GM Sales, Earnings Climb to New Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. earned more money in the first half of 1965 than any other company in a like period.

The world's largest manufacturing concern set records for profits, unit and dollar sales, dividends and employment.

GM earned $1.275 billion or $4.45 a share, in the first six months of this year, compared with $1.138 billion, or $3.98 a share, in the 1964 first half. Sales climbed to $11.215 billion from $9.868 billion.

In the second quarter, the auto maker's profits totaled $659 million, or $2.23 a share, against $602 million, or $2.11 a share, in the comparable 1964 period.

SALES UP

First half sales rose to $5.657 billion from $5.082 billion.

The company paid common stock dividends of $1.50 a share in the second quarter and $2.25 in the first half. A year earlier payments were $1.15 and $1.80.

GM's worldwide factories sold 4,056,000 cars and trucks in the first six months and 744,053 in the second quarter.

Employment averaged 741,008 in the first six months and 744,053 in the second quarter.

HIGH LEVEL

Chairman Frederick Donner and President James M. Roche said there were many reasons why the high rate of economic activity is being translated into a high level of car sales.

"One of the most important," they said, "has been the steady increase in consumer incomes over the past seven-year period during which car prices have remained unchanged."

They added that the recent reduction in the excise tax on cars should further stimulate demand.

Factory sales of cars and trucks produced in GM plants around the world totaled 2,056,000 units in the second quarter, an increase of 9 per cent over the 1964 second quarter.

VEHICLE SALES

In the first six months vehicle sales totaled 4,056,000 units, an increase of 11 per cent over the 1964 first half.

Records were set for GM worldwide employment during the second quarter and first half. Employment averaged 744,053 persons in the second quarter. For the first six months it was 741,008.

Metro Study Starts Monday

Transit, Land Use Guide for 6 Counties

A $3.6-million transportation and land-use study of the state's six southeastern counties, including Oakland, will begin Monday.

The study, which will span 3 1/2 years, is being financed by boards of supervisors and road commissions of the six counties as well as several other organizations.

Data obtained in the study will be used to develop a comprehensive long range plan for the metropolitan area to guide development of future land use patterns and to provide a balanced transportation system.

"Our plans will be aimed at 1990," said Irving J. Rubin, director of the study.

"We intend to anticipate change, not catch up with it," Rubin said. "The future investment of billions of public and private dollars should be guided by findings of the study."

ROADSIDE INTERVIEWS

Teams of interrogators will begin roadside interviews Monday in the six-county area and the house-to-house survey will start the next day.

The University of Michigan's Center for Urban Studies, Dearborn Campus, will question a total of 200,000 residents of the area on transportation habits.

This confidential information will be turned over to the Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS).

Oakland County's share of the $1.9-million first phase of the study is $52,000, with the board of supervisors contributing $29,600 and the road commission $22,400.

ANNUAL AMOUNT

The county is expected to contribute a similar amount for the balance of the study, Rubin said.

Other participating counties are Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe.

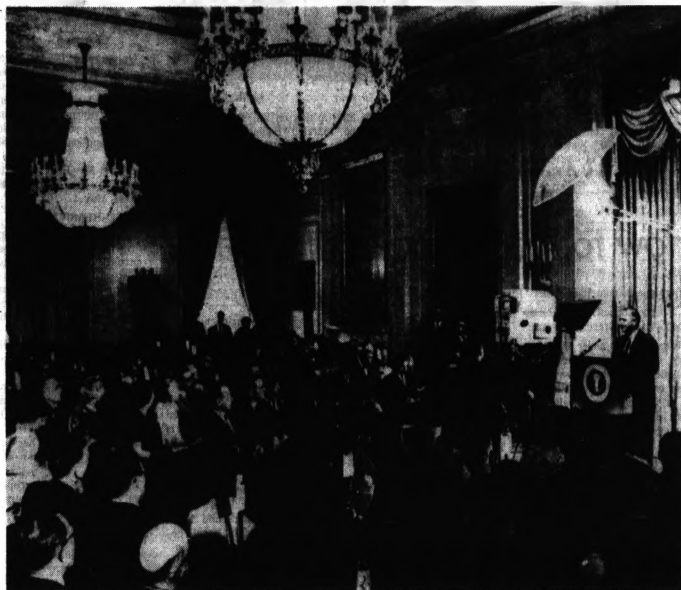

Joining with the counties in underwriting the cost of the study are the City of Detroit, the Metropolitan Fund Inc. and the Michigan State Highway Commission.

Others are the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Public Roads and the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Bulgaria Announces Political Shake-Up

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist Bulgaria today announced a shake-up of the political security apparatus, curtailing the functions of the minister of interior and setting up a watchdog state security committee on the government level.

The shake-up appeared to be a result of the abortive military coup against the premier and Communist party chief, Todor Zhivkov, crushed last April.

Here's How You Can Apply for Medicare Cash Benefits

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a series of 14 articles on the new health care and Social Security bill by John Troan, special writer for Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

By JOHN TROAN

Three types of monthly payments are available under Social Security:

Medicare Bill Goes to LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to President Johnson today the Social Security-health care bill establishing broad health protection as a matter of right for all Americans over 65.

The Senate passage, by a vote of 69 to 24, completed congressional action on the measure. The House passed the compromise version yesterday, 307 to 110.

The measure contains the most comprehensive revision and extension of the Social Security System since the original act was passed 30 years ago.

Its final passage climaxes a fight that began in 1935, with the writing of the original law, to include health care for the elderly benefits under Social Security.

LBJ TO SIGN

Sponsors said they were certain Johnson would sign the bill this month, probably tomorrow or Friday, so that the increases in present Social Security benefits can take effect in September.

The $8.5-billion bill contains broad new health protection available to all 19 million Americans 65 or over as a matter of right and at small cost.

It also increases all present Social Security checks — for retirees, disabled persons and family survivors — by 7 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1. Checks going to 20 million beneficiaries will be increased.

Retirement benefits. Survivors' benefits. Disability benefits.

To draw any of them, you must apply at a Social Security district office.

For the nearest office, inquire at your post office or check under "Social Security Administration" in your phone directory.

You must be at least 62 years old to get a retirement benefit. But you can never draw your full retirement benefit unless you wait until you are at least 65 to start collecting it.

RETIREMENT BENEFIT

When you apply for your retirement benefit you should take along:

- Your Social Security card, or some record on which your Social Security number appears.
- Your income-tax "withholding statement" (Form W-2) for the previous year. (Or, if you are self-employed, a copy of your last federal income-tax return.)
- Some proof of your age.

The best proof of age is a birth certificate, or a baptismal certificate issued shortly after birth.

If you don't have either, you may use some other document to establish your age.

Such as a certified hospital birth record; a signed statement from the midwife or doctor who attended your birth; a marriage record showing your age when married; a child's birth certificate which happens to show your age; a family Bible; a military discharge paper.

Others include an immigration or naturalization record; a passport; a vaccination record; an old insurance policy; a certified union record; an employment record showing your age; a record from a foreign church or government; or a license, permit or voting record showing your age.

Generally, the older the document the better. And if you don't have any other satisfactory evidence of age, you may ask the U.S. Census Bureau to check its records for you. The fee: $4.

If you qualify for retirement benefits, your wife also may be eligible — provided she is at least 62. In such case, she must prove her age and her relationship to you (a marriage certificate will do).

She also should produce her own Social Security card, if she has one, so the government can figure out whether she qualifies.

Troy Man Dies as Car Rolls

Woman Passenger in Poor Condition

A Troy man was killed early this morning when the car he was driving ran off Dixie Highway north of the I-75 interchange and rolled over six times.

Newton W. Krebhiel, 41, 6306 Norton, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Lucille Hartwig, 49, of 3773 Winton, a passenger in the car and Krebhiel's former wife, is listed in poor condition at the hospital with multiple fractures.

State Police at the Pontiac post said the car was traveling north on Dixie Highway at a high rate of speed when it left the road.

The vehicle rolled end over end and stopped 600 feet from the point at which it left the road, police said.

The accident occurred at 3 a.m. in Springfield Township.

Pleasant Weather Continues in Area

Fair skies and cooler temperatures will provide pleasant weather for Pontiac area residents through tomorrow.

Today's high will be 74 to 82, with the low tonight in the mid-50s.

Tomorrow will be fair and cool with a high of 76 to 84.

Northwest winds are 3 to 16 miles per hour today.

Lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac was 57. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 73.

Asks U.N. Help in Peace Quest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today he is adding 50,000 troops to U.S. forces in Viet Nam, doubling the draft call and asking the United Nations to start a new search for peace in the Southeast Asian war.

Johnson told a news conference:

- The monthly draft call will jump from 17,000 to 35,000.

- U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam will increase from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

- He has directed Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg to go to New York immediately and to present to the United Nations secretary general "a letter from me requesting that all the resources, energy and immense prestige of the United Nations be employed to find ways to halt aggression and bring peace in Viet Nam."

Goldberg, successor to the late Adlai E. Stevenson, was scheduled to fly to New York and meet with Secretary General U Thant within three or four hours.

- Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will ask Congress for additional money to meet the increased costs of the U.S. effort in Viet Nam.

- There is no need at this time to mobilize military Reserve units or call National Guard units to active duty.

The decision to put the Vietnamese quest up to the United Nations was a surprise move by the President — evidently made to emphasize the often-declared U.S. goal of simply protecting South Viet Nam from Communist conquest.

The 50,000-man reinforcements will be sent immediately, Johnson said, adding that more men will be dispatched to the fighting if and as necessary.

After making his statements on Viet Nam, Johnson announced:

- He has chosen Abe Fortas, a Washington lawyer, old New Dealer and long-time friend of Johnson, for the Supreme Court replacing Goldberg. Johnson said Fortas was his first choice for the assignment.

He is naming John W. Chancellor, White House correspondent for NBC, to the new director of the Voice of America.

After his lengthy statements — they took about 25 minutes — Johnson opened the news conference to questions.

He was asked whether the United States is prepared to add additional planes should North Viet Nam escalate its activity.

And what about possible Chinese reaction to the steps he announced today he is taking.

Johnson said he did not wish to speculate on that. But, he added, "this country always will be prepared to protect the national interests."

Asked if he believes the war can be contained "in this corner of Southeast Asia" without involving a U.S.-Soviet confrontation, the President said, "We hope very much that it could."

'KNOWS OF NOTHING'

He added that he intends to "avoid provoking" that confrontation.

"I know of nothing that we have in mind that should arouse distrust" by the Soviet Union, Johnson said.

Asked if Soviet technicians are manning the missile sites in North Viet Nam, Johnson said he had no information on the matter.

To other questions, Johnson said the United States has communicated with most of the friendly nations of the world and has received from them responses that have been encouraging. He declined to give details.

Romney: 'No' to LBJ Policy

He and Hatfield Only Dissenting Governors

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The National Governors Conference went on record today, with two dissenting Republican voices, endorsing President Johnson's expansion of military strength in South Viet Nam.

GOP Govs. George Romney of Michigan and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon voted "no" on a motion of Gov. Carl E. Sanders, Georgia Democrat, to support the President's position, immediately after Johnson's televised report to the nation on decisions he has made in regard to Viet Nam.

The Sanders motion put the governors on record supporting the President's position and the principles he enunciated at his televised news conference today.

But there were some Republican complaints that the President still had not furnished sufficient details, as well as expressed hopes that he will be much more specific in a scheduled White House conference with the state executives by tomorrow afternoon.

Romney said he had heard nothing in the President's television presentation that he hadn't known before.

SCRANTON SURE
Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, a Republican, said he is sure the great majority of Americans support the President.

Romney tried to get the conference to postpone action until after the governors receive a White House briefing from the President tomorrow afternoon.

Romney and Gov. John Chafee of Rhode Island, a Republican, wondered out loud why the President had chosen to make announcements of Supreme Court and Voice of America appointments at a news conference called to deal primarily with Viet Nam.

Both indicated they thought this reduced the impact of the President's appeal for unity behind his policies.

Democrats attending this 57th annual conference have given unanimous backing to the President's course in Viet Nam. But some Republicans have criticized what they call the President's lack of frankness in disclosing what is going on in Southeast Asia.

The conference recessed today's business sessions to listen to and view the President's televised report on the Viet Nam situation.

Teen Breaks Right Arm That Made Medical '1st'

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical history.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully reimplanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation reexamined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and then successfully reimplanted the arm had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

FIRST OPERATION

It was on May 23, 1962 that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully rejoined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall.

Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument in his home town of Somerville, near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

KNEW IT WAS HURT

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually the bang on the knee hurt more than the arm."

A spokesman for the surgical-medical team at the hospital said it now appears that the bone break, a crack in the upper arm, will probably have no effect on the long reimplantation process.

"The arm had become so strongly reimplanted that the break itself was no different than what could happen to any one else, and probably will mend just as easily," he said.

Knowles said until the fall last week, he had been able to lift as much as 15 pounds with the arm. He said he has no real use of his fingers. He can move them only slightly.

SERIES OF OPERATIONS

Since the first operation, he has undergone a series of others to try to regain full use of the arm and hand. Tendons have been connected and nerves repaired. Just last month a one-inch piece of bone was placed inside the palm of the hand to keep his thumb in better position. His arm was in a cast when he fell.

Knowles blamed the cast for the break. He said he did not think the arm would have broken had the upper arm and shoulder not been forced to bend against it.

"Except for the fingers, that arm is better than my left one," he said. "When I have a cut it heals faster, and my fingernails grow faster than on my left hand," he said.

Young Knowles would not agree that he had been through a great ordeal in the last three years. At the hospital he said he has seen many people who have had a "tougher time than I ever had."

BACHELOR WED — When 32-year-old Gene Ryerson of Ryerson's Market, 4678 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, deserted the ranks of bachelorhood, his brother and business partner, Steve, announced the wedding in this fashion on the store's front window. Gene married Bonnie Bayley of 5900 Walnut Lake, West Bloomfield Township, Sunday evening at St. George's Roman Catholic Church.

for a higher benefit on the basis of her own work record or yours.

Even if she's under 62, your wife may draw a retirement benefit provided you have in your care a child who is under 18 or is incapable of self-support due to a disability incurred before age 18.

In such event, the child also would be eligible for monthly benefits. So proof of the child's age (or disability) would be required.

Where a wife draws a retirement benefit on her own, her husband also may qualify — provided he is at least 62 and can prove he depends on her for at least half of his financial support.

AVOID DELAY

You may apply for retirement benefits three months before reaching retirement age (to avoid delay of payments) or any time thereafter.

But retirement checks can't be dated back more than 12 months.

In case of death, the widow may draw survivors' benefits provided she is at least 60 or has in her care at least one child who is under 18 or is disabled before age 18.

To claim survivors' benefits, a widow must submit her husband's death certificate, his Social Security card or a record of his Social Security number, her marriage certificate, and proof of her age. Also, birth certificates of any children eligible to draw such payments.

SURVIVORS' BENEFITS

Incidentally, an unmarried child aged 18 through 21 who is still in school may now qualify for retirement or survivors' benefits but the mother doesn't.

Again, evidence of the child's age is needed — as well as proof the child is a full-time student in a college or other bona fide school (including vocational school).

Survivors' benefits also may be drawn by the parent or widower of a deceased worker provided the individual is at least 62 and depended on the worker for at least 50 per cent of financial support.

DEATH CERTIFICATE

This goes to the widow or widower — who must present a death certificate to claim it.

If no spouse survives, the lump-sum death benefit may be claimed by the person who paid the burial expenses. In such instances, a receipted funeral bill as well as a death certificate is required.

To draw disability benefits, the worker must establish total disability which is expected to last at least 12 months or to result in death.

IF YOU'RE UNABLE TO APPLY AT A SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE, THE AGENCY WILL SEND SOMEONE TO TAKE YOUR APPLICATION PERSONALLY.

If you qualify, disability benefits would be payable also to your wife if she is at least 62 or is caring for a child under 18 or one disabled before 18.

Benefits would be payable also to such children plus any child under 22 who is still in school.

Seven Rescued From Sinking Pleasure Boat

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Seven persons, including two boys, were rescued from a motor yacht in upper Grand Traverse Bay Tuesday, shortly before the craft sank near Fisherman's Island.

Four Coast Guard boats and a helicopter converged to rescue Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas George of Muskegon, owners of the 46-foot Jacoba, and their five passengers.

George said something struck the hull of his pleasure craft, but he did not know what it was. The Jacoba sank as it was being towed to Charlevoix by the Coast Guard.

Passengers were Aaron Springstead, his wife Ruby, and their 10-year-old son Richard, and Mrs. Peter Vaisakis and her son John, 12. All five are from Traverse City.

Asks State Pay for City Police

LANSING (UPI) — State Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, today called for state support for local police department salaries.

O'Brien said he would introduce a resolution when the legislature reconvenes tomorrow asking for a five-man committee to study the problem and to recommend a formula by which the state could subsidize the salaries.

"The formula would be similar to that now used by the state for its share of support toward public school education," O'Brien said.

He said such a step was necessary because the salaries offered law enforcement officers are "so ridiculously low" that young men aren't joining police forces.

"There simply are not enough police officers to adequately patrol trouble areas and apprehend the petty criminals and vandals," O'Brien said. "This problem stems from understaffing and inadequate pay."

"Michigan should take its moral place in protecting citizens from violators and provide funds so cities and municipalities can afford to hire enough of the right kind of men."

New Concept in Education

By L. GARY THORNE

Charter class members of Oakland Community College (OCC) will participate this fall in an innovation that could radically change the business of higher education.

Opening the doors of two campuses Sept. 7 to 3,000 students, OCC will begin operations committed to a new concept of teaching. The technique will be new to teachers, students and parents.

Students, most of them fresh from area high schools, will discover that the college's tutorial method of learning is a sharp departure from the traditional lecture approach.

The tutorial method is defined as supervised, self-instruction. The plan emphasizes maximum contact between student and teacher.

College officials state that the lecture method will not be entirely abandoned, but will be incorporated into the plan and used in the form of weekly "assembly" sessions for each course.

Old-type classrooms generally will not exist at either the Auburn Hills or Highland Lakes campuses.

Instead, the college will substitute tutorial laboratories made up of individual study carrels.

Study carrels are three-sided booth structures housing a desk area equipped with devices, such as a small movie projector, tape recorder or slide projector, for individual study.

Plans call for the tutorial lab to be open 14 hours a day, 5 a.m. to 10 p.m., for student use.

His Plan for Teenage Irks Area Residents

A Farmington clergyman's proposal that teen-agers, with parental consent, be permitted to live together as if they were married has enraged some Farmington Township residents.

In a newspaper guest column, the Rev. Robert M. Eddy advocated that the state "not forbid or punish voluntary pre-marital intercourse between persons over the legal age of consent."

The Rev. Mr. Eddy, pastor of the Universalist Unitarian Church, said the state should place no restrictions on the freedom of individuals to have intercourse though at the same time it should set an age below which conception would be illegal.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy wrote the column in the Detroit Free Press of May 1.

DEMAND REMOVAL

At a meeting of the Farmington Township Board this week, 30 citizens demanded the Rev. Eddy's removal as chairman of the township's youth guidance committee. The board refused to allocate $1,200 to finance committee projects.

Supervisor Curtis Hall called the pastor's views "a real shocker for a man of the cloth" and said the committee's money is being withheld pending board approval of members of the committee.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy has been committee chairman since April.

"The citizens took exception to his views and they objected the expenditure of money on a committee which he heads," the Rev. Mr. Eddy was unavailable for comment.

1st A-Bomb Is Near, Says Indonesian

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia is likely to explode its first atomic bomb after the second Afro-Asian conference in Algiers next November, the director of army arsenals said today.

Brig. Gen. R. Hartono's statement in the armed forces paper Ngayatan Bersendai did not elaborate on the bomb project.

President Sukarno said recently Indonesia would be capable of producing the bomb "in the near future."

The United States has helped build up Indonesia's first atomic reactor in Bandung, West Java. It was designed for peaceful scientific purposes, and the U.S. government did not consider it capable of producing material for bombs.

Art Academy President at Cranbrook to Retire

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Zoltan Sepeshy, president of Cranbrook Academy of Art since 1960, will retire next year.

The internationally acclaimed painter in tempera has been associated with the Bloomfield Hills institution since 1961.

His retirement will become effective June 30, 1966.

The announcement prompted Ernest A. Jones, chairman of the school's board of trustees, to make this tribute:

"He is a major force in the prestige and growth of the school both as an artist and as an administrator."

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Following a year's leave of absence, Sepeshy is expected to return to the academy as a painting instructor.

In the meantime, the school will continue its search for a successor to Sepeshy as president of the school.

A native of Hungary, the 67-year-old Sepeshy was educated in numerous European schools before coming to the United States in the 1920s.

He taught briefly at Wayne State University and the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit before establishing residence at Cranbrook.

RESIDENT INSTRUCTOR

In 1932, he was retained as a resident instructor in painting and drawing by the late Eliel Saarinen, the academy's first president.

Saarinien relinquished many of his administrative duties in 1947 and Sepeshy was named director of the school.

Sepeshy helped the school gain its state charter as a degree-granting institution of higher education in the arts and accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

He is acknowledged as an authority on tempera technique, having written a book entitled "Tempera Painting."

ONE-MAN EXHIBITIONS

Over the years, he has had 32 one-man exhibitions in art galleries, museums and universities and has participated in national and international exhibitions in 21 art centers in the U.S. and abroad.

He is a member of the National Academy of Design, National Institute of Arts and Letters and Commission of North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Lawmen Differ on Foster Test

Law enforcement officials were at odds today over the results of a lie detector test taken yesterday by two-time killer Carl F. Foster in connection with a third slaying.

"As far as I'm concerned, any link between Foster and Connors has been eliminated," said Sheriff's Detective Charles Whitlock. "We won't pursue it further. We can rough tests to make me believe that there is no tie-in."

Asst. Prosecutor Walter D. Schmier said, however, that he "wasn't entirely satisfied with the findings," and would attempt to talk to Foster again.

Whitlock and his partner Herbert Dolby have been assigned to the Crossland case since the 14-year-old Corona girl was found strangled in Orion Township July 18, 1963.

Foster, found guilty July 21 of first degree murder in the slaying of his wife Angela 17 months earlier, had volunteered to take the test at the Redford State Police post.

Foster, 29, already was serving a 10-15 year prison term for manslaughter when he was charged with his wife's death.

Grant OK'd for Training of 100 Nurses

A $291,951 federal grant for training 100 persons as practical nurses in Pontiac was announced yesterday.

The project, under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA), will provide 48 weeks of training leading to licensing as practical nurses.

Of the total amount, $184,640 will go to class members as income allowance during the period of training and the remaining $107,311 is earmarked for training costs at the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center.

The grant will allow formation of two new classes at the center.

Six classes already have completed training under the MDTA since 1963.

New classes of about 50 each are expected to begin in September and December at the center which is administered by the Pontiac Schools' vocational education department.

In announcing the new grant yesterday, Sen. Patrick McNamara and Congressman Billie S. Farnum said that 475,000 trainees have benefited nationally since MDTA was passed in 1962.

Arraign Lam Man in Last Month's Slaying of Coed

Kenneth R. Cooke of Lam stood mute yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court to a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying of an Oxford Township coed last month.

The 36-year-old Lapeer County man is accused of killing Barbara K. Hodges, 22, of 545 Second on June 23.

Cooke was returned to the Oakland County Jail to await trial. He was arraigned before Judge Philip Pratt. No trial date was set.

Sheriff's Department detectives said that Cooke admitted the crime after he had first told them that a hitchhiker was responsible.

Miss Hodges, a junior at Central Michigan University, was beaten and shot to death on Dunlap Road, about two miles north of Oxford Friday.

4 Retired Generals Favor Greater Force in Viet Nam

NEW YORK (AP) — Some retired American generals who fought the Communists in Korea believe greater force is needed to bring victory in Viet Nam.

Four of the generals there should be a single armed force command for U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

One general, Edward M. Almond, favors use of atomic bombs if "needed to protect our troops."

Gen. Mark Clark and John E. Hull say there is no present need for such a weapon in Viet Nam. Clark says he might change this view if there is increased participation by an outside Communist power, such as Red China.

KOREAN ARMISTICE

The four generals — Almond, Clark, Hull, and Matthew Ridgway — made their comments Tuesday — the 12th anniversary of the Korean armistice, in response to an Associated Press survey.

Ridgway declined to go into detail about Viet Nam beyond his belief in the need for a single command.

Clark, 69, who as supreme allied commander signed the Korean armistice in 1953, said: "We must commit ourselves, however reluctantly, to whatever it takes to do the job." Almond, 72, whose 10th Army Corps troops were hit by the first Communist attack in Korea, said, "I have no hesitancy in using any weapon needed to protect our troops in Viet Nam."

CLARK'S SUCCESSOR

Hull, 70, successor to Clark as commander of U.N. forces in the Far East, said he didn't believe in using atomic weapons "in this situation" in Viet Nam. Almond, Hull and Clark approved conventional bombing of military targets in North Viet Nam, even in heavily populated cities. Clark said he would first warn civilians so they could evacuate.

"I believe we should hit the most remunerative targets we can find in Viet Nam now," Clark said, "and clobber them good, wherever they are, including missile sites."

The generals also advised heavy reliance on air power and a commitment of greater forces.

UNIFIED COMMAND

Concerning a unified command, Ridgway, 70, said: "Our troops and those of South Viet Nam are under independent commands." He contrasted that with the situation in Korea where he preceded Clark for two years. He said the United States does not have over-all command in Viet Nam.

Clark said Communists "respect force and stop, look and listen when they see it. But when they find weakness they exploit it and despise it." He said the Viet Cong would be much stronger "if they weren't being smacked," and said he believed the U.S. bombing raids on North Viet Nam were effective.

BADLY DEFEATED

Hull said that in Korea the Communists would not negotiate or agree to an armistice "until they had been badly defeated."

"In any war when you get to the point of fighting, I say let the military men handle it," said Almond.

'Pictures Show Mars Is Lifeless'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times reported today that Mariner 4's best pictures of Mars show the red planet apparently is a dead orb similar to the moon.

The newspaper said it learned that the pictures — not yet made public — show craters gouged in the surface of the planet but no evidence of canals.

Some astronomers have theorized that canals exist on Mars.

Marvin Miles, Times aerospace editor, wrote:

"While no direct evidence of life could be detected, this did not rule out the possibility that plants such as lichens and algae might exist."

CLOSEST PICTURES

"Mariner's closest pictures were taken at a distance of about 7,000 miles. At that range it is possible life forms might not be detectable in the series of yet undisclosed photos."

"These later pictures, taken under better lighting conditions that cast shadows on the Martian surface, are reported far better than the first photos."

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory in nearby Pasadena had announced Tuesday that at least three more of the Mars photographs recorded in the historic July 14 fly-by would be made public before the weekend.

Mariner 4 began last Saturday to replay the tape on which all 21 pictures of Mars were recorded. The rerun is expected to be completed early next week.

Meeting Hears Plans for Space

Ideas Include Pulling Satellite From Orbit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The United States is considering proposals to snatch one of its veteran satellites from orbit around earth and to shoot radio-equipped "darts" at the planet Mars.

Also in the nation's space future is a possible attempt to send a manned capsule to an orbital meeting with a giant balloon satellite and a 35-day astronaut voyage around the North and South Poles of the moon.

These are among the more dramatic ideas now before more than 5,000 U.S. scientists and technicians attending today's third session of the four-day annual meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

L. M. Tinnon, director of spacecraft systems for North American Aviation's Space and Information Systems Division, revealed yesterday that, at the request of the federal space agency, his company is developing a plan to send a manned Apollo ship up "to capture and return to earth the Syncom 3."

Syncom 3 is a U.S. communications satellite orbiting earth about 22,300 miles up.

OLYMPIC GAMES

The moonlet, launched more than one year ago from Cape Kennedy, was used for relaying television broadcasts of the Olympic games from Tokyo to the United States in 1964.

"Returning a satellite for the first time would make an interesting experiment," said Tinnon. "It would allow us to see the weathering effect (from radiation and cosmic dust) on an orbiting spacecraft."

Recapturing Syncom 3 is one of several ideas North American is looking at as a possible future used for the Apollo space-ships and Saturn rockets that will be used to land the first men on the moon around 1969. None of these programs has gained official approval.

New Life Is Infused Into Industrial Park

Scrambling to attract industry with the object of stimulating local economies, American communities have resorted to many enticements.

Free factory sites, tax concessions, organizational underwriting have been dangled as bait for new or struggling industries.

More often than not, such blandishments have gone for naught as under-financed or poorly-administered enterprises have failed, resulting in substantial losses to civic-minded sponsors.

Although Pontiac has been singularly blessed in the area of major industry, conservatively priced land and facilities, with growth area assured, have been lacking.

To fill this industrial need, free of unsound "giveaway" inducements, the Greater Pontiac Industrial Corp. was formed a year ago to acquire and develop a 25-acre tract at the southeastern limits of the City.

Some $110,000 was subscribed in support of the plan by a sizeable number of area institutions and individuals interested in the future of Greater Pontiac.

Unfortunately, however, initial financing proved inadequate to complete the concept, and it appeared that it might go by default.

Fortunately for all concerned, the City, after a careful survey, saw the feasibility of the development, has now assumed the corporate entity of the industrial park, and will proceed with improvements necessary to make it marketable for the purpose intended.

We warmly commend the City administration on this forward-looking step that should establish our community in a favorable position to compete for the small, diverse manufacturing enterprises that seek locations in Michigan.

Crime Upsurge Threat to America's Future

The annual report of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover on criminality in the United States is a shocker in every respect.

No law-abiding, responsible American can read it without feelings of dismay and foreboding over the deteriorating moral fiber of the Nation's population.

During 1964, the national crime rate rose 13 per cent over the year previous as each minute saw five crimes committed. The year's total reached 2,604,400. Since 1958, the crime rate in the U.S. has increased six times as fast as the population.

One of the most grim revelations of the Hoover report is the increase of crime in the under-18 age bracket.

Thirty-seven per cent of the crimes solved fall in this category, which comprising 15 per cent of the population was responsible for 43 per cent of crimes against property.

Significantly, the heaviest increase in lawlessness occurred in metropolitan suburbs. Here the crime rate was up 17 per cent from 1963. In the cities proper, it was nine per cent higher while rural areas reflected an eight per cent rise.

Never has America faced a greater danger to its national well-being than that posed by the growing ranks of the criminally inclined. Compounding the insidious threat is the inability of authorities in the field of social science to determine specific, underlying causes for the saturnalia of crime that is engulfing the Country.

If this powerful enemy within is to be vanquished, a united front of government agencies on all levels buttressed by the active involvement of all Americans worthy of the name must answer the call to arms.

If debt were sinful, as early Christians considered it, Americans would be by far the sinningest people on earth.

It is estimated that of each 1,000 books people take with them and plan to read while vacationing, 17 are read.

Many a grocery shopper thinks if she can't stick her thumb half-way into a cantaloupe, it's too green; if she can, it's too ripe.

Romania Shows Loosened Reins

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Romania is scoring points in its policy of maintaining a national communism free of Kremlin control.

When Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet party chief, endorsed the policy before the Romanian party congress, he formally put an end to Soviet efforts to make Romania toe the Moscow line. The action left the impression that such countries as Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria also might break loose and get away with it.

The Soviet endorsement was a personal triumph for Romanian party leader Nicolae Ceausescu, 47, a Communist intellectual. He was the right-hand man of former president and party leader George Gheorghe-Dej. When Ceausescu took his place at the head of the party.

Under his guidance, Romania is following in the path of Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia without leaving the Soviet bloc or abandoning the ruthless application of Communist theory.

Unlike Yugoslavia, Romania remains a member of the Warsaw Pact, the Communist counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But no longer can the Russians count on the Romanian army in all circumstances.

The constitution says Romania will go to war alongside its Warsaw Pact allies only when "a situation has arisen for which an obligation to declare a state of war has been laid down."

This wording would allow Romania to stay neutral, for example, in an armed conflict between the Soviet Union and Red China.

The Romanians have made several attempts to mediate the Chinese-Soviet dispute but without success. They have kept their links to both sides and take every opportunity to stress the need for worldwide solidarity of all Communist parties.

However, their endorsement of "peaceful coexistence" and the Moscow treaty limiting nuclear tests clearly places them on the Soviet side of the argument.

ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

Asserting their economic independence, the Romanians refused to accept Soviet plans for a "division of labor" among the Communist countries. That would have kept Romania a relatively underdeveloped supplier of raw materials for the industries of the Soviet Union, East Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Instead, Romania pushed ahead with her own industrialization.

"The West has much to gain from the general loosening up of the Soviet bloc," one American source commented. "The more we help countries like Romania to stand on their own feet, the more they learn to resist Soviet domination."

Facing A Fact Of Life—And Death

David Lawrence Says:

Union Shop Bill Threat to Rights

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — America is about to give the world an example of conformity by coercion — how intolerant majorities in Congress and in labor unions ride roughshod over dissenting minorities of wage earners and compel them to surrender their "freedom of belief" and "freedom of association."

The House of Representatives and the Senate are engaged now in the process of passing a law taking away from the 50 states of the union their constitutional right to protect minorities in their employment opportunities.

For, under this measure, unless a person agrees to join a labor union which has a majority status in a plant, he can be dismissed from his job after 30 days.

Nineteen states of the union have forbidden this form of compulsion. But, even in this age of demonstrations for so-called "civil rights," a basic human freedom of the individual — the right to a job without being forced to sacrifice his beliefs — is about to be taken away.

The general public isn't informed on the issue. If it were, the voters would be protesting now to Congress, and every single representative or senator who has supported such a discriminatory measure would be marked for defeat in the next election.

'VOLUNTARY' AGREEMENT

The argument usually advanced is that the employer and the labor union would merely be entering into a "voluntary" agreement for a "union shop" and that the law doesn't actually require either the union or the employer to make such an agreement.

But what of the individual? Where can he get protection? The courts offer him no help as yet because the argument is supposedly "voluntary."

The language of the bill is sweeping and broad. "In any other statute of the United States or in any constitution or law of any state or political subdivision thereof, shall preclude an employer from making an agreement with a labor organization . . . to require as a condition of employment membership therein . . . if such labor organization is the representative of the employees . . ."

Passage of the new law will mark the loss of minority rights and the emergence of the intolerance of majority rule.

ALWAYS RECOGNIZED

All this is happening even though the right to work and to keep a job has always been recognized as an individual right in the relationship between employer and employee.

This was supposedly protected from the earliest days of the republic.

The Declaration of Independence sets forth that "all men are created equal" and that among the "unalienable rights" with which they are endowed are "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." The Constitution forbids "involuntary servitude."

To be compelled to join any organization — social or religious or political or economic — as the price of a job in free America is certainly a form of involuntary servitude.

Bank Chief Replacement Sign of Viet Economic Rift

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The replacement of Dr. Nguyen Xuan Oanh as director of the National Bank of Viet Nam spotlights a rift between Saigon financial officials and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Coa Ky's military government.

The government announced the switch Tuesday. Nguyen Van Dong is taking over the key economic post that Oanh, a Harvard-trained economist, had held since Jan. 27.

A government spokesman declined to say whether Oanh resigned or was fired.

Other sources reported he decided to quit because Ky insisted that the bank support the government's economic programs without giving the bank authority to institute measures necessary to make them effective.

It is an open secret that Oanh feels the economy under Ky's stewardship is headed for disaster.

CRACKDOWN

In recent weeks, Ky has sought to crack down on the inflation resulting from price speculation by threatening to shoot speculators.

A prominent banker commented: "You can't halt inflation by shooting people. A crackdown on speculators may be useful, but it won't work unless you make a much deeper over-all attack on the economic problem."

The Vietnamese national deficit is about 20 billion piastres — about $250 million. The Ky government is planning to add three or four billion piastres to this deficit, and bank officials are bitter.

They contend the bank should at least have been consulted on the question of whether the economy could stand such an increase in the deficit.

PERSISTENT RUMORS

There also have been persistent rumors that Ky intends to nationalize a number of foreign interests here, such as the huge French-owned plantations.

Various Saigon economists oppose this idea, believing the plantations yield more revenue in taxes to the government than they would in income under Vietnamese national ownership.

The big influx of American dollars has created a lot of liquid capital that many economists have eyed with interest. If some of the hard cash now in free circulation in Saigon could be sopped up in exchange for national treasury bills, the bank could discount rates and thus bring some control over the economy, bankers say.

TURNED DOWN

But the government is reported to have turned down this idea.

As it is, Viet Nam's foreign exchange reserve is expected to drop to a new low of $60 million or less by the end of the year, they say.

Less Criticism for Stalin

The Hamburg Die Zeit

Only by a great stretch of the imagination can recent happenings in Moscow be called re-Stalinization. Although criticism of Stalin has not entirely disappeared, it is definitely on the wane.

During the past few years almost every issue of the magazine Historical Questions of the C.P.S.U. (Communist) Party of the Soviet Union has contained the names of rehabilitated victims of Stalinist persecution; such articles no longer appear. In his speech on the twentieth anniversary of the Soviet victory over Hitler, Party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev avoided all criticism of Stalin.

He failed to mention that Stalin's dismissal of all warnings of imminent attack by Hitler in 1941 greatly contributed to the Soviet Army's heavy losses during the first months of the war. Instead, he portrayed the outbreak of the war as follows: "The State Defense Committee was formed with J. V. Stalin, First Secretary of the Central Committee of the C.P.S.U., at its head. It led all organizations in the resistance against the enemy."

The Soviet Union is distributing a film which presents Stalin in a positive light on three separate occasions. This reinforces the impression that the current Soviet leadership, stepping cautiously, is changing its official stand.

The new men in the Kremlin are downright scared of any tit-for-tat conflicts, perhaps in view of the forthcoming Twenty-third Party Congress which must be convened by autumn at the latest. Like a Western government on the Japanese Girl Requests Year Stay in This Area

I am a Japanese girl, 20 years old. I am attending an English interpreter-translator school in Tokyo. It is my ambition to someday become a professional interpreter-translator and guide, either in Japan or some foreign country. I would love a chance to study for one year in the United States. I would study English hard, and learn everything about your great country.

Such a thing seems only a dream because my father is a farmer and doesn't make enough money to help me.

Is there a family in Pontiac that would like to have me live with them? I like little children, animals, and cooking. I would do my best to help a mother in her home. If I could become like an adopted daughter for one year, I would be the happiest girl in the world.

The Better Half

"Don't plan anything special for this evening—I've scheduled it for the start of my fall coat nagging sessions."

The first sign of such a move came when Soviet Ambassador Chervonenko, a shrewd politician who had taken an active part in the Moscow-Peking feed, was recalled from China. Career diplomat Sergi Lapin replaced him.

And the replacement of the pro-Rights chief Ideiglat, Leonid Il'ychev, by Piotr Demichev, Central Committee Secretary for Chemistry, was obviously connected with the new ideological emphasis. Anti-Chinese criticism has been drastically reduced of late; the partial reappraisal of Mao apparently underlines Moscow's readiness to meet Peking halfway in their quarrel.

Thus far the Chinese Communists have ignored the Kremlin's cautious moves on the chessboard; rather, the Chinese attacks have increased and now concentrate on the new Soviet leaders. Increased Soviet concessions are met by increased Chinese demands.

Moscow is trying to protect herself on all sides. While attempting to pacify Peking with a cessation of criticism and reappraisal of Stalin, the Kremlin also was Yugoslavia. Pravda recently published two articles by Yugoslav politicians and praised Belgrade openly. In his next year's speech, Brezhnev lauded the Yugoslavian People's Army under Marshal Tito's leadership, the Chinese Communist under "Comrade" Mao Tse-tung, the Italian reform Communist leader Togliatti, and even the Albanian Stalinists. The leaders in Moscow are trying to make everybody as happy as possible, just as they are hoping to do at home. There is a good chance, however, that they will succeed instead in angering one and all.

Voting Rights Bill Hits Snag

Senators, House Differ on Two Key Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts of Senate-House conferees to reach agreement on a voting rights bill and hasten final congressional action have bogged down in dispute over two key issues.

"The next move is up to the House," Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said, after reporting House conferees had balked at what he called "a very acceptable compromise" between the versions of the bill passed by the Senate and House.

No date for another meeting of the conference committee was set after a fifth session broke up in disagreement Tuesday.

Both bills provide for suspension of literacy tests and appointment of federal examiners to register voters in much of the South in an effort to prevent discriminatory denial of Negro voting rights.

POLL TAXES

The dispute centers chiefly around a ban in the House bill on state poll taxes as a requirement for voting — a provision narrowly rejected in the Senate on the ground that it was of doubtful constitutionality.

Also involved is a Senate provision under which persons educated in American-flag schools in languages other than English would not be required to pass an English-language literacy test to qualify to vote.

Rejected by the House, this provision would have the effect of enabling thousands of Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans in New York City to enroll as voters even though they are unable to pass the state's English-language literacy test.

Dirksen said the Senate conferees unanimously proposed Tuesday to retain this provision and to drop the House poll tax ban in favor of keeping, in altered language, a Senate provision directing the attorney general to challenge the constitutionality of poll taxes as a requirement for voting. He said the House negotiators disagreed among themselves.

Some Americans Have Never Yet Seen a Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service reported today that an estimated 24 million Americans — or 13 per cent of the civilian population — say they have never seen or talked to a physician for care or advice.

Most of them are under 15 years of age, and most are non-whites, but a few contend they've gone 75 years or more without seeking out a doctor.

Estimates of the total number are based on a nationwide household sampling. Interviews were conducted at approximately 42,800 households, containing about 134,000 persons, from July 1963 through June 1964.

A similar survey in 1957 reported 23 per cent of the population had never seen a doctor.

Cash Awarded Woman Hurt by LBJ Copter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 71-year-old Concord, Calif., woman, injured by the backwash of a helicopter during President Johnson's visit to the bay area in June 1964, has been awarded $6,240 in damages against the United States government.

U.S. Dist. Judge Bruce Thompson of Carson City, Nev., found Tuesday that Margaret Lovell suffered permanent injuries to her left leg when she was struck by a metal chair hurled through the air by the rotor backwash.

A plastic covering for landing areas that can be sprayed on in minutes from the ground or a plane is expected to save wear and tear on vertical take off jet aircraft.

Heath to Lead Tory Onslaught on Labor

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath took control of Britain's Conservative party today at a critical stage in British politics, signaling a furious onslaught on the embattled Labor government.

Heath's two declared rivals, Reginald Maudling and Enoch Powell, withdrew from the race. The withdrawals came after Heath, on a first ballot of Conservative members of the House of Commons, won 150 of the 288 votes cast Tuesday.

The party's new rules required the winner to poll both a majority and 15 per cent more than the runner-up. Although he had the majority, Heath lacked the 15 per cent because Maudling polled 133 votes. But the latter bowed out and promised to fully support Heath.

New trials emerged for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites, who rule with a majority of only three votes in Commons.

URGENT MEASURES

Wilson's financial executive, Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, announced a series of urgent economic measures. Callaghan ordered tighter controls on mortgages and installment buying, cuts in government spending both at home and abroad, and a general squeeze on public and private spending.

His purpose was to accelerate the process of balancing Britain's trade and so maintain the value of the pound sterling. The new program was sure to cause grumbling among the voters.

Heath, 49, will make his first real assault on the government as opposition chief next Tuesday.

Up for debate is a Conservative motion deploring the 7 per cent increase in the cost of living since Labor turned the Tories out last October. If the government loses the censure vote, it will have to resign.

One main target of the Conservative attack undoubtedly will be Callaghan's announcement that plans to lower costs on house mortgages must be deferred. The Labor party made a strong impact during the election campaign last fall with a pledge that it would ease the burden on owner-occupiers.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower went skeet shooting yesterday in Minocqua, Wis., and twice broke 23 out of 25 clay birds with a 20-gauge shotgun.

Arthur MacArthur, a veteran member of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission said Eisenhower then took a 410, a smaller shotgun, and "was going even better when we gave it up." MacArthur said: "He swings that thing like a real pro."

Zero Motel to Play in TV Special

Zero Motel, the Broadway comedy star of "Fiddler on the Roof," is going on television.

CBS announced yesterday in New York Motel will be costarred with Carol Burnett in a comedy-variety hour special program. It will be shown early next year.

Motel is leaving "Fiddler on the Roof" Aug. 14 and will go to England to make a movie version of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Queen Approves Official for Australia

Queen Elizabeth approved today the appointment of Lord Casey as governor general of Australia.

Lord Casey, 74, is an Australian. He is the former R. G. Casey who until 1960 had been Australian minister of external affairs for more than eight years.

End-Bias Order for Apartments

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit firm which rents apartments in Ann Arbor was ordered Tuesday to shun racially discriminatory policies as the Michigan Civil Rights Commission handed its first formal housing bias case.

The commission ruled that Cutler Hubble Co. acted unlawfully in March 1964, when it told Bunyan Bryant, a Negro University of Michigan student, there were no units available in an Ann Arbor apartment building.

In a hearing last month, three white witnesses testified they were shown several available apartments in the buildings during the same week Bryant was refused.

The commission ordered the firm to cease such practices and to offer Bryant the next available apartment in the building if he wants it.

STUDIES APPEAL

Hubble's attorney, John L. Starrs, said he was studying the decision to see if there are grounds for appeal. He had argued at the hearing that leasing of an apartment is a privilege of the owner, not a right of the renter.

The commission previously had mediated informally more than 100 housing complaints. Tuesday's was the first to require formal hearings and legal orders.

Cure Hypertension Through Surgery?

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some four million American hypertension sufferers probably can be cured by surgery, a team of doctors at the University of Michigan Medical Center reports.

Doctors say the concept of surgical relief for "essential" hypertension (high blood pressure), first publicized 10 months ago, has been tested by a successful operation at University Hospital here.

Essential hypertension covers about 75 per cent of hypertension cases—those in which the specific cause of the disorder is not known.

The report, released Tuesday, says 20 per cent of the cause-unknown cases probably are caused by a small tumor on the patient's adrenal gland.

Application of a new laboratory test for renin, an enzyme made in the kidney, into the total diagnostic procedure has been a key factor in developing the new findings, the report says.

The largest standard-gauge railroad in the world is the Central Railway of Peru, rising to the Andes, more than 15,000 feet above sea level.

Hitting Viet Missile Bases Puts Russia on Spot

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The time may be near when the chips will be down for the Russians in the Viet Nam crisis. The Pentagon announcement that U.S. bombers knocked out an anti-aircraft missile site and damaged another in North Viet Nam could mean a big step has been taken in escalation of the war. The Soviets installed the sites and probably are manning them.

From all appearances, this is the sort of development the Russians feared. The Kremlin felt obliged to install anti-aircraft missile sites in North Viet Nam to demonstrate its willingness to aid a brother Communist regime. Now the sites have been attacked. Will it mean another confrontation similar to the 1962 Cuban missile crisis when Nikita Khrushchev backed away from a brink-of-war situation?

The development can cause trouble in the Kremlin, already involved in jockeying as the result of internal and external pressures. Perhaps a large section of the Communist world has banked on years of U.S. involvement in a costly Vietnamese war. Peking, at least, seemed to be gambling on it. Red China could afford to be patient, to look upon an attrition as a useful tool against the United States and at the same time against Soviet influence in Asia.

Up to now, at relatively small expense, Red China seemed the principal beneficiary of a prolonged war. It would seem that the longer the localized conflict, the more Peking stood to gain through the losses of others.

The United States so far has paid a price in men, material, prestige and propaganda setbacks, in prospective domestic dislocations from increasingly heavy commitments, in quarrelling at home over policy, in the diffusion of U.S. forces and in the impact on U.S. alliances.

Moscow's collective leadership also stood to lose. Reliable sources say that apart from the specter of a new missile confrontation, the Kremlin feared that Soviet-U.S. strains would force big military budget increases, setbacks to the consumer economy program, the use of Viet Nam indefinitely by the Chinese as a stick to beat Moscow for lack of total support to a revolutionary cause, and enhancement of Chinese chaos to spread influence at Moscow's expense.

SOMETHING NEW

Something new was added when the missile bases were bombed. Red China already is crying that "a showdown between the people (meaning the

In effect, Peking tells Moscow: "Put up or shut up."

Possibly Peking would have been happier if the Americans avoided the big step. It may have welcomed the idea that years of localized war would work attrition on the U.S. world image and on U.S. domestic problems.

Ordinarily, the prospect of America expending its resources in Southeast Asia might please the Kremlin, too, but benefits would be negative.

Risks — like the one looming now — are real. Unless Moscow faced up to the risks, it would stand condemned by the Chinese in the eyes of world revolutionaries as being nonrevolutionary.

The new development will likely increase pressure on the Kremlin to build up the Soviet military to an extent where the economic side suffers again. The military voice in Moscow already is strident.

AWKWARD TIME

All this comes at an awkward time of new Soviet experimentation with production policies, profit motives, crash programs to solve livestock and other food problems, educational reforms, political changes to reverse some of the trends of the Khrushchev era. It is awkward, too, because in recent years Moscow built a workable way of life with the West which could be useful in a time when the U.S.S.R. is devoting resources to curing economic ills.

Will there now be a climactic showdown?

The Kremlin might still labor for some kind of talks. Its problem is that Peking

seems to be calling the shots for North Viet Nam and Ho Chi Minh's regime.

Red China probably would want to avoid overt participation in the Viet Nam war so long as it seemed the Americans were unable to win either in the field or at a conference table. Should the picture change, it is possible there would be another Korean-type "Chinese volunteer" exercise.

Red China has 30 million in its armed militia and propaganda heavily now for intensive training in all provinces. Theoretically China could inundate North Viet Nam with manpower. Whatever the effect on the U.S. effort, this would remove for good the last vestiges of Ho Chi Minh's independence. Even North Viet Nam has made clear that it considers a long war less of an evil than saturation of the country with Chinese.

There is no indication that Red China would be averse to a Soviet-American showdown.

When you've gone up as high as you can go, there's nothing to do but start in a new direction, even if it means beginning again.

Carrol White, head resident of Hill House at Oakland University this summer, had an interesting and challenging job with Mueller Brass Company in Port Huron.

As correspondent for the refrigeration sales division, she was in contact with people all over the country.

BACK TO SCHOOL

But the company offered no other position in any higher capacity for women, so the day she got her 15-year pin, Carrol White quit her job and went back to school.

During her working years, she had taken courses at Port Huron Junior College and received her degree. She knew that higher education appealed to her.

She had also had some musical experience. In high school, she played the piano for three years for practice sessions of the school choir.

Later, while working, she had directed a church choir for five years.

Although English was her major in her first two years, music was indicated as a strong interest.

CHOSE OU

Carrol chose Oakland University because she liked its size and what it had to offer. Accepted last summer, she delayed entrance one trimester to fatten the savings account just a bit more.

From January to April, she lived with the other students in Hill House to get the feeling of communal living and to see if she could qualify for the resident's job.

Contrary to what might be expected, the young coeds last winter mothered their older dormitory mate and made her feel at home with them.

Now, nearing the end of her supervisory job, she has only pleasant feelings about it.

"Although I feel I need more background to do this type of work, it's been great. It's been like one big family."

What did her friends think about her abrupt change of careers?

CRAZY BUT COURAGEOUS

"At first, they didn't take me seriously; then they decided I was crazy, but great to have the courage to do it."

In addition to being a full-time student, Carrol has had a number of other first experiences this trimester.

She's done her first camping and canoeing and gone to Bobo and Stratford. On all of these occasions, she has been a chaperone.

Future plans? She's searching for an apartment for the fall term.

She's looking forward to being in the school of music after a summer in the new Meadow Brook School of Music.

And she's definitely excited about getting her degree in secondary education and teaching music in this area.

is Carole Wilson, Brant, Michigan; in the center, Nancy Humm, Ithaca, Mich.

Members Should Vote on Issue

The Majority Rules

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of ten church members who have been meeting in each other's homes once a month for the past eight years.

After lunch we spend the rest of the afternoon studying our religion. Two years ago a woman joined our group.

She has never yet had the luncheon in her home and has tried many times to change our meetings from luncheons to just coffee and cookies.

When I asked her when she could take the luncheon, she told me that it was impossible for her to entertain as her dog is very jealous and she has to give him tranquilizers whenever she has company.

Kindly advise what you would do in a situation like this. Most of the ladies feel we should ask for her resignation, but no one will speak up. Since I am the president, I am...

ON THE SPOT

DEAR ON: If the majority of the women want a luncheon meeting, then it should remain a luncheon club.

And if this woman wants to be a member, she should take her turn at having the luncheon. Otherwise, drop her and leave her free to sit and hold her dog's paw.

DEAR ABBY:

After three daughters I finally had a little boy. My husband was wild with joy, but he's going overboard to make sure his son will be "all boy."

He won't allow the baby to have a teddy bear or any stuffed toy to cuddle. (He says no son of HIS is going to play with dolls!)

The boy is only eight months old and his father roughhouses with him so fiercely that I'm afraid he'll hurt him. If my husband sees me "rock" or cuddle the baby, he has a fit.

He reads your column right after the sports page, so maybe you can tell him he's wrong. I can't.

TRULY WORRIED

DEAR TRULY: All babies need to be rocked and cuddled. And they also need something THEY can cuddle in.

In return (this is how one learns to give and receive affection.)

Your husband's roughness could cause the boy to turn to his mother for "protection." (This is what makes genuine "sissies.")

Boys need tenderness from their fathers to teach them that "real men" can also be gentle, sensitive, and loving.

A man who has been denied "love" from his father often grows up to be the type who asserts his "masculinity" by beating his wife and tyrannizing his children.

Celebrate Twice

When the Bert A. McKeachles were honored at an open house on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, their bridal attendants were among the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Walls of Highland were present both times.

Lodge Group Entertains

Pontiac Women of the Moose No. 360 held College of Regent's chapter night in the Moose Home Monday evening.

Mrs. James Shafor, college chairman, introduced members from Wyandotte, Belleville, Taylor, Dearborn, Wayne, Detroit and Kalamazoo taking part in the program.

Enrolled as new members were Mrs. Clouds Speegel and Mrs. Madeline Davis.

Canadian Honeymoon

Honeymooning in Quebec and Montreal, Canada, are the John Frank Barany who exchanged vows Saturday at First Congregational Church.

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated.

The bride, formerly Carolyn Ann Smith of Lansing, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Grady Smith, Draper Avenue.

Mr. Barany, of Lansing, is the son of the Julius C. Barany, Milwaukee, Wis.

SILK ORGANZA

Fashioned of silk organza and Alencon lace, the bridal gown featured a fitted bodice, bateau neckline and sheath skirt with a chapel train.

She wore a silk organza forward bridal cap with a back Dior bow and held a crescent arrangement of Stephanotis, ivy and white orchid.

Mrs. Larry E. Smith was her sister-in-law's honor matron, with other attendants, Carol Carter and Elsie Van-Alstine.

The bridegroom's brother Richard Barany was best man. Ushering were Larry Smith, James Barany, George Oakley and Norman Waara.

A church reception followed the rite.

NANCY SUE TYNAN

Rosemary Linstruth,
Russell Valentine Wed

Exchanging wedding vows recently in Oxford Methodist Church were Rosemary Audrey Linstruth and Russell Howard Valentine. Rev. Fred Clark officiated.

The newlyweds' parents are the Joseph P. Linstruths and the Lee B. Valentines, all of Oxford Township.

A silk organza gown with Alençon lace and pearl encrusted neckline was worn by the bride who held an arrangement of white roses and pompons.

Her circular illusion veil was caught by a crown of pearls.

The honor matron was Mrs. John Kamm, and attendants were Mrs. Keith Till, Karen Elliot, Claire Middleton and Leslie Conley.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Amy Vascasanno and Michael Barr.

David L. Skibowski of Royal Oak was best man. Ushering were Norman Williams, Jerry Dulack, Steven Van Amburg and T. J. Linstruth, the bride's brother.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Northern Michigan.

MRS. VALENTINE

There is not very much of summer left. In fact there is so little time between now and fall that we should begin thinking about getting our hair in better condition before having our first permanent for that season. There are several simple procedures which will help.

Most of us sort of let down during summer. Perhaps you haven't been so faithful about your usual scalp massage or 100 strokes. Better start in with them again.

DRY HAIR TREATMENT

If your hair has become very dry or bleached a conditioner, or a series of hot oil treatments, or a cream shampoo and cream rinses will help.

Also be sure to get your daily quota of the vitamin B family.

You can also use one of the cream pomades designed for dry hair ends.

One authority I talked to says that fall sunshine is of great benefit to the hair. According to her the fall sun lacks the burning drying qualities of the summer sun, and has special qualities which will enhance hair health and beauty.

Certainly there is something delightful about the fall sunshine. It still has warmth but with just a hint of fall to come. It is at the same time invigorating and relaxing.

What to Do With It

Teen's Endless Energy

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE W42: Felipe D., aged 17, teaches music in high school and directs a splendid school orchestra.

"Dr. Crane," he asked, "I'm sure my students would not become members of any frenzied mob of teen-agers who made such a spectacle of themselves when the Beatles were in New York."

"So how do you explain the recent hysteria about the Beatles?"

"And the carry-over of those juvenile haircuts, etc.?"

DOUBLE BOILER ANALOGY
Suppose a steam boiler, as in the old locomotive, was built with two fire pots underneath.

Assume that one was sufficient to generate all the steam required to pull a long string of loaded freight cars.

But after several years, somebody happened to ignite the second fire under that same boiler.

What would happen?

Well, the boiler would have such a sudden rise in steam pressure that it would keep all the safety valves hissing and screaming with steam, or the boiler would literally blow up.

Compare that to the usual child.

Until he reaches the middle teens, his sexual energy is relatively dormant.

Then, it starts generating excessive energy in his body. What happens?

The teen-ager MUST obtain muscular outlets or he says he will blow his top or scream or become a maniac.

LIKE SHEEP

But millions of teen-agers are like sheep, waiting to be told what to do and even what to enjoy.

They have been herded like sheep by parents and school teachers so it is customary for them to follow leaders.

And if those pace-setters are publicity men for any product or any new dance or musical craze, they blindly stampede.

For they simply MUST have an outlet for pent-up energy.

Most of the American youth don't have enough muscular chores.

They have too much idle time. So they are ripe for any craze or fad or sit-in college strike, etc.

And this is not a new thing. Rudolph Valentino had them swooning in the streets.

Frank Sinatra had his wave of hysterical fans.

They even swallowed live gold fish at the University of Chicago a few years ago, which set loose another hysterical wave.

Then, more recently, college youths tried to see how many could squeeze into a telephone booth or into a compact car.

This is a phase that millions of teen-agers go through if they are not carrying newspaper routes or members of Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and 4-H Clubs, or on athletic or glee club debate teams, etc.

The idle teen-agers, with their suddenly aroused sex "boiler," goading them onward, stampede like sheep for anything that gets rid of energy.

In Tennyson's day, a common fad was fainting so dozens of girls would drop over in a crowd for no particular reason at all.

When I was stationed at Smith College in the middle 1920s, only one per cent of girls missed classes due to menstrual periods, whereas 50 per cent formerly stayed home from class till a new rule went into effect requiring medical O.K. on such absenteeism!

So fads occur in music and even medicine, but faddists are more sheep-like!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

'Burgers Beloved

Hamburger, anyone? Last year, 2.7 billion pounds of ground beef were consumed in this country — almost 15 pounds per person.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simon of Detroit announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet to Ray Hedding, son of the George Heddings of Rowley Drive. Her fiancé attends General Motors Institute and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. An early October wedding is planned.

Michigan State Fair Again Offers Prizes

Michigan women again have the chance to win prizes for their best efforts in community arts (formerly home arts) at the 1965 Michigan State Fair.

Fair dates are Aug. 27 to Sept. 6, but dates for entering the items you make are earlier.

In the booklet prepared for exhibitors and available to anyone, rules are spelled out. You have until Aug. 4 to send in an entry blank with your $2 fee. This entitles you to entries in 20 classes. There is a $5 fee for the art exhibition.

White French crepe fashioned an Empire sheath gown and court train for Virginia Frances Clover who recently became Mrs. Mark Phillip Moultrap in St. Perpetua Catholic Church. Rev. Bernard Zaglonsky offered the nuptial Mass for the couple whose parents are the Frank L. Clovers, Manning Street, and the Lester Moultraps of Mill Street. Attendees were Mrs. Gregory Clover, Mrs. James Willoughby, Mrs. Dorothy Moultrap, Gail Grand, Gregory Clover, Michael Moultrap, Ronald Willoughby and Bradley Chase.

the Community Arts Department, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Mich. 48203, giving name and address clearly.

GRAND AWARD

For the second year Mrs. George Romney will present a silver bowl to the person receiving the highest totaled point count in three divisions — needlecraft and other handicraft, baking and canning and preserving.

In 1964, Michigan's First Lady Homemaker Award went to Mrs. Fred W. Cobb of Northville.

New classes this year include one in cake decorating and a group of sweepstake prizes from national manufacturers, area merchants and newspapers.

Only amateurs are permitted to enter their work in competition and anyone teaching any of the homecrafts is ineligible.

NO FEES

In the section devoted to creative hobby craft, senior citizens (over 65 years) may enter without an entry fee. There are also special classes and awards for boys and girls, 14 years of age and under.

Almost $6,000 in prize money, exclusive of special awards, will be given to winners.

Sorority Office for Andra Tynan

Andra Tynan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Tynan, Angeline Street, is newly elected chaplain and program chairman of the University of Detroit chapter, Alpha Sigma Tau, national alpha sorority.

A senior English major in the college of arts and sciences, Miss Tynan is also a member of the International Student Association.

Usually No Tax on Children's Bonds

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Friends of ours say they are buying U.S. savings bonds to provide for their child's education, and will not have to pay any tax on the interest from these bonds.

How can this be so? I understand one must always pay income tax on the interest.

MARY FEELEY
Mrs. M.H., San Diego, Calif.

Dear Mrs. H.: If parents buy E bonds registered in the child's name — either alone or with one of the parents as beneficiary — the interest becomes income belonging to the child.

At the end of the first year of bond purchase, a Federal income tax return is filed in the child's name, listing the increase in bond value. As long as this amount is less than $500, no tax need be paid.

Therefore, it will be necessary to file a tax return for the child only in the years in which the accrued interest from the bonds — plus any other income — exceeds the $500 exemption. (5000 personal exemption plus $500, the new minimum standard deduction.)

There's also another way of handling the situation. The parents can wait until the child begins to cash the bonds to pay for his education. Then he files his own tax return each year, reporting the full amount of interest earned by the redeemed bonds as income.

As it now stands, if the boy (or girl) has no other income, and his total earnings are less than $500 for the year, he won't have to pay any tax at all.

Dear Readers: So many times your letters ask for help in making money go round in a dozen different areas of living. And believe me, I understand every one.

But in the limited space this column offers, I just can't take up every question you ask in each of these letters. For this reason I've written a booklet, discussing the most pressing problems that seem to harry the average family — and the single person, too.

It runs about 50 pages, and there are 12 chapters including "Financial Traps," "Planning the Food Dollar," "Banking and Borrowing," "Children: How Much It Costs to Have Them and Raise Them." I also get into the subjects of how to buy a mattress and how to get the most for your money when you choose a refrigerator.

The aim of this booklet is to help you find answers to questions before the questions become problems. If you'd like to have a copy, you can send $1 to Dollar Book in care of this newspaper. The title of the booklet is "Make Every Dollar Count."

Maybe I should add that I have included a one-page budget guidelines for the single woman, the woman who marries late in life, newlyweds, working wives, and couples who are ready for, or are planning for, retirement. I tried to include all of us, so I stuck to the facts and just shipped to the basics.

Marriage Popular

Some 1.7 million couples took their wedding vows last year, and of these 1.3 million were first marriages.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

Why don't pattern sizes correspond with ready-to-wear sizes? I would spend half of my time sewing if I could just buy a pattern small enough. I wear a size 3 or 5 and a size 10 pattern is much too large all over. Surely I'm not the only gal with this request.

Mrs. V.F.

Dear Mrs. V.F.:

Patterns are sized according to standard measurements agreed upon by all the pattern companies and they do not correspond with ready-to-wear. However, ready-to-wear sizes are not consistent either. The more expensive the garment, the smaller the size.

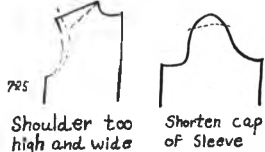

And of you who want smaller sizes in patterns, please write to me today. I have just returned from the East where I attended the National Home Economics Convention. You can be sure that every company connected in any way with home sewing—such as the patterns, thread, zippers, notions of all types, fabrics, etc., are ready to listen to any suggestions, good or bad.

The market is geared to your demands, so you must make yourself heard. These people are interested in my crusade to present them with thousands of letters at one time, instead of an occasional letter now and then. Don't put off another day, write me today, in care of The Pontiac Press.

SUMMER STOLE IS CURTAIN

"I enjoy your column so much. With you and my new sewing machine, I have secured a new lease on sewing. "I wanted to share my idea about my new summer stole that turned out so lovely and so inexpensive. I bought a single panel lace curtain at the dime store, removed the heading and the hem. I sewed the fringe on both ends and had a lovely summer wrap. From the compliments I received, I'm sure it didn't look like a panel curtain." This is an excellent idea for making many lace things this summer. It will work for beach jackets, dresses, etc. It often is cheaper to buy a curtain. Always shrink any cotton lace before using. Mrs. James A. Schaaf, Royal Oak, Mich., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for this suggestion.

Many of you have asked me what to do with your suits that have the heavily padded shoulders no longer in style. Most of these old suits were very, very fitted at the waistline — which is still out of style. However, if you decide to take out the shoulder padding, you will have to take the shoulder seam up a little deeper, beginning at the armhole and tapering to nothing at the neckline. You will also have to shorten the shoulder width. Before cutting, be sure to baste the sleeve back in to be certain you have marked it correctly. The last change to make is to shorten the cap of the sleeve slightly.

The more padding that was used, the higher the cap of the sleeve. These are all simple alterations, but take a little time to do correctly.

Eunice Farmer regrets she cannot answer your letters personally, but she does answer those of general interest in the column. Her questions are chosen by the number of requests that pertain to any one sewing problem. Please send your letters to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Lynn R. Boulton Wed to Douglas Gardiner

A white floor length sheath of peau de sole trimmed with Alencon lace was chosen by Lynn Rose Boulton for her marriage to Douglas Lee Gardiner recently in St. Andrew's Catholic Church. Rev. Edward G. Baumgartner officiated.

Parents of the couple are the Joseph J. Boultons of Whims Lane, Oakland Township and the Earl Gardiners of Otsego.

Completing the bridal ensemble was a lace trimmed pillbox holding a bubble veil. Her flowers were a bouquet of white daisies and miniature white roses.

SISTER ATTENDS

Mary Beth Boulton, her sister, was maid of honor and bridesmaids included Jane Frink, Susan Sykes, Cassie Beck and Mrs. Joseph Perry. Dean Scott was best man and ushering were Paul Boulton, Faye White, Dean Miers and Roger Morris.

A lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Jarvis of Rochester followed the ceremony.

After the evening reception in the VFW Post Hall in Drayton Plains, the couple left for

Tea Honors Newcomer to City

By The Emily Post Institute
Q. My husband was recently transferred to this city. The wife of one of his business associates is giving a tea next week to introduce me to some of her friends.

As this is a new experience for me, will you please tell me what will be expected of me? When should I arrive and leave?

Do I send a gift to the hostess or just a thank-you card? Also, do I shake hands with the women when I am introduced to them?

I am not a conversationalist and get extremely nervous when meeting new people. I never know what to say after, "How do you do?"

I would appreciate any help you can give me.

A. If the invitations read, say, "from four until seven," you should arrive a few minutes before four and stay until seven, or until the last guests take their leave.

You need not shake hands unless the woman you are being introduced to starts to offer her hand to you.

Don't be nervous or panicky, be your own natural self and think how glad you are to meet all these new people who will probably become your friends.

When you leave, thank your hostess for her kindness in giving the tea for you and for introducing you to so many of her friends.

How to Protect Yourself—3

Ways to Lessen Dangers of Telephone

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a 12-part series on "How to Protect Yourself on the Streets and in Your Home," serialized from a book by Gene Accas and John H. Eckstein.)

By GENE ACCAS AND JOHN H. ECKSTEIN

The telephone and the telephone number can prove a source of danger to yourself and your home. The following section tells why, and how you can lessen the danger.

First of all, when you get a telephone, don't have it listed in such a manner that anyone going through the telephone book can immediately determine that you are a woman.

Do not use "Miss" or "Mrs." with your phone listing, and do not give your first name. Instead, play it safe—use your last name and your initial (s) only.

In addition, as a further precaution, don't list your home telephone number in your company's personnel directory. Limit the accessibility of your number to your immediate superior and the personnel department.

Under no circumstances should you list your phone number on stationery or on name-and-address stickers.

DON'T BE GENEROUS

Don't be generous about giving your phone number to new acquaintances or other casual contacts.

Never volunteer your name, address, or phone number to someone who calls and asks, "Who is this?"

Do not engage in conversation with crank callers. If they are legitimate, they should be able to be direct about their business, identify themselves, and not be evasive or "mysterious." If you have a rash of "strange calls" or "wrong numbers," report the incidents to both the police department and the telephone company.

If you answer your phone and are met with a torrent of obscene language, foul words, indecent suggestions, etc., do just one thing—hang up! Don't utter a word of any kind.

It is more than likely that your number was dialed at random, and the warped individual at the other end will probably not be able to ring you again. So, your best bet is to disconnect the call.

If you receive wrong number calls, do not volunteer your number. Just say, "Not!"

If the caller asks, "What number is this?" don't give your number in reply. Instead, ask him what number he is calling.

REPORT CRANK CALLS

Crank calls (but not those which appear to be legitimate wrong numbers or other reasonable errors) should be reported to the telephone company and to the police, giving complete details.

If you are persistently annoyed by crank calls consider having an unlisted phone number. That way, you will know that a stranger is not calling you, or, if he is, it is only a random dialing that put him through to you.

The telephone company will arrange to change your number and give you an unlisted one on request. The nominal monthly charge is well worth the peace of mind it will bring.

Also, in this way, you can rigidly control the availability of your number—giving it only to close family and trusted friends.

TAP PHONE

When you have the crank on the phone, here are some do's:

• Tap a ring or some other hard object such as a pencil tip against the mouthpiece of the phone, to make it sound as if you were connecting a wire or tape recorder to take down the caller's words.

• Half cover the mouthpiece, and say, audibly, so that the crank can hear, "It's that same man again, officer" (as if there were a policeman present).

• When you are speaking, act as though someone else were with you in the room and you were turning the phone over to them.

If undesirable calls persist, have an answering service take all your calls when you are at home, as well as when you're away.

The service can attempt to hold, the "crank" in conversation and alert the police on other line, and the police can attempt to trace the call. (It takes at least 20 minutes to trace a call.)

In addition, you should never give a caller the impression that you are alone (even if you are).

HE'S BUSY

If someone calls and asks to speak to your husband, never say that he isn't home or is out of town (or that you don't have a husband—if you are unmarried or widowed). Instead, say that your husband is busy at the moment but that he will call back, if the caller will leave his number.

Have a bedside telephone. And don't let it be an extension, which can be rendered inoperable by someone's taking the receiver off the hook of the "companion" phone in another room.

In other words, have the bedroom phone be an extra line, or even a separately listed telephone, so that it can always be used to call for help.

Do not have your phone "temporarily disconnected" when away from home on vacation or the like.

The "interrupt message" given by the telephone company is a sure tip-off to potential housebreakers that your home is vacant and a target for burglary. (The minor amount you save on monthly charges is hardly worth it.)

If your apartment has an intercom system—use by which you can speak with someone at the downstairs entrance door—make sure it is in working order. And use it!

Never let yourself be lured out of your home by a phone call to meet someone.

It is easy enough to make sure of the legitimacy of a call by saying that you are busy at the moment and will have to call back. Get the number, and call back. Any legitimate business will not hesitate to give you the number of their offices. If the caller tries to be evasive, have nothing further to do with him.

Arrange with one or two good friends—who live near you—to have telephone "code words."

These should be innocent-sounding words, which, when used in a conversation, mean, "Help! Come quickly! I am in trouble!"

Thus, if you are ever in trouble and it is possible to make a call—even in the presence of a criminal

ROMEIO'S 'JULIET'—The new queen of Romeo, Rita Hemela (center), was crowned last night in the Miss Romeo contest. Runners-up were Sara Higby (left), and Carol Emmett. The 5-foot-6, dark-eyed queen will represent Romeo in the Romeo Peach Queen contest in September. To accept the awards last night, Rita wore a blue gown, Sara a white gown and Carol a pink one.

Washington Teen Wins

Coed Is Crowned Miss Romeo

ROMEIO — A brown-eyed brunette who wants to be an elementary school teacher was named Miss Romeo last night.

Rita Hemela, 19, of 7653 West Washington, won the title over nine other contestants.

The new queen, who will be a sophomore at Western Michigan University this fall, also received a scholarship to the John Robert Powers Finishing School, a dress and accessories.

The first runner-up, who will fulfill Miss Romeo's duties in case Rita is ever unable to do so, was Carol Emmett of 400 Morton.

The second runner-up was Sara Higby of 252 Church.

Also among the five finalists were Carol Schoof of 291 Benjamin and Paulette James of 308 E. St. Clair.

Miss Romeo was crowned by Mrs. Donald Snyder, formerly Pamela Cumming, last year's Miss Romeo and Peach Queen.

Oldest Active Fireman in State Is Honored by Holly Council

HOLLY — It was "Irving Atherton Night" here last night as the Village Council honored the octogenarian who holds the distinction of being the oldest active fireman in Michigan.

Village President John F. Oland presented a plaque to the 82-year-old veteran, who has served with the Holly Volunteer Fire Department, according to Chief Lowe.

Atherton, who still wears the uniform, is termed an honorary member by Lowe. Atherton handles several chores including taking phone calls and tidying up the hall.

A retired plumber, Atherton lives alone at 408 E. Maple. His wife died several years ago.

Lowe said the disclosure was a result of a five-year study.

Atherton's uninterrupted stint with the department included a lengthy tenure as fire chief. In fact, he was still head of the department in the early 1960's when Lowe replaced him.

During his several years as chief, Atherton never missed the

Pave the Way for Children

TROY — In order to improve walking conditions for school children, the board of education will pay half of the cost of sidewalk construction in eight areas throughout the district.

Schools Supt. Rex B. Smith said the action is rather unusual but that there are a lot of children in these areas who don't have adequate places to walk.

The board will share the cost on a 50-50 basis up to $1 per linear foot, the total cost amounting to $18,000.

Smith said the money comes from savings effected when pupils in certain areas began walking to school instead of riding the bus.

He also said that when the sidewalks are constructed, more children will be able to walk who are now riding buses even though they are not eligible for transportation under state law.

"Our main idea is to improve the safety of the children who have to walk to school," he said.

Milford to Get Dam Property

MILFORD — The village is going to acquire the dam site near its western boundary after all.

The Village Council has voted unanimously to accept the seven-acre dam site west of Milford and to pay $1,000 for equipment there.

In agreeing to the purchase, the council rescinded an earlier decision it had made against the move.

The property near the Mill Pond will be given to the village by the Jim Robbins Co. of Royal Oak.

However, an overhead crane and well pump there will cost $1,000.

REPAIR COST
Another $5,000 is expected to be added to the cost by repairs deemed necessary by the village's insurance company.

There are no plans for immediate development of the property, now the site of an old hydroelectric dam, power plant and accessory equipment.

"We felt it was a key piece of property to the village," acting village manager J. Stuart Brophy said. "We decided there should be public control over the water and we are the most logical to have that control."

The village does not have police power at the site, which lies within Milford Township.

ANNEXATION
Brophy noted annexation of the parcel, which would require an election, might be unnecessary.

"We probably can work out some other arrangement," he said.

Policing of the property will be a major factor in ownership.

While hazardous, the old dam and power plant are attractive to young "explorers."

BROKEN WINDOWS
Vandals have destroyed windows and doors in the building and these will have to be repaired.

The Auto-Owners Insurance Co. also has stipulated that the catwalk over the dam be enclosed and holes that once held generators be filled.

The original council decision against acceptance of the property hinged on the expense of the repairs.

Councilmen changed their minds about taking on the debt after a meeting last week with insurance agents, village planners at Villan-Leman and Associates of Southfield and representatives of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

185 ACRES
The park authority owns a 185-acre parcel in the village adjacent to the dam site.

Brophy said a plan to use the site as a park probably will be developed when the village obtains a deed.

Avondale Unit Adopts Budget

Increase Reflects Rise in Teachers' Salaries

A $1,550,147 budget based on a 36-3 mill tax base has been adopted by the Avondale Board of Education.

The new budget is about $225,000 more than last year's. It reflects teachers' raises given this spring.

Under the new schedule, teachers with bachelors' degrees will receive $5,300 to start and $7,900 after 10 years. They previously received $4,850 to start and $7,275 at the maximum.

Teachers with masters' degrees will earn $5,844 to $8,294. Previously they received $5,165 to $7,590.

OTHERS GET RAISES
Principals, custodians and secretaries also got raises.

The total millage rate is down from last year's 29.25 because of a decrease in the debt millage from 6.1 to 3.1.

Schools Supt. George Shackelford said this was possible because of an increase in property valuation.

Funds allotted to the various departments include elementary instruction, $517,993; secondary instruction, $569,227; special education, $81,343; administration, $83,895; transportation, $75,170; and operation, $140,466.

Others are maintenance, $334,750; capital outlay, $46,500; summer school, $2,538; adult education, $1,000; Project Head Start, $3,200; health services, $1,000; fixed charges, $9,000; and community service, $5,000.

Say Much of Wheat in Storage

Midway in the Michigan wheat harvest, reports indicate farmers are holding a large percentage of their harvested crops at home.

Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization Committee, calls attention to the program initiated last year by the Department of Agriculture to make price support loans easier for eligible producers to obtain.

Eligible farmers interested in a price support loan or price protection on their wheat crops should file applications with their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office.

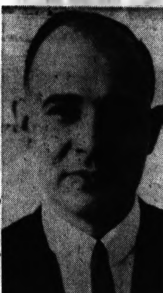

Before 1964, a producer had to wait at least 30 days after harvest before he could receive a loan.

Now, a community committee will visit the farm within two days after the application for price support is filed.

If the producer's storage facility is adequate and the wheat is storable, a loan will be granted immediately, Light said.

Veteran Lifeguard Hits Boredom

Boredom is the "killer" of a lifeguard, according to Victor Bouckaert, who spends long, hot summers under the sun at Martindale Beach in Kensington Metropolitan Park.

"You have to constantly remind yourself what you're doing," he said.

Bouckaert has been a lifeguard at the beach for the past 15 summers — the last twelve as head guard.

The lanky, athletic Bouckaert, a physical education instructor at Walled Lake Junior High School during the cold months, said that lifeguards spend only 40 minutes at a time on the stand watching swimmers.

This is to increase alertness, said the 33-year-old Walled Lake man.

STAFF OF 12
During the current season, Bouckaert heads a staff of nine full-time and three part-time guards. He has Kurt Letzring, 151 Woodland, South Lyon, as assistant head guard.

"Although a policeman's lot is reportedly not a happy one, a lifeguard's certainly is," claims Bouckaert.

"Kensington is a family park and almost everyone is completely cooperative. People come here to enjoy themselves and we do not encourage horseplay on the beach," said Bouckaert.

The veteran guard started at the park in 1951. He said there were only four men on the lifeguard staff then.

Bouckaert said that during the week the beach was used so lightly that they had to work part-time in the refreshment stand.

However, in 1953 the beach-house was opened, which combined bathhouse facilities with a plaza, food bar, lounge and restrooms.

Completion of the I-96 expressway increased patronage of the park.

Lifeguarding is not just standing on the miniature ivory tower and watching the antics of swimmers. Lifeguards are responsible for total care of the beach.

CHECK SAND AREA
Under the latter heading, they patrol the sand area to check for bottles and keep alcoholic beverages off the beach.

Each guard is required to have had an American Red Cross Senior Life Saving Certificate and a First Aid Certificate.

A modern resuscitator is kept on the beach and a patrol boat is available at all times.

Water samples are taken at three points along Martindale Beach and Maple Beach every week. The tests are run by the Oakland County Department of Health to check on the lake's continued suitability for swimming.

IDEAL SUMMER JOB

As a summer occupation, lifeguarding is ideal, according to Bouckaert finds his summer work fits in with his regular teaching job.

VETERAN LIFEGUARD — Victor Bouckaert heads a corps of 12 lifeguards this summer at Martindale Beach in Kensington Metropolitan Park. A physical education instructor at Walled Lake Junior High School, the 33-year-old Bouckaert has been employed as a lifeguard at the beach the past 15 summers. Martindale is one of two beaches in the sprawling park.

Frozen Orange Juice Concentrate Is a Bargain Now

Long considered a good omen—symbol of a happy life ahead for brides—orange blossoms this year signify a great many good things ahead for homemakers as well. Over 60 per cent more frozen orange juice concentrate is on hand this year than last—the most since 1962.

For this reason, frozen concentrated orange juice is on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Plentiful Foods List this summer.

Baked Orange-Carrot Ring
1 pound carrots, washed and scraped
3 eggs
1/4 cup flour

Old Fashioned Filling

For those picnic sandwiches, mix chopped hard-cooked eggs with ground cooked ham, sweet pickle relish and just enough mayonnaise or boiled dressing to moisten.

1 1/4 cups orange juice, single strength
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 small onion, minced
Orange slices

Grate carrots medium fine. Beat eggs with flour until smooth. Stir in orange juice, salt, pepper sauce and melted butter. Add grated carrots and onion. Mix well.

Four into buttered 8-cup ring med. Bake at 375 degrees for 1 hour or until golden brown. Let stand 5 minutes, before turning out onto serving plate.

For Asparagus Salad

Turn canned asparagus into a salad royal. Serve the chilled, drained spears with this piquant cheese dressing. To prepare, blend 1/4 cup dairy sour cream with 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing. Stir in 1/4 cup crumbled blue cheese. Season to taste.

ter. (Or prepare ahead and chill until an hour before serving.)

Fill center with cooked peas and mushrooms or other vegetables. Garnish with orange slices. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Orange French Dressing
1/2 cup salad oil
1 tablespoon vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash hot pepper sauce
Combine ingredients in jar; cover jar tightly and shake until well blended. Chill. Shake dressing again before using on salads. Makes 1 1/4 cups of tasty dressing to top fruit salads.

Any all-purpose barbecue sauce used for chicken may also be used for hamburgers being cooked on the outdoor grill.

You Don't Know How Good Vegetables Are Until You Eat Them Hot From the Grill

Hamburgers, steaks, hot dogs and chicken are foods most weekend charcoal chefs are familiar with. Too many forget that all of these taste even better when fresh vegetables from summer gardens are cooked on the same grill with them.

Herbed Butter

Flavored butter is especially good on fresh garden vegetables, just cooked. Try adding a very, tarragon, marjoram, basil, garlic salt or celery salt to butter. Stir in one of these seasonings to suit your taste and serve this Herbed Butter on cooked vegetables, piping hot.

Home economist Mary Presper is an expert in cooking of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Here are some of her suggestions for corn, potatoes, vegetable kabobs and other summer foods for the charcoal grill.

When making kabobs use: Fresh mushroom caps, green pepper squares, unpeeled chunks of zucchini squash, thick slices of onions, unpeeled wedges of ripe tomatoes.

Substitutions

For one teaspoon of baking powder you can substitute: ¼ teaspoon baking soda plus ¼ cup sour milk or buttermilk; or ¼ teaspoon baking soda and ¼ cup sweet milk soured with ¼ tablespoon vinegar; or ¼ teaspoon baking soda plus 1 teaspoon cream of tartar.

For broiled fish or corn-on-the-cob use: Fresh garlic butter. Before cooking hamburgers or steaks: Rub in chopped fresh onion.

When baking large potatoes try: Paring and slicing deep, crosswise wedges in each. Fill wedges with sharp Cheddar cheese. Coat generously with butter, season; wrap up in foil and bake. Serve right from the foil.

To grill corn-on-the-cob: Leave corn unhusked and place in a slow-burning bed of coals or on a grill quite near hot heat

Round and Chilly

For an easy, attractive dessert try Crispy Ice Cream Balls. Scoops of ice cream are rolled in chopped nuts, flaked coconut, or crushed dry cereal, and topped with sauce or fruit of your choosing. Serve on chilled plates that have been placed in the refrigerator for at least ½ hour before serving time.

source. Turn ears about every 5 to 10 minutes to cook uniformly.

The husks become charred and blackened during cooking, but when they are stripped away (after cooking about 30 minutes), the ears are steaming, golden, milk-tender and delicious.

Leaving the husks on during cooking truly permits the corn to cook in its own juice and imparts the full natural flavor of the vegetable.

Other vegetables: Green beans, carrots and many other vegetables can be cut up into fairly uniform size, liberally buttered or sauced and seasoned and roasted, in packets, individual servings, in foil.

Make up some jellied tomato bouillon and chili; riffle with a fork at serving time and top with sour cream sprinkled with minced chives.

Vegetables Can Be Interesting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Vegetables can be the dull part of a meal or a truly delicious course. We're sorry for people who like only one or two vegetables.

Now is the time to enjoy farm fresh produce. Down the roadside stands dotting the countryside and the thrice weekly farmers' market, the supply is good.

Cook fresh carrots and green beans, then marinate in a wine dressing overnight. Good fare for the buffet table.

Butter Carrots and Green Beans
6 carrots, scraped
1 pound green beans
2 cups boiling water
2½ teaspoons salt
1 small onion, cut in paper-thin strips

½ cup olive oil or salad oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
½ teaspoon white pepper
Halve carrots, then join 6 long strips. Wash and tip beans and cut in half lengthwise.

In separate saucepan, using one cup boiling water and a teaspoon of salt for each, boil carrots 8-10 minutes and beans 10-15 minutes, or until tender. Drain.

In a shallow container, toss together vegetables and rest of ingredients. Cover tightly and refrigerate until flavors blend several hours or overnight, turning mixture once or twice.

Before serving, if oil has congealed, allow to stand at room temperature long enough to have it return to its liquid state. Makes 8 servings.

Zucchini squash are those long dark green summer squashes that resemble cucumbers. Here is a way to serve them as a main luncheon course, if desired.

Olive-Stuffed Zucchini
¼ cup ripe olives
6 medium-size zucchini
¼ cup fine bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 egg
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning or ¼ teaspoon sweet basil and ¼ teaspoon each thyme and savory
2 tablespoons melted Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons grated butter or margarine
½ cup tomato juice

Cut olives into pieces. Wash zucchini and cut off ends. Cook zucchini in boiling salted water 15 minutes or until just tender. Drain and cool.

Split zucchini lengthwise into halves. Scoop out pulp and finely chop.

In a bowl mix chopped zucchini with olives, bread crumbs, onion, egg, salt, garlic powder and seasoning. Stir in cheese and butter. Spoon into zucchini shells.

Place in baking pan and pour tomato juice over stuffed zucchini. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 40 to 45 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Creole Corn takes the place of both vegetable and potatoes or it can stand alone as a casserole to serve on the patio.
Outdoor Creole Corn
½ lb. link sausages
1 onion, chopped
¼ green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon flour
2 (8 oz.) cans tomato sauce
2 cups cooked whole kernel corn
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Cut sausages in small pieces.

Cook slowly in electric skillet until browned. Add onion and green pepper and continue cooking until sausage is done. Blend in flour. Stir in tomato sauce. Add corn and cook until slightly thickened. Add seasonings and simmer 20 minutes. Makes 4-5 servings.

Blueberry Sauce Is Pancake Topping

Fresh Blueberry Sauce
2 cups fresh large blueberries
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup water
Rinse the blueberries in cold water and drain well. In a small saucepan, put 1 cup of the blueberries, the sugar and the water. Over low heat, stir gently until sugar dissolves; bring to a boil; simmer for 15 to 20 minutes; if sugar is quite thin, continue simmering until it is thicker.

Kidney Bean Rarebit Good Supper Dish

Ever add drained red kidney beans to a cheese sauce for Sunday night supper? If the cheese sauce is made with tomato, this combination will be especially good.

This Recipe Produces a Rich Moist Cake

This recipe for a gingerbread is an old-fashioned one. The texture is fairly coarse, the crumb is moist, and the color of the cake is rich dark brown.

These characteristics are especially due to the use of soda as the only leavening.

Rich and Dark Gingerbread
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup boiling water
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup molasses
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sifted enriched all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons ginger

Minted Sour Cream Dresses Up Cukes

Here's a surprising but delicious accompaniment to lamb.

Creamy Minted Cucumber
1 cucumber, about 8 inches
½ cup commercial sour cream
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
2 teaspoons minced fresh spearmint or 1 teaspoon crushed dried spearmint
Fare cucumber; cut off unseeded ends; slice as thin as possible — there should be 1½ to 2 cups. Stir together the sour cream, salt, pepper and mint; mix in the cucumber.

Cover tightly and refrigerate a few hours or overnight for flavors to blend.

Sift dry ingredients together and add, all at once, to liquid mixture. Stir vigorously to mix thoroughly.

Pour batter into greased and floured 8-inch or 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in a 375-degree (moderate) oven for 30 to 35 minutes.

Cut into squares, and serve warm with butter, applesauce, whipped cream, or ice cream.

Tigers' Sparma Again Salvages Split With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Ex-collegian Joe Sparma to the Detroit Tigers' "Yankee killer" for 1965 at least.

The New York Yankees, falter on troubled days this season, are less an obstacle than in the past when Detroit's Frank Lary were the "killer" to go over a period of years.

On the other hand, the manner in which Sparma cooled off the Yankees and saved a double-header split for the Tigers Tuesday night was meaningful.

The 23-year-old former Ohio State right-hander's 3-0 victory in the second game was his fourth victory over New York this year and fifth straight over two seasons.

Behind Whitey Ford, the Yankees took the opener 4-3, making victory a "must" for Detroit in the second game if the Tigers were to get this 12-game road trip off to a decent start.

Sparma shut out New York on five hits for seven innings until he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the Tigers' three-run winning rally in the eighth.

FANNED FIVE
Pitching his first full season for Detroit, Sparma struck out five men and walked only one in keeping the Yankees in hand and notching his seventh victory in 16 games.

Don Wert's bases loaded sacrifice fly brought in the winning run in the eighth. The fly scored Jim Northrup, breaking a scoreless tie between Sparma and Jim Bouton.

The Tigers' two other runs came over an error by catcher Jake Gibbs on Jerry Lumpe's squeeze play bunt and a bases loaded walk to Dick McAuliffe.

Tom Tresh's 16th homer with a man on base and Ford's tight pitching in the pinches were main factors in New York's sixth defeat against 10 victories.

HIT HOMERS
The Tigers collected 10 hits off Ford and two relievers, including homers by Don Demeter (his 11th) and Don Wert (his 7th), but never could put a cluster together.

Hank Aguirre, the losing pitcher, allowed six hits and all the Yankees runs in his five innings of work. It was Aguirre's sixth defeat against 10 victories.

The divided doubleheader preserved an odd record between the Tigers and Yankees.

The teams have played three doubleheaders. Each followed the same pattern. Ford won the first game and Sparma the second.

FIRE BLANKS
Sparma's shutout Tuesday night was the 10th of the year against the Yankees. Detroit pitchers now have hurled nine whitewashings.

Dave Wickham (3-0) is to pitch today's twilight game with New York, possibly against Pete Mikelsen (3-7).

If Joe Foss, American Football League commissioner, would do the job expected of him, he'd put an end to the perennial nonsense between Cookie Gilchrist and the teams in his league. Gilchrist has been the bad boy of professional football and the poorest representative of any form of athletics since he went from high school in Western Pennsylvania right into pro football.

Granted he has great football ability, probably more instinctive than rational, but as ambassador for the game, he has been a disgrace, discredit and a disgusting example.

He went from Har-Brack High School (his writer's Alma-Mater) as a junior into the Cleveland Browns' training camp. He left the NFL camp and admitted it was impossible to make the team from prep ranks into the pros.

He started his pro football career in a smaller Canadian circuit and then moved into the Canadian Professional League where he made his mark on the gridiron.

BLACK MARKS

But he also left a bagful of black marks on police blotters, court calendars and in the front offices of the Canadian clubs. He was the highest paid player in the league, filed for bankruptcy and squandered his money in ventures that called for the business tact of a 4th grader and his piggy bank.

The Buffalo Bills obtained his football contract three years ago and found he was as good as a sideshow for luring crowds into the stadium as he was on the gridiron.

Buffalo coach Lou Saban was actually too generous in keeping the many stories about his football problem close as quiet as he did.

He even put Gilchrist on waivers amidst a 10 game winning streak for open defiance in front of the Bills' players on the field.

After a rehearsal of what to say, Cookie apologized to the players and the coach, but after Buffalo's championship last season, the bosses knew they were asking for trouble by keeping him around.

They traded him to Denver. He made it clear he wasn't going to go to Denver and went to the Oakland club. Now the trouble has shifted to Denver where Gilchrist says the club intimidated him into signing a $37,500 a year contract.

WONT PLAY
Five days of training camp went by and Cookie wasn't to be found. Denver has threatened him with a $400,000 breach of contract suit.

Gilchrist said, "I never intended to play for Denver. I if they try to make me apologize, I won't play."

Denver coach Mac Speedie replied that if Cookie doesn't apologize he won't make the team and adds, "This isn't a personal thing."

The last phrase is the half-truth of the whole career of Cookie Gilchrist.

It is a personal thing for Gilchrist and it SHOULD be for Denver, the AFL Commissioner Foss. Football is the only thing Gilchrist knows and when he says he was "intimidated to sign a $37,500 contract," he personally insults the ethical values of the AFL.

Why let him retire? Foss ought to put an end to the Clayton attitude of "I'm the greatest," by retiring him from football for good. . . that is of course if Foss puts any value in ethics himself.

Hicks Hurls Softball Win

Spencer Forces Playoff

A three-hitter by Floyd Hicks in the season finale carried Spencer Floors to an 11-0 decision over Town & Country last night in the Pontiac American League softball action and boosted the winners into a tie for 300 Bowl for the loop lead.

Spencer and 300 Bowl own 15-3 records and they will battle it out tomorrow for the league championship in a playoff game at Beaudette Park at 7 p.m.

Hicks struck out six and walked three batters in keeping Town & Country 11-0 under control. He gave up a double in the first inning, a single in the second and another two-bagger in the fifth.

Hicks also helped himself with the bat. He slammed a two-run single in the second inning and collected a double in the five-run fourth inning.

Third baseman Fred Calleja also collected two hits, both singles in the fourth and fifth innings.

In Waterford Township action, Bill DeRousse tossed a three-hitter and teammate Chuck Steinhelper collected a three-run homer as 400 & Larry (9-8) blanked Duane Bar (9-8), 3-0, and Bob Fraser ran his record to 10-1 in pitching Duane's Sanitary (13-4) to a 10-8 triumph over Haskins Chevrolet (4-13).

Five Golfers Share Honors

Five members shared the honors yesterday in the weekly Tuesday Silver Lake Ladies Golf League results.

Jean Looney had low gross, 46, and Fran Mart's 14 putts were best. The low net flight leaders were Peggy Dorman, 37 in the first flight, Hope Campbell, 37 in the second, and Bea Mobey, 33 in the third.

BALTIMORE UPD—Robin Roberts, one of baseball's great pitchers over the last two decades, is looking for a job today.

The 36-year-old righthander, winner of 278 games in a major league career that started in 1948, was placed on waivers by the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday at his own request.

Roberts had a 5-7 record this season but had started only one game in the last five weeks.

"I enjoy pitching and want to go on," Roberts said. "I had ever planned on being an occasional starter and a long relief man.

"I couldn't in any role, it would be assumed by everybody I'd put in my last year. It's a role I don't care to assume."

Twice before Roberts was let go by teams who considered him washed up.

Roberts, trying to get by with-

start of the 1963 season.

Baltimore took a chance on him, and Roberts obliged with 27 victories and 29 defeats over the next three years.

He won his first four starts this season but then lost seven in a row.

Roberts asked Orioles General Manager Lee MacPhail for his release and MacPhail complied.

HEFTY BASS—John R. Walker, 5335 Drayton, Independence Township, holds the five-pound, 13-ounce largemouth bass he entered in The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby yesterday. The lunker has taken the lead in the Derby's bass division. Walker caught the fish at Lake Oakland Monday night.

Michigan Expert Objects to Gun Bill

LANSING (AP)—A restrictive gun bill now before Congress poses a real threat to the Michigan economy — particularly in the north country — a state game expert has warned.

Dave Arnold, of the Conservation Department game staff, testified recently before the House and Ways and Means Committee at Washington.

Arnold also represented the Association of Midwest Fish, Game and Conservation Commissioners. His views further followed the opinion of the majority of organized sportsmen.

The bill was inspired by the assassination of President Kennedy and also is aimed at preventing firearms from falling into the hands of criminals.

DODD BILL
Arnold protested that the strictness of the measure presently proposed — the so-called Dodd bill — would discriminate against legitimate sportsmen and firearms dealers.

One provision calls for a $100 fee for selling sporting ammunition.

POSSIBLE SNAG
The department is concerned that hunting license sales will sag if it is made too difficult for hunters to obtain arms and ammunition.

Hunter license fees contribute more than $5 million a year to state revenues. The money is earmarked for wildlife management and recreation programs.

Department surveys also show that deer hunters contribute about $30 million a year to the state's economy and small game hunters add another $40 million annually.

Michigan game projects receive about $200,000 a year in

TOURIST DOLLARS
Michigan's reputation as a prime hunting state for deer, as well as small game, has helped attract tourist dollars.

A special season on elk last winter, although open only to Michigan residents, attracted nationwide attention to the state. It will be repeated again this year.

Turkeys will be legal targets for the first time since before the turn of the century during a restricted season this fall. Hunters will be able to go after quail for the first time in many years in a tier of southern counties.

All these programs will suffer, the conservation experts fear, if the federal government makes it tough for legitimate hunters to get guns and ammo.

DEFENDING CHAMPION — Dave Keaggy Jr., 3807 Aquaria, Waterford Township, will defend his National Archery Association senior men's title Aug. 2-6 at Purdue University. He also won in 1963. Over 300 archers are expected to compete.

N.A. Catamaran Races Scheduled on Cass Lake

The Cass Lake Yacht Club enters its busiest period of the season tonight, beginning with its weekly race and continuing through the end of the North American Shearwater Catamaran championships Sunday.

The club will host the event for the second straight year. Last year approximately 20 boats were entered.

Although there is no definite indication on this year's lineup, craft are expected from Florida, Missouri, New York, Ohio, the District of Columbia and Canada, plus the local contingent.

Cass Lake's Ro Redner is the defending champion. All shearwater catamaran sailors are eligible.

An Olympic course will be used. The triangular course requires six legs for completion and tests the sailor in all wind conditions. It will run approximately five miles.

TUNEUP RACE. There will be a tuneup race for the North American event tomorrow night. The regatta officially comprises five races.

The start will be 10:30 a.m. Friday. A 2:30 p.m. race will be run that day also, and a duplicate schedule will be used Saturday. The final point race will be Sunday morning.

Sunday, the Cass Lake club sailors had two of their best races of the season. Redner tuned up for his title defense with a close victory that morning over brother Bob.

The afternoon race was a three-bogt battle that saw the lead change on every turn. Ed Stack won with Chuck Cartwright close behind. Ro Redner settled for third.

The lesson to be learned is simple—when cheap tires are made—they're made cheap by taking things out—weight, rubber, steel, mileage, safety. The only thing you will get more of in a cheapie is groove space.

So the next time one of those "turnpike-safe" $10 fire-crackers is advertised—rush out and buy one if all you're looking for is a bigger hole in your doughnut. But don't look for them here, we don't sell 'em—we like doughnuts with small holes.

Deadline Set for Entering PKC Show

The deadline for entering dogs in the Pontiac Kennel Club's annual All-Breed Show and Obedience Trial is Aug. 10.

Waterford Township High School's football field will be the site of the Aug. 22 show which last year drew a record 739 dogs representing 79 breeds.

The Pontiac Press will present the best-in-show dog with a large trophy.

All entries for the PKC show must be at the Bow Dog Show Organization, 9999 Broadstreet, Detroit, by noon, Aug. 10. Bow will serve as superintendent for the show.

Judges assigned to the show by the American Kennel Club are Rudolph W. Buchmann, Detroit; Herman G. Cox, Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. Edith Nash Hellerman, Severn, Md.; Mrs. A. Alfred LePine, Carrollton, Ohio; Percy Roberts, Newton Heights, Conn.; and Maurice B. Widgerson, Mequon, Wis.

TIRE TALK

But not every tire customer takes a good look at the width of the grooves in that cheapie he's thinking of buying. Groove space is critical in tires. Wide

The lesson to be learned is simple—when cheap tires are made—they're made cheap by taking things out—weight, rubber, steel, mileage, safety. The only thing you will get more of in a cheapie is groove space.

So the next time one of those "turnpike-safe" $10 fire-crackers is advertised—rush out and buy one if all you're looking for is a bigger hole in your doughnut. But don't look for them here, we don't sell 'em—we like doughnuts with small holes.

Kent Lake Attracting More Fishermen

Any time a boat livery has a turnover of 8.75 cents a year, it's pretty safe to assume that the lake must be a fishing hot spot.

This was the story at Kent Lake in 1964.

Now the livery operators are broadcasting a new record for rentals — over 10,000 in 1965. That's a lot of fishermen on any lake.

And the 100 boats at the livery are used almost exclusively by fishermen. Kent Lake is located in Kensington Park south of Milford, and right restrictions cover the use of motors. The speed is 10 miles an hour.

The lake has been producing excellent catches of crappies and black bass. Even the shore fishermen are taking large numbers of crappies. And the bluegills are hitting, too.

Conservation officer Warren Kendall remarked that the crappies are doing everything but jumping in the boats.

PRIVATE BOATS

"This doesn't count bass caught by persons using the launching ramps and fishing in their own boats," said Tom Chapman, an assistant at the livery.

Devig O. Laidlow, park superintendent, attributes much of the gain in the number of anglers to the fact that the Conservation Department removed size and bag limits on fish at the lake.

Two other factors, however, stand out more than the possibility of unlimited catches:

1. The lack of speedboats which tend to make fishermen uncomfortable.

2. Consistently good fishing.

Two years ago, Kent was listed as the third best all-around fishing lake in Oakland County in a survey of fishermen conducted by The Press.

Boat rentals have increased each year since 1961. Through last weekend, a total of 7,000 had been used. And with the summer hot yet two-thirds over, the goal of 10,000 is expected to be reached.

Kensington Park is operated by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

For the second time in less than a week, The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby's bass division has a new leader.

The fish replaces a five-pound, 11-ounce caught last week by Mrs. Louis Livingston at Otter Lake. The pike leader weighs 12 pounds, 12 ounces.

Walker was fishing with his wife, Donna, when the big bass took a nightcrawler harness. The Walkers boated two other bass.

Bluegills have been hitting in about 20 feet of water on Lakeville Lake with crickets being the best bait. Worms are producing good catches of panfish at Stringy Jakes.

Early morning and late evening bass fishermen have been doing well on Lake Orion and Lake Louise.

Lake St. Clair fishing pressure has been moderate with good smallmouth fishing reported off Metropolitan Beach, Selfridge Field, Masonic and 11 Mile roads and Anchor Bay.

Three Rivers Man Hits Archery Mark

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—Two more records have been set at the end of the 56th 1/2-mile field round of the National Field Archery Association Tournament.

For the second day in a row, Dick Roberts of Three Rivers, Mich., has set a new record in men's free-style competition.

He had a combined two-day total of 1,063 points Tuesday to break a record of 1,063 points set last year by defending champion Jack Rudy of Syracuse.

The 27-year-old truck driver broke a record Monday by scoring 547 points in the 24-target field round to surpass the old record of 541 points.

Mrs. Mary Lee Craft of Tabb, Va., compiled 834 points for a new record in the women's bare bow division. The old record of 798 points was set by Jean Carran of St. Louis, Mo., in 1962.

Vast Knowledge to Be Instantly Available

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Educators, planning to cope with the world's exploding body of knowledge, are moving to make all of today's knowledge more readily available to millions of students.

This will be done through centralized research centers equipped with computers, nuclear reactors and accelerators to feed information to distant college laboratories.

Once the system is in operation, a researcher will simply type a query into the information system. The authors will come back by machine in a matter of minutes and consist of a list of recent publications and summaries of articles. At present, it may take days or weeks to obtain such an answer.

The planning for this revolutionary method of disseminating knowledge is being done by the International Communications Council, formed through a $750,000 grant from the Kellogg Foundation. Its executive director is Dr. James G. Miller.

Founders of the organization are the State University of New York, Duke University, the University of California, the University of Illinois, the University of Michigan, the University of Pittsburgh, the University of Rochester and the University of Virginia.

Every college and university in the United States and Canada will be invited to join.

Officials say the council's first activities will probably concern the medical and biological sciences. These areas will be used, since noncomputerized and partially computerized national information centers on these subjects already exist — and the need is acute for rapid, up-to-date information in the prevention and treatment of diseases.

The availability of instant research will, to a degree, offset the inability of small colleges to provide expensive libraries and research equipment. Their libraries will be augmented but not replaced.

Needless duplications of research efforts can be avoided as soon as the information centers can be expanded.

For example, the thousands of independent investigations into methods of teaching reading are not only unavailable to a new researcher in the field, but the time and effort necessary to bring order out of the confused mass of information would be astronomical, even if it were possible under the present setup.

Consequently, each new researcher starts afresh and repeats what probably has been done many times by others.

The recent accelerated interest in compensatory education provides an example of the need for central information centers and better means of disseminating knowledge.

When money became available under the war on poverty program for compensatory education, a rash of pilot programs and research efforts appeared at state and local levels. Many of these were unnecessary. For example, prekindergarten training and ungraded primaries had already been tried out in many communities and proved to be successful.

Had a central information center been in existence, the whole program could have gotten under way promptly, more effectively and more economically.

Jim Jacoby gets his father reminiscing today. He asks: "What is the most interesting ace-queen play you recall?"

Oswald: "It was in the first round of a Spingold Cup Tournament back in the days when sudden death matches were played. Margaret Wagar of Atlanta opened one spade and found herself in a grand slam contract after the bidding shown in the box."

Jim: "A very poor contract when you look at all the cards but there certainly was tremendous duplication between the North and South hands and while Mrs. Wagar did make a slight overbid, it is hard to find any serious criticism of her grand slam bid."

Oswald: "Mrs. Wagar, one of the two or three greatest women players of all time, managed to make the hand. She ruffed the opening diamond in her own

Bill Will Help States in Immunizing Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government would help pay for immunizing young children against five diseases under legislation awaiting President Johnson's signature.

The House completed congressional action Tuesday on a bill providing grants up to $33 million to the states over a three-year period for immunization against polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and measles. Most of the shots would be administered to preschool children.

Draft Calls to Be Doubled—Johnson

GM Earnings, Sales Climb to New Highs

Profits for First Half Are More Than Any Firm in Like Period

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. earned more money in the first half of 1965 than any other company in a like period.

The world's largest manufacturing concern set records for profits, unit and dollar sales, dividends and employment.

GM earned $1,275,000,000, or $4.45 a share, in the first six months of this year, compared with $1,135,000,000, or $3.96 a share, in the 1964 first half.

Sales climbed to $11,215,000,000 from $9,869,000,000.

In the second quarter, the auto maker's profits totaled $639 million, or $2.25 a share, against $602 million, or $2.11 a share, in the comparable 1964 period.

SALES UP
First half sales rose to $11,215,000,000 from $9,869,000,000. The company paid common stock dividends of $1.50 a share in the second quarter and $2.25 in the first half. A year earlier payments were $1.15 and $1.80.

GM's worldwide factories sold 4,056,000 cars and trucks in the first half, a gain of 11 per cent over 1964. Second quarter sales totaled 2,036,000 units, an increase of 9 per cent.

Employment averaged 741,000 in the first six months and 744,065 in the second quarter.

HIGH LEVEL
Chairman Frederick Donner and President James M. Roche said there were many reasons why the high rate of economic activity is being translated into a high level of car sales.

"One of the most important," they said, "has been the steady increase in consumer incomes over the past seven-year period during which car prices have remained unchanged."

They added that the recent reduction in the excise tax on cars should further stimulate demand.

VEHICLE SALES
In the first six months vehicle sales totaled 4,056,000 units, an increase of 11 per cent over the 1964 first half.

A New Concept

OCC to Use Tutorial Teaching

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles on Oakland County's projected community college.)

By LY GARY THORNE
Charter class members of Oakland Community College (OCC) will participate this fall in an innovation that could radically change the business of higher education.

Opening the doors of two campuses Sept. 7 to 3,000 students, OCC will begin operations committed to a new concept of teaching. The technique will be new to teachers, students and parents.

Students, most of them fresh from area high schools, will discover that the college's tutorial method of learning is a sharp departure from the traditional lecture approach.

The tutorial method is defined as supervised, self-instruction. The plan emphasizes maximum contact between student and teacher.

College officials state that the lecture method will not be entirely abandoned, but will be incorporated into the plan and used in the form of weekly "assembly" sessions for each course.

CEASE TO EXIST
Old-type classrooms generally will not exist at either the Auburn Hills or Highland Lakes campuses.

Instead, the college will substitute tutorial laboratories made up of individual study carrels.

Study carrels are three-sided booth structures housing a desk area equipped with devices, such as a small movie projector, tape recorder or slide projector, for individual study.

Instructors in various courses will be on duty in the laboratories, enabling the student to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

How You Apply for Medicare Benefits

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth part of a 12-part series from the new book "How to Protect Yourself on the Streets and in Your Home" by Gene Accas and John H. Eckstein.)

Here are some tips on what to do if attacked. To begin with — scream. Yell at the top of your voice and keep on yelling as long as you have to.

Try to get away from your attacker if you possibly can. Run and keep running.

If you have to run, don't try to do it in high heels. They are wobbly and unstable, and the heel can become caught in cracks of sidewalks, gratings, and so on. If you have to run, kick your shoes off!

Better still, slip your high-heeled shoes off and use one of them as a weapon. Grasp the shoe at the toe and use it like a club, hitting with the heel. Aim especially at the attacker's face.

FACE ASSAILANT
If you cannot get away, turn and keep your assailant and face yelling.

Use the weapon you have chosen previously. (Use it as if you meant it; don't be chicken-hearted.) Jab, slash, cut, and gouge. Try to hurt your assailant, to mark him.

Remember, choosing a weapon and practicing with it is something you must do immediately, before you are actually in danger.

If you don't have a weapon, use one of the self-defense methods described in "How to Protect Yourself." Again, you should select a few of these techniques now — and work on them. (Either with a friend or have professional instruction.)

Remember, everything you do between the time you read this book and the time you find yourself in a personally dangerous situation will reduce the chances of your being attacked.

Woman Passenger in Poor Condition

A Troy man was killed early this morning when the car he was driving ran off Dixie Highway north of the I-75 interchange and rolled over six times.

Oakland Highway Toll in '65 95
Last Year to Date 103

Newtown W. Krebich, 41, 6306 Norton, was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Lucille Hartwig, 49, of 3739 Minton, Orion Township, a passenger in the car and Krebich's former wife, is listed in poor condition at the hospital with multiple fractures.

The vehicle rolled end over end and stopped 600 feet from the point at which it left the road, police said.

The accident occurred at 3 a.m. in Springfield Township.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that monthly draft calls will be more than doubled — from 17,000 to 35,000 — in order to help increase the U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

Johnson, reporting to the nation on Viet Nam policy, talks, told a news conference that "additional forces will be needed later and they will be sent."

But he said he has concluded there is no need at this time to mobilize Reserve units or call any National Guard forces to active duty.

"If that necessity should later be indicated," he said, "I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due and adequate notice before acting."

Expressing American determination in Viet Nam, Johnson said:

"We will not surrender. And we will not retreat."

CARRIED BY MEDIA
The news conference was held in the East Room of the White House, and was carried by radio and television.

As he has many times before, the President spoke of eagerness to promote peace in Southeast Asia, and he announced an initial assignment for Arthur J. Goldberg, the new U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

"I have directed Ambassador Goldberg to go to New York immediately and to present to the secretary general a letter from me requesting that all the resources, energy and immense prestige of the United Nations be employed to find ways to halt aggression and bring peace in Viet Nam," Johnson said.

Speaking of his own dreams

See Analysis, Page A-10

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. planes made their first announced direct attack on North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today.

They strafed an advancing Communist unit to protect a downed pilot until he could be lifted to safety by helicopter.

The action, 65 miles north of the border, followed by 24 hours the first American aerial strikes at Soviet-supplied missile bases in the Hanoi area.

Military spokesmen said five U.S. Air Force F105 fighters were lost on the strikes yesterday, which pilots reported destroyed one missile site and damaged another about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The spokesman said three of the jets were shot down by conventional ground fire and two others crashed after colliding near their home base as they returned from the raids.

Planes involved in the action against the North Vietnamese troops were Navy fighter-bombers from the carrier Midway, a spokesman said.

PILOT PARACHUTED
Newsmen were told mechanical trouble forced down a Navy A4 Skyhawk during raids on a group of bridges. The pilot parachuted.

North Vietnamese soldiers moved up a hill toward the plane but were held off by rocket and cannon fire of half a dozen Navy Skyraiders, the spokesman said.

Casualties, if any, among the North Vietnamese were not determined.

A U.S. Air Force F4J helicopter picked up the pilot. He was reported to be in good condition.

MILITARY TARGETS
American and South Vietnamese air raids into the North have been aimed against such military targets as radar installations, barracks, fields, supply depots and transport facilities rather than personnel.

U. S. Marines and Vietnamese troops joined in a sweep under guerrilla fire through flooded rice paddies in mid-south of Da Nang in an attempt to smash Viet Cong forces estimated to total three battalions.

They overran the village of Duc An in a sweep toward the sea from a helicopter landing zone inland.

The Marines killed 12 Viet Cong and captured three wounded in the operating phase. Vietnamese, operating two miles away, killed five. Both American and Vietnamese casualties were termed light.

as President, Johnson said he wants to promote education, equal opportunity, better housing and improved health.

'RAVAGES OF WAR'
"And I do not want to see all those hopes — the dreams of so many people for so many years — ground in the wasteful ravages of war."

Johnson pledged that "I will do all I can so that never happens."

The President opened the news conference by reading a statement that grew out of a week of policy talks on Viet Nam.

He noted that "15 efforts have been made to start discussions" with the Communists aimed at peace — all without response.

'WILL PERSIST'
"But we will persist, if persist we must," he said, "until death and desolation have led to the same conference table where others could now join us at so much smaller cost."

Johnson said his first goal in Viet Nam is to "convince the Communists that we cannot be defeated by force of arms."

In a key passage on the dispatch of increased American manpower to the jungle war, the President said:

"I have today ordered to Viet Nam the Air Mobile Division, and certain other forces which will raise our fighting strength from 75,000 to 125,000 men. Additional forces will be needed later, and they will be sent."

"This will make it necessary to increase our active fighting forces by raising the monthly draft call from 17,000 — which it now is — to 35,000; and stepping up our campaign for voluntary enlistments."

MUCH SPECULATION
In advance of the conference, there had been much speculation about a possible goal of 200,000 men in Viet Nam and an order for the master of Reserve units and National Guard units.

"After this past week of deliberations," Johnson said, "I have concluded it is not essential to order Reserve units into service. If that necessity should later be indicated, I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due and adequate notice before acting."

Johnson made only a passing reference to the mounting cost of the war in Viet Nam.

He said that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee to add a limited amount to present legislation to help meet part of this new cost."

Johnson indicated that a supplemental defense appropriation measure, involving more money, would be sent to Congress next January.

"These steps, like our actions in the past," he said, "were carefully measured to do what must be done to bring about an end to aggression and a peaceful settlement."

"We do not want an expanding struggle, with consequences no one can foresee. Nor will we bolster or bully or flaunt our power."

"But we will not surrender. And we will not retreat."

He said that pledge is backed by "the determination and resources of the American nation."

Johnson went on to predict that "once the Communists know, as we know, that a violent solution is impossible, then a peaceful solution will be inevitable."

The Communist aim, he said, "is to conquer the South, defeat American power and extend the Asiatic dominion of communism."

Teen Breaks Right Arm That Made Medical '1st'

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical history.

The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully reimplanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm.

The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation reexamined the arm.

They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from the

Arraign Lum Man in Last Month's Slaying of Coed

Kenneth R. Cooke of Lum stood mute yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court in a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying of an Oxford Township coed last month.

The 26-year-old Lapeer County man is accused of killing Barbara K. Hodges, 23, of 645 Sec. 8, on June 23.

Cooke was returned to the Oakland County Jail to await trial. He was arraigned before Judge Philip Pratt. No trial date was set.

Sheriff's Department detectives said that Cooke admitted the crime after he had first told them that a hitchhiker was responsible.

Miss Hodges, a junior at Central Michigan University, was beaten and shot to death on Durand Road, about two miles north of Oxford Village.

BACHELOR WED — When 32-year-old Gene Ryeson of Ryeson's Market, 4678 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, deserted the ranks of bachelorhood, his brother and business partner, Steve, announced the wedding in this fashion on the store's front window. Gene married Bonnie Bayley of 5900 Walnut Lake, West Bloomfield Township, Sunday evening at St. George's Roman Catholic Church.

How to Apply for Cash Benefits

Obscene reading matter is a favorite habit of the degenerate. If the authorities can run down the source and trace the material, they may be able to rid the community of danger before it starts.

Know your date. Don't go out on "blind dates" unless another couple is along, and even then be cautious.

If someone phones and says he's a friend of Jack Jones, tell him you'd be glad to have Jack Jones introduce him.

DANGER SPOT

Stay out of "Lovers' Lanes." It's natural to want to be alone with your date, but experience shows that "Lovers' Lanes" are favorite haunts of sex criminals.

Don't wander away alone from the crowd at picnics and outings. Stay within calling distance.

Sex criminals are easily attracted to any group of young people, and given an opportunity, they can strike with frightening speed.

Don't ask for trouble. Dress sensibly. Provocative clothing may attract the attention of a potential sex criminal.

CIVIL BUT WARY

Be civil to strangers who ask directions, but never go part way with them.

The "directions" trick is a favorite among sex criminals. They count on the natural helpfulness of young people.

Never, never hitchhike, and never, never pick up a hitchhiker!

Be very careful about accepting work from a stranger. This is another insidious dodge. Always make sure that the person is a respectable businessman.

Don't go about the house half-dressed. This may seem harmless, but it's an invitation to "Peeping Toms," who may later become something more dangerous.

Cleric's Teen Sex Proposal Angers Farmington Residents

FARMINGTON (AP) — A clergyman's proposal that teenagers, with parental consent, be permitted to live together as if they were married has enraged some residents of this Detroit suburb.

In a newspaper guest column, the Rev. Robert M. Eddy advocated that the state "not forbid or punish voluntary pre-marital intercourse between persons over the legal age of consent."

The Rev. Mr. Eddy, pastor of the Universatist Unitarian Church, said the state should place no restrictions on the freedom of individuals to have intercourse though at the same time it should set an age below which conception would be illegal.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy wrote the column in the Detroit Free Press of May 1.

At a meeting of the Farmington Township Board of Supervisors this week, 30 citizens demanded the Rev. Mr. Eddy's removal as chairman of the township's youth guidance committee. The board refused to allocate $1,300 to finance committee projects.

Supervisor Curtis Hall called the pastor's views "a real shocker for a man of the cloth" and said the committee money is being withheld pending board approval of members of the committee.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy has been committee chairman since April.

"The citizens took exception to his views and they protested the expenditure of money on a committee which he heads."

Metro Study Starts Monday

Other participating counties are Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe.

Joining with the counties in underwriting the cost of the study are the City of Detroit, the Metropolitan Fund Inc. and the Michigan State Highway Commission.

Others are the U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Public Roads and the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

He's No Stool Pigeon

NIJVERDAL, Holland (UPI) — A homing pigeon released two years ago for a seven-mile flight returned to its coop this week. There was no indication where it had been since July 1963.

Similar Amount

The county is expected to contribute a similar amount for the balance of the study, Rubin said.

You'll also note that some of the "tips" apply only to girls. But remember again, every boy has a sister or a girlfriend who needs his protection and advice, so he should study the whole list too.

TEN KEY RULES

In any case, these are the ten rules that, in my judgment and experience, are the most important.

If any stranger, or even a slight acquaintance, makes improper advances, tell your parents immediately.

Young people are too often kind-hearted about such things. They dislike the idea of getting an offender into "trouble." Just remember that if you don't report him, he'll probably get into worse trouble later on, to say nothing of the harm he may cause.

STAY ON ALERT

If you know of any pornographic pictures or literature being passed around, notify your parents immediately.

Talks Planned on State Issues

Summer Meeting Is Set for Legislators

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators return to the capitol Thursday and Friday for a mid-summer discussion of judicial appointments and three other issues.

The other three issues are: —Should any of Gov. George Romney's 23 vetoes be overridden? —Can a highway sign law palatable to commercial interests, scenery defenders and the U. S. government be adopted? —What's on tap for the fall fiscal reform session?

THE JUDICIAL FOGGED

The judicial appointment question has been fogged since last week's announcement by Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley that they support a constitutional amendment giving appointment power to the governor.

At the time, it was indicated legislative leaders were in agreement on the plan to approve the amendment this week and present it to the voters in a special November election for ratification.

But House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and senate majority leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, say they weren't consulted and aren't necessarily ready to go along with the plan.

The new constitution requires judicial vacancies to be filled by retired judges pending special elections. The proposed amendment would give the governor power to fill all vacancies—including those occurring upon the retirement of judges at the end of their terms.

FIRST ELECTION

Each future judge would be in office by gubernatorial appointment for at least 18 months before facing his first election.

There has been general support for an amendment since a shortage of retired judges made the present constitutional provision unworkable.

But Dzendzel said gubernatorial appointments would be confined to seats becoming vacant in mid-term and to new seats.

Art Academy President at Cranbrook to Retire

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Zoltan Sepeshy, president of Cranbrook Academy of Art since 1960, will retire next year.

The internationally acclaimed painter in tempera has been associated with the Bloomfield Hills institution since 1931.

His retirement will become effective June 30, 1966.

The announcement prompted Ernest A. Jones, chairman of the school's board of trustees, to make this tribute: "He was a major force in the prestige and growth of the school both as an artist and as an administrator."

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Following a year's leave of absence, Sepeshy is expected to return to the academy as a painting instructor.

In the meantime, the school will continue its search for a successor to Sepeshy as president of the school.

A native of Hungary, the 67-year-old Sepeshy was educated in numerous European schools before coming to the United States in the 1920s.

He taught briefly at Wayne State University and the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit before establishing residence at Cranbrook.

RESIDENT INSTRUCTOR

In 1932, he was retained as a resident instructor in painting and drawing by the late Eliel Saarinen, the academy's first president.

Saerinen relinquished many of his administrative duties in 1947 and Sepeshy was named director of the school.

Sepeshy helped the school gain its state charter as a degree-granting institution of higher education in the arts and accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

He is acknowledged as an authority on tempera technique, having written a book entitled "Tempera Painting."

ONE-MAN EXHIBITIONS

Over the years, he has had 32 one-man exhibitions in art galleries, museums and universities and has participated in national and international exhibitions in 21 art centers in the U.S. and abroad.

He is a member of the National Academy of Design, National Institute of Arts and Letters and Commission of North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Lawmen Differ on Foster Test

Law enforcement officials were at odds today over the results of a lie detector test taken yesterday by two-time killer Carl F. Foster in connection with a third slaying.

"As far as I'm concerned, any link between Foster and Connie Crossland has been eliminated," said Sheriff's Detective Charles Whitlock. "We won't pursue it further. We ran enough tests to make me believe that there is no tie-in."

Asst. Prosecutor Walter D. Schmier said, however, that he "wasn't entirely satisfied with the findings" and would attempt to talk to Foster again.

Whitlock and his partner Herbert Dally have been assigned to the Crossland case since the 14-year-old Corona girl was found strangled in Orion Township July 18, 1963.

Foster, found guilty July 21 of first degree murder in the slaying of his wife Angela 17 months earlier, had volunteered to take the test at the Redford State Police post.

Foster, 29, already was serving a 10-15 year prison term for manslaughter when he was charged with his wife's death.

Grant OK'd for Training of 100 Nurses

A $291,951 federal grant for training 100 persons as practical nurses in Pontiac was announced yesterday.

The project, under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA), will provide 48 weeks of training leading to licensing as practical nurses.

Of the total amount, $164,640 will go to class members as income allowance during the period of training and the remaining $127,311 is earmarked for training costs at the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center.

The grant will allow formation of two new classes at the center.

NEW CLASSES

New classes of about 50 each are expected to begin in September and December at the center which is administered by the Pontiac Schools' vocational education department.

In announcing the new grant yesterday, Sen. Patrick McNamara and Congressman Bill S. Farnum said that 475,000 trainees have benefited nationally since MDTA was passed in 1962.

Boy Scouts in Gutter

LONDON (UPI) — Five police prowls cars were dispatched to St. Matthews Church yesterday following reports of children clinging to the roof and a man hanging from a high window ledge.

The officers found the church verger and a troop of Boy Scouts cleaning out the gutters.

This theory is that a person learns best when he can be told whether he is right or wrong instantly. Bandwidth poses an answer to a question.

SILENT TWINKLE

OCC officials react to this possibility with a silent twinkle in their eyes, leaving the "yes, it could," unsaid.

Operating on a trimester calendar, the college will offer year-round education.

The first session begins with registration Sept. 2 and ends Dec. 24. The winter session will be Jan. 3 to April 21 and the summer session May 2 to Aug. 22.

Students living in the college district (Oakland County) will be charged $103 tuition for the average class load of 12 credit hours.

Nearly 2,800 students, including about 500 part-time students, have enrolled to date at the two campuses. Registrations are still being accepted, according to college officials.

Most of the course offerings this year will be at the freshman level.

However, some sophomore level courses are set up to accommodate transfer students.

When actual classes are convened at the two converted college sites, OCC will pioneer use of the tutorial plan on a school-wide basis.

There have been some limited experiments with this technique, but no school has completely adopted the approach for its entire education program.

FACE ORAL QUIZ

At the conclusion of the week's lesson, the student will go before the instructor for an oral quiz. Of course, Dr. Tirrell said, the week's work will include so-called homework written papers and library work.

In some courses, such as English or political science, the oral quiz may consist of a discussion session between the instructor and half a dozen students.

College officials feel that the tutorial approach comes closest to the recognized learning theory of a one-to-one relationship of student and teacher with instant feedback.

Use of the tutorial technique

Dial in Handset

New Kind of Phone for Area

A completely new kind of telephone which has the dial in the handset will be introduced in the Pontiac area Monday by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The new telephone, called Triline, will become commercially available throughout Michigan Bell territory that day, and then offered gradually across the nation.

Frederick B. Hunt, Michigan Bell vice president and general manager, said the Triline is designed to make the use of the telephone handset easier.

Its dial-in-the-handset feature eliminates the need to reach for the base when dialing, and makes it possible to have the phone located in places where a standard instrument cannot be installed, according to Hunt.

ANOTHER FEATURE

Another feature of the Triline is its dial tone button.

The set will be offered on an optional basis at a monthly charge of $1.

A press of the button on the handset brings back the dial tone without the need to reach over to the base to hang up before making another call.

In order to build the dial into the handset, Bell Laboratories developed a smaller dial that is easier to see and operate, Hunt said.

It is smaller than the standard size dial because the space be-

FACE LIGHTED

When the telephone is in use, the dial face is lighted by a bulb that is designed to last for years.

The volume of the set's bell can be regulated.

Both wall and desk models will be offered in nine colors.

Hunt said that the wall set is the answer to customer wishes to have telephones installed in out-of-the-way, but convenient, locations like under a kitchen shelf, behind a closet door or in the space between counters.

NEW TELEPHONE — On Monday, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. customers in the Pontiac area will be offered this new wall phone which has the dial in the handset. Because of this feature the phone can be installed in out-of-the-way locations that would be awkward for the standard model.

Library Fines
Addison Twp.

The Oakland County Library Committee yesterday released $304 of penal fines for Addison Township which recently subscribed for service from the nine-library North Oakland Library Contract System (NOLCS).

Based on a formula of 18 cents per resident, the township's penal fine money will be turned over to the NOLCS. Addison, Township's membership in the contract system permits residents of the township to use the services of any of its libraries.

Penal fines collected in communities with no library or library cooperative service are distributed at the discretion of the county library committee.
