

Troy Voters Defeat School Tax Proposal by 2-1 Margin

Troy voters yesterday rejected a one-year 7-mill school tax proposal by nearly a 2-1 margin in the biggest turnout ever for a Troy School election.

A total of 2,953 residents went to the polls in Troy and turned down the millage request by 1,850-1,003.

Three months ago voters rejected the same request by a 2½-1 margin with 2,100 turning out.

Still a third millage election will be scheduled this year according to school officials.

According to Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith, cutbacks announced prior to the June election will go into effect. Two of these include 22 teacher positions and a new junior high school which had been scheduled to open soon.

SCHOOL WON'T OPEN

northern Troy will not open this fall as far as we can see," said Supt. Smith. "The operational funds for the school hinged on yesterday's election."

The defeat was attributed to several local factors — a rash of summer-long water and sewage assessments and the recent teachers' strike — as well as the 2.6 per cent state income tax which goes into effect Oct. 1 and the current auto strike.

"The Troy Board of Education now has to decide when to set up a third election — possibly this year," Dr. Smith said. "But unfortunately even if it passed, funds couldn't be put on this year's tax bill. Whether the same 7-mills will be requested again I don't know."

The idea for a new election, if yesterday's failed, was put forth by a facfinder in a report on recent teacher-contract negotiations.

ADOPTED SUNDAY

The agreement was adopted Sunday by the teachers and the board.

The 7-mills, if they had passed, would have netted the schools $583,387 for one year with which they could have restored cutbacks, paid wage hikes already in effect, and decreased a $375,000 deficit.

As it is, several programs besides the cutbacks mentioned above will be dropped, including junior high school and elementary school art and music programs, all junior high and elementary sports, and all extra-duty allotments.

Saved in spite of the election were the high school art and music programs, transportation for elementary and junior

Wolverine Lake Cityhood Eyed

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

A new city is proposed for a portion of Commerce Township in western Oakland County.

A citizens committee from the largely residential village of Wolverine Lake announced cityhood aspirations last night in a move to head off proposed annexation of the village to the city of Walled Lake.

At a quiet village council meeting last night, the Wolverine Lake Citizens' Committee, headed by the village's chief administrator, disclosed the blocking action against Walled Lake.

The committee has drawn up a proposal for the incorporation of the village and part of Commerce Township as a home rule city.

Voter approval of the proposal would add about three square miles of the township to the eight-square-mile land and water area of the village. It would also increase Wolverine Lake's population of about 3,000 by 500 township residents.

SUPERVISOR UNAWARE

Commerce Township Supervisor Robert H. Long said today that he had been unaware that the village committee was planning the incorporation.

The township area considered for incorporation includes vacant land to the north, west and southwest of the village, which abuts the northern border of the City of Walled Lake.

A hearing on the cityhood proposal will be set for sometime next week, said committee chairman and Village Manager Clifford Cottrell.

The committee has further circulated petitions throughout the areas in question. The same areas are also being considered for annexation to Walled Lake.

SAME SIGNATURES

If the committee can secure on its petitions 80 per cent of those who signed the annexation petitions, the incorporation vote will take precedence over the annexation vote, said Village Attorney Gene Schnelz.

This required percentage is lacking only in the eastern part of the village, reported Cottrell.

The east part is comprised of Wolverine Heights subdivision, reportedly one of the most attractive residential areas considered for annexation.

City officials claim many of the subdivision's residents work in Walled Lake and are members of the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce which originally conceived the annexation proposal last summer.

COURT ACTION

If the 80 per cent signatures cannot be secured in the east portion, the City of Walled Lake will sue.

RIOT AREA VIEWED — Gov. George Romney tours Detroit's riot-devastated west side yesterday before flying to Washington to testify before the President's Commission of Civil Disorders. After the tour, the governor said, "Detroit is showing as much imagination in developing poverty programs as any city in the country."

Two Area Districts Remain Unsettled

Children in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts were among the 377,500 Michigan students still not attending classes today.

Teachers in Detroit were still holding out and would stay out "until the snow flies if necessary" in their effort to gain a better contract settlement.

However, Ronald W. Haughon, a labor relations professor who has been acting as mediator in the Detroit dispute, said, "We have reached a stage where an early settlement is not out of the question."

"There seem to be indications that the union is getting down to serious talk. I think this thing is stirring," he said. Some 300,000 children were affected in Detroit.

Teachers yesterday returned to the classrooms in four previously unsettled districts across the state.

WILLOW RUN

Teachers in the Willow Run district agreed to return to work, pending a fact-finder's report, expected Friday.

Striking teachers in three other districts — Holland, Bay City and Saginaw — returned to work under court injunctions and awaited a State Supreme Court ruling.

Spokesmen for the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills districts said no court case is contemplated. Further negotiation sessions were scheduled for Birmingham this afternoon, but a stalemate had been reached in Bloomfield Hills. Oak Park schools remained closed.

Professional, college and local high school football outlooks are spotlighted today in The Press's ninth annual Kickoff tabloid preview as the 1967 gridiron wars swing into high gear.

'National Scene Is Explosive'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Romney told the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders today that the nation is threatened by an explosive environment of frustration, hatred and sedition that could ignite "a national holocaust employing civil guerrilla disorder."

The Michigan governor, an undeclared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, called for an all-out effort "devoid of insincere or unrealistic promises" and based on the Declaration of Independence "to avoid such a national and world catastrophe."

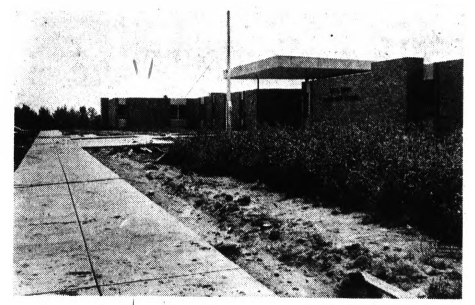

But he avoided a frontal attack on President Johnson in his argument with the administration over calling troops in the Detroit riot.

Romney, in a statement prepared for delivery before the advisory commission, said the greatest responsibility is to insure that "what has happened in Detroit and elsewhere and may happen again does not become an excuse for extremist divisiveness in our nation."

Romney said "it is later than the nation realizes" and added: "Present widespread racial, economic and social frustration, envy, hatred and sedition have an explosive environment in which to ignite a national holocaust employing civil guerrilla warfare."

Romney said it is time "that our practices matched our nation's principles."

And he declared it is going to take a new awareness on the part of individual and private institutions that they share the responsibility for restoring the validity of our basic principles. For government and money alone will never accomplish this great task."

WILL NOT OPEN — The Rex B. Smith Junior High School on Donaldson in Troy, which is named after the present superintendent, will stand empty and unused as one of the cutbacks planned as a result of yesterday's school millage defeat.

City Tax Vote Registration Nearing Friday Deadline

Unregistered Pontiac voters who wish to vote in the special city election in October have until 8 p.m. Friday to register, City Clerk Olga Barkeley said.

Unregistered voters who wish to cast ballots in the tax advisory election in two weeks should also register by that time, Mrs. Barkeley said.

Residents who have voted during the past two years, need not register as they are carried on the city registration rolls, Mrs. Barkeley said.

New residents and those who haven't voted in the past two years must register to be eligible.

State election laws are rigid concerning the special October election, the clerk said, but since the advisory vote is not a special election, rules governing eligible voters are not quite as strict.

OFFICE HOURS

from 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. through the week and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday to register voters, she said.

Absentee ballots can be obtained at the office during these hours and up to 2 p.m. Saturday, she said.

The tax advisory election will be held Sept. 19. Voters will be asked how they prefer to pay for any new taxes: either a city income tax — one per cent for residents, one-half of one per cent for nonresidents — accompanied by a 3-mill property tax cut, or a four-mill property tax hike.

'68 Oldsmobiles Stress Economy

From Our Wire Services

Oldsmobile showed off its 1968 models to newsmen at Bloomfield Hills today, and the accent was on economy rather than horsepower.

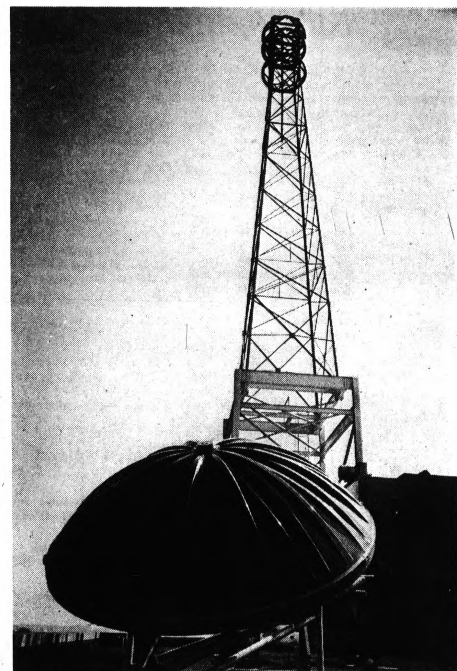

"There is a great deal of evidence that a larger segment of the car-driving public is becoming increasingly interested in operating economy," said Harold Metzel, Oldsmobile general manager.

Metzel said Oldsmobile's answer to this is new high-torque engines designed to operate at lower axle ratios, thereby increasing mileage and extending the life of the engines.

He also said Oldsmobile was offering a wide range of optional engines using regular grade gasoline.

"What we are doing is placing less emphasis on high-speed horsepower in favor of higher drive-wheel turning effort in the mid-range ranges where cars usually operate."

"This represents a timely reversal of the past 10-year trend toward increasing horsepower at high engine speed."

MINTOWER — This two-story superstructure topped by a microwave tower is under construction on top of the Michigan Bell Telephone building in downtown Pontiac. The system, scheduled to be put into operation about April 1968, is part of the telephone company's plan to improve long-distance communication service. The tower and antenna system will be connected to the intrastate long-distance network and will add approximately 200 circuits. Total cost for the project is about $180,000.

OPEN HOUSING FOE — A policeman lost his riot helmet, but a white demonstrator lost the argument and was hauled away by officers last night after civil rights demonstrators and white counterpickets had a stormy confrontation on Milwaukee's south side.

Rock-Hurling Whites Stop Milwaukee Demonstration

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Crowds of whites hurled bottles and rocks at a line of Negro open housing marchers in the vicinity all-white south side Monday night, bringing an abrupt end to Milwaukee's 13th straight night of demonstrations.

Whites packed the sidewalks along 16th Street as the demonstrators, led by Negro comedian Dick Gregory and the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest, moved into the neighborhood.

Two persons were injured including Sydney Finley, a national officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who suffered a head cut.

Police made 13 arrests. The whites, some of whom had made unsuccessful attempts earlier Monday to start marches of their own into the Negro north side, were waiting for the procession of about 500 Negroes.

BOTTLES TOSSED
Even before the marchers crossed a viaduct into the neighborhood, bottles and firecrackers were tossed at the feet of police.

Police had used tear gas in a south side neighborhood Sunday night to scatter whites aroused by the largest civil rights demonstration in the city's history. The demonstration had been staged with only minor incidents through another south side section.

"Sock it to me, Black Power, oh, aah," chanted the demonstrators as they advanced

Illinois Arrests Spark Protest

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — About 30 Negro youth marched into the police station early today after a volunteer patrol of Negro men made citizens' arrests of some other youths.

They milled about inside the station for 10 minutes, then outside for another 10 minutes after police released the youths.

The volunteer group said the youths who were arrested had been caught making a fire-bomb in the Lincoln Park area of East St. Louis. Police, however, said they did not see the alleged offense.

About 15 small fires also sprung up during a two-hour period late Monday and early today. Officials said in almost all cases evidence of arson was found.

SUNDAY DISTURBANCE
In a disturbance Sunday night several persons suffered minor injuries, windows were broken, and acts of vandalism and a series of fires occurred.

Reimbursement for Riot Nixed 'Take Strike Power From Rail Unions'

Romney Rejects Tax Abatement for Detroit

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has told Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh that a requested tax abatement or reimbursement plan for persons who lost property in the riot "would not be feasible at this time."

In a letter to Cavanagh, Romney told the mayor that he was rejecting the plan because "the state is not in a financial position to reimburse the city and the school districts for the possible loss of revenue."

"In addition," Romney said, "a considerable amount of the destroyed property was covered by insurance, and quite possibly by the time it is rebuilt it will be more valuable than before."

Cavanagh had asked that such a plan be included on the agenda for the fall special session of the Legislature.

ASSIGNED RISK

Romney said he has asked the State Insurance Commission to study the assigned risk insurance program, adding that since this is a "very complicated and technical field" it will not be possible to have legislation prepared in time for the special session.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unions don't settle voluntarily by Oct. 16. There is little likelihood of a voluntary wage agreement.

"The public interest is paramount," Hiltz said in urging a federal ban on railroad strikes. Hiltz said the wage settlement handed down by the Morse board will determine whether a pattern of government-dictated wage settlements develops.

The six shop craft unions are demanding a 6.5 per cent wage hike this year and 5 per cent next year plus two 12.5-cent increases for skilled men who make up most of the 137,000 workers affected. The railroads have offered a 6 per cent hike for an 18-month agreement plus one five-cent hourly raise for skilled workers.

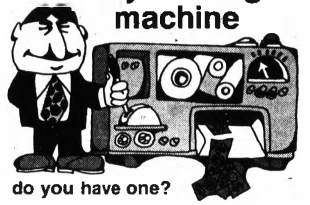

Hiltz said a wage settlement higher than that offered by the industry will encourage other unions to hold out for more money. Most had already settled earlier for a 5 per cent year pattern and so far have indicated no dissatisfaction, Hiltz said.

SPECIAL LAW

The presidential board, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., was named under a special law passed in July to halt a two-day nationwide strike—the first time in U.S. history that Congress stepped into a wage dispute except during World Wars I and II.

The board's recommendations, due to be handed down by midnight Friday, will become mandatory if the railroads and tizens' Committee will most likely take some kind of court action, said Cottrell.

Until then, the committee will still try to obtain the signatures as well as publicize its proposal, added Cottrell.

The annexation proposal is set for a public hearing Oct. 12, said Walled Lake Supervisor Marshall Taylor. He serves on the Board of Supervisors whose boundaries committee will conduct the hearing.

Following the hearing, the boundaries committee will likely recommend the annexation vote for Jan. 15, said Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey.

ANNEXATION AREAS

Considered for annexation are three areas in Commerce township and all of Wolverine Lake running from 14 Mile east of Walled Lake's limits to Hogarty, north to Oakley Park Road, west to Beck and south to Pontiac Trail.

If annexation is approved, Walled Lake would more than triple in its total land area.

Approval of the annexation requires a simple majority of Walled Lake and each of the six areas in which petitions were circulated.

"If the election were held tomorrow, annexation would be approved," claimed Downey.

UNDECIDED NOW

However, a resident of the east portion of Wolverine Lake who circulated an annexation petition said last night that he "doesn't really know which move is best now."

My committee's proposal is a thousand times better than the Walled Lake proposal," declared the village manager.

His committee of about 25 persons includes councilmen Robert Coan and Mrs. Clara Miller.

So far, the only council action on the proposal was to approve paying the committee's $195 bill for engineering research on the incorporation proposal.

VILLAGE PROTECTION

"The committee wanted the village to pick up the tab because the committee was for the citizens and protection of the village," explained Cottrell, who formed the committee last February in response to Walled Lake's plans.

Wolverine Lake "does not want to become the bedroom of Walled Lake," asserted Cottrell. The Cityhood proposal, he stressed, would allow the village to "start fresh and without the problems Walled Lake has."

Cottrell expressed objections to Walled Lake's scattered business and industry. He then pointed out vacant land bordering the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks in the southwestern Commerce Township area as ideal for industrial growth.

He also claimed that the village could never become a part of Walled Lake's sanitary sewer system because the village's water shed flows opposite to that of Walled Lake. In addition, sewer connections would be lacking, he said.

Other points brought out were that Walled Lake's sewers are only plans now and that the system is in cooperation with Novi.

RESIGNS POST

Joseph Bechard, the controversial Troy High School principal almost fired last summer by the board of education, announced his resignation to the board at a special meeting last night.

A board spokesman said that Bechard, on a year's probation, was accepting a job in Cleveland.

He came under fire of several teachers and parents earlier this summer following the first millage defeat in June when many voters said they turned down because of dissatisfaction with the "modular" system of education started at the school two years ago.

This system is based on a very flexible schedule with each student making decisions on his own. Mandatory attendance was not required either — but will be this year.

The height of this controversy was reached when the board of education turned down a $40,000 federal grant to aid such an innovative system.

Bechard, who will leave Oct. 1, will not be replaced immediately, said Dr. Smith. "We are first taking applications within the system."

JOINS PARK STAFF — Benedict C. Pinkowski, a former Melvindale science teacher, has been appointed to the naturalist staff of Stony Creek Metropolitan Park where he will interpret the plant and animal life of the area and conduct lectures to preschool children. He has a bachelor's degree from the University of Detroit and has undertaken master's studies at Eastern Michigan and at the University of Michigan's Dearborn Campus.

Clarkston Parents Assured

School Transfers Aired

CLARKSTON — Some 27 people, parents of school children in the Waumegan Lake area, were placed last night by the board of education over the need to transfer 80 of their students to the new North Sashabaw Elementary School.

The parents wanted information as to why their children, residents of the Andersonville attendance area, should have been transferred last year to Bailey Lake School and this year to Still an other school.

They won assurance that no further transfers would be made until such time as the district is able to build an elementary school on 30 acres it owns at the corner of Holcomb and Bridge Lake roads.

Increasing enrollment made the move necessary, according to Floyd Vincent, assistant superintendent of schools. Since the new Sashabaw section provides 15 additional rooms for kindergarten and grades three to six, Vincent said the transfer was deemed advisable.

The children are transported about five miles to the new school. Though Bailey Lake is closer to their homes, the bus route made necessary by the I-75 bisecting of the district made the trip almost as long, he said.

Land owners of property adjoining the Sashabaw School were present to inquire about fencing plans for the property.

The board had hoped to share the costs of 600 feet of fencing with the property owners, but as the latter stated they felt the total cost should be a matter for the school district.

Enforcement to prohibit the use of go-carts on the senior high school parking lot was asked.

Since the Clarkston Education Association and the board settled the matter of salaries — the beginning pay for a bachelor's degree being up $500 to $6,100 and the maximum master's degree up $1,000 to $10,700 — one new administrative appointment has already removed a man from the teaching ranks.

William Dennis, former industrial arts teacher and department chairman at the senior high school, has been named assistant principal there. His job will entail direction of the summer school and adult education program, Vincent said.

'State Workers to Hit School Strikes'

LANSING (AP) — President Larry Hildore of the 17,000-member Michigan State Employees Association predicts the MSEA will condemn teacher strikes at its convention this weekend in Grand Rapids.

"With the present chaotic situation existing in Michigan concerning strikes or withholding of services by public employees," Hildore said, "it is certain the association will recommend legislation which would require legal action to prevent such irresponsible acts on the part of public employees."

The MSEA meets in Grand Rapids Friday through Sunday for its 17th annual general assembly.

Fireman Is Killed

CENTRAL LAKE — Fireman James Davis, 37, of Central Lake was killed yesterday when he came in contact with a 7,200-volt power line while fighting a house fire in Central Lake, 35 miles north of Traverse City. Another fireman, 35-year-old Roy Heiden of Central Lake, was injured.

Avondale Eyes Ingress to Site

The Avondale Board of Education launched a search for better ingress to the Avondale Junior High School site at its meeting last night.

The property is proposed as the site of the district's second high school. The land is visible from I-75 but is removed from the expressway by a parcel of 20 state-owned acres.

Schools Supt. John W. Dickey said negotiations for purchase of the property would be opened within the next few weeks, as soon as state appraisals are completed.

The board hopes to provide an outlet from the property onto South Boulevard. The Avondale Junior High School is located on Waukegan, about three residential blocks back in off the nearest main artery which is Squirrel Road.

In other action last night the board approved the hiring of five students in a cooperative work program and the employment of another 12 teachers.

Imlay Teachers Ratify Contract; Schools Start

IMLAY CITY — Schools are in session today with the compromise settlement on a teacher contract finally ratified. Agreement on a two-year contract was reached Saturday night with the help of state mediator Charles Sanders of Saginaw.

Teachers with bachelor's degrees will now get $6,000-$8,750 the first year of the contract and $6,150-$8,900 the second year, with an addition of 70 per cent of the increase in state aid to be added when available.

Those with a master's degree will receive $500 over the bachelor's rate. Previously bachelor's received $5,800-$8,000 and master's still received the $500 increase.

Asst. Administrator Clayton Preisel explained that total enrollment figures were up about 100 students from 1971 last year to 2,066 necessitating the addition of four temporary trailer-type rooms to the schools.

The units, made by the Champion Home Builders of Dryden, were distributed one each to the elementary and intermediate schools and two at the high school.

School Levy Defeated

EAST DETROIT (AP) — An eight-mill school tax proposal was defeated in a special election in East Detroit Monday, 3,360 to 1,635. Supt. Robert Smiley said the rejection means the district's schools face a $700,000 deficit unless voters approve the millage at another election.

Highland Is Voting on Fire Levy Today

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Residents are voting today on the renewal of a 1-mill tax levy designated for a new No. 1 fire station and an addition to the No. 2 station.

The voting place for precinct 1 is the Township Hall, 205 N. John. Precinct 2 will vote at the No. 2 fire station, 3570 N. Duck Lake.

The firemen are offering transportation to and from the voting places.

School Contracts Given

UTICA — The Utica Community Schools Board of Education at a special meeting has awarded construction contracts totaling $2,013,254 for three new elementary schools.

Contracts went to low bidders with the provision that the board negotiate deletion of certain items from the schools' original plans.

Architectural trades contracts for the schools to be built at the district's Cherry Hill, Oleander and 23 Mile and Mound sites were awarded to low bidders Mathew Lawewicz, Inc.; Edgar G. H. Gilbert and Son, General Contractors; and Erwin Kerner Construction.

Awards were made to Joseph P. Kropf, Inc., for the Cherry Hill and Oleander schools and to Lyons Plumbing and Heating for the 23 Mile school.

Jones-Sherman, Inc., was low bidder for electrical work on all three projects. The board also entered into a contract with De Angelis Landscaping Co., Woodhaven, for landscaping at six school sites for $68,718.

Police Hunt Dog That Bit Girl in Bloomfield Hills

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Township Police are searching for a dog that bit a young girl last Thursday.

The dog is described as brown, black and white; female; short haired; and of medium in size. It was seen with a puppy, said the girl's mother, Mrs. Robert E. Davis, 112 Millington, Bloomfield Hills.

Anyone seeing the dog is asked to notify the Township Police or Mrs. Davis.

Brandon Twp. Board Aims Solution to Dump Dispute

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The controversial dump which serves the three townships of Brandon, Groveland and Independence remains closed today, but hopes are high among township officials that a workable solution will come about shortly.

The most likely solution aired at last night's Brandon Township Board meeting at the Township Hall in Orionville was put forth by Supervisor Richard Wilcox.

"We have arranged to get a new operator who hopes to be able to run the dump three days a week," said Wilcox. "He would work on a one-month trial basis if the Oakland County Board of Health Dept. approves."

The County Board of Health ordered the dump on M15 near Orionville closed a week ago due to improper bulldozing, signs of rodents, small fires and objections to a salvaging operation carried on by the operator, Russel Farmer.

Previously the dump operators could not make money nor, according to Wilcox, could the townships afford to keep a dozer on the property all day as required by a Michigan Public Act.

RATE COMPLAINTS

Several resident complaints against the rates charged by Farmer were aired before the board. One resident complained that he was charged a $2 pickup truck rate when he drove to the dump in a car, for which the rate is only $1.

Another resident suggested the possibility of the Oakland County Road Commission opening a new site in the three-township area and operating it as they do ones in Independence and Commerce townships.

The board's recommendation would make use of a coupon system for dumping refuse. These would be bought at township offices, and the coupons turned in at the dump.

In other action the board unanimously approved the 2.95 mills for operation of township fire department and voted to join the Michigan Council of Governments at $100.

Clarkston, Independence Officials Dispute Annexation Plan at Meeting

CLARKSTON — "This meeting was called either too early or too late," charged Independence Township officials.

Invited by Clarkston Council to a joint discussion of problems that might arise should the village's annexation attempt of township property succeed, township officials said they were unprepared to go into detail.

Last night's meeting was pretty much a standoff, though a future joint meeting of the two bodies was set for Oct. 2 following two upcoming public information meetings.

The township will conduct a public information meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the senior high school and the village will conduct a like meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, "probably in the high school," according to Village President Robert Wertman.

The Village on Aug. 28 presented a planning report calling for the annexation of land triple the size of the present village. Included in the proposed boundaries are more than 275 residences containing an estimated population of about 1,000 people.

Five years ago a much smaller portion of the township was annexed on request of the residents in the southwest area of what is now part of the village.

"We feel that for about $20 a year difference we can give the people to be annexed more police, better roads and lake protection," said Councilman David K. Leak. He was part of the original planning committee which advised the extension of boundaries.

Leak's figure was based on a successful vote Monday for a township police force which would cost those people living outside the village 1 mill for ten years.

The current village millage rate is 3 mills.

PREDICTED BUDGET

"For 3 mills a year from the new residents plus the approximate $10,000 we should receive in additional sales tax refund and the state gas weight tax we would get for upkeep of the roads, we should be able to almost double our current village budget of $30,000," said Leak.

He was seconded by Wertman who said he saw no reason to increase taxes in the immediate future.

"We are struggling for survival," said Wertman. "You (the township) would lose only about $10,000 a year in sales tax refund. That's only about five per cent of your budget. It would mean quite a bit of difference to us."

"It would mean a difference to us, too," said Supervisor Duane Hursfall whose ire was raised a couple of times during the evening by charges that his frequent absences due to his chairmanship of the Michigan Township Association might have delayed an earlier joint meeting of the two bodies.

MAY CALL EXPERTS

Hursfall said the township was prepared to call in its experts at Thursday night's meeting to delve into such areas as water and sewer service and how that might be affected by the extension of village boundaries.

Hanging over the entire meeting was the feeling that problems in the area are just beginning in light of the fast-increasing population.

The need for cooperation between the two units was stressed by representatives of both bodies.

Rochester Lets Bridge Contract

ROCHESTER — The low bid of Askegaard Co. of Detroit in the amount of $95,826 for construction of a new East Third Street bridge and realignment of Paint Creek last night was accepted by the City Council there.

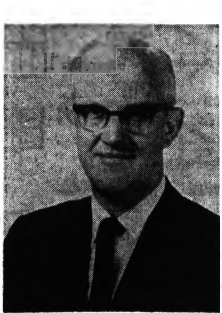

The project, due for completion in June 1968, is part of the city's urban renewal program.

Work was expected to begin this fall.

Engineering fees of $550 to prepare plans for the paving of South Street from Diversion to the eastern city limits were approved.

The council also voted to pay $1,400 for engineering studies of storm drainage problems on Terry between Ingleswood and Mahaffey, on Wesley at Fourth Street, and at the University-Main intersection.

A resolution providing that 1.5 per cent of the estimated cost of construction be paid with the submission of engineering plans for any new subdivision development was approved.

NEW MANAGER — Robert L. Ruth of 4065 Aberdeen has been installed as manager in a newly created position at Sperry Rand's Vickers Division—that of the Marine and Ordnance Department, Machinery Hydraulics Division. The holder of an engineering degree from the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Ruth has been with Vickers for three years, previously as director of engineering for the Machinery Hydraulics Division.

CD Group Sets Four Courses

ORION TOWNSHIP — Four courses are planned to start here this week under the auspices of the Orion Township-Lake Orion Civil Defense.

Two 12-week courses in emergency medical first aid will be offered beginning at 7:30 tonight at Blanche Simms Elementary School, Lake Orion, and at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Carpenter School in Judah Lake Subdivision. Registered nurses will instruct.

A basic and intermediate police course lasting 16 weeks will begin at 7:30 tonight at the Orion Township Hall. This course will be taught by instructors for the Oakland County Sheriff's office.

A 10-week emergency rescue course will begin at 7:30 tonight at Gingerville Fire Hall.

Further information may be obtained from Raymond Genuaux at the Civil Defense office, 317 E. Jackson, Lake Orion.

Auto Strike Strikes at Public Interest

Although it had been generally accepted as inevitable, the strike against the Ford Motor Company by the United Auto Workers nonetheless holds threat of serious consequences, for the regional and national economy while evidencing scant regard for the general welfare.

With elements of the total economy so closely interrelated, it is no longer possible to halt production of one major industry without setting up a chain reaction affecting countless others as well as the fiscal resources of governments and social agencies.

Depending of course on how long the Ford strike lasts—many knowledgeable sources predict at least a month—its cumulative effect can grow to formidable proportions.

As a result of the union's action, production in 93 plants in 25 states ceased operation at midnight last Wednesday, idling some 160,000 union members with a daily loss of $5 million in wages.

The impact of the strike hits Detroit, heart of the Ford automotive empire, with particular force following the record total of property destruction and economic loss suffered by the city in the week-long rioting in July.

In another context, the Ford strike will assuredly reaffirm what has long been axiomatic of strikes—that no one wins. Wages lost to idled workers are rarely if ever made up regardless of the nature of the eventual contract settlement, while the setback to production and anticipated sales of the struck producer, with proportionate loss to supplier industries, also represent irretrievable loss.

But while there are no winners of a strike, there is one sure loser—the public interest.

Post Time

David Lawrence Says:

Profit Sharing: Heads We Win...

WASHINGTON — The strike now going on in the automobile industry marks the first time that a large labor union has struck over a demand for a share of the profits of the employer.

The idea is that during the next three years which LAWRENCE the contract would cover, the employer would agree to give the unions a big wage settlement, with cash raises and "fringe" benefits of at least 6 percent a year.

But on top of all this, each company would, at the end of its fiscal year, make an extra payment to employees based on the company's profit position during the preceding 12 months.

Thus, if an automobile company had a good year of profits, it would have to turn part of the money over to the union's members.

If, on the other hand, business was poor that year, the employees still would have the raise guaranteed in the basic contract and would not suffer at all.

The stockholders might have to take a cut in dividends and perhaps even get no dividends at all. But the union members would be receiving their annual pay increase just the same, regardless of what a company's profit situation happened to be.

What all this amounts to is "heads we win, and tails we win, too."

Profit sharing plans in the past have not been popular with most labor unions.

One reason is that if the gains in wages depended on the profits of the employer, there would not be much need for a union. But, in this instance, the United Auto Workers spokesmen seek to put the profit sharing on top of the regular wage scale.

The only experience the automobile industry has had with a profit-sharing plan was the one adopted by the American Motors Corp. in 1961, and revised in 1964.

Since the company has not earned a profit in the last few years, it has not paid any benefits.

What is being proposed now by the United Auto Workers is considerably broader than the plan which the American Motors Corp. had adopted.

An analysis of the relationship between employers and employees in large industries would disclose that profit-sharing plans have been successfully introduced in many businesses but that these involve a recognition of management's problems when it faces a bad year.

It is hardly likely that large companies would ever agree to a profit-sharing plan which would require a fixed percentage of the profits to be given to employees each year, irrespective of the total earnings.

The principle of profit sharing involves reciprocity—a mutual recognition of the fact that risks are taken in business operations and that, if there is a plan for sharing profits, there must also be some way to share losses, or at least not to increase wages during years in which profits are shrinking.

Dirksen Prodded to Bless Percy

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
CHICAGO (NEA) — Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen may personally anoint his junior colleague, Sen. Charles Percy, as president-elect of the Senate.

Such status thus strongly blessed would be a big boost to his prospects as a fall-back candidate for the Republican moderates should Michigan's Gov. George Romney fail in the primaries. This is especially so since Percy is increasingly disinclined to mix with those primaries himself.

Some Illinois Republicans argue that if Percy is ultimately to be designated their favorite son, a blessing from Dirksen is the only good way. They feel this would quiet the freely stirring animosities between Percy and Dirksen forces.

Party uprisings upon Dirksen to sprinkle the anointing oil are now being made. A certain urgency has crept into the matter since the recent flurry over the favorite son issue, which Percy forces, incidentally, blame in part on Illinois supporters of Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Voice of the People:

Expresses Opposition to Sliding Tuition Plan

We are opposed to the new sliding tuition plan currently under consideration for Michigan State University. Requiring a family to divulge its financial status is an invasion of privacy. The plan would also discriminate against the people who are already the prime financial supporters of the University. The very people who are already paying the highest state taxes, and thus contributing most toward the very existence of the State University and other tax supported institutions, would be penalized by this plan.

We live in a country which has prospered on a governmental system of free enterprise. The reason this type of system is so successful is that individual initiative is encouraged. The tuition being considered for Michigan State tends to discriminate against people who have worked to achieve a better financial status, and thus discourages individual incentives. We hope this plan will be rejected.

'We Need to Hear Facts From Politicians'

I enjoyed the recent headline "Romney Lambastes 'Big Labor' and LBJ." What are his plans to limit the power of Romney, big labor and big business if he decides to run?

I believe the proper balance of power between executive, judicial and legislative can still be restored; that the power of the people and their local and state governments can still be restored; that the lives, liberty and property of citizens can better be protected through a rule of law; that we should either let the military win the war or get out; that it is time to cut out the rhetoric and semantics and get down to statesmanship before it is too late.

The people are ready to get down to facts if the politicians are, and this includes both Governor Romney and LBJ. I am sure we all know what is wrong. What we would like to hear is how Governor Romney and LBJ propose to return this country to the people.

Contest Clock Ticking to Deadline

Don't look now, but that presence you feel peering over your shoulder is none other than Old Father Time reflecting a grim reminder that time is running out on the deadline for submitting your entry to The Press Annual Football Contest that enriches the champ clairvoyant by the winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

For the statistically-minded, if you began reading this warning at exactly 5 p.m., you would have 4,019 1/2 minutes left to get your pigskin prognostications into contention for what could put you in our Hall of Fame...

Just a minute. The man in the back row wants to know how come a 1/4 minute came out of our computer instead of a whole one. Well, we figure you used up half a minute reading from the beginning to that point.

So, if you haven't already put your entry into the running, we remind you that there's no time like the present. Get yourself in a dreamy state of divination, indicate the product of your football fortune-telling on an entry form or facsimile and dispatch post-haste—and there ain't hardly anything faster than posthaste.

But hush. To avoid committing a boo-boo that would give our fussy judges a reason for disqualifying your brainchild, read over the six rules that are as simple as finding fleas on a dog.

Be seeing you dreams tomorrow. Meanwhile, may your dreams turn to gold—a hoard, anyway.

CONTEST RULES

1. Every man, woman and child is eligible to enter contest (except Press employees and close relatives) but are limited to one entry each. All members of families may participate, subject to the same limitation.

2. To enter, you simply check your prediction of the winner of each of the 16 games below (to indicate a tie, leave both boxes blank), sign entry form or facsimile, and dispatch.

3. Entries may be deposited in The Press' Huron Street drop box or mailed. If mailed, they must be enclosed in envelopes (THE POST OFFICE WILL NOT ACCEPT POSTAL CARDS WITH ATTACHED ENTRIES) and addressed to: THE PONTIAC PRESS FOOTBALL CONTEST, P.O. Box 777, Pontiac, Michigan.

4. The contestant who, starting with the first game, correctly predicts the consecutive outcome of the most games will be awarded a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

5. Contest deadline is Friday noon, Sept. 15, and entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Those arriving later, even though postmarked prior, will not be considered.

6. Judges' decisions on all questions relating to contest will be final

Treasury Eyed for Social Security Funds

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Senate advocates of a sharply increased level of Social Security benefits are focusing efforts this year on a revolutionary breakthrough in financing of the 31-year-old system.

They propose that for the first time the traditional revenues obtained through wage-related taxes be augmented by money from the general funds of the Treasury.

The huge prospective budget deficit in the general fund growing out of the Vietnam war appears to make 1967 a particularly unlikely year for such a change.

But Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who is pushing the idea, has come up with a twist which seems to skirt the question of present war costs. It provides for general fund financing—but not until 1972.

'BENEFITS INADEQUATE'
Senators seeking the higher payments declare the Social Security bill passed by the House last month proposes benefits hopelessly inadequate for the needs of America's elderly citizens.

And, they say, President Johnson's proposal, which calls for somewhat higher payments, also is unsatisfactory even though it would mean the biggest benefit increase ever.

They point to the testimony received by the Senate Finance Committee that either proposal would leave millions of old persons still in poverty.

The committee has been told that the new average annual payment for an individual resulting from the President's measure would be $1,173.

The poverty level for an individual as defined by the Social Security Administration on an admittedly meager basis is $1,500 or less.

The House bill provides for a 12.5 per cent increase in benefits, with a boost in the minimum monthly check to $50 from the present $44.

News Analysis

Johnson's recommendation is for a 15 per cent across-the-board hike with a $70 minimum.

One finance committee member, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., former secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, which administers Social Security, has urged a 25 per cent increase.

Kennedy, in testimony before the committee, called for a 20 per cent across-the-board hike with a $100 minimum monthly payment.

He outlined for the panel a financing plan which he said had been checked out fully with government actuaries and which he proposed.

● An increase in the taxable wage base to $10,800 at a faster rate than Johnson recommended. The base now is $6,600.

● An infusion of general revenue financing at the rate of 11 per cent of the total revenues of the system but not until 1972.

IMPLICATION

This means, he pointed out, that the general fund would have to contribute $4.5 billion in that year. He did not say so, but presumably he expects the Vietnam war to have ended by then.

The 4½-year delay is possible because it is the long-range soundness of the system that is looked to by actuaries. Present Social Security taxes bring in slightly more than is being paid out. Ribicoff and Sen. Thurston R-Ky., told Kennedy they believed the committee was going to have to take a hard look at general-revenue financing. Ribicoff has said he believes present payroll levies—now a maximum of $290.40 per employee—are as high as they should go.

A consensus of committee members, however, appears to be that general revenue financing of Social Security is coming eventually but probably won't be voted this year.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Closest Penetration Yet

Navy Hits Haiphong Targets

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes attacked targets close to the heart of Haiphong today, the closest targets previously had hit. The planes hit bridges, warehouses and been on a cement plant and railroad yards from eight-tenths of a mile to 1.7 miles from the center of the city last April. The center of North Vietnam's chief port, the U.S. Command announced.

It was the closest penetration gets within two miles of the city's center in the heavy raids. Pilots from the Oriskany reported direct missile hits on a highway bridge eight-tenths of a mile northwest of the center of the city and on a railroad and highway bridge one mile west of the city's heart.

OTHER TARGETS

The other two targets were a warehouse area 1.3 miles west of the city center and the Haiphong railroad yards about 1.7 miles northwest.

The Navy pilots said they had to dodge heavy barrages of surface-to-air missiles and anti-aircraft fire.

Earlier in the day, U.S. B-52 bombers kept up their attacks on enemy positions in the demilitarized zone. Red attacks on U.S. Marine positions below the zone tapered off, but Communist forces hit hard at South Vietnamese positions in the northern war sector, inflicting heavy casualties on the defenders.

Old-time corduroy roads are being utilized again to cross an Oregon bog. Brush will be laid down, covered with concrete on top of up to eight feet of gravel.

'Frustration on War Rising'

House Members Tell of Voters' Feeling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Growing frustration over the war in Vietnam is reported by House members to be the dominant feeling of their constituents.

The prospect of increased taxes and crime, and rioting also are weighing heavily on the minds of the voters.

Interviews with a cross-section of Democratic and Republican House members indicates concern over the conduct of the war is the biggest issue.

Back from a two-week vacation, they reported mounting feeling that the United States should act to win the war quickly or pull out of Vietnam.

The political significance of the unrest was interpreted differently by the two party leaders in the House.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, Democratic leader, appeared surprised "that the President is not in nearly as much trouble as I thought he was."

"Vietnam is the No. 1 issue," Albert said. "There is a sense of frustration about the war. I found little talk about taxes but a lot of people are worried about the rioting and there was some criticism of the poverty program and concern over farm prices."

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the Republican leader, said: "I have never seen an administration in such public disfavor."

'PEOPLE CONCERNED'

"The people are concerned about Vietnam and are frustrated about the way the war is being waged," Ford said. "There is grave concern about crime and disregard of the law, and strong opposition to a tax increase."

Rep. George W. Andrews, D-Ala., said the chief concerns of his constituents were "the war, taxes, crime and rioting, in that order."

China Threatens India After Sharp Clash

NEW DELHI (AP) — Red China threatened India today with "crushing blows" in the wake of a sharp clash between troops of the two nations on the mountainous border between Tibet and Sikkim.

Recalling the defeat Chinese troops administered to Indian forces in their border war five years ago, a Chinese government note delivered to the Indian Embassy in Peking said: "Do not misjudge the situation and repeat your mistake of 1962."

"For the defense of the sacred territory of their motherland," the note continued, "the great Chinese people and the Chinese People's Liberation Army will certainly deal crushing blows at any enemy that dares invade us." India proposed an immediate cease-fire and a meeting of the local military commanders "to reduce the tension and prevent the situation from assuming a very serious aspect."

Each side accused the other of opening fire first on Monday.

CLASH AT RIDGE

The clash occurred at Nathu La Pass, a Himalayan ridge about 20 miles from Gangtok, the Sikkimese capital where the former Hope Cooke, an American socialite, reigns with her husband the Maharajah Palden Thondup Namgyal.

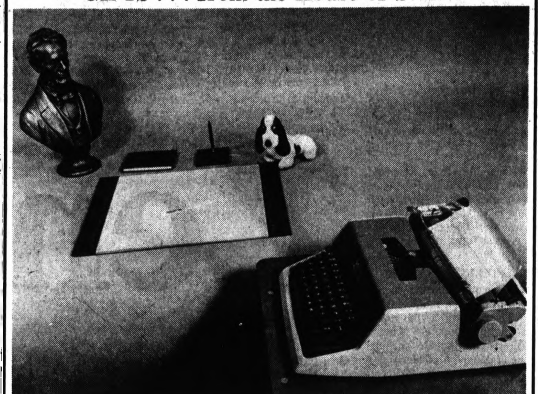

Red China said 36 of its frontier guards were killed or wounded in the clash, the second outbreak of fighting at the pass in five days.

India said the Chinese opened fire with rifles and machine guns and followed with mortar and artillery barrages, killing and wounding some Indians. Unofficial accounts in New Delhi said eight Indians were wounded and a lesser number killed.

Two parcels of about 60 men each clashed briefly with bayonets at the pass last Thursday, and the Chinese claimed two of their soldiers were wounded.

'Frustration on War Rising'

House Members Tell of Voters' Feeling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Growing frustration over the war in Vietnam is reported by House members to be the dominant feeling of their constituents. The prospect of increased taxes and crime, and rioting also are weighing heavily on the minds of the voters.

Interviews with a cross-section of Democratic and Republican House members indicate concern over the conduct of the war is the biggest issue.

Back from a two-week vacation, they reported mounting feeling that the United States should act to win the war quickly or pull out of Vietnam.

The political significance of the unrest was interpreted differently by the two party leaders in the House.

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, Democratic leader, appeared surprised "that the President is not in nearly as much trouble as I thought he was."

"Vietnam is the No. 1 issue," Albert said. "There is a sense of frustration about the war. I found little talk about taxes but a lot of people are worried about the rioting and there was some criticism of the poverty program and concern over farm prices."

Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the Republican leader, said "I have never seen an administration in such public disfavor."

PEOPLE CONCERNED

"The people are concerned about Vietnam and are frustrated about the way the war is being waged," Ford said. "There is grave concern about crime and disregard of the law, and strong opposition to a tax increase."

Rep. George W. Andrews, D-Ala., said the chief concerns of his constituents were "the war, taxes, crime and rioting, in that order."

China Threatens India After Sharp Clash

NEW DELHI (AP) — Red China threatened India today with "crushing blows" in the wake of a sharp clash between troops of the two nations on the mountainous border between Tibet and Sikkim.

Recalling the defeat Chinese troops administered to Indian forces in their border war five years ago, a Chinese government note delivered to the Indian Embassy in Peking said: "Do not misjudge the situation and repeat your mistake of 1962."

"For the defense of the sacred territory of their motherland," the note continued, "the great Chinese people and the Chinese People's Liberation Army will certainly deal crushing blows at any enemy that dares invade us." India proposed an immediate cease-fire and a meeting of the local military commanders "to reduce the tension and prevent the situation from assuming a very serious aspect."

Each side accused the other of opening fire first on Monday.

CLASH AT RIDGE

The clash occurred at Nathu La Pass, a Himalayan ridge about 20 miles from Gangtok, the Sikkimese capital where the former Hope Cooke, an American socialite, reigns with her husband the Maharajah Palden Thondup Namgyal.

Red China said 36 of its frontier guards were killed or wounded in the clash, the second outbreak of fighting at the pass in five days.

India said the Chinese opened fire with rifles and machine guns and followed with mortar and artillery barrages, killing and wounding some Indians. Unofficial accounts in New Delhi said eight Indians were wounded and a lesser number killed.

Sikkim, a protectorate of India, has a population of 17,000 and an armed force of 300 palace guards. India is responsible for its defense and foreign relations.

Tension has been mounting between Indian and Chinese patrols facing each other at Nathu La Pass, which lies at the end of a strip of Tibetan territory reaching south between Sikkim and Bhutan.

Two parties of about 60 men each clashed briefly with bayonets at the pass last Thursday, and the Chinese claimed two of their soldiers were wounded.

If He Refuses Assistance---Leave and Take Second Daughter Along

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I salute you for having the courage to publish the letter from the mother who suspected her husband of molesting their 13-year-old child.

When my eldest daughter was a budding young girl, her father would find all kinds of excuses to surprise her in her bedroom, hoping to catch her in some stage of undress. Many times I saw him in her bedroom, standing by her bed, leering down at her form as she slept uncovered on a hot night.

I finally realized that he had become much too generous with gifts, money, and privileges, and learned too late that he had been buying her favors and silencing her with threats to kill her if she told anyone.

I hesitated to turn him into the authorities as he held a fine position and was respected in the community. But I finally trapped him into seeing our family doctor. And in spite of the doctor's pleas and explanations, my husband still holds this daughter, whose life he ruined, equally responsible, and he feels no particular guilt.

We have a younger daughter growing up, and if I ever see her father touch her, I intend to shoot him, so help me God!

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: And what good will a dead husband be after he has violated a second child? So far you have no reason to believe that he has changed. You may catch him and you may not.

But knowing what you do, if he harms your second child, you are as guilty as he. I say if he refuses psychiatric treatment TODAY, take your child and leave him, and haul him into court!

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will print this letter because I'm sure I speak for many other mothers-in-law.

I have a son who is married to a lovely young woman. I have no daughter, so I am delighted to have a daughter-in-law. I am pleased to report that we get along just fine.

Abby, we are a very affectionate family and I have always kissed my son hello and good-by from the time he was a small boy, and I still do.

After he married, I greeted his wife in the same manner, but Abby, you can tell when a person is not receptive, and I feel that she doesn't seem to care for my kisses. Please don't misunderstand. She is a perfectly lovely girl, but she is rather cool and conservative.

I don't feel right kissing my son hello and good-by, and not kissing his wife.

Would it be better if I didn't kiss either one?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Continue to kiss your son, and greet your daughter-in-law with a warm smile.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I attended a piano recital at a small community music hall in San Francisco. While listening to the concert I became aware of a very attractive, nicely dressed young woman seated near me. Our eyes met several times during intermission and also after the concert as we were leaving.

I wanted to introduce myself, but she was with an older woman and I didn't want to intrude. Now I am sorry, for I think I may have cheated myself out of something worthwhile. I would go to that same music hall again if I were sure she'd be there, as I would love to meet her.

Should I have been more brazen? What does an earnest man do under the circumstances?

DON

DEAR DON: Under the circumstances, an earnest man might have directed an appropriate remark to the young lady concerning the concert. Her reactions would have either opened the door for further conversation, or closed it.

Problems? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Calling for Members

Oakland County Medical Assistants are culminating their annual fall membership drive with a banquet to be held at Albert's of Birmingham-Bloomfield on Wednesday, at 7 p.m.

All local medical assistants may attend this informative first meeting of the season. Mrs. George Hermoyan, membership chairman, will have application blanks available for those interested in joining the society.

Requirements include employment as receptionist, secretary, nurse or in a technical capacity by an M.D. who is a member of the Oakland County Medical Society.

President Mrs. Robert A. Carlson will introduce speaker, Mrs. Nelda Gasper, president-elect of the state chapter, and special guest, Helen Schick, educational coordinator for Blue Shield.

Educational programs are scheduled monthly throughout the year with local physicians scheduled to address the group.

Social activities will include a Christmas party, a fashion show benefit in March and the annual Bosses Night in May.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Prepare for PAUF Campaign

Gals Roll Up Sleeves

The time is short — "Wonder Workers" are needed to put the Pontiac Area United Fund Residential Drive "over the top."

"In fact," said Mrs. John Reineck, Pontiac residential chairman, "four hundred volunteers are needed to complete the Pontiac picture" before the start of the Drive, Oct. 17.

Mrs. Reineck met with her six area leaders Monday morning to review and complete plans for total house-to-house coverage during the forthcoming campaign.

MORE TIME
"With vacations over and children in school," said Mrs. Reineck, "women will be able to devote time to volunteer work once again."

"We would like women to feel that the small amount of time given to the 10-day residential canvass brings happiness, hope and comfort to some 30,000 area-wide families throughout an entire year."

A training session will be held Sept. 26 at the Elks Temple to acquaint all women with her volunteer assignment. The training, which begins at 10 a.m., will be followed by a fashion show by Alvin's of Pontiac.

Pontiac housewives and retail businesses are asked to provide $11,400 of the over-all residential goal of $38,541 this year.

Area chairman assisting Mrs. Reineck are Mrs. Edward Amidon, Area I; Mrs. Warren T. Fowler, Area II; Mrs. Willie Ferguson, Area III; Mrs. Otis B. Ferguson, Area IV; Mrs. Eric Wild, Area V and Mrs. Charles Colberg, Area VI.

Women may call the United Fund headquarters on Franklin Boulevard to volunteer their time.

MRS. KURT P. WIETZKE

Rings Exchanged by Diane Twyman and K. P. Wietzke

Kurt Paul Wietzke took as his bride Diane Valerie Twyman. The pair was wed in a double ring ceremony Saturday in Kirk in the Hills.

FLOWERS
A formal cascade of Eucharis lilies with ivy was carried as a wedding bouquet.

Honor attendants were Darcy L. Twyman, sister of the bride, and Thomas Beamer of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bridesmaids in the wedding party were Lynne D. Carey, Mrs. Karl F. Lutomski, Mrs. Thomas Beamer, Jaime Twyman and Debbie Twyman.

Ushers were Dr. Karl F. Lutomski, Thomas Coffey, Paul Landry, Donald R. Twyman, Ivan Dimcheff and Peter Burleson.

Parents of the couple who greeted guests later in the Bloomfield Hills Country Club are Mr. and Mrs. L. Raymond Twyman of Mystic Valley Drive and the Vern R. Wietzkes of Dearborn.

A wedding trip to the Bahamas is being taken by the newlyweds. They will make their home in Berkeley.

Son for Winkelmans

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winkelman of Birmingham (Judith Dickstein) announce the birth of a son, Adam David, on Sept. 6.

Two Couples Celebrate 50th Year

Marking their golden wedding anniversary the Earl N. Downings of South Johnson Street will celebrate at an open house party Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall. The couple repeated vows on Sept. 12, 1917 in Caro.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Siple of Lakeview Avenue are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary today. Residents of Pontiac for 25 years, the pair were wed Sept. 12, 1917 in Sandusky.

Three ADK Chapters Meet

Fund raising for charity projects was discussed at a meeting Thursday evening of the Alpha Delta Kappa sorority's Zeta chapter.

The altruistic committee was designated to do research in finding worthwhile projects for the group to sponsor.

Faye Donelson of Voorhees Road was hostess for the gathering, assisted by Helen Voss and Mrs. Walter Bennett.

New international officers were announced during the evening. It was also decided that Mrs. Elmer Thorpe, Mrs. Eugene Carey, Betty Halsey and Miss Donelson would attend the state convention in the Statler Hilton in Detroit during September.

Mrs. Alton Madden will be coordinator for Zeta activities when all Alpha Delta Kappa chapters in the area meet for dinner at Devon Gables Oct. 5 to celebrate founders day.

Mrs. Gerald Burley gave highlights of the international convention in Minneapolis during August. This was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Burley.

Hostess for the cooperative dinner and meeting was Mrs. H. A. Mitchell of Lansdowne Street assisted by Dorcas Wolfe and Mrs. Arvil Williams.

Rho chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority began their opening fall meeting with a picnic at the Otter Lake home of Mrs. E. Cio Wiley. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Ross Tenny.

Mrs. Melvin Boersma was selected as delegate to the state convention at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Detroit Sept. 21.

Plans were also made for a Founder's Day dinner in Devon Gables during October.

A report on the international convention in August was given by Mrs. Walter Sheffield who attended the event in Minneapolis, Minn.

Polly's Pointers

Looking for Use

DEAR POLLY — My children are avid jigsaw puzzle workers and many of the puzzles are too lovely to destroy after they are completed. If there any way they can be preserved or put to some ornamental use? Some of ours are round and some are rectangular and I would love to find a use for them.—MRS. R. B. C.

DEAR POLLY — Your column carried a letter from Peggy asking for a way to whiten a 100 per cent wool sweater "that had yellowed from dry cleaning." Dry cleaning should not cause a white sweater to turn yellow. If cloudy solvent caused it, dry cleaning again in clear solvent should correct the condition.

It is more likely that the sweater contains a fluorescent dye to give it a bright whiteness. Many such brighteners become yellow when exposed to sunlight or even electric light. If such a poor dye is used there will be discoloration that no dry cleaning can correct.

A sweater is sent to the cleaner because it has picked up lint or stains and, when the soil is removed, the yellowness shows up. Dry cleaning does not cause it — it exposes it. If this is what happened to Peggy's sweater, the whiteness cannot be restored. Some washable fabrics might be restored to a bright whiteness after treatment at a professional laundry.—DIRECTOR PUBLIC RELATIONS, INSTITUTE OF DRY CLEANING

'Y' Newcomers Invite Women for Meeting

The YWCA Newcomers of Pontiac will meet for a noon dessert and program Thursday in the "Y."

Babysitting services will be available for children from two through five years of age. Topsy-Turvy Whirl will be played as an ice breaker.

This new organization is formed to assist women in the area who have lived here less than five years, become acquainted with the Pontiac activities.

A number of projects for fun and education are being planned for new members interested. For further information, contact the "Y."

To Present Club History

Mrs. Sam Angott will give a presentation of "The History of Countryside Improvement Association of West Bloomfield Township" at Wednesday's luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Ernest Fuller of Commerce Road will host the noon event with assistance from Modamer, Gary Staley, Frank Dickie, Kenneth Hedges and Jack Van Covering.

Trudy A. Moore Takes Vows on Saturday

MRS. L. SHENEFIELD

Trudy Ann Moore and Lloyd Louis Shenefield repeated marriage vows Saturday in the Community United Presbyterian Church.

For the afternoon ceremony the bride chose a gown of silk organza with Alencon lace. Her bell shaped skirt was appliqued in lace and pearls throughout and extended into a full chapel train.

An organza cluster of rosebuds held her bouffant veil. White roses with miniature carnations and Stephanotis were carried in a nosegay arrangement.

Mrs. Merrick Richardson of Lansing was matron of honor. Attendants were Anne Cernak of Berwyn, Ill., Sherri Morse of Clarkston and Carl Jo Howland.

Best man was William Todd of Allen. Ushers were Robert Cochran of Quincy, Robert Wilson of Marble Lake, Timothy Moore, Peter and James Hess.

A reception in the church parlors followed.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. William Kenneth Moore of Roseberry Court, and Mrs. Louis M. Shenefield of Coldwater and the late Mr. Shenefield.

Miss Grimes Takes Vows in Evening

The former Elizabeth J. Grimes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Webster Grimes of Sylvan Shores Drive, and John Richard Crary II, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Crary, of Otter Drive, were married Saturday in an evening ceremony at Grace Lutheran Church.

The bride wore a candlelight silk gown with an Empire waist. Lace inserts were trimmed with seed pearls. Her veil was shoulder length and her bridal bouquet featured Stephanotis and white roses.

Maid of honor was Carol Ann Grimes of Denver, Colo. Bridesmaids were Julie Crary, Mrs. William Fleming of Kentucky, Mrs. Roger Crane of Ann Arbor, and Sandra Scorobet.

John Thorndyke was best man with ushers Charles Grimes, James Kloc, Frederic Finkbeiner, and James Rice.

Following a reception in the church parlors the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Northern Michigan.

Wild Form Last

Wheat has been a cultivated plant for so long that its wild form is unknown. It was planted in China as long ago as 2,000 B.C., but was not used in Europe until the Middle Ages.

Simplify Serving

Save the trays from ready-made dinners. They can be used in many ways. They are especially fine for serving a meal to the person who is confined to bed or chair.

Baskets Hold Water

Some Indians wove baskets so tight that they could put hot stones in them and boil their food.

Airman and Bride Exchange Their Vows

An afternoon ceremony in the First Methodist Church, Romeo was the setting for recent vows spoken by Karen Alleen Peacock and A-JC Jerry Keith South of McCord AFB, Washington.

Mrs. Larry Wallace was matron of honor for the recent rite in which the bride was attired in white linen trimmed with imported venetian lace appliques. Seed pearls and baby crystals from her mother's bridal head piece accented the appliques on the gown and veil.

Her silk illusion veil was trimmed in matching lace and extended over the chapel length train.

Bridesmaids were Darlene Peacock, Lois Januine and Mrs. James Taylor. Lou Ann Peacock was flower girl. James M. Peacock was best man and groomsmen were Ralph Wolfe, James Taylor, and Larry Wallace. Ushers were Carl and Eugene Peacock.

A church parlors reception followed the ceremony after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the west coast.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Peacock of Leonard, Mrs. Mrs. Freda M. Jones of Ochopon, Fla. and Milton South of New Albany, Ind.

Why Grow Old?

I should not brush my hair since it is oily and that just seems to make it oilier. Fallacy. Brushing simply distributes the oil over the hair but the gentle stimulation it provides may help normalize the little oil glands in the scalp.

Certain foods have a direct effect on the hair. Fallacy. There is no special foods which will give you beautiful hair or prevent baldness. However, of course, diet does play a part in hair health just as it does in the health of the rest of the body. Severe nutritional deficiencies can lead to dull dry lifeless hair and may even cause some hair loss. It has never been satisfactorily demonstrated that any one vitamin can greatly influence the condition of the hair. At one time the vitamin B complex was thought to be of some help. Be sure that your diet contains all of the essentials for top physical condition.

Severe and prolonged emotional strain can cause loss of hair. True. However, this loss is temporary. The hair will grow back when the strain is relieved.

Washing the hair too often will cause baldness. Fallacy. Washing the hair frequently will not cause baldness or thinning hair. Wash it as often as necessary to keep it in good condition. If your hair is very oily, you will have to shampoo it more often. However, remember that washing the hair removes the natural oils from the scalp.

Therefore, excessive shampooing may cause the hair to become dryer and more brittle and even break off. The woman who has a dry scalp and dry hair should wash her hair much less often.

Brush rollers are bad for the hair. Many specialists disapprove of these. The brushes are rough and may pull some hairs out or break others off. They may irritate the scalp. Also, procedures which pull on the hair, such as the pony tail hair style, are suspect.

Scalp massage can make the hair grow longer. Fallacy, so far as I know. Scalp massage is valuable to hair health and therefore, hair beauty because it increases the circulation in the scalp. However, I doubt that it can make the hair grow longer.

According to chairman, Mrs. Suchner, luncheon will precede the show.

New Test Measures Psychology of Why Smokers Addicted

NEW YORK (AP) — A new and experimental "smoker's test" may spell out why some people are hooked on cigarettes—and may provide some clues to make quitting easier, a panel of researchers said today.

Basically, the test requires about 15 questions to pinpoint one or more of six smoking gratification patterns, explained Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the National Clearing House for Smoking and Health.

The test measures—or tries to—why people use cigarettes to feelings, the panel noted in its report for the World Conference on Smoking and Health.

Ten per cent of smokers tested so far indicate that they feel coffee is a stimulant, like cigarettes in the morning. Some eight per cent say it is simply the handling and lighting of the cigarette that satisfies them. Thirty to forty out of every 100 smokers say they use the cigarette as a mechanism toward a pleasurable period of relaxation.

TO SUPPRESS FEELINGS

Some 40 to 45 per cent of smokers say they puff away to get rid of negative feelings—to rise above depressions or let down feelings.

Up to 10 per cent of smokers tested say they light up strictly by habit, and only if they have a cigarette handy.

Some 25 per cent show up on the test with a psychological addiction—a complex reaction showing that they gain several positive elements from smoking. This is the kind of smoker who seems to have a built-in timer. As soon as he puts one out, he begins to develop a desire for the next one. He can't seem to taper off. He has to quit cold turkey.

PATTERN COMBINATIONS

There are several bad combinations of patterns—for some people have more than one. One of the worst is the combination of psychological addiction and the use of cigarettes to overcome depression. This person, the researchers said, has great trouble quitting.

Some individuals have all six patterns and they are in really bad shape.

COMPARED TO SNUFF

In his paper, Horn explained that several materials have been used by people to enervate their nervous systems. He cited the use of snuff in 19th century England and the use of chewing tobacco in the United States, which reached its peak in 1894 and has dropped off some 90 per cent since.

One reason for the fading of old habits, he said, was the predominance and popularity of the cigarette which seemed to be innocuously replacing the old materials.

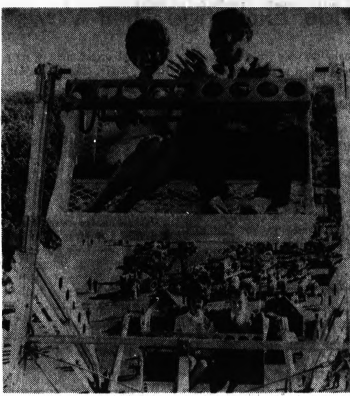

It is, he said, "just rather bad luck it turned out so bad for us."

The object of the smoker's test when finally perfected would be to spell out certain individual substitutes a smoker might use to satisfy his needs short of cigarettes.

Horn said the specific questions in the test require more study and refinement, but generally they ask a person why he smokes. Horn heads the division of the U.S. Public Health Service concerned with smoking and health.

CONFAB GOALS

The three-day conference, which ends Wednesday, is designed to study efforts to eradicate the cigarette smoking habit which sponsoring agencies, including the Public Health Service, call injurious to health.

SKY-HIGH MARRIAGE—It was a double-ring ceremony atop a Ferris wheel for Irma Jean Wiles and Phillip Cowgill, both of Indiana. The couple, both employed by the traveling midway at the Allegan County Fair, Allegan, wanted their friends to attend the wedding so they took their marriage vows on the double Ferris wheel. Below are the wedding attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Martin.

Indiana Couple Wed on Ferris Wheel at Allegan County Fair

ALLEGAN (AP) — A couple of fair workers were back on the ground Monday after their sky-high marriage.

Phillip Cowgill, 24, of Portland, Ind., and Irma Wiles, 28, of Muncie, Ind., were in love. They also were new employees of W. G. Wade Shows, operating the midway at the Allegan County Fair.

They wanted all their new friends to attend their wedding, but they all couldn't get away from work. So the two were married atop a double Ferris wheel Sunday.

"It was the only way they could all be there," said Mrs. Cowgill.

"From the top of the double Ferris wheel, even those on the other side of the park could see," said the groom.

Seats were turned around so that Allegan Justice of the Peace Otto Schmidt could face the couple. Some fellow workers went up in the other seats and the double ring ceremony was performed 96 feet above the midway.

Six minutes later they returned to the ground and were showered with popcorn by the wedding party.

It was the first ride on the double wheel for the two.

White House Carnival Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House history, the curator, giant ferris wheel, a tuncful merry-go-round, striped tents and a midway atmosphere prevail on the White House south lawn today.

Everything from cotton candy to helium-filled balloons was on hand for a country fair promoted by President and Mrs. Johnson for about 500 children and grandchildren of congressmen and top government officials.

Amusement park experts from several states worked for days to provide rides and refreshments in authentic style for presidential guests aged 6 to 18 — and the President himself.

Just about everything from stuffed-animal prizes to the hot dogs, popcorn, cotton candy and soft drinks was donated for the children of Washington officialdom.

CLEAR SKIES

The weatherman said he'd donate clear skies.

The fair was unique in White

Numerous members of the President's official family and their wives had midway jobs, including Mrs. Orville L. Freeman, wife of the secretary of agriculture, working as a fortune teller.

White House social secretary Bess Abell, boss of the midway, called on the International Amusement Park Association in Chicago to launch the temporary White House amusement park.

CONTRIBUTIONS

President Marvin Staton of Oklahoma City took on the job, with the association contributing $1,200 toward expenses. Most of the equipment and labor was donated by amusement parks and operators in Baltimore, Indianapolis, Maryland and Tennessee.

The ferris wheel is one of the largest made and capable of accommodating 2,200 riders an hour.

Staton said he thought the White House fair was unique. "I

1,000 College Student Suicides Predicted

By United Press International
A mass migration is under way across the United States. Parents who have worked long and hard for this day are sending their children off to colleges and universities.

For many of the youngsters, now begins their first real skirmish with life. Some of them will be defeated.

There are estimates that as many as 1,000 college students will die by their own hands this year—victims of suicide.

"Suicide statistics are notoriously unreliable," Dr. Benson R. Snyder, psychiatrist-in-chief at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, says. "Families, educational institutions and business institutions are reluctant to talk about such occurrences."

The crime, or tragedy, may be that not enough is being done about suicide, particularly among the young.

SUICIDE ESTIMATES

It is hard to determine whether suicide is a growing problem or whether only the knowledge of it is growing. Nevertheless, there are estimates that 10,000 persons in college and graduate schools will attempt suicide this year and 1,000 will succeed. The estimates were made by a Philadelphia-based magazine called Moderator which is circulated on college campuses.

Moderator said it conducted a survey which indicated about 90,000 students would threaten suicide this year.

Why? There are many and some say, mounting pressures which drive young persons to self-destruction.

For many parents, having their child in college has been perhaps the goal of their life. They have pushed, some with less overtness than others. Educators in secondary and elementary schools have pushed. Society as a whole pushes all toward a higher education and success.

STUDENT PRESSURES

Pressure is a way of life in the United States and much of it funnels down to the American student, a half-person feeling his way toward maturity in many cases. He or she gets it from all sides. To many it appears there is only one purpose to life—succeed.

Students in U.S. colleges and universities cope with pressure daily. Most succeed. Too many don't.

Dr. Fred Bryson, dean of student life at Dallas Southern Methodist University, says, "If the person has a reason to fight it, or people to support him in the fight, then he will be all right."

"If, however, the fight loses all meaning, and it has no relation to people, the thing becomes devastating."

EUROPEAN STATISTICS

Dr. Viktor Frankl, a Viennese psychiatrist, said 81 per cent of his American students at the University of Vienna admitted they experienced despair over the meaningless of their lives, compared with 40 per cent of his European students.

A United Press International sampling of campuses indicates there is also an apparent correlation between pressure, a "free thinking" atmosphere and the incidence of suicide.

For example, the University of California Berkeley campus is noted as an academically superior school and a hotbed of student free thought and expression. The school recorded five suicides in one 24-day period this year.

Reports from more relaxed schools, such as the University of Miami in Florida (known among college students as Sun U) reported few suicide attempts and fewer successful suicides.

But at every school surveyed, from West to East, Big Ten to Ivy League, North to South, student advisers and health officials were concerned with the lack of facilities they felt are necessary to cope with suicides.

Most large schools try to provide mental clinics and counselors trained in psychology for students who may "tip off" proclivities toward suicide by attention-grabbing suicide attempts, general emotional behavior or criminal acts.

"The successful suicide, and I have found this to be true an overwhelming number of times, is the person who has not been in contact with someone else, who has not told someone else his problem," M.I.T.'s Snyder said.

Dr. John Griffith, staff psychiatrist at Vanderbilt, said he divided his time "between dealing with the students and counseling with the faculty members as to how to deal with the emotional problems of students."

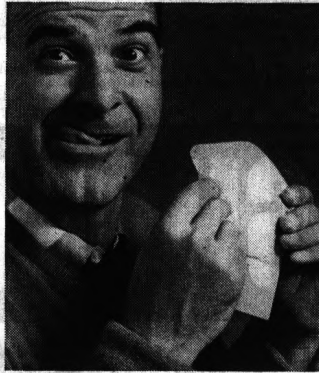

Some 20 per cent of the U.S. labor force is made up of working wives and mothers.

Wake Up Your PERISTALSIS And Be Your SMILING BEST

Peristalsis is the muscular action of your digestive system. When peristaltic action slows down, waste materials can build up in the lower tract. You can become irregular, uncomfortable, stuffed. The unique laxative formula of today's Carter's Pills gives effective, temporary relief of the irregularity by activating the slowed-down muscles of the lower tract and stimulating peristalsis. So if you're sluggish due to irregularity, take Carter's Pills to wake up your peristalsis and you'll bounce back to your smiling best. Millions of satisfied users take Carter's Pills for effective temporary relief of irregularity. Why don't you, too.

A Junior Editors Quiz About WATER

QUESTION: What part does water play in the body?

ANSWER: Water and the other substances in the human body would never become separated as shown in our imaginative picture. But the picture is true in that it suggests that a very large part of our bodies is made up of water.

Although we hardly realize it, a great deal of activity is going on inside our bodies all the time. The blood is circulating; the food we eat is being digested and distributed; waste products are being removed; an even body temperature is being maintained. The water in the body makes all these activities possible.

There are streams of water inside us along which carry the blood corpuscles, for blood is 90 per cent water. This circulation of the blood brings digested food to the body cells and takes waste products away.

What we call perspiration is water leaving the body through the skin and taking out excess heat as it goes.

Since water is always leaving the body and evaporating into the air in this way, we must drink every now and then to keep our cooling system going. Because of all the vital services water does for him, the average man must take in about a ton of water each year.

Work Load, Pay of Most Legislators Are Up

CHICAGO (AP) — State legislators are working harder these days than ever before — and in most cases, drawing better pay.

An Associated Press survey focused on changes in the last 10 years shows:

In some of the bigger states legislating is becoming pretty much a full-time career, with incomes ranging up to $21,000.

Pay or fringe benefits, or both, have risen in 31 states. But in some states lawmaking still is a part-time job at token pay.

Legislatures in 24 states now meet in annual sessions instead of on the old every-other-year schedule. Several are moving toward annual sessions.

Most states have had series of special sessions in the last 10 years — as many as 15 in California, 11 in Mississippi, Maryland and Louisiana, and 10 in Florida.

This year sessions set records by running 217 calendar days in California, 175 days in Iowa, 157 in Oregon, 149 in North Carolina and 110 in South Carolina.

Maine's legislature met this year for 27 weeks, and set a record for the fifth time in six bienniums.

WORK VOLUME

The work volume also is increasing.

In the session in Massachusetts, for example, more than 5,100 bills have been filed in the House and more than 1,300 in the Senate.

In Nebraska, 947 measures were introduced, compared with 615 in 1967.

There are many reasons for the heavier work load — such fundamental issues as reapportionment and the ceaseless scratching for more money to meet spiraling costs of government, school systems and road networks.

New York legislators receive $18,000 a year — $15,000 plus a $3,000 expense allowance.

California's assemblymen and senators have a salary of $18,000 a year. They also get $25 a day for expenses while the legislature is in session. Figuring this year's session that ran 217 days by the calendar — and deducting for some recesses — each drew approximately $21,000.

The Michigan scale is a $12,500 salary plus $2,500 for expenses.

Pennsylvania's lawmakers draw $7,800 in salary and $4,200 in expenses — double the earnings they had in 1959.

ALMOST DOUBLE

The Massachusetts legislature boosted pay this year from $5,200 to $10,000 a year.

Illinois legislators are paid $9,000 a year.

Annual salaries now are $8,400 in Wisconsin and $7,500 in New Jersey.

The salary spread, for the country as a whole, is startling.

Rhode Island's constitution stipulates that the law writers get together each year for 60 days and get paid $5 a day.

The pay is $15 a day in North Carolina and $20 a day in New Mexico.

New Hampshire pays $200 a biennium, and has done so since 1889.

Utah's legislators receive $500 per session plus $5 a day for expenses. Those in Idaho draw $10 a day while meeting and $25 a day for expenses.

Firm Offers Rust Warranty

No matter what model '67 car you buy, you'll be getting the best bargain on warranties ever offered. Indeed, General Motors has extended its warranties to include "everything except tires which are warranted by the tire manufacturers."

But is "everything" except tires on cars getting factory backing for longer periods? Not necessarily. Still, unwarranted is the actual car body, except for defects in workmanship or paint.

Ziebart Process Corp., 821 Oakland Ave., Pontiac, is offering a five-year, or 50,000 miles, warranty on cars treated by its rustproofing process. The warranty will protect against "any rust through" over the prescribed period.

The process involves spraying a petroleum-based chemical coating "inside" door panels, headlamp fixtures and other areas susceptible to rusting.

The average "treatment" costs about $55. Under the 50/50 warranty, motorists whose cars have been Ziebarted are called in each two years or 20,000 miles for a free inspection and "an extra shot of chemical if it's needed."

Ziebart Process Corp., 821 Oakland Ave., Pontiac, will be happy to discuss their Guaranteed Protection program, just to call FE-4-0502.

Reliefers Shine After Jumping From Bullpen

Giants' Herbel Tames Dodgers; Briles Wins Seventh for Cardinals

By the Associated Press

Ron Herbel is giving the San Francisco Giants a much-needed helping hand . . . and just about everybody is pitching in for the Houston Astros.

Herbel, recently promoted from the bullpen to help fill the gap left by Juan Marchal's leg injury, scattered eight hits Monday night in hurling the Giants to a 4-0 victory over Los Angeles.

The Astros, meanwhile, tied a National League record by eliminating eight pitchers on the way to an 11-10 verdict over the Chicago Cubs.

Nelson Briles, an ex-relief specialist, rolled in his seventh straight victory as a starter as league-leading St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 5-1 and Cincinnati struck for two ninth inning runs to nip Pittsburgh 4-3 in other NL action.

Herbel's second September victory gave the Giants a 5-1 mark for the month and continued a run of brilliant pitching that began on Aug. 1 — with Marchal shelved by a pulled hamstring muscle in his left leg.

Marchal has made only one appearance since then, but the Giants' staff — led by Gaylord Perry and Mike McCormick and abetted by Herbel and Ray Sadecki — has compiled a sparkling 2.29 earned run average in his absence.

Willie McCovey, who drove in three runs in Herbel's 4-3 victory over Cincinnati nine days ago, delivered two more against the Dodgers with a single and his 25th homer. Willie Mays chipped in with two doubles and a single as the Giants beat Don Drysdale and took a 12-4 bulge in their season set with the Dodgers.

The Astros overcame a 5-2 deficit with a five-run salvo in the sixth inning, but barely survived a ninth inning rally by the Cubs, who tossed six pitchers into the slugging.

Pat House, the eighth Houston hurler, got the last out after Dave Giusti, Carroll Sembera, Chris Zachary, Dan Schneider, winner Dave Miller, Tom Dukes and Larry Sherry had come and gone.

Jim Wynne smacked his 37th for the Astros while Sonny Jackson's two-run single keyed the sixth inning uprising.

The 14 pitchers used by both clubs equalled the major league mark for a nine-inning game and the Astros fell one short of the all-time high of nine pitchers put to work by the St. Louis Browns in a 1949 game against Chicago.

Notre Dame Rated No. 1

Duffy Selects Grid Leaders

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles by Michigan State coach Duffy Daugherty that will appear Tuesdays and Thursdays during the football season.)

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University

With two big games coming up Friday night and 30 more Saturday, this is as good a time as any for me to stick out my fat neck and double chin.

Traveling to the East, which plays an underrated brand of football, I'll take Syracuse. That's in spite of the fact that Orange coach Ben Schwartzwalder has been trying to sell me on Penn State.

Ben calls this a building year at Syracuse. It's nice to rebuild with a fullback like Larry Conka, the 230-pounder who rushed for 1,012 yards on '87 carries last year and needs only 897 yards to break Floyd Little's career record.

Army may have the East's best quarterback in junior Steve Lindell who looks great on the option. He has two fine ends in Terry Young and Gary Steele. And Coach of the Year Tom Cahill has veterans John Peduto, Carl Woessner and Charley Jarvis in his backfield.

Navy, too, has a great signal caller in John Cartwright who tossed 19 TD passes last year to the Naval Academy record. And at end there's Rob Taylor who caught a record 54 passes for 727 yards.

Bob Blackman's Dartmouth Indians ought to prevail in the Ivy League, with Princeton and Harvard contending. The Ivy coaches, lacking spring practice, have to experiment until midseason.

In the South I lean toward Bear Bryant's Alabama team which lost only one game — and that by one point to Georgia — in the last two years. Among the independents you must take Charlie Tate's Miami Hurricanes. Five points kept them from an unbeaten season last year when they conquered three bowl teams. Their star is Ted Hendricks, a 285-pound 6-7 defensive end who can do it all.

Tennessee, which lost three games by a total of only 11 points, looks strong in the Southeastern Conference. So does Georgia which won its last six, including a 24-9 Cotton Bowl victory over SMU. Both the Volunteers and Bulldogs may give Alabama a fight.

Clemson, with 46 lettermen back, is the class of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Frank Howard's boys had the only ACC winning record in '66.

West Virginia, paced by 222 pound fullback Garrett Ford who gained 1,068 yards on the ground last year, looks like the best in the Southern Conference.

In the Big Ten our Michigan State champions may know a few what lies ahead. Our first two games — Houston at Southern California — are non-conference but they are the key games to our season.

If the Spartans get by these two strong teams they have a chance for an unprecedented third straight Western Conference title. Of course, Purdue, Michigan and Ohio State and four other Big Ten teams will be gunning for us. Minnesota could be the surprise team of the conference.

Notre Dame will be the No. 1 team this year and will be a national power as long as Ara Parseghian remains at South Bend. Ara has brought the Irish back all the way to where they were in the great days of Knute Rockne and Frank Leahy.

Spartan fans are circling Oct. 28, the day we face Notre Dame as a result of last year's stirring 10-10 tie. This is natural, but also dangerous. As far as the Spartans are concerned our No. 1 objective is another Big Ten title. Thinking too far ahead could invite disaster in our early games.

You will see many great players in the Southwest Conference this season and because of this the championship could be a tossup between Texas, Texas A & M, Arkansas and SMU.

Texas has an edge with two great ones in halfback Chris Gilbert, the first sophomore in SWC history to win 1,000 yards rushing, and quarterback Bill Bradley. They also have sophomore fullback Ted Koy, regarded as highly as his brother Ernie.

Independent Houston looks like a national powerhouse and we were overly generous in opening our season with them, especially since they open a week sooner than the Spartans. The Cougars are home Friday night with Florida State.

When we put Houston on our schedule we thought we were doing Coach Bill Yeoman a favor because when he left us he was on our staff seven years — Houston football was at a low ebb. Now they should have something to say in the national picture.

Miles has one year to go on a two-year contract and would be signing his fifth year in the NBA.

The Pistons' third highest scorer last year, Miles met with Detroit General Manager Edwin Coll during the summer to discuss reopening his contract.

Coll said they reached an understanding on the contract terms and Miles appeared to be satisfied. Monday, however, he called the Pistons and told them he wouldn't report to training camp.

West Bloomfield ran its cross-country record to 2-0 yesterday with a 21-38 victory over Ann Arbor Huron.

Bill Drew led the winners with a first-place finish of 11:31, followed by teammates Bill Schrader (3), Jim Schnarr (4), Dave Roddy (6) and Don Brown (7).

SITTING OUT — With the announcement that he'll not return to play for the San Francisco Warriors this season, NBA scoring ace Rick Barry then grabbed his golf clubs for a tour of the Willow Park course in Castro Valley, Calif.

Scoring Ace Turns Fan

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Rick Barry, last year's high-scoring hero of the San Francisco Warriors, will only be a spectator this season.

The National Basketball Association's top scorer of last year announced Monday he will sit out the 1967-68 season rather than play for the Warriors after signing with the Oakland Oaks of the American Basketball Association.

Barry, who led the Warriors to the NBA playoffs last season, contracted with the Oaks for the reported sum of $225,000 for three years in June.

But Needn't Be Supermen—Schirra

Astronauts Stay Fit for Jobs

By RONALD THOMPSON
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Texas — Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., 44, the dean of America's astronauts, puffed on a cigarette and confidently declared: "We don't need supermen or athletes to fly these things."

"You've got to be in high tune, sure," he added, "but, you're not going into a boxing ring or into the Olympics."

He should know. The way-haired "textbook" pilot has flown two spacechips and is training for a third mission which would make him the first man to fly all three generations of U.S. spacecraft—Mercury, Gemini and, now, Apollo, early next year.

FEELING SIMPLE

Schirra's statement reflected somewhat the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's feeling toward the physical fitness of its spacemen. It's simple.

"The gym is free for them to use as they see fit," said civilian Donald K. "Deke" Slayton, the chief astronaut. "They're big boys and voluntarily stay in shape. They know the consequences of not doing that. You see, we've got a good incentive program."

That they have. The payoff in NASA's "incentive program" for the pilots could be a trip to the moon.

NASA doesn't require the space pilots to develop Charles Atlas-type physiques. To the contrary, few display an outwardly muscular frame.

HEIGHT AVERAGE

The pilots average 5 feet 10 1/2 inches in height, ranging from seven six-footers, the limit, to Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr.'s 5-foot-6 1/2 inches. They average 159 pounds, from civilian John L. Swigert Jr.'s 185 to Conrad's 138.

"We have not said, 'You're going to run so many miles a day, you're going to do so many sit-ups a day,'" explained Dr. Charles A. Berry, the astronauts' physician. "We have said only it's a responsibility of every astronaut to keep himself in good, sound physical fitness."

"Some like to swim, some like handball," he added. "They can have their pick."

The center of most of their physical training is a fully equipped gymnasium built solely for the astronauts' use. Air Force Sgt. Joe Garino has been assigned as a training specialist to help them set up individual programs.

JUST RUNNING

"They know that just plain old running does as much for the stomach as anything," said Garino. "Some of the guys can run for miles without tiring."

For one thing, you rarely see one of them on an elevator in their headquarters building. They normally jog the three flights of stairs. And, take an early morning drive through the neighborhood, you might see one trotting down the road, dog barking on his heels.

"Oh, we've had some slight weight difficulties," Berry said. "A guy may be a long way from a fight and knows it. So, he sheds off a little and picks up some weight. We may have to tell him: 'Well, look, we think you'd better take some off here or there. Here's how, and how much. Let's get it at it.'"

MISSION CRACKDOWN

As a mission nears, NASA clamps down. Specific hours are set aside for physical training at the gym here or one at the Cape Kennedy, Fla., launching base. Cigarettes and coffee are out.

"In general," Berry noted, "they are constantly made aware of the problems with smoking. What we'd like to do is see them all stop anyway because of the health hazard."

"But, if they do smoke, and some do, we have had them stop smoking about a month before a mission because people can't smoke in the spacecraft atmosphere we have (100 per cent oxygen)."

NASA keeps close tabs on the health of its pilots, continually checking them during the year. And, each undergoes a rigid annual hospital physical examination.

Doctors in the program are particular. The astronauts know it. They realize they probably considered ever so slight to the average earthling could mean the difference in going into space or being grounded.

Two currently aren't considered medically qualified for space flight, yet for all outward appearances they look as healthy as any of the others. Slayton, one of the original seven Mercury pilots, but who never flew, has a slight heart problem, barely detectable. Navy Capt. Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first to go into space, suffers from an inner ear defect that causes slight, infrequent dizzy spells.

Not only is NASA concerned about its pilots but about their families. Two NASA doctors are assigned full-time to the job of being the "family doctors" for all the spacemen, quite an undertaking in the "astronaut colony" since all but three of the spacemen are married. The astronauts have 118 children.

RELIEVING TENSIONS

"The idea is that if we can be assured that we have the best possible care for the families, this relieves the strain, worry, tensions and so forth as far as the man is concerned," Berry said. "He knows his family is well taken care of."

Officials estimate the space pilots are away from home a half to two-thirds of the time. Normally, they fly their own jets, provided by NASA.

HOWARD JOHNSON'S

Contributions to the United States Olympic fund will be collected in Drayton Plains at the Howard Johnson's restaurant at 3650 Dixie Highway during the months of September and October.

Mr. Altman, owner said the collection will be made by the Howard Johnson Company in cooperation with the U.S. Olympic Committee as part of its drive for funds to send U.S. athletes to the 1968 Olympic Games. The winter games will be held in Grenoble, France, in February and the summer games in Mexico City in October.

"Each of the more than 800 Howard Johnson's restaurants and more than 300 motor lodges across the country is taking part in the fund drive," Altman said. "Our coin-collection cans will be set up on Sept. 17."

To help stimulate public interest in the games and the fund drive, the company will conduct a national sweepstakes. "Anyone walking into our restaurants and motor lodges may take a sweepstakes entry blank," he said. "Neither a purchase nor a contribution is necessary."

"Five grand prizes are family trips to Mexico City for the games. Two thousand other prizes will also be awarded."

In addition to helping collect funds, the company is contributing its ice cream, which has been chosen for the athletes' training tables during the try-out period, Altman said.

"We're mighty proud of that. And we're excited about our helping our young men and women participate in the games. The U.S. Olympic Committee uses the contributions for athletes' training, transportation, feeding, purchase of uniforms and equipment, etc. No professional fund raisers are hired and no commissions are paid on funds raised."

"The U.S. Olympic Committee estimates that $3.5 million will be needed from private sources to finance U.S. participation in the 1968 games. We are confident our people here in the Pontiac area will help make this drive a success."

"DON'T NEED ATHLETES" — Walter M. Schirra Jr., Navy captain and dean of America's astronauts, says that although the spacemen have to stay in shape, they don't need to be athletes because they aren't going into a boxing ring or the Olympics when they fly a spacecraft.

2 of Invited Governors to Meet Reagan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two of the eight governors invited to Gov. Ronald Reagan's three-day conference on medical care for the needy have said they will be there, an Associated Press check shows.

They are New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan who said he would spend "at least a portion of one day" there.

The conference, in San Francisco, is set for Sept. 20-22, and Romney plans to be there on other business Sept. 22-23.

Four governors said they would not attend. They are Ohio's Gov. Roy R. Inge, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, Harold Leavelle of Minnesota and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin.

'Strange Lights' in Sky Sighted

LELAND OUP — A sheriff's deputy and a resort manager said yesterday they saw strange lights hover in the night sky, the soar away and vanish.

Harold Welner, a Lelandau County deputy, said he and guests at his home north of here saw a bright light accompanied by smaller lights hovering above Lake Leelanau Sunday night.

Welner said the lights hovered about 30 seconds, then climbed rapidly into the sky and vanished.

Jim Gander, manager of Sugar Loaf Mountain Resort at Maple City near here, reported a similar sighting about the same time. He said the lights hovered above the resort airstrip briefly, then soared away and disappeared.

Blue-Ribbon Group's Call for 1 Million Jobs Hailed

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG Jr., Executive Director
National Urban League

The Urban Coalition, at its recent meeting in Washington, D.C., called for the creation of one million new jobs to end the disastrous unemployment in big city ghettos.

Since the Urban Coalition is made up of the cream of the nation's leadership in business, civic affairs, city governments and civil rights, its call for jobs is a significant new development.

There are a number of ways these jobs could be created. First and perhaps most important is public service employment.

Our schools, hospitals, parks and other public institutions are badly understaffed. With the creation of new jobs like teachers aides, nurses aides, and other positions, the unemployed could get meaningful jobs which would enable professional staffs of these institutions to do their own jobs more effectively.

The important thing about such jobs is that they aren't "make-work" projects. They are desperately needed if the essential services all Americans depend upon are to function effectively.

Last year, the National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress, on which I served, found that the nation could create over five million such jobs in public services ranging from urban development to rural conservation.

HIRING REEXAMINATION

Another way in which minority groups could move into better jobs is for industry to re-examine its hiring practices.

Many businesses hire people who are over-qualified for the available jobs. Many of these jobs require college diploma mas when a high school education will do just as well.

Shortly after the Arab-Israeli war, I saw a special television program analyzing the conflict. The TV reporter said that Israel was because of the skill of her air force, and then he pointed out that Israel requires only a high school education for its pilots, while the U.S. Air Force demands a college degree.

He asked the program's expert guest, Gen. S.L.A. Marshall, why the U.S. had such a requirement for its pilots. The general just shrugged and said he'd been trying to figure that out for years.

ABSURDLY HIGH

Small countries like Israel can't afford absurdly high requirements because they just don't have that many college graduates. Well, we don't either. We aren't going to end poverty and find jobs for the million of poor whites and Negroes who employers take a more realistic attitude in their hiring standards.

Tooth decay affects 98 per cent of Americans.

North Viets Beat Bombing by Improvising, Using Night

By AMANDO DORONILA
Manila Times Correspondent

NAMHA, North Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnam is a country that hides by day and moves at night.

Its answers to massive American air power can be roughly summed up in a few words—protection provided by darkness, camouflage, dispersal of industries and people, a seemingly boundless capacity to improvise, and human resources whose morale and will to fight have endured more than two years of severe bombing.

Any trip to the countryside invariably becomes an unheard live demonstration and key to how the Vietnamese fight the war.

Route 1, an 840-mile highway connecting the northernmost province of North Vietnam to South Vietnam's Mekong Delta, is a lonely stretch of highway in the daytime.

TRAFFIC GETS HEAVY

Hardly any vehicle uses it in North Vietnam because of danger from air attacks, but as soon as the sun sets, highway traffic becomes heavy, lasting up to early morning.

Traveling to the southern Red River Delta provinces is mostly done deep in the night.

I have seen how American bombing of roads, bridges, railways, cities and towns has brought tremendous difficulties to this country.

Bombing certainly slowed down movement of supplies and transport to the South, but the interdiction by American aircraft has not paralyzed this movement.

VEHICLES HIDDEN

Supplies and men move incessantly and in substantial quantities in the dark.

Daytime, trucks and other vehicles are dispersed widely under trees in the towns, cities and villages and camouflaged with tree leaves. At late afternoon, they collect in designated points to load and roar off to highways. Traffic going south is much heavier than that returning to Hanoi and most of the trucks returning to the capital are empty.

City Manager for Dowagiac Out on Bond

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—Dowagiac, Mich., City Manager Edward Simmans is free on $10,000 personal bond today, charged with four counts of embezzlement.

Simmans, former safety-service director of Port Clinton, pleaded innocent in Ottawa County (Ohio) Common Pleas Court Monday. Examination was set for Nov. 8.

He is accused of taking $2,000 from the city of Port Clinton. Auditors of the city financial records said four checks totaling $2,000 had been made out to an allegedly fictitious Sandusky water supply company and were endorsed by a James Reed. Authorities have been unable to locate anyone by that name in the Sandusky area.

Pentagon Reports Five State Men Killed in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Michigan Marines and one soldier were among 52 men listed by the Defense Department Monday as killed in action in Vietnam.

They were Army Sgt. Leroy J. Draby, son of Mrs. Mary J. Maleckas of Scottville; Marine Lance Cpl. Humphrey J. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Price of Boyne City; and Marine Pfc. Jack E. Telling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Telling of Port Huron.

Also, Marine Pfc. George A. Didaskalou, son of Arthur N. Didaskalou of Grand Rapids and Marine Pvt. David R. Miller, husband of Mrs. David R. Miller of Erie.

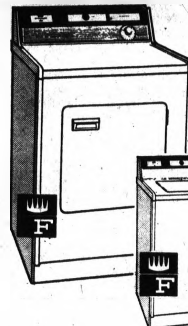

Chiropractors to Seek Probe of Blue Cross

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State Chiropractic Association says it will file a formal complaint with the State Insurance Commission asking for an immediate investigation of what it calls discriminatory practices by Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

The association charges Blue Cross is violating a 1966 public act by refusing to reimburse customers who have made use of chiropractic services.

The act states that whenever an "insurance policy or certificate provides for reimbursement of any service which may be legally performed by a person licensed in this state for practices of chiropractic or podiatry, reimbursement under such insurance policy or certificate shall not be denied if such service is rendered by a person

For Assessments

Lighting District OK'd

A special assessment district street-lighting project for Pralrie Lawn was approved by the Waterford Township Board following a public hearing last night.

Annual service charge for the two street lights will be $96 of which $66.40 is to be paid by residents and $9.60 by the township.

Based on 20 assessments, cost per assessment will be $4.80.

The public hearing date for another special assessment district street-lighting project was set for the board's Oct. 2 meeting.

Five street lights are proposed — three for Desmond and two for Winer.

In other business last night, the board tabled action on two recent issues.

Waterford News

Action was tabled on a proposed bee ordinance which would restrict the owning, raising and keeping of bees to agricultural areas of the township.

The proposed ordinance will be up for adoption next Monday.

The ordinance was deferred subject to receipt of an expert's written statement which reportedly answers a few significant questions posed by the board.

Also tabled was a request by township bowling establishment proprietors for permission to serve alcoholic beverages on bowling alley patrons.

Action was tabled until the clerk receives the township attorney's opinion on a related policy letter issued by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in 1964.

Also last night, Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson indicated he has responded to a letter from Pontiac city officials regarding motor boating on Upper Silver Lake.

The commission has suggested that local action be initiated to close the lake to motorboat traffic.

Johnson has recommended that safe boating legislation be considered, instead.

The lake lies partly in the city and partly in the township.

Six Injured by Blazes Last Month

Six persons received injuries in fires extinguished by the Waterford Township Fire Department last month, according to a report accepted by the Township Board last night.

By comparison, only one person was injured in township fires in August 1966.

The report showed that township fire fighters were called on to extinguish 35 fires including 15 in buildings, last month. Township firemen were summoned to 34 fires in July and 33 the previous August, by comparison.

Last month's total also included eight motor vehicle fires, three brush and grass fires and nine classified as miscellaneous. After eight months this year, firemen had fought 288 fires, 91 less than for the same period last year.

The number of alarms responded to by township firemen this year increased to 456 with the addition of August's 56 alarms.

Building in August Far Above '66 Mark

Led by an upswing in commercial and new home development, building in Waterford Township last month far surpassed the August 1966 figure for estimated cost of new construction.

Last month, 147 permits were issued by the township building department for new construction, additions and alterations worth an estimated $1,386,057.

This compares with 144 permits for construction estimated to cost $821,994 in August 1966.

The report accepted by the Township Board last night also indicated that permits have been granted for new construction worth an estimated $11,531,207 after eight months this year against $7,819,910 for the same period of 1966.

Last month, 45 permits were approved for new home construction estimated to cost $817,532 compared with 34 permits for construction worth an estimated $616,550 the previous August.

GM Team Learns From Bad Drivers

If Joseph Harris and Stuart Perkins were policemen, they could easily top the list in the number of traffic tickets written daily.

But fortunately for area motorists, their job as researchers for the General Motors Corp. only allows them to take careful note of the 100 or more violations they see each day.

The information has proved invaluable to a number of Oakland County communities relying on the accumulated data to correct problem situations and reduce accidents.

In the last two years, Harris and Perkins, working as a team, have studied some 40 intersections, most of them in the area, to determine their accident potential.

The Harris-Perkins system, which is known as the Traffic Conflicts technique, differs from other safety studies.

It involves on-the-spot investigation of specific, evasive actions taken by drivers to avoid collision, or actions which constitute traffic violations.

Order techniques rely upon analysis of accident statistics, film, and other kinds of "cold" data, often amassed by persons other than those analyzing it for accident potential.

Harris and Perkins can provide an accurate description of a hazardous intersection within a matter of days with their method.

"Every time we count a conflict, you gentlemen could have written a ticket," Harris told a group of area policemen attending ing a lecture yesterday at the Oakland Community College Police Academy.

"People take chances that are unbelievable," said Harris.

In a typical traffic conflicts study, the research team counts the number of potential accident situations at an intersection 12 hours a day for three days, enabling them to link the conflict to the individual characteristics of the intersection.

The pair have established specific standards for conflicts associated with five types of intersection accidents: left turn, weave, through-on-red, turn-on-red and rear-end incidents.

Harris said that improved law enforcement could reduce some of the continuing conflicts at some intersections.

"How many of you have written up a motorist recently for failing to yield the right of way?" Harris asked.

When one officer said that many of these violations are dismissed, Harris said that it was his opinion that an education program for prosecutors and the judiciary is needed to prevent these cases from being tossed out of court.

Perkins said that the evaluations have been used to increase the effectiveness of law enforcement.

He said one community has initiated a selective law enforcement program emphasizing problem areas at problem times based upon a traffic conflicts study.

October Set as Country Music Month

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney yesterday paid tribute to the nation's $90-million-a-year country music industry by naming October as Country Music Month in Michigan.

In his proclamation, Romney noted country music had soared in popularity "not only because of its wonderful entertaining value but because each ballad is a reflection of this nation's early history, folkways and musical traditions."

He said the popularity of country music was spotlighted by the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum in Nashville, Tenn., and the first statewide country music convention to be held Sept. 16-17 in Frontier City, Mich.

Flint Lawmaker Hits McNamara's 'Truth'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was criticized Monday by Rep. Donald W. Riegle, R-Mich., for statements on the Vietnam war from 1962 to 1966 which, Riegle said, have been contradicted by later developments.

After quoting various statements made by McNamara, Riegle said in a House speech: "I can't find the truth in those statements and neither can the American people."

The Flint congressman said he viewed with amazement and disgust what he called a political attack by McNamara on Gov. George Romney in which the Defense Secretary said Romney "could not recognize the truth if he saw it."

"The facts show that Secretary McNamara's greatest distinction is that he has produced two 'Edsels' in one lifetime," Riegle said.

VIET STALEMATE

"The first nearly crippled the Ford Motor Co., the second, the vicious Vietnam stalemate, is fast crippling our nation."

"Optimistically worded press statements, flashy computer analysis, dramatic trips to Vietnam and gimmicks like the electronic wall are altogether a poor substitute for the unvarnished truth," Riegle said.

Riegle quoted McNamara as saying on Oct. 2, 1963, that the major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965, although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of U.S. training personnel.

McNamara also was quoted as saying on Jan. 27, 1964, that it is a Vietnamese war and in the final analysis it must be fought and won by the Vietnamese, and Riegle added:

"Mr. Secretary, where is the truth in that statement? When that statement was made, some 15,000 American troops were in Vietnam — that number has multiplied over 30 times. So today there are more American men in front-line combat than there are Vietnamese."

Long Island Railroad Returning to Normal

NEW YORK (AP) — Service on the Long Island Railroad returned to normal early today after a wildcat strike of engineers caused near-paralysis of the world's busiest commuter line for a day.

Trains began running on schedule shortly after midnight. A railroad spokesman predicted morning commuter service would be 90 per cent normal or possibly better. He said more and more engineers were signing up for runs following Monday's stoppage.

Service improved somewhat during the Monday evening rush hour after U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph Zavatt issued a temporary injunction ordering the 360 engineers back to work "as soon as possible."

George Clark, chairman of the local chapter of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said the union intended to obey the court order and he said he hoped that service today would be "somewhere near normal." In addition to its 90,000 two-way commuters on weekdays, the line carries about 80,000 single-fare riders—for a total of about 280,000 riders a day.

Football Takes Funny Bounces

Major Hoople Already Picking Grid Upsets

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fearless Forecaster

Egad! Here we are, friends, at the start of another pigskin crusade and your favorite correspondent is all set for a big season of football forecasting.

To assist me in the difficult days ahead I've added two men to my immediate staff. One, Prof. A. Nonymous, a heretofore silent contributor, will cover the southern and eastern teams.

The other, Buck Schot, a retired Chicago detective and an astute student of football will report on mid-western elevens.

Two of my longtime assistants will return. Dr. I. M. Inorbit will patrol the Far West and Southwest, while Hannibal Wol-taburp, the pride of Missouri, will work with me in the office and see duty on special field trips.

The Hoople Forecast of 1967, will, I assure you, be more stupendous than ever before. And that, dear readers, is saying a mouthful, if I may be allowed to coin a phrase — har-rumph!

Now onward and upward to a glorious season!

Let us dispose of this week's hot potatoes first. Three engagements occupy center stage. Texas A&M hosts SMU. Tennessee visits UCLA and Washington entertains Nebraska.

Watch for A&M to hand the defending conference champion Mustangs at 21-14 setback, and for quarterback Dewey Warren to fire the Tennessee Volunteers to a 14-10 triumph over the UCLANS led by brilliant Gary Beban.

At Seattle it will be the Washington Huskies over the visiting Cornhuskers by a 26-16 count —hak-kaff!

A traditional grudge battle will pit North Carolina State against North Carolina at Raleigh. I predict a 21-20 victory for the Wolfpack after a bruising contest with North Carolina's Tar Heels — um-kumph!

Now on with the forecast:

Emmanuel 11 Out of Action for '67 Season

Footballs are notorious for taking funny bounces during games.

This year, however, the pigskin has gone skittering in the wrong direction for a least three county high schools before the season even gets under way.

Bloomfield Hills Andover and Oak Park have been practicing without regular coaches because of teacher contract disputes. Ironically, the two will square off the first game Friday afternoon.

Emmanuel Christian announced late last week that it will not have a football team this fall. There aren't enough players. Emmanuel reported only 20 boys in the high school and only six with gridiron experience.

Roeper also lost out when Emmanuel dropped the sport. The private school in Bloomfield Hills had planned to make the Lancers its first varsity foe.

The remainder of the Roeper schedule is against junior varsity teams.

The number of football playing schools in Oakland County has swelled to 49 with the addition of Pontiac Catholic, Waterford Mott, Bloomfield Hills Lahser and Southfield Lathrup. Catholic will be the only one playing a varsity schedule this fall.

This means that there are about 1,899 prep football players in the county.

TUNED ELSEWHERE

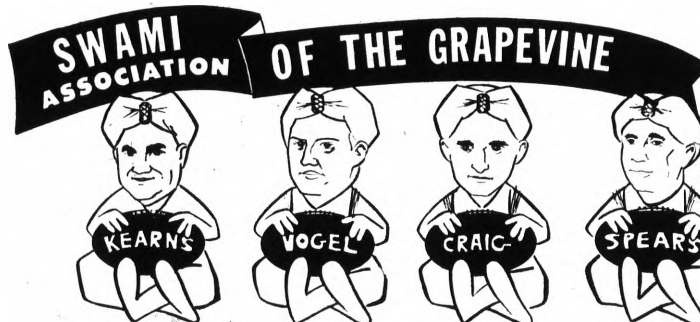

Some fans attending Friday night's openers may have their eyes on the gridiron and one ear tuned to portable radios, listening to the Detroit Tigers battle for the American League pennant.

Should the Bengals take the flag, it will cause a problem for the Lions who have a home date with Green Bay Oct. 8. The game will either have to be postponed or shifted to a new site because of the World Series.

Michigan State is seeking a third straight Big 10 championship, but the Spartans are expected to be hard-pressed by Purdue. Michigan will pin its hopes on the passing arm of quarterback Dick Vidmer.

Notre Dame is rated No. 1 in the preseason polls, followed by Alabama and Michigan State. However, a lot can change before the final games early in December.

Remember, footballs take funny bounces.

The Swami Association is ready to convene for 1967 and the memo to all members is that this is the year to end the reign of Swami Spears who has taken the Grapevine championship for two straight years.

In both years, Swami Spears nosed out Swami Craig in the final week of the season. Last year it happened in the final period of the Baylor-Rice game.

Rice, the choice of Swami Craig, led for three quarters and Baylor pulled it out in the final period to give Swami Spears the crown.

12th Prep Ace to Be Named for '67 Honor

Pontiac Press, McAn Shoe Award Looking for Recipient

Three past recipients of The Pontiac Press Thom McAn Bronze Show award may wind up in starting berths on Big Ten football squads this fall.

The Bronze Shoe award, now 12 years old, is given annually by The Pontiac Press to the outstanding prep player in Oakland County.

Among past winners of the award are Steve Juday of Northville, an All-American two years ago, along with Charlie Brown of Pontiac Central and Chuck Lowther of Royal Oak, both players at MSU.

Ron Ranieri of Royal Oak Shrine, who took the award in 1963, and Roger Ruminski of Walled Lake, winner in 1964, are slated for starting assignments at Michigan State this fall, while John Gablers of Royal Oak Kimball, the 1965 honoree, is trying for a running-back spot at the University of Michigan.

Ranieri, a 5-10, 218-pound senior, won the starting center spot at MSU on the basis of a strong showing in spring practice.

Ruminski, who used to terrorize prep quarterbacks in the area, will get an opportunity to do the same with the Spartans. The 6-2, 236-pound junior, who played offensive tackle and guard last year, suffered a knee injury couple weeks ago, the extent of which has not been determined.

Gablers, a 6-2, 205-pounder, is one of the finest runners to emerge from the Kimball system, and coaches at 'M' have been impressed with his work as a sophomore in the early drills.

It will probably be another year before last year's winner moves into the college ranks.

Taking the shoe for his play in 1966 was Jim Ball of Rochester, who left a number of passing records at the school and held down the quarterback spot on the Michigan Class A All-State team.

One Undeclared Mentor Among County Coaches

The roster of returning varsity football coaches at Oakland County high schools and prep schools includes 36 names — only one of whom hasn't tasted defeat on the gridiron.

Youthful Mike Boyd at Waterford Our Lady of Lakes has gone through consecutive undefeated seasons in claiming two Macomb Catholic League grid titles.

He has witnessed and savored 14 victories during that time, but the streak figures to be tougher to extend this season.

The Lakers move into faster competition with their switch to the Northwest circuit in the Detroit Catholic League's second division realignment.

Boyd's ability to inspire the Lakers and his coaching tactics face a big test if the WOLL's title skein is to continue.

Tasting defeat for the first time last season was Royal Oak Kimball's fine mentor, Paul Ternerian. He ranks third on county coaching victory percentage chart with 15-2-1 for .833.

Ferndale's St. James' John Shada is second (right behind Boyd's perfect mark) with 57-8 for .878.

An outstanding record last fall boosted Bub Webster of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows above the .800 mark to .812 on 26-6 for four years.

However, he has left the ranks of county coaches — as did Walled Lake's highly successful 76 wins in 11 seasons) Dave Smith.

As usual, Rochester's Gene Konley remains the dean of the county mentors, having now finished 23 seasons. Boasting a 136-57-4 record (.696), he has the most wins, and the most defeats.

Replacing Smith in second place is the Rev. John Rakocy at Orchard Lake St. Mary. He has compiled 58 triumphs in 12 seasons. Tom Prieur, second year coach at Lake Orion, is the only returnee without a victory.

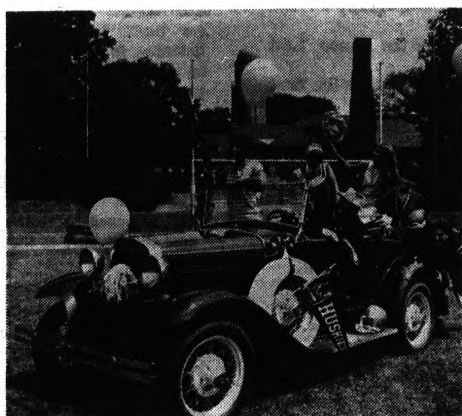

Smith's replacement at Walled Lake is former assistant Leo Folsom. Alex McInnes moves up to replace Birmingham Seaholm's 13-year leader Carl Lemle.

OTHERS
Also moving into local varsity positions are Herb Coleman at FOL Sorrows, Bob Keffen at Bloomfield Hills Andover, Bob Young at Avondale and Mel Larsen at Pontiac Catholic. The latter school is a consolidation of St. Frederick and St. Michael and like WOLL has been added to the Northwest Catholic loop.

Herb Deromedi, assistant football coach for the past three years at Royal Oak Kimball High School, is now assistant football coach at Central Michigan University.

A Go-Go Party for Teens

Give a Discotea

What's a "discotea"? Well, in teen lingo, it's a smash of a bash. In other words, it's a go-go party with lots of music (each guest brings his favorite disc) and plenty to eat and drink.

Actually, the refreshments need not be elaborate or fancy. Most young people vote for simple and familiar fare: hot dogs, hamburgers, pizzas — or a mammoth hero sandwich built into the longest loaf of French or Italian bread you can find.

Slice it in half and spread with butter, margarine or mayonnaise. Start with a layer of escarole; top this with Swiss cheese, then salami, pickle slices, ham or bologna, American cheese, tomatoes and finally, onion rings.

To serve, cut it in hearty man-sized chunks.

For the beverage to go with this giant of a sandwich, provide a big picture of iced tea. All ages like its clean, fresh taste.

Teen-agers approve it especially because it won't add unwanted pounds or cause complexion problems. Serve it straight — or with variations.

Iced Tea

This way you get a pitcherful — about 10 servings.

1. Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan.
2. Remove from the heat and immediately add 1 1/3 cup loose tea or 15 teabags.
3. Stir, cover and brew 5 minutes.
4. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding another quart of cold water.
5. When ready to serve, pour into ice-filled glasses. Serve plain or with lemon wedges and sugar to taste.

Or you can garnish glasses with sprigs of mint, lime wedges or fruit kabobs made by alternating strawberries and pineapple chunks on plastic stirrers.

Note: If you use instant tea, mix 4 tablespoons tea powder with 2 quarts cold water.

Tea Twirler

This makes 12 to 14 servings.

- 2 quarts iced tea
- 2 cups pineapple juice
- 1 tablespoon lime juice
- sugar to taste
- pineapple sticks

Make iced tea. Add pineapple juice, lime juice and sugar. Pour into ice-filled glasses. Add a pineapple stick to each glass.

Tea Teaser

You'll have 12 to 14 servings.

- 2 quarts iced tea
 - 2 cups orange juice
 - 2 cups apricot nectar
 - 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- Make iced tea. Add apricot nectar and lemon juice. Serve with lemon slices and sprigs of mint.

Tea Tonique

Makes 12 to 14 servings.

- 1 quart iced tea
 - 2 cups orange juice
 - 1/2 cup honey
 - 8-10 sprigs of mint, bruised
 - 1 orange, thinly sliced
- Make iced tea. Add orange juice, honey, mint leaves. Mix well. Garnish with orange slices.

Tea Smash

Makes 12 to 14 servings.

- 2 quarts iced tea
 - 1 quart lemon ice or sherbet
- Make iced tea. Cool to room temperature. Put cooled tea and lemon ice in mixing bowl. Beat with rotary beater until frothy. Pour into pitcher or shaker and serve immediately.

Two Problems Confront PCH

Early Showdown in Saginaw Valley

The Saginaw Valley Conference football championship could be decided on the opening night of action.

New coach Dick Mosely is working with 25 lettermen at Flint Central, including state dash champion Herb Washington. Finding a replacement for All-Valley quarterback Tim Bograkovs is the big problem.

Bay City Central is very strong from tackle to tackle and has a fast backfield, featuring Jim Beane and Russ Davis. Tom Kocisky, slated to start at quarterback, suffered a concussion and is expected to be lost for the season.

John Ewing has stepped in as the No. 1 signal caller.

Pontiac Central, Saginaw, Flint Northern and defending champion Arthur Hill are expected to battle for the No. 3 spot in the standings and the top isn't out of reach.

Bay City Handy is reported on the way up. Flint Southwestern and Midland are rebuilding.

Paul Nestor takes over as coach at Arthur Hill and is working with a graduation riddled team. Eight offensive starters and the defensive secondary is gone.

Saginaw may be ready to make some big noise. Although there are only 11 lettermen on the varsity, seven saw action as regulars in 1966. The big problem is depth.

The Forecast:
1. Flint Central
2. Bay City Central
3. Pontiac Central
4. Flint Northern
5. Saginaw
6. Arthur Hill
7. Midland
8. Bay City Handy
9. Flint Southwestern

BIG CHIEF — Although he may be called upon to catch some passes this fall, Mike Shorters of Pontiac Central is one of the top defensive ends in the area. He is a 200-pounder.

Game Time Is Moved Up

All eight of Pontiac Central's Saginaw Valley Conference football games this season will start at 7:30 p.m., including the opening tussle Friday with Midland at Wisner Stadium.

This is a new rule adopted by the SVC. The non-conference tilt with Pontiac Northern Nov. 17 is slated to start at 8 p.m.

FLEET HALFBACK — Halfback Walter Terry gives Pontiac Central needed speed in the Chiefs' quest for Saginaw Valley Conference honors. He saw considerable action last season as a junior.

Chiefs Eye Tough Road Game Foes

There are two big problems facing Pontiac Central in football this season:

(1) The offense must be overhauled and (2) a difficult road schedule.

Gone from the 1966 team that posted a 5-4 overall mark and placed fifth in the Saginaw Valley Conference are 17 lettermen. The offensive line was hard hit with players such as Larry Jackson missing.

The backfield also suffered major casualties with the loss of fullback Bennie Williams and halfback Bruce Turpin.

Coach Paul Dellerba indicated that the Chiefs will pass more this season. Strength at ends is one of the reasons Larry Froede moves is at quarterback and will be responsible for the aerial attack.

"We will play a tough defense," said Dellerba, "but we will lack depth."

The coach concedes that Flint Central and Bay City Central are the teams to beat in the SVC "but we look for a tough race with the other teams fighting for third place."

The Chiefs Flint Central away and Bay City Central at home. Flint Northern, Saginaw and Arthur Hill, all expected to be first division contenders will be met on foreign gridirons.

The Chiefs open Friday at Wisner stadium against Midland.

Mike Shorters, one of the top defensive ends in the area, returns along with end Bob Copeland. Shorters (198) and Copeland (175) are both double letterwinners.

BACKFIELD SPEED

Walter Terry gives the Chiefs speed in the backfield and if Hardiman Jones is available the outlook may improve. Jones was unable to start practice with the rest of team.

Another backfield possibility is junior Willie Ramsey who lettered last year.

Bob Danic at guard and tackle Charles Mason are expected to see considerable action. Mike Stone, a senior newcomer to the varsity, is a strong contender at center.

Healthy Outlook Raises Hopes for PNH Gridders

Walled Lake 11 Loop Favorite in 1967 Race

Waterford, Northern Rank Below Vikings in Preseason Look

Normally, picking the champion in the Inter-Lakes Conference is easy.

Seldom do you have to look beyond Walled Lake in picking a suitable candidate for the championship.

Not so this year.

Walled Lake, as usual, is strong and rates the favorite's role until further notice, but there is more balance than usual in the loop which may spell trouble for the perennial champion Vikings.

The Vikings picked up the I-L crown last year for the eighth straight year under coach Dave Smith, and they'll go after their ninth in a row this season under Leo Folsom, who served a spell under Smith.

LIKE WINNING

The Vikings are used to winning and that'll give them a slight edge over some of the other contenders who normally fall just short of halting the title-bound Vikings.

Close behind Walled Lake should be Waterford and Pontiac Northern, followed by Farmington and Livonia Stevenson. And the balance in the loop is such this season that the five could wind up far differently than above.

Most of the coaches are pointing the finger at Waterford and coach John Moffat.

The Skippers have what appears to be a solid line and they have a wealth of backfield talent. If the defense perks up, Moffat and company could take it all.

Put Northern in the same class. The Huskies have a strong team on paper plus one of the area's outstanding backs in Dana Coin.

Farmington and coach Bob Mistele throw the ball a lot and many things can happen with his spread offense. Although Stevenson's entire team is back, it still doesn't measure up to Walled Lake.

Inter-Lakes League

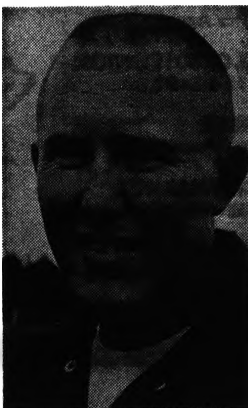

The consensus:
1. Walled Lake
2. Waterford
3. Pontiac Northern
4. Farmington
5. Livonia Stevenson

ON THE MOVE — This is the backfield that Pontiac Northern will rely upon this season to roll past the opposition. Blocking at left are Leon Chism (21) and Dave White (31) for halfback Dana Coin (20) who is taking a handoff from quarterback Craig Deaton.

Return of Vets Puts Huskies in Title Picture

Halfback Dana Coin Gives Northern Solid Effort in Backfield

There's a healthy football outlook at Pontiac Northern this fall and it's an outlook that is sitting on a solid foundation.

Th Huskies have never won a football championship, but head coach Dave Schmidt and staff feel that this could be the year.

In his first three seasons at PNH, Schmidt-coached teams won 8 times and dropped 19 decisions.

The reason for the optimism at PNH is the return of 16 let-terms, among them seven starters on offense and seven on defense.

Those veterans, plus the help from a crop of promising reserves should send the team vaulting over the 500 mark and it may be enough to put the Huskies in the title picture.

Key to the PNH hopes is senior halfback Dana Coin, a solid 6-2, 200-pounder, who does every thing but tote the water bottle.

Along with carrying the ball, passing it, catching it and kicking it on offense, Coin is a stand-out in the Huskies defensive secondary.

Coin led the attack last year with 726 yards rushing, caught nine passes for 132 yards and two TDs, completed 14 of 40 tosses for 232 yards and two TDs and he scored six touchdowns.

Working with Coin in the backfield will be Craig Deaton or Mike Clancy, both seniors, along with halfbacks Leon Chism, Sandy Seay or Bob Wright, and either Dave White, John Casanova or Mike Loulakis at the fullback slot.

Bob York, a 6-0, 165-pound senior, is expected to go at one of the starting tackle posts, while George Norberg (6-3, 210), Jim Norberg (6-0, 160), Ed Welker (6-0, 215), Dan Casey (6-1, 160) and Jerry McKeever (6-3, 190) battle for the other berth.

And Schmidt has a couple of sophomores in Mario Castillo (230) and Dave Guy (225) who could win varsity jobs.

Al Morris (5-10, 170), John Willson (5-10, 160) and Dennis McLaughlin (5-10, 180) will handle the guard slots, with McLaughlin expected to see some duty at center along with Bill Dellen (5-9, 180).

Tom LaCourse (6-1, 165) gets the call at one end spot, while a handful of other candidates battle for the other side.

The Huskies open against a strong North Farmington on the opponents' field Saturday at 2 p.m.

HAULING IT IN — End Tom LaCourse of Pontiac Northern hauls in a pass in a practice session as he and the Huskies prepare for their '67 opener Saturday at North Farmington.

Vikings Work With New Pilot

Leo Folsom Takes Head Coach Post

There's a change at the top, but it's not a change that is expected to alter the course of football fortunes at Walled Lake High School.

The new look on the Viking squad is coach Leo Folsom, 35, who replaces Dave Smith, who left after 11 seasons for an assistant coaching post under Duffy Daugherty at Michigan State University.

Folsom knows the Inter-Lakes League opposition will be taking aim at the Vikings, but that in itself is nothing new.

Rivals tried for the past 11 seasons to get the best of Dave Smith and failed. In those campaigns, Smith-coached teams won 76 games, losing only 15, and they won nine conference championships.

It's a tough act for Folsom to follow, but it's a challenging one he enjoys.

SITS AT TOP

"I'd rather be on top being shot at than be on the bottom shooting at someone else," said Leo, who takes the Vikings to Royal Oak Kimball for their opener Friday.

Foes who think a coaching change might improve their chances against the Vikings may as well forget it.

This year's squad has a lot of ability and desire, a trademark of Walled Lake teams of the past. Folsom is familiar with it all since he worked under Smith for six campaigns.

"The kids have a real good attitude," Folsom was saying, adding "our seniors are showing a lot of leadership."

Folsom wasted no time after his appointment as football coach. He instituted a summer voluntary physical conditioning program that drew 75 boys.

Folsom's hopeful the condition program will help the squad reduce its number of injuries.

A pair of veteran linemen and a senior quarterback are the strong points in a squad of 64 which Folsom greeted two weeks ago.

Jim Thomas, brother of John Thomas, former Walled Lake quarterback, is a 285-pound senior who is slated for duty at a tackle post.

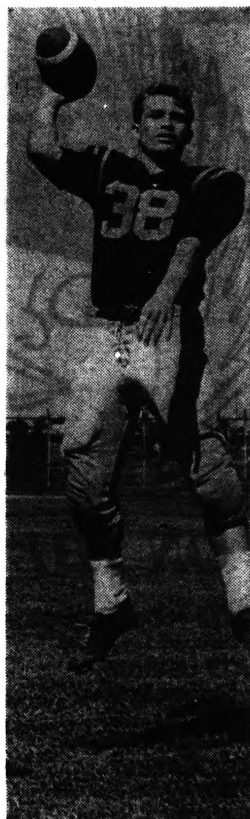

Junior Wally Williams, a standout on the Vikings' baseball squad, is a 195-pounder who will go at the other tackle spot.

Running the T-formation attack will be Dan Rafferty, a 6-2, 180-pounder.

Folsom has a lot of depth on the '67 team, more perhaps, than in recent seasons, and overall, it looks like another championship season for the Vikings.

LEADS OFFENSE — Directing Walled Lake's attack on offense this season will be senior quarterback Dan Rafferty, who's shown here flipping a pitchout in a practice session. He is a 6-1, 180-pounder.

PILOTING SKIPPERS—Junior Brad Potter, a sharp passer and good ball-handler, will be at the helm when Waterford's Skippers open the 1967 football campaign.

'Pome' for Linemen

A guard took a poke at a tackle. The tackle hit back at the guard. The Ref blew a blast on his whistle & both lusty linemen were barred.

Skippers Eying Title Campaign

Returnees Bolster

I-L Title Picture

If the opposition is correct, this campaign should be a big one for coach John Moffat and the Waterford Township Skippers.

In the past two seasons, Moffat and the Skippers suffered through a won-lost record of 5-13. They posted a 3-6 mark last season in finishing fourth in the Inter-Lakes League race so there's no way to go but up.

Rival coaches in the I-L, while always ready to praise the opposition, are a little more talkative this season when discussing Waterford's role in the league race.

Moffat and the Skippers have a lot going for them.

There are 17 letter winners returning, and there is a veteran player at every position.

BALANCED SQUAD

It's difficult to pick one strong point in the Skipper squad. The offense — both backfield and line — is strong and the defense isn't expected to get pushed around.

The quarterbacking post is expected to go to junior Brad Potter, a 5-7, 165-pounder, with senior Bob Thomas, a 5-11, 170-pounder, and Mike Sheldon (5-8, 150) also slated to see some action at the signal-calling post.

Holding down running-back positions will be Steve Goff, a 5-10, 175-pound junior, and Bruce Saffron, also a junior who is a 5-11, 175-pounder.

The Skippers scored 116 points in nine games last year and they should top that figure this campaign.

One big reason why the team gain a few more points is the presence of some top linemen who should keep the scoring lanes free of enemy tacklers.

TACKLES SHARP

Among the big guys in the line are tackles Mike Vidor, a 6-2, 200-pounder and three-year veteran, and Brian Gray, a two-year performer who stands 6-1 and weighs in at 200 pounds. Both are seniors.

At center is another experienced hand in Bruce Carlson, a 6-2, 200-pound junior.

"We will get a lot stronger," is the way Moffat puts it and if he's right, that means bad news for I-L opponents.

Falcons Like Air Game

Farmington's style of play under coach Bob Mistele fails to impress some of the team's rivals who occasionally brand it a type of gridiron basketball.

Mistele just smiles at the criticism of his offensive maneuvers which have carried the Falcons to a 9-9 mark in two years under Mistele.

"Our kids like it," said Mistele of his spread defense after the opening game last year when the Falcons knocked off Pontiac Northern, 21-4.

Like it they did, and the passing game carried the Birds to a 6-3 record and a near miss at the I-L title. They finished second, losing only to Walled Lake (21-19).

Opponents will have to contend with the spread again this year because Mistele's chief passer — senior Dan Wolfman — is back along with a number of receivers.

Wolfman passes well and he can run with the ball if the game breaks down on passing plays. Chief targets for the Wolfman passes are expected to be halfback Paul Misch and end Dave Bush.

A sophomore who Mistele is counting on heavily is Louis Henry, a 6-0, 195-pounder, who is after a backfield job.

Mott Making Debut

If the latest member of Waterford's high school football family — Mott — has as much success as its head coach, then fans are going to like what they see.

Heading the Mott eleven, which is playing a junior varsity schedule this fall, is 39-year-old George Perry, former head coach at Clare, Mich., in the Mid-Michigan B loop where his squads won five championships.

Perry ended a 12-year stay at Clare in 1965 when he moved to Waterford Kettering as an assistant to Jim Larkin.

Working with Perry will be Deb Nolan, a product of University of Michigan who played fullback under Perry as a prep at Clare, and Tom McArthur, a graduate of Western Michigan, who moves to Mott from Mason Junior High.

The Mott eleven will be wearing dark and light blue colors, and the student body remains undecided in giving a name to their athletic teams.

GEORGE PERRY

Hills' Eleven in JV Action

Only a year away from a varsity schedule is Bloomfield Hills' new school — Lahser — where a sophomore and junior squad is working out under coach Dave Coatta.

Coatta, whose brother, John, is head coach at University of Wisconsin, is working with a squad of more than 40 as he tunes them for a seven-game junior varsity schedule.

The Lahser Knights have a couple of players who probably would have earned starting berths at the other Hills (Andover) high school this fall in tackle David Payne and halfback Jeff Kezlarian.

Payne is a 6-2, 210-pounder, and rated as a good prospect by Coatta. Kezlarian, who saw some action with the Andover varsity last fall, gives the Knights good speed in the backfield.

The Lahser school is playing an independent schedule this fall, but the school is entertaining hopes of gaining a spot in the now eight-team Oakland A League.

'Commodores' and 'Marauders' were the two most popular earlier in the year, but another Mott school — Warren — has selected the 'Marauder' tag so the Waterford Mott students will look further.

If they select 'Commodores' it'll fit with the other schools—Kettering's Captains and Waterford Township's Skippers.

Kettering and Mott are included on the Mott slate this fall, a schedule which has the new school playing as an independent.

Former Michigan Star Grid Coach at New School

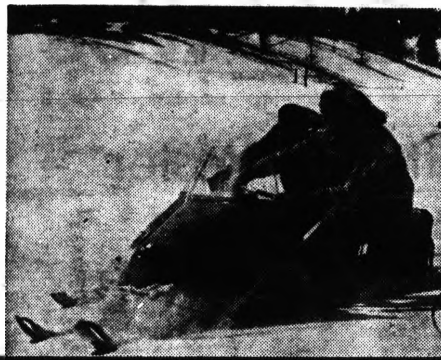

Former University of Michigan star Darrell Harper has the head coaching post at the new Southfield Lathrup High School which is slated to become the sixth member of the Inter-Lakes Conference in 1968.

Like Mott and Lahser, Lathrup is playing a junior varsity slate this fall and will move to varsity action next season.

Harper moves to the head coaching post after a short tenure as an assistant to Ed Bryant, head coach at the other Southfield school.

Athletic director at Lathrup is Edward Litogot, a product of Michigan State, who has been a coach and teacher for 18 years in the Southfield system.

Missing Captains Create Grid Woe

The coaching staff at Waterford Kettering is tossing around names these days when discussing the prospects for the coming season but they're not familiar ones except possibly to the coaches themselves.

Head mentor Jim Larkin doesn't have a Miceli, Harkey, Von Bargaen, Raczyński, Griffin, and worst of all, a McLean to insert in the starting lineup.

They're all gone. With the exception of one player, the hard-charging crew that carried WKHS to an unbeaten, once-tied season and the Tri-County League title last fall has all departed.

The exception is a big one, however, to the relief of Larkin and his aides. Fullback Gene Pankner does return for one more campaign after pacing the scoring last year.

He notched six touchdowns and five extra points with his bone-crunching bursts.

It is hoped a suitable replacement for the passing and field leadership of quarterback Dick Miceli may be senior Bill Penzo. A 6-1, 170-pounder, Penzo was injured early in his sophomore season and didn't play last year.

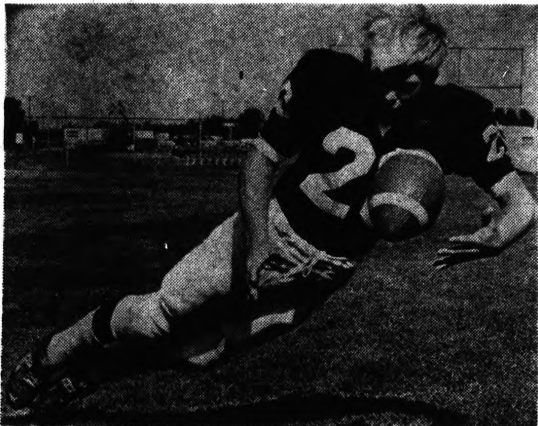

ALL-STATE

All-State linebacker Ken McLean spearheaded the Captains' 1966 defense, and the new defensive leader probably will be tackle Don Postle — a 6-0, 190-pound cocaptain. Brunner also is a cocaptain.

Guard Tim McPartlin is expected to make up McLean's blocking punch. Only end Virgil Williams and center Bob Velzy provide any additional experience along the line.

Returning backfield members include halfbacks Bob Earl, Tim Donaldson, Don Newton and quarterback Gil Baker.

Promising prospects include guard Ron Waldrup, linebacker Mike Howieson, and tackle Auguw Miller.

END HOPEFUL — Waterford Kettering's depleted receiver corps has one returning letterwinner in 5-10 senior Virgil Williams. The 160-pounder hopes to be on the business end of quarterback Bill Penzo's aeriels for some touchdowns this season. He failed to cross the goalline last year.

Utica Touchdown Threat Sparks Hopes for Title

Touchdown ace Gordie Schwartz is a prime reason why Utica's Chieftains are considered prime contenders in their initial campaign in the Oakland A football title chase.

Schwartz, a quick 180-pound senior halfback, returns after a junior season during which he tallied 12 touchdowns in the first six games, one shy of the school record that he missed breaking due to injuries that sidelined him in the final three games.

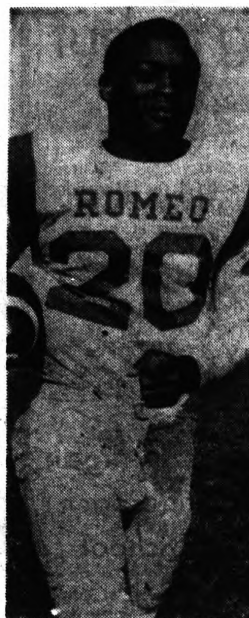

But coach Bob Dilday also has aggressive, quick linemen led by tackle Marty Baruth and center Bob Jilek — the team's heaviest regulars at 180 pounds.

Bill Buchan and Gary Gordon will see extensive duty at the guards while Bruce Harms and Grant Cramick are experienced ends. Wayne Cadieux and John Pelliccia are scrapping for the other tackle job.

Linebacker Gordon Spittal will play fullback on offense. Dilday's son Robin has first crack at the quarterback berth after lettering last fall.

The Chieftains lost some vital depth with the partition of the high school to man the new Stevenson squad.

Utica will have the problem of being familiar only with Romeo, Rochester and Troy among its new opponents. The Chieftains were a Bi-County League title aspirant last year.

READY TO ROLL — Halfback Clyde Cushingberry of Romeo is a speed threat in the Bulldogs' backfield. The 5-10, 182-pound senior scored two touchdowns last season.

OFFSPRING — Utica's quarterbacking this fall will be a real opportunity for Dilday tactics. Left-handed passer Robin Dilday is first in line to execute the offense planned by coach Bob Dilday, his father.

Lapeer '11' Can't Grab LoopCrown

Lapeer is retaining some old ties and breaking a few others as the school prepares for a shot at an independent football schedule this fall.

The Panthers, with a 1-7 record last year, dropped from the Tri-County League, and they'll play the '67 campaign without loop attachments. The loner role is likely to end after this year since the school is in line for a position with a Flint-area league.

Only two Tri-County foes remain on the Lapeer schedule — Romeo and Kettering — and the Panthers open at Romeo Friday evening.

Coach Sid DeCou heads into the '67 campaign with only nine lettermen back, so the outlook is not good.

RETURNEES

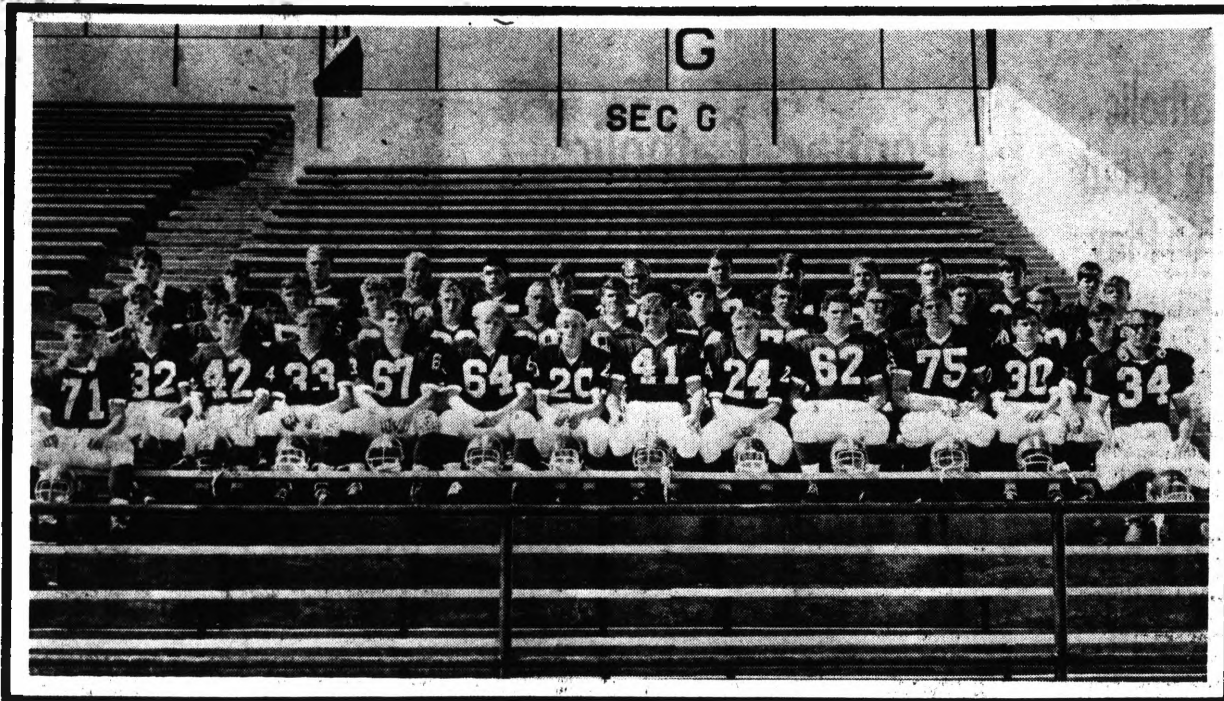

Two other two-year performers who could give the squad a lift are end Bill DesJardinx (6-4, 190) and fullback Butch Stone (5-10, 180).

Having a veteran signal-caller in Rice will be a great help to DeCou, but the squad is green in too many areas to even hope for a .500 record.

Becomes Head Coach

Gerald Ohnger, an assistant coach at Pontiac St. Michael last year, is the new head football coach at Richmond St. Augustine High School.

Pete Larson of Cornell led the Ivy League in football scoring last season with 54 points, six more than Dartmouth's Pete Walton.

St. Frederick Merges With St. Michael as Pontiac Catholic

It's a new school with a new coaching staff, but there's nothing green about the 1967 football squad at Pontiac Catholic.

Pontiac Catholic — a product of a merger of St. Frederick and St. Michael — opens the season Saturday night at Wisner Stadium with the Titans entertaining Royal Oak St. Mary.

Guiding the Titan attack this fall will be Mel Larsen, a graduate of Notre Dame, who moves to Pontiac Catholic with a high school won-lost record of 40-25-2 behind him.

The Green and White-clad Titans will have a veteran quarterback, plus a few other old hands who should give the squad a solid first string.

Handling the signal-calling chores will be John Guilean, a 5-9, 170-pounder, who is a good team leader and sharp passer. He held the quarterback post at St. Frederick last fall.

BACKFIELD HELP

Guilean has some top talent in the backfield in fullback Jim Benthem and halfback Tom Walworth.

Benthem, coming from St. Michael, is a 5-6, 170-pounder who combines speed and power and he is expected to be the mainstay in the Titan backfield. Walworth is a speedy, 5-10, 150-pound senior.

Guilean has looked sharp in working with the belly series. Larson has given the offensive unit.

"We are trying to develop a sound running game to go with Guilean's throwing ability," Larson was saying in discussing the team's 1967 outlook.

"We've found good receivers in Walworth, Paul Schmanky and Dave Bierlein," he added. The latter two are ends.

SOLID LINE

Larson also has a solid front line that should clear the running lanes on offense and bottle up the enemy on defense.

EX-FOES TEAMMATES — Roger Benthem, who attended St. Michael last year, rolls through a big hole in a dummy line after taking a handoff from quarterback John Guilean, a St. Frederick student last year, as they and their Pontiac Catholic teammates sharpen their attack for the 1967 season. Benthem and Guilean were opponents on the gridiron last season, but with the merger of the two schools into Pontiac Catholic, they'll combine their talents this season.

LINE TALK — Coach Herb Coleman, former center with the Baltimore Colts, discusses some of the finer points of line play with tackle Frank Walsh, a 240-pounder, as he readies the Lancers of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows for the 1967 season.

Sorrows 11 Favored in Parochial League

Along with the uncertainty that comes with the new season, teams in the Northwest Parochial League will also have to wonder what the result will be of a couple of Pontiac teams.

St. Frederick and St. Michael merged this year at Pontiac Catholic, and indications are that talent from both teams should produce a good ball club.

That's what the rest of the league thinks.

Another change in the loop this season finds Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, the 1966 Macomb Parochial champion, moving into the Northwest loop as the eighth squad.

Despite the unknown quantity of the Pontiac Catholic squad, rival coaches have tabbed defending champion Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows as the team to beat.

After Sorrows, it could be

WON TITLE

Sorrows piled up a 7-0 record in league competition last fall and the team is expected to be just as strong as ever.

Whether Sorrows makes it into the title picture again will depend on how much improvement the opposition has made in recent months.

The Pontiac eleven could definitely take it all, or it could drop way down.

Ferndale St. James is always strong and cannot be counted out of any championship race.

Orchard Lake St. Mary and Royal Oak St. Mary appear too inexperienced this season to cope with the three mentioned above.

Waterford Our Lady is playing in a stronger league this fall and the Lakers will be playing with a team torn by graduation.

St. Francis de Sales and Detroit St. Rita appear doomed to a second division finish.

For WOLL, OLSM

Gridiron Outlook Dim

Sooner or later it's going to happen to every coach.

Defeat is something that occurs in all sports; at every level; there has to be a winner and a loser.

Mike Boyd has tasted defeat in basketball since taking over the coaching reigns at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes two years ago. He has yet to be a loser as a varsity football mentor.

The Lakers have presented the young coach with a 14-0 record and two league football championships. The bubble may burst this fall.

WOLL has been moved from the Macomb Catholic League to the Northwest CL. On the schedule are such imposing gridiron foes as Orchard Lake St. Mary, Ferndale St. James and new Pontiac Catholic, plus always strong Farmington OLS and dangerous Royal Oak St. Mary.

"We are very thin this year," said Boyd, referring to heavy graduation losses, "and the competition is much stronger. We may take a few lumps this time."

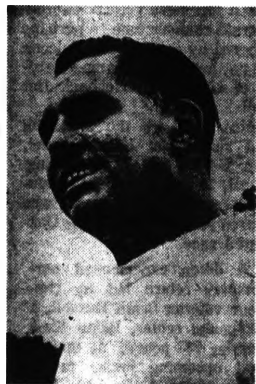

Gone from the title teams are quarterback Tom Sirbach and breakaway threats Don Guibord and Vic Tersigni and fullback Rick St. Clair.

Missing up front are All-State guard Jerry Methner, John Seuynck and Dennis Brosseau.

A new backfield is being constructed around quarterback Bob Price, halfbacks Mike Webster and Roy Lilley and fullback Steve Dunkley who is a converted end.

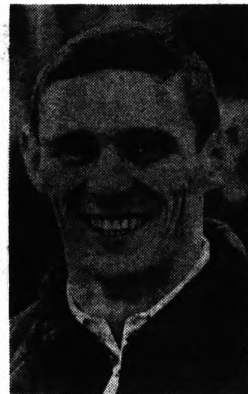

Dave Miller returns to anchor the line the center and Greg Matzelle is an experienced guard. The end positions will be in the hands of veterans Brian Haskins and Neil Sommers.

Avon, Falcon Outlooks Differ

Veteran Burt Leads Jackets

The tradition of fine quarterbacking at Avondale is expected to continue this grid campaign with strong-armed Bob Burt handling the play calling, but the victory slump of recent years may continue for lack of speed.

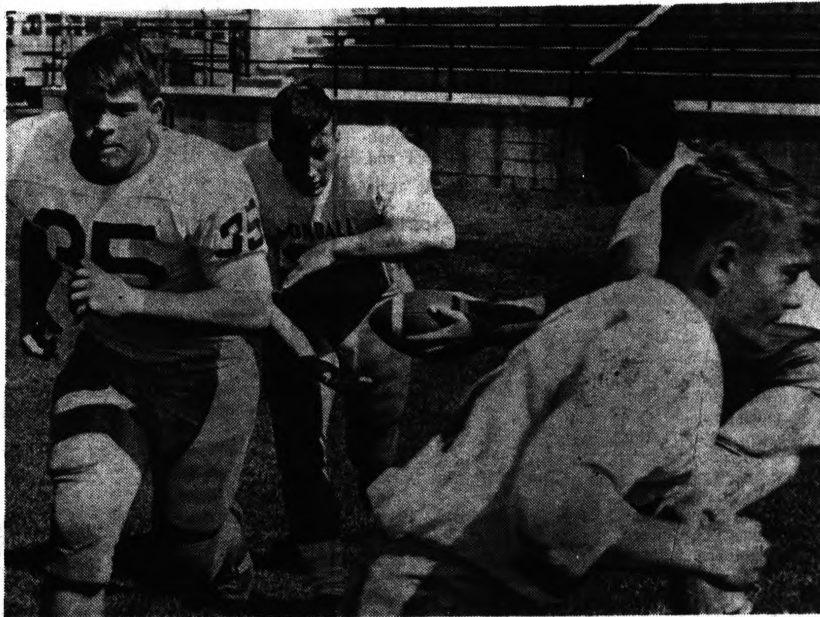

New coach Bobby Jack Young has above-average size for an Avondale squad but it will be provided by inexperienced juniors and sophomores generally. Neither they nor the returning hefty seniors boast exceptional speed.

Burt is expected to provide the passing arm and possibly some running punch if needed. He and fellow cocaptain Dennis McLaughlin (a 6-4, 235-pound tight end and defensive middle guard), plus split end candidates John Manoscho and Bruce Renshaw could team for a potent air offense.

The running back slots are destined for Roger Davis, Bill Wilder, Larry Davis and Gary Price. Clyde McCauley should enter the picture, too. On defense, Billy Lester is slated to be a 5-9, 155-pound rover back.

In the line, junior Gary Monroe and sophomore Gary Price move up to aid Jerry Nolan (6-1, 210) and Dwight McLaughlin at the tackles.

RUNNING THE OFFENSE — Avondale's Yellow Jackets practice offensive play with Clyde McCauley about to take the handoff from quarterback Bob Burt. Running interference are Gary Price (35) and Roger Davis (foreground). The Yellow Jackets plan to utilize the I formation often this season. They have size and an experienced signal caller in Burt, who also is a good threat to pass.

Rochester 11 Missing Star

A highly elated Gene Konley last fall at the end of the 1966 prep grid season enthusiastically boosted the chances of Rochester in this year's Oakland A League race.

The long-term Rochester coach this week returned to his normal cautious tone — perhaps sobered by the fact the Falcons do not have the passing wizardry of All-State quarterback Jim Ball.

Also gone are the receiving and running of Laurie Kesel, Jim Burton and Don Golding. In all, 19 letter winners graduated from that 6-2 squad who shared second place in the Oakland A race.

A dozen experienced performers return led by two-year veteran Brian Russell, a 205-pound center. Brian Esch carries 235 pounds at tackle, and upcoming junior tackle John Major is a 5-10, 230-pounder.

Two letterwinner guards are Craig Wesley and Bob Kowalec, both of whom go at least 185. Mike Maten is a 6-2, 195 tackle prospect.

In the backfield, Senior Mike Phillips is a two-way threat. Alex McKinnon will run at fullback. Speed could be provided by Gary Gill, a senior. The passing and play calling chores are in the hands of junior Mike Scally.

Moving up with Scally to the varsity is junior terminal J. R. Nowels, a 6-1, 190 candidate.

A secret weapon could be Falcon track star, Bob Woodroof, one of the county's top dashmen. He is a 145-pound senior halfback.

The Falcons are big, but will need to give their newcomers much needed playing experience quickly to develop the sustained bid for the league title.

DRAGON DEFENDERS — The linebacking at Lake Orion this fall likely will be shared by seniors Shelby Largent (61) and Don Guld (31), plus juniors Walt Hagelin (53) and George Trim. Hagelin's 215 pounds may also be utilized often in the defensive line.

Largent boasts 180 pounds, while Trim and Guld are 165 apiece. Guld is a transfer from Madison, an Oakland A League foe of the Dragons.

Upward Trend Would Reward Orion Efforts

The outlook is hopeful at Lake Orion.

Certainly it should be since the Dragons' gridiron successes the past two seasons have been limited to a tie in the final contest. Things should go up.

However, coach Tom Prieur's second season finds only nine letter winners from last season's intended building year. Three of them are backs: Corky Groesbeck at quarterback, Ed Bretzlaff and Tom Ging, half-backs.

Rick Toles promises to be a good pass target with his 6-2, 190-pound frame at end. Newcomer Mike Bracken is a 6-1, 190 receiver prospect.

Coach Prieur notes the Dragons will be small but he doesn't include tackle Walt Hagelin in that description. The 5-10 junior packs 220 pounds.

Other hopefuls include Jim Schipper, a tackle; George Trim, a center; and agile Shelby Largent, 180-pound guard. Senior transfer Don Guld could be a pleasant ball carrying addition.

Hoping to overcome a negative football attitude developed during the losing skid of recent seasons, the Lake Orion athletic department went in for new equipment and uniforms this fall.

Bulldogs' Footwork Could Hamper Hopes

Romeo ventures into a new athletic conference this fall and its footwork will probably determine the Bulldogs success on the Oakland A League grid-iron.

Coach Dick Caruss has 14 letter winners returning from the squad that shared second place last fall in the Tri-County League.

In addition, the incoming sophomores and advancing reserve performers boast a healthy amount of size. The Bulldogs could be the biggest entry in the Oakland A grid race.

But Caruss is concerned with the players' speed and agility, plus the fact that the entrance into a new loop involves an unavoidable unfamiliarity with the opposition's tactics.

The 7:30 p.m. home opener Friday with Lapeer does give Caruss a chance to evaluate the Bulldogs against a former Tri-County foe.

LETTERS

Leading the list of available material are two-season performers Brad Czajka, a 190-pound fullback; 200-pound end Donnell Craft; and center Dale Teller, 6-1, 185 pounds.

Tackles Earl Hansen at 215 and Vaughn Bartley at 210 add bulk and experience along the line; and halfback Clyde Cushingberry is expected to provide speed in the backfield.

Newcomers Dan Campbell (6-3, 225) and Bob Felyrin (5-11, 220) bring more size to the tackle slots, as does sophomore Dan Burcynski (6-7, 195) at end. Bob Craig and John Woodcock are promising backfield prospects.

Lacking regular returnees, Caruss is giving guards Steve Kolman and Chris Smells and quarterback Tom Hosner, all seniors, cracks at starting jobs.

Backs Matt Fritz and Paul Verellen, ends Fred Castle and Darryl Racz, and linebacker Ed Coleman are likely to see extensive duty.

Falcons Gain Nod From O-A Coaches

Several factors make the Lake Orion A League football team a tough title contender for the championship. But one factor is continually mentioned by most of the spectators.

Football's Falcons have a big reputation in regard to the upcoming season as the current are accurate.

Coach Gene Hines, also acknowledges that the Falcons could be one of the better squads in 24 years, but he realizes the absence of 1965 All-State quarterback Jim Ball may be hard to fill.

Making the forecasting difficult are the details of Hines and Utica and the conference (regarding Fitzgerald and Conklin from Warren) and the teacher-coach dispute at Troy.

Hines admits that personnel changes Troy could be the toughest, but for the Falcons. However, Coach Hines, but McEwen isn't that much practice time with the veteran squad due to the contract dispute that has disrupted so many school systems the past two weeks.

TRICAPTAINS

Gene Griffin, quarterback. Eric Boushy, 22-pound tackle and rugged Terry Morgan as aggressive defensive specialist lead the 16-member winter Troy squad.

Seven of the 16 played regularly last fall. Joining Griffin in the backfield as returners are halfbacks Joe Mitchell and Carl Coleman. Lyle Spaulding is a talented 6-6 end.

Tackle Walt Boyd (a 180-pounder) and speedy guard Vic Lombers augment Hines in the line. Maury Humphrey shows promising qualities as a 6-2, 180-pound end.

While Lake Orion was witness last season, the rival coaches are expecting trouble with the Dragons. Newcomer Utica has several key performers back from last season's talented unit.

KEY OUT — Senior quarterback Gary Griffin a sturdy six-footer returns to the starting backfield at Troy and could be a major weapon in the Colts' bid for the Oakland A title.

Hines insists that coach Dick Caruso would like more speed and experience. The same problem exists at Avondale where Bob Young has taken over the coaching reins.

STUMBLE

After a strong coaching debut, Clamann's Bob Hamilton saw the Trojans stumble last year. The outlook isn't bright this season, either unless reserve performers overcome their lack of experience quickly.

Madison finished second last season but lost 12 afternoon. Senior backs Derrick Carriere and Bill Ball will have to offset their lack of height and weight with speed and passing ability. Bob Conklin, a 5-10, 190 guard, heads the returning line.

Lennis Jennings is a key defensive back with experience. Coach Frank Crowell expects sophomores to get a lot of playing time in what is regarded as a probable rebuilding year.

Officials Group Elects Leaders, Meets Mondays

The Pontiac Officials' Association has elected George Forster chairman of its board of directors, and Maury Stack is the vice-chairman.

Both will be responsible for conducting the board meetings as well as running the general membership gatherings. Stack and POA secretary Dick Cain represented the local unit at Saturday's state meeting in East Lansing.

POA member Hal Lake is the state association president.

The local association meets 7:15 p.m. Mondays in the recreation department office at City Hall. Any new members may attend without prior notice, or they can contact Cain at the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Office for details ahead of time.

Outlook Same on EML Front

A year hasn't made any difference in the football picture of the Eastern Michigan League.

Roseville and East Detroit are still the cream of the crop in the loop, and indications are that one of the two will walk away with the title again this season.

Roseville took the championship last year with a 4-0 record, with the title coming in the Wildcats 3-0 victory over East Detroit. The points came now graduated Gene Tutecki.

While Roseville has only 10 lettermen returning, there's still enough talent on hand to make the Wildcats the team to beat in the EML.

Heading coach Henry Nardone's returnees is quarterback Ken Fiot, a 5-10, 158-pounder, who'll have a big target for his passes in end Randy Matiyow, a 6-5, 210-pounder. The Cats' problems could come in the line where they will to come up with some replacements to offset graduation losses.

LONG LOSS

East Detroit's lone loss last season was that 3-0 verdict to Roseville, and the Shamrocks are priming for an unbeaten campaign and a little revenge with the Wildcats.

Spearheading a crop of 15 returnees is tackle John Marcus, a 6-5, 232-pounder, who has already attracted a pack of college coaches.

With Marcus engineering the work on the line, coach Ron Ruzzin expected the offense to go. Working at the signal-calling slot will be Jack Azorawitz, a 5-11, 175-pounder, the understudy to all-league George O'Hara last year.

After Roseville and East Detroit, it's a tossup among Mount Clemens, Port Huron and Port Huron Northern.

BIG TACKLES

Holding down the tackle spots will be veterans Dave Yonka (6-3, 240) and Dick Maikoski (5-10, 215). Coach Dick Chapman has a veteran backfield that could spell the difference if he finds a speedy runner.

EASTERN MICHIGAN LEAGUE

The forecast:
1. East Detroit
2. Roseville
3. Mount Clemens
4. Port Huron Northern
5. Port Huron

School Adds Name; New Coach

Many New Things for Baron Gridders

There are many new things at Bloomfield Hills.

The defending Wayne-Oakland League football champion is now known as Andover; there is a new head coach; and a big majority of the players will be newcomers.

Andover was added to distinguish the school from new Bloomfield Hills Lahser.

Bob Keften moves up to his first head coaching job, replacing Bill Tunncliff who entered law school. Tunncliff directed the Barons to an 8-0 record last season.

Only nine letterwinners return from that team. Twenty-seven players are missing and nine of the first string 1966 junior varsity are now at Lahser.

In addition, the Barons have been hampered during workouts by the teacher contract dispute. Keften and his assistants were unable to coach the team most of last week and former Hills cage mentor Ed Wichert had charge.

Wichert is employed by the board of education as recreation director and does not come under the teaching contract.

FORMER COACH

"He is a former football coach, so we aren't hurting in that respect," said athletic director Don Hoff, who directed the Barons before Tunncliff.

"Bob told me that he has been looking forward to coaching his own team and now the contract dispute has come up. He's pretty frustrated."

Hoff, who teaches a couple of classes in addition to his AD duties, also looked on from a distance. If the dispute isn't settled by Friday's opener with Oak Park, Wichert probably will have charge.

Oak Park, also hampered by a teacher dispute, was being directed by athletic director John Kastner.

Andover has only one 1966 offensive regular returning. He is 195-pound senior tackle Steve Jones. Steve Palaian, a regular linebacker and No. 2 fullback last season, and defensive end Rick Stahr also return.

Roger Hershman, No. 2 quarterback last season and a safety on defense, is slated to be the signal caller. But he has been hampered by a leg injury and sophomore Jeff Roley is running the team.

Greg Roche, who started as a sophomore only to be sidelined most of the season before coming on strong toward the end, will be a regular halfback. Another letterwinner, Mike Irving, will see considerable action at halfback.

Pete Young will head the defensive backfield at halfback and junior end Larry Appleby probably will start.

Young Team Member of Lakeland C Loop

Novi's young football squad has come of age and the team will take on a varsity schedule this season in the Lakeland C Conference.

Coach John Osborne, a graduate of Alma in his first head grid post, has the entire team returning from last season's junior varsity team so Novi could be a definite factor in the league race.

Osborne has a couple of top-notch performers in the backfield and the two could provide the spark the squad will need in its first campaign.

Halfback Jon VanWagner, a 6-1, 175-pounder, is the big gun in the backfield. He gained more than 619 yards last season and led the team in scoring.

Working with VanWagner will be quarterback Gary Boyer, who gives the Novi crew another running threat in the backfield. Anchoring the line is guard Pat Haley, a 5-9, 180-pounder.

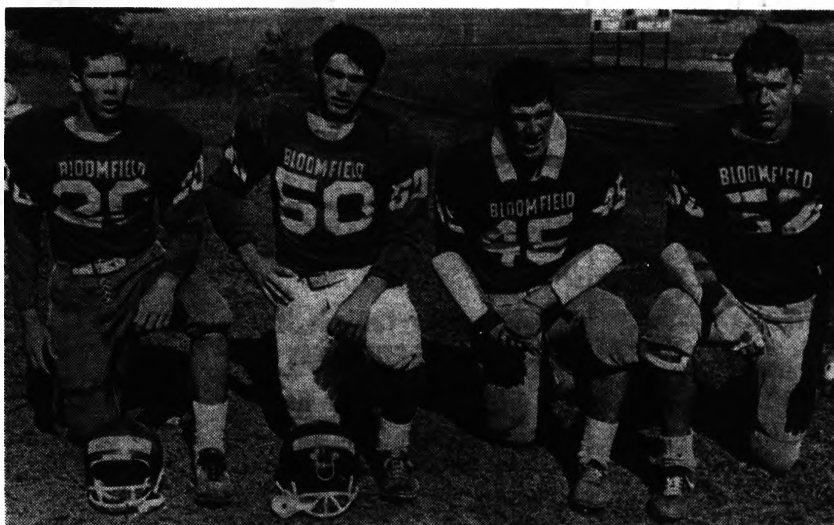

Coach on All-State

Western Michigan University assistant football coach Ed Ferkany was a Class A. all-state quarterback at Flint Central High School in 1954.

Cornell's Ron Gervase set an Ivy League record for yardage gained in pass catching last season. He caught 30 passes for 478 yards.

HILLS GENERAL — Roger Hershman will have charge of Bloomfield Hills' offense. He moved in as starting quarterback after playing safety on last fall's undefeated team.

DEFEND CROWN — These four players are expected to see plenty of action when Bloomfield Hills attempts to defend its Wayne-Oakland championship this season. They are halfback Mike Irving (20), halfback Greg Roche (50), fullback Steve Palaian (45) and tackle Steve Jones (52). Jones is the lone returning regular on offense.

Wayne-Oakland Race Is Toss-Up

Many teams will be improved.

Bob Keften, Andover — Biggest will be Clarkson, Brighton has most returnees . . .

Bloomfield, Hills, definitely has the opposition worried as four coaches picked the Barons among the "teams to beat."

Lakers Must Use Quick Play Pattern

West Bloomfield will be small, quick and tricky. So what else is new?

The Lakers seem to fit this description each season. They also play hard-nosed football. Coach Art Paddy has had his ups and downs at the Keego Harbor school, but the opposition never takes the Lakers lightly.

Unlike last season when All-County tackle Jim Simpson (237) and center Steve Garlitz (208) gave the line some needed weight, West Bloomfield doesn't have a 200-pounder on the roster.

"We will be improved, but not very much," commented Paddy. It is generally conceded around the Wayne-Oakland League that the best all-round talent in the loop is found among West Bloomfield's nine lettermen.

The backfield is particularly impressive with Robin Brennan back for another tour of duty at quarterback helped by veterans Rod Arendsen and Tom Carter as ball carriers.

Brennan, a junior, has the task of making the Lakers' offense, which features tricky ball handling from the T, function properly. He is a better than average passer, too.

Roger Carpenter has won two letters at guard and will hold down one spot. Mike Walosin is a short (5-4), but stocky (170), center-tackle who saw considerable action in 1966.

VETERAN — Bob McFarland is in his third season as a regular backfield performer for Milford.

Shrine Tangles With Top Foes

Title Hopes Riding on Early Contests

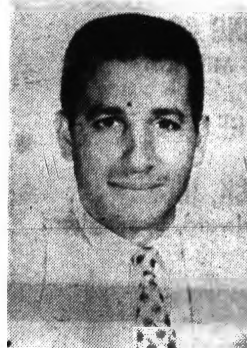

Royal Oak Shrine's title aspirations in the Catholic League's First AA Division will either soar or ebb after the first three games.

The Knights, with 10 big, experienced players returning, take on contenders Divine Child, Redford St. Mary and defending champion St. Ambrose.

Key player in Shrine's attack is quarterback Mickey Brezezinski who is starting his third season as a regular.

He is backed by two-year veterans Ken Caratelli (190) at fullback, Paul Seymour (200) at end, Bob Poser (185) at guard and Tom Toggweiler at halfback.

Other veterans beefing up the line are tackle Jim Belleau (210), guard Allen Kaczowski (200) and end Rick Zimmerman (180).

Depth May Determine 'Skins Rise

Milford is ready to move into the thick of the fight for Wayne-Oakland football honors.

How high the Redskins move will be determined by how fast the reserves from last year and newcomers fill starting holes left by the graduation of nine lettermen.

Coach Jerry Ganzel is working with 19 monogram winners.

The backfield looks exceptionally strong with third-year players Bob McFarland, a halfback, and Skip Harris, a fullback, returning. Bob Clinard has a year's experience at quarter back.

The middle of the line is a problem with no returning regulars.

Rick Falardeau lettered at guard and will be joined up front by veterans Mark Giegler at end and Robin Andrews at tackle.

Andrews, 210, is in his third season on the varsity.

Ganzel feels that the league race will be "a toss up."

"Most of the teams lost key personnel," he points out, although West Bloomfield has a good returning crew.

Wolves Ready Ground Attack

Clarkston's Wolves are coming down to earth this fall. And they plan to do plenty of howling over stricken foes in the Wayne-Oakland League football race.

Coach Ralph Kenyon and his assistants are taking an optimistic view.

"We should do all right," said Kenyon. "The championship isn't out of reach."

The Wolves relied heavily on the passing arm of quarterback Dan Fife last fall to compile a 5-2 league mark and finish tied for second. Clarkston had a 6-2 overall record.

A more balanced offense is being planned. "We plan to run more this season," said Kenyon, "although we will be able to pass when needed."

Stepping in at quarterback is senior Rick Johnson who is regarded as a good ball handler and better than average passer. He will be backed up by Bob Palladino.

Clarkston is big up front and has experience in the defensive backfield. Although not called on too often to carry the ball in 1966, several potentially good runners return in the offensive backfield.

Steve Crabtree and Mark Erickson saw considerable action last fall. They are being pressed by junior Jeff Keyser.

DEPTH ON LINE

There is experience and depth at every position along the line. The only exception may be at guard where Gary Stelmach (180) is the only returnee.

The end positions will be held down by Tom Bullard (195) and Jerry Ostrum (160). Both will play on defense with Ostrum switching to the backfield. Lyle Walter and Larry Lewis provide depth at the flanker post.

A trio of 200-pounders, Ray Hipsler, Chris Birkelo and Chris Poole are vying for tackle berths. Kurt Maslowski (210) returns at center.

Jeff Richardson and Steve Parker return in the defensive backfield. Bill Bullard is back as a backfield performer and Mark Adams has hopes of seeing considerable action.

Major Rebuilding Job Faces Coach at Holly

A major rebuilding job is under way at Holly.

Superintending the project is coach Elmer Rose who is working with six lettermen as a foundation. Graduation took 21 veterans from last season's team that did not live up to expectations.

Holly posted a 2-7 over-all mark and finished sixth in the Wayne-Oakland race.

"If our juniors mature and we avoid injuries to our small squad we could develop into a fairly solid club," said Rose who is starting his second season at Holly.

There are 30 players on the varsity and Rose is planning to start six juniors on offense and seven on defense.

In an attempt to bolster the backfield where only quarterback Dave Darnon returns, the coach has switched Tom Hayes, a two-time letterwinner at end to halfback.

Tim Burns, who lettered at guard last season, has been converted to a fullback. The line will be anchored by veteran center Chuck Keefer. Tackle Mike Chittick and end Mike Tubbs also return.

Among the better rated juniors are center Jim Bradley, guard Tim Striggow, end Dan Gillespie and quarterback Hank Norton.

This will be Holly's final season in the W-O. The school joins a Genesee loop a year from now.

LONG REACH — End Jerry Ostrom of Clarkston makes a one-hand grab of a pass. The senior flanker also will hold down a defensive backfield spot.

Northville Challenger; Brighton Is Improved

Northville has the size and experience necessary to challenge for the Wayne-County championship, but whether the Mustangs have sufficient speed remains to be seen.

The Mustangs found themselves in an unusual position last year when they lost more than they won (3-4) in league play. Coach Alex Klukach is banking on an experienced defense to help reverse matters this fall.

He is working with 17 lettermen, including two monogram winners Joe Andrews at quarterback, team captain Jerry Asher (190) at guard, Gregg Carr (175) and Bob Hubbard (180) at ends.

Running backs Ron Gloetzer and Berry Deal won letters last year and are highly regarded in Klukach's plans. All are seniors except Deal who is a junior.

Three junior newcomers are expected to see considerable action in the line. They are center Bob Hicks (210) and tackles Kim Marberger (210) and Tom Hochkins (225). Pushing for starting berths in the backfield are juniors Pat Caverly and Terry Mills.

The offensive backfield was hardest hit by graduation which took 11 lettermen from the team. Among the missing are quarterback John Holman, end Roger Kline and backs Jim Zayti and Pat Hall.

There are 18 seniors, nine juniors and one sophomore listed on the varsity roster.

Brighton won only one league game last season, but the Bulldogs are planning to make some in-roads on conference contenders under new coach Ken Kaestner.

There are 17 lettermen on hand, including backs Tony Fletcher, Kevin Rosswurm and Dan McKeon. Fletcher is a 235-pound senior who played tackle last year.

Guards Jim Almasby and Bill Wright and 190-pound tackle Rick Wellman chalked up plenty of playing time in 1966.

Kaestner lists three ingredients needed for a winning season: (1) Top performances from the seniors, (2) Fletcher's performance, and (3) improved defense.

Clarenceville tied for second last season, which surprised many people, but the Trojans were hit by graduation and are not expected to challenge.

Macomb Catholic Loses Four, Adds Three Members

Only three schools survived the shakeup in the Macomb Catholic League.

They are Anchor Bay Catholic, Richmond St. Augustine and Marine City Holy Cross. Pontiac St. Michael and St. Frederick combined to become Pontiac Catholic which enters the Northwest Catholic.

Waterford Our Lady also is in the NWCL. Detroit St. Rose was moved to another league. New members of the Macomb circuit are Utica St. Lawrence, Hamtramck Immaculate Conception and St. Clair Shores St. Gertrude.

Uncertainties Mark Oxford Debut in New Loop

Wildcats Title Punch Hopes High

Oxford plunges into the Central Suburban League with equal advantages and disadvantages.

The Wildcats replace Clintondale in the southeast Michigan athletic grouping since the Tri-County League has ended its alignment.

"The only school we've met before is Lamphere and we've always had trouble with it," coach Jerry Neidlinger notes.

Likewise, the opposition will be at a similar disadvantage in lacking information about Oxford.

Neidlinger has high hopes for this year's Wildcat varsity.

RETURNEES

There are several key performers returning led by quarterbacks Dan Jones and Brian Edgett. Garry Cummings provides a speed threat in the backfield, and Don Schultz has promise as a ball carrier.

Chris Kozachik is a 205-pound fullback prospect and his brother Mike is expected to play a lot as a 217-pound defensive lineman.

Also along the line guard Randy Shepard, tackle Bob Segula and ends Larry Rumball and Perry Rouse are slated for lots of action.

Darrell Marsh likely will see duty on defense in the backfield.

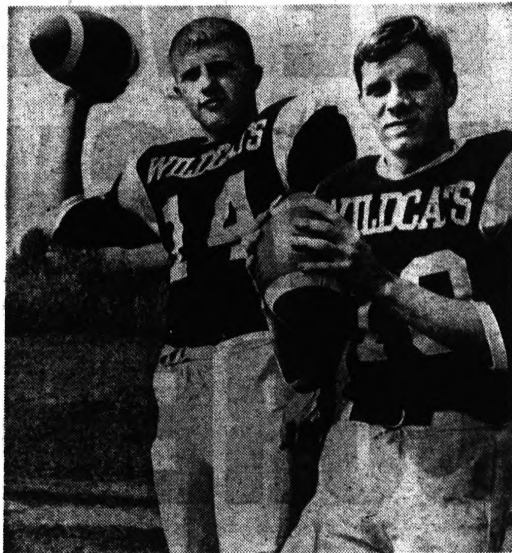

The Wildcats lack depth, but have good speed respectable size and are anxious to hit the opposition hard.

Their Friday opener with Clarkston will provide a tough challenge. If they can avoid many injuries and reduce the execution mistakes, the Wildcats should be a title contender.

WILDCATS WITH BALL — Oxford has a two-handed punch at the quarterback berth with experienced seniors Brian Edgett and Dan Jones both available to call the signals. Coach Gerry Neidlinger has the advantage of sending in plays by alternating the two without seriously hampering the Wildcats' attack.

Victory Habit Lifts Raiders

North Farmington's initial losing football squad had 21 letter winners depart, but Coach Ron Holland gave extensive playing experience to 18 returning Raiders in an effort to avoid a repeat of last fall's 3-5-1 mark. Holland in five seasons has led the Raiders to 31 victories and two ties in 45 starts. They usually contend for Northwest Suburban AA grid honors.

He is predicting such an effort this fall. But his optimistic "line" may be undercut by the North Farmington linemen.

The Raiders appear to have solid backfield material and promising ends, but the blocking and tackling concentrators must provide the vital execution to fulfill the outlook.

Quarterback Norm DeCourcey returns to run the attack. He has Gary Zerhan, Cary Friedly, Chuck Hill and Mark Mitchell as experienced backfield mates. Ex-Ohioan Chuck Kousky (6-1, 195-pound transfer) brings added potential.

For receivers, 6-3 Ron Flutur, 6-2 Rick Knock, 6-2 Chuck But-ton, and 6-2 Gordie Harrower are lanky targets.

Along the line, former stand out tackle Jeff Werner will operate at center this fall. He has some unusually hefty help in Ed Boan (220 pounds), Chris Slocum (185), Craig Emmett (225), Mike Hershey (200) and Mark Otis (185).

Slocum is a guard and the rest are tackles.

Holland isn't accustomed to having such weight. The Raiders normally are lighter than their opposition and have to depend upon speed, agility and leverage. The coach will settle for agility among the heavier boys.

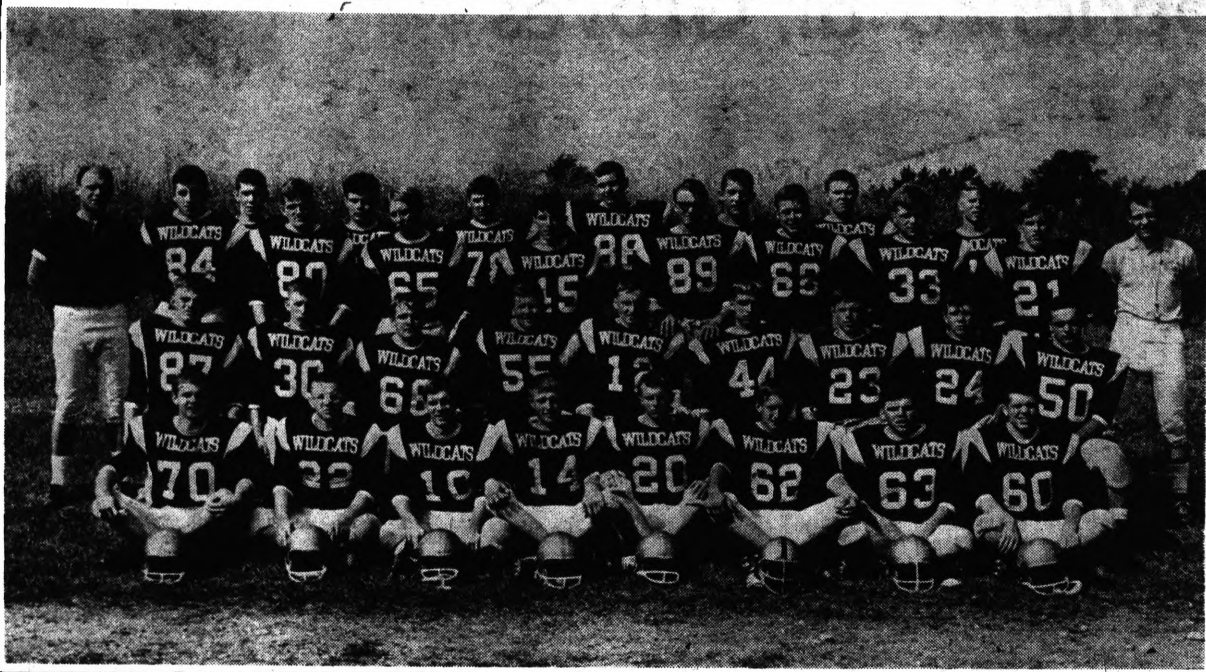

North Farmington's pre-league outings this month are a home opener this Saturday afternoon with Pontiac Northern and a visit next week to Waterford Kettering.

Experience at Groves

Falcons Must Locate Passer to Run Attack

Birmingham Eleven Eyes Title Chance if Big Gap Filled

Birmingham Groves' grid coach Jim Kinnison has quite a few returning letterwinners from last year's third-place finisher in the Northwest Suburban AA race, but a big hole was left by one nonreturnee.

Kinnison's biggest project is to find the replacement for perhaps the best athlete ever to perform at Groves, versatile Mike Rafferty.

The 6-4, strong-armed quarterback guided the Falcons' offense for three seasons and the team fortunes revolved often around Rafferty's efforts.

Adding to Kinnison's replacement hunt is the fact that back-up signal caller Bob Hamilton (who also did a good job at flankerback) has departed, too. Gary Wallace and Bob Muma's graduations left holes at the tackles.

RETURNING

But returning are junior scat-back Steve Woods, crashing full-back Steve Deshler and speedy halfback Ted Felker.

Each line position has at least one experienced senior available: ends Rich Smith and Dan Baliko; tackles Mike Gambler and Dave Harris; guards Kyle Andeer and Bill Coreay; and center Rich Shugg.

Andeer is a six-footer who packs 205 pounds, while Harris stands 6-1 and 195.

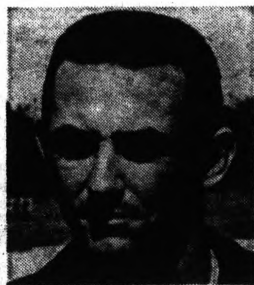

As usual, Groves will open the season with arch-rival Seaholm. It then will meet Cranbrook. That gives Kinnison two games to find and develop the quarterback who'll lead the Falcons into their five-game NWSAA slate.

If the project is successful and the linemen can keep up to the speedy ball-carrying mates, the grid season could be bright for the Falcons.

Sorry, Coach, No Sales Talk

Sid Gillman, San Diego Chargers coach, asked the Rev. Walsh Murry to pray for a dry field when the Chargers were preparing to meet Kansas City.

"Sorry, I can't help you," said the padre, "I'm in sales, not management."

RETURNEE BACK — Ted Felker will see extensive duty probably in the Birmingham Groves backfield both offensively and defensively. He is a 160-pound senior halfback.

Michigan State football All-Americans who doubled in track and won Big Ten titles include Bob Carey, Sherman Lewis and Gene Washington.

RAIDERS ATTACK — This threesome is expected to give the North Farmington Raiders a strong up-the-middle game in grid competition this fall. Leading the way is center Jeff Wernes, all-league tackle last year who is making a switch to center, while quarterback Norm DeCourcy hands off to halfback Chuck Hill. The Raiders entertain Pontiac Northern in their opener Saturday afternoon.

LONE CAPTAIN—The only returning regular this year at Kettering is fullback Gene Pankner, the leading scorer on last fall's unbeaten Captain eleven. He's a 6-3, 210-pound driving fullback.

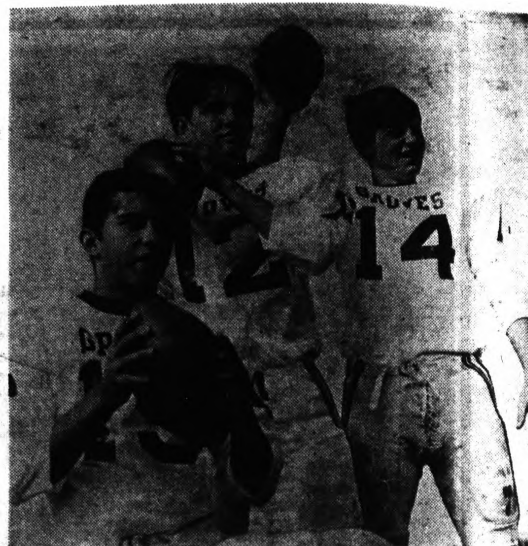

Smallest Is Fastest

Smallest member of Western Michigan University's football team also happens to be the fastest. Tom Randolph, 160-pound sophomore from New York City, has run 10.1 for 100 meters, equivalent to a 9.2 for the 100-yard dash.

Raiders, Franklin Favored

2 Dominate Suburban Forecast

Two teams stand out above the others in the coaches' preseason forecast for the Northwest Suburban Activities Association grid chase — Livonia Franklin and North Farmington.

DUELING FOR OPEN JOB — Groves' coach Jim Kinnison is studying the play calling and execution of Mark Shada (15), Ron Douglass (12) and Steve Jackman in practice to find a replacement for departed three-year regular Mike Rafferty. The Falcons' chances in the Northwest Suburban AA grid race will depend upon the rapid development of the new passer and sign caller.

QB's Analysis

Joe Namath, New York Jets quarterback, knows a thing or two about passing and something about receiving.

He says: "The receiver's whole game is trying to get the defense man's feet turned wrong."

Franklin is one of the defending co-champions while the Raiders are expected to bounce back after a rare noncontending campaign.

Birmingham Groves rates the respect of the other coaches despite the loss of outstanding field leader Mike Rafferty, while defending co-champ Detroit Thurston plans a rebuilding project.

Oak Park could be the circuit's surprise team while Wayne John Glenn doesn't seem to be ready to contend with the bigger squads, yet.

Franklin entered last year's campaign with a young, inexperienced squad and surprised by gaining a title share. Co-captains Jeff Trick (228-pound linebacker-center) and Dave Harris (208-pound tackle) lead the linemen returning. Quick Frank Rekita is back at a pulling guard slot.

Starting halfbacks Gary Sica and Wally Wolfe return. Denny Hopkins, Bill Hellstein and Chuck Wiggins are scrapping for the quarterback post. Defensive standouts Archie Lieb and Mike Lehto are available to back up the line.

RETURNEES

North Farmington and Groves both have returnees along the line and in the backfield. The Birmingham crew must find the field leader to replace Rafferty, while the Raiders seek depth up front.

Oak Park's optimism is based upon the return of 22 letter winners, including 6-4, 270-pound tackle Leon Owens (the league's biggest player).

Dale Kutnick and Bryan Harbin bring experience to the running attack. Kutnick (a 195-pound fullback), end Steve Kaplan and guard Bruce Morris all are two-year regulars who boast good size.

Brother Rice Eying Crown

Veteran Squad Gives Warriors Hopes for '67

Heavy, Mobile Line Expected to Handle League Opposition

A coach never knows what's going to happen in these high school football seasons, but most of the head men would be happy to look ahead if they had a team like Brother Rice will put on the field this fall.

The Warriors of Brother Rice are big — real big — and there's enough experience on hand to give the team a good shot at the Catholic League's Central Division championship.

The Warriors finished second in the loop last season with a 5-2 mark and 12 members of that crew are gone, but coach Joe Pascuzzi has a wealth of talent on hand.

Spearheading the Warriors — offensively and defensively — will be 6-6, 250-pound end Lee Hart, who has earned three letters as a griddy.

Likely candidates for jobs alongside Hart are tackle Skip Coatesworth (6-3, 215), guard Dan Greba (6-0, 200), center Bob Wollenberg (6-0, 200) and end Pat Lynch (6-2, 185). All are seniors.

A pair of juniors who are bidding for tackle berths are Bob Vague (5-11, 235) and John Fontanesi (6-1, 240).

Pascuzzi lost a couple of top runners in fullback Dan Parks and halfback Greg Pilette, but again, there are players around to fill the gaps.

Bill Rose, a 5-10, 170-pound senior, gets the call at quarterback, and likely candidates for backfield jobs are halfback Dave Krueze (6-1, 195) and fullback Mike McGill, a bruising, 6-5, WARRIORS AT WORK—Center Bob Wollenberg (50) is expected to help clear the way this fall for Brother Rice teammate Mike O'Clair. The two Warriors are slated for starting berths.

Coach Hoping for Grid Help in 1st Season

If coach Sidney Fox yells for help during the football season, it won't come as any surprise.

Fox, head coach at the new Roper City & Country School in Bloomfield Hills, has only 17 players on hand in grades 9-10-11, so he's hoping the injury bug doesn't come his way.

The Roper school is taking on a five-game schedule which finds the squad opening against the new Southfield Lathrup team Sept. 25.

Fox is a product of Wayne State and former assistant coach at Detroit Central.

A couple of players Fox is counting on to lead the squad are Randy Jasin, 1 6-1, 165-pound guard, and freshman Bruce Birkhold, a speedster who also has a lot of defensive savvy.

LEADS EAGLETS — Quarterback Dan Kowalski will lead Orchard Lake St. Mary's Eaglelets into the football wars this fall. He's a sure ball-handler and a sharp passer.

Line Positions Open on Country Day Unit

It's not a rebuilding year at Detroit Country Day in Birmingham, but neither is it a banner year for the football squad.

"I hesitate to call it a rebuilding job," says coach Larry Mastellar, who is starting his fourth year as head man with the Yellow Jackets. "It's just that we have some holes to fill."

The Yellow Jackets and Mastellar are coming off a sharp 7-1 season, which gave the head mentor a three-year record of 16-5.

Graduation took most of the offensive line from the 1966 team along with a top running back, and an injury may have taken another veteran backfield performer.

Steve Tarczy, a 5-11, 175-pound senior, was one of the team's top ground gainers and scorers last season. An injury brought on a shoulder operation in the off season and the fleet halfback is a doubtful this season.

MAY RETURN

"He'll miss the first game and we may give him a test in the second game," said Mastellar.

Not all is bad, however, and Mastellar is optimistic as the season approaches.

He has a couple of strong veterans to build his line around, and there are a pair of backfield performers returning to lend a hand.

Junior Al Henson, a 5-10, 180-pounder, gets the call at one of the guard slots, while senior Tom Barkulis, a 6-0, 190-pounder and a standout on defense last season, is slated for offense tackle duty.

Jack Zwemer, a 6-2, 190-pounder, who broke into the lineup as a sophomore quarterback last year, and he'll be around to antagonize the opposition for a couple more campaigns. He's fast and works the rollout well.

Another veteran in the backfield will be John Randle, a 5-10, 160-pounder.

Coach Happy With Seaholm

When Alex McInnes was named head coach earlier in the year at Birmingham Seaholm, he was bubbling with optimism.

He still is.

When McInnes, a Michigan State University graduate, replaced Carl Lemle, who moved up to an administrative post, he stepped into a situation which might produce a championship in his first try.

McInnes toiled as an assistant under Lemle, so the players are familiar with him and he with them, so there'll be no problem making a switch from one coach to another.

Along with the job, another reason for McInnes' joy at taking the job was that on paper at least he has one of the best teams in the Southeastern Michigan Association this season.

There are 26 lettermen on hand so McInnes' optimism is understandable.

EXPERIENCED

The squad has experienced hands at most positions and there is no depth problem.

Heading the list on the 1967 Maples team are cocaptains Bill Holmes and Gar Thomas, both all-league selections last fall.

Holmes, a 6-1, 185-pounder, holds down an end position, while Thomas (6-0, 180), gives the Maples power and speed at a halfback slot.

McInnes is building a line around two top performers, one of whom is just returning after sitting out a season with a broken leg.

Mike Hilkene, a 175-pound guard and punter, suffered a broken leg and sat out last season but he's back now and in excellent condition.

The six-foot Hilkene is son of Bruce Hilkene, a guard and captain of the 1947 University of Michigan squad that rolled up a 10-0 record.

Another veteran on the line is center J. C. Collins, a 6-0, 190-pounder, who is also slated to see some action as a line-backer.

Another candidate for a spot in the Maples' backfield is full-back Neil Marzella, a 6-1, 190-pounder.

TAKING AIM — Birmingham Seaholm kicker Mike Filkins takes aim on a placement during a practice session. Holding the ball is Rick Bowman.

Linemen Bolster Southfield Squad

Despite an impressive overall mark of 6-3, Southfield's Blue Jays were relegated to fourth in the Southeastern Michigan Association last season with a 2-3 record.

The '66 club was a good one and much of the talent is back for another try at the SEMA championship.

The Blue Jays will be big along the line and should be able to move the ball against the opposition, but any injuries to the front-liners could slow the team's title drive.

There is a lack of depth as the season swings into action, but if the squad holds its own for the first half of the campaign, the needed depth could be available if the latter stages of the season.

Coach Ed Bryant has an experienced quarterback running the club in Gregg Anderson, a 6-0, 175-pounder, who has collected two letters at the singla-calling post.

Expected to work with Anderson in the backfield are Gary Betruss (5-8, 165) and Rick Ellison (6-0, 170).

Many of the games are won on the line and that's an area where the Blue Jays sing the loudest.

Slated for tackle assignments are Don Thompson, a 5-9, 230-pound junior, and Steve Mark, a 6-1, 210-pound senior.

Getting the call at a guard post will likely be Keith Levick, a 6-0, 205-pound junior, with Jim Watts (6-0, 215) holding down the other guard post.

Watts is also slated for duty at a linebacking post.

Another veteran performer on the squad and one who should stable the defensive backfield is Jim Walters, a 6-2, 175-pound senior.

MSU, Irish Duel on National Video

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Michigan State's football team, long a popular choice for NCAA "Game of the Week" telecasts, is slated for one national viewing this fall.

The Spartans' big game at Notre Dame on Oct. 28 will be seen around the nation in ABC's coverage of collegiate football.

It'll be the 27th time since 1950 that State will have played before television cameras on regular network presentations.

MSU has been seen from East Lansing a total of 12 times (eight national and four regional) and away from home 14 times (eight national and six regional).

SEAHOLM CATCHER—Birmingham Seaholm passers are likely to be looking for Bill Holmes when they open the season against city rival Groves Friday. Holmes is rated the team's top receiver.

Defending Title

Kimball Unit Ready

An observer noted this week that in visiting football camps around the area, one of the most impressive was the high school program at Royal Oak Kimball.

That was a compliment for coach Paul Temerian, who is heading into his third year at Kimball with a record of 15-2-1 behind him and championships in both years in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

Temerian has lost only to powerful Walled Lake and East Detroit and he's favored to get a little revenge when he takes on Walled Lake in the '67 opener at home Friday.

Temerian and the Knights have a lot going for them, particularly along the line where veterans man the key positions.

There are 12 letter winners on hand headed by the Halliday brothers — Doug and Gary.

BIG COMBINATION

Doug is 6-1, 205 and plays offensive guard and defensive end while Gary, also 6-1 and 210 pounds, toils at offensive guard and defensive tackle.

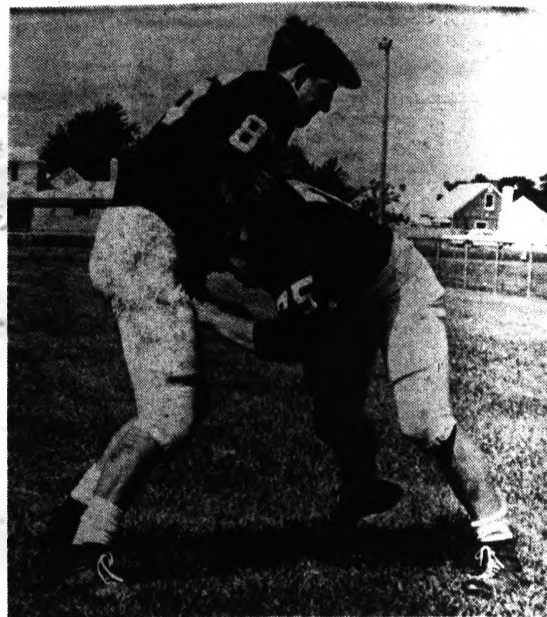

The Hallidays give the Knights the best one-two combination in the area and their presence should make the running game click.

Holding down one of the tackle slots will be Doug Nikkila, a 6-2, 270 pound junior, while junior Jay Brown is bidding for the other tackle post. He is 6-2 and 265.

The only veteran backfield performer on hand is Fred Sheanut, a 5-11, 180-pounder. A two-year veteran at an end slot is Greg Schnaidt, 6-3 and 200 pounds, who is rated as one of the league's best receivers.

Improving Ferndale Darkhorse in SEMA

When rivals get around to counting Ferndale out, coach Frank Joranko and the Eagles began counting themselves in on the Southeastern Michigan Association football scramble.

The darkhorse Eagles have been down for the past couple of years, but Joranko has the nucleus of a squad that could put Ferndale back among the respectable grid powers.

Among the 12 lettermen returning are linemen Robert Luron, a 6-2, 250-pound center, 6-4 Wayne Clapp (205), and tackles Chuck Yakemonis (5-11, 225) and Jim Prentis (5-11, 230).

It's enough talent to make the Eagles a formidable foe this season in the SEMA title picture.

Coaches are eyeing Kimball as the team to beat followed by Southfield, Seaholm and Ferndale. On paper, any of the four could take the title, but Kimball appears to have the edge.

Berkley and Hazel Park are coming along and Berkley, with 15 lettermen returning, could give the favorites a few problems.

The Bears of Berkley are light and they won't be able to match the weight of Ferndale, Kimball and Southfield, but they will have speed and quickness.

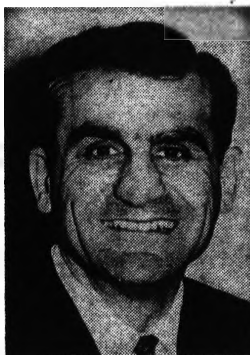

Southeastern Michigan Association
The consensus:
1. Royal Oak Kimball
2. Southfield
3. Birmingham Seaholm
4. Ferndale
5. Berkley
6. Hazel Park

DEFENSIVE ACE — Holding down one of the defensive spots in the Royal Oak Kimball backfield this fall will be Gary Maki, a ballhawk who is expected to make the going tough on enemy receivers.

MONSTER — Junior Bill Lester isn't very big for a football player, but coach Bob Young at Avondale hopes the 155-pounder will develop into an outstanding roving defensive back (or monster man) due to his aggressive style of play.

Syracuse Fans May See '44' on Little Again

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Syracuse University football fans will have to wait until 1969 to see another back named Little wearing jersey No. 44 but they won't be cheering for this Little.

Floyd Little, who is making his pro football debut this fall, was a star halfback at Syracuse where he set several school scoring records. He even surpassed Syracuse graduate Jimmy Brown and the late Ernie Davis, both of whom wore No. 44, too.

SOPH FLANKER

Jim Little, who will be a sophomore flanker back on the University of Wisconsin team this fall, will be wearing No. 44.

If all goes well, he will wear it as a senior against Syracuse when Wisconsin plays the Orange in 1969.

Touch League Has Meeting

The Waterford Township men's touch football league's first organizational meeting is 7:30 p.m. tonight at Schoolcraft Elementary School.

The tentative loop schedule calls for games each Tuesday night at the Drayton Plains Park. A $4 per player registration fee will be charged.

All teams expecting to enter should be represented at the meeting. Playing rules, scheduling and player eligibility are on tonight's agenda.

Additional information is available at the recreation office, 674-0376.

Lack Depth in STA

A lack of experienced replacements may hurt the football bids of Almont and Dryden in the Southern Thumb Association.

Almont appears fairly strong in the backfield but new coach Jack Johnson concedes it will be mid-season before "the rookies get some seasoning and then we should be considerably improved."

Dryden has a constant manpower shortage because it is a Class D school.

Anchor Bay and Armada are being tabbed the teams to beat. Richmond, which replaces Brown City in the league, could make some noise.

Memphis, the other 'D' school in the predominately Class C circuit, could surprise as could New Haven. Capac, under new coach Tom Huebner, isn't expected to improve much on its 0-8 mark of last season.

Halfback Frank Bacholsky and quarterback John Bacholsky, both juniors, saw considerable action for Almont last year. So did fullback Bob Hamilton.

Guard Jim Wade, halfback Jim Barnett and ends Allan Currey and Dave Bannister lettered last season.

Dryden has 11 of 15 lettermen returning and will be counting on quarterback John Malinich and halfback Gary Howard to carry the load until the interior line gains experience.

Center Bruce Dittman is a veteran and Dave Kilbfeissch saw considerable action on defense in 1966.

Capac faces a rough start. The Chiefs meet South Central power Imlay City and Anchor Bay on successive weekends, both on the road.

There appears to be strength in the backfield with quarterback Jim Sanchez, fullbacks

Brad Robinson and halfbacks Larry Stegman and Mike Brunelle returning. Also back are guard Leitz.

The Forecast:

1. Anchor Bay
2. Armada
3. Almont
4. Richmond
5. Memphis
6. New Haven
7. Dryden
8. Capac

New Coaches for Almont

Two new coaches have started duties at Almont High School. Jack Johnson, a former University of Wyoming football player, moves in from Medina, North-Dak., high to take over the Raiders' gridiron duties.

Gary Carson, a June graduate of Alma College, will be the baseball coach and assist in football.

They replace Bill Briggs who has become the high school principal. Briggs will continue as basketball coach. Under Briggs' guidance, Almont posted a 15-6-3 record in three seasons.

He directed Almont to a basketball co-championship last season.

Outlook Bright for Cranbrook 11

Cranbrook's Cranes are coming off a championship year in the Interstate loop and there are 15 letter winners returning from that squad so it could be another title year.

Coach Delvin Walden faces a task of finding some replacements in the line, and he has a number of capable applicants for the jobs.

The backfield is in veteran hands with two-year man Mark Steiner, a 6-0, 205-pound senior, holding down one of the halfback slots.

Other candidates for the running spots include Craig Tuohy (6-1, 180), Dirk Deiters (5-9, 165) and sophomore John Wallace (5-10, 170).

Center Dave Kangas is a veteran performer who should serve as anchor man on the new line. He's a 6-0, 190-pounder.

The Cranes were 6-2 over-all in 1966, and if the holes in the line are plugged, the squad could anticipate another winning campaign.

Dondero Facing Struggle

Quarterback Dave Charlton's return plus two-year letter winners Gordon Dodd, John Mann and Tom Poff make the prospects bright again for Royal Oak Dondero who enjoyed a unbeaten, once-tied season last fall.

That earned coach Ivy Loftin recognition as Oakland County's football Coach of the Year. He can't rest on those laurels, though, as the Oaks will run into Ferndale Friday night in the season opener.

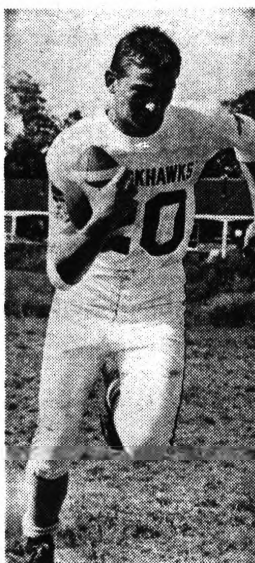

Charlton is a 6-1 passing whiz who guided the Oaks' well oiled offense last year. Mann is a 6-1 pass-catcher who scored three touchdowns last year.

He and Poff, who scored twice as a halfback, are both juniors.

Dodd is a 175-pound senior guard.

Dodd plus tackles Al Hodge and Don Shultz (also juniors) provide the experience along the line.

Another key returnee is fullback Tom Faraday, a 165-pound senior. The Oaks lack left and will have trouble defending their Border Cities League crown against Wyandotte and Grosse Pointe. Monroe also could be a challenger.

FLYING BLACKHAWK—Much of Ortonville Brandon's hopes for the 1967 season will be riding on the fleet feet of senior Dave Tuttle, a 6-1, 170-pound halfback.

Couple of 'Its'

Blackhawks Not Sure

There's little to crow about at Ortonville, but if the Blackhawk come through a couple of "ity" areas, they could come up with a winning record.

After a 3-5 record last year, the Blackhawks lost most of the talent on that squad, so a winning eleven will have to come from a thin squad that has only 11 lettermen returning.

Coach Bill Pugh has only 26 players bidding for positions on the squad. There is some talent there and if the key members of the team stay healthy, the Hawks could give some of the favorites in the Suburban C League a rough time.

Chief among the returnees is Garry McDowell, a 5-7, 162-pound senior quarterback, who'll be working with another veteran, Vaughn Westerby (5-5, 150) in the backfield.

Westerby is a hard-nosed player likely to see a lot of action on defense, also.

Along the line, Pugh has four veterans in center Paul Schoen (6-2, 200), guard John Spencer

(5-8, 153, tackle Joe Lozier (5-9, 230) and end Dave Tuttle (6-1, 170).

The Blackhawks have speed and they should be able to move the ball. One of their big problems may be defense, where Pugh will have to find some talent to spell the first-stringers.

Imlay Football Fans Get Boot From Games

Imlay City fans got a real boot out of the 1966 football season. They may be in for more of the same.

Soccer style kicker Chester Marcol, who hit nine field goals — including a 44-yarder — last season, returns. The Spartans also kicked over five South Central Conference foes to win the championship.

The league has expanded to seven teams and one of the newcomers, Birch Run, is a highly rated contender. Brown City is another new entrant.

Although there are 15 veterans back at Imlay, graduation took nine starters from the offensive unit and eight from the defense.

Coach Jerry Volek feels the Spartans may be hard-pressed to repeat last season's 7-2 over-all mark.

Most of the positions are covered by lettermen, however, and coming up with adequate replacements may be the big problem.

Halfback Wayne Brinker and tackle Mike Kempf, 200, are two-way players who were regulars in 1966. Terry Schoenberg was a starter in the defensive backfield.

OTHER VETERANS

Others expected to see action on a regular basis are quarterback Mike Dodge, full back Paul Ewbank, tackle Dan Winslow and Marcol, an end.

Also bidding for a tackle slot is Bob Fischhaber. Guard Tom Brown and center Bill Roy both lettered last year.

The Forecast:

1. Birch Run
2. North Branch
3. Imlay City
4. Deckerville
5. Millington
6. Harbor Beach
7. Brown City

Expect Fight to Wire in Big 8 Grid Race

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Nebraska is expected to fight Colorado to the wire in a bid for a fifth straight Big Eight title.

Missouri, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma take the nod as possible contenders with Iowa State, Kansas and Kansas State bringing up the rear in what could be the closest race ever.

Last year's choice, Tulsa, could go all the way in the Missouri Valley Conference after tying North Texas State for the title.

The Golden Hurricanes, with 35 lettermen, return a potent passing attack with Greg Barton. The aerial artist should have no trouble finding Rick Eber and Harry Wood who combined for 61 receptions in 1966.

Any of three teams have "dark horse" potential in the Missouri Valley with Cincinnati — troubled by injuries and player ineligibilities — destined for the cellar.

Louisville, 6-4 last season must replace the nation's seventh best passer in Benny Russell but returns a strong defense around linebacker Ed Harmon.

Coach Boyd Converse takes over at Wichita State, which returns with the nation's best passing duo in John Eckman and Glenn Meltzer. But despite the Eckman-Meltzer throwing combo, the Shockers finished last in the conference at 2-8 in 1966.

HARD PRESSED

North Texas State will be hard pressed to equal last year's 8-2 mark. The Eagles bring back 267-pound tackle Joe Greene but lose their entire backfield.

Although three new coaches take the field in the Big Eight, the race shouldn't depart greatly from the 1966 program.

Nebraska loses quarterbacks Bob Churchich and Wayne Weber, but brings back a huge defensive line led by middle guard Wayne Meylan, plus a strong running back in Ben Gregory.

Crowder welcomes a nucleus of 26 lettermen from a second place team which beat Oklahoma and almost edged Nebraska. He says the team is better balanced and more experienced but lacks depth and quickness.

NCAA Individual Statistics

The following listing — by statistical departments — covers the 1967 season's top 300 returning players, ranked in the order of their finish in last year's final statistics tabulations (the figures shown). Its purpose is to provide you with a convenient "check sheet" of the players who, on last year's form, at least, will be doing the most with the football on college gridirons this year.

Position—weight—height—class data are as of the start of the 1967 season. Players who will defend individual championships, won last year, are indicated by daggers (†).

Midget Program Big

5 County Areas Back 32 Teams on Gridirons

More than 1,000 boys and 200 girls will participate as players and cheer leaders in the 1967 Suburban Midget Football program of Oakland County.

There are 10 units from four organizations who will have varsity, jayvee and freshman teams in the popular conference. Each team has 40 boys on its roster. Clawson-Troy will enter varsity and jayvee squads.

The Lakeland and Walled Lake organizations each will enter six teams. Madison Heights also will have six.

Royal Oak has four units of three teams each to round out the 32-team conference lineup. Games will be played Saturday afternoons and evenings, and Sunday afternoons.

All boys 9-12 years of age are eligible to compete. Al Emsley of Pontiac is president of the conference this year. He may be reached at 682-1417.

In cooperation with the Heath Candy Co., the conference's annual fund raising candy sale will begin tomorrow.

Bob Longo, 6-foot-4 split end from Baldwin, Pa., set a Pitt football record last season by catching 46 passes for 732 yards.

SWEETS FOR SWEETAN — Pontiac's Rick Knolls (left) and Tim Simon, both members of the Lakeland Athletic Association, offer candy to Detroit Lions quarterback Karl Sweetan. The Lakeland organization is one of five groups comprising the Suburban Midget Football Conference. The primary source of funds for the league is its annual $1-per-box candy sale. Team members in the Walled Lake, Clawson, Troy, Royal Oak, Madison Heights and Pontiac areas will begin their door-to-door campaign tomorrow.

JHS Grid Faces New

Three new faces have produced a 50 per cent turnover in the coaching ranks of the Pontiac junior high school boys' varsity football teams.

Earl McKee who won the title last fall at Jefferson, Don Kelly who is the dean of the mentors with 11 seasons behind him at Washington, and Dave Yarbrough who debuted at Kennedy last fall do return.

But Eastern, Madison and Lincoln had a new men running the initial practice sessions yesterday.

Tom Stapleton takes over the Lincoln duties, Bob Friedland has the reins at Madison. Eastern's new mentor is Joe Romero, Jr., who has the unenviable role of being the visiting coach each week.

Easter's playing field was reconditioned last spring and it will remain unplayed upon all this year.

3 TEAMS

The junior high school season of six games will begin the week of Oct. 2. Each school has three teams (A or varsity, B or junior varsity, and C or lightweights).

More than 120 games involving an estimated 550 boys classified according to the Kiewit Olympic Classification Chart (based on age, height, and weight) are planned.

Game time is 4 p.m. each Tuesday (C teams), Wednesday (B teams) and Thursday. No Class A backfield man may weigh more than 155 pounds. A 135 limit is put on the "B" runners.

The season will climax with the ninth graders on each team being recognized during the annual Northern-Central clash.

The schedule:

Spartans Picked to Lead Chase for Roses

M-MSU Clash Oct. 14 Could Be Key to Crown

The Big Ten headed by two-time champion Michigan State, and national champion Notre Dame plunge into what looms as a most unpredictable 1967 football campaign.

The Big Ten started with more than 600 husky lads into a head-bumping conditioning Aug. 23 for the Sept. 23 kickoff of the conference's 72nd grid season.

Notre Dame, hard hit by graduation of many 1966 stars, still has 23 lettermen and a flashy passing attack to hope for a try to become the third team in Irish history to repeat as mythical national champion.

In the Big Ten, Jim Valek at scandal-rocked Illinois and John Coatta at Wisconsin, return to their alma maters as newconference head coaches.

Michigan State has 24 lettermen, as Coach Duffy Daugherty starts his 14th stint aiming at an unprecedented third straight undisputed Big Ten crown.

LONGEST SERVICE

Daugherty and Minnesota's Murray Warmath, also starting his 14th campaign, are exceeded in longevity only by Ohio State's dean of conference coaching, Woody Hayes, starting his 17th season.

Purdue, which must replace golden-armed Bob Griese, and revenge-seeking Illinois, Minnesota and Ohio State also could head a cavalry charge for the Big Ten championship.

If Purdue should falter, the big game of the season could be the decision in Ann Arbor, Oct. 14 when arch-rivals Michigan and Michigan State clash.

Iowa and Purdue have 14 starter back, one fewer than Illinois and Minnesota. Wisconsin has 13 back; Ohio State 12; Indiana and Michigan State 11; and Northwestern and Michigan lag with eight.

The Forecast:

1. Michigan State
2. Purdue
3. Michigan
4. Ohio State
5. Illinois
6. Wisconsin
7. Iowa
8. Minnesota
9. Northwestern
10. Indiana

WHO WILL IT BE?—With the departure of Bob Griese, Purdue is faced with the task of finding a starting quarterback. Bidding for

Quiz to Test Big 10 Fans

Are you a Big 10 football expert? Here are some questions about Big Ten teams to test your memory.

1. How much did the original Little Brown Jug cost?
2. When was the first Big Ten football championship season?
3. What current Big Ten team played in the Orange Bowl?
4. How many consecutive seasons has the Michigan-Michigan State game been a sellout?
5. Who was the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player in 1966?
6. Name four Big Ten Football All-Americans who also earned All-American honors in basketball?
7. What Big Ten football team has been National Champion the most times since the voting starting in 1936?
8. Who holds the record for the longest run from scrimmage in the Rose Bowl?
9. What is the Big Ten record, and by which team, for most consecutive number of victories?
10. What is the oldest stadium structure in the Big 10?

(Answers on Page 54)

Forget Scandal

Illini Case 'Closed Book'

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — The ingredients are there, a revenge motive, zeal and a superb passing combination — for a Big Ten football resurgence by scandal rocked University of Illinois.

"It's a closed book—there's no use beating a dead horse," said new Illini Coach Jim Valek when questioned about reaction to the school's punishment for disclosing its $21,000 slush fund case last winter.

But the holdover Illini, understandably, still are burning.

Valek, former star Illini end, was drafted from an assistant's job at South Carolina when the Big Ten forced resignation of Pete Elliott.

Other sanctions included an NCAA barring of Illinois from Rose Bowl appearances for two seasons.

Illinois, which does not play defending champion Michigan State in its seven-game Big Ten schedule, may have one of the nation's best passing tandems in quarterback Bob Naponic and split-end John Wright.

24 NCAA Games in Color

ABC will telecast 24 of the 32 NCAA games in color, an increase of nine games from the 1966 season, it was announced today by Roone Arledge, Vice President and Executive Producer of ABC Sports.

Nine additional games in color have been added to the 15 games originally scheduled to be televised in color.

All national games will be shown in color beginning with the SMU-Texas A&M game on September 16 from College Station, Texas. A total of 51 different teams will be seen on ABC this fall.

Additional regional games to be shown in color are Miami of Florida at Northwestern on September 23; Maryland at Oklahoma on September 30; Minnesota at Illinois on October 14; LSU at Mississippi at Jackson on November 4; Purdue at Illinois on November 4; Wisconsin at Ohio State on November 11; Georgia at Florida at Gainesville on November 11; Texas

UCLA's Beban Strongest Heisman Trophy Choice

By the Associated Press

If most preseason publications are right, you could hand the Heisman Trophy to UCLA quarterback Gary Beban right now. He's a powerful candidate.

However, he will be challenged by such other top grid-ders in the quest for the trophy that goes to the nation's No. 1 collegian as Super Bill, Stampede, Golden Shoes, Barricade Bill, Yazoo, The Human Hammer, Orange Juice, Calamity and The Spoiler.

The Bruins' Beban, bounding back from the broken right ankle which kept him out of the Southern Cal. finale last season, is a smart field general who can pass short or long from the pocket or on the move. And he runs like a man possessed.

Gary has 3,770 total offensive yards to show for two years.

The Tennessee-UCLA game at the Los Angeles Coliseum Sept. 16 will provide a fine comparison between Beban and the Vol's fine Dewey Warren.

Notre Dame and Michigan State have some mighty fine quarterback talent in junior Hanratty and senior Jimmy Raye, respectively.

Super Bill Bradley, assuming he can shake off the injuries which dogged him as a yearling, could steer Texas to great heights. He can run, pass, receive, return kicks and punts for a 42.5 yard average.

Florida's Larry Stampede Smith is a 6-4, 216-pound half-back who was a sophomore sensation with promise of more to come. Oscar "Golden Shoes" Reed of Colorado State adorns the cover of the NCAA Football Guide as testimony of the esteem in which he's held. Kent State's Don "The Human Hammer" Fitzgerald returns after being barley beaten out for the major college rushing crown in 1966.

O. J. "Orange Juice" Simpson is the 9.5 sprinter who comes to Southern Cal as a junior college transfer branded the best ball carrier to emerge from the San Francisco area since Ollie Matson.

At the University of Texas at El Paso formerly Texas Western, lurks 6-5, 227-pound line-backer Fred "Calamity" Carr, who has the dashman speed and enthusiasm for the hunt.

"Barricade Bill" Dow is Navy's captain and defensive end and Bill "The Spoiler" Staley is a 240-pound defensive tackle at Utah State.

'M' Competition Keen at Tackle

Six lettermen tackle candidates are available on Michigan's 1967 football squad, although only two saw limited service on offense last year. Of the remaining players, two saw part-time starting duty.

Returning offensive lettermen

Young Squad of Wildcats in Big Ten

Evanston, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern University's seventh-place Big Ten football team will have a pair of fine-passing quarterbacks in Bill Melzer and Denney Booth this fall.

The Big Wildcat catch is — who'll do the catching?

"We have nobody around like Cas Banaszek and Roger Murphy, who were in a class by themselves and graduated as school record-breaking receivers," Coach Alex Agase ruefully admitted Thursday.

In fact, the wing department — both on offense and defense — is Agase's greatest problem as he prepares for a fourth campaign since he succeeded his former boss, Ara Parseghian, as head man in 1964.

"We'll be young — with as many as 16 sophomores and juniors on our first two units — but we'll be quick, and a very aggressive and rough team," guaranteed Agase, a bronze star and Purple Heart Marine veteran.

KEY TO '67 — The key to Michigan's success in 1967 lies in the hands of veteran quarterback Dick Vidmer, 185 pound senior from Greensburg, Pa., second only to Bob Griese of Purdue in the conference last year in passing.

are Pete Mair and Paul Johnson, both seniors. Mair, a 6-4, 235 pounder from Allentown, Pa. earned his first letter last year. Johnson, 231, from Bay City, lettered two years ago, largely on defense.

Ray Phillips, one of the best tackles in the Big Ten for two years, has been shifted to guard this fall to bolster that position.

Stan Broadnax, a senior from Cincinnati, O.; Werner Hall of Sandusky, O., and Joe Lukz, another Niles, O., McKinley High boy, are other tackles on the attack unit. Hall and Lukz are sophomores, the former weighing 225, and the latter tipping the scales at 210.

Defensively, Gerald Miklos, a 225-pound junior from Chicago, should be a big help. As a sophomore last year he played both as a should be a big help. As a sophomore last year he played both as a tackle and linebacker to prove himself a rugged, hard-hitting player. Dick Williamson, a 225-pound junior from East Detroit; Dave Porter, 240, of Lansing and Tom Goss, 225 of Knoxville, Tenn., are others who should be bulwarks on the line.

Porter is Big Ten heavyweight wrestling champ and former NCAA titlist. Bill Mouch, 6-4, 270, a sophomore from Cincinnati, O., is another prospect who has shown promise.

HOPEFUL — John Thomas, who had an outstanding career at Walled Lake, is hopefully looking for a job at quarterback at the University of Michigan as a senior. Thomas has suffered knee injuries since his sophomore year.

FAMILY LINE—Royal Oak's John Gabler, the 1965 Outstanding Player of Oakland County, is a top candidate for a halfback position at the University of Michigan. John's brother, Wally, was Wolverine quarterback a couple of years back.

Sophs May Help Kicking Problem

ANN ARBOR — A pair of sophomores could help solve a major football problem for Michigan this fall that is—replacement of Stan Kemp, Wolverine punter who led the Big Ten in 1966.

A rugged sophomore tackle, Pete Drehmann, 6-1, weighing 215 pounds who played fullback and linebacker at Abington, Pa., high school a couple of years ago, appears to be the most consistent long range booter on the squad thus far.

Garvie Craw, hard-running halfback from Montclair, N. J., is the other newcomer who is potentially a Big Ten caliber punter, however, he has lacked the consistency of Drehmann.

Michigan's football squad over-all is making "good progress" according to Head coach Bump Elliott.

Early scrimmages revealed that starting halfbacks Ernie Sharpe, senior from Palos Heights, Ill., and Ron Johnson, a much-improved junior from Detroit, apparently will be the early season starters, and Warren Sipp, the junior fullback from Akron, O., will be at the line-crashing and blocking spot.

Biggest improvement has been the work of 196-pound Johnson, who played behind Carl Ward at right half in 1966.

The Detroit junior also showed ability to catch passes and to block. In fact, all three Wolverine backs as well as both ends are good potential receivers for Dick Vidmer's tosses.

GOOD CONDITION

"We are in the best condition we have been in in a long time," said Elliott. "We have been able to work hard, and if we can escape injuries, we should be ready."

Although Jim Mandich, rugged Solon, O., sophomore appears to be the only offensive starter, several newcomers are sure to see action in the defensive platoon.

While Jerry Hartman of Ann Arbor, letterman, and Doug Nelson, Adrian senior, are tops in the backfield, sophomores Brian Healy, Sandusky, O.; Tom Curtis, Aurora, O., and Barry Pierson, St. Ignace, Mich., may all see plenty of action.

The Wolverines play their opener at Ann Arbor, meeting Duke on September 23.

Changing Color

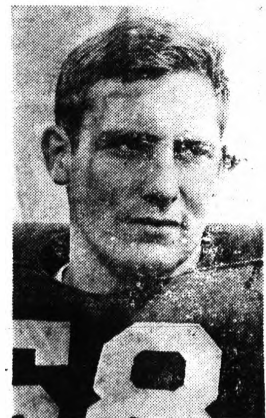

Navy's famous Tecumseh statue in Annapolis of the famous Indian chief, is painted yellow and blue — the Michigan colors — these days.

The Midshipmen always paint the statue in the colors of the rival they are aiming at — and the Wolverines have drawn the honored spot for the game at Ann Arbor, October 7.

East Football Decline Noted in Recruiting

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Some 180 miles and four hours of driving time separate Butler, Pa., from University Park.

It is quite a distance to travel just to talk football.

Terry Hanratty, when he was a student at Butler High School, used to make the trip on Sundays.

"He'd stop at the house," says Penn State coach Joe Paterno, "have a soft drink, talk a little football and then drive back home again. The boy wanted to come to Penn State. Unfortunately for us, he didn't have the grades."

Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame is just one reason the caliber of Eastern football has declined this year and in recent years.

After one college game, the sophomore quarterback was compared to John Huarte, who won a Heisman Trophy two years ago.

Others like Terry Hanratty—maybe not quite as talented—are on collegiate rosters all over the country.

Notre Dame has nine other Pennsylvanians; Arizona State, which has only 10 players from its own state, has 16 Pennsylvanians; Purdue has 12; the University of Nebraska and the University of Miami (Fla.) each have 14; the University of Minnesota and the University of Kentucky each have 10. The University of Maryland is the leader with 21.

STANDARDS RISE

It is the loss of these solid prospects, a rise in academic standards and a no-redshirt policy which have caused Eastern football to drop to its lowest level.

"It's now at a point," said Paterno, "where I'd have to say that every once in awhile the East will produce an outstanding team from among Pitt, Penn State and Syracuse. But I don't think it will be the same as before."

The decline in Eastern football has been proportionate to a rise in academic standards.

"I've found myself recruiting against Princeton quite a few times," Paterno said.

IVY STYLE

Pitt and Penn State definitely are inching toward eventual parity with the Ivy League teams. Syracuse has not progressed of—as some would prefer—digressed to that point, but the Orange men are beginning to experience difficulty.

Only Army and Navy from the once potent Eastern Big Five will remain at their present levels.

Spartans' Seasoned Backs Explosive

Raye Veteran Signal Caller

Lee, Waters, Apisa in Running Spots

EAST LANSING — The key to Michigan State's defense of its Big Ten football title this fall will be an explosive offensive backfield manned by four seasoned lettermen.

Jimmy Raye, Frank Waters, Dwight Lee and Bob Apisa are the names to look for in MSU touchdowns this fall.

Coach Duffy Daugherty says his offensive backfield should be at least on par with the outfit that went unbeaten last year.

The only regrets around the campus are that the Spartans had to settle for a 10-10 tie with Notre Dame.

Michigan State has an extra incentive this fall. It could be the first to win the Big Ten title three times in a row.

There have been consecutive title wins 10 times but no conference team has scored a triple.

NOT FOR TRADE

Daugherty has said he wouldn't trade Raye, a senior from Fayetteville, N.C., for any quarterback in the conference.

Last year, Raye completed 62 of 123 pass tries for 1,110 yards. He had an average of better than 10 yards a pass, best in the Big Ten.

Raye also runs like a scaback and is particularly dangerous on the option play.

Last fall he gained 436 yards rushing for five touchdowns and was third among the MSU rushers.

Lee, a solid, 6-foot-2, 200-pounder from New Haven, was better known as a blocker for running mate Clint Jones last year than as a ball-toter on his own. Lee still made 305 yards rushing.

SECOND GENERATION

Waters is a second generation Spartan. His father, Frank "Muddy" Waters, was an MSU fullback 20 years ago and now is head coach at Hillsdale College.

Apisa, the 6-1, 212-pound fullback from Hawaii, has been bothered by a nagging knee injury but an operation is supposed to have fixed the trick knee.

Last year he rushed for 445 yards and nine touchdowns.

Regis Cavender, a Detroit junior, played in a relief role to Apisa last fall and will be available for work either at halfback or fullback. He plowed for an even 200 yards and scored seven touchdowns last season.

First game is at East Lansing Sept. 23 against Houston.

'67 Spartans Are Lighter Over-All Than '66 Squad

EAST LANSING, Mich. — First- stringers on Michigan State's 1967 football squad go lighter collectively than their counterparts on the Spartan's unbeaten 1966 Big Ten championship team.

Spartans Lead 5 Grid Foes

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Michigan State holds all-time series edges over five of its 1967 football foes. The Spartans are even with a sixth opponent, trail three others and start one new series this fall.

State leads Ohio State (5-2-0), Indiana (15-5-1), Wisconsin (7-6-0), Purdue (11-9-1) and Northwestern (8-3-0).

MSU is deadlocked with Southern California (1-1-0) and is behind Michigan 18-36-5, Notre Dame (14-17-1) and Minnesota (4-5-0). New on the schedule this fall is Houston.

ers had their official weigh-in Tuesday shows the biggest changes are with the defensive unit.

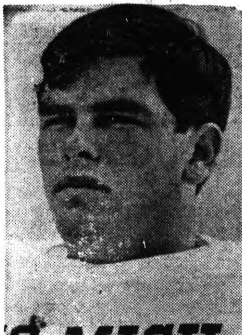

Coach Duffy Daugherty's current defensive line regulars average out to 219 pounds per man, compared to the 229-pound average of the 1966 defensive unit. The defensive backs this fall average 186 pounds as contrasted to the 190-pound average of a year ago.

On the offensive line this fall, the average turns up at 210 pounds per man. One year ago it was 212 pounds per player.

In the backfield this year's average is 194 pounds, and in 1966 it was 196 pounds.

The big men among Spartan regulars this fall are offensive tackle Joe Przybycki of Detroit at 244 pounds and defensive guard Roger Ruminski of Walled Lake at 241 pounds.

Heaviest of all players is second string defensive guard Lawrence (Tody) Smith of Beaumont, Texas, the brother of Bubba Smith, who tipped the scales at 269 pounds.

WILDCAT — Former West Bloomfield star Rick Hacht is a defensive end regular for Northern Michigan. The Wildcats opened their season last Saturday.

Pontiac Junior Veteran of N. Michigan Defense

MARQUETTE — Four first-year men were in Northern Michigan's defensive line when the Wildcats opened the football season at the University of Northern Iowa last Saturday.

The freshman defensive quartet includes Jim Kemp of Grand Rapids, Phil Milkie of Dearborn, Ron Fandrick of Manitowick, Wis., and Mike Skrocki of Windsor, Mass.

Kemp, 6-2, 209 pounds, has moved to the number one right end position. Milkie, 6-3 and 237, is at right tackle and

Sign Says 'Help Wanted' at Ferris State College

BIG RAPIDS — In front of the fieldhouse at Ferris State College there's a "Help Wanted" sign, and it's directed to any and all good football players.

The Bulldogs' new coach, Bob Leach, put it there in hopes of luring choice football talent to fill key positions on the 1967 squad. Only half a dozen regulars are among the 11 lettermen returning from the '66 season. "We can use help at every position," said Leach, "particularly if they're big or fast and especially if they're both."

Leach indicated the lack of speed in the backfield will cause a few changes in strategy, but without size in the line the Bulldogs will be in trouble.

Eligibility losses and graduation have removed all the prime candidates for the quarter back post, and Leach has moved halfback Jack Spencer into this position in early practices. Spencer (180, junior) made a similar move last fall when the same situation arose, but he switched back before the season started.

Returning halfbacks Dennis Bobb (200, senior) and Ralph Snook (190, sophomore) provided the power running last season, along with fullback Al Moss (215, senior). Moss was voted the team's Most Valuable Player for the '66 season.

Gary Warner (170, sophomore), another returning halfback will operate again from a defensive-back slot where he was voted the team's Most Improved Player for the 1966 season.

In the line, Leach faces a problem of beefing-up the interior. Only Ron Harke (185, junior) and Ron Shirely (165, junior) have varsity experience.

Back row includes Tom Sirbaugh of Our Lady, Mel Patterson of Kettering and Bob Lorenz of Farmington. Patterson is co-captain of the Hillsdale team.

Line Construction Under Way at Hope

HOLLAND — The Flying Dutchmen of Hope College, with 17 returning lettermen, open the 1967 football season Sept. 16 with Augustana at Rock Island, Ill. Hope posted 3 wins and 4 defeats last year.

Head Coach Russ De Vette, in his 13th season at Hope, said the biggest rebuilding task is on the line where reserves and freshmen will be used.

Hope began football drills last week with 52 candidates reporting. The first Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association contest is Oct. 7 at Alma.

BRONCO PROSPECTS—Chuck Andrews (71) of Milford and Randy Deiner of Rochester, a pair of sophomore tackles, talk over prospects with Western Michigan head coach Bill Doolittle. The Broncos were co-champs of the Mid-American Conference last year and are rated a top contender this fall.

Mid-American Loop Race Is Wide Open

KALAMAZOO — Western Michigan University's football team starts in a big way this season.

The Broncos have an early Mid-American Conference showdown with Miami in the opening game Saturday.

Head coach Bill Doolittle, last year's Mid-American Conference coach of the year, had 83 candidates when drills opened.

Among them are 29 lettermen from the 1966 team that posted a 7-3 record and tied with Miami for the conference title.

Included among the returnees are last season's top runner, top passer and best kicker.

Junior Tim Majerle led the Broncos in rushing last season with 731 yards while senior quarterback Jim Boreland was the top passer with 47 completions for 756 yards and eight touchdowns.

BIG KICK

Senior Dale Livingston ranked as one of the top kickers in the nation last season. He had a 40.1-yard punting average on 57 kicks and also booted 16 extra points and five field goals.

The top loss from last season was defensive tackle Bob Rowe, a two-time M.A.C. lineman of the year who is now playing with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League.

fensive coach Bill Odykirk, Dave Farris, Ken McCarter, Larry Michalek and offensive coach Herb Deromedi. Both Odykirk and Deromedi are former coaches at Royal Oak Kimball.

County Gridders Stack CMU Chips

Special to The Press

MT. PLEASANT — Oakland County is well represented on this year's Central Michigan University football team under new head coach Roy Kramer.

Leading the contingent are three returning lettermen, two of which have received Interstate Conference honors. They are quarterback Bob Miles (Royal Oak Kimball) and tailback Jim Acitelli (North Farmington).

Miles was the Chips starting quarterback last fall, and a first team IIAC selection. Acitelli was the team's third leading ground gainer last year, and two years ago was also an IIAC first team choice. He was hampered by an ankle injury last fall that kept him out of four games.

The other returning letterman is junior Larry Michalek (Royal Oak Kimball), who is expected to be a starting defensive halfback for the Chips this fall.

Rounding out the Oakland County contingent are four sophomores, and all four are given a good chance by the coaching staff to see plenty of action this fall.

They are Jim Gallery and Ken McCarter, both of Royal Oak Kimball, Fred Ferguson (Walled Lake) and Dave Farris (Waterford Township). All four are offensive linemen and all played considerably as freshmen last fall.

Ferguson and Farris are given the best chance to start this year, Ferguson at guard and Farris at tackle. McCarter is expected to be the second string center, and Gallery will work behind Ferguson.

The Chips will open their season on Saturday against Bradley University in Mt. Pleasant.

'M' Special Dates

Band Day at the University of Michigan is Saturday September 23 when the Wolverines host Duke University.

Homecoming date at Ann Arbor is Oct. 21 with Indiana as the Big 10 foe.

17 Lettermen on Tech Eleven

Head Coach Lucier
Greet 70 Players

HOUGHTON — Head Coach Bill Lucier of Michigan Tech greeted 70 candidates including 17 lettermen.

When asked what shape the candidates were in when they reported to camp, Lucier broke out with a broad grin. "Excellent — they really look in fine condition. Trainer Bob Young tells me only five or six boys are overweight, and not by very much.

So our "fat man's" table will not be overcrowded at this time.

"I am certainly impressed by the way our young men took care of themselves this summer. In fact, several players came in too light. I guess we will have to institute a 'thin man's' table to put some beef on these lads."

Losing Streak May Continue

ADRIAN — Football at Adrian has been a losing proposition since 1948 and the string is expected to continue.

The Bulldogs have a fair nucleus of tested veterans but they will be susceptible to injuries. This happened last year when the team ran off three straight wins and then lost five in a row.

Fullback Bob Apisa missed two games and most of a third but led Michigan State in scoring last season with nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Top Quarterback Will Lead Scots

ALMA — All-MIAA quarterback Chris Clark returns to lead Alma's bid for a conference football championship.

The Scots tied Olivet for second place last season and have visions of supplanting Albion as conference kingpin.

Clemson, W. Virginia Conference Choices

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — The football "happenings" in the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conferences will occur at Clemson and West Virginia.

Clemson, with hardnose Coach Frank Howard, skinny 154-pound quarterback Jimmy Addison, and defensive linemen Harold Olszewski and Wayne Mass, is loaded with talent and should handily win the AAC title.

After the Tigers, North Carolina State, Wake Forest and Duke appear to be the chief AAC contenders.

State Coach Earle Edwards has some speedy runners to go with passer Jim Donnan and split end Harry Martell, and a defense led by Dennis Byrd, a pre-season All-America pick.

Wake Forest boasts swift end Butch Henry, halfback Jimmy Johnson and defensive tackle Robert Grant. Bill Tate's Deacons may be one of the best in years.

Duke's second-year Coach Tom Harp will depend on fullback Jay Calabrese, quarterback Al Woodall and split end Jake Devonshire to move the Blue Devils.

South Carolina's Paul Dietzel says he has the ACC's best backfield, headed by quarterback Mike Fair, and he'll need it to improve last year's 1-9 record. North Carolina has another new coach, Bill Dooley, quarterback Jeff Beaver and a possible good season ahead.

GOOD SOPHOMORES

Virginia is sparked by halfback Frank Quayle and some good sophomores who might surprise. Maryland has its fourth coach, Bob Ward, in as many years. It doesn't have quarterback Alan Pastrana because of a knee injury.

At Morgantown, W. Va., the Mountaineers are preparing for their annual ritual of clobbering their Southern rivals. Running back Garrett Ford gained 1,068 yards rushing last year and figures to add many more this fall.

William and Mary, the Southern Conference's co-champion, could provide some competition with quarterback Mike Madden, as could East Carolina, which utilizes the single wing.

The Citadel might provide some competition under the tutelage of fundamentalist Red Parker. Davidson has passer Jimmy Poole and little else. Richmond will be rebuilding again under new Coach Frank Jones. Vito Ragazzo's Virginia Military Institute team appears headed for another long season and Furman no longer provides grants-in-aid.

Picks Packers Against Dallas in NFL Race

Green Bay Figured for Second Trip to Super Bowl

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Green Bay versus Los Angeles in Western Division showdown of the National Football League and Dallas versus Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division!

That's the way the new conference forecast looks in the NFL this season.

The Western Division has the Central and Coastal Conferences and once again it looks like Green Bay will win it all from the NFL to the Super-Bowl.

The Detroit Lions' will have their days of reckoning fast in the Central Conference, having to play the Packers twice in the first four games.

The Lions could finish second in the Central conference with Minnesota and Chicago following in order.

In the Coastal Conference, the Rams appear to have most of the power, but it should be a tough race with San Francisco, Baltimore and the surprising Atlanta Falcons comprising the other members.

Pittsburgh is the new look of the Eastern Division and the Steelers and St. Louis Cardinals should battle for honors in the Century Conference.

This may be the year for the Steelers to show their wrath against such old rivals as the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants.

In the Capitol section of the Eastern Division, Dallas is the power, but Washington appears to be a strong challenger.

The New Orleans, surprises of the exhibition season, could be troublesome as should the improved Eagles.

All in all, the new sectional setup will produce some keen races and the difference in standings may come from the Inter-League contest between the teams.

Biggest jolt in the Eastern Division was the service call of quarterback Charly Johnson of the Cardinals. Up to that point, the Cards were certainly the team to beat in the Century section.

Now St. Louis must concede the favorite's role to Pittsburgh.

There seems to be little doubt about Green Bay with or without Bart Starr on occasions. Zeke Bratkowski has filled Starr's shoes adequately many times when the all-pro signal caller was out with injuries.

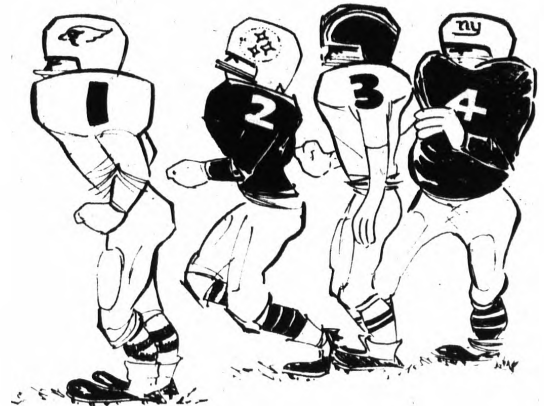

Here are the NFL Forecasts for 1967:

WESTERN DIVISION

'67 NFL Report Cards

Pre-season report cards on NFL teams as issued by the NEA show the top "A" grades to go to Green Bay's pass and linebacking department.

Other "A" marks have been accorded to Washington's receivers and St. Louis' secondary.

A-minus grades go to Packers' secondary, Detroit's receiving, Baltimore's passing and receiving, Minnesota's receiving, San Francisco's running, Los Angeles defensive line, Cleveland's receivers, St. Louis receivers, Washington's passing and Philadelphia's running.

NOW COACH — Paul Hornung of the New Orleans Saints is on the sidelines now. A neck injury forced his retirement. Hornung is an assistant backfield coach. His old Green Bay running mate Jim Taylor (31) is also with the Saints.

Ex-Wolverine Pleases NFL Colts as Safety

WESTMINSTER, Md. (NEA) — Rick Volk, who weighs 191 pounds, doesn't have the girth, the notoriety nor the checking account to match Charles (Bubba) Smith, who outweighs him by 100 pounds and a couple of tons of newspaper clippings.

Everybody knows Bubba of Michigan State, the first choice of all the college football players of 1966. Volk of Michigan still has trouble reminding people his name is Rick, not Richie.

Both are rookies in the camp of the Baltimore Colts. If you had to figure out one new man likely to be in the starting lineup of the Colts when the regular season opens, it would be Volk. That's not to demean Bubba, who'll play a lot of defensive tackle.

But it does indicate the special status of Volk, a safety man who conjures up an image of homemade apple pie and pancakes smothered in maple syrup, Saturday night movies and picnics in a wooded grove. He is clear-eyed and smooth-cheeked, with a short tilted nose and a smile that shows white.

He couldn't be more pure mid-American if he were framed by a billboard.

He even has an uncle, Bob Cappius, who preceded him at Michigan as an All-American halfback.

The Colts, however, couldn't care less about his genealogy.

Their regular free safety last year, Alvin Haymond, popped a chronically dislocated shoulder early in training camp, which created an instant opening for Rick.

He was a second-round selection in last spring's college draft after having specialized as a defensive back at Michigan, including a starting role as a sophomore in the Rose Bowl game.

"I wanted to go to Michigan so bad," says Rick, who grew up outside Toledo, Ohio. "that I said I'd be satisfied just to sit on the bench. Once I got there as a freshman, I wanted to play."

He isn't satisfied just to be a Colt. He wants to play. That shows you how a kid will change.

"When the Colts drafted me," he recalls, "I got to thinking about seeing them play last year. I knew Haymond had a bad shoulder because I remembered he'd make a hard tackle and then come up holding his shoulder. So when I asked them where they expected to play me, they said, 'Right safety.'"

And Rick wasn't surprised. He's a rangy 6-2 specimen with good speed who started out as a quarterback but was quickly switched to defense when it was obvious he'd do anything to "play for Michigan."

At the College All-Star camp, which delayed his service with the Colts, he was rated by the scouts as the best all-round athlete among the high-priced talent preparing for pro debuts.

When you have this special kind of ability, it takes unique mentality to accept the relative anonymity of a defensive secondary player. Rick, at 22, has the wondrous look of a tourist wandering about classic Greek colonnades. He's delighted the Colts accept him as part of the scenery.

Comets Eying MIAA Crown

OLIVET — Olivet missed the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association football championship by a point last season.

The Comets are preparing to atone for the 7-6 setback to Albion and they may do it.

Olivet is strong in the backfield with quarterback Al Nagy able to feed the ball to running backs Bob Jansen, Terry Dawson and Dave Price.

Bill Hay of Darmouth made 33 points last season. He kicked 30 extra points and one field goal.

BEN DAVIDSON

Big Ben Davidson Mustachioed Raider

OAKLAND, Calif. (NEA) — Once a week during the football season, Ben Davidson gives his handlebar mustache a twirl and goes out to play the role of a "heavy" for the Oakland Raiders.

Ben hasn't tied any heroines to the railroad tracks, but he has intimidated most of the quarterbacks in the American Football League.

His nickname is "The Tree." It is an excellent description. Ben Davidson is 6-8, 280-pounds.

It is natural for people who have seen Ben rush a quarterback to think of him as a man of violence, a man who exists to destroy. That is the way the publicity men like to picture Ben.

The picture isn't accurate, though.

Ben Davidson is, by his own admission, one of the "easier going" players in professional football. "Football," he says, "is a good way to make money."

As soon as football season ends—and the money is in the bank — Ben Davidson, individualist, is free to do what he enjoys most: travel.

His transportation usually is by motorcycle, which must be quite a sight because how many times do you see a 6-8, 280-pound football player with a handlebar mustache zooming down the highway?

LOOKS LIKE CAGER

Ben enjoys the countryside and the people he meets along the way. "Maybe my height has something to do with it," he said "but people always start conversations with me. I don't mind. They think I'm a basketball player."

The mustache is another conversation piece. Ben has a beauty. He once had a beard, too, but Al Davis, the former Oakland coach, made him shave it off.

"Around here people don't think too much about a beard or a mustache," Ben said. "Berkley, you know, is just a few miles away. I think people wonder if I'm a beatnik. If I am, I'm the highest paid beatnik around."

Ben's fondness for mustaches and beards comes from his dislike of shaving. His fondness for travel dates back to his youth in East Los Angeles. "My father used to take me to all the national parks on camping trips," Ben said.

Then during his stay at the University of Washington, Ben majored in geography, earning his degree in 1961.

"One of the things I like about football," Ben said, "is the opportunity it gives me to travel. When I was with the Washington Redskins (1961-1962) I drove across the country going through Canada and returning by way of Florida, the Gulf Coast — the whole southern route."

"I like to boast that by the time I was 23, I was in every state in the continental United States."

His favorite country for traveling is Mexico. "East Los Angeles has a lot of Mexican people," Ben said. "They have a good outlook on life. They like to take things easy, and so do I."

McGraw to Start for MIAA Grid Champ Albion

ALBION — Former West Bloomfield star Vaughn McGraw is slated to be a starter for Albion College this season as the Britons prepare to defend their Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship.

The senior halfback was a regular last season.

Other backfield returnees include quarterback Dick Vanderlinde and defensive line stand-out Jim Dobbins.

With over 50 candidates out for the squad, Coach Morley Fraser has the largest team—numerically—in the league.

Slippery Rock Grid Favorite

The college football season will be fast upon us, and as yet, not one national magazine has given us a word on what to expect from everyone's sentimental favorite, Slippery Rock College.

Everybody is an alumnus of Slippery Rock, the school with the fetchingly named of a fine school in the country.

There are folks who root for Slippery Rock who have no idea where it is. There are many who think there is no Slippery Rock College, and don't realize that it's really a fine school in Western Pennsylvania that has won more than its share of games over the years.

It's located 50 miles north of Pittsburgh and 17 miles east of Butler, hometown of Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame's fine quarterback.

While ABC has no plans to televise any Slippery Rock games this season, the scores will be of interest to most football fans.

Sports announcers from coast to coast and on armed forces radio networks around the world report the Slippery Rock scores with extra relish as a snapper after hum-drumming through the action in the Big Ten Mid-American, Southeast, etc.

SLIPPERY ROCK

The Slippery Rock campus is 410 acres of rolling land in a rural setting. Kids still ride horses along the roadsides approaching the school, and you'll see familiar Mail Pouch Tobacco signs on the barnsides. Farmers still sell corn and potatoes along the highways.

BUILDING PROGRAM

It's a typical small college in the country now, but new buildings are sprouting everywhere in a $36 million dollar building program, and by 1970, some 5,600 students are expected to enroll.

The liberal arts program is the fastest-growing part of the school, but it is still primarily a teachers college. Until 1960 it was called Slippery Rock State Teachers College. Originally it was known as Slippery Rock Normal School.

The town of Slippery Rock is named for Slippery Rock Creek in Butler County. There are two favorite stories of how the creek came by its name.

In 1779 a certain Colonel Daniel Broadhead was in command of Fort Pitt at the present site of Pittsburgh. Colonel Broadhead begged General Washington to permit him to lead an expedition against the Senecas who were raiding towns in Western Pennsylvania.

The troops crossed the creek at a place where there were very large, smooth, level rocks in the bed of the stream. The water was slick and oily. Coal mining and gas developments some years later were the primary industries of the area.

The horse of John Ward slipped and fell, severely injuring the rider. The soldiers called the creek Slippery Rock.

HIT LIMELIGHT

Slippery Rock hit the national limelight in 1936, when wire-service polls rated the football team of Minnesota No. 1, Pitt No. 2. In the uproar that followed, some smart guy knocked out a piece of sports satire that proved even back then, that football ratings don't have all the answers.

What the guy did was dig up season scores, which proved to him at least that Slippery Rock was No. 1 in the nation because the team that beat West Virginia Wesleyan which beat Duquesne, 2-0, which in turn beat Pitt, 7-0, which beat Notre Dame, 26-0, which beat Northwestern, 26-6, which beat Minnesota, 6-0, so there.

Pitt went on to whip Washington, 21-0, in the Rose Bowl that year, and Slippery Rock, as usual, stayed home for the holidays.

Then there's another story that says the Delaware Indians called the Stream "Weschchachapohka," that is a slippery rock.

Sophomore Grid Stars Hold Future

By BOB HOOBING
The Associated Press

From 5-foot-7, 144-pound Dan McKissic to 6-5 and 306-pound Willie Crittendon, college football's new-comers are about to burst onto the varsity scene. The names for you to remember start with Orange Juice Simpson and Vince Opalsky.

Both are extremely impressive halfbacks destined for headlines.

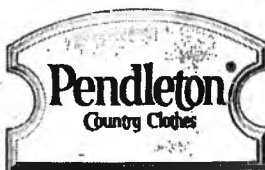

Southern California's O. J. Simpson, actually a junior college transfer with a 9.3-yard average from San Francisco City College, has a 9.5 sprint clocking and notable track relay credentials to go with his 6-1½, 203 measurements.

Tried at setback, flanker and end, Simpson carried 24 times for 135 yards and caught two passes for 49 more in a spring scrimmage, prompting a beaming Coach John McKay to offer: "He's a tough kid — and has to be one of the fastest big guys of all time."

Opalsky is a sophomore find indeed to the University of Miami and although he has hustled his 6-2, and 206 pounds for 100 yards in ONLY 9.8, Charlie Tate isn't even whimpering.

Vince, from Turtle Creek, Pa. holds the Miami Freshman rushing record and in the spring windup ran and caught for 117 yards.

KC Chiefs' Foes Expect Trouble

KANSAS CITY (NEA) — Aaron Brown stands 6-5. He weighs 275 pounds and he can run 40 yards in 4.5 seconds.

Hank Stram, the Kansas City Chiefs' coach, has decided to make a fullback of Aaron Brown.

"What a gruesome sight if you're a linebacker," says impish Mike Garrett, Aaron Brown's roommate.

A year ago, Aaron Brown joined the Chiefs as their first draft choice and an All-American defensive end (University of Minnesota).

Like so many other rookie All-Americans, he just had too much to learn before moving the incumbent, Chuck Hurston, out of the Chiefs' lineup.

Aaron Brown spent the season on the bench.

To Hank Stram, a 6-5, 275-pound benchwarmer is a waste. Thus, the decision to make Brown a fullback.

"I knew Aaron was a good offensive player," Stram says, "because he was a tight end in college."

That meant he had to have good hands and he had to be a good blocker. He also played fullback in high school so why not take a chance and play him there now?"

Although he has been hampered by a severe Charley horse, Brown seems to be making the switch easily.

"Besides," says the inventive Stram, "where can you find a fullback his size who can run as fast as he can?"

Nowhere.

Lions Picked 2nd in Central

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

By old divisional listing of NFL teams, the Lions would have considered themselves fortunate to finish with a 7-7 record and possibly 5th place in the Western Division.

With the new breakdown of divisions into four sectors however, the picture as far as standing looks brighter and the Lions should have enough to finish second in the Central Section behind Green Bay, but ahead of Minnesota and Chicago.

Playing the Bears and Vikings twice, rather than the LA Rams, 49ers or Colts could be called a good break in the schedule, and the Lions should be able to call it a successful season with an 8-6 mark in the first season under head coach Joe Schmidt.

After seven years it won't seem the same without big Roger Brown in the defensive front four. The "Fearsome Foursome" has changed faces again with Jerry Rush and Dennis Moore vying for the job vacated by the trade by Brown to the LA Rams.

The Lions aren't hurting defensively, which should finish among the top five in the NFL.

But, offensively it is obvious with the many faces which have come and gone since camp started in July, that the offensive line has serious weaknesses.

The quarterbacking is another big question. The asking points are, "Can Milt Plum come back and regain some of the confidence he thought he once had" and "Is Karl Sweeten the field leader he adequately showed in the second half of 1966 as a rookie?"

BIG BOOST

Mel Farr will be a big boost to the running game; the receivers have good depth with the blossoming of Bill Malinchak and John Henderson and the punting situation is strong with Pat Studdill's big shoe.

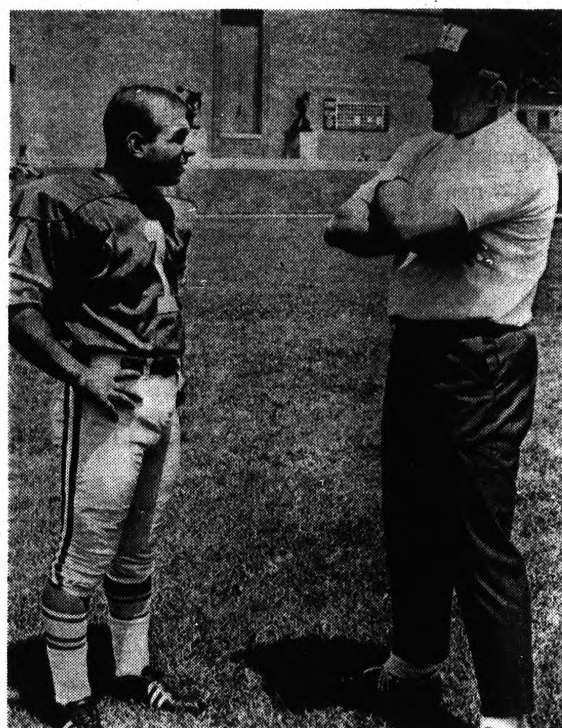

If the Lions can take one of the two games from the Packers, whom they meet twice in the first four weeks, it could provide them with the confidence they need to go with their "new attitude."

Veterans like Alex Karras, John Gordy, Jim Gibbons, Ron Kramer and Daris McCord admit the outlook as far as team unity is far better than it has been for several years. They'll have a chance to prove this early against Green Bay, Cleveland, St. Louis, Chicago and San Francisco.

Falcons Big Business to Atlanta's Economy

ATLANTA (NEA) — Next time the debate begins about professional football being a sport first and a business second, keep these facts in mind:

• A total of $4.9 million was spent in direct connection with the Atlanta Falcons football team last fall.

• Approximately $2.9 million was spent by 143,000 out-of-town fans who comprise 32 per cent of the total attendance.

Fifty-seven per cent of the out-of-town fans were Georgians with the remainder coming from South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, North Carolina and Florida.

The average distance traveled was 162 miles. Eighty-three per cent of these fans dined in Atlanta. Thirty per cent stayed two nights in public accommodations.

• The 299,000 local fans spent most of their money at the stadium, with more than 82 per cent of their expenditures entering the Atlanta economy through the Falcons.

Broken down, the expenditures are:

Item	Amount	Per Cent
Food	$957,000	19
Lodging	$508,000	10
Entertainment	$386,000	8
Concessions	$354,000	7
Gasoline	$277,000	6
Shopping	$175,000	4
Parking	$169,000	2
Transit buses	$38,000	1
Taxis	$6,000	0
Chartered buses	$50,000	1
Game (team revenues spent in Atlanta)	$2,973,000	42
TOTAL	$4,932,000	100

Estimates of the economic base multiplier for Atlanta indicates that new money spent in Atlanta results in up to 3.3 times the original amount in incomes for Atlantans," the report said.

"On this basis the direct expenditures listed above would eventually mean up to $16.2 million in additional incomes for Atlantans."

would your tires be safe at 100 mph ?

The Dunlop Gold Seal is certified safe at 100 mph. So you're sure you're safe at 60, 70, or 80. And yet, the Gold Seal is still popularly priced.

And there's more safety to the Gold Seal. It has treads on the sides. Safety-Shoulders. They take the fight out of a tight turn, carry you smoothly up and over center lines or road shoulders without a lurch. They're patented*.

Then the Gold Seal has what tire men call a low profile. That means a 15% larger footprint area. More of the Gold Seal's wide tread is always on the road for better traction, greater safety, more miles of wear.

Doesn't the Gold Seal sound like a choice tire for a change?

Stop in soon. We would appreciate the opportunity to show you that Dunlop quality costs no more.

Every Dunlop tire meets or exceeds every official specification for safe performance.

Macklem With Club 32 Years

Lions Have Own Right Hand Man 'Friday'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Robinson Crusoe had his boy Friday as his right hand man, and the Detroit Lions have theirs.

He's Roy "Friday" Macklem, whose service to the Lions and in pro football is surpassed only by the dean of the NFL, George "Papa" Halas.

"Papa" and "Friday" have been around since the cradle year of the NFL in 1934, and since 1936 Macklem has held every title synonymous as the man in sole charge of equipment.

His official title in the club directory is Equipment Manager, but like most men in his profession, titular abuses from pro players have existed.

There are those who would still question the position of Equipment Manager as a profession, and colleges may yet not be offering degrees in the field, but the knowledge of sizes, handling, cleaning, repairing, transporting or purchasing special gear for all shapes and sizes of professional athletes is not learned overnight or in six easy lessons.

"I remember when a big squad was 18 players and most of them took care of their own equipment," said Friday, "now with the big traveling squads and equipment valued at $50,000, all purchased by the company, the only thing players are concerned about is putting the equipment on and taking it off."

Born in Ontario, he came to Michigan at the age of seven and was later a student manager at Eastern High in Detroit.

At the same time in 1933 he handled the equipment for the Detroit Indians a semi-pro team, and then helped Abe Kushner with the Lions in 1934.

CALLED FOR JOB

When Kushner was "elevated" to trainer in 1936, Macklem was offered the equipment manager's job and he has been the Lions' top seniority employee since.

His first salary was $25 per week through the contributions of the players, but later owner Dick Richards put him on the payroll for $15, so he was making $40 with what the players gave him.

Eleven Lion head coaches have come and gone and in the past 31 years only Friday still remains to recall the prosperous and the stormy seasons of Detroit pro football.

In 1964, after serving "27 years on probation as equipment manager" Friday was placed on the club payroll full-time, using much of his off-season time on the banquet circuit promoting the Lions.

BIG CONCERN

Biggest concern for the equipment manager today is being sure that every piece of equipment, worn by the players or used in the game, can be replaced or repaired immediately.

The biggest fear is the possible loss of luggage and equipment bags in today's long distance travel.

On a trip to St. Louis, one big trunk ended up in Chicago necessitating the purchase of a complete set of practice jerseys.

In Buffalo, three players' bags were stolen and in Dallas for a game several equipment bags were lost.

"When these things happen, no one cares about why they are not at the right place at the right time, but where are the replacements for the game," said Macklem.

Because of the specific numbers to players, jerseys are the big items of concern.

Friday is a dictionary of numbers and past Lions' players. Officially, only two Lions' jersey numbers have been retired, No. 37 of Doak Walker and No. 56 of Joe Schmidt.

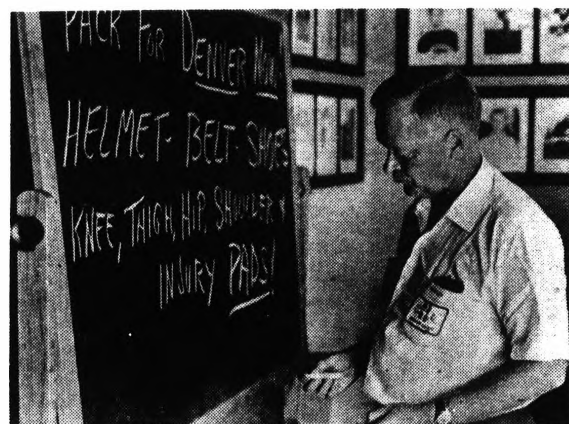

CLOSE TAB — Keeping constant tab on all equipment and needed replacements is a constant task for equipment manager Friday Macklem of the Lions.

CORRECT FIT — Shoes are a big item of concern to be sure of perfect fit.

SHAPE AND SIZE — Every size of pro football player means a difference in shapes and sizes of shoulder pads.

TRIP INFORMATION — Every road game means every player must get the word as to the essential travel gear and equipment.

END OF DAY — Long before practice or a game, Friday's work begins. In the still of the

The Denver Broncos may be the surprise team of the American Football League this season, but the mile-high city gridders may not have enough to win any titles in the Western Division.

Kansas City, the super-bowl team, is still the team to beat in the AFL, and not even Buffalo, favored in the East may be able to do it.

It may take another NFL super-bowl defeat to stop the KC Chiefs.

Oakland is regarded the strongest challenger to Kansas City in the West with Denver and San Diego battling for the second division of the conference.

The New York Jets must be regarded closest challengers to Buffalo in the East, and the Miami Dolphins may pull a few surprises to get as high as third.

Boston and Houston are destined to fight it out for the bottom positions.

SHOCK NFL

Denver, which has been the league's weakest link up to now, shocked the football world by defeating two NFL foes, the Detroit Lions and Minnesota Vikings in exhibition play.

Lou Saban, who performed similar miracles at Buffalo a few years back, has the Broncos sky high and in strong competitive spirit with his all-new backfield of quarterback Steve Tensi, fullback Cookie Gilchrist and halfback Floyd Little.

Al Denson is a solid receiver and was the star of Denver's opening win of the season over Boston, 26-21.

San Diego, has some outstanding names on offense, but the Chargers' defense is porous.

Kansas City still has all of its power of 1966 with Len Dawson throwing to Otis Taylor and Chris Burford and with the running of Mike Garrett.

AFTER NO. 4

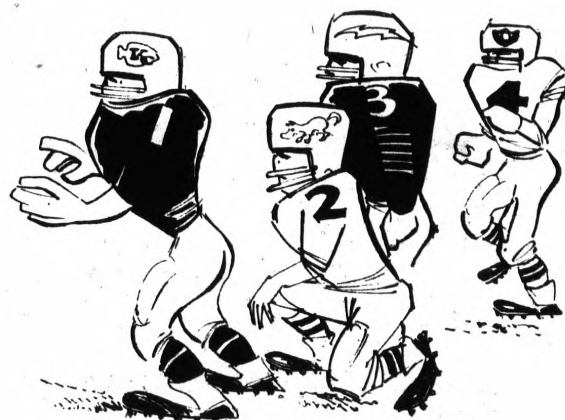

Four straight divisional titles is the aim of the Buffalo Bills who are solid on defense but show some weaknesses on offense.

Everyone is waiting for Joe Namath to explode but it doesn't appear to be this year. There's something lacking for a solid offense and defensively the Jets are even more vulnerable.

Miami coach George Wilson, pulled a couple of surprises during exhibition play and the Dolphins will be improved but not enough to make a strong bid in the East.

THE FORECAST:

East	West
1. Buffalo	1. Kansas City
2. New York	2. Oakland
3. Miami	3. Denver
4. Boston	4. San Diego

Summary: The NEA picks Buffalo and the Oakland Raiders for the divisional champions in the AFL, denoting that Kansas City, the super-bowl representative may have a definite weakness in the secondary. The report card on Denver was issued before the acquisition of quarterback Steve Tensi from San Diego.

All No. 1 Draft Choices Picked in AFL Report

Each AFL club will be bringing to camp, for the first time in league history, a No. 1 draft selection.

While six National Football League teams had traded away their top pick by draft time, all nine AFL clubs held onto their first-round selections.

Houston, which had two first-round selections, will be taking Michigan State linebacker George Webster and Notre Dame guard Tom Regner to camp.

The other No. 1s who will be battling for spots are Purdue defensive back John Charles (Boston), Arizona State flanker John Pitts (Buffalo), Syracuse halfback Floyd Little (Denver), Miami, Fla., defensive tackle Gene Trosch (Kansas City), Purdue quarterback Bob Griese (Miami), Notre Dame guard Paul Seiler (New York), Texas A & I guard-tackle Gene Upshaw (Oakland) and Wyoming defensive tackle Ron Billingsley (San Diego).

Charles, incidentally, is the first player in AFL history to be selected as a defensive backfield specialist on the first round.

Unofficial Record

Western Michigan University's Dale Livingston, one of the nation's top collegiate kickers, is as sharp as ever. In a pre-season scrimmage, the Bronco senior from Plymouth booted a 47-yard field goal, two yards beyond the school record he set two years ago.

During Coach's Interview

Replies Differ for Winner, Loser

NEW YORK (AP) — For the players, the exhibition football season can be a gut-busting, nerve-wracking, emotion-shattering experience as they try to win a place on the team and get in top condition at the same time.

But for coaches and reporters, the weeks before the season opens offer up an even greater horror: The post game interview.

During the season, when the games have some importance, these sessions can be pretty dull. After exhibition games, as the clichés mount up at a dizzying rate, they're deadly.

Thus it was with great relief that we recently received from Don Weiss, director of information for the National Football League, a questionnaire making these interviews obsolete.

Under Weiss' system, the reporter merely hands a list of quotes to the coach, who circles the one fitting the situation and expressing his opinion.

REPLIES GIVEN

There is a separate list for winners and losers and it goes like this:

Winner — "Like I've always said, skill and hard work pay off every time."

Loser — "In this game, skill and hard work only take you so far. You've got to be lucky and get the breaks."

Winner — "I knew the minute I saw them, these guys could play football."

Loser — "The only way you are going to find out about kids is to play them."

Winner — "You make your own breaks in this game."

Loser — "A football sure takes some funny bounces."

AFL Crowds Helped by NFL Rivals

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League established an attendance record of 891,722 for its exhibition games this year with slightly more than two-thirds of the total coming from games with the National League.

The previous high mark of 441,394 was set last year with an 18-game schedule. The total for this year was amassed in 29 contests, including 16 inter-league games.

The total for the games with NFL teams was 604,252 while 287,470 witnessed all-AFL exhibition games.

Alumni Help to Alma Mater Is Deductible

WASHINGTON (AP) — A non-profit alumni group which subsidizes its alma mater's football training table may be exempt from the federal income taxes, the Internal Revenue Service ruled Wednesday.

This subsidy, IRS said, furthers the university's educational program.

As is its policy, IRS Withheld the name of the university and the alumni group in publishing the ruling in its weekly bulletin.

IRS said the organization's main activity is to subsidize a training table for coaches and university athletes. The group pays the cost of meals beyond what the university itself allocates for the training table.

Membership in the group is open to former students of the university and money is obtained from dues and contributions.

Since the group's purpose and activity furthers the university's educational program by providing necessary services to athletes and coaches, it qualifies for a tax exemption, IRS said. It must first file an application for the exemption with a district director of internal revenue.

Rebuilding Task for New Coach

KALAMAZOO — A major rebuilding task faces new coach Ed Baker at Kalamazoo College.

Only four tested players returned led by passing ace Rick Russell. Roffa Anderson retired as coach after last season and Baker moved in from Haverford prep.

Steeler Fans Startled By Ballman Deal

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Coach Bill Austin has the cool of a gambler but he believes a trade which startled Pittsburgh Steeler fans carries all the odds for his squad.

The Steelers traded away end Gary Ballman, their top receiver, to the Philadelphia Eagles for fullback Earl Gros, guard Bruce Van Dyke and rookie Rockne Freitas, a 6-foot-6, 265-pound lineman, from Oregon State.

Austin was an assistant to Coach Vince Lombardi at Green Bay when the Packers drafted Gros as their No. 1 choice.

"Not only can Gros run," Austin said, "but he can block. We needed a big running back and I know Gros can handle the assignment."

GROS, ASBURY COMPETE

But Austin said Gros must fight it out with Bill Asbury for the fullback spot.

"Gros has more speed than Asbury but that's the only difference," Austin said. "There will be times when we'll use Gros and Asbury together. Gros can shift to halfback."

Austin thinks if the Steelers can improve their running game they will be a contender this season. The Steelers, now in their 35th season in the league, have yet to win a championship.

Champs Tough Home or Away

Toughest to beat at home in the National Football League last season were the toughest to beat anywhere — the champion Green Bay Packers and the Eastern Conference champion Dallas Cowboys, each with 6-1 records.

The same teams ranked one-two in road performance, Green Bay 6-1 away and Dallas 4-2-1.

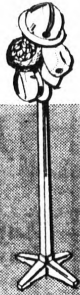

Three teams, Baltimore, Cleveland and Philadelphia, had identical home-road records — each winning five and losing two at home and each going 4-3 in away games.

Three oddities were the St. Louis Cardinals, who were 5-1-1 at home but 3-4 away; the Chicago Bears, who won four, lost one and tied two at home but 1-6 on the road; and San Francisco 4-2-1 at home and 2-4-1 on road.

Here are the home and away records for the 1966 season:

	Home			Away
Green Bay	6	1	0	6	1	0
Dallas	4	2	1	4	2	1
Baltimore	5	2	0	4	3	0
Philadelphia	5	2	0	4	3	0
Cleveland	5	2	0	4	3	0
St. Louis	5	1	1	3	4	0
Los Angeles	5	2	0	3	4	0
San Francisco	4	2	1	2	4	1
Chicago	4	1	2	1	6	0
Washington	4	2	0	3	4	0
Pittsburgh	4	3	1	1	5	1
Detroit	3	4	0	2	4	1
Minnesota	2	5	0	1	5	1
Atlanta	1	6	0	0	6	1
New York	1	6	0	0	6	1

Atlanta's only injury in the 1966 win over Minnesota was to tight end Billy Martin. He suffered frostbite of the big toe in the 20-13 win in Minnesota in 23 degree temperatures.

Ypsilanti Picked for Title

F-Birds Seen as Spoilers

Head coach Tom Tracy and the Pontiac Firebirds aren't ready to accept the thinking that the newest team in any athletic league usually finishes last.

The Firebirds are the newest franchise in the Midwest Football League and although they are not picked to win any titles, the F-Birds can be real spoilers for the top challengers.

Ypsilanti and Mt. Clemens are expected to battle it out for the MFL championship this year while the Firebirds, Dayton and Flint are picked for the middle of the pack.

Lansing and the Detroit Downriver Steelers are picked to bring up the tailend of the MFL. Tracy feels that it will take a few games before the young Firebird units jell.

Pontiac's running game is headed by Bill Apisa, a bruising fullback from the University of Hawaii who is the older brother of Bob Apisa, the running star at Michigan State this season.

Apisa, a 225 pounder, has good running support in the backfield with Willie Jones, Larry Goldworthy, and Jack Newton.

The Firebirds have a good corp of receivers in Jim Stewart, Barry Barr, Sam West and Willie Lee Washington, but the big question which will have to be answered is the consistency at quarterback.

Bill Harrington, local school teacher and veteran of two years in the MFL, along with Marty Malatin lead the signal callers.

The defensive unit, except for a lack of depth at line-backer and in the secondary, is expected to hold its own against the high powered offensive teams such as Ypsilanti, Mt. Clemens and Dayton.

Defensive end Don Quinn and cornerback Mike Pryor are the veterans of the units as far as MFL play is concerned. Jon Izer, a rugged Buckeye from the Mansfield area of Ohio, is bulwark of the linebacking trio.

TOP CHALLENGERS

Mt. Clemens has veterans at almost all positions, but Ypsilanti, with former All-America quarterback Steve Juday calling signals should be the top MFL challenger.

The Vikings have the biggest front lines in the league, led by defensive all-league tackle Mike Cunningham. Former Michigan star Tom Cechini tops the Ypsilanti linebacking crew.

Dayton is always strong on defense and the Colts always have an array of tall rangy receivers and defensive backs.

Flint, which for the past two seasons has been the toughest second half-season team in the league, again has its perennial speed to go with its larger numbers this season.

Running star Jim Long, one of the best in the MFL, spearheads the Wildcats' offense with veteran quarterbacks Mace Segal and Ira Edwards calling the plays.

Lansing, always a high scoring team, has defensive problems, while the Detroit Downriver Steelers formerly a River Rouge based-team are still building in their second year in the MFL.

This is the 1967 MFL forecast:

1. Ypsilanti
2. Mt. Clemens
3. Dayton
4. Pontiac
5. Flint
6. Lansing
7. Detroit Downriver

Pontiac History in MFL
Short, Highly Successful

History of the Midwest Football League in Pontiac goes back only three years, but the success this caliber of football has enjoyed, primarily through its acceptance by local fans, is unmatched in MFL cities.

Pontiac Press Photo

BIG F-BIRD — President and founder of the Pontiac Football Company in 1964 is Paul Parks, active in Pontiac athletic promotions and recreation programs.

It as in 1964, that MFL football first made its appearance in Pontiac.

Paul Parks, noted in the city for his active participation in athletics and promotions and for his outstanding record in city recreation baseball as a manager, called together a group of local businessmen to listen to an official of the old United Football League explain what was needed to obtain a UFL franchise.

Frowning on the UFL presentation which called for initial costs in the neighborhood of $100,000, Parks and his group explored other outlets on the theory "it was better to crawl first before trying to run."

A Midwest Football League game was scheduled on an experimental basis in Pontiac, pitting the Macomb Arrows against the Dayton Colts at Wisner Stadium.

The "spur of the moment" game drew 1,400 to Wisner and it was enough encouragement for Parks to found the Pontiac Football Company and negotiate for a franchise for the city.

The year of the fun cars... at Grimaldi Imported Car Co.

TRIUMPH GT-6

It takes more than a sloping rear to make a true fastback sports car. Proof: the new Triumph GT-6 fastback. First, there are the obvious differences. Performance patiently The most important difference, however, is the heritage. GT-6 prototypes have been tested and proven in world-wide competition. (They finished 1-2 in their class after twenty-four grueling hours at Le Mans.) This is your—and our—assurance of a sports car that can meet and conquer any driving challenge. This is why we say the Triumph GT-6 is not just another fastback. It's the fastback.

NEW TRIUMPH SPITFIRE

Take a good look at the long, lean and seductive Spitfire. Under its sexy, eye-appealing body you'll find a spirited engine, 4-speed trans., disc brakes, independent suspension that leaves you hanging cool and smooth.

F-Bird Staff Experienced

There's no lack of football experience on the Pontiac Firebirds' coaching staff.

Head coach Tom Tracy, one-time star at Birmingham Seaholm High School, had 10 years of pro football behind him when he retired in 1964, his last year with the Washington Redskins.

After leaving Tennessee in 1955 he played in Canada then joined the Detroit Lions in 1956.

With him on the staff is Walt Kowalczyk, once called the "Sprinting Blacksmith" at Michigan State where he led the Spartans to the Rose Bowl victory in 1956.

Frank Varrichione is no stranger to football. The former All-American at Notre Dame had 11 outstanding seasons with the Steelers and Rams retiring in 1964.

Tom Kennedy, long time prep coach in Pontiac, is also sound with football fundamentals, having played at Michigan State and with the Lions.

Little Bobby Hill won the hearts of Pontiac MFL fans in 1965 with his hard nosed pass receiving and running. He helps the squad runners and receivers.

Ex-Cleveland Ace to Coach Pro Girls' 11

NEW YORK — Sid Friedman, a Cleveland theatrical public relations man, said Friday he had signed 18 players for an all-girl pro football team which would tour the United States this fall and winter playing men's semipro teams.

He said that Marion Motley, former Cleveland Brown full-back, had been signed as coach and that practices would be held, starting next week, in the Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

"I've got 18 girls signed up now," he said, "and I hope to double that number soon. The girls will wear regulation football uniforms, and we will play pro rules. We will play one game a week."

He said that the club's nickname would be the Dare Devils and that he was certain one of his players could make most college teams in the country because of her place kicking ability.

Young Talent in Southwest

DALLAS (UPI) — It looms as a season for undergraduates in the Southwest Conference this fall and the fact that the University of Texas Longhorns have two of the most talented anywhere in quarterback Bill Bradley and tailback Chris Gilbert stamps Texas as the area's No. 1 team.

The Texas Aggies and Frank Broyles' always potent Arkansas Razorbacks figure to be the chief threats.

Texas Tech, Baylor and Texas Christian are outside possibilities but Rice and defending champion Southern Methodist can't muster even much support.

Among the area's independents, the Warren McVea-led Houston Cougars may be good enough to duplicate last year's 8-2 record and the Texas Miners of El Paso and West Texas State could show flashes of offensive brilliance once again.

TEXAS IN GOOD SHAPE

While "Super Bill" Bradley and Gilbert are grabbing the pre-season headlines, Texas isn't hurting elsewhere in the backfield with Linus Baer returning at fullback and either returnee Greg Lott or soph Randy Peschel at wingback.

At Texas A&M Gene Stallings has rekindled a flaming spirit that once was a trademark of Aggie teams.

That fact, plus the presence of passer Edd Hargett, running back Wendell Housley and guard Mo Moorman, boosts the Aggies high on the list of potential challengers.

Momentum from a 29-2 record over the past three seasons appears to be coach Frank Broyles' chief hope at Arkansas where graduation gouged widely and deeply into the plentiful supply of top grade talent.

UCLA-USC Again Ready for Rivalry

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Unless some school outside the Los Angeles city limits can unveil a secret weapon, it looks as if Southern California and UCLA will wage their customary battle this fall for the Rose Bowl invitation.

Each cross-town rival is well stocked with talent with the early press clippings divided between Trojan halfback O.J. Simpson and Bruin quarterback Gary Beban.

Simpson, a sensational transfer from San Francisco City College, is expected to restore some speed which the Trojans lost two years ago after Mike Garrett's graduation.

Beban, "the great one" according to the Bruins tub-thumpers, is their morning line choice for the Heisman Trophy.

Washington handed UCLA a 16-3 shock in 1966 and is accorded the best chance of gaining the Pasadena trip should either Los Angeles school fade.

A rundown on the Pacific Eight last year's record in parentheses.

Southern California (7-4-0) — O.J. Simpson tallied 54 touchdowns in two years at San Francisco State and averaged 9.3 yards per carry. In addition to this explosive runner, Coach John McKay has such veterans as quarterback Toby Page, fullback Mike Hull, tackle Ron Yary, end Ron Drake and linebacker Adrian Young among 23 returning lettermen.

UCLA (9-1-0) — Beban, who already leads the Bruins in all-time total offense, is the key among the 20 returning lettermen. However, Coach Tommy Prothro also lost 21 veterans, including halfback Mel Farr.

Washington (6-4-0) — The Huskies have a backfield that is rated stronger and deeper than last year's. Tom Sparlin, one of 26 returning lettermen, probably will be the regular quarterback.

Oregon State (7-3-0) — The Beavers won their last six games in 1966 but three-fourths of their backfield is gone. Coach Dee Andros may depend on linebacker Bill Enyart to handle the fullback spot while Steve Preece does the passing.

Oregon (3-7-0) — Len Casanova, the Ducks' head coach for 16 years, has become their athletic director and turned the coaching over to Jerry Frei. The latter, Casanova's assistant for 11 seasons, has a top quarterback prospect in sophomore Tom Blanchard.

Washington State (3-7-0) — Twenty-seven lettermen return headed by Doug Flansburg, the top pass receiver in the Pacific Eight last season, and quarterback Jerry Henderson.

California (3-7-0) — Barry Bronk, a star soph quarterback last season, underwent arm surgery afterward and missed spring practice. But Coach Ray Willsey still is counting on him to keep his form.

Stanford (5-5-0) — Here it is next year again for the "wait till next year" Indians, who expected great things in '66.

Namath Talks About QB's Interceptions

PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — "Who do you think," asked Joe Namath, "is the best quarterback in pro football?"

Then, even without waiting for the words Johnny Unitas — anticipating them, actually — the New York quarterback turned and reached into the middle drawer of the desk in his dormitory room at the Jets' training camp.

He came up with a football magazine. He flipped through the pages and found what he was looking for so quickly that it was obvious he had done this before.

There, under a picture of Unitas, was a statement from the Baltimore quarterback.

"If you know what you're doing, you won't be intercepted upon," Unitas was quoted as saying.

POINTS TO UNITAS

Then, just as easily, Namath flipped to another page. This one showed Unitas' passing statistics for 1966. The third-year Jet pointed a long index finger to a figure that said 6.9.

"Look at that," Namath said.

"Almost seven per cent of his passes were intercepted last year, and he's the best, or at least one of the two best, in pro football. So how do you explain it?"

Namath, who very possibly could be the next best quarterback in pro football, used the statistic to prove that a guy with a 5.7 interception percentage can't be all bad.

That was Namath's record last year, and it's the 27 interceptions on which the record is based that his detractors, without looking at the percentage, point to most frequently.

"Sure, I threw a lot of interceptions, but I throw more than 400 times, too," the 24-year-old quarterback said. Actually, Namath's 27 interceptions came in 471 passes. Unitas, on the other hand, was intercepted 24 times in 348 passes.

"A lot of them were just plain stupidity on my part," Namath continued. "Sometimes I threw the ball where I shouldn't have."

Some were just good defensive plays. Other times it was a matter of my not reading my receivers right and my receivers not reading me right."

No matter what the reasons were for the interceptions, Namath isn't bothered by what people say. Rather he looks at his situation optimistically.

ONE BIG FOE

The Aztecs have scheduled one major school, Utah State. With good attendance in the 50,000-seat San Diego Stadium, Coryell said San Diego State can operate with a major school schedule in 1968.

But the issue at hand is whether the Aztecs, minus Little All-America quarterback Don Horn, can repeat as national college division champions. Horn was graduated and drafted No. 1 by the Green Bay Packers.

"We'll just wait and see," hedged Coryell, whose Aztec teams have a 49-10-1 mark for his six years at the helm.

"Those first two ball games against Tennessee State and Weber State of Ogden, Utah are against two of the very best in the nation. Then we have Montana State, Northern Illinois and Utah State — not to mention schools in the California Collegiate Athletic Association."

Tennessee State, the opponent Sept. 15, ranked second in the nation last season. Montana State was No. 3 and Weber State No. 10.

"So much depends on how lucky we are on injuries," Coryell said. "We're thin in some positions, and 13 of the starters are new people."

Another undefeated season? "It's a one-in-a-thousand chance."

Romney in D.C. After Detroit Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a tour of Detroit's riot-devastated West Side yesterday, Michigan Gov. George Romney flew to Washington to testify today before the President's Commission on Civil Disorders.

Romney was slated to testify in a closed-door session at 10 a.m. before setting off on a coast-to-coast tour for a first-hand look at urban problems in 14 cities.

After the tour, the governor said, "Detroit is showing as much imagination in developing poverty programs as any city in the country."

Earlier in the day, Romney told a committee coordinating riot area reconstruction that he is withholding a decision on their request for $5.3 million more in school funds until Oct. 2.

Troy School Tax Proposal Is Defeated by 2-1 Margin

Troy voters yesterday rejected a one-year 7-mill school tax proposal by nearly a 2-1 margin in the biggest turnout ever for a Troy School election.

A total of 2,953 residents went to the polls in Troy and turned down the millage request by 1,950-1,003.

Three months ago voters rejected the same request by a 2½-1 margin with 2,100 turning out.

Still a third millage election will be scheduled this year according to school officials.

According to Sup. Dr. Rex B. Smith, cutbacks announced prior to the June election will go into effect. Two of these include 22 teacher positions and a new junior-high school which had been scheduled to open soon.

SCHOOL WON'T OPEN

"The Smith Junior High School in northern Troy will not open this Fall as far as we can see," said Supt. Smith. "The operational funds for the school hinged on yesterday's election."

The defeat was attributed to several local factors — a rash of summer-long water and sewage assessments and the recent teachers' strike — as well as the 2½ per cent state income tax which goes into effect Oct. 1 and the current auto strike.

"The Troy Board of Education now has to decide when to set up a third election — possibly this year," Dr. Smith said. "But unfortunately even if it passed, funds couldn't be put on this year's tax bill. Whether the same 7-mills will be requested again I don't know."

The idea for a new election, if yesterday's failed, was put forth by a fact-finder in a report on recent teacher-contract negotiations.

ADOPTED SUNDAY

The agreement was adopted Sunday by the teachers and the board.

The 7-mills, if they had passed, would have netted the schools $583,387 for one with which they could have restored cutbacks, paid wage hikes already in effect, and decreased a $375,000 deficit.

As it is, several programs besides the cutbacks mentioned above will be dropped, including junior high school and elementary school art and music programs, and all junior high and elementary sports, all extra-duty allotments.

Saved in spite of the election were the high school art and music programs, transportation for elementary and junior (Continued on Page A-4, Col. 2)

2 Area Districts Still Unsettled

Children in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts were among the 377,500 Michigan students still not attending classes today.

Teachers in Detroit were still holding out and would stay out "until the snow flies if necessary" in their effort to gain a better contract settlement.

However Ronald W. Haughton, a labor relations professor who has been acting as mediator in the Detroit dispute, said, "We have reached a stage where an early settlement is not out of the question."

"There seem to be indications that the union is getting down to serious talk. I think this thing is stirring," he said. Some 300,000 children were affected in Detroit.

Teachers yesterday returned to the classrooms in four previously unsettled districts across the state.

WILLOW RUN

Teachers in the Willow Run district agreed to return to work, pending a fact-finder's report, expected Friday.

Striking teachers in three other districts — Holland, Bay City and Saginaw — returned to work under court injunctions and awaited a State Supreme Court ruling.

Spokesmen for the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills districts said no court case is contemplated. Further negotiation sessions were scheduled for Birmingham this afternoon, but a stalemate had been reached in Bloomfield Hills. Oak Park schools remained closed.

WILL NOT OPEN — The Rex B. Smith Junior High School on Donaldson in Troy, which is named after the present superintendent, will stand empty and unused as one of the cutbacks planned as a result of yesterday's school millage defeat.

Chrysler Announces Price Hike

DETROIT (AP) — An increase in car prices today was a new factor in the labor-management equation as negotiators prepared to resume bargaining between the struck Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers.

Chrysler Corp., citing increased costs of labor and new health and safety items required by federal law, yesterday became the first of the four major U. S. auto makers to announce a price increase. It said 1968 models would cost an average of $133 or 4.6 per cent more than 1967s.

General Motors, American Motors and Ford Motor Co. are also reading higher prices listings on their new models but it was not immediately known when their prices will be announced.

The UAW had no immediate comment.

on Chrysler's announcement, but it was expected to study the new listings carefully to get an indication of what kind of second contract offer the company might make.

The strike is not expected to delay Ford's new price announcement since the company already has 85,000 new models ready for introduction by dealers Sept. 22.

DISPLAY DATE

Chrysler's new models will go on display Sept. 14, earliest of the four Detroit car builders.

Based strictly on price tags, with no other consideration, an Associated Press analysis of Chrysler's 115 models showed the average price increase was $152.70.

To Head Off Walled Lake Annexation

Wolverine Lake City Is Eyed

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

A new city is proposed for a portion of Commerce Township, in western Oakland County.

A citizens committee from the largely residential village of Wolverine Lake announced cityhood aspirations last night in a move to head off proposed annexation of the village to the city of Walled Lake.

At a quiet village council meeting last night, the Wolverine Lake Citizens' Committee, headed by the village chief administrator, disclosed the blocking action against Walled Lake.

The committee has drawn up a proposal for the incorporation of the village and part of Commerce Township as a home rule city.

Voter approval of the proposal would add about three square miles of the township to the eight-square-mile land and water area of the village. It would also increase Wolverine Lake's population of about 3,000 by 500 township residents.

SUPERVISOR UNAWARE

Commerce Township Supervisor Robert H. Long said today that he had been unaware that the village committee was planning the incorporation.

The township area considered for incorporation includes vacant land to the north, west and southwest of the village, which abuts the northern border of the City of Walled Lake.

A hearing on the cityhood proposal will be set for sometime next week, said committee chairman and Village Manager Clifford Cottrell.

The committee has further circulated petitions throughout the areas in question. The same areas are also being considered for annexation to Walled Lake.

SAME SIGNATURES

If the committee can secure on its petitions 80 per cent of those who signed the annexation vote, said Village Attorney vote will take precedence over the annexation vote, said Village Attorney Gene Schirz.

This required percentage is lacking only in the eastern part of the village, reported Cottrell.

The east part is comprised of Wolverine Heights subdivision, reportedly one of the most attractive residential areas considered for annexation.

COURT ACTION

If the 80 per cent signatures cannot be secured in the east portion, the City (Continued on Page A-4, Col. 1)

Voter Sign-Up Near Deadline

Unregistered Pontiac voters who wish to vote in the special city election in October have until 8 p.m. Friday to register, City Clerk Olga Barkeley said.

Unregistered voters who wish to cast ballots in the tax advisory election in two weeks should also register by that time, Mrs. Barkeley said.

Residents who have voted during the past two years, need not register as they are carried on the city registration rolls, Mrs. Barkeley said.

New residents and those who haven't voted in the past two years must register to be eligible.

State election laws are rigid concerning the special October election, the clerk said, but since the advisory vote is not a special election rules governing eligible voters are not quite as strict.

OFFICE HOURS

The city clerk's office will be open from 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. through the week and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday to register voters, she said.

Absentee ballots can be obtained at the office during these hours and up to 2 p.m. Saturday, she said.

The tax advisory election will be held Sept. 19. Voters will be asked how they prefer to pay for any new taxes: either a city income tax — one per cent for residents, one-half of one per cent for nonresidents — accompanied by a 3-mill property tax cut, or a four-mill property tax hike.

Data on Open-Housing Is Due

City Attorney Sherwin M. Birnkrant is scheduled to present city commissioners tonight with information which, presumably, could help city commissioners make a decision on a proposed open occupancy ordinance for Pontiac.

However, no action is planned tonight.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the information will be discussed at the next formal City Commission meeting.

The commission, as yet, has not scheduled an informal meeting for this purpose, but will probably do so tonight. Informal meetings are usually held on Monday nights.

Birnkrant said he has received a number of ordinances which have been passed in cities throughout Michigan plus comments on them from some of the officials and attorneys in these cities.

He said he also received material and recommendations from the local chapters of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The attorney said late last week that further investigation may be necessary to determine legalities of open occupancy ordinances.

FCC Eyes Complaint Against Licenses for 4 State Broadcasters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Communications Commission officials said today they are studying a complaint from a theater owners organization objecting to the renewal of licenses for four Michigan broadcasters.

The complaint was filed by the National Association of Theatre Owners of Michigan in connection with the renewal of licenses for WJWJ AM-FM-TV, WXYZ AM-FM-TV and WJBK AM-FM-TV, all of Detroit, and WOOD AM-FM-TV, Grand Rapids.

The licenses of all of these stations expire Oct. 1. The association is seeking an investigation of its complaint as well as a chance to further voice its opposition to the renewals in hearings.

Even if no FCC decision on whether to renew these licenses is made by Oct. 1, the stations may continue to operate until the final commission disposition of the case. License terms generally are for three years.

3,000 Join Walkout at AMC Plant

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Approximately 3,000 production employees at the American Motors Corp. body plant in Milwaukee quit work Monday in what a union official described as an unauthorized walkout.

Walter Bruss, president of United Auto Workers Local 75, said an effort would be made to get the employees back to work and arrange for a meeting with the company. He said the members had not been authorized to leave their jobs.

A company spokesman said the reason for the walkout was a misunderstanding over grievance procedures.

Bruss said efforts to reorganize the firm had resulted in the voiding of grievance procedures in some areas. He added, "When this became apparent to the workers, they left their jobs and walked out."

Tax Election Sign-Up Near City Deadline

In the event that city voters express a preference for an income tax, the October election will not be held. If, however, they show a preference for a property tax increase the Oct. 17 election will be held as scheduled.

CHARTER AMENDMENT

To effect a property tax hike, a special election to alter the city charter is necessary. The charter, which limits the amount the city tax property to 10 mills, cannot be amended without voter approval.

Mrs. Barkeley said all residents who are eligible voters can cast ballots in either the September or October elections. They need not be property owners, she said.

Voters wishing to use absentee ballots in the special city election must obtain them by 2 p.m. Saturday. The clerk's office will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. that day in addition to the announced hours through the week.

To obtain the ballots, voters may fill out the appropriate application at the clerk's office, telephone and ask that an application be sent to their homes or write a letter requesting the ballots.

BALLOT DEADLINE

No absentee ballots will be mailed or given after 2 p.m. Saturday, the clerk said. None will be given out if the voter does not have a request, in writing, in the office by then, she said.

Persons eligible to vote by absentee ballot are those who expect to be out of town the day of an election, those physically disabled at the time, those over 70 years old and those serving as election workers.

New Torino Series Paces Ford Fairlanes for 1968

Paced by a new, top-of-the-line Torino series, Fairlane for 1968 is completely redesigned inside and out and has fastback body style available for the first time.

All Fairlane models go on display in Ford showrooms Sept. 22.

Area dealers are John McAuliffe, 630 Oakland, Pontiac; Harold Turner, 464 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Tom Bohr, Inc., South Milford Rd., Milford; Troy Motors, 777 John R., Troy; Shuman Ford Sales, 2109 East Walpole Lake, Walpole Lake; Beattie Motor Sales, 5806 Dixie, Waterford Township; and Jack Long, 215 Main, Rochester.

"The real battle ground for sales in 1968 is going to be the intermediate field," said M. S. McLaughlin, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Ford Division general manager. "That's why we have created an all-new Fairlane for 1968."

The 1968 intermediate car bears no little resemblance to its predecessors. The car is four inches longer over-all (201 inches), although the wheelbase remains 116 inches, and has completely new sheet metal. All hardtop models have ventless glass in the doors.

LUXURY INTERIOR

The Torino series features a luxury interior with nylon-faced solid-tone fabrics. Its appointments are comparable to the Ford LTD. Models in the series are a formal-roof hardtop, a four-door sedan and the Squire wagon. The sportier Torino GT includes a formal-roof hardtop, fastback hardtop and convertible.

The Torino GT fastback is easily distinguished by dual, tapering side stripes. It comes with a standard 302-cubic-inch V8 engine, bucket seats, wide oval tires, styled steel wheels with trim rings, floor-mounted Cruise-O-Matic transmission when equipped with the optional center console.

The Fairlane and Fairlane 500 series are continued with wide range of engine and trim options. The 200-cubic-inch six-cylinder engine remains standard in all series except the Torino GT. However, a complete range of engines up to an eight-cylinder version of Ford's famous 427-cubic-inch V8 is offered.

Engineering innovations for 1968 include a new front suspension to give better steering and handling, and an optional, newly designed power front disc brake which combines better braking with improved cooling characteristics.

The temperature of Venus on the surface is about 800 degrees.

Commission Authorizes Parking Structure Plans

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners last night authorized architects to begin preparing plans for a new parking structure in the central business district.

The parking garage, the city's second, will be built on the municipal parking lot at Merrill and Pierce, which contains spaces for 232 cars.

A basic plan for a four-level structure was approved by the commission.

The Birmingham architectural firm of O'Dell Hewitt & Luckenbach, Inc., was instructed, however, to prepare an alternate design for a five level structure.

This was done since neither the exact cost of the structure or the city's financial capabilities, is known at this time.

COST DIFFERENCE

The cost difference between the two structures is estimated at $258,000.

The smaller structure would provide parking for 555 cars and cost an estimated $1.3 million.

The cost of the alternate 701 car structure is estimated at $1,588,000.

LITTLE JUSTIFICATION

Mayor William Roberts said that the only way he could justify the spending of extra money for a below-grade level was if the structure had been out of scale with surrounding buildings.

It was the opinion of Cy Paumier, representative for the city's urban designer, Johnson, Johnson & Roy, that the structure blended in well with nearby businesses.

"It's one of the most exciting structures suggested in this part of the country," said Paumier.

The city's first parking structure, located on Woodward at Willis, was opened last winter.

CAPACITY

Some 560 cars can park inside, while the adjoining surface lot provides spaces for an additional 224 vehicles.

Two Oakland County sheriff's deputies on patrol in Oxford Township early today reported sighting an unidentified flying object and observing it move about for some 30 minutes.

Deputies Glenn Watson and Roy Lewis said they first saw the object, described as star-like with flashing red and green lights, about 5:08 a.m., while cruising at North Lapeer Road and Oakwood.

They said it at first appeared to be motionless at an altitude of some 5,000 feet.

The object then moved, they reported, "in sharp, direct lines in irregular directions."

Officials at Selfridge Air Force Base, contacted by the sheriff's department, said the base's radar equipment was not operating, but asked for a full report.

STOOD BY

Watson and Lewis summoned Officer Ray Johns of the Oxford Police Department, who confirmed the sighting and stood by until the object moved out of sight.

The deputies said they had spent some 20 minutes trying to decide "whether to call in the sighting and become the laughing stock of the department or just sit and wonder what the object might be."

Dem Sees Romney as Political Corpse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen thinks voters will forget Gov. George Romney's "brainwashing" charge, Democrats are trying to make sure they don't.

As the Michigan governor launched a nationwide trip focusing attention on his concern with domestic rather than foreign crises, a congressional friend of President Johnson's was picturing Romney as a political corpse.

"It isn't often that we get to witness the political suicide of a candidate before the campaign has even begun," chortled Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., in a state-ment to the House.

Brooks questioned Romney's ability to withstand pressure, suggested he take a "good long

UF Unit to Start Drive

The first major Pontiac Area United Fund divisional campaign will kick off over breakfast tomorrow. The UF Advance Gifts divisional goal is $106,134.

Some 125 Advance Gifts solicitors are expected to attend the 8 a.m. breakfast in the Community National Bank's Club Over-draft.

This year's Advance Gifts goal is a 9 per cent increase over the amount raised last year.

The total 1967 UF goal is $113 million, the highest goal in the 19 year history of the Pontiac Area UF. The general PAUF campaign is scheduled for Oct. 17 through Nov. 10.

Solicitors attending tomorrow's breakfast will receive assignments, materials, and instructions for calling on some 600 major contributors.

Advance Gifts chairman is Warren H. Eierman, a senior vice president of the Community National Bank.

Last year the division was led by Howard H. Fitzgerald II, president and publisher of The Pontiac Press.

If He Refuses Assistance---Leave and Take Second Daughter Along

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I salute you for having the courage to publish the letter from the mother who suspected her husband of molesting their 13-year-old child.

When my eldest daughter was a budding young girl, her father would find all kinds of excuses to surprise her in her bedroom, hoping to catch her in some stage of undress. Many times I saw him in her bedroom, standing by her bed, leaning down at her form as she slept uncovered on a hot night.

I finally realized that he had become much too generous with gifts, money, and privileges, and learned too late that he had been buying her favors and silencing her with threats to kill her if she told anyone.

I hesitated to turn him into the authorities as he held a fine position and was respected in the community. But I finally trapped him into seeing our family doctor. And in spite of the doctor's pleas and explanations, my husband still holds this daughter, whose life he ruined, equally responsible, and he feels no particular guilt.

We have a younger daughter growing up, and if I ever see her father touch her, I intend to shoot him, so help me God!

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: And what good will a dead husband be after he has violated a second child? So far you have no reason to believe that he has changed. You may catch him and you may not.

But knowing what you do, if he harms your second child, you are as guilty as he. I say if he refuses psychiatric treatment TODAY, take your child and leave him, and haul him into court!

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will print this letter because I'm sure I speak for many other mothers-in-law.

I have a son who is married to a lovely young woman. I have no daughter, so I am delighted to have a daughter-in-law. I am pleased to report that we get along just fine.

Abby, we are a very affectionate family and I have always kissed my son hello and good-by from the time he was a small boy, and I still do.

After he married, I greeted his wife in the same manner, but Abby, you can tell when a person is not receptive, and I feel that she doesn't seem to care for my kisses. Please don't misunderstand. She is a perfectly lovely girl, but she is rather cool and conservative.

I don't feel right kissing my son hello and good-by, and not kissing his wife.

Would it be better if I didn't kiss either one?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Continue to kiss your son, and greet your daughter-in-law with a warm smile.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I attended a piano recital at a small community music hall in San Francisco. While listening to the concert I became aware of a very attractive, nicely dressed young woman seated near me. Our eyes met several times during intermission and also after the concert as we were leaving.

I wanted to introduce myself, but she was with an older woman and I didn't want to intrude. Now I am sorry, for I think I may have cheated myself out of something worthwhile. I would go to that same music hall again if I were sure she'd be there, as I would love to meet her.

Should I have been more brazen? What does an earnest man do under the circumstances?

DON

DEAR DON: Under the circumstances, an earnest man might have directed an appropriate remark to the young lady concerning the concert. Her reactions would have either opened the door for further conversation, or closed it.

Calling for Members

Oakland County Medical Assistants are culminating their annual fall membership drive with a banquet to be held at Albert's of Birmingham-Bloomfield, on Wednesday, at 7 p.m.

All local medical assistants may attend this informative first meeting of the season. Mrs. George Hermyan, membership chairman, will have application blanks available for those interested in joining the society.

Requirements include employment as receptionist, secretary, nurse or in a technical capacity by an M.D. who is a member of the Oakland County Medical Society.

President Mrs. Robert A. Carlson will introduce speaker, Mrs. Nelda Gasperson, president-elect of the state chapter, and special guest, Helen Schick, educational coordinator for Blue Shield.

Educational programs are scheduled monthly throughout the year with local physicians scheduled to address the group.

Social activities will include a Christmas party, a fashion show benefit in March and the annual Bosses Night in May.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Prepare for PAUF Campaign

Gals Roll Up Sleeves

The time is short — "Wonder Workers" are needed to put the Pontiac Area United Fund Residential Drive "over the top."

"In fact," said Mrs. John Reineck, Pontiac residential chairman, "four hundred volunteers are needed to complete the Pontiac picture" before the start of the Drive, Oct. 17.

Mrs. Reineck met with her six area leaders Monday morning to review and complete plans for total house-to-house coverage during the forthcoming campaign.

MORE TIME

"With vacations over and children in school," said Mrs. Reineck, "women will be able to devote time to volunteer work once again."

"We would like women to feel that the small amount of time given to the 10-day residential canvass brings happiness, hope and comfort to some 30,000 area-wide families throughout an entire year."

A training session will be held Sept. 26 at the Elks Temple to acquaint all women with her volunteer assignment. The training, which begins at 10 a.m., will be followed by a fashion show by Alvin's of Pontiac.

Pontiac housewives and retail businesses are asked to provide $11,400 of the over-all residential goal of $38,541 this year.

Area chairman assisting Mrs. Reineck are Mrs. Edward Amidon, Area I; Mrs. Warren T. Fowler, Area II; Mrs. Willie Ferguson, Area III; Mrs. Gus B. Ferguson, Area IV; Mrs. Eric Wild, Area V and Mrs. Charles Colberg, Area VI.

Women may call the United Fund headquarters on Franklin Boulevard to volunteer their time.

MRS. KURT P. WIETZKE

Rings Exchanged by Diane Twyman and K. P. Wietzke

Kurt Paul Wietzke took as his bride Diane Valerie Twyman. The pair was wed in a double ring ceremony Saturday in Kirk in the Hills.

FLOWERS

A formal cascade of Eucharis lilies with ivy was carried as a wedding bouquet.

Honor attendants were Darcy L. Twyman, sister of the bride, and Thomas Beamer of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bridesmaids in the wedding party were Lynne D. Carey, Mrs. Karl F. Lutomski, Mrs. Thomas Beamer, Jaimie Twyman and Debbie Twyman.

Ushers were Dr. Karl F. Lutomski, Thomas Coffey, Paul Landry, Donald R. Twyman, Ivan Dimcheff and Peter Burleson.

Parents of the couple who greeted guests later in the Bloomfield Hills Country Club are Mr. and Mrs. L. Raymond Twyman of Mystic Valley Drive and the Vern R. Wietzkes of Dearborn.

A wedding trip to the Bahamas is being taken by the newlyweds. They will make their home in Berkeley.

Son for Winkelmans

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winkelman of Birmingham (Judith Dickstein) announce the birth of a son, Adam David, on Sept. 6.

Grandparents are the Herman Dicksteins of Chippewa Road and Mrs. Leon G. Winkelman of Detroit.

Ford Shutdown Damaging

Strike Calm Deceiving

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — At first glance

the statements from Washington and from some industries affected by the

Ford Motor Co. strike indicate

calm. But this type found in the center of hurricanes.

No company and no nation

can take calmly

a walkout that involves nearly 160,000 workers in 25 states and produces about 10,000 trucks and cars a day. Indirectly, more workers, more millions of

volved.

An examination of these statements made from the calm of the storm show they are highly qualified. The relaxed style is a pose, for turbulence threatens

In Washington, Gardner Akley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, told the President that the Ford strike's main effect on the economy will be "to postpone production

months."

Following the parade, which will be led by Detroit's 100

Ford Motor Co. workers, the

with on-field musical entertain-

FESTIVAL PROGRAM

After a flag-raising ceremony and an address by Pontiac Mayor

William H. Taylor Jr., the program will include exercises with city fire equipment, including the department's new aerial platform.

a water battle and a balloon race will climax the show.

The festival, sponsored by the Industrial Safety Committee, is devoted to the promotion of fire prevention practices among those responsible for fire safety in home and industry in Oakland County.
