Opposing Demands Stalemate Suez Cease-Fire

Bombed Bridge Obstructs Suez Ship Flow

HALTS CANAL TRAFFIC — The Ferdan Bridge of the Suez Canal hangs broken in the water after it was demolished during recent British-French air attacks. With the bridge's center span under water, navigation through the canal has been obstructed.

Nations Locked on Conditions for Withdrawal

Israel Wants French, British Out Before U.N. Troops Police Area

LONDON (AP)—The Suez Canal cease-fire appeared to hang by a thread today as the warring nations stood fast on opposing conditions for ending the strife.

The United Nations pressed efforts to set up an international force to police the cease-fire and withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops from Egyptian territory.

But these efforts faced stubborn snags as British and French soldiers beat off Arab snipers in battered Port Said.

Britain and France flatly refused to pull out of the canal zone until the U.N. police force took over the area.

Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said his government would not agree to any foreign force being stationed in Israel or on any territory it had occupied. Egypt demanded immediate withdrawal of the British, French and Israeli troops, a demand endorsed by the U.N. General Assembly in a resolution last night.

ASSEMBLY ACTS

Despite the conflicting demands of the combatants, the Assembly authorized the command of the new U.N. force, headed by Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, to "proceed forthwith with the full organization." Twelve nations already had offered troops, and some U.N. delegates predicted the first units would arrive in the Suez in two or three days.

On the canal front, Egypt said her people were still fighting hard last night in Port Said, Mediterranean terminal of the waterway.

An Egyptian spokesman in Cairo said severe fighting was still going on in the port city, buildings were ablaze from naval bombardment and water supplies were cut off by French capture of the city's reservoir.

THE AFTERMATH — His face showing no trace of bitterness over his defeat in the U. S. presidential election, Democratic Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson sits in the stillness of his Chicago hotel suite and reads a large bunch of telegrams, including one from President Eisenhower. The scene took place yesterday as the country was completing its final tally of votes. (Story on page 19.)

President Faces Unfriendliness in Both Houses

Eisenhower's Win and GOP's Defeat Indicate Personal Triumph

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was confronted today with the prospect of an increasingly unfriendly Congress in the aftermath of his sweeping re-election victory.

Although he defeated Adlai E. Stevenson by more than nine million votes, his party took a political defeat when Democrats won margins in both houses of Congress.

Neither was there concrete evidence to substantiate Eisenhower's contention that "modern Republicanism" had achieved a victory. On the contrary, it appeared that the personal popularity which gave him 41 states and 457 electoral votes did not sift down to the general run of GOP candidates.

Increased antagonism by the new Congress above that displayed by the Democratic 84th to some of Eisenhower's proposals seemed likely to make itself felt primarily on domestic issues.

The narrowness of party margins in both Senate and House make it certain that on most issues final decisions, as in the past four years, will be made by two-party coalitions rather than on strict party lines.

A still undecided Kentucky senatorial race seemed likely to decide the firmness of Democratic control over that body.

In the House, the Democrats had elected 229 members, 11 more than the necessary majority, to the Republicans' 200. Democrats were leading in all six undecided races.

The present division is 232-203.

Eisenhower's own victory surpassed his 1952 triumph over Stevenson in both popular and electoral votes.

With some 10,000 precincts not yet tallied, the popular vote was 33,665,121 for Eisenhower to 24,651,172 for Stevenson.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has attributed Eisenhower's ballot appeal in part to what he said was the fact that "in a moment of peril, the American people voted to back up their President and demonstrate to the world that America is united."

While Democrats generally shared Johnson's avowed willingness to cooperate on international matters, they left little doubt they will question closely many Eisenhower domestic proposals.

For the President, the cold, hard indications of a second-day look at the balloting results pointed in these varying directions:

Congressional Democrats, assured they could survive a presidential landslide, exhibited new confidence they can draft their own legislative program and pit it successfully against Eisenhower's.

These Democrats seemed to have discarded any belief that open opposition to the President might amount to political suicide in future voting.

By constitutional amendment, Eisenhower cannot run again even if he wanted to. That political fact seems likely to have an effect in

Meeting Tonight on Incorporation

Public to Hear Reports of Waterford Township Study Group

Committee reports on incorporation studies for Waterford Township will be heard tonight at a public meeting in Waterford High School, Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler, secretary of the Township Government Study Committee, said yesterday.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in room 205 of the high school.

Subcommittee reports will be heard on the tax base and costs of government in cities comparable to Waterford Township; the school and education system, and its part in the tax picture; a general comparison of the powers, duties and finances of township and municipal governments; and the structures of both kinds of government and powers of their officials.

Dr. Louis Friedland, head of the political science department of Wayne University, recommended the study topics.

The reports will be condensed into a brochure, Mrs. Windeler said and preliminary work already has been done on the project.

One Week Left

UF Drive Lagging in Pontiac Area

With a week to go, the Pontiac Area United Fund drive is lagging 28 per cent behind its $612,202 goal, campaign chairman Walter K. Willman warned today.

Funds to support 54 community service agencies next year have reached the $438,825 mark, he said.

UF leaders, concerned with low returns from the Commercial Division, have called an emergency meeting Friday.

Good news, however, came from the Industrial Division today, Willman announced.

Division chairman Earl Maxwell reported GMC Truck & Coach employes had pledged $74,950.

The contributions mean that the average gift this year was $9.60, according to plant UF leader, Owen O'Neill. Last year's average donation was $7.45, he pointed out.

Fund leaders are asking everyone to give nine per cent more this year to meet the highest goal ever set in the UF's seven-year history.

Agencies supported provide Pontiac plus Waterford and Pontiac Townships with health, recreation, youth, welfare and family services.

STILL BEHIND

The Commercial Division, soliciting stores and businesses, has reached only 62 per cent of its $97,532 quota, Willman said.

An all-out effort to speed returns will be made at the meeting Friday, noon at Hotel Waldron, chairman James F. Nye announced.

Employe donations have upped Industrial Division returns to 74 per cent of the division's $414,000 quota.

Although most plants are well on the way to meeting quotas, Maxwell said, the final hurdles are the toughest to pass, he warned.

O'Neill said his plant solicitors will concentrate this week on the remaining $15,000 needed to meet the employe goal.

Women door-to-door Torchlighters are three-quarters of the way to victory, according to Geographic Division Chairman Mrs. Ralph G. Bump.

They have collected 75 per cent of the division's $19,116 goal.

Banks' Yule Checks Total Over $1 Million

Christmas Club checks totaling more than $1 million will be in the mail Nov. 16 and 17 from both the Community National and Pontiac State Banks.

Nearly 10,000 will receive checks totaling $750,000 after the Nov. 16 mailing date from the Community National Bank. This represents an increase of more than 2,500 savers from the 1955 program.

Checks amounting to $360,452 will be in the hands of 4,679 persons after they are mailed Nov. 17 from Pontiac State Bank. There is a 20 per cent increase in participants in the 1956 club compared to last year.

The 1957 Community National Bank program will open Nov. 19.

Look for Ways to Raise Funds

Hospital Group Meets to Formulate Plans for $1 Million Drive

Initial plans to raise $1 million to equip the new Pontiac General Hospital wing were revealed last night by Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, and Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, president of the hospital's Woman's Auxiliary.

Meeting with several members of the Board of Trustees and civic leaders, Miss Paul announced that $1,017,588 was needed to purchase equipment for the addition now under construction.

William P. Babcock, chairman of the Board, said three means were available to raise this money. He mentioned a public subscription drive, additional aid from the city and federal grants.

Miss Paul told the group that certain equipment had to be dropped from the original contracts as bids soared above the $3.5 million mark. The bond issue approved by the voters in November, 1954 to build the wing was for $3 million.

Mrs. Miller appealed to the civic leaders at the two hour meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office for aid in how to raise the money. Mention was made that the Auxiliary might be the collection agency to receive any donations.

Donations already received amounting to $31,196 would go toward the equipping, Babcock pointed out.

Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, argued against establishing a public subscription drive. "That make seven solicitation drives in the making at present," he said.

Babcock told The Press after the meeting, that money on hand from the bond issue and $500,000 from the city, would build only the structure.

The group decided to call another meeting next Wednesday at which time representatives from neighboring communities and additional organizations would be invited.

Never a Shot in Anger Nor a Recommendation

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Col. Barney Oldfield of the Air Defense Command was autographing copies of his book, "Never a Shot in Anger," in a bookshop.

A woman asked him if it would be a suitable present for her minister.

"Well, it's sort of a naughty book in spots," Oldfield said.

"All right, recommend something else for my preacher," the woman said. "I'll take this myself."

Has Margin of 353,809

Final Tabulations in State Give Ike a Thumping Edge

Michigan's final unofficial election figures trickled in today showing President Eisenhower won the state's 20 electoral votes by 353,809 votes. His tally was 1,710,863 to Adlai Stevenson's 1,357,054.

While Eisenhower was sweeping the state, Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was doing almost equally well, winning 1,661,417 to opponent Albert E. Cobo's 1,375,315.

Williams' great popularity in the state enabled him to carry the entire State Administrative Board into office with him.

For lieutenant governor, Democratic winner Philip Hart's margin was greatest of all state officers. He beat GOP aspirant Clarence Reid 1,580,967 to 1,420,716. Winning margin, 150,251.

Democrat James D. Hare, although hospitalized through most of the campaign with auto accident injuries, managed to beat John B. Martin 1,528,439 votes to 1,446,396. Winning margin: 82,043.

For attorney general, Oakland County's Richard C. Van Dusen made a little better showing than some of his GOP running mates, losing to incumbent Thomas Kavanagh by 74,643 votes. Kavanagh collected 1,523,737 in winning.

Frank Padzieski, Cobo's handpicked choice for treasurer, fell to Democrat Sanford Brown 1,522,874 to 1,439,045.

The closest race of the six pitted MSU Professor Paul D. Bagwell, a Republican, against Democrat Frank Szymanski for auditor general. Szymanski's winning margin: 44,837 votes, only 1½ per cent of total votes cast.

City Man Dies at Florida Beach

John Thomas Drowns in Undertow as Wife, Son Watch Helpless

Vacationing in Florida, John Paul Thomas, a Baldwin Rubber Co. foreman, drowned in a stiff undertow off Daytona Beach yesterday only two hours after he arrived.

His wife, Evelyn, 42, and 10-year-old son, Dayne, watched helplessly from the beach. A lifeguard, swimming to the rescue, reached Thomas too late to save him.

The guard was reportedly called by two women sunbathers who saw Thomas was in distress, battling the undertow.

The family left Saturday for a two-week vacation in Daytona Beach, leaving another son, Gary, 18, with Mrs. Thomas' sister, Mrs. Margaret Raduchel, of 101 Mechanic St.

Thomas, 43, of 129 Oliver St., was foreman of the salvage and cement departments at Baldwin Rubber. He had worked there since 1933.

City Voters Let Mayor Down

Hat's Off to Saginaw

Mayor William W. Donaldson's hat is off to the city of Saginaw and to its Mayor Maurice E. Brown.

Saginaw turned out 77.6 per cent of its registered voters in Tuesday's election as compared to Pontiac's 71.9. Because of this, Donaldson owes Brown a new topper.

During the local drive to encourage voters to register, Donaldson challenged Brown as to which city would get out the highest vote.

Pontiac saw 31,420 go to the polls out of 43,641. Saginaw bettered the mark with 40,270 out of 51,883. Both marks were below the 1952 turnouts.

"I might have to go bareheaded to pay off the bet," Donaldson pondered this morning.

He said he planned to present the hat to Brown at the American Municipal Assn. Conference in St. Louis, Nov. 25-28.

Williams for President in 1960?

By JOE HAAS

Election leaves no doubt as to who has a running start for the Democratic nomination for president in 1960. His people call him "Soapy," and he likes that title.

After going through that hectic Chicago convention with him, I predicted in these columns at that time that he would be the man to lead his party on the national ticket four years hence. I now renew that prediction.

JOE

I expect that in 1958 Williams will turn the Democratic nomination for governor over to Oakland County's Phil Hart and make the run for the U. S. Senate against Republican incumbent Potter who undoubtedly will be his party's nominee.

Williams might seek a sixth term as governor in 1958, but political tradition favors a step up to the top office through the Senate. And he is sure that he could defeat Potter. Soapy never has a shortage of ego.

In 1960 it will be 112 years since Michigan had a major party nominee for president. Our Lewis Cass was the Democratic nominee in 1848 and was defeated by Martin VanBuren, the Whig candidate.

If G. Mennen Williams isn't the top man to head his party for the highest office in the land four years hence, I ask you who is?

With Eisenhower out of the running in 1960, on account of the two-term limitation, Richard Nixon occupies a like place on the Republican ticket. Again I ask you: If he is not the man, just who is?

Stevenson's defeat had its inception in the Chicago convention last August — or even before that tumultuous riot. I call it a riot because that's what it was.

It met in a spirit of gloom, but clever propagandists had been employed to give it the Hollywood touch, with the expectation that the nation might fall for it. The nation didn't.

That convention lacked a competent keynote speaker. Perhaps the party couldn't muster one. The man who tried the job delivered a high school oration that didn't impress anybody.

But the propagandists were able to put across the idea that the delegates had a great field from which to make a selection, with every man in that field rearing to go — and abusing every other man in the field.

Then they had Harry Truman take over. Harry's neck is always sticking out. It was pre-arranged that he would support Harriman, and Eleanor Roosevelt would plug for Stevenson.

Eleanor won out, with Kefauver sobbing on the sidelines, but Estes was later appeased with the second spot on the ticket. He then was ready to take anything.

Then Stevenson started a campaign, assisted by Kefauver and Truman, that did more than anything else to defeat him. It was a campaign that was a travesty on the intelligence of the nation's people.

Anyway, Nov. 6, 1956, goes down in history as the date that Adlai Stevenson was consigned to oblivion, largely because he listened to the wrong people. And how Adlai does enjoy the white lights.

That is also the day when Harry, who had won one election for himself and two for Ike, was relegated to resume work on his memoirs.

Rebels Keep Up Hungarian Fight

Russian Wall Around Country Stops Nearly All Factual Reports

VIENNA (INS) — Hungarian rebels kept up their defiant fight for freedom today despite massive attacks by overwhelmingly stronger Soviet armed forces.

The last armed resistance to Communism in Budapest reportedly was crushed yesterday during a day-long battle in which the bold remnants of a Hungarian tank division smashed into the city to attack Soviet positions.

Reports reaching Vienna said the Hungarians finally were overrun in a series of Soviet counter-attacks.

The armored wall raised around Hungary by Russia stopped all but the most meager reports from reaching the outside world.

But from official broadcasts carried by Radio Budapest it appeared that passive resistance to the Soviet invasion might be increasing.

The official announcements indicated that food supplies in the capital were dwindling and that a general strike was in progress.

At the United Nations in New York, Dag Hammarskjold is expected to disclose to the emergency U. N. Assembly today his plans for dealing with Soviet repression of the freedom movement in Hungary.

The assembly meets this morning to resume debate on Hungary and to hear the U.N. secretary general's views on the prospects for an on-the-spot investigation of conditions in the country.

Suez Cease-Fire Hangs by Thread

1,500 Egyptians had been killed and several thousand wounded in the fight for the key port. British and French casualties were put at "just over 100 killed and wounded," but the wounded were still being brought on stretchers to the casualty stations.

An official spokesman in Cario denied French claims that British-French troops had captured Ismailia, halfway point on the 103-mile canal.

"There are no enemy forces south of Port Said," the spokesman asserted.

Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, British-French commander, said after visiting Port Said yesterday, "There has been no fighting since the cease-fire became operative, but there was a case of looting by Egyptians this morning."

British - French headquarters announced later the cease - fire was broken temporarily yesterday in a skirmish between an Egyptian patrol and British tank troops.

The communique said two Egyptians were killed and one Egyptian and one Briton wounded when the patrol opened fire on the tanks while the Britons were cleaning their weapons.

"Two of our tanks opened fire in self-defense, routing the Egyptians," the communique added. It said the incident occurred about two miles north of Qantara.

Electricity was cut off in much of the city. Many of the 177,700 inhabitants had fled. Many of those remaining stared glumly from balconies at the troops, tanks and other vehicles as they moved through the streets.

The British Bank for the Middle East was blasted by an explosion in the Jordan capital of Amman last night. Every window in the building was shattered, but otherwise damage was slight.

NEW BRANCH OPENS—Community National Bank officials wait outside for the crowd that later inspected the new branch at Union Lake. Edward Sharpe, Manager Wayne Dengate, Director Howard Huttenlocher of Pontiac and William Cashin were the welcoming committee for the opening.

Face Action on Courthouse Site

The questioned validity of the 1953 annexation of a 104-acre parcel by Pontiac from Waterford Township has popped up again and will be faced by Pontiac City Commissioners tonight.

Oakland County Board of Supervisors has asked that the city and township both "re-do their detachment and annexation proceedings so as to eliminate the question that has existed as to the validity of the previous annexation."

Harold K. Schone, chairman of the Special Courthouse Committee of the supervisors, said the new action is sought to resolve the question without extensive litigation that might arise by parties who object to the new courthouse being placed on the proposed Service Center property.

"It is still the contention of the county that the original proceedings were proper and good," Schone emphasized.

"This re-doing of the proceedings can be accomplished by a joint resolution of Pontiac and Waterford along with the affidavits of the six qualified electors living in the area," Schone said.

Also holding a place on tonight's 18-point agenda are resolutions prohibiting parking on Perry street and to purchase two lots at the corner of Pike and Williams streets.

The latter is the first step toward purchasing property in the block across from Pontiac High School in order to use it for cultural or educational purposes.

Ike Facing Trouble in 85th Congress

GOP ranks too. Some Republicans owe their elections to a firm clutch on Eisenhower's coattails. But many others, including most of the holdovers in the Senate, did not.

The GOP lawmakers like the Democrats, knew that for practical purposes Eisenhower's influence at the polls ended last Tuesday. They already were speculating on the identity of the man who will head their ticket in 1960.

The choice being so wide, the GOP House and Senate members appeared likely to do at the moment of legislative decision what each thought was best for his own individual political future. They might not follow Eisenhower's lead.

Pontiac Deaths

John Paul Thomas

Service for John Paul Thomas who was drowned at Daytona Beach, Fla. yesterday will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Dr. William H. Marbach, his pastor, will officiate. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. Thomas, 43, made his home with his wife, Evelyn and two sons Dayne C. and Gary L. Thomas at 129 Oliver St.

He was born in Columbus, Ohio on April 24, 1912 to John Williams and Jennie Thomas.

Foreman of the salvage and cement departments at Baldwin Rubber Co., Mr. Thomas was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Elks Lodge, Brotherhood Lodge 561 and Rubber & Plastics Ass'n.

Besides his wife and sons, are three brothers, Dean of Long Beach, Calif., Guy of Columbus and Robert of Clarkston.

Saturday, Pontiac Parade to Feature GM Bus Gift

Climaxing Saturday's giant "Pontiac Salutes Industry" parade will be the presentation of the $75,000 General Motors' Parade of Progress bus to the city of Pontiac.

The parade, which begins at 10 a. m. and marches north to Sanderson street, will feature a complete line of 1957 Pontiac automobiles and GMC trucks.

The keys to the "Futurliner" will be turned over to the city in a brief ceremony in front of the Courthouse following the parade.

The red and white vehicle features a 16-foot side door that swings upward to become a marquee and another that swings downward to form a mobile stage.

The city plans to use the gift in the Parks and Recreation Dept.

Little Pontiac "injuns" are expected to be on the parade-path Saturday to compete as the best outfitted squaws and braves. Cash prizes and theater passes will go to the winners.

Balloons and feathers with gift certificates from local merchants attached will be the target of spectators as they are released during the parade.

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Assn. are sponsoring the parade.

The Day in Birmingham

2,500 Children to March in Education Procession

BIRMINGHAM — About 2,500 school children will march in a parade on Monday to display the products of the Birmingham School district's efforts.

According to Charles Palmer, American Education Week chairman for the Board of Education and principal of Pembroke School, the parade will include marching, school organization, 31 school buses and other vehicles, including floats.

Among youth marching, ages from kindergarten to senior high, will be uniformed football teams, bands and safety boys and school choir, in robes.

The school groups range in size up to 100 on the football squads, with 200 in some high school groups.

The district is showing in local theaters this week, its own film trailer which has been produced by Jam Handy and is entitled "These Are Your Schools."

It urges the support of schools and a visit to those schools.

Open houses are slated in all 13 schools for next week with children carrying notifications to their parents on specific times. Some PTA meetings are being tied in.

Chosen to represent the teaching field is Carolyn Wright, a teacher at Troy, in her twenties, and a holder of a masters degree. She is, says Palmer, symbolic of modern teachers here.

The parade will start at 6 p.m. at Merrill street and proceed down Woodward and Maple Avenues in the center of town. The Board of Education will lead the procession.

Safety Council Plans to Be Discussed

Some 350 leaders of Oakland County communities will gather tonight to discuss plans for forming a Safety Council for the area.

The 8:30 p. m. session is scheduled for the Birmingham Community House.

Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelly will preside over the meeting. Plans for such a council have been in the making for more than a year, according to Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee.

Eisenhower, Williams Win Decisive Victories

A momentous election sweeps into history.

Dwight D. Eisenhower received an overwhelming mandate to continue.

His appeal is nationwide.

In fact, it's worldwide.

But while Eisenhower was piling up big leads in State after State, Republican candidates frequently ran far behind him.

The Democrats retained control of both houses of Congress. Thus, for support in his legislative program, the President during the next two years at least must continue to look to a coalition of Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans.

The State of Michigan gave Eisenhower a 350,000 majority and then the same voters did a swift about-face and re-elected G. Mennen Williams as Governor. His majority was approximately 300,000, and the State ticket was swept into office with him, although by substantially lesser figures.

These three facts highlight one of the most interesting phases of Tuesday's election. Voters disregarded party lines as they never did before.

They voted for individuals.

It's a healthy sign.

It indicates the two parties must pick candidates with appeal and neither of them can bank upon an historic precedent or the mechanical practices of yesteryear. Blind adherence to the past is ceasing.

Michigan voters preferred Eisenhower as President. But just as certainly they preferred Williams as Governor. And then, the balance of of the State ticket saw a third trend in voting totals. Williams outstripped his running mates. They fell into a well-defined third slot between the Eisenhower vote as one extreme and the Williams totals as the other.

Oakland County went Republican rather decisively and yet the Democratic Ticket earned a majority in the City of Pontiac. These factors all add up to selective voting on the part of the people.

With voting maghines, Pontiac had its totals many, many hours ahead of the old hand counting days. The persistency of lines in many precincts indicates the city may have too few machines or perhaps they should study the question of splitting some of the precincts once more.

The citizens of the most important Nation in the world have declared themselves again and have named their governing officials. This privilege is vested in altogether too few countries around the world.

Armed police and autocracy rule in a disheartening number of places.

All in all, Tuesday was a great day for 168,000,000 citizens here. There were honor and glory for both sides.

Election is over.

And now—can the Lions handle the Redskins on Sunday?

The average man is quite adept at evaluating his aptitudes and capabilities. He feels sure he could make an outstanding success as a professional clown.

Dr. George L. Waldbott Reports on Fluoridation

"Dr. Heinrich Hornung whose communication appeared in the Journal of the American Dental Association knew that my evidence on fluoride poisoning does not consist of information obtained through the use of a questionnaire. He was specifically informed about my thorough and detailed investigations and follow-up studies.

"For preliminary orientation in some of my cases, a questionnaire was used, a perfectly valid scientific approach. However, careful laboratory and clinical data form the basis of my reports, the results of which are now in press in several leading medical journals.

"Dr. Hornung, a former army officer and an administrative official of the Hessian government, stated to me that he has done no research whatsoever on the medical aspect of this question. He came to this country, not as an authority, but for the purpose of obtaining material for propagating fluoridation in Europe.

"My research has recently been presented abroad where it was received with great enthusiasm by European societies and universities. Many top-flight professors at European medical schools have assured me, having become acquainted with my data, that they will immediately establish projects independent of U. S. Public Health and corporation grants on poisoning where fluorides occur in water naturally.

"Within recent weeks I have reproduced the disease in a number of cases by administering a single minute dose of sodium fluoride, which is generally considered safe. This is the final conclusive proof that fluorides caused this illness; that there cannot be any other source for it. In some individuals, as the result of one such dose, there is a considerable loss of calcium from the body, a vital mineral."

A Rare Autumn

Swell Weather; Little Rain; Large, Unusual Growths

Politics: What it is a relief to not have so much of.

From many angles, this is the greatest autumn in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. We should have had more rain, but the temperature has been super-plus. With election out of the way, this column will have more space for the big or unusual productivity in the Pontiac area. In big pumpkins, of Drayton Plains surely has a dilly. It weighs 90 pounds. His son wore a smaller one that completely enclosed his head and body on Halloween.

Manford Meredith

Castor bean plants that have escaped the frost and measure 12 feet high are growing in the garden of in Bloomfield Hills. They have leaves two feet wide.

By planting a few hills of green corn every two weeks last spring,

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pinchcomb

of Waterford still are gathering it fresh from their garden.

An old fashioned Northern Spy apple that weighs over a pound was brought in by

of Farmington. It is good for at least four pies.

Just to keep up the season's reputation, the dog of

Mr. and Mrs. Findlay Morton

of Auburn Heights, that for several years has had three or four pups to a litter, this time gave birth to seven.

Voters at the Washington School were confronted with a

Trouble Among the Firemen

David Lawrence Says:

U. S. Needs Parliamentary Rule

WASHINGTON—The American people have again voted "conservative." They have given the executive branch of the government to a non-radical, conservative-minded Republican President and the Congress to a coalition of conservative-minded Republicans and Democrats. Incidentally, President Eisenhower describes himself as a "dynamic conservative"—he certainly is not a radical.

The radical wing of the Democratic party, on the other hand, suffered its worst defeat since the New Deal was born in 1933.

The people—who have a habit of voting "against things"—cast their ballots against Adlai Stevenson, who made a campaign that completely fumbled the main issues. Stevenson predicted Eisenhower probably will die during his second term and Nixon become President. Thus, Stevenson, discussing what he called the "central truth" of the campaign, said in a nationwide telecast from Boston Monday night:

"I must say bluntly that every piece of scientific evidence we have, every lesson of history and experience indicates that a Republican victory tomorrow would mean that Richard M. Nixon probably would be President of this country within the next four years."

WON'T TRUST NIXON

Stevenson then assailed Nixon, as he did repeatedly in the campaign, as a man who couldn't be "trusted."

Nothing in the history of American politics reveals anything in such bad taste and so ill-advised coming from the lips of a presidential candidate.

But the Democratic nominee's lack of good judgment was apparent on other phases of the campaign, too. Throughout the critical weeks of October he tried to scare America by alarming statements about the effects of "fallout" from hydrogen-bomb tests. He was willing to risk an end to H-bomb tests. He implied all sorts of things are happening already to milk being fed children or will happen to bone formations of children of the future.

Many voters turned away from Stevenson in the critical weeks of October. An examination of returns in many states shows that, where Ike increased his majority, the total vote in many states didn't go up much. Yet the switch from Stevenson was very large indeed.

The international crisis, of course, helped re-elect the President, but long before the Egypt-Israel war broke out, polls showed Ike running far ahead of Stevenson, anyway. Americans just didn't want a change.

As for Congress, it is being said the Democrats are the "majority party" because they won control of both houses. But it is also a fact that in the districts and states in the North where there were candidates of both parties in the field, Republicans won more contests than the Democrats. Thus, there were 79 seats in the House—mostly in the South—won under the Democratic label in districts where there was no Republican opposition.

There were five Republican seats uncontested this year. Leaving out these uncontested seats, Republicans won 197 seats and Democrats 154. Also, outside of the South, Republicans won 17 and Democrats 12 Senate seats. There were six "unopposed" seats in the South where Republicans made no contest. These facts disprove the claim that Republicans are a minority party in the North today.

The mixed results in the congressional election show it to have been fought out on local issues and to have been decided on the basis of the popularity or unpopularity of local candidates and on the influence of local conditions. The incumbents—the veterans in campaigning—did better generally than did the challengers.

So divided government continues. The partisan fight continues, too. Democrats in the main will not cooperate with the President to pass any measures except those demanded by nationwide public opinion.

The campaign between the parties, therefore, goes on, and a responsible system of government—a parliamentary system that is more suitable to America in an atomic age than the present horse-and-buggy model—is still far from being considered.

One of these days an international crisis will reveal the shocking need of a Congress and presidency in a single party responsible together to the people and removable only in elections held when the people want them held.

"Sure it's only a cigar band—but it's from a fifty-cent cigar."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Talbot's Solution an Aid in Treatment of Pyorrhea

Unfortunately a great many poor misguided or unteachable persons have a good deal of trouble with gums, tooth sockets, jaw bone and health, which they and their dentists call Riggs' disease, chronic gingivitis, parodontitis, and perhaps most frequently pyorrhea alveolaris.

John M. Riggs was a dentist in the early part of the 19th century. He wrote about the condition, but his views have been forgotten, although his name is still remembered.

Gingivitis means inflammation of gums. Paradontitis means inflammation of the tissue surrounding a tooth. No particular reason for using the term, except that it impresses the customer.

Whenever I refer to pyorrhea, numerous dentists get a pain in the neck, and some of them kindly endeavor to enlighten me on technical aspects of the question, but it seems that each expert on pyorrhea has his or her own idea, which is generally enough different from others to keep everybody confused.

The word pyorrhea means discharge or flow of pus and alveolaris means from the tooth sockets.

OLD THEORY

Forty years ago someone came up with a revolutionary theory, complete with specific cure: pyorreah was caused by Endamoeba gingivalis, a kind of protozoan found in the mouth, about the gums and in tartar on the teeth. And emetine, the alkaloid of ipecac, the old-time emetic which acted like a slow boat to China, was the specific cure.

For a time the medicine makers flooded the market with emetine preparations for internal and local use against pyorrhea, but the trouble continued unabated and the Endamoeba was forgotten.

Aside from opening, cleaning out, or draining pus pockets, destruction of granulation tissue with the minimum of surgery and whatever measures the dentist deems necessary to keep the teeth free from tarter and the mouth in the best hygienic condition, no other line of treatment, so far as I have been able to ascertain, is more effective than periodic application of Talbot's solution.

ORAL SURGEON

Eugene Talbot, MD, DDS (in my opinion every dentist should be a physician before he takes up such a specialty as dentistry), was a distinguished oral surgeon away back when Topsy was a colt. He recommended for periodic application to the gums a solution of iodin, zinc iodide, glycerin, and water.

This is strong stuff and only your dentist or physician can apply it or perhaps teach you.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Tells Wives to Be on Time

Esther has been "bawled out" at least once per week for four years. And most of you other wives have likewise received sarcastic reprimands for the same fault. Yet you could easily eliminate these quarrels. Just get ready ahead of schedule and then wear an apron during the final few minutes of kitchen chores until your husband starts tooting the auto horn!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-316: Esther D., aged 23, has been married four years.

"Dr. Crane, Esther is an ideal wife," her husband admitted. "She is a wonderful cook and housekeeper.

"She handles our little boy perfectly. She is also affectionate and charming.

"I still regard it as a delight to take her out on a date. But one fault has caused me to gripe and complain more than any other.

"It is her inability to be ready on time when we have an engagement at church or for a movie.

"She claims the baby delays her, but that isn't the real excuse, for she was like this before the baby came.

"Esther just has a poor sense of time. She thinks she can work in the kitchen till 10 minutes before our departure time, and still get ready.

"But she can't and for four years, I've explained and pleaded and even sarcastically bawled her out. Nothing has worked. Dr. Crane, what can you advise?"

TARDY WIVES

Wives, what have you to say for yourselves. Why don't you surprise your mate and get into the automobile ahead of him?

For Esther is guilty of the most widespread fault of all wives. Smart or dumb, young or old, wives seem chronically unable to steer their actions by a clock.

And by detaining their husbands, they launch the latter into an ugly fit of criticism and fault-finding.

Many a good husband teaches a Bible class on Sunday. He is scheduled to be on hand at a definite minute, such as 9:30 a.m.

His devoted wife knows this, yet she may work in the kitchen till about 9:15 before putting on her make-up and her Sunday frock.

Then she can't possibly be ready and in the car at 9:25 or even 9:30, so she causes the entire family to be late.

And her irritated husband is then in no mood for a benevolent Sunday school lesson or sermon.

In order to make the crucial appointment on schedule, he may then speed unduly and possibly wreck the car.

Thousands of adults as well as children, have been killed or badly injured because the family didn't get started away from home on schedule.

WIVES' ALIBI

"But our work is never done," the wives defend themselves. "We are just trying to get Sunday dinner started and all the little chores finished before we leave."

That sounds logical, doesn't it? Yet wives are just about as slow in getting started even before they have any children to use as an alibi.

And if they are dining out Sunday noon and thus have no home dinner to prepare, they still are late!

It is a rare woman who can judge time and get into the car on schedule.

In fact, if any of you husbands reading this column have such a wife, please drop me a note so I can try to publicize her virtue in this respect.

Often I have suggested to Mrs. Crane that she get all ready for Sunday school first, and then, if she has 15 or 20 minutes of extra time, that she put on an apron and do some of her kitchen chores meanwhile.

"But I don't want to soil my good clothes in the kitchen," she alibis.

"Then put on an apron," I have argued ineffectually for almost 30 years. "That's why aprons were invented."

The ability to watch a clock and complete duties before a deadline, is an adult reaction. Children ignore time pieces. Women seem to retain this same child - like disregard of clocks, too.

It would be so simple, however, for them to avoid these recurring criticisms from their husbands. Just get ready first and then wear that apron!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Complains Divorce Laws Favor Women in Michigan

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Why do the laws of Michigan favor a woman in a divorce proceeding, especially women who do not try to help the husband? Certain lawyers just make a living on all kinds of silly complaints of women.

If a man has worked hard and has any property, she can go see a lawyer, make a lot of statements, whether true or false, and get an injunction against him, take over his home lock, stock and barrel and get temporary alimony until the hearing comes up, which is six months from the time you are served.

It isn't fair. What can be done about it? These divorce proceedings are a gold mine for lawyers and it's too easy to get a divorce. They should be more rigid.

His Men Defeated but He Isn't Mad

Most of the men I voted for lost on Tuesday, but I'm not mad at anybody, and I know we still have the greatest nation in the world. I haven't lost faith in anyone or anybody. Michigan's in weak hands, but we're such a strong nation, we'll survive anyway.

Hal Boyle Says:

Cain't Yawl Unnerstand Plain Ainglish Langwitch?

NEW YORK (AP)—Nothing makes an American feel more like a stranger in his own land than to strike up a conversation with a man from another part of the country — and suddenly realize he can't understand what the guy's saying.

REGIONAL TONGUES

Brooklynese is one of many regional American languages. There are so many, in fact, that some bright publisher ought to come out with a verbal Baedecker that will guilde the hapless tourist safely through all the strange accents of his homeland.

A step in this direction has just been taken by the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier. It has just published a "Dictionary of Charlestonese," to help outsiders understand a form of English handed down since 1670 in the venerable port city which is to the old South roughly what Mecca is to the Moslems.

Columnist Ashley Cooper, who compiled the dictionary, makes it clear that Charlestonians speak perfect English but many people from other sections do not.

That is why a Yankee visitor is completely lost when he hears a Charlestonian motorist ask, "Cain I police pack hair? I'd pre-shade it" — and receive the courteous answer, "coarse, rah chair."

REALLY SIMPLE

But it's really simple, and anyone who had lived in Charleston only two generations would have no trouble understanding the exchange. The motorist asked, "Can I please park here. I'd appreciate it." And he was told "Certainly. Right here."

Here — Skipping from A toward Z — are a few typical examples of Charlestonese and how they can be translated by the trained ear:

Abode — Wooden plank.
A boot — Approximately.
Balks — A container, such as a match balks.
Barter — Something to spread on bread.
Cane chew — Aren't you able to, i. e., "Cane chew talk like a good Charlestonian?"
Conduit — Impossible of accomplishment.
Fan ella — The flavor of white ice cream.
Garner — A man who tends to flower beds.
Granite — "He was granite a pardon by the gouv-ner."
Hull — The abode of integrationists, some damyankees and other evil spirits.
Harmony — Cooked grits.
Hominy — What number?
Ice cool — The institution of learning which stands midway between grammar and college.
Jell — Place of confinement for criminals.
Lawn — Not short.
Lucid — Leggo it.
Mine eyes — Salad dressing.
Minuet — You and I have dined.
Poet — To transfer a liquid, i. e., "Poet from the pitcher to the glass."
Tin sin stow — The foive and doyme.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

A STAMP ZOO—4

Stamps bearing the picture of a zebra were issued by the Union of South Africa in 1954. The zebra is a member of the horse family, and because of his markings is sometimes called a horse-tiger.

The mountain zebra, which is black and white, has been almost exterminated by hunters. The plains zebra is larger and more robust and is colored light tan with blackish-brown stripes.

Zebras are very shy animals and difficult to tame. They graze in herds of fifty or more with antelopes and wild goats. They have keen eyesight, and at any alarm will gallop away.

A zebra's coloring is a good example of nature's camouflage. From a distance the striped pattern blends into the vegetation in which they live.

Color this picture with your crayons, and make the border purple. Cut away the background spaces as you have with the others. Fold the lower center panel forward and the outer tabs under. The center piece under his body will lie flat.

(Robert Wadsworth, Washington, D. C., first submitted this idea. If you have an idea send it in care of this newspaper, and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES Saginaw at Warren, Pontiac

PRESENTING THE Surprise

THE NEW Pontiac from Power to

Fresh from 100,000 miles of road tests, the '57 Pontiac goes on display tomorrow!

Better go see it because this is the biggest surprise package of any year—the car that beat them all to the big-time changes in every department of motoring.

Even a brief once-over of Pontiac's sleek new styling tells you that you're in at the start of an automotive revolution. Those taut, wind-tunnel lines literally point the way for the others to follow.

And there's plenty for them to follow! That glistening sheath conceals a carload of engineering "firsts"—all polished to watch-work perfection in the toughest test ever given a new car.

A prototype of this '57 Pontiac pounded the road through 100,000 miles of tests . . . condensing 10 years of average driving into one rugged marathon. It covered a distance equal to 4 times around the world . . . over country lanes, city streets and superhighways. Through it all Pontiac engineers refined and perfected every facet and feature of this great car.

They made Pontiac's big new power plant even more efficient than its predecessor, the engine that set over fifty new world records and led all eights in miles per gallon! They perfected the new suspension system, new controls and new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* to give you the smoothest riding, easiest handling—and safest—new car ever to hit the road!

Try it . . . sample in a single mile all that's been proved by 100,000 miles of testing.

Williams the Man and 'Soapy' the Politicking Governor

LANSING (AP)—Eight years ago, a tall, young lawyer climbed into a battered convertible, sputtered out onto the political highway and shot into the distance with a pickup that left observers stunned.

Gerhard Mennen Williams, the man behind the wheel, still is shooting along the highway at top speed. Michigan's governor doesn't say where he's headed, but he keeps following the road signs to the White House.

If that's what he has in mind, perhaps on the way by wresting a place in the U.S. Senate by beating Sen. Potter (R-Mich) in 1958, his prospects brightened appreciably yesterday.

The relative importance of Williams in national Democratic party councils is certain to be increased as the result of the defeat of Adlai E. Stevenson.

At 45, this bow-tied phenomenon, known countrywide as "soapy," has remodeled the Democratic party in Michigan from a broken-down jalopy to a sleek limousine which carried him to the state capitol five successive times.

In 1948, when the 37-year-old Williams resigned from the state liquor control commission to seek the Democratic nomination, Republicans scoffed that he was a plaything of Labor bosses with more ambition than sense.

ENERGETIC PAIR

But Williams and his blonde wife, Nancy, proceeded to show how youthful enthusiasm and confidence could be translated into votes. They staged one of the most energetic campaigns the state has ever seen.

It was this boundless energy, combined with secret Republican antagonism toward the incumbent governor, that won Williams a place under the capitol dome with a margin of 164,000 votes.

Williams soon found the key to re-election. He bombarded the Republican-dominated legislature with ambitious, popular and expensive proposals. When Republicans turned them down, he berated them. When they approved, he claimed credit.

The formula worked. Williams slipped into office with only a few votes to spare in 1950 and by a little larger margin in 1952.

But by 1954, his tireless campaigning, the dissension of Republicans said the solid support of labor swept him into office with a 253,000 vote margin. Riding to victory with him was the entire ticket of state officers and Patrick S. McNamara, a political unknown who captured a U. S. Senate seat from the respected Homer Ferguson.

Williams' alliance with the politically-minded CIO is one of the largest single factors in his vote-getting success. At the same time, it clears the way for Republican charges that he is a puppet of Labor's bosses—that Walter Reuther is the real governor of Michigan.

Who is this man who revolutionized Michigan politics?

Young Williams was educated at Salisbury Preparatory school in Connecticut and Princeton, where he graduated Phi Betta Kappa. He received his law degree from the University of Michigan.

Only a year after his graduation from Michigan and his marriage to Nancy Quirk of Ypsilanti, herself a woman of means, Williams' boyish face began showing up in government circles. His first state job was as an assistant attorney general. Later he served under the late Frank Murphy, U.S. attorney general.

Williams' career was interrupted by the way, but his service record was to prove as politically valuable as any civic service he might have had in the intervening years.

Commissioned a lieutenant, junior grade in the Navy, Williams saw combat duty as an air intelligence officer on the aircraft carriers Bunkerhill, Essex, Hornet and Yorktown. When the war ended, he held 10 battle stars, the Legion of Merit, three Presidential unit citations and the rank of lieutenant commander.

Williams' firm friendship with Labor extends to Michigan's heavy racial and national minorities, the Poles, the Italians, the Negroes.

Carrying the banner of civil rights to the 1952 national convention, Williams and the late Sen. Blair Moody flashed across the nation's television screens as the zealous pair who were willing to risk party unity to get southern acquiescence to a "loyalty oath" pledging not to undercut the nominee.

Their antics infuriated the South and Williams' aides, if not the governor himself, have admitted regret. His 1956 convention role was calmer.

This summer, some cracks in Michigan's new Democratic wall, so hastily erected by Williams and his eager, young associates, were beginning to show. His strong party discipline spurred some leaders to public heresy. Negroes were impatient over what they considered CIO domination of the party and some whites rankled at what they considered Negro dominion.

But if there is any deep political significance to the cracks, it failed to show up in the ballot boxes.

Meanwhile, Williams kept his eyes on the road ahead, disclaiming any interest in a national office, saying simply that the Presidency is an honor any American citizen would accept.

Umbrella Once Denoted Rank

Valued as Sunshade by Royalty, Priests in Ancient Times

WASHINGTON—A new twist in the age-old use of the umbrella has been thought up in Holland. There, travelers caught in sudden showers may now rent protective cover for a small sum from railway stations.

In rainy England, meanwhile, Londoners honored the umbrella on one of the clearest days of the year. Hundreds were unfurled at once, like a bright cloud of butterflies.

The occasion was England's first "tholly" show, with umbrella embellishments that included trimmings of fur, sequins, and mirrors, and guitar-shaped handles concealing music-box equipment.

SYMBOL OF POWER

Actually, sun rather than rain seems to have launched the umbrella on its successful career, the National Geographic Society says. The name itself comes from the Latin umbra for shade, while the word for parasol, now considered a purely feminine accessory, means to ward off the sun.

In the tropical East and Near East, where sun's rays can be lethal, umbrellas early became a symbol of power and prestige, available only to royalty, religious dignitaries, and others of high position.

Sculptures and paintings of ancient Egypt, Assyria, and Ethiopia depict many rulers under the emblem. King Darius, who died in 486 B. C., appears in Persian wall carvings with slaves carrying the imperial sunshade. Large white umbrellas sheltered priests in ceremonial parades of old Athens.

In China and India, the tradition of state umbrellas goes back many centuries. Burmese and Chinese kings, signing a treaty in 1769, were both referred to as "Lords over umbrella-bearing chiefs."

Thailand's many-tiered parasols, often richly jeweled, long have been a colorful feature of processions and rituals.

LESS EMPHASIS TODAY

Today, with the decline of royal influence in the East, the showy trappings of sovereignty are less emphasized. But the state sunshade still casts an aura of dignity over national leaders and plays its old part in religious rituals, funerals, and weddings.

Many parts of Africa, too, cling to the prestige of the umbrella. The 1950 coronation costume of the Oba of Lagos, Nigeria, included one of blue and white silk with gold fringe. And several Gold Coast chiefs, in London for the crowning of Elizabeth II, brought their ceremonial umbrellas.

In Europe, on the other hand, the umbrella is known chiefly for utility. Though it early became part of Christian ceremonial, and signified the medieval power of the Doges at Venice, its tradition stems largely from practical use by Greek and Roman ladies against the Mediterranean sun.

Even when the umbrella reached northern and wetter regions of Europe, it was rated merely as feminine frippery.

An Englishman, Jonas Hanway, is credited with popularizing the modern umbrella by becoming a stubborn and constant carrier during the 1750's. Braving the jeers of his fellows and opposition from hackney coachmen who feared loss of business, Hanway set the style for the sedate black-silk umbrella that was to become an emblem of the properly dressed British gentleman.

Utility's Employes Buy Cars at Discount

MIAMI — A Florida light-and-power company buys automobiles at fleet prices and sells them to its employes at the same prices. A 25 per cent down payment is followed by a payroll-deduction plan that must be completed in two years. Employes can't buy just any car, though; its list price may not exceed $2,200, and convertibles are out.

Real Open House

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Robert L. Mink reported these items missing from her home after an open house party: A toaster, a vacuum cleaner, a living room wall barometer, a clock-radio and a bottle of spirits. Mrs. Mink told police value of the missing articles was $173.50.

Four Children Find Loopholes in Parents Safety Precautions

CHICAGO (INS) — It was eight o'clock when I reached home from work, hungry and hoping to find a parking space near the apartment. Elaine, my wife, called from a window:

"Don't bother parking. You have to take Barbara to the hospital."

The blue-eyed seven-year-old blonde marched to the car and exhibited a deep slice in her forehead. It took three stitches to close it.

Instead of sharing my jitters, Barbara marveled over the crescent-shaped needle the doctor wielded.

Another emergency run on an empty stomach came on a night I returned from an out-of-town assignment. Five-year-old Patty needed an X-ray. It showed a fracture in her right wrist.

Later, the two boys joined in, as if envious of the sporty bandages their sisters wore. Johnny, 3, gashed his hand in a level plot of ground free of obstacles—by falling over his own feet.

Ten-months-old Quinn posed a mystery. In the safe isolation of his playpen he produced a cut on his foot.

How can a parent prevent such casualties? The National Safety Council recently provided me with a wealth of do's and don't for a story.

ANTICIPATE ACCIDENT

The big do: A parent must anticipate an accident before it happens. Survey both indoors and out for pitfalls waiting for the curious boy or dreamy girl. In the home lurk such jumping-off places as windows, porch rails and stairways.

Dad and Mom must turn a wary eye on the kitchen with its gas range, cutlery and its "edible" poisons such as some cleaning and polishing fluids.

Automobiles and trains stalk behind the big don't of outdoor expeditions. Children should never play in streets, driveways or alleys. And the Council experts regard train tracks as nearly as murderous as firearms.

Add the kiddies' tricycle, roller skates and wagon to motor and locomotive traffic — and it's like mixing fire and gunpowder.

The quieter climes offer their menace, too. Amid the housing boom, Junior invariably seems drawn to the bone-splitting opportunities afforded by the excavation and framework of a new house going up.

Farther afield, forest areas are threaded with possible dangers — hostile wildlife, poisonous insects, airless caves and treacherous swimming holes.

SURVEILLANCE IS KEY?

In re-reading the advice, the golden key to child safety seemed to be—surveillance. Don't let small children out of your sight.

Well, I saw Patty break her arm. We didn't know it at the time. She was swinging on a smallfry trapeze when the bar unhooked from the chain. She fell only about three feet, but her wrist became doubled beneath her.

There were no adult witnesses when Barbara cut her forehead. She said she yanked on the balky door of a metal gym locker and it suddenly sprang open, banging her head. The boy's injuries are still unexplained.

Maybe the grownups who compile child safety rules should consult a child for loopholes. If there are any flaws, children will surely spot them—and turn up wounded and weeping.

A mother of several children often is stranded. Until the "relief man" appears, she must deal with emergencies at home or pack the entire brood into a taxi to see a doctor.

Even changing bandages is a problem for Elaine. Her own hand is taped. While group the youngsters for a snapshot, a flashbulb went off in her fingers, giving her a painful burn.

OH, GIRLS! — The envy of thousands of screaming bobby-soxers throughout the land, June Janico gets a friendly bear hug from rock 'n' roll idol Elvis Presley after she came up from her home in Biloxi, Miss., to be with him at Memphis, Tenn. June is reported to be "the one" in the quivering singer's romance department.

Egypt Will Study Population Problem

CAIRO—Since nearly 99 per cent of Egypt's 24,000,000 people live and farm on less than 4 per cent of the country's total area, the Government has estalished a National Population Commission to study the nation's increasingly grave problem of how to feed the population. At current rate the population will increase almost one third in the next 10 years. Between 1897 and 1949 Egypt's population more than doubled while the agricultural crop area increased by only 37 per cent.

The continent of Asia is about twice as large as North and South America combined. Africa is nearly as large as North America and Europe.

Lead in Monroe County

MONROE—Democrats captured six of 10 Monroe County offices. Charles J. Golden won the prosecutor post over Republican William J. Sanphilip. Sheriff Charles G. Harrington, a Democrat, was re-elected. Other incumbent victors included County Clerk J. Golden Zabel (R) and Treasurer Anton W. Munch (R). The only incumbent losing was Normal C. Capaul (R). He and Earri Valentine were defeated by Democrats Harold F. Maurice and Eli Allore for coroners.

00-O-PS! — When New Yorkers pull a boo-boo, they do it for all the world to see. In the massive sign advertising the movie version of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Oklahoma!" somebody put an "o" where an "a" ought to be.

Dem-Predicted 'Farm Revolt' Against GOP Fizzled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farm revolt on which the Democrats had counted failed to develop enough steam in Tuesday's presidential election to give them any major help.

Outside the South, all the farm states except traditionally Democratic Missouri gave their electoral votes to President Eisenhower.

The Democrats had made Eisenhower administration farm policies one of their prime issues. They talked about declines in farm prices and incomes during the past four years and promised early action to boost price supports and to take other steps they said would improve the agricultural economy.

They had accused Eisenhower of going back on 1952 campaign promises in behalf of farmers. The Democrats had looked to Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and the Dakotas for a revolt of farmers against the GOP.

But their hopes did not materialize.

MARGIN SMALLER

Incomplete returns indicated that in a number of Midwestern states the Eisenhower vote in some rural areas ran behind that of four years ago, but the shift was far from sufficient to carry the states into the Democratic electoral column.

Farm dissatisfaction appeared to have made its strongest showing in South Dakota congressional races. But Eisenhower carried the state, although his majority was smaller than four years ago.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, himself a controversial figure, had predicted a GOP sweep of the farm states, claiming that most farmers approved administration farm policies.

There is a question as to what extent satisfaction or dissatisfaction with present farm programs influenced farm voting. Political reporters who toured the midwestern bread basket during the campaign ran into many farmers who said they disliked GOP farm policies but planned to vote for Eisenhower because they credited him with bringing peace.

Recent developments in the Middle East may have had even greater influence than had appeared earlier in putting farm votes in the Eisenhower column.

But regardless of how much or little the issue of farm prices may have had on the outcome, the Eisenhower administration is expected to stand pat on farm policies it maintains will, over the long run, get the government out of agriculture.

Benson, the architect of those policies, is expected to remain in the cabinet. He campaigned harder for the party ticket than perhaps any other member of the cabinet. Eisenhower has repeatedly said he backs Benson's views.

But administration adherence to these farm policies does not mean that the farm issue is a dead one. Democrats in Congress are expected to make new efforts to increase government aid for agriculture even if they face certain presidential vetoes.

That would be one way of keeping the issue alive for the 1958 congressional elections when Eisenhower will not be running.

The election, significantly enough, saw the defeat for Senate seats of two top-rung farm officials of Democratic new deal days—former secretary of agriculture Claude R. Wickard of Indiana and R. M. Evans, one-time agricultural adjustment administrator, of Iowa. Both had sought to unseat Republican incumbents on the farm issue.

New St. Clair Sheriff

PORT HURON—St. Clair County elected its first new sheriff in 18 years. Republican William J. Pettengill, winner in the primary over veteran Ferris E. Lucas, was elected sheriff over Democrat Ted Rutkowski. Incumbent Republicans winning major races included Prosecutor Wilbur V. Hamm, Treasurer Margaret A. Woodward and Clerk Howard Murray.

Quest Goes On for Longer Life

Average Is Extended; Some Unusual Cases Come To Light

WASHINGTON—The recent visit to the United States of a modern Methuselah from Colombia showed, if nothing else, that the old man hasn't walked alone on his long march through time.

New York medical authorities concluded that the four-foot-four Indian, who claimed to be 167, might well be 150. But their admitted lack of a scientific method for determining the exact age of any adult lends interest—if not credulity—to a world-wide list of "oldest living."

Last June newspapers in Brazil reported the death of a citizen, aged 150. Java and Pakistan have each also recently lost a sesquicentenarian. And in Egypt there's a man who claims to be 200. He complains that his 80-year-old son isn't giving him enough food.

Much longer ago, Denmark noted the death of a 146-year-old, says the National Geographic Society. A classic case in geriartic literature, this man was enslaved by Algerians at 68, escaped, joined the Danish Navy at 84, and married at 111.

LONGER LIFE SPAN

He died in 1772 at a time when man's life span was considerably shorter than it is today. As recently as 1850, the average life expectancy of an American was only 37 years. Today the average American man lives 66.6 years, seventh best to males in The Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, New Zealand, Denmark, and England and Wales. The American woman's span (72.7 years) is second only to the Dutch.

Despite a much lower average life expectancy, the Russians claim to be winning the battle of extremes. Three years ago Soviet newspapers announced the death of a woman said to be 180.

Another report of a 148-year-old farmer in Azerbaijan prompted a 12-year-old boy of Cleveland, Ohio to write to the Russian government for verification. The official reply, which reached the lad last spring, said the 148-year-old was indeed alive and reigning over a family of 152 persons. The farmer, moreover, had recently turned down a government retirement pension.

A persistent rumor—often officially denied—holds that the Black Sea region offers the best climate for long life. One aged Turk, who visited the United States shortly before his death in 1934, outlived 11 wives, to the reputed age of 160. Bulgaria, also on the Black Sea, points to a younger female counterpart who survived five husbands and left 34 children.

TEETHING AT 111

Many of the world's oldsters have displayed feats of vigor. Early this year in Lucknow, India, a 111-year-old woman cut her third set of teeth. Her family held a reunion to celebrate. Another Indian, said to be 176, grew a new crop of black hair as well as new teeth.

The secrets of longevity, revealed by those who should know best, range from maintaining "an unworried heart and a loving wife" to eating a daily ice cream cone. One aged lady in Denmark attributes her triumph to the fact that she's never taken a vitamin pill or a bath.

Tornado Death Toll for Decade Takes Drop

WASHINGTON — Records of the United States Weather Bureau show that the death toll from tornadoes in the United States during the last decade was about 40 per cent less than that for the 1916-25 period. The 1946-55 decade shows the smallest number of tornado deaths — 1,754—despite the heavy toll of 516 lives taken during the tornadoes of 1953, one of the largest for any year on record.

How Each State Voted: a State-by-State Breakdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a state-by-state rundown on Tuesday's elections:

ALABAMA (11 electoral votes)—Repeating 1952, went for Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson. Nine Democrats to House. Democratic Sen. Lister Hill re-elected.

ARIZONA (4)—Backed President Eisenhower again, but re-elected Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden and Democratic Gov. Ernest W. McFarland. Two House members split.

ARKANSAS (8) — Stevenson again. Sen. J. William Fulbright, Gov. Orval Faubus and six House members, all Democrats, re-elected.

CALIFORNIA (32)—Eisenhower again. Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel beat Democratic State Sen. Richard Richards. In House, Democrats held 11 seats; Republicans 8, with 11 races incomplete.

COLORADO (6) — Eisenhower. Senate race saw Democrat John A. Carroll hold a lead of 8,000 with only 230 precincts out. His opponent was former Gov. Dan Thornton. Democrats elected a governor, Stephen L. R. McNichols, and won two House seats, the GOP one. One race was undecided. House division now—2-2.

CONNECTICUT (8)—Record for Eisenhower and put Republicans in full control of congressional delegation. Sen. Prescott Bush re-elected, along with five incumbent House members.

DELAWARE (3) — Eisenhower. At-large House seat captured by Republican. GOP Gov. J. Caleb Boggs re-elected.

FLORIDA (10)—Heavily for Eisenhower again while re-electing Democratic Sen. George Smathers and Democratic Gov. Leroy Collins. In the House, Democrats kept six seats, Republicans one. Fifth District outcome may be decided by absentee ballots. Incumbent is Democrat Rep. A. S. Herlong. Opponent is Alfred L. Lund.

GEORGIA (12)—Stood by Stevenson. Herman E. Talmadge, Democrat, elected to senate seat vacated by Democrat Walter F. George. House delegation Democratic, as before.

IDAHO (4)—Eisenhower. But Republican Sen. Herman Welker unseated by Frank Church, 32. Two-member House delegation divided.

ILLINOIS (27)—Eisenhower. Republican Sen. Everett M. Dirksen re-elected. GOP picked up one House seat, for 14-11 margin.

INDIANA (13) — Almost totally Republican. Re-elected Sen. Homer Capehart. Picked Harold W. Handley governor to keep the state house for GOP. Won one Democratic House seat to increase Republican margin to 10-1.

IOWA (10)—Many split tickets supported Eisenhower, but ousted GOP Gov. Leo A. Hoegh for Democrat Herschel C. Loveless. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, a Republican, won a third term. In four House races decided, Republicans won. Four other races incomplete.

KANSAS (8) — Endorsed Eisenhower. Democrat George Docking won the governorship in an upset. Sen. Frank Carlson, Republican, re-elected. In two House races completed, Republicans won. Four other races undecided.

KENTUCKY (10) Switched to Eisenhower after narrowly supporting Stevenson in '52. Elected Republican John Sherman Cooper to serve out the remaining term of the late Democratic Alben W. Barkley. In other Senate race, incumbent Erle C. Clements trailed Republican Thurston B. Morton by a small margin. In the House, Republican Scott Craft held a slim lead over Democratic incumbent Carl Perkins. State's other seven districts are divided 5-2 Democratic.

LOUISIANA (10)—Eisenhower, a reversal of 1952. Re-elected Sen. Russell B. Long, Democrat. Eight-man House delegation Democratic.

MAINE (5) — Republican, as usual.

MARYLAND (9) — Convincingly Republican. Re-elected Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler. House delegation 4 Republicans and 3 Democrats.

MASSACHUSETTS (16) — Runaway for Eisenhower. Democrat Foster Furcolo went in as governor, defeating Republican Lt. Gov. Sumner G. Whittier. Of 13 House races complete, Democrats six, Republicans seven. In only undecided contest, Democratic Rep. Robert MacDonald led.

MICHIGAN (20) — Eisenhower. Elected Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams to a fifth consecutive term. Republicans kept 11 House seats, Democrats held on to six. One seat occupied by a Democrat in doubt.

MINNESOTA (11)—Eisenhower. Democratic Gov. Orville L. Freeman ahead of GOP opponent Archer Nelsen. Completed House races found three Republicans and two Democrats winning. Four races undecided.

WYOMING (3)—Eisenhower. Republicans also held on to the lone House seat.

City Not Ready for Attack, Area Residents Tell Press

In a random-sample poll conducted recently on Civil Defense measures, several residents of the Pontiac area expressed fear that the city and surrounding area would not be prepared in case of air attack by an aggresor nation.

Interviewed in downtown Pontiac and at Tel-Huron, citizens said their biggest worry would be not knowing where to seek shelter. Some questioned whether there were shelters available.

Others said more planning should be done by Pontiac. Others said planning was sufficient and that it was up to the individuals to put this to practice.

Arthur Heaton, supervisor of the Pontiac Ground Observer Corps, recently criticized Civil Defense preparedness in Pontiac as being in "pretty bad shape."

At the same time, the City Commission revealed a new Civil Defense ordinance, now in effect, which will coordinate city departments and personnel in case of enemy or natural disaster.

MRS. CARSON

Mrs. Margaret Carson, 494 Luther St., said: "No, Pontiac is not prepared. We don't have any kind of shelter and we don't know when that big siren is for real or not."

FIRESTONE

"If there was a bomb attack today in Pontiac, I for one wouldn't know where to go or whom to contact," said Albert Firestone, of Rochester.

Firestone is employed in the city.

Taxi driver Russell Bentley, 86 Putnam Ave., asked that "the city do some planning so that women and children would know where to go."

"I don't think people take the time to realize what this is all about," Keego Harbor resident Mrs. Margaret Ashley, said.

MRS. ASHLEY

"I wrote to Washington not long ago for a pamphlet to see what I could do to help in Civil Defense," she said.

Asked how she felt on the subject, Mrs. Gladwin Brezee, 168 Mohawk Rd., said: "I'm afraid we are not prepared. I feel that there's a lot more we could know on what to do in case of attack, especially what type of shelter to seek."

MRS. BREZEE

Mrs. Irving Merkovitz, 864 Menominee Rd., commended newspapers and radios for their education efforts on natural disasters.

MRS. MERKOVITZ

"It's up to the citizen to educate himself further on air attack preparedness," she said. "I remember education in school, but I don't think it goes beyond this stage."

A veteran of Nazi air raids on Scotland and England, who lives in Pontiac, stressed that the city had helped notify people what they can do to aid in the Civil Defense effort.

But Joseph McDonagh, 605 Balboa Pl., added that there was a need for deep bomb shelters in Pontiac.

"I personally feel that people don't realize how bad it could be," McDough said.

Military Readies U.S. Defenses

Naval Units Alerted; All Services Warned of Unpreparedness

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon today said U. S. armed forces have been cautioned to take "preparatory measures to increase the nation's defense readiness."

A spokesman for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in telling this to newsmen, said he wanted to put emphasis "on the word defense."

He added that "we do not want to be caught flat-footed and at the same time we do not want to take any provocative action which would get us involved."

U. S. commanders at home and overseas have been kept advised of the world situation and given "guidance" in putting their forces in a state of readiness.

SHIPS ALERTED

At San Diego, Calif., the Navy said ships based on the West Coast have been alerted to prepare for movement to the Western Pacific.

A Defense Department spokesman said also that there has been some "increasing in the readiness" of the Air Defense Command.

This tightening up of defenses has resulted in some scattered cases of leave cancellation for servicemen, but there has been no broad, over-all cancellation of all military leave.

Accident Rate Cut, Says U.S. Air Force

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Air Force has lost 1,125 pilots and 1,600 planes through accidents in the past two years, reports Brig. Gen. Joseph D. Caldara, director of flight safety research.

In an interview here yesterday Gen. Caldara said 61 civilians have been killed in Air Force accidents, 47 of them in accidents involving jet aircraft.

He urged public understanding of the necessity for continued jet flight training and said the Air Force is doing its utmost to reduce air accidents and fatalities.

Exercises Held for 13 Trainees at State Hospital

Thirteen members of the psychiatric attendant nurse training program at Pontiac State Hospital, graduated in exercises last night in the chapel at the hospital.

Main speaker for the occasion was a member of the teaching staff, Dr. Joseph G. Weiss. Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent presented the 13 with diplomas and Ruth A. Mathwig, R.N. presented the graduates with nursing pins.

Also on the program which preceded a reception in the recreation room of the nurses home were Shirley Walter, Harry Wright and the Rev. William H. Goodwin.

Graduates include Florence Brooks, Wyne W. Diller, Matthew D. Finley, Marion Howe, Arthur L. Kariean, Early P. Montgomery, Helena Morin, Reginald L. Ouzts, Irene J. Pearson, Solon P. Spears, Edith B. Taylor, Johnnie W. Torbert and Doyne A. Wagner.

Adlai to Return to Law Practice

Also May Make Series of Speeches to Pay Off Dem Campaign Deficit

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — For months, Adlai E. Stevenson could hardly utter a word without finding someone at his elbow, ready to write it down and report it.

For months, there was the prospect that he might become president — and the statements were regarded as important news.

No legions of newsmen and photographers, no tangle of television camera cables awaited him as he returned late yesterday to his farm home near this Chicago suburb.

When the two-time loser in races for the presidency left his downtown Chicago hotel headquarters for the 40-mile trip, one newsman, two photographers and a newsreel cameraman followed him.

At his farm home later only one newsman kept vigil.

Lights were aglow as Stevenson entertained a few friends, without interruption.

Stevenson came out of the house. In his movements, in the vigor of his voice, it seemed that he had forgotten Tuesday's defeat.

He and his friends drove away from the farm, the Democratic leader at the wheel of his car. The others piled into a limousine and two cars.

He drove fast through the countryside, to the nearby home of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Dick of Lake Forest for a small dinner party.

The defeated candidate plans to remain at his farm home to catch up on an accumulation of correspondence and make plans to return to his Chicago law practice.

His news secretary Clayton Fritchey indicated to newsmen Stevenson might make a series of speeches to help pay off a Democratic party campaign deficit which likely will reach more than a million dollars.

State Police Sergeant Retiring at Marquette

EAST LANSING (AP) — Sgt. James A. Smith, commanding officer of the Marquette Post, will retire Sunday, State Police Headquarters announced today.

Smith, retiring after 25 years with State Police, joined the force in 1931 and served at Flint, Newberry, Iron Mountain and South Haven before assuming command of the Marquette Post in 1947. He holds five citations for meritorious service.

Eclipse to Be Visible

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 3½-hour lunar eclipse will be visible to the naked eye Nov. 18, Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer, says. The eclipse will begin at 12:02 a.m. (EST).

$6,150 Goes Begging, So It's Finders-Keepers

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Ben Brown held legal possession today of the $6,150 he found under his house a year ago.

Brown, 61, had turned it over to police. After nobody claimed it, they gave it back.

Brown had advertised unsuccessfully for the legal owner.

1957 Pontiac — Power and Beauty in Motion

COMING AND GOING — The distinctive new styling of the 1957 Pontiac is apparent by these close-up views of front and rear sections. Massive, wrap-around front bumpers protect the vertical, semi-circular grille and the car-wide air scoop. Integrated taillamp, back-up light and safety reflectors are housed in the flair of the rear fender. Dual exhaust ports are part of the protective rear bumper.

THE CATALINA COUPE — The racy lines of this Super Chief model are accentuated by the Pontiac's lower hood and "accent" two-toning. The "starlite" coloring above is one of 56 two-tone combinations that will be available when the new models are introduced in dealer showrooms tomorrow. The cars will be shown locally at the Pontiac Retail Store, corner of Mt. Clemens and Mill streets.

FOR 'AIR' ENTHUSIASTS — The crisp silhouette of the Star Chief convertible coupe is dramatically presented in this photograph of the 1957 model. Mounted on a 124-inch wheelbase, the convertible is one of 16 body styles which will make their debut in U. S. showrooms this week. Horsepower ratings range from 252 to 270.

Lausche Vote Could Prove Crucial

Holdover Issues Face 85th Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Issues frayed by long controversy await the new 85th Congress.

Domestic problems include federal aid for school construction, civil rights, farm and labor policies, and statehood for Hawaii and Alaska.

Democrats, who wrested control from the Republicans two years ago, again elected majorities to both branches of Congress Tuesday.

With six races still undecided, the Democrats had a 229-200 margin over the Republicans in the House.

The Senate was much closer, with the Democrats leading 49-46 in the decided contests and the Republican candidate leading in the one race still open — in Kentucky.

The Republicans conceivably could get the power to organize the Senate.

This is because Sen.-elect Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, a Democrat noted for independent ways, indicated last June that if elected, he might vote with the Republicans under certain circumstances in the organization of the Senate.

With the division 49-47, his vote could be crucial since Vice President Nixon could break a 48-48 tie vote and turn the Senate reins over to the Republicans.

Once the legislators settle down to work, they are bound to come to grips again with the issue of federal aid for school construction to help the states overcome the present classroom shortage.

Another source of controversy is an administration bill to provide greater protection for voting privileges and other civil rights and to create a civil rights division in the Justice Department and a presidential commission to investigate civil rights complaints.

Another well-worn issue confronting the new Congress will be statehood for the territories of Hawaii and Alaska. The Republicans as well as the Democrats, are now pledged to immediate statehood for both, although the GOP platform declares that in granting statehood to Alaska, adequate provision must be made for defense requirements.

Texas Could Reverse Control of Senate

DALLAS (AP)—Texas may get its oar into the business about who controls the new Senate.

The possibility stems from the fact Sen. Price Daniel was elected governor of Texas Tuesday.

He already has offered his resignation from the Senate, effective as of his scheduled inauguration as governor Jan. 15 or as soon as a successor is elected.

Daniel is a Democrat and is included in the nose counting by which the Democrats apparently will control the next Senate—49-47.

Thad Hutcheson of Houston, so far the only announced Republican candidate for Daniel's seat, points out if he's elected the count would change to 48-48.

Fighting 'Sacred Duty,' States Grand Mufti

CAIRO (AP)—Sheikh Hassan Maamoum, grand mufti of Egypt, today exhorted Moslem men and women in Egypt and other Moslem countries to fight the British, French and Israelis as a "sacred duty."

The Moslem leader did not call specifically for a jihad, a religious war.

Citing verses from the Koran, the mufti in a statement broadcast by Cairo radio urged Moslems "to fight imperialism and its agents who are traitors and weaklings, uphold Egypt's banner and champion the cause of your religion."

Calypso Bands Use Rhumba Box Widely

KINGSTON, Jamaica—In Kingston night clubs and bars that feature roving calypso bands, the rhumba box is a familiar sight. It takes the place of both double bass and drums in the calypso band. And entire rhythm section, it is made of a wooden packing case having a round opening. Across this opening are nailed automobile springs cut into various lengths to provide a full scale of deep, echoing tones.

Squealing Pigs Keep Gas Pipeline Clean

ST. LOUIS—The natural-gas industry has some well-traveled "pigs." A "pig" is a contraption consisting of blades, wheel, and brushes that runs through a pipeline to clean it. Its round, piglike snout roots out dirt and its bristles carry the dirt along. It even grunts and squeals as it moves along. Together all these "pigs" travel nearly 20 times the distance of the earth's circumference every year.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

SYNOPSIS

Connie Barton's suspicions were aroused by her husband's clumsy excuses for his regular Wednesday night absences. She trailed Steve to a private dance studio and then realized he was taking dance lessons as a pleasant surprise for her. Keeping herself unnoticed, Connie watched the door of the studio till Steve left, and went in for a private word with his teacher. She found the instructor, Anita Farrell, sprawled on the floor—shot dead. In the corpse's hand was a paper silhouette of herself. Confused, Connie's first thought was to cover up for Steve. She grabbed the silhouette and the appointment book at the unattended reception desk outside and went home to confront Steve. She had to believe his assertions of his innocence.

Police promptly got the names of all Miss Farrell's pupils and began checking to identify the 7 p.m. Wednesday waltzer. When Lieut. Bolling asked Steve his lesson time, Steve said 3 o'clock Saturday. From the stolen appointment book Steve took the lesson time of a Ralph Talley whom Bolling hasn't contacted—yet.

Using the name Hester Frost, and with a plan in mind to save Steve, Connie got Miss Farrell's teaching job. Connie noticed a ventilator in the ceiling of Studio K—the murder room—and set about exploring the possibility of the gunshot having come from there. While up on a catwalk over the false ceiling, she heard from the studio next to hers a man and a girl arguing whether he should change going to "Rhinebeck Place." That is where the late Miss Farrell lived, at No. 11. Connie phoned Steve and told him to meet her there. When she arrived she saw a young man hurry to Miss Farrell's apartment. A police guard scared him away, but not before Connie recognized his voice to be the one she overheard in the dance studio.

Steve sends a cabbie to pick up Connie; she speeds to the Feather Club where Steve is watching a man he has trailed from Rhinebeck Place. They plan for Connie to meet him.

Chapter 12

In a moment a gallant tenor voice was cooing at me. "May I join you?"

Languidly, I said, "Must you?"

"It's absolutely necessary." His teeth under the ghost mustache were gleaming at me. "Not only necessary, but inevitable."

He established himself on the stool next to mine. I looked toward the door for Steve and found that he was at the end of the bar. He was accepting a beer from the bartender.

The man said, "Expecting someone?"

"Who, for instance?"

"Your husband?"

"He's in Milwaukee."

"Isn't that nice of him?"

I smiled at the man. "He's a darling. Sometimes he doesn't come home for weeks and weeks." I had the next bit of information ready; I was becoming adept at this sort of thing. "My name's Gloria."

"Hello, Gloria. Mine's Wendell Kipp."

"Hello, Wendell. Tell me about yourself."

Wendell was delighted by my interest. To show me how pleased he was he leaned his shoulder closer to mine. I glanced at Steve in the mirror. He was scowling into his beer.

"I'm in real estate," he said.

"Well, you must show me some apartments some time."

Wendell put his near hand over my left hand. Steve suddenly moved two stools closer to us. Wendell's voice purred in my ear.

"There's an apartment I'd like to show you right now, tonight."

"Whose?" I purred coyly.

"Mine."

"It doesn't sound safe for a girl."

"It's perfectly safe. My wife's away this week."

"Milwaukee?"

He laughed, delighted again. His knee was against mine. Steve had moved three stools closer by this time.

Wendell turned serious, plaintive. "It's a real pleasure meeting a girl like you, Gloria," he said. "Thelma is such a bore."

"Thelma? Your wife?"

"Yes. We don't get along."

"Doesn't she understand you?"

"She's so unsympathetic. Absolutely no sense of humor. We don't have fun. Like you and I could have fun." The leer on Wendell's face was in Technicolor, Cinemascope, Cinerama, Todd-AO: it engulfed me. "We could have fun, baby, you and I . . . couldn't we, though? Hmm, baby?"

I felt a thump and Steve was sitting beside me. He put his face close to mine. "Hiya, doll," he breathed. He leered, and it made Mr. Kipp's effort seem a pale and sorry thing. "How about great big me buying cute little you a drink?"

Wendell Kipp was on his feet.

"Look here, young fellow," he said.

"Watch out who you're calling young fellow," Steve said.

"This young lady and I . . ."

"Watch out who you're calling a young lady," Steve said.

"This young lady and I wish to be alone. Now, please go away before I . . ." He stopped. He stepped back and looked at Steve. He studied him intently. He said, "I've seen you someplace before."

"Not me," Steve said. "I've never been someplace before."

"Yes, your face is familiar. I think . . ."

"Wendell," I said, "you must be wrong . . ."

"I know! I know where I've seen him!" Mr. Kipp was triumphant. "At the Crescent School!"

"Never heard of it," Steve said.

"That's it! He took lessons from the same teacher I did . . . Anita Farrell! On Wednesdays! I've seen him coming in as I was leaving . . ."

Mr. Kipp stepped back. His voice shook with excitement. "I saw him yesterday! He had the lesson after mine, he was there at seven o'clock!" He was shouting now at the top of his lungs. "I know who he is! He's the Waltz . . ."

Steve's fist stopped him from completing the word. Mr. Kipp staggered and collapsed on the floor. The bartender was climbing over the bar. A burly waiter was closing in on Steve. Everyone in the room was shouting now. "The Waltzer!"

Steve turned and headed for the door. I started after him, screaming. "Stop him!" I yelled. "Stop him!" I tripped, arranging it so I plowed headfirst into the waiter who almost had his hands on Steve. We went down together, and I saw Steve disappear through the door into the night.

The waiter helped me to my feet.

"Lady," he said, "I almost had him. I would've had him except for you."

"These darned high heels," I said.

The bartender came back through the front door.

"Got away," he said.

"Call the police," somebody said.

"I'lyl do that," the bartender said. "I'll call the police."

A circle of curious, excited people were occupying Wendell Kipp. Nobody was paying any attention to me. I sidled to the door, got through it unnoticed, and walked quickly away from the Feather Club.

It was a good five minutes before I pulled myself together. I stopped looking aimlessly in doorways, through the front windows of bars, for Steve. I tried to be rational. If I were the Waltzer on the lam, what would I do . . . no, I decided to put it another way. If I were my husband and I knew that my wife would be worried to death about me, where, under those circumstances, would I go?

Home.

It was probably as simple as that. I would give Steve thirty minutes to get home, then I would phone him there. I sat down on a bench in the little park off Sheridan Square. I lit a cigarette and calmed myself down. Then I realized I should not be sitting on this bench in the little park off Sheridan Square.

It was twenty minutes to seven. At seven I had a lesson to teach at the Crescent School of Dancing. I mustn't attract attention to myself by missing a lesson on my first day's work. I took a cab uptown.

Connie gets the low-down on Anita Farrell in Chapter 13 of "The Blonde Died Dancing" here tomorrow.

New Zealand Plans New Postage Stamps

WELLINGTON—A special set of four postage stamps is to be issued in December for use in New Zealand's antarctic territory, the Ross Dependency. The stamps will be on sale at post offices in New Zealand, but can be franked only at New Zealand post offices in the dependency itself.

Size of Families Dips as Education Gains

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — As education increases among Puerto Rican women, the size of their families decreases. Government figures show that women with no schooling average 6.5 children; with one to three years of elementary schooling, 5.6; four to seven years, 5.1; eight years, 3.6; with one to three years of high school, 3.2; four years' high school, 2.3; college, 1.8.

Gas Outweighs Steel

FORT WORTH—Although natural gas is lighter than air, if last year's gas production in the United States were put on scales, it would weigh 2½ times as much as the country's total steel output for the year.

Medical-School Rolls Reach All-Time High

CHICAGO — A report by the American Medical Association shows that enrollment in the nation's medical schools during the 1955-56 year reached an all-time high for the seventh consecutive year. There were 28,639 students in 76 approved four-year schools and six schools that provide the first two years of medical training.

Only one in about 15,000 women automobile drivers becomes involved in a fatal accident. For men the ratio is about one in 1,700 drivers.

TAKING PART — Participating in the Pontiac White House Conference on Education scheduled for Monday, at Pontiac High School will be (left to right) William Coulacos, director of the Boys' Club of Pontiac; Mayor William Donaldson, Mrs. William Mihalek, PTA president and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools. Coulacos and Donaldson will serve as discussion leaders and Dr. Whitmer as a resource person.

RESOURCE PERSONS — The Pontiac White House Conference on Education will have (left to right) Theodore Wiersema, principal of Jefferson Junior High School; Raymond Graff, supervisor of trade and industrial education at Pontiac High School and J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools participating. The annual conference will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday at Pontiac High School. Educational problems of the community will be discussed and problems and recommendations brought to light at the conference last year will be evaluated.

Employes' Wages Hiked

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The city commission Wednesday night voted to raise salaries of all Grand Rapids city employes. Pay boosts for employes in technical fields and police and fire supervisory officers become effective immediately. The commission also adopted a new salary ordinance for a blanket 2½ per cent increase for all city employes, effective Jan. 1. The blanket increase will amount to $147,200 a year.

Penalty for murder in Utah is hanging or shooting.

Auto Show Planned

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The city's third postwar auto show has been scheduled Jan. 7-12 at Civic Auditorium with about 125 new United States and foreign cars on display.

Flying Saucers Again, or Yet—as Is Case

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP)—Radio station KATY of San Luis Obispo reports the quest for flying saucers conducted over coastal California last night yielded a slight trace of some unfamiliar flying object.

It said one of 11 mobile stations set up by the student engineering council of California Polytechnic Institute at high points around the city reported an object. It also said one of the cooperating ham stations reported from Berkeley that an observation point there had noted an unlighted flying metal object.

The mobile unit had radar atmospheric finders and other electronic devices. The experiment was conducted as a community wide investigation of a prediction of scientists associated with the "Flying Saucer Review" of London.

Some scientists in London had said a Martian space ship would fly over San Luis Obispo last night at 10:30, and San Luisans fell in with the idea and organized a "Flying Saucer Day" to welcome them.

Judge From India Wins Congress Seat

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Judge Dalip Singh Saund, India-born farmer and mathematician, scored an upset yesterday over millionaire aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran Odlum for California's 29th Congressional District seat.

With only 19 precincts uncounted, Democrat Saund had a 3,500-vote lead.

Of the desert district's 436 precincts, 417 gave Saund 49,592, Mrs. Odlum 46,406.

The Riverside Press-Enterprise, which had backed Mrs. Odlum, called Saund the winner.

The 59-year-old judge from tiny Westmorland thus becomes the first Democrat to win election for either a national or state office from this district. And he also is the first native of India voted into Congress or into any public office in this country.

Mrs. Odlum, the nation's top woman flier, was grounded in her second flight at the polls. She eked out a narrow win in the Republican primary in June.

1 Dead, 1 Hurt as Car Tries to Outrace Stork

FLINT (AP)—Mrs. Joyce Symons, 32, of Flint was fatally injured today when the car in which she was riding was struck from behind by a car rushing a pregnant woman to the hospital.

James Flowers, 18, of Flint was driving his wife, Mary, 18, to the hospital for an examination when he struck the car driven by David Castano, 29. Mrs. Flowers suffered internal injuries. Flowers and Castano were not hurt.

Kentucky Senate Race Undecided

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Republican Thruston B. Morton took the inside track today in a thrilling down-to-the-wire finish with Sen. Earle C. Clements, assistant Democratic floor leader, for a key U.S. Senate seat.

Morton's edge appeared enough to hand Clements his first defeat in 36 years of political life.

Returns from 3,800 of 4,057 precincts gave Morton 475,861 votes, Clements 473,218.

The race — last to be decided in Tuesday's voting — was punctuated with statements implying that each side suspected the other of irregularities.

Clements issued a statement saying:

"I have been receiving reports from many counties of peculiarities in this election which make it most difficult to forecast what the vote pattern may be in the uncounted precincts."

Louie B. Nunn, Republican state campaign chairman, countered with the statement that: "We are likewise spending our time trying to find out what is going on in some counties."

Morton's struggle took some of the shine off of President Eisenhower's conclusive sweep of the state and the easy win of John Sherman Cooper in the other Senate race.

Eisenhower was far ahead of the ticket with 516,889 votes to 438,718 for Adlai Stevenson. Cooper, Somerset Republican, was 42,738 votes to the good over former Gov. Lawrence Wetherby.

The Democrats retained a 6-2 edge in the House delegation.

Pedestrian Run Down by His Own Automobile

OMAHA (AP)—William Gundy, 47, a house to house salesman, was crossing a street when he looked up and saw a car bearing down on him.

He couldn't jump clear and the car knocked him down, went on a 100 feet and hit a power pole.

Said Gundy to police:

"I lay there wondering who that fool driver was. Then it dawned on me, it was my car!"

Gundy, who was badly bruised, had parked his car on a hill. The brakes slipped.

Benefit Dance Slated for Widow of Police Chief

A benefit dance for Calvin C. Baxter, Keego Harbor police chief who was fatally burned in a bowling alley fire last month, will be held at 9 p.m. Saturday at the Pontiac Moose Lodge, 350 Mt. Clemens St.

All proceeds will go to the Calvin Baxter Fund for the aid of his widow, Eleanor, 33, and a son, Calvin Jr., nine. Mrs. Baxter, 2248 Willow Beach Rd., Keego Harbor, is expecting another child in December.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will furnish entertainment with a patriotic skit. The Moose Lodge is one of many organizations conducting benefits for the Baxter fund.

Mayor of Garden City

GARDEN CITY (AP) — Former Councilman James Tierney was elected mayor over incumbent Mayor Enos W. Schaller, 5,292 to 4,395.

Heart beat . . . steady!

The rhythmic sound of life comes to the physician's ear over his stethoscope.

A heart is mending from a disease that would have meant death a few years ago. Yesterday in the emergency room the doctor knew what to do when his 50-year-old patient arrived. Medical research had found the formula for successful treatment.

Heart disease still accounts for almost half of the natural deaths in America. The American Heart Association wants every heart victim to have a chance.

You can help make that — HEART BEAT . . . STEADY!

Pairs Change Partners With Mutual Goodwill

BELLFLOWER, Calif. (AP) — The president and treasurer of a plastics firm, back from Las Vegas where they swapped wives, say they feel the move "was the best thing for all concerned."

Paul H. Omohundro, 41, who heads the company, and Glenn Capps, 40, disclosed that the switch was worked out carefully during the past three years. The couples have known each other for six years.

"We took a long time working up to this thing," said Omohundro, "so the children could become thoroughly adjusted to the idea."

Omohundro and his ex-wife Rachel are the parents of a 15-year-old girl and an 11-year-old boy. Capps and his former wife Mabel have a 13-year-old daughter and an 8 year-old son.

When the wives obtained their divorces simultaneously in Las Vegas Monday each was awarded custody of her children.

"Now the children will have the run of both houses," said Capps, adding that all four parents agreed they would have been doing their children no favor in maintaining the former martial relations simply to keep from breaking up the homes.

Each couple is moving in a new house, about 10 miles apart.

Door-to-Door Work Turns Up Hot Dice

BALTIMORE (AP)—The cops rang and rang that doorbell of the apartment on Myrtle Avenue in the early morning hours. No answer.

So they battered down the door. No answer. They battered down a vestibule door, but still no answer.

So they battered down a third door and burst into the basement.

They found 14 persons kibitzing two checker games — apparently so engrossed they hadn't heard all that battering.

On looking a little further, officers also found 10 sets of dice — still warm to the touch — behind a table. And some money here and there.

Judge Joseph L. Carter convicted Clarence Scott, 49-year-old occupant of the apartment, of a gambling charge. Scott was given three months in jail and a $250 fine.

Building Is Approved

HARPER WOODS (AP)—An affirmative vote of 4,599 to 1,707 was given a proposed bond issue to finance a $500,000 municipal building to house the community's administrative and engineering offices. Also approved Tuesday was a $90,000 bond issue for a new city garage.

Crowd Menaces Red Delegates in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A menacing crowd of 3,000 surged toward the headquarters of the Russian United Nations delegation on Park Avenue last night as the Red elite within downed champagne and vodka toasts to the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

A force of about 150 police — some of them mounted — barred the shouting pickets from the entrance.

Many in the crowd were of Hungarian descent. Numerous students of several colleges joined the demonstration.

As guests passed in and out of the Red delegation's headquarters pickets held placards high. Some of them read:

"Don't drink champagne mixed with Hungarian blood."

"Get out of America, you murderers."

"Sobolev stop lying." (The first three letters of the last name of chief U.N. Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev were capitalized.)

Sobolev was host at the affair inside.

Police finally gave the "move on" order, and within 10 minutes the crowd vanished.

Bond Issue Rejected

ECORSE (AP)—A $94,000 bond issue to finance paving of alleys was turned down 1,249 to 598 on election day.

Prepare to Test World Missile

Air Force to Launch Intercontinental 'Atlas' in Florida, California

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The builder of the Air Force's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile said today locations in southern California and Florida were being made ready for initial launching tests.

Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. said a facility here, where the missile's rocket engines will be given short trials, is expected to go into operation in the immediate future.

The engines and other units will be given further tests at Edwards Air Force Base in the Mojave Desert before the initial launching from Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.

From there, the missile will be fired at a target far in the South Pacific. It is designed for flight across oceans and continents.

It could carry a nuclear or other bomb against an enemy.

Convair said that it was also combining "research and development leading toward space travel" with the Atlas project. This will be centered at the 40-million-dollar Convair-Astronautics production plant, now under construction in San Diego.

North Korea Downs South Korea Plane

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea tonight admitted shooting down a South Korean F51 Mustang fighter plane. Radio Pyongyang said the South Korean craft violated North Korea's territory.

South Korea announced yesterday two of its F51s had been attacked and said one plane was missing. The second returned with 20 bullet holes, South Korea said. The South Koreans claimed two North Korean MIG15 fighters attacked the two Mustangs over the Yellow Sea, which separates Korea from the Chinese mainland.

The North Korean broadcast said the two South Korean planes launched the attack and the North Korean planes fought back, shooting down one.

It was the first encounter between South and North Korean planes since the Korean armistice.

Two Liberaces Weep; War Halts Big Deal

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Liberace has returned from a five-week overseas tour a bit disappointed that the Middle East crisis prevented him from appearing before the Queen of England.

British forces invaded Egypt just two hours before his scheduled command performance before Elizabeth II said the pianist.

"I wept openly," Liberace said, in referring to the cancellation. "My brother George wept . . . it was a sad moment."

Lausche Will Join Senate After Term as Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, elected to the U.S. Senate Tuesday, hedged today when asked if he will vote with the Republicans to organize that body.

"I will finish my term as governor of Ohio," he said. "If the Senate is not organized by the time I am sworn in, I will then cast my vote, taking in consideration the composition of the Senate, the fact that Eisenhower is President and such other matters as I believe are pertinent."

Lausche said earlier this year that he might vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate if Eisenhower is elected.

The Senate lineup now stands at 49 Democrats, including Lausche, and at least 46 Republicans, and possibly 47 if a Republican wins one of Kentucky's undecided contests.

If that contest is settled with a Republican winner, Lausche's vote could be all-important. With a Senate of 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans, Lausche holds the Democratic majority in the palm of his hand.

If he voted Republican, as he said he might, the Republicans would have a tie vote with the Democrats, and Republican Vice President Nixon would then cast the deciding ballot.

The Senate race in Kentucky that could give the Republicans their 47th vote was between Thruston B. Morton, former assistant secretary of state, and Democratic Sen. Earle C. Clements. Morton held a slight lead at last count.

The Senate convenes Jan. 3. Lausche's term ends Jan. 14.

Helen Stevenson to Wed Meyner

Oberlin College Head's Daughter Is Engaged to New Jersey Governor

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—The parents of Helen Day Stevenson, daughter of a college president, today announced her engagement to Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

The names of the 28-year-old brunette and the handsome 48-year-old Democratic governor have been linked romantically for months.

Her father William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, said they plan to wed in January.

During the election campaign, Miss Stevenson worked for the Volunteers for Stevenson-Kefauver campaign. She shares a distant relative with the unsuccessful presidential candidate through her mother's side of her family.

Her father explained that like this:

"My wife's aunt married Spencer Ewing, who was a double first cousin of Adlai Stevenson's father."

A graduate of Colorado College, Miss Stevenson served with the Red Cross in Korea, later returning to this country, where she was employed at the United Nations building and as a public relations representative of an airline.

Blames $100,000 Fire on Election Day Drinker

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—William Beudikofer is blaming the $100,000 fire which destroyed his Grand View house in the Mt. Hamilton Range on the election.

Beudikofer told sheriff's deputies he believed angered seekers for a drink started the fire.

Required to close his tavern during polling hours, Beudikofer decided against reopening Tuesday night. He said he heard a car drive up just before the fire was discovered at 2 a.m.

Pay Raises Vetoed

DEARBORN (AP) — Voters turned down pay raises for all city officials except the associate judge, whose salary was raised $1,000 to $6,500 a year. Also defeated on election day was a proposed extension of the terms of office of elected officials from two to three years.

MEDICOS DOOM ACE—Physicians have told 34-year-old John T. Godfrey, pictured as a World War II air ace, that he has but one to two years left to live. The 6-foot, 200-pound veteran has amyothropic lateral sclerosis, an ailment similar to muscular dystrophy. Now a prosperous operator of a textile mill at South Freeport, Me., Godfrey is credited by the Air Force with downing 29 enemy planes.

New England Center of Carnation Industry

BOSTON—New England is the center of the carnation industry in the United States. There are 2,500,000 square feet of carnations under glass in New England. The biggest area is in Massachusetts, which produces more blooms than any other state. Massachusetts' 272 growers annually send 60 to 65 million blooms all over the world, bringing in $4,500,000.

New Tariff System

STOCKHOLM—A new tariff system, based on the value of imported goods rather than on fixed sums related to weight, has been proposed by a special Government committee and submitted to the Minister of Finance. It will be introduced in the Riksdag (Parliament) next year and is expected to result in a slight increase in the yield from customs duties.

Best Way Is to Marry Man With Money

So You Want to Be Perfect Housekeeper?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Now that winter is almost here, it is time for slovenly, dilatory housekeepers like ourselves to begin thinking about fall housecleaning.

As Mama used to say, "Haste makes waste, but procrastination makes cobwebs." (Mama had a maid, so she could afford to be philosophical.)

To our desk, at this appropriate moment, has come a new publication titled "The Complete Book of Absolutely Perfect Housekeeping," in which there are many helpful hints on how to keep your sanity through these trying times.

Written by Elinor Goulding Smith, a Scarsdale, N. Y., wife and mother, it commences with wholesome frankness:

"I hate to think of any woman finding it difficult to manage a home. It is, but I hate to think of it. However, the difficulties should merely add zest and challenge to a job that is stimulating, meaningful, varied and utterly loathsome."

THE LEAST EFFORT

From that point, so honestly expressed, the author goes on to tell a woman how to manage her household with the least possible effort. The best way, of course is to marry a man with money.

But, that failing, there are dozens of dandy work-saver devices that a shrewd little woman can employ in her semi-annual set-to with the vacuum, wax, redecoration, soap and aching back.

For example:

On dusting-the-house: Don't do it! Instead, either air-condition the entire house, sealing shut all the windows and doors and putting mineral oil on the filters; or call in a reliable firm of painters and paperhangers and have the entire house done over.

This will entirely rid the house of dirt and cobwebs and while the work is being done, why not take a nice trip somewhere? All you need is money.

On storing - things - in - bureau - draws - for - the - winter: Due to a common natural process called "warping," drawers are fairly impossible to be gotten into at any time. Using all your strength and a crowbar, wedge them open and stuff summer clothes therein.

* * *

It is unlikely that your husband will be able to open them again. But if he happens to succeed and exclaims, "Good heavens, just look at these disorderly drawers!" — don't.

TAKE CHANCES

On decorating - interiorly: Don't be afraid to take chances, especially with color. What you want is something different, something that will make your friends talk.

Try doing a room in black and purple, with a puce accent just for laughs. Then invite your neighbors in for an evening of Russian roulette.

On simple - home - repairs: Never stand in a pool of water while making electrical repairs, as wet feet can often bring on a cold, with the ever-present possibility of pneumonia and complications.

All the equipment you need for plumbing is (1) an enameled pail, (2) a dry wet mop and (3) the phone number of a good plumber.

On bed-making: If, after you've done as good a job as you can of making the beds, and your family still complains of wrinkles, don't worry. Tell them to think of their bed as a little nest.

This, according to Mrs. Smith, kept house is the trademark of a home where love has been exceeded by efficiency.

Dog Exit Now Locked

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Damon, an Australian shepherd dog, doesn't use his own special swinging door to enter and leave the home of Mrs. Lou Ella Archer anymore.

Mrs. Archer had a lock put on the little hatch after a thief wriggled through it one night and made off with several hundred dollars worth of jewelry.

Math Takes to TV

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Washington University takes its basic freshman mathematics course to television.

All lectures in the one-semester five-credit course in college algebra and trigonometry are given on educational TV station KETC. It is the first time a basic college course has been offered here only on TV.

Javits' Success Classic Story

After Modest Start, New Yorker Climbed to Senate Office

NEW YORK (AP)—To a Manhattan politician, being born on the lower East Side is the big city equivalent of being born in a log cabin. It typifies the American tradition of a gallant rise from a modest beginning.

Jacob Koppel Javits, 52, New York's new senator-elect, has just such a politically classic background. He defeated Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner Tuesday by 450,000 votes.

Javits, whom everyone calls "Jack," was educated in New York's public schools. He went to Columbia University night school and New York University Law School. He was admitted to law practice in 1927.

During World War II, he was assistant to the chief of operations of the Chemical Warfare Service in the European and Pacific theaters. He came out a lieutenant colonel.

As a Republican with Liberal party backing, he was elected to the first of four terms in Congress in 1946.

In 1951 he reluctantly ran on the GOP ticket for president of the New York City Council and lost. In 1953 he sought coalition backing for mayor but didn't get it.

In 1954, he was the only Republican to win on a statewide ticket. He defeated Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for attorney general by 176,000 votes.

Before tackling Wagner — another of New York's famous sons of a famous father — Javits cleared himself of rumors that he dealt with Communists when he first ran for Congress.

Wagner, whose father was a noted New Deal Senator, did not question Javits loyalty throughout the campaign.

Javits is Jewish. Wagner is a Roman Catholic. Yet it was Wagner who strongly espoused the cause of Israel in the closing days of the campaign. Javits stood with the Eisenhower administration's opposition to the Israeli march into Egypt. For that he was booed several times — which he said he found hard to take.

Javits, short and bald, succeeds Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, a Democrat, who in retiring attempted to hand-pick Wagner as his successor.

The new senator, married to an attractive dark-haired woman 20 years his junior, has three children, a son, Joshua, 6, and two daughters, Joy, 8, and Carla, 1.

Parking Is Subject of Education Board

Crowded parking conditions at Pontiac Senior High School will be considered tonight by the Board of Education.

The Board has heard complaints from both faculty and students, a spokesman said.

The situation faces further complication if parking on West Huron street is made illegal after Jan. 1.

This action may be taken by the state as part of a new policy to ban parking on state highways in municipal areas.

The Board also will select architects for rehabilitation projects at the senior high, East Junior High School and at McConnel and Crofoot Elementary Schools.

Illegal Beer Possession Jails Two Youths, Man

A 17-year-old Utica youth and his two juvenile companions were held last night after Oakland County Sheriff's deputies reported finding beer in their car on Auburn road west of Dequindre road.

Facing arraignment today on a charge of illegal possession of beer is Jessie E. Howell, the driver. The boys, both of Utica, were held at the children's home, deputies said.

One empty and one half-filled case of beer were confiscated, deputies said.

Cites Democrats' Need for New National Figures

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mark R. Holloran, Democratic national committeeman for Missouri, says the Democratic party is ready for new leadership and both Missouri senators, Stuart Symington and Thomas C. Hennings Jr., must be considered powerful national figures.

Holloran said last night preference for President Eisenhower "was certainly increased by events in Europe and the Near East during the past 10 days."

Because of Democratic control of Congress, Holloran said, "it could scarcely be considered a Republican victory."

Cholera Kills 22 in India

NEW DELHI (AP)—A cholera epidemic at Bhagalpur, on the Ganges in eastern India, has killed 22 people in the last five days and put 100 in hospital, press reports said today.

County 4-H Leaders Given Awards

Nearly 200 Oakland County 4-H leaders and families were recognized last night for their work in 4-H at the annual Leaders' Banquet held at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Assn. building on West Huron Street.

During the evening's activities which included a talk from Russell Mawby, state 4-H leader and assistant director of extension at Michigan State University, over 100 pins and awards were made to leaders and outstanding club members.

Mawby, who replaces A. G. Kettunen, former state 4-H leader for 30 years, saluted leaders in his talk for "the terrific job that you do."

Pointing out that the "real heart of the 4-H Club" is in the communities, he challenged leaders to encourage more young people to take part in 4-H Club membership and when they do this, to maintain the quality of the program.

OTHERS LISTED

Others participating in the program were Chairman James Reid, Jack Worthington and Sue Sturgis, 4-H Club agents, Toastmaster Kenneth Brown, deputy superintendent of schools; and Mrs. Wilbert Kincaid, who gave the invocation.

Awards went to four ten year leaders from the county, Arthur Schaldenbrand of Farmington; Mrs. Russel Pickering of Birmingham; Mrs. Thurman Bowers of Milford and Mrs. Kenneth Rocker of Wixom.

Eight leaders received five year leader pins: Mrs. Dan Abbey of Lake Orion; Mrs. R. H. Dudley of Birmingham; John Lessiter of Lake Orion; Mrs. Don Montney of Pontiac; Stuart Braid of Lake Orion; Mrs. Keith Middleton of Lake Orion and Mrs. Ila Wermuth of Holly.

Twenty six one-year leaders received pins.

Mrs. Stuart Braid of Lake Orion and James Reid of Milford, received 4-H alumni awards, certificates given to former Oakland County 4-H members now outstanding as leaders or supporters of the program in the county.

The Home Economics trophy presented yearly to the outstanding 4-H girl in home economics went to Janet Long of Milford. It was presented by last year's winner, Marilyn Sharp, formerly of Novi.

Aletha Boomus formerly of South Lyon and now of Washtenaw County and Edward Braid of Lake Orion, received the Michigan Farmer awards for 4-H Achievement.

HOST AWARD

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Middleton of Lake Orion, host to the most recent International Farm Youth Exchange member from the Netherlands, were presented with a certificate for being host family.

The East Orion 4-H Club under leader Mrs. John Lessiter was awarded a certificate honoring them as an outstanding club in recreational activities.

Honorary 4-H memberships were presented to Dan Hines and Mrs. Virginia Richardson, both representing Detroit Edison, Clare Cummings, member of the board of supervisors for Oakland County and Mrs. David Hayhow, The Pontiac Press.

Other awards presented during the evening included the following member awards.

Achievement: Frank Lessiter, Sue Tobin, Kenneth Smith and July Crawford; beautification of home grounds: Laura Szymke, Ronald Swanson, Sharon Pickering and Dale Hammond; boys' agricultural: Stuart Hutchins, Donald Bowers, Howard Storm and Kenneth Smith.

Others are: bread demonstration: Beth Rose; canning: Carolyn Bowers, Margaret Wiggins, Betty Jane Short, Sally Taylor; clothing: Grace Williamson, Judy Eastburn, Charlene Sudia, Carol Schultz; home economics: July Crawford, Janet Long, Grace Williamson, Carol Sue Peace; health: Launa Darnell; home improvement: Joan Podea and July Martin.

Still more include, leadership: Stuart Hutchins, Sue Tobin; meat animal: Rita Speela, Howard Storm; poultry: Ricky Muir, Edward Braid, Mac Brown and Arthur Fisher; recreation: Ralph Hoxie, Lola Johnson, James Hammon, Beth Rose; safety: Winston Moore, Ralph Hoxie, David Skebowski; tractor: James Thompson, Charles Wright, Paul Norland, Lynn Rowe; public speaking: Beth Rose.

Name Grand Juror for Macomb Probe

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Circuit Judge Timothy Quinn of Lapeer and Tuscola Counties, was assigned yesterday as a one-man grand jur-or to investigate the state attorney general's charges of corruption in Macomb County.

State Court Administrator Meredith H. Doyle assigned Quinn after Macomb County Circuit Judge Alton H. Noe requested an "outside" judge be put in charge of the probe.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh filed a petition for a one-man grand jury investigation Oct. 22. He charged "certain" public officials with conspiracy to violate statte election laws, extortion and bribe taking.

Turkey Show Begins

HOLLAND (AP) — The third annual west Michigan 4H turkey show and auction was under way Thursday at the Holland Civic Center. Grower entries from Ottawa, Kent, Allegan and Newaygo counties compete with dressed birds. Entries also were expected from Muskegon, Oceana and Ionia counties.

Rockin' Elvis Presley Has Advertisers Rollin'

NEW YORK (NEA) — To the boys in the advertising dens of Madison Avenue, Elvis Presley is just a statistic. He excites them, but not because of his way with a song or his limpid eyes or his free-wheeling hips.

They see in Elvis Presley a way to reach the teenage market, an ever-increasing group that has an average of $12.71 spending money each week.

And the first beautiful surveys indicate that the teenagers are a loyal group; if Elvis appears on a show that sponsors hearing aids, indications are that they'll save up for hearing aids.

It's not just Elvis. His competitors—the Bill Haleys, the Pat Boones, the Carl Perkinses, and the other rockers, rollers and wigglers — seem to have equal facility at reaching the young spenders.

All this is explained in an article in the influential TV - advertising magazine, Sponsor, headed "Can Elvis Sell Soap?" The conclusion: "Elvis (is) one way to the teenager's heart and pocketbook."

Elvis Presley's appeal is often hard for some people to figure. There have been attempts to explain it psychologically—he represents, this reasoning has it, the freedom from adult supervision that many teenagers subconsciously hunger for. And there have been attempts to explain it economically—cold publicity brought him his fame and fortune. And some people shrug and say that it's just-one of those crazy things.

HAS THE APPEAL

But nobody can doubt that his appeal exists. A TV show with Presley on it zooms into the wild high-ratings yonder; a new Presley record sells almost a million copies before it comes out; a Presley movie, sight unseen, is booked into the biggest theaters across the nation; Presley-sponsored hats and bracelets and scarves dot the counters in stores and are snapped up by adoring fans.

These fans, with a few pitiful exceptions, are confined to the 13-19 - year age bracket. This is a whopping bracket — every day, Sponsor says, 10,000 more children qualify.

Time was when Madison Avenue and its wealthy clients all but ignored teenagers. They figured they had little money to spend, little interest in products outside bubble gum and bobby sox, little value to an advertiser of soup or razor blades or soap.

But eager research men have revised that position. Teenagers do buy products for the home and for themselves. One-third of all first children born in the U. S. are born to mothers under 20, meaning that there are millions of teenagers playing house for keeps. They need soup and soap.

REMEMBER BRANDS

And other surveys prove that when children become conscious of a brand name at a tender age, chances are they'll remember the name when their age gets tougher.

So big advertisers are flocking in, trying to get on the Presley & Associates rock - and - roll - band - wagon. One of the major razor blade companies, figuring on getting the big shavers while they're still little shavers, is plotting an all-out campaign to indoctrinate teeage boys with its name.

Where does Presley fit into this? He's the champion around which the new advertising technique is rallying. Whether for good or evil, Elvis has stirred up a whole new way of thinking for the advertising trade. They're out to hit 'em while they're young.

Presley, himself, keeps on rolling along in his own department. He's not particularly interested in the sales of soup, soap or blades, but he does have a large stake in the sale of certain records and souvenirs. And, nowadays, anything with his name or face or voice on it seems to sell.

He sells to the same age group that used to buy Rudy Vallee megaphones and Russ Columbo shirts and Frank Sinatra bowties. He sells to the vast teenage horde that buys, according ot estimates, a little more than half of all the phonograph records. He sells to the kids who make up some 56 per cent of the audience of a typical New York disc jockey show.

And this tremendous market is about to be hit by a force that may be even more powerful than that of Elvis Presley and his galoping side-burns, the genius of American advertising.

To Get Social Security

WYANDOTTE (AP) — A charter amendment to bring city employes under social security was approved Tuesday 7,529 to 3,433. An advisory vote on annexation of Ecorse Township and whether to allow an expressway through the city showed voters did not favor the proposals.

Prize Goes Begging

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Nobel Peace Prize will go unawarded for the second straight year, the Nabel Committee announced. The committee gave no reason for its decision. The last award, in 1954, was to the Office of the U.N. Commissioner of Refugees.

Adenauer Denounces Mideast Hostilities

BONN (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today criticized Britain, France, Israel and Egypt for their parts in the Middle East crisis. He also had harsh words for Russia's military campaign to "crush the voice of freedom" in Hungary.

Adenauer mentioned no nation by name in a special Bundestag (lower house of Parliament) debate on the Middle East.

But in an apparent reference to Britain, France and Israel, he said, "Legitimate aims of foreign policy should not be realized with armed force." He added that he "regrets and cannot approve" of the hostilities in Egypt.

Adenauer also said that "the smaller powers must not break treaties or agreements in the belief that the great powers will shy away from the risk of war." This obviously referred to Egyptian President Nasser's cancellation of the Suez Canal Co.'s concession.

Ali to Send Troops

JAKARTA (AP) — Prime Minister Ali Sastroamidjojo announced today that Indonesia will supply troops to the U.N. Middle East police force. He did not say how many men Indonesia would send.

Killed in 2-Car Crash

DETROIT (AP) — Guy Motes, 31, of Detroit was killed Tuesday in a two-car collision in Warren Township. Clyde E. Pack of Hamtramck, driver of the car in which Motes was riding, was held for investigation of manslaughter.

New Clinic Improves Speech

NEW YORK (INS) — The need for military manpower in 1943 was acute, and to A. Edmund Turner, an assistant adjutant at an induction center, the number of otherwise able-bodied young men being rejected because of speech defects was appalling.

Turner, a public speaking teacher in civilian life, decided then it was more important to help the handicapped than to train normal-speaking persons to be more persuasive orators.

Today, after additional study and eight years of working with afflicted children and adults, Turner can count more than 2,800 patients he has helped overcome stuttering and other speech difficulties.

Employing his unique "body to mind" technique, Turner personally treats patients one day a week at each of the six, one-man clinics in the New York area which he operates in cooperation with Catholic parochial schools.

WORD SPREADS SUCCESS

The Manhattan clinic for adults was established as word spread about the success of a method Turner perfected while studying for his master's degree at Fordham University after the war.

To the clinic come adults from all walks of life, accompanied by the wives, husbands or friends who serve as Turner's only assistants.

All his teaching of both children and adults is done in an audience situation. Having the other patients watch as each receives the therapy helps the person with a speech defect perform better in difficult social and class-room situations, Turner believes.

With the parent or other adult observer at his side, Turner places the patient flat on his back on a table and puts him through exercises designed to relax him and lessen the tension generated by the frustration of being unable to talk properly.

The "observer," having learned the technique from watching Turner, is required to repeat the process with the patient in daily 30-minute practice sessions at home.

This is to insure greater absorption of the teaching and to supplement the 13 90-minute lessons given by Turner.

Turner firmly believes his "body to mind" therapy for stuttering is more effective than so-called "pscho-therapy."

CAUSE PSYCHOLOGICAL

"Although I know the cause of stuttering is usually psychogical," he says, "I think irreparable harm may be done by probing the deep recesses of the mind to determine and eliminate the cause.

"Therefore, I work on the elimination of the symptoms that are heard, seen and felt during stuttering speech. All my students agree that if they do exactly what they are taught, they cannot stutter."

What they are taught is, in simple terms, controlled breathing from the diaphragm. Most stutterers, Turner has found, are "high chest breathers" — that is they raise their chest and shoulders before speaking.

This makes it almost physically impossible to utter a sentence because as the chest muscles tense for breathing, they cause the nearby vocal cords to tighten and go into a spasm.

While the observer "monitors" the chest, back and abdominal muscles, the stutterer is taught to use the powerful muscles of the diaphragm, far below the vocal cords, to do the work of letting air into the lungs and forcing it out for speech.

The next step is to train the vocal cords to produce sounds at a slowly descending picth. As the patient gains control, the pause between each pitch is lessened until normal conversational speech is achieved.

Half a ship will be launched in Belfast next January. It will provide the 16,500-ton tanker Esso Glasgow with a new midship section so she can carry different grades of oil in the coastal trade.

Newest Buick Yet

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new?

Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true—gospel true.

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense.

We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to sassy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow—so instant in the starting range—so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.*

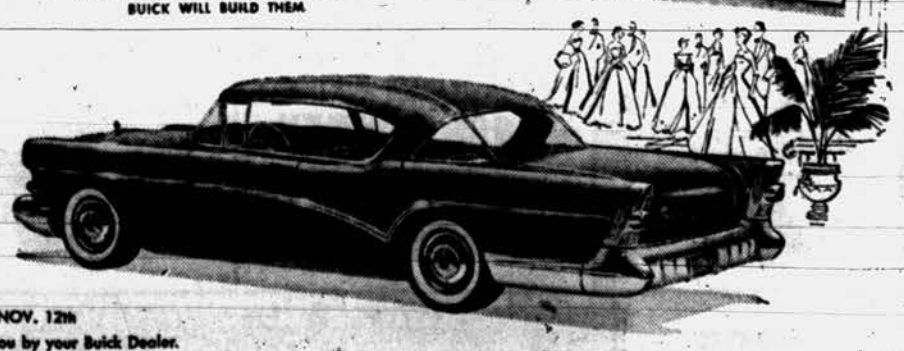

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Buried Under Gobi Sands

13th Century Mongolian Capital Being Uncovered

WASHINGTON—Excavators are scooping the dust of centuries from Karakorum, the desert capital of Genghis Khan.

Ruins of the conqueror's 13th-century headquarters stand on the Orkhon River in the heart of the Mongolian Republic, the National Geographic Society says. Founded about 1220 A. D., seven years before Genghis died, the city became a focal point of mankind before it eventually was abandoned, razed, and forgotten. Now scholars and scientists are reclaiming it from the harsh, wind-driven sands of the Gobi.

Genghis Khan, the self-styled "Emperor of Mankind," is one of the few great warriors who nearly made his boast come true.

His hordes, forsaking their felt-lined tents on Mongolian steppes, set about ravaging the known world. They defeated the armies of China, then ruled by sword from the Yellow Sea to the Black Sea. Russian princes were their vassals. Moslem power crumbled. All Europe was in peril, as is borne out by the topical prayer added to the Christian litany: "Save us from the fury of the Tatars!"

TOWNS WIPED OUT

Everywhere the Mongols went, people were annihilated. Entire towns were wiped out. Streams were diverted from their beds.

Mighty kingdoms whose names mean little now paid tribute to the Khan. The treasures of a continent poured in — gold, silver, horses, brocades, silks. Thousands of slaves, male and female, were taken.

The Mongols of Genghis Khan, hard-riding, ruthless, skilled and drilled in war, were nomads. They were accustomed to pitching their tents wherever good pasturage appeared for their animals.

But with the wealth of much of the world coming in, the Khan was persuaded that he needed a permanent capital. He selected Karakorum (Black Sands) as the seat of his monarchy, the place to which tribute could be sent. No doubt it was a strange city of domed felt yurts and mud huts.

At its height, however, Karakorum had a splendid imperial palace and government buildings. Its treasure houses were stuffed, its granaries bursting, its borders ringed with stud farms and flocks. Representatives of many nations awaited an audience with Genghis Khan's successors.

When a new Khan was to be chosen, as many as 4,000 envoys might be on hand. They hoped to gain favor with the new monarch, regain their own thrones—or avert a Mongolian invasion.

MADE TO WAIT OUTSIDE

Emissaries were restricted to the plain outside Karakorum. They were not allowed within a board fence guarding the white brocade pavilion in which 2,000 descendants of Genghis Khan gathered to choose the worthiest leader.

For the edification of the waiting emissaries, the fence was embellished with pictures depicting Genghis Khan's deeds and victories.

This was Karakorum in its days of glory. But Kublai Khan, a grandson of Genghis Khan, moved the capital from the windy desert to Peiping. There he had himself crowned "Son of Heaven." His departure shifted the axis of power from Mongolia, and Genghis Khan's huge empire began to break up.

Chinese warriors destroyed Karakorum in 1388.

Car Output Surge Cuts Unemployment

DETROIT (AP) — Fewer than 150,000 persons will be unemployed in Michigan by New Year's Day, the Michigan Employment Security Commission predicts.

The commission reported a net gain of 67,000 jobs in the auto industry between Sept. 21 and Oct. 11.

It predicted another 50,000 will be added to payrolls by the first of the year. The commission said the year's top unemployment was reflected in a Sept. 15 report showing 259,000 idle. It credited the auto industry's swing into production of 1957 models with much of the Sept. 21-Oct. 11 gain.

Given Stiff Sentences

FLINT (AP) — Leroy Kidd, 26, and Wilbur Wright, 37, both convicted of illegal sale of narcotics, were sentenced to 20 years to life imprisonment by Circuit Judge Philip Elliott. The two were arrested May 18 when 21 policemen raided a series of places allegedly doing a $2,000-a-week business in illegal narcotics.

In Tullahoma, Tenn., the U.S. Air Force is building a wind tunnel which will provide hurricane gales of 3,800 miles per hour.

South Leads in Surprises

Both Parties Spring Ballot Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Surprises, upsets and color galore were off-beat footnotes to the nationwide election.

In rolling up his popular majority, President Eisenhower confounded precedent in many places.

In Louisiana he became the first Republican president to carry the state in 80 years. Rutherford B. Hayes was the last GOP president to turn the trick and that was back in 1876.

Eisenhower was also the first Republican since Reconstruction days to sweep Montgomery, Ala.,

He walked off with border-line Oklahoma — the first GOP candidate to win two successive presidential elections in the state's 50-year history.

The Eisenhower landslide also shattered records in the North.

He was the first presidential candidate to carry all 21 counties in New Jersey. He captured Hudson County, a solid Democratic stronghold for decades.

A heretofore unbeatable Democratic machine was built by the late Frank Hague in Hudson County after World War I. The county regularly turned up Democratic majorities of 100,000 votes in Hague's heyday.

John V. Kenny, present Democratic leader in Hudson, said of the election results:

"Our organization lost to the most popular man our country has ever known; yes, and that includes Franklin D. Roosevelt."

But in other areas of the country Democratic candidates swam against the Eisenhower tide and won handily.

G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, handsome bow-tied heir to a toiletries fortune, wrapped up an unprecedented fifth term victory as Democratic governor of Michigan.

In other topsy-turvy results West Virginia chose 34-year-old Cecil H. Underwood as the state's first Republican governor since 1932.

Underwood, a farm boy who never saw a movie until he was a high school sophomore, had served six straight terms in the state Legislature.

In Massachusetts Democratic Rep. Thomas J. Lane, who served a four-month federal prison sentence for income tax evasion earlier this year, was re-elected to his ninth term.

A Pulitzer prize-winning cartoonist lost out to a Republican congresswoman in New York's 28th District. Democrat Bill Mauldin, famed for his World War II "Willie and Joe" cartoons, was defeated by Rep. Katharine St. George.

Reports of ballot box stuffing and illegal absentee voting rocked the eastern Oklahoma town of Stillwell. Last summer the same town saw its sheriff-elect and sheriff kill each other other in a post-primary election gun duel in the county jail.

Voting troubles also hit New York City. Police ordered voting machines impounded in several districts of Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens. Closeness of the vote was given as the reason.

In California, India-born Judge Dalip Singh Saund won over millionaire aviatrix Jacquelin Cochran Odlum in their battle for Congress. He is a Democrat and she a Republican.

Individual voters were caught in strange happenings. An Episcopal bishop had to get a Supreme Court order in Mineola, N.Y., before he was able to cast his challenged vote in person after having previously arranged to send in an absentee ballot.

At Bradford, Pa., the county Republican chairman got out of a hospital bed where he was recuperating from a stroke and drove 90 miles in order to vote.

Tragedy struck another voter in Newark, Ohio. As Mrs. Ursula Fallon left a polling place she was shot to death by a 70-year-old man, Vaughn Brewster, who then killed himself. Police found no motive immediately for the suicide-murder.

Five-year-old Mike Lloyd of New Ulm, Minn., was perhaps the nation's only unhappy Eisenhower backer today. Mike swallowed a gold "Ike in '56" pin. A doctor said he would get over it fine.

Hong Kong no longer restricts import of juke boxes but bans pinball machines.

Ann Arbor Goes GOP

ANN ARBOR — All Washtenaw County Republican officeholders won re-election by big margins. In the county's non-partisan race, Probate Judge John W. Conlin, appointed by Gov. Williams, defeated Lauren W. Campbell. Circuit Court Commissioners Robert V. Fink and Jack J. Garris, running on a non-partisan ticket, were re-elected. Annexation of East Ann Arbor, a city of 2,000, by Ann Arbor was approved by a big majority in both cities.

Votes Talk for 'Silent Senator' Hayden Returning to Congress Fourteenth Time

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Carl Hayden, Arizona's 79-year-old "silent senator," is going back to Washington as dean of Congress. He hasn't said anything about this new honor. No one expects he will.

With the retirement of Sen. Walter George of Georgia, the Senate's senior legislator, Hayden becomes the oldest lawmaker on "The Hill" in point of service. He outranks House Speaker Sam Rayburn by two years, having started as a freshman representative in 1912, the year Arizona became a state.

Just a few days ago Hayden was honored by a feed dealers' association for his efforts to help Arizona cattlemen get drought relief. He was introduced by a prominent state politician and eulogized at length. Hayden got up and said:

"I learned a long time ago that when you've got the votes, you don't have to talk."

Then he sat down.

Back in Washington, Hayden's seniority has won him an exacting task as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee. He almost always pleads the press of business to avoid going to parties and rarely makes a speech.

"When I came to Congress an old hand told me that I could play for the headlines and be a show horse, or I could buckle down and be a work horse," Hayden explained.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) once told a GOP banquet in Phoenix:

"A man who served on my side of the aisle told me that I should never smile when I'm near Carl Hayden, because Carl is sure to pick the gold right out of my teeth. He gets what he wants and he works for it."

Hayden's record — eight times elected to the House and six to the Senate for a total of 44 years in Washington — amazes many a legislator fighting the shifting cross-currents of politics.

Tuesday he rolled up 160,882 votes beating his Republican opponent Ross Jones by 60,000. At the same time, President Eisenhower polled 164,694 votes for a 58,000-vote majority over Adlai Stevenson.

North Viet Nam Pledges Reform

Red Regime Promises People Freedom, Vows to 'Correct Mistakes'

HONG KONG (AP) — North Viet Nam's Communist regime promised more liberal reforms today along the line of those which followed de-Stalinization in Eastern Europe.

Hanoi radio announced that wrongly condemned prisoners would be freed, given economic compensation and aided to earn a living.

"All army men and government workers who were wrongly condemned will regain their citizens' rights, honors and position," the decree of President Ho Chi Minh's government said.

"Unjustified compulsory residence and unlawful arrests must be abolished," it added.

It also promised "strict respect" for freedom of worship, restoration of family temple lands confiscated during the land reform program, and correction of "mistakes" in dealing with the religious beliefs, customs and traditions of North Viet Nam's minority races.

The decree also ordered a readjustment of the production quotas in the land reform program.

Moscow Radio: Only Personality Won for Ike

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today the American election results were a personal victory for President Eisenhower but a resounding rejection of the policies of his Republican party.

A broadcast in the radio's home service said:

"It is still too early to draw any exhaustive conclusions from the results of the U.S. elections, but already many American political observers stress that the victory is due primarily to Eisenhower's personal popularity, connected with the part he played during World War II as well as with such measures, as for example, his participation in the Geneva conference of the heads of government of the four great powers.

pursued by the Republican administration in recent years, does not meet with the approval of the majority of the American people.

"That is how one can appraise the results of the congressional elections. American electors voted not so much for the Democrats as against the Republicans, thus demonstrating their disapproval of the political course of the ruling Republican party."

Fluoridation Favored

GROSSE POINTE FARMS (AP)—An advisory vote on the hotly contested question of fluoridation gave the proposal a narrow margin of 50 votes. The balloting was 3,036 to 2,986. The issue now goes back to the City Council. City officials had hoped for a decisive vote one way or the other.

Amendment Approved

MADISON HEIGHTS (AP)—A charter amendment was approved which will permit the City Council to issue special assessment bonds without a referendum vote. Also passed was a proposal to permit the city to assume control of its share of the Royal Oak Township water and sewer system.

Famous Nevada Mine

Low-Grade Ore Mining to Reopen Comstock Lode

WASHINGTON—A multimillion-dollar hole in the ground is to be reopened.

This is the Comstock Lode in Nevada, producer of vast wealth in gold and silver during a lusty period of American history.

One of the richest mining areas ever developed, the Comstock helped finance the North in the Civil War, provided the basis for several American fortunes, rejuvenated San Francisco, and lifted California from a depression, the National Geographic Society says. As operations declined, the Comstock left on its doorstep one of the most famous of ghost towns, Virginia City.

The Consolidated Virginia Mining Co., one of the best-known names on the Comstock in its biggest boom period, the 1870's, recently announced it will resume work, developing with modern methods low-grade ore deposits unprofitable in earlier days.

Discovered in 1859 by a group of placer miners, the lode lies between two rock faces in western Nevada. It was formed perhaps 60 million years ago, geologists believe, by the upwelling of subterranean fire and steam. These earth fires still burn beneath the lode. Water as hot as 170 degrees Fahrenheit, gushing into shafts, stopped deep mining efforts at the 4,000-foot level.

The men who worked these deep mines, sometimes in niches so hot their bodies had to be sprayed with cold water, sought boisterous recreation on the surface.

Although more decorous than many mining camps of the period, Virginia City had its moments of excitement. Memorable was the opening of the first opera house which, with its successors, was to provide a showcase for such stars as Modjeska, Joe Jefferson, Buffalo Bill, Lotta Crabtree, and Edwin Booth.

Two feuding mine superintendents attended the opening in tailcoats and Colt revolvers, which they soon put in use. Their friends joined in the fusillade across the orchestra, puncturing a few diamond-studded shirt fronts and the new curtain, embellished with a genuine hand-painted representation of the Lakes of Killarney. Luckily, no one seemed to carry more than six shots when in evening dress. The battle subsided, and the show went on. No one was seriously hurt.

The history of the Comstock is laced through with stock deals of all kinds; battles under the earth between workers of adjoining mines; and such tactics as influencing the market by confining the miners underground to simulate a bonanza.

Gold and silver from the Comstock started many men toward wealth, but the group that profited most consistently from the Comstock was the brokers who handled the stocks of the various mines. More than 50 of them acquired substantial fortunes.

CHILI CON CARNE. While we can't devote too many meetings to the topic, we do, from time to time, present divers views from rival camps. Varina Elder Snyder of Hufsmith, Tex., goes this-a-way, pardner.

1 quart coarsely ground or chopped meat
1 cup bacon fat, oil, or lard
½ cup flour, more or less, according to how thick you want the gravy to be
2 big cloves of garlic, chopped fine
Cumin, salt to taste
¼ cup chili powder, more or less, letting your conscience be your guide

Use a Dutch oven for this, or a large deep skillet or chicken fryer with a well-fitting cover. Melt the oil or fat, stir in the garlic, and then stir in the chopped meat. Cover tightly. The meat will not fry at first until the juices cook out of it.

When meat is white, uncover, and let fluid boil away. When meat begins to fry, reduce heat and stir with a spatula or pancake turner to prevent scorching and sticking.

Brown the meat well, for best flavor. Now add chili powder, enough to produce a rich red color. Add flour and salt, and stir well—add cumin if desired. Pour in enough cold water to cover meat, and stir until it boils.

If you're doing this on a wood stove, put to back of stove; otherwise, simmer for 45 minutes at least. If chili is too thick, add more water.

Serve with big sour dough biscuits, "Crackers are for sissies, and we cannot get tortillas down here on spring Creek!" vouchsafes Varina.

Dean Miller, Dayton, Ohio, makes CABBAGE ROLLS as follows (and this will make 8 rolls):

8 medium-sized cabbage leaves
1 pound ground beef
½ pound ground pork
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 small onion diced
½ cup uncooked rice
1 can tomato paste
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons butter

Cook cabbage leaves two minutes in boiling, salted water. Drain and cool. Have your butcher grind beef and lean pork together, and mix the meat with salt, pepper, onion and rice.

Divide the mixture between the cabbage leaves, spooning some on each leaf. Fold each leaf carefully, to wrap the meat securely, and fasten the rolls with toothpicks.

We like to melt butter on a 2½ quart casserole, brown the rolls lightly in it on all sides, then make a mixture of the tomato paste and water and pour over the rolls. Cover and bake 1¼ hours at 350 degrees. "Better make a double batch because you'll find your family really will go for them," opines Mr. Miller.

SKILLETIPS: If you have trouble in separating whites from yolks of eggs, place a small funnel in your mixing bowl or measuring glass, and break the eggs into it. The whites will go through but the yolks won't.

Produce Sales Up 16 Per Cent —Time Down

MIAMI BEACH (INS)—Women who like to pinch the fruit and vegetables they are buying to determine their fitness for the family table, better enjoy themselves while they can. It looks as though the days of selling produce in bulk are numbered.

Miss Eliza Davis, of the film department, E. I. Dupont De Nemous, Wilmington, Del., pointed out recently at the Produce Packaging Association's Miami Beach convention that "even though the average shopper passed through the self-service produce department in 25 per cent less time, she bought 16 per cent more produce items."

Miss Davis said this proves that packaging and self-service sell faster and sell more. "Many stores are now selling 50 per cent or more of their produce items packaged," she declared.

Almost 71 per cent of all food purchases are decided upon in the store," she concluded.

Apples, Cheese Dips Wake Up Appetites

Apples make good before-meal appetizers. Michigan State University food specialists suggest using them this way:

Cut cored unpeeled red apples into bit-sized chunks. Dip in lemon juice to prevent darkening, spear on wooden picks and insert in a whole red apple.

Serve on a tray with cheese dips. Suggestions for cheese dips are:

1. Pineapple cheese spread blended with sour cream.
2. Pimento cheese spread blended with a little mayonnaise.
3. Cream cheese, softened with heavy cream and crumbled blue cheese, all whipped together to dipping consistency.

Here Are Tips to Make Corn Poppin' Good!

CHICAGO—The Popcorn Institute recommends these five simple rules for popping perfect popcorn:

* * *

1. Warm the popper, heavy pan or heavy skillet.
2. Put in one-fourth cup of favorite cooking oil or shortening.
3. Let the oil get hot—about three minutes. Drop in three or four kernels. When they begin to spin in the hot oil, it's time to start popping.
4. Pour enough kernels from can to cover the bottom of popper or skillet.

5. Cover and shake gently. When you hear the last few "pops," remove pan from heat and empty contents into a large bowl. Pour in melted butter and salt to taste. Serve immediately.

For Friday Supper --- Shrimp Spaghetti

For Friday night, you'll like Easy Shrimp Spaghetti. Make the sauce while the spaghetti finishes cooking:

Easy Shrimp Spaghetti

4 ounces long spaghetti
1 cup cooked or canned shrimp
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove garlic
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons enriched flour
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1¾ cups milk
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Add 2 teaspoons salt and spaghetti to 3 cups boiling water. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, for 2 minutes. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, drain shrimp. Remove black vein from shrimp, if necessary, and rinse with cold water. Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add garlic and onion. Simmer about 3 minutes.

Remove garlic. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in milk. Cook gently, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and thickened. Stir in cheese, parsley and shrimp.

Heat to serving temperature, stirring occasionally. Rince spaghetti with hot water and drain well. Spoon shrimp mixture over hot spaghetti. Makes 4 servings.

Serve Almond Tidbits

Dump almonds into the basket of your deep-fat fryer, having the fat heated to 365 degrees. Fry for a couple of minutes, then drain and sprinkle lightly with a seasoning salt. Serve as a first course with tomato juice for a buffet party.

Avocado Makes Fine Appetizer

For fall and holiday entertaining you'll be fond of this meal that includes something new and something traditional. Avocado Appetizer gets the meal and the conversation off to a good start.

By slicing the avocado across to make rings you really get a lot out of a nice big avocado. It is an economical fruit because it can be stretched to do such wonders in salads, fruitcups and main courses. Since avocados are bland they are easily digestible by people of all ages.

For serving the day of purchase, choose an avocado that is fairly soft to the touch and which has started to darken in color. Avocados ripen naturally at room temperature so buy them accordingly for future use.

Avocados have a creamy nut-like flavor that blends with anything. Served with a seafood filling, or with just a little lime juice or salad dressing, avocados are a perfect prelude to a meat entree, such as a handsome and traditional roast beef.

Avocado Appetizer

Cut off small slice from narrow end of Florida avocado. Cut into ¾ to 1-inch rings, removing pit. Remove peel. Sprinkle with lime juice to prevent discoloration.

Put each ring on salad plate; fill center with shrimp salad. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Anyone Can Whip Up Own Mayonnaise

You can make fresh mayonnaise in five minutes with a foolproof recipe demonstrated at the unique cooking seminar for food editors and expert cooks held this fall by cook-author James Beard and Cordon Bleu graduate Andre Surmain. The secret of success is using a wire whisk.

Into a bowl drop one egg yolk and half a teaspoon of dry mustard. Start whisking, then slowly add half a cup of olive oil, drop by drop, no faster than one drop a second. This is easy, but it sounds hard; you don't have to whisk rapidly, but you do need to do it steadily. The aim is to get the egg yolk and mustard to absorb the oil.

Once the mayonnaise forms, you can add the oil at a faster rate until you have the quantity you need. At this point, add vinegar, salt and pepper to get the desired taste and consistency. It will keep in the refrigerator for a week or more.

Holiday Meals Call for Pie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With the holiday season approaching Mrs. America is beginning to think about menus for parties and feast days. The dessert is an essential part of these meals, and pie is often the choice.

As surveys have shown, apple pie is probably the nation's favorite dessert. But we don't stop with just one kind of pie. We like variety. In fact, we make pie out of every kind of fruit and out of all kinds of fillings.

Let's talk about apple pie for a moment. Have you ever made a Spicy Apple Cream Pie? It has a two-layered filling, with spicy apples on the bottom and a cream filling on top.

By using dry skim milk in the filling, you can keep the cost down and add extra nutrition to the dessert.

Spicy Apple Cream Pie

One unbaked 9-inch pastry shell.

Apple Filling

⅔ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 cups sliced cooking apples

Cream Filling

3 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
6 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Combine sugar, cornstarch, spices and salt. Add apples; stir until apples are coated with mixture. Turn mixture into pastry shell. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) 30 minutes or until apples are tender and crust is browned. Cool.

Combine liquefied instant nonfat dry milk, sugar, cornstarch, salt and nutmeg in top of double boiler; stir until well blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about 8 to 10 minutes. Cover. Cook 25 minutes.

Combine egg and vanilla. Gradually stir a little of the hot mixture into the eggs. Blend egg mixture into remaining hot mixture. Pour over apples. Chill in refrigerator until cream filling is firm, about 1½ to 2 hours. If desired, garnish with apple slices.

Mincemeat Pie is traditional for the holidays. Here's a variation of the usual recipe with strips of cheese criss-crossing the top in lattice fashion.

Big Holiday Mince Pie

1 9-ounce package condensed mince meat
1½ cups water
1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
1½ cups cranberries, chopped and combined with ¼ cup sugar or 1½ cups crushed canned pineapple
1 recipe pastry
Strips of cheddar cheese for lattice

Break condensed mincemeat into small pieces. Add water and sugar. Place over heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken. Boil briskly for one minute. Add pineapple or sweetened cranberry mixture. Cool. Line a pie plate with pastry and fill with mincemeat mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) 30 minutes or until crust is golden brown.

If you can't decide whether to serve pumpkin or mince pie for Thanksgiving and don't want to make both, why not combine the two ingredients in one pie? Priscilla's Pie doesn't need baking, comes out light, tangy and delicious. Do try it.

Priscilla's Pumpkin Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ teaspoon each, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¾ cup evaporated milk
2 eggs, separated
1¼ cups canned or cooked pumpkin
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
½ cup orange juice
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup cold cooked mincemeat*
1 9-inch baked pastry shell

Combine gelatine, brown sugar, salt and spices in top of double boiler. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves, about 6 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in pumpkin, orange peel and orange juice. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add cream of tartar and beat until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add granulated sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into pumpkin mixture.

Spoon mincemeat evenly in pastry shell. Turn pumpkin mixture on top. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whipped cream and sliced, toasted Brazil nuts.

*Left-over mincemeat may be used to make mincemeat drop cookies, tarts or turnovers.

If your family likes rich, gooey desserts, they'll love this Magic Maple Pie. It's a quickie recipe that uses sweetened condensed milk and maple syrup. Pour the filling into a baked pastry shell, garnish with whipped cream and wait for the compliments to start.

Magic Maple Pie

1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
1½ cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
⅔ cup maple syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
Pecans

Blend sweetened condensed milk, maple syrup and salt in heavy saucepan; mix well. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until mixture begins to boil. Let boil, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about 4 minutes. Cool. Put into cooled, baked pastry shell. Sprinkle top with pecans.

Whip cream until stiff and fold in sugar. Pile cream lightly on pie filling. Garnish with pecan halves or toasted coconut, if desired. Chill.

Serve your usual pies this coming holiday time, but try something new, too. Maybe one of the above recipes?

Super-Rich Dessert

With a package of brownie mix, a can of walnuts and a can of chocolate sauce on your pantry-shelf, and some ice cream in your freezer, you can have a super-rich dessert for unexpected company. The baked brownie squares are topped with the ice cream and chocolate sauce, of course.

New Uses Found for Aluminum Foil in the Home

Were you asked recently: "How can aluminum foil be made more useful for you?" Whether or not you were one of these homemakers, the grateful manufacturer who made this survey now is offering to let you try the improved result free.

Many women queried said they could do far more with foil if it were wider than the usual 12-inch roll. So this new foil is 14 inches wide — to fit most standard broilers, amply cover cookie trays and divide into more useful small sheets.

Others requested a stronger foil that would resist accidental tearing or puncturing. The maker's research staff came up with a heavier, tougher thickness of foil — and suggested that even this be improved by embossing it with a girder-like diamond pattern to provide additional "stretching" ability.

Such embossing or "quilting," tests show, makes the new foil more flexible and easy to shape. Oddly, this also helps it keep its shape after you have molded it into a desired form. The quilted effect prevents sticking, too, since its tiny ridges and valleys let air circulate between foil and food. Now being featured in local stores, this quilted foil provides 3,360 square inches of foil and costs about 10 cents more than the 12-inch roll.

In appreciation to those whose suggestions made the new foil a reality — and to help introduce it to others — its manufacturer is making an unusual "first package free" offer. Details may be obtained from your grocer. Just ask about the free offer on the new quilted broiler foil. This offer is good through December 31, 1956.

easy as a mix should be!

the stir of a fork... a-spin of the pin... it's ready to bake!

no mashing! no crumbling!

Expertly pre-blended, fluffy Flako Pie Crust Mix takes to water at the stir of a fork. Never sticky, uniformly moist... Flako stays satin smooth no matter how much it's handled.

No stretching, no skimping either. Flako's 10 ounce package insures the "full recipe" pastry you need for one time rolling perfection.

Let Flako end patchwork pie crusts forever. Make full, flavorful, flaky-tender crusts—even for a 10" pie—with mixing and rolling ease no other mix can match!

For muffins, corn bread, casseroles too—
FLAKORN CORN MUFFIN MIX

CORNED BEEF WITH DUMPLINGS—Corned beef brisket is cooked in water with garlic and peppercorns until tender and juicy, then served with corn meal dumplings in this homespun-type meal. Accompany the savory pair with a crisp salad of sliced celery, radishes and lettuce, if you like.

Corned Beef, Dumplings Are Natural Teammates

Corned beef and dumplings go together as naturally as corned beef and cabbage, but the meat and dumplings combination is more unusual. The piquant flavor of the corned beef is enhanced by the corn meal dumplings which are cooked in the meat stock.

Carefully cooked corned beef makes mighty fine eating no matter what accompanies it. "Carefully cooked" means the corned beef brisket is gently simmered—not boiled—until thoroughly cooked, juicy, and tender.

To cook corned beef brisket, cover it with cold water, add a clove or two of garlic, if you like, and some peppercorns, then heat to boiling. Reduce cooking temperature when the stock comes to a boil, cover, and cook over low heat until meat is tender, allowing about one hour per pound. Test the doneness of the cooked meat by piercing it in several places with a fork to determine its tenderness. When cooked, the meat should be uniformly tender.

Serve the light and fluffy dumplings with the hot corned beef, but make sure there's enough meat to serve cold the next day for those unsurpassable cold corned beef sandwiches on rye bread. Prepare the recipe as follows:

Corned Beef, Corn Meal Dumplings

3 to 4 pounds corned beef brisket
½ clove garlic
6 peppercorns
1 cup flour
1 cup corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
3 tablespoons lard
¾ cup milk
1 egg, beaten

Place corned beef in deep kettle and cover with water. Add garlic and peppercorns, heat to boiling, cover and simmer gently until meat is tender, allowing about one hour per pound. Remove meat and place on serving platter.

Meanwhile sift flour, corn meal, salt and baking powder; cut in lard as for pie crust. Add milk and egg, mixing only until blended. Dip a tablespoon into the simmering corned beef broth, then dip up a spoonful of batter and slip it off into the broth. Keep broth simmering while adding remainder of batter, then cover pan tightly and cook 12 to 15 minutes, without removing cover.

Drain dumplings and serve immediately surrounding plattered corned beef. Recipe yields 8 to 10 dumplings, and 6 to 8 servings of meat.

Blend Harvard Beets With Onion Soup Mix

A portion of leftover Harvard beets may be added to an envelope of onion soup to advantage. If the beets are sliced, chop them; if they are shoestring shape, leave them as is.

Make up the soup according to package directions and simmer the beets (with any sauce) with it, then add sugar and lemon juice to taste. Serve with a topping of sour cream, if it is available, or with whipped cream to which salt and a little lemon juice has been added.

Short some fruit juice for a molded sweet salad made with unflavored gelatin? Use ginger ale!

Use Curry or Paprika for Tastier Chicken

Have you ever added a bit of curry powder or paprika to the flour in which you dust chicken for frying? It lends color and flavor to the final results.

Just add about ½ teaspoon of either to 1 cup flour plus 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Roll chicken in flour and fry as usual. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Keep Below Boiling

To "simmer a food" means to cook in liquid just below the boiling point. Bubbles should form slowly and break just below the surface of the liquid.

Soup Will Get Warm Welcome

When the first cold winds blow, it's time to treat the family to a meal starring honest-to-goodness homemade soup.

And you'll find it hard to do better than Shrimp-Tomato Soup. That's a promise. It's generously stocked with shrimp and macaroni. Any shape of macaroni will be all right to use, but the tiny shells are exceptionally attractive.

Shrimp-Tomato Soup

½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup chopped celery
¾ cup finely chopped onion
1 quart hot water
2 cups tomato sauce (2 8-ounce cans)
1 tablespoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
½ teaspoon thyme
2 cups cleaned cooked shrimp (2 6¾-ounce cans)
4 ounces small shell macaroni
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Melt butter or margarine in Dutch oven or large saucepan. Add water, tomato sauce, salt, pepper and thyme.

Bring mixture to boiling, then reduce heat and simmer about 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add shrimp and macaroni and simmer about 10 minutes longer.

Stir in Worcestershire sauce and serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Do It Easy Way

Be a wise cook. Assemble all the ingredients listed in a recipe before you start preparing the dish. Get out the utensils needed, too.

Cheese-Strawberry Dip Guests Will Enjoy

When friends drop in for coffee and television—or for tea—here is an unusual snack to go with the beverage: Have two three-ounce packages cream cheese softened and beat them until light. Add ½ cup defrosted sliced frozen strawberries and beat well.

Serve this strawberry dip in a small bowl placed in the center of a chop plate, surrounding it with small vanilla wafers, crackers, and potato chips. Some guests will prefer the dip with the sweet cooky, others with the crisp, salty items. The proportions given above make slightly more than one cup of dip.

Old-fashioned burnt sugar cake takes to a chocolate frosting.

Sauce to Baste Chicken

Like to improvise in the kitchen? Baste that broiled chicken with a mixture of soy sauce, sugar and a suspicion of ground ginger or nutmeg. Add a clove of crushed garlic if you like that flavor.

WRIGLEYS

Pear and Grapefruit Salad

½ cup red cinnamon candies
¼ cup sugar
2 cups water
3 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned
3 large ripe pears, peeled and sectioned
½ cup orange juice
Lettuce
Salad Dressing

Heat the cinnamon candies and sugar in water until dissolved. Pour over the grapefruit sections and let stand until the sections are a light red color. Dip the pear sections in the orange juice.

For each serving arrange groups of 3 grapefruit sections and 1 pear section alternately on lettuce on a plate. Place a spoonful of salad dressing in the center. Serves 4.

Don't Limit Mincemeat to Pies

Mincemeat is synonymous with festive eating, but the ingenious homeaker doesn't have to limit her use of it to the holiday pie. With prepared mincemeat and packaged cake, cooky and pudding mixes available today she can easily make fragrant, flavorful mincemeat the keynote of an interestingly different dessert for dinner any night in any week.

* * *

Mincemeat's delightful new guises include Vanilla Mincemeat Cookies, Steamed Vanilla Pudding, and Mincemeat Vanilla Cake. To keep the fruity mincemeat flavor from getting lost in the batter, the knowing cook always adds to her mixture pure vanilla extract—that wand-waving ingredient that makes good flavors taste like themselves, only more so.

Steamed Mincemeat Pudding

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup mild, light molasses
¾ cup milk
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup finely chopped beef suet
1½ cups moist mincemeat

Sift the first 3 ingredients together. Add nuts and mix well. Stir in remaining ingredients. Turn into a well-greased 2-quart mold. Cover and steam 3 hours. (If lid to mold is not available, cover with aluminum foil or 2 layers of heavy brown paper and tie in place with a strong cord or hold in place with an elastic band.)

Remove from steamer, uncover, and place in a slow oven (300 degrees) until top is not sticky, about 10 minutes. Serve hot with vanilla hard sauce.

If desired, make this pudding a few days ahead of time, heat in the mold in a kettle of boiling water just before serving. Yield: 8 servings.

Vanilla Hard Sauce

Soften butter or margarine and mix until fluffy. Gradually blend in confectioners' sugar and milk or coffee. Stir in pure vanilla extract. Serve over hot steamed puddings. Yield: 1½ cups.

* * *

Fluffy Vanilla Hard Sauce

Fold 1 stiffly beaten egg white into the above Vanilla hard Sauce.

Vanilla Mincemeat Cookies

¾ cup shortening
¾ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1½ cups light brown sugar
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1 egg
2 cups moist mincemeat
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup chopped nuts

Place shortening, soda and salt in a mixing bowl. Gradually blend in brown sugar and pure vanilla extract. Beat in egg. Add mincemeat. Stir in flour and nuts. Drop from a teaspoon onto lightly greased cooky sheets.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 15 minutes or until lightly browned around the edges. Cool on a wire cake cooler. Store in a tighly closed tin box or cooky jar. Yield: 5½ dozen.

Mincemeat Vanilla Cake

2½ ups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
2 cups moist mincemeat

Sift the first 3 ingredients together and set aside. Cream shortening and sugar together. Beat in eggs and pure vanilla extract. Stir in mincemeat. Add flour gradually, mixing well after each addition.

Turn into a greased paper-lined 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a preheated slow oven (350 degrees) 1½ hours or until done. Cool in pan 15 minutes. Remove from pan onto a wire rack to finish cooling.

Store in a tightly closed container or wrap in aluminum foil. Serve as a fruit cake. Yield: One loaf, 9x5x2-inches.

STEAMED MINCEMEAT PUDDING — The festive quality of mincemeat need not be reserved for holiday pies. With prepared mincemeat available such delicious variations of the mincemeat theme as Steamed Mincemeat Vanilla Pudding can provide a dessert treat any evening in any week. Pure vanilla is the ingredient that, without being discernible to the taste itself, underscores the mincemeat's rich fruity flavor.

Stuff Pork Roast for Fall Dinner

If you're looking for something in the moderate price range, pork shoulder is an excellent choice.

Home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture suggest pork shoulder with stuffing as the mainstay of a substantial autumn meal.

Here's what you do. Have your butcher skin and bone a fresh pork shoulder weighing five to six pounds. Sprinkle with salt and pepper inside the shoulder.

Make your favorite stuffing and put it in the shoulder; then begin to sew the edges of the shoulder to form a pocket. Next gradually work in the rest of the stuffing and complete sewing of the pocket.

Sprinkle the outside of the shoulder with salt and pepper, then place the roast, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow uncovered pan. Roast the shoulder without water in a moderate oven, 325 degrees, until it's tender.

Figure on about four hours of roasting for a five-pound shoulder, and don't forget to turn it occasionally. Remove the strings before you serve the shoulder.

New Beef Pamphlet

WASHINGTON (NIS)—The Agriculture Department has revised its leaflet on "U.S. Grades for Beef" which describes the grades, shows various cuts of beef and suggests cooking methods. It is available free from the Office of Information, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

Veal Is the Top Attraction for This Week's Menus

What foods win the vote for next week's meals? Fall menus should be easy with the good variety of red meats, poultry, and fish that can be bought for as little as 40 to 50 cents a pound. For the well balanced market basket, select from fall fruits and vegetables and the good supply of dairy products and eggs.

MEATS—Due to fewer hogs for marketing, fall pork supplies are increasing less rapidly than a year ago, says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Those cuts located "high on the hog" are especially economical, nutritious, and delicious. Loin roasts, Boston Butts, and picnics rate consideration.

Seasonal sales attract attention in the beef departments. If a steak to broil is the choice for a special treat, select the best quality steak available. For top flavor and tenderness, choose U. S. Prime or U. S. Choice grade. The grade will be marked on the label and the government graders' purple stamp can be found along the side of the meat.

Lamb and veal shoulder sport very modest price tags. These lend themselves to juicy roasts for cooler evenings. Some stores offer veal leg, rump, sirloin and shoulder roast at the same price, so family choice can serve as a guide when selecting.

Another guide to selecting veal is color. The best veal has a light pink color while the more mature or older veal has a redder color. Top quality veal has fine texture and is fairly firm.

Both stewers and fryers are available at about 40 cents a pound, while most turkeys are selling for a few cents more per pound. With the plentiful supplies, smart homemakers will include poultry on weekly shopping lists.

Since fish fillets will provide three servings per pound, there is real economy at most fish counters. Frozen fillets of ocean perch, haddock, and cod are among the good values. Due to good fall weather, the supplies of fresh fish are unusually good for this time of year.

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS—Potatoes and cabbage continue to be the budget-stretchers in the vegetable department. But there is no skimping in the large amounts of food nutrients they supply for good health.

A 10-ounce package of spinach will brighten a meal for as little as 20 to 3 0cents a package. Three servings are available from one package.

November supplies of cucumber and eggplant will arrive from the south. Remember to look for firmness, brightness, and medium sizes for the best in flavor and quality.

Emepror grapes and bananas at about 20 cents a pound are good fruits to team with Michigan's seasonal apple supply. Apples with pork or apples with squash are natural flavor compliments. America's favorite, apple pie, will bring pleasure to the family with little effort on the cook's part.

DAIRY AND EGGS — Don't overlook the economy to be found in Mrs. Hen's prize package—the egg. A best buy tag could be placed on the abundant medium size. Many stores are offering Grade A medium size eggs at 43 to 45 cents a dozen compared to large size eggs at 57 to 63 cents a dozen.

To increase the teenagers' use of milk, try including it in other foods. Desserts made with milk, cereal with milk, sauces made with milk, and creamed soups are easy ways to add to the total of 4 to 6 cups of milk most teenagers use while growing so fast.

Veal Risotto

4 veal shoulder chops, ½ inch thick
Flour
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
1 cup quick-cooking rice
1 cup cooked tomatoes
1 cup beef bouillon
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon basil
1 teaspoon salt

Dip veal chops into flour and brown with onion in hot fat. Add remaining ingredients. Cover. Simmer 35 to 40 minutes or until veal is fork-tender.

As a rule, you need to add a quarter teaspoon of salt to a medium white sauce made with a cup of milk.

Study Detergents, Soaps

EAST LANSING—No one detergent or soap is best for all home laundering tasks.

The kind of fabric, its colorfastness, amount of soil and hardness of the water used, allhelp make it necessary for today's homemaker to have a well-stocked laundry cabinet.

Four types of detergents are available to consumers — unbuilt and built soaps and unbuilt and built synthetic detergents. The unbuilt products, explain laundry specialists, are good for washing lightly soiled fine fabrics. They do not contain alkaline chemicals sometimes called "builders."

The built soaps and synthetic detergents do contain alkaline chemicals, which help increase sudsing and cleaning action and soften hard water. These built products are best for washing very soiled fabrics.

For laundering wool, silk or blends of these with other fibers, they advise using unbuilt synthetic detergents. Specialists say that the degree of shrinkage in wool fabrics in washing depends more on the agitation during washing than on the kind of detergent used.

For white or colorfast fabrics of cotton, linen and manmade fibers, use either soaps or synthetic detergents—unbuilt for slightly soiled materials, built for those more heavily soiled. If fabrics and colors will stand it, wash in hot water instead of warm, since all detergents—soaps and synthetics—generally are more efficient at high temperatures. Soaps remove about one-third more in hot water (140 degrees F.) than in warm (100 degrees F.).

If fabrics are not colorfast—or if you're not sure—use unbilt synthetic detergents.

GENERAL PURPOSE USE

For general laundering and for heavily soiled fabrics, use built soaps or built synthetic detergents. These are usually recommended by manufacturers as general-purpose detergents for washing heavily soiled clothes. Again, use hot water if fabrics and colors will stand it. Remove stains first, for some are set by hot water.

In soft water, both soaps and synthetic detergents, unbuilt or built, are suitable. In hard water, built synthetics are the most efficient. Or you may soften the water and use soap. If you use a softener, it pays to soften both wash water and the first rinse.

Enough soap should be used in the wash to maintain a good suds. With synthetic detergents, however, suds do not indicate good cleaning ability. It's best to follow manufacturer's recommendations. One has the choice of high-sudsing and low-sudsing types. Low-sudsing types are especially suited to certain washers.

The, "brightener" contained in many soaps and synthetics is a fluorescent dye that becomes fixed on fabrics during washing, according to the textile chemists. In sunlight it gives off a blue fluorescence that makes white fabrics look whiter.

Teenagers Offer Rich Market for Business

BY EUGENE GILBERT

President of The Gilbert Youth Research Co.

In a previous column we discussed what teenagers think of big business. Now let's turn the question around. What does big business, and little business too, think of United States teenagers?

The answer can readily be given in terms of dollars and cents. There are more than 16 million boys and girls between the ages of 13 and 19 years old in the nation today.

One of our surveys shows these teenagers have nine billion dollars—in the form of allowances or direct earnings—to spend every year.

This mammoth fortune is spent by the young people themselves on a vast variety of consumer products, chosen by them and mainly for their own use.

By 1965, this market will have expanded, because of population gains, to 24 million teenagers with pocket money totaling at least 14 billion dollars.

VERY POPULAR

With that kind of money in their jeans, teens cannot be anything but popular with business in America.

Not only does business look to youth for its future leadership, but more and more it looks to them for present markets.

Business has learned, in recent years, that not only do young people receive, make and save money, but that in many, many cases they spend their own money, do most of their own shopping and shrewdly scrutinize advertising copy for bargains.

If teenagers are depressed about the notoriety given to youthful crime, the rock 'n' roll fad and dove-tail haircuts, they should be elated to find that business harbors no ill will towards one of its prime markets.

More and more companies are gearing their advertising campaigns to teenaged buyers and reaping lush harvests.

INTERESTING FIGURES

Our organization recently concluded a research study of the teenaged market for the Bureau of Advertising, and came up with some figures that should interest young readers and their parents.

Did you know, for instance that 800,000 teenagers have steady year-round jobs? Most of these have after-school jobs on a full-time basis.

Another four million teenagers swell the work force during the vacation season, again on a full work-day basis, and some 4,500,000 earn money at part-time or odd jobs throughout the year.

In all, some 9,500,000 teenagers have some kind of earned income and bring home some kind of a paycheck.

It must be kept in mind that teenagers' earnings have an even greater buying power than adults' earnings. Little of it is tied up in rent, electric bills or other items of household expense.

True, many teenagers contribute directly tto the support of their families, but most of them do it in the form of taking care of their own clothing and amusement expenses. Their earnings are mostly spendable, over-the-counter dollars.

RECORDS AND PENS

More than nine million teenagers buy their own phonograph records and more than 8,500,000 buy their own fountain pens.

Over five million buy their own jewelry, shoes and deodorants. More than half of the boys buy their own sports equipment; more than a third their own shirts, slacks and shaving cream.

Of the girls, 75 per cent select and pay for their own lipstick, 43 per cent buy their own hand lotion.

One-third choose and pay for their own blouses, sweaters, skirts and lingerie, and one-fourth their own dresses and toilet soap.

The day is past, probably forever, when Mom buys a catcher's mitt for Junior, who wanted to be a pitcher in the first place, or when Dad treks back to the department store to exchange an out-of-style skirt he misguidedly bought for Sis.

Both Junior and Sis prefer to do their own buying and in many cases do it with their own money.

THEY READ THE ADS

Where do teenagers get their ideas for shopping? Adults sometimes think that the younger generation reads nothing but comic books and the comic section of the newspapers.

Business has learned that this is far from the truth.

Teenagers not only read the the news sections of the newspapers but they also read the ads and act upon what they read. The same is true for radio and television.

We asked teenagers this question: "Did you read a newspaper yesterday?"

Among the whole group, 80 per cent answered "Yes." Surveying what they read, we found that advertising ranked among the best-read parts of the newspaper.

Among the boys, the percentage of ad readers ranged from 53 per cent in the 13-14 age group to 72 per cent for those 18 and 19. Among girls, the rating was 58 per cent for the 13-14 group to 78 per cent for the 18-19 group.

TV TAKES A BEATING

In a comparison of the various media, newspapers received a 54 per cent vote as being the "most practical in daily life," television received 17 per cent, radio, 16 per cent, and magazines, 13 per cent.

Which media would be the "hardest to be without?" Here, the answers varied with the age group.

In the 13-14 age bracket, 4 per cent named magazines, 18 per cent named newspapers, 23 per cent named radio and 55 per cent named television.

But television took a beating, at the expense of the other media, as the teenagers advanced toward adulthood.

In the 18-19 year-old group, television had dropped to 18 per cent as the "hardest to be without." Newspapers moved into first place at 39 per cent, followed by radio at 38 per cent, and magazines at 6 per cent.

INFLUENCE FAMILY

In addition to their own earning and spending power, teenagers also exert an important influence on family spending.

Older people are often inclined to let what they have suffice. They consider certain purchases luxury items, while teenagers tend to regard the same purchases as necessities.

Teenagers are the first to start buying anything new or novel. Their influence is often felt in the selection of the family car, a new television set, a multi-speed phonograph, even china, drapes and other household items.

When a teenager starts entertaining friends, he becomes conscious of his home and surroundings and tends to take a great interest in selection of household furnishings and other family possessions.

Striking Patterns, Hues for Men

Bright Knitwear to Liven Winter Scene

Men with a leaning for bright colors and striking patterns have never needed much urging to wear gay summer clothes, but the first frost has always seemed to freeze their courage into gravely clad timidity.

Except for a ski weekend enjoyed now and then by younger males, occasions for asserting the "peacock urge" during the "R" months have been rarer than mangoes at St. Moritz.

This year it's different. The ski slopes have come to town. Brilliant styles inspired by ski togs have invaded every phase of the men's knitwear field, making this the brightest fall and winter style season on record.

What's more, many of the snow-inspired sweater styles will find their way into southern areas where skiing takes place only on the waterways.

HOST OF STYLES

For those who wear sweaters for reasons other than just their wooly warmth, the traditional V-neck pullover will give way this year to a host of different styles. The major influences in new sweaters come from abroad—principally Scandinavia and Italy.

American manufacturers have brought the rich patterns and motifs of Scandinavian knitwear to new U.S. styles for all occasions. The Scandinavian influence is apparent also in heavier, bulkier all-wool sweaters and cardigans.

The "bulky look" is big news. Heavier yarns are being used both in heavyweight, highly protective wool sweaters, and — where open stitching is employed—in sweaters remarkable for their light weight.

ITALIAN INFLUENCE

Italy's influence is also widespread, both in the bulkier knits and in novel collar and sleeve stylings. The turtle-neck has increased importance, and many crew and V-neck wool sweaters have removable turtleneck "dickeys"—a style idea of particular appeal to skiers.

Thick, bulky rib knits and fancy cable-stitches, as well as V-neck sweaters with shawl collars present major style innovations.

quard patterns in the Scandinavian ski-type sweater will be highly favored as will bold stripes in bright colors against dark contrasting backgrounds.

Stand-out color combinations will include black with red, red with white, black with brown, blue with brown, and green with red.

In keeping with the growing importance of the smartly styled all-wool sweater, may novel knitwear items will make widespread appearance in men's and boys' wear.

Among these will be the brilliantly striped six-foot wrap-around muffler, in school and college colors; unusual knit caps for ski and sports wear, and wool-knit gloves and mittens in smart new colors and patterns.

It's a year to dress up for casual living.

Look Your Best by Colette

Capes range from slim seven-eighths length for the petite to the full-length, huge pocket type which is ideal for tall figures.

Curvaceous silhouettes flatter the feminine figure and so we return to the minimum version, a capelet and to the full-length cape. Scaled to size, there's a correct proportion for every figure and if you like capes, now's your chance.

Double-Purpose Furniture Units

Dual purpose furniture basically falls into five groups:

Convertible sofas — available in either love seat or davenport width. They are usually equipped with one-piece cotton innerspring mattresses which fold out from the seat of the sofa.

Jack-knife sofa beds—in which the back of the sofa drops down level with the seat to form a sleeping surface for two. They have bedding boxes in the base for storage.

Studio couches—which convert to twin beds by pulling the lower section out and up to seating level.

Single sleepers — refinements of the old dry bed—more streamlined and equipped with bolsters.

Dramatic Colors Beautify Room

Walls painted electric blue had only a large copper plaque as adornment; the furniture was covered in dull green tweed, and accessories were steel.

The total color effect was surprisingly muted, with the metals seeming much brighter than either the blue or green.

It's best to wash foam rubber shoulder pads in thick soap or detergent suds. Rinse and press out excess moisture. Let them dry before sewing them back into place.

A man can make a fool of himself without knowing it only if he isn't married.

Newcomer Is Looking for Friends

Man Should Phone Before He Acts on Casual Invitation

By EMILY POST

"I've just been given a job in a big city where I know very few people. Naturally I'd like to meet some nice girls (and men) my own age. One possibility may be through an older woman I met a few weeks ago who has two attractive daughters.

"She said at that meeting, 'Come and see us sometime,' but nothing more definite. On this flimsy pretext, would it be proper to go? And if it wouldn't be considered presumptuous on my part, then what steps do I take?"

Answer: I think it might be well to telephone first. Tell her, "This is John Young; I met you at Mrs. Smith's house and you said I might come to see you sometime."

If she remembers you and she names a time for you to come, or asks when you are free to come, then, of course, you may go. However, if she doesn't, I'm afraid you will have to consider this door closed—at least for the present.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married at a morning wedding sometime this fall. The men in the wedding party are going to wear the conventional striped trousers and cutaway coats.

"My husband is making a big fuss about wearing these clothes and wants to wear a plain dark blue business suit. Will you please tell me if this would be proper, or must he dress the same as the other men?"

Answer: Correctly he should be dressed in a cutaway as the other men. But if his suit is very dark and he does not mind not being as well dressed as the others it will be quite all right.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter's future in-laws, who live in another city, are coming here several days before the wedding.

"They are complete strangers to me and I would like to know what my obligations are toward them. Is it necessary that I give a party to introduce them to my friends and relatives?"

Answer: Yes, very definitely you should. It need not be very elaborate.

Dr. M. Mead Will Speak at Detroit Hospital

The Cornelian Corner of Detroit will present Dr. Margaret Mead in a public meeting, Nov. 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Henry Ford Hospital. Dr. Mead will speak on the subject, "Changing Mother-child Relationship in a Changing World."

Dr. Mead is an anthropologist, psychologist, writer, lecturer, and teacher of world renown. She has devoted many years to the study of native peoples on the islands of the Pacific. To carry out her research she has had to master even primitive languages.

Besides the large number of books and articles authored and co-authored by Dr. Mead, she is also author and narrator for the series, "Films on Character Formations in Different Cultures."

The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Does Making Small Talk Cause You to Freeze Up

New Book Is Recommended for Those Who Cannot Chat With Ease

By RUTH MILLETT

So you can't make small talk.

Is this what has been keeping you from enjoying meeting new people, having a good time at parties and getting on easy terms with others? If so, there is a new book out that can put words in your mouth.

The discussion on small talk is just a brief part of a sound book on human relations by Les Giblin. The book is much better than its title, "How to Have Confidence and Power in Dealing With People."

Don't let that "How to—" title throw you. It isn't a book of gimmicks for suddenly becoming the life of the party or the man most likely to succeed.

It's a down-to-earth book on what we human beings are like and what we want from other people.

FORGET CLEVERNESS

The author makes it quite clear, in his discussion of it, that small talk needn't be original or clever. He thinks what ties so many tongues is the false idea that it should be.

He says: "Small talk isn't supposed to be brilliant. Everyone is trite. Everyone engages in 'small talk' that doesn't say anything clever or significant. This sort of small talk is necessary to get the wheels turning.

"Once you realize this and stop being afraid of being dull, you will find that you can start a conversation, even with a perfect stranger, and you may be surprised to find that in many cases, you are saying clever and interesting things—only because you aren't trying to.

"Be willing to go through a 'warm-up' period in starting a conversation . . . The words 'strike up' a conversation are significant. You 'strike up' a conversation just as you 'strike up' a bonfire. You do not expect to start right off with a raging fire. You strike only one little match to begin with . . .

"The reason most people cannot get started talking is that they try too hard, and try to make something difficult out of it."

But read the book for yourself. It is one "How to" book you can start putting into practice the minute you finish the first chapter.

WCTU Unit Meets With Mrs. Woods

Mary Morton Chapter of WCTU met Monday at the home of Mrs. Mary H. Woods on Gillespie street, with Mrs. S. A. Beaver presiding. Mrs. Anna Thompson gave devotions.

Plans were discussed for the annual dinner scheduled Nov. 29. The time and place will be announced at a later date.

'Cool' Relish Tray

An attractive vegetable relish tray can be made by adding green food coloring to water in a ring mold. When the water freezes, slip off the mold and fill the center with celery, carrots, radishes, cucumbers and other relishes.

Getting in Rut?

Being a housewife presents a great temptation to be careless about personal appearance. But remember: Your husband and children, the most important people in your life, see you daily.

Mrs. Keith Bigger Opens Home to Auxiliary

Mrs. Keith Bigger was hostess to members of Women's Auxiliary of Jimmy Dey Post 12 Wednesday evening at her home on Old Orchard drive. Mrs. Art Torrey assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Louis Hadden appointed Mrs. Joe Waring, Mrs. Stewart Houghton, and Muriel Sadler captains of the membership drive. Members were assigned their teams by the captains. Plans were also discussed for the money-making project to be held Nov. 17.

During the evening an ingathering of items for the Thanksgiving baskets was held. These baskets will be distributed to worthy families before the holiday.

Granny's Chairs Transform Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

From time to time, I ask my readers to tell me about interesting projects which they or their friends are engaged in. As a result, I often get a letter which is a real jewel.

Take this one, from Mrs. F. in New Jersey:

"Because my grandmother left us her dining room chairs, my husband was able to retire at 41 instead of 65!"

Now that is what I call a real interesting opening.

Mrs. F. went on to say that her husband had always wanted to be a cabinetmaker, as his father and grandfather had been.

But his mother wanted a more grand occupation for her son and more or less pushed him through college as a business administration major.

WORKED HARD

"He tried to like it," his wife went on, "got a pretty good job and worked hard at it.

"We have three children and a nice house and Hank really did try to adjust to his career. He didn't dare set up a woodworking shop or work at it in his spare time.

" 'I wouldn't dare,' he once told me. 'I'd work all night and never make it to the office.'

"My grandmother left us eight of the nicest old dining room chairs. They didn't look like much when we got them. They had been painted over and over and some of the legs and backs were loose and the upholstery was worn.

"But Hank couldn't resist them. He was sure they were good ones —maybe even Duncan Phyfe.

WONDERFUL PIECES

"Finally, he cleared a space in the cellar and went to work on them. They turned out to be really magnificent—wonderful old wood and beautiful lines. He reupholstered them in horsehair, which he said they probably had originally.

"After that, there was no stopping him. Weekends we would go to auctions to buy up what looked like junk and transform it into beautiful furniture. People just gobbled it up and at good prices, too. Then Hank began to buy better tools.

"That was five years ago. Last year, just after his 41st birthday, Hank and I decided to sell the house, move to one where the zoning allowed us to have a shop and open our own business.

"It's an antique shop combined with cabinetmaking and furniture repair. I take care of bookkeeping and selling duties and Hank does the most wonderful work you ever saw.

"Our income is almost what it was before, when Hank worked in an office, but we're both so much happier!

"Grandmother left us a bigger legacy than she thought."

Colorful Wools for Warmth, Comfort

Men's Sport Togs Step Into Focus

Standing on the tee, the Sunday golfer who stretches to get a bouncing 150 yards from his "wood" shots likes to imagine his drive soaring out over the fairway in the style of Sam Snead.

Qualified for it or not, any man engaging in sports visualizes himself in the role of the top champion of the game.

The first step in this direction, of course, is to look the part. This year's clothing styled for wear in fall and winter sports gives any wearer the air of a polished performer.

Colorful wool ski sweaters in smart Scandinavian designs and sleek wool gabardine ski pants make the perennial "sitzmark" specialist look like an Olympic slalom champ—at least while waxing his skis.

Rugged hunting jackets in traditional mackinaw fabrics and bright solid colors enable weekend nimrods to carry the atmosphere of the North Woods and the Canadian wilderness into their local hunting areas.

TWEED KNICKERS

And on the nation's golf courses, many golfers who prolong their playing season through the fall months will be wearing the traditional attire of golfing greats of the past—soft tweed knickers.

Whatever his sport, this year the sportsman will find specially designed and smartly tailored apparel to give him at least the look of the skilled participant.

All attire is styled not only for appearance, but also with a view to the sportsman's comfort and his need for freedom of action.

The design of all sports apparel for cool-weather wear takes into consideration three important factors which have an important bearing on comfort and the protection of the wearer's health.

First, there is the matter of warmth, of providing adequate insulation against the cold. At the same time, however, sportswear fabrics must have the ability to "breathe"—or permit the circulation of air from the outside. A fabric which seals its wearer off from outside air quickly becomes damp and unpleasantly hot against the skin.

And finally, clothes for the sportsman must be absorbent. Body moisture generated in periods of heavy activity must be taken up into the fabric or the clothing becomes damp and clammy—exposing the wearer to chills and discomfort.

Today's wool sports clothes, from the rugged jerseys worn by football teams to heavy hunting jackets, are styled to meet these requirements.

Wool is, of course, unmatched for its warmth and ability to insulate. And wool fabrics, despite this insulating power, permit the free flow of air over the wearer. In addition, wool has a unique ability to absorb perspiration. For top comfort in any weather, experienced sportsmen have long known that wool sports clothes are unsurpassed.

Jane College Takes Stock of Wardrobe

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — The Thanksgiving holidays are a good time for the college girl to round out her wardrobe with the clothes and accessories that will carry her through until spring.

The college board of 16 coeds assembled by a Dallas specialty store—coeds from the East and Southwest — decided the average college wardrobe includes:

Eight skirts, mostly straight, and a dark velveteen skirt or jumper for late day; eight or 10 sweaters, one jeweled; 10 cotton shirts and a few dressy ones.

A basic wool dress, two cocktail dresses, a wool suit and a cotton suit.

Coats include a raincoat, a short coat, a long coat and an evening wrap. Two tailored hats and one dressy hat.

FOR LOUNGING

Dorm clothes usually include slacks, toreador pants, Bermuda shorts and a pair of levis.

Four pairs of pajamas usually are sufficient, four slips, two petticoats, eight panties, two girdles, four bras, six pairs of hose and a robe.

Shoes include three pairs of loafers and three pairs of pumps, evening shoes, tennis shoes, bedroom slippers and rain boots.

Two short formals and one long one come in handy, and don't forget socks, gloves, head scarves and fancy belts.

Coming Events

Pontiac Rebekah Lodge, 450, sewing circle will hold a party Friday with a school girl luncheon at noon at the home of Mrs. Ray Kline, Woodbine Dr.

DAV, chaper 16, will sponsor a fish fry Friday beginning at 5 p.m. at 199 Auburn Ave.

Corduroy Takes On New Style Interest

Corduroy, the typical American fabric takes on new fashion interest as a colorful companion for long winter evenings, whether in town or country.

1957 Shoes Alive With Color News

There's a brand new color story in shoes for next spring—a story of pale tones that can be worn with everything. Pale greys, pale beiges, off-whites.

And white itself is a top fashion. White in suede, smooth and textured leathers, white in combination with the pale tones, as well as with black, tan and navy.

There's a new greige tone, half way between grey and beige, a smart neutral to wear with the lighter tweeds of spring and continue on with late spring and summer cottons and silks.

But the whites and the neutrals by no means tell the story. There is a whole galaxy of high shades that will show up for resort wear and carry right through summer. You'll be seeing them on the street as well as at resorts and weekend parties.

Included in this lively category are bright blues . . . reds . . . greens . . . yellows . . . and oranges to highlight black and pale neutral costumes. Lightly polished grained texture and luxurious napped suede have been developed to complement the elegant trend in ready-to-wear.

Washington Party Features Fabulous Chapeaux

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Gwen Cafritz, one of the capital's more spectacular hostesses, told some of the guests she invited to her annual fall party they'de better wear haloes. "I'm going to have a harp," she explained.

There were no haloes visible, but the women who showed up for the gala late afternoon shindig wore the season's fashionable counterpart — out-of-this-world hats, as startling perhaps, as would have been a golden circlet hovering in mid-air over their heads.

Feminine heads were top-heavy with billows of tulle, pillows of black or white fox, plates of oversized flowers, drifts of ostrich, and fan-sprays of aigrette.

Mrs. Edoardo Sanseverino, wife of the first secretary of the Italian Embassy, wore one of the new cocktail hats — an exaggerated cap of black veiling, attached slightly to the back of the head and dipping to the shoulders with scattered pink rosebuds sewn inside.

Mrs. Elovius Mangor, wife of the first secretary of the Norwegian Embassy, wore one of the Edwardian-type, wide-brimmed and very becoming chapeaux inspired by the popular Broadway production, "My Fair Lady."

FOR CONVERSATION

One guest in a Cossack-type number, fashioned of white coq feathers that curled down around her brow and cheek bones, said, "It's weird, I know, but it makes conversation."

Some husbands looked a bit uncomfortable, but sought safety in pretending indifference to the fantasies under which their spouses seemed to be hiding.

One bachelor, however, couldn't resist asking: "How long do you have to wear that before the bet is paid off?"

The climax of the afternoon came, however, at the height of the party when Mrs. Cafritz, standing near the piano in the drawing room, shushed everybody to a moment's silence while she raised her champaigne glass in a toast "to President Eisenhower."

Pet Fashion Items

Most women have some pet fashion item. With some, it's hats. With others, it's a drawer-ful of fragile lingerie or a closet full of shoes. It's a tendency that has to be watched unless you want to wind up with a wardrobe that's lopsided.

Garden Clubs to Sponsor International Tea

Autumn in Michigan means another International Tea will be given by Women's National Farm and Garden Association for the benefit of International Farm Youth Exchange Program, which is sponsored by National 4-H Club Foundation.

Cranbrook Museum of Art will be the setting for this annual gathering of the association's 66 Michigan branches on Nov. 15 from 2 to 5 p.m. The museum will be closed to the public that day, and a special exhibit will be provided for the occasion.

Mrs. F. G. Garrison, state international cooperation chairman and member of the Birmingham Branch, is general chairman.

Along with some 25 arrangements representing various countries of the world, three tea tables will be decorated in the international theme by Mrs. Hugh Backus of Birmingham, Mrs. Bert Wicking of Grosse Pointe and Mrs. Everett Higgs of Detroit.

Mrs. William Kahn is handling tickets and Mrs. Marvin Weeks of Detroit and Mrs. Morton Graddis of Bloomfield Hills are in charge of invitation. Mrs. J. Standish Sibley, state hospitalty chairman, is serving as chairman of hostesses.

PLANNING AFFAIR

Serving on the planning committee are Mrs. J. C. Roberts, Mrs. Frank Webb, Mrs. F. W. Lines, Mrs. Harry Coen, Mrs. Mathew Cammareri, Mrs. F. S. Baker and Mrs. Lloyd S. Linton of Birmingham Branch. Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, assisted by Mrs. Linton, is handling publicity.

Mrs. H. Earl Hanson, state president of Women's National Farm and Garden Association, will head the receiving line being arranged by Mrs. Edward S. Wellock, Mrs. Edgar B. Flint, Mrs. Robert C. Vanderkloot, Mrs. John Tebbin, Mrs. Dean Draper and Mrs. Frederick C. Jeynes, all of Bloomfield Hills.

Foreign consuls and their wives in this area are to be honored guests at the tea.

The tea committee is headed by Mrs. James Longwell of Birmingham assisted by Mrs. Albert A. Clark, Mrs. De Forest Candler, Mrs. William G. Ferguson, Mrs. Louis J. Colombo Jr., Mrs. John C. L. Cowen, Mrs. Fred Lindbloom, Mrs. Willis Anderson, Mrs. Carl Larson and Mrs. Robert Thom, all of Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. F. L. Ward.

Adding atmosphere to the afternoon event will be the girls in costume who will assist in the dining room, along with international chairmen of the various state branches.

Special music will add to the charm of the setting, and an outstanding speaker will talk on the International Farm Youth Exchange Program.

Proceeds from the tea will aid in the youth program.

A set for an adorable baby! It is a sew-easy made from soft flannelette and trimmed with delightful fawn designs that are transferred with a stroke of the iron—no embroidery necessary.

Convention Reports Told

Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta sorority met Tuesday evening at the Ottawa drive home of Jean Sheridan.

A full report of the national convention of the sorority recently held in Dayton, Ohio, was given by the president and delegate to the convention, Mrs. Thomas Thornberry. Mrs. Wallace Williams was elected national treasurer and Mrs. William Spaulding was installed as governor of Province one.

Mrs. Thornberry reported that the mental health film sponsored by the sorority is nearing completion. The premier of the film will be held in Fort Wayne, Ind., in March, 1957. The film financed entirely by the sorority will be available in Pontiac shortly after the premier.

During the convention, Sigma Beta, Inc. voted to increase last year's $3,000.00 aid program for the American Indian to $5,000.00 for the coming year.

Psi chapter voted a contribution to the United Fund at the Tuesday meeting.

Simple Rules Still Vital to Beauty

By JOSEPHINE LOWAMN

Today is full of miracles: Atomic energy, miracle drugs, wonder cosmetics, jet planes, figure molding and nutrition magic.

It is a day of such extravagant discovery that we are likely to forget some of the simple tenets of health and happiness. These are just as sound as ever. Perhaps is would be wise for us to review a few of them periodically.

The woman who is interested in her health and wishes to retain her youthful appearance long past the usual age for fading must abide by these seemingly unimportant rules:

1. Get enough sleep. This is the body's time for rest and repair. If you continually shortchange yourself in shut-eye it will be reflected not only in your skin, hair and eyes but in your personality and energy.

Sometimes the simple expedient of adding a couple more hours to your usual nightly quota will banish fatigue and change your whole outlook.

GET EXERCISE

2. Get some exercise every day. This is a superb antidote for nervous tension and will build health. As you know it is also beautifying to the figure. If you can, get some exercise out of doors.

3. If you are not already informed, learn about nutrition. Make a serious study of foods you consume each day in order to be sure that you are getting all of the essentials. Remember that vitamin C and vitamin B family deficiencies are widespread even in this luxurious country.

Many people fail to get enough calcium, and during the winter months, when you are indoors much of the time, you will require vitamin D. Fine nutrition will help you avoid the chronic diseases of middle age and will keep you younger longer.

4. Cleanse your face twice daily. Do not neglect daily lubrication. This latter is especially important for the woman who is middle aged or older.

Get some exercise every day. This is a superb antidote for nervous tension and will build health.

5. Try to find time for scalp massage once every 24 hours.

6. Add new interests to your daily life.

REST PERIODS

7. Take several short rest periods each day.

* * *

8. Try to develop the "light touch" so that you take life a bit easier.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 65 "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Exercising Chest Muscles Is Way to Gain Better Bust."

Fashionette Club Holds Banquet

Hi-Land Manor was the setting for the banquet held by members of Fashionette Club Tuesday evening. Thirty members were present for the affair, with Mrs. Leah Herveat, a guest.

During the evening members joined in community singing and playing games. A toy and ceramic demonstration is planned for the next meeting.

Coordinate Scarves

When you're buying scarves, remember to coordinate fabric as well as color. A gauzy silk scarf won't look as well with a tweed coat as it will with a dressy coat. For the tweed, pick a simple satin or a heavy silk or even a sheer wool.

Buffalos Crowd Public Ranges

Bison Make Comeback With an Overflow of Nearly 500

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Buffalo are all the rage—dead or alive, on the hoof or dressed.

That they know for sure over at the Department of the Interior where the mail has been piling up. For example:

A New York night club wants some choice cuts of buffalo for its customers.

Boy Scouts want them for "cook-outs." A college wants one for a mascot.

Churches want them for socials. Sportsmen's associations want them for outings. People want them for pets.

A man named Byson wants a bison for an Elks picnic. And the zoo in Buffalo, N.Y., wants some —alive.

These are among more than 500 requests that have flooded the Fish and Wildlife Service since they recently anounced the sale of this year's large surplus of buffalo.

Bison are making a stunning come-back in the U.S. and this has created an overflow of nearly 500 of the hulking animals. That's a big difference from 50 years ago when there were less than 100 of them in existence.

Today about 10,000 buffalo graze on the plains and some 6,000 of these belong to the federal government.

Since word went out that extras were on hand, the demand has been terrific, according to Interior officials. And the supply is now almost exhausted.

Preference is being given to applicants who wish to purchase the animals for breeding or exhibiting. Two buffalo will be shipped to Portugal for the Lisbon Zoo, and the zoos in Norfolk, Va., and Buffalo, N.Y., will buy bison.

"We're trying to spread them out as far as possible and give everybody a chance to have one," says William Ackerknecht of the Fish and Wildlife Service. "We're reluctant to see them used as pets and for purposes that are unsuitable to their nature."

THE SISTER IS A POSTMASTER — San Francisco's Postmaster John F. Fixa, president of the National Association of Postmasters of the U. S., greets Sister Ethelreda, postmaster of Villa Maria, Pa., at the NAPUS' 52nd annual convention. Sister Ethelreda, a postmaster for more than two years, serves about 250 people in her third-class post office.

For instance, he has turned down a request from a college for a buffalo to be used as a mascot. Seems it's too likely that the animal might get frightened and charge into the crowd.

"We want to make darn sure that they're in a secure enclosure and not able to hurt anyone," he explains.

5 States Are Using Reflector Car Tags

NEW YORK—Reflectorized auto-license plates that can be seen from nearly 1,500 feet away when headlights shine on them, almost four times the distance that an ordinary plate can be seen, are now used in five states: Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Louisiana, and Minnesota. A sixth state, South Dakota, will issue the safety plates in 1957.

"Some people are saying that the theater is dying," said Miss Yvonna Arnaud, of the British stage. "They have been saying so since the days of Greece."

Meat Industry Plans a Beef 'Candy' Bar

CHICAGO—The American Meat Institute reports that the beef industry believes it has a new market for meat: A concoction of 25 per cent dried beef mixed with coconut and toasted for use with marshamallow, chocolate fudge, or panocha as a base to make a beef candy bar. Said to be the first time beef and sugar have been successfully mixed, the new confection doesn't require refrigeration.

Tea growing in Argentina has increased rapidly. Tea imports in 1952 was 2,175 tons. In 1955 Argentina imported 25 tons of tea.

Coal miners' electric cap lamps are now used by bridge builders to guide them in the dark recesses beneath heavy girders.

There are more than 1,750,000 acres of rice fields in Madagascar, an island off the coast of East Africa.

French anthropologists discovered a human jaw in Algeria they estimate to be more than 500,000 years old.

Satellite Youths Resist Red Rule

NEW YORK (INS)—Exiled leaders of Communist satellite countries have found a new paradox: indoctrinated youth who never knew freedom are battling communism harder than their once-free elders.

"If we had time," said Brutus Coste, secretary-general of the Assembly of Captive European Nations, "we could sit back and let these forces do their work."

However, officials of the assembly believe the West must create "an atmosphere of winning" to gain world support of non-committed and satellite peoples, before it is too late.

Many exile leaders had once feared the power of the Communists to indoctrinate young people who had studied only in Communist schools.

MORE STABLE

But it is the youth of satellite nations who have taken every chance to express anti-communism. Paul Vajda, press officer of the assembly, said youth seems less subject to the up and down of hope and despair that marks older people.

"They have an antidote," he said, "an antidote that expresses itself in ridicule, laughter, winks, humor publications, passing of western magazines and books, and the doctoring of slogans and posters.

The dean of Vilnus University, Lithuania, recently took great pains to criticize the student magazine, "Fig Leaf," for its "decadent criticism."

One student architect from Bucharest told how each class finds out just which few students actually are Communists. The rest "trust each other more than older anti-communists."

Students may scratch the last word of a billboard slogan, to make it read, "The founders of Communism are four: Marx, Engels, Lenin and shhh!"

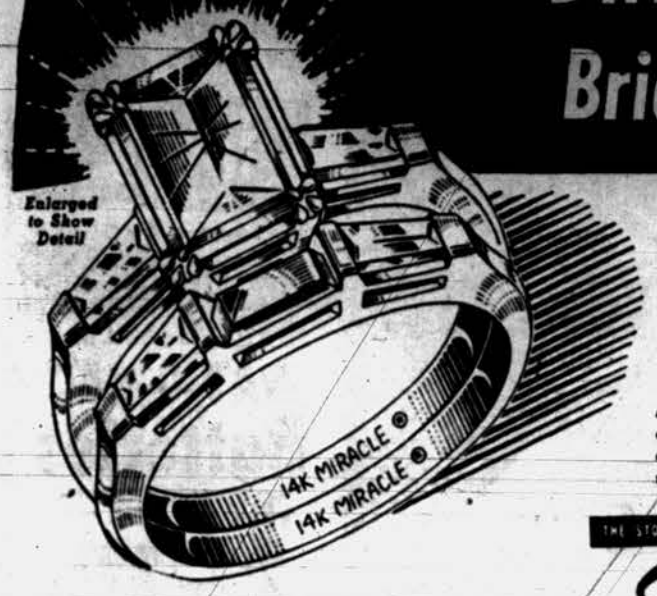

A history teacher ends his Communist-line course by telling smiling students, "Of course, in the past history was not taught this way." The students sport loud ties, wear their hair long, praise jazz—all of which are condemned by the Red regime.

But the greatest expression comes at the big sporting events like soccer. Then the young people shoulder to shoulder in their seats, whistle down the secret police "Dynamo" team, or the Russian team, and cheer madly for the local factory squad.

The feeling cannot be organized into any form of revolt, assembly leaders said, because of the still tight police control.

First U.S. Olympic Members Arrive in Melbourne

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The first big planeload of the mighty Yank team arrived today as international Olympic officials sought to lead some of the withdrawn nations back into the Melbourne fold.

The group of 64 Americans headed by Kenneth Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic committee, landed in bright sunshine at Essendon Airport to lift the hopes of harrassed organizing officials that the war-troubled games still will be a smash success.

Some sparkle had gone out of the preparations for the massive international sports spectacle opening Nov. 22 by the withdrawals of Holland, Spain, Red China and and Iraq. Efforts were started today by Wilfred Kent-Hughes, chairman of the organizing committee, and Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee to lure some countries, especially Holland back into the games.

Kent-Hughes, who appealed to the nations of the world yesterday to overcome international distrust and jealousies in the true spirit of the Olympics, set the wheels in motion by cabling the Dutch National Olympic Committee to reconsider its decision not to take part in the games. He sent a copy to Mayer.

Mayer replied he was urging the pulled out and hesitating nations to "do their utmost to participate. I shall intervene again with Holland."

No answer has been received yet from the Dutch Committee but the nation's flag is still flying in the Olympic Village and a small group of six Netherlanders here are still hoping against hope they will be able to stay.

Wilson, who had a big smile when he entered the airport at the head of the gay American group — many of them clad in Bermuda shorts — was soberfaced when advised of the latest developments in the Olympic crisis since his party left the warmth of Honolulu.

"I am naturally grieved by reports of the withdrawals of some nations," he said. "I sincerely hope Holland and the other countries will reconsider. I agree with Wilfred Kent-Hughes that we must discard politics and make this a glorious Olympics in the true spirit of the Games — an Olympics which will create a better feeling among all nations."

The American main vanguard today consisted of 16 wrestlers and 11 canoers plus administrative officials and newspapermen.

Tomorrow two more planeloads will land in the afternoon and early evening carrying some of the biggest names in track and field and rowing. Among them are sculler Jack B. Kelly Jr., American champion and brother of Grace, the outstanding Yale eight which is in for a tough fight to maintain American supremacy in this rowing classic, track and fielders Parry O'Brien, world record-holding shot putter, Lou Jones, fastest 400-meter runner of all time, broad jumper John Bennett, sprinters Ira Murchison and Thane Baker, hurdler Jack Davis and middle-distance aces Tom Courtney and Lon Spurrier.

Questioned by newsmen on the prospects of the American team, Wilson said "this is the greatest Olympic team we have ever fielded. Iwas very much impressed with the showing and condition of the track and field team in California before we left. They broke records coming and going. I am confident we can duplicate our performances at Helsinki in 1952 when we won 14 track and field medals.

"I am not disturbed by warnings that the Americans, late arrival may jeopardize their chances. I believe after a couple of days they can adjust themselves to the conditions down here and be in top shape. In addition to track I think our best chances are in swimming and rowing and I believe our basketball team is the best we have ever sent into the Olympics and I have seen every team we had had."

Told that the Russians, who have a 7-4 giant, had said they would win the championship in the sport born in the United States, Wilson smiled and replied: "That's fine. That will make for an interesting competition."

In addition to the Americans, 76 Poles and 64 South Africans landed at the airport and were quickly installed at Heidelberg Village. The chief ceremony at the village today was the official raising of the Soviet hammer and sickle on a pole fronting the Russians' quarters. The ceremony went off without incident.

Bob Kiphuth, famed American swimming coach at Yale University, told swim-conscious Australians that though the Australians have excellent teams the Americans will improve, and will be hard to beat.

He said if George Breen of Cortland (N.Y.) State Teachers College, repeats his 1,500-meter performance in a long course pool recently, he should get down to between 17:52 and 17:57. He said Breen would also challenge Australia's star, Murray Rose, in the 400-meters.

However, he said, only one man could be sure of a gold medal and that is Masaru Furukawa of Japan, the world-breast stroke record-holder.

BOARDING HOUSE REACH — Big Bill Russell, who gained All-America fame at the University of San Francisco, is back displaying his long reach as he flips in a rebound for the U. S. Olympic basketball team in an exhibition game in San Francisco. It was one of the last appearances for the Olympic team before leaving for Australia.

Eliot Pulls Out All Stops Prepping for Wolverines

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois is pulling out all the stops this week in preparing his football forces to meet the Illini's favorite upset victim, Michigan.

Eliot got his boys high enough for the upset of the year in knocking off top-ranked Michigan State two weeks ago and then played Purdue to a 7-7 deadlock last Saturday.

There were no serious injuries reported after the Purdue battle and the squad is near full strength for the Michigan invasion Saturday. Guard Percy Oliver has a slightly sprained knee and ankle, fullback Ray Nitschke and quarterback Bill Offenbecher have bruised knees. The injuries hamper their work in drills but should not be a factor in the Saturday game.

Eliot has directed five upsets of Michigan in the last six years, including a 25-6 ambush of the top-ranked Wolverines last year. Halfback Bobby Mitchell was the Illini demon in that upset and he is back again and working up to a peak after nursing a leg injury most of the season.

Eliot said he had been impressed with the defensive work of his Illini in their last two games but was concerned how the attack again bogged down near Purdue's goal line last week.

Halfback Ave Woodson, whose 70 and 82-yard touchdown runs in the last quarter broke down Michigan State, was held to 63 yards by Purdue but still is the No. 1 Illini ball carrier, pass receiver, punter and scorer. He has gained 551 yards in six games, more than twice the total of his closest pursuer, Harry Jefferson, who has 268. He has caught 10 passes for 242 yards and 2 touchdowns, punted 28 times for a 38-yard average and scored 36 points.

Best Effort on Jump

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Charlie Sidwell, William and Mary's star football halfback, once jumped from an airplane and found his parachute wouldn't open.

Harris Rise Halted

Logart TKO's 'Duke' in 7th

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence (Duke) Harris' attempted climb in the welterweight ranks was blocked last night by Cuban Isaac Logart, who stopped the 24-year-old Detroit hopeful in the seventh round.

Logart, fourth-rated 147-pound contender, danced and parried with his inexperienced foe through five rather dull rounds of the scheduled 10 of the nationally televised bout at Chicago Stadium. Then he set him up for the TKO in the sixth.

A smashing left caught Harris flush on the chin midway in the sixth as the fighters tangled in a corner of the ring. Harris was staggered and barely lasted out the round.

In the seventh, Logart leaped into action, scoring with a left and straight right that drove Harris across the ring and made him lower his gloves, which he had been holding near his face throughout the bout to ward off Logart's counter punches.

Logart smashed a left hook and another right to Harris' face and the Detroiter, making his first appearance in a main TV event, reeled into the corner.

Brightmore and Judges Morrie Mages and Dr. E. Allen Frankel all gave Logart every round except the fourth when Harris moved inside and opened up a two-fisted attack.

Logart, who outweighed Harris 148 pounds to 146, recorded his 46th victory and 19th kayo against six losses and five draws. The defeat was Harris' first in his last eight starts and left him with a 22-4-1 record.

Attendance was 1,378 and the net gate $1,074.

Pettit Starts Bid for Title

Hawk Ace Dunks 34 in Win Over Knicks, 107 to 101 in NBA Tilt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, second-highest scorer in the history of the National Basketball Assn., has begun in earnest a bid for his third consecutive all-star team selection.

The former Louisiana State star scored 34 points last night as the Hawks retained first place in the Western Division by defeating the New York Knickerbockers 107-101.

In the only other game, the champion Philadelphia Warriors bowed to the Rochester Royals 81-80 and found themselves in the Eastern Division cellar with a 1-2 record. Rochester has a 2-4 mark.

Pettit came up with 26 of his points in the second half but needed help from Irv Bemoras and rookie Willie Naulls to stall a late New York rally. The Knicks closed to within six points in the last period, but Naulls blocked an important shot by Ken Sears, who scored 22 for New York, fed to Pettit for the first of three straight goals and the game was out of reach.

Mendyk Out With Injury

Spartan Lineup Is Juggled

EAST LANSING (AP)—Duffy Daugherty has been juggling the starters on his Michigan State football team this season like his quarterbacks juggle the ball.

Against Purdue Saturday, another switch, injury-forced like all the others, appears to be in the making.

Blanche Martin, sophomore from River Rouge, is being groomed to start at left half instead of Dennis (the menace) Mendyk, St. Charles senior.

Mendyk strained his back in the Wisconsin game and still is bothered by the injury.

Last week, Art Johnson, Flint sophomore, started at right half ahead of Walt Kowalczyk. But Kowalczyk had a terrific day and stayed in the game, Johnson getting a chance to carry only twice.

"Martin and Johnson," observed Daugherty. "They sound like a vaudeville team, but they're going to show us a lot of football."

Martin was about fourth string at the position when the season started, running as he was behind Clarence Peaks and Mendyk. Injuries have gradually moved Martin up, first the knee operation that ended Peaks' college football play and now Mendyk's aching back.

Martin has carried 11 times for 43 yards and one touchdown. He can also punt and pass.

"He has great natural ability," said backfield coach Sonny Grandelius. "He reminds me a lot of Peaks as a sophomore."

Martin, a solid, 200-pound, six footer, was better known as a basketbal player than a football player in high school, partly because he was slowed by an appendix operation one year and a broken wrist another.

Vic Zucco, a senior transfer from Wayne State University, is third man at the position.

State's two starting tackles made good progress during the week in shaking off injuries and should be hitting at full impact. Joel Jones is recovering from a sprain and foot infection and Joe Carruthers has been bothered by a bruised thigh.

End Dave Kaiser also will be able to play as his bruised instep appears healed.

READY TO GO—Ready to start at his familiar end position is Michigan State's Rose Bowl hero Dave Kaiser who has been out all season with a foot injury. He will play against Purdue Saturday.

Jackets Battle Rochester

Avondale's defensive unit will have its work cut out for sure Friday night when the Yellow Jackets collide with Rochester on the Falcon gridiron in the season finale for both schools.

The task confronting the Jackets is clear cut. They must stop the rushes of explosive Dave Peters and the aerial combination of quarterback Fred Weaver and end Doug Falls.

Rochester was rolling along at an unbeaten-untied clip this season until it ran into Lapeer and Tom Wilson and suffered a 25-13 loss. Romeo edged the Falcons the following week, 12-7, before they could bounce back into the winning column.

Avondale has an overall record of 5-3 to compare with Rochester's 5-2 mark. The Jackets, who finished 3rd in the Oakland B League, have dropped decisions to Clawson, Troy and Lapeer.

In an effort to match Peters and Company, the Jackets will counter-attack with halfback Sven Blomberg and the passing tandem of quarterback Dick Gronski and end Dwight Moulton.

The Falcons are slight favorites in the game, which gets under way at 8 p.m.

Adios Harry Seeks Top Money Bracket

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Adios Harry can become the greatest one year money-winning pacer in harness racing history tonight if he can defeat seven tough challengers in the $75,000 Eastern Championship Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

The world champion will have to be at peak form, however, since he drew the extreme outside post position in the mile and one sixteenth race against some extremely fast company.

W. Bloomfield in W-O Final

West Bloomfield, which has enjoyed scattered moments of greatness this season, will wind up its 1956 football schedule Friday night at Keego Harbor against Wayne-Oakland Conference champion Northville.

Northville clinched the W-O title last week with a 25-7 victory over Brighton. The Mustangs own an overall record of six wins, one loss and one tie.

The Northville gridders are heavily favored to sink the Lakers. They boast one of the league's finest halfbacks in dangerous Dick Biery as well as rangy end Bill Yahne and 225-pound center Bob Wagenschutz, who sometimes runs from the fullback position.

West Bloomfield has an overall record of 2-4-1. The Lakers have a 2-2-1 mark in the league and a triumph over Northville would give them 2nd place.

Dale Nelson, serving his 1st year as head coach of the Lakers, has one of the league's best ends in Roger Wolfe, who has scored five touchdowns this fall. Quarterback John Lucadam and husky guard Don Bradley are other pillars of strength.

Tomorrow night's engagement is also the closer for Northville, which has a 4-0-1 record in the W-O circuit. The kickoff is scheduled at 8 o'clock.

UP Man Finds Trapped Bear Caught in Tree

Unable to Get Free, Bruin Loses Life by Starvation.

MARQUETTE (AP)— A dead bear was discovered in a tree in Chippewa county, victim of an unusual accidental death.

Harold Rath of Raco found the bear hanging in a mountain ash tree.

Conservation officer Edward Dorie said the bear apparently stepped into a coyote trap, carried the trap and its drag for some distance, climbed the tree and became stuck to die of the wound and starvation.

Montreal Gains in NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Hockey League standings looked a little more natural today with Montreal's defending champions in second place, only a point back of the Detroit Red Wings.

But there also was a surprise in the standings with the Boston Bruins tied with the Canadiens and the New York Rangers deep in fifth place.

The Canadiens and Bruins moved up last night with victories in the only games played in the league. Montreal cooled off Toronto's red-hot Maple Leafs 4-3 largely on the strength of three goals by Dickie Moore. And the Bruins thumped the Rangers 4-2 for the New Yorkers' third setback in their last four outings. They tied the fourth game.

Henri Richard counted the Canadiens' other goal as Montreal came up with three goals in the final period. The Leafs' marksmen were Sid Smith, Garry Aldcorn and Rudy Migay.

The Bruins took advantage of three New York penalties to produce second period goals by Vic Stasiuk and Leo Labine. Veteran Johnny Perison made it 3-1 early in the third period. Rookie Jerry Foley scored for New York a couple of minutes later but Doug Mohns rapped the puck into the empty cage five seconds before the end of the game.

The Rangers called up goalie Johnny Bowers from their Providence farm in the American League but gave no indication if and when he would replace the slumping Gump Worsley in the New York nets.

Dave Kaiser led Michigan State in pass receiving in 1955, nabbing 12 tosses for 343 yards and two touchdowns.

Hawkeyes Meet Gophers in Payoff Game

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A pair of football do-it-yourself experts, vaguely disguised as T-formation quarterbacks but carrying the tools of the old fashioned single wing tailback, bump together Saturday in the Rose Bowl payoff between Minnesota and Iowa.

The central figures in the nationally televised battle to see which team gets the inside rail to Pasadena are Minnesota's Bobby Cox and Iowa's Kenny Ploen, players of a pattern and game-breakers both.

Where the thought of running with the ball might once have offended the T quarterbacks, Cox and Ploen make a habit of it, and a productive one.

True, Cox operates from Minnesota's split-T, which requires the quarterback to leg it with the rest of the backs. With Cox, though, it's more than a duty. He's making a career out of it.

For the last three games the Gopher junior has averaged around 20 carries a game, for about 4.5 yards a clip. Making use of rollouts around the ends, keeper plays and routine quarterback sneaks, Cox has been Minnesota's major running threat since he first broke into the starting lineup three weeks ago.

His passing reputation prevents enemy defenses from ganging up against his running plays and his knack for digging out a couple of extra yards helps him in the tough situations.

Ploen handles himself in much the same fashion. A year ago he was lost behind another fine Hawkeye quarterback, Jerry Reichow. This season he has done as much or more than Reichow ever did.

In 45 carries, Ploen has averaged 5.8 yards a crack. He has completed 13 passes for 173 yards and rolled up more than 400 yards total offense.

Ploen is a stylish ball handler in Iowa's winged T offense and a specialist in the art of faking a pass and running. He did it for a 33-yard touchdown run against Michigan last week. Like Cox, he turns a lot of pass plays into improvised sweeps around the ends.

Cox and Ploen both will have plenty of top-notchers in the supporting cast Saturday for a game which neither Minnesota, 3-0-1 in the Big Ten, nor Iowa, 3-1 can very well afford to lose.

Aussie Coach Says Soviets Will Be Tough

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Famous track coach Franz Stampfl, writing in today's Melbourne Argus, warns Australia the Russian athletes are "colossal."

They'll give American and other countries a tremendous shock in the games, he said. They're set for a lot of medals unless they crack up badly under competition.

The outstanding thing about them is the way they go about their work, he wrote. There is no wasting time. There is just grim determination.

Stampfl says there is no slacking and little fun in their training, but the jumpers and sprinters appear to be in top form. They obviously have not been affected by their trip here, he added.

Injury to Force Hornung Into Different Position

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Paul Hornung, Notre Dame's star quarterback, might not be at his favorite position Saturday when the Irish meet Pitt but "he'll play somewhere."

Coach Terry Brennan last night spiked reporth that Hornung would make only a token appearance against the Panthers because of an injured thumb.

"We need him too much to let him sit on the bench," said Brennan. "If he can't play at quarterback then I'll use him at fullback or at halfback."

The Irish have a 1-5 record and if they lose one more game it will mark the worst season in their football history. The last and only time a Notre Dame team lost five games was in 1953.

Hornung first dislocated his left thumb when Michigan State whipped the Irish 47-14. With Oklahoma the opponent the following week, Brennan then said Hornung would be used at another backfield post if he couldn't handle the snap from center in the Irish split T offense.

Greedy Anglers Take 765 Perch Over the Limit

MARQUETTE (AP) — The perch fishing is real good in the Tahquamenon River in Chippewa county—so good that a couple of anglers there got real greedy.

Conservation officer Harold Peters of Germfask reported that he arrested two fishermen with 815 perch in their possession recently, 765 over the legal possession limit.

All-League Eleven

Vikings Dominate I-L Stars

The Inter-Lakes Conference has named its 1956 all-star eleven.

Selection of this annual football honor list is an unusual, perhaps a unique function of all gridders in the circuit. The players themselves pick the squad. Announcement was made at the league session at Farmington.

League titlist Walled Lake was accorded five places, dominating the roster, Waterford received two places, Berkley, Van Dyke, Farmington and Southfield each placed one. Twenty-one received honorable mention.

The all-star team:

Ends — Larry Hughes (sen.) Walled Lake and Larry Werschky (sen.) Berkley.

Tackles — Jim Larkins (sen.) Waterford and Jim Dickson (jun.) Walled Lake.

Guards — Ed Grames (sen.) Walled Lake and John Kontos (sen.) Van Dyke.

Center — Steve McCane (sen.) Farmington.

Quarterback — Larry Dion (sen.) Walled Lake.

Halfbacks — Ron Brewer (sen.) Southfield, and Lindy Salathiel (sen.) Waterford.

Fullback — John Walker (sen.) Walled Lake.

Honorable mention — Southfield - Miscovich, Hilts, Grant; Walled Lake - Streeter, O'Donnell, Yergens; Berkley - Price, Martins, Duncan and Newbrect; Farmington - McBride and McClellan; Van Dyke - Martin, Day, Abbott and Thorpe; Waterford - Starkweather, Miksch, Masters, Hales, and Cole.

New Mark Is Certain

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Haughton, who led the nation's harness race drivers with 168 victories last year, is virtually certain to set a new mark this season. He equalled his 1955 record last night by winning the sixth race at Yonkers Raceway with Master Fingo.

Impressive Showing a 'Must'

Walled Lake Bids for Top Spot in 'B'

An Oakland County high school football team has never won a mythical state championship in any class.

There have been a few schools over the years that have received high rating, but no county team has ever claimed state honors in the actual voting.

The law of averages may swing around our way in due time.

This still may not be the year for Oakland County to be so honored, but Walled Lake's undefeated-untied powerhouse has the best opportunity in many years to gain such a prize.

Thoughts of a possible Class B state title will be going through the minds of all Viking players this Friday night when they close out their 1956 schedule at Milford against the underdog Redskins.

Walled Lake, protecting a 7-0 record, is currently ranked 3rd in the Associated Press weekly Class B poll of the top 10 teams. East Lansing is ranked 1st, followed by Sault Ste. Marie.

East Lansing, with an 8 . 0 record, and the Soo, which compiled a 9 . 0 mark, have both concluded their seasons.

Whether Walled Lake can surmount East Lansing and the Soo in the final voting remains to be seen. But an impressive victory over Milford might persuade the experts to change their ballot.

Dave Smith, in his 1st year as head coach of the Vikings, has developed them into a formidable aggregation. Last year's squad finished the season with a lowly 2-5-1 record; this year the slate is spotless with one game to go.

Fullback John Walker, a magnificent faker, bruising runner and superb defensive player, is Walled Lake's No. 1 tower of strength. Walker is considered an excellent candidate for All-State honors.

Quarterback Larry Dion, guard Ed Grames, center Mike O'Donnell end Larry Hughes, and halfbacks Don Yeargan and Frank Fink are other star members of Walled Lake's talented personnel.

The Michigan Class B crown may not be forthcoming this season. But if the Vikings have their way in Friday's final fling, it's at least a possibility.

Holds Rushing Lead

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mississippi Vocational of Itta Bena maintained its total rushing lead this week in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics with a seven game total of 3,511 yards.

Mississippi Vocational put together a rushing total of 2,253 yards and 1,258 yards passing for an average of 501.6 yards per game.

ANGRY KITTY — Bobcat hunting has become a favorite winter sport for many Michigan outdoorsmen. This 'cat, backed into a corner, is ready for anything and would probably get his share of eyes, ears and noses if any dogs — or hunters — ventured too close. The Conservation Department has caught, tagged and released a number of bobcats in recent years in a continuing study of this rugged woodland creature.

New Rink for Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale's new hockey ring will be named the David S. Ingalls Rink in honor of the Cleveland attorney and publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, a member of Yale's 1920 class. His son David was a member of Yale's 1956 class. Both father and son captained freshman and varsity Hockey teams at Yale.

The new rink, to be built in 1957, will cost approximately $750,000. More than $635,000 has been raised by the Yale Hockey Assn. from alumni and friends.

Johnny Longden is still winning races at 46. He was born in Wakefield, Eng.

The Cincinnati Redlegs have acquired a working agreement with Visalia, Calif., in the Class C California League.

Ted Williams tops active major leaguers with a .348 lifetime batting average. Stan Musial shows a .340 mark.

Tight Battle Looms for Wayne, Skipper Collision

A league champion and the runnerup in another circuit are pitted against one another in Friday's homecoming gridiron finale at Waterford High School. And from advance indications the scrap between the 2nd place Inter-Lakes Skippers and the Wayne eleven, champion of the Huron-Rouge Valley league, will be a tight, even match. It marks the conclusion of both clubs' season play.

Because of the homecoming angle, and a keen desire to retain an exceptional record on the Skippers' part, a big audience is anticipated at the Waterford school field. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Both clubs were reported at full strength, with the exception of Clark of Waterford, who has not returned to action since an earlier injury.

Coach Dave Freeman of the Skippers says "Wayne is a very good outfit, a nearly all-senior team that can go. We've got a job cut out for Friday night." From Wayne's mentor, Don Domke, comes the comment that "This Waterford club has a fine record and I look for a very close contest."

Skippers boast a 4-1 mark for the I-L and 7-1 for the season's overall play. Wayne has a 6-2 mark, with the league title sewed up by last week's 47-6 win over Dearborn.

Visitors put much hope on the play of little Bill Martiner, a shifty, elusive runner, and on a strong backfield moving behind a line that has several better-than-200-pounders like tackle Allen Pitts (240) and center Dick Radke (210).

A victory for Wayne would give it the best season's mark in four years—since moving into Class A ranks.

Same thing goes for Waterford.

Starters named for Friday by the respective coaches include:

For Skippers: Ends, Chuck Gillis and Clay Roth; tackles, Bob Masters and Rod Evans; guards, Dick Starkweather and Jim Larkin; center, Doug Hales; backs, (qb) Warren Miksch, (lh) Stan Jones, (fb) Terry Kaines and (rh) Lindy Balathiel.

Japanese All-Stars Beat Dodgers, 3-2

SHIZUOKA, Japan (AP)—The Japan All-Stars pushed across a run in the last of the ninth inning today and again beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-2 before 20,000.

It was the Dodgers' fourth loss against 10 wins and one tie on their tour of Japan.

With the score tied 2-2, Masao Morishita of the Nankai Hawks opened the bottom half of the ninth with a single to center. Takashi Iwamoto of the Yomiuri Giants bunted and Dodger pitcher Fred Kipp tried to force Morishita at second base. His throw was too late.

Mitsuhira Sugiyama of the Hawks then singled to right field and Morishita raced home from second with the winning run.

Herb Score AL's Top Soph

NEW YORK (AP) — Herb Score, Cleveland's fastballing lefthander, had even a better season in 1956 than he had in 1955 when he was named American League Rookie-of-the-Year.

For his 1956 performance, Score today was voted the Sophomore-of-the-Year in the annual Associated Press poll. Herb and Frank Lary of Detroit received the bulk of the votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Score was named on 103 ballots, Lary on 63 and Johnny Kucks of the New York Yankees on 32. Tom Sturdivant of the Yanks, with 4, and Hector Lopez of Kansas City, Elston Howrd of the Yanks, Rocky Colavito of Cleveland and Billy Klaus of Boston, who had 1 each, rounded out the 206 votes.

A 16-game winner in 1955 when he set an American League record for first year pitchers by striking out 245 batters, Score won 20 games in his sophomore campaign while losing only nine. He again topped the junior circuit in strikeouts in 263 and finished second to the Yanks' Whitey Ford in the earned run competition with a 2.57 average.

The 23-year-old southpaw is a native of Rosedale, N.Y. He lives in Lake Worth, Fla. Cleveland signed him to a bonus contract reportedly for $60,000 in 1952. He was assigned to Indianapolis of the American Assn. and won only two games and lost five.

Score was dropped to Reading, Pa. of the Eastern League the following season, winning seven and losing three. In 1954, he starred for Indianapolis, compiling a 22-5 record while establishing a strikeout mark with 330 for the year.

Lary, a righthander, won his last eight games after perfecting a knuckleball pitch in July. His surge boosted his record to 21-13. He had an earned run mark of 3.06. Frank won 14 games and lost 15 in his first season with the Tigers.

Kucks' supporters probably were influenced by his brilliant performance in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series. He held Brooklyn to three hits as the Yanks won 9-0 and the championship, four games to three. Kucks won 18 games during the regular season.

Olympic Cagers Reported Ready

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Gerald Tucker of the U.S. Olympic basketball squad pronounces his team ready for the Games in Australia, but somewhat fatigued from nine tuneup contests.

Undefeated, the Olympians wind up the schedule at Long Beach, Calif., tomorrow night before emplaning for Australia. Last night they beat an all-star team here, 73-54.

"The exhibition games did a lot at first to help mold and condition the squad," Tucker said. "But the fellows will be ready for a rest. They're in good shape for the Olympic Games."

Last night, with four of the squad's 12 members playing before 5,200 home area fans, the Olympians defeated an all-star outfit from the San Francisco Olympic Club. Bill Russell, the 6-10 All America center from the NCAA championship University of San Francisco team of the past two seasons, scored 18 points and was high man.

Romeo Seeks Perfect Year in Closer Against Utica

The Romeo Bulldogs will have two objectives Friday night when they end their 1956 football season against Utica on the Romeo field.

The 1st goal, of course, will be victory over an old and bitter rival. Objective No. 2, and perhaps the most important, is preserving its flawless 8-0 record.

Romeo is one of only four remaining high school teams in the Oakland County area with an undefeated-untied slate.

Sparked by high-scoring John (Scoot) Fowler and quarterback Butch Dallwitz, plus a handful of other stellar performers, the Bulldogs will be favored to close out a perfect season.

But in a rivalry of this type the enemy can never be overlooked. Utica has been an up-and-down team this fall while compiling four wins and three losses.

The Chieftains are certain to be "up" for this encounter with their neighboring foe. Utica hopes to offset Romeo's attack with fullback Lou Haase and halfback Ray VanDeWeghe.

Game time is 8 p.m.

Tech Lineman Is Tops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Georgia Tech's junior center, Don Stephenson, who is credited with some of the fine defensive play that helped keep the Yellow Jackets in the ranks of the undefeated and untied last Saturday, was named Associated Press lineman of the week today.

Clark Sauer intercepted a Northwestern pass in 1910 and ran 105 yards for a Chicago touchdown. He did the same thing and for the same yardage one year later, but against Indiana.

Tackle Gil Mains of the Detroit Lions had more than 150 professional wrestling matches during the off-season.

Kors, Munson Tried at End for Chiefs

By H. GUY MOATS

Hard-pressed for flankers to be used in case the first line occupants of these positions can't carry on Friday, against Flint Northern, Coach Ed Graybiel last night tried out a couple husky linemen at the spots.

KORS

And from the manner in which Dick Kors 5-10 170-pound erstwhile guard performed, along with Harrison Munson, up from the reserves, both may help materially. Kors is getting his first trial at the new position while Munson, a standout back for the reserves is very fast, tall (6-2) and carries 170-pounds.

Another end, who looked good against Saginaw last week, is Elijah Jones.

These lads are relied upon to bolster regular flankers Bob Baxter, Larry Beamer and George Palian, all of whom are slowed up by ankle ailments. Marv Cagle, 4th regular, is almost sure to ride the bench, with a twisted knee.

"Outside this situation", comments assistant coach Dean Wilson," rest of the squad is at full strength and ready to go. The team's attitude toward the game is very good. They're going over there at Flint to give Northern the hardest time possible. They're really looking forward to the test."

Tomorrow night's contest at Atwood Stadium, closes the Chief's season. It will mark the windup of prep football careers for many of the PHS varsity lineup.

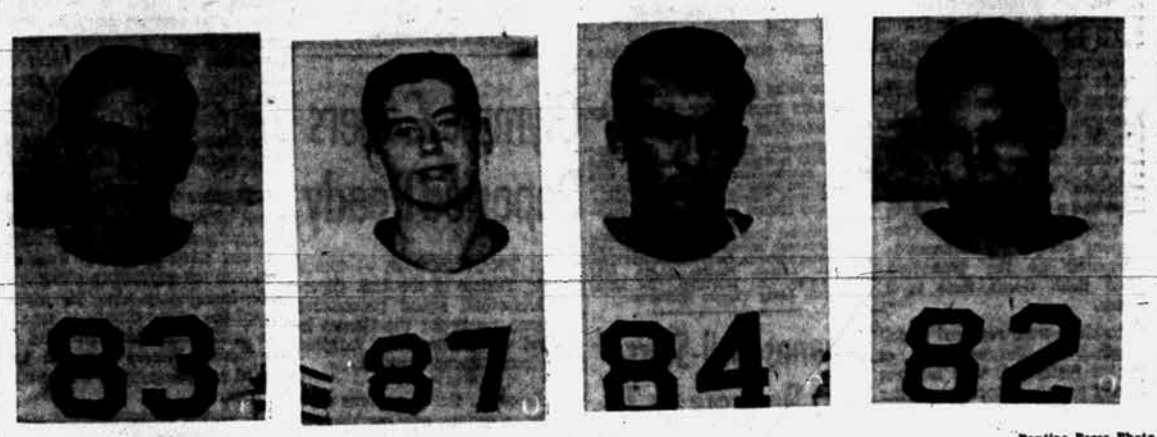

Coach Andy MacDonald of the SVC leaders and the state's No. 1 schoolboy eleven, said today he would probably start his regulars, but was undecided over exactly who would be named. Northern's aces, John Sharpe, Phil Gaines, Luke Waters will be in at the start. This group carries a lot of explosive running power. Northern also has an effective aerial game, when necessary, says PHS coaches.

Graybiel's starters probably will include Baxter and Beamer at ends; Holloway and Massengale, tackles; Kelly and Emil Frisch guards; Joe Hill center; backs — Whitmer (qb), Lon Humphrey (lh), Charley Spann (fb) and Charley Robinson (rh).

Accompanying the Chiefs to Flint will be the big PHS band, on its first game trip of the season.

Game time is 8 o'clock.

AILING FLANKERS — Unless there is unexpected rapid recovery between today and Friday night, four PHS football ends will not give much aid against Flint Northern. The quartet above represents two front line sets of Chief flankers. None is really ready to go all out. One may miss his final game entirely. From left are Larry Beamer, who snagged a goal-line TD pass against Saginaw last week and in so doing turned an ankle; Bob Baxter, usual starter also has a bad ankle; George Palian, hurt earlier in the season, still is not in top shape and Marv Cagle (right) may be out entirely as a result of a last period knee injury in the Trojan encounter.

Lack of flankers will be one of the big problems PHS coaches have to solve for the season's finale.

Weather Is Factor for Weekend

Pheasant Hunters Reminded Saturday Is Last Day

LANSING (AP) — Pheasant hunters were reminded today that this is their last chance to bag birds before the season ends on Saturday.

The State Conservation Department said weather will be a key factor in determining hunters' success the last few days of the season.

If there is more rainfall before the weekend, hunters with dogs can expect better than average late season hunting.

Throughout most of the season, adverse hunting conditions plus a reduced pheasant population resulted in generally poor hunting success throughout most of the southern Michigan pheasant range.

Hot, dry weather hampered dogs. In addition, many fields of corn were standing to provide heavy cover for the birds.

Pheasant populations generally were spotty with some areas producing as well as last year and others reporting birds down as much as 25 per cent.

The conservation department estimated that there were more hunters on public lands than last year but fewer on private lands.

CONTEST ENDS SATURDAY

Saturday also marks the nominal "pheasant derby." However, in order to permit hunters who may stay in upper state hunting areas over the weekend an opportunity to return home, entries, will be accepted up to noon Tuesday, Nov. 13.

The contest involves two divisions, one for the heaviest bird and the other for the longest (overall, from tip of beak to tip of tail feathers). U.S. Savings bonds in $50 and $25 denominations, respectively, go to the winners.

U.S. Cyclists Hope for Olympic Medal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Among the U.S. Olympic athletes departing for Australia this week is a ten-man team that hopes to win America's first medal in cycling since 1912.

The United States has failed to place in this sport since getting a third place medal 44 years ago.

But Coach Bud Thorpe of San Francisco and Chester Nelson of St. Louis, the team manager, are optimistic this year.

"We think there's a good chance of coming back with some medals," said Thorpe. "Morale is terrific and we've had a 30-day training period at Oakland, Calif., during which time we broke 13 national records."

He added that the team is counting heavily on Jack Disney of Pasadena, Calif., national all-round champion the past three years.

Sid Smith, 31, is the only member of the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey team over 30 years of age.

Pint-Sized Ace Closes Career at Worcester

Tech's Kerrigan to Be Honored During Saturday Finale

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A little man in a big man's game closes out a great football career Saturday.

Paul Kerrigan, who is only 5 feet 3½ inches tall and weighes 144 pounds, will play his final game for Worcester Tech when the Engineers meet the Norwich Cadets.

The 20-year-old senior from nearby Clinton operates at Halfback in a T-formation. With him as the sparkplug, the Engineers have won 15 of 19 games in three seasons.

Kerrigan will be honored by fans from his home town before Saturday's game. Officials at Worcester Tech, one of New England's smaller "small" colleges, can't remember when one of their players was so honored.

Ten players on West Virginia's freshman football team weigh 225 pounds or more.

Fullmer Builds Up His Speed

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer's manager says he plans to condition his fighter "so he can go the full 15 rounds at top speed" against middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson because, says Marv Jenson, "we don't believe Robinson's legs will carry him that far under pressure."

Fullmer, the boilermaker known as the Mormon cyclone, plans to leave the first of next week for New York to finish training for the Madison Square Garden fight on Dec. 12.

Fullmer plans to train three days at Stillman's Gym in New York, then go upstate to Grossinger's training camp.

Jenson has had Fullmer doing calisthenics and road work with some sparring. But he says he doesn't want Fullmer to reach his top punching potential too soon.

"Our problem now is not getting Gene too fine," says Jensen, "but he is working on his hooks to the body, which we hope will slow down Robinson and curtail his speedy footwork."

Frank Gifford Called One of NFL's Most Versatile Players

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Gifford admits he "can do a little bit of everything" and opponents of the New York Giants are ready to agree.

Versatile is an overworked adjective in all stories about the Giants' halfback. But try to think of a better one. The former Southern California star specializes in running with a football and catching Chuck Conerly's passes. He also can throw passes and handle the extra-point duties.

Gifford's talent, by no means, is confined to football. He writes a column for his home town paper, the Bakersfield (Calif.) Press does an occasional "bit part" in a movie as a "bad guy", manages his real estate holdings and does some commercial work on television.

The young man of 26 also reportedly reads poetry, handles a rifle or fishing rod with dexterity and manages to find time for his wife, the former Homecoming Queen at Southern California, and his two sons, Jeffery and Kyle, named after Kyle Rote, his Giant teammate.

"When I finish football we hope to go off to Europe, ski in winter, spend lots of time in Italy, sip good iwne, bask in the sun and write a book," Gifford told Gay Talese of the New York Times. "And we can also think back on those days when Giffrd was a halfback on the Giants."

Gifford's immediate future, however, is a little more rugged. He and Alex Webster will be the target for the Chicago Cardinals at Yankee Stadium when the Cards try to stop Conerly's passing and the Giants' running in a Sunday battle for the Eastern Division lead in the National Football League.

The latest statistics show Gifford No. 4 among the league's leading ground-gainers with 440 yards in 73 carries, an average of 6.0 yards per try. He also is No. 4 among pass receivers with 25 caches for 303 yards. Two other pros also have caught 25, Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears and Billy Wilson of San Francisco but they have picked up more yardage than Gifford to rate second and third behind Billy Howton of Green Bay.

"I'd never have made it as a pro if I hadn't been able to do some of this and some of that," said Gifford to explain his versatility. He was one of the few men ever to make the All-Star team on defense one year and the same team on offense the next season.

Jorgensen Meets Costa

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Paul Jorgensen, the Texas collegian who ranks third among the featherweight boxers, will meet Carmelo Costa, the No. 4 man, here Nov. 20.

Off the Grapevine —

With the exception of three ties, the grapevine had a productive weekend last week, with no more than three misses by any one of the crystal balls.

Guy Moats and Bill Cornwell are now on even terms and this will be the final week for the grapevine.

A total of 93 games have been picked from the crystal ball with Kearns holding a .777 percentage ahead of the .683 for Moats and Cornwell.

Big surprise was Orchard Lake's defeat to St. Benedicts, snapping a 19-game winning streak. It wasn't in the crystal ball.

Georgia Tech Battles Tennessee

Nation's 2-3 Teams to Meet

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech and Tennessee, two of the nation's finest teams, will play a game of football showdown Saturday. The visiting Vols have a pair of aces to throw against Tech's full-house backfield.

The stakes are high. The coach who holds the winning hand will pull in a pot containing huge dividends in national prestige, possession of first place in the Southeastern Conference title race, and an almost certain bowl bid. And remain unbeaten.

The coaches, Bobby Dodd of Tech's second-ranked Yellow Jackets and Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee's third-ranked Vols, learned their football under the old master, Gen. Bob Neyland. Both are expected to emphasize punting, quick kicks and defensive measures.

Both teams have such great scoring potential, a couple of bounces of the ball early in the game could turn it into a wide-open offensive show.

Tennessee's devastating single wing attack is built around its tailbacks, All America prospect Johnny Majors and his fine understudy, Al Carter. Together they have averaged 157 yards a game, passing and running, netting 5.7 per play and scoring 66 points.

Although they are the aces in Wyatt's deck, they get king-sized support from fullback Tommy Bronson, the Vols' top rusher with a 352 yards at a 5.7 average, and wingback Bill Anderson, a fine pass receiver and reverse-play runner. Stockton Adkins is invaluable at his blocking back post.

Fullback Ken Owen is Tech's top yardage man with 284 yards, all on the ground. But the Jackets boast seven backs with more than 150 yards to their credit. Injuries, however, could keep some of them on the bench.

Dodd hopes to have back in good form George Volkert. Tech's best threat who has been in-and-out with injuries all season. He missed the Duke game.

"We probably won't know until Saturday whether Dickie Mattison and Stan Flowers will be able to play," Dodd said. Mattison, who scored the only touchdown of the Duke game, injured a knee against the Blue Devils. Flowers, a big boy with lots of speed, is nursing an ankle which kept him on the sidelines last week.

Statistically, the Vols own a slight edge on offense but Tech holds the upper hand on defensive tactics. Tech has allowed its six opponents only 27 points this season, exactly half the number the Vols have surrendered in six games.

Dodd thinks two touchdowns will win the game.

"Or maybe I should put it this way: I don't believe the team that scores two touchdowns will get beat," he amended.

That leaves the door open for another tie, like last year—or, a lopsided victory for somebody.

The game has been a 40,000 sell-out since early in the season.

Athletics Have 43 Night Games in '57 Season

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics announced today their 77 homes games in 1957 will include 43 night games.

They will play a morning-afternoon double bill here with the Chicago White Sox on July 4. The only doubleheaders on the schedule are on successive Sundays in June, against Washington on the 14th and Baltimore on the 21st.

All but 11 of the 34 daytime games will be on weekends.

The 1957 season will open with the Athletics meeting the Detroit Tigers here on April 16 in an afternoon game.

Dick Dunkel's COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER INDEX

Power Index ratings are past performance averages. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team, against equally rated opposition.

By DICK DUNKEL

Iowa State's coach quit last week and now the whole Cyclone team may take to the cellar. Oklahoma's No. 1 Sooners, who out-rate State by 47 points in the Power Index, are coming to Ames next Saturday. And not just for the ride.

Other top ranking teams face no such picnic.

Second place Georgia Tech and No. 3 Tennessee, both undefeated, will collide in Atlanta, with the SEC title, bowl invitations, and top national ranking in mind. Tech's rating stands seven points higher than the Vols' figure.

Other national leaders have rated themselves over Saturday opponents as follows:

No. 3 Michigan State, 11 over Purdue; No. 4 Texas A&M, 15 over SMU; No. 6 Minnesota, 2 over No. 10 Iowa.

In other big Saturday games the past performance ratio is as follows:

East: Syracuse 25 over Holy Cross, Pittsburgh 16 over Notre Dame, Penn State 27 over Boston U., Army 30 over Wm. & Mary, Princeton 22 over Harvard.

Midwest: Michigan 5 over Illinois, Ohio State 22 over Indiana, Colorado 12 over Missouri.

South: Florida 13 over Georgia, Duke 6 over Navy, Mississippi 22 over Memphis State, Baylor 13 over Texas, Arkansas 4 over Rice, TCU 23 over Texas Tech, Clemson 18 over Wash. State, UCLA 5 over Washington.

For the last three weeks the new and undefeated Air Force Academy has won by the exact pointage advertised herein. This week it is 30 over Whittier, Let's see what happens.

Power Index pairings for all of the week-end's games follow:

Dropps Rated Mikes' Best Athlete

When St. Michael closes out its 1956 football season Friday night at Wisner Stadium, one of the finest all-around athletes in Shamrock history will make his farewell gridiron appearance.

Dan Dropps, a mainstay in four sports during the past three years, will don a St. Mike football suit for the last time tomorrow. And if past performance means anything, his farewell will be memorable.

Bob Mineweaser, now serving his 13th year as head coach of the north side school, calls Dropps one of the most versatile athletes at St. Mike since he took over the coaching reins.

Dropps has lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. He is probably the best all-around performer since Mike Slivensky wore the Shamrock colors.

Although Dropps shines in any athletic endeavor he undertakes, his No. 1 sport is football. His value to the Mikes this fall cannot be overemphasized.

The veteran halfback has scored seven touchdowns and placekicked seven conversions for a total of 49 points. He has also thrown seven touchdown aerials and passed for two extra points, giving him a direct hand in 93 of the 125 points compiled by St. Mike this season.

In addition to being a deadly passer and hard-running ball carrier, Dropps is a strong punter and sound defensive player.

Dan is not sensational in any one department, but he does many things well. A year ago when regular quarterback Bob Mineweaser was injured, Dropps took over signal-calling chores and did a capable job.

The star senior will be a vital part of St. Mike's 1956-57 basketball plans. Last season as a guard he was a key factor in the Shamrocks' winning record. On the baseball diamond, Dan sparkles defensively at shortstop and hits adequately.

Although track activity at St. Mike has been limited during Dropps' high school career, he high jumped 5 feet 11 inches last spring in the Class C state meet at Ann Arbor to win 2nd place.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCE — Dan Dropps, veteran halfback, will play his last football game for St. Michael this Friday night at Wisner Stadium when the Shamrocks wind up their 1956 season against Mt. Clemens St. Mary. The star senior is one of the best all-around athletes in St. Mike history.

Area Chest Drives See Success

FREE BEEF — Art Marohn scoops up juicy roast beef for women to serve the some 3,000 people who attended the "Paul Bunyan Day" celebration at Union Lake, yesterday. Six hundred pounds of meat were consumed by people who waited in a line two city blocks long.

Parade, Roast Ox, Dance in Streets

Paul Bunyan Fete Rocks Union Lake

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Union Lake was "really rockin' " last night as celebrants brought to a close the Paul Bunyan Day at Union Lake. The occasion signaled the opening of the new Union Lake branch of the Community National Bank of Pontiac.

For weeks, most of the male population in the area have been letting their beards grow and Jerry Sickles came out on top with the prize-winning hirsute plumage.

Women employes of the bank and wives of merchants were dressed in Early American costumes as the parade got under way at 3 p.m.

Floats of every description were on display and John Ivory sent 15 Shetland ponies for children to ride free. Games, contests and even a tiny carousel kept the festivities at high pitch.

At 5 o'clock lines began forming for the Ox Roast at the rear of the new bank building. Six hundred pounds of beef and 2,600 buns were consumed by people who waited in a line two city blocks long.

A six-piece Dixieland band played for street dancing in front of the new building.

Over $1,000 in cash and prizes were given to lucky ticket holders and officials estimated that some 3,000 people visited the area during the day and evening.

The new Community Bank on Union Lake road is of Early American design and features two large vaults controlled by three 120-hour locks. The air-conditioned building has scientifically controlled teller's booths, indirect lighting and the woodwork is limed oak.

The basement is constructed for future expansion, according to branch manager, Wayne Dengate.

Arthur Marohn was general chairman for the Paul Bunyan Day celebration.

Board Inspects School Cafeteria

Also Submits Proposed Plans for Walled Lake Additions

WALLED LAKE—The first act of the Walled Lake Board of Education when it met this week was to inspect the installation of new cafeteria. The cafeteria started serving lunches for the first time this year on Nov. 1.

Rolland Langerman, administrative assistant, submitted proposed plans for the additions at Commerce and Decker schools for the board's consideration. They took no action until the plans are further completed.

A report was given by Joseph Long regarding the purchase of additional land at Commerce. The board instructed Long and Superintendent Clifford Smart to continue to negotiate the price of land for sale by Russell Field.

Langerman was requested to cpcbeck the suggestions of the Stat Fire Marshall regarding the old Commerce building. He also gave a report on installations and maintenance accomplished since he accepted his position.

A report was made on the resignation of Jeannette Lokuta, Senior High secretary, to be effective Dec. 1.

Ticket Sale Termed Success by Goodfellows

TROY—Goodfellows Light Night last Friday, a ticket sale for a theatre party tomorrow night at the Troy Drive-In Theatre, was termed a success by the committee of local firemen and policemen directing the benefit.

Funds gleaned by selling the tickets—still available and which will be on sale until show time from any fireman or policeman or at the police station in City Hall—will go to the Goodfellows activities and services.

A capacity crowd is predicted if the weather is good, according to LeRoy Weaver, president of the Goodfellows' activities. Walt Disney's "The Great Locomotive Chase," and "Task Force" and cartoons will be screened.

Group Recommends Operation of Park

OXFORD—A committee appointed by the Oxford Township Board to study the needs and purposes relating to the continuance of the operation of the park at Stoney Lake recommends:

1—That the area in question be retained as a township park, and be properly maintained for residents of Oxford Township and guests.

2—That the township board procure professional assistance to have the park surveyed, and plans formulated for the establishment of a recreation area.

3—That an assessment of three-fourths of one mill be voted upon at the 1957 spring election to establish a recreation fund to maintain said park.

4—That an adequate and continuous park recreation program be established by the board.

5—That a permanent township park commission of three persons be appointed by the board.

6—That the park be adequately lighted and bordering homes and cottages on the north and west sides not be fenced until operation of the park is seriously hampered.

7—That the east side be fenced and gates be erected and definite car parking areas be established.

Start Adult Study in Almont Schools

ALMONT — Adult education classes are being organized in the Almont Community Schools, with a sewing class on Wednesdays from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. open for registration tomorrow.

Also tomorrow night classes in driver training, bookkeeping, typing and business procedure will be organized, with time and place being decided at that time.

Staging Social for Road Fund

Maple Pointe Beach at Commerce Sets Nov. 10 for Old Fashion Event

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — An old-fashioned box social—with dancing and a cake walk as added attractions—is expected to attract a large crowd to Commerce Elementary School's multi-purpose room at 8 p.m., Saturday. Admission is free and the public is invited.

Another function of the active Maple Pointe Beach Improvement Club, Inc., the social is being staged to raise funds to complete a road improvement program.

The club already is in the process of having roads graded and street holes filled throughout the Maple Pointe and Maple Pointe Beach subdivisions.

The box social marks the third event sponsored by the club within the past 10 weeks.

There will be both modern and square dancing until midnight with the cake walk lasting until all cakes have been won by participants. The auctioning of the box lunches, which will contain a meal for two persons, has been scheduled for 9:30 p.m. The person bringing the box lunch will eat with the person who buys it.

Committee members include Herman Rubritius, general chairman; Norman Nickerson, ticket chairman; Elaine Keelty, refreshments; Virginia Litzau, publicity; June Corrella, cake walk; Gertrude Nickerson, name tags; and Mrs. Louis DeYonge, donations.

Community Funds Reach $5,100 in Oxford; Avon Up to $17,200

Two communities have reported over $26,100 collections for the Community Chest Fund. They are Avon Township and Oxford, the latter going over the top.

Rochester

Avon Township's Community Chest Drive Goal of $21,000 is nearing completion with reports from leaders of the industry and business collections group totaling nearly a 90 per cent collection this year. National Twist Drill and Tool Company had its first payroll deduction this year and $7,012 has been already collected. Several major industries including The Detroit Broach Co. and the Higbie Manufacturing Co. have not reported their collection.

Tuesday, $17,200 had been collected and with the house to house canvass of Women's Division not all turned in to the Chamber of Commerce headquarters yet, leaders are very optimistic and stated Tuesday that inside of 24 hours the goal will be reached.

Oxford

More than $5,100 has been reported collected so far in the Oxford Community Chest drive for 1956, according to Jack Salswedel, campaign chairman.

$4,500 was the goal of the 60 volunteer workers under the leadership of captains, the Reverends G. E. Behnke, Fred Clark, Alfred Eddy, and A. Robert Harrison.

The 120 Township United Fund will receive $3,538.97. Of the balance 10 per cent goes to the Clinton Valley Boy Scouts, 8 per cent to the Oxford emergency aid fund, and 10 per cent to the community civic improvement fund.

Anita Simpson Weds Cecil Yest of Lapeer

IMLAY CITY — Anita Caroline Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simpson, Lapeer, and Cecil V. Yest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chfton Yest, Lapeer, were united in marriage by Rev. John H. Balfour in the Congregational Church Chapel here Saturday at 7 p.m. Their attendants were Beatrice Vakula and Richard Yest.

Dems Snowed Under

ADRIAN — Democratic candidates for Lenawee County offices were snowed under by margins of more than 2-1. Probate Judge I. B. Kuney defeated Paul Pence on the nonpartisan ticket. Other winners included Prosecutor Kenneth Glaser Jr., Sheriff Robert C. Stites, Clerk Alice M. Welch, Treasurer Willis L. Moore, Register of Deeds Leonard A. Warner, Drain Commissioner Howard Evans.

Betty Grable Appreciates Present Life of Leisure

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I haven't been working and I could not be happier. I never was really hot for a career, anyway."

This was the frank remark of Betty Grable, wartime queen of the box office and possessor of the legs that launched millions of pin-up pictures.

Betty, who is as attractive as ever, was back at work for an appearance on Dinah Shore's NBC-TV show. But she made no secret of the fact that she was eager to return to her family and horses.

"I'm having the time of my life," she remarked. "Once in a while my agents call me about doing some work and if I can't stall them off, I'll do it. But I couldn't care less."

Betty's outlook was soured by two experiences: 1. Her last picture at 20th Century-Fox, "How to be Very, Very Popular," which she termed "incredibly bad"; 2. Her recent Las Vegas hotel date, during which she said she was harassed by the management and nearly suffered a nervous breakdown.

"If that's the way show business is today," she said, "I don't want any part of it."

She said she'll do a picture or TV show if the right thing comes along. Meanwhile she'll devote herself to her two growing daughters, hubby Harry James and their horses.

"We're really in the horse business," Betty reported. "Harry's up at Golden Gate Park now and we've got 21 horses running. It's not just a hobby with us. We've got a going concern and turn a profit every month."

"It's a wonderful life," she enthused. "I've noticed that people who work around the tracks stay young and active despite their years.

"They get up early and go to bed early; they're outdoors most of the time. No wonder they stay young. I'm hoping it'll do the same for me."

Genesee Returns Dems

FLINT—Genesee County returned all Democratic incumbents by margins ranging from 9,000 to 12,000 votes. All incumbents were re-elected, including Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke, Sheriff Don H. Carmichael and Clerk George G. Dunn.

The White House grounds in Washington are a haven for birds. President Theodore Roosevelt, an ardent bird-watcher, found and recorded nests of redheaded woodpeckers, redstarts, flickers, wood thrushes, catbirds, screech owls, and sparrow hawks.

Some parts of Alaska have a temperature range of from 100 degrees in the summer to minus 70 degrees in winter.

THIS IS WHAT HELL IS LIKE!

This is a picture that grabs you by the throat and shoves you into the shell-ripping, blood-drenched, screaming heat of war.
Here is the hell behind the glory...the real guts and smell of battle! This is the story they didn't tell—of the heroes who stood up under fire, and the few who belly-crawled out!

"Listen, Cooney! You double-cross me once more...if I lose just one man on account of you, I'll come back and shove this grenade down your throat and pull the pin!"...When Lt. Joe Costa screamed these words at his captain, it put him in line for a court-martial...what he did later, put him in line for a medal.
"I'm the commanding officer here, and I say we surrender!"...These ten words summed up the life of Capt. Erskine Cooney—a man with two bars on his shoulders, and a long stripe down his back...
"You go for those stairs Captain—and I'll kill you!"...These words tore from the throat of Lt. Harry Woodruff, who lived by the rules of battle, and broke the rules of war.
What "All Quiet On The Western Front" was to another generation, "Attack" is to this one—for this is a motion picture with guts—a bold, bare-teethed scorching film that marches with the handful of great battle pictures!

Cartoon "GEE WHIZZZ" — Late News

Illinois Scholar Undaunted by Blindness Handicap

CARDONDALE, Ill. (INS) — A lecturer in government at Southern Illinois University commits his lectures to memory from recordings of textbooks.

This is standard operating procedure for ex-Army Capt. Randy Nelson because he is blind.

Nelson returned from the war to face a life of darkness but he met the challenge courageously and now a student will often remark to him, "If you hadn't told us you were blind, I would not have known."

He is blind. But as Nelson puts it, "there is no sense crying over it." He tells his students:

"I'm not sensitive about being blind, so please don't let it make you uncomfortable."

MORE THAN UNCOMFORTABLE

But the bazooka shell that exploded near the Rhine must have made it a lot more then uncomfortable for Rancy Nelson.

He was handed from doctor to doctor until the last specialist said, "You will never see again; you might as well face up to it."

Not only did Nelson face it, but he looked it right in the eye and punched hard.

Since 1946, he has completed his work for three degrees at the University of Michigan, making straight A's in all his courses except two. He won two awards for excellence in political science, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and received a university fellowship.

Last September, Randy Nelson was hired to teach at Southern Illinois University.

In those early days when learning to live in a darkened world seemed an unsurmountable task, he often felt the urge to quit but he goaded himself with the thought:

"If I can not accomplish anything as a blind man, I probably never would have amounted to anything as a sighted person."

His wife and two sons and the students who watch as he fingers his braille notes, know that the success of Dr. Randall H. Nelson would be a mark of distinction for a man with eyes.

Study Lamb 'Flights'

AUCKLAND — Some New Zealand meat organizations are investigating the possibility of exporting frozen lamb to the United States. It is reported that serious consideration is being given to shipping high-quality chilled lamb by air freight to the United States, particularly the West Coast.

Americans gain about 16 per cent of their total energy from dairy foods.

Grain Prices Remain Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Firm prices ruled for all grains in moderately active dealings on the board of trade today.

The market opened with good over night gains. It continued to push ahead a bit before meeting resistance. Resting orders to sell caused a slight retreat from the early highs.

Mounting concern over the situation in the Middle East provided an important prop under the market. In addition, potential export business helped wheat and soybeans while corn and oats were aided by light arrivals of cash grain.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅞ to 1¼ higher, December $2.36¼, corn ⅞ to 1¼ higher, December $1.38⅝, oats ¼ to ⅝ higher, December 69¼, rye 1¼ to 1¾ higher, December $1.56¼, soybeans 1 to 1¾ higher, November $2.48¾, and lard 10 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $11.55.

Marshall Field Dies at Age 63

Noted as Philanthropist, Millionaire and Owner of Chicago Store

NEW YORK (AP)—Marshall Field III, multimillionaire philanthropist and head of Field Enterprises, died today at New York Hospital. He was 63.

His wife Ruth was at his bedside.

Field was taken to the hospital Oct. 21. The following day he underwent brain surgery. Until today he had been described as in fair condition.

* * *

Mrs. Field said her husband had been ill for about six weeks before the operation was performed.

Field inherited one of the world's greatest fortunes—in the neighborhood of 160 million dollars—from his merchant grandfather, founder of the Chicago department store bearing his name.

Since his grandfather died in 1906, the estate was not subject to federal inheritance taxes.

As a young man, Field was interested in polo, airplanes, fox hunting, horse racing and the like, and his social set included the Prince of Wales, later the Duke of Windsor.

As he outgrew his "playboy" phase, he became deeply interested in philanthropy an social service, particularly for the welfare of children.

He expanded his enterprises and founded the Chicago Sun in 1941 as a supporter of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The newspaper challenged the strongly intrenched anti - Roosevelt Chicago Tribune, then the only morning newspaper in Chicago.

In 1942 he became sole owner of the New York tabloid PM, which he had helped to found as a stockholder in 1940.

PM, which had a strong left-of-center complexion, pioneered many innovations but was never a financial success. He sold the paper in 1946.

The Chicago Sun, later the Sun-Times, became an established newspaper in Chicago and in 1950 Field's son, actually the fourth of the family to bear the name, became its editor and publisher.

The Field Enterprises also included the book publishing firm of Simon & Schuster and Pocket Books, Inc.

During World War II, Field devoted much of his time to refugee children in America. He turned over his 1,700-acre Long Island estate, Caumsett, for an Office of War Information training school.

With its 10 miles of paved roads, landscaped gardens, airplane and boat landings, pheasant shooting grounds, tennis courts, Caumsett has been valued as high as 15 million dollars.

In 1945, Field wrote a book, "Freedom Is More Than a Word."

He once said, "I happen to have been left a great deal of money. I don't know what is going to happen to it, and I don't give a damn. If I can't make myself worthy of three square meals a day, then I don't deserve them."

Curious Cat Saved

GIG HARBOR, Wash. (AP)—Curiosity almost killed the cat. Chester Foam, curious himself as to what might be under the hood, stopped his car on the road and retrieved the family's 3-month-old Manx, Nosy, from a precarious spot between the exhaust manifold and whirring fan blades.

Car-Truck Collide—Minor Injuries Result

Two youths escaped serious injury when their car rammed the rear of a truck yesterday on South Paddock street, Pontiac police said.

Loren W. Balli, 15, the driver, and his brother, Glen, 9, both of Birmingham, were treated for minor cuts at Pontiac General Hospital.

Their car rammed the truck of Felix J. Roach, 49, of 203 Barrett St., who police say was stopped for a traffic light at Cottage street.

Stocks Lower; Big Drop in Oils

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was lower in quiet early trading today.

Pivotal issues generally were down from fractions to around a point except for oil shares representing big resources in the Middle East which took sharper losses.

The general price level backed down a bit further after an active opening on lower prices.

Both Gulf Oil and Royal Dutch were down well beyond 2 points, Brokers said that dim prospects for the prompt reopening of the Suez Canal and the outlook for a prolonged disruption of the oil supply from Middle East brought selling to these issues.

Otherwise, the list continued down on profit-taking in a continued reaction from the well-anticipated news of President Eisenhower's re-election.

Losses of a point or so were taken by Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Baltimore & Ohio and Standard Oil (New Jersey) which lost a full point at 56¾ on a block of 3,500 shares. Amerada and Texaco also lost around a point each.

LIST GAINS

United Aircraft, Zenith and Boeing posted gains.

Losses were taken by Westinghouse, General Electric, Union Carbide, New York Central, Loew's, Johns Manville and Kennecott Copper.

Among opening blocks were Royal Dutch off 3⅛ at 101 on 3,000 shares, U. S. Steel off ⅝ at 70⅞ on 2,000 General Motors off ⅜ at 46¾ on 1,000, and Bethlehem Steel off ½ at 165¼ on 1,000.

Ford Plant in Windsor to Lay Off 184 Workers

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A work layoff will affect 184 hourly-rated employes at Ford of Canada Tuesday.

General manager of the Windsor Manufacturing Division, William P. Clark, blamed the cutback on a shortage of materials from U.S. plants that has caused Canadian production of 1957 cars to fall behind schedule.

Bob Considine Says:

'Dump Nixon' Crowd Still Acts Pessimistic

NEW YORK (INS)—Somebody should get to Harold Stassen and find out if President Eisenhower would have won decisively if he had dumped Nixon last August and put his faith in Christian Herter.

Yep, it was a pretty tough squeak for Ike. Followers of the "dump Nixon" program were pretty jittery until Ike drew out toward a 10,000,000 popular vote and a nearly 400 electoral vote lead shortly after noon Wednesday. Some ran scared even with that much margin in view.

"I don't like the way Ike's moving," said one Stassen supporter at midnight. "Nixon's pulling him down 6 per cent in Anaheim, if I'm any judge."

"Right, judge," a Herter man said. "Did you notice that when Stevenson gave up he sort of hedged? He said Ike had won a vote of confidence from the American people, but you'll notice he didn't include Dick—right? Personally, I thought we were sunk then and there."

"We're not out of the woods yet," a third man remarked. "Unless this anti-Nixon vote stops coming in from Napa, Gilroy, Arcadia, Chula Vista and Milledgeville, Ga., we're not going to win the way I know we'd have won with Chris. I predict we won't win by more than 12,000,000."

* * *

The boys retired to a nearby health bar, ordered cracked corn all around, and drank a silent toast to good old Chris—who could really have put Ike across.

PHENOMENAL IKE

If Eisenhower isn't the political phenomenon of our time he'll do until one comes along. For example:

Like most West Pointers and Annapolis men, he never voted until well along in years.

His great military breaks and promotions came under Democratic administrations.

Harry S. Truman offered him the 1948 Democratic nomination. As late as 1951 he at least considered running as a Democrat, and pressures to do so were brought to bear on him by such prominent Democratic friends as George E. Allen.

Once nominated and elected as a Republican, he reorganized the party.

Though his life had been devoted to war, he became a symbol of peace with his shutdown of the Korean War, his "atoms-for-peace" plan, his performance at the summit conference in Geneva and his recent conduct in the matter of Egypt and Hungary.

HEALTH PROBLEM

He suffered a very serious heart attack just at a time when he had to make plans to run for a second term, if that was his wish.

* * *

Recovered and active again, and having regained the confidence of the voter in his ability to handle the job, Eisenhower came down with a rare intestinal disorder in June—and once again his chances of re-election tottered.

His fellow Republicans lost the Senate, House and most governorships.

So-o-o-o.

He wins like the Yanks in the seventh game of the World Series.

Sudden thought: How can Estes recover all those handshakes?

As this is written, the AAU championship for masterful restraint is still held by Harry S. Truman. It has now been many hours since Eisenhower utterly buried Stevenson under the greatest avalanche shaken loose in U.S. politics since F.D.R. interred Alf Landon 46 states to 2 in 1936.

Truman had it first, and had it right. He said real loud that this was going to happen. He went to the Chicago convention with the express purpose of stopping the swing toward Adlai.

He dangled Harriman in front of the delegates and hoped, it is said, that Stu Symington would be the compromise.

Anyway, Mr. T. has—as of this writing—ruggedly refrained from saying what must be in his tough and sometimes testy old hide:

"I told you so."

State of Democrats Is State of Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon will have a Democratic governor next year and will be represented in Congress by five Democrats and only one Republican.

The new governor will be Robert Holmes, a state senator and Astoria radio station manager, who was swept into office as voters re-elected Sen. Wayne Morse as a Democrat and gave a rousing majority to President Eisenhower.

Holmes, 47, the first Democrat elected Oregon governor since 1934 served four sessions in the State Senate, where his special interest was in the field of education.

Rep. Walter Norblad is the only Republican to survive the Democratic congressional landslide.

Rep. Edith Green, Democrat from Portland, won easily.

But Republican Rep. Sam Coon was defeated by Al Ullman, baker real estate man and an active supporter of a federal Hells Canyon Dam, and Republican Rep. Harris Ellsworth was defeated after eight successive terms, by Charles Porter, Eugene attorney.

Forrestal Leads Pack in Atlantic

Navy Cancels Maneuvers, Sends Big Force to Sea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atlantic Fleet's mightiest warships, headed by the giant carrier Forrestal, are at sea today as a result of Russia's threat to use military force in the Middle East crisis.

A navy headquarters spokesman described the big ship momements from the Norfolk, Va., base as "a preparatory measure to increase the nation's defense readiness."

Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov said in a Bolshevik Revolution anniversary speech in Moscow Russia is ready to send military forces into the Middle East. He said if the U.N. approves, they will be sent to Egypt to repel British, French and Israeli troops.

The 60,000 ton Forrestal sailed from Mayport, Fla. while the 45,000 ton carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, the heavy cruiser Des Moines and more than a dozen destroyers steamed out of Hampton Roads.

PLANS SECRET

The Navy said specific operating plans of the carrier task force are a military secret, but a spokesman said departure of the big ships caused some "modification" of the long scheduled "Lantphibex" exercises along the Atlantic seaboard.

In Norfolk, Atlantic Fleet Commander Adm. Jerrauld Wright said modification of the exercises means "terminatioin" of both the "Lantphibex" and "Duoflex," programs, the latter an air defense training operation.

These fall maneuvers, some phases of which were under way before the Middle East crisis, involved amphibious landing training with the 2nd Marine Division based at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Navy Headquarters in Washington forestalled speculation the task force might join the already powerful 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean by saying the ships will remain under direct operational control of Wright. Wright also is supreme commander of the Atlantic Alliance naval forces.

Authoritative sources said the departure of major fleet units serves the double purpose of getting the ships out to sea, ready to operate wherever needed, and to get them away from a confined harbor where they could be trapped by an atomic warfare version of Pearl Harbor.

Back to Lansing for Legislators

Special Session Called in Summer to Gather, Break Up Again

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's election-wearied legislators, including a covey of lame ducks voted out of office, met again today in their marathon special session.

They were expected to act on only a few minor matters and then quickly vote to recess and go home again.

Aides to Gov. Williams say they anticipate no special requests for legislation will come from the governor's office.

Legislative leaders also looked for a brief and routine meeting.

EXPECTS LITTLE

"I don't know of anything coming up," said Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing).

Rep. Harold W. Hungerford (R-Lansing) also said only a short meeting to clean odds and ends was expected in the House.

Democrats and Republicans in both Houses were expectee to caucus shortly after assembling at 2 p.m. to count noses and start to reorganize for next year.

Williams called the special session to ask for an increase in unemployment compensation, but Republicans contended there was no emergency. The chance of any action being taken now is nil.

'57 Mercury Prices Hiked $100 to $222

DEARBORN (INS) — Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co., today announced price increases from $100 to $222 on 1957 Mercurys.

Suggested increases average about 6.6 per cent across the line compared to 1956 price tags.

F. C. Reith, Ford vice president and Mercury general manager, said the new list prices cover many items which used to be optional. He said these include the automatic transmission with "keyboard control" on the Montclair series.

New Mercury models go on display Monday.

Headquarters Attacked to Protest Use of Force in Hungary

PARIS (AP)—A howling mob broke into Communist Party Headquarters here last night and set it afire.

The crowd, inflamed by Russia's attack on Hungarian rebels, crushed through rings of helmeted police guarding the great steel-jacketed doors of French Red headquarters and sought to destroy it.

The demonstrators, many of whom had marched from the Arch of Triumph where they attended sympathy ceremonials for Hungary, sang France's national anthem, the "Marseillaise," as they stormed the Communist building.

Young men of student age swept up, the sairs to the second floor overwhelming all who got in their way. They broke all the windows and began throwing out documents and furniture.

Studebaker Prices Boosted $46 to $164

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker - Packard Corp. has announced $46 to $164 price increases on 1957 Studebakers. Prices on 1957 Packards will be announced when models are introduced in mid-January.

Minor price cuts have been made on several optional items, including power steering, air conditioning and the power booster kit.

Factory-list price for the six-cylinder Champion custom two-door is $1,823. Prices range up to $2,433 for the four-door, V-8 station wagon.

The Silver Hawk six is up $145 to $1,954 and the Golden Hawk V-8 is up $112 to $2,912.

Former Committeemen Retire, Move Up

New Chairmen Named for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Democratic-controlled Congress convening Jan. 3 will have new chairmen of both Senate and House committees dealing with international affairs.

Otherwise President Eisenhower will be working with most of the same committee heads. Some have largely supported his efforts; others have opposed them.

Most committee chairmen in the next session again will come from the South. Southerners are in line for 8 of the 15 Senate chairmanships and 12 of the 19 House posts.

Veteran Walter George (D-Ga), dean of the Senate, is leaving that body after 34 years and thus relinquishing his job as head of the Foreign Relations Committee. It will go to 89-year-old Theodore Francis Green (D-RI), oldest man ever to serve in the Senate.

In the House, Chairman James P. Richards (D-SC) of the Foreign Affairs Committee also is retiring. Rep. Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill) is in line to succeed him.

The administration received strong support from these Democratic-led committees in the last two years on most foreign affairs questions, and can look for this generally to continue.

Also, such chairmen as Sen. Byrd (D-Va) of the Finance Committee are expected to continue their backing of the President on most issues.

Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala), chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, can be expected to fight hard for a school construction bill along the lines the administration wants, provided no antisegregation provision is attached to it.

On the other hand, administration civil rights legislation is certain to get a frigid reception from Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss), chairman of the Judiciary Committee, just as it did in the 1956 session.

But in the House, Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the Judiciary group has expressed a desire to go considerably further than the civil rights program presented this year by Eisenhower.

In addition to the committees handling foreign affairs, these two committees will have new chairmen:

* * *

House Commerce — Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) will succeed the late Percy Priest (D-Tenn).

Senate Rules — Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo) probably will succeed Green.

Voters OK Library; Defeat Ordinance

Highland again defeated the adoption of a Zoning Ordinance 715 no and 540 yes. This is the second time thta residents have rejected a proposed ordinance.

A proposed bond issue to finance a $15,000 library in Berkley was approved by 3,685 yes, to 3,389 no votes. A legal question has been raised on whether the bond issue requires a two-thirds vote.

In Huntington Woods, Mayor David Ross Calhoun was reelected. Reports from three of the four precincts gave him 1,995 votes to 778 for his opponent, Louis J. Gordon.

Farm Bureau to Study for '59 Convention

LAKE ORION — The East Orion Farm Bureau will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Goodison Township Hall for a program explaining the State Constitutional Convention for 1959, and reapportioning of our state legislature.

Refreshments will be served with The Stuart Braids, Ray Bereans, Charles Berauds in charge.

Official's Funeral Held

REED CITY (AP) — Funeral service will be held Saturday for Cecil H. Dunn, 58, who served 30 years as assistant superintendent at Ionia State Hospital before he retired two years ago because of his health. Dunn died Tuesday at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Red Newspaper Depicts Soviet Action as Heroic

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian man in the street is convinced the Soviet military action in Hungary was a heroic campaign to eradicate a threatened return of Hitlerite fascism.

The Russian papers haven't told him anything else.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda today devoted nearly three columns to the U.N. General Assembly's cease - fire demand in the Suez Canal crisis. But it allocated only a single line of its six-page edition to mention of U.N. discussion of Soviet aggression in Hungary.

The paper published a report from Prague giving "eyewitness" accounts of "crimes committed by antirevolutionary forces in Hungary."

Russian authorities have used the battle for the Suez Canal to depict the Soviet Union as a protective big brother of the downtrodden—especially in the Middle East and Asia.

The Kremlin's big problem now is to erase from the minds of people elsewhere in the world the memory of Soviet intervention in Hungary.

Weigh Charges in Hunting Death

Victim's Father-in-Law Admits Error in Aiming at Wounded Deer

TAWAS CITY (AP) — State Police planned today to confer with Arenac County authorities on whether to charge negligent handling of firearms in the fatal wounding of a deer hunter.

The victim, Earl A. Morse, 30, of Turner died yesterday of a gunshot wound in the back suffered Tuesday while shooting a deer desfroying property in Arenac County.

State Police Cpl. Edsel DuVall said Morse was shot while standing over the wounded deer. He was hunting with his father-in-law, John Wells of Turner, and R. C. Baxter of Au Gres.

DuVal said Baxter admits firing the fatal shot as the deer tried to get back to its feet.

Baxter was released after making a statement, but DuVal said he will confer with the county prosecutor's office on whether to file charges.

Dems Seek to Oust New York's Javits

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York state Democrats are expected to move Jan. 3 to oust U.S. Sen-elect Jacob K. Javits as the state's attorney general.

Javits plans to keep the job until Jan. 9, when the GOP-controlled State Legislature convenes and could then appoint his successor.

The new Congress convenes Jan. 3.

There's a possibility Gov. Averrell Harriman will appoint a new attorney general Jan. 3, the Legislature will do likewise Jan. 9 and the final decision will be made in the courts.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WOULD LIKE TO EXPRESS our appreciation for the loving acts of kindness, floral offerings and messages extended to us in our recent bereavement in the loss of Leon J. Tabatio. A special thanks is extended to Rev. B. F. Jarvembowski of St. Joseph Church. The Pallbearers and Pursley Funeral Home. Mrs. Leon J. Tabatio and Family.

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR thanks and much appreciation to ou. friends and neighbors during the recent bereavement of our husband and father, Milburn M. Portson. A special thanks to Rev. Robert Garner, Rev. Gilbert Adams, and Mr. Claude McGruder, the members of the First Genera. Baptist Church, also to Pontiac Motor Division, Plants 5 and 8. To employes of Central Lincoln Mercury and to Smith-Brace Funeral Home for their kind and thoughtful service. Mrs. Ora Bell Portson and family

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR thanks and much appreciation to our friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement of our husband, father and son, Herbert Padfield. Our special thanks to Rev. Walter C. Gerken for his comforting words. To the pallbearers and to the Sparks-Griffin funeral home for their kind acts—Mrs. Herbert Padfield and family.

In Memoriam 2

CANTERBURY — In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Charles E. Canterbury who passed away Nov. 8th, 1953.
Deep in my heart lies a picture,
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memories frame I shall keep it.
Because she was one of the best.
Sadly missed by her daughter, Lucile C. Fitzpatrick

DE JAGER — IN LOVING MEMory of our mother Sidonie De Jager who passed away two years ago Nov. 9, 1954
We laugh with the world
but never forget,
In our memory of gardens
you are with us yet.
Silent thoughts of you bring many a tear
Though gone from this world, to us you're still near.
Sadly missed by sons and daughters, B. Budwit; C. & J. De Jager.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Claude (Happy) Kirkham who died Nov. 8, 1953.
There is a link
death cannot sever:
Love and remembrance
last forever.
Sadly missed by wife, Mildred and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOHN H. Stanton who passed away one year ago today, Nov. 7.
Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heartache nothing can heal.
Some may forget now that you're gone,
But we will remember no matter how long.
Sadly missed by your sister, Mr and Mrs. Donald Henson and Family.

Liz Taylor Is AWOL to See Her New Mike

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Ten cops slipped into waiters' jackets and mingled with the crowd at the Copacabana after a mysterious phone call warned that the club would be bombed at 12:20 A. M. And a police disaster squad waited outside. Nothing happened—except Nat (King) Cole did great business . . . A little gal tells us Jimmy Durante will have George Raft as his nightly "mystery guest" when he plays the Copa. (Last year 'twas Peter Lawford.)

LIZ

Liz Taylor went AWOL from her Hollywood studio and flew here to see her next husband, Mike Todd . . . Cigar-puffing Darryl Zanuck put down his Havana and did a neat dance with Montreal beauty Simone Auger, one of Jackie Gleason's Glea Girls . . . A TV film revealing Garry Moore with more than his undies showing is the cause of much hilarity at a big ad agency. 'Twas an accident that didn't get on the air, only on film . . . Jayne Mansfield's being sued for $10,000 for damage her dog-and-cat menagerie allegedly did to a hotel.

Ed Murrow said to Joe E. Lewis after Person to Person: "Joe, you drink quite a lot." Replied Joe: "If I drank as much as you smoke, I'd have drowned years ago."

Prince Rainier laughed louder'n anybody at the pregnant woman scene when he and Grace saw "Auntie Mame" . . . Liz Scott, Elvis Presley's probable next leading lady, says: "I saw a new test he made and he's so talented, he'll be around for a long time."

The Tommy Dorsey-Janie New splitualation is real bitter with Tommy having gone to Tobacco Heir Dick Reynolds for counsel . . . They say Tommy's fond of a beautiful secretary.

Gifted Rowan and Martin, the Copa comedians, tell about an unusual sanitarium for alcoholics in Philadelphia. "The doctors drink, the nurses drink, the patients drink," they say. "They don't cure any alcoholics—but the time just flies!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jackie Gleason sent a truckload of beaten-up furniture from a CBS storehouse to Producer Jack Philbin's new apartment as a gag—while Philbin was moving yet . . . Joan Crawford's sending Christmas greetings already explaining: "Alfred and I don't know where we'll be Christmas!"

Mrs. Joey Adams asked Mrs. Toots Shor why they don't see Europe. "The only place I can ever go," groaned Mrs. S, "is where the Giants train" . . . Now that Zane Grey's a hit on TV 17 years after his death, Publisher Clay Littick of Zanesville, O., plans a Zane Grey Museum. . . . Jack Warden, the heavy in "A Very Special Baby," may be the B'way-actor-of-the-year.

Joe DiMaggio flew to L.A. to see Joe Jr. play football . . . Aly Khan'll be in Palm Springs the same time Gene Tierney'll be there . . . Lana Turner arrives in N.Y. without husband but with press agent.

Duo: Michael Redgrave and Buff Cobb . . . Victor Mature's getting too noisy at London parties.

Earl's Pearls . . .

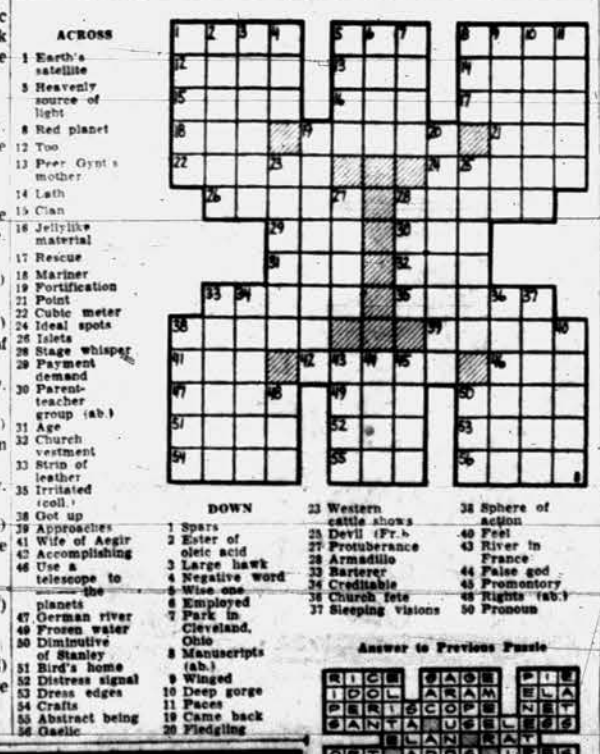

Middle age is when you can do just as much as ever, but would rather not.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bandleader Herb Sherry says TV's giving him ulcers—because he's not working on it.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A good marriage is like a good handshake; there is no upper hand."—Arthur Kent.

Ricky Lane suspects his butcher is using phony scales: "The other day I didn't buy anything—and it weighed six pounds." That's earl, brother.

$64,000 Quiz Irked at Ratings

Jane Morgan to Star With Jonathan Winters on November 13

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Bob Hope and Perry Como exchange guest shots. Hope bobs up on Perry's Saturday show, Perry on Bob's Nov. 18 . . .

"The $64,000 Question" is mad at the rating systems, claiming its one slump from the pinnacle was the result of following a political broadcast which lost its audience in advance . . .

Jane Morgan stars with NBC-TVer Jonathan Winters Nov. 13, as will Roger Williams . . .

Chet Huntley on NBC news not only talks like Ed Murrow but his news setup is a cross between "See It Now" and "Person to Person" (talking to a screen, etc.) . . .

Bob Crosby's afternoon shows, which used to be pure entertainment, have fallen for the maudlin stuff and have started a "good guy" gimmick involving handicapped persons and those who've helped them. Isn't this an invasion of "Strike It Rich" and other tearful banalities? . . .

'MAMA' ON FILM

When "Mama" returns Dec. 16 she'll be on film, darn it.

Vincent Price's two $32,000 prize-winnings raised his movie price and catapulted his demand among casting bosses . . .

Groucho's stand on the biggest jittering subject: "You don't have to see Elvis Presley to dislike him."

CBS-TV is training eight deep-sea divers as cameramen for its Jan. 6 premiere of "Odyssey." (Union!)

We love Alfred Hitchcock's titles better than his TV dramas. Nov. 18 will be "Conversation Over a Corpse." Love Hitch himself; and in fact we love the star of the Nov. 18 film, Dorothy Stickney, one of the theater's great and lovely ladies . . .

SWITCHES IN BRASS

Robert Kintner, ex-ABC president, joins NBC Jan. 1 as an exec veep . . . J. L. Van Volkenburg, CBS-TV president, hands in his key to the executive suite as of Jan. 1 . . . Merle S. Jones succeeds . . .

Now it's Lawrence Welk nightclub comics are imitating . . . Is that imitation the sincerest form of flattery or the flattest form of sincerity? . . . All we know is, Liberace got it last year.

As we said weeks ago, 20th Century-Fox turns over its 390 old movies to the National Telefilm Network and acquires 50 per cent of the stock of same . . .

Marc Daniels, who used to produce-direct "I Love Lucy," is new director of programs for Theater Network Television, the closed-circuit TV system.

Tax Hike Voted Down

SHELBY TOWNSHIP (AP)—A tax increase of 2.5 mills to operate a police department was turned down 1,826 to 199. Another tax proposal calling for a quarter-mill hike to support the Utica Library was defeated 1,296 to 1,134.

Voters OK Security

LINCOLN PARK (AP)—Voters overwhelmingly adopted proposals to include city employes in a social security program and to increase the civil service board from three to five members.

Death Car Described

FLINT (AP) — Sgt. James K. MacDonald has issued a partial description of a hit-run car that killed Mrs. Anna Daly of nearby Clio Sunday night. MacDonald said the vehicle was a recent model painted mist green with a damaged front end and a possible broken headlight. He urged garages throughout Michigan to notify State Police if they see any car of that description.

The American Bible society dates back to 1816.

Three Hunters Jailed

FLINT (AP) — Three Flint men have been jailed and a fourth fined in connection with charges of illegally killing, possessing and transporting a deer. In Genesee county jail for five days are James Carper, 22; Barnice Barfield, 26; and Robert Hollwey, 27. Fined $100 was Earl Schlegel, 48.

New Jersey hired 4,625 new school teachers in 1955-56, twice as many new ones as employed 5 years ago.

Notified of Air Death

STURGIS (AP)—Mayor Leo Yoder of Sturgis said Tuesday he had received official notification of the death of his son, Air Force Capt. Keith Yoder, 35, in a plane crash Oct. 22 off the coast of Spain. Capt. Yoder was flying from Barcelona, Spain, to Madrid when the crash occurred. He is survived by his father, his wife Jean, of Sturgis, and two children.

There are about 6,500 hospitals in the U. S.

Ingham Official Dies

MASON (AP) — Hubert R. Bullen, a long-time member of the Ingham County Board of Supervisors, died Tuesday at a Lansing hospital. He was 78. Bullen served as county treasurer from 1923 to 1932.
