Nurse Confesses Shaking 3 Babies to Death

For Safety Purposes — a Crash

DRAMATIZES SAFETY — Members of the House special subcommittee on traffic safety along with GM officials and press representatives watch safety tests at the Milford Proving Grounds yesterday. Here a car released down a slope traveling about 35 miles per hour crashes into a 15-ton concrete wall, moving it two feet.

Committee Visits Tech Center

By L. JAMES BINDER
Asst. City Editor, Pontiac Press

A five-member fact-finding group of Congressmen will complete its two-day study of General Motors safety research and progress today with a tour of the corporation's new Technical Center in Warren Township.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), traveled to the GM proving grounds near Milford yesterday for the first phase of its probe.

President Harlow H. Curtice assured the lawmakers at a dinner meeting last night "no element of automotive design is of greater concern than safety."

But Curtice said bad highways and "the human element" can cause accidents despite the best engineering safeguards. Safety education and the new Federal highway program are the best ways of cutting the nationwide traffic toll, he pointed out.

STRESS 2 POINTS

Today's Technical Center program emphasized the company's interest in the driver and the highway.

The role of instruction was outlined by Anthony G. DeLorenzo, GM public relations director, who said, "The campaign for greater traffic safety . . . must be waged on all fronts . . . but authorities agree that one of the most crucial fronts—where the battle will be won or lost—is the field of driver education."

DeLorenzo outlined GM activities in the field of driver education and public information having to do with highway safety.

The Congressmen, after leaving the Technical Center today, will prepare to tour Ford and Chrysler plants in the Detroit area. They will return to Washington next week to report their findings to the Commerce Committee.

Other members of the subcommittee are Reps. John V. Beamer (R-Ind), Samuel N. Friedel (D-Md), Walter E. Rogers (D-Tex), and Paul F. Schenck (R-Ohio).

Third Time for 'Poor Little Rich Girl'

Gloria Vanderbilt Marries TV Man Sidney Lumet

NEW YORK (AP)—Millionairess Gloria Vanderbilt, one-time "poor little rich girl" of Park Avenue, was married yesterday to a television director who grew up on the lower East Side.

Miss Vanderbilt and Sidney Lumet, both 32, were married in a surprise ceremony. It was her third marriage, his second.

She was previously married to Hollywood agent Pat DiCicco and white-haired orchestra conductor Leopold Stokowski. Lumet's first wife was movie actress Rita Gam.

The newlyweds postponed their honeymoon. Miss Vanderbilt, now an actress, is appearing nightly in a play at a Millburn, N.J., summer theater.

GLORIA VANDERBILT

The marriage was performed in the West 72nd street apartment of playwright Sidney Kingsley.

Lumet directed Miss Vanderbilt when she played last year in a summer stock production of "Picnic."

"We are both going on with our careers," she said.

The bride, a great-great-granddaughter of railroad magnate Cornelius Vanderbilt, hit the headlines in 1934 as a "poor little rich girl" entangled in a bitter custody fight between her aunt and mother. The aunt won.

Miss Vanderbilt inherited five million dollars on her 21st birthday.

She married DiCicco in 1941 when she was 17. She divorced him four years later. In 1945 she married Stokowski, who was 37 years her senior. That marriage ended in divorce last October. She won custody of their two children.

Johnson's 33 Tops Early Amateur Play

If Glenn Johnson, state amateur champion fires anything like his 1st round card in today's USGA amateur tourney qualifying tests at Tam O'Shanter and Knollwood Country clubs, he'll be hard to beat out of the sectional medalist honors.

Glenn fired a two-under par 33 at Tam, where Tom Draper carded a 72 for his 18 hole stint. Draper had the best mark at the halfway point. Other low (cards at Tam O'Shanter include Chuck Kocsis' 73, two at 75, Ken Rodewald of Ft. Wayne Ind. and James Taylor of Grand Rapids. Lloyd Syron of Pontiac had 76, and Jack Reynolds of Pontiac turned nine in 39.

Only three of the early 18-hole rounds at Knollwood were in the 70s. Lou Wendrow of Lansing fired 73, Art Thorner Jr. of Franklin Hills 75 and Randy Ahern of Red Run 76.

Egypt Arrests Two Britons on Spy Charges

Adds to High Tension Generated by Nasser's Suez Canal Seizure

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt's sudden arrest of two Britons as spies threw new fuel today on the smouldering dispute with Great Britain—already threatening to burst into flame over the Suez Canal seizure.

Security police charged that the Britons and an Egyptian associate masterminded a spy network for British intelligence.

The police said the ringleaders have incriminated four other Egyptians and that "others may be implicated."

A British Embassy spokesman denied the embassy received information or was in any way connected with an espionage ring.

In London, a Foreign Office spokesman made a similar denial. He said the question of a British protest will be considered after all facts have been obtained.

The arrests added to tension stirred up by President Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal Co.

They seemed certain to increase sentiment in Britain for a tough policy toward Egypt—possibly including the use of military force.

Held at the heavily guarded Interior Ministry were James Swinburn, business manager of the British-owned Arab News Agency in Cairo; Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi Radio-Telegraph Co. of Egypt; and El Sayed Amin Mahmud, the Egyptian.

Swinburn, about 50, has lived in Egypt almost 25 years.

The arrests followed by a day the expulsion from Egypt of two British reporters and an American woman correspondent for a London daily, for unannounced reasons.

In London, it is reported Egypt agreed today to meet with a committee charged with presenting a proposal for international control of the Suez Canal but made no commitment to accept the plan.

President Nasser made known his willingness to see the five-nation committee. In a terse letter to its chairman, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia, he mentioned neither time nor place for the meeting.

Air Freeway Plans at Lansing Meeting

Plans for a proposed Detroit-Bay City freeway which will bisect Oakland County if approved, were aired in Lansing today in State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zigler's office.

A growing new Southfield-Bloomfield Assn. has been formed in opposition to the road. Members of the group, although not opposed to better highways, object to the proposed route as it reportedly will run through many areas now being developed.

Attending the afternoon session were Pontiac Mayor William Donaldson, City Manager W. K. Wilman, City Engineer Lewis Wrenn, and City Commissioner Philip E. Rowston.

The Oakland County route in question will begin approximately around Northwestern Highway and Nine Mile and run north to a wooded section at Telegraph and Long Lake Road. It will swing west of Pontiac.

The low in downtown Pontiac last night was 73. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 90 degrees.

Parents Deny Cruelty Charges

Pontiac Press Photo

APPEAR IN COURT — Mr. and Mrs. William Wyatt asked for an examination at an arraignment charging them with cruelty to children in Justice Court yesterday. Ten of the Wyatt's 12 children were found hungry and abandoned in their Keego Harbor home last Thursday with one of them suffering from a badly burned hand, police said. The couple were reading over the complaint against them when this picture was taken. They will be examined Sept. 5.

Dies Today

JAMES B. WEBBER JR.

J. L. Hudson Official Dies in His Sleep

DETROIT (AP)—James B. Webber Jr., executive vice president of the J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit's largest department store, died today while vacationing in Upper Michigan.

Webber would have been 45 next month.

He died in his sleep at the Turtle Lake Club, a plush, private sportsman's resort near Alpena.

Webber, one of Detroit's most prominent citizens, was the second Hudson executive to die in recent months. Herman G. Pitzold, 48-year-old general manager and vice president, died Dec. 12.

He succeeded Oscar Webber as vice president and general manager in 1948, becoming executive vice president in July 1954.

Funeral service will be held next Thursday at Christ Episcopal Church in Grosse Pointe.

MR-A Founder Urges Nations Say 'I'm Sorry'

MACKINAC ISLAND (INS) — The founder of Moral Re-Armament said today the words "I am sorry" could save the world and mankind from wars, threats of wars and tremendous military defense expenditures.

Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman told a meeting of the World Assembly of MR-A at Mackinac Island, that motivation for saying the three little words is the guiding spirit of the movement: Absolute purity, absolute unselfishness and absolute love.

Buchman said tensions could and would disappear if leaders of nations would break down and tell other people they are sorry they have done something wrong.

Keego Harbor Pair Deny Cruelty, Neglect Charges

Professing their love for their 12 children, Keego Harbor parents of 10 children found abandoned Thursday denied charges of cruelty and neglect at their arraignment in West Bloomfield Township Justice Court yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wyatt, who contacted police Monday morning after being missing since Friday afternoon, will be examined by Justice Elmer C. Dieterle at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The pair will also appear at a Juvenile Court hearing at 9 a. m. the same day before Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore. This hearing will determine if the Wyatts will be allowed to have the children back should they be cleared of neglect and cruelty charges, according to Juvenile Court worker Mrs. Dorothy Reason.

Both William, 29, and Ada, 33, were released on $1,000 personal bond following the arraignment. Dieterle set the personal bond on recommendation from Oakland County Prosecutor Fred Ziem.

Ziem took statements from the couple prior to the arraignment and recommended the personal bond "because they came in voluntarily." He said the release would enable William to return to work while awaiting further action against him and his wife.

* * *

Ada was told the complaint against her was that she burned both Sherry, 7, and Diane, 8, by holding their hands over a gas stove on or about June 10.

"I understand what it means but I'm not guilty," she told the Justice.

William was also quick to deny his guilt when informed the complaint against him was for failing to provide proper food for the children and also for tieing Sherry to a bed where she was reportedly found Thursday night.

12-Town Drain Costs Argued

Board Meeting Today, Hopes to End Stalemate on Allocations

The Twelve-Town Drain Board met here this morning in hopes of ending a cost squabble over a $38,581,000 project to end flooding in South Oakland County.

Three of 14 communities involved in the project have stalled action, officials say, because the cost to them is too much.

Project coordinator Anton J. Berst said this morning that an attempt will be made today to make proposed allocations final for each community.

Troy, Southfield Township and Royal Oak Township officials have rejected their allocated shares of the total cost.

No objections have been raised by Birmingham, Royal Oak, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Oak Park, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Pleasant Ridge or Troy Township.

Madison Heights has indicated it will accept its proposed share of the cost, Berst said, but the community wants more plans for Red Run ditch into which flood waters would be diverted.

The city has asked for complete enclosure of the ditch within the city limits.

220-Pounder Says They Got on Her Nerves

Also Admits Breaking Another Infant's Leg, Injuring One's Head

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police say a 220-pound pediatric nurse has admitted shaking to death three infants because they got on her nerves or refused to take their formula.

"It was all uncontrollable," Virginia B. Jaspers, 33-year-old daughter of a county official, told the coroner. "I didn't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves."

Miss Jaspers, who is six feet tall, also admitted breaking the leg of another infant and inflicting a head injury on a fifth, said Coroner James J. Corrigan.

A private pediatric nurse for seven years, she often lived in with the parents of the children and was not connected with a hospital.

She was a graduate of East Haven High School and completed an 18-months pediatrics course at St. Agnes Home in West Hartford, a home for children maintained by the Hartford Catholic Archdiocese.

* * *

Police said the deaths dated back to 1948. Miss Jaspers was taken into custody as the result of the death Thursday of the 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kapsinow of New Haven.

Police Chief Francis V. McManus quoted her as saying she shook the infant violently because it refused its formula.

The Kapsinows thought their child had died of natural causes.

McManus said the case developed after Dr. Sterling Taylor, acting medical examiner, reported the Kapsinow child had suffered head and body injuries, apparently caused when she was "picked up and shaken violently."

* * *

After several hours of questioning, police said Miss Jaspers admitted shaking the Kapsinow child to death.

Then, police said, she admitted:

Causing the death in 1948 of the 7-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hubbard of Guilford.

Causing the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Malkin of New Canaan, four years ago. Mrs. Malkin is a concert soprano whose stage name is Joan Brainerd.

Inflicting a head injury on the 8-week-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saidel of New Haven.

Grade Division Delay Explained

Commission Can Not Avoid Work Stoppage, Says County Road Chief

"Oakland County's Road Commission has absolutely nothing to do with the long delay on the Telegraph-Orchard Lake crossing," Lee O. Brooks Oakland County Road Commissioner has told The Pontiac Press.

"We are just as anxious to see this project finished as the citizens of the community are," he declared. "In fact we may be more anxious.

"However, we have no jurisdiction at all over the operation. We always cooperate promptly with the State Highway Commission to the fullest extent of our ability.

"If there's anything we can do to help in the current instance you can rest assured we will do it. However, this is new construction and we exercise no control."

Brooks said he was aware that the current decision to let work slide for many months because of a lack of 258 tons of steel had aroused sharp criticism among automobile drivers in the immediate vicinity and also among others who frequently made use of the Telegraph Road cutoff around the city.

County Hospital Needs to Triple by '58, Study Shows

Hospital beds in Oakland County will have to be nearly tripled by 1958 to serve an ever-increasing population, according to a recent survey conducted for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The survey, using a suggested formula of 1,100 days of general hospital care for 1,000 population, said the present strength of 787 acceptable beds in 11 county hospitals will have to be raised to 2,214 two years from now.

This was figured on an estimated population of 625,000 in 1958.

Converting to a bed need ratio, the survey said that 3.54 beds would be needed per 1,000 population for both the Pontiac area and the county.

CHICAGO FIRM HIRED

The 47-page analysis was made by J. L. Jacobs & Co., Chicago public administration and finance consultants.

The report showed that for the Pontiac area alone, hospital beds will have to increase from 489 now to 1,115 by 1958.

A direct ratio of population to hospital bed needs was emphasized throughout the study.

* * *

By 1960, the survey estimated 1,206 beds will be needed in Pontiac area hospitals while 2,438 will be needed in Pontiac while county hospital strength will have to be hiked to 2,678.

Both Pontiac General Hospital and St. Joseph Mercy are working toward expansion programs which will bring a total of about 846 beds. They have 489 beds available now.

The survey did not include some 78 beds at the new Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Director Harry Whitlow said with the completion of two additional floors in 60 days, 110 beds will be available.

The report recommended that hospital authorities in the Pontiac area request from the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction that the area be reclassified from a community area to a regional area, as it was before 1953.

This recommendation is based on the fact, according to the report, that the Pontiac area population is 11 times that required for a regional center area classification.

The new William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak did not decrease the patient load at Pontiac hospitals, the report stated. More patients were admitted to Pontiac hospitals in 1955 (when Beaumont opened) than in 1953.

* * *

A "back to suburbs" movement, stressing the need for more hospital facilities, was pointed out in the report where 1,285 Detroit residents were listed as using Beaumont, Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy Hospitals last year.

In the same year, 163 Beaumont patients gave Pontiac as their home address.

"The high percentage of births to resident families in Oakland County outside the county, points to the insufficiency of hospital beds in the county and to the greater availability of hospital facilities in the metropolitan area outside Oakland County," the survey reported.

Adlai Stevenson to Speak Here on Labor Day

Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai E. Stevenson will speak in Pontiac Sept. 3 at the Oakland County CIO Labor Day celebration to be held at Murphy Park.

Mrs. Mildred A. Burns, head of the program committee for the festivities, said Stevenson would speak for about 45 minutes around 2:30 p.m.

The celebration, sponsored by the Oakland County CIO Council, will begin at 12:30 and will contain a program of top speakers, an amateur contest, softball, food, dancing and music.

Incorporation of Wixom Asked

File Petition to Make Village of 10-Mile Area; Wait Election Decision

A petition signed by 132 persons for the incorporation of the community of Wixom as a village has been received by Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Allen said the petition probably would be submitted to the Boundaries of Cities and Villages Committee of the Board of Supervisors within 30 days, for study and review. The committee's recommendations and instructions for an election will be forthcoming at the October meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Allen said.

The corporate limits of the proposed village would be close to 10 square miles with a population of approximately 1,400.

The little Oakland County community is situated between Commerce and Novi Townships. It came into being in 1870 when the old Holly, Wayne & Monroe Railroad, now a part of the Chesapeake & Ohio System which runs through the town, was built there.

Generally the boundaries of the proposed village would be 12 Mile road on the south, an extension of the intersection of Novi, Lyon, Commerce and Milford Townships as the western boundary, and extension of Beck road on the east, and an extension of Loon Lake road on the north where it intersects Wixom road.

Bottle Story Gets Sympathy From Judge

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Stories about a bottle don't usually help a person in a traffic case but Cecil D. White made one pay off yesterday in quarterly court.

The father of five children admitted he was speeding and trial commissioner Nelson Hoskins levied a fine of $10 and costs.

Then White said, "Judge, this is the first time I've been charged. I was speeding all right but the baby was lying in the seat crying for its bottle. I was just trying to get home so it could be fed."

"I know what you mean," Hoskins replied. "I'll amend that charge and fine you $1 and costs." The charge was amended to breach of peace.

Pinza Able to Leave for U.S. on Sunday

CERVIA, Italy (AP)—Ezio Pinza, star bass singer of opera, stage and screen, will be well enough to leave for the United States Sunday, his physician said today.

Pinza last Friday suffered what the doctor described as a mild heart attack at a villa he and his wife have rented. The physician, Dr. Celestino Schiavarelli, director of a local hospital, examined Pinza today and said, "Everything is going smoothly."

Dr. Schiavarelli said Pinza probably will travel in his own car on the 250-mile trip from this Adriatic village to Genoa to board a ship for the United States.

The doctor said that if the singer continues to rest, he will recover completely in a relatively short time.

Sentence Suspended on Two Detroit Men

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick suspended sentence until Dec. 10 of two Detroit men who both pleaded guilty to stealing linen goods from a Ferndale trade stamp store.

Probation officials said there apparently was no connection between the theft July 27 by Robert Gains, 31, of 8726 Greely St. and Aug. 9 by James R. McCown Jr., 27, of 229 Edmund Place.

Gaines admitted taking pillow cases and bed sheets from the store at 22961 Woodward Ave. McCown pleaded guilty to stealing bed sheets.

State Fair Opens Friday; Program Schedule Given

DETROIT (INS) — The 1956 Michigan State Fair opens in Detroit Friday and will run for 10 days.

Here is a roundup of exhibits, special events and entertainment to assist many Michigan citizens in choosing the day or days they will attend this 107th edition of the State Fair:

Grand opening day, Friday, Sept. 1, will feature the opening day parade in downtown Detroit at 11 a.m. Admission to the fairgrounds is free until noon on opening day.

Saturday, September 1, is veterans' day. All veterans are admitted free and an outstanding program for the day has been arranged in cooperation with the allied veterans of Michigan. Events scheduled for the day include drum and bugle corps, rifle squad drill teams, memorial ceremonies and veterans' parade.

Sunday, Sept. 2, will feature a repeat of the popular sunrise service. The speaker will be Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Visitors attending the service, co-sponsored by the Detroit Council of Churches, will be admitted free to the fairgrounds between 7 and 8 a.m. and may remain for the entire day.

The Detroit police band will give a concert in the music shell prior to the service for the benefit of early-comers.

Tuesday, Sept. 4, is children's day. There'll be several contests for the youngsters; pie eating, watermelon eating, freckle face and pony tail.

Eleven of their 12 children are being cared for at the county Children's Home and Sherry remains under treatment at Pontiac General Hospital for severe burns of the right hand, cuts of the face, and cuts and bruises of the entire body.

Two of the children, Diane and Darlene, have been at the Children's home since Aug. 17 when they ran away from home and refused to return.

Police authorities have been looking for Wyatt since Thursday when his children were found after they had been left alone for two days with 13-year-old Aaron in charge. The father had gone to Indiana two days before the children were discovered.

Mrs. Wyatt was questioned earlier while recuperating from an operation at Pontiac General Hospital but disappeared following her Friday discharge from the hospital.

The couple surrendered at the Keego Harbor police station yesterday saying they had not realized they were wanted by police. Wyatt told county detectives they had spent the weekend at a Dixie Highway motel so his wife could rest.

Prosecutor Ziem planned to take statements from the five older children of the Wyatts today in connection with the cruelty and neglect complaints.

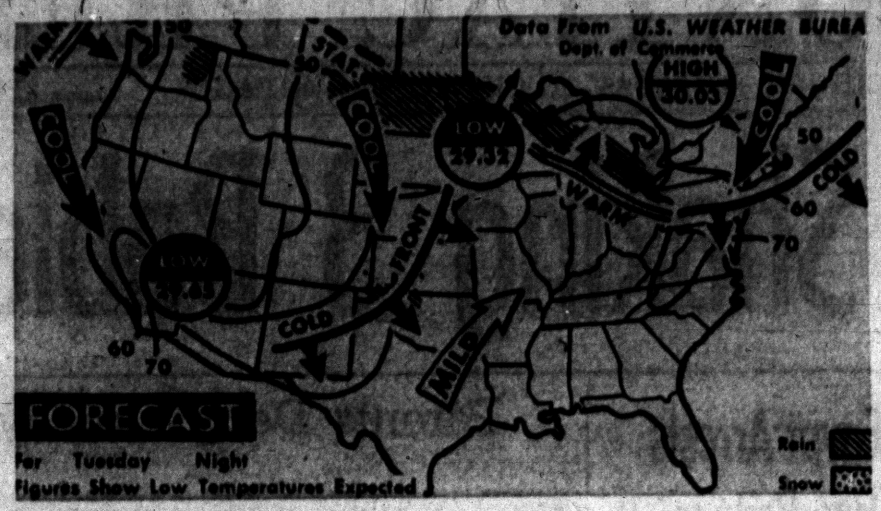

Postpones Sentencing Confessed Motor Thief

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday delayed sentencing a Farmington man, Donald Jewell, 26, who pleaded guilty to stealing a $55 outboard motor with two other men from a boat in Orchard Lake July 6.

Jewell will be sentenced Dec. 10. Hartrick last week placed the other two on probation for one year.

Pontiac City Commission to Hear Proposed Changes in Police, Fire Board

Pontiac city commissioners will hear proposed changes to the Police and Fire Trial Board which is slated for a possible special city election decision to be held in conjunction with the Nov. 6 presidential balloting.

* * *

Last week City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed by the commission to study the City Charter rules governing the board. The commission has suggested the board's membership be increased from five to seven members.

Other business to be acted on in a 14-point agenda will include the possible adoption of a new ordinance regulating the sale of "near beer" in Pontiac.

Adoption was deferred from last week so that Ewart might examine certain provisions of the proposed law.

The following four engineer estimates will be aired at tonight's session slated to begin at 8:

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Gillespie and Diston streets extended from Bagley to the east line of lot 4 in the Lakeside Homes Subdivision, and on Astor street from Auburn avenue to Pike and from Maines to Michigan.

Concrete pavement, curb and gutter, and related work on Wessen street relocated from Walnut east approximately 200 feet, and on Walnut street from Wessen to approximately 130 feet north to Beaudette street.

Public hearings will be conducted on special assessment rolls to finance curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Herndon and Salmer avenues from Orchard Lake to Clinton River drive.

A resolution is expected to be accepted on a special assessment roll for curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work on Clinton River drive from the easterly line of Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision to the westerly line of Lot 65 of the subdivision.

The commission is slated to act on a request from Alfred H. Coles Sr., to transfer a package liquor and beer license from 841 Baldwin Ave. to 806 Baldwin.

A request from a client of attorney Verne C. Hampton to purchase property at the rear of 57 Lull St., is slated for action by the commissioners.

A communication from the Schlonick Dunitz Co. regarding the development of the South Park Subdivision will be read also.

Free Talking May Net Men Much Trouble

Three Ferndale men who are factory workers here may have talked out of turn last night.

Reportedly bragging in a downtown bar how they gained a large sum of money by trickery, the men face interrogation by authorities from Port Huron today.

An unidentified man heard the three companions and tipped off Pontiac police, officers said. The three were held and other police departments notified.

Det. Ralph Schlee of the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department believed the men may have tricked the manager of a super market out of $100 yesterday afternoon in Yale near Port Huron.

Two men had engaged the manager's attention, police said, while a third unnoticed reached into the cash register and pocketed the money.

Schlee, the manager and Yale police were to question the men this afternoon. The suspects were held for investigation in Oakland County Jail last night.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. Genevieve Massuch of Lansing, Mrs. Grace Bollman of Pontiac, and Clifford with whom she made her home.

Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. G. E. Laing of Mancelona.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday from the Pursley Funeral Home with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Girl Falls From Car, Suffers Cuts, Bruises

A two-year-old Pontiac girl fell from a car driven by her father in Independence Township last night, and suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Rose M. Penny, of 200 Crestwood St., was treated by a doctor after the incident on the Dixie highway, ½ mile north of M15.

The father, George A. Penny, 29, told Oakland County deputies Rose and another child were riding in the back seat and one of them apparently opened the door.

Call Grand Jury in Check Probe

Jackson Cattle Buyers 'Kiting' Scheme May Show Half Million Loss

JACKSON (AP)—A Grand Jury was called today to investigate a reported check kiting scheme by cattle buyers in which farmers and banks lost amounts which could top half a million dollars.

Circuit Judge Harry Boardman, who will head the one-man Grand Jury probe, started questioning witnesses this morning. The first witness, an unidentified farmer, appeared with an Ohio attorney and declined to identify himself other than being a farmer.

Judge Boardman was petitioned late yesterday by Jackson County Prosecutor Kenneth B. Johnson following almost three months of investigation.

State police Sgt. Pat Detzler of the East Lansing post, who is directing his agency's end of the investigation, said 22 persons have been subpoenaed to appear.

Assistant Prosecutor George Beach told newsmen the hearings will "probably extend at least five days. We have witnesses coming in all day today," he added.

FARMERS LOST $73,760

Last July the State Agriculture Department said an audit of books belonging to the Crenshaw Livestock Sales Barn showed immediately that farmers lost $73,760.

Johnson said today the amount could reach more than half a million dollars when it is determined what amounts banks and others farmers have lost in the scheme.

The scheme reportedly involved writing checks for which there were no funds to farmers for cattle in hopes that the cattle would be sold for a profit and the money placed in banks before the farmer cashed his check.

* * *

Observers said in favorable market conditions a profit could be made this way, but if the market sagged suddenly the banks or farmers would be left with checks which were worthless.

Open Campaign for Stevenson

Speaks in New Mexico; Says He Welcomes New Ideas

SANTA FE, N. M. (INS)—Adlai Stevenson abandoned plans to avoid pre-campaign speeches today and plunged into an all-out bid for the White House before a cheering crowd in Santa Fe.

Stevenson's surprise opening campaign speech was made to a yelling crowd of 8,000 persons in the historic plaza fronting on the adobe Palace of the first Spanish governor.

The Democratic Presidential nominee pledged what he termed an "open campaign—open to new ideas from the people to build a new America."

He said the campaign that he and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, will conduct until the November election is "open to the ideas of anyone who wants to make a suggestion on how we can build a new America."

Stevenson said: "Some politicians go out and talk to the people.

"I want to go out and talk with the people—to hear what they have to say.

"That's why Estes Kefauver and I are going into the villages and towns of America to find out what concerns the people most."

Many of Stevenson's listeners who jammed the ancient, tree-lined plaza were of Spanish descent. The Democratic Presidential nominee brought cheers of approval when he addressed them in Spanish as "Mes amigos"—my friends.

ATTACKS NIXON AGAIN

Stevenson again attacked the Republican convention's nomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and its refusal to permit a Nebraska delegate to enter the name of Joe Smith in lone opposition to Nixon.

He said:

"I believe the Republicans picked their strongest Presidential candidate when they nominated Eisenhower.

"But I doubt if they nominated their strongest vice presidential candidate. They should have nominated Joe Smith for vice president. Apparently there was no room for Joe Smtih at the Republican convention."

Stevenson said "The Joe Smiths weren't shut up" at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

He declared: "We are going to talk about issues."

Sen. Kefauver drawled out a slow "buenos dias" that brought appreciative laughter from his fast-talking Spanish-speaking audience.

Kefauver said there "is no doubt about what the outcome will be in November — the West needs the Democratic party as the nation needs Adlai Stevenson in the White House."

PLAN GRASS ROOTS CAMPAIGN

Stevenson and Kefauver flew to Santa Fe this morning from Chicago.

They were greeted at the airport by Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson, House speaker Sam Rayburn, New Mexico Sen. Clinton Anderson, the state's governor John Simms and Democratic leaders from seven southwestern states.

Later the two nominees began a conference with Democratic leaders to set the stage for a grass roots campaign.

3 Polio Clinics Keep Doors Open to Serve County

The Day in Birmingham

Keep Maple Speed Limit, Cranbrook Parking Ban

BIRMINGHAM — Parking will continue to be banned on Cranbrook road near Maple, and the Maple speed limit will remain as it is, city commissioners and a state police corporal agreed last night.

They decided to run more checks on traffic speeds on Adams street before keeping or resetting the limit on that thoroughfare.

The roads, under county jurisdiction, were subject of lengthy discussion. Mrs. F. Ward Holt Jr. spoke from the residential viewpoint, objecting to parking on the Cranbrook stretch near the new shopping center.

Approval of sewage treatment for Troy and Bloomfield Township areas in the Evergreen district by the Birmingham plant was voted last night.

It was demanded by state health experts before complete development of the North Evergreen project, lest the North Evergreen not materialize and leave the areas still without adequate drainage.

Troy City last night also approved the agrement, but Bloomfield Township has yet to meet since the agreement was formulated ready for approval.

Entire surplus in the recreation department's funds from last year will go towards capital improvement in this year's budget, commissioners decided.

Girardin had said the funds could be used for baseball diamond surfacing and other such improvements. Commissioners rejected Finance Director James Purkiss's suggestion that $2,000 of the $6,342.41 be left for the recreation department.

They specified the extra funds should not go for operating expenses.

No replacements were voted for the supplementary posts being resigned by Dana Whitman, assistant city manager. He had been civil defense director and the manager's representative on several boards.

A resident of 1299 Pilgrim, she died at 68 of a heart condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital Monday. She was a graduate of Detroit's Central High School and the then Michigan Agricultural College and was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook.

Surviving are her husband, a son, Harry Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Carol Watling of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Collision Hospitalizes Woman Driver, 70

Mrs. Gertrude Buckholder, 70, of Royal Oak Township, is in fair condition at St. Joseph Hospital today after suffering severe injuries in a two-car accident in Troy Township Monday.

She is being treated for a fractured right shoulder blade, several fractured ribs and a possible head injury.

Mrs. Buckholder was thrown from her car as it was struck by one driven by Russell Arcand, 18, of Ortonville, Troy Township Police said today.

The accident occurred at Long Lake and Livernois Roads. Investigators said the Buckholder car was hit on the side after she had driven through a stop sign.

Birmingham Boy Wins 3 Titles in State Shoot

BALDWIN (AP)—Ainsley Borsum of Baldwin won the overall title at the annual three-day state championship skeet shoot, firing 450 rounds without a miss in .12 gauge shotgun competition.

Borsum won the .12 gauge crown yesterday after two days of firing in competition with four others. The five had blasted 1,000 targets without a miss before faltering in the shootoff.

Rex Devull of Kalamazoo was runnerup.

Eddie Brown of Birmingham won all three titles in sub-junior firing and Jeane Shiels of Grand Rapids won in women's .12 gauge competition.

Borsum also won the .410 gauge division crown.

Tom Metzger of Greenville captured the .28 gauge honors. Walt Schneider of Reed City topped .20 gauge shooters. Ken Sedlecky, 16, of Baldwin, swept the .20, .28 and .12 gauge junior divisions.

Wyatts Deny Cruelty, Say Worked Hard for Children

By CHUCK ABAIR

"Everything they have said about us is a bunch of lies. We love our children and have worked hard to keep them healthy," William Wyatt, father of the 10 children found abandoned in a Keego Harbor home last Thursday, said yesterday prior to the arraignment of him and his wife, Ada, on a charge of cruelty.

The statement was one of several made by the couple in denying recent reports they had neglected and tortured their children in recent months.

The Wyatts will be examined in Justice Court Sept. 5.

Sherry A. Wilkinson, 7, one of the children left behind, remains in Pontiac General Hospital with severe burns, cuts, and bruises. Two others had run away from the home earlier. All except Sherry are now at the Oakland County Children's Home.

"I don't see what they've got against me. I've been working hard to try to keep the family together. If I had gone away on a drunk or something like that I wouldn't blame them for taking the kids away," William said.

WORKED 7-DAY WEEK

"I have worked seven days a week since January driving truck and doing odd jobs in the store on Dixie Highway in order to keep things going. Everything they said about them not having food is not true.

"I found three loaves of bread on top of the refrigerator and there was milk and plenty of potatoes and canned food when I got back from Indiana Thursday night. I left Aaron (13) in charge of them, and a neighbor woman said she would keep an eye on them," he added.

Wyatt said he did not leave Sherry tied to a bed although police officials said they found her that way and were told by the children that the father had tied her and left instructions to keep her there.

DENIES BURNING

"We never tied her up or hurt her in any way. She told me she burned herself on the stove one day while I was outside hanging some clothes, Mrs. Wyatt said.

"She cut her chin on a broken jar one day but I never hit her or saw any of the children hurt her, but then I can't watch them all the time. I am often outside working," Mrs. Wyatt remarked concerning the complaint she burned her daughter.

The 33-year-old mother of 12 blamed the fact she went to the hospital on such short notice the week before for their not having anyone older to care for the children. "I didn't have time to arrange anything," she remarked.

The father said he had planned to leave them alone only one day since he expected to get back the next night (Wednesday) but that his trip was delayed a full day due to a delay in obtaining his load of watermelons.

MONEY FOR FOOD

"They should have been all right. I gave Aaron $10 before I left and my wife sent him $5 from the hospital to buy groceries. They had managed that way before when Ada was in the hospital to have the last baby," William remarked.

The Wyatts claimed they had telephoned several times over the weekend to see their children, but had been denied by officials at the Children's Home and at Pontiac General Hospital.

Wyatt told this story of their weekend disappearance. "I got back from Indiana early Thursday night and went directly to my home. When I got there, I found the door open and everyone gone, I went directly to the hospital and told Ada about it and stayed there all night.

"The next morning I went to work at the store and worked all day without ever knowing they (the police) were looking for me.

TOOK MOTEL ROOM

"Ada took a taxi to the store when she was released from the hospital and we decided to get a motel room because there was nothing at home to go home for. The doctor had told her she needed a lot of rest, so we decided to wait until Monday to go home.

"We never knew they were looking for us until Sunday when I saw a paper in a restaurant where we were eating. I decided then we might as well wait until Monday to come in, because the courts would be closed anyway. Ada still didn't realize they had warrants for us until we got to the police station."

"We were not trying to run away at all. We think too much of our kids to do that. We just didn't go home because our children were gone. If we had been hiding we wouldn't have been eating in public restaurants.

WANT CHILDEN

"All we want is to settle this and get our children back together," William added.

Mrs. Wyatt admitted she had never taken Sherry to a doctor about her badly burned hand but claimed she had planned to "as soon as I got on my feet again."

"I was treating her at home all the time," the mother said.

The couple admitted two of their other children, Diane and Darlene, had run away earlier but could not explain why. "I guess they just wanted to run away. It is the third time for Diane," the 29-year-old father remarked.

Sleep Costs Patron His Money and Shoes

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Oh, sleep may be a gentle thing, beloved from pole to pole, but not by James Carroll. Not after yesterday.

Carroll, 42, fell asleep in the booth of a Norfolk tavern. When he awoke a little while later, he found that a light-fingered patron had removed $19 from his pockets.

Worse yet, Carroll always keeps a little reserve cash hidden in his shoes, and the thief had taken the shoes, too—right off his feet.

Red Official Denies Satchmo Tour Rumor

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Soviet embassy official has denied there are any plans to approve a trip behind the Iron Curtain for jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong.

Yuri I. Gouk, cultural attache of the embassy, said the reports indicating that the famed musician may get approval for a tour of Russia "must be a mistake."

He said, "We have never had an application from Armstrong and I have never talked with him, with his manager or with anybody who represented him."

Gouk added that even if an application was received "at the present time I doubt it" would be approved.

Satchmo Armstrong was quoted as saying Saturday "We don't want to get mixed up in any politics, we just want to blow."

The trumpeter, who came up from New Orleans to play for jazz fans throughout the Western world, is now appearing at a Lake Tahoe resort in California.

President Ends Vacation; to Plan Campaign Strategy

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower reported in good condition by his doctor, ends a West Coast vacation today and flies back to Washington to map second term campaign strategy and resume government business conferences.

* * *

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower are scheduled to take off from the Monterey Naval Air Station about 9 a.m., PDT, on a nine-hour nonstop flight to the capital.

Relaying word from Eisenhower's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the President's stay at the Cypress Point Club in this resort area has done him a great deal of good.

* * *

"The doctor says the President is feeling fine and is in good condition," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower arrived here last Thursday evening a few hours after accepting nomination for a second term at the closing session of the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. Since then there have been these developments regarding the President's health:

1. Hagerty has stated the doctors now feel Eisenhower's convalescence from major abdominal surgery which he underwent June 9 is at an end.

* * *

2. His weight, which fell off to about 157 pounds while he was hospitalized in June, climbed back to the presurgery level for the first time last week. As of four days ago he tipped the scales at 168½, a half pound more than he weighed when he entered the hospital.

3. He has resumed playing full rounds of golf, a favorite recreation which always is a good yardstick of how the President is feeling. He has played 18 holes at the tough Cypress Point course each day for the last four. The range was four to 16 holes on any one day before he came to picturesque Pebble Beach.

* * *

In advance of Eisenhower's departure, Hagerty still was steadfastly refusing to discuss politics and the coming campaign. And he insisted the President had put politics out of his mind during his vacation.

"There will be plenty of time for that after we get back to Washington," Hagerty said.

Ten lions roaming A. E. Adams' farm nera Lobatsi in Bechuanaland killed six donkeys before one lion was shot and the rest driven away.

Dyeing Hand-Me-Downs Cuts Clothing Expenses

Back-to-school clothes needn't break your budget.

* * *

Here are some suggestions that will keep the children's clothing expenses at a minimum.

If your daughter has grown too tall for last year's school clothes, let down the hems of her skirts. If the turned-down hem is a shade or two darker than the rest of the dress, tint the dress in your automatic washer.

Hand-me-downs can be fun as well as practical. Before Jane's old jumper is passed on to little Mary, tint it a bright new color.

If you don't own an automatic clothes dryer and your youngsters' clothes have faded from hanging in the sun all summer, tint them a differet color for fall.

TO TINT CLOTHES

Even last spring's pastel prints can be tinted a darker color and be the smartest fall cotton at the first PTA meeting.

According to home economists at Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. this is the only way to tint:

* * *

1. Wash articles to be tinted. They should be clean and wet for an even color tint.

2. Use color remover first when tinting from one dark color to another.

3. Use the hottest water possible for tinting. The hotter the water, the faster the tint.

* * *

4. To the fresh hot water, add packaged water softener.

5. Add diluted dye according to directions on package of preferred brand. Do not attempt dyeing in a washing machine. Boiling is necessary for a color-fast dye.

6. Put in items to be tinted and allow washer to agitate until color is two shades darker than desired. Then turn timer dial to drain position and allow washer to complete cycle automatically.

7. Follow with plain water rinse.

Some washers have stain-resistant porcelain enamel tubs, tops and lids that are immune to the splashing solution.

For washers that are not so protected, attach a piece of pyrofilm to the inside of the lid to prevent staining.

After using the washer to tint, it should be refilled with soap and hot water and allowed to agitate for five minutes before draining.

* * *

This precaution removes any loose dye that might remain in the tub.

Wilson Turns Woman at Mamie's Style Show

By EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO — One of my fondest memories of this city will always be when I pretended to be a gal reporter.

My wiggle isn't what it used to be but I posed as a newshen and wiggled along with a flock of gal reporters who covered a fashion show for Mamie Eisenhower.

MAMIE

It amazed me how polite the dames were. They called each other "Dear" even when wishing they could kick each other in the nylons.

I'd been setting there at the Sheraton-Plaza feasting my eyes on Mamie's white mink-trimmed hat. Suddenly one femme journalist shrilled out: "Come on, girls." That included me, of course.

Suddenly a dozen chicks with a dozen different perfumes were jumping all over my bunions as they closed in on Mamie. A tall gal fixed Mamie in the eye and machine-gunned questions at her.

In the back—but in front of me—a smallish woman said to the tall gal's elbows: "I'm covering this too, dearie," very icily.

Mamie left and they pooled their notes. Mamie'd mentioned she was going home after the convention.

"Home—What did she mean by that?" asked one doll.

"The White House . . . you know, they live there," retorted a sister correspondent, with such frostiness that I was afraid to open my mouth. So I walked away. I mean I limped away.

Just between us girls, of course, there was a big story there. Ssshh . . . Mrs. James H. Quillen, of Kingsport, Tenn., and Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffery, Mamie's secretary, had hats alike.

Irving Berlin sat in a luxurious trailer outside the Cow Palace after singing "Ike For Four More Years."

"In 1924," he remembered, "I wrote a song for Al Smith 'In the Fall We'll All Go Voting For Al,' and later another one, 'Better Times with Al.' I wrote a Jimmy Walker campaign song, too—'It's a Walk-in with Walker, They're All Out of Step but Jimmy.'"

★ ★ ★

"Were you a Democrat then?" I asked the author of "I Like Ike."

"Was I a Democrat? In those days . . . " And his voice trailed off. "I liked Al Smith. I was brought up in his bailiwick."

Irving's voice was low but his words were good. Explaining that he would donate any receipts from his new song to the "God Bless America Fund," he added, "I don't know how good the song is but it has one great virtue—it's short."

A lot of people including me were wondering whether Nat (King) Cole, who sang at the convention, isn't a Democrat. So is he wondering. "I don't know what I am," he told me. "I been reading I'm a Stevenson man but I ain't never said that. I'm singing' just as an entertainer. Let's see what develops in the campaign before I say what I am."

After watching a lot of characters on TV during the convention, Frank Funge, the San Francisco saloon editor, said, "They have perfect faces for radio."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Frank Sinatra's Paramount Theater take was $75,000; he said jokingly, "Now you tell me how to keep it." (United Artists calls it the biggest one-week salary ever paid an entertainer) . . . Prince Rainier may hire a public relations outfit to keep next month's visit here "dignified" . . . Jackie Gleason hopes to starve himself to 230 pounds for the season's first TV'er . . . The Harwyn now features a dish named for actress Anna Magnani; it's ham.

Joe Louis' doctors gave him the word—no more golf . . . Susan ("Diary of Anne Frank") Strasberg is vacationing in London with MMonroe and Arthur Miller . . . I top musician disappeared off his B'way bandstand; the cops wouldn't renew his work card . . . Eddie Fisher's here on business, alone; Debbie's resting in L.A.

Comic Jack Carter must be serious about model Maggie Dunn—he walks her dog . . . Hepburn's working in Paris, Mel Ferrer's houseguesting with the Aga Khan on the Riviera.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . A girl who insists on living it up is apt to have trouble living it down.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A cocktail party," says Fred Chiaventone, "is where the guests drink the martinis, eat the olives and spill the beans."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Dick Shelton tells of the Eskimo who complained about his wife, "I never say such a woman—always asking for a cloth coat!"

Pretty soon, says Peter Arnell, there won't be any more bank robberies 'cause —where are the gunmen gonna find an all-black car to make their getaway in? That's earl, brother.

U.S. Navy Patrol Plane Shot Down Off China

Unless available evidence is misleading, 16 more U.S. airmen have been shot down by trigger happy Red Chinese fliers.

This seems to be the only logical interpretation of a message from a Navy patrol plane carrying the men, that it was being attacked.

The only word received from Red China says nothing about our fliers. Yet, inasmuch as the body of only one crewman has been found with some debris from the plane, there still is hope that some of them are alive and soon may be reported held in Red China.

There may be another faint glimmer of hope in the possibility that the Chinese may have rescued a number of our fliers from the two life rafts later found by a U.S. destroyer. Peiping admits that Red Chinese fliers had attacked and damaged a "Nationalist" plane near the spot where our plane disappeared 32 miles off the China coast.

Meanwhile, because our Government doesn't recognize Red China, it has taken the only feasible step. Britain, which maintains relations with Peiping, has been asked to find out what happened to our fliers, two of whom are from Michigan.

★ ★ ★

If these slender hopes fail to materialize, there isn't much we can do. We can, however, add this attack to the long series of incidents which our Government rightly contends is proof that Red China is not yet ready for admission to the family of civilized nations.

American Supermarket Makes Big Hit in Rome

Just as the experts predicted, an American supermarket has scored a smash hit in Rome.

Sent to the Italian capital by the National Association of Food Chains under sponsorship of our Department of Agriculture, it drew record crowds. Everyone was amazed to see about 5,000 processed and fresh food products on display under one roof.

This was not surprising inasmuch as Italian housewives usually spend about two hours a day shopping for food in as many as 20 stores. They even have to go to different stores for different kinds of meat.

Not only housewives but the 2,000 food industry representatives from 31 countries who were in Rome attending two international food meetings, were impressed. All noted with approval the supermarket's ability to cut costs through self service, large volume, fast turnover and small profits.

This two weeks exhibit understandably has prompted widespread opinion that it should be kept on the road. In fact, plans are now being considered by a House Agricultural subcommittee to include a supermarket in this country's exhibit at the Moscow fair next July.

The expense of sending it to Moscow would be a good investment.

India's New Press Law

Current dispatches from New Delhi reveal that India's Parliament is enacting what experience has taught would be a dangerous newspaper control bill.

Purpose of the measure so far approved only by the upper house, ostensibly is to control the size and price of newspapers and the volume of advertising. In introducing it, the government reportedly was moved by the need of small provincial newspapers for protection and promotion.

The danger in such legislation is that besides regulating, it could be used to control the contents of newspapers. That, of course, would be the end of India's free press. It is true that in that country as in some others, there is an irresponsible element of the press whose actions invite drastic legislation.

But it takes only a brief look back into recent history to show that as a general rule, the start of press censorship is the beginning of dictatorship. Certainly the people of India must feel a sense of alarm as they remember what happened after government press controls were imposed in Russia, Italy, Spain, Germany and Argentina.

It is not suggested that anyone in India presently is seeking dictatorial powers. This merely is a reminder that only under press control do dictators flourish.

The Chicago girl who in one day wrote 100 letters to her sweetheart in military service overseas no doubt added a postscript to 99 or 100 of them.

Point of Agreement

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Has Been Fair Toward Labor

WASHINGTON — The major development in national politics today is related to the meeting of the executive council of the AFL-CIO which has been struggling lately with the question of whether to "endorse" Adlai Stevenson or to remain "neutral" in the Presidential contest.

At no time has it been considered feasible to approve the record of the Republican administration as this would meet with opposition from various union leaders.

* * *

Businessmen generally who have looked askance at the gradual turn of the Eisenhower administration toward the labor side will heave a sigh of relief if the executive council of the AFL-CIO shows its preference for the Democratic ticket because it will be clear proof to them — and they hope proof to Ike — that it doesn't pay any dividends at all to try to play ball with union labor in the realm of politics.

* * *

There has been a genuine attempt on the part of the Eisenhower administration to take an objective view toward labor and management and to steer a course in the middle.

* * *

There has been much nervousness among management men recently because of the fear that the present administration would, for political reasons, seek to play the same kind of game that the recent Democratic administrations did.

* * *

If, however, it becomes apparent that even the partiality shown on many issues toward the labor-union side by the Eisenhower administration hasn't been appreciated and, in fact, that there is an open avowal of bias by the labor leaders in favor of the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, the talk will be that the administration has wasted its time and energies and had better take the business side of the argument hereafter.

NEUTRAL COURSES

Labor leaders in the old days steered a neutral course. The late Samuel Gompers, head of the AFL, expressed his own preferences and leanings but was careful never to commit his big labor organization to any political party.

* * *

Although the Smith-Connally law passed during the last war, and, subsequently, the Taft-Hartley Act made it unlawful for labor unions to contribute money to political campaigns for federal offices — putting them on the same footing with corporations which for years had been prevented from financing political candidates — there have been ways developed to circumvent the purposes of the law.

* * *

There isn't any law to prevent the executive council of the AFL-CIO from endorsing any Presidential or congressional candidates and making those facts known to its members. The only legal problem that arises is in connection with financial contributions.

* * *

While it is well known that an "endorsement" means a good deal politically to various candidates for Congress, it is open to question what value it has to a Presidential candidate.

* * *

The Eisenhower administration has adopted the kind of course that ordinarily would mean an expression of neutrality by any labor council. But the ardent partisanship of so many labor leaders and their direct connection with the Democratic party makes it doubtful whether they now will refrain from active campaigning in behalf of the Democratic Presidential ticket, no matter how vaguely worded the pronouncement this week from the executive council of the nation's biggest labor organization.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Columnist's Advice Ends Head Noises for Woman

A reader writes:

"I wish to thank you for what Ca&D has done for me. I wear a hearing aid, and for the first time in five years I have no noise of any kind in my head and no more ringing." (Signed M.R.A.)

Now that you remind me of it, mine haven't bothered me lately either. I've had 'em, head noises, ever since I deservedly fell from a tree when I was a boy on Chapel street stealing birds' eggs, although I haven't listened to them lately.

Head noises (tinnitus) may or may not be associated with deafness.

The annoying head noises of persons developing progressive deafness, usually persons 20 to 35 years of age may be stopped or moderated as M. R. A. says hers were. In any case it can do no harm to boop one's Ca and D intake for a few months.

Incidentally the name physicians give this type of progressive deafness in adults is "otosclerosis," which means formation of new bone about the stapes (stirrup, smallest of the three little bones in the middle ear cavity) and the fenestra or window between the middle ear cavity and the inner ear.

But this medical name is misleading. The new bone is not hard bone, but a spongy substance, and hence the proper medical term would be otospongiosis.

It is this type of deafness for which the operation known as fenestration is done. The surgeon makes a new window between the middle ear cavity and the internal ear. This generally gives great improvement in hearing.

Bear in mind, please, I'm no authority about anything. But I have my notions.

It is my notion that otospongiosis (or otosclerosis to you,) is NOT hereditary, as some authorities have assumed. That it occurs in successive generations of the family may just as well indicate that the present generation follows the same faulty diet as their forebearers did and perhaps expose no more skin to daylight (to manufacture vitamin D) than their forbears.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Communist Party Line Picks Democrat Party'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I should like to quote and comment on an article I read in Time magazine as follows:

"The National Communist Party in the U.S. last week made public its party line for the 1956 election year; its main effort will be to change the course of the Democratic Party in an all out attempt to defeat the 'Cadillac Cabinet of Eisenhower and Nixon,' and asserting that it can be done through labor, the farmers and the Negro people."

The Communist indorsement of the Democratic Party with changes in that party which they hoped to accomplish with the aid of labor, farmers and Negroes is an outrageous, indecent and grossly insulting slur on labor, farmers and Negroes.

That the Communists should choose the Democratic Party as being the most suited to their purpose is, so far as this writer is concerned, the "Kiss of Death" for the Democratic Party.

Of course, the whole strategy of the Communists is to stir up resentment and discord, pitting one color, creed or class against another to divide and conquer and overthrow our government.

Every right thinking, patriotic American must strive to unite all Americans, regardless of color, creed or type of worker in order to obtain a prosperous, united and strong Republic.

We Are Too Soft With Criminals

I want you to know you put out a fine paper. I also want you to know I favor capital punishment for these sex fiends, not a slap on the wrist and "Be a good boy now."

We are too soft with our criminals. Let some of them wave on the end of a good strong rope for all to see and take heed. Why should hard-working people pay for keeping these beasts warm and comfortable and well-fed and let them out in a few years to strike again?

How many more helpless little children will be sacrificed, how many more broken-hearted fathers and mothers? Wake up, you people. This needless slaughter must be stopped.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Working at Marriage Worth Effort

Here is a follow-up of Opal's case. Although her husband had placed a halo around his former fiancee, Opal resolutely tried to win his love. Sometimes it was difficult to hide her hurt pride, but she kept on. See what happened and why. You teenage girls better scrapbook this Case Record for future reference.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-350: Opal and Frank are the young couple described yesterday.

* * *

But the scene has shifted. They have been married for six years and now have two youngsters, one of whom is ready for kindergarten.

"Dr. Crane," Opan confessed with shining eyes, "I did as you said. It was difficult fighting a ghost, but I tried.

"And I never let on that it hurt my pride to have my husband keep his former girl friend's photographs.

"We joined a church and I took a Sunday school class. He also became assistant scout master.

"And we had a lot of fun. Then we started buying the little home where we now live. And that became a mutual hobby.

"For we did most of the redecorating ourselves. And we fixed up the lawn. I set out flowers and planted roses.

OPAL WON HER MAN

"Then our little boy was born, and Frank was delighted with him. And when our daughter came a couple of years later, our cup of joy ran over.

* * *

"Meanwhile, I had eliminated as many faults as possible by studying your 'Tests for Good Wives.'

"And I cultivated all the virtues that you had listed therein. I also paid Frank daily compliments and always kissed him with fervor.

"Three years after our marriage, we happened to meet his old girl friend.

"Maybe it sounds catty, but I felt rather exultant as soon as I saw her.

* * *

"For she was fat and smoking a cigarette. Well, Frank never could stand women who smoked, so I figured that would help shatter the halo he had placed over her in his memory.

"Frank acted pleasant and friendly while we stood there talking, but I wondered really what was going on in his mind.

"He didn't say anything until bedtime. Then he took me in his arms and stroked my hair.

"He kissed me as if I were a new bride. 'Honey,' he said, 'I am now a free man. I knew you were winning me all along, but I didn't realize how much until this afternoon. It's all over and am I glad'.

"And I was the happiest I have ever been in my entire life. I get butterflies in my stomach even yet, just to think of what he said.

"So it worked out, didn't it Dr. Crane?"

LOVE CAN BE DEVELOPED

Yes, it worked out for Opal and it will work out for every wife who will resolutely use her brain to steer her wifely behavior.

Even when the way may seem darkest, keep your chin up and continue playing the game of marriage according to the prescribed rules. It helps to pray for guidance, too.

* * *

Sometimes, even in baseball or football, the breaks go against you temporarily. But they will ultimately come your way if you keep playing head's-up ball.

* * *

Movie stars frequently fall in love with the leading actor or actress playing opposite them. Why?

Just because they go through the romantic motions and pretty speeches which the script calls for.

It's an axiom of psychology that if you go through the proper motions, soon you will begin to feel the corresponding emotions!

But girls must show spunk regarding idealism, for a woman who worships her own selfish interests soon appears shallow to a real man.

* * *

Men want their sweethearts to have wide social horizons so they admire girls who emphasize the moral virtues of the church.

* * *

Men sometimes get irritable and deprecate such wifely behavior, but don't believe such angry remarks.

* * *

Men want their sweethearts to be substitute "mothers" concerning moral principles.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

Bums Get the Bum's Rush to Impress GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Howard street, the street that put the skid under Skid Row, returned to normal today. The bums were back.

* * *

They were rounded up and deposited in the city's jails while the Republicans were in town—to the mortification of the Republicans among them—but were released today when the last GOP delegate departed.

They returned to their beloved West Coast Bowery to find favored doorways thoroughly renovated, busted settees repaired in the lobbies of their treasured old flea bags, and the jug wine tasting strangely aged.

For most of them, the antiseptic jail life had been unnerving, perhaps even a bit degrading. This massive face-lifting (something like it happened in Russia once, under a babe named Catherine) caused widespread inconvenience.

The boys have to regrow whiskers and reacquire a taste for canned heat. In all probability, the whole move toward civic respectability has cost Ike the Howard street vote.

GREEN-EYED IKE

Harry Davidson, production manager of the S.F. Call-Bulletin, stared with interest but increasing alarm at the first few copies of an edition last week which carried a large color likeness of the President of the United States.

* * *

Eisenhower came out with green eyes.

Davidson called the St. Francis Hotel and got Jim Hagerty on the phone.

"What color eyes does the President have?" he asked.

There was a considerable pause before Jim answered, "Funny thing, I don't know. Wait a minute, I'll take a look."

* * *

He was gone for a minute or two. Then Davidson heard him pick up the phone again.

"Blue," Jim said.

The later editions of the Call-Bulletin showed him with blue eyes.

ADLAI'S ORDEAL

Jim Kilgallen, the greatest, was assigned to cover Adlai Stevenson during the Democratic convention.

In a memo he writes, "It's amazing what a presidential candidate must go through to win a nomination.

* * *

"Take Stevenson's day: Up at 6:30 and hard at it until midnight or later. He held breakfast conferences with advisers, then dashed around Chicago's Loop from one hotel to another addressing caucuses of various state delegations.

"Back at his headquarters on the 23rd floor of the Conrad Hilton he'd grab a glass of milk and a sandwich and hold conferences with a never-ending flow of political bigwigs. . . .

"In the cool of the evening he'd be rushed off to a reception or a cocktail party and—if he were lucky—he'd finally get a chance to have dinner. After dinner, more glad-handing and mixing with the politicos.

* * *

"The moment he stepped out of his car he was on his own, and what a buffeting about he took! He was catapulted into crowded elevators, plunged through corridor throngs that would stop a tank, and continually clawed at by well-wishers and autograph hunters.

"As soon as he got the nomination he was given adequate police protection. But not before. I think we should take better care of these candidates.

"Common sense dictates that we reduce as much as possible their chances of having every bone in their bodies broken as they go about the job of running for the nomination."

Earl E. T. Smith, prominent Florida Republican, has embarked a one-man crusade to get people to stop calling the Democratic Party the Democratic Party.

"It's the Democrat Party," Smith said the other night. "It's time people stopped thinking of it as having a monopoly on democracy. The Republican Party is just as democratic as the so-called Democratic Party. Let's start calling Democrats Democrats, not Democratic."

U. S. Freighters Average 40 Years, Canada's 25

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Maritime Administration has reported the average age of ships in the U.S. Great Lakes fleet is 40 years, compared with 32 years for vessels in the Canadian fleet.

Reporting on a statistical study of the Great Lakes fleet, the agency said ships built for operation on the lakes may have a useful life of up to 65 years, in contrast to 20-25 years for ocean vessels.

There are 373 ships in the U.S. fleet on the lakes, it said, and 337 of these carry bulk-type cargoes.

Polish War Veterans to Convene in Detroit

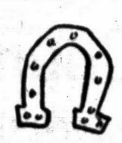

DETROIT (AP)—Ten thousand Polish veterans of the American wars will meet Friday when the 13th biennial national convention of the Polish Legion of American Veterans and its ladies auxiliary begins here.

Among the activities listed for the four-day convention are two parades and a speech by Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker, who will come here from Washington.

GOOD ROADS ARE NECESSARY EVEN THOUGH THEY COST A LOT!

EVERYBODY wants good roads. You do. We do. They are needed for business, for pleasure, for defense. And everybody realizes that highways cost a whopping amount of money. But not everybody understands just where the money for good, safe highways comes from...

The largest single source is direct gasoline taxes

For example: A typical price of STANDARD RED CROWN Gasoline in mid-Michigan is 24 1/10-cents excluding direct taxes. For this 24 1/10-cents we find crude oil, transport it, refine it, and then deliver the gasoline to your independent Standard Dealer. And your dealer's mark-up, covering his costs and what he earns for serving you, is also included in the same 24 1/10-cents.

State and federal direct taxes total another 9 8/10 cents—which is equal to more than 40 per cent of the price of the gasoline alone. Most of these taxes go for roads.

That's quite a tax bill. But we all know that reasonable taxes are necessary. We are just trying to remind our customers and friends of a simple economic fact. Subtract the taxes from the price you pay for RED CROWN Gasoline and you will see that an amount equal to more than 40 per cent of the price of the gasoline itself goes for direct taxes.

Romeo's Peach to Give Mayor Cobo Pie

Queen Ann Whirling in Festive Round

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — Peach Queen Ann Zemke's public appearances continue to fill the days before Romeo's 24th annual peach festival, Sept. 1-3.

* * *

Last night she could be seen on television with members of her court riding in the pace car at Motor City Speedway. Her TV appearance was cut short by a special feature race, as Ann was invited back for a return engagement Thursday evening.

At noon today she appeared on Chuck Bergeson's (Ladies Day) on WJBK-TV, presenting the traditional peach pie to the master of ceremonies.

Romeo Rotarians have invited Queen Ann and members of her court to be their guests for dinner at the veterans hall at 6:30 p.m. this evening.

* * *

On Wednesday, "her majesty" will be interviewed at 11 a.m. on "Story Studio," WXYZ-TV. She will appear on Bud Guest's "Guest House" at 7 that evening.

Ann's busy schedule continues Thursday with her presentation of a pie ot Detroit's mayor, Albert E. Cobo, at 2 p.m. She will remain in the motor city the rest of the afternoon for newspaper interviews prior to returning to the speedway in the evening.

Friday, Ann will rest and prepare for the Queen's Ball, to be held at 9:30 p.m. in the Romeo High School auditorium. She and her escort have been asked to lead the grand march.

Approve Bonds for Utica Area

330 to 302 Balloting in Town and Townships for New Schools

UTICA—A 330 to 302 approval was registered here yesterday for a $3,500,000 bond issue for new schools.

The low vote and low margin were tallied for the consolidated area of Utica Community Schools, which includes Utica, Shelby and Sterling townships.

The funds from the bonds will provide three new elementary schools, additional elementary classrooms, and a new junior high school. The present junior high school will also be remodeled.

Party Hears Plans for October Wedding

HIGHLAND—Plans for an October 27 wedding to SP.3 Neal F. Lahring were told by Mary Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Huff of Highland at a party in her honor at Mrs. Donald Ferguson's White Lake home.

Mr. Lahring is the son of the Fred Lahrings of Holly.

The bride has asked Lois Mohry to be the matron of honor, and Marion Hollingdale and Nancy Huff, bridesmaids. Sandra and Vance Chapman Jr., will be their aunt's ringbearer and flower girl.

New Lathrup Attorney

LATHRUP VILLAGE (INS) — The Lathrup Village council last night appointed 34-year-old James K. O'Leary city attorney. The Council turned down Nancy Ringland, a Detroit attorney, for the post before agreeing on O'Leary. The appointment fills a vacancy created by the resignation three weeks ago of Justice L. Bernard Cross.

Few Oak Parkers Vote 471 to 117 for Rooms, Site

OAK PARK — Voters yesterday approved, 471 to 117, borrowing two-and-one-half million dollars for 36 new classrooms, equipment and furniture and a new school site.

The voting was termed very light by school officials. Only 100 people had voted by noon.

The vote, the sixth in six years, brings the borrowed funds total here to $7,250,000 since 1951.

The expansion program, "needed to provide for an 800-student-per-year enrollment increase," according to Supt. James N. Pepper, envisions 10,000 students by 1964.

* * *

The approved issue will pay for two 18-room units; a Key School addition and an elementary building at Greenfield and West Ten Mile roads.

Oak Park's new high school also will be furnished with the funds and new building sites will be purchased.

DOMES LET IN LIGHT — Modern school buildings, such as this addition to Daniel Whitfield School on Orchard Lake road, are seeking new ways to draw sunlight into classrooms. Here, plastic domes admit light on inner sides of the rooms, supplementing windows.

Light for the Classrooms

Bubbles Abounding in County

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

Bubbles abound over Oakland County.

They sit atop school buildings and let the light shine in.

And they save money for those school boards that are always having to put up another school for another surge of students.

The bubbles are those plastic domes that let light into classrooms and hallways from the flat roofs of modern buildings. Not used much in residential building yet, they have found a secure place in the school building field.

In Rochester, the superintendent of schools, Donald Baldwin, says they let light stream in equalling that admitted by 12-foot high windows. With the domes on the inner sides of buildings, eight foot ceilings are possible.

In Waterford Township, Supt. William Shunck points out that domes allow for deeper rooms. And with rooms deeper, and therefore narrower, the corridors can be shorter. "And corridors cost money, too," he adds.

Another saving, that of less reinforcing in roofs, is pointed out by the Rochester superintendent in comparing the glass brick skylights that have come into new popularity.

But skylights haven't bothered the cost-wise computing of the Lake Orion school officials. They've studied construction details and for their new schools are installing the glass brick skylights.

Out in West Bloomfield Township, domes are used effectively in the school entrance of the new high school. There three dramatic, clear-as-glass bubbles allow as much light come in as in outdoor daylight.

"Nighttime view of the stars is a feature that many people attending evening meetings especially enjoy," says Supt. Leif A. Hougen.

"Everyone comments on the domes," Supt. Hougen says. They are about six feet across, he estimates, and are round.

But elsewhere in the high school, domes aren't needed. The need for additional windows had been solved by the butterfly roof. Outerwalls are 12-feet high, allowing windows that high, but the roof slants in toward the inner corridor, where walls are only about eight feet high.

* * *

The natural question when the butterfly roof is mentioned is answered immediately by Hougen: "The water runs to the center and is piped out of the building to a septic field."

That butterfly architecture is the work of George D. Mason Co., Detroit, architectural firm, but the company hasn't used it in the goodly amount of buildings done in Waterford Township.

In the Waterford area, domes are used in four elementary buildings, one of which went into use last spring and three of which will have doors opened next week.

Mrs. Carrie Hubbell, principal of the school opened last spring told the Pontiac Press of her experience with the bubbles:

"Even on the darkest days there was enough light admitted by the domes so that we did not use lights except in a very few instances. Some days we had to pull the shades that are built into them, but always we found the diffused light very satisfactory."

Her school, and most others, use the cloudy-plastic domes. But the West Bloomfield High school ones are of clear plastic.

At Sylvan Lake, the Daniel Whitfield school, that edges the Pontiac School system, has found its domes can allow even too much light into schoolrooms. But draw curtains have been installed since the opening to cut out light entirely.

At the Whitfield School, as also in Waterford Township, the domes are of clouded plastic and arch above a shield of waving plastic. This corrugated surface, at ceiling level, diffuses the light. Curtains are used directly above it, on a spring rod as with window curtains.

Window shades are now installed in Mrs. Hubbell's school, so that the rooms can be darkened enough for movie showing.

"Roof construction being broken up costs a little more," says Waterford township's superintendent. "But," he adds, "my board feels that other cost savings balance it off."

Waterford High School, six years old, uses glass blocks in its stairwells, which are termed most satisfactory.

Rectangular domes are going into the new addition to Jayno Adams school in his area, Supt. Shunck says. It will be ready for occupancy in January.

While most present domes are in pairs on the inner edges of classrooms, single rectangles will provide light on those inner room areas, he says.

"Chances are that we'll use plastic domes in the four elementary schools in the preliminary planning stages here, also," Shunck adds.

Walled Lake Library Board Opens Drive

WALLED LAKE—Latest meeting of the Walled Lake Community Library Planning Board resulted in the launching of a subscription campaign to raise funds for future operation.

The board will send a representative to contact merchants and various organizations in the area. Leader of the financial drive is Mrs. Helen Foss.

Members also decided to organize a group to be known as "Friends of the Library." Membership to that unit is open to interested persons.

Daniel Battling for Texas Lead

Senator Has Thin Edge Over Yarborough for Governor's Nomination

DALLAS (AP) — U. S. Sen. Price Daniel, who likes quiet and peace and can't seem to find them, was in one of the biggest brawls in Texas political history today.

This calm, natural man held a razor-thin lead over Austin attorney Ralph Yarborough for the Democratic nomination as Texas governor — equal to election in Texas.

Prospects were that he would be fighting for his political life in many of Texas' 254 counties where contests or challenges of a handful of ballots in each might melt his lead away.

Yarborough workers have indicated they plan to challenge all questionable ballots. A change of one per cent of the 1,400,000 ballots in the Austin attorney's favor would defeat Daniel easily.

Daniel's calmness under fire is almost legendary. He likes nothing better than to hide away on his 3,000-acre ranch near Liberty, Tex., and hunt and fish. And a Sunday afternoon drive with the family is a favorite recreation.

This isn't exactly the picture firmly fixed in the minds of dope pushers, gamblers, people who waste natural gas, or advocates of strong federal government who want to relieve Texas of its oil-rich tidelands.

He's fought them all, and won, and found his greatest weapon is persistence and presenting a mass of facts.

To Get Washington View

Michigan Elevator Group Meeting at Lansing Sept. 5

Editors Note: Joe Haas, The Pontiac Press Traveling Columnist, will represent The Press in this area. He will write a clear-cut report of the meeting which will appear afterward on the suburban page.

The 36th annual meeting of the Michigan Elevator Exchange will take place at the Hotel Olds, in Lansing, Sept. 5, and delegates from 145 cooperative elevators will hear a report on the past year's business activities of the Exchange.

Approximately 300 managers and farmer directors of these local co-ops are expected to attend the annual event for the largest grain and bean marketing organization in the state.

Principal spearker will be Roy Hendrickson, executive secretary of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives and the Washington representative of the state exchange and 20 other large grain regionals.

Hendrickson's talk will be particularly important and timely as this is an election year," Jr. R. Bliss, general manager of the exchange, believes. "With both political parties vying for the farm vote and his nearness to the Washington political situation, he will be able to discuss the effect of this political implication on the national farm program and what the future holds for farmers and their co-op organizations," Bliss added.

Marshall Wells, well known personality in state farm circles, will also talk on his many visits with farmers and their organizations in his travels in and around Michigan.

Three directors will be elected to fill the expired terms of Frank Reid of Cass City; Robert Keenigshof of Buchanan and Harry E. Rohlfs of Akron.

2 Quimby Jobs Irk Feikens

Says Taxpayers Asked to Pay for Party Work by Unemployment Boss

LANSING (AP)—John Feikens, Republican state chairman, has criticized selection by Democrats of Thomas H. E. Quimby of Grand Rapids, as their national committeeman.

* * *

Quimby was elected by Democratic National Convention delegates at Chicago two weeks ago. He was picked in a contest with James P. Dunnigan, West Branch oil man, to succeed Ernest H. Lacey.

Quimby is state workmen's compensation director.

"This is the first time the taxpayers ever have been asked to pay the salary of a political party leader whose duties include raising funds and promoting candidates for federal office," Feikens said.

"It is unethical to use public funds in this manner and it is inconceivable that Quimby can divorce his workmen's compensation activities from his job as national committeeman," he added.

* * *

Feikens said a 1955 state law forbids the workmen's compensation director from having outside business or professional interests.

The United States now produces more than twice as much electric power as in 1946, with current output exceeding 51 billion kilowatt hours a year.

Body of Navy Flier on Way Home Tonight

TOYKO (AP)—The body of a U.S. Navy flier, killed when a Navy patrol plane was shot down off Red China's coast last Thursday, was to be flown home tonight.

His widow and three small sons, along with the wives and 10 children of five other crew members still listed as missing, were to follow in a later plane early Wednesday morning.

U.S. Navy officials said the body of aviation electronics technician Albert P. Mattin of Delta, Ohio, would leave Tokyo sometime tonight aboard a special military transport plane.

Of the 16 men aboard the P4M Mercator, only Mattin's fate is definitely known. His body and bits of wreckage were found a day later in the Pacific about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. The other 15 are listed as missing.

FAMILY TO FOLLOW

Mrs. Mattin, who is expecting another child this fall, and the other wives and children were scheduled to leave in a second military transport plane at 3:30 a.m. Wednesday (1:30 p.m. EST Tuesday).

The planes' routes and arrival times in the United States were not immediately available.

Romeo Woman Inherits Estate

Mrs. F. B. Williams Receives $196,000 From Author

NEW YORK—Mrs. Frances B. Williams of 141 Dickenson Street, Romeo, inherits the $196,700 estate of her brother, the late Dr. Albert S. Borgman of New York, an authority on English and American drama, according to a report filed here Thursday by the State Transfer Tax Department.

Dr. Borgman, a professor of English at New York University, held degrees from the University of Michigan and Harvard College.

Joining NYU in 1919, Dr. Borgman headed the English department from 1925 to 1950, his full professorship coming in 1928.

The author of "Thomas Shadwell—His Life and Comedies," Dr. Borgan died on Dec. 9, 1954 at the age of 64.

The estate was appraised here today at $207,093, gross, and $196,734, net, of which $161,318 was in stocks and bonds.

Imlay City Schools Sets Talks, Sept. 6 Opening

IMLAY CITY—Classes in the Imlay City Schools will begin the 1956-57 year Sept. 6, Superintendent Alvin Norlin announces, with eleven new teaches on the staff.

Nine are replacements and two are additional teachers, he says.

The faculty will meet for preschool conferences on Sept. 4 and 5, with a public relations workshop conducted by Ed Pfau of Michigan State University.

The school will be open through Friday for students to get their books and supplies.

The schedule in preparation for Sept. 6 opening of school follows:

Today all eighth graders register; tomorrow, all kindergarten through seventh graders who will be entering Imlay City school for the first time will register.

All pupils in rural schools register on the first day of school in their respective schools.

Wednesday evening there will be a general meeting for freshmen and their parents, Grades 10, 11 and 12, new to school, register Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Eight buses, two new replacements, will make their routes about the same as last year. All older buses have been repaired.

School will be in session on Thursday morning, Sept. 6, only, and all day Friday, Sept. 7. The lunch program will start on Sept. 7.

County Man Killed in Plant Accident

MONROE (AP) — Daniel Morton, 29, of Farmington, was killed yesterday when he fell through the roof of the Ford Motor Co. plant while hurrying to the air of an injured fellow worker.

Police said Morton, a glazier, was puttying windows on the roof of the plant. He crashed through the roof when he jumped from one level to another.

MR. and MRS. F. D. WYNN

Honeymooning in Florida

DRAYTON PLAINS—Franklin D. Wynn and his bride, the former Evelyn Jeanette Wilton, daughter of the Earl Wiltons of Shoman Drive, are spending a honeymoon in Florida previous to his reporting back to the Air Force in Biloxi, Miss.

* * *

They will reside in Biloxi, where the bridegroom, a former Drayton Plains resident, is attending electronic school in the Air Force.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wynn of Paris, Tenn.

The couple spoke nuptial vows Aug. 18 in a candlelight, evening ceremony at Sunny Vale Chapel, witnessed by 150 guests.

* * *

The bride's gown was of lace and tulle with fitted bodice and wrist-pointed sleeves. Its bouffant skirt had side lace ruffles that extended into a chapel train.

A tiara held her French illusion veil. Her orchid and lily of the valley bouquet was attached to a white prayer book.

Her sister, Betty Wilton, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Wayne Wheatley, Ethel Dobson, and Mrs. Claire Wilton, all of Drayton Plains, and Mrs. Edward Passmore, of Pontiac.

Flower girls were Vickie Wilton and Brenda Wheatley.

The groom was aided by his brother, Willis of Melvindale, as best man, Martin and Claire Wilton and Wayne Wheatley, all of Drayton Plains, and James Wade of Paris, Tenn.

Asks U.S. Stall UP Land Sale

Rep. Knox Wants State to Buy Up Ghost Town for Use as Park

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Rep. Knox (R-Mich) has asked the Internal Revenue Department to postpone selling property at Fayette, to give Michigan time to buy it for a state park.

* * *

Some 40 acres of the ghost town property are to be auctioned publicly Sept. 11 to satisfy a tax lien for $171,307.33 against Gladys Edwards of Detroit. Fayette is in Delta County in the Upper Peninsula on Big Bay de Noc.

Knox said he talked with State Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy, who told him the property is high on the list as a prospective state park site.

Knox said he asked the revenue department to postpone the sale until spring of 1957 to give the state a chance to prepare information for the Legislature and recommended an appropriation to buy the property.

* * *

The 40 acres includes a small harbor, a beach and the ruins of an iron smelter.

The government charges Mrs. Edwards, who bought some 100 acres at Fayette 10 years ago, owes back taxes for the years 1943 through 1951. She reportedly sold 60 acres since the purchase.

$64,000 Challenge Drops Sonny Fox

NEW YORK (AP)—Sonny Fox, the master of ceremonies who kicked up a fuss last June when he inadvertently gave away half an answer on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Challenge" has been dropped from the quiz show.

CBS announced yesterday that Ralph Story, a Los Angeles radio disc jockey, has been signed to replace Fox starting with next Sunday night's program.

The network gave no reason for dismissing Fox. He will continue to do a CBS Sunday noon show called "Let's Take a Trip."

Widows, Mothers Collect Security Payments at 62

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

The widows and mothers of deceased workers who were covered by Social Security may be able to collect Social Security payments at 62, instead of having to wait until they reach 65.

The lowering of the age is a change Congress made a few weeks ago in the Social Security law.

The change goes into effect in November, but the Social Security people say it's too early to tell when the first payment checks will be mailed to those eligible at that time. It depends on the amount of work involved in handling the applications and the payments.

What will make you eligible for Social Security payments as a widow at 62?

It depends on how long your husband was covered by Social Security and the date of his death.

In general, you may qualify under one of three general rules. You'll be eligible:

1. If your husband died between Dec. 31, 1939 and July 1, 1954, and had worked under Social Security for at least 1½ years, or

2. If the date of his death is after June 30, 1954, and he worked under Social Security for a certain length of time between Jan. 1, 1937, and the time of his death. The length of time must be equal to at least half of the time between Jan. 1, 1951, and the date of his death. But, in all cases, it must be at least 1½ years, or

3. If the date of your husband's death is after March 31, 1956, and he worked under Social Security for a certain length of time between Jan. 1, 1955, and the time of his death. He must have worked all of the time (with the exception of not more than one year), but in all cases it must have been at least 1½ years during this period.

What will make you eligible for Social Security payments as a mother at 62?

You're eligible under any one of the three general rules above which apply to a widow's eligibility except that the death and work under Social Security must be that of a son or daughter.

In addition, you're only eligible as a mother if your son or daughter:

1. Left no widow, widower or child who could get monthly payments, and

2. Furnished at least half of your support.

If you're eligible for payments, only your Social Security office can tell you the exact size they'll be.

In general, they'll be based on the earnings on which your husband, son or daughter paid Social Security tax. The earnings are averaged over the months either between Jan. 1, 1937 and the year of death or Jan. 1, 1951 and the year of death. Up to five years of low or no earnings may be dropped out in averaging the earnings.

The payments will range between a low of $30 a month and a high of $81.40. Generally, the higher the average monthly earnings of your son, daughter or husband, the closer your payments will be to $81.40.

If you're now at least 62 or will be before November and you feel you meet the eligibility requirements, you may apply for your payments before November.

But, you have until November, 1957, to apply and be eligible for all payments due you. The payments may be made retroactively for 12 months.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Warn Moonshiners: No Stills in Window

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP)—A moonshiner has no protection against search and seizure if his still is visible through windows, San Mateo County Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton has ruled.

State officers nabbed Larkie Tone, 52, last June 14 in San Francisco for selling moonshine. They later broke into his home in San Mateo County to seize a contraption which was steaming in his basement. They said it was a still.

When Deputy District Attorney Howard Harley told Judge Cotton the raiders could see the still plainly through the windows, he ruled otherwise and denied a defense motion to dismiss the charges against Tone.

Mark Colored Fabrics

Select a colored fabric, then remember the number of it and it's a better-than-safe bet you can match it with a plaid, print, stripe and even sheer by looking—not for the same tone—but the "magical" number. This innovation that relieves the homemaker of endless searching to match colors for draperies, slipcovers, curtains and throw pillows was introduced by Titus Blatter & Company in their new Motique collection.

The 23 coordinated tones express a Far Eastern influence while the patterns are inspired by countries all over the world.

Thar's Gold in That Thar' Garbage Truck

NEW YORK (AP)—Three sympathetic garbage collectors dumped two tons of refuse into a Bronx street yesterday so a worried woman could recover $530.

Mrs. Rosalie Mirabel, 32, operator of a stationery store, ran down the street and halted the refuse truck after recalling she had absent-mindedly placed an envelope with the money in her garbage can.

The three men emptied the truck and spent 30 minutes sifting through the garbage before they found the money.

The woman gave the three a $5 reward.

Aid Whooping Crane With New Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a move to help protect the rare whooping cranes, the Interior Department has announced that 4,640 acres of land and water adjoining the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas have been closed to migratory waterfowl hunting.

* * *

The only known flock of whoopers, which numbered 27 last spring, winters at the Arkansas refuge. Some of the birds use part of the closed area outside the refuge.

The Interior Department said the new regulation revises and enlarges the closed area boundary originally covered by a presidential proclamation of April 15, 1951. No protests were recived after announcement of the proposed new regulation on Oct. 14, 1955.

The department said the ban had been approved by the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

Venus Sending Radio Signals

Ohio State University Says Planet Emits Different Beams

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The planet Venus has been broadcasting some astronomically interesting radio signals, says an Ohio State University scientist.

* * *

The signals come in pulses often lasting one second or more and sometimes there is a long string of them, with more or less uniform intervals between, said Dr. John D. Kraus in a paper prepared for the American Astronomical Society.

In Dr. Kraus' absence the paper was read by Dr. J. A. Hynek, society secretary.

Frekuency of the signals ranges from 2 million to 4 million cycles per second. Those at the higher frekuency arrive as much as two second ahead of those on the lower side of the band.

This suggests, Dr. Kraus said, that the electrified atmospheres of Venus and the earth and the space between have an anomalous way of dispersing radio waves.

The impulses appear to be modulated to an audio frequency of about 117 cycles per second, the scientist reported. This frequency, when heard through a speaker, sounds something like the key of B flat next to the C below middle C on a piano.

The distant planet also sends out anothed class of radio signals which might be the product of lightning storms, Dr. Kraus said. sometimes they sizzle away for as long as 12 hours.

They fluctuate greatly in intensity, with peaks occurring 20, 39, 63 and 90 minutes, 6 hours 25 minutes, and 11 days apart.

* * *

Venus is not the first planet to produce recognizable radio waves. Last spring Dr. Kraus reported receiving signals from the planet Jupiter.

CROSSING THE COUNTRY—2
The Stage Coach

Until after the railroads were built, Americans frequently traveled by stage coaches. They were drawn by horses and were called stage coaches because they progressed by stages, with stops for horses to be changed.

It was a slow and uncomfortable method of traveling. The 230-mile journey from New York to Boston took about a week. The roads were little better than wide trails. Where sand or mud was deep, small trees were laid down to form was was called a corduroy road. This made riding rough for the passengers, on the hard seats.

Sometimes such traveling was dangerous, too, for the coaches offered little protection from the arrows of Indians or the bullets of bandits.

Use your crayons to color this picture and paste it on cardboard. Cut it out along the outside line. Fold the end panels under at the dotted line, and fold the center panel forward. Cut around the heavy line around the two groups of luggage, and fold them up along the dotted line.

Consider New Split for State Gas Taxes

LANSING (AP) — Highway experts will meet Wednesday to discuss with Gov. Williams possible changes in the state gas tax distribution formula.

The governor said it is time the state consider changes in a 1955 law which increased the state gas tax by 1½ cents a gallon. Three quarters of the money goes to the state and the rest to cities and counties.

Williams said cities and counties should receive a larger share of the refund.

Most of the state's gas tax—4½ cents a gallon—is distributed on the basis of 44 per cent for the state, 37 per cent for counties and 19 per cent for cities.

Lunch of 500 Calories Contains More Than Just Sandwiches

When back to school is in order why not make it back to a good routine as far as eating habits are concerned?

* * *

Breakfast means "break fast," since the time from dinner to breakfast is the longest time of the day we go without food. Citrus fruit, at least one egg, toast, butter and jelly, and coffee, tea or milk is one pattern for the first meal of the day.

If you are counting calories, a breakfast after this general pattern will average 350 to 450 calories.

For lunch choose a protein dish such as meat, eggs, cheese or beans and add a vegetable (green or yellow) or a green salad or tomatoes. With a light dessert and milk this should fill you up.

LUNCH: 500 UNITS

If you bring your lunch from home don't let it begin and end sticks, a hard cooked egg, a thermos of soup, will give you brighter eyes without much effort. Try stewed fruit in a paper container. Lunch should average about 500 calories.

For the three or four p.m. snack: A cookie and some milk or tea with sugar are easy-to-get pick-ups. Make the snack work into your daily calories at the times when your energy is at low ebb.

Dinner should follow the general pattern of meat, poultry or fish for protein, potatoes and a cooked vegetable, a raw vegetable or salad, bread and butter, dessert and milk. All of these foods should be included in the meal, in smaller than usual portions if you're being calorie conscious.

New Low Reported in Chicago Polio Cases

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-six new polio cases were reported Monday—the lowest total for a weekend in Chicago since the outbreak reached serious proportions July 5.

Previous weekend totals were 40, 63 and 66 cases.

The 1956 total now stands at 926 cases and 27 deaths.

India May Go Communistic

Five-Year Plan Failure Would Change Country, Britisher Says

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — John Strachey, once a member of Britain's Labor government, says he sees a possibility of India turning Communist if the second five-year plan fails.

* * *

Strachey, who spent several months here as a guest of the semiofficial Indian Statistical Institute, discussed the 15-billion-dollar development scheme in a note to the government's planning commission.

He said India was well on the road to industrialization and would become, in 15 years or so, an industrialized country with "a predominantly Socialist community."

The big question, he added, is whether India "can preserve her present genuinely democratic institutions and climate of opinion" during this process of industrialization.

* * *

"In other words," he continued, "the consequences of a failure or breakdown in the present second five-year plan would be by no means a return to private capitalism, but a transformation of India into some form of totalitarian or dictatorial community, presumably of a communistic character."

The Japanese cement industry now ranks fifth in the world. Postwar recovery has brought the industry's volume far past the prewar level.

Conventions Brighten the Lives of Prisoners

Boys at Alcatraz Are Still Talking Politics

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—On Alcatraz, that little rock hideaway from which there is rare return, the boys are still talking politics.

* * *

The convention noise has hushed away in San Francisco, to make room for business-as-usual sounds. But on "The Rock" it's different, due to the fact that the usual business here is scarcely worth discussing.

The 300 prisoners on Alcatraz listened to every babble of the Democratic and Republican conclaves through their headset radios in their cells and, according to the warden who watches over their slim recreational activities, "enjoyed it immensely."

"They thought the Republican meeting was a little dull," Warden Paul Madigan said, "but they reacted favorably to Eisenhower's speech.

"I didn't see anybody working himself up to the point of cheering, as they sometimes do for big fights and certain ball games (Alcatraz is basically for the Brooklyn Dodgers), but they were obviously pleased. Not that anybody here is thinking of becoming active in politics—but it was an interesting special event."

LOOKS HEAVENLY

Alcatraz looks, from the hills of San Francisco, like a delightful island paradise by day and like a fog-veiled luxury liner by night.

It is none of those things. When a man takes the 13-minute voyage from mainland to The Rock, he knows he is headed for the Devil's Island of America—an inescapable prison which gives him a small, ironically picturesque view of all the beauties he may not touch again.

"That's why a thing like a political convention or a ball game means more to an Alcatraz man than even, maybe, to a politician," said the warden. "The three hours a day he has to himself, with a radio headset, are solid gold."

Madigan became warden a little more than a year ago, after serving as a lieutenant, captain and assistant warden for years. He was a custodial guard in 1934 when the prison opened, and one of the first prisoners to be held was Al Capone.

* * *

"It was a silent place then," Madigan said. "We had a 'rule of silence,' and under that rule no prisoner was permitted to talk in the dining hall, the corridors or his cell.

"But now life is more humane. We've had this radio setup for a year now, and men go along with it. You couldn't say they're grateful, but they listen, and sometimes with enthusiasm."

STILL THE TOUGHEST

Despite the relaxing of rules, Madigan points out that it is still "the nation's toughest and No. 1 security prison."

* * *

One traditional male habit has never been successfully squelched at Alcatraz, even in the old silent days when a whisper was the extent to which a man could express himself.

That is gambling. The prisoners use their ration of cigarettes and tobacco to bet on everything from the World Series to the serial numbers on their trays.

Now that the conventions are over and every prisoner is an expert, it's probably eight chaws-to-five on Ike.

2 of 4 Engines Stall, AF Repairs in Midair

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—An Air Force plane with 19 men aboard lost the use of two of its four engines while 450 miles at sea last night, but the damage was repaired in flight.

The engines of the giant Constellation radar plane apparently cut because of a short circuit, a failing, Air Force men said, which was repaired from within the plane.

A Coast Guard plane had been dispatched from Quonset Point Naval Air Station to escort the disabled craft to this base, but it was learned en route that the stalled engines had been restarted.

The Air Force plane, which was on a routine patrol, landed safely.

51 County 4-H Clubbers Off to State Show at MSU

Fifty-one Oakland County boys and girls left today for East Lansing to compete in the 41st 4-H Show today through Friday on the Michigan State University campus.

* * *

Some 2,000 club members from all 83 Michigan counties will enter exhibits ranging from livestock judging to bread baking demonstrations. Some 4,000 exhibits will fill five campus buildings.

The Oakland County representatives were chosen at the 4-H Spring Achievement Day held earlier this year and at the recent Oakland County 4-H Fair. They will contribute 100 entries to the state show.

Prizes totaling nearly $28,000 will be awarded. Prize money was obtained from 4-H funds.

During their stay on the campus, the boys and girls will be housed in Shaw Hall. Evening programs of 4-H talent will be held there. Thursday evening will be highlighted by the 4-H Dress Review. Girls will model clothes they have made.

The exhibits and evening programs are free to the public.

Exhibits in the MSU Auditorium and Demonstration Hall will be held through Thursday. Friday, livestock judging will be held.

Navy Plane Kills Tot, 3 Aboard

Bomber Levels Houses; Child Burns to Death, Parents, Brother Hurt

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Four persons including a 3-year-old child died when a two-engine Navy attack bomber plowed into two houses three blocks from a landing field yesterday.

Sue Lowe, the child, was burned to death on the porch of the wrecked home where she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lowe. The Lowes and their son, David, 4, were hospitalized with severe burns.

The three-man crew of the bomber also died in the crash and fire that followed.

The Navy identified them as the pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Ozni Donald Hall, 34, of Sanford; Lt. (jg) Gerald Michael O'Hara, 28, of Somerville, Mass., and William Valentine Swigonski, 35, aviation electronics technician, first class, of Sanford.

The plane first demolished the home of W. B. Brown, a former Navy chief petty officer, then caromed into the Lowe home.

Brown said he went to the back door of his home when he heard the plane apparently in trouble. When it struck he was blown into the carport. He was uninjured.

Sentenced for Killing

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Lorraine Gage, 53, who pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the stabbing of her husband, Loundy, 43, was sentenced to 10 to 20 years in prison Monday. Recorder's Judge Gerald W. Graot passed sentence after hearing the woman say she attacked her husband while he slept. She said she argued with Gage over money matteds and was afraid he would beat her.

Michigan Building Down

Use the Doorbell:

Salina Sales Hit by No-Knock Law

By RENE J. CAPPON

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Changing times and stiffening competition have caused some Salina businessmen to take a second look at the town's "Do Not Disturb" ordinance.

* * *

The law was enacted some nine years ago and prohibits peddlers and salesmen from pounding on residents' doors without permission. (It doesn't say how to get permission without knocking first.)

Passage of the ordinance caused little controversy. John Cranor, manager of the Salina Chamber of Commerce, said it was aimed primarily at a postwar epidemic of "gimmick" salesmen and shady door-to-door types.

* * *

But as business got back to normal Cranor said today, some local firms found themselves hamstrung.

In particular, the anti-knock decree has annoyed reputable appliance and automobile salesmen. The latter, especially, have felt the need to go flitting house to house seeking prospects.

Flitting doesn't help much when you can't knock.

The ordinance, which provides penalties up to $100 was dormant until it received extensive local publicity recently.

* * *

A Saline salesman knocked at the door of a lady who happened to be a competitor's wife and knew her legal P's and Q's.

The upshot was a visit to the police station. Cranor said it "humiliated and embarrassed" the salesman.

Salinans had been oblivious to the ordinance until then, Cranor added, but the case perked them up and "now many are standing on their rights."

"It has a restrictive effect on local business in these highly competitive days," Cranor said. "That's why the chamber would like to see it repealed — or at least have the ordinance modified to allow soliciting by local businessmen."

* * *

But Mayor Albert Hawks said the city commission has studied the matter extensively and hasn't found an adequate alternative. The no-knock law is likely to stay put.

* * *

The ordinance was patterned after a law pioneered in Green River, Wyo., in 1931. Green River is a railroad town, and the legislation was intended to protect the sleep of railroaders working at night.

Green River is still happy with the law, Town Clerk J. M. Miller says.

Keep Bicycles in Top Shape

Club Compiles Helpful Figures to Guide Many in Care of 2-Wheeler

NEW YORK — With over 23,000,000 adults and youngsters currently in the ranks of cycling fans, the Bicycle Institute of America has compiled helpful statistics to guide those millions in caring for their two-wheelers.

The survey, which covered 5,000 riders in all parts of the country, cites repair figures to gauge which bike parts need closest attention. The report shows that tires and wheels should be closely checked for maximum safety and riding ease. Brakes should also be carefully cared for, along with the chain drive, pedals and the frame of the bike.

These parts are the ones that take the most stress and strain in the course of normal riding. However, the survey also reflected the great durability built into American-made bikes. Of the 5,000 respondents, over 50 per cent reported that they had to repair their bikes only once in the course of an entire year's riding. Only a small percentage of the two-wheelers went in for repairs more than twice during the year.

Bicycle Institute experts also pointed out that correct maintenance can help avoid any serious trouble. They recommended that the bike be given a thorough checkup at least once a month. Tires and wheel spokes should be carefully examined at the start of each trip. These simple precautions, requiring only a few minutes' work, can add to the life of the bicycle.

One innovation noted by the Institute is the rise of "maintenance parties" among youngsters. A group of boys and girls pool manpower, tools and mechanical ability in a morning devoted to putting everyone's two-wheeler in top condition. This party means safer, smoother riding, as well as greater reductions in the need for major repairs.

Beaton Stresses the 'Fair Lady' Look

Crepe and satin are combined for 1912 flavor in an evening dress designed by Cecil Beaton in collaboration with Roxane for Samuel Winston's fall collection. The cafe au lait cut velvet brocaded satin sheath has a matching crepe peg-top overskirt and draped shoulder panels drifting free in back.

Cecil Beaton, the Britisher who put the fashion world in a "Fair Lady" mood, and who surprised even himself by adding the sixth facet of dress designer to a career which already included fame as a photographer, painter, author, lecturer and stage designer, has put the essence of his love of the candy-box beauty era of 1912 into the collection he derived from his "My Fair Lady" costumes for the modern fashion collection of Samuel Winston.

* * *

Collaborating with Roxane, the brilliant Winston designer (who was already deep in her own interpretation of the period before she met Mr. Beaton), Cecil Beaton planned the 12 "Beaton originals" which out-glamour their most glamorous imitations in countless other New York collections.

Using the same thin, supple satins, pastel chiffons and lush bouquets which load the lovely ladies in the embassy ball scene of "My Fair Lady," the artist and the professional fashion designer blended 1912 and 1956 in a way that is sure to make its own notch in fashion history.

The Beaton collection includes:

A short evening dress of two layers of lace—one layer pale yellow, one pale green—laid over mauve satin. Bodice has curved diagonal neckline and one shoulder covered with a mauve satin sash that passes through a matching satin cummberbund, and extends almost to the hem. Sash drape is edged in mauve fringe. Slim wrap-around skirt.

* * *

A slim dinner dress with bloused top knee-length tunic made of two layers of lace, one mauve and one green, over a slim mauve satin sheath. Bodice of tunic has three-quarter-length sleeves, deep V neckline and a high wrapped cummerbund of warp printed taffeta—shades of yellow, green, blue and splashes of pink used in the print.

A tiered evening dress of gray Alencon lace re-embroidered in silver over mauve satin. A high midriff extends from waistline to bustline and is molded in layers of mauve, pink, light blue and orange chiffon. Narrow bust section is made of pink chiffon beaded with minute silver beads, and has wide triangular straps of the same gray and silver lace as in the skirt.

A slim, full-length evening dress of cafe au lait satin with beige, green, purple and yellow flowers. Matching beige crepe forms a draped peg-topped overskirt and two drapes starting at satin cummerbund in front and extending over each shoulder to fall free in back.

* * *

An evening dress combining silk crepe with chiffon and lace. A slim black silk crepe skirt is accented with yellow, coral and mauve chiffon spiraling to a re-embroidered lace bodice, and falling into a floor-length floating drape in back.

A full-length evening dress composed of a slim mauve satin sheath and a knee-length tunic of two layers of lace—yellow and pink over a layer of brown net. A high mauve satin cummerbund extends up to a bodice band of green velvet. The bodice has narrow satin straps and a cluster of purple flowers on one shoulder.

A short evening dress in satin and cut velvet. A gold overskirt with a floral motif in cut velvet is worn over a white satin sheath. The high surplice bodice is wrapped with a wide black sash ending in a large bow.

* * *

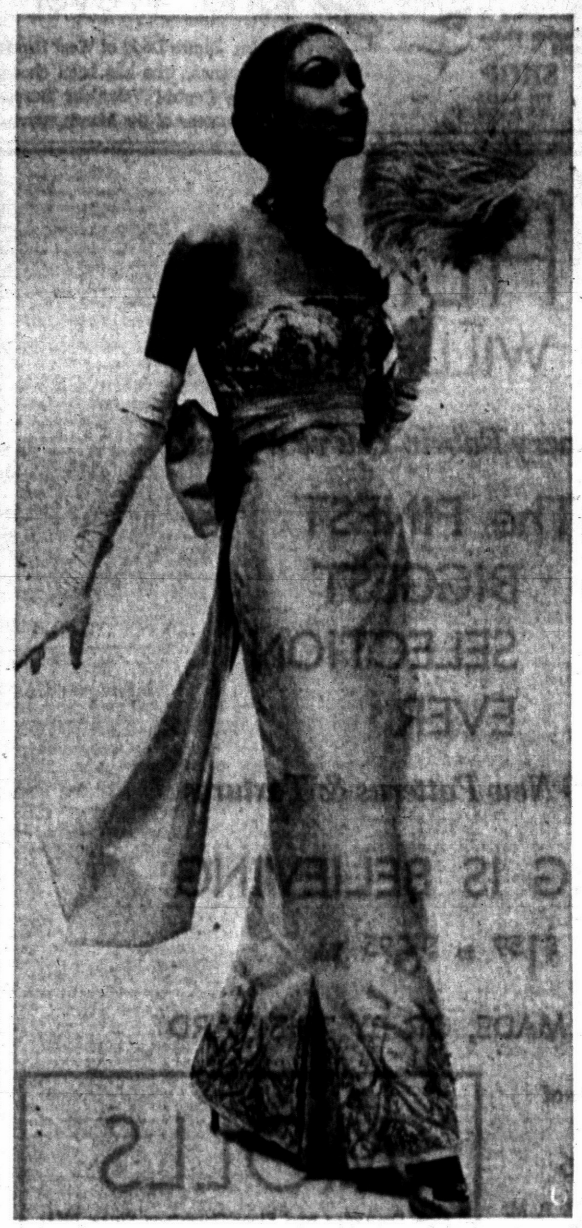

An evening dress combining satin with velvet lace. The white satin skirt with low fullness is topped by black velvet lace in a tunic effect. The white and black velvet lace bodice is wrapped with a coral cummerbund sash ending in an enormous back bow.

* * *

A strapless evening dress of re-embroidered pink nylon net. Multi-colored net panels at either side of the skirt fall from an empire waist wrapped in pink satin. Drama is added with a matching net stole.

Cecil Beaton designed this evening dress for Samuel Winston in collaboration with Roxane. The tiered evening dress in gray Alencon lace, re-embroidered in silver over mauve satin, has a high midriff molded in layers of mauve, pink, blue and orange chiffon.

Elegance of 1912 is captured in this rhinestone-embroidered blue taffeta evening sheath designed by Roxane for Samuel Winston's fall 1956 collection. A high-rise sash ends in a large back bow with floating streamers. Slits at the hemline reveal tiny chiffon pleats.

Picnic Meeting Held by Booster Class

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blevins were hosts to 23 members of the Booster Class of First Methodist Church for a picnic and meeting at their home on Berkshire road Saturday.

Mrs. Perc Parsons gave devotions, using "Prayer" as her subject.

Following the meeting, members enjoyed colored slides of Florida and other points of interest taken by Mr. Blevins on their recent trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John Seator will entertain the group at their home in Drayton Plains for the Sept. 22 meeting.

PTA Activities

Executive Board of Hawthorne PTA will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the school library.

Executive board of Emerson School PTA will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Curtis, 701 Kenilworth Ave.

Supper and Shower Held for Dorothy Ann Cadieux

Mrs. Howard Powers entertained at a buffet supper and bathroom shower Sunday evening in her home on Cherokee road. Mrs. Carl Donelson was cohostess for the affair honoring bride-elect Dorothy Ann Cadieux.

Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cadieux of Berkley avenue, and Max A. Evans will exchange vows in Bethany Baptist Church on Sept. 8. Max is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Evans of South Johnson avenue.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal attendants. Mrs. Robert Martin will serve as matron of honor.

The other attendants include Mrs. Edward Trancik of Ann Arbor, Mrs. William Brown of Royal Oak, Mary Ann Martyn who will be the junior bridesmaid and Kathy Brown, flower girl.

* * *

Max has asked William Price to serve as best man. Ushers include John LaMonte, William Nixon, Warren Stout and Fred Foss.

SHOWER GUESTS

Guests attending the shower were Mrs. Cadieux, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mrs. Elmer Hibler, Mrs. Otto Martyn, Pat Donelson, Mrs. Sofron Metes, Mrs. Richard Carl, Mrs. Fred Steinbaugh, Mrs. Harry Killian and Lucille Harris.

At a meeting held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Terry, council president, committees were appointed. Mrs. Clarence Gordon and Betty Bryan, representing XI Alpha Nu Chapter, will serve as cochairmen.

Tickets are being handled by Mrs. Murl Dodge of Alpha Omega Chapter, Mrs. Dallas Nelson of Zeta Lambda Chapter, Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth of Epsilon Rho Chapter and Jean Warnock of XI Pi Chapter.

Serving on the telephone committee are Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Constance Benson and Mrs. Park Buchner. Mrs. Byron Barnes and Mrs. Martin Barnhart will supervise ushering.

* * *

Mrs. Terry will arrange for models while Mrs. Gordon and Miss Bryan arrange for prizes. Publicity for the show will be handled by Mrs. Walter Hiller and Mrs. John Whitehead.

MR. and MRS. PAUL BERSCHE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bersche were married Friday evening at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. The bride is the former Carolyn Brill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Brill of Lake Orion. Paul's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. G. J. Bersche of North Cass Lake road.

Father of the Bridegroom Officiates at Church Rite

The Rev. G. J. Bersche of Christian and Missionary Alliance Church was the officiating clergyman at the marriage of his son, Paul Bersche, to Carolyn Brill Friday evening at the church.

* * *

The 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony was witnessed by 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Brill of Lake Orion, and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Bersche of North Cass Lake road are parents of the bridegroom.

A mandarin collar accented the lace bodice of the bridal gown which also featured long sleeves coming to points at the wrists. A chapel train extended from her floor-length skirt of tulle over satin. The train was fashioned with tiers of lace down the middle panel.

* * *

The bride's Juliet cap was trimmed with rhinestones, and the lace of the bridal gown was repeated in the edging of the fingertip veil of illusion. She carried white Fugi chrysanthemums and ivy.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Carol Corbey of Camp Hill, Pa., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Julia Osterlucky of Buffalo, N.Y., and Barbara Bersche. Elaine Mulitor of Royal Oak was junior bridesmaid.

* * *

They wore princess-style, ballerina-length gowns of crystalette in aqua for the bridesmaids and peacock blue for the maid of honor and junior bridesmaid. They carried cascade bouquets of daisies.

John Bersche was his brother's best man. Vincent Brill, Joe Bersche and Jim Bersche served as groomsmen, with Mark Rorabaugh and Bernard Wright as ushers.

A reception was held at the parsonage immediately after the ceremony. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Brill wore a pink and navy blue faille suit with navy accessories and a corsage of white roses and blue feathered carnations.

* * *

Mrs. Bersche chose a brown dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

When the newlyweds left on their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Bersche was wearing a light blue nylon acetate dress with white accessories and a corsage of chrysanthemums.

They will make their home in Nyack, N.Y., where Paul will continue his studies for the ministry at the Nyack Missionary College.

Elvis Just 'The Kid' on Movie Set

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Elvis Presley may be "Mr. Wonderful" to his fans, and "Mr. Pelvis" to his detractors, but on the set of his first movie the swing-hipped singing star is just "the kid."

"The kid's good, he's got a good, natural quality," said Robert Webb, who is directing Elvis, Richard Egan and Debra Paget in "The Reno Brothers." Webb's voice has the relieved surprise of a man with a reprieve.

* * *

The boy who combines country music with rock 'n' roll has one trait said to be of use to singers—humility.

Anybody on the set he didn't call "sir" he called "ma'am." He was obviously nervous, walking restlessly about the set, talking to Debra Paget's mother or to his cousin and "Boy Friday," Gene Smith.

"I'm real nervous but I enjoy it," said Elvis, explaining that he had never before acted, not even in a high school production.

* * *

"They gave me a screen test," the 21-year-old ex-truck driver said. "I didn't know I would ever get a screen test. It's a challenge and I know I'm going to enjoy acting if I can just do good at it."

The first Elvis Presley picture takes place in Civil War days. Elvis, too young to join the Confederate Army, stays home and eventually marries his brother's best girl, after brother has been reported dead.

But brother, Richard Egan, is very much alive, returns from the wars, and from there a sticky situation develops.

Presley fans may be disappointed—and their parents delighted—to learn that the boy who drives 'em wild will sing only three songs in the picture, and those are to be folk tunes.

WANTED STRAIGHT ACTING

"I didn't want to sing at all," Elvis drawled. "Not that I don't love singing. I wanted to do straight acting but they thought it was a good idea for me to sing.

"The singing is something else. I don't think I would ever give up my records as long as people like them."

Elvis yawned wearily, explaining that he was worn out from the 8:30 a. m. call to the studio, something TV and night club performers aren't used to, and from the strain of hard work he wasn't used to.

COULDN'T SLEEP

"I didn't get much sleep last night," he said, "I can't sleep at night. I'm very nervous, I guess."

When it comes to the criticism "the kid" has received from some sections of the press and public, Presley said philosophically:

"There's nothing I can do about it. Those people have a job to do and they do it."

But he is currently quite disturbed about one section of a story in a national magazine which quoted a minister as doubting Presley's religious faith.

"That kind of troubled me—the part about the preacher saying that about me," Presley said.

Pair Feted Preceding Marriage

Ann Strong to Wed Charles Hutchins on Saturday

Ann Strong and Charles Hutchins, who will be married Saturday at All Saints Episcopal Church, will be feted at a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leitch Jr. of Birmingham Wednesday.

Susan Strong will give the spinster luncheon for her sister at their home near Oxford. Mrs. C. Sanborn Hutchins, mother of the prospective bridegroom, will be hostess to the bridal party for the rehearsal dinner at Pine Lake Country Club Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Strong of Oxford and Mrs. Hutchins of Long Lake road are parents of the young couple.

Ann was previously feted at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Harold A. Furlong and Mrs. George K. Zimmerman at the Zimmerman home on Ottawa drive.

She was also the honoree at a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. Bob Parr of Metamora and a miscellaneous shower held at the Cass Lake home of Mrs. Thomas H. Nicholson, with Mrs. Robert MacKensie of Grosse Pointe as cohostess.

GERALDINE MARY JOHNSON

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Johnson of Rochester announce the engagement of their daughter, Geraldine Mary, to James S. Arnold. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Arnold of Opdyke road. No date has been set for the wedding.

Translate for Sitter

As soon as baby learns how to indicate his needs or wants verbally, it's well to tell any baby-sitter what the phrases mean.

"Boo" may make perfect sense to the family, but to a stranger it's more likely to mean a game than a call for the bathroom.

Nancy Gray Honor Guest at Shower

Helen Kausch Is Hostess for Party at Devon Gables

An arrangement of pink roses and fern centered the luncheon table at the luncheon and gadget shower given Saturday at Devon Gables in honor of Nancy Gray. Helen Kausch was hostess for the affair.

* * *

Nancy, daughter of Mrs. Moffat A. Gray of Lake Angelus, will become the bride of Richard Fox Euler on Sept. 13 at the North Congregational Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Euler of Ottawa drive.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal attendants. Mrs. William Kester will be matron of honor. Her other attendants include Carol Tuttle, Diane Euler and Josephine Przybylski of Wyandotte.

Richard has asked his father, Harold B. Euler, to serve as best man. Ushers will be Brooke Bennett, Charles Wixom, Lewis Wint, Smith Falconer Jr., Verne C. Hampton II, and Richard Fitzgerald.

* * *

Attending the Saturday luncheon and shower were Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Euler, Miss Euler, Mrs. E. Arden Pryce of Grand Rapids, Jean Butler, Miss Tuttle, Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy and Mrs. Edgar Bennett of Birmingham.

Also attending were Judy Kausch of Birmingham, Gail Lewis, Mrs. Lawrence Heitsch of Lake Orion, Mrs. Kester, Ann Ward, Laura Grinnell of Lansing, Miss Przybylski of Wyandotte, Barbara Hagan of Birmingham and Mrs. Richard Doyle.

Mrs. James Dodd Named 'Volunteer of the Month'

Serves Camp Fire Girls and Wever School PTA

Mrs. James Dodd of West Brooklyn avenue, who has been chosen by the Central Volunteer Bureau as Volunteer of the Month, started her community service career by volunteering at a PTA meeting about three years ago.

The PTA of Wever School, where Mrs. Dodd's two children, Jean, 10, and Jimmie, 6, are enrolled, needed a youth chairman. "There isn't very much to it," she was told, "and all the information you need is in this little booklet."

The little booklet pointed out that now Mrs. Dodd was the liaison person between all the youth groups in the city and her PTA. As such she was to secure leaders and help organize groups.

And then she put herself in another position—if her daughter were to participate in one of these activities, surely she herself should be helping with that one.

* * *

Mrs. Phyllis Zamorski, field director of the Camp Fire Girls, says that Mrs. Dodd has done the ideal job as a key person in their extension program.

Perhaps it is Mrs. Dodd's own philosophy that has made her so successful in this position. She believes that new people often feel that they are not wanted because they are not asked and they go away never to return.

She remedies this condition by asking them to help her in the youth programs.

* * *

This year she will be serving the Pontiac PTA Council as youth chairman.

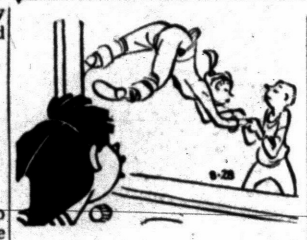

Mr. Dodd is a carpenter with Cunningham - Limp Construction Company of Detroit. The family attends the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church were Mrs. Dodd conducts a Sunday School class.

All the social service organizations of the Pontiac-Birmingham-Waterford area are stepping up the tempo of their activities, getting ready for their fall programs.

All are in need of volunteers to make this program successful. The CVB has set September as recruitment month to help fill these needs.

Mrs. James A. Dodd, leader of a Camp Fire Girl troop, fills out some of the all-important record sheets for her new troop. Assisting her are two of her fledgling Camp Fire girls, Jean Dodd (center) and Marie Pawley who have just "flown up" from the Blue Birds. Mrs. Dodd, who lives on West Brooklyn avenue, has been named "Volunteer of the Month" by the Central Volunteer Bureau. Mrs. Keith Pawley of West Walton boulevard is her assistant troop leader.

Jitterbugging is one art that has developed by leaps and bounds.

Cate Home Scene of Shower for Dorothy Cadieux

Dorothy Cadieux was the honoree at a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday evening, given by Mrs. Harold L. Cate and Mrs. Richard L. Corl, at the Cate home on West Huron street.

Dorothy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cadieux of Berkley drive, will marry Max Evans, Sept. 8 at Bethany Baptist Church. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Evans of South Johnson avenue.

Invited guests were Mrs. Cadieux, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. William Martyn, Mrs. Carl Donelson, Pat Donelson, Mrs. Howard Powers and Mrs. Ogle Gough.

Others were Mrs. Richard Ervin, Mrs. Roy Wright, Mrs. Clark Elwood of Traverse City, Mrs. James Walker of Flint, Mrs. Fred Brede, Mrs. Clarence Stolpe, Mrs. William Hibler and Mrs. Sofron Metes.

Automatic Dryers Show Big Increase

According to a recent report the most rapidly growing appliance in today's market is the automatic dryer.

Production of dryers in 1955 increased over 50 per cent above 1954 figures, and in 1956 total volume is expected to increase again by two million units.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT E. DENHAM

Beverly Jean Kent Wed in Central Methodist Rite

Bouquets of white gladioli and carnations decorated the altar of Central Methodist Church Saturday morning for the wedding of Beverly Jean Kent and Robert E. Denham.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nell Lehman of East boulevard, and Robert's parents are the Bert Denhams of Elsinore drive.

For the 11 o'clock service performed by the Rev. Calvin C. Rice, the bride wore a blue organdy ballerina-length gown and a headpiece of white carnations.

Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Eugene Carr.

Katherine McClelland was her only attendant. She wore a gray dress with a white carnation headpiece and carried pink carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Ronald Pearshall of Drayton Plains was best man. James Magner and Donald Sweet seated the guests.

* * *

Mrs. Lehman greeted her guests at the reception in the church parlors wearing a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Denham wore a beige lace dress with blue accessories. Her flowers were also red roses.

* * *

When the newlyweds left on their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the bride had changed to a pink dress with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

* * *

Business Invitations Are Problem

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "Our company is giving a large dinner for one of the executives who is retiring in several months. Invitations are to be sent to many business friends with whom he has been associated these many years. We would like also to include their wives.

"Herein lies our problem: We do not know the home addresses of many of those being invited, and it would be a tremendous task to look them all up.

"We were wondering if it would be proper to address these invitations to Mr. and Mrs. and send them to the business address?"

Answer: It would be quite all right, under the circumstances, to send the invitations to the business address.

However, I would suggest using two envelopes as is done with wedding invitations and addressing the outside envelope to Mr. John Jones followed by his business address and then write Mr. and Mrs. Jones on the inside envelope indicating that his wife is invited too.

THYRA KIMMEL

Mr. and Mrs. George Kimmel of North Perry street announce the engagement of their daughter, Thyra, to Richard Lorimer of Holly. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lorimer of Lupton. A November wedding is planned.

Joyce Steinback Speaks Vows Before 200 Guests

Arrangements of white flowers decorated the altar of St. Trinity Lutheran Church for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Joyce Elaine Steinback and Melvin W. Peters.

* * *

The Rev. Ralph C. Claus performed the 4:30 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aynard Steinback of Elizabeth Lake avenue. Melvin is the son of Mrs. Lillian Peters of Rochester.

The bride, who designed and made her own wedding costume, wore a ballerina-length embroidered sateen gown fashioned with an empire jacket. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fastened to a jeweled hat, and she carried white glamellias on a white Bible.

* * *

Glenna Swan was the bride's maid of honor and Barbara Frasa served as bridesmaid. Both were gowned in light blue taffeta gowns fashioned like the bride's. They wore small jeweled hats and carried arrangements of blue delphinium on fans.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Charles Race of Royal Oak was best man. Seating the guests were Norman Roggow of Royal Oak and George Miller of Wayne.

* * *

At the garden reception held at the home of the bride's parents Mrs. Steinback greeted her guests wearing a Copenhagen blue dress with shell pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Peters chose a dress of dusty rose crepe with a matching lace jacket for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Chester Frasa assisted at the reception.

* * *

The bride is a graduate of Eastern Michigan College and the bridegroom was graduated from Central Michigan College. They will reside in Berkley.

Be Confident; Count Special Abilities

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The old saying goes: "Never underestimate the power of a woman."

But, unfortunately, I have found, it is women themselves who underestimate their own powers.

The woman who says that she is "just a housewife" when she actually may handle some of her jobs with really remarkable skill is underestimating her own effectiveness and the effectiveness of women as a whole.

I discussed this recently with some charming women in Mt. Vernon, New York, who did a survey called Woman Power and Community Resources.

* * *

MADE SURVEY

They made a door-to-door survey of 100 women. The following incident was typical of their experience.

The woman of the house usually answered the door. When she was asked, "Is there anything you would like to do—any skill or accomplishment you would like to put to work?" the answer invariably was "No."

In one case, the interviewer chatted with the lady in question and discovered that she was quite fond of practical nursing, that she had once taken the required course and had worked at it with considerable success and might one day resume it. An entry was made to this effect.

NOTICED PLANTS

As she was leaving, the interviewer noticed all the window sills were full of flourishing plants and commented on it.

The lady casually agreed that she did seem to have a green thumb, had good luck in starting any kind of plant and was quite skillful with arrangements. This fact was also duly noted by the researcher.

MADE LINEN

Then the lady added as an afterthought that she made quite nice table linens. The linens, were, indeed, most attractive and unusual.

Here was a woman who had three specific salable skills which she completely discounted in describing herself as "just a housewife" with nothing much on the ball.

Remember, people do tend to take us at our own evaluation.

Ram Gas Truck, 3 Cremated

Driver Flips Lit Match, Blaze Traps 2 Bodies Inside Wreckage

TOOLEE, Utah (AP) — Three men died in the crash of their car with a gasoline tank truck last night at a highway junction nine miles north of here.

* * *

Officers said an unknown passing motorist tossed a lighted match onto spilled gasoline before two of the bodies could be extricated. The resulting blaze cremated the bodies and took 2½ hours to bring under control.

It was several hours before the Utah Highway Patrol could issue a tentative identification of the dead. The three, all Salt Lake City men, were listed as Lee Loy Park, owner of the car, Tommy Lau and Lau Chin, ages unknown.

* * *

Highway Patrolman Howard Cooper said one body had been removed from the car and officers were waiting for acetylene torch equipment to free the other dead when the wreckage was set ablaze. He said all three were killed in the crash.

Glen Townsend, 28, Salt Lake City, driver of the truck, was not seriously hurt.

Police Should Follow Burglar's Footsteps

DENVER (AP) — Police have a unique clue to the identity of a burglar who failed in a try to loot a garage last weekend.

More Watchers Mean Faster Warnings

Help Sought for Tornado Alert Net

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands more volunteers are needed to help the weather bureau fight man's worst storm enemy—the tornado.

* * *

The bureau says its rapidly growing warning system is helping save thousand of lives each year. But more equipment and volunteers are needed to give quick alerts of conditions leading to tornadoes and their approach, a spokesman said.

He said a concentrated attack on the problem of advance warnings began in 1954. The bureau expects to spend several hundred thousand dollars on the system and in research to determine, if possible, what causes the vicious storms.

By the time the tornado season begins next spring, he said, more equipment for weather forecasting and quick warnings will be in use.

DATA NOT READY YET

Results of the 1955 research have not yet been completely assembled. When these are evaluated, the weathermen may know more.

Besides expanding its teletypewriter warning hookup, the bureau this year has data collected by a pilot who flew into suspicious areas to make observations.

Flights cannot be made into the path of a tornado as they are into hurricanes because the winds are more violent, the spokesman said. Nobody knows the speeds of the counterclockwise winds rotating about the tornado funnel. But estimates place them at up to 400 m.p.h.

* * *

The funnels rang from a few feet to 400 or more feet wide and their forward speeds vary from 5 to 40 m.p.h.

The weather spokesman said the pilot of the plane flew to suspicious areas and recorded observations with high speed cameras and various instruments. These recordings are expected to be of great value in determining what conditions spawn tornadoes.

The bureau also has installed simplified new equipment so local observers can warn of air pressure jumps in areas where clouds are gathering.

NOT ALWAYS A SIGN

All pressure jumps are not followed by tornadoes but tornadoes do come after such increases.

This information is relayed to weather stations where observers can add it to other data. More observations mean greater accuracy in forecasting. That is why more observers are needed.

If tornadoes actually dip to the ground and the funnels are seen at a distance, observers can give weathermen a chance to get warnings out to the public.

* * *

Radar units also are being used in growing numbers by weather stations to observe cloud formations that breed tornadoes. More of these will be ready next year.

The tornado season begins in March. Twisters come in May and June. The low season is from September through February.

The world's most favorable area for tornado formation is east of the Rocky Mountains. This tornado belt runs from Texas and Oklahoma northward to Iowa, with Kansas averaging the most tornadoes yearly. It is in this area that the bureau is concentrating its warning system. But other areas are not being overlooked, the bureau said.

Elms Free of Disease

GM Shows Probers Why Horsepower Is Up

Pontiac Press Photos

FACT-FINDERS — An exhibit of how the General Motors door lock has evolved through the years comes under the scrutiny of a sub-committee of U. S. Congressmen who toured the GM Proving Grounds near Milford yesterday as part of an investigation into highway deaths. Left to right: Rep. Don Hayworth (D-Mich), who accompanied the group as an observer; Rep. Samuel N. Friedel (D-Md); Rep. Paul F. Schenck (R-Ohio); Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), chairman; and Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of engineering. The group was appointed by the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

Congressmen Visit Milford, Seek to Curb Auto Deaths

Increasing emphasis on auto safety in an age of higher horsepower was dramatized yesterday for six Congressmen who visited the General Motors Proving Grounds near Milford during a fact-finding tour.

The legislators, five of whom make up a special House subcommittee, listened to accounts of GM research and progress, and later viewed demonstrations of safety devices under emergency road conditions at the huge installation.

Headed by Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), the group was appointed by the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee to recommend ways to cut down the mounting death toll on U.S. highways.

Yesterday's series of lectures and demonstrations was conducted by Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of engineering, who outlined GM safety activities before the subcommittee and representatives of other major auto firms.

* * *

Reviewing the evolution of GM safey features, Chayne told the lawmakers, "Any vehicle to be acceptable by today's standards must be functionally safe."

He added that mechanical failures in today's motor vehicles are rare, because of modern laboratory testing techniques, road tests, production inspection procedures and quality control.

Chayne said the reason for higher horsepower in today's cars "is that it makes them safer to drive." The advantages of increased power, he said, lies in the motor's ability to accelerate rapidly when passing and in better response to the operator's commands.

PASS IN A HURRY

"With thousands of miles of two-lane highways—only one lane in each direction — good accelerating ability at the average highway driving speed reduces the time to pass around heavily loaded vehicles," Chayne pointed out.

Other advantages of more power are increased ability to enter expressways easily, climb hills and mountains and cross intersections where there are no traffic control lights, he said.

He pointed out, however, top speeds have not gone much higher despite the steady advance in horsepower ratings since 1941.

* * *

Other items covered in the two-hour meeting were GM's six-way adjustable seats, windshield wipers and washers, directional signals, headlamps, automatic transmissions and power assists—each of which have contributed to safer driving, according to Chayne.

Rep. Samuel N. Friedel (D-Md) commented during Chayne's address that car manufacturers should be criticized for not making optional safety items standard equipment.

Chayne replied that public appeal largely determines standard equipment and carmakers must consider the "competitive price factors" of such extras.

REAR WIPERS OUT

For example, Chayne pointed out, rear window wipers have been practically taken off the accessory market despite the fact that they are a proven safety device.

MORE

Noting that governors have been proposed as safety devices, Chayne said they would control maximum speeds but would limit safe vehicle performance.

* * *

"Persons favoring governors simply don't know that such devices, if they are to limit speed, will at some point limit the normal acceleration to zero. This introduces a sudden . . . change in the response of the accelerator control which presents hazards far greater than operating in excess of legal speeds," Chayne observed.

Outlining GM progress in front end design, Chayne said, "It might be an excellent idea to have the bumper fail under high impact loads to absorb as much energy as possible, thereby relieving the passengers of the high deceleration that accompanies severe impact."

The vice president displayed a series of charts and slides on the advantages of seat belts. "But they are not a cure-all," Chayne said, although he pointed out that the devices provide some protection in certain types of accidents.

LOCKS SINCE '55

He said General Motors introduced the safety doorlock into its cars early in the 1955 model run.

After the subcommittee adjourned its morning session, members were driven to proving areas for demonstrations of existing and proposed GM safety devices.

Among the displays was an example of a seating arrangement in which all passengers except the driver face rearward. Chayne earlier had observed that the plan would be impracticable because it would block the driver's visibility forward and to the right.

* * *

A similar conclusion by GM experts was illustrated in a display of highbacked seats.

The legislators also viewed crash demonstrations and scientific tests on the structural aspects of the car in regard to safety.

Early in the outline, Chairman Roberts suggested adoption of a uniform accident reporting system to aid lawmakers and manufacturers in their efforts to reduce highway accidents.

The group is scheduled to spend today at the GM Technical Center for further studies. The five members will visit the Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. later this week.

Sees Safety Progress

Congressman Impressed by GM Milford Test Area

"Very impressive," said Chairman Kenneth A. Roberts yesterday afternoon after he and his House subcommittee finished a day-long tour of General Motors huge Milford Proving Grounds.

* * *

"It's obvious that the corporation has done considerable work on the problem of safety," he said. "But I don't think it's satisfied—and that's the way it should be."

Rep. Roberts had just completed an inspection of GM's "safety quiz board" in which viewers are given their choice of answers on a series of questions about safety.

Roberts stated the subcommittee will complete its studies into car industry safety methods this week and head back to Washington where it will report its findings to the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.

MEETS LAWYERS

Before visiting General Motors, the group had met with officials of the American Bar Assn., the National Safety Council and various law-enforcement officers.

Aim of the trip, he said, is to find out ways to reduce the number of traffic deaths in the country.

Roberts said the group will correlate data received from GM with that from other major auto firms as part of its report.

The resolution calling for the study was introduced into the House in March by Roberts.

"I haven't reached any conclusions yet," Roberts said. "That's up to the full committee. But it has been a most enlightening trip."

STEERING AND VISION—GM Vice President Charles A. Chayne (left) discusses the role of the steering wheel and windshield in safety to Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts during the sub-committee's visit. Later in the day, the group traveled to various proving areas to view the effect of shock and collisions on safety devices carried by General Motors cars. The lawmakers will visit Ford and Chrysler this week.

Reports Boat Stolen From Loon Lake Dock

Leon Hook, of 5089 U.S. 10, Drayton Plains, told State Police his 14-foot boat worth $300 was missing Monday morning at Loon Lake. He said it had been chained to a dock the night before.

Beer Britons Drink Could Float Battleships

LONDON (AP)—The British Brewers Assn. reported proudly today that Britons drank 902 million gallons of beer in 1955. That's enough to float 89 battleships the size of the royal navy's 44,500-ton Vanguard.

The United States, which has three times Britain's population, led the world with a consumption of 2,167,000,000 gallons.

EYE NEW PONTIAC — GM Vice President Charles A. Chayne listens to a question from sub-committee Chairman Roberts as junketing legislators gather around a gleaming new Pontiac. Following an address on GM safety methods in the morning, the group toured the proving grounds' huge exhibition hall. After lunch, the visitors viewed a series of demonstrations of safety devices in emergency road conditions.

MERRY OLDSMOBILE — "They don't make them the way they used to — thank your lucky stars!" Such was one Congressman's reaction to this 1904 Oldsmobile, one of a series of exhibits displayed to the group at the Milford Proving Grounds yesterday. Left to right: Reps. Schenck, Hayworth, Roberts, GM's Chayne, Reps. Walter E. Rogers (D-Tex), John V. Beamer (R-Ind) and Friedel.

THE POWERHOUSE
By Jimmy Powers

One of the insurance experts who advised Robin Roberts and Bob Feller on the new major league pension plan adopted this week at Cincinnati told me:

"I've never seen such a tremendous wave of interest in early retirement. I'm talking about the general public as well as the ball players. This thing has triggered something the way the $64,000 question brought home to people the terrific impact of taxes."

"I'm swamped with requests for information on how to finance a plan for other pro athletes. Everyone wants to get into the act and, can you blame 'em?"

★ ★ ★

The new baseball plan goes into effect next April simultaneously with the new $16,250,000 five-year radio and TV pact covering the World Series and the annual All-Star game.

It covers all players active, inactive and retired since 1947. A five-year man will receive $83 a month for life at the age of 50.

A 10-year man will get $175, a 15-year man $225 and a 20-year man, $275. There are additional benefits, hospitalization, a life insurance policy, disability clauses and other aids to ease the life of a gentleman-athlete who can, if he chooses, go find himself a Shangri-La in Mexico, Spain, the Canary Islands or the Riviera and take advantage of the exchange rates at the age of 50.

A 10-year man will have a gift paid up life insurance policy of $10,000 and all he has to contribute during his playing years is $344 a year.

★ ★ ★

The clubs no longer will be required to make any payments at all. It looks like a good deal all around.

But Jimmy Foxx doesn't think the ceiling has been reached—yet.

"This is chicken feed compared to the retirement programs of some companies and some unions. I am speaking of the relative incomes of the workers contrasted with the heavy take from the World Series."

"It looks like a big fat baseball pot but it has to be divided many ways."

75 Pros Entered in Tourney

150 in Motor City Field

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's touring golf professionals turn to Detroit for the $2,000 Motor City Open when begins Thursday and runs through Sept. 2.

It's a $20,000 bonanza, with the winner getting a crack at $7,000. A hole-in-one pot and a pro-member best-ball tournament carded for the day before the actual competition begins, help boost the purse.

The winner's share is $4,000 and a hole-in-one during the 72-hole medal play will bring an extra $2,500. The winning pro in the pro - member tourney gets $500.

About 75 of the touring pros will help make up the expected field of 150. The tournament is the 6th motor city event, and this one, the biggest of them all, will be played at Western golf and country club.

The course is a comparatively short 6770-yard affair with a par of 72.

This will be Western's first major tournament, and the weekend golfers are anxious to see how the pros fare on the course they call a "nightmare."

A river winds through 14 of the 18 holes and the competitors can find themselves out of bounds on 11 holes. And on eight holes, the river lies on one side of the fairway and an out of bounds on the other.

Still, the pros, with their long and accurate drives, are expected to turn in par-shattering performances in the four-day affair.

* * *

Cary Middlecoff, the Motor City's last winner in 1954, will not compete this year. After winning recently, Middlecoff announced he would take an extended leave from the circuit.

But Jackie Burke, Masters and PGA champion, is expected to be on hand along with Gene Littler, Julius Boros, Bo Wininger, Mike Souchak, Tommy Bolt and fast-rising Dow Finsterwald.

Middlecoff won or shared the Motor City title in thre of the five years it has been up for grabs. Middlecoff shared the crown with Lloyd Mangrum in 1948 in one of golf's most famous playoffs.

The two were all even after regulation play, and took off in a sudden death playoff. But after 11 holes, the tournament still was undecided and darkness made them co-champions.

Middlecoff defeated Ted Kroll in a playoff on the first extra hole in Detroit in 1952 and took the 1954 Motor City in regulation time.

Shanty Conks Out, Forces Harmsworth to 3rd Heat

DETROIT (AP)—More speedboat records were expected to fall today as two-heavily powered boats representing the United States and Canada battle it out for the Harmsworth International Trophy.

The historic world's championship race was forced into a 3rd heat when one of the many mishaps that attend speedboating eliminated the U.S. defender, Shanty I, of Seattle, shortly after the 1st lap of yesterday's 2nd heat.

Without opposition Miss Supertest of London, Ont., finished yesterday's heat to even the heat count at one apiece for each country. But before Shanty I was forced out of the race Col. Russel Schleeh drove her to a new five-mile lap record of 110.35 miles an hour.

The old mark, set in Detroit in 1950 by Stan Sayres' Slo-Mo-Shun IV, was 102.676 miles per hour for a single lap.

Miss Supertest, needing only to finish to remain in the fight for the trophy, averaged a relatively slow speed of 83.258 miles an hour for the 35-mile heat. However, she turned up a speed of 93.703 miles per hour in the 1st lap of yesterday's heat.

Col. Schleeh, explaining why he was forced to accept a tow off the course yesterday said: "My power just suddenly faded away, the engine stalled and I couldn't start her again." He said the trouble appeared to be in a gear box, which was replaced last night. There was no explosion and no fire, he said.

From The PRESS BOX

The teams of the Jack Lowther and All-American Little Football Leagues will perform at Briggs Stadium just before the Detroit Lions' football games this season. First two teams will tangle Friday night Sept. 7 when the Lions and Browns play their pre-season game at Briggs.

Nephrosis benefit boxing bouts which were rained out earlier this month will be staged at Wisner Stadium Saturday night Sept. 8.

* * *

Birmingham Tennis Club will hold its annual tournament on the Kingswood courts starting Saturday, Sept. 8.

* * *

The sports department of The Pontiac Press will this year nominate an athlete from the area for the Thom McAn football trophy and a $1,000 scholarship offered by that company. Basis of selection will be for the "Best Student-Athlete."

* * *

Final mid-week race of the season will be held Wednesday night at the Pontiac Speedway on M59 with time trials at 7:00 p.m. and racing at 8:30 p.m.

* * *

Ron Emerick, the 6-6 sophomore basketball center at East Detroit last season suffered a broken hip recently in a fall from a truck. He was expected to hold down the end position on the football team.

* * *

Robin Freeman, Ohio State's Big Ten scoring champ, has signed with the St. Louis Hawks professional basketball team.

Leads WDGA Qualifiers

Mrs. Marquardt Medalist

Mrs. Harold Marquardt fired a one-over-par 78 Monday to grab medalist honors in the qualifying rounds of the 1956 Women's District Golf Association tournament at Country Club of Detroit.

Mrs. Marquardt, who won the WDGA crown in 1951, carded rounds of 39-39. She was followed by the newest addition to the WDGA ranks, Mrs. Richard (Natalie) Gamble, a diminutive 96-pound redhead who shot 38-43—79.

Wiffi Smith, the defending champion who is moving to Texas next week, was exempt from qualifying, but will wade into match play which starts today. A score of 89 or better was required to qualify.

Yesterday's No. 1 casualty was Mrs. Keith (Susie) LeClair of Ann Arbor. Medal play winner of the WDGA for the past two years, Mrs. LeClair zoomed to 91 and fell by the wayside.

Mrs. D. N. O'Day defeated Mrs. Robert Palms in their playoff for the final position with a par on the 3rd extra hole. The two women had tied at 90 strokes.

1st Baptist Target of All-Star Squad

A successful season in the Pontiac Church Softball League will be climaxed tonight when champion First Baptist clashes with the loop All-Stars at North Side Park. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The All-Stars, composed of various players from the other teams in the circuit, will be seeking to snap a 40-game winning streak now held by the Baptists.

Pitcher Perry Vaughn, who has won all 40 games over a span of two seasons, will get the starting assignment for the league champs. Vaughn chalked up a 3-2 victory over the All-Stars last year.

Joe Carter, manager of third place Central Christian who will pilot the "Stars," has not named his starting hurler. First Baptist is managed by Gordon Hicks.

Field Reduced to 16 in Baseball Tourney

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The mammouth 31 team field that began play Aug. 17 in the National Non-Pro Baseball Tournament has been reduced to 16 with two more teams to get the axe tonight.

* * *

Evanston, Ill., Ericksons and West Allis, Wis., Beers dropped from the field last night as they suffered their second defeat.

Greenville, Tenn., Magnavox eliminated Evanston 8-3 while Lincoln, Neb., Kiwanis bumped West Allis 5-4.

In the only other game played Ft. Wayne, Ind., Dairymen handed the Deming, Wash., Loggers their first defeat in three starts 5-4.

'Sugar' Agrees to Title Fight

Reluctant Ray Robinson Ready to Meet Fullmer in Middleweight Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Officials of the International Boxing Club expect to iron out details today for a middleweight title fight between champion Ray Robinson and challenger Gene Fullmer.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said Robinson would be contacted in New York today after learning that Sugar Ray had capitulated to IBC President Jim Norris.

Robinson two weeks ago said he was through with Norris and the IBC becausue he couldn't get enough money from them but yesterday annouunced "I'm ready, willing and able to defend my title on Sept. 25 or a later date at Yankee Stadium."

* * *

Gibson and Norris returned to Chicago last night after giving Robinson a deadline to meet "our offer."

Robinson had demanded 47½ per cent of the net, plus 60 per cent of all money received from theater or home television with a guarantee of $60,000.

* * *

Joe Glaser, Robinson's business adviser, said yesterday he had a long and cordial talk with Norris before he left for Chicago and "I think we can say definitely that Sugar Ray will fight for the IBC."

Norris and Gibson arrived in Chicago not knowing of Robinson's decision.

Pint-Sized Jet Turns Slugger— Hits 4 Homers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Curt Roberts is a little guy. Stands 5-8. Weighs 165. He's a second baseman who doesn't look like a power hter. And he isn't — ordinarily.

But last night he became only the fifth player in International League history to sock four home runs in one game. And he did it in seven innings, driving in six runs as his Columbus Jets defeated Havana 10-7 in the first game of a doubleheader.

* * *

Since coming to the Jets in the Kansas City-Pittsburgh deal that sent shortstop Spook Jacobs to the Pirates on June 22, Roberts had hit only four home runs in 69 games. In five previous seasons in organized ball, he had hit only 29, not even averaging six a season.

Want 'Fiery Guy'

Tigers Seek Inspiring Pilot in '57

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Knorr, who becomes president of the Detroit Tigers on Oct. 1, says the manager of the 1957 Tigers "will be a fiery, active guy who will inspire the players and get out there on the field and fight for them."

The Detroit radio executive said, however, that "there is no inside track" as far as managerial candidates are concerned. He did not rule out the possibility that the present manager, Bucky Harris, would be back for another season.

As many as seven possible successors to Harris have been mentioned publicly, but Knorr said flatly:

"There has been no serious talk about a manager for the club in 1957. It will be discussed thoroughly before long, but no announcement of any nature will be made before Oct. 1."

Knorr said he had talked informally with Spike Briggs, who will step down Oct. 1 as president and become vice president in charge of operations. He added that he would go over the list of so-called "candidates" with Briggs and general manager Muddy Ruel several times before making any announcement.

Knorr and John Fetzer of Kalamazoo, who will become chairman of the new board of directors, have been in and out of the Briggs Stadium offices several times acquainting themselves with the operation of a major league ball club.

Knorr said Ruel would remain with the club in some capacity. Briggs' new title indicates he may assume many of the duties of a general manager.

The names mentioned prominently so far as a possible successor to Harris include: Paul Richards, of the Orioles; Leo Durocher, former New York Giant manager; Charlie Dressen, Washington Nationals; Charlie Grimm, and Phil Rizzuto and Billy Hitchcock, Tigers' third base coach, and Jack Tighe, first base and bullpen coach.

Tigers were scheduled to meet the Red Sox today at Boston. Frank Lary, (13-13) was to oppose Mel Parnell (7-3).

Nearly 600 Prep Squads Begin Pre-Season Drills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly 600 football squads began pre-season drills at Lower Michigan high schools Monday.

Hot, muggy weather dimmed the luster of the opening day practice.

A record 130 prospects turned out at Ann Arbor High where coach Hank Fonde hopes to put together another Class A champion team.

"I must concede we have the numerical strength," Fonde said. "Whether the necessary quality is here we'll have to wait and see. I'm only happy we don't have a game in the next week or so. There's so much work to be done."

The 32-year-old Ann Arbor coach who has guided his pioneers to a phenomenal record of 52 victories, one loss and two draws in his seven seasons at the school has only one returning regular from his 1955 championship squad.

Capt. Jim Baughn, a 145-pound guard, is the lone holdover. Fonde, however, has 16 other candidates available who saw enough service to win a letter a year ago.

Ann Arbor, along with other Michigan high schools, will launch its season Sept. 14.

The Pioneers open the season against Wayne High where coach Don Domke greeted nearly 100 candidates.

Phil Martinez, a fleet 150-pound halfback who scored 37 points in one game last fall, is the only experienced back available on the Wayne campus.

Giants Sign Up Young 'Lefty'

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Francis McCormick, star 18-year-old left-handed pitcher from Bakersfield, Calif., was signed today by the New York Giants to a bonus contract, reputedly for more than $50,000.

McCormick, who stands 6 feet 2 and weighs 185, pitched two no-hitters in winning 12 games and losing none at Makell High School in Arcadia, Calif., this spring. He added three more no-hitters to the list in American Legion junior baseball competition, and then in the Hearst newspapers sandlot tournament struck out all 15 boys who faced him.

Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, in announcing the signing, said McCormick would report to the team when it returns to the Polo Grounds here on Friday. As a bonus player, McCormick must remain with the Giants for two years before he can be farmed out.

Every major league club was after the young Californian. Walter (Dutch) Reuther handled the signing for the Giants.

U. S. Amateur Trials Begin

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 1,500 golfers, hope high in all their hearts swarmed down on courses around the country today for the qualifying rounds of the National Amateur tournament.

* * *

When it is all over the record entry of 1,612 will be cut down to 200 who will compete in the all-match play tournament at the Knollwood Club at Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 10-15.

* * *

Only nine of the 200 spots go to exempt players. Those who don't have to go against the crowd are defending champion Harvie Ward; former amateur champions Charlie Coe, Dick Chapman, Willie Turnesa and Chick Evans; former British Amateur champions Bob Sweeny and Joe Conrad; Public Links champion Junie Buxbaum and Junior Amateur champion Harlan Stevenson.

Thirty-two spots already have been filled in the three qualifying rounds already played. Last week in San Francisco, five players made it including Ken Venturi and former Walker Cupper Johnny Dawson.

* * *

Yesterday, the Chicago area qualified 24, headed by Bernie Katz' 72-71-143, and the three Northwest berths were filled at Portland, Ore. Two of them went to ex-Walker Cuppers Bruce Cudd and Dick Yost.

Play began simultaneously today over two Pontiac area golf layouts to name 10 players for the USGA National Amateur tourney. The field of 82 of Michcigan's best, along with a number of Indiana and Ohio players play 36 holes in the qualifying test, half at Tam O'Shanter and the other half at Knollwood.

Patrick Called OK After Heart Attack

NEWTON, Mass. (AP)—Lynn Patrick, general manager of the Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League, was reported resting comfortably at Newton-Wellesley hospital today following what was described as a "slight heart attack."

Bruins' physician Dr. Edward Browne, said the 44-year-old Patrick will be able to leave the hospital in a few days if his present progress continues. He was stricken Friday.

TAKES OVER LEAD — After several months of rather light pike fishing in Oakland county lakes (for size of fish) a real giant among the northern pike population has crashed into the lead of The Pontiac Press "big fish derby". Fishing in Buckhorn lake Rose Township, big, genial Jack Wilds, 8795 Andersonville road, Saturday morning tangled with, and outfought a 15-pound-14½-ounce 41-inch lunker (which the proud angler displays in the above photo). Wilds used a casting rod and ordinary line, with a 5-inch shiner minnow as the lure. Fish gave him a 15-minute fight. It is believed the biggest pike to be taken from a county lake this year.

Babe Zaharias Critical in Battle With Cancer

GALVESTON, Tex. (INS) — Famed woman athlete Mrs. Babe Zaharias remained in serious condition today at Galveston's John Sealy Hospital where she has been putting up a valiant fight against cancer.

Members of Mrs. Zaharias' family began gathering at her bedside Sunday when she "lost some ground . . . because of difficulty in taking nourishment."

Takes Big 'Calico'

Charles Black Sr., 1827 Duck Lake road gave his son Charles Jr. a lesson in fishing over the weekend that the 12-year-old probably won't forget quickly. The two were in a boat on White Lake just fishing for bluegills, or what-have-you. Black got a hit, had a little battle on his hands. Charles Jr. watched the operation as a fighting calico bass came up. He was proud of his dad's catch, a fish that measured 14½ inches long and weighed about one and one-half pounds, one of the season's bigger ones.

80 Hopefuls Turn Out for PHS Drill

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High School head grid coach Ed Graybiel took a good, long look at his field of candidates for the 1956 Chiefs' eleven and remarked:

"We're doing all right with the varsity group, but look at those reserves."

What the football boss at PHS meant was he was pleased at the response of varsity players at the opening workout of the year, at Wisner Field on Monday morning. The squad went through two tough conditioning drills yesterday and will do the same today and rest of the week.

* * *

But Graybiel had hoped for a bigger response from the reserves. "I hope now," said Ed, "that we have the reverse of last year, when we started with a big group and wound up with only 35. I'm looking for 40 or 50 when we really get under way."

One thing that "amazed" Graybiel was the size of many of the reserves. "I've never seen so many big boys in the reserves." He also mentioned that there were fewer backs and more linemen than in other years.

Work on the dummies, with stress on tackling and blocking techniques was a feature. Backfield candidates got some ball handling and passing.

Graybiel and his aides were a little surprised at the unusually good condition of many varsity candidates.

'B' League Convenes

Team captains and members of the Motor Inn "B" League are requested to attend a meeting on Thursday, Aug. 30 at 7:30 p.m. at Motor Inn Recreation. Any new teams with an 850 average or less wishing to join the league may contact Motor Inn Recreation, FE 5-6032.

TAKE YOUR PICK — Otto Graham's retirement hasn't left the Cleveland Browns without an outstanding quarterback. Coach Paul Brown has the pleasant problem of deciding between George Ratterman, left, and Babe Parilli. They will be at Briggs Stadium in a pre-season game against the Lions, Sept. 15th.

Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Dale Long of Pittsburgh were the first to hit a home run in every National League park during 1956.

Vito (Babe) Parilli, quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, tossed 50 touchdown passes in three seasons of college ball at Kentucky.

Braves Still Lead by Two

National League Race Unchanged

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The so-called "little world series," as folks here were calling the two-game series between Milwaukee and Brooklyn, is ended today but the nerve-wracked National League pennant race remains unchanged.

* * *

The Dodgers, who stormed into this town Sunday bent on sweeping both games and wresting the lead from Milwaukee, had to settle for one victory, a 6-3 triumph yesterday, and remained two games behind the pacesetting Braves, one in the important "lost" column.

There was obvious relief in the Dodger clubhouse after the hard-earned triumph.

"We would have been in bad shape," admitted Jackie Robinson, who scored two of Brooklyn's runs, "if we had lost today. This was a big ball game."

* * *

Pee Wee Reese, the calm captain of the Dodgers, acknowledged the game was the most important one Brooklyn has won all year.

"Had we lost we would have been four games out," he said.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston also expressed concern over the heavy weekend schedule.

"We're painfully short on relief pitching," he said. "I can't use Don Bessent for a while after his four tough scoreless innings today and Clem Labine won't be available to us for some time. If our starting pitchers get knocked out, we'll be in trouble."

* * *

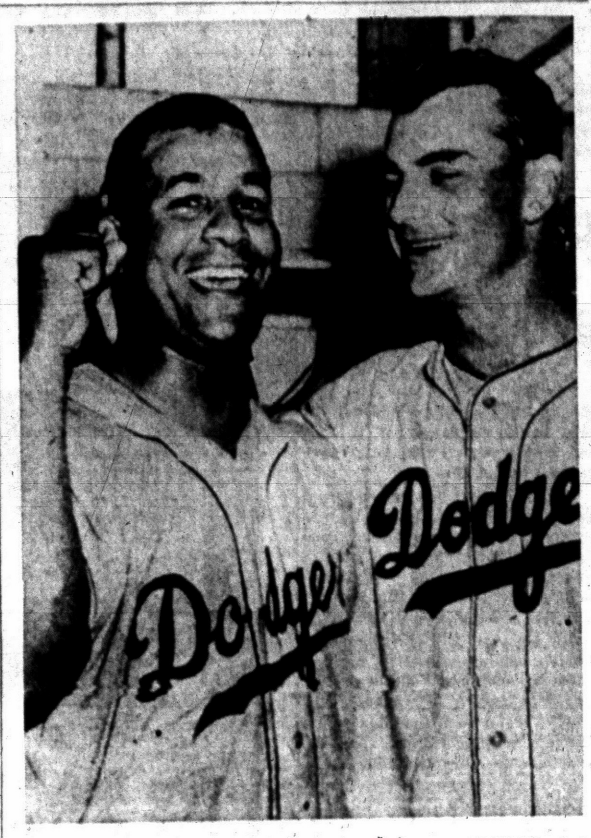

"Nothing has changed," declared Braves Manager Fred Haney. "We're still on top and they still have to catch us. In fact, we may be better off. We're still two up on them with two fewer games to play."

Haney was in no mood to discuss what, to nearly all of the immense throng of 42,290 paid admissions, was the turning point of the game.

score was tied at 3-3 and the Dodgers had runners on first and third with one out. Carl Furillo hit Gene Conley's first pitch right back to the box on one hop.

* * *

Conley had a choice of either throwing to second to start a possible double play or tossing to the plate to get Junio Gilliam. He elected to try for the plate. In the rundown that ensued, the runners wound up at second and third before Gilliam was tagged out.

AP Wirephoto

HURRAH FOR US — Roy Campanella and Don Bessent whoop-it-up in the Brooklyn dressing room after their team defeated the Braves 6-3. Campanella scored two-runs on a single in the eighth and Bessent relieved Don Newcombe in the sixth to hold the Braves and emerge the winning pitcher.

DARLINGTON, S. C. — Seventy-eight cars and drivers are now on hand for tomorrow's qualifying battle here that has the prized pole position for the Labor Day Southern 500 mile stock car racing class as the bait.

Favored to set a new track record and occupy the number one starting spot is Buck Baker, Charlotte, N. C., who already has turned in practice laps well above the 112.781 m.p.h. record set by Fonty Flock last year.

Golf Equipment Stolen at Avon Township Club

Oakland County deputies today are investigating the theft of golf equipment and other articles valued at $200 from an Avon Township golf club.

The larcenies reportedly took place sometime last night at the Brooklands Golf Club. Everything taken had been left outside the club, according to Oscar Eckman of the Club. He said he went inside for awhile and when he came out everything was gone.

Included among the missing articles are 14 golf clubs, 12 golf balls, socks, and unbrella, and a raincoat.

Eskimos Stand Alone in Lead

Blank BC Lions 18-0 to Take Over Canadian Grid Leadership

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Edmonton's Eskimos were all by themselves at the top of their league in Canadian football today as a result of an 18-0 victory over the British Columbia Lions but the game fans were talking about was Winnipeg's dramatic 16-15 win over Calgary.

Winnipeg was trailing 15-13 at home last night and there was time for only one play. End Tom Miner dropped back and booted a 37-yard field goal to give the Blue Bombers their first victory of the season before 16,687 fans.

Bob McNamara, former Minnesota star, had kept the Bombers' hopes alive by scoring two touchdowns, one on a 61-yard pass-and-run play from halfback Buddy Leake.

The Eskimos maintained a two-year jinx over the Lions and ruined the night for most of the 30,374 fans at Vancouver, a record crowd for a league game in Canada.

World Records Fall in State Fair Races

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Grand Circuit harness racing started a five-day stand at the DuQuoin State Fair with Good Counsel, a bay filly owned by Castleton Farms of Lexington, Ky., establishing two world records and a new track mark.

Good Counsel's time of 1:85 1-5 for a mile in the first heat of the $7,481 Breeders Filly Stake yesterday broke all records for 2-year-old harness horses. A 10-length victor in this heat, good counsel took the second dash of the race for 2-year-old pacers in 2:00 2-5.

The two-heat clocking of 3:58 3-5 broke the world record for that category. Frank Irvin was in the sulky.

Lake Ontario Too Cold

Water Thwarts Swimmers

TORONTO (AP) — Lake Ontario's icy cold water and strong currents today beat back the challenge of 10 regular competitors and five "wildcatters," unauthorized entries, in the $27,000 32-mile swim marathon.

* * *

Tom Park, a 32-year-old Canadian-born husky from Marineland, Calif., was the last regular to yield to the lake. He was pulled into his pilot boat at 3:52 a.m. EDT after covering about 18 miles in just under 10 hours. The starting point was Niagara-On-The-Lake, Ont.

Just before Park decided to quit he asked handlers in his accompanying boat:

* * *

"If I come out now will I get any money?"

His coach replied: "I think so."

Said Park: "Okay, I've had enough. Take me out. It's too cold."

* * *

The water temperature was about 49 degrees. A heavy fog almost blotted out the flotilla of boats which accompanied him.

Park and Cliff Lumsdon from Toronto, had been expected to battle all the way for the chief share of the prize money. Lumsdon, a five-time winner of the Canadian National Exhibition's Lake Ontario swim was literally knocked out of the competition at 11:40 p.m. EDT last night. He was hit in the head in a collision with his guide boat.

Films, Election at OCSC Meet

Monthly meeting of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will be held in the clubhouse, D. R. Wilson Sportsmen's Park, Waterford, Wednesday at 8 p.m.

A pre-Hunting season program has been arranged. It will feature two outstanding films, "Mississippi Zev," a world's champion English Setter in action, and "All About Beagles," a complete life story of America's number one gun dog.

An election will be held for trustee, a three-year term, brought about by resignation of Frank Foster, who moved to Texas. Jerry Wooliever, past president, and Warren Neuenschwander, presently a director, are candidates.

Match Play Begins Today in Eisenhower Tourney

DENVER (AP) — Three youngsters who matched or bettered par in qualifying led a field of 268 into today's first round of match play in the Eisenhower Junior Golf Tournament.

Heading the 32-player championship flight was 17-year-old Phil Lobstein of Brownwood, Tex., the Texas junior champion who fired a 68.

Interplant Loop Meets

A meeting has been called for Aug. 30, at 10 a.m. for all bowlers of the Interplant Monday morning league, at West Side lanes, 199 Orchard Lake Ave. Bowlers, or teams, interested in joining the league should contact Sam Perna at FE 4-0168 or FE 4-4264.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Digging too deep

DIAGNOSIS: Open the club face

TREATMENT: Consistently good trap shots are based on four things: Proper stance, correct position of the ball with relation to the feet, left arm control throughout and—practice.

As I explained in the preceding article, and as the sketch shows, the stance is open. The left foot is drawn farther from the ball, as you see. This effects a turn of the left hip, away from the ball. The hip is out of the way so that the left arm can pull down and through freely without hip interference.

The ball is exploded out of the sand. In other words, it rides out of the trap on the sand. Therefore you must hit the sand first, one, two, or more inches behind the ball. Don't turn the face of the club in, or shut. If you do, you'll dig and stop.

Sand shots call for left arm power, and in the sketch the straight left arm is shown clearly. Start the backswing in one-piece action, straight left arm is shown clearly. Start the backswing in one-piece action, straight back from the ball, maintaining a straight line from the clubhead up to the left shoulder. Don't think of wrist break. It'll come naturally. You'll feel the wrist break come early, approximately opposite the right hip, and you'll find yourself in solid, perfect position to pull down with the left arm to hit the sand a descending blow. Don't check the swing at impact. Keep going. Pull down hard with the left arm—down into the sand and through it.

Turn the club face to the right, open it. How far to open it depends on how much elevation is required. You'll learn this phase of trap shooting in practice.

Virginia 'Seed' Seen as Threat in Lawn Tennis

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Donna Floyd, fifth-seeded ace from Arlington, Va., went into the third round of the 39th annual U. S. Girls Lawn Tennis Championships today, a threat to higher-seeded contenders after a smashing victory.

Miss Floyd beat Nancy O'Connell, U.S. indoor junior champion from Highland Park, Ill., 5-7, 6-4, 9-7 in the first round yesterday. Miss Floyd, last year's 15-and-under outdoor champion, won easily against Betty Brown of Scarsdale, N.Y., in the second round, 6-0, 6-1.

First-seeded Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., easily defeated Barbara Brantley, Suffolk, Va., 6-3, 6-2, and Miami Izzard, Kansas City, 6-2, 6-1.

Rose Maria Reyes, of Mexico City, top-seeded foreign player, beat Gladys Craven, Garden City, N.Y., 6-0, 6-1, and Barbara Lewis, St. Petersburg, Fla., 6-1, 6-1.

Detroit Police Raid Huge Abortion Ring

DETROIT (AP)—Two doctors, two nurses and 16 patients were caught yesterday in a raid on "the most prolific abortion ring yet uncovered in Detroit," Homicide Inspector Thomas Cochill said.

He said the 16 women were awaiting post - operative checkups or abortions.

Held on charges of conspiracy to commit illegal operations are:

Dr. Edgar B. Keemer, 43; Dr. Gilbert Edwards, 50; Mrs. Labrentha Hurley, 34, and Mrs. Lollaretta Swanson, 35.

CASE THROWN OUT

Cochill said Keemer was charged with manslaughter in 1953 following the abortion death of a 19-year-old, but the case was thrown out of court because of insufficient evidence.

He said Mrs. Hurley was the office nurse and Mrs. Swanson ran a post-operative hospital in her basement apartment.

Three women patients arrested in the raid were sent to a hospital for treatment, Cochill said, and 12 gave statements naming the four defendants as operators of the ring.

Ram Tree, Son Killed

SOMERSET CENTER (AP) — A 4-year-old California boy, Gary Salmon, was killed Monday when a station wagon crashed into a tree after colliding with a truck four miles west of here on U.S. 112. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis D. Salmon of Los Angeles, and their four other children were hospitalized at nearby Hillsdale.

West Bengal may ban serving liquor at bars and forbid liquor advertisements in the press, Calcutta learns.

Thermometer Scare Speeds Girl to Doctors

A three-month-old Pontiac girl suffered no apparent ill effects but gave her mother a scare when a clinical thermometer broke yesterday afternoon.

Mary E. Nichols of 275 Branch St., was rushed to the hospital by Pontiac firemen when the mother said she thought part of the thermometer was inside the girl. Nothing could be found in the examination at Pontiac General Hospital and Mary went home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood Nichols.

"I had taken her temperature and placed the thermometer back in a glass when I realized it was broken," Mrs. Nichols said. "I got scared and thought some of it might have stayed inside so we rushed her to the hospital. I must have broken it after taking the temperature."

Detroiters Confess Mutt-Jeff Holdups

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroiters have identified themselves as the "Mutt and Jeff" robbers of three banks and nearly a score of supermarkets. They netted about $27,000, Police Lt. Carl Lueck said.

Lueck said Scharles Wesley Rudolph, 32, and Arthur Cook, 31, even boasted they were "the original" Mutt and Jeff holdup team, although others had copied them.

Rudolph is 6-2 and Cook 5-6.

The pair was quoted as saying they gambled away the $27,000 obtained in 10 months of holdups.

Rudolph was arrested earlier this month in Altoona, Pa., on a car theft charge and turned over to Detroit Police. Cook was arrested here Sunday.

11-Day Truce Ends on Cyprus

Quiet Settles on Island as British Raid Office, House of Greek Mayor

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)— British troops and police swooped down suddenly today on the home and town hall office of Nicosia's Greek Cypriot mayor as an 11-day truce called by the EOKA underground ran out.

* * *

A police inspector said nothing incriminating was turned up in a room-by-room search of the luxurious villa of Dr. Themistocles Dervis; an outspoken advocate of the move to unite Cyprus with Greece. Dervis was not arrested.

There was no indication whether the search was linked with the expiration of the EOKA truce. But it was believed it stemmed from information contained in captured EOKA documents made public by British authorities yesterday.

EOKA is the underground fighting wing of the movement to make Cyprus a political part of Greece. The British said the seized documents established that the EOKA leader, whom they have identified as former Greek army Col. George Grivas, was acting under the personal direction of exiled Archbishop Makarios.

* * *

Britain sent the Greek Orthodox prelate to the Seychelle Islands last March. Greek Cypriot leaders have demanded his return, saying he is the only man who can negotiate with Britain on a Cyprus settlement.

Dervis, secretary general of the Greek Nationalist party, has been a strong supporter of the archbishop.

The search climaxed a night of suspense throughout this east Mediterranean island colony. Nicosia's streets were deserted long before the truce expired at midnight.

* * *

No incidents had been reported through the early morning hours.

Four unexploded bombs were found on Cyprus yesterday.

Punish Cracker Tosser

DETROIT (AP) — Salvatore DiPaola was ordered to pay $634 damages to a woman who suffered facial injuries July 8 when DiPaola tossed a lighted firecracker into an automobile. Common Pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy awarded the damages to Mrs. Violet Leak. DiPaola was previously sentenced to two weeks in jail for the offense.

Chicago Builders Skeptical

Mile-High Cloudscraper on Wright Drawing Boards

CHICAGO (INS) — Architect Frank Lloyd Wright's plans for a fabulous 510-story "cloudscraper" on Chicago's lakefront have drawn some ifs and buts from Windy City builders.

* * *

The 87 - year - old Wright announced Saturday in Spring Green, Wis., that plans for the colossal mile-high building will roll off the drawing board in two weeks.

He said he has not discussed the structure, which would house an estimated 100,000 workers, with city officials, but said:

"I'm sure they know about it. The next step isn't mine."

SAFETY QUESTIONABLE

Questioned about Wright's newest vision, Charles F. Murphy Sr., whose firm designed the 41-story Prudential Building in Chicago, said:

"It is questionable whether a building can be constructed that high with safe structural engineering."

Murphy said he also doubts whether a mile-high structure can be built under Chicago laws.

* * *

Another Chicagoan questioned Wright's building site near the Adler Planetarium.

James H. Gately, president of the Chicago Park District Board, pointed out that building is prohibited in much of the park district land near the planetarium.

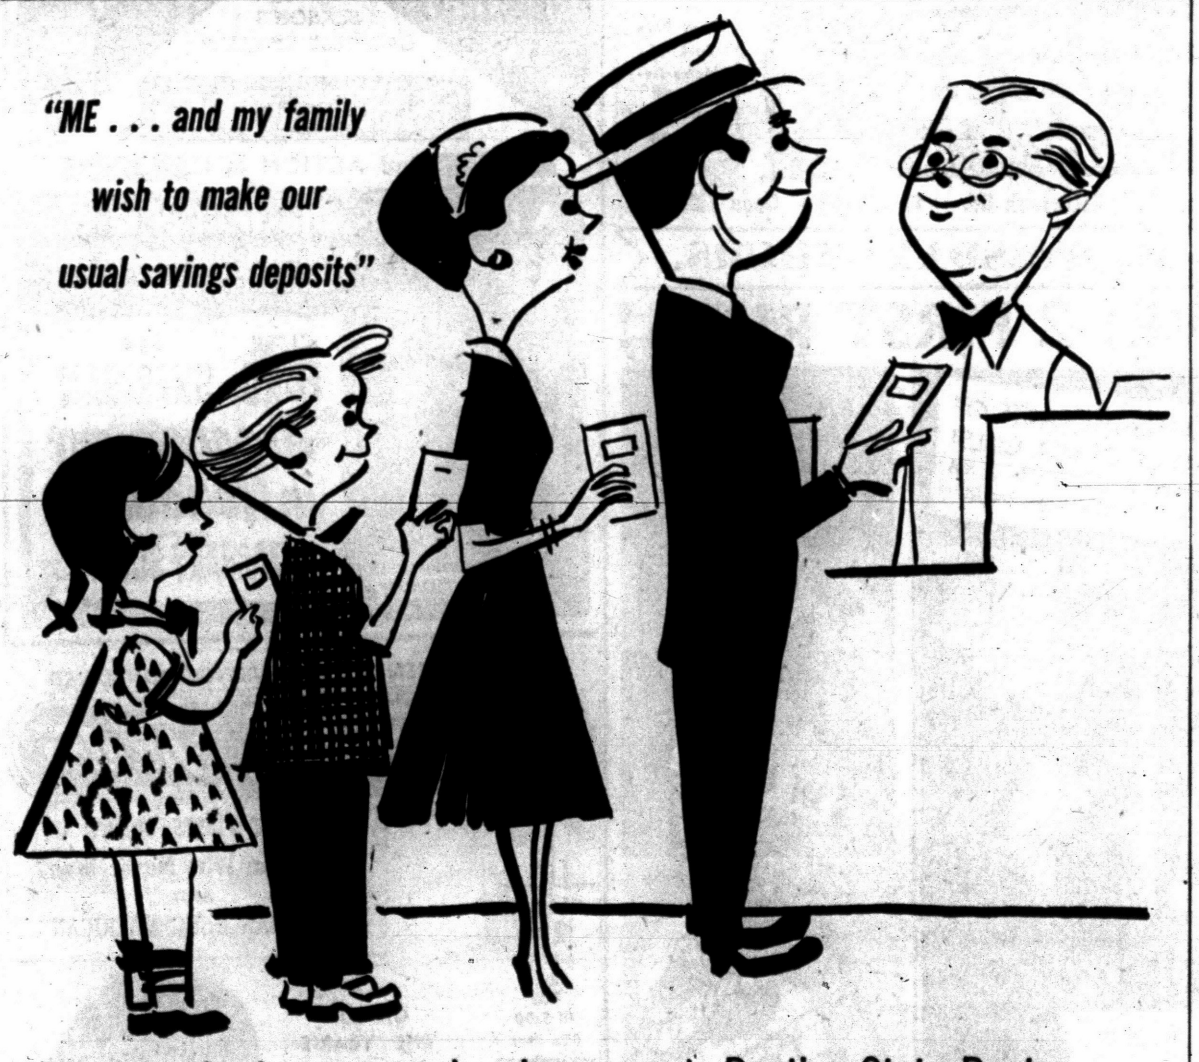

The strong-minded Wright says of his building:

"We are in for centralization, so why fool around. Why not have it . . . "The Empire State Building would be a mouse by comparison."

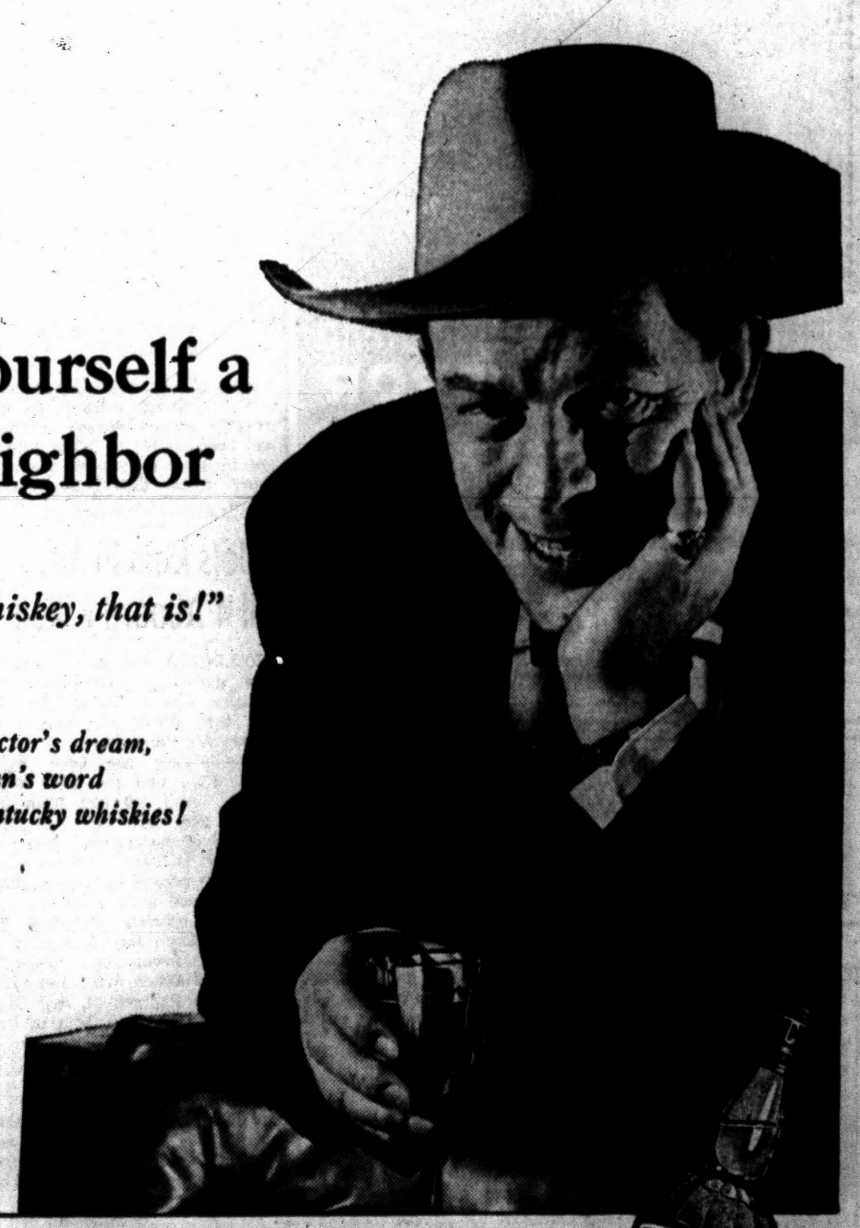

Primitive Indians Said to Have Slain German

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Indians of the primitive Chamula Tribe reportedly have slain a German anthropologist, Arthur Siltz, in Chiapas State near the Guatemalan border.

A report from San Cristobal de las Casas said Siltz went on a painting trip in the Indian zone despite warnings it was dangerous.

New Civil Defense Aid

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A pamphlet, showing important steps that management and labor can take to protect personnel, plants and equipment against enemy attack, was announced by the federal civil defense administration today. The booklet, entitled "Ten Steps to Industrial Survival," outlines plans for self help, evacuation, shelter, records protection, repair, sabotage prevention an dother factors.

A new $2,000,000 hotel in Curacao, Netherlands Antilles, will have 95 rooms.

Illinois Politician to Explain Fund

Candidate for Governor to Talk to Grand Jury, Decide Whether to Run

CHICAGO (AP)—Herbert C. Paschen, still undecided whether to withdraw as Democratic nominee for governor, is to appear before the Cook County Grand Jury today to explain a controversial $29,000 employes fund in the Cook County Treasurer's office, which he heads.

* * *

Two investigators for the U. S. Senate Banking and Currency Committee, meanwhile announced they also plan to question the 61-year-old politician about the employes fund solicited from bankers.

Robert A. Wallace, committee staff director, and committee counsel Matthew Hale, said they are seeking to determine if national banks violated federal law by contributing to campaign funds.

Paschen said he ordered money in the fund returned to contributors. He has fired two aides who administered the fund.

* * *

Disclosure of the fund has brought pressure from state Democratic leaders for Paschen to quit his race for governor. The nominee said Sunday he would decide in "the next two days" whether he will remain in the Nov. 6 contest against Republican Gov. William G. Stratton.

Paschen alone, as winner of the April primary election, can decide whether to continue in the race or quit. Should he withdraw, the vacancy would be filled only by vote of the full Democratic State Committee.

Crazy Robbers Are Real Gone After Cool Stickup

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two hepcat bandits held up Richard E. Engler, 30-year-old postal clerk, but he assured police the only things "real gone" were his 10 bucks and $60 wristwatch.

Engler said yesterday the "cool" conversation went like this:

"Daddy, you've had it, man. Give us your bread, then you're as free as a bird."

"This wasn't much of a score, man," said the other robber, looking at the money and watch. "We didn't know you were from Brokeville."

Prisoners to Wear Plastic Bracelets

LOS ANGELES (AP)—County jail prisoners are going to be identified with plastic bracelets.

* * *

A transparent piece of tubular plastic, a half inch wide, 10 inches long and as strong as steel, will be fastened around each prisoner's wrist with a metal grommet. The bracelet will contain his name and booking number.

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, announcing the plan yesterday, said the jail releases or books 700 prisoners daily. The jail's usual population exceeds 5,000. He said identification has become a big problem, and the new system will save many man hours.

* * *

One of the courts recently served a bench warrant on the sheriff's office because deputies had been unable to locate prisoners in time to present them in court when their cases were called.

2 Jets Ram in Air, All 4 Aboard Killed

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — A probe was underway today into the collision and crash of two T33 jets that killed four airmen at Moody Air Force Base.

The planes, one from Eglin AFB, Fla., and the other from Moody, were 200 feet from the ground and about 1,000 feet from the end of the runway when yesterday's collision occurred. The jets were coming in for a landing. Both burned after crashing.

Moody officials identified the dead as Capt. Ray J. Shipley of Mapleton, Iowa; Maj. Robert T. Maltby of Antigo, Wis.; and S.Sgt. Alwyn E. Padgett, 24, and Capt. Paul W. Horan, 40, both of Valparaiso, Fla.

Hollywood Headlines

Visit With Kim Produces Case of Dishpan Hands

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kim Novak, a bona fide movie star now, has taken her first apartment since coming to Hollywood—and I, for one, wish she still lived at the YWCA.

* * *

As every dyed-in-the wool fan knows, Kim is a famous alumna of the Studio Club. That's an inexpensive home-away-from-home for pretty young girls who want to make a name for themselves in Hollywood. It's also, as a department of the YWCA, a no-wolves land.

But her studio apparently figured it too unglamorous an address for the Chicago blonde, fresh from success in "Picnic" and "The Eddy Duchin Story" and soon to star in "The Jeanne Eagles Story" and "Pal Joey."

* * *

So when she returned from her triumphant tour of Europe, she leased a fancy Beverly Hills apartment.

As a discoverer of Kim, I was given the honor of being the first male reporter to see the new apartment. I wish I had been second.

* * *

The night before she had given a housewarming dinner. Judging from the number of dishes used, it looked like something out of Perle Mesta.

The dishes were all piled in the sink or stacked on the kitchen floor. All dirty, of course.

* * *

"You know I'm Bohemian, we'll clean up these dishes quick," she added, whipping out two aprons. By the time she had tied the last bow on my apron, I got the whole horrible impact of her use of the pronoun "we."

I stuttered: "You're kidding?"

Three hours and a hundred or more dishes later, she beamed:

"I'm going to tell your wife what a good dish wiper you are."

* * *

I got news for Kim Novak. She's never going to see my wife again if I can help it.

Husbands have enough trouble explaining lipsticks and luscious blondes. But how are you going to explain dishpan hands to a wife who has yet to see you dry your first dish in 20 years of marriage?

Hospital Aide Resigns for Post in Indiana

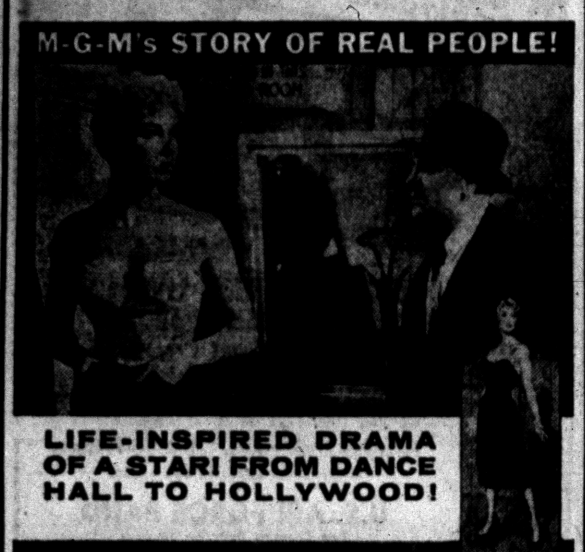

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Butterworth Hospital has announced Donald C. Calcaterra has resigned as assistant director to become administrator of the 1,000 bed state hospital at New Castle, Ind.

Calcaterra will take up his new duties about mid-September. The New Castle State Hospital is being developed as a research center for emotionally disturbed patients.

1,000 at Peach Parade

Plan New Center to Greet Foreigners

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department has announced it will open a new reception center in Seattle, Wash., next January for foreign visitiors.

The new center will receive an estimated 1,000 visitors annually from Japan, Formosa and Korea who fly from the Far East to Seattle along the "Great Circle Route."

The State Department said that during 1955 similar reception centers at Miami, New Orleans, New York and San Francisco served more than 10,000 foreign visitors entering or leaving the U.S.

Rites Set for Doctor

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Dr. Joseph L. McKenna, 54, chief of staff at St. Mary's Hospital from 1951 to 1953, who died Saturday at home.

Reds Can't Veto U. S. Snack Habit at U. N. Building

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The American snack habit has wrested a concession from the multimillion-dollar U.N. headquarters.

The building, occupying 18 acres of nearly priceless land on mid-Manhattan's East Side, was forced to make more accommodations for the army of nibblers that tours its plush corridors the year around.

Five million people visited the building last year. Eight of every 10 were U.S. citizens.

During sessions, the only restaurant available to the public was the delegates' dining room. It was jammed with diplomats, visitors and tourists.

The first two weeks of operation, 1,000 persons a day used the snack bar. It operated at almost full capacity.

Red Arrow Division to Meet in Motor City

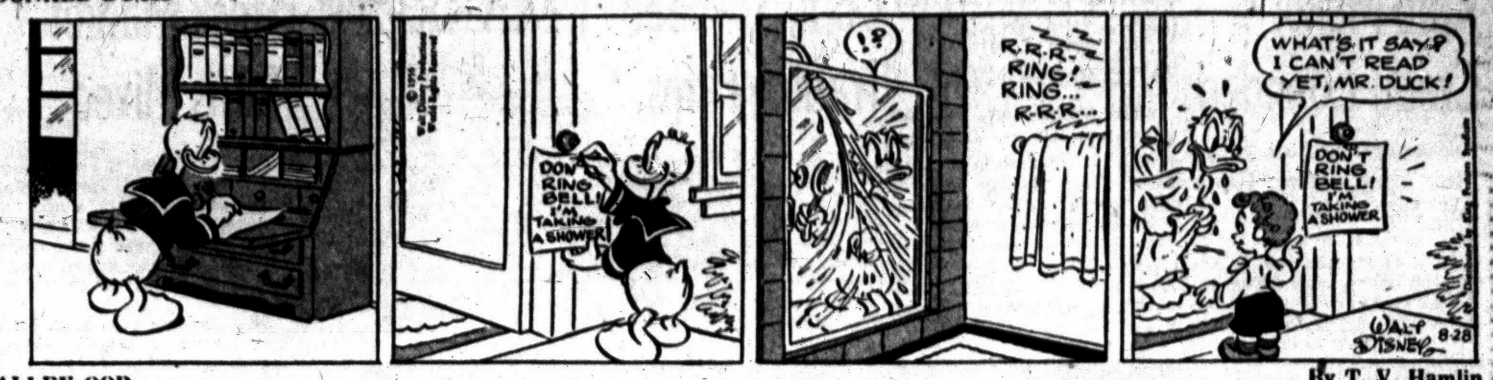

DETROIT (AP) — The Red Arrow division, made up of veterans of two world wars, will hold its 32nd annual convention in Detroit starting Saturday.

During the three-day session, soldiers who fought on the battlefields of France and the South Pacific will hear an address by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker. The Red Arrow division was organized in 1917 from units of the Michigan and Wisconsin National Guards.

Study Trade Needs

DETROIT (AP) — More than 12,000 Michigan manufacturers, farm organizations and mining groups have received a research questionnaire designed to determine the state's foreign trade requirements. The study, conducted by the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, is being made at the requeust of Michigan congressmen.

American Motors Signs for Long-Term Loans of $67 Million

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. announced today the signing of bank credit and long-term loan agreements totaling $67,570,000 to meet anticipated financial needs for the next two years.

The announcement said the new financing program includes extension and amendment of the company's credit lines and rescheduling of a portion of the 1956 and 1957 maturities of AMC's 16 million dollar long-term indebtedness to Prudential Insurance Co.

George Romney, AMC president, said the new credit arrangement is with "the same 27 banks that have handled American Motors' credit requirements in the past."

The new agreement runs to Sept. 30, 1958.

AMC recently reported a loss of $7,871,802 for the nine months ended June 30, compared with $4,522,171 for the same period a year ago.

Set Meeting Today

The executive committee of the East Oakland Area P. T. A. Council will meet at the Avondale High School, at 8 p.m. tonight.

They will formulate the council's work for '56 and '57, and approve final plans for an all-day meeting September 17.

Summer Reading Wins 225 Pins for Bookworms

Pontiac libraries gave out some 225 "Bookworm" pins to children enrolled in "Bookworm Reading Clubs" who read eight books or more during summer vacation. Five hundred were enrolled.

The most books were read by Stephanie Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Bennett, 212 E. Rundell St., who wormed her way through 118.

Forty-seven club members earned diplomas for reporting on 12 or more books.

Legion Convention Swells Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)— American Legionnaires are arriving for their 38th National Convention, expected to swell the city's population temporarily by 100,000.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme commander of NATO Forces in Europe, are among speakers scheduled to address the gathering.

The convention will get off to a spectacular start next Monday with a 10-hour parade. Bands, drum and bugle corps, marching units and hundreds of floats will start the procession and go past a reviewing stand in the 100,000-seat coliseum.

Simultaneously 93 Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps planes will fly over the coliseum.

Corn, Soybean Trading Firms

CHICAGO (AP)—A firmer tone appeared in corn and soybeans on the Board of Trade today after recent extreme weakness. Early gains were reduced, however, and September corn fell under the previous close.

Wheat had a slightly easier trend at the start, particularly the nearby month, but strengthened as the session progressed. July wheat again acted better than other wheat contracts. Oats and rye held steady from the start.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅜ higher, September $2.17¾; corn ½ lower to ⅜ higher, September $1.43; oats ⅛ higher, September 72⅛; rye unchanged to ¾ higher, September $1.41½; soybeans ½ lower to 1 cent higher, September $2.34, and lard 5 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $10.62.

Fruehauf Denies It's a Monopoly

President Sees Room for More Competitors in Trailer Industry

DETROIT (AP) — The Fruehauf Trailer Co. yesterday denied Federal Trade Commission monopoly charges.

* * *

President Roy Fruehauf said buying other trailer companies by his firm is "in line with our desire to be of better service."

The FTC said Sunday by buying out five competitors in the past nine years Fruehauf violates federal anti-merger laws.

The complaint also charged the Detroit company, largest truck trailer manufacturers in the world, with "abnormal financing" practices through its wholly owned subsidiary, Fruehauf Trailer Finance Co., in an effort to dominate the industry.

ROOM FOR MORE

Denying that, Fruehauf yesterday said his company "does not constitute a design to throttle competition. There is ever room for others."

As to the finance company, Fruehauf said the subsidiary is a "necessary development to make capital available to a multitude of small businesses whose needs could not be supplied by short-term commercial bank lenders.

"Our customers are perfectly free at all times to pay cash or to arrange their financing through any medium they desire," he added.

U.S. to Spend More on Durable Goods

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans will spend nine per cent more on durable goods next year, says a Ford Motor Co. economist.

Stahrl Edmunds, manager of economic studies for the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co., told the National Retail Jewelers Assn. Convention yesterday total output of goods and services will rise about 4½ per cent above this year's estimated 410 billion dollars.

"We estimated that in the coming year, Americans will be spending four per cent more on nondurable goods, eight per cent more on services and nine per cent more on durable goods than they did in 1956," he said.

"Of course," Edmunds added, "this means that people will not only buy more goods but they will be getting vastly better products which are the fruits of industrial research. All this adds up to the much improved standard of living we are forecasting for the future."

Replaces Scherffious

Maccabees to Meet

LAKE ORION—The Lake Orion Maccabees will hold their second potluck picnic of the summer at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Woodcock, 317 Park, tomorrow, promptly at 12 noon.

County Deaths

Mrs. Christina Hansen

MARLETTE — Service for Mrs. Christina M. Hansen, 79, was to be at 10 p.m. today from the Juhl Evangelical Lutheran Church, with burial in Juhl Cemetery. Mrs. Hansen died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Ravn, here.

Survivors are her daughters, Mrs. Viggo Christiansen, and Mrs. Ravn, both of Marlette; eight grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Roy Todd, Detroit, and Mrs. Leo Todd of St. Clair Shores and one brother, Viggo Smith, Juhl.

Stock Market Turns Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned mixed in early trading today after a higher start.

Gains in key issues ranged to around a point, and losses ran to two points. Volume was light, continuing the trend of recent sessions.

Most divisions were irregular to low, with only airlines and rubbers edging upward.

The news background to the market was generally favorable. Brokers pointed to a round of price increases in a variety of products as continuing evidence of inflationary pressure on the market. On the international front, Egypt agreed to listen to the West's proposals for international control of the Suez Canal.

United Aircraft opened off 1¼ and extended the loss to around two points after the company announced plans to offer common stockholders the right to subscribe to additional new convertible preference stock.

Common holders will have the right to subscribe to one new preference share for each 16 common shares held.

Veertientes - Camaguey sugar came in for heavy trading on two blocks about half an hour after the opening. The first block of 6,400 shares traded at 9½, up ⅞; and was followed by 6,500 shares at 9⅞, up 1¼.

Union Carbide, Royal Dutch and Goodrich were up around a point.

In the airlines group, American, United and Eastern Airlines all were ahead fractions.

Fractional losers included Bethlehem, Goodyear, Zenith, Kennecott, and International Paper.

Yesterday's market was the slowest in six months, with prices moderately lower. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.10 to $184.50 as the industrial component dropped $1.70, rails $1.30, and utilities 10 cents.

Place Birmingham Man on Robbery Probation

A Birmingham man who pleaded guilty to receiving two stolen rifles and two shotguns, was placed on two years probation yesterday and assessed $150 court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Fernando Caducia, of 306 Bird St., admitted the guns were part of $1,000 worth of firearms stolen from a Pontiac hardware warehouse July 4.

School Music Directors Back From Parley

Back from the recent fourth annual convention of the American School Band Director's Association are Dale C. Harris, supervisor of instrumental music at Pontiac Senior High School; Lewis A. Crew, band director at Eastern Junior High School; and Eldon C. Rosegart, band director from Lincoln Junior High School.

The convention, held at the University of Colorado, was attended by 141 active members.

Also attending were associate members including instrument and uniform manufacturers and music publishers.

Inventor Is Suing Wisconsin Paper Co.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Sutherland Paper Co. of Kalamazoo has been named defendant in a $3,600,000 federal court suit by a Wisconsin inventor who claims the firm has "suppressed" his plans for a new cigarette carton.

Stephen Lighter of Shorewood Hills, Wis., claims he signed an agreement in 1950 allowing Sutherland to manufacture a carton he devised.

Lighter contends his patented "skeleton carton" would be cheaper to produce than current types and would mean aggregate sales in excess of $30,000,000 annually with full production.

His suit claims Sutherland gave him $6,000 in 1950 as reimbursement for expenses incurred in developing the new carton. It adds the company attempted to "monopolize and restrain trade" by failure to produce the cartons.

The suit claims breach of contract resulting in financial loss to Lighter from royalties, plus a diminishing life of his patents.

Besides damages, Lighter asks that his agreement with Sutherland be terminated and the firm be enjoined from interfering with his plans to use his patents through any licensee he may designate.

Driver's Chin Cut in 3-Car Accident

A Milford man suffered a cut chin and two others were shaken up in a three-car accident in Troy Township last night.

George D. Allard, 51, one of the drivers, was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Shaken up were his passenger, James D. Allard, 22, of Milford, and William Mordan, 26, of Mt. Clemens, also a driver.

The other car was driven by Roy A. Akers, 20, of Hazel Park.

Police reported the accident occurred when the Akers stopped at 16 Mile Rd. and Dequindre to make a left turn. He was struck by Mordan as he tried to pass. The oncoming Allard car went off the road into a ditch to avoid being hit by Mordan.

Meany Disputes GOP Claims

Says Labor Well Off Despite Party Actions, Not Because of Them

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—AFL-CII President George Meany says the American working man is well off in spite of, rather than because of, the Republican party.

* * *

The 29-member Executive Council of the labor union organization Meany heads is meeting here this week to consider possible endorsement of candidates in the 1956 election campaign — a subject which may come up today.

But Meany, in talking with reporters yesterday, took issue with what he said were contentions at the GOP National Convention last week that the Republican party is the party friendly to labor.

"What they said about the American worker never having it so good, that's true," Meany said. "But I don't think the Republican party did it."

* * *

Instead, he gave credit to "the good old American dynamic economic system, which is still running strong in spite of what the Republicans are trying to do."

The council took action against three member unions for alleged corrupt handling of union welfare funds.

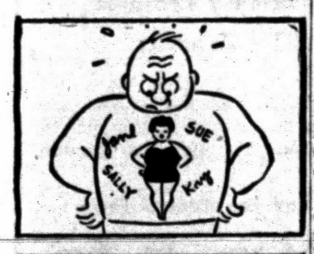

In its strongest action, the council ordered the 25,000-member Distillery Workers Union to show cause why it should not be suspended. Further investigation was ordered into the affairs of the 72,000-member Laundry Workers Union and the 73,000 member Allied Industrial Workers, the former AFL Auto Workers Union.

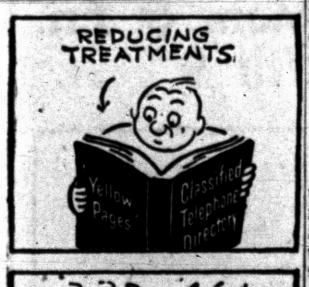

* * *

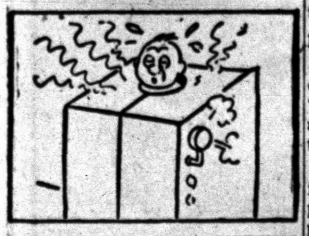

Activities of the three unions had been investigated by a Senate labor subcommittee headed by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill).

Sex Appeal Nonexistent Over There

Marilyn's Curves Wouldn't Make Hit in Russia — Not Cultural Enough

By EMILY BELSER

NEW YORK (INS)—If Marilyn Monroe ever makes the grade in Russia it won't be as her own curvy, sexy self—it'll be on a high cultural plane.

Vladimir Surin, the U.S.S.R.'s deputy minister of culture, said today he has "nothing against" Miss Monroe, but he made it quite clear that Russian moviemakers do not go in for "sex appeal" films.

"It would not heighten the level of Russian culture," he said, "it would lower it!"

Surin is in this country to negotiate with American moviemakers for the exchange of American and Soviet films, but missed seeing the man who could have clinched the deal—Eric Johnston.

MEET IN MOSCOW

"We expect to see him in Moscow in September," he added. "We missed him because he was attending the political conventions."

The round-faced Russian minister, who was ensconced in a plush suite at the Essex House, explained that what the Russian movie-goer wants—and gets—are things cultural.

He insisted that there is no such thing, for instance, as burlesque; that there is no censorship imposed on Russian films ("it isn't necessary"), and there is no star system.

As for showing American films starring such lights as Monroe, Jane Russell, Anita Ekberg and Ava Gardner—that's a matter of pure conjecture.

ARTISTIC LEVEL

"We don't have anything against Miss Monroe or any other actress," Surin said as he leaned forward on the edge of the sofa. "Any one of them would be acceptable if they appeared in a film that was on a high artistic level."

The minister pointed out that the Russian movie cultural kick dates back to the days of Lenin and by now it is a pretty well established thing.

"The motion picture is the greatest medium for reaching the masses," he said. "Movies reach to every corner of the globe. It is very important how they are used. They must educate the best feelings of the people—not the worst!

"In Russia," he continued, "we consider the story first. If the actor fits the story that is good. If not, we get another actor."

Surin said his plans were to ask for an exchange of players as well as an exchange of films.

"We would like American actors and actresses to take part in Russian films—if they suit the part—and for Russian players to appear in American productions."

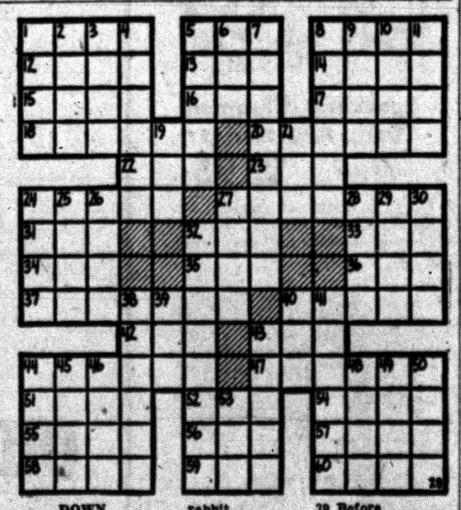

Asked if he would consider showing "War and Peace" in Russia, Surin said:

"No. I do not think it would be appreciated by the people."

MacRae Hired to Emcee Show

Helen O'Connell Joins Tennessee Ernie Ford in New Program

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Ernie Kovacs signed with NBC as Steve Allen's Monday-Tuesday sub only on the guarantee NBC will keep the late evening variety on the air at least a year. . . . There have been rumors it might be dropped.

Lux Theater hired as its emcee Gordon MacRae "to attract young people." In which case, wouldn't Elvis the Pelvis have attracted more of the great unwashed? . . .

Helen O'Connell joins Tennessee Ernie Ford in a nighttime show this season. . . .

Sullivan's ordered a big shakeup backstage at the Ed Sullivan Show.

The Russ Morgan Show's camera tricks should calm down. What's so imaginative about showing a rhythm section upside down? . . . The Morgan Show could be an all-season hit, if the folks running it weren't saddled with so much interference. . . . Instead Russ will take a shot at early morning disc jockeying for ABC radio.

SINATRA LAUGHS

Eddie Fisher's manager wanted Frank Sinatra to join them in a music publishing biz and The Voice laughed and laughed.

Godfrey's Irish thrush, Carmel Quinn, had a 9-pound, 7-ounce boy at Doctor's Hospital in New York. . . .

Mickey Mantle and pals, scheduled to trip the heavy fantastic on the A. Murray Show Thursday, were benched by the President's speech and will return for another shoe-fly this Thursday. . . .

Kirk Douglas refused payment to star on the Sullivan show. Snooted a free car, too. . . .

The Loretta Young Show returned to TV with the star looking as lovely and healthy as she did 20 years ago.

SOME FAVORITISM?

Sonny Fox arbitrarily gives some guests an "extra 10 seconds" but chops off others. . . .

And if one reply was "Sam Riddle" and the other "Glen Riddle," how could both challengers be right?

NBC is heaving a corporate sigh after selling half of the Ray Bolger series. . . . Had to trim the budget from $150,000 to $100,000 per show to snag a sponsor.

CBS-TV's new adventure series "The Buccaneers," starting Sept. hamas, one of the loveliest vacation spots in the world. . . . Oddly, it won't be filmed in beautiful, balmy Nassau but on an English shore, which isn't fair.

State Group to Seek Equal Deal for Banks

LANSING (AP)—Bankers and state officials will meet Wednesday to see what can be done about overturning a federal ruling Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh says favors national over state banks.

The conference was announced by Kavanagh Monday.

He said the controller of currency has held that construction by the Michigan National Bank of drive-in banking facilities across the street does not constitute an additional branch bank.

The controller's position conflicts with a Kavanagh ruling of November.

Kavanagh said the federal position apparently would give national banks privileges in Michigan which are not equally available to state banks.

Participants in the conference Wednesday will include the attorney general's office, the acting state banking commissioner and representatives of a "large" number of state banks, Kavanagh said, on the air; and radio listening jumped to a 10-year high as fans sought musical relief from oratory.

Seek Federal Pay Increase

Democrat Pushes Drive; Administration Wants to Cut Worker Rolls

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic senator sought a new pay raise for federal employes today even as the administration moved to trim the number of workers on its rolls.

Sen. Iolin D. Johnston (D-SC) chairman of a Senate committee which handles such legislation, predicted the next Congress will vote the pay increase. His address, made public last night, was prepared for a convention session of the American Federation of Government Employes today.

Its release coincided with a directive from Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, designed to cut government costs by reducing the number of workers. He urged agency heads to check carefully the need of replacing employes who retire, and to let the jobs go unfilled if possible.

Rep. Davis (D-Ga), chairman of a House subcommittee on man power utilization, made a similar suggestion Aug. 18. He predicted then that 50,000 employes would retire in the two months after Nov. 1, when a new and more liberal pension program becomes effective.

Johnston predicted a pay bill would be passed and "it will not be vetoed by the president, because we will then have a Democratic president in the White House."

Conventions Flopped as Home Attractions

NEW YORK (AP)—A television research organization reported today that the two big political conventions flopped as attractions on home screens.

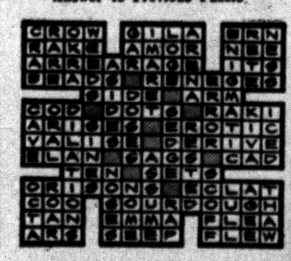

* * *

The survey was made by Sindlinger & Co., of Philadelphia, which reported it polled 1,000 set owners daily, altogether cross-sectioning watchers in 238 counties from coast to coast.

* * *

These were some of the findings: The politicians were watched by an average 33 million viewers, compared to 54 million drawn by peak commercial shows; one evening, only a quarter of the nation's sets were turned on; films and sports events frequently outdrew the conventions in communities where nonnetwork shows were

Son's Foolery With Jewelry Costs Mom $75

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Steve Grady gave his girl some jewelry —and that's where trouble began.

Steve Grady is only 6 years old. His girl friend, identified only as Mary, is 4.

Steve's brother, Paul, 5, informed his mother yesterday "Stevie gave Mary a lot of jewelry."

The mother checked her jewel box and found two rings, two bracelets and a necklace, which she valued at $75, were missing.

She told her husband, Police Sgt. Norman Grady, and he initiated a search.

Steve admitted he gave his girl friend the jewelry. Mary said she buried most of it, but can't remember where.

WWTV to Hike Power

CADILLAC (AP) — Television station WWTV announced Monday it is testing new equipment for a Sept. 1 start on boosting its output to 316,000 watts. The signal is expected to reach all or part of 48 Lower Peninsula counties. The station has been operating on 104,000 watts.

Tot 2 Hours Too Young; Parents Hit School Rule

AURORA, Colo. (AP) — Because she missed by two hours being born on Nov. 30, 1951, little Dinah Lee Bass must wait until next fall to attend kindergarten — and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Bass, are protesting.

Public schools admit children to classes only if they are 5 years old on or before Nov. 30.

Dinah, who doesn't understand all the fuss, was born at 2 a.m., on Dec. 1, 1951.

Leather Jackets Defy Hard Wear

Choose Clothes for Use They Get, Not for Style or Showing-Off

Sometimes when you're buying clothes for Johnny and Sue you may think in sentimental terms, but when it comes to back-to-school garb, you usually have one requirement in mind: it must be tough. Anyone knows life on the range is gentle compared to that in the American schoolyard.

* * *

And that's why the coats the kids wear on their backs as well as the brief cases in which they carry their homework are often of leather these days.

They come in a variety of appealing styles and colors.

For boys, the western jacket in a soft leather trimmed with fringe in true Navajo style, and the husky bomber and surcoat versions in smooth or grained surfaces are leading favorites.

Like the brief cases that go with them, they are found in newer colors such as ginger, sun tan, maple, smoke and fire-engine red as well as the more familiar black, brown and wine.

EISENHOWER, TOO

For girls the styling is quite as varied as those of mother's jackets and includes the Norfolk, boxy, mandarin, cocoon and Eisenhower. They come in just about all colors from the new "hot" oriental oranges and reds to delicate pastels.

For the lad in the first grade there are even authentic lederhosen of suede finish leather in taupe with bright red suspenders and edging.

Whatever the style or color of these leathers, they require next to nothing in upkeep. Many suede leathers today are machine as well as hand washable. On smooth leathers use a sponge dipped in mild soapsuds and wrung nearly dry. And, of course, all leather garments can be dry-cleaned.

A special stamp will honor the British Empire Games in Wales in 1958.

Colorado GIs Proud of Youth They Freed From Nazi Prison Camp

By HARVEY A. KADISH

DENVER (INS) — Colorado soldiers who liberated a thin, wasted boy 11 years ago from the dread Dachau Prison Camp looked upon his decision to become an Army chaplain as a wonderful way to exemplify the freedom they helped him win.

Colordao Supreme Court Justice Felix L. Sparks, the 28-year-old Lt. Col. "Larry" Sparks who led the battalion which smashed its way into the horror of the Dachau gas chambers, asked Rabbi Abraham Feffer to come to Denver to receive a gift of a prayer shawl.

The telegram to Rabbi Feffer read:

"Survivors of the 3rd Battalion, 157th Infantry, who fought the final battle to liberate Dachau salute your achievement.

"We believe you have chosen a fine way to exemplify the freedom we helped you win by giving spiritual leadership to men in service.

INVITES VISIT

"As the former commander of the battalion that opened the Dachau gates I cordially invite you to make a stopover in Denver en route to Ft. Hood so a group of us can honor you in person with a gift to help you in your new work."

Sparks revealed the gift will be a prayer shawl for Rabbi Feffer to use when he conducts Jewish New Year service at Ft. Hood, Tex., during the coming high holy days.

Rabbi Feffer will complete his studies at the chaplain's school at Ft. Slocum tomorrow, and now he hopes to repay what he considers a debt to the United States by becoming a Rabbi in the corps of chaplains.

Justice Sparks said he received dozens of telephone calls from members of the 3rd Battalion of the 157th Infantry, mobilized shortly after Pearl Harbor of units of the Colorado National Guard. The calls followed the wide publication of an INS story, telling how Feffer rose from an emigrant to a rabbi.

Sparks, at 39 the youngest man to ever sit on the Colorado Supreme Court bench, said the former soldiers were impressed that although Feffer could have claimed exemption from the Jewish voluntary draft of young rabbis, he chose to serve what he called his determination to express "great gratitude" for what his liberators had done for him.

The infantry battalion fought from Sicily deep into Germany, finding young Feffer amid a pile of bodies on a siding near Munich.

Sparks recalled the boy had horrible memories of death scenes at Dachau and Auschwitz, and his small body bore the marks of many torture chambers.

The GI's—as soldiers often did—took a liking to the boy and gave him a job as an interpreter, outfitting him with a cutdown Army uniform.

He later emigrated to the U.S. as a displaced person, and managed despite great hardship to become a rabbi through study at the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York.

Tomorrow he will become the first concentration camp survivor to be a U.S. Army chaplain.

Members of the old 3rd Battalion recalled many of the GI's were so incensed at scenes in the Dachau gas chambers that some Nazi stormtroopers "may have been shot" in the heat of anger.

There were charges drawn up to court martial Col. Sparks because some of the Nazis were killed, instead of being taken prisoner.

But later when Gen. George Patton took command of the division, he tore up the charges in the presence of Col. Sparks.

Looking back on the liberation scene some 11 years ago, Sparks said many of his men were horrified to see bodies piled like cordwood.

He said: "It is possible some of the stormtroopers were shot attempting to escape."
