OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

In 1957, the late Alfred G. and Matilda Wilson donated $2 million and their 1,470-acre Meadow Brook estate to Michigan State University to establish a college in Oakland County.

Oakland University was founded in 1957 as a branch campus of MSU, with 570 first-year students. By the mid-1960s, it had evolved into a medium-sized university and in 1970 became an independent, state-assisted university. It now offers more than 70 undergraduate programs and more than 30 graduate programs and enrolls about 12,000 students.

OU's distinct instructional programs—the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business Administration, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Education and Human Services and School of Nursing—offers a diverse curricula of general education and career preparation courses. Virtually all of these courses are taught by faculty members, not teaching assistants.

The Honors College, a division of the College of Arts and Sciences, meets the educational needs of highly motivated students. The Division of Continuing Education meets the needs of nontraditional adult learners through evening and extension programs.

Academic support facilities include such notable entities as the Eye Research Institute, the only major eye research center in the United States not affiliated with a medical school; the Meadow Brook Health Enhancement Institute, which provides health maintenance/health improvement and cardiac rehabilitation community outreach programs; and the Center for Robotics and Advanced Automation, a unit of the School of Engineering and Computer Science that utilizes high technology manufacturing methods.

And OU's professional arts programs annually attract thousands to the campus. OU has received national recognition and local kudos for its Meadow Brook Theatre, Meadow Brook Art Gallery, Meadow Brook Hall and Meadow Brook Music Festival. OU is located 25 miles north of Detroit, near the small town of Rochester. OU's modern campus, which houses the university's many academic and public service programs, is located on a beautifully wooded site—much of it still undeveloped.

SANDRA PACKARD

President

Sandra Packard became Oakland University's fourth President on June 15, 1992. Packard came to Oakland from the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, where she was provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs and professor of curriculum and instruction. She held the position for seven years.

At UT-C, Packard was responsible for an annual budget of $27 million. She initiated and raised funds to establish a $3.5 million center for arts education. She co-raised funds for and established nine $1 million endowed faculty chairs of excellence and established the College of Health and Human Services and the School of Social and Community Services. Under her direction, black faculty employment grew by more than 100 percent.

Packard received a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Syracuse University and master's and doctoral degrees in art education from Indiana University. She previously worked at Bowling Green State University and Miami University (Ohio).

PAUL HARTMAN

Athletic Director

Oakland University athletic director Paul Hartman is beginning his 10th year as head of Pioneer athletics. Hartman has taken four different athletic programs to new levels of success in an administrative career that has spanned four decades.

The OU athletic program has flourished under Hartman. Last year the women's swimming team won its third straight national championship, while the men's swimmers finished in the top three nationally for the seventh straight season. OU also had its soccer team earn an NCAA bid for the sixth consecutive year. In 1991-92 the Pioneers had their first-ever All-American in cross country. The 1989-90 season saw three winter teams place in the top four nationally, including the champion women's swimming unit. Those three, men's swimming, women's basketball, and the women's swimmers, won GLIAC titles, and were joined by the soccer team in post-season play. In 1988-89

Oakland equalled its best finish ever in the President's Cup, the all-sports trophy in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Pioneers finished third in the Cup standings with just 10 league sports, and had the highest average of points per sport of any GLIAC school. OU won four GLIAC championships that year, and eight of the 10 league teams finished no lower than third. Men's and women's swimming won league titles and finished in the top three nationally. Women's basketball and women's volleyball also won league crowns, with the hoopsters advancing to the NCAA tournament. Soccer, Oakland's only non-GLIAC sport, was defeated in the national semi-finals.

Hartman has made a number of changes since arriving at OU. The department has brought back a Varsity "O" Club for former athletes, as well as the Oakland 100, a basketball support group. OU has also brought back baseball as a varsity sport, and made a number of improvements in the Lepley Sports Center, ranging from the refurbishing of the locker rooms and equipment area to renovation of offices and playing facilities. The department has also added the Pioneer Lounge, which is used for conferences and athletic receptions.

Previously Hartman had developed additional summer camp programs, created a new season ticket plan, instituted a Hall of Honor for exceptional Pioneer athletes, and introduced the first athletic team banquet.

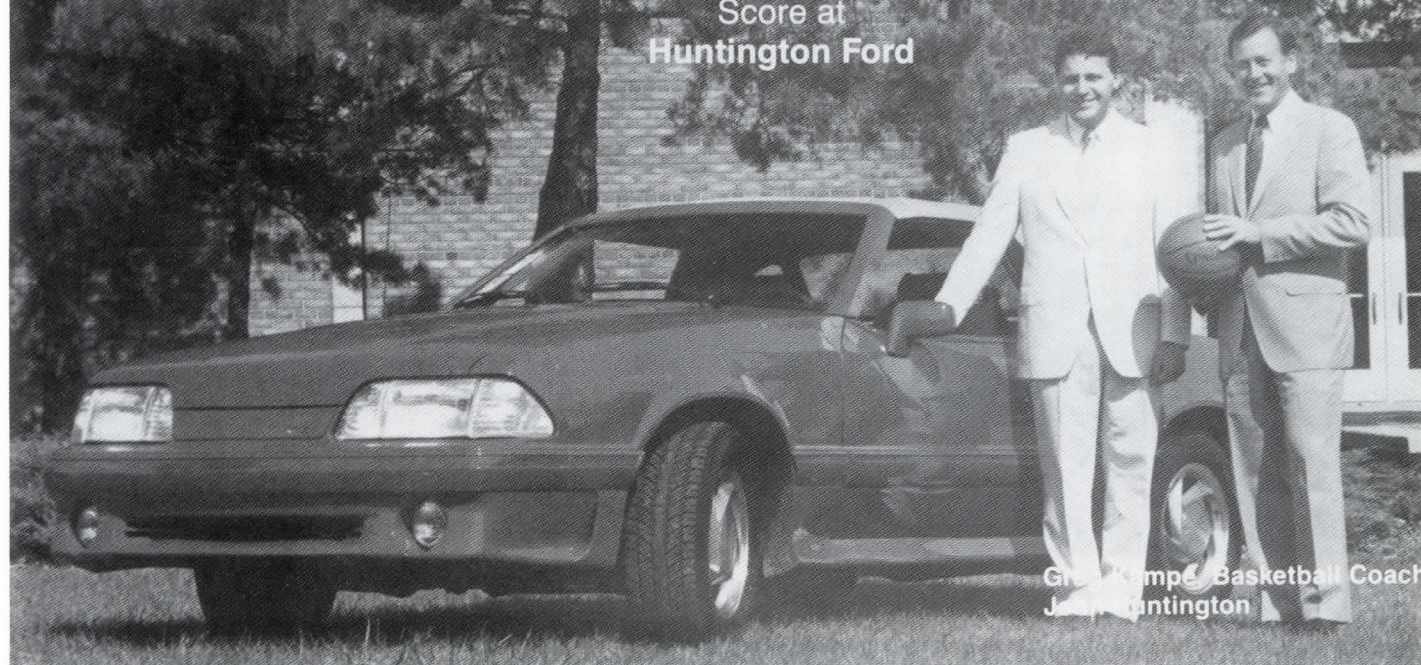

The OU athletic director also made a large impact in his previous posts. At Plymouth State College in New Hampshire, his first post, Hartman started a football program with enthusiastic student support. Fifteen years later, a running back named Joe Dudek put that program on the map with a bid for the Heisman Trophy. In his second post, at Florida International University, Hartman began a women's golf program. One of the first women's scholarship award winners was Pat Bradley, who later became the first $2 million winner on the Ladies' Pro Golf Association tour. Hartman did not begin the basketball program at his next stop, the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, but one of his athletes there, Terry Porter, drew national attention as an NBA draftee from a non-scholarship school, and is now an outstanding point guard for the Portland Trailblazers.

A graduate of Ohio State University and a native of Columbus, Ohio, Hartman lives in Rochester with his wife, Jane. He is the third OU athletic director, succeeding Corey Van Fleet in June of 1983, who followed OU's founding father of athletics, Hollie Lepley.

MEET THE COACHES

GREG KAMPE

Head Basketball Coach/Assistant to the Athletic Director

When Greg Kampe arrived at Oakland University to take over the men's basketball program eight years ago, his goal was a modest one — make the Pioneers a consistent winner and a GLIAC contender. It wasn't a small task by any means, considering OU's less than outstanding history in men's hoop. In the last six seasons, that goal has been achieved. OU has gone 110-60 in the last six years, including its first two 20-win seasons, and has finished third in the GLIAC in three of those campaigns, its highest finish ever. With credibility on the court a reality, Kampe has now set his sights on bigger targets, like a league title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. Both would be firsts for an OU men's basketball squad.

Kampe has also added credibility to the OU program in the classroom, something he takes great pride in. Last season Lee Fitzpatrick and Tom Eller kept alive OU's streak of having a player on the Academic All-GLIAC team every year of Kampe's tenure. Three years ago Brian Gregory earned an NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship and third-team Academic All-America honors, and was one of two Pioneers on the Academic All-GLIAC squad. Four seasons ago John Henderson was an All-GLIAC honoree for his performance both on the court and in the classroom. He also became an Academic All-District winner and Academic All-America candidate during Kampe's tenure, as did Robb Skinner, an Academic All-American candidate in 1985-86. Scott Bittinger was GLIAC Player of the Year in 1987-88 and an Academic All-GLIAC choice the same year. In the last six years 35 percent of the nominees for Academic All-GLIAC and eight first team selections were Oakland basketball players.

"We're committed to doing things the right way," Kampe said. "We want good athletes who are also good students. This year's recruiting class is a good example of that. It is by far the most decorated class we have ever brought in, and the lowest grade point average among them is 3.50."

Kampe came to OU from a program that has a long history of combining athletic and academic excellence. The Pioneer coach spent six years as an assistant coach at the University of Toledo before coming to OU. During Kampe's six years at Toledo, the Rockets captured three Mid-American Conference (MAC) basketball championships and compiled a 117-57 overall record. The school earned two NCAA tournament bids and one to the NIT. Academically, 91 percent of Toledo's basketball players earned bachelor's degrees, 33 percent of those continuing to earn graduate degrees.

Kampe is a 1978 graduate of Bowling Green State University with a bachelor's degree in business and journalism. He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Toledo before accepting the full-time assistant coach's position in 1979. He earned a Master of Arts degree in physical education while at Toledo.

Kampe personally combined excellence as an athlete and in the classroom in college. He is the only athlete in MAC history to earn first team All-Academic honors in both football and basketball. He earned dean's list honors with a 3.40 grade point average at BGSU, and received the President's Award as an outstanding senior student.

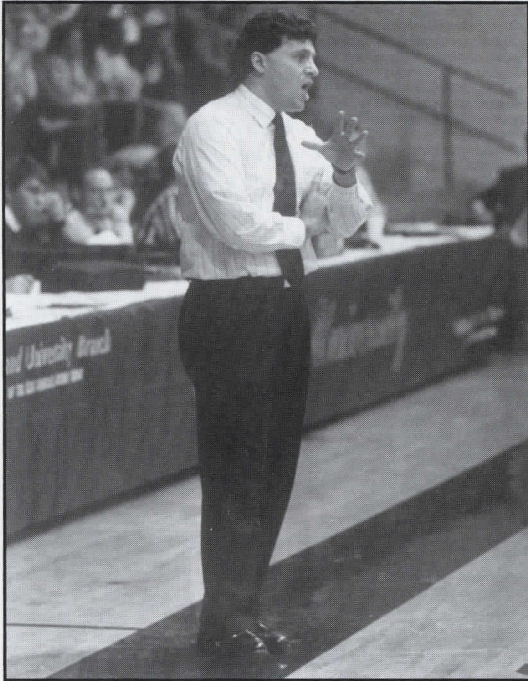

His father, Kurt, was a guard on the University of Michigan's 1947 Rose Bowl championship team which went 10-0. Brother Kurt Jr., was a two-year letterwinner for the Wolverines in 1974 and 1975. The 36-year-old Kampe lives in Rochester with his wife, Susan, their six-year-old son, Keith, and their infant son Branch born on October 28.

QUOTING COACH KAMPE

THIS IS YOUR NINTH YEAR AS HEAD COACH AT OAKLAND. HOW ARE YOU DIFFERENT FROM YOUR FIRST YEAR?
I believe I'm more patient. I'm not in such a hurry for everything to be perfect. It's easier to coach now than it was then because we are established. We are happy and content with what we are at Oakland. When I got here I was in a hurry to turn things around and I lacked patience.

HOW IS THE PROGRAM DIFFERENT?
The atmosphere of the program is different. When you play in this program there are expectations now that didn't exist then. We were trying to build tradition and talked about what we wanted to be in the past. We haven't reached all of our goals, but we are a consistent GLIAC contender and we are the only team in the league that hasn't had a losing record the past six years.

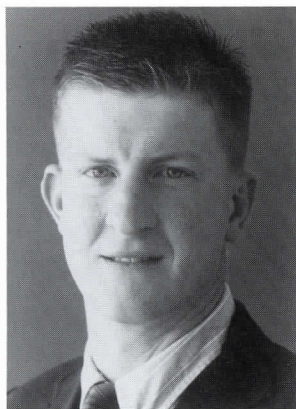

HOW HAS THE UNIVERSITY CHANGED?
Just as the program has grown, the university itself has paralleled that growth. Our attendance and booster club membership goes up every year. People are disappointed that we only won 16 games last year. Nine years ago if we won 16 games people would be talking about how good the basketball team was.

HOW DO YOU SEE THE GLIAC AS A NATIONALLY COMPETITIVE LEAGUE ON THE DIVISION II LEVEL?
Last year the league was the best it has ever been, and this year we are going to be even better. We have reached a level, as a league, where we can compete from top to bottom. I've always thought our top two or three teams could compete, but now I think one through seven or eight are very strong. Our record against the Great Lakes Valley Conference, considered the top Division II conference in the country, was 7-4. The league has won at Kentucky Wesleyan and Ashland, something we couldn't do in the past.

STAYING ON THE SUBJECT OF THE GLIAC, YOU WERE A BIG BOOSTER OF THE GLIAC TOURNAMENT BEFORE IT BEGAN. HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT IT NOW?
It has turned out to be everything that the people who fought for it said it could be. We felt that if our league champion was beaten in the tournament, we would get two teams in, and sure enough that's what happened last year. The people that fought for the tournament should have a smile on their face because it's the best thing to happen to the GLIAC in my eight years, and coaches who have been in the league longer have said the same thing.

HOW DO YOU VIEW THE GLIAC RACE THIS YEAR?
I think that seven of the nine teams have legitimate shots to win it. The other two are big question marks because of the number of new players they have, and that's Oakland and Lake Superior. I don't know what Lake Superior has and nobody knows what I have because I don't even know what I have.

IF YOU COULD PICK THE BRAIN OF ONE COACH ON ANY LEVEL IN THIS COUNTRY, WHO WOULD IT BE AND WHY?
I think that Bobby Knight, as a coach, does it the way it's supposed to be done. He analyzes, he disciplines, he gets his players to play the game the way it's supposed to be played. He can watch a game, figure out what's going on, and do things to affect the game. If I could find out how he does that, that would be more important than any X's and O's. There are a lot of things, philosophically, that coach Knight and I differ on, but there are a number of things we agree on.

ERIC STEPHAN

Assistant Coach

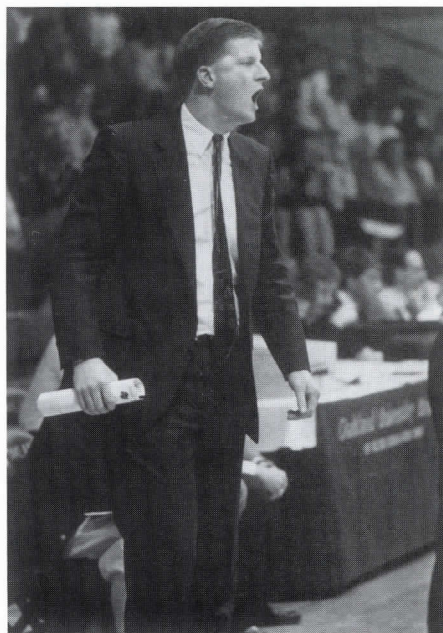

Eric Stephan is in his sixth year as an assistant coach on the OU staff and his second year as Greg Kampe's top aide after spending two years as the graduate assistant at Oakland. His duties include recruiting, scouting, academic advising, and practice work. He was a major factor in securing OU's great recruiting class.

"It's an outstanding class for Oakland in two ways," Stephan said. "They are all excellent students, all carrying grade point averages of 3.5 or better in high school, and three of them were first team All-Staters. For OU they represent the perfect blend of scholar and athlete."

Stephan was a four-year letter-winner at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wisconsin. He started as a senior, averaging five points and seven boards per contest. His high game of 19 points and 15 rebounds came against Concordia-Mequeon. Stephan earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Carthage, where he was also Chairman of the President's Advisory Committee and President of the Student Activities Board.

Stephan is a camp veteran, having worked three years at the Metro Index Basketball Camp, as well as at camps at Penn State and James Madison Universities. Stephan, a member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches and the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan, has also worked both the OU and Isiah Thomas Basketball Camps at Oakland.

A four-year basketball letterman at Berkley High School, the 28-year-old Stephan is single and lives in Auburn Hills.

CLARK PLICHTA

Assistant Coach

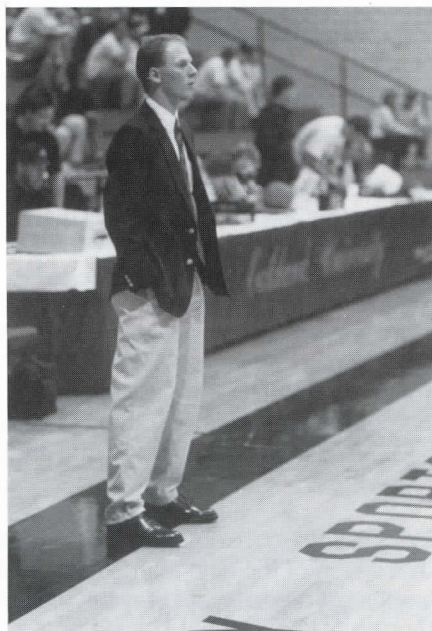

Clark Plichta is in his second year on the OU basketball staff as an assistant coach. Plichta's responsibilities will include recruiting, scouting, and practice work.

Plichta's previous coaching experience consists of one-year stints as an assistant coach at both Muskegon Community College and Nazareth College.

He was an assistant at Nazareth in 1991 after playing for the Moles for two seasons. Prior to that he coached for one year and played for two at Muskegon CC.

Plichta served as team captain during his senior year at Nazareth, and was a part of the Muskegon CC team that advanced to the state finals. A 1990 graduate of Nazareth with a Bachelor of Arts degree in elementary education, Plichta was a third-team All-State selection as a prep senior at Ravenna High School.

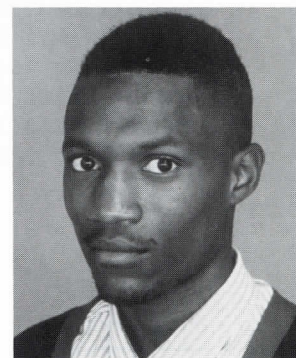

The 25-year old Plichta has worked camps at Western Michigan, as well as the Chuck Daly camp at Oakland University. He is single and lives in Pontiac.

MICHAEL SMITH

Manager

Michael Smith is in his second year with the Oakland basketball program, his first as head manager. Smith is a native of Detroit and a graduate of Cody High School. He is 20 years old and majors in communications.

MEET THE PIONEERS

WHO ARE THOSE GUYS?

After robbing the Union-Pacific Flyer for the second time, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid were tirelessly pursued by a posse led by the legendary Lord Baltimore. The posse tracked the leaders of the Hole In The Wall Gang through wooded trails, through sand, over water, and over rock. The pair of outlaws had never been so relentlessly chased. After hours of riding over rock, only to see the posse still on their tail over the horizon, Butch turned to Sundance and said, "WHO ARE THOSE GUYS?"

With nine new players on the 13-man roster, the GLIAC may be asking the same thing about the Oakland University men's basketball unit this year. With the talent on OU's 1992-93 squad, their meaning may be identical to Cassidy's, as the Pioneers begin their pursuit of a first ever GLIAC Championship.

For now the questions will be about exactly how good the Pioneers are. Don't ask Greg Kampe. The ninth-year coach is as in the dark as everyone else about this version of the Oakland men's basketball team.

"Nobody knows what I have because I don't even know what I have," Kampe said.

Kampe has four returnees, three juniors and a sophomore. Two of the juniors have started the last two years. He also has four Division I transfers, including a legitimate inside scoring threat, and five freshman who comprise the most decorated class of college rookies ever at Oakland.

The returning starters are 6-7 forward Tom Eller and 6-1 guard Ty McGregor. Eller was an honorable mention All-GLIAC choice last year, averaging 15.1 points and 7.5 boards. Eller was slowed by an ankle injury late in the year, but showed marked improvement from his solid freshman year. McGregor did the same, averaging 10.2 points per contest. The hustling guard was among the national leaders in three-point accuracy for the better part of the season. The duo should reclaim their starting spots.

The Pioneers other returnees are 6-7 junior Ken Crum and 6-2 sophomore Chris Wasilk. Crum averaged 5.5 points and 3.1 rebounds as a soph, and may be moved inside this year. Wasilk saw limited time after walking on to the OU squad last year, but a summer's worth of substantial improvement has seen his stock rise. He will be in the running for back court time this year.

Included in OU's four Division I transfers is a solid big man in 6-8 Dennis Kann. Kann transferred to OU from Central Michigan for his senior year. He and McGregor were prep teammates at Mio Au-Sable High School. Kann started 30 times in his three years as a Chippewa, and averaged six points and 3.3 boards at CMU. Another inside scoring threat from the Division I ranks is Rick Taylor, who like Kann is 6-8. Taylor played for two years at the University of Detroit, but has had three years off. He will likely be Kann's back-up in the middle. Another transfer with two years of eligibility left is Jeff Plank, a 6-4 forward who comes to OU from Northern Arizona University. Plank spent two years as a part-time starter and sixth man for the Big Sky Conference program, averaging six points per game. A junior from Bullhead City, Arizona, Plank will also be playing baseball at Oakland. The fourth Division I transfer is 6-4 sophomore swingman Bryan Borchardt. Borchardt was an All-State selection from Maumee High School in Ohio before going to Youngstown State. He averaged 3.5 points per game as a Penguin, starting six times.

"The only sure starters are Eller, McGregor, and Kann," Kampe said. "Eller and McGregor are returning starters and Kann will get every opportunity to play. You don't bring in a player for one year unless you plan on playing him."

OU's freshman class has turned a lot of heads, and Matt Stuck, a 6-5 forward from Manton, has turned the most. Stuck was a three-time All-State selection in basketball, and also earned All-State laurels in baseball and football. He placed fourth in the state's Mr. Basketball voting and had Division I opportunities before deciding on Oakland. He is the fifth all-time scorer in state history. Jason Burkholder, a 6-6 1/2 forward from Blissfield, earned a pair of All-State selections in basketball, and another in baseball after helping his team to the state title. He averaged 20.5 points and 10 boards as a senior. Andy Brodi is a 6-1 guard from Utica Ford who will battle for backcourt time. Like Burkholder, Brodi was a two-time All-State honoree, and averaged 22 points as a senior. Kampe also secured the state's basketball prep Scholar Athlete of the Year in 6-6 1/2 Craig Frohock of Mt. Clemens L'Anse Creuse. Frohock was an honorable mention All-Stater who averaged 22 points and 11.4 boards during his senior year. The lowest prep GPA among OU's four recruited freshmen is 3.50. Oakland's fifth freshman is Dan Buza, a walk-on from Sterling Heights Stevenson. Buza, a 6-5 forward, averaged over 20 points as a senior and earned All-County honors.

"We're bigger and stronger than we have ever been," Kampe said. "We should be able to score inside. With Kann, Eller, Taylor, Burkholder, and Stuck, we have some very large bodies who are skilled offensively."

Once again Kampe has thrown together a slate to test his Pioneers. Non-league tilts include trips to Division I schools Mississippi and Detroit Mercy. OU has the pleasure of opening up in the road against defending Division III champ Calvin in a tournament that also includes Grand Valley State and Wabash. The Pioneers will also battle Great Lakes Valley Conference foe Lewis, Mercyhurst, and future GLIAC member Northwood Institute during the non-league campaign. Add in 16 games in the GLIAC for the right to play in the league tournament, and Oakland will be tested every time it steps on the floor.

Ty McGregor

"The moving of the start of practice to November 1 will hurt us," Kampe said. "It's scary because we have so many new players. What's really scary is that I have no idea what we are capable of doing."

The Pioneers may be full of question marks now, but those question marks could all turn into exclamation points as the season progresses and everyone finds out who "those guys" are.

DO YOU KNOW WHEN TO SAY WHEN?

Every day, good people all across America enjoy the refreshment of a cold beer or alcoholic beverage. And they do it with good sense.

But, there'll always be a few who don't know the meaning of moderation.

To help educate these people, Anheuser-Busch and your local distributor are proud to have developed "KNOW WHEN TO SAY WHEN." A national campaign to promote greater awareness of the responsibilities associated with drinking.

Anheuser-Busch is proud of the product we brew and sell. We know having a drink in moderation is part of a normal lifestyle for millions of Americans. All it takes is to know when to say when. Because you're the cutoff man.

"You won't believe what she did."

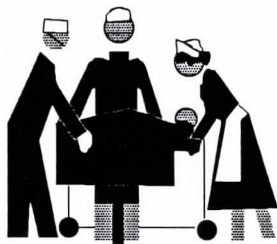

It's embarrassing when you can't remember what you did at a party. If you could remember, though, you'd probably be totally disgusted. The people at the party were.

You're not as cool as you think, when you drink.

The Golden Rule: Drugs aren't cool!

And if you think they are,
then you're just fooling yourself.

They'll destroy your mind,
ruin your health
and drain your bankroll

...or you could get lucky and just die.

It doesn't take a college education to get smart about staying away from drugs.
So wise up and put your foot down.
Drugs are bad news, and anyone with a head on his or her shoulders can figure it out.

You, not drugs, should run your life!
