Bronx Gang Leader Charged in Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—The leader of a Bronx youth gang is accused of the shotgun slaying of a rival youthful mobster.

Kicking and screaming after he was seized by detectives at a Bronx street corner, Ramon Serra, 20, was hauled to a police station, where he was charged last night with homicide.

Detectives cornered Serra, president of the Egyptian Crowns, as he tried to keep a sidewalk rendezvous with his 14-year-old girl friend.

The girl, Alice Bayron, had led police to him. Serra made a feeble effort to reach a fully loaded automatic pistol, which he had in his belt, before surrendering.

Bronx Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan said he would ask a first-degree murder indictment.

Serra, who wore a star earring in his left earlobe, gave police this account of how he killed Michael Ramos, 17, in a Bronx candy store Saturday night: "I asked him if he was looking for me and he gave me a bad look. He looked at me from my head to my toes and I shot him."

Ramos had roots in three youth gangs. He had testified for the prosecution during the recent trial of seven gang members, charged in the killing of Michael Farmer, a crippled youth.

But Deputy Police Inspector John V. Halk said: "There is definitely no connection between the Ramos death and the Farmer case."

Detectives said the Ramos slaying stemmed from the shotgun wounding two weeks ago of Carlos Candelario, 17, of the Bronx.

Candelario, a member of Serra's gang, was gravely wounded in a gang dispute. Henry Rectoria 15, a member of one of Ramos' gangs, has been accused of the shooting.

Detectives said Ramos asked Serra that there be no retaliation for the shooting.

"I didn't go for that jazz," Serra, a handler at a banana company, was quoted as saying. Police said he told them: "It was all a mistake. My finger tightened on the trigger and it went off."

Asked if he was sorry, Serra said, "Yeah."

Hope Mounts at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—Enthusiasm mounted at the U. N. today over the possibility that the U. S. proposal for international inspection of the Northern Arctic might provide the first breakthrough in the 12-year disarmament stalemate.

Township police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies began a search of the lake when they found the boat capsized with the throttle in the motor still wide open.

Wilson had been reported missing late Friday night by his father, Floyd L. Wilson. He was last seen heading for the lake Friday afternoon to try out a new motor on an eight-foot boat.

Township police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies began a search of the lake when they found the boat capsized with the throttle in the motor still wide open.

Ike Urges Reds to OK Arctic Inspection Plan

President Sends New Note to Khrushchev on Disarmament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to join the United States and other Western Allies in an international inspection program for the Arctic area.

In a new note to the Kremlin leader, the President also appealed anew to the Soviet Union to have its technical experts work with the United States in an effort to determine which nuclear test ban controls are necessary to open the way toward general disarmament.

Khrushchev had rejected that Eisenhower proposal in a letter to the President last week.

In calling on the Soviet Union to join the Western allies in an Arctic area aerial inspection program, the President pointed out to Khrushchev that the United States already has announced its intention of bringing up the matter in the United Nations Security Council tomorrow.

A resolution will be introduced in the council by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. mission to the U.N.

"I am sure," Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, "that with the growing capabilities in the Soviet Union and the United States of massive surprise attack, it is necessary to establish measures to allay fears."

Eisenhower said agreement on such an inspection program would be a significant first step toward disarmament.

The President's note added up to still another U.S. move to smash recent Soviet charges that this country is endangering peace by sending nuclear armed bomber planes across the Arctic area toward the Soviet frontier.

The Soviet Union brought that complaint before the U.N. Security Council last week. But Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev withdrew his resolution — asking the council to halt such U.S. flights — after nine of the other 10 members of the council had spoken against it.

The United States denied the flights of its bombers were in any way provocative or threatening to peace.

In urging the Russians to support the American resolution, Eisenhower said in his 570-word message to Khrushchev:

"Your support of this proposal and subsequent cooperation would help to achieve a significant first step. It would help reduce tensions, it would contribute to an increase of confidence among states and help reduce the mutual fears of surprise attack."

3 Dead, Many Homeless in Floods

Hail, Rain Pound Texas

DALLAS (AP)—Massive rain and hail storms had moved eastward out of the state today after touching off destructive flash floods and causing at least three deaths in east and north Texas.

Weather forecasters said the worst appeared to be over but more scattered thundershowers still were in prospect through tomorrow.

South Arkansas, also battered by two days of torrential rains, braced for further downpours.

Officials said another deluge could almost paralyze a broad sector where high waters blocked numerous highways and routed several hundred persons from their homes.

Hail damaged more than 200 homes near McKinney and a tornado whipped the roof off the Frenship School 4½ miles southeast of there in north Texas.

Rains measuring more than 12½ inches sent floodwaters surging into low-lying residential areas of Atlanta, in the state's northeast corner; Pittsburg, 45 miles to the west; and Dallas and Fort Worth.

More than 50 families were homeless in Texas. Travel was disrupted in the worst-hit areas.

High water also marooned a passenger train at Atlanta. Passengers spent the weekend at a hotel there.

5,000 to 'Hit the Silk' Today

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—Nearly 5,000 toughened paratroopers, led by their commanding general, are ready to hit the silk today in the largest mass air drop since World War II.

Major Gen. W. C. Westmoreland said he would jump 15 minutes ahead of the 101st Airborne Division's scheduled 11:30 a.m. drop to make a personal check of weather conditions and prevent what he called "another horrible phenomenon."

Five troopers were killed and 155 injured last Wednesday when capricious winds slammed them into rocks and trees on this military reservation which straddles the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

Nearly 1,400 men were involved in that drop, a key part of a simulated war known as Operation Eagle Wing.

Westmoreland, who made his 70th jump in the Wednesday drop, said, "If I find it safe today, the troops will follow. Otherwise, I'll call off the show. The weather is still a big question mark."

Rains and heavy winds delayed the jump four times during the weekend.

Any wind 13 knots or faster is considered unsafe for jumping," explained the 44-year-old officer, one of the army's youngest major generals.

Once the exercise gets started it involves 125 aircraft, tons of heavy equipment and 4,985 paratroopers from the pioneer Paratrooper Division — so-called because its organization of five battle groups was designed for atomic war.

The men will be flown to this 55,000-acre reservation from states: Ohio, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

"You might call this our graduation ceremony," said Westmoreland. "Our soldiers have been taught how to exist on atomic battlefields and fight brush fire wars wherever they might spring up."

"Our objective now is to launch a counter-invasion against an aggressor force which landed last week."

The mock war ends April 30.

Police Hunt Murderer in Detroit

NEW BALTIMORE (INS)—Flecks of paint, a missing handyman and a stolen car were leads being checked today by police in the coffin murder of 65-year-old Walter Curlik, wealthy Detroit landlord.

Curlik was found nailed inside a wooden wardrobe or cupboard Saturday in a Macomb County wooded area near New Baltimore. Police said he was beaten and slashed to death with an ax or heavy knife.

Curlik, a widower with two grown children, lived in Hamtramck and Detroit.

The Macomb County coroner's office said the man had been dead about 48 hours before he was found stuffed inside the coffin-like box, shrouded with a painter's drop cloth. This cloth and paint flecks are being checked by police. They believe it came from one of Curlik's properties (at 1307 Woodland).

Sheriff Harley Ensign of Macomb County said he is convinced Curlik was murdered in Detroit, wrapped in the cloth and transported in the box to the lonely area where he was found Saturday.

A caretaker at the Woodland property has not been seen since Saturday. Homicide detectives refused to identify the man, except to say his first name is "John." Curlik's wallet, believed to contain as much as $2,000 and his 1950 Buick (license EN 2790), are missing.

State Police to Study Bones Found on Farm

PORT AUSTIN (AP)—A human skull and other bones unearthed over the weekend in a rural area near here were held by Huron County sheriff's officers today for study by State Police.

The skull, which deputies said appeared to be fractured, was found Saturday night on the Martin Fisher farm about 1½ miles southwest of here by Leo Cornett of Filion.

Sheriff Merritt R. McBride and a deputy went to the site and dug up a number of bones. McBride said the skull was human but he did not know about the bones. He said they would be sent to State Police headquarters in East Lansing for tests.

Cardinal Stritch Loses Arm in Operation for Blood Clot

ROME (AP)—The right arm of Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, was amputated just above the elbow today to check a blood clot.

The 70-year-old prelate's condition was described as very good.

The 35-minute operation was performed by Dr. Pietro Valdani, famed Italian surgeon who saved the life of Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti after an attempt to kill him 10 years ago.

Two Chicago physicians assisted in the surgery on the veteran churchman who was stricken aboard ship en route to take up his new duties as prefect of the Vatican's worldwide mission activities. They were Dr. Ralph Bergen and Dr. John Keeley.

Dr. Filippo Rocchi of the Vatican medical staff, who also assisted, said the cardinal awoke soon after the operation and said he "was feeling fine and did not suffer any pain."

Dr. Rocchi said the churchman probably would remain in the hospital about two weeks.

Pope Pius XII, who had sent his blessings and had been praying for his colleague, was notified at once of the success of the operation. The pontiff expressed his happiness at the news.

Shortly before the cardinal went under the knife, he was visited by the pontiff's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi. The cardinal, whose hand and lower forearm had been darkened and left lifeless by his ailment, was given the last rites of the church before the operation.

It was emphasized that they were administered to provide spiritual fortification, not because his life was in danger.

Named as defendants in the suit were six persons associated with the Artiste Beauty Salon, Northland Center. They were charged with "unskillful and negligent performance of their duties."

Student Killed Out West

LARAMIE, Wyo. (U) — Wayne Miller, 23, of Grosse Pointe, Mich., died here yesterday of injuries sustained Saturday in a two-car collision on icy U.S. 287 about 21 miles south of Laramie. Miller was a student at the University of Utah. Eight other persons were injured in the collision.

Do you remember the lightning count? Does it really tell you how far away the lightning bolt was? When you see a bolt of lightning and do not hear thunder, begin a second-count and note the number of seconds until you hear the thunder. Divide this number by five and you have the distance of the lightning.

This is an infallible rule and is based on the knowledge that sound travels only a fifth of a mile per second. Therefore it takes five seconds for the sound to travel a mile, even though you immediately see the flash, even at some distance.

Lightning seen in the west is most dangerous (in the north temperate zone) for it is probably heading toward you.

Billy Graham at Cow Palace in Frisco:

Sees Tranquilizers Supplanting God

SAN FRANCISCO (U) Twenty-five the Cow Palace Sunday to hear three thousand people overflowed Billy Graham, opening his West Coast crusade, condemn the age as one trying tranquilizers instead of God.

GRAHAM THROGGED — With San Francisco's huge Cow Palace jammed to capacity, evangelist Billy Graham stepped outside Sunday to address this large overflow crowd after opening a six-week crusade in the Palace. The Cow Palace seats 18,500. Many more were left outside.

"We are taking tranquilizer pills to quiet us, sleeping pills to put us to sleep, benzadrine to wake us up in the morning and aspirin in between," the North Carolina evangelist told 18,000 jamming the stock pavilion's 30,100 square feet.

"Our generation needs God more than any generation in history... Psychiatrists are doing such a big business that they are going to each other for help."

Graham said it again outside the pavilion in a condensed sermon for 5,000 who couldn't get in. Another 2,000 cars were turned away by police at the gates. At one time, officers said, cars were lined up three abreast for six miles trying to get to this West Coast counterpart of the Madison Square Garden meetings.

Before he arrived, Graham had criticized San Francisco—the city spawned by a gold rush—as statistically out front of the nation in drinking but far back in church attendance.

Yesterday, facing an audience of many races so typical of this gateway to the Orient, Graham proclaimed it one of the largest opening day crowds in his evangelistic career.

The San Francisco crusade is scheduled for six weeks, with a possible extension of two more.

"We are not here to put on a show or to entertain you," Graham said.

"You have been listening to the voice of the diplomat, the scientist, the psychiatrist, the sociologist and the military commander. It is time you listened to the voice of Almighty God."

Weekend's Toll in Traffic Low

Only 3 Persons Killed; April Death Count Logs 39 Behind Last Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS In what State Police described as an amazing display of safety, Michigan motorists got through the weekend with only three fatal traffic accidents. The death toll was the lowest for any weekend this year.

Police said that through midnight Sunday the state's traffic death toll for April was a low 72, compared to 111 for the same period in 1957.

The Associated Press weekend traffic fatality tabulation begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends Sunday midnight.

Andrew VanderZee, 75, Grand Rapids, was killed Sunday when struck by a car in Grand Rapids.

Henry J. Babias, 35, Dearborn, was killed Saturday when his car struck an embankment on a curve in Dearborn Township.

Dudley A. Carson, 20, Wyandotte, was killed Friday night when his car struck a utility pole and burst into flames in Riverview, a Detroit suburb.

Links Cancer, Heart Attacks to Smoking

NEW YORK (INS) — A doctor from Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research reported today that he found lung cancer and heart attacks less frequent among a test group of non-smoking males than is average for the general male population. Incidence of lung cancer was found to be only 10 per cent of the national average for men, and heart attacks 60 per cent.

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, of New York, based his statement on a study of 8,692 patients with cancer and heart ailments in eight Seventh Day Adventist hospitals in the Los Angeles, Calif., area. Of these, 564 were Seventh Day Adventists, who refrain from smoking and drinking alcohol because of religious convictions.

Dr. Wynder said that 38 per cent of the Adventists' heart attacks struck before the age of 64, compared to 62 per cent among the other males before 64. He said:

"These findings suggest that smoking may precipitate (trigger) heart attacks and coronary artery disease and that the higher rate among young males in the general population may be associated with their smoking habits."

Bodies of 2 Baby Girls Found Wrapped in Paper

MT. CLEMENS (U) — Bodies of two newborn baby girls, both wrapped in paper bags, were found yesterday, one on the shores of Lake St. Clair at Selfridge Air Force Base and the other in Detroit.

Three Detroit fishermen, came across the baby on Selfridge property. Federal authorities took charge of the investigation. Macomb County Coroner Dr. Raymond G. Markle said the child had been dead two or three days.

The other infant was found in the center of Washburn Street in northwest Detroit by Razz Flowers, who called police. The child had been wrapped in a cotton slip and pajamas before being placed in the bag.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Discuss Road-Oiling Program

BIRMINGHAM — Seven hearings, three concerning the summer road-oiling program, are scheduled for tonight's City Commission meeting.

Mrs. E. A. Sjogren has filed a letter of formal protest against the oil mat and seal coat proposed for Chestnut street. She states she feels city taxes should take care of this project without the establishment of a special assessment.

In the three necessity hearings there are 5,600 lineal feet slated for oil mat and seal coat, 3,840 for light oil and 46,390 for seal coat.

Other hearings concern the access drive on North Woodward and the retaining wall and sewer line relative to it.

Tonight's session also will open the door to numerous special meetings as commissioners go through the proposed 1958-59 budget. The proposed budget is $1,640,215, an increase of $42,519.00 over the budget for the fiscal year ending July 1.

Departmental requests would have raised the tax rate to approximately 20 mills. The budget, as submitted now, holds to the current 19.6 mills.

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Birmingham architects, have been selected by the East Detroit School District to design all buildings for its new expansion program, according to Thomas H. Hewlett.

Housewife Swims 26 Miles for Record

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U) — A housewife finished swimming 26 miles from Catalina Island to Long Beach last night and claimed these world records:

The longest swim ever performed by a woman.
An all-time endurance record for swimmers of either sex.

Mrs. Amy Hilland, 32, of Long Beach, splashed ashore at Pierpoint Landing here shortly after 7 p.m. That was 24 hours and 25 seconds after she entered the island surf. She was seasick most of the way.

Mrs. Hilland last year swam 18.3 miles across the Strait of Juan De Fuca from Port Angeles, Wash., to William Head, Vancouver Island. That made her, she said, the first woman to swim between the United States and Canada.

Her explanation for attempting such feats:

"Every woman has to have a challenge to be happy."

Ravaged Body of Girl Found

High School Pupil, 16, Missing Since Thursday, Murdered in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — The body of a 16-year-old high school girl, who had been missing since Thursday, was found yesterday on a country road and authorities said she had been raped and strangled.

She was Mary Jane Hanselman, daughter of a Springfield fire captain and who was last seen Thursday evening when she left a restaurant where she was employed as a part-time waitress.

Her body was found alongside a country road near the Illinois state fairgrounds by Henry W. Landers, a horse trainer at the fair grounds, who was driving with his wife to visit a friend, W. C. Telford, Sangamon County coroner, said the girl had been raped and strangled.

One of the girl's stockings had been wound tightly around her neck and knotted. Her wrists were bound together in front of her body with the other.

Mary Jane, a sophomore at the Sacred Heart Academy, a Roman Catholic girls' school, had started a job as a part-time waitress last Tuesday in a restaurant near her home.

of St. Francis Xavier, was placed against the cardinal's stricken flesh last night and then kept in his room throughout the night before the amputation.

The cardinal was afflicted with a clot in the major artery of his arm which developed suddenly on the last two days of his voyage to Rome.

Upon his arrival in Naples Friday, he was weak and pale and already had lost the use of his limb.

Priests attending the ailing prelate said he had remained in good spirits right up until the operation. He talked and joked with Msgr. John Kelly and the Rev. John Banahan, two members of his party from Chicago, until he dozed off under the preoperative sedatives.

Shortly before undergoing surgery, the cardinal said to members of his staff: "Wasn't God nice to let me consecrate that bishop and ordain those priests before his happened?"

He referred to the consecration of Bishop James Ryan of Chicago, now a missionary in Brazil, and ordination of 34 priests for Chicago before he left the city for Rome. A member of the cardinal's staff said it is doubtful whether he will ever consecrate or ordain again. In the church's liturgical important acts, including the breaking of the Eucharistic Host, normally require the use of both hands.

The Vatican Press Office pointed out, however that a decree of the Congregation of Rites expressly provides for the assistance of celebrants of the mass who are crippled.

The cardinal's severed arm will be buried in sanctified ground, in accordance with church regulations.

Manhattan Barely Notices Space Visitor

NEW YORK (AP)—He was a typical guy from out of town, a fellow who wouldn't be noticed here.

He was small but well developed. His three ears were within hearing distance. His eyes—all four of them—though narrow and dark, had an air of utter simplicity.

The antennae that protruded from his forehead were borne with a boyish air, one tilted as if eager to hear from a world he never had heard from, one bent to feel the world he knew.

His eyes, though green and protruding, seemed ordinary for a

Fortunately, his first reports back from his stranded flying saucer were recorded.

They follow:

"The place called the earth is warm and habitable. At the hour of landing it was populated.

"The inhabitants range from large aggressive two-legged creatures who call themselves men to small aggressive creatures whom men call insects. The insects have six legs, and a vocabulary of their own, which this expedition is not momentarily able to understand.

"Earth seems to be involved in a time of struggle.

"They all have their rituals, the men and the insects, and they seem to have their goals. The goal between the insects, and the men seems to be the same: extermination. Whether they have two or six legs, they are bent on destroying each other.

"There appears no area of agreement. Some men fight other men, some insects fight other insects, all men fight all insects, some insects fight all men.

"It is a disparate place. The contending people argue whether one man wins against each other. They all assume that their war against each other is more important than their war against the insects.

"The insects attack all men, also many of their own kind, and they utilize their mandibles for food rather than discussion. They would rather digest than discourse.

"The people seem to feel that if they can just whip each other, they can then handle the insects. The insects rarely fight back. They fasten and feed.

In summary: earth is roughly spherical, turns on an axis, slants, which determines its weather, is available for exploration.

Political assessment: positive. It could be made a nice rest resort by a higher power."

5-Month Search for Girl, 7, Ends

Body Found in Woods by Mushroom Hunters; Police Seek Clues

GALENA, Ill. (AP)—Police today hunted for clues in the death of little Maria Ridolph, whose decomposed body was found in the woods near here Saturday, ending a search of nearly five months for the 7-year-old girl.

Dr. A. R. K. Matthews, a state pathologist, who examined the decomposed remains of Maria, said he was unable to determine the cause, time, or place of her death because of the condition of the body.

State police said they planned to question sex degenerates and ex-convicts in the Galeana area, in the northwest part of the state, as well as in the area near Maria's home at Sycamore. She was abducted from near her home last Dec. 3. She was last seen when she accepted a strange man's offer of a piggy back ride.

Her body was found in a wooded area near Woodbine, about 75 miles northwest of Sycamore, by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sitar of Hopkins, Minn., who were hunting mushrooms.

Busiest Days Coming for Unsure Congress

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—This busy Congress, bewildered first by the Sputniks and then by the recession, has its busiest days ahead.

When the legislators quit for 1957 last summer there had been no Sputniks and they were not very conscious of the dropping American economy.

They could look forward—so it seemed—to be a fairly routine session in 1958 and then the campaigns for the November elections. But then the Soviets sent up their Sputniks. Congress came back in January excited about the missile race, hardly noticing the deepening recession.

By the time this country got up its three little satellites the broadening gloom of the recession hit Congress square in the face.

Between January and now, Congress has worked pretty hard, passing legislation which could be called anti-recession measures. But the Congress members, like the Eisenhower administration, have shown some bewilderment in coping with this recession problem.

How to get the economy back on the track without derailing it by doing too much or too little too soon or too late?

Now Congress is in its closing months of 1958 with its biggest and most heated issues ahead. Here are some of the major tasks awaiting completion by Congress:

1. The election campaign. Even when its work is done it must go home and face the voters. All 435 House seats and 34 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake next November.
2. Unemployment pay. It's struggling with a bill to give extra benefits to jobless people who have already exhausted their or who never got any at all.
3. The recession. Even unemployment pay may not be enough. If the recession gets worse, far more action may be needed.
4. Reciprocal trade and foreign aid. President Eisenhower wants both renewed. He seems certain to get both. The question is: In what form?
5. Streamlining the Defense Department. Eisenhower insists on action. It's an angry issue, with some lawmakers mighty stubborn against him.

6. Pension and welfare funds. The Senate almost surely will approve this week a measure to protect such funds for employees. But this can't become law until the House also acts.

7. More regulations on unions. Before it leaves, Congress may have to tackle major labor legislation, which may also put clamps on employers too.

8. Outer space. Congress is wrestling in this new field with the idea of setting up an outer space agency. The question here is: Civilian or military control of it?

9. Appropriations. This is the problem Congress faces every year: Voting enough money to keep the government running.

Last year was stormy, with Congress embroiled over civil rights. This has been a fairly quiet year, but an uneasy one, and intense.

Marquette Boy Dies in Fishing Accident

MARQUETTE (AP)—Ten-year-old Carl Ingalls drowned yesterday when he tumbled from a homemade raft while fishing with his 9-year-old brother.

State Police said the boy and his brother, Dennis, were fishing on Pelesier Lake seven miles south of Marquette when Carl fell in the water.

A 12-year-old girl, Sue Ann Matson, who was fishing in a nearby boat with her father, Leonard, grabbed for Carl and fell overboard, too, but was rescued by her father. He failed in an attempt to rescue the boy.

Fears Rain Above Police

DALLAS (AP)—Policeman R. R. Scrivner figured a thief with more fear of weekend downpours than retribution took his raincoat from a patrol car. The black rubber coat carries the word "police" in big letters across the back—and the white letters glow in the dark.

Daily Routine Controls Aging Look

Beauty Care Easy if Basic Tools Kept Handy

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is nothing quite so frustrating to a busy woman as lack of equipment with which to carry out her tasks. After weeks of delay you may finally find a few moments in which to write some long delayed personal letters. You go to your desk and sit down to write. The pen is gone or it is out of ink or someone has moved your stationery.

Yet unless we add to a master list regularly items we see are getting low, this is certain to happen to us. It is frustrating and therefore consumes great amounts of energy. This is one of the little leaks which takes a big toll.

This is especially true of beauty care because we are apt to be careless about that anyway. Why not make it easy to include in your beauty routines by keeping all of the essential articles in one place and then checking on them periodically?

Many a woman's attractiveness has been damaged because she could not find the necessary implements when she found time to groom herself. Why not make it easy?

A woman can do tricks with mirrors. She actually needs several. First is her dressing table mirror. The lights on each side should be about the level of the nose. These should be bright, not shaded or fluorescent. She also needs a hand mirror in order to look at herself side and back view.

MAGNIFYING MIRROR

Then there is that cruel but essential magnifying mirror. Many grooming jobs such as eyebrow or chin tweezing can be best accomplished by taking the magnifying glass to the window for bright daylight. Make-up for daytime should also be checked at the window with the hand mirror. What looks right in artificial light may look wrong in day light.

At spring vacation time in New York City the hotels are jammed with young folks enjoying this period away from college. Many of them join their parents for this interlude.

The other day while sitting in the lobby of one of the large hotels I saw several mothers and daughters pass by. It was apparent that this was their relationship because they looked so much alike. One pair, especially, could have been identical twins except that one of the women looked older.

This caused me to think again that the impression of age is produced by an aggregate of many small differences or changes. No one big change gives you the appearance of middle age. Many small changes which occur gradually create it.

ANALYZING AGE

To go back to the mother and daughter I watched, I began analyzing just what had happened to the mother to make her look older than the daughter.

First and foremost was the difference in pounds. Some of these came from natural maturing but there were a lot of other pounds lurking about the waist and abdomen and hips of the mother which could not claim this as their origin. Any overweight always detracts from the impression of youthfulness.

Next, I would say that posture had the greatest effect. The mother slumped some, her head protruded forward a little, and her abdomen was thickened even with the aid of a good girdle.

The way a woman walks and moves makes a tremendous difference. The mother's movements were stiff. The lack of elasticity and grace was a result of little exercise.

The matronly looking clothes make a big dent in a youthful appearance. I do not mean to suggest that the middle-aged woman should adopt teen-age styles. However, she can "be in the mode" and smart chic costumes have a stippy rather than droopy appearance.

Hair styling also plays a part. An old-fashioned hairdo can make an angel of 20 look prematurely old.

All of the aging characteristics I have mentioned can be controlled to a great extent by a daily routine and exercise and an awareness which makes you determine not to give in to the forces of gravity by slumping, not to adopt the usual walk for one's age. These slip up on women before they know it.

Remember: It's hot sud—either soap or detergent—that keep that silver shining.

Tomorrow: "Your Toes Tell Type of Shoe Best for You."

At thirty, sophistication makes you look even younger than the "baby" dress which is for amusing play clothes only after thirty.

The "baby doll" look can be quite charming on a teenager but a tragedy on an older face. However, for play clothes, whimsical, amusing fashions on the right kind of figure can be just right at any age.

THE EYES HAVE IT

As you no doubt know, this season the line is the important thing. The eyeline and hairline have a major influence on the facial effect. They must coordinate. Eyebrows, when properly outlined, space the face in the right proportions and the result is quite flattering. When coloring your hair don't neglect faded brows, but improve on nature in this subtle way.

Does your eyeline as well as your hairline blend with your particular type of look? If not, let us solve this for you. With the coming of Mother's Day, we suggest a gift of beauty for the lady who has meant so much in your life. Rowena's Beauty Salons, 4831 Dixie Highway, Dayton, Ohio 45424. 14 S. Does Men's Silence Mean They Agree?

By RUTH MILLETT

Some of my women readers have landed on me with both feet for daring to suggest in a recent column that "togetherness" as a marriage ideal can be overdone, so far as the husband is concerned.

I made a lot of women mad in suggesting that, instead of a husband and wife doing everything together, a bit of separateness might be more stimulating to the marriage and give each a little more room for growth.

Here they are, basking in the warmth and security of having a husband always at their side, whether they are washing dishes, buying groceries, scrubbing floors or whatever. And here am I, questioning the rightness of making marriage such a complete twosome that a man doesn't have any time for masculine pursuits—unless, of course, he takes the little woman along.

Their indignation at the nerve of anyone daring to suggest that "togetherness" can be overdone was red hot.

But there was one thing that interested me, and ought to interest women, particularly those who have turned their husbands into Mama's little helper around the house.

And that is, that not one of the protesting letters was written by a husband.

No sir, not one husband of all the thousands who are making their wives happy by accepting their part in the new "togetherness" marriage ideal had one good word to say for it in protest to my article.

So it well may be, as I suggested, that while Mama is happy having Papa share the household tasks and spending every minute of his leisure time in her company, Papa may feel just a bit restless and more than a little envious of his friends whose wives hand them the evening paper when they arrive home from the office, instead of a scrub brush.

Good Hostess Exhibits Grace

A woman can be hospitable and still not be a charming hostess. The woman who invites you to her home and then won't let you leave when you want to is certainly offering hospitality.

But she lacks the touch of graciousness that makes her hospitality welcome.

Lone Plane Bombs British Oil Tanker

LONDON (AP)—The owners of the British tanker San Flaviano reported today that she had been bombed and set afire by unidentified planes in the harbor of Balikpapan, a steamy oil port on the island of Borneo.

The city, which is in Indonesian government hands, lies directly opposite the island of the Celebes, one of the principal strongholds of the Indonesian rebels. The bombs also fell near the 8,139-ton Shell tanker Daronia, but a message from Balikpapan said the vessel escaped damage. A later message from the Daronia indicated the bombing was carried out by a lone raider.

Eagle tankers, owners of the 12,278-ton San Flaviano, said that the harbor pilot's launch picked up two lifeboats of survivors from their ship.

There was no immediate report of any casualties.

Will Fight Legislation 'Detrimental' to Unions

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said yesterday he will fight with all his strength against "legislation which I believe to be detrimental to organized labor in this country."

Mitchell addressed Roman Catholic members of a local of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers at a communion breakfast.

Missing power on hills?

Missing "go" on getaway?

Missing money with low mileage?

Chances are you have Spark Plug "Miss"

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP stop spark plug "miss" which wastes gasoline and robs you of as much as 30 horsepower

You can't see it, you can't hear it, but you can feel spark plug "miss" — when your engine's power fades and you aren't getting the mileage you should.

What causes spark plug "miss"?

Everyday driving, particularly the stop-and-go kind, builds up fouling deposits on the firing ends of spark plugs. These deposits conduct electricity and short out the electrical charge instead of letting it jump the gap and ignite your gasoline.

TCP Adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

Super Shell Gasoline has high octane for anti-knock. But in today's engines anti-knock alone is not enough. That's why TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock. TCP additive neutralizes the deposits that cause spark plug misfiring. After 2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP*, your engine will be "hitting on all eight"—delivering up to 30 horsepower it couldn't give before.

You'll save on gasoline, get better mileage, too, because Super Shell contains a "power pack" of aviation fuel ingredients called aromatics. The extra energy they provide converts automatically to extra miles per gallon. See your Shell Dealer.

It's Machine Gun Season for Pontiac Post Troopers

By DICK SAUNDERS

The frightening roar of machine gun fire mixed with blasts from sawed off shotguns may greet you most any day at this time of the year if you plan a visit to the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area.

Check your fears—you don't have to run for cover. It's not a war breaking out or a full-fledged battle royal. It's heavy weapons training time for State Troopers from the Pontiac Post.

In charge of the training program is Trooper Harold Wade.

A total of 29 troopers will have seen action on the Park's rifle range when the training period draws to a close. Wade takes an average of five men on each trip.

"I never take less than three at a time, since our purpose is to turn out troopers that aren't gun-shy as well as men trained in the use of heavy arms," explains Wade.

"The men must have others shooting around them in order to learn the value of working as a team and acquiring a keen sense of concentration."

The shooting schedule is worked out so as not to interfere with off-duty hours of the troopers. No plan is set up in advance; Wade takes a group to the range when he has enough on the day shift who haven't yet fired.

As for the weapons themselves, they are of three major types.

The .30 caliber rifle is used in the event of long distance fighting (tracking down an escaped convict, for example).

Secondly, the men get training in shooting the standard police "riot gun." This is actually a 12 gauge sawed off shotgun.

The effective range of this gun is no more than 50 yards. The shot scatters to cover a larger area than a rifle and is used as a mob control weapon.

The last major weapon class is machine gun practice. The local troopers use a .45 caliber machine gun practice. The lot of 32 rounds. The weapon's effective range is 300 yards and it is capable of firing 600 rounds per minute.

A conventional bullseye target is used in rifle practice and a silhouette target is for the other fire arms.

"We used to do our shooting in the fall of the year, but that had to be changed a few years back," Wade explained. "There were too many hunters on the range sharpening up for the opening of deer season."

This year's compulsory training began in March and is scheduled to be completed by all 29 troopers this week, weather conditions permitting.

The program has been in effect for five or six years, according to Wade.

WORKING WITH MACHINE GUN — The ability to fire a machine gun with accuracy from either hip or shoulder position is an important part of heavy weapons training. Here, Trooper William Droger bangs away at a target using the hip position.

Stardom on Horizon for Singing Brothers

A local brother act seems headed for the entertainment big time, after pleasing crowds in the Pontiac area during recent years.

The popular guitar-playing duo is made up of Jim and Tom Shedlowsky, of 4909 Clintonville Rd., Independence Township.

Three Areas Up for Rezoning

Waterford Board Gets Proposed Changes at Tonight's Meeting

Three different areas in Waterford Township will be presented for rezoning from residential to commercial when the township board meets at 7:30 tonight.

The proposed changes will include 27 lots in the Monroe Subdivision near Sashabaw road and Dixie Highway, two lots in the Fremont Subdivision for a funeral home off-street parking lot, and four lots in Maceday Gardens Subdivision for a proposed retail store.

In other business, board members will submit names to Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson for the appointment of a seven-member Unemployment Arbitration Committee.

The new group will include a minister, attorney, financier, social worker, and representatives of labor, small business, and the real estate business.

The township board will also discuss the hiring of one additional patrolman for the police department, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Ike's Proposal Being Pushed for Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (U)—A proposal urged by President Eisenhower was pushed forward today by Republican senators trying to broaden a pension-welfare fund bill into general labor legislation.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said he thought the President's recommendations for new labor measures, submitted last January, would fare better than his own rejected amendments.

However, Eisenhower's proposals also had to buck the argument of Democratic leaders that hearings by the Senate Labor Committee should precede any attempt to pass a far-reaching labor bill.

Both the Eisenhower and Knowland proposals are being offered as amendments to a measure to require full reporting of employee welfare and pension funds.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic leader, said he hoped the Senate could complete its consideration of the legislation to-night or tomorrow under an agreement reached Saturday to limit debate on each amendment to one hour.

At Saturday's session, the Senate rejected 53-28 an amendment offered by Knowland to prohibit unions from denying membership because of race, creed or color.

Gerhard Eisler in Soviet Favor

Expatriated American Returns to Power in East Berlin Regime

BERLIN (INS)—Gerhard Eisler, reportedly in the Red doghouse for the past several years, is again riding high in the East Zone Communist government.

He showed an ease and confidence during the Hearst interview with Communist leader Walter Ulbricht which indicated he has been restored to official favor.

Eisler, who jumped bail and fled America in 1949 aboard the Polish liner Batory while under conviction for violating immigration laws, is now one of the bosses of the East Zone radio network.

He recalled Frank Conniff, national editor of the Hearst newspapers, as one of his press critics after his exposure as America's top Soviet agent.

"As an American, I'm glad to see Americans again," he told the Hearst party.

He said his composer brother Hans, like himself a subject of controversy in America, was "working hard and turning out a song a day." He added that his own health was now fine after a parently coincided with his eclipse in Red prominence.

Now 61, Eisler speaks occasionally over the German Communist radio. He was made information chief following his return from America, but the post was liquidated in a later shakeup. Eisler then sank back into obscurity. He seems to be once more in the confidence of the Red leadership.

Urges U.S. to Set Freedom Examples

NEW YORK (U)—Gov. Williams of Michigan has called upon the United States to set an example for the rest of the world by strengthening the practice of civil rights and liberties.

"We are surrounded by a world of people most of whom have been ground down for centuries by poverty, hunger and disease and discrimination," Williams told the New Jersey state region of the American Jewish Congress yesterday.

"Today, more than ever before," he said, "we must practice in our individual, community and civic actions the beliefs we hold as a nation."

Williams is chairman of the 12-state governors' continuing committee on civil rights and is a leading exponent of a broad national civil rights and liberties program.

Williams said the uncommitted peoples of the world would decide between Communism and Western civilization on the basis of what they saw practiced on each side.

Hotel Plunge Kills Man

DETROIT (U)—Peter McCormick, 38, was killed when he fell from a window of his eighth floor room at a hotel in the city's East Side yesterday. He fell 70 feet to the roof of the hotel's dining room.

CHECKING ACCURACY — Trooper Harold Wade, of the Pontiac State Police Post, checks a silhouette target to determine how accurate a trooper's aim is. In their annual heavy weapons training period, the silhouette target is used by troopers using machine guns and riot guns.

NEW THOROUGHFARES — Here's a map showing three of the primary street improvements recommended in the Barton Traffic Study, to be delivered to the city soon. Indicated in the center is the proposed loop system skirting downtown-business section via Parke street and Cass avenue. Leading into this by means of a new railroad grade separation is an improved Elizabeth Lake avenue-State street route, offering a new path into downtown from the west. Further out, to the north and east, is the proposed Montcalm avenue-East boulevard beltline. The map, prepared by George W. Barton and Associates, shows where widening, additional right-of-way and new construction would be necessary if the first steps towards a modernized street system were to be taken.

In Fifth Year of Work

Six Recovery, Inc. Groups Meet Here

Currently in its fifth year of working with Pontiac area people with problems is a unique group called Recovery, Inc.

Six groups meet weekly in the Pontiac area, to exchange experiences and seek the solution of their problems through self help and use of their willpower.

Nationally, the group is 21 years old. It was founded by the late Dr. Abraham A. Low, author of "Mental Health Through Will-Training."

Avowed purpose of the organization is "To train post-psychotic and psychoneurotic persons in the practice of psychiatric self-help."

Approximately 120 Pontiac area residents are participating in the non-profit, non-sectarian Recovery, Inc. program here.

Some of those attending the meetings have been previously hospitalized for treatment of emotional or psychological problems. Others have had similar problems, but were not hospitalized, and still others attend in efforts to help friends or relatives who are ill.

According to officials of the movement, Recovery, Inc. does not take the place of professional psychiatric help, and the organization insists members follow the directions of their doctors.

Much of the work is done in helping persons control or eliminate "hidden fears" through the use of "will-training."

Meetings are conducted in a roundtable form, with members of the panel giving examples of situations in which they sought to control problems or situations through the use of Recovery, Inc. methods.

Through group therapy and will training, Recovery, Inc. members seek to accomplish two goals: to prove to the member that he is not alone—that many others have similar problems and also to eliminate the problem and its symptoms.

Burglars Had Hot Time in Warehouse Last Night

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (U)—Some nights it just doesn't pay for a dishonest safecracker to get out of bed.

A group of them did last night and ended up scrambling for their lives.

Police said the yeggs had just started working on a safe at the Swift Trucking Co. warehouse here when sparks from their torch apparently ignited a sheaf of records nearby.

The thieves, unable to beat out the flames, beat a quick retreat from the one-story brick building—minus their intended loot.

Firemen who put out the flames said damage to the building was moderate.

of 2½ million persons which, although agriculturally rich, is in the throes of an economic crisis.

Because of a drastic cutback in her trade on this side of the Atlantic, dollar-short Uruguay now is dicker with the Soviet Union for 10 tankerloads of petroleum and 2,000 tons of cotton. U.S. oil suppliers have been told Uruguay will be unable to pay dollars for oil before 1960. Payment to the Soviets will be made through sales of Uruguayan wool and meat.

Leaving Washington yesterday, Nixon told reporters that economic problems head the list for his 18-day good will sweep through Uruguay, Argentina, Paraguay, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela.

The trip is built around the inauguration May 1 of Argentine President Arturo Frondizi. Nixon goes to Buenos Aires Wednesday. Argentina also has been dicker with the Soviet bloc because it has a dollar shortage.

En route to Montevideo, Nixon and his party stopped off briefly in Port of Spain, Trinidad, where he hailed the new Federation of the West Indies as the challenging opening of a new era.

Hollywood Headlines Bette Davis to Be 'Guest' in 'John Paul Jones'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bette Davis had no more than set foot in her home in Maine after weeks on the coast than she started packing to be ready to sail May 6 on the SS Independence for Spain and "John Paul Jones."

The bid from producer Sam Bronston for her to play Catherine, the Great—$50,000 in non-recession money—was too much to turn down although she recently signed a radio contract. She'll do the radio show aboard ship.

Bette has just four days work as Catherine. It's called a guest appearance such as Mike Todd introduced in "80 Days."

Bronston and director John Farrow have arranged for Bette's scenes to be shot at the royal palace in Madrid with permission of the Spanish government.

Tony Curtis and his two-year-old daughter, Kelly Lee, paid me a visit, and after the young charmer left for her outing in the park Tony told me some very interesting news.

He said that his next picture starts July 15 and is opposite Marilyn Monroe in "Some Like It Hot." "I hadn't planned to do anything for a few months," Tony told me, "but I couldn't pass up the opportunity to play opposite Marilyn, so I told Harold Mirisch I would do it."

"You see I made five pictures within 18 months and I planned to rest awhile. Marilyn plays a singer in a band in 'Some Like It Hot' and I play a musician too," said Tony.

John O'Hara certainly can have no beef on "10 North Frederick." Charles Brackett, the producer, and Philip Dunne, the director, have stuck close to the O'Hara novel with the result they have a big audience picture.

I was amazed at Sissy Parker who I would have bet was through in Hollywood. I didn't care for her first picture but believe me she's good in "10 North Frederick." Diane Varsi, I continue to say, is one of the best young actresses who has ever come to Hollywood.

As for Gary Cooper, there's only one of him in Hollywood and may be continue to be himself for many a day. Geraldine Fitzgerald as the bitter, scheming mother is exactly as the book pictures her. Tom Tully too merits praise. I prophesy "10 North Frederick" will be another "Peyton Place" at the box office for 20th Century-Fox.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The first date Dr. Ernest Winder, head of cancer research, made in Hollywood was not with Kim Novak but with Elaine Conte, pretty blonde starlet.

The three eldest daughters of Pat Boone underwent a mass tonsillectomy in New York, and just at a time when Pat's crumpling for exams, too.

The new yellow diamond ring of many carats Linda Christian is wearing was put on her finger by Robert Champion—but she's wearing it on her right hand.

Bobby Cohn, son of the late Jack Cohn and nephew of Harry Cohn, has eyes only for pretty singer Connie Towers. They've been going steady for a year.

That's all today: See you tomorrow.

Navy Readies Vanguard for Launching Soon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Indications at the missile test center are that another Navy Vanguard launching is planned for sometime this week.

Lights on the rocket tower blazed last night as crewmen serviced the slender three-stage vehicle which may drive a fourth U. S. satellite into orbit.

One source said technical malfunctions that postponed two Vanguard firings last week were corrected and that yesterday's work at the launching pad ran smoothly.

The cause of the mechanical failures was not announced.

The 72-foot Vanguard has been poised at its launching site for more than a week. Its payload consists of a 2 1/2-pound sphere 20 inches in diameter—about the size of a basketball.

GOP Committees Plan to Lead President Into Battle for Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower apparently will be asked to campaign this fall for some Senate and House Republican who have given his legislative program considerably less than 100 per cent support.

Chairmen of the Senate and House GOP campaign committees are understood to be working now on arrangements they hope will lead to active participation by the President in the battle for control of Congress.

The two chairmen—Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan.) and Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.)—have made it plain that they do not consider all-out backing for Eisenhower's legislative proposals as a prerequisite for their committees' help to candidates.

But campaign leaders are reported to feel that strategically placed and spaced visits by Eisenhower to doubtful territory will add political zest to their uphill battle.

From a practical standpoint, they realize that even those GOP candidates who have disagreed openly with the President on his handling of the economic recession are likely to be swept along on whatever political tide is running at election time.

If Eisenhower's calculations that there will be a business upturn and a drop in unemployment by fall are correct—and Schoepel is betting they are—most Republican candidates probably will be emphasizing that the GOP President refused to be panicked by Democratic demands for more massive and costly measures against the recession.

If the economy is stagnant or still sliding, few political strategists believe individual Republicans who called for more spending or tax cutting can escape the political consequences of what then is likely to be regarded as the administration's bad guess.

QUESTION: When did tennis originate?

ANSWER: Tennis is one of the oldest games played with a ball. The ancient Greeks played a game similar to it in which they used their hands to volley a round object back and forth over a mound of earth. A racket, similar to that shown in this picture, was introduced to the game by the French about 700 years ago. Soon after, tennis became a favorite with French and British royalty, and expensive courts were built at the royal palaces.

The game was first played in the United States in 1874. It caught on quickly, and today public tennis courts can be found in practically every city and town in the country.

The name comes from the French word, tenez, which is a command to play.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you don't already play tennis, give it a try. It is good exercise and great fun.

Throaty Singing Ruining Many Vocal Cords

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The husky, low-pitched, sexy voice now so much in demand in popular music is ruining a lot of vocal cords, says a Stanford University throat specialist.

Yelling and cheer leading also are playing their parts and should be abolished, he asserted.

The damage comes from repeatedly putting too much tension on the cords, Dr. Paul J. Moses of San Francisco told the California Medical Assn.

A woman singer with a normal soprano voice, for instance, puts added strain on the inner vocal cords when she drops into the lower register and does part of her singing by allowing air to escape from her throat to accent the huskiness, Dr. Moses said.

Singing, he asserted, is not a matter of breathing but a stimulation of the cords by a part of the brain.

In natural singing the cords are closed and no air escapes, he said. But in the throaty renditions requiring the escape of air the cords have to open. This produces a strain which can cause the growth of nodes or small lumps of tissue on the cords, Dr. Moses said.

These nodes can be removed surgically but there is no certainty that the cords can be restored to their original shape and effectiveness, the specialist asserted.

Psychological factors can cause rapid changes in voice pitch and can influence greatly the performance of a singer, Dr. Moses said. Variations in gland functioning also can be a big influence.

The pitch of a woman's voice goes down during pregnancy and some women sing better during their menstrual periods, he asserted. Even a cold can cause some people's singing voice to improve in quality, he said.
