Heath Elected Head of British Conservatives

He Wins First Ballot Majority; Opposition Bows Out of Race

LONDON (AP)—Edward Heath was chosen leader of the Conservative party today. His opposition folded after he won a first ballot majority.

Heath headed Reginald Maudling, 150-133, with 15 votes for Enoch Powell in the balloting among 298 Tory members of the House of Commons.

Then Maudling, former chancellor of the exchequer, withdrew. This left the field clear for Heath.

Heath, 49, has been the party spokesman for economic affairs. Under the rules prevailing for the first ballot, a candidate needed an over-all majority plus 15 per cent more votes than his nearest rival to win.

FIRST FORMAL ELECTION

It was the first formal election of a leader in the party's two centuries. Previous party leaders were chosen in private discussions in which Britain's top Tory families had the dominant voice.

The secret ballot took place behind closed doors in a committee room of Parliament's lower house.

Newspaper pundits and opinion polls had put Maudling slightly ahead of Heath. A third candidate, Enoch Powell, 55, was given no chance of winning, but some thought he might take enough votes to make a second ballot necessary.

Carnegie Exec Successor

Celebrezze Is Resigning From Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that Anthony J. Celebrezze is resigning as secretary of welfare to take a federal judgeship.

John W. Gardner, a Republican and president of the Carnegie Corp., will be named to the federal post.

Johnson announced his third cabinet appointment at a special ceremony in the flower garden outside his office. Celebrezze and Gardner, who was chairman of a special presidential task force on education last year, stood by.

Celebrezze, an Italian immigrant who was a long-time mayor of Cleveland, is being nominated for a vacancy on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth District. The court has headquarters in Cincinnati.

In announcing this, Johnson said: "I have both a feeling of pride in Celebrezze's accession to this high court — and a reluctance in seeing him depart the department he has guided so skillfully."

Speaking of Gardner, Johnson said: "He is regarded by his peers as one of the most knowledgeable men in the field of U.S. education."

and that John W. Gardner (right) will replace Celebrezze in the cabinet. Johnson spoke at a special ceremony today in the flower garden outside his White House office.

Gardner, who was born in Los Angeles in 1912, has been president of the Carnegie Corp. for the past 10 years. He also heads the Carnegie Endowment for the Advancement of Teaching.

The Carnegie Corp. is a foundation that administers the philanthropies initiated by steel baron Andrew Carnegie.

Johnson took passing note of Gardner's Republican allegiances in talking about him before a small audience of reporters.

"He's a Ph.D., an ex-Marine, a former intelligence officer, an author and a Republican, though not necessarily in this order of importance or proportion of significance," Johnson said.

The President said Gardner, educated at Stanford University and the University of California, "has been all his adult life an explorer in search of excellence."

Holder of honorary degrees from a dozen colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, Gardner taught psychology at Mount Holyoke College and Connecticut College for Women before World War II.

Meany Complacent, Reuther Is Quoted

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Reuther thinks the basic problem of AFL-CIO President George Meany is that "he's too damn comfortable," according to Look Magazine.

In the same article, the former CIO president says Teamster President James Hoffa never should be allowed back in the labor group.

Reuther, United Auto Workers president who headed the CIO before the merger of the two giant labor federations and is now No. 2 man in the AFL-CIO, said in an interview that he prefers "to get along with Meany."

"But when there are things to get done," he is quoted as saying, "I'm going to do them."

Pleasant Weather to Stay a Few Days

Warm, sunny weather will remain with Pontiac residents at least until Thursday the weatherman has promised.

There won't be much change in temperature today, with a high near 84. Tonight will be fair and cooler, low 54 to 62.

Sunny is the forecast for tomorrow with a high of 77 to 82.

Winds are northwest to north, 8 to 15 miles per hour.

Sixty-six was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. in Pontiac today. By 2 p.m. the temperature had reached 84.

Romney, Rocky Hit GOP Splinter Units

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York joined yesterday in denouncing conservative splinter activity in the Republican party.

Rockefeller, who has bowed out of contention for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, and Romney, who remains very much in it, assailed in separate news conferences at this 57th annual meeting of the nation's governors, outside organizations such as that of Barry Goldwater.

Romney said Rockefeller's withdrawal from the presidential contest "doesn't affect me in any way."

Then, in a long exposition of his views on international and domestic matters he proceeded to sharpen the sort of differences with President Johnson's policies that a Republican nominee might find valuable.

The Michigan governor was asked specifically about Goldwater's organization.

"I believe it is essential Republican leaders carry out their complete political objective within the Republican party, without joining outside groups," he said.

FUTURE COURSE

Rockefeller said it would be "disastrous" for splinter groups to influence the party's future course.

County Driver Dies in Crash

A Beverly Hills man was killed last night in Birmingham when his car struck the rear of another auto, went over a curb and hit a tree.

Dead on arrival at Beaumont Hospital following the 9:10 p.m. accident was Donald F. Gollwitzer, 37, of 17175 W. 14 Mile.

Police said Gollwitzer's car was traveling west on East Maple when it struck a car driven by Joan Sullivan, 20, of 25106 Wyoming, Huntington Miss.

Miss Sullivan, who was driving ahead of Gollwitzer's car in the same direction, escaped injury.

Police said Gollwitzer's car jumped the curb after hitting the other car and struck a tree five feet north of Maple just west of Columbia.

3 Yank Planes Lost in Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flight of 46 Air Force fighter-bombers today knocked out one antiaircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam.

Three F105 fighter-bombers were shot down, the Pentagon reported, by what was described as "intense conventional ground fire" during the low level attack on two previously undiscovered surface-to-air missile sites about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Returning pilots reported seeing two parachutes open after the bombers were hit.

The two sites, using semiautomatic equipment which could be put in place in as little as 24 hours, are in addition to five sites previously identified as under construction around Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital.

The U.S. attack was launched three days after a U.S. plane was shot down by fire from one of the missile sites.

PILOTS REPORT

Asst. Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told a news conference that U.S. pilots reported destruction of one of the new sites and damage to the other.

Photographic evaluation of the strike results has not been completed, Sylvester said.

"There were no reports of missiles fired at the attacking planes or of hostile air action," the announcement said.

The strike aircraft were protected by an unspecified number of fighter planes which flew overhead on guard against MIG fighters which apparently did not challenge the attack.

DELAYED ACTION

Officials said "conventional ordnance" was used in the attack. They did not specify, but delayed action bombs were probably used, a practice customary in low level attacks.

Sylvester said the new sites were identified "by thorough analysis of all of the evidence, including photography, after a loss of an Air Force F4C on the night of July 24."

Until now, the Defense Department had stood on a statement that it was investigating the reports that the F4C had been downed by a missile similar to those which the Russians have employed in Cuba.

"Pilot reports had indicated that the plane may have been downed by a SAM (surface-to-air) missile," Sylvester said.

"The aircraft was out of range of the original five sites (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Johnson Calls Cabinet Parley

Discuss War Situation at Midday Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson summoned his cabinet to a midday conference today on the war in Viet Nam.

"They're discussing the situation in Viet Nam and the deliberations that have been going on and are still going on," said White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers.

Johnson has had a series of top level conferences during the past week of manpower and equipment needs to bolster the battle against the Communist guerrillas.

Moyers said Johnson talked by telephone with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and White House Assistant George Bundy on the Southeast Asian situation, and received additional reports on manpower requests from the armed forces.

"All of the information he has requested will be supplied by the end of the day," Moyers said.

TO SUMMON LEADERS

Johnson plans to summon Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to the White House today or tomorrow.

"I would assume it will be today, but it not today tomorrow," Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said concerning the bi-partisan meeting.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, said "the question of Viet Nam was discussed incidentally" at a meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with Johnson today.

Moyers said the group "discussed generally the course of the deliberations now going on."

Since last Wednesday, the President has been holding lengthy conferences with top aides — discussions that point toward an increased American commitment of manpower and equipment.

Hospital Fund

Reveal $100,000 Gift

The first major gift from an individual to the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Building Fund was announced today by Ernest A. Jones, cochairman of the memorial gifts committee, when he revealed that Edward F. Fisher had pledged $100,000 toward the $3,250,000 minimum objective.

Fisher is one of two surviving brothers who established the Fisher Body Co. and is a member of the board of directors of General Motors Corp.

E. M. Estes, chairman of the hospital campaign, expressed his appreciation for the gift, noting, "As one of Michigan's leading citizens, Mr. Fisher has once again demonstrated his sincere interest in voluntary community projects."

"This interest," Estes continued, "as expressed by this very generous gift should provide inspiration for all of us who are working hard to ensure the success of the campaign."

"This is concrete evidence that the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital campaign has been accepted as one of the most important (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Once a Dream, OCC Nearing Reality

By L. GARY THORNE

Housed in a remodeled Nike missile base and a converted TB hospital, Oakland Community College (OCC) opens this fall just 15 months after voters approved the project.

The two-year college has, in just over a year, progressed from a ballot proposition to the threshold of reality.

Classroom facilities have been acquired and are in preparation, equipment is being purchased and students are being admitted.

Hopes for Oakland Community College were conceived by a countywide citizens committee with a noticeable push from professional educators and the County School Board.

Electoral support came on the second ballot. Establishment of the college won voter favor in June 1963, but it took a second election last year to secure approval for the college's one-mill tax levy.

Voters also elected a six-member college board of trustees to govern the new institution.

A Birmingham attorney, George R. Mosher, of 1614 Woodward, was selected as chairman. He admits the board had little to start with other than a "dream of a multicampus, countywide school."

Curriculum had been proposed by a citizens study committee. Three critical areas were designated: terminal (two-year) job training, adult education and the first two years of a four-year college degree program.

First task of the new college board was to hire Dr. John E. Tirrell, of St. Louis as president of the community college.

TEMPORARY OFFICES

The second task was to rent a chair for the new president to sit in. Temporary offices were also established.

Initial expenses were borne by the college trustees. Established in June of last year, the college didn't receive its first tax receipts until early this year.

In fact, first board meetings were held at the homes of the trustees. Dr. Tirrell, after board members had caucused in the living room, was formally offered his college post in the kitchen of the Mosher home.

It was only last October that the cigar-chomping Tirrell assumed the top administrative post at the college.

FIRST CHORE

His first chore was to borrow funds in anticipation of tax collections, giving the new school its initial operating funds.

Tirrell, who had helped establish three St. Louis junior colleges, brought another thirly defined dream to add to Oakland County's hopes for more higher education.

His dream was more sophisticated than the singular creation of more college classrooms, and it, too, is to become a reality this fall.

Prior to coming here, the 38-year-old college administrator had demonstrated an interest in the application of data processing and computer technology to the college classroom. A visible outgrowth of Tirrell's interest will be Oakland Community College's pioneering tutorial program.

SEPARATE STORY

For the most part, OCC classes will depart considerably from the traditional method of an instructor lecturing 30 students while the latter feverishly take notes. But, this is a separate story.

Tirrell, while still a commuter from St. Louis, began (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

West Accused of Arms Stall

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused Western powers today of deliberately delaying disarmament negotiations and adopting policies "directly opposed to disarmament and the relaxation of international tension."

Tsarapkin said in his opening address as chairman of the convened 17-nation disarmament conference that the talks were resuming in difficult circumstances because of "imperialist aggression in such places as Viet Nam, the Congo and Latin America."

U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant said the major nuclear powers will have to act swiftly to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons. In a message to the conference read by his special representative, Dragon Protich, Thant expressed concern over the increasing danger of a general race toward nuclear armament.

Recent political crises have "considerably eroded the spirit of détente between East and West" which was symbolized in the agreements on a partial ban on nuclear testing, he said.

portant endeavors ever undertaken in our area."

The memorial gifts committee is composed of 68 volunteers who are offering individuals in the hospital's service area the opportunity to provide specific rooms in the St. Joseph expansion program.

EXPANSION

The committee is in the process of expanding its membership, according to Jones.

He noted that memorials start at $2,000 for a supervisor's office, and include patients' rooms from $5,000 to $7,000; examination and treatment rooms from $4,000 to $6,000; child and parents' rooms from $6,000; operating rooms at $21,000 and others up to $318,000 for the Clinical Laboratory Department.

Altogether there are 405 different units available, with 37 already reserved or subscribed.

The memorial plan provides for tablets to be mounted on the rooms given with a suitable inscription according to the wishes of the donor.

Pledges may be paid over a period of three years.

"A most significant contribution could be made to a renewal of hope and progress toward peace by the rediscovery of that area of mutual interest."

Thant's message appeared to be addressed not only to the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union, but also to France and Communist China, who have both developed their own atomic arms. France has boycotted the conference. China never has been invited.

"Those who have already embarked upon nuclear weapons development continue to perfect and increase the stockpile of nuclear weapons," Thant said. "On the other hand, a growing number of states capable of nuclear weapons development will be faced with extremely grave decisions in this area which will have profound repercussions."

RESPONSIBILITY NEEDED
"Responsibility and restraint are needed on the part of both sides. The talks had long been deadlocked when they restarted last Sept. 17. Recent statements from East and West indicated that the deadlock may be as rigid as ever, despite a new British plan to halt the spread of nuclear weapons."

In contrast to previous resumptions of the talks, delegates of the major powers carefully avoided any hopeful predictions. The talks had long been deadlocked when they restarted last Sept. 17. Recent statements from East and West indicated that the deadlock may be as rigid as ever, despite a new British plan to halt the spread of nuclear weapons."

TWO ABSENT
Of the five nations who now possess nuclear weapons, two were absent. France has boycotted the talks, and Red China has never been invited. Britain's disarmament minister, Lord Chalfont, and the U.S. disarmament negotiator, William C. Foster, arrived together from Paris after telling the North Atlantic Treaty Council about the British proposal for a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

They told newsmen details of the draft would be worked out with the two other Western delegates, Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada and Francesco Cavaletti of Italy.

How to Get Passport to Health Benefits

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third in a 14-part series on the new health care and Social Security bill by John Troon, special writer for Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

By JOHN TROON
Your passport to Medicare will be a wallet-sized card resembling the kind Blue Cross subscribers carry.

It will signify you are eligible for basic Medicare benefits provided under Social Security. It also will show whether you have bought supplemental health insurance entitling you to additional benefits.

The cards will be mailed by the Social Security Administration before July 1, 1966—when such benefits become available.

If you're eligible for Medicare and already getting monthly Social Security checks, you'll automatically get a form on which you may sign up for supplemental insurance.

SIMILAR PROCEDURE
A similar procedure will be followed with persons receiving monthly Railroad Retirement or Civil Service retirement benefits.

Eligible persons on regular welfare rolls also will be advised by mail.

What about other folks who may be entitled to Medicare benefits?

If you're past 65 and have worked long enough under Social Security to rate monthly retirement checks but you haven't applied for them (because, for example, you're still working), go now to your Social Security district office and file an application to establish your eligibility for Medicare.

Other persons past 65 may register for Medicare when you get a second time, you're out forever.

The monthly premium will be $6 a person. Of this, the federal government will pay half. Premiums start July 1, 1966, or the third month after you enroll—whichever is later.

WELFARE CLIENTS
Otherwise you'll have to pay the premiums on your own (although a state may foot the bill for its welfare clients).

The premium will be a bit higher for persons who fail to buy the insurance during their first enrollment period. The same goes for dropouts who re-enroll.

BASIC BENEFITS
For example, take a person who will be 65 on May 10, 1966. He could enroll for the supplemental insurance from Feb. 1, 1966, through Aug. 31, 1966.

Basic benefits (except for nursing-home care) begin July 1, 1966. The supplemental insurance takes effect the third month after you sign up for it—but in no case will it go into force before July 1, 1966. So hang on to any health protection you may have in the meantime.)

There also will be general enrollment periods for people who want to buy supplemental insurance after having missed a chance to do so, or who want to re-enroll after dropping out.

These will be held the last three months of every odd-numbered year starting with 1967.

GRACE PERIOD
You may drop your supplemental insurance at the end of any calendar year. Or the government can drop you after a 90-day grace period if you fail to pay premiums.

If you drop out, you may sign up again for supplemental insurance during any general enrollment period which begins within three years after you quit. If you drop out a second time, you're out forever.

Foster, convicted last Wednesday of the February 1964 slaying of his wife Angela, 25, is awaiting pronouncement of a mandatory life sentence.

Earlier this year, he was sentenced to 10-15 years in prison after pleading guilty to manslaughter in the Dec. 12 strangulation of Mrs. Maurice Crook, 20, a Bloomfield Township divorcee.

'SIMILARITIES'
Whitlock said Foster had agreed to take the test. He added there were definite "similarities" between the Crossland killing and the deaths of Angela Foster and Mrs. Crook.

All three victims had been strangled.

In addition, there are indications that Foster frequented the drive-in strip on Woodward in Birmingham, an area in which Connie Crossland had been seen on several occasions prior to her death.

The Crossland girl was found in a water filled ditch July 10, 1963, southeast of Lake Orion. She had been hit on the head and strangled.

OK Is Likely on Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $7.5-billion housing bill containing a rent subsidy provision for low-income families was ready for final congressional approval today.

Passed yesterday by the Senate, the compromise measure backed by the Johnson administration was scheduled for a mid-afternoon House vote expected to send it to the President.

The bill would authorize creation of new programs and continuation of major existing housing programs for the next four years.

Its most controversial provision is the rent subsidy plan which would cost $350 million over the next four years. Sponsors claim the plan would make 275,000 apartment units available for needy families during the next four years.

The subsidies would be limited to families eligible for public housing under existing standards.

To qualify for a subsidy, a family would have to pay 25 percent of its income for housing. The government would put up the difference between this amount and the normal rent required to finance an apartment project.

The federal payment would go to non-profit-type landlords such as churches, unions, cooperatives or limited dividend corporations.

None of the subsidies would go to private landlords. Tenants would have their eligibility for subsidies if their income increased substantially.

In addition to persons qualifying under present standards, elderly or handicapped persons, persons displaced from their homes by government action, and persons whose homes have been destroyed by a natural disaster would be eligible for subsidy payments.

Meany Is Hit by Reuther in Interview

If the only things you are going to do are convenient and comfortable, the great things will not get done.

"This is the problem as the labor movement gets higher and higher levels of material comfort."

Look, says Reuther, referring to his disagreement with Meany over labor's participation in the 1965 civil rights march on Washington, thinks "Meany has learned a lot."

"If there were a march on Washington next week," he is quoted, "I think he'd be in the front of the parade."

Reuther also is quoted as seeing "marked improvement" in his relationship with Meany in recent months.

Concerning speculation that he will succeed Meany as AFL-CIO president, Reuther reportedly said:

"That job could be a very exciting job if you don't get it under circumstances of spinning your wheels."

Board Sets 2nd Hearing on Blacktopping District

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night declared its intent to proceed on a special assessment blacktopping district on Gienary and Whiteleaf.

Following a public hearing on the proposed $10,840 project involving 35 sites, the board set a second hearing for Aug. 9.

Petitions for the blacktopping project have been signed by over 80 per cent of the area's property owners.

In other business last night, the board upheld prior action by the township's zoning board in denying rezoning of property owned by Bloomfield Chapel.

TO ASSIST ASSOCIATION
Also last night, board members agreed to assist the Fox Hills Home Owners Association in an attempt to control excess speed and heavy traffic in their subdivision.

The board will ask the Oakland County Road Commission to install speed limit signs in the subdivision.

In other business, the board passed a resolution confirming the Chelmsford water main district following a public hearing.

The Birmingham City Commission meeting was cancelled last night because of a lack of a quorum.

At least 10 commissioners were attending the National League of Cities conference in Detroit.

The college board has acquired three campus sites with a total investment of about $1.64 million. Two sites — Auburn Hills (the former Nike base in Pontiac Township) and Highland Lakes (the former TS hospital in Waterford Township) — have facilities to be converted to classrooms.

College officials estimate the total cost to convert these facilities at $684,000. They are to accommodate 3,000 students this fall.

The two campuses will begin with a total instructional staff of about 150 persons.

The third campus — Orchard Ridge — is located south of 14000 and west of Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Township. The 135-acre site is to have buildings by the fall of 1966.

Progress on the development of the college surprises even some of the school's trustees.

"I thought that evening classes in some area high school looked like the only prospect for classes to begin with this year," comments Mosher.

However, Mosher credits the Nike base acquisition with speeding development. The Army virtually eliminated the need for the college to take over the Nike base.

Nevertheless, Mosher remembers that in June 1964, he was chairman of a dream.

That dream will become a reality Sept. 7.

'Can't Stop Latin Revolutions'

Cuba-Style Uprisings Inevitable—Fidel

SANTA CLARA, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro says Cuban-style revolutions are inevitable in Latin America, with or without Cuban support.

Any U.S. efforts to "crush Cuba," even if successful, will not stop the growth of revolutionary regimes like his among Latin-American countries, the Cuban prime minister told an estimated 250,000 persons at a celebration Monday of the 12th the site of many guerrilla attacks against his government, Castro said only three revolutionary groups remain there.

"And they are not organized in the form of bands," he said.

2,005 GUERRILLAS KILLED

Operations against the guerrillas in recent years have resulted in 2,005 guerrillas killed or captured and the death of 295 of his own men, Castro said.

In Caracas, Venezuela, a former Castro diplomat said that a continuing stream of Latin-American youths are getting training in Cuba so they can set up revolutionary movements in their own countries.

Odón Alvarez de la Campa, who resigned as councillor of the Cuban Embassy in Madrid, Spain, in March, told newsmen the Castro regime has a wide-spread network of spies and subversives in Europe and Latin America.

In Moscow, a Soviet official again expressed the Soviet solidarity with the Cuban people against "imperialist provocations." At a reception in the Cuban Embassy, G. I. Voronov, premier of the Russian Federated Republic, said Cuba hoisted "an invincible banner of socialism in the Western Hemisphere."

Role Loss for Aged Stressed

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Entering the ranks of the aged probably causes a person more psychological stress than he feels at any other time in his life, a Western Reserve University sociologist believes.

Perhaps the hardest blow suffered by persons in this age group is that they find they no longer have roles to play in society, Prof. Irving Rosow told the University of Michigan's annual Conference on Aging Monday.

The loss of roles, he said, "devalues and excludes the aged from significant social participation. It deprives them of vital functions that underlie their sense of worth, their self-conception and self-esteem."

"Whatever their abilities," he added, "they are judged invidiously, as if they had little of value to contribute to the world's work and affairs."

AUTOMATIC DROP

Old age, Dr. Rosow said, is the first stage of life to bring an automatic drop in status. Each earlier period usually brings an increase. What is more, he said, our society does not prepare people for this sudden change in the pattern of life.

"Certainly with a broad horizon of leisure and few obligations, many people feel oppressively useless and futile," he said. "They are simply bored—but not quite to death."

Forecast Income Rise Could Trim U.S. Debt

Barreling along in its fifth year of upsurge, a peacetime record, the American economy bids fair to produce $6 to $7 billion more in Federal taxes in fiscal 1965-66 than in the year just ended.

On the assumption that the outgo of the next budget is not in excess of the 1964-65 figure, the additional revenue would give the Johnson Administration choice of one of four economic programs.

One would be to initiate another huge income tax cut on top of the income and excise tax cuts effected during 1964 and 1965.

Another would envisage a vast Federal spending program in the areas of health, welfare, education and conservation.

Still a third would combine the two, each, however, more moderate in scope.

The fourth option, and the one we wholeheartedly approve, would be to use the tax-surplus funds to reduce the national debt, the authorized limit of which, following a recent boost, stands at a fantastic $328 billion.

Inevitably there will be fiscal experts who'll maintain that one of the first three courses is essential to keep the economy heated up in order to achieve the projected excess of government income over outgo.

We'll concede a small point in that direction by suggesting that but a portion of the surplus be initially earmarked for debt reduction, with the remainder subsequently to be used to reduce the debt further or to stimulate the economy — depending on the state of the economic climate.

Reduction of the mounting Federal debt, which threatens in time to devour the American economy, would represent fiscal statesmanship of the highest order, and should be firmly supported by all who have the future of their country at heart.

It is not too soon to acquaint your elected representatives in Washington with your views on this subject.

Juvenile Lawlessness Ignores Nationality

In any analysis of juvenile delinquency, children of Oriental descent have always been conspicuous by their absence from the statistics. Respectful and well-behaved Chinese and Japanese kids just don't get into trouble.

Unfortunately, there are indications this may no longer be true. Police in Sacramento, Calif., for instance, report increasing involvement of Chinese and Japanese youths in such things as thievery and knifings.

Although none of this betokens a trend, and although the police would be quite happy if the rest of the city's adolescent population would emulate the record of the Japanese, such hitherto unheard of incidents have caused much soul-searching among the proud second-generation Japanese, the Nisei.

"Somewhere along the way we are failing," said one elder. Offered a captain of the Sacramento Police Juvenile Bureau: "I imagine it's because the kids are becoming Americanized."

But this explanation only gives rise to other disturbing questions whose implications range wide and deep:

Why should becoming "Americanized" mean losing respect for parents, for neighbors, for law and the rights of others?

What kind of society are we building where a police officer can matter-of-factly consider "Americanized" and "criminalized" as being virtually synonymous?

More important, what can we do to change the situation?

There is little doubt that the answer to that, if there is any one answer and if the experience of the Nisei and Sansei is a valid guide, lies in halting the breakdown of the American family structure — a loosening process that foreign observers detected generations ago but which has accelerated under the stresses of constantly changing modern life.

It is a proposition that not only Japanese but any other American parents might well ponder. Somewhere along the way, all of us are failing.

Rocky Withdrew One Time Before

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller must have thought a lot in nine days, for within that time he decided to do what he had said would be meaningless to do.

He discussed the question of any 1968 presidential ambitions and closed the door on himself. But this wouldn't be the first time he did something like that and changed his mind. What made it remarkable about taking himself out of the presidential race this early is that the Republican field is as wide open as at any time in history.

At this moment no one among the Republicans, including Rockefeller, looks like more than a mere possibility for the GOP nomination three years from now.

Rockefeller, twice elected New York's governor, told a news conference July 16 he would definitely seek a third term in 1966. Winning that, of course, would keep him in public life.

That, in turn, would give him a good foundation for seeking the presidential nomination. But would he try for the presidency three years from now? He avoided a direct answer to newsmen at the July 16 conference.

NOT THINKING
Instead, he said "We are so far away from 1968 it is meaningless" to discuss it. He added: "I am not giving it time or thought."

Then Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," he said he would not be a GOP presidential candidate in 1968 or any other year. He ruled himself out forever. He said something like that once before.

On Dec. 26, 1959, he said he would not be a candidate in the 1960 race. He closed the door on himself that time after touring the country and finding Vice President Richard M. Nixon was away out in front.

He said then his "decision was definite and final."

SECOND THOUGHTS
As the 1960 nominating convention drew near he had second thoughts, although it is hard to see why, since Nixon was still away out in front all by himself. Rockefeller announced he'd be willing to be drafted.

Nixon got the 1960 nomination and lost the election. In 1964, when the field was wide open as now, Rockefeller fought and campaigned for the nomination and actually said he wanted it before anyone else spoke up.

That time Sen. Barry Goldwater got the nomination and lost the election.

Now, with no would-be candidate ahead of any other would-be candidate, it would seem natural for Rockefeller to try again.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon thinking now tends toward the view that an 8 to 1 edge, rather than the often-quoted 10 to 1 ratio, is a more realistic goal for a manpower advantage needed to deal with Communist insurgents in South Viet Nam.

Even an 8 to 1 ratio would indicate a far greater input of U.S. troops than seems in prospect.

The indicated buildup need under this formula would come to perhaps 650,000 more men. If a 10 to 1 ratio were applied, it would point to a requirement for about 800,000 more troops in South Viet Nam.

American troops there now or due soon total about 83,000 and indications are that about 100,000 will be added by the end of this year. Both figures are far short of filling the 8 to 1 ratio.

Calculations for troop strength needed to handle the guerrillas have been lowered because of the rising number of Communist troops, coupled with their bigger fighting units.

BECOMES EASIER
The basis for this seeming paradox is the theory that the more the Viet Cong insurgents get away from hit and run tactics and the more men they field, the easier it becomes to hit them.

The 650,000-man increase on the 8-to-1 ratio is based on the current estimate that about 185,000 Communist troops are opposing about 200,000 Vietnamese troops, plus the 83,000 Americans there or expected shortly and several thousand Koreans, Australians and New Zealanders.

It also takes into account a 100,000-man increase in South Viet Nam's forces. Overall, that would bring the anti-Communist military forces in Viet Nam close to 700,000.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said last week the current ratio of about 4 to 1 is unacceptable. He did not specify an acceptable ratio and has avoided any figure of that sort.

HELICOPTER UNITS
Officials say increased mobility furnished by U.S. helicopter units and added firepower supplied by U.S. jets could be credited with enough impact to hike the 4 to 1 troop ratio to the equivalent of perhaps 6 to 1.

This would still have a deficiency of about 200,000 men.

The 10 to 1 ratio originated in studies made by the Germans of their problems with Russian partisans during World War II and in studies of the British experience in their successful 12-year campaign to suppress Communist guerrillas in Malaya.

Records studied by U.S. experts show that in several classical counterinsurgency wars victory came with considerably less than a 10 to 1 margin.

WON OUT
In Malaya, the British and Commonwealth forces finally won out with a 6 to 1 edge.

In Greece, government forces overcame Communist rebels with a 3 to 1 edge.

In Algeria, on the other hand, the French had a 3 1/2 to 1 edge — and they lost.

It was noted that in Malaya, British forces were aided by the fact that the guerrillas lacked a privileged sanctuary. Malaya had no common boundary with a Communist country.

Leonard Marks, the newly confirmed head of the U.S. Information Agency, obviously possesses, lively, inquiring type of mind needed to disseminate American propaganda abroad.

Some of Marks' astronomer-clients have encountered mysterious objects while bouncing radio signals off solar bodies.

Perhaps the attorney, who studied radio engineering on the side, can figure a way to bounce the free world message to Russian resume jamming our Voice of America broadcasts.

What will be the reaction of the Russian man-in-the-street when U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg has his first eyeball confrontation with his Soviet opposite number at the United Nations?

Will Ivan give thought to the oppressive Russian system, under both czars and Communists, which caused Goldberg's Jewish father to prefer life as a poor fruit peddler in Chicago's slums to his former existence in Russia?

Why is it that no poverty program was required to produce such enormously successful Americans as Arthur Goldberg, Harry Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, "Mr. Speaker" Sam Rayburn, "Veeep" Alben W. Barkley, Abraham Lincoln and thousands of other self-made men and women?

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Supporters of the Dirksen constitutional amendment on state legislative reapportionment appear to have fought their battle with astonishing ineptitude.

The aim of the proposal, of course, is to countermand the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling of 1964, by assuring to the states the power to apportion seats on the basis other than population.

But in making argument the proponents have managed to convey the idea they are opposed to proper representation for the great numbers now crowded into America's cities.

Big labor and civil rights groups thus have been stirred to sharp reaction and have effectively nipped at the one-chance opposition to the Dirksen measure.

It is temporarily stalled in Senate committee, and might well fall on the Senate floor if Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican minority leader, employs some parliamentary device to get it to a vote despite the committee roadblock.

The irony is that, in fact, the state reapportionment issue has not for some time been a rural area vs. big city question.

A new study by the National Municipal League reaffirms strongly that the suburbs, not

Voice of the People:

'Wrong to Force People to Join Unions by Laws'

Regarding Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, it is my opinion that it is not logical to force a man, against his personal and religious beliefs, to join a private organization through legislative decree. Saying that a union member has recourse from union abuses sounds good in theory, but does not work out in fact; too many union heads are absolute dictators.

By the same type of thinking every business organization should be forced to join the local chamber of commerce because the majority of the businesses in the community voted for it.

We have heard of people being imprisoned by the Iron Curtain and the Berlin Wall. If Section 14B is repealed, this administration may become infamous for erecting the Union Wall and depriving minorities of their rights.

'Elderly Can't Afford Higher City Tax'
I thought we were to have a tax cut. Well, my taxes in July were more than they were before the tax cut. Then Hudson gets a bright idea for a storm drain. We will be taxed millions more.

What about the elderly people who can't pay more taxes? Is Hudson going to pay them or are we to lose our homes and go on welfare? Soon there won't be anyone left to pay taxes.

Call your commissioner and protest this crazy spending.

By CARL HARTMAN
BRUSSELS, Belgium — President Charles de Gaulle's boycott of meetings of the European Common Market is slowing down developments of deep concern to the United States and the rest of the world, including the Kennedy Round of tariff talks.

De Gaulle is unfriendly to most of these developments.

The other five members of the Common Market are discussing a proposal designed to end his boycott.

The plan would settle the financing of farm subsidies in the six-nation area for the next five years, which de Gaulle wants. It would postpone putting the money under control of the European Parliament, which he opposes.

It may be months before the French president can be persuaded to send his delegates back to major Common Market meetings.

EXENDED VACATION
Experts working on the Kennedy Round at Geneva have gone on an extended vacation.

The delegates can go on talking about tariffs on industrial products and about an international grain agreement. But the French representative is no longer sitting on the committee that supervises them.

The French government has been one of the countries that was least enthusiastic for the Kennedy Round aimed to cut tariffs on industrial goods as much as 50 per cent.

De Gaulle vetoed Britain's application to join the market. Now a new effort to move closer together, which would be important to Britain's weak economy, is also being held up.

Reapportionment Issues Clouded

the center cities, will be the big gainers from reapportionment rooted in one-man, one-vote. Says the league:

"Almost one-half of the big cities already have less population than their suburbs. By 1970, the overwhelming majority will have less."

Nearly all of this country's stupendous population growth is occurring in the suburbs — at the expense of both rural and city areas.

Many supporters of the Dirksen amendment have voiced repeated fears that strict use of population factors in state reapportionment would lead in many cases to big city dominance.

The League report, prepared by William Boyd, notes that no city holds as much as 50 per cent of its state's population.

Other studies show that only in three states — New York, Arizona and Hawaii — can a combination of three cities be found which produces more than half the state's population. In all others, such combinations fall short.

In Dirksen's own state, Illinois, Chicago and the next two largest cities represent together just 37 per cent of the state's total.

Boyd observes, furthermore, that all cities with as much as 15 per cent of their state's population have been showing percentage declines for the last 20 years.

Obviously, in rooting their case in the rural vs. city rivalry, proponents of the Dirksen formula have flawed their ar-

Warns of Cost on Uneducated

University Official
Renews Fund Pleas

LANSING (AP)—A university policy-maker warned Monday that future costs of dealing with uneducated persons will far exceed the expense of providing the education.

Warren Huff, chairman of the Michigan State University trustees and the Michigan Coordinating Council of Higher Education, renewed the universities' fund plea at a hearing of a House taxation subcommittee.

Referring to predictions by Gov. George Romney that, without new taxes, Michigan could be in the budgetary red in two years, Huff said:

"We would have red figures in this fiscal year if education needs were being met."

LOW PERCENTAGE

"He declared that 75 per cent of the high school graduates should be receiving public higher education instead of the 30-35 per cent now getting it."

"Michigan youngsters are forfeiting their right to training and education for the world in which they live," he declared. "We will have to bear that cost—and this far exceeds the cost of an adequate education program."

"Only when parents and the public realize this will we get adequate support."

Huff said student fees and the property tax portion of education support are at the saturation point.

BONDING PROGRAM

He again asked—as the universities have done for years—that permission be granted for classroom and facilities construction via a bonding program.

He said the state's colleges and universities are three years behind in their building programs. He said Michigan State could not take care of an estimated 42,000 enrollment in two years "without a crash building program."

He quoted Romney as telling him Feb. 5 that Romney would not support bonding because "it would take away a reason for tax reform. Huff said Romney saw tax reform as a better route than bonding to solving Michigan financial problems."

Huff said the dollar problem is denying an education to youngsters who would have been admitted to school four years ago.

"We tell them to go to a community college where there is none," he said. "We say their grades are not good enough when we know a certain percentage of them would succeed."

Robert Turner, president of Macomb County Community College and the Michigan council of community college administrators, said the two-year schools don't get the support necessary to build technical programs.

The subcommittee headed by Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, was beginning a series of summer hearings and the state aimed at securing information on tax reform, Starr, like Romney, favors tax reform.

North Korea Is Charged With Cease-Fire Violations

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command in Korea charged the North Korean Communists today with a series of armistice violations including a clash 500 yards south of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Maj. Gen. William P. Yarborough led the joint Military Armistice Commission that North Korea sent "an armed killer patrol across the military demarcation line" July 19 and the patrol "threw hand grenades at our soldiers in direct and flagrant violation of the cease-fire."

Yarborough, the senior U.N. Command delegate to the truce talks, also said that four armed men from North Korea opened fire on South Korean police agents and killed two of them July 18 in the Songchu resort area 5 miles north of Seoul.

"Two of your armed thugs were captured in the incident," he told North Korean Maj. Gen. Park Chung-ke.

DENIES CHARGE

Park denied the charges and said the United States had manufactured the incidents.

Yarborough also charged that the two-man midget submarine found on the bed of the Han River about 20 miles northwest of Seoul on July 4 was from North Korea.

The crew of the 11-foot sub escaped before the craft was discovered by a South Korean army patrol, the American general said.

The sub was exhibited outside the meeting to a large crowd that included tourists from South Korea and military personnel and reporters from Communist North Korea. The submarine had a North Korean flag and the name of North Korean Premier Kim Il-sung written on it in white paint.

The U.N. Command delegate demanded severe punishment for those responsible for the alleged incidents.

Severe Drought Ends on Processional Ends

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—

Managuans turned out in a large procession Monday to pray for rain in the District of Leon, where a severe drought was threatening the cotton harvest. The procession was led by Bishop Oviedo Reyes of the Roman Catholic Church. A few hours later heavy rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning, broke over Leon and the adjacent drought-stricken District of Chinandega.

Cooperation Vowed by State Unit

GAYLORD (AP) — Planners for state government reorganization have received a promise of cooperation from the State Civil Service Commission, meeting Monday at Gaylord.

Gov. George Romney last week signed into law a measure lumping the state's some 130 state agencies into 19 principal departments.

The commission said it would act on requests for exemption of policy-making positions from civil service upon receipt of detailed organization plan from the heads of the new principal departments or special task forces appointed by the governor to create them.

The State Constitution permits each new department three positions exempt from civil service, if the commission approves.

ASKS FOR PLANS

Romney Friday asked for such plans from 14 of the new agencies by Sept. 1 and asked that five more be set up by task forces by December.

Under the former constitution 91 departments employing classified civil service personnel were allowed two exempt positions each.

The commission agreed to hold special meetings, as needed, to expedite reorganization.

The commission approved a timetable for a state agency-wide suggestion award program for the state's 32,500 classified workers.

CASH AWARDS

The legislature has approved a $20,000 appropriation for cash awards for time- and money-saving suggestions during the fiscal year.

Also approved was a new job safety position to coordinate state agency efforts to reduce on-the-job accidents among state workers. A commission study showed medical and compensation payments for job-incurred accidents among state workers added up to almost $1 million last year.

KING LEADS MARCH — Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. walks in a crowd estimated at more than 10,000 persons who gathered in downtown Chicago yesterday to protest alleged segregation in the city's schools.

Biracial Rights Rally

10,000 March With King in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The civil rights anthem "We Shall Overcome" thundered from an estimated 10,000 persons Monday as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., climaxed his three-day Chicago visit with a march to City Hall.

Whites and Negroes jammed in La Salle Street to hear the integration leader from Atlanta, Ga. The big parade's rear guard never got past State and Madison streets, four blocks from City Hall.

King arranged to fly to Cleveland, Ohio, today to start a two-day round of appearances similar to the more than 18 street rallies, luncheons, marches and church services at which he appeared from Friday night through Monday in Chicago.

The Cleveland visit is the second in a swing of four Northern cities. Philadelphia and Washington will follow Cleveland.

DAILY MARCHES

Monday's parade began in Grant Park on the lake shore, where almost daily marches to City Hall have originated since June 10. The purpose of the marches has been to demand ouster of Benjamin C. Willis from his post as schools superintendent and to force Mayor Richard J. Daley to step into a schools situation which marches claim is plagued by de facto segregation.

The purpose of the march — "Ben Willis must go!" as the marchers shouted it — was the same. But there were many more than the usual 100-odd people. King, 36, estimated the marchers at double to triple the 10,000 in a police estimate.

The police estimate did not include the four- and five-deep throngs that lined either side of the broad Loop streets as paraders filed past 25 abreast. Police said the line stretched eight blocks along the 14-block parade route.

Police said the rush-hour parade did not delay traffic seriously and required only one extra detail of policemen on motorcycles.

"This march will go down in history as one of the greatest marches in our nation," King told the crowd in front of City Hall. The acoustics in the La Salle Street canyon combined with a faulty sound system to make King's speech a mere trickle of sound, but his listeners applauded and cheered.

The biracial march evoked curious stares from some white bystanders.

"I think it's silly," said Raymond E. Parks, 34, on his way to a hospital where his wife gave birth to a baby Saturday. "I have no sympathy for them."

George T. Quebbeman, 39, of suburban Oaklawn, said, "I've been watching all the marches, and in this one the people seem better dressed and — for lack of a better word — of a higher class."

It was the first freedom demonstration he had witnessed, said William M. Ward of North Canton, Ohio, "and I'm rather impressed. If I were Mayor Daley, I think I'd take heed of the chant, 'Mayor Daley must go.'"

Daley was in Detroit at the National League of Cities conference.

To Have Time on His Hands

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — The official town clock winder soon will find himself with time on his hands. The clock won't need winding.

Since 1857, the city has been paying someone to climb the tower stairs at the First Presbyterian Church every week to wind and adjust the town clock.

The City Council voted yesterday to install an electrically powered gear system.

The changeover will cost the city about $1,000—exactly double the amount paid 118 years ago for the original clock.

The city at first paid $75 per year to keep the clock wound. The present clock winder, George Bewig, gets $150 a year.

U.N. Crisis First Task — Goldberg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's new ambassador to the United Nations says the first — and probably one of the most formidable — of his tasks will be an effort to resolve the financial deadlock which has paralyzed the organization for nearly a year.

Former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg planned to present his credentials formally to U.N. Secretary General Thant tomorrow.

Goldberg, who was sworn in yesterday at a White House ceremony, said, "The immediate task at hand is to resolve the constitutional crisis at the United Nations."

He said that the United Nations money troubles "hover like a spectre over the arena of international politics."

But he added that in a period of disagreement within the world organization there should not be undue pessimism but recognition of the numerous U.N. achievements in Iran, Korea, Suez, the Congo and Cyprus.

In addition to the financial deadlock, the 56-year-old one-time labor lawyer also may be called upon in the near future to explain and defend a new and intensified U.S. effort in the Viet Nam War.

Because of this, Goldberg has been included among the participants in the recent series of top-level strategy meetings President Johnson has held.

As for U.N. finances, it was expected that Goldberg's views on the stalemate probably will be heard Aug. 18 when the United Nations 33-member finance committee meets.

At present, the United States maintains that under the provisions of the U.N. Charter Russia, France and several other nations owe the world organization $106 million as their share of the cost of peace-keeping efforts in the Congo and elsewhere.

The charter says that nations in arrears for two years lose their voting rights.

General Strike Call a Failure in Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Greece's leftist General Confederation of Labor tried to take a hand in the nation's political crisis with a general strike today. The government cracked down, and the strike was an almost total failure.

The Greater Athens area showed almost no signs of slowdown. Soldiers and police were on the alert throughout the area.

Factories and dock installations reported they were operating without interruption. All public utilities and communication city buses — union officials said 70 per cent — were on schedule, and there were taxis on the streets.

Almost all hotels, stores, cafes and restaurants in the tourist-crowded Greek capital were open as usual.

The only visible sign of the strike was an occasional army truck supplementing bus services.

Denouncing the 24-hour strike in the Athens-Piraeus area as an illegal move that "indicates a revolutionary action," the new government of Premier George Athanasiadis Novas conscripted workers in key utilities. It ordered them to stay on the job or face legal charges.

Electricity, gas, water and telecommunication services continued without interruption after the start of the strike at midnight.

Private employers were authorized to fire anyone who did not report for work. The government said such workers could be dismissed for breach of contract without payment of the usual compensation.

The government also offered armed protection to any workers defying the strike call.

Police and troops were ordered to crush any disorders in Athens and the nearby port of Piraeus, an area with a combined population of about two million.

The confederation had said it would pull out 110,000 key workers and that another 150,000 would show support in various ways. But even before the government acted, many individuals in the confederation said the strike was a political maneuver and they would not go along.

Confederation General Secretary Nicholas Papageorgiou declared the strike was not called in support of ousted Premier George Papandreu, but because "extreme right-wing elements have mobilized by the government to attack us and to take over the leadership of our confederation."

"We took the initiative because the constitution and the political freedoms and rights of the workers are endangered," he said.

On the eve of the strike, Athanasiadis Novas had said workers would not be forced to stay on the job. He said soldiers and police would take over to keep vital services going.

Stephanopoulos, a 65-year-old economist, said he would accept the premiership if assured the support of the majority of the Center Union members of Parliament. About 100 were reported behind him, leaving Papandreu with about 40. The other 30 are backing Athanasiadis Novas.

Senate Confirms Coleman as Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has confirmed President Johnson's nomination of James P. Coleman to be a judge in the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The former Mississippi governor, opposed by some civil rights groups, was approved by a 78-8 vote.

Against the nomination were Republicans Jacob K. Javits of New York, Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Democrats Phillip A. Hart of Michigan, Wayne Morse of Oregon, Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Gaylord Nelson and William Proxmire, both of Wisconsin.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has acknowledged that it is picking up the tab for Ambassador W. Averell Harriman's "vacation tour" to Moscow and other European capitals.

Harriman supplied the vacation tag before leaving, and President Johnson later added: "I think that the governor has best explained that trip himself by saying it is a vacation. It is not an official government trip. He was not sent there by the President."

A State Department spokesman said Monday that although the government is paying Harriman's expenses, the ambassador is paying for those incurred by his wife and a personal friend.

Among the Harriman talks thus far were two with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kossygin.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has nominated Rep. Oren Harris to be a federal judge for the eastern and western district of Arkansas.

The Arkansas Democrat, 61, has been a member of the House since 1941. He is chairman of the House Commerce Committee.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Monday that Harris is expected to remain in Congress until the present session adjourns.

The appointment must be approved by the Senate.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington attorney Abe Fortas, a close friend of President Johnson, apparently isn't going to take any government job.

Fortas had been mentioned as a possible Supreme Court successor to United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, but White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers scotched that Monday.

Moyers said Fortas has repeatedly told President Johnson that he isn't interested in any government job, from president on down.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called for an investigation into the factors surrounding cancellation of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plans to build a $50-million synthetic rubber plant for Romania.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Monday that "this government considers that Fire-stone's original intentions were in the national interest."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has charged in a Senate speech that Firestone dropped its plans because of "unusual competitive pressures" and "a nuisance boycott campaign by an extremist political organization."

He said the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. distributed right-wing material to its salesmen in a campaign against Firestone, and that the Young Americans for Freedom inspired the boycott.

A 'Capitol' Solution

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — In an attempt to solve the water shortage here, the state is digging deep — right in the basement of the State House.

The current drought diminished this city's water supply to the point where there isn't enough water to keep Capitol lawns and shrubs green.

State Purchasing Director Richard Peale said yesterday the state will tap its own water supply — an artisan well in the Capitol basement.

Marquette Man Killed

MARQUETTE (AP) — Ralph H. Lynch, 64, of Marquette was struck and killed by a car Monday night while walking on U.S. 41 in Marquette County.

Sniper in NY Hits Children in Playground

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper aimed from the roof of a five-story apartment building at a group of about 100 children in a Bronx playground, police said, and wounded a young girl and her brother.

Angelina Argentine, 9, and Carlos, 7, were killed at 5 p.m. Monday near where their mother, Mrs. Carmen Argentine, was sitting with other mothers in the Claremont Village housing project.

The two children may have been hit by the same bullet, police said.

Angelina was struck in the chest by a small-caliber bullet. Carlos was hit in the head, but the bullet did not penetrate his scalp.

ASSAILANT SEEN

A police description said the assailant was about 18 and had been seen firing from the roof at construction workers nearby before the children were wounded.

Police found a number of spent .22-caliber shells on the roof.

Prohibitionists to Meet

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The annual Conference and Workers' Training Program of the Prohibition party will be held here August 3-5. Scheduled speakers included E. Harold Munn of Hillsdale, the party's 1964 presidential candidate.

How to Protect Yourself—II

Constant Vigil Is Price of Security in and Around the Home

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second part of a 12-part series from the new book "How to Protect Yourself on the Streets and in Your Home" by Gene Accas and John H. Eckstein.)

By GENE ACCAS and JOHN H. ECKSTEIN

Here are more tips on keeping the home secure:

• If your home or apartment has screen or storm doors, make sure that they are in good repair and that their latches or hooks work properly!

When you are at home, keep those "outside doors" closed and locked.

• If you have a door that has glass panels, a good idea is to install a double cylinder lock, which is locked with a key from both sides. Even if the glass were broken, no one could get in.

• Terrace, patio and porch (and other) doors... The building and remodeling trend "to bring the outdoors in" has produced many more means of entry to houses.

While attractive and gracious, they are added hazards in our crime-ridden era.

Here are some rules to help reduce their potential danger:

Make sure that all such doors are equipped with latches or other means for securing them. This precaution should also apply to the screen doors which usually "cover" these extra doors.

The glass of the doors should be tempered, Herculeite, or even wire-mesh glass, so as to minimize chance of entry by breaking the glass and unlocking the door.

• If your front or back door has its hinge plates on the outside, you can get a tamper-resistant screws to replace existing ones. These screws can be screwed in but not out, thus effectively preventing anyone from breaking in by unscrewing the hinges and removing the door.

A GOOD HABIT:

Just as you have a bedtime routine—preparing for bed, washing, laying out clothes, etc.—develop a "safety routine."

Make a quick tour of your home, checking to see that all doors and windows are properly locked and in every way making certain—every night—that your home is break-in-proof.

To start with, make up a list and a route. Write it down. Use this check list faithfully, until such time as your "safety routine" becomes as much of a habit as your bedtime routine.

Here is a simple, sample "safety routine" sheet. Make up your own, to meet your own needs and problems, and use it every night, until the complete safety check-up becomes automatic for you.

1. For each of my outside doors...

(a) Is screen (storm) door secured from inside?

(b) Is spring latch lock "button" pressed in "lock" position?

(c) Are both locks on door double-locked?

(d) Is chain (or other "short-stop" device) in place?

2. If you have a burglar (fire) alarm, is it connected and in order?

3. Are all windows (and don't forget floor-length sliding door-windows) properly secured? Are all accessible windows (ground level, upper story, overlooking porch or overhead, adjacent to fire-escape, trellis, drainpipe, etc.) properly locked or barred?

4. Is private home—the fire ladder in position and working order?

5. Are garage doors locked? Is ladder under lock and key?

6. If you have a basement—are doors to the outside locked? What about access door into house from basement itself?

7. Is night light (visible from outside as a "glow," but not in direct view through a window) lit?

8. Are shades (curtains, venetians, etc.) drawn?

9. Are flashlight and "weapon" handy by bed?

10. Is the telephone in working order? Is emergency list of numbers handy?

You should insist on a "dead-fall" lock.

With a second lock, anyone who tries to enter your home has more than double trouble.

A second lock is a most effective discourager to hoodlums, because it shows them that you are alert.

WARNING: You are never safe if your door has a "spring latch" form of lock. This can be opened from the outside by depressing the latch with a strip of flexible steel, a piece of plastic or celluloid, or even a playing card!

If your doors are equipped with the spring latch form of lock only (it is immediately outside as a "glow," but not in direct view through a window) lit?

Both forms employ a steel bar, which nests in a floor plate and fits into a special socket on the inside of the door.

There are several burglar alarm systems on the market—and they need not be wired (connected) to the Pinkerton, Holmes, or other private protection organizations.

One, the DADCO alarm, is a most effective anti-burglar device. It is attached to front and back (and other) doors.

TURN IT ON

When you go out or retire, you turn it on. If someone breaks into your home, a moment after entry the device gives off a piercing, long-lasting sound.

The criminal cannot know

Every outside door should have a second tumbler lock installed. The cost can run from twenty to forty dollars, but it is well worth it.

Both forms employ a steel bar, which nests in a floor plate and fits into a special socket on the inside of the door.

There are several burglar alarm systems on the market—and they need not be wired (connected) to the Pinkerton, Holmes, or other private protection organizations.

One, the DADCO alarm, is a most effective anti-burglar device. It is attached to front and back (and other) doors.

TURN IT ON

When you go out or retire, you turn it on. If someone breaks into your home, a moment after entry the device gives off a piercing, long-lasting sound.

Every outside door should have a second tumbler lock installed. The cost can run from twenty to forty dollars, but it is well worth it.

With a second lock, anyone who tries to enter your home has more than double trouble.

A second lock is a most effective discourager to hoodlums, because it shows them that you are alert.

WARNING: You are never safe if your door has a "spring latch" form of lock. This can be opened from the outside by depressing the latch with a strip of flexible steel, a piece of plastic or celluloid, or even a playing card!

To Explain Plans for Sewer Arm

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — New plans for a Walnut Lake sewer arm will be explained to township residents tomorrow night.

The project developed by the Township Board and Oakland County Department of Public Works is similar to the one abandoned last year in the face of hearty opposition.

There is one major difference — the proposal now under consideration calls for financing the arm on a use basis.

Property owners would pay for the facility as they took advantage of it.

If they never used it, the arm wouldn't cost them a cent.

NEW PROPOSAL

Officials believe the new proposal will answer most of those residents originally opposed to the arm.

While agreeing that the facility was needed, objectors last year were more than reluctant to back establishment of a special assessment district.

Enough of them signed written protests to halt action on the program.

An informational meeting on the new plans will be held at 8 p.m. at West Bloomfield High School.

The Walnut Lake arm, an extension of the Farmington interceptor, would be constructed in the area between 14 Mile and Pine Lake from east of Inkster to just east of Orchard Lake Road.

West Bloomfield's share of the $1,727,000 cost would be $1,508,775, with Bloomfield and Farmington townships splitting the rest.

Financing in West Bloomfield Township would be done through two types of fees to be paid by property owners as they made use of the arm.

A unit capital charge would be paid by all users, whether served directly by the trunk or by a lateral extending from it.

$350 FIRST YEAR

This charge would be $350 the first year and would increase $25 a year to a maximum of $650.

The rate hikes reflect the amount of interest necessary to finance the program over 13 years.

The other connection fee would be paid only by those property owners tapping directly into the trunkline.

In addition to the unit charge, they would pay $300 to $10. The maximum rate, effective after 14 years, would be reached in $15 steps.

PROPERTY SERVED

The property to be served by the Walnut Lake arm constitutes the only area in that portion of the township which does not have access to either the Farmington or Evergreen sanitary sewer systems, Township Supervisor John C. Rehard said.

However, he noted that lateral lines have not been constructed in all areas where they might be.

The supervisor said development in the Walnut Lake area has been slowed by the lack of sewer lines.

Meanwhile, homes are going up at a rapid rate west of there, he noted.

AVAILABILITY OF SEWERS

"All of that building can be directly attributed to the availability of sewers," he said.

Rehard last year labeled abandonment of the project "the most severe setback this township has had in years in its program of progressive planning."

Hope Five School Jobs to Be Done

FARMINGTON — School officials are hopeful that all five of the system's construction projects will be completed in September—but they stand ready to make adjustments if the building program lags.

A report last night to the school board by architects for the building program indicated the situation is "touch and go" on whether all five projects can be finished by Sept. 9 when classes begin.

The main problem now, according to the three architectural firms, is keeping sufficient skilled tradesmen on the job.

Many construction workers, particularly masons, are in short supply due to the extensive amount of building in the area, the architects explained.

Last night's progress report indicated students can be placed at North Farmington High School and East Junior High School even if additions to these buildings are not entirely ready.

CHANGING PLANS

However, failure to complete the new Larkshire Elementary School and additions to Bond and Middle Belt elementary schools would require changing pupil placing plans.

School administrators will prepare adjustments next month to appear as the elementary schools will not be ready.

In other business last night, the board opened bids on a budgeted $70,000 addition to Farmington High School and rejected all six proposals.

The bids ranged from $109,000 to $117,000.

Board members took no action to reschedule bids on the addition project.

JUST DUCKY—The 12 families who live on the Huron River west of Benstein Road in Commerce Township aren't too happy about the dam that's keeping the level of Commerce Lake up and the level of the river down. Here 10-year-old Danny Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Norman, 1806 Morgan, stands in the center of the river once pined by canoes. The Oakland County Drain Office, legally bound to maintain the lake level, notes there's been a lack of precipitation recently and things are dry all over.

Can Board Decide?

Zone Appeal Pending

HOLLY TOWNSHIP

With plenty of legal opinion to use in its deliberations, the Holly Township Zoning Board of Appeals is trying to decide how far its jurisdiction extends.

James F. Shea, Detroit attorney representing Holly industrialist Fred D. Barton, claims the board can rule on Barton's request to establish a mobile home park in the northwest portion of the township.

After being turned down by the Township Board, Barton took to the appeals board his plans to create a mobile home retirement village on a 180-acre site at the corner of Fish Lake and Kirtz roads.

Township Attorney Robert A. McKenney has said the appeals board has no authority in the case.

Sharing McKenney's opinion is Harry B. McAr of Flint, the attorney hired by township residents opposed to Barton's plans.

SOUGHT REZONING

In order to build the trailer park, Barton had sought rezoning which would change the classification of the property from agricultural-residential to commercial.

Some 200 residents signed petitions against the request and the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee recommended that it not be granted.

The Township Board therefore declined approval.

McKenney noted that as a quasi-judicial body the appeals board can act only in cases which call for variances.

NOT A VARIANCE

"What is required here is not a variance but rezoning," he said. "The property owner does not face an unusual hardship. He could develop the property under the present zoning."

Rezonning is a form of legislation and does not fall under the board's jurisdiction, McKenney added.

Shea said he bases his claim on the practices and history of the board, which has granted permits allowing house trailers to be parked in the neighborhood.

QUESTIONS RULING

The argument that the ruling is outside the board's jurisdiction "is no more applicable to our situation than is that across the street," he said.

According to his attorney, Barton sees the property in question as being "temporarily unsuitable for a retirement village."

"We feel it's the best possible use of the property," Shea said.

Expected to make a decision on the matter this week, the appeals board is headed by Stanley Hanson, who is also a township trustee.

NOT SO CERTAIN

Hanson is not so certain the appeals board could overrule the Township Board.

"I don't think the appeals board is going to have much strength there," he said. "Why it was brought up before us I don't know."

For Diabetic Children

Visit to Doctor Begins Day at Camp

LEONARD — Every day 120 youngsters at Camp Medica happily splash about in the lake, participate in a fast game of tennis, go on overnight hikes, or work on arts and crafts.

However, before this normal camping routine can begin, the children must line up each morning for their insulin shots.

They are diabetic patients.

Ranging in age from 8 to 16, these youngsters are given a chance at this camp, located north of Leonard, to be with others with the same problem.

They also find out they can participate in the same activities as normal children.

DON'T REALIZE

"Many of these children don't realize they can take part in normal activities because they have been told all their lives they must be careful," said Mrs. Katherine Claus of the Oakland County Health Department.

"Often this changes their outlook on life," she commented.

The camp is staffed by three doctors, four nurses, two dietitians and other camping personnel such as counselors.

The facility for diabetic youngsters was started in 1925 when a doctor from Grace Hospital in Detroit took some of his young patients out camping.

WAS UNKNOWN

"Of course, this was something unheard of at that time," said Mrs. Claus. "It was thought then that diabetic youngsters just weren't long for this world."

The ladies auxiliary of the hospital then took on the camp as a project but dropped it when it became too much.

It was resurrected when the Michigan Diabetes Association was formed about 16 years ago.

Water Deal Extension Is OK'd in Troy

TROY—The City Commission last night approved an extension of the city of Birmingham to purchase water from the Walker Well for one month, ending Aug. 30.

This is an extension of an agreement which Birmingham wanted to terminate July 31.

In 1962, Troy agreed to purchase water from the well to service an area on Maple east of Coolidge.

The five-year contract gave either party the right to terminate the agreement with six months notice.

In January, Birmingham notified Troy it intended to withdraw as of July 31.

The two commissions will meet Aug. 12 to discuss the situation.

Glenn Miller Orchestra Will Play at Beach

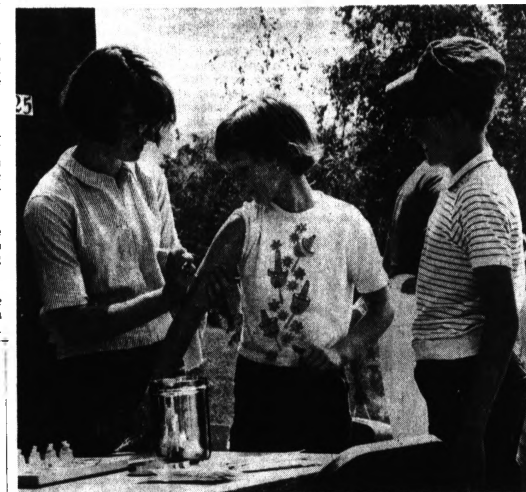

The Glenn Miller Orchestra will play for a special dance at Metropolitan Beach west of Mount Clemens Sunday.

Trumpeter Bobby Hackett will replace Ray McKinley as band leader. The 8:30 p.m.-midnight dance is free, although there is a charge for parking at the Lake St. Clair beach.

CHOW TIME — Hungry young campers eagerly look forward to meal time at Camp Medica. Margaret Mary Harm of Detroit does out sandwiches, potato chips and bananas to (from left) Mary Sue Harm, Tom Barbieri and Bob Shapiro, all of Detroit. The youngsters are hearty eaters, according to camp dietitians. In addition to regular meals, they must have two snacks a day instead of one usually provided at other camps.

GETTING THE NEEDLE—Every morning, before they can start the day's activities, diabetic children at Camp Medica, near Leonard, must get their insulin shots. Lining up for the shots administered by Sue Fogarty, a nurse from Muskegon, are Romyne Schoen and Daniel Prantz, both of Detroit. This procedure is about the only one that differs from an otherwise normal camping routine.

Utica School Board Adopts New Budget

UTICA — A $6.4-million budget which includes a number of restorations in the school program was adopted by the board of education last night.

The new budget represents a $1.7-million increase over last year's "austerity" budget which included a number of cutbacks in the school program.

The austerity budget was adopted after a four-mill operational levy increase and a $7.5-million bond issue were turned down by voters in January 1964.

A bond issue and millage and proposal subsequently were approved in December 1964.

Under the new budget, as many first and second graders as possible will be put back on full-day sessions. They have been on half-days.

The junior high school will go from a five- to six-hour day, and transportation will be restored throughout the district.

School bus transportation had been eliminated by the board within the 1½-mile limit set by the state for reimbursement of operating costs.

The largest budgetary increase is in instruction. This adjustment will amount to $4,444,000 as compared to $3,346,000 last year.

Schools Supt. Phillip E. Runkel said the increase represents new teachers, teachers for the restored programs and raises and will bring the district nearly back to the average for a district of its size.

OTHER SPENDING

Other areas of expenditure include administration, $116,000; plant operation, $645,000; plant maintenance, $138,000; transportation, $382,000; capital outlay, $96,000; community services, $18,000; student services, $28,000; and fixed charges, $158,000.

Main areas of revenue will include $3,156,000 from local sources, $2,934,000 from the state and $164,000 from federal sources.

In other action, the board approved the high school planning concept which gives more attention to the noncollege-bound student.

The architect now can go ahead with plans for the new high school which will be based on three basic concepts — dignity, discovery and dispersion.

A large proportion of Utica High School graduates don't go on to college, and officials decided that a new high school should be built around this premise to give more "dignity" to a noncollege program.

Street Crews Finishing Job

Roadways in Pontiac Are Being Sealed

City crews are nearing the end of the city's 1965 street sealcoating program, a form of maintenance work for residential streets.

Only three streets remain to be done in this year's program of 14 local streets.

Clyde Christian, superintendent of the Department of Public Works, said that sealcoating is not resurfacing and does not produce the same long-lasting surface.

However, he added that the process is widely used and accepted as a form of preventive maintenance, serving to prolong the life of an asphaltic concrete street surface.

Relatively inexpensive (25 cents per square yard), sealcoating is a two-step process. City DPW crews do the labor.

NO CHARGE

Since sealcoating is considered maintenance work, like patching pot holes, there is no charge to property owners. The cost is borne by the city.

Christian said $15,000 was budgeted this year for the sealcoat program. The funds came from the street maintenance fund, which is supported principally from gasoline and weight tax monies returned to the city by the state.

While sealcoating is not always the answer to a deteriorating street, Christian said that each year the city conducts a survey to determine where sealcoating is to be applied for that year.

Residents receive word of the sealcoating when a DPW employee distributes a handbill a few days in advance of the work.

NO PARKING

Temporary "no parking" signs are posted on the street days preceding the work. The process itself consists of:

- Sweeping and flushing the street.
- Application of two layers of asphalt emulsion and small size crushed slag.
- Rolling the street with a 10-ton pneumatic-tired roller.
- Leaving the asphalt emulsion to "cure" or dry for about a day.

Christian said that the use of new sealcoating methods, improvements in equipment and more rigid control of materials has solved many of the old problems, such as dust and "bleeding," which makes the new surface appear sticky in the early hours of the curing process.

The DPW superintendent noted that traffic control is still a problem. Car tires, he said, will damage the surface in the early hours of the curing process begins.

STREETS CLOSED

To solve this, the street is barricaded and closed to traffic until nightfall.

Christian said a policeman is with the sealcoating crew at all times. Violators are ticketed and illegally parked cars have been hauled away.

After the curing takes place, city crews return a few days later to sweep up the loose slag, leaving a smooth surface which prolongs the life of the pavement for several years.

Physician Calls Sale 'Unethical'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Christopher Wood, a Myrtle Beach, S.C. eye physician, denounced today the practice of many doctors of selling the eyeglasses they prescribe for patients.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, Wood called the practice unethical and a sign of avarice by doctors. He urged Congress to consider passing laws to forbid it.

He aimed his statement mainly at doctors who sell the eyeglasses they prescribe, but said it applied to other fields of medicine as well. He said most ophthalmologists are selling glasses in addition to treating and prescribing for patients' eye troubles.

Eugene J. Lane, Tucson, Ariz., lawyer for opticians who produce glasses prescribed by doctors, charged in prepared testimony that patients have complained of coercive tactics by doctors trying to sell what they prescribe.

"I feel that if the conduct of doctors exploiting the public is allowed to continue unabated," Lane said, "either by the medical society itself or by legislative action, in the long run the public as a whole will suffer drastic consequences."

He said eye doctors could freeze opticians out of the market, and charge what they pleased for glasses. Lane said that if that happens "the captive patient of the future will be financially at his doctor's mercy."

He told of patients who, he said, claim to have been overcharged for glasses they got through their eye doctors.

Lane said he had complained "to no avail" to the Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission, and feels it is time now for Congress to "rectify this apparent wrong being done to the dispensing opticians' trade."

The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., opened the hearing to a statement he had made public Monday that the American Medical Association seemingly "does not care to — or is unable to — assume the opticians' role" in stopping doctors from peddling the things they prescribe.

Koreans Line Streets During Rhee Funeral

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Half a million Koreans lined streets of Seoul today as the body of former President Syngman Rhee was carried to a grave in the National Cemetery on the southern bank of the Han River.

Funeral service was held in the Chungdong Methodist church which Rhee used to attend. Nearby City Hall Plaza was jammed, and the half-mile-long procession was stalled for 20 minutes there after it left the church.

A memorial program had been planned at the plaza, with recordings of some of Rhee's speeches to be played. It was called off because of the confusion.

The former president, who was overthrown by a student-led revolt in 1960, died July 19 in Honolulu. He was 90.

Apparent Heart Attack Woman Dies After Derailment

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — An autopsy was scheduled today for a South Dakota woman who died after the derailment of a Chicago-to-Denver passenger train.

Alma Conlon, 77, of Wagner, S.D., died Monday night of an apparent heart attack. She had suffered a fractured spine in the accident.

Logan County authorities said the autopsy would be performed to determine whether Mrs. Conlon died as a result of the derailment.

Six persons remained hospitalized. They were among 53 injured when the westbound City of Denver, operated by the Union Pacific Railroad, left the tracks early Monday morning.

363 PASSENGERS

A railroad spokesman said 363 passengers were on the 18-car train, when the last nine cars jumped the rails at a spot crossed by other trains only a short while before.

The accident was the second passenger train derailment in Colorado within 12 hours.

Late Sunday, the California Zephyr, southbound for Denver from San Francisco and Salt Lake City, skidded off rails weakened tracks in the mountain some 40 miles west of Denver.

The Denver, Rio Grande & Western Zephyr carried 363 passengers, none of whom were injured.

Airman Breathes Life Back Into Tot After Rescue

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — A 18-year-old airman who heard a baby girl's parents calling her Monday night rescued the child from nearby Elk Lake and breathed life back into her body, police said.

Michael Blouch, a medic on leave from Gunner Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala., told officers he came out onto the porch when he heard the cries of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Carnall of Bluffton, Ind.

Blouch said he saw toys floating in the lake and ran to the spot, where he found 20-month-old Diane Carnall face down in two feet of water.

The airman said he applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and the child revived. She was reported in good condition at a hospital here.

Bomb Hits the Office of 3 CORE Lawyers

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A fire bomb exploded late Monday night outside the office of three civil rights attorneys pleading federal court contempt proceedings here against Bogalusa police officials.

The incendiary device punctured an automobile radiator and broke the glass in the front door of the law office of Robert Collins, Nils Douglas and Lois Ellis.

The three attorneys represented the Congress of Racial Equality in federal court Monday as chief U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry began hearing the contempt proceedings launched by the civil rights organization and the Department of Justice.

At one point, after watching movies of racial turmoil at Bogalusa, Judge Christenberry told government lawyers to bring before him two more police officers for criminal and contempt action.

HEARING CONTINUES

The hearing continued today and there were indications that it might last all week.

Bogalusa's Police Commissioner Arnold Spiers and Police Chief Claxton Knight have been accused by the Justice Department and CORE of failing to obey Judge Christenberry's July 10 ruling that demonstrators be protected from angry whites.

CORE also wants Washington Parish Sheriff Dorman Crowe and other law officers convicted of civil contempt.

Judge Christenberry has placed criminal contempt proceedings against Spiers and Knight on his regular docket. They will be heard later.

Plans Private School in Selma for Whites Refusing to Integrate

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A private school for white pupils willing to go to class with Negroes is being established in the city where the current civil rights struggle in Alabama began.

Leaders of a newly formed private school foundation in Selma have promised to start classes in September in a white-columned mansion once occupied by a Confederate Civil War general.

They hope the state will foot the bill with tuition grants. But the foundation president, Robert D. Wilkinson, says, "We're going to have a school whether we get the money or not."

A bill to authorize the use of public funds in any city or county for "pupils attending private school is pending in the legislature."

$185 A YEAR

It would make up to $185 a year available for a child whose assignment to public school would, in the judgment of his parents, be "detrimental to his physical or emotional health" or subject the child to "hazards to personal safety."

The bill makes no mention of race or color.

Alabama has a tuition-grant law now, but a three-judge federal court has prohibited its use. Unlike the pending new measure, the law provides for grants only when public schools have been ordered integrated.

Sponsors of the new bill are hopeful the federal courts will approve the tuition grant plan where no mention is made of segregation.

The private school foundation was organized after the Selma School Board had agreed to desegregate the first four grades this fall.

Hospital Releases 'Puncher'

DETROIT (UPI)—Police Sgt. Robert M. Robertson, 37, was discharged yesterday from Herman Kiefer Hospital where he was under observation since Saturday when he slugged his client enant at the scene of a civil rights demonstration.

Lt. George Rose, 38, said he was ordered to the scene to make sure the demonstration was orderly. He said he found everything peaceful and talked with picket leaders who assured him there would be no disturbance.

He said that while he was talking with the demonstrators, Robertson, who left his post at the station house against Rose's orders that he remain in charge there drove up, jumped out of his cruiser and began yelling to the pickets, "Get out of here. You can't do that."

Rose said he feared the agitation might set off a melee among the demonstrators and ordered Robertson back into the police car at least five times while blocking him from the pickets.

Then, Rose said, Robertson slugged him. Rose required no hospital treatment.

MODEL SERGEANT

Rose, who has been on the force since 1945 and has held supervisory posts since 1956, described Robertson as a model sergeant with "nerves of steel." Robertson has been a policeman since 1950. He formerly was a detective and was promoted in 1961 to uniform sergeant. He holds six citations.

Whether Robertson will face trial board action depends on results of his medical examination, police officials said. He was suspended from the force pending official action in the case.

Suspects Claim Innocence in Death of Millionaire

MIAMI (UPI)—Candace Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, denied killing Texas millionaire Jacques Mossler yesterday during arraignment and were returned to jail to await legal efforts to free them on bond.

Attorneys for the pair filed writs following a six-minute arraignment before Circuit Judge George E. Schultz in which they pleaded innocent to first degree murder charges.

It was the first face-to-face meeting in more than a year for Powers, 22, and his 46-year old Aunt Candace.

The meeting caused no apparent reaction from the two, who the state alleges killed Mossler because he was interfering with their love affair.

Texas Clyde Woody, Mrs. Mossler's attorney, also filed motions to view all the state's evidence in the case and to get a complete list of state witnesses.

BADLY BEATEN

Mossler, who earned $15 million during his financial dealings, was stabbed 39 times and beaten in his $170-a month Key Biscayne apartment here in 1964.

Powers and Candace exchanged only two quick glances, a nod and a smile during the formal arraignment in a downtown courtroom jammed to capacity with newsmen and spectators.

Following the hearing, Mrs. Mossler's son-in-law, Gary Wilder, 27, became embroiled in a street fight with UPI Florida Newspictures manager Hugo L. Wessels.

Wessels, 27, swore out a warrant charging Wilder with assault and battery. The veteran UPI photographer, who said Wilder attacked him while he was taking pictures of the Messler children, was hospitalized with a broken nose, cuts and bruises.

TRIAL NOV. 15

Schultz set trial for Mrs. Mossler and Powers for Nov. 15 after denying a motion from Asst. State Atty. Arthur Huttee to move the date up to avoid a possible conflict with the Thanksgiving holidays.

Following the arraignment, Powers, Mrs. Mossler and their attorneys huddled behind closed doors for nearly half an hour to plan strategy in the case.

Harvey St. Jean, one of Powers' three-man defense team, said the meeting "was all business," but declined to say what was discussed other than "strategy."

May Put 'Gas Stations' in Space for Astronauts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Within 15 years or so, astronauts headed outward for the planets Mars or Venus may stop by orbiting "service stations" to gas up for the long trip, a U.S. space engineer suggested today.

L. L. Morgan, staff engineer for Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., Sunnyvale, Calif., said space-going tankers carrying huge quantities of rocket fuel "may be a requirement of future interplanetary missions."

Morgan put his idea before more than 5,000 U.S. scientists and engineers at today's second session of the four-day annual meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA).

Earlier, the group was told that, in the race to shoot heavy-weight satellites into Earth orbit, the United States can still do better than the Soviet Union — by at least 130 pound.

Morgan said orbiting tankers, or service stations, filled with propellants such as liquid oxygen, hydrogen and high-grade kerosene "appears to be a feasible method of operation."

INITIAL SUPPLY

Under this arrangement, astronauts could use their initial fuel supply simply to get into orbit. There, they would gas up again for the hop across interplanetary space.

The technique is one possible way to sidestep the building prohibitively costly superrockets bigger than the U.S. Saturn-5 moonrocket.

U.S. scientists already are studying ways to develop rocket "muscles" that could lift a 1-million-pound satellite into space.

America's charge of its heavy-weight booster brigade into the cosmos was revealed in detail — with some surprises.

Russia launched the world's heaviest satellite, its 26,840-pound Proton-1, into orbit 11 days ago — but the Soviets failed to wrest the booster power leadership from America.

SAME POSSIBLE

"I think we could have done the same thing," with the new Titan-3C superrocket, Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymaier, Air Force deputy commander for manned systems, said.

William G. Purdy, general manager of launch vehicles for Martin Co., Denver, Colo., provided statistics to prove it.

An "engineering analysis" of the first Titan-3C launching last June 18 "shows that a payload of nearly 27,000 pounds could have been orbited."

W. German Admits Spying for Israel

CAIRO (AP)—West German horse breeder Johann Wolfgang Sigmund Lotz pleaded guilty today to six charges of spying for Israel's intelligence service but denied he tried to assassinate German rocket experts working in the United Arab Republic.

Lotz, who is on trial with his wife and Franz William Kiesow, an employee of a West German steel company, pleaded innocent in a state security court to four charges of attempted terrorism against Germans in the U.A.R. He told the court he joined the Israeli intelligence service in Berlin and came to Cairo in January, 1961.

The price of the microwave oven may be brought within the homeowners range by the use of a newly-developed magnetron tube.

The exact figure, informed sources said, was 26,970 pounds — 130 pounds more than Proton-1.

Bleymaier revealed that Titan-3C, a triple-barreled space machine developing more than 24 million pounds of thrust, is scheduled for its second flight Sept. 30 from Cape Kennedy — an attempt to orbit a payload with 19 separate experiments.

If all goes well, scientists will turn the rocket's upper stage on and off at least 10 times — a space record.

Four more Titan-3C rockets will be launched by next June, Bleymaier said. Each will carry "working payloads" — perhaps as many as eight satellites at a time.

But Bleymaier declined to discuss Titan-3C's biggest potential job — that of lifting the Air Force's Manned Orbital Laboratory (MOL) into space starting in 1968. MOL has yet to win official Pentagon approval.

"Our work is completed," he said. "I understand the proposals were favorably received. I say favorably, because we did not get thrown out."

"I think we are in excellent condition" to get a go-ahead, said Bleymaier.

He Needs His Mother More Than He Needs You

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend's mother has spent the past 30 years convincing him that she has a serious heart condition.

I am sure she is just putting on an act to get attention from Gene. She's been a widow for years, and Gene is her only "child." (A 40-year-old child!) She shovels coal for the furnace, can out-shout anyone in an argument, and runs up and down stairs like a teenager. I have dated Gene for three years, but have been invited to his mother's home only once.

Newlyweds Cruising on Lake Huron

Cruising Lake Huron on a 28-foot sloop are Ens. and Mrs. Kendrick Wayne Wentzel (Sheila Ramey) who were wed recently in St. Mark's Lutheran Church.

Rev. William C. Grafe performed the double-ring ceremony for the couple whose parents are the Carneys Rameys of Allegan and the Williams J. Wentzels of Westacres.

ARCH OF SWORDS Leaving the church for the reception in Westacres Club House, the newlyweds passed beneath an arch of swords held by Cadet Eric Wentzel, USAF Academy, his brother's best man, along with their father, Maj. Wentzel; Lt. Richard and Bayer USAF; Cmdr. Alvin Iselhardt; Ens. William Newton and Maj. Norbert Fox USAF.

Alencon lace motifs accented the bride's Empire gown and court train of white silk organza. Her illusion veil fell from a filigree crown of crystal prisms.

Eddie Cushman attended as honor maid and Debbie Ramey was her sister's flower-girl.

Seating guests at the evening rite were Owen Ramey and Mark Cosgrove.

DEAR ABBY: My wife works in an office. For years, just to keep peace in the family, I have put up with the office Christmas party, to which no husbands or wives are invited.

Now something new has started. The office birthday party! The girls in the office bake cakes for the men.

The other day my wife's boss asked her to bake a cake for his office birthday party.

Now, Abby, am I wrong to object to my wife baking for another man?

I feel if the boss wants some one to bake him a cake he should ask his own wife to bake it for him. Am I wrong?

ANTI-OFFICE PARTIES DEAR ANTI: Yes. Probably the boss' wife is a poor cook and your wife could be stirring up both a cake—and a raise.

CONFIDENTIAL TO AGGRAVATED MOM: It's not worth getting an ulcer over. If she doesn't clean her room, rake it once a week and forget it.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Company Supplies Working Wardrobe

Fringe Benefits for Employees

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Many women working in California financial institutions have a fringe benefit men do not enjoy.

But few men are clamoring for it — although the benefit in some cases carries real fringe. It's clothing — custom-styled suits and dresses.

A survey of 170 firms indicates 15 of them supply employees with garments, 21 contemplate it and 124 don't. Twenty of the 124 said their women objected, some vehemently.

"They'll eliminate the enjoyment I get out of planning a wardrobe and getting dressed up," said one dissenter. "I'm not about to wear the same thing to work every day."

But the trend seems to be gaining popularity with management.

HARMONIOUS DRESS Reasons vary, but many are summed up by Agnes Blomquist, president of Newport Balboa Savings, who believes she started the practice in California 11 years ago. From behind her polished wood and white leather desk the petite Miss Blomquist presents a neat picture of harmonious — "Please, not uniform" — dress. She wears one of the special suits daily.

"We felt it shouldn't be a uniform, with our interest rate engraved on the buttons, or anything like that," she said. "Uniform dress can, and does inspire confidence both among customers and employees," she said.

"Customers, if they see employees in casual dress, are likely to think, 'Will they be casual with the business I'm bringing them?"

"And, I've seen that getting into the suits inspires confidence within the girls," Miss Blomquist said. "The neat ones become just a little bit neater."

Of 50 women workers, only 2 don't subscribe to the uniform dress plan, option for all but the 15 female executives.

TWO EACH YEAR

"We have two suits, and buy a new one each six months, footing half the cost," Miss Blomquist said.

"The employees pay the other half, by payroll deduction if they like. It costs them about $12 per month."

Another firm, with 45 employees in its five branches, supplies two suits and pays for dry-cleaning.

"We estimate it costs $12,000 a year to clothe the women," said Marion Brant, purchasing agent at Belmont Savings, Long Beach.

"We've been doing this for four years, and all are very happy with the plan."

At Belmont the employees attend a small fashion show when it's time to choose a new outfit.

SOME DON'T

Chain banks generally do not subscribe to the idea, mainly because of the number and turnover rate of their personnel.

Said a Bank of America spokesman: "We thought of putting lobby hostesses in uniform, but decided not to. The idea is for the girl to recognize the customer, not for the customer to have to recognize the girl."

A Beverly Hills savings and loan association got this reaction when it proposed special garb: "Who wants to become a blob?"

State BPW Member Honored by Embassy

At a recent reception in the Chinese Embassy, in Washington, D.C., Virginia R. Allan of Wyandotte was one of eight leaders of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc. to be honored.

Citations were presented for the Federation's work in spearheading the establishment of the Minnie L. Maffett Nurses Residence in Taipei, Taiwan (Formosa).

The late Dr. Maffett was national president of the Federation in 1941 when the fund was set up through the Federation's Chinese Nurses project to train nurses of the Free Chinese Army.

Some 5,000 BPW's from across the country are attending a five-day business-packed agenda which ends on Thursday.

SPEAKER

Miss Allan is the keynote speaker today at the Federation Promotion Forum on "The Challenge of Change" in the Sheraton Park Hotel.

She appeared on Monday's evening panel on "Challenges Facing Our Nation," along with other past national Federation presidents.

Back by popular demand for the second year will be Laurence J. Taylor, vice president for Leadership Development at Hillsdale College.

He will address the Wednesday afternoon membership workshop on "Growth on Purpose."

Bride-Elect

Ruth A. Kramp

Is Honored

A recent pantry shiner in the home of Judy Kern at Lake Ann, honored bride-elect Ruth Ann Kramp, daughter of the Louis S. Kramps of Cutler Street.

Mrs. John Longhurst was co-hostess.

The home of Mrs. Rose Smith on Indian View Drive was also the setting for a recent bridal shower, with Mrs. Albert Karchon assisting the hostess.

Miss Kramp's Chi Omega sorority sisters and her dormitory mates at Western Michigan University honored her at a shower in Kalamazoo.

Her fiancé, Donald J. Max, is the son of the Max Maxims of Shawnee Court.

Sorority Picnics

at Tinney Home

Members and their families of Alpha chapter, Beta Theta Phi sorority gathered at the Elizabeth Lake Road home of the Homer Timneys for a picnic recently.

Announcement was made concerning the first meeting in the fall, a cooperative dinner Sept. 21 at the Auburn Heights home of Mrs. C. F. Denison.

Big Mystery Is Slated

It's all a mystery, but for those who enjoy adventure, the Pontiac chapter of the National Business and Professional Women's Club has a surprise in store on Saturday afternoon.

Bus transportation will be provided to the picnic site and back from the departing point, Hayes Jones Center.

The trip starts at 2:30 p.m. and will return about 7 p.m. Food will be provided. Casual dress is called for so that anyone may participate in the scheduled games.

Proceeds will be used for the scholarship fund.

Tickets may be obtained from any club member.

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. James R. Goodrich (Joanne Sue Blocker) chose the First Baptist Church, Oxford, for their recent marriage and reception. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Polk of Ortonville. Mrs. Glenn Goodrich of Oxford and the late Mr. Goodrich. Miniature yellow roses centered a bouquet of ivy and Stephanotis for the bride who was groomed in white Chantilly lace over taffeta, worn with illusion veil.

Reception in the Binghamton Drive home of the William C. Hardens followed the recent marriage of their daughter Mary Jane to Ronald Bruce Comstock in the Church of the Nazarene. Wearing white Chantilly lace with organza overlay, the bride held white carnations arranged to form a cross for the rite performed by Rev. Russell Stanley. The bridegroom is the son of the Almon F. Comstocks of Flint.

Area Couple Honeymoon at the Falls

The Eugene Paul Murray (Shirley Ann Snyder) left for a honeymoon in Niagara Falls and northern Michigan after their recent marriage in the First Methodist Church, Romeo.

Parents of the couple wed before Rev. J. Charles Dibley are the Donald K. Snyders of Romeo and the Emmanuel H. Murrys of Garden City.

With Diane Jarrett, honor maid, were bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald A. Snyder, Royal Oak, and Joyce Thomas, Marlette. Donna May Jarrett was flower-girl.

Eugene Raman was best man with Donald A. Snyder and James Razez, groomsmen. Sigman Harless ushered.

The couple will reside in Romeo.

This Is Typical Example, Forced Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our son is in some deep trouble over a girl.

When he first met her, he wanted the family to meet her but now he won't discuss her with any of us. I know she doesn't care for him because of his nervousness.

This past month he has been calling up on Fridays to say he's coming home for the weekend; but when he gets here, he's restless and impatient.

Then he'll put in a long-distance call to this girl and leave without staying the night. She is leading him on.

Answer: She couldn't do it if he didn't want to keep the ring in his nose.

We are mistaken, I think, to allow sympathy for a painfully infatuated child to blind us to the fact that vindictiveness has become the mainspring of his continuing attachment to his tormentor.

At this point of painful infatuation the secret feeling is: "I'll bring you to heel if it kills me."

Though our dear child appears to be the victim of his tormentor — that bad girl who "leads" him on — the truth is that he is the victim of his own insistence on compelling her to acknowledge his irresistible charm.

That is why, when he comes home for a weekend's relief from battle, he can't stay there. The drive to break the tormentor's surrender to his charm takes him over again.

The problem, of course, is that our infatuated child glorifies his demands for vengeance on the person who has hurt and humiliated him.

He calls it "love" — one of those special world-shaking passions which change maps. It is only by seeing himself as the hero of epic romance that the poor lamb can account for his willingness to put up with his heroine's caprices, betrayals, lies and cruelties.

Anger at the girl is a waste of our time. She's really not to blame because our child refuses to know when he's licked.

He, not she, is our business. We may be able to point out to him, "It's actually a little cruel to try to force love from people who haven't got it to give." And it is, you know.

When They Stay After the Party

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please tell me what, if anything, a host and hostess can do when some of the guests at a cocktail party stay on and on after the hour stated on the invitations?

A: Cocktail parties rarely end on time and a hostess must expect some of her guests to linger a half hour or so beyond the indicated time, but that is as much as she should be expected to endure.

After that she may take steps to hurry the last survivors off. She and her husband could put on their coats, saying, "I'm so sorry, but we are expected for dinner in ten minutes," even though it may be the neighborhood restaurant that is expediting them.

Or they may simply remove the liquor and close the bar. Once the guests finish the drinks in their hands and find no more being served, the party will soon be over.

BELATED ANNIVERSARY
Q: Our 25th wedding anniversary was six months ago but, as my husband was in the hospital at that time, we could not give a party.

He is completely well again and we would still like to celebrate the occasion. Would it be proper, at this late date to give a belated silver anniversary party?

A: Under the circumstances you describe, it will be quite all right to have a belated anniversary party now that your husband is well again.

TELEPHONE

Q: When lunching in someone's house, and during the course of the meal the telephone rings and the hostess leaves the table to answer it, does a guest go on eating, or does she wait until the hostess returns to the table before continuing?

A: Unless the hostess tells her to go on eating, she should wait.

Wes Parker Adds Punch to LA Speed

By The Associated Press

Swift Maury Wills, leading performer in the Los Angeles Dodgers' Au Go Go, suddenly has found some swinging help.

And from a bridge player named Maurice Wesley Parker III, no less.

Wills stole his 68th and 69th bases of the season Monday night as the National League-leading Dodgers stretched their margin to two games with a 5-4 victory over runner-up Cincinnati.

Parker, who patrols first base for the Dodgers when he isn't playing bridge, kicked in with a two-run homer as did Willie Davis, one of Wills' running mates in the Dodger attack that ordinarily features speed rather than strength.

AHEAD OF PACE

The steals put Wills 28 games ahead of the pace he maintained in 1962 when he swiped 104 bases. He was on base three times with a single and two walks and raised his average to .301. He has hit safely in 19 consecutive games.

Maury singled in the first inning and came around on Davis' fifth home run of the season. Parker made it 4-0 in the second and then Wills' speed produced the final Dodger run.

The Dodger swiftly walked and stole second for his 68th steal of the year. After Jim Gilliam walked, Wills and Gilliam worked a double steal and when Reds' catcher John Edwards threw the ball into left field, Maury scored.

Edwards caught Wills trying for number 70 in the seventh as Maury batted two for three against the Cincinnati catcher.

ELSEWHERE IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

Defending champion Mrs. C. J. (Bobbie) Miller, who is also a former Pontiac city champion, was 11 strokes off the pace after catching a 47-40-87.

BRIDGES GAP

Parker, a tournament bridge player, seems to have solved Manager Walt Alston's first base problem for the moment.

WES SKIPPED A TRIP TO HONOLULU

For an international bridge tournament with his dad last winter, preferring to do his playing instead in the Arizona Instructional League.

The home run was his fourth and helped the Dodgers beat Jim Maloney, 11-4. Johnny Podres, 4-5, with relief help from Bob Miller and Ron Pernowski, was the winner.

Blasingame, a 21-year-old left-hander, won his 12th against seven setbacks and got all the help he needed from batterymate Joe Torre, who drove in four runs with three hits including his 15th homer.

Torre connected with today's going great Walter Hagen underwent a throat operation at New York's St. Vincent Hospital. Hagen, 72, has been hospitalized since July 15. He retired from golf in the middle 1930s.

then drove in another run with a triple in the fifth.

HITLESS RELIEF

Dave Giusti, working in relief of Houston starter Bob Bruce, hurled 4 1-3 innings of hitless relief for the Astros.

Bill White walloped a two-run homer and Dick Groat doubled in two more to help Gibson beat the Giants. The fireballing right-hander needed relief help from rookie Don Dennis though.

Dennis came on in the eighth inning after San Francisco had scored twice and ended the inning by retiring pinch hitter Willie Mays on a fly ball.

Juan Marichal, 15-8, took the loss.

3rd Mackinac Race Win for Gypsy Sets Record

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — The 54-foot sloop Gypsy became the first three-time over-all winner Monday in the 41-year history of the Port Huron-to-Mackinac yacht race with a six-minute, 53-second victory over her nearest rival.

The second-place Winsome lost 10 minutes because of a broken boom fitting on her mainsail less than four miles from the finish line. A record 164-boat fleet participated in the 235-mile Lake Huron race.

Gypsy, skippered by Milwaukee auto dealer Charles Kolovic, turned in a corrected time of 42 hours, 44 minutes and 13 seconds, against 42:31:05 for Winsome, piloted by Carter Sales and Skip Grew of Detroit.

Gypsy and Winsome hugged the Michigan shore throughout the race as the boats battled winds of up to 35 miles an hour and waves as much as eight feet high. The other class winners also chose to stick to the Michigan side.

DAMAGE REPORTED

Twelve boats were forced to drop out, and nearly every craft reported damaged gear aboard.

Guy McNaron's sloop, Vashli, won its first Cruising B long distance test. Vashli, the seventh boat to complete the course, edged Hank Burkhard's Meteor III by 42 minutes.

The sloop Rhapsody, piloted by Jacob Brown of the Great Lakes Yacht Club, sailed off with Cruising C honors.

Salmagundi, skippered by Peter O'Neil of Toledo, was the first Cruising D boat to finish. Vessels of the smaller Cruising E Class still were struggling toward the finish line, with the entire fleet expected here by midnight Tuesday.

Hills 'Series' in 5th Game

The East Hills team posted a 9-7 verdict over Vaughn All-Stars last night to take a 3-1 lead in the Bloomfield Continental League World Series.

The two squads will battle in the fifth game tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Outfielder Curt Leithauer sparked the victory last night as he collected three hits and stole four bases.

Dressen, still somewhat softer spoken and seemingly not as spry, continues to walk three miles every day under doctors' orders. He gives no indication of losing his alertness or zest for the game.

Twins 'Killer' is Back in Old Spot

Homers Beat Orioles, 8-2

Minnesota Extends Lead in AL

By The Associated Press

Harmon Killebrew is back where he started 11 years ago and big Don Mincher is doing his best to keep the Killer there.

Mincher, who reverted to the odd man in Minnesota's power structure last spring when Manager Sam Mele decided to convert Killebrew into a first baseman, made another bid for steady work Monday night.

Mincher faced a three-run first-inning homer that sparked the Twins to an 8-2 victory over Baltimore.

Killebrew, back at third base, where he played as a rookie with the old Washington Senators in 1954, added his 50th homer as the Twins stretched their lead in the American League lead to 4½ games over the second-place Orioles.

NOT OFFERED

Mincher, who had hit 40 home runs over the past two seasons while backing up Vic Power and Bob Allison at first base, was sought by several clubs when the Twins tried to trade for pitching and infield help early this year.

Mele, however, kept the bespectacled, 6-foot-3 slugger as insurance should Killebrew fail to make the grade as a first baseman. When Killebrew, who had done a good job at first, volunteered to plug a gap at third last month, Mincher was available.

He has hit eight of his 12 homers this month and accounted for 16 of his 23 runs batted in. Mincher's three-run shot off Milt Pappas rattled the Orioles at the start and they never recovered. After Killebrew's solo homer in the sixth, the Twins picked up four unearned runs, the result of three errors and a passed ball.

Jim Grant picked up his 11th victory in 14 decisions but needed help from reliever Gary Roenicke, who worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh and blanked Baltimore the rest of the way.

Friendly Home Course Fine for Leader in WMGA Meet

There's no place like home. Playing the friendly fairways at Bob O'Link Golf Club, Mrs. Midge Cova fired a 38-37-75 yesterday to take a seven-stroke lead in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association 54-hole medal play tournament.

Mrs. Cova and her husband own the course and she played the hole she owned it yesterday in easily topping the 12-player field.

She posted seven pars on the front side and added four pars and a birdie on the back side over the 5,000-yard course.

Mrs. Douglas Graham held second place with 41-41-82 as the ladies started their second round today. The final round will be played tomorrow.

TIED FOR 3RD

Mrs. Floyd Cocklin of Birmingham and Mrs. George Schade of Detroit were deadlocked for third place with 84-84. Defending champion Mrs. C. J. (Bobbie) Miller, who is also a former Pontiac city champion, was 11 strokes off the pace after catching a 47-40-87.

BRITISH CHOSE CAPTAIN

LONDON (UPI) — Joe Carr was named Monday as the captain of the 10-man British Walker Cup golf team which will meet the United States at the Five Farms Course in Baltimore, Md., Sept. 3-4.

Par Posing Challenge in Western Am

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Point O' Woods golf course is posing another par challenge for the Western Amateur tournament.

Only one man, Tim Leslie of Whiting, Ind., 20-year-old University of Houston sophomore, matched par 71 in prequalifications Monday.

No one broke par in the entire tournament when the Western Amateur was held here in 1963. The 1965 tournament, with a field of 180, begins a 72-hole stretch of qualifying Wednesday. The low 50 will continue medal play Friday which leads to match play Saturday and Sunday. The finals will be Sunday. Entries played practice rounds today.

Leslie topped a field of 72 Monday as 46 entries survived for the action Wednesday. He fired three birdies on the approximately 7,000-yard course. He had rounds of 36-35 against par 35-36.

Michigan golfers picked up the first five places behind Leslie.

Browns Polish Offense

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — From Thursday on, the Cleveland Browns' preparations for their game with the College All-Stars in Chicago Aug. 6 "will be a matter of polishing," Coach Blanton Collier said.

"We've picked the package of plays we thought might go well against the Stars," Collier said, and by Wednesday afternoon all of these plays will have been introduced into practice.

Collier and Otto Graham, the All-Stars' coach, have been studying one another's methods through movies.

Graham has received film of some of last season's Browns' contest, and Collier has been examining celluloid action of previous All-Star games.

The Browns' mentor said selection of plays for the National Football League champs to use against the Collegians has been difficult "because there is an unusual game — personnel is different each year."

"I'm sure that Otto changes his offense and defense according to available material," Collier added.

SCRAMMAGES

Paul Bixler, Browns' talent scout, will watch the Collegians against the Chicago Bears at Rensselaer, Ind. on Thursday, and Graham will send a staff member to watch the Browns scrimmage Saturday when the Cleveland Touchdown Club makes its annual visit to the training camp.

The All-Stars resumed two-day drills Monday.

After enjoying an off day Sunday, they worked hard on pass defense with a goal of keeping the Browns' air attack under 50 per cent in completions and no touchdown passes.

Defensive backfield coach John Sauer said "instead of facing one good receiver and one good passer every once in a while as they did in college, now they're facing a number of good receivers and passers on every team."

ST. LOUIS SIGNS Hagan

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Cliff Hagan, nine-year veteran in the National Basketball Association, has signed his 1965-66 contract with the St. Louis Hawks, ending rumors that he would follow Bob Pettit into retirement.

Little League All-Stars Open Tournament Action

The 14 District No. 4 Little League all-star teams will battle this week in the playoffs beginning today at four sites.

Today's action will find six of the teams going to the sidelines in the single-elimination tournament.

The roster of teams includes four from Birmingham, three from Southfield, two from North Farmington and one each from Walled Lake, Farmington, Fenton, Novi and Milford.

The six games today list double-headers for North Farmington and Birmingham's Elton Park at 5 p.m., and single contests at Fenton and Walled Lake at 5 o'clock.

The latter is entertaining Milford at Riley Field. Fenton is host to Birmingham's Federal team.

TWIN BILLS

The twin bills have North Farmington American playing Southfield American and North Farmington National meeting Novi at North Farmington, and (Elton Park) Southfield National vs. Birmingham National and Birmingham Continental vs. Birmingham American.

Big Take at Hazel Park

HAZEL PARK (AP)—A lone, unidentified bettor in a crowd of 12,000 at Hazel Park Race Track Monday won $63,277.40 on the twin double. A track spokesman said it was the second-highest twin double payoff in Michigan history, topped only by the $103,587.20 taken at Hazel Park July 5.

Grace Earns Jaycee Berth

Qualifies for Houston Golf Tournament

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Dick Riel of St. Joseph fired a 3-over-par 74 to become medalist of the Michigan Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament Monday.

Riel and three other boys in the tournament won trips to Houston, Tex., to compete in the international Jaycee junior tournament Aug. 9-13.

Rich Brenneman of Alma scored a 38-37-75 for second place.

John Grace of Grosse Pointe Shores and Terry Noble of Detroit won the other two places. They scored birdies on the first extra hole to win a sudden death playoff among seven youths who had finished the regulation 18 holes with 76's.

Jan Steffe of Reese lost out in the playoff after scoring a 76 but took the state Jaycee championship with that score in the 14-15-year-old group.

Three Pontiac golfers were among the non-qualifiers.

Gary Balliet posted a 39-39-78, Rod Skelton a 39-44-83 and Joe Kopeikin posted a 46-40-86.

Skelton, Balliet, Kopeikin and Grace qualified in a sectional tournament, July 15 at Pontiac Country Club.

U.S. Team to Travel

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—The United States Olympic basketball team, which won the gold medal at the Tokyo games last year, has scheduled two games here before going to the university world championships in Budapest, Aug. 29-29.

Three-Team Race in Class A Loop

The three-team battle for first place in the city men's baseball race continues to go down to the wire but Huron-Airway has put Cranbrook in the driver's seat.

The defending city champion Huron-Airway nine (11-5) rode one big inning to a 5-2 triumph over Pontiac Business Institute (10-5) last night at Jaycee Park to take over second place.

The win dropped PBI from a tie for first into third place, a half-game behind Cranbrook (10-4) and 21 percentage points behind H-A. The Cranbrook squad, though, has one less loss and would finish first if it can avoid a loss in the next eight days.

Monday night, Huron-Airway rapped out all four of its hits and used two walks for five runs in the second inning. Les Stone's single plated the first run.

Mike Dodge and Bob Rabaja then delivered two-run safeties to pad the lead. Lefty Tom Walters had all the margin he needed for his eighth straight win without a loss.

Pontiac Business Institute scored twice in the sixth on a walk, Dan Greg's double, Morey LaPratt's sacrifice fly and a two-out error.

Tonight, the fourth-place Clippers (8-5) can climb into the thick of the race by beating Talbott Lumber (4-10) and clinching the final playoff spot. However, the Lumbermen have upset each of the three leading contenders in their last three starts.

Detroit Boxer Is Loser on Solid Decision

Henry Hank Handed Severe Punishment by Bob Foster

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bob Foster toyed with aging Henry Hank for 12 rounds, inflicting brutal punishment to Hank's face to score a unanimous decision in his light-heavyweight fight Monday night.

Foster, the fifth-ranking contender, set his sights on a title bout with champion Jose Torres after defeating Hank, ranked sixth, for the second time in nine months.

The fight drew a paid crowd of 7,805 but there wasn't an empty seat in the 8,500 Municipal Auditorium. Promoters Lou Messina and Orville Gagliano said they grossed $26,599.

Foster, five inches taller than Hank and with a longer reach, began jabbing at his opponent's left eye in the opening round and it began to swell at once.

SUFFERED CUT

Hank was cut under the left eye in the third round but in the fourth, he became more aggressive and started to jab.

Hank, a 36-year-old Detroit fighter, who weighed 174, continued to absorb terrific punishment to his face although he pursued Foster.

Foster backpedaled until the final round. Then he had Hank bewildered with his switch to aggressiveness and the 26-year-old boxer started showing his right.

The Associated Press gave nine rounds to Foster, two to Hank and called one even. Referee Pete Giarrusso had it 8-1-1; Judge Herman Dutreix 10-1-1, and Judge Roland Brown 10-2-4.

It was Foster's 21st victory against three defeats and no draws. Hank's record is now 57-21-4.

Golf Cycle Goes 1-2-3 on Indianwood's 17th

The scores went 1-2-3 on the 183 yard 17th hole at Indianwood Country Club yesterday.

Kent Rosenquist of Rochester sent his 2-Iron shot into the cup for an ace. Mill Weaver followed with a birdie-2 and Lloyd Christianson, also of Rochester, took a par-3 to complete the cycle for the threesome. Rosenquist had a 44 for the hole.

WBA Dubious of Plan

Discuss Heavyweight Twinbill

NEW YORK (AP) — Madison Square Garden has some interesting plans about a heavyweight doubleheader, including a Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson bout, only Clay hasn't agreed to it and the World Boxing Association is pretty dubious.

"If they don't get Clay, it won't be much of anything," frankly admitted Ernie Terrell in Chicago. Terrell owns the WBA version of the world heavyweight title and, according to the Madison Square Garden plans, would fight Canadian George Chuvalo as a companion bout to the Clay-Patterson affair.

The winners, according to Garden managing director Harry Markson, then would be matched for the undisputed world championship. Markson said Monday that Patterson, Terrell and Chuvalo have agreed in principle to the proposed twin bill in the Garden in late October.

SANCTION NEEDED

But Merv McKenzle of Toronto, president of the WBA, had some second thoughts.

"I'm pretty certain the WBA would be against the card," he said in Toronto.

"Even if it were accepted by the managers of Chuvalo and Terrell, it would need WBA sanction and we would have to have an executive committee vote on it."

"We must remember that Clay is still suspended by the WBA and is not recognized as the champion. Therefore, the WBA would be reluctant to have Clay fight on the same card as Terrell, the recognized champ."

Clay was stripped of WBA recognition as champion when he signed for the return bout with Sonny Liston, and Terrell won the vacant title. Clay's return with Liston ended in the controversial one-punch knockout in Lewiston, Maine.

Jim Butcher Says,

"I'm Never Satisfied With Our Service Work Until You Are"

By that, I mean that you must be happy about the job on your car, and the price you paid for it, or I'm not. My Service Manager knows that, so he goes all out to make sure that every job is right the first time. If not, he makes it right before either you or I see it.

That's the sort of work that brings folks back again. If not for service, for another car, new or used. That's why better service is so important in building our sales volume. It's an iron clad rule with us and it's working. So, the next time your car needs service, drive it in here. Get an estimate. Then let us show you how much better service at reasonable prices can mean to you.

Viet Wounded Find Hospital a Step Away

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The emergency call flashed over the radio at Saigon's Airport tower: "We're bringing in three, two wounded in the head and the other hit in the arm. They look in bad shape."

The voice came from an evacuation helicopter. A central office in the capital replied: "Land in the soccer field." Within 15 minutes, the chopper net down on the big lot. Ambulances were waiting for the casualties. The drive to a U.S.

Navy hospital took five minutes. Almost every day somewhere in Viet Nam, the procedure is repeated as U.S. battlefield casualties in the Vietnamese war mount.

NAVY FACILITY
The hospital, a converted five-story apartment building, is the only Navy facility that treats combat casualties directly from the field. It also provides medical care for thousands of Americans, including U.S. government employees. Two additional hospitals handle the bulk of other combat cases. These are Army hospitals in Saigon and in the coastal city of Nha Trang, 200 miles northwest.

With a capacity of nearly 400 beds, and skilled doctors and nurses, the hospitals provide relatively modern care not available elsewhere in the country. Many of the wounded undergo major surgery for complicated injuries.

In most cases, those who require hospitalization for more than 30 days are flown to the Philippines or Okinawa. Some go directly to the United States for treatment. Routine medical evacuation flights leave four times a week.

STAY AHEAD

"The object is to treat as many patients as possible and also try to keep our case load down," said Lt. Cmdr. Philip E. Jones, La Mesa, Calif., administrator of the Navy hospital.

"That way we are ready with enough beds at any time in the event of an emergency."

Regardless of his branch of service, a man is treated at treatment at any of the U.S. military hospitals in Viet Nam. Medical sources say they have been able to handle American battle casualties with relative ease. Some 2,800 U.S. servicemen have been wounded in combat since 1961, according to the latest figures.

If the United States greatly increases its troop commitment there will be an obvious need for more and better medical services. A new Navy hospital is being built in Da Nang, 300 miles north of Saigon.

2nd Session Starts for Tennis Lessons

Waterford Township Recreation Department officials announced yesterday that tennis lessons for the second session have begun and will continue through Aug. 20.

One-hour lessons will be conducted Monday and Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Waterford-Kettering High School and Tuesday and Thursday from noon to 3 p.m. at Waterford Township High School.

Instructor is Jerry Murphy. The first session began June 28 and ended July 23.

North was one of those unfortunate people who can't be properly when dummy. As soon as he put his cards on the table, he leaped from his seat to look at his partner's hand.

What he saw pleased him. He could count 12 or 13 tricks, depending on whether or not his partner had to lose a club.

He returned to his seat happily, but was startled to see his partner lead the jack of clubs at trick two. Why?

He showed out and South's gold had turned to brass. Instead of scoring game, slam and rubber, he had to see 100 points written on his opponent's side of the score.

"Blank, blank, blank," yelled North. "Where did you learn to play bridge?"

"I just read in the Jacoby column that the jack play is correct when you miss king-ten-small," replied poor South.

Selected Issues Gain

Stock Mart Irregularly Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Coppers, rails and selected issues devoted strength in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Although nothing definite had come out of Washington about revision of the U. S. policy regarding Viet Nam, Wall Street had already anticipated a stepped-up military program.

Recent strength in aerospace defense stocks encountered some profit taking and the group presented a ragged price picture.

As a group, coppers were among the best gainers as they reflected strength in the copper commodity futures market.

FAVORABLE REPORTS

A parade of favorable second quarter earnings reports and some boosted dividends gave the market a fundamentally attractive look but many groups had little or nothing as hesitation prevailed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 319.8 with industrials up .6, rails up .5 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.10 at 868.35.

GENERALLY HIGHER

Prices were generally higher in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange. O'Keefe Copper jumped more than 5 points. Up about a point were New York & Honduras Rosario Mining, Fanny Farmer and National Video "A".

Corporate bonds were mixed. U. S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Hunt Rapist in Area Attack

Housewife Is Victim in Bedroom at Home

Michigan State Police from the Pontiac post are searching for a young man who yesterday morning raped a West Bloomfield Township housewife in her bedroom.

Troopers are maintaining an around-the-clock patrol throughout the neighborhood near Inkster Road and Maple in which the incident took place.

Yesterday, Trooper Richard Chertier and his tracking dog Hana went over the area, but failed to find a track.

Several suspects have been questioned, officers said, but nothing definite has turned up.

The rapist broke into the home just before dawn by prying open a screen on a bedroom window. The woman, who was alone at the time, awoke to find the man in her bedroom.

The housewife said her attacker was naked and wore a white cloth around his head. She described him as being a young white male, about 5-foot-8 with a medium build.

Prices Are Mixed on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices were mostly narrow mixed in fairly active and mixed opening transactions today on the Board of Trade.

Wheat was 1/2 cent a bushel lower to 1/4 higher, September 1.48 1/2; corn 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher, September 66 cents; soybeans 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, August $2.79 1/2.

Treasury Position

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cash position of the Treasury compared with corresponding years ago.

Philippine Air Wreck Spotted on Mountain

MANILA (AP) — The wreckage of a Philippine air force transport plane missing since Sunday with 36 persons on board was sighted from the air today on a mountain slope on Panay Island.

Brig. Gen. Victor Dixon, air force commanding general, said it could not be determined whether there were any survivors in the crash.

Fire Claims Youngster

MONROE (AP) — Linda Christine Joke, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Joke, died Tuesday in a fire at the family's home here. Her parents, two brothers and a sister, escaped injury.

ROYAL LAUGH—Queen Elizabeth II seems to be shaking with restrained laughter yesterday, and her husband, Prince Philip, smiles broadly at some incident taking place in Caribbean Castle on the Isle of Wight. The queen installed her uncle, Earl Mountbatten, as "governor and captain of all of our Isle of Wight."

198 Guerrillas Die in S. Viet

SAIGON (UPI)—Air and ground action against Communist positions in South Viet Nam killed an estimated 198 guerrillas in a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today, a U. S. military spokesman reported.

In the air war against North Viet Nam, American planes rained 125 tons of bombs today on a Communist power plant at Thanh Hoa, 75 miles south of Hanoi.

U. S. Air Force, Navy and Vietnamese Air Force planes flew 232 sorties against Viet Cong supply and training areas, troop concentrations, encampments and rest bivouacs.

The spokesman estimated that 187 guerrillas were killed, more than 470 buildings destroyed or damaged, two sampans sunk and two others damaged.

Pilots reported three secondary explosions, indicating that ammunition depots were hit.

38 SORTIES

Six U. S. Marine Skyhawk jets flew 38 combat sorties against guerrilla strongholds in the Da Nang area, destroying six structures.

At least 11 guerrillas were reported killed in a series of clashes with government troops.

Twelve U. S. Navy planes from the aircraft carrier Independence flew today's mission against the Thanh Hoa power plant.

All 12 tons of bombs were on target, but heavy smoke prevented pilots from assessing damage.

RETURN TRIP

It was the second time in less than a week that American fighter-bombers pinpointed North Vietnamese industrial targets.

U. S. jets blasted the Lang Chi explosives factory 55 miles north of Hanoi over the weekend.

Firm Below Estimate on Sidewalk Project

Rose Construction Inc. of East Detroit submitted the apparent low bid for the Cass Lake Road sidewalk improvement project last night at the Waterford Township Board meeting.

The firm's bid of $5,724.80 is $705.40 under the engineer's estimate of $6,430.

Rose's bid and two others were referred to township engineering consultants Johnson & Anderson Inc. for further study. A report on the bids will be made at next Monday's meeting.

The special assessment district project is earmarked for the west side of Cass Lake Road between Pontiac Lake Road and Cray Junior High School.

Twenty-three families would share 90 per cent of the cost.

Don't Let 'Head Start' Lapse—Humphrey

DETROIT (AP)—The federal Head Start program will be a false start unless local communities continue the work begun this summer, Vice President Hubert Humphrey warned in remarks prepared for delivery here today.

Humphrey discussed the preschool training program and other antipoverty measures at the National League of Cities' 42nd annual Congress of Cities.

"It will do the Head Start child very little good if he must return to the same housing, to the same unemployment, illiterate parent, to the same neglected school system," he told his audience of city officials from around the nation.

The vice president also called again for creation of a cabinet-level department of urban affairs.

RESEARCH PROJECTS

And he promised implementation of a league proposal for "large-scale research projects to be brought to bear on problems of urban living—research of the kind we have utilized in the federal government in space and defense."

"My 20 years in political life, from mayor to vice president, have taught me what I only vaguely understood when I was a political science teacher: that the key to success of a great national program is local implementation and imaginative leadership," he said.

Humphrey said there have been some problems in the area of federal-local cooperation.

"But the fact is," he added, "we are happy in Washington that our nation's mayors have by and large helped lead development of local poverty programs."

CITY OFFICIALS

The congress, attended by some 2,000 city officials, runs through Wednesday.

On Monday, Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh outlined plans to restore economic and sociological data in computers so that city officials "can take the pulse of any section of the city."

Also available, he said, is a storage bank containing descriptions of every building by age, value and condition, and other tapes on income, education, age and race of each neighborhood's residents.

Cavanagh said Detroit has "developed the first social data bank of its kind in the nation."

This, he said, contains information by neighborhood "on 25 different social factors such as crime, juvenile delinquency, welfare load, health problems, requests for legal aid, truancy and dropouts."

"These data, when coordinated, will flash danger signals when neighborhoods are beginning to have problems," the mayor said. "We will not have to wait until the problem is a crisis."

Before Cavanagh's talk, Prof. Leonard Reissman of Tulane University said old city and state boundaries are beginning to be replaced because they bear no relation to the developing urban sprawl.

Milwaukee Mayor Henry W. Maier, league president, called for direct block grants to cities from the federal government.

"There is no question now but that the city problem is a national problem and that to solve it there must be a reallocation of our national resources," he said.

Early this morning, their ranks dwindled to about 75, the demonstrators milled around the churchyard. Some wrapped up in blankets and some took to bed in sleeping bags.

The Rev. Arthur Days, pastor of the church and the leader in the demonstrations aimed at protesting voter registration and the burning more than a week ago of two Negro churches.

Rights March Due in 'Bama

GREENSBORO, Ala. (UPI)—Civil rights demonstrators staged an all-night vigil in a churchyard and vowed to march again today toward the Hale County courthouse where a similar attempted parade yesterday was halted by tear gas.

At the same time, a spokesman said attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's legal defense fund would go into federal court at Mobile in an effort to get a restraining order against the City of Greensboro.

The march and tear gas incident caused new tensions to mount in this small black belt city and Mayor W. C. Christian called for help from state police. More than 30 state troopers were reported in the city or en route early today.

At least one of the Negroes staging the all-night demonstration carried a rifle. He cradled it in his arms while sitting in a folding camp chair near the St. Matthews A.M.E. Church.

"It is nonviolent," the Negro said, "it hasn't shot anybody."

Some 400 demonstrators including perhaps two dozen whites, were routed yesterday when city and county officials lobbed tear gas into their midst. The demonstrators fled choking to the sanctuary of the St. Matthews Church.

But a tear gas canister had been thrown through a window of the church, leaving gas so thick that they couldn't stay inside.

When Columbia Pictures made "Fail Safe" into a movie, it sent out a notice to all theaters asking them to add a disclaimer to the film, stating that the Air Force and Defense Department positions were that events depicted in the movie could not happen.

Waves of controversy splashed far and wide following publication of the movie.

Author of 'Fail Safe' Dies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Eugene Burdick, 47, who co-authored acid attacks on American foreign policy and the nuclear arms race in "The Ugly American" and "Fail Safe," collapsed and died yesterday on a tennis court at a swank resort.

Burdick complained of feeling ill after playing about a half-hour of tennis with Mrs. Hugh Wood at the Kona Kai Club, where he was vacationing. Mrs. Wood, wife of a vice president of Pacific Southwest Airlines, tried to revive him with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

A life guard and police ambulance attendants also tried. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Doctor's Hospital.

Deputy County Coroner R. W. Ricker said the writer's death apparently was natural "although Burdick has a history of heart trouble." An autopsy was scheduled today.

Burdick was hospitalized in Oakland for two weeks after he had a heart attack June 18, 1959, at his home in Berkeley, where he was an associate professor of political theory at the University of California.

You've Coined a Few Memories if You Recall Dobbin, Bossie and Calico

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the money of the mind.

But unlike any other "medium of exchange or measure of value," memory is a currency that isn't devalued by the passage of the years. The older a memory gets, the more it is worth to its possessor.

You've coined a few worth-while memories yourself if you can look back and remember when —

Horses were called Dobbin and cows Bossie.

HOPEFUL GESTURES

In one of the most hopeful gestures of American political history, the U.S. House of Representatives voted $15 million to enforce prohibition. That same year, 1920, the elder John D. Rockefeller, gave away more than $63 million.

A mother's greatest worry in summer was that one of her children would be bitten by a mad dog.

Coast Art Festival Marks 30th Season

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
LAGUNA BEACH, Calif.—The curtains part, and Venus stands lifelike on her sea-tossed shell, just as Botticelli painted her 400 years ago.

Indeed she is alive, this glowing, golden-haired nude, and she can be seen these summer nights in one of California's unique THOMAS attractions. This year marks the 30th anniversary of the Laguna Beach Festival of the Arts, which attracts so many tourists that it is sold out for its five-week run.

The setting is an amphitheater carved out of desert hills a mile from the Pacific. Under star-filled skies, 800 volunteers combine to recreate in living form some of the world's most sublime works of art — also, say some carpers, some of the most banal.

"I'll leave that argument to the critics. There are many, as you might expect in a community with a large number of artists. This year's festival brought a minor skirmish when self-styled rejectionists picketed the place. These were artists who were turned down as exhibitors in the outdoor art display, an important feature of the festival."

LOT OF VARIETY
This year's program includes everything from an El Greco Christ to a Norman Rockwell magazine cover, from Rembrandt's "Night Watch" to Joe Rosenblatt's flag-raising at Iwo Jima.

The festival began in 1932 when several citizens decided it would be nice to do something for art and not incidentally, for Laguna Beach. The summer fete continued to grow — minus the war years — until now admissions amount to $300,000 annually.

"Most cultural projects are supported by the community," says a festival official said proudly. "The profits contribute to an opera season and a school of art and design. And the Chamber of Commerce profits from the program."

The festival is operated with only five paid staff members; all others contribute their time and talents. Lifeguards, doctors, secretaries and musicians show up doggedly night after night to don costumes or be painted for their anonymous two minutes on the stage. I asked if there was any trouble in recruiting nudes. "Oh, no," said an official, "they like to do it."

A SAD TALE
Pat McNulty of Capistrano Beach, who once portrayed a boxer in "Bellows" "Slag at Sharkey's," told me the sad tale of another festival participant.

"He was a life guard friend of mine," recalled McNulty, "and for a few years he had posed as the Discus Thrower. Then one winter he got to eating and drinking beer. When he reported the next summer, the officials said they couldn't use him in his old role. But they were willing to let him pose as Buddha."

LONDON (AP) — Britain's former ambassador to the United States said today that British movie audiences are "far more able to cope with sex on the screen than the Americans are."

"Our audiences are more sophisticated and sensible," said Lord Hareich. "That is why our censorship is, perhaps, more lenient."

Hareich, 47, represented Britain in Washington from 1961 until last April. He becomes Britain's chief film censor on Monday. He was asked his opinion about British and American censorship of sex in the new British movie "Life at the Top" was censored for American showing.

The British version will show Laurence Harvey and Honor Blackman making love on a bed and nearly nude. In the version to be seen in America they are beneath a sheet.

U.S. Accused of Aggression in S. Viet

TOKYO (AP) — The Communist-dominated World Conference against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs opened its 11th annual meeting today with a parade of speakers accusing the United States of aggression in Viet Nam.

The United States was charged with bringing nuclear weapons into South Viet Nam by Chairman Masaharu Hatanaka of the pro-Communist Japanese Council against A and H Bombs, sponsors of the meeting.

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser blamed "imperialism, Zionism, and reaction" for a report that an Egyptian bomber was shot down 10 days ago trying to attack his villa in Alexandria.

Nasser told 50,000 cheering Egyptians at a rally in Alexandria Monday that the reports in Beirut newspapers of a plot to assassinate him were "nothing but lies."

The crowd cheered when Nasser recalled reports of a plot last year to blow up the speaker's stand when he spoke during the anniversary of his revolution. Twenty-two young Egyptian officers were later said to have been executed for that plot.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Premier Sovanna Phouma of Laos says the situation in his Southeast Asian nation is getting worse daily. He says peace depends on strengthening of the International Control Commission being stationed there.

The commission, established by the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina, was condemned Monday by Communist China and the Communist Pathet Lao as a tool of "U.S. aggression."

The commission is made up of officers from India, Canada and Poland. It has been hamstringed either by Polish vetoes or refusal of the Pathet Lao to let it inspect the territories under Communist control.

Locate Body of Missing Baby Sitter

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — The body of a pretty teen-age baby sitter missing for nearly six weeks was found buried last night in a shallow grave 40 miles from her home.

Ramsey County Sheriff Kermit Hedman said the body of Barbara Iversen, 14, was found about five feet from a lonely county road near Cambridge, Minn.

The body was badly decomposed and was identified through a tennis shoe, which bore Barbara's name.

Strict secrecy was clamped over the investigation into the death of the blonde, high school girl who vanished in the dead of night while baby sitting for a neighbor in suburban Shoreview only three doors from her own home.

Hedman said Barbara's body was discovered by a search party of about 10 persons, including "some Federal Bureau of Investigation agents" and authorities from Ramsey and Isanti counties.

TIP TO POLICE
Authoritative sources said police were tipped off to the location of the body, but investigators would not comment on this. Aerial photographs of the area in which the body was found were taken only three days ago, Hedman said.

Barbara, one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. George Iversen, disappeared while on a baby sitting assignment the night of June 8. She was believed to have been wearing only red pajamas and tennis shoes at the time of her disappearance.

The girl's body was taken to Ancker Hospital in St. Paul, where police said X rays turned up no clues as to how Barbara met her death.

An autopsy was scheduled.

Stung by Bee, Dies
LEAMINGTON SPA, England (UPI) — Mrs. Margaret Allen, 67-year-old wife of Warwickshire County's chief beekeeper Henry Allen, collapsed and died after being stung by a bee. The coroner said her death was due to an asthma attack brought on by the sting.

Berkeley Post for U-M Official

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Colleagues say Dr. Roger W. Heyns may be exactly the right man for heading the University of California at Berkeley.

"This should be right up his alley," said one.

Dr. Heyns, 47, vice president for academic affairs at the University of Michigan since 1962, was named chancellor of California's troubled Berkeley branch Monday.

Student "free speech" disputes led to a split takeover of Sproul Hall by undergraduates last fall. Police made many arrests.

Michigan-born and Iowa-bred, Heyns is a stocky, vigorous man of moderate height.

In 19 years at Michigan — he joined the faculty in 1947 — he made a reputation for quiet efficiency.

Heyns spent four years in the psychological services of the Army Air Force during and after World War II. He rose from private to captain.

An example of Heyns' administrative and persuasive talents is recalled at U. of M.

ROSS BARNETT
Former Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi made a campus appearance at a time when his views on integration kept him in the national limelight.

Some members of his student audience got out of hand. They made noise.

Heyns, using a gently-applied football-style block, eased Barnett from the rostrum loud-speaker.

"All right, cool it off," he told the demonstrators. They obeyed.

AT ODDS
A group of Michigan legislators visited the U. of M. campus last week. Some legislators and university officials have been at odds recently over university spending and policy.

They said afterwards they were impressed by Heyns' quick, concise answers under interrogation.

Heyns was at his Lake Michigan cottage in Holland when his California appointment was announced. He takes office Oct. 1.

With Berkeley's 35,000 students, he termed the chancellor job an "imposing challenge."

He said he had no particular ideas at this time what to do about student unrest though declaring "we're going to have to do something about this."

"Big universities are all pretty complicated places," he said.

He said Berkeley's troubles probably were the result in part of student feelings of "anonymity and depersonalization." He said the same conditions were found on other campuses.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles on Oakland County's projected community college.)

By L. GARY THORNE

Housed in a remodeled Nike missile base and a converted TB hospital, Oakland Community College (OCC) opens this fall just 13 months after voters approved the project.

The two-year college has, in just over a year, progressed from a ballot proposition to the threshold of reality.

Classroom facilities have been acquired and are in preparation, equipment is being purchased and students are being admitted.

Hopes for Oakland Community College were conceived by a countywide citizens committee with a noticeable push from professional educators and the County School Board.

Electoral support came on the second ballot. Establishment of the college won voter favor in June 1963, but it took a second election last year to secure approval for the college's one-mile tax levy.

Voters also elected a six-member college board of trustees to govern the new institution.

A Birmingham attorney, George R. Mosher of 551 Michigan, was selected as chairman. He admits the board had little to start with other than a dream of a multicampus, countywide school.

Curriculum had been proposed by a citizens study committee. Three critical areas were designated: terminal (two-year) job training, adult education and the first two years of a four-year college degree program.

First task of the new college board was to hire Dr. John E. Tirrell of St. Louis as president of the community college.

TEMPORARY OFFICES

The second task was to rent a chair for the new president to sit in. Temporary offices were also established.

Initial expenses were borne by the college trustees. Established in June of last year, the college didn't receive its first tax receipts until early this year.

In fact, first board meetings were held at the homes of the trustees. Dr. Tirrell, after board members had caucused in the living room, was formally offered his college post in the kitchen of the Mosher home.

FIRST CHORE

His first chore was to borrow funds in anticipation of tax collection. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Congressmen to Be Briefed on Viet Nam?

Mansfield Indicates Meeting May Occur Today or Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—A flight of 46 Air Force fighter bombers today knocked out one anti-aircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he expects President Johnson to call congressional leaders of both parties to the White House later today for a briefing on the Viet Nam situation.

"I would assume it will be today, but if not today, tomorrow," Mansfield said after he and other Democratic congressional leaders had their weekly breakfast conference with Johnson.

Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary, had said earlier the Republican and Democratic leaders would be called to the White House today or tomorrow.

Since last Wednesday, the President has been holding lengthy conferences with top aides — discussions that point toward an increased American commitment of manpower and equipment.

Officials have indicated the final decisions could involve the mustering of some reserves and National Guard units and an increase in draft calls.

Meany Complacent, Reuther Is Quoted

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Reuther thinks the basic problem of AFL-CIO President George Meany is that "he's too damn comfortable," according to Look Magazine.

In the same article, the former CIO president says Teamster President James Hoffa never should be allowed back in the labor group.

Reuther, United Auto Workers president who headed the CIO before the merger of the two giant labor federations and is now No. 2 man in the AFL-CIO, said in an interview that he prefers "to get along with Meany."

"But when there are things to get done," he is quoted as saying, "I'm going to do them. If the only things you are going to do are convenient and comfortable, the great things will not get done."

"This is the problem as the labor movement gets higher and higher levels of material comfort."

Look, says Reuther, referring to his disagreement with Meany

Sunny Days Will Continue

Warm, sunny weather will remain with Pontiac residents at least until Thursday the weatherman has promised.

There won't be much change in temperature today, with a high near 84. Tonight will be fair and cooler, low 54 to 62.

Sunny is the forecast for tomorrow with a high of 77 to 82. Winds are northwest to north, 8 to 15 miles per hour.

Sixty-six was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. in Pontiac today. By 1 p.m. the temperature had reached 82.

Romney, Rocky Hit GOP Splinter Units

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York joined yesterday in denouncing conservation splinter activity in the Republican party.

Rockefeller, who has bowed out of contention for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, and Romney, who remains very much in it, assailed in separate news conferences at this 57th annual meeting of the nation's governors, outside organizations such as that of Barry Goldwater.

Romney said Rockefeller's withdrawal from the presidential contest "doesn't affect me in any way."

Then, in a long exposition of his views on international and domestic matters he proceeded to sharpen the sort of differences with President Johnson's policies that a Republican nominee might find

The Michigan governor was asked specifically about Goldwater's organization.

"I believe it is essential Republican leaders carry out their complete political objective within the Republican party, without joining outside groups," he said.

FUTURE COURSE

Rockefeller said it would be "disastrous" for splinter groups to influence the party's future course.

Romney, who took the view that Goldwater always had worked for the party, said "I'll be very disappointed if Barry Goldwater doesn't give full support to the Republican party."

Romney and Rockefeller had differences of opinion also over President Johnson's handling of the international affairs, particularly the Viet Nam situation.

CITY COMMISSIONERS' Meeting Is Canceled

There will not be a Pontiac City Commission meeting tonight. This week's regular meeting has been canceled so that commissioners may attend the National League of Cities convention in Detroit.

LBJ Names Carnegie Exec Welfare Head

Post to Republican; Secretary to Take Federal Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today that Anthony J. Celebrezze is resigning as secretary of welfare to take a federal judgeship.

John W. Gardner, a Republican and president of the Carnegie Corp., will be named to the Cabinet post.

Johnson announced his fourth cabinet appointment at a special ceremony in the flower garden outside his office. Celebrezze and Gardner, who was chairman of a special presidential task force on education last year, stood by.

Celebrezze, an Italian immigrant who was a long-time mayor of Cleveland, is being nominated for a vacancy on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth District. The court has headquarters in Cincinnati.

In announcing this, Johnson said: "I have both a feeling of pride in Celebrezze's accession to this high court — and a reluctance in seeing him depart the department he has guided so skillfully."

KNOWLEDGEABLE

Speaking of Gardner, Johnson said: "He is regarded by his peers as one of the most knowledgeable men in the field of U.S. education."

Gardner, besides heading the task force that helped prepare Johnson's 1965 legislative proposals in the field of education, was described by the President as having inspired last week's White House Conference on Education.

Gardner, who was born in Los Angeles in 1912, has been president of the Carnegie Corp. for the past 10 years. He also heads the Carnegie Endowment for the Advancement of Teaching.

The Carnegie Corp. is a foundation that administers the philanthropies initiated by steel baron Andrew Carnegie.

PASSING NOTE

Johnson took passing note of Gardner's Republican allegiance in talking about him before a small audience of reporters.

"He's a Ph.D., an ex-Marine, a former intelligence officer, an author and a Republican, though not necessarily in this order of importance or proportion of significance," Johnson said.

The President said Gardner, educated at Stanford University and the University of California, "has been all his adult life an explorer in search of excellence."

Holder of honorary degrees from a dozen colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, Gardner taught psychology at Mount Holyoke College and Connecticut College for Women before World War II.

$7.5-Billion Housing Bill Set for Congressional OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A housing under existing standards $7.5-billion housing bill containing a rent subsidy provision for low-income families was ready for final congressional approval today.

Passed yesterday by the Senate, the compromise measure backed by the Johnson administration was scheduled for a mid-afternoon House vote expected to send it to the President.

The bill would authorize creation of new programs and continuation of major existing housing programs for the next four years.

Its most controversial provision is the rent subsidy plan which would cost $350 million over the next four years.

Spouses claim the plan would make 375,000 apartment units available for needy families during the next four years.

The subsidies would be limited to families eligible for public housing payments.

In addition to persons qualifying under present standards, elderly or handicapped persons, persons displaced from their homes by government action, and persons whose homes have been destroyed by a natural disaster would be eligible for subsidies if their income increased substantially.

None of the subsidies would go to private landlords. Tenants would lose their eligibility for subsidies if their income increased substantially.

The federal payment would go to nonprofit-type landlords such as churches, unions, cooperatives or limited dividend corporations.

How to Get Passport to Health Benefits

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the third in a 14-part series on the new health care and Social Security bill by John Troan, special writer for Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

By JOHN TROAN

Your passport to Medicare will be a wallet-sized card resembling the kind Blue Cross subscribers carry.

It will signify you are eligible for basic Medicare benefits provided under Social Security. It also will show whether you have bought supplemental health insurance entitling you to additional benefits.

The cards will be mailed by the Social Security Administration before July 1, 1964, when such benefits become available.

If you're eligible for Medicare and already getting monthly Social Security checks, you'll automatically get a form on which you may sign up for supplemental insurance.

You then will receive a health card showing whether you have taken out supplemental coverage or can draw only the basic Medicare benefits.

SIMILAR PROCEDURE

A similar procedure will be followed with persons receiving monthly Railroad Retirement or Civil Service retirement benefits.

Eligible persons on regular welfare rolls also will be advised by mail.

What about other folks who may be entitled to Medicare benefits?

Hospital Fund Reveal $100,000 Gift

The first major gift from an individual to the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Building Fund was announced today by Ernest A. Jones, chairman of the memorial gifts committee, when he revealed that Edward F. Fisher had pledged $100,000 toward the $3,250,000 minimum objective.

Fisher is one of two surviving brothers who established the Fisher Body Co. and is a member of the board of directors of General Motors Corp.

E. M. Estes, chairman of the hospital campaign, expressed his appreciation for the gift, noting, "As one of Michigan's leading citizens, Mr. Fisher has once again demonstrated his sincere interest in voluntary community projects."

"This interest," Estes continued, "as expressed by this very generous gift should provide inspiration for all of us who are working hard to ensure the success of the campaign."

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin accused Western powers today of deliberately deadlocking disarmament negotiations and adopting policies "directly opposed to disarmament and the relaxation of international tension."

Tsarapkin said in his opening address as chairman of the revived 17-nation disarmament conference that the talks were resuming in difficult circumstances because of "imperialist aggression in such places as Viet Nam, the Congo and Latin America."

Law Is Signed for Warning on Cigarettes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today signed into law the bill requiring a health hazard warning on cigarette packages.

The White House said Johnson believed the bill, criticized by some congressmen as not going far enough, would have benefits that outweighed any deficiencies.

The warning — "Caution: cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health" — will be required on cigarette packages, starting next Jan. 1.

The legislation passed Congress following publication of a U.S. Public Health Service report saying that cigarette smoking may be a cause of cancer and other diseases.

Tirrell, who had helped establish St. Louis junior colleges, brought another thing he dreamed to add to Oakland County's hopes for more higher education.

His dream was more sophisticated than the singular creation of more college classrooms, and it, too, is to become a reality this fall.

Fails to Get Majority; Second Ballot Is Set

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath piled up the most votes today for leader of the Conservative party, but failed of a majority and a second ballot was ordered for Thursday.

Conservatives who are members of the House of Commons gave 150 out of the 238 votes cast to Heath, 49, the party spokesman on economic affairs, Reginald Maudling, 48, former chancellor of the exchequer, was close behind with 133 votes. Enoch Powell, 53, former minister of health, got 15.

'Can't Stop Latin Revolutions'

Cuba-Style Uprisings Inevitable—Fidel

SANTA CLARA, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro says Cuban-style revolutions are inevitable in Latin America, with or without Cuban support.

Any U.S. efforts to "crush Cuba," even if successful, will not stop the growth of revolutionary regimes like his among Latin-American countries, the Cuban prime minister told at a celebration Monday of the 12th the site of many guerrilla attacks against his government, Castro said only three revolutionary groups remain there.

"And they are not organized in the form of bands," he said.

2,006 GUERRILLAS KILLED

Operations against the guerrillas in recent years have resulted in 2,006 guerrillas killed or captured and the death of 285 of his own men, Castro said.

In Caracas, Venezuela, a former Castro diplomat said that a continuing stream of Latin-American youths are getting training in Cuba so they can set up revolutionary movements in their own countries.

Odon Alvarez de la Campa, who resigned as counselor of the Cuban Embassy in Madrid, Spain, in March, told newsmen the Castro regime has a widespread network of spies and subversives in Europe and Latin America.

In Moscow, a Soviet official again expressed the Soviet solidarity with the Cuban people against "imperialist provocations." At a reception in the Cuban Embassy, G. I. Voronov, premier of the Russian Federation Republic, said Cuba hoisted "an invincible banner of socialism in the Western Hemisphere."

Role Loss for Aged Stressed

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Entering the ranks of the aged probably causes a person more psychological stress than he feels at any other time in his life, a Western Reserve University sociologist believes.

Perhaps the hardest blow suffered by persons in this age group is that they find they no longer have roles to play in society. Prof. Irving Rosow told the University of Michigan's annual Conference on Aging Monday.

The loss of roles, he said, "devalues and excludes the aged from significant social participation. It deprives them of vital functions that underlie their sense of worth, their self-conception and self-esteem."

AUTOMATIC DROP

Old age, Dr. Rosow said, is the first stage of life to bring an automatic drop in status. Each earlier period usually brings an increase. What is more, he said, our society does not prepare people for this sudden change in the pattern of life.

"Certainly with a broad horizon of leisure and few obligations, many people feel oppressively useless and futile," he said. "They are simply bored—but not quite to death."

Warns of Cost on Uneducated

University Official
Renews Fund, Pleas

LANSING (AP)—A university policy-maker warned Monday that future costs of dealing with uneducated persons will far exceed the expense of providing the education.

Warren Huff, chairman of the Michigan State University trustees and the Michigan Coordinating Council of Higher Education, renewed the university's fund plan at a hearing of a House taxation subcommittee.

Referring to predictions by Gov. George Romney that, without new taxes, Michigan could be in the budgetary red in two years, Huff said:

"We would have red figures in this fiscal year if education needs were being met."

LOW PERCENTAGE

He declared that 75 per cent of the high school graduates should be receiving public higher education instead of the 30-35 per cent now getting it.

"Michigan youngsters are forfeiting their right to training and education for the world in which they live," he declared. "We will have to bear that cost—and this far exceeds the cost of an adequate education program."

"Only when parents and the public realize this will we get adequate support."

Huff said student fees and the property tax portion of education support are at the saturation point.

BONDING PROGRAM

He again asked—as the universities have done for years—that permission be granted for classroom and facilities construction via a bonding program.

He said the state's colleges and universities are three years behind in their building programs. He said Michigan State would not take care of an estimated 42,500 enrollment in two years "without a crash building program."

He quoted Romney as telling him Feb. 5 that Romney would not support bonding because "it would take away a reason for tax reform. Huff said Romney saw tax reform as a better route than bonding to solving Michigan financial problems."

Huff said the dollar problem is denying an education to youngsters who would have been admitted to school four years ago.

"We tell them to go to a community college where there is none," he said. "We say their grades are not good enough when we know a certain percentage of them would succeed."

Robert Turner, president of Macomb County Community College and the Michigan Council of community college administrators, said the two-year schools don't get the support necessary to build technical programs.

The subcommittee headed by Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, was beginning a series of summer hearings around the state aimed at securing information on tax reform. Starr, like Romney, favors tax reform.

North Korea Is Charged With Cease-Fire Violations

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command in Korea charged the North Korean Communists today with a series of armistice violations including a clash 500 yards south of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Maj. Gen. William P. Yarborough told the joint Military Armistice Commission that North Korea sent "an armed killer patrol across the military demarcation line" July 19 and the patrol "threw hand grenades at our soldiers in direct and flagrant violation of the cease-fire."

Yarborough also charged that the two-man midget submarine

he told North Korean Maj. Gen. Park Chang-kook.

Denies Charge

Park denied the charges and said the United States had manufactured the incidents.

The crew of the 15-foot sub found on the bed of the Han River about 30 miles northwest of Seoul on July 4 was from North Korea.

The sub was exhibited outside the meeting to a large crowd that included tourists from South Korea and military personnel and reporters from Communist North Korea. The submarine had a North Korean flag and the name of North Korea Premier Kim Il-sung written on it in white paint.

The U.N. Command delegate demanded severe punishment for those responsible for the alleged incidents.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Managuans turned out in a large procession Monday to pray for rain in the District of Leon, where a severe drought was threatening the cotton harvest.

The procession was led by Bishop Ordoñez Reyes of the Roman Catholic Church. A few hours later heavy rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning, broke over Leon and the adjacent drought-stricken District of Chinandega.

Finishing Job

Roadways in Pontiac Are Being Sealcoated

City crews are nearing the end of the city's 1965 street sealcoating program, a form of maintenance work for residential streets.

Only three streets remain to be done in this year's program of 14 local streets.

Clyde Christian, superintendent of the Department of Public Works, said that sealcoating is not resurfacing and does not produce the same long-lasting surface.

However, he added that the process is widely used and accepted as a form of preventive maintenance, serving to prolong the life of an asphaltic concrete street surface.

Relatively inexpensive (25 cents per square yard), sealcoating is a two-step process. City DPW crews do the labor.

NO CHARGE

Since sealcoating is considered maintenance work, like patching pot holes, there is no charge to property owners. The cost is borne by the city.

Christian said $15,000 was budgeted this year for the sealcoat program. The funds came from the street maintenance fund, which is supported principally by gas line and weight tax monies returned to the city by the state.

While sealcoating is not always the answer to a deteriorating street, Christian said that each year the city conducts a survey to determine where sealcoating is to be applied for that year.

Residents receive word of the sealcoating when a DPW employee distributes a handbill a few days in advance of the work.

NO PARKING

Temporary "no parking" signs are posted on the street the day preceding the work. The signs themselves consist of:

- Sweeping and flushing the street.
- Application of two layers of asphalt emulsion and small size crushed slag.
- Rolling the street with a 10-ton pneumatic-tired roller.
- Leaving the asphalt emulsion to "cure" or dry for about a day.

Christian said that the use of new sealcoating methods, improvements in equipment and more rigid control of materials has solved many of the old problems, such as dust and "bleeding," which makes the new surface appear sticky in the early hours of the curing process.

The DPW superintendent noted that traffic control is still a problem. Car tires, he said, will damage the surface in the early hours after the curing process begins.

STREETS CLOSED

To solve this, the street is barricaded and closed to traffic until nightfall.

Christian said a policeman is with the sealcoating crew at all times. Violators are ticketed and illegally parked cars have been hauled away.

After the curing takes place, city crews return a few days later to sweep up the loose slag, leaving a nonskid surface which prolongs the life of the pavement for several years.

Physician Calls Sale 'Unethical'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Christopher Wood, a Myrtle Beach, S.C., eye physician, denounced today the practice of many doctors of selling the things they prescribe for patients.

In testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, Wood called the practice unethical and a sign of avarice by doctors. He urged Congress to consider passing laws to forbid it.

He aimed his statement mainly at doctors who sell the eye-glasses they prescribe, but said it applied to other fields of medicine as well. He said most ophthalmologists are selling glasses in addition to treating and prescribing for patients' eye troubles.

Eugene J. Lane, Tucson, Ariz., lawyer for opticians who produce glasses prescribed by doctors, charged in prepared testimony that patients have complained of coercive tactics by doctors trying to sell what they prescribe.

"I feel that if the conduct of doctors exploiting the public is allowed to continue unabated," Lane said, "either by the medical society itself or by legislative action, in the long run the public as a whole will suffer drastic consequences."

He said eye doctors could freeze opticians out of the market, and charge what they pleased for glasses. Lane said that if that happens "the captive patient of the future will be financially at his doctor's mercy."

He told of patients who, he said, claim to have been overcharged for glasses they got from their eye doctors.

Lane said he had complained "to no avail" to the Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission, and feels it is time now for Congress to "rectify this apparent wrong being done to the dispensing opticians' trade."

The subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., keyed the hearing to a statement he had made public Monday that the American Medical Association seemingly "does not care to — or is unable to — assume the policemen's role" in stopping doctors from peddling the things they prescribe.

Koreans Line Streets During Rhee Funeral

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Half a million Koreans lined streets of Seoul today as the body of former President Syngman Rhee was carried to a grave in the National Cemetery on the southern bank of the Han River.

Funeral service was held in the Chungdong Methodist church which Rhee used to attend. Nearby City Hall Plaza was jammed, and the half-mile-long procession was stalled for 20 minutes there after it left the church.

A memorial program had been planned at the plaza, with recordings of some of Rhee's speeches to be played. It was called off because of the confusion.

The former president, who was overthrown by a student-led revolt in 1960, died July 19 in Honolulu. He was 90.

Apparent Heart Attack Woman Dies After Deraillment

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — An 18-year-old woman who died after the derailment of a Chicago-to-Denver passenger train.

Alma Conlon, 77, of Wagner, S.D., died Monday night of an apparent heart attack. She had suffered a fractured spine in the accident.

Six persons remained hospitalized. They were among 53 injured when the westbound City of Denver, operated by the Union Pacific Railroad, left the tracks early Monday morning.

A railroad spokesman said 303 passengers were on the 18-car train, when the last nine cars jumped the rails at a spot crossed by other trains only a short while before.

The accident was the second passenger train derailment in Colorado within 12 hours.

Late Sunday, the California Zephyr, eastbound for Denver from San Francisco and Salt Lake City, skidded off rails.

The airman said he applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and the child revived. She was reported in good condition at a hospital here.

Bomb Hits the Office of 3 CORE Lawyers

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A fire bomb exploded late Monday night outside the office of three civil rights attorneys pleading federal court contempt proceedings here against Bogalusa police officials.

The incendiary device punctured an automobile radiator and broke the glass in the front door of the law office of Robert Collins, Nils Douglass and Louis Elle.

The three attorneys represented the Congress of Racial Equality in federal court Monday as chief U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry began hearing the contempt proceedings launched by the civil rights organization and the Department of Justice.

At one point, after watching movies of racial turmoil at Bogalusa, Judge Christenberry told government lawyers to bring before him two more police officers for criminal and contempt action.

HEARING CONTINUES

The hearing continued today and there were indications that it might last all week.

Bogalusa's Police Commissioner Arnold Spiers and Police Chief Claxton Knight have been accused by the Justice Department and CORE of failing to obey Judge Christenberry's July 10 ruling that demonstrators be protected from angry whites.

CORE also wants Washington Parish Sheriff Dorman Crowe and other law officers convicted of civil contempt.

Judge Christenberry has placed criminal contempt proceedings against Spiers and Knight on his regular docket. They will be heard later.

CONTEMPT CASES

Criminal contempt can be described as like a father whipping his son for having stolen a watermelon. In civil contempt, it's the father taking the boy to the woodshed for failure to stop stealing the melons.

Police said to the Collins, Douglass and Elle office, located in a predominantly Negro commercial section, after the small explosion near midnight. The FBI said it was also checking the incident.

The CORE regional offices in New Orleans are next door to the law office. A spokesman for CORE said a witness saw the

Plans Private School in Selma for Whites Refusing to Integrate

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A private school for white pupils unwilling to go to class with Negroes is being established in the city where the current civil rights struggle in Alabama began.

The picket, Victor Levine, a CORE worker from Oakland, Calif., said the barber told him, "I have to clean this trash off the sidewalk. This is my property." And other things like that.

Leaders of a newly formed private school foundation in Selma have promised to start classes in September in a white-columned mansion once occupied by a Confederate Civil War general.

They hope the state will foot the bill with tuition grants. But the foundation president, Robert D. Wilkinson, says, "We're going to have a school whether we get the money or not."

A bill to authorize the use of public funds in any city or county for pupils attending private school is pending in the legislature.

$185 A YEAR

It would make up to $185 a year available for a child whose assignment to public school would, in the judgment of his parents, be "detrimental to (his) physical or emotional health" or subject the child to "hazards to personal safety."

The bill makes no mention of race or color.

Alabama has a tuition-grant law now, but a three-judge federal court has prohibited its use. Unlike the pending new measure, the law provides for grants only when public schools have been ordered integrated.

Sponsors of the new bill are hopeful the federal courts will approve the tuition grant plan where no mention is made of segregation.

The private school foundation was organized after the Selma School Board had agreed to desegregate the first four grades this fall.

Area Couple Honeymoon at the Falls

The Eugene Paul Murray (Shirlee Ann Snyder) left for a honeymoon in Niagara Falls and northern Michigan after their recent marriage in the First Methodist Church, Romeo.

Parents of the couple wed before Rev. J. Charles Dibley are the Donald K. Snyders of Romeo and the Emmanuel H. Murrays of Garden City.

With Diane Jarrett, honor maid, were bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald A. Snyder, Royal Oak, and Joyce Thomas, Marietta. Donna May Jarrett was flower-girl.

Eugene Ramanin was best man with Donald A. Snyder and James Razek, groomsmen. Sigman Harless ushered.

The couple will reside in Romeo.

Reception in the Binghamton Drive home of the William C. Hardens followed the recent marriage of their daughter Mary Jane to Ronald Bruce Comstock in the Church of the Nazarene. Wearing white Chantilly lace with organza overlay, the bride held white carnations arranged to form a cross for the rite performed by Rev. Russell Stanley. The bridegroom is the son of the Almon F. Comstock of Flint.

When They Stay After the Party

By the Emily Post Institute
Q: Will you please tell me what, if anything, a host and hostess can do when some of the guests at a cocktail party stay on and on after the hour stated on the invitations?

A: Cocktail parties rarely end on time and a hostess must expect some of her guests to linger a half hour or so beyond the indicated time, but that is as much as she should be expected to endure.

After that she may take steps to hurry the last survivors off. She and her husband could put on their coats, saying, "I'm so sorry, but we are expected for dinner in ten minutes," even though it may be the neighborhood restaurant that is expecting them.

Or they may simply remove the liquor and close the bar. Once the guests finish the drinks in their hands and find no more being served, the party will soon be over.

BELETED ANNIVERSARY
Q: Our 25th wedding anniversary was six months ago but, as my husband was in the hospital at that time, we could not give a party.

He is completely well again and we would still like to celebrate the occasion. Would it be proper, at this late date to give a belated silver anniversary party?

A: Under the circumstances you describe, it will be quite all right to have a belated anniversary party now that your husband is well again.

TELEPHONE
Q: When luncheon in someone's house, and during the course of the meal the telephone rings and the hostess leaves the table to answer it, does a guest go on eating, or does she wait until the hostess returns to the table before continuing?

A: Unless the hostess tells her to go on eating, she should wait.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Formal Wedding Procedure," includes details on the wedding procession, the receiving line and other helpful information.

This Is Typical Example, Forced Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our son is in some deep trouble over a girl.

When he first met her, he wanted the family to meet her but now he won't discuss her with any of us. I know she doesn't care for him because of his nervousness.

This past month he has been calling us on Fridays to say he's coming home for the weekend; but when he gets here, he's restless and impatient.

Then he'll put in a long-distance call to this girl and leave without staying the night. She is leading him on...

Answer: She couldn't do it if he didn't want to keep the ring in his nose.

We are mistaken, I think, to allow sympathy for a painfully infatuated child to blind us to the fact that vindictiveness has become the mainspring of his continuing attachment to his tormentor.

At this point of painful infatuation the secret feeling is: "I'll bring you to heel if it kills me."

Though our dear child appears to be the victim of his tormentor — that bad girl who "leads" him on — the truth is that he is the victim of his own insistence on compelling her to acknowledge his irresistible charm.

That is why, when he comes home for a weekend's relief from battle, he can't stay there. The drive to break the tormentor into surrender to his charm takes him over again.

The problem, of course, is that our infatuated child glorifies his demands for vengeance on the person who has hurt and humiliated him.

He calls it "love" — one of those special world-shaking passions which change maps. It is only by seeing himself as the hero of epic romance that the poor lamb can account for his willingness to put up with its heroine's caprices, betrayal, lies and cruelties.

Anger at the girl is a waste of our time. She's really not to blame because our child refuses to know when he's licked.

He, not she, is our business. We may be able to point out to him, "It's actually a little cruel to try to force love from people who haven't got it to give." And it is, you know.

Tigers Within Dressen's 'Goal' of '63

Wes Parker Adds Punch to LA Speed

By The Associated Press

Swift Maury Wills, leading performer in the Los Angeles Dodgers' Au Go Go, suddenly has found some swinging help. And from a bridge player named Maurice Wesley Parker, III, no less.

Wills stole his 68th and 69th bases of the season Monday night as the National League-leading Dodgers stretched their margin to two games with a 5-4 victory over runner-up Cincinnati.

Parker, who patrols first base for the Dodgers when he isn't playing bridge, kicked in with a two-run homer as did Willie Davis, one of Wills' running mates in the Dodger attack that ordinarily features speed rather than strength.

AHEAD OF PACE

The steals put Wills 28 games ahead of the pace he maintained in 1962 when he swiped 104 bases. He was on base three times with a single and two walks and raised his average to .301. He has hit safely in 19 consecutive games.

Maury singled in the first inning and came around on Davis' fifth home run of the season. Parker made it 4-0 in the second and then Wills' speed produced the final Dodger run.

The Dodger swiftly walked and stole second for his 68th steal of the year. After Jim Gilliam walked, Wills and Gilliam worked a double steal and when Reds' catcher John Edwards threw the ball into left field, Maury scored.

Edwards caught Wills trying for number 70 in the seventh. Maury batted two for three against the Cincinnati catcher.

Elsewhere in the National League, young Wade Blasingame limited Houston to five singles as Milwaukee snapped a three-game losing string with a 6-4 victory against Houston. Bob Gibson won his 12th game as St. Louis defeated San Francisco 7-4 in the only other game played.

BRIDGES GAP Parker, a tournament bridge player, seems to have solved Manager Walt Alston's first base problem for the moment.

Wes skipped a trip to Honolulu for an international bridge tournament with his day last winter, preferring to do his playing instead in the Arizona Instructional League.

The home run was his fourth and helped the Dodgers beat Jim Maloney, 11-4. Johnny Podres, 4-5, with relief help from Bob Miller and Ron Perrano, was the winner.

Blasingame, a 21-year-old left-hander, won his 12th against seven setbacks and got all the help he needed from batterymate Joe Torre, who drove in four runs with three hits including his 19th homer.

Torre connected with two Braves on base in the first inning after Felipe Alou had opened the game with his 16th homer. The All-Star catcher then drove in another run with a triple in the fifth.

MITLESS RELIEF

Dave Giusti, working in relief of Houston starter Bob Bruce, hurled 4 1/3 innings of hitless relief for the Astros.

Bill White walloped a two-run homer and Dick Groat doubled in two more to help Gibson beat the Giants. The fireballing right-hander needed relief help from rookie Don Dennis though.

Dennis came on in the eighth inning after San Francisco had scored twice and ended the inning by retiring pinch hitter Willie Mays on a fly ball.

Juan Marichal, 15-4, took the loss.

3rd Mackinac Race Win for Gypsy Sets Record

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich.

(UPI) — The 54-foot sloop Gypsy became the first three-time over-all winner Monday in the 41-year history of the Port Huron-to-Mackinac yacht race with a six-minute, 55-second victory over her nearest rival.

The second-place Winsome lost 10 minutes because of a broken boom fitting on her mainsail less than four miles from the finish line. A record 164-boat fleet participated in the 235-mile Lake Huron race.

Gypsy, skippered by Milwaukee auto dealer Charles Kotovic, turned in a corrected time of 42 hours, 44 minutes and 13 seconds, against 42:51 for Winsome, piloted by Carter Sales and Skip Grew of Detroit.

Gypsy and Winsome hugged the Michigan shore throughout the race as the boats battled winds of up to 25 miles an hour and waves as much as eight feet high. The other class winners also chose to stick to the Michigan side.

DAMAGE REPORTED Twelve boats were forced to drop out, and nearly every craft reported damage of some kind.

Guy McNaron's sloop, Vashit, won its first Cruising B long distance test. Vashit, the seventh boat to complete the course, edged Hank Burkhardt's Meteor III by 42 minutes.

The sloop Rhapsody, piloted by Jacob Brown of the Great Lakes Yacht Club, sailed off with Cruising C honors.

Salmagundi, skippered by Peter O'Neill of Toledo, was the first Cruising D boat to finish. Vessels of the smaller Cruising E Class still were struggling to ward the finish line, with the entire fleet expected here by midnight Tuesday.

FACES SURGERY — Former, golfer, golfer, Walter Hagen is expected to undergo a throat operation for cancer next week at New York's St. Vincent Hospital. Hagen, 72, has been hospitalized since July 15. He retired from the golf game in the middle 1930s.

REVERSED RECORD Hank Aguirre, the oldest player on the team, already has reversed his 5-10 pitching record of 1961. Mickey Lolich, an 18-game winner last year, is 10-4.

Denny McLain, at 21 the youngest player on the team, has won eight straight games to bring his record to 9-3 and Joe Sparrma, 23, is 6-3.

While individual records can be used to explain the team's success, Dressen feels overall balance has made it a contender.

Hills 'Series' in 5th Game

The East Hills team posted a 9-7 victory over Vaughn All-Stars last night to take a 3-1 lead in the Bloomfield Continental League World Series.

The two squads will battle in the fifth game tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Outfielder Curt Leihauer sparked the victory last night as he collected three hits and stole four bases.

Dressen, still somewhat softer spoken and seemingly not through to pick him up," Dressen observes. "You have got to have that to remain in the pennant race."

One indication of this team balance is brought out in the statistics which show nine different players hitting the home runs the Tigers have collected in their last seven games.

SCRAMMAGES Paul Bixler, Browns' talent scout, will watch the Collegians against the Chicago Bears at Renaissance, Ind., on Thursday. Graham will send a staff member to watch the Browns' scrimmage Saturday when the Cleveland, Touchdown Club makes its annual visit to the training camp.

The All-Stars resumed two-day drills Monday.

After enjoying an off day Sunday, they worked hard on pass defense with a goal of keeping the Browns' air attack under 50 per cent in completions and no touchdowns passes.

Defensive backfield coach John Sauer said "instead of facing one good receiver and one good passer every once in a while as they did in college, now they're facing a number of good receivers and passers on every team."

St. Louis Signs Hagan

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Cliff Hagan, nine-year veteran in the National Basketball Association, has signed his 1963-64 contract with the St. Louis Hawks, ending rumors that he would follow Bob Pettit into retirement.

Twins 'Killer' Is Back in Old Spot

Homers Beat Orioles, 8-2

Minnesota Extends Lead in AL

By The Associated Press

Harmon Killebrew is back where he started 11 years ago and big Don Mincher is doing his best to keep the Killer there.

Mincher, who reverted to the odd man in Minnesota's power structure last spring when Manager Sam Mele decided to convert Killebrew into a first baseman, made another bid for steady work Monday night.

Mincher laced a three-run first-inning homer that sparked the Twins to an 8-2 victory over Baltimore.

Killebrew, back at third base, where he played as a rookie with the old Washington Senators in 1954, added his 20th home as the Twins stretched their America League lead to 4½ games over the second-place Orioles.

The Los Angeles Angels whipped Boston 6-2 behind George Brunet's six-hit pitching and a four-run eighth-inning rally in the only other AL action.

NOT OFFERED Mincher, who had hit 40 home runs over the past two seasons while backing up Vic Power and Bob Allison at first base, was sought by several clubs when the result of trade for pitching and infield help early this year.

Mele, however, kept the bespectacled, 6-foot-3 slugger as insurance should Killebrew fail to make the grade as a first baseman. When Killebrew, who had done a good job at first, volunteered to play a gap at third last month, Mincher was available.

He has hit eight of his 12 homers this month and accounted for 16 of his 23 runs batted in.

Mincher's three-run shot off Milt Pappas rattled the Orioles at the start and they never recovered. After Killebrew's solo homer in the sixth, the Twins picked up four unearned runs, the result of three errors and a passed ball.

Jim Grant picked up his 11th victory in 14 decisions but needed help from reliever Gary Roggenbuck, who worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh and blanked Baltimore the rest of the way.

Friendly Home Course Fine for Leader in WMGA Meet

There's no place like home.

Playing the friendly fairways at Bob O'Link Golf Club, Mrs. Midge Cova fired a 36-57-75 yesterday to take a seven-stroke lead in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association 54-hole medal play tournament.

Mrs. Cova and her husband

own the course and she played like she owned it yesterday in easily topping the 12-player field.

She posted seven pars on the front side and added four pars and a birdie on the back side over the 6,000-yard course.

Mrs. Douglas Graham held second place with 41-41-82 as the ladies started their second round today. The final round will be played tomorrow.

TIED FOR 3RD Mrs. Floyd Cocklin of Birmingham and Mrs. George Schade of Detroit were deadlocked for third place with 84s.

Defending champion Mrs. J. (Bobbie) Miller, who is also a former Pontiac city champion, was 11 strokes off the pace after carding a 47-40-87.

Cookie Feuding Again With AFL Denver Team

From Our News Wires

DENVER, Colo. — Cookie Gilchrist, All-Star American Football League fullback and a key in the rebuilding plans for the Denver Broncos, now says, despite signing a contract, he never intended to play in Denver.

The 250-pounder, acquired by the Broncos from the AFL champion Buffalo Bills last winter, arrived five days late at the Denver training camp and was met with a threatened $100,000 breach of contract suit.

In addition, Coach Mac Speedie said unless Gilchrist made a public apology to the Bronco team, Cookie wouldn't be permitted to join the team.

"I'm sorry if people thought season tickets thinking I was going to play with the Broncos," Gilchrist said Monday. "I never intended to play for Denver."

$100 FINE He said the Bronco management intimidated him into signing a reported $37,500-a-year contract with threats to fine him

$500 a day each day after July 1 that he had not signed. He agreed to terms June 23.

Another prominent player to run into early trouble was Johnny Sample, defensive back of the Washington Redskins, who was suspended indefinitely by the National League Club for a series of training camp violations.

Sieve Stonebreaker of the NFL's Baltimore Colts escaped lightly compared to the fate of Gilchrist and Sample.

The linebacker ended a one-day self-imposed retirement Monday because he said he could not afford the $100 a day fine imposed on him until he settled his contract.

British Chose Captain

LONDON (UPI) — Joe Carr was named Monday as the captain of the 10-man British Walker Cup golf team which will meet the United States at the Five Farms Course in Baltimore, Md., Sept. 3-4.

Par Posing Challenge in Western Am

BENTON HARBOR (AP) —

Point O'Woods golf course is posing another par challenge for the Western Amateur tournament.

Only one man, Tim Leslie of Whiting, Ind., 20-year-old University of Houston sophomore, matched par 71 in prequalifications Monday.

No one broke par in the entire tournament when the Western Amateur was held here in 1963.

The 1965 tournament, with a field of 100, begins a 72-hole stretch of qualifying Wednesday. The low 50 will continue medal play Friday which leads to match play Saturday and Sunday. The finals will be Sunday.

Leslie topped a field of 72 Monday as 46 entries survived for the action Wednesday. He fired three birdies on the approximately 7,000-yard course, he had rounds of 36-35 against par 35-36.

Michigan golfers picked up the first five places behind Leslie.

Steve Erickson of Grosse Ile and David Cameron of Detroit tied at 73. Bob Meyer of Niles shot 74, and Nap Chinnick of Benton Harbor and Jack Van Ess of Grand Rapids tied at 75.

Businessmen After Predictions on Trade

MARKETS

Irregularly Higher Trend

Defense Stocks Move Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed an irregularly higher trend in stock early trading today.

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks outnumbered losers in the same range.

Defense-oriented stocks continued to move up, but progress was uneven as some profits were taken on their rise of Monday.

As expectations of a tougher policy on Viet Nam continued to dominate Wall Street, AVCO, spurred 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 on an opening block of 18,000 shares, AVCO, which makes helicopter engines, was the most active stock Monday.

AVCO trimmed its price in active later dealings. Defense-oriented Fairchild Camera also was briskly traded and gained a fraction.

General Dynamics rose 1/4 to 49 1/2 on a block of 10,000 shares. Douglas Aircraft (ex dividend) rose nearly a point and United Aircraft was unchanged while Boeing was off about a point as traders took profits on recent strength.

At about a point were Anaconda, Kennecott, Xerox, U.S. Smelting, Zenith and Jones & Laughlin.

Motors and steels were a little higher on balance.

Rails improved slightly. Little change was shown by oils, airlines, farm implements and tobacco. Building materials declined.

OPENING BLOCKS

Opening blocks included: Chrysler, up 1/4 at 45 1/2 on 4,000 shares; Fairchild Camera, up 1/4 at 54 1/2 on 2,000; and Standard Oil (New Jersey), unchanged at 75 1/2 on 1,500.

Monday, the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose 1/2 to 310 1/2.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Press-for-Vote on Union Shop

House Dem Leaders Confident of Victory

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic leaders, confident of victory, pressed for a final vote today on a bill to end the right of states to outlaw union shop contracts.

Forcing the controversial labor measure to the House floor under a procedure used only once before, Democrats showed their strength in winning a key test vote 248 to 171.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—U. S. businessmen who deal in goods and dollars with other nations are sharply revising their predictions on how this country will fare this year.

One group has lowered its earlier estimates of the total of U. S. exports while increasing its prediction for imports.

At the same time it has drastically cut its earlier predictions of the U. S. balance of payments deficit, because of the greater than expected drop in the price of American private capital.

Other observers of international trade trends think America's export market may shrink still further next year.

This balance of payments deficit as around 1000 million, which would be the smallest in eight years.

Since 1957 the annual deficit has ranged between $2 billion and $4 billion. And intermittently this has caused a troublesome drain of U. S. gold reserves.

ADVISORY GROUP

The council's advisory group now sees commercial exports coming to $26 billion this year, a drop of $300 million from their January prediction. They see imports rising to $24 billion, up $500 million from the earlier estimate.

Private capital investments overseas are now estimated at $3.6 billion, down from $5.6 billion a year ago. Government and other capital outflows are regarded as a bit higher now.

All types of U. S. spending is put at $40.5 billion, and all returns at $39.7 billion.

The relatively small $800 million deficit, however, could be a passing improvement. The group says this year's showing will be largely due to "the stable shift in corporate short-term funds." This is regarded as probably temporary. In the future, if a "balance as favorable as this is to be maintained or there is to be still further improvement," the group says the United States must look elsewhere in the factors making up the balance of payments.

That vote restricted debate to the issue of whether to repeal Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Section 14b of the Taft-Hartley Act, which bans union shop contracts, was the subject of a vote today.

Nineteen states have laws prohibiting such contracts, which require all employees to join the union selected by the majority.

REVISE ACT

Republicans had wanted to open the whole federal labor act to amendments. These might have included proposals to prohibit the use of union dues for political purposes, outlaw racial discrimination by unions, forbid punishment of a union member for opposing union policy and permit a person to refuse to join a union on religious grounds.

Democrats argued these matters were already covered by federal law.

"This is a one-man gag rule," charged Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

The one man he referred to was Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the Labor Committee. Powell used a rule revived this year to take the bill from the jurisdiction of the Rules Committee and then, he said, he would bring it back to the floor.

While Democratic leaders conceded their 67-vote margin on the test vote would dwindle considerably in final action, they predicted victory by about 40 votes.

Waterford Rezoning

Some blame a slowdown in demand in West Europe, as its big boom levels off and monetary restrictions tighten in its fight against inflation. Other see a cramping of available funds in other parts of the world where prices of the raw materials for sale are dropping. And still others think that U. S. export prices will rise because of increasing production costs, so that Americans may be priced out of some markets.

All bets are hedged, however, against what could happen to international trade and domestic economies if the Viet Nam war grows into a bigger conflict.

Two Agree on Petitions

In matters concerning the administrative procedure for handling township rezoning petitions, Waterford Township Attorney Paul Mandel and Oakland County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen have reached agreement—but not with Waterford Township Board members.

In a letter to the Waterford Township Board last night, Mandel stated he and Allen agreed that all rezoning petitions, whether approved or denied, should be sent to the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee for review following recommendation by the Township Planning Commission.

Nevertheless, township board members expressed opposition to the zoning procedure at last night's meeting.

Supervisor James E. Seesterlin indicated he may go to Lansing in an attempt to seek an amendment to the existing state regulating zoning procedure.

The amendment would establish autonomy for townships in zoning matters.

APPROVED PETITIONS

Until recently, only approved zoning petitions had been submitted to the Coordinating Zoning Committee.

Township Planning Director Vernon Wiggins contends the county should be concerned with rezoning petition requests only when property borders another township.

Final action on all rezoning petitions is taken by the various township boards.

4 Firms Fined on Steel Prices

NEW YORK (UPI)—A federal judge yesterday levied fines totaling $150,000 against four major steel producers and a trade association which pleaded "no contest" to charges of conspiracy to fix prices and rig bids on steel forgings.

Two of the companies, it was the second heavy fine imposed by the U. S. district court here in the past four days.

Bethlehem Steel Co. was hit with the steepest fine yesterday—$44,000. U. S. Steel Corp. and Midvale-Heppelbach Co., a trade association, were each fined $35,000.

Erie Forge & Steel Corp. was fined $25,000 and the Open Die Forging Institute Inc., $15,000.

The judgments were handed down by Chief Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan after the defendants were permitted to change their original innocent pleas to "nolo contendere."

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "We are retired and have invested in American Telephone, General Motors and Dow Chemical. Can you tell me what values we get from these stocks and how these are figured? We think a loss in Dow. Do you have it recovered?"

M. M.

(A) It is unfortunate that you have a loss in Dow Chemical, but I don't think you need to be seriously concerned about this. When you suffer a decline in a really high-grade stock—which Dow is—you can reasonably sure of ultimate recovery. Dow's profits have been relatively stable for some time—until 1964, a boom year—but the management and financial structure are thoroughly sound. I wouldn't buy Dow, but neither would I sell at present depressed levels. To figure current yield on your stocks, divide the annual dividend rate by the market price.

Prices Are Mixed on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices were mostly narrowly mixed in fairly active and mixed opening transactions today on the Board of Trade.

Wheat was 1/2 cent a bushel lower to 1/4 higher, September $1.48 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2 lower, September $1.55 1/2; oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, September 68 cents; soybeans 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, August $2.79 1/2.

ASSURANCES

1. Assume virtually all Americans 65 or older of hospitalization and nursing home protection at low cost.

2. Provide all Americans 65 or over protection against most doctor bills, again at minimal cost.

3. Increase 7 per cent retroactive to last Jan. 1, benefits under already existing old age, survivors and disability insurance programs.

Jones Motor Reports Rise in Revenues

Jones Motor Co., Inc., of Springfield, Pa., with local offices at 124 Franklin Road, reports consolidated operating revenues for the first half of 1965 totaled $387,218, or 66 cents per share.

During the quarter ended June 30, 1965, revenues totaled $9,770,000 compared with $9,240,000 during the same period in 1964.

Earnings after taxes for the six-month period in 1965 were $354,123 and represented 63 cents per common share outstanding. In the same period in 1964 earnings totaled $387,218, or 66 cents per share.

Directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share on common stock payable on August 16, 1965 to shareholders of record July 30, 1965.

The bill, once the target of cries of "socialized medicine," represents the broadest expansion of the Social Security System since its inception during President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal.
