Pontiac Lawyer, Federal Judge Tangle in Detroit

Physical Violence Looms as Milton Henry Argues Red Suspect's Cause

DETROIT (AP) — Federal Judge Frank A. Picard and a Pontiac lawyer representing a subpoenaed House Un-American activities committee witness traded sharp words yesterday.

At one time it looked like the white-haired, 64-year-old jurist and the lawyer, Milton R. Henry, 35, were close to a physical encounter.

However, it all wound up quietly, though Judge Picard was plainly ruffled. Henry apologized.

The dispute began shortly before the noon recess of the conspiracy trial of six Michigan Communists being heard by Judge Picard and a jury. The six are accused under the Smith Act of plotting to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Henry appeared in court with a petition to quash a subpoena against Bolza Baxter, 28, Detroit, state chairman of the Labor Youth League and former Flint resident.

(Henry told the Press he was not attempting to file a petition but intended to ask a show cause order on the subpoena.)

The Labor League was formed in 1952 upon dissolution of the Young Communist League. It is on the attorney general's subversives list.

Baxter has been subpoenaed to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee at opening of Detroit hearings Feb. 22.

Besides demanding the quashing of the subpoena, Henry's petition asked the barring of "on-lookers, newspapermen and all offshoots of the press" from the projected hearings.

Judge Picard was just about to call for a recess in the trial when Henry interrupted with his petition.

"You're asking me to put a stop on Congress. You'll have to show some law for that," Picard said. As Henry raised his voice, Judge Picard interrupted him with:

"You keep quiet. You can't shout me in this court."

The judge denied the petition, called recess and went to his chambers. Shortly, Henry also appeared there.

At the doorway Judge Picard put out his hand toward Henry, saying "You can't come in. I have some people in here."

"You have no right to lay hands on me. I'll knock you..." Henry shouted.

Judge Picard interrupted to say he had not intended to touch Henry.

Couples Ask New Jersey to Legalize Their Wedlock

FLORHAM PARK, N. J. (UP)—More than two dozen couples looked to the New Jersey Legislature today to straighten out the error of a misguided Presbyterian divinity student who "married" them without church or legal authorization.

The Legislature has been asked to legalize the marriages performed over a six-year period by John Vandergroef, a student pastor who didn't know he lacked the power to join couples in wedlock.

The couples, including many with children, were shocked to learn that their marriages are not recognized by the state of New Jersey and the Presbyterian Church.

Lucy Ball Provides Clue That Snares Studio Thief

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police report that a bit of detective work by Lucille Ball led to the arrest of a man who has admitted he made about $16,000 a year by posing as a writer and burglarizing studio dressing rooms.

Hollywood detectives Claire Riding and Byron Diller said Kenneth Darling, 31, a handsome and well-dressed ex-convict, was arrested yesterday.

He was booked on suspicion of burglary when he was found snooping in a dressing room at the General Service Studios.

The police said Darling freely admitted that he had been operating in film and TV studios for the last four years, roaming around the lots by posing as a writer and always carrying a script under his arm.

The detectives said that only recently the first lead in the case was supplied by Miss Ball. She said she encountered a stranger emerging from the dressing room of her husband, Desi Arnaz.

She gave police such a good description of the man that they located Darling's record in police files and circulated his photograph at all studios.

Yesterday a studio electrician, Bill King, recognized Darling from one of the photographs and called the Hollywood police station.

Hollywood detectives said Darling, who served a term in San Quentin Prison in the 1940s for a $12 burglary, admitted nearly 500 studio thefts during the four-year period and that he sometimes netted as high as $500 a day.

He told officers: "I don't mind going up the river again. I've really been living for the last four years."

Police Warning Ticket Holders

Tow Crews Impounding Delinquent Violators' Automobiles

Pontiac Police issued a warning today that 400 motorists are subject to having their cars impounded "if delinquent traffic tickets are not taken care of immediately."

Chief Herbert W. Straley said 28 autos already have been towed away by police in the last three days.

"When a car is impounded," Straley explained, "the owner will have to pay impounding and towing fees, in addition to the fines."

A special crew of 15 policemen, armed with a list of delinquent ticket holders, is moving through the city making a check of the autos. Straley said that extra vehicles are at the police department's disposal to tow the autos to the police pound.

Police are making use of a city ordinance which allows the impounding of cars whose owners are delinquent in paying traffic fines, Straley added.

Police said that tickets can be paid at the violation bureau, 40 E. Pike St., from 8 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and till 4:30 p. m. on Saturdays. The bureau is closed on Sunday.

Critic of Union Leader Escapes Death in Blast

Ex - Policeman Blames Teamster Enemies for Attack at His Home

DETROIT (AP)—An outspoken critic of AFL Teamsters boss James Hoffa reported to police today a would-be assassin fired a shotgun at him in suburban Northville early today.

The charge tore through a French door window and Herbert Koester, 49-year-old truck driver, said it missed him by only 18 inches. It was fired in pre-dawn darkness at Koester's home.

A mysterious telephone call, Koester said, had led him across the line of fire.

State Police said Koester told them the only reason he could assign for the attempted assassination was his difficulties with Teamsters Local 299, of which Hoffa is president. Hoffa also is president of the Michigan Teamsters council and of the Central States Conference of Teamsters.

Koester is a retired Detroit policeman. He became an automobile haulaway driver for Commercial Carriers, Inc. in 1950, a year after his retirement he said he joined Teamsters Local 299 at the time.

Bert Brennan, Hoffa's assistant, reported the union chief was in a hospital because of illness.

"We never heard of him (Koester)," Brennan said. "I did find him on 299's membership roll. But I was so sure he wasn't one of ours that I called Pontiac, thinking maybe he was one of theirs, before I checked the 299 roll."

Koester told police he became scared last Thursday when four men in a black Cadillac followed him 25 miles to his home. Koester said the Cadillac passed without incident, but that he hadn't been to work since. He added he wasn't going for a few more days, either.

On Monday, police said Koester told them, he received an anonymous telephone warning: "Don't go to work tomorrow."

Koester was alone when the blast tore through the door window in the kitchen of his home.

Whoever fired stood 21 feet away. Police said footprints found in the snow were small and vanished in an ice-coated driveway.

The mysterious telephone caller apologized for getting the wrong number. Koester said he dropped to the floor upon hearing the blast which came a second after he passed the door.

Koester told police he openly had criticized Hoffa for his handling of the teamsters' welfare and insurance fund, the subject of a week-long congressional hearing in Detroit last November.

Police quoted Koester as saying: "I told several of the boys that I didn't think the whole story came out in that hearing. I don't think the investigation should have been stopped."

"I wrote Hoffa a letter complaining about how I didn't think the union members were getting a fair share of the welfare money. I didn't sign my name, though, but I guess they knew who the letter came from."

Koester said the first reaction came shortly before Christmas, when "a couple of Hoffa's boys told me one day I'd better keep my mouth shut."

State Trooper Michael Fitzgibbons said it was clear the assailant was on a specific mission and the shot wasn't just stray gunfire.

Also present at the meeting will be James' mother, Mrs. James L. Brown, Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, and officers of the association, Hugh T. Stinson, president, and James Carr, treasurer.

Deny Mahoney New Trial Bid

Now Serving Sentence for '45 Holdup of Local Gambling Club

Motion for a new trial for Pete Mahoney, jailed in 1945 for the holdup of Pontiac's Aristocrat Club, a gambling spot, was denied by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick today.

Mahoney, 51, was sentenced to 25 to 50 years on Dec. 12, 1945, for the holdup which was disclosed during an investigation of the Senator Warren G. Hooper murder.

Also convicted at the time were Harry Fleisher, Myron (Mike) Selik, William (Candy) Davidson and Sammy Chivas, all of Detroit. Chivas was paroled last October.

Judge Hartwick said in a written opinion that Mahoney's release would have to come "from favorable action of the parole board."

The opinion further stated that any action in granting a new trial "would be an arbitrary usurpation of the power placed in the parole board by law."

In 1946 the Circuit Court made an order reducing the minimum term imposed on Mahoney from 25 years to 15 years. The attorney general's office challenged the action and the original sentence was later upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Mahoney, Fleisher and Selik were among those convicted of conspiracy to murder Sen. Hooper a few months before the robbery trial here, though Mahoney was later absolved of the charge.

Japan Protests American Silence on Red Diplomat

TOKYO (INS) — A storm of Japanese protests broke over the heads of U. S. authorities today because of their refusal to confirm or deny officially that a missing Soviet diplomat is in American hands, detailing operations of a Russian spy ring.

Replying to a Japanese note, the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo declared it had "no information" in the case of Yuri A. Rastvorov, second secretary of the discredited Soviet diplomatic mission in Japan.

The embassy said it would notify the Japanese government "as soon as it had information." Japan's foreign office announced.

Rastvorov disappeared Jan. 24, the day before he was to have left by plane for Moscow, presumably because he had bungled some recent espionage assignments in Japan.

The Russian mission charged the young diplomatic aide had been "seized and detained by the U. S. espionage organization in the Far East."

Officially, American diplomatic and military authorities made no denial or other comment on the Soviet allegation. But a high source revealed that Rastvorov, apparently fearing he would be "liquidated," fled for asylum to the protective arms of a special U. S. intelligence unit.

The official American silence aroused vigorous protests in the Japanese Diet (parliament) and the press.

Vice Foreign Minister Akira Kotaki told the Diet's Foreign Affairs Committee today that if the U. S. "kidnaped" Rastvorov, as the Russians charged, then America is guilty of violating the U. S.-Japan security pact.

Kotaki added, however, that if the flashily-dressed Soviet junior diplomat voluntarily asked for asylum with the Americans there was no problem of a treaty violation.

Unusual Case Reported by Three Doctors

Clarkston Man, 'Dead' in Heart Attack, Revived by Fast Massage, Electrodes

BURLINGTON, N. J. (AP)—A Clarkston, Mich. man, apparently "dead" of a common heart attack, was restored to life by quick massage and electric shock of his heart, physicians disclosed here today.

The man was identified as Leo J. Roy, 55, of 5877 Clarkston-Orion Rd., a driver for Fleet Carrier Corp. in Pontiac. The emergency operation and treatment took place last April and apparently he is completely recovered and has resumed his normal occupation.

The revival is believed to be the first of its kind performed this way, said doctors of Burlington County Hospital.

Roy's heart stopped during an attack of coronary thrombosis, a blockage of the heart artery by a blood clot, one of the biggest killer diseases.

To all intents and purposes he was dead. Body tissues begin

Pilgrims Rush Into Holy Rivers; 1,000 Injured

Horde of 3 Million at Religious Bath Festival Gets Panic-Stricken

NEW DELHI, India (AP) —An estimated 200 Hindu pilgrims were crushed to death and at least 1,000 were injured early today at Allahabad.

A crowd three million strong stampeded into the holy waters at the joining of the Ganges and Jumma rivers, according to reports reaching here.

Eyewitness accounts said 200 square yards along the sandy banks of the Ganges were strewn with bodies after the police cleared away the panic-stricken throngs of bathers at the Kumbh Mela festival.

Official sources at Allahabad declined to comment on any aspect of the tragedy and would give no official casualty figures.

Prime Minister Nehru was to visit the Kumbh Mela today and Indian President Rajendra Prasad had been scheduled to join the bathers. But there were no indications where Nehru and Prasad were when the stampede occurred.

The vast horde of pilgrims had gathered at the rivers' confluence in eastern India in observance of the orthodox Hindu belief that bathing there during the Kumbh Mela spares them the pangs of rebirth into a new incarnation.

The festival, from Jan. 14 to March 4, is held only every 12 years. It commemorates a battle on the site in Hindu mythology in which the Gods defeated a horde of demons.

More than two million of the pilgrims had waited all night on the river banks amid cold rains. They hoped to bathe during the first three hours after the daylight eclipsed the new moon, considered by the Hindus the most auspicious time for the ceremony.

Their frenzied eagerness to reach the waters resulted in the tragedy. First reports said the pilgrims in the early dawn had watched a procession of 20,000 sadhus — holy men — and leaders astride elephants going down to the river to bathe first.

Then the streams of pilgrims began to push toward the bank, creating a crushing human juggernaut.

Indian Red Cross and local medical authorities were reported rushing the dead, dying and injured to emergency tent hospitals in the makeshift pilgrim cities which have been set up on the river banks.

House Group Tables FEPC

Highway Speed Limit Measure Goes to Floor After Being Killed Once

LANSING — Fair employment practices legislation appeared dead but highway speed limits were back from the grave in the House today.

Rep. Eugene C. Betz (R-Monroe), chairman of the State Affairs Committee, reported that his group in closed session had tabled the measure forbidding racial discrimination in employment. He did not announce the vote.

Immediately, Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit), minority leader, served notice he would ask for a record roll call vote today (2 p. m.) on a motion to discharge the committee from further consideration of the measure.

This tactic has been tried unsuccessfully for several successive years.

Gov. Williams, long an advocate of FEPC legislation, said the development will not be accepted by the Democrats "as final defeat in its efforts to secure a fair and genuine FEPC bill."

The highway speed bill was reported without recommendation by the Public Safety Committee. Chairman Clyde E. Cooper (R-White Cloud) had announced last week that the committee had followed recommendations of the state safety seminar and killed the measure.

He reported, the bill would set the daytime speed limit on highways at 65 miles and the nighttime limit at 55.

Cooper had no explanation for the committee's about face except that "we have changed our minds."

The same committee also reported a bill making it illegal to obstruct traffic on highways by driving too slowly. Cooper said the committee also intended to report a bill permitting local governments to set reduced speed limits on highways going past schools.

The House passed unanimously and without debate a bill making it a crime to abandon refrigerators and freezers without removing the doors or latches.

A bill which would have permitted county boards of supervisors to appropriate additional funds to county law libraries was defeated in the House 47-44.

Killed in the House State Affairs Committee were two measures recommended by the "Little Hoover" committee on state government reorganization.

The measures would have consolidated all health functions of state government under a single agency and created a new board to take over both the operation of the state fair and the management of the fairgrounds year around.

Heart Attack Survivor Tells of His Experience

"I'm just about as good as I was when I was 10 years old."

That was the comment today of Leo J. Roy, 55, Clarkston, ex-truck driver and father of six children, whose heart was started after he was apparently "dead" from a common heart attack.

"My heart was stopped for 2 minutes and 8 seconds," Roy said, "but I feel great today."

Roy, employed by Fleet Carrier Corp., Pontiac, was stricken with a heart attack last April 13 near Burlington, N. J. Doctors massaged his heart and applied electric shock to restore rhythmic beating.

"I'm working awfully hard now," Roy said, "just like I've always done."

Roy said he eats "like a pig" and has weighed 165 pounds "for 20 years and still do."

"I'd never had a heart attack in my life. I was driving a truck through New Jersey when suddenly my arms felt heavy—almost like a dull tooth ache—and I stopped at a gas station."

"The attendant called an ambulance. They took me to the Burlington County Hospital in Mt. Holly, a little burg about 14 miles out of Camden. That hospital was the finest I ever have seen."

"I don't remember a thing that happened for over 24 hours following the attack. When I woke up my wife (Pauline) was at the bedside. She said I looked bad, real puffy."

"I lost 27 pounds and was in the hospital 33 days. When I left, doctors told me I'd had a narrow squeak—that possibly one patient out of three or four thousand would survive such an attack under such circumstances."

"Now my blood count and blood pressure is perfect. Doctors told me to stop smoking and I'm obeying them. But, boy, I'm still working just as hard as ever."

Roy, a native of River Rouge near Detroit, said he had been working since he was 11 years old. He once worked on a farm near Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and "milked 24 out of 25 cows every day."

Roy said he had "slapped on" 200 gallons of paint in the last three months as a maintenance man for the Pontiac firm.

Couples Ask State to OK Marriages will be valid in the eyes of the church if the state makes them valid, Mead said.

Mead said the presbytery allows ministerial students to direct the religious life of small churches which cannot afford to pay an ordained minister. Such was the case with Vandergroet.

Vandergroet is "terribly upset," Mead said, and had performed the unauthorized marriage "purely out of ignorance of the laws of the church and New Jersey."

Vandergroet himself was unavailable for comment, but his wife said they were "packing to leave Florham Park." He resigned as pastor of the church last November.

"I can only say that he was the recognized head of the church," Mrs. Vandergroet said. "Further than that I have no comment."

Record indicated Vandergroet had performed 25 or 30 marriages since he took over the pastorate in 1946. Some of the couples had moved from Florham Park to other parts of the country.

Pontiac Lawyer, Federal Judge Tangle in Detroit

Physical Violence Looms as Milton Henry Argues Red Suspect's Cause

DETROIT (AP) — Federal Judge Frank A. Picard and a Pontiac lawyer representing a subpoenaed House Un-American activities committee witness traded sharp words yesterday.

At one time it looked like the white-haired, 64-year-old jurist and the lawyer, Milton R. Henry, 35, were close to a physical encounter.

However, it all wound up quietly, though Judge Picard was plainly ruffled. Henry apologized.

The dispute began shortly before the noon recess of the conspiracy trial of six Michigan Communists being heard by Judge Picard and a jury. The six are accused under the Smith Act of plotting to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Henry appeared in court with a petition to quash a subpoena against Bolza Baxter, 28, Detroit, state chairman of the Labor Youth League and former Flint resident.

(Henry told the Press he was not attempting to file a petition but intended to ask a show cause order on the subpoena.)

The Labor League was formed in 1952 upon dissolution of the Young Communist League. It is on the attorney general's subversives list.

Baxter has been subpoenaed to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee at opening of Detroit hearings Feb. 22.

Besides demanding the quashing of the subpoena, Henry's petition asked the barring of "on-lookers, newspapermen and all offshoots of the press" from the projected hearings.

Judge Picard was just about to call for a recess in the trial when Henry interrupted with his petition.

"You're asking me to put a stop on Congress. You'll have to show some law for that," Picard said. As Henry raised his voice, Judge Picard interrupted him with:

"You keep quiet. You can't shout me in this court."

The judge denied the petition, called recess and went to his chambers. Shortly, Henry also appeared there.

At the doorway Judge Picard put out his hand toward Henry, saying "You can't come in. I have some people in here."

"You have no right to lay hands on me. I'll knock you out," Henry shouted.

Judge Picard interrupted to say he had not intended to touch Henry.

Couples Ask New Jersey to Legalize Their Wedlock

FLORHAM PARK, N. J. (UP)—More than two dozen couples looked to the New Jersey Legislature today to straighten out the error of a misguided Presbyterian divinity student who "married" them without church or legal authorization.

The Legislature has been asked to legalize the marriages performed over a six-year period by John Vandergroff, a student pastor who didn't know he lacked the power to join couples in wedlock.

The couples, including many with children, were shocked to learn that their marriages are not recognized by the state of New Jersey and the Presbyterian Church.

"Oh for heaven's sake!"

gaped "Mrs." John O'Neill of Ridgedale Ave. She and O'Neill exchanged vows before Vandergroff at the local Presbyterian Church in 1947. They have a son.

State Assemblyman William O. Barnes introduced a bill which would make Vandergroff's marriages legal, retroactive to the date he performed them.

The Rev. Charles L. Mead, pastor of the South Orange (N. J.) Presbyterian Church and "chairman of Administrative Relations Committee which uncovered the marital oversight, said the church as well as the state requires that a minister be ordained before he performs marriages.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia has ruled that the marriages (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Lucy Ball Provides Clue That Snares Studio Thief

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police report that a bit of detective work by Lucille Ball led to the arrest of a man who has admitted he made about $16,000 a year by posing as a writer and burglarizing studio dressing rooms.

Hollywood detectives Claire Riding and Byron Diller said Kenneth Darling, 31, a handsome and well-dressed ex-convict, was arrested yesterday.

He was booked on suspicion of burglary when he was found snooping in a dressing room at the General Service Studios.

The police said Darling freely admitted that he had been operating in film and TV studios for the last four years, rooming around the lots by posing as a writer and always carrying a script under his arm.

The detectives said that only recently the first lead in the case was supplied by Miss Ball. She said she encountered a stranger emerging from the dressing room of her husband, Desi Arnaz.

She gave police such a good description of the man that they located Darling's record in police files and circulated his photograph at all studios.

Critic of Union Leader Escapes Death in Blast

Ex - Policeman Blames Teamster Enemies for Attack at His Home

DETROIT (AP)—An outspoken critic of AFL Teamsters boss James Hoffa reported to police today a would be assassin fired a shotgun at him in suburban Northville early today.

The charge tore through a French door window and Herbert Koester, 49-year-old truck driver, said it missed him by only 18 inches. It was fired in pre-dawn darkness at Koester's home.

A mysterious telephone call, Koester said, had led him across the line of fire.

State Police said Koester told them the only reason he could assign for the attempted assassination was his difficulties with Teamsters Local 299, of which Hoffa is president. Hoffa also is president of the Michigan Teamsters council and of the Central States Conference of Teamsters.

Koester is a retired Detroit policeman. He became an automobile haulaway driver for Commercial Carriers, Inc. in 1950, a year after his retirement he said he joined Teamsters Local 299 at the time.

Bert Brennan, Hoffa's assistant, reported the union chief was in a hospital because of illness.

"We never heard of him (Koester)," Brennan said. "I did find him on 299's membership roll. But I was so sure he wasn't one of ours that I called Pontiac, thinking maybe he was one of theirs. Before I checked the 299 roll."

Koester told police he became scared last Thursday when four men in a black Cadillac followed him 25 miles to his home.

Koester said the Cadillac passed without incident, but that he hadn't been to work since. He added he wasn't going for a few more days, either.

On Monday, police said Koester told them, he received an anonymous telephone warning: "Don't go to work tomorrow."

Koester was alone when the blast tore through the door window in the kitchen of his home.

Whoever fired stood 21 feet away. Police said footprints found in the snow were small and vanished in an ice-coated driveway.

The mysterious telephone caller apologized for getting the wrong number. Koester said he dropped to the floor upon hearing the blast which came a second after he passed the door.

Koester told police he openly had criticized Hoffa for his handling of the teamsters' welfare and insurance fund, the subject of a week-long congressional hearing in Detroit last November.

Police quoted Koester as saying: "I told several of the boys that I didn't think the whole story came out in that hearing. I don't think the investigation should have been stopped."

I wrote Hoffa a letter complaining about how I didn't think the union members were getting a fair share of the welfare money. I didn't sign my name, though. But I guess they knew who the letter came from."

Koester said the first reaction came shortly before Christmas, when "a couple of Hoffa's boys told me one day I'd better keep my mouth shut."

State Trooper Michael Fitzgibbons said it was clear the assailant was on a specific mission and the shot wasn't just stray gunfire.

Williams to Push Bravery Award for Pontiac Boy

James Brown, 18, of 37 Vinewood St., who is being recommended for the U. S. Government Young American Medal Award for Bravery, will receive personal congratulations today from Gov. G. Mennen Williams during a special meeting in Lansing.

He was nominated for the award last month by the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. for "high courage and complete disregard for personal safety" when he captured Pontiac's rape-slayer Donald V. O'Brian, the night of Sept. 9.

Also present at the meeting will be James' mother, Mrs. James L. Brown, Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, and officers of the association, Hugh T. Stinson, president, and James Carr, treasurer.

The group will present the governor with a petition nominating Brown for the award and letters of endorsement. Williams will forward to material to the U. S. Department of Justice in Washington, which issues the award.

Deny Mahoney New Trial Bid

Now Serving Sentence for '45 Holdup of Local Gambling Club

Motion for a new trial for Pete Mahoney, jailed in 1945 for the holdup of Pontiac's Aristocrat Club, a gambling spot, was denied by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick today.

Mahoney, 51, was sentenced to 25 to 50 years on Dec. 12, 1945, for the holdup which was disclosed during an investigation of the Senator Warren G. Hooper murder.

Also convicted at the time were Harry Fleisher, Myron (Mike) Selik, William (Candy) Davidson and Sammy Chivas, all of Detroit. Chivas was paroled last October.

Judge Hartwick said in a written opinion that Mahoney's release would have to come "from favorable action of the parole board."

The opinion further stated that any action in granting a new trial "would be an arbitrary usurpation of the power placed in the parole board by law."

In 1946 the Circuit Court made an order reducing the minimum term imposed on Mahoney from 25 years to 15 years. The attorney general's office challenged the action and the original sentence was later upheld by the State Supreme Court.

Mahoney, Fleisher and Selik were among those convicted of conspiracy to murder Sen. Hooper a few months before the robbery trial here, though Mahoney was later absolved of the charge.

Japan Protests American Silence on Red Diplomat

TOKYO (INS) — A storm of Japanese protests broke over the heads of U. S. authorities today because of their refusal to confirm or deny officially that a missing Soviet diplomat is in American hands, detailing operations of a Russian spy ring.

Replying to a Japanese note, the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo declared it had "no information" in the case of Yuri A. Rastvorov, second secretary of the discredited Soviet diplomatic mission in Japan.

The embassy said it would notify the Japanese government "as soon as it had information." Japan's foreign office announced.

Rastvorov disappeared Jan. 24, the day before he was to have left by plane for Moscow, presumably because he had bungled some recent espionage assignments in Japan.

The Russian mission charged the young diplomatic aide had been "seized and detained by the U. S. espionage organization" in the Far East.

Officially, American diplomatic and military authorities made no denial or other comment on the Soviet allegation. But a high source revealed that Rastvorov, apparently fearing he would be "liquidated," fled for asylum to the protective arms of a special U. S. intelligence unit.

The official American silence aroused vigorous protests in the Japanese Diet (parliament) and the press.

Vice Foreign Minister Akira Kotaki told the Diet's Foreign Affairs Committee today that if the U. S. "kidnaped" Rastvorov, as the Russians charged, then America is guilty of violating the U. S.-Japan security pact.

Kotaki added, however, that if the flashily-dressed Soviet junior diplomat voluntarily asked for asylum with the Americans there was no problem of a treaty violation.

Unusual Case Reported by Three Doctors

CLARKSTON, Mich. (AP)—A Clarkston, Mich. man, apparently "dead" of a common heart attack, was restored to life by quick massage and electric shock of his heart, physicians disclosed here today.

The man was identified as Leo J. Roy, 55, of 5877 Clarkston-Orion Rd., a driver for Fleet Carrier Corp. in Pontiac. The emergency operation and treatment took place last April and apparently he is completely recovered and has resumed his normal occupation.

The revival is believed to be the first of its kind performed this way, said doctors of Burlington County Hospital.

Roy's heart stopped during an attack of coronary thrombosis, a blockage of the heart artery by a blood clot, one of the biggest killer diseases.

To all intents and purposes he was dead. Body tissues begin

Pilgrims Rush Into Holy Rivers; 1,000 Injured

Horde of 3 Million at Religious Bath Festival Gets Panic-Stricken

NEW DELHI, India (AP) —An estimated 200 Hindu pilgrims were crushed to death and at least 1,000 were injured early today at Allahabad.

A crowd three million strong stampeded into the holy waters at the joining of the Ganges and Jumma rivers, according to reports reaching here.

Eyewitness accounts said 200 square yards along the sandy banks of the Ganges were strewn with bodies after the police cleared away the panic-stricken throngs of bathers at the Kumbh Mela festival.

Official sources at Allahabad declined to comment on any aspect of the tragedy and would give no official casualty figures.

Prime Minister Nehru was to visit the Kumbh Mela today and Indian President Rajendra Prasad had been scheduled to join the bathers. But there were no indications where Nehru and Prasad were when the stampede occurred.

The vast horde of pilgrims had gathered at the rivers' confluence in eastern India in observance of the orthodox Hindu belief that bathing there during the Kumbh Mela spares them the pangs of rebirth into a new incarnation.

The festival, from Jan. 14 to March 4, is held only every 12 years. It commemorates a battle on the site in Hindu mythology in which the Gods defeated a horde of demons.

More than two million of the pilgrims had waited all night on the river banks amid cold rains. They hoped to bathe during the first three hours after the daylight eclipsed the new moon, considered by the Hindus the most auspicious time for the ceremony.

Their frenzied eagerness to reach the waters resulted in the tragedy. First reports said the pilgrims in the early dawn had watched a procession of 20,000 sadhus — holy men — and leaders astride elephants going down to the river to bathe first.

Then the streams of pilgrims began to push toward the bank, creating a crushing human juggernaut.

Indian Red Cross and local medical authorities were reported rushing the dead, dying and injured to emergency tent hospitals in the makeshift pilgrim cities which have been set up on the river banks.

Clarkston Man, 'Dead' in Heart Attack, Revived by Fast Massage, Electrodes

BURLINGTON, N. J. (AP)—A Clarkston, Mich. man, apparently "dead" of a common heart attack, was restored to life by quick massage and electric shock of his heart, physicians disclosed here today.

Usually heart attacks hit people at times and places where nothing can be done soon enough. Quick injections of adrenalin sometimes may revive the heart.

But Roy happened to be in the hospital accident ward when he fell unconscious with his heart attack. A surgeon opened his chest, began squeezing the halted heart with his hand. It began twitching, and then the electric shocks restored normal rhythm.

(In Clarkston today, Roy's personal physician, Dr. R. W. Bullard Jr., verified the report. He said the electric shock is administered by a machine known to medical men as a defibrillator. It is used when the heart is twitching rapidly and in effect stops the abnormal heart action to permit normal pulsations to be resumed.)

Roy lives with his wife and six children near Clarkston. He is temporarily working out of the Larchmont, N. Y. office of Fleet Carrier Corp. He has recently returned to the New Jersey hospital for a checkup.

Await Report on County Man

Oakwood Youth Held in Inquiry Into Breaking and Entering

OXFORD — Oakland County Prosecutor's Office today awaited a medical report on Allen D. McMean, 18, of 3083 Baldwin, Oakwood.

McMean was arrested at 5:30 a. m. yesterday in the police station by Chief Albert Roberts.

Roberts was alerted earlier by a family living on the street behind the station when they reported someone was trying to get into their house.

By the time he got to the home, the prowler was gone.

He returned to headquarters and found the place a shambles. McMean was inside.

Windows were smashed, papers strewn over the floor and furniture tipped over. A typewriter had been thrown through a window.

Roberts handcuffed McMean and took him out to his patrol car to take him to the Oakland County jail. McMean kicked out a rear window.

Just then sheriff's deputies, called to aid Roberts, arrived and shackled McMean's feet with chains. They took him to the county jail where he is being held for investigation of breaking and entering.

Roberts said McMean had been drinking. A medical examination was scheduled for this morning.

Voters Give Green Light to Clarkston School Bonds

CLARKSTON — With the largest school vote cast in the Clarkston Community School history, the electors of the district approved a $600,000 bond issue Tuesday by a four to one vote.

Authorizing the sale of bonds for the purpose of building a high school addition and additions to three elementary schools, the electors cast 539 votes. On the tax limitation proposition, 433 voted "yes" and 105 "no."

There was one void vote on this proposal.

Permission to sell bonds was granted by 418 "yes" and 102 "no" votes. Two void votes were cast.

Additions to schools at Sasabaw Plains, Andersonville and the Clarkston Elementary School will be underway shortly, said Superintendent Leslie F. Greene.

High school construction will begin as soon as working drawings are completed and contracts let for the work. Completion is planned for the September school opening according to the board.

Parents Blamed for Unruly Youth

Policewoman Tells PTA Trouble Starts at Home With Lax Supervision

KEEGO HARBOR—Much of the blame for juvenile delinquency was laid at the feet of delinquent parents at a meeting of the Roosevelt PTA last night.

Speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Gertrude Barrett who told the causes of delinquency, where the trouble starts and what she, as an Oakland County policewoman with the Sheriff's Department, is doing to lessen the problem.

Mrs. Barrett recommended that one of the parents be at home when children arrive from school, that the home be kept clean, that the family attend church regularly and that love for the children be shown.

"Stronger juvenile laws and more institutions to care for offenders are needed," Mrs. Barrett also said.

During the business session of the meeting an athletic injury fund was turned over by the PTA to Charles Guimpy, athletic director.

Miss Muriel DeLauder, Mrs. Edwin Freyer and Mrs. Milton Patten, appointed by the executive board as a nominating committee, were also confirmed at the meeting.

Technical Error Forces Re-Vote

Failure of Treasurer to Announce Mill Levy Voids Part of Ballot

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

ROCHESTER — Voters of the Rochester Community School District will go back to the polls Feb. 24 to make completely legal the votes they cast Dec. 16.

Although the school building bond issue of $1,800,000 was approved by a more than two-to-one vote, a technical error has made invalid one-half of the proposition.

Bond attorneys, who must put their stamp of approval on the issue before the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission will allow sale of bonds, said they cannot do so until the millage part is voted upon again.

The error occurred in the notice of election publication preceding the bond issue.

Rochester Community School District lies within two counties. In transferring the information from the treasurers of Oakland and Macomb counties, portions of their statements were inadvertently omitted.

Thursday at 8 p. m. all citizens of the Rochester School District are invited to a public meeting in the high school cafeteria to discuss the resubmission of the school bond issue.

According to law, these publications must correctly and completely state the excess millage already voted within the municipality.

Donald Baldwin, superintendent of Rochester schools, said that the bond proposal part will not be affected and will not have to be resubmitted.

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission has already approved the bond issue in principle, and said the sale could be completed as soon as the technicality is cleared.

Leonard Harding, president of the board of education, said "The issue is exactly the same as the one approved by an overwhelming majority Dec. 16. Millage is the same 9.75. It is just a matter of going through part of the process again keeping in mind that the whole program is for the benefit of the children of the community," he continued.

Fortunately, said Baldwin, the bond sale postponement, now scheduled for March 10, will have little effect on the timing of the building program.

Final plans for the Hamlin and Goodison additions will be reviewed by the board Feb. 8. Preliminary studies have already begun.

Cancel Primary Romeo Election

Late Notification Voids Feb. 15 Voting; Blank Ballots OK'd for March

ROMEO — Village Attorney Percy G. Horler has received official confirmation of cancellation of the primary election scheduled for Feb. 15.

He conferred yesterday with representatives of the attorney general and secretary of state's offices in Lansing over irregularities in filing primary election notices.

State officials approved use of a blank ballot in the regular election in March.

Necessity for use of such a ballot was brought about by the delay in official posting of notice of primary election until after the filing deadline had passed.

Horler was accompanied by Conrad Turrell, village clerk, and Gerald McLean, a Romeo attorney, who was one of 11 candidates who filed for one of the four vacant council seats.

H. S. Patterson Files for City Commission

Pontiac attorney Harcourt S. Patterson, 43, of 88 Oriole Rd., yesterday filed a nominating petition announcing his intention to run for city commissioner in District 2.

Present District 2 commissioner is Harold W. Dudley, who has not announced whether or not he will run for re-election.

A native of Pontiac, Patterson received his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1935 and has practiced here since. He is active in civic and professional organizations plus local fund raising campaigns.

Seven other candidates have filed for city commission. Primary election is March 1.

Practical Joker Blamed for Milk Chute 'Bombing'

DETROIT (INS) — Police today blamed a practical joker for the firecracker which burst in the milk chute of Chrysler worker Patrick Cousino, 47, of Detroit.

The blast, which Cousino and neighbors mistook for a bomb, cracked the chute and splintered an adjacent door to the cellar.

Approve Funds for McCarthy

Probe Subcommittee Is Allowed $214,443 Operating Budget

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), defending the record of the Senate investigations subcommittee he heads, has been granted the full amount of money he asked for another year's work.

Some Democrats had been talking of moves to trim the subcommittee's budget, or to restrict its scope of operations, but no formal steps were taken in that direction as the Senate voted yesterday to allow the group $214,443. In the past year, the budget was $200,000.

The roll call vote was 85-1, with only Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) opposing it.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), who finally voted for the resolution, questioned McCarthy at length as to whether the subcommittee was not (A) duplicating the work of other groups and (B) rehearsing old material, McCarthy defended the subcommittee record on both points.

Ellender also asked whether the Justice and State departments had refused accusations McCarthy first made last July that someone in the State Department during Dean Acheson's tenure as secretary had tried to "shake down" a friendly foreign government for $150,000.

"The original statement is completely correct," McCarthy replied.

He let that comment stand after the department, a few hours later, said in a formal statement that an investigation had turned up "no information indicating that an employee of the State Department either accepted a bribe or was in any way engaged in wrongful, illegal or unethical conduct" in any such case.

Nor, the statement added, does the department have information that any friendly foreign power offered any bribes. But it said it has no authority to investigate whether anyone outside the department solicited any bribes.

Oust Newsmen in Guatemala

Major Attack on Press Feared as Rulers Expel 2 U. S. Correspondents

MEXICO CITY (UP) — Guatemala's leftist government appeared today to have launched a major crack-down on the press. It expelled two U.S. correspondents, and Communist supporters of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman bitterly attacked the nation's independent press.

The ousted newsmen were Sidney Gruson, New York Times correspondent for Mexico and Central America, and Marshall F. Bannell of the National Broadcasting Co. Both were accused of trying to discredit the Guatemalan government. Security police hustled both to the airport in Guatemala City yesterday.

In announcing their ouster, the Guatemalan Foreign Office charged "certain organs of information in the United States" were campaigning in "an increasing crescendo and malicious form against Guatemala for the purpose of damaging the good relations between the two countries."

Guatemala charged last week that her Central American neighbors, "with the connivance" of the United States, had been plotting to wreck Arbenz' regime. The President is not himself considered a Communist but his government has received strong support from the nation's Reds and has gone out of its way to please them.

The U.S. State Department rejected the accusation as "false and ridiculous," a statement echoed by the other governments accused.

Gruson on his arrival here said Guatemala had had "complete freedom of the press up to now . . . but I think the situation must now be viewed in the light of these latest developments."

He said Guatemala's strong Communist faction had been making "extremely vicious" attacks in the last few days on the independent press, which he said "has been very critical of the Communists at times."

Girl's Honesty Pays

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (UP) — When the district court judge asked Jeanne Connell if she had at least slowed down when she drove through a stop sign, she said

Indochina Eyes CAI Contract

American Crews Soon
Will Be Flying Supply
Planes Again

HONG KONG — American crews soon will be flying supply-train planes for the French in the Indochina war again, headquarters of the American-owned Civil Air Transport disclosed today.

CAT has been notified by its Indochina agent that a French contract to fly 12 C-119 Flying Boxcars will be ready shortly.

CAT's board chairman is C. L. Chennault, former chief of the Flying Tigers.

CAT flew six C-119s on war supply missions in Indochina for six weeks. The French borrowed planes from U. S. Air Force depots in the Far East. American Air Force pilots flew them to Indochina, turned them over to the French air force and CAT crews flew them for the French.

Later, a small number of French crews trained in Europe took them over.

When the emergency was ended, the planes were returned to the U. S. Air Force.

A CAT spokesman said he assumed the same arrangement was planned now with CAT crews flying the planes until French crews are available.

Man Says Good Health Depends on Giving Blood

PHILADELPHIA — Ira J. Russell, 40, who maintains he keeps in good health by giving blood, donated his 105th pint to the Red Cross blood bank yesterday.

"I was on crutches suffering from rheumatism 20 years ago when a doctor suggested I give blood," Russell said. "A little while later, I threw the crutches away. Believe it or not, I've been in perfect health since."

Test Methods of Chemical Brush Control

NEWARK, Del. (INS)—Delaware researchers are now involved in mid-winter tests to learn which methods of chemical brush control work best on banks of drainage ditches.

Dr. Henry W. Indyk, research agronomist at the University of Delaware, explains that this group is spraying various chemicals on test plots of hardwood trees and pines.

Dr. Indyk says the experiments are being conducted during the winter because this is the dormant season and "there is less danger of damaging agricultural crops through wind-drifting of the spray."

The United States stopped minting silver dollars in 1933, although most of the "cartwheels" now in circulation were minted between 1921 and 1927.

Royal Whims Originated Science of Measurements

WASHINGTON — The art of weighing and measuring, once a matter of fumbling guesswork, has become a science of unbelievable accuracy.

Technicians of the atomic age now weigh invisible substances by "scales" that are themselves hard to see. In one operation, a rare radioactive material is measured by a quartz fiber so finely drawn that it has to be magnified to show the results.

Scientists have weighed the earth, and calculated the thickness of a soap bubble's wall. They have recorded the footfall of the common housefly, and determined the degree to which a bar of steel is affected by a fly's landing on it.

Ancient peoples made rough estimates of distance based on parts of the body. Such terms as "foot," "hand," and "finger," still in use, have varied considerably in the past. The now standardized 12-inch foot has ranged from eight to 20 inches.

Surveyors of 16th-century Germany computed a rod by combining the length of the left foot of 16 men, picked at random and lined up as they left church on Sunday morning.

Symbols differed from country to country, and even the same words often had different meanings. The British (imperial) gallon still stands for a pint more than a U.S. gallon.

The metric system of computing by meter, gram and liter in units of 10 has simplified matters for the several countries which have adopted it.

The U.S. and Great Britain are among the few nations to hold out against it. Yet both British and American science has turned to the more convenient and precise international standards of the meter (39.37 inches) and the kilogram (2.2046 pounds).

The United States National Bureau of Standards in Washington—the arbiter of the country's weights and measures—uses a duplicate of the international meter and kilogram preserved at Paris.

Even more accurate is a new measuring device of atomic research. Man-made "mercury 198" offers the world's most precise standard of length. Using the wave length of green light that it emits, scientists can calculate with an exactness to one part in 100 million.

What Size Are His Feet?

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (UP)—Wayne Roberts was puzzled about a sudden case of foot trouble until a friend happened to inspect the new pair of shoes Roberts had been wearing. On his right foot Roberts had a size 9½, and his left foot, an 8½.

Farm Price Report Likely to Show Rise

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department will issue its first farm price report of 1934 today, and it appeared probable the survey will show a continuation of the price rise registered last month.

A possible increase in prices received by farmers for their commodities is indicated because this is the season when supply of many agricultural products levels off, and demand causes a rise in prices. In the report covering the month ending Dec. 15, agricultural prices rose for the first time in months due to higher prices paid for hogs and other meat animals.

Hog prices have continued high during the past few weeks as production has remained extremely low. The cattle market also has shown some stability recently.

These factors, combined with normal seasonal price increases, could shift the national parity ratio above the 91 per cent recorded last month.

Grains Ease Off After Good Start

CHICAGO (UP)—Grains eased on the Board of Trade today after getting off to a steady start.

Export houses gave support to old crop wheat contracts and scattered buying went into the new crop month in view of unfavorable weather conditions in the winter wheat belt. A step-up in demand for cash soybean oil was a help to soybeans. Light cash corn receipts at 76 cars aided that cereal.

Failure of the market to carry through with the brisk rally late in yesterday's session was a disappointment, however, and created some selling from short-term traders.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 3/4 to 1 cent lower, March $2.10 1/2, corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March $1.51 1/2, soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March $1.21 1/2, soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March $1.11, and soybean oil 12 to 12 1/2 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $16.97.
