U.S. Traffic Toll Pushes Past Estimated Mark

Late Spurt of Accidents Puts Fatalities at 335, Five Above Prediction

By The Associated Press

A sharp spurt of accidents in the final hours of the New Year's holiday pushed the final toll of traffic deaths beyond the National Safety Council's estimate.

At midnight Monday, when the three-day holiday period ended, the count of traffic fatalities stood at 335.

In addition, there were 83 deaths resulting from fires, a record for a New Year period since World War II; and 59 deaths attributed to miscellaneous accidents. The over-all toll from traffic, fires and miscellaneous causes was 477.

Michigan reversed the national trend by chalking up an unusually low highway fatality figure for the holiday period. Eight lives were lost on the state's roads.

The eight fatalities compare favorably with 17 killed a year ago. Two persons died in fires and three others were killed in miscellaneous mishaps.

The New Year's weekend accidental death toll fell far short of the Christmas weekend's, when 26 persons lost their lives in traffic, six persons died in fires and one person was killed in a miscellaneous mishap.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated that 330 persons might be killed in traffic accidents during the extended weekend, earlier had hopes that the toll might be a record low for the three-day New Year period.

The record low of 269 highway fatalities was set in the 1949-1950 New Year period. The record traffic toll for a three-day New Year period is 377, set in 1959-60.

MORE LAST YEAR

In the three-day 1960-61 New Year celebration, there were 338 traffic deaths, 66 perished in fires and 38 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 482.

Traffic deaths totaled 524 in the recent three-day Christmas weekend, while 83 persons died in fires and 86 others in miscellaneous accidents, an over-all toll of 693.

The previous record of five deaths for a New Year period since World War II was 74, set during the 1955-56 three-day celebration.

★ ★ ★

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accident deaths in a nonholiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8 to midnight Monday, Dec. 11. The count: 347 in traffic, 42 in fires and 57 in the miscellaneous group, a total of 446.

Guns to Handle Jail Rebellion

POLICE GET ARMS — Riot guns are passed out to police stationed outside Montreal's Bordeaux Jail at the height of a riot of 400 prisoners within the institution. Three prisoners and a fireman were injured during the riot, quelled after several hours, but more trouble is feared.

After 400 Riot in Montreal

Prisoners Quiet in Cells

MONTREAL (AP) — Some 400 prisoners returned quietly to their cells today after they had rioted and battled police for four hours in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The men spent the night tramping about in two flooded, uneated cell wings where they were herded after the violent outbreak.

★ ★ ★

Authorities had expected more trouble getting them back to their regular cells, but officials said they returned without making any difficulty.

Lt. Col. Leon Lambert, governor of the jail, said prisoners in a block for persons awaiting trial took part in the rebellion and that "some of them looked drunk—possibly from goof balls (barbiturates)."

★ ★ ★

"The disturbance is far from over," Lambert told newsmen. "We have to get them back in their own cells yet."

★ ★ ★

He said three prisoners and a fireman manning a water hose were injured, none seriously. The fireman was believed struck by a piece of metal thrown by a prisoner.

GRUMBLE AT START

Lambert said the rioting started with some grumbling and shouting about 4:30 p.m. which developed into open rebellion as the men were being served a roast beef New Year's dinner.

★ ★ ★

An electric power failure followed two hours later, knocking out the tower which controls the cell gates.

"Without electricity, we could do nothing," Lambert said. "We had no lights or water here for two hours."

★ ★ ★

About 90 city and provincial police rushed to the jail and entered the prison yard with baseball bats and tear gas. Firemen were forced to run in hoses from outside the jail when water pumps failed to work.

★ ★ ★

Windows, plumbing, walls and banks were smashed or ripped in both wings and a fool of water covered the floors.

★ ★ ★

Firemen doused fires the prisoners set in blankets and mattresses but "we didn't have to use the hoses on men," said prison controller J. A. Pilon. "When they saw the hoses, they got scared. They didn't want to get wet."

★ ★ ★

Gunfire rang out during the rioting and one prisoner was thrown naked from his cell, bleeding from numerous wounds. Lambert said "it looked as if he had fought with his fellow prisoners. He was not struck by bullets."

The rioters finally were herded into cells of the wings where they had battled.

★ ★ ★

Lambert said he didn't know yet what had caused the riot. But "you can't talk to those fellows when they are in revolt." The jail for the past decade has been plagued by rioting prisoners and poor conditions. It houses 750 prisoners.

Portugal Hunts Associates of Captured Rebel Leader

BEJA, Portugal (AP)—The hunt was on today for political associates of a rebel leader who tried unsuccessfully to seize a military barracks and touch off a revolution against Premier Antonio Salazar's government.

Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, 37, an army officer turned politician, lay near death in the Beja Hospital. Manuel Serra, a former Roman Cathclic Youth leader who authorities said shared leadership of the uprising with Gomes, was captured while heading for the Spanish border with four heavily armed companions.

Between 40 and 50 persons, most of them workers, apparently were in the band that engaged Salazar's troops in a three-hour gun battle Monday at the barracks of the 3rd Infantry regiment. Officials at first announced all had been killed or captured.

But so far the government has announced only one rebel killed, two wounded and 20 others captured.

It appeared some might still be at large, although the rebel casualties were believed to have been much higher than the government said.

★ ★ ★

Most notable casualty on the government side was Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, under secretary for war who rushed to the southern city of Beja from Lisbon.

SHOOT HIM

He ordered the government forces to hold their fire and then walked into the barracks to demand that the rebels surrender. They shot him down. He died later in the hospital.

The government tightened security precautions by placing all police and military units in a "state of prevention."

There was no general alert, but a huge Lisbon rally scheduled for Wednesday night was canceled, officially in mourning for Da Fonseca.

AFTER BAD YEAR

Salazar was to have addressed the rally to outline Portuguese policy for 1962 following a year of painful and embarrassing setbacks ranging from the seizure of the liner Santa Maria on the high seas to the Indian seizure of Goa.

The ill-fated uprising began in the sleepy New Year's morning.

Witnesses said the rebels burst past the guardpost at the barracks, smashed into the officers' quarters and overcame the drowsy men. Two junior officers managed to escape to another strong point in the barracks and sounded the alarm.

★ ★ ★

The rebels were pinned down in the officers' quarters by machine-gun fire but could not be dislodged. Then Da Fonseca arrived and tried to arrange a surrender, at the cost of his own life.

★ ★ ★

The shooting of the underseretary for war aroused the loyal troops and panicked the rebels. A number attempted to escape by seizing army vehicles and driving from the barracks. All were captured, and resistance crumbled.

More GIs Are Moved Across East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Army today announced another movement of combat troops across East Germany along the highway linking West Berlin and West Germany.

The Communists have called the troop movements provocatory but Soviet officials on the autobahn have continued to check them through.

Envoys Attempt to Reach Basis for Negotiations

U.S. Ambassador to See Russian Again on Divided City

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and Soviet Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred 2½ hours today on Berlin. It was the first step in a new attempt to reach a basis agreeable to both sides for negotiations about the divided city.

Emerging from the Foreign Ministry, Thompson declined to say how the meeting went.

He told Western newsmen he definitely plans to see Gromyko again on the subject of Berlin, but he does not expect these preliminary meetings to last long. If a profitable foundation is found, the next step is expected to be a foreign ministers' conference.

Radio Moscow and the Soviet news agency Tass made no immediate mention of the day's development.

After reporting to the U. S. State Department in Washington, Thompson telephoned the British, French and West German ambassadors and filled them in on the results of his talk with Gromyko. He plans to have a further conference with the three at his embassy Wednesday.

The Thompson-Gromyko talk took place on the seventh floor of the Foreign Ministry, a spired skyscraper on Smolensk Square. The table contained nothing to eat or drink.

Thompson took Kempton Jenkins, embassy second secretary specializing in German affairs, to the meeting. Gromyko was accompanied by Ivan I. Ilyichev, a Soviet foreign ministry official who was formerly ambassador to East Germany.

Thompson said he would fill in the British and French ambassadors here about the conference. He did not mention the West German ambassador, but it is assumed that he will give him a briefing too.

In Washington, State Department officials said a report from Thompson was expected some time late today.

They said, however, that comment from the department would be very unlikely at this early stage of an expected series of talks.

President Kennedy has instructed Thompson to probe the Soviet position on the Berlin issue to see if there is a profitable basis for formal talks.

THEY AGREE

Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had agreed to have the U.S. ambassador handle the preliminary round for both Britain and the United States. There is a possibility that British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts may also take a hand.

If the Thompson - Gromyko talks are successful, the next step is expected to be a foreign ministers' conference to determine the future of Berlin.

Thompson's last round of talks with Gromyko in Moscow took place at the end of October.

U.S. Sees Progress in New Guinea Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials described as a step forward the announcement by the Netherlands' government today that it is willing to discuss the future of West New Guinea without insisting on prior conditions.

They expressed confidence that both the Indonesian and Dutch governments will maintain flexibility to permit a settlement of the dispute without resort to force.

West New Guinea is all that remains in the Dutch of their once vast East Indies colonial empire. Indonesia, which won independence after World War II, is claiming it and has threatened to use force to take it.

Johnson, McNamara, Others Fly to Palm Beach

JFK Calls In Top Brass on Army Survey

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy today called in Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and top defense officials for a preliminary survey of problems bound up in Army organization.

★ ★ ★

Besides Johnson, Kennedy asked Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, his personal military adviser, to meet with him at 5 p.m. EST, in the beachfront home where the first family is vacationing.

Kennedy will confer with the same group, supplemented by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Wednesday on what White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger described as "the operational and strategic outlook for 1962."

Salinger announced the theme of today's session as "Army organizational problems."

He declined to elaborate when asked if it concerned possibly early release of Reservists called to active duty last year in the armed forces buildup prompted by the Berlin crisis.

THE ARMY STRUCTURE

It seemed likely the conference would deal with the entire Army structure—regulars, National Guard and Reserves. Gilpatric has questioned whether a fast call-up of Reserves is the most effective method of coping with emergencies.

The pattern set for Wednesday suggested the President and the country's defense leaders, civilian and military, will survey all phases of U.S. capacity to counter threats to free world security, from Berlin to Southeast Asia.

Salinger had said earlier the meetings would not relate directly to the 1962-63 defense budget which is likely to take up more than half of Kennedy's anticipated $92-billion plus spending program for the year.

★ ★ ★

Neither, he said, were they called to make a decision on whether the United States should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

★ ★ ★

The vice president was scheduled to land at West Palm Beach Airport from Johnson City, Tex., at 3:30 p.m. EST, and the others in half-hour later.

Johnson and McNamara will spend the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wrightman, while Gilpatric and Taylor stay at the estate of Mrs. Robert R. Young, widow of the late railroad magnate and financier. Both homes are just down the beach from that of Mr. and Mrs. C. Michael Paul, where the Kennedys have been staying since before Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Frederick H. Smith Jr., vice chief of staff, will represent the Air Force among the joint chiefs in place of Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, who is ill.

U.S. to Give Extra Day to Ready Tax Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers will get an extra 24 hours this year in which to prepare their federal income tax returns.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, said today that because the normal filing deadline of April 15 is a Sunday this year the deadline will be extended until midnight Monday, April 16.

Steelworkers Talks Fail; Men Strike at S-P Corp.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union called its members out on strike at Studebaker-Packard Corp. early today after extended weekend sessions set up by mediators had failed to bring company and union together.

★ ★ ★

The executive committee of Local 5 had set the strike deadline after the company terminated the contract, which had been extended from its Dec. 1 expiration date. The committee had had strike authorization from the membership since November.

★ ★ ★

Only a few volunteer pickets without signs were on hand at midnight, when second shift workers left the plants. Studebaker-Packard has not been operating a production force on the third shift. Regular picketing started at 6 a.m.

The strike involves 6,500 production workers.

★ ★ ★

Issues in dispute included wash-up time, shift premium, vacation computation, representation and management rights, a union spokesman said.

Bus Passengers Delayed Because Licenses Expire

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Several hundred Greyhound bus passengers were delayed for up to six hours here Monday because a company spokesman said, "the 1962 license plates didn't catch up with the buses."

Buses and taxicabs in New York State are required to display the new tags Jan. 1, while automobile operators have until Jan. 31 to attach plates.

The company spokesman said drivers affiliated with the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America declined to operate with the old plates.

★ ★ ★

Tshombe Admits Kongolo Defeat

Katanga Leader Claims Victory in Congolese Attacks at Kapona

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has conceded the loss of the north Katanga stronghold of Kongolo to troops of the central Congolese government but claims his forces have beaten off Congolese attacks at Kapona, south of Baudouinville.

Tshombe charged at a news conference Monday in Elisabethville that 13,000 Congolese troops advancing on Kongolo had murdered hundreds of civilians and burned villages.

CASUALTIES HEAVY

He claimed that the Congolese abandoned heavy equipment and fled in the face of strong Katangan resistance at Kapona. The secessionist leader said both sides suffered heavy casualties there, asserting that most Katangan casualties involved civilians.

Tshombe also declared that he has rejected an order by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu that the Katanga Assembly convene Wednesday in Kamina under U.N. protection.

'ABUSE OF POWER'

He said he had informed the U.N. Command in Elisabethville that the order for the Assembly to meet and ratify Tshombe's Kitona unity agreement with Premier Cyrille Adoula was "contrary and in direct violation of the Congo constitution" and "an abuse of power."

Tshombe has summoned the assembly to meet in Elisabethville tomorrow to discuss the Kitona agreement. But he said he was no longer sure the meeting would be held on schedule.

REPORT 13 KILLED

The U.N. Command announced that Bashi tribesmen in Kivu Province had killed at least 12 of their tribal enemies while trying to elect a new chief.

A U.N. spokesman said a Malayan patrol halted the bloodshed but that reports from the patrol indicated the death toll may actually be much higher. The U.N. spokesman was unable to say whether the chief had been elected.

Traffic Deaths Drop in State

Toll of 1,542 in 1961 54 Under Last Year; 1st Reduction in 3 Years

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan ended 1961 with a traffic death toll of 1,542, the first reduction in the past three years, state police reported today.

Police revised an earlier provisional figure of 1,534 upward by eight deaths after receiving a late report on delayed fatalities from the State Health Department.

The 1961 highway toll was a 3.4 per cent reduction and a saving of 54 lives from the 1,596 fatalities in 1960, the revised provisional figures showed.

Contributing to the decrease was the low December toll of 110 deaths, 34 fewer than the 185 in the same month the previous year. It was the lowest December count since 139 were killed in 1945.

December was the seventh month in the year and the fourth in a row to show a reduction from corresponding months in 1960.

Other months with decreases were January, June, July, September, October and November.

August, with 165 deaths, had the highest monthly toll of the year. February was the lowest with 98 deaths.

Reports of delayed deaths are expected to bring a slight increase in the totals for December and the year.

Police said the 1961 death slash was achieved although there were increases of 1 per cent in the number of drivers and registered motor vehicles over 1960. Travel in Michigan was estimated at 31.7 billion miles during the year, down three tenths of 1 per cent from 1960.

NYC Adjusting to Bus Strike

Few Tie-Ups Reported as 1.3 Million Riders Use Subway, Cars

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike against the two largest bus lines in the city forced 1.3 million regular riders to seek other means of transportation today. Police reported few tie-ups and little confusion.

★ ★ ★

Subway traffic was heavier than usual. Automobile traffic from Queens and Brooklyn to Manhattan also was heavier, as bus riders switched to their own cars or car pools. Lines of cars outside midtown parking places were longer than usual.

An early morning snowfall in Queens and Brooklyn hampered automobile traffic somewhat.

Drivers for the Yonkers, N.Y., Bus Corp. reported they carried more passengers than usual from the suburban Westchester County area to city subway lines.

No negotiations were scheduled for today in the dispute that halted service on the struck private bus lines at the start of the new year.

Passengers affected by the strike found alternate transportation for the most part on subways and city-owned bus lines and five private bus lines that were not struck. Taxicabs also did a heavy business.

Says Cuba Invasion Scared Off Castro

GUATEMALA (AP) — President Miguel Ydigoras says last April's invasion of Cuba by forces trained in Guatemala so frightened Fidel Castro "that his warlike activities outside Cuba ceased since that date."

★ ★ ★

The Guatemalan president, disclosing officially in a new year's message Saturday night for the first time that anti-Castro Cubans were trained in Guatemala, also declared:

"President Kennedy still has the responsibility of a sequel. . . ."

He did not explain this statement clearly, but went on to say:

"The day of pigs (scene of the April invasion) was a victory, not a defeat, and he who begins undersuch auspices must go on with the great task of de-communizing that part of the American territory. There are signed commitments in South America."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the meeting later this month of Western hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este Uruguay, to consider the Cuban question, Ydigoras said: "These protocols could transform the problem, giving it a solution such as that of Korea . . . where troops of many nations fought bravely."

ENCOURAGED EXILES

Referring to the April invasion, he said Guatemala "encouraged thousands of exiled Cubans to fight to regain their own homeland instead of lamenting their ill fortune."

★ ★ ★

He said Guatemala reached an understanding with the exiled Cubans and "they entered into arrangements with a friendly government able to give arms and sustain training and a military campaign."

A secret training base was set up in Guatemala and another operated openly, he added.

Ydigoras said the failure of the invaders to stage a successful revolution was a debacle only from the point of view of "pro-communists embedded in the press and some public offices in the United States."

★ ★ ★

North Americans, he said, "became hysterical, as happens to them when they suffer a setback" and "their noisy press and gringo pro-Communists" created such a stir that some were led to name Guatemala as the source of the invasion."

★ ★ ★

Ydigoras also said Guatemala has plans to recover British Honduras from Britain, but is not relying on force, as in the case of Goa or Katanga, but on "reason and justice" and the good will of the residents of British Honduras.

W. New Guinea to Be Discussed

Hague Now Ready to Debate Future With No Strings Attached

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —The Dutch government announced today its willingness to discuss the future of West New Guinea with Indonesia without setting conditions beforehand.

★ ★ ★

Premier Jan de Quay read the government declaration in the lower house of Parliament at the start of debate on West New Guinea, last remnant of Holland's East Indies colonial empire which Indonesia has threatened to invade.

President Sukarno Monday proclaimed the disputed territory a province of Indonesia and ordered a special military command set up to direct the invasion if he orders it.

De Quay said the Netherlands is willing to enter into negotiations without making self-determination of New Guinea's Papuan population a prerequisite. Previously the Dutch had said they would negotiate only if the Papuans were assured the right of self-determination.

★ ★ ★

The Labor party opposition had been pressing the government to announce willingness to relinquish the territory and then to negotiate for some autonomy for the Papuans.

Castro Appoints New Envoy to the Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro has appointed a new ambassador to the Vatican in an apparent move to ease strained relations between his pro-Communist regime in Cuba and the Roman Catholic Church.

Castro's appointment of Luis Amado Blanco y Fernandez became known today with the routine publication of the 1962 directory of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican.

An official at the Cuban embassy confirmed the appointment of Blanco y Fernandez, but said he had not yet arrived in Rome.

★ ★ ★

The previous Cuban envoy, Dr. Jose Ruiz Veinsco, presented his credentials in March 1960, was recalled by Castro less than nine months later.

Delaware Traffic Toll of 64 Lowest in 1961

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware's highway toll of 64 in 1961 was the lowest since traffic fatalities were recorded.

The figure compares with 87 during 1960, and is three less than the previous low of 87 set in 1929, 1943 and 1947.

The record high of 111 was set in 1953.

Reds Boast Wall Can Restrain God

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists boasted today that their wall through Berlin is "so high and strong that neither God nor the devil" can help in getting across. But West Berlin newspapers reported at least two refugees escaped over the weekend.

The Communist statement was directed at Bishop Otto Dibelius, head of the German Evangelical Church. Bishop Dibelius in a New Year's message quoted a line from the 18th Psalm about leaping over a wall with the help of God.

BARBARA BURNS

Gets Last Wish; Is Dead at 23

Barbiturates Fatal to Barbara Burns, Child of Famous Comedian

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Barbara Ann Burns, unable to break free from the narcotics that enslaved her, is dead at 23. Her last wish had been to die rather than go to jail for an addiction she has had since her teens.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of the late millionaire comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns died Monday of an overdose of barbiturates, her third in six months. She never regained consciousness after being found Saturday lying in a Hollywood alley.

★ ★ ★

"I wish I had never seen heroin or any other narcotic," she said the first time she was arrested for a narcotics offense, at 19. "For anyone who's thinking of trying it, just tell them it's not worth it."

Once an aspiring singer and actress, she had been in and out of trouble with the law because of her drug addiction since her father died in 1956.

TURNED TO DOPE

After the first arrest she told newsmen she became estranged from her mother, Harriett, over division of her father's estate. She became lonely, she said, and turned to dope.

★ ★ ★

Her supplier, she added, was a man who gave her free heroin for a month, then began charging her $15 to $30 a day. She said most of a $500 monthly allowance from her father's estate went for narcotics.

In a pocket of the pedal pushers she wore deputies found a note to her mother and a brother Stephen, 21.

"I love you. I'm sorry," she wrote. "All I ever wanted was your love and you hate me and always will. Mr. Weiss, all money is to go to you and Busby. Thanks for trying to help."

★ ★ ★

Harry E. Weiss was her attorney, Daniel N. Busby his associate.

At 20 Barbara was married to a former film technician, David J. Mack, 27, who soon was convicted of selling her heroin and sentenced to prison.

Convict Tells 'Big Lie' to Get Holiday Leave

LYNN, Mass. (AP)—A Mississippi convict who says he was given a leave of absence from prison to recover $500,000 stolen in a robbery, was arrested today as a fugitive.

Mississippi police said the convict's story was not true.

Kimble Berry, 24, of Greenville, Miss., was picked up at the Lynn home of his brother on a warrant signed by Arthur B. Clark Jr., judge of the Fourth Circuit Court of Mississippi. The warrant asked Lynn police to return him to Mississippi authorities.

Berry said he went to Lynn police voluntarily about two weeks ago, and told them what he described as the true version of his departure from the prison at Parchman, Miss.

He was quoted by police as saying he was given a 10-day leave, and supplied with a loaded gun and a $7,000 automobile to go to Keiser, Ark., bank to recover the alleged loot and return to prison.

The city's share of the program, recently approved by the State Department of Administration, will not be $8,465.

A substantial portion of this sum, $3,945, will be returned to the city upon completion of planning-related services by city personnel.

Next step in the program's initiation will be the approval of the state, city and planner contract for the program. When this agreement is signed by all parties concerned, then the project will get under way.

The commission also will consider Gare's recommendation that the city charter be amended to provide for an alternate method of making ordinances public. Presently all ordinances must be published in a newspaper within the city.

★ ★ ★

If the commission accepts Gare's recommendation, ordinances may be posted in a public place as well. This method may save the city money when the city ordinance codification is completed, the manager said.

Korean Rulers Eye Population

Will Attack Problem of Birth Control and Offer Information

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Birth control is one of the major tasks to be tackled by South Korea's military rulers this year.

The population, now 25 million, has been increasing at an annual rate of 2.8 per cent.

Major steps planned this year include:

1. Establishment of 200 free counsel offices to provide information and advice. This would average more than one such office in every city and country.

2. Stepped-up production and import of contraceptives for wider distribution with free contraceptives for those who can not afford them.

3. Establishment of a family planning review board within the ministry of health and social affairs, charged with supervising and appraising the program.

4. An active education campaign to make the people familiar with modern contraceptive measures.

Although the military rulers publicly announced support for a birth control program shortly after they took power in last May's military coup, the government has not been directly responsible for any birth control program so far.

Waterford Board to Hold Hearing on Paving Issue

The main item scheduled on tonight's scant Waterford Township agenda, according to Clerk James Seeterlin, will be a hearing for blacktopping some 3,000 feet of Preston Street.

The estimated cost of $27,250 for the project will cost each of the 53 lot owners $7.42 a front foot. The special assessment district was established by Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson.

The board will probably appoint two new zoning board members to fill four-year expired terms.

NY City Electricians Delay Strike Date

NEW YORK (AP)—A threatened strike by 9,000 electrical workers, which could tie up the city's $1.25 billion construction industry, was postponed today until Jan. 10. Negotiations with employers were to resume later in the day.

★ ★ ★

The postponement was announced in State Supreme Court, where a hearing had been scheduled on an employer request for an injunction to prevent a strike.

Herman L. Weisman, counsel for some 600 electrical contracting concerns told the court that during the weekend union and management representatives had agreed to resume negotiations. As a result, he said, the injunction action was being withdrawn.

Cubans Show Might in Havana Parade

HAVANA (AP) — Soviet-made MIG 19s flashed under leaden skies today as Cuba displayed a sample of its military might to celebrate the third anniversary of Fidel Castro's overthrow of the Batista dictatorship.

Huge pictures, over 100 feet high, of Lenin, Castro, the late Camilo Cienfuegos, Picasso's Communist peace dove and the Cuban hero Jose Marti decorated Jose Marti Plaza where Cuba's revolutionary brass reviewed the parade.

Young soldiers, some not over 12 years old, in neat olive green uniforms, juggled automatic weapons as they rode by in trucks and personnel carriers to the strains of the Internationale.

Atlantic City Coated With Ice

Snow, Cold Skid Into New England

By The Associated Press

Bitter cold weather moved into the Northeast today after a storm dumped up to a foot of snow in parts of Virginia and Tennessee before it whirled into New England.

A 12-hour snowstorm spread a six-inch carpet on the resort city of Atlantic City, N.J., coating the boardwalk and area highways with ice. Only half an inch of snow was reported 40 miles inland.

Colder weather spread into upstate New York and northern New England. Watertown, N.Y., recorded -14; Massena -8; Oneonta -7 and Albany 1 above. In northern New England readings hovered around zero.

Early in the morning, Nantucket, Mass., measured eight inches of snow, Boston had two inches and Providence, R. I., had four.

Fairbanks, Alaska, warmed up to 2 degrees above zero today from -25 a day earlier. Thermal, Calif., recorded 78 degrees Monday.

There was a foot of snow in southwest Virginia and in mountain areas of Tennessee. Six to 8 inches of snow covered the ground in southern Virginia, with 4 in Richmond and 3 to 5 inches in areas east of Richmond. Schools in 24 counties and 3 cities were closed.

In addition to the 12 inches of snow in mountain areas in Tennessee, 1 to 4 inches was on the ground in the extreme eastern sections. Schools were ordered closed in Johnson City and four counties.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Some schools were closed in the eastern half of Maryland, hit by a 5-inch snowfall. Nearly four inches of snow fell in parts of lower Delaware, including Dover, the state capital, Georgetown and Bridgeville.

Snowfalls in Georgia ranged from nine inches in mountain areas to 4 to 7 inches in northern areas.

More than six inches of snow hit Atlantic City, N. J., during the night but smaller amounts were reported north and south of the Atlantic Ocean resort. Snowfalls measured 4 to 8 inches in western sections of the Carolinas. Rain fell along coastal areas, with some sleet and gusty northerly winds as the storm moved northeastward.

The Weather Bureau warned of snow up to six inches or more in much of New England during the day.

'61 Third Safest Airline Year

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — The U.S. scheduled airlines' 1961 safety record, third best in history, added up today to this statistic:

Based on that record, if on New Year's Day you started flying eight hours daily, it would be the year 2144 before you could expect to be involved in a fatal crash.

At midnight Sunday, the airlines wound up the third safest year on record in terms of fatalities per 100 million passenger miles flown. The rate was 0.30, surpassed only by 1954's record of 0.07 and 1957's 0.90.

That compares with the average automobile fatality rate of more than two deaths per 100 million passenger miles over the last 10 years.

A total of 122 passengers died in three crashes of scheduled airliners during 1961.

The National Safety Council lists these other fatality totals for 1960, the latest year for which complete figures were available: 19,000 persons died in falls; 8,500 drowned; 3,300 were accidentally killed by firearms; 40 died playing football; 5,100 were killed in vehicle accidents on the farm; 3,300 were killed on nonvehicle farm accidents; 170 drowned in their own bathtubs 38,000 died in automobile accidents; and 400 were killed on bicycles.

The airlines readily admit that 122 deaths in airliner crashes were too many. But back in 1947 there were 319 passenger fatalities when there were only 14 million passengers. In 1961, the airlines flew 57.6 million passengers.

The three crashes last year tied a record for the fewest fatal accidents in a single year. Only three times before had there been as few as three — 1939, 1940 and 1943, all years when mileage and passenger totals were only a fraction of 1961's.

Want one more statistic on why the airlines are proud of 1961?

Again, based on last year's fatality rate, you could fly back and forth between New York and Los Angeles for the next 83 years — a distance of more than 326 million miles — before your number came up!

The Perry Point residents had contended they were being taxed without benefit of representation.

Peace Is Called Secondary by Red Chinese

TOKYO (AP)—Red China has entered 1962 with a declaration that world peace is secondary to the success of movements to overthrow colonialism and imperialism.

It said it will support wars and revolutions which aim at freeing the "oppressed" nation of the world.

The statement in "Red Flag," the Communist theoretical journal, attacked President Kennedy for saying in a speech to the United Nations that colonialism is no longer a pressing problem in Asia, Africa and South America. "Red Flag" said more than half the world's population is "still under slavery and oppression by the new and old colonialists headed by the U.S. imperialists."

Dredge Beats Storm Into Halifax Harbor

HALIFAX (AP) — The trouble-plagued dredge Cartagena reached Halifax harbor barely in time to escape getting caught in a blizzard.

The $4-million dredge, owned by the Standard Dredging Co. of New York, tied up alongside a salvage pier. The Canadian Tug Foundation Vigilant brought her into port in a snowstorm. It took the tug 2½ days to tow her cantankerous charge 200 miles in heavy seas.

The Cartagena's troubles began Christmas Day when she broke away from the Vigilant while being towed from Quebec City to Baltimore.

Drive on Crime Given Priority

Campaign to Prevent Corruption of Officials Gets Boost From JFK

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The Kennedy administration has assigned top priority to a drive to block racketeers from corrupting public officials. The Justice Department at the same time is continuing its concentration on labor-management racketeering.

Those were two highlights of a year-end report to President Kennedy by his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, on federal efforts to fight organized crime.

The report, made public at the winter White House here, said 14 indictments had been returned in 1961 against individuals charged with violations of laws against racketeering in labor-management fields.

INVESTIGATIONS

"There are comprehensive investigations being conducted in a number of other related cases, the attorney general said.

He told the President "We are making progress" in a mounting battle against lawbreakers covered by federal jurisdiction but he said "a good deal remains to be done."

"This is going to be a long range struggle which must be continued over the next several years, and while we are now able to note positive results, it is still too early to predict ultimate success," he asserted.

The Justice Department chief said "it will be at least another year and perhaps two before we will be able to tell whether our work will have lasting effect."

"We are making a major drive on efforts of racketeers to corrupt public officials," Kennedy reported.

Plane Locates Ship Adrift in the Gulf

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A general cargo ship, the Catalina S., reported it was drifting without power in the Gulf of Mexico today, then its radio went dead.

A Coast Guard plane later located it 150 miles west of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The pilot radioed that the vessel was dead in the water and another commercial vessel, the Irish Ash, was en route to assist.

The Catalina S., is a 2,407-ton ship of Panamanian registry. Her destination was not available.

Paul L. Adams Sworn In, Dons High Court Robe

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams donned the robes of state Supreme Court justice today to step into a role he was told would be "absorbing, challenging and satisfying."

★ ★ ★

Adams was sworn in by Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, who welcomed the new member of the high bench with the job description.

The Supreme Court chambers were crowded with state officials, members of Adams' family and friends.

Gov. Swainson told the justices Adams would "add strength and dignity" to their body.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan praised his departing superior as one who had been an exceptional lawyer and who brought impeccable integrity to the attorney general's office.

★ ★ ★

Adams, who set up his law practice in Sault Ste. Marie in 1956, said he hoped he would merit the confidence expressed by his appointment.

Adams replaced Justice George Edwards, who resigned to become Detroit police commissioner.

Reds Admit '61 Was a Bad Year

Asian Communists Put Blame for Failures on 'Natural Calamities'

TOKYO (AP) — All three Communist countries behind Asia's bamboo curtain have admitted in New Year's statements that 1961 was a bad year because of "natural calamities" or other difficulties.

★ ★ ★

The leaders and official organs of Communist China, North Korea and North Viet Nam in New Year's greetings to their people all placed emphasis on domestic problems rather than on international issues. Drought and flood contributed to the domestic difficulties.

The Peiping People's Daily said, "The most important achievement scored by the Chinese people in 1961 was the conquest of the serious natural calamities occurring for the third successive year and a better grain harvest than in 1960, with only the output of cotton and some other industrial crops less."

Despite the conquest reported, Red China has been forced to go into the international market to buy grain to feed its peoples.

TASK FOR '62

The most important task for 1962, the paper said, was to surpass the 1961 agricultural production.

The Daily said industrial and handicraft products had been affected by poor harvests of agricultural raw materials such as cotton but declared "major targets for the second five-year plan were fulfilled two years ahead of schedule."

North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung claimed his people produced 1,830,000 tons of grain, an increase of one million tons over 1960, "despite severe natural calamities." Heavy industrial production climbed 16 per cent, he claimed.

★ ★ ★

President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam said the people "scored splendid achievements" in the first year of the first five-year plan despite "the present difficulties."

4,000 More Troops Going to Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 4,000 additional U.S. soldiers in two infantry battle groups will be flown to Germany in mid-January, informed sources report.

Also involved in the move will be Air Force planes and their crews. They will come from several bases around the country.

★ ★ ★

It was understood that the two battle groups will be drawn from the 4th Infantry Division, a regular Army outfit based at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Maj. Gen. William F. Train, 4th Division commander, declined comment.

Army National Guard and Reserve elements now on active duty are not expected to figure in the first overseas airlift.

DSR's Service to Dearborn Hit

Lincoln Park Mayor Says Cavanagh Had No Right to OK Resumption

DETROIT (AP) — Lincoln Park Mayor Ronald R. Stempien protested bitterly today's resumption of Detroit Street Railway (DSR) bus service to nearby Dearborn following the shutdown of Intertown Suburban Bus Lines Corp.

★ ★ ★

Stempien, chairman of a suburban mayors' and supervisors' committee which seeks new bus service for 14 downriver communities, was unsuccessful in dissuading Detroit Mayor-elect Jerome P. Cavanagh from withholding the DSR extension for one more day.

"Cavanagh had no legal right to order the DSR into Dearborn until he becomes mayor, and that won't be until tonight (when he is inaugurated)," Stempien declared.

The Dearborn City Council is to meet tonight on whether it will approve a resolution which is sought by the D-C Transport Corp. of Washington, D.C., as a condition to its purchase of Intertown facilities.

DEARBORN HOLDING OUT

Stempien said all the affected communities except Dearborn have given approval, but that the D-C firm will not come into the area unless it has Dearborn's business, too.

Stempien said he will attend the Dearborn council meeting tonight for a last-ditch battle to persuade officials there to his cause.

Members of Intertown Division 1265, Streetcar and Bus Operators Union, who operated the buses for the now-defunct Intertown firm had planned to picket this morning when the DSR buses resumed service.

★ ★ ★

They later abandoned the plan for the demonstration and instead, union officials said, they will seek a conference with Cavanagh later this week.

Peace Corps Man Helps Save Youth From Drowning

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—A U.S. Peace Corps volunteer from Massachusetts has won praise for helping to save a Nigerian youth from drowning but shrugs off his part in the rescue.

★ ★ ★

Richard Piazza, 23, Belmont, Mass., told newsmen he hoped that "a great fuss will not be made about this back home, as I did very little."

Piazza arrived only five days ago for a Peace Corps teaching assignment in this West African nation which became aroused last October over a Peace Corps member's postcard critical of Nigerian life.

★ ★ ★

Piazza saw two Nigerians pull another from the water at nearby Victoria Beach Sunday. The American applied artificial and then mouth-to-mouth respiration to bring the youth around.

★ ★ ★

Piazza attended Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., before joining the Peace Corps.

HOW DID HE GET IN? — When they asked Rosser (Ole) Heretedt how he got this specimen into Ole's Big Game Lounge, the bar-owner explained: "You just clip off the ears and knock out a wall. The engineering is simple. The hard part is putting the ears back on." Ole (left) shows off the elephant, shot in Portuguese East Africa to unidentified visitors. The bar, in the Western Nebraska town of Paxton, also has many smaller trophy heads.

JFK May Ask Power to Raise, Lower Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported to be seriously considering asking Congress to give the President authority to increase or reduce income tax rates as a hedge against inflation or recession.

* * *

The proposal, sources said Monday, may be presented in one of President Kennedy's major messages to Congress this month. Presumably it would be apart from the White House's tax revision program.

Behind the plan is the knowledge that getting tax legislation through Congress is often a drawn-out business. The informants said that by the time a tax bill has been written, put through hearings, amended, passed and signed, a recession could skid into a depression.

TRADITIONAL RESISTANCE

There is strong and traditional resistance to any executive encroachment on Congress' taxing power. But administration aides reportedly have worked out a formula they think might be acceptable.

Although details were withheld, the plan was said to provide for presidential authority to cut the basic 20 per cent tax rate to possibly 15 per cent for a limited period only—perhaps, for six months—with the cut subject to congressional veto.

* * *

Many economists have urged that device on grounds the government needs a more potent anti-slump weapon than now available.

On the other hand, a tax increase could help brake any serious inflationary climb that might rocket toward a boom and bust.

* * *

Treasury Department technicians and the President's Council of Economic Advisers were said to have reached substantial agreement on what ups and downs of key economic indicators might be used as the trigger for presidential action to order a temporary increase or reduction of the tax rate.

Suspect Youth Killed Mother

Sister Badly Wounded; Rifle Found in Bed of 18-Year-Old

GILLESPIE, Ill. (AP)—David Bush, 18, was booked on suspicion of homicide Monday in the killing of his mother and the shooting of his 15-year-old sister.

* * *

Mrs. Lavaughn Bush, 43, registered nurse at St. Francis Hospital in Litchfield, Ill., and her daughter, Carol, were found with 22-caliber bullet wounds in the head, lying in the living room of their home. Mrs. Bush was dead. Carol is reported in critical condition.

Bush denied the shootings.

Sheriff Russell Brown said a 22-caliber automatic rifle was found under the covers of the youth's upstairs bedroom and the bed sheet was stained with blood.

The sheriff said Bush denied ever having seen the weapon. He said the youth told him "when you find out the truth, you'll find out it wasn't me."

Sheriff Brown said Bush, described by acquaintances as a "quiet type—a nice looking boy who never got into any trouble," had quit Southern Illinois University recently. When questioned, Brown said, the youth claimed he still was attending the university.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Soon to Hear State of Union

Within a fortnight, Congress will assemble and officially hear the President's State of the Union message.

With many bomb fuses lying around the world in various states of attention (and inattention), JFK could throw a regular five hour CASTRO oration and not more than skim the surface.

★ ★ ★

The Nation is partly reconciled to a record budget, but it offers fervent hopes in advance that the President faces the titanic problem of reducing unnecessary outgo as one of his primary jobs. This has never been a popular Democratic function and DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER was no all-star, either. He never made the All-American in this connection.

★ ★ ★

An overhauling of the tax laws has been suggested repeatedly and committees are ready to report, but those close to the President feel that he may not give this major attention immediately. The signs point to a $90 billion budget and the Nation can never attain that total without working additional hardships on the groaning taxpayers. This would seem to be a relatively self-evident truth.

★ ★ ★

Europe's Common Market is asserting itself and the Nation is prepared to hear JFK suggest that he be delegated broad powers in dealing with reciprocal tariffs "if, as and when." The success of Europe's Common Market has attracted widespread attention and the United States cannot stand idly by and see these nations underselling us repeatedly and in an ever-increasing way.

Congress must face it.

★ ★ ★

Employment is inextricably bound up in this, also. Jobs hang in the balance and our unemployment list is too big now. The list of employed persons climbs persistently but the unemployed millions gain instead of shrinking.

★ ★ ★

Early indication suggests the South and organized labor may lead the movement against uncontrolled tariff revisions. A high protective tariff prevents outside goods from coming in here to undersell our own manufacturers, but outside nations promptly retaliate with a high prohibitive tariff against our own products so foreign markets are closed to us.

★ ★ ★

School aid will crop up in the early days of Congress and so will medical help for the aged. Both of these can become highly controversial with powerful lobbies and outstanding interpleaders operating in Washington.

★ ★ ★

Remember, 1962 is a midterm election year and Congressional seats, Gubernatorial ones and various other state and local offices will be "up for grabs." These all have a definite influence on the general Congressional picture. The undercover back scratching will proceed at a furious pace and plenty of it will burst into the open.

★ ★ ★

Foreign aid will be another controversial issue. Par for the course seems to be the usual four billion dollar bill with sharp admonitions of "and don't ever come back again."

But we're a perpetual Santa Claus.

They'll all be back.

★ ★ ★

A big year lies ahead and both parties will go all out to establish themselves more firmly in the Nation and at home.

Fine Way to Start?

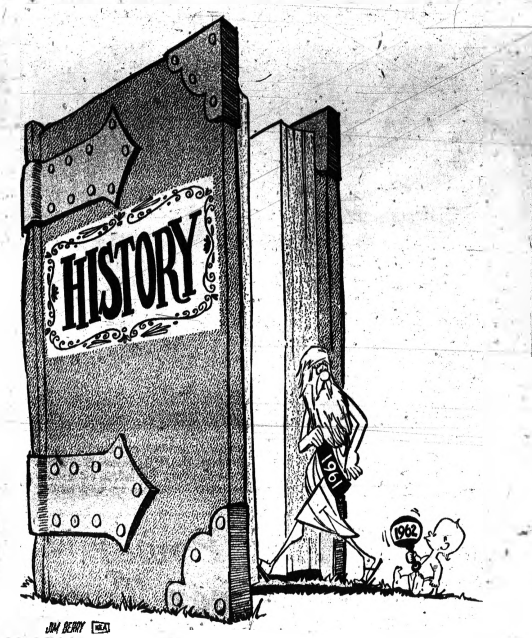
Newlyweds don't have enough problems, and now a scientist wants to lock them up in a fallout shelter for a couple of weeks.

★ ★ ★

Anthropologist Margaret Mead comes up with the idea, to assure continuance of the human race in the event of nuclear war. Sort of like a bit of humanity tucked away for a rainy atomic day.

★ ★ ★

Young couples have more than enough trouble getting used to each other part of each day — facing each other for two weeks right off the bat would torpedo the good ship of matrimony with few survivors.



'Lots o' Luck'

The Man About Town

Joyous New Year

This Column's Architect Extends Thanks for Help

1961: What you probably wrote when you dated your first letter in 1962.

At this threshold of another year, it behooves the party who gets credit, (if any) for this column to pass the buck.

It is his readers and fellow workers who really deserve any acclaim. They furnish the material. He simply puts it together. Items that are out of the ordinary, out of the every day rut, are what people like. The humdrum of what is regarded by some as news gets on their nerves. Much of it is given only a casual headline once over.

Names make news, and nearly 10,000 of them appeared in this column during 1961, a far larger number than ever before in one year.

Obr verbal orchids accounted for about two-thirds of these. The others were printed also for reasons that were worthy. The orchids far exceeded any previous year.

There were over 7,000 good sports who entered our baseball and football contests, both considerably in excess of any former year.

Our 4-H Club Fair Foundation and freckle contest brought added attention to this great work among the young people of Oakland County.

Remember, the more humble the people, the more I want items about them. They're in my class, and their language is the only one I know — and I have no desire to know any other. It makes us understand each other.

With a generous employer who is easily fooled, I long ago gave up all hope of learning only a fraction of what I was sure I knew 65 years ago.

With Caroline Kennedy mentioned in this column during the past year more often than her dad or any other person, and a Russian nut that makes the first page every day not mentioned even once, I'M getting egotistical — we're going places.

If you good people keep the items coming, so will my pay check.

The Country Parson

"A fellow's mind, like his stomach, might be better off if it stayed a little bit hungry."

David Lawrence Says:

Anyone Has Right to Talk, Criticize

WASHINGTON — Controversy over the alleged leniency of the Supreme Court toward the Communist menace inside America is bound to grow as Congress soon resumes its sessions.

LAWRENCE

The high court has said, in effect, that Americans can join the Communist party and that Congress cannot legislate against them except in cases in which it can be proved that they are knowingly intent on the overthrow of the government of the United States by force.

This is considered an almost insuperable barrier because it involves endless technicalities over what constitutes legal proof of "intent."

The Department of Justice is trying now to prosecute the leaders of the Communist party in America on the ground that, under existing law, they can be required to register as agents of a foreign government, which they refuse to do.

A few such persons, therefore, could ultimately go to jail, but in reality many thousands of others will be free to continue to carry on their support of the Communist party in America.

The remedy would seem to be a constitutional amendment broadening the power of Congress to deal with this and other problems of the "Cold War."

Vice President Lyndon Johnson made a speech recently which was widely construed as, in part, a criticism of the John Birch Society, some of whose members have called for the "impeachment" of certain members of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The address, which was carefully prepared in advance, deserves more attention than was given to it.

RIGHT TO TALK

The vice president was speaking at a luncheon honoring a new federal judge at Houston, Tex., and he said that in America people have "of right to say what they wish—however popular or unpopular." He then added:

"Therefore, our courts are subject to attack. Those who disagree—even for partisan reasons—with a court decision have the right to say so. They may even go so far as to question the motives and the good faith of the judges who rendered the decision.

★ ★ ★

"The right to raise such questions should never be challenged. This is—and must remain—a free society. But the wisdom of this course of action is open—and should be—to sharp debate.

"It is one thing to declare a court decision wrong and to seek its reversal. The men who wrote the Constitution recognized that even the best-intentioned of human beings were fallible and they provided simple means for appeal.

"It is another thing to declare a judicial system wrong and to demand that all judges who render unpopular verdicts be impeached. This train of thought merely paves the way for the Communist dictatorship we seek to avoid."

★ ★ ★

But it all depends on what is meant by "impeachment." The legal meaning, as set forth in the Constitution itself, is that this remedy can be invoked only in the case of "treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors."

Impeachment, however, in a broad sense could also mean steps leading to removal from office. Thus Congress can pass laws providing for the removal of any judge who violates the requirement of "good behavior."

For the Constitution doesn't say that judges shall hold office for life, but only "during good behavior."

Thomas Jefferson recommended that all Supreme Court justices be appointed for six-year terms, with reappointability by the president, and subject to confirmation by both houses of Congress, instead of just by the Senate.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Teach Your Children Not to Fear Doctors

"My daughter, 15 years old, has a problem. Midway between periods . . . Is this a serious condition? Every time I mention doctor to her, she carries on terribly and says I should write to you first and see what you have to say. You see, her friends are telling her all kinds of stories about what the doctor will do, and I am having a hard time trying to convince her otherwise. Please give me your advice." (Mrs. O. W.)

DR. BRADY

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, and diseases, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

(Copyright, 1962)

I am unable to judge from what you tell me whether the condition is serious or not.

But I can assure your daughter that if she goes to the doctor with you there will be nothing more unpleasant than if her complaint were earache or a lame knee.

★ ★ ★

If her friends have poisoned her mind about it, perhaps she would prefer to go to a physician who is a woman—there are many good ones in your community, or any physician will recommend one who is a gynecologist (specialist in diseases of women)

PARENTS' FAULT

Some children develop fobophobia (morbid or irrational fear of the doctor) because their misguided parents or guardians discipline them by threatening to call the doctor.

Whether your daughter's present complaint is serious or not, Ma'am, it would be a boon to her and her schoolmates if they could have confidential talks by a physical education teacher or a physician of their own sex.

Universities have on the faculty a medical advisor for women students. High schools should have one for girl students—girl pupils I should say.

Fear of the dentist or dental treatment is partly the parents' fault and partly the dentists' fault.

Parents should take the young child to the dentist for filling of cavities in the temporary or "baby" teeth, to favor the development of sound, even permanent teeth. Such fillings are painless. So the child learns by experience that a visit to the dentist is not unpleasant.

If one's dentist is skilled in the use of local anaesthetics, one learns by experience that a visit to the dentist is not an ordeal. As a patient, I learned early that I need not worry about my dentist's aseptic technique.

So I'm no relaxed and comfortable in the dentist's chair as I would be in the barber's chair —although I haven't been in a barber's chair in the past 12 years. It's one of my foibles —I use a hand mirror and electric clippers and cut my own. Not just because it is cheap, but because it saves so much time.

After careful cogsideration, I decided not to do my own bridgework and root canal fillings.

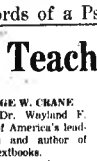
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Good Teachers Are Star Salesmen

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-492: Dr. Wayland F. Vaughan is one of America's leading psychologists and author of several college textbooks.

He is also a very popular professor for he has the faculty of fitting education to the current needs of his students.



DR. CRANE

After he had adopted my own text at Harvard University, he thus wrote the publishers:

"Crane has a knack for selecting material that appeals to the interests of college students.

★ ★ ★

"Students like his textbook because they learn things worth knowing."

The reason Dr. Vaughan noted this aspect of my textbook was due to the fact he himself is such a superb detective of what students desire.

Many professors stay up in the clouds to such a point they don't even see the disinterest of their pupils.

So they often keep on delivering the same dry, sleepy lectures of 10 or 20 years earlier, because they don't focus on the "customer."

STUDENT POLLS

A man like Dr. Vaughan, however, keeps constantly on the alert to see what he can do to perk up the interest of his students.

For "interest" is basic to fast learning. It is the Siamese twin of "Motivation."

Unless a teacher can "dress up" his lectures and "package" them in an attractive manner, is it any wonder students snore in class?

Teaching is simply a form of salesmanship. It involves selling intangibles instead of shoes or automobiles.

But the same laws of salesmanship apply to the professor as to the purveyor of retail merchandise.

Men like Dr. Vaughan maintain a continuous "consumer survey."

★ ★ ★

They don't submit printed questionnaires to each class, but they keep their eye on the student reactions and thus are sensitive to classroom attitudes.

A super duper educator like Dr. Vaughan would likewise become a star salesman in the commercial world, for he keeps the focus on the customer.

SKITTISH TEACHERS

One of our Midwestern universities took a vote of its faculty on the wisdom of having students analyze the teaching effectiveness of the professors.

The faculty voted it down!

Why? Oh, they used the alibi that students are not competent to rate their profs.

★ ★ ★

Actually, those profs were chicken! They were afraid to have the customers tell the truth.

For some colleges now charge $1,000 or more as tuition and the brilliant students, many of whom are mature war-veterans and married, know the lazy loafers vs. the profs with zeal and enthusiasm.

The average college student can rate his profs excellently and so accurately that most professors don't dare O.K. such an efficient innovation.

No good teacher objects to student ratings of the faculty. It is the dull, sleep-producing teachers who scream against it.

On our downtown Northwestern University campus, the mature students even demand their tuition back, if they get lazy profs. That should be true everywhere.

So send for my "Rating Scale for Good Teachers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Use it at PTA meetings, too, for it fits all types of educators, including Sunday School teachers.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long (9 cent stamped) self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

DR. OBENAUF

Your paper's public service efforts on behalf of the mentally ill has created a very positive effect for our patients in that they "know" that the community is interested in their needs and welfare.

We express our sincere thanks and gratitude to every member of your staff for their understanding, kindness and devotion to the mentally ill of the Pontiac State Hospital.

'Truman Did Have Share of Trouble'

I also feel sorry for Harry Truman. His predecessor had to "clear it with the boys," to get him on the ticket.

Rear Adm. E. M. Zacharias in his book "Behind Closed Doors," discloses a peace feeler had been transmitted by Gen. MacArthur before Roosevelt departed for Yalta. The meetings started Feb. 3, 1945. At Potsdam in July the overtures came so thick and fast the Declarations of Potsdam were put forth to answer. Our planes were bombing the length of Japan meeting with little resistance. Yet on Aug. 6, 1945, we dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima, weeks after these people were suing for peace.

Gen. MacArthur has said, "the atomic bomb was no more necessary in Korea than it was in Japan." Poor Harry says it was. I believe MacArthur. I hope our country will repudiate those in our government who can't tell a Communist from an Agrarian Reformer. This excuse is getting shop worn.

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 2, the 2nd day of the year with 363 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1776, Continental soldiers at Cambridge, Mass., raised the first flag of George Washington's Army.

In 1788, by a unanimous vote, Georgia ratified the Constitution and was admitted into the Union, as a state.

In 1905, Russian forces at Port Arthur in Manchuria surrendered to the Japanese, the last big military engagement in the Russo-Japanese war.

In 1959, Moscow radio announced that "a cosmic rocket was launched toward the moon" by the U.S.S.R."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

There were nights with precious moments . . . When you gently came to me . . . And your eyes of deep affection . . . Were so wonderful to see . . . There were nights beneath the moonlight . . . When I held you in my arms . . . And the wind upon the heaven . . . Softly sang about your charms . . . There were nights of silver stardust . . . In a sky of midnight blue . . . When my warm and tender kisses . . . Brought a lovely smile to you . . . There were nights we spent in dreaming . . . At a flaming fireside . . . Where we found entrancing hours . . . From reality to hide . . . All those nights I still remember . . . Though an age has passed us by . . . And no every recollection . . . Is encased within a sigh.

Makes Vow to Dominicans

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Rafael Donnelly, president-to-be of the new Dominican Council of State, promised Dominicans freedom of assembly and discussion Monday and warned the armed forces against interference in the affairs of the new anti-Trujillo government.

Donnelly, named to succeed President Joaquin Balaguer (as head of the ruling body, declared at the swearing-in of the seven-man council that freedom to meet and discuss all issues would be observed "because truth can be achieved only through conscientious and dispassionate discussion."

'NONPOLITICAL STATUS'

He asserted that the council, which assumed all legislative and executive powers until installation of an elected government early in 1963, wished to emphasize "our decided endeavor to maintain unalterable" the armed forces' nonpolitical status.

The military, he said, must restrict its activities "to the defense of the independence and integrity of the republic, to maintain order and respect for the rights of man."

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, chief of the armed forces, who has vowed to support the council, stood behind Donnelly as he spoke. Rodriguez Echavarria led a military move which crushed a coup planned by Trujillo diehards last October and paved the way for the expulsion of the family of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

COUNT THEIR LOSSES — Bandleader Xavier Cugat and his singer-wife, Abbe Lane, stand in the closet of their apartment Monday and take stock of their losses after burglars got away with $47,000 worth of furs and jewelry. The couple was filling a New Year's Eve engagement at the Waldorf-Astoria's Starlight Roof when the burglars entered their 18th floor apartment on New York's fashionable upper East Side.

Benjamin F. Fairless, 71, Steel Empire King, Dies

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Benjamin F. Fairless, 71, the son of a coal miner who rose to head a steel empire, died Monday at his home in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains.

Fairless was president of the American Iron & Steel Institute and retired board chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp.

His life story was an American success saga. He was the son of a Welsh immigrant; he started his business career as a newsboy; he worked as a parttime janitor in his high school, and he financed his college education by teaching in country schoolhouses.

★ ★ ★

He started at the bottom and he worked his way up to the top by what friends and adversaries agreed was ingenuity, diplomacy and hard work.

★ ★ ★

Fairless was the very model of the rugged individualist. He was a staunch defender of big business, and if he had to talk gruffly to congressmen in pleading its cause, he did.

"In what other country of this world could I have fared as well as I have here in the United States?" he once remarked in a speech.

Fairless recently spent six weeks in a Pittsburgh hospital under treatment for pleurisy.

GETS DIVORCE

Just two weeks ago, he had been granted a divorce from his second wife, the former Hazel Hatfield, daughter of former West Virginia Gov. Henry D. Hatfield. His first wife, Jane Blanche Truby, died in 1942.

Fairless was born on May 3, 1890 to Mr. and Mrs. David D. Williams in Pigeon Run, Ohio, a mining town near Canton. His struggling parents sent him to live with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fairless, at Justus, Ohio, when he was only 5 years old. They later adopted him.

Fairless attended the University of Wooster, playing semipro baseball in his spare time, and later studied civil engineering at Ohio Northern University.

He got into the steel business quite by accident. In the spring of 1913, he read that "General" Jacob Coxey was planning a second march of the unemployed to Washington to protest hard times.

Fairless, then working as a surveyor for the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad at Justus, decided to go to nearby Massilon and watch the army mobilize. On his way he passed the site of a steel plant under construction. He got off on impulse to look it over.

★ ★ ★

Two days later, he was working for the Central Steel Co. of Massilon. At 38, he was president and general manager of Central Alloy Steel, a firm formed by a merger of Central Steel and United Alloy Steel.

He continued rising through the steel industry ranks, and in 1952, was named board chairman and chief executive officer of U. S. Steel.

Just An Old Wives' Tale

Radiation Sickness Needn't Be a Killer

By RALPH HUMMEL

Radiation sickness can be cured, contrary to misconceptions circulating among the public.

This was the statement reported today in an American Medical Association publication.

The basic rule for both layman and physicians in treating radiation sickness is to treat the symptoms, an article stated.

If the amount of radiation is not too great, the article said, a person can recover from radiation just as he would recover from any sickness with proper care and treatment.

The article was adopted from the Medical Self-Help Training Program developed by the U.S. Public Health Service with the assistance and advice of the AMA Council on National Security.

If the victim complains of nausea or has a fever, these symptoms should be treated exactly as they would be under other circumstances, it said.

It noted that the best protection against burns from fallout was simply to wash exposed skin surfaces thoroughly.

ON EXPOSED SKIN

"The only time you may be burned is when fallout remains on exposed skin surface," the article stated.

The article also attacked what it called "half-truths" regarding the physical changes that can be produced by radiation.

There is only "a very small degree of truth" in statements that radiation will result in loss of hair or sterility, it said.

Sterility depends on the amount of radiation received, according to the article. It continued:

"Those working in areas where radiation is present may become temporarily sterile if they fail to protect themselves. However, they will regain their ability to reproduce. This may take weeks or months."

If protective measures are taken, chances are very small that a person may become permanently sterile if exposed to a large dose of radiation it said.

LOSS OF HAIR

As far as loss of hair is concerned, according to the article, "your hair will grow back just as good as it is today" even if it should fall out after "a radiation exposure of approximately 300 roentgens over a short period of time."

* * *

After such exposure, it said, "there is a chance that over two or three weeks you may lose your hair."

Youth Saves 2 Boys Who Fell Through Ice

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP)—Stephen Lyon, 13, inched out on the ice of Monatiquot River toward a hole 10 feet from shore where brothers David and Mark Barry struggled in the water.

Carefully Stephen extended a hand, seized Mark, 8, and lifted him to firm ice. A moment later he hauled David, 11, to safety.

The three boys had been coasting on the ninth fairway at the Braintree Municipal Golf Club. Mark's sled coasted onto the ice at the bottom of the hill and dropped into the hole. As the younger brother clung to the edge of the ice, David went to his aid and slipped in, too.

Indications Are It Could Be Year of Oddities

2-Day-Old 1962 Is Kicking Up Its Heels

By ANDREW MESELS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A 2-day-old babe called 1962 already has begun to display some oddities all his own. Here are some of them:

Phoebe, who is Mrs. Peter H. gave birth on New Year's Day while under water.

* * *

Phoebe is a hippopotamus, and the underwater delivery is peculiar to the species. Her bouncing baby hippo bobbed to the surface of the Bronx Zoo's elephant pool. Since mama hippos are extremely protective, nobody could get close enough to the newcomer to establish its sex.

The weight of the Bronx Zoo's first 1962 arrival was estimated at between 50 and 60 pounds.

FIRST BORN

The first baby of 1962 born in Iosco County, Mich., is appropriately named. The baby has not yet been given a first name, but his last name is First. He is the son of Airman 1C and Mrs. Larry First.

'BABIT?'

Mrs. Dorlin Kull gave birth to the first baby of 1962 in Peekskill, N.Y., hospital.

It was not an unusual distinction for Mrs. Kull.

She gave birth to Peekskill Hospital's first baby of 1959.

NO TAKERS

The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press had no takers for an offer it made in a front page editorial prior to the New Year's holiday.

The newspaper offered to pay the funeral expenses of any Vermont motorist who registered with the Free Press in advance and then got himself killed over the holiday. None chose to tempt fate by registering.

The offer was part of a safe driving campaign that apparently paid off. Vermont had no New Year's holiday auto fatals.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY

A group of whites and Negroes pressing for equal rights in Maryland restaurants were invited to a New Year's Day open house given by Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

The group accepted the invitation, attended the affair, partook of punch and cookies and shook hands with the governor.

Then the demonstrators went outside and continued their campaign for equal eating rights—by picketing the governor's mansion.

Ask Friend If Extras Expected

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: The daughter of a friend is to be married in three weeks. Some time ago this friend said my whole family (my husband, myself and two teen-age daughters) were invited to the wedding. However, the invitation was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. alone, and asks for a reply.

Should I accept for myself and my husband, or should I take the hostess' oral invitation seriously and accept for my daughters as well?

A: As long as she told you they were expected, you can perfectly well call her on the telephone and say, "In speaking of the wedding some time ago you said Mary and Jane were to be invited. The invitation that has just come did not include them. Does this mean that you now find you haven't room for them?"

* * *

Q: I am to be married in the minister's study. The guests will include just our immediate families and a few very close friends of each, 35 in all. I have been told that this is too many to invite to the minister's house. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: Thirty-five will be too many.

Q: Would it be proper to send a card reading, "Just to say 'Hello' " to a young man with whom I went out two months ago and whom I haven't heard from since? He is very nice.

A: While not improper, such a card could give him the impression that you are running after him and defeat its purpose.

* * *

Q: My brother and I went to visit an aunt and uncle the other evening. While we were there an elderly gentleman came to call. When he said good night my brother shook hands with him and said he was delighted to meet him. I stayed in my chair and merely said good night. Later my brother told me that I should have gotten up and shaken hands. I don't believe this formality is expected of a young woman.

A: Because you are young you should have stood up to say good night. Had he been a younger man, or you nearer his age, you would have remained seated since you were not in your own house.

* * *

Should the tissue papers be removed before inviting wedding invitations? The answer to this question as well as correct wedding forms will be found in the new Emily Post Institute booklet on "Weddings, Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Abby Says: Watch Him

Just Laugh If He's Joking; Call Doctor If He's Serious

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who tells you he wants to go to jail? He says he is thinking up a way to get in. He isn't a violent man, but he is planning to throw a brick through a window, or talk back to an officer, or do something that he can get arrested for.

ABBY

He tells me he can't stand the noise around here. We do have six little ones. I can't tape their mouths shut but, if I can stand it, so can he.

He says he is fed up with me, married life and the children, and the only place for him is jail where nobody can bother him.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: I've heard of men trying to break OUT of jail, but never INTO one. If your husband is joking — laugh. If he is serious, call a doctor. He should have his head examined.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Every year my husband's favorite aunt comes to visit us for about two weeks. She is very jolly and pleasant but she has one fault that bothers me. She keeps her suitcase locked and sews the key to her girdle.

I don't know what she has that is so valuable, but certainly no one in this house would take anything. I think this is an insult to a hostess. How would you feel about a guest who locks everything up while visiting in your home?

HURT

DEAR HURT: We all have our little peculiarities. Security is hers. Overlook it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I have a difference of opinion on something, and want your advice. My boy friend is going to give me an engagement ring very soon. My mother thinks he should give it to me in front of everybody at the engagement party she is going to give. I think he should give it to me in private. What is your opinion?

IN THE CLOUDS

DEAR IN: Have him give it to you in private, and announce it at the party.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I burst into tears as my lover of 10 years (a lawyer) told me he had decided to go back to his wife. He said, "I have no contract with you."

Please warn other stupid women about this phrase.

Respectfully,

"TEN YEARS SHOT"

Jeanne Cotter Married to Howard L. Batten

A floor-length gown of silk brocade was worn by Jeanne Martha Cotter for her marriage to Howard L. Batten Friday evening in St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Rev. Maurice Shackell performed the candlelight rite before an altar banked with pompon chrysanthemums and white carnations.

* * *

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cotter of Second Avenue and the Franklin C. Battens, Matthews Street.

Pearl trim enhanced the neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves of the bride's gown, fashioned with a dome skirt and chapel train. A pearl headpiece secured her fingertip illusion veil, and she held a cascade of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy. Pearl earrings, gift of the bridegroom, were her only jewelry.

SISTER HONOR MAID

Maid of honor Phyllis Cotter of Santa Fe, N.M., sister of the bride, and bridesmaid Mrs. Calvin Shultz, Lake Orion, a cousin, wore bronze brocade street-length dresses with dome skirts and elbow-length sleeves. Their rose veils were caught by bronze bow headpieces. Gold fuji chrysanthemums and ivy comprised their bouquets.

Best man was Thomas Beckwith. Guests were seated by the bridegroom's brother Curtis Batten and Al Kroeplin.

* * *

Following a reception in the church parlors for some 125 guests, the new Mrs. Batten donned a silver brocade suit with black accessories for a trip to Chicago.

Mrs. Cotter selected a bronze and green taffeta and chiffon ensemble for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Batten appeared in a cocoa-hued flowered silk dress with pink rosebud corsage.

The bridegroom attended Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Now We Have Noise All Our Lives Long

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It looks as though science has now fixed things so that nobody — not even a newborn babe — is going to ever have to listen to the "sound of silence."

There's a new gadget on the market that you can tuck into a baby's crib that emits a continuous tone set at 320-350 cycles that is supposed to put babies to sleep as quickly as though they were being rocked in their mothers' arms.

I'm not sure why it works (maybe the babies go to sleep to get away from the dial tone) but it ought to be a good introduction for any baby entering today's world.

Silence is what nobody seems to be able to stand any more. Once the infant outgrows his wired-for-sound sandman he can move right in front of the TV set and start listening to TV advertising jingles.

TV will keep him from ever having to endure silence and when, in his teens, he outgrows TV temporarily he can substitute record players and radio.

The radio is even handier than TV for creating noise because radios can be carried anywhere — for the noise teen-agers call music can be counted on to drown out all other sounds — even the singing of birds, the chirping of crickets, the wind in the trees, the gentle tapping of rain on the roof, the pop and crackle of an open fire.

Then when the teen-ager is grown and married and settled down he can go back to the TV set for companionship — the companionship of continual noise.

So that his own child won't ever have to experience silence he can start him off with that little crib gadget that makes a continuous noise —and start the whole cycle of clamor all over again.

Isn't it wonderful? We can now have noise from the cradle to the grave.

Forestry Official to Address Group

Frank Vaydik, superintendent of forestry, Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, will speak to Birmingham Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Community House.

Mr. Vaydik's topic "Beautifying Recreation and Urban Areas" is expected to be of special interest to the group whose members currently are working to preserve grounds adjoining the former sewage disposal plant as a natural area with wild flowers and trails.

So Who Cares About Pockets?

(UPI) — Harvey Berin, New York manufacturer, lowered the placement of pockets in spring dresses so that there is no fabric bulge when the wearer sits.

As the fashion show commentator pointed out this advantage, a buyer in the audience whispered to her neighbor — "I wonder why they put pockets in 'em at all. Most women already have enough around the hips."

Take Time to LIVE

You Hurried or Worried?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

At this time each year I bring you some OLD thoughts for the NEW year. Here are some of them.

"Unhappiness lies in not knowing what you want and killing yourself to get it." I do not know to whom to give credit for this quotation, but I think it packs a lot of wisdom.

We rush, we dash, we worry, we run, we overwork, we undersleep. We work under pressure and play under pressure.

We are caught up, willynilly, in myriad obligations, activities and responsibilities. This person expects that of us and that person expects this of us.

Days whizz by, seasons pass, years pile up. We have no time to savor life, to roll it under our tongue, to smell it, really to feel it. We have no time for contemplation and dreaming. Enthusiasm lies dead under the impact of fatigue. The tempo increases.

WHAT'S THE GOAL?

What are we struggling for? Is it worth while and do we know what it is — truly? Often folks become bogged down in this madness and never have time or opportunity to find out what they want from life.

It's like being on a merry-go-round and waving hurriedly at life every time you come around again to complete the circle. Are you unhappy because you are killing yourself trying to get things you do not really want anyway?

Another old thought for the new year:

"We act as though comfort and luxury were the chief requirements of life, when all we need to make us really happy is something to be enthusiastic about."

Enthusiasm is the great charmer. It makes the eyes sparkle and sharpens perception. It makes fatigue, whips up circulation, boredom impossible. It is rejuvenating. It banishes headaches and the mind. It makes life shine!

This girl's enthusiasm for life gives her charm. Enthusiasm makes the eyes sparkle and life shine!

Balaguer Chops Up Trujillo Property

Give-Aways Cut Dominican Assets

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The new Dominican government sworn in Monday finds itself with assets sharply reduced from the days when the country was run as a family affair by the Trujillos.

President Joaquin Balaguer has been busy giving away millions of dollars wogh of Trujillo property, chopping taxes and behaving mostly like a generous politician seeking another term. Balaguer is not a candidate, however, and his official party soon will be dead as such.

What is behind the president's give-away program?

★ ★ ★

The political opposition, thinly veiling its irritation, calls it demagoguery.

★ ★ ★

The 14th of June group, most outspoken in censuring Balaguer's donations, claims the president is trying to bribe labor. Alluding to plans to give shares in Trujillo companies to employes, the 14th of June group said in its newspaper: "We point out that some shares that were obtained through the blood and sweat of all the Dominican people should not benefit only part of the people."

CRITICIZE GIVEAWAYS

Some agricultural experts criticize the distribution of developed land and cattle among the poor, contending this will break up efficient operations and endanger the cattle industry through slaughter of breeding stock. There seems no intention of disrupting farm and cattle operations which were owned by the Trujillo family. Government sources say these will be used for experimental purposes, agrarian reform and other state projects.

★ ★ ★

Generally Balaguer's program has been applauded by many Dominicans and foreign observers who see it as an idea to deprive future political leaders of the use of these resources for political purposes.

TOOK OVER FIRMS

After the Trujillos departed the government took over 51 firms they owned outright or in part. The over-all value is not disclosed. The Haina sugar operation alone is likely worth $100 million.

★ ★ ★

The president has been using Trujillo funds to donate taxicabs to needy operators; tricycles in wide use here as portable vending stalls; land and livestock.

He also ordered home mortgage interest rates cut from 8 to 4 per cent and extended payments to a maximum 20-year period instead of 10.

MONOPOLY DISSOLVED

The coffee-cacao monopoly of the Trujillos was dissolved and the arbitrary export tax eliminated. This dissolution has created a field of at least 60 independent exporters, the government says.

★ ★ ★

Reduction of sales taxes will cost the government $20 million annually in revenue. Balaguer says new sugar tax legislation—the Trujillo companies paid no taxes—will more than make up the difference.

★ ★ ★

The result of all this, government experts claim, is nearly a doubling of the peso's purchasing power.

President Goes Into 1962 with Nothing Up Sleeve

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's plans for 1962—as outlined to newsmen over the weekend at Palm Beach—call for no surprises and little heat.

★ ★ ★

His views are authoritatively based on discussions he has had with men close to him.

What he is reported to have said adds up to leadership but of a kind neither sensational nor original. It was that way in 1961. He apparently wants it that way.

In foreign affairs he plans a steady plugging away at policies already established and, on domestic problems, a mild and cautious attitude which some may think too mild and overly cautious.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Dean Rusk once remarked to people around him that he does not want to be judged on the merit of some particular action but, when he is through, on the over-all value of events, past and ahead, seems to have pretty much the same view.

WISER THAN K

While Premier Khrushchev at 67 is 23 years Kennedy's senior, it is the older man who sounds like a romantic, the younger, the one without illusions.

While Khrushchev has predicted the triumph of communism like a man taking pep pills, Kennedy has repeatedly regarded the East-West struggle as long, bleak and rugged.

This showed up again in the Palm Beach reports which said he thinks the balance of power is on the side of the West—but perhaps only marginally.

★ ★ ★

Over the long run, he thinks the West can keep the margin but not so much as to have full freedom of action.

Otherwise, what came out of Palm Beach on his thinking about foreign affairs can be boiled down to this: That this country will follow the Truman-Eisenhower policy of aiding newly emerged nations, neutrals included, to help them stay free of Moscow. It will keep strong militarily and stand with its allies.

In other words: he'll keep on doing in 1962 what he did in 1961.

CONSERVATIVE BARRIER

At home this year, as last, he has to deal with a Congress where, although his own Democrats are in a majority, the prevailing mood is and has been conservative.

★ ★ ★

His own performance last year, in dealing with Congress, was pretty conservative, too. He did not fight hard enough for his programs to make anyone very mad at home.

His own explanation for this may have been revealed at Palm Beach: that while he considers his administration progressive, his progressive aims are tempered by reality.

This could mean he did not spend time fighting Congress for something he didn't think would be approved or that he did not want to make so many people mad at him on one issue that they would gang up to block him on something else.

This, the Palm Beach stories indicate, will be his policy this year also.

Farm Income Better in 1961

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in a yearend report, said today 1961 had enlarged opportunities for American agriculture by reversing a build-up of crop surpluses and by enlarging farm income.

Claiming major successes for the Kennedy administration on the farm front, the secretary said net farm income—amount left after costs — increased 9 per cent over 1960 to the highest level since 1953.

This upturn contributed, he said, to renewed prosperity in many farming communities previously depressed.

* * *

Freeman said these developments were brought about largely by the administration's farm policies designed to manage agriculture's abundance — that is, to bring production into line with all available demands and outlets.

He said U.S. agriculture continued to provide consumers with abundant food and fiber at lowest costs in the world measured in terms of hours of labor required to buy them.

Freeman listed what he called major accomplishments of his department as follows:

LISTS RESULTS

1. Donation of 1.7 billion pounds of surplus foods to 23 million Americans in need, participating in the school lunch program, living in public institutions and suffering from natural disasters.

2. To shore up farm income, it increased price supports for most grains, milk, oilseed crops, dry beans and honey.

3. It halted a long buildup in feed grain surpluses.

4. It loaned and insured private loans to low-income and distressed farmers totaling $490 million, a 46 per cent increase over 1960.

5. It loaned $222.6 million to expand rural power systems and $110 million to expand rural telephone service.

6. It helped move a record-breaking $5.1 billion of farm products into export markets.

Freeman also outlined a number of other new programs and actions taken in the farm and food field.

They included the setting up of an experimental program for the food stamp plan for helping the needy and the establishment of a field organization for advance planning to offset effects of a general attack on agriculture and special attack on particular commodities on food supplies.

U.S. Probing Record

Pleads Guilty in Extortion Try

ROMEO—Federal probation officers are investigating the record of a 21-year-old Romeo man who pleaded guilty Friday to one count of a grand jury indictment charging him with extortion.

* * *

The indictment, returned Dec. 20, charged that Rector T. Harless of 17020 E. 32-Mile Road used the mails on Nov. 27 to threaten the life and property of Mrs. Louise H. Sebree, intending to extort $5,000 from her.

Harless stood mute on the count of threatening her life and pleaded guilty to threatening her property.

The first count, if proved, carries a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison. The second carries a maximum sentence of two years in prison.

ARRESTED IN NOVEMBER

An unemployed press operator, Harless and his half-brother Roy Smith, 15, were arrested by FBI agents and state police Nov. 29 as they picked up a payoff package which was supposed to have held $5,000 in small bills.

Mrs. Sebree and her brother, Robert M. Howland, manager of the Romeo branch of the Community National Bank, had immediately notified Romeo state police after she received the letter. It contained instructions for leaving the money and threats of "definate (sic) consequences" if the money were not delivered.

The letter, hand printed on lined notebook paper, was addressed to Mrs. R. Howland at the Perkins Dress Shop, 106 S. Main St., Romeo. The sender erroneously believed that she was the wife rather than the sister of Howland. Howland and Mrs. Sebree live at 440 Morton St.

The government has filed to dismiss action against the younger boy. Harless was released on a $1,000 personal bond, pending his sentencing by U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin within a month.

The lift was stopped and a number of skiers were stranded temporarily high above the snow-covered slope.

BACK IN 1912, when Michigan and some other States passed the Workmen's Compensation Law, Michigan Mutual Liability was founded. Our objective was to provide Workmen's Compensation Insurance—protecting the people who owned businesses and the people who worked for them.

Along came the auto—and we began providing insurance for motorists. Subsequently, we began insuring homes and other things of value to people.

Today, our assets of over eighty million dollars compare favorably, we think, with those of the seventy thousand dollars, which we had in 1912, and we take pride in this dollar growth.

But we are most proud of the fact that we have an unexcelled record for prompt fair payments of claims, and that our growth indicates we have served our policyholders well, for this fifty-year-old Company is "mutually" owned by its policyholders.

As we celebrate our Golden Anniversary, fifty years seems, in some respects, a relatively short span of time. In other respects, it's been quite long. Either way, it's been, we feel, a wonderfully satisfying time for the directors, officers, and employees of this Company.

Looking ahead, we plan to serve still more people in still more ways during the next fifty years, and we hope you'll be among them as a policyholder-owner of this Company.

thinking young

People haven't changed. But their insurance needs have. In keeping pace with these needs, we "think young" and are proud to have pioneered in recent years—

THE BUYERS' CHOICE PAY PLAN, exclusive with Michigan Mutual, which lets you pay for home and auto insurance needs by the month.

GOOD DRIVERS REWARD PLAN, which rewards safe automobile drivers with lower insurance costs, but does not penalize them for minor traffic violations.

NEW MULTI-GARD PROTECTION, a package plan of insurance for business organizations, which combines many casualty and fire coverages.

Gophers Hand UCLA Lesson in Power, 21-3

Big 10 Prestige Given Boost by Minnesota

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Big Ten's two-game Rose Bowl losing streak has ended with Minnesota's painful 21-3 lesson in power football to UCLA's battered Bruins.

UCLA, although an 8-point underdog, was supposed to toss some "stone age" single-wing trouble at the Gophers, who were humiliated in the previous Rose Bowl battle 17-7 by Washington.

But the Sandy Stephens-guided Gophers handed the caveman treatment to the Bruins before some more than 100,000 fans in the sun-drenched 48th Rose Bowl game yesterday.

Stephens scored the first and last TD's in Minnesota's victory. UCLA, champion of the Big Five, had led 3-0 in the first quarter on Bobby Smith's 29-yard field goal.

★ ★ ★

Stephens, who was acclaimed the game's most valuable player in a press-box ballot, went to work on the Bruin defenses with a skillful blend of power running and pin-point passing.

The Gophers outrushed the perplexed Bruins a whopping 222 yards to 55.

Taking a 14-3 first half lead, the Gophers virtually toyed with the tiring Bruins in the second half.

This quite adequately avenged the Gophers' surprise spanking by Washington and Wisconsin's 44-8 thumping by the same Huskies in the 1960 Rose Bowl game.

For end UCLA, it was the Bruins' fifth Rose Bowl failure in as many trips and marked the 13th Big Ten victory in 16 Rose Bowl games since the present series between the West Coast and the Western Conference.

The 212-pound Stephens was a perfect quarterback.

CHANGED PLANS

"As soon as I saw that UCLA was primed to stop my quarterback option plays," said Stephens, "I began running our other backs to the inside and mixing up things with passes."

Stephens not only passed with clever timing — hitting on 7 of 11 tosses for 75 yards — and rushing 46 yards on 12 carries, but he constantly kept UCLA off balance with his play selection.

★ ★ ★

With Minnesota behind 3-0 after Smith's field goal in the only really impressive Bruin drive of the day, Stephens quickly exploited a UCLA fumble deep in Bruin territory for the first Gopher touchdown.

On the third play after Judge Dickson recovered Almose Thompson's fumble on the UCLA 6, Stephens dove across from the one-yard line and Minnesota moved ahead 7-3.

Then came a brilliant display of Gopher ball control with a 75-yard scoring march in 16 plays with halfback Bill Munsey darting the final three yards on a cutback in the second quarter.

The Gophers completely dominated play in the second half. Stephens scampered wide for his second touchdown from the two-yard line, capping an 83-yard march in 19 plays.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Medical aides treated 57 spectators at Monday's Rose Bowl football game—the highest total in the memory of one veteran doctor, and twice the normal total.

Officials blamed the unseasonal 78-degree weather and a local flu epidemic.

"And then there's the carryover from New Year's Eve," said one attendant. None of the cases was serious.

Pass Defense Features 12-7 Texas Triumph

Alert Longhorns Snare 5 Mississippi Aerials in Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas' pass defense met the big test and it paid off with a 12-7 victory over Mississippi, in the Cotton Bowl.

That was the key—that was why Mississippi, seeking its sixth straight bowl triumph and boosting the second best aerial attack in the nation, was favored to turn back the Longhorns in their bid for their greatest season.

Texas had not been tested in the air during a campaign in which it had won nine and lost one.

★ ★ ★

And so, it was surprising when the gritty Longhorns intercepted five Mississippi passes and then fought fire with fire Monday as Mike Cotten, the stubby little guy who quarterbacks Longhorns football fortunes, used the pass to knock down Mississippi and snap its bowl winning streak at five straight.

It was one of the finest games in 26 years of Cotton Bowl history and even Coach Darrell Royal of Texas said he thought if the two teams met in a series one would win as many games as the other.

★ ★ ★

Coach Johnny Vaught of Mississippi, possessor of a fabulous Bowl record—six victories in eight—said it was the interceptions that killed the Rebels, particularly one that came just before the half and stopped what appeared to be a determined Mississippi touchdown drive.

2 GOT BRAKES

Texas got the breaks and Texas made some of them, but it was the work of the brawling Longhorn line that crippled Mississippi's ground attack and fellows like Tommy Ford and Pat Culpepper and Jerry Cook, who intercepted three passes, that brought thrills to a roaring crowd of 75,504 who jammed the giant saucer.

★ ★ ★

Ford intercepted one of Glynn Griffing's passes to set up the first Texas touchdown in the opening period, scored by All-America Jim Saxton on a one-yard smash.

Texas slammed 72 yards for the clincher with Cotten's passing and running leading the Longhorns. Cotten threw to Jack Collins for the touchdown, the play covering 24 yards.

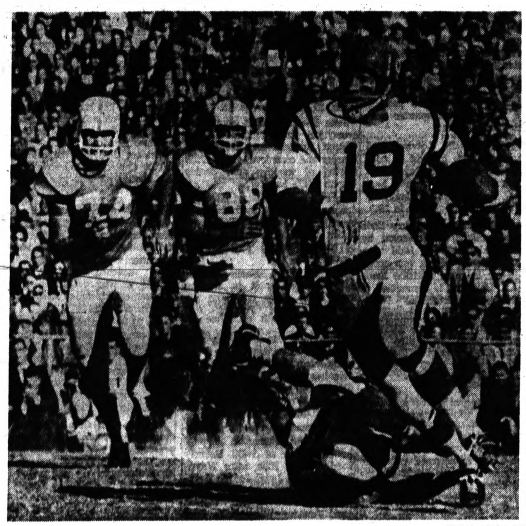
Then Texas had to fight off the blistering Mississippi aerial attack the rest of the way, yielding one touchdown to it but stopping other dangerous threats with that defense that bloomed when the time was ripe.

★ ★ ★

Griffing, who passed for 163 yards but had three passes intercepted, pitched for 37 yards and ran for another 37 in spearing the 86-yard surge climaxed with a 20-yard TD throw to Reed Davis.

The massive Rebels roared to the Texas 23 with minutes to go but out of the pack came Bob Moses to fell Griffing on the 24 as the Rebel quarterback tried desperately on fourth down for the two years that would have given Mississippi life.

That was the ball game, and meant the Southwest Conference had won a Cotton Bowl game for the first time in five years.



RAMBLING REBEL—Mississippi quarterback Doug Elmore sweeps around end for eight yards early in the Cotton Bowl game on New Year's Day. Texas defenders Ed Padgett (74) and Bob Moses (88) move in to make the stop. The Longhorns scored twice in the 1st half and held on for a 12-7 triumph.

Colorado Kicks Itself to Defeat

MIAMI (AP)—Whether or not Coach Paul Dietzel makes a rumored move to Army, one fact stands out about his Louisiana State football squad which outclassed Colorado in the Orange Bowl. The Tigers are tough and are headed for more of the same next year.

"I believe we are as good as any team in the country," Dietzel said after LSU downed Colorado 25-7 for its 19th straight victory Monday.

★ ★ ★

"We had seven seniors and next year we'll have 30. We ought to have another fine team in 1962."

Dietzel said the team did not play as well as it had sometimes during the season and "we were better defensively than offensively."

Dietzel, whose maxium is no team can afford a mistake in its kicking game, praised his team in spoiling Colorado's. Two blocked punts by LSU produced a touchdown and safety.

The Tigers rushed Chuck McBride so hard on another his kick traveled only 18 yards and set up another score.

Wendell Harris, who also contributed two conversion kicks and made some big plays, kicked a 30-yard field goal in the first period. Colorado went ahead briefly 7-5 on Loren Schweninger's 50-yard run with an intercepted pass. After that it was all LSU.

★ ★ ★

"They didn't throw any surprises at us," said Colorado Coach Sonny Grandelius. "Their three teams didn't wear us down, we just made mistakes. LSU is a fine football team and did a good job on the roll out pass end run."

Though the passing yardage was almost identical, LSU outgained Colorado in rushing yards 206-24. The Buffs' 39 pass attempts bettered the Orange Bowl mark of 38 by Georgia Tech in 1945, all of which confirmed Dietzel's thinking:

"I didn't believe they could run on us."

Canadiens Blanked by Chicago's Hall

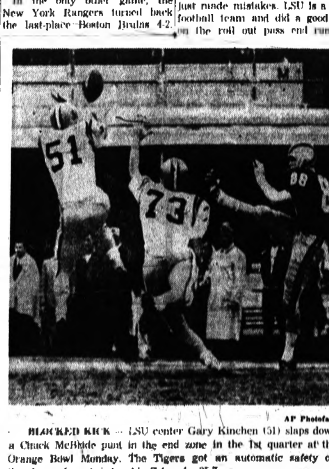
By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks held down sole possession of fourth place in the National Hockey League today thanks to goalie Glenn Hall.

The Hawks blanked the league leading Montreal Canadiens 2-0 Monday night with shutout specialist Hall kicking out 32 blasts at his net.

Stan Mikita caught a rebound with his stick in midair and slapped it past Montreal goalie Jaques Plante for the first Chicago goal. Ken Wharram got another in the final period.

In the only other game, the New York Rangers turned back the last-place Boston Bruins 4-2.



BLOCKED KICK — LSU center Gary Kinchen (51) slaps down a Chuck McBride punt in the end zone in the 1st quarter at the Orange Bowl Monday. The Tigers got an automatic safety on the play and went on to whip Colorado, 25-7.

A record $100,000 prize fund, largest ever posted for a match game bowling championship, will be at stake in the 21st annual BPAA All-Star Tournament starting today at the Miami Beach (Fla.) Convention Hall. It is an increase of $31,500 over the fund set up a year ago at San Bernardino, Calif., also a record. It ends Jan. 13.

The top award in the men's division has been boosted to $15,000 from the $10,000 won by Bill Tucker of St. Louis last January. First prize in the women's division is still the $5,000 won by Phyllis Notaro of Brant, N.Y. in the 1961 tourney but prizes all along the line in both divisions have been boosted by the sponsoring Bowling Proprietors' Association of America under its new format.

The 285 men, representing 196 cities in 46 states, plus Puerto Rico, will be shooting for a share of a $75,000 "kitty," an increase of more than $25,000, while the 144 women, who come from 116 cities in 45 states and Puerto Rico, are after part of a $24,550 fund, an increase of almost $7,000. Included is $5,000, a bonus of $1,200, to be awarded in the All-Star Prevue on opening day, Jan. 3.

Carter, a four-time champion, hasn't finished first since the 1958 meet at Minneapolis. Weiss won in 1959 at Buffalo, N.Y. Miss Wene was victor in 1955 and 1960, while Mrs. Ladewig took the last of her seven All-Star titles in 1959.

Weiss now has the top lifetime average of 207.76 for 482 games to Carter's 206.842 for 980 games. Billy Lillard is next at 205.1031 for 1,130 games. Carter has won the most money with $19,977 for 10 meets.

Kansas City Clips Saints' Win Skein

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Steers have snapped the most impressive winning streak compiled during the first part of the American Basketball League's inaugural season and ballooned their lead to 3½ games in the Western Division.

Playing a sub-par San Francisco team that had three players hampered by injuries, the Steers rolled to a 107-93 victory Monday night, ended the Saints' 10-game victory string at home and padded their first-place edge over idle Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, Cleveland and Pittsburgh remained in a tie for the top spot in the East. The Pipers beat Chicago's Majors 117-99 and the Rens defeated the Hawaii Chiefs 108-87 in the other games scheduled.

Pat Trammell, Fracchia Pace Alabama's Win

Tide Repulses Arkansas Rally for 10-3 Victory in Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The story behind Alabama's 10-3 victory over Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl is that of just two men—one whose football career is at an end and the other who may be on the threshold of greatness.

The first is quarterback Pat Trammell, whose deceptive running and ball handling guided the crushing 'Bama attack against the Razorbacks before a record crowd of 82,910 Monday.

The other is fullback Mike Fracchia, voted the game's outstanding player. The square-shouldered junior from Memphis, Tenn., rolled up 123 yards on 20 attempts and was easily the game's top yardage producer.

★ ★ ★

'Bama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, who rarely singles out any player when his Tide wins, said Trammell was the difference in the tight triumph over an eager Arkansas crew — a Razorback squad, incidentally, that belied its 13-point underdog's role to the national champions.

Bryant said he "hated to see Trammell graduate. He does just whatever he has to do."

Trammell said in the dressing room the Sugar Bowl was his farewell to football. No professional career, he said—he's now on his way to medical school.

★ ★ ★

The way he operated against the Razorbacks would have made the most skillful surgeon marvel.

Cold statistics could not possibly tell the entire story on Trammell. He completed four of 10 passes for a skimpy 20 yards, and netted 63 yards on 18 running attempts.

SCORING PLAYS

But let's examine Alabama's scoring plays quickly:

The Crimson Tide's touchdown came midday of the first period when Trammell swung wide around left end behind typical Alabama blocking and Tim Davis converted.

Fracchia set up the score with a 42-yard gallop down the sidelines to the Arkansas 12.

★ ★ ★

In the second period, with Trammell mixing in a bit of passing with the plunges of Fracchia and his own option plays, 'Bama added a field goal with Davis booting the 32-yard three-point for a 10-0 lead.

The Razorbacks of Coach Frank Broyles came out of the dressing room after halftime a fired up crew.

Near the end of the third period, the Hogs broke into the scoring column on a 23-yard field goal by Mickey Cissell.

And then the Porkers gave the big crowd a torrid finish. Razorback quarterback George McKinney opened up with a blistering passing attack and aided by a pass interference penalty had the Hogs knocking at the door.

★ ★ ★

McKinney sailed a long aerial to halfback Lance Alworth, but the ball popped out of the speedy halfback's hands in the Alabama end zone. Another Razorback barrage came to a halt in the last quarter when halfback Butch Wilson intercepted one of McKinney's tosses on the Alabama 1.

Bryant said the game gave him "nine heart attacks" while Broyles said he was "never able to guess what offense" the Razorbacks should use.

Scoring Record Falls to Help Team Triumph

HOLLAND (AP) — Jim Vanderhill scored 43 points last night and broke his own Hope College record for single-game scoring.

Chargers Sign Another Top NFL Draft Choice

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The rest of the American Football League may not be faring well in its fight with the rival National League for the top collegiate players, but the San Diego Chargers are more than holding their own.

Charger end coach Al Davis handed Arkansas' flashy halfback Lance Alworth, a contract under a goal post at the end of the Sugar Bowl game between Arkansas and Alabama Monday, and Alworth immediately signed it.

A few yards away, Coach Red Hickey of the NFL's San Francisco 49ers, looked dejected. He had reached Alworth first as the 178-pound halfback walked off the field.

Alworth, a Brookhaven, Miss., product, said he picked San Diego because "the AFL is a new league. I'll have a chance to grow with it."

★ ★ ★

He became the second No. 1 choice in the NFL to be signed by the Chargers, who two weeks ago inked Kansas quarterback John Hadl—Detroit's top selection.

The Chargers' coach said terms of Alworth's contract wouldn't be released.

"It was very respectable. That's all I can say."

"I think the 49ers offered him even more," Davis added. "We were very fortunate to get him. I think Alworth has all the ability to become a great pro player."

Hickey had no comment.

Alworth was Oakland's second choice in the AFL player draft but Davis said the Chargers "swapped several players" for the speedy player.

In San Diego, a spokesman for the Chargers said Alworth probably would be used at end. Alworth shined as a pass receiver for Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl loss to Alabama.

"We've been real lucky at the Sugar Bowl," smiled Davis. "In three years, we've signed three top players here—Charley Flowers in 1959, George Blair last year, and now Alworth.

★ ★ ★

There was no word on three other No. 1 NFL picks and one AFL first choice—all of whom played in bowl games.

Louisiana State's Wendell Harris (Baltimore) and Earl Gros (Green Bay) and Jerry Hillebrand of Colorado (New York) were the NFL choices appearing in the Orange Bowl. In the AFL draft, Hillebrand (Denver) and Gros (Houston) were second picks and Harris (San Diego) was seventh.

★ ★ ★

Sandy Stephens, Minnesota's quarterback in the Rose Bowl was first choice of the New York Titans in the AFL draft, and was the NFL Cleveland's No. 2 pick.

Minnesota star quarterback Sandy Stephens says he will confer with three professional clubs seeking his services but does not expect to sign until after he plays in the Hula Bowl in Honolulu. Besides top salary, he says he will demand a two-year trial at quarterback although the teams have talked about him as a halfback. The Cleveland Browns, New York Titans and Montreal are the clubs.

Ohio State Cagers Are Very Convincing

Unbeaten Bucks Claim Top Vote in Weekly Poll

Villanova, BGSU Among New Quintets Ranked; Cincinnati Second

By The Associated Press

If there is any dissension about it, it isn't apparent. Ohio State seems to have convinced everyone it is the undisputed leader in college basketball.

Certainly the 10 teams the mighty Buckeyes have rolled over so far are convinced. So are the 42 panel members voting in The Associated Press poll. They again made Ohio State the unanimous choice for No. 1 in this week's balloting.

The Buckeyes, deep in talent and experience and with a magnificent leader in Jerry Lucas, assured themselves of the top rating by sweeping to three victories and the title in one of the premier events of the hectic holiday tournament program, the Los Angeles Classic. They beat Washington, UCLA and nationally ranked Southern California.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati (10-1), Kansas State (10-1), Kentucky (8-1) and Duke (8-1) bolstered their national ratings with a successful week, while Villanova (11-0), Mississippi State (9-0) and Bowling Green (8-1) climbed into the top 10 after tournament triumphs.

Southern Cal (9-2) and Duquesne (8-1) slipped in the rankings, and West Virginia (7-3), Wichita (10-2) and Purdue (7-2) fell out entirely.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati took a firmer grip on second place by beating St. John's, LaSalle and Wisconsin in the Holiday Festival at New York. Kentucky jumped from sixth to third after victories over Yale and Notre Dame, Kansas State advanced one place to fourth following decisions over Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa State in the Big Eight tourney, and Duke's 75-73 squeaker over Wake Forest moved the Blue Devils from 10th to eighth.

Villanova powered its way from nowhere to No. 5 on the strength of three impressive performances in the Quaker City tournament in Philadelphia. The spirited Wildcats knocked over Niagara, Duquesne and Iowa.

★ ★ ★

Mississippi State stretched its winning string to nine by trimming Maryland, Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl and grabbed the ninth spot. Bowling Green took over No. 10 after clipping a strong field in the All-College tournament. The Falcons beat Seattle, Wichita and Houston.

With its sweep of all 42 first-place votes, Ohio State gained the maximum of 420 points. Cincinnati was a near-unanimous choice for runner-up, collecting 357 points out of a possible 378.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State, Villanova, Mississippi State and Seton Hall stand as the country's only major unbeaten squads—but Seton Hall has won its four against decidedly lesser opposition. The Pirates will get in with the big boys this week, Villanova Wednesday night and Memphis State Friday.

Kentucky is the only top 10 member in action tonight, in a home game against Virginia. Duke plays Penn State and Bowling Green meets Western Michigan Tuesday night. Cincinnati resumes Thursday against St. Louis, and Southern California has a weekend series with California.

★ ★ ★

The remaining four are off until Saturday, when Ohio State plays Northwestern, Kansas State takes on Colorado, Duquesne meets St. Bonaventure and Mississippi State plays Auburn.

The top 10 based on a 10-9 etc. vote count with first-place votes and records through Dec. 31 in parentheses:

Dietzel Won't Discuss Army After 25-7 Orange Bowl Rout of Colorado

What Next for LSU Coach?

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — While Coach Paul Dietzel ponders an offer to rescue Army football, speculation grows today he will leave his Louisiana State powerhouse and answer the call from West Point.

After LSU defeated Colorado 25-7 in the Orange Bowl Monday, Dietzel retained his poise and remained noncommital in a shower of pressure from all sides.

★ ★ ★

"Concerning my move to Army, I put it out of my mind until this game was over," the 37-year-old ex-Army assistant said. "Now I'll give it my full consideration. I have no further comment."

If Dietzel makes the move as suspected, he is in no position to be definite.

First, West Point Superintendent Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland will announce the successor to Dale Hall—fired Dec. 9—which he hopes to do this week.

Second, LSU officials say Dietzel has not requested release from his contract which still has four years to run.

Some LSU sources are reported ready to go to court, if necessary, to force Dietzel to serve out his $18,500-a-year commitment. A majority of the 14-man LSU Board of Supervisors must approve a request for the coach to withdraw.

However, the former aid of Earl (Red) Blaik left the door wide open by saying:

★ ★ ★

"I coached at Army for two years as an assistant and I know what they have to offer. It is a wonderful athletic setup at West Point.

"But I like LSU, too. Everyone at LSU has been wonderful to me. I can't say what my decision will be until I've had several days to think about it.

"I feel like the man who walked into the post office and saw his picture. It's nice to be wanted."

Dietzel persistently refused to admit he had received a direct offer from Army, but most everyone else felt he had.

★ ★ ★

One source close to the LSU picture says that in the past when Dietzel has been approached by other schools he has made a quick denial saying he felt LSU was the place to coach and that if he left the school it meant he was leaving the profession.

The absence of such a comment amid the West Point talk has convinced some LSU authorities Dietzel is moving, the source said.

Meanwhile, Louisianans showered Dietzel with telegrams, including some which read:

★ ★ ★

"I would rather be a Tiger, tried and true, than an Army brat. Would you?"

Dietzel beat out his former tutor, Blaik, for coach of the year in $2,195.44 to $3,339.99 for the Giants from the receipts of Saturday's game. They agreed it was great to do business with the Giants.

★ ★ ★

And so did the players' wives, wrapped in the warmth of mink stoles presented by the Green Bay management when the club won the Western Division title a month ago, also by beating the Giants.

The NFL crown is the seventh for the Packers and the first won at home since the club entered the league as a charter member in 1921.

The title was the first for Green Bay since beating the Giants in New York in 1944, and it was the climax of a complete rebuilding begun three years ago when Vince Lombardi quit as a Giant assistant coach to become coach and general manager of the Packers.

Imlay and Lapeer Only Prep Cagers on Duty Tonight

Only two prep basketball games are scheduled tonight in the Oakland County area as high school students return to their classrooms following a holiday recess.

Unbeaten Imlay City has a return engagement with Yale on the latter's court and Lapeer goes to Orisville-Lakeville in the only action on tonight's slate.

Imlay, boasting a perfect 7-0 record and winner of the Caro Invitational tournament last week, was a 63-47 winner over Yale in its senson opener Nov. 28 on the Imlay floor. Lapeer takes a 3-1 mark to Lakeville.

The remainder of the Oakland County area's schoolboy quintets waits until Friday to resume action with a full program on tap.

Baylor Stars in LA Farewell

Pistons Downed by Hawks

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Lakers, Western Division leaders in the National Basketball Association, are slated to lose all-star Elgin Baylor to the U.S. Army today.

Baylor, the league's second leading scorer with a 38-point average, is due to report for Army duty at Fort Lewis, Wash. A possibility exists that he may be available to the Lakers on some weekends.

★ ★ ★

Baylor's final game as a civilian was a Los Angeles victory as the Lakers turned back the Philadelphia Warriors 114-111 at Los Angeles Monday night.

The former Seattle star, in his fourth season in the NBA, collected 33 points but yielded scoring honors to teammate Jerry West, who hit for 36.

In other games, the Syracuse Nats defeated the Cincinnati Royals 110-106 and the St. Louis Hawks whipped the Detroit Pistons 143-139.

The Lakers opened up a 9½ game lead over Cincinnati in the Western Division by beating Philadelphia for the fifth time in eight meetings. Will Chamberlain topped the Warriors with 33 points.

Both benches emptied toward the end of the game when West and Guy Rodgers of Philadelphia started swinging. Officials got the scuffle under control and no one was ejected.

The Warriors led at halftime 55-54 and were ahead 83-81 entering the past quarter before the Lakers rallied to pull out the verdict in the last two minutes. A three-point play by West with 28 seconds left proved decisive.

★ ★ ★

Larry Costello's basket with nine seconds to go broke a 106-all tie and Dave Gambee added the clinching field goal in Syracuse's squeaker over Cincinnati. Jack Twyman of the Royals was high scorer with 28 points while Johnny Kerr topped the Nats with 23.

Bob Pettit's 49 points powered St. Louis to its third straight victory—its longest winning streak of the season—at the expense of Detroit. A 48-point second period carried the Hawks to within two games of the third-place Pistons in the West. Don Ohl led Detroit with 27 points.

Free Throws Help Wilt

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlin seems to finally have found the knack of making a reasonable number of his free throws, and it may result in the first 50-point scoring average in the National Basketball Association.

★ ★ ★

Statistics from the league today show the 7-foot-1 marvel of the Philadelphia Warriors has boosted his average to 49.1 in 7 games through Dec. 31—a climb partially attributed to his greater free throw accuracy of the last two weeks.

Chamberlain still has a long way to go in his free throw shooting, which still is a mediocre .578 per cent, with only 355 successful shots out of 614 attempts.

★ ★ ★

There's still no contest in the NBA scoring race. Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, scheduled to rejoin the Army later this week, is second with 1,570 points, for a 38.3 average, compared to Chamberlain's 1,617 points in 37 games—four fewer than Baylor has played.

Big Payoff, Mink Stoles Mean Very Snug Winter

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The National Football League champion Green Bay Packers settled down today, protected against a long, cold winter by the glow of success—their resounding 37-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

The Packers also were snug in the high temperatures of prosperity, their individual shares of $5,195.44 to $3,339.99 for the Giants from the receipts of Saturday's game. They agreed it was great to do business with the Giants.

★ ★ ★

And so did the players' wives, wrapped in the warmth of mink stoles presented by the Green Bay management when the club won the Western Division title a month ago, also by beating the Giants.

The NFL crown is the seventh for the Packers and the first won at home since the club entered the league as a charter member in 1921.

The title was the first for Green Bay since beating the Giants in New York in 1944, and it was the climax of a complete rebuilding begun three years ago when Vince Lombardi quit as a Giant assistant coach to become coach and general manager of the Packers.

The game's final gun signaled the start of a New Year's eve that will long be remembered. The metal goal posts were pulled out of their concrete foundations, loaded on a truck and taken to the center of the city where they were paraded through the streets as a trophy of conquest.

★ ★ ★

The conquest came on a combination of a battering Packer defense that created opportunities and a sparkling offense that cashed in on them.

"It was a personal thing with most of us," said defense end Willie Davis. "We felt that we hadn't been getting the credit and recognition we deserved."

Good Record

Since he managed the Yankees in 1949, Casey Stengel has missed only two spring training periods at St. Petersburg, Fla. He missed 1951 when the Yankees trained in Arizona and last year he was out of baseball. But he will be back in St. Pete next spring managing the New York Mets.

Cincinnati has increased its night baseball schedule to 45 games under lights at home in 1962. The addition of Houston and New York to the league causes the increase.

LONDON (AP) — Barrow, English fourth division soccer team, won two precious points Monday —thanks to a home-made snow plow fashioned out of old ladders.

★ ★ ★

Groundkeeper Jimmy Kendall and his assistants nailed five ladders together and then dragged them back and forth across the field to clear the snow. Sunday it lay several inches deep and soccer looked out of the question. By the time Kendall had finished the referee decided the game could go on.

Barrow defeated the Doncaster Rovers 4-1 and moved up four places in the fourth division.

Younger, Friendly Russian to Replace Menshikov in U.S.

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS
AP Foreign Staff Writer

The Soviet Union is sending a younger smiling Russian to replace an older smiling Russian as its ambassador to Washington.

Mikhail Alekseevich Menshikov, who sails for home Thursday after almost four years on the job, is known throughout the United States as Smiling Mike.

★ ★ ★

Anatoly Fedorovich Dobrynin, who will arrive in about a month to succeed him, may well become known as Affable Anatoly.

By contrast, Andrei Andreyevich Gromyko got the nickname of Grim Grom while Washington ambassador, 1943-46 and U.N. Security Council representative, 1946-52. Now he is foreign minister and smiles occasionally.

Dobrynin won his reputation for affability in almost three years at the United Nations, from 1957 to 1960, as the top-ranking Soviet citizen in the U.N. Secretariat. He was an undersecretary, just below the then secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjold.

He is a big, hearty, energetic, outgoing man well over six feet tall, with a booming voice, a bone-crushing handshake and a quick sense of humor.

He is a partly bald, graying blond with a high, round forehead, silver-rimmed glasses and ice blue eyes. He speaks good French and good English, and his accent has been described as American.

Dobrynin is widely known as one of the friendliest Russians ever to hit U.N. headquarters. A few of his acquaintances lay this friendliness to his diplomatic training. But most of them credit it to natural warmth of personality.

All agree that he was an extremely capable U.N. official. They also agree that he should make his government an excellent Washington ambassador — for reasons like these:

REASONS GIVEN

1. Since leaving the Secretariat, he has been chief of the department of American countries in the Soviet foreign ministry, having to do with the United States, Canada and Latin America. So he knows U.S.-Soviet relations inside out.

2. He is not publicly identified with any particular Soviet line. So he can easily become the channel for any change of policy directed by the Kremlin.

3. He faithfully reflects the Soviet view but tries to understand other views. So his reports to Moscow on U.S. policy and public opinion are apt to be closer to reality than those of someone blinded by Communist dogma.

4. He is a good administrator. He easily grasps the inner workings of such small, specialized societies as the U.N. Secretariat and the Washington diplomatic corps. He mixes well with all kinds of people.

★ ★ ★

American diplomats in Moscow also consider him a good choice for the Washington post. They expect he will do what he can, within the limits of Soviet policy, to improve relations with the United States.

They say that while Menshikov seems to like delivering nasty verbal notes to American diplomats, Dobrynin "manages to convey the idea that he is not personally enjoying it."

★ ★ ★

Dobrynin's full name is pronounced "ah-na-toe-lee" (third syllable accented) "Fyo-duh-ruh-vich" (first syllable accented) "Doe-breen-yin" (second syllable accented).

He is only 42 — 17 years younger than Menshikov is now, but eight years older than Gromyko was when he became the youngest-ever Soviet ambassador to Washington in August 1943.

Dobrynin was born two years after the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution and grew up entirely under the Soviet system.

Charge Exec's Wife Strangled Daughter

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Howard, 54-year-old grandmother, was charged today with the strangulation slaying of her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Eldridge, 32.

Mrs. Howard, wife of a bottling company executive, had been missing since her daughter's almost nude body was found Christmas Day in an upstairs closet at the Howard home.

Police said Mrs. Howard returned home about 11:30 Monday night and a member of her family notified police. She was immediately arrested and questioned for four hours.

At the end of that time Police Chief Joseph C. Wrigtt said the woman had given a statement to police but he would not reveal it at this time.

Scribe's Predictions for New Year

Sees Death of Twist, Democratic Victory in House

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Sue me Dec. 31, 1962, if some or most of these things don't happen:

★ ★ ★

The Twist will die an unnatural death. For the second time in 50 years the party in power will not lose seats in the House of Representatives in an off-year election. The greatest mass exodus in U.S. history, the flight of the Negro from the South, will continue unabated.

Attorneys for the estates of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John will appear and put Hollywood out of business.

There will be several important breakthroughs in TV: The Confederacy will start winning in those Civil War operas, all mobsters will be named Jones or Smith (can't afford to offend anybody else), and the hero will get around to paying his check before he leaps up from his restaurant table and and goes off to settle the case that has stumped the FBI, Scotland Yard and the Swiss Guard.

TO WIN ACCLAIM

Tennessee Williams will win critical acclaim for a play about a winsome two-headed woman streetcar conductor whose sideline is packaging instant leoprosy.

Col. John Glenn, USMC, probably the world's best-trained spaceman, will give earthlings the first clear word picture of what it's really like Out There.

Khrushchev, backing down on Berlin, will arrest attention by claiming the Moon. Either the Kremlin or Peiping will send a keeper for Castro.

★ ★ ★

JFK will attract the stanch support of both former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman—and figure out a way to keep them separated. Somebody will find a way to mix vodka with mud, and clean up with a facial cocktail.

The discovery will be made that one of the reasons why there is so little juvenile delinquency in the Virgin Islands may be because flogging of apprehended young hoodlums is legal there if the parent consents. New York will turn it down.

People will wonder what to do with the shelters they built. There will be several airline mergers, which will give all hands a breathing spell — except the guy in the middle of the three-seat configuration in tourist.

WON'T AGREE

The 32 anti-Castro Cuban exile groups in the Miami area will hold fast to 32 different plans for unseating the bum, all bearing the imprimatur of his 32 proposed successors.

The administration's zeal to up the standard of living in Latin America will advance splendidly —up to the point where the rich families are asked to pay their taxes.

Irish-American business men will hardly be able to finish marching in the St. Patrick's Day parade before sending investment funds to the old country — West Germany.

Las Vegas, now a respected convention town, will come up with the civic slogan: Gambling Is Good for You.

Albania will get The Bomb from its loyal ally, Red China—a 100 pound Roman Candle. Toots Shor's will snap an anchor chain and float down 52nd to 5th.

Nobody will write more thoughtful line than Bugs Baer penned last month just before going on the operating table: "What kind of Christmas story do you write when you are not sure how much string is left in your ball of twine?"

TO GET PERMANENT JOB

U Thant will have the hard luck to be named permanently to Dag's old job. Jack Paar will be forced to decline an invitation to lecture at various U.S. schools of journalism.

The world will hail the first word spoken by the President's son, though it be "goo."

Nehru will come to U.N. to explain that the only reason he sent his troops into Goa was to bring Goans that Bigger Life one notes in the slums of Calcutta. Khrishna Menon will suffer a compound fracture of the jaw while practicing his scowl.

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth Taylor's eyelashes will collapse, causing a 10-week delay in "Cleopatra." Every time the Giants and Dodgers play the Mets in the Polo Grounds it will be the "toughest ticket" in town. Their old fans weren't really sore at Stoneham and O'Malley for blowing town. They just got angry because the owner didn't take them along.

★ ★ ★

Remember now, kids, get those suits in early—along with three bottle tops, never mind about removing the bottle from the tops.

Criminal Lawyer Giesler Dies After Blazing Career

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's a void today for Hollywood celebrities who in time of trouble uttered a cry so often it became a cliche—"Get me Giesler!"

Famed criminal lawyer Jerry Giesler, 75, died in his sleep Monday of a heart ailment.

In a blazing career of nearly 50 years he had been the courtroom champion of such notables as Charlie Chaplin, Errol Flynn, Robert Mitchum ad Lana Turner. He handled divorces for Zsa Zsa Gabor, Barbara Hutton, Marilyn Monroe, Bette Davis and Shelley Winters.

★ ★ ★

Giesler had been hospitalized several times since 1959 for the heart ailment. He continued to oversee important cases. With an associate doing courtroom work, he directed strategy in his last big case, the defense of Carole Tregoff in the three wife-murder trials of Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

CLEARED BERKELEY

He was Marie McDonald's counsel when her story of being kidnaped brought a police inquiry. In another case, Giesler won acquittal for Bushy Berkeley, dance director accused of manslaughter after his car killed three persons.

★ ★ ★

So successful was he in defending celebrities in legal trouble that the phrase "Get me Giesler" became almost a quip.

★ ★ ★

Portly, with sparse hair, he had a thin, high-pitched voice. His success came largely from thorough preparation; he said he tried to do an even better job of preparing the district attorney's case than the prosecutor.

Born in Wilton Junction, Iowa, he came to Los Angeles as a youth, graduated from the University of Southern California Law School and joined the staff of criminal attorney Earl Rogers. At 26 he played a small role in successfully defending his idol, the great criminal attorney Clarence Darrow, against a charge of trying to bribe a juror.

WON IN APPEAL

Giesler's first big case was that of Alexander Pantages, theater magnate accused of raping a 17-year-old girl. She began testifying in pigtails and schoolgirl clothes. Giesler obtained a ruling that she appear dressed as she was the night of the alleged attack—in slinky, low-cut red gown, make-up and sophisticated coiffure.

Giesler's efforts to show that her past was dubious were blocked. Pantages drew 50 years, but Giesler used the blocked questions on appeal and won.

★ ★ ★

The case set the precedent that in rape cases the pattern of the girl's conduct is relevant. Giesler used it 13 years later in defending the late Errol Flynn against two charges of statutory rape involving girls under 18. The jury acquitted the actor.

★ ★ ★

The master counselor handled no more sensational case than the Mann Act trial of pioneer movie comedian Chaplin. The actor was accused of taking 24-year-old Joan Barry across state line for immoral purposes. Giesler sat Chaplin alone at a big table, his face wistful, his feet barely touching the floor. He was humble and meek on the stand. Verdict: acquittal.

Robert Mitchum's arrest in a 1949 narcotics raid, Giesler argued, constituted police entrapment. The actor got two years, later cut to 60 days, instead of the possible maximum of 14 years.

Ex-Michigan Woman Dies in Florida Fire

ENGLEWOOD, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Ellen Smith, 75, formerly of Port Huron, Mich., died in a fire at her home here Monday.

★ ★ ★

Investigators said they think a cigarette set sofa cushions afire. A physician said Mrs. Smith suffocated.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith moved to this city, near Sarasota, five years ago from Port Huron. Survivors include three sisters-in-law, Mrs. Harold C. Wilson of Detroit, Mrs. Anna Organ of Cleveland and Mrs. Zella Bayle of Englewood.

Algerian Rebels Slate Meeting

Premier Leaves Tunis for Rabat to Prepare Crucial Conference

TUNIS (AP)—Algerian rebel Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda left for Rabat today to prepare a crucial meeting of the rebel regime in the Moroccan capital.

★ ★ ★

Ben Khedda refused to comment, but other high rebel sources said members of his cabinet will follow him for the meeting scheduled next weekend.

The choice of Rabat for the site of the meeting rather than Tunis, the usual base of the rebel regime, underlined a growing split between the Algerian nationalists and their Tunisian hosts.

The split has apparently been sharpened by persistent Tunisian claims to the eastern portion of the Sahara Desert, where rich oil fields are located.

MOVE RUMORED

For some time, it has been rumored in the Tunisian capital that the rebel regime planned to move to Rabat. The Algerians now consider Morocco a closer ally than Tunisia, with which they have had a number of disputes.

Informed sources said Ben Khedda would make an important statement after his arrival in Morocco tonight.

Rebel officials indicated last week that important announcements should be expected "within two weeks" and hinted they might concern the reopening of formal peace negotiations with France.

Urges Housing Some Homeless in Buckingham

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England (AP)—A Presbyterian minister suggested today Queen Elizabeth should invite some of London's homeless to come and live in Buckingham Palace.

★ ★ ★

"There must be a great deal of spare room in the palace," the Rev. William Barbour wrote in his church magazine.

"I know if the queen allowed people in need of accommodation to share her house many other people would follow suit."

★ ★ ★

There are about 3,000 homeless in London. The vast palace has more than 600 rooms, many of them unused.

Barnacles swim when they are young. In time they attach themselves permanently to an object, frequently the bottom of a ship or a whale.

DRENCHING A NEW YEAR'S RIOT — Fire hoses are well in evidence after firemen used them to spray streams of water in order to disperse rioting New Year's Eve celebrants who ran wild for more than two hours in Reno's downtown casino district. An earlier police attack with tear gas failed to stem the violence. The riot exploded at midnight and lasted two hours. About 30 persons were injured, none seriously, and 22 persons were arrested.

Television Fans Had a Rough Weekend

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a rough weekend for television fans who can take football or—preferably—leave it alone.

* * *

The home screens were awash over the long weekend with gridiron warriors. Football may well be the No. 1 American spectator sport, but eight or nine televised bowl games, often occupying all three network channels, sometimes seems a bit excessive.

For spectacle lovers, there was also the Pasadena Tournament of Roses procession Monday.

Betty White, handling part of NBC's commentary, was bright and amusing. But the CBS staff and Roy Neal of NBC handled their assignments with the solemnity and urgency normally reserved for getting a missile into orbit.

* * *

Another major effort of TV's weekend was shoving 1962 off to a gala start. This involved the usual orchestra music and close-ups of ladies and gents in funny hats waving at the cameras.

Football, "Auld Lang Syne" and parades behind, we can settle down now to worry with Chet Huntley about the international situation again.

U.S. Fires Fatal to 11,700 in '61 —350 Increase

BOSTON (AP) — Fires killed almost 1,000 people a month during 1961, the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) reported today.

Virtually complete statistics showed fatalities totaled about 11,700 for the year — an increase of about 350 over 1960.

* * *

Of the dead approximately 6,100 died in fires in their own homes. Of these, almost 30 per cent — 1,800 — were children.

Destruction of property by fire hit a record high of approximately $1,615,000,000, according to preliminary data gathered by the international nonprofit fire safety organization.

* * *

The 1961 death total was the highest since 1954 when 12,100 fatalities were recorded.

22 Go to Court After Reno Riot

New Year's Eve Starts With Stolen Kisses and Ends With 30 Hurt

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Twenty-two persons were ordered to appear in municipal court today, charged with taking part in a wild New Year's riot that began with stolen kisses and ended in a fog of tear gas and water from fire hoses.

* * *

Police Capt. Robert Peel said the 22 were booked on assorted charges from inciting riot to creating a disturbance. In addition, he said, 16 servicemen arrested were turned over to military authorities for disciplinary action.

* * *

At least 30 persons were injured, none seriously.

* * *

The riot began when officers arrested several youths who were stopping cars and kissing the women occupants. Jeering crowds attacked a police car and hurled liquor bottles and glasses for two hours before tear gas and fire hoses dispersed them. About 1,000 persons were involved.

Eye Interest Hike's Effect on Banks, Savings-Loans

Rivals Fight for Depositor's Dollar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Competition between banks and savings and loan associations for depositors entered a new round today. It promised to be a tough fight.

Whichever way the tide of battle for savings deposits goes, one thing appeared certain: Savers will be able to earn more interest and some borrowers will have to pay more.

On this first business day of 1962, government and industry officials began a close watch to see how the public would react to higher interest rates being offered at an important handful of the nation's 13,400 commercial banks.

The government a month ago boosted from 3 per cent to 4 per cent the maximum rate on savings accounts in commercial banks, effective Jan. 1, 1962.

* * *

Banks offering these rates will be more competitive with the nation's 6,200 savings and loan institutions, which usually have paid more than banks.

How much of a shift in deposits will there be?

That question worries both savings and loan managers and bankers trying to hold the line on rates as well as government officials.

FEAR SHIFT

Some government officials fear that a shift of money to banks would diminish the supply of home loan money from savings associations. That, plus higher savings and loan dividend rates, could push up mortgage costs and crimp home building and related industries.

* * *

Only a relatively few banks have announced they would pay a higher interest rate on savings accounts. The American Banker-Daily has established the number at 3 per cent of the total, or about 400. But this includes big banks in New York City "and some key institutions elsewhere. Moreover, they are advertising their new rates in newspapers and on the air.

Under the new rule, the banks may pay 3½ per cent on all savings deposits and 4 per cent on funds left undisturbed for a year or more.

Savings and loan associations have been paying, roughly, from 3¾ to 4 per cent, in the East, to 4½ per cent in the West. There is no limit on the dividend rate of federally chartered savings associations.

Many institutions pay interest or dividends for the entire month on money deposited up to the 10th of the month. Hence, potential depositors have a few days in which to shop around and decide what they want to do.

* * *

Their actions will be closely observed by savings and loan managers and bankers who hope to avoid paying higher rates. Each institution watches its neighbors carefully.

Heart Attack Kills Southern Politician

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — Rep. John J. Riley, D-S.C., veteran congressman from South Carolina's 2nd district, died at his nearby bench cottage of a heart attack early today. He was 66.

Riley lived at Sumter, about 95 miles west of here, but he often visited his cottage at Surfside Beach, 13 miles southwest of Myrtle Beach.

Riley, who had a history of heart trouble, called his physician in Sumter, but the congressman died before he could be moved home to Sumter.

Riley had served eight terms in Congress.

Lemay Calls Off Visit to Spain Set Thursday

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Curtis Lemay, chief of the U.S. air staff, has postponed or canceled a three-day visit to Spain which was scheduled to start Thursday, U.S. Air Force officials here said today.

They said they received no reason for the change of plans. Lemay had been invited to Spain by the chief of the Spanish air staff, Gen. Enrique Palacios.

Unusual Insult Technique Makes Everything a Joke

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Groucho Marx has unimaginable difficulties convincing people he doesn't like them — due to his insult technique which they all take as a joke even when he means it. When he insults them, they become increasingly adhesive. A few days ago, attending a party here, he met a nationally known personality whose name I can't mention. They differed politically and Groucho announced, "You know, I've always hated you." The insulted party laughed, took it as a joke, fastened himself to Groucho, and insisted on driving him home . . . right to his hotel door.

Small Ontario Hotel Burns

$70,000 BLAZE — Smoke pours from the 10-room Sombra Hotel in Sombra, Ont., on the St. Clair River opposite Marine City, Monday, in a fire which swept through the structure, causing $70,000 in damage. The only occupants were the owner Gerald Cousineau, his wife and two daughters. All escaped unharmed.

Traffic Deaths Go One Over Predicted Mark

Last Spurt on Monday Erases All Hopes of New Low Record

The New Year weekend traffic death toll; with a sharp rise Monday, surpassed the preholiday estimate of 330 and soared far past the record low mark.

The count at midnight Monday, at the end of the three-day holiday period, showed 331 traffic deaths.

Fires claimed the lives of 83 persons, a record for a New Year period since World War II, and 59 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The overall toll was 473.

Belated reports were expected to increase the traffic death toll for the 78-hour period which started at 6 p.m. (Pontiac time) Friday.

Michigan reversed the national trend by chalking up an unusually low highway fatality figure for the holiday period. Eight lives were lost on the state's roads.

The eight fatalities compare favorably with 17 killed a year ago. Two persons died in fires and three others were killed in miscellaneous mishaps.

★ ★ ★

The New Year's weekend accidental death toll fell far short of the Christmas weekend's, when 26 persons lost their lives in traffic, six persons died in fires and one person was killed in a miscellaneous mishap.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated that 330 persons might be killed in traffic accidents during the extended weekend, earlier had hopes that the toll might be a record low for the three-day New Year period.

The record low of 269 highway fatalities was set in the 1949-1950 New Year period. The record traffic toll for a three-day New Year period is 374, set in 1960-61.

MORE LAST YEAR

In the three-day 1960-61 New Year celebration, there were 238 traffic deaths, 66 perished in fires and 78 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 482.

Traffic deaths totaled 521 in the recent three-day Christmas weekend, while 85 persons died in fires and 86 others in miscellaneous accidents, an over-all toll of 693.

The previous record of five deaths for a New Year period came in the 1956-57 three-day celebration.

★ ★ ★

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accidents deaths in a nonholiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8 to midnight Monday, Dec. 11. The count: 347 in traffic, 42 in fires and 57 in the miscellaneous group, a total of 446.

Guns to Handle Jail Rebellion

AP Photofax

POLICE GET ARMS — Riot guns are passed out to police stationed outside Montreal's Bordeaux Jail at the height of a riot of 100 prisoners within the institution. Three prisoners and a fireman were injured during the riot, quelled after several hours, but more trouble is feared.

More Trouble Feared

Prisoners Riot in Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) More than half the prisoners who rioted and battled police for four hours in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail, the most spent the night in cells of two unheated, water-logged wings where they were herded following the disturbance.

Lt. Col. Leon Lambert, governor of the jail, said prisoners in a block for persons awaiting trial took part in the rebellion and that "some of them looked drunk—possibly from goof balls (barbiturates)."

"The disturbance is far from over," Lambert told newsmen. "We have to get them back in their own cells yet."

★ ★ ★

He said three prisoners and a fireman manning a water hose were injured, none seriously. The fireman was believed struck by a piece of metal thrown by a prisoner.

GRUMBLE AT START

Lambert said the rioting started with some grumbling and shouting about 4:30 p.m. which developed into open rebellion as the men were being served a roast beef New Year's dinner.

★ ★ ★

An electric power failure followed two hours later, knocking out the heavy switch controls the cell locks.

"Without electricity, we could do nothing," Lambert said. "We had no light, or water here for two hours."

About 50 city and provincial police rushed to the jail and entered the prison yard with hyperball guns and tear gas. Firemen were forced to run in hoses from outside the jail when water pumps failed as well.

★ ★ ★

Windows, plumbing, walls and bunks were smashed or ripped in both wings and a load of water covered the floors.

Lambert shared fire the prisoners showed no signs of surrender. "We're all right," he didn't have to use the hose, he continued, said prison controller J. A. Pilon. "When they saw the hose they got scared. They didn't want to get wet."

Gunfire ring out during the rioting and one prisoner was thrown naked from his cell, bleeding from numerous wounds. Lambert said "It looked as if he had fought with his fellow prisoners. He was not struck by bullets."

The rioters inside were herded into cells of the wings where they had fortified.

Lambert said he didn't know yet what had caused the riot, that "you can't talk to these fellows when they are in revolt." The jail is to Columbus, Ohio, to speak at a fund-raising birthday dinner for Ohio Gov. Michael DiSalle.

Gromyko Meets With Thompson for Two Hours

Hoping to Find Some Base for Even Starting East-West Parleys

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson [illegible] Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred for 2½ hours today.

It is the first step in a new attempt to find a mutually satisfactory basis for East-West negotiations on Berlin.

The American diplomat, asked if there would be more of his sessions with Gromyko, said, "I suppose so but I do not know when." He declined to say how the meeting went.

Thompson took Kempton Jenkins, embassy second secretary specializing in German affairs, to the meeting. Gromyko was accompanied by Ivan I. Byichev, a Soviet foreign ministry official who was formerly ambassador to East Germany.

Thompson said he would fill in the British and French ambassadors here about the conference. He did not mention the West German ambassador, but it is assumed that he will give him a briefing too.

In Washington, State Department officials said a report from Thompson was expected some time late today.

They said, however, that comment from the department would be very unlikely at this early stage of an expected series of talks.

President Kennedy has instructed Thompson to probe the Soviet position on the Berlin issue to see if there is a profitable basis for formal talks.

THEY AGREE

Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had agreed to have the U.S. ambassador handle the preliminary round for both Britain and the United States. There is a possibility that British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts may also take a hand.

If the Thompson-Gromyko talks are successful, the next step is expected to be a foreign ministers' conference to determine the future of Berlin.

Thompson's last round of talks with Gromyko in Moscow took place at the end of October.

The subject of those talks was not the general Berlin situation but the problem of identification procedures at the checkpoints along the Berlin border.

Portugal Hunts Associates of Captured Rebel Leader

BEJA, Portugal (AP)—The hunt was on today for political associates of a rebel leader who tried unsuccessfully to seize a military barracks and touch off a revolution against Premier Antonio Salazar's government.

Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, 37, an army officer turned politician, lay near death in the Beja Hospital Manuel Serra, a former Roman Catholic Youth leader who authorities said shared leadership of the uprising with Gomes, was captured while heading for the Spanish border with four heavily armed companions.

Between 40 and 50 persons, most of them workers, apparently were in the band that engaged Salazar's troops in a three-hour gun battle Monday at the barracks of the 3rd Infantry regiment. Officials at first announced all had been killed or captured.

But so far the government has announced only one rebel killed, two wounded and 20 others captured.

It appeared some might still be at large, although no rebel casualties were believed to have been much higher than the government said.

Most notable casualty on the government side was Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, under secretary for war who rushed to the southern city of Beja from Lisbon.

SHOOT HIM

He ordered the government forces to hold their fire and then walked into the barracks to demand that the rebels surrender. They shot him down. He died later in the hospital.

The government tightened security precautions by placing all police and military units in a "state of prevention."

There was no general alert for a huge Lisbon rally scheduled for Wednesday night was cancelled officially in mourning for Da Fon seca.

AFTER BAD YEAR

Salazar was to have addressed the rally for 1962 following a year of painful and embarrassing setbacks ranging from the seizure of the liner Santa Maria on the high seas by the Indian cession of Goa.

The all-hated uprising began in the sleepy New Year's morning.

Witnesses said the rebels burst past the gatekeeper at the barracks, smashed into the officers' quarters and overcame the duty men. Two junior officers managed to escape to another sleepy point in the barracks and sounded the alarm.

The rebels were gunned down in the officers' quarters by machine gun fire but could not be dislodged. Then Da Fonseca arrived and tried to arrange a surrender. He was shot at his own side.

The shooting of the undersecretary for war aroused the loyal troops and panicked the rebels. A number attempted to escape by seizing army vehicles and driving from the barracks. All were captured and resistance crumbled.

Between the President and Soviet leaders was made public on New Year's Eve. Both the Washington and Moscow messages expressed hopes for peace and better relations between the two countries.

Talks Fail; Men Strike at S-P Corp.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union called its members out on strike at Studebaker-Packard Corp. early today after extended weekend sessions set up by mediators had failed to bring company and union together.

The strike involves 6,300 production workers.

Issues in dispute included wash-up time, shift premium, vacation computation, representation and management rights, a union spokesman said.

Bus Passengers Delayed Because Licenses Expire

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Several hundred Greyhound bus passengers were delayed for up to six hours here Monday because a company spokesman said, "the 1962 license plates didn't catch up with the buses."

Buses and taxicabs in New York State are required to display the new tags Jan. 1, while automobile operators have until Jan. 31 to attach plates.

The company spokesman said drivers affiliated with the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America declined to operate with the old plates.

★ ★ ★

Johnson Due at Policy Meeting

President Convenes Top Defense Parley

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy holds policy framing conferences today with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and top defense officials.

★ ★ ★

The vice president was scheduled to arrive in early afternoon from Johnson City, Tex. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's personal military adviser, were also due here for a later afternoon meeting on the nation's security status.

★ ★ ★

From all appearances, they intend to go over the preparedness situation which Kennedy has depicted as giving the West an overall edge on the Communists.

NO BUDGET TALK

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the meeting would not directly concern the defense budget, which is likely to absorb more than half the President's anticipated $92-billion spending proposals for 1962-63. Neither, Salinger said, was it called to make a decision on whether the United States needs to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

The discussions will continue Wednesday after the arrival of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The entire Kennedy family was heartened by word that the head of the clan, Joseph P. Kennedy, 72, is making such improvement from his stroke that he was able to leave his hospital bed for short periods in a wheel chair. The President and other members of the family visited the elder Kennedy Monday at St. Mary's Hospital in neighboring West Palm Beach.

The chief executive spent a quiet New Year's Day, cheated by foul weather from his usual cruise on Lake Worth.

W. New Guinea to Be Discussed

Hague Now Ready to Debate Future With No Strings Attached

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch government announced today its willingness to discuss the future of West New Guinea with Indonesia without setting conditions beforehand.

★ ★ ★

Premier Jan de Quay read the government declaration in the lower house of Parliament at the start of debate on West New Guinea, last remnant of Holland's East Indies colonial empire which Indonesia has threatened to invade.

President Sukarno Monday proclaimed the disputed territory a province of Indonesia and ordered a special military command set up to direct the invasion if he orders it.

De Quay said the Netherlands is willing to enter into negotiations without making self-determination of New Guinea's Papuan population a prerequisite. Previously the Dutch had said they would negotiate only if the Papuans were assured the right of self-determination.

★ ★ ★

The Labor party opposition had been pressing the government to announce willingness to relinquish the territory and then to negotiate for some autonomy for the Papuans.

Tshombe Admits Kongolo Defeat

Katanga Leader Claims Victory in Congolese Attacks at Kapona

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has conceded the loss of the north Katanga stronghold of Kongolo to troops of the central Congolese government but claims his forces have beaten off Congolese attacks at Kapona, south of Baudouinville.

Tshombe charged at a news conference Monday in Elisabethville that 13,000 Congolese troops advancing on Kongolo had murdered hundreds of civilians and burned villages.

CASUALTIES HEAVY

He claimed that the Congolese abandoned heavy equipment and fled in the face of strong Katangan resistance at Kapona. The secessionist leader said both sides suffered heavy casualties there, asserting that most Katangan casualties involved civilians.

Tshombe also declared that he has rejected an order by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu that the Katanga Assembly convene Wednesday in Kamina under U.N. protection.

'ABUSE OF POWER'

He said he had informed the U.N. Command in Elisabethville that the order for the Assembly to meet and ratify Tshombe's Kitona unity agreement with Premier Cyrille Adoula was "contrary and in direct violation of the Congo constitution" and "an abuse of power."

Tshombe has summoned the assembly to meet in Elisabethville tomorrow to discuss the Kitona agreement. But he said he was no longer sure the meeting would be held on schedule.

REPORT 12 KILLED

The U.N. Command announced that Bashi tribesmen in Kivu Province had killed at least 12 of their tribal enemies while trying to elect a new chief.

A U.N. spokesman said a Malayan patrol halted the bloodshed but that reports from the patrol indicated the death toll may actually be much higher. The U.N. spokesman was unable to say whether the chief had been elected.

Gets Last Wish; Is Dead at 23

Barbiturates Fatal to Barbara Burns, Child of Famous Comedian

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Barbara Ann Burns, unable to break free from the narcotics that enslaved her, is dead at 23. Her last wish had been to die rather than go to jail for an addiction she has had since her teens.

★ ★ ★

The daughter of the late millionaire comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns died Monday of an overdose of barbiturates, her third in six months. She never regained consciousness after being found Saturday lying in a Hollywood alley.

★ ★ ★

"I wish I had never seen heroin or any other narcotic," she said the first time she was arrested for a narcotics offense, at 19. "For anyone who's thinking of trying it, just tell them it's not worth it."

Once an aspiring singer and actress, she had been in and out of trouble with the law because of her drug addiction since her father died in 1956.

TURNED TO DOPE

After the first arrest she told newsmen she became estranged from her mother, Harriett, over division of her father's estate. She became lonely, she said, and turned to dope.

★ ★ ★

Her supplier, she added, was a man who gave her free heroin for a month, then began charging her $15 to $30 a day. She said most of a $500 monthly allowance from her father's estate went for narcotics.

In a pocket of the pedal pushers she wore deputies found a note to her mother and a brother Stephen, 21.

★ ★ ★

"I love you. I'm sorry," she wrote. "All I ever wanted was your love and you hate me and always will. Mr. Weiss, all money is to go to you and Busby. Thanks for trying to help."

Harry E. Weiss was her attorney, Daniel N. Busby his associate.

★ ★ ★

At 20 Barbara was married to a former film technician, David J. Mack, 27, who soon was convicted of selling her heroin and sentenced to prison.

Campaign to Prevent Corruption of Officials Gets Boost From JFK

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The Kennedy administration has assigned top priority to a drive to block racketeers from corrupting public officials. The Justice Department at the same time is continuing its concentration on labor-management racketeering.

These were two highlights of a year-end report to President Kennedy by his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, on federal efforts to fight organized crime.

The report, made public at the winter White House here, said 14 indictments had been returned in 1961 against individuals charged with violations of laws against racketeering in labor-management fields.

INVESTIGATIONS

"There are comprehensive investigations being conducted in a number of other related cases," the attorney general said.

He told the President "We are making progress" in a mounting battle against lawbreakers covered by federal jurisdiction but he said "a good deal remains to be done."

"This is going to be a long-range struggle which must be continued over the next several years, and while we are now able to note positive results, it is still too early to predict ultimate success," he asserted.

The Justice Department chief said "it will be at least another year and perhaps two before we will be able to tell whether our work will have lasting effect."

"We are making a major drive on efforts of racketeers to corrupt public officials," Kennedy reported.

City Manager L. R. Gare will recommend to the city commission tonight that the firm of Vilican-Leman & Associates, Southfield, be hired as consultants to carry out the work outlined in the federal planning study 701 program.

The city's share of the program, recently approved by the State Department of Administration, will be $8,465.

A substantial portion of this sum, $3,943, will be returned to the city upon completion of planning-related services by city personnel.

Next step in the program's initiation will be the approval of the state, city and planner contract for the program. When this agreement is signed by all parties concerned, then the project will get under way.

The commission also will consider Gare's recommendation that the city charter be amended to provide for an alternate method of making ordinances public. Presently all ordinances must be published in a newspaper within the city.

★ ★ ★

If the commission accepts Gare's recommendation, ordinances may be posted in a public place as well, his method may save the city money when the city ordinance codification is completed, the manager said.

NYC Adjusting to Bus Strike

Few Tie-Ups Reported as 1.3 Million Riders Use Subway, Cars

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike against the two largest bus lines in the city forced 1.3 million regular riders to seek other means of transportation today. Police reported few tie-ups and little confusion.

★ ★ ★

Subway traffic was heavier than usual. Automobile traffic from Queens and Brooklyn to Manhattan also was heavier, as bus riders switched to their own cars or car pools. Lines of cars outside midtown parking places were longer than usual.

An early morning snowfall in Queens and Brooklyn hampered automobile traffic somewhat.

Drivers for the Yonkers, N.Y., Bus Corp. reported they carried more passengers than usual from the suburban Westchester County area to city subway lines.

No negotiations were scheduled for today in the dispute that halted service on the struck private bus lines at the start of the new year.

Passengers affected by the strike found alternate transportation for the most part on subways and city-owned bus lines and five private bus lines that were not struck. Taxicabs also did a heavy business.

Says Cuba Invasion Scared Off Castro

GUATEMALA (AP) — President Miguel Ydigoras says last April's invasion of Cuba by forces trained in Guatemala so frightened Fidel Castro "that his warlike activities outside Cuba ceased since that date."

★ ★ ★

The Guatemalan president, disclosing officially in a new year's message Saturday night for the first time that anti-Castro Cubans were trained in Guatemala, also declared:

"President Kennedy still has the responsibility of a sequel. . . ."

He did not explain this statement clearly, but went on to say, "The day of pigs (scene of the April invasion) was a victory, not a defeat, and he who begins under such auspices must go on with the great task of decommunizing that part of the American territory. There are sacred commitments in South America."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the meeting later this month of Western hemisphere foreign ministers at Punta del Este, Uruguay, to consider the Cuban question, Ydigoras said: "These protocols could transform the problem, giving it a solution such as that of Korea . . . where troops of many nations fought bravely."

ENCOURAGED EXILES

Referring to the April invasion, he said Guatemala "encouraged thousands of exiled Cubans to fight to regain their own homeland instead of lamenting their ill fortune."

★ ★ ★

He said Guatemala reached an understanding with the exiled Cubans and "they entered into arrangements with a friendly government able to give arms and sustain training and a military campaign."

A secret training base was set up in Guatemala and another operated openly, he added.

Ydigoras said the failure of the invaders to stage a successful revolution was a debacle only from the point of view of "pro-communists embedded in the press and some public offices in the United States."

★ ★ ★

North Americans, he said, "became hysterical, as happens to them when they suffer a setback" and "their noisy press and gringo pro-Communists" created such a stir that some were led to name Guatemala as the source of the invasion."

★ ★ ★

Ydigoras also said Guatemala has plans to recover British Honduras from Britain, but is not relying on force, as in the case of Goa or Katanga, but on "reason and justice" and the good will of the residents of British Honduras.

Suddenly it Doesn't Seem So Bad in the Basement

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's capitol newsmen weren't too happy last spring when the demands of a growing state government moved them from their offices next to the legislative chambers into the sub-basement.

They feel better now. Civil defense officials have labeled the sub-basement press rooms the safest spot in the capitol to escape nuclear bomb fallout.

'61 Traffic Toll Drops in State

Officials Report Dip of 4 Per Cent or 62 Lives Saved on Roads

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan ended 1961 with a traffic death toll of 1,534, the first reduction in the past three years, State Police reported today.

★ ★ ★

The 1961 highway kill was a 4 per cent reduction and a saving of 62 lives from the 1,596 fatalities in 1960, provisional figures compiled by State Police showed.

Contributing to the decrease was the low December toll of 119 deaths, 34 fewer than the 153 in the same month the previous year. It was the lowest December count since 120 were killed in 1945.

December was the seventh month in the year and the fourth in a row to show a reduction from corresponding months in 1960.

SHOWED DECLINE

Other months with decreases were January, June, July, September, October and November.

August, with 185 deaths, had the highest monthly toll of the year. February was the lowest with 98 deaths.

Reports of delayed deaths are expected to bring a slight increase in the totals for December and the year.

★ ★ ★

Police said the 1961 death slash was achieved although there were increases of 1 per cent in the number of drivers and registered motor vehicles over 1960. Travel in Michigan was estimated at 31.7 billion miles during the year, down three tenths of 1 per cent from 1960.

Reds Admit '61 Was a Bad Year

Asian Communists Put Blame for Failures on 'Natural Calamities'

TOKYO (AP) — All three Communist countries behind Asia's bamboo curtain have admitted in New Year's statements that 1961 was a bad year because of "natural calamities" or other difficulties.

★ ★ ★

The leaders and official organs of Communist China, North Korea and North Viet Nam in New Year's greetings to their people all placed emphasis on domestic problems rather than on international issues. Drought and flood contributed to the domestic difficulties.

The Peiping People's Daily said, "The most important achievement scored by the Chinese people in 1961 was the conquest of the serious natural calamities occurring for the third successive year and a better grain harvest than in 1960, with only the output of cotton and some other industrial crops less."

Despite the conquest reported, Red China has been forced to go into the international market to buy grain to feed its peoples.

TASK FOR '62

The most important task for 1962, the paper said, was to surpass the 1961 agricultural production.

The Daily said industrial and handicraft products had been affected by poor harvests of agricultural raw materials such as cotton but declared "major targets for the second five-year plan were fulfilled two years ahead of schedule."

North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung claimed his people produced 4,830,000 tons of grain, an increase of one million tons over 1960, "despite severe natural calamities." Heavy industrial production climbed 16 per cent, he claimed.

★ ★ ★

President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam said the people "scored splendid achievements" in the first year of the first five-year plan despite "the present difficulties."

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams donned the robes of state Supreme Court justice today to step into a role he was told would be "absorbing, challenging and satisfying."

★ ★ ★

Adams was sworn in by Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, who welcomed the new member of the high bench with the job description.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court chambers were crowded with state officials, members of Adams' family and friends.

Gov. Swainson told the justices Adams would "add strength and dignity" to their body.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan praised his departing superior as one who had been an exceptional lawyer and who brought impeccable integrity to the attorney general's office.

Adams replaced Justice George Edwards, who resigned to become Detroit police commissioner.

Waterford Board to Hold Hearing on Paving Issue

The main item scheduled on tonight's scant Waterford Township agenda, according to Clerk James Seeterlin, will be a hearing for blacktopping some 3,000 feet of Preston Street.

★ ★ ★

The estimated cost of $27,250 for the project will cost each of the 53 lot owners $7.42 a front foot. The special assessment district was established by Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson.

The board will probably appoint two new zoning board members to fill four-year expired terms.

Dredge Beats Storm Into Halifax Harbor

HALIFAX (AP) — The trouble-plagued dredge Cartagena reached Halifax harbor barely in time to escape getting caught in a blizzard.

The $4-million dredge, owned by the Standard Dredging Co. of New York, tied up alongside a salvage pier. The Canadian Tug Foundation Vigilant brought her in to port in a snowstorm. It took the tug 2½ days to tow her cantankerous charge 200 miles in heavy seas.

The Cartagena's troubles began Christmas Day when she broke away from the Vigilant while being towed from Quebec City to Baltimore. The two vessels were then about 200 miles south of Halifax.

Reds Boast Wall Can Restrain God

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communists boasted today that their wall through Berlin is "so high and strong that neither God nor the devil" can help in getting across. But West Berlin newspapers reported at least two refugees escaped over the weekend.

The Communist statement was directed at Bishop Otto Dibelius, head of the German Evangelical Church. Bishop Dibelius in a New Year's message quoted a line from the 18th Psalm about leaping over a wall with the help of God.

Peace Is Called Secondary by Red Chinese

TOKYO (AP)—Red China has entered 1962 with a declaration that world peace is secondary to the success of movements to overthrow colonialism and imperialism.

It said it will support wars and revolutions which aim at freeing the "oppressed" nation of the world.

The statement in "Red Flag," the Communist theoretical journal, attacked President Kennedy for saying in a speech to the United Nations that colonialism is no longer a pressing problem in Asia, Africa and South America. "Red Flag" said more than half the world's population is "still under slavery and oppression by the new and old colonialists headed by the U.S. imperialists."

'61 Third Safest Airline Year

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — The U.S. scheduled airlines' 1961 safety record, third best in history, added up today to this statistic:

Based on that record, if on New Year's Day you'd started flying eight hours daily, it would be the year 2144 before you could expect to be involved in a fatal crash.

At midnight Sunday, the airlines wound up the third safest year on record in terms of fatalities per 100 million passenger miles flown. The rate was 0.30, surpassed only by 1954's record of 0.07 and 1957's 0.20.

That compares with the average automobile fatality rate of more than two deaths per 100 million passenger miles over the last 10 years.

A total of 122 passengers died in three crashes of scheduled airliners during 1961.

The National Safety Council lists these other fatality totals for 1960, the fastest year for which complete figures were available: 18,900 persons died in falls; 6,500 drowned; 2,900 were accidentally killed by firearms; 40 died playing football; 5,100 were killed in vehicle accidents on the farm; 3,300 were killed on nonvehicle farm accidents; 170 drowned in their own bathtubs 38,000 died in automobile accidents; and 460 were killed on bicycles.

The airlines readily admit that 122 deaths in airliner crashes were too many. But back in 1947 there were 219 passenger fatalities when there were only 14 million passengers. In 1961, the airlines flew 37.6 million passengers.

The three crashes last year tied a record for the fewest fatal accidents in a single year. Only three times before had there been as few as three — 1939, 1940 and 1943, all years when mileage and passenger totals were only a fraction of 1961's.

★ ★ ★

Want one more statistic on why the airlines are proud of 1961?

Again, based on last year's fatality rate, you could fly back and forth between New York and Los Angeles for the next 83 years — a distance of more than 326 million miles — before your number came up!

Korean Rulers Eye Population

Will Attack Problem of Birth Control and Offer Information

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Birth control is one of the major tasks to be tackled by South Korea's military rulers this year.

The population, now 25 million, has been increasing at an annual rate of 2.8 per cent.

Major steps planned this year include:

1. Establishment of 200 free counsel offices to provide information and advice. This would average more than one such office in every city and country.

2. Stepped-up production and import of contraceptives for wider distribution with free contraceptives for those who can not afford them.

3. Establishment of a family planning review board within the ministry of health and social affairs, charged with supervising and appraising the program.

4. An active education campaign to make the people familiar with modern contraceptive measures.

★ ★ ★

Although the military rulers publicly announced support for a birth control program shortly after they took power in last May's military coup, the government has not been directly responsible for any birth control program so far.

Diplomats Fear Failure to Solve Berlin Conflict

'62 May Mark Turning Point for East-West

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Notes from the Foreign News Cables:

Looking ahead in 1962:

London diplomats believed 1962 could mark a turning point in East-West relations. United States soundings on Soviet intentions in Berlin probably will start this week.

Russia's response may determine whether a settlement is possible, which in turn could trigger broader negotiations on cold war issues.

The key is with Khrushchev. Diplomats believe failure to settle the Berlin conflict in 1962 almost certainly would increase East-West tensions, and make other agreements impossible, including a nuclear test ban.

FRANCE:

A great deal depends on whether President Charles de Gaulle is able to win a quick settlement of the war in Algeria.

Economically, France has made a dramatic recovery since January 1959. The question is whether that recovery can be made permanent.

When then-Finance Minister Antoine Pinay launched the Gaullist austerity drive, France was close to bankruptcy with only $250 million reserves.

Now its gold and dollar reserves are nearing $3 billion. But it has been achieved at the cost of "stop-inflation" wage freezes which have two million state employes, 300 thousand farmers and others already at grips with the government and in a nationwide strike mood.

Bearing down heavily also on the economy are the Algeria burden and De Gaulle's drive for nuclear armament.

★ ★ ★

Victory in Algeria also would open the way for new elections to produce a more "representative" parliament, reducing the strength of charges against "one-man-rule."

THE VATICAN:

Pope John has called the ecumenical council for 1962, but an unexpected hitch is developing so far as participation by non-Catholic Christian observers is concerned.

★ ★ ★

The Pope wants all the discussions in Latin with no simultaneous translation into modern languages. Many of the non-Catholic observers will not have Latin, nor will some of the journalists entrusted with reporting the council.

THE PHILIPPINES:

New Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal is expected to ask congressional approval of emergency social and economic legislation similar to the "new deal" of the late U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he takes office this year.

The major point of this would be large-scale public works projects.

NATIONALIST CHINA:

The ruling Kuomintang party is planning to remove a major headache by placing Taipei under direct jurisdiction of the cabinet which in turn would name the mayor.

The Kuomintang leadership feels it should keep the mayor's post within the party as proof of its popularity.

An opposition candidate won in 1954 and in the last election the party candidate, Huang chi, Barely scraped through.

Plot in Lebanon Puts 400 in Jail

Uprising by Right-Wing Group Flops but Two Captains Still at Large

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — About 400 persons were reported under arrest today following the unsuccessful uprising by a right-wing extremist group seeking to push Lebanon into an anti-Nasser bloc with other Arab nations.

★ ★ ★

Large stores of arms were also seized Monday in raids on villages where the Popular Social Party (PPS) maintaining strongholds.

The party wants Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Palestine and Cyprus joined under one Arab President Nasser's Pan-Arab movement led from Cairo.

Premier Rashid Karami's cabinet dissolved the PPS and announced restrictions on political parties, the press and foreigners. This followed reports that many of the plotters were from Syria, Jordan and Palestine.

★ ★ ★

Two captains who spearheaded the uprising Sunday were still at large. Capt. Fuad Awar, 30, and Shawki Kairala, 35, led an armed band of PPS members and 40 soldiers in a futile assault on the defense ministry.

To trick the troops into the action, they were told they were on an official mission.

At least five persons were killed in sharp fighting before the plotters fled. The Syrian border was closed to block the two captains' escape.

N. B. Woolworth Winter Home Is Burglarized

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Burglars have looted the sumptuous winter home of Norman B. Woolworth of the variety store family.

The New Year's Eve burglary was discovered Monday by caretakers who live nearby. Police say they are having trouble determining just what was taken.

★ ★ ★

Woolworth, nephew of the founder of the F. W. Woolworth Stores, said there were no jewels in the two-story home on Indian Creek Drive.

Reached at his New York apartment, he told the Miami Herald: "I understand they took furs, china and silver and several paintings. And my clothes. They were crazy to take my clothes. They got stuck."

Ex-Rebel Leader to Be Deported

American Who Headed Red Philippine Revolt Released From Prison

MANILA (AP)—William Pomeroy, an American pardoned after serving nine years in prison as a convicted leader of the Communist Huk rebels, was held on an island in the Manila port area today, awaiting deportation as an undesirable alien.

★ ★ ★

Pomeroy, from Rochester, N.Y., was released from prison Saturday night with his Filipino wife, Celia. Both had been sentenced to life imprisonment for rebellion, compounded by murder and other crimes.

RECEIVES PARDON

Pomeroy was pardoned by outgoing President Carlos P. Garcia with deportation to the United States at no expense to the Philippines as the condition of his freedom.

★ ★ ★

Since his wife is a Philippine citizen, she cannot be deported. It was not known whether she would be permitted to join her husband in the United States or elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

Emilio Galang, immigration commissioner, said Pomeroy has 30 days to leave the Philippines.

Rival Appointees Both Take Office in Filipino Bank

MANILA (AP)—Two rival bosses of the Philippines' Central Bank showed up for work today along with armed constabulary troops.

Each attempted to ignore the other and begin directing affairs of the bank. Each indicated they will stay put until a court decision dislodges one of them.

A colonel in charge of the troops was quoted as saying he had orders "to throw out Aytona," but the defense department later said the only purpose of the soldiers' presence was to prevent disorder. The troops, who turned up with a tank, were withdrawn.

Just An Old Wives' Tale

Radiation Sickness Needn't Be a Kliler

By RALPH HUMMEL

Radiation sickness can be cured, contrary to misconceptions circulating among the public.

This was the statement reported today in an American Medical Association publication.

The basic rule for both layman and physicians in treating radiation sickness is to treat the symptoms, an article stated.

If the amount of radiation is not too great, the article said, a person can recover from radiation just as he would recover from any sickness with proper care and treatment.

The article was adopted from the Medical Self-Help Training Program developed by the U.S. Public Health Service with the assistance and advice of the AMA Council on National Security.

If the victim complains of nausea or has a fever, these symptoms should be treated exactly as they would be under other circumstances, it said.

It noted that the best protection against burns from fallout was simply to wash exposed skin surfaces thoroughly.

ON EXPOSED SKIN

"The only time you may be 'burned' is when fallout remains on exposed skin surface," the article stated.

The article also attacked what it called "half-truths" regarding the physical changes that can be produced by radiation.

There is only "a very small degree of truth" in statements that radiation will result in loss of hair or sterility, it said.

Sterility depends on the amount of radiation received, according to the article. It continued:

"Those working in areas where radiation is present may become temporarily sterile if they fail to protect themselves. However, they will regain their ability to reproduce. This may take weeks or months."

If protective measures are taken, chances are very small that a person may become permanently sterile if exposed to a large dose of radiation it said.

LOSS OF HAIR

As far as loss of hair is concerned, according to the article, "your hair will grow back just as good as it is today" even if it should fall out after "a radiation exposure of approximately 300 roentgens over a short period of time."

* * *

After such exposure, it said "there is a chance that over two or three weeks you may lose your hair."

Youth Saves 2 Boys Who Fell Through Ice

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP)—Stephen Lyon, 13, melted out on the ice of Mortagnat Rivery toward a hole 10 feet from shore where brothers David and Mark Barry struggled in the water.

The three boys had been coasting on the ninth fairway at the Braintree Municipal Golf Club. Mark's sled crashed into the ice at the bottom of the hill and dropped into the hole. As the younger brother clung to the edge of the ice, David went to his aid and slipped in, too.

Carefully Stephen extended a hand, seized Mark, 8, and lifted him to safety. A moment later he hauled David, 11, to safety.

Waterford Girl Is Injured in Car Accident

A 16-year-old Waterford Township girl suffered chest injuries when a car crashed into a ditch in Highland Township last night.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Lawrence Schoeneman Jr., 18, of 2674 Marie Circle, Bloomfield Township, when he failed to turn at the end of Harvey Lake Road and careened into the ditch ahead.

Schoeneman was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

Detroiter Kills Himself at House in Walled Lake

A 43-year-old Detroit man shot himself to death at 4:30 p.m. yesterday in the summer house owned by his brother-in-law, Alfred Cashagne, at 325 Arvida St., Walled Lake.

* * *

Shot in the head with a .22 caliber rifle was James J. Oblert. His brother-in-law had just warned him that firing a gun in the city limits was against the law and turned around when Oblert turned the gun at himself and fired, according to Walled Lake Police Chief James A. Decker.

Indications Are It Could Be Year of Oddities

2-Day-Old 1962 Is Kicking Up Its Heels

By ANDREW MEISELS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A 2-day-old babe called 1962 already has begun to display some oddities all its own. Here are some of them:

Phoebe, who is Mrs. Peter H. gave birth on New Year's Day while under water.

* * *

Phoebe is a hippopotamus, and the underwater delivery is peculiar to the species. Her bouncing baby hippo bobbed to the surface of the Bronx Zoo's elephant pool. Since mama hippos are extreme ly protective, nobody could get close enough to the newcomer to establish its sex.

The weight of the Bronx Zoo's first 1962 arrival was estimated at between 50 and 60 pounds.

FIRST BORN

The first baby of 1962 born in Oscen County, Mich., is appropriately named. The baby has not yet been given a first name, but his last name is First. He is the son of Armson H. and Mrs. Larry First.

BABY?

Mrs. Dorlin Kall gave birth to the first baby of 1962 in Peekskill, N.Y., hospital.

It was not an unusual disturbance for Mrs. Kall.

She gave birth to Peekskill Hospital's first baby of 1959.

NO TAKERS

The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press had no takers for an offer it made in a front page editorial prior to the New Year's holiday.

The newspaper offered to pay the funeral expenses of any Vermonter who registered of punch and cookies and shook with the Free Press in advance hands with the governor.

Then the demonstrators went and then got himself killed over outside and continued their camthe holiday. None chose to tempt paign for equal rating rights by fate by registering.

picketing the governor's mansion.

Now We Have Noise All Our Lives Long

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It looks as though science has now fixed things so that nobody — not even a newborn babe — is going to ever have to listen to the "sound of silence."

There's a new gadget on the market that you can tuck into a baby's crib that emits a continuous tone set at 320-350 cycles that is supposed to put babies to sleep as quickly as though they were being rocked in their mothers' arms.

I'm not sure why it works (maybe the babies go to sleep to get away from the dial tone) but it ought to be a good introduction for any baby entering today's world.

Silence is what nobody seems to be able to stand any more. Once the infant outgrows his wired-for-sound sandman he can move right in front of the TV set and start listening to TV advertising jingles.

TV will keep him from ever having to endure silence and when, in his teens, he outgrows TV temporarily he can substitute record players and radio.

The radio is even handier than TV for creating noise because radios can be carried anywhere — for the noise teen-agers call music can be counted on to drown out all other sounds — even the singing of birds, the chirping of crickets, the wind in the trees, the gentle tapping of rain on the roof, the pop and crackle of an open fire.

Then when the teen-ager is grown and married and settled down he can go back to the TV set for companionship — the companionship of continual noise.

So that his own child won't ever have to experience silence he can start him off with that little crib gadget that makes a continuous noise —and start the whole cycle of clamor all over again.

Isn't it wonderful! We can now have noise from the cradle to the grave.

Forestry Official to Address Group

Frank Vaydik, superintendent of forestry, Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, will speak to Birmingham Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Community House.

Mr. Vaydik's topic "Beautifying Recreation and Urban Areas" is expected to be of adjoining the former sewage whose members currently are working to preserve grounds special interest to the group disposal plant as a natural areas with wild flowers and trails.

So Who Cares About Pockets?

(UPI) — Harvey Berin, New York manufacturer, lowered the placement of pockets in spring dresses so that there is no fabric bulge when the wearer sits.

As the fashion show commentator pointed out this advantage, a buyer in the audience whispered to her neighbor — "I wonder why they put pockets in 'em at all. Most women already have enough around the hips."

Take Time to LIVE

You Hurried or Worried?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

At this time each year I bring you some OLD thoughts for the NEW year. Here are some of them.

"Unhappiness lies in not knowing what you want and killing yourself to get it." I do not know to whom to give credit for this quotation, but I think it packs a lot of wisdom.

We rush, we dash, we worry, we run, we overwork, we undersleep. We work under pressure and play under pressure.

We are caught up, willynilly, in myriad obligations, activities and responsibilities. This person expects that of us and that person expects this of us.

Days whizz by, seasons pass, years pile up. We have no time to savor life, to roll it under our tongue, to smell it, really to feel it. We have no time for contemplation and dreaming. Enthusiasm lies dead under the impact of fatigue. The tempo increases.

WHAT'S THE GOAL?

What are we struggling for? Is it worth while and do we know what it is — truly? Often folks become bogged down in this madness and never have time or opportunity to find out what they want from life.

It's like being on a merry-go-round and waving hurriedly at life every time you come around again to complete the circle. Are you unhappy because you are killing yourself trying to get things you do not really want anyway?

Another old thought for the new year:

"We act as though comfort and luxury were the chief requirements of life, when all we need to make us really happy is something to be enthusiastic about."

Enthusiasm is the great charmer. It makes the eyes sparkle and sharpens perception. It makes fatigue, whips up circulation, boredom impossible. It is rejuven-churns up the glands and the heart ating. It banishes headaches and and the mind. It makes life shine!

This girl's enthusiasm for life gives her charm. Enthusiasm makes the eyes sparkle and life shine!

Defense Contracts One Issue

Mart Pushes Upward in 1962

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were higher in moderately active dealings early today as the stock market began its 1962 career.

Some motors, aerospace issues and coppers did well but there were scattered losses throughout the list.

* * *

The tendency among steels was only slightly to the upside on balance although steelmakers were reported in agreement that steel shipments this month will rise substantially. Rails also showed a bit of a plus. Predictions were for a large increase in rail shipments.

An assortment of defense contracts helped the aircraft-missile companies. Douglas Aircraft was up about a point and General Dynamics well over that.

Chrysler and Ford advanced a point or so while General Motors held about unchanged. Affected by strike news, Studebaker-Packard fell ⅜ to 10 on an opening block of 9,800 shares.

Anaconda and Kennecott rose about a point each. Continued good demand for the red metal was predicted for the coming months.

Laboratory For Electronics, traded under the ticker symbol "LFE," was the first stock traded in 1962. Admitted to the big board this morning, this maker of radar equipment and traffic controls, sold at 40¼, up from its Friday bid price of 39⅞ in the over the counter market.

Moderate gains were made by General Electric, Boeing, Bethlehem, American Smelting, Lorillard and New York Central.

American Telephone backed away from an early gain and showed a slight net loss. Sears Roebuck fell off a point.

Prices advanced on the American stock exchange.

Bonds Open '62 Firmly

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond markets opened 1962 trading today on the firm note that ended 1961.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted some long bonds up 1/32 or 2/32. Intermediates were unchanged in quiet trading.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange rails and industrials showed plus edges at the start. Utilities held irregular.

American Can 3¾s gained 1 at 90½ at one time and Consolidated Edison 3¾s of 1984 advanced 1 at 84¼.

Fractional gainers included: Shell Oil 4¾s at 102⅞, TWA 6¼s at 61¾, Western Maryland Railroad 4s at 95¾ and Virginia Railway income 6s at 113½.

Off fractions were: AT&T 2¾s at 75¾, General Motors Acceptance 5s of 1980 at 103¾ and Pennsylvania Railroad 4¼s at 98.

Younger, Friendly Russian to Replace Menshikov in U.S.

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS
AP Foreign Staff Writer

The Soviet Union is sending a younger smiling Russian to replace an older smiling Russian as its ambassador to Washington.

Mikhail Alekseevich Menshikov, who sails for home Thursday after almost four years on the job, is known throughout the United States as Smiling Mike.

★ ★ ★

Anatoly Fedorovich Dobrynin, who will arrive in about a month to succeed him, may well become known as Affable Anatoly.

By contrast, Andrei Andreyevich Gromyko got the nickname of Grim Grom while Washington ambassador, 1943-46 and U.N. Security Council representative, 1946-52. Now he is foreign minister and smiles occasionally.

Dobrynin won his reputation for affability in almost three years at the United Nations, from 1957 to 1960, as the top-ranking Soviet citizen in the U.N. Secretariat. He was an undersecretary, just below the then secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjold.

He is a big, hearty, energetic, outgoing man well over six feet tall, with a booming voice, a bone-crushing handshake and a quick sense of humor.

He is a partly bald, graying blond with a high, round forehead, silver-rimmed glasses and ice blue eyes. He speaks good French and good English, and his accent has been described as American.

Dobrynin is widely known as one of the friendliest Russians ever to hit U.N. headquarters. A few of his acquaintances lay this friendliness to his diplomatic training. But most of them credit it to natural warmth of personality.

All agree that he was an extremely capable U.N. official. They also agree that he should make his government an excellent Washington ambassador — for reasons like these:

REASONS GIVEN

1. Since leaving the Secretariat, he has been chief of the department of American countries in the Soviet foreign ministry, having to do with the United States, Canada and Latin America. So he knows U.S.-Soviet relations inside out.

2. He is not publicly identified with any particular Soviet line. So he can easily become the channel for any change of policy directed by the Kremlin.

3. He faithfully reflects the Soviet view but tries to understand other views. So his reports to Moscow on U.S. policy and public opinion are apt to be closer to reality than those of someone blinded by Communist dogma.

4. He is a good administrator. He easily grasps the inner workings of such small, specialized societies as the U.N. Secretariat and the Washington diplomatic corps. He mixes well with all kinds of people.

★ ★ ★

American diplomats in Moscow also consider him a good choice for the Washington post. They expect he will do what he can, within the limits of Soviet policy, to improve relations with the United States.

They say that while Menshikov seems to like delivering nasty verbal notes to American diplomats, Dobrynin "manages to convey the idea that he is not personally enjoying it."

★ ★ ★

Dobrynin's full name is pronounced "ah-na-toe-lee" (third syllable accented) "Fyo-duh-ruh-vich" (first syllable accented) "Doe-breen-yin" (second syllable accented).

He is only 42 — 17 years younger than Menshikov is now, but eight years older than Gromyko was when he became the youngest-ever Soviet ambassador to Washington in August 1943.

Dobrynin was born two years after the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution and grew up entirely under the Soviet system.

Charge Exec's Wife Strangled Daughter

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Howard, 54-year-old grandmother, was charged today with the strangulation slaying of her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Eldridge, 32.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Howard, wife of a bottling company executive, had been missing since her daughter's almost nude body was found Christmas Day in an upstairs closet at the Howard home.

Police said Mrs. Howard returned home about 11:30 Monday night and a member of her family notified police. She was immediately arrested and questioned for four hours.

★ ★ ★

At the end of that time Police Chief Joseph C. Wright said the woman had given a statement to police but he would not reveal it at this time.

Doctor's Wife Is Flown to Hospital in Petoskey

PETOSKEY (AP) — The wife of Beaver Island's only doctor was flown by Coast Guard helicopter to little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey Monday.

Mrs. Sidney Schochet, 56, was suffering from influenza.

Boat service between Beaver Island and the mainland was cut off by ice Dec. 30.

Scribe's Predictions for New Year

Sees Death of Twist, Democratic Victory in House

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Sue me Dec. 31, 1962, if some or most of these things don't happen:

★ ★ ★

The Twist will die an unnatural death. For the second time in 50 years the party in power will not lose seats in the House of Representatives in an off-year election. The greatest mass exodus in U.S. history, the flight of the Negro from the South, will continue unabated.

Attorneys for the estates of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John will appear and put Hollywood out of business.

There will be several important breakthroughs in TV: The Confederacy will start winning in those Civil War operas, all mobsters will be named Jones or Smith (can't afford to offend anybody else), and the hero will get around to paying his check before he leaps up from his restaurant table and and goes off to settle the case that has stumped the FBI, Scotland Yard and the Swiss Guard.

TO WIN ACCLAIM

Tennessee Williams will win critical acclaim for a play about a winsome two-headed woman streetcar conductor whose sideline is packaging instant leoprosy.

Col. John Glenn, USMC, probably the world's best-trained spaceman, will give earthlings the first clear word picture of what it's really like Out There.

Khrushchev, backing down on Berlin, will arrest attention by claiming the Moon. Either the Kremlin or Peiping will send a keeper for Castro.

★ ★ ★

JFK will attract the stanch support of both former Presidents Eisenhower and Truman—and figure out a way to keep them separated. Somebody will find a way to mix vodka with mud, and clean up with a facial cocktail.

The discovery will be made that one of the reasons why there is so little juvenile delinquency in the Virgin Islands may be because flogging of apprehended young hoodlums is legal there if the parent consents. New York will turn it down.

People will wonder what to do with the shelters they built. There will be several airline mergers, which will give all hands a breathing spell — except the guy in the middle of the three-seat configuration in tourist.

WON'T AGREE

The 32 anti-Castro Cuban exile groups in the Miami area will hold fast to 32 different plans for unseating the bum, all bearing the imprimatur of his 32 proposed successors.

The administration's zeal to up the standard of living in Latin America will advance splendidly —up to the point where the rich families are asked to pay their taxes.

Irish-American business men will hardly be able to finish marching in the St. Patrick's Day parade before sending investment funds to the old country — West Germany.

Las Vegas, now a respected convention town, will come up with the civic slogan: Gambling is Good for You.

Albania will get The Bomb from its loyal ally, Red China—a 100 pound Roman Candle. Toots Shor's will snap an anchor chain and float down 52nd to 5th.

Nobody will write more thoughtful line than Bugs Baer penned last month just before going on the operating table: "What kind of Christmas story do you write when you are not sure how much string is left in your ball of twine?"

TO GET PERMANENT JOB

U Thant will have the hard luck to be named permanently to Dag's old job. Jack Paar will be forced to decline an invitation to lecture at various U.S. schools of journalism.

The world will hail the first word spoken by the President's son, though it be "goo."

Nehru will come to U.N. to explain that the only reason he sent his troops into Goa was to bring Goans that Bigger Life one notes in the slums of Calcutta. Khrishna Menon will suffer a compound fracture of the jaw while practicing his scowl.

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth Taylor's eyelashes will collapse, causing a 10-week delay in "Cleopatra." Every time the Giants and Dodgers play the Mets in the Polo Grounds it will be the "toughest ticket" in town. Their old fans weren't really sore at Stoneham and O'Malley for blowing town. They just got angry because the owner didn't take them along.

★ ★ ★

Remember now, kids, get those suits in early—along with three bottle tops never mind about removing the bottle from the tops.

Criminal Lawyer Giesler Dies After Blazing Career

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's a void today for Hollywood celebrities who in time of trouble uttered a cry so often it became a cliche—"Get me Giesler!"

Famed criminal lawyer Jerry Giesler, 75, died in his sleep Monday of a heart ailment.

In a blazing career of nearly 50 years he had been the courtroom champion of such notables as Charlie Chaplin, Errol Flynn, Robert Mitchum ad Lana Turner. He handled divorces for Zsa Zsa Gabor, Barbara Hutton, Marilyn Monroe, Bette Davis and Shelley Winters.

Giesler had been hospitalized several times since 1959 for the heart ailment. He continued to oversee important cases. With an associate doing courtroom work, he directed strategy on his last big case, the defense of Carole Tregoff in the three u/e-murder trials of Dr. R. Bernard Finch.

CLEARED BERKELEY

He was Marie McDonald's counsel when her story of being kidnaped brought a police inquiry. In another case, Giesler won acquittal for Busby Berkeley, movie director accused of manslaughter after his car killed three persons.

So successful was he in defending celebrities in legal trouble that the phrase "Get me Giesler" became almost a quip.

★ ★ ★

Partly, with sparse hair, he had a thin, high-pitched voice. His success came largely from thorough preparation; he said he tried to do an even better job of preparing the district attorney's case than the prosecutor.

Born in Wilton Junction, Iowa, he came to Los Angeles as a youth, graduated from the University of Southern California Law School and joined the staff of criminal attorney Earl Rogers. At 26 he played a small role in successfully defending his idol, the great criminal attorney. Clarence Darrow, against a charge of trying to bribe a juror.

WON IN APPEAL

Giesler's first big case was that of Alexander Pantages, theater magnate accused of raping a 17-year-old girl. She began testifying in pigtails and schoolgirl clothes. Giesler obtained a ruling that she appear dressed as she was the night of the alleged attack—in slinky, low-cut red gown, make-up and sophisticated coiffure.

Giesler's efforts to show that her past was dubious were blocked. Pantages drew 50 years, but Giesler used the blocked questions on appeal and won.

The case set the precedent that in rape cases the pattern of the girl's conduct is relevant. Giesler used it 13 years later in defending the late Errol Flynn against two charges of statutory rape involving girls under 18. The jury acquitted the actor.

The master counselor handled no more sensational case than the Mann Act trial of pioneer movie comedian Chaplin. The actor was accused of taking 24-year-old Joan Barry across state line for immoral purposes. Giesler sat Chaplin alone at a big table, his face wistful, his feet barely touching the floor. He was humble and meek on the stand. Verdict: acquittal.

Robert Mitchum's arrest in a 1949 narcotics raid, Giesler argued, constituted police entrapment. The actor got two years, later cut to 60 days, instead of the possible maximum of 11 years.

Algerian Rebels Slate Meeting

Premier Leaves Tunis for Rabat to Prepare Crucial Conference

★ ★ ★

Ben Khedda refused to comment, but other high rebel sources said members of his cabinet will follow him for the meeting scheduled next weekend.

The choice of Rabat for the site of the meeting rather than Tunis, the usual base of the rebel regime, underlined a growing split between the Algerian nationalists and their Tunisian hosts.

The split has apparently been sharpened by persistent Tunisian claims to the eastern portion of the Sahara Desert, where rich oil fields are located.

MOVE RUMORED

For some time, it has been rumored in the Tunisian capital that the rebel regime planned to move to Rabat. The Algerians now consider Morocco a closer ally than Tunisia, with which they have had a number of disputes.

Informed sources said Ben Khedda would make an important statement after his arrival in Morocco tonight.

Rebel officials indicated last week that important announcements should be expected "within two weeks" and hinted they might concern the reopening of formal peace negotiations with France.

Urges Housing Some Homeless in Buckingham

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England (AP)—A Presbyterian minister suggested today Queen Elizabeth should invite some of London's homeless to come and live in Buckingham Palace.

★ ★ ★

"There must be a great deal of spare room in the palace," the Rev. William Barbour wrote in his church magazine.

"I know if the queen allowed people in need of accommodation to share her house many other people would follow suit."

★ ★ ★

There are about 3,000 homeless in London. The vast palace has more than 600 rooms, many of them unused.

Barnacles swim when they are young. In time they attach themselves permanently to an object, frequently the bottom of a ship or a whale.
