

Storm Shuts Schools, Cuts Power

The sudden burst of winter-like weather yesterday and its continuation today has resulted in numerous school closings, hazardous driving conditions and suspended electrical service in five areas of the county.

Nearly all the parochial schools in the county were closed today because of the five inches of snow already on the ground this morning.

Public schools also are closed due to teacher meetings.

Slush and packed snow has made driving difficult throughout the county, according to Oscar Loomis, maintenance superintendent for the Oakland County Road Commission.

"In some areas, drifts are as high as three feet across roads," Loomis said.

The road commission has had 100 pieces of equipment in constant use since early yesterday in an effort to keep roads clear by salting, plowing and grading.

"Salting hasn't been as effective as it should be because high winds are blowing it away before it takes hold," Loomis said.

He noted that numerous roads including some main arteries were blocked this morning by the drifts caused by strong winds and that further problems have been caused by drifts on the county freeway system.

Pontiac has had its salt trucks out since about 2 p.m. yesterday and crews have worked continually on grading and plowing also, according to Clyde Christian, superintendent of the city's department of public works.

Another two to three inches of snow is expected to accumulate today on top of the five inches that fell yesterday and last night in the area.

The sleet that accompanied last night's snow and high winds caused service interruptions to Detroit Edison Co. customers in five areas for short periods of time.

A 34-minute service lapse was reported in the Troy-Madison Heights area at 3:30 a.m. today and it affected 2,000 customers.

Brief service interruptions due to the falling of trees on primary wires were reported for 50 customers in West Bloomfield Township, 150 in Farmington Township, 50 in Addison Township and 250 in Southfield.

SERVICE RESTORED

All service has been restored, according to Daniel M. Hines, assistant division manager of the firm's Oakland County service office.

Road service companies report a heavy backlog of emergency calls mostly from motorists stuck in driveways or on residential streets resulting in an average wait of two hours for service.

Despite the weather, the number of traffic accidents reported to police has been about normal. The early snowfall is expected to continue through tonight and possibly into tomorrow.

Budget for OU Over $7 Million

Oakland University proposes spending $7,265,203 in 1967-68 to operate a campus for 4,071 students.

Its budget request, to be submitted to the State Budget Bureau within the next few days, would mark a $1,669,272 increase over this year's figure.

5-Year Growth Plan Submitted

Total of $46 Million in Construction Asked

A five-year plan for $46 million in construction has been submitted by Oakland University with its request for an $11.1 million capital outlay from the state in 1967-68.

Along with a proposed $7.3 million operating budget, the package has been approved by the Michigan State University Board of Regents and is being prepared for submission to the State Budget Bureau.

After bureau review, appropriation requests are forwarded to the governor, who will make recommendations to the Legislature in January.

The amounts requested represent only the portion of the building program's costs which OU is asking the state to bear.

Chancellor D. B. Varner earlier this year announced plans for a $51-million building program planned for the next three years, including funds from other sources.

MORE PAYMENTS

In this year's capital outlay request to the state are additional payments for projects already approved — $2 million to be applied to construction of the Engineering Building and $1,340,000 for a classroom-office building.

The university also wants construction funds for two projects now being designed by architects. For central heating plant and service facilities, OU is seeking $2.5 million in 1967-68 and will ask for (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Heart of the revenue to support the spending would be a $5,666,988 appropriation from the State Legislature, $1,330,632 more than the university received this year.

The requested appropriation represents $1,267 per student, compared to $1,120 this year.

Expecting its largest enrollment increase since it opened in 1959, the university is making plans for $28 additional students next year.

"The operating budget request projects the current level of operation with adjustments for inflationary increases in the costs of goods and services and salary and wage adjustments," said Robert Swanson, OU director of business affairs.

Largest chunk of the proposed budget would be $3,861,163 for salaries, $778,097 more than the amount being spent this year.

PAY RATES

Labor allocation for hourly rated employees would be $734,830, boosted by $154,575.

Other items are supplies and services, up $284,500 to $1,285,325; equipment, up $365,100 to $749,235; and retirement and social security, up $87,000 to $484,000.

Academic areas would get the biggest share of additional funds being sought — $670,625.

In this category, the university is asking for $297,000 for 33 new faculty positions, $81,000 for nine new administrative positions and another $81,000 to create 18 clerical-technical positions.

TWO DEFICIENCY

Requests to cover two deficiencies total $363,800.

'Early Winter' Heaped Five Inches Of Snow On The Pontiac Area

See Police 'Boycott' End

The Pontiac police "boycott" is expected to end this afternoon, according to City Manager Joseph A. Warren, who said some 10 patrolmen had agreed to report for afternoon duty in response to a joint plea by Police Chief William K. Hanger and PPOA head Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley.

By DAVID J. COOK

"Sick" Pontiac policemen continued to boycott their jobs today, with 52 patrolmen and detectives reporting illness in a 24-hour period extending through this morning.

As all 22 patrol and traffic bureau personnel called in sick, however, City Manager Joseph A. Warren instructed Police Chief William K. Hanger to begin a telephone check of policemen scheduled for afternoon duty.

Warren hinted that the city might want proof of illness by officers reporting sick, but he said, talk of disciplinary action was "premature."

The city manager also disclosed he had received a telegram from the Pontiac Police Officers Association shortly before noon, requesting a "fact-finding" hearing of the wage dispute before the State Labor Mediation Board.

"We are agreeable to this," Warren said, "and in fact have recommended it for some time."

Most police supervisors — captains, lieutenants, and sergeants — again worked 16-hour shifts along with a handful of probationary patrolmen and some veterans who refused to go along the the apparent protest.

Legal means to enforce settlement of the wage dispute between police and the city were discussed with some heat last night by Gov. Romney and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

"Loosening of the Hutchinson Act (it is no longer mandatory to fire striking public employees) is at least part of the cause of the police problem in this city," Taylor charged at an airport welcome for the governor.

DENIES STATEMENT

Romney denied this, pointing out the law still prohibits strikes.

"The trouble is," the governor said, "that some public officials don't have the guts to enforce the law."

Endorsements for Election in Friday's Press

As Tuesday's general election draws near, The Pontiac Press tomorrow on its editorial page will make endorsements of candidates for national, state and local offices.

In addition, a complete list of all the candidates running for township offices will appear tomorrow on the area news page.

For voters who want to know where the legislative, judicial and Waterford Township candidates stand on important issues, their statements appear today on Pages D-9, D-10 and D-11.

5-Inch Snow Will Grow and Grow

The storm which dumped nearly five inches of snow in Pontiac and Oakland County yesterday and through the night is expected to bring an additional two to three inches by tonight.

The mercury plunged to 24 at 6 a.m. today, a new low for the season.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts snow flurries and cold tonight, the low 22 to 25. Partly cloudy and cold with snow flurries is Friday's forecast.

The bureau said the weather will be warmer with skies partly cloudy Saturday.

Northwesterly winds at 25 to 35 miles per hour will diminish tonight. The temperature hovered near 32 at 1 p.m.

LBJ Asks Unity for Viet Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, home from his historic mission to the Far East, has appealed for unity behind American policy in Viet Nam — for "where there is a deep division in a land, there is danger." "Where there is unity in the land, there is strength," Johnson said in a homecoming speech last night at rainy Dulles International Airport.

Johnson was at the White House today, but not for long. He is expected to open a fast-paced, final round of campaigning tomorrow to urge the election of Democrats in next Tuesday's state and congressional balloting.

A joking word about the weather was Johnson's only direct reference to the campaign at his formal welcome home.

Johnson said America's task in Viet Nam is far from done, but he said Asians—the people closest to the arena of conflict—know that Communist aggression there must be defeated.

Pontiac Sets Mark for Retail Deliveries

Pontiac and Tempest retail deliveries for October totaled 76,064 establishing an all-time record for the month. It was announced today by John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

This is an increase of 3,529 cars or 4.9 per cent greater than the 72,535 cars sold in the same month a year ago, DeLorean said.

Also setting a new record were the 25,545 retail deliveries made during the Oct. 21-31 period.

'Didn't Have Chance,' Says Ambushed Yank

121ST EVACUATION HOSPITAL, South Korea (AP) — "We just didn't have a chance," said a shaken 17-year-old American soldier who played dead during the Communist ambush which killed the other seven members of his patrol south of the Korean demilitarized zone yesterday.

"After it was over," said Pfc. David E. Bibee, of Ringgold, Va., "I crawled over to my buddy, there was nothing I could do for him. He was sucking blood."

"I started praying for him, but there was nothing I could do. We just didn't have a chance. They seemed to come from behind. The only thing I could make out was that there were at least six of them."

Still suffering from shock but not seriously wounded, the black-haired youth told the story of the pitched battle—the first of two near the demarcation line in the last hours of President Johnson's visit to Korea—from a wheelchair in the 121st Evacuation (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

'ACTION TEAM'—Gov. Romney headed a lineup of Republican candidates at a rally yesterday at the Pontiac Municipal Airport, ending a three-day flying blitz of the state. Plans to land at the airport were changed because of the snowstorm and they drove in from Flint. Approximately 70 persons greeted the candi-

Regardless of the merits of the case between the Pontiac Police and City Hall regarding pay raises, telephoning in "sick" is a miserable, evasive tactic unworthy of dedicated police officers.

We believe the majority of Pontiac officers are dedicated. There is an honest conflict between the police pay demands and the City's position. Let's see the problem solved through recognized methods of problem-solving and negotiations not a phony "epidemic."

If the police want to test the law, and go on strike, then they should do so. But they should have the conviction to make no bones about it, and say they are on strike.

Urge Approval of Bloomfield Hills Water Plan

Water and sewers are considered prime requisites for almost any up-to-date modern community. Several years ago the residents of Bloomfield Hills voted to establish a sewer system.

Now in the upcoming election the citizens are being asked to vote on authorizing a water system for the city. The City Commission unanimously approved this project and recommends the voters do likewise.

We feel the commission is right in advocating city water. For those favoring waiting it might be pointed out that the cost of such a project will not become less expensive in the future.

- City water would provide fire hydrants.
- Fire insurance rates would drop.
- Unlimited water is desirable for modern living.

Bloomfield Hills voters should give a YES vote to authorizing a water system to keep their fine community abreast of the times.

Adequate Fire Protection a Waterford Need

Residents of Waterford Township vote Tuesday on an issue that affects the safety of everyone living in the area. At stake is the upgrading of the township's inadequate fire department.

At a cost to the average home owner of no more than $3 a year over a 10-year period, this community that foresees a population of 70,000 by 1970 would be enabled to expand its fire-fighting equipment and personnel commensurately with present and future needs.

Urgently needed to bring Waterford up from Class 8 to 6 standards, mandatory by state law for communities of 70,000 and currently recommended by the Michigan Inspection Bureau are:

- Three new fire stations;
- Additional motorized and fire-fighting equipment;
- Gradual increase of the present staff of 18 paid firefighters to one of 90.

The township's present fire-fighting establishment dates back to 1953 when the population was 30,000 as compared with today's 60,000. Significantly, Pontiac with an 85,000 population has six fire stations and a force of 117 firemen.

We think that the proposal to put Waterford Township abreast of the times in the area of fire protection is self-endorsing. It needs only affirmative action by an enlightened electorate to make it reality.

Motoring Safety Guaranteed on Mackinac

In this era of rising traffic deaths, it's encouraging to learn that there is at least one state highway in the Nation which has never had a motor vehicle accident.

The road is on Mackinac Island, reports the Michigan Tourist Council. It's restricted to bicycles and horse-drawn carriages.

On second thought, the information is not so encouraging after all.

Talk Muddles Viet Peace Bids

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — In the Vietnamese war, language is like a rubber band, and both sides stretch it until what may seem clear at first glance turns out not to be clear at all.

Yet, it's just when the language is cloudy that one side or the other may be leaving the door open for eventual negotiations. It's when the language is clearest that both sides seem to slam the door.

Both the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong guerrillas—the United States insists the Viet Cong are simply North Viet Nam's agents—demand this country pull out its troops and abandon its bases in South Viet Nam.

But — they're vague on just when the pull-out must take place, never saying precisely whether this means before any negotiations can begin or after negotiations start but before there can be a final settlement.

In turn, President Johnson says the country is ready to begin talks about a settlement without "any preconditions." But this doesn't say or mean the United States wouldn't lay down conditions for peace when talks begin.

And last month at Manila Johnson agreed the United States would pull out its troops, provided the other side does likewise, and provided the other side stops infiltrating the south, and as the level of violence subsides.

FAR OFF SOLUTION

But in this seesaw neither side has said anything so flatly that talks of any kind would be impossible. It's when the language gets a little clearer that a solution seems as far off as ever.

The United States repeatedly has made two basic points plain about its position and its reason for being in the war: It wants a free independent South Viet Nam and it wants to stop a Communist take-over of Southeast Asia.

The United States cannot retreat from these two points without admitting defeat or looking hypocritical.

But the Viet Cong's parent organization, the National Liberation Front, has laid down what seems to be a very definite condition for a peace settlement. It says the NLF must have the "decisive" voice in any settlement.

SAME OLD PROGRAM

But, according to the NLF's program outlined years ago, it says the government of South Viet Nam must be overthrown and a new one put in its place. This, of course, would be one under NLF control.

If this country let North Viet Nam take over South Viet Nam, then, instead of being stopped, the Red attempt to take over Southeast Asia would have been advanced by one step and, worse, would have been agreed to by this country.

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Trip Adds to U.S. Prestige

WASHINGTON — Everything that a president does or says is usually evaluated in terms of political gain or loss.

Mr. Johnson's trip to Asia would not have been associated in any way with a possible political motive.

LAWRENCE if he had made the journey in the last two weeks in November instead of in mid-October just before the congressional elections.

It will, in any event, be quite a challenge to the politicians to figure out just what were the advantages or disadvantages of Mr. Johnson's Asian journey in terms of domestic prestige or help to Democratic congressional candidates. For the fact is a substantial majority of the voters are not too familiar with Asian problems.

They are more concerned with what is going on inside the United States and are worried about the cost of living and inflationary trends.

Mr. Johnson unquestionably added to the prestige of the United States in the world by his trip to Asia. He made a dramatic appeal for peace.

When a president travels 30,000 miles to visit countries which never see the head of the American government, there is bound to be widespread discussion of the visit.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

On the whole, despite the few demonstrations that were unquestionably instigated by the Communists, Mr. Johnson was given an enthusiastic reception.

Perhaps the most significant results of his tour of the Far East will not become apparent immediately.

It is hoped, of course, that the emphatic expressions of interest in the peace and welfare of Asia, together with promises of economic as well as military aid, will make a deep impression on the peoples of the whole region.

Generally speaking, the trip was good publicity for the American cause in Asia. But so far as the progress of the war is concerned, the President's journey is not likely to have much influence on the North Vietnamese.

DOING HIS UTMOST

Viewed solely from a domestic political point of view, Mr. Johnson may help to diminish some of the antiwar protest, as many persons will feel that his trip showed he is doing his utmost to bring peace in Viet Nam and that failure to be successful in that effort is not due to any acts of omission on the part of the United States government.

Mr. Johnson's trip will probably be viewed much more impartially after the elections, and with more objectivity than is the case today. But there are a number of members of Congress who, irrespective of party, privately say that it was a good thing for the President to dramatize the American position by his journey to the Far East.

Gigantic Cancer Fund Would Jolt Old Damon

NEW YORK — Damon Runyon died just 20 years ago. Like most newsmen and writers, he was not known for his philanthropies. He maintained a haphazard personal pension list and dealt out to his members — sometimes punch — drunk known — occasional 10s and 20s. Or he gave away his clothes, which were too jaunty for the Bowery, or his shoes.

The most startled man in whatever valhalla is reserved for newspapermen must be Runyon himself. The Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research is now approaching the $30-million mark.

For all his years in the cursed everydayness of newspapering, his short stories in Collier's and whatever Hollywood paid him for deflowering his fictional Broadway characters who always spoke in the present tense, Runyon was not a rich man.

The few flashing rocks he showered on Patrice, the wife who more or less warmed his later years, were heisted not long after his death.

One week after Runyon's death while portions of the nation's sports pages were filled with obituaries written by young sports writers who did not know how tough he could be on up and coming aspirants, Walter Winchell said on his most compelling radio program that it would be a good idea for "Mr. and Mrs. America and all the ships at sea," to provide a living memorial to his dead friend.

DEEPLY INVOLVED

A lot of guys had gone on the air and pitched for funds. Winchell did more than that. For years he made he personally paid for every nickel needed to administer what became the phenomenon of charities, a campaign against a dreaded disease waged at no administrative cost.

I never thought that Winchell was properly appreciated for his selfless contribution to the annals of medical research.

Some effort probably to honor him will be made on Friday night here in New York at the Rainbow Room at Rockefeller Plaza.

Mrs. Bennett Cerf, Mrs. Robert Z. Greene, Bennett, John Daly, and Arthur Godfrey will direct a black tie dinner dance which will bring together hundreds of Runyonesques from that huge cross section which he so faithfully reported and illuminated.

Court Ripped on Electoral College Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The state of Delaware fired an angry blast at the Supreme Court today for refusing to hear a suit challenging the electoral college system.

In effect, Delaware Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson accused the court of violating the U.S. Constitution.

The court is required by the Constitution to settle disputes between the states, Buckson told the justices, and its refusal to give Delaware a hearing denies the state "due process of law in violation of the Fifth Amendment."

Last summer, while the court was in recess, Delaware asked permission to file its suit challenging the constitutionality of the "winner take all" electoral system. Under this procedure all of a state's electoral votes are cast, as a unit, for the presidential nominee who received a plurality of the popular votes in the state.

Though neither the Constitution nor federal law requires this system, it is in use in all the states and the District of Columbia.

Delaware claimed the procedure discriminates against voters in smaller states by making their votes less meaningful than those of voters in the larger states.

It sued the 49 other states and the district. Twelve states eventually lined up with Delaware while New York asked the court to reject the challenge.

This the court did on Oct. 17, giving no explanation.

Today, Buckson petitioned the court for reconsideration. He said "failure of the court to assign reasons for its action places 13 states and their citizens in a legal limbo, and fosters confusion."

"The court in its recent 'voting rights cases' has opened the door and raised the expectation in the hearts and minds of the citizens of each of the states that they may seek vindication in the courts of all their voting rights and their rights to political equality."

'DISCRETIONARY POWER'

Federal law, Buckson said, gives the court "discretionary" power over the usual sort of appeal. But the court's jurisdiction in suits between the states, he said, "is made mandatory by the Constitution."

Here he quoted John Marshall the fourth chief justice of the United States, saying "with regard to suits between the states" in an 1821 case: "If these be the parties, it is entirely unimportant what may be the subject of controversy. Be it what it may, these parties have a constitutional right to come into the courts of the union."

The 12 states which had asked to be heard alongside Delaware were South Dakota, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Utah, Wyoming, Florida, Kentucky, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Kansas and West Virginia.

Who Cares About Older People?

Everybody cares about older people... in an election campaign. It's what's on the record that counts.

On the record it was the Democratic Party that fought for and secured passage of the late Senator Pat McNamara's Medicare and Medicaid programs—against the opposition of the Republican party.

On the record, it was the Democratic Party that increased the level of Social Security benefits during the 89th Congress—against the opposition of the Republican party.

It was the Democratic Party that fought for—and got—Senator Phil Hart's "Truth In Packaging" bill that will help retirees living on fixed incomes get the most for their money when they shop. It was the Democratic Party that passed the rent supplement bill that will help older people find and stay in better housing. And it was the Democratic Party that pushed the program of housing for the elderly.

At the Capitol in Lansing the record is just as impressive. The Democratic legislature gave persons over 65 a $2500 property tax exemption, raised monthly old age assistance for medical care to $140 a month, created the Institute of Gerontology to study special problems of the aged, and reduced the fishing license fee for older people to a flat 50 cents.

Older people know who cares about them. They'll show it at the polls on Election Day.

Fire Sweeps Border City

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — Fire swept through a shabby two and one-half block area near the heart of this densely populated border city last night, destroying between 300 and 400 tiny houses and leaving several hundred persons homeless.

Authorities reported no deaths or injuries, however.

The 50-man Tijuana Fire Department, hampered by lack of water, was aided by two 5,000-gallon water trucks from the San Diego Fire Department.

Thousands of volunteers wielding buckets aided in the battle as the flames advanced to within a block of the central commercial district and within three blocks of the city hall.

Japan's N-Security Is Still Up to U.S.

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato says that despite Communist China's explosion of a missile-borne nuclear warhead Japan will continue to rely on the United States for its security from nuclear attack.

"We have the capacity to develop nuclear weapons, but we are not doing so," Sato said. "Our policy is adherence to the nonproliferation of nuclear weapons. We depend on the United States (for protection)."

In an Associated Press interview Sato also praised President Johnson's trip to the Far East because of its possible contribution to the search for peace in Viet Nam.

He declared that Japan, as the greatest industrial power in Asia, but a power which has "abandoned expansion and militarism," is ready to play a major role in trying to bring social and economic stability to the region.

Asked to assess the effect of China's nuclear program, including the missile test, on security and the balance of power in Asia, Sato suggested the Japanese government had known that Chinese scientists were working on a delivery system for nuclear warheads.

"To a certain extent we had prior information," he said. "But Communist China's nuclear development is a great problem. It is an event of far-reaching consequence."

Asked to assess the effect of China's nuclear program, including the missile test, on security and the balance of power in Asia, Sato suggested the Japanese government had known that Chinese scientists were working on a delivery system for nuclear warheads.

Layer Crackers and Cranberries

Cranberry graham torte needs no cooking.

Combine 1 (1 pound) can of whole berry cranberry sauce, drained. Spread over 18 graham crackers. Arrange 9 of the crackers in a square on a serving plate and top with remaining sauce-topped crackers. Place 9 more crackers without sauce on top.

Frost with sweetened whipped cream, using 2 cups of heavy cream beaten until stiff with 1/4 cup of confectioners' sugar and 1 teaspoon of vanilla. Sprinkle top with 1/2 cup of flaked coconut.

Chill several hours. Cut into 9 squares to serve.

Broiled Tuna Appetizers Have a Biscuit Base

It's a smart hostess who enjoys a party with her guests. She spends little time in the kitchen and knows just what to serve. You might say, she has the knack for entertaining. Here's a party appetizer which will show you off as a hostess with the knack — Tuna Broiler Appetizers.

Long before your guests arrive you can have flaky baking powder biscuits dough from your grocer's dairy case baked into round, thin bites. The tuna mixture has just the right seasoning to make it a good "starter." These appetizers may be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated up to three hours. Just before serving, broil about 3 minutes. Serve Tuna Broiler Appetizers hot. They'll be pretty and puffy.

Only you will know how simple and economical these little guests are to prepare. Your guests will think you're gone gourmet. Try not to be overcome when you're deluged with compliments!

- Tuna Broiler Appetizers
- 1 can refrigerated baking powder biscuits
 - 2 egg whites
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 can (6 1/2 or 7 ounce) tuna in vegetable oil, drained and flaked
 - 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 tablespoon finely chopped celery
 - 1 tablespoon pickle relish

Pull apart each biscuit to make 3 thin biscuits; place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in 400-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes, until golden brown.

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff, but not dry. Fold in remaining ingredients. Spread about 1 tablespoon tuna mixture on each biscuit.

Broil 6 inches from heat 2 to 3 minutes, until golden brown. Watch carefully. Serve hot. Makes 3 dozen.

*Note: Appetizers may be assembled to this point ahead of time, refrigerated up to 3 hours, then broiled just before serving.

TUNA BROILER APPETIZERS—They're the quick and easy ways to party snacks. Canned tuna and refrigerated flaky baking powder biscuits team up for good "starters."

APPLE-MOLASSES PIE — It's a lovely light dessert. It's apple, yes, but with a difference. Gelatin and applesauce are the base to which you add molasses and whipping cream. Spoon into a baked crust and top with chopped nuts. Just the thing for a dessert party.

Fill Squash With Apples and Syrup

Stuffed acorn squash is the natural choice for this time of year. The squash is first par-boiled, then stuffed and returned to the oven.

The stuffing is a combination of diced, tart apples, raisins, and pecans, blended with maple syrup and melted butter. As the stuffed squash bakes the flavors harmonize to produce a delicious aroma the family will love.

Apple Stuffed Squash

- 2 acorn squash, cut in half

- 5 tart apples
- 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup maple syrup
- 1/4 cup seedless raisins
- 1/4 cup finely chopped pecans
- Salt

Place each squash half in a baking pan, cut side down. Add 1/2 inch boiling water. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) 20 minutes.

Meanwhile, peel, core, and dice apples. Mix apples with melted butter and maple syrup. Stir in raisins and pecans. Fill center of each squash with stuffing. Sprinkle out surface of squash with salt. Cover pan with foil and continue baking 30 minutes, or until squash is tender. Makes 4 servings.

Souffles turned into ungreased baking dishes "climb" best.

Molasses and Spice Flavor

Easy to make in the morning of your party day. Chill until firm—serve prettily in a silver pie dish, and with little cups of black coffee.

- Apple-Molasses Chiffon Pie
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 - 1/2 cup cold water
 - 3 eggs, separated
 - 1/4 cup light molasses
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 1 can or jar (about 1 lb.) applesauce
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 cup whipping cream
 - 9-inch baked pie shell
 - 1/2 cup broken walnut meats

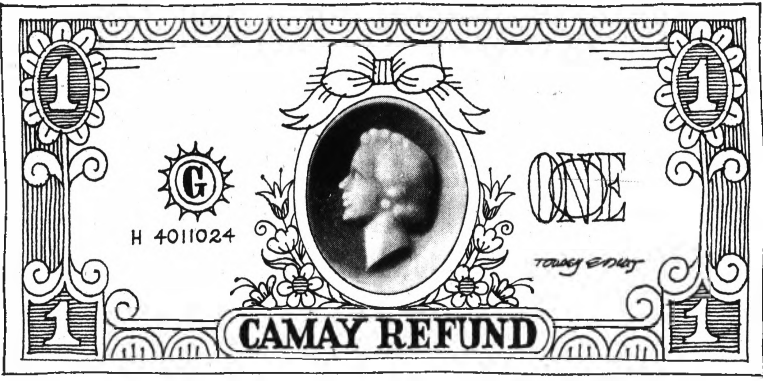

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine egg yolks, molasses, salt, lemon peel and lemon juice; cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved.

Combine applesauce and spices; stir in. Chill until mixture will mound slightly in spoon. Beat egg whites to soft peaks; fold in. Whip cream; fold in. Spoon into pie shell.

Scatter walnuts over top. Chill until firm. Makes 6 servings.

Artichoke Hearts Are Company Touch

Company coming? To give that tossed green salad epicurean flavor, cook a package of frozen artichoke hearts according to package directions, then chill. Toss the artichoke hearts along with the greens and French dressing—at serving time, of course.

Shorter Remembers First Redskin Game

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington defensive back Jim Shorter, who played in the first game he started with the Redskins— but he never forgot it.

His performance against the Baltimore Colts in December, 1964, was so bad, it was almost his last National Football League game.

Baltimore end Raymond Berry ran rings around Shorter that day two years ago. By the end of the game, Baltimore's Memorial Stadium was not alone in being surrounded by fog.

"I remember it," said Shorter, a five-year veteran from the University of Detroit. "I started for Lonnie Sanders who was hurt. Tommy Walters filled in for Jim Steffen at strong safety."

"That was the game Berry caught the record pass," he said.

ANN ARBOR — Michigan's Wisconsin, 25-14 at Madison last weekend.

A fumbled punt and two fumbled kicks helped the Badgers to a 19-0 first quarter lead, but the over-eager young Wolverines bounced back to outscore their opponents for the remainder of the game.

Passing strength for next year's Wolverines was indicated as quarterback Tom Curtis of the Cotton Bowl, and Ken Dowell, a director, will be at skins face the Colts Sunday and Jacksonville, Fla., to look over Florida against Georgia.

Those are the only games to be scouted this week. Others will be added next week.

Nebraska and Florida are among the hottest prospects for the bowl game.

The mail sale of Cotton Bowl tickets closed Tuesday and the 25,000 tickets available to the public were oversubscribed by about 20 per cent.

These will be all the public and buy. Bond-molders of the York Jets last Sunday, was Cotton Bowl get 20,000 and named Defensive Player of
