Miss Oakland Honor Closes County Fair

The Oakland County Fair ended last night after crowning the first Miss Oakland County, brown eyed-brown haired Linda Sue Howe of Holly Township.

Miss Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane E. Howe of 1119 S. Saginaw, was chosen over 10 other contestants during the three-day competition which concluded last night.

More than 125,000 persons attended the four-day fair, according to Dean A. Salley, fair cochairman.

Winner of the fair's grand prize, a Chevrolet Camaro, was Kirk Willard of 7597 Greenhaven, Clarkston. Willard, 16, will not have his driver's license before September although his parents will "keep the car running until then," according to Kirk's sister, Lois.

WIN TUG-OF-WAR

A team from the Pontiac police force beat the Waterford police tuggers in a tug-of-war contest yesterday.

Pageant winner Miss Howe, 20, will spend the next year attending functions in her new role of Miss Oakland County. She also will be entered as the county's representative in the Miss Michigan contest in 1969. She recently completed her first year at Northern Michigan University in Marquette, as a drama major. She offered a dramatic reading titled "Antigone" as her talent presentation.

Pontiac Sets Record for June 11-20 Sales

Pontiac Motor Division reported today that sales of Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds in the second 10 days of June were the highest for that period in the history of the division.

General Sales Manager Thomas L. King said June 11-20 sales totaled 28,475 units, surpassing the record of 24,896 cars sold for the same period last year by 7 per cent.

Humphrey Calls for Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says he hopes to talk to North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris this summer to learn prospects for a "settlement or accommodation" of the war. And Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has advocated an immediate cease-fire.

McCarthy, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he hopes to talk to North Vietnamese representatives during a Paris trip in July or early August.

But McCarthy said he does not plan to participate in peace negotiations in Paris or to offer a proposal there on settling the war.

POSITIVE ATMOSPHERE

Humphrey said an immediate cease-fire in Vietnam would create a positive atmosphere at the Paris peace talks and end "fight-and-talk" tactics.

Humphrey, during an interview with editors of the New York Times, said he would be prepared to offer a cease-fire "any hour of the day" but said Hanoi has shown no such interest.

McCarthy was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers." The Humphrey interview appeared in Sunday's editions of the New York Times.

The Gallup Poll, meanwhile, showed McCarthy now leading both the Republican contenders and Humphrey leading GOP candidate Richard M. Nixon but not Rockefeller.

Reagan, a GOP favorite son who says he is not a presidential candidate, criticized the Johnson administration for publicly ruling out use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

Pontiac Area Misses Brunt of Thunderstorm

Thunderstorms with heavy electrical activity dropped 1.3 inches of rain on Pontiac residents last evening. The brunt of the storm, however, was vented over the Lansing and Kalamazoo areas where high winds downed power cables and uprooted trees.

This morning's partially cloudy skies will continue through tonight and tomorrow with the chance of occasional showers and thunderstorms. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today, tonight and tomorrow 50.

POLICE AT RIOT-STRUCK PRISON — A number of Columbus police officers marshalled in front of the Ohio Penitentiary today where rioting inmates set numerous fires. The major blaze trapped nearly 100 person in the prison hospital. At least 20 persons were reported injured, including 10 guards.

Rioting Inmates Set Fires Inside Ohio Penitentiary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rioting inmates set numerous fires inside the Ohio Penitentiary this morning. One major fire trapped nearly 100 persons in the prison's hospital.

The convicts battled prison guards and police with ball bats and homemade knives, but a state official said two hours later, "There is a degree of control within the prison by various law enforcement units."

No shots were fired, Warden Ernie Maxwell said.

Maury Koblenz, state corrections chief, said at least 20 persons were injured, including 10 prison guards.

HOSPITAL EVACUATION

Maxwell said the hospital fire was the most critical of the disturbance. He said 92 to 100 inmates and employees were in the hospital, but were brought out by heavily armed guards and police. Hundreds of inmates milled in the prison yards, but an official said he believed the disturbance was led by a cadre of only 15 to 20 convicts.

The cause was not known immediately, and Koblenz said there had been no communications with the rioting inmates.

He said he had no knowledge of any demands by the convicts.

At least seven fires erupted inside the walled prison, which houses 2,750 inmates. Some of the fires were still burning three hours later.

There was never any danger of a mass break-out," Koblenz said.

INMATES HELPED

Maxwell credited a number of inmates with helping to put out some of the fires.

The warden thought it likely the riot and fires were spontaneous.

Armed Police Begin to Clear Shantytown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the Poor People's Campaign, was arrested today as he sought to lead a group of demonstrators on to the Capitol grounds. Meanwhile, a small army of police was evacuating the campaign's camp, Resurrection City.

Abernathy, who has frequently proclaimed he would be arrested, offered no resistance as two policemen led him and other demonstrators to be photographed and then placed him aboard a bus.

At Resurrection City, police were working their way through the camp from east to west, that is from the Washington Monument to the Lincoln Memorial area.

The residents were given a police ultimatum at 9:42 a.m. EDT to get out or be arrested. More than 1,500 riot-equipped Metropolitan and Park police were on duty to enforce the order.

HUTS BURN

Columns of black smoke threaded up into the muggy air. Police on the line near the Lincoln Memorial said the fires were in some of the plywood huts.

The blazes did not appear serious.

The opening movement to sweep out the camp was announced about 11:30 a.m. by Grant Wright, deputy chief of the Park police.

In addition to the huge police force about 800 to 900 National Guardsmen in the District of Columbia were ordered to duty in case they should be needed to help maintain order.

200 ON DUTY

A Guard spokesman said 200 Guardsmen were assigned to precinct duty with policemen while the remainder awaited developments at the District Army.

At the White House, press secretary George Christian was asked whether the final decision on evicting the demonstrators was made by President Johnson.

He said it was not, but Johnson did know of the action taken by the government — "he has been well aware of it."

2-Car Crash Kills 3 Independence Teens

Three Independence Township teenagers were killed in a two-car collision in the township Saturday afternoon. The force of the crash was so great the car in which the three victims rode was torn in half.

The crash occurred at 2:30 p.m. on Dixie north of Andersonville Road, at the top of Waterford Hill, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

4540 Clarkston, driver of the northbound car, and two of his passengers, Mark Fearnow, 16, of 4733 Monterey, and Maribeth Jones, 16, of 5856 Mary Sue.

Hospitalized in fair condition today is Janet Dougherty, 16, of 4816 Mohawk, Independence Township. She was also a passenger in the Houck car.

Driver of the southbound car was Michael W. Hanel, 18, of 3294 Frembes, Waterford Township. He and his passenger, Wayne Bentler, 17, of 3529 Frankman, Waterford Township, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Sheriff's deputies said the death car apparently went out of control and was skidding sideways in the southbound lane when it collided with the vehicle driven by Hanel.

Houck was a June graduate of Clarkston High School. He had been working at the Fisher Body plant in Pontiac.

IN HIGH SCHOOL

The other two victims were students at Clarkston High.

Some witnesses had been questioned at the scene and others are being sought today, deputies said. Witnesses told deputies the Houck car and an unidentified car had been observed driving rapidly near the bottom of the hill, in what appeared to be a drag race, just prior to the fatal crash, deputies said.

U.S. Bombers Hit Cong Center Outside Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers today smashed a Viet Cong training center 13 miles from Saigon. The B52s, have bombed closer to the capital only once. Last Feb. 13, at the height of the Viet Cong's Tet offensive on Saigon, they struck a suspected enemy troop concentration 10.5 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said ground observers in the training camp area southeast of the capital reported that secondary explosions lasted for six minutes after the eight-engine bombers left the site. A secondary explosion means ammunition or fuel going up after the 500- and 750-pound bombs have exploded.

In the last two weeks, the B52s have flown nearly 100 missions within a 75-mile radius of the capital, trying to cut infiltration corridors from the Cambodian border and prevent enemy troops from massing for a threatened attack on Saigon next month.

Saigon was spared of any shelling for the third consecutive day today, but the Viet Cong shelled two airfields, a province capital and four government military posts.

It was the quietest night in two months in the capital and almost everywhere else in the country. U.S. sources said the enemy likely may be "laying back" to receive replacements, retrain, refit and rearm for fresh attacks.

Polls Say Trudeau Heads for Clear-Cut Victory in Canada

TORONTO (AP) — On the eve of Canada's national election, the key appears to be Trudeauism.

Public opinion polls and newspaper surveys across the country say the Liberal party of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is headed for a clear-cut victory, largely due to the personality of Trudeau.

Unless the result is a last-minute upset, Canada will return to a majority government for the first time since 1962. Several surveys give the Liberals more than 150 of the 284 seats in Parliament, or 17 more than needed for a majority.

In the 1965 election the Liberals, under Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, fell three votes short of a majority, but Pearson was able to carry on with a minority government until he resigned on April 20 to turn the government over to Trudeau. Trudeau dissolved Parliament on April 23 and called for the new election.

BIGGEST CROWDS

Although the 48-year-old Trudeau and the Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, 53, were both new to the national political scene in Canada, it was Trudeau who drew the big crowds across the country and stirred the younger set to near-riot fervor.

Tomorrow's election will be Canada's sixth in 11 years and it will be the first since 1958 which was not contested between the two veterans, Conservative John Diefenbaker and Pearson. Stanfield was chosen Conservative leader last September. He was formerly premier of Nova Scotia.

Stanfield was winding up his campaign with a full day in populous Ontario province. He will go to his home province for election day. Trudeau planned to spend most of the final day in his home province of Quebec, where he is carrying on a sharp fight with the separatists.

Special security precautions have been ordered as a result of separatist threats to appear in force to heckle the prime minister. Trudeau already had been given added protection after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles three weeks ago.

The expectations for a Trudeau victory are based partly on the latest Gallup poll, which shows an 18-point spread between the Liberals and the Conservatives, as compared to a seven-point spread in 1965.

Reuther Asking Food for Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Auto Workers Union president Walter P. Reuther has asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman to release $500 million in food to the nation's poor. Reuther's recommendations were contained in a letter which was made public today.

Reuther, who is chairman of the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty, also informed Freeman of plans to establish a citizens monitoring system to check U.S. Department of Agriculture Food Programs in the nation's most poverty-stricken counties.

In his list of recommendations, Reuther asked that the commodity distribution programs be "radically" expanded by use of all of the Agriculture Department's Section 32 funds. He said the USDA has announced it would return $225 million in these funds for general appropriations at the end of June.

'FOOD NOW'

He also asked Freeman to use his emergency authority to supply food immediately to hunger counties where residents have not benefited fully from federal food stamp programs.

Changes in the food stamp program, including a provision for free stamps for those without income or available cash, lowering of food stamp charges, and simplifying eligibility requirements were requested by Reuther.

He also asked for immediate changes in the school lunch program to place lunches within reach of all by setting a price ceiling and guaranteeing free and reduced price lunches for impoverished children.

Commission to Consider Rezoning

BIRMINGHAM — Public hearings on three requested rezonings are on the agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

In the principal hearing, the commission will consider reclassification of the area bounded by Ann, Lincoln, Floyd, George, Purdy and Landon to the city's new R-8, or town house, zoning category.

The planning board has recommended that the R-8 attached single-family zoning, first adopted by the commission in January without application, be utilized in the area, located immediately west of Woodward and midway between 14 and 15 Mile roads.

Linn Smith, chairman of the board, said the board believes the new zoning would allow for a unified development in the area, rather than the present three-classification patchwork.

POSTPONEMENTS

The hearing was previously scheduled for March 25 and April 29, but postponed both times at the recommendation of Planning Director William Brownfield.

Also scheduled for discussion is the proposed Brownell-Park streets extension, which if approved would become the east leg of Birmingham's "ring road," a planned loop around the central business district.

Assistant City Manager John F. Saeke has reported that the value of property which would have to be acquired in the path of the proposed extension, which would run from Woodward north to Oakland, is estimated at $175,000.

That figure, Saeke added, "does not include any costs for before and after appraisals, or court costs should direct negotiations to purchase fail."

A diagram of the proposed improvement will be displayed at the meeting.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. John N. Canavan, 6300 Gilbert Lake, will be Oakland County's unit chairman for residential campaigns in the 1968 Torch Drive.

Mrs. Canavan will be responsible for organizing and training volunteers to conduct house-to-house solicitations in Oakland County during the 20th annual United Foundation campaign.

The appointment was announced this week by Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard III of Grosse Pointe, 1968 co-chairman for tri-county residential campaigns.

Mrs. Canavan served as a Torch Drive division chairman for Beverly Hills from 1963-65 and for Oakland Hills in 1966. Last year, she was chairman of region 43, which includes Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Franklin.

In addition to the United Foundation, she is a member of the national sorority Delta Delta Delta, the Birmingham Panhellenic group and Pine Lake Country Club.

She received a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan.

BIRMINGHAM — Walter R. Denison, 615 Oakland, has been elected president of The Community House, a nonprofit organization which attempts to provide educational, cultural and social activities for the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

Other newly elected officers are F. Charles Durley, 939 Yarmouth, Bloomfield Township, vice president; William R. Yaw, 623 Hickory Heights, Bloomfield Township, treasurer; and Mrs. Henry M. Hogan Jr., 400 Dunston, Bloomfield Hills, secretary.

Ten's Death Blamed on Sniffing of Spray

Rail Strike in Britain Chaotic Due to Worsen

LONDON (AP) — A go-slow strike by Britain railway workers threw this morning's rush hour into a chaotic tangle.

The strike started at midnight when 270,000 members of the National Union of Railwaymen (NUR), banned all overtime and rest day work in a pay dispute with the state-owned railroad.

Worst-hit service was the vast London commuter network.

Britain's sixth rail slowdown in 18 months was expected to worsen almost at the outset with the threat that a second rail union would join the dispute.

OEO Denies Gang Used U.S. Funds to Buy Arms

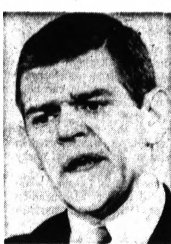

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has denied charges that the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) used U.S. funds to buy guns and other weapons for a group of Chicago street gang members.

The Office of Economic Opportunity says there is no proof for charges made by a former member of the gang, "Blackstone Rangers," that part of the $227,000 program was used to obtain sawed-off shotguns and rifles.

The OEO also said there is no truth to the accusations made before a Senate investigation subcommittee last week by George Rose, a former ward of the Chicago Police Department, that the pastor of a South Side Chicago church knew the gang was storing weapons in the basement.

Rose said also that the First Presbyterian church to be used for marijuana parties, issued his own denial Sunday and said he would seek a contempt of Congress citation against Rose.

The Rev. John R. Fry, who Rose said also allowed the First Presbyterian church to be used for marijuana parties, issued his own denial Sunday and said he would seek a contempt of Congress citation against Rose.

THE REV. JOHN FRY

The Rev. Fry also said he would seek a contempt of Congress citation against Rose. The Rev. Fry was to testify before the subcommittee today.

OEO Director Bertrand Harding, in a statement released Sunday, took to task those who he said accepted Rose's testimony at face value.

"The apparent eagerness of some to accept the uncorroborated statements of a Chicago hoodlum, who was never a participant in the program, raises questions about their own credibility," the statement said.

Rose told the subcommittee that gang leaders saw the federal grant as a chance to get "some easy money" and make the Rangers into a powerful criminal organization. He also said the Rev. Fry once relayed an order to commit a murder against one of the gang's enemies.

Harding said Chicago police worked with OEO on the Rangers program and "At no time have the police reported to the OEO finding arsenals of weapons as a result of this project."

The Rev. Fry also got backing from the congregation and leaders of his church. In a letter released Sunday, church elders said they had the "utmost confidence" in their pastor.

27 Killed in Michigan Traffic Over the Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A woman motorist whose car collided with a boat being towed on a Genesee County highway near Flint was among 27 motorists killed on Michigan highways over the weekend.

Mrs. Robert R. Higdale, 25, of Corona was killed when her car swerved out of control and hit the boat. Her husband, Steve, and her three children were hospitalized.

Raymond C. Dildine, 24, and Joseph W. Stamps, 20, both of Coloma drowned Sunday when their car veered off a highway near Coloma, broke through a bridge guard rail and landed upside down in the Paw Paw River.

A Melvindale man was killed Sunday night in another highway mishap involving a family. His wife and two sons were critically injured.

State Police said William E. Shell, 53, was a passenger in the car when it ran off U.S. 12 in Somerset Township, Hillsdale County, and struck a tree.

In other weekend traffic accidents, six persons died in two separate triple fatalities.

Yvonne Marie Fieis, 4; Patricia Cady, 16; and Chester Micham, 14, all of Traverse City, were killed Saturday night when their car swerved off a curve outside Traverse City and slammed into a tree.

Andrew Houk, 18, of 4540 Clarkston, Independence Twp., and 16-year-olds Mark Fearnow and Maribeth Jones, 5856 Mary Sue, also of Independence Township, were killed Saturday in a two-car collision on Dixie Highway northwest of Pontiac.

The Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

OTHER VICTIMS

Other weekend traffic victims were: Sylvia Bazil, 19, of Dearborn Heights, when she was thrown from a motorcycle into the path of an oncoming car near Dundee in Monroe County yesterday.

The driver of the cycle, Anthony Dimmie, 24, of Inkster, was reported in critical condition in Monroe Mercy Hospital.

Garfield Barnett, 26, of Lansing, when the car he was driving collided head-on with another on U.S. 27 near Charlotte yesterday.

2-CAR COLLISION

Craig Hubert, 18, of Harper Woods, who died yesterday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision in St. Clair Shores Saturday.

Robert Allen Willis, 21, of Plymouth, whose car ran off a road and struck a tree yesterday in Wayne County's Canton Township.

Norman James Ellis, 18, of Harbor Springs, found yesterday alongside the wreckage of his motorcycle, which had swerved off a road and hit a tree in Emmet County's Redmond Township.

Gregory Davis, 10, of Detroit, who died yesterday of injuries suffered Saturday night when his motor scooter and a car collided on Detroit's East Side.

STRUCK BY CAR

David Lee Hissong, 25, of Sidney, hit by a car which failed to stop as he attempted to flag down a motorist after his car had become disabled about 2 a.m.

yesterday outside Sidney, in Montcalm County.

Clarence Thompson, 54, of Detroit, whose car hit a bridge pillar on Detroit's Davison expressway Saturday.

James Misha, 22, of Flushing, when the car in which he was riding ran off a road and wrecked near Flint Saturday.

Robert Nienhuis, 37, of Wyoming, whose motorcycle went out of control on a rain-slicked road and hit a tree in Mecosta County Friday night. Nienhuis was the chief of accident investigation for the Kent county sheriff's department.

3-CAR PILE-UP

Walter Martini, 36, of Mount Clemens, in a three-car Friday night pile-up in Macomb County.

Hazel Novar, 21, of Chicago, in a one-car accident in Portage Township of

Detroit-Oakland County Project Ends

Book-Borrowing Program Cut

By JEAN SALLE

Beginning next week an Oakland County resident may no longer borrow books from the Detroit Metropolitan Library.

It means the end of a project begun in February 1967.

The reason?

The State Department of Education failed to okay $300,000 in federal funds meant for the continuance of the borrowing program, according to Robert Armstrong, business director at the Detroit facility.

And the $300,000 in federal funds appropriated last September? They have been released by the Detroit Metropolitan Library for distribution by the state on a per capita basis to Michigan's 26 library systems.

Armstrong figures Detroit's share will be $67,000 a sum which will largely be used to pay Detroit Metropolitan project back salaries since the federal funds were announced and entered the state limbo.

To Armstrong it's bad news for the Detroit Library. It means, he said, that the metropolitan facility will have to operate solely on declining Detroit city property taxes, and he sees no hope for a future expanded budget.

He reported it costs $3.2 million a year to operate the main library and another $3.8 million to operate the branches.

It also means, he said, the cessation of two per cent of the library's business which had begun to come from residents of the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Monroe and Washtenaw.

INTRALIBRARY SHARING

Armstrong said, however, that the intralibrary sharing, between facilities in the affected area will continue and that a resident of the outlying area may still call on the Detroit Library for information.

He just won't be able to borrow books anymore.

Historical Group Elects Officers

WALLED LAKE—The newly formed Wall Lake Historical Commission will be headed by Lee Phelps, 244 Pontiac Trail.

Other officers are Edmund T. Goodrich, of 138 S. Pontiac Trail, vice chairman, and Clare Riley of 102 E. Walled Lake, secretary treasurer.

The commission has set as its aim the gathering of photographs and documents and locating a house in which to display them.

Meetings, open to the public, are the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

In the meantime the library had already deposited the federal check and it had cleared the bank, Armstrong said. The money was held to Detroit's credit by the City of Detroit treasurer.

The state legislature in appropriating money for 1967-68 had struck from the appropriation bill a line item — Detroit Metropolitan Library project, $300,000. This, according to Armstrong, was the basis for the state saying the money had been awarded in error.

AGREEMENT SOUTHT

Until a month ago Detroit officials attempted to negotiate with the state education department an agreement whereby some of the money would be given to continue the program.

An attorney general's opinion was asked, but none received, according to Armstrong.

Finally the Detroit Library Commission decided to return the money for distribution on a per capita basis.

It meant the end of the program as of June 30, Armstrong said.

Mobile Home Park Plans Given to Avon Officials

AVON TOWNSHIP — Plans for an 820-lot mobile home park on 128 acres in the Livernois-Hamlin area have been presented to the township planning commission.

Chateau Estates Mobile Home Developers of Waterford Township and Sterling Heights had applied to the zoning board.

of appeals Monday for a conditional use permit on the light industrial zoned land.

Township regulations provide that approval must also be obtained from the planning commission, and the commission in turn referred the problem to the planning consultant.

The land is owned by R. C. Robertson Co. of Rochester.

COMPROMISE SOLUTION

A compromise solution between Sam Frankel, who seeks to build apartments on Livernois behind Rochdale subdivision and adjacent to the Rochester Community Schools bus garage, and residents of the subdivision will be attempted.

GOP Candidates for Trustee to Talk

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—The 11 Republican candidates who have filed for the three township trustee posts will speak at tomorrow's meeting of the Commerce Republican Club.

The meeting, open to the public, is in Room 103 of the Walled Lake High School at 8 p.m.

The 11 who are running in the Aug. 6 election are the two incumbents Thomas C. Tiley and Frank A. Crawford, Edward Morey, Edward J. Holmes, Clarence O. Bales, Gordon N. Flatley, Eugene K. Pool, Richard E. Calk, George M. Jordan Jr., Edward Oldenkamp, and Arthur W. Lange.

Charter Bringing Changes in Almont

By TOM GRAY

ALMONT — A handful of new ordinances, a detailed boundary survey, zoning, property and street maps, and studies of sewer, water and other facilities are all in store for this village during its first year of home rule.

Voters approved the new charter for home rule June 4, 1967, climaxing a year of work and planning.

The first step toward Almont's transition from a general-law village came in the latter part of 1966, according to Village Manager Eugene King.

At that time, a 31-man citizens' committee was established to discuss the needs of the village and propose ways to meeting them.

time in July. Again, power lines will be underground, as well as television connections, with one master antenna serving the park.

Besides the new mobile home ordinance, which King characterizes as "strict" and which was adopted earlier this year, work is proceeding or slated on ordinances dealing with trailer coaches, traffic, a planning commission, water, sewage and health and safety.

Also, the village hired the Ann Arbor urban land consulting firm of McNamee, Porter and Seelye after the charter commission election to make a perimeter survey and a description in detail of streets and other physical features of the village.

The Lane Northern Co. of Lansing was retained to make a study of the local well system and determine whether it would be sufficient to meet future demand. Results from that study are due this month.

Another proposal being considered is remodeling of the present city hall, constructed in 1890. A pair of architectural firms are scheduled to report on the possibility soon.

"The only way to go from here is up," King concluded, discussing Almont's prospects for growth. "It looks like within the next five years, this area will expand greatly. We've only started to get into the amount of things which are going to have to be done."

SPECIAL ELECTION

The committee recommended hiring a village administrator (a general-law village is legally barred from formally hiring a "manager") and proposed that a charter committee be organized.

A special election to authorize the committee was held, and voters approved.

Now the charter is law, and the hefty task of putting together a working village administration has begun. The new organization may be just in time, too. A number of developments are planned for Almont's near future.

For one thing, two new subdivisions are going up within a year, King said. One, located south of the village, will consist of homes in the $18,000-and-up bracket.

ANNEXATION PLANS

Present plans, the manager added, are to annex the subdivision, which has been designed with underground telephone and electric lines.

The other planned development is a 100-unit mobile home park, to be constructed in the north end beginning some

Young Diabetics Can Attend Camp

A summer camp for young diabetics, Camp Midicha, located near Oxford, will offer two 10-day sessions next month for 8- to 16-year-old boys and girls.

According to Medical Director Dr. John P. Harm, "The primary objective of the Camp Midicha program is to demonstrate to the young diabetic and to his parents that normal life experiences, such as camping, are not only possible, but are indeed vital for healthy development of the youngster with diabetes."

Sponsored by the Michigan Diabetes Association and the Michigan United Fund, the camp program will include activities that resemble those of any other camp.

The first session is slated to begin July 14 with the second session immediately following on July 24.

Senior Citizens Invited to Potluck Luncheon

Senior citizens in the Highland-Milford-White Lake township area are invited to a potluck luncheon tomorrow noon in the Highland Methodist Church, 210 N. John.

Guests are asked to bring a dish to pass and their own table service. Beverages will be furnished by the Huron Valley Retirees Club.

Milford 'Hams' Drill

MILFORD — A nationwide ham radio emergency drill was held by the Milford Amateur Radio Club at their field day over the weekend.

The club simulated emergency conditions and attempted to see how many contacts could be made in a 24-hour period. Some members operated all night while others slept in the field at Stobart and Labadie roads.

Strawberry Fest July 13

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Firemen will conduct their annual strawberry festival at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 13, at the fire hall in Leonard. Fire equipment will be on display.

Farmington Girl Gets DAR Award

FARMINGTON—The Farmington High School senior class and faculty members selected Gale Aldrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Aldrich of 23935 Gill Road, for the Daughter of American Revolution (DAR) Good Citizen Award for this year.

The selection was made from all the senior girls and is based on the qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Miss Aldrich was elected to the National Honor Society in her junior year and received the American Legion Citizenship award from the class in her freshman year. She plans to attend Hope College in Holland in September.

White Lake to Seek Industry

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — "We're becoming a bedroom community," said James Reid, White Lake Township supervisor. "And our taxes can't pay for the rising costs of schools, fire departments, and police services."

Because the township needs more commerce and industry to balance the tax base, Reid is forming an economic development council.

The council will study possibilities of industrial and commercial growth within the township and will promote these possibilities.

Its second meeting will be 8 p.m. tomorrow at the White Lake Township Hall to formalize the committee and its goals. Reid said the public is welcome.

"We are trying to get people to take part in selling and developing their community in such a way that they won't be tied down legally, or politically," he said.

The council held an exploratory meeting in May attended by 20 prominent businessmen and citizens at which an appraisal of the township and its possibilities was made.

Reid noted that community reaction to the council has been positive.

"We've already had people approach us who would like to develop light industry in the area in addition to offers to develop land into industrial park sites."

Reid explained that he hopes to see shopping centers as well as research and engineering firms come into the community to help pay for rising costs of the public services he mentioned.

"As it is now," Reid said, "If you want to go to a bank or an auto wash you must go into the neighboring township."

The completion of I-275 sometime in 1972 will have a tremendous effect on the township according to Reid.

"We will then be part of the interstate highway from Toledo to I-75. It will leave White Lake wide open to business."

The highway will intersect M-59 near Hill Road making land east of Highland State Recreation Area, around Brook School and on both sides of M-59, valuable for development.

It Seems to Me . . .

Africa Is Land of Contrasts With Most Modern, Primitive

No one becomes any part of an authority on Africa in the space of a week. But the dullards and the marginal mentalities accumulate a little something. The International Press Institute held a meeting for members from 50 countries in Nairobi, in Southeastern Africa, and even my faltering and myopic eyes widened perceptibly and continuously.

For the most part, in the center of the city, Nairobi has hundreds of shops quite as modern as day after tomorrow. And yet, you see homes as primitive as the original tepee of Adam and Eve. And then again, you slip easily into the veldt ten miles away and see hundreds, yes, thousands of wild animals roaming undisturbed. They're protected in many game preserves and a giraffe doesn't fear an automobile any more than you do.

We watched 12 lions for 15 minutes and three were within 10 or 15 feet of the car. The whole pride was within 50 feet. Think what 12 lions could do to seven humans, only one of whom (an African ranger) was armed. But everyone kept well within tightly closed doors. And the lions were utterly indifferent.

An African told me that if a lion isn't hungry, he isn't looking for trouble. But when the pangs of an empty stomach strike, nothing — absolutely nothing — stops him — except closed doors.

Newspapers have a tough time in Africa. Illiteracy and poverty are tremendous, so circulations are meager. Distances are great and newsprint is heavily taxed. But they publish newsy issues that cover the news of the world.

They're well printed and independent. His Excellency, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, President of the Republic of Kenya, once spent years in prison rather than surrender his high principles of freedom and independence. He spoke to us in fine English and uncovered an engaging personality. His people will fight to the death in his behalf and he's widely respected throughout the continent. All African nations that possess independence are fiercely proud of the fact and will do instant battle if this is threatened or even challenged.

English is almost the universal language around the globe. (And the French deeply resent this for their own speech once occupied this proud and important position.)

We were greeted by Ambassador and Mrs. Glenn Ferguson. Americans and other nationalities alike were universally impressed by their appearance, fine manners and friendliness. In fact, I vote the missus an extra measure of admiration because of her physical charm.

Nairobi is only 87 miles from the equator but the temperature is perfect the year around because of a 5,500-foot elevation above the sea. I always thought of Africa as a "jungle land" but the areas we saw were wide open country, beautifully covered with scattered trees and bushes — and zebras, antelope, water buffalo, gazelle, impala, (Pete Estes, please write), hyenas, giraffes, hippos, waterbucks and gnus plus countless others. Ultimately, the star pieces of the whole show are the lions and elephants. Once we saw more than a mile of flamingoes along a lake shore. The strip was 20 birds wide and very colorful.

At times the cloud formations were the most wondrous things of that kind that any of us had ever seen and the atmosphere is the clearest you ever saw.

The local newspapers played the Kennedy assassination with top eight-column heads including the Baraza which is printed in Swahili. Also, the same publicity was accorded the arrest of the man charged with the death of Martin Luther King.

These newspapers run modern bridge columns, some by African authorities, and they follow world golf and tennis. Crossword puzzles are daily features.

Africa is a strangely contradictory land with the ultimate in modernity rubbing shoulders easily with customs that date back to antiquity. I left with profound admiration for the improvements they have wrought and the courage with which they face a very promising and challenging future.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter: Airlines are having trouble with stealing from their baggage and cargo departments. . . . And you may doubt this, but boats of all sizes docked at piers are complaining of underwater thieves who work in with skin diving equipment and climb aboard. . . . Playboy's circulation has passed the five million mark, which probably sets an all-time record for reaching that level so quickly. . . . Overheard: "Remember the Alamo" and "Remember Pearl Harbor," but "forget the Pueblo." . . . Book jackets in London's airport have both men and women photographed and sketched without a stitch of clothing and they're "head on" poses.

Believe it or not, this comely lass, Pamela Carson, was our very capable guide in Africa. . . . The Golden Ages Club of Ocean-side City, a town of 35,000 in California, wrote London and wanted to buy Big Ben. The world's best-known clock is not for sale. . . .

Overheard: A new term for that University in New York: "Columbia, the Gem of Commotion." . . . In France a certain segment has started to sing: "After de Gaulle Is Over." . . . Gary Player has been in 11 sudden death play-offs and has lost nine times. . . . Sign in a small Texas town: "Slow — No Hospital."

The Russian Air Force is phasing two new jets that fly 1,500 and 2,000 miles an hour respectively to replace their 1,200-m.p.h. MIG 21 series. . . .

A very serious committee is working on co-educational status for Princeton. The first move would welcome as many as 20 to 30 per cent girl students. The idea has been endorsed by the faculty and is expected to win trustee approval this month. . . . It was O. Henry who said: "A straw vote only shows the way the hot air is blowing." . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — LEE TREVINO; the J's — East-west traffic conditions in Oakland County.

Find The Culprit!

David Lawrence Says:

Court Too Involved in Politics

LAWRENCE have at the head of their highest court the nation's best judicial mind — a man dedicated to the principles of the Constitution.

The report that Chief Justice Earl Warren is ready to resign and that he will do so in time for President Johnson to name a successor — rather than waiting a few months for the new president, chosen by the American people in November, to make such an important appointment — is in itself a symbol of political manipulation.

Having witnessed for 58 years now the bizarre methods by which justices of the Supreme Court of the United States have been chosen, this writer needs only to recall the many ways by which political influences have been utilized in selecting members of the high court.

It was during the second term of Franklin Roosevelt that politics began to emerge conspicuously as a prime factor in the selection of Supreme Court justices.

WARREN APPOINTMENT Thereafter came a series of appointments of men who could be expected to exert an influence favorable to the policies of the administration in power.

Indeed, President Eisenhower was prevailed upon by his associates, who were more politically minded than he was, to appoint Earl Warren to be chief justice despite the fact that the California governor had had little legal experience and none on the bench.

Earl Warren is a conscientious man, but has strong personal convictions on matters of law and social problems.

It has not been unusual for him to sway others to concur in decisions based on preconceived ideas of good politics — matters popular with large segments of the public — rather than in accord with fundamental principles of the Constitution which supposedly can be changed only by the amending process prescribed in the Constitution itself.

COULD BE CHANGED The American people could in November change the political complexion of the White House and the Congress and renounce the political trends of the past several years. But if a "lame-duck" president is given the opportunity to name as chief justice a close personal friend or a person of the safe political school of thought as his own, the people will be deprived of any voice or influence in the selection of the chief justice of the nation's highest court.

What the people really want is a change in the system so that the Supreme Court will be taken out of the realm of politics.

Bob Considine Says:

India Missionaries Ousted for Doing Too Much Good

NEW YORK—A Jesuit missionary named John Barrett who has worked for 31 years in India, and would just as soon work 31 more, stopped by the New York Athletic Club the other day to talk about his problems.

You think you have problems? Get a load of Father Barrett's and India's.

"Christianity, so far as conversions are concerned, is an absolute failure in India," he said. "There are 11 million Christians in a country of 500 million."

"We do some good, naturally. That's the reason we're there. But it's impossible to do too much good. A Spanish Jesuit, Vincenzo Ferrer, has been ordered to leave India after 20 years. He set up a farmers cooperative that has plowed 5,000 acres with modern machinery, redeemed 400 farms, built 50 miles of roads, dug 2,000 wells, built two high schools and four hostels."

ONE EXCEPTION "Everybody in that area of Manmad, near Bombay, cheered him. With one exception. The local governor. He charged that Father Ferrer was duplicating the Indian government's 'improvement program.' Father Ferrer said: 'Sure, I am. But there's one big difference: I build. You promise.'"

"Still another Jesuit, Father John Riley, an Australian, has been told to go home. His mistake, it seems, is that he believed that the best way to get American surplus food to the starving people during a famine was to distribute it to the hungry on arrival." The big, rangy, gray-haired Jesuit said without rancor.

"The local magistrate said 'no, give it to us. We'll then see that it gets to the people.' Father Riley said, 'No, if I give it to you, some portion of it will wind up in the black market. So it's going to be a case of instant distribution. Sorry.'"

He is in the newspaper game. "What I'm here for is not to beg for India but beg for a little money to provide scholarships for bright young Indians who eventually will start increasing numbers of daily and weekly newspapers, as the literacy rate rises."

"The government doesn't want them and their progressive ideas. Neither do the old Indian industrial tycoons. I want to see people like this move into communications and tell the hundreds of millions that there are better ways to live, better ways than communism, socialism, and the welfare state. Please help me."

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Violence . . .

Minneapolis Tribune

Is there any tribute of sickness in a half-decade of mounting student militancy, overt violation of laws, draft evasion, revolt in the ghettos, the demonization of Lyndon Johnson and, most clearly, the shooting of John Kennedy, Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy?

We believe the nation should not conclude that violence in the abstract causes the shooting. But we believe, too, that Americans must renew their efforts to cure the social ills that engender violence.

The bitter irony is that Robert Kennedy had been campaigning on just that issue.

Welfare . . .

Newsday

If responsibility for the state of the public welfare system today could be attributed to any one man, his career would be in such a shambles that he would undoubtedly need public welfare himself.

Welfare is a failure, but there is no one man to blame.

Voice of the People:

'Majority of Americans Judged for Deeds of Few'

Accusations are being hurled at us from all directions. We are condemned for everything and admired for nothing. We are all sick because some madmen kill and destroy. I object to being accused, tried and convicted of being a party to these heinous acts merely because I am a citizen of this country. There is very little wrong with the great majority of our citizens. The fact that we search our souls whenever these crimes are perpetrated indicates that we are a moral, conscientious people.

I propose to all who would condemn that they think with their minds rather than their emotions. They will become aware that we have the most morally responsible society in existence. In any group there are a few crackpots, for whose actions the rest of us cannot logically be condemned.

The opinions of people throughout the world will be determined by our own expressions. We can condemn ourselves and prove to the satisfaction of the world that we are all murderers and rioters, or we can be rightfully proud of our American heritage, hold our heads high and enjoy the esteem of all responsible people.

Stop Blaming Majority for Acts of Minority

Why do people see only the violence that occurs in the United States? Since Kennedy was president at least four prime ministers, two foreign ministers and one foreign president have been killed. In one recent election there were so many murders during the campaign that the results of the election were held back for fear of starting more violence.

As with John Kennedy, I believe the assassin of Robert Kennedy is a Communist sympathizer who has written of his admiration for communism and who has perhaps participated in Communist organizations, yet we are told that Communists are no threat to our country and we should be more tolerant. Let's stop blaming the majority of those who are law-abiding citizens and put the blame where it belongs—on a minority which gets the majority of publicity.

Discusses Stir Caused by Assassination

Your editorial on Kennedy's assassination prompts me to ask: Why should this stir such hysteria when the daily assassination of hundreds of other Americans sits hardly a ripple? Isn't the lesser-known victim of the American assassination just as dear to his widow as Kennedy was to his? Isn't the assassination of other Americans just as heinous as Kennedy's?

Why should not the press devote as much editorial space to the assassination of every lesser-known victim as it does to the assassination of Kennedy and thus demand an end to all assassinations, not just Kennedy's, and to further demand the recall of any judge who seeks to reduce the sentence of any assassin from murder to misdemeanor? In the words of your own editorial: Why? Why? Why?

Please do not use my name.

Question and Answer

News media refer to Mississippi as being the poorest state in the U.S. I suppose they mean supplying jobs. Could you tell me what state is considered poorest as compared to Mississippi being poorest? I've heard Michigan offers more jobs than any other state. Is this true?

CURIOS

REPLY

They probably refer to per capita income. According to the Census Bureau's Statistical Abstract of the U.S., Mississippi has the lowest per capita income of any state. District of Columbia has the highest, followed by Connecticut. Several states have more employees in non-agricultural establishments than Michigan: New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Texas.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

There is only the pavement of good intentions stretching back to the Great Depression. The challenge then was to keep people at least one step ahead of starvation. The system that evolved out of that emergency effort never quite went beyond the original challenge.

Welfare today supplies minimal levels of food, clothing and shelter. But it is apparent that if welfare is to be more than a holding act, it will have to supply intangibles that can't be entered in a caseworker's budget.

How do you budget dignity? The question is one that is attracting the attention of some of the best minds in the nation at the moment. The present welfare system does not provide for dignity nor ambition nor self confidence, and many suspect that it is no coincidence that poverty and lack of opportunity are the nation's foremost domestic problems.

President Johnson appointed the Commission on Income Maintenance to study all possible forms of income subsidy, such as the negative income tax, as alternatives to welfare. The commission has yet to report.

TRAIN DERAILMENT — A passenger is helped off the Pennsylvania Railroad Broadway Limited passenger train near Lancaster, Pa., after the train derailed, injuring 20 passengers. Eight passenger cars went off the tracks. The train was bound from New York to Chicago.

Accident in Pennsylvania

20 Hurt as 8 Train Cars Derail

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI) — The last eight cars of the Broadway limited derailed near here yesterday as the Penn-Central's New York-to-Chicago train hurtled at 80 miles per hour through southeastern Pennsylvania.

Twenty of the 146 passengers aboard the 13-car train were injured as two sleeping cars, two dining cars and four coaches buckled and jumped off the tracks at the edge of the small community of Landisville. None of the cars overturned.

Seven of the injured were admitted to hospitals. The others were treated and released.

The derailment on the railroad's main line occurred at a point where the two tracks parallel highway Route 230.

4,000 AT SCENE

The wreckage could be seen from the highway, and one railroad worker estimated that some 4,000 persons flocked to the scene and hampered rescue operations.

The derailment tore up a quarter-mile of track. The other track remained open but was blocked to routine traffic by a wrecking train dispatched to the scene from Lancaster.

Almost all the passengers, including the injured, walked from the train. One passenger said it seemed like "an eternity" before he got out "but I guess it was only about two minutes."

The injured were taken to the Lancaster General Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital in nine ambulances.

The rest of the passengers were given temporary shelter and aid by nearby residents. A fire company set up a canteen. Later they were taken to Harrisburg in buses provided by the railroad to continue their journey.

A railroad spokesman said shortly after the derailment that "nobody has any idea" what caused it. A train crewman said a coupling separated on the second car, triggering the automatic air brakes.

Robert Wolff, 50, of Amber, Pa., in the dining car with his wife and about 20 other persons, said "all of a sudden it started to buckle and jump. All the food fell on the people's laps and the tables overturned."

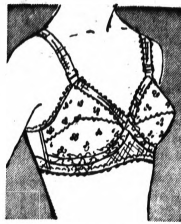

Robert Taggart of Philadelphia said "our car veered to the right and people began sliding off their seats."

CAR ROLLS 50 FEET

Three of the derailed cars tilted at a 45-degree angle. The last car rolled 50 feet from the tracks.

The injured admitted to Lancaster General Hospital were Harriett Lynch, 50, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Ruth Tate, 44, Santa Anne, Ill.; Luella Wert, 73, Blue Island, Ill.; Frank Varga, 34, Matwan, N.J.; Hamilton Stewart, 55, a railroad employee from Newark, N.J.; and Mrs. Anne Lisnek, 62, Evanston, Ill.

Steel Industry Contract Talks Enter Last Phase

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steel workers, who want a big pay hike, and the steel industry, which says it can't afford one, begin the last phase of their contract talks today.

The union, which represents 450,000 men, has so far refused to put a price tag on its demands, clothing them instead in words like "substantial" and "whopping."

Industry sources claim they can not afford to hand out raises like the six per cent increases the union won in the copper, cans and aluminum industries.

They say that cheaper foreign steel already has grabbed off 13 per cent of the domestic market and price increases by American producers to offset a wage hike would open the door for imports even wider.

AVERAGE WAGE

Steelworkers now earn an average of $3.67 an hour. The industry contends that fringe benefits raise their cost to $4.88 an hour.

Negotiations actually have been going on at local and company levels since April. But today is the day the negotiating teams that have been scattered around the country move to Pittsburgh to hammer out the wage agreement and other issues that couldn't be settled on a local level. The three-year contract expires Aug. 1.

Top industry men held a background meeting for newsmen last week and claimed that steel simply can't afford the raises other industries have been giving out.

They said profits dipped by about 30 per cent last year and production is expected to nose-dive this summer even without a strike as consumers use up big stockpiles bought as strike protection.

Industry sources, who normally paint a bleak picture at contract time, say they wouldn't be surprised if the union asks for a nine per cent pay raise. At the last go-round in 1965, the steelworkers settled for a 3.7 per cent raise after stalemate talks moved to the White House.

Editor Walter J. Campbell of Steel Magazine, which called the crucial negotiations "steel's fight for survival," says "What we are facing is a national problem in maintaining a healthy and prosperous domestic steel industry."

The union has shown some concern for management's plight. President I. W. Abel and top industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper fashioned a no-strike, compulsory arbitration agreement, only to see it killed by the union rank-and-file.

Abel went to Washington with the industry to help plead the case against foreign imports before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Most of the companies reported good progress on the local issues. Crucible, Alan Wood and Allegheny Ludlum, three small specialty producers, resolved their local issues entirely. Other producers said they felt the talks went well.

Canoeist Drowns

BELDING (AP)—Gary Jordan, 13, of rural Cedar Springs drowned Saturday when the canoe in which he was riding overturned near Belding. The Belding fire department, which recovered the boy's body, said the accident happened in turbulent backwaters at Smyrna Dam on the Flat River.

Silent Hero Muses During Solemn Rite

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — If I could have held her in my arms as I had done before, perhaps I would have been as smug as the smiling man I saw put the ring upon her finger.

The day just couldn't have been more perfect had the Lord wanted to improve the weather in heaven.

Skies were treasures of bright blue, the sun brightened the spirits of everybody, and there was space in the church parking lot for all but the last 37 cars that showed up for the ceremony.

BOYLE I felt so tremendously responsible. Was there a hymnal and a prayer book in every pew? The church looked so nice and new, as if Christ had just walked. His freshness there.

HUMAN GLORY There is a human glory in the waiting of the groom and the flowery walkway of his adorned bride.

As she strolled down the most wonderful street of her life arm in arm with her tall, dark hand some father, I thought to myself, "Well, they'll surely be calling on me yet. There must be something for me to do."

But the next words I heard were the famous words of the preacher presenting the acceptance of alternates . . . "In sickness and in health . . . in the union of going the way together."

"Who giveth this woman?" the minister inquired.

MORE THAN PROTOPLASM Well, at least I had done my part. This woman whose bottom I'd pretended to spank when she could hold all of her person in either hand and lift her to the ceiling?

She stood there, framed in her usual portrayal—her fair hair, her eyes that mirrored the feeling of an occasion, a look of being wistfully eager to make you feel better.

Looking at her critically, I sensed, as probably most people do, the luminous fact that girls never look more lovely than they do when echoing the words of a minister as they stand steady by the man they're being wedded to. As you grow older, you realize that one of the facts of life is that people tend to look more acceptable in church than out of it.

"Who giveth this woman?" the minister asked.

HE'S CONFIDENT Responded in confident affirmation, the tall, dark, handsome father:

"Her mother and I!"

How about me? Nobody asked me. Nobody asks at a marriage how a fellow like me feels about the situation.

Yet at most marriages there's a fellow like me. He's the guy who stands around with a hurt look in his eyes and offers to pour you a drink—and then spills champagne in your lap.

SILENT HERO He feels himself to be the silent hero of the occasion, the one who takes the major suffering, and gets the least recognition.

Who is this guy? He's the godfather of the bride, the silent bearer of the bride, the silent bearer of the bride.

It's like other things, I suppose—the first time hurts the most. I had never yielded a goddaughter before.

Well, at least I had done my part. This woman whose bottom I'd pretended to spank when she could hold all of her person in either hand and lift her to the ceiling?

But the next words I heard were the famous words of the preacher presenting the acceptance of alternates . . . "In sickness and in health . . . in the union of going the way together."

Gunfire Killed 189 Last Week, AP Survey Reveals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gunfire killed 189 persons in the United States, a week-long survey by The Associated Press shows, and most of the deaths were homicides. The survey, ended at midnight Sunday, showed that FBI figures are available during the same week of President Johnson signed an anti-crime bill containing gun-control provisions.

The shooting deaths included 109 homicides, 64 suicides and 16 accidents.

In 1966, the last year for which FBI figures are available, there was an average of 125 gun deaths a week.

Demands for tighter gun-control measures were made after the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—all killed by guns.

LOOSE TRAFFIC
Proponents of gun control blame loose traffic in firearms for thousands of deaths each year.

President Johnson signed an omnibus anticrime bill last Wednesday, which contained a gun-control section. More stringent laws on gun control are being considered by Congress.

Two of the provisions in the crime bill:

—Prohibit interstate mail-order sales of handguns and also their over-the-counter sale to nonresidents of a state and to MAIL-ORDER BAN

A measure pending before Congress and sponsored by the President would ban mail-order sales of all firearms, including rifles and shotguns.

The AP survey, begun mid-night Sunday, June 16, showed gunfire in Texas claimed 20 lives, the greatest number of any state, homicides there accounted for 14 deaths, almost double the next highest states—Illinois, 16, California, 13, Michigan and Ohio, 10.

Denise Darcel Calls Shoplift Count 'Bum'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bosomy French actress Denise Darcel, who was in her purse and a show date waiting, was charged with shoplifting $55 worth of underwear Sunday. She called it "a bum rap."

Miss Darcel, who rose to film stardom in the late 1940s, was arrested outside a downtown shopping bags included hose, Miami department store by a slip, a comb and mirror, hair-removing device who said "the pins, a few pair of panties, a had three shopping bags full of nightgown and one bra—size 40 merchandise."

Miss Darcel, petite and trim later, in jail, Miss Darcel at 43, had her blonde hair tucked under a scarf when treating her like a common criminal.

"She had already purchased several articles and paid for them," Police Lt. Paul Obos said. "And she was picking up other things she wanted. She

'Miniaturization of Nature' Urged for Livable City

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario (AP) — Laurence S. Rockefeller suggested today that man may have to "miniaturize nature and bring it where people are" in an effort to make cities livable.

"One of the keys to making our cities livable," he said, "is to restore nature or symbols of nature to relieve the oppressiveness of the concrete and asphalt."

"As the Japanese have done," Rockefeller added, "perhaps we must miniaturize nature and bring it where people are. The Japanese have emulated us in electronic components, we follow their ingenuity with nature."

Rockefeller, chairman of the President's Citizens Advisory Committee on Recreation and Natural Beauty, made his remarks in a speech for the annual meeting of the American Society of Landscape Architects.

just $65 gets you a whole summer wardrobe with Palm Beach's® Trip-L-Aire®

Women have known the secret forever: you can take a basic item and make it look like a whole wardrobe simply by adding a few things and accessorizing it differently. Take the Trip-L-Aire. Essentially, it's a summer suit—a very good-looking summer suit. Palm Beach adds an extra pair of trousers—but in a different shade, so the suit coat and extra slacks suddenly look like a sport coat ensemble. Then they toss in a pair of repp-striped belts, for a change of accents. And of course, you can combine any of these Trip-L-Aire items with all sorts of things in your wardrobe. Did $65 ever take you further? Especially when you consider that the Trip-L-Aire is tailored in a rich blend of Dacron® and rayon: crisp, cool, crease-retaining, and long-wearing. And Palm Beach is famous for tailoring details: the touches that make for smoother fit, more luxurious appearance. See the celebrated Trip-L-Aire in two- and three-button models, detailed in a variety of ways, and available in a handsome choice of shades: tan, oyster, mint, navy and medium blue. If you're planning on spending $65 for a suit this summer, why not buy a wardrobe instead? The Trip-L-Aire at HHS.

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Hoogerhyde of Chippewa Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Lynne, to John Clifford Peters of Chicago, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hollopeter of Clearfield, Penn. The bride elect is a senior at Western Michigan University, her fiance's alma mater. Vows are slated for January 1969.

The Robert E. Fields of South Avery Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Louise, to Randall J. Mulbarger, son of the Jay G. Mulbargers of Columbus, Ohio. Dec. 14 vows are slated by the couple, both seniors at Michigan State University.

Son Must Make Own Decisions

Nothing You Can Do About It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged mother. My son is 28. He has been given the finest education, and good moral training, along with all the better things of life. My problem concerns his morals which embarrass me greatly.

He is already supporting two children out of wedlock and is presently going with a young woman from a good family. She has her own apartment and my son has spent the night there several times and thinks nothing of it.

He is taking up this marriageable young woman's time and seems genuinely fond of her, so I asked him why he doesn't marry her. He replied, "I do not intend to marry anyone as I'm not the marrying kind."

I tried to tell him that a decent man should have a wife and family.

Please comment on this in your column as I know he reads it. Maybe you can help solve this problem.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: The problem is not HIS — it's yours. You seem unwilling to accept the fact that your son is a grown man and must take the responsibility for his own actions.

I realize that it is embarrassing for you, but there is nothing you can do about it. Eventually he may change his philosophy and his way of living. I hope he does, more for his sake than yours, but if he does, it won't be because his mother (or) gave him a lecture on "morality."

DEAR ABBY: Six months ago my fiancée left the Vietnam. I promised her I'd wait for her and I am. The only place I ever go is to the gym from work and I ride with a bunch of women.

Here is my problem: When Rick (fake name) left, I weighed 118. Now I weigh 140! I am home every night and I can't seem to stay out of the refrigerator. I eat out of boredom and nervousness. I stocked up on diet foods and drinks, which I enjoy in addition to everything else in sight.

Rick writes, "In seven months I'll be coming home to my little girl." He should only know. Please help me.

DEAR GIRL: Get acquainted with "OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS." Compulsive eaters suffer from the same type of illness (and it IS an illness) that compulsive drinkers suffer from, and the members help each other.

For information about OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS, write P.O. Box No. 372, BEVERLY HILLS, CAL. They have chapters all over the country. I've heard from many for whom "O. A." has done wonders. Perhaps it can do the same for you. Good luck.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. G. No man "gets" mean when he drinks. He IS mean to begin with, but he manages to cover it up in his more sober moments.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to: Abby in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

'Step Children' Is Topic

"Step Children in the Home" will be the topic of Wednesday's discussion at Parents Without Partners, Pontiac chapter. Members and guests will meet at 8:15 p.m. in the Oakland County Supervisors' Auditorium. An afterglow follows.

Tell Kiddies, 'Time to Go Home Now'

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I agree with you totally that children should be taught to come home at mealtime and at dark. You should also emphasize in your column that a mother need only say to young visitors, firmly and with a smile, "Time for you to go home now, Betty. It's time for our supper."

Children appreciate honesty and are usually glad to go along with house rules if they are clearly stated in a friendly manner. — Mrs. Trotter.

Dear Mrs. Trotter: Thanks to you for pointing out my omission. You are quite right, most children respond to friendly, but firm, instructions and the imposed-upon neighbor can generally take care of the problem in just this way.

WISHES TO SING

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning a July wedding and wondered if it would be proper for me to sing a song to my husband at the reception. I have taken classical voice lessons. — Marge.

Dear Marge: Sing to your husband before your wedding, during your honeymoon or any other time you wish — but not at your wedding.

OUT OF HAND

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it the proper thing for a mother-in-law-to-be to have an enormous shower for her son's bride-to-be? In this particular case, there have been at least five showers already. Isn't this somewhat getting to be a racket? — Fed-Up

Dear Fed-Up: Except in very special circumstances, it is not in good taste for the immediate families of the bride or groom to give a shower. And when a girl has already had several showers, friends should not be asked to come up with yet another gift.

AP Wirephoto

If a pretty girl is like a melody, then these small fry are right in tune. They modeled creations of Joseph Love, Inc., in a fashion showing Friday in New York, for the pre-teenybopper set.

Fashion World of the Small Fry Set Miniature Tintype of Mom's Wardrobe

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that their mothers have given the baby doll dresses back to the babies, the kids seem to be willing to take some fashion lessons from their elders.

Or so it seemed Friday when a dozen dolls toddled down the runway showing off the fall collection by childrenswear manufacturer Joseph Love.

It may be a part of an industrywide struggle to return to the status quo, a trend which has become evident during the New York Couture Group's press previews.

On some occasions the fashion pendulum took such a vehement swing that the tykes appeared to have stepped out of Victorian tintypes. Prim, white-stockinged confections were these misses in fluffs of pastel cotton and wide satin waist sashes.

But generally the future heartbreakers were neat, well-behaved abbreviations of their mothers in adaptations of their mother's wardrobes.

KNITS

Backable, wrinkleproof knits that big girls like to travel in have made the trip to kindergarten.

Argyle, fisherman boucle knits as two-piece suits or turtle-necked dresses may sound like adult fashion talk but it is nursery school language now.

Cotton shifts with night-shirt tails, chain belts. Medallion jewelry, Russian gossack dresses with peasant braiding, Rajah shifts and Nehru dresses are more adult fashions dwarfed for the fashion beginners.

The same democracy practiced in mama's styles — and demonstrated in a denim style show earlier in the day — has filtered down to daughter.

Just as mama wears the locomotive engineer's jacket and slacks and the farmer's overalls, this fall her child has a choice of the rancher's or the cobbler's garb in her size.

LEATHER

The antique leather vogue is not exclusively the province of the mature either. The Love collection for little ones did the leather look up in antique brown, as well as white, red and a lot of other bright colors.

But the leather is fake, a break for mothers. It is machine washable with no need for ironing.

Newlyweds Feted at Elks Temple

A reception in the Elks Temple followed the marriage Friday of Ann Frances Pierce and Gerald Edmund Stoczynski.

For the evening rite in St. Benedict's Catholic Church, the bride selected a floor-length gown of peau de sole with short sleeves and chapel train, accented with Alencon lace. A plateau cap of roses and petals secured her three-tiered silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Rex Futrell was matron of honor.

for her sister. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ardel Pierce of Shoreview Drive.

Deborah Cummings, Joyce Johnson, Mary O'Reilly, and Nancy Leh served as bridesmaids.

Best man for the son of the Edward Stoczynskis of Hamtramck was Leonard Kolcz. The usher corps was comprised of Rex Futrell, Michael Kuron, Ted Pierce, Tom Nelson and Jack Vansickle.

The newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to Miami Beach.

Bridal Vows Announced

Newlyweds, the Richard Allen Coles (nee Jacqueline Carol Helfrich) departed for a honeymoon trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, following vows Friday in St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church.

For the early evening ceremony, the bride chose a modified cage of point d'esprit fashioned with a portrait neckline of Venetian lace and matching cathedral train.

To secure her court veil of silk illusion, she chose a matching lace crown. Cascading Cattleya orchids with white Sweetheart roses and Stephanotis made up her bouquet.

Mrs. Michael Krellwitz was matron of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Williams of Bloomfield Hills.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael E. Marr, Lorraine Williamson, Diane Cooley.

MRS. RICHARD COLE

BEST MAN

Best man honors for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Cole of Clinton, Iowa, were performed by Andrew S. Ptak. The usher corps was comprised of Richard Barrett, William Bryant, William Hickok, Dean W. Bell and Lawrence Siferd.

A dinner reception at the Oakland Hills Country Club preceded the couple's honeymoon departure.

Schultz-Brendel

Cheryl Dawn Brendel was escorted to the altar of Grace Lutheran Church Saturday where the Rev. Otto G. Schultz heard an exchange of vows uniting her and his son, Stephen Christian.

DREAMS COME TRUE FOR BRIDES-TO-BE

New Bridal Registry

Thanks to a new and unique photographic registry service initiated this week by C. R. Haszlik Studio, many brides and brides-to-be will now be able to have their complete wedding photographed and albums given to them as wedding presents.

How often it has been said, "I'm not having wedding photos taken, it's beyond us right now." Yet, the very thing the young bride forgoes in the beginning is the one thing that remains forever, bringing memories of that wonderful day each time photographs are viewed.

Now through "Wedding Photography Registry" a prospective bride can call C. R. Haszlik Studio on University Drive in Pontiac and engage a photographer to cover the wedding day festivities. At the same time, she can select the style of wedding photography she prefers - Natural color, the album; wall - hung paintings, frames, etc.

As a gift, C. R. Haszlik provides each of his brides a Wedding Guest Book, a portrait for the newspaper/press and even rice conveniently packaged for the guests to throw at the happy couple when leaving the church.

Mr. Haszlik has also available at special discount prices, invitations and napkins and often quilts. "We supply everything but the Bridegroom!"

Why not call C. R. Haszlik Studio now at 334-0553 and reserve your wedding date, or stop in at 1 University Drive, Pontiac.

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Stephenson of Lancaster, Ohio. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lawrence Hubbell, of Ada, Ohio, Carma Morehart, of Akron, and Mrs. Miles Metcalfe of Columbus.

The bridegroom's brothers, Thom Moreau of Bradenton, Fla. and John J. Moreau of Fondiac, served as best man and usher. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Moreau of Sarasota, Fla., and Pontiac.

Dr. Leo Wasserberger of Pontiac and John D. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, Ill. completed the bridal party.

A reception at the bride's sorority house, Zeta Tau Alpha, on the Ohio State University campus followed the vows.

The newlyweds will reside in New York City upon their return from a honeymoon trip to Montreal and Quebec City.

MRS. FRANK MOREAU

MRS. STEVEN SCHULTZ

Carrying a bridal bouquet of long-stem white roses, Miss Brendel was gown in an A-line silhouette of ivory organza, accented with peau d'ange lace bodice. A petal headpiece, fringed with pearls and crystals, securing a veil of chapel length, completed her look.

ATTENDANTS

Honor attendants for the evening ceremony were the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert E. Davis, as matron of honor with Michael E. Schultz performing best man honors for his brother.

Mrs. John A. Watson, Mrs. Raymond E. Huglin and Mrs. Frank Krajenka were bridesmaids with Jonathan S. Schultz, Daniel P. Aho and Robert L. Brendel ushering.

Following the ceremony, the daughter to the Carl J. Brendels of Davisburg and the son of Rev. and Mrs. Otto G. Schultz of North Palm Beach, Fla., received guests in the fellowship hall of the church.

Moreau-Stephenson

A full-length Madonna-style mantilla of silk illusion and Alencon lace highlighted the wedding gown of Phyllis Ayleen Stephenson, M.D., for her marriage Saturday to Frank William Moreau, M.D.

For the rite in St. Joseph Cathedral in Columbus, Ohio, the bride chose a gown of reembrodered Alencon lace over candlelight peau de soie with matching chapel train. She carried a bouquet of white sweep out the ever-popular cymbidium orchids, Stephanotis straight ones. Others favor a midi hairstyle, neither curly nor straight, but a flattering was maid of honor for the compromise.

The Company of 14 actors and two directors will join Robert G. Leske and his staff of technical theatre experts and local apprentices.

● Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters" will be presented on June 28, 29 - July 4, 5, 6.

● On July 12, 13, 18, 19, 20, G. B. Shaw's "Misalliance" will be performed.

● The Moliere comedy, "Tartuffe," is scheduled for July 26, 27 - Aug. 1, 2, 3.

● The final work will be "La Ronde" by Schnitzler on Aug. 9, 10, 15, 16, 17.

Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available from the P. A. Bower Theatre, College and Cultural Center, Flint.

DOWNING-GRASSI

Diane Sheryl Grassi and David Scott Downing spoke vows Saturday in St. Benedict's Catholic Church. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grassi of Voorhees Road was attired in a cape-sleeved gown with style of a gown with Alencon lace bordering the hem. A petal cluster secured her bubble veil. Honor attendants were Deborah Mazza and Charles Parker. Diane Scofield, Sandy Henderson, Diane Downing, Kim and Kurt Anselmi, Dennis Horrel, Michael Leineke and Jerry Bodnovich completed the wedding party. The newlyweds were honored with a reception in Bloomfield Centre Hall. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Downing of Hatchery Road.

Chinese Sister Prepares Students for Reconciliation

WEBSTER GROVES, Mo. (AP) — Because she believes knowledge of her native language will give people better understanding and make for improved communications, Sister Francine Lum of the Sisters of Loretto is pioneering in teaching Chinese to high school girls at Nerinx Hall.

"Right now there is no communication between out two countries," she says, "but when communication does come, knowing the language will help. Many Chinese people speak English, but it creates a better feeling in a person if you try to speak his language."

Chinese she declares, is not so hard to learn. "Most Americans expect it to be difficult," she adds, "but I've had students who find it easier than French and Spanish." Along with her new course in Chinese, Sister Francine still teaches mathematics.

Program Set in Waterford for Retarded

A new program for retarded children in the Waterford area will begin July 2nd and every Tuesday throughout July and August.

Indoor and outdoor recreation has been arranged, under the leadership of Gene Weidel, director of CAI, from 11 to 12 a.m., using the facilities of the CAI building on Williams Lake Road and the beach at Huntoon Lake, a short walk away.

YOGO

Yoga is being offered for girls age 12 and up and their mothers who wish to participate.

General recreation, under the supervision of college student leaders, is planned for girls and boys age 6 and up.

The program is sponsored jointly by the Waterford Organization for Retarded Children, Inc. and the CAI. There is no fee, except for caps.

Weidel states that if interest and participation are high, the program could be increased to two periods per week.

Funeral Costs Pamphlet Available on Request

The "high cost of dying" has become of increasing concern to many people — bereaved families, ministers, labor leaders, directors, doctors. Some have found a way to arrange for appropriate, dignified funerals at moderate cost.

How this can be done is outlined in "Funeral Costs and Death Benefits," a new Public Affairs Pamphlet by Sidney Margolius, a leading expert on consumer problems. In this pamphlet Margolius discusses the pricing system for funerals, suggests how to keep costs modest, and summarizes the financial benefits that may be available to meet the expenses.

The pamphlet is available for 25 cents from the Public Affairs Committee, 381 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Criticism of high costs, funerals "avoid pressure on Margolius points out, does not mean the family to buy additional necessities mean that funeral services or goods which can directors are making excessive raise the costs. Typically, in profits. However labor unions such groups, the average cost is and welfare organizations are one-third less than the national disturbed to find that "funeral average."

simplify matters for the bereaved. They stress preplanning. Their effectiveness is demonstrated by the Chicago Memorial Association which has been able to reduce costs for its members to about one-fourth the average for the area.

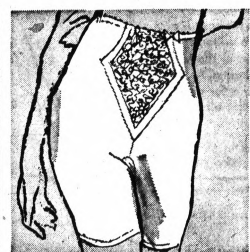

But even with individual, rather than group, arrangements, advance planning can help ease the strain and the expense.

The final pages of "Funeral Costs and Death Benefits" offer guidance on veterans' benefits, Social Security, and other benefits for which the survivors may be eligible. "A will and funeral instructions are essential to save your family expense and time in settling your estate, to make sure your property is distributed as you want," and to make known your wishes in regard to services, interment, cremation, etc.

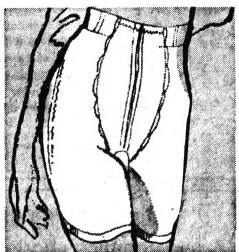

Also, Margolius stresses, keep "tideover" money — at least four weeks' living expenses — available, or know a source from which it can be borrowed until insurance and Social Security checks arrive.

ACLU Is Urged to Condone Violation of a Valid Law

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — October. The board can accept or reject the recommendation. The American Civil Liberties Union is being called upon by its National Conference to adopt a policy which would condone "violation of an admittedly valid law" as a method of expressing political or social opinion.

Delegates recommended adoption of the broadened policy Sunday by the ACLU's board of directors at its next meeting in statutory right of individual access to the courts.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The conference recommended that its national board name a special committee to examine the right of self-determination by the black community.

Specifically, delegates said the committee should consider:

First, the right of minority groups to choose separate living arrangements in publicly supported buildings, including university dormitories; second, the right of minority individuals to "choose styles of life that lead to assimilation, integration, separatism or coexistence," and third, protection in the lower courts of militant organizations from harassment and extra-legal administration of law.

Other resolutions adopted regarding the urban crisis included:

1. Guaranteed income as a matter of right.
2. Stronger programs of legal protection for those who live in the ghettos, including a provision that such individuals not be required to accept legal counsel not of their own choosing and not answerable to them.
3. New techniques for making police more responsive to the people they serve and improvement of civil liberties protection in criminal courts of first jurisdiction.

9 Youngsters Claim Bike Pedaling Record

COHOCTAH (AP) — Nine youngsters in this small Livingston County community are claiming a new world's record — pedaling the same bike for 126 hours.

Working in shifts that began at noon last Monday, the youngsters, aged 11 to 15, pedaled around the small town over a predetermined route. By 6 p.m. Saturday, they claimed the new mark, bettering one they say was 120 hours in Bombay, India, in 1933.

During their long trek, their mothers kept a constant watch and boosted their spirits with encouragement and sandwiches. The only stops lasted only a few seconds as they switched riders.

So intent were they to set the new mark, the boys didn't halt their assault on the record even when torrential rains fell Friday night.

Athleticism Marks Some Neurotics

By Science Service

As a group, neurotic men appear to differ sharply from their healthy counterparts on a trait called athleticism, reports Scotland's James Crawford Little, director of clinical research at Crichton Royal Hospital in Dumfries.

Of 72 neurotics studied at the St. James Hospital in Leeds, England, 39 per cent had displayed an excessive devotion to physical prowess. Only 9 per cent of the men in a healthy group had such exclusive concern with their bodies.

An even larger number of the neurotic men — 42 per cent — displayed opposite traits: They had shunned sports and physical activity in general all their lives. These men were relatively introverted and unsocial, said Dr. Little.

Of the two groups, the athletic types had the worse prognosis, he said. Although they were highly extroverted and lacked a history of emotional trouble, in three-fourths of the cases a minor illness or injury set off a serious crisis, sending many into "crippling personal and social maladjustment for years despite intensive treatment."

PROBLEM PERSPIRATION SOLVED

even for thousands who perspire heavily

A new-type formula has been found to keep underarms absolutely dry—even for thousands who perspire heavily. After decades of common "deodorants" it took a chemical invention to make this truly effective protection possible—with the same safety to skin as the same skin mildness as popular "deodorants." Called Mitchem Anti-Perspirant, it is the product of a trustworthy 65-year-old laboratory. By the thousands, women with problem perspiration are finding the protection they need—and never could find before. And fully effective as a deodorant, too, of course. If you perspire more than average—even heavily—get the positive protection of Mitchem Anti-Perspirant. Your choice, liquid or cream. Ninety-day supply, each $3.00. Available at your favorite drug or toiletry counter.

Nixon-Rocky State Split Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Sunday that Michigan's delegation to the Republican presidential convention would be pretty much split between Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after the first ballot.

The delegation, he said, is pledged to support Gov. George Romney on the first ballot, Romney, he said, would be placed in nomination.

"He is doing a very effective job, I would say, of holding the Michigan delegation together and uncommitted as to what they would do on the second ballot, if there is one," Griffin said.

"I would guess, though, that our delegation is perhaps pretty much split between Nixon and Rockefeller after the first ballot."

Strikes Hit Canada: Ontario Beer, Trash in Toronto, Seaway

TORONTO (AP) — The garbage piled up in Toronto today, postponed during the week, Ontario's supply of beer was threatened, and Canada's most important waterway was closed, all because of strikes.

The brewery strike-lockout in Ontario started a rush on liquor stores and hotels as supplies dwindled. About 2,700 brewery workers and warehousemen struck Friday for better wages and pension plans.

Government liquor stores reported most imported beer stocks were sold out. Hotels also reported a booming business. Hundreds flocked to a nonunion brewery 110 miles northwest of Toronto to stock up.

"They have been buying it like crazy," a liquor store spokesman said. "They don't care if it's 40 or 50 cents a bottle or what price it is. They just want beer."

Many stores sold out Friday night. Toronto residents felt the first impact of their garbage strike today as the 7,000 tons of garbage usually collected daily began to pile up around the city. Streets Commissioner Harold Atyeo announced residents may dump carefully packaged refuse at 29 sites—24 of them parks. The 3,700 strikers want a 20-percent wage increase over two years. The city has offered 15 per cent.

In addition to the garbage men, the strikers include employees of the water and sewage plants and street maintenance.

Negroes Plan Denver Rally, Protest March

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Members of Denver's Negro community decided Sunday to hold a mass meeting and parade through downtown Denver streets Tuesday afternoon to call attention to grievances and make demands to city officials. The decision, after an uneasy weekend in some areas of the city following the shooting early Saturday of a policeman and a Negro youth, was announced by State Sen. George Brown, D-Denver, the first Negro elected to the Colorado legislature. Brown urged all of Denver's estimated 40,000 Negroes to attend the meeting and walk in the parade which will start and end in front of the Denver city and county building and will pass by police headquarters. Brown said the Negroes would "answer indictments and insinuations against the black community," explain "what really causes riotous situations" and present "a series of important demands" to city officials.

Train Derails; Man Sought

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Five cars, some loaded with beer and others with haul-away trucks, were tipped over Sunday when a Grand Trunk Western freight train hit an open switch in northwest Grand Rapids. Police reported three anonymous tips had pointed to the same suspect, who was being sought.

After Coalition Partners Pull Out

1-Party Italian Cabinet Due

By EDWARD MAGRI
Associated Press Writer
ROME (AP) — Premier-designate Giovanni Leone is expected to begin forming a minority cabinet today made up entirely of members of the Christian Democratic party.

A spokesman for Leone cautiously admitted that he Christian Democratic senator planned to go ahead in his attempt to put together a cabinet.

"Reporting to the president on the mandate he has received, Leone will presumably accept alliance with the Christian Democrats to form a government," he spokesman said.

President Giuseppe Saragat asked Leone to try to launch a one-party government after the Socialists refused to reverse their decision to stay out of the government. Stung by a serious setback at the general election in May, the Socialists bolted the three-party center-left coalition which ruled Italy for the past five years.

SOCIALIST TO HELP
However, Socialist leaders said Leone they were willing to help him through when he faces and seek a vote of confidence Parliament for a confidence next week.

Leone has made clear he intends to continue along the policy lines followed by the former center-left alliance of Christian Democrats, Socialists and Republicans. The Socialists will they traveled a combined mile-decide at a party congress in age of 967 billion miles during the fall whether to resume their year.

There were 81,851,000 passenger cars and 16,474,000 trucks in operation on the nation's highways last year and the fall whether to resume their year.

Rains Avert Northeast Water Shortage

NEW YORK (AP) — The heavy rains of May and June have washed away the threat of another Northeast water shortage and filled reservoirs to overflowing or near capacity.

The blessings of the late spring rains, after an abnormally dry April that made water officials uneasy, were cited by officials all over the area.

And although a Weather Bureau spokesman in Boston described New England's spring rains as generally not heavy, he said their frequency had left the area with sufficient water.

BAD DREAMS

Water officials throughout the Northeast still have had dreams about the five-year drought of 1961 to 1966 when New York City's water supply dropped to less than 25 per cent of its reservoirs' capacities.

At Boston's huge reservoir in central Massachusetts the water got so low the old roads of the towns flooded to build the reservoir could be seen. The salt front from the ocean moved up the Delaware River so far it was feared it might endanger Philadelphia's water supply from the river.

This week, New York's water supply was more than 100 per cent of capacity. This measurement is possible because the capacity is measured up to the spillways of the reservoirs and there is some water storage above that line at certain points.

CAPACITY
Boston's Quabbin Reservoir, which has a capacity of 412 billion gallons, was listed June 1 as being 48 per cent full, compared with 56.1 per cent in August of last year. But the reservoir lever was at 506.90 feet on June 18, enough, according to a water official, to last four to five years without another drop of rain.

And the fresh water in the Delaware has pushed the salt front back down stream to 12 miles below Wilmington.

Choices to Be Made for Pollution Funds

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Water Resources Commission will meet Wednesday and Thursday to decide which of 121 hopeful communities will be eligible this year for shares of $8.2 million in federal funds to fight water pollution.

At its meeting, the commission will set priorities among the applicants. It will then certify eligible projects to the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration within the tentative $8.2-million Michigan limit for 1968-69.

On Wednesday, Saginaw city officials are expected to appear for continuation of a hearing begun in May on charges the city discharged inadequately treated sewage and waste.

At last month's meeting, the city suggested modification of the requirements the commission proposed. The hearing was then recessed until June to allow the commission staff to analyze the city's proposals.

TO APPEAR

Representatives of four villages were to appear on Thursday to answer charges that raw sewage is being discharged unlawfully from within their boundaries. They were Coleman, Midland County; Elkton, Huron County; Mayville and Millington, Tuscola County.

Also on Thursday, Berlin township of Monroe County was to appear to show cause why the commission should not declare it in default of orders to submit construction plans for necessary treatment facilities by May 1.

Earlier, the township told the commission it couldn't meet the deadline because of financing difficulties.

The commission also will consider final orders of determination, which require pollution abatement by a specified date, for six communities that have been cited for unlawful pollution.

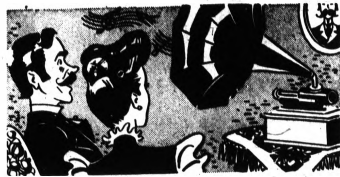

Up for final orders were Bay City, Columbiaville and St. Charles. Also, the townships of Caledonia, Shiawassee County; Carrollton, Saginaw County; and Ira, St. Clair County.

5 of 6 Policemen Quit in Plainwell

PLAINWELL (AP) — Five of the six working members of the police department in Plainwell have resigned. The resignations apparently were the result of a feud with Chief Harold Frye.

Frye, who was named chief of police in this Barry County community after serving in a similar post at Swartz Creek, said Saturday the men have presented no formal complaints.

He said the men had asked for a Saturday meeting with the city council and resigned after being told the meeting could not be held until Tuesday. He also said the men would not be rehired.

New Book Tells Story Of The Kennedys

TRIUMPH and TRAGEDY: The Story of the KENNEDYS

The Kennedys have had it all.

From hunger in Ireland to realization, three generations later, of the American Dream. Wealth. Position. Power.

And they have seen the dream become nightmare.

The violence done them by fate is cruel enough. But the violence done them by the dark side of the human mind has appalled the nation and the world.

The story of this American family, what has been given it and what has been taken from it, is as fantastic as it is frightening.

Once before the Associated Press has chronicled a shocking tragedy of this afflicted family in "The Torch Is Passed", one of the largest selling books of all time, and the classic account of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Now, in a time of national shock and sympathy, the AP is producing another book on this fated family.

It is called "Triumph and Tragedy: The Story of the Kennedys." Many of those who wrote "The Torch Is Passed" are at work on the new project. It will be a hard-bound book fully illustrated in color and black and white, a fitting memoir of one of the most shocking personal and public tragedies of American history.

To reserve your copy, send only $3.12 and the coupon below.

Global Arms Forecast Is Imaginative

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Weapons of war "have reached such a stage of perfection that further progress which would have any revolutionizing influence is no longer possible."

Before shouting with joy, or groaning with dismay, depending on your bent or investments, please note that this statement was uttered by the 19th century German Socialist Friedrich Engels apropos of the Franco-Prussian War (1870-1871).

Engels could not have been more wrong. In the next 40 years war-making man had invented the tank, machine gun, poison gas and the submarine.

Before a second 40 years was out he had invented the atom bomb, missiles, super aircraft carriers, and many other items designed to destroy lives and property more efficiently than ever before.

WEAPONRY FORECAST

So when they asked D. G. Brennan to write a forecast of weaponry 50 years hence in 2018, he tried to avoid Engels' fault of lack of imagination.

Brennan, a mathematician and expert on national security problems, is a member of the Hudson Institute and editor of the International Journal of Arms Control and Disarmament Annual Review.

He did not fail to include, as likely items in the standard arsenal of 2018, such things as disintegrator ray guns, anti-gravity belts, rocket belts, and even hurricanes controlled or made by man and hurled at enemy fleets or lands.

Brennan's article on weapons of the future is Chapter 1 in a 13-chapter book, "Toward the Year 2018," edited by the Foreign Policy Association and published by Cowles Education Corp.

Among other things, Brennan foresees submarines operating at depths of 20,000 feet or more, and "underwater fortifications, fences, weapon centers, and so forth."

Brennan apologized in advance to the citizens of 2018 who may find him guilty of some spectacular omissions. After all, the United States alone is spending $7 billion a year on military research and development, and some surprises would not be surprising.

Among the developments which Brennan, if he lives to be 92, would not find surprising would be acquisition of nuclear arms by 30 or more nations, compared to the five which now possess them.

Fire Damages Area Building

A fire at a vacant building early this morning in White Lake Township caused an estimated $2,500 damage, fire department officials said.

The building, a one-story home in a residential area, is located at 288 Bramble Trace. White Lake Township officials said they did not have the full name of the owner of the building.

Two township fire trucks were needed to squelch the 3 a.m. blaze.

Fire officials said they knew of no immediate cause of the fire.

JUNIOR JUMBLE

by HENRI ARNOLD and BOB LEE

These funny-looking nonsense words are actually REAL words, but their letters have been mixed up by someone. You must put their letters back in the right order so that they make orinary words that you can find in the dictionary. WRITE THE LETTERS OF EACH WORD UNDER EACH NONSENSE WORD—BUT ONLY ONE LETTER TO EACH SQUARE.

WHAT ARE THE LARGEST ANTS?

Color me

Now you are ready to find the FUNNY ANSWER to this puzzle. The picture above will give you a hint. Study it carefully. Then take the letters that appear in the circles and play around with them. You will find that you can put them in order so that they form the answer you are looking for.

Apart from the fact that both are Harvard alumni and millionaires (Trudeau from varied financial interests and Stanfield from a flourishing men's underwear business), two main contenders have little in common.

Trudeau, who is so thoroughly bilingual he speaks without accent in both English and French, is a swinging bachelor. He drives an $18,000 imported sports car, often wears loud sports coats or blue jeans, and apparently revels in being kissed by women whenever he makes public appearances.

Tart Cherry Crop Below State Average

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's tart cherry crop—estimated at 75,000 tons—is much larger this year than the small crops of the last two years, but still smaller than average, says the State Crop Reporting Service.

The anticipated crop is some 25,000 tons above the 1966-67 average, the service says, but nearly 20,000 tons below the 1962-66 average.

Abnormally warm weather during mid-March and the first three weeks of April pushed bud development well ahead of normal, the service reports. But the buds in many areas were vulnerable to freezing temperatures for a longer period than in most years.

Harvest is expected to start about July 10 in the southwest and 10 days later in the north-west. Much of the early advancement was lost by the prolonged cool weather during May, the service says.

Red China Exports Its Cultural Revolution

PARIS (UPI) — Communist China has quietly set up an "action center" in Europe from which it plans to direct cultural revolutions through out Western and Eastern Europe, according to informed sources.

The center is understood to be financed by Communist China's European diplomatic headquarters in Bern, Switzerland.

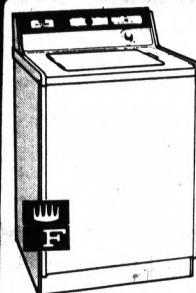

A link has been discerned between Peking's cultural revolution theories and tactics and recent revolutionary developments among the youth in France, notably the riots at the Sorbonne University.

Peking has openly hailed these developments and has since been launching attack after attack, with increased violence, against those who try to arrest the movement.

The chief wrath is directed by Peking against the French Communist Party, which it accuses of revisionism since it considers the French Communists in close alignment with Moscow, acting on Kremlin instructions in opposing the "revolution."

Peking's special center, whose exact location remains unknown, apparently is charged with the task of disseminating the great ideas of the cultural revolution, as generated by Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

His regime evidently plans to movements aimed at correcting China. The worried Russians have decried it as a deliberate feasible and to get on the Peking's cultural revolution operation triggered by Mao to bandwagon of student unrest, has until recently been a destroy the Communist party thus infiltrating often genuine laughing matter outside Red and its controlling apparatus.

Tracewski's Homer Breaks Tribe's Hex on Tiger Batters

Detroit Blanked by Cuban Tiant in Opener, 3-0

CLEVELAND (AP) — "I didn't feel they could throw blanks at us all the time," Mayo Smith said. "I was beginning to wonder if we were that bad or if they were that good."

The Detroit Tigers' manager was talking about the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with Cleveland, which the Tigers won 4-1. The American League leaders had been shut out Saturday and Luis Tiant fired a three-hit shutout at them in the first game Sunday, with the Indians winning 3-0.

"We got the runs from an unexpected source, but that's the way it has been all season," Smith continued.

3-RUN BLAST

Smith's unexpected source was Dick Tracewski, who rapped a three-run homer off Sam McDowell in the second game, the first Detroit runs since last Friday in the series opener against Cleveland.

Tracewski went into the game with a .170 batting average and said later, "Now I have nothing to look forward to for the rest of the year."

His homer, the first of the season, equals last year's total and he now has five in six years in the majors.

"Sam (McDowell) has great talent," the Tigers' infielder added. "There is no way anyone can hit him well. I just swung away."

McDowell said: "He hit a low fast ball. I tried to throw it high and tight."

TOPS IN ERA

Tiant, who leads the league with a 1.20 earned run average, was angry about comments coming from the Detroit dugout in the opener.

"Nobody fool around with me," Tiant said. "I'm going to get mad if they yell at me. I get mad and I go to pitch better."

Two of the Tigers started needing Tiant in the second inning and the Cuban right-hander started giving it back. Indians' Manager Alvin Dark went to the mound and calmed his pitcher.

Tracewski's poke over the left field fence scored Ray Oyler, who walked, and Mickey Stanley, who was safe on an error with two outs.

The Indians chased starter John Hiller in the first inning of the opener with a three-run rally. Jose Cardenal singled home one run and Joe Azcue's double scored two more.

Tiant, 11-5, struck out nine and walked two.

With the split, Detroit kept a 6½-game lead over the second-place Indians.

Athletic Director Picked at U.S. Naval Academy

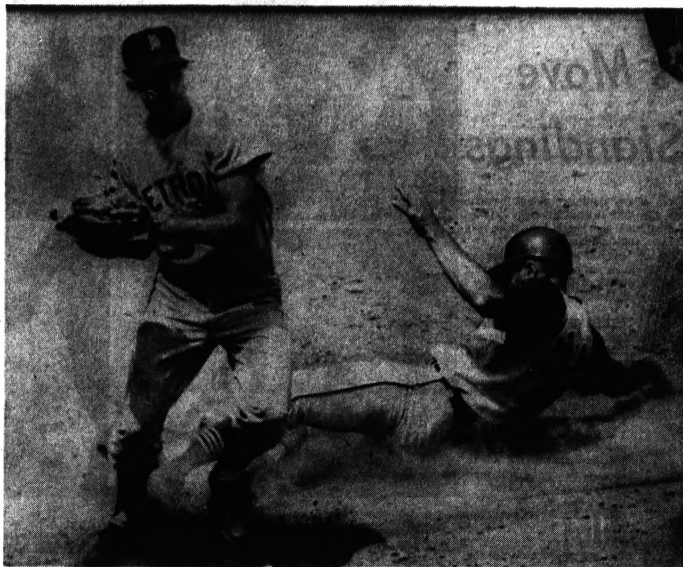

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Capt. J. O. Coppedge became the naval academy's new director of athletics Thursday, relieving Capt. Alan R. Cameron, who completed a normal three-year tour in the job.

Cameron will return to sea. He takes command of destroyer Squadron 5 with its home port in San Diego later this month.

Coppedge, who has spent most of his naval career in the submarine service, was a football and wrestling letterman as a midshipman.

He was the first triumph for young

Hammitt-Hammitt Wins Best Ball

TRUHAM HAMMITT

GEORGE HAMMITT

Playoff Needed in City Meet

The object in best-ball is for partners to help each other and a couple of local players did it exactly that way Saturday in taking the city championship.

Taking the title on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff was the twosome of George Hammitt and Truman Hammitt.

WIN IN PLAYOFF

Hammitt and Hammitt carded a five-under-par 64 to share the top spot with Joe Anderson and Harold Daniels and then bagged a birdie on the first hole of the playoff to take the title.

Hammitt won two years ago with Paul Bada, but both had new partners for this year's event, which attracted a record 104 teams.

While Hammitt and his new partner were winning, Bada and his partner, Bob Runyon, were just two shots back at 66 over the 5,689-yard, par-69 course.

EARLY LEADERS

Anderson and Daniels were already in the clubhouse with their 64 when Hammitt and Hammitt teed off on the 18th hole.

Hammitt's second shot was just off the green on the back side about 20 feet from the pin. "We thought that 65 was low at the time," Hammitt said later. They figured two putts for a par would bring a tie, but Hammitt rolled it in for a birdie. "We thought we had won it then," Hammitt said.

PUTT ENDS IT

The putt produced a tie and then it was Hammitt's turn. On the first hole of the playoff, Hammitt put an iron shot six feet from the cup and knocked it in for a birdie to wrap it up.

Defending champions Gary Beckman and Larry Backland were among a crowd at 74.

In all, 21 teams shot par or better, with 13 of them in the sub-par category.

ALL OVER — Dave Fett (left) and Chuck Byrne were tired but smiling as they walked from the green on the 19th hole after winning the Pine Lake Invitational golf tournament Saturday at Pine Lake. Fett rolled in a 25-foot putt to end the match on the first hole in a sudden-death playoff.

Byrne, Partner Take Pine Lake Title

The success story for Birmingham golfer Chuck Byrne in invitational competition apparently has no end.

Slowed and almost knocked out of the championship match by a back ailment, Byrne 49, and partner Dave Fett, 28, also of Birmingham, squandered a big lead late in the match and had to go overtime to win the Pine Lake Invitational Saturday.

ELEVENTH TRIUMPH

It marked the 11th time the silver-haired Byrne had marched to the winner's circle in invitational events, and it was his seventh different championship. It was the first triumph for young Fett, who ended the match on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff by rolling in an uphill 25-foot birdie putt.

ENDS MATCH

Fett's putt brought to an end a stirring rally by Wendell (Pete) Moore and Dick Griffith, who had battled back from a 4-down-to-go situation to square the match on the 18th hole.

Whether the eventual winners would play in the afternoon was in doubt following their 4 and 3 victory over former champions Jeff Welsher and Wally Wheeler in the morning.

Byrne, who has been bothered with a bad back for the past two months, suffered a recurrence of the ailment and visited a chiropractor while the other players were having lunch.

The treatment worked. Byrne and Fett started fast. Byrne clipped in a 35-footer for a birdie at No. 4 and knocked in birdie putts of 8 and 9 feet on No. 5 and 9 to take a lead of three-up at the turn.

The twosome continued their sharp play as they ran the count to 4-and-7. But Moore and Griffith hit a hot streak and finally evened the match with a birdie on the 18th. Griffith's approach shot hit the pin and Moore had only to tap-in for the bird.

Southpaw Charles Outshoots Nicklaus

TORONTO (AP) — It's getting to be a habit.

Bob Charles of New Zealand won the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship Sunday and became the second golfer in eight days to ignore a final round charge by Jack Nicklaus.

Lee Trevino did it a week earlier and won the U.S. Open.

"And I didn't turn my back on Jack's tee shots," said the lefthanded swinger when asked if the booming Nicklaus drives disturbed him.

"Actually, I wanted to see where he was hitting them."

Charles shot a four-under-par 66 during Sunday's final round for a six-under-par 274 and picked up $25,000.

STAGE BATTLE

Nicklaus, who staged a head-to-head battle with Charles over the final 18 holes of the 6,790 yard St. George's Golf Club layout, said later that the New Zealander's game was "just top good."

"He just flat beat me. I thought I putted considerably better than I did in the first three rounds, but he putted better. Every putt he makes looks like it's going in. He putts consistently better than anyone else on the tour."

Charles went to the first tee Sunday afternoon with Nicklaus and Billy Casper. He was tied with George Knudson of Toronto for the lead at two-under 208.

"I would rather have Jack playing with me than behind me," he said afterwards.

Nicklaus, who started the round one stroke back, scored three-under 67 and won $15,000 for his second-place finish.

French Racer Injures Head in Smashup

MONZA, Italy (AP) — French racing driver Jean Pierre Jassaud is hospitalized with a serious head injury today following a spectacular seven-car smashup during the Monza Grand Prix Formula Two race Sunday.

Physicians said Jassaud suffered a skull concussion, fractured his left knee and multiple fractures of his ribs. They added that it would take him months to recover.

The accident occurred about halfway through the race when three Ferrari Dino cars collided and burst into flames. The other four autos smashed into the wreckage.

Jassaud was the only driver injured seriously.

Jonathan Williams of Britain won the race, taking his Brabham over the 160 miles in one hour, 14 minutes, 38 seconds for an average time of 120 miles per hour. Britons Alan Rees, in a Brabham, and Robin Widows, in a McLaren, were second and third, respectively.

Sedan Twosome Appear Tough in Car Series

BRIDGEHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — The combination of driver-engineer Mark Donahue of Media, Pa., and Roger Penske, Philadelphia Chevrolet dealer, is beginning to appear unbeatable in the Transamerica sedan championship series.

Donahue, who on his fifth straight Trans-Am over the 2.85 mile Bridgehampton race circuit Sunday, credits the success of his Camaro to "little things we do before the race."

For example, he made three pit stops and beat second place George Faller, a Cadillac, Calif., in a Javelin, by almost a full lap.

Record Falls to Oklahoman in NCAA Golf

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — The University of Florida and Grier Jones of Oklahoma State took home top honors at the 71st NCAA golf championships. For each, there was a moment of truth.

Jones came to life after a short-lived lapse in Saturday's final round of the 72-hole tournament and won the individual title with a NCAA record of 65-68-71-276 — eight-under par.

"I had a double bogey on the 11th and I went four-over par for the round," said Jones. "I said to myself, 'here you are. You have a chance to win, don't give up.'"

He didn't, holing three birdies before the round was over and taking a three-stroke victory over Houston's Hal Underwood, who birdied the last three holes in a late charge.

Florida's moment was traced to the 1967 tournament after losing by three strokes to Houston, which had won four straight and 10 since 1958. The two teams have ended the final round tied at New Mexico State University, 7,100-yard course.

But Florida came out a two-stroke winner, 1-154-1,156, in the 100-degree plus temperatures.

Hurdler Gains Delay in Bid for Olympics

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Richmond Flowers, University of Tennessee hurdler, said Saturday U.S. Olympic officials have granted him a delay in trying to qualify for the American track team.

Flowers said he had been given permission to try out for the team when other athletes tentatively chosen for the squad assembled for high-altitude training at Lake Tahoe, Calif., in September.

In light of this, Flowers said he would not fly to Los Angeles Tuesday to go before an Olympic subcommittee on Wednesday as he had planned.

Ward's Battles Back, Garners 4-3 Triumph

Down 3-0 going into the bottom of the seventh, Ward Body (7-5) pushed across three runs to tie the game at 3-3 and then came up with another marker in the ninth to hand Clarkson Appliance (5-7) a 4-3 setback in Waterford Township softball action Sunday.

Don Quackenbush's two-run single tied the game for Ward's in the seventh. In the ninth, Jim Brown walked, moved to third on Bob Davis' third hit and scored the winning run on a passed ball.

In another game, Fred Brown rapped out three hits to back the three-hit pitching of Jim McCallane as Midget Bar (2-10) blanked Huron Bowl (3-8), 4-0.

Illinois Kegler in Record Win

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Jim Stefanch, of Joliet, Ill., shattered records on all sides on a way to victory Sunday in the Professional Bowlers Association $32,000 Fresno Open.

Stefanch, 26, finished the 40-game grind with a record PBA 40-game total of 9,356 pins. With 460 bonus pins he collected for winning nine of his 16 match games in the final round, he ran up a 9,806-pin total.

36-Month Riverside HST

Now you can really enjoy your vacation this summer. Because if your RIVERSIDE H.S.T. Tire should fail during this period, at your option, Wards will refund double your money back or install a new H.S.T. Tire and refund your original purchase price. Refund will be made without question when you return your H.S.T. Tire with your sales receipt plus the sales card on or before October 1, 1968. Offer excludes repairable punctures which will be repaired FREE by Wards.

More riding comfort than a radial tire. More mileage, strength, and traction than a conventional tire ... at a sensible price!

The new Riverside® GLASBELT TIRE

2 fiber glass belts stabilize the tread with a tensile strength greater than steel. So stable, the tread won't squirm like it does on ordinary tires. So it wears longer. Up to 40% longer than the same tire without these belts. All that strength holds the tread open. Lays it down flatter. Socks it to the road. 2 plies of nylon cord for high speed dependability. Cross plies, not radial, for more stability. Nothing resists impact or heat build-up like nylon.

Teams Move With Streaks

Columbus Falls in IL Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Several teams have put together hot streaks this season and moved upward in the International League standings, but few have taken a quicker tumble downward than the Columbus Jets.

Just eight days ago the Jets were sailing along in first place with a 2½-game lead. Today, after losing seven straight and eight of their last nine starts, the Jets are fourth-four games out of the pace.

The Rochester Red Wings continued the Jets' losing streak from a ninth inning jam to nail Houston's victory over the Phillies. Denis Menke scored two runs and drove in two more and Dick Simpson homered for the Astros.

Wins Net Title

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — University of Southern California's smooth stroking Stan Smith overwhelmed defending champion and teammate Bob Lutz Saturday for a 3-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2 victory to become the 1968 NCAA tennis singles champion.

Funeral Service for Ex-Cager

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Funeral services for Johnny Beckman, who died Saturday, will be held in Coral Gables at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Beckman, 73, the first man named to the Basketball Hall of Fame, was known as the Babe Ruth of basket in his day although standing only 5-foot-9 inches.

McCovey's Tape-Measure Blows Sink Pirates

By The Associated Press

Willie McCovey is a firm believer in that old maxim: Out of sight, out of mind. And he's getting his message across to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McCovey unloaded a pair of tape measure home runs Sunday, giving Juan Marichal and the San Francisco Giants a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh, and driving the Pirates up the walls of cavernous Forbes Field.

"I don't get any thrill out of hitting the ball real far... I just want it to go out of the park," said the slugger first baseman, who has hit seven of his National League leading 18 homers in the Giants' last seven games against the Pirates.

Marichal's 14th victory—loped in the majors—enabled the second-place Giants to trim one-half game off St. Louis' league lead. The Cardinals had their seven-game winning string sliced by Atlanta 5-1 in the opener of a doubleheader, but rebounded for a 3-1 second game victory that left them 6½ lengths in front.

SWEET TWIN BILL Cincinnati swept a twin bill from the Chicago Cubs 9-8 and 4-3, the nightcap going 11 innings, while the New York Mets

Lew Spurns Pro Contract for UCLANS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor, the giant UCLA center, says he'll be back with the Bruins for his senior year instead of becoming an instant millionaire in professional basketball.

"I'm looking forward to next season—and I'm still optimistic about our chances," remarked Alcindor, who has led UCLA to two consecutive national collegiate titles.

Before leaving for New York for summer vacation, Alcindor told a newsmen he is bothered by rumors that he might quit college basketball immediately, perhaps to sign a $1 million contract with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Californian Takes Water Ski Crown

LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz. (AP) — Chuck Stearns of Bellflower, Calif., won the men's open title Sunday in the National Water Ski Speed Championships with a 300-yard victory over Butch Peterson of South Pasadena, Calif.

The two skiers traded the lead several times in the first half of the 18-mile race, but Stearns pulled steadily ahead in the second half.

Soviet Olympic Ace in Trouble

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet diver Mikhail Sazonov, one of Russia's main hopes for an Olympic swimming gold medal, is in danger of being kicked out of the Soviet Olympic team for drunkenness, a newspaper indicated Sunday.

Komsomolska Pravda, voice of the Communist Youth League, said the European diving champion "showed up drunk" at a Soviet competition this spring in the Ural city of Chelyabinsk.

edged Los Angeles 5-4 and Houston tripped Philadelphia 7-4 in other single games.

McCovey took exception to his own rule in the first inning at Pittsburgh when the first of his two homers off Jim Bunning sailed onto the 86-foot high roof of the double deck right field stands. "I watched it all the way," he admitted. "I knew it cleared the stands."

But he shrugged off a reminder that the roof had been reached only 12 times before in Forbes Field's 89-year history.

Marichal, 14-2, wouldn't discuss his prospects for a 30-victory year.

While Marichal was taming the Pirates, a pair of unheralded hurlers—Atlanta reliever Cepi Upshaw and St. Louis southpaw Mel Nelson—divided the spoils before a record regular season crowd of 49,743 at Busch Stadium.

Upshaw allowed only two hits over the final 7-2-3 innings of the opener after the Braves chased St. Louis starter Nelson Briles with a four-run first-inning flurry.

The Reds completed their sweep on a freakish 11th-inning force play that deprived Tommy Helms of a single but sent Tony Perez home with the winning run.

With one out and the bases loaded, Helms' blooper fell in front of right fielder Al Spangler, who recovered the ball and forced Lee May at second as Perez trotted across the plate.

May had driven in the Reds' first three runs with a homer and single.

The Mets again climbed with one victory of the elusive .500 mark as Cleon Jones smacked a three-run homer and doubled home another run against the Dodgers. Rookie Nolan Ryan, staked to a 5-0 lead, was knocked out in the eighth inning but picked up his sixth victory in 11 decisions.

Possible Braking Problems

Smoothness of Roads Studied

By United Press International
One element of traffic safety which neither car makers nor motorists can do anything about is the highway.
Making safe highways is a job of government, federal and state and, in some cases, local, and this is government responsibility.
But it doesn't stop there. Highways must be kept safe. And one vital problem in safe highway maintenance is surfaces wearing smooth.
Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. has made a study of highways throughout the country and found that the smoothness of highways varies radically. They have found some highways that are so smooth they have no more friction than polished marble.
Now for the pavement surface. Take that same 20 percent improvement for a new tread design. Change the smoothness of the pavement only by a very slight degree, and the improvement again is canceled out.
RATING DEVELOPED
Firestone developed a coefficient rating for road surfaces ranging from 1 for what might be called the most perfect stopping surface obtainable, to zero for such an ultrasmooth surface that there would be virtually no stopping friction at all. It found American highways all over the country that ranged from .77 as the best stopping surface, down to point .20, which is the surface of polished marble.
Stair suggested State and Federal highway departments pay more attention to road surfaces when they build them, and then pay more attention to maintaining those surfaces with high traction capability throughout the life of the highway.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH
To overcome discomfort when dentures slip, slide or loosen, just sprinkle a little PASTETTE on your plates. PASTETTE holds denture firmer. You eat better, feel more comfortable. PASTETTE is alkaline, won't sour. Helps check plate odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly.

DANGER HIGH

No road builder would ever build a highway that smooth. But they do wear as smooth as that, and when these pavements become wet, the danger of going out of control when all four wheels lock on braking is enormously high.
C. E. Stair, manager of passenger tire engineering at Firestone says, "We believe that skid resistance on wet, slippery roads is a dominant factor in highway accidents."

"Where the tire meets the road" is more than a commercial slogan.
It is the only place where brakes and tires can reduce car speed and bring it to a stop and the third element, the friction surface of the road, is as vital as the friction capability of the tread and the proper condition of brakes.

EXTERNAL FACTORS

Stair lists three external factors in traction over which tire builders have no control and which completely overshadow what improvements tire makers can accomplish in tire tread design and rubber compounds to increase traction. They are speed, degree of slipperiness of

'Prone to Force'

RAISING THE FLAG — A U.S. Marine erects a makeshift flagstaff with the Stars and Stripes on it as his comrades watch on a hill six miles south of the Khe Sanh combat base. The Marines, part of a relief force that arrived on the hill to evacuate the bodies of 19 of their comrades, found the flag on one of the dead. The flag was flown during the evacuation operation.

Youth Centers Set for Military Posts

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON — Children of Army personnel and of civilians living on military posts will have both a headquarters and supervision for their leisure activities, thanks to a new program being launched by the Army.

Youth centers will be set up to cater to the youngsters' needs, with civilians hired by the Army and volunteers staffing the installations. Construction of such centers is scheduled at posts both overseas and in this country, and it will be up to each post commander to work out details to fit his own local situation.

BAULCH

The government will pay part of the bill, but money will also be raised through donations, youth center sales, thrift shop contributions and dues or nominal charges for such activities as dances, package shows and dancing classes.

Children from the ages of 6 to 19 will be eligible, but exceptions may be made for special events.

Self-directed activity will include reading, archery, table tennis, swimming, billiards, fishing, hiking, bicycling, badminton and chess. Activities in which direction and instruction will be offered include team sports, tours, field trips, youth clubs, crafts, drama, music, dance and social activities and special interest groups such as stamp and coin collecting and sewing and homemaking.

The Army is giving more status to its four grades of specialists in relation to their counterparts in the noncommissioned officer ranks — the corporals and various grades of sergeants. They are assured the same privileges, such as membership in noncommissioned officer clubs, which some actually have at many posts already.

The situation has been that all specialists were placed in order of precedence in between private first class and corporal. This often meant that a three-stripe specialist had to take orders from a two-stripe corporal.

Knocked out of the regulations is the paragraph: "Under no circumstances will a specialist be granted any prerogatives or privileges that would be detrimental to the prestige of a noncommissioned officer, nor will any specialist be placed in such a position that he would be required to execute orders over a noncommissioned officer in the Army."

So now the Army is putting the specialist in the same precedence as his pay grade counterpart in the noncommissioned officer rank, but at the tail end of his grouping. This instance, a specialist 7 serving with sergeants first class will be above corporals and staff sergeants and sergeants first class.

The new regulations specify too that "specialists will not be utilized in roles on fatigue and guard duty in positions subordinate to personnel of lower pay grades."

Army specialists have long had equality in combined commands which included Navy, Marine or Air Force enlisted personnel.

The Florida firm that is authorized to manufacture and sell service flags notes that it now has a one-star service flag which churches may display to denote one or more members are serving in the Armed Forces. It is an 8-by-15-inch white banner with gold color spear ends, cord and tassel.

The firm suggests the pastor may want to announce or list in his church publication how many of his congregation in the military the flag represents.

When it took me over a year to find out how many points I had earned over the years I spent in the reserve I asked the commanding officer at the Army Administration Center in St. Louis why it took so long for answers.

The commander, Col. B. E. Babcock, explained: "An unusually large number of requests for statements of service and retirement point credits have been received by the center in recent months. Every effort is made to furnish accurate statements and accounting of retirement points."

"In many instances it is necessary to obtain information from sources other than the official military personnel file to verify creditable service. If in the examination of the records it is found that the retirement point information is incorrect or incomplete, detailed information such as the date of meetings, drills and active duty, must be obtained. This involves considerable time and effort."

Congress has completed action on legislation making it a federal crime to make obscene, abusive or harassing telephone calls across a state line or within the District of Columbia.

The measure grew partly out of harassing calls received by families of servicemen in Vietnam and elsewhere.

Violations of the law would be punishable by imprisonment for up to six months and a fine of $500. One action prohibited is causing a person's telephone to ring repeatedly only to have the party calling hang up when the phone is answered.

Maddox Poll 'for Wallace'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A straw poll, based on the campaign buttons worn to the Georgia governor's mansion, gives presidential candidate George C. Wallace the most supporters, Gov. Lester Maddox said Sunday.

Maddox has been conducting the informal poll for three weeks while shaking hands with the lines of people attending his Sunday open house.

The governor said no one was asked his preference. Instead, the poll was limited to people who volunteered a preference or wore a campaign button for a particular presidential candidate.

Of the 1967 model cars sold in this country, 85 per cent had automatic transmissions, V-8 engines and radios, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reports.

BERRY BARGAIN—A Strawberry patch in the Kalamazoo area outdid itself when it produced this berry measuring 8 and 7/16 inches around. Mary Appleby, 12, also holds a more conventional-sized berry, both of which were in a box her mother purchased at a Grand Rapids store.

Truce Hasn't Ended Korea War, 18 Today

SEOUL (UPI) — No shrilling bugles prod human wave attacks, and Pork Chop Hill is devoid of all but bloody memories. Yet the Korean War, 18 years old tomorrow, has never really ended.

Men still die by bullets and grenades despite a declared truce.

After nightfall on Jan. 21, 31 North Korean commands entered Seoul and got within a mile of President Park's official residence before police engaged them. The North Koreans, all officers, were forced to retreat. All but two eventually were hunted down and killed. One survivor was taken alive.

PUEBLO SEIZED

Two days later the North Koreans seized the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo off the port of Wonsan, claiming the American vessel had violated North Korea's territorial waters. One crewman was killed.

The Pueblo and its 82 living crew members were taken to Wonsan, where they are still believed held captive. One crewman has since been reported dead.

The United States rushed the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise and other warships into the Sea of Japan. The North Koreans ignored the warning and the Enterprise and escorts soon left for the Tonkin Gulf off North Vietnam.

Such invasions persist even today. But they consist of highly trained killer squads whose chief weapon is surprise.

One North Korean band sneaked into Seoul on Jan. 21 and came close to assassinating South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

HOSTILE ACTS

The United Nations Command reported 445 hostile enemy acts in 1967 and 140 through the first week of June this year.

In 1967 the world body's truce-guarding force had 131 men killed, 16 of them Americans. Most died in ambushes by North Koreans who infiltrated south of the demilitarized zone set off by the 151-mile-long truce line guarded by 50,000 Americans and 550,000 South Korean troops. More than 200 North Koreans were slain.

Five Americans and three South Koreans have died so far this year. Another 22 Americans and 50 South Koreans were wounded.

U-M Professor to Use Vegas Casino as Lab

CARSON CITY, NEV. (UPI)—A University of Michigan professor is going to use a Las Vegas gambling casino as his research laboratory to study how humans make decisions in risky situations.

The Nevada Gaming Commission Friday approved the project which was conceived by Ward Edwards, head of the University of Michigan's Engineering Psychology Laboratory at Ann Arbor.

The game to be played is essentially a form of roulette to be installed free in the Four Wainwright in the Four Queens Casino in Las Vegas. Sunday in an auto accident R. Ward explained a television three miles south of here.

screen will be used on which a player will be given a list of choices on how he wants to bet. The gambler will push a button and will be able to bet up to $300 on his selection.

The dealer will then spin the roulette wheel to determine if he wins or loses.

The game itself will be hooked up to a computer to record the information. When completed, Ward and others will evaluate it and report the results in scientific journals.

The game is being financed through a private foundation.

And the winnings will be donated at the end of the experiment to the Home of the Good Shepherd in Las Vegas, a Catholic institution for wayward girls.

"This project will not be a study of gamblers or gambling," Ward said. "It will study risky decisions in a realistic setting."

IDEA BEHIND STUDY

"The idea behind the study is that every human decision depends on judgments of the stakes and odds. The stakes are the values of what can be won or lost. The odds depend on the probabilities of each possible outcome."

Michigan Soldier Is Killed in Crash

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, and Relieves Pain of Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special) One of the most tormenting afflictions is the burning itch caused by piles. It's most embarrassing during the day and especially aggravating at night. "Scratching" only makes the condition worse. No matter what you've tried without results—here's a good news.

A scientific research institute discovered a special medication which has the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In case after case, Preparation H promptly stops the burning itch, relieves pain—as it gently reduces the swelling. Preparation H also lubricates, gently soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Conflict of Purposes Keeps U.S., N. Viet at Odds in Paris

PARIS (AP) — The dispute discussions. Their theme has been that in spite of the North Vietnam over whether they are making progress in the Vietnam peace talks springs from their basic conflict of purposes at this stage of the negotiations.

North Vietnam is still trying to maneuver President Johnson into granting a new concession by putting an end to all attacks on North Vietnamese territory.

The United States is trying to maneuver Hanoi into making a concession of its own by curtailing infiltration of troops into South Vietnam.

Public opinion all over the world, but especially in the United States, is regarded by each side as a weapon to be used against the other in this struggle.

PESSIMISM A LEVER

Hanoi, speaking through Ambassador Xuan Thuy and the rest of its negotiating team, obviously regards pessimism as its most effective public opinion lever.

The theme which Thuy and his spokesmen have been sounding for weeks is that the talks are making no progress because the United States refuses to stop attacking North Vietnam. The way to move toward peace, they argue, is to end the attacks.

On the other hand, U.S. officials have emphasized every indication of movement in the

School Money Issues in State Mostly Passed

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Nearly one-third of all public school districts in Michigan held school finance elections June 10, and most of the millage proposals were approved by the voters, statistics showed.

The Michigan Education Association said voters approved 177 tax proposals for operations and rejected 75. In voting on the school construction programs, 18 proposals were approved and five rejected, the MEA said.

The organization's figure for Jan. 1-June 15 showed that so far this year, 279 operational millage proposals were approved and 159 defeated, while for the heavy casualties suffered by school construction proposals were approved and 17 rejected, the MEA said.

Both assessments are based on what has been happening in Paris since the meetings started May 13. There has been much talk but no progress on the question of how to de-escalate the war; there has been some progress in U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman's effort to develop a cordial, informal relationship with Thuy. Harriman believes this will enable them in coming months to explore secretly the issues of a compromise peace.

DIFFERENCE ERUPTS

The difference in interpretation of these two lines of development erupted into open disagreement Friday.

U.S. Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford had said Thursday there were "bits and straws" which indicated "some movement" at Paris. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told newsmen in Washington he agreed with Clifford. Harriman, leaving for Washington Friday, said "Some progress is being made by bits and straws."

North Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le told a news conference in Paris, however, that the talks are "marking time." He said the "absence of progress" was due to the refusal of the United States to end all attacks on North Vietnam so that other subjects could be discussed here.

Behind this propaganda battle lies the hard fact that what is ultimately at issue is a question of military advantage.

AN ADVANTAGE

President Johnson has said that the bombing of the North Vietnamese panhandle destroys about 20 per cent of the Communist infiltration of troops and supplies into the South. To end the bombing would, by U.S. estimate, give North Vietnam an important military advantage.

On the other hand the United States, from the North Vietnamese point of view, would gain an advantage of great importance if Hanoi substantially curtailed its infiltration into the South.

Bridge Near Saigon Costs Lives, Sweat

PHU CUONG, Vietnam (AP) figured would pay off in many ways. The bridge cost nine lives and nine months' sweat. The American engineers built it in the last although everyone knows it's the biggest target for miles around.

The site is on the main Vietcong infiltration route to Saigon just 18 miles to the south.

To put a 1,000-foot concrete and steel bridge across the Saigon River at this point was obviously a gamble — but a Vietnamese post commanding the northern anchor of the span.

THEY'RE FIGHTERS

To protect his bridge, Adams led an infantry assault last February when the Vietcong captured the South Vietnamese post.

His pickup platoon of about 25 men included cooks and anybody who could be hastily assembled. One was ruddy-faced Sgt. Harold Murphy, 21, a welder from Norfolk, Va., who was supposed to go on leave that morning.

"Engineers are fighters too," Murphy recalls, "but I'll tell you, I didn't think I was going to make it home for a while."

Two engineers were killed and five wounded but the rest were back at work the next day.

"We're sort of proud of that bridge," said S. Sgt. Richard Turcoy, Grafton, West Va., at 34 a relative old-timer. "These kids have learned to do everything."

WELCOME JOB

There are about 30,000 Army engineers in Vietnam. Their jobs are frequently un glamorous, so a big bridge is a welcome assignment. This one is the biggest permanent span built by Army engineers in Vietnam.

Apart from the Vietcong, the bridge was a technical challenge. There is no bedrock foundation in the ancient delta. More than six miles of piling was put in, and the bridge sort of floats on mucky soil.

To complicate the job, delta tides shift as much as 10 feet daily and the temperature tops 100 most of the day.

EXPERT HELP

Although they obviously had expert help and plans, most of the men working there—a port construction company from the 2nd Engineer Battalion — were relative amateurs.

"I never dreamed I would be a bridge builder," said Adams, who entered the Army after two years at Baldwin Wallace College, went through Officer Candidate School and Army engineer training and admits he learned on the job.

To guard against frogmen trying to blow the bridge, special protection has been built around the piling, and other precautions have been taken. Massive bunkers at both ends guard against ground attacks.

The span will save the Army thousands of dollars daily — and save countless Army truck drivers lots of sleep. It enables trucks from the big supply bases east of Saigon to pass the capital on the way to U.S. installations north and west of the city. Drivers who used to get up at 3:30 a.m. for the daily convoys will soon be able to luxuriate in bed until, say, 6:30 a.m.

Pace Picks Up on Campaign Trail

'NOT PAINLESS' — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says "Poverty cannot be ended until power and responsibility are democratically shared" and added "It is not going to be painless."

ENDORSES NIXON — Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon endorses Richard Nixon for president. Hatfield said he believes Nixon is the man "who can lead us out of Vietnam."

LEADING GOP CANDIDATE — "Nixon's the One" proclaims a gigantic poster at a recent rally in Chicago. But the rally was for Richard Nixon's nearest Republican rival —

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York. Nixon has refused any direct confrontations with Rockefeller.

CONFEDERATE FLAGS WAVE — Third party presidential candidate George Wallace is framed by Confederate flags fluttering in the breeze as he arrived recently in Baton Rouge, La., where he addressed a joint session of the Louisiana Legislature.

Skeleton Remains Of Popular Lee's Diner

Doomed Diner Will Be Restored

Lee's Diner is no more. The restaurant-on-wheels at 12 N. Perry has served the citizens of Pontiac since 1927.

But there were too many fond memories of Pontiac and its residents for the restaurant's original owner, August E. Kalohn of 801 S. Lapeer, Lake Orion, to let the remnants of his car be destroyed.

When the land was cleared to make way for a municipal parking lot, a son, Pete J. Kalohn of 794 Markdale, Lake Orion, salvaged what was left for his father. Now 81, the senior Kalohn plans to completely rebuild and restore his dining car on its original frame.

The first structure, painted white with a black roof and lettering, was 30 feet long, 10 feet wide, and had seats for 21.

OPEN 24 HOURS

Gus' Diner, as it was known until 1952, was open 24 hours a day. It offered early morning coffee to many police and firemen who worked out of the old station nearby at the corner of Perry and Pike.

One month after the diner opened in November 1927, Kalohn hired J. Lee Ellsworth to help out. Ellsworth of 147 Erie stayed on with the diner and took it over in 1952, when Kalohn sold him the business.

Renamed Lee's Diner, the restaurant continued to serve local shoppers and workers until May.

Speaking for his father, Peter said, "Pontiac and the dining car have been good to him. There are too many memories for him to be able to give it up."

DEMOLITION — A wrecking company clears the former site of a diner, a bowling alley, a bar and a sports trophy store at the southeast corner of Perry and Lawrence. The cleared area will become a city parking lot. Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is handling the project as part of a land swap with the city, in which Bell receives the parking area immediately south of its building at 54 Huron in exchange for the cleared land. The wrecking crew should be finished by the end of the month.

WARNS AGAINST VIOLENCE — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, said to have 47 of Michigan Democratic delegate votes, warned the National Press Club that the nation cannot let violence "run rampant in the world" anymore than in the cities of America.

Trading Slackens

Market Holds Moderate Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market maintained a moderate advance early this afternoon. Trading slackened from Friday's pace.

Gains outnumbered losses by over 100 issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.32 at 902.25.

The market was able to continue an uptrend despite the lack of much fresh incentive in the news, brokers said. A more eager and stabilized market may be in the making, it was noted, because of the passage of the tax increase-sending curb. Wall Street was still trying to evaluate the effects of this measure on profits and possible stock action.

CRISIS EASING

Signs that the internal crisis in France might be over were also in the background, lending added reassurance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 9 at 341.7, with industrials up 1.7, rails up 3, and utilities up 8.

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Westates Petroleum, up nearly a point, was the most-active issue. Leasco Data Processing rose about 4 and Reliance Insurance, 3. Leasco was reported planning a tender offer to acquire at least 51 per cent of Reliance.

General Cinema dropped more than 4 points. National General, Plant Industries and International Controls a point or so.

AFL-CIO Raps Unions on Bias

'Discrimination Still Big Negro Job Bar'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Racial discrimination remains a major barrier to Negroes hunting jobs, and labor union haven't done all they can to eliminate prejudice within their own ranks, the AFL-CIO said today.

But "this is not a time to give up, it is a time to fight harder" for equality, said George Meany, president of the 13.5 million-member labor federation.

Meany, in reports to a civil rights organization and the AFL-CIO magazine, The Federationist, said high unemployment or dead-end jobs for Negroes are a major cause of the nation's social disorder.

Meany's message to the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Atlantic City, N.J., also said that Negroes gain in education, housing and other areas have been "lagged everywhere."

The delay in making Negro equality a reality is disheartening "but to be disheartened is to be a defeatist," Meany said.

GM Reports Record Sales for June 11-20

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. reports dealer sales of its new cars in the United States during the second 10 days of June were a record 143,752, and the daily selling rate up 7.1 per cent over the same period last year.

Previous record for the June 11-20 period was set in 1965 when 124,845 new cars were sold in the same 1967 period.

There were nine selling days in the period this year and eight last year.

In the first 20 days of June, GM's new car sales were 259,038, breaking the record of 259,002 set in 1965, the industry's best year.

Sales of GM's commercial vehicles reached 46,265 in the first 20 days of June, an increase of 10 per cent over the 20.10 sold last year. They surpassed the record for the period of 40,881 set in 1966.

Sales figures were not reported this week by the other major auto manufacturers.

2 Pontiac Teens Struck by Boat While Skin Diving

A Pontiac teen-ager is in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after he and his brother were struck by a boat while skin diving yesterday afternoon in Waterford Township.

Thomas Graybill, 15, of 185 Oneida was hospitalized after allegedly being hit by a motorboat driven by Barbara Roden, 29, of 1471 Hood, near a dock on Elizabeth Lake.

Waterford Township police said his hand was nearly severed. His brother, James, 17, was treated at the hospital and released.

Institutions Outspeculate Individuals

Mart Warning off Target

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The warnings against speculation now being disseminated by brokerage houses are welcome and overdue. There is also a suspicion that they are to some extent misdirected at the small investor.

Little question exists that the CUNIFF public is speculating, but the professionals are showing them the way to do it. By a curious twist of emphasis, however, it seems that the public alone is at fault.

Why imply that the troubles of Wall Street are caused by public activity when this is a market of institutions of mutual and pension and hedge funds, banks, insurance companies and professional wheelers?

And just how effectively will the public be willed? But by driving out the public, the market is a market of institutions of mutual and pension and hedge funds, banks, insurance companies and professional wheelers?

This may be the best position for the ordinary investor right now, and perhaps brokers should be commended for advising it. But by driving out the public, the market is a market of institutions of mutual and pension and hedge funds, banks, insurance companies and professional wheelers?

Large blocks usually mean a million dollar transactions. The obvious rule for ordinary traders. And these big blocks have been crossing the ticker tape at a record rate, 75 of them on one day, June 13.

Last week the New York Exchange tabulations showed 53 big blocks on Monday, 39 Tuesday, 63 Thursday and 56 on Friday. Wednesday was a market holiday.

SLOWEST DAY

Monday was the slowest day for the institutions, but on that day alone their big blocks for totaled close to $23 million. In just one transaction, a trade of 157,000 shares of C.I.T. Financial, $6.28 million changed hands.

Control Data, more than 25 per cent of which is owned by more than 30 mutual funds, to say nothing of large holdings by other institutions, was heavily traded on that day. Three big blocks totaled 43,900 shares at prices from $156 to $165.12.

A particular cause of volatility seems to be the hedge funds, which essentially are private pools of wealthy investors that deal themselves in and out of the market quickly, sell short and take big risks.

The entire business of institutional activity now seems ready for review: its growth, the entrance of new players into the field, the effect on prices, the access to information, the effect on small traders, the influence on the administration of corporations.

The growth of institutions is a relatively new and somewhat lacking in the regulation many people feel is necessary. There is a wide quality to it all, as if the market were a brand new game for which the rules haven't been written.

The upcoming government blood of any young Negro is too much for some in the government on anonymous argument on some prices takes on more meaning anonymous sidewalk anywhere that that prices are volatile and volume heavy.

The executive director also is today's market is a brand new game for which the rules haven't been written. The upcoming government blood

Smothers Sub Looks Like Fun

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The

Smothers Brothers Sunday night introduced the CBS-TV variety series that will replace them for the summer and carry on with their irreverent contemporary format.

Tom Smothers, in fact, is the producer. And the series looks as if it will be one of the most enjoyable weekly summer entries in some time. The principals are singer-host Glen

Campbell, the superb humorist

Pat Paulsen, and Leigh French, who Sunday night offered a establishment as a hippie female newsreader.

Most of all, though, the premiere radiated a tone totally and distinctly apart from most of television's decrepit variety shows. For the major part of the hour, the viewer at least felt close to where modern entertainment is at — and once young Mr. Campbell smooths out his understandable slight perniciousness as a new host, the series may really be exceptional.

The decision of Tom and Dick

Smothers to appear on the first of these summer shows was extremely wise, for not only did they give the debut the benefit of their humor, but they also provided a logical and natural transition into the vacation series. In addition it indicated to their fans that things won't change much while they're away.

LOVELY DUET

Nancy Sinatra also was a premiere guest, and among her contributions was a lovely duet with Campbell — she singing "I Say a Little Prayer for You" as a counter-melody to his hit "By

The Time I Get to Phoenix."

Paulsen, meanwhile, was in great form. His "Reminis-cences" were a devastating comment on dull storytellers

Junior Editors Quiz on ANTIQUES

QUESTION: How come antiques are fancier than the things we have today?

ANSWER: Our pictures show three periods or styles which have affected the appearance of American houses, furniture and clothing.

The Colonial Period was before we had become an individual nation. At first, as in the picture, houses were severely simple but strongly built. Furniture was also simple but showed the touch of the craftsman. Such furniture is highly prized today.

As the new nation emerged furnishings became more elaborate. American styles after 1837, when Queen Victoria of England commenced her reign, were influenced by the old world and became highly elaborate. Houses were swamped in lace curtains, tassels and scroll-work furniture.

The Paris Exposition of 1925 introduced a new style, which we call modern. It was a rebellion from the scrollwork of the Victorian period, and introduced straight lines and open, undecorated areas.

Objects of modern style can be produced economically by mass manufacturing methods and seem more suitable to a machine age than Victorian fripperies. If a modern house seems a bit bare when you first move in, a bit of family life will soon warm it up (lower picture).

DONG HA, South Vietnam Marines killed 28 of the at to destroy this lot before they suited to the jungles and eight-invasion across the Demilitarized foot-high elephant grass around Zone again."

UPI photographer Nik Wheeler, in a recent report from Khe Sanh, said the Marines were killing two North Vietnamese for every Marine killed. This was described as an exceptionally low "kill ratio."

Part of the ever shifting focus of the Vietnam war has moved dramatically in recent weeks to this area just below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) — up to 7,500 men — jungles where heavy fighting raged last March.

Khe Sanh and its supply base at Dong Ha are key American outposts in the chain of allied defenses against North Vietnamese infiltrators through the DMZ and around it via the Ho Chi Minh trail winding through adjacent Laos.

For two weeks, nearly 6,000 American Marines have tried to pin down large elements of North Vietnam's battle-seasoned 304th Division. In most cases, Communist commanders have chosen the time and place for battle.

NIGHT BATTLES The bulk of the combat has been at night, and the action has usually started with a sharp North Vietnamese thrust against one of the scores of Marine outposts lining the heavily fortified Khe Sanh base. In most cases, a company of about 200 Communists has attacked with support from rocket crews.

The maneuver has been at least partially successful. The Marines have taken casualties.

In one attack, a North Vietnamese company killed 14 Marines and wounded 115. The Arab Women Pioneering in Medicine

By Science Service

The surgical mask has replaced the veil of reticence for many Arab women, even some desert nomads.

The second sex is pioneering in medicine and public health throughout the Middle East today, according to World Health Organization regional director Dr. A. H. Tab.

"The appearance of women health pioneers in Yemen's uplands and the assignment of female medical assistants in the Ethiopian bush are typical, significant current events," he says.

"Women are swelling the medical ranks in such countries as Iran and the UAR, where girl students now account for up to 14 percent of students, as against six percent in the U.S. and only slightly higher in Western Europe."

Number of Poor in U.S. Declines

While the "Poor Marchers" in Washington reap the headlines, the number of poor people in the United States actually decreased by 9 million between 1959 and 1966, according to the Social Security Administration. At the same time, the proportion of poor people whose earnings are below the poverty line is limited by age, in 1966, the number was 29.7 million.

The number of near-poor, however — those just barely above the poverty threshold — changed hardly at all during the seven years.

WINNERS—The new Miss Oakland County, Linda Sue Howe (right); is congratulated by the first runner-up, Aileen O'Connor, at the end of the three-day Miss Oakland County Pageant last night. The pageant, presented at the Oakland County Fair, is the first. Miss Howe will spend the year attending functions in her official capacity and will be entered as the county representative in the Miss Michigan contest in 1969.

Miss Oakland Honor Closes County Fair

The Oakland County Fair ended last night after crowning the first Miss Oakland County, brown-eyed-brown haired Linda Sue Howe of Holly Township.

Miss Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane E. Howe of 1119 S. Saginaw, was chosen over 10 other contestants during the three-day competition which concluded last night.

More than 125,000 persons attended the four-day fair, according to Dean A. Salley, fair cochairman.

Winner of the fair's grand prize, a Chevrolet Camaro, was Kirk Willard of 7387 Greenhaven, Clarkston. Willard, 16, will not have his driver's license before September although his parents will "keep the car running until then," according to Willard's sister, Lois.

WIN TUG-OF-WAR

A team from the Pontiac police force beat the Waterford police tuggers in a tug-of-war contest yesterday.

Pageant winner Miss Howe will spend the next year attending functions in her new role of Miss Oakland County. She also will be entered as the county's

Pontiac Sets Record for June 11-20 Sales

Pontiac Motor Division reported today that sales of Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds in the second 10 days of June were the highest for that period in the history of the division.

General Sales Manager Thomas L. King said June 11-20 sales totaled 26,475 units, surpassing the record of 24,696 cars sold for the same period last year by 7 per cent.

Voting Is Today on Fair Housing

The future of fair housing in Pontiac goes to the people today as 30,312 registered voters get their chance to endorse or reject the local ordinance. The polls are open until 6 p.m.

The open-housing law was approved earlier this year by the City Commission, but a petition drive calling for today's referendum election delayed implementation of the ordinance.

In effect, the local law would be the same as the state and national bills already passed. However, a local ordinance would bring the fair-housing policy closer to the people it directly affects by allowing local administration of its provisions.

"We want local control by local courts and agencies — people we have elected and who are responsible to us," said Dr. William Donnelly, head of the Pontiac Area Friends for Fair Housing.

POOBY PROPOSAL

The idea for fair-housing legislation in Pontiac was most recently proposed to the City Commission 10 months ago by Richard Northcross, president of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth.

Simply stated, an open-occupancy ordinance means you can buy, sell or rent a place to live if you have the funds or means to do so, Northcross said. It prohibits property owners from discriminating against prospective buyers or tenants on the basis of race, color or creed.

Identical ordinances have been passed by voters in Flint, Birmingham and Saginaw.

"We feel the time has come," Donnelly said, "for the white citizens of Pontiac to tell the black citizens where they stand with us."

HHH Urges Cease-Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says he hopes to talk to North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris this summer to learn prospects for a "settlement or accommodation" of the war. And Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has advocated an immediate cease-fire.

On the Republican side, California Gov. Ronald Reagan said Sunday it makes no sense to regard military victory in Vietnam as impossible, but GOP presidential aspirant Nelson A. Rockefeller said the only way to an honorable peace is through negotiations.

McCarthy, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he hopes to talk to North Vietnamese representatives during a Paris trip in July or early August.

But McCarthy said he does not plan to participate in peace negotiations in Paris or to offer a proposal there on settling the war.

POSITIVE ATMOSPHERE

Humphrey said an immediate cease-fire in Vietnam would create a positive atmosphere at the Paris peace talks and end "fight and talk" tactics.

Humphrey, during an interview with editors of the New York Times, said he would be prepared to offer a cease-fire "any hour of the day" but said Hanoi has shown no such interest.

McCarthy was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers." The Humphrey interview appeared in Sunday's editions of the New York Times.

The Gallup Poll, meanwhile, showed McCarthy now leading both the Republican contenders and Humphrey leading GOP candidate Richard M. Nixon but not Rockefeller.

Reagan, a GOP favorite son who says he is not a presidential candidate; criticized the Johnson administration for publicly ruling out use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

He also criticized the administration for indicating the war would not be escalated during peace talks.

New York Gov. Rockefeller said a negotiated honorable end to the war would not include a settlement that would result in a Communist government in South Vietnam.

Rockefeller was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Fans Stampede Killing 71 at Soccer Stadium

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Ignoring a loudspeaker warning that a gate was closed, hundreds of soccer fans stampeded as they tried to leave Argentina's largest stadium Sunday and trampled 71 persons to death.

Police said 83 persons, mostly men, were injured, many of them seriously.

It was Argentina's worst sports disaster and recalled the worst such in the history of sports, a stampede at a soccer match in Lima, Peru, in 1964 in which 328 persons were killed.

The Argentine tragedy occurred just at sundown on a chilly winter afternoon at Gate 12, one of the 24 entrance-exit gates around the Estadio Monumental, the 90,000-seat home of the River Plate Soccer Club.

SCORELESS TIE

The stadium was full for the match between River Plate and Boca Juniors, which ended in a scoreless tie. As the crowd began to leave a jam developed at Gate 12, because the one-way entrance turnstiles had not been removed there. Stadium officials said the fans were warned by loudspeaker not to leave by that gate.

The stampeding crowd swept away the turnstiles in their panic.

Most were Boca Juniors fans from the cheapest seats in the stadium. When the panic ended, the dead and injured were sprawled on the concrete staircases and ramp.

The police reported that many of the victims were suffocated.

Pontiac Area Misses Brunt of Thunderstorm

Thunderstorms with heavy electrical activity dropped 1.3 inches of rain on Pontiac residents last evening. The brunt of the storm, however, was vented over the Lansing and Kalamazoo areas where high winds downed power cables and uprooted trees.

This morning's partially cloudy skies will continue through tonight and tomorrow with the chance of occasional showers and thundershowers. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today, tonight and tomorrow 50.

Big De Gaulle Win Likely in French Vote

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's forces appeared headed today for an overwhelming majority in the French National Assembly after strong gains in the first round of the national elections.

Left-wing extremists warned that "the battle has only begun" as preparations began for the runoff elections next Sunday.

Frightened by the May weeks of student violence and nationwide strikes, the French people heeded de Gaulle's theme of "Gaullism or Communism" and elected 142 of his followers yesterday.

Gaullist candidates also were in favorable positions for the runoff elections in 150 other districts, indicating that the president and Premier Georges Pompidou might win a majority of more than 100 in the 487-seat assembly.

In the last assembly the Gaullists and their allies had a majority of only one. It was an unexpected triumph for the 77-year-old general who less than a month ago threatened to resign at the height of the national convulsion.

It was also a stinging defeat for de Gaulle's opponents of the center and left. Only 12 non-Gaullists were elected in the first round in Metropolitan France—6 Communists, 4 Centrists and two members of rightist parties. And in comparison with the vote in the first round of the 1967 general election, the Communists' percentage of the total vote dropped from 22.51 per cent to 20.03, the non-Communist Leftist Federation slipped from 18.96 to 16.50 and the Centrist Party of Modern Progress and Democracy declined from 12.34 to 10.64. The percentage for the Gaullists and their allies, the Independent Republicans, went up from 37.73 per cent in 1967 to 43.85. They also took 10 seats from other parties without losing any they held in the last assembly.

Riot, Fire Hits Prison in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A riot and fire struck the Ohio Penitentiary in downtown Columbus this morning. It is believed inmates may be holding hostages.

At least 100 highway patrolmen armed with rifles, shotguns and sidearms were being called to the old prison and the Ohio National Guard was alerted. The prison has 2,700 inmates.

City Safety Director Frederick Simon said, "There's a riot in there. There's a couple of fires inside the walls and a bunch of people are milling around."

'HAVING A RIOT'

An unidentified prison employee told a newsman he called his family and told them, "I'm okay. 'We're having a riot here.'"

Gov. James A. Rhodes and Maury C. Koblenz, chief of corrections for the state, were on the scene within minutes.

Koblenz said as soon as sufficient patrolmen arrived they would attempt to subdue inmates milling in the prison yards.

2-Car Crash Kills 3 Independence Teens

Three Independence Township teenagers were killed in a two-car collision in the township Saturday afternoon. The force of the crash was so great the car in which the three victims rode was torn in half.

The crash occurred at 2:30 p.m. on Dixie north of Andersonville Road, at the top of Waterford Hill, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Dead are Andrew C. Houck, 18, of 4540 Clarkston, driver of the northbound car, and two of his passengers, Mark Fearnow, 16, of 4733 Monterey, and Maribeth Jones, 16, of 5856 Mary Sue.

All three were dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital of severe injuries and shock.

Hospitalized in fair condition today is Janet Dougherty, 16, of 4816 Mohawk, Independence Township. She was also a passenger in the Houck car.

Driver of the southbound car was Michael W. Hanel, 18, of 3294 Frembes, Waterford Township. He and his passenger, Wayne Beutler, 17, of 3529 Frankman, Waterford Township, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Sheriff's deputies said the death car apparently went out of control and was skidding sideways in the southbound lane when it collided with the vehicle driven by Hanel. Houck was a June graduate of Clarkston High School. He had been working at the Fisher Body plant in Pontiac.

IN HIGH SCHOOL

The other two victims were students at Clarkston High.

Some witnesses had been questioned at the scene and others are being sought today, deputies said. Witnesses told deputies the Houck car and an unidentified car had been observed driving rapidly near the bottom of the hill, in what appeared to be a drag race, just prior to the fatal crash, deputies said.

Shantytown Permit Expires

Poor People to Provoke Arrests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign, defying a federal government order that it surrender its shantytown, mapped a march on the U.S. Capitol today to provoke mass arrests.

The official permit allowing the campaign demonstrators to live in their plywood settlement near the Lincoln Memorial ran out at dusk yesterday after a day of unrest and disorder that brought a barrage of tear gas fired by police into the camp in an early morning encounter.

The deadline pushed the Poor People's Campaign toward a crisis similar to the Depression era incident when federal troops were used to disperse the encampment set up by the Bonus Army marchers.

"This is a jail-without-bail program we are embarked on now," said the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the campaign. "We must be prepared for the worst."

CONFRONTATION

Federal authorities made no immediate move to evict the predominantly Negro protesters yesterday, but the mood of both sides left little doubt a confrontation was coming.

Police showered the camp with tear gas early yesterday, routing residents who fled, coughing and crying, to the base of the brightly lit Washington Monument seeking refuge from the fumes.

U.S. Park Police said protesters inside the camp were stoning cars and hurling burning torches at law enforcement officers. At least 15 canisters of tear gas were fired into the camp to disperse the crowd.

Polls Say Trudeau Heads for Clear-Cut Victory in Canada

TORONTO (AP) — On the eve of Canada's national election, the key appears to be Trudeauism.

Public opinion polls and newspaper surveys across the country say the Liberal party of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau is headed for a clearcut victory, largely due to the personality of Trudeau.

Unless the result is a last-minute upset, Canada will return to a majority government for the first time since 1962. Several surveys give the Liberals more than 150 of the 284 seats in Parliament, or 17 more than needed for a majority.

In the 1965 election the Liberals, under Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, fell three votes short of a majority, but Pearson was able to carry on with a minority government until he resigned on April 20 to turn the government over to Trudeau. Trudeau dissolved Parliament on April 23 and called for the new election.

BIGGEST CROWDS

Although the 48-year-old Trudeau and the Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield, 53, were both new to the national political scene in Canada, it was Trudeau who drew the big crowds across the country and stirred the younger set to near-riot fervor.

Tomorrow's election will be Canada's sixth in 11 years and it will be the first since 1958 which was not contested

In Birmingham Commission to Consider Rezoning

BIRMINGHAM — Public hearings on three requested rezonings are on the agenda for tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

In the principal hearing, the commission will consider reclassification of the area bounded by Ann, Lincoln, Floyd, George, Purdy and Landon to the city's new R-8, or town house, zoning category.

The planning board has recommended that the R-8 attached single-family zoning, first adopted by the commission in January without application, be utilized in the area, located immediately west of Woodward and midway between 14 and 15 Mile roads.

Linn Smith, chairman of the board, said the board believes the new zoning would allow for a unified development in the area, rather than the present three-classification patchwork.

POSTPONEMENTS

The hearing was previously scheduled for March 25 and April 29, but postponed both times at the recommendation of Planning Director William Brownfield.

Also scheduled for discussion is the proposed Brownell-Park streets extension, which if approved would become the east leg of Birmingham's "ring road," a planned loop around the central business district.

Assistant City Manager John F. Saeffe has reported that the value of property which would have to be acquired in the path of the proposed extension, which would run from Woodward north to Oakland, is estimated at $175,000.

That figure, Saeffe added, "does not include any costs for before and after appraisals, or court costs should direct negotiations to purchase fail."

A diagram of the proposed improvement will be displayed at the meeting.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. John N. Canavan, 6300 Gilbert Lake, will be Oakland County's unit chairman for residential campaigns in the 1968 Torch Drive.

Mrs. Canavan will be responsible for organizing and training volunteers to conduct house-to-house solicitations in Oakland County during the 20th annual United Foundation campaign.

The appointment was announced this week by Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard III of Grosse Pointe, 1968 co-chairman for tri-county residential campaigns.

Mrs. Canavan served as a Torch Drive division chairman for Beverly Hills from 1959-63 and for Oakland Hills in 1966. Last year, she was chairman of region 43, which includes Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Franklin.

In addition to the United Foundation, she is a member of the national sorority Delta Delta Delta, the Birmingham Panhellenic group and Pine Lake Country Club.

She received a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan.

BIRMINGHAM — Walter R. Denison, 615 Oakland, has been elected president of the Community House, a nonprofit organization which attempts to provide educational, cultural and social activities for the Birmingham-Bloomfield area.

Other newly elected officers are F. Charles Duryea, 939 Yarmouth, Bloomfield Township, vice president; William B. Yaw, 623 Hickory Heights, Bloomfield Township, treasurer; and Mrs. Henry M. Hogan Jr., 400 Dunston, Bloomfield Hills, secretary.

Teen's Death Blamed on Sniffing of Spray

LANSING (UPI) — A teen-aged boy found dead at a drive-in restaurant during the weekend apparently died from sniffing fumes from a first aid spray, police said today.

David Yorton, 17, was found dead Saturday night by two companions who returned to their car behind the drive-in. They told police they had been sniffing fumes from a first aid spray can and Yorton was still sniffing when they left the car minutes before.

Police said Yorton lived in Lansing but was originally from New Orleans, La.

U.S. Bombers Hit Cong Center Outside Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers today smashed a Viet Cong training center 13 miles from Saigon.

The B52s, have bombed closer to the capital only once. Last Feb. 13, at the height of the Viet Cong's Tet offensive on Saigon, they struck a suspected enemy troop concentration 10.5 miles north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said ground observers in the training camp area southeast of the capital reported that secondary explosions lasted for six minutes after the eight-engine bombers left the site. A secondary explosion means ammunition or fuel going up after the 500- and 750-pound bombs have exploded.

In the last two weeks, the B52s have flown nearly 100 missions within a 75-mile radius of the capital, trying to cut infiltration corridors from the Cambodian border and prevent enemy troops from massing for a threatened attack on Saigon next month.

Saigon was spared of any shelling for the third consecutive day today, but the Viet Cong shelled two airfields, a province capital and four government military posts.

It was the quietest night in two months in the capital and almost everywhere else in the country. U.S. sources said the enemy likely may be "laying back" to receive replacements, retrain, refit and resupply for fresh attacks.

Pacific Freighter Burns; 22 Rescued, 2 Missing

HONOLULU (UPI) — Fire raged out of control on the freighter SS North America in the Pacific last night and two crewmen were missing. Twenty-two others were rescued by another ship.

The Coast Guard said the 411-foot North America was ablaze and drifting "in good weather" 630 miles east-southeast of Honolulu.

"The fire is out of control and intensifying," an officer said. A Coast Guard rescue plane directed another freighter, the SS St. Paul, to the scene where it picked up 22 men in two lifeboats.

The two missing crew members were reported to have life jackets on, but weren't sure if they burned to death on the ship or are still out there somewhere in the water," the officer said.

Both freighters have Liberian registry. The St. Paul was bound for Yokohama. The destination of the North America was not immediately known.

The Coast Guard plane circled the two ships until darkness, then headed for Honolulu. The St. Paul stayed with the burning ship and searched for the missing men.

The Marine Exchange in San Francisco said the North America was owned by Atlantic Marine Inc. Her home port was Monrovia.

Reuther Asking Food for Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Auto Workers Union president Walter P. Reuther has asked Secretary of $500 million in food to the nation's poor. Reuther's recommendations were contained in a letter which was made public today.

Reuther, who is chairman of the Citizens Crusade Against Poverty, also informed Freeman of plans to establish a citizens monitoring system to check U.S. Department of Agriculture Food Programs in the nation's most poverty-stricken counties.

In his list of recommendations, Reuther asked that the commodity distribution programs be "radically" expanded by use of all of the Agriculture Department's Section 32 funds. He said the USDA has announced it would return $225 million in these funds for general appropriations at the end of June.

'FOOD NOW'

He also asked Freeman to use his emergency authority to supply food immediately to hunger counties where residents have not benefited fully from federal food stamp programs.

Changes in the food stamp program, including a provision for free stamps for those without income or available cash, lowering of food stamp charges, and simplifying eligibility requirements were requested by Reuther.

His also asked for immediate changes in the school lunch program to place lunches within reach of all by setting a price ceiling and guaranteeing free and reduced price lunches for impoverished children.

Mideast Fight Hurts 8

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli and Egyptian gunners fought across the Suez Canal cease-fire line with artillery, mortars and machine guns for 90 minutes Sunday and several buildings were reported set afire in Ismailia on the Egyptian side.

The fighting along a 20-mile front wounded six Egyptian soldiers and two Israeli soldiers, reports from the two sides said.

Rail Strike in Britain Chaotic Due to Worsen

LONDON (AP) — A go-slow strike by Britain railway workers threw this morning's rush hour into a chaotic tangle.

The strike started at midnight when 270,000 members of the National Union of Railwaymen (NUR), banned all overtime and rest day work in a pay dispute with the state-owned railroad.

Worst-hit service was the vast London commuter network.

Britain's sixth rail slowdown in 18 months was expected to worsen almost at the outset with the threat that a second rail union would join the dispute.

REJECTS BID

The NUR rejected the bid demanding a raise for all its members before negotiations began on productivity improvements.

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Hoogerhyde of Chippewa Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Lynne, to John Clifford Peters of Chicago, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Holloppeter of Clearfield, Penn. The bride elect is a senior at Western Michigan University, her fiancé's alma mater. Vows are slated for January 1969.

The Robert E. Fields of South Avery Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Louise, to Randall J. Mulberger, son of the Jay G. Mulbergers of Columbus, Ohio. Dec. 14 vows are slated by the couple, both seniors at Michigan State University.

Son Must Make Own Decisions

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged mother. My son is 28. He has been given the finest education, and good moral training, along with all the better things of life. My problem concerns his morals which embarrass me greatly. He is already supporting two children out of wedlock and is presently going with a young woman from a good family. She has her own apartment and my son has spent the night there several times and thinks nothing of it. He is taking up this marriageable young woman's time and seems genuinely fond of her, so I asked him why he doesn't marry her. He replied, "I do not intend to marry anyone as I'm not the marrying kind."

I tried to tell him that a decent man should have a wife and family.

Please comment on this in your column as I know he reads it. Maybe you can help solve this problem.

DEAR EMBARRASSED: The problem is not HIS — it's yours. You seem unwilling to accept the fact that your son is a grown man and must take the responsibility for his own actions.

I realize that it is embarrassing for you, but there is nothing you can do about it. Eventually he may change his philosophy and his way of living. I hope he does, more for his sake than yours, but if he does, it won't be because his

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I agree with you totally that children should be taught to come home at mealtime and at dark. You should also emphasize in your column that a mother need only say to young visitors, flirting and with a smile, "Time for you to go home now, Betty. It's time for our supper."

Children appreciate honesty and are usually glad to go along with house rules if they are clearly stated in a friendly manner. — Mrs. Trotter.

Dear Mrs. Trotter: Thanks to you for pointing out my omission. You are quite right, most children respond to friendly, but firm, instructions and the imposed-upon neighbor can generally take care of the problem in just this way.

WISHES TO SING

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning a July wedding and wondered if it would be proper for me to sing a song to my husband at the reception. I have taken classical voice lessons. — Marge

Dear Marge: Sing to your husband before your wedding, during your honeymoon or any other time you wish — but not at your wedding.

OUT OF HAND

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper thing for a mother-in-law to be to have an enormous shower for her son's bride-to-be? In this particular case, there have been at least five showers already. Isn't this somewhat getting to be a racket? — Fed-Up

Dear Fed-Up: Except in very special circumstances, it is not in good taste for the immediate families of the bride or groom to give a shower. And when a girl has already had several showers, friends should not be asked to come up with yet another gift.

Nothing You Can Do About It

mother (or I) gave him a lecture on "morality."

DEAR ABBY: Six months ago my fiancé left for Vietnam. I promised I'd wait for him. I am the only place ever go is to the over week and I am with a bunch of women.

Here is my problem: When Rick (fake name) left, I weighed 118. Now I weigh 140! I am home every night and I can't seem to stay out of the refrigerator. I eat out of boredom and nervousness. I stocked up on diet foods and drinks, which I enjoy in addition to everything else in sight.

Rick writes, "In seven months I'll be coming home to my little girl." He should only know. Please help me.

DEAR GIRL: Get acquainted with "OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS." Compulsive eaters suffer from the same type of illness (and it IS an illness) that compulsive drinkers suffer from, and the members help each other.

For information about OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS, write P.O. Box No. 3372, BEVERLY HILLS, CAL. They have chapters all over the country. I've heard from many for whom "O.A." has done wonders. Perhaps it can do the same for you. Good luck.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. G.: No man "gets" mean when he drinks. He IS mean to begin with, but he manages to cover it up in his more sober moments.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Always Called Her Dad's 'Queen' — She's Our Miss Michigan Now

MUSKEGON (AP) — "If she hadn't won the pageant, she still would have been my queen," said Bernard Kurant, a Muskegon Building contractor whose daughter moments earlier had been crowned Miss Michigan of 1968.

The 19-year-old, blue-eyed Darlene Joyce Kurant, Miss Muskegon County, whose hobby is raising Siamese cats, was chosen by judges from a field of 46 contestants Saturday at the pageant in Muskegon's L. C. Walker Arena before a near capacity crowd of about 6,000. Her talent was a humorous reading. "She always has been interested in beauty and talent contests," said Darlene's mother who made all four costumes worn by her daughter in the pageant, including the blue, green and gold metallic A-line evening gown.

The 112-pound, 5-foot-5 brunette, with a 35-22-35 figure, will represent Michigan in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City, N.J., in September.

First runner-up in the Miss Michigan pageant was Miss Detroit, Pamela Eldred, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eldred of Birmingham; second runner-up was Miss Bay County, Teresa Sue Vogel, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vogel of Bay City.

Other finalists were Miss Michigan Winter Sports Queen, Mary Lou Swieg, of Saginaw; and Miss Ann Arbor, Mary Louise Paxton, of Traverse City.

Miss Congeniality was Miss Mount Clemens, Kathy Marie Lucas of Mount Clemens.

Miss Kurant is the youngest and the only girl in a family of three children.

Fashion World of the Small Fry Set Miniature Tintype of Mom's Wardrobe

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that their mothers have given the baby doll dresses back to the babies, the kids seem to be willing to take some fashion lessons from their elders.

Or so it seemed Friday when a dozen dolls toddled down the runway showing off the fall collection by children's wear manufacturer Joseph Love.

It may be a part of an industry-wide struggle to return to the status quo, a trend which has become evident during the New York Couture Group's press previews.

On some occasions the fashion pendulum took such a vehement swing that the tykes appeared to have stepped out of Victorian tintypes. Prim, white-stockinged concoctions were these misses in fluffs of pastel cotton and white satin waist sashes.

But generally the future heartbreakers were neat, well-behaved abbreviations of their mothers in adaptations of their mother's wardrobes.

Beulah, 7, even wore little blue and white striped pants that she carried a bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

Argyle, 5, even wore a little blue and white striped pants that she carried a bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

sound like adult fashion talk but it is nursery school language: now, cotton, shifts with night-shirt tails, chain belts, McMillan jewelry, Russian cosack dresses with peasant headbands, rajah shifts and shawl dresses are more adult fashions dwarfed for the children's beginners.

The same democracy practiced in many styles — and demonstrated in a denim style show earlier in the day — has filtered down to daughter.

Just as a man wears the locomotive engineer's jacket and slacks and the farmer's overalls, this fall her child has a choice of the rancher's or the cobbler's garb in her size.

LEATHER

The antique leather vogue is not exclusively the province of the mature either. The Love collection for little ones of the leather look up in antique brown, as well as white, red and a lot of other bright colors.

Newlyweds Feted at Elks Temple

A reception in the Elks Temple followed the marriage Friday of Ann Frances Pierce and Gerald Edmund Stoczynski.

For the evening rite in St. Basil's Catholic Church, the bride, wearing a floor-length gown of pearl and silk with short sleeves and chapel train, accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Mary Ann Kuran, carried a bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

The newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to Miami Beach.

Bridal Vows Announced

Newlyweds, the Richard Allen, (nee Jacqueline Carol Hellerich) departed for a honeymoon trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, following vows Friday in St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church.

For the early evening ceremony, the bride chose a modified cage of point d'esprit fashioned with a portrait neckline of Venetian lace and matching cathedral train.

To secure her court veil of silk illusion, she chose a matching lace crown, Cascading Cattleya orchids with white Sweetheart roses and Stephanotis made up her bouquet.

Mrs. Michael Krellwitz was matron of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Williams of Bloomfield Hills.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael E. Marr, Lorraine Williamson, Diane Cooley.

MRS. RICHARD COLE

BEST MAN

Best man honors for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merwyn Cole of Clinton, Iowa, were performed by Andrew S. Plak. The usher corps was comprised of Richard Barrett, William Bryant, William Hickock, Dean W. Bell and Lawrence Siferd.

A dinner reception at the Oakland Hills Country Club preceded the couple's honeymoon departure.

Schultz-Brendel

Cheryl Dawn Brendel was escorted to the altar of Grace Lutheran Church Saturday where the Rev. Otto G. Schultz heard an exchange of vows uniting her and his son, Stephen Christian.

DREAMS COME TRUE FOR BRIDES-TO-BE

New Bridal Registry

Thanks to a new and unique photographic registry service initiated this week by C. R. Hoskell Studios, many brides and brides-to-be will now be able to have their complete wedding photographs and albums given to them as wedding presents.

C. R. Hoskell

How often it has been said, "I'm not having wedding photos taken, it's beyond us right now." Yet, the very thing the young bride forsakes in the beginning is the one thing that remains forever, bringing memories of that wonderful day each time photographs are viewed.

Now through "Wedding Photography Registry" a prospective bride can call C. R. Hoskell Studios on University Drive in Pontiac and engage a photographer to cover the wedding day festivities. At the same time, she can select the style of wedding photography she prefers - Natural color; the album; wall - hung paintings, frames, etc.

As a gift, C. R. Hoskell provides each of his brides a Wedding Guest Book, a portrait for the newspaper and even rice conveniently packaged for the guests to throw at the happy couple when leaving the church.

Mr. Hoskell has also available at special discount prices, invitations and napkins and often quilts. "We supply everything but the Bridegroom!"

Why not call C. R. Hoskell Studio now at 334-0553 and reserve your wedding date, or stop in at 1 University Drive, Pontiac.

MRS. STEVEN SCHULTZ

Carrying a bridal bouquet of long-stem white roses, Miss Brendel was gown in an A-line silhouette of ivory organza, accented with peau d'ange lace bodice. A petal headpiece, frosted with pearls and crystals, securing a veil of chapel length, completed her look.

ATTENDANTS

Honor attendants for the evening ceremony were the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert E. Davis, as matron of honor with Michael E. Schultz performing best man honors for his brother.

Mrs. John A. Watson, Mrs. Raymond E. Huglin and Mrs. Frank Krajenka were bridesmaids with Jonathan S. Schultz, Daniel P. Aho and Robert L. Brendel ushering.

Following the ceremony, the daughter to the Carl J. Brendels of Davisburg and the son of Rev. and Mrs. Otto G. Schultz of North Palm Beach, Fla., received guests in the fellowship hall of the church.

A full-length Madonna-style mantle of silk illusion and Alencon lace highlighted the wedding gown of Phyllis Aileen Stephenson, M.D., for her marriage Saturday to Frank William Moreau, M.D.

The word from many leading hairstylists is that the curly hair style should refill this.

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Stephenson of Lancaster, Ohio. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lawrence Hubbard, of Ada, Ohio, Carmel Morehart, of Akron, and Mrs. Miles Metcalfe of Columbus.

The bridegroom's brothers, Thom Moreau of Bradenton, Fla. and John J. Moreau of Pontiac, served as best man and usher. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Moreau of Sarasota, Fla. and Pontiac.

Dr. Leo Wasserberger of Pontiac and John D. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, Ill., completed the bridal party.

A reception at the bride's sorority house, Zeta Tau Alpha, on the Ohio State University campus followed the vows.

ACLU Is Urged to Condone Violation of a Valid Law

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — October. The board can accept or reject the recommendation. The American Civil Liberties Union is being called upon by its National Conference to adopt a policy which would condone "violation of an admittedly valid law" as a method of expressing political or social opinion.

Delegates recommended adoption of the broadened policy Sunday by the ACLU's board of directors at its next meeting in statutory right of individual access to the courts.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The conference recommended that its national board name a special committee to examine the right of self-determination by the black community.

Specifically, delegates said the committee should consider:

First, the right of minority groups to choose separate living arrangements in publicly supported buildings, including university dormitories; second, the right of minority individuals to "choose styles of life that lead to assimilation, intergration, separatism or coexistence," and third, protection in the lower courts of militant organizations from harassment and extra-legal administration of law.

Other resolutions adopted regarding the urban crisis included:

1. Guaranteed income as a matter of right.
2. Stronger programs of legal protection for those who live in the ghettos, including a provision that such individuals not be required to accept legal counsel not of their own choosing and not answerable to them.
3. New techniques for making police more responsive to the people they serve and improvement of civil liberties protection in criminal courts of first jurisdiction.

9 Youngsters Claim Bike Pedaling Record

COHOCTAH (UPI) — Nine youngsters in this small Livingston County community are claiming a new world's record — pedaling the same bike for 126 hours.

Working in shifts that began at noon last Monday, the youngsters, aged 11 to 15, pedaled around the small town over a predetermined route. By 6 p.m. Saturday, they claimed the new mark, bettering one they say was 120 hours in Bombay, India, in 1933.

During their long trek, their mothers kept a constant watch and boosted their spirits with encouragement and sandwiches. The only stops lasted only a few seconds as they switched riders.

So intent were they to set the new mark, the boys didn't halt their assault on the record even when torrential rains fell Friday night.

Athleticism Marks Some Neurotics

By Science Service

As a group, neurotic men appear to differ sharply from their healthy counterparts on a trait called athleticism, reports Scotland's James Crawford Little, director of clinical research at Crichton Royal Hospital in Dumfries.

Of 72 neurotics studied at the St. James Hospital in Leeds, England, 36 per cent had displayed an excessive devotion to physical prowess. Only 9 per cent of the men in a healthy group had such exclusive concern with their bodies.

An even larger number of the neurotic men — 42 per cent — displayed opposite traits: They had shunned sports and physical activity in general all their lives. These men were relatively introverted and unsocial, said Dr. Little.

Of the two groups, the athletic types had the worse prognosis, he said. Although they were highly extroverted and lacked a history of emotional trouble, in three-fourths of the cases a minor illness or injury set off a serious crisis, sending many into "crippling personal and social maladjustment for years despite intensive treatment."

Nixon-Rocky State Split Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Sunday that Michigan's delegation to the Republican presidential convention would be pretty much split between Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after the first ballot.

The delegation, he said, is pledged to support Gov. George Romney on the first ballot. Romney, he said, would be placed in nomination.

"He is doing a very effective job, I would say, of holding the Michigan delegation together and uncommitted as to what they would do on the second ballot, if there is one," Griffin said. "I would guess, though, that our delegation is perhaps pretty much split between Nixon and Rockefeller after the first ballot."

Griffin commented as a guest on the television program of for broadcast in Pennsylvania.

Shakes Head Over Ontario Beer, Trash in Toronto, Seaway

TORONTO (AP) — The garbage piled up in Toronto today, Ontario's supply of beer was threatened, and Canada's most important waterway was closed, all because of strikes.

The brewery strike-lockout in Ontario started a rush on liquor stores and hotels as supplies dwindled. About 2,700 brewery workers and warehousemen struck Friday for better wages and pension plans.

Government liquor stores reported most imported beer stocks were sold out. Hotels also reported a booming business. Hundreds flocked to a nonunion brewery 110 miles northwest of Toronto to stock up.

"They have been buying it like crazy," a liquor store spokesman said. "They don't care if it's 40 or 50 cents a bottle, or what price it is. They just want beer."

Many stores sold out Friday night.

Toronto residents felt the first impact of their garbage strike today as the 7,000 tons of garbage usually collected daily began to pile up around the city.

Streets Commissioner Harold Atyeo announced residents may dump carefully packaged refuse at 29 sites—24 of them parks. The 3,700 workers want a 20-per cent wage increase over two years. The city has offered 15 per cent.

In addition to the garbage men, the strikers include employees of the water and sewage plants and street maintenance

DENVER, Colo. (AP) —

Members of Denver's Negro community decided Sunday to hold a mass meeting and parade through downtown Denver streets Tuesday afternoon to call attention to grievances and make demands to city officials.

The decision, after an uneasy weekend in some areas of the city following the shooting early Saturday of a policeman and a Negro youth, was announced by State Sen. George Brown, D-Denver, the first Negro elected to the Colorado legislature.

Brown urged all of Denver's estimated 40,000 Negroes to attend the meeting and walk in the parade which will start and end in front of the Denver city and county building and will pass by police headquarters.

Brown said the Negroes would "answer indictments and insinuations against the black community," explain "what really causes riotous situations" and present "a series of important demands" to city officials.

1-Party Italian Cabinet Due

By EDWARD MAGRI
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — Premier-designate Giovanni Leone is expected to begin forming a minority cabinet today made up entirely of members of the Christian Democratic party.

A spokesman for Leone cautiously admitted that he Christian Democratic senator planned to go ahead in his attempt to put together a cabinet.

"Reporting to the president on the mandate he has received, Leone will presumably accept alliance with the Christian Democrats."

President Giuseppe Saragat asked Leone to try to launch a one-party government after the Socialists refused to reverse their decision to stay out of the government. Stung by a serious setback at the general election in May, the Socialists bolted the three-party center-left coalition which ruled Italy for the past five years.

Socialist party deputy secretary Giacomo Brodolini, in a speech Sunday, called on Leone to create "conditions for a positive development of relations between the (center-left) parties."

After consulting with leaders from all parties Thursday and Friday, Leone worked on his cabinet lineup and platform over the weekend. Political circles said he plans to introduce his government to Parliament and seek a vote of confidence next week.

Leone has made clear he intends to continue along the policy lines followed by the former center-left alliance of Christian Democrats, Socialists and Republicans. The Socialists will decide at a party congress in July whether to resume their

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Weapons of war "have reached such a stage of perfection that further progress which would have any revolutionizing influence is no longer possible."

Before shouting with joy, or groaning with dismay, depending on your bent or investments, please note that this statement was uttered by the 19th century German Socialist Friedrich Engels apropos of the Franco-Prussian War (1870-1871).

Engels could not have been more wrong. In the next 40 years war-making man had invented the tank, machine gun, poison gas and the submarine.

Before a second 40 years was out he had invented the atom bomb, missile, super aircraft carriers, and many other items designed to destroy lives and property more efficiently than ever before.

WEAPONRY FORECAST

So when they asked D. G. Brennan to write a forecast of weaponry 50 years hence in 2018, he tried to avoid Engels' fault of lack of imagination.

Brennan, a mathematician and expert on national security problems, is a member of the Hudson Institute and editor of the International Journal of Arms Control and Disarmament Annual Review.

He did not fail to include, as likely items in the standard arsenal of 2018, such things as disintegrator ray guns, anti-gravity belts, rocket belts, and even hurricanes controlled or made by man and hurled at enemy fleets or lands.

Brennan's article on weapons of the future is Chapter 1 in a 13-chapter book, "Toward the Year 2018," edited by the Foreign Policy Association and published by Cowles Education Corp.

Among other things, Brennan foresees submarines operating at depths of 20,000 feet or more, and "underwater fortifications," fences, weapon centers, and so forth.

Brennan apologized in advance to the citizens of 2018 who may find him guilty of some spectacular omissions. After all, the United States alone is spending $7 billion a year on military research and development, and some surprises would not be surprising.

Among the developments which Brennan, if he lives to be 92, would not find surprising would be acquisition of nuclear arms by 30 or more nations, compared to the five which now possess them.

Fire Damages Area Building

A fire at a vacant building early this morning in White Lake Township caused an estimated $2,500 damage, fire department officials said.

The building, a one-story home in a residential area, is located at 268 Bramble Brae.

White Lake Township officials said they did not have the full name of the owner of the building.

Two township fire trucks were needed to squelch the 3 a.m. blaze.

U-M Professor to Use Vegas Casino as Lab

CARSON CITY, NEV. (UPI) — A University of Michigan professor is going to use a Las Vegas gambling casino as his research laboratory to study how humans make decisions in risky situations.

The Nevada Gaming Commission Friday approved the project which was conceived by Ward Edwards, head of the University of Michigan's Engineering Psychology Laboratory at Ann Arbor.

The game to be played is essentially a form of roulette to be installed first in the Four Queens Casino in Las Vegas.

The game itself will be hooked up to a computer to record the information. When completed, Ward and others will evaluate it and report the results in scientific journals.

The dealer will then spin the roulette wheel to determine if he wins or loses.

Michigan Soldier Is Killed in Crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — A Michigan soldier and his companion stationed at nearby Ft. Wainwright were killed early Sunday in an auto accident R. Wright, 21, of Davidson, Mich.

And the winnings will be donated at the end of the experiment to the Home of the Good Shepherd in Las Vegas, a Catholic institution for wayward girls.

"This project will not be a study of gamblers or gambling," Ward said. "It will study risky decisions in a realistic setting."

The idea behind the study is that every human decision depends on judgments of the stakes and odds. The stakes are the values of what can be won or lost. The odds depend on the probabilities of each possible outcome.

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, and Relieves Pain of Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special) One of the most tormenting afflictions is the burning itch caused by piles. It's most embarrassing during the day and especially aggravating at night. "Scratching" only makes the condition worse. No matter what you've tried without results—here's the good news.

A scientific research institute discovered a special medication which has the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Wash-ton, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this. And it was accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In case after case, Preparation H promptly stops the burning itch, relieves pain—as it gently reduces the swelling. Preparation H also lubricates, gently soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Conflict of Purposes Keeps U.S., N. Viet at Odds in Paris

PARIS (AP) — The dispute discussions. Their theme has been between the United States and North Vietnam over whether a deadlock slight progress has been made in laying the Vietnam peace talks springs groundwork for more serious from their basic conflict of future peace negotiations.

Both assessments are based on what has been happening in Paris since the meetings started into granting a new concession May 13. There has been much by putting an end to all attacks on North Vietnamese territory.

The United States is trying to maneuver Hanoi into making a concession of its own by curtailing infiltration of troops into South Vietnam.

Public opinion all over the world, but especially in the United States, is regarded by each side as a weapon to be used against the other in this struggle.

PESSIMISM A LEVER Hanoi, speaking through Ambassador Xuan Thuy and rest of its negotiating team, obviously regards pessimism as its most effective public opinion lever.

The theme which Thuy and his spokesmen have been sounding for weeks is that the talks are making no progress because the United States refuses to stop attacking North Vietnam. The way to move toward peace, they argue, is to end the attacks.

On the other hand, U.S. officials have emphasized every indication of movement in the

School Money Issues in State Mostly Passed

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Nearly one-third of all public school districts in Michigan held school finance elections June 10 and most of the millage proposals were approved by the voters, statistics showed.

The Michigan Education Association said voters approved 177 tax proposals for operations and rejected 75. In voting on the school construction programs, 18 proposals were approved and five rejected, the MEA said.

The organization's figure for Jan. 1-June 15 showed that so far this year, 279 operational Vietnamese troops now provide the main body of replacements proved and 189 defeated, while 39 school construction bond proposals were approved and 17 North Vietnamese forces fighting in the South.

Bridge Near Saigon Costs Lives, Sweat

PHU CUONG, Vietnam (AP) — The bridge cost nine lives and nine months' sweat. The American engineers built it to last although everyone knows it's the biggest target for miles around.

The site is on the main Vietcong infiltration route to Saigon just 18 miles to the south.

To put a 1,000-foot concrete and steel bridge across the saigon River at this point was almost captured the South obviously a gamble — but a Vietnamese post commanding gamble that the U.S. Command

His pickup platoon of about 25 men included cooks and anybody who could be hastily assembled. One was ruddy-faced Sgt. Harold Murphy, 21, a welder from Norfolk, Va., who was supposed to go on leave that morning.

"Engineers are fighters too," Murphy recalls, "but I'll tell you, I didn't think I was going to make it home for a while."

Two engineers were killed and five wounded but the rest were back at work the next day.

"We're sort of proud of that bridge," said S. Sgt. Richard Turcotte, Grafton, West Va., at 34 a relative old-timer. "These kids have learned to do everything."

unglamorous, so a big bridge is a welcome assignment.

This one is the biggest permanent span built by Army engineers in Vietnam.

Apart from the Vietcong, the bridge was a technical challenge. There is no bedrock foundation in the ancient delta. More than six miles of piling was put in, and the bridge sort of floats on mucky soil.

To complicate the job, delta tides shift as much as 10 feet daily and the temperature tops 100 most of the day.

Lansing Gets Ready to Welcome Nixon

LANSING (UPI) — Nixon-for-Republican national convention president backers are predicting about 2:30-4:30 p.m. following the 7:30 p.m. dinner, the former vice president when he will meet with members of the Nixon-for-President Committee, district chairmen and other top state party officials.

State Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, the Nixon Michigan campaign chairman, said delegations were expected by Gov. George Romney, the chartered bus to greet Nixon at head of the delegation as the Capital City Airport and to Michigan's "favorite son" can hear him speak at a fund-raising dinner that night.

Lockwood said the dinner, to raise funds for GOP legislative candidates, was a near-sellout, but that those not able to attend could be permitted to hear Nixon's speech at the Civic Center from balconies in the auditorium.

Nixon is due in Lansing about 1 p.m. Wednesday. He will meet with delegates to the ceremonies.

MAKE OVER IS PAGES

Mart Warning off Target

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The warnings against speculation on small investors and their purchases of 30 or 40 or 100 shares, the professionals traded in tens of thousands?

YEAR OF THE PRO
This is the year of the professional. On the American Stock Exchange more than 100 stocks are held by 100 or more institutions. And the percentage of trading by professionals on the New York Exchange is probably nearer one-half than one-third.

Some of the attitudes heard from brokers seem a bit sanctimonious in light of these figures. It's as if some of the community is afraid the fun will be spoiled if the small investor is hurt. Therefore, we should watch the game from the sidelines.

Why imply that the troubles of Wall Street are caused by public activity when this is a market of institutions: of mutual and pension and hedge funds, banks, insurance companies and free-wheeling professionals?

And just how effectively will the CUNIFF

little guy can brokers solve the problem of paper work and speculation?

Among the restrictions now being enforced by some brokers are: curtailment of solicitations; refusal to take new accounts for securities selling under $100; increases in the amount needed to open credit accounts; refusal to credit on purchases of low price stocks.

PROS UNAFFECTED
Professionals, with millions of dollars behind them and an urge and need to get some action, it simply will be unaffected by such measures. They will continue their very heavy buying and selling.

Stanley West, research director of the New York Exchange, late last week told a congressional committee that first-quarter volume was up only 3 percent but that large-block volume had soared 50 percent higher than a year ago.

Large blocks usually mean those of 10,000 shares or more — million dollar transactions.

This obviously rules out ordinary traders. And these big blocks have been crossing the ticker tape at a record rate, 75 of them on one day, June 13.

Last week the New York Exchange tabulations showed 55 big blocks on Monday, 39 Tuesday, 63 Thursday and 56 on Friday. Wednesday was a market holiday.

SLOWEST DAY
Monday was the slowest day for the institutions, but on that day alone their big blocks totaled close to $23 million. In just one transaction, a trade of 157,000 shares of C.I.T. Financial, $6.28 million C.I.T. financial shares.

Conrad Data, more than 25 percent of which is owned by some 30 mutual funds, is paying no large holdings by other institutions, was heavily traded on that day. Three big blocks totaled $390,000 shares at prices from $15 to $16.12.

A particular cause of volatility seems to be the hedge funds, which essentially are limited partnership of wealthy investors that deal themselves in and out of the market quickly, sell short and buy big.

The entire business of institutional activity now seems ready for review: its growth, the entrance of insurance companies into the field, the quest for quick profits, the impact on prices, the influence on the administration of corporations.

The growth of institutions is relatively new and somewhat lacking in the regulation many people feel is necessary. There is a wild west feel to the market as it is a brand new game for which the rules haven't been devised.

The upcoming government study of institutional impact on prices takes on more meaning each day that prices are volatile and volume heavy.

AFL-CIO Raps

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The warnings against speculation on small investors and their purchases of 30 or 40 or 100 shares, the professionals traded in tens of thousands?

YEAR OF THE PRO
This is the year of the professional. On the American Stock Exchange more than 100 stocks are held by 100 or more institutions. And the percentage of trading by professionals on the New York Exchange is probably nearer one-half than one-third.

Some of the attitudes heard from brokers seem a bit sanctimonious in light of these figures. It's as if some of the community is afraid the fun will be spoiled if the small investor is hurt. Therefore, we should watch the game from the sidelines.

Why imply that the troubles of Wall Street are caused by public activity when this is a market of institutions: of mutual and pension and hedge funds, banks, insurance companies and free-wheeling professionals?

little guy can brokers solve the problem of paper work and speculation?

Among the restrictions now being enforced by some brokers are: curtailment of solicitations; refusal to take new accounts for securities selling under $100; increases in the amount needed to open credit accounts; refusal to credit on purchases of low price stocks.

PROS UNAFFECTED
Professionals, with millions of dollars behind them and an urge and need to get some action, it simply will be unaffected by such measures. They will continue their very heavy buying and selling.

Stanley West, research director of the New York Exchange, late last week told a congressional committee that first-quarter volume was up only 3 percent but that large-block volume had soared 50 percent higher than a year ago.

Large blocks usually mean those of 10,000 shares or more — million dollar transactions.

This obviously rules out ordinary traders. And these big blocks have been crossing the ticker tape at a record rate, 75 of them on one day, June 13.

Last week the New York Exchange tabulations showed 55 big blocks on Monday, 39 Tuesday, 63 Thursday and 56 on Friday. Wednesday was a market holiday.

SLOWEST DAY
Monday was the slowest day for the institutions, but on that day alone their big blocks totaled close to $23 million. In just one transaction, a trade of 157,000 shares of C.I.T. Financial, $6.28 million C.I.T. financial shares.

Conrad Data, more than 25 percent of which is owned by some 30 mutual funds, is paying no large holdings by other institutions, was heavily traded on that day. Three big blocks totaled $390,000 shares at prices from $15 to $16.12.

A particular cause of volatility seems to be the hedge funds, which essentially are limited partnership of wealthy investors that deal themselves in and out of the market quickly, sell short and buy big.

The entire business of institutional activity now seems ready for review: its growth, the entrance of insurance companies into the field, the quest for quick profits, the impact on prices, the influence on the administration of corporations.

The growth of institutions is relatively new and somewhat lacking in the regulation many people feel is necessary. There is a wild west feel to the market as it is a brand new game for which the rules haven't been devised.

The upcoming government study of institutional impact on prices takes on more meaning each day that prices are volatile and volume heavy.
