

State Digs Out; 8 Seamen Saved

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Destructive Arctic winds bowled southward today as Michigan dug out from the season's second major snowstorm.

Eight German seamen were rescued last night from a stricken ship in storm-whipped Lake Huron off the eastern Michigan coast.

HONORED—Martin J. Caserio, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division and a General Motors vice president, was honored last night by more than 200 Pontiac area professional and business leaders at a Chief Pontiac party at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Snow Flurries, Cold Predicted for Area

Snow flurries and colder temperatures will hover over the Pontiac area through Saturday. Sunday will be somewhat warmer.

The weatherman predicts flurries with a low of 16 to 22 to-night. The mercury is expected to average 8 to 12 degrees below the normal high of 36 to 39 and low of 22 to 27 for the next five days.

North northerly winds at 15 to 29 miles per hour are forecast through tonight. A frigid 23 was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The 2 p.m. recording was 34.

GM Truck Gets 200-Bus Order

GMC Truck and Coach Division of General Motors has received a $10-million order for 200 intercity buses from Greyhound Lines, Inc., Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, announced today.

He said the buses will be delivered before the summer of 1967.

The 35-foot "Luxury Liners" feature high-level seating for maximum passenger visibility and 50 per cent more under-floor baggage space than previous intercity models.

Commenting on the order, H. Vance Greenslip, president of Greyhound, was quoted as saying, "Purchase of the buses reflects continuation of our program of modernization of our 5,000-bus fleet, so Greyhound will have the finest bus equipment on the road."

LBJ Undecided on Tax Boost

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says he hopes to reach his decision "around the end of the year" on whether to ask Congress for a tax increase. "No decision has been made," he told a news conference yesterday in his office in the Austin Federal Building.

"No decision will be made until we have all the facts."

Guesses will be made from time to time. That is a democratic privilege. But at best, they are guesses."

Asked whether he put Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, in the guessing category, Johnson replied: "I think he put himself there. I think that was his language."

Boggs predicted last Sunday that Johnson would ask the new Congress for a $10 billion to $15 billion tax increase.

Johnson announced at the outset of the news conference that he had cut back various federal programs by $5.3 billion with a saving of more than $3 billion in actual spending of budgeted funds in the remaining seven months of the current fiscal year.

He described the program and spending reductions as "another step to protect and preserve our prosperity."

"By this action we will stretch out and postpone, withhold and defer the less essential items of our programs — the low priority ones," he said.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Joseph W. Barr said in Washington that the $3 billion spending reduction in the fiscal year which ends June 30 will have no effect on the administration's thinking about a possible income tax increase.

The cut, he said, already has been worked into the Treasury's figuring.

MOON PHOTO RELEASED — This close-up photograph of the moon crater Copernicus, a prominent feature on the lunar surface, was released today in Washington. It was taken Nov. 23 by Lunar Orbiter II. The view looks down the floor area 1,000 feet high with slopes up to 30 degrees. The 3,000-foot mountain on the left part of the horizon is the Gay-Lussac Promontory in the Carpathian Mountains. From the horizon to the base of the photo is about 150 miles. The horizontal distance is about 17 miles. The satellite took the picture from 28.4 miles.

Bulletin

HARBOR BEACH (AP) — The Coast Guard today reported it was searching for a 600-foot lake freighter with 33 men aboard in Lake Huron.

Debris and the body of an unidentified seaman, wearing a life jacket from the ship, the Daniel J. Morrell of Cleveland, were found in Lake Huron today about eight miles north of the Harbor Beach light.

The Coast Guard's 9th District headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio, said the cutters Bramble and Acadia, two helicopters and two airplanes were joining the search.

Drain Basin Plans Point Up Larger Issues

By L. GARY THORNE

Efforts to establish a drainage district embracing the entire basin, making the river an inter-county drain on paper if not in fact, point up two larger issues.

First, if the drain plan is finally adopted, a third agency gains a say over river improvements.

Secondly, the move for regional control of the river appears as further evidence of Detroit's bid for a master sewage treatment network for the six-county metropolitan area.

The latter proposition is seriously questioned, at least privately, by some municipal spokesmen. The pending Clinton-Oakland Interceptor would be part of the master system.

Meanwhile, pollution problems in Macomb County communities located near the river's eastern outlet into Lake St. Clair appear to be the spark behind the current move to make the Clinton River an intercounty drain.

County drains are concerned with storm water and the present petitions seek jurisdiction the treated sewage load imposed on the river must be removed some time after 1980 with abandonment of the existing sewage treatment facilities.

If finally carried out, this recommendation would mean that some 16 sewage treatment plants now discharging effluent into the Clinton would have to be abandoned, including Pontiac's $3.2-million plant.

According to the NSF findings, water flow in the Clinton River in the summer months of 1960 will be made up of over 50 per cent treated sewage with peak periods when the percentage would rise to 72 per cent.

over the river's flood plain. Essentially, some 761 square miles are involved along the route of the river from Springfield Township to Lake St. Clair.

Most of the river area falls in Oakland and Macomb counties, although Lapeer and St. Clair counties are also involved.

The historically significant Clinton River is a variety of things to communities along its banks. It passes through rural farm country and, also highly urbanized Pontiac.

Subject of past and current controversy, pollution of the river was spotlighted in the 1965 master plan report of the National Sanitation Foundation (NSF).

Proposing the six-county network, the NSF report declared

Supervisor Is Sentenced for Perjury

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem yesterday sentenced Royal Oak Township Supervisor Edward L. Kennedy to 1½ to 15 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for committing perjury while testifying before the Oakland County Grand Jury.

Kennedy, who was found guilty of the charge by a jury Nov. 6, immediately appealed the conviction after the sentencing and was released on $2,500 bond.

He had been accused of lying when he testified in June 1965 and last January that he had not accepted a bribe or that any other township officials had received an illegal payoff.

Kennedy's term of office as supervisor was scheduled to expire in April. He did not seek reelection in the August primary election.

Romney '64 Charge Called 'Baloney'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top man in Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign dismissed today as "baloney" the two-year-old charge of Michigan Gov. George Romney that the race was designed to appeal to segregationist Southerners.

But Dean Burch, who served as Republican national chairman during the last presidential race, ended his rebuttal there and said he had advised Goldwater against debating the matter.

He said it threatened to renew the strife that split the party during the Goldwater campaign.

"We just started 1964 all over again," Burch, in Tucson, Ariz., said in a telephone interview. "That won't do anybody any good."

Both Romney and Goldwater men denied that they had first made public the text of the 12-page letter the Michigan governor wrote Dec. 21, 1964.

Written as an explanation of Romney's refusal to endorse the Goldwater presidential ticket, it complains about campaign strategy and makes this assertion:

"Indeed, the conduct of the campaign and the Nov. 3 election results demonstrated that your campaign never effectively deviated from the Southern-white orientation."

Romney said there was "disseminating evidence that this was part of the strategy," but added he did not believe Goldwater had shaped such a plan.

"A leading Southern delegate in a private conversation with me... made it clear that there had been a platform deal that was a surrender to the Southern segregationists, contrary to the entire tradition of the party," Romney wrote.

"THAT'S BALONEY"

"That's a bunch of baloney," said Burch.

Goldwater himself was off on an Air Force Reserve flight, but a spokesman said he had decided against making any statement on the newly published Romney letter.

Its publication in the New York Times Tuesday produced this series of events:

—Goldwater cabled Romney, who is vacationing in Puerto Rico, asking for permission to make public the text of the letter — and the letter he wrote which prompted it.

—Leaking the letter piecemeal as someone obviously is doing does not serve the best interest of our party," Goldwater said.

—At about the same time, Romney's office in Lansing, Mich., released the text of the letter. A Romney spokesman insisted the initial release had not come from the governor or "anyone acting in his behalf."

—Goldwater made public his Dec. 6, 1964, letter to Romney. "Where were you, George, when the chips were down and the going was hard?" it asked.

"Many rank and file Republicans got a bad taste in their mouths when they saw leaders of their own party failing to support a national ticket."

Goldwater's letter also criticized New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, former Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie for failing to support the ticket.

Romney's own presidential stock is on the rise now, boosted by his landslide reelection victory on Nov. 8. But conservative resistance, stemming from his 1964 posture, could pose a problem.

"NOT SATISFACTORY"

Four days after his reelection, Romney cabled — without

City Budget Copies Seen

While the City Commission did not formally receive a 1967 budget last night, city administrators did distribute budget documents at an informal meeting.

The commission is slated to discuss the budget at an informal meeting tonight.

Meantime, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said he plans to present the budget at the commission's Dec. 13 meeting. There is no commission meeting next week because of a convention.

The City Charter stipulates a new budget is to be presented one month before the close of the current fiscal year on Dec. 31.

Baldwin, Beverly, Bloomfield Village, Franklin, Meadow Lake, Midvale, Walnut Lake and Greenfield schools will hold conferences Dec. 6, 8 and 13.

The purpose of the conference is to provide the teacher and parent with an opportunity to exchange information which will help lead to a better understanding of the student, his capabilities and his accomplishments.

During the 20-30 minute conferences, the teacher and parents will have an opportunity to discuss how they can help make the child's kindergarten experience meaningful and enjoyable.

Boy Scout Troop 1029 of the First Baptist Church of Birmingham will hold a pancake supper from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the church, Willis and Bates.

calls for utilizing the Detroit Department of Water Supply as an areawide collection and treatment agency. Local internal sewage systems would still be maintained by local municipalities.

At least on the surface, the drainage district proposal for the Clinton River would not seem related to the master sewer plan, which appears to have at least the tacit approval of the powerful State Water Resources Commission.

2 to Be Cited After Joint Rescue Try

An Oakland County sheriff's deputy and an Independence Township man are to receive meritorious service citations following a joint rescue attempt they made yesterday when a car ran into Deer Lake.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons said the citations will go to Deputy Gary Armstrong and Howard Goraker of 5841 Drayton.

The two jumped from their automobiles shortly before 8 p.m. yesterday when a car driven by 71-year-old Allen McCrory suddenly shot off Deer Lake Road and began sliding into the lake.

Armstrong and Goraker waded into waist-high water and succeeded in holding on to the car until a passing tow-truck fastened a cable to the slipping vehicle.

While saving McCrory from possible drowning, however, rescuers found their efforts in vain to save the man's life.

A coroner called to the scene said McCrory of 1595 Kingsway, Highland Township, had died most instantly from a heart attack.

It was the second sudden death in the McCrory family in less than a week. McCrory's daughter, Mrs. Ruth E. Stodley, 40, was fatally stabbed last Thursday.

While the relative lull in ground fighting carried through a fourth day, Vietnamese troops reported freeing 14 Vietnamese civilians from a Viet Cong prison camp in the Mekong Delta.

Vietnamese headquarters said the Viet Cong murdered four other civilians in the camp and that one of the liberated prisoners died of wounds after being freed.

U.S. headquarters reported a mistaken artillery shelling by unit of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division killed three Vietnamese civilians and wounded 19 more.

A spokesman said an artillery battery fired nine 105mm shells into the village of Tan Uyen, 20 miles northeast of Saigon early today. The spokesman said it was a "very regrettable accident" caused by an error in computing firing data.

TO HALT AIR STRIKES

The three truce periods — two days each at Christmas and New Year and four days during the lunar New Year — will include cessation of U.S. air strikes and offshore naval bombardments against North Viet Nam.

The allied decision, confirmed by a presidential assistant at the Texas White House, followed a Viet Cong announcement Saturday of 48-hour cease-fires during Christmas and New Year.

The Communists also were expected to join in the truce for the lunar New Year — Viet Nam's festival of the Tet — as they do every year.

However, private opinion links the two ideas, claiming creation of a drainage district would give the new governing body of that district a voice in river conditions, namely, how much sewage effluent is being dumped into the river.

How much of a voice is still to be determined, but the traditional jurisdiction of a drain commissioner would seem to be expanded beyond concern for just storm water.

The governing board for the drainage district, if finally created, would consist of the four drain commissioners, one from each of the counties involved and a representative of the State Department of Agriculture.

Any eventual drainage district covering the river basin would add a third agency with authority over the river. Existing agencies with such control are the water resources commission and the state health department.

CENTRAL AGENCY

Some suburban spokesmen feel that, if the river, and indirectly the sewage treatment facilities there, are to be governed on a regional basis, there should be one central agency in charge of the river.

Meanwhile, still another agency is to get involved. The Detroit district of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has launched a study to formulate a comprehensive plan for the best use of the water and related resource of southeastern Michigan.

A series of hearings were to begin this week in Adrian, Detroit and Port Huron.

Pontiac Twp. Wife Killed; Mate Held

An argument over the family car and resultant struggle with a loaded gun led last night to the fatal shooting of a young Pontiac Township housewife, according to Oakland County investigators.

Peggy Y. Johnson, 21, was dead on arrival at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with a bullet wound in the neck.

Her husband, James, a 32-year-old truck driver, was taken to the Oakland County Jail pending further investigation by Oakland County sheriff's detectives and the prosecutor's office.

Capt. Leo R. Hazen said officers were called to the family home at 1525 Collier by Johnson about 9:30 p.m.

Johnson was holding his wife's body up against a sofa and apparently attempting to stem the flow of blood from the wound in her neck, Hazen said.

AUTOPSY TODAY

Pending an autopsy scheduled for today, cause of death was tentatively established as a single shot from a 38-caliber revolver.

Detectives were told that the couple had quarreled earlier in the evening about a new car recently bought by Johnson and damaged in an accident while being driven by his wife.

"I'd rather die than go through this," Johnson quoted.

Parks Budget OK'd for 1967

Advance to Be Asked for Development

Oakland County's Parks and Recreation Commission today approved a 1967 operating budget of $82,905.

Since voter-approved funds supporting the countywide park development program will not be received for another year, the commission will go to the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors to seek an advance of the budget requirement.

The first-year operating budget includes $28,198 in salaries for the administrative staff of the park development program.

Kenneth VanNatta, director of the parks development program and also director of lands and grounds for the county, will receive a total salary of $15,000.

This includes $9,000 from the county budget and $6,000 from the parks and recreation commission.

Other budget items include $4,000 for per diem and mileage allowance for commission meetings during 1967.

Also budgeted for 1967 was $10,000 for office operation, $10,000 for a Davisburg Park capital outlay, $37,257 in reserve for land purchases and options and $1,458 in capital outlay for office equipment.

In other action today, the commission agreed to take over the operation of the Davisburg Golf Course from the county but will retain the same manager for the operation that grosses about $23,000 annually.

"I'd like the city to consider very carefully their projected future revenues," Casselman told Warren and City Attorney Philip A. Rowston.

In addition, I think both sides should consider (in a private meeting) all the possible alternatives in the situation."

At any rate, both parties' caucus committees agreed to meet again Friday and to submit their proposals in writing.

Apparently, most of the discussion at the closed-door meeting involved a Democratic proposal that patronage and power in the House be shared.

The Republicans want to elect the House officers from their own ranks and put majorities on all House committees.

"Both parties are now closer to an agreement," said the Democrat, Rep. William A. Ryan of Detroit, "but what the outcome will be, no one can say."

The Republican, GOP House leader Robert Waldron, termed the co-leadership idea "corresponsibility and said his party is still opposed to it."

Vows to Fight Seating of Rep. Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Daniel Van Deeren, D-Calif., said today he will move to prevent Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., from taking his seat in the new Congress unless Powell meets the requirements of court orders.

The New Yorker has been sentenced to jail by the New York State Supreme Court for criminal contempt arising from his nonpayment of a judgment levied against him for alleged defamations.

Van Deeren said that because of this action "Powell would not be allowed to enlist in the Army, nor would he be accepted by Selective Service."

The Californian continued in a statement: "It would be a monstrous perversion of patriotism and morality if a man who would be barred from serving his country in uniform because of unlawful acts should be a voice in policies which affect the lives of men who do serve."

SET EXAMPLE

"At a time when great criticism is being directed at young people for lack of morals and unethical practices, it is more than ever the responsibility of Congress to set an example for moral and ethical conduct."

Specifically, the city plans in 1967 to provide at least a $45,000 storm drain in order to handle the segregated flow from part of the Fisher Body plant, which plans extensive work to separate a portion of its own internal combined sewer system.

In order for Osman Lake to achieve the maximum benefit from the Fisher Body work, the city should do about $300,000 worth of separation construction, according to Joseph E. Neippling, director of public works and services.

Plans for such work would cost about $115,000. The money would come from the sewage disposal fund and surplus.

Neippling, in a report to the commission, said that ordering the plans would exhibit the city's "firm evidence of good faith," although not meeting the state's time table.

Neippling said the $300,000 worth of work would take the bulk of industrial wastes out of Osman Lake. Residents of the area strongly complained last year of the lake's polluted condition.

The bribery trial of White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz was scheduled to begin today following the indictment of a jury.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer is presiding over the trial.

Cheyz, 39, is charged with conspiracy to bribe and bribery in connection with a Township zoning matter.

The allegations were brought against Cheyz by the Oakland County one-man grand jury April.

Two other counts, conspiracy to extort and extortion, were dismissed against Cheyz following his preliminary examination in June before Waterford Township Justice Kenneth Hempstead.

House Leaders Fail to Agree

Stip's Dems, GOP Split on Arrangement

LANSING (AP) — Republican and Democratic House leaders got together formally yesterday for the first time since the Nov. 8 election. They apparently didn't agree on very much.

After the meeting, a Democratic spokesman said his party still favors a shared-leadership arrangement in the equally divided House, and a Republican spokesman said the GOP still opposes such a setup.

At any rate, both parties' caucus committees agreed to meet again Friday and to submit their proposals in writing.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

New Drug Can Reduce Prostate Gland

Q—A few months ago I was found to have a prostatic tumor. I am taking Stilbestrol daily and it has helped me. Will I have to take it indefinitely?

A—If such side effects as nausea, headache, or water-logging occur, an adjustment of the dosage now being taken should clear them up. The drug should be taken continuously for two to three months.

Q—If a prostate has been enlarged for several years is there any drug that will reduce it? I am taking Gantanol. Is an operation necessary for permanent relief?

A—Gantanol is a sulfa drug that is given to prevent or control the bladder infection that is so often associated with an enlarged prostate.

Depending on conditions, your surgeon may want to remove the entire gland or only the portion that is obstructing the free flow of urine.

Giving drugs to reduce the size of an enlarged prostate was considered unsatisfactory until very recently.

A hormone derivative, hyaluronate, or water-logging occur, an adjustment of the dosage now being taken should clear them up. The drug should be taken continuously for two to three months.

Q—What is the treatment for a hydatid mole? Should a woman try to conceive again after having one of these removed? A—A hydatid mole is a degeneration of the chorion (the outermost layer of the developing embryo). This membrane develops thousands of small cysts or blisters.

As soon as the diagnosis is made, the pregnancy must be interrupted because of the danger of the development of a chorioepithelioma—a form of cancer.

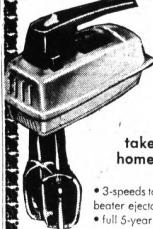

After recovery, a woman should report any unusual bleeding to her doctor promptly because a chorioepithelioma may occur several months after the mole has been removed.

Further attempts at conception should be discouraged but, if pregnancy should occur, the woman should be carefully watched for a recurrence of the hydatid mole.

'Jenny' Dressed for Occasion

Orion-Oxford Art Show to Open

The spotlight is on talented people this week in the Lake Orion-Oxford area, but for a while it was on a nude statue called "Jenny."

The headless, armless and legless statue graced the lobby of the Lake Orion branch of Community National Bank of Pontiac.

"Jenny" was part of a display featuring the work of area artists. A janitor, afflicted with modesty and a sense of humor, clothed her in a bikini one night so her appearance might be more decorous in keeping with atmosphere of the bank.

Nevertheless the subject is art—oil painting, water colors,

She now takes sculpting lessons in Birmingham on Thursdays and goes in Monday to work in the studio.

There are several male members of the group, including a doctor and a retired fireman. Some of the women members like Bea Bellinger and Joan Brace have been in national art shows.

Few of the art ventures were acquainted with each other before their club's organization. All feel now that it's something they've been waiting for.

School Site Contract Let

FARMINGTON — The board of education Monday night awarded a contract on site improvements at Eagle Elementary School and O.E. Dunkel Junior High School totaling $6,942.

The contract was awarded to the Universal Asphalt and Paving Co. for paving of the parking lot and for a new bridge over a stream, and parking lot expansion at Dunkel.

Training Plan Given Okay

OXFORD — A plan for on-the-job training for high school students was given the green light last night in Oxford.

The board of education approved a program presented by Ernest Gruenberg, business education teacher.

Gruenberg said he will seek federal help. He said he hopes to initiate a program soon with clerical and food store help.

Library. Mrs. Carruthers' terra cotta statue of "Jenny" graces the table. The show will continue through Dec. 23.

ON DISPLAY — Mrs. Calvin Darbee (left) displays her watercolor for Mrs. John Carruthers prior to the Art Ventures Club show beginning tomorrow night at the Lake Orion Library.

A former Works Progress Administration (WPA) artist during the depression, Mrs. Benetti recalls days of that era when she painted murals for the government. One of them hung in the Oxford High School until it was recently taken down and reclaimed by the artist.

Another active member is Mrs. Damien Jarzembowski, 24, of 9 Pontiac, Oxford. The mother of two small children, she studied at the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts.

While her field is mainly interior decorating, she feels the painting she's able to do now gives more balance to her life as her small children take most of her time.

Mrs. John Carruthers, 631 Butler, Lake Orion, has been interested in art "off and on for years." Though having no formal training to start, Mrs. Carruthers has worked with oils, copper, aluminum, leather, cer-

Red Underground Seen as Threat to South Korea

By RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. TOKYO (NEA) — Behind the strong U.S. warning to North Korea is a war not mentioned in the headlines.

North Korean military raids, kidnappings and atrocities aimed at American soldiers in attacks across the Korean armistice zone are only part of the picture.

They may be diversionary maneuvers aimed at strengthening a Red Korean underground buildup in South Korea that began covertly about five years ago.

This buildup has U.S. officials worried. It is following the early pattern of South Viet Nam, northeast Thailand and Laos. Here is the story of that other underground war as pieced together from private talks with men with access to South Korean police and military sources:

A man named Kim one night was taken aboard a "fishing boat" off a small coastal village in North Korea.

Kim had been to a school for preparing Red agents. He was trained to ferret out a list of selected military targets in South Korea.

He carried a radio with which he could send reports to his superiors in North Korea. At specific times he would tune in for instructions and to pass on his information. He was armed with a revolver.

Other agents on the same boat with Kim had been trained at another school. One of these men was Sun.

Sun had a different mission—to get in touch with some cousins in South Korea, attempt to get them to protect and hide him.

His job would be to develop a small Communist cell in the village in which his cousins live.

The "fishing boat" Kim and Sun boarded had a souped-up engine so that it could elude South Korean patrols.

It landed a handful of men at an isolated spot on the South Korean coast. From then on, except for radio contact, the men would be on their own.

This North Korean agent penetration has been steadily increasing since 1961.

Today, North Korea is sending men like Kim and Sun into South Korea at the rate of about 200 a year, double the rate of a year ago.

These agents have done some killing. But it is believed the Red organization in South Korea is not yet strong enough to operate widespread political, terrorist or guerrilla efforts on a sustained basis.

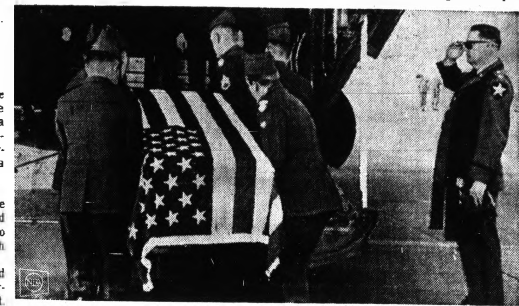

But the South Korean police have found that these armed agents of late have tended to shoot their way out of tough situations.

Then, too, some agents find themselves up against counter-propaganda for driving to resist.

There are bright spots in the picture. Considerable numbers of these agents are being captured. Their neighbors and relatives are reporting them to the police.

The relatives they have been sent to sell on working with the South Korea's police are developing secret intelligence methods to meet the agent buildup.

YANKS KILLED — U.S. military police-men killed at the Korean truce line are given military rites. Some observers believe such attacks are part of a Red military buildup.

'BURN THEM OUT' — A U.S. tank probes a jungle area in Viet Nam with a flame thrower while searching for Viet Cong troops. The tank is serving with Marines south of Da Nang, helping to flush hidden Cong guerrillas.

Mekong Delta Poses Toughest Yank Test

(EDITOR'S NOTE — U. S. delta than anywhere else in the country. U.S. infantrymen will soon move into the delta because the stalemate there between Communist forces and the Vietnamese army threatens to negate the hard-won American military gains to the north in War Zone C, the central plateau, the high lands and the northern coast.

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's Mekong River delta looks like an Oriental picture postcard land. Symmetrical paddy fields sweep in checkboard patterns to the horizon. Sloped roof pagodas painted scarlet and yellow splash vivid colors amongst the green jungle hedgerows.

Brown, lazy waterways and canals wind 25,000 navigable miles across the landscape.

But to U.S. military planners, the lush delta is the ugliest part of Viet Nam, a place to be avoided unless there is no other choice.

NONE LEFT

There is no other choice now. The beautiful delta might well be where the ugliest chapter of the Viet Nam war is written for the United States.

The problem in the Mekong Delta is that there are too many people, an estimated 7 million clustered among the myriad estuaries of the Mekong River that break out like veins across the countryside.

An aggressive American military stance among these millions might label the U.S. forces a colonialist army, a tag avoided up to now because American forces have been deployed where there are fewer people and more room to fight the war.

The fantastic firepower of American artillery pieces and fighter bombers that has meant the difference between defeat and victory in many battles to the north could wreak havoc among the delta's crowded civilian population.

BIGGER PROBLEM

American troops will find the enemy harder to identify in the

The Viet Cong's extensive delta organization continues to feed large quantities of men, supplies and money to units further north.

According to current American thinking, two American infantry brigades will move south initially.

HUGE COST

But a really effective U.S. military deployment into the region would require a full infantry division, with supporting units, at an initial cost of at least a billion dollars.

Anything less than that effort, according to the best informed American and Vietnamese sources, would result in a mere picking at the edges of the problem, without gaining any lasting change.

An infantry division is considered by these experts as the minimum American force needed to begin carving through the military stalemate in the delta battlefields.

A delta division would have more helicopters than normally allotted because the "eagle flight" — the rapid, sudden assaults on enemy positions in leapfrog patterns — would be a major fighting tactic.

SUPPORT BOATS

River craft, such as the fiberglass "swimmer support boats" already satisfactorily tested in the delta, would be required in a division inventory, along with larger river craft to move troops on the delta waterways.

A larger inventory of light armor would be needed, such as the M113 armored personnel carrier which in some delta areas has been used with devastating effect. Heavy tanks have proved worthless in the soft delta soils.

A delta division would need also a considerable psychological warfare budget if it followed the pattern of American units now in the country. These are spending millions of dollars on pacification programs in their immediate areas. There are reports that American military involvement in pacification will be increased next year.

Based on the estimated cost of the Viet Nam war ($25 billion in the current fiscal year), the billion-dollar expense sheet for a divisional move into the delta is realistic and might even be low, the best informed U.S. sources say. If the American effort grows larger, the costs would rise proportionately, they say.

BITTER WAR

Once American troops enter the delta they will face countless months of bitterly frustrating war. Their patience will be strained and endurance tested to a degree not yet encountered in Viet Nam.

The delta war prospects are bleak, which accounts for the reluctance of U.S. planners to make any southern move before this time.

The enemy in the delta was born and raised there, often winning a place in crack battalions by proving loyalty in combat as coolie ammunition bearers or by poisoning up battlefields. Only when he showed discipline under fire could a Viet Cong win his spurs with a regular unit.

Sons have followed fathers into Viet Cong ranks since French punitive expeditions sailed south from Saigon against the Viet Minh, who found a fertile field for their activities in the delta. To be a Viet Cong is to be a nationalist and a village hero, not a Communist, in much of the delta.

TOUGH TROOPS

Years of war have taught the Viet Cong every aspect of guerrilla war. The bedraggled farmer in black pajamas and straw hat stealthily laying ambush to an unwary government troop column is not a cliché in the delta. Hard-core enemy troops rarely wear uniforms, and no North Vietnamese regulars have been encountered south of the Saigon area.

The Delta Viet Cong are masters of camouflage, adapting their disguises like chameleons to the multicolored panorama — rice straw as they cross the paddy fields, muddied faces in canals, green leaves on their backs in a pineapple plantation.

They can hide in a pond under the lotus blossoms, breathing through a rice straw, or plunge out of sight into a canal presumably drowning but actually crawling safe and sound into a tunnel with an underwater entrance.

The delta battalions know every inch of the countryside they fight upon, splitting into squads and using even public buses between villages, their weapons hidden among vegetable bags. Deployed across a province, one battalion can strike at a score of places and reassemble next afternoon.

In opposition to American troops in the delta will be 22 well-trained Viet Cong battalions armed with recoilless rifles, heavy machine guns and light automatic weapons. In addition, there is a large guerrilla force, bringing the enemy's delta force up to an estimated strength of 85,000 armed men.

Street in Rome May Be Glass

Ruins of Lavish Villa
Would Be on Display

ROME (AP) — There's a plan afoot to pave Rome's swankiest shopping street with glass.

If it works, tourists in Via Frattina could stare down in to the ruins of one of the most lavish villas any Roman ever built with the wealth of conquest.

Archaeologists believe that beneath the street is the villa of that bon vivant, Lucius Licinius Lucullus, the general who conquered Armenia and governed part of Asia in the 1st century B.C.

The sumptuous villa and its gardens began under what is now the Piazza di Spagna and extended 942 feet, the full length of what is now Via Frattina.

TIBER FLOODS

It was wrecked by invading Vandals, then covered by the silt of floods from the Tiber.

Every time a sewer or telephone tunnel has been dug in the area, broken columns and parts of mosaic have been found.

The campaign to put it all under glass was started by Dr. Vittore Querel, owner of an art gallery. He says he and all other shop owners along the street might be able to cover a large share of the cost.

All ruins beneath the street would be uncovered and restored. Then it would be paved with glass.

Aussies Fear Extinction of Rare Animals

By Science Service
SYDNEY, Australia — Australian conservationists are fighting to protect the kookaburra—and the wombat and the platypus—and a host of other animals that have come to be identified with the island continent.

They fear that many of them—already becoming rare—face extinction unless drastic action is taken soon by the state government of New South Wales, Australia, to protect them.

A group of leading conservationists have warned the government that parts of New South Wales were threatened with the same fate as vast tracts of Africa, where wild animal life had been wiped out.

The conservationists are officials of the N.S.W. Institute of Freshwater Fisheries. They criticized the Premier, W. R. Askin, for not keeping a promise to establish a fish and wildlife authority.

The officials of the institute claimed:

• That many rare and protected animals and fish were being illegally caught, and sometimes slaughtered because of inadequate control of wildlife regulations.

• That fauna protection was a Cinderella in the eyes of the government and starved of funds.

• That N.S.W. was 30 years behind America and some Australian states in fauna protection and control.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOON'S SURFACE

QUESTION: What is the moon made of?

ANSWER: Astronomers say the moon is a large ball of rock. In about three years, America plans to land astronauts on the moon in the Apollo project.

They should be able to bring back samples which will tell us more about what this rock is like, for we know little as yet. However, we have recently found out facts about the surface of the moon — facts something very important for the Apollo astronauts to know.

The experts were uncertain about this; some thought it was covered with fine dust (A) in which an astronaut might sink. Others (B) believed the surface to be smooth.

But when the United States landed a wonderful robot machine, Surveyor 1, on the surface of the moon, it was able to send back more than 11,000 photographs.

We show Surveyor in position, with the moon's surface, as suggested by its picture, pock-marked by large and small craters made by falling meteors.

FOR YOU TO DO: Experts now feel sure that astronauts can walk on the moon's surface. There will be many newspaper reports. Watch for them.

Soviets See Peking Leaders Near Showdown

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Soviet and European Communist reports leave the reader with the impression that the Moscow camp sees Red China's leadership on the threshold of a showdown clash and an ensuing violent political explosion.

Moscow seeks a world Communist conference which, in effect, would read the current Red Chinese leadership out of the revolutionary movement — but not the Chinese Communist party as such.

With slashing attacks unmatched in vehemence since the days of Nikita S. Khrushchev, Moscow has rejoined the battle of verbal brickbats with Peking.

For all the vigor of the attack, it is a careful one which expresses "deep respect for the Chinese people and for Chinese Communists."

Perhaps, in Moscow's thinking, the forces now pushing the "great proletarian cultural revolution" in Red China and spearheading the attack on the Soviet party may not be the ultimate winners.

SOVIET BELIEF

A series of Moscow commentaries suggest a Soviet belief — or possibly a wish — that Lin Biao, her apparent to Mao Tse-tung, and those who support him have been digging their own graves.

These commentaries hint that the current leaders have done

some incredible things. They have broken up the Central Committee of the Young Communist League and virtually dismantled that important organization of nine million mid-generation Communists. They have destroyed the Peking City party committee. They have disbanded staffs of important papers. They have dismantled the party organization of Peking University.

One Soviet commentator said this was "only the beginning" of a vast nationwide shakeup to suppress "even the slightest dissent" with the current exposure are presented at a Moscow two-day conference on bone marrow transplantation and radiation protection at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

abroad. It suggests that Mao Tse-tung and Lin Biao are acting desperately to prevent a "palace coup."

The commentaries point out that the Lin Biao group has attacked Communist party committees at all levels from local to provincial, and has caused a least a score of provincial and city party committees to be declared "counterrevolutionary and revisionist."

Radiation Report

YOUTH RAMPAGE

The implication is that an enormous reservoir of Communist youth have been humiliated and pushed aside by youngsters 14 to 18 years of age—the Red Guards who have been on a rampage since mid-August.

Reports from the Czechoslovak news agency's Peking correspondent suggest that Chinese military is in charge of the purge, but that Defense Ministry Lin is opposed by still powerful men. These include President Liu Shao-chi and Teng Hsiao-ping, the party's general secretary.

The agency reports that Peking students have denounced Liu as a "time bomb" threatening Mao. It said the leaflets depicted Liu and Teng as No. 1 and 2 bosses of a "black gang" trying to halt the cultural revolution, and declared that "the anti-party reactionary line will not be liquidated" until the two are deposed.

Malaria Threat Said Slim

By Science Service . . . Panasil also an effective combination in treating malaria.

WASHINGTON—Chances are that malaria will become a health problem in the United States, in spite of the recent influx of military personnel infected with malaria returning from Southeast Asia.

Dr. David Sencer, chief of the Communicable Diseases Center in Atlanta, Ga., told a meeting of the World Health Organization that evidence accumulated over the last 15 years indicates a "relatively low malaria potential" in this country.

However, in view of the fact that increasing numbers of travelers, missionaries, Peace Corps workers and others are coming home from places where malaria is prevalent, malariologists are on the look-out for possible cases.

More reliable techniques for their detection are needed, he reported.

Col. William D. Tigert, director of the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, Washington, D.C., told Science Service that the minimal number of carrier mosquitoes in the urban places where many of the returnees go may account for the low incidence of malaria.

NOT SINGLE CASE

In the last year, he said, he has not heard of a single case of P. falciparum malaria transmitted in the United States.

P. falciparum malaria is the strain dominant in Viet Nam's jungles and is resistant to traditional chloroquine therapy.

One report from Walter Reed shows success in treating this resistant-strain with sulfones given with chloroquine and quinine.

Another study indicated that Daraprim (pyrimethamine), and a long-acting sulfonamid called

Congressmen Fill the Bill

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — Columnists, pundits, soothsayers and other occult types have been busy since the election making predictions about next year's congressional session.

Not wanting to be left out, I also have spent a lot of time examining the roster of new congressmen and the list of defeated incumbents.

Here are my forecasts as to what to expect in the way of legislation:

Highways — legislation to charge motorists a fee for driving on the Federal Interstate System is doomed.

Rep. George M. Rhodes, D-Pa., was reelected but his colleague, Rep. Herman Toll, D-Pa., has retired. Therefore, there will be no Toll-Rhodes bill.

MORE MONEY
Instead, Congress will appropriate more money for the primary highway system. This prospect arose with the victory of Rep.-elect Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa.

He will be able to join incumbent Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., in introducing a Mayne-Rhodes bill.

It is unlikely, however, that Congress will set aside parking places along the highways for the use of courting couples.

Although Reps. John Young, D-Tex., and Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio, were both reelected, the defeat of Rep. Rodney M. Love, D-Ohio, kills chances for either a Young-Love or a Devine-Love bill.

TWO-WHEELERS

Equally dim are prospects for legislation to build special roadways for two-wheeled vehicles.

Rep. Carlton R. Sickles, D-Md., gave up his seat to run for governor. Thus he will be unable to join Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., in sponsoring a Bayh-Sickles bill.

Censorship—advocates of federal law requiring women to keep their navels covered in public were encouraged by the victory of Rep.-elect Daniel E. Button, R-N.Y., but no logical cosponsor is available.

The best they can hope for is support from Rep. Thomas M. Pelly, R-Wash., making possible

Annual Table Exhibit Shown Wednesday

By MADELEINE DOEREN
Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association staged its annual holiday table exhibit at a Christmas tea, Tuesday, in the YWCA parlors.

Mrs. D. B. Eames and Mrs.

W. Ross Thompson were co-chairmen for the gala event with Mrs. Bruce Annett and Mrs. William Mack social chairmen.

The wide stairway decorated by Mrs. William C. Rogers led to an upstairs shop offering holiday decorations, boutique items and pantry delicacies.

Christmas store co-chairmen were Mrs. Robert Oliver II and Mrs. Richard Zimmerman, with Mrs. F. J. Poole in charge of store displays.

Wreaths and parlor decor were hung by Mrs. Jerome Fink, Mrs. Robert Castell and Mrs. Ben Jerome Jr.

Besides the tables pictured were others of equal interest. Pink carnations and Scotch pine in a gold container centered Mrs. J. R. Greenhalgh's supper table laid with applied pink net.

HOLIDAY THEMES

A hobnail glass basket held Scotch pine and holly with crimson velvet ribbon for a snack table done by Mrs. J. Standish Sibley and Mrs. Edmund Rogers.

Holly-pattern china and napkins, red candles in holly holders on a forest green cloth completed the setting.

Cobalt blue candles in figurine holders on a bed of white snapdragons and flat fern made a cozy 'tea for two' setting by Mrs. E. M. Buckley.

Snowy white damask was a perfect foil for Mrs. D. W. Martin's table centered with a square tree of bright red feathers flanked by red candles in silver holders.

Mrs. A. W. Selden designed a window mobile.

Mrs. Kenneth Vandenberg, general chairman, designed the mantel decor.

Alternating at the tea table were Mesdames Harold Fitzgerald, Walter Willman, Arthur Young, William Hartman, Robert Isgrig, William Maybury, Arnold Jerome, Edward Buckley, Mrs. Vandenberg and Mrs. Selden.

Antique Meissen candelabra with blue candles grace Mrs. Chauncey Burke's formal dinner table laid with a white embroidered cloth over green. Antique Rhine wine glasses complement the Currier and Ives china.

Sen. Percy Confirms Engagement

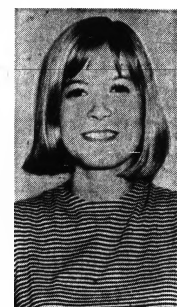

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP) — Republican Sen.-elect Charles H. Percy announced Tuesday his daughter, Sharon Lee, 21, will marry John D. Rockefeller IV in March.

Rockefeller, 29, scored an election victory as a Democratic nominee for the West Virginia Legislature. Percy, 47, ousted three-term incumbent Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas in Illinois.

Rockefeller graduated from Harvard, served as an adviser with the Peace Corps and has worked in the State Department.

Miss Percy attended Brimmont School in Lausanne, Switzerland, and was graduated cum laude from Stanford University. She spent the summer in Africa working with Operation Crossroads Africa and returned in August to help her father in his campaign for the Senate.

She Does It Herself

Housewifery Her Career

By JEANNE NELSON

Mrs. Linn Stille of Troy flies through the preparations of a gourmet dinner as effortlessly as her husband pilots a private jet plane across country for General Motors Corporation.

"No women's clubs for me," claims fun-loving Roseanne, She much prefers to spend the afternoon refinishing a piece of furniture or testing a new recipe.

When the Stilles' two sons, John and Steve, were growing up, their mother centered activities around them. A day at the art museum was a lark.

And during high school years the crowd always gathered at the Stille home for those fresh-from-the-oven goodies Roseanne always seemed to produce at a moment's notice.

Now John is married with a small daughter of his own whom Grandma spoils every chance she gets. Steve is away at college and at last there is time for other things.

WENT TO OU

This included taking the testing and counseling program at Oakland University's Continuum Center for Women. Her test results indicated a high interest level in public contact, literature and homemaking.

With her husband away much of the time, she felt the need of one definite commitment not involving too much time. Elizabeth Wright, volunteer adviser for the Center checked on area volunteer possibilities.

Many volunteer jobs called for more hours than Mrs. Stille could give. Others demanded skills she didn't have.

After a long search, Miss Wright found the present one-day-a-week assignment.

The task was to work with a troubled child through an area agency. Becoming friends was the first step. This took some time.

Sometimes they just talk. Recently they have done tapestry of which the child is justly proud.

Using the agency's kitchen facilities, Mrs. Stille has been able to interest the child in cooking and baking. A breakthrough has come for both of them.

The rest of Roseanne's week is filled with lessons in gourmet cooking, impromptu luncheons with friends and coaxing her daughter-in-law to go out so she can baby sit with her granddaughter.

If her husband will be delayed for a few days on one of his trips, she often hops a commercial jet and joins him.

The pilots' wives are a closely knit group who depend a great deal on each other's company. Most of these families come from different parts of the nation. Thanksgiving is always spent as a group.

No one loves a party more than Roseanne who always answers an invitation with "Don't know if Linn will be here but I'll come."

More often than not, it's she who gives the party. Planning one for 40 is like falling off a log for this energetic hostess.

Some of her free time is spent in exchanging letters with a woman in Bombay, India, whose husband, a dentist, is considered among the upper class of that country. Says Mrs. Stille, "You would think this family lives rather well."

But the woman asked Roseanne not to send color brochures on her automobiles to her teen sons "because many things over here are so inferior and the boys would not understand why Americans had such fine things when they are denied them."

The two women also exchange recipes and talk of the differences in educational facilities.

We persuaded Roseanne to give us one of her favorite gourmet recipes which appears on another page in the Women's section today.

The Continuum Center will be offering their testing and counseling program during the day at Oakland University starting Jan. 5. Another day session begins at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Feb. 14. The evening class will be held in Our Savior Lutheran Church at Middle Belt and Maple Roads, beginning March 7.

Mme. Ginette Spanier, directress of the world famous fashion house of Balmain will appear at Birmingham Town Hall Thursday and Friday at 11 a.m. in the Birmingham Theater.

MME. GINETTE SPANIER

Directress Will Speak

Birmingham Town Hall will present Mme. Ginette Spanier directress of Pierre Balmain House of Fashion, Paris, on Thursday and Friday at 11 a.m. in the Birmingham Theater.

Working haute couture for more than 15 years, Mme. Spanier keeps a sense of humor about her work. She does not designing herself and claims she wouldn't know where to put a button.

"Elegance at the House of Balmain equates simplicity," says the vivacious Parisienne.

"It's not elegant for lines to change each year — that's gimmicky. There must be evolution in line, but nothing radical."

Josh Loran, Broadway producer, persuaded her to write an autobiography "It Isn't All Mink" which in turn led to American lecture tours.

Polly's Pointers

Cut Slice First

DEAR POLLY—I have been a housekeeper for 50 years, but I am still learning. Last week I fixed a big plate of deviled eggs to take to a picnic dinner. They were sliding and tipping over on their sides.

I thought of cutting off a small slice from the bottom of each half and they "stayed put" just beautifully. Now I do this as I peel them. It is so simple I wondered why I had never thought of it before.—B.L.

DEAR POLLY — Is there anything that will keep the surface of my child's slide slick? I have tried floor wax, car polish and rubbing it with waxed paper, but the children still stick to it as they try to slide down.—MRS. G. J. S.

DEAR POLLY—If you have a window over the kitchen sink—the kind that pushes up and down—attach the fixtures for the sash or cafe curtain to the frame that encloses the glass so the curtain will go up when the window is raised. There will be no more wet curtains and you will have more fresh air while working at the sink.—EILEEN

DEAR POLLY—This is for J. R. who has washable leather gloves that are stiff and unwearable after washing. Soak them in pure white vinegar with no water added and, after they are dry, stretch them by becoming ice and soft. I have found that this makes them softer each time you do it.—M. M.

DEAR GIRLS—This treatment made a pair of washable pigskin gloves that I had given up on when they were again. After squeezing out the water you must still blow inside before leaving them to dry.

Just before they are really dry put them on, rub and smooth until they are soft and a good fit. If a slight vinegar odor lingers, dust scented talcum on the inside of the gloves after they are thoroughly dry.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Do tell J. R. to first wash her leather gloves in lukewarm mild soap suds, then add one teaspoon of cooking oil to the lukewarm rinse water. Dry in paper towels and shape on the hands when they are just about dry.—LILLIAN

GIRLS—This, too, is good but do remember that even washable leather gloves will not launder satisfactorily after they have been dry cleaned.—POLLY

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaker idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Babies Suffer Growing Pains

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some babies cry a great deal more than others in the first few months of an apparently healthy life.

The reason, a team of investigators finds, is that they are almost literally suffering from "growing pains." "Medical World News," a publication for doctors, reporting on the development noted that normal bone growth at that age can cause a painful swelling of flesh, especially in plump infants.

Vows were taken by Maryanne Lewis and Robert Hugh Chrisman of Senkell Street, Pontiac Township, Saturday, in the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis of Auburn Road, Pontiac Township and the C. H. Chrismans of Utica.

Re-emembered Alencon lace highlighted the bride's sheath gown and cathedral train of white peau de soie worn with silk illusion veil. Her bouquet held white roses and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Lewis, with bridesmaids Linda Teasdale, Sharon Parrett and Janet Chrisman. Keith Chrisman carried the rings for the candlelight ceremony.

The bridegroom had Ronald Sadler for best man. Ushers included Timothy Phillips, Gary Delorme and Robert Lewis.

After the church reception the couple left for a northern wedding trip.

Dads to Be Are Advised by Doctors

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — She's going to have the baby but you, Mister, are about to become the father.

Aid to prepare husbands for the big event, especially first timers, the California Medical Association offered these suggestions:

— Accompany your wife on her first visit to the doctor's office and get instructions and explanations first hand. Know what to expect in matters such as weight gain, diet, hygiene, travel, exercise.

— Be a little more considerate while your wife is pregnant. Take her to dinner more often, for a walk in the fresh air and don't belittle symptoms such as morning sickness.

— Help a bit in the final months with housework, back rubs and encouragement.

Then the big day arrives. Many doctors suggest the new father bring a transistor radio, books, puzzles or office work. Other suggest the husband go home or back to the job.

Avoid Overdrafts on Your Account

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) — Asking the bank to pay out more money than you paid in is embarrassing and can affect your credit rating.

Avoid overdrafts by making sure you have an accurate record of your bank balance, urges Mrs. Clara Leopold, extension home management specialist at the University of Nebraska.

When writing checks, she suggests filling out the stub first. Another tip: simple signatures are less apt to be forged. Sign your name plainly.

These little meat balls wait for tardy guests. They also freeze well after baking.

Place in shallow 9x13 pan, cover with one can condensed consommé and one can beef gravy.

Seal top of pan with aluminum foil. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour.

Combine cooked meat balls with:

Is She In the Wrong Business?

Teacher Has Lot to Learn

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the letter about the boy who tore off part of his lip when he ripped off the adhesive tape a teacher had placed over his mouth.

As a school teacher I object to your telling the boy's mother to, "Go to school and give the teacher some of YOUR lip."

IF a parent ever gave me any of her lip I'd give her a slap across the mouth. If parents don't like the way we discipline their children, why don't they discipline them at home!

FELLOW TEACHER

DEAR QUESTION: Good question. However, a teacher has the right to toss a student out of her class — only figuratively, that is.

A teacher who needs anything other than language to discipline a child, be it a ruler, a dunce cap, or adhesive tape, is in the wrong profession.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 19 and I am 18, and we have been married for 10 unhappy months. The five months we went together he said he loved me, and he acted like it. Now I'm not sure.

He told me the other night that he's been thinking a lot about his first love. He went with her for two years, then she married someone she'd known only a few weeks.

I asked him if he would go back to her if he could, and he said, "Yes, but I wouldn't want to break up my marriage." Then he hurt me awful bad when he said he didn't think he could ever love anybody else like he loved her.

Abby, I told him I loved him more than anything in the whole world and I would try my best to make him happy. He said, "That's the trouble, you love me too much."

I didn't know a person could love anybody too much, Abby. Can they? Please help me. It's so hard to give your love to a man when he has another woman on his mind. UNLOVED

DEAR UNLOVED: Your husband is right. You do love him too much. One loves "too much" only when that love is unreciprocated. Quit begging. Ask your husband if he wants to try to make a go of your marriage.

IF he does, he will see a clergyman, or a professional, counselor with you. Otherwise, face it. You'll be tied to a little boy who will be blubbering about his "first love" till the day he dies.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SO IN LOVE" IN AUSTIN: I think you're making a big mistake. The only married man worth waiting for is your own husband.

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

I am making a cocktail dress without sleeves and would like to cut my facing for the neckline and the armhole in one piece. Since I am making this dress sleeveless from a pattern with sleeves, I don't have this type of facing. Please tell me how to cut and proceed with it? Mrs. O. R.

Dear Mrs. O. R.:

This will answer many of you who have written me the same thing. Please cut these instructions out and put them with your valuable sewing hints. If you don't use it now, you will certainly wish you had it when you begin making sleeveless summer dresses.

● To cut the dress correctly when it called for sleeves, be sure to add 1/4 inch to the lower end of the armhole which would build it up closer to your underarm. Cut the facing with the same outline as the outer edges of your garment, front and back, making it about 2 1/2 inches wide as sketched.

● If garment needs interfacing, cut one for the neck only; the armholes do not need to be interfaced. If garment is to be completely underlined, cut underlining the same as the garment and treat as one piece, then cut a separate facing out of the garment fabric.

● When stitching the facing to the neckline and the armholes of your garment, end the stitching about 2 inches from the ends of the shoulder front and back, and back stitch or secure your stitching. If you have a long narrow strap (usually found in low-cut front or back necklines) do not keep the garment and the facing edges together at this area.

Instead, bring the garment fabric about 1/4 inch in from the edge of the facing on both sides of this section. (This will make the garment fabric seam a little full until it has been turned and pressed, but will prevent the facing from showing at the edges as it is likely to do if you keep the edges even.) Measure your 1/4 inch seam allowance from the facing, not the garment side.

● Grade and clip your seams (for the inner curved areas). Turn the front strap right side out and slip this into the back shoulder strap which is still unturned. The right sides of the shoulders (front and back) will be together. Stitch the shoulder seam, press seam open. Next, machine stitch the facing seams together at the shoulder and press open.

● Pull the finished strap out still further so that you may continue stitching each side of the strap (over the shoulder area that you left open originally). Grade these seams and pull back through to the right side of garment. You will find a perfect finish each time. It's almost like magic and if you've struggled with this detail before, it will seem like a dream come true.

If you can't understand all of this by just reading it, save it until you will actually be doing this construction, then follow each step carefully and I can guarantee that it will work!

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Olivia Chasing of Florissant, Mo., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for this suggestion.

For those of us who like snug-fitting belts, but do not like them to be binding—remove the belt from the buckle. Cut away the portion that was cut out to fit the prong of the buckle and sew about 2 inches of elastic to this cut end. Next, follow the same procedure as was used originally at this end of belt.

The elastic need not be a matching color. This portion of the belt will be hidden when worn. The belt will practically breathe with you! (Also, if a belt is too short, as sometimes happens with stout people, you can adapt this method to lengthen the belt and make it more comfortable at the same time.)

Special Carpet Now Available

NEW YORK CITY — A special type of carpet developed for heavy-duty use in hotels and theaters now is used in homes. The Latex Foam Rubber Council reports the carpet has a backing of high density latex foam rubber which gives it special properties.

This latex foam is not like the familiar foam used on the backs of throw rugs. The high density product is heavier, thicker, more resilient, and will not come off. The carpets also have a low pile to make walking and cleaning easier.

Relationship Important to This Query

By ELIZABETH L. POST
The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette," revised by Elizabeth L. Post, has been sent to Mrs. Ellen Pennell of Springfield, Mo.

Dear Mrs. Post: Please write about the etiquette of asking personal questions. In the give-and-take of social conversation, questions about personal opinions and experiences of the persons involved are asked and answered without offense being taken.

Just where does one draw the line between impertinent and allowable questions?

It is almost impossible to give a definitive answer to your question because of the importance of the relationship between the people involved.

To casual friends, business or professional acquaintances, or anyone else who could not be classified as "close" to you, it is wise to avoid personal questions of every sort.

I am not referring to questions about one's opinions on almost any subject; these are necessary to stimulating conversation. I am talking about questions regarding the listener's involvement in politics or religion, or about intimate, personal or family situations.

Almost every one, of course, has one or two friends with whom they are intimate enough to question each other on any conceivable subject.

To give an exact answer as possible, I would say that no question should ever be asked which could in any conceivable way, hurt the listener.

A perfect example was the young girl who asked a prospective boyfriend, "How could you go out with that boring girl?" "Because," he replied, "she's my sister."

DECORATE GRAVE

Dear Mrs. Post: I would appreciate your view on the subject of grave decorations. My son passed away recently and my husband thinks that the thing to do is to have a florist put flowers every week on the grave.

I think it seems so impersonal and would feel better taking a pot of flowers, wreath, etc., and putting them there myself. What do you think? — Rose G.

Dear Rose: To me it seems very impersonal to have a florist decorate the grave each week.

It would be a more fitting memorial to plant some flowering shrubs and green near the grave (if allowed) supplemented by pots of flowers or wreaths placed there by you when the occasion demands.

How and when to introduce people puzzles many. The book, "Introductions," gives helpful information on this subject.

To get a copy, send a dime and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Negro in Steady Migration From the Old Confederacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — American Negroes are steadily moving out of the South to the North and West and, if present trends continue, the majority of Negroes will no longer be living in the old Confederacy by 1970.

In the five years between 1960 and 1965, more than two million Negroes migrated from the South, Census Bureau and Labor Department studies show. In 1960, 60 per cent of the nation's 18.65 million Negroes lived in the South. Five years later, only 53.6 per cent of the nation's 20.94 million Negroes still lived below the Mason and Dixon Line.

The Census Bureau and Labor Department studies showed that Negroes have larger families but lower incomes and less schooling than whites.

A Census Bureau study of the Negro population indicated that, in general, Negroes fare better economically and educationally outside the South.

ANOTHER STUDY

But another study showed that more whites move from region to region than Negroes, whose change of address is more likely to be confined to the same state. In its studies, the bureau didn't attempt to detail reasons why the Negro migration from the South is continuing but one official said it is basically a matter of jobs.

The large-scale exodus began during the Northern manpower shortage of World War I, the official said, and it intensified during and after World War II.

Mechanization of Southern plantations, which once employed hundreds and even thousands of Negroes, is another reason not only for the exodus to the North and West but also for the movement of the Negro from the farm to the big city in the South, itself, an official added.

IN THE WEST

Census studies noted that the largest percentage increase in Negro population came in the West, especially California.

About 8.2 per cent of the Negro population lived in the West last year — compared with 5.7 per cent in 1960. Increases in the Northeast and north central states weren't as sharp although the over-all percentages were greater.

The bureau said 17.9 per cent of the Negro population lived in the Northeast last year — compared with 16 per cent in 1960 — while 20.2 per cent lived in the north central states — compared with 18.3 per cent in 1960.

The Census Bureau figures also indicate that many Negroes are not only migrating from the South but are moving westward from the Northern states as well.

CITY DWELLERS

The Labor Department, in assessing the economic and social position of the American Negro, said the vast majority of Negroes are city dwellers, even in the South where better than three out of every five Negroes live in urban areas.

And about half the Negroes in the six cities with the largest Negro populations — New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Washington and Los Angeles — were born elsewhere, chiefly in the South.

A Census Bureau study found that:

- Of the 4.4 million Negro in the U. S.

families, about half lived in the South.

- One of every four Negro adults had completed four years of high school or some college but in the South the proportion was one out of six. It was one out of three in the North and West.

- Negro families are larger in the South than in the North and West — 4.56 persons compared with 4.11 persons.

- Negro families in the South have lower incomes and more children to support than Negroes in the North and West.

CHANGED LITTLE

Actually, the department noted, the percentage of Negroes in the total population has changed little since the turn of the century and the greatest change has been in location — away from the South and farms and into the metropolitan areas.

The Census Bureau, in its mobility study, said about one in four Negroes had moved at least once between March, 1964 and March, 1965, compared with one in five ratio for whites.

Although Negroes were more mobile, their moves tended to be shorter, the bureau said. Only 16 per cent of the Negro movers went outside the county and only 9 per cent crossed state lines compared with 36 and 17 per cent respectively for whites.

Two Space Scientists Paint City of Future

BOSTON (AP) — Two space scientists said today that the aerospace industry should be enlisted to solve "the burgeoning problems of our sickening cities" and presented their own idea of the "super city" of the future.

In their ideal city, all residents would live in 100-story apartment buildings built in a circle around a vast recreational complex. There would be no automobile travel except for leaving the city, and each building would be filled with luxuries such as health and beauty resorts.

The concept was outlined in a paper presented today at the annual conference of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

POPULATION HIKE

They said studies show the U.S. population will increase by 30 million persons in 10 years and that 320 million will be living in urban areas 50 years from now. Traffic, they said, will be unbearable.

Why should the aerospace industry be called upon to solve the problems?

The authors, Vernal M. Tyler and Carl F. Asiala Jr. of the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., St. Louis, Mo., reported their future city idea "has met with a most gratifying acceptance. And, of course, there have been detractors. All are unanimous in the feeling that something will have to be done."

Instead of further crowding existing cities, Tyler and Asiala suggested that new ones be built from scratch. Their ideal city, called a "modular, circumferential city," might not be the perfect solution but could be a base from which to work, they said.

DOUBLE CHECK

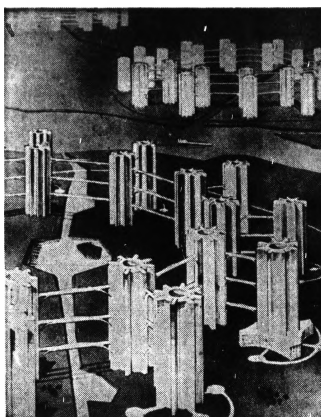

It would consist of 24 high-rise apartments in a double circle around the rim of the wheel-shaped city. It would house 250,000 persons, with parking on the lower floors, low-cost housing just above and the most expensive housing at the top of the 100-story structures.

Commercial areas, schools, theaters and government offices would be located throughout the complex. Transportation in the city would be by automated monorail, subway and moving sidewalk.

The one-mile diameter center of the city would have bicycle paths, golf courses, parks, streams and lakes — and no automobiles.

Continuous balconies would be on each floor, "analogous to a city's sidewalks, where people can intermingle and learn each other's names." Whole floors would be devoted to recreation and other facilities like sauna baths.

Tyler and Asiala said, "It might be well to undertake the development of at least one metropolis at once, so planners could gain experience, and government could learn what sorts of public policies are needed to induce industry and people to settle there."

A SUPER CITY — As a solution to the nation's crowded city condition, two aerospace scientists have suggested starting from scratch to build whole new cities such as shown in this artist's concept. Each apartment building in the one-mile-diameter complex would be 100 stories tall and the city would house 250,000.

Cancer Unit Says Again: Quit Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Cancer Society repeated today its plea for men and women to give up cigarette smoking "in order to protect themselves against cancer, emphysema and heart disease."

"However, those who continue the habit should be able to choose cigarettes with low tar and nicotine in the main stream of smoke," said Dr. Harold S. Diehl, the society's deputy executive vice president for research and medical affairs.

Diehl's statement came as the society presented a report at the Federal Trade Commission hearing on rules the FTC has proposed for use in testing cigarettes and reporting on their nicotine content.

Besides cancer society spokesmen, representatives of the tobacco industry and government experts are scheduled to testify at the hearing.

Diehl said the society is convinced that "it is in the interest of health to provide the public with information as to the tar and nicotine content of the smoke of the various brands of cigarettes on the American market."

He commended the commission "on the steps that it is taking to make this information available."

Before setting up its laboratory, the FTC wants opposing sides in the smoking-health controversy to agree on ground rules governing the testing.

The testing is expected to be done by machines that puff on cigarettes as a person does. After a measured amount of smoke passes through a filter, the filter is weighed to determine the amount of residue present.

POINTS TO CONSIDER

Among points to be decided are the butt length to which test cigarettes are smoked, the number of cigarettes that should be smoked to measure tar and nicotine content, how the test cigarettes should be selected and how the results of the tests should be reported to the public.

The cancer society's special committee on cigarette testing recommended that test cigarettes be smoked to a length of 2 1/2 inches, or just less than one inch, "for nonfilters and the length of the filter and overwrap, plus 3mm for filter cigarettes."

Results of the tests "described in adequate detail" should be made available to all interested parties, the committee said.

It added: "It is further recommended that at a later date, it may be desirable to group mean values into specific categories for tar and nicotine content ranging from very high to very low. Such identified groups being appropriately viewed may be more meaningful to the smoking public than specific values by themselves."

The U.S. Public Health Service, meanwhile, offered new statistics from death records to back up its claims about the alleged health perils of smoking, particularly cigarette smoking.

The report released Tuesday deals exclusively with death statistics which the Surgeon General's 1964 report had said were at least associated with smoking. Included are some maladies, such as lung cancer, which the 1964 report said are definitely caused by smoking.

The Tobacco Institute Inc., representing tobacco company viewpoints, had no immediate comment on the new report. It previously had said there is no acceptable evidence that prolonged exposure to nicotine creates either "dangerous functional change of an objective nature or degenerative disease."

Dirksen Backs Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen gave a GOP blessing today to President Johnson's plan to reduce spending by $3 billion — with the reservation that Congress may cut even deeper.

Dirksen said in an interview the $3-billion hold-down on administration programs — calculated to clip more than $3 billion in actual spending in the current fiscal year which ends next June 30 — tallies with figures congressional leaders were given at a conference at Johnson's Texas ranch last Friday.

The President did not detail in his announcement in Austin Tuesday where the cuts will be made. But Dirksen said he expects the presidential pruning knife to fall heaviest on the anti-poverty and public works programs — including highways — and on foreign aid.

"We Republicans welcome the reductions the President says he is going to make," Dirksen said. "But I made it clear to him that he should not expect these to close the door against further cuts."

'THAT'S IT'

Say 'Yes' to Vegetables

By JANET ODELL

During the holiday season, when rich food is the rule rather than the exception, it is good to have some plain down-to-earth recipes. Special vegetable dishes come in this category.

Onions don't have to be limited to topping hamburgers or being chopped up for inclusion in sauces. They're good eating on their own merits.

The French have a way with onions that is delicious. They put them in a custard tart called a Quiche (kesh). Sweet Spanish onions are best for this recipe.

CHEESE AND ONION TART
pastry
4 cups (1 quart) thin-sliced
3 tablespoons onions
2 tablespoons butter
4 slices cheese
1 cup shredded Swiss or Cheddar cheese
3 eggs
and 1/2 cups rich milk, light cream or undiluted evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Line 9-inch pie dish with pastry, making a fluted edge. Place in refrigerator.

Slice onions very thin, best done by not removing the skin until after slicing. Then they will slip right off. Start from the root end so that stem end serves as a handle. Cut slices in half.

Melt butter in heavy frying pan; add onions and cook very slowly until limp and transparent but not brown. Set aside to cool.

Fry bacon until brown but not quite cooked. Lift from fat; cut in 1-inch pieces. Shred cheese.

Note: The number of onions needed will depend upon their size. Two onions, about 4 inches across, will make a quart of thin onion slices.

Using a fork, whip eggs just until yolks and whites are blended. Add milk and seasonings. Place the cooled onions in the pastry shell; sprinkle over them the shredded cheese. Pour custard over onions and cheese.

For a deeper filling, use 4 eggs and 2 cups rich milk. Top with the bacon pieces.

Bake in a 450 degree F. oven for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake 25 to 30 minutes longer or until a silver knife inserted in the center of the custard comes out clean. Or use the one baking temperature of 400 degrees for about 40 minutes. Serve at once, cut in wedges. Makes six hearty servings.

Eggplant is a perfect vegetable for stuffing. The chopped center portion is combined with whole kernel corn and bread crumbs for an interesting main course.

BAKED STUFFED EGGPLANT
2 eggplants
1/2 cup chopped onion
4 tablespoons butter
3/4 cup soft bread crumbs

1 teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
2 tablespoons steak sauce
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn (2 1/2 cups)
1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives
1/2 cup grated American cheese

Wash eggplant and slice in half lengthwise; parboil 15 minutes. Remove center, and chop well. Brown chopped center in butter with crumbs, salt and pepper. Add steak sauce, corn and olives to mixture in pan and mix well. Fill eggplant shells with this mixture and top with grated cheese.

Place in baking dish and bake in 400-degree oven for 20 minutes. Serves 4-6.

For a more sophisticated

Avocados Hold Cranberry Relish

Use a holiday color scheme for serving fresh cranberry relish — in avocado halves.

Wash 4 cups of fresh cranberries and one orange. Put through food chopper, using medium blade. Add 2 cups of sugar and 1/4 cup of toasted slivered almonds. Mix well and chill.

Wash, halve and pit 3 ripe avocados. Brush cut edges with lemon juice. Fill cavities with cranberry orange relish, and top with mayonnaise or other salad dressing. Makes 6 servings.

CHEESE AND ONION PIE

dish serve celery with cream sauce and mushrooms.

The experts tell us to differentiate between a stalk and a rib of celery. The stalk is the whole bunch; a rib is one portion.

FRESH CELERY AND MUSHROOMS

2 stalks fresh celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced

Cut ribs of celery 5 inches long. Place in large skillet and add boiling water to cover, salt and pepper. Cover and cook until tender, about 10 to 15 minutes. Drain and reserve cooking liquid to use with milk in making Cream Sauce. Set aside cooked celery.

Melt butter in saucepan and saute sliced mushrooms. Place celery and mushrooms in serving dish and keep hot until serving with Cream Sauce over top.

Cream Sauce

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 cups liquid (celery stock and milk)

Melt butter in 1 quart saucepan. Blend in flour, salt and pepper; slowly add milk and reserved celery stock. Cook over low heat; stir constantly until medium thick. Spoon over fresh celery and mushrooms. Yield: 6 servings.

Are Charges Too High for Water-Sewer Tap-In?

By L. GARY THORNE

Is $7,000 an exorbitant charge for initial water and sewer service? City Commissioner and businessman Leslie H. Hudson sort of thinks so.

Hudson raised the question last night at the commission meeting after a city businessman had complained he was going to pay about $6,900 in tap-in fees for his proposed laundromat.

The district 4 commissioner explained how the charges resulted, claiming the city actually had another alternative.

Hudson said the tap-in fees were designed to accumulate a surplus to permit expansion of the city systems. Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. added that the city had been unable to get tax funds for such expansion.

Hudson said the issue was a simple question of whether such large tap-in fees were to be charged to individual businessmen, or service rates were to be raised. For example, he suggested a $1 increase in the quarterly sewage service charge.

'MORE EQUITABLE'

He claimed the same amount of money would be accumulated.

Hudson said the service rate increase would be a more equitable system. He pointed out that businesses which use more water pay for it in the service charges.

City Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr., who said he would not have approved the higher tap-in fee if he had known they were so high, cautioned that too many people already can't pay their water bills.

Hudson charged that many businesses in the city would not have been started if businessmen had known the high tap-in fees before they started building.

The north side commissioner also pointed out that the city had a "tremendous" number of vacant commercial lots. He said lower tap-in fees would encourage their development.

Noting the discussion, Taylor suggested the city manager arrange for a review of the tap-in charges for an informal meeting of the commission.

Ford, U.A.R. Reach Accord

Agreement Is Made
Over Customs Debts

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—United Arab Republic customs officials agreed yesterday to drop a seizure program against the Ford Motor Co. plant in Alexandria, a Ford spokesman announced.

Ford funds were frozen and all its property placed under administrative seizure last Thursday by U.A.R. customs authorities, who claimed Ford owed them $1.84 million in customs debts.

But it was generally believed the seizure was actually caused by an Arab League decision to boycott Ford and other American firms who refused to give assurances they would not trade with Israel.

The Ford spokesman said agreement had been reached in meetings between Treasury Minister Dr. Nazih Deif and Ford manager for Egypt, Hans Stock.

The U.A.R. minister agreed to accept a bank letter of credit guaranteeing Ford payment of 500,000 Egyptian pounds ($1,150,000).

Egyptian authorities had previously rejected this offer because it represented only slightly more than half of the claimed debt of 800,000 Egyptian pounds.

Fire Results in Deaths of 3 Girls, Man

SAGINAW (AP)—A flash fire in a house near Saginaw killed three tiny sisters Tuesday night and a 79-year-old neighbor died of a heart attack while running to help.

Killed by the blaze were three children of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stroik: Dawn Marie, 4; Tammy Sue, 2; and Michelle, 9 months.

A neighbor, Herman Wagner, heard Mrs. Stroik scream for help. He ran toward the house and dropped dead from a heart attack.

Mrs. Stroik suffered first-degree burns of the face and hands when she attempted to enter a front door of the house five miles west of Saginaw. She had been outside shoveling snow. Mrs. Stroik was hospitalized at Saginaw, along with her husband who was treated for shock.

Firemen said there was an explosion, and a bedroom of the one-story home burst into flames. They said the children died from burns and suffocation.

In 1965, call for a detailed topographic analysis and a detailed plan of procedure worked out by civil engineers as to how the land will be developed over the years it is used for land-fill operations.

City officials expect to use the fill site by early 1968.

Funds for the $16,500 contract are to come from the 1966 and 1967 sanitation fund budgets, supported by special earmarked millage.

In other business last night, the commission authorized application to the State Municipal Finance Commission for approval to borrow $2 1/4 million.

The monies are to be borrowed to provide the city with general operating funds for the first six months of 1967. Next year's first tax receipts are not received until July 1.

Each year, the city borrows such funds. The $2 1/4 million is slightly larger than normal borrowings ($2 million was borrowed for this year) because "of the uncertainty as to how much our expenses for payroll will run next year," City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

Also last night, the commission set Dec. 13 for a public hearing on overdue weed cutting bills, which total $2,230.

The commission also approved the annual $1 lease with GMC Truck & Coach Division for rental of playground space near the corner of Nebraska and Howland.

A petition for rezoning property across from Peterson's Beauty Shop, 324 Perry, was referred to the city planning commission. A parking district is sought by the beauty shop.

City Rail Crossing to Face Inspection

A public inspection will be made next week of the Grand Trunk Western railroad crossing on South Saginaw, the City Commission was informed last night.

The commission received formal notice from the Michigan Public Service Commission would inspect the crossing at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The inspection results because of a recent fatal accident at the crossing, according to city officials.

Plans are being prepared by both the railroad and the Michigan Highway Department for a complete rebuilding of the crossing.

Give him Osmun's for Christmas

What can make a gift sweater better? Osmun's.

For example, take our gift box. Go ahead take our gift box. It's free. And that's just one example. Want more? Then come to Osmun's. Because Osmun's has more. More sweaters, for example. Osmun's has more sizes. Osmun's has more styles. Osmun's has more colors, shapes, buttons, zippers, collars, stitches, and—But don't think we're just trading on our name. We trade on other people's names, too. (Robert Bruce and Arnold Palmer for example.)

So if you want to give an Osmun's gift certificate, or make that gift sweater better, you can. Give more than a sweater. Give him Osmun's.

British Are Ready to Seek U.N. Rhodesia Sanctions

LONDON (AP) — The British government plans to ask the United Nations this weekend for compulsory economic sanctions against Rhodesia if Prime Minister Harold Wilson doesn't come to terms by then, government sources reported.

The sources said Prime Minister Harold Wilson apparently hopes the threat of such a request to the Security Council will prompt Smith to accept a settlement of the year-old rebellion by the African territory's white minority.

Wilson won Cabinet approval of the request Tuesday and told the House of Commons the U.N. action would be in effect before Christmas. U.N. approval of sanctions is considered certain since the General Assembly earlier this month voted overwhelmingly for Britain to use force, if necessary, to end the rebellion.

British authorities, however, were said to feel they still have about a week to work something out with Smith's regime since it will take about five days to set up a Security Council meeting.

DRAFT RESOLUTION

The British Foreign Office began discussion of a draft resolution with the United States and some Commonwealth governments.

Sources said the U.N. sanctions would include: — An oil embargo against Rhodesia, but with enforcement confined to the Portuguese East since the United States, Belgium, African, Asian and Communist countries are expected to demand South Africa be included.

— Outlawing the purchase of Rhodesian tobacco, sugar, chrome, asbestos and pig iron and banning the sale of heavy machinery to Rhodesia.

5. AFRICAN AID

The British concede that sanctions they imposed against Rhodesia last year have largely been thwarted by South African financial and oil aid.

Wilson's government has been seeking a settlement since the Rhodesian government declared independence Nov. 11, 1965, rather than agree to eventual majority rule by the country's 4 million Africans. The Central African territory has about 225,000 whites who run the country.

WAR DOG'S BEST FRIEND—Despite his heavy equipment, an American soldier carries a scout dog across a muddy stream and up the tangled jungle banks while on patrol in South Vietnam near the Cambodian border. China N-Program May Be Speeding Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Communist China's development of nuclear weapons appeared today to be progressing more rapidly than many Western experts originally expected.

The State Department said yesterday there was "reason to believe" that Red China's fifth nuclear test — possibly the third this year — would take place "in the near future" at the Lop Nor test site in remote Sinkiang Province.

Though the time was pinpointed no more than the "near future," it appeared — if U.S. officials were correct — that the time interval between Chinese tests was shortening, and Peking's nuclear program speeding up.

So far, U.S. forecasts of Red Chinese tests have been right on target. The United States keeps track of Peking's nuclear preparations through a variety of intelligence means, reported to include reconnaissance satellites and highly sensitive monitoring devices located outside China's borders. The exact means are top secret.

The new test could only have the effect of heightening the political forces already loosed on the world by China's first test on Oct. 16, 1964 — some apprehension among China's near neighbors, Russia among them; some pressures in counter-tries like Japan and India to seek their own nuclear weapons; and an increased sense of urgency in many nations for a treaty to ban the further spread of nuclear weapons.

Shot by Robber

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Denz, 50, of Redford Township was shot to death about three blocks from his East Side shoe store after chasing an armed robber out of the store and down several alleys. He died in a hospital here of a bullet wound in the stomach.

Hare's Aide Leaves With 'No Regrets'

LANSING (AP) — Gordon Traye said Tuesday he is leaving his post as deputy secretary of state for reasons that are 50 per cent his and 50 per cent those of his boss, James Hare.

Traye was to meet with Secretary of State Hare today in Lansing on the matter. His own reasons for leaving, he said, had to do with his age (51) and the amount of work and travel in his job.

"There is no anger or anything," Traye emphasized. "I respect the man (Hare)." Hare announced Monday he would replace between 10 and 20 of his branch managers who, in his opinion, didn't work hard enough or contribute enough money during the election campaign.

NOT CAUSE But Traye said as far as he was concerned, the Democratic party's poor showing in the Michigan elections had nothing to do with his leaving.

Hare already has decided on three of the branch managers he will replace and, Traye said, "I'm the guy that had to call in the three and tell them."

Traye added, "Anyone that receives an appointment ought to be big enough to realize he is removable, for cause or not. This happens, even in presidents' cabinets."

Traye was appointed to his now $20,000-a-year post seven years ago after 12 years with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. He was a captain when he left.

'LONGEST DEPUTY' "I'm the longest deputy he ever had," Traye said. "Seven years is a long time in politics, especially with terms going two years by two years (although Hare's next term will be for four years)."

"I'm 51 now," he said. "Where would I go four years from now if I stayed?"

HIGH-LEVEL-WORK — A steeplejack lifts a heavy cross off its pin atop the steeple of Stoughton, Mass., church. The cross, to be refinished, was 140 feet above ground.

Dishwasher Perfect Gift for Her Hands

Thousands of American homemakers will find a precious gift of time in their Christmas stockings this year. This gift is the hour a day saved from dishwashing drudgery by an automatic dishwasher.

Electric dishwashers are among the most popular of Christmas gift items. More of these work-saving, wife-saving appliances are purchased in November and December than at any other time of year.

If your gift list includes a woman who is still doing dishes by hand, the automatic features of the new dishwasher models make this the best year ever for a dishwasher under the Christmas tree.

Dial or pushbutton controls can be set to handle a variety of cycles. This means that delicate china as well as heavy-duty utensils come through a dishwasher helps keep hands softer and lovelier.

Tableware is actually sanitized because dishwashers use hotter water and stronger detergents than hands can stand. Because there is less occasion to rub hands in dishwater, a dishwasher helps keep hands softer and lovelier.

PRE-RINSE CYCLE
A pre-rinsing cycle on most models lets you load dishes as they are used, without hand rinsing, and keeps them moist until the machine is full and ready for a complete wash and dry cycle.

Sailed dishes don't clutter the sink and countertops and the kitchen looks neat if unexpected guests drop by.

Most new models feature capacity that lets you load more tableware and accept even out-sized platters, bowls, cookie sheets and pots and pans.

This is especially helpful with the excess of dirty dishes that heavy holiday entertaining entails.

DISHWASHER STYLES
The variety of dishwasher styles lets you pick the perfect Christmas gift.

There are: free-standing models which can be permanently installed everywhere; built-ins which slip undercounter; dishwasher-sink combinations; portables which are suitable for any kitchen because they store away convenient and roll to the sink when in use; and convertibles now and permanently installed when you remodel or move.

Laser Can Remove Unightly Tattoos

By Science Service
LAS VEGAS — Unightly tattoos can now be removed with the amplified light of the laser because of the color sensitivity of the device.
Warts and other pigmented skin growths have also been removed. Dr. Leon Goldman, director of the Laser Laboratory at Children's Hospital Research Foundation, Cincinnati, told the American Medical Association's annual clinical convention here.
More basic research is needed, but the laser is now ready for continuing investigative studies in humans, he said.
He recently removed a human tumor, with a laser, the first such use of the intense light beam.

SHE'S 'TWIGGY' — Modeling a mini-skirt is rather odd-looking 17-year-old Twiggy (Londy, London fashion model) who has become the sensation of the European fashion world. The shingle-shaped teen-ager is fast becoming wealthy but refuses to model in New York. "I'd miss my mum," she said.

New Argentine Chief Cautious

6-Month-Old Regime Faces Big Problems

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Six months after taking power, Lt. Gen. Juan Carlos Onganía is treading cautiously into the teeth of a young hurricane. The winds of labor union anger show signs of growing stronger.

Onganía knows these winds of change must blow themselves out before the national salvage campaign he heads can be complete. He knows, too, that national strikes, student unrest and political ambitions among men who wear uniforms have topped many South American regimes. Although he inherited a jack-straw pile of problems June 28 when the military took over, the general has looked only one firmly. That problem was reorganization of the port of Buenos Aires, one of the more inefficient and costly in the world.

STRIKE FAILED

A port workers' strike failed. In the government view. More laborers went to work than stayed away when the strike began. But the fight isn't over, the port must be won before Onganía's forces can move onto the next objective, the state-owned railroads.

Clamping down on the railroad bureaucracy may bring the hurricane. Some estimates say 80,000 workers must be discharged. The railroad unions aren't likely to take that lying down.

Something has to be done since the railroads account for 40-50 per cent of the government deficit. Frequent freight and passenger rate increases have not done the trick. The cost of living went up 3.2 per cent this month.

INFLATION

Popular discontent with inflationary pressures has found no outlet which might endanger the regime, however. One reason is that most or all armed forces support the general.

The Peronist threat seems diminished. Perhaps the military character of the government is responsible. Perhaps it is because, as a few Peronist leaders say, Juan D. Peron has lived too long in luxury in Madrid, Spain.

Aside from Venezuela and Ecuador, other nations have friendly or at least normal relations with Argentina's military regime. The general would like these friendships to grow, particularly that with the United States.

Argentina needs dollars. The general is studying a reopening exploration.

Storm Trapped 1,400 Students Protest 24 in Infirmary U. of M. Sit-In Policy

Elderly Group Saved After Power Failure

MAPLE CITY (AP)—Twenty-four infirmary patients, most in their 80s and 90s, huddled and shivered under blankets for nearly 14 hours Tuesday until they were rescued during Michigan's storm.

The elderly patients were cut off from light, heat and water when the blizzard knocked out power at 2:30 a.m. at the Leelanau County Infirmary.

A rescue force, led by two snow plows and two road sanders, battled through five-foot snow drifts to evacuate the stranded patients.

"We brought them out in wheelchairs, then picked them up bodily and put them in two school buses," said Sheriff Richard Steffins of Leelanau County.

CALM GROUP
"For their age, they were very calm," he said, although "a couple of them were rather irrational."

None of the patients apparently suffered any serious ill effects from the ordeal. The temperature was in the 20s outside the infirmary, with high winds blowing.

Six women and five men, all bedridden and ranging in age to 94, were taken to Traverse City. All but one man were hospitalized at Munson Hospital.

Another bus, carrying eight women and five men, forged through snow to Leelanau County Memorial Hospital at Northport.

PAVED THE WAY
"If the plows weren't with us, we wouldn't have gotten through," Steffins said. A county plow and a road sander paved the way through the storm for each bus.

Steffins said that when he and Traverse City State Police and Grand Traverse County sheriff's men reached the infirmary late Tuesday, "they had no water." The water is drawn from a well by an electric pump.

"We went out and got them some water in cans and jugs," he said.

Infirmary attendants had "kept the patients in bed and doctored the blankets on them," he said.

Three infirmary employees remained behind in an old building which has a coal furnace that could be operated manually.

Hollywood-Style Christmas Trees

—Indian Rubber

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This city soon will have its own Christmas tree lanes. But like many other things in the film capital, the trees won't be what they seem.

The City Council voted Tuesday to institute a $90,000 tree-planting program.

The trees will have supporting pipes which will be used to string colored lights during the Christmas season.

However, the "25" Christmas trees won't be traditional firs. Planned instead is a form of Indian rubber tree called Ficus Nitida.

Family Survives Icy Ordeal

ROLLINSVILLE, Colo. (UPI)—Neck-deep snowdrifts, 60-mile-an-hour winds and subzero temperatures held terror yesterday for a Michigan Army combat medic who survived two wars and his wife who escaped from East Germany in a communist 14 years ago.

But Spec. 6 Herrington Carlton, his 36-year-old German-born wife, Werra, and their two children survived their overnight ordeal near 11,680-foot Rollins Pass like veterans.

"All we have are red cheeks," Carlton said.

The story began and ended near Yankee Doodle Lake, high in the stormy north-central Colorado Rockies when their car stalled Monday.

Carlton walked about 20 miles in nine hours and alerted authorities early yesterday from a gas station at Hideaway, Colo. A rescue party led by Gilpin County Sheriff Charles Smith reached the stranded family two hours later and found them safe.

FAMILY FOUND
"We found the family near Yankee Doodle Lake," Smith figures.

The wind was blowing and it was snowing and the weather was pretty severe. Temperatures were quite possible, but for a Michigan Army combat medic the family was well dressed and had blankets wrapped around them."

Doctors at Fitzsimons Army Hospital in Denver, where Carlton is stationed, said the couple and their children, aged 3 and 4, were tired, but in good shape.

Carlton's parents live at Fife Lake, Mich., but he said his hometown is Kalamazoo. He met his wife when he was stationed in Germany in 1959, and they were married in 1960.

The ordeal was no novelty for Mrs. Carlton, a native of Erzger, Germany.

She said she escaped from East Germany in 1952 and spent three days and nights hiding in the woods.

PACIFICATION AREAS — Shaded spots are areas of pacification in the 1st and 2nd Corps areas of South Viet Nam.

Areas of U.S. troop activity have expanded along the demilitarized zone between the two Viet Nams, and in limited areas near the Cambodian border.

More American troops are in the field. But the rate of Communist infiltration from the north and recruiting in the south continue, and the maps showing the struggle for control of Viet Nam remain much the same.

ROADS SECURE
As in the past, terms like areas of control are subject to definition. More roads are opened and considered secure.

Official to Quit
MONROE (AP) — Hervin Cousino, city treasurer, said Tuesday he will resign at the end of the year because of ill health. He has been treasurer for 13 years. A successor, to serve until the December 1968 city election, will be appointed by the city commission.

Viet Picture Remains Static

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Although more than 360,000 U.S. troops are now in Viet Nam, the map of areas under allied control has changed only slightly and slowly.

American soldiers, often moving swiftly in helicopter thrusts, go more and more frequently into long-time sanctuaries of the enemy. They seek to hunt down the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, throwing in huge amounts of artillery and aerial bombardment. Then normally, as in the recent Operation Attleboro in Tay Ninh Province, they pull back to their base camps and the map of Viet Nam looks much the same.

Pacification, by any of the many names it has been called, also is an ill-defined, sometime thing. The maps show no great areas of progress.

U.S. Marines in the northernmost 1st Corps area have conducted the longest sustained pacification program. But patrols still are attacked within six or seven miles of Da Nang, where the first contingents of Leathernecks landed almost two years ago.

Flying 'Thing' Still a Mystery

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — More than 1,400 University of Michigan students staged an hour-long sit-in at the school's administration building yesterday to protest the university's policy on sit-ins.

The students, some of them singing and playing banjos, filled the floor in the building's lobby and spilled over into a second floor.

There were no arrests and the students left the building after the self-imposed time limit ended.

Edward Robinson, president of the Student Government council, criticized university President Harlan Hatcher's recent pronouncement on sit-ins.

"I see no choice open to us other than to go over to the administration building, sit in the lobbies and hallways and stay until the lunch hour is over at one o'clock," he said.

COMMITTEES SET UP
Hatcher Monday announced establishment of a student-faculty committee to consider the sit-in controversy.

He said "It is not a new policy to state that disruptive demonstrations are not an acceptable method for expressing protest and dissent in a university."

The committee also would explore student unrest over the school's policy of submitting class standings to draft boards.

One student asked to serve on the committee turned Hatcher's request down.

Burglary Ring
FLINT (AP) — Police say at least 30 recent school and business establishment burglaries have been solved with the arrest of three Flint youths.

These reports brought curious crowds to the McClinic Wildlife Station where the incident occurred. Volunteer fire department members had to help keep traffic moving.

During the next three days, at least eight persons, reported have been solved with the arrest of three Flint youths.

Chiefs Pleasant Surprise in Opener

Irish, MSU Called Even

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty isn't ready to concede his squad is No. 2, but he also doesn't want to see the MSU-Notre Dame rivalry for No. 1 spot "deteriorate into a name-calling thing."

"They are both great teams," Daugherty told an MSU awards ceremony attended by 1,000 Spartan backers Tuesday night.

He called No. 1 ranked Notre Dame "as fine a team as ever has been selected."

He added: "Our Spartans salute them — but I salute our Spartans, who are equally as good."

"We may have been outvoted, but we were never out-fought," said Biggie Munn, MSU athletic director.

HARD FIGHT

The 10-10 tie between the two teams Nov. 19 was an extremely hard fought game, Daugherty said, "and I think the outcome was a fair indication of the merit of the two teams."

"We can't rightfully say we're better than Notre Dame. If we were, we would have beaten them. If they were better, they would have beaten us," he said.

Notre Dame edged MSU by three points in the poll after the tie. Then the Irish beat Southern California 51-0 last Saturday and pulled out to a 34-point to a 34-point edge over the No. 2 Spartans.

Daugherty didn't feel the Southern Cal game should have had any effect on the poll. "I don't think they (Notre Dame) were flat when they played us," he said. "The week before, they won 64-0 (over Duke)."

QUICK QUIP

The short, bull-necked coach, well known as a master of the quick quip, began his speech with the usual mention of dignitaries.

"The introduction ended this way: '... friends, ... members of the MacArthur Committee...'

The Awards Committee of the National Football Foundation, which awards the MacArthur Bowl each year to the best college football team in the nation, chose MSU and Notre Dame as cochampions.

Daugherty introduced 18 graduating seniors and told the crowd, "I'm going to miss them very badly — more than you folks."

Among the seniors were five who received special awards Tuesday night from MSU alumni:

George Webster, outstanding defensive back; Clint Jones, outstanding offensive back; Jerry West, outstanding offensive line; Bubba Smith, outstanding defensive line; and Gene Washington, outstanding end.

The other seniors are line-backers Charles Thornhill and Bob Brawley, defensive half-backs Jerry Jones, Jim Summers and Chuck Lowther, barefoot kicker Dick Kenney, defensive end Phil Hoag, defensive guards Eugene Sullivan and Jerry Richardson, and Larry Lukasek and John Muller, center Keith Reed and tackle Tom Skidmore.

Almost jumped in front after one quarter, 16-15, but a lay move into the lead at halftime, 26-25, and was never headed.

Curry finished with 19 points to lead all scorers while teammate Dick McEwan added 12.

John Topie paced Imlay with 15. Jim Simons tossed in 14 and Jerry Nolan came through with 12.

PECK WINS

In another Thumb area game, Brown City, ahead 36-22 at halftime, went cold in the second half and fell to Peck 59-33.

Tighe, 52, managed the Detroit Tigers in 1957 and 1958.

The Toledo baseball club is now a Tiger farm team, after operating the past two seasons as a New York Yankee farm.

Toledo General Manager Charles Singer announced the signing of Tighe, who has been a scout for the Atlanta and Milwaukee Braves the past three years.

Ahlene Christian is at New Mexico, No. 6; Albuquerque is at Houston, No. 7; Vanderbilt is at Western Kentucky, No. 8; Clemson is at North Carolina, No. 9 and George Washington is at Cincinnati, No. 10.

Duke, No. 4, opens Friday against Virginia Tech at Charlotte. UCLA, No. 1, opens at home Saturday against Southern California, the same day. Kentucky, No. 3, plays host to Virginia and Louisville, No. 5, entertains Georgetown, Ky.

The Vanderbilt at Western Kentucky game is one of the best openers as hundreds of college dribblers go into action in every section of the country.

OTHER POWERS

In addition to Texas Western, five other teams in the AP pre-season Top Ten open tonight.

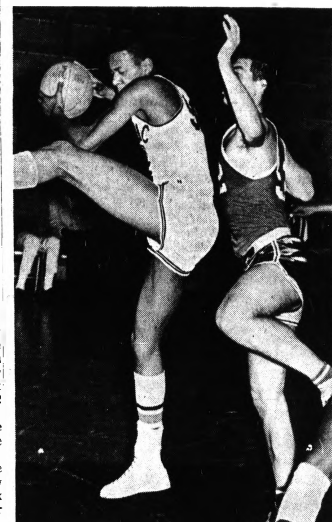

Bobby Joe Hill, Willie Cager, Nevil Shod, David Lattin and Willie Worsley, but "this is the worst we've looked in four years," he said after a recent practice session.

"They think somebody is going to give them something," Haskins said. "I think we have some well-headed players."

Sam Houston is not listed in the major category, however, and the Miners are favored to chalk up victory No. 29 in their last 30 games even if they are not up to their 1966 standard.

TWO STEP — Pontiac Central's Dan Daniels (left) and Roseville's Randy Matlow engage in a little mid-court ballet last night while battling for a rebound in a game on the PCH floor. Daniels won the dancing battle and Chiefs won the game, 76-46.

It's understandable why Zittel and the Chiefs were a little nervous at the onset.

Zittel, who guided the Chiefs to a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference championship last season, had only guard Prentice Hill and forward Alton Wilson back from that squad.

RESERVE HELP

The rest of the help had to come from the reserves.

The help was there. After a not-impressive first quarter, the Chiefs settled down and proceeded to outshoot and outshoot the Wildcats.

While the young Chiefs performed well, it was Wilson and Hill who provided the scoring punch.

Hill, popping the net from long and close range, emerged with 24 points to lead all scorers while Wilson (a junior) contributed 14. Junior center Walter Fowler tossed in 16.

The other junior in the lineup, Arrell Sheldon, came on to replace senior John Childs at a guard post after Childs ran into foul trouble and pushed in six points.

NINE POINTS

Gordon Hamilton, the other member of the starting unit, tossed in nine markers from his forward slot.

In all, Zittel led 11 players into the game and nine scored.

Roseville's Ken Flott, a 5-9 guard, was the only player to defeat successfully the Chiefs' tight defense. Flitting from outside and from close in, Flott came up with 23 points, seven of them at the free throw line.

Although they lacked a consistent effort in the first quarter, the Chiefs wound up in front 42-22 at the half, and they tightened their defense in the second frame to earn a 29-18 lead at intermission.

THE CHIEFS WERE THE GAME

The Chiefs held the game open in the third, stretching their lead to 29 points with 2:55 left in the third (43-23), and they raised their margin to 32 points late in the fourth quarter.

The Chiefs entertain Flint Central Friday as they open defense of their share of the SVC championship.

Lone Letterwinners Pace Pontiac Five Against Wildcats

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It's always nice to have that first game under your belt. And it's particularly pleasant if that initial test turns out to be a victory.

So it was with Pontiac Central's nervous young Chiefs who started slowly last night and finished past in their debut by romping past a visiting Roseville quintet, 76-46.

"We were scared," admitted coach Fred Zittel, who must have found the triumph pleasing from the standpoint that it was accomplished with three juniors in the lineup most of the time.

It's understandable why Zittel and the Chiefs were a little nervous at the onset.

Zittel, who guided the Chiefs to a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference championship last season, had only guard Prentice Hill and forward Alton Wilson back from that squad.

The games are being played to raise funds for Paul Brown Jr., 23, who is paralyzed from the waist down, the result of a brain tumor.

Brown, a 1962 graduate of Pontiac Central, played two years of varsity basketball at PCII and attended South Carolina State College for one year.

The two games are set for 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Jefferson Junior High School.

In the first, Trinity Church All Stars will take on the Macedonia All Stars. The feature game will have the Amigo Cells meeting Perry Pharmacy.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. All proceeds go to the Paul Brown Jr. Fund.

Birmingham Falcons Show Strength

Birmingham held the upper hand in a pair of skirmishes with Royal Oak last night.

The Falcons of Birmingham Groves, one of the area's top basketball squads, won its second straight by ripping Royal Oak Kimball, 54-28, while Birmingham Hawks evened its record at 1-1 by whipping Royal Oak Dendro, 66-46.

Groves, a 62-61 winner over Seaholm last week, tossed a defense as Kimball that the Knights couldn't solve.

The Falcons rolled to a 32-14 lead at halftime and permitted the losers only 17 points in the second half.

Roy Iceberg paced the Groves offense with 15 points, while Mike Rafferty added 14 and Al Lane Brown contributed 12.

SHARE HONORS

Greg Schmeidt and Brent Perry shared honors for Kimball with eight points apiece.

Kimball hit on only eight of 64 shots while Groves connected on 31 of 51 attempts.

Seaholm also came up with a sharp defensive effort.

The Maples held Dendro to 17 points in taking a 35-17 half-time lead and then coasted through the second half in which the reserves handled most of the action.

DAVE COOK

Dave Cook pumped in 18 points for Seaholm and hauled in 18 rebounds, while teammate Rick Copeland scored 12 and picked off 15 rebounds.

OL St. Mary Serves 'Notice' in League

The Eagles of Orchard Lake St. Mary have gunned up the order of things in the North-West Parochial League.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows was the preseason choice to take the title in the league race with the Eagles finishing second or third.

But OLSM served notice that its championship will not be lifted without a battle as the Eagles pinned a 65-55 setback on FOLS last night on the losers' court.

Just last week Eaglet coach Fr. John Rakoczy commented that "If we can handle them, we can handle our own court."

Well, Fr. Rakoczy and the Eagles did handle them and they must now rank as the league favorite as they start their bid for a third straight championship.

11TH STRAIGHT

For the record, Fr. Rakoczy's basketball teams haven't finished lower than second since he took over as coach in 1954, and his victory over FOLS was the 11th straight. The Eagles have never lost to the Lancers on the court.

This one was close, and might have been closer had the Lancers not lost one of their top scorers, Frank Carrio, on fouls during the third quarter.

OLSM was leading 42-37

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State has been picked by a narrow margin to win the Big Ten basketball championship this season.

In a vote of sportswriters at a recent Big Ten press conference, 33 writers gave the Spartans a total of 393 points to 290 for Northwestern.

Michigan State had 16 first place votes to 10 for Northwestern. Illinois received the other seven first place votes and a total of 273 points.

The rest of the teams were picked in the following order: Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue and Minnesota.

Are the Texas Western Miners well-headed over being the national collegiate basketball champions? The answer may come tonight at the opening of the 1967 season when the Miners play at home in El Paso against Sam Houston State.

The Miners won the 1966 championship last March by upsetting Kentucky in the NCAA tournament final and were rated No. 2 to UCLA in this season's preseason Associated Press poll primarily because of UCLA's fabulous sophomore, Lew Alcindor.

Imlay Quint Edges Almont

Spartans Stop Rally in 54-53 Win

Imlay City's Spartans survived a last-minute onslaught by Almont last night and wound up with a thin 54-53 victory, the cage opener for both teams.

Down 51-44 with 90 seconds to go, guard Al Curry, a 5-11 junior, sparked a comeback by Almont as he pushed in eight points in those final seconds only to see the rally fall a point short.

Almost jumped in front after one quarter, 16-15, but a lay move into the lead at halftime, 26-25, and was never headed.

Curry finished with 19 points to lead all scorers while teammate Dick McEwan added 12.

John Topie paced Imlay with 15. Jim Simons tossed in 14 and Jerry Nolan came through with 12.

In another Thumb area game, Brown City, ahead 36-22 at halftime, went cold in the second half and fell to Peck 59-33.

Scotland's Fishery Hit by Sickness

LONDON (UPI)—Scotland's famous salmon, considered the finest — as well as the most expensive — by gourmets, are being threatened by a mysterious sickness which is killing thousands of fish every week.

Scientists in government and university laboratories are baffled by the disease which appears to be nearly as infectious as myxomatosis was for rabbits and could be caused by either a virus or bacteria.

The epidemic, apparently originated last summer in Ireland and cost the Irish an estimated $2.5 million in lost tourist revenue and marketable salmon. The Irish took every possible step to contain the malady but it somehow managed to cross the Irish Sea.

The extent of the British attack can be gauged by estimates that salmon fishing in Britain is worth $25.2 million annually in air fares, hotel bills, river bank rentals for anglers, local employment and as a source of food.

A century ago British household help protested against being fed salmon too often. Nowadays, pollution has driven the fish from so many areas it has become a delicacy selling here at about $2.50 a pound fresh and $6 a pound smoked.

The British government has taken emergency measures to minimize the outbreak while scientists seek the cause.

Movement of all live fish and eggs out of affected areas has been banned and anglers have been asked to disinfect their gear as a precaution against transmitting the disease from river to river.

LETHAL FACTOR

Speaking for the government in the House of Lords, Baron Champion said scientists were not convinced the presence of columnar bacteria in some of the stricken fish meant they were the cause of the sickness.

One American expert has volunteered an opinion that an unknown virus is the lethal factor. The outlook for British salmon gourmets was becoming grim even before the outbreak.

Greenland has apparently discovered the main feeding ground of Atlantic salmon in its own territorial waters and has been netting them before they can come back to their British river birthplaces.

Grouse Habitat Booklet Ready

New Hampshire Man Authors Text

"Improving Your Land for Ruffed Grouse" is a booklet offered by the New Hampshire Fish and Game Department for land owners seeking to create more favorable conditions for a favorite American game bird.

Author of the booklet is Donald G. Allison.

This booklet defines habitat needs, discusses the requirements of desirable nesting, shelter, feeding, and open areas, and suggests ways for encouraging the kinds of plant cover necessary in each.

Purpose of the improvement program is to make permanent, year-around contributions to grouse cover, not merely to provide attractive feeding places, say in the fall, where the birds may be induced to congregate.

Without balanced habitat to meet a whole year's needs, there will be little increase in the total number of grouse.

Even if he owns no land, a grouse hunter will learn much about the best places to look for birds by reading the descriptions of preferred fall cover. Copies may be obtained without charge from the New Hampshire department in Concord.

Use of Snowmobiles Restricted at Parks

The second big snowfall of the season brought with it a warning to snowmobile owners from Conservation Department officials.

Snowmobiles can be operated only on roads and in designated parking areas of state recreation areas and state parks in Southeastern Michigan," said Al Masini, district park supervisor.

"Driving a snowmobile anywhere else in the recreation areas and parks — meaning hills, woods and so forth — will lead to the operator being ticketed."

The department cracked down on snowmobiles being operated on state lands in Oakland, Macomb and Wayne Counties last year.

"We are going to do the same this winter," said Masini. "The big snow earlier this month caused us a problem. The snowmobilers were out in force."

"The ground wasn't frozen under the snow and they really tore things up."

This is the big reason the department frowns on the use of these mechanized carriers in Southern Michigan.

"We don't get the snow down here that they do up north," explained Masini. "Snowmobilers take a big bite out of the base (packed snow). If there isn't much base, a lot of ground is chewed up. This leads to erosion. Also, many young trees planted for erosion control and beautification that are killed."

"We appreciate the enjoyment many people derive from these pieces of equipment, otherwise they wouldn't be so popular. However, we can't permit the use in Southern Michigan, except on designated roads and parking lots."

Masini pointed out that many areas of Northern Michigan — particularly state and national forests — are well suited for snowmobile travel because there usually is a sufficient base of snow.

He also said that park managers in Northern Michigan can't at their discretion establish regular trails for snowmobilers. A few have indicated they are planning such projects.

Limited Slope Action Starts

Area Ski Sites Happy With Snow

Pontiac area ski resort operators have found a friend in the weatherman already after last winter's unprofitable relationship.

The snowfall earlier this month led to brief openings of the ski slopes at Mount Christie and Pine Knob, but indications are the season actually will open this week.

Tuesday's accumulation obviously has brought many minds back to skiing although not in itself producing much ski snow due to drifting and warm ground temperatures.

But the forecast of 20-and-under temperatures tonight will enable the resort operators to start making snow in earnest and put down the good base they need.

If the cold will last through Saturday, weekend skiing could be among the best ever this early in the season.

This week's snowfall has brought the November total within a couple inches of last season's total local amount that, coupled with mild spells, led to a poor ski winter for most resorts.

REPORTS — A check of the areas yesterday indicate there is limited skiing already at Christie, Pine Knob

Snow Boosts Deer Hunting

When the outside temperature brought down enough Monday to bring snow to Southern Michigan, the deer hunting fever of empty-handed nimrods home from the north became more intense.

Trying to fill a tag around home can be a problem because some of the best deer hunting is located on private property which can be all but inaccessible this time of year.

Good herds of deer still roam state lands in the Holly, Highland and Oxford areas and many whitetails are pushed or moved off private land by farmers still hunting or trying to help buddies connect.

The season closes Sunday in the Lower Peninsula.

Deadline for entering the big buck in the Pontiac Press Heaviest Deer Contest is noon Monday.

The current leader is a 212½-pound buck taken near Oxford last week by Wilford Nickel, 521 E. Hamlin, Rochester.

He downed the eight-pointer with a 12-gauge slug.

Deer hunting in Southern Michigan is restricted to shotguns with slugs or buckshot and 22 calibre rifles.

ABOVE AVERAGE — Although the kill has been above average in the Holly area and about normal in the Lakeville-Leonard district, hunters have been hampered by a lack of snow and many have not ventured out.

The snow is expected to stay through the weekend and this should increase the pressure considerably because tracking conditions help pinpoint the location of deer.

Conservation Department officials report that at least 33 bucks have been checked that were taken in the Holly area. A number of others also have been tagged, but not checked.

Conservation officer Warren Kendall of Rochester reports average success in the northeast area of Oakland County. He also said that the new deer tags have been successful and that few hunter complaints have been made to him regarding them.

On the other hand, conservation officer Harold Stoll of Rose Township reports numerous complaints regarding the tie-on cards. Apparently the Conservation Department has heard more complaints than it has announced that a better design will be sought for the 1967 season.

Hunting in the Thumb area has been about average over deer. Pressure, however, has been light. It is expected to be heavier this weekend because of the snow.

Rabbit hunting in Oakland County and upper Thumb has been good to excellent. The winter grouse season opens Monday and will continue through December. The outlook is for good shooting.

Goose hunting enjoyed a banner season in the Holly area. Final shots will be fired today as the last of the state's 1966 waterfowl seasons comes to a close.

The boundaries of the park encompass about 530,347 acres but the waters of Lake Superior make up about 405,900 acres of the total.

Interested parties wishing to express their views in person must notify the hearing officer, in care of the superintendent of the park at Houghton, by Jan. 27.

Public Auction
Slated to Sell
Tax Properties

A number of former owners who lost lands in four southeastern Michigan counties because of 1962 tax delinquencies will have a chance to buy back their holdings at a Dec. 7 public sale to be held in Detroit's City-County Building by the Conservation Department.

The sale, to start at 10 a.m., will involve about 190 parcels in Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair and Wayne counties which will be offered at 25 per cent of their last assessed valuations.

Former owners will compete in their bidding with the general public, but they will have every opportunity to recover their holdings. Even if they are outbid, these ex-owners will still be able to reclaim their property by matching top offers within 30 days after the sale.

All receipts from the public auction will be turned over to the counties whose treasurers have lists of the tax-reverted lands to be offered.

Visitors can tour the facilities, inspect the new Pompaft and enjoy refreshments. The 25-acre club has only 50 memberships available for the coming season.

Appropriately, Kandahar Ski Club—the area's only private club—will have its annual open house festivities 1-4 p.m. Sunday.

Prospective members can visit the resort on Foley Road east of U.S. 23's Center Road exit.

There's a possibility, also, of weekend skiing at Alpine Valley and Mount Grampian. No reports are available for Silverbell Village or Dryden.

Bowmen Slate Rabbit Hunt

Upwards of a 1,000 Michigan bowmen are expected to attend the annual rabbit hunt Sunday, at the Styffe Ferris Coverside Farms near Perry.

The 2,000-acre Coverside Farms, owned by Styffe Ferris and opened by him for the annual event each year to benefit the Owosso "Y," is rated by hunters as having some of the best natural rabbit habitat in the Midwest.

The activities will begin with registration from 8 to 11 a.m. A special Church service will be held at 9:30 a.m. The hunt will start at 10 a.m., with a lunch available during the noon hour and conclude at 2:30 p.m.

Hunters will be using blunt, not field point, arrows during the hunt.

The Ferris Coverside Farms is located one mile north and one mile west of the junction of M-47 and M-73 at Perry.

State Digs Out; 8 Seamen Saved

LBJ Undecided on Tax Boost

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Destructive Arctic winds bowled southward today as Michigan dug out from the season's second major snowstorm.

Eight German seamen were rescued last night from a stricken ship in storm-whipped Lake Huron off the eastern Michigan coast.

HONORED—Martin J. Caserio, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division and a General Motors vice president, was honored last night by more than 200 Pontiac area professional and business leaders at a Chief Pontiac party at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Snow Flurries, Cold Predicted for Area

Snow flurries and colder temperatures will hover over the Pontiac area through Saturday. Sunday will be somewhat warmer.

The weatherman predicts flurries with a low of 16 to 22 tonight. The mercury is expected to average 8 to 12 degrees below the normal high of 36 to 39 and low of 22 to 27 for the next five days.

North westerly winds at 15 to 29 miles per hour are forecast through tonight.

A frigid 23 was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The 2 p.m. recording was 34.

GM Truck Gets 200-Bus Order

GMC Truck and Coach Division of General Motors has received a $10-million order for 200 intercity buses from Greyhound Lines, Inc. Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, announced today.

He said the buses will be delivered before the summer of 1967.

The 35-foot "Luxury Liners" feature high-level seating for maximum passenger visibility and 50 per cent more under-floor baggage space than previous intercity models.

Commenting on the order, H. Vance Greenslip, president of Greyhound, was quoted as saying, "Purchase of the buses reflects continuation of our program of modernization of our 5,000-bus fleet, so Greyhound will have the finest bus equipment on the road."

Type Of Bus Ordered From GMC Truck And Coach Division By Greyhound

The high-level buses have front seats tiered theater-style, enabling passengers sitting near the front to see over those ahead of them.

ST HIGHER

Upper level passengers sit nearly a foot higher than in previous intercity buses.

Besides giving passengers a quieter ride and better visibility, this extra height permits greater baggage space.

The buses are powered by new V8 diesel engines that boast improved fuel economy. They deliver 253 horsepower at governed speeds of 1,800 revolutions per minute.

Other features include adjustable reclining seats, picture windows, all-weather climate control and restrooms.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says he hopes to reach his decision "around the end of the year" on whether to ask Congress for a tax increase. "No decision has been made," he told a news conference yesterday in his office in the Austin Federal Building.

"No decision will be made until we have all the facts."

Gessies will be made from time to time. That is a democratic privilege. But at best, they are guesses.

Asked whether he put Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant House Democratic leader, in the guessing category, Johnson replied: "I think he put himself there. I think that was his language."

Boggs predicted last Sunday that Johnson would ask the new Congress for a $10 billion to $15 billion tax increase.

Johnson announced at the outset of the news conference that he had cut back various federal programs by $5.3 billion with a saving of more than $3 billion in actual spending of budgeted funds in the remaining seven months of the current fiscal year.

He described the program and spending reductions as "another step to protect and preserve our prosperity."

"By this action we will stretch out and postpone, withhold and defer the less essential items of our programs — the low priority ones," he said.

Undersecretary of the Treasury Joseph W. Barr said in Washington that the $3 billion spending reduction in the fiscal year which ends June 30 will have no effect on the administration's thinking about a possible income tax increase.

The cut, he said, already has been worked into the Treasury's figuring.

MOON PHOTO RELEASED — This close-up photograph of the moon crater Copernicus, a prominent feature on the lunar surface, was released today in Washington. It was taken Nov. 23 by Lunar Orbiter II. The view looks due north. Mountains rising from the crater floor are 1,000 feet high with slopes up to 30

degrees. The 3,000-foot mountain on the left part of the horizon is the Gay-Lussac Promontory in the Carpathian Mountains. From the horizon to the base of the photo is about 150 miles. The horizontal distance is about 17 miles. The satellite took the picture from 28.4 miles.

Hopes Dim for Last Quint

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sole surviving Aranson quintuplet developed serious breathing problems today and the chances of her survival fell.

"Roni Sue had some difficulty during the night which alters the outlook for her," the infant's pediatrician, Dr. Lee Bass, announced in a midmorning medical briefing.

"She had some episodes of apnea (suspension of breathing) and had to be stimulated to breathe," the doctor said. "This kind of spell makes the outlook quite different."

Drain Basin Plans Point Up Larger Issues

Efforts to establish a drainage district embracing the entire basin, making the river an inter-county drain on paper if not in fact, point up two larger issues.

First, if the drain plan is finally adopted, a third agency gains a say over river improvements.

Secondly, the move for regional control of the river appears as further evidence of Detroit's bid for a master sewage treatment network for the six-county metropolitan area.

The latter proposition is seriously questioned, at least privately, by some municipal spokesmen. The pending Clinton-Oakland Interceptor would be part of the master system.

Meantime, pollution problems in Macomb County communities located near the river's eastern outlet into Lake St. Clair appear to be the spark behind the current move to make the Clinton River an intercounty drain.

County drains are concerned with storm water and the present petitions seek jurisdiction over the river's flood plain. Essentially, some 761 square miles are involved along the route of the river from Springfield Township to Lake St. Clair.

Most of the river area falls in Oakland and Macomb counties, although Lapeer and St. Clair counties are also involved.

The historically significant Clinton River is a variety of things to communities along its banks. It passes through rural farm country and also highly urbanized Pontiac.

Subject of past and current controversy, pollution of the river was spotlighted in the 1965 master plan report of the National Sanitation Foundation (NSF).

Proposing the six-county network, the NSF report declared

the treated sewage load imposed on the river must be removed some time after 1980 with abandonment of the existing sewage treatment facilities.

If finally carried out, this recommendation would mean that some 16 sewage treatment plants now discharging effluent into the Clinton would have to be abandoned, including Pontiac's $3.2-million plant.

According to the NSF findings, water flow in the Clinton River in the summer months of 1960 will be treated up to over 50 per cent treated sewage with peak periods when the percentage would rise to 72 per cent.

Supervisor Is Sentenced for Perjury

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem yesterday sentenced Royal Oak Township Supervisor Edward L. Kennedy to 1½ to 15 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for committing perjury while testifying before the Oakland County Grand Jury.

Kennedy, who was found guilty of the charge by a jury Nov. 6, immediately appealed the conviction after the sentencing and was released on $2,500 bond.

He had been accused of lying when he testified in June 1965 and last January that he had not accepted a bribe or that any other township officials had received an illegal payoff.

Kennedy's term of office as supervisor was scheduled to expire in April. He did not seek reelection in the August primary election.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOON'S SURFACE

QUESTION: What is the moon made of?

ANSWER: Astronomers say the moon is a large ball of rock. In about three years, America plans to land astronauts on the moon in the Apollo project. They should be able to bring back samples which will tell us more about what this rock is like, for we know little as yet. However, we have recently found out facts about the surface of the moon — facts something very important for the Apollo astronauts to know.

The experts were uncertain about this; some thought it was covered with fine dust (A) in which an astronaut might sink. Others (B) believed the surface to be smooth.

But when the United States landed a wonderful robot machine, Surveyor 1, on the surface of the moon, it was able to send back more than 11,000 photographs.

We show Surveyor in position, with the moon's surface, as suggested by its picture, pock-marked by large and small craters made by falling meteorites.

FOR YOU TO DO: Experts now feel sure that astronauts can walk on the moon's surface. There will be many newspaper reports. Watch for them.

Malaria Threat Said Slim

By Science Service Fanasil are also an effective combination in treating malaria.

WASHINGTON—Chances are slim that malaria will become a health problem in the United States, in spite of the recent influx of military personnel infected with malaria returning from Southeast Asia.

Dr. David Sencer, chief of the Communicable Diseases Center in Atlanta, Ga., told a meeting of the World Health Organization that evidence accumulated over the last 15 years indicates a "relatively low malaria potential" in this country.

However, in view of the fact that increasing numbers of travelers, missionaries, Peace Corps workers and others are coming home from places where malaria is prevalent, malariologists are on the lookout for possible cases.

More reliable techniques for their detection are needed, he reported.

Col. William D. Tigert, director of the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, Washington, D.C., told Science Service that the minimal number of carrier mosquitoes in the urban places where many of the returnees go may account for the low incidence of malaria.

NOT SINGLE CASE

In the last year, he said, he has not heard of a single case of P. falciparum malaria transmitted in the United States.

P. falciparum malaria is the strain dominant in Viet Nam's jungles and is resistant to traditional chloroquine therapy.

One report from Walter Reed shows success in treating this resistant-strain with sulfoxone given with chloroquine and a long-acting sulfonamide called

Soviets See Peking Leaders Near Showdown

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Soviet and European Communist reports leave the reader with the impression that the Moscow camp sees Red China's leadership on the threshold of a showdown clash and an ensuing violent political explosion.

Moscow seeks a world Communist conference which, in effect, would read the current Red Chinese leadership out of the revolutionary movement but not the Chinese Communist party as such.

With slashing attacks unmatched in vehemence since the days of Nikita S. Khrushchev, Moscow has rejoined the battle of verbal brickbats with Peking. For all the vigor of the attack, it is a careful one which expresses "deep respect for the Chinese people and for Chinese Communists."

Perhaps, in Moscow's thinking, the forces now pushing the "great proletarian cultural revolution" in Red China and spearheading the attack on the Soviet party may not be the ultimate winners.

SOVIET BELIEF

A series of Moscow commentaries suggest a Soviet belief, or possibly a wish — that Lin Piao, his apparent Mao Tse-tung, and those who support him have been digging their own graves.

These commentaries hint that the current leaders have done

some incredible things. They have broken up the Central Committee of the Young Communist League and virtually dismantled that important organization of nine million middle-generation Communists. They have destroyed the Peking City party committee. They have dismembered staffs of important papers. They have dismantled the party organization of Peking University.

One Soviet commentator said this was "only the beginning" of a vast nationwide shake-up to 30 papers on medical and chemical means of treating radiation. Local means of treating radiation are presented at a two-day conference on bone marrow transplantation and radiation protection at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

It suggests that Mao Tse-tung and Lin Piao are acting desperately to prevent a "place coup."

The commentaries point out that the Lin Piao group has attacked Communist party committees at all levels from local to provincial, and has caused at

Radiation Report

ANN ARBOR (AP)—About 90 doctors and scientists are expected Friday and Saturday for a vast nationwide shake-up to 30 papers on medical and chemical means of treating radiation. least a score of provincial and county party committees to be declared "counterrevolutionary and revisionist."

YOUTH RAMPAGE

The implication is that an enormous reservoir of Communists have been humiliated and pushed aside by youngsters 14 to 18 years of age—the Red Guards who have been on a rampage with the leadership's blessing since mid-August.

Reports from the Czechoslovak news agency's Peking correspondent suggest that the Chinese military is in charge of the purge, but that Defense Minister Lin is opposed by still more powerful men. These include President Liu Shao-chi and Teng Hsiao-ping, the party's general secretary.

The agency reports that Peking students have denounced Liu as a "time bomb" threatening Mao. It said the leaflets depicted Liu and Teng as No. 1 and 2 bosses of a "black gang" trying to halt the cultural revolution, and declared that "the anti-party reactionary line will not be liquidated" until the two are deposed.

Irish, MSU Called Even

LANSING (AP) — Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty isn't ready to concede his squad is No. 2, but he also doesn't want to see the MSU/Notre Dame rivalry for No. 1 spot "deteriorate into a name-calling thing."

"They are both great teams," Daugherty told an MSU awards ceremony Tuesday by 1,900 Spartan backers Tuesday night.

He called No. 1 ranked Notre Dame "as fine a team as ever has been selected."

He added: "Our Spartans salute them — but I salute our Spartans, who are equally as good."

"We may have been outvoted, but we were never outplayed," said Biggie Munn, MSU athletic director.

HARD FOUGHT

The 10-10 tie between the two teams Nov. 19 was an extremely hard fought game, Daugherty said, "and I think the outcome was a fair indication of the merit of the two teams."

"We can't rightfully say we're better than Notre Dame. If we were, we would have beaten them. If they were better, they would have beaten us," he said.

Notre Dame edged MSU by three points in the poll after the tie. Then the Irish beat Southern California 51-0 last Saturday and pulled out to a 34-point to 34-point edge over the No. 2 Spartans.

Daugherty didn't feel the southern Cal game should have had any effect on the poll. "I don't think they (Notre Dame) were flat when they played us," he said. "The week before, they won 64-0 (over Duke)."

QUICK QUIP

The short, bull-necked coach, well known as a master of the quick quip, began his speech with the usual mention of dignitaries.

The introduction ended this way: "My friends, members of the MacArthur Committee."

The Awards Committee of the National Football Foundation, which awards the MacArthur Bowl each year to the best college football team in the nation, chose MSU and Notre Dame as cochampions.

Daugherty introduced 18 graduating seniors and told the crowd: "I'm going to miss them very badly — more than you folks."

Among the seniors were five who received special awards Tuesday night from MSU alumni.

George Webster, outstanding defensive back; Clint Jones, outstanding offensive back; Jerry Wilt, outstanding offensive lineman; Bubba Smith, outstanding defensive lineman; and Gene Washington, outstanding end.

The other seniors are line-backers Charles Thornhill and Bob Brawley, defensive half-backs Jerry Jones, Jim Summers and Chuck Lowther, barefoot kicker Dick Kenney, defensive end Phil Hest, defensive guards Pat Gallagher and Jeff Richardson, ends Larry Lukasik and John Mullen, center Keith Reid and Tackle Tom Skidmore.

Almost jumped in front after one quarter, 15-13, but Imlay moved into the lead at halftime, 26-25, and was never headed.

Curry finished with 19 points to lead all scorers while teammate Dick McEwen added 12.

John Tople paced Imlay with 14 points. Jim Simons tossed in 14 and Gary Nolin came through with 12.

PECK WINNS

In another Thumb area game, Brown City, ahead 36-22 at the half, went cold in the second half and fell to Peck 59-53.

"They think somebody is going to give them something," Haskins said. "I think we have some well-headed players."

The Miners was not listed in the major category, however, and the Miners are favored to chalk up victory No. 29 in their last 30 games even if they are not up to their 1966 standard.

OTHER POWERS

In addition to Texas Western, five other teams in the AP pre-season Top Ten open tonight.

The introduction ended this way: "My friends, members of the MacArthur Committee."

The Awards Committee of the National Football Foundation, which awards the MacArthur Bowl each year to the best college football team in the nation, chose MSU and Notre Dame as cochampions.

Daugherty introduced 18 graduating seniors and told the crowd: "I'm going to miss them very badly — more than you folks."

Among the seniors were five who received special awards Tuesday night from MSU alumni.

George Webster, outstanding defensive back; Clint Jones, outstanding offensive back; Jerry Wilt, outstanding offensive lineman; Bubba Smith, outstanding defensive lineman; and Gene Washington, outstanding end.

Tiger Farm Team Picks Jack Tighe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Toledo Mud Hens of the International League announced Tuesday night that former major league manager Jack Tighe will be field manager of the Mud Hens next season.

Tighe, 52, managed the Detroit Tigers in 1957 and 1958. The Toledo baseball club is now a Tiger farm team, after operating the past two seasons as a New York Yankee farm.

Toledo General Manager Charles Singer announced the signing of Tighe, who has been a scout for the Atlanta and Milwaukee Braves the past three years.

In the first, Trinity Church All Stars will take on the Mace donia All Stars.

The feature game will have to raise funds for Paul Brown Jr., 23, who is paralyzed from the waist down, the result of a brain tumor.

Lone Letterwinners Pace Pontiac Five Against Wildcats

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It's always nice to have that first game under your belt. And it's particularly pleasant if that initial test turns out to be a victory.

So it was with Pontiac Central's nervous young Chiefs who started slowly last night and finished fast in their debut by romping past a visiting Roseville quintet, 76-46.

"We were scared," admitted coach Fred Zittel, who must have found the triumph pleasing from the standpoint that it was accomplished with three juniors in the lineup most of the time.

It's understandable why Zittel and the Chiefs were a little nervous at the onset.

Zittel, who guided the Chiefs to a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference championship last season, had only guard Prentice Hill and forward Alton Wilson back from that squad.

RESERVE HELP

The rest of the help had to come from the reserves.

The help was there. After a not-too-impressive first quarter, the Chiefs settled down and proceeded to outshoot and outshoot the Wildcats.

While the young Chiefs performed well, it was Wilson and Hill who provided the scoring punch.

Hill, pepping the net from long and close range, emerged with 24 points to lead all scorers while Wilson (a junior) contributed 14. June Center Walter Causay tossed in 10.

The other junior in the lineup, Ardel Sheldon, came in to replace senior John Childs at a guard post after Childs ran into foul trouble and pushed in six points.

NINE POINTS

Gordon Hamilton, the other member of the starting unit, tossed in nine markers from his forward slot.

In all, Zittel sent 11 players into the game and nine scored.

Roseville's Ken Foltz, a 5-9 guard, was the only player to beat successfully the Chiefs' tight defense. Hitting from outside and from close in, Foltz came with 23 points, seven of them at the free throw line.

Although they lacked a consistent effort in the first quarter, the Chiefs wound up in front 17-12 at the period end, and they tightened their defense in the second frame to earn a 29-18 lead at intermission.

The Chiefs blew the game open in the third, stretching their lead to 20 points with 2:55 left in the third (43-23) and they raised their margin to 32 points late in the fourth quarter.

The Chiefs entertain Flint Central Friday as they open defense of their share of the SVC championship.

Wash., after a closed meeting of the three leagues Tuesday. "We are still working on it, and an announcement will be made when it is cleared."

"There are some differences," said AHL president Jack Butterfield of West Springfield, Mass., "but they are not drastic ones. They probably can be resolved by future negotiations."

7-Foot Center Out for Season

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dave Newmark, Columbia's seven-foot center, will be lost to the Lions for the entire 1966-67 basketball season, it was learned Tuesday.

Newmark, a junior from Brooklyn, who averaged 22.9 points a game last season in leading Columbia to an 18-5 mark, underwent a tonsillectomy last week and his physician advised him to stay out of school until next year to recuperate fully.

Brighton Quint Falls

Howe handed Brighton of the Wayne-Oakland League a 54-30 setback in their game openers last night. Gary Itell led the winners with 16 while Tim Bowditch and Dan McKean each had nine for the losers.

Birmingham Falcons Show Strength

Birmingham held the upper hand in a pair of skirmishes with Royal Oak last night.

The Falcons of Birmingham Groves, one of the area's top basketball squads, won its second straight by ripping Royal Oak Kimball, 54-28, while Birmingham Seaholm evened its record at 1-1 by whipping Royal Oak Dondoro, 66-46.

Groves, a 62-1 winner over Seaholm last week, tossed a defense at Kimball that the Knights couldn't solve.

The Falcons rolled to a 32-11 lead at halftime and permitted the losers only 17 points in the second half.

Roy Leeberg paced the Groves offense with 15 points, while Mike Rafferty added 14 and Lane Brown contributed 12.

SHARE HONORS

Greg Schmidt and Brent Perry shared honors for Kimball with eight points apiece.

Kimball hit on only eight of 64 shots while Groves connected on 21 of 51 attempts.

Seaholm also came up with a sharp defensive effort.

The Maples held Dondoro to 17 points in taking a 35-17 half-time lead and then coasted through the second half in which the reserves handled most of the action.

Dave Cook pumped in 18 points for Seaholm and hauled in 18 rebounds, while teammate Rick Copeland scored 12 and picked off 15 rebounds.

OL St. Mary Serves 'Notice' in League

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary have gunned up the order of things in the Northwest Parochial League.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows was the preseason choice to take the title in the league race, with the Eaglets finishing second or third.

But OLSM served notice that its championship will not be lifted without a battle as the Eaglets planned a 65-55 setback on FOLS last night on the losers' court.

Just last week Eaglet coach Fr. John Rakoczy commented that "if we can handle them, we can be tough."

Well, Fr. Rakoczy and the Eaglets did handle them, and they must now rank as the league favorite as they start their bid for a third straight championship.

11TH STRAIGHT

For the record, Fr. Rakoczy's basketball teams haven't finished lower than second since he took over as coach in 1954, and his victory over FOLS was the 11th straight. They Eaglets have never lost to the Lancers on the court.

This one was close and might have been closer had the Lancers not lost one of their top scorers, Frank Carrio, on fouls in the third quarter.

OLS was leading 42-37

State police said they recovered the loot.

Safe Containing $125 Taken in City Break-In

A 3-by-2-foot safe containing $125 is missing from a Pontiac firm after a break-in early today.

Pontiac Police Sgt. Earl W. Skrobek said the burglary was discovered at Grappin's Delivery Service, 1461 N. Perry, about 4:15 a.m.

Owner James F. Grappin told police the 400-pound safe was on casters and had apparently been wheeled from the building.

Entry to the office had been gained, police said, by prying Miss, Phyllis Grisham, will open an overhead door at the company's garage.

State Okays Sewer Work Bond Issue

A $185,000 special assessment bond issue for a lateral sewer system installation in a Farmington Township subdivision was approved yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Bids will be taken in the next three weeks on construction of the Woodbine Subdivision sewer project, according to Township Clerk Floyd A. Cairns. Bond sale bids may be taken at the same time.

Approximately 2½ miles of sewer line will be installed in the subdivision on 16 Mile, west of Inkster.

The area includes 145 lots and about two-thirds of these contain houses, Cairns said.

The lateral subdivision sewer installation will hook into the Old Farm Colony Sewer Army which transmits flow into the Farmington Interceptor Sewer.

Work on the subdivision installation is expected to begin by the end of this year.
