 1964. It more than doubles college enrollment of 10 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The Education Office said the increase in college freshmen was a 17 per cent increase over 1963. It said the trend reflected the continued impact of the postwar baby boom on education.

The English phrase "64/64ths" means full ownership of a boat. It applies equally to a rowboat or line the size of the Queen Elizabeth.

STOP DISEASE BEFORE IT STARTS

Just a few generations ago, virtually the only diseases that doctors could prevent with a drug was smallpox. Today, many maladies are almost unknown—maladies that once took countless lives. These maladies—diphtheria, typhoid, lockjaw, polio, nutritional deficiencies—have been conquered by modern drugs, which stop the diseases before they can get started. That's why we say . . .

Wins Jim Thorpe Trophy Third Time

Pro Football's Highest Honor Goes to Jimmy Brown

NEW YORK (NEA) — Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns — you might as well be saying John Jacob Astor of the New York Astors. Football-wise.

The incomparable fullback of the defending champions of the National Football League today was named the winner of the 11th annual Jim Thorpe Trophy by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

The award symbolizes the most valuable player in the league and is voted by his peers, the men on the active rosters of the 14 NFL teams. This is the third time Brown has been named to the high honor in a record-filled career that now spans nine years.

Brown first gained the pinnacle of the players' esteem in 1958 and again in 1963, when he tied for the trophy with Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants.

The trophy presentation will be made to Jimmy on a special one-half hour telecast over the Columbia Broadcasting System preceding the championship game on Jan. 2. The program will also feature this year's NEA All-Players All-Pro team.

In the voting, the Cleveland fullback more than doubled the total of his nearest competitor, injured John Unitas of Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

"Everyone besides Brown is in a different league," noted kicking specialist Jim Bakken of the St. Louis Cardinals.

★ ★ ★

Although the players are prohibited from voting for their own teammates, linebacker Jim Huston of the Browns couldn't refrain from commenting, "There is really only one man to consider — Jim Brown!"

He is the irreplaceable man of the top team in the Eastern Division of the NFL. Never injured, indestructible, at the age of 29 he thrives in the benevolent climate brought to the Browns three years ago by head coach Blanton Collier.

With option blocking, giving Jimmy the choice of running to daylight, he stretched his NFL rushing record to 12,312 yards (almost seven miles) in a typical campaign in which he gained 1,544 yards. Versatile Jimmy was also on the catching end of 34 passes and scored a career high of 21 touchdowns.

It looks as though he gets up more slowly than he ever did and walks back to the huddle in that painful shuffle, but when he's turned loose with the ball, there's no difference in Jimmy Brown.

With remarkable balance, a quick burst of speed and a lunge of brute power, he awes all of football. In a showing of NFL film highlights, the virtuosity of Brown brings applause from the most sophisticated audiences.

Unitas, a past winner of the Jim Thorpe Trophy, also drew support because it was evident how much he meant to the Baltimore Colts when they toppled out of the Western Division lead after he injured his knee.

John Brodie, San Francisco quarterback, was a surprise third. "With the help of some running backs," wrote Monte Clark of the Cleveland Browns, "John showed what he always has had." Namely, a precision passing arm.

Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears, already recipient of the Bert Bell Trophy as the rookie of the year, was the only first-year man who attracted a voting bloc. He was a solid fourth.

A fine season for Pete Retzlaff, the 33-year-old tight end of the Philadelphia Eagles, received merited attention.

"I know he is a teammate," said quarterback Norm Snead, who brackets Pete as his favorite target, "but he is a fantastic football player and had a great year."

There was one final fillip which should be noted.

Paul Wiggin, Cleveland's defensive end, made a pitch for Leo Murphy. Leo didn't get into a single play this year.

"He's the Browns' trainer," explained Wiggin, "and deserves it — for keeping us in one piece."

Central vs. PNH Tonight

17th Contest in City Series

Expect Sellout Crowd at Central Court

Pontiac Northern's Huskies have a lot of catching up to do in their basketball series with Pontiac Central, a series the two quintets will renew tonight on the PCH floor.

Some 2,000 fans — a sellout— are expected to be on hand for the encounter which will get under way at 8 o'clock. A junior varsity game is scheduled for 6:30.

★ ★ ★

Officials at PCH said that only 200 tickets were available as of 5 p.m. Monday. They said these would be sold at the high school office today until 5 p.m. No tickets will be sold at the gate tonight.

LONG STREAK

The Chiefs of PCH will go into tonight's scrap with a six-game winning streak in the series and with a commanding 14-2 edge in the series which opened back in 1958-59.

Northern captured both of its victories in the 1962-63 campaign, downing PCH once during the regular season and taking the second in post season tournament action.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs, paced by 6-2½ center Jessie Evans and forward Ross Ludwick (6-1), have been impressive in rolling up a 4-0 record and the team is a heavy favorite to pick up its fifth win against the PNH crew.

Grid Security Tops; Duffy's Locked Out

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The rival Rose Bowl football coaches could have made a good game of matching frustrations Monday.

Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty was locked out of his own secret practice field for more than half an hour.

UCLA assistant coach Ron Siegrist reported the Bruins "had a bad workout."

POLISHING UP

"This was supposed to be polish week," he said. "There was no polish. Tommy Prothro head coach wasn't pleased at all."

Siegrist, accused by Daugherty of being "a professional pessimist," in a telephone conversation with Daugherty, said quarterback Gary Behan "was passing poorly."

★ ★ ★

"You wouldn't want them to be ready on a Monday," Daugherty consoled Siegrist.

The conversation came during the daily telephone exchange between coaches which newsmen listened into at the Rose Bowl press headquarters.

Daugherty had to attend a luncheon before heading for the afternoon MSU workout. All gates were locked when he arrived at the playing field.

The head man walked halfway around the field, then circled in his car before he was able to attract attention by blowing on his coach's whistle. A gatekeeper finally was located to let Daugherty into his own practice field.

"When I ask for security, I sure get it," said Daugherty, who from now on is banning all visitors to practices except working newsmen.

★ ★ ★

One visitor allowed Monday was Tommy Kaulukukui, the former University of Hawaii head coach who steered such stars as kicker Dick Kenny and fullback Bob Apisa to Michigan State. Kaulukukui reported that more than 100 islanders will be flying to watch the Rose Bowl game.

Thw Michigan State team will recieve baskets of papayas, pineapples and floral leis at its Pasadena hotel today.

The fruits and flowers, native to Hawaii, are being forwarded by Sheraton Hotels in the islands to honor Michigan State's three Hawaii team members—Apisa, Kenney and Charlie Wedemeyer.

Kicker Chandler in Line for Pro Gridiron Honor

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Among the wires that poured into Don Chandler's home after his field goal heroics in Sunday's sudden death football game was a message from Wel Mara, his old boss at New York.

★ ★ ★

"It was real nice of Wel," said the Green Bay place kicker. "I appreciated it."

Nobody paid much attention to Chandler in the year-end polls for comeback of the year, but the veteran deserved a high rank. His tying and winning kicks for a 13-10 victory against Baltimore Sunday made it 19 out of 29 field goal attempts and a total of 95 points.

★ ★ ★

Last year he made nine out of 20 for the giants. Ironically, the Giants had troubles with field goals and made only 4 of 25 this season.

"I guess the Giants did me a favor when they traded me to Green Bay," said Chandler. "It was a tremendous challenge to me and a most satisfying ending.

★ ★ ★

"Last summer I practiced kicking back home in Tulsa for about six weeks before I went to camp. I kicked 15 or 16 a day at the high school field. It helped me get ready for camp because I felt I had to make the ball club. Ordinarily it takes me 10 days to get ready but this time I figured I should be ready to go from the start."

MAKES GOOD

Chandler tied Sunday's playoff game for the National Football League's Western Conference crown with less than two minutes to go when he made good on a 22-yard boot.

Informed that Lou Michaels, Baltimore kicker and defensive end, said the kick was not good, Chandler commented:

"All I have to say is that there were two officials there, one on each side of the posts, and one official behind me. Maybe they (Colts) should have paid more attention to rushing."

The winning field goal at 13:39 of the sudden death overtime almost came a play earlier. Both Coach Vince Lombardi and Chandler confirmed the story Monday.

★ ★ ★

"I almost sent him in on third down," said Lombardi. "I yelled, 'field goal,' and the field goal team all got up and started taking off their robes. But I changed my mind. Imagine, if we had fumbled, I would be kicking myself all over Green Bay."

Aussie Netters Humble Spain in Cup Action

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The sun blazed down on center court at 114 degrees, and John Newcombe and Tony Roche blazed over it with the same intensity today as Australia retained the Davis Cup with an easy doubles triumph over the flamboyant Spanish team of Manuel Santana and Luis Arilla.

The Aussies' 6-3, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 triumph over the gallant Spaniards gave the boys from Down Under an insurmountable 3-0 lead in the best-of-5 series and kept the big silver cup, emblematic of world amateur tennis supremacy, in Australia for the 13th time in the last 20 years.

MSU Quintet Moves Ahead

HONOLULU (AP) — The Michigan State Spartans roared to 10 straight points after intermission to break up a tight duel and went on to rout the defending champions Hawaii Marines 84-53 in the first game of the second annual Rainbow Classic Basketball Tournament in Honolulu Monday night.

The Spartans jumped to a 7-0 lead early in the game and trailed only once in the first half when Bill Jeffries hit two free throws to give the Marines a 23-22 advantage. But a basket and free throw by Stan Washington put MSU in front to stay.

The halftime margin was only 36-35, but the 10-point spurt, led by Washington and Steve Rymal, made it 46-35 and the Spartans gradually moved away.

Williams Near Baseball Honor

Expect Ted to Enter Hall of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, one of the greatest hitters in baseball history, appears a sure bet for election to the hall of fame in his first year of eligible former players announced Monday by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The tall slugger compiled a .344 batting average and hit 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Boston Red Sox despite time out for service in both World War II and the Korean War. He also is the most recent of baseball's .400 hitters, batting a majestic .406 in 1941.

To earn election to the Hall of Fame in the writers' voting, a player must be named on 75 per cent of ballots cast.

Papa Halas Pulls Out of Money Derby

CHICAGO (UPI)—Owner-coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears announced today the team was withdrawing from pro football's "money derby" and offered rights to the club's No. 1 draft selection to any National Football League team.

Halas said the negotiating rights to Louisiana State tackle George Rice were available to any team "which might be interested."

"The Bears are withdrawing from the money derby, which is getting ridiculous and is not conducive to good squad morale," he said.

Halas said the Bears "found out what the other fellow (Houston) was offering and it's beyond reason."

Royals Keep Hex on Knicks

By The Associated Press

It has been three years since the New York Knickerbockers last won a National Basketball Association game at Cincinnati Gardens. The way the Royals played Monday night, it could be three more years before the Knicks break the string.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati opened up a 12-point first period lead and steadily added to it, whacking New York 138-116. In the only other NBA game played, Los Angeles downed St. Louis 108-100 at Memphis, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

Oscar Robertson was the Royals' big gun, scoring 36 points and tacking on 17 assists. Adrian Smith, Oscar's running mate in the Royals' backcourt, added 26 and Jerry Lucas had 25.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati shot a sizzling 59 per cent on 58 for 102 from the floor with Robertson connecting on 15 of 25. Dick Barnett led New York with 29.

★ ★ ★

The Royals have beaten New York 16 straight times at home, last losing in Cincinnati in December, 1962.

Bob Boozer and Jerry West paced Los Angeles' comeback as the Lakers wiped out a 13-point halftime deficit and overtook St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

Boozer spun off a nine-point string in the third period and West duplicated it in the final 90 seconds as the Western Division leaders outscored the Hawks 34-15 in the final 12 minutes.

West led the Lakers with 24 and Boozer finished with 23. Player-Coach Richie Guerin led St. Louis with 25.

No Diamond for Ford II

DETROIT (UPI)—Auto magnate Henry Ford II said Monday he was recently offered a chance to purchase the New York Yankees.

"We got a call. Somebody asked us if we wanted to buy the baseball team. I asked them "What the hell do we know about baseball," added Ford.

Ford, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., said the offer was a "firm" one and he turned it down.

The Columbia Broadcasting System has 80 per cent of the controlling interest in the Yankees.

Scheffing in N.Y.

Ex-Tiger Joins Mets

DETROIT (AP)—Former Detroit Tiger Manager Bob Scheffing has resigned his position as a Tiger scout to accept a job with the New York Mets of the National League.

James A. Campbell, executive vice president and general manager of the American League Tigers, said Monday that Scheffing would succeed Eddie Stanky as director of player development with the Mets. Stanky recently was named manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Scheffing was a Natonal League catcher, coach and manager before he joined Detroit in 1961.

Scheffing, now 52, led Detroit to a second place finish with a 101-61 record in the 1961 American League pennant race. But the following season the Tigers finished fourth and they were in eighth place when Chuck Dressen replaced Scheffing as manager on June 18, 1963.

★ ★ ★

Scheffing spent the 1964 season announcing the play-by-play for the Tigers, then turned to scouting during the past season.

Scheffing's playing career began in 1935. He spent seven years in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system and then 10 years in the National League with Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

He served three seasons as a coach for the St. Louis Browns, Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee Braves and three as manager of the Cubs in addition to his term with Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers said that while Scheffing would continue to make his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., one of his first jobs with the Mets would be to direct the club's minor league training operations at Homestead, Fla.

Wolverines Slip in West Classic by 89-87 Count

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Surprising Arizona State knocked third-ranked Michigan out of the running Monday night in the first round of the Far West Clsssic basketball tournament, 89-87.

Oregon State met Air Force in the second game.

It was the fourth consecutive victory for Arizona State, which now has a 6-3 record this season. Faltering Michigan, runnerup for the national title last season, now is 4-4.

★ ★ ★

Freddy Lewis, a six-foot speedster, led Arizona State to victory in a game in which the score was tied 15 times. Lewis had 24 points.

It was not until little more than 10 minutes remained that Arizona state finally took the lead for keeps. With five minutes remaining the winners had their biggest margin, 77-70.

Despite a 35-point performance by All-America Cazzie Russel, Michigan could not close the gap.

Army Readies Reserve Force

Faces Possible Call to Viet Nam Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new Army reserve force totaling 150,000 men could be ready to go to Viet Nam by July 1.

Officials said yesterday the selected Army National Guard and Reserve now has been built up to 135,000 men since its creation last Sept. 30. They expect it to reach the 150,000 mark befor next August.

The timing of the select force buildup to 100 per cent combat strength indicates that it is intended to be ready for mobilization next summer, or possibly sooner, if the Viet Nam war should make that necessary.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered the select force to be created "in the shortest period of time." It will have three divisions, six brigades, and 976 smaller units.

★ ★ ★

The Administration decided on a 340,000-man increase in the regular armed forces last summer because of the war but decided against a Reserve call up.

NO ACTIVE DUTY

Rather than call up National Guardsmen for a year and then release them, it was decided to create the select force and bring it to full strength without a call to active duty.

Should it be necessary to increase the number of troops in Viet Nam by a very large number, thereby depleting the Army's strategic reserves at home, the select force of Army National Guard and organized Reserve units could be called up to fill the void.

Firm to Offer City Building

City Commissioners tonight are scheduled to receive a proposal from Consumers Power Co. for the sale of the latter's service building on Wessen.

The utility company is expected to offer the service building to the city.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren has slated a report on the proposal.

In other business on the brief agenda, the 1966 budget for Pontiac General Hospital is to be presented to the commission.

★ ★ ★

A record $8.3 million operating budget has been proposed for the city - run hospital for the coming year.

REQUESTS MEETING

Also, a report is expected on a request for a meeting with the mayor and city manager by a representative of the housing committee of the Pontiac Area Urban League.

According to the commission agenda, Mrs. Lora A. Carey of the Urban League has requested such a meeting.

Let Son Drive; Woes Mount

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—Police said Max Alva, 33, was given a ticket for permitting an unlicensed minor, his son, to drive his auto.

The car went out of control, swerved off the highway, ripped through a fence and struck a power pole yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Alva's son, Larry, is 6 years old, officers said.

Alva was also cited for driving without a license, felony drunk driving, carrying an open liquor bottle in the car and hit-and-run.

Officers said Alva drove the car from the scene of the accident to a nearby farmhouse, where he fell out.

'66 May End Industry's Recession

Housing Upturn Seen

By SAM DAWSON

DAWSON

NEW YORK — Home builders are hoping that 1966 will see an end to the industry's private recession. A marked pickup is reported in contracts let in November for future construction of residential units. And lenders say that demand for mortgages is picking up.

The government chimes in with reports that housing starts have increased in the closing weeks of the year. And the Department of Commerce adds the prediction that construction spending of all types, including homes, will hit a record pace of $72.7 billion in 1966, compared with $68.5 billion in 1965.

★ ★ ★

Despite all these hopeful tidings, the home building industry is closing out a year which in many sections of the country trailed 1964 activity in almost every month-to-month comparison.

Total starts in 1965 will be around 1,490,000 residential units, against 1,557,000 last year. And the pace at year-end, though picking up, is well below the high point reached in the opening weeks of 1964.

HIGHER PRICED HOMES

The story on a money basis is better than on a tally by units. The industry says this is because new owners were buying more expensive homes this year than last.

Contracts let for residential building in the first 11 months of 1965 were 3 per cent higher than in the like period of 1964, F.W. Dodge Co. reports today. The construction industry information specialists put the 1965 figure at $19,866,649,000, up from $19,287,763,000 in the first 11 months of 1964.

★ ★ ★

Builders note happily that a flashy 14 per cent improvement was reported in November. Residential building contracts rose to $1.7 billion in this latest report, from $1.5 billion in November 1964.

The lending fraternity also has cheerful news this week. Although fretting over the general rise in intrest rates triggered by Federal Reserve Board action, savings and loan associations report mortgage lending at the year-end was on the upturn. And so was the savings inflow into these institutions after a period of sluggishness.

NOVEMBER UP

The United States Savings & Loan League reports that member associations closed $1.9 billion in mortgage loans this November, up 4 per cent from last year. But for the first 11 months of 1965 the total of $21.9 billion trailed 1964 by $600 million.

Savers added $2.5 billion to their accounts last month and withdrew $1.7 billion. Both figures topped November 1964 when the inflow was $2.4 billion and withdrawals $1.5 billion.

★ ★ ★

It's the prospect for increased activity which F.W. Dodge hails as "especially welcome after the six-month lull." Contracts for future construction of single family housing was up 13 per cent from last year in the latest figures, and apartment contracts up 15 per cent. Dormitories and other nonhousekeeping residential buildings shows a Novembr-to-November gain of 26 per cent.

'Army Faces Tough Fight Proving GIs Aided Cong'

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — A top civilian lawyer experienced in dozens of court-martials said today the military would have a difficult time proving two U.S. Army sergeants aided an "enemy" during their two years of imprisonment by the Viet Cong.

The two men, Sgt. George E. Smith of Chester, W.Va., and Sgt. Claude McClure of Chattanooga, Tenn., have been charged with "aiding the enemy" while captives of the Communist guerrillas.

They were released last month by the Viet Cong in honor of anti-war demonstrations in the United States.

At a news conference in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, Nov. 30 they said they would quit the Army and join the campaign against U.S. involvement in Viet Nam when they got home.

★ ★ ★

Howard B. McClellan of Clayton, N.M., who has served as defense counsel in dozens of court-martials, told UPI he believed the Army would have trouble proving the two aided an "enemy" since there has been no declaration of war in Viet Nam by the United States.

'UNUSUAL'

McClellan also commented that in his experience it was extremely unusual for the Army to state that the men have been charged before an order convening a court martial was issued.

The army announced yesterday that a preliminary investigation into the conduct of the two men warranted the charges that they prepared, furnished and delivered to the Viet Cong certain documents, statements and writings inimical to the interest of the United States.

However, it remains up to the commanding officer here — Lt. Gen. Albert E. Watson — to decide whether there is enough evidence to bring the charges to trial.

★ ★ ★

McClellan said it appeared that the sergeants' case was now in a military legal state akin to that of a preliminary hearing in civilian courts.

REFUSES COMMENT

Meantime, the Army has refused further comment on the status of the case or the whereabouts of the sergeants. They were whisked to this island base from Korat, Thailand, on Dec. 7.

The Army also said the men have been provided with legal counsel, but would not identify the lawyers.

If the pair are tried and convicted of aiding the enemy they could face the death penalty under Article 104 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. But a long series of reviews, including presidential approval, would be necessary before they could be executed.

Successful Investing

Q) "Acting on advice, I bought 50 Alberto-Culver at 17¼. Actually I was told to buy it when it was 32. It is now 17 and I am advised to buy more stock at current levels. What is your opinion?"

C. C.

A) Alberto-Culver is a relatively small company in the field of toiletries. Its major operation is in hair care products —a field which is highly competitive. Rising promotional costs resulted in an 84 per cent drop in net income in the first 10 months of this fiscal year, which ended Nov. 30.

Bristol - Myers pretty well dominates the field of hair care, and is a very tough company to compete with. Alberto-Culver is well-managed but the near-term prospects for the shares has dimmed and the dividend is not considered secure. In your place, I would switch the stock into Bristol - Myers which is strong and well-diversified; it should show a 20 per cent gain in earnings in 1965.

★ ★ ★

Q) "I have several Israel bonds being retired. I want to put the proceeds into stocks for my son's college education in three years. What would you advise?"

S. B.

(A) I advise very strong growth stocks that can increase your capital in the years ahead. Since education costs have been rising steadily, you need issues capable of keeping abreast of the rise and perhaps surpassing it. I suggest FMC Corp., a diversified company in chemicals, cellophane, food machinery, and defense work. Earnings this year should be up over 20 per cent.

Another is American Hospital Supply, which leads an industry expected to gain importantly from Medicare. Even without this potential lift, earnings gain this year may also exceed 20 per cent.

11 Millionth Vehicle Sets New Record

DETROIT (AP) — The U. S. auto industry writes a long-awaited page in its record book today when the 11 millionth car or truck of calendar 1965 rolls off an assembly line.

It marks the first time the figure has been reached and compares with last year's total car-truck output of 9.3 million units.

American Motors assembly lines are down until Jan. 17, but the Big Three — General Motors, Chrysler and Ford—continued their car and truck build in the final days of 1965.

Indications were that the calendar year would wind up with a build of about 9,340,000 cars, a new high. The old mark of 7,940,125 was set in 1955.

★ ★ ★

U. S. truck output will wind up about 1,780,000 units according to production schedules outlined for this week.

AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

As of last weekend, the U. S. auto makers had turned out 3,054,659 of their 1966 models, putting the industry about 450,000 cars ahead of its build at this point a year ago.

U. S. car build last week was estimated at about 150,000, as the Christmas holiday cut into the work week. A similar situation prevails this New Year's week with indications about 158,000 cars will be built.

Hard to Top Welfare Pay

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —Erlanger Hospital administrator Harold Peterson says he lost an employe in the housekeeping department.

He said the hospital paid the woman $105 per month, then raised her salary to $120 in an effort to keep her.

"But she left us for $125 a month welfare," Peterson said.

Beer Mash Jam Session Halts Rush Hour Traffic

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — Rush hour traffic was affected for about a mile near here as vehicles slipped and skidded.

Two and a half tons of beer mash crashed through the tailgate of a truck and spilled down a hill. Fireman were called to wash the mash off the hill.
