U.S. Citizens Flee New Cyprus Terror

Terrorists bombed the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia last night, slightly injuring a Marine guard, then set ablaze two cars owned by U.S. government employes.

U.S. Ambassador Fraser Wilkins ordered a voluntary evacuation of American dependents to Beirut, Lebanon, explaining he no longer had confidence in the ability of Greek Cypriot police to keep order.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. spokesman said today Secretary-General U Thant has broken off his African trip because of the deepening crisis over Cyprus. He will return to U.N. headquarters tomorrow.

DENOUNCES BOMBING

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president, inspected damage to the embassy and denounced the bombing as the work of "heinous criminals."

The terrorism appeared designed to demonstrate Greek Cypriot opposition to an American-British plan to assign a North Atlantic Treaty Organization peace force to enforce the truce between the island's warring Greek and Turkish communities.

France announced today that it refuses to join an international peace-keeping force on Cyprus as proposed by Britain.

★ ★ ★

Makarios, in effect, rejected such a force yesterday by demanding that it be answerable to the U.N. Security Council.

★ ★ ★

The United States and Britain say such a condition is unacceptable because it would give the Soviet Union the chance to interfere.

U. S. REACTION

In Washington, the State Department expressed shock at the "irresponsible" attack on the U.S. Embassy and urged Makarios to restore order and catch the culprits.

The United States would take up its peacemaking role on Cyprus at the request of Britain, which has been unable to work out a solution to prevent revival of communal violence in its former colony.

Wilkins said the burning of the cars appeared to be part of a "hit-and-run campaign."

Cpl. Henry Theriaque, 26, of North Windham, Conn., an embassy Marine guard, was cut slightly in the leg by one of the embassy blasts.

TWO EXPLOSIONS

Two bombs exploded just under the windows of Wilkins' apartment in the modern, six-story embassy.

Johnson Asks Protection for the Consumer

Laws Are Sought on Interest Charges, Phony Packaging

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for new laws to protect consumers against phony packaging and disguised interest charges.

He suggested possible use of federal experts to help low-income families prepare household budgets.

Johnson, in a special message on consumer interests, endorsed nine specific pieces of legislation including pending bills to ban deceptive packaging and to require full disclosure of interest rates on installment purchases.

Eight of the nine measures had the endorsement or sponsorship of the late President John F. Kennedy. The ninth proposal, still to be introduced, would require inspection of all meat and poultry sold in the country, whether or not it crossed state lines.

"For far too long," Johnson said, "the consumer has had too little voice and too little weight in government."

The most novel idea in the message—the use of trained government workers to help low-income urban families learn more about budgeting and how to "get the most for their money"—was not put forward in the form of legislation.

The President said stronger regulations are needed to discourage misleading adjectives, puzzling variations in fractional weights and package illustrations having no relationship to the contents.

Other legislative recommendations were:

● A requirement that cosmetics be proved safe before marketing and that federal inspection of foods, drugs and cosmetics be expanded.

● Grant subpoena authority in administrative hearings under the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

● Require warnings of accident hazards on labels for drugs, cosmetics, and pressurized containers.

Safe Smoking Study Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A House Agriculture subcommittee recommended unanimously today a multimillion dollar federal research program on how to make cigarettes safe.

The crash research program was supported both by public health authorities and tobacco state leaders during public hearings on the proposal last month. It was introduced after a government report citing the health dangers of cigarette usage.

"We need to clear up many things," said Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., sponsor of the proposal and chairman of the House Agriculture Committee. "Research will do it. We are going to see to it that people who enjoy smoking have maximum assurances of health."

A tobacco subcommittee also headed by Cooley sent a resolution authorizing the research program to the parent committee. Cooley said he expected the full committee to report it later this week for immediate house floor action.

$5-$10 MILLION

Cooley said $5 million to $10 million would be needed to get the program under way this year.

The resolution would direct Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to launch a special study program into the production, handling, manufacture and use of tobacco.

It would be set up to "ascertain and preserve the desirable quality factors and characteristics of tobacco products and eliminate therefrom factors, properties or substances which may be detrimental to health."

The program also would include authority to establish and operate laboratories and field stations in the tobacco belt.

EMBRACED IDEA

Public health authorities embraced the idea of a research program because of the health hazards cited in the surgeon general's report on cigarette smoking hazards.

Federal Order Is Ignored by Dixie Official

City Law Invoked to Bar One School; Other Integrated

TUSKEGEE, Ala (AP) — The mayor of a small Alabama town shouldered aside a federal court order today and barred six Negro pupils from a white school. A crowd of angry white men watched and cursed.

Mayor James Rea of Notasulga, a town of 1,200, was flanked by police as he invoked a new city ordinance empowering him to limit enrollment at Notasulga High to exactly its current figure.

At nearby Shorter, six Negroes entered the only other white public school in Macon County, where Negroes outnumber white persons by about five to one.

SCHOOL RINGED

State troopers ringed the school grounds. The Alabama and Confederate flags flew over the school. Old Glory was not there.

In Washington, Justice Department officials were studying the Notasulga situation.

It seemed likely they would return to federal court for an order including the Notasulga city government among those forbidden to bar entrance of Negroes into the school.

Mayor Rea declined to comment on what he would do in such a case.

Says Hoffa Offered Pay to Fix Jury

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Teamsters official, turned government agent, testified today that James R. Hoffa once said, "he would pay $15,000 to $20,000 to get to the jury" in the Teamsters' president's 1962 conspiracy trial.

Edward Grady Partin, Baton Rouge, La., union officer, told of numerous instances in which Hoffa and five other men on trial here discussed attempting to contact the Nashville trial jury.

FIRST LINK

This came when a prosecutor asked him about a conversation with Hoffa which he said occurred Oct. 29, 1962 — during the trial.

★ ★ ★

"He (Hoffa) told me he thought the banker-witness (unidentified) that day had hurt him," Partin said, "and he said he would pay $15,000 to $20,000 to get to the jury."

Partin, testifying over heated defense objections at the jury-tampering trial, was the first witness to link Hoffa with alleged jury fixing efforts.

The trial is in the middle of its third week.

"He called me to his room," said Partin, business manager of Baton Rouge Local No. 5.

"He said they were going to get to one juror and try to get to a few scattered jurors and take a chance."

AMC Marks Top Quarter; Ford Profits Boom in '63

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. today reported record quarterly sales of $319,429,991, but lower net earnings of $10,974,916 in the first quarter of the firm's 1964 fiscal year.

Meanwhile, a booming fourth quarter helped Ford Motor Co. set new record high sales and profits last year, it was disclosed in Ford's financial statement yesterday.

Ford reported net income of $488.5 million, equal to $4.42 a share last year. It bettered the old marks of $480.7 million and $4.36 set in 1962.

The Ford report came less than a week after GM announced it made $1.59 billion, or $5.56 a share last year. It was the biggest return ever earned by any company.

First quarter earnings for the 1964 fiscal year were equal to 58 cents a share and compared with net earnings of $12,145,597 or 65 cents a share for the first quarter of the 1963 fiscal year.

Ford's report, as did GM's, reflected the current healthy condition of the auto industry which last year, for the second time in a row, chalked up sales of over 7 million units in the U. S. market.

Chrysler, third of the automobile Big Three, is due to make its financial report later this month.

Ford had reported a slight decline in profits for the first nine months of 1963, despite record dollar sales for that period.

The final three months, however, were the best in Ford history.

Sales Mark Is Hailed by Pontiac

"The market for new cars is exceptionally strong for this time of year," said E. M. Estes, Pontiac general manager, "and is picking up momentum."

★ ★ ★

While Pontiac salesmen were adding to the list of orders, monthly reports show Ford, Chrysler and other General Motors divisions running well ahead of last year's figures.

BIG THREE

The Big Three of the U. S. auto industry sold 533,198 cars last month, an increase of more than six per cent over the 500,486 sales listed in January, 1962.

Cadillac, Chevrolet, Dodge and the Ford division of Ford Motor Co. said last month's sales were the highest totals ever recorded for any January.

Chrysler Corp. said sales were the best since 1957 and Lincoln-Mercury said they were the best since 1955.

JUST DELIGHTED

"We are delighted, but far from surprised, at the continuing high level of sales of both cars and trucks.

★ ★ ★

"They indicate we are on target with our predictions of another banner sales year in 1964."

★ ★ ★

Byron J. Nichols, general manager of Dodge, added, "Our January record is particularly impressive in view of the fact that many parts of the country were plagued with bad weather last month."

City Personnel Reorganized

Commission Finishes Year-Long Study

A year-long reorganization of the city's personnel department, which had its roots in the overtime and compensatory time chalked up by policemen, was completed last night by the City Commission.

The City Commission unanimously approved three resolutions which:

● Discontinue the present personnel department and place all personnel records and the department's budget under "direction and control" of the city manager.

● Officially appoint Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck as Personnel Officer under direction of the city manager and abolish the post of personnel director.

● Establish the position of safety inspector, a job earmarked for former personnel director Harold Marshall.

WON'T CONFLICT

City Manager Robert A. Carter indicated any changes in personnel procedures wouldn't conflict with powers given department heads by the City Charter to hire and fire personnel in their own departments.

There was brief confusion over passage of the measures. The commission first okayed a resolution giving Carter the power to appoint a personnel officer.

Then, they were about to okay a resolution naming Reineck to the job when Commissioner Charles H. Harmon said, "I'm a little confused. I thought we just gave this power to the city manager."

He was correct. City Attorney William A. Ewart, who drafted the resolutions, hastily suggested the first be reworded to allow for the personnel officer to be appointed by the commis-

Citizen Asks Manager's Suspension

A former president of Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 and police trial board member, Cecil C. Mullinix, last night asked the City Commission to suspend City Manager Robert A. Carter.

Mullinix, attending last night's commission meeting, said, "Either the commission should suspend the manager or he (Carter) should resign until his grand jury indictment is cleared up in Flint.

"I think he has an obligation to do so for the best interest of this city," Mullinix told commissioners.

Carter's examination on a fraud conspiracy indictment in Flint Municipal Court, originally scheduled for 9 a.m. tomorrow, has been postponed indefinitely while Carter appears as a witness in a similar charge against Flint businessman Samuel M. Catsman.

NO ARGUMENT

"If you believe everything you read in the newspaper, I'm not even going to argue with you," said Mayor Robert A. Landry in reply to Mullinix.

The mayor then briskly dismissed the request saying, "You can think what you want, but you're not sitting up here."

Austrians Sweep Toboggan Event in Winter Games

From Our Wire Services

IGLS, Austria — Austria won first and second place medals in the men's two man tobogganing race in a perilous Winter Olympics event that saw an American entry crash.

The Austrian teams took the first place gold medal and the second place silver on the treacherous 1,064 meter, 18-curve Olympic course.

Meanwhile, the Canadian hockey team regained first place in the round robin championship tournament by beating Finland 6-2. The Canadians, 5-0, meet the favored Soviet team Saturday in the game that probably will decide the championship.

The United States is out of contention.

Board to Act on Boundaries

New Student Areas for Pontiac Schools

Proposed boundary changes for junior and senior high schools are set for final action tomorrow night at the meeting of the Pontiac school board.

The board, which normally meets on the second Thursday of the month, is meeting a week earlier because of a convention.

The convention, the American Association of School Administrators, will be held Feb. 15-19 in Atlantic City.

★ ★ ★

BALANCE ENROLLMENTS

School officials have also proposed shifting boundaries between Pontiac's two high schools. This will be done to balance enrollments, schoolmen say.

Under the proposed boundary, an estimated 221 students who would normally attend Pontiac Central High will be

T. WARREN FOWLER SR.

Contractor 4th to File in District 1

A Pontiac electrical and heating contractor, T. Warren Fowler Sr., has announced he will seek the District 1 City Commission seat in the spring election.

Fowler, 57, of 59 Lake filed a petition late yesterday to seek nomination in the March 2 primary.

He became the fourth person to enter the race for the two top spots in the district primary.

★ ★ ★

Fowler has been a Pontiac resident since 1928. He is married and the father of three children.

TRIAL BOARD

A veteran member of the Pontiac Police Trial Board, he is presently serving as secretary of the board. He was a member of the committee which reorganized the trial board several years ago, and has been a board member since 1955.

Fowler is president and founder of the Warren Fowler Electric Co. and founder of Fowler Heating and Cooling Co., both firms located at 377 Orchard Lake Ave.

He is a former director of the Pontiac Urban League and an active member of the Newman A.M.E. Church since 1928, presently serving as a church trustee.

★ ★ ★

Fowler recently won an award from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for aiding Negro employment.

★ ★ ★

He said his decision to seek nomination came "only after careful thought and with the encouragement of persons representative of business, professional, church, civic and home owner" groups in District 1.

Aid to Lower Brackets

Tax-Cut Change Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rejected today 71-23 an amendment by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., designed to revise the $11.6 billion tax-cut bill to give a better break to low-income families.

He proposed to increase the new minimum standard deduction feature in the bill to give an additional $960 million of tax relief to such families.

All but $90 million of this revenue loss would have been recouped by cutting back on the corporate rate reductions in the bill so that the new maximum rate would be 50 per cent instead of 48 per cent as the measure now provides. The present ceiling is 52 per cent.

The minimum standard deduction provision in the bill allows each taxpayer a $300 deduction plus $100 for each of his dependents.

ALTERNATIVE

It could be used as an alternative to the presefit standard deduction of 10 per cent up to a maximum of $1,000.

A four-person family with income of $6,000 or less would gain from the new provision.

Douglas proposed to raise the new deduction to $400 for the taxpayer plus $200 for each additional exemption up through the sixth.

The Illinois Senator said the big defect in the bill was that it did not do enough to boost the purchasing power of families toward the bottom of the income scale.

WELL BALANCED

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, opposing the amendment, insisted that the measure now was well balanced as between all interests and should not be changed.

School Boundaries Will Be Changed

stead attend Pontiac Northern High School.

However, students now attending high school need not switch if they don't want to. In the future students will follow the proposed boundary lines.

The present high school boundary extends east along Mt. Clemens and Featherstone to the city limits, while the new line would extend east along Mt. Clemens to Sanford and then south on Sanford to the city limits.

Senior high school students who now attend Central and live south of Mt. Clemens and east of Sanford would attend Northern in the future.

The proposed changes would give Central an estimated enrollment of 2,275, while Northern would have 1,632.

Pontiac Central now has 2,294 and Northern 1,516.

OVERCROWDING

Betrothal Called Off for Princess

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Hollanders, already roused by Princess Irene's conversion to Catholicism, were buzzing today about Queen Juliana's announcement that plans for her daughter's engagement had fallen through.

In a broadcast last night, the queen said there had been "the unhappy possibility of an engagement" for Irene but "unfortunately we now must tell you that our daughter Irene has informed us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place.

Irene's whereabouts were a mystery, but the queen said, "We hope to see our daughter shortly in our midst."

★ ★ ★

HER DECISION

Shortly after the queen spoke, a government spokesman announced that the break-off in engagement plans was Irene's decision.

Then Premier Victor van Marijnen summoned newsmen and insisted government pressure had not been exerted on the princess, who has been in Spain for a month.

The queen gave no clue to the identity of Irene's suitor. Since Irene went to Spain Jan. 9, her name has been linked with several young Spanish aristocrats.

Negroes Kept From School

WAS HIDDEN

Merritt, a commercial photographer who had hidden himself on the bus, was thrown to the ground and his equipment smashed.

His camera was battered repeatedly over a bus seat by a man identified by Col. Albert J. Lingo, state public safety director, as a city policeman.

The white youth, blood in the corner of his mouth, was allowed by state troopers to leave the school grounds.

As he left some of the white men began following, but they were blocked by state troopers, who escorted him to Tuskegee and held him for safe keeping.

Ten minutes after the incident the school was almost deserted by troopers and spectators.

Rea had appealed to Gov. George Wallace for state troopers to preserve order and prevent "loss of life."

Lingo said about 75 troopers were posted around the Notasulga school and about 60 at Shorter.

New Sewer Policy Set for Okay

Proposed changes in the city's policy involving sewer rates and tap-in fees were introduced at last night's City Commission meeting and slated for adoption next Tuesday.

One measure would allow the city to install meters in sewer lines for commercial and industrial users. It would not affect residential sewage rates.

The second would require a tap-in fee for all future connections to city sewer facilities, including residential.

★ ★ ★

GREATER FLOW?

"The city feels that some commercial and industrial customers produce a greater sewage flow than they are charged for," said City Engineer Joseph Neipling. "Others may be charged too much.

"Through the installation of meters, we can more fairly and accurately compute sewage charges," he said.

The tap-in fee would run about $150 per unit for a new building, home or building addition tapping into an existing sewer.

★ ★ ★

SIZE, CHARACTER

A single family dwelling is considered one unit. The unit-size of a commercial or industrial establishment is determined by its size and character.

The tap-in fee would be city-wide. All fees would go into the city's sewer fund and would pay for long-range improvements and additions to the city's sewer system.

Neipling explained that most other cities have a tap-in charge.

★ ★ ★

Projects which could be partially financed through the tap-in fees in the immediate future include the proposed Murphy Park relief sewer and Galloway Creek trunk sewer.

★ ★ ★

Files Petition for Reelection

Two Contenders Face Landry in District 7

Mayor Robert A. Landry, who had previously announced plans to seek a fourth term on the City Commission, yesterday made it official.

While running unopposed in the 1962 election, Landry will be opposed by at least two other candidates in the March 2 primary.

★ ★ ★

The other two have already filed.

Landry has been mayor since April 1962 and District 7 commissioner since 1958.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

He is a senior clerk at the Fisher Body Division Livonia Plant. Landry is a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church and active in the Knights of Columbus.

He listed "the biggest building boom in this city's history" and "redevelopment in our central business district, multifamily housing developments in urban renewal and a proposed $1.6-million apartment house project on the west side" as "some of the things this commission has accomplished in the last two years."

ROBERT A. LANDRY

City Reorganizes Personnel Department

START OF SHAKE-UP

The beginnings of a shake-up in personnel goes back more than a year to dissatisfaction voiced by several commissioners over personnel procedures.

Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom has long been opposed to records of police overtime and compensatory time being housed in the police department.

He has urged, since 1962, that such records be kept readily available in the personnel department, which is only two doors away from the city manager's office at City Hall.

Some other commissioners agreed with Bottom. In addition, Bottom felt there were improvements needed in some procedures used in hiring city employes.

REQUEST STUDY

Bottom and former Commissioner Milton R. Henry requested an administrative study showing how many city employes lived within the city in December 1962.

Bottom felt employes should be local taxpayers and suggested at that time that when future employes were hired, they be required to live in Pontiac.

Former City Manager Robert A. Stierer submitted the report a month later showing 480 lived in Pontiac and 277 lived outside.

PUT IN CHARGE

He announced that Teel would direct "a detailed study of all personnel functions, including the establishment of a central records section containing essential information on all city employes."

Marshall was retained on the personnel staff but in a lesser capacity.

As the study progressed, Teel found some areas where efficiency could be somewhat improved.

CENTRAL RECORDS

Records were gradually centralized, and at the request of Bottom, records of time put in by policemen individually were channeled to the city manager twice a month.

Commissioners and administrators said they had no personal criticism of Marshall, but they felt his natural capabilities were much better suited to the duties of safety inspector.

The inspector's job is to recommend better safety procedures and equipment for city employes, and report instances where employes are ignoring existing safety rules.

Police Intensify Search for 'Mad' Boston Strangler

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series about the stranglings of 12 women in Eastern Massachusetts since June 1962.)

By MICHAEL SCHOFIELD

BOSTON (UPI) — By early December 1962, police had checked literally hundreds of leads in their search for the "Mad Strangler" who had murdered eight greater Boston women in seven months.

They came up with nothing.

Authorities reasoned that they were looking for a man who not only was deranged but diabolically clever also. Some thought they might be looking for more than one person.

John B. Fallon, retired chief of the Boston police homicide division, said, "A man with a weakness like that will read about these cases and see how easy it is.

CHAIN REACTION

"Of course I'm not working on these cases, but we've seen this kind of thing before — like a chain reaction."

The mad spree of stranglings began June 14, 1962, when Mrs. Anna Slesers, a 77-year-old seamstress living alone in Boston's Back Bay, was strangled with the cord from her housecoat.

In the slaying of Mrs. Slesers, the killer established a pattern which he followed in most of the subsequent murders.

* * *

The apartment was ransacked but police said they didn't think the killer really was looking for anything. He apparently had entered through an open or unlocked door because there was no sign of forced entry.

SEXUALLY MOLESTED

Mrs. Slesers had been sexually molested and her killer left her scantily clad body sprawled on the kitchen floor.

By the end of August, the strangler had throttled five more women, the youngest of whom was 60 and the oldest, 75.

Then the pattern broke with the Oct. 14 strangling of Miss Modiste Freeman. At 37, she was nearly 20 years younger than the youngest of the earlier victims. And she was strangled outdoors. Her body was found in a parking lot with her own sweater twisted around her neck.

* * *

KILLED STUDENT

On Dec. 5, 1962, Miss Sophie Clark, a 21-year-old medical technology student, was strangled in the fourth floor Back Bay apartment she shared with two other girls. She was choked with two nylon stockings and a slip.

Then on Dec. 29 the strangler claimed his ninth victim of 1962. She was 24-year-old Miss Patricia Bissette, a secretary who lived alone in a first floor apartment, also in the Back Bay.

The killer had knotted three stockings and a blouse around her neck. Her body was discovered the morning of Dec. 31. The killer had left her lying in bed, the bedclothes pulled up to her neck.

More than eight months went by before the strangler struck again.

* * *

IN SALEM

Mrs. Corbin lived alone in a first-floor apartment in Salem, a quiet community north of Boston.

She had breakfast at 10:30 that Sunday morning, Sept. 8, 1963, with a friend, Mrs. Flora Manchester, who lived down the hall. After breakfast she had left Mrs. Manchester's apartment, agreeing to return for lunch after attending church.

At 1:30, Mrs. Manchester went to see what was detaining her friend. She found Mrs. Corbin's body sprawled on her bed, two stockings wrapped around her neck and a third tied around one ankle.

The next strangling occurred in Lawrence, a mill town about 25 miles north of Boston, on Nov. 23.

WITHOUT FORCE

Miss Jo Ann Graff, 22, a pattern designer who lived alone, was found in the bedroom of her apartment. The killer had used two stockings and a pair of leotards to choke the life from Miss Graff. And, as in all the other stranglings, the killer gained entrance to her apartment without using force.

The grim tally rose to an even dozen early this year when a 19-year-old office worker was slain on Beacon Hill.

The strangler wasted no time in this case because Miss Mary E. Sullivan had just moved into the Charles Street apartment with two other girls when she was murdered. The young office worker who had come to the city from her home on Cape Cod was strangled with two nylon scarves and a stocking.

* * *

As usual, there was no sign that the killer had forced his way into the apartment.

STATE ATTORNEY

Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke made himself a party to the investigation after the slaying of Miss Sullivan. Brooke, who holds the highest elective office held by a Negro in the United States, called law enforcement officers together to create a pool of information and assigned men from his office to work on the case.

Boston police have sent a man as far as California to check out clues which hopefully, will lead them to the killer.

Their mothers don't think it's funny.

The official state motto of Massachusetts is: "By the Sword We Seek Peace, but Peace Only Under Liberty."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Prostate Trouble Is Rare Before Age 40

Q—Our doctor says my husband has a severe prostate condition. Can this be cured? He is only 42. Isn't this young for a man to have prostate trouble? Could it be cancer?

A — There are several kinds of prostate trouble. Prostatic cancer is rare before the age of 40, but may occur after that age.

Benign enlargement of the prostate usually occurs in the 60s. If your husband has cancer of the prostate I'm sure your doctor would have told you so and would have advised operation.

Various types of prostatic infection may occur in adults of any age. In some cases, the treatment is long and tedious and a complete cure is difficult.

Q—What is spondylolisthesis? What could cause it? Will an operation help?

The condition is congenital, but usually does not become noticeable until puberty. It is more common in girls than in boys.

The victim usually tires easily and may complain of low back pain. She may also develop a cautious gait to minimize the discomfort.

The only treatment is surgical correction, and the best resu'ts are obtained when the condition is recognized early and the operation is not delayed.

Q—What does "sedimentation rate" mean?

★ ★ ★

A — The sedimentation rate measures how fast the red blood cells settle to the bottom of a tube of blood.

In persons with rheumatic fever and rheumatic arthritis, the rate is faster than normal.

This is of value in determining whether the infectious process is still active or is abating.

Q—My doctor has been giving me Sandril for more than a year. Is it habit-forming? What is it for? Are there any side effects?

★ ★ ★

It is widely used to reduce blood pressure. It is not habit-forming. It may cause a flare-up of a healed peptic ulcer in large doses.

★ ★ ★

Your doctor will observe you for these or other possible side effects and adjust your dose to meet your individual needs.

Q—Can stones in the salivary gland cause cancer? Is there any medicine that will prevent such stones from forming?

A—Salivary stones do not turn to cancer. I know of no drug that will dissolve or prevent them.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Last Year's Miss America

Beauty Queen Back in School

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) —Students at Northwestern University no longer stop and stare when they see a book - laden brunette hurrying across campus in tennis shoes, slacks and a full-length mink coat.

The girl is Jacqueline Mayer, 21, of Sandusky, Ohio, last year's Miss America who turned in her crown five months ago to return as a sophomore to Northwestern.

The mink—worn only in subzero weather—a new convertible and a $10,000 scholarship are among the rewards from her year-long reign, which ended September 1963.

Now just a part-time beauty queen, Miss Mayer spends most weekends away from campus. She still is in demand for appearances at banquets, parades and conventions, and also has a contract to do television commercials in Ohio.

"I came to school simply to be a student," said the coed in an interview, "but it's not so easy."

"She was in an awful tough position," said Pat Rusk, 22, South Bend, Ind., a graduate student who is a counselor at Northwestern Apartments, where Miss Mayer shares quarters with three roommates.

"A lot of men used to come in just to look at her," Miss Rusk said. "The problems really didn't come from her, but from the outside.

"Now the novelty's worn off and she's just another popular and well-liked girl," she said.

CHICAGO MEN

Miss Mayer, whose award - winning statistics are 36-22-36, agreed: "I didn't have much trouble with the kids on campus. Most of the problems came from bachelors in Chicago," she said.

The problems with suitors dissolved over the Christmas vacation when Miss Mayer announced her engagement to John Townsend, 25, of Bridgeville, Pa., near Pittsburgh. He is a junior at the University of Pittsburgh Law School.

After her marriage, Miss Mayer said, she may go into commercial television work, "but Hollywood is definitely out."

* * *

"My biggest problem right now is finding time to study," she said. "Since I'm gone on weekends, I generally stay home every week night to study."

Rabbi Hold Ceremony at Kennedy's Grave

WASHINGTON (UPI)—More than 200 rabbis from all parts of the United States participated in a memorial service yesterday at the grave of President Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery.

The wreath-laying ceremony was conducted by the Central Conference of American Rabbis, principal rabbinical body of reform Judaism. The rabbis were in Washington for a two-day seminar on peace and disarmament.

House Passes Bill for Island Project

LANSING (AP)—A bill to permit private development of a $30-million recreation project on Peche Island, in the Detroit River, was passed Tuesday by the House.

The proposal, approved 86-19, was amended prior to passage to give the state the right to dump fill without charge on the submerged land which is destined to become an island, free of charge.

Man on Moon Target Date 2 Years Nearer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—An official of the manned moonshot program said today that "the most probable date" for sending three Americans to the moon falls either in late 1968 or early 1969—nearly two years sooner than the date usually quoted.

Joseph F. Shea, manager of the Apollo spacecraft program office for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told a news conference that the schedule for a lunar flight was not affected greatly either by last week's successful firing of a Saturn launch vehicle or the last minute failure of the Ranger moon probe.

Shea said that the fifth Saturn 1-B, scheduled to fly in early 1967, would "almost certainly" be manned.

Charge Against Gridder Dropped

Magistrate Donald E. Arnell of Chicago Heights ruled there was no probable cause to hold Ferguson over to the grand jury in the auto death Jan. 4 of Mrs. Renee Hirsch, 21, of Chicago. A coroner's jury previously ruled that her death was accidental.

Ferguson, 23, of Madison, Ill., and a passenger were injured in the accident. Mrs. Hirsch's husband, Frederick, 21, also was injured.

Urban Land Marketing Okayed, Then Studied

Two weeks ago, the City Commission voted to spend $4,300 on marketing study of urban renewal land. Examination of the move, however, reveals it as another "cart-before-the-horse" action.

★ ★ ★

On April 16, 1963, the commission designated Charles L. Langs of Waterford Township as the exclusive redeveloper of urban renewal lands downtown, for one year. They didn't formally adopt a resolution to this effect, however, until July 23.

Yet now, months later, they approve a study to determine if it is better to dispose of land through a single party, or by competitive bidding on the open market.

★ ★ ★

The commission decided months ago to entrust downtown renewal lands to Langs, and now they pay for a survey to find out if this is the right way to handle it. In addition, urban renewal officials here have pointed out several times that the agreement that the City has with Langs has not been approved by the Federal Government. It might hold up approval of any plans for downtown he comes up with.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Robert Landry thinks he knows more about urban renewal than the urban renewal staff, however, and says the contract has been approved. Landry threatened Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates, when Bates questioned the validity of the contract. "Nothing has happened here except a department head giving out information," Landry said, "and he's going to quit giving out information in short order or he's not going to be working here."

★ ★ ★

Tut, Mr. Mayor.

The residents of Pontiac have a right to know about urban renewal here. The money financing it, federal or local, comes out of the paychecks and pocketbooks of Pontiac citizens.

Find Many Openings in Nation's Gap Age

We have the missile gap. We have the employment gap. President Johnson has just told Congress about the capacity gap. Even mountains have gaps.

There is the brain gap between communities which land big research money and those which don't. Certain football teams have displayed a victory gap.

Some of us know too well that there is a salary gap, a budget gap and even a cash-in-pocket gap.

Study Shows Fluoride Beneficial to Adults

In the continuing struggle over fluoridation, the emphasis has been on the benefits to be derived by children.

★ ★ ★

But now a famed nutritionist has found that by giving adults 50 times the currently prescribed dosage for children, the bone structure of the adult is greatly improved. A new study now under way in North Dakota, expected to span five years, will cover areas in which every percentage of fluoride is represented in the various human systems.

★ ★ ★

The authority points out that recalcification is particularly important for the elderly — since this is the group whose bones are most brittle. Advance reports indicate that a surprising number of fractures and degenerative bone disease respond well in those patients treated with large doses of fluoride.

★ ★ ★

But an equally important side result of intensive fluoride therapy for oldsters could lead to keeping their own teeth longer. With more and more cities and communities tasting the benefits of fluoridated water, it is inevitable that its demonstrable boon to young and old will in the not distant future become an essential ingredient in the general well being.

TV Now Defines Leader's Image

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Lucky Calvin Coolidge was president when the strong silent type was still an American ideal. It fitted him fine. He didn't have much to say anyway. When he did use radio, it was dismal.

MARLOW

President Franklin D. Roosevelt went on radio every time he thought it useful, and he used news conferences, too, although the latter weren't on radio and there wasn't television.

He became a kind of national father by the sheer magic of his humorous, barbed, consoling, concerned and always controlled voice.

No wonder he stayed in office. Who wants to throw out the head of the family?

Now radio and television have made a president an almost constant showman. This can be a political help.

But when he has to keep asking himself how am I doing?—in order to stay in focus, it's bound to make him self-conscious.

KENNEDY IMAGE

President John F. Kennedy worked overtime, staying in front of the camera. The picture that came across was of a highly intelligent, extremely well-informed, witty and self-assured young man.

This was how he wanted to appear, of course, and he did it all with great ease and grace.

But no one watching, either at one of his news conferences or on television, could escape the feeling he was conscious of the whole country observing his every expression and gesture, and judging accordingly.

SELF-CONSCIOUS LBJ

He not only looks far more self-conscious than his predecessor but acts that way, for example, at last Saturday's news conference, which was televised.

Johnson is a hearty, positive ebullient man. Saturday, he looked deliberately subdued, almost mournful with dignity, and certainly not too positive on at least one area of foreign affairs.

This was when he gave his views on French President de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

UNNATURAL PERFORMANCE

This probably explains why he still hasn't settled on any one way to hold a news conference.

Even so, with the statements he has made, the policies he has announced, the programs he has mentioned to Congress, and his few solemn public talks on television, he has done well politically.

★ ★ ★

GREATEST ASSET

That's his relentless driving energy—the endless hours, the deluge of telephone calls, the White House sessions with members of Congress — to push through what he wants done.

Walking on Ice

The Memphis Commercial Appeal

There are all sorts of things a cautious man may do without much trouble or expense to increase the safety factor while walking on ice. A pair of heavy socks drawn over ordinary shoes is a good device. A stick, walking cane, or broomstick, with a nail or screw in the end, is useful. Strips of adhesive tape pasted on the soles of shoes or overshoes contribute something to the ability to get along without slipping and sliding.

★ ★ ★

Tow sacking fashioned around the shoes and sewed on with a heavy needle and strong thread is perhaps the best gimmick but it lacks elegance. Straps with spikes for the shoes can be obtained — cramp-ons, we believe they are called. Then a gadget probably most often available is a rolled up umbrella with a strong tip. When all is said and done, though, the pedestrian embarking on a sea of ice will do well to remember that it is one of those situations in which it is dangerous in spite of all you can do.

'A Spade'

The Danville (Va.) Commercial Appeal

We always called a spade a spade until we hit our foot with one the other day.

Conquering Heroes

The Chicago Tribune

At Brunswick, Me., they got out a brass band to welcome Bowdoin College heroes returning from a bowl victory. Which bowl? The College bowl. In five consecutive televised bouts, the Bowdoin brains defeated all comers, and under the rules the team retires undefeated from the program, sponsored by General Electric Company. Final victim was Bowling Green of Ohio, crushed 245 to 85.

Dean Nathaniel C. Kendrick expressed official happiness that "Bowdoin students are as enthusiastic in their support of intellectual achievement as they are of extracurricular accomplishments." Not pausing to make the carping comment that the College bowl is quite as extracurricular as it is intellectual, we hasten to report receipt at Brunswick of a telegram bearing the names of three famous Bowdoin alumni: "We just got the word up here. Congratulations. Longfellow, Hawthorne, and Pierce." The only one of the three that is likely to require identification is Franklin Pierce, fourteenth President of the United States.

Thus, amid popular acclaim, Bowdoin joins the honored ranks of other schools whose College bowl teams retired undefeated—including their neighbor, Bates College, and our neighbor, De Pauw. But just to assure noneggheads that the normal order has not been altogether revolutionized, be it noted that College bowl was not broadcast for the next two weeks, as it was bumped from its usual spot by the Pro bowl game of the National Football league and a week later by the Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Golf tournament.

Avoid Criticism

The Wall Street Journal

Another Racket

The Holland Sentinel

The charge that America is in a moral decline is heard with disturbing frequency. This is not necessarily true. But there are discouraging trends. Vandalism, juvenile delinquency, petty crimes are on the upgrade.

★ ★ ★

Some tend to blame it all on "this obstreperous younger generation." But it would not hurt to look a little closer to home. Too many adults seem to be trying to pervert our system of judicial redress into legalized blackmail. We refer to the rising number of suits for damages, and to the increase in the amounts sought.

Consider what happened on a single day in one city. While the court was throwing out one $50,000 suit by a woman who fell after stepping on a lettuce leaf in a supermarket, another similar action was being filed against another supermarket. In the second suit, the plaintiff sought $100,000.

Many damage suits are legitimate, to be sure. But if there is any sound way to avoid it, phony suits should not be allowed to clog trial dockets at the public's expense. Maybe the taxpayers should be awarded damages against those who plainly make a racket of the practice.

'Crust'

The Minneapolis Star

A shortage of bread is reported in the Soviet Union. The Russians aren't really worried, tho. As long as Khrushchev is around there will be plenty of crust.

Bob Considine Says:

College Expenses Vary; Depends Where You Go

NEW YORK — Kid of ours called from his college the other night in such an agitated condition that for a moment I thought something dire had happened—like a command from the head man to study harder.

CONSIDINE

"Pop, send the school $483.09 tuition, or I'll be tossed out on my ear." He is a sophomore majoring in how to live off an older generation.

"Does $483.09 carry you through that school and through M. I. T.?" I asked hopefully.

He tried not to say it, I guess, but had to. "Pop, you're a square, you know. That's tuition for this semester."

★ ★ ★

ISSUES APOLOGY

I sent the money, after securing his acceptance of my apology for starting a sentence with "Why, when I was your age . . ."

It is, of course, the worst thing a parent can say to a child, but difficult to resist? Eh?

● Sixty per cent of the parents interviewed failed to have a savings plan for the higher education of their children.

● The remaining 40 per cent of the parents who did have a savings plan had set aside an average of only $150 for future college expenses in the past year.

If he doesn't buy anything on the side, like food, a boy can go through Harvard for $2,368 a year.

If he chooses the University of Hawaii, where the room and board is somewhat cheaper, it drops to $1,104; cheaper than Heidelberg College of Tiffin, Ohio—$1,380.

The aforementioned M. I. T. comes in at $2,550 a year, which includes health insurance policy in case of brain sprain.

Middle Tennessee State College, Murfreesboro, Tenn., has a more attractive rate, $665 per annum, $500 of which is for room and board.

SIGNIFICANT HIKE?

Princeton weighs in at $2,260 a year (no fees included, we're relieved to note). Yale wants and gets $40 more, which may or may not be significant.

If I had failed to win the District of Columbia tennis championship, these many years ago, and won an athletic scholarship, I could never have afforded the freight at George Washington University — now $1,536.

All out for Barber-Scotia College, Concord, N. C., tuition, fees, room and board for $534 a year, unless you prefer to live at home and hit Brooklyn College for a grand total of $100 a year.

Urges Citizens to Reply on Federal Issues Form

I received a questionnaire from Congressman Bill Broomfield, asking for views on several issues such as enacting a federal law to restrict interstate sale of firearms by mail order houses, increasing the salaries of members of Congress and fourteen other questions which will be raised during Congress' next session.

★ ★ ★

I urge every citizen to fill out the form and mail it immediately. Without your reply our representatives have no idea what our views are.

'GOP Divided on Choice for Candidate'

Why did Dick Nixon move from his home state to New York? Now Rockefeller is setting up an office in California. These two states have the most votes. It looks like they are out after Goldwater's hide.

★ ★ ★

We all agree that Kennedy was one of our greatest presidents and L.B.J. is walking in his footsteps doing his best, but the rat race is a disgrace to the two-party system. If the GOP can't get together before the election who will they send to the gallows in November?

Letters Continue on City Government

Help! Help! Please come back, Bob Stierer. We are sinking in the garbage.

R. S. M.

I would like to get my two cents' worth in on the garbage issue. The savings per home owner would be less than $5 per year. So, put the garbage in the back where it belongs. A candidate running for city commission could get a lot of votes by backing the old-method of collecting garbage. Something else I would like to see done is put some of the urban renewal land back on the tax rolls and off the City rolls.

Taxpayer and Voter

Letter writer E. Haines can't criticize The Press for not printing its thinking on the VOP article signed "A Watch Man." The Press isn't what some people on the City Commission call it after all.

Still a Watch Man

White people and The Press are satisfied because Mr. Henry has resigned. You will put a bunch of "yes" men on the commission, because you changed the way we vote for our commissioners. You can put whomever you want on the commission because the white voters outnumber the Negroes. The Press is prejudiced. Criticize or comment on France, Panama, Viet Nam, China and Japan. They want no part of our country. Instead of that you watch and criticize Mr. Henry.

406 Linda Vista — John C. Gordon

'Let's Not Be Swayed by Beatle Music'

To answer VOP writer Carmen Stone, your contention that Mr. Drury cannot persuade teens to ignore the Beatles is correct. Many of us are already so persuaded.

★ ★ ★

The group of 12- to 14-year-olds (which includes a few who are older physically but not mentally) have been already persuaded that the Beatles sing 'their' kind of music. The fact that they will defend this kind of music with their dollars no matter if it is good or mediocre is presently being profitably exploited by a large segment of the music industry.

★ ★ ★

I do not suggest that you listen to Rusty Warren. I will not even suggest that you indulge in the healthy American habit of dial twisting. I merely suggest that you don't get carried away because of what the Queen likes; we Americans gave up the frills of royalty a hundred and eighty odd years ago.

Rochester — L. Sidney Trevethan

Writers Favor Daylight Saving Time

Your editorial concerning summer time change wasn't given much thought. The view expressed was by one with neither the capacity for a broad mind or a progressive attitude. The comments regarding the last time change initiated by Detroit had the echo of a little kid picking up his ball and going home. Your reference to 1883-1918 fit in well because it added unnecessary cuteness that matched the tone of the article.

The underestimating of the farmers' intellect hurt because I help an uncle operate a truck farm. If there is dew on the plants an hour longer then all things being equal the farmer will begin this type of work later and the same number of hours. The mention of the transportation difficulties was probably the biggest boob. There are time changes throughout the country, especially those in the East. The transportation systems must have developed some capability since they do not cease during this period.

Your article was not worth the space you devoted. I presume a complete analysis will follow. Whenever a change is made that affects the populace not everyone will react favorably. Our new State constitution or the 24th Amendment are examples.

Thank God John Glenn didn't have to worry about Daylight Saving Time. Fortunately, he was traveling fast enough to take full advantage of daylight. Perhaps you should be sent into orbit to realize the joys of a little extra sun!

Madison Heights — G. J. Lafferty

I was appalled at your narrow-minded editorial on Daylight Saving Time. Are farmers and newspapers the only entities affected? What about the working man whose only exposure to daylight is through the glass windows in his place of employment for eight months? Is he not entitled to recreational facilities? Can the working man have daylight to take his family to the state recreational facilities?

The people that would benefit from Daylight Saving Time outweigh the special interest groups. Dominating Michigan by special groups has long been blamed for Michigan's problems.

Says Pioneer Highlands Traffic Jungle

Pioneer Highlands is so determined that no one can use their "public streets," that they bottle up their sanctuary with traffic laws. James K was made a one-way street for one block so no one could turn right off Voorheis and hit Telegraph Road, and they had "No Right Turn" signs posted on every block from there to Telegraph (from 6 to 9 a.m.).

★ ★ ★

Now, they have a "No Left Turn" sign off Telegraph on to Hazel. All traffic must go down to Voorheis and wait in the left turn lane. The light on at Telegraph and Voorheis is such that the only ones who get to turn left are the few that run the red light after the opposing traffic has stopped on Telegraph.

★ ★ ★

They must have some influential citizens in that subdivision because the city backs up every whim. I try to "share the ride" and pick up one of their residents, but in order to do so I must either break the law or make numerous detours.

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

Hearing Tuesday Night

Milford Street Issue Grows

MILFORD — Tuesday night's hearing on a proposed $213,000 street improvement program is shaping up like a debate on political theory and practice.

Even Gov. George Romney will play a part.

More than the repair and upgrading of streets is at stake.

Barely behind the scenes will be a proposed charter amendment which would alter the method of assessing for public improvements, a policy the village planned to establish with the current project.

SPLITS PAYMENT

The method devised by Village Manager Donald Weidner and accepted by the Village Council in December splits payment between property owners and the village at large.

Residential property owners would pay about $5.50 per lineal foot to cover 100 per cent of the street surfacing curbs and gutters.

About the same amount would be paid by the village for excavation, replacement of the base with good construction gravel and construction of underground drainage.

Owners of property on major streets would be assessed about $4.02 a lineal foot. Their share of the surfacing, curbs and gutters would be 40 per cent.

ANOTHER METHOD

Former Village President Paul A. Plotzer gathered 135 signatures from residents who would like a chance to vote on another way of setting up special assessment districts.

They want placed on the March 9 ballot the amendment which would allow establishment of a special assessment district only upon a majority vote of the property owners living in the proposed district.

Gov. Romney must approve the amendment before it can go to the polls.

CHIEF OBJECTION

Plotzer, in turn, wrote to the governor. In his letter, he referred to previous curbing and paving programs in which the cost was borne by the village's general fund.

"We initially opposed the exclusive use of public funds to improve the value of private property," he wrote.

* * *

"However, now that it has been done for certain properties, we feel that it should be done for all properties."

CHANGE OF ATTITUDE

Reviewing Plotzer's letter, Weidner said the former village president's change in attitude was motivated by the fact that he has property in the proposed assessment district.

"His tone seems to indicate he originally objected to using general fund money for street improvements," Weidner said.

"Now he says that since it was done at some point in the long-ago past, it should be continued.

* * *

"We contend that two wrongs don't make a right. We agree with his earlier position and also his earlier actions."

PREVIOUS VOTE

Weidner said Plotzer voted for 100 per cent special assessment for public improvements when he was on the council in the 1940's.

The second village manager under a charter adopted in 1957, Weidner said he began working out a modern, "rational" method of assessment shortly after arriving in 1962.

A street improvement program that year was handled in the prevailing manner because of lack of time, he said, but it did provide for 100 per cent assessment for curbs and gutters.

According to Weidner, the hearing on necessity and cost of the proposed project was set for Tuesday to allow the village to get early bids, which should be lower than those later in the construction season.

"We didn't speed up the process to get this thing determined before the vote," he said.

NO EFFECT

Not until after the hearing was set did the village learn a program already adopted could not be affected by approval of the charter amendment, according to the manager.

The picture, with all of its various dimensions, will be presented to the people at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bertha Baker School 716 N. Union.

Made Own Gown

Utica Girl Is Wed

UTICA — Wearing a gown she designed and made herself, Lorrene K. Brendel exchanged wedding vows with Airman I.C. Philip A. Majestic Saturday afternoon.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brendel, 2441 Auburn, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Majestic, 1385 Cadmus, Troy, were wed in Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Avon Township.

Chantilly lace and seed pearls trimmed the bride's peau de soie gown. Styled with a tiered, floor-length skirt, the gown featured a short lace jacket with three-quarter-length sleeves.

* * *

Attending the couple were Penny Lankey of Pontiac and Joseph Brendel Jr., brother of the bride. Ushers were Thomas Hunt of Rochester, cousin of the bride, and John Majestic of Troy, brother of the bridegroom.

After a brief honeymoon, the young couple will reside in Oscoda where Airman Majestic is stationed.

Officials Eye Location for Car Storage

FARMINGTON — The solution to the city and township's car storage problem appears at hand.

Officials of both units have long been pondering what to do with vehicles abandoned or ordered towed away by police. They have been searching for suitable locations to build car ponds.

* * *

HANDLE STORAGE

Bezesky would handle both storage and liquidation of abandoned vehicles. Its profit would come from storage fees collected from owners and sale of cars to be junked.

* * *

Dinan noted that the city usually must find a storage place for 20 to 30 cars a year.

* * *

"This will cut the expense of installation and administration," Dinan commented. "It will also solve an aesthetic problem."

Hospital Sets Patient Mark

ALMONT — Officials of Community Hospital announced today that hospital admissions during 1963 reached a new high, 1,836.

Reviewing the facility's fifth year of operation, the officials noted that the number of newborns jumped to 245, 41 more than the 1962 figure.

It was also pointed out that the number of surgical operations had climbed to 628; prescriptions to 9,279 and X rays to 4,514 last year.

Unique Honor for Principal

ORION TOWNSHIP—Carpenter Elementary School's Principal, James Theunick, was honored by the school PTA last night in a unique way for some unique achievements.

Nine of the school's children paraded before the PTA audience holding posters which portrayed Theunick as a doctor, furnace repairman, projectionist, cook, and in other positions.

"Mr. Theunick has done an outstanding job here," PTA President Mrs. Lawrence Reuter said.

* * *

"He's planted the grass seed, taken care of the children's minor injuries and even cooked for last year's founders' day program.

GIVEN AWARD

Mrs. Reuter said Theunick had also done many other jobs not required of him as school principal. He was presented a distinguished service award by the PTA.

Some 350 attended the reception in the school, which was followed by an open house.

Brunet Aided in Police Raid

Role as Secret Agent Revealed at Hearing

The police spy role of Margaret A. Allen was disclosed yesterday here at the examination of 24 of the 49 persons arrested in the raid.

Tall and slender, the 23-year-old beauty who works for the Michigan Legislature posed as a "party girl" before the raid.

* * *

State police said Miss Allen was introduced at the club by Chafic Sabino, who police said was known to them as a gambler.

KILLED IN CRASH

Sabino was killed Dec. 24 in an Ontario automobile collision. Detectives said Sabino was not aware Miss Allen was serving as an undercover agent for them.

She had been introduced to him as a woman "out on the town," police said.

The raid by state and federal agents came a half hour after Miss Allen entered the club with Sabino for a second night.

* * *

Two of those arrested were named by former Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards before a Senate committee as leaders of the Mafia crime syndicate in the area.

LARGER COURTROOM

As the hearing opened, he denied motions to disqualify himself and to move the case to another county.

* * *

The examination is continuing today.

No Contest in Nuisance Charges

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Arlington Halliwell, owner of Arlington Transit Mix, yesterday pleaded no contest to charges of violating the township's nuisance ordinance in October.

Represented by his attorney, Gerald McLean of Romeo, Halliwell was appealing a decision of guilty made by Township Justice of the Peace Joseph Plutter.

* * *

Halliwell of 449 N. Main, Romeo, was charged with creating noise and dust at his facilities on 21 mile and Van Dyke.

DEFER PENALTY

Today, Halliwell's attorney said the objectives of the transit mix plant owner and the area home owners who instigated the trial are the same.

McLean said the new plant which Halliwell has built on the site will eliminate 98 per cent of the nuisance if it can be put into operation.

* * *

But before it can, the township board must give its okay to put in electrical wiring.

Avon Players Stage Charity 'Circus'

Even when they're under the weather they enjoy the antics of the clowns — especially when they don't have to travel any distance to see them.

That's the feeling of 12 members of the Avon Players who have created a "Silly Circus" which they are staging at area hospitals and institutions this season.

* * *

The next performance of the charity program called "Put on a Happy Face" will be presented Saturday night at the Oakland County Children's Center near Pontiac.

FIRST STAGED

It was first staged Jan. 29 for patients at the Haven sanitorium near Rochester.

Not only did she write the script and direct the show, but she appears on stage to do the commentary which ties the one-hour program together.

15 SONGS

Sprinkled throughout the production are 15 songs which members of the cast sing and dance to accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Don Erickson and Don DeLand at the drums.

"The "horse" is played by Bill Maurer and Ron Leopold who also double as clowns.

Mrs. Leopold is the bareback rider.

The show also will be presented Feb. 14 at the Youth Center, Pontiac; Feb. 21 at Pontiac State Hospital; and March 5 at the Crippled Children's Home.

Believes Husband Killed Kennedy

Widow of Oswald Bears Up Well Under Official Interrogation

WASHINGTON (AP) — She walks erect and alone, this widow of 22 who believes her husband was the assassin of John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

If you smile a greeting, she is likely to return a level, blue-eyed, questioning stare, as if wondering why you are trying to be friendly.

SILLY PEOPLE

"Silly, silly people," she murmured gently in English on Monday. Only one photographer heard it, or thought he did.

That's the Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald you see when her guard is up, the rare moments when she is on public display. Walking in a knot of Secret Service men, for instance, toward the hearing room where she answers for hours on end, through an interpreter, the questions of the presidential investigating commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

★ ★ ★

The curious gape, the reporters trail and the Secret Service men are all around her. But Russian-born Marina Oswald is alone.

She apparently is alertly conscious she is exhibit No. 1 in the search for the truth in the assassination of Kennedy in Dallas on Nov. 22.

OFFERS SMILE

When the elevator doors close, shutting off flashbulbs' glare, Marina Oswald turns to the elevator operator, smiles a real smile, and says in accented English, "Good morning, how are you today?" Then until the day-long ordeal of questions begins she chats with those around her.

Her demeanor under interrogation is apparently faultless. After each session Warren in describing her appearance has used words like "calm" "composed" "very cooperative." There was no emotional upset even when Oswald's letters to her, written in Russian, were presented for identification.

★ ★ ★

On leaving, the slender young mother poses for photographers in the lobby, and back comes the faint, taut smile that masks what is said to be a broken front tooth.

She is quickly self-conscious. The mile freezes, fades, and won't come back. She ducks her head and walks swiftly to the waiting quartet of Secret Service men.

SECLUDED HOUSE

They close around her, and all stride to an unmarked government car. It moves away to the seclusion of an undisclosed dwelling where Junie is waiting.

Junie is a yellow-haired daughter of 2. Home in Texas, in another Secret Service hideaway, is the baby, Rachel. She was born not many days before her father, the ex-Marine sharpshooter and confused Marxist, was shot down by Jack Ruby two days after the President fell.

★ ★ ★

Once, fleeing the cameras, Mrs. Oswald showed a pixie side. Half a block away from the disappointed photographers, and well out of camera range, she turned and waved through the rear window.

MUCH CHANGED

Much has changed since the assassin's rifle spoke three times in Dallas, and some of the change has happened to Marina Oswald.

For one thing, she has become more attractive. Not quite beautiful, but definitely pretty.

★ ★ ★

Pictures made in Dallas in the days following the horror showed the face of a woman at least half again Marina's true age, with stringy hair, blank eyes and heavy, irregular eyebrows.

Now her medium-dark brown hair is short and feathery.

EYE MAKEUP

A trace of eye-shadow, it appears, has deepened the color of the bright blue eyes. The brows are arched and regular.

High heels and erect carriage make today's Mrs. Oswald look taller than she is. Her modish cloth coat of midnight blue is always buttoned in public. Newsmen have seen only the high neckline of her dresses, aquamarine on Monday, rust-colored on Tuesday. No earrings, necklace or jewelry.

★ ★ ★

The voice is soft and pleasant. Her English is good enough for small conversation, not good enough for the witness chair.

REFUSED INTERVIEWS

She has refused interviews here, though she recently said in a Dallas television interview that "I have too much facts, and facts tell me Lee shot Kennedy."

Warren says she is a free agent, could talk to newsmen if she wanted to. The decision was hers and her lawyers.

★ ★ ★

It is incorrect, Warren said, to describe her well-guarded seclusion as "protective custody." She is under no restraint whatsoever; the careful watch on her and her daughters is her own wish.

"She is alone in the world" explained the chief justice of the United States.

"She has two little babies. And she doesn't speak the language very well."

ANSWERS QUESTIONS—Mrs. Marina Oswald, Russian-born widow of Lee Harvey Oswald, is in Washington, D. C., facing the questions of the presidential commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

Old Ideas Linger On About Intestinal Ills

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

It is impossible, declared the apostle of the "internal bath," to have constipation without intestinal autointoxication. And then he explained:

"The fact that the symptoms of toxemia do not occur in every case is no evidence that they are not present."

The utter absurdity of this should be obvious to anyone who has his wits about him, but people who go in for enemas, colon irrigations or internal baths are suckers for such quackery. They dote on symptoms which do not occur. They're not so sick as they are troubled with fancies.

Downright malevolent, it seems to me, was another statement made by the charlatan of Battle Creek in one of his numerous books calculated to popularize the autointoxication obsession:

SMALL CUT

"Butchers as well as undertakers sometimes die as the result of a small cut made with a knife soiled by contact with a dead body. The same poisons are produced when putrefaction takes place in the intestine."

Even in the nineteenth century any physician knew perfectly well that the danger from such a small cut was that the little wound might permit infection, acute blood poisoning, septicemia, by germs that invaded the body through the little wound.

Also any doctor with a fair knowledge of physiology knows or should know that in the large intestine (colon), protein putrefaction is a constant and normal occurrence.

Elie Metchnikoff, a nineteenth century advocate of the view that the constant production and absorption of bacterial toxins from the intestine brought on premature old age, was a bacteriologist, not a physician.

MILLIONS FOLLOWED

He persuaded millions of valetudinarians to take their daily pint of soured skim milk, first boiled for five minutes, then cooled to body temperature and sowed with a culture of Bulgarian lactic bacilli.

This was probably as healthful as a daily pint of fresh milk, skim milk, ordinary sour milk or buttermilk.

Metchnikoff believed it favored a slightly acid reaction in the colon and prevented or restricted putrefaction there. It was an interesting theory, but Metchnikoff himself didn't live long enough for a fair test — he went to the next world at the age of 71.

In Little Lesson 25, "The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene" (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I tell you how to break the habit any time you really want to.

Of course I mean the habit of interfering with the autonomic regulation of gastro-intestinal function. It is as easy to break this habit as it is to break the habit of taking a daily dose of digitalis to regulate the heart function.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Two Chinas Battling for World Recognition, U. N. Seat

AP Photofax

DAVID AND GOLIATH — The Chinese mainland, controlled by the Communists, dwarfs tiny Formosa where the Nationalists forces are in command. The two nations will probably fight it out later this year for the China seat in the United Nations.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: With the "Two Chinas" problems now spotlighted before the world again, an AP correspondent with long experience in Asia has prepared three articles on the complexities involved. The first of the series delineates the contenders.)

By ROY ESSOYAN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Two Chinas as dissimilar as David and Goliath are contending for world recognition.

They will be fighting it out for a United Nations seat late this year.

The prospects for Red China, a hungry and aggressive giant among nations, will be somewhat improved if its current embarrassing diplomatic muddle over relations with France is cleared up.

* * *

But Nationalist China, trim and spry on its tiny island stronghold of Formosa, still has a slingshot full of pellets.

The slingshot is made in the U.S.A., Formosa's main support. The United States will be in Formosa's corner helping round up additional support for Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

"A war is made up of many battles," an old Chinese proverb says. Anything can happen in the next 10 months to keep Red China out of the United Nations.

POOR START

Paris and Peking got off to a poor start when they announced establishment of diplomatic relations Jan. 27 without clarifying how it would affect the thorny "Two-Chinas" concept, according to which both Chinas have adamantly refused to maintain relations with any government recognizing the other.

There's an Alice in Wonderland quality about the whole situation.

* * *

Two Chinas have been an operating fact of life on the world stage since the Chinese Communists drove Nationalist China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his battered armies off the mainland 14 years ago, and Chiang established himself on Formosa, 100 miles off the China coast.

Since then Chiang and Communist China's party chief Mao Tze-tung each have claimed to be the only true and legal representative of China. Red China and Nationalist China operate in a vacuum as far as relations between them are concerned.

DON'T TALK

They don't talk to each other, except to call each other "bandit."

This they do periodically in the press, on the radio and over electronic loudspeakers blaring across the narrow straits separating the Chinese Communist mainland from the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy.

Representatives of the two Chinas flatly refuse to associate with each other, even socially, on neutral ground such as the nearby British colony of Hong Kong.

* * *

In some slight way Peking has been more flexible in its attitude than Taipei. There have been occasional reports in Hong Kong of Chinese Communist feelers aimed at reaching a settlement with Formosa. All of these approaches apparently have been spurned by Chiang.

Red China dwarfs Formosa in size, population and military strength. Formosa's 14,000 square miles cover less than half of 1 per cent of China's vast area. Its population is 12 million compared to Red China's 700 million. Though Formosa has proportionately more men under arms — 600,000— than any other country, it cannot compare with Peking's 2.6-million-man army.

HEALTHY ECONOMY

Economically, Formosa is healthy, though much of its health has been pumped in by the United States. Experts say it could be a lot healthier if some of the oriental Red tape were swept away.

Economic development projects, other residents report, are frequently stymied by the Nationalist government's fixation about "getting back to the mainland," an attitude that often places Formosa's interests in second place.

* * *

Red China, 14 years after it was founded, is still economically sick and frequently hungry, mainly because its leaders have kept it isolated and because the incentive and initiative of its hundreds of millions of peasants have been stifled by rigid Communist dogma.

* * *

Life in both Chinas is strictly controlled. The control in Formosa is not as rigid and effective as on the mainland. But freedom of the press, speech and assembly are limited within what the government describes as the bounds of national security.

* * *

No one criticizes the generalissimo aloud. There is no effective opposition movement. In elections, opposition candidates can be held criminally liable for speeches attacking the president.

NEXT: Mao vs. Chiang.

U.S. Blasts Protests by Ghana Mob

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has protested to the government of Ghana concerning anti-American demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy in Accra.

The U.S. protest was issued last night by G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, to Ambassador Miguel A. Ribeiro of Ghana.

One unofficial report said the demonstrators tore down the U.S. flag outside the embassy, but that the assistant attache, in what was unofficially termed an act of courage and bravery, ran it back up.

The attache was identified as Edger E. Player, 31, of Colorado, who is serving in his first State Department post. He was named to it on July 13, 1962.

The demonstrators marched around the embassy and carried placards that read "Down With Yankee Imperialism" and "Ghana yes, Yankee No."

U.S. Ambassador William P. Mahoney Jr. made a strong representation to foreign minister Kojo Botsio of Ghana, the State Department had said earlier.

City Council Marks PTA's Anniversary

Pontiac PTA Council celebrated PTA's 67th anniversary with its annual Founders Day banquet Tuesday evening at Pontiac Northern High School.

Representatives from the 34 local units took part in a pageant written by Dorothy Worthman and directed by Stuart Packard.

★ ★ ★

"March of Time in the Pontiac PTA Council" was the story of PTA in Pontiac and portrayed the goals and achievements of PTA throughout the years.

★ ★ ★

The city-wide Senior Orchestra, under the direction of Robert Peterson, added to the program over which Mrs. Thomas Henson presided.

PAST PRESIDENTS

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Willis Schnekenburger was general chairman for the affair. Helping her were Mrs. William White, Mrs. Robert Trachet, Mrs. Thomas Bartle, Mrs. Allen Ebey and Mrs. Norbert Hoffman.

★ ★ ★

Both Names Should Go on the Card

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My mother and father will be married 50 years the end of next month. My sister and I are their only children and we are planning to give a reception for them.

Should our husbands' names be included on the invitations or should they go out in just my sister's name?

If our husbands' names are included do we use the wording "their parents"? This doesn't seem right as they are not our husbands' parents.

★ ★ ★

A: Unless your husbands are not to be present at the reception, their names should be included on the invitations.

It would be very belittling to them, to omit their names. Instead of having the invitations worded, "their parents," they would be worded as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Doe
Mr. and Mrs. James Black request the pleasure of (name written in) company at a reception in honour of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lake
etc.

Q: When a child must interrupt her mother who is talking with a visitor in the living room, either to give a message or to ask her a question, how should the child be taught to do this politely?

A: She goes and stands beside her mother and waits until she says, "What is it, dear?"

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Dane Speaks of U.S. Life at Luncheon

Mrs. P. G. Latimer was hostess to a dessert luncheon in her Dwight Avenue home preceding the Monday meeting of the Woman's Literary Club.

Keynote speaker was Telsa Knudsen, exchange student from Denmark. Miss Knudsen spoke to the club explaining the American Field Service, comparing schools and telling of her life in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Joseph Phillips, president, reported on the trip to Mt. Pleasant to deliver clothing for the Indian children.

From this report the club will plan a project to assist Norman Meyome, a talented Indian art student, with a scholarship.

A donation was made for Loch Rio, the first unit of Girls town, a project of Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.

The March meeting will be a breakfast and donations will be given to the arthritis and rheumatism foundation.

Showing that she hasn't lost her agility with a hoola hoop is Mrs. Keith Brown, James Street. Lewis A. Crew, Berwick Boulevard, narrated this part of the historical skit given at the annual PTA Council Founders Day banquet Tuesday evening.

Not a Rejection

Wants to Lighten Load

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our only child, who lives 2,000 miles away, is expecting her first child this summer.

ABBY

Today we received a letter from our daughter telling us that she had lined up a nurse for the first three months, and that her mother should not plan on flying out for the birth of the baby, but to wait until three or four months after.

We were shocked and hurt as we have always had a perfect relationship with our daughter, and we love her husband as we would a son.

My wife is ashamed to tell our friends that she was asked to stay away for three or four months.

★ ★ ★

HURT

DEAR HURT: Why assume that there is a "psychological reason" behind your daughter's decision, and that it is a "rejection" of her mother?

Perhaps your daughter does not want to burden her mother with the hard work of caring for a newborn baby, but prefers that she come after the baby has grown a little so that she can fully enjoy her visit.

DEAR ABBY: I went with a man for five months before he admitted that he was married and had a family.

I saw him only once after that to say my final goodbye. His wife found out about us and now I am afraid she is going to sue me for alienation of affections.

I have some money, but can't afford a suit of that nature. I even suspect collusion on the part of the man and his wife.

★ ★ ★

They have evidence which could win for them if such is the case. I need help.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: You need a heap of help.

The kind that only a good lawyer can provide. What are you waiting for?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were both born in France, but are now American citizens.

We have a three-year-old daughter, and we are teaching her to speak French by speaking it in our home. Thus far she is speaking French as well as she does English.

We felt this would be an advantage to her later on, but many of our friends have planted some doubts in our minds.

They say that when she starts to learn English in school she will have a difficult time because she will confuse it with French.

Could you please advise us of the validity of this viewpoint?

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Children learn languages very easily.

It is an advantage for youngsters to learn a second language while growing up, so don't be concerned about "confusing" your daughter by speaking French at home.

But speak English, too, for obvious reasons.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Round Table Reveals Long Service History

"Mind unemployed is mind unenjoyed." For the past 53 years this has been the motto of one of Pontiac's oldest women's clubs, the Round Table Club. The first meeting of the group was held Feb. 11 with eleven women present.

Since the beginning, the club has always had a study program, varying as the membership and the times changed.

In the early years Round Table members participated in such activities as an annual flower show held in the court house; improving the grounds around the Grand Trunk station; sponsoring a free bed for children in the City Hospital; and making visits to the county home (now the Medical Care Facility).

This group was also responsible for planting the small triangle at the intersection of Huron Street and Ottawa Drive (at a cost of $160 in 1921).

Dues started out at one cent per member per meeting; then they were 25 cents a month; later $2 a year.

Today the membership is around 35. Younger women have not joined the group in any great numbers and the fear of some of the dedicated members is that the club may die out.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. James McGuire, Mrs. Clark Hagstrom and Mrs. T. W. Bradford.

Plans for a spring card party to be held at the Elks Temple were discussed. Proceeds will benefit the summer camp at Camp Oakland.

GI Forum Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the newly formed Pontiac Auxiliary to the American GI Forum was held Sunday in Amvets Hall.

The forum's state chairman and the chairman of the state auxiliary, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Zuniga of Saginaw were on hand to outline the purposes, organization, benefits, and meaning of the forum.

The nationwide organization was formed in 1948 by Dr. Hector P. Garcia. Its original purpose was to serve the needs of the Spanish speaking population as well as the entire community.

Within a year, the original forum had spread out to initiate 100 other groups in the state of Texas. In 1951 the group started its first units outside of Texas and by 1956 there were groups in every part of the United States.

The forum itself is a veteran's family organization. Its auxiliary is composed of female American citizens related by marriage, or in the third person, to a veteran.

The Pontiac group plans to sponsor scholarships, queen contests and social functions. Although its membership is primarily of Spanish speaking derivation, its meetings will be conducted entirely in English.

Acting officers for the auxiliary are Mrs. Eugene Bereznicki, chairman; Mrs. Theresa Alvarado, secretary; Mrs. Roy Morales, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Valasquez, publicity.

Paris Fashions for Spring Reveal Daring V, Short Hemlines, Variety

PARIS (AP)—Only two things are sure in Paris fashion for this spring and summer — hemlines are holding at knee-cap-cover, and everybody loves pleats.

★ ★ ★

Necklines can be high or low and so can waistlines.

The showings that ended Tuesday were full of ideas and full of contradictions.

PLUNGE CONTINUES

Dior's Marc Bohan, who started the neckline plunge last season, continued to show a deep "V" dividing high, closely molded bodices.

★ ★ ★

The normally endowed girls will feel more at ease in the soft cowls and ring collars that appeared in almost every collection.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Out of the three collections considered most significant, Dior, Cardin and Saint-Laurent, there came four different answers on waistlines — high, middle, low and no.

JEWEL TRIM

Princess types were molded to a high-waisted look by Dior and Saint-Laurent. Dior punctuated it with a flower or jewel just under the bosom.

TUBE DRESS

There was no waist to the crepe tubes from Cardin.

Lanvin showed them over shift-pants and shift-knickers.

CONTRASTS

For feminine contrast, there were flowers and lingerie trims.

There were narrow bands of white tucked under the edge of his long, slim sleeves, and open collars faced in white or sometimes filled in with white.

COLORS

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice: Seems like I'm always changing the regular presser foot and zipper foot back and forth. Why can't I use the zipper foot for all my sewing?

Mrs. M.E.R.

* * *

Dear Mrs. M.E.R.: I had the same thought one time and tried it, and I don't believe it works as well. I think you need the little extra edge of the regular presser foot to help hold your fabric firm.

* * *

It seems that with the zipper foot, you don't have the same control of your fabric. Try it, and I think you'll agree with me.

* * *

With so many women knitting these days, I'll put a little hint in "Sew Simple" that involves sewing instructions in your knitting.

Since your knits don't have the same firmness that you find in most fabrics, some of the larger-stitched, loosely-knitted garments have the tendency to stretch at the neck and shoulders, thus pulling the sleeves down too far.

Pin a piece of hem tape (same color as garment) from the armhole, to the neck edge (easing in the shoulders slightly), continue across the back of the neck, again ease a little, and on to the other armhole.

* * *

This tape will cover the shoulder seams. After you have tried on the sweater and are satisfied with the fit, hand whip both edges of the tape to the sweater. Your knitted garment will always retain this shape.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Add a strip of velvet (with the pile side out) to the inside waistband of every skirt to keep your blouses from slipping out. P.S. I used this idea for the inside waistband of my slacks and it really does work!

* * *

Mrs. Helen B. Mohaupt, Woodbury, Conn., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this winning suggestion.

Dear Eunice: You so clearly explain the rudiments and tricks of the trade that you indeed make sewing so simple. I thought perhaps you might like to pass these three little thoughts on to your readers since they helped me so much.

1. I became a seamstress instead of an amateur when I realized that ripping the mistakes were necessary—they can't be covered up.

2. When I learned to handle my materials like robins' eggs, then my garments lost that made by loving hands at home look.

* * *

3. Blessed is the man that marries a woman who can sew, for she gives him a rare gift.

WOOL SKIRTS

Now for my question: I have trouble hemming my wool skirts that are flared out in the new A-shape.

* * *

I gather the edge of the hem and pull it up so it lies flat, however, when I press the hem, these deep marks show on the outside of my skirt. Please help me with these hems.

Mrs. M.G.M.

* * *

Dear Mrs. M.G.M.: Many thanks for your clever letter, hope it gives all our readers a lift as it gave me.

As to the hem, you have begun the right way by stitching a long stitch at the edge of the hem. Next, pull your threads so that each section fits perfectly. You must always allow a little ease in the hem, so don't pull your thread too tight.

Before you begin pressing, place a piece of cardboard (that has been slightly curved at the lower edge) under your turned up hem. Now you can press and steam your hem until it lies flat.

* * *

In wool, almost all of the extra fabric will actually shrink out. I think you will find that you will have no marks from the hem showing on the right side of the garment. This can be done with straight hems as well. Lastly, hand whip the hem in place with small, loose stitches.

Please let me hear from you, an old tip to you may be a new tip for others. Send your letters to "Sew Simple," in care of this paper.

New is the matched engagement and wedding ring set. Complementing a pear shaped diamond engagement ring is a wedding band made up of a series of smaller diamonds set in a crown-like manner to create an elaborate and glamorous effect.

Traditional Diamond Shines With Love's Fire

By MADELEINE DOEREN

As far as can be determined, the diamond-set ring has been the accepted and preferred engagement token since the 15th century, when it apparently found favor with royalty. Two centuries later, it had come into fairly general use.

An Italian legend attributes its sparkle to the fires of love. Because of its place on the fourth finger of the left hand it was once believed that the vena amoris (vein of love) ran from this finger directly to the heart.

Since there will probably never be a more important diamond in a girl's life, the ring should be chosen with considerable care.

* * *

We go along with the advice given by the Jewelry Industry Council in that, when you buy something about which you have no technical knowledge, consult someone on whom you can rely. The answer in this instance is to see a reliable jeweler.

Color in a diamond is a delicate thing, varying from colorless white to deep yellow, brown, blue and even black. A faint shade or tone can make a world of difference.

Clarity in a diamond refers to its freedom from imperfections such as carbon spots, internal cracks or tiny bubbles. The diamond is a product of nature and nothing in nature is perfect.

The smaller the flaws and the fewer, in a diamond, the greater its value.

Regardless of clarity or size, until a diamond is cut and polished to develop fire and brilliance, its beauty is only potential. 'Cut' refers to a diamond's shape and the process by which it becomes a faceted stone, from the rough state.

Carat is the standard of weight for diamonds. A carat is divided into 100 points so that when the owner of a diamond says it is one-quarter carat, that means 25 points.

Whipping Child Isn't the Only Solution

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: This past Halloween night our son, 12, and two other boys splashed orange paint on a neighbor's porch.

The man caught one of them who told on the others. But our boy wouldn't admit the truth until my husband whipped it out of him.

I told my husband the child was too old for a whipping but he wouldn't listen.

Two days ago I missed $2 from my purse that I know the boy took out of spite. But I am afraid to tell his father. . .

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: I would be afraid to tell him, too. He would just whip again. And whipping the truth out of children is over-indulgence.

It spares them the pain of decision to tell the truth. It substitutes the body's pain for pain of the conscience. It protects children against moral responsibility.

It is also wasteful. For a child's painful decision to tell us the truth about a misdeed he has denied always involves a scramble down from his high horse to humble admission of himself as a mistaken person.

It is this state of humble self-acknowledgement that makes our correcting counsel impressive.

Without the open-mindedness resulting from the admission of a mistake, what we have to say to the child who splashed orange paint on a neighbor's front porch is just so much grown-up yak to be forgotten as soon as the pain of the whipping is over.

Your husband wasted his opportunity to discipline his son. I hope you can do better with yours.

As your husband and son both know you didn't support the whipping, I see no reason why you have to pretend that you did.

★ ★ ★

I see no reason why you should not now remind your son of this fact and say to him, "If you took that $2 out of my purse, I should be proud if you told me the truth. I would be proud because I know how hard it may be to tell the truth after what happened between you and your father. But I believe that you are brave enough to do it. So I will wait until you can."

NOT EASY

Waiting for a child to reverse a lie he has told us and give us the truth is not easy.

But if we can see that we must endure the waiting for our own sakes, we can manage it.

Our waiting is a demand for the child's trust.

It is our claim to the life of the trusted parent — and a refusal to accept the life of the untrusted one: that life of misery, of ever-increasing anxiety, of sleepless nights, the haunting sense of failure and secret despair.

Wit Wins Way for Gay Spring in Fashion

Fashion—especially the kind that heralds the springtides—need not necessarily be a serious thing according to Eric Lund—a young Norwegian, that in a scant two years, has established an impressive niche in the American couture.

Eric's spring collection sings with wit and whimsey. For instance, his deliciously deceptive coming-going coats: Through "split level" construction, many coats appear to be suits when seen from front view. The same principal is applied to dresses.

Particularly newsworthy for late day and at-home is Eric's handling of laces that have reappeared importantly on the fashion horizon. Snowy, wedding-cake lace and darker point de sprit drapes over sparkling white linen. Thick crunchy lace of spiraled horsehair lays over silk linen for at-home. Ribbon lace is mounted on crepe for a supremely elegant evening length shirtwaist.

Climaxing the collection—and the newest way to look for cocktails—is a sleeveless double breasted dress buttoned in brass and made of White Broadtail.

Wool Jersey Wins Own Way

Several years ago, a wool jersey sport jacket was introduced and it sold well, along with wool jersey slacks, in some of the finer specialty shops. According to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, it now appears to be headed for wider distribution, and should be highly successful—for it has a high degree of stretch and is extremely comfortable.

Checking details for the annual scholarship ball this Saturday are Dr. J. B. Hassberger, president of the executive committee for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and Mrs. Don Lumsden, chairman of the dance. The alumnae of the hospital's nursing school are sponsoring the dance at Glen Oaks Country Club. Adjusting the sign in the background is Nurse Barbara Kemp of Ward Road.

Beanpoles Can Be Attractive

Easy-fitting jackets with looseness around waist and extra width at the shoulders, is a slightly-longer version, will make a man look broader—thus shorter.

In patterns, heavy plaids are good—and, in fabrics, the heavier-looking fabrics like cheviots and tweeds are preferred. In sport jackets, the fuzzier and thicker-looking fabrics lend the proper look. Tall men should wear hats with low crowns. Cross-striped ties, shirts with spread collars and heavy thick-soled shoes—all contribute to a broader build.

Alterable Patterns

Alterations in pattern pieces running vertically may be tapered, but those running horizontally must be equal in width.

Pontiac City Affairs

New Vacation Schedule Approved for City Employes

City employes have a new vacation plan and firemen no longer have to worry about getting charged for sick days they did not take.

The City Commission approved resolutions last night okaying more vacation time for employes according to service time and changing personnel rules pertaining to sick leave.

Commissioners approved the added vacation time as a fringe benefit for employes this year.

The resolution gives all employes with five years continuous service three weeks vacation annually, and employes with 10 years continuous service, four weeks vacation.

RESOLUTION PASSES

The resolution passed by a 4-3 vote. Opposing it were Commissioners William H. Taylor, Charles H. Harmon and Loy L. Ledford.

The change is estimated to cost about $14,769 this year and will come from contingencies already in the budget.

There are 328 employes who are eligible for either the three- or four-week vacation this year and projected estimates are that some 550 would be enjoying the benefit by 1970.

Commissioner William H. Taylor opposed the plan on grounds that "it doesn't distribute the money being spent, evenly to all employes and departments."

UNEVEN BENEFITS

Taylor pointed out that 228 of the 328 employes benefiting this year are in the police, fire and public works departments, with the remaining 99 employes spread over 25 city departments.

Harmon pointed out that "employes can't eat a vacation. They'd rather have a pay hike if we could afford one. This doesn't give citizens more service, but less."

Ledford suggested that all fringe benefits be lumped together and the aggregate cost applied as an across-the-board pay hike.

Other commissioners indicated they'd like this too, but a 1 per cent pay hike would cost some $32,000 — more than the city could afford.

RULES RESOLUTION

The work rules resolution makes it impossible for firemen to be charged with a sick day when they're ill on their regular day off.

Until now, firemen, because of their unusual shift schedules, have frequently been charged with sick days when the day was actually one they weren't scheduled to work anyway.

In other business, commissioners okayed a time extension to City Assessor Edward C. Bloe, who otherwise would become eligible for mandatory retirement this month.

Bloe, about to turn 65, will now remain in the position until August. He is also eligible for a second six-month time extension but the limit is two.

An ordinance to more carefully regulate and control exits and fire doors in apartment buildings and to provide for sprinkler systems in basements of apartment buildings was unanimously adopted.

The ordinance was offered last week by Commissioner Dick M. Kirby in the wake of an apartment fire several weeks ago in Kirby's district.

Readies Trip to Alaska for Boys in Area

Plans are under way for the annual boys' trip to Alaska, conducted by Lake Angelus resident Edward J. Kuhn, a teacher in the Hazel Park High School.

Any boy who is willing to earn and save at least one-third of the cost of the three-week trek is eligible to go, according to Kuhn, 2295 N. Lake Angelus. The parents supply the balance.

Cost of the trip, which will begin from Detroit July 10, is $430 for boys under 12 years and $595 for boys 12 and over.

Noted Republican Dies

Orders Trial in Theft at Farmington Store

Accused of holding up a Sanders store in downtown Farmington for $165, a 53-year-old Northville man Monday stood mute in Circuit Court to a charge of armed robbery.

Gingell was returned to the county jail to await trial when he was unable to furnish $5,000 bond. No trial date was set.

He'll Be a Singing Citizen

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "I pay my taxes here, so why shouldn't I enjoy living in this country?" thus singing sensation Sergio Franchi explains why he is making America his home.

THOMAS

His taxes are getting higher all the time as his success grows in night clubs, records and television. He doesn't seem to mind paying. He admires the honesty of American taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

"In Italy it is different," he said. "There you wear a beard and your oldest clothes when you go to declare your income. You say you earned a million lire last year, and the tax collector immediately figures you earned 10 million. So you haggle back and forth until you slip some money into his hand. Then he puts you down for one million and everybody is happy."

DIFFERENT HERE

It's different here. Franchi is now equipped with tax advisers, as well as a manager, a squad of agents and publicists, and all of the trappings of American success. His career has been snowballing with appearances in Las Vegas and top supper clubs, television dates with Ed Sullivan and Victor Borge, a Carnegie Hall concert, etc.

The classically profiled tenor was in Hollywood for a Feb. 14 Bob Hope show. He indicated that he hopes to adopt a more sensible schedule.

At least he won't have to be commuting to his home in England. He is bringing his wife and two children to New York next month. He said he is planning to begin procedure for American citizenship.

Settling in America would end an odyssey that has carried Franchi over three continents. He was born in Cremona, Italy, then emigrated with his parents to South Africa in 1952. He studied voice and scored success in operas. But he knew he would have to return to Italy for additional seasoning.

LANDED IN ENGLAND

He made his debut in Cremona and toured throughout Europe until he landed in England. An appearance on the television show "Sunday Night at the Palladium" proved the turning point. An RCA - Victor recording contract followed, and he was on his way.

★ ★ ★

Franchi has no regrets about pursuing the pop field instead of opera.

★ ★ ★

"It's not only the money that I like," he said. "You're much closer to an audience in a night club, and you get a warmer response."

'A Liberation Force'

Priest Seeks Arms for Haitian Exiles

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest from Haiti is spearheading a drive in South America to raise funds for arms and equipment to outfit what he calls a Haitian liberation army.

"Violence is condemned when it is exercised against a legally constituted government," says Father Jean - Baptiste Georges, who identifies himself as a former minister of education under Haitian President Francois Duvalier.

★ ★ ★

"But violence against tyranny is permitted," declared the big, mild-mannered priest who fled his native land eight months ago after having taken refuge in the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince.

Father Georges says trained Haitian exiles are grouped in three secret locations around the Caribbean awaiting the jump-off signal.

NEED ARMS

"All these men need are arms. I am here to find the money to arm them," he told newsmen.

Haitian exiles refuse to spell out how many men they have or where their invasion force is based. They hint there is a single leader of their revolutionary movement, but decline to identify him.

"It wouldn't be hard for Duvalier to eliminate such a man, no matter where he is," Father Georges comments.

The priest claims the anti - Duvalier force will be in Haiti before the end of 1964 — and without U.S. aid.

Father Georges, who said he broke with Duvalier in 1959 after having served 18 months as minister of education, claims there is organized resistance within Haiti but that the president's measures keep their efforts in check.

★ ★ ★

"The more important nucleus of resistance is abroad," he said. "We will buy arms wherever they are offered."

He said the exile movement will not seek aid from Cuba or the Soviet Union. "That sort of help has too many strings attached."

Junior Editors Quiz on CAMERA

ANSWER: When a camera's shutter clicks, light falls on a sensitive coating of silver salts covering the film. These salts retain a "memory" of the pattern of lights and darks.

Developing with chemicals changes the silver salts which have been affected by the light to various densities of metallic silver; then when the films passed through a "fixing" bath, silver salts not reached by the light are washed away, leaving clear film.

Paper is used in making the final prints has also received a light-sensitive coating. When the developed film—called a negative — is placed over the print paper, light will come through the clear negative areas and turn these dark on the paper.

Developing is best done in total darkness, but a faint red light can be used. Jerry is using the kitchen with red cellophane around a lamp.

Holding the film with clip clothespins, he is passing it through the developer. Then he will use the rinse and the fixing bath.

Finally he will wash the film in running water and hang it up to dry. He is following the directions given on the packages of developing and fixing materials.

★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Get your parents consent and advice if you want to try developing film at home. Cover kitchen sink and table with newspapers. Be sure there's no light except the faint red one.

Area Paving Has to Wait

Motorists who find the going rough on Mount Clemens Road between the I-75 freeway and Squirrel Road have little hope for smoother riding before summer, according to the Oakland County Road Commission.

New 24-foot-wide concrete is to be installed over the 1,700-foot long gravel surfaced stretch as part of the road commission's 1964 road construction program—but not before summer.

Mercer said the new pavement could not be installed previously because the State Highway Department did not complete the Mount Clemens overpass at the I-75 freeway until about three months ago.

He said bids for the work will be taken in May.

★

In the meantime, "Our maintenance department has been instructed to keep the road in as good condition as possible," Mercer said. "But the drainage is bad and we can't do much about it as long as the ground is frozen."

Police-Peon Clash Kills Twelve Peruvians

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Official reports reaching Lima said 12 persons were killed Tuesday and scores injured when police clashed with peasants who invaded 14 mills in the San Pablo district.

★ ★ ★

Unofficial reports said 22 were killed, included several women.

Youth to Be Tried in Car Crash Death

Thomas was released on $1,000 bond pending trial. No trial date was set.

★ ★ ★

The youth is accused in the Jan. 19 death of Laverne Williams, of 500½ S. Paddock. Laverne was a passenger in a car driven by Thomas that ran off Woodward and struck a tree.

Detroit Cleanest City

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit was named Tuesday as the cleanest city in the nation in the 700,000 and over population class. The award was made in the National Cleanest Town Achievement Contest, sponsored by the National Clean Up - Paint Up - Fix Up Bureau. Grandville, Mich., near Grand Rapids, was named winner of an achievement award.

Queen Mother Well After Operation

LONDON (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth had a comfortable night and slept well after her emergency appendectomy, her household said today.

"Her condition generally is satisfactory," said a bulletin from Clarence House, London residence of the 63-year-old widow of King George VI.

The Queen Mother was operated on yesterday. A lady in waiting said she doubted if she would be allowed visitors today.

About 40,000 men are employed in Bombay delivering lunches daily to half a million workers and students. Reason: it is considered beneath the dignity of most family men to carry a lunch pail.

Ex-Treasury Chief

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Humphrey of Cleveland, former Secretary of the treasury, was appointed Tuesday as finance director of the Goldwater for President campaign—in the Great Lakes region. The Washington campaign headquarters of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Humphrey will oversee finance work in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

ORANGE OMELET — For a change in the way you serve eggs, try a sweet omelet that has oranges in and on top of it. Sour cream adds a final garnish.

Top Orange Omelet With Sour Cream

This luscious French style omelet comes to the table filled with sweet juicy pieces of California navel orange and a sour cream topping. So good and so quick to make, it's a breakfast treat and a lunch or brunch special.

Each California navel orange is a virtual storehouse of nutrition and eating pleasure and an excellent source of vitamin C and many other components for good health.

Orange-Sour Cream Omelet

3 oranges, peeled, cut into bite-size pieces
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
6 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
Nutmeg
Orange half cartwheels

Combine orange pieces and ¼ cup confectioners' sugar, blending well. Combine eggs, salt, water and grated orange peel; beat with fork until just mixed and slightly frothy.

Melt butter in large skillet; tilt pan to make sure the sizzling butter coats bottom and sides evenly. Pour eggs into skillet; cook over low heat.

As mixture sets, draw the cooked portions from the edge to center with fork. Let uncooked portions flow to bottom, tilting skillet until eggs are set and surface is still moist. Increase heat to brown bottom quickly.

Drain orange pieces; spoon onto half of omelet. With spatula, loosen edge of omelet; tilt skillet and fold half of omelet over oranges. Slide omelet onto heated platter.

Spread top of omelet with sour cream sweetened with 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar. Slip under broiler for a minute or two. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Serve at once with orange half cartwheels. Makes 3-4 servings.

Apple Juice Eggnog

Beat 4 egg whites until stiff; gradually add 4 tablespoons sugar, beating constantly. Beat 4 egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Fold into egg white. Gradually add 4 cups chilled apple juice, mixing constantly. Serve in punch cups with dusting of nutmeg. This makes 10 servings.

Meaty Dish Is Cooked Slowly

A dish that is earmarked "especially for family" is Mother's Pride Sauced Beef. A generous portion of browned beef chunks is sauced with a "seasoned to a T" combination of tomatoes and corn.

Complete the meal with baked potatoes, a large tossed salad with the family's favorite dressing, and Apple Crisp for dessert.

Mother's Price Sauced Beef

1½ lbs. round steak (cut 1-inch thick)
One-third cup flour
2 tablespoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup shortening
1 medium size onion
1 clove garlic
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
1 can (12 or 16 oz.) whole kernel corn
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Cut beef into 1-inch chunks and coat with a mixture of the flour, salt and pepper. Brown beef well in shortening; remove beef from skillet.

Add sliced onion and minced garlic; cook until tender. Stir in remaining flour mixture. Add tomatoes, drained corn and Worcestershire sauce; cook until thickened, stirring.

Return beef to skillet; mix. Pour into a casserole. Cover and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) about 1½ hours, until beef is tender. Four to six servings.

Plan Pancake Dessert Party

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Pancakes were once served on Shrove Tuesday to use up the rich foods in the house. This was preparation for Lent when there were stringent lows of diet.

Now it's just fun to serve pancakes on Shrove Tuesday which is next Tuesday.

Ever think of having a pancake dessert party? Invite your friends to come after they've put the children to bed. Have a variety of pancakes ready—some you'll prepare ahead of time — others you'll fix as the guests are served.

The make-ahead pancakes are served with a piquant hot fruit sauce made with canned apple slices.

Shrove Tuesday Pancakes

½ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
2½ cups canned apple slices
2 3-inch cinnamon sticks
2 fresh orange slices, quartered
3 eggs, beaten
½ cup milk
½ cup pancake mix
¼ cup butter or margarine

★ ★ ★

In a skillet, combine orange juice, lemon juice, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Add apple slices, cinnamon sticks and pieces of orange. Simmer about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat. Cover.

Heat 1 teaspoon butter in a 5-inch frying pan over medium heat until it begins to sizzle. Pour in a thin layer of batter, about 2 tablespoons, enough to coat bottom of pan. Bake until lightly browned on under side, turn and bake on other side.

Remove from pan, fold in half, then in quarters. Repeat until all batter is used (12 pancakes).

Place folded pancakes in skillet with apple slices. Heat uncovered 5 to 10 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Serve hot. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

Chocolate dessert pancakes may be a do-it-yourself type; or you may prefer to have some one person baking the pancakes on an electric grill. Then the guests can select their own sauces and fillings.

Chocolate Dessert Pancakes

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup butter
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1½ squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
⅔ cup milk
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix flour, baking powder, and soda and sift together. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add melted chocolate; then flour mixture alternately with milk and vanilla, beating after each addition until smooth.

Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto hot greased griddle. Spread slightly with spatula. Bake until bubbly on top and brown on bottom. Turn and brown other side. Serve warm or cold with your choice of toppings.

Makes 12 to 15 cakes, about 4 inches in diameter.

Cocoa Whipped Cream Filling

1 tablespoon cocoa
Dash of salt
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
½ cup whipping cream
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Mix cocoa and salt with the sugar; add to cream and chill for 1 hour before beating. Then beat until mixture holds its shape. Do not overbeat. Makes one cup.

Chocolate Sauce

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
6 tablespoons water
½ cup granulated sugar
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Combine chocolate and water in saucepan and place over low heat, stirring until blended. Add sugar and salt. Cook until sugar is dissolved and mixture very slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add butter and vanilla. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

Maple-Peach Sauce

½ cup maple-blended syrup
⅔ to ¾ cup diced canned cling peaches, drained

Combine syrup and peaches. Chill, if desired. Makes about 1 cup.

Peppy Croutons

For a tangy topping for a 15¼ ounce can spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese, just top a small casserole of the spaghetti with croutons . . . like these. Lightly mix a cup soft bread cubes with 2 tablespoons melted butter and ¼ teaspoon chili powder. Bake casserole at 400 degrees about 15 minutes or until spaghetti is bubbling and croutons are lightly browned. Serve to 2 or 3.

Causes: Money, Wife and Mother-in-Law

More Husbands Are Skipping Out Than Ever Before

By FRANCIS STILLEY

Last year in the United States more than 75,000 took off from home and hearthside.

Why? Money problems, spouse strife and mother-in-law misery, in almost equal measure.

These facts come from the Tracers Co. of America, which used to be known as "skip tracers" and which has tracked down more than a half million missing persons in its 40-year history.

"The number of husbands who have disappeared each year since 1950 has steadily increased and is now at an all-time high," said general manager Ed Goldfader.

One of the oddest aspects of it is, he said, that "practically all of the wives victimized by such an abandonment had one thing in common—they had no idea that their husbands were going to take off."

Goldfader said his company's files show the average husband who skips out is a man of this description:

Age: 44 to 51 years. Occupation: salesman or semiexecutive. Education: 2½ years of college. Personality: amiable and aggressive.

Goldfader said a big factor triggering "takeoffs is credit buying.

"They buy little things and more little things and still more little things, all for small amounts a month on the installment plan."

★ ★ ★

"Then they discover all the little things all add up to one large amount—more than the fellow's earning."

★ ★ ★

As skipperoos go, they go in all directions — including both husbands and wives. But even the directions fall into a pattern, says Goldfader.

Easterners go to California or Florida. Westerners and Southerners come to New York. Midwesterners go to California. Southwesterners go to Illinois. In most all cases, they head for the big cities.

FEWER WIVES

The number of runaway wives Goldfader's company was asked to trace last year was only about 1/25th the number of men.

★ ★ ★

State Senate Asks Congress for School Prayer Amendment

A Protestant, Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, said his concurrent resolution was in reaction to the U. S. Supreme Court's decision against a state prayer in New York last year.

The measure, which was sent to the House for further action, asks Congress to propose an amendment or to call a convention to add an article providing that "free exercise of religion shall include the right to offer prayers in public schools."

★ ★ ★

In the face of opposition from senators of the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths, Zaagman piloted his measure to victory on a show of 18 hands.

NOT TALLIED

A record vote by name was avoided on the sensitive issue, and the negative vote was not tallied because 18 votes carries any concurrent resolution in the 34-member Senate.

In the down-to-the-wire battle for votes, Sen. Charles Blondy, D-Detroit, a Jew, and William Ford, D-Taylor, a Roman Catholic, bitterly attacked the Zaagman resolution.

Zaagman, a member of the Seymour Christian Reformed Church in Grand Rapids, said he was sponsoring the resolution because he feared a trend toward atheism in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Blondy said the fact that Zaagman introduced the resolution "carries the implication that the churches in Grand Rapids are falling down — that they need the schools to do this work."

'NOT TRUE'

"This is not true," said Blondy. "I commend the church people of Grand Rapids. I have faith in the parents of America's children.

★ ★ ★

"Let's leave all religious training to the church and the home," Blondy said.

Zaagman fought down three separate attempts to kill or at least sidetrack his resolution by means of referral to a committee. Each time a 16-14 vote kept the resolution before the Senate.

★ ★ ★

Zaagman answered Blondy's floor speech only by saying: "I didn't expect Sen. Blondy to get into the Grand Rapids churches on this—we'll leave it at that."

Ford stood next to Zaagman on the Senate floor and glared at him, saying: "I don't believe Sen. Zaagman has the foggiest notion of what the Supreme Court of the United States has ruled on this."

★ ★ ★

"I resent being put in the position of someone using a political whipsaw just to win favor with a certain group," Ford said.

"Sen. Zaagman insists if we're against his language and his resolution, then we're against Christianity."

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, an Episcopalian, said the Zaagman resolution had no meaning, because of the U. S. Supreme Court never has ruled against anyone's right to pray anywhere.

"The position of the Supreme Court is that you can't be compelled to pray in a public school where attendance is required. The court never has said you don't have the right to offer prayer in school," Brown said.

Former Foe Backs Minimum Wage Bill for Election Year OK

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Allison Green today joined the list of long-time foes of minimum wage legislation who predict that a wage floor bill backed by Gov. George Romney's administration will be approved this year.

Green — one of the legislature's most outspoken opponents of minimum wage in years past —said he personally will support the proposal, which was to be filed today for introduction.

The bill, drafted following months of study by a legislative interim committee, is modeled after the Federal Wage Law in that it calls for a progressive scale starting at $1 and rising to $1.25 at the end of two years.

With Rep. Don Gordon, R-Leland, chairman of the interim committee, as chief sponsor, the bill will carry strong bipartisan support.

STRONGEST VOICE

★ ★ ★

Green has predicted flatly that the bill will be approved. So has Romney, who last year advocated passage of a similar bill defeated on the last night of the regular session.

★ ★ ★

Green said he was satisfied that the new proposal meets the objections that caused him to oppose minimum wage legislation in prior years.

★ ★ ★

"One of these was that the subject hadn't been given enough study. Another was that 1964 would be a more appropriate year for passage of such a bill," said the Kingston Republican.

ELECTION YEAR

The House Speaker told newsmen last year, and confirmed it again Tuesday, that he had advised Romney in the early part of 1963 that passage of a minimum wage bill might best be held off until an election year.

Green said he assumed the bill would be supported by Democrats in the House but nevertheless thought it possible that Republicans could pass it without the help of the minority party.

★ ★ ★

Predictions that the proposal will pass also have come from House GOP Floor Leader Robert Waldron, R - Grosse Pointe, and Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, chairman of the labor committee, both arch foes of minimum wage in past sessions.

★ ★ ★

Waldron said his feelings about minimum wage law have not changed but he said he nevertheless expects the administration-backed measure to be approved.

POWER PLAY

A minimum wage bill passed the Senate in 1963 and came out of Van Til's committee as the result of a power play by rebellious members, led by Rep. Marie Hager, R-Lansing.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time in history that a minimum wage bill had ever reached the House floor.

But on the last night of the regular session, it was systematically killed by opponents who stalled out the midnight deadline.

Gordon's joint House-Senate committee traveled several thousand miles, held hearings in numerous Michigan cities and visited other states in compiling data on which to base its plan.

Under the bill, the wage scale would go into effect at $1 on Jan. 1, 1965, advance to $1.15 on Jan. 1, 1966 and increase to $1.25 on Jan. 1, 1967.

Bill Liberalizes Law Authority

DETROIT (AP)—A law allowing police more freedom in making arrests and a "half-way house for juveniles" was proposed Tuesday as a method to help curtail continuing violence in Detroit schools.

The Detroit Common Council ordered the drafting of the proposed state law for submission to the legislature.

The measure, proposed by Police Commissioner Ray Girardin, would permit police to arrest without a warrant a person they believe has committed or is committing a misdemeanor. Present state law allows such arrests only in suspected felonies.

While expressing concern over a possible invasion of civil liberties, the council ordered the measure prepared after Councilman Ed Carey told them today is the deadline for submitting proposed bills to the state's legal drafting bureau.

HARD CORE

Both Girardin and Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln have expressed belief that there exists a "hard core of 300 incorrigibles" who are primarily responsible for a recent outbreak of violence in Detroit schools.

★ ★ ★

Judge Lincoln, who has said there is no room for such youths in state institutions, said perhaps a start can be made in finding a solution by "getting some of these kids off the street."

He hopes to set up a "half-way house" in Wayne County which would be the first of its kind in the nation and which would serve as a residence for delinquents who show potential for rehabilitation.

He said the youngsters would attend school or have jobs during the day and that their nighttime activities would be strictly regulated.

Taxicab Tycoon Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—William Lansing Rothschild, 75, who developed a cigar store sideline into the largest taxicab company on the Pacific Coast, died Monday after a long illness. Rothschild, president of an investment firm, was cofounder of Yellow Cab and was its president for 31 years until its sale in 1961 for $5.5 million.

Peace Talks Open; Hope Slight for End to Malaysia Woes

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The foreign ministers of Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines today opened the Malaysian peace conference that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy arranged.

Despite statements from all sides expressing hope for agreement, there was no evidence that Malaysia and Indonesia could resolve their differences.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio, who also is President Sukarno's first deputy premier, indicated he would demand an end to British influence and military presence in Malaysia as Indonesia's price for ending its year-long campaign against its smaller neighbor.

Malaysia was not expected to give up the protection of British troops who are defending the new federation's Borneo frontier against infiltrators from Indonesian Borneo. Britain is not likely to walk out of her major bases in Malaysia without a fight.

SUMMIT GOAL

The foreign ministers' conference, which Kennedy arranged during his recent swing through Southeast Asia, has as its goal a summit meeting of Sukarno, Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

The crisis, which threatens another shooting war in Southeast Asia, stems from the formation of British-backed Malaysia last September.

The new federation united Malaya, Singapore and the British colonial territories of Sarawak and North Borneo, now Sabah. Sukarno claims the new state is a neocolonialist plot designed to perpetuate British rule.

NO RECOGNITION

The Philippines, which claims Sabah, refused to recognize Malaysia but Macapagal's opposition has been much less violent than Sukarno's.

★ ★ ★

The conflict has led to a guerrilla war along the 800-mile jungle border separating Malaysia from Indonesian Borneo.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy got Indonesia and Malaysia to agree to a cease-fire along the border. It has been a shaky one, with both sides accusing each other of violations. But fighting has generally subsided.

★ ★ ★

Observers believe the break between Indonesia and Malaysia has widened to the point where a compromise between them would be difficult to reach.

COMMUNIST BACKERS

Indonesia, with its 100 million population, has hammered home its determination to crush Malaysia.

The Indonesian Communist party, largest outside the Communist bloc, has been the strongest supporter of this campaign and has pressured Sukarno against relaxing opposition to Malaysia.

Malaysia, a tiny nation of 10 million, has announced its determination to fight a war, if necessary, to preserve its freedom. Britian, Australia and New Zealand have pledged their support.

The United States, because of treaty commitments, could be drawn into any fullscale conflict.

Gov. Romney Lashes Out at 'Outdated' Labor Laws

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney lashed out Tuesday at what he termed the nation's outdated labor laws and unnecessary intervention by the White House in some labor disputes.

Romney did not mention President Lyndon Johnson by name in his address to 3,400 delegates and guests at a luncheon sponsored by the National Automobile Dealers Association in convention here.

It was one of the strongest stands Romney, often mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for President, has taken on national issues.

Romney said Federal laws governing labor relations were written for the most part in the 1930's when labor organizations were emerging as a potent force in the nation's economy.

DRASTIC CHANGE

"Our economy has changed drastically since then, but the government has refused to rewrite the rules," he said.

The first-term Republican governor said that labor must accept the discipline of competition in our economic system, rather than seek government intervention."

★ ★ ★

Romney indicated he was concerned about recent government intervention in steel and railroad industry labor-management disputes.

He urged an updating of the rules which govern the government's role in labor disputes.

UNSETTLING

"I can't imagine anything more unsettling in this type of dispute than for the White House to say 'we'll step in when we want' without setting up the rules of the bargaining so all can understand them," he said.

Presidents of five U. S. auto firms—Arjay R. Miller of Ford, Lynn Townsend of Chrysler, John B. Gordon of General Motors, Roy Abernethy of American Motors and Byers Burlingame of Studebaker — were among the Romney audience. Others included Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of Ford Motor Co.

Romney repeated a theme he has stressed many times that labor, as well as management, needs to use its power wisely, in business and at the bargaining table.

He said, "There is no adequate substitute for the competition among various segments of our free economy. The alternative is an authoritarian government."

The governor described as "misleading nonsense" the theory that there is an affluent society in America.

He said, "in addition to the unemployed and poverty ridden, most American families are still engaged in a hand-to-mouth struggle to make ends meet. The present average of $125 weekly income for American families is far from adequate," he said.

★ ★ ★

"We need government leadership that understands our economic principles and has faith in their superiority," Romney told the dealers. "I am concerned about what is happening in this country, morally and spiritually," he added.

ROME (AP) — Italy and the Soviet Union signed a two-year cultural agreement Tuesday, providing for exchanges of university professors and of the La Scala and Bolshoi theatrical troupes.

Charge Pair in Theft of D.C. Papers

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury indictment charging interstate transportation of stolen property was returned Tuesday against a couple accused of stealing documents and books from the National Archives at Washington, D. C., and Wayne State University in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Assistant U. S. Atty. William Merrill said the indictment, naming Robert B. Murphy, 43, and his wife, Elizabeth, 32, concerns the transportation to Chicago of rare books valued at more than $5,000.

★ ★ ★

The books were allegedly stolen from the Wayne State University library and were among books, maps and documents confiscated by FBI agents in Chicago, Merrill said.

★ ★ ★

No trial date was set by Federal Judge Talbot Smith, but the couple was expected to be arraigned later this week, Merrill said.

THEFT CHARGED

The Murphys, arrested Jan. 2 also are charged with the theft of documents from the National Archives. The FBI asserted that documents found at the Murphys' home include approximately 50 letters written by President James Monroe and letters written by many prominent 19th Century American statesmen.

★ ★ ★

The couple also has been charged with mail fraud and fraud by wire on warrants from Pensacola, Fla., Camden, N. J. and Scranton, Pa.

Argentina, which started raising tea in the 1930's now exports 11 million pounds a year. The Netherlands and Britain are major customers.

Cong Overruns Viet HQ Post

Mekong Delta Raid Kills 12 Soldiers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist guerrillas overran a government military headquarters in the Mekong Delta yesterday, killing 12 Vietnamese soldiers in their biggest attack there since November.

The Viet Cong retreated when Vietnamese planes dropped flares to illuminate Communist positions in the predawn attack 55 miles south of the capital.

The Communists left 6 dead and government losses included 20 wounded. Military sources said there was evidence the Viet Cong toll was higher.

At one point, the defenders of the headquarters, in the village of Hau My, fired point-blank at the guerrillas with a 105-millimeter howitzer, but were not able to stop their attack.

POST-COUP ATTACK

The Viet Cong last attacked in such force in the delta shortly after the November coup that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Yesterday's attack followed reports of stepped-up Communist activity in the wake of the second coup last week, which replaced the junta chairman, Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, with Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Military sources said earlier in the week that the guerrillas had doubled their small-scale raids and ambushes since Khanh's coup, increasing their number from about 30 to 60 a day.

It was believed that the Viet Cong leadership was testing the strength and the morale of the Vietnamese Army after two changes of government leadership in three months.

STUDENT DEMANDS

About 1,000 students demanded the return of Minh in a peaceful demonstration in Saigon yesterday.

The marchers did not criticize Khanh, but they carried signs and shouted slogans that said "Minh Is No. 1."

Suspect Turned Over to Michigan by FBI

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Frank Joel McNamara, wanted in Detroit on an armed robbery charge, was released to Michigan officers Tuesday by federal authorities. McNamara, arrested last weekend in Miami by FBI agents, was being held on $25,000 bond on a fugitive charge pending arrangements for his return to Detroit.

Reds in Laos Said on Move

Threaten Key Points Near Mekong River

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Communist-led forces have posted new gains in supposedly-neutral Laos, and have moved closer to an important Mekong River Port, U.S. officials reported yesterday.

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said that, according to neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma and other central government officials, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao are being supported by troops from Communist North Viet Nam.

McCloskey said the Pathet Lao, who last year forced the neutralists out of their headquarters in the Lak Sao area, have stepped up their pressure in that portion of central Laos and in attacks during January moved closer to Thakhek, on the Mekong River.

Thakhek separates Laos from Thailand.

Communist control of Thakhek would block the main north-south supply route of the central government and also close one of the two principal roads into neighboring pro-Western Thailand.

McCloskey said the three-nation international control commission, composed of representatives of Canada, India and Communist Poland, was ready to go to the area to check on the reported violations of the Geneva accord but was awaiting facilities to be provided by the neutralist government.

Ban Smoking in N.Y. Hotel, Motel Beds

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Council has passed an ordinance that would make it illegal to smoke in bed in any hotel or motel.

Fire Commissioner Edward Thompson told the council Tuesday that 589 fire deaths in the city last year resulted from smoking in bed.

Councilman Theodore R. Kupferman said the measure "would make us the laughing stock of the nation," adding that to enforce it "would require breaking into rooms to get evidence."

OAS Eying Canal Probe

Now Empowered to Set Action for Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—The council of the Organization of American States is expected to appoint a special team to look into Panamanian charges of U.S. aggression in the recent Panama Canal Zone rioting.

The council meets late today as what is called the organ of consultation.

By a 16-1 vote, it decided yesterday to invoke the Inter-American Treaty of Mutual Assistance and turn itself into the organ, which is empowered to suggest collective measures to insure peace in the Western Hemisphere.

★ ★ ★

Under the 1947 Rio Treaty, the OAS ambassadors continue meeting as the organ of consultation, but each can be supplanted by his nation's foreign minister any time the latter see fit.

ANOTHER GROUP

Yesterday's action came after another OAS group, a five-nation Inter-American Peace Committee, failed in efforts to mediate the dispute between the United States and Panama.

The United States has agreed to discuss all of its differences with Panama, but the latter has insisted the United States promise in advance that it will agree to renegotiation of the 1903 treaty under which the United States controls the Panama Canal Zone.

In yesterday's vote, Chile cast the sole opposing vote, while the United States and Panama did not vote.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, former U.S. Ambassador Joseph S. Farland said he has not been asked for advice from any government official about events in Panama.

Farland, the last U.S. ambassador in Panama before the present violence erupted, resigned last August amid differences with administration officials.

Spray Can Foils Thugs After Purse

DETROIT (AP) — Two would-be purse snatchers emerged second best in an encounter with a young woman who turned out to be armed — with an aerosol bomb.

Roberta Luce, 27, of Detroit told police one of the young thugs attacked her Monday night, grabbing for her throat with one hand and reaching for her purse with the other.

She said a passing car distracted her assailant and his companion, allowing her to flee to the middle of the street and reach into her pocket for the bomb, with which she sprayed one of the thugs.

★ ★ ★

The bomb, filled with a substance which temporarily stings the eyes, gives off an offensive odor and ,stains the target red, apparently caused the pair to flee, police said.

ARRESTED PAIR

Officers, called to the scene by Miss Luce, later picked up two youths, one of whom gave off a pungent odor and whose coat bore red stains.

Scientific Breakthrough

Hangover Measure: A Service to Man

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The failure of the Ranger 6 spacecraft to get close-up pictures of the moon was a big disappointment to us all. But cheer up!

WEST

At this very moment another spectacular scientific project is getting under way. Perhaps it will turn out better.

The program I speak of is known as the "West-McHale project" everywhere except in Flint, Mich., where it is known as the "McHale-West project."

As chief coordinator of research, I am proud to lend my name to the enterprise and to identify as my associate the distinguished Terry McHale of the Flint Journal, who is chief theoretician.

Our goal is to develop universal standards for measuring the intensity of hangovers.

In his original prospectus, which I have reduced to terms understandable to the layman, McHale noted that there is at present no accepted scale for rating the severity of hangovers except the descriptions offered by the victims.

LACK EXACTITUDE

Comments such as "Even my hair hurts," or "If you think my eyes look bad, you should see them from my side" are graphic enough. But they lack scientific exactitude.

"After much research, I have discarded the idea of trying to measure hangovers by the inch, gallon, decibel or megaton," McHale wrote.

★ ★ ★

"But there is one system of measurement that holds promise. It is the Richter scale, which, as every amateur seismologist knows, is used to describe the intensity of earthquakes.

10 NUMBERS

"The scale consists of 10 numbers, each succeeding one representing an intensity 10 times greater than the preceding one. Thus 2 is 10 times greater than 1, and 3 is 10 times more severe than 2.

"For theoretical purposes, a hangover which is a mere temple-throbber can be assigned a value of 1. The value 2 represents a temple-throbber plus queasy stomach, heartburn and dizziness. And so on up the line to 10, which is complete and permanent disability.

"Full-scale field tests are needed for verification, however, and you are in a unique position to conduct them. The Washington cocktail circuit offers ideal conditions for such a study.

"If you can bring this project to fruition, all humanity will be in your debt."

★ ★ ★

No sooner said than done, McHale. I'll have my first report tomorrow, Or, if I'm unable to make it to the office tomorrow, sometime next week.

'Drinking Increases With Education'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The more education an American has, the more apt he is to drink, says Robert W. Jones, assistant director of the Center of Alcohol Studies at Rutgers University.

★ ★ ★

Well over half of the people with only an elementary education drink, he said. Approximately 70 per cent of the people with high school educations drink and the percentage is greater among college graduates, Jones said.

★ ★ ★

Teen-agers generally drink if their parents do, Jones told a lecture group Tuesday night. He said most American drinkers start at the age of 16 or 17.

Police Don Spurs to Halt Hungry Herd

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — Clovis police doubled as cowboys Tuesday night as some 50 range cattle wandered into this storm-isolated city.

The cattle were said to be walking around residential areas, apparently looking for something to eat.

2 Are Killed, 4 Injured in Bolivia Plane Crash

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — A Bolivian airliner with 28 persons aboard crashed shortly after takeoff Tuesday. The pilot and a passenger were killed, and four persons were injured.

The two-engine DC3 went down five miles from the La Paz airport. The plane was headed for Salta, Argentina. There were no reports of Americans aboard.

Practice Makes Perfect

Brush Up Your Double-Talk

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you brushed up on your double-talk lately?

BOYLE

Double-talk, it will be recalled, is the art of saying one thing while thinking another.

"I don't know what I'd do without you." But I'd sure like to give it a try.

"Yes, sir, I recommend the corned beef highly. As a matter of fact, I had it myself before coming on duty." that explains why I've got these gas pains right now.

★ ★ ★

"Receiving this company 25-year pin, boss, makes me feel more humbly grateful than words can say. I'll always treasure it." This always has been a cheap outfit. I know a lot of firms that give a guy a gold watch after 25 years.

★ ★ ★

"As his teacher, Mrs. Smythe, I can assure you that your little boy is not backward — despite his low marks." He's just downright dumb like his mother.

STOLEN IDEA

"It sounds like a great idea, chief. You're a real genius." But how come you didn't like it last year, when I suggested it to you myself?

"Oh, pardon me, is this your umbrella? I thought it was mine." And it would have been — if you hadn't caught me.

"No, Henry, I'm not really a cold career girl at heart. All I want is a little home I can make cozy for someone I love." And some chump like you, buddy boy, to pay the bills.

"He's in an important conference right now. May I take the message?" Then I can fly it out to him on the golf course by messenger pigeon.

GO TEAM GO

"I decided I'd rather play football for this university because of its educational benefits and the fact that I admire the coach." How can you beat a school where the alumni guarantee you $500 for every touchdown you make?

"Anytime I can be of further service to you, don't hesitate to call on me." Somehow I'll figure a way to be out of hearing.

Blizzards Isolate Towns in Five Southwestern U.S. States

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Scores of towns and cities were isolated and traffic was paralyzed as a blizzard swept ponderously through portions of five southwestern states Tuesday.

Snowfalls of 6 to 25 inches were whipped into drifts up to 10 feet in eastern New Mexico, southeastern Colorado, southwestern Kansas and the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of cars, trucks and an occasional bus dotted the sides of the highways and streets, abandoned by occupants now snowbound in motels and hotels. Schools, offices and stores remained closed in many cities and towns except for emergency use.

Texas Gov. John B. Connally put Amarillo on an emergency basis and mobilized the National Guard for duty. The snowfall ranged between 10 and 15 inches in the area.

The heaviest snow was 25 inches at Barger, Tex. The snow continued through the night over widely scattered areas but was generally expected to end by midmorning as the storm weakens and moves slowly eastward, spreading rain across the Gulf states and lower Mississippi Valley.

The weather was blamed for the four deaths in New Mexico and three in southeast Texas.

Helicopters stood by waiting for the weather to clear to join a search for two cowboys missing in the Texas Panhandle since Tuesday.

Liberal, Kan., had 10 inches of snow, Guymoon, Okla., and Trinidad, Colo., 12, Boise City, Okla., reported 15½, Ruidoso, N.M., 16, and Panhandle, Tex., 19½.

Other Texas cities reported these amounts: Muleshoe, 9 inches, Hereford 11, and Claude, 14.

Far to the south of the blizzard, rain was blamed for three deaths in a car-truck collision during a storm near Winnine in southeastern Texas.

A tornado struck near Eagle Lake in the Houston area, injuring a railroad worker when his trailer house was overturned. Utility poles and trees were felled and a hanger at the Eagle Lake airport was demolished.

Defense Drives to Ruin State Case Against Beckwith

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The defense calls new witnesses today in a drive to rip up the state's case against Byron De La Beckwith, charged with murder.

Hardy Lott of Greenwood, chief defense lawyer, said he hoped to wind up the 10-day-old trial by tomorrow.

The prosecution rested its case yesterday. In nearly four days of testimony, Dist. Atty. William L. Waller called 35 witnesses in an effort to prove Beckwith ambushed Medgar Evers.

Evers, 37, was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was killed by a sniper when he stepped from his car at his home here last June 12.

CLIMAXES CASE

Waller climaxed his case with two pretty girls who told the all-white jury that a car, which Beckwith's, was parked near the they positively identified as murder scene on the night of the shooting.

Waller's final witness, Dr. F. G. Bratley of Jackson, testified that a new pink scar arched over Beckwith's right eye could have been due to a blow from a telescopic sight jolted backward by a rifle's recoil.

Evers was killed by a bullet from a 30.06 Enfield. A rifle of that make was found carefully hidden about 150 feet from the sniper's nest where the killer lay in wait.

★ ★ ★

A defense hint that Beckwith's Enfield, with its telescopic sight, was stolen before the shooting, reechoed just before the state closed it case.

Observers in the field of employment believe that competition for summer jobs will be keen for years to come as the number of teen-agers increases.

Savings-and-Loans Rally

Mart Changes Are Fractional

NEW YORK (AP) — A large gain by du Pont and a rally by savings-and-loans featured an irregular stock market early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional and scattered throughout the list.

Du Pont soared more than a dozen points and kept a gain of 9 points or so in later dealings.

As the giant chemical spurted to a new high there was no immediate news to account for the move. Analysts said, however, that directors meet Feb. 17 and that a dividend hike or a stock split are regarded as possibilities in Wall Street.

VIGOROUS RESPONSE

Stocks of savings-and-loan companies moved ahead vigorously in response to reports of firming interest rates.

Many large blocks were traded in a wide assortment of issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .9 at 290.6 with industrials up 1.9, rails up .3 and utilities unchanged.

The advance by du Pont largely accounted for the rise in the averages. Du Pont, still a big holder of General Motors stock despite its gradual unloading, is a direct beneficiary of GM's recent dividend increase, brokers noted.

GAINS MADE

Among the savings-and-loans, gains of about 2 were made by Financial Federation and First Charter Financial.

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

State Lawmen Back Powers

Support Subpoenas as Enforcement Aid

LANSING (AP) — Joint subpoena powers for the attorney general and the governor won endorsement as an "important first step" in fighting organized crime Tuesday from a group of federal, state and local law enforcement officials.

Meeting behind closed doors, representatives of 12 jurisdictions supported subpoena powers for the state officials and for county prosecutors as well.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who called the meeting in a campaign against organized crime, said:

"At both the state and local level this basic tool is seen as an important first step in stepping up the activities of law enforcement agencies in this area

TRIED FOR YEARS

Attorneys general have tried for years to obtain legislative approval for subpoena power.

Kelley will introduce legislation this year to provide power to subpoena persons or records upon joint approval of the attorney general and the governor.

In Tuesday's meeting, the officials agreed to establish a permanent committee to coordinate efforts in combating organized crime.

The committee would meet monthly and have a rotating chairmanship. Included in the group would be U.S. and state attorneys, FBI, state and local police departments, county prosecutors and officials from other local jurisdictions where organized crime is a major concern.

NUMBERS RACKET

Singled out for attention among Michigan's most pressing law enforcement problems were the numbers racket, the use of paregoric as a narcotics substitute, and a shortage of trained investigators and legal personnel.

Kelley said the numbers operation "looms presently as the biggest immediate operation of organized crime in Michigan."

Statistics on the extent of the operation were provided by U.S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow of Detroit, but neither Kelley nor Gubow would reveal them outside the meeting.

Among those attending the meeting were State Police Commissioner Joseph C. Childs, U.S. Atty. George Hill, prosecutors Samuel Olsen of Wayne County, George Taylor of Oakland County and George Parris of Macomb County, and Macomb County Sheriff Lee Olmsteadt.

FHA Official Calls Housing Big Negro Problem in City

Adequate housing for Pontiac Negroes has come a long way in the past five years, but is still one of the biggest problems facing minority group residents today, an FHA official said yesterday.

But the situation can be bettered, he declared, "if the tools we now have are implemented."

DeHart Hubbard, regional FHA intergroup relations adviser, stated the weight of new laws growing out of the new State Constitution and an executive order issued last year by President Kennedy will do more to knock down segregated housing barriers.

★ ★ ★

Hubbard, speaking before the housing committee of Pontiac Urban League at the Community Services Building, recalled his familiarity with Pontiac's problems.

DRAFTED CODE

Following World War II, Hubbard said he drafted a code for nondiscrimination in public housing here, which was later adopted by the City Commission as Pontiac's first law on the subject.

This beginning, with subsequent federal directives through FHA and the Veterans Administration, has resulted "in a dispersion of minority group people all over the city," Hubbard said.

He said the FHA will "back up" and investigate complaints against segregated housing.

"President Kennedy's order bans segregation in housing directly or indirectly financed by the government. We can enter litigation to secure compliance."

EXPRESS OPINIONS

Hubbard said Pontiac Negroes should also be aware of urban renewal projects under way in the city and should express their opinion.

This could mainly be done through the citizens advisory committee working with urban renewal officials, he said.

Charles M. Tucker Jr., local real estate broker whose firm is putting up housing in the urban renewal projects, said "There is definitely a need for more public housing there."

Tucker described the present situation in Pontiac as "good over-all" for minority group housing, but still lagging in private property sales.

'BLOCKBUSTING'

"Blockbusting" to integrate Negro families into white areas is "not the case in Pontiac," said Tucker, who stated there is in fact an oversupply of new homes throughout the city available to Negroes.

"Education of our people to understand what they are getting into when they purchase property is a problem," commented Tucker.

But he said Negro residents are still "concentrated in a half-moon circle in the southern part of the city."

Exchange Chief Backs Special Stock Traders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

G. Kieth Funston told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee that they behaved admirably, on the whole, in the frenzied 27-minute span between the news of President John F. Kennedy's assassination and the closing of the market.

He said much of the buying support came from specialists and floor traders, while individual customers of brokerage houses provided most of the selling pressure that tumbled prices.

What are the roles of these men and the meaning of other terms peculiar to stock trading?

FLOOR BROKER

Floor broker—member of an exchange who executes on the floor orders to buy or sell any listed stock as received by phone from his brokerage firm.

$2 broker-exchange member who executes orders on the floor for other brokers busy with other orders or for firms whose member broker isn't on hand. Formerly the fee was $2 per 100 shares; now varies with price of stock

Specialist—exchange member charged with maintaining a reasonably orderly market in one or more stocks in one industry. To do so he must be ready to buy or sell for his own account. He also acts as a broker for other members who leave orders and then go on to other trading posts.

Special offering — block of stock so large as to require special handling. Ticker tape announces offer for sale at fixed price, usually based on last transaction in regular auction market. Other member firms may buy from the seller's broker during trading hours.

DISTRIBUTION

Secondary distribution — redistribution of a block, usually large, some time after stock has been sold by issuing company. Handled off the floor of exchange by securities firm or group of firms, and offered at fixed price. Often a block is involved in settlement of an estate.

Treasury stock—shares issued by company but later reacquired may be held in company's treasury indefinitely, reissued to public, used for employe stock option or retired; while held by company receives no dividends and has no vote.

In-and-outer—trader who buys and sells same stock within short period; more interested in day-to-day price changes than dividends or long-term growth. Brokers usually cut commissions for quick round-trip transaction. Example: stock sold on news of shooting of President Kennedy might have been rebought soon afterwards to take advantage of steep price drop.

ARBITRAGE

Arbitrage—buying and selling the same or equivalent securities at the same time in different markets. Example: buying a share for $90 in New York and selling for $95 in San Francisco or London, if such a price differential exists at time; or buying a convertible bond and selling the stock into which it is convertible.

Investor—buys stock for regular dividend income, safety of investment, and capital appreciation over a long term.

Speculator—accepts large risk in hope of quick gain on rising stock prices with little interest in dividend income; or may buy into unknown company which he doesn't expect to be profitable for years.

Professional—one who makes a living buying and selling securities; or a student of the market.

HIGH PRESSURE

Boiler room — high-pressure peddling over the phone of stocks of dubious value, often from a room with little in it but phones.

Bucket shop—illegal operation in which operator accepted client's money without ever actually buying or selling stock but gambling that the customer was wrong. If too many customers were right, the bucket shop closed to reopen in new location.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am 22 years old and single. I've recently started a savings account in which I have $110. What do you think about my buying a stock? What issue would be best for me?" B. R.

(A) My opinion is that it's a little early to embark on a stock program.

All stocks have risks, if only those of fluctuating price, and I think you should have more money in your savings account before you buy any shares. Furthermore, the commission on a $100 stock purchase would be relatively high.

After building up your savings reserve to a satisfactory level, I believe your first stock investment should involve at least $500.

When the time comes, I advise you to buy — at your age — only strong growth issues, such as Bristol-Myers, which seem likely to enhance your capital over a period of years.

(Q) "Many companies invest some of their funds in stock of other enterprises. It seems ridiculous to me. By the time the dividends get back to the owning company, the Government must have pocketed most of the dividends in income tax. How can management justify such investments?" S. S.

(A) I have never discussed this matter with any management, but I believe the answer is that some managements invest their funds in stocks of other companies simply because they expect them to grow in value.

An excellent example is shown by the substantial investment portfolio of Allied Chemical. This company, at the end of 1962, had sizable investments in such diverse companies as Owens-Illinois Glass, U. S. Steel, and American Viscose. Their total stock list at that time had a market value of about 78 million dollars and a book value of less than 18 million dollars. This enormous profit over a period of years would seem to answer your question.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column. Write General Features Corp., 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Grain Mart Prices Still Ease Down

CHICAGO (AP)—Buying support still was scarce or absent in the grain futures market today and prices continued their downward trend in early dealings on the Board of Trade.

Losses in old crop soybeans amounted to about two cents but the grains eased only fractions in rather slow dealings.

Commercial business was described as rather meager all around during the first several minutes. However wheat and rye recovered somewhat near the end of the first hour on revived general demand.

WHEAT HIGHER

At that time wheat was ⅜ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher, March $2.19; soybeans ⅞ lower to ¼ higher, March $2.66⅜; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, March $1.19¼; oats ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, March 67 cents; rye 1 to 1⅞ higher, March $1.47½.

GOP Plans Joint Plan on Districts

LANSING (AP) — The four Republican members of the State Apportionment Commission today pledged to submit one plan jointly for redistricting the legislature.

Former Gov. Wilbert Brucker, a committee cochairman and spokesman for the Republicans, signed the letter delivered to the Supreme Court chambers this morning.

"Acting jointly," it said, "we intend to submit a proposed plan of apportionment of the Senate and House."

DEM PLAN

Tuesday, Ivan Brown, an Iron Mountain Democrat, submitted a plan keyed to maintaining as many existing districts as possible within the new constitution's formula, which gives four times as much emphasis to population as to area.

Brown said he also favors another Democrat plan, which he said will be submitted by members A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids and Richard Austin of Detroit.

News in Brief

Methods Prepare Students for Unknown

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Present day students must be taught how to meet the problem of learning the unknown!

DR. NASON

In addition to understanding the laws and formulas for the solution of immediate problems, they must now be prepared to learn for the future, using new and different techniques.

"The scientific knowledge of the high school graduates of 1963 will be almost obsolete by 1975," say the editors of Education U.S.A. in their booklet, "The Shape of Education for 1964."

Knowledge expands and jobs change. Schools must face up to the problem of preparing students to learn in new fields. Already, lack of flexibility in the approach to learning is causing troubles in industry.

Consider the case of a young man I shall call Don. Don dropped out of school at high school graduation. He had worked at two or three jobs, married and started a family.

Don's first opportunity to work toward something permanent was a company training course for repairmen of a complex business machine.

Although he worked unusually hard he did not do well in the training program. Consequently, on the job after the training program, his work was not entirely satisfactory.

The company agreed to return him to training for a refresher course.

Don came to me for help. Our discussion revealed he was using study techniques that had proved successful in high school. These techniques were not appropriate and, therefore, not effective in the new learning situation.

Don was amazed to learn there were different ways of handling one's mind while learning. He was willing to try a new method. Instead of trying to memorize the procedure manual, he learned to visualize each step.

As he studied a procedure he pictured in his mind the process as it occurred in the machine. He visualized the part of the machine in question and though of its function in connection with the parts next to it.

After only a week of this type of study he was successful in the refresher program. He continues to be successful and happy on the job.

Students must be prepared for learning in situations we cannot now even predict. They must be taught to search for appropriate learning techniques.

They must be presented with a series of subjects and, in each case, must think out a procedure to meet the situation.

Conscious practice of conquering new areas of study is the best preparation for lifelong success in meeting such new situations.

Students must be encouraged to think and not just blindly follow their old habit patterns. If they find proper methods for coping with their immediate situations they will lose their fear of meeting new challenges.

By OSWALD JACOBY

West was a good player. He might even be termed an expert. East was a bad player and West was well aware of East's shortcomings.

JACOBY

West opened the jack of hearts against the three no-trump contract. That is the standard lead from a suit headed by King - jack - ten, and West knew all the standard leads. The jack held the trick. East dropped the five and South the six.

This gave expert West a problem. He knew East was the sort of player who never would play a high card when he had a low one to put on the table.

West also knew that he had to establish his hearts immediately. If he continued with the ten and East had started with queen-five, East would have to play the queen. South would let the queen hold and East would have to shift to another suit.

So West decided to lead the king, expecting to drop the queen. If East had been a good player he would have played the queen even though East had a third heart behind it. But East wasn't going to waste an honor. He clung to the queen like grim death.

It was death. South took his ace and knocked out West's ace of spades while East's queen was still blocking the suit and South made four no-trump instead of going down one.

What did West do that a top-flight expert would not have done? A top-flight expert would have opened the eight or nine of hearts.

The reason for the jack lead is to allow for the possibility of finding queen in dummy and ace in partner's hand. A top-flight expert would have known enough to get away from the book lead and guard against just what did happen to this West.

Barber With Fast Blades Faces Russian 'Trim' Quiz

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The barber with the world's fastest blades will be back in the barbershop next week wielding a pair of scissors and getting the third degree on how he trimmed the Russians.

Speedskater Terry McDermott newly married, says he's going straight back to work after winning America's first gold medal of the Winter Olympics. He will not compete in any of the three longer races.

"There are," he explained after his triumph in Monday's 500-meters speed skating event, "payments to be made — house payments, car payments and down-payment payments.

AWAY TOO LONG

"I've been away too long and barbers work on commission. So, I'll fly out Friday and will be back behind the chair Monday."

On an even better day here Monday, he got through four highly-touted Russians in a fraction over 40 seconds.

McDermott's victory in the 500 meters finally broke Russia's grip on the Olympic speed-skating events. It deposed, in Olympic record time, Evgeny Grishin, the Russian world record holder who has made this title his personal property since 1956. Three other Soviet speed aces also were left behind.

★ ★ ★

For McDermott, the moment was magic.

"I have dreamed about this ever since I first made the U.S. national team five years ago," he said.

Richard Terence — "everyone calls me Terry" — McDermott was born and brought up in Essexville, Mich., the son of a sales representative.

He was the youngest of seven children—and the only boy.

A Catholic, he went to St. John's parochial school and there met Virginia Vermeesch, who became his steady girl.

Four months ago they were married after Terry had spent two years in college, Michigan Tech, and nine months learning to become a barber.

His family wanted Terry to become an engineer but the Essexville clipper found barbering would leave him more time to skate.

So, every working day, McDermott heads for adjoining Bay City, where he lines up with two other barbers in a shop belonging to his uncle, Bunny Hebert, and trims hair at $1.75 a head.

"The job," he said, "seems to be a natural one for me. I like meeting people and where else than in a barber's shop?"

McDermott is a 5-9½, 170-pounder who looks as strong as a bull. He has close cropped, dark hair, a slow-breaking smile and an evident distaste for defeat.

He's been winning skating titles since he was eight years old and also played football and baseball in school.

He's soft-spoken and polite but gives the impression that he knows what he wants and isn't satisfied until he gets it.

Monday he wanted a gold medal and Russia's best couldn't keep him from bringing it home to Michigan.

Tight Warrior Defense Halts Pistons' Streak

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors used a withering defense to smother the Detroit Pistons, 118-79 Tuesday night and improve on their newly won place on top of the Western Division in the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors picked up a full game on both St. Louis and Los Angeles in the West. The Hawks lost to the Boston Celtics, 113-101, while the slumping Lakers were bombed by the Cincinnati Royals, 118-100. The Baltimore Bullets edged New York's Knicks, 137-134, in overtime in the only other NBA played Tuesday night.

Detroit's loss to the Warriors ended a three-game Piston winning streak. The Warriors' 39-point victory margin was the largest over an opponent this season, and was reflected in the ouster of Piston coach Charley Wolf in the third period.

Wolf had two technical fouls called against him, and turned the coaching reins over to forward Bailey Howell.

SOLID DEFENSE

Wilt Chamberlain powered the Warriors with 38 points, but it was San Francisco's defense that made the difference. The Warriors held the Pistons to 11 points in the first quarter and led at the half, 51-36.

Detroit was paced by Bob Ferry's 19 points, and 18 from Ray Scott.

Bill Russell's 28 points paced Boston's victory over St. Louis in the first game of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. The Hawks' Bob Pettit, who scored 27 points, now has a career total of 19,167 and trails all-time NBA scoring leader Dolph Schayes by 33 points.

In the nightcap, Gus Johnson paced Baltimore with 40 points, including nine in overtime, to end a three-game Bullets losing string. New York got 31 points from Len Chappell.

Jack Twyman's 31 points, and Wayne Embry's 30, powered the Royals past the Lakers at Cincinnati. Rudy LeRusso led Los Angeles with 27 points. The Lakers played without injured guard Jerry West.

Mikemen's Big Center Scores 30

Big Mike Pope, the 6-6 center for St. Michael, poured in 30 points Tuesday night as the Mikemen ripped Detroit St. Agatha, 79-61.

Pope hit 14 points in the first half and 16 in the second as St. Michael gained half a game on idle Orchard Lake St. Mary in the battle for second place.

He connected for 10 markers in the last period, mostly on close-in shots. The Mikemen had built a substantial lead in the third quarter but ran into foul trouble and Pope had to return to the contest for scoreboard insurance.

Mike DeConinck also aided Pope on the boards and in the scoring with 14 tallies before fouling out midway in the third session.

Rick Steinhelper hit 13 for the winners while St. Agatha was led by Claude Inch with 18. The visiting Shamrocks controlled the backboards on their Detroit hosts.

In a reserve game, St. Mike also won, 59-36, clinching the league jayvee title and qualifying for the division playoffs in Detroit next week. It has an 11-2 mark while the varsity is 9-4 over-all.

Two of 3 Divisions Win at Port Huron

Pontiac YMCA won two of its three divisions in a swim meet with Port Huron recently.

Winning divisions were the juniors, 56-42 and the preps 49-45. The Midgets however were on the losing side, 47-40.

Rick Rykowski was a midget winner in the 20 yard breaststroke in 18.2, and he was also 2nd in the 80-yard individual medley.

The 160-yard freestyle relay team won the first event for the Preps and Steve Yedlin and Dave Hardenberg were double winners in the victory.

Yedlin won the 80-yard individual medley and the 100 freestyle in 54.8 and 57.7 respectively. Hardenberg won the 20 and 40-yard freestyles.

'New' Team Doesn't Stop U-D Streak

By The Associated Press

Assumption College has changed its name to the University of Windsor, Ont., but it didn't fool Detroit's basketball Titans Tuesday night.

Detroit won easily, 101-82, for the 24th straight time dating back to the mid 1930's.

In other college games last night Northern Michigan bombed Central Michigan, 75-46; Northwood Institute swamped Detroit Tech, 91-52; Youngstown, Ohio, defeated visiting Lawrence Tech, 83-75; and Alpena Junior College dumped Soo Tech, 84-77.

Guard Al Cech scored a career high of 29 points in Detroit's triumph over Windsor. The Titans jumped to a 47-35 halftime margin and stayed at least 12 points in front the rest of the way. Dick Dzik and Dorrie Murrey each added 19 points, but high point honors went to Windsor's Bob Horvath, who netted 35 points.

10TH WIN

The victory was Detroit's 10th in 18 games this year. Windsor, including two losses to the Titans, stands 14-4.

Progress Is Noted in Fred Hutchinson

SEATTLE (AP)—Treatments have reduced the size of the malignant chest tumor from which Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is suffering and doctors are pleased with the progress.

"It is extremely gratifying," Dr. Orliss Wildermuth of the Swedish Hospital Tumor Institute said. "Normally, at this stage of treatment we are happy if the tumor has stopped growing."

No Upsets in Thumb

Capac and New Haven both found smooth sailing in the Southern Thumb basketball race Tuesday night but there were rough waters for victorious Memphis and Armada.

★ ★ ★

Unbeaten New Haven broke loose in the third quarter to trim Dryden, 67-39, while Capac coasted after the first quarter against Brown City, 71-40.

Dryden held Dwight Lee to his second lowest total of the season, 21 points, but couldn't stop Larry Belt who hit 24 on 12 field goals.

★ ★ ★

Belt had 14 of his points in the third quarter as the Rockets built an insurmountable 55-28 margin after leading only 32-22 at halftime.

ADAMSKI TOPS

Ken Adamski went over 20 points for the third straight game as Capac topped Brown City. He had 21. Capac led 38-15 at intermission in winning its third straight.

Almont had a victory over Armada but the home team's Rod Craven sank a foul shot after the end of regulation time to tie the score, 39-39.

★ ★ ★

The Armada squad then snapped its four game losing streak by taking the lead in overtime and building onto it. Randy Johnson hit four of his 10 points in the extra period.

Almont's Ken Schulte took game honors with 19. The defeat avenged Almont's one-point victory over Armada early in the season.

Memphis handed Anchor Bay its third straight loss by withstanding a third quarter rally that saw the Tars tie the score, then fall back again.

Memphis led 29-22 at halftime. Both teams had four players in double figures. Bob Moore led all with 16 for the winners. Doug Doig hit 16, Don Burns 15 and Chuck Durphy 13 for the Memphis team.

Sam Shepard had 16 for Anchor Bay and Dan Burns 13.

Wings' Crozier Sent to Minors

Pittsburgh Goalie Bassen Injured

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League are sending rookie goalie Roger Crozier to the Pittsburgh Hornets, it was announced Tuesday.

The Hornets said the move was arranged because Pittsburgh goalie Hank Bassen is sidelined with torn ligaments in his right leg.

Meanwhile, Red Wing coach Sid Abel moved forward Larry Jeffrey to Norm Ullman's line and switched forward Andre Pronovost to the line with Pit Martin and Bruce MacGregor in preparation for tonight's game with Chicago.

The two left wingers have not been on the scoring list since the Jan. 9 victory over Chicago —ten games ago. Both Jeffrey and Pronovost have only six goals this season.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe a change of linemates will help them," Abel said.

Bryant Resting With $300,000 From Post

"I'm not much of a golfer, but I might be about 30 days from now. I have been ordered by Dr. Rose (Frank Rose, president of the university) to take a rest,'" Bryant told friends Tuesday night.

It was announced earlier that he had accepted $300,000 in compensatory, tax-free damages for two Saturday Evening Post articles.

Byant was suing for $10.5 million in libel damages, and a trial had been set in U.S. District Court in Birmingham Feb. 10.

Melting of Ice Causes Fears for Sledders

Gold Medals Taken by Soviets, Swedes, Norwegians

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The Soviet Union, Sweden and Norway grabbed gold medals in skiing and speed skating today as fears of new tragedies gripped tobaggan and bobsled racers at the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

An American two-man toboggan leaped off the track at Igls, its occupants miraculously escaping serious injury, and protests were raised over the condition of the bobsled run, made dangerous by melting and cracking ice.

A Canadian four-man crew, piloted by Victory Emery, took a surprising lead over Italy's eight-time world champion, Eugenio Monti, in the first two of four runs, but there were complaints that the second of these runs should never have been made.

"All of us took a chance making that second run," Emery said. "There was a nasty-looking crack at the 12th of the 14 curves. If we had hit that, it might have been the last time we hit anything."

BLOODY CRAZY

Tony Nash, Britain's gold medal winner in the two-man event, said "It was bloody crazy to hold that second run."

Organizers said if the track is too dangerous Thursday the final two runs may be cancelled and medals awarded on the basis of today's two runs.

One United States sled, piloted by Bill Hickey of Keene, N.Y., was fifth and the other, with Larry McKillip of Saranac Lake, N.Y., at the controls, was seventh.

Sixten Jernberg, Swedish veteran of three Olympics who will be 35 Thursday, won the 50-kilometer ski race at Seefeld, covering the 31 miles and 120 yards in 2 hours, 43 minutes, 52.6 seconds.

Knut Johannesen of Norway captured the 5,000-meter men's speed skating race in the Olympic record time of 7 minutes, 38.4 seconds, leading a 1-2-3 Norwegian sweep.

Claudia Boyarskikh, a 23-year old Russian schoolteacher, added the 5,000-meter women's cross-county ski title to the 10,000-meter crown she won previously and the Soviet Union also picked up a bronze medal in the event.

MORE MEDALS

The latest victories boosted the Russians' medal total to 21, including eight golds.

Americans, with no entries in the women's ski cross-country, finished well back in both the men's speed skating and 50-kilometer skiing back-breaker.

In the 50-kilometer, Larry Damon of Burlington, Vt., was 28th in 3:05:06.4 and Dick Taylor of Laconia, N.H., 34th in 3:09:58.3.

The Yanks also met only disaster in the two-man tobogganing finals at Igls, where one sled leaped off the track and the second banged against a dangerous curve before finally finishing last in the field of 16.

The two-man toboggan gold medal went to an Austrian team —Josef Feistmantl, 24-year-old accountant, and Manfred Stengl, 18-year-old schoolboy, who shot down the twisting mile chute twice in 1 minute, 41.62 seconds.

Swim Meet at Northern

In a meet postponed from December, Pontiac Northern plays host to Ferndale in a swimming meet tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Competition is expected to be strong in diving where unbeaten Alex Hiller will face Ferndale's Chuck Stenbach a prime contender for state honors this year. Rick Thomas is also strong in Ferndale diving.

In the backstroke event, Don Kiddle of Ferndale and Dick Johnson of Northern have comparable times of 1:03.5 which should prove interesting.

Next Wednesday Northern has its rematch with Pontiac Central in the PCH pool.

Seaholm-Kimball Make War on Records

County Teams Battle for Swimming Marks

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When is the onslaught on Oakland County swimming records going to end?

It certainly won't be this season, not as long as Birmingham Seaholm and Royal Oak Kimball battle at the rate they're going for league, county and state honors.

Since the 1962-63 season came to an end with Birmingham Seaholm walking off with the state high school class A championship in March, when the Maples owned every county mark except two, five new marks have been inserted in Oakland county records.

Royal Oak Kimball is Seaholm's biggest challenge to high school swimming supremacy and the Knights will be out to make a strong bid for the state title mainly on the strength of their distance freestyle swimmers.

Since the 400 freestyle event was put into the order of events in state championship meets and Ben Donaldson of Pontiac Central won the state title in 4:13; the times in this event have come down in rapid order.

Kimball's Doug Webster, a talented sophomore, was tearing the times in the 400 as a freshman and this year he has recorded a 4:00.3.

★ ★ ★

But Webster isn't alone on the Kimball team. There are five Knights among the top 10 in the 400 in the state.

Bill Watts, who this year erased the county individual medley record in 2:10.9, has a 4:14.8. Tim Cash has posted a 4:07, Mike Schoenhals a 4:16.8 and Read McCarty at 4:17.

Pete Adams, state champion from Seaholm, has a 4:05.1 mark this year in the 400. He and Watts are battling for 200 honors.

Adams tied the state record in 1:52.6 last week and the same night, Watts came in at 1:52.0 flat against Hazel Park. The county record of 1:53.1 was set by Seaholm's Tom Fritz last season.

RELAY RECORD

The Kimball freestyle relay team is also the owner of an Oakland County mark this year in a time of 1:32.6. It was Seaholm's team of Coupe-Hoyt-Matthews-Wolf last season which posted a 1:33.6.

★ ★ ★

Coupe and Kevin Tooma of Groves are also strong challengers to break the 50 freestyle mark held jointly by Seaholm alumni Sintz in 1958 and Jim Elliott in 1961 in 22.9. Coupe has gone 23.1 and Tooma 23.2 this year.

★ ★ ★

Except for the Seaholm and Kimball swimmers, along with Tooma of Groves, only other swimmers to make any mark of note from other schools are Hugh Wilder of Rochester and Carl Cascadden of Pontiac Northern.

Wilder is Rochester's "one-man" swim team. He has qualified for the state meet by posting times of 58.9 in the butterfly and 2:18.6 in the 200 individual. He has a backstroke time of 1:00.7.

Cascadden's 1:07.8 in the breaststroke is far behind the leaders in this event led by Frank Freeman of Fordson in 1:01.7. Leading county breaststrokers are Adrian Van Oss of Kimball in 1:06.1, and Dave Zimmer of Seaholm in 1:06.2. The county mark is 1:03.5 set by Lee Driver of Groves in 1961.

Seaholm, winner of 37 straight dual meets over 3½ years, stands 8-0 this season. The Maples handed Kimball its only loss, 54-51 in the Seaholm pool earlier, but the big showdown will take place in the rematch, Feb. 14th at Royal Oak.

TWIST SESSION — While the ball seems to beat time, Lake Orion's Jon Cucksey (41) and Dave Philips (11), and Avondale's Lynn Thorpe (42) appear to do some twisting to the "amazement" of Denny Acker (32). "Dancing" occurred early in last night's Oakland A. basketball clash at Avondale. An 82-59 victory for the visiting Dragons did not leave the Yellow Jackets in a festive mood later.

Dragons Swat Avon

Lake Orion Fast Breaks League Foe

By JERE CRAIG

Lake Orion's basketball Dragons breathed no flame nor kidnaped no beautiful maidens last night, but did show plenty of speed in swatting Avondale, 82-59.

After feeling a few bothersome stings from the Yellow Jackets in the opening half, Lake Orion sped around and through the home team at will in the final half for the Oakland A League conquest.

A definite rebounding edge helped the Dragons' fast break, particularly when Avondale could not hit from the outside in the decisive third period.

Bruce Fritz, a forward, and Dave Phillips, a lanky backliner, were the chief culprits in the Yellow Jackets nest, repeatedly getting free for easy layups.

Fritz had 16 of his 26 points in the first half and was very effective under the offensive backboard. He had 12 of the 22 points in the winners' second quarter attack.

BREAKS LOOSE

Philips (24 points) broke away on fast break layups frequently, scoring 11 markers in the third quarter. After a 15-13 lead in the opening session, Lake Orion hit 22, 23 and 22 using its running game.

Avondale managed to stay close throughout the opening half as Lynn Thorpe (11) and Dennis Acker (9) had 20 of its 32 tallies. The Yellow Jackets never led but tied the score in the early going four times, and twice more in the second period.

Only five points separated the teams early in the third quarter, 40-35, when the visitors broke open the game. They hit seven straight points, then after an exchange of tallies, added 10 more in a row for a 60-39 bulge.

L'Anse Creuse Romps Over Lamphere, 57-29

Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse had too much for Madison Heights, Lamphere last night and took an easy 57-29 victory.

Lamphere only had four points in the first quarter and 11 field goals for the entire game. The winners' Randy McConnell with 15 points and Gary Kolman with 16 outscored the entire Lamphere quintet.

Troy, Fitzgerald Win

Falcons Miss Chance

Fitzgerald and Troy continued to wage a two-team fight for the Oakland A championship Tuesday night but Rochester's cagers let a big chance slip away.

The Falcons led for almost three quarters before visiting Madison pulled out a 67-58 triumph, depriving Rochester of a good chance for its first win of the season.

Fitzgerald, meanwhile, equaled a school record with its 10th straight win, a 66-52 verdict at Clawson; and Troy had an easy time disposing of Warren Cousino, 58-40.

The Spartans lost only their opening non-league game; and Troy has lost twice in 11 tries, once to the pace setters. They will meet again next week.

Rochester led, 34-25, at halftime against Madison; but the visitors scored three quick baskets to start the third period and stayed within three or four points until the final minute of the period.

Then it earned a tie at 45, and went ahead to stay as Jim Combs scored two free throws 25 seconds before the end of the session.

The Eagles then pulled ahead by 10 quickly in the final quarter and never were headed. Sophomore Tom Mills scored 10 of his 19 points and Tom Knust 10 of his 13 in the first half for Rochester.

Sharp-shooting Bruce McDonald was off form and had only nine, his lowest total of the season.

Ted Bauer had 16 points and Buddy Hether and Gay Goodwin played a strong defensive game as Troy beat Cousino at Warren. The Colts broke open the game in the third period aided by Goodwin and Hether's ball hawking tactics.

At Clawson, Fitzgerald's Tom Dobberstein had 31 points as the Spartans dumped the home team. Ray Hayes led Clawson with 19 with three Trojans in twin figures.

Emmanuel Wins, 74-57

Emmanuel Christian's sputtering offense caught fire in the closing half Tuesday evening and poured in 47 points to hand Detroit Country Day a 74-57 setback.

The Lancers were unable to penetrate the tight Country Day defense during the opening half and trailed at intermission, 28-27.

Ralph Wingate, the Oakland County basketball scoring leader, sparked a third-quarter assault for the Lancers that produced 26 points and a 53-51 lead.

FOUL TROUBLE

Both teams were hampered by foul trouble. Officials called 45 personals — 25 against Country Day.

Emmanuel lost two starters in the fourth stanza and played the final 1:07 with four players. Three members of the Country Day squad fouled out.

Four players hit double figures for the Lancers with forward John Allen pacing the attack with 23. Wingate picked up 22, followed by Jon Lauckner and Ron Jackson with 10 each.

State Duck Population Increases

Nearly 63,700 ducks were counted last month in the state's established check areas by Conservation Department survey crews and members of the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

MORE MALLARDS

An estimated 12,145 mallards and 14,200 black ducks were seen during the inventory to account for the bulk of this year's increased waterfowl figure. Last January, survey teams tallied 4,800 mallards and 4,000 black ducks.

Canvasback numbers were up by 3,000 birds; redhead ducks showed a population drop from a year ago.

Officers, Rifle Designs, Bullets in the News

There was a definite reason why conservation officers and other district personnel convened for a district meeting at the department's fire control station on Williams Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Once the business was out of the way, the group adjourned to Multi-Lakes Conservation Association's club house to honor retiring field officer Howard Johnson of Union Lake.

Gus Neering of Pigeon was also on hand.

Johnson started with the department in 1937 and spent nine days under an officer in Sanilac County before being transferred to Neering's tutelage for 15 days on duck patrol along southern Saginaw Bay.

★ ★ ★

"This hunter was shooting duck in a grain field after hours. He had them stacked up like cord wood. When he saw Howard and me, he took off running for the house."

NEERING JOHNSON

"I remember that chase," said Johnson. "That was quite a run."

The violator made it safely into the house with the officers in hot pursuit.

"He ran down the basement carrying his shotgun," said Neering. "We went down after him.

"The man didn't offer any resistance, but we couldn't find the gun and that was important. He knew it, too.

"Howard and I took that basement apart. Finally we decided to look in the basement cistern — most of the farms had one in those days. There it was, neatly on top of two pieces of wood criss-crossed under the water."

The new design will have the bolt face completely enclosing the cartridge head, an engine-turned sleeve and indicator on the cocking piece.

Remington has been using a very similar bolt on its rifles since 1948.

There have been reports that Winchester will also load some of its centerfire ammunition with Nosler bullets, rated by many the best available for hunting.

Several calibers in the Norma line now carry Nosler bullets and a majority of the Weatherby fodder (now loaded under that brand by Norma) contains the partition missile.

Veteran big game hunters who know their bullets rate Noslers, German RWS, H-Mantles, Remington Core-Lokts, Barnes and Hornadys in that order.

Nosler bullets cost twice as much as Core-Lokts, Hornadys, Speers and Sierras. For this reason Winchester brass loaded with these bullets will cost up to 50 per cent more.

Remington hasn't been idle.

The Model 600 bolt action carbine was placed on the market last month.

It weighs five and a half pounds (without scope) and is chambered for .308 Wins., 35 Rem. and 222 Remington. There is a ventilated rib along the barrel, the rear open sight can be adjusted for windage and elevation and a Monte Carlo stock.

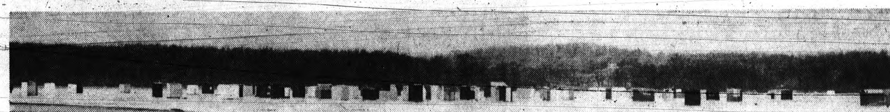
The Williams Gun Sight Co. of Davison will hold a reloading clinic Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Leading experts in the handloading field will conduct clinics and show films. The event will be in the trophy room of the company which is on Lapeer Road, west of M15.



POPULAR—In this era of fewer ice fishermen Kent Lake continues to hold its own. The Kensington Park fishing spot annually draws the largest concentration of shanties in the county. Good catches of crappies and bluegills, although not too large in size, have been consistent this winter. There are over 120 shanties on the lake.

Ben Pearson Archery Meet at Cobo Hall

The nation's largest indoor archery tournament, the annual Ben Pearson $10,000 open championship, will be held in Cobo Hall, April 11 and 12, it was announced today.

The Pearson open, which is expected to attract an entry list of approximately 1,000 archers, is now in its sixth year.

There will be open individual competition for both professional men and women, individual amateur competition for both men and women, and professional and amateur team competition.

Cash prizes, topped by a $1,000 grand prize for the individual professional men's competition, will be awarded for the professionals, while the amateurs will compete for trophies.

In addition there will be a handicap competition for all archers except those winning money prizes. Prizes for this event will include watches and archery equipment.

The schedule calls for the competitors to be divided into three groups, who will shoot in four hour groups each day.

Originally held at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit in 1959, it attracted 356 archers. Subsequent visits to Akron, Fort Wayne, and a return to Detroit in 1963 saw the entry list climb gradually to 801.

Deer Traffic Fatalities Increased During 1963

Last year's losses totaled at least 4,765 whitetails, an increase of 15 per cent above 1962. This kill figure, according to the Conservation Department, does not cover animals which died in the state's fields and forests after being hit by vehicles.

Motorists involved in these highway accidents smashed up their cars and trucks to the estimated amount of $950,000.

This is based on a survey of insurance companies in Michigan which showed that repair bills average about $200 for deer-vehicle collisions.

Road kill soared to an all-time high in the Lower Peninsula. The biggest toll was again recorded in the southern Lower Peninsula where at least 2,000 deer were struck down on the region's highways.

HIGHEST FIGURE

Since 1959, deer-vehicle collisions have more than doubled in the southern Lower Peninsula where the deer herd numbers an estimated 45,000-50,000 whitetails.

As in the previous two years, the state's most serious highway problem centered in Jackson district of Southern Michigan where accidents took 1,076 deer.

Cars and trucks claimed another 1,842 deer in the northern Lower Peninsula, a new record for this region and a 20 per cent jump over the year before.

Sale of Pelts by Sealed Bid Slated Feb. 21

Sealed bids are being accepted at the Conservation Department's central repair shop in Gaylord for the Feb. 21 sale of hides and pelts of animals which have been recovered in the woods or confiscated from game law violators.

The bidding period will remain open until 3 p.m. on that day. Hides and pelts may be checked at the repair shop from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Feb. 17 through Feb. 20.

Offered in lots according to species are 301 deer hides, 36 muskrat pelts, 11 beaver pelts, eight elk hides, four raccoon pelts, one mink pelt and one bear hide.

Each of these seven lots will go to the person who makes the highest bid on a "per hide" basis. Every offer must be accompanied by a deposit equaling at least five per cent of the total bid.

Utility Dog Class to Start Feb. 13

A special training class for open and utility obedience dogs will start Feb. 13 at Lincoln Junior High, Nine Mile and Livernois, in Ferndale.

All dogs must have completed the companion dog degree, according to Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club officials. Charles Frank and Charles Bush will direct the class which will meet at 8 p.m. each night.

In Class D, pace setting Victor Paint was stopped, 64-48, by the Neopolitan Club and Minute Lunch squared its record with a 71-66 verdict over Cotton Billiards.

Budget Okayed for City Hospital

The City Commission last night accepted and okayed by a 6-1 vote the $6.9-million 1964 budget for Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The budget was adopted by the hospital's board of trustees Jan. 16. Acceptance and approval by the commission is customary following adoption by the board.

Commissioner Charles H. Harmon cast the lone vote against the budget, saying that he couldn't vote for any budget without some explanation of it from hospital officials.

Car Winds Up in Restaurant

Only Minor Injuries in Waterford Crash

A young Pontiac couple escaped serious injury early today when their car went out of control and slammed through the concrete block wall of the Eatmore Restaurant, 926 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

Gary Buchanan, 19, of 12 Downing Court, driver of the car, suffered minor injuries and his passenger, Karol Clark, 21, of 5 Fairgrove was uninjured.

Police said the car went almost all the way through the west side of the building. The accident occurred at 2:11 a.m. after the restaurant had closed.

★ ★ ★

Buchanan told police that he was changing from the outer to inner lane while driving east on West Huron when his car hit the front bumper of another eastbound car driven by Milton Terry, 18, of 5029 Midland, Waterford Township.

OVER CURB

Buchanan's car went over the curb, knocked down three guard rails and hit two traffic signs along the curb before plunging into the building.

Both Buchanan and Terry, who was uninjured, told police they were driving 40 miles per hour in the 35 mile zone. No tickets were issued.

★ ★ ★

Bowles said he was driving east on West Huron behind the other two cars. He added that they did not appear to be racing.

Bill Offered to Let Lakes Be Lowered

A bill to permit lowering of lake levels for beach improvements has been introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township.

The water levels of controlled inland lakes would be lowered from 12 to 18 inches at least once every five years after Labor Day to allow the improvement of docks, piers, walls and lake bottoms if the measure wins passage.

"This bill would be beneficial to the residents of Lake Oakland and Woodhull Lake and other similar areas," Anderson said.

The bill provides that county drain departments lower lake levels on a staggered schedule after a petition signed by five landowners has been filed in Circuit Court, Anderson said.

BIG VIEW—Rear seat passengers in new Buick Skylark (above) and (below) Oldsmobile Vista-Cruiser station wagons will be able to look up, as well as get panoramic side and front views. Custom models in both makes come with forward-facing rear seats, increased cargo and storage area inside.

With Panoramic View

New Wagons at Buick, Olds

New station wagon models with a high roof line and unique panoramic windows were unveiled today by Buick and Oldsmobile divisions of General Motors.

Both the Buick model, called the Skylark Sports wagon, and Oldsmobile's version, the Vista-Cruiser, are built on a 120-inch wheelbase.

In each, the higher glass-surrounded rear roof gives a dome appearance.

DRAMATIC CHANGE

"The Vista-Cruiser, represents the most dramatic change in the station wagon design since the vehicle's introduction years ago," said J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager.

"Station wagon buyers will also welcome the forward facing third seat. The raised dome area with fixed front and side tinted windows permits added visibility and headroom for rear seat passengers."

Edward D. Rollert, Buick general manager, said the Skylark sports wagon will be 5 inches longer than regular Skylark wagons, and is available in two and three-seat models.

Rollert said the Skylark has 97.9 cubic feet of cargo space, nearly 11.5 feet more than the Special station wagon.

STORAGE AREA

The new Buick wagon comes in both deluxe models, list-priced for two-seat deluxe style priced from $2,735, to $3,010 for custom versions, all with vinyl trim. Standard engine is a 210-horsepower V8, with an option 250-horsepower engine.

Factory prices range from $2,687 for a two seat model to $2,995 for a three-seat custom.

City Passes Resolutions, Assures U.S. on Project

City Commissioners okayed two urban renewal resolutions last night to keep the R20 project financially solvent and assure federal officials the city will buy all land not already purchased in the civic center.

One resolution authorized the city manager to file an application with the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago for a $1,423,308 increase in the loan, or borrowing capacity, to finance the R20 budget.

The application would also request a tentative $2.7-million increase in the R20 project's federal capital grant and a $44,455 hike in the relocation grant.

★ ★

Essentially, federal approval of the new budget figures would pay for excessive project costs to date and estimated additional costs in the future.

BORROWED FUNDS

Presently, the urban renewal staff is operating on $409,000 in funds borrowed from the city last fall and the money is due to run out in April.

The $409,000 loan must be repaid by Sept. 1.

"This application should be okayed by federal officials by April," said Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates. "It would give us the money needed to pay off the loan and keep the R20 project operating."

★ ★ ★

In the other resolution, the commission agreed to include a 30-foot strip of right-of-way for widening Auburn Avenue as part of the civic center land to be bought by the city from urban renewal.

Bates said this was "just a matter of formally agreeing to something we'd already committed ourselves to buy on an informal basis some time ago."

Bill May Alter Finance Unit

Suggest New Control of Municipal Funds

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission would be replaced if a bill introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, is approved.

The measure would abolish the present commission and set up a department of municipal finance headed by a commissioner whom the governor would appoint with the consent of the state senate.

Under present law, the state treasurer, the attorney general, the auditor general and the superintendent of public instruction serve on the Municipal Finance Commission.

★ ★ ★

"The system is wrong," Anderson said. "These four elected officials are much too busy with their regular duties to become familiar with the many complicated problems which come before the commission."

★ ★ ★

The present system has resulted in a number of needless delays in processing of bond applications, according to Anderson.

★ ★ ★

"This bill should provide a faster, more efficient system," he said.

Order Examination on Assault Charge

A Rochester High School teacher, charged with felonious assault, has been remanded to Justice Court from Circuit Court for a preliminary examination.

The date of the hearing has not been set for George McVeigh, 32, of 133 Highland, Rochester, according to Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanaback.

McVeigh is accused of entering the home of Mrs. Shirley Braun, 855 Seymour Lake, Oxford Township, Jan. 17 and pressing a knife to the side of a visitor, Mrs. Lee Noftz, 31, of 912 S. Lapeer.

★ ★ ★

McVeigh fled when the women screamed, according to sheriff's department detectives.

Waterford Gets Master Plan Report

Waterford Township Planning Commission members last night received the final report in the first phase of development of a master plan for the township.

Prepared by the township's planning consultant firm, Parkins, Rogers & Associates, the report details studies of traffic, community facilities and utilities.

Prior reports by the planning consultants included studies on land use, population characteristics, economic base, natural resources, structural quality and results of a community attitude survey.

★ ★ ★

The two-year program for development of a master plan under a federal grant is now half completed.

LAND USE

Most of the second year of the study will be devoted to establishing a land use plan.

Township Planning Director Robert Dieball reported to the commission that the school board will present a proposal to the Township Board for sale of school property fronting on Loon Lake for a possible park site.

Also last night, it was announced that the annual planning commission dinner will be held March 10 at the Eagles Hall on M59.

★ ★ ★

By DICK HANSON

What effect will increasing the size of the Oakland County Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee have on the formation of county governmental policies?

They then adopted a wait-and-see attitude, after recommending a bylaws amendment that would raise ways and means from seven to nine members.

★ ★ ★

Board Chairman Delos Hamlin, who would make the appointments, said whether they would accomplish anything different probably depends on what kind of men he might pick.

AWAITS ADOPTION

"If the board adopts the recommendation, my choice will be made known when I announce all appointments in April and not before," said Hamlin.

The amendment was sought by the ways and means committee "to provide wider representation and make its recommendations more generally acceptable by the 85-member board.

Bylaws members acknowledged ways and means as the board's most important committee by virtue of its control over the county's purse strings.

★ ★ ★

Any recommendations from other committees that involve spending county money must first go to ways and means for consideration.

NONCOMMITTAL

The bylaws committee chairman, James Clarkson of Southfield, asked Hamlin which ways and means members can discuss these recommendations besides their chairman, David Levinson. Hamlin was noncommittal.

Bylaws member John Michrina of Madison Heights asked Hamlin if any of the present seven ways and means members might be replaced to the county's advantage.

Hamlin said "It's hard to change the members of such an important committee" because of pressures to retain them.

★ ★ ★

Clare Cummings is on ways and means because that is the wish of the Pontiac City Commission, Hamlin said, adding that the same holds true for Harry Horton of Royal Oak, Thomas O'Donoghue of Ferndale and Levinson of Birmingham.

MOST POPULOUS

They come from the most populous areas in the county — cities that are anxious to maintain a voice in county affairs proportionate to their population, said Hamlin.

Traditionally, he added, the cities' voices have been somewhat matched by those of the townships, which generally are less populous but have different interests at stake.

The other three members of ways and means are John Carey of Springfield Township, Frank Voll of Oakland Township and Frank Webber of Addison Township.

★ ★ ★

Bylaws member LeRoy Davids of Hazel Park wanted to know the partisanship of ways and means members as it might be reflected in liberal or conservative policy recommendations by the committee.

'PRETTY LIBERAL'

Despite the presence of only one avowed Democrat on the committee, Hamlin described it as generally "pretty liberal."

He added that he didn't think partisan politics entered into the committee's decisions.

Clarkson said "ways and means has to be conservative when it comes to spending county money.

★ ★ ★

"Yes, but it's a question of what they recommend spending money for," retorted Davids.

The recommendation to add ways and means members must now go back to the board for final action.

A similar recommendation to increase the board's legislative committee from five to seven members also will be decided then. Reason given is because this committee has had difficulty in achieving a quorum present for some of its meetings.

The bylaws committee itself had a bare quorum yesterday. The recent retirement of its former chairman, William Hudson of Royal Oak, created a vacancy yet to be filled.

★ ★ ★

The other member, Pontiac City Attorney William Ewart was absent.

★ ★ ★

He also is a member of the legislative committee, though absent from its last two meetings since the end of October.

The Beatles' Trip to U.S. Began in Liverpool Slums

LONDON (AP)—A gear group with fringes that are fab crosses the Atlantic Friday on the crest of a rave wave.

All of which, in British teen-age jargon, means the Beatles are heading for New York.

★ ★ ★

FROM SLUMS

Their product, evolved in the waterfront slums of Liverpool, is raucous, punchy singing with a decibel rating designed to cut through the sustained screaming of teen-age females.

In the terminology that has grown up around them, gear, fab and rave all mean approximately the same thing—great.

The Beatles held the top of the British hit parade ratings longer than any other performers in years. For weeks their records monopolized the top three places.

Whenever they hold a concert, riot police are posted in the streets and ambulances race up to haul away the fainting girls. At the height of the craze last year it was almost impossible to open a newspaper without reading of some new manifestation of Beatlemania.

HIGHBROW PRESS

Even the highbrow press gave large chunks of space to analyzing their success, examining the sociological implications and deliberating such problems as, "What makes the girls scream?"

★ ★ ★

Nobody came up with an adequate answer.

But one girl, interviewed on television, said: "You see everyone else yelling so you feel you might as well join in yourself."

MONTHLY EARNINGS

According to one recent estimate, the Beatle sound is grossing something like $1.4 million a month for record companies, promoters and the boys.

Their performances have been a hit in Germany and Scandinavia but were coolly received by critics in Paris. There is some speculation they may be falling off at home. Three weeks ago they were edged from the top of the hit parade and have slumped to ninth place.

In America, they will appear on Ed Sullivan's television show for three weeks and will give two performances at New York's Carnegie Hall.

Peck's Wife Picked Peck Over Dr. Schweitzer Date

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—This is just a little love story about Gregory Peck and his French wife Veronique . . . who used to be a reporter in Paris . . . and if you don't like it . . . well, maybe you're an old Scrooge.

WILSON

Everything happened to the Pecks the last few days. They were invited by President Lyndon B. Johnson to drop into the White House . . . and did . . . spending 15 minutes with The Man, who was full of compliments.

Then they met this jerky columnist, me, who instead of discussing Greg's new film, "Captain Newman" asked questions about Veronique's reporting days 12 years ago when she had a date to interview Dr. Albert Schweitzer . . . which she blew.

"I was supposed to interview Dr. Schweitzer," Veronique explained, "after he had lunch with Jean Paul Sartre. They were cousins or something."

★ ★ ★

"She interviewed some crazy people." Greg poured some more of the Dom Perignon and commented that Scotch has become the status drink in Paris now. "I don't mean that Dr. Schweitzer is crazy people. But she ran the gamut. She interviewed George Raft and Samuel Goldwyn."

"You know," I said, having some more of the Dom Perignon, "I would have sworn you were going to tell me about your date with Dr. Albert Schweitzer."

Veronique picked up the story. "It was 1952. Greg was in Paris on his way to Italy to make 'Roman Holiday.' I was assigned to interview him.

"The next day Greg invited me to visit the races with him."

"When I invited her on the phone," Greg remembered, "there was a long pause. Later on, after we were married, I asked her, 'What took you so long?'"

"And I told him," she said now, "that I had a date to interview Dr. Albert Schweitzer, but he was late. I had to make up my mind fast, did I want to have date with Gregory Peck or with Dr. Albert Schweitzer? It was the greatest decision I ever had to make in my life and I've never regretted deciding what I did."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Eddie Fisher—off for the Olympics—said he asked Atty. Louis Nizer to take action against a record firm which, he says, "bootlegged" his voice off radio and created a hit album—which he hasn't been able to do lately! He wants royalties . . . The Zeckendorfs have a real smash hit in Shepheard's—the new glamour girl spot at the Drake .

★ ★ ★

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The best thing about getting old is that all those things you couldn't have when you were young, you no longer want."

EARL'S PEARLS: A good speaker is one who rises to the occasion—and then sits down promptly.

Don Murray, portraying Dr. Norman Vincent Peale in "One Man's Way," dances the Charleston in the film. Dr. Peale watched it and said, "I didn't think I was that good." That's earl, brother.

Project in Lake Michigan Will Generate Electricity

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

And it also will, in effect, store electricity in large quantity — something you may have heard can't be done.

The company has not yet disclosed the size of the proposed development, but it told an interim study committee of the Michigan House of Representatives last Aug. 29 that "the prospect of constructing this multimillion dollar project seems favorable."

It has fixed no starting date, either. The Ludington Daily News' Russ Miller Jr. quoted president James Campbell as saying last May that "it is very doubtful there will be any construction in the next two years," but a Consumer spokesman says "it very definitely is in the works."

DISCLOSED PLANS

The company first disclosed its plans to enter this mode of power making in 1961.

The development would be what the electric industry refers to as "a pumped storage hydroelectric plant," and Consumers explained in a memo to the House committee:

★ ★ ★

"Pumped storage hydro acts as a giant storage battery, storing potential energy in the form of water at a higher level, to be released to generate electricity when the demand is greatest."

Consumers already has acquired more than a square mile of land in a bowl formed by hills back of Lake Michigan about three miles south of Ludington. There is a dizzying drop of 300 feet down a bluff to the lake.

CREATE RESERVOIR

Within this bowl, the company proposes to create a reservoir.

At lakeside, it plans a plant that would utilize electricity in slack periods of demand to pump water into the reservoir covering 800-plus acres.

When sudden spurts in demand developed, Consumers would send its reservoir water gushing down to the lake, making electricity as it went back through the same turbines that pumped it uphill.

Consumers said in a statement:

"Actually, the idea of pumped storage is not new. But it has always been considered an expensive way to generate power, mostly because until recently two different sets of turbines were needed to get the water pumped up to the reservoir, and then to make power from the falling water.

★ ★ ★

One Million Strike Italy State Services

ROME (AP) — Italy's 1 million state employes struck for 24 hours today.

The nationwide walkout stopped all trains, including foreign trains at the frontier, closed public schools, cut off postal, telegraph and long-distance telephone service and shut public offices.

Many tourists were stranded in the chill Alpine passes crossing the northern frontiers.

Fire Statistics Drop in Waterford Township

Diefenbaker Reelected to Tory Post

A move to hold an unprecedented secret ballot with the aim of unseating him was also massively defeated.

When the final open vote was taken, only about 40 of the 800 delegates to the annual convention remained seated to show opposition to Diefenbaker.

"I want to know where I stand," Diefenbaker said. "I want to know where you stand too."

Transfusions From Corpses Focus Attention on Hospital

By L. GARY THORNE

A scientific experiment — the transfusion of blood from corpses to living humans — continues at Pontiac General Hospital, but in the national medical spotlight.

When The Pontiac Press published a report on the work of Dr. Jack Kevorkian at the hospital last summer, few outside the area recognized the significance of the experiment.

Then Dr. Kevorkian's work was published in national medical and military journals. The world discovered Pontiac General Hospital.

The project was instigated by disbelief. Kevorkian had read about similar Russian experiments in the 1930's and "talked it up" among his colleagues.

However, the idea met frank disagreement from some of the hospital's staff. Some doctors contended that not enough blood could be obtained from a corpse to make the idea practical.

The outspoken 35-year-old bachelor took three and a half pints from a DOA (dead on arrival) victim, proving his contention and winning the blessing of Dr. John J. Marra, director of laboratories, for further experiments.

Blood extracted from corpses was given to four patients in the spring of 1961. Like similar blood given to patients, an anticoagulant and preservative (ACD) solution was added to the blood.

The project lapsed for six months when Kevorkian left for other training. It resumed in October, 1961 upon his return.

Blood was drawn into dry bottles and given to three patients. In fact one patient received blood twice and had surgery on both occasions.

★ ★ ★

"Naturally," he adds, "we got permission and explained what was involved."

ATTAIN SUCCESS

This phase was a success. There was absolutely no reaction, Kevorkian recalls.

This was a first for the United States, the Pontiac native said.

Dr. Kevorkian went on with his studies of blood. He harbored the unexpressed theory that blood could be transfused directly from a corpse to a living human.

"After 10 minutes discussion," Kevorkian related, "we decided to try it."

Dr. Marra gave the go-ahead.

A pact was made between Kevorkian, Marra, Rae and Nicol. It was agreed the first one who's blood type cameup would get it.

About three weeks later, a 34-year-old man died of a heart attack. His blood matched Nicol's.

★ ★ ★

"It's kind of weird, but Nicol even helped me make the transfusion," Kevorkian said.

The lab technician shattered the seriousness of the moment when he faked a reaction. The transfusion was a success, however.

Two other experiments were conducted last summer. One turned up an unexpected finding.

★ ★ ★

A woman technician received blood from a young accident victim who had been intoxicated. She reported "a funny taste" in her mouth.

TRANSFUSIONS SAFE

Dr. Kevorkian said the Russians had already proved that it was safe to transfuse blood with alcoholic content.

All the blood given body-to-body was given about five to five-and-a-half hours after the donor had died, the doctor said.

The Russians set six hours as the limit, he added.

"We aren't trying to push this limit at all."

MILITARY USE

The doctor said the new technique of blood transfusion has only one practical application and that is for military use.

"This makes every soldier a walking blood bank," he added.

Dr. Kevorkian, who spent two years in the Army during the Korean conflict, said a medical corpsman could make the blood transfusions right on the battlefield.

★ ★ ★

However, the Defense Department, like other institutions, has rejected the idea because of its "controversial nature and practical drawbacks."

SIMILAR REACTIONS

Dr. Kevorkian has drawn similar reactions from colleges, hospitals and universities. He said that seven universities, two of them in Michigan, told him flatly he could not carry on such experiments in their institutions.

"I'm kind of disillusioned when I get this reaction from medical men."

Describing the emotionalism his experiments have provoked, Kevorkian related it to the idea that people hate corpses.

He held out hope, however. This attitude is changing gradually, he said, because of the increasing use of transplanted organs, such as eyes.

He said that Dr. Marra deserved credit for allowing the experiments to go on.

"The ice is broken," Dr. Kevorkian concluded.

County Tables Medical Plan

Retirement Group Awaits U. S. Action

The question of whether Oakland County should pay a share of Blue Cross Insurance rates for its employes after they retire was tabled Monday by the Employes Retirement Commission of the county.

The commission agreed to see if the federal government adds a medical care provision to social security, said Robert Lilly, executive secretary of the commission.

It was felt that if the federal government will provide medical care, county employes won't need their Blue Cross Insurance after retirement, he said.

★ ★ ★

At present, some of the 160 retirees are paying more in insurance premiums from their own pockets than they receive in county pensions, County Personnel Director John Witherup said.

DIFFICULTIES

Many others, he said, find it increasingly difficult to keep up the premiums. Half of this is paid by the county until they retire.

For the county to keep paying its share after retirement would cost $13,414 this year, said Lilly.

He said the county would be wrong to pay the money from employe's retirement fund earnings as proposed earlier.

A special appropriation would have to be added to the county budget instead, according to Lilly.

Engagement Broken for Dutch Princess

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Hollanders, already roused by Princess Irene's conversion to Catholicism, were buzzing today about Queen Juliana's announcement that plans for her daughter's engagement had fallen through.

In a broadcast last night, the queen said there had been "the happy possibility of an engagement" for Irene but "unfortunately we now must tell you that our daughter Irene has informed us this afternoon that this engagement will not take place.

Irene's whereabouts were a mystery, but the queen said, "We hope to see our daughter shortly in our midst."

★ ★ ★

HER DECISION

Shortly after the queen spoke, a government spokesman announced that the breakoff in engagement plans was Irene's decision.

Then Premier Victor van Marijnen summoned newsmen and insisted government pressure had not been exerted on the princess, who has been in Spain for a month.

The queen gave no clue to the identity of Irene's suiter. Since Irene went to Spain Jan. 9, her name has been linked with several young Spanish aristocrats.

Johnson Asks Protection for the Consumer

Laws Are Sought on Interest Charges, Phony Packaging

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for new laws to protect consumers against phony packaging and disguised interest charges.

He suggested possible use of federal experts to help low-income families prepare household budgets.

Johnson, in a special message on consumer interests, endorsed nine specific pieces of legislation including pending bills to ban deceptive packaging and to require full disclosure of interest rates on installment purchases.

Eight of the nine measures had the endorsement or sponsorship of the late President John F. Kennedy. The ninth proposal, still to be introduced, would require inspection of all meat and poultry sold in the country, whether or not it crossed state lines.

★ ★ ★

"For far too long," Johnson said, "the consumer has had too little voice and too little weight in government."

NOVEL IDEA

The most novel idea in the message—the use of trained government workers to help low-income urban families learn more about budgeting and how to "get the most for their money"—was not put forward in the form of legislation.

The President said stronger regulations are needed to discourage misleading adjectives, puzzling variations in fractional weights and package illustrations having no relationship to the contents.

Other legislative recommendations were:

- A requirement that cosmetics be proved safe before marketing and that federal inspection of foods, drugs and cosmetics be expanded.
- Grant subpoena authority in administrative hearings under the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.
- Require warnings of accident hazards on labels for drugs, cosmetics, and pressurized containers.
- End the practice of allowing pesticide manufacturers to market their products before they have been certified as safe by the Agriculture Department.

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president, inspected damage to the embassy and denounced the bombing as the work of "heinous criminals."

The terrorism appeared designed to demonstrate Greek Cypriot opposition to an American-British plan to assign a North Atlantic Treaty Organization peace force to enforce the truce between the island's warring Greek and Turkish communities.

Makarios, in effect, rejected such a force yesterday by demanding that it be answerable to the U.N. Security Council.

Ford Quarter Hikes Records

Sales, Profits Peaks Reached During '63

This was disclosed yesterday in Ford's 1963 financial statement.

Ford reported net income of $488.5 million, equal to $4.42 a share last year. It bettered the old marks of $480.7 million and $4.36 set in 1962.

The Ford report came less than a week after GM announced it made $1.59 billion, or $5.56 a share last year. It was the biggest return ever earned by any company.

DETROIT (UPI) — American Motors Corp. announced today record sales of $319,429,000 for the first quarter of 1964 but a drop in profits to $10,974,000.

HEALTHY CONDITION

Ford's report, as did GM's, reflected the current healthy condition of the auto industry which last year, for the second time in a row, chalked up sales of over 7 million units in the U. S. market.

Chrysler, third of the automobile Big Three, is due to make its financial report later this month.

Ford had reported a slight decline in profits for the first nine months of 1963, despite record dollar sales for that period.

The final three months, however, were the best in Ford history.

Sales for that quarter totaled $2.54 billion, a record for any quarter in the history of the company, and 11 per cent ahead of the $2.29 billion figure recorded in a like quater in 1962.

Sales Mark Is Hailed by Pontiac

Pontiac Motor Division today hailed January car sales as the best for that month in any year.

"The market for new cars is exceptionally strong for this time of year," said E. M. Estes, Pontiac General Manager, "and is picking up momentum."

★ ★ ★

While Pontiac salesmen were adding to the list of orders, monthly reports show Ford, Chrysler and other General Motors divisions running well ahead of last year's figures.

BIG THREE

The Big Three of the U. S. auto industry sold 533,198 cars last month, an increase of more than six per cent over the 500,486 sales listed in January, 1962.

Cadillac, Chevrolet, Dodge and the Ford division of Ford Motor Co. said last month's sales were the highest totals ever recorded for any January.

Chrysler Corp. said sales were the best since 1957 and Lincoln-Mercury said they were the best since 1955.

★ ★ ★

JUST DELIGHTED

"We are delighted, but far from surprised, at the continuing high level of sales of both cars and trucks.

"They indicate we are on target with our predictions of another banner sales year in 1964."

Byron J. Nichols, general manager of Dodge, added, "Our January record is particularly impressive in view of the fact that many parts of the country were plagued with bad weather last month."

Board to Act on Boundaries

New Student Areas for Pontiac Schools

Proposed boundary changes for junior and senior high schools are set for final action tomorrow night at the meeting of the Pontiac school board.

The board, which normally meets on the second Thursday of the month, is meeting a week earlier because of a convention.

The convention, the American Association of School Administrators, will be held Feb. 15-19 in Atlantic City.

★ ★ ★

BALANCE ENROLLMENTS

School officials have also proposed shifting boundaries between Pontiac's two high schools. This will be done to balance enrollments, schoolmen say.

Under the proposed boundary, an estimated 221 students who would normally attend Pontiac Central High will instead attend Pontiac Northern High School.

However, students now attending high school need not switch if they don't want to. In the future students will follow the proposed boundary lines.

★ ★ ★

The present high school boundary extends east along Mt. Clemens and Featherstone to the city limits, while the new line would extend east along Mt.

In Hoffa Trial

Informer Tells of 'Fix' Plans

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Teamster official-turned-informer testified today that James R. Hoffa told him of plans to "try to get to a few scattered jurors" in the Teamsters' president's conspiracy trial.

Edward Grady Partin, Baton Rouge, La., Teamsters officer, testified over heated defense objections at the jury-tampering trial of Hoffa and five other men.

His was the first testimony linking Hoffa himself with any alleged jury-fixing efforts so far in the trial, now in its third week.

★ ★ ★

"He called me to his room," said Partin, business manager of Baton Rouge Local No. 5. "He told me he'd like for me to stick around a few days. He might want me to talk to a few people.

TAKE A CHANCE

"He said they were going to get to one juror and try to get to a few scattered jurors and take a chance."

Hoffa and the others are accused of trying to influence jurors in the 1962 Nashville trial.

The government won a major victory when U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson this morning permitted Partin to testify.

★ ★ ★

The defense, obviously stunned by the informer's surprise appearance yesterday, had sought to block his testimony on grounds he had been planted illegally in their midst by the Justice Department.

JUDGE RULES

"I find the government did not place him in the midst of the defense," Judge Wilson said. "He was knowingly and voluntarily placed there by one of the defendants."

Partin had testified yesterday that Hoffa had invited him to Nashville on the day his 1962 trial began to discuss union business.

"I knew there was a serious security leak among the defense counsel," testified Daniel Maher. The government, he said, had "seemingly uncanny ability to predict our moves."

CONSTANT CONTACT

He said he once inquired about Partin — who said he was in constant contact with defense lawyers and Justice Department officials during the 1962 trial.

But, Maher said, he was assured by Hoffa and one of his lawyers, "He's one of us; he's all right."

City Personnel Reorganized

Commission Finishes Year-Long Study

A year-long reorganization of the city's personnel department, which had its roots in the overtime and compensatory time chalked up by policemen, was completed last night by the City Commission.

The City Commission unanimously approved three resolutions which:

- Discontinue the present personnel department and place all personnel records and the department's budget under "direction and control" of the city manager.
- Officially appoint Assistant City Manager John E. Reineck as Personnel Officer under direction of the city manager and abolish the post of personnel director.
- Establish the position of safety inspector, a job earmarked for former personnel director Harold Marshall.

WON'T CONFLICT

City Manager Robert A. Carter indicated any changes in personnel procedures wouldn't conflict with powers given department heads by the City Charter to hire and fire personnel in their own departments.

There was brief confusion over passage of the measures. The commission first okayed a resolution giving Carter the power to appoint a personnel officer.

Then, they were about to okay a resolution naming Reineck to the job when Commissioner Charles H. Harmon said, "I'm a little confused. I thought we just gave this power to the city manager."

★ ★ ★

He was correct. City Attorney William A. Ewart, who drafted the resolutions, hastily suggested the first be reworded to allow for the personnel officer to be appointed by the commis-

Dixie Mayor Halts Integration of School

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — The mayor of Notasulga invoked a newly adopted city ordinance today and refused to admit six Negroes to the all-white Notasulga High School despite a federal court order to desegregate the school.

Six other Negroes, by contrast, were admitted quietly to another white high school at nearby Shorter High School, also integrated by federal court order.

Mayor Jack Rea at Notasulga stopped the six Negro students before they could get off the county school bus and notified them that under the new city fire and safety inspection ordinance the school already had as many students as it could accommodate safely.

The bus, driven by a Negro and occupied only by the six Negro students, left the school grounds and headed back in the direction of Tuskegee, where the students had boarded it.

A commercial photographer, Vernon Merritt Jr., was forcibly taken off the bus and thrown to the ground when it was discovered he had slipped aboard at Tuskegee.

GOVERNOR'S SON

State troopers guarded Notasulga High and the school at Shorter, keeping all but students and faculty members off the campus.

They were under orders from their commander, Col. Al Lingo, to use force if necessary to keep federal agents off school property.

FBI agents watched from across the street at Notasulga, but made no effort to penetrate the trooper barrier.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

In other racial developments:

- The Cleveland School Board has agreed to integrate 800 Negro pupils into schools with predominately white enrollments following pressure by civil rights demonstrators.
- In Jackson, Miss., Dr. Jacob L. Reddix, president of Jackson State College for Negroes, said yesterday students involved in a rock - throwing demonstration put down by police with tear gas and shotguns will not be reprimanded.

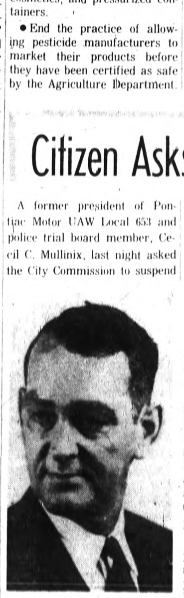
Citizen Asks Manager's Suspension

A former president of Pontiac Motor UAW Local 653 and police trial board member, Cecil C. Mullinix, last night asked the City Commission to suspend City Manager Robert A. Carter.



CECIL MULLINIX

Mullinix, attending last night's commission meeting, said, "Either the commission should suspend the manager or he (Carter) should resign until his grand jury indictment is cleared up in Flint.

"I think he has an obligation to do so for the best interest of this city," Mullinix told commissioners.

Carter's examination on a fraud conspiracy indictment in Flint Municipal Court, originally scheduled for 9 a.m. tomorrow, has been postponed indefinitely while Carter appears as a witness in a similar charge against Flint businessman Samuel M. Catsman.

NO ARGUMENT

"If you believe everything you read in the newspaper, I'm not even going to argue with you," said Mayor Robert A. Landry in reply to Mullinix.

The mayor then briskly dismissed the request saying, "You can think what you want, but you're not sitting up here."

T. WARREN FOWLER SR.

Contractor 4th to File in District 1

A Pontiac electrical and heating contractor, T. Warren Fowler Sr., has announced he will seek the District 1 City Commission seat in the spring election.

Fowler, 57, of 59 Lake filed a petition late yesterday to seek nomination in the March 2 primary.

He became the fourth person to enter the race for the two top spots in the district primary.

★ ★ ★

Fowler has been a Pontiac resident since 1928. He is married and the father of three children.

TRIAL BOARD

A veteran member of the Pontiac Police Trial Board, he is presently serving as secretary of the board. He was a member of the committee which reorganized the trial board several years ago, and has been a board member since 1955.

Fowler is president and founder of the Warren Fowler Electric Co. and founder of Fowler Heating and Cooling Co., both firms located at 377 Orchard Lake Ave.

He is a former director of the Pontiac Urban League and an active member of the Newman A.M.E. Church since 1928, presently serving as a church trustee.

★ ★ ★

Fowler recently won an award from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for aiding Negro employment.

★ ★ ★

He said his decision to seek nomination came "only after careful thought and with the encouragement of persons representative of business, professional, church, civic and home owner" groups in District 1.

Civil Rights Bill

House Argues Lodging

WASHINGTON (AP) — One final challenge remains today to House approval of a strong public accommodations section in the civil rights bill.

An amendment, sponsored by a Republican, that would severely limit its application posed the last threat to a bipartisan coalition that easily turned back Southern attempts to weaken the section Tuesday.

Still ahead are fights over other sections of the 10-part bill, but many Negro leaders regard the public accommodations provision as its heart.

It would prohibit discrimination against Negroes by hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters or other places open to the general public, a type of discrimination that sparked many Negro demonstrations last year and helped generate pressure for a strong bill.

BAD BEATING

Southern opponents took a shot at cutting down the coverage of the section Tuesday, but were badly beaten in an impressive display of strength and cohesion by Democrats and Republicans supporting the bill.

An amendment by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., the Southern floor leader, to cover only hotels and motels serving mostly interstate travelers, was defeated 165-93. And one by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., that would completely have nullified the provision, went down 149-107.

★ ★ ★

The amendment to be offered today by Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., a member of the subcommittee that helped shape the bill and a strong supporter of many of its provisions, would cover only hotels, motels, eating places and gasoline stations on interstate highways.

House leaders hope consideration of the bill will now move along faster.

TWO BATTLES

When the public accommodations section is disposed of, only two major battles appear to lie ahead. They will be over provisions banning racial discrimination in employment and in programs supported by federal funds.

House Republicans are aiming at a final vote by Friday. The bill then faces all kinds of trouble in the Senate.

Excise Tax Repeal Battled by Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders face another stiff battle today on the tax cut bill—a Republican effort to repeal the 10 per cent excise tax on jewelry, watches, luggage, cosmetics and furs.

The vote was expected to be just as close as Tuesday when the administration forces beat back—by only three votes each time—major drives to retain the credit on stock dividends and to give a tax break to parents putting children through college.

With debate on the $11.6-billion tax cut bill now in its fifth day, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was highly pleased with the progress.

There seemed to be a good chance the bill would be passed by Thursday night, well ahead of the time expected earlier.

AMENDMENT DUE

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., planned to offer the amendment to repeal the excise tax in the absence of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who is ill.

Pontiac Central now has 2,294 and Northern 1,516.

Attendance area changes for junior high schools are set up to give the new Baldwin school an enrollment of about 629 students.

New Sewer Policy Set for Okay

Proposed changes in the city's policy involving sewer rates and tap-in fees were introduced at last night's City Commission meeting and slated for adoption next Tuesday.

One measure would allow the city to install meters in sewer lines for commercial and industrial users. It would not affect residential sewage rates.

The second would require a tap-in fee for all future connections to city sewer facilities, including residential.

★ ★ ★

GREATER FLOW?

"The city feels that some commercial and industrial customers produce a greater sewage flow than they are charged for," said City Engineer Joseph Neipling. "Others may be charged too much.

"Through the installation of meters, we can more fairly and accurately compute sewage charges," he said.

The tap-in fee would run about $150 per unit for a new building, home or building addition tapping into an existing sewer.

★ ★ ★

SIZE, CHARACTER

A single family dwelling is considered one unit. The unit-size of a commercial or industrial establishment is determined by its size and character.

The tap-in fee would be citywide. All fees would go into the city's sewer fund and would pay for long-range improvements and additions to the city's sewer system.

Neipling explained that most other cities have a tap-in charge.

★ ★ ★

Projects which could be partially financed through the tap-in fees in the immediate future include the proposed Murphy Park relief sewer and Galloway Creek trunk sewer.

★ ★ ★

The two are estimated at total cost of over $1 million.

While running unopposed in the 1962 election, Landry will be opposed by at least two other candidates in the March 2 primary.

START OF SHAKE-UP

The beginnings of a shake-up in personnel goes back more than a year to dissatisfaction voiced by several commissioners over personnel procedures.

Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom has long been opposed to records of police overtime and compensatory time being housed in the police department.

He has urged, since 1962, that such records be kept readily available in the personnel department, which is only two doors away from the city manager's office at City Hall.

Some other commissioners agreed with Bottom. In addition, Bottom felt there were improvements needed in some procedures used in hiring city employes.

REQUEST STUDY

Bottom and former Commissioner Milton R. Henry requested an administrative study showing how many city employes lived within the city in December 1962.

Bottom felt employes should be local taxpayers and suggested at that time that when future employes were hired, they be required to live in Pontiac.

Former City Manager Robert A. Stierer submitted the report a month later showing 480 lived in Pontiac and 277 lived outside.

★ ★ ★

PUT IN CHARGE

He announced that Teel would direct "a detailed study of all personnel functions, including the establishment of a central records section containing essential information on all city employes."

Marshall was retained on the personnel staff but in a lesser capacity.

★ ★ ★

As the study progressed, Teel found some areas where efficiency could be somewhat improved.

CENTRAL RECORDS

Records were gradually centralized, and at the request of Bottom, records of time put in by policemen individually were channeled to the city manager twice a month.

Commissioners and administrators said they had no personal criticism of Marshall, but they felt his natural capabilities were much better suited to the duties of safety inspector.

The inspector's job is to recommend better safety procedures and equipment for city employes, and report instances where employes are ignoring existing safety rules.

City administrators feel Marshall's work will cut the annual cost of compensation paid to employes injured on the job.

Defense Drives to Ruin State Case Against Beckwith

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The defense calls new witnesses today in a drive to rip up the state's case against Byron De La Beckwith, charged with murder.

Hardy Lott of Greenwood, chief defense lawyer, said he hoped to wind up the 10-day-old trial by tomorrow.

The prosecution rested its case yesterday. In nearly four days of testimony, Dist. Atty. William L. Waller called 35 witnesses in an effort to prove Beckwith ambushed Medgar Evers.

★ ★ ★

Evers, 37, was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was killed by a sniper when he stepped from his car at his home here last June 12.

CLIMAXES CASE

Waller climaxed his case with two pretty girls who told the all-white jury that a car, which Beckwith's, was parked near the they positively identified as murder scene on the night of the shooting.

Waller's final witness, Dr. F. G. Bratley of Jackson, testified that a new pink scar arched over Beckwith's right eye could have been due to a blow from a telescopic sight jolted backward by a rifle's recoil.

Evers was killed by a bullet from a 30.06 Enfield. A rifle of that make was found carefully hidden about 150 feet from the sniper's nest where the killer lay in wait.

★ ★ ★

A defense hint that Beckwith's Enfield, with its telescopic sight, was stolen before the shooting, reechoed just before the state closed it case.

Observers in the field of employment believe that competition for summer jobs will be keen for years to come as the number of teen-agers increases.

State Lawmen Back Powers

Support Subpoenas as Enforcement Aid

LANSING (AP) — Joint subpoena powers for the attorney general and the governor won endorsement as an "important first step" in fighting organized crime Tuesday from a group of federal, state and local law enforcement officials.

Meeting behind closed doors, representatives of 12 jurisdictions supported subpoena powers for the state officials and for county prosecutors as well.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who called the meeting in a campaign against organized crime, said:

"At both the state and local level this basic tool is seen as an important first step in stepping up the activities of law enforcement agencies in this area

TRIED FOR YEARS

Attorneys general have tried for years to obtain legislative approval for subpoena power.

Kelley will introduce legislation this year to provide power to subpoena persons or records upon joint approval of the attorney general and the governor.

In Tuesday's meeting, the officials agreed to establish a permanent committee to coordinate efforts in combating organized crime.

The committee would meet monthly and have a rotating chairmanship. Included in the group would be U.S. and state attorneys, FBI, state and local police departments, county prosecutors and officials from other local jurisdictions where organized crime is a major concern.

NUMBERS RACKET

Singled out for attention among Michigan's most pressing law enforcement problems were the numbers racket, the use of paregoric as a narcotics substitute, and a shortage of trained investigators and legal personnel.

Kelley said the numbers operation "looms presently as the biggest immediate operation of organized crime in Michigan."

★ ★ ★

Statistics on the extent of the operation were provided by U.S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow of Detroit, but neither Kelley nor Gubow would reveal them outside the meeting.

Among those attending the meeting were State Police Commissioner Joseph C. Childs, U.S. Atty. George Hill, prosecutors Samuel Olsen of Wayne County, George Taylor of Oakland County and George Parris of Macomb County, and Macomb County Sheriff Lee Olmsteadt.

Exchange Chief Backs Special Stock Traders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

G. Kieth Funston told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee that they behaved admirably, on the whole, in the frenzied 27-minute span between the news of President John F. Kennedy's assassination and the closing of the market.

He said much of the buying support came from specialists and floor traders, while individual customers of brokerage houses provided most of the selling pressure that tumbled prices.

★ ★ ★

What are the roles of these men and the meaning of other terms peculiar to stock trading?

FLOOR BROKER

Floor broker—member of an exchange who executes on the floor orders to buy or sell any listed stock as received by phone from his brokerage firm.

$2 broker-exchange member who executes orders on the floor for other brokers busy with other orders or for firms whose member broker isn't on hand. Formerly the fee was $2 per 100 shares; now varies with price of stock

Specialist—exchange member charged with maintaining a reasonably orderly market in one or more stocks in one industry. To do so he must be ready to buy or sell for his own account. He also acts as a broker for other members who leave orders and then go on to other trading posts.

Special offering — block of stock so large as to require special handling. Ticker tape announces offer for sale at fixed price, usually based on last transaction in regular auction market. Other member firms may buy from the seller's broker during trading hours.

DISTRIBUTION

Secondary distribution — redistribution of a block, usually large, some time after stock has been sold by issuing company. Handled off the floor of exchange by securities firm or group of firms, and offered at fixed price. Often a block is involved in settlement of an estate.

Treasury stock—shares issued by company but later reacquired may be held in company's treasury indefinitely, reissued to public, used for employe stock option or retired; while held by company receives no dividends and has no vote.

In-and-outer—trader who buys and sells same stock within short period; more interested in day-to-day price changes than dividends or long-term growth. Brokers usually cut commissions for quick round-trip transaction. Example: stock sold on news of shooting of President Kennedy might have been rebought soon afterwards to take advantage of steep price drop.

ARBITRAGE

Arbitrage—buying and selling the same or equivalent securities at the same time in different markets. Example: buying a share for $90 in New York and selling for $95 in San Francisco or London, if such a price differential exists at time; or buying a convertible bond and selling the stock into which it is convertible.

Investor—buys stock for regular dividend income, safety of investment, and capital appreciation over a long term.

★ ★ ★

Speculator—accepts large risk in hope of quick gain on rising stock prices with little interest in dividend income; or may buy into unknown company which he doesn't expect to be profitable for years.

Professional—one who makes a living buying and selling securities; or a student of the market.

HIGH PRESSURE

Boiler room — high-pressure peddling over the phone of stocks of dubious value, often from a room with little in it but phones.

Bucket shop—illegal operation in which operator accepted client's money without ever actually buying or selling stock but gambling that the customer was wrong. If too many customers were right, the bucket shop closed to reopen in new location.

Corner—buying stock or commodity in such volume as to gain control over price, forcing would-be buyer, such as one who has sold short, to pay arbitrarily high price.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I am 22 years old and single. I've recently started a savings account in which I have $110. What do you think about my buying a stock? What issue would be best for me?" B. R.

(A) My opinion is that it's a little early to embark on a stock program.

All stocks have risks, if only those of fluctuating price, and I think you should have more money in your savings account before you buy any shares. Furthermore, the commission on a $100 stock purchase would be relatively high.

After building up your savings reserve to a satisfactory level, I believe your first stock investment should involve at least $500.

When the time comes, I advise you to buy — at your age — only strong growth issues, such as Bristol-Myers, which seem likely to enhance your capital over a period of years.

(Q) "Many companies invest some of their funds in stock of other enterprises. It seems ridiculous to me. By the time the dividends get back to the owning company, the Government must have pocketed most of the dividends in income tax. How can management justify such investments?" S. S.

(A) I have never discussed this matter with any management, but I believe the answer is that some managements invest their funds in stocks of other companies simply because they expect them to grow in value.

An excellent example is shown by the substantial investment portfolio of Allied Chemical. This company, at the end of 1962, had sizable investments in such diverse companies as Owens-Illinois Glass, U. S. Steel, and American Viscose. Their total stock list at that time had a market value of about 78 million dollars and a book value of less than 18 million dollars. This enormous profit over a period of years would seem to answer your question.

Blonde's Story Threatens Case

May Verify Alibi in Syndicate Bombing

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UPI) — A strikingly coiffed blonde may jeopardize Chicago authorities' hopes for solving a crime syndicate bombing.

The lawyer for Miss Sharon Peake, 25, indicated today she would "probably" verify Eugene Yocca's story that Yocca and she were in a motel nine days ago at the time he allegedly planted a bomb on the car of a police informer.

The story gives Yocca, 28, an ex-convict and part-time bartender, an alibi to charges the crime syndicate hired him to button the lip of Lewis Barbe, a playboy insurance broker.

★ ★ ★

HELD IN BURGLARY

Miss Peake, a hair stylist who wears her own hair in a sweeping bouffant, is held in Fort Wayne on a charge of an $18,000 burglary. Authorities said she was involved in a large, multistate burglary ring.

A house in Fort Wayne appeared to be the out-of-town headquarters of the Chicago burglary gang. A reporter found 40 to 50 polaroid camera negatives of Yocca and Miss Peake and love letters belonging to them in a trash can at the home.

Neighbors said they knew Yocca as "Gino Dentino" and said he lived in the house with Miss Peake. The lease of the house was made out to Sharon and Gino Dentino.

★ ★ ★

One of the items in the trash can was a sales slip from a Fort Wayne firm which had been burglarized. On the back of the slip was the name and telephone number of the Coles Motel in the Chicago suburb of Cicero, Ill., where Yocca and Miss Peake said they stayed.

★ ★ ★

The "blonde alibi" setback for authorities appeared at a time when law enforcement officials were cracking down on some of the biggest names in the crime syndicate.

GOP Plans Joint Plan on Districts

LANSING (AP) — The four Republican members of the State Apportionment Commission today pledged to submit one plan jointly for redistricting the legislature.

Former Gov. Wilbert Brucker, a committee cochairman and spokesman for the Republicans, signed the letter delivered to the Supreme Court chambers this morning.

"Acting jointly," it said, "we intend to submit a proposed plan of apportionment of the Senate and House."

DEM PLAN

Tuesday, Ivan Brown, an Iron Mountain Democrat, submitted a plan keyed to maintaining as many existing districts as possible within the new constitution's formula, which gives four times as much emphasis to population as to area.

Brown said he also favors another Democrat plan, which he said will be submitted by members A. Robert Kleiner of East Grand Rapids and Richard Austin of Detroit.

Brucker's letter said the Republican plan will be submitted "as soon as possible to complete it."

The eight-man commission stopped trying to agree on a new districting plan Saturday. It told the Supreme Court it could not reach a majority decision and alternative plans would be submitted to the court.

HANCOCK (AP) — Christine Goerner, 20, of Orville, Ohio, who allegedly set an $80,000 fire on the Suomi College campus, has been found innocent of arson by reason of temporary insanity.

Miss Goerner, a student at the college, was released by Houghton County Circuit Court, which returned $1,000 bond she had posted. Houghton County Sheriff John Wiitanen said Miss Goerner planned to return to Orville.

50 Search for Students in Mountains

MT. WASHINGTON, N.H. (AP) — Some 50 searchers today set out to try to find four Syracuse University sudents lost since last Friday on New Hampshire's storm - swept Presidential mountain range.

The searchers, all experienced mountain climbers, planned to go as high as the timber line, about 4,500 feet up the mountains despite 15 degree temperature, wind gusts up to 105 miles an hour at the summit and snow squalls which limited visibility to 40 feet.

Here's a Way to Kick Habit —Drown It

Driving along Fall Creek Parkway yesterday, Wright took a deep drag, choked and fainted. His car ran over a curb, rolled down a bank and went into the creek.

"The next thing I knew, my hand was dangling in water," Wright said.

He waded ashore, unhurt, but he vowed, "I'm giving up smoking."

Barber With Fast Blades Faces Russian 'Trim' Quiz

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The barber with the world's fastest blades will be back in the barbershop next week wielding a pair of scissors and getting the third degree on how he trimmed the Russians.

Speedskater Terry McDermott newly married, says he's going straight back to work after winning America's first gold medal of the Winter Olympics. He will not compete in any of the three longer races.

"There are," he explained after his triumph in Monday's 500-meters speed skating event, "payments to be made — house payments, car payments and down-payment payments.

AWAY TOO LONG

McDermott's victory in the 500 meters finally broke Russia's grip on the Olympic speed-skating events. It deposed, in Olympic record time, Evgeny Grishin, the Russian world record holder who has made this title his personal property since 1956. Three other Soviet speed aces also were left behind.

★ ★ ★

For McDermott, the moment was magic.

"I have dreamed about this ever since I first made the U.S. national team five years ago," he said.

Richard Terence — "everyone calls me Terry" — McDermott was born and brought up in Essexville, Mich., the son of a sales representative.

He was the youngest of seven children—and the only boy.

A Catholic, he went to St. John's parochial school and there met Virginia Vermeesch, who became his steady girl.

Four months ago they were married after Terry had spent two years in college, Michigan Tech, and nine months learning to become a barber.

So, every working day, McDermott heads for adjoining Bay City, where he lines up with two other barbers in a shop belonging to his uncle, Bunny Hebert, and trims hair at $1.75 a head.

"The job," he said, "seems to be a natural one for me. I like meeting people and where else than in a barber's shop?"

McDermott is a 5-9½, 170-pounder who looks as strong as a bull. He has close cropped, dark hair, a slow-breaking smile and an evident distaste for defeat.

He's been winning skating titles since he was eight years old and also played football and baseball in school.

He's soft-spoken and polite but gives the impression that he knows what he wants and isn't satisfied until he gets it.

Monday he wanted a gold medal and Russia's best couldn't keep him from bringing it home to Michigan.

Melting of Ice Causes Fears for Sledders

Gold Medals Taken by Soviets, Swedes, Norwegians

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The Soviet Union, Sweden and Norway grabbed gold medals in skiing and speed skating today as fears of new tragedies gripped tobaggan and bobsled racers at the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

An American two-man toboggan leaped off the track at Igls, its occupants miraculously escaping serious injury, and protests were raised over the condition of the bobsled run, made dangerous by melting and cracking ice.

A Canadian four-man crew, piloted by Victory Emery, took a surprising lead over Italy's eight-time world champion, Eugenio Monti, in the first two of four runs, but there were complaints that the second of these runs should never have been made.

"All of us took a chance making that second run," Emery said. "There was a nasty-looking crack at the 12th of the 14 curves. If we had hit that, it might have been the last time we hit anything."

BLOODY CRAZY

Tony Nash, Britain's gold medal winner in the two-man event, said "It was bloody crazy to hold that second run."

Organizers said if the track is too dangerous Thursday the final two runs may be cancelled and medals awarded on the basis of today's two runs.

One United States sled, piloted by Bill Hickey of Keene, N.Y., was fifth and the other, with Larry McKillip of Saranac Lake, N.Y., at the controls, was seventh.

Sixten Jernberg, Swedish veteran of three Olympics who will be 35 Thursday, won the 50-kilometer ski race at Seefeld, covering the 31 miles and 120 yards in 2 hours, 43 minutes, 52.6 seconds.

Knut Johannesen of Norway captured the 5,000-meter men's speed skating race in the Olympic record time of 7 minutes, 38.4 seconds, leading a 1-2-3 Norwegian sweep.

Claudia Boyarskikh, a 23-year old Russian schoolteacher, added the 5,000-meter women's cross-county ski title to the 10,000-meter crown she won previously and the Soviet Union also picked up a bronze medal in the event.

MORE MEDALS

The latest victories boosted the Russians' medal total to 21, including eight golds.

Americans, with no entries in the women's ski cross-country, finished well back in both the men's speed skating and 50-kilometer skiing back-breaker

mon of Burlington, Vt., was 28th in 3:05:06.4 and Dick Taylor of Laconia, N.H., 34th in 3:09:58.3.

The Yanks also met only disaster in the two-man tobogganing finals at Igls, where one sled leaped off the track and the second banged against a dangerous curve before finally finishing last in the field of 16.

The two-man toboggan gold medal went to an Austrian team Josef Feistmantl, 24-year-old accountant, and Manfred Stengl, 18-year-old schoolboy, who shot down the twisting mile chute twice in 1 minute, 41.62 seconds.

Wings' Crozier Sent to Minors

Pittsburgh Goalie Bassen Injured

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League are sending rookie goalie Roger Crozier to the Pittsburgh Hornets, it was announced Tuesday.

The Hornets said the move was arranged because Pittsburgh goalie Hank Bassen is sidelined with torn ligaments in his right leg.

Meanwhile, Red Wing coach Sid Abel moved forward Larry Jeffrey to Norm Ullman's line and switched forward Andre Pronovost to the line with Pit Martin and Bruce MacGregor in preparation for tonight's game with Chicago.

The two left wingers have not been on the scoring list since the Jan. 9 victory over Chicago — ten games ago. Both Jeffrey and Pronovost have only six goals this season.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe a change of linemates will help them," Abel said.

Tight Warrior Defense Halts Pistons' Streak

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors used a withering defense to smother the Detroit Pistons, 118-79 Tuesday night and improve on their newly won place on top of the Western Division in the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors picked up a full game on both St. Louis and Los Angeles in the West. The Hawks lost to the Boston Celtics, 113-101, while the slumping Lakers were bombed by the Cincinnati Royals, 118-100. The Baltimore Bullets edged New York's Knicks, 137-134, in overtime in the only other NBA played Tuesday night.

Detroit's loss to the Warriors ended a three-game Piston winning streak. The Warriors' 39-point victory margin was the largest over an opponent this season, and was reflected in the ouster of Piston coach Charley Wolf in the third period.

Wolf had two technical fouls called against him, and turned the coaching reins over to forward Bailey Howell.

SOLID DEFENSE

Wilt Chamberlain powered the Warriors with 38 points, but it was San Francisco's defense that made the difference. The Warriors held the Pistons to 11 points in the first quarter and led at the half, 51-36.

Detroit was paced by Bob Ferry's 19 points, and 18 from Ray Scott.

Bill Russell's 28 points paced Boston's victory over St. Louis in the first game of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. The Hawks' Bob Pettit, who scored 27 points, now has a career total of 19,167 and trails all-time NBA scoring leader Dolph Schayes by 33 points.

In the nightcap, Gus Johnson paced Baltimore with 40 points, including nine in overtime, to end a three-game Bullets losing string. New York got 31 points from Len Chappell.

Jack Twyman's 31 points, and Wayne Embry's 30, powered the Royals past the Lakers at Cincinnati. Rudy LeRusso led Los Angeles with 27 points. The Lakers played without injured guard Jerry West.

Mikemen's Big Center Scores 30

Big Mike Pope, the 6-6 center for St. Michael, poured in 30 points Tuesday night as the Mikemen ripped Detroit St. Agatha, 79-61.

Pope hit 14 points in the first half and 16 in the second as St. Michael gained half a game on idle Orchard Lake St. Mary in the battle for second place.

He connected for 10 markers in the last period, mostly on close-in shots. The Mikemen had built a substantial lead in the third quarter but ran into foul trouble and Pope had to return to the contest for scoreboard insurance.

Mike DeConinck also aided Pope on the boards and in the scoring with 14 tallies before fouling out midway in the third session.

Rick Stemhelper hit 13 for the winners while St. Agatha was led by Claude Inch with 18. The visiting Shamrocks controlled the backboards on their Detroit hosts.

In a reserve game, St. Mike also won, 59-36, clinching the league jayvee title and qualifying for the division playoffs in Detroit next week. It has an 11-2 mark while the varsity is 9-4 over-all.

'New' Team Doesn't Stop U-D Streak

By The Associated Press

Assumption College has changed its name to the University of Windsor, Ont., but it didn't fool Detroit's basketball Titans Tuesday night.

Detroit won easily, 101-82, for the 24th straight time dating back to the mid 1930's.

In other college games last night Northern Michigan bombed Central Michigan, 75-46; Northwood Institute swamped Detroit Tech, 91-52; Youngstown, Ohio, defeated visiting Lawrence Tech, 83-75; and Alpena Junior College dumped Soo Tech, 84-77.

Guard Al Cech scored a career high of 29 points in Detroit's triumph over Windsor. The Titans jumped to a 47-35 halftime margin and stayed at least 12 points in front the rest of the way. Dick Dzik and Dorrie Murrey each added 19 points, but high point honors went to Windsor's Bob Horvath, who netted 35 points.

10TH WIN

The victory was Detroit's 10th in 18 games this year. Windsor, including two losses to the Titans, stands 14-4.

'Y' Tankers Clip Hurons

Two of 3 Divisions Win at Port Huron

Pontiac YMCA won two of its three divisions in a swim meet with Port Huron recently.

Winning divisions were the juniors, 56-42 and the preps 49-45. The Midgets however were on the losing side, 47-40.

Rick Rykowski was a midget winner in the 20 yard breaststroke in 18.2, and he was also 2nd in the 80-yard individual medley.

The 160-yard freestyle relay team won the first event for the Preps and Steve Yedlin and Dave Hardenberg were double winners in the victory.

Yedlin won the 80-yard individual medley and the 100 freestyle in 54.8 and 57.7 respectively. Hardenberg won the 20 and 40-yard freestyles.

Progress Is Noted in Fred Hutchinson

SEATTLE (AP)—Treatments have reduced the size of the malignant chest tumor from which Fred Hutchinson, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is suffering and doctors are pleased with the progress.

"It is extremely gratifying," Dr. Orliss Wildermuth of the Swedish Hospital Tumor Institute said. "Normally, at this stage of treatment we are happy if the tumor has stopped growing."

No Upsets in Thumb

Capac and New Haven both found smooth sailing in the Southern Thumb basketball race Tuesday night but there were rough waters for victorious Memphis and Armada.

★ ★ ★

Unbeaten New Haven broke loose in the third quarter to trim Dryden, 67-39, while Capac coasted after the first quarter against Brown City, 71-40.

Dryden held Dwight Lee to his second lowest total of the season, 21 points, but couldn't stop Larry Belt who hit 24 on 12 field goals.

★ ★ ★

Belt had 14 of his points in the third quarter as the Rockets built an insurmountable 55-28 margin after leading only 32-22 at halftime.

ADAMSKI TOPS

Ken Adamski went over 20 points for the third straight game as Capac topped Brown City. He had 21. Capac led 38-15 at intermission in winning its third straight.

Almont had a victory over Armada but the home team's Rod Craven sank a foul shot after the end of regulation time to tie the score, 39-39.

★ ★ ★

The Armada squad then snapped its four game losing streak by taking the lead in overtime and building onto it. Randy Johnson hit four of his 10 points in the extra period.

Almont's Ken Schulte took game honors with 19. The defeat avenged Almont's one-point victory over Armada early in the season.

Memphis handed Anchor Bay its third straight loss by withstanding a third quarter rally that saw the Tars tie the score, then fall back again.

★ ★ ★

Memphis led 29-22 at halftime. Both teams had four players in double figures. Bob Moore led all with 16 for the winners. Doug Doig hit 16, Don Burns 15 and Chuck Durphy 13 for the Memphis team.

Sam Shepard had 16 for Anchor Bay and Dan Burns 13.

Bryant Resting With $300,000 From Post

"I'm not much of a golfer, but I might be about 30 days from now. I have been ordered by Dr. Rose (Frank Rose, president of the university) to take a rest," Bryant told friends Tuesday night.

It was announced earlier that he had accepted $300,000 in compensatory, tax-free damages for two Saturday Evening Post articles.

Bryant was suing for $10.5 million in libel damages, and a trial had been set in U.S. District Court in Birmingham Feb. 10.

Swim Meet at Northern

In a meet postponed from December, Pontiac Northern plays host to Ferndale in a swimming meet tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Competition is expected to be strong in diving where unbeaten Alex Hiller will face Ferndale's Chuck Stenbach a prime contender for state honors this year. Rick Thomas is also strong in Ferndale diving.

In the backstroke event, Don Kiddle of Ferndale and Dick Johnson of Northern have comparable times of 1:03.5 which should prove interesting.

Next Wednesday Northern has its rematch with Pontiac Central in the PCH pool.

Seaholm-Kimball Make War on Records

County Teams Battle for Swimming Marks

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When is the onslaught on Oakland County swimming records going to end?

It certainly won't be this season, not as long as Birmingham Seaholm and Royal Oak Kimball battle at the rate they're going for league, county and state honors.

Since the 1962-63 season came to an end with Birmingham Seaholm walking off with the state high school class A championship in March, when the Maples owned every county mark except two, five new marks have been inserted in Oakland county records.

Royal Oak Kimball is Seaholm's biggest challenge to high school swimming supremacy and the Knights will be out to make a strong bid for the state title mainly on the strength of their distance freestyle swimmers.

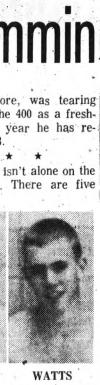
Since the 400 freestyle event was put into the order of events in state championship meets and Ben Donaldson of Pontiac Central won the state title in 4:13; the times in this event have come down in rapid order.

Kimball's Doug Webster, a talented sophomore, was tearing the times in the 400 as a freshman and this year he has recorded a 4:00.3.

★ ★ ★

But Webster isn't alone on the Kimball team. There are five Knights among the top 10 in the 400 in the state.

WEBSTER



WATTS

Bill Watts, who this year erased the county individual medley record in 2:10.9, has a 4:14.8. Tim Cash has posted a 4:07, Mike Schoenhals a 4:16.8 and Read McCarty at 4:17.

Pete Adams, state champion from Seaholm, has a 4:05.1 mark this year in the 400. He and Watts are battling for 200 honors.

Adams tied the state record in 1:52.6 last week and the same night; Watts came in at 1:52.0 flat against Hazel Park. The county record of 1:53.1 was set by Seaholm's Tom Fritz last season.

RELAY RECORD

The Kimball freestyle relay team is also the owner of an Oakland County mark this year in a time of 1:32.6. It was Seaholm's team of Coupe-Hoyt-Matthews-Wolf last season which posted a 1:33.6.

Coupe and Kevin Tooma of Groves are also strong challengers to break the 50 freestyle mark held jointly by Seaholm alumni Sintz in 1958 and Jim Elliott in 1961 in 22.9. Coupe has gone 23.1 and Tooma 23.2 this year.

★ ★ ★

Except for the Seaholm and Kimball swimmers, along with Tooma of Groves, only other swimmers to make any mark of note from other schools are Hugh Wilder of Rochester and Carl Cascadden of Pontiac Northern.

Wilder is Rochester's "one-man" swim team. He has qualified for the state meet by posting times of 58.9 in the butterfly and 2:18.6 in the 200 individual. He has a backstroke time of 1:00.7.

Cascadden's 1:07.8 in the breaststroke is far behind the leaders in this event led by Frank Freeman of Fordson in 1:01.7. Leading county breaststrokers are Adrian Van Oss of Kimball in 1:06.1, and Dave Zimmer of Seaholm in 1:06.2. The county mark is 1:03.5 set by Lee Driver of Groves in 1961.

Seaholm, winner of 37 straight dual meets over 3½ years, stands 8-0 this season. The Maples handed Kimball its only loss, 54-51 in the Seaholm pool earlier, but the big showdown will take place in the rematch, Feb. 14th at Royal Oak.

TWIST SESSION — While the ball seems to beat time, Lake Orion's Jon Cucksey (41) and Dave Philips (11), and Avondale's Lynn Thorpe (42) appear to do some twisting to the "amazement" of Denny Acker (32). "Dancing" occurred early in last night's Oakland A. basketball clash at Avondale. An 82-59 victory for the visiting Dragons did not leave the Yellow Jackets in a festive mood later.

Dragons Swat Avon

Lake Orion Fast Breaks League Foe

By JERE CRAIG

Lake Orion's basketball Dragons breathed no flame nor kidnaped no beautiful maidens last night, but did show plenty of speed in swatting Avondale, 82-59.

After feeling a few bothersome stings from the Yellow Jackets in the opening half, Lake Orion sped around and through the home team at will in the final half for the Oakland A League conquest.

A definite rebounding edge helped the Dragons' fast break, particularly when Avondale could not hit from the outside in the decisive third period.

Bruce Fritz, a forward, and Dave Phillips, a lanky backliner, were the chief culprits in the Yellow Jackets nest, repeatedly getting free for easy layups.

Fritz had 16 of his 26 points in the first half and was very effective under the offensive backboard. He had 12 of the 22 points in the winners' second quarter attack.

BREAKS LOOSE

Philips (24 points) broke away on fast break layups frequently, scoring 11 markers in the third quarter. After a 15-13 lead in the opening session, Lake Orion hit 22, 23 and 22 using its running game.

Avondale managed to stay close throughout the opening half as Lynn Thorpe (11) and Dennis Acker (9) had 20 of its 32 tallies. The Yellow Jackets never led but tied the score in the early going four times, and twice more in the second period.

Only five points separated the teams early in the third quarter, 40-35, when the visitors broke open the game. They hit seven straight points, then after an exchange of tallies, added 10 more in a row for a 60-39 bulge.

Troy, Fitzgerald Win

Falcons Miss Chance

Fitzgerald and Troy continued to wage a two-team fight for the Oakland A championship Tuesday night but Rochester's cagers let a big chance slip away.

★ ★ ★

The Falcons led for almost three quarters before visiting Madison pulled out a 67-58 triumph, depriving Rochester of a good chance for its first wip of the season.

Fitzgerald, meanwhile, equaled a school record with its 10th straight win, a 66-52 verdict at Clawson; and Troy had an easy time disposing of Warren Cousino, 58-40.

The Spartans lost only their opening non-league game; and Troy has lost twice in 11 tries, once to the pace setters. They will meet again next week.

Rochester led, 34-25, at halftime against Madison; but the visitors scored three quick baskets to start the third period and stayed within three or four points until the final minute of the period.

Then it earned a tie at 45, and went ahead to stay as Jim Combs scored two free throws 25 seconds before the end of the session.

The Eagles then pulled ahead by 10 quickly in the final quarter and never were headed. Sophomore Tom Mills scored 10 of his 19 points and Tom Knust 10 of his 13 in the first half for Rochester.

Sharp-shooting Bruce McDonald was off form and had only nine, his lowest total of the season.

Ted Bauer had 16 points and Buddy Hether and Gay Goodwin played a strong defensive game as Troy beat Cousino at Warren. The Colts broke open the game in the third period aided by Goodwin and Hether's ball hawking tactics.

At Clawson, Fitzgerald's Tom Dobberstein had 31 points as the Spartans dumped the home team. Ray Hayes led Clawson with 19 with three Trojans in twin figures.

Emmanuel Wins, 74-57

Emmanuel Christian's sputtering offense caught fire in the closing half Tuesday evening and poured in 47 points to hand Detroit Country Day a 74-57 setback.

The Lancers were unable to penetrate the tight Country Day defense during the opening half and trailed at intermission, 28-27.

Ralph Wingate, the Oakland County basketball scoring leader, sparked a third-quarter assault for the Lancers that produced 26 points and a 53-51 lead.

FOUL TROUBLE

Both teams were hampered by foul trouble. Officials called 45 personals — 25 against Country Day.

Emmanuel lost two starters in the fourth stanza and played the final 1:07 with four players. Three members of the Country Day squad fouled out.

Four players hit double figures for the Lancers with forward John Allen pacing the attack with 23. Wingate picked up 22, followed by Jon Lauckner and Ron Jackson with 10 each.

Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse had too much for Madison Heights Lamphere last night and took an easy 57-29 victory.

Lamphere only had four points in the first quarter and 11 field goals for the entire game. The winners' Randy McConnell with 15 points and Gary Kolman with 16 outscored the entire Lamphere quintet.

State Duck Population Increases

Nearly 63,700 ducks were counted last month in the state's established check areas by Conservation Department survey crews and members of the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Officials are quick to point out that Michigan's latest count cannot stand alone as a gauge for predicting an overall upturn in duck numbers.

MORE MALLARDS

An estimated 12,145 mallards and 14,200 black ducks were seen during the inventory to account for the bulk of this year's increased waterfowl figure. Last January, survey teams tallied 4,800 mallards and 4,000 black ducks.

Canvasback numbers were up by 3,000 birds; redhead ducks showed a population drop from a year ago.

Officers, Rifle Designs, Bullets in the News

There was a definite reason why conservation officers and other district personnel convened for a district meeting at the department's fire control station on Williams Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Once the business was out of the way, the group adjourned to Multi-Lakes Conservation Association's club house to honor retiring field officer Howard Johnson of Union Lake.

Gus Neering of Pigeon was also on hand.

Johnson started with the department in 1937 and spent nine days under an officer in Sanilac County before being transferred to Neering's tutelage for 15 days on duck patrol along southern Saginaw Bay.

★ ★ ★

"This hunter was shooting duck in a grain field after hours. He had them stacked up like cord wood. When he saw Howard and me, he took off running for the house."

NEERING JOHNSON

"I remember that chase," said Johnson. "That was quite a run."

The violator made it safely into the house with the officers in hot pursuit.

"He ran down the basement carrying his shotgun," said Neering. We went down after him.

"The man didn't offer any resistance, but we couldn't find the gun and that was important. He knew it, too.

"Howard and I took that basement apart. Finally we decided to look in the basement cistern — most of the farms had one in those days. There it was, neatly on top of two pieces of wood criss-crossed under the water."

The new design will have the bolt face completely enclosing the cartridge head, an engine-turned sleeve and indicator on the cocking piece.

Remington has been using a very similar bolt on its rifles since 1948.

There have been reports that Winchester will also load some of its centerfire ammunition with Nosler bullets, rated by many the best available for hunting.

Several calibers in the Norma line now carry Nosler bullets and a majority of the Weatherby fodder (now loaded under that brand by Norma) contains the partition missile.

Veteran big game hunters who know their bullets rate Noslers, German RWS, H-Mantles, Remington Core-Lokts, Barnes and Hornadys in that order.

Nosler bullets cost twice as much as Core-Lokts, Hornadys, Speers and Sierras. For this reason Winchester brass loaded with these bullets will cost up to 50 per cent more.

The Model 600 bolt action carbine was placed on the market last month.

It weighs five and a half pounds (without scope) and is chambered for .308 Wins., 35 Rem. and 222 Remington. There is a ventilated rib along the barrel, the rear open sight can be adjusted for windage and elevation and a Monte Carlo stock.

The Williams Gun Sight Co. of Davison will hold a reloading clinic Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Ben Pearson Archery Meet at Cobo Hall

The nation's largest indoor archery tournament, the annual Ben Pearson $10,000 open championship, will be held in Cobo Hall, April 11 and 12, it was announced today.

The Pearson open, which is expected to attract an entry list of approximately 1,000 archers, is now in its sixth year.

There will be open individual competition for both professional men and women, individual amateur competition for both men and women, and professional and amateur team competition.

Cash prizes, topped by a $1,000 grand prize for the individual professional men's competition, will be awarded for the professionals, while the amateurs will compete for trophies.

In addition there will be a handicap competition for all archers except those winning money prizes. Prizes for this event will include watches and archery equipment.

The schedule calls for the competitors to be divided into three groups, who will shoot in four hour groups each day.

Originally held at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit in 1959, it attracted 356 archers. Subsequent visits to Akron, Fort Wayne, and a return to Detroit in 1963 saw the entry list climb gradually to 801.

Deer Traffic Fatalities Increased During 1963

★ ★ ★

Last year's losses totaled at least 4,765 whitetails, an increase of 15 per cent above 1962. This kill figure, according to the Conservation Department, does not cover animals which died in the state's fields and forests after being hit by vehicles.

Motorists involved in these highway accidents smashed up their cars and trucks to the estimated amount of $950,000.

This is based on a survey of insurance companies in Michigan which showed that repair bills average about $200 for deer-vehicle collisions.

Road kill soared to an all-time high in the Lower Peninsula. The biggest toll was again recorded in the southern Lower Peninsula where at least 2,000 deer were struck down on the region's highways.

HIGHEST FIGURE

Since 1959, deer-vehicle collisions have more than doubled in the southern Lower Peninsula where the deer herd numbers an estimated 45,000-50,000 whitetails.

As in the previous two years, the state's most serious highway problem centered in Jackson district of Southern Michigan where accidents took 1,076 deer.

Cars and trucks claimed another 1,842 deer in the northern Lower Peninsula, a new record for this region and a 20 per cent jump over the year before.

Sale of Pelts by Sealed Bid Slated Feb. 21

The bidding period will remain open until 3 p.m. on that day. Hides and pelts may be checked at the repair shop from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Feb. 17 through Feb. 20.

Offered in lots according to species are 301 deer hides, 36 muskrat pelts, 11 beaver pelts, eight elk hides, four raccoon pelts, one mink pelt and one bear hide.

Each of these seven lots will go to the person who makes the highest bid on a "per hide" basis. Every offer must be accompanied by a deposit equaling at least five per cent of the total bid.

Car Winds Up in Restaurant

Only Minor Injuries in Waterford Crash

A young Pontiac couple escaped serious injury early today when their car went out of control and slammed through the concrete block wall of the Eatmore Restaurant, 926 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

Gary Buchanan, 19, of 12 Downing Court, driver of the car, suffered minor injuries and his passenger, Karol Clark, 21, of 5 Fairgrove was uninjured.

Police said the car went almost all the way through the west side of the building. The accident occurred at 2:11 a.m. after the restaurant had closed.

★ ★ ★

Buchanan told police that he was changing from the outer to inner lane while driving east on West Huron when his car hit the front bumper of another eastbound car driven by Milton Terry, 18, of 5029 Midland, Waterford Township.

OVER CURB

Buchanan's car went over the curb, knocked down three guard rails and hit two traffic signs along the curb before plunging into the building.

Both Buchanan and Terry, who was uninjured, told police they were driving 40 miles per hour in the 35 mile zone. No tickets were issued.

★ ★ ★

Bowles said he was driving east on West Huron behind the other two cars. He added that they did not appear to be racing.

Bill Offered to Let Lakes Be Lowered

A bill to permit lowering of lake levels for beach improvements has been introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township.

The water levels of controlled inland lakes would be lowered from 12 to 18 inches at least once every five years after Labor Day to allow the improvement of docks, piers, walls and lake bottoms if the measure wins passage.

"This bill would be beneficial to the residents of Lake Oakland and Woodhull Lake and other similar areas," Anderson said.

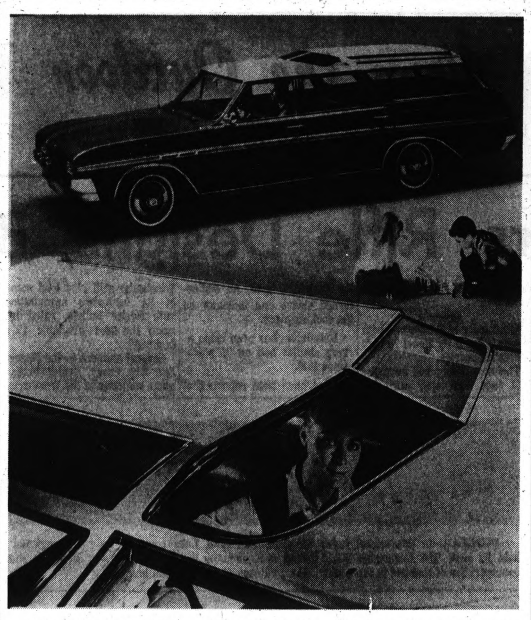
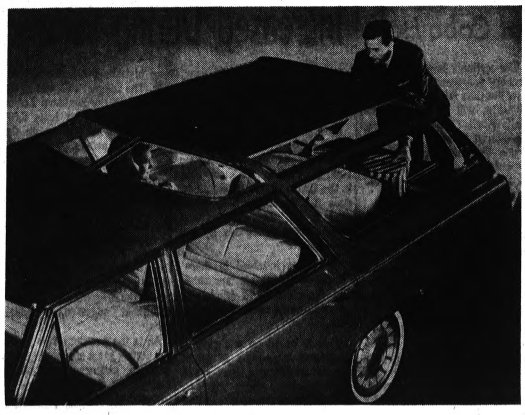
The bill provides that county drain departments lower lake levels on a staggered schedule after a petition signed by five landowners has been filed in Circuit Court, Anderson said.



BIG VIEW—Rear seat passengers in new Buick Skylark (above) and (below) Oldsmobile Vista-Cruiser station wagons will be able to look up, as well as get panoramic side and front views. Custom models in both makes come with forward-facing rear seats, increased cargo and storage area inside.



With Panoramic View

New Wagons at Buick, Olds

New station wagon models with a high roof line and unique panoramic windows were unveiled today by Buick and Oldsmobile divisions of General Motors.

Both the Buick model, called the Skylark Sports wagon, and Oldsmobile's version, the Vista-Cruiser, are built on a 120-inch wheelbase.

In each, the higher glass-surrounded rear roof gives a dome appearance.

DRAMATIC CHANGE

"The Vista-Cruiser, represents the most dramatic change in the station wagon design since the vehicle's introduction years ago," said J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager.

"Station wagon buyers will also welcome the forward facing third seat. The raised dome area with fixed front and side tinted windows permits added visibility and headroom for rear seat passengers."

Edward D. Rollert, Buick general manager, said the Skylark sports wagon will be 5 inches longer than regular Skylark wagons, and is available in two and three-seat models.

Rollert said the Skylark has 97.9 cubic feet of cargo space, nearly 11.5 feet more than the Special station wagon.

STORAGE AREA

The new Buick wagon comes in both deluxe models, list-priced for two-seat deluxe style priced from $2,735, to $3,010 for custom versions, all with vinyl trim. Standard engine is a 210-horsepower V8, with an option 250-horsepower engine.

Factory prices range from $2,687 for a two seat model to $2,993 for a three-seat custom.

City Passes Resolutions, Assures U. S. on Project

City Commissioners okayed two urban renewal resolutions last night to keep the R20 project financially solvent and assure federal officials the city will buy all land not already purchased in the civic center.

One resolution authorized the city manager to file an application with the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Chicago for a $1,422,308 increase in the loan, or borrowing capacity, to finance the R20 budget.

The application would also request a tentative $2.7-million increase in the R20 project's federal capital grant and a $44,455 hike in the relocation grant.

★ ★ ★

Essentially, federal approval of the new budget figures would pay for excessive project costs to date and estimated additional costs in the future.

BORROWED FUNDS

Presently, the urban renewal staff is operating on $409,000 in funds borrowed from the city last fall and the money is due to run out in April.

★ ★ ★

The $409,000 loan must be repaid by Sept. 1.

"This application should be okayed by federal officials by April," said Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates. "It would give us the money needed to pay off the loan and keep the R20 project operating."

★ ★ ★

In the other resolution, the commission agreed to include a 30-foot strip of right-of-way for widening Auburn Avenue as part of the civic center land to be bought by the city from urban renewal.

Bates said this was "just a matter of formally agreeing to something we'd already committed ourselves to buy on an informal basis some time ago."

Bill May Alter Finance Unit

Suggest New Control of Municipal Funds

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission would be replaced if a bill introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives by Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, R-Waterford Township, is approved.

The measure would abolish the present commission and set up a department of municipal finance headed by a commissioner whom the governor would appoint with the consent of the state senate.

Under present law, the state treasurer, the attorney general, the auditor general and the superintendent of public instruction serve on the Municipal Finance Commission.

★ ★ ★

"The system is wrong," Anderson said. "These four elected officials are much too busy with their regular duties to become familiar with the many complicated problems which come before the commission."

★ ★ ★

The present system has resulted in a number of needless delays in processing of bond applications, according to Anderson.

★ ★ ★

"This bill should provide a faster, more efficient system," he said.

Order Examination on Assault Charge

A Rochester High School teacher, charged with felonious assault, has been remanded to Justice Court from Circuit Court for a preliminary examination.

The date of the hearing has not been set for George McVeigh, 32, of 133 Highland, Rochester, according to Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanaback.

McVeigh is accused of entering the home of Mrs. Shirley Braun, 855 Seymour Lake, Oxford Township, Jan. 17 and pressing a knife to the side of a visitor, Mrs. Lee Noftz, 31, of 912 S. Lapeer.

★ ★ ★

McVeigh fled when the women screamed, according to sheriff's department detectives.

Waterford Gets Master Plan Report

Waterford Township Planning Commission members last night received the final report in the first phase of development of a master plan for the township.

Prepared by the township's planning consultant firm, Parkins, Rogers & Associates, the report details studies of traffic, community facilities and utilities.

Prior reports by the planning consultants included studies on land use, population characteristics, economic base, natural resources, structural quality and results of a community attitude survey.

★ ★ ★

The two-year program for development of a master plan under a federal grant is now half completed.

LAND USE

Most of the second year of the study will be devoted to establishing a land use plan.

Township Planning Director Robert Diebalt reported to the commission that the school board will present a proposal to the Township Board for sale of school property fronting on Loon Lake for a possible park site.

Also last night, it was announced that the annual planning commission dinner will be held March 10 at the Eagles Hall on M59.

★ ★ ★

By DICK HANSON

What effect will increasing the size of the Oakland County Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee have on the formation of county governmental policies?

They then adopted a wait-and-see attitude, after recommending a bylaws amendment that would raise ways and means from seven to nine members.

Board Chairman Delos Hamlin, who would make the appointments, said whether they would accomplish anything different probably depends on what kind of men he might pick.

AWAITS ADOPTION

"If the board adopts the recommendation, my choice will be made known when I announce all appointments in April and not before," said Hamlin.

The amendment was sought by the ways and means committee "to provide wider representation and make its recommendations more generally acceptable by the 85-member board.

Bylaws members acknowledged ways and means as the board's most important committee by virtue of its control over the county's purse strings.

Any recommendations from other committees that involve spending county money must first go to ways and means for consideration.

NONCOMMITTAL

The bylaws committee chairman, James Clarkson of Southfield, asked Hamlin which ways and means members can discuss these recommendations besides their chairman, David Levinson. Hamlin was noncommittal.

Bylaws member John Michrina of Madison Heights asked Hamlin if any of the present seven ways and means members might be replaced to the county's advantage.

Hamlin said "It's hard to change the members of such an important committee" because of pressures to retain them.

Clare Cummings is on ways and means because that is the wish of the Pontiac City Commission, Hamlin said, adding that the same holds true for Harry Horton of Royal Oak, Thomas O'Donoghue of Ferndale and Levinson of Birmingham.

MOST POPULOUS

They come from the most populous areas in the county — cities that are anxious to maintain a voice in county affairs proportionate to their population, said Hamlin.

Traditionally, he added, the cities' voices have been somewhat matched by those of the townships, which generally are less populous but have different interests at stake.

The other three members of ways and means are John Carey of Springfield Township, Frank Voll of Oakland Township and Frank Webber of Addison Township.

Bylaws member LeRoy Davids of Hazel Park wanted to know the partisanship of ways and means members as it might be reflected in liberal or conservative policy recommendations by the committee.

'PRETTY LIBERAL'

Despite the presence of only one avowed Democrat on the committee, Hamlin described it as generally "pretty liberal."

He added that he didn't think partisan politics entered into the committee's decisions.

Clarkson said "ways and means has to be conservative when it comes to spending county money.

"Yes, but it's a question of what they recommend spending money for," retorted Davids.

The recommendation to add ways and means members must now go back to the board for final action.

A similar recommendation to increase the board's legislative committee from five to seven members also will be decided then. Reason given is because this committee has had difficulty in achieving a quorum present for some of its meetings.

The bylaws committee itself had a bare quorum yesterday. The recent retirement of its former chairman, William Hudson of Royal Oak, created a vacancy yet to be filled.

The other member, Pontiac City Attorney William Ewart was absent.

He also is a member of the legislative committee, though absent from its last two meetings since the end of October.
