School Millage-Bond Drive Starts as Adults Picket

By DICK ROBINSON

Sign-carrying adults picketed and paraded around Washington Junior High School last night to protest school conditions.

★ ★ ★

They carried signs saying, "Vote yes twice" and "six and a quarter for your son and your daughter."

They beat a big bass drum, threw streamers, gave a few cheers and sang some songs.

All this hoopla before the PTA Council officially kicked off the Pontiac school millage and bond issue campaign for the March 25 election.

Members of the school Finance Study Council (FSC) and its speakers' bureau asked that school district property owners vote yes on a 6.25-millage increase for operational expenses and on $23-million bond issue for school construction.

The FSC is composed of 90 Pontiac citizens and 32 school administrators who analyzed school needs.

FSC Chairman Francis M. Webster gave a slide presentation, pointing out that it would only cost the average Pontiac resident owner an amount equal to one cup of coffee a day for the millage increase.

Pontiac's public schools are probably entering the most critical five-year period in their history. Major decisions are to be made in the coming months.

These decisions, unlike most, will not be made by school administrators. They will be made by the voters of the Pontiac School District.

News at Glance From Our Wires

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners besieging Khe Sanh shot down a U.S. Air Force C123 transport carrying 49 men near that Marine combat base today, a 7th Air Force spokesman announced. The fate of the men — 5 crewmen and 44 passengers — was not immediately determined.

Barry Changes Tune

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater — joining in Republican pleas for unity after his near-renunciation of Nelson A. Rockefeller — has strongly indicated he could back the New York governor for president. "I've never voted for a Democrat for president yet," Goldwater told a Republican dinner last night. "And if people want to convince me they have changed their spots, I can be convinced."

67 in Jet Feared Dead

POINTE-A-PITRE, Guadeloupe (AP) — Airport authorities today feared there were no survivors from an Air France Boeing 707 jet that crashed and burned on a Guadeloupe mountainside last night. The airline said the plane carried 67 persons — 53 passengers and 14 crew members.

Fair Housing Intact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has narrowly rejected an effort to exempt single-family homes from a civil rights — open housing bill but has crushed a liberal bid to stave off antiriot amendments. The amendment to punch a big hole in the proposed ban on discrimination in the sale or rental of housing was defeated, 48 to 43.

City Fair-Housing Vote Set

By BOB WISLER

The vote on the June election was 5-0 with two abstentions. The vote, however, wasn't an indication of togetherness.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-8, A-9

Commissioners traded mild and not-so-mild insults in discussing whether the issue should be placed before the voters at all, or whether the question should appear on the ballot at the city's general election April 15 or at another time.

The possible political calamity of having to run for reelection on a ballot which would also feature the controversial issue of open housing obviously was a chief factor in deciding on the June date.

Commissioners Robert C. Irwin, District 2; John A. Dugan, District 5; and Wesley J. Wood, District 6—the three-member minority in the decision which passed the open housing ordinance—all spoke strongly against the June election.

DUGAN VOTES 'FOR'

Irwin and Wood abstained in the vote and Dugan went along with the resolution although he said he was doing so only because "I was always for a vote of the people on this."

The open housing ordinance — a discussion point during the fall and winter — was passed by a 4-3 vote Jan. 30, but it never took effect.

Under terms of the city charter a petition stating intent to certify referendum petitions delayed the ordinance's effect pending outcome of any petition drive that would materialize.

The drive did materialize and last Wednesday afternoon when 2,786 signatures were presented, enough signatures were certified to make the petitions valid, according to city officials. This brought the ordinance back to the City Commission.

REPEAL OR BALLOT

The commission, under the charter, was obliged either to repeal the ordinance or call for an election.

A move to repeal the ordinance made by Irwin won only his vote, Dugan's and Wood's. The votes of Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., Leslie H. Hudson, District 4; T. Warren Fowler Sr., District 1; and James H. Marshall, District 7 — the same four who passed the ordinance — defeated the move to repeal.

After further discussion, a motion was made by Taylor to hold the election June 10. The commission was informed by the city clerk that this was the same date as school board elections, so June 24 was picked by Taylor for the referendum election.

Texas Fire Kills 9 ---May Be Arson

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine persons perished in two residential area fires on Houston's east side during the night, and investigators said an arsonist may have started both blazes.

Firemen and police reported a number of bodies were charred beyond recognition.

None of the dead was identified at once.

Both fires occurred in a low income area verging on the industrial district about three miles east of downtown Houston.

★ ★ ★

As the last unit was leaving the scene of the first fire in which one man died, fire Capt. Donald Hanks spotted a glow in the sky and summoned more equipment.

ROOMING HOUSE BLAZE

Three blocks down the street the fire fighters found a two-story rooming house engulfed by flames. Eight persons were dead by the time the blaze was controlled after a desperate hour's battle.

Two persons were rescued from the rooming house, one by Hanks himself. The building was destroyed.

These were the latest in a series of nearly a dozen Houston fires attributed to one or more arsonists in recent weeks. One person was killed earlier.

Dave Thriltill, 36, temporarily in charge of the rooming house, told of being awakened by the crackling sound of fire. He ran into his kitchen, dashed a bucket of water on the blaze and shouted for help, he said.

★ ★ ★

Two neighbors in the rooming house — Edward Burgess, 20, a construction worker, and Louis Penney, 23, a gas station attendant — heeded Triltill's cries and helped him escape.

★ ★ ★

The death toll was the worst in a Houston fire since 1940 when 56 persons perished in a burning hotel.

Parking Mall for City Okayed

★ ★ ★

The mall would stop through traffic during daytime shopping hours on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

The plan was presented to downtown merchants last week and enthusiastically received.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said a $15,000 budget has been established to purchase equipment — movable barriers at the ends of the block, entrance gates at each end and a gatehouse for a parking attendant.

Parking spaces would be perpendicular to the buildings, thus accommodating more cars than the present parallel parking, he said.

★ ★ ★

Decorative plants would be utilized, he added. Warren said the city, operating the parking, could recover the costs in the first year.

The plan is based on a similar plan used on the principal business street of downtown Lansing during the past two years.

Warren said the plan is experimental and will require rerouting traffic. If it proves unfeasible, he said, the city facilities can be used in other parking lots.

In related business, the Commission approved a resolution complementing Connelly's Jewlry Store for "contribution to downtown improvement" in renovations to the exterior of the store, located at North Saginaw and West Huron.

TUGBOAT HUDDLE — Three U.S. Navy fleet tugs and supporting craft surround the bow section of the oil tanker Ocean Eagle yesterday off San Juan Puerto Rico. The tugs failed today in an attempt to tow the section to deeper water where it was to have been sunk. The tanker had broken up Sunday at the mouth of San Juan's harbor, flooding hotel beaches in the area with oil slick.

Liquor License Problem Aired

Talk of a new liquor license for a proposed Sheraton Motor Hotel and Restaurant near St. Joseph Mercy Hospital touched off discussion of an old political problem among city commissioners last night.

★ ★ ★

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan said no one should get excited about construction of the motor hotel, expected to cost about $2.5 million, unless the majority of the commission has changed its stand on new Class C liquor licenses.

"This has been a controversial subject for 14 years," Dugan said.

Because of a change in population under the 1960 census the city has three Class C licenses available under the quota system established by the state.

LOCAL APPROVAL NEEDED

But, the State Liquor Control Commission won't approve new licenses without approval of the local governing body.

The City Commission hasn't approved a new license since at least 1960.

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson last night made a motion to approve a new license for a recent applicant, Frank Slaybaugh, operator of a restaurant at 22 W. Montcalm. His motion died for lack of support.

★ ★ ★

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said he would refer the request of developer Charles A. Langs for a Class C license for the motor hotel to the staff and planning commission for recommendations.

★ ★ ★

He said the city would hopefully have an answer in a week or two.

Phase 2 of Project at St. Joseph Begins

Construction has begun on the second and major portion of the $10-million expansion and renovation program at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Hospital officials announced today that equipment was being moved into place this week to begin the work that would add new buildings and a new face to the 30-year-old hospital.

The second phase of the hospital's building program is to cost about $6.5 million and would include renovation of existing medical-surgical patients areas, and the addition of new surgery rooms, radiology, laboratories and business offices.

An estimated 150 beds are included in the second phase of the hospital's expansion and renovation program, which calls for the hospital to have a total of 500 patient beds. Current capacity is 347 beds.

The first phase of the two-part building program was completed last year and primarily updated supporting service areas at a cost of $3.5 million.

Second phase construction will give the hospital, which fronts on Woodward, a new look. A new eight-story wing is slated in the center of the existing building complex, hiding it from the view of the street.

The $10-million building program is supported from a variety of sources, including public contributions of $3,398,544. Federal funds and monies provided by the Sisters of Mercy, Detroit Province, also are included in the financing program.

★ ★ ★

Hospital officials indicated the building program has felt the impact of spiraling costs.

★ ★ ★

The second and final phase of the St. Joseph building program is to be completed in 1971. General contractor for the project is Barton-Malow Co. of Oak Park.

Temperatures Up as Spring Nears

Spring will arrive in the Pontiac area just two weeks from today, and already temperatures are warming up.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts fair and colder tonight with a low of 15 to 20. Temperatures will reach the low 40s tomorrow with skies mostly sunny.

Fair and mild is the outlook for Friday.

Today's north to northeasterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become light and variable tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today, tonight and tomorrow 5.

Twenty was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury registered 37 at 2 p.m.

I-75 Crash Is Fatal in Holly Township

A Flint woman was killed on I-75 in Holly Township in a one-car crash this morning.

Dead is Mrs. Angelike Chamis, 40. Officers of the Pontiac State Police post said the woman apparently lost control of her car about 1:30 a.m. on the expressway south of Belford Road. Her car skidded onto the meridian and hit an overpass abutment, police said.

Mrs. Chamis was pronounced dead at Flint Hurley Hospital. There were no passengers in her car.

Bell City Outlay Is $4.9 Million

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced today it will spend $4,970,000 to expand and improve communications facilities in Pontiac in 1968.

★ ★ ★

The local outlay is part of a $187-million statewide construction budget.

Charles B. Woodhead, Michigan Bell's local public relations manager, said that expenditures for Pontiac would be allotted as follows outside plant facilities, $1,075,000; telephone equipment in homes and offices, $1,160,000 and central office buildings and equipment, $2,735,000.

The 1968 program will raise the company's investment in new plant since 1965 over the half-billion dollar mark, according to William M. Day, Michigan Bell president.

In 1968, Bell is scheduled to start construction of 13 new telephone buildings, along with 26 building additions in Michigan.

"We expect to add some 205,000 telephones and handle close to five billion calls in 1968. Both figures represent new highs," said Day.

Blaiberg Discharge Due

Sketch Of New Look (Facing Woodward) Slated For St. Joseph Mercy Hospital

Dog Racing Bill on State House Floor

LANSING (AP)— Bills to legalize dog racing in Michigan, increase the property tax exemption of disabled veterans, and outlaw most retail store contests were reported out by House committees Tuesday.

Also sent to the House floor were bills requiring protection of motorcyclists' faces and establishing a special commission to set the salaries of legislators and other state officials.

The dog bill, a perennial legislative issue which usually dies in committee, was sponsored by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica.

It would authorize the state to license up to eight dog tracks, at least one each in the Detroit area and the Upper Peninsula, with revenues to be shared by the host county or city, all counties and the state.

NEEDS OK

Before a dog track could be set up, approval would be required from the county board of supervisors or, in a city of over 500,000 population, by the city commission.

If the local body either accepted or rejected the track, five per cent of the registered voters in the city or county involved could put the question on the ballot.

The veterans exemption measure, introduced by Rep. Stanley Powell, R-Ionia, would replace the present flat-rate exemption with a new system based on the veteran's degree of disability.

The measure, which would cost the state an estimated $7 million in the current fiscal year, also would boost the exemptions allowed from taxes levied in calendar 1968.

$2,000 EXEMPT

Currently, the first $2,000 in valuation of an eligible veteran's homestead is exempt from property taxes if its total value is $10,000 or less and the veteran earns no more than $7,500, not including disability benefits.

Eligible for the exemptions are all combat veterans of the Philippines, the China Relief Expedition, the Spanish American War and the Indian wars, and Disabled Veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

Powell's bill would provide exemptions ranging from $2,500 for a nondisabled veteran of a modern war to $4,500 for a veteran rated 90 per cent disabled or for the widow of a man dying while in the armed forces.

The maximum value of an exempted homestead would be raised from $10,000 to $11,000.

State House Stalls Bill on Riot Powers

LANSING (AP) — A bill to give mayors and other local officials authority to declare states of emergency in riot situations stalled in the House Tuesday, meeting bitter opposition from a handful of members.

The Senate debated a similar bill last week, but put off further action until Thursday. Action on the House bill was put off until today.

Meanwhile, the Senate approved 34-2 and sent to the House a bill — aimed at persons who incite looters — which would make it a felony to incite another to commit an act of larceny or burglary.

POSTPONE ACTION

Sponsors of the House measure said last summer's civil outbreaks show local authorities need powers to impose curfews and limit sale of arms and ammunition, liquor, and gasoline and other inflammables.

Opponents said the bill would delegate powers now held by the governor, permit abuses of civil liberties and civil rights, and cause impossible confusion in metropolitan areas.

STATE POLICE OPPOSE

The Michigan State Police Department opposes the bill. In its present form, the measure empowers the chief executive of a city, village or township to declare a state of emergency "in the event of a threat of civil disorder and the inability to contain or control the civil disorder."

A Countywide state of emergency could be declared by the chairman of the board of the prosecutor, the sheriff and supervisors, or by any two of them. Violation of such an executive order would be a misdemeanor.

Opponents of the bill, mostly Democrats from Detroit's inner city, attacked the measure with a barrage of motions and even a brief filibuster by Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit.

"You talk about protecting the cities," charged Rep. David Holmes, D-Detroit, "but nothing in this bill gives protection to the people."

Open-Housing Delays 'Futile'

Must Act on State Law---GOP Senator

LANSING (AP) — A Republican state senator said Tuesday it would be "futile and foolhardy" to put off action on a statewide open-housing law that could help ease racial tension.

"Vague promises .. are not doing anything to solve the problems," Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, told delegates to the Michigan Welfare League's annual legislative forum.

"We must make a start," he said. "The people are impatient and you can't blame them.

"Vacillation (on the proposed law) is causing more problems possibly than the original problem," he added. Those looking to the Legislature for a solution to racial tensions could begin to doubt the sincerity of lawmakers, Zollar said.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Passage of an open-housing law "will show the people we do intend to do something," he said.

Zollar, chief sponsor of a housing proposal now in Senate committee, participated in a panel discussion on that measure and proposed tenants' rights bills.

Others on the panel were Carl Schier, assistant professor at the University of Detroit's urban Law Clinic, and Richard Philleo, legislative counsel for the Michigan Real Estate Association.

URGES COMRADES ON — A U.S. Marine (right) waves his jungle knife to urge his comrades to join him in the rescue of a trapped Marine platoon which was ambushed some 800 yards outside the perimeter of the Marine base at Khe Sanh. Others joined him, and several were killed.

Children Brighten Annual Town Report

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — "If there were no waste disposal. . . our town will smell."

"I like the water company because they dig big holes in the street.

These are a few of the quotes that have made this year's town report an instant best seller in this north-of-Boston community.

ILLUSTRATED BY CHILDREN

The report, "as children see us," is the idea of Town Manager Richard J. Bowen. In an introduction he says: "There is a simplicity of truth in the eyes of children."

Police: "The policeman helps me when I am kidnaped."

Firemen: "The fireman helps us if our house is on fire. If your brother is in the house the fireman goes in and gets the boy out."

'STREETS IMPORTANT'

Highways: "Streets are very important. We drive on streets to go places."

But the street lighting department gets a dig: "We need a new light on our street."

Parental conversation at the dinner table probably inspired this: "The town meeting is accepting our road. We payed a hundred dollars for it. Others payed a million."

An estimated total of 2.5 million youngsters are engaged in some phase of 4-H Club work. About 400,000 men and women serve as leaders.

Drive Starts for City School Levy, Bonds

The electorate will be asked March 25 whether they are willing to pay higher school taxes for educational improvements to insure quality education.

Members of the FSC, PTAs and school teachers and administrators are hard at work informing the voting public of their the importance of their forthcoming decision on the future of the community, themselves and most important, children.

Concerned citizens are knocking on doors of homes, handing out literature and asking people to get out and vote.

More than 50 formal presentations of the issues are to be given to PTAs, civic clubs and religious organizations from now until the election.

"A substantial understanding gap exists between the schools and the residents of the community," the council claims in its 225-page report.

STUDY SUGGESTED

The council suggests a study of the problem to find ways of better communication. Among proposed solutions are a booklet describing the school system, more adult community involvement or more discussions between school counselors and parents.

"It was the opinion of the members of the Finance Study Council that by far the majority of the citizens of the community are concerned with schools," the FSC says.

"They desire that the Pontiac schools continue to provide educational opportunities for its students comparable to the best in the State of Michigan, if not the nation.

"It was felt that the majority of the residents realized the importance of good schools to the maintenance of the value of their investments in the community, be it their business, their home or their social life among friendships long established."

It is for these reasons that the immediate action to prevent any further deterioration in quality of education and to reinstate about a half million dollars of cutbacks in the current budget.

Rhodesia Slaps Queen, Hangs 3

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The Rhodesian government hanged three Africans today after rejecting Queen Elizabeth II's order commuting their sentences to life in prison.

A guard pinned notices on the gate of Salisbury's central prison announcing the executions of the three men convicted of murder and terrorism.

The queen, still considered head of state by Rhodesia's rebel white minority government, commuted their sentences Saturday. But the appellate division of Rhodesia's high court, ruling on two of the cases Monday, held it was "not a personal decision by her majesty but by her government (in Britain). Her majesty is quite powerless in this matter. It is a source of great regret that her majesty has become involved."

MERCY PREROGATIVE

Prime Minister Ian Smith declared independence from Britain in 1965, and Chief Justice Sir Hugh Beadle ruled it is the only government in Rhodesia with the power to exercise the prerogative of mercy.

★ ★ ★

The decision to go ahead with all three hangings was understood to have been reached at a six-hour Cabinet meeting Tuesday.

HERBERT C. COOLEY

Police Veteran Sheriff Aspirant

City Officer to Seek GOP Nod in Primary

Pontiac Police Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley announced today he will seek the Republican party's nomination for Oakland County sheriff.

Petitions to place his name on the ballot for the Aug. 6 primary will be circulated within a week, he said.

Frank W. Irons is the incumbent sheriff.

Cooley, 42, is a veteran of 17 years with the Pontiac department, having served in the patrol division, traffic bureau, vice squad and detective bureau before taking his present post as patrol supervisor.

He has been a sergeant since 1958 and has completed courses in law enforcement at Oakland University and Michigan State University.

HEADS PPOA

He has been elected president of the Pontiac Police Officer's Association (PPOA) seven times, the past three years consecutively.

Cooley said his campaign for sheriff will be based on providing Oakland County with modern law enforcement techniques suited for modern problems.

"In a time of complex problems and change in a complex society, law enforcement agencies must be regeared to be effective, while maintaining the basic aim of protecting the public," he said.

Cuba Disclaims Plane Hijack

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government said today a Jordanian and two Colombians hijacked the Colombian airliner diverted to Cuba Tuesday with 36 persons aboard. But there was no announcement that the hijackers had asked for asylum in Cuba.

The plane and its passengers were expected to be allowed to return to Colombia today after Avianca Airlines pays Cuba the cost of refueling and servicing the plane at Antonio Maceo Airport in Santiago de Cuba.

Planes hijacked to Cuba are usually released within 24 hours.

A government announcement said the men who forced the Colombian pilot to fly to Santiago were Sani Salin Analayo, a Jordanian citizen who lives in Maicao, Colombia, and Colombian citizens Jairo Enrique Ortiz Acosta and Aristides Villalobos.

Board of Education OKs Administrator Pay Scale

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education last night approved salary schedules for administrators and departmental supervisors for the 1967-68 school year.

The salary schedules were adopted retroactive to July 1, as recommended by Supt. of Schools Dr. John B. Smith.

The new scale for administrators calls for salaries ranging from $10,510 for principal's or coordinator's assistant with one year experience, to $19,650 for a high school principal with seven years experience.

For department heads and supervisors, the range is from $8,665 for the first year for the head of a department with 5-9 teachers, to $12,430 for a system-wide supervisor with eight years experience. All salaries are based on a master's degree preparation.

Approval of the schedules drew unfavorable comment from the Association of Birmingham School Administrative and Supervisory Personnel, which had been denied recognition as a bargaining agent by the board last week.

HITS PLAN

Grant Barber, Pierce principal and a spokesman for the association, said the schedules "do not reflect agreement" between the association and the board.

"Our association believes there has been insufficient communication to establish mutual acceptance of total problems and concerns of its members," Barber added.

Smith, however, pointed out that the schedules could be changed later if desired, but that in order to figure the 1967-68 budget soon, immediate approval was necessary.

The board also received a report from Ed Tarras, social studies coordinator, on the district's pilot social studies program.

The district recently received a $300,000 grant, from the U.S. Office of Education for evaluation and demonstration of its new curriculum in the field.

Soviet-Bloc Leaders Meet in Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Leaders of the seven Soviet Bloc nations gathered in the Bulgarian capital today for a Warsaw Pact summit meeting threatened with more wrangling between the Russians and the maverick Romanians.

Bucharest's delegation walked out of the international meeting of Communist parties in Budapest last week rather than sit still for criticism of Romanian policy and Red China. In what looked like an attempt to patch things up, Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev stopped in Bucharest on his way to Sofia and met with Romanian party chief Nicolae Ceausescu.

Inquest Order Appeal Mulled

Oakland County Medical Examiner Dr. Bernard D. Berman and Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen were to meet today to decide if they will appeal a court ruling ordering a coroner's inquest in the death of a Negro teen-ager last December.

Circuit Judge Robert L. Templin ruled yesterday that Berman did not have the authority to reject a petition for a hearing into the death of Jimmie King, 17, who was shot while fleeing Pontiac police on Dec. 7.

Berman had refused to act on the petition last month on the basis that an inquest would serve no purpose since all the facts in the case were in and the prosecutor had ruled the death a justifiable homicide.

Berman said today that he and Allen were waiting for a copy of the judge's decision before further steps were taken.

★ ★ ★

Julian A. Cook Jr., attorney for the petitioners and a recent appointee to the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, told Templin that "It may well be that all the facts are in but it is incumbent to clear the air of any doubts in the Negro community."

Allen argued that the purpose of an inquest is not to serve as a sounding board to release emotions.

"The only things that could be determined by an inquest," said Allen, "already have been determined."

Appropriation Law Gets Final Commission Okay

City commissioners gave final formal approval last night to the annual city appropriation ordinance. It calls for spending $10,416,900 for general fund operations, sanitation and waste disposal, bonded indebtedness and capital improvements in 1968.

Commissioners last week gave essential approval to the budget calling for spending $8,572,325 for city operations up nearly $690,000 from last year's fund. General fund spending will be supported by a 7-mill property tax plus the income tax imposed this year.

Of the total increase, some $500,000 is allocated for pay raises and increased fringe benefits for city employes.

City commissioners have approved provisions now of all separate funds of the budget except the capital improvement fund, although they did authorize a total appropriation of $638,900 this year.

Last night the commission approved spending money out of the fund for a new fire department ladder truck and a pumper truck.

Delivery of the vehicles may take up to 18 months, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

The 1,250-gallon pumper is expected to cost about $30,000. An aerial platform ladder truck with an 85-foot boom is expected to cost up to $80,000.

Open-Housing Law on City Ballot June 24

The special election will cost about $5,000 to hold during June, but there would have been no extra cost on the April ballot, they said.

Dugan said the move was "cowardly and sneaky" while Irwin said it was a "cheap political trick."

Irwin accused the majority of not being able to stand on the issue of open housing and, therefore, attempting to evade the issue until after the election.

EMOTIONAL ISSUE

Hudson, arguing for the June election, said open housing is an emotional issue which should be decided at an election where no other issues are involved.

He said too many voters are prepared to vote for or against a person just on their stand on open housing. A candidate's entire platform should be the basis for voting, he said.

He indicated that a June election would tend to spread the issues. Hudson also said the cost of a special election "matters very little when it comes to the issue we're concerned with."

★ ★ ★

Taylor said, "I don't think we're avoiding putting it before the people."

'WE NEED TO TALK'

"I still think we need to talk about it a little more without getting involved in politics."

"I feel I have already put my neck on the block when I voted on the ordinance," Taylor said. He said a referendum election should be held at a time other than the general election to "take the issue out of the political arena."

Fowler said he has faith that the ordinance will pass a referendum election but suggested that since registrations for the general election now are closed, the special election should be scheduled at a time when all who want to vote are registered.

Many persons who would want to vote on only this issue could not vote in April because they are not registered and now have no chance to do so until after April 15, he said.

Before the vote on the June election, Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant gave the opinion that setting the time of the election was, under terms of the charter, entirely within the discretion of the commission.

U.S. Must Root Out the Graft Permeating S. Viet, Says Yank

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top U.S. civilian adviser says the United States must boldly take the initiative to root out corruption in South Vietnam's government. He insists there aren't enough honest Vietnamese officials to do the job.

"Corruption is permeating all echelons of government and society, corroding the vitality of this nation, eroding the framework of government and unnecessarily prolonging the war," the adviser said in private reports from Vietnam.

The reports were made available to the Associated Press on the condition that the adviser, chief of a 22-man team in Vietnam, not be identified.

Saying the United States "must take the initiative in this remedial action and, once having started must continue it," the adviser declared: "Vietnamese officials are so involved that very few have hands sufficiently clean that they can make an immediate major independent contribution."

★ ★ ★

One report, which outlined a plan of action, was submitted Nov. 29 to the Agency for International Development in Saigon. It went to AID's then-new "Public Administration Ad Hoc Committee on Corruption in Vietnam."

An AID spokesman in Washington told a reporter yesterday:

"The committee never really got started. And it's possible it won't get going.

The U.S. adviser sent a copy of the report to his superiors in Washington, along with another complaining he had previously proposed stern measures against graft only to encounter opposition from "hearts and minds purists" in the U.S. mission.

It is time, he said, to stop "treating corruption as a delicate, unmentionable subject." His report to AID recommended that the United States:

● Create an anticorruption office within the U.S. mission, invite the South Vietnamese to set up a corresponding office, and offer rewards to Vietnamese citizens for solid evidence of corruption.

● Confront the government of South Vietnam with examples of corruption as they develop and "insist that law enforcement and revenue — collecting officials go to jail and be publicly disgraced for involvement in graft and corruption."

● "Abandon our present devotion to the fiction that corruption is the special field of lower and middle echelon government officials. Instead place the blame squarely where it belongs — right at the top."

● Agree that "no attempt will be made to dig into past history of anyone who henceforth toes the line."

"No weak-kneed or pussyfooting measures will have the least effect," the adviser said.

CORRUPTION AT TOP

He reported corruption at the top of the Vietnamese customs collecting organization and said millions of dollars in revenue had been lost.

The reports have been kept private because some U.S. officials feared disclosure would compromise efforts of American advisers who rely on cooperation from Vietnamese officials.

The final recommendation of the report to AID was: "Above all, don't make this a classified subject and thereby bury it."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures told a reporter "Our efforts are not effective because some of our agencies aren't concerned about corruption."

'AMERICANS PAY'

"Corruption springs at you from bottom to top and the American taxpayer is paying the bill," said Gruening.

Last week Gruening, after seeing copies of the adviser's reports, told the Senate of a gold and opium smuggling operation which he said "involved the highest South Vietnamese government officials."

President Johnson, speaking Friday in Beaumont, Tex., said "Certainly, they have corruption and we also have it in Boston, in New York, in Washington and in Johnson City. Somebody is stealing something in Beaumont right now."

The U.S. adviser told AID that South Vietnamese corruption "is appalling; it is frightening enough to make one have grave doubts that there is any possibility of ever achieving any reasonable degree of honesty and integrity in Vietnamese officialdom."

WOULD ADD REVENUE

An honestly run customs operation "conceivably could produce revenue equaling the entire AID program" less commiity imports, he said. That would be about $300 million.

"The institution of corruption is so much a built-in part of the government processes that it is shielded by its very pervasiveness," he added.

Corruption in Vietnam, he said, essentially has an economic basis. There is a tradition of low pay to any and all government workers—with an attendant implication that a man in such a favored position should be able to take care of himself —and if he didn't, no one applauded or sympathized with him."

He said, "We Americans bear a considerable burden of responsibility for the extent to which corruption has mushroomed and become such a cancer."

Lapeer Schools Hold Tax Vote Next Week

LAPEER — Rising enrollment and service costs have led to this district's request for increased operating millage, according to school officials.

Voters will decide Tuesday whether to approve 6.5 mills — 3 renewable and 3.5 new — for one year.

The renewable levy expired Dec. 31.

The 6.5 being asked would bring the over-all operating millage to 19.08.

★ ★ ★

Supt. of Schools Clyde Schickler called the request "very reasonable" in the light of millage votes taking place this spring in other districts.

NOT SINCE 1965

A statement released to voters by the board of education pointed out that Lapeer voters have not been asked to approve additional millage for operation since 1965.

"As of this date," the statement said, "the Turrill addition, Maple Grove addition, and Elba Elementary School have been completed and are in use. The Daley-Roods Lake School and the high school addition are under constructon. Plans are now being reviewed for a new elementary school in the Clover area on Lake Nepessing Road."

The statement noted staff increases of 10 and 26 in the last two years, and projected a need for 14 more in 1968-69.

FASTER INCREASE

Indicative of the district's financial problems is its budget, which has risen considerably faster than assessed valuation.

The budget for this year, Business Manager W. Gordon Hall, reported, is $2,691,587, up 19.4 per cent from 1966-67. By contrast, Hall said, valuation has been rising at about 3 per cent annually.

Enrollment, too, is outstripping valuation, the business manager said. This year, it is 5,389—344, or about six per cent, more than last year.

★ ★ ★

The result has been the elimination this year of the district's $142,000 carryover, Schickler said.

ADDED REVENUE

The new levy, according to Hall, would bring in approximately $336,400 in additional revenue if approved.

The new total millage figure of 19.08, Hall noted, would not be exceptional for state school districts.

"The state average this year is 18 mills, and we are at 15.58 right now," he said. "By next year, when the additional 3.5 mills would go into effect, the average will probably have gone up."

What are prospects for this election? "I'm hopeful," Schickler commented. Hall added that the district has never previously suffered a millage setback.

Interlake Pipe Is Being Laid

ORCHARD LAKE — What does it take to raise the level of a lake about three feet?

The treatment for Orchard Lake calls for 700 feet of 24-inch pipe laid from the south shore of Cass Lake to the north shore of Orchard Lake going under Commerce Road just west of 4050 Commerce.

Water will travel via gravity from Cass Lake to a pump which will spew it into Orchard Lake.

They've cleared a path through the trees and are now slushing through mud to install a temporary pumping system to keep water out of the trench where pipe will be laid.

IN ABOUT 2 MONTHS

Construction work is expected to be done in about two months, said project superintendent Carl Sundberg of Civil Works Constructors.

★ ★ ★

Within five months — depending on rainfall and the flow from the Clinton River — the lake will rise to its legally set level of 930.5 feet, said James Nichols, chief deputy of the County Drain Commission office.

★ ★ ★

The $90,000 project is costing lake residents about $3.90 per front foot. No objections were raised against these assessments at a public hearing Feb. 16, reported Nichols.

Farmington to Take Part in Reciprocal Police Setup

FARMINGTON — This city has formally joined a group of police departments which will assist each other in emergencies created by civil disorder and natural disaster.

The South Oakland Reciprocal Police Aid Agreement has been given City Council approval.

Each of 17 police departments in the group will pay the salaries of its own men when working with other departments.

The department which requests aid has authority over other departments lending men and equipment.

Other members of the agreement are: Berkley, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Clawson, Farmington Township, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township, Southfield, Troy and Beverly Hills.

The organization has existed informally for several years, reported Farmington City Manager John Dinan.

The city council has also approved the first of three phases to double illumination on Grand River between Orchard Lake and Farmington roads.

The first phase, to cost $660 per year, calls for 19 ornamental and four regular lamps on Grand River from Liberty to School streets.

The second phase a year later will include 14 lamps and will cost about $336 per year. In three years, the last phase of 28 lamps will cost $672 per year, reported Dinan.

The council also affirmed after a public hearing the necessity of installing a 12-inch water main on Drake from Grand River south for 2,000 feet. The project, to cost an estimated $30,000, will serve 300 families eventually, said Dinan. The area now has six property owners. A hearing on assessments will be set, said the city manager.

Troy to Study Possibility of Enclosing Planned Drain

TROY — The City Commission has agreed to study the possibility of enclosing the proposed Henry-Graham Drain, to be constructed in the eastern half of this city.

Previously, plans had called for the interceptor drain — which would shunt waters flowing east to the south and into the Red Run Drain — to be an open ditch in Troy.

The object of construction is to eliminate inadequacies in the Big Beaver drainage system, which drains 18 square miles in Troy, Sterling Township, just east of the city, has blamed Troy for its flooding problems in the past.

However, the proposal met with opposition with homeowners in the Milverton and Eva Haus subdivisions, located on either side of the drain easement.

Residents protested that the $4.1-million storm water facility would pose a hazard to children in the area. They also objected to assurances that the drain would be fenced in, pointing out that children climb fences.

COST ESTIMATE

City Engineer Richard L. Graham has estimated additional cost of enclosing the drain from the north end of Milverton to the city boundary with Madison Heights at $3 million.

Enclosure is planned in Madison Heights, Troy's neighbor to the south.

The commission also approved districts for two special-assessed construction projects, water and sewer lines on Eastport.

Cost of the water main is estimated at $17,370, with $9,287 to be assessed at $8 per front foot. The sewer, at a cost of $4,900, will be constructed entirely on assessed monies at $9.85 per front foot.

Shelby to Study Setup of Disaster-Riot Unit

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Township Board last night agreed to study a proposed ordinance which would establish a 50-man force to deal with disasters or civil upheavals.

The emergency force, to be called the Shelby Township Police Department Civil Defense Reserve, would be under the direction of the chief of police.

According to Township Supervisor Kirby Holmes, special meetings of the board are planned to discuss the proposal. However, he said, meeting dates have not yet been set.

Roast Beef Dinner Set

LAKE ORION — The Order of the Eastern Star will serve a roast beef dinner from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Masonic Temple, Flint and Broadway.

Cranbrook Events

PLANETARIUM — Regular public demonstrations, Wednesday at 4 p.m. and weekends at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The topic for the month is "The Stars of Spring."

ATOMARIUM — Public demonstration Sunday at 3:30 p.m. or by appointment. Admission 25 cents.

CHILDREN'S SERIES—"Exploring Science," the new Institute of Science series designed for area children in grades 4-7, will meet Saturday for the second time.

The topic, which will be presented by instructor Martha Schaefer in two identical sessions, at 9 and 10:30 a.m. is "Preserving Our Natural Resources."

Student members will be admitted free. The charge for nonmembers is 50 cents.

ACADEMY OF ART — A faculty show, with works by faculty members of the academy's eight departments, will continue through March 31.

Lake Orion Girl, 12, Is Struck by an Auto

LAKE ORION — Debra H. Prueter, 12, of 416 S. Broadway is reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, where she was taken after being struck by a car Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Police said the girl darted across South Broadway near her home when she was struck by a car driven by Donald Elwood, 22, of 1456 Main, Addison Township. Elwood was ticketed for exceeding the speed limit, according the Chief Neal Leonard.

In West Bloomfield

Detective Sleuths Alone

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—This community has been called a "burglars' delight."

Why? The township has high-income families, beautiful homes and needs more police protection.

This is the view of the township police department's only detective, James Stevenson. He laments that he can investigate only about 25 per cent of the cases.

"We need three more detectives," answers Stevenson who became the detective a little more than a year ago.

★ ★ ★

His records show about eight cases of breaking and entering (b and e) per week. Last spring the figure was three to four a week, said Stevenson.

'STILL BURGLAR BAIT'

Although burglaries rose to a level of a dozen per week since spring and has since decreased some, the township is still burglar bait, the detective asserted.

Passage of the three-mill tax proposal March 25 would help solve the problem, Stevenson indicates.

The proposed and yet unapproved 1968-69 budget allots $250,000 for the police department if the millage passes, Township Supervisor John Doherty said.

★ ★ ★

This is up from last year's police budget of $154,000. However, if the millage fails to get resident approval, the police may get only $100,000 next year, reported Doherty.

ADVICE OFFERED

If the police budget must be dropped to this figure, no patrol cars will be on duty on roads at night, the supervisor said.

The increase in funds is planned to provide one more detective, three officers and two radio dispatchers, said Doherty.

Meanwhile, Detective Stevenson offers advice to residents:

- Call police if you get mysterious phone calls, see strange people acting suspiciously in the neighborhood, and have suspicious people knocking at your door.
- When you're on vacation, have mail held or transferred so it doesn't pile up at your home, put lights on a timer.
- If your home has been broken into, don't go in, Stevenson stressed. Call police from a neighbor's home and give the exact location of your home. Entering the house may destroy any evidence and could be dangerous said the detective.
- Get out of the house if you're in it when a burglar enters. Although most burglars don't carry weapons, they can be dangerous, said Stevenson.

The detective reported an increase in firearms being stolen. "They're easy to resell," Stevenson pointed out.

Burglars of homes here also take money, television sets, and cameras. Schools are looted for vending machine money and office equipment, according to the detective.

Most "b and e men" are age 16 to 25, said Stevenson, most of them pull their jobs here between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The burglars are seldom caught at the scene. "I've probably had them wave at me as I drove by a house," said the detective. "How do I know if they don't belong there?"

Group Chooses Representatives

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — The Highland Township Taxpayers Association, Inc., chose three of its members last night to represent it before the board of review if need be.

However, at the group's meeting last night, no definite plans to go before the board were made.

Association representatives haven't been able to thoroughly examine the assessment rolls, to see if there were any inequities explained association secretary Mrs. Richard King.

When the assessments have been examined, the group's officers will decide whether its members or Pontiac attorney William Travis will go before the board, said Mrs. King.

Travis explained the appeal procedure last night. He gave a similar talk at the group's organizational meeting Feb. 6.

Group members who want to make appeals through the association were informed they could leave their assessment cards at the home of association president, Max Johnson, 280 N. Hickory Ridge.

The meeting drew 58 persons including 12 new members, reported Mrs. King.

The Highland Township Board of Review met yesterday and was to meet today until 5 p.m. to review the assessment rolls.

Public sessions are scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and on Thursday from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m.

More public sessions will be held if needed, said a township official.

School Demonstrators Inconsistent

Demonstrations by students in the Avondale School District reflect an alarming disregard for the realities of living—possibly by those on BOTH sides of the fence.

On Feb. 19 the school district's voters were asked to approve a 12.7-mill tax hike. In essence, the school board and administrators were asking voters if they want quality education and services for their children.

★ ★ ★

The answer was straight and clear . . . . . No. Voters rejected the millage proposal by a 5 to 1 margin.

Bus service for students living within 1.5 miles of school was to be cut as of Monday. Sports programs are being sharply curtailed. There has been considerable juggling of staff assignments, and several positions will be eliminated. There will be no improvements to buildings and grounds for the remainder of the school year and capital outlays, repairs and maintenance will be kept to a bare minimum. Further economies are indicated by the fact that the above mentioned will only eliminate part of an anticipated $115,000 deficit.

In analyzing these cuts, it would appear to us that the board has attempted to circumvent the academic program as much as possible, eliminating those things least likely to directly affect the quality of education in Avondale schools.

The reaction has been irresponsible, to say the least. While it was relatively mild and evenly divided at the Feb. 26 board meeting when the cuts were announced, it suddenly became wild and unruly. Students paraded in a rowdy fashion, attempting to stop traffic Friday. Police action was necessary to quell the disturbance.

Sunday, an estimated 200 parents showed up at a mass meeting at the Elmwood Fire Hall to protest board policies. That meeting was marked by frequent noisy and undisciplined outbursts. It appears that most of the violent objection concerns the cutback on busing of students. That problem has now been temporarily delayed by an emergency decision of the board to continue busing at least through next Monday.

If voters are going to indicate at the polls that they want a mediocre educational system, then they should be prepared to accept and live with that decision—even if it means getting up and driving the kids to school.

If voters are merely indicating that they are fed up with constantly increasing taxation, the same holds true. Both sides must still learn to live with the cutbacks.

On the other side of the fence, the board should be careful to cut all the nonessentials before delving into the meat of the educational program.

Likewise, it might be more realistic the next time around if the school board and administration split their millage proposal into several smaller proposals and let the voters decide just what they want for their children.

In any day and age, 12.7 mills is a big chunk to bite off all in one mouthful. The board should take into consideration the fact that people do have a limit as to the total tax burden they can bear, and that total burden has increased significantly in recent months.

★ ★ ★

Maybe voter reaction would be different if the public wasn't forced to swallow the whole pill in one gulp. Meanwhile, students and parents must learn to act with at least a hint of maturity in the face of a financial crisis.

Democracy Concept Approved by West Germans

There are so many other problems to choose from these days that no one worries any more about how democracy is faring in Germany—in that half of the nation that is privileged to try the system, that is.

Asked the question, "Do you believe that democracy is the best form of government for Germany, or could you imagine a better one?", 74 per cent of the persons interviewed opted for democracy. Undecideds amounted to 22 per cent. Only 4 per cent thought another form of government would be better.

On the question of one party versus two or more parties, 55 per cent of the people said they thought several parties were better for the country. Another 26 per cent preferred "not more than two or three parties"—a total of 81 per cent.

Those preferring only one party came to 9 per cent; another 9 per cent were undecided, and 1 per cent wanted "no party at all."

By contrast, in a comparable survey made in 1951, more than twice as many—22 per cent—favored a one-party system.

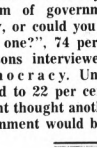
Primary Mixes Idealism, Nonsense

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Whatever one may think of the qualifications of George Romney or of his presentation of the issues, he was the representative of a sizable minority faction of the Republican Party known by such names as the Eastern Establishment of the moderate or liberal wing.



MOLEY

And the collapse of his candidacy because the polls showed him to be facing overwhelming defeat in a tiny state means that there can be no real national test of the strength of that faction.

We are witnessing in New Hampshire and Wisconsin — and will see in a few other states later — the operation of a system of nominating candidates for President which originated half a century ago.

That origin was in an era of widespread disillusionment in the operation of free institutions. It was called the Progressive movement, and the remedies it created, as someone said then, "were to make democracy democ." Its nostrums were a mixture of high idealism and wonderful nonsense.

Even on the ground of constitutional theory, such a plan would negate the principle of representative government. For conventions with all their defects are the best method yet devised by which busy citizens delegate the responsibility for representing their views.

The direct-primary system measurably weakens the two-party system. For under an enlarged primary system there might well emerge the multiparty system, which eroded the stability of the French government for so many years and more than once led to dictatorship.

On the practical side, presidential preference primaries present candidates with the impossible task of campaigning in all of them. And so they risk their fortunes in only a few. And those few where there are contests send less than 10 per cent of the delegates to the national conventions. New Hampshire and Wisconsin will have only 3 per cent of the delgates in the Republican National Convention this year.

Primary contests are very costly. Either the candidate must be as rich as the Kennedys and Rockefellers, or he must depend upon fat cats who give in expectation of favors if their man is elected.

Primary contests which begin so early in the year wear the patience of the public threadbare before November. There are only a limited number of issues to be debated. But these issues must be reiterated over and over ad nauseam for many months.

Consider the sheer physical drain that the candidate must suffer in the long months of innumerable press conferences and contacts. Very few men over 60 could stand the strain. The candidate who can stay to the end must have the physical capacity of an itinerant wrestler.

Is This Any Way To Fight A War?

David Lawrence Says:

Fair Housing May Be '68 Issue

WASHINGTON—Open housing may become a big issue in the national campaign this autumn. It affects directly more voters than many other questions which will be debated, and could cause the defeat of some Republicans and Democrats who will have voted in favor of the measure.

LAWRENCE

The proposed legislation would prohibit an owner from selling or renting his property to whomever he pleases through an agent. Less than two years from now, this would apply even to single-family, owner-occupied dwellings if the property is sold through a real-estate broker.

Persons engaged in the real estate business throughout the country are alarmed over the prospect. They fear that home owners will feel compelled to dispose of their property on their own or through friends and acquaintances.

The reasoning behind the protest is not so much related to a desire by an owner to discriminate between buyers, but is based upon a belief that, if certain neighborhoods are open to Negro purchasers, real estate values will quickly drop and owners may see their equity reduced substantially.

There are 85,000 real estate brokers or agents throughout the country, and they have consistently opposed interference by the government in what they regard as a transaction in private property.

ALL PROPERTY?

It is argued, for instance, that if the government can tell a person to whom he must sell his home when he gets ready to seek a buyer through a real estate agent, then the same rule can also be applied to any kind of personal property, such as a boat or a motorcycle or an automobile.

Many real estate men are saying that, while the forthcoming legislation stipulates certain exemptions for owners of single homes and four-unit apartments, the mere fact that within 20 months new tenants may move into neighborhoods which have not been integrated is likely to arouse considerable concern as to the prospective values of the real estate.

It is estimated that by Jan. 1, 1970, the new proposals, if enacted, will cover 44.6 million units, or 68 per cent of the nation's housing.

The open-housing issue has been fought out on a state or local basis in referendums in different areas across the country during the last few years, and in many cases the people have rejected the idea at the polls.

Certainly the open-housing question will be debated in the coming presidential and congressional campaign, and many a senator and representative will find his vote on this issue in Congress challenged next autumn.

Bob Considine Says:

Confusing GOP Winds Blow Nixon Back on Top

NEW YORK—It takes more than political savvy to comprehend the winds of change in the Republican Party. It takes a good meteorologist.

CONSIDINE

Dick Nixon went to the 1964 GOP convention in San Francisco as pretty much of a spectator. Four years before that the party had thunderously dubbed him Sir Richard and confidently sent him forth to demolish the then lesser-known Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Despite an amateurishly operated campaign, he lost by only a whisker. (Pun intended.)

In 1962 Nixon — against his better judgment — ran for governor of California and was resoundingly beaten. For reasons never fully comprehended, he devoted much of his campigning to orating on foreign affairs.

★ ★ ★

Californians, circa 1962, could not have cared less about the situation in the Balkans tinderbox. They wanted to know about California water, roads, relief, schools, integration, etc. Pat Brown gave them what they wanted, and he was a shoo-in.

JUST LOOKING AROUND

So back to 1964, by which time Nixon had become a stateless person. In an interview in his law office in the Wall Street area he said that two of the delegates to the impending convention had told him they would insist on nominating him. (Both later backed out.)

He added that he was just going to San Francisco to look around. He had no plans to speak. Sen. Barry Goldwater would get the nomination on the first ballot, he predicted, because everybody there who disliked something, or somebody, felt that Goldwater shared their bile.

It was clearly the end of Nixon's political road. He would settle down and make some real money for himself and his family for the first time. He was forgotten, and relieved.

Rockefeller led the New York delegation to that convention, tried to speak for the convention's moderates, and was howled down in an angry demonstration. It set some sort of convention record for bad manners.

Well, as of last weekend, Nixon is back and so is Rocky. One or the other is going to get the bid. If you had offered to bet on that four years ago you could have asked for and gotten odds of a thousand to one.

Smiles

In speaking of a group of secretaries, is it "Girl Fridays," "Girls' Friday," "Girl's Friday," "Girl's Fridays," or "Girls Friday"? OUR Girl Friday will never tell . . . she's sort of a Thursday afternoon type.

Voice of the People:

'We Must Decide if Bill Is Good for All Citizens'

Many arguments concerning the Parochiaid Bill are trivial and have nothing to do with whether this bill would be good for all citizens. Is the bill legal? Can taxes of citizens be used to help support private schools? Does the money involved, including the cost of distributing it, represent a lesser amount than these parents actually pay into the State treasury for school taxes? If it is the same or a larger amount, the bill should not be passed because the State as a whole would not benefit from it.

★ ★ ★

We want our boys and girls to have the best educational opportunities and we must strive for an intelligent dispersal of our tax monies toward this end.

Comments on Avondale's School Budget

To reduce the Avondale school system budget deficit, Superintendent John Dickey has proposed and somehow got past the Avondale School Board the curtailment of busing our children over such roads as Adams and South Boulevard. A reasonable estimate is that some 100 children from kindergarten to eighth grade will now trek these roads that have 45 m.p.h. speed limits, gullies instead of sidewalks, and no traffic lights. Can't Mr. Dickey cut some other educational service that will not affect the safety of our children? How about requiring parents to purchase textbooks, eliminating the position of department chairman, or reducing further custodial, secretarial and administrative services?

Has Suggestion to Ease Parking Problem

Why the sudden concern for downtown Pontiac? Where was this concern when customers were lined up in all the stores waiting to pay for their merchandise? And who cared that one had to park at Auburn and Perry to shop at the other end of town? A few penny meters near the banks and post office would ease the parking situation by freeing other meters for shoppers.

What does downtown have to offer? There is no nice theater, no really nice hotel for out-of-town guests, and anyone who arrives by Greyhound on Sunday cannot even claim his luggage until Monday. These are facilities one expects in a town of this size.

'Let's Solve Problems With Golden Rule'

Shall we organize and demonstrate, as the Negroes have, on the unfairness of many practices in this City, State and Nation? Or shall we wait patiently to see what the next summer brings? Let's all put our golden rule to work and stop this endless bickering nonsense. Anyone second this motion?

Busing . . .

Chicago Tribune

The series of hearings on compulsory busing of Chicago school pupils has revealed intense opposition to the plan. Most parents want their children to attend schools in their home neighborhood. Busing schemes are favored only in areas where the schools are intolerably overcrowded.

Mrs. Lydon Wild, head of the school board committee which conducted the hearings, now says it would be futile to force busing on an area that doesn't want it. Other members of the board have come to the same view.

The sooner the busing plan is junked the better it will be for the schools, and we hope the board and the school administration have learned a lesson. Supt. James F. Redmond recommended the plan in an effort to meet objections raised by the United States office of education, which thinks race mixing will solve all educational problems. The worst effect of this doctrine has been to obstruct and delay practical efforts to improve the schools in low-income areas where many of the pupils are Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Redmond recently reported the results of standardized tests given to Chicago pupils. The scores showed that the achievements of most inner-city pupils were far below normal, while children in outlying schools often were above the national averages.

This illustrates the nature of Chicago's problem. Cleveland has not wasted time on compulsory busing schemes but has pushed a variety of programs to help underprivileged children.

Cleveland has greatly expanded vocational programs in the high schools. As a result 96 per cent of the graduates of seven inner-city schools have been placed in jobs in the last two years. In the same period the number of graduates going on to college has risen from 450 to 750.

The Cleveland schools have worked closely with industries to prepare pupils for jobs existing today, not for jobs that existed in former years. A warehouse and an office building donated to the school system by General Electric company are used for classrooms, and 10 manufacturing plants where pupils work part time are maintained in the same quarters.

There is no compulsory busing for race mixing purposes in Cleveland. Supt. Briggs dismissed the idea as "logistically impossible."

Redmond wants more physicians and psychologists, more speech improvement teachers, reading laboratories, and reading centers. He wants better mathematics and science programs. He promises more cooperation with Chicago industries, which have thousands of unfilled jobs.

★ ★ ★

His program calls for an increase in the school budget of 170 million dollars a year. There is no possibility that such a large sum can be obtained from local taxpayers, but some increase in revenue may be expected. When the money is apportioned, the pupils in inner-city schools should be given preference.

Proposal . . .

Boston Globe

Rep. James Haley (D-Fla.) was loudly applauded when he proposed the following treatment for flag burners:

"I'd take them 200 miles out on the ocean, tie an anchor around their necks, throw them overboard and let them swim to any country whose flag they can respect."

New Program to Lead to Sanitary Land-Fill Setup

City commissioners last night approved beginning a capital improvement program which will lead to a new sanitary land-fill operation expected to cost about $500,000.

★ ★ ★

The site of the land-fill is North of Collier Road in a parcel of land purchased in 1965 and annexed by the city from Pontiac Township shortly after the purchase.

Director of Public Works and Service Joseph P. Neipling said the operation, when completely developed, will meet the city's waste disposal needs for the next 20 years.

Commission approval of a .25-mill increase in the city's sanitation and waste disposal tax levy and approval of capital improvement spending will provide half the cost in 1968, he said.

The commission last week authorized increasing the sanitation tax levy — up to 2 mills is allowed by state law — from 1.75 mills in 1967 to 2 mills for this year.

SPENDING APPROVED

Commissioners last night approved spending $16,000 from the waste disposal system for fencing and landscaping to separate the land-fill from surrounding areas, now undeveloped, and taking bids for construction of necessary levees — expected to cost more than $100,000.

The levees will isolate the land-fill area from underground water stratum. This is necessary, Neipling said, to avoid polluting Galloway Creek and lake.

To complete development, he said, bids will be taken at the end of the year, for construction next year, for building necessary service buildings and facilities.

Until full development is realized in another six to nine months, he said, the city would continue to use its present land-fill on West Kennett.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the commission:

● Heard a report that the Oakland County Road Commission is considering closing West Boulevard from Oakland Avenue to the Oakland County Service Center.

● Approved rezoning 21 acres of land north of University Drive directly east of the Belt Line Railroad for construction of apartment units.

● Approved making a new Perry Drugs, Inc., store at 771 Baldwin — at a new shopping center at Baldwin and Montcalm — a pay station for city water and sewer bills.

INSPECT CROSSING

Officials of the Grand Trunk Railroad, County Road Commission, State Highway Department and the city met last week to inspect the West Boulevard crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway.

The crossing has been the scene of four accidents involving trains and vehicles in the last few years and one fatal crash last October.

The railroad has petitioned the road commission to close the street to traffic, but at the meeting, Neipling said, the company agreed that because of traffic problems a temporary closing of one year would serve its purposes until further study is made.

Neipling said the effects on traffic could be studied to see if permanent closing is warranted. Also discussed was consideration of an alternate route in the general area for traffic to transverse from the city to the county center.

A possibility, he said, would be a vehicular crossing on an extended Montcalm street.

A meeting to discuss costs of such studies will be held March 21, Neipling said.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the road commission would probably have to hold a public meeting before ordering the street closed for one year.

Post Is Filled on Hospital Trustee Board

J. L. Duke of 72 Glenwood was appointed to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees by the City Commission last night.

★ ★ ★

Duke is employed by Pontiac Motor Division but will retire this summer, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

He is a life-long resident of Pontiac. His term wil expire in July 1970.

Commissioners also heard a report last night that plans for new intern housing quarters for the hospital may have to be changed because of construction costs.

Bids for new housing were anticipated to be approximately $375,000, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

Six bids were opened last week and five were more than $433,000, he said. A sixth was submitted in error, he said.

Warren said plans will be studied by the architects designing the building to see if an alternate plan at less cost can be devised.

Proposal to Assume OCCEO Duties Dies; Rent Extension OK'd

District 2 City Commissioner Robert C. Irwin last night proposed that the city should take over operations now being supervised by the Oakland County Commission of Economic Opportunity under provisions of the federal law.

The proposal — which came during city commission discussion of continuing rent payments for the OCCEO North Center office quarters at 7 W. Lawrence — died for lack of support.

Irwin's resolution would have notified the federal government that the city intends to take over supervision of the program within the city by July 1.

★ ★ ★

Irwin said the city supervision would lead to greater control of the electorate over the Office of Economic Opportunity programs.

WOULD CONTINUE

The funding of the program by the federal government would continue, he said.

District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood indicated he was not ready at this time to back Irwin's idea but would study it and may vote for it in the future.

District Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. said such a proposal should be considered at some length before taking such a step.

the city has been paying to private owners of the building — about 10,000 square feet of office space — the rental charges since the inception of the OEO program in Oakland County.

LOCAL CONTRIBUTION

The payment is counted by the federal government, which funds the majority of the federal program, as local contribution.

Previously the government required 10 per cent local contribution for the federal funds. Under revisions of the act passed last year local contribution percentage has to be increased to 20 per cent this year.

Irwin criticized the program for involvement in politics, duplication of effort and lack of supervision.

He criticized a handbill which circulated late last year making charges about the death of Jimmie King, fatally shot by Pontiac police allegedly fleeing an abandoned stolen car on Dec. 7.

'LACK OF SUPERVISION'

He said the handbills, put out on OCCEO time by OCCEO employes, showed a lack of supervision. He also criticized the power of the OCCEO to control jobs in this area.

Under Irwin's proposal the program administered in Pontiac would cotinue to rely on federal funding.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said changes were made in the IEO act last year to allow cities to take over parts of the program affecting them rather than having the programs administered on a countywide basis by county commissions.

He said no city has yet applied to do so.

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, said any additional city burden would be foolish. "We haven't even been able to take on the administrative task of paying our rent on time" in reference to the fact that the city has not yet paid the rent on the OCCEO office this year.

Chairman Set for State Week

City commissioners last night appointed Clyle R. Haskill of 2640 Woodbine chairman of Michigan Week celebrations in Pontiac.

Haskill, a professional photographer, has been active in civic affairs in the city.

The Michigan week celebration will be held May 19-25. This is the 15th year for observing Michigan Week in the state.

A highlight of the week is mayor's exchange day May 20. On that day Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. will visit Ypsilanti while Ypsilanti Mayor John Burton will come to Pontiac.

Junior Editors Quiz on METRIC SYSTEM

QUESTION: Why is the metric system supposed to be so good?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: It seems simple to say there are ten ones in ten, ten tens in a hundred and so on. But when, for our measurement system, we say there are twelve inches to a foot, three feet to a yard and five and a half yards to a rod, the system becomes more complicated and difficult to learn.

The metric system of weights and measures resembles our simple number system. It takes one standard unit, the meter, and reckons up or down from this, always in exact groups of ten.

In our measurement, one meter would equal 39.37 inches, a little over a yard. In the metric system of length, ten meters equal one decameter, ten decameters equals one hectometer and so on.

The system is also used for measures of surface, volume, capacity and weight. Because all these uses are counted by tens, the metric system is more uniform and scientific than the one we use and is generally used by scientists all over the world.

Realize that the runner at top is winning a race of one hundred meters in the International Olympic Games, and you will understand how widespread the metric system it.

Migrant Workers' Lot Has Improved Little

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Any day now, a civilian army will start breaking camp in southern winter quarters and head north to work the fields that produce America's food and fiber.

First, vegetables and cotton will be planted in the southern latitudes from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

As the spring season moves north, so will the army. By the beginning of harvest-time, midsummer in some areas, more than 1 million person will be on the move.

These are migrant workers and their families — foot soldiers of the campaign to keep the nation fed and clothed.

They were at the very bottom of the economic heap; for the most part, their housing was miserable; sanitary facilities so rudimentary as to be unspeakable; education for their children practically nonexistent.

Have conditions changed materially since: Not noticeable. Here is what the Senate subcommittee on Migratory Labor said in a special report just issued:

"Despite their vital role in modern agriculture, particularly in filling the crucial needs at harvest time, our migrant citizens have been grossly neglected by society.

★ ★ ★

More often than not, in addition to low living standards, the influx of migrants to supplement loacl labor forces creates problems in the areas of health, education, sanitation and housing which the community is not equipped to meet.

FEW BENEFITS

"The statistics . . . indicating the low wages, unemployment, lack of education, poor housing, malnutrition, disease and lack of adequate medical and dental care tell only part of the story of the shocking degree of impoverishment of the migrant."

These workers, the report continued, have been "expressly excluded or at best only minimally included" in worker-benefit legislation, both federal and state.

Cited were such things as unemployment insurance, workmen't compensation, Social Security insurance, general welfare assistance, minimum wage standards, child labor protection and coverage under the national labor relations act.

Patient Man Fights Cacti

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — A.J. Burkett is patient in his private war. His adversary is beargrass and cactus. And he's been fighting for 60 years.

"Beargrass and cacti were put here on earth for a curse, and the Lord meant for them to be hard to get rid of," Burkett says. "But I think it can be done if a person will stay on the job long enough."

Burkett farms, ranches and runs a dairy herd. With other members of his family, he operates on 640 acres.

Burkett says that beargrass, a plant with spearlike spines, takes up moisture and crowds out grass in pasture land. Burkett says that he has seen cows with badly damages eyes from encounters with the needle-like stems.

Financing Plan to Be Offered

The Waterford Township Board of Education is scheduled to present its plan for financing the school district during the 1968-69 school year at the board's 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

A decision on whether to hold a millage election in the near future also is expected.

The plan probably will include school program reductions and other budget cutbacks for next year.

In December, Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe proposed $1.2 million in cutbacks for 1968-69 in an effort to balance the budget.

His recommendations were based on estimated increases of 5 per cent in state aid and 3 per cent in local property valuation.

Last month, a nine-member citizens' financial review committee recommended a spring election to renew the district's 15-mill tax authority and to add 7½ mills for operation.

In other business tomorrow night, the board is scheduled to review final plans for the proposed new administrative office building at 1021 Airport.

An existing school building located there is to be remodeled. An addition also is planned.

The board also will open bids for a 1,850-seat football grandstand at Waterford Mott High School. Estimated cost of the project is $65,000.

A progress report on an exemplary program at Crescent Lake Elementary School also is on the agenda.

NO COINS IN THE FOUNTAIN — A parking meter-turned-fountain gushes water in tribute to an unusual winter in Virginia, Minn. Lack of snow cover permitted frost to penetrate deeper than normal. The result has been a rash of broken water mains. Water from a broken main found its way up the hollow stem of the parking meter.

Supermarket, Gas Station Game Foes Get New Life

LANSING (UPI) — Opponents of supermarket contests and gas station games yesterday were assured of a fourth crack at outlawing the promotional gimmicks.

* * *

A bill declaring the games to be lotteries, illegal under Michigan law, was reported without amendment by the judiciary committee to the House floor for debate.

A similar bill failed three times last year, each time by a slim margin.

The bill's cheif sponsor, Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, said a ban on retail contests is "sorely needed by the independent businessmen" who run service stations.

He said that major oil companies are "bleeding Michigan gas station operators white" in the games.

LOSING MONEY

Montgomery headed a special committee that found, in 1966, that many service station owners were actually losing money during the promotions and that a "marked degree of coercion exists" to compel them into offering the game to their customers.

Any game where a customer has to make a purchase to participate, or go to the retail outlet to get his entry blanks or game cards, or has to be present to win a prize, or where the merchant has to buy the game paraphernalia would be termed a lottery under the Montgomery bill.

An Internal Revenue Service report shows 22 millionaires paid no income taxes for 1965 but 624 others averaged nearly $1 million apiece in tax payments.

Travel Tax Plan Inequity Cited

Even Countries With Excess Funds Are Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be possible for a U.S. tourist to travel abroad, add nothing to the balance-of-payments deficit and yet still get hit with the tax on overseas spending proposed by President Johnson.

This would apply to American tourists who confine their overseas spending to Ceylon, Guinea, India, Israel, Pakistan, Tunisia and the United Arab Republic.

* * *

These are countries in which the United States has an overabundance of local currencies sometimes called counterpart funds—which can be used by U.S. businessmen and tourists. Most of the currencies were obtained through sales of U.S. food to nations that couldn't afford to pay dollars.

* * *

U.S. embassies and consulates in those countries will exchange U.S. dollars for the local currencies without any extra charge and the dollars stay on the U.S. books. The balance of payments isn't hurt.

NO EXEMPTIONS

But officials said the travel tax legislation sent to Congress in February provides for no exemptions based on specific countries visited.

Any move in that direction, one source said, would only raise protests from other countries not covered by the exemption and could lead to retaliation against the United States.

* * *

Comparatively few U.S. tourists travel to the seven countries where counterpart funds are available to Americans. The big overseas attractions are European and Mediterranean countries, and the government has no excess local currencies there.

An American could buy a plane ticket on a U.S. carrier for a gfobe-circling trip and his fare would remain in the United States, adding nothing to the balance-of-payments deficit.

SUBJECT TO TAX

Under the administration's proposals his ticket would be subject to a 5 per cent excise tax. His destination wouldn't change that.

But by visiting only those seven countries and converting his dollars into local currencies at the U. S. Embassy, he could avoid any impact on the dollar drain through his spending. On returning to the United States, however, he would still be socked by a travel tax designed to reduce the balance-of-payments deficit.

Omaha Section Is Quiet After Looting, Violence

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Omaha's predominantly Negro Near North Side was quiet today, and police hoped the flash point for renewed racial disturbances had passed.

Beefed up police patrols kept watch over troubled neighborhood after an outbreak of some looting and vandalism and the fatal shooting of a 16-year-old Negro boy, who, officers said, attempted to break into a pawnshop.

* * *

The officers were aided by 60 volunteer peacemakers, who patroled the area. They stopped to talk when they spotted groups of young people congregating.

A spokesman said the volunteers urged possible troublemakers to "break it up, not to mingle too much and to keep it cool."

"I think we've helped out," said Charles Young, job developer for the Opportunities Industrialization Center. Young organized the volunteers, a group that included 20 clergymen.

Police confiscated four fire bombs early Wednesday from six Negro men they said were trying to dump the bombs out of a car. The six were booked on suspicion of disorderly conduct with bail set at $100 each.

* * *

The disturbances started with a demonstration in civic auditorium Monday night against former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, in town to launch his third-party presidential campaigning in Nebraska.

Later, police said, a group of some 300 Negroes—mostly youngsters—formed in the heart of the North Side district and about 10 stores were looted or damaged.

School Troubles Eyed

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — A representative of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission said yesterday high school students here had to deal with racial problems their parents could ignore.

"The high school is under considerable pressure," Donald Bauder, director of the commission's Pontiac region, said.

"Black students know the white students return to virtually all-white neighborhoods," he said. "White students know the black students return to neighborhoods that are all-black, virtually.

"The kids are asked to deal with problems of society that their parents have run away from," Bauder said.

RIOT LOOT IS ATTRACTION—Police had to turn away a large number of people who came to the Detroit Police Department garage yesterday to attend the second auction of loot recovered by police in last July's riot. This time, the main attraction was television sets. Lt. Fred Hotchkiss points to the successful bidder of a large-screen color set which went for $250.

'Superdog' Wanted for Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has set out to find a "superdog" for the Vietnam war.

Specifications call for the best possible purebred or crossbred animals that "can cope with a critical problem in Southeast Asia—tracking the enemy and alerting troops to mines, tunnels, booby traps and ambush."

Army veterinarians and geneticists, together with University of Maryland scientists, hope to evaluate from 500 to 1,000 puppies next year under this project.

Five types are being evaluated:

• Purebred Labrador retrievers, hunting dogs with excellent field control characteristics.

• German shepherds, which have been used by the U.S. Army in scout and sentry work.

• A cross between the Labrador retriever and the foxhound, combining the Laborador's field talents with the smaller breed noted for its sense of smell.

• Crossbred German shepherd and small collie with Labrador retriever for size and combined intelligence.

• Purebred standard poodles, for intelligence.

ANCESTORS TRACEABLE

Experts explain that a crossbred dog's family tree is traceable while the mongrel's background usually is unknown. Only crossbreeds are used in the Army-University of Maryland study.

Full evaluation of the dogs at the university's Canine Behavior Laboratory is performed in five stages and takes about 85 days. When the process starts, the dogs are 10 to 12 weeks old.

Afterward, the Army experts may decide to keep the best dogs as breeding stock.

Each Army brigade in Vietnam is supposed to have one scout dog platoon with up to 32 animals controlled by handlers.

Ideally, the platoon's point man—at the head of a column — would have a dog with him trained to range silently withing eyeshot and to give an alert of enemy presence, a mine or a booby trap.

The Army's Limited War Laboratory at Aberdeen, Md., has developed an electronic device to be hitched to a dog's harness to help in detecting the enemy.

But regardless of electronics, Army genetecists and other scientists decided more than two years ago that nothing beats the dog as a sensor.

Family Aid Merger Asked

LANSING (UPI) — Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken, calling for "fresh, bold approaches" to welfare, yesterday proposed an experimental program through which one agency would attack all a family's problems at once.

"This would include health, employment Head Start, tutoring, job training, housing — whatever was needed to start that family on a course which would end in self-sufficiency," Milliken said.

He said the experiment could be conducted in a typical Michigan county, one that is representative of the urban-rural population split, and that has a representative number of unemployed.

All existing resources — private, public and a combination of both — would be integrated under one agency to which families could go for all their needs.

Bare Bosoms, Buttocks Face Cover-Up in E. Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Two tribal traditions — bare bosoms among the belles and bare behinds among the braves — are drawing official frowns in this region.

A warning has gone out to the nomadic Masai, who wander the coastal territories of Tanzania and Kenya. They count their wealth in cattle, plaster their hair with bright red ochre. The men wear something akin to a Roman toga, called a shuka, which often exposes their buttocks.

★ ★ ★ ★

"It's time they picked up a few civilized habits, like wearing pants," said Tanzania's President Julius Nyerere.

"We have no time or place for such ancient and unhealthy customs."

'A LOUSY IDEA'

"It's a lousy idea to try and put pants on the Masai," said John Keen, a Masai member of the East African Assembly.

"There are plenty of other tribes in Africa with far scantier attire. I see no harm in a little bare buttock."

Nyerere says overexposure by African men and women may result in jail sentences and that the Masai herdsman may find himself being forcibly trousered.

★ ★ ★ ★

"This is nothing more than psychological castration," said one Masai member of the Kenya Parliament. "Any law which forces Africans, either men or women, to dress according to modern Western style, is humiliating — it labels us as savages."

While some African leaders press their people to discard revealing tribal attire, others are becoming increasingly alarmed by the modern African miss.

Influenced by Western magazines and films, teen-age girls in the central African countries of Zambia and Malawi have taken to tight-fitting sweaters, figure-hugging miniskirts, long-haired wigs, skin-lightening creams and other artificial beauty aids.

Gangs of youths, egged on by their leaders' suggestions that the girls were influenced by decadent white colonialists, took direct action.

Many a modern miss had her face painfully scrubbed. Tight-fitting skirts were torn off or lowered to ankle level. Those who sported artificially straightened hair were shorn.

"If you are born black you should be proud of it," he said, "You should not suffer from an inferiority complex."

The bulk of black Africa's population lives in dusty mud-hut villages where nudity is not considered a social crime and a loincloth is the most practical covering in the humid heat.

Senate Bill on Inciting Looting OK'd

LANSING (AP)—State senators passed one riot-inspired bill aimed at persons who incite looters, but postponed action on two others Tuesday pending further study.

Approved 34-2 and sent to the House along with 11 other bills was a measure making it a felony to incite another person to commit an act of larceny or burglary.

★ ★ ★

A person convicted of incitement to such a crime could receive the same punishment as though he had committed the larceny or burglary himself.

Postponed for the day were bills setting up a state police reserve and defining the crime of riot.

COURT BILL DELAYED

Meanwhile, Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, chairman of the judiciary committee, successfully moved to place the Senate's lower court reorganization bill at the bottom of the debate calendar until further notice.

Judiciary committee members currently are considering whether to try to pass their own court bill or to take up a substantially different bill recently passed by the House and to scrap the Senate version.

Committee members met Tuesday with Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare, sponsor of the House bill, and appeared generally agreeable to working with the House measure providing certain adjustments can be made.

The looter incitement bill was opposed by Detroit Negro Democrats Coleman Young and Arthur Cartwright.

BILL 'TOO BROAD'

"It's so broadly conceived that you could be put in jail for anything," Young said. "It'll probably wind up being declared unconstitutional."

Young asked that the riot definition bill be laid over for a day so he could study its potential effect on labor organizations.

"It's so loosely designed that it could apply to a picket line," he said. "It could also be used as a strike-breaking device."

The bill would make it unlawful and constituting the crime of riot for five or more persons, acting in concert, to wrongfully engage in tumultuous or violent conduct and intentionally or recklessly cause or create a serious risk of public terror or alarm.

Both bills are sponsored by Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson, chairman of a special Senate Crime Investigation Committee named after last summer's Detroit riots.

The bills were included in a package introduced as a result of the committee's studies.

She Never Nags, Raises Voice

Maybe He Just Can't Hear Right

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: One of the men in our office claims that in all the 31 years he has been married he has never had a fight with his wife. He says that she has never nagged him, questioned him, or contradicted him. And furthermore, he claims that he has never heard her raise her voice to him. Is this possible?

THE OFFICE GANG

ABBY

DEAR GANG: It's possible, but highly unlikely. Maybe there is something wrong with his hearing.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 30-year-old man who will be getting married in a large church wedding come June. My bride is 25, and we've been engaged for two years.

I was raised in a strict home where hand-holding in public was considered sinful, so perhaps you can understand why I can't see myself kissing my bride in front of all those people in church.

I am very inhibited when it comes to public demonstrations, but I am normal otherwise.

I have told my bride that I consider a kiss between a man and his beloved a very sacred and PRIVATE affair, and I do not intend to kiss her in front of all those people in church. She says everyone will be disappointed if we don't kiss.

I explained that if I were to give her a "token" kiss, people might get the impression that I am incapable of one more passionate, and they will feel sorry for her. And if I kiss her in public the way I kiss her in private we may be in for a lot of criticism. What do you suggest?

JUNE GROOM

DEAR GROOM: Of all the reasons for kissing after a marriage ceremony, not wishing to "disappoint" the onlookers is the poorest. It seems to me that you two could compromise without going to one extreme or the other.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a young woman with what I thought was a good marriage. We have two beautiful children and a lovely home.

My problem is my husband's constant companion. (I'll call him Alex.) Almost every night Alex calls here, and if he doesn't come over to spend the evening with us, my husband meets him somewhere. Usually at some bar.

If my husband and I go out together, Alex always joins us. When they are together, I feel like an intruder. Abby, I love my husband, but I am beginning to feel like a housekeeper. What should I do?

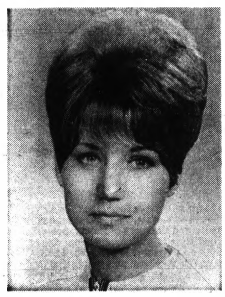
WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Have a talk with your husband, but remain calm, and don't become accusative or hostile. Ask him point blank what there is about Alex that he finds so fascinating. If your husband won't (or can't) try to be more of a husband to you, get professional help. Your doctor can advise you.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO J. AND D.: If you want to see less of a troublesome neighbor, lend him some money.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."



An early May wedding is planned by Carole Ann Braly and 1st Lt. Edward W. Liebzeit, USAF, graduates of Sacramento State College, Sacramento, Calif., and Michigan Technological University, respectively. Miss Braly is the daughter of the James W. Bralys of San Diego, Calif. Her fiance, who is the son of the Leroy W. Liebzeits of Oak Beach Street, is currently stationed at Pope Airfield Base in Fayetteville, N.C.

Armed Services' Bearers of Sad Tidings Never Find Their Duty Any Easier

By JEAN HELLER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Sgt. Maj. Paul Connolly fell into a moody silence as his driver steered their Army staff car through the longleaf pine woods of Ft. Bragg, N. C. Connolly felt vaguely sick to his stomach.

"The secretary of the Army has asked me to inform you of the death of your husband in Vietnam."

The speech was short and brutal. Its words hammered at Connolly's mind.

He was about to tell a 19-year-old girl with an infant that she was a widow.

"The Secretary extends his deepest sympathy to you and your family in your tragic loss."

Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, armed forces officers, chaplains and, on occasion, top-rated enlisted men like Connolly, face the same cruel job: Telling a family somwhere in this country that it has lost a son, a brother or a husband in the Vietnam war.

In a doctor's waiting room he explained as gently as he could what had happened.

Then came the numb silence, "the deadening part," Connolly called it, "when you can't say anything more and you can't walk away, so you just stand there and wait for the tears to come."

"It's hell," said Capt. Daniel Atkins who has served as a survivor assistance and notification officer at Ft. Benning, Ga. "You feel like hell when you go out and you feel like hell when you come back."

Armed forces help continues after notification. A survivor aids the family in collecting its government benefits. He explains how and when the serviceman's body will be shipped home, offers to make funeral arrangements and lends moral support.

Military families know about the program. In at least one respect, that makes the notification officer's job a little easier. "You don't really have to tell them anything," Connolly said. "When they see the staff car pull up with two uniformed men inside, they know.

"Once I had to tell a father that his son had been killed. He invited me into his house then turned his back on me and started poking at a fire in the fireplace. He knew why I had come and he knew I wouldn't tell him while his back was turned."

Notification officers agree that one of the most frightening things about the job is the uncertainty about how the next of kin will react.

"You just never know what to expect," said Capt. John L. Wissing, a Navy chaplain assigned to the Marine Recruit Depot at San Diego.

Notification officers also are responsible for reporting to the family of a serviceman missing in action or captured.

Lt. M. F. Willard, a chaplain at the Naval Air Station at Milamar, Calif., said that when he goes out on a notification of capture, he tries to tell the family very quickly that the serviceman is not dead.

"If a man is a prisoner, I usually tell the wife immediately, 'Calm down. To the best of our knowledge he's not dead,'" Willard said.

"If he is dead, the best thing is to let her get the emotion out and then calm down to a point where we can work with her and help her adjust to her situation."

But for the notification officer, there is no adjustment.

"When you're on this duty, every time the phone rings you think you're being called to go out on a case," said Capt. Donald B. McMurray, a notification officer at Ft. Benning. "You never get used to it.

"The first one I ever had came on a Sunday, on Mother's Day. I couldn't believe it. I couldn't believe that anybody could make a woman go through a thing like that on Mother's Day."

Many families say the notification and assistance officers are the biggest factors in the return of stability to their lives. They praise the officers' efficiency, kindness and unselfish donation of their time.

Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, officers, chaplains and sometimes top-rated enlisted men throughout the country face the job of telling a family it has lost a loved one in war. Once a family has been notified, there is made continual advice and assistance from the military. From Ft. Benning, Ga., Chaplain (Capt.) Fred L. Maddox (left) and Capt. Robert A. Balderson, Casualty and Survival Assistance Officers, talk with a young widow.

Top Post Goes to Mrs. Schjolin

New officers on the board of the County Federation will be Mrs. Carroll Knight of the Royal Oak Juniors, as corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles Siesel of the Oak Ridge Juniors, as treasurer; Mrs. Donald Pugsley of Pleasant Ridge Woman's Club and Mrs. Elmer Rowley of Hazel Park, directors.

A resolution supporting law enforcement officers was passed and the problem of more intensive driver education was discussed.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Q. I am not overweight. In fact I am on the borderline of being underweight. However, I have definite bulges where I do not want them and where they should not be.

For instance, I have a bulge on my tummy and even though it is small it is very noticeable because I am so slim in other measurements. I also have a little bulge on my outer thighlines. These stand out like red on a grey background for the same reason.

What am I supposed to do? Live with these alwyas? I do not want or need to lose any weight.

A. This is a typical example of how a woman can be the correct weight and even a little underweight and still have a figure which is out of proportion. Exercise is the only answer, and fortunately, it is an effective answer.

* * *

You can redistribute your weight with special exercises and bring your measurements into lovelier ratio. If any of my readers would like to have my free slimming exercises for the abdomen or thighs send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them. Address to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

* * *

Q. What can I do about an ingrown toenail? I have one which is so inflamed and sore that I can hardly wear my shoe. It is very red and mean looking.

A. To avoid ingrown toenails be sure that the toes of your shoes are not too narrow and cut your toenails straight across the top, not in an oval or rounded shape as you do your fingernails. With the condition you describe I think you should get expert treatment. See a podiatrist or a chiropodist.

* * *

Q. Is grey hair inherited?

A. It seems to be. In certain families the members seem to grey prematurely. In other families the opposite is true although there are exceptions in each case. Illness and prolonged emotional stress may also cause greying, but it does seem that the tendency is inherited.

* * *

Q. Do you approve of teenagers dyeing their hair?

A. Don't hate me, my teenage readers, but absolutely not, for several reasons! In the first place a good dye job is expensive and so is the upkeep.

Once you begin dyeing your hair, you have to keep it up or go through an unattractive period of letting your hair grow back to its natural color.

* * *

Also, with your youth, you don't need that kind of help. Besides it certainly is not good for your hair. Keep it well groomed. Enjoy the good looks of your youth and save the "props" for later on when they will add to your attractiveness.

Flower Talk

By Charles Coppersmith

FLOWERS ARE OUR HELPERS

The beauty and lovely fragrances of flowers are not all they offer in the order of things.

The school child knows the important function plants offer by absorbing carbon dioxide, and giving off life's oxygen in return. Let us not forget another helpful plant, the cotton blossom literally put the shirt on our backs for many, many years.

We still feel the joy of receiving flowers is one of the great pleasures of life. We put a little of ourselves into all our flowers . . . each order has our very special attention.

Bespectacled Beauties Can Win by Nose

The woman who'd love most to thatch her lids extravagantly with Fashion Lashes — the one who can't see to apply them without the aid of glasses — may think they are not for her.

But that's not so, according to beauty authority, Max Factor. Although his trick for outwitting this difficulty may sound like a Rube Goldberg invention, it's a good trick, because it works.

After all of your eye make-up has been applied, hang your glasses by one shaft over one ear, rest the frame half-way down your nose, and let the other shaft dangle.

That done, you're ready to peek through one lens with one eye while you apply the lashes to the other eye.

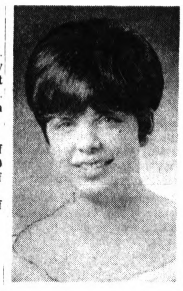
ONE-EYED

As Factor points out, if you work this way, you're doing virtually what a woman does without glasses. One of her eyes is also closed while she glues the lash-strip onto it.

He says that buying two sets of lashes at a time is as good an idea as buying two pairs of stockings. When and if you need one, there's a reserve on hand. The papers are full of stories about the plight of glamour girls who have to rush home or look one-sided because a lash-strip is lost and the eye is bereft of its glamour.



The engagement is announced of Susan Carol Hartung and Pvt. Keith L. Deaton, USA, who is serving in Korea. The bride elect is the daughter of Mrs. Walter Fernald of Stirling Street and Ray Hartung of Sashabaw Road, Independence Township. Her fiance is the son of the Dewey Deatons of West Princeton Street.

On August 16, Kathleen Ann Emery and James D. Jenks will speak vows. Their parents are the Leo D. Emerys of Edgewood Park Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Jenks of Adele Terrace, both Commerce Township. The prospective bridegroom received an Associates Degree from Northwood Institute and is now studying at Central Michigan U.

Fete the Beaches on Retirement

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer M. Beach Jr. of Exmoor Street were guests of honor at a retirement dinner Saturday evening.

God Enters Shabby Cafe to Save Girl's Life

By BUZZ TRENT
As told to Thea Trent

When I saw the trim launch Koa pass the lifeguard tower, I remember speculating to myself, "Those people have just arrived from the States, have plenty of money and have bought a new boat."

But it was only a passing thought. The whole shore line from Diamond Head to Honolulu was dotted with small boats, and the sea was rougher than usual.

TRENT

On this particular day I was chatting with the lifeguards before heading into the waves with my surfboard.

While I make my living in construction work, I am really a "water man." Surfing is my passion. Once you have ridden the crest of a 30-foot wave and held your balance on a dancing board, you have known an unforgettable thrill.

In time I became a skilled lifeguard, once even leaping out of a helicopter with my surfboard to rescue a man who had been swept out to sea on a riptide.

A MAN RUNNING

On this typically warm, dazzlingly blue and windy morning, I kidded around with the guards for a while, then went to my car to get my surfboard. Suddenly I saw a man running down the shore excitedly calling something to the guards.

I got in my car and drove along the shore. About a mile up the beach I saw a cluster of people around another lifeguard tower. Out in the water — a half-mile or so — several boats were circling.

"A boat capsized. They're looking for survivors," a man said.

* * * *

ACCIDENT REPORT

Hours later — it must have been almost noon — we got a report on the accident. The boat was the Koa. Frogmen had pulled out the bodies of a middle-aged man and woman.

I took my surfboard to the car, fastened it on the roof supports and drove down to a nearby cafe.

Inside I was about to order a hamburger when a thought hit me like at hunderbolt:

There had been three people in that boat!

I remembered seeing three figures as the Koa passed by. Vaguely one seemed youthful, like a girl.

THE ROCK

The events that followed now seem totally improbably. I dashed out of the cafe, ran to my car and, without really knowing why, drove back to the lifeguard tower opposite where the tragedy had taken place.

Into my mind then flashed the picture of the rock. It was out there a mile or so from shore, not too far from where the boat had capsized.

The rock was about 20 feet long and smooth, almost as if it had been polished. At low tide you could see it; at high tide it was less than a foot above water. Swimmers often made for it. Boats steered clear.

* * * *

But why should I think of the rock at this moment? I parked the car and dashed to the lifeguard tower. "Let me borrow your glasses!" I shouted.

FELT GOD'S PRESENCE

There was a faint white blur in the blue water.

Then I did the craziest and wildest thing of all. I ran down into the water and started swimming a fast crawl toward the rock.

Although not a religious man by practice, I am a believer. And I have felt the presence of God more in the water than anyplace else. Often I have asked God for strength when in a tight surfing situation — and He has given it to me.

* * * *

As I swam out toward the rock, I knew that for perhaps the first time in my life I was doing something in direct obedience to God. There is no other way to explain it.

SAW GIRL

The sun was low on the horizon when I got near enough to the rock to stop, tread water and catch my breath. There for the first time I saw the girl's lifeless form.

She was lying on her back on the rock, motionless. One of her hands was over her heart, and one trailed in the water.

Her face was ashen. I knew at once she was the third one on the ill-fated launch. She must have swum as long as her strength lasted, and then the sea took her and washed her on the rock, dead.

* * * *

I swung onto the rock, lifting her hand out of the water, and in doing so felt the faint beat of her pulse. She was still living! I bent to start resuscitation and in that instant her eyes opened.

MUST SWIM FOR IT

Suddenly she sat up, holding onto my arms. "The boat . . . Now I remember! Are my mother and dad safe?"

For about an hour I waited, hoping we could signal a passing boat. But boats steered away from the rock. Finally, I decided we would swim for it.

* * * *

I showed the girl that she must slip over my back and hold onto my shoulders.

MILD SHOCK

All went well; when we reached shallow water I got onto my feet and lifted her. Once again, those sea-blue eyes looked unafraid into mine. I placed her on the warm sand, told her not to move.

An ambulance was called, and I rode with her to the hospital. The doctor found she was unhurt, except for mild shock.

Later as I walked in the dusk to the edge of the sea, and saw the jewel of the Evening Star, I was struck by the events of the day. Not the rescue, that hadn't been so difficult.

* * * *

What staggered me was the realization that God had entered a shabby cafe, and given me the wordless command to search and find. It was the day I knew past all doubt that He was real.

Sheriff Tips Hat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Noting that his women officers have complained that uniform hats play havoc with bouffant hair styles, Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess announced Tuesday: "In the interest of fashion, I hereby approve that a hat shall not be part of the uniform."

King Confident of Support for March by Poor

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says he is confident he will get strong support for his plan to raise an army of the poor to camp in Washington.

"I am convinced we will have greater response to this than anything we've ever undertaken," King said after a recent trip to Mississippi and Alabama where he met mixed reactions.

* * *

King disclosed that he intends to camp with his poor people's army for at least two months in the nation's capital beginning about April 21, demanding action by Congress to provide jobs or income for the poor.

His initial search for support took him first to Mississippi for a session with Negro leaders and then to Alabama, where he began his civil rights career 13 years ago by leading a Negro boycott of segregated city buses in Montgomery.

OUT OF JOBS

Now again, King expects to enlist the masses: tenant farmers who have been kicked off the plantations; others out of jobs; the underemployed, and all the sympathizers who will join the army.

"We want you to sign up and say that you will go to Washington," King told a church rally at Selma, Ala., the setting for his 1965 voting rights drive that produced Congressional action.

* * *

"This isn't going to be an easy struggle," he acknowledged. The issue is not segregation, such as it was in 1963 when King led the Birmingham, Ala., drive that brought the Civil Rights Act of a year later. Nor, King said, is the issue political as it was in Selma three years ago.

"We are dealing with a class issue now," he said. It is the underprivileged against the privileged, King said.

'A MAMMOTH JOB'

"We are taking on a mammoth job."

King's two-day trip that included four stops produced indications of perhaps considerable middle - and upper - class financial support among Negroes, but at the same time a reluctance or outright refusal of some of the Negro leadership to join the campaign.

In tangible results King's staff collected some money and pledges for more at rallies and private meetings. Plans were made for a follow-up trip and some of King's aides talked of expanding their recruitment to 23 states.

* * *

One of King's closest associates, the Rev. Andrew J. Young, said after a private session in Edwards, Miss., "I would say the grass roots are for it 200 per cent, but the leaders raise questions about Congress, whether or not the country is too sick to do anything about it. There is a degree of despair among the leadership."

Reservations about the undertaking were expressed by Lawrence Guyot, chairman of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party which plans another challenge of the state's delegation to the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

"If it definitely involves poor people and addresses itself to economic deficiencies and the right to dissent," said Guyot, "then I would be in favor of it."

But Guyot said he opposed any "single purpose or political ends that are addressed especially to the U.S. Congress."

King's campaign seeks to create enough public support to pressure Congress into action on such proposals as a guaranteed annual income.

"Many groups are now in the mood for a guaranteed annual income," King said. "There is a national climate that is very healthy, but the Congress is not reflecting the mood of the nation. So we must go over the heads of Congress and appeal to the conscience or self-interest of the people."

Clambering into his chartered plane, King replied to some more questions. He said there would definitely be a march from Mississippi.

"There will probably be several," he said, "all ending in Jackson. Then we'll bus people to Birmingham and pick up the Alabama people, then bus them to Georgia and so on."

* * *

The plan, he said, would be to unload buses on the outskirts of a city and march the poor people's army through on foot. He said he hopes to get his first troops into Washington the day Congress reconvenes after a brief recess, about April 21.

King is counting on solid backing—in dollars—from Negro middle and upper class-es, while the masses join in demonstrations.

JOIN HANDS

"I'm asking the Negro 'haves' to join hands with the Negro 'have-nots'," King urged at Birmingham, Selma and Montgomery rallies. Negroes lined up to write checks in front of the pulpit at the Selma meeting.

King also intends to enlist poor whites, Mexican-Americans, Indians and Puerto Ricans. "We have staff right now working on Indian reservations," he said.

* * *

But in sharp contrast to the roughly clad workers who turned out to join his marches in past years, most of those attending the rallies were well dressed, apparently affluent.

It remains to be seen how much support or following King will receive for his poor people's march. But on his first foray for support, there was the feeling of a mass movement beginning again.

Town Is Left Without Doctor

MOJAVE, Calif. (AP) — This desert town of 4,000 is without a physician. Its only doctor moved out last Friday, saying he was afraid of "going broke." Dr. Theo Haun, after practicing more than four years in Mojave, said he found enough business but couldn't make it financially.

Residents now have to go 20 to 25 miles to Lancaster or Tehachapi for a doctor. The people of Mojave have launched a drive to build a medical clinic, which they hope will draw at least one doctor.

PIN-WORMS

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

DURLIN W. HICKOK

Vice President of Insurance Company Dies

Durlin W. Hickok, vice president-comptroller of the Michigan Mutual Liability Co. of Detroit, died Monday. He was 51.

Service will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at Church of Our Savior, United Presbyterian, Birmingham. Private burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Surviving besides his wife, Charlotte, are two sons, Durlin E. and Lee R., both at home; two sisters, including Mrs. Leroy Herbon of South Lyon; and a brother.

Memorials may be sent to the Church of Our Savior.

Hickok began employment with Michigan Mutual Liability Co. in 1937.

★ ★ ★

He was a member of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, the Insurance Accounting and Statistical Association, and a committee member of Franklin Hills Scout Troop No. 1011. He graduated from Wayne State University.

George Kuhn Ready to Lead Nixon Group

LANSING (AP) — Republican State Sen. George Kuhn of West Bloomfield Township said Tuesday he has offered to head Michigan legislators who wish to support former Vice President Richard Nixon as the GOP presidential nominee.

★ ★ ★

Kuhn, a first-term senator who headed the Oakland County for Nixon Committee in 1960, said he has written both Nixon and the former vice president's campaign chairman, Harry Bellmon, offering his services.

★ ★ ★

"I haven't had a chance to talk to too many people," Kuhn said, "but I know there is a fair amount of support here."

Kuhn said he believed "many of us in the Legislature and in the state" would be willing to support Nixon "now that Gov. George Romney has formally withdrawn from the race."

Romney withdrew from the GOP nomination race last Wednesday.

Several legislators have received inquiries from Nixon's Washington headquarters recently inviting them to join in a legislators for Nixon committee, Kuhn said.

Meetings are being held in various parts of the state by Nixon supporters, he said, to assess strength and pick a leader.

Police Action

Pontiac police officers and Oakland County sheriff's deputies investigated 86 reported incidents and made 14 arrests the past 24 hours.

A breakdown of causes for police action:

- Vandalisms—9
- Burglaries—9
- Larcenies—11
- Auto thefts—3

Pontiac Area Deaths

Benjamin F. Head

Service for Benjamin F. Head, 52, of 34 Forest will be 1:30 p.m. Friday at Sparks-Griffin Chapel with burial in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston.

Mr. Head, a welder at GMC Truck & Coach Division, died yesterday.

Orion Police Probe Burglary

Arrests Are Made in Other Recent Crimes

Lake Orion Police are investigating a burglary at Russ Johnson Motor Sales, Inc., 89 M24. An undisclosed amount of money was taken over the weekend, according to Police Chief Neal Leonard.

Other recent burglaries of village businesses appeared solved, he said, with two recent arrests.

Robert Schmidt, 29, of 95 E. Howard, Pontiac, is free on $2,000 bond from Oakland County Jail awaiting examination March 19 before Judge Helmar Stanaback on charges of breaking and entering.

The Lake Orion Police Department is prosecuting him in connection with the Nov. 18 burglary of Starlite Cleaners, 18 S. Broadway, in which $300 was reported taken and in connection with a robbery attempt Feb. 18 at Waltman's Bakery, 28 S. Broadway, the chief said.

The suspect reportedly was surprised by the owner who was in the bakery at the time the latter break-in occurred.

Robert Swies, 26, who gave his address as True Cabins, Lake Orion, is in Oakland County Jail awaiting examination March 19 before Judge Stanaback on a charge of armed robbery.

Father Kills Child Taken for Prowler

DETROIT (AP)—A 3-year-old girl who made her way down to her parents' basement bedroom early today was shot and killed by her father who said he mistook her for a prowler.

Rudolph Bledsoe, 41, told police he and his wife were awakened early today by noises in the house. He got his pistol and said that as the doorknob to his bedroom turned, the weapon discharged. The bullet hit the little girl in the head.

Milwaukee-U. P. Rail Line Ending

CHICAGO (AP) — The Milwaukee Road and the Soo Line announced Tuesday their jointly operated Copper Country Limiteds between Milwaukee and Calumet, Mich., will make their last runs Thursday.

The Interstate Commerce Commission approved dropping the trains which the companies said have been losing money because of poor patronage and loss of mail-handling revenue.

RECOGNITION DAY — Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner hands an Eagle Recognition Day certificate to Wayne Burling of 1070 Canterbury, a member of Explorer Post 9 sponsored by First Methodist Church. Some 235 persons attended last night's Eagle Scout Recognition banquet at the Oakland University Center. About 70 boys participated in the day's activities, which included each boy teaming with an area businessman to learn more about that man's profession.

Police Shoot Abductor After High-Speed Chase

EAST LANSING (AP) — A high-speed chase by Ingham County sheriff's deputies and State Police ended in the shooting Tuesday night of a 21-year-old man after he abducted a Haslett woman, police said.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell Makidon of Corunna was reported in serious condition in a Lansing hospital after police said they pursued him to a dead-end street and became involved in a gunfight after his hostage, Donna Williams, about 42, broke away.

★ ★ ★

Police said Mrs. Williams phoned them that there was trouble at her home. By the time police got there, they said, Makidon had forced Mrs. Williams in his car and driven off.

★ ★ ★

Officers said eight to 10 units from the State Police, sheriff's department and East Lansing Police finally caught up with Makidon. He got out of the car, they said, and held a gun to Mrs. Williams' head as he forced her into an empty police car. She broke out the other door, police said, and they began to fire after he refused to drop his gun.

No one else was injured in the melee.

Viet Mine Kills Japan Journalist

SAIGON (AP) — Hiromichi Mine, 27, a prize-winning Japanese photographer for United Press International, was injured fatally Tuesday when an armored personnel carrier in which he was riding struck a road mine.

He was the 11th journalist killed covering the Vietnam war. Scores have been wounded.

Mine, from Tokyo, was traveling with the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division between Hue and Phu Bai, in northern South Vietnam when the vehicle struck a mine, overturned, exploded and caught fire.

Descriptions of the disease we call tuberculosis have been found in writings dating from about 400 B.C.

Tornado-Preparedness Meeting Held

EAST LANSING (AP) — Warning that tornadoes strike unexpectedly and fiercly and can take a heavy death toll, Michigan Civil Defense officials say they are making plans for dealing with tornado disasters this spring.

Representatives of the major state departments, the U. S. Weather Bureau and the federal Civil Defense and Emergency Planning agencies attended tornado preparedness meeting Tuesday in Lansing.

The meeting with representatives of all the major state departments was to make sure that everyone knows his job," said Capt. Edward Lenon, head of the State Police Civil Defense Division.

Michigan has been hit by 194 tornadoes during the past 14 years, an average of almost exactly 13 a year.

AS EARLY AS MARCH

The majority of the tornadoes hit in April, May, June and July, Lenon said, although a stray tornado may wander in as early as March.

Michigan's worst tornado toll in recent years came when two twisiters hit on June 5 and 6, 1963, and left 125 dead in southeastern Michigan. Flint was the hardest hit in this disaster. In the Palm Sunday tornado that swept through Branch, Hillsdale and Lenawee counties on April 11, 1965, 53 were killed.

★ ★ ★

"Now is the time of the year," Lenon said, "that schools should be conducting tornado drills just as they do fire drills."

The Michigan Civil Defense Agency distributes material on tornado preparedness. Best general advice is to go to a protected part of a basement and stay away from windows.

Local officials are urged to remind citizens of the signal that means a tornado warning — whether a siren or whistle and how many blasts are sounded.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Weather Bureau, Lenon reminded, has a new system for tornado alerts. The first warning is called a tornado watch and indicates a tornado might be expected. A tornado warning is issued only when a tornado actually has been sighted.

The bot fly averages about 50 miles an hour on long flights.

Indian Ills Tied to Paternalism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says the U. S. government has in many cases destroyed Indians "as surely as the American Army killed them in the 19th Century."

★ ★ ★

The New York Democrat put major blame for the plight of the Indians on what he called a national "paternalistic attitude" toward them. The government, he said, has done virtually nothing to make Indians self-reliant.

"This is so barbaric it shouldn't be tolerated," Kennedy said.

Levin Blasts Social 'Drift'

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Democratic chairman took both Republican and Democratic leadership to task Tuesday for what he called "drifting" in attempts to solve major social issues.

"The record of accomplishments on major social issues since the beginning of 1967 has been lackluster," Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, told some 600 delegates to the Michigan Welfare League's annual legislative forum.

Citing proposed state legislation for fair housing, low-income housing, improvements in slum housing, and special education for inner-city children, Levin said, "No matter what the program, if it was aimed at the root causes of civil disorder, it did not pass."

Leveling his sights on the Romney administration and Republican lawmakers, Levin said, "Clearly much of the blame must be placed on the executive leadership, and on those in control of the Legislature, who have allowed this drift to continue while our society is threatened.

"We in the minority party have also failed," he added, "because for the most part we have let this drift go unchallenged, to go unnoticed."

Officer Calls Hue, Not Khe Sanh, Next Red Target

SAIGON (AP) — A senior U.S. officer said Wednesday he believes the battle-ruined city of Hue and not Khe Sanh is the next objective of the North Vienamese forces.

"I don't rule out an attack against Khe Sanh," the top-ranking military source said, "buy my impression is that he (the North Vietnamese) has a greater interest in Hue.

The senior officer, who asked that his name not be used, said the North Vietnamese also were interested in capturing Quang Tri city, capital of South Vietnam's northernmost province.

FOUR DIVISIONS

Like Hue and Khe Sanh, Quang Tri is in the frontier area where the North Vietnamese have deployed four divisions — about 40,000 men — plus some local Vietcong units.

The military source, who has access to highest intelligence information, said the North Vietnamese have "better than a division" or more than 10,000 men deployed around Hue.

The city, the 19th century imperial capital of Vietnam, was captured by the Communists Jan. 31 in their lunar new year offensive against cities and towns. The allies recaptured it in the fiercest sustained battle of the war, which lasted through nearly all of February, but much of the city of 140,000 now is in ruins.

The objective in a second Communist attempt to capture Hue would appear to be to gain a psychological victory and to seize a major city that would be a gateway and base to the South.

Information on the new threat to Hue and the massing of a North Vietnamese division near it was reported to have come largely from prisoners taken in the Hue fighting and captured documents.

Robbs Move; Viet Duty Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says President Jonnson's daughter Lynda and her husband, Marine Capt Charles S. Robb, have moved in for "a couple of days" prior to travels across the country that will wind up with Robb's departure for Vietnam duty.

'Riot Radio' Ban Possible

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said yesterday the Legislature could enact laws to outlaw use of radios operated by rioters to listen to police and fire calls.

Kelley said the Legislature "may enforce such prohibitions by appropriate action" which are not directed at regulating commerce or preempted by the federal government.

He said only the federal government can require radio transmitters and receivers to be registered or licensed.

Sen. Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, who asked for the opinion, has introduced a bill to make it illegal for any person to possess a radio transmitter or receiver outside his home.

Millionaires in Senate Enhance 'Most Exclusive Club' Status

This is the finding of an Associated Press survey of senators and their associates, back home and in Washington.

★ ★ ★

In a private conversation he estimated that 30 of his colleagues—or almost one third of the senators — were worth a million dollars or close to it.

AVOID PUBLICITY

Most politicians avoid publicizing their wealth and the sources of it.

Despite annual demands—and the inevitable drives after such scandals as the Thomas Dodd case — the Senate, as well as the House, has refused to pass a law requiring members to disclose financial holdings, dealings and worth.

★ ★ ★

In some cases a senator widely believed in his home state to be a millionaire denies that he is.

LAND HOLDINGS

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Democratic whip and chairman of the finance committee, is believed to be a millionaire by the homefolk. They point to land holdings, oil stock and a Baton Rouge law firm.

Asked about this, Long replied ambiguously:

"I have never actually submitted a statement of worth that showed $1 million."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, senior Republican on the banking and currency committee and former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, has been ranked as a millionaire.

OWNS FIRM

He owns a firm that manufactures paint and distributes glass and also has an auto dealership. But he says reports that he is a millionaire are in error.

Among the acknowledged millionaires: the brothers Kennedy — Robert F. of New York and Edward M. of Massachusetts.

Their father Joseph Kennedy's fortune was estimated at $300 million in 1963. One half was reported to be in trust funds for the Kennedy children and grandchildren.

★ ★ ★

Both Maryland senators — Democrats Daniel B. Brewster and Joseph D. Tydings — are of wealthy families.

NOT YET

Tydings says he does not consider himself a millionaire, yet. Brewster acknowledges he is.

"My net worth exceeds $1 million," Brewster said. "It is comprised of trust funds that I inherited and certain business and real estate interests that I developed when I was practicing law. I ended my practice of law when I entered the Senate."

Percy, elected to the Senate in 1966, started as a stock boy in Bell & Howell and left as board chairman.

Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., says his fortune was inherited and supplemented through investments. He is a limited partner in the brokerage firm of Auchincloss, Parker and Redpath.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., a former assistant secretary of state and GOP national chairman during the Eisenhower administration, acknowledges he is a millionaire.

In 1966 Morton said he had $1,170,000 in Pillsbury Mills stock and that he and his wife had trust accounts of about $1.2 million.

NET WORTH

Hawaii Republican Hiram Fong issued a financial statement prior to his 1964 reelection which estimated his net worth at $2 million.

Fong is president of Finance Factors, Ltd., an industrial loan firm, and is a founder of the law firm Fong, Miho, Choy and Robinson.

Virginia Democrat Harry F. Byrd Jr. has holdings which include controlling interest in two daily newspapers and one weekly in Virginia and interests in large apple growing, packing and processing operations as well as other businesses.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., is considered a self-made millionaire.

According to local sources and Who's Who, Jordan is general manager, secretary treasurer and director of Sellers Manufacturing Co., a cotton mill; secretary treasurer and director of the Jordan Spinning Co.; president, treasurer, general manager and director of Royal Cotton Mill Co., and director of various other firms including the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. of Winston-Salem.

Both Missouri senators — Democrats Edward V. Long and Stuart Symington — are reputed to be millionaires.

VARIED BUSINESSES

In addition to being a lawyer, Long is in farming and the small loan, banking and insurance business.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Aeronautical and Space committee, owns an insurance business. An aide said the senator is a millionaire.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., had been in the millionaire class, according to his own statements of worth, until his divorce last year.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Georgia associates of Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., think it very likely that Talmadge is a millionaire, partly from the value of large tracts of land. Mrs. Talmadge also had built what is described as a profitable business selling country hams and sausage. But aides said Talmadge was not quite a millionaire.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., is a wealthy planter and also a lawyer. He is said to have large land holdings in the Mississippi Delta where he lives. An aide said he didn't know whether Eastland was a millionaire.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., is not a millionaire. But his wife is the former Jane Briggs, daughter of the late Walter Briggs who left his five children $25 million.

Home-state friends of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., expressed belief Magnuson might be a millionaire. An aide of Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said no.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., is considered well off. An aide said the Fulbright family might be worth a million or more. The family owns a newspaper, a bottling plant and a wood plant which turns out furniture.

But an aide noted that six shared in the family interests and expressed strong doubt Fulbright's share would be worth a million.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., is considered well off. Whether he is a millionaire is subject of debate. Paul O'Dwyer, lawyer and former political foe of Javits, says he believes the senator is. O'Dwyer cites Javits' former partnership with his brother Benjamin in a law firm and his current partnership with the firm of Javits, Trubin, Sillcocks, Edelman and Prucell.

★ ★ ★

A political friend, State Atty. Gen. Louis Lefkowitz, expressed doubt Javits was a millionaire. He said the millionaire in the family is brother Benjamin.

Discover Goodness of Mushrooms

BAKED STUFFED MUSHROOMS

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Have you become a fresh mushroom fan too? We can't seem to get enough of them and have developed a great fondness for raw mushrooms.

Sixteen growers in eastern Oakland, Macomb and Lapeer counties grow many of the cultivated mushrooms sold in metropolitan Detroit. Nine million pounds are also canned here.

Although mushrooms are temperamental to grow, they are simplicity itself to prepare.

★ ★ ★

Never, but never peel a mushroom Wipe the surface with a damp paper towel to remove any dirt and cut a bit off the stem if you like. But you're throwing away good food and doing something unnecessary when you peel mushrooms.

Nothing grows in more sterile conditions than mushrooms. The best comparison I can make is to a premature babies' nursery.

We have been taught to pick out firm white mushrooms. That advice is still good, but you can use mushrooms spotted with brown and that have opened a bit. These are the kind you put into sauces, soups or casserole dishes.

Inciden tally, size has nothing to do with quality. A large and a small mushroom may be the same age. Pick the size best suited to the purpose for which you're buying.

Serve raw mushrooms for the appetizer course with your choice of dips. Marinate raw mushroom halves at least half an hour in real french or Italian dressing and serve as relish or salad.

Mushrooms Take Well to Freezing

Commercially frozen mushrooms are available and may be cooked just like fresh ones. Or, when fresh mushrooms are very attractively priced, buy an extra supply and freeze for future use. Frozen raw, they will keep a month. If blanched by steaming or boiling, they will keep longer than a month.

The mushroom growers say, "Please don't overcook mushrooms." Sauteing them is the best and easiest method. Here are the experts' directions:

Heat large surface skillet or griddle. Add enough butter or margarine to coat surface generously. Continue adding butter as needed.

When very hot, but not dark brown, sliced or whole add mushrooms. Place them in one layer, not touching. They should begin to sizzle immediately. Watch carefully.

As soon as the edges begin to brown and centers take on that clear quality, turn each one and lightly brown other side. Takes about 4 minutes.

Lift out onto soft paper toweling. Dust lightly with salt or add a pinch of ginger if mushrooms are for cocktails.

Whole caps are browned on the roond side first. Drain canned mushrooms well in sieve, then on soft paper and saute in the same way as fresh. But they must always be dry before cooking.

Put Mushooms in Vermicelli

Complement your next pot roast of beef with Vermicelli with Mushrooms, a pleasing combination of thin spaghetti browned-in-butter and cooked in bouillon with canned sliced broiled mushrooms.

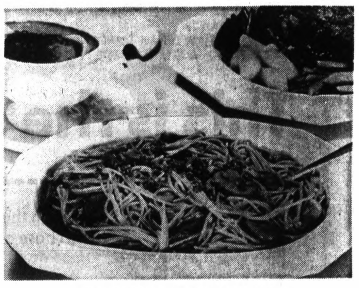
No time to fix pot roast? A pressure cooker will do the trick in minutes rather than hours and by brushing the meat first with kitchen bouquet, the bottled browning sauce, you may eliminate the initial step of browning the meat in fat and still have a well-browned savory, fork-tender pot roast.

VERMICELLI WITH MUSHROOMS

1 cup vermicelli or thin spaghetti broken into 1-inch pieces
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ cups water
1 beef, chicken or vegetarian bouillon cube
1 can (3 oz.) chopped or sliced broiled mushrooms
Chopped parsley

In a large skillet, brown vermicelli slowly in butter; stir frequently so vermicelli browns evenly. Add water, bouillon cube and mushrooms including broth.

Bring to a boil and cook uncovered, stirring now and then, until vermicelli is tender and liquid is absorbed, about 15 minutes. Garnish with chopped parsley. Serve with beef, chicken or fish. Makes 4 servings.



VERMICELLI WITH MUSHROOMS

Stuff Mushroom Caps and Bake Briefly

Poultry seasoning is an excellent addition to dishes other than fowl and their stuffings. This classic blend of sage, savory, marjoram, thyme and rosemary is compatible with other foods, including vegetables.

For an appetizer course, have you ever served fresh mushroom caps filled with a delctable combination of chopped bacon, nuts and poultry-seasoned bread crumbs?

BAKED STUFFED MUSHROOMS

24 medium-sized mushrooms
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ Cup dry bread crumbs
¼ cup sliced Brazil nuts
2 strips crisp cooked bacon, crumbled
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
¾ Teaspoon salt
½ Cup chicken stock or water

Wash mushrooms and remove stems, leaving caps intact. Brush caps with lemon juice. Set aside.

Mix minced onion with 1 teaspoon water, let stand five minutes to soften. Chop mushroom stems (there should be about ¾ cup); saute in butter with onion about 3 to 4 minutes.

Combine sauteed mushrooms with bread crumbs, nuts, bacon, poultry seasoning and salt. Mix well. Add stock to moisten (about 6 tablespoons). Stuff mixture into mushroom caps.

Place in buttered casserole with 2 tablespoons stock and-bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Sauce Will Use Leftover Stems

If you are using mushroom caps, don't toss out the stems. Make mushroom sauce which is good on fish or other vegetables.

MUSHROOM SAUCE

¼ cup butter
2 teaspoons grated onion
2 cups coarsely chopped mushroom stems
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk

Make as you would a white sauce. Saute the onion and mushroom stems in the melted butter.

Incidentally, when a recipe calls for one pound of fresh mushrooms, you can used one quart whole raw mushrooms, 20-24 fresh mushroom or one 6 or 8-oz. can of mushrooms.

Mushrooms Are Big Stars as Appetizers

MUSHROOMS MARINATED IN WHITE WINE

dry white wine
olive oil
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 large bay leaf
3 whole cloves
freshly ground pepper
dash of tabasco
1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley salt
clove of garlic

Remove caps from stems and wipe with damp paper towel. Place in a bowl. Cover generously with the wine. Cover and let stand for 2 hours in refrigerator.

Drain off wine. Place mushrooms in a jar and add rest of ingredients. Close jar and let mushrooms stand for 3 days in refrigerator. Serve on toothpicks.

MUSHROOM AND WINE DIP

1 can (4 oz.) finely chopped mushrooms
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
1 teaspoon minced green onion
1 teaspoon finely minced parsley
4 drops Tabasco sauce
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ cup sherry
2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Creamer Adds Smooth Touch to Souffle

Most vegetables are indeed poor relations of the lofty mushroom. The Pharaohs of ancient Egypt reserved them for their own use, considering them much too good for the common man. Roman Emperor Nero called them "the relish of the gods."

All through history, epicures have savoured mushrooms, considering them a rare delicacy.

This is the season to try new tricks and treats with mushrooms . . . a treat such as the high and handsome Mushroom Souffle, featured here.

Thanks to the convenient, powdered creamer, used in place of perishable fresh cream, this gourmet-minded dish cannot be surpassed for delicateness of flavor and creamy richness.

MUSHROOM SOUFFLE

6 tablespoons butter
1 pound fresh mushrooms, chopped
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup non-dairy creamer
1½ cups boiling water
6 eggs, separated
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Combine flour, salt and pepper; blend into juices in skillet; cook and stir 1 minute. Add creamer and boiling water all at once, beating with wire whip to blend. Increase heat to moderately high; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens.

Beat egg yolks well and add with Parmesan cheese to sauce. Blend sauce into cooked vegetables. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form; fold into mushroom mixture.

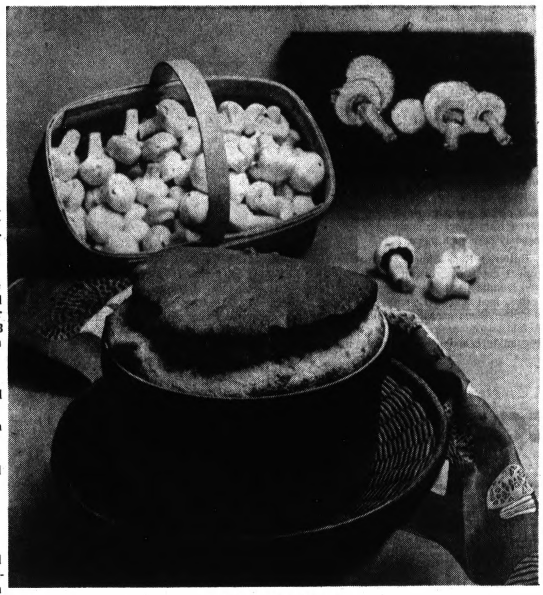
Pour into a lightly buttered, 1½-quart souffle dish. Set dish in a pan of hot water, and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.



MUSHROOM SOUFFLE

Spirited Dish Is Good Topping for Rare Steak

MUSHROOMS FLAMBEED IN RUM

1 lb. mushrooms
6 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
2-3 tablespoons rum
½ cup heavy cream

Slice mushrooms (this can be done ahead). Shortly before serving, melt butter in heavy skillet or in chafing dish.

Add mushrooms, spinkle with salt and paprika. Saute until mushrooms are lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Turn off heat.

Immediately add rum to hot pan, set aflame. Spoon up to keep flame burning as long as possible.

When flame has burned out, slowly stir in heavy cream.

Serve with steak or on toast.

Fix Yellow Rice Without Saffron

Ersatz Yellow Rice

1 cup converted-type rice
2¼ cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon turmeric
2 tablespoons butter

Into a 1½-quart saucepan, turn the rice, boiling water, salt, turmeric and butter. Stir so that turmeric colors the rice evenly and butter melts. Bring to a boil; cover tightly and cook over low heat until rice is tender and water is absorbed—25 minutes.

Serve at once; or reheat over boiling water. Makes 4 servings.

Crust of Peanuts Gives Variety to Hamburgers

Most folks don't realize it, but peanuts are ranked as one of the six basic U.S. farm crops, along with wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco and rice. Today's Spanish peanuts are more flavorful than ever, as well as abundant and economical.

You can still buy them fresh-roasted and fragrantly warm at nut counters and variety stores everywhere. And of course they are available in various sizes, freshly packed in cellophane bags and cans at supermarkets, so you can enjoy their old time goodness all year round.

Aside from snacking, there are countless ways to serve this traditional American favorite throughout the entire day. Their crunchy goodness enhances the flavor of many main dishes, and can transform an old standby into a new exciting entree.

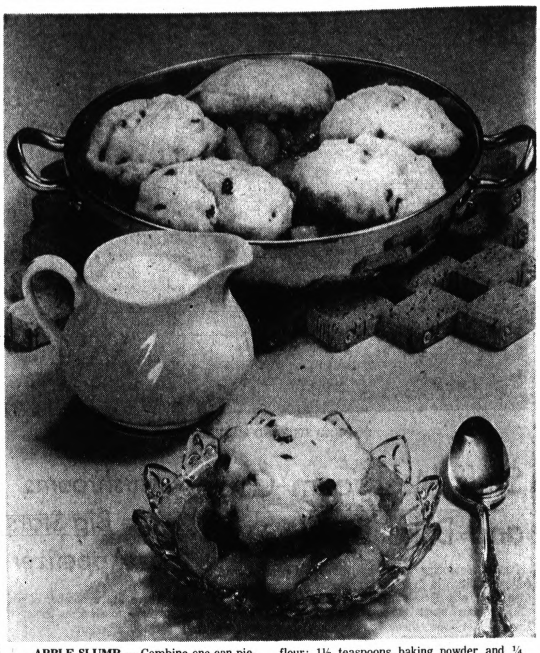
If you want to see what they can do for plain chopped beef, try Peanut-Crusted Hamburgers. These burgers are crunchy on the outside, while their peanut coating seals in all the beef juices.

Peanut Crusted Hamburgers

2 lbs. ground chuck
2 eggs
1 small onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
½ cup melted butter or margarine
1 cup finely chopped Spanish peanuts

Combine chuck, eggs, onion, garlic, salt, pepper and parsley. Shape meat into 8 patties about ¾ inch thick. Brush patties on both sides with melted butter. Roll patties in chopped peanuts.

Put remaining butter into a large skillet and brown patties on both sides over medium heat. Lower heat and continue cooking until meat is cooked to desired degree of doneness. Serve on toasted buns with ketchup or relish. Makes 8 servings.



APPLE SLUMP — Combine one can pie-sliced apples and their liquid with ¾ cup sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon and half a teaspoon nutmeg in 9-inch skillet. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils. Cream together 2 tablespoons softened butter and ¼ cup sugar. Mix 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1½ teaspoons baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add to creamed mixture and blend well. Add ¾ cup milk gradually and blend well. Stir in one-third cup raisins. Spoon on top of simmering apple mixture. Cover and simmer 15-20 minutes or until dumplings are done. Makes 6 servings.

Use a Mix for Buttery Nut Rum Cake

How are we ever going to keep our calorie count down where we know it should be with a recipe like this new one from the California almond growers' food consultants?!

"Almond Cake with Buttered Rum Sauce" is just what the name says, but you'll have to read the recipe before you can imagine what a lip-smacker of a dessert this is.

The cake part is surprisingly rich tasting for a cake made with biscuit mix and would be satisfactory all by itself. But the "Buttered Rum Sauce" does make it slide down easier and with a big bonus in a hard-to-beat flavor combination, butter, brown sugar, vanilla and rum.

You'll like the bits of crunch that roasted diced almonds give to the cake—not to mention that marvelous roasted almond flavor.

We can go back on our diets tomorrow!

ALMOND CAKE WITH BUTTERED RUM SAUCE

½ cup melted butter or margarine
⅓ cup milk
1 egg
1¾ cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup diced almonds, roasted
¼ cup dark corn syrup
Buttered Rum Sauce

Buttered Rum Sauce

Water
¼ cup brown sugar (packed)
1 piece (2-inch) vanilla bean
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 teaspoons rum (or ½ teaspoon rum extract)
2 tablespoons butter

Blend 2 tablespoons melted butter, milk and egg in bowl; stir in biscuit mix until it forms a soft dough. Roll out on floured board into 12x6-inch rectangle; brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter and sprinkle with the sugar and cinnamon.

Roll up, starting from one long side and cut into twelve (1-inch) slices. Put slices cut-sides down in greased 9-inch round cake pan.

Blend remaining ¼ cup melted butter with almonds and corn syrup; spread over rolls in pan. Bake at 375 degrees 30 minutes.

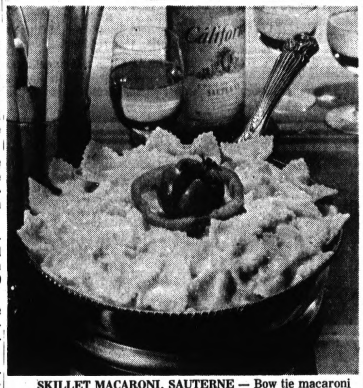
Buttered Rum Sauce: Combine 1 cup water, brown sugar and vanilla bean in saucepan; cover, heat and boil gently 10 minutes. Blend cornstarch with 2 tablespoons water, stir into hot mixture and cook, stirring until thickened. Stir in rum and butter until melted.

Makes 6 to 9 servings.



SKILLET MACARONI, SAUTERNE — Bow tie macaroni and cheese becomes newsworthy with the addition of California Sauterne. It gives this old family favorite a lot of distinction. Accent the flavor still more by pouring glasses of the same wine, well chilled, as the beverage accompaniment.

Paprika Spices Chicken Dish

Hungarian Chicken Paprika is a cold-weather classic, the National Broiler Council reminds us. Sprinkle 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces, with 1 teaspoon each salt and paprika. Brown in butter in skillet over high heat, add ½ cup water, cover, and simmer for 40 minutes.

Remove chicken to platter, stir ½ cup sour cream into pan juices, and heat for 3 more minutes. Stir in ¼ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon paprika and spoon over chicken. Serve with broad noodles. Makes 4 servings.

White Wine Improves Prosaic Dish

If you'd like to add a little magic to your cooking, a prosaic dish like macaroni and cheese is a rewarding place to start. True, it's hearty, flavorful, and healthful, but as it appears on most dinner tables, it lacks style. Add wine and you will have a casserole fit for a party.

Whenever wine is used as a flavoring in a cooked dish, the alcohol vanishes as the food is heated. This is as true of a casserole that bakes in the oven as of a sauce or a stew that cooks on top of the range. The flavor that remains is a blend of the wine and all other ingredients.

Skillet Macaroni, Sauterne

3 cups bow tie macaroni
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter
1½ tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
¼ cup California Sauterne, Chablis or other white dinner wine
1½ cups grated Cheddar cheese

Saute onion and green pepper lightly in butter. Blend in flour and salt. Stir in milk, and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce boils and is thickened. Stir in wine and cheese, and heat slowly until cheese melts.

Drain macaroni, add to sauce and mix lightly. Heat together slowly a few minutes. Makes 4-5 servings.

Salmon Loaf Can Be Different

The importance of including much needed protein in family meals has been firmly established in our minds, not only for good nutrition, but for body and muscle building and for weight reduction. This is the time that we need simple, well-flavored, high protein and economical dishes.

Impossible? No. Seafood of all kinds serves these needs perfectly, and canned salmon is not only one of the best seafoods, but certainly one of the most nutritious, delicious and attractive.

In addition to its complete protein content, it's rich in vitamin and minerals, especially calcium, which is essential in youth as well as in adulthood and invaluable for senior citizens. It gives ordinarily drab foods, new flavor, color and food value.

Actually there are so many wonderful ways to use canned salmon in family meals that it is hard to know where to begin, but salmon loaf is one of the best and the following recipe is not only different in texture and flavor but different in shape.

The combination of fresh apple, canned salmon and cheddar cheese is truly delicious. It's easy, it's low in calories per serving and it's economical. What more could one ask for?

APPLE SALMON LOAF

Serves 4

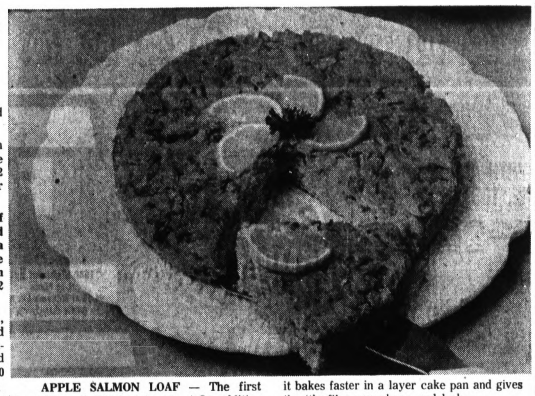
½ cup crumbled cornflakes
½ cup shredded cheddar cheese
4 tablespoons melted butter
1-pound can salmon
½ cup liquid from salmon plus milk to measure 1 cup
2 eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup shredded apple (1 large red apple, unpeeled and cored)
3 tablespoons minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground pepper
1 cup stale, but not dry, bread crumbs

Line an 8-inch layer cake pan with waxed paper. Combine cornflakes, cheese and 2 tablespoons of the melted butter and spread in bottom of pan.

Drain liquid from can of salmon into measuring cup and add enough milk to make a total of ½ cup liquid. Combine this liquid with eggs, lemon juice and the remaining 2 tablespoons butter.

Combine salmon, apple, onion, salt, pepper and bread crumbs. Stir in liquid ingredients. Pack into prepared pan and bake in preheated 350 degree oven for 45 minutes.

Let sit for 5 minutes before unmolding onto warm serving plate. Garnish with slices lemon and parsley.



APPLE SALMON LOAF — The first new-flavored fish loaf in years! In addition it bakes faster in a layer cake pan and gives the "loaf" a new shape and look.

Kids Like Cereal Crunch

Here's one of those easily made confection recipes cherished by young cooks because it is rich, chewy, and as nearly failure-proof as any candy can be.

The recipe makes use of virtually any of the presweetened puffed or flaked breakfast cereals which happen to be in the kitchen. Even unsweetened ready-to-eat cereals won't go amiss here.

Caramel Cereal Crunch

25 light caramels
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 cups large marshmallows (50), cut into quarters
¼ teaspoon salt
6 cups presweetened cereal, corn flakes, puffed wheat or rice
1 cup salted peanuts

Melt caramels and butter or margarine in large saucepan over low heat. Add marshmallows and salt; heat and stir until marshmallows are melted. Add cereal and peanuts; stir until cereal is well coated with caramel mixture.

Pour into buttered pan (13x9x2-inch). Press lightly into an even layer. Cool. Cut into small bars 1½ inches long and 1 inch wide. Yield: 78 pieces.

SIMPLE SOUP SUPPER — Hearty and nourishing is this quick-to-fix chowder. In saucepan, combine one can condensed pepper pot soup, one can condensed vegetable beef soup and two soup cans water. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with thinly sliced celery or sliced stuffed olives. Makes 4-6 servings. French bread or rolls, a green salad and frozen individual fruit pies complete the satisfying busy day supper.

Orange Cake Is Delicious

Sweet Orange Spongecake

1¼ cups sifted cake flour
1¼ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
4 large eggs, separated
1¼ cups sugar

Grated rind of 1 medium orange
⅔ cup orange juice.

On waxpaper, sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. In medium bowl with high speed of electric mixer, beat egg yolks until thickened and lemon color; gradually beat in ½ cup of the sugar, then orange rind.

With clean beater, in large bowl with high speed of mixer, beat egg whites until foamy throughout; beat in remaining ¾ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time; continue beating, if necessary, until whites hold stiff straight peaks.

To yolk mixture add orange juice; stir well; add flour blended. Fold into egg whites. Turn into ungreased 9-inch angel food cake pan.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 1 hour. Invert pan and cool; loosen cake from sides of pan and ease out. Cover with orange-flavored confectioners sugar frosting.

It's Pancake Mix for Doughnuts

Buttermilk doughnuts are made with pancake mix. Combine 3½ cups of buttermilk pancake mix, ⅔ cup of sugar and 1 teaspoon of cinnamon. Add 2 beaten eggs, ¾ cup of milk and 2 tablespoons of vegetable oil; stir until batter is fairly smooth.

Roll out to ½ inch thickness on lightly floured board. Cut with floured doughnut cutter. Fry in preheated 375 degree deep fat 2 to 3 minutes. Turn only once. Drain on absorbent paper.

While warm, sprinkle with granulated or confectioners' sugar. Makes 15 doughnuts.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

There are many conventions that any good bridge player should keep in his tool kit. One of these is the two-club response to a no-trump opening to see if the no-trumper holds a four-card major suit.

JACOBY

This convention is called "Stayman" after Sam Stayman of New York, the first to publicize it, but there are almost as many variations as there are bridge players.

★ ★ ★

We use our own form of Stayman combined with our Jacoby transfer, and almost every good player in the world employs some form of Stayman also.

In other words, it is a good convention but, like all good conventions, it should not be used with every hand.

In the Tri-State Regional at the famous Grossinger's Hotel in Liberty, N.Y., the mixed pairs event was won by Gilbert and Doris Brown. Today's hand shows one of their good scores. Doris opened one no-trump and Gil saw no reason to look for a 4-4 major fit because he had honors in every suit. He just bid three no-trump and left Doris to struggle with it.

Doris won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts and promptly lost the diamond finesse. West led a second heart to her queen and she led the nine of clubs, covered by the 10, queen and king. East couldn't lead another heart and shifted to the seven of spades. Doris played the queen and was delighted to find one finesse that worked.

She led the eight of clubs and lost that finesse to the jack, but it didn't matter. She wound up with two spades, three hearts, two diamonds and two clubs for a satisfactory nine tricks.

It was particularly satisfactory when it turned out that four spades would be down two.

What do you do now?

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	Pass	Pass	Dble
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
2 ♥	2 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠ A Q 8 7 ♥ 3 2 ♦ K J 9 8 ♣ Q 5 3

What do you do now?

TODAY'S QUESTION

Answer Tomorrow

Double Loser

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI)—Ty Lockett made a bid for the nomination in Wichita for a post on the city commission. He waited in the Crestwood Bowl while the votes were being counted. When he heard he had been defeated, he walked outside and found the election was not all he had lost. A sport coat and shirt, valued at $25, had been stolen from his car.

Astrological Forecast

By SIDNEY OMARR for Thursday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Communication gift from friend brightens day. Gain is keynoted. Work, health figure prominently, but basic issues are resolved. More responsibility, greater rewards are also shown.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You may not get results as quickly as desired—but general indications are favorable. Spotlight on getting what you need without being extravagant. Maintain principles. Stand tall.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Steer clear of legal disputes. Take new look at ventures, ambitions, desires. Dealings with men require caution. Individual who looks fine may actually lack substance.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Emphasis on the subtle. Direct action may not succeed as well as diplomatic contact. Means be patient, avoid scattering forces. Rise above petty details. See project as a whole.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Wait for others to make overtures. Don't be overanxious. Analyze offers. Obtain hint from GEMINI message. Look beyond immediate or superficial indications. Confusion seems to reign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Work to repair damage that occurred in recent past. Key is maintaining steady pace. Check details. Indications are that you will make changes and will rebuild.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Much of this day seems devoted to planning and pleasure. You focus on changes, on romance and future vacation plans. Time to change pace. Relax without being careless.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): What appears heavy or formidable can be successfully handled. But watch out for persons, situations you tend to take for granted. There are adjustments to be made. Don't ignore them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Accent on marriage, partnerships, legal involvements. Avoid self-deception. See persons, situations in realistic light. What you think you know is subject to abrupt change.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You receive indications which bolster financial picture. Now is time to place realistic value upon your services. Being a wallflower is detrimental. Instead, push forward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't take lightly financial warnings. Indications: No day to risk savings. You have duties, responsibilities. Today you can face issues and find solutions. Do so.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Areas which previously represented blocks, challenges now open. Opportunity presents itself. Take advantage of solid clue. Follow through. Push while the opening exists.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you tend to be introspective, are subject to moods. You attract to you some who wish to take advantage of these qualities. Be discriminating in selection of friends. You have emerged from trying two-year cycle and should now begin to garner rewards for efforts.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Transportation, communication mishaps could be featured. Special word to ARIES: better to be a host than guest today.

Fraternity Bias Ruling Issued

Kelley Belittles Effect; Dem Calls Him Naive

LANSING (UPI) — In a quiet, informal opinion, Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley has ruled that fraternities and sororities at Michigan's public colleges many not discriminate in choosing their members.

Although Kelley said he didn't think his opinion would have "severe impact" since major universities now ban such discrimination, the man who asked his opinion thinks Kelley is "being naive."

Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, said that if he gets complaints of bias in the secret social groups, he will demand a review of the budgets of the state universities where the offenses occur.

"That's still going on, baby," he said. "If the attorney general doesn't think so, he's being naive.

"It will be the responsibility of the presidents of these institutions to enforce this ruling," Del Rio said.

SOUGHT IN 1966

"If we get complaints, I think we can only presume that the school is not doing its job as an agency of the state and an appropriate review of its budget would be in order."

Del Rio asked Kelley in 1966 if any college or university that gets state funds can allow on its campus a fraternity or sorority that discriminates on race, creed, color or religion. He got his answer in a letter from Kelley dated Feb. 29.

Letter opinions from the attorney general do not carry the same weight as do "numbered" opinions that are officially published and released to the press.

* * *

Del Rio said he had asked Kelley to "hook a number" on the letter opinion "so it will go in the book."

FIRMLY ESTABLISHED

"As it is firmly established that state colleges and universities are branches of state government, any denial of equal protection by an organization in which the state universities participate peripherally would constitute a violation of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution," Kelley wrote Del Rio.

"As there is no doubt that the educational institutional may adopt policies prohibiting such discrimination, and as such policy has already been established and enforced in the major state institutions of higher education, it would appear that the fact that discrimination by campus fraternities on state campuses is in violation of the state and federal constitutions will not have any severe impact on the conduct of these organizations in this state."

He emphasized this would not affect fraternities at private colleges.

* * *

Del Rio tried in 1966 to get a bill passed banning discrimination by fraternities and sororities. When it failed, he asked Kelley for his opinion.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

A London newsman quotes Ruchard Burton as saying he and Elizabeth Taylor will adopt a baby within a year because the actress runs a high risk of death in childbirth.

Burton also told writer Fergus Cashin of the London Daily Sketch yesterday that he and Miss Taylor would retire from acting within the next two years:

"My interest in the cinema is moving from acting to production. We have our own company, and both Elizabeth and myself will retire from acting within the next two years.

"When I retire, I will concentrate on writing. Let's face it, I have not been a dedicated actor. It is all bloody marvelous luck."

Burton said childbirth would result in a MISS TAYLOR 50-50 chance of death for Miss Taylor and, "as far as I'm concerned, the risk is not on.

"I cannot see life without Elizabeth. She is my everything — my breath, my blood, my mind and my imagination. If anything happened to her, I would die.

"No, we want to — and will — adopt a baby within the year." The couple now has five children by their previous marriages.

Actress Anne Baxter Files for Divorce

ANNE BAXTER

Attorney Stanley Geis said yesterday in Santa Monica, Calif., that conferences regarding the settlement were proceeding smoothly. The suit charging extreme cruelty was filed last Thursday.

Miss Baxter, now 44, spent seven years as an Australian farm wife on Gelt's 34,000-acre cattle farm after their marriage in Honolulu on Feb. 18, 1960.

They separated when she returned to Hollywood to resume her acting career. At the time she was quoted as saying: "I gave up my career because I was very much in love. My husband didn't want me to give it up. I think he was wiser than I was."

YORTY

Yorty explained yesterday he and KHJ-TV mutually agreed to end the year-old show since Yorty may run for the U.S. Senate. "If I were to make a new contract now," Yorty said, "It would rule me out as being able to run for the office.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., is seeking reelection.

Son of Actor Defies Draft

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I expect to go to jail," says the 19-year-old son of actor Sterling Hayden. "I would rather go to jail than go to war and kill people."

* * *

He was scheduled for induction Tuesday, officers at the center said. They took no immediate action against him.

* * *

The blond, long-haired youth discussed his decision with his father, a decorated veteran of World War II, and said, "He believes I'm doing an honorable thing."

Vietnam Reds Getting Better Weapons

SAIGON (AP) — In the long-past days of the war against the French, Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's guerrillas boasted that their weapons were almost all captured on the battlefield.

Then the wily Giap introduced cumbersome but effective pack howitzers to outgun the defenders at Dien Bien Phu. It helped turn the tide, wearing down the defenses and closing the airstrip which was the outpost's lifeline.

The lesson impressed the Communist command. Not for them the wide array of weaponry in modern armies. They wanted specific weapons for specific tasks.

ARMS DECISION

More than two years ago the command decided that captured arms would not prevail against American firepower.

The first, and perhaps most effective, new weapon to reach the guerrillas was the Soviet-designed AK47 assault rifle, a simple, stubby automatic that is slightly less lethal than the U.S. M16 but also less complicated.

The AK47 is now the standard infantry weapon for North Vietnamese regulars and almost all guerrillas. They are flowing in steadily—some captured AK47s have been manufactured as recently as 1967.

With the AK47, the Communists in one massive resupply effort outclassed the South Vietnamese forces, still largely armed with the U.S. carbine from Korean War days. To this day relatively few South Vietnamese forces have the U.S. M16.

MORE MORTARS

Simultaneously, the Communists began to ship in more 82mm mortars, new 120mm mortars and the RPG7 grenade launcher.

The 82mm mortar could fire captured U.S. 81mm shells. It became the mainstay of widespread harassing attacks on U.S. and U.S. and South Vietnamese installations, with a range of about two miles.

The RPG7, also known as the B50, was designed for use against tanks. This light, shoulder-fired weapon, similar to the old U.S. bazooka, has proved deadly against bunkers, fixed installations and vehicles. Its rocket-boosted charge can penetrate 10 inches of steel. It has been used effectively against patrol boats in the Mekong Delta and elsewhere. In barrages from as much as a quarter mile away, it has rained casualties on outposts, base camps and convoys.

These weapons, however, were just for openers in the infantry war that was growing.

LONGER RANGE NEEDED

Longer-range weapons were necessary to strike at the more heavily guarded U.S. bases. Heavier guns were needed in the northern provinces along the demilitarized zone, where the war was slightly different. It was foreseen in the North that the Red troops would need heavy antiaircraft weapons which could not be used extensively further south without sacrificing mobility.

The Soviet Union was asked to furnish the bulk of the weaponry and the changes became apparent about one year ago. American intelligence estimates that 75 per cent of the war supplies entering North Vietnam originate in Russia. Most of the rest comes from Red China with a small stream from other Red bloc nations.

Heavy Soviet rockets, 122 and 140mm, began to appear last year. They were used against Con Thien and Da Nang and later trickled south for attacks on Bien Hoa and finally Saigon's sprawling Tan Son Nhut airfield which houses Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters.

Two full rocket battalions, something unheard of in Vietnam, infiltrated the northern provinces around Da Nang. These weapons can fire from six to seven miles away, forcing already thinly spread defense troops into ever widening sweeps around the bases. The 122 is highly accurate.

MONSTER GUNS

In the North the Communists also began to use 152mm self-propelled guns, mobile monsters with a range of 17 miles firing from above the 17th parallel. Self-propelled mounts were spotted on the Ho Chi Minh trail as the big guns and smaller antiaircraft weapons began to enter the A Shau valley.

★ ★ ★

The Communists also had another surprise for Khe Sanh, modern Soviet PT76 tanks, amphibious and light vehicles with a 76mm gun. Nine were thrown into the battle which overran the Special Forces camp at Lang Vei.

★ ★ ★

In addition to these weapons, the Communist command has added new mines, explosives and other devices and has also upgraded its medical services and field communications. The attack on Hue last month was a highly coordinated divisional thrust, with radio command networks down to company level.

Rubber Game Slated for Pontiac Northern, Central

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — National Football League proponents for abolishing the extra point are using hindsight instead of foresight.

The elimination of one point for the reasons expressed by Marc Duncan, supervisor of NFL officials, are as silly as the elimination of the dunk rule by basketball people.

Duncan, and several NFL proponents for abolishing the rule, claim the extra point has become too automatic, and more players other than kickers might take over the scoring race again.

Making the single point from a running or passing play is the suggestion of Cleveland owner Art Modell and other proponents, because it would put more premium on the point and help eliminate ties.

If pro football wants to eliminate ties, put more premium of other types of plays and lessen the degree of "cheap" victories. The abolitionists of the kick would do well to pursue these innovations for bettering the entertainment aspect by approaching their ideas positively rather than negatively.

TWO-POINT PLAY

So what if the extra point kick has become automatic? Instead of eliminating the traditional kick, it would seem better to allow more diversified point making by adding a two-point play by running or passing and giving a team more of a choice to win or tie.

If anything is unfair to an evenly played game it is the field goal. When two teams battle for 59 minutes at a standstill, indicating evenly matched teams, it's a pretty cheap victory when the team with a better field goal specialist can score an automatic 3 points from just 10 yards away.

We don't say the field goal should be eliminated, but the running and passing game should be given more equal emphasis for extra points.

It would certainly be more fair to give the team with the better runner or passer two points for a PAT, if the team with a better kicker can get three at any time during the game.

If this doesn't eliminate a tie, then pro football (as well as hockey and soccer) should get in line with baseball or basketball and find a rule to permit a game to end with a winner and loser.

There are tie games today which are broken by the extra point and no matter if it be automatic. When the rarity occurs and the kick is missed, it's as exciting for the fans as the infield bobble in baseball which allows the winning run to score.

Instead of advocating rules to dull the game, all of football should think of adding more excitement and color without changing the basic playing structure or traditions of play.

NO SATISFACTION

A way to break ties by additional playing time would be welcomed by most football fans who today pay five to 10 bucks to see a game and then leave the stadium frustrated and without any satisfaction of seeing a victory of defeat.

One point for the extra point kick, two points for the pass or run extra point, three points for the field goal outside the 25 yard line, four points for a safety and six for the touchdown would allow enough diversified ways for adding points and subsequently a new rule for an extra period would hardly be used.

College coaches would do just as well to quit meddling with rules pertaining to the fundementals of blocking, tackling and kick returns and do what pro football should do—find ways of rewarding the big plays with recognition on the score board.

There are more football fans today who are prompted to call a 31-30 football game "an exciting game" than the 7-7 or 10-7 game at which they yawn for 3½ periods and leave knowing that one team was fortunate enough to have the better kicker at the most convenient time.

It certainly seems strange that Modell, the re-elected president of the NFL, should be such a strong proponent for elimination of the kick in view of the fact that the Cleveland Browns have had Lou Groza the most profilic kicker and scorer (by kicking) in modern pro football.

It would seem selfish for Modell to advocate the abolition of the kick now that Groza is on his way out and such a rule would tend to preserve big Lou's records.

Tigers' Ribant Sharp in Debut

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — It was a tough day for the "Disciples" of Wally Moses who took an 8-0 lacing from the "Coochies" of Tony Cuccinello in the first intra-squad game of the Detroit Tigers' spring training camp.

★ ★ ★

A couple thousand fans were in the stands on the warmest day of camp to see newcomer Denny Ribant take pitching honors among the eight hurlers to see action and Jim Northrup to take batting honors for the winning squad.

The hustling little Ribant, who came to the Tigers from the Pittsburgh Pirates for Dave Wickersham, gave up two short singles in his 15-minute stint, equalling three innings of action.

The Detroit-born right-hander, who once started a hockey career on the Detroit Red Wings' farm at Hamilton in 1960, decided on baseball in 1961 after dislocating his arm on the ice.

MOVES AROUND

He was with the Braves' farms, Mets and finally with the Pirates last year where he started 22 times and relieved 16 times posting a 9-8 record.

★ ★ ★

Ribant has been trying to overcome a habit which might cause him trouble with the umpires this year.

"He's formed the habit of touching his cap and then touching his lips before almost every pitch," said coach Hal Naragon." It's not meant to throw a spitter, it's just like the habit of wetting your finger when you turn a page of a book.

Titan Five Survives Tournament Scare

By JERE CRAIG

PCHS's Titans pulled out a 58-57 triumph over an aroused Ortonville Brandon quintet in their first ever tournament start. ROSM spurted away from Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, 72-61, after a close battle.

Slender Sam Brady proved the deciding factor for PCHS's Titans in the opening game, sinking a free throw with six seconds to play.

The shot was the winning point, snapping a 57-all tie after the Black Hawks from Brandon had struggled back gamely from a 49-39 deficit as the final period began, and the surge also proved a quick turnabout for Ortonville junior guard Jim Krug.

With the Titans leading, 57-56, Krug stole the ball and drove for the potential winning layup. But Butch Finnegan of the winners hacked Krug before he could release his shot.

TIES SCORE

With seven seconds showing on the clock, Krug missed his first free throw, then tied the score on his second attempt. However, the over-anxious youngster promptly fouled Brady one second after the ensuing throw-in.

While Brady's successful charity toss decided the contest, Pontiac Catholic actually won the game from the field, making two more baskets than Ortonville.

The Titans' slender sharp-shooting center also topped the scoring, hitting 24 points — including 11 baskets.

He became an important factor on the backboards in the third quarter when the Titans spurted from a 35-35 deadlock to 10 straight points and apparently a comfortable lead.

Brandon had the advantage much of the first half after a fine 6 for 14 opening quarter gave it a 12-8 lead.

Tim Loviska came off the PCHS bench to produce the spark the Titans needed to get their attack moving. Butch Finnegan's passing and eight field goals by Brady in the half also were big factors as they rallied for a 31-27 halftime lead.

Mike Hart hit 9 points as FOLS shot into a 23-16 lead; but ROSM's Irish had cut their deficit to 47-44 entering the last period.

Mike Wines hit eight tallies and teammates Bill Moroski and Mark Johnson added six each as the Irish produced a 28-14 last-period surge. Moroski's 27 points paced all the scorers.

Pontiac Catholic now will meet Detroit Country Day at 7 p.m. and ROSM will tangle with Orchard Lake St. Mary at 8:45 p.m. in a Thursday semifinal doubleheader.

MARQUETTE (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has ruled that the wrestling and basketball teams at Northern Michigan University may not compete in postseason competition due to what a university spokesman described as a clerical error.

An NMU spokesman said that when the school requested affiliation with the NCAA in October it did not file with NCAA headquarters in Kansas City, its procedure for implementing the NCAA rule which requires competing athletes to have the equivalent of a 1.6 grade average.

PNH Advances With 91-68 Win Over Clarkston

By DON VOGEL

Pontiac Northern's Huskies had a difficult time last night convincing Clarkston that the host Wolves shouldn't interfere with a pair of Class A district basketball games between arch-rivals.

The message was delivered, 91-68, but not until after the Wolves garbled over half of the directive.

Northern will now play a rubber game with Pontiac Central Thursday at 7:30 in the district semifinal. The teams split during the regular season.

Kettering, which swept its two-game regular season set with Waterford Township, tangles with the Skippers again tonight at 7:30. The neutral floor at Clarkston tends to equalize both games. Winners will play for the title Saturday.

FOURTH TIMEOUT

For over two and a half quarters they had the Clarskton fans in the estimated crown of 1,200 on the verge of celebrating an upset. The Wolves led, 50-45, with 3:25 to play in the third quarter when PNH coach Dick Hall called his fourth timeout.

★ ★ ★

The Huskies were obviously rattled. But Hall straightened them out. They went back into action and punished the Wolves for their obstinance by outscoring them 28-1 in the next five and a half minutes.

It became a case of Northern doing no wrong and in the Wolves doing no right.

The remainder of the fourth quarter became a steady parade to the foul lines. Officials Maurice Stack and Harold Lakin blew 52 personals in the game.

Except for being sluggish on the fast break, the Huskies played well on offense during the first 20 minutes of action.

It was the zone defense planned by Clarkston coach Bud McGrath that hampered the Huskies. The Wolves clogged the middle and harrassed the player with the ball.

Bob Traylor of the Huskies had several good tries from the corner in the first half, but was off target. Dana Coin did pump in four long shots in the first quarter to help offset a 13 for 13 foul shot mark by the Wolves who gained a 19-18 lead.

Two baskets by Eric Hood and one by Mark Erickson pushed the Wolves' lead to 25-22. But Mike Clancy hit a fielder and two free throws and Don Hayward a charity toss to get PNH in front, 27-25.

LEAD CHANGED

The lead continued to change hands, or the score was tied, for the remainder of the first half which ended, 38-all. The hustling Wolves kept right on going in the third period led by Erickson and Bob Palladino. They sprang to a five-point lead. Then Hall called for a fateful timeout.

★ ★ ★

Traylor led all scorers with 22 points. Coin and Mike Clancy each scored 16. Erickson, who was shaken up when he fell heavily to the floor early in the fourth period, topped the Wolves with 19.

★ ★ ★

Romeo's Bulldogs Romp; Holly Tumbles at Flint

Romeo outclassed Waterford Mott's fledgling hoopsters, 82-30, Tuesday night to begin its quest for the Pontiac Northern Class B District laurels that escaped its grasp last March.

The Mott unit, making its first tournament appearance, never was in the game after falling behind, 20-5, in the opening quarter.

Other Class B action saw Holly stumble at Flint Atherton against the host team by an 80-64 count; and Imlay City likewise was a gracious visitor in the Marlette district, losing to the host Red Raiders, 76-67.

Romeo's Bulldogs turned Donnell Craft and Clyde Cushingberry loose in the first half against Mott. The Romeo tandem hit for 16 of the 20 first-quarter points, and added 13 of the Bulldogs' 15 in the next session.

Craft, who led the scorers with 26 points, notched 14 in the first half and Cushingberry had 13 of his 24. The winners compiled a 35-10 edge in field goals.

FINALIST

Romeo now moves into Friday night's finals against the survivor of tomorrow's West Bloomfield-Oxford encounter. Avondale, the defending PNH district titlist, was ousted by WB's Lakers Monday.

At Flint, Holly met a strong shooting Atherton squad (14-3) and couldn't match its hosts' gunning. The winners boasted a 32-22 field goal superiority and five players in twin figures.

Ribant Shines; Northrup Swings Hot Spring Bat

"The bad thing is, you can't put your hand to your face at all now and so it might cause him a few problems if he doesn't shake the habit," said Naragon.

Ribant controlled the habit pretty good in the intra-squad game, in which he followed Denny McLain and Pat Dobson on the mound.

HURLERS WILD

McLain gave up three hits, and Dobson allowed only one hit but he was wild. Rookie Jim Rooker, who followed Ribant, was also very wild, although he only gave up just one hit.

Joe Sparma, Hank Aguirre, George Korince and Les Cain were the victims of the batting barrage of Northrup, Tom Matchik and Mickey Stanley.

Northrup's three singles drove in three runs and let him score twice, while Stanley, playing shortstop for the "Coochies," hit the ball hard, getting a two-run double and scoring twice.

Northrup, who is carrying about 15 more pounds this year, feels the extra weight is going to help his power this season and still not affect his speed.

He made a perfect throw into third base on one play to nail speedy Lennie Green, who was trying for the bag from first on a single.

The big hit for the winning squad was the only homer of the game, a blast by Gates Brown which hit the top of the wall at the 350 mark and bounced over. On three prior times at bat, Brown went out second to first.

Brown has been disgruntled over his playing time. "I'm the forgotten man on this team," he said.

For the losing, team, rookie first baseman Dave Campbell has a single and double among the six hits.

Another intra-squad game was scheduled for today with Earl Wilson, Mike Marshall, Fred Lasher, John Hiller, Dick Drago and Daryl Patterson slated to share the mound duties.

Friday, the Tigers travel to Bradenton to meet the Oakland Athletics in the opener of the Grapefruit League, and then they return to Marchant Stadium Saturday to play the strong American League contenders, the Minnesota Twins.

Canadiens Pad Hockey Lead

Montreal Pins 6-2 Setback on Kings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Kings have spent eight games in their freshman season showing they can be most diplomatic in bettering Canadian-American relations.

The Kings, in dropping a 6-2 National Hockey League decision to Montreal Tuesday night, split their season down the middle against the northern neighbors' two teams, the Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The Montreal victory, in the only NHL game Tuesday, enabled the Canadiens to widen their lead in the East Division to five points over the New York Rangers.

Los Angeles, in losing, also lost a chance to move past the Minnesota North Stars into second place in the West. The Kings remain four points behind the West Division-leading Philadelphia Flyers.

The Kings and North Stars will be idle tonight while Montreal visits Oakland, Toronto hosts Philadelphia, New York takes on Detroit, Chicago faces Boston and St. Louis battles Pittsburgh.

Playoff Cash Spurs Pistons

CHICAGO (UPI) — It could be that the sweet smell of recent successes scored by the Detroit Pistons is caused by another odor: money that goes with the playoffs.

The Pistons grabbed their third win in the last four games and moved within a game of the final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division Tuesday night with a 121-119 triumph over the Chicago Bulls.

As usual it was Dave Bing, fighting to hold his NBA scoring leadership, who led the way by hitting 16 of his 25 points in the last quarter as Detroit overcame a 94-87 third quarter disadvantage.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By John Carter

Here's a tough question for you . . . There once was a man who was coach of a team . . . Later one of his sons became coach of that same team . . . And, still later, yet another son became coach of that team . . . This is the only family in sports history that has produced three coaches for the same major team...Can you name this unique family? . . . Lester Patrick coached the New York hockey Rangers, 1926-39 . . . His son Lynn coached the Rangers, 1948 - 50 and another son, Muzz, coached them 1953-1955 and again 1962-63.

★ ★ ★

Did you know that in five of the last seven seasons in the National Hockey League, the team that finished the season in first place in the league standings failed to win the Stanley Cup playoffs after the season? . . . Last season, for example, Chicago finished first but Toronto won the Stanley Cup.

★ ★ ★

Do you know which National Hockey League team has been playing the longest without being able to win the Stanley Cup? . . . The answer is the New York Rangers . . . They've played every year since 1940 without winning it.

★ ★ ★

I bet you didn't know that we have a rule — "If we won't drive it, we won't sell it to you." Old fashioned idea, but it makes for a lot of satisfied customers.

Tourney Jinx Ends for Andover Five

Andover's 45-40 conquest of Birmingham Groves was its initial "A" tournament win ever and advanced the Barons into the Seaholm District final Friday night.

At Troy, the host Colts needed a desperation, effective all-court press to overcome a 35-30 late lead for Utica and register a 40-37 triumph.

After a see-saw first half, Andover moved ahead of Groves' Falcons by 41-32 early in the closing quarter. Six points in a row by the losers enabled them to reduce the lead before Roger Hershman and Steve Jones sandwiched two free throws each around a Mark Shada bucket to save the win.

* * *

Andover made 10 of 11 charity tosses in the last period. Steve Jones grabbed 20 rebounds for the winning Barons who dominated the backboards but almost gave the game away on turnovers.

Utica pulled from a 30-28 disadvantage into a 35-30 margin on field goals by Donn Somers and Bill Conger, two charity tosses by Dennis Meyer and one by Rob Dilday.

Troy applied a press with 3:43 to play and knotted the score in 62 seconds on a foul shot by Lee Law and baskets by Lynn Qualmann and Kerry Brown. Gary Griffith's two free throws and two by Qualmann made it nine straight points for Troy and clinched the win.

At Ann Arbor, Milford rallied from a 10-point deficit to trail by one point several times, the last coming at 58-57. That was the score with 10 seconds to play and the Redskins having the ball in their own forecourt.

A charging foul, however, cost them possession and a possible game-winning shot. Doug Powers' 16 plus 13 each by Dave Baker and Mark Giegler led the Milford attack.

The Redskins had a 25-20 field goal margin. Monroe made 20 of 28 free throws.

Opener Costly for NFL Bears

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears are sacrificing 6,000 seats to open their National Football League season at home for the first time in history next season.

The Bears will be at Wrigley Field for the opener Sept. 15 although the east stands, with a capacity of 6,000 seats, will not be available since they are situated on the baseball playing field. The Chicago Cubs also use Wrigley Field as their home park and their season won't end until October.

Purdue Rocks Spartans; Hoosiers Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Purdue took over third place in Big Ten basketball Tuesday night by defeating Michigan State while Wisconsin was upset by Indiana.

Rick Mount netted 34 points to lead the Boilermakers to a 93-75 triumph that pushed them to an 8-5 record. MSU used 14 players with Lee Lafayette high with 13 as the Spartans sagged to 5-8.

Butch Joyner piled in 27 points and Bill DeHeer 23 to head the Hoosiers over Wisconsin 93-85. The Badgers' Joe Franklin got 25 points to run his three-year career mark to 1,185. It broke Wisconsin's record by five points set in 1952-55 by Dick Cable.

The victory gave Indiana a 4-9 mark, lifting it into ninth place over Minnesota with 4-10. Wisconsin dropped into a fourth-place tie with Northwestern at 7-6.

The Big Ten title chase ends Saturday with Iowa, assured at least a share with 10-3, entertaining Michigan (5-8), Purdue at Indiana on television, Illinois (6-7) at MSU and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

Wood Most Popular in Boat Building

Despite the growing use of plastics and aluminum as construction material for recreational boats, 43.3 per cent of the number of boats in use on Federal waters at the end of 1966 were made of wood. Fiberglass and other plastic materials accounted for 26 per cent of the hulls and aluminum 24 percent.

Unranked Five Pulls Shocker

Detroit Northwestern Halts Murray-Wright

By The Associated Press

Detroit Murray-Wright, the No. 8 schoolboy basketball pick in the Associated Press Class A poll, was knocked out in its first game of district state tournament play Tuesday night, losing a squeaker to unrated Detroit Northwestern, 56-55.

Murray-Wright led at the half of the carefully played, defensive contest by a score of 27-26 as the lead changed hands frequently.

Leading scorers for both teams had 16 points — William James for Murray-Wright and Curtis Jones for Northwestern.

TOP COACH — Guy Lewis, coach of he top-ranked University of Houston basketball team, has been named Coach of the Year by the Associated Press. The Cougars next play in the NCAA tournament.

RO Kimball Nips Oaks in Tourney

The winless Oaks pushed Kimball to the limit, again, before dropping a 52-50 decision in their tourney lidlifter. Lamphere eliminated Warren, 64-51, in the nightcap.

Kimball, despite a 12-4 regular-season mark, needed an overtime period to top ROD in their only other meeting. This time the Knights built a five-point lead as Jay Brown shot them in front early in the final quarter.

But the Oaks rallied and only a basket by Ed Peltz in the final minute enabled ROK to protect its slim lead.

Lamphere (10-9) began its title bid by outscoring Warren in every quarter. Bill Watson posted 10 of his game-high 22 in the second quarter.

Dave Kontry tallied 27 points but Southfield still needed 10 straight free throws in the last 1:25 of play to down Berkley.

Triple Tie 5th on Big 10 Grid

CHICAGO (AP) — When Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota finished in a three-way tie for the Big Ten football title it marked the fifth triple tie in the history of the conference.

In 1931 Michigan, Northwestern and Purdue tied. Other triple ties were between Illinois, Michigan and Purdue in 1918; Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin in 1906 and Michigan, Minnesota and Northwestern in 1903.

HOOKING THE BAIT — Fishing is too slow for Delilah, an impatient duck and pet of Mrs. Bev Blackmoor. The duck showed up at the Blackmoors' marina in Vancouver (B.C.) harbor as a sick youngster nine months ago and has been babied along on a diet of grain and vitamin pills plus odd snatches of bait.

Shanty Owners Get Warning

The Conservation Department is going to "clamp down, hard," on shanty owners who wait too long before getting their shelters off the ice of area lakes.

The warning was issued today by Harold Stoll, area law supervisor, who went on to say that "shanties going through the ice is becoming a major problem."

He pointed out that allowing a shanty to break through rotting ice is a violation of the law.

Fines and costs average over $30 and "the owner still has to either remove the shanty himself or pay someone to do it and this will about double the cost," he said.

The owner also is assessed removal costs if the Conservation or Sheriff's departments have to do the job.

CITE DANGERS

The water safety division of the Oakland Sheriff's Department also is planning to crackdown on the same offense. Officials from both departments cite the danger to swimmers and navigation caused by sunken shanties.

Special Season Opens April 1

Six Days Added on Designated Waters

Michigan's early season on rainbow and brown trout in designated inland streams and its Great Lakes opener for salmon and trout fishing will be stepped ahead six days to April 1 this year because of an error in this state's 1968 rules for fishing.

Both seasons are supposed to start April 6.

However, now that the April 1 mistake appears in about 1,000,000 copies of the fishing rules folder which have been distributed statewide, Conservation Department law officials see no choice but to live with it.

"We made an honest error and it will give anglers six days of bonus fishing without hurting trout and salmon," reports the department's law chief John A. Anguilm.

He adds: "Our conservation officers wouldn't have a legal leg to stand on if they tried to enforce the April 6 date after so many sportsmen have seen April 1 listed as the opener in the fishing rules folder."

With both seasons being moved up six days early, Michigan fishermen will also have to start filling out their new trout and salmon catch report forms on April 1 instead of April 6.

Rabbit hunters reported generally poor success in the area during the season which closed March 1, but fox hunters have been chalking up an impressive record.

One group of Elba Township hunters, who use hounds, has taken 71 to date.

Gun Collectors Meet Tonight

The Pontiac Gun Collectors' Association will be tonight at 7 in the CAI Building on Williams Lake Road.

Club officials announced that they are seeking qualified members and anyone interested in collecting firearms is invited to attend this meeting.

ARRIVE FOR HANDOUT — Instead of hooking their dinner like the duck in the other picture on this page, these swans make a frontal assault in a flock on Grand Traverse Bay. Swimming among the ice floes, the swans are greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaiser who have taken on the task of feeding the mute cygnosolor birds. They do not migrate like other swans. Food is donated by the Traverse City Audubon Club.

Plan Hit-Run Crow Shooting

★ ★ ★

The idea is to strike and then cut out, showing up minutes later miles away to work a different group of crows. That way they never catch on.

★ ★ ★

The equipment is simple. All you need is four to six hunters who know how to shoot and use a crow call, a car, plenty of shotgun shells and your gun. Camouflaged clothing is also recommended if available.

Here's how to get started: First you map out a route. You should locate from eight to 12 hunting spots within an area of, say, 30 miles.

Each of these spots should be reasonably close to the raod, each should be in timber away from farm buildings and they should be on fairly high ground—or at least not towered over by surrounding hills.

★ ★ ★

Once you've located your route, draw it on a county map and then find time to hunt—an afternoon should be plenty to cover your 30-mile route.

UNDER WAY

Load your gear and hunters into the car and get started, heading for the first stop. When you hit it, park the car out of the way and move quickly to your shooting positions.

Have each hunter avoid wide-open places. The best arrangement is a rough circle with the hunters about 40 yards apart and each facing a different direction. When everybody is set, the signal is given and the calling starts.

Teamwork is necessary here. The best caller of the group should use the dying-crow call and should keep it up incessantly. The others should join in, imitating excited crows flapping around the distressed brother. The idea is to make as much racket as possible to excite the resident crows.

★ ★ ★

One excellent trick is for one of the hunters to chime in occasionally with the hoot of an owl. This really creates excitement and can bring on a near-riot among the crows.

Land Purchases Top Commission List

Proposals to acquire lands for parks and a fish hatchery are on tap for action during the Conservation Commission's meeting Thursday and Friday at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing.

A 53-acre parcel adjacent to the proposed $4.7 million fish hatchery complex on the Platte River is being recommended for purchase.

The commission also will be asked to buy 60 acres to consolidate state ownership in the southwestern part of the Ionia Recreation Area in Ionia County.

Its purchase would bring the Department's land-acquisition program at the 3,600-acre recreation area almost to the half-way point.

New License Forms Trigger Complaints

LANSING (AP) — Some of the people who handle fishing and hunting licenses are grumbling that they have to do too much paper work for 15 cents a sale.

★ ★ ★

To meet these complaints, the Conservation Department is trying to simplify license forms.

★ ★ ★

Several bills also have been introduced in the Legislature to allow the small tradesman a little more margin of profit on each license sale.

Gaylord Walker, deputy director of the department, said he would go along with the 25 cent proposal.

"But we want it added to the license fee," he said. "We have a lot of paperwork, too."

Licenses mainly are sold throughout Michigan by hardware stores, sporting goods stores, gasoline stations and general stores.

A few of the license venders have quit, Walker said but not many.

"Don't forget, that every sportsman who walks in to buy a fishing or hunting license also is a potential customer," he said.

The Michigan Retail Hardware Association has been meeting with the Conservation Department in a mutual attempt to simplify license forms. About 1,800 of the state's 3,500 license agents are hardware dealers.

★ ★ ★

Some have complained about the new fishing license form. In addition to filling out the basic license, the sportsman has to buy stamps to be affixed to the form — such as for trout and salmon fishing, good for both inland angling and on the Great Lakes.

Nonresident stamps increase the number that may be required.

"Some of the agents were upset at first but now they are finding out the stamp system is fairly easy to handle after all," Walker said.

★ ★ ★

Walker said it is too late to change the fishing license forms for this year but the hunting licenses may be simplified before fall.

DEER SURVEY

Last year, an additional item of paperwork was added to the deer license when a deer survey requirement was tacked to a appropriation bill.

Vigorous Technical Rally

Market Substantially Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was substantially higher early this afternoon as a vigorous technical rally expanded gains.

Trading was active, about on a par with Tuesday's 11-million-share session.

Analysts saw it as mainly a technical rally, since there was no special news to change Wall Street's basic psychology.

Prices advanced from the start, taking off from the flurry of recovery that marked the closing minutes of Tuesday when short covering boosted a number of volatile issues.

Computer, conglomerate and other growth stocks, many of them high-priced, fast moving issues which have been battered down in the recent decline, were prominent on the rebound.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.0 at 303.1 with industrials up 3.2, rails up 1.4 and utilities up .5.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Data Processing stocks were strong, golds were weak.

LBJ Ballot Decision Puts Leaders on Spot

BOSTON (AP) — Some prominent Massachusetts Democrats, including U.S. House Speaker John W. McCormack, say they will resign as candidates for the state delegation to the Democratic National Convention rather than be forced to cast first-ballot votes for Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

President Johnson sent word Tuesday that he would neither enter the April 31 state presidential primary nor allow a stand-in to run for him, leaving McCarthy the lone candidate for the Democratic ballot when the filing deadline passed at 5 p.m.

A new Massachusetts law requires delegates, under penalty of fine or imprisonment, to vote on the first ballot at their conventions for the winner of their party's presidential preference poll in the state unless he releases them in writing.

Joining McCormack in promising to resign from the party's official slate of delegates were Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, a legal resident of Springfield who had been considered a possible stand-in for Johnson, and McCormack's nephew, former state Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack.

ONLY CHANCE

The only chance that Massachusetts' 72 convention votes might be kept from going to McCarthy appeared to be a write-in campaign for Johnson. Democratic leaders immediately began disccusing the possibility, but some observers doubted there would be adquate time.

Sources close to the delegate slate, composed almost entirely of candidates favorable to Johnson, said resignations also are expected from Lester Hyman, chairman of the Democratic State Committee; Maurice A. Donohue, president of the Massachusetts Senate; Robert H. Quinn, speaker of the Massachusetts House; and all or most of the six congressmen of the officials slate.

Candidates have until March 8 to submit their resignations.

The official Democratic party slate of delegates is unopposed in seven congressional districts, including those of the McCormack and O'Brien. In the other districts, full slates favorable to McCarthy are running in three, a single pro-McCarthy challenger is on the ballot in one, and in the fifth the official slate is being challenged by others, not committed to McCarthy.

O'Brien said he ran on the slate "in the hope of voting for President Johnson" at the convention, but does "not want to be on a slate that will be committed to vote for Sen. McCarthy."

Hoping to Increase Income

Colleges Check Stocks

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The mathematical realities involved in the cost of education are causing colleges to take a hopeful but critical look at their stock holdings. The purpose: bigger capital gains.

CUNNIFF

Yale University has arranged for professionals in Boston to handle its portfolio. And the University of Chicago, which already has made big prof its in unusual investments, is now using its on-campus brain-power to invest "more aggressively."

Behind this quest of colleges is a desperate need for funds, for neither tuition nor gifts nor even tax advantages come close to meeting expenses of most higher education plants.

If trends to higher expenses continue, in fact, many privately run colleges may be absorbed into state systems or close their doors or simply fall apart, crushed by bills that force standards to bend and facilities to crack.

At Chicago, a relatively wealthy school with an endowment of nearly $300 million, the income from investments last year totaled $10.3 million, or less than 9 per cent of the year's operating expenses on $115 5 million.

MARKET TO RESCUE

That the stock market may rescue some schools certainly will do no harm to Wall Street's image, which over the years has been associated with acquisition rather than charity, with immediate goals rather than higher aspirations.

But it's a tough game the colleges are entering. Are they able to play it?

A study of endowment holdings, released this week by the Boston Fund, shows much good judgment already exists, for the most commonly held stocks are IBM, General Motors and Standard Oil (New Jersey).

However, this doesn't mean that real losers aren't also in portfolios, and the suspicion and even stronger hope exists that much improvement can be made in the yearly return on investments.

MORE INCOME

One year ago McGeorge Oundy, Ford Foundation president, remarked that a one per cent improvement in the performance of higher education's $12-billion stock portfolio would mean $120 million additional each year.

One per cent—not much compared with 100 per cent gains last year by som mutual funds. That one per cent seems even smaller when it is realized that some college portfolios are merely held—seldom reviewed and, like old theses, not even taken off the shelves for dusting.

There are some excuses for this. Many college endowments contain the provision that capital must not be used, that interest only can be spent. Thus, slow-moving stocks paying good dividends are accumulated.

In additing, the pressing need for steady income, as from dividends, inhibits the ability to invest in growth stocks of the kind that have paced the bull market of the 1960s. Many growth stocks pay small dividends or none at all.

STEADY CLIMB

Nevertheless, said Chicago this week, "the steady climb in the cost of maintaining excellence makes it imperative for us to continue to use imagination and skill in handling the university's investments."

Chicago, whose endowment is the fifth or sixth largest in the country, first determined how much of its money was free from "income only" provisions. It found that $76 million was.

★ ★ ★

This money now will be invested aggressively so as to earn capital gains. J. Parker Hall, treasurer, announced that the aim would be to "produce, over the long term, the highest available return."

Can the universities successfully capitalize on their lately aroused instincts? Why not? If mutual funds have smart analysts, consider the brains available to a university.

BRAINPOWER

At Chicago, the brainpower can be drawn from a board that includes highest level executives, an administrative staff, an investment committee headed by a top banker, and a faculty whose members include stock market analysts.

Nevertheless, this doesn't mean for sure that they can deal effectively or quickly enough in a volatile up-down market made up of big, swiftly moving in-out traders.

★ ★ ★

In its announcement, the university said only that "It is our hope that it will be successful."

Upset Scored by McCarthy

Backers Claim at Least 3 Minnesota Districts

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's peace candidacy claimed control of party machinery in at least three congressional districts today after heavy turnouts for Democratic precinct caucuses.

It shaped up as a major victory for McCarthy backers in what amounted to a grass-roots test on Vietnam policy in more than 3,000 precincts of McCarthy's home state Tuesday night.

If the claims hold up, McCarthy will net at least 15 seats on the 62-member delegation Minnesota sends to the Democratic national convention.

The Johnson-Humphrey forces clearly will control the Minnesota delegation, but the outpouring of McCarthy support obviously hurt.

SURPASSES PREDICTIONS

McCarthy, 51, is opposing President Johnson in a half-dozen state primaries, starting with New Hampshire next Tuesday. He has made the Vietnam war his primary issue.

★ ★ ★

Vietnam was clearly the issue in most of the state party caucuses, with the turnout hitting record proportions in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area.

"Make no mistake about it, this is a referendum on the Vietnam war," said a McCarthy backer in Golden Valley, a wealthy suburb where caucuses drew four times the turnout of two years ago.

Dr. John C. Wright, a University of Minnesota professor who heads the McCarthy-dominated Concerned Democrats, claimed the 3rd, 4th and 5th congressional districts for the party doves.

Veteran Pilot Collides With FAA Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmie H. Lane piloted planes for Eastern Air Lines for 11 years, including the big Constellations on the Washington-New York shuttle.

"He had a good clean record with us," an Eastern spokesman said Tuesday — never even a minor accident. The spokesman described Lane as a "quiet, friendly man" who was a Marine aviator before joining Eastern.

But Lane has been fired.

The Federal Aviation Administration said Tuesday that Lane never had more than a private pilot's license, which it said a person of average ability can earn by flying about 40 hours. Airline captains are required to have an "airline transport rating," awarded after a minimum of 1,200 hours flying time, including 75 hours in which only aircraft instruments are used.

LACKED RATING

The FAA said Lane lacked an instrument rating and could never have met this requirement.

But the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., flyer did pass Eastern's tests, graduated from its pilot training schools and after being checked out by the FAA moved on to piloting bigger, faster planes.

His downfall, the FAA said, came when he took a test Feb. 26 to go from jet-props to jets.

The FAA said Lane's case has been referred to the Justice Department.

Now, the FAA added, the big question is how many airline pilots might be imposters. The agency said it is investigating.

Parole Nixed for Woman in 1959 Slaying

FRONTERA, Calif. (AP) — Carole Tregoff has been denied parole from the prison to which she was sentenced to life for the 1959 murder of the wife of Dr. Bernard Finch.

Miss Tregoff could win her freedom in May 1969 when her case comes up again. Supt. Iverne Carter of the California Institute for Women said after Tuesday's hearing that Miss Tregoff, now 30, has a good chance at parole.

The parole hearing for Finch, convicted of first-degree murder and also sentenced to life in prison, will be next month.

The body of Finch's socialite wife, Barbara Jean, 30, was found on a neighbor's lawn in West Covina, east of Los Angeles, in July 1959. She had been shot in the back, and her skull was fractured twice.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have $1,200 that I want to invest for my 4-year-old daughter's education. I am thinking of buying IBM and Boeing. Is this a wise choice? I won't need the money until she is ready for college in approximately 14 years. — D.B.

A. You have selected two fine stocks. IBM is the leader in computers, and Boeing is the number-one company in commerical aircraft. IBM is not cheap and is occasionally volatile. I would buy one share only of this one.

Boeing, in my opinion, is undervalued, and I would place the balance of my funds here. The company is involved in aerospace work which can be erratic, but it is moving more into commercial planes which it supplies to many customers in the free world. This Seattle-based firm may show earnings fluctuations because of the cost of producing the new SST prototype and because of expenses involved in producing the new 747s. I believe that both your choices will work out well for you over a 14-year period.

Unwed Teen-Age Mother Could Use Some Help

BY WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

It's estimated that there are more than 200,000 teen-age unwed mothers every year. What happens to these girls and their children? The answer to that question is a matter of national concern.

This is not solely a racial issue, because only a minority of the families affected are Negro, but it has a greater impact on poor Negro families in the ghetto.

YOUNG

That's because middle-class families have a way of coping with such problems. In many cases the girl is pulled out of school, the neighbors told she is spending the winter with her "aunt" in a faraway city, and the child is placed for adoption.

The girl returns home with no one the wiser, and she doesn't feel the brunt of society's moral judgments.

But the poor can't take this way out. Not only can't they afford it, but since Negro children are not often adopted, placing the child in this way often means giving him a life sentence in a foundling institution.

ADDED PROBLEMS

There is also a greater willingness to keep the child, keeping him with his natural mother, rather than cold-heartedly abandoning him.

Unfortunately, this results in added problems due to poverty and already overcrowded and inadequate housing conditions. But worse still, the young mother is kicked out of school and left to cope on her own due to inadequate services.

If anyone needs special services and help, it is these young girls. But they don't get it. In central Harlem for example, there are special facilities to help only about 100 of the more than 2,000 girls who need care and counseling.

SPECIAL SERVICES

The Pittsburgh Urban League had a program which brought the board of education, health, and welfare groups together to provide the special services these girls need.

They were allowed to continue their education, got pre-natal and post-natal care, and they were allowed to return to regular classes at school. They were assured of hot meals, free transportation to school, and specialized care by nurses and teachers.

- Institute sex education courses in the schools, to be given by teachers with special training.
- Don't kick the girls out of school. Keep them in their normal classes and instruct teachers in how to act human toward them. If these girls suffer from anything, it is from the way rigid teachers and welfare workers look down on them and make them feel like pariahs.
- Set up educational and health facilities so that girls who need special assistance can continue their education, while insuring that they get proper diet and medical attention.
- Provide counseling to guide the girls to make full use of their education and their abilities.
- Establish day care centers so that young mothers can return to school after they give birth. Such centers can also insure proper care for their babies and relieve some of the strain at home.
- Provide special vocational and training services for mothers who want to work.

Missing Stones Baffle D. C.

WASHINGTON — The case of the missing memorials continues to baffle Washington.

They remain somewhere in the original masonry, but no one knows exactly where. Time and rebuilding have conspired to conceal the great ceremonial blocks, the National Geographic Society says.

Even the complete renovation of the White House in 1948-52 did not uncover its cornerstone.

★ ★

A mine detector failed to locate a polished brass plaque that marks the stone, though the gadget did emit a promising "zing" or two.

LAID IN 1792

The White House cornerstone was laid on Oct. 13, 1792, in the southwest corner of the building by one "brother Casanova," master of the Masonic lodge that sponsored the ceremonies.

Contrary to legend, George Washington did not preside at the White House ritual, but he laid the Capitol's cornerstone about a year later.

Dem Demands Probe Into Federal Borrowing Leak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman has demanded a congressional inquiry into a potentially profitable tip on supposedly secret information leaked to securities dealers by a federal employe.

Patman, the Texas Democrat who heads the House Banking Committee, called a government investigation of the leak "highly incomplete" and "obviously an attempt to whitewash a highly serious situation."

The Treasury Department said Tuesday a tip by a 61-year-old employe of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia gave some securities dealers advance knowledge of terms for a $2.5-billion treasury borrowing last August.

The employe, who worked for the bank for 46 years, was suspended and later died of a heart attack, the government said.

Both the Treasury and the Federal Reserve said new procedures to prevent further leaks were worked out and have been used since Aug. 17. The tip gave the securities dealers about one hour's advance notice.

"I am not convinced this leak is the only one that has occurred," Patman said in a statement.

He urged that the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress, be empowered to probe the whole matter, with access to the Federal Reserve as well as the Treasury.

AIRPORT TAXI—Prototype of 32-passenger "Skylounge" built by Budd Company makes its debut in Philadelphia with the aid of a Sikorsky "Skycrane" copter. The "Skylounger" is designed to cut travel time between large airports and outlying jetports.

Antimarijuana Law Challenged in Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A Milwaukee lawyer is challenging the constitutionality of Wisconsin's antimarijuana law.

William C. Coffey, in a motion Tuesday, argued that marijuana "is not a narcotic drug" and "poses no danger to the public health, safety, welfare or morals" of the community.

Coffee said he would bring experts from three state universities to testify in support of his motion filed in the defense of Timothy Johnson, 22, of Milwaukee, charged with possession of marijuana last May.

Wisconsin's law prohibits the possession, sale or use of marijuana and provides penalties up to 10 years imprisonment.

Part of Coin Collection Is Ransomed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Miami private detective has ransomed a portion of the $2-million coin collection stolen from the mansion of millionaire Willis du Pont for $50,000, state Atty. Richard Gerstein said Tuesday.

Gerstein said the recovery of 13 rare American gold pieces was made on Jan. 6 in Philadelphia by Edward Stanton, a detective working for Du Pont.

★ ★ ★

Stanton's wife said her husband exchanged five hundred $100 bills for the coins during a meeting with a man in a downtown Philadelphia office building. She said a coin expert was present at the meeting and verified the authenticity of the gold pieces.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the Philadelphia meeting was made public after two later attempts to recover the remaining coins ended in failure. A move to deal for the most valuable portion of the rare Russian collection was called off by Stanton and Du Pont's attorney, Hal Gray, for undisclosed reasons.

★ ★ ★

Griffin, Hart Split on Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., was one of 82 senators who voted Tuesday to adopt an antiriot amendment to the pending civil rights bill. Sen. Philip A. Hart D-Mich., voted with the 13 who opposed the measure.

★ ★ ★

Both of Michigan's senators voted with the majority to reject a weakening amendment to the proposed open housing bill.

★ ★ ★

Funeral Today in Hollywood for 50-Year Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The funeral today for actor Harry J. Vejar, 78, recalled old days when he shared the screen with such performers as Clark Gable, Charles Laughton, Barbara Stanwyck and Mary Pickford.

Vejar died Friday in Wadsworth Veterans Hospital.

A veteran of more than 50 years in acting, he played in the films, "The Sheik" and the original "Mutiny on the Bounty." On the stage he appeared in "Madame X" with Pauline Frederick and "The Creoles" with Richard Bennett.

Vinyl Bumpers?

CHICAGO (AP) — Safety-minded motorists soon may be telling their service station attendants to "filler with gas, check the oil and put some water in the bumper." The new approach to safety, vinyl bumpers filled with water, was demonstrated Tuesday in Chicago. Plugs along the top of the bumpers pop out on impact to let the water squeeze out, cushioning the force of collisions.

Car 'Break-In' Out in Open

NEW YORK (AP) — A midtown doorman watched aghast while a man went to work with a bent coat hanger trying to open a sleek, black limousine.

"There's a red-haired man trying to steal a car," the doorman phoned police. But when patrolmen arrived minutes later, the man was gone.

An hour later the man was back — this time carrying a spare ignition key.

He identified himself as John Ryan, chauffeur for City Council President Frank D. O'Connor and explained he'd locked his other keys inside.

70 Students Get Public Swats

CORRY, Pa. (AP) — The kids said it was a sympathy demonstration. But the principal said it was plain old hooky.

So he lined 70 students in front of the Corry High School auditorium and spanked each one of them—girls and boys alike—three times.

"They think there's safety in numbers," said Principal Leroy Peck, who personally administered the lickings.

Peck said his theory is that the pupils were miffed when some other schools in the area in northwestern Pennsylvania were closed to allow teachers to go to Harrisburg to demonstrate for higher pay. So they decided to take a vacation on their own.

LITTLE AT A TIME

In little groups and one by one they began slipping out on Monday. On Tuesday, the culprits were lined up in the auditorium and given the punishment.

★ ★ ★

"Physically we didn't do much to them," said Peck. "If they're embarrassed enough, it won't happen again."

Hold Is Sought on Equal Time

CBS Exec Suggests 6-Year Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP) — A six-year suspension of equal time regulations governing the broadcasting industry was suggested today by Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The CBS executive told a special House Commerce subcommittee suspension of the requirements with regard to nominees for president and vice president in the 1960 campaign proved to be a success.

A six-year suspension applying to nominees for all offices would be an appropriate test, he said, because it would "embrace two general elections, an off-year election and state and local elections at all levels."

REPORT TO CONGRESS

Results could be observed and reported back to Congress over a comprehensive series of elections, Dr. Stanton said, and "if any abuses arose, wave of dealing with them could be considered in the light of the facts rather than on the basis of fears and speculations.

The equal time requirements provide that when a station allows a legally qualified candidate for public office to make use of its facilities, either with or without charge, it must afford equal opportunities for all other such candidates competing for the same office.

Stanton was the first of a series of witnesses invited to discuss significant issues in broadcast regulations for two days.

Stanton said he felt the equal time restrictions offer no safeguards in any way comparable to the advantages to the electorate that their elimination would bring about.

FEARS 'UNJUSTIFIED'

"Objections to such a course generally revolve around fears that minority parties would not get a fair shake or that broadcasters, uninhibited by the equal time restrictions, would indulge in irresponsible political favoritism. Both fears seem to me unjustified," he said.

Actually, he said, the restrictions penalize significant third parties by lumping them together indiscriminately with the insignificant.

★ ★ ★

"Some parties, such as this year's American Independent Party of Goerge Wallace, can develop into meaningful forces in a campaign," Stanton said.

"Broadcasters ought to be free to treat them as such. Under section 315 of the Federal Communications Act they are not."

'Top Family Film'

Mother Seeking Return of Son's Viet Mementos

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A Wilmington woman has offered a reward for the return of her son's Vietnam letters and citations, stolen from a family car Saturday.

Mrs. Katherine Horseman said Tuesday all she wants "is someone to call, saying they have the battered blue suitcase containing Don's letters, commendations and mementos."

Her oldest son is Marine Cpl. Donald Horseman, serving on the USS Wright in Vietnam. The papers were stolen from a car owned by her younger son, Jerry, in front of their home.

★ ★ ★

"What really aggravates me," she said, "is that while Donny was risking his life in Vietnam, and Jerry is getting ready to go in, there are people who have nothing better to do but break into cars."

Demoted Deputy Fired by Sheriff

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Carl Koch, 33, a former Washtenaw County sheriff's sergeant who was demoted to deputy last week, was fired Tuesday by Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey.

Harvey said the firing of Koch had no connection with a dispute between Harvey and the Washtenaw County Deputy Association which unsuccessfully had sought bargaining rights for the deputies. The sheriff said Koch was dismissed because of refusal to make out an accident report involving Koch's private auto and a scout car in the county jail lot.

State GOP Conservatives to Meet, Eye Policy Voice

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Conservative Michigan Republicans out to win a stronger hand in the regular GOP state convention next month, gather in Grand Rapids this weekend to "regroup, replan and reattack."

They bill their Saturday meeting as a conservative Republican state convention, and leaders of the movement acknowledge their hope is for a show of support strong enough to force the regular state GOP convention to adopt policy positions more palatable to the conservative wing.

It also could mark the first big step in an intensified drive by conservatives to capture control of the GOP on a statewide basis.

Richard Durant, head of the conservative - oriented United Republicans of Michigan, said the convention's purpose is to draw new plans to resume the attack in the struggles waged between conservatives and the moderate-liberal elements in the party.

"In the past six years, Gov. (George) Romney and the State Central Committee of the Republican party have been attempting to purge conservatives from the party in Michigan," Durant said.

Dreaming of a new home? Can you picture a stately Colonial with 2 car attached garage, shuttered cozy windows and covered front porch? Come on into your dream home. Step into your foyer with its wrought iron open staircase and spacious guest closet. Glance to the right — to the private living room and its 8 ft. picture window, or to the left — past your conveniently located ½ bath, to the 27 ft. kitchen and family room. Can you picture the quiet secure area above you? Do you need 4 large bedrooms or would you prefer 3 with a 19 ft. master bedroom with "his" and "her" closets? The gleaming oak floors are a breeze to care for and you can't even hear Dad working in the full basement, with all utilities tucked conveniently into one corner. 1428 sq. ft. of individual living space. Wake up gently — this home can be yours.

A Look at TV

Simplicity Rules Special

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — It is a musical event of importance when Arthur Rubenstein, David Oistrakh and the Bolshoi Ballet appear together in one concert.

The occasion Tuesday night was CBS's 90-minute special, "S. Hurok Presents." The program was presented with complete simplicity. It opened with Oistrakh playing the Bach Violin Concerto. The Bolshoi Corps de Ballet and three soloists then presented a portion of Adolphe Adams, "Giselle." The final, longest portion was the 77-year-old Rubenstein playing Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 4 in full.

During the final portion, the camera became more active and incentive, moving from close-ups of Rubenstein's face to his hands on the keyboard, also doing some double shots and focusing on some of the instrumentalists in the orchestra.

GABLE PROGRAM

Earlier, NBC presented a summary of the career of the late Clark Gable. MGM, the studio for whom Gable made most of his films during his long career, produced the program and tagged it a documentary. Actually it consisted of bits from many of his films, a sketchy biography covering his prestar years, and some very brief, but hardly incisive reminiscences by people who knew him then and later.

In spite of the gushy, superficial writing, it was a fascinating show to watch.

School Call of Jackie's Beau Sparks Gossips' Curiosity

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The gossips who think Jackie Kennedy will marry Lord Harlech and become Lady Harlech have some new tidbits . . . Lord Harlech, who has children of school age, dropped in recently at the Dalton School, 108 E. 90th St., a few blocks from Mrs. Kennedy's 5th Ave. residence, and had a lengthy tete-a-tete with headmaster Donald Barr.

WILSON

And they were especially curious because the headmaster canceled a class that he teaches to chat with the visiting VIP.

"Lord Harlech was here," one of the Dalton School's lady officials told me. "But we have no application, he was just interested in visiting the school. We have a whole staff that shows visitors around. His visit was of no more importance than that."

"He just wanted to see the little old schoolhouse?" we asked.

"That's exactly what it was," the lady said.

Famous Le Pavillon Restaurant will be operated by Stuart Levin, who'll also be part-owner, starting immediately. "The Pav" under Henri Soule was one of the great restaurants. Levin, who's been with 4 Seasons and Sherry's, hopes that he and a group of investors will recapture its elegance and prestige. Claude Phillipe, the recent operator, will devote himself to a hotel he's building in St. Martin's, in the Caribbean.

Drama for Young Offered at WSU

DETROIT (AP)—More than 6,000 Detorit inner-city students will get their first look at live drama at Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic Theatre this spring.

Special weekday and Saturday matinee performances will be opened to the students through May. Detroit Public Schools, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit and Wayne State University are sponsoring the program, also supported by several local foundations.

Flint Fair Housing Passes Last Test

FLINT (UPI) — Having passed the last legal test of open-housing legislation, leaders of the drive that resulted in public approval of the law here today pledged support to any other community faced with a referendum on the issue.

But the 38-vote margin that had been certified after the vote dwindled to only 30 votes of the 40,310 cast in this city of 200,000 with a Negro population of nearly 40,000.

"With the democratic process having been fully exhausted, it can be officially said that a majority of the voters of the city of Flint support fair housing both in principle and in fact," said John Mack, a codirector of Friends of Fair Housing, the group which worked hard for its passage by the people of Flint.

★ ★ ★

"We hope the entire community will work together to make this principle a reality and we plan to work for passage of similar legislation at the state level," Mack said.

FACE PUBLIC VOTE

Four other Michigan communities — Pontiac, Detroit, Saginaw and Birmingham — also face a public vote on recently enacted open housing ordinances similar to the one passed by the Flint City Commission.

In Detroit, the issue of open housing was expected to be placed on the August 1968 ballot.

The Commission on Community Relations in Detroit described the measure, passed recently by the Common Council, as an "ordinance to reaffirm the equal rights of all people guaranteed by the federal and state constitutions. The legislation does not infringe upon the existing rights of property owners."

No date has been set for the public vote in Saginaw. The 3,027 signatures filed by opponents of the recently enacted ordinance were officially certified to the City Commission Monday but the commission has yet to either set a date for the vote or repeal the law.

The group opposing open housing legislation in Saginaw is headed by George Taylor, who also heads the Saginaw County Independent party, which has as its national candidate this year George Wallace, former governor of Alabama.

Outlaw on Force

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — The Danbury Common Council appointed Curtis C. Outlaw to the police department Tuesday night as special police officer.

Justice Douglas Aids 'Topless' Club

WASHINGTON (AP) — Admirers of topless waitresses in Los Angeles can take heart. Justice William O. Douglas has stepped in to save the Lakewood Club, at least for a while.

The state alcoholic beverage control department considers topless waitresses "contrary to public welfare and morals." It was all set to pick up the club's beer license.

★ ★ ★

The club turned to Douglas and late Tuesday he ordered the state to hold up for the 30 days so a Supreme Court appeal can be filed.

Hare Outlines Riot Plan

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare today briefed the State Administrative Board on an action plan for his branch offices in the event of another outbreak similar to last summer's riots in Detroit.

After the riots last year, Hare said, his office collected more than 25 truckloads of food for riot victims.

The 13 Detroit-area offices also served as information centers, he said.

Various uses suggested for the branch license plate offices included:

● Acting as information centers to distribute material on aid to riot victims, including information on emergency housing.

● Serving as collection point for food, clothing and furniture to be distributed to the victims.

● Acting as a local agent for other state depatments dealing with any civil disorder and serving as liason agents between military authorities and local officials.

● Serving as a communications network by turning its switchboard and teletype systems over to state and local officials.

● Acting as a service center by donating the free use of a notary public for notarizing forms for riot victims, such as insurance claims.

"This is very timely," commented Gov. George Romney, adding he would appreciate reports on similar planning from other state agencies.

School Millage-Bond Drive Starts as Adults Picket

By DICK ROBINSON

Sign-carrying adults picketed and paraded around Washington Junior High School last night to protest school conditions.

★ ★ ★

They carried signs saying, "Vote yes twice" and "six and a quarter for your son and your daughter."

They beat a big bass drum, threw streamers, gave a few cheers and sang some songs.

All this hoopla came before the PTA Council officially kicked off the Pontiac school millage and bond issue campaign for the March 25 election.

Members of the school Finance Study Council (FSC) and its speakers' bureau asked that school district property owners vote yes on a 6.25-millage increase for operational expenses and on $23-million bond issue for school construction.

The FSC is composed of 90 Pontiac citizens and 32 school administrators who analyzed school needs.

FSC Chairman Francis M. Webster gave a slide presentation, pointing out that it would only cost the average Pontiac resident owner an amount equal to one cup of coffee a day for the millage increase.

Pontiac's public schools are probably entering the most critical five-year period in their history. Major decisions are to be made in the coming months.

These decisions, unlike most, will not be made by school administrators. They will be made by the voters of the Pontiac School District.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barry Goldwater — joining in Republican pleas for unity after his near-renunciation of Nelson A. Rockefeller — has strongly indicated he could back the New York governor for president. "I've never voted for a Democrat for president yet," Goldwater told a Republican dinner last night. "And if people want to convince me they have changed their spots, I can be convinced."

Fair Housing Intact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has narrowly rejected an effort to exempt single-family homes from a civil rights — open housing bill but has crushed a liberal bid to stave off antiriot amendments. The amendment to punch a big hole in the proposed ban on discrimination in the sale or rental of housing was defeated, 48 to 43.

67 in Jet Feared Dead

POINTE-A-PITRE, Guadeloupe (AP) — Airport authorities today feared there were no survivors from an Air France Boeing 707 jet that crashed and burned on a Guadeloupe mountainside last night. The airline said the plane carried 67 persons — 53 passengers and 14 crew members.

45 on Sea Rig Saved

City Fair-Housing Vote Set

By BOB WISLER

The vote on the June election was 5-0 with two abstentions. The vote, however, wasn't an indication of togetherness.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-8, A-9

Commissioners traded mild and not-so-mild insults in discussing whether the issue should be placed before the voters at all, or whether the question should appear on the ballot at the city's general election April 15 or at another time.

The possible political calamity of having to run for reelection on a ballot which would also feature the controversial issue of open housing obviously was a chief factor in deciding on the June date.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners Robert C. Irwin, District 2; John A. Dugan, District 5; and Wesley J. Wood, District 6—the three-member minority in the decision which passed the open housing ordinance—all spoke strongly against the June election.

DUGAN VOTES 'FOR'

Irwin and Wood abstained in the vote and Dugan went along with the resolution although he said he was doing so only because "I was always for a vote of the people on this."

The open housing ordinance — a discussion point during the fall and winter — was passed by a 4-3 vote Jan. 30, but it never took effect.

Under terms of the city charter a petition stating intent to certify referendum petitions delayed the ordinance's effect pending outcome of any petition drive that would materialize.

The drive did materialize and last Wednesday afternoon when 2,786 signatures were presented, enough signatures were certified to make the petitions valid, according to city officials, who brought the ordinance back to the City Commission.

REPEAL OR BALLOT

The commission, under the charter, was obliged either to repeal the ordinance or call for an election.

A move to repeal the ordinance made by Irwin won only his vote, Dugan's and Wood's. The votes of Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., Leslie H. Hudson, District 4; T. Warren Fowler Sr., District 1; and James H. Marshall, District 7 — the same four who passed the ordinance — defeated the move to repeal.

After further discussion, a move was made by Taylor to hold the election June 10. The commission was informed by the city clerk that this was the same date as school board elections, so June 24 was picked by Taylor for the referendum election.

Texas Fire Kills 9 ---May Be Arson

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine persons perished in two residential area fires on Houston's east side during the night, and investigators said an arsonist may have started both blazes.

Firemen and police reported a number of bodies were charred beyond recognition.

None of the dead was identified at once.

Both fires occurred in a low income area verging on the industrial district about three miles east of downtown Houston.

★ ★ ★

As the last unit was leaving the scene of the first fire in which one man died, fire Capt. Donald Hanks spotted a glow in the sky and summoned more equipment.

ROOMING HOUSE BLAZE

Three blocks down the street the fire fighters found a two-story rooming house engulfed by flames. Eight persons were dead by the time the blaze was controlled after a desperate hour's battle.

Two persons were rescued from the rooming house, one by Hanks himself. The building was destroyed.

These were the latest in a series of nearly a dozen Houston fires attributed to one or more arsonists in recent weeks. One person was killed earlier.

★ ★ ★

Dave Thrilltill, 36, temporarily in charge of the rooming house, told of being awakened by the crackling sound of fire. He ran into his kitchen, dashed a bucket of water on the blaze and shouted for help, he said.

★ ★ ★

Two neighbors in the rooming house — Edward Burgess, 20, a construction worker, and Louis Penney, 23, a gas station attendant — heeded Triltill's cries and helped him escape.

The death toll was the worst in a Houston fire since 1940 when 56 persons perished in a burning hotel.

Parking Mall for City Okayed

★ ★ ★

The mall would stop through traffic during daytime shopping hours on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

The plan was presented to downtown merchants last week and enthusiastically received.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said a $15,000 budget has been established to purchase equipment — movable barriers at the ends of the block, entrance gates at each end and a gatehouse for a parking attendant.

★ ★ ★

Parking spaces would be perpendicular to the buildings, thus accommodating more cars than the present parallel parking, he said.

★ ★ ★

Decorative plants would be utilized, he added. Warren said the city, operating the parking, could recover the costs in the first year.

The plan is based on a similar plan used on the principal business street of downtown Lansing during the past two years.

Warren said the plan is experimental and will require rerouting traffic. If it proves unfeasible, he said, the city facilities can be used in other parking lots.

In related business, the Commission approved a resolution complementing Connelly's Jewlry Store for "contribution to downtown improvement" in renovations to the exterior of the store, located at North Saginaw and West Huron.

TUGBOAT HUDDLE — Three U.S. Navy fleet tugs and supporting craft surround the bow section of the oil tanker Ocean Eagle yesterday off San Juan Puerto Rico. The tugs failed today in an attempt to tow the section to deeper water where it was to have been sunk. The tanker had broken up Sunday at the mouth of San Juan's harbor, flooding hotel beaches in the area with oil slick.

New Buildings, New Facade

Phase 2 Begins at St. Joseph

Construction has begun on the second and major portion of the $10-million expansion and renovation program at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Hospital officials announced today that equipment was being moved into place this week to begin the work that would add new buildings and a new face to the 30-year-old hospital.

The second phase of the hospital's building program is to cost about $6.5 million and would include renovation of existing medical-surgical patients areas, and the addition of new surgery rooms, radiology, laboratories and business offices.

An estimated 150 beds are included in the second phase of the hospital's expansion and renovation program, which calls for the hospital to have a total of 500 patient beds. Current capacity is 347 beds.

★ ★ ★

The first phase of the two-part building program was completed last year and primarily updated supporting service areas at a cost of $3.5 million.

EIGHT-STORY WING

In addition, a light-colored brick is hospital, which fronts on Woodward, a new look. A new eight-story wing is slated in the center of the existing building complex, hiding it from the view of the street.

Second phase construction will give the changing the hospital's entire outward appearance.

The $10-million building program is supported from a variety of sources, including public contributions of $3,398,544. Federal funds and monies provided by the Sisters of Mercy, Detroit Province, also are included in the financing program.

★ ★ ★

Hospital officials indicated the building program has felt the impact of spiraling costs.

★ ★ ★

Liquor License Problem Aired

Talk of a new liquor license for a proposed Sheraton Motor Hotel and Restaurant near St. Joseph Mercy Hospital touched off discussion of an old political problem among city commissioners last night.

★ ★ ★

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan said no one should get excited about construction of the motor hotel, expected to cost about $2.5 million, unless the majority of the commission has changed its stand on new Class C liquor licesnes.

"This has been a controversial subject for 14 years," Dugan said.

Because of a change in population under the 1960 census the city has three Class C licenses available under the quota system established by the state.

LOCAL APPROVAL NEEDED

But, the State Liquor Control Commission wont' approve new licenses without approval of the local governing body.

The City Commission hasn't approved a new license since at least 1960.

District 4 Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson last night made a motion to approve a new license for a recent applicant, Frank Slaybaugh, operator of a restaurant at 22 W. Montcalm. His motion died for lack of support.

★ ★ ★

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said he would refer the request of developer Charles A. Langs for a Class C license for the motor hotel to the staff and planning commission for recommendations.

★ ★ ★

He said the city would hopefully have an answer in a week or two.

Bell Will Spend $4.9 Million

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced today it will spend $4,970,000 to expand and improve communications facilities in Pontiac in 1968.

★ ★ ★

A total of $19,870,000 will be spent in Oakland County during the year.

Charles B. Woodhead, Michigan Bell's local public relations manager, said that expenditures for Pontiac would be alloted as follows outside plant facilities, $1,075,000; telephone equipment in homes and offices, $1,160,000 and central office buildings and equipment, $2,735,000.

The 1968 program will raise the company's investment in new plant since 1965 over the half-billion dollar mark, according to William M. Day, Michigan Bell president.

In 1968, Bell is scheduled to start construction of 13 new telephone buildings, along with 26 building additions in Michigan.

"We expect to add some 205,000 telephones and handle close to five billion calls in 1968. Both figures represent new highs," said Day.

Blaiberg Discharge Due

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Christiaan Barnard says he plans to discharge Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's only living heart transplant recipient, from the hospital when he returns to South Africa next week.

Temperatures Up as Spring Nears

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts fair and colder tonight with a low of 15 to 20. Temperatures will reach the low 40s tomorrow with skies mostly sunny.

Fair and mild is the outlook for Friday.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today, tonight and tomorrow 5.

Twenty was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury registered 38 at 12:30 p.m.

Dog Racing Bill on State House Floor

LANSING (AP)— Bills to legalize dog racing in Michigan, increase the property tax exemption of disabled veterans, and outlaw most retail store contests were reported out by House committees Tuesday.

Also sent to the House floor were bills requiring protection of motorcyclists' faces and establishing a special commission to set the salaries of legislators and other state officials.

It would authorize the state to license up to eight dog tracks, at least one each in the Detroit area and the Upper Peninsula, with revenues to be shared by the host county or city, all counties and the state.

NEEDS OK

Before a dog track could be set up, approval would be required from the county board of supervisors or, in a city of over 500,000 population, by the city commission.

If the local body either accepted or rejected the track, five per cent of the registered voters in the city or county involved could put the question on the ballot.

The veterans exemption measure, introduced by Rep. Stanley Powell, R-Ionia, would replace the present flat-rate exemption with a new system based on the veteran's degree of disability.

The measure, which would cost the state an estimated $7 million in the current fiscal year, also would boost the exemptions allowed from taxes levied in calendar 1968.

$2,000 EXEMPT

Currently, the first $2,000 in valuation of an eligible veteran's homestead is exempt from property taxes if its total value is $10,000 or less and the veteran earns no more than $7,500, not including disability benefits.

Eligible for the exemptions are all combat veterans of the Philippines, the China Relief Expedition, the Spanish American War and the Indian wars, and Disabled Veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

Powell's bill would provide exemptions ranging from $2,500 for a nondisabled veteran of a modern war to $4,500 for a veteran rated 90 per cent disabled or for the widow of a man dying while in the armed forces.

★ ★ ★

The maximum value of an exempted homestead would be raised from $10,000 to $11,000.

HERBERT C. COOLEY

Police Veteran Sheriff Aspirant

City Officer to Seek GOP Nod in Primary

Pontiac Police Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley announced today he will seek the Republican party's nomination for Oakland County sheriff.

Petitions to place his name on the ballot for the Aug. 6 primary will be circulated within a week, he said.

Frank W. Irons is the incumbent sheriff.

Cooley, 42, is a veteran of 17 years with the Pontiac department, having served in the patrol division, traffic bureau, vice squad and detective bureau before taking his present post as patrol supervisor.

He has been a sergeant since 1958 and has completed courses in law enforcement at Oakland University and Michigan State University.

HEADS PPOA

He has been elected president of the Pontiac Police Officer's Association (PPOA) seven times, the past three years consecutively.

★ ★ ★

"In a time of complex problems and change in a complex society, law enforcement agencies must be regeared to be effective, while maintaining the basic aim of protecting the public," he said.

Birmingham Area News

Board of Education OKs Administrator Pay Scale

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education last night approved salary schedules for administrators and departmental supervisors for the 1967-68 school year.

The salary schedules were adopted retroactive to July 1, as recommended by Supt. of Schools Dr. John B. Smith.

The new scale for administrators calls for salaries ranging from $10,510 for principal's or coordinator's assistant with one year experience, to $19,650 for a high school principal with seven years experience.

For department heads and supervisors, the range is from $8,665 for the first year for the head of a department with 5-9 teachers, to $12,430 for a system-wide supervisor with eight years experience. All salaries are based on a master's degree preparation.

★ ★ ★

Approval of the schedules drew unfavorable comment from the Association of Birmingham School Administrative and Supervisory Personnel, which had been denied recognition as a bargaining agent by the board last week.

HITS PLAN

Grant Barber, Pierce principal and a spokesman for the association, said the schedules "do not reflect agreement" between the association and the board.

"Our association believes there has been insufficient communication to establish mutual acceptance of total problems and concerns of its members," Barber added.

Smith, however, pointed out that the schedules could be changed later if desired, but that in order to figure the 1967-68 budget soon, immediate approval was necessary.

The board also received a report from Ed Tarras, social studies coordinator, on the district's pilot social studies program.

The district recently received a $300,000 grant, from the U.S. Office of Education for evaluation and demonstration of its new curriculum in the field.

Inquest Order Appeal Mulled

Oakland County Medical Examiner Dr. Bernard D. Berman and Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen were to meet today to decide if they will appeal a court ruling ordering a coroner's inquest in the death of a Negro teen-ager last December.

Circuit Judge Robert L. Templin ruled yesterday that Berman did not have the authority to reject a petition for a hearing into the death of Jimmie King, 17, who was shot while fleeing Pontiac police on Dec. 7.

Berman had refused to act on the petition last month on the basis that an inquest would serve no purpose since all the facts in the case were in and the prosecutor had ruled the death a justifiable homicide.

★ ★ ★

Julian A. Cook Jr., attorney for the petitioners and a recent appointee to the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, told Templin that "It may well be that all the facts are in but it is incumbent to clear the air of any doubts in the Negro community."

Allen argued that the purpose of an inquest is not to serve as a sounding board to release emotions.

"The only things that could be determined by an inquest," said Allen, "already have been determined."

State House Stalls Bill on Riot Powers

LANSING (AP) — A bill to give mayors and other local officials authority to declare states of emergency in riot situations stalled in the House Tuesday, meeting bitter opposition from a handful of members.

The Senate debated a similar bill last week, but put off further action until Thursday. Action on the House bill was put off until today.

Meanwhile, the Senate approved 34-2 and sent to the House a bill — aimed at persons who incite looters — which would make it a felony to incite another to commit an act of larceny or burglary.

POSTPONE ACTION

Sponsors of the House measure said last summer's civil outbreaks show local authorities need powers to impose curfews and limit sale of arms and ammunition, liquor, and gasoline and other inflamables.

★ ★ ★

Opponents said the bill would delegate powers now held by the governor, permit abuses of civil liberties and civil rights, and cause impossible confusion in metropolitan areas.

STATE POLICE OPPOSE

The Michigan State Police Department opposes the bill. In its present form, the measure empowers the chief executive of a city, village or township to declare a state of emergency "in the event of a threat of civil disorder and the inability to contain or control the civil disorder."

A Countywide state of emergency could be declared by the chairman of the board of the prosecutor, the sheriff and supervisors, or by any two of them. Violation of such an execeutive order would bee a misdemeanor.

Opponents of the bill, mostly Democrats from Detroit's inner city, attacked the measure with a barage of motions and even a brief filibuster by Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit.

"Yout talk about protecting the cities," charged Rep. David Holmes, D-Detroit, "but nothing in this bill gives protection to the people."

Open-Housing Delays 'Futile'

Must Act on State Law---GOP Senator

LANSING (AP) — A Republican state senator said Tuesday it would be "futile and foolhardy" to put off action on a statewide open-housing law that could help ease racial tension.

"Vague promises ... are not doing anything to solve the problems," Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, told delegates to the Michigan Welfare League's annual legislative forum.

"We must make a start," he said. "The people are impatient and you can't blame them.

"Vacillation (on the proposed law) is causing more problems possibly than the original problem," he added. Those looking to the Legislature for a solution to racial tensions could begin to doubt the sincerity of lawmakers, Zollar said.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Passage of an open-housing law "will show the people we do intend to do something," he said.

Zollar, chief sponsor of a housing proposal now in Senate committee, participated in a panel discussion on that measure and proposed tenants' rights bills.

★ ★ ★

Others on the panel were Carl Schier, assistant professor at the University of Detroit's urban Law Clinic, and Richard Philleo, legislative counsel for the Michigan Real Estate Association.

Children Brighten Annual Town Report

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — "If there were no waste disposal. . . our town will smell."

"I like the water company because they dig big holes in the street.

ILLUSTRATED BY CHILDREN

The report, "as children see us," is the idea of Town Manager Richard J. Bowen. In an introduction he says: "There is a simplicity of truth in the eyes of children."

Police: "The policeman helps me when I am kidnaped."

★ ★ ★

Firemen: "The fireman helps us if our house is on fire. If your brother is in the hous the fireman goes in and gets the boy out."

'STREETS IMPORTANT'

Parental conversation at the dinner table probably inspired this: "The town meeting is accepting our road. We payed a hundred dollars for it. Others payed a million."

An estimated total of 2.5 million youngsters are engaged in some phase of 4-H Club work. About 400,000 men and women serve as leaders.

The electorate will be asked March 25 whether they are willing to pay higher school taxes for educational improvements to insure quality education.

Members of the FSC, PTAs and school teachers and administrators are hard at work informing the voting public of the importance of their forthcoming decision on the future of the community, themselves and most important, children.

Concerned citizens are knocking on doors of homes, handing out literature and asking people to get out and vote.

★ ★ ★

"A substantial understanding gap exists between the schools and the residents of the community," the council claims in its 225-page report.

STUDY SUGGESTED

The council suggests a study of the problem to find ways of better communication. Among proposed solutions are a booklet describing the school system, more adult community involvement or more discussions between school counselors and parents.

"It was the opinion of the members of the Finance Study Council that by far the majority of the citizens of the community are concerned with schools," the FSC says.

"They desire that the Pontiac schools continue to provide educational opportunities for its students comparable to the best in the State of Michigan, if not the nation.

"It was felt that the majority of the residents realized the importance of good schools to the maintenance of the value of their investments in the community, be it their business, their home or their social life among friendships long established."

It is for these reasons that the immediate action to prevent any further deterioration in quality of education and to reinstate about a half million dollars of cutbacks in the current budget.

Rhodesia Slaps Queen, Hangs 3

★ ★ ★

A guard pinned notices on the gate of Salisbury's central prison announcing the executions of the three men convicted of murder and terrorism.

★ ★ ★

The queen, still considered head of state by Rhodesia's rebel white minority government, commuted their sentences Saturday. But the appellate division of Rhodesia's high court, ruling on two of the cases Monday, held it was "not a personal decision by her majesty but by her government (in Britain). Her majesty is quite powerless in this matter. It is a source of great regret that her majesty has become involved."

MERCY PIROGATIVE

Cuba Disclaims Plane Hijack

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government said today a Jordanian and two Colombians hijacked the Colombian airliner diverted to Cuba Tuesday with 36 persons aboard. But there was no announcement that the hijackers had asked for asylum in Cuba.

The plane and its passengers were expected to be allowed to return to Colombia today after Avianca Airlines pays Cuba the cost of refueling and servicing the plane at Antonio Maceo Airport in Santiago de Cuba.

Planes hijacked to Cuba are usually released within 24 hours.

A government announcement said the men who forced the Colombian pilot to fly to Santiago were Sani Salin Analayo, a Jordanian citizen who lives in Maicao, Colombia, and Colombian citizens Jairo Enrique Ortiz Acosta and Aristides Villalobos.

Soviet-Bloc Leaders Meet in Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Leaders of the seven Soviet Bloc nations gathered in the Bulgarian capital today for a Warsaw Pact summit meeting threatened with more wrangling between the Russians and the maverick Romanians.

Bucharest's delegation walked out of the international meeting of Communist parties in Budapest last week rather than sit still for criticism of Romanian policy and Red China. In what looked like an attempt to patch things up, Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev stopped in Bucharest on his way to Sofia and met with Romanian party chief Nicolae Ceausescu.

Appropriation Law Gets Final Commission Okay

City commissioners gave final formal approval last night to the annual city appropriation ordinance. It calls for spending $10,416,900 for general fund operatinos, sanitation and waste disposal, bonded indebtedness and capital improvements in 1968.

Commissioners last week gave essential approval to the budget calling for spending $8,572,325 for city operations, up nearly $690,000 from last year's fund. General fund spending will be supported by a 7-mill property tax plus the income tax imposed this year.

Of the total increase, some $500,000 is allocated for pay raises and increased fringe benefits for city employes.

City commissioners have approved provisions now of all separate funds of the budget except the capital improvement fund, although they did authorize a total appropriation of $638,900 this year.

★ ★ ★

Last night the commission approved spending money out of the fund for a new fire department ladder truck and a pumper truck.

Delivery of the vehicles may take up to 18 months, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said.

The 1,250-gallon pumper is expected to cost about $30,000. An aerial platform ladder truck with an 85-foot boom is expected to cost up to $80,000.

The special election will cost about $5,000 to hood during June, but there would have been no extra cost on the April ballot, they said.

Dugan said the move was "cowardly and sneaky" while Irwin said it was a "cheap political trick."

Irwin accused the majority of not being able to stand on the issue of open housing and, therefore, attempting to evade the issue until after the election.

EMOTIONAL ISSUE

Hudson, arguing for the June election, said open housing is an emotional issue which should be decided at an election where no other issues are involved.

He said too many voters are prepared to vote for or against a person just on their stand on open housing. A candidate's entire platform should be the basis for voting, he said.

He indicated that a June election would tend to spread the issues. Hudson also said the cost of a special election "matters very little when it comes to the issue we're concerned with."

★ ★ ★

Taylor said, "I don't think we're avoiding putting it before the people."

'WE NEED TO TALK'

"I feel I have already put my neck on the block when I voted on the ordinance," Taylor said. He said a referendum election should be held at a time other than the general election to "take the issue out of the political arena."

Fowler said he has faith that the ordinance will pass a referendum election but suggested that since registrations for the general election now are closed, the special election should be scheduled at a time when all who want to vote are registered.

"Many persons who would want to vote on only this issue could not vote in April because they are not registered and now have no chance to do so until after April 15, he said.

Before the voting on the June election, Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant gave the opinion that setting the time of the election was, under terms of the charter, entirely within the discretion of the commission.

School Demonstrators Inconsistent

Demonstrations by students in the Avondale School District reflect an alarming disregard for the realities of living—possibly by those on BOTH sides of the fence.

On Feb. 19 the school district's voters were asked to approve a 12.7-mill tax hike. In essence, the school board and administrators were asking voters if they want quality education and services for their children.

The answer was straight and clear . . . . . No. Voters rejected the millage proposal by a 5 to 1 margin.

Bus service for students living within 1.5 miles of school was to be cut as of Monday. Sports programs are being sharply curtailed. There has been considerable juggling of staff assignments, and several positions will be eliminated. There will be no improvements to buildings and grounds for the remainder of the school year and capital outlays, repairs and maintenance will be kept to a bare minimum. Further economies are indicated by the fact that the above mentioned will only eliminate part of an anticipated $115,000 deficit.

In analyzing these cuts, it would appear to us that the board has attempted to circumvent the academic program as much as possible, eliminating those things least likely to directly affect the quality of education in Avondale schools.

The reaction has been irresponsible, to say the least. While it was relatively mild and evenly divided at the Feb. 26 board meeting when the cuts were announced, it suddenly became wild and unruly. Students paraded in a rowdy fashion, attempting to stop traffic Friday. Police action was necessary to quell the disturbance.

Sunday, an estimated 200 parents showed up at a mass meeting at the Elmwood Fire Hall to protest board policies. That meeting was marked by frequent noisy and undisciplined outbursts. It appears that most of the violent objection concerns the cutback on busing of students. That problem has now been temporarily delayed by an emergency decision of the board to continue busing at least through next Monday.

If voters are going to indicate at the polls that they want a mediocre educational system, then they should be prepared to accept and live with that decision—even if it means getting up and driving the kids to school.

If voters are merely indicating that they are fed up with constantly increasing taxation, the same holds true. Both sides must still learn to live with the cutbacks.

On the other side of the fence, the board should be careful to cut all the nonessentials before delving into the meat of the educational program.

Likewise, it might be more realistic the next time around if the school board and administration split their millage proposal into several smaller proposals and let the voters decide just what they want for their children.

In any day and age, 12.7 mills is a big chunk to bite off all in one mouthful. The board should take into consideration the fact that people do have a limit as to the total tax burden they can bear, and that total burden has increased significantly in recent months.

★ ★ ★

Maybe voter reaction would be different if the public wasn't forced to swallow the whole pill in one gulp. Meanwhile, students and parents must learn to act with at least a hint of maturity in the face of a financial crisis.

Democracy Concept Approved by West Germans

There are so many other problems to choose from these days that no one worries any more about how democracy is faring in Germany—in that half of the nation that is privileged to try the system, that is.

Asked the question, "Do you believe that democracy is the best form of government for Germany, or could you imagine a better one?", 74 per cent of the persons interviewed opted for democracy. Undecideds amounted to 22 per cent. Only 4 per cent thought another form of government would be better.

On the question of one party versus two or more parties, 55 per cent of the people said they thought several parties were better for the country. Another 26 per cent preferred "not more than two or three parties"—a total of 81 per cent.

Those preferring only one party came to 9 per cent; another 9 per cent were undecided, and 1 per cent wanted "no party at all."

By contrast, in a comparable survey made in 1951, more than twice as many—22 per cent—favored a one-party system.

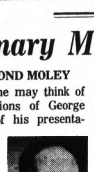
Primary Mixes Idealism, Nonsense

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Whatever one may think of the qualifications of George Romney or of his presentation of the issues, he was the representative of a sizable minority faction of the Republican Party known by such names as the Eastern Establishment of the moderate or liberal wing.



MOLEY

And the collapse of his candidacy because the polls showed him to be facing overwhelming defeat in a tiny state means that there can be no real national test of the strength of that faction.

We are witnessing in New Hampshire and Wisconsin — and will see in a few other states later — the operation of a system of nominating candidates for President which originated half a century ago.

That origin was in an era of widespread disillusionment in the operation of free institutions. It was called the Progressive movement, and the remedies it created, as someone said then, "were to make democracy democ." Its nostrums were a mixture of high idealism and wonderful nonsense.

Even on the ground of constitutional theory, such a plan would negate the principle of representative government. For conventions with all their defects are the best method yet devised by which busy citizens delegate the responsibility for representing their views.

The direct-primary system measurably weakens the two-party system. For under an enlarged primary system there might well emerge the multiparty system, which eroded the stability of the French government for so many years and more than once led to dictatorship.

On the practical side, presidential preference primaries present candidates with the impossible task of campaigning in all of them. And so they risk their fortunes in only a few. And those few where there are contests send less than 10 per cent of the delegates to the national conventions. New Hampshire and Wisconsin will have only 3 per cent of the delgates in the Republican National Convention this year.

Primary contests are very costly. Either the candidate must be as rich as the Kennedys and Rockefellers, or he must depend upon fat cats who give in expectation of favors if their man is elected.

Primary contests which begin so early in the year wear the patience of the public threadbare before November. There are only a limited number of issues to be debated. But these issues must be reiterated over and over ad nauseam for many months.

Consider the sheer physical drain that the candidate must suffer in the long months of innumerable press conferences and contacts. Very few men over 60 could stand the strain. The candidate who can stay to the end must have the physical capacity of an itinerant wrestler.

Is This Any Way To Fight A War?

David Lawrence Says:

Fair Housing May Be '68 Issue

WASHINGTON—Open housing may become a big issue in the national campaign this autumn. It affects directly more voters than many other questions which will be debated, and could cause the defeat of some Republicans and Democrats who will have voted in favor of the measure.

The proposed legislation would prohibit an owner from selling or renting his property to whomever he pleases through an agent. Less than two years from now, this would apply even to single-family, owner-occupied dwellings if the property is sold through a real-estate broker.

Persons engaged in the real estate business throughout the country are alarmed over the prospect. They fear that home owners will feel compelled to dispose of their property on their own or through friends and acquaintances.

The reasoning behind the protest is not so much related to a desire by an owner to discriminate between buyers, but is based upon a belief that, if certain neighborhoods are open to Negro purchasers, real estate values will quickly drop and owners may see their equity reduced substantially.

There are 85,000 real estate brokers or agents throughout the country, and they have consistently opposed interference by the government in what they regard as a transaction in private property.

ALL PROPERTY?

It is argued, for instance, that if the government can tell a person to whom he must sell his home when he gets ready to seek a buyer through a real estate agent, then the same rule can also be applied to any kind of personal property, such as a boat or a motorcycle or an automobile.

Many real estate men are saying that, while the forthcoming legislation stipulates certain exemptions for owners of single homes and four-unit apartments, the mere fact that within 20 months new tenants may move into neighborhoods which have not been integrated is likely to arouse considerable concern as to the prospective values of the real estate.

It is estimated that by Jan. 1, 1970, the new proposals, if enacted, will cover 44.6 million units, or 68 per cent of the nation's housing.

The open-housing issue has been fought out on a state or local basis in referendums in different areas across the country during the last few years, and in many cases the people have rejected the idea at the polls.

Certainly the open-housing question will be debated in the coming presidential and congressional campaign, and many a senator and representative will find his vote on this issue in Congress challenged next autumn.

Bob Considine Says:

Confusing GOP Winds Blow Nixon Back on Top

NEW YORK—It takes more than political savvy to comprehend the winds of change in the Republican Party. It takes a good meteorologist.

CONSIDINE

Dick Nixon went to the 1964 GOP convention in San Francisco as pretty much of a spectator. Four years before that the party had thunderously dubbed him Sir Richard and confidently sent him forth to demolish the then lesser-known Sen. John F. Kennedy.

In 1962 Nixon — against his better judgment — ran for governor of California and was resoundingly beaten. For reasons never fully comprehended, he devoted much of his campigning to orating on foreign affairs.

★ ★ ★

Californians, circa 1962, could not have cared less about the situation in the Balkans tinderbox. They wanted to know about California water, roads, relief, schools, integration, etc. Pat Brown gave them what they wanted, and he was a shoo-in.

JUST LOOKING AROUND

So back to 1964, by which time Nixon had become a stateless person. In an interview in his law office in the Wall Street area he said that two of the delegates to the impending convention had told him they would insist on nominating him. (Both later backed out.)

He added that he was just going to San Francisco to look around. He had no plans to speak. Sen. Barry Goldwater would get the nomination on the first ballot, he predicted, because everybody there who disliked something, or somebody, felt that Goldwater shared their bile.

It was clearly the end of Nixon's political road. He would settle down and make some real money for himself and his family for the first time. He was forgotten, and relieved.

Rockefeller led the New York delegation to that convention, tried to speak for the convention's moderates, and was howled down in an angry demonstration. It set some sort of convention record for bad manners.

Well, as of last weekend, Nixon is back and so is Rocky. One or the other is going to get the bid. If you had offered to bet on that four years ago you could have asked for and gotten odds of a thousand to one.

'We Must Decide if Bill Is Good for All Citizens'

Many arguments concerning the Parochiaid Bill are trivial and have nothing to do with whether this bill would be good for all citizens. Is the bill legal? Can taxes of citizens be used to help support private schools? Does the money involved, including the cost of distributing it, represent a lesser amount than these parents actually pay into the State treasury for school taxes? If it is the same or a larger amount, the bill should not be passed because the State as a whole would not benefit from it.

We want our boys and girls to have the best educational opportunities and we must strive for an intelligent dispersal of our tax monies toward this end.

Comments on Avondale's School Budget

To reduce the Avondale school system budget deficit, Superintendent John Dickey has proposed and somehow got past the Avondale School Board the curtailment of busing our children over such roads as Adams and South Boulevard. A reasonable estimate is that some 100 children from kindergarten to eighth grade will now trek these roads that have 45 m.p.h. speed limits, gullies instead of sidewalks, and no traffic lights. Can't Mr. Dickey cut some other educational service that will not affect the safety of our children? How about requiring parents to purchase textbooks, eliminating the position of department chairman, or reducing further custodial, secretarial and administrative services?

Has Suggestion to Ease Parking Problem

Why the sudden concern for downtown Pontiac? Where was this concern when customers were lined up in all the stores waiting to pay for their merchandise? And who cared that one had to park at Auburn and Perry to shop at the other end of town? A few penny meters near the banks and post office would ease the parking situation by freeing other meters for shoppers.

What does downtown have to offer? There is no nice theater, no really nice hotel for out-of-town guests, and anyone who arrives by Greyhound on Sunday cannot even claim his luggage until Monday. These are facilities one expects in a town of this size.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Busing . . .

Chicago Tribune

The series of hearings on compulsory busing of Chicago school pupils has revealed intense opposition to the plan. Most parents want their children to attend schools in their home neighborhood. Busing schemes are favored only in areas where the schools are intolerably overcrowded.

Mrs. Lydon Wild, head of the school board committee which conducted the hearings, now says it would be futile to force busing on an area that doesn't want it. Other members of the board have come to the same view.

The sooner the busing plan is junked the better it will be for the schools, and we hope the board and the school administration have learned a lesson. Supt. James F. Redmond recommended the plan in an effort to meet objections raised by the United States office of education, which thinks race mixing will solve all educational problems. The worst effect of this doctrine has been to obstruct and delay practical efforts to improve the schools in low-income areas where many of the pupils are Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Redmond recently reported the results of standardized tests given to Chicago pupils. The scores showed that the achievements of most inner-city pupils were far below normal, while children in outlying schools often were above the national averages.

This illustrates the nature of Chicago's problem. Cleveland has not wasted time on compulsory busing schemes but has pushed a variety of programs to help underprivileged children.

Cleveland has greatly expanded vocational programs in the high schools. As a result 96 per cent of the graduates of seven inner-city schools have been placed in jobs in the last two years. In the same period the number of graduates going on to college has risen from 450 to 750.

The Cleveland schools have worked closely with industries to prepare pupils for jobs existing today, not for jobs that existed in former years. A warehouse and an office building donated to the school system by General Electric company are used for classrooms, and 10 manufacturing plants where pupils work part time are maintained in the same quarters.

There is no compulsory busing for race mixing purposes in Cleveland. Supt. Briggs dismissed the idea as "logistically impossible."

Redmond wants more physicians and psychologists, more speech improvement teachers, reading laboratories, and reading centers. He wants better mathematics and science programs. He promises more cooperation with Chicago industries, which have thousands of unfilled jobs.

★ ★ ★

His program calls for an increase in the school budget of 170 million dollars a year. There is no possibility that such a large sum can be obtained from local taxpayers, but some increase in revenue may be expected. When the money is apportioned, the pupils in inner-city schools should be given preference.

Proposal . . .

Boston Globe

Rep. James Haley (D-Fla.) was loudly applauded when he proposed the following treatment for flag burners:

"I'd take them 200 miles out on the ocean, tie an anchor around their necks, throw them overboard and let them swim to any country whose flag they can respect."

Trading Is Heavy

Mart Stages Technical Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged a vigorous technical rally early today. Trading was heavy. The ticker tape was late.

Burroughs rebounded about 6 points, IBM 4, Xerox 3, Ling Temco Vought 2, Amphenol, Fairchild Camera, Monogram Industries, McDonnell Douglas and Gulf & Western a point or better.

SOLID ADVANCE

Emphasis was on the glamor stocks in the computer, conglomerate and other growth fields which have taken the worst battering during the long decline.

Analysts saw nothing particular in the overnight news to trigger a rally but ascribed it mainly to technical factors such as short covering which brought sharp recoveries to some of the volatile issues in the final minutes of trading Tuesday.

The market was seen to be in at least a temporarily oversold condition as it neared another support area in the averages.

AP AVERAGE

LBJ Ballot Decision Puts Leaders on Spot

BOSTON (AP) — Some prominent Massachusetts Democrats, including U.S. House Speaker John W. McCormack, say they will resign as candidates for the state delegation to the Democratic National Convention rather than be forced to cast first-ballot votes for Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota.

President Johnson sent word Tuesday that he would neither enter the April 31 state presidential primary nor allow a stand-in to run for him, leaving McCarthy the lone candidate for the Democratic ballot when the filing deadline passed at 5 p.m.

A new Massachusetts law requires delegates, under penalty of fine or imprisonment, to vote on the first ballot at their conventions for the winner of their party's presidential preference poll in the state unless he releases them in writing.

Joining McCormack in promising to resign from the party's official slate of delegates were Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, a legal resident of Springfield who had been considered a possible stand-in for Johnson, and McCormack's nephew, former state Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack.

ONLY CHANCE

The only chance that Massachusetts' 72 convention votes might be kept from going to McCarthy appeared to be a write-in campaign for Johnson. Democratic leaders immediately began disccusing the possibility, but some observers doubted there would be adquate time.

Sources close to the delegate slate, composed almost entirely of candidates favorable to Johnson, said resignations also are expected from Lester Hyman, chairman of the Democratic State Committee; Maurice A. Donohue, president of the Massachusetts Senate; Robert H. Quinn, speaker of the Massachusetts House; and all or most of the six congressmen of the officials slate.

Candidates have until March 8 to submit their resignations.

The official Democratic party slate of delegates is unopposed in seven congressional districts, including those of the McCormack and O'Brien. In the other districts, full slates favorable to McCarthy are running in three, a single pro-McCarthy challenger is on the ballot in one, and in the fifth the official slate is being challenged by others, not committed to McCarthy.

O'Brien said he ran on the slate "in the hope of voting for President Johnson" at the convention, but does "not want to be on a slate that will be committed to vote for Sen. McCarthy."

Edward McCormack said, "Since we are all strong supporters of President Johnson, we find that as a matter of conscience we could not be delegates to a national convention required by law to vote against the President at the convention."

Parole Nixed for Woman in 1959 Slaying

FRONTERA, Calif. (AP) — Carole Tregoff has been denied parole from the prison to which she was sentenced to life for the 1959 murder of the wife of Dr. Bernard Finch.

Miss Tregoff could win her freedom in May 1969 when her case comes up again. Supt. Iverne Carter of the California Institute for Women said after Tuesday's hearing that Miss Tregoff, now 30, has a good chance at parole.

The parole hearing for Finch, convicted of first-degree murder and also sentenced to life in prison, will be next month.

The body of Finch's socialite wife, Barbara Jean, 30, was found on a neighbor's lawn in West Covina, east of Los Angeles, in July 1959. She had been shot in the back, and her skull was fractured twice.

Hoping to Increase Income

By JOHN CUNNIFF

CUNNIFF

NEW YORK — The mathematical realities involved in the cost of education are causing colleges to take a hopeful but critical look at their stock holdings. The purpose: bigger capital gains.

Yale University has arranged for professionals in Boston to handle its portfolio. And the University of Chicago, which already has made big prof its in unusual investments, is now using its on-campus brain-power to invest "more aggressively."

Behind this quest of colleges is a desperate need for funds, for neither tuition nor gifts nor even tax advantages come close to meeting expenses of most higher education plants.

If trends to higher expenses continue, in fact, many privately run colleges may be absorbed into state systems or close their doors or simply fall apart, crushed by bills that force standards to bend and facilities to crack.

At Chicago, a relatively wealthy school with an endowment of nearly $300 million, the income from investments last year totaled $10.3 million, or less than 9 per cent of the year's operating expenses on $115.5 million.

MARKET TO RESCUE

That the stock market may rescue some schools certainly will do no harm to Wall Street's image, which over the years has been associated with acquisition rather than charity, with immediate goals rather than higher aspirations.

But it's a tough game the colleges are entering. Are they able to play it?

A study of endowment holdings, released this week by the Boston Fund, shows much good judgment already exists, for the most commonly held stocks are IBM, General Motors and Standard Oil (New Jersey).

However, this doesn't mean that real losers aren't also in portfolios, and the suspicion and even stronger hope exists that much improvement can be made in the yearly return on investments.

MORE INCOME

One year ago McGeorge Oundy, Ford Foundation president, remarked that a one per cent improvement in the performance of higher education's $12-billion stock portfolio would mean $120 million additional each year.

One per cent—not much compared with 100 per cent gains last year by som mutual funds. That one per cent seems even smaller when it is realized that some college portfolios are merely held—seldom reviewed and, like old theses, not even taken off the shelves for dusting.

There are some excuses for this. Many college endowments contain the provision that capital must not be used, that interest only can be spent. Thus, slow-moving stocks paying good dividends are accumulated.

In additing, the pressing need for steady income, as from dividends, inhibits the ability to invest in growth stocks of the kind that have paced the bull market of the 1960s. Many growth stocks pay small dividends or none at all.

STEADY CLIMB

Nevertheless, said Chicago this week, "the steady climb in the cost of maintaining excellence makes it imperative for us to continue to use imagination and skill in handling the university's investments."

Chicago, whose endowment is the fifth or sixth largest in the country, first determined how much of its money was free from "income only" provisions. It found that $76 million was.

★ ★ ★

This money now will be invested aggressively so as to earn capital gains. J. Parker Hall, treasurer, announced that the aim would be to "produce, over the long term, the highest available return."

Can the universities successfully capitalize on their lately aroused instincts? Why not? If mutual funds have smart analysts, consider the brains available to a university.

BRAINPOWER

At Chicago, the brainpower can be drawn from a board that includes highest level executives, an administrative staff, an investment committee headed by a top banker, and a faculty whose members include stock market analysts.

Nevertheless, this doesn't mean for sure that they can deal effectively or quickly enough in a volatile up-down market made up of big, swiftly moving in-out traders.

★ ★ ★

In its announcement, the university said only that "It is our hope that it will be successful."

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I have $1,200 that I want to invest for my 4-year-old daughter's education. I am thinking of buying IBM and Boeing. Is this a wise choice? I won't need the money until she is ready for college in approximately 14 years. — D.B.

A. You have selected two fine stocks. IBM is the leader in computers, and Boeing is the number-one company in commerical aircraft. IBM is not cheap and is occasionally volatile. I would buy one share only of this one.

Boeing, in my opinion, is undervalued, and I would place the balance of my funds here. The company is involved in aerospace work which can be erratic, but it is moving more into commercial planes which it supplies to many customers in the free world. This Seattle-based firm may show earnings fluctuations because of the cost of producing the new SST proto type and because of expenses involved in producing the new 747s. I believe that both your choices will work out well for you over a 14-year period.

Upset Scored by McCarthy

Backers Claim at Least 3 Minnesota Districts

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's peace candidacy claimed control of party machinery in at least three congressional districts today after heavy turnouts for Democratic precinct caucuses.

It shaped up as a major victory for McCarthy backers in what amounted to a grass-roots test on Vietnam policy in more than 3,000 precincts of McCarthy's home state Tuesday night.

If the claims hold up, McCarthy will net at least 15 seats on the 62-member delegation Minnesota sends to the Democratic national convention.

The Johnson-Humphrey forces clearly will control the Minnesota delegation, but the outpouring of McCarthy support obviously hurt.

SURPASSES PREDICTIONS

McCarthy, 51, is opposing President Johnson in a half-dozen state primaries, starting with New Hampshire next Tuesday. He has made the Vietnam war his primary issue.

Vietnam was clearly the issue in most of the state party caucuses, with the turnout hitting record proportions in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area.

"Make no mistake about it, this is a referendum on the Vietnam war," said a McCarthy backer in Golden Valley, a wealthy suburb where caucuses drew four times the turnout of two years ago.

Dr. John C. Wright, a University of Minnesota professor who heads the McCarthy - dominated Concerned Democrats, claimed the 3rd, 4th and 5th congressional districts for the party doves.

Veteran Pilot Collides With FAA Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmie H. Lane piloted planes for Eastern Air Lines for 11 years, including the big Constellations on the Washington-New York shuttle.

"He had a good clean record with us," an Eastern spokesman said Tuesday — never even a minor accident. The spokesman described Lane as a "quiet, friendly man" who was a Marine aviator before joining Eastern.

But Lane has been fired.

The Federal Aviation Administration said Tuesday that Lane never had more than a private pilot's license, which it said a person of average ability can earn by flying about 40 hours. Airline captains are required to have an "airline transport rating," awarded after a minimum of 1,200 hours flying time, including 75 hours in which only aircraft instruments are used.

LACKED RATING

The FAA said Lane lacked an instrument rating and could never have met this requirement.

But the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., flyer did pass Eastern's tests, graduated from its pilot training schools and after being checked out by the FAA moved on to piloting bigger, faster planes.

His downfall, the FAA said, came when he took a test Feb. 26 to go from jet-props to jets.

The FAA said Lane's case has been referred to the Justice Department.

Now, the FAA added, the big question is how many airline pilots might be imposters. The agency said it is investigating.
