Reveal New Polio Vaccine Process

Pontiac Press Photo

CHECKING MONKEY — Parke, Davis and Company's Rochester plant is going into mass production of a polio vaccine under a new process, it was revealed yesterday. Here staff members Harry Kowalewski and Frank Bonkowski give a monkey an identifying tattoo and check its health in the plant's process of making vaccine.

Reveal New Process in Polio Vaccine Work

By JANICE HAYHOW

A new process for killing polio virus in the production of the vaccine was revealed yesterday by Parkdale Farm in Rochester.

The new operation involves a modified method of inactivating poliomyelitis virus through a combination of irradiation and formaldehyde. Officials say that tests show it to be safe and effective consistently.

The news was revealed by Dr. Fred D. Stimpert, director of the drug firm's microbiological research, who said that the National Institutes of Health in Washington gave the go-ahead for release of one million shots, Feb. 21. At present the firm is producing about two million doses weekly.

"Consistency and security in production" come with the new method of operation, Dr. Stimpert said.

Parke Davis, a major producer of the polio vaccine withdrew voluntarily from the market last June pending research on this new process.

Newsmen were given a complete tour of the Parkdale Farm, which is operated by a staff of 200. Production was slowed temporarily as the visitors were taken from one department to another, observing the complicated and careful methods required in making polio vaccine.

Monkeys figure high in vaccine production. Kidneys from monkeys are used to grow the three types of poliomyelitis virus. A shipment of 1600 Rhesus monkeys arrives every three weeks from India. Cynomolgus monkeys from the Philippines are also used. Final

St. Clair River Collision Sinks 504 Foot Freighter

DETROIT (AP)—Two Great Lakes freighters crashed in the St. Clair River entrance to Lake St. Clair last night.

One sank and the other went aground, but only one of approximately 70 crewmen was injured severely enough to require medical aid.

Down, with its decks awash was the 504-foot A. M. Byers, downbound with a load of dolomite (limestone). Damaged severely and anchored to shore was the E. M. Ford, a 406-foot cement carrier for the Huron Transportation Co.

Wenta said he had started from bed to deck when he was clobbered by a free-swinging door as the ships collided.

The Byers settled to the bottom in 17 minutes. The Ford careened about out of control, but finally was able to get balky anchors down, and the Coast Guard eventually made her fast to shore.

The tug Atomic put lines aboard the Ford early today and prepared to haul the crippled vessel

Summerfield Discloses End of Local Survey

Will Start Construction 'Within Few Months,' Says Official

Pontiac Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said today he has received a call from U. S. Postmaster General Arthur H. Summerfield promising a start on construction of a new postal building for Pontiac "within a very few months."

A building location survey for the Pontiac office has now been completed, Summerfield said. The survey was the apparent bottleneck in the project, promised by Summerfield Feb. 9.

"He said we have top priority, and there will be real estate men from the department in the city, perhaps by the middle of next week," Dean said yesterday.

WILL EXAMINE SITES

Owners of a site recommended to the Post Office Department by Dean have set a June 1 deadline on the sale, Dean said recently. He feared the uncompleted survey would block the transaction.

At a conference with Dean and U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero in Washington Feb. 9, Summerfield agreed with Dean that Pontiac's biggest need is for a mail-handling building providing adequate space to process parcel post and allowing mail-carrying vehicles to move in and out with ease.

Reduction of functions and space requirements of the present building will relieve traffic congestion in the area and in the building, officials agreed.

PROMISED ANNOUNCEMENT

Summerfield promised a site announcement in 60 to 90 days. He said competitive bids will be taken and a private investor selected to finance the structure. On completion it will be leased by the government.

Washington officials said the new warehouse will probably not be located in downtown Pontiac. They visualized an outlying site on comparatively cheap land, outside the main business section but near a trunk line.

"There is no question of Pontiac's need, and we intend to do everything possible to expedite the project," Summerfield said. "You can rest assured Pontiac will get special attention."

Dems 'Excited' About Soil Plan

Party Trying to Raise Program Funds Before Authorizing It

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Hallack (R-Ind) said today House Democrats are "getting a little excited" in trying to provide money for a soil bank program before authorizing it.

Halleck, assistant GOP House leader, referred to action of the House Appropriations Committee yesterday in approving a $1,200,000,000 emergency appropriations for soil bank payments to farmers this year.

Many Democrats have contended the administration already has ample legal authority to set up the program, and it was on that basis that the committee acted.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has contended just as strongly that "we cannot put the soil bank program into operation without new legislation."

He called the proposed appropriation a "gold brick," and said the committee "put the cart before the horse" in voting the money first.

Voting money for a soil bank "without giving us the authority to spend it for the soil bank certainly won't help our farmers," Benson said in a statement.

Congress had approved the soil bank plan asked by President Eisenhower as part of an omnibus farm bill which Eisenhower vetoed Monday. It would have authorized payments to farmers for taking land out of production, as one means of reducing crop surpluses and raising farm income.

Reunion for Margaret and Fiance

AP Wirephoto

As Margaret's Wedding Day Nears

Independence in Spotlight

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Tranquil, old-fashioned Independence takes over today where Monaco left off—as a center of romantic interest for people the world over.

Tomorrow afternoon, in a far more subdued atmosphere and in a vastly simpler setting, Margaret exchanges vows with Clifton Daniel Jr., assistant foreign editor of the New York Times.

Guests started to arrive today for the wedding at the tiny Trinty Episcopal Church a few blocks from the old Truman family home on North Delaware street.

TRUMAN NOT TALKING

The ex-President himself steered clear of political and other controversies lest something he might say could upset the tranquility of events leading up to the marriage of his only child, 32-year-old Margaret.

A great deal of secrecy surrounded the preparations. The guest list wasn't available to the score or more of correspondents here to cover the event.

The whole idea, as the former President emphasized it to reporters, is to keep the wedding as solemn, as serious, and as much of a family affair as possible, with a minimum of pomp and theatrics.

Daniel flew in yesterday from New York. Margaret was on hand to greet him at the municipal airport in nearby Kansas City.

Daniel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Daniel, are coming in today from Zebulon, N.C., to join their son as house guests of the Trumans.

There will be a rehearsal at the church today, and a big wedding party dinner tonight at the Kansas City Club.

Mrs. Ruth Gant, chief deputy for the recorder of deeds, went to the Truman home and issued the marriage license yesterday.

City Has One Fatality So Far During 1956, Compared to 5 in '55

Pointing to a perfect traffic record the last two days, Pontiac Police hailed the announcement by the National Safety Council that the city's safety achievement so far this year ranks it second among 93 comparable cities.

Wednesday and Thursday there were no injuries or accidents in which a car could not be driven away, the police Traffic and Safety Bureau stated, although minor mishaps where bumper struck bumper were reported.

Such incidents are not included in the city's traffic record, however, police said.

Only one person has died in Pontiac traffic this year, a bureau report states, as compared with five deaths at this time last year.

As of April 1, some 125 persons had been injured in 308 accidents. These figures compare with 137 persons injured in 297 accidents during the first three months of 1955.

Police continue to list these main causes of accidents: Failure to grant right of way, following too closely, driving while under the influence of liquor and speeding.

Haze Envelops Honeymoon Craft of Royal Couple

The luxurious vessel, "Deo Juvante II," vanished in the Mediterranean as it steamed over the horizon heading south from Ville-Franche and Monaco.

The month-long wedding trip will take the girl from Philadelphia and the scion of the Grimaldi family to Rome, and probably to the Isle of Capri and other romantic ports on the Mediterranean.

The moody groom and his film star bride spent their first night alone together aboard the yacht just 100 yards offshore from Rainier's villa, "Iberia," after sailing only 12 miles on the choppy sea from the still joy-filled Monaco, scene of their festive wedding.

To Start Fluoridation

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Richard Daley announced last night that fluoridation of Chicago water used south of Pershing Road and in 33 suburbs will begin May 1. The program is to be extended to the remainder of the city and other suburbs on July 1. Addition of fluorides to the city's water to fight tooth decay was approved by the city council last year.

Warmer Weather Pontiac Prediction

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts tomorrow will be a little warmer with the temperature reaching 55-59 degrees. The low tonight will be near 30.

Sunday will be a little cooler, otherwise little change in temperature. Brief showers may occur Sunday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. was 30. The mercury rose to 44 at 2 p.m.

8 Firms Submit Low Estimates; Study Launched

Architect Will Report to Pontiac Commission After Analysis

Bids received yesterday for the $3,000,000 addition to Pontiac General Hospital went above the $4 million mark in an unofficial tabulation of the low bids.

With eight of the nine part bids included, the total low bids amounted to $4,052,144. These are base bids only, and do not take into consideration at least 10 alternates.

Architect Leo J. Heenan, who designed the wing, said this morning that he could not have the official tabulation submitted to the City Commission before May 1. They were originally scheduled for submission next week.

Heenan added that he and his staff will work to consider the many alternates and arrive at a total cost of the wing, which Pontiac voters approved $3,000,000 for in 1954.

"With some figuring I feel that we can still build the first class hospital we need in the city," Heenan said.

OPENED YESTERDAY

The bids were opened yesterday afternoon by Heenan before a packed group of bidders in the City Commission chambers in the City Hall.

All bids will remain unofficial until tabulated by Heenan.

In architectural trade bids, Darin & Armstrong, Inc. of Detroit was low bidder with $2,059,000. A fifth floor alternate is estimated to knock $67,700 off this bid if not included in the plans.

Two builders, Barton-Malow Co. and O. W. Burke Co., submitted the only combined bids for architectural, mechanical, and electrical trades. The first bid amounted to $3,821,449 while the latter bid was $3,653,000.

A tabulation of eight high bids showed a total cost of $5,009,609, less all the 10 alternates to be taken into consideration in reaching the final tabulation.

House Unit Cuts Overseas Funds

25 Million Sliced From President's Request for Propaganda Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut 25 million dollars from President Eisenhower's request for the government's overseas propaganda program.

It also refused to approve money sought by the Justice Department to build two new prisons and criticized a State Department proposal to buy an unspecified number of "executive wastebaskets" at $27 each.

The committee said it "would be a wasteful aberration" to give the U. S. Information Agency the entire 135 millions requested for the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

MORE THAN '55

The 110 millions it recommended for USIA—which handles the propaganda program—is $22,663,370 more than the agency received this year.

The committee approved the full amount sought for USIA radio broadcasting programs, known as the Voice of America, but specifically rejected a request for $3,790,500 to fit out an aircraft carrier for use as a floating theater equipped to show Cinerama, a new movie technique.

The USIA funds were included in a $451,367,372 bill to finance the State and Justice departments, the judiciary and the USIA. The committee's recommendations are subject to action by the full House and Senate. House consideration is scheduled for next week.

The total recommended is $36,802,448 less than Eisenhower sought for all the agencies but is $46,794,137 more than they received for the current year.

They're Broke . . . but Wear Tails, Top Hats

'Elegant' GIs Crash Royal Festivities

MONTE CARLO (INS) — Three top hats, tails and a friendly "bon soir" were all three GIs needed to hobnob with international society during Monaco's wedding festivities.

The soldiers are Pfc. Tom Jones, of Philadelphia, Pfc. Philip J. Leahy of St. Louis, Mo., and Pfc. Al Lowenstein of Chapel Hill, N. C. All are stationed in Germany.

They crashed the gala opera ballet at Monte Carlo's famous Casino last weekend and also the cathedral wedding.

The GIs rented top hats and tails at a shop in Frankfurt and drove to Nice. They arrived almost broke.

They donned white ties and tails and walked into the Casino unchallenged. They mingled with swanky Monaco society and visiting celebrities at the ballet gala given by Greek shipowner Aristotle Onassis in honor of Prince Rainier and the film beauty who became his wife.

After the show, the soldiers went to the chic Casino cabaret bar where they drank and chatted with the guests, including ex-King Farouk of Egypt. Then they danced with lots of pretty girls until dawn.

While a number of harassed newsmen pleaded futilely for invitations to the religious wedding ceremony, the invitation-less GIs strolled into the cathedral unhindered.

The trio followed the wedding guests to the palace reception where they conversed with Ava Gardner, Rita Gam and others; had champagne and caviar on the Prince. The three agreed the food and wine were "excellent."

"It was a beautiful wedding," said Jones. "We think the Prince was the luckiest guy in the world."

They said they decided to come to the wedding celebration because they admired Grace so much. Jones explained:

"The first thing we did was to leave our cameras in the car so we wouldn't look like tourists."

School Pay Plan Gets County OK

Board Ups Increments, but Starting Salaries Stay the Same

The Oakland County Board of Education in a short meeting yesterday established a new salary schedule for next year in the county schools and awarded contracts of employment.

The salary schedule decided upon, according to Dr. William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools, is as follows:

For teachers with bachelor degrees, starting salary is $4,300 which will raise in eight steps of $300 each to $6,700.

For persons with master degrees, the starting salary will be $4,500 and will raise in nine steps of $300 to $7,200, Dr. Emerson said.

The starting salaries are the same as last year, Dr. Emerson pointed out, "but the board raised the increments from $250 to the $300.

The contracts for employment were for staff members and certain replacements necessary for the next year, Dr. Emerson added.

A graduate of Wayne University and the Detroit College of Law, Taylor took special courses designed for prosecuting attorneys at Northwestern School of Law and the Law Institute of New York City.

The resignation of his chief investigator, Robert C. Miller, was announced yesterday "with very real regret" by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

James E. Nichols, formerly a court clerk in circuit, will fill the vacancy.

"I'm extremely sorry to see him go," Ziem said of Miller yesterday. "His work has been more than excellent. The staff joins me in wishing him all the best in his new position."

Miller will become assisant Cadillac sales manager with Jerome Motor Sales Co. Monday.

"My four years with Mr. Ziem's staff have been a wonderful experience," Miller said. "I shall always feel a great pride that I have been privileged to serve the people of Oakland County as chief investigator."

City Lions Club Opens Campaign to Assist Blind

Gov. Williams has proclaimed the week of April 22-28 as "White Cane Week" in the state in dedication to the idea of special consideration of the blind.

The money collected by the girls tomorrow and by 100 club members will go towards providing white canes free for the blind and for a sight conservation program.

The Pontiac organization has made the drive an annual event ever since the Lions Clubs of Michigan took an interest in the welfare of the blind as a club project.

Editors Think Veto Will Help Ike, GOP

WASHINGTON (INS) — Most newspaper editors feel that President Eisenhower's veto of the controversial farm bill was a good thing, and that the action will help him politically in many sections of the country.

* * *

Most of those interviewed at the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors discounted the idea that the veto will have a particularly bad effect on the GOP ticket next November.

* * *

The prevailing opinion was that Americans will admire the President's courage and that there will be an adverse reaction only in certain areas.

City Hospital Budget Boosted by $180,303

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night unanimously adopted the 1956 budget of $3,054,002 for the hospital.

This amounts to an increase of $180,303 over the 1955 budget, operating at 110 per cent of occupancy, of $2,873,699.

A pay boost, which took effect last December for hospital employes, is expected to amount to an estimated $160,975 increase in salaries paid this year. Last year, salaries totaled $2,005,937.

Reveal New Process for Polio Vaccine

tests are also given on the monkeys.

The monkeys are examined, given identifying tattoos, and tested for disease. The healthy monkey kidney tissue is treated with an enzyme solution and then put in bottles to grow the virus. This takes from five to seven days.

The mechanical sterilizer that assists the formaldehyde in the inactivating process is called a Centri-Filmer and was developed by Dr. Frank Oppenheimer of the Michael Reese Research Foundation in Chicago.

The machine looks something like a coffee urn. Six ultra violet tubes come down the center of the unit and destroy any virus remaining in the vaccine. The machine is controlled electronically.

The whole process, Dr. Stimpert said, takes from 90 to 120 days. About two or three lots are now being completed per week.

Harry J. Loynd, president of the firm, said "We hope to get release of 10 million cubic centimeters by the end of June, then an additional 10 million units between July 1 and Sept. 30 and another 10 million by Dec. 31.

3 Utah Miners Rescued; Workers Seeking Fourth

SUNNYSIDE, Utah (AP)—Rescue crews freed today three men entombed for up to 44 hours in a coal mine cave-in.

* * *

Workmen continued efforts to reach a fourth man also caught in the avalanche of rock and stone. It was not known whether he still is alive.

The rescued miners trapped when the roof of the mine collapsed Wednesday at 1:40 p.m., lay pinned beneath mining machinery without food or water during their entombment.

Rescuers first reached LaVell Golding, 42, father of four from Wellington, Utah, at 4 a.m. They next plucked out Joe Archuletta, 43, Dragerton, father of two, at 5:55 a.m.

* * *

The third out, at 8 a.m., was Lloyd Allen Heath, 36, Sunnyside, the father of five. The remaining miner is Joseph Otterstrom, 58, father of seven, also from Sunnyside.

The mine, owned by Kaiser Coal Co., is 125 miles southeast of Salt Lake City and 25 miles east of Price.

"I thought they would never get me," Heath said as rescuers brought him from the mine tunnel, which runs laterally into a mountain.

"PRAYED ALL THE TIME"

"I prayed all the time I was under the coal. When I heard them take the other two out (Golding and Archuletta) I prayed all the harder."

Doctors quickly checked the three after workmen hustled them to the Sunnyside Hospital. They reported them all in good condition.

Golding and Archuletta huddled beneath a loader machine. Heath dived for shelter beneath the boom of the continuous miner machine.

"Tons of coal came falling down on the boom and I saw it falling all around me," Heath said.

"And then everything was quiet. Then I started to pray. I didn't think I had any chance of living at all. I had no idea how long I was under the coal.

* * *

"Then I slept for awhile and then I was awakened by a tapping sound and I knew it must be somebody coming to my rscue."

IN TIGHT PINCH

Golding and Archuletta, beneath the loader machine, could move only a few inches. Doctors fed them hot soup and milk as they arrived at the hospital.

* * *

* * *

The rescue crews crawled along the top of the jumbled rock mass which choked the tunnel when it fell. When the workmen found where the men lay buried, they drilled down and eventually uncovered the grimy men.

Heath said "I certainly got hungry and thirsty. I'm certainly going to have a steak the first chance I get."

* * *

Even as the rescuers struggled with the cave-in, Otto A. Wiesley, chairman of the Utah Industrial Commission, promised a "complete and thorough investigation."

Wiesley said "there apparently is no evidence of negligence on anyone's part."

to the Great Lakes Engineering Co. in Detroit.

A ferry that plies between the mainland and Harsens Island in the St. Clair River plucked the 38-man crew off the Byers. The Ford's crew stuck it out.

Within two hours some 25 freighters were blocked from using the channel between the lake and river. Some of those downbound were ordered to backtrack and go into Lake Michigan, delivering their ores or other steel ingredients to Chicago or nearby ports.

HALT ALL TRAFFIC

The Coast Guard halted all traffic for the night. A spokesman said, however, there appeared to be enough room in the channel to permit ships to pass in single file. He said traffic probably would be resumed today.

The Byers is operated by the Reiss Steamship Co., of Sheboygan, Wis., the Ford by the Huron Cement Co., of Detroit. The latter was upbound unloaded.

Mrs. Jim Yax, wife of the Harsens Island fire chief, said the collision was so terrific that it rattled dishes in her home, a mile away.

SAULT STE. MARIE—Ice began jamming up against the Soo locks today, creating a new problem in the battle to free the bottled-up fleet.

All passages through the locks were reported halted on the fourth day of one of the greatest St. Marys River spring tieups in years.

The slush ice swept downriver to jam the lock entrance as the Coast Guard permitted more of the more powerful lake freighters to leave the stalled fleet.

Concern now is being felt for the food and fuel supplies of smaller boats caught in the big ice jam tieup.

FRANK E. BALDWIN

Service Held Today for Frank E. Baldwin

Funeral service for Frank E. Baldwin, former Sylvan Lake city council member, was held in Venice, Fla., today, following his death there Wednesday. Burial was in Venice.

Baldwin was serving his third term on the Sylvan Lake council, after receiving a vacancy appointment in 1948.

* * *

Active in numerous Pontiac area organizations, he was a member of the Pontiac City Club, the Elks Lodge, Sylvan Lake Yacht Club, the Rotary Club and All Saints Episcopal Church among his activities.

Surviving are his widow, Florence, a daughter, Mrs. Wallace Riley, and two granddaughters, all of Pontiac.

The family has requested that in lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Venice, Fla., Memorial Hospital Fund.

Preacher Uses Puppets to Depict Stories of Bible

* * *

The project, now a major one, began when the pastor of the Hemenway Memorial Presbyterian Church at Boonville was a child in St. Louis.

He went without lunch to buy a hand puppet. As a young man working for an Illinois Sunday School educational program he again used puppets to illustrate Bible stories.

He then spent hundreds of hours making marionettes — puppets on strings — to present the story of the Nativity while he was a pastor at Logansport, Ind.

He and his wife, Rose, worked together in that first Biblical production, and continue to work as co-producers.

The minister recalled that his first marionettes required about 85 hours to make.

The Day in Birmingham

Summer Camp Program Moving Into High Gear

BIRMINGHAM — Camping for youth this summer is in active planning stage, with five camps taking reservations through the YMCA, and the "Y" planning its own "Day Camp" program.

Waiting lists have formed for Camps Nissokone and Hayo-Went-Ha, according to Y officials. But three camping periods are open yet at Camp Ohiyesa and two periods at Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See. Stays at Battle Creek Board of Education Camp at Clear Lake are also arranged at the local YMCA.

Totem poles decorate the brochures being mailed Monday to describe the day camp program, which opens June 18 and runs for nine weeks through Aug. 17.

Monday through Friday, the sessions are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. with boys and girls of eight years or older registering for any number of weeks. Pick-up service at Birmingham schools can be arranged.

Swimming, horseback riding, crafts, field trips, boating, nature study, a Bob-Lo trip, and three overnites are planned for the 60 youngsters who can "camp" each week, according to director George Ewing. He will be replaced by Edwin Kirbert for August direction.

Wayne Accepts Seat on Road Study Group

Detroit Councilman Edward Connor, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, announced today that Wayne County has joined Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties in forming the proposed Inter-County Highway Commission.

The commission will prepare a master plan for highways in the five-county area.

The Inter-County Committee, Connor said, has appropriated $7,000 to cover administrative costs. The commission, made up of supervisors of participating counties and the State Highway Commissioner, will hold its first meeting in two weeks, he said.

A discussion of procedure for activating the group is scheduled for the next meeting of the Inter-County Committee April 26.

Rocket Accident Kills British Testing Officer

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—A British scientific officer in charge of trials at the Woomera rocket range died today of injuries received in an explosion.

The testing officer, James Edward Lister, and nine other technicians were injured when a missile being prepared for firing exploded prematurely yesterday.

Tel-Huron--Story of Success, Civic Aims

The concept that a shopping center is a cold, efficient place where pursuit of the dollar is the only objective is belied by the attitude at Tel-Huron where business and community service intermingle as one.

Such is the sentiment recently expressed on behalf of the busy center's 16 merchants by Fred J. Niedelson, president of the Tel-Huron Assn., in a backward look at two years of progress.

At the same time, Niedelson revealed that the cluster of modern stores is currently doing an annual business of between $6 and $7 million, a substantial climb from the spring of 1954 when it was a struggling, young shopping community.

The westside center will climax a 10-day celebration of its second anniversary tomorrow with an 8 p.m. prize drawing.

"We feel that we've come a long way in becoming a part of the neighborhood," Niedelson observed. "While not all the stores are locally owned, all of the owners want to be assimilated in the community."

Giant strides in this direction have been made in such Association-sponsored projects as lending the large parking lot to civic organizations for displays and providing space for chest X-ray units.

The lot will also be the site of this year's "Junior Road-E-O," sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to promote safety among teenage drivers.

Many of the merchants are also among the leaders in various community-betterment projects and fund campaigns.

Niedelson also feels that the center has been the inspiration for increased business activity in adjoining areas. "There's no doubt about it—the corner has mushroomed in the past two years. We look for it to get even bigger."

As for Tel-Huron's own expansion plans, Niedelson points to the south end of the shopping area where there is still room for at least one large business establishment.

Business places lying within the project include Cunningham Drugs, Winkelman's, Osmun's Town & Country Shop, Fred Sanders (confectionery), Kresge's, United Shirt distributors, Wrigley's, Linda Lee, The Shoe Box, Boston Store, French Glo Cleaners, Myer's Jewelry, Murray Sisters Beauty Shop, Hilda's Dress Shop, Sew 'N Save, and the Wonderland Shop.

This spring marked the first time that all 16 shops have been occupied, Niedelson said. The current celebration, besides observing the second anniversary, also is a signal of achievement in the reaching of the latter milestone, Niedelson stated.

"We feel that the public has joined us in our jubilant mood. The past week, despite the weather, has had almost a festival air here."

The final event tomorrow night will feature a drawing during which a family of three will be chosen for a trip to California's "Disneyland."

Town Boasts Not 1 Resident

Rich Canadian Area Has 2 Major Industries, Mayor and Police

OJIBWAY, Ont. (AP)—Did you ever hear of a prosperous town without a single resident? That is the strange distinction of this Windsor suburb which boasts two major industries, 40 residential streets, a mayor and council and a police force.

The most residents it ever had was a few more than 30.

Mayor A. H. MacQuarrie says Ojibway is doomed to annexation by its land-hungry neighbors but the kill, with its $1,300,000 assessment booty, isn't going to be easy.

Both Windsor and the adjoining suburb of Sandwich West have been working for years on plans for complete annexation or partition between the two. The city recently renewed its attack.

Mayor MacQuarrie says both are "only concerned with their own interests." The town wants a fair deal, too, he says.

Ojibway isn't a ghost town, it's a town that never lived. For more than half a century speculators have seen it as a booming industrial community but residential development never got beyond streets and sewers.

U. S. STEEL FIRST

When U. S. Steel and other companies first cast their eyes on the five-square-mile tract along the Detroit River in the early 1900's, locals predicted it would be the nation's steel capital.

But another 30 years passed bestarted the town's first major industry.

Canadian Steel and the Canadian Rock Salt Co. today are the main taxpayers. With several minor industries, including telephone, telegraph, railway and gas pipeline concerns, they pay $70,000 a year.

There are no little feet or rocking chairs in Ojibway but it pays generously towards education costs of surrounding municipalities and contributes to upkeep of the county Home for the Aged.

NAMED BY PROVINCE

Mayor and council at present are named by the province because they lack an electorate. At times the population has passed the 30 mark but the mayor says there now isn't a single citizen.

Town officials are employes of the industries and town land all is company-owned. The police force is made up of plant guards.

A 1953 move by the two adjoining municipalities to take over the town ended in stalemate before the Ontario Municipal Board. But this time Windsor is determined to succeed.

Ojibway officials say they are reconciled to losing their town. But if it's a one-sided deal, lack of an army won't prevent them fighting.

FBI Nabs Suspect

NORTHVILLE (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced Thursday the arrest here of Howard Soto, 21, of New York, wanted in Medicine Bob, Wis., on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution on an armed robbery charge. Soto had been working in this Detroit suburb as a horse trainer and tree trimmer.

GOP Blasted by Hare on Sheriff Apology

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare fired back today at a Republican demand that he apologize to sheriffs, saying his criticism indulged in a "recognized campaign technique."

* * *

The secretary, who has general supervision over driver licensing, had said that some sheriffs were not taking their duties in actual licensing of drivers seriously enough, and were primarily responsible if incompetent drivers within their jurisdiction were allowed on the roads.

* * *

Hare said he was determined to enforce the licensing law, and added:

"If Sen. Coleman and his Republican sheriff friends prefer to make political capital out of my efforts, that is their privilege—and a recognized campaign technique."

Spiked Main Shuts Plants

SAGINAW (AP)—A digging machine snapped an eight-inch water main Thursday, forcing the shutdown of two manufacturing plants and idling 900 workers. The mishap closed the Saginaw division of Eaton Manufacturing Co. and the Raymond Products Co. Work was being done on the relocation of highway M46 when the main was snapped.

Police in Tizzy Since Disappearance of Wealthy Mrs. Evelyn Scott in '55

* * *

The question has kept the Police Department, the district attorney's office, the newspapers and an assortment of lawyers in a dither for more than six weeks since the disappearance 11 months ago of the wealthy, 63-year-old matron became generally known.

The case and the position of her husband L. Ewing Scott, 59, in it are coming to some sort of climax in a grand jury investigation beginning next Tuesday.

* * *

A conference to go over information and evidence is scheduled today among Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll; his chief deputy, Adolph Alexander; other D.A. staffmen and investigators; Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown, in charge of the police phase of the inquiry; and detectives.

There is no charge against Scott, who has repeatedly been questioned and requestioned and says he does not know the whereabouts of his wife. Her estate is reckoned at $600,000, with the bulk of her income from apartment house property in Milwaukee.

* * *

Is Mrs. Scott dead or alive?

The investigators say they have been proceeding on either or both theories. They have not come up with the answer, at least publicly.

The date of May 16, 1955, has been fixed as the day Mrs. Scott disappeared. Scott said he went out that day to buy some toothpaste for his wife and when he returned to their home in the Bel-Air section she was gone. He said she had left before for short periods.

* * *

The authorities say he did not report her disappearance. Friends went to the district attorney's office last July and asked for a quiet investigation. It was kept quiet at their request, although D.A.'s investigators questioned Scott last August and again last February.

The case became public knowledge March 6 when Mrs. Scott's brother E. Raymond Throsby, 53, petitioned the Superior Court for appointment as trustee of her estate. There followed a hue and cry, with Police Chief William H. Parker inquiring acidly at one stage as to how come the district attorney had not previously informed the police.

* * *

There was no evidence of a crime having been committed, Roll retorted. Now, however, the prosecutor says there is evidence to be laid before the grand jury, relating to Scott's handling of Mrs. Scott's funds.

Detectives searched the Scott house and grounds March 10. They said then they found nothing of evidential value, but last week Brown disclosed that two pairs of reading glasses and a denture, identified as belonging to Mrs. Scott, had been found buried in the yard.

* * *

One safety deposit box which Scott had access to was opened, disclosing no evidence, police said, except two puzzling envelopes which had sand in them.

Financial Crisis Confronts Dems

Chairman Butler Says Party's Coffers at Low Ebb for '56 Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said today his party is facing a "financial crisis" which if not solved quickly will seriously endanger its chances for victory next November.

* * *

He said fund raising should be given "No. 1 priority" if the party is to be able adequately to present the issues to the people. He said those issues include "what it means to them to have a part-time president."

* * *

Butler, opening a two-day meeting of the national committee to discuss convention and campaign plans, said in prepared remarks the Republicans now have five million dollars in their campaign chest. Against that, he said, is a Democratic bank balance of a mere $100,000—a 50 to 1 advantage for the GOP.

EMPHASIZES POINT

To emphasize his point, he said the $100,000 Democratic balance "is not enough to purchase time and produce a half-hour program on a major nationwide television network."

* * *

"There is no use kidding ourselves," he added. "The Democratic party is confronted with a financial crisis. If we don't find a way to solve it promptly we are faced by the very real danger that the 1956 election will be won not by the party with the best issues but by the party with the most money."

* * *

The two-day rally ends tomorrow night with a $100-a-plate Woodrow Wilson Centennial Dinner in the National Guard armory. The dinner is expected to raise around $250,000, although acceptances have run far below the peak of 5,000 that the party has jammed into the same hall in the past when it held the White House.

You Just Can't Win

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Bill Fagan, Indianapolis television producer, sprinted across the street and convinced a policeman the meter was running fast and that he hadn't parked overtime. But he paid a $2 fine anyway. The policeman charged him with jaywalking.

City Youth Injured as Car Leaves Road

David E. Lugg, 16, of 711 Melrose Ave., is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after being injured when his car went off the road and rolled over Thursday at 7:31 p.m. on Baldwin Rd., Orion Township.

The hospital reported Lugg suffered a fractured nose, multiple cuts and bruises, and a possible back injury in the accident. There were no passengers in the car.

GI Uniform Quiz Promises Action

WASHINGTON (AP) —Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said today the Senate Investigations subcommittee has shown at the least that the Army has spent millions with "people not worthy of a government contract."

* * *

"We are pointing out a condition that ought to be taken care of," McClellan told newsmen in discussing subcommittee hearings, in recess until Tuesday, on reports of graft in the buying of Army uniforms in the period 1951-54.

"If nothing else comes out of these hearings," he said, "we are showing that the federal government has been having contracts worth millions of dollars with people of questionable integrity."

TO CONTINUE PROBING

He said he will keep digging into the story of millions of dollars Joseph (Joey) Abrams and Herman Kravitz allegedly invested in bonds under bogus names while holding big Army uniform contracts.

* * *

Abrams, a Brooklyn, N.Y., accountant and garment fabricator, has invoked the Fifth Amendment 68 times in two days in refusing to tell whether he bought bonds under phony names, or used any of them to bribe government officials or for tax evasion. He said answers might incriminate him.

Abrams is awaiting trial on a federal charge that he converted to his own use cloth the Army furnished on one of his contracts. He has been blacklisted from getting further Army contracts.

Kravitz and his father Samuel Kravitz, who operate in Millville, N.J., are scheduled for questioning Tuesday about bond deals in which witnesses have linked their names with that of Abrams. They also have been blacklisted by the Army.

HEARSAY TESTIMONY

The subcommittee received hearsay testimony yesterday that Samuel Leider, another Millville uniform manufacturer, borrowed $5,000 from the Kravitzes, then sent it back to them to be used in bribing government officials.

Leider, 64, collapsed in the witness chair after invoking the Fifth Amendment in refusing to tell whether he previously told subcommittee investigators about the incident.

* * *

Investigator Carmine S. Bellino testified Leider had told him such a story last January. Bellino and Robert F. Kennedy, subcommittee counsel, who said he also was present, said Leider showed "physical fear" of Herman Kravitz.

Kennedy said Leider had decided Wednesday, after "a conference with Joey Abrams and his lawyer," not to tell the story under oath. Abrams told reporters he knew of no basis for Kennedy's testimony.

Ike to Keep Campaign on High Minded Level

In formally opening his campaign for re-election, President Eisenhower made a confidence inspiring pledge to the American people and 900 Republican party leaders.

Speaking at a Washington banquet climaxing a two day GOP strategy conference, Mr. Eisenhower also offered his enthusiastic audience some sound advice.

His pledge was that there will be no "surrenders to pressure, bribes for support, escapes from responsibility." His advice was to enlist young people in a campaign he said must be "concerned with those things which count for most —people and principles."

In calling for an organized crusade, the President had no harsh words for the opposition. Instead, he was appealing directly to Republicans, independents and those he described as "sound thinking Democrats."

★ ★ ★

Sharing the spotlight with the Chief Executive was Vice President Nixon and most of the party leaders present clearly showed that they want the Californian on the ticket again. He, in turn, epitomized the feeling of those present when he lauded the President's courage in vetoing the farm bill.

United Europe Ideal Retains Its Vitality

Despite many disappointments and obstacles, the concept of a United States of Europe still possesses its original strength.

This is the message brought to a joint meeting of the Netherlands and Belgian Chambers of Commerce of the United States by Albert Coppe. Formerly Belgian Minister of Economics, he spoke in New York as a vice president of the successful four year old European Coal and Steel Community (ECSC).

Mr. Coppe pointed out that since 1952 the six ECSC countries—Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—have had a common market for coal, steel, iron ore and scrap. The products, he said, represent no less than 25 per cent of the total value of the trade between them.

Then he showed that intra-community trade in coal has climbed 30 per cent, steel 200 per cent, iron ore 30 per cent and scrap 300 per cent. The overall value of this trade has increased 70 per cent, competition has been stimulated and investments in various industries have risen 50 to 200 per cent.

It is heartening to read that Mr. Coppe thinks that the economic integration brought about by ECSC represents real progress toward the goal of a United States of Europe. As a result, it seems reasonable to hope, as he does, that under the stimulus of further economic integration, favorable conditions will be created for political integration.

MEA's Aim Is to Make School Job Appointive

Michigan Education Association is circulating petitions in the interests of what we long have believed a desirable amendment to our State charter.

Goal of the 44,000 member association is to take the post of State Superintendent of Public Instruction out of politics by making it appointive. Also sought is enlargement of the State Board of Education from four members to nonpartisan election of eight members. They would have authority to appoint the state superintendents for six year terms.

To that end MEA is seeking some 300,000 signatures on the petitions by May 19 in order to be certain that the issue will be placed on the November ballot. The Press strongly favors this proposal. For years it has been advocated by leading schoolmen and many others interested in more efficient education.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, the present superintendent, and his predecessor, Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, long have endorsed it. It also is backed by Michigan PTA Congress, Farm Bureau, Federation of Labor, School Boards association and the American Association of University Women.

We believe enlarging the board and making its election nonpartisan and taking the post of superintendent out of politics are long overdue changes in our State school system.

Obviously, freeing the superintendent from the biennial effort and expense of campaigning for election would be good business. It would enable him to devote all his time to education.

David Lawrence Says:

Politicians Trying to Embarrass Ike With Proposed Tax Reduction Measure

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower soon will find himself up against another sign-or-veto dilemma, and this time it will affect everybody and not just farmers. The politicians will be offering bills to reduce taxes, and Eisenhower probably will veto any that are passed.

It's true there's a surplus coming in the federal budget for the fiscal year that ends June 30 next. It will be at least $2,000,000,000, instead of the forecast of about an eighth of that sum made last January in the President's message.

In fact the "cash" budget, which is merely a tally of money received as against money to be paid out during this fiscal year, will show more than $4,000,000,000 surplus. The official forecast last January on the "cash" budget was about a fourth of that amount. All these estimates may turn out on the low side, as the Treasury hasn't had a chance yet to total up the income-tax payments made on Monday of this week. There are indications that record totals soon will be announced.

FISCALLY DISADVANTAGEOUS

With these favorable trends in the flow of money into Uncle Sam's pocketbook, the taxpayers will be asking, "will there be a tax cut?" The politicians, particularly the Democrats, will be urging the passage of a law granting a tax reduction to persons of low income or even a percentage cut straight across-the-board.

On the surface, the figures would justify a tax cut, but to do so might actually be fiscally disadvantageous to the country. The Federal Reserve Board at the present time is trying to head off any more inflation and is restricting credit.

Tax reductions are usually voted when business isn't good and when the country needs the stimulus of private spending. If anything were to be done on tax rates, precedent argues for increases instead of decreases. This was the doctrine supported under both the New Deal of Roosevelt and the Fair Deal of Truman.

But what about the politicians? They will press their measures. In the past, when one party has been in control of Congress and the other party has had its man in the White House, the custom has been to pass measures in the Senate and House which the president was expected to veto, and the political hope was that the electorate would become irritated and vote against the party in power. These bills have always been called "pop-gun" measures because their sponsors never expected them to become law but merely wanted to embarrass the administration in power.

'POP-GUN' BILLS COMING

Eisenhower, therefore, will be up against some "pop-gun" tax bills pretty soon, and even some Republican members of the House and Senate will find it difficult to vote against them. This was also the case with the farm bill. But a presidential veto of tax legislation would be a bit harder to explain to the average man, and it would take more than one television appearance by the President to do it.

The trouble with a tax-reduction law is that it would add to the spending power of the present boom, start a new round of wage increases and a corresponding rise in the prices of the articles of necessity which the farmer and the city worker have to buy. It would indeed, put the brakes on prosperity and could cause a business recession.

That's why a presidential veto would seem to be certain, though it may prove embarrassing for the Republican candidate to face the electorate with the responsibility fixed on them for refusing to reduce taxes.

It's an awkward dilemma from the political viewpoint, even though from the standpoint of sound economics there is only one side to it —to use the money for debt reduction.

Malnutrition Responsible for Chronic Joint Disability

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Good honest Canadian physicians recently answered questions about joint disability in a kind of public forum held at Mechanics Institute in Montreal. Dr. John Martin, director of the arthritis clinic of Montreal General Hospital, said there is no direct connection between diet and most forms of arthritis. Dr. Louis Johnson, director of the arthritis clinic of the Royal Victoria Hospital, said the cause of arthritis is unknown and there is no specific cure for the disease.

According to a report of the symposium (that's what the report said) in the Montreal Gazette, members of the audience had asked what the doctors thought of Dr. Brady and his theory that poor diet, particularly lack of calcium, led to arthritis. In reply the doctors said politely that they didn't believe Dr. Brady was on the right track.

Now if some idle bystander will hold my coat I'd like to say, politely, mind you, that the clinics directed by the doctors are real clinics and the professional standings of Drs. Martin and Johnson is — well, even I can't, cavil, and you know my style.

• • •

But I must protest, still politely or reasonably so, that I do not advance any theory in regard to arthritis. Arthritis (joint inflammation), as nearly as I can interpret present medical consensus, is essentially infection of joint tissues — streptococcic, tuberculous, pneumococcic, brucellotic, luetic, etc. In every instance it is the attending physician's problem to make the specific diagnosis and administer treatment accordingly.

If is as bootless, in my judgment to search or hope for a remedy for arthritis, in the way such research is conducted today — for instance by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

As clearly and briefly as possible I set forth my theory, concept or notion of the nature and prevention of chronic joint disability in the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz which is free if you ask for it and provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

• • •

I believe physical degeneration is the explanation of chronic joint disability in nine out of ten cases, and I call physical degeneration of joint tissues rheumatiz, not rheumatism, to distinguish it from chronic arthritis (inflammation of joint tissues).

Further I believe rheumatiz is due to nutritional deficiency (malnutrition, as we formerly called it) through the years from early childhood through dinner or supper today. My Montreal friends — and I mean friends— are right when they say "particularly lack of calcium," even though they are as confused as doctors and folks are everywhere in regard to the nature of chronic joint disability.

I have more to say about this, but I am anxious to teach as many people as I can how to keep their joints supple, so we'll resume this lecture tomorrow. You know, it hurts me worse than it does you when my spiel happens to be too long to fit in the available space and has to be amputated.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Disgruntled Ex-Marine' Defends Stiff Discipline

In the recent unfortunate episode which took the lives of six Marine recruits, there has been much lambasting toward the Marine Corps, some of it uncalled for.

It is true that this could have been prevented, or more precaution taken, saving much grief that was caused the recruits' families and friends. However, the opinion of some seems to be that training a man discipline is irrelevent to his actions under combat conditions.

I and thousands of other ex-Marines hold no bitter feelings toward the rigid training of discipline we received as recruits of the Marine Corps.

For it has been and should continue to be this rigid training that makes the Marine Corps respected for their war record. A serviceman who has been taught discipline and adheres to it in peacetime will, without hesitation, enter combat and prove himself worthy of his outfit and, most important, his country.

Disgruntled Ex-Marine

'Many Different Churches but Bible Says One Faith'

There are over 600 different churches and the Bible says there is only one faith. (Eph. 4:5.)

Now to find the right church or faith is to ask, seek and knock (Matt. 7:7). Ask God for guidance and not man. Seek out of God's word the better promises and act upon them. Let the word be opened to you, or when God knocks on your heart's door, open and let him come in to you (St. Matt. 7:7,8) and so according to St. Matt. (7:16,20) "and by their fruits you shall know them."

Now let's find out what is going to happen to all the other churches. II Tim. 4:3,4 says, "For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they keep to themselves teachers, having itching ears. And they shall turn away their ears for the truth and shall be turned to fables."

According to the word of God, there will be many people who will turn away from God's word and go about setting up their own doctrine. Mark 7:7 says, "Howbeit in vain they worship me, teaching for doctrined the commandments of man."

Paul, said in his letter to the Galatians, "But through me, or an angel from Heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let them be accursed."

So don't forget you may feel you're right, and yet be wrong. (Prov. 16:25.) "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death."

Czech General Believed Next on Reds' Purge List

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The next Red to hit the skids may be Gen. Alexej Cepicka, a man who married the boss' daughter.

• • •

Hints that Cepicka may be the scapegoat to be picked in the slavish dances originating in Moscow have come about in two ways.

• • •

ATTACK MEMORY

But they have attacked the memory of Klement Gottwald for the "cult of personality," meaning one-man rule. Gottwald was the Czech President who made one too many trips to Moscow. He attended Stalin's funeral, caught pneumonia and perished.

• • •

Gottwald also was the father-in-law of Cepicka, who married Marta Gottwald in July, 1948, only a month after Gottwald assumed the presidency.

The Red magazine Literarni Noviny also has begun attacking Cepicka, accusing him of permitting a "cult of personality" to flourish around him.

Cepicka is a veteran Communist but his rise was rapid after he married Gottwald's daughter. His fellow Reds no doubt resented his political drag with Gottwald, the man they now are degrading.

• • •

The 45-year-old general was born Aug. 18, 1910, in Kromeriz, the son of a letter carrier, and was graduated from Charles University in Prague in 1935.

RED STUDENT

He was a Communist Party member in his student days, heading many so-called "progressive societies."

• • •

Cepicka went underground in the Ostrava region when the Communist Party was dissolved. He was nabbed by the Gestapo in 1942, released, then rearrested 11 months later and ended up in Buchenwald concentration camp.

Czechoslovakian refugees who know him have characterized him as brutal, violent, irresponsible and a man feared by colleagues.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Compliment Club' Used in Churches to Stimulate Wider Use of Golden Rule

Notice how Raymond Fern, at Elwood, Indiana, is using modern psychology to perk up his Sunday School. A compliment is simply an expression of the Golden Rule. It's double-barreled, too, for you profit by giving compliments and those who receive them are buoyed up in their spirits, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I've had this job as superintendent for the last 25 years," he began.

• • •

"But you have given me a new idea to employ on our next Rally Day. That is your 'Compliment Club.'

"I have already ordered 60 copies of it and am giving one of the booklets to that many folks who will volunteer to carry out the idea.

"In my opinion, this experiment will really open up the way for a new revival which we have scheduled in our church for the following month."

PSYCHOLOGY GOES TO CHURCH

It has been very gratifying to me to witness the widespread use of topnotch applied psychology in our churches and Sunday schools.

Previously I have mentioned that 1,500 priests, rabbis and clergymen write to me each year via this educational column.

But I haven't even attempted to count the number of Sunday school teachers and other live-wire laymen who are serving as the spark plugs of their local churches.

In my college textbook on applied psychology, I included a new chapter headed "Psychology Goes to Church."

And when one of my colleagues surveyed his students in a Michigan College, he found that 90 per cent picked that as their favorite chapter from among the 20 chapters in my textbook.

• • •

And some of the other chapters should have been intriguing to modern youth, too, for they included "Advertising," "Salesmanship," "Public Speaking," "How to Improve Personality," etc.

Moreover, this school was not a theological seminary nor a church college, but a private educational institution.

The fact that 90 per cent of them preferred the chapter on religion, should help encourage many oldsters who often imagine that modern youth are mainly "hot rod" kids and potential delinquents.

COMPLIMENT CLUB

The "Compliment Club" is widely used in church groups to help stimulate wider application of the Golden Rule.

To be a member, all you must do is pay one sincere compliment per day to each of three different people, and keep it up without a break for 30 consecutive days.

The benefits of this extrovertive experiment are many. First, it forces us to take our attention off our own epidermis and our aches and pains.

For we must look at other people in an analytical fashion to find virtues and merits in their personalities on which to phrase our bit of praise.

The "Compliment Club" is thus often perscribed by psychiatrists to help menopasual wives and medical "worry warts" to turn their attention off their own "innards" and thus focus on external human beings.

Many Sunday school classes and young people's societies have used the "Compliment Club" as a convenient means of curing excessive timidity in people.

It also furnishes you talking points for re-opening conversation when an embarrassing pause has intruded therein.

So send for the "Compliment Club" pamphlet at once, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Follow Raymond Fern's lead and use it to perk up your entire church organization.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

She Always Knows Where She's Going

Margaret Is Too Poised to Be 'Our Meg'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (INS) — Throughout the land, on the eve of her wedding, Miss Margaret Truman is being thought of and talked about as "our Meg."

* * *

The label is sweet and tender and protective and downright erroneous. To call the self-possessed Margaret "ours" is about as apt as labeling the slick and shrewd Clare Boothe Luce "Little Lucey."

Miss Truman is pretty enough and dainty enough to deserve the appelation; but if ever a girl retained her own independence and rigidly refused to throw herself upon her country's ever-lovin' homage, it was Margaret.

Since she was a baby, she has refused to be babied. Since she was a grown woman, she has refused to have her privacy invaded

* * *

When she reads the words "our Meg," how that cool, mezzo, easy-going laugh must flow out. I can just see her doing a double-take, then observing distinctly: "Come again—whose Meg?"

DIGNIFIED MANNER

Never in the history of celebrities has a young woman been more intelligent about handling her own affairs with dignity than Miss Truman.

While other zanier girls were tripping over their tongues, Miss Truman always said exactly what she wanted to say and no more. When it was necessary for her to be in the "public eye," she inevitably winked back.

Her interviews with newsmen (excepting Clifton Daniel, who apparently got her off guard) have been the craftiest of maneuvers. Never appearing to hedge, never offending, she has given straight answers that revealed absolutely nothing about herself—except that she was a lady, and her business was her business.

Without being rude, she could evade questions she didn't care to answer with remarks like, "Who on earth would want to know about that?" or, "That's a good question, and I wish I could answer it."

* * *

I'll not forget one canny move she made in an interview with me, two years ago. Attempting to discover how her parents felt about her unmarried status at the age of 30, I egged her on by going into a long spiel about how my own parents felt, concluding—"Parents certainly can worry a lot over nothing, can't they?"

* * *

Breathless, I waited for a response. Finally, in that delightfully melodic voice, Margaret spoke.

YOUR PROBLEM

"You really have a problem, don't you?" she said.

* * *

With the apparent aptitude for always knowing exactly where she's going, and never letting nonsense get her down along the way, Miss Truman is finally entering the long-awaited realm of matrimony.

By 4:15 p.m. tomorrow she might appropriately and conventionally be referred to as "Clifton's Meg."

* * *

Isabella Supervisors Hike Officials' Salaries

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — The Isabella County board of supervisors has voted to increase the salary of the prosecuting attorney $2,000 a year and the salaries of other elected officials by $1,000 a year.

Under the increases, voted yesterday, the prosecutor will get $6,000 annually and the sheriff, county clerk, register of deeds, treasurer and drain commissioner $5,000 each.

Hitler's Birthday Almost Forgotten by Bonn Citizens

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The Germans went about business as usual today, with no public fanfare to remind them of the big day April 20 used to be.

For Adolf Hitler would have been 67 today had he not taken his life in a Berlin bunker on April 30, 1945, 10 days after he reached 56.

No swastikas flew today. No German bands blared their martial rhythms. No uniformed youngsters cheered and shouted.

Even the "Fuehrer" title has almost disappeared, though it's a grammatically correct German word meaning "leader." There are other words for leader which are generally used since the war.

It isn't that the Germans aren't willing to talk about Hitler. This they do readily enough, but usually — to a foreign — with frowns and ugly memories.

The fear that Hitler-type nationalists may try to take over again still plagues many people of this uneasy, split-asunder nation.

Youths Raid Caboose; Penalty: Sore Cabooses

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Two young boys charged with breaking into a railroad caboose left juvenile court with sore cabooses of their own. The judge heard the charges and removed his belt, handing it to the father of the boys, 9 and 7. "You know what to do with it," he told the father.

After the whipping, the jurist threatened to jail the father if the boys got into more trouble.

Stalin's Luster Fading Out? — at Home He's Still 'Hero'

(AP correspondent Roy Essoyan is a member of the first group of Western reporters permitted to visit Soviet Georgia since pro-Stalin demonstrations there last month. Following is his account of a trip to Gori, Stalin's birthplace.)

By ROY ESSOYAN

GORI, Soviet Georgia (AP) — Joseph Stalin's luster may be fading in Moscow and other parts of the Soviet Union, but the home folks are planning to dedicate a new museum to him in this mountain village where he was born.

A top local official told four Western reporters who reached Gori yesterday the museum will be opened Dec. 21, the anniversary of Stalin's birth. He said the central government in Moscow had approved the action of the Georgian Republic earmarking 800,000 rubles ($200,000 at the official exchange rate) toward building the museum.

The official also asserted that schools in this area are teaching the same history courses glorifying Stalin as they did when he was alive. Moscow schools have suspended the study of world War II and the postwar era until new textbooks can be published playing down Stalin's role.

* * *

Leading Communists here said local officials have no plans to rewrite Stalin's part in Soviet history or to erase his influence.

Pro-Stalin demonstrations were reported in Georgia several weeks ago when the Kremlin campaign against the "cult of the individual" got rolling. The protests were said to have centered at Tiflis, the Georgian capital.

Residents of Gori obviously are unhappy about the drive to crack down on the local boy who became premier.

* * *

He still is referred to as "the great Stalin" here and one Georgian, made bold by the chance to talk in private, shook his fist and declared: "We won't forget."

Another said: "We don't talk about it much, but inside we're seething."

* * *

Communist party officials said the new official policy pushing collective leadership is being applied somewhat differently than elsewhere in the Soviet Union.

* * *

The anniversary of Stalin's death was observed by residents of Gori last month just as it has been in the past, they said. The only difference, they added, was that the wreath-laying ceremonies and speeches praising Stalin drew larger crowds than usual.

The anniversary went unnoticed in Moscow.

* * *

This village itself is dominated by an ancient hilltop fortress bearing a big neon sign proclaiming "Glory to the Great Stalin." The brick and plaster house where he was born is enshrined by marble pillars. In the village's main plaza there is a giant monument to Stalin, and smaller statues and busts are found in positions of honor in every store and office and along the roadsides.

Told that friends of Stalin lived at the Stalin collective farm 15 miles from Gori, the newsmen left for the region in a rented car. But when the Georgian driver learned their destination, he refused to proceed and turned back to Gori.

Official permission was finally obtained to visit the farm, but when reporters got there it was obvious that word of their visit had preceded them. They were told that no friends or relatives of Stalin were around.

UM Prof Encourages Future Reporters

Press Is Vital and Fun

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The working press should "re-glamorize" the appeal of their profession to the youth of the nation, a University of Michigan journalism professor said today.

Prof. Kenneth N. Stewart told more than 500 high school journalism students that "there has been too much talk about dull, nose-to-the-grindstone routine, meager financial rewards, job scarcity, dubious social status and occupational hazards."

He said the press and journalism teachers should counteract the debunking of the newspaper profession that began in depression days.

"For too many years now too many people, both within the field and outside, have taken too dim a view of careers in journalism," he said.

He told the journalism students at the Michigan Interscholastic Press Assn. that "the pay isn't so bad. There are jobs aplenty. You can win social status, respect and security without being a lush or subsisting on bicarbonates of soda. Journalism is vital, meaningful and fun."

State Will Get Atomic Reactor

AEC Also Okays Plans for Small Power Units in Minnesota, Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has moved toward more peaceful use of atomic energy by giving basic approval to proposals for small power reactors in Minnesota and Michigan.

* * *

The commission, in the first such plans it has approved, agreed yesterday to accept as a basis for negotiations nuclear power proposals from the Rural Cooperative Power Assn. of Elk River, Minn., and the of Big Rapids, Mich.

The negotiations, the AEC said, "will determine the kind of assistance to be given the cooperatives and will establish the cost limits of this assistance."

In announcing the approvals, the AEC said:

"The commission determined that the types of plants contemplated are technically feasible, that they represent desirable extensions of development work now under way or planned and would make important contributions to the power reactor art."

The two accepted bids were among seven somewhat similar proposals submitted to the commission. The other five are still being evaluated, the AEC said.

The commission last year invited proposals from groups over the nation for building small reactors to demonstrate the practical value of small units with capacities of up to 40,000 kilowatts.

The Elk River group proposes a closed cycle boiling water reactor which could produce a capacity of 22,000 kilowatts. Capital costs estimated to total $2,450,000, would be assumed by Elk River. The commission would contribute $6,860,000 for development, design and construction of the reactor and a portion of the research and development work.

The Wolverine Association proposes an aqueous homogenous reactor plant with a capacity of 5,000 to 10,000 kilowatts. It would assume capital costs of $1,088,000 while the commission would contribute $3,788,000 for development and construction.

BAY CITY (AP)—Fred Olmstead, believed to be the oldest active commercial photographer in the state, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Hatch. He was 87 and for the last 50 years had operated in Bay City. Earlier he had a studio in Kalamazoo.

Big Gambling Crackdown

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cracking down on what they called a "cross country syndicate of gamblers," Internal Revenue agents have raided alleged gambling places in five cities.

* * *

The almost simultaneous raids were kicked off here yesterday under the direction of D. Malcolm Anderson, U.S. Attorney for Western Pennsylvania. Before they were over, 18 persons were arrested and the government said it had confiscated "valuable" records.

Anderson said the places were part of a nationwide syndicate that had a "layoff" headquarters in nearby New Kensington, which was out of business when the raids came.

* * *

Agents armed with search warrants also hit establishments in Chicago, Fort Worth, Tex., Boston and Newport, Ky.

Eight persons were seized in Chicago, three each in Pittsburgh and Fort Worth, and four in Newport. Most were charged with violation of the Federal Wagering Law of 1951.

* * *

Anderson declined to say whether more raids will be conducted, but he said he would seek a grand jury investigation locally into the syndicate's operation. He said he expected similar inquiries would be started in other cities.

Revenue agents got their first clue to the operation when more than 3,000 long distance telephone calls were traced to the alleged "layoff headquarters" at New Kensington, Anderson said.

* * *

A "layoff" point is used as a safety device by bookmakers who accept more bets than they feel they can handle safely. The original bookmaker passes part of his bets to the "layoff" point, which then accepts responsibility for paying off winners or collecting from losers.

Report Polish Reds Fire 3 Top Officials

LONDON (AP)—Warsaw radio said today Poland's Red government has fired three top officials—two of whom starred for the prosecution in Polish purge trials.

* * *

The broadcast identified the ousted officials as Prosecutor General Stefan Kalinowski, State Farms Minister Stanislaw Radkiewicz and Chief Military Prosecutor Gen. Stanislaw Zarakowski.

The broadcast said there had been "distortions in the work of the military prosecutor's office" and "inadmissible lack of supervision" over its investigations.

* * *

The announcement said there had been "serious deficiences" in Kalinowski's work in recent years. This was seen as a hint that some of the victims of the purge trials under his regime may be restored to good standing.

No reason was given for the firing of Radkiewicz.

Detroit Medic Sues Cutter Laboratories

CHICAGO (AP)—A Detroit physician sued Cutter Laboratories Inc. for $500,000, charging the firm with negligence in the production of Salk antipolio vaccine.

* * *

Dr. Maurice J. Hauser of Detroit alleged that he was stricken with polio after his 5-year-old son, Meryl, was inoculated last April with Salk vaccine manufactured by Cutter.

* * *

Hauser's complaint in U.S. District Court charges that Cutter was negligent in that it failed to render the polio virus in the vaccine sterile.

* * *

Attorneys who filed the suit, Leo S. and Daniel Karlin, said Dr. Hauser is paralyzed in both legs and one arm. They said the suit was filed in Chicago because Cutter's office nearest to Detroit is in Chicago.

Danes Lack Oil, Coal

COPENHAGEN—Denmark, lacking natural power resources, is vitally interested in the possibility of establishing atomic power stations. No coal or oil deposits exist in Denmark; all fuels for this rather highly industrialized country must be imported.

No Compensation for Man Finding Rodents in Lunch

DES MOINES (AP)—A worker who found mice and a snake in his dinner bucket might have had good reason to quit his job, but he can't expect to collect unemployment compensation, the Iowa Employment Security Commission said today.

• • •

Allen A. Rodenberg of Spencer, filed for benefits. He was employed by the Spencer Concrete Products Co. He cited as his reasons for quitting:

On one occasion he found a live mouse in his dinner bucket on returning home at night. On another he found a dead mousein his bucket on his return home. Later he found a live garter snake on his lunch at noon. Then he quit.

• • •

The commission said that although Rodenberg thought he knew the employe "who was responsible" for the horseplay, he wasn't entitled to compensation because he hadn't called the incidents to his employer's attention.

These production figures include only antibiotics made for medical use, not those for use in animal feeds or horticultural applications.

Editors Meeting Considers Plan

Congressional Laws Cure for All 'Federal Secrecy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kenneth MacDonald of the American Society of Newspaper Editors said yesterday the only cure for "federal secrecy" is action by Congress.

* * *

He asked the society, at the opening of its three - day annual meeting, to consider how to support free-press legislation "without regimenting our members in what could be construed as a lobbying activity."

MacDonald, editor of the Des Moines Register & Tribune, reminded the 400 ASNE delegates that they have been "clamoring for the open door in government" for years by passing resolutions and financing studies.

* * *

He said in a prepared talk that "it has become apparent that federal secrecy is entrenched behind a host of statutes and regulations and that the only real and lasting remedy is new legislation."

REASONABLE COVERAGE

At a panel session on political news following MacDonald's report, the editors were advised to provide "careful and reasonably balanced" coverage and "ignore the criticisms of politicians and political critics."

* * *

Editor A. H. Kirchhofer of the Buffalo, N. Y., Evening News said in prepared remarks newspapers' political coverage will be under severe attack—in fact, "we are being indicted before the act."

He cited recent charges of bias and "one-party press" leveled by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler, as well as Butler's proposal that papers install a "battle page" giving equal space to each party.

* * *

"To the extent Chairman Butler stimulates us to consider and plan for fair and adequate coverage he deserves our thanks and the appreciation of his party," Kirchhofer said, but he added:

DESERVES REBUKE

"To the extent that his speeches cast an indiscriminate smear on all of the press he deserves a rebuke."

The editor said the Evening News will try generally to match conflicting political stories "but we will not conduct our political coverage with a yardstick in hand. Content, not length, will be the basis of judgment."

Gould Lincoln, veteran political writer for the Washington Star, suggested that political prophecy in the news column is a gamble "though it can be interesting to readers," adding:

* * *

"A story giving the pros and cons, the opinions expressed by leaders on both sides, and so a complete picture of the situation as election day rolls around, is safer—and it allows the readers to do their own prognosticating."

Watson of Detroit, L. P. Zimmerman of Maddy lane and J. A. Outland of Auburn Heights (left to right). Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Candlelight to Shine on Margaret

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (INS)—When Margaret Truman takes her vows to become the wife of newsman E. C. Daniel Jr. this Saturday, it will be amid a woman's most flattering background—candlelight and flowers.

* * *

And she will walk down one of the shortest aisles in the United States to do it—in the same church where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Truman, were married 37 years ago.

The Trinity Episcopal Church, built in 1880, and one of the oldest in Missouri, is chapel-sized by modern standards and its aisle is less than 45 feet long.

The golden-haired daughter of the former U. S. President will stand before an altar barren except for two unlighted candles.

The Rev. Patric Hutton, who will perform the 15-minute ceremony at 4 p.m. (CST), explained that the altar candles are lighted only for communion services.

CANDLES NEEDED

A visit to the tiny brick church at the same time of day that the ceremony will take place found it dim enough to require candlelight despite its recent redecoration.

* * *

Its pews have been enameled, its dark wood rafters polished and the walls repainted in soft beige and green.

Although no one will admit it, the decor fits perfectly with the color scheme Margaret has chosen for the bridal party.

* * *

GUIDANCE GIVEN

The Rev. Mr. Hutton, who became rector of the church only last September, disclosed that he had arranged for the couple to receive, well in advance, the instructions required before any marriage ceremony can be performed in an Episcopal Church.

* * *

He said that the pre-marital instructions were given to Miss Truman and Daniel, 43, an assistant foreign news editor of the New York Times, by the Rev. Arthur Kingsolving in New York City.

The 30-year-old rector explained:

"It was a matter of clearing the way so that the arrangements here could proceed as smoothly as possible."

The Rev. Mr. Hutton also said the wedding rehearsal is scheduled for today at 4 p.m., just 24 hours before the nuptials, and that it will be a single-ring ceremony.

* * *

Meanwhile, the tempo of prenuptial activities is picking up. Daniel arrived at midday yesterday and met most of his bride-to-be's aunts uncles and cousins for the first time at a family dinner in the Truman home last night.

The rambling Victorian white frame home has been cleaned up and it looks—at first glance—like a gigantic wedding cake, surrounded by yellow forsythia bushes.

'Recovery' Explained for Zonta

Program Designed to Aid Those With Mental Problems

Recovery, Inc., a group which aids people with mental problems before a breakdown occurs, was discussed by Mrs. Treasure Rice of Brighton, Michigan leader of the group, when she addressed 50 members of Zonta Club of Pontiac Thursday.

* * *

Those gathering at Hotel Waldron heard Mrs. Rice describe how people who have been faced with terror, unable to meet others and with suicidal tendencies have been helped by the group.

One of the first things persons who have become affiliated with the program learn is to spot their own mental problems. They learn to curb their emotions.

The steps in the program include recognizing temper, which may be in the form of anger, fear, self-pity or self-disgust; exceptionality, fear of not living up to standards; and they must give up self-diagnosing.

* * *

Recovery was developed by the late Dr. A. A. Low, who was a psychiatrist at University of Illinois. The members help one another and themselves by discussing in simple terms the things with which they are troubled.

NO EASY TASK

Mrs. Rice explained that the Recovery technique is not an easy one—the individual must learn to feel adequate and must develop security.

* * *

This, she pointed out, is where group discussion helps. The individual can feel a closeness with someone who has suffered the same feelings and who can understand his problems.

Those attending meetings discuss their experiences, and in cases where there had been hospitalization in mental institutions, Mrs. Rice explained that many were helped and did not need further incarceration.

Interested persons are invited to the open meetings which are held in most cities throughout the country.

* * *

Child Care at Hospital Discussed

Dr. James M. McHugh, head of the child psychiatric program at Pontiac State Hospital, spoke to members of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. The meeting was held Thursday evening at the YMCA.

* * *

The speaker told the listeners of three possible ways they could give support to the emotionally disturbed children at the hospital. The three ways mentioned by the speaker are:

"To lend financial support for field trips enjoyed by the children; to provide trained personnel for the 4-H program at the hospital and to sponsor a lecture series in the fall to acquaint the people of the community with the needs of these emotionally disturbed children.

Maxine Miller reported on plans for the money-making project to be held at the League of Catholic Women on May 5.

The mother and daughter breakfast will be held at Rotunda Inn on May 6. Dee Brim announced that the speaker will be Pat Sweeney, policewoman.

This 'Double Cross' Will Aid Your Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Please tell me this about the hip exercise you call the 'Double Cross.' When I raise my leg and try to touch the floor on the opposite side of my body, should I roll over on the hip on that side or keep my back flat on the floor?"

A. Let your hips roll but keep your legs straight and your fingertips on the floor. Also reach as far in each direction as possible.

Q. "I am 14 years old and have no bust. This is terribly embarrassing. What can I do?"

A. You have plenty of time yet to develop a bust. Give nature a chance. Girls vary in the time of developing curves.

* * *

Q. "Some exercises make me dizzy. For instance, the one where I rise high on my toes with my arms raised overhead and I look up. Also the one when I make circles with my head. Is there something wrong with me?"

A. No, not if you feel this way only when you exercise. People differ in this. Discard any exercises which make you dizzy. There are plenty of others.

HAIR PROBLEM

Q. "I am 13 years old and my hair is quite a problem. It is blonde and my face is round and my ears stick out so that I cannot push my hair behind them. I would appreciate your suggestions."

A. I suppose that you were thinking of arranging your hair behind your ears because of your round face. However, covering prominent ears is important and you can do this without adding a great deal of width to your face. Have the hair softly curled over the ears, and high on the top of the head.

Q. "My friends call me skinny. I am 15 and small boned. I am 5 feet 5 inches tall. My bust measures 32, waist 23 and hips 33 inches. Do I have a good figure or should I gain?"

A. You did not give me your weight but by your measurements I judge that you are quite slim, perhaps underweight. The correct weight for your age and height is about 115 to 120 pounds.

Q. "I've been wondering of late whether or not I'm up to par in the date-bait department. Frankly I am a little worried and wish you would advise me. I am 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 128 pounds. My measurements are bust 35, waist 26 and hips 37 inches. I'm fairly large boned and I hope that accounts for part of the 128 pounds. I am 15, a sophomore at high school."

A. A large frame can make a big difference but you are a little overweight even allowing for that. Your measurements are in good proportion. You might take a few hip exercises and count your calories. Diet in a sensible way, cutting out the extras and substituting fresh or water-packed fruit for desserts.

Spartacade Entertains Collegians

Busy, Busy MSU Has No Time for Spring Fever

By BARBARA JOHNSON

EAST LANSING — Jenison Field House at Michigan State University recently attracted over 3,000 students. The reason? Spartacade.

This is an annual event consisting of sideshows put on by various groups on campus.

This year the Interfraternity Council dropped out of the show. However, still entered in it were dormitories, sororities and veteran groups. On Saturday afternoon, a parade cruised around town advertising Spartacade.

Even though there were only half as many booths as in previous years, the show brought in the second largest amount of money in its seven-year history, a gross of $3,326.

Of the non-audience participation booths, Gamma Phi Beta won first place. In the audience participation class, Kappa Alpha Theta won the prize. The orginality of acts and good showmanship displayed by participants were admired by all viewers.

No time for spring fever this week. The rapid decrease in temperature has caused students to tuck away tennis rackets, canoe paddles and baseball bats for awhile.

RUSHING BEGINS

Fraternities and sororities began spring rushing this week. This is keeping them all busy with the many meetings and parties that must be attended.

Leelyn Reese of Littletell road, Pontiac, was chosen by Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity members as their queen for the annual Junior 500 pushcart race to be held later this spring. The race is sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha.

Students are looking forward to "The Record Star Parade of 1956" which will be held Monday evening in the auditorium. Many famous show people will be entertaining that night.

Probably the most popular is Nat "King" Cole who will sing many of the songs that he made famous. Also highlighted will be songstress June Christy and Ted Heath, one of the finest band leaders in Great Britian who is currently on his first American tour. Noted recording artists "The Four Freshmen" will present their latest releases.

The engagement of their daughter, Darla Elizabeth, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gillies of Flint. She will become the bride of Richard E. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis of Chippewa road June 30. Darla was graduated from Flint Junior College and Richard was graduated from General Motors Institute

Cranbrook Music Guild Presents Pianist April 24

The Cranbrook Music Guild, Inc., will present pianist William Doppmann Tuesday as part of its concert program series. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. in Cranbrook House.

Mr. Doppmann, now a senior in the School of Music at the University of Michigan, in his sophomore year won two national competitions for soloists: The 1954 Naumburg Foundation Award and the 1954 Michaels Memorial Award.

WILLIAM DOPPMANN

As recipient of these major awards, he is the only musician to receive both in the same year and the only Michigan undergraduate to receive either to date.

The Naumburg debut recital in Town Hall in October 1954 and the Michaels Award appearance with Edward Van Beinum and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at Ravinia in July 1955 were outstandingly successful with audience and press.

He has appeared recently as soloist with the Cincinnati Orchestra and the South Bend Orchestra. He has also played many concerts with civic orchestras in Michigan, under the baton of Emil Raab, and in Elkhart, Ind.

He has given recitals in Washington, Cincinnati, Grand Rapids, Cranbrook, Appleton, Wis., and Toledo.

Mr. Doppmann's concert Tuesday at Cranbrook is the fourth in the current series.

Students Work and Play in Campout Adventure

Walled Lake Junior High Sponsors Proud Lake Trip

WALLED LAKE — Sixty Walled Lake seventh graders who have returned to school after a week-long campout at Proud Lake Recreation Area in Commerce Township are still talking about one of the greatest adventures of their young lives.

The first group camping event ever to be undertaken by the school was also under sponsorship of the Multi-Lakes Conservation Club.

Supervising the youngsters at camp were instructors Bill Doggett and Mrs. Thelma Marshall. Conservation officials were of constant assistance during the week there and several junior high school teachers visited the camp at times to assist with special activity.

Daily schedule called for rising at 7 a.m. and lights out at 9 p.m. In between, a variety of activities involved new learning experiences, free time to develop skills, rest periods, social hours, snack time, and good meals.

During the day students worked in teams of five at camp chores. The kitchen detail set tables, cleared them and attended to the dishwashing. Another five cleaned up the dining hall, others swept and mopped the dormitories and lavatories. Each camper made his own bed and straightened his sleeping area.

A daily news broadcast was heard and discussed, but the radio was turned off just prior to the weather forecast to permit students to make their own. They had studied this prior to attending camp. Two who asked for the job were George Green and Jim Savage, having become familiar with such instruments as barometers, hydrometers, and thermometers.

After settling and exploring camp on Monday, they settled down Tuesday to learning as much as possible about soil. Clarence Travis, a geologist, led groups of 15 to a nearby gravel pit to find rock samples. Other groups visitied a farm to note conservation practices. The social hour during the evening was devoted to square dancing.

Forestry was the order of the day on Wednesday. Don Hungerford, Proud Lake forester, directed activities which included tree trimming and planting of seedling evergreens. A trip to a saw mill in the area was also included. These activities were also followed on Thursday until each group had participated. For those who had finished their projects Stanley Hester, junior high art teacher, was on hand to organize and suggest art activities. Group singing filled the social hour.

WEEKS OF PREPARATION

Weeks of advance preparations were involved. Students made a large wall map of the area to orient themselves prior to the trip. They helped select the menus which they preferred. The cooking was done by Mrs. Norman Suehner, one of the Walled Lake school cafeteria employes. Hosts and hostesses for each table at each meal were selected. These brought the food to the tables from the kitchen. Grace was said at meals which were served family style. Once during the week each group cooked a meal outdoors, utilizing aluminum foil cooking.

Plans were even made for alternate activities in case of inclement weather. These included a stunt night and composing a camp song.

The cost of the week was seven dollars per student. Those who could not afford it were asked to contribute what they could and the schools and Multi-Lakes supplied the difference.

Officials hoped that the program will be continued, as the students can learn more conservation by doing than by reading about it. To help those who weren't fortunate enough to be able to go, colored movies were taken of the week's activities to be shown later.

Dairy Career Day Scheduled

MSU Event Saturday to Show Opportunities, Training Methods

EAST LANSING — Opportunities in the dairy industry will be pointed out to high school youths at the first annual dairy career day at Michigan State University Saturday.

In announcing the event, J. A. Meiser, MSU dairy department staff member, said that the supply of dairy graduates is inadequate to meet the demand. The career day will stress the opportunities in both the dairy manufacturing and production fields.

Beginning at 11 a.m. in the MSU Union, the program will first outline careers in the field and then deal with ways of financing university training. Later, interested students will have a chance to talk about their own area of interest with MSU dairy staff members.

A tour of the dairy processing plant in the new animal industries building and the university's dairy farms will complete the afternoon program.

Meiser also pointed out that a scholarship program is being developed for dairy students in an effort to provide means for qualified persons to enroll in the MSU dairy program.

Full details on the career day may be obtained from local dairy plant managers or the county agricultural extension office.

Waterford MEA Asking for State Amendment

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A goal of 2,100 signatures by May 4 has been set by the Waterford District of the Michigan Educational Association. The organization is ciriculating petitions so that an amendment to the state Constitution, concerning the state board of education, may be placed on the November ballot.

The changes advocated are that the State Board of Education be increased from four to eight members; that these be elected on a staggered basis with no more than two in any one year; and that this board appoint the state superintendent of public instruction.

Barbara Frank, high school government teacher, has been appointed general chairman of the drive.

Gingellville MOMS Set Weekend Events

Frances Mary wore a yellow suit with a corsage of white carnations for her wedding. Her attendant was Barbara Diamond of Lapeer.

Fire at Lake Orion Hits Township Hall

LAKE ORION—The Orion Township Hall was damaged by a fire which broke out yesterday morning.

The blaze, which smoldered some time before the 8 a.m. alarm, was confined to the roof and ceiling over the kitchen. Defective wiring in the ceiling was given as the apparent cause.

Cost of the fire had not yet been estimated, but Lake Orion firemen said excessive smoke damage would necessitate redecoration of the hall.

Hold Card Party Tonight

NEW HUDSON—The Maccabees of this section are sponsoring a card party for the public at their hall at 8 p. m. tonight.

Lack $4,000 for Equipment at Waterford

Students Urging Action on Field Lighting

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A delegation of high school students attended the meeting of the Board of Education here last night to urge action on the athletic field lighting and fencing project.

However, no action could be taken until the $25,000 pledged has been turned in.

The Student Council now has $21,000. When the full amount is obtained, approval for the sale of bonds must be secured from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission. Then bids will be taken and contracts awarded.

Actual construction of the equipment will take less than a month, according to Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools James Denherder.

But the legal steps necessary preceding construction take time and the students had hoped to have the lights ready for graduation.

In other business, the maintenance of school buses was reviewed, because of the recent accident in the Four Towns area. Three full time attendants check the buses daily and the cause for the parts failure in this particular accident is being investigated.

Preliminary plans for the five-room addition to the Jayno Adams School were presented but were returned to the architects, William Zimmerman Associates, for revision. Estimated cost was beyond the budget amount of $100,000. The contract for four new buses was awarded to Wilson GMC. Three buses will have standard transmission and will cost $5,616.04 each. One bus with automatic transmission and a two-speed electric axle will cost $6,076.

Hal Boyle Says:

Ex-POW Now Lives in His Dream World

NEW YORK (AP)—The dreams of war prisoners are haunting things.

* * *

Because they can do little but dream and wait, their dreams have an intensity beyond the dreams of ordinary people. They dream of love, and money, and power, and food—but mostly food.

MANY FORGET

Many prisoners of war, when their nightmare ordeal is over and they return to peacetime living, forget the dreams they once found refuge in.

* * *

But not Gil Bloom, who for 15 months as a prisoner of the Germans dreamed constantly of—. But let's tell his story from the beginning.

Gil, a tall, powerfully built private from South Orange, N. J., joined the U. S. Rangers shortly after the abortive raid on Dieppe. He himself fought at Gafsa in Tunisia, Gela in Sicily, Salerno and Cassino in Italy.

* * *

A few days after the Anzio landing he was with spearheading elements of Rangers when his entire outfit was trapped and captured by a larger German force after seven murderous hours of battle.

JUST ONE MEAL

He and 125 other Rangers, huddled so closely together in a single cattle car that they had to sleep standing up, rode for seven days and six nights before reaching Germany. In that time they were given only a single meal.

* * *

Pfc. Bloom began to dream—of food. Constantly hungry in dreary months that followed in a prison camp near Danzig, he found his dreams came down to a single vision.

"Day and night I dreamed of nothing but steaks. The biggest, juiciest steaks a man could think of. And mountains of snowy ice cream," he said. "And I made up my mind that if I ever got out alive, I'd spend the rest of my life surrounded by steaks and ice cream."

To escape the onrushing Russians, his captors started Gil and the other prisoners on a march across Germany in mid-January of 1945. They walked 700 miles before American troops liberated them in April.

* * *

HALF PERISHED

"We had to scavenge what we could from the countryside," he recalled. "There were no meals. We started with 800 men, and there were only 350 to 400 left when we were freed. The rest had dropped out."

* * *

Gil's weight had dropped from about 175 pounds to 98 pounds. He fainted in the chowline waiting for his first real meal and spent weeks in a hospital.

"When I came home food was a passion with me," he said. "I couldn't get enough of it."

* * *

He went back into his old business as an electrical contractor. But Gil couldn't get that wartime dream out of his head. He wanted to be surrounded by steaks.

"CHARCOAL ROOM"

Today he is. Gil took his capital and, teaming up with a Greenwich Village restaurateur named Johnny Johnston, opened a steak and chop house called "The Charcoal Room" at 45th St. and 2nd Ave., not far from the United Nations.

* * *

The place boomed from the start. One gimmick that helped: Patrons were allowed to don a chef's cap and cook their own steaks.

Now that his dream has come true Gil is as cheerful as a child with a new tricycle.

* * *

"I like to see people happy, and they're never happier than when they're eating," he said. "There's only one road to happiness — through the stomach. I found that out."

BEST HE KNOWS

Gil admires a good trencherman and says heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano is the best he knows.

* * *

"I can go two rounds at the table with him and that's about all," he admitted. "Rocky can put down a four-pound steak and then call for lamb chops. But I get filled up on a two-pound steak plus a dish of ice cream covered with chocolate syrup and whipped cream."

* * *

India to Spur Export of Cashews, Pepper

NEW DELHI—A council to promote the export of two important foreign-exchange earners, cashew nuts and pepper, has been set up in Cochin. This is the fifth export-promotion council sponsored by the Indian Government as part of its export program. The others are for cotton textiles, silk and rayon, plastic goods, and engineering products.

Chapter No. 9 (Condensed) . . . The Truth About Cancer

Leukemia Cure Calls for Greater Uptake in Research

By DR. CHARLES S. CAMERON
Medical and Scientific Director of the American Cancer Society

Today's article deals with Lymphomas, which are not tumors as generally used. They do not clearly seem to originate in a given site of a particular organ, and from there metastasize (spread) to other locations. Instead, they seem to involve an entire system or scattered parts of it—the blood-making tissues—although signs of actual disease may not show up throughout this system all at once.

The lymphomas also show a tendency to occur in younger persons. They show a predilection for those under 50 whereas cancer is commonest after that age.

As a class, the lymphomas, spread through the body as they are, cannot be treated surgically. Of all the malignant diseases, the lymphomas are among the most sensitive to irradiation— by X-rays, radium, or isotopes.

Yet, in spite of this pronounced susceptibility, they are incurable, with rare exceptions.

Proper treatment materially adds to the patient's comfort and permits him to be normally active for a much longer time than he otherwise would be.

LEUKEMIA

Cells of the blood are formed in the bone marrow, the lymph glands or nodes, and the spleen. As they mature, they are released into the blood stream. In leukemia there is an overproduction of white cells, which in many instances fail to assume mature features.

There are two basic kinds of white blood cells—the lymphocyte and the myelocyte.

There are, then, two common types of leukemia—depending on which of the basic white cells predominate.

Bleeding, in the various forms, is another sign of leukemia — of any kind — and sometimes it is the first one.

The only other early symptoms are tiredness, weakness, and tendency to become easily fatigued that accompany the associated anemia.

There is at present no cure for leukemia. But watchful care of patients, and treatment at appropriate intervals, will relieve its distressing symptoms and signs for varying lengths of time and will thereby maintain the patient in an active condition for the longest possible time.

Treatment consists of X-rays applied to the major areas of disease activity. Radioactive isotopes — usually radiophosphorus—have been administered by mouth or by injection into the blood stream. The results have been good in certain types of the disease.

ACTH IN USE

More recently, a few chemicals have come into general use — notably ACTH, and cortisone, which increase the effectiveness of irradiation therapy in the later stages of disease or in more resistant cases.

Often these new drugs restore the patient to apparent health for a while even after X-rays appear to have lost their effectiveness. But they must be used with extreme caution.

It follows a much more active course than the chronic forms, and is likely to begin in stormy fashion in contrast to the slow, insidious onset of leukemia in older persons.

A number of generally accepted or strongly suspected causes of leukemia are known. Evidence is convincing that overexposure to deeply penetrating radiations from X-ray machines, radium, and other radioactive substances is an important factor in the development of leukemia in man.

Physicians who work largely with X-rays and radium suffer from leukemia nine times more often than does the general population.

But certainly most patients with leukemia have never been exposed to powerful radiations, or to benzol, or to any other suspected cause.

So there must be some basic and as yet unidentified cause—something which lies within the patient himself. Perhaps it is related to one or another of the thousands of chemical interchanges going on constantly in the body.

Hodgkin's disease is a tumor-like process that primarily involves the lymph glands. The lymph nodes serve as depots for white blood cells of the lymphoid type, which are found there in great numbers.

These cells act as barricades against the spread of bacterial infection through the body. That is why groups of lymph nodes in a particular part of the body become swollen, and often tender, in the presence of infection.

Since the duration of Hodgkin's disease may be long or short, there is no reliable way of forecasting the length of the patient's life.

Occasionally the disease assumes a headlong course, and terminates within a year. But this is the exception.

At the other extreme are the patients who live for years—fifteen or more—with occasional episodes of active disease brought under ready control by judicious treatment.

In irradiation, gratifying response to treatment is a near certainty. But so is recurrence of the disease sooner or later. It becomes more and more resistant to treatment, until the limit of effectiveness of X-rays is reached.

Either the patient has had all the irradiation he can safely be given, or else the disease fails to respond as it formerly did.

But that need not be the end of the story. In 1942, a chemical compound related to the mustard gas developed for chemical warfare was found to have a depressive effect on the bloodforming tissues of the body.

When it was cautiously given to patients with a variety of disease of such tissues, it proved to be of distinct benefit to some of them. And those with Hodgkin's disease responded best of all.

Today, nitrogen mustard and several other compounds developed since, such as TEM, induce remissions of varying duration in most Hodgkin's patients.

LYMPHASARCOMA

In some respects, lymphosarcoma is the least understood member of the entire family of tumors. It includes a confusing variety of forms, shading from relatively benign and curable to completely obstreperous and uncontrollable.

There is even lack of agreement on where lumphosarcoma originates. It has long been regarded as arising in lymphatic tissue—mainly the lymph nodes —much as Hodgkin's disease does.

But lymphosarcoma has also been reported as a primary tumor in organs which have next to no lymph tissue—the breast, the lung, the testicle, and the bladder for example.

Most lumphosarcomas are more relentless in their course than Hodgkin's disease and tend toward a fatal termination more directly. Yet they are generally sensitive to irradiation. Frequent examination and well planend treatment will nearly always assure added life and comfort for the patients.

"Cancer in Children" will be the next article.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Georgi Malenkov, deposed Premier of the Soviet Union, is regarded here as a man once more on the upgrade in Moscow's collective iron rule.

* * *

Some experts believe he may one day become Premier again. Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is being used, in the Washington view, for his diplomatic skill but his power and influence have declined since Stalin's death. It is considered possible he will end up in the figurehead position of Soviet President when aging Marshal Klementi Voroshilov steps aside.

Marshal Georgi Zhukov, defense minister and wartime friend of President Eisenhower, is rated as a highly respected member of the ruling group but not a dominant figure. The concensus here is that military men are not trying to exercise decisive influence on Soviet policies.

* * *

Russian personalities and policies have been under close scrutiny as officials try to puzzle out what the Russians are up to with their new patterns of conduct, dramatized by their repudiation, beginning in February, of most of Stalin's works and teachings.

Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen was called home for consultation which is due to be concluded shortly.

American officials generally have concluded that the basic elements of danger which existed in Stalinist times are still present. Russia remains a dictatorship subject to the absolute decision and control of a very few men. It remains a military power of the first rank. It is guided by an aggressive ideology which as a first article of faith calls for destruction of every non-Communist system of society in the world.

The Washington analysis of Soviet behavior currently focuses on the British visit of Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev, Communist party boss. What they say and do will be examined closely for clues as to Soviet intentions in the Middle East, South Asia, Africa and Western Europe.

* * *

U. S. officials are convinced the major Soviet purpose in many foreign policy operations now is to disrupt as far as possible the Western defense system.

Important as Soviet foreign aims are, the predominant view here is that recent Soviet policy shifts have been motivated primarily by concern for internal strength and security. The key to the repudiation of Stalin is most often viewed in this light.

When Stalin died March 5, 1953, the one concern which united his survivors in the Kremlin was to protect themselves against each other and to prevent the emergence of a single all-powerful figure. This led to the development of what the Russians now call "collective leadership."

* * *

Also, it not only provided a basis for repudiation of Stalin, but created a necessity for it. If the people were to be sold on the idea that collective rule provided the best possible government, they had to be unsold on 20 years of propaganda that Stalin's one-man grip was beyond criticism.

Most American officials now seem convinced that Khrushchev, Bulganin, Zhukov, Malenkov and the others in the top dozen in Moscow are certain that Stalin's dictatorship was a disaster for Soviet communism and that they really believe in the collective principle.

* * *

The downgrading of Molotov is attributed here to a rigidity of thinking, an inability to apply the kind of flexible policy maneuvers which Khrushchev and Bulganin pursue.

Malenkov gained premiership when Stalin died but had to give it up in February 1955. In recent months he has appeared at Moscow parties and receptions as one of the inner group, close to Khrushchev and Bulganin, with every appearance of confidence in his future.

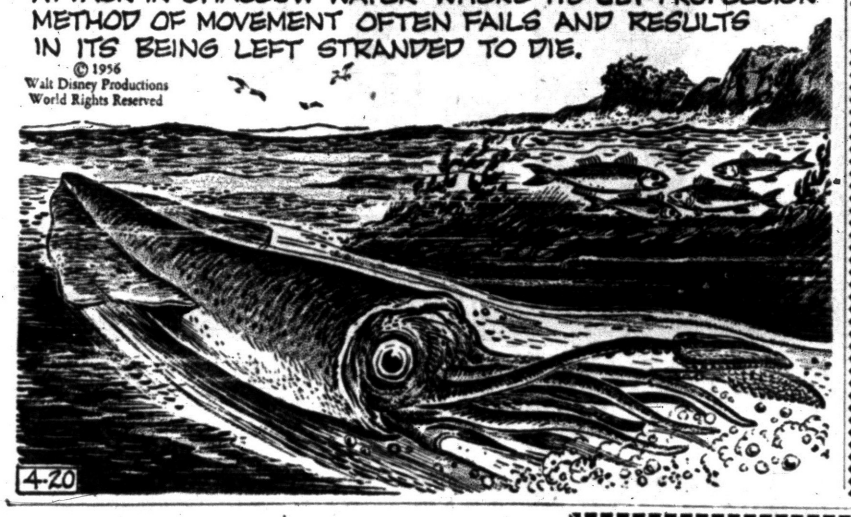

* * *

He is regarded by various people who have had opportunity to see him in operation in Moscow and in England as extremely capable and intelligent. Coupled with the improvement in his political position, this has given rise to speculation that some day he may reach the premiership again.

U. of M. Students Planning Annual Gala Michigras

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Studies take a backseat this time of year, as hundreds of students at the University of Michigan prepare for their annual Michigras, a spring-time festive weekend.

* * *

More than 40 floats will be finished on time for the grand parade today through downtown Ann Arbor, where traffic, shopping and everything will just have to wait.

Nine Michigan high School bands will join the University's marching band and the university's Air Force ROTC Band in the parade.

Then the students formally open their carnival grounds, complete with merry-go-rounds, ferris wheel and miniature trains, for Friday and Saturday. Profits are split between two student organizations mostly for charitable uses.

Charged with the rape of a 10-year-old girl last Dec. 31, Hobart Lee of 401 Donovan St., South Lyon, changed his plea to guilty Wednesday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Lee pleaded guilty before Judge H. Russel Holland, who will sentence him April 30. He had pleaded innocent at his arraignment Jan. 30.

Grace Kelley (Detroit Clerk) Has Her Woes!

DETROIT (AP) —The last few months have been difficult for Grace Kelley, a Detroit marriage license clerk with a name like you-know-who.

* * *

Her easy-to-read signature on marriage applications is sure to tickle a betrothed couple into a witticism about the similarity.

"At first I thought it was cute," the attractive 40-year-old Miss Kelley said. "Lately, I've been toying with the idea of asking for a temporary transfer to a basement file room."

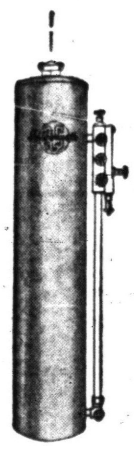

* * *

She has worked out a standard answer to nip the thing before it gets rolling.

"No, we're not related, haven't met and our names are spelled differently," she rattles off.

3rd Salk Shot Doses Delayed Temporarily

LANSING (AP)—No Salk polio vaccine will be released for third doses for the time being, the State Health Department said today.

* * *

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said the rules have been changed in accordance with a recent recommendation by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Present priorities call for distribution of the Salk vaccine for first and second shots only for persons within the designated age groups—children 1 to 14 and pregnant women.

* * *

"Actually," Dr. Heustis said, "the rule simply puts teeth into the recommendation we have been making right along—that as many as possible in the eligible groups should get the first two doses of vaccine before the third shots are given.

* * *

"We anticipate a shortage of the vaccine," Dr. Heustis said, "and have been assured that the first two doses give a high level of protection against paralytic polio."

Police Moan if Outsiders Work Locally

When Out of Town Thugs Pull Jobs—'It's Murder'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A local hoodlum sees a chance for a profitable robbery. Instead of pulling it himself, he "cases" the job and telephones complete information to friends in a distant city. They fly to the scene, commit the crime and, in a matter of hours, are safely back home.

* * *

Policemen tab this as one of the toughest types of crime to solve. They have good files on their local criminals, but nothing on the out-of-towners who did the job. Federal agencies do not figure in it because it's a "local" crime.

Now, after years of effort, officers in a score of Western communities have taken the first concrete step toward creating a super police intelligence network to collect and distribute information about intercity criminals. It cuts right across state lines.

The new agency will be headed by San Francisco's Police Chief Frank Ahern and will center at the California State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation in Sacramento.

"Information is 90 per cent of our operation, and this thing is dedicated to furnishing information," Ahern describes it.

* * *

Twenty-six law enforcement officials, representing key cities in the vast area from the Pacific Coast east to the Mississippi River participated in the organizing conference in San Francisco. St. Louis, Denver, Seattle, Las Vegas, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Reno, San Diego and Portland were among them.

Ahern estimates it will take two or three months to get the bureau into full operation.

This is the first such agency set up by state and local law enforcement groups.

* * *

Local departments always have kept detailed files on the robbers, con men and other underworld characters living in their own city. They know the comings and goings, the habits and the operating methods of these people, but even large intelligence units, such as in Los Angeles, have never had enough information on the floating criminal, the hoodlum with out-of-town connections.

Hubbard Blasts Episcopal Cleric

Dearborn Mayor Says Bishop Interfering With Official's Race Views

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of suburban Dearborn says the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan, was "sticking his nose where it does not belong" when he criticized Hubbard's views on segregation.

Hubbard said he is going to sue the Bishop for libel.

Bishop Emrich, in a public statement Wednesday accused Hubbard of opposing "fundamental teachings of the Christian faith" in his segregation views. The Bishop declared "it is the duty of every pastor and Christian to oppose him."

Hubbard was quoted in a recent newspaper interview as saying he was elected on a platform that he kept Negroes out of Dearborn and in so doing reflected the wishes of the suburb's residents.

Bishop Emrich said Hubbard had "hurt the good name of Michigan and boasted of his intolerance."

* * *

In answer, Hubbard said yesterday that "under the principles of freedom of speech and freedom of religion, I am against forcing, or having forced, any race of people upon another because it is morally wrong to do so."

Treasurer of Club Enters Guilty Plea

Charged with larceny by conversion of $1,341.33 in dues of the Pontiac Matrons' Club, Mary Hargo of 51 Hibbard Ct. changed her plea to guilty Wednesday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Hargo, who was treasurer of the group, reportedly kept a false bankbook to show members records of deposits she had not made.

The shortage was discovered, members told police, last December when the club funds were to be drawn from the bank for donation to charities. At that time, they said, Mrs. Hargo disappeared, after a fire of unknown origin had slightly damaged her house.

Mrs. Hargo stood mute on the charge at her circuit court arraignment, but changed the plea to guilty Wednesday. She will be sentenced by Judge Frank L. Doty April 30.

Earthquake in Spain Rocks Town, Kills 4

GRANADA, Spain (AP)—At least four persons were killed and many injured last night during a nine-second earthquake which collapsed houses.

The quake—strongest felt here in years—struck hardest in Albolote village. It killed 3 persons and injured 10 there. Villagers rushed from their homes in panic. The tremor killed one person in the town of Artafe and caved in the roof of Granada's city hall.

Specialized Parking

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Police found this note attached to a parking meter post which was shortened considerably and reinstalled after an automobile hit it: "For small foreign cars only."

Citizens Misunderstand the Meaning of Garbage

LUDLOW, Ky. (AP)—City Council plans to "get tough" with residents who don't know the meaning of "garbage."

It adopted that attitude last night after it learned the town's garbage truck wasn't tough enough to handle what has been found in garbage cans. The trucks grinding equipment broke down because residents were loading their cans with such things as cement blocks and iron wheels.

25 Cent Settlement Appeases Woman

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—It will take more than 25 cents to get General Telephone Co. of Kentucky to tangle with a woman in court.

* * *

Mrs. Irene Hanson was determined to recover the quarter she said she deposited in a pay phone last December without receiving service. She shelled out $3.40 in costs to file suit, saying the company had refused to make a refund. But a company attorney dropped by the court with $3.65—$3.40 for the court and 25 cents for Mrs. Hanson.

THE JUNIOR CIRCUS — 5
The Tiger Leap

Raja, a savage animal, never seems to enjoy doing his tricks. In his last and most exciting one he leaps over a dish of flames and always gets a big round of applause. Then he tosses his head and snarls at his audience just to let them know he's a tiger.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color it with crayons. Raja is orange color, with the lower side of his body white. He has green eyes.

Cut the parts out carefully, and fold back the ends of the table so it will stand. Put the fancy belt around Raja and fold the ends over behind him.

Attach the long pivot piece behind Raja's back between the points marked x, as shown in the little sketch, and fasten the other end behind the table by putting a brass fastener or a bent pin through the holes indicated. Then you can make Raja do the daring leap over the flames.

(Sharon McLear, Oakland, Calif., sent us this idea. Your idea for Junior Editors may win you $10 if you send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

ANN ARBOR (AP) — John F. McDonald of Sault Ste. Marie and Sister Mary Hugh of Detroit were given gold key awards today for outstanding contributions to high school journalism.

The awards were made at the 29th annual meeting of the Michigan Interscholastic Press Assn. at the University of Michigan.

McDonald is adviser to the Soo High School's "Keynote." The nun is adviser to the newspaper and literary magazine at Our Lady of Mercy High School, Detroit.

More than 500 high school journalists and 100 of their advisers are attending the meeting.

Radiation Keeps Beef

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Beef slices treated with atomic radiation have been kept two years in the same refrigerator without any sign of deterioration. Alcohol-Injected Brain Can Stop Shaking Palsy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Shooting alcohol into the brain often stops the constant trembling and muscle rigidity of shaking palsy, a neurosurgeon reported today.

• • •

The alcohol kills part of the brain to send out the volleys of nerve signals causing the tragic shaking. It is chemical surgery, in an area almost in the middle of the brain, known as the globus pallidus.

Brilliantly promising results with this and another new technique were described to the American College of Physicians by Dr. Irving S. Cooper, 33, of New York University College of Medicine.

A needle is thrust into the brain, guided by X rays to reach the pallidus area. Novocaine is injected first to see if it temporarily blocks the trembling. If it does, a dose of pure alcohol is injected to destroy this small part of the brain.

• • •

There are two of the pallidus areas. Destroying one stops the shaking and rigidity on the opposite side of the body. Some persons have had both areas treated to eliminate shaking altogether, Dr. Cooper said. It does not cause loss of muscle strength.

Results have been excellent in 75 per cent of 145 persons undergoing this chemical surgery in the last two years, he said. Less than 3 per cent died.

One man, bedridden for eight years, now is working after chemical treatment of both pallidus areas halted his uncontrolled shaking and paralyzing rigidity, the young neurosurgeon said.

Perhaps half a million American men and women have shaking palsy. The new methods can probably benefit at least 30 per cent of them, Dr. Cooper said.

Icardi Perjury Counts Dropped

Indictment Thrown Out After Defense Presents Evidence in Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Army Lt. Aldo L. Icardi was acquitted yesterday of charges of perjury. He was accused of falsely denying complicity in the World War II murder of OSS Maj. William V. Holohan behind enemy lines in Italy.

The acquittal was directed by U. S. Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keech on a defense motion to throw out the indictment.

Under court rules, since the jury already had been sworn, the motion amounted to one for a judgment of acquittal.

There can be no government appeal.

Icardi, 35, is now a real estate broker in Pittsburgh. An Italian court convicted him in absentia of murder — meaning without being able to get Icardi's presence in court.

The perjury charge in the court here was brought after Icardi testified before a House Armed Services subcommittee in March, 1953, and swore he had no part in the slaying of Holohan.

Judge Keech ruled that Icardo's allegedly false testimony before the House subcommittee could not have been material to the subcommittee's inquiry.

Icardi, the father of five children, listened tensely as Judge Keech delivered a long legal opinion in which he said the subcommittee was "not functioning as a competent tribunal" when Icardi testified.

And, assuming that it was functioning as a competent tribunal, he said, Icardi's allegedly false answers "did not relate to a material matter."

Scholastic news had a high seat in the interest parade. Honor students are being announced in the schools and the National Honor Society is choosing new members.

Meetings and concert have climaxed this week's activities and students are planning big things for the month to come.

AT LAKE ORION

Lake Orion students voted unanimously to have a National Honor Society in their school so a committee consisting of faculty representative Robert Michaels, Boys Counselor, Ray Vanette; Girls Counselor, Jean Wertenberger, Mrs. Phyllis Newton, Mrs. Dorothy Blankert and Mr. Wiegman, principal, will meet to discuss the matter.

Student council members are attending a youth rally in Olympia Stadium in Detroit Sunday at 2:30 to hear Columnist Sidney Harris.

* * *

An assembly on April 30 will be held to present campaign speeches, nominations, etc. before the class and student council elections on May 1.

Last of the exchange assemblies will take place the 25th with a presentation from Rochester.

* * *

Students in a woodwork section and girls of a home economic class have exchanged for this six-week period with the girls learning the basic woodworking art and producing shadow boxes while the boys are sewing aprons, and learning cooking skills.

Students are signing up for next year's classes and planning their schedules while teachers are attending planning meetings, checking equipment for comfort, usability, etc. for furniture for the new high school.

* * *

AT WALLED LAKE

At least twenty-four members of Walled Lake's senior class received free trips as their activity points totaled at least 220. Points were obtained by working on class projects such as dances, and selling Christmas cards and magazine subscriptions. All other students must pay the balance by April 24.

* * *

The seniors will leave for their trip to Mackinac Island and Chicago on May 27 and return May 30.

The Varsity Club is sponsoring a twerp dance tonight in the senior high gym. The dance, which is the first girl-ask-boy affair of the year for the school, will begin at 8 and end at 11:30.

Entrance applications are being accepted now at the senior high office for the driving road-eo which will be held May 13 at Robell shopping center in Walled Lake. The deadline for applications is May 9. Winners will be judged by their score on a written test and their performance in the road-eo. Three awards, a trophy for first place and plaques for the two runner-ups, will be given by the school board.

AT DRYDEN

AT ROCHESTER

The officers of the Community Youth Center were guests at the meeting. The two groups drew up by-laws concerning the center. The center will be open two nights a week.

AT CLARKSTON

The Junior and Senior Banquet is scheduled for April 28 at 7 p.m. Jerry Urick will preside as toastmaster. Mr. Klingman, principal, will give the invocation.

* * *

The League Student Council met at Northville April 13. It was decided that the members should pay $3 dues a year to cover expenses.

The Junior play was quite a success. A party was held after the play for the entire cast.

The second year shorthand class visited the Highland Park College on April 16. The trip was made so the students could obtain information to help them in a choice of jobs.

The Future Teachers Club initiated several new members. They have planned a trip to one of the colleges in the near future.

The yearbook has been completed and will be distributed approximately May 30.

Exchange Students Visit Waterford

By JEAN LIMATTA

Today ended the week's visit of Waterford Township High School's five exchange students from Port Huron. After a week of attending WTHS classes, Barbara Gote, senior; Tom Tielking and Carol Kurzweil, juniors; and Jeneal McCanna and Harold Schafer, sophomores left for Port Huron this afternoon.

Alma College A Cappella Choir was added to WTHS list of guests this week as they sang at the assembly yesterday.

General Norstad Is a Diplomat

New Leader of NATO Has Lengthy Experience Handling People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Circumstances have pushed Gen. Lauris Norstad out of his long-followed career — that of being an efficient No. 2 man.

• • •

Since Larry Norstad became the youngest general officer during World War II he has been the quiet, busy, seldom-seen second man for a line of well-known firsts — for the Eisenhowers, the Vandenbergs, the Gruenthers.

OUT IN FRONT

Like the man he is succeeding, Army Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Norstad is looked upon in the military as a "brain," a thinker and planner.

• • •

He also has a reputation as a persuader, in American military circles and abroad, among men over there whose interests are not always identical. Norstad says it is is easy to get the airmen of different nations together because there is a universal companionship of men who work up there where there are no boundaries.

DELEGATES AUTHORITY

Norstad, those who work with him say, has a valuable quality for a commander—he knows how and to whom to delegate authority. As a man who has made deputyship a career until now he has had much authority delegated to him.

At times as a deputy, Norstad has had to call into play his utmost diplomatic skill. There was that occasion in North Africa. Norstad had been sent down from England to look over the provisional air force there and condition it for arrival of Supreme Commander Eisenhower.

THE DAY CAME

The day came. Eisenhower arrived. He made a little talk. Then he asked the question.

An apparently unhappy colonel stood up said "sir, the rations are terrible and—."

• • •

Norstad zoomed into the situation. He was so sorry, colonel, but he had neglected to tell him an important phone call was awaiting. The colonel bustled out of the room, Ike's visited ended and everyone, except the absent colonel, was happy.

Norstad is of Norwegian descent the home of ancestors and some living relatives at Stavanger. Five years ago, Norstad went to Stavanger in connection with ceremonies held at the nearby airdrome of Sola.

• • •

A half dozen of the Norstad clan at Stavanger were present. Norstad was delighted when the Norwegian colonel introduced the American general as "one of our boys come home."

Awarded Ford Grant

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Dr. J. W. Giachino, head of Western Michigan College's department of industrial technology, has been chosen to work under a Ford Foundation grant on a teacher training program in Pakistan. He will leave June 20 for Pakistan, where he will spend two years developing a technical program at the community college level.

Speed Demons Sure Have It Easy in Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Break the law by speeding through Rio's streets or by passing a red light and no cop will run you down with a ticket and a tongue lashing. In fact, it'll be several days before you know whether you've been caught. And then you'll find out by reading your name in the newspapers.

• • •

In Rio, the police just don't have enough motorcycles or cars to use for traffic purposes.

If a policeman observes you breaking a traffic law, he merely writes down your license number. The newspapers print your name with a long list of recent violators. You're supposed to drop in and pay your fine—ranging from 20 cruzeiros (about 27 cents) to 150 cruzeiros (about $2). But this takes many hours so few people show up.

• • •

No one tears his hair out worrying about your fine and no one is sent around to collect. They just wait until the end of the year. Then it's settling up time. The whole month of January is devoted to the sale of new license plates. Citizens first pay their fines and then get their plates. Theoretically, it's pay for the year's offenses or don't drive.

• • •

But there's a gimmick. Drivers—like drivers the world over—wait until the last moment to buy their plates. Officials attempt to avoid a last-minute rush by promising that fines need not be paid before getting the plates if the plates are bought before Jan. 15. Of course, this does not cancel the fine but nevertheless most people don't pay. And the rush to buy plates goes on just the same.

• • •

Officials estimate millions of cruzeiros are lost yearly under this system. But it isn't going to be changed since everyone — except the city treasurer—is happy.

FRINGED AND FANCY — Called pinks because once upon a time that was the only color common in this flower, the species is more properly called by its botanical name, Dianthus. This example is called Single Gaiety. There's a double flowered form that's even fluffier. Both make excellent cut flowers. Seeds should be sown indoors right away.

Plan Rose Gardens Before Planting Time

Plan your rose beds in advance, marking a specific location for each rose. When the plants arrive, get them into the ground as quickly as possible. Take care that the root systems do not dry out—soaking the plants in water for several hours before planting is a good habit.

If planting must be delayed, bury the plants in clean soil.

City Forester Reveals Tree Planting Methods

BY DONALD E. NAGEL
City Forester

On Sunday we celebrate Arbor Day. Like anything else there is a right and a wrong way to plant trees and shrubs.

The first thing to consider in planting a tree is the condition of the soil. Will it support a tree? If in doubt, have the soil tested.

Next determine what purpose you want the tree to serve and then plant the proper species. Don't plant that little tree close to your house because it will someday be a large tree; likewise be careful of utility wires and gas water pipes.

If your house and yard are small, plant a small tree. Here are a list of some of the good small trees: Eastern Redbud, Flowering Dogwood, Little Leaf Linden, Flowering Ash and Idaho Locust;

GIVE RULES

Planting procedure is simple if the following rules are followed:

1. Mark out a circle siv inches larger than the tree roots. 2. Separate the good soil from the top soil 3. Hold the tree in place and put soil around the roots. 4. Set the tree a few inches deeper than grown in the nursery.

5. Stamp the soil around the roots as it is added and when the hole is three quarters full, apply water so that the soil is well washed into the air spaces. 6. Continue to add soil leaving it loose on top.

7. Make a ridge around the tree with some of the soil to retain water; 9. Trim the tree back about one half to two thirds to offset the root loss. Do not cut the leader or tip of the tree.

9. Wrap the tree with tree warp or burlap to prevent sunscald and entrance of insects and 10. Stake the tree if there is danger of it blowing over. Attach the tree to the stake with a piece of wire run though a piece of garden hose.

Remember to grow and maintain healthy trees, they must have light, food, water and air.

Saturday Opens Gardens, Park at Cranbrook

The forty acres of gardens and park surrounding Cranbrook House will open to the public for the first time this year on Saturday and Sunday from 2 until 6 p.m.

They will remain open to visitors every weekend from now until the first of November.

In addition to spring blooms the gardens and park are decorated with replicas of French, Chinese and Italian sculptures and fountains, as well as works commissioned expressly for the Cranbrook estate grounds.

The gardens and park are operated by the alumni of Kingswood and Cranbrook School. Garden clubs and other organizations may make advance arrangements for special weekday visits. Fees go to help deserving students gain scholarship aid at both schools.

Label Rows of Seed

When sowing seed, be sure to label the rows. It may seem at the time that you'll be able to remember that you put the candy tuft here and the marigolds there, but in the welter of spring activities, you may forget.

School, City to Plant Trees for Arbor Day

The Parks and Recreation department will join with students at LeBaron School to celebrate Arbor Day. On April 27 Cub Scout pack 66 and the Student Council of LeBaron School will sponsor a program.

Two honey locust trees furnished by the Parks and Recreation department will be planted by the group. City Forester Donald Nagel will be present.

Biennials Lose Luster After Two Seasons

By HENRY PREE

Most gardeners will agree that foxgloves, sweet Williams, Canterbury bells, pansies, forget-me-nots and hollyhocks are among the most pleasing of plants for the flower garden.

But these plants are often disappointing to the beginner who sees their beauty fade after a season or two of bloom. This is because they are biennial and not perennial plants.

A biennial is a plant which is started from seed and requires two seasons to come to maturity. The first year it makes top growth, usually a fleshy root. The second year it produces flowers and seed, living on the food stored up in the root and then dying. A perennial is a plant which lives more than two years.

This gardener isn't the only one who doesn't know the difference between perennial and biennial flowers.

While trees and shrubs are perennials, the term is generally applied to flowers whose roots continue to live and send up year after year new leaves and flowers which die when winter comes.

While some perennials will flower the first year from seed sown early indoors, they are not at their best until the second year.

Where biennials are to be included in the mixed border, they must be treated as annual plants. The young seedlings should be placed in the desired position where they are to bloom and renewed by other plants the following year.

Even those biennials that are hardy and self-sowing, such as the hollyhocks are not to be depended upon.

Second-year plants in many cases have a tendency to be weak and straggling with many smaller blooms. Canterbury bells and the "cup and saucer" form are indispensable garden flowers that like a good, rich soil and last much longer in bloom if planted in a half-shady place.

* * *

As a matter of fact, all the perennial species of graden pinks should be renewed every two or three years, preferably by seeds when named varieties are not included.

The common foxgloves usually are treated as biennials, seed sown early in the spring producing flowering plants the following year.

Hollyhocks are best used either in massed plantings or as background for low-growing plants.

Pansies give their best bloom on young plants. Grown as perennials, with care they may survive for many years, but new stock should be kept coming on every year if the large choice blooms are to be had.

* * *

Should Plant Tree, Says City Forester

Arbor Day Sunday is a day set aside by law to plant trees, shrubs, flowers or vines. It is a day set aside through the efforts of J. Sterling Morton.

Michigan residents have good reason to be proud of Mr. Morton. He grew up in the state, attended the University of Michigan and was a reporter with a Detroit paper.

A member of the United States Board of Agriculture, he became secretary of agriculture and proclaimed the first Arbor Day in 1872.

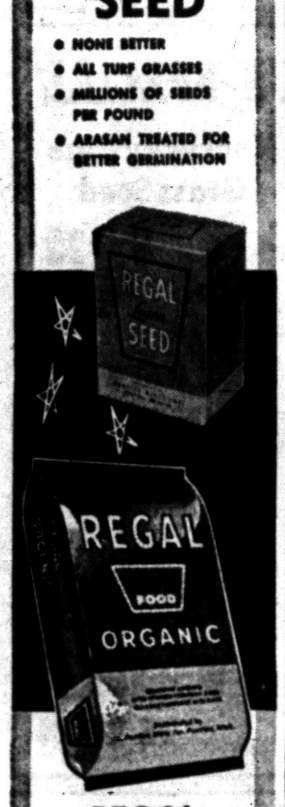

City Forester Donald Nagel has urged all city residents to observe Arbor Day with the planting of a tree.

PLANTING ROSE — Roland Chapman, 2620 Sunhill gets ready to do his spring rose planting. Here he puts sheep manure and peat in the 18 to 24 inch hole dug for the bush. He made a pyramid in the bottom of the hole so that the rose roots would have a place and not just be shoved into the ground.

Waterford Rose Lover Begins Spring Gardening

Ten to twelve years experience means a lot to a rose grower and those years of experience show up in the quality of a rose garden he grows.

Roland Chapman, 2620 Sunhill Rd., spends an average of two to three hours a day on his roses and this time and experience speak for him.

Chapman took time from working in his garden yesterday to give us a few words of advice on growing the nation's favorite flower.

First he said, you should dig a hole from 18 to 24 inches deep depending on the size of the plant. Use compost and sheep manure if available.

Build a pyrmid in the bottom of the hole so you can distribute the roots over the soil instead of shoving them into the ground. Cover partially and then work dirt in among the roots so there are no air pockets. Tamp the soil down firmly and use about a pail of water. Finish filling in the dirt.

BRING DIRT UP

Chapman said in the spring he brings the dirt up around the bush and then when the weather gets warmer takes it down again.

Another spring job is to cut out the small twiggy growth and dead wood on the bushes. When you make a cut, Chapman said, use surgical paint or a shellac on the cuts so worms don't invade the bush.

To maintain your roses, Chapman advises watering them "good" once a week and doing a little shallow cultivation then mulching them with compost or peat moss.

Rose lovers always have their favorites and so does Chapman. He has a climbing rose, Doubloon, which has gone to the top of the roof, and torn two trellises from the ground. Chapman said he's holding it down now with a 4x4 post and a 1x2 piece of lumber. In bloom, the Doubloon is a solid mass of yellow.

A favorite in the tea roses is Peace, a soft yellow beauty and still another is Crimson Glory which Chapman says is a beautiful scarlet with large blooms. This one is easy to handle and work with, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman have given up growing the perennials and annuals and have concentrated solely on their roses. Neighbors in the area agree that it was worth while because the Chapman's rose bed is "one of the prettiest sights around."

Rock Gardens Need Good Area Drainage

If the construction of a rock garden is contemplated, the best method of procedure is to dig out and put aside the top soil, make certain the area has good drainage.

The rocks should be at a minimum, one-third under ground, and better two thirds. Return the soil tamping it firmly into the crevices among the rocks.

Proper Soil Preparation First of Recommendations

Recommendations that will guarantee a first-rate lawn were obtained this week from an expert in the field, Andrew C. Maier, 2174 Old Lane drive, Waterford.

Maier has been experimenting with soils, seeds and fertilizers for the past thirty years and has come to some rather definite conclusions in that time. On his property at Old Lane he has sown a variety of grasses, each in a strip about 20 feet by 50 feet. The differences between them, as seen growing side by side, is amazing. Each has its outstanding virtues.

Proper preparation of the soil is this expert's first recommendation. If the lawn is a new one just being started or an old one being renovated, a soil analysis by the county agent will prevent mistakes. Since grass roots grow six to ten inches deep, samples to that depth should be taken.

To prepare the ground, disk or spade the soil to a depth of three or four inches, rake and grade to a slight slope for drainage and eye appeal. If the county agent recommended lime, put it on before raking, and several days should elapse before the next step is taken.

Fertilize the ground with superphosphate, 0-20-0, about ten pounds to 1,000 square feet, and work it in. If the soil is sandy or gravelly, an inch dressing of good topsoil will act as a water-holding medium.

GOOD TOPSOIL

Maier emphasizes the "good topsoil," which he says is not necessarily black. A friend of his bought some "nice, dark topsoil" which wouldn't grow anything. Close inspection showed that it was mostly coalyard scrapings.

When buying your seed, beware of alta fescue, 31 fescue and timothy. These are good grasses for playgrounds but are too coarse for a good lawn. If you have a steep slope on your grounds, a small percentage of perennial rye will help. It germinates quickly and will prevent erosion from heavy rains.

High-grade fescues, chewings, and creeping red are the best for sandy soil, low fertility, well-drained and shaded areas. The finest of lawn grasses, Kentucky bluegrass, demands sun. A new lawn will need approximately three pounds per 1,000 square feet; an old lawn, about one pound per 1,000 square feet.

Seed may be broadcast but better distribution is obtained with a seed-fertilizer spreader. After seeding, rake the ground with the back of a rake, roll and then water.

The lawn must be kept moist until good germination appears, and one day without sufficient moisture is sure-death to baby grass. Lots of water makes good roots and chokes out weeds. Surface watering encourages weeds.

In commenting on Merion bluegrass, Maier recommended late August planting, using one pound to 1,000 square feet. This grass is the spreading type, he explained, and will make a solid lawn. It does not grow as tall as Kentucky but grows very dense and seems to smother out weeds.

If watered regularly, it makes a beautiful lawn, giving a very soft mat and deeper green than more expensive grasses without demanding the care of the expensive type.

After the lawn is established, fertilize with complete organic fertilizers. These do not burn and the residue has a high humus content which the lawn can always use. In spring and fall, fertilize with 25 pounds of 10-6-4 to every 1,000 square feet.

Crabgrass is one of the worst bugaboos to overcome in a lawn. Maier recommends the use of Crag No. 1 for complete control. However, he cautions against using it on a lawn which contains bent grass because injury will result.

If one complete spraying of the herbicide is done three months in a row—that is, once each in April, May and June—the crabgrass and many other weeds will be licked for two years or more!

Tree Planting Grows in State

Gigantic Task Covers 46,800 Acres Barren Land

Picture the size of the undertaking involved if every man, woman and child in a city roughly the size of Royal Oak, Ann Arbor or Muskegon were to journey into the country and plant 1,000 tree seedlings.

This illustration will give some indication of the scope of Michigan's 1955 tree-planting record, a gigantic task carried out, for the greatest part, by forest industries and private landowners.

According to official figures just released, 46,800 acres of barren land were planted to trees last year. Nearly 80 per cent of the job was done on privately owned land. Trees were planted at the rate of approximately 1,000 to the acre.

Charles G. Allen of Detroit, chairman of the Michigan Forest Industries Committee, said most of the planting was done on burned over land once cleared for farmsites.

He pointed out that it is seldom necessary to plant a tree where one has been cut, and that very little planting is done in recently harvested forest areas, since woodlands reforest themselves through natural regeneration.

RESTORE LAND

"Forest management as practiced today on Michigan's Tree Farms provides for a natural growth of seedlings without planting help from man in almost all cases," Allen, who is head of the woods department of Scott Paper Co.'s Detroit Division, declared. "Planting operations restore the productivity of lands laid waste by the ravages of earlier fires."

Not all of the trees planted will reach maturity, said Allen. Thinnings, improvement cuttings and intermediate harvests will reduce the original number considerably as the timber matures.

Allen's committee is state sponsor of the Tree Farm program to encourage good forest management. The program is sponsored by American Forest Products Industries, Washington 6, D. C.

Orchids Require Care

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Lucky the person who got a blooming orchid plant for a gift; even luckier, the new orchid owner who knows how to take care of his plant.

Orchids are not nearly as flimsy and delicate as they look, but they do have a few requirements that must be observed.

San Francisco Bay area orchid grower Jack Halpern has these tips—they like a daytime temperature, in general, to reach 70 to 80 degrees and a night temperature to drop to 50 or 60.

A southern exposure window is the best place for the plants. They want plenty of light but not direct light and curtains should shield them from the direct sun.

Foliage color will help you determine if your light is right. Deep green indicates insufficient light. Yellow green means too much sun. But if the leaves are of a slightly yellow green and stiff and leathery in texture, the light is the right intensity.

Water your orchid once a week—submerge the whole plant and pot in a bucket of water and let it soak for 30 seconds to one minute. Then take it out and put it in a drain bucket with a raised bottom.

* * *

Feeding is not necessary—just the food they get in the water—but if plants are to be forced, they are fed once every three waterings.

If you're buying orchids yourself, the grower suggests you buy one that is in bloom so you will know what you are getting. Even well established varieties differ tremendously.

* * *

It is best to start with just one plant, to see if you are both successful and like raising orchids. If you do, pick out one more, and then another at intervals so you will have blooms throughout the year. Blooms last from three weeks to two months, depending on variety.

Tree Seedlings Can Destroy Cement Walks

Treedom's runaway delinquents are a stain on American family life, upsetting to home and finances.

* * *

These rampaging juveniles are seedlings that hide out in unlikely spots, germinate and grow to sturdy size before they are discovered.

Unfortunately, these supersized weeds can crack stalwart foundations and rupture sidewalks and driveways. So start sleuthing today to find and destroy these secret marauders.

The most likely "undercover" spots to unmask the invaders are in isolated corners of the house or garage foundations, in beds of dense shrubbery or by the front porch behind innocent foundation plantings.

Start Compost Pile for Your Garden Beds

Start a compost pile in an unobtrusive corner as the spring clean up work in the garden starts. Build it like a club sandwich with a bottom layer of rich top soil, a six inch layer of non-woody material, a thin layer of manure or fertilizer and composting chemical if not, a sprinkling of lime and another layer of top soil and so on.

* * *

Keep the pile concave on top to catch the rain and when it has been decomposing for six weeks or so, turn it over. The result will be a rich humus-y material for top dressing or to dig into the garden beds.

Fertilize Perennials

The perennial garden will benefit at this time by the careful application of a complete chemical fertilizer. Work it carefully so that the growing plants are not disturbed.

Dead or Sick Trees Should Be Removed

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS)—Horticulturist Charles M. Drage of Colorado A & M College reminds homeowners of the danger of large, old, dead or sick trees in the event of high winds in the spring.

* * *

Falling trees or limbs, Drage says, can cause personal property loss much greater than the cost of removal. Personal injury is another danger.

* * *

Outright removal of dangerous trees isn't the only alternative, according to the horticulturist. A good pruning job sometimes will do the job.

Trees Dress Up Home

In planning a new home on a wooded tract, a tree specialist or landscaper should be consulted along with the architect and contractor. A house is usually only as beautiful as the grounds around it and trees are the ornaments that dress up a landscape.

FARM News GARDEN

Gardens Need New Plant Life

Half the joy of home gardening comes from adding "something new" each year, according to studies by the American Association of Nurserymen.

Many owners of older properties who have planted new species every year to give a wide variety of foliage and flower have discovered that they get far more joy and comfort out of their home grounds.

Start with a regular plan, says the Nurserymen's Association, and study your property fully so you will put the right plants in the right places originally.

It may mean the adding of one or more new flowering trees or shrubs each year, the planting of one of each kind of fruits, or a perennial garden. Coniferous evergreens offer winter beauty and warmth when everything else is rather drab. Plant to a plan, for effect, for food, for comfortable outdoor living and privacy.

Each year more people are placing more emphasis on outdoor living on the property. Dining and partying in a delightful outdoor living room surrounded by lovely trees and shrubs not only is healthy, but it saves the housewife a lot of work in cooking and cleaning up afterward. Outdoor meals usually are simpler and, with paper plates, no dishes to do.

Seeds Can Be Started in Cold Frames

Annuals Provide Colorful Borders From Summer Through Jack Frost

By HENRY PREE

The constant pleasure of having flowers in the home may be a good reason why so many gardeners grow annuals each year.

Likewise on the credit side is the fact that annuals make possible a colorful border from the beginning of summer until Jack Fro calls a halt to the season.

There are bound to be many blank spaces in the garden after the early blooming perennials have passed on. Planting of annuals about these perennials and in other vacant areas will continue the bloom throughout the summer.

* * *

Annuals are one-season plants. They grow fast, make seed so as to perpetuate their kind, and die. Good gardeners don't let them go to seed, so when the soil in which they're grown is light, well-drained and well-fed, when the plants receive sunlight and as much moisture as they need, they flower furiously.

* * *

Potted annuals may be purchased from florists or nurserymen. You may hire a professional to grow them from seed supplied by yourself or you may raise them in flats in a window, a hotbed or a cold frame.

Annuals also can be planted outdoors, some in the fall for early spring germination and others in the spring about the time fruit trees come into bloom.

Annuals probably give the greatest amount of satisfaction when they are supplementary to garden perennials.

PINK: Snapdragon; cosmos; petunia; zinnia.

Beside these annuals that always make a good showing when placed in the flower border, there are many more that may be used for interest or bouquet arrangements.

Get Plants for Home With Root Cuttings

An economical way of getting plants for your home is by root cuttings. Many plants are increased by cuttings because this method preserves the characteristics of the parent plant which are often lost in plants raised from seed.

Cuttings may be taken from different parts of the plant. To have strong, healthy plants, take cuttings from healthy stock. Clean sharp sand is the most useful medium for rooting them since it is easy to handle, furnishes aeration and drainage and can be sterilized easily.

Install Own Water System in Ground

A new underground sprinkler system can be installed by do-it-yourself enthusiasts with a minimum of digging and little worry about future maintenance or replacement.

It features solid brass sprinklers, stainless steel clamps, and lightweight pipe made of Bakelite polyethylene which resists freezing, rust, rot and corrosion. A 47-piece kit that will water an average lawn area up to 1,400 square feet includes eight adjustable sprinkler heads, 80 feet of ¾ inch inside-diameter pipe.

Few tools are needed to install this system, a sharp knife, a wrench, a screwdriver, a spade, and pipe compound. First, eight sprinkler locations are staked out for the best spray coverage. Preessure of about 50 pounds will water a 15-foot circle.

Lengths of pipe are cut to reach from one sprinkler head to the next. The flexible polyethylene pipe curves around trees or corners to provide any pattern desired. After lengths of pipe have been clamped to the sprinklers, the sod is slit and pried open to a depth of five inches to bring the sprinkler heads flush with the ground surface, and the sod is then tamped back in place.

* * *

A three-foot length of vinyl plastic garden hose connects the sprinkler system to an outdoor faucet. Since Bakelite polyethylene stays flexible and resilient at below freezing temperatures, the manufacturer claims the system can remain underground all winter.

Rub Off New Shoots if Poppies Persist

Oriental poppies can become as difficult to dispatch as persistent weeds. If you have some you can't seem to get rid of, the best way to discourage the plant is to rub off the new shoots, as they appear. But be careful not to get rid of plants with good colors.

If you're not sure, wait until they bloom, mark the ones to be dug out and otherwise dispatched after the blooming season.

The United States uses more than 60,000,000 pounds of latex a year in the manufacture of foam-rubber products alone.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—In the making of a new lawn, should the fertilizer be spread before or after the seed is sown? Our program calls for rototilling, seed sowing and then broadcasting of fertilizer.

A—In the opinion of the old gardener, fertilizer and whatever humus is to be used should be thoroughly mixed with the soil before any seed is sown.

* * *

Q—We are planning to transplant 100 Scotch pines, 3 to 5 feet. Can these trees be bulldozed out of the ground or must they be hand dug and balled and burlapped?

A—For best results the pines should be hand dug. Bulldozing is bound to seriously damage the delicate feeding roots. It is far wiser to take a large root system than to take a small root ball even though it is covered with soil and wrapped in burlap. Be sure to plant in good soil and at the same depth the trees now stand.

Q—I do not own a soil-testing kit. I have been told that my state agricultural experimental station will test my soil. How much soil should I send and how should I gather it?

A—Submit about a cup of soil in an ice cream container or one of similar size. Take several samples from different parts of your garden or property by slicing small cross sections of soil to a depth of about six inches. Mix the several specimens together in the container.

Q—Each of the last three years my pepper plants bloom freely but have little or no fruit. Can you suggest anything?

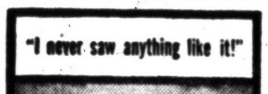

A—Pepper plants are particularly susceptible to weather conditions and often fail to set fruit satisfactorily during wet spells. Give the plants plenty of room so that sun and air have free access to them and avoid too rich a soil and overfertilizing.

* * *

Q—What chemical weed killer will destroy clover without injury to a Bluegrass lawn?

A—One or two applications of 2,4,5-T, a chemical relative to 2,4-D, should do the trick. Clover is most persistent in an alkaline soil, but unhappy in an acid soil. So fertilize your lawn regularly with cottonseed meal which is acid in reaction. Do not mow closer than 1½ inches.

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—There's a market for 1909 model, horse-drawn hearses, after all. Burton Roberts, a Richmond undertaker, said he had sold such a vehicle for use in a centennial celebration in Bristol, Tenn. The price was $225.

South Africa is spending 2 per cent of its national income each year on roads.

1st Cranberry Sauce Canned 44 Years Ago

BOSTON—A canned product for which New England is world-famous is cranberry sauce. This enterprise has grown from a business that turned out barely 20,000 cans in a small plant at Hanson, Mass., its first year—1912—to a co-operative that produces and markets 5,000,000 cans a year. More than 600 grower members are bunched in two Massachusetts counties alone: Barnstable and Plymouth.

Hollywood Headlines:

$64,000 Jockey Accepts Acting Chore in 'Typee'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — On "The $64,000 Question," which jockey Bill Pearson answered correctly, he gave John Huston partial credit for inspiring in him a love of art.

Bill's subject was famous paintings and artists. He said Huston had telephoned him four times from Ireland to tell him not to take the gamble on the last questions. Now he's glad he didn't listen.

After it was all over, John called again and asked Bill if he would like to join Gregory Peck in "Typee," the picture based on Herman Melville's story being made in the South Seas in July.

Bill accepted, so he will take time out from booting the horses home to face the cameras and become an actor as Greg's buddy, the second male lead. Bill has a natural wit, and whatever he does he seems to do well.

These figures are astronomical, yet I get it pretty straight that Mike Todd has been offered 15 million dollars for the world rights to "Around the World in 80 Days." He put nine million of his own money, which he received from the sale of "Oklahoma!," into the venture.

ACCEPTS OFFER

Kim Hunter, who hasn't been in Hollywood in ages and ages, has surprisingly (because she's quite young herself) accepted Bill Dozier's offer to play the mother of 16-year-old Jimmy MacArthur in "Strike a Blow" at RKO.

The last picture Kim made here was "Streetcar Named Desire" in which she played the young sister of Vivien Leigh. She's now in the West Indies filming "Bermuda Affair."

I'm sure you know that Jimmy MacArthur is the talented son of Helen Hayes and Charles MacArthur—and are they proud of him! The picture won't start until school is out this summer with John Frankenheimer, 26-year-old director of "Climax!" TV show at the helm.

The most surprised person in town when he was tabbed by Ralph Edwards' for "This Is Your Life" was Dore Schary.

He'd been told that Robert Taylor was the honor guest, and Dore was asked to be there with an MGM coterie numbering such stars as Walter Pidgeon, Robert Ryan, James Cagney, Margaret O'Brien, Louis Jourdan, Anne Francis, Eva Marie Saint, Elizabeth Taylor and Montgomery Clift.

Dore seldom is nonplussed by anything, but he was so surprised he could hardly believe it.

Cites 'Failure' of Agency Head

Say Information Chief Didn't Define Work of His Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Moss (D-Calif) said today the head of the Office of Strategic Information has "failed completely" to define for House investigators what his agency does.

Moss added he is "almost certain there is an abuse of the classification process" in the case of two basic OSI documents which bear a secrecy stamp. He said he will check further on these to make sure.

The two documents are the National Security Council directive which established OSI, and a progress report on the agency's work.

Moss, chairman of the House subcommittee studying restrictions on government information, talked with newsmen after the congressmen heard with apparent amazement yesterday the hearing testimony yesterday from Erwin Seago, present head of OSI.

Seago said OSI was set up in 1954 by National Security Council directive to prevent the Communists from getting too much valuable, even though nonsecret, information from this country.

He said OSI is no censor and does not control either federal agencies or industry on the matter of what nonsecret material should not be published. He said OSI's "exploratory responsibilities" include furnishing guidance to executive departments. The agency gives advice to industry only on request, he added.

Boone's Bat Big, but Little Shantz' Arm Bigger

DETROIT (AP)—Bobby Shantz, a nice little guy who has everyone—including the Detroit Tigers—rooting for him, picked on the Detroit club to show that he is not washed up.

Plagued by arm trouble since a brilliant 24-7 season in 1952, the 5-7 southpaw got off to a roaring start yesterday by scattering five Detroit hits as the A's whipped the Tigers 4-1. He struck out three and didn't walk a man.

Tiger manager Bucky Harris was obviously disappointed after his club dropped its second game in a row to the Athletics. He praised Shantz but added "he was a little lucky."

"A lot of those line drives we hit could just as easily have been base hits," said Bucky, "but the little guy pitched himself quite a game. I guess everyone is rooting for him," added the Bengal manager.

* * *

But he was quick to add: "I wish he had picked on someone else to get off to a start like this. Let him win his games from the Yankees, White Sox, Boston and the Indians—not from us."

Shantz, who got all the batting help he needed in the 5th inning when the Athletics bunched up five singles for all four of their runs, said "I haven't thrown any harder in years."

It was late in the 1952 season when one of Walt Masterson's pitches caught Shantz on the left wrist and broke it. The wrist healed rapidly, but Shantz developed a sore arm. It was more than three years disappearing.

* * *

"I have felt great this spring," said Bobby. "I was a little tired out there today in the 9th, but the arm feels fine."

Outside of Earl Torgeson's 6th-inning homerun that wrecked Shantz' shutout bid, the Tigers' only threat came in the 9th with two outs.

* * *

Boone was the only Detroit player to solve Shantz consistently. He drilled a double to right center in the first, singled to left in the 4th and 9th. He was retired only in the 7th when he lined to rookie Dave Melton in left field.

An afternoon contest in Cleveland opens a four-game set between the two clubs today. It will be Ned Garver for the Tigers against Early Wynn for the Clevelanders. Garver didn't win a game against the Indians last season, dropping three decisions. Wynn's mark against Detroit was 2-2.

Young lefthander Bob Miller, who came back to the Tigers late in the 1955 season after a fine year at Augusta in the Sally League, will start the Saturday afternoon contest. Miller won both of his victories last season over Cleveland. He dropped his only decision to New York.

* * *

Glenn Hall Is Selected as 'Rookie-of-the-Year'

DETROIT (AP) — Glenn Hall, 24-year-old goalie for the Detroit Red Wings, holds the "Rookie of the Year" trophy and a $1,000 prize today from the National Hockey League.

* * *

Hall's "Rookie-of-the-Year" designation came via a vote of hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters. With the designation went the Calder Memorial Trophy and an automatic league check for $1,000.

* * *

The selection was announced yesterday.

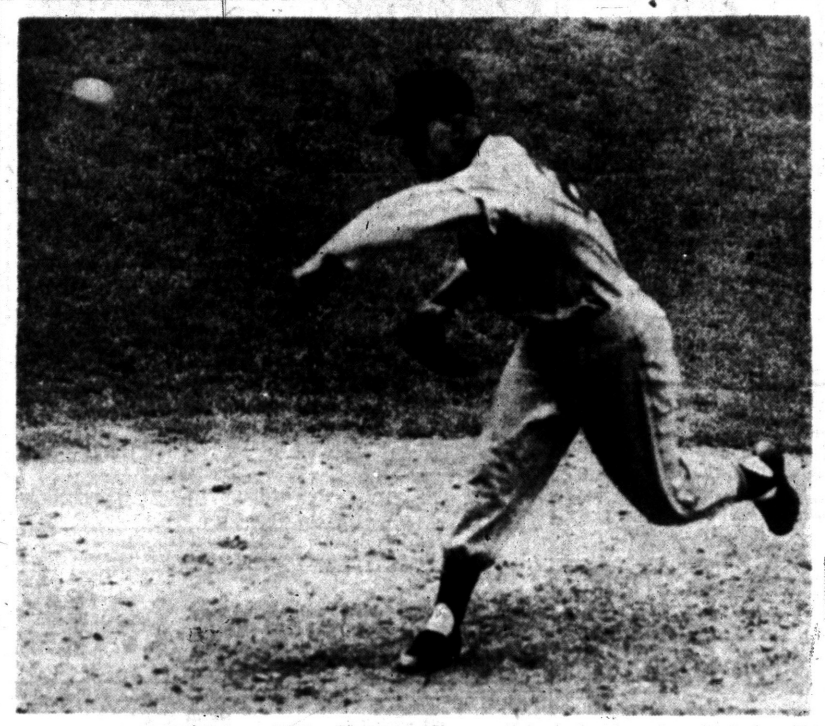

Hall, a product of Detroit's farm system, came up with a dozen shutouts during National Hockey League play and was named to the NHL's second All-Star team.

* * *

Hall received 99 points out of a possible 180. Andy Hebenton of the New York Rangers got 64 and Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens 63.

* * *

Detroit finished second in the regular NHL season and lost the Stanley Cup to Montreal 4-1 in the best-of-seven playoffs.

SOUTHPAW DELIVERY — Bobby Shantz, little southpaw of the Kansas City Athletics, was in rare form yesterday as he set the Tigers down on five hits to win a 4-1 game at Briggs Stadium. He mowed down the Tigers in order in four innings and faced more than four men in one inning only in the ninth. It was the Tigers' second straight loss.

Olympic Hopes in Kansas Meet

Chips' Podoley Forced Out of Decathlon by Leg Injury

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — A fair sprinkling of this country's prime candidates for Olympic qualification will show in the 31st annual Kansas Relays opening with the first events of decathlon today.

* * *

The nine-man field entered in the grueling 10-event decathlon is headed by Dale Saxton, Ft. Bliss, Tex., soldier, and Buzz Frasier, former University of Kansas athlete representing the Baltimore Olympic Club. Jim Podoley, Central Michigan College, who had planned to try for an unprecedented third straight championship, withdrew Wednesday because of a leg injury.

* * *

The relays proper, expected to feature a shotput match between the only two men in history who have bettered 60 feet, will begin at 10 a.m. (EST) tomorrow. They are Parry O'Brien, former Southern California star, who has the worlds best throw of 61 feet 5½ inches to his credit and Bill Nieder, Kansas University, the only collegian who has beaten 60 feet.

Maxwell Sets Up One Stroke Margin

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (INS) — Billy Maxwell, of Odessa, Tex., carries a one-stroke lead of 64 eight-under-par, into today's 2nd round of the $15,000 Arlington Open golf tournament.

* * *

He put together a 31-33 over the 6,791-yard Hot Springs Country Club course yesterday to pace the field of 70 pros and amateurs.

* * *

Rocky, Weill Confer About Champ's Future

* * *

Both Marciano and Weill have said the Brockton, Mass., mauler is considering retiring. Rocky has won all of his 49 professional bouts.

* * *

Rocky has not fought a bout in defense of his title in seven months. He scored a ninth-round knockout over lightheavyweight champion Archie Moore on Sept. 21, 1955, in his last title bout.

Pontiac Boxer Wins All-Navy Title

The local fighter is the son of Mrs. Rachel Nichols, 62 Orton Street.

Nichols, a Boatswain's Mate 2-c on the USS C. P. Cecil (DDR-835) scored two impressive victories in the Eastern All - Navy Boxing eliminations held the past two weeks at the Newport Naval Station.

He followed with a TKO over Fifth Naval District's Paul Marzullo in 2:50 of the second round in last week's semi-final fights.

The Pontiac fighter was the Atlantic Fleet and All - Navy Champion in the 125 pound division in 1955.

Don't Like Jersey!

Dodgers Say New Field Too Big, Fans Apathetic

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — The consensus among the Brooklyn-Jersey City Dodgers today is that President Walter O'Malley could give Roosevelt Stadium back to the late Mayor Frank Hague, who built it.

* * *

The Dodgers think this park is too big, the outfield and infield turf is too soft, the wind blowing in from Bayonne Bay hampers the hitters and the fences are too far away. Furthermore, the Jersey City fans are not as rabid as those in Flatbush as evidenced by the disappointing turnout of only 12,214 compared to the 24,236 who attended Brooklyn's opener last Tuesday at Ebbets Field.

* * *

Gil Hodges said it for all the Dodger sluggers when, after getting his first look at spacious Roosevelt Stadium, Brooklyn's sourly:

"Boy, how I wish I was back at dear old Ebbets Field."

The fact that Brooklyn won the game, coming from behind with two runs in the bottom of the 10th inning to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-4, didn't change their attitude.

* * *

* * *

"That's a pretty fur piece. You sure have to have a strong wind blowing out there to help you hit one over that fence."

"Man, I guess we should be thankful we don't have to play no more than six more games in this here park."

* * *

* * *

"It makes no difference to me," he said. "I like a park that's as spread out as this one. The outfielders are not too close. That makes it easier to hit between them. That's for me. If I try to hit a home run, I'm cooked. I leave the homers to those big guys like Hodges, Snider and Campy."

Vikings, Lakers Win Golf Tests

Walled Lake and West Bloomfield high school golf teams chalked up wins in dual matches Thursday afternoon.

* * *

Paced by Norm Dierkes' 41, Walled Lake defeated Van Dyke, 173-222, in an Inter-Lakes Conference meet at Edgewood. Tom Shaw and Bob Hess posted 42's and Jim Swartz shot 48 for the Vikings. Dick Kern led Van Dyke with a 49.

* * *

Crane Netters Win Over Chiefs' Crew

Cranbrook net squad took all but one match (6-1) in yesterday's dual testwith Coach Vic Lindquists' PHS crew. However, practically every match was a good contest, with the three-set battle between Bob Erb and Bruce Rockwell (C) the hottest. Bob won the first set, then was shut out in the 2nd 6-0 and lost the 3rd, 4-6. PHS' only win was Gary Wylie's straight set win over Ed Sun.

Chiefs now have a 1-1 record. They play Flint Central here, next week in the 2nd Valley dual.

Thursday's results:

Gary Wylie defeated Ed Sun 6-4 and 6-1; Bruce Rockwell def. Bob Erb (P), 6-1, 0-6, 4-6; Jerry Dobson def. Bill Bonner (P) 6-0, 6-1; Bob Klein def. Ted Wiersema (P) 6-1, 6-1; Gary Thomas lost to Bill Butler (C) 6-1, 6-3; doubles — Hank Beam and Bob Isbell (C) def. Dave Scriven and John Doerr, 6-0, 6-2; Smith brothers (A. Berry) def. Fred Roser and Dick Mallory (P), 6-1, 6-0.

Maples' Links Squad Gets Off to Good Start

Veteran, 3 'Rookies' Edge Good Skipper Club in Opener

Playing with three "rookie" club swingers, Birmingham's high school golf team yesterday afternoon nevertheless got off to a fast start in its first 1956 match. Coach Joe Borovick's team edged a strong Waterford foursome, 330-338 over a windswept, cold Pontiac Country Club layout.

"I was very much pleased over the play of the three new boys" Borovick commented today. "This was their first match and we were playing without Tim Baldwin, our captain, who was ill."

Jack Reynolds led the Skippers with a fine 75, as medalist. Mike Conroy, Maple veteran, was next with 80. Loss was Skippers' 2nd in three starts. Pete Everett is Waterford's coach.

The cards—Birmingham — Conroy 80, Bob Emde 83, Pete Greene 85 and Tom McDaniels 82. Waterford—Reynolds 75, John Wettlaufer 83, Dale Wheeler, 84, and Bill Cumberworth 97.

Birmingham is the defending champion of the Pontiac Press Prep Invitational tournament, 1956 edition of which takes place at city course here May 28. Maples meet Mt. Clemens next Wednesday.

Pete Cooper, a transplanted Floridian, begins his second season as pro at Kollwood Country Club and also marks his 19th year since turning professional.

* * *

He stayed in the amateur ranks for a short time taking medalist honors in the Florida State Amateur Meet in 1938.

Immediately afterward he turned pro and assumed this position at the Country Club of Bartow, Fla.

* * *

Pete came North to take the pro's job at the Century Country Club in New York for three years, but sunny Florida again beckoned and he stayed at Ponte Cedra Country Club in Jacksonville for five years before coming to Knollwood.

When the snow fall, Pete heads South for the winter circuit. Last year he played five tournaments and this past winter he finished in the money in all three in which he participated including the St. Petersburgh Open, Miami Beach Open and the Masters.

(Tomorrow in the final of the series, we present Wally Burkemo, pro at Franklin Hills Country Club.

During his visit to the city earlier this week for the PHS sports banquet, Dave was even wearing the same kind of tweed jacket that the youthful Irish coach wore when he was here for the All-Oakland County football banquet.

"People tell me that everywhere I go," Dave said, "but if we look alike and wear the same kind of clothes, there's one thing that is different. He makes more money than I do," he laughed.

Dave scanned the U. of M. cage picture for next season and he says the Wolverines are expecting one of the best front lines in many years.

"We've been getting some of the better homegrown boys, and four of our best front liners are Michigan high school products," he noted.

Stark was talking about the three big sophs who will team with Ron Kramer next season.

George Lee from Highland Park, M. C. Burton from Muskegon Heights and Pete Tillotson from Ludington, give the Ann Arbor quintet good height up front.

All are over 6-4 with fabulous backgrounds in the prep ranks.

George Lee is no stranger to Pontiac high fans. He was a member of the Highland Park team which knocked PHS out of the 1953 regionals only to continue to win the state title.

According to Strack, "it will be hard to keep Lee out of the starting lineup next winter."

So, the basketball drought for U. of M. and Coach Bill Perigo may be coming to an end, and if so, it will be homegrown Michigan boys who will do it.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Wally Burkemo can hardly remember all the big dates of his pro tournament life, but one date he says he will always remember is October 7, 1945. He can even tell you the important time on this big day. It was 3 p.m., and he was officially discharged from the Commandos of the U. S. Army.

Rams, Mikes, Eaglets on Losing Ends

St. Frederick, St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary experienced rude initiations Thursday afternoon as the Suburban Catholic League baseball race got under way.

St. Fred received the roughest treatment in the person of Tom O'Meara from Hazel Park St. Rita. O'Meara hurled a no-hit game as the Vikings trounced the Rams, 11-1, at Columbia-Joslyn.

Only four St. Fred batters reached base and Gene Wright's charges tallied their lone run in the 4th inning on a pair of bases on balls and a dash home from 2nd by John Bradley during an infield out. O'Meara fanned 12 and walked four.

St. Rita banged out a dozen hits and scored three runs in the 1st inning, one in the 3rd, four in the 4th, one in the 5th and two in the 7th. Ed Kast and Bob Ashby pitched for the Rams with Kast absorbing the loss.

Royal Oak St. Mary, capitalizing on the wildness of St. Michael pitching, erupted with 14 runs in the 6th inning and trimmed the Shamrocks, 19-4, at Columbia-Joslyn.

Nineteen St. Mary hitters strolled to the plate in the hectic stanza, which saw 10 walks, three errors, three wild pitches, a hit batsman, and only one hit.

Paul Smutz pitched for the Irish and limited the Mikes to a single safety, a two-bagger by Chuck Brown in the 6th stanza. Dan Dropps, Bill Hall, and Brown hurled for the Shamrocks with Hall the victim of the big uprising.

Defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary got off to a bad start in its title defense by falling to St. Benedict, 8-5, at Highland Park.

The Eaglets blew a 5-0 lead to make the setback even more distasteful. They chased all five runs across the plate in the 1st frame, then went scoreless as the Ravens pecked away at the deficit.

Martin Massucci delivered the key blow for the Bens, a lusty triple in the 3rd inning with the bases full to spark a five-run rally.

Art Clark hurled for the Ravens and limited the Eaglets to four hits. Anthony Chojnowski and Paul Franckowiak worked for St. Mary, Chojnowski getting the loss.

Weekend Banquet Closes Archers' Indoor Season

Concluding their 1955-56 indoor archery season, members of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Archery Club will hold a banquet Sunday at the clubhouse in Waterford.

Some 125 are expected to take part in the affair that winds up a very successful year of indoor activity. The league had a field of 22 teams that shot on Friday and Sunday nights.

Awards and trophies will be presented by president Frank Lawrence.

Two very fine efforts were turned in during the year. Tom Adams fired a 272 free style (with sight), and L. G. Green a 262 instinctive. Both are believed among the best in the state for Flint round competition.

First outdoor shoot is set for April 29 at 10 a.m. Summer Flint round begins May 15, at 6:45 p.m.

Warmer Weather May Bring Peak for Smelt

Light runs of smelt are reported in the St. Clair River from Port Huron going north to Port Sanilac. Better run is from Port Sanilac to Forester.

Warmer weather this weekend would bring a peak of smelt runs in the Lower Peninsula.

Smelt were also reported good near Advance and Boyne City.

Cold water had hindered trout fishing.

White Sox Edge Indians Again, 1-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Herb Score, Cleveland's fine young southpaw, says he doesn't sleep well after losing. From the looks of things he could end up with insomnia just by facing the Chicago White Sox.

* * *

Score was the American League's No. 1 rookie last season, with a 16-10 mark and a record 245 strikeouts—but he couldn't beat Chicago in three tries.

Even though figured to win 20 this season, he found himself in the same old nightmare alley yesterday. He fanned 10 and gave just two hits, yet lost 1-0 to the White Sox, who got a two-hitter themselves from Jack Harshman and scored the lone run without a hit.

* * *

With that follow-up to Billy Pierce's 2-1, five-hit victory, opening day, Chicago swept the two-game set between the two pennant threats and stayed unbeaten in the AL along with Boston, which defeated Baltimore 4-2 behind Tom Brewer's two-hitter, and Kansas City, which banged Detroit 4-1 on Bobby Shantz' five-hit pitching. The New Yankees, after thumping Washington twice, were dumped by the Senators 7-3.

In the National, only Milwaukee remained unbeaten, edging the Chicago Cubs 3-1 while Pittsburgh knocked the New York Giants to their first defeat 3-2. Brooklyn opened in its Jersey City "home" and beat Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings. Cincinnati also had to go 10 to beat St. Louis 10-9 with each club swatting four homers.

Score's big trouble with the White Sox, outside of yesterday's wildness, has been poor timing. He always runs into top pitching opponents. Last year he lost 4-1 against Pierce's three-hitter, 2-1 against Harshman's three-hitter, and 4-2 against Virgil Trucks' four-hitter.

* * *

Chicago didn't solve Herb for a hit until the eighth, but scored in the seventh on a walk, a two-base wild pitch and a sacrifice fly by ex-Tribesman Larry Doby, who had struck out five times in a row.

At Boston, Brewer also got into trouble with walks, but Mickey Vernon smacked a fly which Dave Pope lost in the sun and fell for a two-run double to break a 2-all tie. Ted Williams was on the bench with a bruised instep.

* * *

The senators got two in the first off ex-teammate Maury McDermott, then iced it in the fourth as Jim Lemon and Ed Fitz Gerald tagged the southpaw for solo homers. Chuck Stobbs held the Yanks to seven hits, including a homer and two singles by Elston Howard.

Rookie Wes Covington, batting for winning pitcher Bob Buhl, cracked a run-scoring single to break a 1-all tie and send Milwaukee into a 2-0 record.

* * *

Frank Thomas singled home the deciding run in the eighth for the Pirates after Preston Ward's pinch single off Al Worthington scored two for a 2-1 Buc lead in the seventh.

* * *

The Brooks scored twice in the 10th to win for reliefer Clem Labine as Rube Walker lifted a sacrifice fly in a pinch role with the bases loaded against reliefer Duane Pillette. Roy Campanella had tied it with a double—to become the sixth current Dodger with 1,000 major league hits.

* * *

For all the homers it was a bases-loaded single by Wally Post off reliefer Ellis Kinder — who fanned Wally to save Tuesday's opener—that got the job done for the Redlegs. Ray Jablonski grand-slammed to get the Reds back in the game in the seventh. Ted Kluszewski (his first), Post and Smoky Burgess also homered for the Reds. Stan Musial, Wally Moon and Bill Sarni, who got two, whacked 'em for the Cards.

LIKE AN OSTRICH — Third baseman Willie Jones of the Philadelphia Phillies makes like an ostrich as his head goes into the dirt in vain attempt to nab a wind-blown pop fly against the Dodgers yesterday. Brooklyn won 5-4.

Veteran Squad Opposes Chiefs

Pontiac High's baseball Chiefs, shooting for their 2nd win, Saturday afternoon travel to Port Huron to met a veteran Big Red nine. Two hot contests are promised if weather condtions improve.

Coach John Heering of the Reds said this morning that the Huron club worked out yesterday afternoon in a flurry of snow. There was snow on the ground at Port Huron this morning, he said, but expected it to disappear by game time.

Chiefs' mentor, Ed Heikkinen said today he would send Jim Jones to start the twin bill, with Arnold Larson going in the nightcap.

Heering will start his 3-year veteran battery, right-hander Dick Turner and catcher Don Capps. He didn't know who his 2nd game hurler would be. Turner seeks a bit of revenge, as Chiefs beat him in their last meeting, two years ago.

Reds have not played this year. Bad weather, Heering said, cancelled out early dates.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

Wrist and hand action in the hitting area with a driver separates the players from the duffers. At this point in your swing, power and timing come into the play.

In the hitting area, your weight is almost entirely on the left side. Your hands and wrists unleash the power which has been gathered on the downswing.

As the clubhead nears the ball, the wrists uncock to add power and speed to your swing. At the time of impact, the arms come straight through and your hands and arms are practically in their original position as at the address.

As you reach contact with the ball, remember—release your blow—letting the clubhead follow the flight of the ball. The position immediately following contact shows the weight on the left side with the right leg and side curving in toward the left. The right arm straightens out and the left shoulder begins to come up. The left side gives the appearance of firmness while the right side relaxes gradually.

There has been much theorizing on whether to hit with right, left or both hands. I can only tell you what I feel. To me, the left hand rides the clubhead into the ball. I think it is important to have the palm of the right hand and the back of the left facing the objective through-out impact. This position of the hands at impact will result in hitting the ball squarely off the tee.

Head position, of course, is important at the time of impact. Keep your head in back of the ball when the clubhead contacts the ball.

PHS Thinclads Seek High Spot at Mansfield

A caravan of some half dozen cars today was on its way to Mansfield, Ohio, where Pontiac High School's state championship track team seeks a high spot in the big prep relays there.

Pontiac, led by ace performer Hayes Jones, is given a very good chance of winning this nationally-rated event. P H S squad includes 15 starters and one alternate.

Chiefs have excelled the Mansfield records in at least three events and with good weather, Saturday, could set some new marks. Biggest chance in this connection is Jones, in the high hurdles. Hayes has bettered the Ohio relays mark by 3-10ths of a second, with his recent 4.3 effort.

Lou Gehrig's $36,000 pay in 1937 was the highest for the major leagues.

Prep Hurlers Have Field Day

High school pitchers in the Oakland County area enjoyed a field day Thursday afternoon.

Despite chilling breezes, unsually a deterrrent to sound pitching, three prep moundsmen tossed no-hit, no-run games to highlight yesterday's diamond action.

Sam Labreque chucked a no-hitter against Northville in a Wayne-Oakland League game at Northville. Lebreque struck out 13 and walked three as the W-O derending co-champs posted an 8-0 victory.

* * *

It was the 2nd league win this season for the Trojans, who are bidding for their 3rd straight loop title. Labreque has yet to allow an earned run this spring.

Stuart Henry, a junior pitching his 1st high school game, chalked up a no-hitter and collected three hits as Roseville routed Eastland, 18-0. Henry struck out 13 while walking two and hitting one batter. His stickwork produced a triple and two singles.

Lake Orion got the axe from Ron Long of Madison as the Eagles scored a 5-0 decision. Long fanned 10 and walked just one during his no-hit stint at Lake Orion. The Dragons sent only 24 batters to the plate in the Oakland B League contest.

Dave Lancaster pitched and batted Milford to a 10-3 victory over Clarkston in a Wayne-Oakland game at Milford. Lancaster worked six innings and allowed only two safeties in addition to clouting a home run and bases-loaded triple.

Oxford staved off a late rally by Ortonville to defeat the Blackhawks, 10-9, at Ortonville. The Wildcats held a 10-4 lead entering the bottom of the 6th frame. Dave Sweeney paced Oxford's attack with a double and single to drive in four runs.

* * *

Avondale lashed out with 13 hits to defeat Troy, 15-8, in an Oakland B title. Lynn Wright collected two doubles and a single and batted in three runs for the Yellow Jackets. Wright started on the mound for Avondale, but gave way to Larry LaForge in the 4th inning. LaForge received credit for the win.

Cranbrook dropped its 2nd decision in four starts, bowing to Berkley yesterday, 5-3. Herb Duncan went the distance on the hill for the Bears and struck out 10, while permitting six hits. Bob Berg paced Berkley with three hits. Bruce Richards and Pete Bedford pitched for the Cranes with Richards taking the loss.

In another area baseball attraction yesterday, Hamtramck nipped Hazel Park, 4-32.

Meets Ezzard Charles

Don Jasper Seeking Step Up Ladder

DETROIT (AP)—The old warrior and the ambitious youngster—the trial horse and the untested newcomer—the ex-champion and the hopeful strong boy.

All of it adds up to a 10-round battle between Ezzard Charles, who is struggling to find a way to keep from falling off the ladder, and Don Jasper, who is trying to find a way up.

The two heavyweights will slug it out Saturday night in the Windsor Arena in a non-televised match.

The 34-year-old Charles, former heavyweight champion who has failed in every effort to win back the diadem, has dropped out of the top ten in the heavyweight ranks. He seldom gets a "big gate" fight anymore and many of his fights are with comparative unknowns.

Jasper is a husky, young former railroad worker who has had only 21 professional bouts. He won 17 of them, 14 by knockouts. Jasper hasn't had a fight in six months, but has been in training all that time.

Charles has been idle since late December, when he lost on a TKO to young Jack Johnson in Los Angeles. Charles suffered a severely cut lip in that one.

* * *

"No," Charles said emphatically. "When I slip too much, I'll know it. I realize my reflexes aren't as quick and I'm not as fast. But I have a lot more power now that my weight is up, and I think I hit a lot harder. I never was one to get beat around a lot."

* * *

What about a third fight with champion Rocky Marciano?

"That's my great ambition," answered the ex-champ. "Sure, anyone wants to fight the champ. I fought him twice. I thought I won the first one, but I just couldn't get started in the second (Charles was knocked out in the 8th round)."

Does he think there's much of a chance of another bout with Marciano—who is talking about retiring?

* * *

"You never can tell," said the Cincinnati fighter. If he retires, then I probably would try to get in an elimination deal for the title. If he doesn't a few good wins for me would put me right back in the middle of the picture."

Interference Rule Changed on N.Y. Tracks

NEW YORK (INS) — Effective today in New York State, a disqualified race horse no longer will be automatically placed last but anywhere behind such horses with which it interfered.

After a public hearing at Belmont Park yesterday, the State Racing Commission changed the disqualification rule to empower the stewards with placing the violator anywhere from where the foul was ccommitted to last place.

Begin Migration From South

Birds Moving Into Michigan Homes

LANSING (AP)—This is the rush hour on those invisible highways of the air which carry thousands of winged creatures to their Michigan homes.

* * *

Listen carefully on a warm, cloudy night and you'll hear them calling to each other, like drivers honking when a car strays out of lane.

* * *

The spring air is choking with the sound of the robin, the song sparrow, the mourning dove and other early arrivals. Still to come are the Baltimore oriole, the rose-breasted grosbeak and the catbird.

Where do they come from and why?

"Almost invariably, birds which go south for the winter return to within a few miles of the place where they were hatched," says Dr. Donald W. Douglass, State Conservation Department ornithologist who has made a study of bird migrations.

This uncanny skill in navigating thousands of miles has never been fully explained, Dr. Douglass says.

* * *

Many scientists think birds have an unusually accurate memory, others think they get about with the aid of something akin to radar.

"You can predict the arrival of most of any one species within two to five days," Dr. Douglass says. "And birds leave their Southern homes just about the same day, year after year."

Ornithologists are almost sure, he says, that birds time their southern departure according to the length of the day.

Much of the bird migration takes place at night. This seems to be a more efficient way of traveling—flying at night and stopping in the day to rest and feed.

Then, too, for the smaller birds there is less danger of attack from hawks in traveling at night, Dr. Douglass says.

Most small birds do not fly very high, within a hundred yards of the ground, he says. Travel is often in stages or waves, with the flocks stopping off to rest during bad weather and resuming their flights when it clears.

More Trout Fishing

Shift in Fish Licenses

(INS Service)

Michigan Conservation Department officials reported a curious shift in the purchases of fishing licenses during 1955. Many feel that more and more anglers are turning to trout fishing.

This is backed up by statistics. The department reports that six per cent more trout stamps were distributed for this coming season. In 1954 the state sold 212,500 stamps and last year 225,000.

A. L. McNeil, in charge of license stamps, said, "past trends would indicate if our sales of fishing licenses slump, then trout stamp sales would fall off too. The drop in licenses and the rise in the stamps is interesting. We'll watch what happens this year."

Saginaw Fighter Loses

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Al Kennedy, 148, Saginaw, Mich., dropped a six-round decision to Jim Perrault, 154¾, St. Paul, in a preliminary to the fight in which Jim Hegerle, 157, St. Paul, decisioned Bob Rossie, 148¼, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Simmons Signs With Cardinals

Former U. of D. Gridder Inks 8th Professional Contract

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Simmons of Birmingham, Mich., veteran center, has signed his 1956 contract with the Chicago Cardinals professional football club.

The former University of Detroit star, now 30 years old, has been in pro football eight years. His contract with the Cards was his 6th with that club.

The durable 240-pounder has started every game in both league and pre-season competition since he joined the Baltimore Colts in the now defunct All-America conference in 1948.

Shifted Lineup Marks Orioles' Home Opener

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro was to throw out the first ball (at 2 p.m. EST) before an expected 35,000 people in the slightly shrunken confines of Memorial Stadium. A period of silence was planned in memory of the late Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, Edward Eynon, Senators' treasurer, and Howard S. Jones, Orioles' treasurer.

Judge Ryan Plans Study in IBC Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan plans to study a small mountain of documents over the weekend before hearing more details of the government's new anti-trust suit against the International Boxing Club.

After listening to both sides for two hours yesterday Judge Ryan adjourned the hearing until 10 a.m. (EST) Monday.

* * *

The government charged yesterday that the IBC "schemed" to tie up championship fights through exclusive contracts and from June 1949 to May 1953 conspired to restrain and monopolize interstate trade in the promotion, broadcasting and telecasting of championship fights in the United States.

Campanella Moves 1,000 Hit Bracket

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Roy Campanella lined a double for his 1,000th Major League hit yesterday and gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a total of six players with 1,000 or more career hits. That's tops in either league.

Adlai Reveals Campaign Plank

Major Issue Will Be 'Diminishing' Ability of Ike to Fulfill Duties

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, seeking the democratic presidential nomination, says a "major plank" of his campaign platform concerns "the diminution of the President's ability and willingness to fulfill his duties."

* * *

His subjects ranged from Eisenhower's health as a campaign issue to racial segregation, taxes, farm problems, housing and education and labor's political sentiments.

* * *

He told a news conference that the question of the President's health is more and more a matter of "grave concern to all of us." He said the President himself has said that he intends to delegate some of his official duties.

"I certainly plan to talk during the campaign of the diminution of the President's ability and willingness to fulfill his duties when most suitable."

* * *

Both here and in Harrisburg, whence he came by plane in the whence he came by plane in the make clear "my own position" on the issue of ending segregation. He summed it up thus:

"The Supreme Court has said what is to be done. The courts will decide when compliance will be expected. And that compliance should come without violence, without the necessity of troops and bayonets."

Committee Says County Zoned

Group of Supervisors Reviewing New Laws Twice as Busy

Zoning of Oakland County has been completed, the Board of Supervisors learned at its meeting Tuesday, and recent county growth has more than doubled zoning ordinance actions reviewed annually by the County Coordinating Zoning Committee.

The Committee, established to review and approve or disapprove all local zoning ordinances and amendments in the county, passed on 178 actions in 1955. The 1954 total was 86.

Faced with a 107 per cent increase, the Committee reported, members have adopted a simplified procedure for processing the zoning amendments.

Of the 178 actions in 1955, 153 were approved. Disapprovals and tabling actions are taken usually because a proposed zoning would conflict with zoning of an adjacent area in another township, the Committee said.

Grant Mitchell, Veteran Actor Has Mild Stroke

Grant Mitchell, veteran actor of the films and stage, suffered a mild stroke yesterday and is in Wilshire Sanitarium. Mitchell, 81, has lived at the hotel on and off for the past 15 years.

The Hollywood Hotel a landmark, will be torn down April 30.

"America has many 'bests,' but it doesn't have the best burglars," I said. "Even Texas wouldn't boast about its thieves."

"Immediately we called the police.

"The police said, 'Were your things smart and attractive?'

"I said, 'of course. I bought them for a trip on the Queen Mary.'

"So the policeman said, 'You will never get them back.'

"I was dumbfounded. The policeman said, 'Our thieves here are artists. They are clever. They are fond of smart, attractive things, and you will never get them back.'

"And I never did."

George B. Shaw Writings Worth Over a Million

LONDON (AP)—The works of the late George Bernard Shaw, Irish wit and man of letters, still have a potential earning power of 430,000 pounds ($1,204,000), the British tax collector has decided.

* * *

That amount was fixed as the value of Shaw's copyrights around the world, increasing his taxable estate to about 600,000 pounds ($1,680,000), the tax collector's office announced.

After the taxman is satisfied—the death duty on the entire estate is expected to reach 420,000 pounds ($1,176,000)—most of the money was willed by Shaw to be used for the establishment of a new 40-letter alphabet.

* * *

Stock Advance Slightly Hesitant

* * *

* * *

Higher prices didn't cause any excitement among buyers, and light demand kept trading at a pace even under yesterday's 2,200,000 shares, lowest in more than two months.

* * *

The steels, motors and some of the oils were active and higher. Also higher were the non-ferrous metals and railroads. The radio-televisions were lower, and the rest of the market was mixed to steady.

Higher were New York Central, Gulf Oil, Johns-Manville, Anaconda Co., Allied Chemical, International Paper, Aluminium Ltd., U. S. Steel, Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard.

Lower were Montgomery Ward, RCA, American Telephone, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric and Royal Dutch Petroleum.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $187.70. The average was down 70 cents yesterday.

* * *

It was two weeks ago today that the average hit a record high of $191.50, the crest of a long and strong climb of prices that started in mid-February.

Japanese Government Curtails Visits to Reds

TOKYO (AP)—Kyodo news service said today the Japanese government has sharply restricted travel to Communist countries.

The action prohibits visas to Red countries by men in public positions—members of the Diet, local assembly officials and "public servants." Also banned are most trips financed by Communist governments.

The restrictions will not apply to "trade and culture" trips.

Hybrid on the Seas

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Officers on the Navy's new fuel and cargo-ammunition carrier, Kawishiwi, also fitted for use as a hospital ship, claim it is one of the most unusual vessels in the service. Williams All Aglow Over 'Secretaries'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams had some glowing things to say today about secretaries both in business and government.

* * *

No longer, he said, does the public official or business executive look to his secretary only for efficient operation of complex office machines and good shorthand technique.

The secretary's "diplomatic and social skills" in receiving visitors has assumed great importance, he said.

The governor proclaimed next Wednesday as National Secretaries' Day in Michigan. He urged employers and all who benefit from their "efficient and loyal service to pay public tribute to the secretaries of our state."

Control of Arms Seen by A-Plan

Ike's Nuclear Pool Setup May Afford Information to Check Dominance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The projected interational atoms-for-peace agency should provide important pilot information toward a global arms control setup.

President Eisenhower, when he first proposed his atomic pool plan to the United Nations in December 1953, stressed the link between the problems of using the atom's energy for peace on a world scale and those of atomic disarmament.

Diplomatic authorities say it is now possible to spell out in more detail what those links are as a result of negotiations here which culminated Wednesday in agreement by the United States, Russia and 10 other countries on a charter for an atoms-for-peace agency.

THREE-POINT PLAN

1. Further work on the atoms-for-peace organization will provide a strong test of cooperation between Russia and the Western atomic powers. This is the first project in many years which has offered such a practical test. Assuming Russian willingness to contribute atomic materials out of its military stores, the remaining problems are not too difficult.

2. The atoms-for-peace agency will have to have an inspection system to make certain that materials provided to certain that matuse in power and research are not diverted into secret manufacture of atomic bombs.

3. Increasing use of atomic materials for peaceful purposes may remove some of the mystery from the atom and thereby diminish fear and suspicion of it. This could be helpful in creating a more favorable international attitude toward practical disarmament steps.

4 Navy Airmen Killed in Solo Flight of Cadet

The bodies of the three men in the twin-engine SNB fell hundreds of yards apart as the aircraft disintegrated and the wreckage fell over a 1½-mile area.

UAW Sub-Council Hits Skilled Group

General Motors Sub-Council No. 8, UAW, representing approximately 30,000 General Motors workers in the Pontiac area, last night condemned the action of the Society of Skilled Trades of North America.

In a resolution adopted unanimously by the members, the workers condemned the "dual action" of the society as being "detrimental to the best interests of the skilled trades worker as well as the production worker."

The council claims there are seven active chapters of the society in Michigan who are attempting to break away from the CIO because of dissatisfaction of the guaranteed annual wage reached for auto workers.

Commie Chiefs, Eden Open Talks

British Head, Bulganin, Khrushchev Meet on Middle East Issue

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev opened full-scale talks today with Prime Minister Eden on the explosive situation on the Middle East.

* * *

Bulganin raised his hat and Khrushchev put on his best smile for a crowd of 250 as they left their Claridges Hotel headquarters. The crowd replied with silent stares.

About 7,000 persons lined the two-mile route from the hotel to No. 10 Downing St., Eden's official residence. So hushed was the crowd that the whirl of the tires on the Russians' big car could be heard.

* * *

The Kremlin chiefs were accompanied by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, already in London for the five-power disarmament negotiations; and Jacob Malik, the Russian ambassador to Britain. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd sat in with Eden.

* * *

Both morning and afternoon sessions were scheduled today, for a total of almost five hours of talking. Both sides agreed to keep the talks secret, and to put out communiques at the end of each day's sessions.

Parents Face Fines on Truancy Counts

William Bridges, 27, of 565 Fourth Ave. and Fred Earls, 41, of 125 N. Perry St. were given a month to show that their children are back in school regularly or face fines up to $100 or 90 days in jail.

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum adjourned sentencing for that length of time after Earls pleaded guilty to violation of state school laws and Bridges was found guilty after trial.

The charges were brought by the city's attendance officer, Paul Allison, who said he took the case to court, as a last measure because he felt the parents had been "habitually unconcerned" whether or not their children attended school.

Alaskans to Vote in First Primary Next Tuesday

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Alaskans, who don't have a vote for president, will get a chance for the first time Tuesday to mark their preferences for the nominations.

* * *

The names of Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver will be on the Democratic preferential primary ballot. President Eisenhower and Sen. William F. Knowland will be on the Repubican. The California senator's name was entered before the President signified his willingness to run again. There was no chance to remove it.

* * *

* * *

The main interest will be in the Kefauver-Stevenson contest. Neither has been in Alaska to campaign, but both have proved popular on previous visits. Clubs in support of each have engaged in only moderate activity.

Reports Dental Goal of Future

Says More Stress on Prevention Than Cure Will Be Method

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Thomas J. Hill, professor emeritus of pathology at Western Reserve College, says dentists of the future will be more concerned with preventing tooth decay than with filling cavities.

"Dentistry must find some methods for control of disease, rather than just repairing destroyed tissues," Dr. Hill told the Michigan State Dental Assn.'s closing convention session yesterday.

He also said researchers are using tools of the atomic age to learn more about the basic nature of teeth.

"We are giving radioactive food to rats to measure the replacement rate of enamel in teeth," Dr. Hill said.

Dr. Hill, chairman of the American Dental Assn.'s council on research, said there is "no question among scientists" that fluoridation of water retards tooth decay.

He quoted U. S. Public Health Service statistics on a fluoridation experiment in Grand Rapids. Grand Rapids began its fluoridation program in 1944.

First grade pupils 12 years ago had twice as many cavities as youngsters do now in Grand Rapids schools, Dr. Hill said. He added that eighth grade pupils in 1944 had lost twice as many teeth as have present eighth graders in Grand Rapids.

Babies, 278 of Them, Set Hospital Record

The 1956 records show that in January 265 tots were born while in February, 212 came into this world in the hospital.

High Locks, Steel Door Foil 2 Breakin Attempts

Two attempted store breakins failed last night when burglars could not get inside, Sheriff's detectives said today.

The glass was broken in the front door of a Gingellville grocery store but high locks on the door made it impossible to open, while a steel door prevented entry at a market at 2005 E. Walton St., the detectives reported.

Both breakin attempts were believed to have taken place after 9 p.m.

* * *

The technical issues up for discussion included proposed new regulations for U.N. investigators working in the border area and the itinerary and timetable of border patrols.

Israeli sources said Israel was ready to make certain concessions on these points "provided they are reciprocal."

High Drama Builds in Graham Trial as Lawyers Battle Over Jury Issue

DENVER (INS)—Opposing lawyers, battling into the fifth day over selection of a jury, were building up today toward courtroom dramtics of a high order when testimony begins at the John Gilbert Graham murder trial.

* * *

Everyone in the courtroom, including the boyish-looking, 24-year-old defendant, Graham, seems to sence the impending drama as the six lawyers—three on each side—meticulously question men and women talesmen to be sure the jury ultimately selected is satisfactory.

Graham is one of the most extraordinary defendants in the history of American jurisprudence. He is accused of perpetuating the biggest mass murder in the nation's history.

Specifically, the indictment charges him only with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55. But when she died 43 other persons died with her in the explosion of a dynamited airliner.

The, slim, 6 foot 1 Graham, a once-convicted forger, and somewhat of a ne'er-do-well allegedly planted a time-bomb in his mother's suitcase just before she took off in a United Air Lines mainliner Nov. 1 last. The plane exploded 11 minutes after its take-off from Denver, killing all on board.

Fair Share Split Widens at Rally

ELKTON (AP)—Approximately 250 Huron County farmers representing one faction of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. (FSBA) voted unanimously last night to retain Homer Martin as organizing director.

Another faction headed by FSBA President Rolland Brengle of South Lyon has declared Martin fired and indicated it would seek CIO help in its organizing drive among farmers.

Martin said an FSBA strike which resulted in farmers getting $5 per hundredweight (46½ quarts) for No. 1 milk, instead of the old rate of $4.41 from creameries, "established too things:"

"1. We found out farmers were willing to ask for what they want and to fight for it, and

"2. We didn't need organized labor to respect our picket lines, because we have the power to act ourselves."

Martin's faction has accused Brengle, who thus far has been supported by a majority of the original FSBA board of directors, of wanting to throw the organization into August Scholle's Michigan CIO Council.

Scholle has insisted on the other hand that he merely wants to help farmers get "a fair share" and that his offer of $1,000 a month was not intended, as Martin claims, to influence farmers politically.

Stock Advance Slightly Hesitant

* * *

In the early afternoon, prices were up around 2 points at the best. Losses usually were small, and they weren't concentrated.

* * *

Higher prices didn't cause any excitement among buyers, and light demand kept trading at a pace even under yesterday's 2,200,000 shares, lowest in more than two months.

* * *

The steels, motors and some of the oils were active and higher. Also higher were the non-ferrous metals and railroads. The radio-televisions were lower, and the rest of the market was mixed to steady.

Higher were New York Central, Gulf Oil, Johns-Manville, Anaconda Co., Allied Chemical, International Paper, Aluminium Ltd., U. S. Steel, Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard.

Lower were Montgomery Ward, RCA, American Telephone, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric and Royal Dutch Petroleum.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $187.70. The average was down 70 cents yesterday.

* * *

It was two weeks ago today that the average hit a record high of $191.50, the crest of a long and strong climb of prices that started in mid-February.

Japanese Government Curtails Visits to Reds

TOKYO (AP)—Kyodo news service said today the Japanese government has sharply restricted travel to Communist countries.

The action prohibits visas to Red countries by men in public positions—members of the Diet, local assembly officials and "public servants." Also banned are most trips financed by Communist governments.

The restrictions will not apply to "trade and culture" trips.

Hybrid on the Seas

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Officers on the Navy's new fuel and cargo-ammunition carrier, Kawishiwi, also fitted for use as a hospital ship, claim it is one of the most unusual vessels in the service. They say that with operating rooms, X-ray room, and a main ward with 32 bunks, it is better equipped than many cruisers for handling battle casualties.

Williams All Aglow Over 'Secretaries'

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams had some glowing things to say today about secretaries both in business and government.

* * *

No longer, he said, does the public official or business executive look to his secretary only for efficient operation of complex office machines and good shorthand technique.

The secretary's "diplomatic and social skills" in receiving visitors has assumed great importance, he said.

"Secretaries in effect have become public relations officers for their employers," he added.

The governor proclaimed next Wednesday as National Secretaries' Day in Michigan. He urged employers and all who benefit from their "efficient and loyal service to pay public tribute to the secretaries of our state."

Control of Arms Seen by A-Plan

Ike's Nuclear Pool Setup May Afford Information to Check Dominance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The projected international atoms-for-peace agency should provide important pilot information toward a global arms control setup.

President Eisenhower, when he first proposed his atomic pool plan to the United Nations in December 1953, stressed the link between the problems of using the atom's energy for peace on a world scale and those of atomic disarmament.

Diplomatic authorities say it is now possible to spell out in more detail what those links are as a result of negotiations here which culminated Wednesday in agreement by the United States, Russia and 10 other countries on a charter for an atoms-for-peace agency.

THREE-POINT PLAN

1. Further work on the atoms-for-peace organization will provide a strong test of cooperation between Russia and the Western atomic powers. This is the first project in many years which has offered such a practical test. Assuming Russian willingness to contribute atomic materials out of its military stores, the remaining problems are not too difficult.

2. The atoms-for-peace agency will have to have an inspection system to make certain that materials provided to certain that matuse in power and research are not diverted into secret manufacture of atomic bombs.

3. Increasing use of atomic materials for peaceful purposes may remove some of the mystery from the atom and thereby diminish fear and suspicion of it. This could be helpful in creating a more favorable international attitude toward practical disarmament steps.

UAW Sub-Council Hits Skilled Group

General Motors Sub-Council No. 8, UAW, representing approximately 30,000 General Motors workers in the Pontiac area, last night condemned the action of the Society of Skilled Trades of North America.

In a resolution adopted unanimously by the members, the workers condemned the "dual action" of the society as being "detrimental to the best interests of the skilled trades worker as well as the production worker."

The members urged all skilled trade workers to stay united with the production workers in the UAW.

The council claims there are seven active chapters of the society in Michigan who are attempting to break away from the CIO because of dissatisfaction of the guaranteed annual wage reached for auto workers.

Parents Face Fines on Truancy Counts

Law officials yesterday hauled two fathers into court to put pressure on truant school children.

William Bridges, 27, of 565 Fourth Ave. and Fred Earls, 41, of 125 N. Perry St. were given a month to show that their children are back in school regularly or face fines up to $100 or 90 days in jail.

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum adjourned sentencing for that length of time after Earls pleaded guilty to violation of state school laws and Bridges was found guilty after trial.

The charges were brought by the city's attendance officer, Paul Allison, who said he took the case to court, as a last measure because he felt the parents had been "habitually unconcerned" whether or not their children attended school.

Reports Dental Goal of Future

Says More Stress on Prevention Than Cure Will Be Method

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Thomas J. Hill, professor emeritus of pathology at Western Reserve College, says dentists of the future will be more concerned with preventing tooth decay than with filling cavities.

"Dentistry must find some methods for control of disease, rather than just repairing destroyed tissues," Dr. Hill told the Michigan State Dental Assn.'s closing convention session yesterday.

He also said researchers are using tools of the atomic age to learn more about the basic nature of teeth.

"We are giving radioactive food to rats to measure the replacement rate of enamel in teeth," Dr. Hill said.

Dr. Hill, chairman of the American Dental Assn.'s council on research, said there is "no question among scientists" that fluoridation of water retards tooth decay.

He quoted U. S. Public Health Service statistics on a fluoridation experiment in Grand Rapids. Grand Rapids began its fluoridation program in 1944.

First grade pupils 12 years ago had twice as many cavities as youngsters do now in Grand Rapids schools, Dr. Hill said. He added that eighth grade pupils in 1944 had lost twice as many teeth as have present eighth graders in Grand Rapids.

Both breakin attempts were believed to have taken place after 9 p.m.

High Drama Builds in Graham Trial as Lawyers Battle Over Jury Issue

DENVER (INS)—Opposing lawyers, battling into the fifth day over selection of a jury, were building up today toward courtroom dramtics of a high order when testimony begins at the John Gilbert Graham murder trial.

* * *

Everyone in the courtroom, including the boyish-looking, 24-year-old defendant, Graham, seems to sence the impending drama as the six lawyers—three on each side—meticulously question men and women talesmen to be sure the jury ultimately selected is satisfactory.

Graham is one of the most extraordinary defendants in the history of American jurisprudence. He is accused of perpetuating the biggest mass-murder in the nation's history.

Specifically, the indictment charges him only with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55. But when she died 43 other persons died with her in the explosion of a dynamited airliner.

The, slim, 6 foot 1 Graham, a once-convicted forger, and somewhat of a ne'er-do-well allegedly planted a time-bomb in his mother's suitcase just before she took off in a United Air Lines mainliner Nov. 1 last. The plane exploded 11 minutes after its take-off from Denver, killing all on board.

OUTWARDLY IMPASSIVE

In court, as the lawyers pick and choose in the tedious task of selecting the jury, Graham remains outwardly impassive and shows as much interest in the proceed

Fair Share Split Widens at Rally

ELKTON (AP)—Approximately 250 Huron County farmers representing one faction of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn. (FSBA) voted unanimously last night to retain Homer Martin as organizing director.

Another faction headed by FSBA President Rolland Brengle of South Lyon has declared Martin fired and indicated it would seek CIO help in its organizing drive among farmers.

Martin said an FSBA strike which resulted in farmers getting $5 per hundredweight (46½ quarts) for No. 1 milk, instead of the old rate of $4.41 from creameries, "established too things."

"1. We found out farmers were willing to ask for what they want and to fight for it, and

"2. We didn't need organized labor to respect our picket lines, because we have the power to act ourselves."

Martin's faction has accused Brengle, who thus far has been supported by a majority of the original FSBA board of directors, of wanting to throw the organization into August Scholle's Michigan CIO Council.

Scholle has insisted on the other hand that he merely wants to help farmers get "a fair share" and that his offer of $1,000 a month was not intended, as Martin claims, to influence farmers politically.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR Mother, Matilda Witt, who passed away April 20, 1955.

What is home without a Mother all things this world may send
But when I lost my darling Mother, I lost my dearest friend.
Sadly missed by Hazel, Harold, Dorthy, Ruth and Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ALIDA W. Moran who passed away 6 years ago today.

Safe in God's wonderful keeping,
Until we meet again.
Sadly missed by children & grandchildren.

WILL MAMBROW DIED APRIL 20, 1952.

and sad and weary the way.
Life has not been the same,
since you were called away.
Sadly missed by wife, Anna Mambrow.

WHILE SHE RESTS IN PEACEful sleep, her memory we shall always keep. In loving memory of Mrs. Bessie Arnett, who passed away April 20 1954. Sadly missed by her daughter Rosa Bogan and family.

Convict County Man in Death of Woman

An eight-woman, four-man jury Wednesday convicted William R. Birckelbaw, 315 Liberty St., South Lyon, of negligent homicide in the traffic death last June 30 of Eleanor Haw.

Birckelbaw, allegedly driving under the influence of liquor when his car rammed head-on into one driven by Thomas Haw Jr., on Pontiac Trail, had been charged with manslaughter. The jury brought in a guilty verdict on the lowered charge.

Birckelbaw will be sentenced April 30 by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Red Deception Cited by Chiang

Brands Dissolution of Cominform as Soviet Trick to Fool World

NEW YORK (INS) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today branded Moscow's dissolution of the Cominform as another step in Russian efforts to deceive the world.

* * *

Chiang was said to have told CBS News Correspondent Robert Pierpont in an exclusive interview that the new Moscow move is to soften the opposition to communism in both Britain and the United States.

Pierpont said the president of Nationalist China explained that "Now that the Soviet Union has absolved itself of blame for Communist activities abroad, Communist infiltration and subversion will be stepped up in Asia and the Middle East."

It was reported by Pierpont that the 69-year-old leader "called for more aid to anti-Communist countries, particularly among Asia's neutral nations in order to save them from falling into the Communist snare."

MUST REMAIN FIRM

Chiang added that countries in the free world must be absolutely firm in the face of imminent Communist threats.

"In commenting on the recent rejection of Stalinism, the generalissimo described it as a trick, aimed at deceiving the free world into the belief that the Russians have changed their hearts and given up aggression," said Pierpont.

He went on to quote President Chiang as saying "I am sure, that there will be more violent internal strife within all Communist parties in Asia."

Due to Replace 'Comedy Hour'

Will Stay on 'Tonight' With Ernie Kovacs as Likely Alternate

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—Steve Allen will be Ed Sullivan's Sunday night competition starting in June..

The unhurried Steve-of-all-trades will step into the slot presently occupied by "The Comedy Hour" (NBC-TV) which is feverishly treading water in the rising seas of popularity ratings.

The exact Sunday in June when Steve takes the helm hasn't been set, but word comes from NBC that he won't quit his nightly programs completely. He'll "give at least three nights weekly to the 'Tonight' Show," relays the network.

Those mentioned as Steve's part-time replacements are Tennessee Ernie Ford and Ernie Kovacs, with the odds heavy on Kovacs since Ford is dickering to land his own weekly show for NBC, as a replacement for the current Thursday night "Ford Theater." (No relation. "Daggone it," postscripts Ernie.)

FISHER SIGNS UP

Eddie Fisher's contract has been renewed for three years. As things stand now, Eddie's show, "Coke Time," is seen on Wednesdays and Fridays for 15 minutes (NBC). The network is reportedly going to abandon its 15-minute spots and convert them into half hour shows.

The topic of "Pay TV" is reaching a boil in Washington. A decision should be reached shortly.

The situation comedy, "Hey, Jeannie" starring Jeannie Carson is slated to replace Janis Paige's series, "It's Always Jan," come fall.

Young comedian Johnny Carson will replace Robert Q. Lewis' afternoon stanza starting May 28, live from Hollywood.

IRISH ST. JOAN?

NBC wants actress Siobhan McKenna to star in an October spectacular of G. B. Shaw's "St. Joan." (We've had Midwestern Joans, Swedish Joans, Viennese Joans so the addition of a McKenna figures.)

Liberace is not planning any more filmed telecasts once this season's production is completed. He'll do numerous live appearances next season.

Dems, GOP in Surprise Clash

Kalamazoo Fracas Ignites '56 State Political Drive

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The 1956 state political campaign got off to a roaring start here yesterday as Democratic and Republican campaign teams clashed in a surprise face-to-face meeting.

It all began quietly when Gov. Williams and four of the five Democratic state administrative board officials breezed into the city for a quick "report to the people."

They found a high-powered Republican force lying in wait and the meeting caught them off guard.

HINTS ZIEGLER FIRING

Before it was over, Williams came out with the startling assertion that he has considered firing State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zeigler and had a new comment about his own political aspirations.

When Williams was asked why he doesn't use his constitutional authority to fire Ziegler, he surprised observers by replying:

"The thought has crossed my mind on more than one occasion. He has come close to nonfeasance in office."

The state constitution gives the governor authority to fire the highway commissioner for misfeasance, malfeasance or non-feasance in office.

* * *

Williams and Zieger have feuded bitterly for years over highway construction. The governor accuses Ziegler of building not highways but "bits and snatches."

Williams' reaction to questions about his own political future took on a new twist.

Asked whether he was running for president, and "if not, why not?" he grinned broadly and answered:

"Get that man's name and address. Seriously, I haven't made up my mind yet. I don't know what I'm going to do."

Rep. Ford Says He'll Run Again

Will Seek Re-election as Representative From Fifth District

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr. (R-Mich) ended months of political speculation yesterday by saying he will seek re-election as a representative from the Fifth Congressional District.

* * *

Ford had been mentioned in several Republican circles as a possible candidate to attempt to unseat Democratic Gov. Williams.

Former State Aud. Gen. John B. Martin, who previously had said his decision on whether to be a candidate for governor depended on what Ford did, said he would make a statement one way or another within 10 days.

Martin said: "The matter of running for governor of Michigan has been urged upon me by Republican friends and workers throughout the state, but I have reached no conclusion yet."

Commenting on Ford's decision not to run for governor, Martin said: "He would have made a very fine candidate for governor. If he had run, I would have given him my wholehearted support."

Soviets Winning Language War

Linguist Says Russians Gaining Friends With Native Tongue Talks

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A linguist said today the Russians are talking a better game in the Cold War, in 80 different languages.

Shirley Duncan Hudson, of the American Council of Learned Societies, said the United States may be doing okay building up its military muscles. But she said that when it comes to winning friends, especially in Asia, by talking to them in their native tongues, the Russians have a big edge.

"Language knowledge is but one of the weapons, but it's an important one, and one which has been dangerously neglected."

A couple of years ago "Pravda" reported that the Russian state publishing house had turned out, or was preparing, bilingual dictionaries in 80 languages.

NOT BEST SELLERS

With help from the Ford Foundation, some similar steps have been taken in this country. Don't look for them on the best seller lists, but books such as "A Grammer of Pashto," by Herbert Penzl, and "Spoken Amoy Hokkien," by N. C. Bodman, have been published.

Trouble is, according to Mrs. Hudson, there aren't nearly enough of them.

She has a list of work being done, and it shows great gaps in textbooks, grammars and students' dictionaries in languages like Cambodian, Tibetan, Uigur, Uzbek and Marathi.

"Progress," Mrs. Hudson says, "has been sporadic, crisis-inspired and inefficient."

Her conviction: That the U.S. government must underwrite the preparation of the most needed dictionaries since there is no way a publisher could break even on, say, a Javanese grammar.

CONGRESS UNENCOURAGING

So far, Congress has shown little enthusiasm, although Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, the top ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, has been interested in the project.

Mrs. Hudson, who put in 10 years as a teacher in China, regrets (1) that Americans are so reluctant to learn another language, and (2) that those we have learned have been mostly European.

Four years ago a study of 25,500 scholars in the humanities and social sciences showed, Mrs. Hudson said, "an alarming deficiency" in those who could handle any language save English.

Among all those 25,500 experts, the Council or Learned Societies could scare up only three who could speak Burmese and only one who knew enough Thai to carry on a person-to-person conversation in Thailand.

One scholar claimed he was completely fluent in Vietnamese, which seemed logical. He was a native of Viet Nam.

Thugs Turning Sissy, Dallas Police Discover

DALLAS (AP)—Police are wondering if the underworld is turning sissy.

And a 27-year-old hoodlum, veteran of half a dozen underworld knife and gun battles, was booked for malicious mischief after police caught him with an air rifle and a box of pellets hidden in his truck.

Most of Nation's Farms Electrified

WASHINGTON — An agriculture Department survey indicates that about 93.4 per cent of the nation's 4,782,393 farms have central-station electric service compared with 92.3 per cent in 1954 and 77.2 per cent at the time of the 1950 census. In 1935 only 10.9 per cent of the farms had service was extended to 30.4 per cent, and in 1945 to 45.7 per cent.

Middle East Suspiciously Awaits Red Peacemakers

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are good reasons for the Russians to step into the Middle East crisis as peacemakers and to agree to go along with a world agency to develop atomic energy for peace.

* * *

They have deliberately presented themselves in a new and friendly role, and they must seem to live up to it by deeds if they want to be believed. They can only get what they want if they are believed in a world long suspicious of them.

AIM: WORLD COMMUNISM

What they want—and Communist party boss Khrushchev has said so—is world communism. That hasn't changed. Their tactics have. Khrushchev said they should try to take over peacefully where they can and by force only where they have to.

* * *

To sound convincing they had to take a first, drastic step. This meant disowning Stalin, who had come to personify communism as violence, murder and revolution.

Stalin, set in his ways, relied on force alone. In his lifetime communism never advanced an inch without force. But reliance on force alone has become increasingly dangerous for the Soviet Union.

* * *

Since the United States and Russia both have atomic weapons neither can attempt force without the risk of destruction itself. With something besides force now necessary, Russia's new peaceful line emerged.

REDS HAVE PATIENCE

Winning peacefully takes time. The Russians seem willing to take it. They have a lot of time. They have made tremendous progress in science and production. They will make far more if they stay out of war.

* * *

They are the Middle East's next-door neighbor. They can't take it by force without facing war with the United States. And at the moment they are not in a position to take it from within, either peacefully or by revolution.

In every Arab country of the Middle East, including Egypt to whom Russia recently sent arms through Czechoslovakia, the Communist party is illegal. There are Communist undergrounds.

* * *

If there were upheavals in the Middle East tomorrow—according to information here—the Communists in the area are not strong enough to take over.

GOODWILL REPLACES FORCE

So it will take time, and plenty of evidence of good will from Russia, before the Communists in the Middle East get legal recognition as a political party and therefore have a chance to move into the governments.

Meanwhile, Britain would almost certainly move into the area with force if fighting between Arabs and Israelis threatened to shut off Britain's Middle Eastern oil supplies. France and the United States would probably back her up.

* * *

Once in, it would be likely they'd retain control of the area for some time to maintain peace. Russia couldn't oust them except by going to war. Why should she chance that?

She can hope to dominate the area eventually by peaceful means since the British and French are widely hated there.

As for the Russian agreement to join the atoms-for-peace agency: the Soviets would have let the United States walk off with the lead in this field if they didn't join.

* * *

Start New Ski Jump at Banff, Alberta

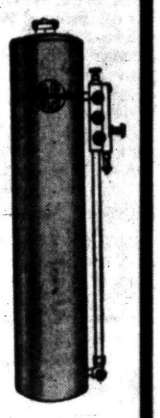

BANFF, Alberta — Construction has started on a new ski jump approved for Olympic and world-championship competition on 9,000-foot Mount Norquay in Banff National Park. It is expected to be completed for the 1956-57 winter season. Leaps of almost 300 feet will be possible on the new hill. The record mark on the old Norquay jump, torn down in 1954, was 224 feet.

Warn Deer Hunters to Vaccinate Dogs

OTTAWA—Provincial authorities have warned deer hunters in Ontario to have their dogs vaccinated for rabies before taking them into the brush. Cases of rabies, mostly in foxes, have been reported in northern Ontario as far south as Perry Sound.
